Authorities Still Press Search Today for Source of Chromium Contamination

Health authorities here today pressed their intensive search for the source of deadly chromium salts which poisoned the Clinton River, cutting off drinking water to 700 Utica-area homes Monday night.

While Utica residents continued getting water for drinking and cooking from tank trucks, chemists in Pontiac and Utica kept hourly checks of the contents of the Clinton. The Clinton serves as a dumping place for treated Pontiac sewage and a water source for Utica.

Floyd Vermete, cit ysewage superintendent, said the chromium content of the river below the sewage treatment plant was back to normal this morning.

"But you can't expect it to stop 36 hours later in Utica," Vermete added. "The chemical spreads out in the river."

In Utica, a check near the water intake plant this afternoon showed the chrome content was increasing after decreasing to the safe drinking level (.05) for several hours. It had been 90 times that level.

The content was up to .10, Frank B. Gidding, water superintendent, reported.

Meanwhile, as the water containing the approximately one ton of chrome salt dumped into Pontiac sewers Saturday morning continued down the Clinton, it was reported the river in Mt. Clemens had 1½ parts per million of the dangerous solution.

JUST LIKE OLD TIMES — Mrs. Ken Phifer of Utica was reminded of old times "down on the farm" yesterday when water for drinking, cooking and washing had to be transported into the village. The village water supply, the Clinton River, was contaminated by a lethal dose of chromium compound from an unidentified source in Pontiac. Crash Flames Consume Fliers

Burning Fuel Cremates Crewmen When Tanker Plane Explodes

MERCED, Calif. (AP)— Eleven men died today as a four-engine "tanker" plane crashed after leaving Castle Air Force Base near here. There were no survivors.

Fire broke out on the plane as it reached an altitude of about 1,500 feet. It crashed within a moment or two, exploded as it hit the ground, and was demolished.

The tanker, a KC97G military version of the Stratocruiser, was on a routine refueling mission from Castle AFB near Merced.

The crash occurred about 15 miles northwest of Merced, near the community of Cressey.

The first report on the crash was a telephone call to the Sheriff's Office from the rancher on whose property the plane fell.

Air Force Up in the Air

WASHINGTON (AP) — Michigan's much-fought-over proposed jet air base, already snarled in a maze of building fund problems, now must await the fate of an Air Force report on the feasibility of constructing it at Manistee.

But no one is sure when that report will be submitted, what its findings will be, and if it is favorable, whether the Air Force, which already has selected Cadillac as its favorite site, will go for Manistee.

Kavanagh Rules State Law Fits UAW Contracts

No Change Needed to Make Layoff Benefits Effective Here

LANSING (AP)—Atty. Gen. Thomas M. Kavanagh held today that no law change is needed to make effective in Michigan the new layoff pay plan embodied in the recent contracts between the CIO United Auto Workers and Ford and General Motors.

The attorney general further held that employers should not be required to contribute more to the state unemployment compensation fund because of the layoff plan but he said he did not pass upon the question of whether an employer would have to contribute more under the federal law.

Some authorities had expressed fear that the state law would have to be changed to make the UAW contract effedctive in Michigan. The Republican State Central Committee already has urged the Legislature to make the law fit the contracts if necessary.

"We find the present law does not conflict with the contracts, Kavanaugh said. "If the Legislature wants to spell it out specifically, however, it might be a good idea."

Kavanaugh hung his opinion on a section of the law which defines remuneration. Idle employes are forbidden to receive remuneration from an employer without deduction from their state unemployment compensation.

Kavanaugh said the law defines remuneration as "compensation paid for personal services."

NOT FOR SERVICES

The UAW contract layoff plan is not paid for performing personal services, Kavanagh held, so it can not be considered as remuneration.

He noted also that payments to employes for termination of work, separation, severance or dismissal allowances are not remuneration under the terms of the present law.

Kavanagh said that the money paid into the trust fund by employers under the contract to pay supplemental unemployment benefits are not subject to employer contributions under the law to the state unemployment compensation fund.

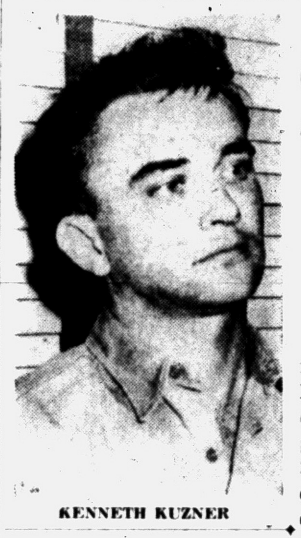

Currently, employers pay 10 per cent of their state contribution to the federal government to finance administration of the idleness benefit program. Kavanagh said he was not passing on whether employer contributions would be increased to the federal government.

Under the UAW contracts with Ford and General Motors the employer contributes five cents an hour per employe to a trust fund to be used to supplement state unemployment compensation financed by an employer tax.

Promise Study of County Roads

Construction Plans Due for Reappraisal, Says Charles M. Ziegler

State Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler promised today a reappraisal of the road construction slated for Oakland County, probably within the next six months.

In an interview arranged by state senator William S. Broomfield, Ziegler and Deputy State Highway Commissioner Carl Weber said the re-examination of local highway needs hinges on several things, but added that an accelerated construction program can be expected to get underway possibly in 1956, and almost certainly in 1957.

"We are waiting for the results of a Detroit metropolitan area origin and destination survey, which includes the southern half of Oakland County," Ziegler said.

He listed a federal bill which would grant aid to states for the interstate highway construction, and also the final determination of where the proposed turnpike would go, if one is to be built, as other events slowing the decision.

"Once we have these things, we will have a definite picture of the Oakland County situation. Just what money will be available and what roads need work will be determined in our study of the Oakland area," Ziegler said.

Radar Enlisted in LA's Battle Against Smog

LOS ANGELES (UP)—University of California scientists have added radar to their collection of weapons fighting the battle of smog.

Dr. W. D. Hershbeger, professor of engineering on the Los Angeles campus of U.C. has "put the finger" on certain gaseous compounds which are believed to be major smog producers.

Radar microwaves absorb the compounds and the patterns serve as "fingerprints," Hershberger said.

Smog is trapped in tiny capsules and subjected to thorough laboratory tests by "radar sleuths" in the first phase of the investigation.

In the second half of the tests, the whole Los Angeles basin will serve as the laboratory. Microwaves will be beamed across the basin from appropriate stations to special receiving instruments at UCLA.

Truck Driver Nabbed Near Here After Bullet Spree in Tavern

By AL LOWMAN

After shooting down four fellow patrons in a Grand Blanc tavern last night because their "laughing and giggling" irritated him, a 30-year-old Detroit truck driver was seized as he calmly awaited arrest in front of another tavern 15 miles north of Pontiac.

State Police of the Pontiac Post said they arrested Kenneth E. Kuzner of 2913 Fairview as he sat in the cab of his truck.

Killed in the point-blank fusillade from Kuzner's .38-caliber revolver were Flint civil engineer Said Farah, 26, and his wife, Jeannie, also 26.

A third member of the quartet, all sitting in the same booth, Mrs. Margaret Cross, 31, also of Flint, died enroute to Hurley Hospital in Flint. All were shot in the head.

The fourth member of the group, James R. Dollars, 26, a Flint Junior College student, was reported in critical condition but expected to live. He was struck in the arm, neck, and shoulder.

HAD TWO BEERS

A waitress, 18-year-old Beth Wahl, who fled with her mother, also a waitress, and two other patrons, said Kuzner had only been in the place about 15 minutes, had consumed two beers and was looking out a front window when he turned suddenly and began shooting.

Other witnesses were unable to tell how many shots were fired, but reports stated he fired at one of the waitresses and pumped at least five more shots into the fallen victims, after reloading.

Sgt. Charles Mulick, commander of the Pontiac Post, said Kuzner's gun was a snub-nose, 5-shot revolver. Kuzner told Sgt. Mulick he purchased the gun several months ago in Tennessee.

Tavern owner, Mrs. Edna Smithley, said she fled to the back room and alerted State Police. She said Kuzner drove his truck across the street to the dairy bar where he menaced customers but did not shoot.

He told officers he drove south on the Dixie Highway, stopped twice for coffee and headache powders before stopping his truck at Palmer's bar, 15 miles north of Pontiac.

Sgt. Mulick described the triple killer as unemotional as he related his account of the shootings.

Asked if he was sorry, he said, "I can't explain my feelings—yes, I'm sorry."

"A lot of things bother me . . . people's laughter, even the sound of car horns," he stated.

He said he carried the gun for protection. "I've had several things stolen from my truck and

MRS. OVETA CULP HOBBY

Hobby Resigns From Cabinet

Ike Chooses Treasury Official Folsom to Be Welfare Secretary

The President called a special news conference to make the announcement, and, in an emotion-packed scene, paid warm tribute to Mrs. Hobby as she sat by his side in the conference room.

On her part, the retiring Cabinet officer told Eisenhower that as he prepares to go to the Big Four conference at Geneva "everyone of us will be praying" the sessions will lead to a "truly universal peace."

The President and Mrs. Hobby entered the conference room together.

Mrs. Hobby's resignation had long been expected, and the President apparently took it for granted that everyone knew that was the purpose of the conference. Without ever formally announcing her resignation, Eisenhower turned to Mrs. Hobby and remarked solemnly:

The President said his mind at the moment went back to a day in 1942 when Mrs. Hobby arrived in London to take command of the Women's Army Corps.

Eisenhower, at that time, was preparing to lead the Allied forces against Hitler's armies.

Mrs. Hobby led the WAC splendidly and it turned out to be one of the finest organizations "the Army ever had," Eisenhower said.

After the conference room ceremony, the White House made public an exchange of correspondence

GM Division Accepts Award for Jet Cannon

Ordnance Department Calls Weapons Fastest Firing Mechanism Made

Pontiac Motor Division has been awarded a contract by the Army's Detroit Ordnance District to produce $7,553,368 worth of M39 20mm automatic aircraft cannon, it was announced today by R. M. Critchfield, general manager.

"Pontiac Motor has been building this cannon for Ordnance since 1952," Critchfield said, "and present contracts would have been completed by late this year.

"This new contract is for an additional number of guns.

"The cannon arms the latest jet fighter planes and is acknowledged as being the fastest firing large caliber machine gun in production," he added.

The weapon, which was placed on public display at the Pontiac plant only recently after years of security precautions, was developed just before World War II.

Firing a bullet slightly more than three-fourths of an inch in diameter, it gives considerably more fire-power than the .50 caliber machine gun, also widely used for aircraft armament.

LATE MODELS

Most late-model military planes carry the 20mm. guns, usually mounted in the forward fuselage. The weapons are used for both aerial combat with enemy planes and strafing of ground targets.

Machining of precision parts for the weapons requires extensive special equipment, some of which the local plant has developed during prior contracts.

The guns produced under this new contract will probably be installed in the latest jet fighter planes recently ordered into quantity production by the Air Force. The new combat planes will be used to replace the F-86 Sabre Jets now being flown by most fighter squadrons.

Ohioan Named Wilson's Aide

Reuben W. Robertson Nominated by President to Succeed Anderson

WASHINGTON (AP) — Reuben W. Robertson, an Ohio manufacturer, has been nominated as deputy secretary of defense.

Anderson, who had served as Secretary of Defense Wilson's righthand man since early 1954, plans to step out the middle of next month.

Robertson had been prominently mentioned as Anderson's likely successor since it became known in recent weeks that the latter intended to resign.

In addition to heading the Champion Paper and Fibre Co. of Hamilton, Ohio, Robertson is vice president of the American Paper and Pulp Assn. and vice chairman of the Commerce Department's Business Advisory Council.

He has served the government in other roles as well. Most recently he functioned as vice chairman of a committee that studied the setup for the Hoover Commission on governmental organization.

In 1953 he was one of a group of businessmen whom the President sent abroad to evaluate the U. S. mutual security program. He was a member of the Wage Stabilization Board in 1950-51.

He served three years in the Army during World War II and before that, in 1942, had been on the War Production Board.

Robertson was born at Asheville, N. C.

George Higgins Elected to Lead Turnpike Authority

ANN ARBOR—The fate of the proposed north-south toll road was placed in the hands of a fiery, white-haired former legislator yesterday when the Michigan Turnpike Authority (MTA) unanimously elected George N. Higgins, of Ferndale, as chairman.

Speaking to the MTA members assembled in their offices here, Higgins promised to "expend plenty of energy" in pushing the program and said he expected the other authority members to do the same.

The 54-year-old auto dealer, a member of the state House for six years and the Senate for eight years, was named to the MTA by Governor Williams.

Higgins succeeded William E. Slaughter Jr., of Birmingham, who failed to receive Senate confirmation for another term.

The new chairman said, "I was one of the authors of the turnpike bill, because I felt the taxpayers could not come up with revenues as fast as they are needed to build roads. . . ."

He said Deputy State Highway Commissioner George Foster, who attended the meeting, had informed him that completion of a road-building plan for Oakland County has been delayed in part because of the undecided status of the turnpike project.

Higgins then set the next MTA meeting for July 25 in Lansing and asked Foster to have a map ready showing how roads to be improved in Oakland will relate to the toll road.

"We have to be sure a parallel freeway will not be built which will compete with our project," said Higgins. He termed construction of two highways a "waste."

MTA administrative officer, Otis Hardy, reported that two large route-location surveys plus administrative costs had eaten up all but $37,344 of the $500,000 loaned the authority by the Highway Department to do work preliminary to issuing bonds.

Higgins suggested that it might be well to ask the Legislature for an added appropriation to be used in case more surveys become necessary should the proposed route have to be changed at certain points.

Frederick Besimer, attorney for the Authority, said Dearborn had not yet appealed a Washtenaw Circuit Court decision upholding the turnpike act. Dearborn brought suit attempting to stop the route from cutting through its city limits.

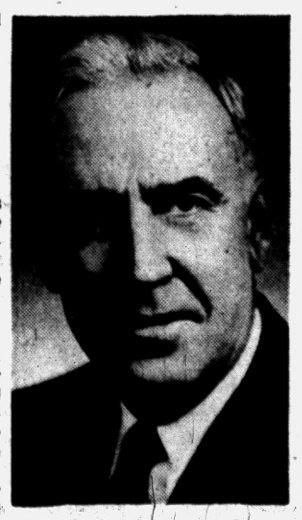

If Dearborn does not appeal to the State Supreme Court, the Michigan Free Highways Protective Assn., which joined Dearborn in pressing the suit, says it will, said Besimer. A high court decision is necessary before bonds can be sold to finance the plan.

Higgins said the fact the proposed route runs through several parks in the Detroit-South Oakland area bothers him. "Parks are dedicated to the public's use," he stated, "and we can't get right-of-way through them unless the communities agree.

"I think the job of settling these right-of-way problems is just as important as obtaining the court decision. We've got to sit down with groups involved and iron out these differences."

The members named Justin R. Whiting, of Detroit, secretary, and Carl Smith, of Bay City, treasurer. They replace the late Rollin M. McConnell, of Detroit, who formerly handled both jobs.

Resolutions were passed praising the work of both McConnell and Slaughter.

Engineer Predicts Future Dream Roads

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—J. Paul Buckley, chief engineer for the Automotive Safety Foundation's highway division, says these are among the things motorists can expect for the future:

Objects to Fees for Dixon-Yates

Senator Says Payment Agreement Would Face Probe by Congress

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Gore (D-Tenn) said today any agreement by the administration to pay contract cancellation fees to the Dixon-Yates utility group would be "subject to searching inquiry" by Congress.

He said the Atomic Energy Commission could use only funds appropriated by Congress to reimburse Dixon-Yates for costs claimed under the contract President Eisenhower has ordered canceled.

Atty. Gen. Brownell said Monday a settlement would be negotiated with Dixon-Yates.

But he said he could not estimate what cancellation costs might come to. There have been estimates Dixon-Yates might seek several millions of dollars.

And in Memphis, Tenn., city officials were accused last night of deciding to build a municipal power plant because they couldn't "dictate" to TVA.

Charge Detroiters Got Wartime Homes Under False Pretenses

DETROIT (AP)—The government today sued 24 men and women, including 11 married couples, for $297,300, alleging they welshed on their parts of the bargain in their purchase of 13 wartime-built housing units.

The government said the defendants were guilty of fraud and conspiracy in failing to live in the units, as promised.

The units were parts of Norwayne Homes, a project built in 1941 and 1942. This was one of the many government housing projects set up to relieve housing congestion during the war. The U. S. Public Housing Administration offered the property for sale last summer to home seekers.

One couple put up all the money and acquired title to all the 13 homes, the government said. It identified them as Saul and Joan Kalt. Kalt is president of the Roger Steel Corp., the government said.

The suit was filed as a civil action in federal court. U. S. attorneys said similar suits would be brought against 100 other Norwayne purchasers.

The suit proposes that the defendants be given the alternative of returning all the property and paying $26,000 damages or being required to pay the $297,300.

Jazz to Liven Up Symphony Concert

BALTIMORE (AP) — Symphony Conductor Massimo Freccia, living up to a promise to liven up the local classical music scene, plans to present "Concerto for Jazz Band and Symphony Orchestra" at a concert next fall.

On the outer fringe of the Lyric Theater stage will be the 86 pieces of the Baltimore Symphony. In the middle will be what the program calls a progressive jazz ensemble—the 19-piece Sauter-Finnegan Orchestra.

The concerto, written by a modern German composed named Lieberman, is essentially a dialogue between the jazz group and the symphony orchestra, Massimo said.

Most marble is very old rock, much of it from the pre-Cambrian eras.

Mt. Clemens, said there was little danger of the contamination affecting that city's water supply.

MT. CLEMENS SAFE

Mt. Clemens gets its drinking water from Lake St. Clair. And although the Clinton empties near the water intake plant a flood spillway carries the water south of the water plant and away from the intake.

"Even if the current should reverse because of a heavy rain there would be as much dilution there would be no problem," Hansen said.

In Pontiac, a State Health Dept. sanitary engineer is assisting DPW staff technicians in running the 135 daily tests of sewage and river samples taken from five points around the treatment plant and two sewers near large industrial plants.

In Lansing, T. L. Vander Velde, chief of the health department's water section, said it is possible that the water restrictions in Utica might be lifted by tomorrow night.

"It all depends on our observation of the stream," he said.

The State health agency Monday night ordered a halt to using Utica water for drinking or cooking purposes. The water, still in the mains, is still being used for washing, sanitary and fire fighting purposes, however.

Authorities were agreed that the large quantity of chromium put into the local system Saturday was done by accident.

"That was definitely an accident," said City Manager Walter K. Willman. Vermette added, "Nobody would throw that much money away. It isn't a sneak-in deal because that stuff costs real money."

Willman said the city is working with the State Health Dept. on a new ordinance which would give the city manager authority to set up control measures on sewage at its source.

He said it was drafted several weeks ago and is now being studied by state officials.

It might become a model ordinance for the use by other cities in the state, Willman said.

Vermette said that in addition to the samplings being made hourly, other industries using the electroplating process which involves chromium solutions are bringing in samples of their sewage for analysis.

Pencil Sales Raise $500 for Shelter

The city is closer to construction of an animal shelter today, as Michigan Animal Rescue League Members collected nearly $500 in donations from their recent pencil selling drive.

Mrs. Martin Davis, League secretary, said a few of the cannisters given to 20 members for collections in the two-day drive, have not yet been returned. She expects to have the exact total shortly.

"We sold 1,700 pencils during the campaign, with individuals giving anywhere from five cents to ten dollars each to further our work," Mrs. Davis said.

The 100-animal shelter, to be located at East boulevard and Featherstone road, may be finished by the end of the year, she added.

Members of the Michigan Animal Rescue league carry on a county-wide program of returning lost pets to owners and finding homes for stray dogs and cats.

They also investigate reports of cruelty and animal neglect.

Step-by-Step Reunification of Germany Is Soviet Idea

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union last night proposed a step-by-step reunification of Germany in an all-European collective security system. The Russians said the holding of all-German elections to reunite the World War II foe was a "subordinate" problem which could wait.

"The solution of the German question," the Soviets said, "is indissolubly linked with ensuring the security of Europe as a whole."

The Russians warned against involving West Germany, or a reunited Germany in any military alliance. Such a policy, they said, "leads to an increased threat of a new war."

The Soviet statement was issued through the official news agency Tass and came six days before the Big Four summit conference at Geneva.

"If it is not possible under present conditions to reach immediate agreement on the reunification of Germany on peace-loving and democratic foundations," the statement said, "it will be necessary to obtain the solution of this problem step by step in accordance with the establishment of an all-European system of collective security, with the participation of all European states irrespective of their social and political differences."

The statement said both West Germany and Communist East Germany could join such a security system, then work within it for reunification.

The statement turned thumbs down on any plan that would give Germany a choice of linking up with the Western military alliance. It said the Western Powers would without doubt also reject any proposal to place a unified Germany into the Communist bloc alliance set up under the Warsaw pact.

Nab Triple Slayer Awaiting Arrest

also I often carry large amounts of money," he told police.

Sgt. Mulick said Kuzner had about $1,400 in his billfold when arrested.

Troopers today said they recovered 23 empty shells from the bar and from the truck cab. He told officers he fired several shots from his truck window after leaving the bar.

Hospital reports showed Farah and his wife died of single wounds. Mrs. Cross was struck twice, once in the neck and once in the head.

Troopers Ken Kendzierski and Lyle Tucker arrested Kuzner only 45 minutes after the 11 p.m. shooting after Waterford Township Justice Donald E. White spotted the admitted killer's truck parked in front of the bar.

The troopers were talking with White about a series of Waterford breakins when the police radio alarm went out with a description of Kuzner's truck.

Kuzner, whose loaded revolver and 25 cartridges were found in the truck, surrendered meekly saying: "I've been waiting for you."

In a signed statement to officers, Kuzner readily admitted the triple slaying. "I don't know why I shot them," he stated.

Witnesses and Kuzner said the four were not boisterous and did not say anything to irritate him. Mrs. Smithley said the victims had not been noisy and did "absolutely nothing" to provoke the shootings.

Kuzner was returned to jail in Flint for further questioning today.

Oregon Students Will Become Real Cool Cats

ASHLAND, Ore. (UP) — It's going to be real crazy on the Southern Oregon College of Education campus.

Glenn T. Matthews, a real hep music professor, said a dance band clinic will be offered for those students who want to be real gone but aren't sure which way to go. They will get a chance to study everything from be-bop to the blues.

The clinic will offer studies in music styles, pretormance styles, chord progressions, tempo, dynamics, variation in intonations, and such. According to Matthews, the course will involve "a great deal of listening."

He said the American Federation of Musicians has agreed to cooperate and will send jazz artists to the campus to instruct students in the finer points of their profession.

"The net result of the clinic," says Matthews, "will be a wider understanding of jazz, from the instrumental standpoint, increased experience through listening and greater ability as performers through observation of experienced players and through analysis of style."

Outboards Missing, 3 Residents Report

Oakland County Sheriff's detectives today are investigating the reported theft of three outboard motors last night from Walled Lake residents.

The motors, a 7½-horsepower and two 25-horsepower, were taken sometime last night. One of the owners, Mrs. Alexander Wegner, of 1227 East Lake Dr., said she heard a car door slam at about 3 a.m.

The other owners, Frank Hamilton, of 805 East Lake Dr. and Don Wilkinson, of 909 East Lake Dr., discovered the motors missing this morning.

M24 Widening Slated to Begin

Two Additional Lanes to Be Added Between Lake Orion, Opdyke

Work will probably begin by the end of July on widening M24 from two to four lanes between Lake Orion and Opdyke Road, according to C. E. Frisinger, president of the Lewis and Frisinger Construction Co., of Ann Arbor, which received the contract.

The $1,242,618 project will see a four-lane divided highway constructed over the 6.8 mile span. Completion date is July 31, 1956.

A 50-man crew will do drainage, graveling and grading work this summer. No concrete will be poured until the 1956 construction season starts next spring, said Frisinger.

Two new lanes will be built west of the present roadway and will carry traffic while sections of the old concrete are torn out. All the old pavement will be rebuilt or recapped, Frisinger explained.

"We expect to maintain traffic flow this year with only a minimum of interference," he stated.

Mrs. Hobby Gives Resignation to Ike

between Eisenhower and Mrs. Hobby.

"Personal reasons of a high order compel me to take leave of my post as secretary of health, education and welfare," Mrs. Hobby wrote.

HUSBAND IS ILL

While she did not specify those reasons, friends said Mrs. Hobby is leaving because of the illness of her huband, former Gov. William P. Hobby of Texas.

"Only such reasons could persuade me to leave your administration or the responsibilities of the department, and if agreeable, I would like to make Aug. 1 the effective date of my resignation," she wrote.

Folsom's selection as Mrs. Hobby's successor had been widely forecast. The shift was agreed on weeks ago, and the only real question was the timing.

Folsom, 61, is a native of McRae, Ga., and came into the Eisenhower administration from the Eastman Kodak Co., where he was treasurer.

He is considered an expert in the field of social security, and served on a presidential commission in 1933 which put together the original social security laws.

Folsom also has helped overhaul the federal tax structure. He led the treasury task force which collaborated with the 83rd Congress in devising the internal revenue code of 1954.

Boy Gets Hair Chopped a la Coonskin Bonnet

Jerry says he likes it better than a coonskin cap because, "I don't have to take it off when I go to bed at night."

Pedestrian Is Charged for Running Into Auto

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—The warrant charged a pedestrian with damaging private property after he walked into the side of an automobile.

The driver said his windshield and rear view mirror were broken. The pedestrian, bruised and scratched on an arm, said he didn't see the moving car.

Lawn Social Scheduled

The ladies of New Bethel Baptist Church will hold a lawn social at the home of Mrs. Lee Stewart, 27 Crawford St. Saturday.

Starting at noon, they will serve home made barbeques, chicken dinners and also will serve home made ice cream and cake.

PIG TALE — Little Billy Harris of Muncie, Ind., bottle feeds one of two pigs he got for a penny. The low price was possible because of an old country tale that gift pigs will die. Billy got the pigs from a farmer because the little ones' mother wouldn't feed them. Their tusks were too large.

HARRY M. PRYALE

Harry M. Pryale was elected chairman of the board of directors of the Baldwin Rubber Company at a meeting held Tuesday. Milo D. McClintock was named president. He is also continuing as treasurer.

Paul Richardson is vice president and Clifford Brinkman is secretary and assistant treasurer. Mr. Pryale continues his current activities with the corporation.

Europe Suffers as Heat Wave Enters Sixth Day

LONDON (AP) — Europe's heat wave went into its sixth day today with the death toll at least 60 —and little relief in sight.

Temperatures rose into the 80s over most of Europe — unusually hot for countries where air conditioning is a novelty.

The heat wave deaths were blamed mostly on lightning and drownings on crowded beaches. One family of eight drowned in Scotland Monday and the five-day toll in Italy rose to 10 drownings and 8 lightning fatalities.

The temperature in Rome hit 86 for the second straight day.

In France, the scorching sun was followed by torrential thunderstorms in several areas, with damage running into millions of francs. Five persons have been killed by lightning in France in the past 24 hours.

* * *

In Belgium, a farm worker burned to death when lightning struck the haycart he was sheltering under in a storm.

Copenhagen reported many sunstroke cases, six drownings and five other heat deaths.

Hottest place of all was Sweden, where a heat wave into the 90s caused two deaths yesterday.

Some House Members Predict OK of Increase in Road Taxes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Public Works Committee was split several ways today over how to raise 37 billion dollars to pay the federal share of a proposed 12-year road-building program.

For this reason, committee members doubted they could complete action on a highway bill at a closed-door session today.

Several key members predicted approval of a subcommittee plan to raise gasoline taxes from 2 to 3 cents a gallon and to hike taxes on trucks, Diesel fuel, truck tires and tubes. These increases would bring in more than 800 million dollars a year.

But others promised a last-ditch stand in the committee for President Eisenhower's plan to create a new government corporation to finance the building program through long-term bonds which would not be chargeable to the national debt.

* * *

Some members wanted to drop the whole program and others wanted to pass the buck on financing to the House Ways and Means Committee, which traditionally starts all tax bills in Congress.

Both Eisenhower and Democratic congressional leaders are predicting action on the largest federal state highway program ever projected.

The program calls for 24 billions in federal funds and about 2½ billions in state funds to complete a 40,000-mile network of interstate superhighways, selected largely for their importance to national defense.

He May Reach Grave Before Half Dozen

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Writer Perry Covent submitted an idea for a magazine article, "I survived Three Air Crashes."

The next day he flew to nearby Ensenada, Mexico, crashed, and lay in a coma for a week.

Released from the hospital after 14 weeks, Covent wrote to the magazine again. This time his story title idea was: "I Survived Four Air Crashes."

The Day in Birmingham

Park for Residents Only Spurs Interest in Golfing

BIRMINGHAM—Putting a "for residents only" tag on the use of city-owned Springdale Park last year, has given women here an added interest they might otherwise not have acquired, thinks Robert Fauteck, park superintendent.

Statistics bear him out, too, for teams in the Ladies' Golf League have increased from eight in 1953 to 18 this summer. This represents a total of 36 housewives or working women who turn out each Tuesday morning for league play.

The interest was there all the time, surmised Fauteck yesterday, it was simply that the women could not spare the time to stand in line waiting their turn on the course when it was public.

LEADING STANDINGS

Tied for second place with 33 points are the teams of Mrs. Robert Wolf and Mrs. John Zimmerman, Mrs. John Case and Mrs. Walter MacKenzie, and Mrs. Mary Kirby and Mrs. Florence Milford.

Mrs. Lindley was low with 36 after the last match, Fauteck said, while she and Mrs. Alice Nordle had the low net (low game after subtracting the handicap). Mrs. James Herbst and Mrs. Edna Bangs tied with 34 points for second low net.

MEN IN THERE, PITCHING

Not to be outdone are the men, 32 of whom play in 16 teams each Tuesday night. The leading team with 37 points, is composed of Tom Stinson and Tom McDaniel. Next come Robert Gent and Charles Moore with 33, the father-son team of Virgil and Mickey Hartkopf with 32, and Harry Mudge and George Harabedian, 31.

Low net were Derek Bolton and Virgil Hartkopf, with 32 points apiece. Hyatt Eby, Dale Roberts and Stinson were tied for second low net with 35.

The junior program conducted for the second year is meeting with great success, said Fauteck, who is instructing 106 youngsters between the ages of 8 and 14.

All three groups will have handicap tournaments at the end of the season, when trophies and prizes are awarded.

Gerald Godwin, 29, started work for the city this week as administrative assistant, and will aid City Manager Donald C. Egbert and Assistant City Manager Dana Whitman Jr., who arrives Aug. 1.

Godwin comes from Phoenix, Ariz., where he spent six months on a government internship, in writing a manual on financial procedures of Maricopa County, which has a half million population.

He received a degree in public administration from the University of Denver and also took his master's degree there. Godwin had a year of engineering at Pennsylvania Military College and prior to that was in cadet training with the U.S. Air Corps. He is married and the father of a seven-month-old son.

* * *

The cut-back in City Manager Donald C. Egbert's usual reports in the City Commission agenda is still being evidenced in the length of the Monday night meetings, with this week's ending less than an hour after it started.

Egbert, is still hospitalized with a broken leg, following an auto accident.

Birmingham's water supply has come close to the siren stage every day for the past several days, said Fire Chief Park Smith yesterday.

Twelve blasts from the siren is the signal to shut off water for a two-hour period, he reminded. "We haven't broken any record yet, but Monday we pumped 5.5 million gallons," he said. The city's eight wells hit top consumption on May 29, with a figure just under 6,000,000 gallons.

Applauds Ike's Stand on Asia

Humphrey Is Pleased With Promise to Make No Commitments

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn) applauded today as an "honorable position" President Eisenhower's reported assurance he will make no commitments on Asia at the Geneva conference.

* * *

Humphrey, a Senate Foreign Relations Committee member critical of some administration international policies, said in an interview:

"I don't want to see the Soviet Union built up into the position of becoming a broker for Asian countries. We should hold the Soviets accountable for the violations of the truces in Korea and Viet Nam, which they participated in making.

"But it would not be the honorable thing for the Big Four to reach any decision on Asia in the absence of the Asians."

Secretary of State Dulles, meanwhile, arranged to take off today with a party of top advisers for Paris, where he and the British and French foreign ministers will complete Western strategy for dealing with Soviet leaders in the Big Four summit talks opening Monday.

Saturday, after a meeting of the North Atlantic Treaty Council, Dulles expects to go on to Geneva. Eisenhower, leaving Washington Friday night after a nationwide radio and television broadcast, is scheduled to reach Geneva Saturday night.

Homesteader Howls at Uranium Hunters

He recently wrote the Lincoln County News he had paid taxes on his homestead for more than 30 years. "Received patent from the U. S. government in 1921. There was no demand for this land at that time. I fenced the land and built tanks for stock water. Now the uranium hunters have taken my place over, bulldozed holes all over the place and spooked the cattle away from the water tanks. Just what can the poor homesteader expect from good old Uncle Sam?"

Artists of Area Showing Works at UM Exhibit

Fifteen artists from Oakland County, including five from Pontiac will be represented by original works in the Amateur Art Exhibit at the University of Michigan tomorrow through July 30.

The works, which are in the media of water color, oils, paints and drawings will be on display in the galleries of the Rackham Building. One hundred and two artists from 31 Michigan cities entered works.

Other entries from Oakland County were: Mrs. Mae C. Averill, Mrs. Winnifred Heizer, Mrs. Lilian Hippin, Mrs. Caroline Skinner, Mrs. Katherine Smith and Mrs. Sally Snyder, all from Birmingham; Mrs. Ruby H. Williams from Bloomfield Hills; Robert E. Springer from Drayton Plains; Mrs. Evelyn Brackett from Oak Park and Mrs. Maxine Murphy from Royal Oak.

The exhibition is sponsored by the University Summer Session for the purpose of bringing together a representatnve group of paintings which were selected from regional shows held this year in various sections of the state.

Expensive Improvements

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — City Manager Donald M. Oakes told the City Commission Tuesday that cost of developing a 600-car off-street parking facilities and a small Riverside Park near commercial Monroe Ave., in downtown Grand Rapids would be $1,810,052. The commission ordered the estimates a month ago to determine what procedure to follow in deciding the area's future.

Okay Ordinance to Purge Noxious Weeds in Area

A strict ordinance calling for cutting down noxious weeds on all city and private property has been passed by the City Commission.

The new law makes the Parks and Recreation Dept. director, David R. Ewalt, weed czar, with authority to have city crews enter private property to remove weeds if the owner has failed to do so.

Should this be necessary, the owner will be charged for the expense. And if he does not pay the charges, they will be collected through a special assessment against his property.

Under the ordinance, the city will post notice in the Pontiac Press at least one week previous to Aug. 1 each year ordering the cutting and destroying of noxious, or harmful, weeds.

If any person so requested fails or refuses to destroy the weeds, Ewalt "shall enter upon the land and cause such noxious weeds to be cut down or destroyed with as little damage to the premises as may be."

Sept. 15 will be the last date for paying the charges. Then, the parks director will turn over a list of delinquent owners to the city manager who will report to the City Commission. A special assessment roll will then be ordered to collect the fees.

AEC Will Sell Atomic Power

Sets Price at 3 Mills Per Kilowatt-Hour for Niagara-Mohawk

SCHENECTADY, N.Y. (AP)— The Atomic Energy Commission today announced plans for the first government sale of atomic-produced electric energy and said it would be introduced into the Niagara-Mohawk Power Corp.'s public utility system "in the near future."

The commission said it has set a price of 3 mills a kilowatt-hour after studying recommendations of interested public power organizations and after consulting with the Federal Power Commission.

As the AEC explained it, steam from a prototype submarine reactor at West Milton, N.Y., will be channeled into a 10,000-kilowatt turbine generator to produce power which will be sold by the AEC to Niagara-Mohawk.

* * *

The generator was installed and will be operated by the General Electric Co. at no cost to the government, the AEC said. The reactor is a prototype of that which is to be installed in the Sea Wolf, this country's second atomic submarine scheduled for launching at Groton, Conn., on July 21.

* * *

AEC said the arrangement under which the power will be marketed by Niagara-Mohawk is a temporary one, pending determination whether any or all of three public power units which have expressed an interest in buying the energy can arrange for its transmission to their systems.

It identified these as the Delaware County Rural Electric Cooperative, Delhi, N.Y., the City of Ilion, N.Y.; and the city of Holyoke, Mass.

THIGH HIGH — Tradition says corn should be knee-high by July, but on this Westville, Ind., farm it's 'way above that, as demonstrated by Bebette Cazelais, a Valparaiso, Ind., University student. Plenty of hot weather and ample rain sped the early growth of crops this season.

Performing Pavement

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP)—Anthony Parino was driving down one of Galveston's principal seaside streets when the pavement buckled upward about three feet. He could not stop his car in time and it was flipped over. Officers said all they could figure was that the high afternoon temperatures caused the pavement to expand and buckle. Parino and his wife suffered cuts and bruises.

File Tax Lien on Companion

New Difficulties Face Friend of Ex-Governor Asking Estate Share

DETROIT (AP) — The Internal Revenue Service has slapped a $12,947 tax lien on the property of Julia Dubuque, who described herself as "companion and social hostess" of the late Gov. Alex J. Groesbeck in asking a $136,700 share of his estate last year.

The lien is for allegedly unreported income for the years 1949 through 1952. It did not describe the amount of income or its source, however.

Probate Referee Floyd A. Frye recommended last September that Miss Dubuque be given $60,868 from Grosebeck's estate, holding that Grosebeck had been paying her substantial sums in the past. The recommendation has not been acted upon in court.

Miss Dubuque said the former governor had promised her $500 a month for life, plus $23,705 for her Southfield Township home. She figured the total at $136,700.

Nationalists Refuse to Allow Scholarships

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—The Chinese Nationalist Education Ministry has disqualified 351 Formosa high school students from accepting scholarships in colleges abroad. More than 300 had intended to go to U.S. schools.

The ministry said they had failed to pass special examinations.

The ministry said 235 other students with scholarships had passed the examinations.

State Park Book Now Available From Auto Club

Automobile Club of Michigan this week will begin distribution of its 1955 Michigan State Parks booklet, Emerson Alston, Pontiac division manager, announced today.

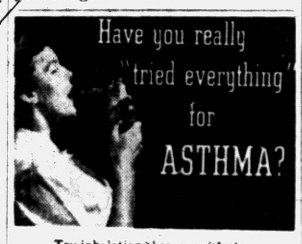

The 32-page booklet lists the 65 State parks and recreation areas, gives their location and describes facilities for tourists, campers and fishermen. Also included is a listing of State Forest camp and picnic grounds and Wayne County parks.

Michigan parks and recreation areas should set new attendance records this year, Alston predicted. In 1954, they entertained more than 15 million visitors while over 80,000 campers enjoyed the state-owned facilities.

As a public service, the booklet will be made available to all Pontiac area motorists through the Auto Club office.

Texas 'Heart' Death Actually Due to Rabies

HOUSTON (AP)—A June 7 death orginally blamed on a heart condition actually was the result of rabies, laboratory tests showed yesterday.

The death certificate for Frank H. Lout, 46, ascribed death to a heart condition. The attending physician said yesterday an electocardiogram showed a heart disturbance and there was no indication Lout had been bitten or otherwise exposed to rabies.

Family members said Lout had been acutely ill about 10 days but they had no idea he had rabies.

The Truth About Hormones to Make Skin Look Young

As I write this article, I can look through the doorway and see a woman of 45 waiting in the outer office. The light is good and I see her clearly.

She looks 10 years younger today than she did a month ago. What brought about this amazing change? An estrogenic hormone cream. Reams have been written about hormone creams. Will they make women of 75 look 16 again? Absolutely not. Will they make women of 60 feel like they are 20 again? Only in a way I shall explain later.

• • • • •

To know the truth about hormone creams, you need to learn just two simple facts. 1. The beauty of a woman's skin starts breaking down as signs of menopause begin, because the female organs fail to supply enough estrogenic hormones to feed the skin—less and less as you grow older. 2. Estrogenic hormones can be supplied to the skin by rubbing on a formula containing the hormones.

• • • • •

Here is a test reported in a scientific journal, one of many that showed similarly sensational results: Fifty women applied a hormone cream to one side of the face and neck, and to one hand. On the other side and the other hand, a similar cream containing no hormone was applied the same way.

These are the reports in simple words:

Skin lines (or wrinkles) quickly dimmed or disappeared from sight as creases and hollows filled out.

Skin was softer, clearer, seemed to lose its chronic dryness, and take on revived freshness and vitality.

All these amazing things happened on the side where the hormone cream was used. Meanwhile no change occurred on the other side. The same withered lifeless complexion.

Still another scientist reports in effect, improvement in the skin of women past menopause was striking. These women looked like the years had been turned back toward their youthful "pre-change" appearance.

I've seen this myself. I have seen the improvement so rapid that in just two days women looked younger. And, what a lift to the spirits! I cannot truthfully say that women of 60 felt like they were 20 again. But I have seen the light come back into their eyes—their chins raised with proud confidence—the zest for living return—because—I presume—to look younger is to feel younger.

Now to select a good estrogenic hormone preparation, here is what you need to know, the strength of the hormone preparations must appear on the label. The recommended daily allotment for the skin is about 1,500 International Units.

The base should be as rich as possible in lanolin and vegetable oils to permit fast penetration and deep absorption and, when "rubbed in" your skin should not feel greasy or sticky. On first application, your skin should feel a radiant glow of revitalized youthfulness and refreshment.

An extra good buy in hormone products today is a preparation called HORMONEX Beauty Serum. It is made by a 34-year-old laboratory that has produced over 80 million packages of pure, fine cosmetics.

What is more, it is guaranteed to bring you joyous, noticeable results in 5 days or your money back. HORMONEX Beauty Serum is really a bargain at $3.50. So, if you want to see if your dreams of a younger-looking skin — with wrinkles dimmed, color and texture improved, can come true, I suggest you get a 100-day supply now. Use HORMONEX Beauty Serum for 5 days—then look for amazing results.

Now you can concentrate your hormone treatment on spots that need it most because Hormonex Beauty Serum is so powerful a drop of it gives skin 15 times as many hormone units as a dab of cream. Wonderful about the eyes and mouth, on the throat.

The most potent hormone preparation we know of for beauty culture—150,000 I. U. per ounce — equal to five 3-ounce jars of standard hormone cream. One bottle lasts about 100 days. Just 7-8 drops daily gives you the maximum allotment of female hormones. Contains large percentage of Lanolin and Sesame Oil — it penetrates.

Canadian Prison Riot Results in 2 Injuries

PRINCE ALBERT, Sask. (UP)—Guards at Saskatchewan Penitentiary forced 600 prisoners back into their cells last night after a two-hour riot in the prison yard. A guard and a prisoner were injured.

The convicts set fire to 10 buildings, burning the stables, flour shed and cement shed to the ground. They grabbed six guards as hostages but released them after a short time.

The disturbance broke out as the men were winding up their late afternoon recreation period. Deputy Warden G. T. Crofton said they made no apparent attempt to break out. He gave no explanation for the riot.

Foreign Aid Cut Stirs Comment

House Action Decried as Lack of Confidence Vote for Eisenhower

WASHINGTON (UP)—Three Senate Republicans today criticized a 628-million-dollar cut by the House in President Eisenhower's foreign aid program and urged at least partial restoration by the Senate.

* * *

The Senate GOP Policy Committee arranged to discuss the $2,638,741,750 money bill behind closed doors today amid indications it would informally suggest an increase.

Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-NJ) said the House action "is almost a vote of lack of confidence in President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles just as they are setting out for one of the most important diplomatic conferences in 10 years"—the summit talks at Geneva.

Sen. Dirksen (R-Ill) said "the House nicked this bill too much" and said he would seek some restoration by the Senate Appropriations Committee, on which he serves.

Sen. Butler (R-Md) blamed the "Democratic leadership" in the House for having "seriously impaired the President's position at the Geneva conference by recklessly reducing the foreign aid program." He added in a statement he hopes "this grevious error can be corrected. . . ."

Actually, neither Democratic nor Republican leaders in the House made any floor fight against the cuts recommended by the Appropriations Committee there.

Escapes in 80-Ft. Plunge

BANKS, Idaho (UP)—Edward J. O'Toole, 34, of Nampa, drove his cement truck onto a soft shoulder of the highway near here yesterday and plunged 80 feet down a rocky gorge into the Payette River. He clambored out with only a few cuts and bruises.

Most of the gasoline sold to American motorists is conveyed between 4 p.m. and 7 p.m.

Ailing Senator Keeps in Touch

Heart Attack Recovery Permits Limited Work Uptake in Hospital

WASHINGTON (UP)—Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, a heart attack only 11 days behind him, is again beginning to keep in close touch with developments in the Senate, where he normally serves as Democratic leader.

* * *

Johnson is still confined to bed at the Naval Medical Center in suburban Bethesda, Md. Whatever activity he undertakes is under the careful eye of doctors treating him for a heart attack they have termed "moderately severe."

But through members of his immediate family, a few aides and one or two Senate colleagues who are permitted to visit him, the Texas senator keeps abreast of developments.

* * *

He reads the newspapers and some selected correspondence previously checked over by assistants. A television set has been placed in his room. A kind of censorship over it, as well as the newspapers, is exercised by his wife Lady Bird.

She has been near him constantly since he entered the hospital, and sleeps in an adjoining room.

* * *

Two women secretaries of Johnson's office staff have set up shop in a room near Johnson's own 16th floor suite. They are on duty in turns during the day, alternating between the hospital and the Capitol.

Their job at the hospital is largely to handle the telephone calls, letters, telegrams and flowers.

The senator's brother Sam Houston Johnson says Lyndon Johnson is "doing what the doctors tell him to," adding:

"They keep an hourly check on him, and make sure that he is not taxing his strength. If he's feeling good they'll let him see someone, and they watch to see that he doesn't get tired out."

One of the attending doctors said if Johnson continues to progress, he may be able to leave the hospital in about three weeks, and then spend another month or so in Washington before returning to Texas.

U Nu in California

PASADENA, Calif. (UP)—Premier U Nu of Burma flies to the Imperial Valley today for a tour of California's once-desert garden-land. For the past two days the visiting Premier has been feted under the auspices of the California Institute of Technology. Yesterday he canceled a visit to the Huntington Library here in favor of a trip to Paramount Studios in Hollywood.

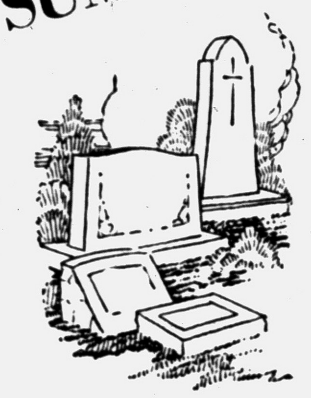

Almost one-fifth of the entire wheat crop of the U. S. is grown in Kansas.

*2-door, 6-passenger Buick SPECIAL Sedan, Model 48, illustrated. Optional equipment, accessories, any state and local taxes, additional. Prices may vary slightly in adjoining communities. Even factory-installed options are bargains.
We'll mince no words.
You can boss this big and brawny Buick Sedan for just about the price of the smaller cars—even for less than some models of the three most widely known smaller cars. The price we show here proves that.
But you can't get anywhere else for the money what you get in this or any other new Buick – and that's something you really ought to look into.
For Buick sales are soaring to all-time best-seller highs this year just because more and more people are discovering how much more automobile their dollars buy in a Buick than the same dollars buy elsewhere.
They find Buick a bigger package of automobile for the money—bigger in power thrill, in comfort, in ride steadiness, in structural solidity.
They find Buick size and styling an added prestige—Buick roadability and handling ease an added pleasure—Buick brawn and precision an added reassurance.
And they find Buick performance a thrill without peer – for where else can you get the whip-quick response and bettered gas mileage of Variable Pitch Dynaflow†?
Maybe you'd better drop in for a visit and see how much real automobile and fun and deep-down satisfaction your money buys in Buick.
Whether you want the low-priced SPECIAL, the high-powered CENTURY, the extra-roomy SUPER, or the custom-built ROADMASTER – you'll find the price more than right and the trade-in deal terrific. Can you make it today?
†Variable Pitch Dynaflow is the only Dynaflow Buick builds today. It is standard on ROADMASTER, optional at modest extra cost on other Series.
DID YOU KNOW
- – that the Buick SPECIAL is priced below any other car of 188 horsepower and 122-inch wheelbase?
- – that the Buick SPECIAL is priced below some models of the three well-known smaller cars?
- – that the Buick SPECIAL gives you more pounds of automobile than any other car at its low price?

MEMBER OF AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATIONS

WEDNESDAY, JULY 13, 1955

Hugh D. Grove

Pontiac and his many friends lose an outstanding citizen in the death of HUGH D. GROVE.

In the lumber business since 1945 Mr. GROVE served as vice president of the Donaldson Lumber Company. He was well known in the building profession and had a wide circle of acquaintances when it came to "do it yourself" projects around the house.

Since a severe illness around the first of the year he had been inactive and confined to his home on Sylvan Lake. In the ten years he had been in Pontiac he had made an unusually large number of friends.

Always affable and with a warm greeting he was a standout in any gathering.

Mr. GROVE'S chief interest and hobby were his family and home. He loved his yard and spent many pleasant weekends taking care of it. Fascinated with water, for relaxation he enjoyed boating on Sylvan Lake.

Hunting and fishing at his camp in northern Michigan was another favorite pastime of Mr. GROVE. With his hunting cronies in camp he was known as HUGH, the chef.

★ ★ ★

Rugged Individualism

MRS. EMMA GATEWOOD is no clinging vine.

At sixty-seven, she is taking a 2,050 mile hike.

While we can't all take to the Appalachian Trail, as has this independent minded grandmother, nevertheless, the little story published in the Press recently about her summer's program doubtless brought a sympathetic smile to the face of many a reader.

This Appalachian Trail winds along near the crest of the big mountain range which stretches up through our eastern states. Its northern end is at Mt. Katahdin, Maine. Its southern terminus is at Mt. Oglethorpe, Georgia.

There are overnight camping spots and shelters along the route. But it decidedly is not level going, and a two thousand mile hike along such a route would be a real undertaking for far younger pedestrians.

Mrs. Gatewood, who hails from Gallipolis, Ohio, is carrying a thirty-five pound pack, and her equipment includes a sleeping bag so she can spend some of her nights in the open. She has averaged close to fifteen miles a day for her first half of the trip and she is still going strong.

She will be the first woman ever to hike the full length of the Trail alone, if she completes this strenuous assignment. She started May 3. Sixty-six days later she was hiking through Maryland, headed north.

★ ★ ★

What will she prove, if she makes it to Katahdin?

That there still are American women with the pioneering instinct; the will to conquer the unknown, to see new lands and to go it alone.

EMMA GATEWOOD has spirit. She has confidence in her ability to cope with whatever she may encounter.

She is unafraid.

IN TRYING to exude good nature and jollity, MOLOTOV was about as convincing as a fat-and-forty woman trying to be coy and kittenish.

Helicopter 'Bus' Service

For years the whirling, rotored helicopter has intrigued the imagination of man. He has visioned the time when such a device could really be harnessed and developed to fill in many of the places where conventional airplane service falls short.

Already helicopter service is providing connecting service between some of our eastern airports and the downtown areas of the principal cities they serve. Now a new step seems about to be taken.

★ ★ ★

The military twin-roto H-21 "Work Horse" helicopter has been adapted to civilian use by the Peasecki Helicopter Corp., and the first civilian jobs are due off the lines next year. These machines, in addition to their ability to rise straight up and come down at will without forward motion, can cruise at 98 miles an hour and will seat from sixteen to nineteen passengers.

★ ★ ★

Much of the time now saved on short airplane flights is lost in the time required to go to and from the airfields. Willow Run is notoriously far from downtown Detroit, or Pontiac. If quick, economical helicopter service could be set up to fill this gap, it would be a boon to air travel.

THE question of whether or not there is life on Mars doesn't interest us—we're too busy wondering how much longer there'll be life on earth.

Pix for City Hall

Paintings of Local Homes Are Soon to Adorn Its Walls

To be hung in the new city hall are paintings of five pioneer Pontiac homes. They are the work of a local artist, of 45 Blaine St., and have been purchased by the city commission. They are authentic color reproductions of the Wisner, Crofoot, Parker, Heath and Soper residences. Other paintings of a similar nature are contemplated.

John C. Allshouse

One of Pontiac's youngest pioneers celebrates his 65th birthday—or is it the 35th—we can't be sure. Harry M. Pryale, president of the Baldwin Rubber Company, is one of Oakland County's greatest citizens, viewed from any angle and Mr. Pryale has a lot of angles. He's a lifetime fisherman, hunter and possesses one of the grandest senses of humor on the North American continent. He took a rubber business that was flat on its back as the referee was counting "ten" and made it a great organization. Pontiac owes him everlasting thanks. Mr. Pryale treats old men, young women, little children and all intermediate points with unfailing courtesy and respect. Especially is he courteous toward young—whoa, whoa. That's it, folks.

PRYALE

Having an uncle who is an alligator wrestler in Florida,

David Lawrence Says:

World Expects Too Much From Geneva Conference

WASHINGTON — There are two Geneva conferences in the offing — one is artificial and the other is real.

The make-believe conference is a fanciful picture unfolded as a result of a world-wide buildup by the press and radio in London, Paris, Washington, Peiping and Moscow.

* * *

The real conference — the one that will actually happen — is far less spectacular. It is already announced that no decisions will be reached on controversial questions —only on procedures for future talks and studies.

The people of the world, therefore, are far ahead of the actualities of such a session of the heads of states. They expect far more than will be accomplished.

Probably the most significant thing that will come out of the real conference is a decision to hold another one — possibly in Canada or some other part of the world six months hence.

HOPE STIMULATED

For, while speculation in the press and among the so-called "informed sources" all over the world will continue to stimulate hope for a better turn of affairs between East and West. It's going to be a long time before anything tangible will emerge that can be pointed to as a demonstration of a change in tensions.

* * *

If "relaxation of tension" has been objective, it already has been attained. Millions of people in the West already feel that there has been a change — that peace is here or maybe just around the corner.

The realists happen to be in the minority and they have an annoying way of looking at facts just at the time when wishful thinkers want to ignore or at least put aside unpleasant conjectures.

But a glance at all the dispatches from all over the world will reveal that the Soviet military mechanism has not relaxed and is working overtime to produce better jets and better bombs. Only in the press of the West is there a constant propaganda of denunciation of nuclear warfare. The Soviets haven't given the slight st indication that they plan to abandon either nuclear tests or the use of nuclear weapons in wartime.

REDS SEEK RELIEF

There are, of course, many economic burdens which the Soviet government would like to have eased. The four-power conference is naturally the place to look for such relief, if, as Sen. Flanders of Vermont, Republican, so wisely pointed out in a recent speech, nuclear warfare can be banned, the armies of Red China and Soviet Russia will dominate Europe and Asia.

All the talk about a new security system of Europe which is to include Russia and her satellites is just window dressing. It hides the real facts which are that, as long as the East is lined up against the West with vast armies, the potentailities of another war are there.

The sparring at the four-power conference will be significant if only in revealing that back of the Soviets is a desire to frustrate if not abolish the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and render Germany impotent.

* * *

Back of the Moscow planning is military strategy — protection for the future and a weakening of the Western allies, who, it might be assumed by the Kremlin, will be foolish enough to let down their guard and cut armament expenditure without any further signs of good faith from the Russians than verbal pieties.

THEORY FANTASTIC

The theory that the four heads of state will sit down together and in all sincerity work out a program of peace is too fantastic to be accepted for the simple reason that it has not been preceded by any acts of good faith by the Communists. There is no compelling reason for them to make concessions of importance if they can maneuver the West into doing so.

Propaganda-wise the Soviets go into the Geneva conference with many advantages. They have managed to scare the Western world with the fear that the next war will destroy civilization if H-bombs are used.

Hence the logical thing of course, is to get all nations to agree not to use them. That would make conventional arms and big armies dominant — and that means domination of Europe by Soviet Russia. It's a practical problem which the dreamers and those who keep thinking about the imaginary conference at Geneva do not face.

* * *

But President Eisenhower is a man who has spent most of his life as a soldier preparing for surprises from the enemy. He is not likely to be fooled. So the real conference will be a simple affair — making arrangements for more study by commissions and committees, more diplomatic conversation and another big conference six months hence to take stock of what will have happened in the meantime. It's a form of progress, to be sure, but it's a far cry from peace or disarmament.

Resident Sees Labor-Management Parleys as Forecast of Long National Prosperity

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

I have lived in Pontiac almost 30 years and have seen good and tough times. I have never seen times look any better for the working man, business and everyone in general.

What keeps the wheels rolling and industry going is to give the working man a decent wage so he can buy some of the products he is building. I think we will have years of prosperity.

We are building highways which we badly need, a bridge across the Straits, and also the St. Lawrence Seaway. Millions of homes will be built to take care of our fast growing population.

It does not make a lot of difference who is in office, Democrat or Republican, so long as they don't forget the working man and the farmer. But it looks to me like the farmer is being neglected at the present time.

What makes things look bright for the future is the way management and labor sit down at a table together and get peaceable contracts like the ones granted by Ford and GMC. It seems that management and labor are working much closer together. What helps one helps the other.

Free Economy Performs Social Service for World

By MERRYLE S. RUKEYSER
INS Economic Commentator

A common cause of slurs on the American economic system comes from collectivists and advocates of a so-called "mixed economy" who judge free enterprise by Marxian or government-in-business yardsticks.

* * *

Much earlier when the Social Security Act was up for passage during the first term of the New Deal in 1935, propagandists berated the United States for being at the tail end of the procession of nations in this direction.

But the critics neglected to point out that through individual initiative and voluntary non-governmental enterprise the United States had to an unprecedented extent provided economic security for families through life insurance contracts and annuities—not to speak of savings accounts, and acquisition of stocks and bonds.

Similarly when former President Truman subsequently made his celebrated Point Four proposal for the United States to extend technical aid through government subsidies to backward areas, this writer participated in several debates via radio and public platform on this issue.

* * *

I took the position that there was nothing new in Truman's proposal except that he prescribed that the financing of American technical assistance should be undertaken by the government as a gift or subsidy to backward nations, whereas historically American businessmen and investors had in normal pursuit of profits under the private enterprise system been bringing vast amounts of technical aid and specialized know-how into foreign lands.

BALKED BY SOCIALISTS

At the time, when superficial propagandists for government action were making it appear that technical aid was a new thought, private companies were trying to continue their constructive work overseas despite the efforts of foreign Socialist-dominated governments to hamstring them.

* * *

Now at long last Will Lissner, in the New York Times, attempts to give precise factual blueprints of the extent to which U. S. private enterprises have been providing Point Four aid in foreign lands.

He reports that more than 2,000 U. S. corporations control and operate business enterprises overseas with a book value of $16,200,000,000. He concludes:

"Through these oil fields, mines, factories and mills the companies are bringing the democratic values and the material advantages of American civilization to less developed areas."

* * *

Compared with this gigantic cumulative effort, the governmental expenditure, as this writer has pointed out through the years, is a mere drop in the bucket.

BETTER EXPLANATION

All of this points up what seems to me to be an extremely important consideration on the eve of the Big Four Conference at the summit in Geneva. In order to win the hearts and minds of men, the free enterprisers need better mastery of the art of communications.

* * *

They have up to now been handicapped by the semantic trick of the Socialists—and other Marxians—to make it appear that only they are social-minded.

The great need is to clarify the concept that the voluntary action of individual citizens and corporations without governmental intervention can and does serve social objectives.

The dramatic aspect of the procedure is that our voluntary system gives the individual an optimum degree of freedom of choice.

* * *

By contrast, in the Soviet alleged Utopia, where governmental power is total, workers are assigned to vocations arbitrarily by little commissars in big jobs — and these latter also dictate the specifications and quantities of goods which should be produced.

HITLER'S EXAMPLE

If the error of investing governmental action with social qualities needs to be further underscored, the religious persecutions and gas chambers of Hitler were carried out in the name of established government—as are the forced labor camps in Russia.

* * *

In the circumstances, it is intellectual nonsense to go along with the old cliche to the effect that everything that a government does is social, whereas everything that a private enterprise does is sordid.

The confusion in part springs from misunderstanding of the profit motive. But profit is the scoreboard in which individuals voluntarily applaud business efforts which they approve.

The customers do this through returning in the purchase price of goods all the costs of the business, including the cost of capital. This is done daily in the marts of the nation.

Case Records of a Psychologist

Smoking, Drinking and Off-Color Jokes Do Nothing to Enhance a Girl's Prestige

Mildred's tenants reveal a secret of male psychology. Men divide women into two classes, and they may subconsciously make the classification by offering a girl a cigarette, a highball and then listening to her conversation for evidence of vulgar speech. Test yourself by the Rating Scale Below.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case O-381 Mildred K., aged 41, is a cousin of mine. She and her husband were renting the furnished house which they owned in Ft. Wayne, Ind.

* * *

"Did you find suitable tenants?" I later asked her, for I knew she had run an advertisement in the Ft. Wayne newspapers.

"Yes, we selected a very nice couple — young married folks from the East," she added.

"The wife seems quite charming, and I noticed she didn't smoke, which was what finally decided me in their favor.

"I asked her if she used cigarettes, and she told me her husband had never wanted her to smoke.

* * *

"When you are renting a furnished home, it is an asset to have non-smokers as tenants, for smokers often burn holes in the rugs or bedding, or mar the finish on the piano."

WHAT MEN LIKE

Maybe millions of you teenage girls would enjoy further facts about what men like and dislike in the girls they actually pick for wives.

A girl's greatest charm is not sheer good looks of the movie star sort, though it is always desirable to get the most out of what God gave you to start with.

"I never ask a beauty queen for a date," many of my male students at Northwestern University thus would inform me.

* * *

"For a girl who thinks she is a potential movie star, often has little else to offer. She thinks she can get by on her face and shapely legs.

"So she is egotistical or doesn't know how to carry on interesting conversation and is often a "drip" as a partner."

Now those criticisms are not always true of beautiful girls but they often apply.

PERSONALITY

"But what is a charming personality?" you may logically inquire.

First, a girl should smile and be very liberal with honest compliments to the people around her.

She should focus the spotlight on the other person, instead of boasting about her own background and tooting her own horn by lavish self-advertising. Make them feel more important.

Second, a charming girl has enthusiasm. She is not the languid, bored type who acts as if she were

* * *

Third, a girl should have spunk. She should champion idealism and defend her religious beliefs, instead of meekly going along with the crowd.

For women are the chief custodians of culture and idealism, music and morality.

WHAT MEN EXPECT

Men thus expect girls to represent such virtues, even though the men themselves often tear down idealism and drink, swear or try to act tough.

Thus, cigarettes, liquor, risque stories and harsh talk, especially profanity, never enhance a girl's standing with desirable men.

"But, Dr. Crane," some girls protest, "I know a lot of men who actually urge liquor on their girl companions, not to mention cigarettes."

* * *

Yes, for men have a double code. They test a girl's response to liquor, for if she drinks, they figure it is OK to seduce her. They figure she is asking for it.

But men distinguish between "good time Gerties" vs. sweethearts whom they will marry, so be sure to send for my "Tests for Sweethearts," enclosing stamped return envelope, plus a dime.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and a dime to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his psychological charts.

Forward Rolls on Arising Make Woman Feel Alive

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

New Hampshire reader says her experience with rolls before breakfast shows the benefits to be almost immediate. She has been doing them for only eight or nine months, and she asserts that "somersaults at any time on an empty stomach produce instantaneous relaxation of the nervous system and a speed-up of the sensory faculties. You can think faster, see clearer, hear better and you are altogether more aware . . ."

* * *

That's all right, Ma'am. I called 'em somersaults for many years and I still call the pamphlet of instructions—available on written, signed request if you provide stamped, self-addressed envelope—The Somersaultaqua, but I'm not fighting about it any more, since young Bill informed me, firmly but gently, that his physical instructor in college says they are not somersaults, but forward rolls. I'd continue to call 'em somersaults regardless, I suppose, were it not for serious lowering of morale due to the realization that I'm getting afraid to roll 'em myself.

A few weeks ago I had a painful kink in my back which made me afraid to roll. This cleared up and I resumed my regular 6 rolls before breakfast every morning. But three months later I acquired a similar kink in my neck, and so in the past two weeks I do only one or two some mornings, or maybe none at all some mornings. I suppose I could do six as easily as one, but I'm afraid to try it.

I confidently expect this kink to clear up presently and I'll be rolling half a dozen every morning. Later I'll report how I'm doing, if anybody cares to know.

'YOU BET IT WORKS'

"Every day around here is a Brady day and has been for nine months. I'm a new girl! You bet it works!" concludes the New Hampshire reader.

But it is only fair to say that a contributory factor of vite, mentioned incidentally by the New Hampshire reader, is better nutrition.

* * *

For practical advice on the way to improve your nutritional condition study Little Lesson No. 16, The 7 Keys to Vite—for which send 25c and stamped, self-addressed envelope; or if you are not prepared to invest so much in health send just the stamped, self-addressed envelope and ask for the pamphlet Young Folks and Old Folks which tells you why you are which and what to do about it. The New Hampshire reader has been doing it for eight months. She seems to like it.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to the Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Mich.

Man Declines Oil Wells; Prefers 'Cold' Cash

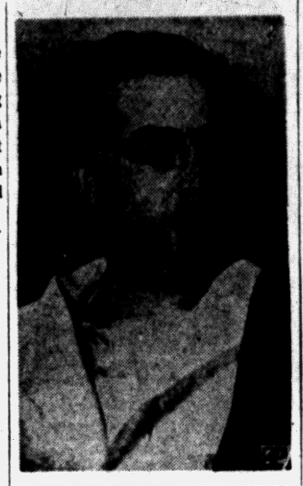

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Vernon B. Fitzhugh, a telephone company employe, has taken the cash and let the oil wells go.

The cash was 25,000 silver dollars, encased in a freezer manufactured by Amana Refrigeration Co. The firm gave Fitzhugh the delightful problem of choosing between $25,000 cash and Oklahoma oil-producing property that might bring in $100,000.

The contest was a simple drawing. Fitzhugh sent in his name. It was placed with about 80,000 others, and one was drawn out. It was Fitzhugh's.

MICHIGAN'S FIRST GOVERNOR — This is an oil painting of Stevens Thomson Mason, first governor of Michigan. Existence of the portrait was discovered when Admiral Jerauld Wright, Commander-in-Chief of the Atlantic fleet and Commander of NATO forces in the Atlantic, wrote Gov. Mennen Williams informing him that he is a great grandson of Mason who served as governor from 1835 to 1840. The painting hangs in Wright's home in Norfolk, Va. Mason's body was uncovered from its Detroit resting place in Capitol Park where a civic improvement project is under way. A proposal has been made to rebury Mason's remains in Lansing on the capitol grounds.

'Gyroscope' at End of Initial Phase

ASHIYA, Japan (AP)—The 508th Airborne Regimental Combat Team completed its history-making aerial transfer of 3,817 paratroopers to Japan today.

The 43rd and last C124 transport in the 18th Air Force aerial chain from Ft. Campbell landed at 6:01 a.m., two hours ahead of schedule.

Capt. Francis Burnett, Melrose, Mass., was the pilot.

* * *

Col. Ennis L. Johnson, of Jamestown, S.D., moved his command post for the 63rd Troop Carrier Wing operation from Ashiya to Itazuke, from which 3,100 troops of the 187th are being flown to Ft. Bragg, N.C.

That phase of Operation Gyroscope began yesterday and some 13 C124s have departed for the States.

Whooping Cranes on Upswing Again

OTTAWA (UP) — The world's whooping crane population again is on the upswing with the known number of the birds now at 25. Four young birds were hatched this spring in a wildlife sanctuary in Canada.

The big cranes once numbered in the thousands but hunters and the advance of civilization brought their number to a low of 15 in 1941. There were 24 in 1953, then the total slumped to 21 last year when three cranes disappeared.

The whoopers winter at a sanctuary on the Texas Gulf Coast. They now are protected by strict regulations in both Canada and the United States.

So they hung a ticket on the truck charging the driver with disturbing the peace.

U.S. Gives Approval to More Salk Shots

WASHINGTON (UP)—The government has released enough Salk vaccine for another 720,000 anti-polio shots.

The Public Health Service action yesterday brought the clearance of vaccine supplies in less than a week to over one million cubic centimeters. Last Friday, the government freed 300,000 units. One c.c. of vaccine is used in a single antipolio shot.

But even with the release of the 720,000 c.c.'s of vaccine made by Eli Lilly & Co., Indianapolis, the total falls far short of the six million shots the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis said on June 24 it would need to complete the free two-shot inoculation of first and second-grade children.

Two Killed in Crash of Planes in Midair

KANSAS CITY (UP)—A Trans-World Airlines training plane and a light single-engine plane collided yesterday, killing two men aboard the smaller craft. The airlines' plane, which also had two men aboard, landed safely.

Killed were Thomas D. Jones, 28, a flying service instructor, and Samuel Hoyte Rempel Jr., 26, a TWA student co-pilot.

Occupants of the other craft, a DC3, were H. D. Orr, Mission, Kan., the pilot, and R. L. Horton, Kansas City, the first officer. Neither was injured. They said they did not see the other plane until after the collision.

Reds Fire on Quemoy

TAIPEI, Formosa (UP)—Red Chinese guns near Amoy fired 21 shells in a 10-minute barrage at the Chinese Nationalists' Quemoy Island today.

In South America there are more than four billion coffee trees, which stem from a single plant smuggled across the Atlantic in 1723 by a French naval officer.

Baby Steps on Gas, Kills Woman Driver

SAVANNAH, Ga. (UP)—A 2-year-old girl, left alone yesterday in a car which was parked with its engine running, stepped on the accelerator and killed a woman who was preparing to take her for a ride.

Police said Mrs. O. H. Beal, 52, a close friend of the child's parents, was knocked down and dragged 30 feet. She died in a hospital two hours later.

Mrs. Beal had placed Pauline Marie Gailey in her car and had gone into the child's home to get her a pair of socks. She was returning to the car and was in front of it when the accident occurred.

The car was equipped with an automatic transmission, and police said it apparently had been left in gear.

The child's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Homer S. Gailey, witnessed the accident. The child was not hurt.

Sentenced in Breakin

Clifford Church, 17, of Pontiac, yesterday was placed on three-year probation and assessed $100 court costs by Oakland County Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland.

Church admitted July 5 breaking into a building at 4150 Pontiac Trail, Bloomfield Township, June 19 and taking four guns plus a record player.

New Series on UM Radio Honors Civil War Outfits

ANN ARBOR (UP) — Michigan's blue uniformed troopers, untried in battle, were all that stood between the Confederate Army and victory in a few hours in 1862.

The sunken road they defended became known throughout the Union Army as the "Hornet's Nest."

Last week, the University of Michigan's radio station, WUOM-FM, With the aid of Michigan expert Edward Barthell of Ludington, presented one of seven broadcasts of Michigan's Civil War regiments.

The 12th Infantry Regiment mustered at Niles from all over southern Michigan were the heroes of the hornets nest on the Shiloh battlefield of Tennessee.

FORM AT NILES

They were formed at Niles in March of 1862. Most of them were untried farmer boys from Cassopolis, Benton Harbor, St. Joseph, Buchanan, Ibion, Jackson, Lansing Lawton, Berrien and Niles.

Just two weeks later, in April of that year, a surprise Confederate assault threatened to destroy the entire Union Army at Shiloh.

General Ulysses S. Grant rallied the shattered remnants of other regiments and threw the green Michigan 12th into the breach across the road.

CRUSH ATTACKS

In those few hours, the Michigan recruits, who only two weeks before were plowing their farmlnad, crushed eleven separate rebel attacks.

It gave General Grant the needed time to assemble his shaken army for a counterattack. After that the Michigan 12th saw little action, most of it against Confederate guerrillas in Arkansas.

If the Civil War broadcasts are successful, university radio officials expect to expand the series for statewide distribution next fall.

Police Probing Rash of Window Smashing

Caretakers yesterday reported that 26 window panes have been smashed at Eastern Junior High School, Wilson School and Whittier School. Damage was estimated at $58.

Auto Theft Brings Term

Gerald W. Holst, 22, of 1125 E. Avon Rd., Rochester, yesterday was sentenced to 1½ to 5 years in Jackson state prison by Oakland County Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland.

Holst admitted July 5 taking a used car from the Community Motor Sales in Rochester for a trial run and failing to bring it back.

Red Probers Call Vermont TV Head

WASHINGTON (UP)—A Vermont television man who has acknowledged brief membership in the Communist party was among witnesses called today by the Senate Internal Security subcommittee.

* * *

He is Charles Lewis, public affairs director of WCAX-TV, in Burlington, Vt., who has said he joined the Communist party in 1937 and "quit two or three months later because I had my nose full."

After his name was mentioned in previous testimony, Lewis volunteered to appear before the subcommittee and said "I'll tell everything I know."

* * *

Chairman Eastland (D-Miss) said the hearing was called to follow up testimony received by the subcommittee June 28-29 from Winston M. Burdett and others in a continuing study of alleged Communist activities. He says the subcommittee is not investigating the press.

Youth Breaks Into Apartment Once Too Often

Police said he admitted entering an unlocked apartment on Pleasant Street on July 6 and taking a watch valued at $50. He said he sold it for 50 cents to get eating money.

He returned the next day, he was quoted as saying, and stole a pair of dungarees, leaving his old pants behind.

He re-entered the same spartment yesterday and said he stole a $75 camera. He said he sold it for $5 but received only $1.50 as a down payment. Cincotta was quoted as saying he needed the money to pay for a meal.

He was arrested in a restaurant.

'54 Business Slump Shown to Be Minor

WASHINGTON (INS)—The government states the business recession of 1954 was only half as bad as previously reported.

The Commerce Department reported that more complete information shows that the nation's total production of goods fell off only 1 per cent—and not 2 per cent—between 1953 and 1954.

The department added that the improved statistics also indicate that 1955 will be a better year economically than had been predicted, with the gross national product reaching a record annual rate of nearly 380 billion dollars.

The statue of Freedom atop the national Capitol is said to weigh 15,000 pounds.

War Games Will Prove Value of Armored Divisions

WASHINGTON (INS)—Earth-bound armored tank divisions able to deliver the Army's "Sunday Punch" have been assigned a permanent place in Pentagon planning despite enthusiasm of some strategists for airborne tactics.

Brig. Gen. Louis V. Hightower, chief of the Army's organization and training branch, said that Nevada atomic tests have proven the value of armored tanks against an enemy even though the experts are convinced it will never be possible to airlift them in mass quantity.

Hightower commented: "If you build life, protection and firepower into your vehicles, they are bound to be heavy."

However, he said information obtained at the Nevada atomic tests last spring which will be studied during giant maneuvers in Louisiana justify the fact that the country's armored strength is on the increase while airborne infantry units will remain about the same.

Only last week, the Army announced that the 48th Infantry Division of the Georgia and Florida National Guard would be converted to an armored unit. Prior to that, within the last year, three 18,000-man guard divisions were similarly converted in Tennessee, California and New York.

The organization chief used the T-43, which mounts a 120-millimeter cannon and is America's answer to Russia's 60-ton tanks mounting 122-millimeter guns, to illustrate what Army combat experts regard as the ultimate limitation of airborne armor.

The T-43 is still in the experimental stage. Trouble with its heavy heavy turret mechanism has delayed production more than two years. But it is assumed to be necessary for land battle with the Soviets on anything like equal terms.

The cannons of these tanks are large enough to fire an atomic shell, and they theoretically could be airlifted a short distance by properly constructed planes as large as the Air Force's 10-engined B-36 bomber.

A 60-ton tank would weigh less than the B-36's maximum fuel load of 80 tons. However, if a B-36 took a 60-ton tank aloft, the huge plane would have very little fuel left when it reached cruising altitude.

Moreover, Hightower said, if the U. S. by a herculean effort should arrange to airlift 500 heavy tanks, an enemy with a much lesser effort could arrange to bring up 1,000 heavies by land. Thus the advantage would be temporary and considered "special purpose."

Renewed faith in the tank, the general said, doesn't eliminate the need for extensive reorganization to meet air and atomic requirements.

NO PLANS YET

No plans have been made to train airborne troops in the guard, and the number of airborne divisions in the regular Army is to remain at two. The number of armored divisions in the regular Army has been increased from two to four.

The developments contrast with the view of strategists including Gen. J. Lawton Collins, former chief of staff, who insisted that eventually the entire Army must be made airborne.

Hightower explained that under the present theory, airborne units must be regarded as "special purpose" troops which, if a worthy enemy is within striking distance, must be quickly supported from the ground.

Maneuvers on the Nevada desert within two miles of atomic explosions proved, he said, that protective armor can bring heavy units close enough to deliver their Sunday wallop even against an an atom-armored enemy.

Hightower denied reports that tank production has been cut back. He conceded that production may have "slowed" since Korea, but said assembly lines are being kept in operation and pointed out that Army plans call for more rather than fewer armored vehicles.

DIVISION STRENGTH

Each of a total of six armored guard divisions, for example, will maintain a spearhead of about 250 light and medium tanks, with 60-ton T-43 heavies to be added when these are available in quantity.

The armored divisions are to have their air arms, including helicopters and airborne scouting units, and there is hope that they can be supplied entirely by air.

As with infantry troops, the armored outfits are to be extensively reconstructed to provide for wide dispersion and survival against an enemy's atomic weapons.

Plans for the reorganization will get their first full-scale test in the largest peacetime maneuvers in American history this fall. The exercises, beginning in November at Camp Polk, La., will involve 110,000 Army and 30,000 Air Force troops.

• • •

How the tanks can come forward and still prove decisive will be demonstrated Hightower said, during the big war games to be conducted over a total of seven million acres of Louisiana land.

Scientists Muff Peace Issues

Big Four to Ponder More Practical Side of World Question

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

The latest move by Bertrand Russell and a group of scientists to focus world attention on the need for abolishing war is remindful of the preacher who, asked about his qualifications for a new pastorate, said he was against sin.

The meeting of Big Four leaders in Geneva next week is the direct result of a world demand for avoidance of war. The demand was produced by realization that a human race which knows how to destroy itself should also be smart enough to save itself. The British philospoher and his nine scientists merely add to that.

In the exchange between Russell and France's Professor Joliot-Curie, however, a point is brought out which emphasizes the difficulties of definition and of fundamentals which the Western negotiators will face.

Joliot-Curie, a Communist, would ban force as a means of settling issues between nations, but not as a weapon in the class warfare which Russian communism seeks to promote within nations.

You don't have to be a seer to understand the methods and plans of communism. All you have to do is remember the procedure followed in China.

This has a very direct bearing on the big question which the Allies will have to keep in mind at every turn of the Soviet wheel in Geneva.

Not why Russia has suddenly decided that a relaxation of tensions is to her interest, but what does Russia intend to do with the time for which she is maneuvering?

If the scientists and philosophers could answer that one, they wouldn't need to tell us any more about the undoubted necessity of avoiding war.

Honest Parkers Pay Before Meters Open

JACKSONVILLE BEACH, Fla. (UP) — This town's first parking meters were installed last year before the ordinance authorizing them became effective.

By the time the law took effect, conscientious parkers had poured over $300 into the machines. Since the money was collected without authorization of law, the city donated it to the March of Dimes.

Now the situation has been repeated with 200 more meters. On the date they were supposed to go into operation, officials found they already had collected $164.35.

HANDY LANDING STRIP — When his F86-D Sabrejet ran out of fuel while he was flying over the Pennsylvania Turnpike, Maj. Leo Carbonneau of Niagara Falls, N. Y. skimmed over Sideling Hill Mountain, through which the Turnpike tunnels, and put the jet down on the highway at better than 100 miles per hour. A motorist sensing the plane was in trouble, stopped his auto and flagged down traffic in the lane to permit the landing. The Air Force will dismantle the plane rather than make an attempt to fly the ship out.

Fast-Growing Asbestos Mining Industry Sparks Huge Canadian Housing Boom

THETFORD MINES, Que. (UP)— Business is booming in the land of the man-made mountains.

Sparked by the most powerful housing spree the United States or Canada has ever known, tens of millions of dollars are being laid on the line each year to boost production of a mineral that not so long ago was considered little more than a freak of nature.

This is asbestos country.

Andy Johnson, a shrewd general storekeeper in a nearby Scottish-Canadian settlement, came down from the hill town of Inverness to found the first successful asbestos mine in Canada near Thetford Mines in 1876.

Today more than 900,000 tons of finished fibre are shipped to manufacturers all over the world. More than 6,000 workers are employed in the 12 producing mines and last year the total wage bill topped the 24 million dollar mark. Canada is the world's No. 1 producer.

Japan Erects Long Arch Span

Inoura Narrows Bridge Has Cantilever System Longest in Far East

TOKYO (UP)—The longest arch bridge in the Orient and the third longest in the world, the Inoura Narrows the bridge spanning the mouth of Omura Bay at Nagasaki, will open for traffic in August.

The Omura Narrows, separating the towns of Inoura and Seto, are 40 meters deep, with a current flowing at a about nine knots. Because of this it is not possible to even build a scaffold in the narrows to assemble an arch.

Japanese engineers stretched a half arch from the coast on both sides. The two halves met in the middle of the narrows—an operation requiring the highest degree of precision in all aspects of the construction work.

The bridge is 7.5 meters wide and 316.26 in length. Its central span of braced ribs 216 meters long. The arch weighs 1,759.52 tons.

The span length of this arch ranks third in the world for a fixed steel arch. The longest is the 289.6-meter rainbow bridge spanning the Niagara Falls. The second is the Henry Hudson Bridge, of 243.8 meters, in New York City.

The rarely used cantilever tie-back system was adopted for the construction of the arch. The system was required because conditions rendered the usual scaffolding for the construction work impossible.

Sisters Lives 5 Days With Dead Parents

SOMBRA, Ont. (UP)— Two little sisters, unaware that they had been orphaned, lived alone in their house in this St. Clair river community for five days while their mother and father lay dead in the bathroom, apparently electrocuted.

Neighbors said the children, Linda Chesney, 5, and Janice, 2, answered callers during that time by saying "Mummy and daddy are taking a bath."

Provincial police said Mrs. Ruby Chesney, 32, was found dead in the bathtub. Her husband, Lloyd, 34, was slumped dead beside the tub.

Officers theorized that Mrs. Chesney was electrocuted by faulty wiring on the hot water heater in the bathroom and that her husband was killed by the current when he came to her aid.

EAT COOKIES, BREAD

Linda was naked when neighbors finally broke in. Janice was wearing only underclothes.

Camp Agawam Heading for Largest Year in History

Boys who travel the sidewalk routes 11-odd months of the year will take to the woods and waterways at Clinton Valley Council's Camp Agawam this summer.

The camp swings into its third week of operation today, with the largest number of Boy Scouts in its 37-year history expected to attend this summer.

More than 1,000 scouts, about 150 a week, will participate in swimming, craft work, hiking, archery, campfire ceremonies and other activities.

Scout activities are supervised by more than 25 staff members. Robert Bennett, Macomb district executive, is camp director, and is assisted by David McLaughlin waterfront director. Program director is Gerald Black, principal of Utica High School.

The camp is used the year around. Throughout the fall, winter and spring, scout units participate in hikes, weekend camp-outs, besides using camp quarters for special evening meetings.

Scout and adult training programs are also conducted at the camp.

Camp ranger this year is O. D. Bostwick, while Mrs. Birdie Buchanan and Mrs. Gladys Bates will serve as cooks. Agawam's summer scout program will close Aug. 13.

Since the camp was founded in 1918, it has grown to its present size and condition through the efforts of countless men and boys, Bennett said.

Soon the camp site will be enlarged with an additional 20 acres, due to increasing attendance.

Most scouts register to stay one week at Agawam, but many of the "veterans" sign for two and even three weeks.

An anchored float, eight canoes and six rowboats provided for the scouts are put to good use by the boys, under the supervision of the Waterfront Director McLaughlin.

Benson Criticizes Federal Control in Agriculture

DIAMOND, Mo. (UP)—Secretary of Agriculture Benson said today millions of small farmers are finding their freedom to think and act for themselves is dwindling away under federal crop control regulations.

* * *

These controls, he said, are being forced upon agriculture because of "accumulation of unmanageable surpluses brought about by a program of high, rigid supports."

Benson made these remarks in a speech prepared for memorial services held for George Washington Carver, Negro scientist-educator who was born near here of slave parents.

The memorial services, also called American Agriculture Day, are an annual event here.

"I think Dr. Carver might be proud of some of the progress in farming that has been made since he lived," the secretary said.

* * *

The secretary said that, in the spirit of Dr. Carver, his department is trying to set up farm programs to make sure that "people of today and tomorrow will not become dependents of government subsidy and control."

It is for this purpose, he said, that the administration has won acceptance of a program of flexible price supports.

'Monkey Trial' Central Figure Lives Quiet, Retired Life in Louisiana

SHREVEPORT, La. (INS)—John Thomas Scopes, central figure in the famed "Monkey Trial" of 1925, said today he is trying to forget his part in that drama but he would do the same thing again under similar circumstances.

* * *

Scopes, now balding, lives an obscure life in Shreveport, La. At least he tries to live an obscure life. He is bothered constantly with invitations to appear on television shows and radio programs, but has adamantly refused.

The trial began 30 years ago this week. At that time Scopes was a 24-year-old science teacher in a Tennessee high school when the Tennessee legislature passed a law outlawing the teaching of evolution in its public schools.

Scopes and an opponent of the legislation, Dr. George Rappelyea of Dayton, decided to make a test case. The trial turned into one of history's most gigantic battles between science and religion.

DARROW VS. BRYAN

The American Civil Liberties Union of New York backed Scopes in his efforts to test the legislation and one of the country's most brilliant lawyers, Clarence Darrow of Chicago, a Liberal leader, was hired as his attorney.

* * *

The silver-tongued speaker, William Jennings Bryan, a Fundamentalist, appointed himself to aid the prosecution. Bryan, who had been defeated three times as Democratic presidential candidate, had proven his ability as a speaker.

Bryan arrived in the city on July 10, 1925, and began preaching Fundamentalist sermons in the churches. The town's population was almost unanimous in its support of him and in its belief that no punishment was too dire for Scopes.

The climax of the trial came on the next to the last day when Darrow called Bryan to the witness stand. The examination of the witness developed into a two-hour argument over religion between the two men.

HEATED DEBATE

Bryan stood fast in his belief that the earth was created in seven days as the Bible says and that everything in it is true. Darrow, a trial lawyer of great ability, tore into him with all the scientific knowledge and skill he possessed. The debate ended when the trial judge called an adjournment—just before the two men came to blows.

The next day, the jury, composed of six Baptists, four Methodists and one member of the Disciples of Christ, found Scopes guilty. He was fined $100, the minimum penalty under the law.

The decision was later reversed by the State Supreme Court on the grounds that the jury should have set the penalty instead of the judge, because the fine was more than $50 in accordance with Tennessee law.

* * *

After the trial, Scopes left Tennessee and traveled over the nation and South America. He married in 1930 and now has two sons. The eldest, John Thomas, Jr., 23, is a social science major at Loyola of the South, a Catholic institution, in New Orleans. The younger, William, 19, is a geology major at Louisiana State University at Baton Rouge.

Scopes said his views of evolution have not changed and that if he was in the teaching profession, he would do the same thing over again.

But, he added, "I'm trying now to forget the whole thing."

British Murderess Hanged for Slaying of Paramour

LONDON (AP)—Ruth Ellis, beautiful blonde mother of two children, was hanged today for the Easter Sunday murder of the lover who jilted her.

* * *

The 28-year-old divorcee, a former model and night club hostess, was the 14th woman to be hanged in Britain this century and the third since World War II. Her sentencing revived a nationwide controversy over capital punishment which continued unabated today.

* * *

A crowd of 1,000 persons—some weeping, others laughing—stood in the grimy north London street outside the ivy-covered, red-brick Holloway Prison as hangman Albert Pierrepoint pulled the death trap.

Its slam resounded through the building, touching off hysterical cries from the other inmates.

CALM BREAKS

Reports from inside the prison said the icy calm Mrs. Ellis had maintained during her trial in June and ever since finally broke last night. Prison sources said she sobbed herself to sleep, screaming, "I don't want to die."

The matrons let her sleep until the last minute, foregoing the usual 6:30 waking hour.

* * *

Earlier in the night she had said goodby to her mother and father, who reported she was resigned to her fate. The woman had refused to appeal for mercy. Home Secretary Gwilym Lloyd-George, the only man who can recommend royal clemency, earlier this week turned down petitions signed by more than 25,000 persons.

Mrs. Ellis at her trial admitted tracking her lover, 25-year-old David Blakely, to a London bar and pumping four bullets into him. Claiming her jealousy had disturbed her emotions, she tried to get the murder charge reduced to manslaughter. The court threw out that defense and a jury of 10 men and two women found her guilty June 21, after only 24 minutes of deliberation.

PARTING GIFT

Just before the execution Mrs. Ellis' brother Julian Arthur Neilson strode up to the gates, beat on them and handed a bunch of white carnations to a guard.

Returning to the crowd, his face ashen and his lips trembling, he said, "I just told him to tell Ruth I would never forget her and God bless her."

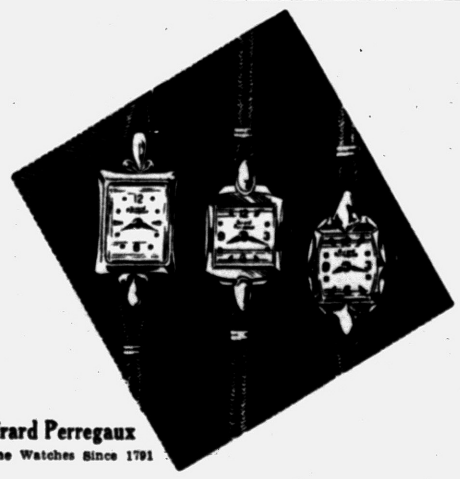

The crowd waited until a guard stepped through the gates and tacked the black-framed death notice and the death certificate on the wall.

2 Year Increase Noted in Grain Storage Space

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's commercial storage space for grain has jumped more than 30 per cent during the past two years, the state Agriculture Department reported today.

A recent survey of the commercial storage facilities showed there now is space for 33 million bushels of grain. A survey two years ago showed space for 27 million bushels.

New grain elevator construction, particularly in the southern part of the state, accounted for most of the increase.

State to Standardize All Election Forms

LANSING (AP)—Standard election forms will be used for the first time in the 1956 elections, State Elections Director Robert M. Montgomery predicted today.

Montgomery said he would meet next Monday with Louis Urban, Detroit elections director, and officials of four publishing houses which print election forms to seek an agreement on election papers.

He said the secretary of state long has had authority to establish proper and uniform forms, but has never exercised that authority.

The forms to be standardized for both state and local elections, Montgomery said, include such items as registration books, poll books, registration forms, tally books and ballot application forms.

Death Has 3 Lives

by Brett Halliday

Distributed by NEA Service, Inc.

THE STORY: Micael Shayne, private detective up to his ears in a series of murders, learns that his pretty secretary, Lucy Hamilton, has been kidnaped by the murderer. Chief Will Gentry of the Miami police stops Mike from going after the killer, and demands a full explanation.

XXVI

"IT all began," said Michael Shayne evenly, "when that blundering Cossack of yours tried to force his way into Lucy's apartment while I was visiting her, without any real explanation of what he wanted, and with a couple of insults tossed in for good measure when he thought she was alone.

"Wait a minute, Will." Shayne held up a big hand to shut off the chief's protest. The two men, together with Timothy Rourke and a police stenographer, were seated in Gentry's private office at headquarters. "I'm going to tell the whole thing straight and fast without too many excuses for Lucy and me. Tim got pulled into it inadvertently and played ball with us for pure friendship."

He hurried on to relate concisely how Lucy had admitted to him there was a wounded young man in her bedroom.

"So . . . there it was." He spread out his palms. "Through no fault of anybody's really. Jack was an old friend of Lucy's and had sworn to her he'd committed no crime. She didn't know about 18th Street or the strangled girl. I did get on a phone fast, Will, and make an anonymous call to headquarters giving Bristow's name an description. Then I beat it to the rooming house on 18th to see what I could find out."

He related how the woman had stopped him with questions as he was getting into his car.

"She was scared of cops, and wouldn't have talked to any of you," he argued. "I did manage to get some dope out of her, and got a hunch she was mixed up with Bristow and the killing somehow. So, I put her on ice at the motel. That license number you've got belongs to my Hudson, Will."

GENTRY LISTENS

Will Gentry was seated stolidly across from Shayne at his desk, mangling the butt of his cigar between strong teeth. "I recognized the license number so on as I saw it, Mike. Go on from there."

You and Rourke turned up at Lucy's right after I got back." Shayne shrugged. "Can you say, now, that it would have helped any if I'd come clean at that point?"

"The woman from the motel would probably still be alive."

"There was no evidence to tie her to what had happened. Just my hunch. I doubt whether you'd even bothered to question her at that time. If you had, I doubt seriously you'd have put a guard over her," protested Shayne, the trenches showing deep in his cheeks. "Later, I made a bad mistake leading the killer to her, but I don't believe keeping still at that time made any real difference."

"I don't suppose it matters to her now," said Gentry. He took the soggy cigar butt from his mouth, looked at it as if wondering how it got there.

"NEXT," said Shayne carefully, "was after you had gone, Will." He drew in a deep breath and leaned forward. "I found Jack Bristow's body shoved underneath Lucy's bed with his throat slit. It hadn't been he escaping down the fire escape after all, but his murdere whom I almost caught."

"Tim!" thundred Chief Gentry. "You were in on that, too? Both of you covered up? How did Bristow get out on the street where we found him later?"

"Tim knew nothing about it," said Shayne swiftly.

"Wait a minute, Mike," interrupted the lanky reporter. "Don't lie for me. If Will Gentry doesn't like what I did tonight he can prefer any sort of charges he wants." He turned fiercely glowering eyes on the chief.

COULDN'T TELL

"Mike and Lucy were in a spot with that body in her bedroom. But would a cop look at it that way? You know he wouldn't I knew they were telling the truth. They were caught in a lousy web of circumstances. But cops have to go by rules. That's the way they exist." His fist thudded the table again. "Once we reported the truth to you, there were certain things you would have to do. You couldn't help yourself. You'd have arrested Mike and Lucy then and there and the official investigation would have blundered on and probably got nowhere. It was my own decision to help Mike move the body."

"AND because you made that decision, we've got a dead woman in the morgue," said Gentry.

"Not exactly." Timothy Rourke's eyes were fever-bright. "You've got a dead woman in the morgue, but we can identify her for you simply because Mike stayed out of your jail long enough to do the job."

"You can identify the woman?"

"Sure," said Rourke casually. "She's Beatrice Allerdice from New Orleans. Wife, or widow, of one Hugh Allerdice, convicted bank robber who supposedly died in a car accident three days ago.

"I'll tell it the way it happened," said Shayne stubbornly. "Jack Bristow was dead, Will. Nothing could change that. His murder had escaped and no one knew who he was or what he looked like. He'd been shot outside the rooming house where the woman claimed she was to meet her husband. They're both young, and it seemed to me at least reasonable to suppose he might be the missing husband. So I bundled him up in one of Lucy's blankets and took him out to the motel to see if she could identify him."

Will Gentry had gotten out a fresh cigar and was angrily biting one end off it. "Like a one-man police force," he said bitterly. "All right, what laws did you break next?"

Russell Offers New Revision of Reserve Plan

By EDWIN B. HAAKINSON

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Russell (D-Ga) proposed today a new revision of the military reserve plan strongly urged by President Eisenhower and t he Pentagon.

As he outlined it in an interview, it would inclde a volunteer system for teen-age reservists but would omit authority for compulsory reserve drills for past and present service veterans. The Pentagon has asked for both features.

* * *

"I believe this is closer to what the administration wanted than I first thought," said Russell, chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee.

* * *

He called the committee into closed session today to vote on details of the legislation aimed at building up a combat-ready reserve of 2,900,000 by 1960.

Russell has maintained that it is unfair to require former servicemen to serve with active reserve units while many other young men never don uniforms.

Bonanzagram No. 19

Story Clues

Over a weekend when most of the populace of New Milton was attending a stock fair on the outskirts of town, the First National Bank was robbed. The vault had been opened without damage, and $90,000 in cash and negotiable securities were gone. The theft was not discovered until Monday morning, when Mr. A, the president, arrived at the bank. His tried and true cashier, who usually opened up was not there and was reported missing from his boarding house. The sheriff sent out pictures and a description of the missing man, but three days passed without results. Late on the fourth night, a motorist drove up to Mr. A's home. He had picked up a man stumbling dazedly along the highway, and taken him to the nearest hospital. Before lapsing into unconsciousness, the man had scrawled a note, using his left hand because his right arm was injured, and asked that it be delivered to Mr. A without delay. The banker was able to fill in the painfully written message and took immediate action. Can you, too, figure out what the injured man wrote?

Soviet Economy Racing Forward

Expert on U.S.S.R. Ways Exposes Growth Pattern at U. of M. Seminar

ANN ARBOR (AP)—A State Department official says the Russian economy is growing faster than the economy of the U.S. and Russian production is rising six per cent a year.

Herbert Block, a special assistant in U.S.S.R. research at the State Department has told a Russian studies seminar at the University of Michigan that these reasons are foremost in Russian growth.

He said the Russian government invests its wealth heavily, mostly in heavy industry where it shows and not in agriculture or consumer goods.

All additions to the labor force are channeled into industry, Block said. Furthermore, more of the Russian population is in the labor force than would be in a Western county.

48-HR. WORK WEEK

On top of this, Block said, the official work week is 48 hours; education and technical training have made great progress.

For instance, he said, half the time in grades five through ten is devoted to science. Russian educational efficiency is high and they are still absorbing advanced Western technological knowledge, he added.

However, Block said, there are retarding factors. Among them is the dead weight of the bureaucracy that manages the Soviet plan; the poor state of Soviet agriculture and finally, crowded housing conditions.

In Russia, Block said, people live in an average of 45 square feet of area—less than the average inmate of a U.S. prison.

Sometimes She Lugs Up to 150 Pounds Over 15-Mile Route

BERRIEN SPRINGS (AP) — Mrs. Zora Bowman of Berrien Springs really carries the mail — sometimes up to 150 pounds of it over a 15-mile route.

* * *

Mrs. Bowman, believed to be the only feminine mail carrier in southwestern Michigan, walked the village route daily for five years during the civilian manpower shortage in World War II.

Now she is called in for the holiday rush periods or as a substitute for regular carriers who may be ill or on vacation.

Mrs. Bowman, a grandmother, says the job was to last only for the duration of the war, plus three months. She has been helping out whenever needed since the "temporary" job was established in May 1943.

FEELS HER BEST

"I feel my best when I'm delivering mail," she says. Mrs. Bowman is proud of her attendance record on the job over the past five years. It shows she has been off duty only six days because of illness.

* * *

Mrs. Bowman and her husband, Wayland, own a cottage near Baldwin where they pursue the outdoor life, hunting and fishing.

Refreshing to Know

The most popular girl in the bunch

Said, "Here's a good energy hunch!

It's refreshing to know

Four generations have made Coca-Cola by far the most asked-for soft drink in the world.

When you feel the need for a bit of quick energy, it's wonderful how Coca-Cola brings you back so refreshed . . . so quickly . . . and with as few calories as half an average, juicy grapefruit.

Trigere Introduces Intermission-Length Hemlines

White beaver on black and white flecked tweed are used in this coat designed by Harry Frechtel for fall and winter. Deep-down pockets are flapped at the hipbones. The belt is black calf.

All-over pearl and rhinestone embroidery highlights this Harvey Berin evening dress of "white wine" silk satin, designed by Karen Stark. The bodice is cuffed and glitteringly-strapped.

Cocktail separates from Tina Leser's fall and winter collection are always exciting. Pants in Hanora's five-ounce blue and pink washable worsted are striped at the hips with tasseled black velvet. The black cashmere cardigan is circled with velvet and tassel fringe around the scoop neckline.

Originala's reversible natural vicuna and mink hooded coat has sleeves which are tapered into mink cuffs. The coat was featured in the fashions previewed this week.

Several Sheath Dresses End Just Above the Ankle

Designer Also Spotlights Coats With Set-in Sleeves, Some Slightly Puffed

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Women's Editor

NEW YORK (AP)—Hemlines make news in Pauline Trigere's brilliant collection of fall fashions, as she introduces intermission length for dinner and theater wear.

* * *

Shown principally in straight-as-a-dagger sheath dresses with matching jackets, the intermission costumes end just above the ankle, often with a border of fur at the hemline. One striking example is a blazing red sheath and jacket with a discreet mink collar.

Trigere features a group of coats with set-in sleeves, some of which are even slightly puffed above the shoulder, giving a strictly new look. One such is a casual loose tweed coat in black and white domino checks.

* * *

High colors alternate with sober blacks and browns in this group of sophisticated fashions. A favorite of the season is a blazing orange called Desert Flower.

Harvey Berin and his designer Karen Stark have fun this season using lush fabrics such as velvet and satin in austerely simple sheath dresses as demure as school uniforms.

* * *

Berin also uses a bell silhouette effectively in a group of dresses and costumes in featherweight French tweeds and worsteds, carefully shaped and beautifully fitted, the bell-shaped skirt flaring smoothly toward the hemline.

Pauline Trigere's "intermission length" cocktail or theatre dress of yarn-dyed sheer charcoal wool features the stem silhouette. An inset of platinum silk satin flaring low like the dress, matches the collar.

Like-a-dress coat in black and white nubby tweed is from Originala's fall and winter collection. The neckline is cut in a shallow V from a Peter Pan collar, and the fastenless front lapped in place with a rhinestone-jewelled belt of black unborn calfskin.

Nancy J. Lippert Wed in Birmingham

Honeymooning in northern Michigan and Canada are Mr. and Mrs. G. Robert Kerr. The bride is the former Nancy J. Lippert of Milford, formerly of Birmingham. She is the daughter of George Lippert of South Roslyn road and the late Mrs. Alice Milldebrandt Lippert.

* * *

The bridegroom, who resides in Fairfax, Va., is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George R. Kerr of Atlanta, Ga.

The couple was married Saturday at 3 p. m. in First Presbyterian Church of Birmingham. The Rev. Robert Graham performed the ceremony in the presence of 300 guests.

Mrs. J. A. Kronemeyer of Birmingham, cousin of the bride, played the organ recital.

WEARS LACE GOWN

A gown of white Chantilly lace and nylon net over blush satin was the choice of the bride. The fitted bodice was fashioned with Queen Anne collar, encrusted with pearls, and long fitted sleeves.

A hat of antique Alencon lace secured her fingertip veil and she carried an heirloom fan which belongs to a friend of the family. White French carnations and orchids formed the bridal bouquet.

Dorothy Churchill, cousin of the bride from Auburn Heights, was maid of honor. She wore a ballerina-length gown of powder blue lace over taffeta. Her heart-shaped hat of blue maline was trimmed with blue violets and her flowers were pink pompons in a crescent design.

Georgia Smith of Washington, D. C., and Mrs. Thomas Callahan of Clarkston were other attendants. They wore identical gowns of rose taffeta with fitted bodices of tiny tucks and they carried crescent-shaped bouquets of blue daisy pompons.

ATTEND BRIDEGROOM

Eugene Rennels of Fort Wayne, Ind., was best man. James C. Hawkins of Milford, cousin of the bride, was a junior usher. Others seating the guests were Robert Lippert, David Evans and Thomas Callahan of Clarkston.

* * *

A reception was held following the ceremony in the church parlors. The bride's aunt, Mrs. Robert Hawkins, wore a plum-colored silk suit with mauve accessories and a corsage of Aristocrat roses.

Mrs. Kerr wore a navy lace dress with white accessories. Her corsage was formed of white French carnations and Aristocrat roses.

Following the reception, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hawkins entertained the bridal party and immediate families at a buffet dinner at their Milford home.

Steady Deal Can Be Sealed Without Words

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

"Dear Miss Woodward: We've been going together for four months and I know he likes me and wants to go steady because several of his friends have told me he does, but he's too shy to get around to asking me!

"He talks in a roundabout way as if he'll be around for quite a while, but I'd like to make it legal. Can you help me?"

Answer: It looks as though you're going steady. It feels that way, sounds that way, and you both seem content to go only with each other. Must you have a contract signed on the dotted line to make it legal?

Some boys gallop headlong into tying a girl up with a steady deal so they'll know where they stand and what they can count on. Others are a bit slower about putting all their eggs in one basket. They want to be sure they have picked the right girl.

They want to be certain the girl is happy with the arrangement. So they say nothing. They just slide into steady-going without any fancy speeches. Nothing definite is said. But it definitely happens.

* * *

So can't you ride along patiently and quietly while you wait to see how things shape up. In the eyes of competition it's quite legal as is.

"Dear Miss Woodward: I'm only 12 and I think I'm too young to go on dates. But this one boy keeps pestering me to go to the show with him. I don't like him as a boy friend, in fact I don't want to go on any dates with him.

"His friend told me I should go with him as I might change my mind and decide I like him. I know I won't, but I said I'd go.

"Now what if he wants me to go with him again? How can I tell him no without hurting his feelings?"

Answer: If you just agreed in principle to go to the show with him, but made no date for any specific day, you can keep postponing it because of important other things until he forgets about it.

* * *

But if a specific show was mentioned, and you agreed to go to it, you're stuck. Take it very easy and go along. Be as polite and nice as you can be with a boy you don't like particularly.

He'll gather that you aren't out to fascinate him. He'll also gather that no matter how he tries, you aren't very much impressed.

Somewhere during the conversation you can slip in your opinion that you're not ready for dating yet. It doesn't really appeal to you. That will convince him that there is little point in asking you for a second date.

* * *

But should he be a bit dumb and, in the face of your indifference, gush forth with another bid, backtrack with busy signals. Don't let yourself get stuck another time.

But don't tell him it's because you don't like him. You're going to be busy, terribly busy. That's the easiest way to ride through the situation.

Omits Wife From Party for Husband

She Resents Being Excluded by Office Personnel

By EMILY POST

A wife writes: "My husband lately resigned his job, and his office associates gave a party for him one evening at a nightclub. There were both men and women in the group. I feel that I should have been included, and that not having been, he should not have gone either. Am I right?"

Answer: Since the party was for him, he certainly had to go to it, and if the women present were all members of the office staff, you certainly have no cause for criticism. Of course, if the non-working wives of other men were included, your feelings would be justifiable.

"Dear Mrs. Post: We are preparing to send out invitations to our daughter's forthcoming marriage. On the list is a family of six — mother, father, two daughters and two sons, all living together. Should each member of this adult family receive a separate invitation, or may all six be included on one?"

Answer: The father and mother (Mr. and Mrs. So-and-so) and the daughters below the parents (The Misses) on one envelope. Another envelope for the sons as "The Messrs."

"Dear Mrs. Post: We have friends — a married couple — of whom we are very fond. They live about a half hour's drive from here.

"When we invite them to our house, is my husband expected to drive over in our car and pick them up, and at the end of the evening regardless of the hour, is he expected to drive them home? They do not have a car of their own."

Answer: It would be fair for them to take a taxi out to your house. Then it would be really thoughtful and not too much to ask of your husband to see them home, especially if the hour is late.

Asparagus cans should be opened from the bottom to avoid breaking the delicate tips of the spears.

Real Hobbyist Does Thorough Job

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Some time ago, I heard about Mrs. Mayme E. Eilers of Washington, D. C., who has a fascinating hobby of making dolls.

I wrote her about it and got a most interesting reply, which only reinforces my conviction that the real hobbyist does a completely thorough job and is not a half-hearted dabbler.

* * *

Mrs. Eilers works for the government and plans to have a shop of her own when she retires.

Meantime, through the years she has been building up her skill and her enthusiasm in a manner that would put most idle dabblers to shame. She says:

"I believe that I have handled every type and make of doll that has ever been sold in the U. S. as well as a great many from other countries.

"I have mended, repaired and replaced parts of bodies, legs, arm and heads of most every kind.

ONCE SOLD DOLLS

"As a young woman, I sold dolls in one of the largest department stores in Waco, Tex. I began collecting dolls as a child, for I loved them dearly, and I have a large collection of my own now, some of which are very rare and valuable.

* * *

"When ceramics came into the picture, seven years ago, I began to study. As I progressed with the classroom work, I experimented with my own ideas in my basement hobby shop.

"Finally, I learned to make molds. I was so intrigued, I made molds of many of my very fine old doll heads, legs, arms. I have bought many parts and, by reconstructing the damaged parts, have been able to reproduce some very nice pieces.

"Having been a designer and dressmaker for 25 years of my life, it is no trouble to make the wardrobes of any style, no matter how intricate. I am able to change any of the hair styles and to reproduce the facial features of a particular character of man, woman or child.

PERFECTIONIST NOW

"I am a perfectionist with my work now, as I was when I was a designer. I cannot stand things just half done; there must be the fine detail that goes with all of this."

* * *

You can see, now, why Mrs. Eilers' shop, when she opens it, will be such a success. But her lazy friends will probably say, "Isn't she lucky!"

Use Colored Plugs to Avoid Mistakes

You can make life easier for yourself if each is a different color so you won't pull out the plug when you reach under the suds to pick up the scratcher.

Dirt Gardeners Hold Luncheon at Arthur Home

Nineteen members of the Dirt Gardeners Club met at the home of Mrs. Glenn Arthur on Oregon road Tuesday for a cooperative luncheon. Guests were Mildred Hall and Nancy Owens.

A nominating committee was appointed to select officers for the coming year. A committee also was appointed to make arrangements for the annual meeting to be held at Haven Hill Lodge on Sept. 13.

Mrs. Vivian Tubbs, chairman of the Inter-Garden Club Show to be held Aug. 27 and 28 at the Waterford CAI Building, appointed various members to make arrangements for the affair.

Assisting the hostess at the meeting were Mrs. George Tosley and Mrs. Jules Holda.

Sounds ghastly, but kids are supposed to love them: Banana-pops. Coat half a banana with melted chocolate, put it on an ice cream stick and chill.

Resents Hubby, Overprotects Son

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

One Saturday afternoon, eight years ago, Mr. Fisher said to his wife, "Can't you make David do as I tell him? He's just trampled my new grass seed again. I wish you'd speak to him. He's got to learn to mind . . ."

* * *

Now, if he'd said this to you, it would have aroused no special feeling. You'd just have refused to control Mr. Fisher's child for him and said, "If you want Dave to stop trampling your grass seed, stop him yourself, sir."

But you wouldn't have been married to Mr. Fisher. His flabbiness as a man and father would not have meant to you what it meant to his wife.

So she responded differently to his request. In her it touched off a contemptuous rage it could not have aroused in you. But as her marriage and home depended on her disguising it, that's what she did with it.

She did not say, "Oh, how I resent your unmanly dependence on me!" Instead, she attacked his weakness indirectly by attacking his criticism of their child.

SIDED WITH BOY

To make him feel guilty of unjust fault-finding, she chose to make David innocent of fault. So she cried, with intense irritation, "Oh, stop picking on the boy! You're always at me about something he's done! Where's he to play if not in his own backyard?"

* * *

Marital resentment had already turned Mrs. Fisher into an overprotective mother.

Gradually as her contempt for her husband increased, so did her "love" for her son. If Dave overspent his allowance, it was not his self-indulgence that required correction, but his father's "stinginess" with money.

Never was it Dave's carelessness that damaged the car; it was his father's neglect of its brakes. She took great pride in this "love" for her son which was, in fact, just contempt for his father.

She maintained the child in the right because it was so useful in keeping her husband in the wrong.

DISCIPLINE UNKNOWN

As a result, Dave has known no discipline. His father could take no controlling action toward him because he was afraid of action. His mother took none, lest it give satisfaction to her husband.

* * *

At 20, Dave's emotional age is eight years. If he ever marries he will duplicate his father's weakness as a husband and father.

Marital resentment is a prime cause of overprotection of children. Our need to disguise it betrays us into piling fault upon our marriage partner that belongs to the child. Thus, he can grow up without awareness of correction of his shortcomings.

Mothers who "worship" sons are often victims of secret contempt for the sons' fathers. They should be required to know the ugly source of their destructive "love."

Desk Necessary Home Furnishing

When homes are run on a business-like basis, a desk is as necessary a piece of furniture as the dining room table.

But while many homes are designed with eating in mind, it's a rare home that has a readymade spot to serve as an "office."

One desk on the market this season allows a double solution to the problem—the desk drawers open from either front or back. And what's more, the desk can serve as a table since it has a white formica top, the desk proper is in either black or limed oak.

Some folks are so critical that about the only thing they haven't panned is gold.

Good Sleep Pose

The pregnant woman's pose is a good one to sleep in: lie three-quarters on your stomach, your under arm in back, top arm up high in front. The top leg bends over and supports your body

MR. AND MRS. JAMES F. FRITZ

Bernice Birrell, daughter of the Robert Birrells of Keego Harbor, became the bride of James Francis Fritz, Saturday morning. He is the son of Mrs. Gerald Fritz of Phillips road and the late Mr. Fritz.

Bernice Birrell Becomes Bride of James F. Fritz

Honeymooning in northern Michigan are Mr. and Mrs. James Francis Fritz. The bride is the former Bernice Birrell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Birrell of Keego Harbor. James is the son of Mrs. Gerald Fritz of Phillips road and the late Mr. Fritz.

The couple was married Saturday at 10 a.m. in St. Vincent de Paul Church.

Make Bread With Bran and Bananas

Mrs. Van Huizen's Quick Loaf Fine for Sandwiches

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Summer salads call for simple sandwiches to accompany them. In the Van Huizen family at Williams Lake their favorite sandwich is made with cream cheese spread on Banana Bran Bread. This bread keeps very well in the refrigerator for a long period of time.

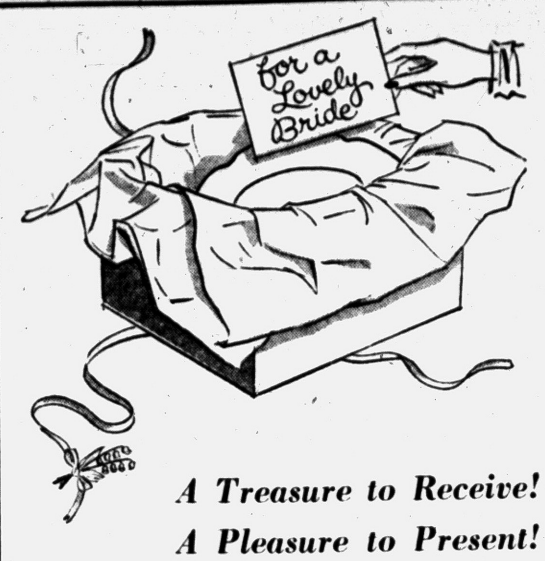

Mrs. Richard Van Huizen is an enthusiastic gardener. She has a large vegetable garden, whose products she freezes, as well as a rose garden. During the winter she works on the troop committee for her daughter's Girl Scout troop and as health chairman of Williams Lake School.

BANANA BRAN BREAD
By Mrs. Richard Van Huizen

¼ cup shortening
½ cup sugar
1 beaten egg
1 cup bran
2 tablespoons water
1½ cups mashed banana
1½ cups sifted flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon vanilla
½ cup chopped nutmeats

Cream shortening and sugar until smooth. Add egg and bran. Mix thoroughly. Mix water with bananas and add alternately to first mixture with sifted dry ingredients. Mix thoroughly. Add vanilla and nuts.

Pour into a greased one-pound loaf pan. Let stand 30 minutes. Bake at 350 degrees for 1 hour. Slice very thin and spread with cream cheese for sandwiches. Makes 1 loaf.

Today's Youngsters Like Modernistic Furnishings

If you're planning a room for your young modern, better put some sophistication into it, says Patricia Harvey, member of the American Institute of Decorators. She explains:

"Young people have gone modern. They love unfussy furniture and sophisticated fabrics. Just hand them a bunch of swatches and you'll be amazed at the good taste they display."

* * *

Miss Harvey's most recent decorative venture with young moderns was a couple of rooms planned for sisters aged 16 and 17, using this scheme selected by the girls:

. . . Grass cloth walls of off-ivory shade, matching draperies with blac?, chrome yellow and cinnamon in a free form design. Two couches of cinnamon tweed with black, chrome yellow and chrome yellow felt in round, square and triangular shapes. Celadon green rug. Mahogany desk with black stain-proof micarta top.

Book shelves line one wall over a cupboard unit planned to hold bedclothes and linens. Give young people pretty linens — solid or print and they'll adore tending their bed clothes, she says.

* * *

Younger girls like pink, Miss Harvey says. She did a room in pink, cherry red and white for two under-15s. The floor of vinyl pink and white was topped with a cherry red area rug. Simple modern furniture designed by Paul McCobb was washed down to its original birch and painted pink and white.

A pink cotton bed throw had a cherry red dust ruffle of glosheen cotton, a pillow sham had a cherry red ruffle. The bed headboard was upholstered in white plastic and its wooden frame painted pink. Draperies were of inexpensive but unusual woven ribbon fabric. She framed a picture in white burlap and painted the scroll wire around it pink. An ice cream chair was painted cherry red and a pillow of pink iridescent cotton taffeta inserted in the heart of the chair.

Ready-made ensemble may be found to make the decorating job easier if you prefer.

Plaid is popular with the younger set and one combination that may be carried out with a color scheme of yellow walls is to use the brown-biege-yellow combination of bedspread and draperies in the bagpipe collection.

Build Outside Door

Another for the new house: an outside door to a first-floor bathroom. It might save muddy tracks through the house if you're the family that collects the neighborhood kids.

Patient at Hospital

Carving Knives Still Useful Now

Carving is one of the earliest art in civilized living. In ye olden times the Squire Carver stood beside mine Host and cut the wild boar and the venison into serving pieces. An act of great ceremony and dignity.

Today it's the privilege of the head of the house to master the art of carving.

There's a wide choice in size and style of carving knives, from a six to seven inch blade for carving steak or game, to the long, slim ham slicer. The carver is worthy of the finest tools. Give him the best!

GOOD HAIRSTYLING

There are two kinds of hairstyling. One kind is the type we think of when we hear the world GLAMOROUS. It is supposed to change us into exotic creatures in a twinkling of an eye. This type is fine for a very special occasion but seldom comes up to our expectation the day after.

The other type of hairdo is a modification of the first . . . it is styled to bring out your best features, and consideration is given to new trends as well as to your hair texture and your daily activities.

Another point not usually mentioned is the fact that hair grows out of the head in a basic pattern. This pattern connot be changed and a fingerwave set contrary to it will not last.

A NICE BLENDING OF ALL THESE POINTS IS GOOD HAIRSTYLING.

Teenagers Give Own Reasons for Delinquency

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—If you want to know what causes juvenile delinquency, just ask the kids. They've got all the answers.

* * *

Here are sample comments:

Larry Hock, 15, Portland, Ore.: "There's too much emphasis on those child care books which tell parents to let the kids do as they please. After a while, parents get in the habit of not caring what their children are doing."

* * *

Robert Dean, 16, Columbus: "Children respect the advice of their parents. But some parents don't bother with any advice. If they don't teach what is right, then their kids may turn out wrong."

John Breedveld, 18, Kalamazoo, Mich.: "Some parents set bad examples. When a child grows up, he has to talk over his problems with someone. If he feels he cannot go to his parents, he joins a gang and talks his problems over with the wrong kind of people."

* * *

Defense Has Its Say in Draft Advice Case

BRATTLEBORO, Vt. (AP) — The defense was set to have its day in court today in the federal trial of Mrs. Lucille S. Miller, 44, charged with advising nine young men to evade military service.

The prosecution rested yesterday after U.S. Atty. Louis G. Whitcomb called the nine men to testify against the mother of three children.

Each testified he had received a letter from Mrs. Miller counseling how to avoid military draft.

Mrs. Miller gained wide attention in May when she and her husband locked themselves in their Bethel home from morning to dusk to prevent a U.S. marshal from taking Mrs. Miller away for commitment to a mental hospital.

Miller threw down his rifle and both he and his wife surrendered after police fired tear gas into their home. She was committed to St. Elizabeth's Hospital, Washington, D.C., but released last month after she was declared sane.

Crowd Greets Nehru on Return to India

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Prime Minister Nehru returned home today to a riotous welcome which dazed diplomats who came to the airport to greet him.

A crowd of about 3,000 persons broke through police barriers with what appeared to be prearranged ease to surround Nehru, tossing flowers and garlands wildly in his direction.

* * *

The crowd pushed aside most diplomats who had gone to the airfield to welcome the Prime Minister back from his 37-day visit to Russia and other European countries. Sweat-drenched in 100 degree weather, many left without shaking Nehru's hand.

* * *

Nehru, briefly angered at the crowds, also appeared dazed as he rode away in an open car.

The road to the airport and the field itself were heavily guarded by special police, but police at the field gave only token opposition to the rush of the crowd.

Trying British Seaman for Revealing Secrets

PORTSMOUTH, England (AP)—A seaman in Britain's submarine service went on trial behind closed doors today, charged with revealing secret information.

Ordering the room cleared of spectators for the court - martial, a senior naval officer said, "Certain evidence has a security classification." There has been no indication whether a foreign government is involved.

The defendant is Able Seaman Michael Ronald Andrews. He is charged with "failure to heed a warning that he should not reveal certain information which had come to him in the performance of his duties."

Russian Joe Doaks Calling Turn Now

(Editor's Note—Will the Soviet Union deal from strength or weakness at Geneva? The world wonders today as the summit conference nears. William L. Ryan, AP foreign news analyst, has made a thorough study of the factors that will weigh upon Premier Bulganin. This is the first of four stories giving Ryan's illuminating appraisal.)

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

At Geneva Marshal Nikolai Alexandrovich Bulganin will be fighting a desperate and perhaps decisive battle to save world communism from decay and ruin.

The Western world, led by the United States, is within reach of an historic victory. It may be slow and unspectacular in developing, but it can mean there is hope for a real and lasting peace.

* * *

Bulganin, strictly a political general, personifies the dilemma of the general staff of communism. At Geneva, Bulganin cannot attack without solidifying the free world's resistance to the Soviet Union. He cannot retreat without the danger of hastening communism's decay as a global conspiracy.

Bulgainin will not be his own master. Nikita S. Khrushchev, the Soviet Communist boss, will be looking over one shoulder, representing the fears and ambitions of world communism. Looking over the other will be Ivan, the man largely responsible for bringing about this summit meeting.

Communism is in a pickle. The U.S.S.R. is its ideological anchor, its Mecca, its nerve center. It may lose that anchor as one of the long range results of the Geneva conference. The bloodless revolution under way in the Soviet Union can spell the beginning of its end as a monolithic world political force.

The United States seems to be proceeding on the assumption the Russians' recent moves are forced, and that they are truly anxious to talk about arms reduction. That is a good guess, and Ivan seems to be behind it.

* * *

Khrushchev seems indignant at the idea Moscow moves sprang from sheer necessity. But Ivan, along with a rising generation of impatient young Soviet technocrats, had much to do with forcing Khrushchev's hand. Ivan is a patriot, but he has little in common with revolutionary Bolshevism and little memory of it. The old Bolsheviks are dying out. Before long Ivan and his generation will be ruling the U.S.S.R.

This Russian common man has the biggest stake of all in the Geneva conference. If there is to be any attention to his particular problems, there must be relief from the awful waste of a military and totally regimented economy.

The course of Soviet policy in two post-Stalin years has reflected growing concern with what Ivan has been thinking and dreaming. At last, in an iron dictatorship, Ivan's voice is becoming powerful.

Shrewd, able and realistic though it may be, the new collective—with the generals at its elbow—seems to feel itself responsible to somebody. There is no indication it has disavowed the over-all aims of world communism, but it keeps a wary eye on Ivan's social development. It is increasingly clear from the Soviet press that Ivan has tasted victory over the Kremlin. His yearning for the amenities of life and his weariness with regimentation can force the collective into even more concessions to the West.

Hal Boyle Says:

Modern Hillbilly Doesn't Envy Town Folks

MARYVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — There is a new kind of "hillbilly."

Here in the Great Smokies — heart of old hillbillyland — the mountain people have found a new way of life that enables them to keep their ancient freedom while escaping the poverty of the past.

The fictional hillbilly has become part of American folklore. He is a shiftless figure in overalls who runs through the hills barefooted, a guitar slung over his shoulder, an old hog rifle in one hand, a jug of moonshine in the other.

But your real mountaineer isn't that kind of man at all. The popular idea of a hillbilly tickles his sense of humor. Sometimes he does not mind playing up to this role a bit for the tourists, but he does not relish having a "flatland furriner" call him a "hillbilly." He prefers to be known as a Southern highlander, a hillsman or mountain man.

* * *

The industrialization of the Tennessee Valley has brought rapid changes into the traditional pattern of social and economic life in the area.

The mountain men, marvelously quick to learn new skills, now come down into the valleys to work in the factories — but most still cling stubbornly to their homes in the hills.

* * *

Some drive up to 50 miles to their jobs. When the quitting whistle blows, they climb into their cars and drive back to the mountains, and till their hillside patches. They like the factory money, but they don't want to come down and live in the cities. They don't like city air.

Typical of these mountaineers is Robert Clark, a 43-year-old blacksmith in the Alcoa Aluminum plant here. Each day he drives 10 miles to work from his 12-acre mountain farm where he lives with his wife and six children.

Clark raises much of his own food. He can afford the comforts of the city man, but he wouldn't willingly move to the city if you gave him a house with five bathrooms.

"Good times are changing the mountains fast," he said. "Very few people live in log houses anymore.

"The mountain people no longer have the desire to live in town, because they can now have everything they need. They have electric stoves, television and radio.

* * *

"We have good schools in the country now, too. There's an $80,000 school going up in my neighborhood.

"Why should I want to live in town? You know, I've never had a haircut, a shave or a shoeshine in town in all my days?

* * *

"The country's the best place. It's a better place to raise kids. They learn how to save—and they don't get into so much trouble. My children have no desire to live in town."

* * *

While revenue agents are certain there is still a great amount of bootlegging in the Tennessee hills, Clark says the growth of factory jobs has cut it down.

* * *

"When I was a boy you could count seven stills from where I lived," he said. "Now there isn't one.

* * *

"The liquor now is being made deep in the mountains where there are no jobs. Many of the men who made moonshine in the old days never touched it themselves. They did it only to earn money for the family."

Clark who, like most mountain men, is deeply religious, neither smokes nor drinks.

"I never bought a bottle of beer in my life," he said, "and I'm not about to."

* * *

He feels he is pretty lucky. He has retained the rugged independence and individualism of his ancestors, he has achieved an economic security they never knew—and he can still enjoy the sunshine and shadow and free-blowing winds of the mountains.

Hillbilly? Clark wouldn't trade places with any citybilly in the land. He has life made.

Adolph Koenig Named Walled Lake City Manager

Held Aide Post Once in Pontiac

Saginaw Native Gets Position at Special Meeting of Council

WALLED LAKE — Adolph J. Koenig, 64, was named city manager of Walled Lake at a special meeting of the city council last night. He is to begin his duties Aug. 1.

A native of Saginaw, Koenig brings to the young city a great deal of experience. He served as assistant city manager of Pontiac from 1925 to 1928 and since then has been city manager in turn, of Plymouth; Fort Atkinson, Wisc.; Wilmete, Ill.; Jackson; Anchorage, Alaska; Milford, Conn.; St. Claire Shores, and San Clemente, Calif.

Koenig resigned from the latter post last week. He attended Mount Pleasant and received both his bachelor's and master's degrees from the University of Michigan, majoring in municipal education.

Married and the father of two grown sons, Koenig is selling his St. Claire Shores home and will move to Walled Lake.

The council had been interviewing applicants for the manager's post for about two months and last week had narrowed the applications down to two, those of Clifford Wile of Ferndale and Edward Belyea of DeWitt. Koenig, who applied last Saturday, was hired at last night's meeting.

In other business, the council hired William F. Patterson of 2475 Crumb Rd., as a second full-time policeman for the city. He will assume his duties next week.

Robots May Cut Payroll 20 Pct. in Rolling Mill

PITTSBURGH (UP)—Industrial automation is taking a giant step forward in a Pittsburgh area rolling mill with robot installations that may eventually eliminate 20 per cent of the mill's workers.

But an officer said the gadgets, infra-red photo-electric controls, will eliminate table reversing operators, table control operators and automatic shear button operators. R. D. Morrow, company vice president, said:

"In the future, we will be able to eliminate any man doing a sequence job . . . (including) almost every man b . the maintenance and control operators. And we can do a better job."

Morrow's firm also has developed an infra-red television unit that could be used to position barges or railroad cars for unloading despite fog, smoke or steam

RETIRED AUTO WORKER ENJOYS GOOD HEALTH THANKS TO O-JIB-WA

"Friends often ask me how I regained my good health," says Mr. Joseph T. Craddock, 7244 Farnum St., Inkster, Michigan, "and I'm always glad to tell them about your wonderful Bitters."

"I was handicapped with rheumatism and arthritis for 10 years, but never too seriously until about six years ago. Then my left hip, both shoulders and arms ached terribly, and sometimes the pains spread down into my fingers. I used to shove my shoulder against the wall to try to ease the pain. Cramps in my legs kept me awake nights and in the morning, it would take two or three efforts for me to get out of bed. I'm retired now, but I used to work on a large machine for the Ford Motor Co. Even pushing buttons to operate the machine caused severe pain in my finger and arms. My wife was taking O-JIB-WA at the time, and it helped her rheumatism, and calmed her nerves down, so she thought it would help me too. Well, I started taking it, and by the time the first large bottle was finished, the pains were gone, but I took it longer just for good measure. I'm no longer bothered with rheumatism or arthritis, my nerves are steady, and I sleep well, cramps in my legs have left too. I just feel good all over. My friends have asked me how in the world I regained my good health, and I'm always happy to tell them, it's easy. Just get yourself a big bottle of O-JIB-WA BITTERS, follow the directions, and let this wonderful medicine do the rest."

BREAK GROUND FOR CHURCH — The Rev. Robert L. Hall, pastor of Milford Baptist Church, turns over the first spadeful of earth in ground-breaking ceremonies Sunday. With him are Chester Pierson (left) church building committee chairman, and DeWayne Clark, Sunday School superintendent. A church school building, first unit in the master plan for a new church at the present site at 615 Union St. will be erected with the new building facing on Detroit street.

Ground Broken; Construction Will Begin on 1st Unit of New Milford Baptist Church

MILFORD — Excavation began this week for the first unit of the new Milford Baptist Church, with construction scheduled to begin sometime next week.

Ground was broken for the 100x50 foot Educational Unit Sunday, at the present site at 615 Union St., with the Rev. Robert L. Hall, pastor of the church, officiating.

Assisting him in turning over the first spadefuls of earth were DeWayne Clark, Sunday School superintendent, and Chester Pearson, building committee chairman.

The building of the unit will bring a two-year dream to reality. A fund drive to collect the $36,000 needed to build it was started in 1953.

OF CINDER BLOCK

Construction will be of cinder block, and the unit will include a large 21x10 foot classroom and six 10x10 foot classrooms along each side, with a spacious kitchen, boiler room, and in the center, a 25x60 foot multi-purpose room.

The building will be financed through the sale of bonds at an interest rate of 4½ per cent.

Construction of the sanctuary will come later. The present auditorium will be used for worship services in the meantime.

MILFORD'S OLDEST

A two-room annex at the rear of the church was removed to permit the digging of the basement for the new unit, which will face on Detroit street.

When finished, the educational unit will be used for the Sunday School, which currently has an average attendance of 160 per Sunday.

Driver, Officer Agree on Reckless Driving

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP)—Patrolman Galyn Devine stood and watched as William S. Rumbaugh, 22, drove into a parking lot at high speed.

"What kind of driving do you call that?" Devine demanded.

"Very reckless, I guess," Rumbaugh replied.

Romeo Orders Bad Trees Cut

Diseased Elm Owners Sent Notices; Solons Ask Reports

ROMEO—Village President Philip M. Stone reported to council members last night that elm tree condemnation orders have been sent to owners of property on which diseased trees are located.

The State Department of agriculture's representative had inspected trees within the village and on the "fringe" area. As a result, the condemnation orders were issued.

One tree located on village property was ordered cut down and burned.

Local officials urged Romeo citizens to report existence of trees containing dead, curled up leaves symptomatic of Dutch elm disease.

The appropriation of $570 to support the summer recreation program in the village was approved.

Louis H. Freye was appointed a member of the Village Planning Commission by President Stone to fill the unexpired term of James Lindsay who has moved to Utica.

A pay schedule for building inspectors was set at two-thirds of the cost of permits in excess of a minimum fee of $5.

Shippers, Growers Pay Doubled Apple Tax

LANSING (AP) — Apple growers and shippers were reminded today that the new state apple tax, double the previous rate, became effective the first of the month.

Miles A. Nelson, head of the department's division of foods and standards, said he has a force of 10 men out checking on compliance with the tax.

The assessment, used to advertise Michigan apples, was upped from a cent a bushel and two cents a hundredweight to two cents a bushel and four cents a hundredweight by the recent legislative session.

Nelson said there have been no violations reported yet. Shipments of early apples still are light, he said.

Bob Considine Says:

Reds Realize Ike Knows Truth About Them

NEW YORK (INS)—The pundits are saying that President Eisenhower will confer with Premier Bulganin from a "position of strength."

They mean the Russian knows we have more and better arms, more efficient means of delivering them to assigned targets, greater resources and productivity.

* * *

We have on our side something even more telling, in the forthcoming battle of wits and words at Geneva. It is simply this:

People behind the Iron Curtain loathe communism as much as we do. And there are more than 800,000,000 of them.

Bulganin and every other man who came to the top in the Red conspiracy against God and man is haunted. He must guard himself continually against his people and his closest associates.

On his conscience is at least part of the blood of millions of purged farmers, dissident officials and such defenseless prisoners as political foes and the Polish officers slaughtered in the Katyn Forest.

PRESIDENT KNOWS

Bulganin must attempt to look Eisenhower in the eye with the awful understanding that the President knows that more than 5,500,000 Soviet troops deserted in World War II (see "What Is Communism?", just put out by E. P. Dutton and Co.

* * *

The Russian also goes to Geneva knowing Eisenhower knows:

Stalin pleaded with Roosevelt and Churchill for land forces, though he had more divisions than both. Unarmed Germans and Czechs were in open revolt against their Red masters just two years ago, and could rise again.

Production in the U.S.S.R. in certain important fields is worse than during the reign of Czar Nicholas. Some 22,000 Chinese and North Korean prisoners of war refused to return home despite threats of terrifying reprisals to families lift behind. Three Americans have in the past few days chosen the prospect of long prison terms in this country to freedom behind the curtain.

* * *

Not even the sternly edited Communist press can submerge accounts of almost perpetual sabotage and slowdowns harassing the comparatively tiny band of Communists who have managed to place almost countless millions of workers under their heels.

LOSS UNLIKELY

It seems incomprehensible that we can lose at Geneva as we lose at Tehran, Casablanca, Yalta and Potsdam.

A powerful work, this "What Is Communism?" It strips the subject to the bone. For example, the chapter that sums up the goals, failures and lies of communism in brittle question and answer form.

Q.—Since 1939, the U.S.S.R. has annexed nearly 700,000 square kilometers of territory, and controls an additional satellite area in Eastern Europe of 1,341,225 square kilometers. What is the goal of Communist expansion?

A.—The U.S.S.R. has admitted openly that it seeks total control of the world. As Stalin said, "Our . . . strategy . . . (is) to consolidate the dictatorship of the proletariat in one country, using it as a base for the overthrow of imperialism in all countries. The revolution is spreading beyond the border of one country; the epoch of world revolution has commenced . . ."

There are appalling statistics including: "On the eve of Hitler's invasion of the U.S.S.R. purges crippled the Red army, navy and air force. Three of five marshals, 11 vice commissars of defense, 75 of the 80 generals and admirals who formed the Supreme Military Council, 90 per cent of the generals, 80 per cent of the colonels, and 30,000 other officers were killed.

"Marshal Tukhachevsky, responsible for mechanizing the Red army, was convicted of espionage and 'betrayal.' Later, six of the eight judges at his court-martial were shot without trial. Of seven former presidents of the U.S.S.R.'s Central Executive Committee, five were murdered, and one was a suicide."

Look, Fellas, Outside!

BLOOMINGTON, Ill. (UP) — Roger Coppenbarger, filling station attendant, scared off two men who pulled a gun on him and demanded his money, simply by pointing a finger at a squad car that had just stopped for a traffic signal across the street. The men fled.

Adler-Ross–'Hottest Duo in Music Today'

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS)—When you huddle two young, ambitious, artistic men into a nine-by-nine-foot room and tell them to work there for a couple of years, one of two things is sure to explode . . .

Tempers or talents.

* * *

Fortunately for Broadway, Dick Adler, 31, and Jerry Ross, 28, put the fuse under their talents, and the resultant blasts—called "The Pajama Game" and "Damn Yankees!"—have been sizzling to standing room only crowds ever since.

"So where else could you get inspiration like this?" said Adler airily, sweeping his arms around the composers' cubicle, nearly side-swiping all walls. "The ceiling closes in on you. The upright piano booms like a symphony grand. The pressure's unbearable. And there's not a damn thing to do but work.

"We worked!"

SCIENTIFIC REASON

The hottest, youngest team in current music history didn't choose their minute studio in mid-Manhattan because of the echoing piano effects or the pressure, however. There was a more scientific reason.

"It was cheap," Adler explains. "The landlord charged $50 a month while we were composing 'The Pajama Game.' For some unaccountable reason, he raised it to $60, when we were doing 'Damn Yankees!' when he reads about that one—man!"

They were just kids, still damp behind their perfect-pitch ears, when Dick and Jerry discovered each other about five years ago. Dick had written a number called "Teasin' " which got a little disc play; Jerry had composed "An Ordinary Broom," a delightful ditty that went nowhere.

"We admired one another immediately," Dick remembers, "and began to work together. "So four years ago we got an audition with George Abbot (producer of P. J. Game and D'n Yanks). He listened to one hour of Adler-Ross songs, like a sphinx, and then told somebody—'They're talented but they're not ready.' "

STILL NOT READY

Dick and Jerry starved for a year. Then came another audition. "They're still talented but they're still not ready," the same producer told the same friend.

Then they turned out a hit song, "Rags to Riches," and did some music for John Murray Anderson's "Almanac," and a year later—two years ago—along came another audition with George Abbott.

* * *

Signed on a four-song basis ("We were to turn out four songs in a month, and if they were okay, we were okay; if not, we were not"), the boys hired their cubicle, rented a piano and produced their melodies. Two of them, "Hey, There" and "Hernando's Hidewaway," became best-sellers, and they were hailed as wonder lads.

Almost before there was time to count up their earnings, and split 40-60 with what they call their "Third Partner, Uncle Sam," they were back in the small room writing "Damn Yankees!"

ONE HITTER FEAR

"The only difference was," Adler says, "we were more scared. It's tough to be a no-hit composer. But it's worse to be afraid you're one-hitters."

* * *

They were not, of course. You hear the proof every time you turn on the radio and someone bleats about how you gotta have heart and also how whatever Lola wants Lola gets.

* * *

"It's been like a marriage," is the way Dick describes the relationship, "only more successful than most. Now, for the summer, we're going to do a little separating and brain-washing. We feel that the brain is an organ that can get just as tired as any other part of the body, and we're going to let ours be."

So Adler is going to Europe to imbibe culture. And Ross is going to stay home and teach his kiddies counterpoint. Next fall they will be back in the small room that breeds big production numbers.

And by winter, there will probably be three Adler-Ross shows on the marquees.

ST. LOUIS (UP)—Dr. John A. Schindler, Monroe, Wis., told a teachers' conference here that more than 50 per cent of all illness today is emotionally induced because people are not being educated to grow up. He said they are "trying to handle adult problems in childish ways."

Barbara Bel Geddes Gets Movie Role With Sinatra

By DOROTHY MANNERS

(While Louella O. Parsons is on vacation her column will be written by Dorothy Manners.)

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Over long distance from New York, LOP (she hadn't been off the plane from Rome an hour) tells us that Barbara Bel Geddes has been signed by Otto Preminger as Frank Sinatra's leading lady in "The Man With the Golden Arm."

"Of course, arrangements had to be made with Elia Kazan and the Playwright Company for Barbara to get four weeks off 'Cat on a Hot Tin Roof,'" Miss P. explained. "She'll get just enough time off this summer to make the picture.

This isn't the first time Barbara has worked for Preminger. She did "The Moon Is Blue" on the stage for him—and she's excited about this second venture.

PRANKSTER MARIO

Mario Lanza, a blythe spirit himself these days, is turning into quite the prankster on the Warner lot. He has the speaking voice of his boss Jack Warner, and his producer Henry Blanke, down to a T and he's having a ball imitating them and giving out some fantastic orders to assorted employes.

But you haven't heard anything yet until Mario goes into his really terrific take-offs on Nat "King" Cole and Billy Ekstine. Right in the middle of a recording for his "Serenade" the other day he did a switcheroo and finished it as King Cole would sing it!

Surplus Farm Goods Unloaded Overseas

WASHINGTON (UP) — President Eisenhower has reported to Congress that $1,200,000,000 of surplus farm goods were sold abroad for foreign currencies, bartered or distributed for relief in the fiscal year which ended June 30.

These commodities were disposed of under terms of the Agricultural Trade Development Act passed last year. This act was designed to help reduce the government's stocks of surplus farm products, which now total about $7,100,000,000. They were acquired under farm price support programs.

Eisenhower said the administration, armed with 10 months experience under the act, is beginning a study to "analyze the whole problem of disposal of our agricultural surpluses."

Gets 2 Year Probation

In Oakland County Circuit Court yesterday, Zepheres Marie Stephens, 20, of 179 Lake St., was placed on two-year probation and assessed $50 court costs by Judge H. Russel Holland.

Bankruptcy Pleas

GRAND RAPIDS (UP) — Bankruptcy petitions have been filed in federal court by Kenneth D. Eagle of Lansing, a pharmacist, listing liabilities as $10,010 and assets as $4,632, and Robert W. Doolittle, East Lansing, a publicist, listing liabilities as $12,461 and assets as $3,175.

In-Law Confesses in Two Rape Deaths

JAMESTOWN, N.Y. (UP)—An unemployed taxi driver has admitted the rape slayings of his sister-in-law and her 19-month-old daughter, police say.

Joseph Reade, 26, who described himself as a "damn maniac," was to be arraigned in City Court today on two counts of first-degree murder.

The stocky, sandy-haired Reade signed a statement, police said last night, admitting he strangled and beat to death Mrs. Beverly Reade, 26, and her daughter Cheryl Lynn early yesterday.

Police said the prisoner, a native of Corry, Pa., was married and the father of one child but was separated from his wife.

They said he had a previous police record including charges ranging from petit larceny to disorderly conduct. The authorities said he was questioned in 1951 in connection with a morals charge involving a teen-age girl but was released.

Ocelot Straggles Home

WASHINGTON (UP)—A 20-pound, yellow-and-black ocelot, missing from a Washington pet shop for nine days, straggled home last night. Adelle Hall, wife of the pet shop manager, heard a "crying" in the shop's back yard. There was the ocelot, a large American spotted cat, hungry, weary and lean. She and her husband baited a cage and promptly captured it.

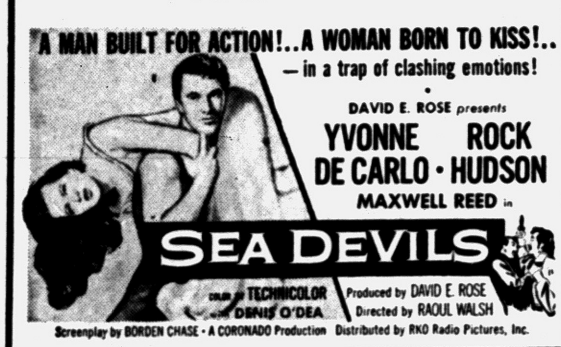

Sentenced to Jackson

After pleading guilty to car theft July 5, Leonard V. Beatty, 24, of 19117 E. Land, Roseville, was sentenced to 2 to 5 years in Jackson state prison by Oakland County Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland yesterday. Beatty admitted taking the auto May 13 in Royal Oak Township.

Milwaukee Council Acts in Ship Strike

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The Milwaukee Harbor Commission, confronted with the threat of labor union picketing, recommended to the Common Council yesterday that the city unload clay intended for the struck Kohler Co.

In a second resolution the commission recommended that the city not refust to handle cargo which may be involved in inland industrial disputes wherever located. The vote was 3-2.

The council's building and grounds-harbors committee planned to take up the recommendations today and prepare a statement of its own to submit to the full council.

Approval of the resolutions would mark a reversal of the city's earlier stand which resulted in the turning away of the M. S. Fossum which carried a cargo of clay for the struck Kohler Co. The plumbingware firm, of Kohler, Wis., was struck by Local 833 of UAW-CIO 15 months ago. The dispute's main issue is union security.

Power Burns Youth

CHEBOYGAN (AP) — Gerald Norman, 13, knocked off a utility pole by two 2,400-volt power lines, crawled half a mile for help despite burns over much of his body. The boy entered a Consumers Power Co. substation Monday and climbed the pole despite "danger" signs.

Panhandle Barred From SEC Hearing

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Securities & Exchange Commission (SEC) refused yesterday to let Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Co. take part in a hearing on a rival company's financial plans.

A hearing examiner previously had held Panhandle was not an "aggrieved" party in a case involving the American Louisiana Pipe Line Co. The commission upheld that ruling, saying Panhandle had failed to show its participation would serve the public interest.

American Louisiana is seeking SEC approval of arrangements it has made to pay for a 130 million dollar Louisiana to Michigan natural gas pipeline. The Federal Power Commission has approved the project.

American Louisiana is part of the American Natural Gas Co. system. Other affiliates of the holding company are the Michigan-Wisconsin Pipe Line Co., Michigan Consolidated Gas Co., Detroit, and Milwaukee Gas Light Co.

Panhandle, which sells gas to Michigan Consolidated, had complained that enlarging the holding company system would hurt its business and also be detrimental to consumers.

Heroes Plentiful, but Musial Is Tops in NL's 6-5 All-Star Victory

MILWAUKEE (UP) — Stan (The Man) Musial, toast of the National League for the past 14 years, is the new darling of baseball-mad Milwaukee today even if he doesn't wear a Brave uniform.

The majority of the capacity crowd of 45,314 paying customers, not to mention the countless television viewers who saw the great St. Louis Cardinal star smash a 12th-inning home run yesterday to give the National League an uphill 6-5 victory over the American in the 22nd annual All-Star spectacle, were convinced he's the greatest.

* * *

The story-book finish marked a fitting climax to a wonderful day for Milwaukeeans, who were treated to perfect weather for their first All-Star home game in their third year in the National League.

Not only did they see their heroes overcome what at one time seemed an insurmountable 5-0 deficit, but a trio of their own Braves had key roles in the thrilling comeback drive.

* * *

It was Johnny Logan, Milwaukee shortstop, who singled in the first National League run in the seventh. It was Henry Aaron, Milwaukee right fielder, who singled in the run that made it 5-4 in the eighth and set the stage for Al Rosen's error that permitted the tying run to cross the plate. And it was Milwaukee pitcher Gene Conley's spectacular feat in striking out Al Kaline, Mickey Vernon and Al Rosen in the top of the 12th that preceded Musial's game-winning blow.

There were other National League heroes, too. Willie Mays of the New York Giants, contributed greatly with two rally-igniting singles and a leaping back-to-the-fence catch of a towering drive by Ted Williams that had the home run label torn off it at the last instant.

There was St. Louis' Harvey Haddix, who pitched a fine three innings after the American League sluggers had blasted into an early 4-0 lead at the expense of Robin Roberts, Philadelphia's great right-hander. There was Ted Kluszewski, Cincinnati's slugging first baseman, who had a double and single and contributed a fielding gem on a sizzler by Yogi Berra that resulted in a rally-killing double play.

* * *

Last, but not least, was the gritty clutch pitching of young Joe Nuxhall, the Redleg southpaw, who fanned five in 3 1-3 innings of runless relief pitching after relieving Chicago's Sam Jones to strike out Whitey Ford with two out and the bases full in the eighth.

* * *

There were heroes on the losing side, too. Billy Pierce was brilliant in his opening three-inning stint. The little Chicago White Sox left-hander faced only nine as he struck out three, did not give up a run and allowed only a leadoff single to Red Schoendienst.

Mickey Mantle struck the game's longest blow, a tremendous 425-foot home run over the center field fence into the distant trees with two men on base in the first inning.

* * *

Early Wynn, Cleveland right-hander, picked up where Pierce left off, holding the Nationals scoreless with two harmless hits in the middle three innings. Sullivan, the tall Boston righthander, also did well, hurling 3 1-3 scoreless relief innings until that fatal blow by Musial.

But it was the 34-year-old Musial, the oldest National League player in the game, who received the biggest ovation and who was nearly hugged to death by his joyous teammates when he lit into Frank Sullivan's first pitch to break up the second extra-inning game in All-Star history.

* * *

"You don't mean to tell me that a little old singles hitter like me asked. "How about Williams and holds the home run record?" he the other sluggers? Didn't they hit more than four? But then again, nobody had played in 12 games like I have. That, by the way, is a record I'm really proud of."

Charles Favored Over Andrews in TV Match

Fading Ezzard Faced With 'Must Win' Edict Against Young Heavy

The bout will be televised nationally at 9 p.m. EST.

It'll be a MUST bout for both the fading Charles and the 25-year-old Andrews.

* * *

Charles cannot well afford to lose if he expects to continue as a drawing card and maintain or improve his No. 6 ranking among heavyweights.

* * *

Charles has won three of his last four bouts after losing twice to Rocky Marciano. His loss was to John Holman, Chicago heavyweight. Charles later avenged this defeat with a one-sided decision.

Charles, who has an over-all record of 89 triumphs, 13 losses and 1 draw, is hoping to get another crack at Marciano's crown. Ezzard has had three bids for the title since he lost it to Jersey Joe Wolcott, once against Wolcott and twice against Marciano.

* * *

"I'm going to keep busy with the idea that the Marciano-Archie Moore winner will have to give me another chance," Charles said. "After all, I beat Moore three times and lost on a close decision to Rocky."

* * *

The decision was the first Charles-Marciano fight. In a rematch, Rocky knocked out Charles in eight rounds.

WILLIE PREVENTS HOMER — Up to his old tricks around the fence is Willie Mays, here stabbing a potential homer by Ted Williams as it was about to go over the fence in Tuesday's All-Star game. Willie's leaping catch was one of several sparkling plays that helped the National Leaguers win over the junior circuit, 6-5, in 12 innings.

Musial 'Corrects' Fans for Omitting Him From Starting National's Lineup

His league's oldest player in yesterday's 22nd All-Star baseball Game, 34-year-old Musial entered his 12th midseason classic as a "shock-trooper" who blasted a 12th-inning, record homer which won for the Nationals, 6-5.

In the nation-wide balloting to select the All-Star starting lineups, Musial was an also ran. This, even though in 11 previous All-Star games, he had starred at bat and belted three homers. Stan wound up second in the poll to Ted Kluszewski as National League first baseman.

It looked like the national poll had Musial correctly pegged as a fading star until he stepped up to lead off the 12th with the Nationals happy, but not too hopeful, over a sudden 5-5 tie with the quick-starting Americans.

* * *

On Boston Frank Sullivan's first pitch, Musial stroked a 375 - foot homer into the right field bleachers for his fourth All-Star homer to set a new record.

Manager Leo Durocher of the Nationals was not surprised over his team's uphill struggle to victory.

"When we were trailing 4-0 and even 5-0 after six innings," said Durocher, "our bench was like a bunch of spirited college kids. We nearly ran out of players, but we didn't run out of spirit and that's what told the story."

Although the victory went to lanky Gene Conley of the host Milwaukee Braves, who struck out the American side in the 12th, Durocher gave a big cheer to Cincinnati's Joe Nuxhall.

Nuxhall doused a bases-loaded American threat in the eighth with the first of his five strikeouts and was pulled after the 11th.

Probably the two saddest American Leaguers were the White Sox' Billy Pierce, who faced only nine men in his brilliant opening three-inning mound stint and the Yankees' Mickey Mantle, whose three-run, 425-foot homer in the first, was wasted.

"It's tough to lose after leading 5-0," said Pierce. "I thought the turning point was when Willie Mays jumped up to rob Ted Williams of a two-run homer in the seventh. We would have been ahead 7-0. The wind took Ted's hit back a little and that was the game."

Scott Frost Is Favored in Hambletonian Tuneup

WESTBURY, N.Y. (UP) — Scott Frost, who has been chilling his 3-year-old rivals, gets another stiff test tonight in the $15,000 Old Country Trot at Roosevelt Raceway. Sulky fans will be watching closely, for Scott Forst is the big favorite for the $100,000 Hambletonian Aug. 3.

This son of Hoot Mon, the 1947 Hambletonian winner, is potentially the greatest trotter the sport has seen off his record as a 2-year-old of 2:00 minutes for the mile. No 2-year-old ever has touched this magical mark.

Seven are in the Old Country, and Trainer-Driver Joe O'Brien, who talks little but brings home the winners in loud fashion, won't claim any Hambletonians until they give him the big silver cup at Goshen, N.Y., next month.

Scott Frost has started only once this year, winning the Dickerson Cup at Goshen's half-mile Historic track in four heats last week.

"I think he went very good for his first start of the season," said O'Brien who trains the colt for Sol Camp, Shafter, Calif., cotton and potato man.

Arcaro, Nashua Eye $155,000 Arlington Test

It was a familiar meeting since Arcaro already has ridden Nashua to four $100,000 triumphs this year in the Flamingo, Florida Derby, Preakness and Belmont Stakes.

* * *

Nashua, who arrived from the East Sunday and yesterday galloped 2 miles over the Arlington strip, needs a victory Saturday to move ahead of Native Dancer among all-time money winners.

Nashua has earned $690,090 and ranks behind Citation, Stymie, Armed and Native Dancer. Citation leads with an all-time record of $1,085,760.

Eight other 3-year-olds are expected to challenge Nashua, whose only loss was to Swaps in the Kentucky Derby.

No Chances at Night

Pee Wee Reese of the Dodgers has played four night games in which he has not come up with a fielding chance at his shortstop position. The games were in 1947, 1950, 1951 and 1952.

Texan Claims Easy Win Over 'Pappy'

HOUSTON (UP) — Youthful Paul Jorgensen of Houston had an easier time than expected with veteran Pappy Gault of Spartanburg, S. C., here last night, punching out an easy 10-round unanimous decision.

3 Michigan Golfers Qualify at Milwaukee

MILWAUKEE (UP) — Three Michigan professional golfers qualified for the $35,000 Milwaukee Golf tournament starting today. One hundred and three touring and name pros, including PGA champion Chick Harbert of Detroit did not have to qualify.

Those from Michigan who passed the qualifying test were John Barnum of Grand Rapids with a 34-36—70; Harry Athanson of Ann Arbor with a 38-35—72 and Paul Falls of Detroit with a 37-35—72.

State Amateur Opens

JACKSON (UP)— A big field opened qualifying play in the annual Michigan State Amateur golf tournament over two courses today.

On hand were former champions dating back as far as 20 years ago, giving the tourney a historic tone.

A record army of 350 challengers to the crown of defending champion Glen Johnson of Detroit and Arbor Hills Country Club.

The low 63 will go into match play with Johnson starting Friday at the Country Club. There will be two rounds of eliminations daily, winding up with the finals on Sunday.

Experts estimated that a score of 155 would be required to get into match play on the par-72 courses. Hot weather has speeded up the greens and fairways.

At least seven former title holders were booked for play, including Bob Babbish of Detroit, who was a champion 20 years ago.

Others included Ed Ervasti, Detroit, 1947; Tom Draper, Detroit, 1949; Fred Turner, Flint, 1952; Lou Wendrow, Lansing, 1946, and Jim Standish, Jr., Detroit, four times champion in 1909-12-15-24. The elderly Standish says he's in this one mostly for the fun of it.

Among the top contenders were Harold Brink and Dick Norton of Grand Rapids, Jim Frost of Battle Creek, Joel Shepherd of Battle Creek, and Bud Reniger of Lansing.

Turner won the event in '52, celebrating his 44th birthday. Ervasti is always considered a top threat in this match play event. He came close to repeating his 1947 victory just last year, when he was runner-up to champion Johnson of Grosse Ile.

Another feature of the tourney is the rivalry between players from Detroit clubs and the out-state contingent. Last year, 27 Detroiters gained berths for the match play portion of the tourney, while 37 of the 64 were out-staters.

As usual, a large contingent of Pontiac and Oakland County standouts are in the field in an attempt to qualify.

In another Class D game, Mets blanked Rosebud Market, 4-0, behind the 3-hit hurling of Lyn Wright, who fanned 10. In a lone Class E contest, Community Market stepped ahead of St. George in the standings by scoring a 14-3 triumph.

Return of last year's champions, Betty Sue Syron, daughter of Pontiac Country Club's Mr. and Mrs. Frank Syron and former city champion, veteran Glenn Harding will provide some real competition for the field. Up to the present some 15 teams have been entered.

O'Dea, runnerup in the Pontiac Jaycee tourney, won his 1st round match, downing Ken Romig of three Rivers in straight sets, 6-1, 6-4. But he was defeated in the second round by Saginaw's Bill Vogt, 6-1, 6-0. Billas, local tournament champion, was beaten in the 1st round by Dick Moulton of Dearborn, 6-3, 6-2.

Bill Bonner and Gary Thomas, Pontiac Jaycee semifinalists slated for action at Kalamazoo, were unable to make the trip.

Campanella Fit for Duty Again

Doctor Says Brooks' Catcher Will Be Ready to Play Thursday

BROOKLYN (UP) — The "slump" may be over for the Brooklyn Dodgers, who lead the National League by only 11½ games. Roy Campanella says he's fit again.

Club physicians gave the free-swinging catcher the okay to play again yesterday after examining the injured knee which has kept him sidelined since June 29.

* * *

Campy, beaming after hearing the report, said he plans to be behind the plate when the Brooks resume their pennant chase tomorrow night against the St. Louis Cardinals following the All-Star Game interruption.

The club doctors fitted Campanella with a special foam rubber inset for his shin guard to protect the injured area.

"Now I can stoop down for the first time since I got injured (in St. Louis, June 19) and it doesn't hurt," said Campanella. "That's a great feeling."

Hesse's Single Clips Knot, Wins for Union Nine

CIO Short - Fielder's Hit Scores Mate in 2nd Overtime Frame

A 9th - inning single by Jerry Hesse, chasing home Bill Graham, broke up an overtime Class A City Baseball League tilt Tuesday night, at Wisner Field, and gave CIO 594 a 4-3 decision over Don Nicholie Real Estate.

Graham drew a base on balls to open the 9th. Albie Roman, 2nd pitcher to work for Don Nicholie issued the walk. Graham stole 2nd base as CIO hurler Steve Kebler struck out. Roman issued another pass to lead-off hitter Jim Long, then dished out the game-winning blow to short-stop Hesse.

Don Nicholie grabbed an early lead, but failed to hold it. Two walks, John Wert's double and Dave Zittel's triple scored two in the 1st off starter Ed Leonard. A single by Dick Womack, who started on the mound for the losers, and Ed McNamara's two-bagger, scored another run in the 2nd and brought Bob Grady to the hill for the union nine.

CIO struck back in the 4th to score twice on Tom Studt's single, Ron Woodhull's triple and an infield error. The unionmen knotted the count in the 6th on a walk to Woodhull and a three-bagger by Mike Slivensky.

Steve Kebler, who entered the game in the 8th inning, received credit for the win. Albie Roman was taggd with the loss.

Junior Champ Offers Test for Publinx King

Andrews - Bradley Tilt Featured; Joe Kocsis Is Among Survivors

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UP) — Defending champion Gene Andrews, 42, and Bud Bradley, who is 24 years younger, teed off today in the feature survival match in the 3rd round of the 30th annual National Public Links golf tourney.

Bradley, winner of the 1954 USGA National Junior championship at age 17, had as good a chance as any to derail the Pacific Palisades, Calif., insurance agent in his attempt to become the 2nd shooter ever to defend his crown successfully.

Andrews was one over par for the 13 holes it took to dispose of Charles Afong, Honolulu, in a 6-and-5 rout yesterday. At the turn, Andrews was four up and one over par at 37. The next two holes cinched it.

Cullenbine teed off against Robert Kay of Toledo, O., while Joe Kocsis of Pontiac, Mich., faced George Roddy, Indianapolis Negro school teacher, who provided some of the best shooting in yesterday's round.

Four other Michigan swingers also will tee off in the 3rd round of the tournament today.

They are Jack Gregory, Detroit; James Law, Harper Woods; Richard Allison, Detroit, and Sam Kocsis, Detroit.

Two more Michigan entries were eliminated yesterday. They were William Heyn, Roseville, and Sam Lima, East Detroit.

Gidley's Rally for 9-5 Victory

A 4-run rally in the 6th inning brought Gidley Electric from behind for a 9-5 victory over Sylvan Center Tuesday night in Waterford Township Softball League action at Drayton Plains.

The triumph pulled Gidley back nearer the .500 record with 6 wins against 7 losses. Sylvan now has dropped 11 of its 13 starts.

Poor fielding helped put Gidley pitcher Ken Spears in a 5-4 deficit going into the 6th, but Dave Larkin belted a 3-homer and Clare Johnson and Jim Lesar added back-to-back doubles to complete the 4-run uprising.

Spears permitted only 5 hits and fanned 9. Lesar also had 2 singles in pacing the winners' 11-hit attack.

Sylvan Center ..... 102 020 0—5 5 6

2nd Ace for Albert

Accompanying the 57-year-old linksman were Paul Albert of Lake Orion, Norman Demik of Rochester, and Merle Aemisegger of Utica.

Jack Kramer Mulls Leaving Retirement to Meet Trabert on Pro Net Tour if Tony Enjoys Big Year

NEW YORK (UP)—Jack Kramer says he may come out of semi-retirement and play Tony Trabert on a professional tennis swing next fall—if the deal can be arranged.

* * *

"Frankly, I'm very much interested in signing Trabert to a pro contract, granting he has a big year," the young Los Angeles promoter, one of the game's greatest players, added today. "I can offer him as good a contract as I did Frank Sedgman — $75,000."

Kramer, whose tour has suffered during the last two years for lack of new blood, said he had discussed the idea with various tennis promoters around the country.

* * *

"They all insist that I would be a better drawing card against Trabert than Pancho Gonzales," he said. "This seems to be the lineup they want and so I can't afford to be modest about it.

"I'm in very good shape. I think I could reach top shape again quickly. As both promoter and player, I should be able to make up financially anything I might lose in by-passing Gonzales."

Kramer said he personally felt it might not be a wise thing to pass up Gonzales, who generally is recognized as the top player in the world today, pro or amateur.

"Of course, I beat Pancho on the tour, 90 matches to 20 - odd, just as I won the series with Sedgman and Bobby Riggs. I was in my prime then and Gonzales was just coming up. But I feel I could hit top form again, if necessary."

* * *

Kramer has been on the sidelines during the past several months while Gonzales fattened his tennis reputation at the expense of Sedgman, Pancho Segura and others. Sedgman, who underwent an appendectomy yesterday, doesn't figure in future plans.

"Trabert's Wimbledon victory gave Tony a tremendous boost," Jack said. "Now if he can win the Nationals at Forest Hills and help us keep the Davis Cup, he'll really pile of dough in two years."

Trabert has announced his desire to go into professional tennis, as soon as his record warrants.

Linscott Sews Up August Bout With Andrews

Unanimous Win Over Fowler Clinches Big Test at Wisner

Pontiac's fighting mailman, Gene Linscott, and his managers Don Frayer and Chuck Richards, looked ahead confidently today to their Aug. 4 date with Al Andrews at Wisner Stadium.

Linscott locked up the 10-round shot at Andrews, which could help him along to top-level fistic circles, by winning a unanimoous decision over Jerry Fowler of Chicago last night in an 8-round televised bout from Motor City Arena.

The Pontiac middleweight, who weighed 157½ for the bout, took all 8 rounds on the cards of referee Bobby Watson and judge Andy Brown, and notched 7 of 8 on the card of the other judge, Joe Lenahan.

"We're sure Gene is ready now," Frayer said. "And are confident that he will take Andrews. We were especially pleased with the way he was jabbing."

While there was no knockdowns, Linscott knocked Fowler's mouthpiece flying in the 6th and 7th rounds with sharp left uppercuts, and showed no ill effects from a cut under the eye, which Fowler opened up with a 3rd round butt. It was Gene's 15th win in 16 professional starts.

The Pontiac boxer will go to work immediately for the Aug. 4 match with Andrews at Wisner. Andrews, who went from the Motor City Arena cards to national prominence, also tuned up for the bout last night.

He stopped Don Jones of Detroit in 6 rounds at Superior, Wis. Andrews weighed 159 for this bout.

Big Drag Race Slated

Harris Posts 66 in Milwaukee Qualifying

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Labron Harris, a wrestler turned coach and teacher, fired a four-under-par 66 yesterday to pace the 47 non-exempt players who will shoot for prizes in the 72-hole, $35,000 Milwaukee Open Golf Tournament.

Harris, golf coach and teaching faculty member at Oklahoma A&M college at Stillwater, Okla., took two strokes off par on each of the nines. He finished with 33-33—66, over the par 70, pit-marked Blue Mound Country Club course.

The 46-year-old pro took up golf in 1930 after quitting wrestling and tennis. He joined the pro ranks in 1940. His booming drives and sparkling iron shots carried him to six birdies yesterday. The birds were offset somewhat by two bogies.

In second place out of the field of 113 non-exempt players, those who must qualify for the meet, was Gardner Dickinson Jr., of St. Andrews, Ill. He had a pair of 34's, including five birdies, for a 68.

Third-place honors were taken by Gene Webb, St.Louis pro, with a 69 collected on rounds of 34 and 35.

Five shotmakers, including the highest scoring amateur, matched par. They are John Barnum, Grand Rapids, Mich.; Mike Bencruscutto, Racine, Wis.; Howard Kluth, Milwaukee, Manuel de la Torre, Milwaukee, and Bobby Brue, Milwaukee amateur.

The 47 successful non-exempt players will join the field of 103 exempt players in the first round of medal play Thursday. The meet ends Sunday. The exempt players, those with stout records on the tournament trails, were not required to qualify for the meet.

The list of exempt entrants is led by Jack Fleck, conqueror of Ben Hogan for the National Open crown. Other top names on the entry list are Sam Snead, Julius Boros, Cary Middlecoff, Ed Oliver, Dutch Harrison, Tommy Bolt, Frank Stranahan and Ed Furgol.

Speedy Miniatures

Michigan, Illinois, Indiana Devotees of Little Car Racing Here Sunday

National miniature car races will be held in Pontiac on Sunday, July 17. Auto racing enthusiasts from Detroit and Chicago and throughout Indiana and Illinois will enter their little speedsters in competition here at the North Side skating rink.

The Pontiac Miniature Race Car Association will be host and sponsor for the event. The Pontiac organization, a relatively new one here, is a chapter member of the National Miniature Race Car Association.

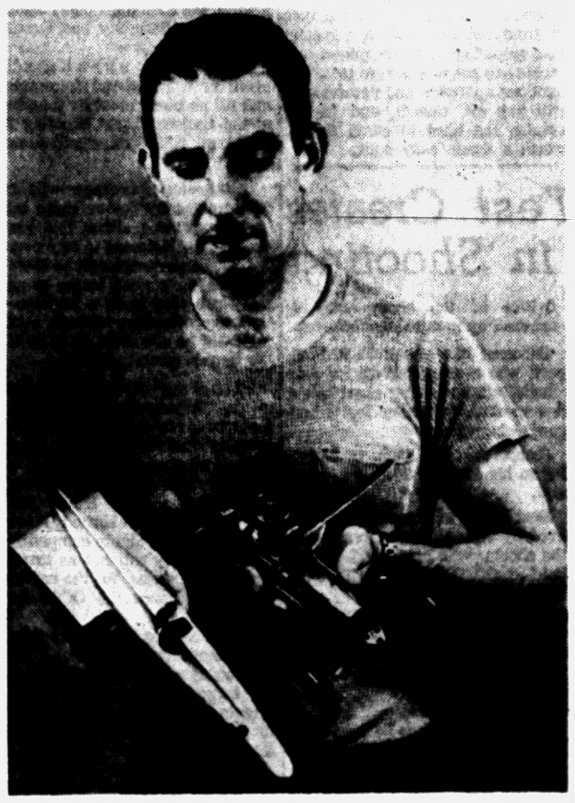

Four classes of cars are slated for competition—the .29-inch (engine displacement) class, the .19-inch bevel gear drive, the .19-inch spur gear drive, and the .09-inch class. The only restricted class is the 19 bevel gear group, which must race within its own type. All other divisions are unlimited.

The tiny cars, averaging about one foot in length with a maximum of 15 inches, are designed and built by their owners. Each car runs singly on a circular ribbon of cement a foot wide over a track measuring 35 feet in diameter and 109 feet in circumference.

Speed is electrically timed during the six-lap route, which covers one-eigth of a mile. Contestants this year will be shooting at a record 108.70 miles per hour, set last year by Pontiac's H. S. Briggs.

Briggs, national representative for the Pontiac chapter, will be track marshal. The PMRCA's officers are Johnny Heitsch, president; Robert Moore, vice-president; Phil Sauer, treasurer; and Gene Lowery, secretary. The PMRCA welcomes new members and all ages are eligible.

North Side skating rink, scene of the races, is located at the corner of Montcalm and Edison. Races will officially start shortly after 12 noon, with warmups scheduled in the late morning. Public is invited. There is no charge.

If you stand too close to the ball there is much greater danger of doing just that—of coming across the ball from the outside-in. But if you have to reach for the ball just a little, the clubface at impact

But this isn't the whole answer on slicing. Factors other than stance can create an outside-in downswing. One is taking the clubhead back outside line of flight you want on the backswing. It should be taken away along, or slightly inside, the line of flight.

Another is "throwing the club from the top," or uncocking the wrists too early on the downswing.

Still a 3rd is allowing the hip turn to get too far ahead of the hands and clubhead on the downswing. But my point is that standing too close to the ball tends to aggravate all of these other mistakes.

Hall Throws 2nd No-Hitter to Highlight Softball Play

GMC's Doug Hall pitched his 2nd no-hit, no-run game within a week Tuesday night to highlight men's City Softball League play.

Last Wednesday Hall tossed a no-hitter at Riteway. Last night at Beaudette he turned the trick again, this time victimizing Ashland Flying Octane, as General Motors posted a 3-0 victory.

Shortstop Al Dennis preserved Hall's masterpiece by making a spectacular catch of Marshall MacIntosh's drive for the final out of the contest. Only three Ashland hitters reached base—a hit batsman, a walk and an error. Hall struck out 13.

GMC garnered six hits off Clarence Beers and scored single runs in the 2nd, 3rd and 6th frames. Doubles by J. C. Jenkins and Fay Douglas were the only extra base blows.

Drive-In Cleaners clubbed North Side Service, 9-3, at Beaudetete, in a National loop battle for 2nd place. Pat Ryan hurled four-hit ball for the Cleaners and his mates gave him lusty support with nine hits.

American league runner-up, Stadium Inn, trampled Bicmar, 12-4, at North Side Park. The Stadium batters collected 13 blows in support of five-hit hurling by Ed Miller, who fanned nine opponents. Only bright spot for Bicmar was Jack Ganzel's 5th-inning home run, his 2nd in as many nights.

In girls' league action last night at North Side, Shaw's Jewelers came from behind to hand league-leading Giles Realty its 1st setback of the season, 7-5. Shaw's girls tallied three runs in the 6th stanza to wipe out a 5-4 deficit. Big blow of the winning rally was a triple by Gertie Walsh, clearing the sacks.

Boring's Pair Favored

Northville Track Sees This Year as Best Season

Northville Downs, with an average nightly pari-mutuels handle of $252.070 for the first 14 nights, seems heading for its best season since the pioneer harness track opened 12 years ago.

Nightly average is $20.213 more than it was last year and $12.236 above the 1953 figure, the highest previous record. In 1954 the average was $231,857 and in 1953 it was $239,834.

The 38 night meeting will continue through Aug. 6. Following the Governor's Cup Trot last Friday, the next $10,000 event will be the Michigan Pacing Derby on Friday, July 22.

Trabert, Bitsy Grant Play in Clay Courts' Feature

ATLANTA (AP) — Barring more rain, the feature attraction of the National Clay Court Tennis Tournament will continue today — Tony Trabert of Cincinnati, the Wimbledon champion, versus Bitsy Grant of Atlanta.

A late afternoon shower interrupted the match yesterday just as Trabert won the first game of the second set after taking the first set 6-2.

Trabert, fresh from his triumph in England, was playing like a champion. But he was playing a man who won the first of three national clay court titles the year Trabert was born.

Greying Bitsy Grant, now 45, one of the game's great retrievers in his prime, carried Trabert to deuce four times in eight games. In the seventh game he broke Tony's service and won without losing a point.

Bernard Bartzen, defending champion from San Angelo, Tex., advanced to the fourth round with little trouble, together with six other seeded players. Bartzen faced 14-year-old Ned Neely of Atlanta in the fourth round.

* * *

Ham Richardson of Baton Rouge, La., seeded second behind Trabert, with a bye and a default, whipped Barry McCay of Akron, Ohio, 6-2, 6-2. He will meet the winner of the Tim Coss-Calhoun Dickson match.

Long-Distance Hitting

Giants in a game early in 1939 smashed out five home runs in a single inning, the 4th. The feat was duplicated 10 years later in 1949 when the Phils hit five circuits in the 8th; Seminick getting two of them.

Speedway Resumes Hardtop Contests

Hardtops return to the Pontiac Speedway tonight and one objective will likely be foremost for Land O'Lakes Racing Association hardtoppers—stop Benny Howell.

Howell cleaned up 3 25-lap feature events last weekend, winning Saturday's "double header" at Pontiac Speedway and taking Sunday's feature at Gay-Day Speedway. Races tonight at the M59 track starting at 8:30 p.m., after qualifying at 7 o'clock.

Writer Defends Alligators; Local Fishing Remains Good

By JACK PATTERSON

We have, so far, remained aloof from the Great Alligator Controversy and might be expected to do so but for the fact that the whole business is being handled so absurdly. The hue and cry, hunt to the death attitude is not only very bad form, but quite contrary to the proper approach to handling alligators in Oakland County, an area in which they are traditionally scarce.

PATTERSON

Suppose for a moment that an alligator, or alligators, did inhabit a local lake. Should every effort be bent in the direction of doing it, or them in? Certainly not. Any local lake would be greatly benefitted by the presence of one or more of the armored beasts.

They could be counted upon to feed heavily on noxious fish, and would liven up otherwise dull nights with their bellows when the spirit moved them.

In addition to their obvious value as conversation pieces, the alligators have considerable worth commercially. They must have. The last alligator belt we bought cost 15 bucks. Some of the lakes around here would seem better fitted for raising alligators than any of the other uses commonly associated with lakes, too. As a clincher, roasted alligator tail is quite a delicacy.

* * *

It is, therefore, with considerable regret that we must flatly announce that there "ain't no" alligators in Island Lake, Lower Long Lake, or for that matter, in any local lake.

Objects frequently mistaken for alligators in local waters: Large snapping turtles, two muskrats swimming in column, divers waterfowl, alligators.

Before the county became overrun with saurians, there used to be lots of talk about, and some actual fishing hereabouts. We should like to announce that there are a few diehards left, like Ed Ladd, who can take a limit of bass and panfish on a crawler harness in jig time.

* * *

This rig is increasing in popularity every year, and the principal reason for its success is that it forces the fisherman to properly lay the worm out in a fore and aft position, rather than to ball it up like a wad of spaghetti.

* * *

County fishing continues to be good for all local species. On the northern front, advance scout Lynn Allen reports that major Mayfly hatches are over in the Lower Peninsula, but are going full tilt in the Upper.

End of the big hatches does not signal the close of good trout fishing, although it pretty much concludes the easy fishing. But the grasshopper season is coming in and some of the season's best fishing (and biggest fish) lie ahead for the user of natural or imitation 'hoppers.

Low water fishing is really the finest, although most exacting type of trout angling. Fish are spooky and suspicious, and technique and tackle are put to a severe test. The cautious approach and careful cast will pay off, though, and in our opinion the hard to catch fish is worth a dozen easy ones.

U.S. Skeet Test Creates New Interest in Shooting

Glamour of the national skeet shooting matches, that will come to Oakland county in September, and the nearness of the Chief Pontiac Open (July 23 and 24) is attracting many new shooters to the scene of the nationals.

Registered shoots at other Michigan cities always attract the seasoned shooters, but activities at the home club is sparked by new shooter interest.

Best round of the weekend was fired by veteran Jack Greathouse, the shooter who built the 1st skeet field at OCSC back in 1947. Jack had a perfect 25x25.

Jack Stoppert, 19-18-20-18; Ruth Stoppert, 11-12; Robert White, 19-20-20-19; William Bosserman, 21-22-14-13-13; L. Van Dewater, 21-22-18-22; V. Van Dewater, 23-22-15-21; J. Mulligan, 12; Walt Mason, 16-20; Lew Borer, 22-15; Art Lawson, 20-15; Jesse Coon, 10; Roy Johnston, 9; Jack Greathouse, 25-21; John Chiera, 21; Wally Blyde, 10; Hugo Licht, 7; J. Gates, 17-16; C. E. PHA Holds 2-Day Show at Metamora

Sunday's program offers 18 classes, including the Copeland Memorial, for junior horsemanship. Cricket Cup for ladies' working hunters and the Verheyden Cup for amateurs are other features. Best in show will also be named Sunday.

Firefighters Near Victory in Huge Forest Blazes

An estimated 2,000 firefighters apparently were winning their battle today against forest fires that have swept 23,000 acres in Colorado, Arizona and Wyoming.

Supervisor W. M. Beveridge of Prescott National Forest, about 90 miles northwest of Phoenix, Ariz., said 700 men made more progress yesterday in fighting a 1,900-acre fire than at any time since the blaze started last Friday.

"We feel that the most critical spots along the perimeter of the fire have been controlled, but we want to be sure there is no possibility of the fire escaping before we report it controlled," he said.

A 33-acre fire in Yellowstone National Park and a 150-acre blaze on Sleeping Ute Mountain in southwestern Colorado were controlled yesterday after two days of fighting.

Wheat Tumbles; Others Easier

CHICAGO (AP)—Wheat fell back on the Board of Trade today and other cereals had a slightly easier undertone.

Dealings again were active in wheat. Part of the pressure came from local traders and part represented hedging by terminals. The market lacked the support of large mill buying, which has been a feature of recent sessions.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ⅝ to 1½ lower, July $2.00⅛; corn unchanged to ⅜ lower, July $1.40⅛; oats ¼ to ½ lower, July 61½; rye ¾ to 1 cent lower, July 99½; soybeans 1¾ lower to ¼ higher, July $2.39, and lard 13 to 17 cents a hundred pounds higher, July $12.10.

Packard Offers Air Conditioner to Cost $652

DETROIT (AP) — A new air conditioning system for its luxury line of cars was announced today by Packard Division of Studebaker-Packard Corp.

Packard, which pioneered in research and development work with a unit as long ago as 1939, described the new system as offering the most efficient "heat load responsive" performance ever achieved.

Operation of the system is thermostatically controlled. It has outlets at the upper portion of the instrument panel or at floor level as desired. All components are located under the cowl or the engine compartment.

Packard said that installed with an improved fresh air heater the combination will sell for $652.

Steels mixed, motors mixed, rubbers down, aircrafts steady, radio-televisions mixed, utilities steady, coppers down, chemicals mostly lower, railroads lower, oils unchanged to lower, and tobaccos higher.

A block of 18,200 shares of Avco traded at 7 up ⅛. The stock yesterday was the second most active up ¼.

Edison, Utility Union Resume Contract Talks

DETROIT (AP) — Talks have resumed in the contract dispute between the CIO utility workers and the Detroit Edison Co.

The Michigan Labor Mediation Board brought the two parties together yesterday for the first time since last week. Another meeting was set for today.

The current contract has been extended twice since June 1 and now is due to expire July 31. It covers about 3,700 members.

Edison said it has offered about the same package granted the United Auto Workers by Ford and General Motors, but without the layoff pay plan. It said layoffs are not a problem in the utility field.

Local 223 President Martin O'Dell said the two sides were disagreeing about at least six items. He did not say what they were.

TODAY'S ASSIGNMENT FOR:

JUNIOR EDITORS

FAMOUS CHILDREN'S PAINTINGS—3

The Age of Innocence

The picture hangs in the National Art Gallery in London, where thousands of children see it every year. A story is told about a little American girl who saw the picture there, and ran up to it and said: "I know that little girl." She smiled as though the girl in the painting were one of her friends from home. Her experience shows just how much the picture means to all children.

Color today's picture as though you were the artist who painted it—selecting the colors that you think are best for the little girl and the English countryside around her. Cut it out and save it with your collection of famous paintings of children.

Car Production May Hit Record

Special Market Offers Appear in Sales Field as Dealers Cut Stock

DETROIT (AP) — Passenger car production and sales may hit new records for July.

So far this month the factories have been producing at a rate that promises a total for July of approximately 650,000 units. Sales, meanwhile, are reported at better than average July volume.

The sales drive, of course, is aimed at cleaning up outgoing models before 1956 cars begin coming from factores. New car buyers continue to shop around for the best possible price discounts and trade in allowances.

Here and there in the car market special inducements are being offered to stimulate sales. Prepaid airplane trips to Europe, prepaid plane trips to the factory city to get delivery of the new car, some offers of free accessoris and a few instances of extraordinary credit terms have been reported.

But these inducements apparently are far from general about the country. Certainly they do not appear to have become sufficiently widespread to indicate a general trend toward the wild selling drives of the last couple of outgoing model clean up periods.

SALES DRIVE

Obviously a revival of such sales drives on a widespread basis cannot be ruled out at this point. The industry has less than three months to go before new models will begin coming out in volume. Several manufacturers, meanwhile, will continue to make 1955 models in large numbers.

So the retailing division will have a lot of current models to sell before moving into the 1956 model year.

Fortunately for the over-all car market used cars generally have been moving in substantial volume. Ward's automotive reports in a recent survey of the used car business said franchised new car dealers were selling nearly a million traded-in cars monthly.

It added that so far as the franchised dealers were concerned they were not greatly worried by their used car inventories.

The trade publication said that from 70 to 75 per cent of this year's new car sales so far involved tradeins. The new car dealers, of course, do not attempt to sell all their tradeins at retail. In many instances they dispose of them at wholesale prices to used car dealers.

LITTLE PROFIT

The retailer usually makes little profit on these transactions, but he does reduce his used car inventory.

In the pre-war days new model changeovers meant prolonged factory shutdowns to permit dealers to dispose of their outgoing models. But that was before competition among the car makers reached its present level.

It appears now that with perhaps a couple of exceptions the model changeover shutdowns will be limited to the time actually required for the installation of new machine tools and other required equipment. And in some instances even this work will be hastened to get new models on dealer's floors with a minimum of delay.

These two major producers, engaged in a tough battle for top place in production and sales, say their dealer inventories will not require production cutbacks.

Train Smashes Car, Hurts Two

SOUTH LYON—Two women were injured yesterday at noon when their car was struck by a Grand Trunk Western Freight train at the S. Lafayette street crossing.

The driver of the car, Mrs. Nellie Weideman, 64, 310 W. Lake St., and her passenger, Mrs. Wilbur (Mabel) Tapp, 75, were taken to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor.

The car was dragged about 100 feet after Mrs. Tapp was thrown clear by the impact of the train, which was traveling seven to ten miles an hour.

The wife of the South Lyon Police Chief, Mrs. John Neel, said the train had just started up in reverse after switching boxcars when the accident occurred.

Mrs. Weideman is being treated for bruises and lacerations of the left arm. Mrs. Tapp, a Pontiac Press correspondent, suffered a possible broken nose and other injuries.

The railroad crossing was not equipped with a warning signal. When police asked them for a statement in the hospital, the two women said they didn't know what had happened.

Judge Requests Quiet to Preserve His Peace

HOBBS, N.M. (AP)—This notice has been posted on the wall of Municipal Judge Robert L. Bensing's office at City Hall:

"While in this office, speak in low, soothing tone and do not disagree with me in any manner.

"Please be informed that when one has reached my age, noise and nonconcurrence cause gastric hyper-peristalsis, hyper-secretion of hydrochloric acid and inflammation of the gastric mucosa, and "I become unpleasant."

Stars Blamed by Management

By JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK (INS)—The management of "What's My Line?" hit by a drastic drooping in the ratings, called a "conference" of its panelists and John Daly, to see what might be done about an alleged mood of "complacency" creeping into the venerable question bee.

The sole improvement thus far has been the purchase of a new stage setting for the game.

But speaking of "conferences" called by the Goodson-Todman interests, whose deployment of panels around TV networks has been widespread, we would suggest they simply call a conference among themselves and stop killing their golden goose, "What's My Line?"

Although Goodson-Todman charge the blame to the complacency of the panelists, perhaps they should have studied their own methods of lifting their very own panel design and placing it all over the channels under other names which, boiled down, turn out to be just copies of "What's My Line?"

SAME FORMAT USED

"I've got a Secret," the Goodson-Todman quizcast which passed "What's My Line?" in the ratings recently, is just another pale switch on the John Daly-moderated original.

Now they have tried again with something called "Make the Connection." This also is a fuzzy carbon of "What's My Line?"

Jim McKay, its moderator, is derived from John Daly; Gloria de Haven and Betty White whack up counter-parts of Dorothy Kilgallen and Arlene Francis, Gene Klavan and Eddie Bracken make like Bennett Cerf and Fred Allen.

* * *

Eddie Bracken turns out to be something actually special in panelists. He has humor, intelligence, wit and a strange item to elicit from a low comedian when mixing with the laity, actual stature. He stuck out like a sorely needed notice of importance.

But to conclude our original cautioning note, the management should hesitate before socking Daly, Kilgallen, Allen, Cerf, Francis & Co. for "complacency."

Julius La Rosa started a new CBS-TV series built around top popular tunes Saturday evening. And over in NBC-TV George Goebel's summer sub was having its premiere.

Julius was his now-customary easy and musicianly self, emceeing an agreeable 30-minutes of good music, interrupted occasionally by other acts, including Georgia Gibbs.

Jonathan Winters, a comedian of amazing versatility in the field of broad satire and burlesque of virtually anything anywhere, headed the Gobel replacement and delivered a generous helping of excruciatingly funny faces, sounds and wonderfull perceptive comic analysis.

* * *

June Christy, who has a justified hold on the progressive music fans, sang several pieces which struck us as magnificent modernism.

TV Contestant Heeds the Bible, Accepts $32,000

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. Catherine Kreitzer took a cue from the Bible and last night declined to risk her $32,000 TV quiz show winnings on the chance of doubling her money.

Her knowledge of the Bible had given the 54-year-old grandmother from Camp Hill, Pa., answers to questions that enabled her to acquire the $32,000 in three previous appearances on the CBS show The $64,000 Question.

* * *

Last night she had the choice of taking her winnings thus far or trying another question, which, if answered correctly, would have won her the top prize of $64,000. If she had missed the answer, she would have gotten an automobile as a consolation prize.

For a moment it appeared that she would take the chance. She told Hal March, the master of ceremonies, that she felt pretty confident she could answer the final question. The studio audience burst into excited applause.

* * *

When the applause died down, however, she added that she would heed the biblical quotation—"Let your moderation be known to all men"—and would be satisfied with the $32,000.

Wife-Actress No Picnic Says 'Picnic' Lead Actor

By EMILY BELSER

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—All the world may love a screen lover, but boy, look out if you take one of 'em home for keeps—especially an actress!

Actor Arthur O'Connell thinks they make the world's worst wives and next to the world's worst companions.

O'Connell is the mild-mannered guy who gives Roz Russell the old heave-ho when she begs him to marry her in the film version of the Pulitzer prize-winning play, "Picnic."

Roz, who plays an old maid in the film gets down on her poor old knees and pleads for the sweet sound of wedding bells—probably the first time in screen history such a scene has been filmed.

A CHOICE ROLE

"I've waited all my life to play a scene like this," O'Connell declared, "because it's the way I really feel. Actresses are too darned much trouble.

"Actor-actress marriages turn into one big competition bout and if you land opposite the little woman in a play or movie that's the bitter end.

"She cue-bites you, steals every scene and usually winds up doing the hanky bit (wiping her non-sweaty brow) while you give out with your best speech in the show!"

The New York-born stage actor—a bachelor, naturally—admitted that some people might owe their small success to a loving spouse but he owes his bit to a plug-ugly China cat named "Adelaide" and a dog named "Schlemiel."

OVERCAME AILMENT

Earlier in his career, Arthur had a bout with encephalitis that left him with a disastrous stutter. He hated people at this point so he turned all his social instincts toward his dachshund, Schlemiel.

"I talked to the dog so much," he said, "that I finally lost my stutter. Now what wife could have kept quiet long enough to accomplish that?"

O'Connell, a product of 25 years of C-movies, numerous stage flops and starvation jobs as a soda jerk, department store errand boy and magazine salesman, gets his biggest break in "Picnic."

Engine Wear Reduced 40% with New Trop-Artic Motor Oil

IT'S PERFORMANCE THAT COUNTS!
The difference in piston ring wear illustrated above proves an important point about the performance of motor oils:
Most engine wear occurs when you first start your car or under stop-and-go driving conditions with an engine that hasn't warmed up. It takes a very special kind of oil to flow quickly and protect your motor when you start, and then to protect moving parts from sludge and varnish after the engine heats up. Trop-Artic All-Weather Motor Oil gives you this double protection. It won't get too thick, nor too thin. That's why, compared to older types of oils, it can even double engine life.
In a motor oil it's performance that counts. And Trop-Artic gives super performance all year around! You'll get easier starting . . . you'll save gasoline . . . and you can save 15% to 45% on oil consumption. Prove it for yourself! Get Trop-Artic Motor Oil from your Phillips 66 Dealer.

Reds Getting Hungry

WASHINGTON (UP)—Failure to supply the public with enough meat and animal fats is giving Hungarian Communist officials problems with profiteering, the U.S. Information Agency reports. The shortages have resulted in sales by farmers of meat and meat animals at exorbitant prices, and state quotas are consequently not being met.

An estimated 85 per cent of all the cattlemen in the U.S. are small operators, owning and grazing 200 or less head of cattle.

What—Not Speeding?
