Cooler Air Will End 10-Day Heat Siege Tonight

PW Exchange to End Sunday

SOON TIME FOR BOOKS, AND THINGS—There's a reason for Fido's sorrow, because he knows his pals soon will have little time for him, or at least not as much as during the recent, lazy weeks. This posed picture in Topeka gives a preview of coming events. Pontiac's parochial schools open next Wednesday and public schools on Thursday.

Last Prisoner Likely Will Be General Dean

Reds and Allies Made Pact Today to Finish Up Repatriation Job

PANMUNJOM (AP)—The Communists and the United Nations Command today agreed to complete the prisoner exchange by Sunday.

The Communists at a meeting of the Repatriation Commission said that if for some reason they were unable to meet the Sunday deadline they would notify the U. N. Command before noon Saturday.

This means the early exchange of Maj. Gen. William Dean, the highest ranking Allied captive in Red hands. He now is at nearby Kaesong and it is believed he will be the last prisoner exchanged.

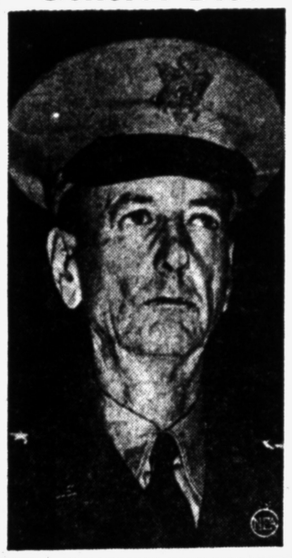

The U. N. command representative told the Communists he thought both sides should conclude the exchange the same day. The command previously had announced it could wind up its exchange by Sunday.

The Communists then agreed to finish by Sunday, barring unforeseen difficulties. The Reds after the three-hour meeting turned over a roster of Communist prisoners they said still were in Allied stockades and demanded they be turned over before Sunday.

Presumably, these are some of the tougher Red prisoners, Chinese as well as North Koreans, some of whom led bloody prisoner riots on Koje Island. The Reds have accused the Allies of holding back these prisoners.

The Communists have still to repatriate 210 prisoners, including 197 Americans, out of the 4,597 non-Korean prisoners promised. They also still have 458 South Korean prisoners. However, the Reds have said more prisoners than promised would be turned over, including those captured late in the war.

General Dies

GEN. JONATHAN WAINWRIGHT

Nation Mourns Hero's Death

Gen. Wainright's Body Will Lie in State at Nation's Capitol

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—The nation mourned one of its greatest, perhaps the greatest of all, World War II heroes today as plans went ahead for the funeral of Gen. Jonathan M. Wainwright.

The gaunt, 70-year-old Wainwright died in Brooke Army Hospital here yesterday at 12:27 p.m. Doctors said rough treatment he received as a prisoner of the Japanese contributed to his death.

In Washington, Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, Army Chief of Staff, said, "The nation has lost one of its great soldiers." He described Wainwright as "a man who exemplified throughout more than 40 years of active military duty the best traditions of the service."

Roger M. Kyes, acting secretary of defense, said he knew of "no man who sacrificed himself more in the interest and welfare of his command. His exemplary conduct in the face of insurmountable odds made him unique in that small group of great field-commanders."

Wainwright died on the eighth anniversary of his greatest glory. That was when—after more than three years as a captive of the Japanese—he stepped out beside Gen. Dougles MacArthur, whom he had relieved in the Philippines, and took the Japanese surrender that ended the war.

Today at the Fort Sam Houston chapel here, Maj. Gen. Haydon L. Boatner, acting commanding general of the 4th Army and 4th Army staff members will pay their respects to the old soldier in special services.

The body will lie in state in the nation's capitol for a short time before graveside services at Arlington National Cemetery, either Sunday or Monday. The procession from the capitol will proceed up Pennsylvania and Constitution avenues to Memorial Bridge and thence to Arlington, where most of the nation's heroes rest.

Oven Weather Costs 114 Lives Across Country

Heat and Humidity Still Hold Vise-Like Grip on Much of Nation

(By the Associated Press)

A mass of cool air — the first welcome relief from the prolonged heat wave—moved into the midsection of the country today.

But in the eastern quarter the heat, and in some sections humidity, held a vise-like grip on the weather.

The heat spell was nearly two weeks old in some sections east of the Continental Divide. However, in most places it was in its 10th day today.

At least 114 deaths were attributed to the high temperatures, which set records almost daily in every state of the swelter belt. Millions of dollars in crops were ruined by the sun and lack of moisture.

The cool air moved into Montana, Wyoming and Colorado Wednesday night. Snow, sleet and ice forced closing of an entrance to Yellowstone National Park. Temperatures dropped to freezing and just above that mark.

Rain and winds up to 60 miles an hour hit Denver yesterday, dropping the temperature from mid-80 to 49 degrees.

Part of the cool air moved into the Dakotas and eastward as far as the Indiana-Illinois line. Some rain accompanied the cooling breezes.

In New York City, by contrast, residents had an early start on what the Weather Bureau said probably would be the hottest Sept. 3 in its 82-year history. The temperature was 89 at 10 a.m. and was expected to go beyond 90 for the 10th successive day.

The Chicago Weather Bureau said the east probably will continue to swelter until the weekend.

The cool air mass is not moving fast, as indicated by the forecast for Midwest areas today. Chicago, wilted after two straight days of 101 and readings of 95 or higher since Aug. 25, was in the path of the expected cool air.

However, before it arrives, temperatures in the Midwest metropolis today were expected to reach

Ferndale POW on Freed List

Sgt. W. J. Huff Held Since May '51; 6 Other State Men Return

A Ferndale sergeant was among seven Michigan soldiers in a contingent of 89 Americans freed by the Reds last night at Panmunjom.

Over 3,000 Americans, including more than 100 Michigan men, have been returned to Freedom Village since "Operation Big Switch" began slightly less than a month ago.

Sgt. Wilfred J. Ruff, the son of Mrs. Mary Mann of 2130 Wrenson, Ferndale, was released after being held captive since May 18, 1951. He entered the Army in 1950.

"It's like him being reborn," said Mrs. Mann when she heard the good news.

"He was the son of my first marriage, but my husband, Frank, looks on him as if he were his own son," she added. Sgt. Ruff served with the 2nd Division.

The other Michigan men freed were:

Pfc. Grahame O. McArthur, son of Mrs. M. L. McArthur of Grand Rapids.

M. Sgt. Richard W. Darling, son of Frank Darling, Grand Rapids.

M. Sgt. Harold L. McKibben, whose wife, Patricia, lives in Muskegon.

Sgt. 1. C. David T. Ellenberger, whose wife, Mary Catherine, lives in Detroit.

Sgt. 1. C. Anthony J. Lukasik Jr., son of Anthony J. Lukasik of Detroit.

M. Sgt. Paul M. Ellison, son of Mrs. Margaret Roberson of Kalamazoo.

The return of Pfc. McArthur and Sgt. Darling left but a single Grand Rapids soldier still officially listed as a prisoner of war. He is Lt. Charles Wysoczynski, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wysoczynski.

Pontiac Roasts at 101 Degrees on Wednesday

Temperatures May Fall to High 80s With Rains Bringing Relief

Tonight is expected to end the record-smashing ten-day heat siege that sent the mercury to 101 degrees Wednesday in one of the hottest September days in Pontiac's history.

The longest string of 90-and-over days in Michigan records kept Pontiac gasping again today as the thermometer reached 98 by 2 p. m. to beat the all-time record of 95 set Sept. 3, 1898.

It was the third daily record broken since the weekend.

But the U. S. Weather Bureau predicts cooler air will cruise across Michigan from the Minnesota-Iowa area tonight to keep Friday's top temperature down to 86 to 90.

Showers and thundershowers tonight will herald the cool front's entrance, with mercury dropping to a low of 62 to 68 degrees. Friday will be partly cloudy, reports the weather bureau.

For perspiring Michigan, relief can't come too soon.

Temperatures climbed to 100 degrees in many areas Wednesday, with Port Huron reporting 104.

School children at Merrill in Saginaw County were dismissed for the week, and Woodland Township Agricultural School classes were cut to half-day sessions. A heat walkout by door hangers forced Chrysler Corp. to shut down its Jefferson-Kerchival plants in Detroit.

Promise of rain tonight cheered farmers in Oakland County and their neighbors across the state, worrying about crops which showed signs of drying out under the blazing sun.

For three days this week, Pontiac's heat-mad mercury strove to beat the previous day's record.

Monday's high of 96 degrees was bettered by two degrees in Tuesday's 98, which smashed the all-time record of 96 for that date in 1943. The thermometer then braced itself for a skyrocketing climb to 101 degrees at 2:50 p.m. Wednesday — smashing another all-

Commies Say Gen. Dean to Be Freed in Few Days

PANMUNJOM (AP)—Maj. Gen. William F. Dean, who won a Medal of Honor battling Reds beside his men, will be freed from captivity in a few days, the Communists said today.

Red China's Peiping Radio and a Communist newsman said the 54-year-old soldier is at nearby Kaesong, the door out of Communist imprisonment.

Dean was reported held in a special villa, apart from other POWs awaiting repatriation, still apparently in the solitary confinement he has endured since he was captured.

Since the Korean War prisoner exchange began a month ago, there has been intense speculation when the now-gray general would be released.

Communist correspondent Wilfred Burchett of the Paris L'Humanite said Dean is "fit, in good health, and in good spirits and tanned."

A U. N. Command spokesman said he had no information when Dean would be released, but South Korean Maj. Gen. Choi Suk told newsmen the Reds had said Dean would be re-

Seven Indicted in Juke Box Quiz

Leader of Union Local Among Men Accused of Extortion

DETROIT (AP) — Seven persons were charged with extortion today in indictments returned by a one-man labor rackets grand jury which investigated the juke box business.

One of those named was William E. Bufalino, president of Local 985 of the AFL Teamsters Union—the so-called juke box union. In addition to juke box owners and servicemen, the local includes car washers, parking lot employes and race track workers.

Hoffman and Rep. Wint Smith (R-Kan), chairman of the House Labor Committee, came here as a subcommittee to investigate reports of "labor racketeering."

Named with Bufalino were:

Vincent A. Meli, 32, Bufalino's brother-in-law and operator of the Meltone Music Co. Here, one of Michigan's biggest juke box operators.

Louis Fisher, 33, owner of the Fisher Music Co. Here.

Leonard Monteleone, 35, former bartender. He once was charged with theft of a juke box from a bar but the case was dismissed.

Cecil Watts, 49, Teamsters Union business agent. He was convicted in 1948 of conspiracy to violate state labor laws as a result of a previous grand jury investigation.

Lawrence John Welsh, 24, Local 985 business agent.

Wilson Explains Aircraft Slash

To Clear Way for New Type Planes, Will Not Affect Production

ST. LOUIS (AP) —Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson said today the Air Force is canceling orders for about one billion dollars worth of aircraft to clear the way for purchase of different type planes which are more essential.

The secretary, here to address the American Legion Convention, said the action in canceling orders for about 1,000 aircraft was taken "on the initiative and recommendation of the Air Force itself."

The action, Wilson said, won't affect the current rate of production, currently about 1,000 planes a month.

Wilson said that while the cutback in the Air Force's previous buying plans was not ordered by any of the top officials of the Defense Department, he was glad to learn about it because "it shows that the Air Force now is operating efficiently."

Michigan OKs GM Gas Use

Permits Consolidated to Supply Fuel to Plant at Willow Run

LANSING (AP) — The Michigan Public Service Commission today had speeded the beginning of General Motors transmission production at Willow Run by authorizing a supply of natural gas.

The commission permitted the Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. to pipe 21 million cubic feet of gas to the plant for heat treating. The gas company will start laying a main to the plant from Ypsilanti at once, it told the commission.

The gas company was permitted to take on General Motors as a firm industrial customer. This means that the supply cannot be cut off when supplies are short.

General Motors officials reported they had to replace electric heat treating furnaces at the burned out Livonia transmission plant with gas because the electric models could not be delivered for some time.

The company supplies gas to homes and industries in Detroit, Ann Arbor, Ypsilanti, Grand Rapids, Muskegon, Greenville and Belding.

Man Blasting Stumps Injured by Dynamite

A 33-year-old Lake Orion man was hospitalized yesterday when a stick of dynamite exploded as he approached the stump under which it was placed.

Charles Mann, of 507 Belleview, Lake Orion, suffered head cuts, injuries to both eyes and concussion. He was reported in good condition today in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Mann told Oakland County sheriff's deputies he was clearing out some stumps near the home of P. J. Thomas, 2875 Indian Lake Rd., when one of the sticks of dynamite failed to explode.

As he approached the dynamite to find out the trouble, it blew up, he added.

Conductors Call Off September 10 Strike

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government today announced the Order of Railway Conductors has canceled a strike called for Sept. 10.

The National Mediation Board said that representatives of the carriers and the conductors union has agreed to postpone negotiations on the issue until after Oct. 1.

That is the date other major railroad unions are expected to file new demands for increased pay and improved working conditions.

U. S. Draft Cut Canceled Until Peace Is Assured

WASHINGTON (UP) — The Defense Department has canceled a scheduled cut in Army manpower and will continue drafting men at about the present rate until stable peace is achieved in Korea, it was learned today.

A high Pentagon official said the administration has decided it would be foolhardy to weaken the U. S. military position in the Far East simply because a truce has been signed.

The Defense Department previously had believed the Korean truce would make it possible to trim the Army's strength by 50,000 men, and thus reduce draft calls from the current level of 23,000 a month to about 19,000 a month starting in November.

But the Pentagon official said the November draft call, not yet officially announced, will be for 23,000 men.

He said draft calls will remain at that level—barring an increase in enlistments—unless or until it appears that "a firm agreement" has been reached with the Communists at the forthcoming Korean political conference.

The 50,000 cut in Army strength would have been in addition to a reduction of 100,000 men planned as an economy move before the Korean truce was signed.

The Defense Department originally felt a truce in Korea would allow a slowdown in replacements to Korea, thus permitting an additional 50,000 man cut.

The official said, however, the original plans were based on the premise that it would be possible to transfer whole units out of Korea. Instead, he said, the department has decided to continue replacement on an individual basis in order not to weaken U. S. strength in Korea.

Redeemer Lutheran Church notified the City Commission this week that it had no objection to the city's plan to rezone its business-zoned church property to single residence.

Commissioners agreed last month that Redeemer Lutheran and the First Presbyterian Church should not be assessed in the 1955 Maple paving program providing their business-zoned property was rezoned.

Residential property will not be assessed but business-zoned property will. A hearing on the rezoning has been set for Sept. 14.

Commissioners this week set a hearing for Oct. 12 on the Plan Board's final recommendation to rezone all business A zoned property on the east side of Adams road north of Lincoln to the Porritt property, to income bungalow.

Plan Director Robert Boatman said the board based its recommendation on the following reasons:

1. The existing character of the area is residential.

2. If the area is left as business A, there may be a further breakdown of the residential character by the addition of commercial fronts on the existing residences.

3. The lots are platted to face each other and would side on the commercial property to the west, thus reducing the effect of this commercial use.

Birmingham May Have Critical Water Situation

If drought conditions continue to prevail, Birmingham's water shortage may become critical, according to Fire Chief Vern W. Griffith.

Pennsylvania Waives Larceny Examination

Robert VanValen, 22, of Scranton, Pa., waived examination on a grand larceny charge Wednesday before Farmington Municipal Judge John J. Schulte and was returned to Oakland County Jail under $1,000 bond to await arraignment in Circuit Court Sept. 11.

State Police of the Redford Post said VanValen stole a television set from a motel in the Farmington area last spring.

The Vermont legislature in 1895 made the red clover the official state flower. Oddly enough, this is not a native of Vermont but was "naturalized" from Europe.

$1,000,000 Dunham Project

Murray D. VanWagoner Heads Lake Homes Plan

Former Governor Murray D. VanWagoner, of Birmingham today was named head of the Dunham Lake Development Company's $1,000,000 lake-home expansion project.

Located two miles west of Highland off M-59 on the road to Howell, Dunham Lake (including the complete lake bottom) has been purchased by this company which plans eventually to develop between 600 to 1,000 acres in the area.

Dunham Lake long has been a bird and wildlife sanctuary and VanWagoner said this would be preserved, with no hunting allowed in the area.

Although located within the driving radius of the metropolitan area, this lake has remained practically untouched.

VanWagoner said they will begin soon their long-range plan with development of 120 acres. One-half acre lots will be sold and are to be restricted.

Unusual in development design, the project will have no lake front lots.

"Our plan is to retain 150 feet deep around the entire shoreline for a beautiful park to be used by the entire community," said VanWagoner.

Pointing to the many birds that annually seek sanctuary in this spot, he said part of the beauty of the project would be the birdlife they plan to preserve.

Outboard motors, too, said VanWagoner, will be prohibited on the lake, along with hunting.

Visioning a complete community of its own, he said the company is setting aside areas for a school, church or shopping center, according to the needs of the people who live in the area.

Associated with VanWagoner in the Dunham Lake Development Co. are Ruben Kowall, Detroit; Charles Porritt, formerly of Pontiac; Howard Mordeu, Highland Park and Myron Keyes of Detroit.

Golf Mart Reports $2,000 Goods Lost

BIRMINGHAM—Results of an inventory completed yesterday showed that over $2,000 in merchandise was stolen from the Golf Mart at 217 Pierce St. when the firm was broken into on Aug. 26, the store reported to police.

Over $1,000 in jewelry and appliances was taken along with golf equipment and accessories of about the same value, police said. Theft of $387.57 in cash had previously been reported.

The breakin followed a similar one at the store two months ago when $700 in merchandise and $300 in cash were lost.

Female Shrimp Tells of Her Past to Researchers

LIVERPOOL, England (AP) — M. N. Mistakidis came up today with a report on the female shrimp of the lower Thames river — and have they got a past!

Most of them, it seems, used to be males.

Mistakidis is experimental officer at the Burnham-on-Crouch fisheries laboratory. He said an examination of 5,000 shrimp showed the males turned into females just before their third birthday.

In a report prepared for the 115th annual meeting of the British Association for the Advancement of Science, Mistakidis said the cause of the sex change has stumped his researchers.

Commies May Free Gen. Dean Any Day

leased within a day or two. Choi is in charge of South Korean repatriation.

There were reports the Reds planned to release Dean with considerable propaganda fanfare, driving him to the Panmunjom exchange point in a special car rather than the trucks used for prisoners.

There also were reports that Gen. Mark Clark, U. N. Far East Commander, would fly from Tokyo to greet Dean.

Dean will be awarded the Republic of Korea's highest decoration by President Syngman Rhee.

Burchett said Dean has been at Kaesong, the Red prisoner collection point, three weeks with a special Chinese cook at his villa.

Burchett said he talked with Dean recently. He handed Associated Press correspondent Forrest Edwards some snapshots of the general — showing Dean in shorts, appearing thin but in good physical shape, with his white hair crew cut.

Questioning Two in Armed Robbery

Two 27-year-old Detroiters were turned over to Oakland County officers yesterday for investigation of armed robbery in connection with Tuesday's holdup of a gas station at Telegraph and 15-Mile Roads.

A message sent over the newly installed teletype system was credited by Sheriff Clare L. Hubbell for the early break in the case. They had been picked up in Detroit for questioning about a similar holdup there.

Both men, whose descriptions tally closely with that of the men who robbed attendant Harold Toft, 30, of $110, at knife-point, were to be in a show-up at the jail this morning and then face questioning by detectives Elmer McQuern and Loyal Wertz.

Clubs Working Fair Into Shape

Voters League Show to Dramatize Workings of County Government

BIRMINGHAM — The County Government Fair to be given by the League of Women Voters on Sept. 19, has been set up to present a general picture of Oakland County's operation to the public, and as much else as they can absorb, according to league member Mrs. Robert Silbar.

Shaping into true fair form, most of the men's service clubs and women's organizations taking part in the enterprise have already decided which phase of government their group will represent.

Each group will be responsible for a booth depicting one or more of the various county offices.

One example is a large map of Oakland County the Junior League will "electrify" by adding Christmas tree lights to represent each member of the Board of Supervisors and the lower strata of committees through which the supervisors work.

The county government committee of the LWV is hard at work setting up scale models of the group of county buildings and the Newcomers Club will be on hand to serve refreshments.

The Road Commission to be undertaken by Rotary, will have an exhibition of county road machinery set up outside the Birmingham High School gym, where the booths will be set up.

Keeping law and order in the county will be exemplified by a display of the sheriff's guns and equipment, under the direction of the Kiwanis Club. His posse will also be along.

The Lions Club will have a display on the drain commissioner, while the Office of Veterans Affairs will be handled by the Junior Chamber of Commerce. Calling themselves the "muscle men committee," the Jaycee's will also set up the exhibits.

Others responsible for a booth are the Exchange Club and the local government committee of the league.

Miscellaneous Taxes Estimated $303,025

BIRMINGHAM—An estimate of miscellaneous tax revenues for the 1953-54 fiscal year totaling $303,025 was submitted to the City Commission this week by W. J. Johnson, director of finance.

State-collected locally shared taxes estimated at $211,100 make up about two-thirds of the entire miscellaneous account, Johnson said.

Figures for other categories are: departmental $43,150; permits, $19,150; use of property, $16,925; licenses, $6,400; fines and penalties, $5,300; unclassified, $1,000.

Heat Wave Takes 114 Lives in Nation

98. The forecast for tomorrow was for "near 80" after a low of 62 tonight which, in view of the blistering heat, was regarded as a predicted cool snap.

Showers were expected to accompany the cooler air. Readings were 20 to 32 degrees lower yesterday in parts of Montana. It was 53 yesterday in Helena compared to a high of 85 on Tuesday. Sharp drops also were reported in parts of North Dakota.

One of the nation's hottest spots was Elmira, N.Y., which reported a reading of 107 in the downtown district. It was 104 in Kingston, N.Y., and many cities in New York state reported readings of above 100.

Pair Try TV Wrestling Hold; One Broken Arm

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Eleven-year-old George Manes and his sister Ellen, 13, sat down for a quiet evening of television last night.

A wrestling card flashed on the screen. Ellen caught George's right arm in a scissors lock, and it broke.

Their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Manes of Vernon, Tex., said they will stay around until the fracture heals.

Predicts 2 Million Cars on Road This Weekend

DETROIT (UP)—The Michigan Auto Club predicted today that more than 2,200,000 motor vehicles will travel Michigan Highways during the Labor Day weekend.

The club said a big traffic increase was expected in northern areas this year because of the current heat wave. It said travel peaks would be reached by 8 p.m. Friday and 5 p. m. Monday.

7 Auto Keys Stolen From Used Car Lot

Seven auto keys were the only items stolen from the R & S Auto Sales lot, 521 S. Saginaw St., which was broken into last night, according to Pontiac Police.

Owner of the used car lot, Ronald Cokley of 286 N. Saginaw St. told police that entry was gained by breaking a front-door window.

Sgt. Albert W. Foster Sr., head of the auto theft bureau, recently warned that youths were stealing auto keys from car lots during the day and returning at night to take the autos for joy rides.

Several youths, Sgt. Foster said, were turned over to juvenile authorities last week after admitting taking keys from another used car lot.

Casnovia Youngsters Apparently Touched Off Blast With Matches

CASNOVIA (UP)—A 7-year-old boy was killed and his little sister and brother were injured today when an empty gasoline drum exploded near the family home.

State Police reported Stephen Schutter, 7, was killed instantly. His sister, Alice, 5, and brother, Melvin, 10, were taken to Hackley Hospital in Muskegon. Melvin was described in a critical condition.

According to authorities the children were apparently playing with matches when the explosion occurred near the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Schutter of Casnovia.

Ex-POW Returns to Tokyo Hospital

TOKYO (AP) — "Slick," a former prisoner of the Reds hated by some fellow U. S. POWS who said he "ratted" on them to win Communist favors, is back in a Tokyo army hospital after being AWOL about a week.

The corporal, who has been threatened with death by unforgetting ex-POWS, disappeared from the hospital Aug. 28 and returned voluntarily late Wednesday, the army said.

He was turned over to military police.

Slick was freed by the Reds last month at Panmunjom. Fearing revenge by other repatriated American prisoners who reportedly threatened his life, Slick appealed to an army chaplain for protection.

He was flown to Tokyo.

He disappeared from the hospital shortly before he was due to fly back to the United States.

Man Dies at 105 After President Fulfills His Wish

MIDDLESBORO, Ky. (AP) — On his 104th birthday, James F. Chumley made a wish: to live to be 110, or until a Republican became President.

That desire was fulfilled with President Eisenhower's election last November. Last Tuesday, "Uncle Jim," as he was known in this section, died at the age of 105.

Chumley, who came here from Tazewell, Tenn., where he had operated a farm, lived with a daughter, Mrs. Sam Crutchfield, for the past 28 years.

At his birthday party March 5, five generations gathered to help him celebrate, including 5 children, 29 grand children, 53 great-grandchildren and 25 great-great-grandchildren.

7 Prison Escapees Now to Face Trial

MARQUETTE (AP) — Seven Marquette Prison inmates will face fall trials in Circuit Court here on charges of fleeing prison. Dembrowski ordered the seven held for trial after a mass examination here yesterday.

The seven inmates are: John L. McDowell, Lloyd Urgdorf, Joseph Saunders, Charles Morrison, Lorenzo Bullock, Alton W. Pic ett and Andrew Leko.

McDowell, Urgdorf, Saunders and Morrison escaped from the tough prison last May, cutting their way through bars with an acetylene torch after overpowering two guards and locking them up. The others were trusties who walked away from the prison's honor camp and were recaptured.

So You Think It's Hot?

WORCESTER, Mass. (AP)—A man who collapsed from heat prostration yesterday as the temperature flirted with the 100-degree mark was found to be wearing five suit coats, a vest, a heavy work shirt, trousers and woolen underwear.

Between 75 and 80 years old, he identified himself as Thomas Moynihan, a hermit, with no regular address, police said.

Won't Rehire Four Americans

U.N. Secretary General Ignores Decision of Tribunal

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold says he won't rehire four American employes, ousted in connection with U. S. loyalty probes, despite a U. N. tribunals' order for their reinstatement.

Hammarskjold announced his stand late last night as the Senate internal subcommittee ordered an investigation into the tribunal's ruling that the firing of 11 American U. N. employes—including the four—was illegal. All 11 had refused to answer questions about alleged Communist ties.

In ordering the ousters reversed, the tribunal Tuesday called on the U. N. to give the four their jobs back and pay damages and back salaries to the other seven—who wanted money rather than re-employment.

The four-member tribunal, a "supreme court" created by the General Assembly to review appeals from U. N. staff members, had ruled those not reinstated should be paid damages and back salaries.

The secretary general said he asked the tribunal to compute money awards for the four but added he would refer all 11 cases to the General Assembly, "the organ responsible for appropriating funds necessary for implementing decisions of the tribunal."

In his statement, Hammarskjold said rehiring the four employes would be "inadvisable from the point of view which it is my duty to take into consideration." He did not elaborate this point but asserted that the Assembly statute setting up the tribunal gave him the authority to reject its rulings.

Contrast in East Germany

For one of the sharpest of all contrasts in Soviet and U. S. policies one need go no farther than East Germany.

Since the June 17 revolt against Moscow's puppet regime everything the East German government has done emphasizes Communism's absolute disregard for human life.

Not only dispatches from Berlin but a survey conducted by the West German government give the details of the extremes to which Red punishment has gone.

According to the survey Soviet and puppet authorities have executed at least 16 persons for taking part in the mid-June riot. Three other persons have been sentenced to life imprisonment and 164 others to prison terms totaling 800 years. Besides these, many hundreds are reported to have been spirited away to unknown fates.

This harsh reaction to the uprising has shaken the East German regime as well as Russia's hold on her satellites. There even is room to believe it has shaken the army as reports persist that almost a score of Russian soldiers were shot for refusing to fire on German workers.

At the same time the people suffered from their government's desperate but futile efforts to wreck President Eisenhower's food distribution program. Yet in the last month more than 2,650,000 parcels of this food have been distributed to hungry residents of the Russian zone. Under the new U. S. program another million parcels will be supplied.

This contrast between Communist terror tactics and American free aid for the hungry undoubtedly has given us our greatest propaganda victory of the cold war.

U. S. Motorists Abroad

Travel officials of the American Automobile Association report a noteworthy change in the habits of U. S. motorists touring Europe.

Not only are more Americans shipping their cars abroad, but increasing numbers of them are starting their tours from Mediterranean ports, mainly Naples and Genoa. In the past most cars shipped overseas were landed in Britain or France.

Already this year, according to AAA, 3,848 cars have been shipped from New York, compared to 3,523 for the same period last year. If this rate is maintained, the total for the year will reach 4,800 against 4,281 for all of last year.

This upward trend has developed despite the great increase in automobile rental service abroad and purchase of cars for delivery overseas.

Apparently the cost of shipping a car to Europe, $350 to $525, depending on the weight, is not too high for those planning overseas tours.

There is a reason for this change. In ever larger numbers our tourists are realizing they will get more out of their trips abroad by taking their own cars so they can jog along at whatever pace they please.

Coaches to Blame

Considerable discussion has resulted from Michigan High School Athletic Association's ruling that nine high school boys are ineligible to compete for a year.

Basis of the Association's action is the acceptance of merchandise prizes by six Hastings and three Escanaba athletes. In the Hastings case the boys protested that they were ignorant of the rule aimed at protecting high school athletes against professionalism. The Escanaba youths contend they were advised that it was all right to accept the prizes.

MHSAA has refused to budge from its ruling despite critics' contention that the rule in question is inconsistent with another. This permits athletes to accept trophies to the value of $3.

No doubt the theory that ignorance of the rule is no defense can be carried to extremes. But it also is true that coaches of the two schools failed in their duty to the boys by not informing, or misinforming, them about the rule.

In our view MHSAA has taken the only stand it could. To waive the rule in these cases would be unfair to all other athletes declared ineligible in similar cases. If changes are needed, one of the first should be to make athletic directors and coaches responsible for seeing that their athletes know all the regulations.

The Man About Town

Better Time Ahead

Weather Watchers Say Heat Means Good Fall and Winter

Daffynition

Success: What, when it turns a man's head, also often wrings his neck.

Many readers of this column are finding something to be happy about in this long spell of excessively hot weather. Several of them, like the long-time Auburn Heights weather watcher, say that in past years such a condition has invariably been followed by a delightful fall and mild winter. Others endorse the statement of

of Pontiac Township, that hot weather is ideal growing weather for most crops and that everything has been booming along in great shape until retarded by the recent dreuth. And of Drayton Plains suggests that the Daily Press run a few of last winter's snow pictures, "just to give us something cool."

Barney Ingelison

On an off-the-record talk, following her address,

Mrs. Curran P. Boyer,

guest speaker at Tuesday's Pioneer Foundation meeting at the Wisner Home, said that no county in Michigan has a more interesting and colorful historical background than has Oakland County. "This home, for instance, is filled with memories that cannot be matched in the entire state. Your citizens had long visions when they did not allow it to get away from them." Mrs. Boyer is executive secretary of the Detroit Historical Society.

The mechanical applause run off a film at the television wrestling matches might be swallowed by the viewers if it had a little variation.

The agitation to make a charge for the use of Michigan's state parks, started at some upstate county conservation meetings, is encountering stiff opposition. The proposed scheme is to sell an annual windshield sticker for a dollar, and restrict the parks' facilities to cars carrying them. Oakland County has the most state parks among the 83 counties in the state, and the father of the system, the late was a resident of this county. It was not his idea that anything ever would be done to curb the use of the parks by the public.

Now a resident of this area, owning a farm near Dryden, the "Mr. Peepers" of television, recently flunked on "plumber's friend" in a magazine IQ contest. It is a rubber suction cone for starting clogged drains.

Bachelor Wally Cox,

The old story that you can actually hear corn grow on a hot and moist moonlight summer night usually is greeted with skepticism, but of Waterford attests to its truth. On several nights the past week when there was a heavy dew he went into his corn field, and says a distinct crackling sound came from every stalk.

A letter over the signature of

tells of the days when several grocery stores on Saginaw Street had saloons at the rear. While no women entered these drinking places, some of them would sit out in front in a buggy or wagon and schupers of beer would be brought to them there, and sidewalk spectators took it as matter of course. Beer for home consumption then was sold in pails or buckets brought in by the customers and was drawn from the tap. This was called "rushing the growler."

I recently outlined the beginning of the U. N. in the United States and its founders, especially Communistic Russia, and also its accomplishments.

Most outstanding deed of treachery and treason . . . Korea with all its horror and bloodshed! But let us visit in our minds this town of Babel and its location . . . New York.

Entering the main building we find a life size statue of Zeus, the Greek god of past history. This statue is the god of this anti-God and Christ and anti-American scheme of Russia and her satelites, to create a one world, a red world, with the help of our government and through them and deceit our people, especially those so in favor of this gang of treason in our midst.

Nathan Halé, hero of the American revolution, was put to death at the same spot where you find the U. N., rightly called the Tower of Babel. What an insult to our great America.

Please compare the U. N. flag with the Russian arms banner and perhaps some of you supporters of this nest of traitors and spies will stop and think.

For God and Country

He Says False Religion Is Bad as Communism

Which is worse, false religion or Communism? False religion is hundreds of times as strong as Communism for there is only one Communism and about 1800 false doctrines. Some are dying for their false religion. . . they think that much of it. They are deceived just like the people are being deceived into being Communists.

You may think you are not deceived, but if you haven't obeyed the word of truth you have doubts. Jesus said ye shall know the truth and the truth shall set you free. The word of God is truth and if you can take the Bible and prove just where you are built on the foundation that was laid by Jesus and the apostles then you are safe, not saved.

Paul preached one faith. Did Paul ever fellowship anyone that preached against the Holy Ghost or against baptism?

God is the same as he was then. It takes the same thing to save you now. Just because some false teacher says you can be saved without this, doesn't make it so.

Check your religion with the word of God and see if it is the same as the early Christians had.

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

But they shall sit every man under his vine and under his fig tree; and none shall make them afraid: for the mouth of the Lord of hosts hath spoken it — Micah 4:4.

Dulles Warns China U.S. to Get Tough, Won't Take Much More From Commies

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dulles' warning to the Chinese Communists that this country may attack them on their home soil if they renew the Korean War or invade Indochina was tough, was new in a guarded way, and was part of an evolutionary process that began in 1947 but had roots in a past more distant than that.

* * *

Without saying it in so many words, Dulles implied that if the former administration — President Truman and Secretary of State Acheson—had warned the Communists this country would fight to defend Korea, instead of letting them assume maybe it wouldn't, Korea might never have been invaded.

Dulles in his speech to the American Legion yesterday gave the Communists his warning which, nevertheless, in carefully chosen language stopped just short of flatly saying: "If you do this, we'll do that." He could hardly have gone much further than he did.

The secretary of state can't declare war any time, either beforehand or in a crisis. That's reserved to Congress, although in a crisis President Eisenhower could turn the military machine loose on China, just as Truman did in Korea, with the net result of putting the country into war without formal declaration by Congress. Truman's sudden action was the first shock the Communists got in Korea.

Whether Dulles was truly reflecting the mood of the nation or of Congress—in warning of war if China moves again—is something he will be able to gauge only later when he begins hearing the reaction of the public and the lawmakers.

Nevertheless, the very toughness of his talk was only the logical development of a series of efforts, each increasingly tough, which began on March 12, 1947, when Truman asked Congress to block communism in southern Europe by voting aid for Greece and Turkey. That was the first official word to the Communists that this country had finally abandoned the hope of getting along with them by sweet reasonableness unbacked by force.

The Truman Doctrine, it was called, and was considered by some a reversal of President Monroe's doctrine of 123 years before. Actually, it was not so much a reversal as an extension. Monroe warned European nations to keep their nose out of the Americas, North and South. In return this country said it would stay out of European affairs. To that extent, the Truman Doctrine was a departure from the Monroe Doctrine, but that trend had begun as long ago as the first World War.

But there was a sentence in the Monroe Doctrine which provided historical and philosophical justification for the United States to step into Europe any time it thought necessary for the short or long-range welfare of this country: "It is only when our rights are invaded or seriously menaced that we resent injuries or make preparations for our defense."

Truman thought this country's existence, which would of course include its rights, were seriously menaced by the encroachments of communism. And this was how he justified extending the American security frontier to Europe.

This was followed quickly by the program of economic aid for Europe, announced by Secretary of State Marshall June 5, 1947, in a speech at Harvard University. The pattern was taking shape: bit by bit this country was getting tougher with communism.

One year later, in June 1948, the Senate approved a resolution by the late Sen. Vandenberg contemplating that this country would make a military alliance, for the first time in peacetime history, with European countries.

The result: On April 4, 1949, this country signed the North Atlantic Pact—which in plain and public language said this country and its allies would come to one another's help in case of attack—and then began a program of sending arms to Europe, and the real military buildup after the Korean fighting began.

Case Records of a Psychologist

Says Some Children Are Like Greedy Vultures

The judges in our courts deserve great praise for they still retain their belief in human nature despite having to sit day after day and listen to such feuding between kin folks as that described today.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case E-378: Alan G., aged 38, is a prominent California attorney.

"Dr. Crane, an interesting case was tried in our court not long ago," he informed me.

"An elderly lady of 69 was dying in a local hospital. Yet the latter's two married daughters and her adult son, all in the 40's themselves, got into a fight at the mother's bedside.

"Apparently, the argument started over who should give their dying mother her medicine.

"The brother and one sister attacked the other sister. They blacked her eyes; then kicked and beat her into insensitivity.

"She later sued them for $10,000 damages. The case certainly illustrates your oft stated point that blood kinship holds no magic.

"Let's hope the dying mother was in a coma so she couldn't have been heartbroken as a result of this deathbed brawl between her own grown children."

The true parent-child bond is purely a spiritual matter.

This unfortunate case indirectly proves the point that blood kinship holds no magic. Nor does it weld people closely together in love and devotion.

Cain killed his brother Abel. King David's son tried to kill David and seize the throne.

And today there are numerpus cases of jealousy and quarreling between adult brothers and sisters, even at the bedside of their dying parents.

Certainly it is very common to find them starting feuds as soon as the heirlooms and property are to be parceled out.

I have seen adult children of the "flesh and blood" variety, actually bring their aged parents to the grave in shame and sorrow because the children wanted the property of the old folks, and couldn't wait till death.

Because the parents happened to be long-lived or might have remarried, the children then tried to have them adjudged insane or incompetent in hopes of getting control of the old folks' real estate.

Don't think that such ungrateful children are rare. And don't assume that they have subnormal intelligence. Many of them are college graduates!

It nauseates me to think of the mercenary feuding that I have witnessed in my lifetime among people who were "flesh and blood" kin.

These evil children have never lifted their fingers to help amass the wealth of their aged parents. The old folks alone had slaved and saved to lay aside that money for their sons and daughters.

But the latter, like greedy vultures, often cannot even wait till the death of their parents before starting the grand battle over antique chairs or cupboards, as well as real estate and stocks or bonds!

It's a wonder our Judges have any confidence in human nature at all after spending their working days listening to the petty wrangling and quarrels between husbands and wives or between brothers and sisters.

But such failures of parent-child relationships do not negate the fact that unselfish love can and does exist between parents and children.

It simply shows that blood is not thicker than water. It proves that the spiritual or psychological bonds are the only true evidences of kinship.

No adopted child would ever have treated this dying mother worse than her own children apparently have done, so have no hesitation in adopting youngsters.

Baering Down

Administration is filling Bob Taft's prescription for the entrenched high brass. Shake well before losing.

Two conscripted admirals and two volunteer generals have beach-headed the terrain and announced the situation is well in triplicate.

Big man in works is Admiral Radford with a terrific muzzle velocity in his finger snap.

Congressional foes of the administration shuffle say Radford has more power than a motorcycle going down hill.

The admiral fills Gen. Omar Bradley's spot as gavel-cracker of the joint chiefs of staff. This is the guy who really locks the cages at night.

The senators fear Radford's braided influence. They say the three branches of government are the legislative, the judicial and the pentagonive.

But they felt the same way about Omar Bradley. In times of national stress and peril the military takes over like a trained nurse.

And since 1941 our peril divers have sure been stressing like a paragraph in italics.

We don't get the wind up about the man on hossback, the superdupers and the Prussian in the driver's seat. Once in a while a civilian is permitted to throw a geyser.

Adequate Diet Must Be Planned to Assure Proper Assimilation of Iron From Food

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

Approximately one-third of a grain of iron a day will keep the hemoglobin (red coloring matter) and the number of red blood corpuscles at full normal strength—which is 90 per cent or above for hemoglobin, 4,500,000 per cubic millimeter for red corpuscles.

There is approximately one-third of a grain of iron in 4 ounces of plain (unrefined) wheat, 3½ ounces of oatmeal, 6 ounces of lean beef, 3 ounces of lettuce or 6 ounces of stewed prunes.

Iron is iron whether taken as it occurs naturally in food or in the chemical combinations used as medicine.

The best iron for the blood is that which is least difficult or unpleasant to eat or take, be it "organic" or "inorganic."

To the best of our present knowledge there is no advantage in giving iron in "shots," injected under the skin, into muscle (both pretty painful) or into a vein, provided the patient is still able to take iron in the natural way.

So far it seems simple enough. If there's enough iron in a serving of oatmeal, stewed prunes or a handful of wheat to supply the body's requirement for a day why all the bother about enriching weak or watery blood (anemia)?

In the first place, the healthiest individual under the most favorable circumstances can absorb or assimilate only a fractional part of the iron he or she takes as medicine or eats as food.

Therefore an adequate diet must include not just one of the items mentioned above but many or all of them to insure absorption or assimilation of the one-third of a grain of iron.

When we prescribe iron for anemia, even in its most acceptable form (iron gluconate), we do not prescribe just a third of a grain, but from three (for children) to six (for adults) jelly bean tablets a day, each containing 5 grains of iron gluconate.

Whatever form of medicinal iron one may take all but a small fraction of it combines with hydrogen sulfide (gas) in the intestine to form iron sulfide which is virtually insoluble, blackens the dejecta and is excreted through the bowel.

Hydrogen sulfide interferes with the absorption or assimilation of iron (in food or medicine) so the blackening of the dejecta indicates that the medicine is at least removing something which inhibits or prevents normal assimilation of iron.

It seems logical that one with anemia should avoid foods which produce hydrogen sulfide gas in the intestine.

A neat trick if you can do it, but the catch is that nearly everything good to eat or essential in an adequate diet contains sulfur and will produce more or less hydrogen sulfide gas in the process of digestion.

Here are three pamphlets dealing with various aspects of anemia:

1. The Gray Sickness (Iron Deficiency Anemia)
2. The Red Blood Vitamin (Vitamin B12)
3. Blood and Health (No. 18 Little Lessons in the Ways of Health).

For No. 1 send stamped, self-addressed envelope. Likewise for No. 2.

If you ask for both inclose 10c. For No. 3 send 25c and stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. Brady if a stamped self addressed envelope is enclosed.

Boy Fires at Bullet, Ends Up in Hospital

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Horace Boutwell's aim was too sharp for his own good.

The 13-year-old fired his air rifle yesterday at a .22-caliber rifle bullet resting on a saw horse several feet away.

His dead-center shot sent the hull of the .22 cartridge whizzing back into his left shoulder. At the hospital, Horace wanted to know if anything like that ever happened to Wild Bill Hickock.

West Germany Arrests Toughs

Nab 7,000 East Zone Commies Threatening Free Election

BONN, Germany (AP)—Four million of West Germany's youth girded today to battle Communist invaders threatening to upset their nation's crucial parliamentary elections Sunday.

Police have nabbed over 7,000 sabotage-bent toughs from the Soviet East zone, but the influx continued unabated.

A spokesman for the Bonn government announced last night that two big youth organizations have volunteered to help combat what he said was a Kremlin plot to sabotage the balloting by creating chaos. The two volunteer groups are the Federal Youth League (Bundesjugendring) and the German Sport Assn. (Deutsche Sport Und).

The government has turned up proof, the spokesman said, that the troublemakers have been ordered across the border in droves to raid voting booths, steal ballot boxes and beat up election officials. Captured agents have even confessed assassination plans, officials claimed.

Despite tight frontier checks, mass arrests and an emergency police alert throughout West Germany, thousands of the Red agents were believed to have evaded the police blocks.

The chief target of the Communists, from Moscow down through the ranks, is the Christian Democrat regime of Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and its policy of cooperating with the West to build up military defenses against possible Communist aggression.

Vigorous political campaigning by 4,040 candidates for 484 seats in the lower house of Parliament was carried on without disorders yesterday.

Disaster Loss Tax Deductible

Various Rules Apply to Figuring Income Levy in Such Cases

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Floods and tornadoes have caused millions of dollars of damage this year. You won't be thinking of taxes if your property is suddenly struck by one of the swiftly moving tornadoes or damaged by a rampaging flood.

But afterwards, when the repairing and rebuilding start, it may help to know whether your loss can be used to reduce your income taxes.

Damage caused by sudden occurrence as fire, floods or storms can be deducted by the owner regardless of whether the property is considered business property or is for the personal use of the owner, but the rules for figuring the loss differ.

First, let's assume that you keep the property and either have it repaired or left in its damaged state. You can deduct the loss (how to figure the loss is explained below) on your tax return for the year in which the damage occurred provided you do not use the tax table or take the standard deduction.

In other words, you must itemize your deductions on Long Form 1040.

If, however, your property is destroyed or so damaged that you get rid of it during the year, you will ordinarily have to itemize your deductions if you want to take the loss.

But if you should have gains from the sale of other property which are larger than your loss, then you can deduct the loss from your gains and still use the standard deduction or tax table on the return.

You won't be able to tell until the end of the year just how best to handle a casualty loss on your return.

Now is the time, though, to jot down information you will need if you decide to deduct the loss when you fill out your return next year.

You will need:

1. A brief description and the date of the sudden occurrence causing the damage.
2. A description of the damaged property and its location, together with a description of the damage caused by the sudden occurrence.
3. The cost of the property.
4. The fair market value of the property just before and after the casualty.
5. Any insurance or other compensation, including Red Cross aid, recovered.

Ordinarily, your deductible loss will be the difference between the value of your property just before and after the casualty, less any insurance or other compensation.

In a few cases, however, the difference between the value of your property just before and after the casualty may be more than you paid for the property. In that case, the loss would be the cost of the property, less insurance or other compensation.

Birds Borrow Hunters' Trick: Cows Flush Prey

CHICAGO (UP) — An ornithologist at the Chicago Natural History Museum says that birds in El Salvador are smart—they use cows to turn up their food.

Dr. Austin L. Rand said one of the birds he observed employing a cow as a beater was a tropical cuckoo. As the cow slowly ate its way through meadow grass it scared up grasshoppers in front of it.

The birds tagged along with grazing cows and pounced on anything that turned up. A cow flushes more insects than a bird because it's bigger.

In the dry season, when insects were scarce and the grass short, it took an average of two minutes for a bird to find an insect, hunting without the aid of a cow, Rand said. With a cow, the catch averaged three insects in the same time.

"Besides," Rand added, "the bird saved himself a great deal of walking around by letting the cow do it for him."

Tall Transmission Mast

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (UP) — Owners of WSAZ-TV claim their projected 1,102-foot steel transmission mast will be the second highest man-made structure in the world, surpassed only by New York City's Empire State Building. Construction, at a cost of $200,000, awaits approval of the Federal Communications Commission.

Bridge, Like People, Gets Sticky From Heat

TROY, N.Y. (AP)—Feel sticky in this weather? So does a lift bridge here.

The span between Troy and Green Island in the Hudson River was expanded by the 100-degree temperature and wouldn't budge when operators tried to raise it for an oil barge yesterday.

The tanker still was waiting today for the 200-foot span to cool off.

100-Year-Old Babied in Move to New Location

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va. (AP)—When a 40-foot Norway spruce had to be moved to make way for a new wing at the Greenbrier Hotel, many people here worried about its fate.

But the 100-year-old tree got as elaborate care as an invalid. It was covered with a plastic cocoon to keep the moisture in. It got shots of glucose, a concentrated food. And its roots were carefully pruned and bagged in burlap.

It took four days to move the tree to its new location 125 feet away, where it is expected to live many more years.

Catsup Craze in America Causes Writer to See Red

By INEZ ROBB

NEW YORK (INS) — What this country needs in addition to a balanced budget, a non-caloric chocolate fudge sundae and nickel coffee is a moratorium on catsup.

Let Congress put catsup high up on the agenda of its next meeting. It's on everything else; it might as well be on the agenda.

I am just crazy about my fellow countrymen. I think they are bigger, handsomer, richer, nicer and kinder than everyone else and can lick anyone with a hand tied behind 'em.

But if they don't stop putting catsup on their French fries, poached eggs, cereal, toast, sirloin steaks, chef's salad, fruit cup, succotash, Indian pudding, pound cake and pate de foie gras, I am going to begin carrying my pearl-handled death-ray and dealing out justice.

I can remember when catsup was made of tomatoes and spice and everything nice at home at this season of the year.

Those were the good old days between the wars when it was et with meat loaf or short ribs of beef.

Those were the halcyon times when an individual who would have sprinkled catsup indiscriminately on mashed potatoes or watermelon would have been locked up for observation.

It is only in the past decade that catsup has begun to cover the nation with a creeping red blanket that smothers all our wonderful store of goodies.

I can remember when a hostess and good cook used to mutter imprecations on the head of the guest who grabbed the salt shaker and used vigorously before ever he tasted what was on his plate.

That same housewife today longs for the return of the old salt in place of the fiend who asks for the catsup and douses everything from guinea hen under glass to crepes suzette with catsup, the curse of civilization.

A bird's-eye view of any American lunch counter, dog wagon, corner coffee pot or business man's cafe at meal time would lead a visitor from Mars to conclude that advanced mayhem was constantly practiced in such retreats. There is catsup on everything, including the waiter's lapels.

There is a nice little lunch counter just down the street from my office. At noon today I sat between a gentleman who covered his filet of sole, French fries, string beans, cole slaw, dill pickle and his cake with an inch of catsup before attacking, and a party who flooded his roast lamb, mashed potatoes, buttered beets, dill pickle, sliced cucumbers and cocoanut custard pie with catsup before tucking his napkin into his vest.

Know what I had for lunch? Just a little bromo to settle my stomach!

When the French invented the world's most delectable sauces for meat and fish, they did it for a purpose. The meat used to get a trifle high in the old days before modern refrigeration was born.

To be blunt, meat and fish both smelled and tasted better with a snappy sauce to hide the frailties of nature, and the snappier the better.

But there is no such excuse for this catsup craze in the U.S.A. Our meat and fish are as fresh as the morning rose.

Yet I figure—roughly—that the per capita consumption of catsup in this country is sufficient to drown a dog it shouldn't happen to.

Australian Searching Parties Still Hunt Authentic Centuries-Old Dutch Treasure

(Editor's Note: The following dispatch is by a prominent Australian author and historian whose published translations of original Dutch records have been used by various parties seeking the treasure about which he writes.)

By MALCOM UREN

PERTH, Australia (UP) — Six separate parties are now searching in the province of Western Australia for a treasure of 78,600 guilders (perhaps now worth about $300,000) that was carried by a Dutch ship lost in 1656 while outward bound to the East Indies.

History relates when the ship was lost and how, but not precisely where.

From the evidence available, the organizer of each of the six searching parties has formed his theory of where the treasure will be found and has led his party there.

Someone must be wrong, because the field of search extends over about 170; miles—from about 150 miles north of Perth to 20 miles t othe south.

There is no doubt about the existence of the treasure. A translation from authentic manuscript copies of the log-books in the Royal Archives at The Hague says the ship Der Vergulde Draeck (The Gilt Dragon) left Texel on Oct. 4, 1655, for the Dutch East Indies "with a rich cargo including 78,600 guilders in cash in eight boxes."

She was wrecked April 28, 1656, on the coast of Western Australia "on a reef stretching out to sea about a mile and a half, latitude 30 and two-thirds degrees." News of the wreck was carried to Batavia by survivors in one of the small boats from the The Gilt Dragon.

These men reported that they and 68 others got ashore from the wreck, but "nothing was saved from the ship which foundered and sank at once, except a small quantity of provisions washed on shore by the waves."

Relief ships immediately were sent to pick up the castaways. Intensive search along the coast in the latitude given disclosed neither wreck nor survivors.

Some years later, the crew of the ship Waeckende Boey, in a position given at 31 degrees 19 minutes, found "a piece of the mast of The Gilt Dragon . . . the round top and the other trifling objects." Presumably they saw no sign of the actual wreck but only some wreckage that might have floated some distance.

From contemporary accounts, therefore, we can be sure that there was treasure and it was not recovered.

For years the story seems to have slumbered, but towards the end of the last century two events revived interest in the treasure. Dutch coins dated 1618 and 1648 were found in a cave in the vicinity of the Moore River and a surveyor named Alfred E. Burt discovered a circle of stones, which, he said, was a pointer to the locality where the Gilt Dragon's treasure was buried.

Burt was more enthusiastic than logical. Similar circles of stones—probably they are part of some native rite—exist all over Western Australia, but Burt's association of the stones with the treasure caused immediate excitement.

Search parties went out and closely examined the area around the circles of stones. They found several other circles of stones but no treasure.

The current searching has resulted largely because an ex-soldier decided modern scientific methods of mineral detection would make the search easier. He purchsed a mine detector and made a solo attempt to locate the treasure north of Perth.

Then an obviously man-made stone figure in the rough form of a Crusader with crossed feet was uncovered by a dairy farmer south of Fremantle, near Perth. This, he decided, must have been made by castaways from the Gilt Dragon and under it would be the treasure.

For two summers now—he cannot work in the winter because the water table rises too high — he has excavated in the vicinity and has not yet given up hope.

University students studied the evidence and began spending their vacations searching for the treasure. At least two of the six parties now in the field have scientific equipment for the detection of minerals.

It requires about 250 pounds of coal to outfit an automobile with rubber tires and tubes.

PROPOSED OHIO TURNPIKE—A North-South turnpike across Ohio from Cincinnati, on the southwest corner of the state to the Pennsylvania border on the northeast, will be given serious study at the request of the Ohio Turnpike Commission. State Highway Director Sam Linzell will ask for $400,000 to make the study. The proposed route is marked by the broken line on map. The solid black line running east-west, is the super highway connecting with the Pennsylvania turnpike, now under construction.

Vast Pits, Flat Volcanoes Charted on Sea's Bottom

WASHINGTON — Earth's most spectacular scenery may lie at the bottom of the oceans.

Thanks to the comparatively recent invention of the sonic fathometer, so many towering submarine mountains, vast submerged chasms and mysterious flat-topped volcanoes are being discovered that chartmakers keep up to date only with difficulty.

The world's greatest known ocean deep was found only a year ago, says the National Geographic Society.

Plumbing the Mariana Trench in the Pacific about 200 miles southwest of Guam, the British oceanographic research vessel H.M.S. Challenger located bottom at 35,640 feet, thereby discovering a pit in which 29,000-foot Mount Everest could be buried more than a mile deep.

Much previously unknown deep sea bottom has been charted since World War II. Among the leading postwar expeditions have been those of the National Geographic Society, the Woods Hole Institution of Oceanography and Columbia University, which jointly explored the Mid-Atlantic Ridge, a submerged mountain chain extending 10,000 miles from Iceland nearly to the Antarctic Circle.

In this ridge, which has peaks more than 20,000 feet high, the ocean scientists found a previously unknown mountain range 50 miles long and 10 miles wide, comparable to California's San Bernardino Mountains.

They also learned that the Hudson River gorge extends 100 miles farther into the Atlantic than had been suspected.

At about 200 places in the Pacific, strange "guyots," or flat-topped volcanoes, have been discovered on the sea floor.

A rare Atlantic counterpart is charted some 800 miles due east of Washington, D. C. At least half a dozen "sea mounts," with normal cones, lie between Bermuda and the North Atlantic coast.

The Gulf of Alaska has a large number of submerged mountains 3,500 to 12,400 feet high, while huge canyons carved by submarine currents of some kind have been discovered off the coast of New Guinea. These match canyons off the coasts of Europe and North America.

Before the days of the fathometer, sea depths normally were useful on a chart only when a ship's navigator could reach them with a sounding lead. Coming "on soundings" as he approached a coast, the navigator could compare the chart information with what he actually had under the keel, thus getting a check on his position.

With a fathometer and accurate charts of all sea bottoms everywhere, no ship will ever need be off soundings. By matching fathometer readings to chart, the seafarer may one day merely follow known features of the sea floor from point to point, just as a motorist travels across a continent by means of road maps and visible landmarks.

Korean Premier in Moscow (?)

Red Radio Reports Six Northerners Will Plan Security Pact

SEOUL (AP) — South Korean government sources today expressed belief that North Korean Premier Kim Il Sung had gone to Moscow to conclude a military pact with Russia.

The North Korean radio said on Wednesday Kim and five top Red officials were en route to the Soviet capital at the invitation of the Kremlin.

Government sources here predicted North Korea and Russia would draw up a pact along lines of the recent mutual security pact between the United States and South Korea.

A South Korean intelligence source said that because Gen. Peng Teh - huai, commander of Red China's army, also was reported en route to Moscow, the Reds may plan to include North Korea in an existing military alliance between Red China and Russia.

Loud-Mouthed Blonde Bilks Cashiers of $20

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—A dumpy blonde with a flair for histrionics yesterday bilked two cashiers of $20.

Her act, according to police reports, went like this:

She made small purchases at four establishments, paying at each with a $10 bill and vociferously demanding change for a $20. It worked twice.

"She yelled so loud," one cashier said, "that we were trying to shortchange her, we just gave her the money to save embarrassment."

New Scorpion Jet Said to Be Fine Weapon for U. S.

HAWTHORNE, Calif. (AP)—America has a new weapon against a sneak atomic bomb attack—the new Scorpion F89D all-weather interceptor, which carries 104 rockets.

Northrop Aircraft Co., which builds the plane, described it as the heaviest-armed fighter known to exist. The 2.75-inch rockets are carried in twin wing-tip pods and can be fired to saturate a pattern the size of a football field. They also can be fired in smaller groups.

The announcement, approved by the Air Force, declared each rocket is capable of destroying the biggest A-bomber.

The F89Ds are in the 600-mile-an-hour class and can fly above 45,000 feet. They are powered by twin Allison J35 turbojet engines equipped with afterburners.

Schools Add 80 for Coming Year

District, Civic Leaders to Address Newcomers at Washington High

School officials and civic leaders will welcome some 80 new teachers of Pontiac Public Schools to Pontiac Friday morning.

The day-long program, titled "A preview of our community and its schools," will open at 9:30 a.m. at Washington Junior High School.

J. Cecil Cox, assistant superintendent of schools, will preside.

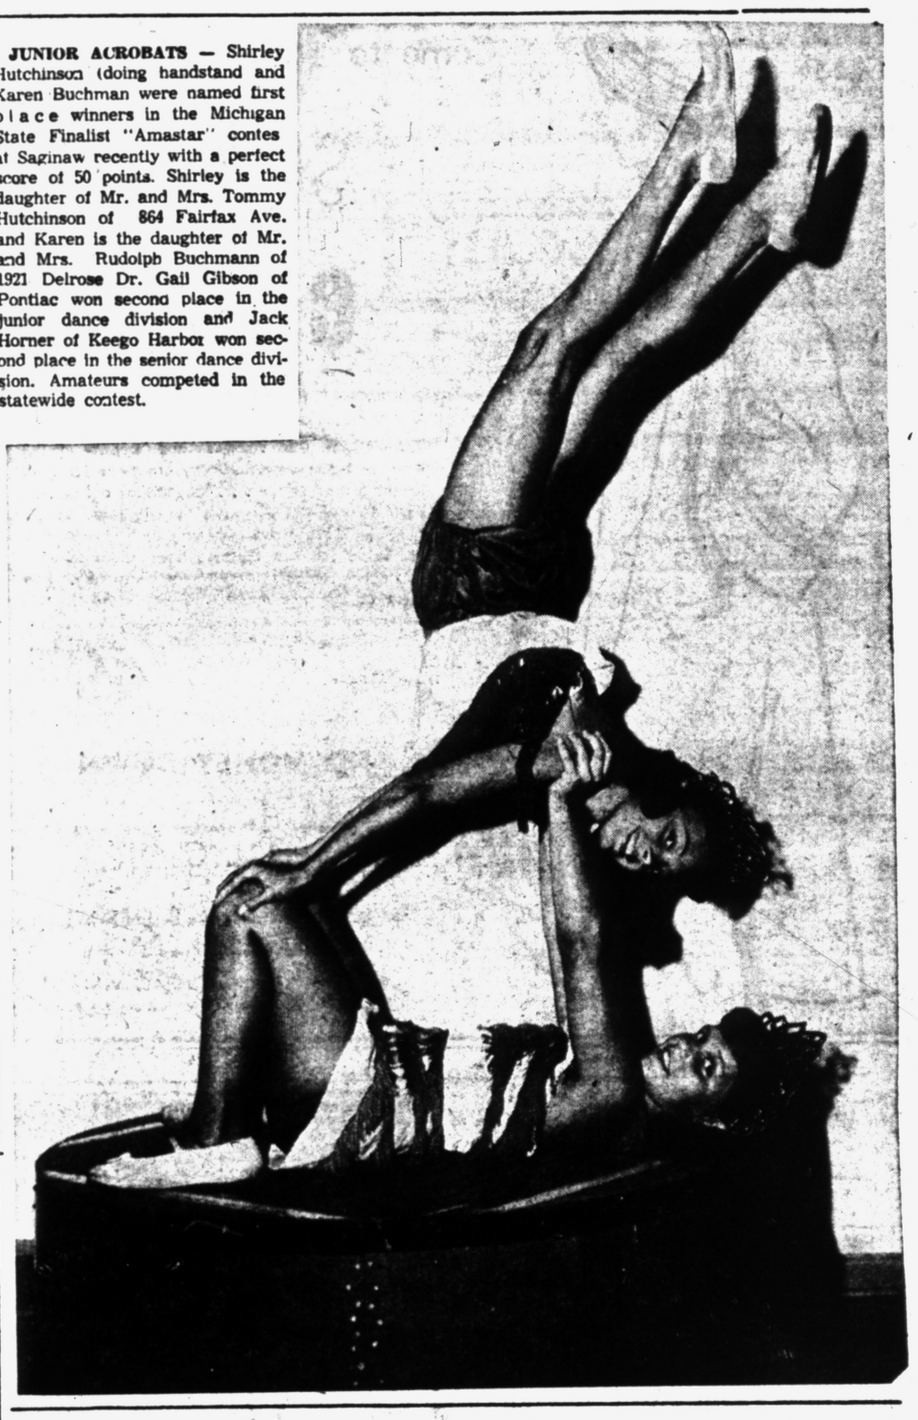

A welcome by Pontiac Mayor Arthur J. Law will precede short talks by Glenn H. Griffin, Pontiac Board of Education president; George M. Watson, Pontiac Chamber of Commerce president; and William L. Treanor, president of Pontiac Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Mrs. Paul Gorman, president of Pontiac Federation of Women's Clubs; the Rev. Herbert E. Ryan of the Pontiac Ministerial Association; and Theodore Wiersema, Pontiac Principals' Club president, are other speakers.

The morning session will precede a luncheon for school principals and new teachers at the Cass Lake home of Frank J. DuFrain, superintendent of schools.

Teachers will then board chartered buses for a tour of the city, sponsored by Pontiac Junior Chamber of Commerce. Afternoon visits to schools will follow.

JUNIOR ACROBATS — Shirley Hutchinson (doing handstand and Karen Buchman were named first place winners in the Michigan State Finalist "Amastar" contes at Saginaw recently with a perfect score of 50 points. Shirley is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Hutchinson of 864 Fairfax Ave. and Karen is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Buchmann of 1921 Delrose Dr. Gail Gibson of Pontiac won second place in the junior dance division and Jack Horner of Keego Harbor won second place in the senior dance division. Amateurs competed in the statewide contest.

State Receives Lunch Allotment

$2 Million in Federal Aid Given Michigan Schools

WASHINGTON (UP)—Michigan gets $2,282,180 of the $67,010,000 the Agriculture Department split up today for use in the 1953-54 school lunch program.

Congress voted $83,635,000 for the program this year, but $15,000,000 will be kept by the Agriculture Department for bulk buying of specific nutritional foods to be distributed to schools later. About $1,000,000 will cover administration and other expenses.

During the 1952-53 school lunch program $3,367,491 was appropriated, with $65,75,000 apportioned to the states and $16,000,000 kept by the department for supplemental buying.

Last year 9,73,000 school kids ate their way through 1,60,000,000 lunches in the 57,000 participating schools.

In accord with the school lunch act, states this year must put out $1.50 for the school lunch program for each $1 they get from the government if the per capita income in the state equals or exceeds the national average.

Each state's apportionment is based in the number of school children it has between the ages of five and 17 and on its per capita income.

The state receiving the biggest sum this year is New York — amount, $30,010 goes to Guam, included in the program for the first time this year.

Jumps 1st, Is Rescued; Jumps Again, Drowns

DETROIT (AP) — Authorities are attempting today to identify a man who made good on his second attempt at suicide. He is between 50 and 60.

First he jumped from a bridge over the Rouge River, but two workmen nearby thought he had fallen in accidentally and rescued him. He muttered something about wanting to be alone and they walked away. Then he plenged in again and drowned.

Police recovered the body in 20 feet of water.

31 in County, Pontiac Hit as Polio Sweeps Vicinity

Polio which increased in Oakland County last week claimed two lives as it struck 22 youngsters and adults outside Pontiac—a record for any week this year.

Nine Pontiac residents also were stricken with polio last week, according to the Pontiac City Health Department.

The disease toll, tallied on the weekly report of Oakland County Health Department, listed the deaths in Ferndale and Royal Oak. Last week's 22-case polio total was almost twice the dozen cases reported the week before.

Dr. John D. Monroe, director of the county health department, which covers all county areas outside Pontiac, said that to date the out-county polio situation is almost the same as last year's.

Last week's 22 cases bring this year's total to 108, with two deaths. Polio had stricken 109 adults and children in the county by this date last year, with two deaths.

"We're more than half-way through the polio season now," Dr. Monroe commented. He added that whether the heat wave has any effect on the number of cases is "questionable," except that it might lower person's resistance to the disease.

The county department's weekly report also listed scattered cases of measles, scarlet fever, whooping cough, tuberculosis and other diseases. The complete report reads as follows:

	Past Week	Week Ending Aug. 22 1953	Aug. 30 1952
Chicken Pox	0	0	2
Measles	7	2	3
Poliomyelitis	22	12	18
Scarlet Fever	4	1	6
Tuberculosis (all forms)	6	1	4
Whooping Cough	6	5	3
Mumps	7	2	6
Rubella	1	0	3
Diarrhea	5	5	1
Rabies in Animals	1	0	3

Pontiac's nine polio cases reported last week showed a 300 per cent increase over the three cases of the week before, a City Health Department report showed today. The weekly tally, also released by Dr. Monroe, lists only scattered cases of a few other diseases:

	Past Week	Week Ending Aug. 22 1953	Aug. 30 1952
Gonorrhea	9	15	6
Measles	0	0	3
Poliomyelitis	9	3	4
Rubella	1	1	0
Syphilis	5	5	2

Mrs. Cartrette Retains Lawyer

Tells Prosecutor She Does Not Remember Shooting Husband

Mrs. Lucy M. Cartrette, 33, of 259 S. Jessie St., who demanded examination on a first degree murder charge in Pontiac Municipal Court Tuesday has retained L. Harvey Lodge as her attorney.

Examination date was set for Sept. 9 by Pontiac Municipa Judge Maurice E. Finnegan.

In a statement to Oakland County Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem, Mrs. Cartrette said she didn't remember shooting her husband, Scarborough, 32, Saturday.

Dean Wright of 105 Judson St., at whose home the shooting occurred, said he, his wife Airolee and a next-door neighbor, Allen Locke of 99 Judson St., heard the first shot and saw Mrs. Cartrette fire the second shot from a .32 automatic as her husband staggered out of the bedroom into the living room.

The Wrights and Cartrettes have been close friends since 1947. Both families came here from Asheville, N. C., last February.

The witnesses also told Ziem that Mrs. Cartrette had been upset over reports that her husband was associating with another woman. Mrs. Cartrette added that she had been taking medical treatments for a nervous condition.

Loyalty Probe Poses Question

Should Employe Files Be Given to McCarthy for Investigations?

NEW YORK (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) today resumes hearings which have posed to President Eisenhower the question of whether loyalty files on government employes should be made available to the senator.

McCarthy, chairman of the senate permanent investigations subcommittee, is examining witnesses in closed sessions on possible Communist influences in the armed forces.

McCarthy yesterday received from army officers here personnel files he had requested on two quartermaster corps civilians he suspects of being pro-Communist.

But he said he had not yet succeeded in obtaining records as to who approved the hiring of suspected pro-Communists.

He declared he would call in Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson and Army Secretary Robert Stevens if necessary to obtain this data.

An army spokesman said in Washington the Army would ask President Eisenhower to decide whether such loyalty files shall be turned over to McCarthy.

The spokesman said a 1948 directive by President Turman, forbidding any executive department or agency to transmit to another branch of government any data on the loyalty of employes or prospective employes still was in force.

1 Dead as Resort Cabin Blows Up

GRAND RAPIDS (UP)—A gas heater exploded in a resort cabin at Crystal Lake Wednesday in Montcalm County, blew out the roof and two sides of the building and inflicted fatal injuries to Charles R. Williams, 26, Grand Rapids.

Williams, who was catapulted 30 feet from the structure by the impact of the blast, died in Butterworth Hospital Wednesday night, several hours after the explosion in the cabin which he had rented for the day.

The victim was married and the father of two small children. He was a World War II veteran, and was employed as a factory inspector at Grand Rapids.

Health Director Has Tips on How to Survive Heat

Dr. John D. Monroe, Oakland County Health director, today offered three main suggestions for avoiding illness due to the current record heat wave:

Don't eat too much, work too hard, or get angry.

If local folks heed these warnings — and remember to drink pleny of water and take a little extra salt—they will probably survive the heat wave with little trouble, Dr Monroe said.

Workers who must stay or the job in shops or offices should take brief rest periods during the day if possible.

Housewives should avoid heavy meals and serve light, simple foods to families.

New Twist for Bingo Given Attorney's 'No'

ESCANABA (AP) — A new twist designed to legalize bingo without a change in the gambling laws came untwisted when submitted to authorities.

A group hoping to legalize their favorite pastime asked prosecutor Nicholas Chapekis of Delta County if it would be O.K. if participants "passed the hat" to raise a pot to operate the game.

Chapekis consulted the state attorney general's office and got "no" for an answer. It held bingo is forbidden if the elements of chance, prize or consideration are involved.

Firemen Telling of Smart Bessie Hiding From Fire

MT. PLEASANT, (AP) — At the fire station here the firemen were still talking today about what a smart dog Bessie is.

The 3-year-old English setter was rescued yesterday from the flame-gutted interior of a house.

Firemen said Bessie was alone in the house when fire broke out. But she kept sidestepping the flames for an hour until firemen broke down a door and found her crouching behind a radio set in about the only spot in the room the flames passed by.

Bessie had only a singed nose, and she was alive today to bark about it.

U. S. Center in West Germany Harbors Soviets Who Make Break for Freedom

By DANIEL DE LUCE

SOMEWHERE IN WEST GERMANY (AP) — Here is the open door for Soviet Nationals who choose freedom. It is a reception center for defectors.

The center is paid for and operated by the U. S. government. It produces detailed information about conditions in the Soviet Union. It turns disillusioned ex-Soviets into free men.

The address is not revealed—for the safety of present and future defectors.

The reception center was founded 2½ years ago after the Korean War showed how little the U. S. government knew about the Soviet Empire. For years, the U. S. had been paying scant attention to strategic human assets—men who knew much about Red Russia because they had been born and reared there, and worn the uniforms of its armed forces until, suddenly, they fled West.

At one point the trickle of Soviet fugitives nearly dried up. The reception center set out to change the trend.

It is too much to say that the trickle is now a large flow. But dozens have passed through the center. It seems the word is getting back to Soviet forces on the other side of the line.

The center occupies a series of villas scattered through gardens and woods. Its American personnel wear plain clothes and are gifted at foreign languages, human relationships, morale building.

A score of rooms provide private offices where defectors and staff experts are paired off to write detailed studies on the Soviet Union as the defectors know it.

The topics may range from the activity observable at a Siberian factory to the price of food in Tiflis and the disposition of Soviet Army formations in Poland.

Precise data on developments inside the USSR are gathered with especially keen interest. What the West wants to know about Russia is: Everything!

The findings are sent to Washington, London and Paris. Exchange of information about the Soviet Union is on a reciprocal basis among the countries.

The center's responsibility is not finished when a Soviet national exhausts his fund of information. He must be helped to a new career, protected from Soviet reprisal.

The center enlists other U. S. authorities in helping him get a visa to a country in the Americas, preferably the United States, though Canada and Brazil are also favored destinations.

If he had a profession in civilian life, the center does its best to arrange for him to resume it. If the defector is young, willing and single, he can join the U. S. Army. Under the alien enlistment program he gets American citizenship in five years.

Veteran Soviet officers of field grade rank may go to Washington as advisers to U. S. defense planners.

Nobody says "deserter" here. The word is banned.

Any Soviet national who makes a break for freedom is welcomed in his own language as Chelovek Yhezhnize — person seeking haven. Some escape by walking across a sector border street in Berlin or Vienna. Others swim a river or steal through a forest.

Despite secrecy, the center has no cloak and dagger atmosphere. Administrative headquarters and briefing officers are in two spacious villas. Other villas not far away are "havens" — temporary homes of Soviet fugitives.

For the first two weeks, the defector undergoes questioning to establish his true identity and what, if anything, he represents. This is to make certain he is not a planted agent.

Then he sits at a table with specialists, five or more hours a day, five days a week, recalling everything he can about his native land, classified under three headings: "The facts I saw, the hearsay I was told, and the rumors I got from idle gossip."

In the evenings and on days off — at his "haven" — he blossoms out as a personality.

Air Force Withdraws Anchor Bay Request

MT. CLEMENS (AP) — The Air Force has withdrawn its request for federal restrictions over a portion of Anchor Bay off Selfridge Air Force Base.

Lt. Col. Joseph C. Smith, commander of the 49th air sea rescue squadron, announced he had notified the corps of engineers at Detroit of the decision to withdraw a request for federal restrictions.

Rep. Bentley Advocates Undermining Red Control

MACKINAC ISLAND (UP)—Rep. Alvin M. Bentley, (R. Mich) says the United States "should try by all means short of war" to undermine Russia's hold on her satellite nations.

The Owosso Republican and Dr. Wesley Frost, former ambassador to Paraguay, discussed the issue of "Liberation versus containment" before an audience here Wednesday. Their remarks were recorded for radio re-broadcast today.

Bentley said the United States should "explore every area of discontent, unrest and upheaval behind the Iron Curtain" in an effort to crack the Communists' domination of other countries.

"The cold war in which we find ourselves today cannot be ended without a shooting war unless the Communist governments themselves are overthrown from within," he said.

Bentley emphasized he did not mean that U. S. "liberation" policy should include direct American armed intervention.

Frost, who felt the west's position in world affairs has been improving during recent months, advocated a policy of "gradualism" and negotiation.

"The general position of the west will continue to improve," Frost predicted. "Germany will become an asset and the various cooperative movements among European friends will consolidate a strength which will permit liberation without dangers either to western unity or the victims of enslavement behind the Iron Curtain."

Both speakers blamed a lack of American "world consciousness" for allowing the Soviets to take over their satellites. They also agreed it should be "our duty" to aid Soviet-dominated peoples whenever possible.

Flint to Recount Building Bee in Award Bid

FLINT (AP)—On the basis of its accomplishment through "Operation Tornado," Flint is going to bid for the title of "All-American City."

In "Operation Tornado," a community building bee, volunteers rebuilt 82 homes torn down by a devastating tornado June 8 and substantially rebuilt around 100 more wrecked by the same storm.

Mayor Donald W. Riegle named James Rush to present Flint's bid for the "All-American City" award at the National Municipal League's convention in November at Richmond, Va.

Riegle reported that while "Operation Tornado" officially was to have run only Saturday and Sunday, that about 2,000 volunteers showed up Monday and Tuesday to complete additional homes.

The tornado took down 193 homes, killed 116 persons and injured nearly a thousand in its sweep across Flint's northern outskirts.

Civil Defense Against Atomic Attack Depends on You, You and You

BY FRANK ELEAZER

WASHINGTON (UP) — Is civil defense doing anything to keep you alive? It sure is, but the fact is there isn't too much it can do without your help.

"The trouble with civil defense," one top official thundered recently at a citizen who complained that he hadn't seen any action, "is you and your wife!"

A lot of people seem to think the A-bomb never will fall, at least not here. Naturally they can't see getting worked up about civil defense.

Another big batch thinks the A-bomb may fall, all right, and now the H-bomb too, and how can you protect yourself against weapons like that? So they don't do anything either.

For these groups the Federal Civil Defense Administration has this message: The bomb can fall here, and there will be heck to pay when it does. But all hope is not lost. A lot can be done to save both life and property.

There is a third group. It recognizes the peril, all right, and tends to go around saying: Why doesn't somebody do something?"

FCDA is doing something. It has about 750 paid employes working for you, and several million volunteers. They have gone a long way toward figuring the best way to help you save yourself if A-day ever comes. But in the end, your life may depend upon you.

So what ought you to be doing about it?

To start with, make sure your community has a civil defense organization in being. Find out if it is making the kind of emergency plans that will be needed — for firefighting, medical aid, communications, public health, maybe evacuation.

If not, complain about it. (You may end up doing part of the job yourself. Is that bad?)

Read some of the things FCDA has available to you. When the sirens start wailing — do you know the signal, by the way? — it will be too late to wonder where to go, what to do, and how to keep a child from bleeding to death.

Pick out a shelter area, right in your home or apartment building. It may be just the safest available corner. It should be a basement shelter, which can be built (civil defense has the plans) for as little as $40.

The Air Force says 15 minutes is all the warning you had better count on, and it may be less. So for the time being, your shelter is probably what you will have to depend on, if and when.

When the alert sounds turn your AM radio to one of two settings, 640 or 1240, to which your local stations will switch automatically in an emergency. Turn the volume up so you can hear it in your shelter area. Then do what the man says.

French Pull Back From NaSan Fortress

HANOI, Indochina (AP) — The French announced their withdrawal from the mountain fortress of Na San today and said the move was part of new tactics to take the "Maginot Line" concept out of the Indochina war.

Gen. Rene Cogny said the chief value of Na San, 100 miles west of Hanoi and the last strong French base in the Thai tribal country, had been to threaten numerous rebel battalions in the jungle.

Seven U. S. presidents were natives of Ohio. They included Garfield, Hayes, Grant, Harrison, Taft, McKinley and Harding.

Many Women Alter Hair Color

And Most Want Blonde, Reports Head of Shop in Macy's

NEW YORK (UP) — One beauty authority says that 85 per cent of women today alter the natural color of their crowning glory.

What's more, said Mrs. Ronda Shayne, the rush to improve on nature is just beginning. Some women already are wearing multi-color locks.

Mrs. Shayne, a smart-looking young woman currently silver blonde, runs what she and her bosses believe is the nation's perhaps the world's, largest beauty shop.

It shampoos, cuts, sets, tints, rinses, bleaches, styles and/or permanents about 7,000 customers per week. The shop opened recently at Macy's.

"Eighty-five per cent of the women these days rinse or tint their hair," Mrs. Shayne said positively. "We don't like to use words like bleach and dye. They sound so drastic."

Originally, Mrs. Shayne had brown hair, but confessed that it has been red, black, auburn . . . "every shade you can imagine."

Most of the shop's customers want to be blonde — not necessarily silver blonde.

Asked why, Mrs. Shayne muttered something about "gentlemen prefer . . ."

She sees the day when every woman will "do some kind of hair coloring" with as little fanfare as she changes her lipstick. Only a few rebellious husbands and a few die-hard females are left, she said.

"Remember how a few years ago some women weren't going to follow the fashion for short hair?", she asked. "But they came around . . .it'll be the same way with color."

The shop already has given customers three, four and even five-toned hair. One customer got a combination of chestnut, golden and silver blondes, and two shades of red.

"We blended one shade into the other," she said. "Right striking results."

Mrs. Shayne believes the shop's range of customers gives her a pretty fair sampling of national tastes.

"We get customers who can afford just a cut," she said. "Some of our customers arrive with chauffeur and sables. We have customers from every state . . .from Alaska, South America, Europe."

Her favorites are the woman who wanted to know whether the shop had an "eye cream . . . to make my eyes brown instead of blue," and the woman who called to complain there was no curl in her hair although she had a permanent only two months ago.

"Madam," an operator said politely, "maybe it has something to do with the way you wash your hair."

"Wash it," the woman said indignantly. "I don't wash it . . . what do you think I got a permanent for?"

The price the United States paid for Alaska was $7,200,000, or two cents an acre.

You're "sitting pretty" behind the wheel

Take this Bel Air model. First thing you'll notice is the quality of the interior. Rich-looking upholstery and appointments—color-matched to the exterior color. Roomy, comfortable seats with foam rubber cushions. Just turn the ignition key to start the engine and you're ready to go.

You get more power on less gas

That's because Chevrolet's two great valve-in-head engines are high-compression engines. In Powerglide* models, you get the most powerful engine in Chevrolet's field—the new 115-h.p. "Blue-Flame." Gearshift models offer the advanced 108-h.p. "Thrift-King" engine.

You can see all around

You see all the road ahead and see it close in. For you look out and down through a wide, curved, one-piece windshield that sweeps back to narrow corner posts. The panoramic rear window and big side windows provide a clear view in all directions.

You get greater getaway with the new Powerglide*

A lot finer performance on a lot less gas. That's what you get with the new Powerglide automatic transmission. Now you're automatically in "low" range for standing starts and for safer passing in city traffic.

Michigan Has Too Many Pupils, Not Enough Teachers

By JAMES A. O. CROWE
(By the Associated Press)

Michigan's schools next week will be bulging with students on one hand and scraping the bottom of the barrel for teachers on the other.

Dr. Claire L. Taylor, state superintendent of public instruction, reports that when the bulk of the schools open after Labor Day, nearly one and a quarter million students, a record, will be enrolled.

But the quality of instruction available to them generally will drop another notch when only about 37,500 fully qualified teachers report to fill some 45,000 teaching positions.

And the situation is going to be worse before it gets better, Dr. Taylor said. "There is no prospect of immediate improvement in the two main factors causing the shortage of qualified teachers.

These factors are Michigan's widly increasing birth rate and the traditionally low salaries paid to teachers.

The slack will be partly taken up by hiring of "special" teachers. These will get special certificates from the state to teach for one year only.

"Frankly," said a Department of Public Instruction source, "the only qualification some of these people have is that they can read and write."

Dr. Taylor says he knows of no school which will have to delay opening because of failure to get someone to fill a teacher position.

"But a lot of superintendents report the hardest scramble of their careers to fill out their rosters," Taylor said.

Other measures to take the slack included increasing the work load of present teachers, curtailing the school day in elementary classes, hiring substitutes to fill in until permanent teachers can be hired and dropping some specialized courses like driver training and shop classes.

Generally speaking, the shortage of ualified teachers is worst in suburban and rural areas in the southern Lower Peninsula and all through the northern Lower Peninsula. It is less serious in the big cities and the Upper Peninsula.

Taylor has appealed to the colleges of education to make special efforts to help bring the special teachers up to standard through courses.

The University of Michigan Extension Service is starting a half-time "on-the-job' teacher training program in the Grand Rapids area and has offered to start one in Saginaw.

The city school districts report the greatest difficulty in recruiting teachers for the elementary grades and for specialized courses, including agriculture, home economics, industrial arts, commerce, art and music.

In some cases, these courses have to be eliminated or greatly curtailed.

Reflecting the suburban difficulties, Supt. William Shunck of Waterford Township, outside Pontiac, reported he needs 12 more teachers badly before school opens. He has issued an appeal to all former elementary teachers to return to the classrooms.

Possibly the worst growing pains are being felt in southern Macomb County, adjoining Detroit. Teachers there are offered $3,500 a year to start.

Carl Brablec, superintendent at Roseville, reported he was still six or seven teachers short a week before school was to open. Last February, he sent two aides to normal colleges throughout the midwest to recruit teachers. Visits to 22 colleges produced about 20 new teachers, he said.

Supt. Max Thompson of Van Dyke said he has finally filled his teaching staff, but he reported it is getting "much tougher" each year to compete with industry for teachers.

Jackson city schools were reported short five specialized teachers, but the jobs were expected to be filled before school opens. The Jackson County rural districts, however, were having a rough time.

There was a possibility for a while that one or two Jackson rural schools could not open because of a lack of teachers. This, however, was staved off by hiring temporary replacements.

Typical of the general pattern that the shortage was not serious in higher-paying areas were reported from Grand Haven and Spring Lake, Grand Rapids and Kent County and Lansing and Ingham County where only scattered difficulties, mainly in specialized fields, were reported.

The Copper Country report was typical of the Upper Peninsula. "No pronounced shortage" was reported except for difficulties here and there in filling specialized teaching spots.

'Victim' Admits Firing Shots Into His Own Car

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A 24-year-old man who twice reported being shot at while riding in his car admitted yesterday he fired the shots himself.

Deputy Sheriff T. A. Buchanan said Jack Carlisle pumped .22-caliber rifle bullets into his car and wrote himself a threatening letter to arouse sympathy for himself because his wife was planning to divorce him.

Buchanan said Carlisle would be examined by doctors and that criminal charges probably would not be filed.

Vacation Site Shifted by Ike

Rested, He Returns to Denver From Ranch in Rockies

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

There he fished, worked on an oil painting of the Rockies, cooked for his party, and got in a lot of just plain loafing. The only interruption on the business side all week was to make public a message assuring the Prime Minister of Iran sympathetic American consideration of that nation's urgent appeal for economic aid.

Eisenhower looked well rested when he returned here to the home of the First Lady's mother, Mrs. John S. Doud. He still complained a bit about his bruised right elbow—he bumped it in the White House before leaving Washington, Aug. 8—but otherwise he appeared to be in excellent spirits.

The President, who caught the largest trout of any member of his party at Fraser, wanted to know as he stepped from his car in Denver what kind of luck the newsmen who accompanied him had.

"How many fish did you catch?" he asked one reporter.

"Well, I think I landed three or four," the reporter replied, obviously satisfied.

"That's not very many," said the President with a deflating grin. "However, it's better than being skunked."

The sore elbow kept him out of the trout stream half of the week at Fraser, but he still managed to hook a trout which weighed 1¼ pounds and measured 15⅝ inches—the record catch for the week.

18-Year-Old Robin Proves to Be Real Stay-at-Home

WICHITA, Kan. (UP) — Punkie is spoiled, there's no doubt about it. He knows it. His mistress admits it. So does the whole neighborhood.

Punkie is a robin who has lived in captivity for 18 years. Actually Punkie lives as an honor guest rather than as a captive.

His story goes back to 1935, when, after a storm, two boys found a young robin that had been blown from its nest and suffered a broken wing.

The boys, Mark and Wells Adams, took the robin to their grandmother, Mrs. Wells W. Miller. She doctored it, kept it for the boys while they were off to camp.

Returning, the youngsters lost interest in the robin, but not Mrs. Miller. It thrived under her care, acquired the name Punkie and decided it had found a happy home.

Said white-haired Mrs. Miller: "For 18 years that bird has never been outside the house. Sometimes I think Punkie actually has forgotten he is a bird and believes he is a person."

Punkie, old for a bird, usually sits and nods.

When he starts to move he seems to have trouble getting his bearings and will circle before lining himself up in the direction he wishes to fly.

"Punkie was a beautiful robin redbreast when he was young," said Mrs. Miller. "But now his breast has faded."

No longer a singer, the bird will move close to the radio when music is being broadcast and will cock his head, listening. When the music ceases, he goes away.

The Millers have a cage for Punkie in which he sleeps.

Peacock Trouble: Police Get Aid From Zookeeper

CHICAGO (UP)—Mrs. Sydney Katz called police who doubted her complaint that there was a peacock in the backyard.

Sure enough, there was. Policemen netted the resplendent bird with the help of the animal keeper of a nearby zoo.

University Promotes American Goodwill

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J. (UP)—An idea developed by a group of college undergraduates is fast snowballing into a blueprint for inter-American good will.

For the second straight year, a Student Conference on Inter-American Culture and Education has been held at Rutgers University to exchange ideas on the conservation of human and natural resources in North and South America.

Students disappointed with decreasing emphasis on the good neighbor policy in American international relations developed the conferences in 1952 to re-awaken interest in the two Americas.

The conference last year attracted 600 students from high schools and universities, ambassadors of four Latin-American nations and U.S. State Department officials, all of whom participated in panel discussions on inter-American economics, culture and education.

Arizona's first settlement was at Tucson and was established in 1776. Since 1889 the state capital city has been designated as Phoenix.

Wiley Reports Atomic Defense

Tells of British Missile or Rocket to Ward Off A or H-Attacks

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Wiley (R-Wis) said yesterday that the British have perfected "a guided missile or rocket that appears to offer a better defense against the H-bomb or A-bomb than anything we have."

Wiley, back here after attending the United Nations session in New York, told a reporter that the new British device "is said to travel between two and three thousand miles an hour.

"It is so fast that it can seek out and destroy any enemy plane before the plane could reach its target," Wiley said. "We are working on the same thing here, but they appear to be ahead of us in this field."

Wiley said he assumes that any British developments in the guided missile field will be made known to U. S. experts.

"We have a powerful Air Force for a retaliatory attack, if that is necessary, but we need more development on defense," he said.

Wiley will leave here soon for a series of 50 speeches in Wisconsin and elsewhere.

His first speech will be at Plattville, Wis., Sept. 12 with additional speeches at Milwaukee Sept. 14 and Madison Sept. 15.

Strike Picket Loses Job After 12 Years

CHICAGO (AP)—A picket who has trudged an estimated 40,000 miles in 12 years in front of an automobile company lost his job yesterday as Chicago's longest strike was settled.

"It was beginning to get rather monotonous," said Alexander (Scotty) Orr, who had been on picket duty since 1941 at the Petersen Chevrolet Co. The AFL Auto Mechanics Union had picketed the company since 1939.

"I walked slow," said Orr, a 69-year-old ruddy-faced Scot. "If you walk too fast the people can't read the sign. Then, I was getting old on the job too—that slowed me down some."

Orr said the union bought him a new pair of shoes every six months and supplied him with a new sign.

"Weather's hard on those signs, and I marched eight hours every day, rain, snow or shine, barring Sundays and holidays," he said.

Asked what he planned to do now that he was out of a job, he said

"I'll get me a rocking chair and sit in it for maybe a year. Of course, I'll soak my feet now and then, just from habit. I'll miss some of the nice people that used to chat with me every day."

Don Burrows, the union's business manager, announced the strike settlement. He said the auto firm had agreed to terms which other Chicago area Chevrolet dealers had accepted. He said the settlement provides for a union shop and wage scale with commission for mechanics, helpers and apprentices.

Carl Petersen, owner of the agency, said when the union attempted to organize his shop, his mechanics and other workers refused to join. Since, however, he said with the majority of auto service men signing up his workers finally agreed to become union members.

Hurricane Continues Toward U. S. Coast

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Hurricane flags flew over the islands of Antigua and Barbuda in the Leeward Island chain today warning residents to batten down for hurricane Carol.

The tropical storm was moving west-northwestward toward them at a steady 15-mile rate, packing 100-mile winds near the center.

Northwest storm warnings were up on the island of Guadeloupe and a preliminary hurricane alert was ordered for other Leeward Islands west of Antigua and Barbuda to St. Martin and Saba.

An advisory at 5 a. m., EST, from the Weather Bureau at San Juan, P. R., estimated the storm's position as about 270 miles east of Antigua and roughly 1,700 miles east southeast of the Florida mainland.

Jet Pilots No Longer Fuzzy-Cheeked Kids

DETROIT (UP) — Jet-jockeys, the Air Force flyboys who zip through space faster than sound, are not old men when they reach their early 20s.

That old theory is defunct, blasted by hard facts.

The United States has 32 jet aces, pilots with five or more downed enemy aircraft to their credit. And of the total group, 26 are married, 24 have children, and 23 are overseas veterans of World War II.

Most were born in the 1920's They range in age from Capt. Iven Kincheloe, 24, to Maj. Vermont Garrison, 37.

Amelia Earhart was the first woman to fly the Atlantic and the first woman to fly solo across the Atlantic. She was the first woman to fly solo from Hawaii to the United States.

Motorist Fined $5,000; Highest Traffic Penalty

CHICAGO (AP) — Fines totaling more than $5,000 were assessed against a motorist yesterday and the judge said the penalty was the highest ever made for traffic offenses in the United States.

Jerry Leverson, alias L. J. Borwen, 27, was fined $5,349 on 71 traffic violations, most of them speeding. Police had hunted him for more than a year but said he had eluded them by changing homes and jobs frequently.

Leverson, a car polisher and father of three children, was unable to pay the fines and was taken to the city jail. He faces a sentence of more than nine years if he works his fines off at the rate of $1.50 a day.

Municipal Judge Joseph Butler fined Leverson on each charge and said: "Ordinarily, when a man has to serve a lot of time in jail I feel sorry for him, but this time it's a pleasure . . .

"You have no respect for the law, the police, or the courts. And I have no respect for you."

Labor Day Weekend Specials Also Show Lower Pork Prices

(By the Associated Press)

Turkeys and smoked hams will get prominent display in the meat counters of the nation's food stores this labor day weekend.

Many stores will trim prices on these two features, with reductions running to eight cents a pound.

Pork chops will be considerably cheaper in many areas, reflecting lower wholesale prices.

Typical reductions from a week ago by one large chain: down 10 cents a pound in New York and Boston, six cents in Pittsburgh and 16 cents in Chicago. An exception will be Washington, D.C., where pork chops will be 10 cents higher than last week.

Leg of lamb and lamb chops, which also dropped at the wholesale level, will be reduced in some stores. Prices of sirloin steak and rib roast will be higher in many areas and a bit lower in others.

Frying chickens will be two to four cents a pound cheaper in various parts of the country. But egg prices will be up anywhere from one to four cents for a dozen of the large grade A.

Men in the wholesale egg market in New York noted a phenomenon this week. At one time, large eggs cost exactly twice as much as pullet eggs—70 cents a dozen wholesale against 35 cents a dozen. They explained that hens haven't been giving their all, with drought and exceptionally hot weather holding their production down.

New Cut Reported in AF Production

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Washington Post said today the Air Force has notified plane producers of a new billion-dollar cutback that would trim nearly 1,000 aircraft off previous buying plans.

Three quarters of the cutback was said to apply to combat-type planes.

The Post said word of the move came from "reliable sources" following a meeting yesterday between Roger Lewis, assistant secretary of the Air Force, and representatives of the aircraft manufacturers involved.

The cut would be in addition to the controversial five billion dollar reduction in Air Force funds programmed this fiscal year.

Senators Get Irish Up and U. N. Flag Still Flies

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—Irish music and a parade of senators carrying a Hibernian flag prevented the United Nations flag from being banned in California.

The ban was asked by Sen. Jack B. Tenney (R-Los Angeles) who said the U. N. flag was "a symbol which represents an enemy in the U. S., the Soviet Union . . . and had involved the U. S. in the Korean war."

Sen. Gerald J. O'Gara (D-San Francisco) said the U. N. was "our last best hope for peace." Then Sen. James E. Cunningham (R-San Bernardino) led the flag parade and Tenny's motion was lost.

Royal Command Performance Kept Hush-Hush

LONDON (AP)—Who will be the stars of this year's royal comand performance?

A gray-haired Britisher named Harry Marlowe sits by his phone in the heart of London's theater district nursing that top secret of international vaudeville.

A call from Marlowe may start an American singing star arranging his schedule to be ready for a transatlantic dash to make the show at London's Coliseum Theater Nov. 2. Or it may bring overnight fame—and wealth—to one of the hundreds of small-time acts making the rounds of Britain's provincial music halls.

Actually, the royal command performance is nothing of the sort. The performers do not appear by "royal command" and officially it is just a first-grade charity show attendedby the monarch. But the that's what everybody calls it. royal command tag has struck and

The tradition goes back to the late middle ages, when actors played in London only on license from the crown.

The modern command performance dates from 1921, when the Variety Artists Benevolent Fund started looking for new ways to raise cash to help its members, and King George V let is be known he would attend a vaudeille show. Today Queen Elizabeth carries on the annual tradition. It has raised around 250,000 pounds ($700,000).

Marlowe is secretary of the fund and that makes him casting director of the show. He and his committee pick about a dozen acts for the big spots plus some 500 performers for elaborate production numbers and submit the list—and script — to Buckingham Palace. Once the palace gives the green light, the show goes on.

Everybody works free. After the show the Queen looks ver the accounts—as with all charities she supports—and she likes to see expenses kept small.

The true command performance —with the monarch ordering his favorite entertainers to appear— has virtually disappeared from British life. George VI gave the last in 1938 to entertain a visiting French president.

Standard Gasolines, tested in desert heat to assure

NO VAPOR LOCK!

Standard's gasoline improvement stops big summer driving nuisance

In summer some gasolines actually "boil." Bubbles of vapor form in your fuel lines. Your engine chokes, sputters, goes dead. You're a victim of vapor lock. But not if you use Standard Gasolines. On the hot Mojave Desert, Standard scientists tested hundreds of blends of gasoline. They studied the cause—certain extra-light molecules. And they found the cure—remove them from summer gasoline and save them for fast-starting winter gas. From these tests come Standard's great no-vapor-lock summer gasolines.

Standard gasolines have been exhaustively tested under torrid desert conditions to assure you trouble-free summer performance. Only Standard says, "NOW—no vapor lock!" No vapor lock . . . on top of octane ratings that correctly match your car's requirements . . . on top of gasolines with catalytically-cracked molecules perfectly blended and balanced to give you the best possible combination of pick-up, power and mileage. And wherever you drive in the Midwest, at home or on the road, you'll find the same improved and guarded quality. You'll find, too, the famous SERVICE that car owners describe as the finest treatment they get anywhere. Try STANDARD WHITE CROWN Premium Gasoline or STANDARD RED CROWN Gasoline. Your first hot-day drive will prove that you can expect more from Standard . . . and get it!

Standard Gasolines can't be beat in summer heat! STANDARD

Incorrigible, 13, Stumps Officials With His Antics

RALEIGH, N. C. (AP)—There's a 13-year-old boy in jail here whose case has officials stumped.

Leon Davis, a former inmate of the Eastern North Carolina Training School, was arrested two weeks ago after allegedly breaking in skylights of two Raleigh stores and rifling their money tills.

A jailor reported that the youth unscrewed radiator valves and threw them out the jail window, hurled eating utensils through the window, slashed his mattress into strips and sailed toilet paper over the front lawn of the courthouse.

The problem became worse, the jailor said, when the boy put soapy water on the window ledge so the painters would fall off.

The boy has been termed "completely incorrigible." Judge W. C. Harris says he doesn't want to send the youth to prison, but officials say he can't be turned loose.

Members of the club rushed from the ceremony in the chapel of the Auckland Diocesan School, popped into climbing clothes and formed a nuptial arch of ice axes and ropes.

Library Acquires Revolution Record

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (UP) — A yellowed 40-page manuscript, containing a record of activities during 1783 of an infantry company in the Revolution, has been presented to the library here.

The book contains the activities of Capt. Nathan Goodale's unit, 5th Massachusetts Regiment, stationed at West Point, N. Y. while the treaty to end the war was drawn. The book was given to the library by Edward B. Prior of Rochester.

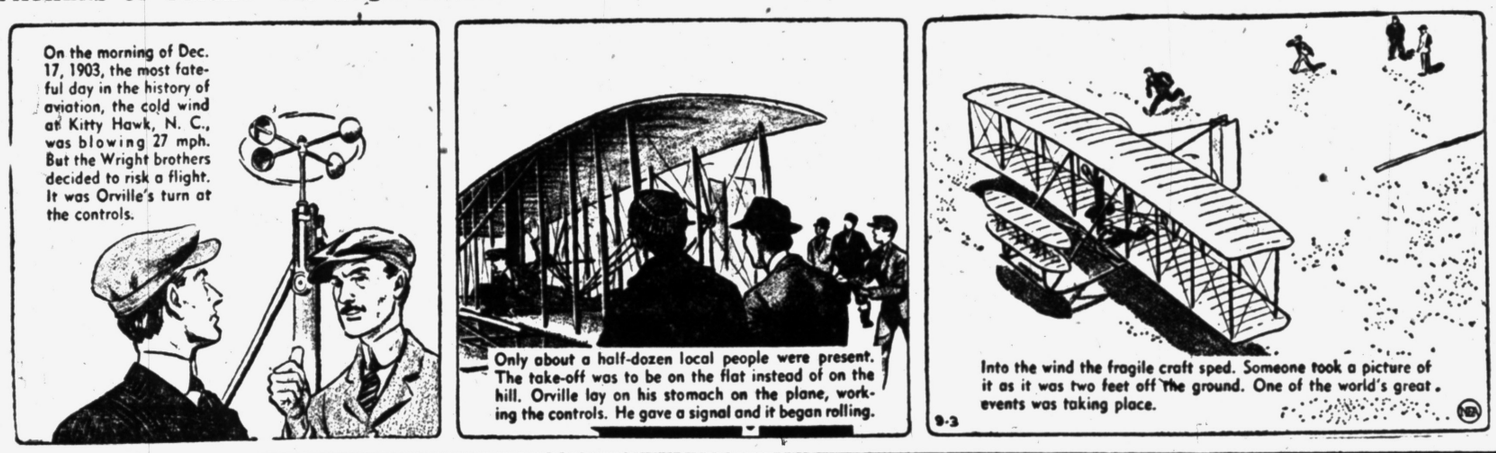

Largely a listing of names, the book records furloughs, civilian occupations, clothing and arms issued to the 68 men in the group. Furloughs "from whence to what place" were signed by Gen. George Washington.

In December, Pvt. Nathan Walker received a new shirt and pair of shoes. A month later a musket, three flints and 29 cartridges were issued.

Janitor at Hospital Modern Santa Claus

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (UP) — James H. Poe is just a maintenance worker at Fort Sanders Hospital, but to hundreds of hospitalized youngsters he is a year-round Santa Claus.

In the four years he has been at the hospital, Poe has made hundreds of dancing dolls and other toys. He gives them to the kids to help them forget their ills.

"I've learned," he said, "that if I can give the children something to occupy their minds, it will help overcome their pain and suffering."

The 53-year-old Poe refuses to accept money for his efforts.

"Sometimes people send money to me in the mail anyway," he said. "But I use it to buy manufactured toys and then give them to the children, too."

His rewards come in the form of the happy smiles on the kids' faces, and the letters of thanks they and their parents send him when they leave the hospital.

There was one childish scrawl that said:

"You are just like Santa Claus—only you don't look like him."

Tennessee Town Has No Tax Problem

NORRIS, Tenn. (UP) — This town has a population of 1,134 persons, and they're all prompt taxpayers.

For the fourth straight year since its incorporation, all Norris citizens paid their property tax assessments on time.

In addition, the community doesn't owe a penny to anyone, and even has a surplus of $17,000 in its treasury.

Erie Lighthouse to Be Museum

FAIRPORT HARBOR, O. (UP)—The venerable lighthouse here, built in 1825 and used for 100 years, will be turned into a museum.

The stone edifice, built by Jonathan Goldsmith, was acquired by the Fairport Harbor Historical Society after several years of negotiations with the U. S. government.

Though it was replaced as a beacon for Great Lakes shipping in 1925 and a new light constructed nearby, it wasn't declared surplus by the Coast Guard until 1950 and was only recently disposed of by the General Services Administration.

The society plans to maintain the lighthouse as a museum, in addition to the old keeper's house which adjoins it and has been utilized for years as a repository of Great Lakes lore.

Students to Study at Home

Room Shortage Forces Action

Jammed Classrooms End Study Periods for 300 in Rochester

ROCHESTER — Over 300 Rochester community school high school students from grades 10, 11 and 12 will have to study at home this school year.

Due to overcrowded classroom conditions, study halls will be eliminated in order to make room for necessary classes, according to Harlan Johnson, High School principal.

"Parents will have to be co-teachers with this set-up, and establish home-study periods," said Mr. Johnson.

Ninth graders will get a full-school program.

There will be half-day sessions for first graders at Brooklands and Harrison-Central with classes meeting from 8:45 to 11:30 a. m. and from 12:30 to 3:15 in the afternoon.

High school classes, said Mr. Johnson, will begin at 8 a. m. and end at 3:00.

With an anticipated fall high school enrollment of 641 students and with a current 147-pupil eighth grade and a 172-pupil seventh grade, the Rochester High school is expected to pass the 800 student requirement for a "class A" high school within three years.

Reorganization of student distribution has been necessary in this year's program due to classroom loads.

Superintendent Donald Baldwin announced today that one room schools north of Dutton road will this year house one grade.

Stoney Creek and Brooklands schools will run from 9 a. m. to 3:45 p. m. The same schedule has been arranged for the first and second grades at Baldwin school; third grade, Snell School; fourth grade, Kline school and fifth grade, Brush school.

School hours for Harrison-Central, Avon, Hamlin and Woodward will be 8:45 a. m. to 3:15 p. m. Third and fourth grades from Woodward will be transferred to the old Lutheran school on Helen street.

Scouts Will Get Order of Arrow

Oakland County Boys Will Be Inducted Into Society in Fall

Fifteen Boy Scouts from Oakland County and two from Macomb County will be inducted into the Order of the Arrow, a national society of honor campers, this fall at Camp Agawam on Tommy's Lake.

The boys were first selected by their own troop members as outstanding campers.

They were then "called out" as candidates during the camp's summer season. The "calling out" ceremonies were elaborate Indian programs which drew as many as 200 visitors each week.

Dick Jones of Waterford, chief of Chippewa Lodge 29, announced today that the Scouts would be initiated at the lodge's annual fall conclave. Date for the weekend event has not been selected.

County candidates for the honor include Bob O'Neill of Drayton Plains; Jim Watkins, Charles Williams and Jon Dombrowski of Lake Orion; Bob Harrison and Jerry Black Jr. and Jerry Black Sr. of Oxford; and Jerry Snover of Clarkston.

Others are: Lyle J. See of Milford; Eddie Barnum, James Marsh, Louis Gildemuster and Ken Gordon of Farmington, and Gilbert Gosik and Warner Iseppi of Royal Oak.

The Scouts from Macomb County are Charles Beyerlein of Utica and Al Denison of Mt. Clemens.

About 462 million acres in the U.S. are capable of growing commercially valuable forests, according to estimates of the U.S. department of agriculture.

Pear Jam a Breakfast Delight

Taste-Tempting Casserole Dish

Colorful casserole cookery is at its best in combinations like Creamed Peas and Salmon with Cornbread Checkerboard.

Salmon and Pea Checkerboard Casserole

½ cup sifted all-purpose flour
½ cup yellow cornmeal
¼ teaspoon salt
1½ teaspoons baking powder
¼ cup shortening
½ cup grated American cheese
3 tablespoons milk

Sift together flour, cornmeal, salt and baking powder. Cut in shortening and cheese. Stir in milk. Pat or roll on lightly floured board or between two sheets waxed paper into an oblong 8 inches long and 4 inches wide; cut into 8 squares. Bake in a hot oven (425 degrees F.) 15 minutes.

1 1-pound can peas
1 1-pound can salmon
Evaporated milk
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
3 tablespoons flour
¾ teaspoons salt
½ teaspoon dry mustard
¼ teaspoon tabasco

Drain peas and salmon; flake salmon. Add enough milk to salmon and pea liquid to make 2 cups; reserve.

Melt butter. Blend in flour, salt, mustard and tabasco; stir to a smooth paste. Add reserved liquid and cook stirring constantly, until mixture thickens and comes to a boil.

Add peas and salmon. Turn into a 10x6x2-inch casserole. Place cornmeal squares checkerboard fashion on top of casserole. Six servings.

The Philippines chain consists of 7,083 islands.

SPICED BREAKFAST TREAT—Now that September is here, we start planning for school days. A good breakfast is the first order of the day. Spiced Pear Jam will tempt everyone to linger over toast. You'll have trouble keeping enough on hand.

Yes, Use Tender Spinach

Small tender leaves of young spinach make a savory summer salad when they are mixed with crisp bits of crumbled bacon and French dressing. Try serving this salad, sometimes, with broiled fish fillets, mashed potatoes and buttered carrots.

To make one cookie a handful, use the open end of a good-size tin can for a cutter.

Family Will Ask for Spicy Treat

Takes Only Short Time to Prepare With Use of Fruit Pectin

Whenever you make jam or jelly, the family must try it out immediately, if your family is like ours. When they taste this spicy pear jam, they're going to demand more right away. You will have no trouble getting them to the breakfast table if you lure them with its pale golden goodness.

Start the family off this week, a few days ahead of time, with a special treat for the meal that breaks a fast. It will take only a short time to prepare the fruit for Spiced Pear Jam. The addtion of liquid fruit pectin cuts the cooking time and increases the amount of the finished product.

Spiced Pear Jam

4 cups diced Bartlett pears
¼ cup lemon juice
7½ cups sugar
½ bottle fruit pectin
½ teaspoon ground allspice

Peel and core about 3 pounds fully ripe friut. Chop very fine. Measure 4 cups prepared pears into large saucepan. Add lemon juice, sugar and allspice. Mix well. Place over high heat, bring to full rolling boil, and boil hard 1 minute, stirring constantly. Remove from heat, stir in pectin. Skim for 5 minutes to cool slightly and prevent floating fruit. Ladle into hot sterilized pars. Seal, label and store.

Baked Pears Tasty Dessert in Hot Season

With fresh pears due on the market any time now, you might file this recipe with your suggestions for interesting ways to serve summer fruits.

Baked Butterscotch Pears

1 No. 2½ can pears or 4 fresh pears
2 teaspoons lemon juice
5 tablespoons butter
½ cup brown sugar, firmly packed
¼ cup sifted flour
Few grains salt
½ teaspoon ground ginger

Drain pears and place cut side up in a 9-inch pie plate, or peel and halve fresh pears adding ¾ cup water and ½ cup sugar as juice. Combine lemon juice with ½ cup of the pear juice, and pour around the pears.

Cream butter until soft and smooth, blend in sugar, and add flour, salt and ginger. Beat until mixture is light and fluffy.

Divide mixture and place a heaping tablespoonful on each half pear, and any remaining, in the juice.

Bake in 350 oven, for 25 to 30 minutes, until nicely browned and crusty.

Spaghetti Combines Well With Eggplant

Here's an easy way to turn eggplant into a real chef's speciality. It only takes a few minutes to prepare, because the distinctive flavoring and quality are all added with a can of spaghetti sauce with mushrooms.

Chef's Eggplant Special

1 eggplant
2 tablespoons fat
1 large (or 2 small) cans spaghetti sauce with mushrooms
2 tablespoons breadcrumbs
1 tablespoon melted butter or other fat

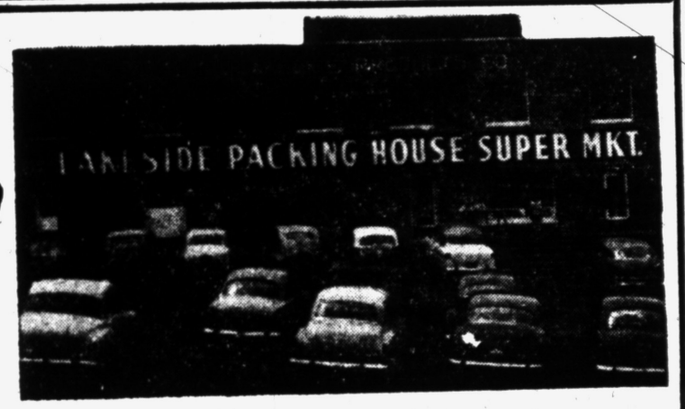

Slice eggplant in half-inch slices. Peel. Saute the slices carefully in hot fat until transparent but not brown. Arrange slices of eggplant in greased shallow casserole. Add spaghetti sauce with mushrooms. Sprinkle top with breadcrumbs and melted butter or other fat. Bake in 350 oven 25-30 minutes.

Don't Pour Cool Liquid Into Overheated Pan

Liquid poured into a very hot frying pan may cause warping from the sudden change in temperature. You can prevent this by turning off the heat or setting the pan aside for a minute or two; this will lessen the danger of burns from spattering fat, too.

Keep containers of salt, pepper, and sugar, a jar of mustard, a bottle opener, and paper cups, plates and napkins in your picnic basket and you'll lose that what-have-we-forgotten feeling.

Best in your washer— ME'LO You'll see the difference!

Made by the makers of SANI-FLUSH

SOUR BEEF WITH GINGERSNAP GRAVY—With meat prices headed up, it's time to utilize the inexpensive cuts. Chuck, rump or round of beef can be tenderized easily and made into a variety of delicious dishes. The gravy for Sour Beef is most unusual.

Gingersnapped Sour Beef Is Sweet on Pocketbook

Sad but true is the news that meat prices are going up! The happy short time when steak was a family affair instead of being reserved for extra-special events is fading again and once more homemakers are on the lookout for dressing up the inexpensive cuts of beef.

When you consider that three-fourths of each animal carcass is made up of the lower-cost types of beef and that these cuts are just as rich in food value as the higher-priced steaks and roasts, it would be foolhardy to overlook them. Especially when good cooking and clever seasoning can make them real treats. Try this recipe for Sour Beef with Gingersnap Gravy — you'll think you're dining out at a famous foreign restaurant.

Sour Beef with Gingersnap Gravy

Place a 3 to 5 pound steak of chuck, rump or round of beef on a board. Beginning at one side, score along front edge with triple-bladed chopper or knife moving chopper about ½ inch each time. Score along back edge, then across middle. Turn steak, score second side the same way.

Place steak in pan or dish and cover with equal parts of vinegar and water. Add a few bay leaves, a dozen whole cloves, a teaspoonful of whole black peppers and a peeled onion. Cover and place in refrigerator. Let the meat stand in the vinegar for 1 to 3 days, turning it several times.

Remove the meat from liquid and brown in hot fat in a heavy kettle. Then slip a rack under the meat to keep it from sticking to the pot, add 1 cup or less of the pickling liquid or water, cover with a close-fitting lid and cook slowly for 2 to 2½ hours, or until meat is tender.

To make the gravy, blend 2 tablespoons of flour with 2 tablespoons of drippings. Add gradually, stirring constantly, 1½ cups of cool or lukewarm liquid. Cook slowly until smooth and thickened. Add 2 or 3 gingersnaps broken into small pieces and stir until smooth. Or season the gravy with a little ginger and sugar instead of the gingersnaps. Serve on noodles.

Save Those Vitamins

Wise homemakers are careful not to waste the outer leaves of greens. These often contain much of the nutritional value of the vegetable. If there are any bruised or discolored spots, remove them and use the remainder of the leaves in mixed salads.

Lime Cauliflower Dish to Remember

Lime Cauliflower

1 medium-size cauliflower (about 1 pound without leaves)
1 cup water
½ teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
3 tablespoons strained lime juice
¼ teaspoon salt, dash of pepper
1 tablespoon minced chives

Separate cauliflower into flowerets; there should be about 1 quart.

Bring water and ½ teaspoon salt to boil; add cauliflower and cook rapidly, covered, until just tender-crisp; drain.

Put butter, lime juice, ½ teaspoon salt and pepper in small saucepan or skillet; heat thoroughly. Stir in chives. Pour over drained cauliflower and serve at once. Makes 4 servings.

Melted Cheddar Cheese Makes Mixture Unusual

For a wonderful and different vegetable combination, mix cooked green peas, cooked baby green lima beans, and diced cooked baby green snap beans; heat with a well-flavored cream sauce.

Turn into a shallow baking dish, top with grated cheddar cheese and place under the broiler until cheese is melted and flecked with brown.

Fluffy Powder Puff Dusts Flour on Board

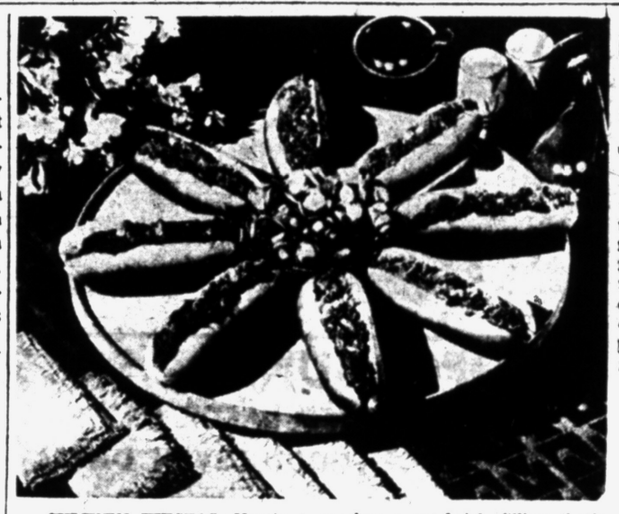

A novel way to dust flour on a pastry board is with a large fluffy powder puff. This is a simple and neat way to do a messy job. Keep the puff handy by hooking it on the wall near to your flour bin or canister.

To keep it fresh and clean, you can wash it after each use in its own favorite batter of cool soapsuds.

Toasted English Muffin Tops With Lean Bacon

Cooking Canadian bacon for Sunday breakfast? Then remember it is lean meat and keep heat moderate so the bacon will not be dry or hard. Heat a little fat in a skillet and arrange the bacon slices in it; cook no more than one or two minutes on each side.

Serve the Canadian bacon sometimes atop toasted English muffins with poached eggs.

CHICKEN FIESTAS—Here's a mealsome sandwich filling that's made in the frying pan. It's quick and easy because the base of the filling is canned chicken spread. The rest of the ingredients add spice and variety.

When you are replenishing your baking pans, look for pans without hard-to-clean seams and crevices.

Chicken Fiestas Solve Problem

Are you wondering what to serve the "girls" when next you entertain them for lunch? Is that nice couple next door coming over for a card game? Is it hard to think of something to eat on Sunday evening? We think that Chicken Fiestas will solve all these problems. They sound like mighty good eating.

Chicken Fiestas

½ cup finely chopped onion
¼ cup finely chopped green pepper
3 tablespoons butter
2 5-ounce cans chicken spread
1 6-ounce can tomato paste
½ cup chopped stuffed olives
1 teaspoon worcestershire sauce
1 teaspoon chili powder
Salt and pepper to taste
8 hot dog buns

Fry onion and green pepper in melted shortening until soft. Add remaining ingredients, except buns. Simmer 10 minutes, stirring frequently. Slice buns almost through. Fill generously with chicken spread mixture. Then place under broiler 5 to 10 minutes and serve crisp and piping hot. Makes 8 Chicken Fiestas.

Fresh Broccoli Is Main Part of Tasty Salad

Broccoli Vinaigrette

1 package frozen broccoli or 8 good-size stalks of fresh broccoli
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
¾ teaspoon dry mustard
½ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1½ teaspoons tarragon vinegar
1 teaspoon red wine vinegar
¼ cup olive oil
Salad greens

Cook frozen broccoli according to package directions omitting salt. If fresh broccoli is used, cook in a covered skillet in small amount of water just until tender-crisp.

Drain broccoli and spread in shallow dish.

Put salt, pepper, mustard, Worcestershire sauce, tarragon vinegar and wine vinegar in small bowl; beat wit hfork. Add olive oil and continue to beat until combined.

Spoon dressing over broccoli and let stand at least one-half hour before serving; spoon dressing over broccoli a few times while it is standing so stalks will get full benefit of marinade flavor.

Serve broccoli and dressing over salad greens. Makes four servings.

Shrimp and Olives Make Sandwich Mix

Today, the "meat" of the sandwich may be an inspired blending of a variety of foods to give tempting flavors and interesting textures. Coral Island Supreme is a combination of tender pink shrimp, ripe olives, nuts and a tang of lemon juice. It's open-air fare at its best. Seve this menu-charmer with a fresh fruit salad, iced coffee and peanut butter cookies.

Coral Island Supreme

¾ cup chopped cooked shrimp
¼ cup chopped ripe olives
¼ cup chopped nuts
3 tablespoons salad dressing
1 tablespoon lemon juice
12 slices enriched bread
Butter or margarine

Toss together shrimp, olives and nuts. Blend salad dressing with lemon juice and pour over shrimp mixture. Mix lightly. Spread bread with butter or margarine. Spread shrimp filling on 6 slices bread. Cove with remaining bread slices. Makes 6 sandwiches.

Plum Conserve Easy to Make and Economical

As "purveyor" of spreads to their majesties, Your Family, you're always on the lookout for recipes which will bring you new acclaim. Here's one to do the trick. It is named in honor of this year's great event in Britain, the Coronation of Queen Elizabeth. Naturally, it's a spread to a queen's taste. It's hard or impossible to buy, and it is economical when you make it yourself.

The spread is Coronation Conserve and it's so easy to make you wll want to put up the recipe more than once this summer, whenever choice firm-fleshed plums are available.

Here's the recipe:

Coronation Plum Conserve

2 quarts seeded plums
1 lemon
½ teaspoon salt
1 large stick cinnamon
6 cups sugar
1 cup raisins
1 cup nut meats

Cook plums until soft with pulp and grated rind of lemon, salt and cinnamon. Add sugar and raisins. Cook until thick. Remove cinnamon. Add nuts. Pour, boiling hot, into hot jars. Seal.

Hardy Breakfast Treat to Please Whole Family

For each person allow 4 slices bacon, 2 shredded wheat biscuits and 2 eggs. Saute the bacon until brown and crisp (do not drain off fat). Cut a hole into top of each shredded wheat biscuit; saute in bacon fat, cut side down, about 1 minute. Turn biscuits over; break an egg into each. Put cover on skillet (or cover with aluminum foil) and cook until eggs are of desired consistency.

Mix creamed cottage cheese with grated carrot and chopped scallions for a luncheon salad. Serve on salad greens with mayonnaise.

Wash Coffeepot Often

There's a good reason for washing your coffeemaker thoroughly every time you use it: Some oils from the coffee cling to the inside of the pot after the coffee is poured out. This oil film becomes rancid and embitters the coffee if it is not removed.

Pineapple Bits, Slices Lend Selves to Salads

Pineapple chunks and slices lend themselves to a large variety of salads. They add form and fragrance and refreshing flavor to all sorts of salad combinations.

One show-stopping salad plate combines pineapple chunks with bananas and peaches, with melon balls on the side. Crisp greens set the scene. Serve your favorite dressing on the side.

Among Arabian gifts to European medieval society were the art of fortification, knightly tournaments, the troubadour and chivalry itself.

PEACH SUNDAE SHORTCAKE—Fresh juicy peaches, plus ice cream and cake, are the ingredients for this super dessert, Peach Sundae Shortcake. You can vary the kind of cake; you can use different ice creams; but you always use the fragrant yellow peaches.

New Peach Shortcake Features Regular Cake

This is the season for peach shortcake. The traditional kind made with biscuit dough will continue to be the favorite of many people. But for a new variation, try this Peach Sundae Shortcake.

Peach Sundae Shortcake

4 to 5 fresh peaches
¼ to ⅓ cup sugar (depending on sweetness of peaches)
1 9-inch cake layer, white cake or sponge
6 scoops ice cream (peach, vanilla or lemon)

Peel and dice peaches. Sprinkle with sugar and let stand 5 minutes. Arrange on top of cake. Place ice cream scoops in circle around center. Garnish center with sprig of mint if desired. Serve cut in wedges with a scoop of ice cream on each piece.

If peaches must be prepared ahead of serving time, dip pieces in fresh lemon juice to prevent browning.

Appetite Teaser: Spiced Oranges

Have you ever had Spiced Oranges served with meat, or on a relish plate? They are enough out of the ordinary to cause comment from delighted guests. They're easy to make, too.

Spiced Orange Slices

12 large oranges
6½ cups sugar
1 pint cider vinegar
2 sticks cinnamon
1 tablespoon whole cloves

Cut unpeeled oranges in ¼-inch slices; simmer in water to cover about one-half hour, or until tender. Boil sugar, vinegar and spices 5 minutes.

Add orange slices, half of them at a time. Cook covered about one-half hour, carefully removing slices when clear.

Don't Forget Eye-Appeal

When you've made an atractive sandwich — serve it attractively. Eye appeal is a good share of the appetite appeal. A frill of lettuce, crisp carrot curls, pickle fans, radish roses, rosy red crab apples, cubes of cheese and fresh fruit aid is your imaginative touches on the sandwich plate. Perk it up to tempt lagging appetites.

Dress-Up Dinner Is Glazed Ham

For a special dinner, buffet or porch party, there's nothing quite like a glazed canned ham to give your table a festive air. Ham knows no season, and since canned ham comes ready to eat, you need bake it only long enough to heat through and set the glaze.

Garnish the ham for good eating . . . with individual fruit salads circling it on the platter.

Easy Glazed Ham

1 6½-lb. canned ham
Whole cloves
1 cup brown sugar
1 tablespoon prepared mustard
½ cup pineapple juice, or syrup drained from canned fruit

Put ham in shallow pan, score, and stud with cloves. Combine other ingredients and spread over ham. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F) about two hours, until glaze is set and ham is heated through.

Garnish Salads

Canned pineapple slices
Canned jellied cranberry sauce
¼ cup whipping cream
½ cup mayonnaise
Salad greens

Drain pineapple, arrange on platter. Slice cranberry sauce, cut into "doughnuts," and put on top of pineapple. Combine whipped cream and mayonnaise and fill centers of salads. Garnish with salad greens.

EASY GLAZED HAM — Canned ham is a problem-solver for buffet parties. It's easy to dress up with a glaze, and there's no waste in its meaty interior. Garnish with individual salads — pineapple slices topped with cranberry sauce doughnuts and watercress.

Decorate Party Cake With Genuine Flowers

Decorating a special party cake? You can turn it into a plate-size garden with real flowers. Dip the stems, but close the blossom, into melted paraffin and then plunge them into ice water. After the wax is hardened, arrange the flowers on the frosted cake and around the cake plate.

Use Deviled Ham Spread

Here is a good sandwich. Spread contents 1 can deviled ham on 4 slices bread. Spread 4 more pieces of bread with mayonnaise and cover with lettuce leaf and 3 or 4 thin slices of tomato. Put together to make sandwich.

Old-Time Spicing Recipes Found in Brand New Book

JANET ODELL

A new cookbook that will set your mouth to watering is Florence Brobeck's "Old-Time Pickling and Spicing Recipes," (M. Barrows and Company, $2.50).

On the jacket is the sub-title "110 Small-Quantity Favorites for Today's Homemakers." This makes it useful for cooks everywhere, regardless of kitchen size.

The author recommends serving at least one pickled or spiced chutney, relish, butter or sauce with every meal. Using her recipes, you could follow this advice for many days and still not repeat yourself.

All the recipes can be quickly made. Some, of course, must stand awhile before being used; but there are none that take days of cooking.

Apple Butter is a favorite spread on the American breakfast table. There are, however, many other kinds of Butters equally delicious. Serving home made Spiced Concord Grape Butter or Gingered Tomato Butter will add to your reputation as a cook.

One of the best sections in the book, in the estimation of your food editor, is the one devoted to Quick Relishes. As the author says, "If your store of summer-made canned relishes is used up, you can still delight the family and guests with crisp, good flavor with these 'quickies' made from kitchen staples."

They include canape spreads, meat relishes, salad tray ingredients, and garnishes for fish, meat or fowl.

The final chapter in the book is one on flavored vinegars. No longer need you spend large sums for these delicacies, not when you can make them yourself and even originate some not found in stores. If you began now, you might have some wonderful Christmas gifts of wine, herb, seed or fruit vinegars.

Florence Brobeck has filled a need with her pickling cookbook. It should encourage even the newest of homemakers to try some of the delicious recipes. They cannot be duplicated by the commercial canners. Serving them will mark you as an imaginative hostess.

Spiced fruits and vegetables, chutneys, catsups, pickles, mincemeats, brandied fruits — in fact, many of the traditional sweets and sours, plus some extras—are included in this slim volume. You'll find "Old-Time Pickling and Spicing Recipes" at a local bookstore; if you skim through it, we think you'll take it home.

Unusual Recipe for Eggplant From the Orient

From a little pamphlet entitled "International Favorites" comes this unusual recipe for eggplant.

Eggplant Orientale

1 large eggplant
⅓ cup olive oil
1 medium onion, diced
1 clove garlic, minced
1 stalk celery, diced
⅛ teaspoon thyme
1 teaspoon soy sauce
½ teaspoon MSG
Salt and pepper to taste
2 teaspoons chopped chives
1 tablespoon lemon juice

Peel and finely dice eggplant. Heat one-quarter cup of the olive oil in frying pan; add eggplant, onion, garlic and celery. Saute until vegetables are tender, about 20 minutes.

Add thyme, soy sauce, and MSG, and cook one minute. Season well with salt and pepper.

Cool and chill several hours. Just before serving, stir in remaining olive oil, chives and lemon juice.

Serve cold on lettuce or crackers as an appetizer.

Dog Proves Faithful

EASTON, Copn. (UP) — Mike, a seven-year-old Great Dane, again has proved that a dog is man's best friend. Mike stood guard for six hours over the body of his late master, Dr. Louis M. Oros, 45, of Bridgeport, after he suffered a fatal heart seizure while working on some property away from his home.

Scientists Draw Ice-Age Pinup From Old Skull

Scientists today agree that what you eat has more to do with aging than perhaps any one other thing. In fact, research workers agree that much of what is regarded as aging may be actually signs of poor food habits.

Many of the "old age" diseases of the heart, arteries, kidneys and joints actually begin during middle age. The right foods in the right amounts are important aids in slowing up these old age symptoms.

The following guides for prolonging youth are offered:

1. Plan diets to keep down weight. Older people use less energy—they need fewer calories. Overweight puts a burden on the heart and is a danger to health.
2. A full amount of minerals and vitamins are always needed. Don't ever cut out protective foods like milk, fruit, vegetables, eggs and meats. They're all a very important part of your diet.
3. Choose foods that are easily digested. Avoid rich fat mixtures. If you have trouble chewing, select finely chopped meats and vegetables. Some of the baby or junior canned foods may be used if necessary.

Build Fleet for Wintertime

Sometimes we think of ships being only summertime play, but it is a great deal of fun to have a "winter" fleet, too.

The main difference between the two is the size. In the winter, your fleet should be small ships which can be floated in the bathtub, in the laundry tub, or in a large washtub.

In your winter fleet the SOS of ship codes should mean Save-Old-Spools, for spools are what will give your ships individuality. Look around for scrap wood, for the hulls of your fleet can all be different sizes and thicknesses.

Spools also come in all sizes and therefore can be used to fit your boats. Ask mother and your neighbors if they will save their thread spools as they become empty. I am sure they will be happy to help you.

I have shown an ocean liner, a small boat, and a tug. You can see how the number of smokestacks varies with the size of the boat.

After you get your boats made, paint them in bright colors. Look in books which have pictures of boats to see what colors are used. Be the captain of a fleet!

Sandwich Savers

Old cereal boxes are just the thing to protect picnic-bound sandwiches. Place them in the box, fold box end in, and you'll have sandwiches recognizable as such when you reach the picnic grounds.

Youth Asks Information on Betrothal

He Wonders About Selecting Ring and Telling Parents

By EMILY POST

A young man writes: "I am in my early 20's and would like to become engaged before I go into the Army. Is it proper to have my girl friend pick out the ring she would like, or do I pick it out and surprise her?

"Another thing I would like to know is this: My cousin says that it is not proper to ask my girl friend's parents for their consent. He says it is old-fashioned and that it is up to the girl, and her only, to give her consent.

"I agree with him to a certain extent. However, I feel it is a matter of respect to ask the parents' consent. Do you agree with me?"

Answer: The man usually goes to the jewelers ahead of time and has a few rings put aside within the price range he can afford; then he takes his fiancee to let her decide which one she would like.

He asks the girl and then he and she together talk with her parents, say they are engaged and hope for their consent.

Dear Mrs. Post: My parents-in-law will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary soon and do not want the guests to send them presents as they have everything they need.

However, they would like the guests to donate some money instead for a foreign mission of which their son is pastor. Would this be possible and, if so, how could it be made known to the guests?

Answer: If anyone asks what they would like to have, you say, "What they really would like is a small subscription to their son's foreign mission."

Dear Mrs. Post: I am going to give a surprise party for my daughter on her 21st. birthday. I know all of her girl friends but do not know their boy friends. (Most of them have steady boy friends.)

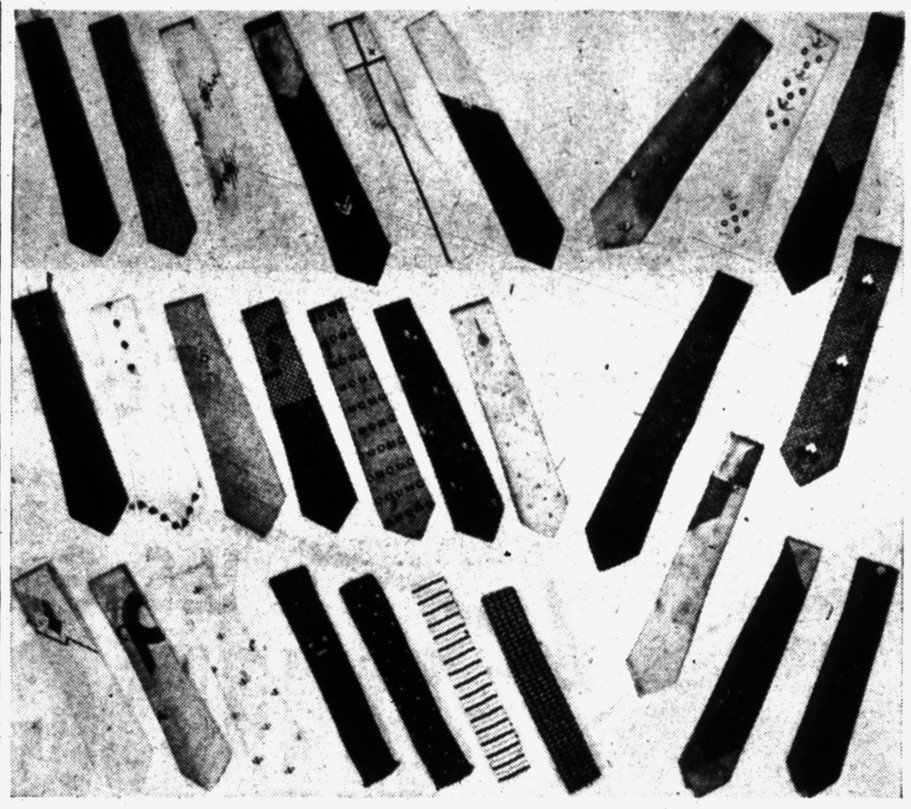

Will you please tell me how to address the invitations so that they will know their boy friends are invited, too?

Answer: Write a personal note inviting them and at the end you may add, "We would be delighted to have you bring a man with you if you care to."

Plastic Sheets Help Keep Clothes Damp

Newly-washed or just-sprinkled clothes can be wrapped in a plastic sheet and put into your refrigerator for safe keeping.

When you finallly have the time to iron them—even a week later—they'll be fresh, mildew free, and with just the right degree of moisture for easy pressing.

Here is a sampling of the new neckwear for fall 1953. Note that while the designs are neatly planned, the ties are far from being stodgy. These ties embody three of the current types of design. Some are woven patterns, others are prints and still others have embroidered designs. The unusual number of light ground colors is indicative of a new trend in neckwear for wear with fall clothing.

Girl Should Stop Trying to Pry Class Ring Away From Her Steady Beau

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

"Dear Miss Woodward: I've been going steady with Ralph for two months now, but I haven't his ring or anything of his to show that we're going steady.

"Though I've hinted around plenty, I don't know how I'm going to ask him straight out for his ring. Please help me."

I suppose you do need a ring on your finger, the sight and weight of which will remind you that you have a boy friend. It will force you into thinking about him when you're all by yourself.

And it's something to show the other girls, too. They'd all spot that foreign object on your finger and would immediately begin to babble a lot of personal questions. Which you'd love answering — because you'd be so proud to have the right answers.

To the other girls and to all other boys you'd have a badge of dependence to show. It would tell the world — that ring — that you've a steady beau and there's no use trying to pair you up with anyone else at the moment. Your heart is taken — your reserved finger says so.

But actually whose business is your going steady but your own? Does it matter so frightfully that all your friends should know about your love and can see a ring as proof? Couldn't you be making that symbol assume a greater importance than the fact of your relationship?

To me the ring is very incidental to the main plot. Were I you, I'd concentrate on making the love story last, rather than on trying to figure out ways to wangle a temporary loan of the boy friend's property.

"Dear Miss Woodward: I'm 17 and very much in love with Lon, who says he loves me. What's complicated is the fact that he has my class ring while another girl has his!

"He doesn't see her, but he won't ask for his ring back so he can give it to me. My friends say I'm crazy to keep going with him, but I love him too much.

"Sometimes I feel like running away to keep him from hurting me any more!"

Your're hurt to the core because your fingers are undecorated. You're bitter because a ring you might be wearing is nestling in the jewel box of a girl to whom it's just a souvenir.

You're out of patience with Lon because he won't get in touch with his old girl and pry his ring loose from her clutches.

The whole situation has you sick with frustration.

Wouldn't you feel even sicker if Lon stopped loving you? And isn't that the important thing to save your steam for?

His ring is only the fluting on the piecrust!

IF suburban living—

Better casual clothes, less formal apparel, more dramatic cocktail dresses and tweed-but-not-terribly—so you won't look bulky.

Mrs. S. L.—Right now wool jersey combined with wool tweed in a slim one-piece dress with cardigan jacket is a good basic outfit for the suburbanite for town wear. More casual are sweaters and knitted fabrics.

Trouble's Brewing If She Believes Herself Smarter

By ANNE HEYWOOD

"I have a terrific problem," one reader writes, "and I know you will understand.

"My husband and I are both working—he as a legal clerk in a large law firm, and I as a secretary for a dress manufacturer.

"We had our jobs when we married, and decided that I would keep mine until we started our family.

"Now I have gotten a series of raises and am making more than Larry does. I hesitate to tell him this because you have to make men think they are smarter than you are, and, after all, I can't help it if I'm worth more money."

She then went on in some detail about what a little hot shot she is, and did I think she should deceive poor dumb Larry or not?

Always in cases like this, the solution — or rather, the outward steps we take — depends entirely on our inner feelings.

The woman who truly loves her husband believes in him and knows he has a future. She thinks it's pretty silly that business should pay so little to him in the beginning.

She laughs it off and, quite obviously, considers it a fluke that she should be paid more. In this situation no husband I have ever heard of resents his wife making more than he does.

The other extreme is the woman who honestly feels that money in a beginning job is the whole measure of success, who privately feels herself smarter than her husband, and considers this difference in money as a major triumph.

To her, I would give a warning.

Unless she can get a straighter sense of values, and a little more honest feeling for her husband, he will, sooner or later, get sick of it, whatever fancy techniques she may devise.

If this type of woman is willing to reorient her thinking, my suggestion would be that she set aside from each pay check the amount by which her salary exceeds his.

This private nest egg would be a wonderful surprise for him on the day he gets the big raise and she decides to start a family.

Firm Tailor-Makes Electric Motors

LIMA, O. (INS) — Westinghouse engineers are often called upon to come up with "tailor-made" motors for unusual appliances. One customer requested a motor for a chicken-plucking machine he had designed.

Another wanted motors for fans to blow feathers into sleeping bags. Strangest of all was an order for a motor-driven toothbrush!

Chocolate Best in 'Old Days'

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (INS) — Grownups who think chocolate is not as good today as it was in their childhood are not the victims of jaded tastes.

U. S. Department of Agriculture plant scientists reported through the Universuty of Tennessee that the high quality of "flavor" varieties of chocolate have gradually been giving away to less flavorsome varieties easier and more profitable to grow.

As a result, they are working American countries to help cacao growers improve the raw material from which the delicacy is made.

Scientists are trying to develop a high-yielding, disesase-resistant variety of tree that will be easy to grow yet will give the market a top-quality, fine flavored bean.

Staple Gun Is Big Boon to Amateur

Quicker, Easier to Use Than Hammer and Nails

By HUBBARD COBB

One of the finest things that has happened to the amateur builder since the invention of plywood has been the development of staples and heavy-duty stapling machines for various fastening jobs.

Just the other day we watched a demonstration of applying weather stripping with staples and with hammer and nails.

The guy with the machine had finished his half of the job and was at the local beach before the other character was even well started. We've seen the same thing hold true when it comes to applying insulation.

If you've ever tried to install insulating ceiling tile with hammer and nails, you know that it's quite a trick to hold the tile just right, get the nail in the correct spot and then drive it home without damaging the face of the tile.

With a stapling gun it's no trick at all. And the same thing holds true of wire and plastic insect screening and even certain kinds of shingles — they go on much faster and better with staples because the gun leaves one of your hands free to hold or control the material that you are fastening.

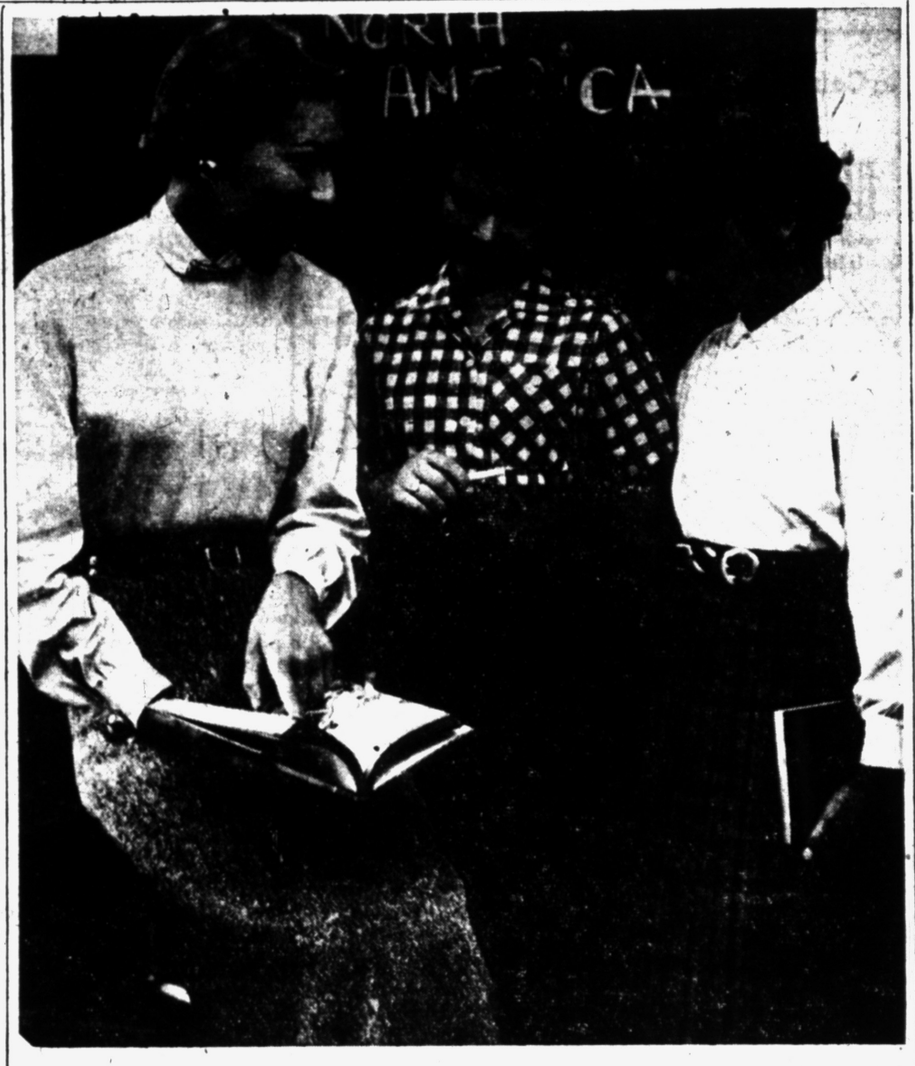

The thing about these guns, which you can rent from most hardware and building supply stores or buy outright, is to be sure that the gun will take staples strong enough for the job at hand.

Most manufacturers of building products specify the size and number of staples required to secure their product in place.

If you follow these instructions and use only the correct size staple you won't have any trouble.

Wrap Baby Nipples

Before going on a trip with the baby, boil bottle nipples at home and wrap them in sterile gauze or in a glass jar with a screw cap. This will insure sanitary feeding.

It's fun to learn in blouses tailored by the same fine hand as teacher's. In the center is a blouse of tablecloth gingham check with woven-in domino pattern. On the right is a long-sleeved classic of combed cotton broadcloth with sleeves tightly cuffed. Teacher's favorite with a similar pocket and little boy collar has French cuffs, and it comes in pastels as well as white.

Cut Hosiery Bills

When stockings seem to snag often and hosiery bills run high, it's a good idea to examine cuticle and fingernails for rough edges.

To remedy snag-making roughness, use lotion to lubricate the skin around the nails and fingertips. This softens and smooths skin, helps beautify nails.

Manners

MAKE FRIENDS

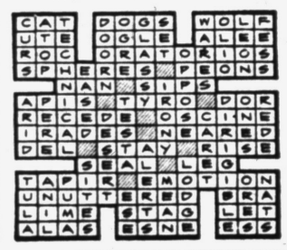

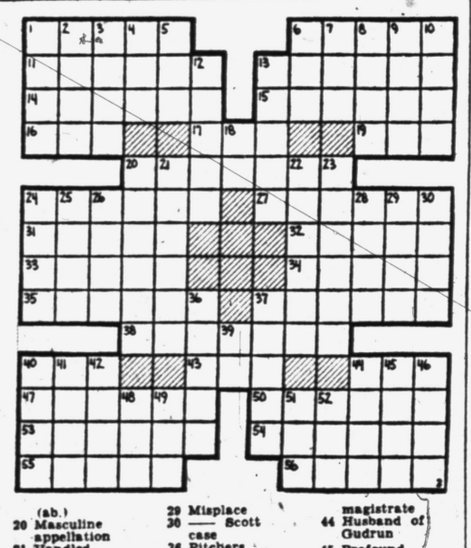

The reason you have a feeling, when you are invited to the Browns, that you are just another name checked off a social list is because Mrs. Brown talks too much. She is always saying: "I simply must do something about the so-and-so's." And "I've got to have a party and pay back all the people I owe."

Such talk makes Mrs. Brown's social invitations seem like business obligations.

It has been estimated that the average American knows and often uses 25,000 to 35,000 words.

Now's Time for Desserts With Apples

Mother's Delicious Recipe Is Given by Mrs. Disbrow

By JANET ODELL

(Pontiac Press Food Editor)

It's time to get out all the favorite apple recipes and to add some new ones to our collections. Mrs. Clinton Disbrow gives us her mother's recipe for a delicious apple dessert.

It can be baked while you are preparing the rest of the dinner, for it is to be served hot.

Mrs. Disbrow is well known for her exquisite flower arrangements; she has been in the florist business for 25 years.

MOTHER'S APPLE DESSERT
By Mrs. Clinton Disbrow

4 medium sized tart apples
1 cup flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1¼ teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon salt
¾ cup sugar
3 tablespoons shortening
¼ cup milk (about)

Slice apples into greased pan and dot with small bits of butter. Sprinkle with cinnamon and sugar. Mix flour, baking powder, salt and sugar, and sift twice.

Cut in shortening. Add enough milk to make a soft dough. Spread over the apples. Bake in hot oven at 400 degrees about 25 minutes or until apples are tender.

Turn out on plate upside down and serve hot with whipped cream or brown sugar sauce. If whipped cream is used, dust over with cinnamon and a few finely chopped nuts.

For the brown sugar sauce, mix together 3 heaping tablespoons brown sugar, 1½ heaping tablespoons flour, ⅛ teaspoon salt and 2 tablespoons butter.

Slowly add ¾ to 1 cup boiling water, stirring constantly. Boil five minutes or to desired thickness. Add 1 teaspoon vanilla and a dash of vinegar or lemon juice.

Face and Costume Need Extra Special Grooming

By ADELAIDE KERR

Don't spoil your party by giving it a hostess with a frazzled face and a costume that is not all that it should be. Give some thought to the way you will look as soon as you have issued your invitations.

The first thing to consider is your frock. Before you decide to wear the gray crepe, look it over carefully and try it on.

It may need cleaning. You may have put on too many pounds to wear it any longer. Or it may look a little too tired for a festive occasion, in which case you will have to give it a lift with some fresh flowers or trimming.

If you decide you need to buy a new dress, don't wait until the last minute and then begin a frenzied unsatisfactory search. Get the dress early, in plenty of time to have it altered without hurried last minute fittings.

Next, give considerable thought to your shoes. They must not only look well; they must be comfortable too, if you are to keep your mind on your guests. So be sure to have ready a good-looking pair that doesn't pinch.

When the big day comes, give yourself at least an hour—if possible, an hour and a quarter — before the party to bathe, rest and dress.

Before you step into your bath, bind a bath fillet around your hair and cleanse your face thoroughly, first with cream and then with a brisk soap and water routine.

Coat it with a thin film of rich cream and lie, completely relaxed, in the warm water for five or 10 minutes while the cream soaks into the skin.

Now for a half hour's much-needed rest! Many New York and Hollywood beauties take it on an inclined angle board, which rests on legs, with one end touching the floor and the other elevated. They lie with the head at the lower end and relax.

If you do not have such a board, flop on the bed. Pads of cotton wrung out of cold water and laid over your eyes will help and brighten them and refresh you, if you are tired.

When it is time to dress, remember this is no time to try new makeup tricks unless you have practiced them at least once. Stick to what you know, but take plenty of time for it.

See that you don't use too much rouge and that the powder is evenly applied.

Ater your first application of lipstick (applied with a brush) blot your lips thoroughly with facial tissue, brush them lightly with powder and give them a second lipstick coat. This does away with the necessity of frequent retouching.

When you are ready for your frock, tie a soft chiffon handkerchief lightly across your face, to avoid getting powder marks on the neckline of your dress.

Cut with the ease and comfort of a sweater, the jacket of this two-piece knit is traced with white angora and an inset of antique gold. The skirt is ribbed in three tiers for a nice flare.

Summer Breaks Rough Routine

Mamie's Girl Friday Enjoys Loafing

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The hardest working gal at 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue is turning into a loafer, but fast.

No more sitting up until midnight with White House homework. No more verbal sparring with the press ladies, at least until fall.

In fact, Mary Jane McCaffree, Mamie Eisenhower's Girl Friday, admits she's all of a sudden slowed down to an eight-hour-day.

She is enjoying the First Lady's unsocial summer every bit as much as the boss. But the Mamie-Mary Jane team rates it after last winter.

To date Mrs. McCaffree has done her best to handle most of the social secretary chores with one hand while tackling her own personal secretary post with the other. If Mrs. Eisenhower plans to appoint a social secretary she'll probably do it in the fall.

It was at one of the first press conferences ever staged for her boss that Mrs. McCaffree won over the distaff side of the fourth estate.

A masculine interloper surprised everyone present by asking for a detailed description of Mrs. Eisenhower's bed jacket. He then demanded to know whether the First Lady preferred a bath or a shower in the morning.

Unflustered, Mrs. McCaffree furnished the description of the bed jacket — blue silk with short sleeves — then neatly ducked the other question, declaring "that comes later."

Mrs. McCaffree has the background and experience plus the poise and good nature for what is one of the most unpredictable and important roles inside the White House.

Hardly out of Hunter College, Mrs. McCaffree tangled head-on with protocol. One of her first jobs was executive secretary to the New York World's Fair vice president in charge of entertaining foreign diplomats and state officials.

When the fair closed she found herself with a stable of thoroughbreds, a number of cattle and hogs, plus a sizeable farm and household staff.

Title that went with this spot was executive secretary to C. E. Tuttle, president of a Baltimore steel company. Tuttle also entrusted Mrs. McCaffree with general-managing his 615-acre farm.

Other jobs held by Mrs. McCaffree, at one time or another, include corporation secretary with an export-import firm, secretary to the president of a large distilling company and assignments with the National Citizens for U.N. Day and the National Automobile Dealers' Association.

Back before the election friends persuaded her to help set up the National Citizens-for-Eisenhower movement. Next niche was secretary and assistant to Arthur Vandenberg Jr. Then the Chicago convention where she met Mrs. Eisenhower.

A week later Mrs. Eisenhower asked Mrs. McCaffree to join her in Denver. She's been with the First Lady ever since, and now has five people under her immediate supervision.

Three are permanent White House employes who formerly worked with Mrs. Truman's social secretary; the other two Mrs. McCaffree brought from New York.

Recently when the Eisenhowers left for vacation, Mrs. McCaffree and her husband, Dr. Floyd McCaffree, stole off together for a couple of days in Carolina leaving telephone calls, party invitations and White House pressure far behind.

Just five years ago Mrs. McCaffree, who's brunette and plenty attractive, met her husband on a Guatemalan cruise. They live in a six-room house in Rock Creek Hills with an Irish setter "Pat" and a cat called "Mike."

Mrs. McCaffree dabbles a bit in oil painting and has occasionally watched the President working with his brushes. she's never discussed the hobby with her boss' husband, however.

"You don't interrupt an artist while he's working," she smiles.

Ann Sothern Economizes for TV Stint

Buys Basic Garb for Typical Career Wardrobe

By ELIZABETH TOOMEY

NEW YORK (UP)—The secret of the whole thing, says Ann Sothern, is to buy basic dresses.

Strange advice coming from an impulsive blonde actress who describes herself as "half Irish, half Danish, with a stubborn streak, a monumental temper and an extravagant taste in clothes."

The whimsical Miss Sothern reclined on a chaise lounge in her hotel suite as she talked, dangling a custom-made slipper over the edge.

"I am learning," she began in her drawling voice, "and I found some very good buys on this trip. You get a basic dress and you can change it six ways, you know." Miss Sothern is just being realistic in line with the new trend in television. Miss Sothern plays the part of Susie MacNamara in "Private Secretary," a television series which will resume over CBS later this month.

The huge wardrobe departments she became accustomed to as a movie star just don't exist around TV studios. What's more, Ann discovered she was getting letters from working girls asking where she bought a certain dress or suit.

"I decided to dress like a girl on an average salary," she said with a stubborn glint in her blue eyes. (She says she gets the stubborn streak from her Danish ancestors.)

"I don't buy all the clothes myself, because there's a girl who helps me back in Hollywood. But on this trip I did the shopping for myself."

Her most successful dress on last year's series was a blue wool coat-dress, she recalled. With the air of a girl who's just discovered a mink coat in her closet, the actress said, "You just wouldn't believe how different it can look with different scarves and collars and things."

She looks carefully at newspaper advertisements and orders some of her TV wardrobe by mail, "the way any working girl might do." Her top price for any item for the show, even a coat, is $100.

I can remember when I paid $600 for an evening dress back in the days when that was really the end," Ann said suddenly, sitting erect and straightening the snug trousers of her blue satin lounging pajamas.

On this trip to Manhattan, she picked up a couple of simple wool jersey dresses for $29.95, with full skirts and collars that could be changed easily, a suit and some accessories.

"I'm even keeping over some of the clothes from last year's show," she announced. "We keep a chart so I know times I've worn different outfits."

Only trouble now is switching this TV technique to her personal wardrobe, which still leans to the extravagant side, the actress said.

Unmarried since her divorce from actor Robert Sterling in 1949, Miss Sothern pays the clothing bills for her and her daughter, Tish.

"I'm extravagant with both of us," she sighed. "Maybe I'll learn."

New Deadlines Are Set

In anticipation of the opening of the fall season, new deadlines have been set for the Pontiac Press' women's pages.

Copy for publication on any given day must reach the social desk by 9 a. m. that day.

For example, if a club meeting or other social event occurs on Monday, the person in charge of publicity should see that the information is written clearly and completely and placed in the box provided for that purpose just outside the front door of the Press building Monday evening or Tuesday by 8 a. m.

This box is opened at 8 each morning. If the copy is brought in later than 8 a. m. it should be brought directly to the women's department before 9 a. m.

Publicity chairmen should include their names and phone numbers since it may be necessary for the women's department to seek more information.

If it is absolutely necessary to phone in information, the new deadline on such calls is 9 a. m. for publication that day. Publicity chairmen also are asked to remember that not more than 12 names can be taken over the telephone.

Wax Big Boon to the Gardener

NEW YORK (INS) — Household paste wax is a big help for the gardener.

For example, if wooden seed markers become obliterated by rain and dirt, clean them and apply a coat of paste wax over the entire marker. The wax will keep the label legible for weeks.

Metal garden tools that are neglected can run up your gardening costs because of rust and corrosion. A thin application of wax will protect your tools from the effects of the elements.

If rust already has set in, remove it with steel wool and then apply the wax.

The wood parts of garden implements also will benefit from a wax coating, especially the handles which will feel more comfortable to the grip.

Fertilizing Unit Aids Gardener

Fertilizing the garden is a messy and smelly job when done by conventional methods but there's a new gadget on the market that makes it practically painless.

The "Nitrogenizer" is an automatic fertilizing unit for the lawns, shrubs and flowers which attaches to a hose.

Weighing no more than three pounds, it enables you to water and fertilize in one operation. It's a cylinder with two growth-stimulating brickettes inside the container. Water from the hose dissolves them at the proper strength for your garden.

Lily Pons Signs for Comedy

Old Standbys Such as Lucy, Berle, Sullivan Tough to Beat

By EVE STARR

NEW YORK — It's all happened so gradually that most home viewers aren't aware of it — but the new fall season promises to be the best and most entertaining in the history of TV.

EVE STARR

Just look at some of the scheduled shows and performers. Not only are there such old standbys (don't call them TV pioneers; it makes them feel SO old) as Jackie Gleason, Milton Berle, Ed Sullivan, Dinah Shore, and Lucy and Desi, who will be presenting higher-budgeted shows in most cases, but the comparative newcomers are going to make their presence felt for sure.

Some of them are the Danny Thomas show and Ray Bolger program; Larry Storch show; Eddie Albert's variety show, Patsy Kelly's new comedy series, Loretta Young's teleseries (filmed); Ella Raines' half-hour dramatic show; Ethel Merman and Mary Martin, whose shows are now being prepared; Joel Grey and Sammy Davis Jr., whose shows also are being scripted.

Other highlights include Celeste Holm's filmed series titled "Carolyn", John Robert Powers and his famous cover girls, for whom a suitable format is now being sought; and the Olsen and Johnson comedy show, which is now being prepared. This network, (ABC) incidentally, will launch Lily Pons in a new situation comedy show.

EXCLUSIVES: TV goes to "war"! Tactical use of television to direct troop movements was demonstrated recently to West Point cadets at Fort Monmouth, N. J. They saw simulated beach invasion and destruction of an "enemy" radar station at Fort Hancock, 12 miles distant, on half a dozen TV sets.

The camera was in a plane, with the picture being microwaved to a mobile TV unit at Monmouth, then sent by closed circuit to the six screens.

Sylvia Sidney, darling of the straw-hat circuit and legitimate stage (and before that, the flims), will make her TV debut Sept. 23 in a film titled "As the Flame Dies," one of the Ford Theater series.

Hey, kids — "Archie" will be on your home sets soon. . .

Kangaroo Court Marks City's 175th Birthday

MARTINSBURG, W.Va. (AP) — Councilman W. H. Peery went to the pillory yesterday on a trumped-up charge of bank robbery, but he wasn't alone as a victim of Martinsburg's kangaroo court.

Mayor Carlton B. Stuckey also took his turn before public ridicule.

Ice Pick Injures Eye of Muskegon Boy, 10

MUSKEGON (UP)—An ice pick with which he was attempting to open a bottle of soda pop struck and injured ten-year-old Galen Pendleton in an eye Wednesday.

He was described in good condition in Mercy hospital.

New Building Work Staying at Top Level

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government reported today that expenditures for new construction continued at record levels in August, totaling over $3,300,000,000.

Dollar volume was about 7 per cent over the total for August last year, but the amount of actual construction was up only slightly because of higher construction costs.

Truman May Sign Up for Fall TV Program

NEW YORK (AP)—Former President Truman reportedly will make his first commercial appearance on television this fall.

A spokesman for the TV-Radio Workshop of the Ford Foundation said yesterday that negotiations are in progress for Truman to appear on one of the weekly programs for young people over NBC entitled "Excursion."

Trim Federal Payroll 88,000 Since Jan. 1

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Civil Service Commission says federal payrolls have been trimmed since January by a net of about 8,000 persons.

As of July 31, the commission reported yesterday, there were 2,447,200 federal employes, compared with the June 1945 high of 3,769,646 and the postwar low of 1,699,444 in June 1950.

Cape Town, South Africa, was founded in 1652 by the Dutch to raise fresh food for passing ships.

More Point Four Aid Under Way for Work in Iran

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government announced today allotment of $23,400,000 to continue present aid to Iran, as distinct from the special financial backing being prepared for its new anti-Communist government.

The Foreign Operations Administration said the money would be used to continue programs and projects developed during the past three years under the Point Four program of technical assistance to underdeveloped countries.

In an exchange of letters with U. S. Ambassador Loy Henderson, Premier Zahedi affirmed the assistance agreements made by his predecessor, Mohammed Mossadegh, on U. S. aid and promised his government would "expedite the fulfillment of programs designed to advance the welfare of the people of Iran."

The amount allotted, to be made available during the present fiscal year, is in line with the level of help extended to Iran in recent years.

Says Maryland Will Be Eventually Washed Away

SOLOMONS ISLAND, Md. (AP)—A scientist at the Chesapeake Biological Laboratory here says that eventually there won't be an Eastern Shore in Maryland, much of one anyway.

Dr. R. V. Truitt says the area eventually will be covered with water—several thousands years from now.

The reason, he says, is that the great polar caps are melting, causing the oceans of the world to rise one seventh of an inch per 100 years.

Toledo Man Rumored for Democratic Post

WASHINGTON (AP) — Edward Lamb of Toledo, Ohio, was said by an informed source today to be under serious consideration as the next treasurer of the Democratic National Committee.

Some committee members already have approached him about the matter, this source said. He added that Lamb probably would accept the job as an obligation to the party.

At Democratic national headquarters, a spokesman said Lamb is one of several persons being considered for the appointment.

Lamb is publisher of the Erie (Pa.) Dispatch and owner of a number of television and radio stations, which include WTOD in Toledo and WMAC-TV in Canton-Massillon, Ohio.

Bigamy Charge Dropped Against Detroit Couple

DETROIT (AP)—Because an Indiana justice of the peace had "no independent memory" of having married them, Michigan's bigamy case against a taxicab driver and his radio-dispatcher girl friend blew up.

Leslie Wendell is the driver and Shirley Brewer the cab dispatcher.

Bigamy was charged on the grounds they had married in Angola, Ind., without benefit of divorces from previous spouses. The prosecutor's office however, asked that the charge be dismissed and Recorder's Judge Joseph A. Gillis agreed.

Harry E. Shoup, an Angola justice, sent word he had "no independent memory" of marrying Leslie and Shirley last Sept. 26 as alleged.

Wooden Shed Replicas to Honor Two Wrights

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two unpainted, sagging wooden sheds will be erected this fall at Kitty Hawk, N.C., in honor of the Wright brothers.

The sheds, replicas of those in which Wilbur and Orville Wright worked and slept, are to be used in the re-enactment of the flights that marked the birth of powered aviation 50 years ago.

But sponsors promised the National Park Service, which is responsible for the Kitty Hawk Monument, that the sheds will be demolished after the anniversary celebration if they detract from the appearance of the memorial.

Illuminating gas was first used in the United States in Baltimore in 1821. A year later it was introduced in Boston, and two years later it was made available in New York.

Braves, Reynolds, 2 Big Headaches for Brooks

By BEN PHLEGAR
AP Sports Writer

The Brooklyn Dodgers nursed a double-barreled headache today—the Milwaukee Braves and Allie Reynolds.

The pesky Braves, who apparently refuse to believe what they read in the papers about the Dodgers being a shoo-in for the flag, are causing the immediate difficulty. The Big Chief of the New York Yankees poses a problem the Dodgers will have to deal with later this month, assuming they solve the Milwaukee trouble.

Like a lot of headaches, this one stems from what happened last night.

The Braves tripped the Dodgers 9-8 in Brooklyn, giving them a 5-5 split at Ebbets Field so far this year. No other club has come close to breaking even against the Dodgers in Brooklyn.

The loss cut Brooklyn's lead to 10 games with 22 to play, 3 more against Milwaukee.

Reynolds, regarded by many as the key to the Yankees' World Series hopes, made his third start since the end of June and pitched eight excellent innings in beating St. Louis 9-1. This was only his fourth success in a starting role this season although he's won 11 games.

Plagued by ineffectiveness and injuries in recent weeks, Reynolds appeared fully recovered on both counts.

Reynolds' World Series record against the Dodgers shows four victories and one defeat in three years. He pitched in four of the 1952 series games, winning two and losing one.

Although they won, the Yankees didn't add to their 9½-game lead since second-place Chicago and third - place Cleveland also triumphed. The White Sox beat Washington 7-3, Cleveland defeated Philadelphia 6-3 and Boston whipped Detroit 5-2.

In the National League, Robin Roberts of Philadelphia failed in his efforts to win his 22nd game, bowing to the St. Louis Cardinals 10-7. Pittsburgh beat Chicago 8-1 and New York shaded Cincinnati 4-3.

Rookie Jim Pendleton paced the Milwaukee attack with four hits as the Braves came from five runs behind in beating Brooklyn. Pendleton tied the score with a two-run homer in the 5th and drove in the tie-breaking run in the seventh.

The Cardinals exploded for six runs in the 7th inning at Philadelphia, including a 3-run homer by Ray Jablonski and a empty blast by Steve Bilbo. Stan Musial added a home run in the eighth.

Ruben Gomez, a pitcher who bought his way out of the Yankee farm system last season, won his 13th game for the Giants in beating Cincinnati. The Puerto Rican rookie is the biggest winner on the Giants staff.

The Athletics routed Bob Lemon with three runs in the first inning at Cleveland but Art Houtteman stopped them cold the rest of the Wally Westlake homered twice for the Indians.

Deny Politics in Appointment

UTICA (AP) — Gov. Williams is not playing politics with the state conservation commission, according to commissioner Lawrence J. Gotschall of Fremont.

"If politics have ever been played it was when the senate failed to confirm Ben East to the commission," Gotschall told the Detroit Sportsmen's Congress here last night.

A Republican member of the commission whose term has expired charged in a letter Monday that there had been political intervention with the commission. The letter was written by Harold W. Glassen of Lansing.

Yesterday, Williams announced the appointment of Shirley W. Allen, retiring from the University of Michigan forestry staff, to the commission to fill Glassen's post. He is a Democrat. He will take over the post immediately.

The governor had previously appointed East, a Holly outdoor writer, to succeed Glassen. However, the Senate refused to confirm the appointment.

In his address, Gotschall declared Williams to be "one of the truly great conservationists of the day." He also pointed out that prior to yesterday, two of the governor's last four appointments to the commission went to Republicans.

In his letter, Glassen accused the governor of trying to persuade some of his appointees to the commission to choose a man Williams had selected.

LANSING (AP) — Harold W. Glassen of Lansing, whom Gov. Williams replaced on the conservation commission, is convinced the appointment of his successor is illegal.

But he hasn't made up his mind, he said today, whether he will contest the appointment in the courts.

Williams had appointed Ben East of Holly to the post in May, but the senate refused to confirm that appointment in July.

Glassen contends that the conservation law requires that he serve until his successor is not only appointed but confirmed by the senate. With the legislature in adjournment, the appointment of Allen cannot be confirmed until the lawmakers reconvene in January.

Executive office sources contend, however, that the governor has power to appoint Allen with full powers to serve until his appointment can be acted on in the senate.

Too Good

Extra Work May Cost Haddix 'Rookie' Honors

NEW YORK (AP)—Just two innings might prevent Harvey Haddix, sensational young left-hander of the St. Louis Cardinals, from winning "Rookie of the Year" honors in the National League this year.

Haddix joined the Cards last August, following a two-year hitch in the Army and pitched 42 innings. That was two more than the amount of innings a hurler can work and still be classified a rookie the following year. The unofficial rule is that a pitcher must hurl 40 or less innings.

Haddix appeared in seven games starting six, while completing three for a 2-2 record last year. Prior to that the 27-year-old native of South Vienna, Ohio, had done all his hurling in the minors.

The little southpaw has done much better this year. He has won 16 games while losing only 7, and has turned in 13 complete games. Four of his victories have been shutouts. His 115 strikeouts rank fourth behind Robin Roberts of the Philadelphia Phillies.

Least concerned over Haddix' status is his manager, Eddie Stanky. An unknown quantity at the beginning of the year, Haddix has developed into the ace of the staff.

"I don't rightly know if Haddix is a rookie," Stanky said. "All I know is he pitches like a veteran."

Unless the Baseball Writers Association of America, which will vote on rookie awards, undergoes a change of heart, Haddix is due to be left out in the cold—all because of the two extra innings he pitched last year.

The elimination of Haddix would leave the field open to either second baseman Jim (Junior) Gilliam of the Brooklyn Dodgers or pitcher Ruben Gomez of the New York Giants. Those two look like the best of the 1953 class of freshmen.

PLENTY OF SOUVENIRS — Legionnaire Charles Hyde of Rockford, Mich., displays six baseballs which he caught off the backstop screen at Busch Stadium in St. Louis Wednesday night during the Yankees-Browns game, providing added entertainment for the crowd. Despite protests by umpires, Charley kept hopping out of his seat to grab the baseballs. Others are unidentified.

Three Pontiac Nines in State Meets Friday

Ortonville, Jewelers and GMC Girls Enter Tournaments

Three Pontiac teams are in action this weekend in state baseball and softball tournaments.

Ortonville, City Class A baseball League regular-season and playoffs champion, will go to Battle Creek for a 4-day American Baseball Congress meet.

Manager Herman Bishop's squad meets Big Rapids at 2 p. m. Friday in the tournament opener. If the Pontiac nine wins, it will take on the winner of Friday's Battle Creek-Lansing game on Saturday. A loss Friday would put Ortonville opposite the winner of the Bay City-Kalamazoo game on Saturday.

Shaw's Jewelry, regular-season and playoffs winner in the Inter-City Traveling League and Michigan Softball Association district and regional tests, travels to Escanaba for the MSA state tourney. Meet opens Friday and ends Labor Day.

General Motors' girls softball team opens play Friday in their MSA state tournament at Coldwater. It also is a 4-day meet.

Waterford Softball Dinner Set Tonight

Waterford Township Softball League banquet will be held tonight at 7 p.m. in the Community Activities building in Drayton Plains. All league players, managers, sponsors and guests are invited.

Jerry Walker, ex-Tigers player, will be guest speaker. Waterford Recreation Director Tom Belton will act as toastmaster. Presentation of trophies and awards and showing of the 1952 World Series movies will highlight the affair.

Tickets will be on sale at the door.

David Merry Comes Through With a Win

DETROIT (AP)—David Merry, the pacer who wound up on the auction block in an ownership dispute recently, won his first race of the year at Wolverine Racway last night.

Owned and driven by Lowell Kline of Fowlerville, David Merry scored his first victory in his second appearance since the ownership battle to pay $7.20 to first place backers.

'Hot' Allards, Porsche in Sunday Drag Races

A pair of 'hot" British Allard sports cars and a German Porsche creation will tangle Sunday in the weekly "drag" races at Partington's Pasture Speedway, Ryan, North of 15-Mile road.

These sharp sportsters are owned and driven by Del Lee, sports car hill climbing champion who won the Giants' Despair climb at Wilkes-Barre Pa., in 1951-53, and Paul Lazuras, who handles the Allards, and Jack Moran with his Porsche. All are Detroiters.

Racing begins at 11 a.m. and continues until 5 p.m.

Seixas Faces Major Test

Wimbledon Champion Meets Billy Talbert in U. S. Nationals

By WILL GRIMSLEY

FOREST HILLS, N. Y. (AP)—Wimbledon titleholder Vic Seixas gets his first major test in the National Tennis Championships today when he faces a supremely confident Billy Talbert in a fourth-round match.

After breezing to another easy victory yesterday, the 34-year-old Talbert was asked if he thought he could take the top-seeded domestic favorite.

"Why not?" Talbert replied bluntly.

"If my passing shots are working as well as in the last two matches, I should have a very good chance."

This featured match between old antagonists was the second on today's stadium program.

Rough Schedule Ahead of Quakers' Veteran Eleven

By BILL LOFTUS

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—University of Pennsylvania's football Quakers minus a really outstanding star, tackle the toughest schedule in the school's history this year.

And for the first time in his 16 seasons of coaching, balding, bespectacled George Munger may know what it is to have his team lose more games than it wins.

Starting with the Sept. 26 date with Vanderbilt, the Red and Blue on succeding Saturdays plays teams which could make up the top 10 of the nation's football clan. In order after Vanderbilt come Penn State, California, Ohio State, Navy, Michigan, Notre Dame, Army and Cornell.

Munger isn't pessimistic about the whole thing. His major complaint is this: Penn has followed the regulations of the Ivy League since the early '30s. Last year the Ivy League presidents voted to do away with spring practice for their football teams. Penn adhered to the ruling.

In the meantime, former athletic director Fran Murray—fired in a squabble over whether Pen should play big-time football or stick to the Ivy League opponents—drew up the 1953 big-time schedule.

Munger now complains that he should be able to prepare his team on the same footing as his opponents—that is, have spring training.

But he started drilling his veteran team only two days ago, 25 days before the opener at the 70,000-seat Franklin field.

LA Still Seeks Big League Nine

Resolution Is Passed to Study Feasibility of Landing Club

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Despite cold water tossed on the project a couple weeks ago, Los Angeles city fathers are going right ahead with the campaign to bring major league baseball here.

Urged on by mayor Norris Poulson, the Coliseum Commission recently passed a resolution asking authority from the city, county and state to study the feasibility of landing a big league team.

The commission handles affairs of the 105,000 seat Memorial Coliseum, jointly owned by the three governmental units where all home football games of UCLA, Southern California and the professional Los Angeles Rams are played.

Commission offered to send a representative to major league owners to obtain suggestions; discuss with P. K. Wrigley the possibility of purchasing his Los Angeles Angel franchise in the Pacific Coast League and Wrigley Field here; and study further the feasibility of remodeling the vast coliseum for baseball.

6-Man Tag-Team Battle Features Wrestling Card

Wrestling fans who saw last Friday's opening outdoor mat show in this area got an unexpected thrill in the wild setto that "blew up" the Billy Fox-Johnny Gates bout. But there's another on tap for tomorrow night, promoter Johnny Silvi said today.

A 6-man tag-team match, the windup after three 30-minute regular bouts determine the teams, is the big feature. Friday's show also starts later, at 9 p.m. to permit merchantile people to attend.

Participants in Friday's show include; Stan Holek vs Sandor Fozzo; Billy Fox vs Ralph Alexander and Lary Chene (TV wrestler) vs Gus Angelo, in that order. Winners meet losers in the team event.

Fox was cut on the head in a fall, last Friday and the crowd thought Gates was to blame Fans swarmed all over the ring, breaking down a barrier in an effort to get at Gates. Two sheriff's deputies at the show restored order after 30 minutes of disorder, Silvi reports.

Ira (Babe) Hanford was the only apprentice jackey ever to win the Kentucky Derby. He rode Bold Venture to victory in the 1936 classic.

125 Expected to Check In for State Tourney

Publinx Test Opens 2 Day Run Saturday at Highland Layout

An anticipated field of 125 entries will tee off Saturday morning in the annual Michigan Publinx golf tournament at the Highland Golf and Country Club.

Pontiac's Roy Iceberg, defending champion and tournament director, said Wednesday that 70 entries have been filed to date and that an additional 50 or so are expected by Saturday. Post entries will be accepted at the course after the last regular entrant has left the tee.

First foursome will start at 7 a.m. Saturday and last quartet is expected to clear the tee by 3 p.m. Eighteen holes will be played Saturday, with the low 50 finishers (and ties) qualifying for Sunday's 36-hole championship play.

Highland course, formerly known as the Duck Lake course, holds its 1st championship tournament in 12 years. Club officials say the layout is in fine condition for the week-end test. Iceberg toured the tricky course in a 2-under-par 70 Tuesday.

Among the entries filed thus far are Jay Law, 3-time Publinx winner from Sunnybrook; Tony Novitsky, last years MGA Open titlist from Ridgemont; Chuck Nicolai, 3rd in an extra-hole playoff in last year's tourney; and Pontiac players Rube Wideman, Bob Povlitz, Harley Hyatt and Ron Rothbarth. Outstate entrants include Ray Cook, Vinny Frechette and Fred Turner (former state amateur king) of Flint; Harry Athanson of Ann Arbor; and former champion John Tews of Bay City.

Players not qualifying for championship play will compete in a consolation 2-ball test Sunday.

Celebrities Open Golf Test Starts

Tournament Promises to Be 'Hottest' Meet of Season

By HERB ALTSCHULL

WASHINGTON (AP)— A hundred of the nation's top golfers get going today in the National Celebrities Open Golf tournament, which promises to be the hottest of the year.

Hottest, that is, because of the weather. It's supposed to be in the neighborhood of 100 in Washington for at least the first three days of the tournament, which runs through Sunday.

Bravest of the tourney entrants shot a practice round over the 7,019-yard Woodmont Country Club course yesterday, but most of the pros decided to save themselves for the regulation play.

Jimmy Demaret, golfing fashion plate from Texas who won the elebrities tourney last year, gave up after two holes of practice. Even that was more than last year, when he didn't swing a practice club before play started.

The pros have things all to themselves today and tomorrow, but they'll share the spotlight Saturday and Sunday with some of the best known duffers in the country, including vice presiden Nixon and comedian Bob Hope.

The Washington Post, which sponsors the tournament, will have $15,000 in prizes for the pros and a handsome cup for the victorious celebrity. Proceeds go to combat juvenile delinquency.

Artificial Rink Finally on Way for Houghton

HOUGHTON (UP) — While the rest of the state talked about the heat wave today, Houghton sports fans turned their thoughts to hockey.

Michigan Tech officials said they received word that the state administrative board has awarded a contract for the school's long-sought artificial rink.

The college said the Houghton contracting firm of Herman Gundlach, Inc., was low bidder for installing the ice-making apparatus at $105,607. The rink is scheduled to be completed by Nov. 15, in time for the college hockey team to practice for its 20-game season.

Yewcic, Dahoney 'Team' Fires Many Good Ones; Tom's Finger OK

By ROBERT E. VOGES

EAST LANSING (AP) — Quarterback Tommy Yewcic and end Don Dahoney teamed up to become standouts of the first official day of Michigan State football practice yesterday.

Yewcic wasn't out for football practice this spring. Instead he switched over to earn a letter as a catcher on the baseball team.

In mid-season he broke a finger. Coaches and fans had been worrying — fearing that although the break was healed it might somewhat affect his passing.

Tommy showed that he can still pitch them when coach Biggie Munn took his squad out into Macklin Stadium for a brief workout in the late afternoon.

His best receiver in the passing drill was end Don Dahoney, a senior this year and team captain from Ann Arbor.

Dahoney was strictly a defensive end during his previous two years as a letter-winner at Michigan State.

Dahoney stretched his six-foot-one-inch frame to pull down more than a dozen passes during the drill. He only missed one.

The squad count reached 67 yesterday as two more entries were added to the 65 present for Tuesday's opener.

Because of the extreme heat, coaches didn't put too much pressure on the team the first day of regular practice.

If the heat continues, today's session is expected to follow the same pattern of starting the practice in the field house and venturing outside only briefly.

Yank Collapses After Contest

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Phil Rizzuto, New York Yankee shortstop, collapsed after last night's game with the St. Louis Browns and as taken to his hotel room in a Red Cross ambulance.

Rizzuto was overcome in the Yankee dressing room after leaving the game in the 9th inning. "We couldn't tell whether it was the heat or what," said Red Patterson, the Yankee press relations man.

Rizzuto had no fever. He had a restful night and, Patterson said, "it apparently was nothing serious."

Rizzuto disclosed he became ill in about the 5th inning and later developed a stomach cramp and chills.

He remained in the contest and banged out a triple in the 8th inning. "Running out that hit might have been what did it," Patterson said.

Low Blows Probably Cost Sandy Win Over Durando

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Ernie Durando of Bayonne, N. J., figures he's back in shape now after fighting a draw with favored Randy Sandy of New York in a 10-round middleweight match last night.

Durando weighed 153 to 149½ for Sandy.

There were no knockdowns in the fight, but both boys were cut in the action. Sandy lost a possible chance to win the match in the fourth when Referee Dick Young penalized him for two low blows and gave the round to Durando by a 7-3 margin.

Young scored it a 50-50 draw. Judge Fred Connell awarded the decision to Durando 52-48, but judge Gene Farrell scored it for Sandy 51-49. The Associated Press had Durando winning 51-49.

"He didn't really hurt me anywhere, but I was awfully tired in the seventh and eighth," Durando said. "I needed this one to get back in shape. I haven't had a fight in two months. I'm back in training now, and I'll be fighting regular again."

Sandy discredited Durando's reputation as a hard puncher.

"He doesn't hit as hard as people say. He's a good fighter but he didn't hurt me."

The fight was scored on a point system under Missouri boxing rules with the two judges and the referee splitting 10 points a round between the fighters.

Big 10 Grid Briefs:

Heat Forces Evening Drill for Wildcats; Illini Speedster Drops From Grid Squad

CHICAGO (AP)—Big ten football training briefs:

NORTHWESTERN—One hundred degree day time heat Wednesday forced Northwestern's Wildcats to work out under the lights. Coach Bob Voigts planned to spli. today's sessions into morning and evening workouts because of excessive heat.

ILLINOIS — Sixty-one candidates for the 1953 Illini team greeted coach Ray Eliot as the squad opened fall practice. Missing was halfback Willie Williams, who suffered a broken leg last year. The NCAA 100-yard dash champion decided to pass up football as did fullback Ed Gaus who has had two knee operations since a 1952 injury.

PURDUE — Coach Stu Holcombe drove the Boilermakers through a double drill in sweltering heat. Bob Leonard, junior who was a defensive ace on last year's Big Ten co-championship team, advised Holcombe he will not be able to report for practice because he had been ordered to report for induction into the army.

INDIANA — Surplus poundage rolled off the Indiana Hoosiers under Wednesday's broiling sun. Coach Bernie Crimmins said no heavy contact work will be started until next week. Two sophomore losses trimmed Crimmins' squad to 60.

OHIO STATE—Two sessions emphasizing fundamentals featured the Buckeyes initial practice session under coach Woody Hayes. In a defensive change Hayes moved safety man Bob Watkins to a line backing position and quarterback John Borton to safety.

MINNESOTA — Gophers worked out twice in full regalia. Coach Wes Fesler sought a right halfback to replace Bob McNamara, who was sidelined by a knee injury and won't be ready for contact work for a month.

IOWA—Coach Forest Evashevski told his squad that halfback Chuck Daniels had received his army induction notice. Blistering heat failed to stop the Hawkeye's 58-man squad from going through a light drill.

WISCONSIN—Coach Ivy Williamson sought a replacement for quarterback Jim Hafuska, who has been lost for 1953 by a broken leg. Williamson says his quarterbacks "are as green as grass." However, a replacement for Haluska may be found among Jim Miller, Gust Vergetis, John Stellick or Glen Wilson.

Homers, Double Plays Kill Tigers

By JOE FALLS

DETROIT (AP)—Home runs and double plays—they're killing the Detroit Tigers.

Opposition has been choking the Tigers with these two weapons all season. Just look at the figures:

Tigers have hit 89 home runs—the opposition 133.

Tigers have made 28 double plays—the opposition 156.

Statistics sometimes lie but not in this case. Tigers have climbed out of the cellar, true enough, but it's hard to see how they can reach 6th place unless they balance these figures.

Let's take the home runs first. Billy Hoeft and Ted Gray, a pair of Tiger lefties, have served up more home runs this year than any other two hurlers in the loop. Hoeft has yielded 22 homers, Gray 20.

So it's easy to see why Hoeft's record is 8-13 and Gray's 7-14.

Then there's the double plays. Tigers' total of 128 is the lowest in the league. Reason for this, most likely, is that they haven't had a set double-play combination at 2nd base all year.

Harvey Kuenn at shortstop has been acceptable but the youngster has had to work with three different second basemen—Jerry Priddy, Johnny Pesky and Fred Hatfield. Priddy and Pesky are slow-footed while Hatfield is, by trade, a 3rd baseman.

If you don't think the double-play is ruining the Tigers, just look back to yesterday's game. Boston Red Sox choked off four budding Tiger rallies with four double plays and won, 5-2.

There was a home run, too, to hurt the Tigers. Hoeft served up a two-runner to Dick Gernert in the 4th inning.

Still, the teams were locked in a 2-2 tie going into the 7th. Then Boston scored twice on singles by Billy Goodman and Ted Williams to take the lead for good.

Mel Parnell, who worked the first seven innings, picked up his 18th win—and 21st lifetime victory over Detroit.

Tigers scored their runs in the 3rd and 6th innings. In the 2nd, Hoeft singled, went to 3rd on Kuenn's double and scored on Ray Boone's single. In the 6th a trio of singles by Boone, Jim Delsing and Steve Souchock accounted for a run. Detroit might have scored more in this inning, except Delsing was caught when he rounded 2nd too far.

Quarterback Cline, Fullback Hill Given Chances for Places in 'M' Football Sun

By JOHN F. MAYHEW

ANN ARBOR (AP)— These are days of opportunity in the Michigan football camp. And at least two boys are being given chances for places in the football sun.

Danny Cline, stubby junior from Brockport, N. Y., and Dave Hill, a military returnee, are being given a thorough scrutiny in coach Bennie Oosterbaan's search for backfield depth.

Hill, who left the Michigan campus after the 1950 season, had already demonstrated he had halfback speed to burn. But the Ypsilanti product lacked the field savvy to make the grade.

Now he's back, at 6 feet and 180 pounds. The coaches feel he may be ready now. But he is being given his chance at fullback.

Cline was also a halfback. Last year he held down a second string berth behind regular Ted Kress.

Now, however, with quarterback talent lodged chiefly in sophomore Louis Baldacci, Cline is being worked as a signal caller.

Cline reported in tiptop condition after a summer as a counsellor at a western camp run by Vic Heyliger, University of Michigan hockey coach. There, with such other counsellors as regular halfback Tony Branoff and end Gene Knutson, Cline learned the quarterback routine and now is ready to make his bid.

Browns Test Lions' Defense

Graham's Bomb-Sight Passing Big Threat to Detroiters

DETROIT (UP)—Touted defense of the Detroit Lions will be put to a rugged test Friday night when the defending National Football League champions take on the Cleveland Browns at Briggs Stadium.

The Detroit defensive platoon, which has been charged with only 23 points in three previous exhibition contests, will be up against the bomb-sight passing of Otto Graham.

Actually, the Lions have been nicked for 30 points in their games against the College All-Stars, Pittsburgh Steelers and New York Giants. However, seven of the points came as the result of a blocked field goal attempt when the offensive outfit was in action.

Rangers Win 20th Victory of Season

Ivory Rangers defeated Franklin Hill, 6-3, Wednesday night at Ivory Field for their 20th victory of the season. Jack and Mac Stefani scored three goals each to account for all the Ranger scoring.

In a preliminary contest, Strawberry Hill downed Birmingham Ramblers, 12-5, as Larry Williams scored five goals.

Golf Clinic: Here's How

By SAM SNEAD

I'm going to talk a little today about the use of the No. 3 wood. This is a very useful club when you need a little more distance than you can obtain with an iron.

It also comes in handy when you haven't got a good enough fairway lie for a brassie shot, or where you want to loft the ball quickly with a wood in order to clear some obstacle.

You swing the No. 3 just as you do any other wood club. The only difference is that you play it just a little further back from your left heel so that you hit it right at the bottom of the arc on your downswing instead of just after, as with the other woods.

The reason for this is that there is enough loft built into the face of a No. 3 wood so that it isn't necessary to hit it slightly on the upswing as with the other woods. In other words you play it more like an iron shot for best results.

Pre-Season Guessers Pick All-Star Backs for 1953

NEW YORK (AP)—While there's plenty of doubt about what kind of football will be played this year, the pre-season guessers seem to be consistent in picking the backfield men they feel will star in 1953.

The general concensus is that Minnesota's Paul Giel, UCLA's Paul Cameron, Notre Dame's Johnny Lattner and Mississippi State's Jackie Parker will get the call on the all-star teams come December.

Lattner, who with Giel won All-America honors last season, is a special favorite of the prognosticators since he's well adapted to the double duty which will be required in this year of no platoons. An excellent runner, Lattner is proficient on defense as well.

UCLA fans and football selectors alike look to Cameron to lead Red Sanders' grid machine, favored to sweep to the Pacific Coast Conference title.

Steve Eisenhauer, 1952 All-America Navy guard, is the leading choice as a lineman.

Nine races will be scheduled for Friday, Saturday and Monday, Connell announced today.

Tiger Tales

DETROIT (AP) — Overheard in Briggs Stadium:

An old tormentor, name of Ted Williams, returned to Briggs Stadium yesterday and it was like he was never away. . . . Before the game, the crowd cheered as "the splinter" hammered ball after ball into the stands in batting practice . . .Then, during the game itself, Williams came up with a timely hit in the seventh inning to help trim the Tigers. . . .yes, just like old times.

The Tigers close out their home stand today, meeting the Red Sox again . . . Detroit's Steve Gromek will face Ben Flowers.

British Team Hopes Rise for Cup Victory

Brisk Wind on Buzzard's Bay May Be Factor

However, U.S. Linksmen Favored to Grab Top Spot Once More

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.

MARION, Mass. (AP) — A brisk, cooling wind from Buzzard's Bay blew across the Kittansett golf course today and raised British hopes of winning the Walker Cup for the second time.

Only once since the international amateur golf competition was inaugurated in 1922 has Great Britain come out ahead. And the United States again is favored in the 1953 match tomorrow and Saturday.

But after a few days of practice on the narrow seaside course, the British players have acquired an air of optimism that indicates they really think they can win.

The weather conditions, at least, are in their favor. And possibly they will benefit from the inevitable maneuvering that goes with making up the pairings.

Each Walker Cup match consists of four foursomes, with partners playing alternate strokes with a single ball, and eight singles matches. Each counts for one point, with ties disregarded. All are at 36 holes. The foursomes will be played Friday and the singles Saturday.

Although conditions apparently favor the Britons, the American players have scored suprisingly well over the difficult 6,545-yard Kittansett course. Charlie Coe, the Oklahoma thin man who won the U. S. amateur championship in 1949, fired a 68 yesterday. The team's "babies," Ken Venturi of San Francisco and Gene Littler of San Diego, Calif., also have damaged the par of 35-35-70 and so has Rochester's Sammy Urzetta, the 1950 champion.

Indiana Boasts Its Best Sophomore Crop in Years

By DALE BURGESS

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP) — A pride of young lions has gathered, or been gathered, about energetic young Bernie Crimmins, Indiana University's head football coach.

Assembly of sophomores fills 37 of the 63 suits on I. U's squad and it's the likeliest looking group of youngsters to appear on the cream and crimson practice field in recent years. Maybe the best ever.

Three or more sophomores may win starting positions. Most likely are Dave Rogers, 195-pound right halfback, Warren, O.; Lester Kun, 186-pound fullback, Chicago, and Wayne Ethridge, 195-pound center, Riverdale, Ill.

Kun played defensive halfback as a freshman but also turned out to be a hard runner in an occasional offensive assignment.

Other sophomore candidates who were high school heroes include backs James Stone, Whiting, Ind.; Floyd Campbell, Milwaukee, and Charley Young, 200-pounder of Paterson, N. J. John Bartkiewicz of Chicago, a Marine veteran of Korea, got some experience last year as a freshman line backer.

Brownies Lose, but Come Up With 'Triple'

Retire Side at One Big Effort in Game Against Yankees

ST. LOUIS (UP) — They didn't win the game, of course, but the St. Louis Browns came up with one of their greatest feats of the season—a triple play.

It happened in the fourth inning of Wednesday night's 9-1 loss to the Yankees. Gene Woodling was battling with Yogi Berra on second base and Mickey Mangle on first. Woodling lined to second baseman Bobby Young for one out. Young tossed to shortstop Billy Hunter to force Berra, and Hunter relayed to first baseman Dick Kryhoski to nail Mangle.

It was the fourth triple play in the American League this season. Previous killings were by the Yankees, the White Sox and the Senators.

WEDNESDAY'S STARS
(By the Associated Press)

BATTING—Jim Pendleton, Milwaukee Braves, hit his fourth home run in three games, plus a double and two singles and drove in three runs as the Braves beat Brooklyn 9-8.

PITCHING—Allie Reynolds, New York Yankees, struck out six, walked one and gave up four hits in his first victory in a start in assignment since June, 9-1 over the St. Louis Browns.

Facts, Figures About Majors

By BEN OLAN

NEW YORK (AP) — Ellis Kinder, the Red Sox' veteran righthander, is closing in on a 45-year-old American League record. Kinder has pitched in 61 games this season, five less than the mark established by big Ed Walsh of the White Sox in 1908.

Eddie Mathews, Milwaukee's sensational slugging star, has improved his home run standing against southpaws this year. The big lefthanded batter has tagged lefties for 12 of his 43 homers. In 1952, he hit only six of 5 off portside pitching.

Jackie Jensen is almost a cinch to better last year's total in every extra base department. The speedy Washington outfielder has 30 doubles, six triples and 10 homers this year. Last season? 30 doubles, six triples and 10 home runs.

Ray Scarborough, who caught on with the Tigers after being released by the Yankees last month, hasn't been of much help to his new club. The veteran righty has lost two games, giving up 12 runs in the 13 innings he's worked.

It's been a long time between home runs for Bill Bruton of the Milwaukee Braves. The rookie outfielder drove one out of the park in his club's second game of the year on April 14 and hasn't had a homer since.

'Cocky' Sign Ordered Torn Down at MSC

Coaches Object to Slogan on Goalposts for Press Day

EAST LANSING (AP) — Michigan State, a fast team on the football field, is fearsome of signs—all to promote a good neighbor policy.

At the annual press day yesterday, coaches of the No. 1 team in the country ordered a sign torn down because they are so eager for friendly relations with the Big Ten. MSC is currently on probation by the Big Ten and NCAA.

The innocent-looking slogan read —"Hi, Big Ten—here come the Spartans." It was draped over goalposts so photographers could snap it as the players charged through.

But coaches objected. . . "it looks like a challenge. . . too cocky. . . it'll be in every football dressing room in the Big Ten."

The sign was torn down and the team charged through bannerless goalposts—all for good public relations.

Long-Shot 1st N. Y. Win for Southerner

NEW YORK (AP) — After seven years on the quarter-horse circuit in Louisiana, Oklahoma and Texas, 17-year-old James Mayer recently rode an 11-to-1 winner, his first on the New York circuit.

Mayer, who is from Gueydan, La., started riding when he was nine years old. In 1952 he rode a winner in a $6,000 match and cut in for ten per cent of the purse. Quarter-horses race a quarter of a mile which means that the horses are pushed to their top speed all the way.

Oldtimers Practice

Oldtimers' baseball team will hold a practice Sunday morning at 10 o'clock at the Washington Junior High athletic field, Manager Paul Parks announced today.

PHS Gridders Seek to Avoid Sizzling Heat

Find Mosquitoes Worse Than Sun in Workout Under Lights

Pontiac High's football squad switched its regular afternoon practice to an after-dark session under Wisner Stadium's lights Wednesday to escape the daytime 100-degree temperature.

It was a decidedly cooler workout — a 20-degree drop in temperature was recorded after sunset — but the gridders encountered an even more annoying distraction after dark. "I think every mosquito in Oakland County converged on us last night," Coach Ed Graybiel complained this morning.

Evidently deciding that the heat is the lesser of two evils, Graybiel said the squad will return to its usual 9-11 and 1-3 sessions today.

Candidates were put through their 1st contact blocking and tackling drills last night, and a pass scrimmage, utilizing a full offensive team and only a defensive line, was held. Purpose of the scrimmage was to sharpen defensive blocking for pass protection.

Quarterbacks Dick Ayling and Marvin Caswell and halfbacks Jimmy Williams and Dick Slade handled the passing chores, while ends Joe Singleton, Jim Wicombe and Deryl Beck and backs Walt Poe, Lee Quince and Bill Rose did the receiving.

Area Gridder at Tech

Among the 59 football candidates turning out for opening drills at Michigan Tech this week is Meldon Roberts of Farmington. Tech opened practice Tuesday and its 1st game is scheduled for Sept. 18 at Stevens Point.

Ballplayers Told to Concentrate on Strong Points

ST. LOUIS — Walter Shannon tells ball players to work on their strong points if they want to get anywhere in baseball.

This is in direct contradiction to the preachings of all other learned baseball men.

"It's a man's strong points that pay off in this game," the Cardinals' minor league director stressed. "Sandlotter or big leaguer, he should find out what he does best and try to improve even more.

"A player will enjoy working harder on things he does well because he naturally likes to do them better."

Businessmen Disagree

U.S. Tennis Fathers Want Young Stars Openly Affiliated With Manufacturers

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP) — Anguished at their recent setbacks in international play, our tennis fathers are on the point of changing their rules so that their young charges may accept a certain amount of employment with the sporting goods manufacturers. That is, openly.

They have seen the Australians do all right by indenting their more promising youngsters to the equipment houses, and they have about decided we must do something of the kind if we're ever to overtake the kangaroos. The only thing is, they haven't thought yet of asking the people who make the racquets how they feel about it.

We have, and we can give them the sad news that the manufacturers don't want any part of the scheme. An authority on the subject is Lev Richards, who long has represented Spalding in all things tennis and is one of the game's best known umpires.

"It's all right for the Australians," Richards said. "They can fully justify their system. Most of their boys do not have an opportunity to go to college the way ours do, and so they are glad to go to work at an early age at anywhere from $25 to $35 a week. Working a little and playing a whole lot of tennis looks like a wonderful career to them.

"But how many of our spoiled young men do you think we could employ at those wages? I would guess none, and the amount of money we have available for tennis promotion simply wouldn't permit paying them what they would want. We would have to drop all other forms of tennis promotion and advertising, and it wouldn't be worth it. Even if we hired a dozen of them, how could we be sure we were getting a future champion in the lot?

"I suppose it will come in time," Richards sighed finally, "but you can say that we all dread it."

Tomatoes Ripen Too Fast for Canning

CAMDEN, N. J. (AP)—The Campbell Soup Co. has ordered the destruction of nearly 100 truckloads of ripe tomatoes because the firm has no facilities to process them for canning.

A firm spokesman said tomatoes are ripening earlier than usual in the heat wave.

The company said farmers are being paid for their loads and that the firm is absorbing the loss.

Approximately 97 per cent of tomatoes delivered to the plant Monday, Tuesday and yesterday were ordered destroyed, the spokesman said.

The company said the plant is operating 24 hours a day, seven days a week in an effort to process as many tomatoes as possible.

Postal Clerk Charged of Seven-Cent Mistake

DENVER (AP)—Hubert Leo Hutt, 31, postal clerk at Fort Collins, Colo., was released under $500 bond yesterday pending his arraignment on a federal charge of misappropriating 7 cents in postal funds.

Charles S. Vigil, U.S. district attorney, said the suspended clerk is accused of collecting 65 cents for mailing fees on a parcel post, then placing only 58 cents in stamps on the package.

Mine Royalties Hike Looms to Aid Fund

WASHINGTON (AP)—A report that the coal miners' welfare fund ran in the red last year spurred speculation today that John L. Lewis may seek another boost in the royalties paid by mine owners.

The report on fund operations during the year ended June 30 showed yesterday receipts of 131½ million dollar and expenditures of nearly 139 million. Therefore, about 7½ million had to be drawn from reserves, reducing them to 92 million.

Lewis, who is president of the United Mine Workers and chairman of the funds trustees, last fall persuaded mine operators to raise the royalty they pay into the fund from 30 to 40 cents for each ton of coal produced.

However, production went down, so that the increase in fund revenues was only five million dollars, while expenditures went up more than 12½ million.

The principal increase in cost, the report said, resulted from the addition of 6,706 miners during the year to the list of those receiving $100 a month pensions.

Red Repatriates Hurl Rocks at U. N. Men

PANMUNJOM (AP) — Communist prisoners being handed over to the Reds today angrily hurled balls of rice at U. N. personnel.

It wasn't the rice that made them dangerous—it was the egg-sized rocks in the centers.

No bull's-eyes were reported.

Big Moving Job Shifts Patient Into New Room

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—They huffed and they puffed, but it took six men two hours to tear down the trailer house of 710-pound Fred Pebley.

Using piano-moving equipment, saws, hammers, jacks and ramps, the moving company men grunted and groaned to ease the 38-year-old native Kansas man from his quarters to a specially constructed bed at the county home.

The big, jolly man said it was the first time in 12 months he had left the trailer. His legs cannot support his weight. He arrived at the home several months ago and had to live in his trailer because of his size.

Doctors said his size is the result of an overactive pituitary gland.

Umpire Actually Robbed

BATAVIA, N.Y. (AP)—"I wuz robbed," the umpire cried.

3-D Movies Not for Pat Medina After Last Try

By JAMES BACON
(For Vacationing Bob Thomas)

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Patricia Medina, one of England's lovelier loans to the United States, is one actress who doesn't care if she ever makes another 3-D movie.

"I'm through with 3-D," she asserts. "Or rather, I should say that 3-D is through with me."

Her reason is the most novel yet.

"My aim is too poor," she explains.

Much has been written about 3-D but always from the audience point of view, the discomfiture of glasses and the continual ducking. Now comes Miss Medina with the first complaint, to my knowledge, from the players' side.

Patricia's last try at 3-D was at Columbia where she worked for Producer Sam Katzman in "Drums of Tahiti." Katzman is a great gimmick man and it followed that his 3-D picture would be loaded with gimmicks.

One of them called for Pat to pick up a cold cream jar and hurl it toward the camera, ultimately to splatter over bespectacled audiences.

"I spent a whole day grabbing that jar and throwing it. I failed miserably. Finally, the director said to skip it until the end of the picture.

"Here I was, an actress with 10 years of English and American experience behind me, winding up as a complete idiot on the set.

"It was pathetic. Some of my friends among the crew took great pains to help me. Some even cheered me on the sidelines but I was hopeless."

At the end of the shooting schedule, the director tried again.

This proved even more embarrassing to Patricia. Technicians had rigged up an elaborate cord arrangement whereby she could not possibly toss the jar out of camera range.

"This really hurt because this sort of treatment is usually reserved for child and animal actors. But even with the cord I failed. I doubt if they can salvage any of the takes for the movie.

"The director was very kind. He assured me he wasn't critical of my acting ability but hinted that I would have to improve my throwing arm if I wanted to continue in 3-D."

The experience so unnerved her that when Producers Bob Fellows and John Wayne wanted her for their "Plunder of the Sun," she didn't even ask about the role.

"All I wanted to know was whether it was flat or 3-D. Thank heavens, it was a good old flat-tie."

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The 1,000th Hollywood Bwl concert will be given tonight, with Otto Klemperer conducting a performance of Beethoven's Ninth Symphony.

Amazing Facts, Fancies in Oddity Almanac Pages

NEW YORK (AP)—Odd facts from the oddity almanac:

Do some beautiful women make you sneeze?

Maybe it's their face powder that does it. It is estimated that some 7,000,000 American women suffer from cosmetic allergy. Must be that many men victims, too. But it was worse in the old days when many a gal powdered with cornstarch. In a tender clinch she could never be sure whether her beau was wheezing from love or sneezing because of her kitchen beauty dust. . .

Some people insist they do their best thinking while lying flat on their backs. A department store has come up with a special thinking bed for them. It has a canopy embellished with thoughts. It also has an automatic phonograph which dins famous portraits and great ideas and information into sleeping ears, so ambitious folk can go on learning while slumbering.

The same "sleep shop" formerly featured a heart-shaped bed for romantic wives and husbands. Racing fans also can buy circular beds —and chase the horses around the track in their dreams . . .

Are you neurotic? The odds are about 16-to-1 you aren't, so why worry? The best and simplest way to avoid nervous troubles is to inherit money. And do it early in life, while you can still get more enjoyment out of spending it than counting it . . .

But if you must fret about something, fret about the motor car. It now takes a toll equal to the combined deaths from the flu, ulcers, polio, war casualties and the contagious diseases of childhood . . .

Jobs - we'd - all - like-to-have-department: Stan Anderson is inspector of doughnut holes for the doughnut corporation of America. He measures to see they are now only a quarter inch across instead of three eights of an inch, the old standard. The industry is also launching a new midget or "small fry" doughnut the size of a four-bit piece. Progress never halts in this restless, ever-changing field.

Where does your money go? Tax Outlook Magazine says a fellow earning $4,500 a year now spends 2 hours and 40 minutes out of each 8-hour day just to earn enough to pay his taxes, only an hour and 36 minutes for his food bills. But the high cost of red tape isn't the villain. The federal government spent only $4,700 for red tape last year to tie up documents . . .

Almanac health note: Some doctors believe victims of heart trouble and high blood pressure may shorten their lives by habitually taking bicarbonate of soda and water to relieve stomach distress . . . The safest form of exercise after 40 is going to the funerals of other people over 40 who insist on taking too much exercise . . .

What do you know about fathers?

Dad is younger and taller today . . . The average age of a first time father was 28.1 in 1890 but 24.7 in 1949 . . . The modern dad has 3.2 children as compared to 8 for the average father in 1800 . . . In terms of occupations, farmer fathers lead . . . It is estimated American families spent $250,000,000 for Mother's Day gifts, only $150,000,000 for dad on his day . . . But that's the way dad wants it.

Ever yearn to have a book dedicated to you? Well, it's no avenue to fame. Dale Carnegie dedicated his famous best-seller, "How to Win Friends and Influence People," to a fellow popular author, Homer Croy . . . "The book sold over three million copies," recalls Croy wryly, "but only four persons ever mentioned the dedication to me — and one of them wanted to borrow money." . . .

The almanac's regular long-range weather forecast: All present signs indicate that the current widespread heat wave will subside, in most parts of the nation, with the arrival of the first killing frost.

Ft. Bragg GIs See 20 Drown

Panic Said to Be Cause of Boat Capsizing in 10 Feet of Water

FT. BRAGG, N. C. (AP)—Twenty soldiers, many of whom could not swim, drowned within sight of comrades on shore here yesterday when a training boat capsized in a reservation lake.

The post public information office said late last night it still did not know how many men were aboard. Only two of the survivors were hospitalized. Neither was in serious condition.

Some of the survivors were helped ashore. Others swam the 100 yards to safety despite their bulky fatigue uniforms and non-swimmers' panicky efforts to grab them.

The men were members of the 406th Engineer Brigade. Most were basic trainees. They were on an orientation ride on the mile-long lake in a boat consisting of two 14-foot-long assault craft bolted together end to end. It went down in about 10 feet of water.

Otto Edwards, Ft. Bragg safety director, said the normal load for such a boat is only about 25 men.

Army officials in Washington said they thought it was the worst training accident, not involving aircraft, since World War II. Edwards said it was the biggest single accident toll he had seen in 12 years as safety director at 27 Army installations.

* * *

The boat dipped water when it turned to go back to shore. It tipped over after some of the men became panicky, the PIO reported. Edwards said he understood about half of the men could not swim.

The swimmers were hampered by their loose-fitting clothing, combat boots and ammunition belts with attached canteens.

Army medical corpsmen tried for hours to revive the victims after their bodies were pulled from the water and lined up on shore.

Iron Curtain Countries to Get Strategic Goods

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP)—President Carlos Ibanez last night signed a decree permitting exportation of strategic materials to Iron Curtain countries. The decree abolishes existing restrictions on such shipments.

Economy Minister Rafael Tarud explained that since fighting in Korea has ended, it is no longer necessary to maintain restrictions injurious to Chilean interests.

Copper is Chile's principal export product.

Corn, Soybeans Lack Firmness

CHICAGO (AP) — Corn dropped around two cents and soybeans about three cents at one time on the Board of Trade today on news of rain over night in parts of the midwest. More rain was expected during the day and tonight.

While there was some rally from the lows, neither corn nor soybeans showed any real tendency to firm. Other cereals also were lower, wheat dropping a couple of cents at one time, in sympathy with the corn and soybeans break.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was 1⅛-1⅜ cents lower, September $1.89¼; corn was 1⅜ to 2 cents lower, September $1.53⅜, and oats were ⅜-⅞ lower, September 73¾. Soybeans were 1¾-2½ cents lower, September $2.55¾, and lard was 23 to 52 cents a hundred pounds higher, September $17.02.

Rape Victim Fails to Identify Attacker

A 16 year-old-girl, who was attacked only nine hours after Pontiac Police found the body of Mrs. Hallie Perkins in a field near her home Aug. 15, again was unable to identify her attacker from among seven men appearing in show-ups last night and this morning.

Detective John A. DePauw, coordinating the Pontiac investigation, said a total of 34 persons have appeared in show-ups and 60 suspects have been questioned so far.

Several more persons may appear in show-ups today, he added.

Pontiac City Commission posted a $5,000 reward Tuesday for information which would lead to the arrest and conviction of the rape-slayer.

Consumers to Supply Gas for Three Towns

LANSING (AP)— Consumers Power Co. today had authority to take over the supplying of natural gas to Olivet, Deerfield and Bellevue.

The Michigan Public Service Commission issued the authorization along with a permit for the company to accept a total of 350 space heating customers in the three towns.

There is no gas service at present in Olivet, one industry is served in Deerfield and the company has only 30 customers in part of Bellevue.

Lines Add Beauty

Small shadows created by lapped or molded edges of the boards in woodsided houses form a patten of lines that give added beauty to the house when the width of the boards is properly related to the wall area.

Mart Cautious, Balance Even

NEW YORK (AP) — Extreme quiet was the feature of the Stock Market today with trading at a pace of under a million shares.

Prices moved small fractions either way with a almost even balance of gains and losses showing in the list.

No single major division in the market made a marked move. The oils were perhaps a trifle higher as were the motors.

Higher stocks included Santa Fe, Chrysler, Sinclair Oil, United Aircraft and American Tobacco.

Buicks for Berlin

Sells 'Mail Order' Cars to Customers Overseas

A car-by-mail plan is making Pontiac the hub of international as well as national automobile selling.

Operator of the informal foreign sales method is Buick dealer Robert B. Oliver, 210 Orchard Lake Ave. He estimates that he has sold nearly 100 cars over the past four years to people living all over the world.

Oliver got started on his world-wide selling program quite accidentally when he and Mrs. Oliver and some Pontiac friends visited Murray D. Van Wagoner in Germany in the spring of 1949. Van Wagoner was then serving as military governor of Bavaria.

An Air Force major who met Oliver in Germany asked if he could get a new car shipped to Germany. Oliver thought it over, then decided it could be done.

After the major received his auto, a colonel saw the car and asked the major where he could get one. The colonel soon became Oliver's second overseas customer.

Since then Oliver has received letters from such distant cities as Berlin, Manila, and Honolulu. Others have come from Venezuela, New South Wales (Australia) and Japan. And almost every inquiry is followed by a sale.

Most of the purchasers are service personnel stationed abroad. Oliver either ships the car overseas or has one ready for the new owner to pick up on his return to the United States.

He says he goes out of his way to meet the buyers as they come in. Many times he has been on hand at Willow Run to drive them to Pontiac.

"When they come this far and pass as many dealers as they do on the way here, I make darn sure I take good care of them," Oliver says.

Perhaps the greatest trubute to Oliver's reputation was the order he received not long ago for a used car. It was the first time any of his international customers had ordered a used model.

The man, a civilian worker for the government in Japan, even sent $2,000 in advance, telling Oliver he wanted a black four-door sedan.

Oliver did not have such a car in stock but had a dark blue one which he had his mechanics undercoat and polish to protect it from the salt air on its voyage across the Pacific.

"That man really had confidence in me and I sent him the best car I could in the best possible shape," Oliver recalls.

Although the color wasn't what the man had originally wanted, he was more than pleased with the car when he got it, a letter in Oliver's export file shows.

Oliver explains that his overseas business is spread out so that no local new car purchasers are by-passed.

Rules Ex-Airman in Custody Illegally

WASHINGTON (AP) — District Judge Alexander Holtzoff today ruled that former Airman Robert W. Toth was illegally removed to Korea to face a military court on a murder charge. Holtzoff ordered Toth, 22, of Pittsburgh, released from Air Force custody.

The judge, however, stayed his order releasing Toth, to permit the Air Force to carry the case to the Court of Appeals.

He refused to remand Toth to Air Force custody and instead fixed a bond of $1,000 for his release to return to his Pittsburgh home. Toth was ordered to remain in custody of the U. S. marshal until bond is posted.

William A. Kehoe Jr., one of Toth's attorneys, said he hoped to post bond soon.

Women Keep Secret About Silver Pattern

NATCHEZ, Miss. (UP) — The only case on record of three women keeping a secret for four years occurred here.

It involved the development of the Melrose silver pattern by Gorham in honor of Melrose, one of the famed ante-bellum mansions here.

The firm arranged in 1941 with Mrs. George L. D. Kelly, owner of Melrose, and the presidents of the Natchez and Pilgrimage Garden Cubs — Mrs. Joseph Dixon and Shirley Boatner — to issue the pattern.

But before it could be developed the plan had to be suspended because of wartime metal shortages. It was 1945 before the project could be revived. For four years the three women had to keep the secret in order to preserve its publicity value.

"We didn't even tell our husbands," Mrs. Kelly said.

Legion Nears Fight Over AF

Booster of Air Power Claims Report Is Being Suppressed

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A floor fight over the Eisenhower administration's five billion dollar Air Force budget cut shaped up today as American Legionnaires headed for the windup of their national convention.

Col. Roscoe Turner, chairman of the legion's Aeronautics Committee, served notice he plans a finish fight on the issue when he charged last night his committee's report criticizing the cuts had been "emasculated and bottled up" by the Security Committee of the legion.

Turner said in a statement he wanted to see whether the delegates should decide legion policies, or whether they should be settled by "the pronouncements of a few legionnaires, past legion officers and present public office holders."

He declined to identify the men he meant by that.

The Security Committee yesterday cut out all reference to a 143-wing Air Force recommended by Turner's committee. Instead it called for "the best possible Air Force."

Turner's committee had passed a resolution calling for re-establishment of a 143-wing force. It was cut back to 120 by the budget reduction.

On tap was the election of national officers. The campaign headquarters of Arthur J. Connell, Middletown, Conn., claimed yesterday he is assured of election as the next national commander.

Lawrence J. Fenlon of Chicago, who has been generally mentioned with Connell as a leading candidate for the post, has declined to predict the outcome of the election.

Unmailed Letter Saves Man From Sure Death

MOUNT DORA, Fla. (AP) — Paul H. Johnson figures a letter he hadn't mailed may have saved his life, like this:

He was driving to the postoffice when a windstorm felled a tree on his car. He grabbed the door handle but received a severe shock from live wires the tree had pulled on to the automobile.

He used the letter as an insulator, opened the door and stepped out just as the car roof caved in from the tree's weight. He escaped with a sprained back and minor cuts.

Dulles Attacks Split Germany

Blames Russia Alone for Partition; Calls on Reds to Attend Parley

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles today denounced continued partition of Germany as "a scandal" and "a crime." He said Russia was solely to blame for this.

In a statement, Dulles called on Russia to attend a Big Four foreign ministers meeting as proposed by the west, Oct. 15 to discuss the deadlocked German and Austrian problems.

The conference was proposed in a joint U. S.-British-French note to Moscow, made public last night.

It appeared to put the Soviets on a diplomatic spot and simultaneously give West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer powerful campaign ammunition for Sunday's election test.

Dulles' statement was given reporters at a news conference during which the secretary declared that failure of the West German people to re-elect Adenauer's coalition would have a very disastrous effect on prospect for German unification.

It was the strongest public endorsement of Adenauer yet voiced by any top rank American government official.

Bob Considine Says:

U. S.-Spanish Pact Close Despite State Department

NEW YORK (INS)—Unless all symptoms are spurious, we are about to witness a unique triumph by Congress and the Department of Defense over the State Department, on a question traditionally up to the latter to decide.

Any day, now, the U. S. and Spain will announce an agreement which will enable us to dot that most strategically located nation with fighter and bomber bases, naval installations, submarine pens, ammunition dumps and the other trappings of the modern military world.

The State Department of Dean Acheson vigorously resisted efforts to build Spain militarily. To a degree, so has the State Department of John Foster Dulles. But a hard little core in Congress held to a different view.

And in the Defense Department there never was any thought as to Franco's dictatorship. What was and remains important to the Defense Department is that Franco is anti-Communist and that Spain, if it fell to Russia, would provide the lower jaw of the pincers that could envelop Western Europe and destroy all that we have invested in same. In the end, Congress and defense prevailed over the department normally in charge of our foreign policy.

Frank C. Nash, assistant secretary of defense in charge of international security, told the Senate Appropriations Committee, "I personally believe that there is no investment out of the whole military aid program where we will get more for our money than in the funds we are requesting for Spain."

The late Adm. Forrest Sherman, sent to Spain by Mr. Truman a year and a half ago, for a look around, did more to lay the groundwork of an American-Spanish alliance than anyone else — with the exception perhaps of Sen. Pat McCarran, and, indirectly, Jim Farley.

First, Congress provided a loan of $62.5 million, most of it in cotton, wheat and fertilizer. There followed a $100 mutual security administration grant to Spain, then $25 million more for economic and military assistance. Then $91 million and, most recently, $10 million.

About a quarter of a billion dollars has been set aside for work on the U. S. bases in Spain, but the final figure is expected to be much larger. It is not an easy task, plugging this gaping hole in the defense of Western Europe.

It was not an easy task by-passing the State Department either. At least two Communist countries, Yugoslavia and Poland — the latter represented by Mr. Acheson's law firm — got much quicker action than Spain when in need of funds.

Army Aids Natives; Saves U. S. Money

NAHA, Ryukyu Islands (UP) — The U.S. Army is planting dollars in the barren land of the Ryukyu Islands and reaping a lush harvest of rice for the natives — plus saving for the American taxpayer.

The dollars pay for new irrigation canals which boost rice production for the nearly 1,000,000 people living on Okinawa and other islands of the 750-mile chain.

Food — bought with U. S. funds — must be imported for the natives here because their land will not produce enough to feed the large population.

Since early 1947, the U.S. Army's Civil Administration of the islands has furnished technical and financial aid for construction of 17 new concrete irrigation canals.

They are expected to add 1,823 acres of irrigated paddy land in the Ryukyus and will increase annual rice production an estimated 4,752,000 pounds. Ryukyuans did most of the labor on the projects with American engineers in supervisory positions.

When 83 more irrigation projects are finished, rice production is expected to mount to an estimated 28,952,000 pounds annually — or more than a 50 per cent boost over present output.

The signal corps of the U. S. army was organized in 1860 and later became a part of the weather bureau. It was reorganized in 1891.

Quality Abounds on Fifth Avenue

Greenbacks Talk but History Is Real Mark of Distinction

NEW YORK—No street in the world has had a more colorful history than Fifth Avenue in New York City. Fifty years ago lower Fifth Avenue was the residential front line of New York society.

Few of the occupants of its marble-stooped houses dreamed that they would see their quiet avenue emerge into the greatest commercial thoroughfare the world has ever known.

The history of the avenue rings with great names in America's social history—Astor, Vanderbilt, Frick, Carnegie, Ryan, Yerkes, Gould, and others.

And, as an article in a recent national magazine says, a house on Fifth Avenue was a hallmark of distinction. Though they were the most preposterous structures in the world of architecture, they served to thump the Victorian gong of impression.

As Fifth Avenue's northern limits were extended—because of the encroachment of trade—many older families abandoned the lower avenue. In 1906 the new Fifth Avenue was born with the coming of Benjamin Altman's huge department store.

Within 10 years a host of other firms followed Altman's example and brownstone houses were replaced by resplendent shops.

In the face of this sudden tidal wave of commerce, Fifth Avenue residents went farther and farther north.

Victims of death, taxes, and trade, the few remaining homes stood as sombre memorials of a day when more private power and wealth was concentrated on Fifth Avenue than on any other single street in history.

But, states the article, though the day of private holdings is gone, the Fifth Avenue legend is still growing and is still a legend of wealth, glitter, and gold.

2 Boys Track Down Suspect

Detroit Youths Spot Man in Neighborhood, Get Police

DETROIT (UP) — Two Detroit boys were credited today with tracking down a 26-year-old robbery suspect accused of slugging a store owner and making off with $983.

The suspect, Thomas L. Hardy, was held on an armed robbery charge. Police said he admitted entering the store of Ralph Troszak, 26, and beating him after rifling the cash register Wednesday.

Passers-by ducked for cover as Troszak fired eight shots at his fleeing assailant, who eluded him by slipping between two buildings and disappearing.

The boys, Joseph Sciamanan, 13, and James Gower, 14, listened attentively as Troszak described the hold-up man to police. Then they hopped on their bicycles and began scouring the neighborhood.

The youths said they spotted Hardy and rode past him to get a closer look.

"When we were sure it was the right guy we hollered, 'here come the cops,'" Gower said. "He started running through a field toward the railroad tracks and we knew he was the one."

The boys called police. Hardy surrendered without a struggle when detectives collared him while trying to flee down the railroad tracks.

Gerhart Eisler Slaps at U. S.

Comes From Hiding to Say American Slums Full of Rats

BERLIN (UP) — Fugitive American Communist Gerhart Eisler, who was fired last year as the Communist propaganda chief for East Germany, emerged from oblivion today to denounce the American food-aid program.

Eisler, who fled the United States rather than face contempt of Congress and other charges, wrote in the Communist newspaper "Friedenpost" that American slum dwellers in Chicago are in greater need of relief than Communism's East German wards.

He said workers in Chicago live in such squalor that "they are in danger, not from Russians, Chinese, Koreans or Communists but from 100 per cent pure American rats."

While the United States makes a show of feeding East Germans, Eisler said, "Rats are attacking and killing babies in America's slums."

Eisler said he based his report on items appearing in the Chicago Daily News and Time magazine.

He said slum dwellers in Washington, Cleveland, Baltimore, Boston, Philadelphia and Birmingham — along with Chicago — are in far greater need of relief than the East Germans.

Fire Sweeps Home in White Lake Area

A $3,500 fire gutted an unoccupied home at 9181 Holmes St. in White Lake Township early this morning.

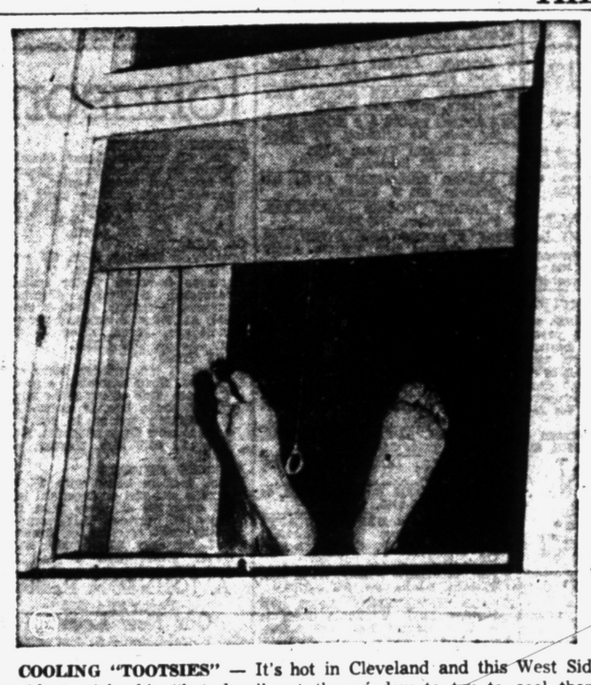

White Lake Township firemen brought the blaze under control within 15 minutes, but the fire had already destroyed most of the interior. A short circuit in an electric pump may have been the cause, firemen said.

Tom Wells of Bogie Lake Road had recently bought the property and was repairing and remodeling the home.

Would Evacuate in H-Bomb Raid

General Maitland Sees Mass Exodus for Cities Like Detroit

MACKINAC ISLAND (UP) — Mass evacuation may be the only effective defense against enemy H-bombs for potential cities like Detroit.

That was the word given yesterday to city and village officials attending the 55th annual convention of the Michigan Municipal League. Brig. Gen. Lester J. Maitland, state civil service director, was the speaker.

Gen. Maitland said Russia's H-bomb claim and America's development of the radar warning system had changed the basic thinking of civil defense officials.

Said Maitland:

"Three years ago, in our original thinking, we dealt with the A-bomb, and evacuation did not enter the picture. At that time the Air Force said it could not give us any advance notice of any enemy attack.

"Now the situation has changed. Our radar network is in operation in Canada, the northern tier of states and our coastal states. And Russia has an H-bomb device."

Gen. Maitland added:

"Against atom bombs, we planned to take punishment and continue work. Against the hydrogen bomb, we may have to evacuate, then come back to fight fires and resume work."

The general said it might take 24 hours to evacuate Detroit's two million residents by every available means. Cities like Grand Rapids and Flint might "do a good job," he said, on two hours' notice.

Trustees of the league defeated a proposal to offer non-voting memberships to townships on the ground that might lead to conflicting interests.

Distance Operators Sign With AT and T

NEW YORK (UP)—CIO long lines operators reached a contract agreement yesterday with the American Telephone and Telegraph Co., ending negotiations which started June 1.

With federal mediators present, officials of the company and the Communications workers of America (CWA) agreed on a pact affecting 22,000 non-supervisory employes in 390 communities in 40 states and the District of Columbia.

The settlement is subject to union membership ratification by Oct. 5. If rejected, an existing contract will remain in force.

The amounts of individual wage hikes in all classifications were not announced. But a union spokesman said members gained "substantially the $2 to $3 pattern established in 24 other settlements in Bell system bargaining."

6 Moms Refuse to Send Children to 'Ratty' School

ST. CLAIR (UP) — Six mothers refused to send their children to the rural Belle River Mills School near here today because the building "is not a fit place for children."

The mothers said they would keep their children at home until the school is annexed to the St. Clair School District. They described the rural school building as "ratty."

The mothers who have a total of 18 children of school age, were armed with a letter written last year to Ray J. McIntyre, director of the school district, by Wilfored S. Clapp, assistant superintendent of St. Clair County schools.

"This building in its present condition is not a fit place for children," the letter said. The mothers said recommended improvements have not been carried out.

Pontiac to Join in Optimist Day

City Club to Take Part in Festivities Saturday at State Fair

The Pontiac Optimist Club will join with 46 other units of the 17th District of Optimist International to sponsor "Optimist Day" at the Michigan State Fair Saturday.

Dr. H. A. Miller, president of the Pontiac club, said that free tags are available to children under 15 years of age who wish to attend the affair which starts at 11:30 a.m.

Immediately following a parade, a special show will be staged at the band shell. Children, who will be provided with "Pontiac" hats, will be asked to march in a parade consisting of 10 bands, Detroit Mounted Police, floats, elephants and clowns.

Firestone Tire Co., 140 N. Saginaw St.; Dr. Miller's office, 7 N. Saginaw St.; Crawford Food Market, 701 Orchard Lake Ave.; Scarlett Bicycle Shop, 20 E. Lawrence St.; and Gillies Shoes, 26 W. Huron St.

Parents, as well as children, will be admitted free upon presentation of the tag before noon.

3-Day Search Ends as Lad, 3, Is Found Safe

SOUTH ROYALSTON, Mass. (UP) — Three-year-old Jimmy Jolly, lost three days since he wandered away from a family picnic, was found today, apparently little the worse for his 72-hour ordeal.

The youngster was found seated beside a road. Richard Dunham, a fellow worker of the boy's father in nearby Athol, was the first to see him.

"I want my Mommy and Daddy," said Jimmy.

Dunham turned the lad over to a National Guard company which came here yesterday to aid the search. The soldiers sped Jimmy to Memorial Hospital and called his parents.

"My prayers are answered," his mother, Mrs. Louis Jolly, said as she clasped the child in her arms.

Dr. Bernard Rubino, who examined the child, said he was in "amazingly good condition."

Jimmy's arms and legs were scratched, his clothes were torn, and his face was "little boy" dirty.

Jimmy told his father that he had been eating blueberries and blackberries.

Large Schools Have Crossing Monitors

CHICAGO (UP)—A recent survey by the Civil Service. Assembly shows that at least 122 cities with more than 50,000 population have school crossing guard programs.

The study shows that as a result of this system, larger cities are able to get children across streets safely at school crossing four times a day without using police.

Eighty-eight departments have had no traffic injuries or deaths among school children since the program was adopted. Other departments report minor injuries. A few serious injuries to guards only were due to circumstances which could not be prevented, such as a runaway truck.

Guards are carefully selected on the basis of physical and mental character, and in some cities are fingerprinted.

The postwar trend has favored the employment of women-guards particularly young mothers of school children. Older men from the ranks of retired policemen, firemen, school janitors and handicapped veterans also serve to good advantage.

Restore Burial Ground of Wild West Gunmen

ABILENE, Kan. (UP) — The Eisenhower Museum may eventually be Abilene's biggest attraction for the tourist trade. But it has competition from Boot Hill.

A committee has gone to work to restore Boot Hill, famed in history and fiction as the burial ground of gunmen who fell in outlaw battles when Abilene was the northern terminal for Texas cattle trails.

A monument is planned to the memory of Wild Bill Hickok, the early marshal of Abilene who was credited with having restored order to the Kansas community.

New Soybean Yield Greater

High Oil Content Noted in Seeds Cross-Bred in Iowa

AMES, Ia. (UP)—Development of a new variety of soybean promising higher yields per acre have been announced by the Iowa Agricultural Experiment station and the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

The variety, named Clark, was developed through 12 years of crossing, selecting and testing.

Record high yields and high oil contents were noted in tests conducted in southern Iowa, and in parts of Kansas, Missouri, Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky and other areas of similar latitude from Nebraska to the Atlantic coast.

Clark has outyielded the Chief variety in Iowa by an average of six bushels per acre, according to C. R. Weber, in charge of soybean breeding at the station. He said it has averaged three bushels more than Adams and Lincoln varieties.

Weber said seed of the new variety will be grown on 115 acres in southeastern Iowa this year and the harvest from those acres distributed to certified seed growers in 32 southern counties next year.

It will be 1955 before Clark seed will be plentiful for Iowa soybean growers. Weber said. Illinois, Indiana, Nebraska and Missouri experiment stations will release seed in their states, also.

The Clark variety was developed from a cross of Lincoln and Richland, made 12 years ago by Martin G. Weiss of the federal agricultural department.

The cross Weiss made was crossed back to Lincoln the following winter by L. F. Williams. Then, thousands of selections were tested to find the one best strain for release to growers.

Bombay Zoo's Elephant Retiring at Age 70

BOMBAY, India (UP)—Begum, the 70-year-old elephant at Bombay's Victoria Garden Zoo, will retire shortly.

Since 1938, when she came to the zoo at the age of 66, about 75,000 children have ridden on her back, and it is estimated that she has earned over $16,000 for the zoo.

A new 27-year-old elephant will take her place. Begum, infirm and no longer able to bear the weight of joy-riders, will live out the rest of her life at the zoo.
