New City Manager Is Announced for Pontiac

Three Players Vie for Lead in National Open

Jacobs Sets Record; Biggest Move of Day Turned in by Venturi

BETHESDA, Md.—The battle for the 64th National Open golf championship at Congressional Country Club has been narrowed down to three players with Tommy Jacobs, Ken Venturi and Arnold Palmer in contention after 54 holes.

Jacobs, the lanky 29-year-old pro from Bermuda Dunes, Calif., refused to falter under the sweltering heat and pressure this morning by adding a par 70 to his mid-point score of 136 for a four-under 206 going into the final round this afternoon.

The 206 performance cracked the 54 hole Open record of 207 set by Ben Hogan in 1948 at the Goodyear Country Club in Los Angeles.

The biggest move of the day was turned in by Venturi, 33-year-old pro from Crystal River, Fla., who tied the USGA record for nine holes by posting a five-under-par 30 on the front side this morning.

Venturi, who went into today's third round at a two-over 142, canned five birdies and finished with a 66 for a 208 total.

Palmer went through the 18 holes without a single bird, and his 37-38—75 gave him a 212 total.

The front nine 30 by Venturi tied the record set by Palmer at Cherry Hill Country Club, Colo., in 1960.

It was in this tournament that Palmer had himself in the same position he was in today. He was seven strokes behind after 54 holes and in his final round he turned in a 65 to defeat Jack Nicklaus by two strokes with a total of 280.

But the possibility was there. Palmer picked up three strokes on the first two holes of the final round when he birdied No. 1 and parred 2, while Jacobs took a double-bogey five on the second hole.

Venturi, however, was having heat trouble this afternoon. He had to have a doctor after his exhausting 66 this morning, and the report was that he suffered from dehydration.

Tommy Jacobs	136-70—206
Ken Venturi	142-66—208
Arnold Palmer	137-75—212
Billy Casper	145-69—214

Ted Kennedy Back Broken in Air Crash

SEN. EDWARD KENNEDY

SEN. BIRCH BAYH

MRS. BIRCH BAYH

Pilot, Aide Both Killed

Doctors Say Senator Can Use Arms, Legs

NORTHAMPTON, Mass (AP) —Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., younger brother of the late President John F. Kennedy was hospitalized with a broken back today after a private plane crashed last night in an apple orchard taking two lives.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Thomas F. Corriden, who supervised immediate treatment of the senator at Cooley-Dickinson Hospital, said Kennedy, 32, suffered several fractured vertebrae. But he has the use of his arms and legs, and is listed in "fair condition."

Less seriously injured in the crash were Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., and his wife. Both were reported in good condition at the hospital.

Killed in the crash was the pilot of the twin engine plane, Edwin T. Zimny, 48, Lawrence. Edward Moss, 41, Kennedy's administrative aide, died in the hospital of injuries suffered in the accident.

★ ★ ★

The plane was approaching Barnes Airport, in Westfield, shortly after 11 p.m. The control tower at Barnes said it was in contact with the pilot and that he reported no difficulty. It had rained heavily earlier and was drizzly and foggy at the time.

TOPS OF TREES

It was believed that as Zimny approached the airport his plane may have hit the tops of trees in the fog. There was no fire.

The first witness, Robert Schauer said he heard the crash and then saw the wrecked plane 200 yards up a hillside in an apple orchard. He dashed up the hill to help.

Today's hospital bulletin said: Sen. Kennedy is in fair condition. He has improved considerably since his admission and is resting comfortably.

★ ★ ★

"X-rays showed fractures of the fifth and sixth ribs on the left side, fractures of the second third and fourth lumbar vertebrae (the lower back) and fractures of the second, third and fourth transverse processes, which give the spine support.

NO COMPLICATIONS

"There are no head injuries and no neurological complications. He has complete use of his legs and arms. He has cuts on both legs and the right hand."

Kennedy, 32, was coming here to be endorsed by acclamation for a full, six-year term in the Senate seat once held by his brother, the late President John F. Kennedy. Bayh, 36, had been scheduled to deliver the convention's keynote address.

Wet Road Causes Death

Rain, Violent Winds Lash Area

Widespread damage and at least one death were caused by the heavy rain and violent wind that lashed through the area last night.

Winds, gusting to 77 miles an hour ripped through Oakland County, downing power lines and trees and smashing windows.

Property damage was reported throughout southern lower Michigan.

Locally, an Orion Township man was killed when his car skidded out of control on wet pavement in Brandon Township and hit a tree.

10:30 p.m. accident on Sashabaw near Oak Hill was Harvey G. Piper, 40, of 3569 Baldwin.

Sheriff's deputies said Piper was traveling south on Sashabaw during the rainstorm when his car crossed the centerline on a curve and skidded 170 feet before impact.

Hit hardest in the area by the thunderstorm were homes in the vicinity of Mary Sue and Maybee, southeast of Clarkston in Independence Township.

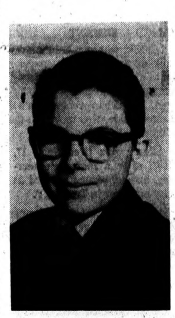

★ ★ ★

At least 25 home owners reported damage, according to Independence Township deputy fire chief Frank Ronk. Heavy damage was reported by several residents.

A garage attached by a breezeway to the home of Theodore Oliver, 5388 Mary Sue, was blown 110 feet from its foundation.

Fred Munger, 5358 Mary Sue, and Ira Calhoun, 4992 Mary Sue, reported that large sections of roofing were torn from their homes, causing extensive rain damage to furniture.

The Oakland County Road Commission said that the storm knocked trees down "all over the area." Crews were still working today to clear some fallen trees but the biggest share was removed last night.

TYLER SHAW

Boy, 12, Shot by Brother; Mishap Fatal

A 12-year-old Orion Township boy was fatally wounded about 1 p.m. yesterday when his 11-year-old brother accidentally fired a 22-caliber rifle through his bedroom door.

★ ★ ★

Tyler Shaw, son of Mr. and Mrs. Duane Shaw of 2416 Hollard, was rushed to Pontiac General Hospital by ambulance soon after the shooting.

Hospital officials said he was still alive when the ambulance arrived at 1:25 p.m., but all emergency measures failed and he was pronounced dead at 1:45 p.m.

★ ★ ★

The victim's younger brother, Thomas, was playing with the bolt-action rifle, putting shells into it and then ejecting them, in the hallway of the Shaw home. Tyler was in the bedroom which the boys shared.

HEARS SCREAM

The rifle discharged and Thomas heard his brother scream, "I'm shot, I'm shot."

Thomas then called his mother, who was at work in the office of the Oakland County Employes Credit Union, and told her what had happened.

Mrs. Shaw called the sheriff's office and a Lake Orion ambu-

Fear 53 Dead in Air Crash

TAIPEI, Formosa (UPI) — A four-engine Civil Air Transport (CAT) plane carrying 53 persons, believed to include 21 Americans, crashed in flames today shortly after takeoff from Taichung in central Formosa.

Eyewitness reports said there were no signs of survivors at the scene, about 100 miles south of Taipei. The reports said 12 bodies were recovered from the wreckage.

The passengers were believed to include 21 Americans returning to Taipei from a tour of the Pescadores Islands in the Formosa Strait.

Several delegates to the just-concluded 11th Asian Film Festival also were aboard the plane.

Reports said the fully-loaded aircraft crashed at Fengyuan, 10 miles north of Taichung, five to 10 minutes after it took off from Taichung.

Search Ends With Official From Jackson

By DICK SAUNDERS

Pontiac's search for a full-time, professional city manager ended today with the announcement that Joseph A. Warren, Jackson city manager, will come here to take over as chief administrator Aug. 3.

Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. announced Warren's pending appointment after the Jackson manager formally accepted the job.

Warren, 44, has been city manager of Jackson since September 1951. He is married and has three children.

John F. Reineck, who has been handling the city manager's post since Robert A. Carter resigned in February, will return to his duties as assistant city manager.

In selecting Warren, Taylor expressed admiration "for the fine job John Reineck has done to fill the gap in our administrative wing."

FORMAL HIRING

Taylor said that formal action by the City Commission to hire Warren would be delayed until the June 30 meeting to allow the Jackson City Council to accept Warren's resignation.

Warren will formally submit his resignation to the council next Tuesday night.

Warren, selected from some 35 applicants for the Pontiac post, was one of a half-dozen city officials listed by former manager Walter K. Willman as "top quality administrators."

Late in April, the commission sought Willman's help in an advisory capacity. They asked him to list some city officials he felt were well-qualified for the job.

RETIRED CHIEF

"We are very pleased that Mr. Warren accepted the position," Taylor noted. "He was our first choice and the commission is completely in unison over the decision to hire him."

Warren will get $20,000 a year — a $5,000 hike over the city manager's previous starting salary of $15,000.

★ ★ ★

"We simply feel it's time Pontiac faced up to the fact that if we want quality, we have to pay for it," Taylor said.

It is no secret around City Hall that the salaries of administrative heads have been low compared to other cities in Pontiac's population range.

Two Cities Are Similar

Administrator Faces Identical Problems

Joseph A. Warren, named today as Pontiac city manager, will discover a similarity in the problems and operations of Pontiac and Jackson.

★ ★ ★

In announcing Warren's appointment, Mayor William H. Taylor Jr., noted that both cities operate a hospital, library and airport.

In addition, Mayor Taylor said both cities are engaged in major community renewal projects including sewage plant modernization, downtown revitalization and faced with similar problems of public transportation.

Warren, who has held his Jackson post for the past 13 years, has also served as city manager of Ashland, Wis., for three years, 1948-51.

★ ★ ★

Prior to that, he was administrative assistant to the city manager of Jackson for 14 months.

MSU GRADUATE

A graduate of Michigan State University in social science and public administration, he received a degree of master of public administration from the University of Michigan in 1947.

★ ★ ★

Warren served four and a half years on active duty in the U.S. Naval Reserve during World War II. He attained the rank of lieutenant.

The 44-year-old city manager was born in Adrian, grew up in Detroit and was graduated from Redford High School, Detroit, in 1937.

Rights Bill Signing Seen by 4th

WASHINGTON (AP) — House leaders predict the civil rights bill will be on President Johnson's desk ready to be signed into law by July 4.

since Reconstruction to attack racial discrimination, won overwhelming 73-27 approval from the Senate last night.

On Monday it returns to the House which passed virtually the same bill in February.

Only a brief struggle is expected before the House puts its okay on the Senate-passed version.

MAJOR STEP

"Senate passage of the rights bill is a major step toward equal opportunities for all Americans. I congratulate senators of both parties who worked to make passage possible.

"I look forward to the day, which will not be long forthcoming, when the bill becomes law. That will be a milestone in America's progress toward full justice for all her citizens."

Civil rights leaders also hailed passage of the measure as "an act of good will and reconciliation" and "the greatest single triumph for human rights in our country since the Emancipation Proclamation."

★ ★ ★

From the South, however, came predictions of disaster from some Dixie governors.

WALLACE FORECAST

Alabama's George C. Wallace predicted the American people "will remove from office those responsible."

Since Feb. 12, when the House passed its version of the rights bill, the focus of attention has been on the Senate where the bill faced its deepest peril from the Southerners' razor-sharp parliamentary weapons of delay and filibuster.

Finally the filibuster was broken when the Senate voted June 10, for the first time, to invoke cloture on a civil rights debate. That set the stage for yesterday's vote.

★ ★ ★

All 100 senators were on hand, including Sen. Clair Engle, D-Calif., recuperating from two brain operations, who was rolled up the aisle in a wheel chair.

FINAL VOTE

Voting for it were 46 Democrats and 27 Republicans. Against it were 21 Democrats —including 20 Southerners—and six Republicans, including Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona.

Ship U.S. Arms to Aid Thailand

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — The United States is beefing up its stockpiles of military equipment in Thailand to assure a quicker, heavier punch if Communist aggression brings on a showdown in Southeast Asia, authoritative sources said today.

They described this as another step in American efforts to deter further Communist incursions.

Five shiploads of equipment, including tanks, trucks, personnel carriers and ammunition, are en route to this strategic pro-Western nation, which borders on war-torn Laos.

★ ★ ★

The first ship is expected to arrive early next week, possibly Monday or Tuesday. The equipment will be added to supplies left here by 5,000 American troops based in Thailand for several weeks in 1962 by order of President John F. Kennedy during a previous Communist threat in Laos.

REPLACING WEAPONS

In Washington defense department officials, confirming that the military cargoes were on the way, called it a re-supply operation. They said it was required because weapons, trucks and communications equipment deteriorate during prolonged storage in Southeast Asia's heat and rain.

There was no indication here that U. S. troops, except those needed to handle and maintain the supplies would be sent to Thailand at this time. The maintenance crew, said to number about 100, is reported to be from the Hawaii-based 25th division.

Vehicles were said to form the bulk of the cargoes. This rolling stock would provide any ground forces sent here with immediate mobility.

Communist North Viet Nam, a junior partner of Red China, is a source of supplies and men for the guerrilla warfare in two of Thailand's neighbors, Laos and South Viet Nam. The United States has warned the North Vietnamese repeatedly.

FIRM ALLY

Thailand is a firm ally of the United States and a charter member of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization.

The major American depot is at Nakhon Ratchasima—Korat—about 100 miles northeast of Bangkok and 200 miles south of the Mekong river frontier opposite Vientiane, Laos' administrative capital.

★ ★ ★

Pro-Communist Pathet Lao troops, supported by Communist Viet Minh forces from North Viet Nam, have been extending their holdings in Laos in recent weeks.

It is estimated they control two-thirds of that jungle kingdom.

Training Class Starts Monday

Aim Clerical Course at Job Placement

The first occupational-vocational training course to be offered by the Pontiac School Board will get under way Monday at Jefferson Junior High School.

The course in speed typing and office practice will be open to high school graduates and adults.

School officials said the course is designed to qualify individuals for immediate employment. It should also prove helpful to college-bound youth.

The five-week course will develop typewriting speed and correct office procedures in individuals who have already had some typing instruction.

A minimum typing speed of 35-40 words per minute is required to enroll in the course, which will be presented June 22 - July 24, 8-12 a.m. daily.

$10 FEE

Registration may be made at Jefferson Junior High on Monday. A fee of $10 will be charged. Class size will be 20 students.

Some units of the course, which will include instruction in business English, filing, spelling, writing letters and similar office skills, will be taught by outside sources from local industry.

In addition, field trips are planned to some local establishments in business and industry.

The school board has begun organizing a vocational-occupational training program to provide job training and retraining for youth and adults. This is the first course to be offered.

Area Collision Injures Four

3rd Such Crash on Telegraph in 2 Days

Four people were injured last night in a head-on collision on Telegraph near Maple in Bloomfield Township. It was the third collision in two days.

Injured were Walter J. and Stephanie Pociask of Detroit, Henry C. Reimer, 34, of 3151 Devonbrook, Bloomfield Township and Robert Curtis, 36, of Dearborn.

Police said that Reimer's vehicle hit the island divider on Telegraph, 200 yards north of Maple, Bloomfield Township, and jumped across into the southbound lane, hitting the Pociask's car.

The accident occurred at 9:25 p.m.

A similar crash Thursday injured three persons and killed two other motorists. The accident happened just south of Orchard Way.

Also on Thursday, another head-on collision just two feet from the site of the double fatal accident has hospitalized two men.

Marvin Stein, 30, of Detroit is listed in "very critical" condition at St. Joseph Hospital, while Maxwell Haddix, 46, of 5509 Elizabeth Lake, Pontiac, is in satisfactory condition.

In a statement issued this evening, CAT said:

"The wreckage has been sighted and rescue and investigation teams were en route to the scene of the accident.

"Early reports were unable to confirm any information on survivors. The passenger list will be released as soon as confirmation can be made."

The pilot was listed as Bengee H. Lin, 37, who joined CAT, the flag carrier of Nationalist China, in 1950.

'U.S. Willing to Fight China'

TAIPEI (AP) — The United States is willing to risk war with Red China to prevent Peking from taking over Southeast Asia, Adm. Harry D. Felt, commander-in-chief of U.S. Pacific Command told a news conference today.

Felt who is relinquishing his command and retiring June 30, said "The Chinese Communist machine in Peiping will not risk going to war with the United States . . . because they know how strong we are."

★ ★ ★

Felt came here from Pearl Harbor to say goodby to President Chiang Kai-shek and other Chinese nationalist leaders.

Felt declared that Peking controls the policy of Communist North Viet Nam, and that the armed aggression in South Viet Nam was being supported and controlled by the North Vietnamese.

City Gets New Manager

jobs in smaller cities where the pay was substantially higher.

Taylor said that Warren and his wife would come here to meet city officials the afternoon of June 30 and attend the commission meeting that night.

★ ★ ★

The new manager will take a month to move his family here before moving into the city manager's office on a full-time basis Aug. 3, Taylor said.

CONSTAN TTOUCH

"We will be in constant touch with him during July," the mayor said.

"The backgrounds of all top prospects were investigated in depth. We think we have an excellent man."

Taylor added that "the new manager has been given assurance by the entire commission that he will be solely responsible for carrying out city policies and administrative duties with no interference from the commission."

★ ★ ★

WASN'T EASY TASK

"It wasn't an easy task and we're glad it's over," Taylor noted. "We beat our target date (June 30), realizing the importance of this decision to the future of Pontiac, in which we are all very interested."

In naming Warren, commissioners hope to solve a manpower problem which has plagued the administrative wing at City Hall off-and-on since Robert A. Stierer was suspended by the former commission last Aug. 5.

Reineck, who was hired as an administrative aide in March 1963, has never had time for a vacation.

★ ★ ★

NAMED ASSISTANT

Reineck, who was already handling some of the manager's duties, was named assistant manager and David Vanderveen, an urban renewal and planning aide, was moved to the administrative wing.

Robert A. Carter, a former Flint city manager, was hired Nov. 12 and Carter took over six days later, allowing Reineck to devote full time to the assistant manager's post.

★ ★ ★

TOOK OVER POST

Reineck has been city manager since then with Vanderveen assisting him.

Report De Gaulle Gave Red China Warning by U.S.

PARIS (UPI) — President Charles de Gaulle was reported today to have advised Peking to take seriously United States determination to prevent a Communist takeover in Laos and South Viet Nam.

Diplomatic quarters said de Gaulle told Communist Chinese Ambassador Gen. Huang Chen last night he believed the United States was too deeply committed in public to allow Communist-led forces to seize control of the two countries.

U. S. Undersecretary George W. Ball, in an hour-long conference with de Gaulle June 5, informed the French president of Washington's resolve to forestall a Communist victory in Laos and South Viet Nam.

De Gaulle was reported to have conveyed this warning to Huang, but some French circles continue to claim some of the tough talk in Washington is due to forthcoming elections.

Flint Will Get Water From Detroit by 1966

DETROIT (AP) — Gerald J. Remus, general manager of the Detroit Water Department, announced Friday that construction of a $98 million Detroit-Flint-Lake Huron water pipeline will begin in 45-days. The project will bring Flint into the Detroit water system by 1966, he said.

City Hospital Given Grant

St. Joseph to Use Funds for Expansion

St. Joseph Mercy Hospital was notified today of a $150,000 federal grant for expansion of its department of physical medicine and rehabilitation.

The grant, announced by U.S. Sen's. Patrick McNamara and Philip A. Hart, will cover about half the total cost of $321,974.

The federal funds, according to a hospital spokesman, will enable expansion of the physical medicine unit to be completed by June, 1965.

This will be nearly six months ahead of the date set last fall when the expansion was originally planned.

Construction will begin immediately.

"Because our plans were completed we were able to qualify for federal funds under the Hill-Burton act . . . (provided) exclusively for this kind of specialized facility," said Sister Mary Xavier, hospital administrator.

Services of the department include physical and medical evaluations, physical and occupational therapy speech therapy, psychology, social and related services.

Doors Open on Districting

State Court Is Ready to Reconsider Issue

LANSING (AP) — The Michigan Supreme Court kept its doors open today for the return of the state's legislative redistricting problem.

It will be the third time the problem has been in the court's hands.

The court took over the problem in February when the State Legislative Apportionment Commission failed to agree on how to redraw State House and Senate districts.

It approved a plan May 26, but the U.S. Supreme Court ruled last Monday that both houses of a state legislature must be districted on a strict population basis — "one man, one vote." The Michigan court looked at the problem a second time and ordered the apportionment commission to come up with another plan.

DEADLOCK AGAIN

Eight minutes before the court-imposed deadline of 5 p.m. Friday, the commission gave up in a 4-4 deadlock again. The court gave it until noon today to file districting plans, and will take up the problem for the third time.

Four Republican members of the State Legislative Apportionment Commission said they would stand pat on the so-called Austin-Kleiner plan No. 2 — filed with the court last month.

Republican cochairman Wilbet Brucker said Republican members were prepared to ask the U.S. Supreme Court for a stay of execution if the Michigan Court adopts the plan submitted by Democratic cochairman Richard Austin of Detroit and A. Robert Kleiner of East Grand Rapids.

"This Democratic plan is a blueprint for election confusion and chaos," the former Michigan governor said, "and would be impossible for elections officials to administer."

GOP CONTENTION

PRECAUTIONS TAKEN

The boys' father, who is deputy director of veterans' affairs for Oakland County, said he had always kept the rifle and ammunition out of reach of the younger boy.

He was not certain how Thomas had gained access to them.

The Shaws have two other boys, one 15 and one 17. Neither was home at the time of the shooting.

'Rights' Passage Hailed

DETROIT (AP) — Rep. Neil Staebler, D-Mich., Friday called Senate passage of the civil rights bill a "triumph of American principles over prejudice." He is a Democratic candidate for governor.

To Seek U.S. Action on Cyprus

ANKARA, Turkey (UPI) — Turkish Premier Ismet Inonu will press President Johnson for speedy American action to solve the Cyprus crisis in Washington talks next week, informed sources said today.

Inonu, who has favored a restrained policy toward Cyprus, won a hairline vote of confidence from Parliament last night. The vote was 200 to 194.

A short time later, two shots were fired at the U.S. Embassy here.

Inonu's government has been under increasing pressure from its political opposition to adopt a more aggressive attitude on Cyprus.

* * *

Qualified informants said the 80-year-old premier will use last night's slim vote to point up the unpopularity of moderation in the explosive situation when he meets with Johnson.

LEAVES TOMORROW

Inonu flies to Washington tomorrow.

Police were unable to pin down a motive for the embassy shooting, but there was speculation it was the work of a disgruntled Turk angered with U.S. "interference" in alleged Turkish plans to invade Cyprus.

No one was hurt in the incident and no arrests were made.

* * *

The narrowness of the confidence vote raised fears among Turkish moderates that Inonu might be forced to resign, making way for a more belligerent government, if a Cyprus solution acceptable to Turkey is not reached quickly.

DECISIVE SUPPORT

Inonu said yesterday he would not go to Washington to meet Johnson unless he received "decisive support" from the National Assembly. He hinted at resignation.

* * *

NEW YORK, June 20 (EN)—According to a report heard over WQXR, the radio station of The New York Times, "the recent Tops issue memorializing President Kennedy was completely sold out in Tops, but are available from Elmont Stamp Co. in Queens Village, N. Y."

The report goes on to say "soon after the tragic death of our late President, many foreign nations, seeking to honor his memory, used postage stamps as a memorial. Tops knowing of President Kennedy's admiration for Abraham Lincoln, superimposed—or in stamps parlance—overprinted "In Memoriam John F. Kennedy 1917-1963."

130 Police Called in Lansing Riot

By BOB VOGES
Associated Press Writer

LANSING (AP) — Some 700 taunting youths hurled rocks at 130 police Friday night in a four-hour melee that erupted after officers were called to break up an argument at a house party.

Two policemen were injured, including Chief Charles Stragier, who was hit in the side of his face with a cinder block and was treated at a hospital.

* * *

Officers sealed off a six-block area on the city's west side until the mob's fury spent itself. About 12 persons were arrested, Stragier said.

Helmeted officers carried clubs, but did not use them, as they moved in on the area. Stragier had ordered all off-duty Lansing policemen to report on an emergency basis to the area.

OTHER OFFICERS

In addition, state police, Ingham County sheriff's officers, Mason police, Michigan State University police and the Lansing Fire Department were called.

Stragier said police first made a routine "fight call" to break up an argument after a house party and one youth was arrested for disorderly conduct.

About 50 youths then congregated in a parking lot, Stragier said, and defied police orders to move. They said they planned to fight a group from Flint that had been "moving into their territory," Stragier said.

Stragier said the arrested youths could be charged on counts ranging from resisting arrest to disorderly conduct to inciting a riot.

WRONG REPORT

There was an early report that the disorder had been sparked by a stabbing. Police records show, however, that this happened in another neighborhood.

Thief Puts 'Bite' on Toothpaste

COMMACK, N. Y. (AP)—Louis Martella, 64, described by police as toothless, has been charged with petty larceny in the theft of 24 tubes of toothpaste from a supermarket.

The toothpaste wasn't the only thing that disappeared.

So did Louie — while he was being removed from court to a detention cell yesterday. Police have an alarm out for him.

Youth Accused as Mastermind

Held in Plot to Slay Chicago Man, Wife

TRAVERSE CITY (UPI) — Police today were holding an 18-year-old Chicago youth who they charged masterminded a plot with two younger boys to kill a Chicago man and his wife to cover up check forgeries on the woman's account.

★ ★ ★

Held was Horst Schmelz, who had been befriended by the intended victims, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Zander.

The plot was uncovered after Schmelz and the other two boys, one 15 and the other 13, stole the Zander's car and put up at a motel.

The motel owner reported to police that the boys acted suspiciously.

★ ★ ★

They were arrested, the younger boys were returned to Chicago and blurted out the story.

DID CHORES

According to them, Schmelz was a next-door neighbor of the Zander's in Chicago and did chores for them.

He obtained a key to their home, and when the Zanders left to spend the summer at their isolated cottage on Fife Lake in Grand Traverse County, near here, Schmelz moved into the Chicago home and brought the boys withhim.

He also began writing checks on Mrs. Zander's $150,000 checking account.

★ ★ ★

Then, the boys told Chicago authorities, Schmelz conceived the plan for killing the couple to cover up the forgeries. The boys traveled to Michigan three times.

CHECK LAYOUT

★ ★ ★

The second time they lay in wait for the couple, but were frightened off when they returned to their cottage with a caretaker.

The third time something also went wrong but the boys stole the Zander car, hoping to isolate them at the cottage.

★ ★ ★

They put up at the motel where they were arrested when the motel operator became suspicious, and called state police.

Sukarno Walks Out to Keep Television Date

Malaysia Summit Conference 'Dies' Only Briefly

TOKYO (AP)—President Sukarno of Indonesia stalked out of the Malaysia summit conference today, but returned just as abruptly two hours later as the parley teetered on the brink of collapse.

After Sukarno left the meeting with Malaysian Prime Minister Tunku Abdul Rahman and Philippine President Diosdado Macapagal, a Malaysian official announced:

But only a few minutes after the Malaysian spokesman's statement, Sukarno, smiling and affable returned to the conference. "I'm coming, I'm coming," he told newsmen who had followed him through Tokyo in the confusion.

HIS REASON

Sukarno's official reason for leaving the conference was a broadcast date in a Tokyo television studio.

An Asian diplomat said the meeting — the second summit session today — broke up in anger over Rahman's demand for the withdrawal of all Indonesian guerrillas from Malaysian Borneo within a month.

★ ★ ★

Rahman laid down this condition for agreeing to submit the dispute to a four-nation Asian mediation commission.

Macapagal proposed the commission at the first session today, and Sukarno and Rahman both agreed conditionally.

It was hoped that Sukarno and Rahman would agree at their second meeting on the members of the commission and its authority in trying to end the dispute.

Danes Offer to Sell Red Goods

COPENHAGEN (AP) — Nikita Khrushchev got an offer from Danish business leaders today: let us sell Soviet goods all over the world.

★ ★ ★

The offer was made to the Soviet leader on the last day of his official visit to Denmark, the first leg of a swing through Scandinavia.

Christian Saugmann, chairman of the Danish Wholesalers Association, told Khrushchev in an address at Copenhagen's stock exchange that he and other Danish business leaders were anxious to do business with the Russians.

Meanwhile, it was learned that a Danish firm has entered an international race for a contract to build a plant in Russia to produce nitrogeneous fertilizers which Khrushchev needs badly for boosting the productivity of the Soviet farming industry.

Haldor Topsoe, head of a well-known consultative engineering firm, confirmed that he has worked out a detailed offer. The project would be in the range of $15 million.

Proclaim Slovak Day

LANSING (AP) — Gov. George W. Romney has proclaimed Sunday, July 12, as "Michigan Slovak Day" in Michigan, in honor of Michigan citizens of Slovak descent, and the Slovak League of America, marking its 56th anniversity.

About 3 million young people will enter the labor force annually between 1965 and 1970, the National Consumer Finance Association predicts.

Robert Oliver, Jr.

It seems that everyone knows Bob Oliver. Bob Sr. has been selling and servicing General Motors cars for 35 years, and with Bob Jr. assuming many of the executive duties it appears that you will be able to buy your Buick from them for 35 more years.

The Olivers have operated at their present address on Orchard Lake Ave. at Williams Street for the past 14 years. They are Pontiac's only Buick dealer and are also distributors for Opel, Renault and Willys.

Bob Jr., his wife, Velma and their daughter, Tracy, live at 825 Menominee in Pontiac. He joined his father 8 years ago after his return from duty as an Air Force Officer.

Both men are very active in civic and church groups and are sincerely interested in the future growth of Pontiac. The next time you feel like owning the "Prestige" car, give the Olivers a visit.

Your Leisure Time has Made Scarlett's Bicycle and Hobby Shop a Pontiac Institution Since 1928

Ernest Scarlett

Laird Scarlett

Whether you have a hobby or have just thought about it, you have probably at one time or another, visited Scarlett's on East Lawrence Street. Ernest, the father, is still active in the business at the age of 78, and can demonstrate a Schwinn bicycle with the best of the staff. Laird, who has taken over the bulk of the administrative tasks, is especially proud of the plaque their store has received for selling over 1,000 Schwinn bicycles each year for 1962 and 1963. Ernest lives in Drayton Plains while Laird and his wife, Phyllis live with their son and daughter in Pontiac. Lee, 14 and Karen, 8 will probably be running the store some day and then will sadly realize that all of those bicycles, toys and road racing sets aren't free. You don't have to buy to enjoy Scarlett's . . . but we'll bet that you can't resist it.

Second and Third Generations Manage Pontiac's Oldest Glass Firm.

Elmer H. Reynolds

Gordon E. Reynolds

One of Pontiac's oldest downtown businesses, the Pontiac Glass Company, located at 23 West Lawrence Street, is owned and managed by Elmer H. Reynolds and his son, Gordon E. Reynolds.

For several years father and son have enjoyed a very close relationship and represent the second and third generations, respectively, to operate the sixty-four year old business which was founded by Elmer's father, S. H. Reynolds.

The Pontiac Glass Company was the original glass firm serving Pontiac and Oakland County and glazed many of the city's early public buildings including the old court house, the present county jail and the original section of Pontiac Central High School. The company also claims the distinction of holding the franchise for Pittsburgh Paint Products continuously for the past forty-two years and has sold that one brand, exclusively, during that time.

Personal service has always been the keynote of the Reynolds' business policy, a fact that is self-evident in the host of customers whom Elmer Reynolds truly calls his friends. It is this personal touch in customer relations that Gordon wishes to maintain; to him, his father's policy continues to be both a rewarding and successful one.

Kenneth Fox

Aaron Fox

William Fox

The history of Fox Quality Dryeleaners dates back to the Detroit of the late 1920's. It was at this time that Aaron Fox managed a Detroit dryeleaning plant and was a student of the Detroit Institute of Dryeleaning. He later came to Pontiac and in June of 1929 opened his own cleaning plant at 719 West Huron, in the same location it has remained for the past 35 years.

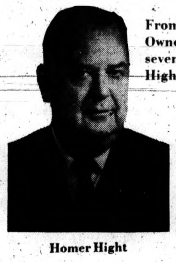

From a 50' x 50' building on the back of the lot, Fox Cleaners has grown along with the city of Pontiac with one of Pontiac's most modern cleaning plants 7 times its original size. Not only with pride in his dryeleaning, Mr. Fox took pride in and became a part of the city . . . participating in practically every endeavor of civic affairs.

There were many exciting moments in the dryeleaning business of the 20's which Aaron Fox enjoys discussing, but the real highlight of his career came when eldest son Bill joined the business after graduating from the National Institute of Dryeleaning in 1947. Bill, who graduated from Pontiac High in 1944, served with the U. S. Navy for 2 years.

Finally, youngest son Ken, who graduated from Pontiac Central High School in 1952, attended Central Michigan University also served with the U.S. Navy for 2 years, joined the firm in 1956.

Like Father . . . Like Sons . . . both Bill and Ken have gained from Father Aaron's experiences. Now in command of all plant business, they strive to continue the reputation of excellence in dryeleaning through continuing knowledge of the advancing skills, are active in most important of civic affairs and welcome you to try their cleaning services the next time you are in need.

Arthur Fitzgerald

Pat Fitzgerald

James Fitzgerald

James Fitzgerald Jr.

Denis Fitzgerald

James Fitzgerald of Walled Lake has four sons in the family business.

Several years ago Fitzgerald worked for Kergo Hardware for a short period of time. He found the hardware business not only interesting and rewarding, but a real challenge. He set his goal then to some day own and operate his own hardware business. Twenty-two years and four sons later his goal was realized with the purchase of Knapp's Hardware in Walled Lake.

The oldest son, James Jr., just out of high school when the business was purchased, worked with his father for three years, then left to complete his education. Jim, interested in advertising, promoted advertising programs with other business men in Walled Lake. He also served on the advertising committee of Hardware Wholesalers, Inc. of Fort Wayne, Indiana.

Arthur worked in the business while attending Lawrence Institute of Technology. Now in the armed service, he is stationed in West Berlin.

Pat, just out of high school this year, and Denis, who is a sophomore, both have their education to complete, but work in the business as time permits. Mrs. Fitzgerald has a real interest in the business. She and Mary, the only daughter, back the male members in this family owned operation.

The sales floor area has grown from 2,250 square feet to 7,760 square feet. Today their hardware sales have increased to the point that it supplies work for four full time men and a bookkeeper besides the Fitzgeralds and a number of part time employees.

When the Fitzgeralds purchased the hardware, it was their thought that it would be a medium sized store that could be family operated. However, experience soon taught them that a small store had little chance to survive against the competition of today, so in 1957 they joined the Hardware Wholesalers, Inc.

Mr. Fitzgerald states that, "a business is not built on stores and sales alone. It is built on its contact with people and the number of people we have come to know and call friends is what makes the past seven years in Walled Lake a real success."

California Man Attains Remarkable Goal

At a time when the unity of American families seems to be falling prey to the stress and strain of latter-day sociological and psychological forces, the case history of the DANIEL ELMORE family is both praiseworthy and inspirational.

★ ★ ★

The 72-year-old father of 10 was just graduated from high school in Compton, Calif. Not only that, but he had seen 10 children through college while working as a handyman.

In turn the younger ELMORES, all of whom have successfully established themselves, worked to help each other earn a college degree.

Said the principal of the adult high school in awarding Elmore his certificate of graduation: "This is a tremendous man and a wonderful student."

To which we can add little, while rendering a long-distance salute to a fine example of a man and family that have more than measured up to the traditions of independence and resourcefulness on which America was founded.

Moonlighting Ahead for Nation's Golfers

The first lighted regulation-length public golf course went into operation in Rhode Island a few weeks ago.

★ ★ ★

Reportedly, hundreds of other courses around the Country are contemplating the move, for installing floodlights would add about 30 playing hours each week and help relieve the week-end crush.

Women, unless they play the game themselves, may view this development with something less than enthusiasm. Now hubby will have one more reason for wanting a night out with the boys.

But it's a lot healthier, possibly cheaper, too, than sitting motionless around a poker table, imbibing and inhaling. And it could mean that hubby might — just might — be available more often Saturday afternoons to lend a hand with the household chores.

Father IS the Boss— for One Day at Least

Tomorrow is the day the domestic ground rules are suspended, and the Old Man is given the run of the house.

It is the one day of the year that the theoretical head of the family can do no wrong.

Other family members, young and old, conspiratorily look the other way as ashes drop on the living room carpet and newspapers pile up in wild disorder. No wifely eyebrows are rasied over any uninhibited casualness of appearance.

He will even be allowed to remain at home in peace and quiet as the rest of his tribe sets out on the death-defying, nerve-racking Sabbath afternoon drive.

But not before his devoted family has presented him with its symbol of affection. The decision on what form it should take was not an easy one. After many caucuses, it was the consensus that the man had everything.

Statistics relating to this typical American phenomena are unavailable, but mercantile reports show that necktie sales go skyhigh just prior to Father's Day with patterns exhibiting sky-is-the-limit iridescence.

It may be true, as cynics sneer, that the run of sentimental ties follows a pretty grüesomental motif; and that if they were all laid end to end the sartorial image of the Country would be much improved.

But to the recipients, whose feigned indifference to the Day fools nobody but themselves, they come as tender avowals of family affection to be worn openly, if defiantly.

We wish Dads the Country over a delightful and heart-warming day with their loved ones, but with the admonition not to let their period of privilege and adulation give them any silly ideas about future self-determination within the home unit.

Domestic Issues as Seen by Barry

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — Sen. Barry Goldwater, seeking the Republican presidential nomination, has laid down in words and deeds his views on domestic issues and problems.

What follows is put together from his statements, his books, his positions in the Senate.

MARLOW

Civil Rights — Thursday night he announced he will vote against the civil rights bill, but said again he opposes segregation.

Government Spending—He wants it cut, contends free enterprise would provide all the jobs needed if allowed to work without government interference.

Federal Aid to Schools — He is particularly against it for elementary and secondary schools.

Medical Care for the Aged—He's against the Kennedy-Johnson program to tie such aid to Social Security.

Farmers — He said "we should get the farmers back on the law of supply and demand" and suggested phasing out the government's farm program over four years.

Housing, Public Power and Urban Renewal Programs — He has said the government should withdraw from all of them.

★ ★ ★

Labor — He is for right-to-work laws, which unions oppose, but has been against the union shop, compulsory arbitration, industrywide bargaining, political activities by unions, broadening the minimum wage.

Tennessee Valley Authority—He proposed selling TVA to private industry, later seemed to be saying only part of it should be sold.

Social Security — He suggested putting it on a voluntary basis but didn't explain how it could survive that way.

Later he said he wants to keep it and strengthen it by making the pension dollar sound.

Taxes — He was all for eliminating the graduated income tax. Later he seemed to modify this by saying there should be a tax overhaul.

The POWER of FAITH By WOODI ISHMAEL

The Christian love and faith of an Indian boy, Chanco, saved the Jamestown Colony from complete massacre in 1622.

A number of Pamunkey boys had been taken into the homes of various planters. Chanco went to live with a devout colonist by the name of Richard Pace, whose plantation was across the river from Jamestown. Mr. Pace treated Chanco as a son, taught the Bible and took him to church. Chanco soon became a Christian. The treacherous Pamunkey chief, Opechancanough, whom the colonists trusted, planned to exterminate the entire Jamestown colony. All of the Indian boys were told that they should kill their masters.

The night before the massacre was to take place, Chanco spent in torment. Was he to betray his people and the plot to kill the colonists or was he to forsake his Christian faith? Finally, the strength of his faith and love gave him the answer. He awakened Richard Pace, and with him rowed four miles across the James river to warn the people of Jamestown and as many plantations in the area they could. Many plantations that could not be warned were burned and their families killed. But thanks to a little Indian boy Jamestown was saved.

Days of All Faiths:

What Is Meaning of Sacrament?

By DR. HOWARD V. HARPER

Judging by the letters we get and the newspaper articles we see, there seems to be a good deal of confusion about sacraments.

A sacrament — only Christians have them — is a ceremony of the church through which the grace of God is given. Also, it must have been instituted by Jesus Himself.

According to the Roman Catholic church there are seven sacraments: Baptism, Confirmation, Holy Communion, Penance, Matrimony, Holy Orders, and Unction.

Protestants say there are only two: Baptism and Holy Communion. (Some Protestants — the Quakers, for example — reject all sacraments.)

The Protestant argument for limiting the number to two is based first on their claim that Jesus did not institute the other five. Matrimony, for example, existed before the Lord's time on earth.

★ ★ ★

Second, they say only two are necessary for salvation. A man does not have to be confirmed or married or ordained in order to be saved.

To take all seven separately, they are as follows:

BAPTISM

Of course, everyone knows what Baptism is. The minister (in an emergency a lay person can do it) puts water on the person receiving the sacrament, symbolizing that person's rebirth as a member of the Christian family, the household of faith. He is cleansed from the Original Sin with which he was born, and given power to lead a new life.

At the same time, in the case of a baby or small child, the congregation, represented by the godparents, takes on responsibility for the Christian nurture and upbringing of the child.

Although some Christian groups insist that the entire body must be immersed in Baptism, most of them will accept either aspersion (sprinkling) or affusion (pouring water over the head).

No one who has not been baptised is eligible to receive any of the other sacraments.

CONFIRMATION

This is administered at the time when the baptised child has become mature enough to accept responsibility for his own life. In most cases a bishop performs the ceremony, but in some churches the lesser clergy can do it.

HOLY COMMUNION

This is the Eucharist, the Mass, the Lord's Supper, the Blessed Sacrament. In it the faithful receive (some say actually, some say symbolically) the Body and Blood of Jesus for the refreshment and nourishment of their souls. The officiant, in the Catholic churches, must be at least a priest.

PENANCE

This is both confession of and restitution for sins committed after baptism. It is administered by a priest.

MATRIMONY

Here is the only sacrament in which the laity are the ministers. It is the bride and groom who celebrate this sacrament, not the priest. He only blesses the contract.

HOLY ORDERS

This sacrament requires a Bishop, as the instrument through which God's grace is conveyed to a man for the duties and responsibilities of the ordained ministry.

UNCTION

Literally, the word means to anoint. In unction the dying are anointed for the forgiveness of their sins, the ill for the restoration of health.

This, in the briefest and sketchiest sort of way, is what is meant by the term sacrament.

When you read a great many hazy statements about sacraments and finally, as a last straw, you hear a man who has been to a wedding say the priest was "all dressed up in his sacraments," you figure it is time to write a column on the subject.

The moon is approaching its full phase.

The morning stars are Jupiter, Saturn and Mars.

On this day in history:

In 1898, the United States seized Guam, in the Spanish American War.

Reader Anxious to See Goldwater Defend Views

No matter how the Republican leaders rationalize the nomination of Goldwater for President, it will be interesting to see how he can square his views on right-to-work laws with the 1960 GOP platform which said:

★ ★ ★

"Republican policy firmly supports the right of employers and unions to freely enter into agreements providing for the union shop and other forms of union security."

Mother Voices Opposition to Drag Strips

How would some of you drag-strip fans like to be married to a brainwashed, playboy drag-strip driver who spends his money on cars, bets and beer?

I wish they would take drag strips out of Michigan altogether.

MOTHER OF THREE

Believes Barry Good Bet for President

I am delighted to see the liberal leftist crowd in the Republican party stumble all over trying to find a candidate that is apparently against the people's choice. This is evident in their stop-Goldwater movement.

★ ★ ★

If the GOP is split in the fall election, it won't be Goldwater's fault—if he is nominated, but, rather, the fault of those who are acting like spoiled children. These liberals know that no more Yugoslavian-Communist plots will ever come to the U.S. to learn to fly planes our government sold Tito, if Goldwater is elected. They know that foreign aid to Communist countries and useless foreign aid will stop.

★ ★ ★

Then, too, they know that antisubversion laws will be enforced and states will be given back their power to enforce state-level antisubversion lows.

Seek Tougher Europe Line

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—Administration officials are said to be deeply annoyed and somewhat apprehensive at what they consider to be Western Europe's failure to grasp the gravity of the threat created by Red China's belligerent policies in Southeast Asia.

These officials foresee the possibility of more general war with Communist China as an eventual result if the Communist thrust is not stopped and if the leaders in Peking decide Western nations are soft in their reactions to aggression.

U.S. policymakers appear to be convinced the challenge in Southeast Asia can only be met effectively by a military response such as the United States is making.

They also are trying to get the Europeans to understand that if the challenge increases the response will also be increased.

Authorities say the United States is not pressing the European allies for actual military support.

What it wants, as one official put it, is "moral and political support" and a withholding of acts which in the U.S. view may undermine American efforts to blunt the Communist thrust.

★ ★ ★

Secretary of State Dean Rusk has repeatedly said that the problem in Southeast Asia is not to get a new neutrality agreement with Red China and Communist North Viet Nam but to get the Reds to live up to the agreements they have already made and "leave their neighbors alone."

Salinger's Wit in Top Order

By WASHINGTON STAFF

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Many who traveled with victorious Pierre Salinger, former White House press secretary, in his U. S. Senate campaign in California against Alan Cranston testify that the Salinger wit was in good working order throughout.

He smarted under Cranston's reminders that, though he was running in California's primary, he could not meet the residential requirements for voting this spring.

"That," said Pierre, "is one of the vicious rumors that just happens to be a little bit true."

★ ★ ★

Pierre often insisted to voters, however, that "this is not a personality contest."

A newsman laughingly charged him with hammering that theme because he knew he had "personality all locked up" in a race against the relatively colorless Cranston.

With an impish grin, Salinger asked: "Do you detect a little bit of fraud in my statement?"

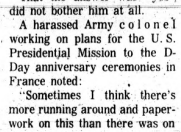

That the answer was "yes" did not bother him at all.

A harassed Army colonel working on plans for the U. S. Presidential Mission to the D-Day anniversary ceremonies in France noted:

"Sometimes I think there's more running around and paperwork on this than there was on the original invasion."

★ ★ ★

"In Southern Indiana, a crowd actually dented the steel top of my car," Wallace said. "And they did that by bashing it with signs reading 'God is Love.'"

★ ★ ★

Asked if he were a serious candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, Wallace answered:

"They called Lodge a serious candidate when he won the New Hampshire Primary. He got 28 per cent (sic) there, and I got 34 per cent in Wisconsin, so I guess I'm 6 per cent more serious than Lodge.

"Rockefeller got 31 per cent in Oregon, and I got 43 per cent in Maryland. So I'm 12 per cent more serious than Rockefeller.

"Why," they told me I even carried one county in Pennsylvania by write-ins. And I didn't even know there was an election there that day."

Who was the visitor? According to the neighborhood headline it was: "Shaw of Iran."

Asked when he might be expected to win the Republican nomination for president, Harold Stassen, perennial GOP candidate, answered:

"Just after the drive for Sen. Margaret Chase Smith fails to reach the necessary magic number of 655 convention votes."

Son Bill attended the University of Wisconsin and spent eight years with the J. L. Hudson Company to broaden his knowledge and experience in the menswear field before coming into his father's business. Bill is a quiet spoken, friendly man with an inborn instinct for the right manner of dress. The Dickinson's bought their corner building at 31 N. Saginaw 41 years ago. They have since opened a second store in Birmingham. Together they have built the tradition in men's fashion that Dickinson's is recognized for today.

Pharmacists David Dunsky and Son Robert, Progressive Pontiac and Oakland County Businessmen.

Dave Dunsky

Robert Dunsky

The first Thrifty Drug was established in a department of a Pontiac downtown store by Dave Dunsky in 1941... from this humble beginning Thrifty Drug Stores have grown to three of the largest in Oakland County. The main store is located at 148 North Saginaw Street in Downtown Pontiac.

The largest store is located on Dixie Highway in Drayton Plains, co-owned by Pharmacist Robert Dunsky, the son. The third Thrifty Drug Store, located at the corner of Telegraph Road and West Huron Street, is co-owned by Nate Maxman.

The same personal service which has made Thrifty Drugs so popular is still a part of their policy and a motorized unit is maintained for speedy delivery of prescriptions to their customers. In 1963 over 125,000 doctor's prescriptions were compounded by their pharmacists.

A new and special feature is the "Helping Hand Plan" of discount prescriptions to retired persons.

A Credit to All Michigan ... Joel N. Goldberg joins his Father Harold Goldberg in the operation of ten progressive Michigan stores.

Harold Goldberg

Joel N. Goldberg

The Thomas Jewelry Company located at the corner of East Lawrence Street and Perry in downtown Pontiac is the parent company of Shaws, Michigan's largest Jewelers, with stores in Flint, Lansing, Port Huron, Grand Rapids, Saginaw and Pontiac.

In addition to the Shaw Jewelry, Harold and Joel Goldberg own and operate the Pontiac Enggass Jewelry and Ward's Home Outfitting Company of Pontiac.

The operation of these ten very progressive stores has not stopped Harold Goldberg from finding time to actively participate in Pontiac civic affairs, he is presently Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the Pontiac General Hospital. His son, Joel N., graduated from Eastern Michigan University in June, 1961, and immediately joined the U.S. Naval Air Force. After completing service with the Air Force, he joined his father in the family business. He too, is active civicly in the Downtown Pontiac Association and The Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Osmun's Men's Store ... A Tradition of Quality and Service.

Monroe Osmun

Robert Osmun

In 1929 Monroe Osmun started a men's store in Pontiac, located in the Riker Building, which was the beginning of a very successful operation. After several years, a new location was established on Saginaw Street next to the old courthouse and then things began to happen. Osmun's began to grow and now there are a total of three stores ... Downtown Pontiac, Tel-Huron Shopping Center and Warren, Michigan.

Monroe Osmun is a native of Pontiac and very well known in community and civic affairs and is a member of the Pontiac Board of Education.

Son Bob joined his father in the clothing store in 1962 as executive assistant. Bob is a graduate of Pontiac High School and attended Ferris College.

Osmun's men stores feature a vast selection of nationally famous name brands in clothing which along with outstanding service has brought them great success.

The Osmun's have prided themselves as being leaders in their field and you can be sure the future holds bright rewards for the father and son team of Min and Bobby Osmun.

Milton Frayer

Robert Frayer

Clarence Frayer

What is it like to have a big happy family business? Ask the Robert Frayer's of Frayer Appliance Shop at 589 Orchard Lake Ave. Bob is a warm and friendly, fatherly man who is just naturally called "Dad" by all who deal with him. Each of the Frayer boys has a part in the family business as working partners.

Milton came into the business when he returned from the Navy and headed the promotion and sales staff. Clarence capably handles the service and delivery department. Mrs. Frayer stays quietly behind the scenes in the office but knows the complete operation of her well organized family. Women all over the county rely on "Dad" Frayer's advice and sincerity when it comes to appliances because they have learned that he is never too busy to service what he has sold.

Son Don, an appliance dealer representative, often drops by with a pat on the back for his younger brothers and for a bit of advice from his "Mom".

The family is proud of the fact that even though their shop is not a fancy showplace, they do own the large building that affords low overhead and houses all the pleasures of modern day living in the appliance field.

Three Generations of INSURANCE SERVICE!!

Frank A. Anderson

William N. Anderson

Anderson Agency was founded in 1913 by W. B. Anderson. Right from the start, W. B. Anderson had this one single thought ... "Dedicated service makes insurance protection come alive." The Anderson Agency has never lost sight of this in their more than 50 years of business.

In 1933 Frank A. Anderson entered the business and his son William N. Anderson joined him in 1956 to become the third generation to enter the insurance field. With over 50 years experience behind them the Andersons stand ready to help with any form of insurance service you may require.

The Miller Furniture Co. has served Home Furnishing needs in the Pontiac Area for more than 27 years.

Clinton B. Miller

Gellett E. Miller

Clinton B. Miller came to Pontiac from Grand Rapids in 1912. In Grand Rapids he learned and participated in the manufacturing, distribution and selling of fine furniture. He became associated with some of the largest and most successful furniture dealers in this area through the years.

Gellett E. Miller, like his father is dedicated to fulfill area needs with "Quality and Service," a principle that has established Miller's as a dependable furniture retailer. Miller Furniture is located in Downtown Pontiac at 144 Oakland Avenue.

Paul Herpolsheimer, Jr.

Paul (Bud) Herpolsheimer III

Birmingham Chrysler-Plymouth, Inc. was established by Paul Herpolsheimer Jr. and his son Paul Herpolsheimer III in 1962 as a father and son team. It was a natural step for them as the Herpolsheimer name has been associated with the automotive business since 1907. Paul Herpolsheimer, the First, headed an automobile distributorship selling Oakland cars, the forerunner of the Pontiac car.

Starting anew in Birmingham, Paul Jr. and Paul III, instituted a threefold program to grow on: to offer a greater selection of automobiles; to back up each sale with good customer relations; and to make service a backbone of their business. Thus they have grown year by year. "Bud" is active in Birmingham civic affairs and instructs at the Berz Airport and is a member in the Birmingham Exchange Club. His father is a member of the Almont school board.

Provisions in Senate Version of the Civil Rights Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The historic civil rights bill passed by the Senate preserves all the framework of the House measure but contains more than 100 changes in details.

The Senate version is expected to be the one sent to President Johnson for his signature since House leaders have indicated the Senate revisions are acceptable to them.

These are the major provisions of the Senate bill:

VOTING RIGHTS (TITLE I)

The 1957 and 1960 civil rights acts on voting rights are broadened in these ways to seek to prevent discrimination in registration for federal elections:

The states would have to apply uniform standards to all applicants, immaterial errors would not count, a 6th grade education would create a presumption of literacy, literacy tests must be in writing and copies of the test and an individual's answers must be furnished on request.

The attorney general could enter into agreements with the states that their literacy test procedures meet the federal requirements.

If the attorney general finds a pattern of discrimination in voting exists, he or a defendant may obtain a three-judge court hearing.

★ ★ ★

Voting cases, whether heard by three judges or a single judge, must be given highest priority.

PUBLIC ACCOMMODATIONS (TITLE 2)

Establishments offering food, lodging, gasoline and entertainment must serve all persons without discrimination based on race, color, religion or national origin.

Also covered are establishments situated within one of the four designated types, such as a barbershop within a hotel, and establishments which have one of the four types within them, such as a department store with a restaurant in it.

Any establishment must be open to all persons without regard to race, color, religion or national origin where state or local law requires discrimination.

Proprietor - operated lodging houses with five rooms or less for rent and bonafide private clubs are exempt.

★ ★ ★

Individuals could bring injunction suits to enforce their rights under this title. The court could name an attorney for the complainant and authorize the suit without payment of costs.

The attorney general could intervene in behalf of the complainant at the court's discretion.

If the attorney general finds that a pattern of resistance to the title exists, he may file an injunction suit himself and obtain a three-judge court to hear it.

States which have public accommodations laws — 34 do — would be given 30 days to act on a complaint before a federal suit could be brought.

★ ★ ★

In states which have no such laws, the court may refer the case to the community relations service established by the bill for a maximum of 120 days for an effort at voluntary compliance.

PUBLIC FACILITIES (TITLE 3)

When the attorney general receives a complaint in writing and believes it meritorious, he may bring an injunction suit to desegregate parks, playgrounds, swimming pools, libraries and similar public facilities.

He must decide that the complainant is unable to bear the expense of the suit or that filing the suit would jeopardize the personal safety, employment or economic standing of the person.

SCHOOL DESEGREGATION (TITLE 4)

When the attorney general receives a complaint in writing and believes it meritorious, he may bring public school desegregation suits affecting public schools and colleges.

He must decide that the parents or the prospective college student is unable to bear the expense of the suit or that filing the suit would jeopardize their personal safety, employment or economic standing.

Before filing suit, the attorney general must notify the local school board or the college of the complaint and give a reasonable time for adjustment.

Orders by a court or federal official to transport children to try to achieve a racial balance in schools are barred.

The U.S. commissioner of education is authorized to give technical help to school boards in preparing desegregation plans, to arrange for institutes to train school personnel in dealing with desegregation problems, to pay stipends to those attending such institutes and to make grants to school boards for local training of personnel in handling desegregation problems and for hiring of specialists to advise on such problems.

CIVIL RIGHTS COMMISSION (TITLE 5)

It is authorized to investigate vote frauds in federal elections and to serve as a national clearinghouse for information on equal protection of the laws, in addition to its previous assignment to investigate civil rights violations.

Numerous procedural safeguards are added for persons who might be involved in commission investigations.

There must be 30 days advance notice of hearings, all witnesses shall have the right to be represented by counsel and any person defamed by testimony shall have the right to produce evidence in reply.

WITHDRAWAL OF FEDERAL AID (TITLE 6)

No American, on grounds of race, color, or national origin, can be excluded from the benefits of any program receiving federal aid. Funds must be cut off in case of a violation but this must be limited to the particular political entity where discrimination exists.

Federal agencies must have their rules to administer this provision approved by the President, must hold a hearing before any funds are shut off, and must notify Congress 30 days before action is taken.

The title exempts the mortgage insurance and guarantee programs of the Federal Housing Administration and the Veterans Administration.

EQUAL EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITY (TITLE 7)

Discrimination by an employer, union or employment agency because of race, color, religion, national origin or sex, is prohibited in the hiring, firing, promotion and job referral for workers.

A five-member equal opportunity commission shall be named by the president to receive, investigate and seek to settle complaints of job discrimination. Complaints may be filed by an individual or a commission member.

In states that have their own fair employment laws—31 do—60 days must be allowed for state action before a case can be filed with the federal commission. This would be extended to 120 days during the first year of a new state law.

If the commission is unable to obtain voluntary compliance after a maximum of 60 days, it must notify the complainant, who may then file an injunction suit.

The commission can recommend that the attorney general intervene on behalf of the complainant.

The court may appoint an attorney for the complainant and authorize the case to be filed without payment of fees.

The commission also may recommend that the attorney general bring the case himself in a situation where a pattern of job discrimination is found. He may obtain a three-judge court to hear such a suit.

★ ★ ★

Specific language is included to make it clear that racial quotas shall not be used in enforcing the title and that it is not intended to disturb merit or seniority systems.

The commission could be set up as soon as the bill becomes law, but the enforcement powers would not take effect for one year after the effective date of the act.

For the first year the enforcement powers are operative, businesses and unions with 100 or more employes and members would be covered. In the next year it would be 75 or more, the next year 50 or more, and after that 25 or more.

Employes would be counted for coverage purposes only if they worked at least 20 weeks for a business in a year.

REGISTRATION AND VOTING STATISTICS (TITLE 8)

The Census Bureau is directed to compile registration and voting statistics in geographic areas recommended by the civil rights commission, including a count based on race, color and national origin.

But no person is required to disclose his race or political affiliation or how he voted.

INTERVENTION IN CIVIL RIGHTS CASES (TITLE 9)

The attorney general is authorized to intervene in any civil rights case brought under the 14th Amendment if he certifies it to be of general public importance.

Another provision states that a defendant who has sought removal of a state court suit to a federal district court on the ground he would be denied his civil rights in the state court may appeal to the federal court of appeals a federal district court order returning the case to the state court.

COMMUNITY RELATIONS SERVICE (TITLE 10)

JURY TRIALS (TITLE 11)

Defendants in criminal contempt cases charged with violations of injunctions obtained under all titles of the bill except voting rights shall be entitled to jury trials.

For voting rights, the 1957 law still applies. It provides a jury trial if the penalty exceeds 45 days in jail or a $300 fine.

Another provision states nothing in the act is intended to invalidate any state law on the same subject unless the law is inconsistent with the purposes of the federal act.

Scranton Says He'll Use Barry's Vote as Weapon

BOSTON (AP)—Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania plans to use Sen. Barry Goldwater's vote against the civil rights bill as his main weapon in their battle for the Republican presidential nomination.

"I have used it as an issue and I will continue to do so," the governor told a news conference Friday night shortly after receiving the most tumultuous reception of his 9-day-old campaign. He came here to address the Massachusetts Republican convention today.

★ ★ ★

He said Goldwater's vote Friday, as the bill cleared the Senate, "is the most unfortunate thing for our party. It sets the party back to the time before Abraham Lincoln."

"Someone else ought to be nominated, and I know just the person who is interested," Scranton said.

HITS AT VOTE

Scranton hit at Goldwater's vote several hours earlier in Louisville, Ky., where he also attacked what he called the senator's slanderous statements against the poverty-stricken.

Nearly a thousand persons were at Logan International Airport when the chartered DC6 touched down at 10:30 p.m. after a three-hour flight from Louisville. Another large throng cheered him at a downtown hotel, where he and his wife obliged with their rousing version of the Pennsylvania polka.

He came here to win, or at least neutralize, delegates from Massachusetts, Rhode Island and New Hampshire.

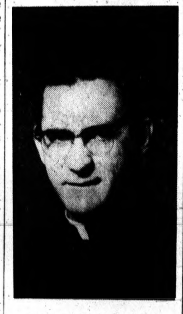

Most of the delegates in this area are favorable to Henry Cabot Lodge, whose backers have thrown their weight behind Scranton.

RESULTS UNKNOWN

At a news conference in Louisville, Scranton said he didn't know if he picked up any votes.

"I don't know because I didn't ask them precisely how they were going to vote," Scranton said. "Several came up to me afterward and said they were impressed, and I am sure we will gain some in the follow-up next week."

He's Both Their Father and Mother

It Takes Time to Raise Three Children

WOMEN'S SECTION

By JEANMARIE ELKINS

A widower, for a year and a half, he is the father of three small children.

★ ★ ★

SO LITTLE TIME

Returning to her home for dinner, Eddie just has time for a few short hours with his children. Often after dinner he will take them to his lake front home.

★ ★ ★

Keeping a home requires time and work and Eddie can "kill two birds with one stone" as he does the yardwork with 'help' from the children.

★ ★ ★

Five a.m. comes too early to rouse small children for a trip to grandmother's house. So Eddie takes the children there each night to put them to bed. He waits until they are asleep before leaving.

★ ★ ★

FAMILY EXTROVERT

Keri is an extrovert, easy going and not hard to become acquainted with. She has definite fashion tastes and will not go to church unless she is wearing the proper dress.

Kevin is somewhat shyer than his older sister. But it doesn't take long for him to make friends.

Following his older brother and sister, Kenny is the quietest of the three, often taking off by himself to play with a favorite truck. But let the other two children begin to roughhouse and he is quick to join in the fun.

PROBLEMS COMING

Time is short and the problems are many. Before Eddie realizes it, Keri will have her first boyfriend and want her first tube of lipstick. How old will she be before he should permit her to date boys?

"I don't know. Maybe I'll have another wife by then and that will help solve a lot of problems."

★ ★ ★

But marriage is a big step, bigger still when there are three little people to consider. Eddie is in no hurry.

Until then he shares his problems with the children's grandparents.

Father's Letters Important to Son in Service Overseas

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR READERS: We are celebrating Father's Day, and it is a most appropriate time to share with you these letters which I received from readers.

ABBY

The first was sent to me from a proud father in Norwalk, Ohio. It was the first letter he received from his G.I. son — ". . . one of seven to serve our country, with two more to go." He wrote:

Verdun, France

"Hi, Dad:

"I received your letter the other day, but have been too tired to answer until now. I still am, but here goes:

"Dad, you have no idea what it means to get a letter from you. I know you think of me, but it is good to see it in writing.

I want you to know that I think of you as well as Mom and my wife, all the time. I pray for you all every night.

The only thing that keeps me going is knowing that we will all be together again.

"I guess the reason your letters mean so much to me is because they are so few and far between.

"I just can't explain the feeling I get when I read a letter from you, Dad. It just tears me apart.

★ ★ ★

"I guess I am just sentimental. Or, maybe it's because we never said much to each other before. I feel that your letters bring us closer together.

"Anyway, I want you to know that I think you are O.K. and I am proud that you are my dad.

"When anybody would ask me, 'Are you Ed Brutsche's boy?' I'd say, 'Yea, I sure am.'

"This is my first letter to you and you alone, Dad.

"I am even putting it in a separate envelope because it is worth eight cents to let my father know that I love him and miss him very much.

"And, that's it.

"Your Sentimental Son.

Pink"

And another letter:

DEAR ABBY: Please do me a favor and print the enclosed portion of a letter I received from my son, a wonderful boy who has been neglected by his father for all of his 19 years.

My son is away at college. His father reads your column. Maybe he will see it and recognize himself as I could not bring myself to show him his sons's letter.

A BROKEN-HEARTED MOTHER

". . . I hope to God I never turn out to be the kind of man my father is. If I do, I want someone to shoot me.

"Do you realize that I have actually lived in the same house with a man for 19 years and he never once sat down and talked to me, or took me anywhere, or showed any interest in me, except for football my last year in high school, and that was very short-lived?

"You should see the letters some of these boys get from some of their fathers. You should hear them talk about places they've gone, and the things they've done with their fathers.

"How am I supposed to know how to treat a son if I ever get married? I've never been shown any love by my father.

★ ★ ★

"I don't even know how a father is supposed to act. Do you realize that I have missed half the fun of growing up because my father never looked at me?

"If he had been dead for the past 15 years it wouldn't have made any difference. There are some things a mother can't give her children.

"Especially if they are boys. I've missed all that and I'll never forgive my father for it.

"Maybe you should have pushed him a little harder, Mom. I don't know. I only know that it's too late for me, but it's not too late for my brother.

"See if you can't talk to him, Mom. I don't want Johnny to grow up wondering what it's like to have a father's love.

"That's half a boy's education. Don't let Johnny miss it, Mom. PLEASE."

Color Jeans by Washing

When you wash new blue jeans, add the family's old jeans to the same machine load — so any excess dye which bleeds from the new can help to brighten the old.

If you launder by hand, agitate the garments constantly so the color will be evenly distributed.

Grass Stains Removed

CROWN POINT, Ind. (UPI) —To remove grass stains from the children's clothes, work from the wrong side of the fabric, forcing the stain out instead of in, suggests Minerva Partin, county extension agent in home economics.

★ ★ ★

On washable fabrics, work a detergent into the stain, then rinse. If the stain is stubborn and remains after this treatment use a chlorine or sodium perborate bleach or hydrogen peroxide, she says.

★ ★ ★

Do not use chlorine bleaches on fabrics that contain silk, wool or spandex fibers.

Conifer Setting Ideal for A-Frame

By JODY HEADLEE
Home Editor, Pontiac Press

Last October, the Charles F. Nofferts of Gardner Road, Oxford Township, moved into their unique A-frame which was designed by Mrs. Noffert. Located on 22 pine-and-balsam covered acres, the home features three levels.

Its exterior is finished in walnut stained wood with split field stone accenting the ground level. Black mortar holds the field stone in place. The roof repeats the green of the evergreen surroundings.

In keeping with the woodsy setting, tree-round steps lead up a slope to the second level and the living room entrance.

Two bedrooms, the master bath, utility room, service lavatory, hall and the tunnel garage are found on the ground floor.

On the second level are the living-dining area and the kitchen.

Sliding glass doors off both the living room and dining section open onto walkways which provide access to the two separate 42-foot by 16-foot sundecks.

The living room ceiling extends to the peak of the A, creating a feeling of vast spaciousness.

"Last year, we hunted our property back and forth until we found just the right tree. It was 12-foot tall and 12-foot in diameter. And it didn't look the slightest bit crowded!"

The bow and arrows were used on hunting expeditions by the natives.

And the two ritual paddles were absolutely guaranteed to drive out evil spirits, the Papuans' answer to miracle drugs.

FARMHOUSE FLAVOR — This economical 1½-story home has all the warmth and charm of an old fashioned farm house, and all the up-to-date livability needed for today's family. With the attic expansion complete it contains five bedrooms. Architect is Rudolph A. Matern.

FLOOR PLANS: Excluding the garage and breezeway the house contains a basic living room of 1,431 square feet. There is an expansion attick, in addition, of 819 square feet for two more bedrooms and a third full bath—plus an abundance of storage space.

1½ Story Features Economical Design

★ ★ ★

But as an architectural setting for the warmth and stability usually associated with family life, nobody has yet come up with a more appropriate style than the old fashioned farm house.

Today's House of the Week, H-36 in the series, has all the charming details typical of such a home — narrow board siding with corner boards, boulder stone facing, double hung windows, wood shutters, a shady breezeway, and an attached garage with barn type doors and a cupola on top.

Moreover, the house is a 1½-story structure, offering built-in expansion room under the sharply pitched roof.

★ ★ ★

What that means in this case is that the house, with expansion complete, contains five bedrooms and three full baths, plus living room, dining room and family kitchen — all within a basic area of only 1,431 square feet.

DIMENSIONS

Including the breezeway and garage, which actually could be built later if the initial construction budget is too tight, the dimensions are 78'11" wide by 27'4" deep.

Breezeway and garage aren't included in the basic living area of 1,431 square feet.

The expansion room upstairs is made possible by a large dormer across the rear.

This portion of the house — a total area of 819 square feet — also could be completed later.

It's the most economical type of expansion in a home, since the structural work already is done; a handy husband could do much of the finish work himself.

When completed, the upstairs offers two large bedrooms, a full bath, and a tremendous amount of closet and storage space.

★ ★ ★

ADDITIONAL DETAILS

Some of the traditional ingredients of the old farmstead add flavor to the interior of his house, such as the log burning fireplace, slate foyer and large family kitchen.

In each case they are also the sort of features necessary for modern family living.

The fireplace catches the eye immediately on entering the foyer, and together with the large bay window is a focal point for furniture arrangement in the 22' by 13'4" living room.

★ ★ ★

The living room flows through an arch to the dining room where sliding glass doors lead to the covered breezeway.

On occasions of large scale entertaining, especially in pleasant weather, the three rooms combine into a well arranged ensemble.

Clearly a key feature of the house is the large (178 square foot) kitchen and family dinette, a nicely arranged housekeeping hub with plenty of room for all the family to congregate.

★ ★ ★

LARGE WINDOWS

Both the kitchen and dinette have large windows which provide excellent views of the backyard play area.

All three downstairs bedrooms are nicely proportioned and contain at least three closets; the master bedroom contains four.

The main bath also is off the hallway through a vestibule where the linen closet is located. Note how the main bath and master bath are back to back for plumbing economy.

Upstairs, the hall has a balcony rail around the stair, also typical of the interior design of the old farmhouse days.

★ ★ ★

At each end of the expansion attic are two large rooms for seasonal storage, and there is a full wall in the center for linen storage.

★ ★ ★

The house has a full basement, with the stair conveniently located at the rear service entry and near the kitchen.

Bright Colors Add Variety to Tile

Use of ceremic tile was once confined pretty exclusively to bathrooms.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

Many of America's greatest architects are finding ways to surpass even the grandeur of ancient Persian uses for ceramic tile, and tile industry research sceintists have succeeded in a drive to bring costs within the budget range for every American.

State Legislatures this year contained 234 women members.

Galvanized Pails Ideal

Short of paint cans?

They even have a lip around the edge for removing excess paint from the brush.

★ ★ ★

If you are using latex paint, you can easily wash out the pail after you're through painting, and restore it to its former use.

Spigot Drip Noisy and Expensive

Does the sound of a leaky faucet annoy you? If the noise doesn't, the cost should.

A faucet leaking 60 drops a minute will waste 2,299 gallons of water in a year.

And the cost doesn't end there — continued use of a faucet needing washer replacement can result in permanent damage to the fitting.

The average plumbing system represents an investment of at least 10 per cent of a home's value. In fact, little else in the home is used more often.

Like any valued part of your home, your plumbing should be given periodic care and repair to ensure the long life it was designed to give.

The Plumbing - Heating - Cooling Information Bureau offers several tips that can add years of service to your equipment:

- Fix leaky faucets immediately to avoid costly damage.
- Use a force cup to clear obstructions beyond drain traps. Don't use drain chemicles without trying this first.
- Keep foreign objects from entering drains. Never pour grease, fats or oils down them.
- Drain a few quarts of water from your water heater every few weeks. This will remove sediment and prolong heater life.
- When repairing fixture fittings, always pad the jaws of your wrench (taping is good) to prevent marring.
- Use non-abrasive cleansers on enamel fixtures and chrome-plated fittings.
- Be sure your water heater thermostat is set at the recommended level.

A reputable plumbing contractor should be called in for all but minor repairs and replacements.

Stake School Sites

A recent Roundtable on Schools and Urban Growth at the National Housing Center was told that wherever possible, school sites should be staked out as early as practical and bought out by the community.

The annual income per person in Taiwan is about $150.

Don't be satisfied with just any stock model development, or assembly line pre-fab house! Take advantage of Albee's exclusive "Customerizing" plan and use the FREE services of Albee designers to make any changes you desire in floor plan or exterior design of your Albee Home. This free Albee "Customerizing" service is so personalized and flexible that Albee will actually design and pre-cut a home to your family's needs and tastes.

Albee arranges local "on-the-spot" financing to start you toward owning your new Albee home. Yes! Almost immediately, you and your family are on your way to moving day! And with Albee there are no closing cost or "penalty points" often found with development-type houses.

Albee guidance experts help you stake out your lot and position your new home. Then, Albee shows you how to obtain qualified local craftsman to complete any phase of your new home which you do not want to build yourself. Albee guidance programs are with you from the start to the finish of your new home.

Whether you prefer to do all, part, or none of the work yourself—whether you're an experienced or amateur "do-it-yourselfer"—Albee takes the worry and guesswork out of building your new home by providing the guidance services of an Albee construction expert who is "on call" to assist you every step of the way.

Then your Albee man offers you your choice of the best financing available with payments tailored to your budget. Albee's "customerized" financing lets you finance your new home through your own bank, savings and loan association, mortgage company, FHA, VA or farm loan, or the most preferred Albee construction loan.

Moving day! And you and your family will be living in the home you thought you couldn't afford! Yes! The 30 minutes spent with your Albee man today can make all this possible in a matter of weeks!

DON'T DELAY! EVERY MINUTE YOU PUT OFF HEARING THE COMPLETE ALBEE STORY IS ANOTHER MINUTE AWAY FROM THE HOME OF YOUR DREAMS!

VACATION HOME — Charles Gates, 4401 Elmdale, Independence Township, spent his spare moments this past winter designing and building a vacation home on wheels. The aluminum, two-wheeled trailer features sealed glass windows in both the front and back to avoid annoying condensation. "I would suggest," said Gates, "anyone deciding to build his own trailer should rent one for a week. Then you can easily discover what features are necessary for your family's comfort." The louvered window door provides additional ventilation. Fishing poles and sports gear are neatly tucked into a compartment under the bedroom's bottom bed. A space saver, the storage bin is entered by a small door on the outside of the trailer.

EFFICIENTLY COMPACT — Gates reaches for his jacket in the compact and efficiently arranged closet. For further convenience, the bedroom at the rear of the trailer is separated from the general living quarters by a folding door. The bedroom's twin double bunks sleep four. Hinged, the top bunk becomes a slanted ceiling during the daytime. Plastic 5-gallon containers slide in under the sink for the cooking and drinking water supply. The interior is paneled in bleached Philippine mahogany.

Portable Tubs Handy for Laundry

★ ★ ★

These large tubs, made of durable galvanized steel, can be moved into position on wash day, and then rolled back into a storage area when not in use.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

They are available in single and double tub sizes and have convenient drain outlets.

New Styles Are Available

The basic function of an awning hasn't changed. It provides needed shade for warm weather comfort, indoors and out.

But, thanks to developments in the use of weather-resistant aluminum, the homeowner of today has a wide choice of awning designs to meet his or her family's needs.

If you are interested in awnings for a window, doorway or patio, a new four-color booklet illustrates the different styles you may want to consider, including patio covers, solar screens, carport awnings, roll-ups, sun 'n' wind shades and fold-down awnings.

For a free copy write to "Awning Booklet," in care of Bridgeport Brass Company, Bridgeport 2, Connecticut.

Seasoning Increases Nail Holding Power

The nail holding power and permanence of lumber are greatly enhanced by proper seasoning. Through this drying process, lumber is pre-shrunk before being surfaced to final size.

Objectives and values of the workshop will be discussed at the meeting by schools officials and representatives of local businesses and industry.

Swimsuit Evidence Too Scant

Members of the City Council asked: "Why not?"

City Atty. Robert Cockins said: "The city's indecent exposure ordinance doesn't apply because it has to be proved that someone did something openly and lewdly.

This is hard to prove, he said.

'STUNT' SCORED

Police Chief Earl Reinbold said: "Officers didn't arrest Miss Winn simply because the police department does not want to get involved with any kind of publicity stunt."

Councilman Howard Hamilton said: "I can't imagine any woman who would want to expose herself in public or otherwise."

He and other councilmen said at Friday's council session that they would support new laws banning topless suits from the city beaches.

Rocket's Solid Fuel Passes Impact Test

CHINA LAKE, Calif. (AP)— The Air Force says tests show solid fuel used in space boosters for the Titan 3 rocket won't detonate under impact.

★ ★ ★

A spokesman disclosed Friday that a naval ordnance research track was used to hurl a 118,000-pound motor segment into a concrete abutment at 435 miles per hour.

★ ★ ★

The fuel did not detonate, the spokesman said, and the rocket passed the test.

Plainwell Man Killed

Ionia Area Crash Fatal

IONIA (AP) — Lawrence E. Chippewa, 21, of Grand Rapids, was killed Friday when his car and another collided on M21 about three miles east of Ionia, state police said.

Jacobs Does 'Impossible' in U.S. Open

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

BETHESDA, Md. — They said it was impossible.

In fact when some of the players heard about Tommy Jacobs' 6-under par 64 on the tough, long Congressional Country Club course in the second round of the National Open yesterday, they called it "unbelievable."

Considering that only one player, Arnold Palmer, was able to shoot a sub-par opening round of 68, and he did again yesterday with a 69 for 137, it was readily accepted that the 7,073-yard layout was just too tough to "tear apart."

"It's fantastic," said Gary Player, "I couldn't imagine anyone setting a record on this course."

The 64 tied the National Open record for a single round. Lee Mackey, Jr., a pro from Birmingham, Ala., shot a 64 in the first round of the 1950 open at Marion Country Club near Philadelphia.

In the second round, Mackey then zoomed to an 81 but still made the cut at midpoint.

"This course (Congressional) should easily be a par-73," said veteran pro Claude Harmon who hosted the Open at Mamoroneck, N.Y., in 1959, "and that 64 would be eight or nine under par easily at many Open courses."

Harmon certainly found Congressional tough for him. He failed to make the cut with 78-79—157, and in his 36 holes he didn't get a single birdie.

Jacobs and Palmer were the only two players to get through 36 holes under par, and when they went out together off the first tee at 8:35 for the third round this morning, there was much doubt that the lanky Californian could keep up his pace with the Latrobe, Pa., veteran.

The two leaders staged a thrilling hole-by-hole battle for birds and pars on the final holes yesterday with Palmer playing in a threesome behind Jacobs.

EVEN PAR

When they made the turn, Palmer was 3-under for 27 and Jacobs was at even par. On the tough 13th hole where all the birdies could be counted for the tournament on both hands, both players took Birdie-3.

Jacobs then sunk birdie putts of 5-feet, 14-feet on No. 14 and 15 and a 11-foot par putt on 16. On 18, a crowd estimated at 10,000 watched and let out a roar as his 60 foot putt dropped in for 31 on the backside.

Palmer, meanwhile, bogied No. 14, birdied No. 15 and bogied 17 to end with 69 for the day.

"I must have jumped four feet when the ball dropped in on 18," said Jacobs, who added that "this is the toughest golf course I've ever played."

Billy Collins, who made the biggest surge among the other players in the field when he was at 3-under par after 27 holes, called Jacobs' round "magnificent, just magnificient."

"They will probably put the pins in the traps after that round," he added, inferring what Palmer said earlier that the pin placements were much easier in the second round.

* * *

Collins stayed in close contention until the 14th and 15th holes, then he bogied and double bogied to rapidly lose his sub-par advantage.

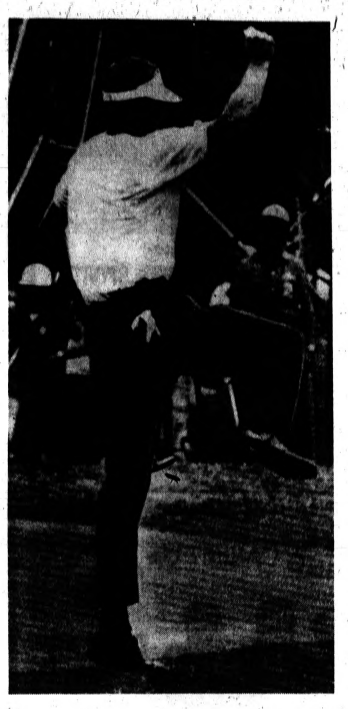

He finished with 71 yesterday to be one over par 141 at midpoint, five strokes behind Jacobs.

Chipping and putting were used to great advantage by both players. Palmer said he "played better with 69 than he did with 78. My driving was much better in the second round."

In 36 holes, Palmer has not three-putted a green.

This was the story at Oakmont in 1962 when Nicklaus went through 72 holes without three-putting. He then played 18 more in a playoff and defeated Palmer without three-putting in the playoff round.

Slammin' Sam Snead made the cut at 149, but defending champion Julius Boros had a pair of 77's for 154 and became the second defending champion in a row to miss the cut. Nicklaus missed the final 36 last year. Yesterday he finished with 145 total.

Long Journey Home

Open Woes for State Pros

BETHESDA, Md. —Six Michigan golfers in the field of the National Open took the long journey home today, 36-hole victims of the rugged Congressional Country Club course.

* * *

Most dejected of the Michigan contingent was former Franklin Hills' pro Wally Burkemo whose 78, coupled with his first-round 74, gave him 152, two strokes over the cutoff point.

* * *

Dave Hill of Jackson also had 152 to be eliminated with rounds of 77-75. Nick Berklich of Grosse Isle had 158 and Eldon Briggs, member of Detroit Golf Club staff, was far out of the picture with 166.

Big John Barnum of Belmont had the best single round among Michigan's representatives. He posted a 73 yesterday but his 81 on Thursday for 154 total was too much to overcome.

Most disgusted with his play was Sam Kocsis of Pontiac, an amateur playing out of Atlas Valley Country Club.

Kocsis shot a 79 in the first round and did not finish yesterday. He picked up after nine holes with a 45 and a nine on the ninth hole.

"I started playing well today, but after a few bad breaks, I knew it wouldn't be my day," Kocsis said.

WEED BED

On the ninth hole, he went into the woods and his ball landed in a clump of weeds. It took him two shots to get back into the fairway as the first ball rebounded against a tree.

* * *

Another blast, a pitch and two putts were more than he could take and thus ended his first trip to the National Open championship.

Kocsis made the trip by car with Tony Novitsky, former U. of D. teammate of his, who now hails from Denver, Colo.

* * *

Novitsky shot a 74 yesterday but he had an 84 in the first round.

Best showing among those who qualified at Pine Lake was Bob Panasiuk, 23-year-old pro of Almsted, Ontario. Panasiuk was two over par at 72 Thursday and yesterday he nearly missed the cut by "two feet."

He shot a 78 for 150 total, but on the 18th green he missed a two-foot putt which he feared at the time would eliminate him.

* * *

"I'm glad I made the cut; I certainly want to play this course again, and I think I can have two good rounds today," he said.

Former Detroiter Joe Zakarian, now playing out of Los Angeles, also missed the cut after a fine 71 in the opening round. He skied to an 80 yesterday.

Tiger Rookie Faces Minnesota

Vets Bombed By 4 Homers in 7-6 Loss

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn (AP)—The Detroit Tigers, losers in four of their last five games, will send rookie Denny McLain against the mighty Minnesota Twins this afternoon.

The Twins bombed Tiger pitchers for four home runs Friday night in a 7-6 victory.

* * *

* * *

But for manager Charlie Dressen, whose team has been sagging both at bat and on the mound, there seems to be nothing much to do but jiggle the lineup and hope.

HOMER BARRAGE

The Tigers got 12 hits last night but the pitching faltered. Starter Mickey Lolich gave up homers to Harmon Killebrew and Bob Allison. Then his replacement, Larry Sherry, was touched for homers by Zoro Versalles and Tony Oliva.

* * *

This gave the Twins a 7-4 lead. The Tigers fought back when Jerry Lumpe drove home one run in the eighth, and Bill Freehan homered for another with one out in the ninth. But Don Demeter and Norm Cash were easy outs and it was all over.

* * *

The Tigers took a 4-1 lead early in the game, George Thomas and Dick McAuliffe singled in runs in the second and Freehan and Demeter drove in two more in the fifth with a single and a sacrifice fly, respectively.

DEAD HEAT — West Point's Bill Straub (left) and Jim Murphy of the Air Force break the tape in a dead heat during yesterday's 5,000-meter run in the NCAA championships. Their time was a new NCAA record, 14:12.3. Straub collapsed to the track after the finish.

'Junk Man' Is Collecting Oriole Saves

By The Associated Press

Stu (The Junk Man) Miller has been out collecting again.

Stingy Stu went foraging against Boston Friday night and salvaged two more games for Baltimore, preserving 2-1 and 6-5 triumphs over the Red Sox that boosted the Orioles back into first place in the American League.

* * *

Baltimore now has been involved in 20 one-run ball games and won 18—an astonishing .900 record in the squeakers. And, at the tail-end of most of them, Miller has lumbered out of the bullpen with his assortment of easy-looking, impossible-to-hit pitches.

He made his 25th and 26th appearances of the season against the Red Sox and when the right was over, he had been involved in his 14th and 15th one-run games. The Orioles have won 13 of those and Miller has officially been credited with 11 saves.

SET RECORD

A 36-year-old right-hander who set a league record by appearing in 71 games last season, Miller has an over-all earned run average of 1.54 this year. In those 15 squeakers, however, he has been somewhat stingier, allowing just one run.

* * *

While Miller was adding to his collection, former Baltimore reliefer Wes Stock added to his amazing record, posting his 11th victory without a loss since July 12, 1962.

* * *

Acquired by Kansas City in a deal for catcher Charley Lau last Sunday, Stock stroked his first major league hit in a career that started in 1961 and received credit for a 5-4 victory over Washington. It was the A's seventh victory in nine games under new Manager Mel McGaha.

Elsewhere in the AL, Harmon Killebrew's 21st homer was one of four hit by the Minnesota Twins in a 7-6 victory over Detroit and Bobby Knoop singled in the winning run in the Los Angeles Angels' 2-1 triumph over Cleveland.

Yankees Battle Mets With Free Tickets

NEW YORK (AP) — Empty taxicabs lined the streets of New York Friday while the drivers queued up for free Yankee baseball tickets, newest promotion gimmick in the no-longer staid Yanks' raging box-office war with the rival Mets.

The Yankees, miffed at their second class status in the battle for the attendance dollar, gave away 10,000 tickets—worth $25,000—to more than 5,000 cabbies. The drivers are due to receive 10,000 more "freebies" Saturday.

Detroit Horse Show Set to Open at BOH

* * *

The Long Lake Road club will be the site Monday through Sunday of the annual Detroit Horse Show, one of the biggest hunters and jumpers affairs in the country.

Many of those entered in the BOH classes are competing this weekend in the Grosse Pointe action.

Junior riders will start the competition early Monday, mostly with dressage events. There will be no admission for that day's activity.

By the time the Colonel I. L. Kitts Memorial Trophy is presented to the winner of that evening's special dressage class, practically all of the entrants for next week's competition will be stabled at the BOH.

HUNT FAIR

The Detroit Horse Show will pick up tempo Tuesday with the opening of its companion Hunt Fair. The ring action will speed up, also.

All proceeds from the Hunt Fair and the gate receipts will go into the Oakland University scholarship fund.

The biggest event of the week will be the new Fort Riley Classic jumping event Saturday night. The course will be patterned after the outstanding physical features of Fort Riley, Kans., a noted Army cavalry post.

First prize in the classic will be $1,000 plus the Frances Hopkins Duffy Memorial Trophy, donated by the J. P. Moses of Bloomfield Hills.

The late Mrs. Duffy was a member of the BOH, an ardent supporter of the show and the wife of this year's honorary show chairman, Irving A. Duffy. She also once lived at Fort Riley.

Haskins' 9 Wins With Late Rally

Haskins Chevrolet cracked a 1-1 tie with four runs in the fifth inning last night enroute to a 9-3 triumph over Taig Tree Service in Waterford Township softball action.

* * *

Rain halted a game between Lakeland Pharmacy and Pink Poodle with the score tied at 4-4 in the fourth inning. The game will be resumed at a later date.

NCAA Stirs Track Feud

EUGENE, Ore. (AP) — Another battle has erupted in the track and field administrative war between the NCAA and AAU, this time over selection of the team to compete with the Russians.

* * *

The college coaches, attending the NCAA national meet, have asked the AAU to change the method of selecting the team which now is chosen on the basis of the top two finishers in each event of the AAU national meet.

* * *

This, say the coaches, is unfair to college athletes and they propose the national team be selected this year at the Olympic trials.

In other works a college athlete competing in the current NCAA meet could skip the AAU event at Rutgers next week and still be able to make the team for the Russian meet in Los Angeles this summer.

Competing in the Olympic trials at New York in two weeks will be the top six citizen finishers in the NCAA and AAU meets, plus the armed forces champion in each event.

* * *

The 150 members of the National Collegiate Track Coaches Association adopted their resolution by unanimous vote and forwarded it to AAU executive director Donald Hull.

* * *

The NCAA - supported United States Track and Field Federation, which held its national meet a week ago at Corvallis, Ore., has been feuding with the AAU over administration of the sport.

Medal Awaits Lone Skipper

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — Lt. Eric Tabarly will return to France as he came—aboard his ketch Pen-Duick II—to receive his nation's Legion of Honor medal from President Charles deGaulle.

The French naval officer will make the solo return sail in "two or three weeks" but right now he is savoring his record-breaking victory in the Trans-atlantic single-handed yacht race.

Lt. Tabarly crossed the finish line at Brenton Reef light tower at 8:56 a.m., EST, Friday, 27 days, one hour, 56 minutes after leaving Plymouth, England, May 23.

The previous record was 33 days, 15 hours, 17 minutes, by Francis Chichester of England in the slightly longer Plymouth to New York race in 1962. Chichester, sailing his Gypsy Moth III, is expected to be the second yacht in the field of 13 to finish —sometime Sunday.

The only other yacht sighted so far is the smallest boat in the race, the 30-foot Stardrift, the only Australian entry.

AP Photofax

PROUD AUNTIE — Skipper Eric Tabarly has his beard affectionately tugged by his aunt, Madame Mony Landry, who flew from Paris to greet the solo trans-Atlantic sailor. Tabarly, a lieutenant in the French navy, single-handedly sailed his 44-foot ketch Pen Duick III to Newport, R.I., arriving yesterday. His boat was the first to reach Newport of the 13 that sailed from England May 23. He plans a solo trip back to France.

For NCAA Crown

Rated Netters Meet

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) —Defending champion Southern California, leaning heavily on the power game of Dennis Ralston, moved into the finals of the NCAA Tennis Championships today, trailing UCLA in team points, 25-24.

★ ★ ★

Ralston, No. 1 seed, takes on second-seeded Marty Riessen of Northwestern for the singles title; and then teams with Bill Bond against UCLA's Arthur Ashe and Charles Pasarell in the doubles finale.

★ ★ ★

Ralston is favored to beat Riessen. But Ashe and Pasarell, who have beaten Ralston and Bond twice in recent months, are favored in doubles. Ralston and Bond are second seeded in this tourney, just ahead of Ashe and Pasarell.

★ ★ ★

With one point awarded for each victory, USC needs a sweep to take the outright team title. The Uclans could win it all by taking the doubles title.

★ ★ ★

Northwestern, with 17 points, is assured of third place.

★ ★ ★

Ashe and Pasarell produced a major upset Friday by knocking off Northwestern's top-seeded doubles entry of Riessen and Clark Graebner 6-4, 3-6, 11-9, 6-3.

★ ★ ★

Ralston and Bond made the finals by ousting fourth-seeded Steve Reed and Dave Sanderlin of UCLA 6-4, 6-3, 6-4.

★ ★ ★

In singles play, Ralston, the defending champion, played a consistently powerful game in beating Ashe 6-3, 6-4, 6-3. Ashe appeared to have difficulty containing Ralston's power game.

★ ★ ★

Riessen, after winning the first two sets 6-1, 6-2, had to rally after Pasarell came back and took the third set 6-4. Riessen won the final set 6-1.

Pontiac Business Institute used a familiar formula Friday night for a 6-0 win over CIO No. 594 and possession of fourth place in the city men's baseball league.

The rain - shortened contest under the lights at Jaycee Park saw the winners score four runs in the first inning and then coast in on stingy pitchig.

Three of the four opening innings markers by PBI were unearned. The union committed six errors in the game and was hurt on offense by questionable base running.

PBI scored five runs in the first inning while blanking Talbott Lumber Wednesday night in a similar performance. It is now 3-3 on the season.

The league will resume action Sunday afternoon at Jaycee Park with two 2 o'clock games, and the top two teams in the race will collide at 8 p.m.

Unbeaten Huron - Airway will be out to stretch its lead to two full games in the latter tilt against the runner-up Clippers.

Opening lead—♥ 2

By OSWALD JACOBY

Theodore Lightner of New York invented a convention around 1935 that is known by his name in expert circles all over the world. Specifically the convention is that when a player not on lead doubles an adverse slam, he is asking his partner to make an unusual lead.

JACOBY

In most cases, the unusual lead will be the first suit bid by dummy, other times it will call for some other suit bid by either dummy or declarer.

In any event, it is up to partner to figure out the proper lead after the double is made.

He was pretty sure that if he doubled that seven diamonds, his partner would figure but that he wanted a heart lead.

He also felt that a double would lead to a bid of seven no-trump, and he did not think he could beat that contract.

He was quite right about seven no-trump. North and South had bid rather clumsily. Probably the trouble started when South responded one heart only.

★ ★ ★

Anyway, East passed and West opened a heart against seven diamonds. East ruffed and it was all over except for a slight argument between the opposing partnerships.

North and South claimed that East had indicated his heart void by his slow pass.

West agreed that the huddle made it rather easy for him to lead a heart, but said that he would have opened that suit in any event.

He pointed out that he held six hearts and that there would be no way to beat the hand unless his partner had a void in that suit.

Says Bomber Downed

Cuba Claims Plane Shot

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The Cuban government claims to have shot down a plane from the United States after it bombed a sugar mill on Cuba's north coast.

"Pursued by an air force plane and attacked from the anti-aircraft batteries, the pirate plane was shot down on the north coast of Las Villas Province," the government said in an official statement broadcast by Havana radio Friday night and monitored in Miami.

The head of an exile group in Miami, Orlando Bosch, said, "I fear it was our plane." He refused to say what kind of plane it was, how many men were aboard or where it took off from.

The Cuban radio did not mention survivors. It said the attack took place at 11:45, but didn't specify a.m. or p.m. or even the day.

The statement said that the plane dropped three bombs on the Marcelo Salado mill near Caibarien, a town almost exactly in the middle of Cuba's long coast.

It charged that the plane flew from the United States. "We hope the U.S. government won't have the cynicism to deny these facts," the statement said.

Claim He Fought Civil Rights

GOP Platformers Plan Rap at Johnson

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republican platform drafters are gathering ammunition to counter-attack on the civil rights issue —especially with what they say is evidence Premier Johnson formerly campaigned as an opponent of rights legislation.

Rep. Melvin R. Laird of Wisconsin, chairman of the platform committee, said in an interview it will have available documents dating from 1948 through 1960 showing Johnson taking positions on poll tax, fair employment laws and states' rights at variance with the spirit of the 1964 civil rights legislation.

Moreover, Laird said, the civil rights plank he expects the Republican National Convention to adopt next month will be at least as strong as the bill Congress is enacting.

Laird would not discuss platform plans in terms of individual candidates for the Republican nomination. But it was obvious the committee is bracing for a strong Democratic attack on this issue if Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona becomes the Republican nominee.

EXPLAINS VOTE

In his speech Thursday declaring he could not vote for the civil rights bill — he voted against it Friday night — Goldwater argued some provisions could lead to a police state and some fly in the face of the Constitution.

Laird said, however, he expects the platform to "commend Republicans in Congress for their support of effective civil rights legislation in keeping with the historical Republican position."

★ ★ ★

He said he does not "believe the Republican convention will nominate any candidate who will not carry out the pledges and positions of the party platform." He noted the schedule for the convention opening in San Francisco July 13 calls for a vote on the platform before candidates are nominated.

Laird said Goldwater is a constitutionalist who "has been going around the country making speeches that the law of the land is established by Congress, not the courts."

ONCE IT IS LAW

So, Laird continued, "I don't see why he wouldn't be for implementing it once it is the law."

Goldwater himself is said to believe there will be no platform conflict over the civil rights bill. He figures it will be signed into law by convention time, expects nothing more than a Republican promise to uphold that law and will subscribe to it. He hopes that once the bill has been signed into law it will be removed from the political arena.

★ ★ ★

Rep. Charles E. Goodell, R-N.Y., Laird's platform committee assistant for domestic affairs, said in a separate interview he thinks Goldwater understands "he is not going to be able to advocate repealing things that have become ingrained in our system."

He said the platform will contain "a solid civil rights plank" and that Goldwater, if he is the nominee, is "just going to have to accept it."

Disturbance at Airport Halts Lynda

HONOLULU (AP) — A man was detained today in connection with the postponing of a jet airliner flight that was to have taken Lynda Bird Johnson, the President's daughter, to Los Angeles.

After Miss Johnson was taken off the plane and back to her Waikiki hotel, the Pan American World Airways Flight 824 was permitted to leave. Secret Service agents apparently considered the flight possibly unsafe.

Airport sources said the man taken into custody set up a loud disturbance in the Honolulu International Airport lobby and threatened to shoot a woman who once scorned him. The woman was with her husband. None of the three was identified.

ON VACATION

Miss Johnson was expected to leave today for Los Angeles to join her father at a Democratic fund - raising dinner. She has been on vacation here.

Junior Editors Quiz on AMERICAN FLAG

QUESTION: Why was Betsy Ross picked to make the first United States flag?

ANSWER: We should remember that at first the American revolutionaries fought under a number of different flags. The one referred to in the question was authorized by Congress June 14, 1777, and has been used ever since, with only slight changes in design.

It is not definitely known however, whether Betsy Ross actually made the first flag of this kind. The legend is based on sworn statements by her descendants and may be true, but some historians doubt it.

According to the legend, General Washington and two others called at Mrs. Ross' upholstery shop in Philadelphia with a design for the new flag.

Mrs. Ross apparently had been chosen because she was a well-known and capable seamstress, also perhaps because her husband's uncle, George Ross, had been one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence.

The first design had six-pointed stars. Washington thought five-pointed ones would look better but would be too hard to make.

Then, as the story goes, Mrs. Ross showed the General how a five-pointed star could be made with a single clip of the scissors. Thus the five-pointed star was decided upon and Betsy Ross made the flag.

Reflections
FATHER'S DAY

J. L. VOORHEES

A son may be arbitrary, stubborn, headstrong but if he breaks a law, or rule it is dad who comes to his rescue. There's something innate about a father which is never extinguished. He may be hurt, ridiculed and shunned but when the cards are down he comes forward to lend a hand. Now it is our turn to show him we do Appreciate Him.

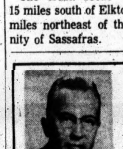

M. E. SIPLE

We appreciate his ideals, his loyalty, goodness and generosity. He built our life as it is, he is the engineer of our future; we might have differed with his theory of conduct but he didn't make an issue of it but allowed us to come to a decision, ourselves. He doesn't expect loud applause but he does go soft with a pat on the back.

His life is circumscribed within the confines of his family and it should be the family who makes His Day a delightful one.

To all Dads: We hope your Big Day is filled with coconaut cake, of chocolate cookies or a stick of gum if that is what you like, a picnic with friends of your choice, card game, chess or pitching horseshoes or just reminiscing. Here's to a Happy Celebration.

A 'Square' Squares Off Against Smut Called Art

By EARL WILSON

BEVERLY HILLS — "Meredith Willson, are you ready for the questions?

WILSON

"I hope they do!" Meredith Willson banged the table at the chick restaurant, the Bistro. He was in a smart striped sports jacket he'd had to send home for, for he'd been working at the CBS studio in an open-throated shirt and slacks.

"We have believers today and nonbelievers," he said. "There are people with faith — and 'faith' to the nonbelievers is a word to be held up in scorn. Do you know there is a very strong element in the public press that is willfully destroying our younger generation?"

"Is it really as bad as that?" I asked in surprise.

"They are eroding the core of our country," he said, banging the table again. "There are people—adults—who are 'pushers' of pornography in films and books. I don't mean slovenly, sneaky little sidewalk guys, but famous producers and critics who are glorifying evil for the sake of evil. These adults are procurers for evil."

A: NO! Did you see that picture, 'Bare Skin - Black Satin'? How about those pictures of Sophia Loren undressing in the ads for 'Yesterday, Today and Tomorrow'? And there is this rage of 'art films' where the motif is evil . . . just evil.

A: Our teen-age kids are influenced by these pictures where evil is glorified and they run down and kill old people on the streets. You've read of it happening! And it always seems to be the avant-garde who likes these pictures, and it's the avant garde who says that the basic American sort of things are 'corny' or 'vulgar.'

EARL'S PEARLS: A fellow at the Jade Palace complained that his son was at the awkward age—he's too young to be replaced by automation and too lazy to go to work."

"It's better to have loved and lost," says comedienne Caroline Richter at the Living Room, "—than to get stuck doing 30 pounds of wash every week." . . . That's earl, brother.

State Drivers File Appeals at Hiked Rate

LANSING (AP)—Secretary of State James Hare says "Increased activity" in the state's driver improvement program is responsible for a rise in the number of drivers appealing license restriction decisions.

In May, there were 175 more appeal cases than in the same month of 1963, and Hare predicted that June will show an even bigger increase.

As of the end of May, 2,726 cases have been appealed, about 300 more than in the first five months of 1963. The appeals are heard by three-man boards composed of the secretary of state and representatives of the attorney general and the local police department having jurisdiction.

State Speeds Action on Capital Freeway

LASING (AP) — The state will begin in 1965, more than a year ahead of schedule, to acquire land for the $26 million east-west freeway through the capital city.

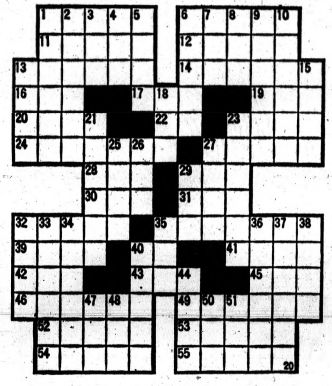

Some 400 parcels of land will be purchased for right-of-way, at a total cost of $5 million. The accelerated schedule will give dislocated residents an extra year to find a new home, Commissioner John Mackie said.

Hart, McNamara Votes

WASHINGTON (AP)—Michigan Senators Philip A. Hart and Patrick V. McNamara, Democrats, voted with the majority Friday night as the Senate passed the civil rights bill, 73-27.

New City Manager Is Named for Pontiac

Search Ends With Official From Jackson

JOSEPH A. WARREN

By DICK SAUNDERS

Pontiac's search for a full-time, professional city manager ended today with the announcement that Joseph A. Warren, Jackson city manager, will come here to take over as chief administrator Aug. 3.

★ ★ ★

Warren, 44, has been city manager of Jackson since September 1951. He is married and has three children.

John F. Reineck, who has been handling the city manager's post since Robert A. Carter resigned in February, will return to his duties as assistant city manager.

★ ★ ★

In selecting Warren, Taylor expressed admiration "for the fine job John Reineck has done to fill the gap in our administrative wing."

FORMAL HIGIRNG

Taylor said that formal action by the City Commission to hire Warren would be delayed until the June 30 meeting to allow the Jackson City Council to accept Warren's resignation.

Warren will formally submit his resignation to the council next Tuesday night.

Warren, selected from some 35 applicants for the Pontiac post, was one of a half-dozen city officials listed by former manager Walter K. Willman as "top quality administrators."

Late in April, the commission sought Willman's help in an advisory capacity. They asked him to list some city officials he felt were well-qualified for the job.

RETIRED CHIEF

"We are very pleased that Mr. Warren accepted the pos-

Two Cities Are Similar

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

In addition, Mayor Taylor said both cities are engaged in major community renewal projects including sewage plant modernization, downtown revitalization and faced with similar problems of public transportation.

Warren, who has held his Jackson post for the past 13 years, has also served as city manager of Ashland, Wis., for three years, 1948-51.

★ ★ ★

Prior to that, he was administrative assistant to the city manager of Jackson for 14 months.

MSU GRADUATE

A graduate of Michigan State University in social science and public administration, he received a degree of master of public administration from the University of Michigan in 1947.

Warren served four and a half years on active duty in the U.S. Naval Reserve during World War II. He attained the rank of lieutenant.

The 44-year-old city manager was born in Adrian, grew up in Detroit and was graduated from Redford High School, Detroit, in 1937.

Ted Kennedy Hurt in Plane Crash

WRECKAGE—Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, the late President's brother, was aboard this plane which crashed last night near Southampton, Mass. The Senator suffered a broken back. His aide and pilot were both killed and two fellow passengers were injured.

Pilot, Aide Are Killed in Air Accident

Back Is Broken, but Doctors Say Senator Can Use Arms, Legs

NORTHAMPTON, Mass. (UPI) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., younger brother of the late President John F. Kennedy was hospitalized with a broken back today after a private plane crashed last night in an apple orchard taking two lives.

Dr. Thomas E. Corriden, who supervised immediate treatment of the senator at Cooley-Dickinson Hospital, said Kennedy, 32, suffered several fractured vertebrae. But he has the use of his arms and legs, and is listed in "fair condition."

The plane was approaching Barnes Airport, in Westfield, shortly after 11 p.m. The control tower at Barnes said it was in contact with the pilot and that he reported no difficulty. It had rained heavily earlier and was drizzly and foggy at the time.

TOPS OF TREES

It was believed that as Zimny approached the airport his plane may have hit the tops of trees in the fog. There was no fire.

The first witness, Robert Schauer said he heard the crash and then saw the wrecked plane 200 yards up a hillside in an apple orchard. He dashed up the hill to help.

Today's hospital bulletin said Sen. Kennedy is in fair condition. He has improved considerably since his admission and is resting comfortably.

★ ★ ★

"X-rays showed fractures of the fifth and sixth ribs on the left side, fractures of the second third and fourth lumbar vertebrae (the lower back) and fractures of the second, third and fourth transverse processes, which give the spine support.

NO COMPLICATIONS

"There are no head injuries and no neurological complications. He has complete use of his legs and arms. He has cuts on both legs and the right hand."

Kennedy, 32, was coming

Rights Bill Passes; See Signing by 4th

WASHINGTON (AP)—House leaders predict the civil rights bill will be on President Johnson's desk ready to be signed into law by July 4.

The wide-ranging measure, which arms the federal government with the greatest power since Reconstruction to attack racial discrimination, won overwhelming 73-27 approval from the Senate last night.

On Monday it returns to the House which passed virtually the same bill in February.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

MAJOR STEP

"Senate passage of the rights bill is a major step toward equal opportunities for all Americans. I congratulate senators of both parties who worked to make passage possible.

"I look forward to the day, which will not be long forthcoming, when the bill becomes law. That will be a milestone in America's progress toward full justice for all her citizens."

Civil rights leaders also hailed passage of the measure as "an act of good will and reconciliation" and "the greatest single triumph for human rights in our country since the Emancipation Proclamation."

★ ★ ★

WALLACE FORECAST

Alabama's George C. Wallace predicted the American people "will remove from office those responsible."

Since Feb. 12, when the House passed its version of the rights bill, the focus of attention has been on the Senate where the bill faced its deepest peril from the Southerners' razor - sharp parliamentary weapons of delay and filibuster.

Finally the filibuster was broken when the Senate voted June 10, for the first time, to invoke cloture on a civil rights debate. That set the stage for yesterday's vote.

All 100 senators were on hand, including Sen. Clair Engle, D-Calif., recuperating from two brain operations, who was rolled up the aisle in a wheel chair.

FINAL VOTE

Voting for it were 46 Democrats and 27 Republicans. Against it were 21 Democrats —including 20 Southerners—and six Republicans, including Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona.

National Open in Final Day

New Contender Vies With Palmer, Jacobs

BETHESDA, Md.—The third and last round of the National Open Golf Tournament started this morning with favored Arnold Palmer in pursuit of young Tommy Jacobs and a new challenger for the crown, Ken Venturi.

It was a humid, sweltering 92 degrees at noon today on the Congressional Country Club course and Venturi, who was two over par after 36 holes yesterday, was as hot as the weather on the front nine today.

★ ★ ★

The 33-year-old pro from Crystal River, Fla., had his short irons working perfectly as he took five birdies and four pars to make the turn in 30 strokes.

Jacobs, who shot a fantastic 64 yesterday for a mid-point lead of 136, went five under with a birdie on No. 5. On No. 8, however, he took a bogey 5 and on No. 9 he had a bogey 6 for a 36

Jacobs had gone 26 straight on the front holes since Thursday without a bogey.

NO BIRDS

Palmer failed to get a bird for the first time on the front nine today and his two bogies came on the fifth and sixth holes for a 37.

The final 18 holes of the tournament are being played this afternoon and it may be a case of who can withstand the heat and pressure the best, Palmer, Venturi or Jacobs.

Wet Road Causes Death

Widespread damage and at least one death were caused by the heavy rain and violent wind that lashed through the area last night.

Winds, gusting to 77 miles an hour ripped through Oakland County, downing power lines and trees and smashing windows.

Property damage was reported throughout southern lower Michigan.

Locally, an Orion Township man was killed when his car skidded out of control on wet pavement in Brandon Township and hit a tree.

Dead on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital following the 10:30 p.m. accident on Sashabaw near Oak Hill was Harvey G. Piper, 40, of 3569 Baldwin.

Sheriff's deputies said Piper was traveling south on Sashabaw during the rainstorm when his car crossed the centerline on a curve and skidded 170 feet before impact.

Hit hardest in the area by the thunderstorm were homes in the vicinity of Mary Sue and Maybee, southeast of Clarkston in Independence Township.

★ ★ ★

At least 25 home owners reported damage, according to Independence Township deputy fire chief Frank Ronk. Heavy damage was reported by several residents.

A garage attached by a breezeway to the home of Theodore Oliver, 5388 Mary Sue, was blown 110 feet from its foundation.

Fred Munger, 5358 Mary Sue, and Ira Calhoun, 4992 Mary Sue, reported that large sections of roofing were torn from their homes, causing extensive rain damage to furniture.

The Oakland County Road Commission said that the storm knocked trees down "all over the area." Crews were still working today to clear some fallen trees but the biggest share was removed last night.

★ ★ ★

A Detroit Edison spokesman said service interruptions, for the most part, were south of South Boulevard. "More wires were downed last night than in many, many storms in the past," he said.

Summer to Say a Loud Hello

The mercury will stay in the 80s today, then dip to 60-68 tonight.

Summer's first day — she arrives at 3:57 a.m. tomorrow — will have a high of 75-85.

Winds are southwesterly at 10 to 20 miles per hour. They will become northeasterly tomorrow.

The lowest temperature recorded in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. was 69. At 1 p.m. 80 was registered.

Boy, 12, Shot by Brother; Mishap Fatal

A 12-year-old Orion Township boy was fatally wounded about 1 p.m. yesterday when his 11-year-old brother accidentally fired a 22-caliber rifle through his bedroom door.

Tyler Shaw, son of Mr. and Mrs. Duane Shaw of 2416 Holland, was rushed to Pontiac General Hospital by ambulance soon after the shooting.

Hospital officials said he was still alive when the ambulance arrived at 1:25 p.m., but all emergency measures failed and he was pronounced dead at 1:45 p.m.

★ ★ ★

The victim's younger brother, Thomas, was playing with the bolt action rifle, putting shells into it and then ejecting them in the hallway of the Shaw home. Tyler was in the bedroom which the boys shared.

HEARS SCREAM

The rifle discharged and Thomas heard his brother scream, "I'm shot, I'm shot."

Thomas then called his mother, who was at work, in the office of the Oakland County Employes Credit Union, and told her what had happened.

Mrs. Shaw called the sheriff's office and a Lake Orion ambu-

53 Are Feared Dead in Formosa Air Crash

TAIPEI, Formosa (UPI)—A four-engine Civil Air Transport (CAT) plane carrying 53 persons, believed to include 21 Americans, crashed in flames today shortly after takeoff from Taichung in central Formosa.

Eyewitness reports said there were no signs of survivors at the scene, about 100 miles south of Taipei. The reports said 12 bodies were recovered from the wreckage.

The passengers were believed to include 21 Americans returning to Taipei from a tour of the Pescadores Islands in the Formosa Strait.

Several delegates to the just-concluded 11th Asian Film Festival also were aboard the plane.

Reports said the fully-loaded aircraft crashed at Fengyuan, 10 miles north of Taichung, five to 10 minutes after it took off from Taichung.

★ ★ ★

PROBERS SENT

The airline sent investigation teams to the scene of the crash of the plane, which carried 48 passengers and five crew members.

In a statement issued this evening, CAT said:

Ship U.S. Arms to Aid Thailand

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP)—Five U.S. Navy ships are on their way to Thailand carrying military hardware for expansion of U.S. equipment stockpiles in this strategic Southeast Asian country, authoritative sources said today.

The ships, described as three LST's and two Navy freighters, are expected in Bangkok next week, the sources said. They said one may arrive as early as Monday or Tuesday.

According to the informants, the vessels are carrying trucks, M-13 armored personnel carriers, some tanks, signal equipment, and ammunition. Vehicles are said to form the bulk of the load.

The equipment is obviously being brought here to increase U.S. military potential in this country bordering on crisis-troubled Laos and will be added to stockpiles left here by American troops who came to Thailand in 1962 as a deterrent in an earlier Laos crisis.

PUNCH ADDED

The informants explained the build-up would enable American forces to react more quickly and with more punch against Communist aggression in Southeast Asia. Thailand is a firm ally of the United States.

While disclosing the equipment buildup, the sources denied rumors that American troops would also be shipped to Thailand—as they were in 1962.

However, reports circulating here said some troops of the 25th Division, stationed in Hawaii, may be flown to Thailand to help in the stockpiling of the equipment. About 100 men were said to be involved.

The major American depot in Thailand is at Korat, in the northeastern part of the country and within 300 miles of the Thai-Laotian border formed by the Mekong River. A major road running north connects Korat with the Thai border town of Nongkhai, opposite the Laotian administrative capital of Vientiane.

RED OFFENSIVE

The informants said the decision to build up the equipment pool here was taken after Communist Pathet Lao forces, reportedly supported by Communist North Vietnamese troops, launched a major offensive against the Laotian neutralist forces last month, pushing them out of the strategic Plaine des Jarres.

Disclosure of the U.S. move to add to its military muscle in Southeast Asia followed repeated American warnings to Communist North Viet Nam to leave its Southeast Asian neighbors alone.

★ ★ ★

The Vietnamese are said to have a number of battalions in Laos and have been charged with major support to the Viet Cong, the Communist rebels fighting the government of South Viet Nam.

Thailand so far has been untroubled by Communist incursions but has reported some Communist infiltration in its northeastern provinces.

Training Class Starts Monday

Aim Clerical Course at Job Placement

The first occupational-vocational training course to be offered by the Pontiac School Board will get under way Monday at Jefferson Junior High School.

The course in speed typing and office practice will be open to high school graduates and adults.

School officials said the course is designed to qualify individuals for immediate employment. It should also prove helpful to college-bound youth.

A minimum typing speed of 35-40 words per minute is required to enroll in the course, which will be presented June 22 - July 24, 8-12 a.m. daily.

$10 FEE

Registration may be made at Jefferson Junior High on Monday. A fee of $10 will be charged. Class size will be 20 students.

Some units of the course, which will include instruction in business English, filing, spelling, writing letters and similar office skills, will be taught by outside sources from local industry.

In addition, field trips are planned to some local establishments in business and industry.

The school board has begun organizing a vocational-occupational training program to provide job training and retraining for youth and adults. This is the first course to be offered.

Area Collision Injures Four

3rd Such Crash on Telegraph in 2 Days

Four people were injured last night in a head-on collision on Telegraph near Maple in Bloomfield Township. It was the third collision in two days.

Injured were Walter J. and Stephanie Pociask of Detroit, Henry C. Reimer, 34, of 3151 Devonbrook, Bloomfield Township and Robert Curtis, 36, of Dearborn.

Police said that Reimer's vehicle hit the island divider on Telegraph, 200 yards north of Maple, Bloomfield Township, and jumped across into the southbound lane, hitting the Pociask's car.

The accident occurred at 9:25 p.m.

A similar crash Thursday injured three persons and killed two other motorists. The accident happened just south of Orchard Way.

Also on Thursday, another head-on collision just two feet from the site of the double fatal accident has hospitalized two men.

here to be endorsed by acclamation for a full, six-year term in the Senate seat once held by his brother, the late President John F. Kennedy. Bayh, 36, had been scheduled to deliver the convention's keynote address.

★ ★ ★

The senator's mother, Rose Kennedy, wife of ailing former Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy, was reportedly en route to the hospital.

OTHERS ARRIVE

Mrs. Steven Smith, a sister, and the senator's brother, Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy, flew from Hyannis Port to Boston where they boarded a car for the drive to Northampton.

Sen. Kennedy's wife Joan had hurried to the hospital immediately after the accident was reported—at 11:20 p.m. She was escorted by Gov. Endicott Peabody who rushed her out of the convention hall during the roll call which brought him the convention's endorsement for renomination.

Within minutes after the roll, the shocked convention recessed. Cheers rang out when the chairman, John E. Powers of South Boston, announced that Kennedy had survived the crash.

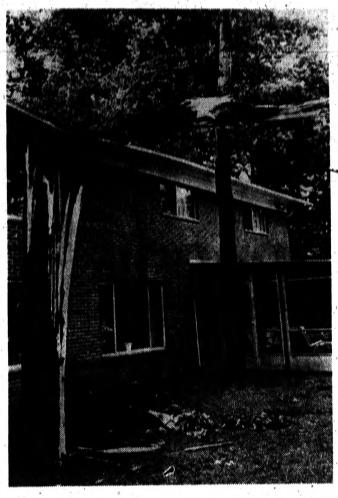

'U.S. Willing to Fight China'

TAIPEI (AP)— The United States is willing to risk war with Red China to prevent Peking from taking over Southeast Asia, Adm. Harry D. Felt, commander-in-chief of U.S. Pacific Command, told a news conference today.

Felt who is relinquishing his command and retiring June 30, said "The Chinese Communist machine in Peiping will not risk going to war with the United States . . . because they know how strong we are."

Felt came here from Pearl Harbor to say goodby to President Chiang Kai-shek and other Chinese nationalist leaders.

Felt declared that Peking controls the policy of Communist North Viet Nam, and that the armed aggression in South Viet Nam was being supported and controlled by the North Vietnamese.

City Gets New Manager

sition," Taylor noted. "He was our first choice and the commission is completely in unison over the decision to hire him."

Warren will get $20,000 a year — a $5,000 hike over the city manager's previous starting salary of $15,000.

★ ★ ★

"We simply feel it's time Pontiac faced up to the fact that if we want quality, we have to pay for it," Taylor said.

LOW COMPARISON

It is no secret around City Hall that the salaries of administrative heads have been low compared to other cities in Pontiac's population range.

In the past year, a city manager, assistant city manager and assistant urban renewal director have left Pontiac for jobs in smaller cities where the pay was substantially higher.

Taylor said that Warren and his wife would come here to meet city officials the afternoon of June 30 and attend the commission meeting that night.

★ ★ ★

The new manager will take a month to move his family here before moving into the city manager's office on a full-time basis Aug. 3, Taylor said.

CONSTAN TTOUCH

"We will be in constant touch with him during July," the mayor said.

"The background of all top prospects was investigated in depth. We think we have an excellent man."

Taylor added that "the new manager has been given assurance by the entire commission that he will be solely responsible for carrying out city policies and administrative duties with no interference from the commission."

★ ★ ★

WASN'T EASY TASK

"It wasn't an easy task and we're glad it's over," Taylor noted. "We beat our target date (June 30), realizing the importance of this decision to the future of Pontiac, in which we are all very interested."

In naming Warren, commissioners hope to solve a manpower problem which has plagued the administrative wing at City Hall off-and-on since Robert A. Stierer was suspended by the former commission last Aug. 5.

Reineck, who was hired as an administrative aide in March 1963, has never had time for a vacation.

★ ★ ★

NAMED ASSISTANT

Reineck, who was already handling some of the manager's duties, was named assistant manager and David Vandereen, an urban renewal and planning aide, was moved to the administrative wing.

Robert A. Carter, a former Flint city manager, was hired Nov. 12 and Carter took over six days later, allowing Reineck to devote full time to the assistant manager's post.

★ ★ ★

TOOK OVER POST

Reineck has been city manager since then with Vandereen assisting him.

Fully realizing the need for a city of 82,000 for a professional, full-time manager, Reineck had himself recommended that commissioners select a qualified manager as soon as possible.

Reineck, a retired U.S. Army Lt. Colonel, had considerable experience in military and business administration when he came here "to gain some experience in municipal administration."

Flint Will Get Water From Detroit by 1966

DETROIT (AP) — Gerald J. Remus, general manager of the Detroit Water Department, announced Friday that construction of a $98 million Detroit-Flint-Lake Huron water pipeline will begin in 45 days. The project will bring Flint into the Detroit water system by 1966, he said.

City Hospital Given Grant

St. Joseph to Use Funds for Expansion

St. Joseph Mercy Hospital was notified today of a $150,000 federal grant for expansion of its department of physical medicine and rehabilitation.

The grant, announced by U.S. Sen's. Patrick McNamara and Philip A. Hart, will cover about half the total cost of $321,974.

The unexpected federal funds, according to a hospital spokesman, will enable expansion of the physical medicine unit to be completed by June, 1965.

This will be nearly six months ahead of the date set last fall when the expansion was originally planned.

STARTING NOW

Construction will begin immediately.

"Because our plans were completed we were able to qualify for federal funds under the Hill-Burton act . . . (provided) exclusively for this kind of specialized facility," said Sister Mary Xavier, hospital administrator.

Services of the department include physical and medical evaluations, physical and occupational therapy speech therapy, psychology, social and related services.

Doors Open on Districting

State Court Is Ready to Reconsider Issue

LANSING (AP) — The Michigan Supreme Court kept its doors open today for the return of the state's legislative redistricting problem.

It will be the third time the problem has been in the court's hands.

The court took over the problem in February when the State Legislative Apportionment Commission failed to agree on how to redraw State House and Senate districts.

It approved a plan May 26, but the U.S. Supreme Court ruled last Monday that both houses of a state legislature must be districted on a strict population basis — "one man, one vote." The Michigan court looked at the problem a second time and ordered the apportionment commission to come up with another plan.

DEADLOCK AGAIN

Eight minutes before the court-imposed deadline of 5 p.m. Friday, the commission gave up in a 4-4 deadlock again. The court gave it until noon today to file districting plans, and will take up the problem for the third time.

Four Republican members of the State Legislative Apportionment Commission said they would stand pat on the so-called Austin-Kleiner plan No. 2 — filed with the court last month.

★ ★ ★

Republican cochairman Wilbert Brucker said Republican members were prepared to ask the U.S. Supreme Court for a stay of execution if the Michigan Court adopts the plan submitted by Democratic cochairman Richard Austin of Detroit and A. Robert Kleiner of East Grand Rapids.

"This Democratic plan is a blueprint for election confusion and chaos," the former Michigan governor said, "and would be impossible for elections officials to administer."

GOP CONTENTION

Republicans contended that according to the U.S. high court's decisions, some deviation from strict population equality in each district was permissible, in order to follow existing county, township and city lines.

To Seek U.S. Action on Cyprus

ANKARA, Turkey (UPI) — Turkish Premier Ismet Inonu will press President Johnson for speedy American action to solve the Cyprus crisis in Washington talks next week, informed sources said today.

Inonu, who has favored a restrained policy toward Cyprus, won a hairline vote of confidence from Parliament last night. The vote was 200 to 194.

A short time later, two shots were fired at the U.S. Embassy here.

Inonu's government has been under increasing pressure from its political opposition to adopt a more aggressive attitude on Cyprus.

★ ★ ★

Qualified informants said the 80-year-old premier will use last night's slim vote to point up the unpopularity of moderation in the explosive situation when he meets with Johnson.

LEAVES TOMORROW

Inonu flies to Washington tomorrow.

Police were unable to pin down a motive for the embassy shooting, but there was speculation it was the work of a disgruntled Turk angered with U.S. "interference" in alleged Turkish plans to invade Cyprus.

No one was hurt in the incident and no arrests were made.

★ ★ ★

The narrowness of the confidence vote raised fears among Turkish moderates that Inonu might be forced to resign, making way for a more belligerent government, if a Cyprus solution acceptable to Turkey is not reached quickly.

DECISIVE SUPPORT

Inonu said yesterday he would not go to Washington to meet Johnson unless he received "decisive support" from the National Assembly. He hinted at resignation.

★ ★ ★

130 Police Called in Lansing Riot

By BOB VOGES
Associated Press Writer

LANSING (AP) — Some 700 taunting youths hurled rocks at 130 police Friday night in a four-hour melee that erupted after officers were called to break up an argument at a house party.

Two policemen were injured, including Chief Charles Stragier, who was hit in the side of his face with a cinder block and was treated at a hospital.

Officers sealed off a six-block area on the city's west side until the mob's fury spent itself. About 12 persons were arrested, Stragier said.

Helmeted officers carried clubs, but did not use them, as they moved in on the area. Stragier had ordered all off-duty Lansing policemen to report on an emergency basis to the area.

OTHER OFFICERS

In addition, state police, Ingham County sheriff's officers, Mason police, Michigan State University police and the Lansing Fire Department were called.

Stragier said police first made a routine "fight call" to break up an argument after a house party and one youth was arrested for disorderly conduct.

About 50 youths then congregated in a parking lot, Stragier said and defied police orders to move. They said they planned to fight a group from Flint that had been "moving into their territory," Stragier said.

Stragier said the arrested youths could be charged on counts ranging from resisting arrest to disorderly conduct to inciting a riot.

WRONG REPORT

There was an early report that the disorder had been sparked by a stabbing. Police records show, however, that this happened in another neighborhood.

Thief Puts 'Bite' on Toothpaste

COMMACK, N. Y. (AP)—Louis Martella, 64, described by police as toothless, has been charged with petty larceny in the theft of 24 tubes of toothpaste from a supermarket.

So did Louie — while he was being removed from court to a detention cell yesterday. Police have an alarm out for him.

He's Both Their Father and Mother

By JEANMARIE ELKINS

A widower, for a year and a half, he is the father of three small children.

★ ★ ★

SO LITTLE TIME

Returning to her home for dinner, Eddie just has time for a few short hours with his children. Often after dinner he will take them to his lake front home.

★ ★ ★

Keeping a home requires time and work and Eddie can "kill two birds with one stone" as he does the yardwork with 'help' from the children.

★ ★ ★

Five a.m. comes too early to rouse small children for a trip to grandmother's house. So Eddie takes the children there each night to put them to bed. He waits until they are asleep before leaving.

★ ★ ★

FAMILY EXTROVERT

Keri is an extrovert, easy going and not hard to become acquainted with. She has definite fashion tastes and will not go to church unless she is wearing the proper dress.

Kevin is somewhat shyer than his older sister. But it doesn't take long for him to make friends.

Following his older brother and sister, Kenny is the quietest of the three, often taking off by himself to play with a favorite truck. But let the other two children begin to roughhouse and he is quick to join in the fun.

PROBLEMS COMING

Time is short and the problems are many. Before Eddie realizes it, Keri will have her first boyfriend and want her first tube of lipstick. How old will she be before he should permit her to date boys?

★ ★ ★

But marriage is a big step, bigger still when there are three little people to consider. Eddie is in no hurry.

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR READERS: We are celebrating Father's Day, and it is a most appropriate time to share with you letters which I received from readers.

ABBY

The first one is from a proud father in Norwalk, Ohio. It was the first letter he received from his GI son — one of seven to serve our country, with two more to go." He wrote:

Verdun, France

"Hi, Dad.

"I received your letter the other day, but have been too tired to answer until now. I still am, but here goes:

"Dad, you have no idea what it means to get a letter from you. I know you think of me, but it is good to see it in writing.

"I want you to know that I think of you as well as Mom and my wife, all the time. I pray for you all every night.

"The only thing that keeps me going is knowing that we will all be together again.

"I guess the reason your letters mean so much to me is because they are so few and far between.

"I just can't explain the feeling I get when I read a letter from you, Dad. It just tears me apart.

"I guess I am just sentimental. Or, maybe it's because we never said much to each other before. I feel that your letters bring us closer together.

"Anyway, I want you to know that I think you are O.K. and I am proud that you are my dad.

"When anybody would ask me, 'Are you Ed Bratsche's boy?' I'd say, 'Yes, I sure am.'

"This is my first letter to you and you alone, Dad.

"I am even putting it in a separate envelope because it is worth eight cents to let my father know that I love him and miss him very much.

"And, that's it.

"Your Sentimental Son,

Pink"

And another letter:

DEAR ABBY: Please do me a favor and print the enclosed portion of a letter I received from my son, a wonderful boy who has been neglected by his father for all of his 19 years.

My son is away at college. His father reads your column. Maybe he will see it and recognize himself as I could not bring myself to show him his sons's letter.

A BROKEN-HEARTED MOTHER

"I hope to God I never turn out to be the kind of man my father is. If I do, I want someone to shoot me.

"Do you realize that I have actually lived in the same house with a man for 19 years and he never once sat down and talked to me, or took me anywhere, or showed any interest in me, except for football my last year in high school, and that was very short-lived?

"You should see the letters some of these boys get from some of their fathers. You should hear them talk about places they've gone, and the things they've done with their fathers.

"How am I supposed to know how to treat a son if I never get married? I've never been shown any love by my father.

"I don't even know how a father is supposed to act. Do you realize that I have missed half the fun of growing up because my father never looked at me?

"If he had been dead for the past 15 years it wouldn't have made any difference. There are some things a mother can't give her children.

"Especially if they are boys. I've missed all that and I'll never forgive my father for it.

"Maybe you should have pushed him a little harder, Mom. I don't know. I only know that it's too late for me, but it's not too late for my brother.

"See if you can't talk to him, Mom. I don't want Johnny to grow up wondering what it's like to have a father's love.

Color Jeans by Washing

When you wash new blue jeans, add the family's old jeahs to the same machine load — so any excess dye which bleeds from the new can help to brighten the old.

If you launder by hand, agitate the garments constantly so the color will be evenly distributed.

Grass Stains Removed

★ ★ ★

On washable fabrics, work a detergent into the stain, then rinse. If the stain is stubborn and remains after this treatment use a chlorine or sodium perborate bleach or hydrogen peroxide, she says.

★ ★ ★

Do not use chlorine bleaches on fabrics that contain silk, wool or spandex fibers.

Fix Hemstitching

If hemstitching is broken in white use a size 36 thread and do a cross stitch in the same width as the hemstitching, catching each side of the fabric and drawing the edges together to match the unbroken part of the hemstitching.
