Continental Signs 5 Cent Pay Boost

PITTSBURGH (UP) — Continental Can Co. and the CIO United Steelworkers have signed a new contract calling for a five cent hourly raise for 15,000 employees in 37 plants in the United States and Canada.

All benefits are effective Oct. 1. The new agreement reached yesterday also brings the company's pension plan into line with the basic steel formula of $140 minimum a month after 30 years service.

The new wage agreement came under re-opener clause of a contract signed last January. The entire agreement remains in effect until Sept. 30, 1955.

Old wage rates were not made known. The new agreement also grants two additional holidays, Good Friday and Election Day. This brings the total of holidays to eight a year.

Pray, God Will Help You Make a Man of Yourself

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

On a speaking trip to the southwest I was having dinner in my hotel when a man came in asking for me. He introduced himself, very kindly saying he had been wanting to meet me for a long time. I asked him to sit down and he began to talk.

"I came to this town a bum," he started out. "If you don't know what I mean by a bum, I mean a hobo. I hopped into this town."

I looked at him dubiously. He was a big, healthy, fine-looking man, well-dressed and prosperous in appearance. "I can hardly believe that," I told him, but he shrugged off my protest.

"I'm from West Virginia," he continued. "Back there, I started drinking. I went from bad to worse. As a result, my wife left me. I lost my job, in fact, several jobs—until I couldn't get another one. I became a bum. I panhandled on the streets. Then I panhandled through the countryside. I slept in barns, haystacks, any place I could find. My clothes were rags. I was down and out."

"One day I stopped at a house to ask for a handout. A woman fed me and, as I sat on the back stoop eating, she said to me: 'What makes you this way? You must have something more in you. You can make a man of yourself.' Then she went into the house and came out with a book, which she gave me. It was your book, 'The Art of Living'," he concluded.

Then he reached into his coat pocket and pulled out the book to show me. It was torn, ragged, dirty. He continued: "I took that book with me. Often, to get out of the cold, I would go into a public library and read it. I read it a dozen times while I was going across the country. I came to this town eventually because I had heard there was a kind-hearted man here who might give me a job. I had his address and went to his house. A young woman was outside sweeping the sidewalk. That woman, incidentally, is now my wife."

He went on with his story: "As I read that book, I began to get close to God. I could actually feel myself change. A feeling came to me that perhaps I could be an accountant. So I borrowed some books and began to study cost accounting."

"An oil company finally hired me for a special job. It was a kind of work I'd never done before, but I applied the spiritual principles I'd learned, and I prayed. I'd been told that if my figures were within twenty per cent of accuracy, my employers would be satisfied. In my prayers, I asked God to help me figure it out. With His help, I came within seven-tenths per cent of the final figures."

When I said goodbye to this remarkable man who had started our conversation with the words, "I was a bum," I knew that I was seeing a man who had found his way back. He had learned that, if you put your trust in God and let Him help you, it doesn't matter what you have been or what you are. He can help you become what you ought to be; He can help you find your way back.

One wonderful thing about human beings is that, no matter how old they are, how badly they have failed, how frustrated they are, there is always a spark within them—the hope of starting again, doing better, achieving their dreams, finding their way back to their highest desires.

Never let that spark die in you. For, no matter what happens, with the help of God, you can find your way back.

Dewey's Retirement

Republicans all over the country, including President EISENHOWER, regret Gov. DEWEY's decision against seeking a fourth term as New York State's chief executive.

Their disappointment was softened, however, by the announcement of Sen. IRVING M. Ives that he would accept the GOP gubernatorial nomination if it is offered him. That makes such action by the State convention almost a certainty.

Gov. DEWEY's announcement that the time had come for him to retire to private life caught many Republicans by surprise. But it didn't stop speculation about the 1944-48 Presidential candidate's future. It was pointed out, for example, that the man with such a fine 12 year record as governor said he wouldn't "be a candidate for any public office this Fall."

This, it is argued, left the way open for Dewey in 1956 to seek the Senate seat now held by aging former Gov. Lehman, or even make another try for the Presidency. There also is talk that he might be chosen for some high office in the Eisenhower Administration.

Like DEWEY, Sen. Ives is a member of the Liberal-Internationalist wing of the Republican Party. Undoubtedly his reluctant agreement to be a candidate, although his Senate term has four years to run, was influenced by the retiring governor.

Also like Owosso's most famous son, Sen. Ives is a strong vote getter. He is an expert on labor matters and popular with organized workers. To him went the first appointment as dean of New York State School of Industrial Relations. Sen. Ives has been a member of the upper House since 1946.

We believe Gov. DEWEY's long and brilliant public service gives him the right to decide his own future. We also believe that in endorsing Sen. Ives as his successor he has chosen the man most likely to retain the governorship for the Republican Party.

Puerto Rico's Progress

Some Wisconsin business men are reported alarmed by inducements being offered Badger State industries to locate branch plants in Puerto Rico.

The question became news as a result of a visit to Milwaukee of a Puerto Rican government emissary. Actually he was part of what the islanders call "Operation Bootstrap" and his Milwaukee visit was not without result.

Two business men there have agreed to open an electronics equipment factory on the island. Another firm is negotiating a similar deal and a third has a prosperous branch there.

Neither Wisconsin nor any other State can hope to match inducements Puerto Rico offers. These include no local taxes for 10 years, freedom from Federal income tax because of Puerto Rico's commonwealth status, and free rent of factories if built in small towns or in the interior.

Other advantages are an abundant supply of labor—still unskilled but being trained in vocational classes—low wages and inexpensive water transportation to the mainland.

The goal of this program is to lift the island out of economic misery and considerable progress has been made since 1946. For example, 350 factories have been established and per capita income has increased from $165 to $420.

Instead of being a cause of worry, progress in Puerto Rico eventually will benefit all of us. A higher standard of living there means we'll have to supply less money for welfare needs and the islanders will be able to buy more of our finished goods.

Ike Again Says "No"

As he did early in August, President EISENHOWER again has turned down a suggestion that the U. S. break off diplomatic relations with Russia.

This latest "demand" came from Senate Majority Leader KNOWLAND of California. His telegram was made public before it reached the vacation White House. It called on the President to make the diplomatic break because of the wholly unjustified attack by Russian fighters on one of our patrol planes.

The previous demand for a diplomatic break came from Gen. MARK CLARK who coupled it with a suggestion that we reorganize the United Nations without Russia.

The President was right in telling Gen. CLARK that a break with Russia would serve no useful purpose. He is right again in saying the same thing to Sen. KNOWLAND.

Our Moscow embassy is valuable because it keeps us in constant touch with official Russian thought and action. Closing it would intensify, rather than reduce the cold war tensions to which some observers attribute these attacks.

The People's Business: Governor Humble Says 'We' Have Balanced Michigan Budget at Last

By JACK I. GREEN
LANSING—Lindberg and The Spirit of St. Louis flew the Atlantic Ocean. "We" did it, said Lindy modestly.

Until this week, that flight has stood as a kind of a model for man's humility. But this week, Gov. Williams soared far over the Atlantic, in fact right out of sight in a new kind of flight.

"We," said Williams shyly, have balanced the state budget.

The Republicans, who thought all along they had accomplished this feat, were so stunned by the governor's presumption that they haven't yet recovered breath enough to scream.

Williams accomplished his little budget-balancing feat all in a moment with a press release which had State Controller John W. Lederle reporting to him the fiscal year ended with a $3,685,000 surplus—first in five years.

"We have wiped out the state's million dollar deficit in a two-year period," the governor proclaimed proudly.

This is apparently what Williams means when he calls for bipartisan government. He is bipartisan when there is credit to be handed around, but strictly partisan when there is any criticism due. No political statement for, of course, that's what it was—has made the Capital's hall stand on end quite so much in years.

Because the Capital is chewing reminiscently over ends of the bitter fight in the 1952 legislative session in which—let's be honest, governor—the Republicans balanced the budget.

It is easy yet to recall how Williams persistently and irritatingly kept demanding the Legislature pass the corporations profit tax to wipe out the state's steadily mounting deficit.

It is easy to recall how reluctant he was to accept the Republican Legislature's first budget-balancing move, the shift in the payment date of the corporation franchise tax. "Only a stop-gap to fool the people," he said sourly.

It is easy to recall Williams' sulky opposition to the final budget-balancing move, the new business receipts tax. The governor screamed that it was written by big business, that there were some very peculiar features about its passage, that the legislature didn't know what it was doing, that it was no solution.

And, above all, it is easy to recall that Williams refused to either sign or veto the bill but let it become law without his approval. But now, with the deficit finally wiped out, "we balanced the budget" Williams says.

Williams can take just credit for the work of his budget bureau in holding down expenses and scrutinizing expenditures carefully.

But it is hard to discover what else he did to balance the budget. No one can deny that the governor has consistently asked the Legislature annually for more money than it finally appropriated.

Agnostics, I'm afraid you have been reading the "theories of life" out of the little "red" book. You are out of date and ill informed.

We are confronted by four outstanding phases of life, the social, the political, the economic and the spiritual.

This four square life and existence of man, shaped by his Creator has found growth chiefly because man was endowed with a scientific mind by the same power.

The first discovery of fire and the first stone ax were as spectacular to the level of growth of that day as nuclear science is to the level of today. These first discoveries were guided from harmful uses, even as nuclear science will ultimately be used by the selfsame guiding and creative power to a peaceful purpose.

You can tell how modern folks live when they put their car under the same roof with them so they can get it quicker.

That science and religion have nothing in common is erroneous, fantastic and infantile. I have in my possession the testimonies of the world's leading scientists this side of the "Iron Curtain" and all acknowledge a "central cause" of life and energy, a central "mind force." We know as God.

Science and religion were born together, have and will march together to the glory of the God who created both in spite of Agnostics and false philosophies. The spiritual washes from our social order the stigma of ignorance and decline and sets into motion a growth that complements the ever rising level of the standards by which we live.

Religion die? It has only begun to "live."

Family Works Despite

Mother's Disapproval

This letter is written in answer to "Tired Mother." I am the son of a woman who is supposed to be my mother. She has worked for ten years in a factory to "give us what we want," so she says. Yet like many of today's women, she is forgetting to be a mother.

"Poor father" as he was called in your letter agrees with the rest of us that mother should quit work and stay home. Doctors have advised her to quit, yet she keeps wearing herself out in a factory expecting us to take care of ourselves.

Should we be expected to mind her if we take care of ourselves? Dejected Son

He never forgot a line I wrote around 1918. "The way to end the world conflict is to make Bryan secretary of war. Nothing Bill had charge of ever lasted very long."

Days of All Faiths

Sunday Commemorates the Naming of Mary

By DR. HOWARD V. HARPER

On the first Sabbath after she is born every Jewish girl baby, by ancient tradition, receives her name.

There are variations from place to place and from group to group, but in the times when the Blessed Virgin Mary was born it is more than likely that her father, Joachim, went to the synagogue on the very next Sabbath after the baby came, and at the proper point in the service stood up and announced to the congregation, "Her name is Mary."

The naming of the baby was left to the father not so much because he outranked the mother, but chiefly because the mother was not usually able to be present so soon after the birth.

Names have always been considered important. They amount to more than just a handy way of identifying or summoning a person. To primitive peoples — and even to those of us who have become more sophisticated — there has always seemed to be a deep connection between a man's name and the man's inmost self. That is probably why we always make some sort of ceremony about giving a child its name.

It was quite natural that in time the Christian Church would want to honor the name of the most honored woman in all human history. And having established Mary's birthday as September 8, it was also natural that the Church would follow the Jewish timing and assume that she got her name on the first Sabbath thereafter.

The Feast of the Holy Name of Mary began in Spain in 1513. Pope Innocent IX made it universal in 1683, and set aside the Sunday after September 8 for its observance.

There used to be an interesting old pre-Christian superstition in connection with naming the baby. If the baby was frail and sickly, parents postponed the naming as long as possible because they believed that the death summons could not be delivered to a person who did not have a name.

There has hardly been a child in the Western world in the last 150 years who has not come under the influence of Robert Raikes, an English newspaper publisher who was born on September 14 in 1735.

In those days most children received constant religious instruction as a normal part of a family home life, but Raikes was worried about the children in an orphanage in his town of Gloucester.

Concentrating on children ages 6 to 12, Raikes organized a special class on Sundays for the orphanage youngsters. Today's Sunday School children would shudder to think that Raikes' school lasted from five to eight hours, and today's educators would shudder to think that there was no attempt to grade the material to suit the age of the child. Six-year-olds and twelve-year-olds all got the same thing, in the same form.

The main text was a Catechism, and the only plan of instruction was to make everyone memorize the answers. The Bible was used in an entirely secondary sort of way — to illustrate points in the Catechism.

Although there had been Sunday instructions for children here and there (Roxbury, Mass. had a Sunday School as early as 1674) it was Raikes' school that first attracted general attention, and Raikes is considered the founder of the Sunday School movement.

It is worth noting that Raikes intended only to supplement, and never to replace, the home as the principal teacher of religion.

Four languages were in use in Palestine in Jesus' time: Hebrew, Aramaic, Greek, and Latin. Aramaic, however, was the one used by the people in general and Jesus would have had to speak it to be understood by more than a small segment of the population.

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

Dreams Have No Definite Significance Because Reasoning Powers Are Asleep

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.
THE MAIL BOX

Dreaming
I dreamed that when I reach the age of seventeen I will die. I have heard that some dreams come true.

Answer — Dreams have no definite significance. Fully conscious I may idly think, say, that I am fated to have a serious accident next time I drive some where — but I dismiss the thought when I reason that I'll take care to avoid danger. If I dreamed the same thing I could not reason or exercise good judgement about it because these higher faculties are asleep, not functioning.

Roll Off the Bed
I look somewhat for years, with great relief for my indigestion, but an automobile injury to my neck made me stop. Now I want to begin again. I always look them on the bed, but my brother says I ruined a perfectly good springs.

Answer — No, no, don't attempt somersaults on a bed. The floor or ground is the place. I'm afraid you misunderstand. Better send stamped, self-addressed envelope and ask in writing for Invitation to the Somersaults. It tells you how, where and why to roll 'em.

Interference
Do you or do you not recommend treatment with enemas (C. R.)

Answer — Treatment of what, stupid?

Manual Analgesia
I stopped intercostal neuralgia pain in my left side that kept me from lying on that side for ten years, by merely applying my own bare hands to the painful area. Have stopped angina pectoris in the same way—instantly. (W. R. B.)

Answer — Sometimes it seems that magic is child's play for almost any one but a regular physician. If you can relieve pain in others in the same way you should become famous over night.

Twenty Pounds in a Year
If I can lose 15 pounds in the next year I'll send you tickets for box seats to see our Milwaukee Braves. (Mrs. E. W.)

Answer — That's easy. Eat one less slice of bread and butter and one less pint of milk and you'll lose 20 pounds in a year, other items of food and drink being the same. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for pamphlet HOW TO LOSE WEIGHT.

Castor Oil for Warts
Nine warts on first three fingers, ashamed. Finally tried applying castor oil every night and in a week or so they vanished. (Mrs. K. G.)

Answer — Warts go as mysteriously as they come. Applying castor oil at least can do no harm.

Canker Sores
Please tell us the cause of canker sores and what is your remedy for them. (Mrs. J. V.)

Answer — Usually they are herpes ("fever blisters," "cold sores") in the mouth. Avoid brushing teeth. Rinse mouth before and after taking any food, with agreeable warm boric acid solution (teaspoon-full boric acid dissolved in pint boiled water — and I am aware of the funny article in the magazine calling boric acid "poisonous"). Touch each canker sore with mild Tincture of Iodine and Glycerin, halt and halt, once daily.

Schools Slated to Open Monday

Clarkston Elementary Pupils to Start Out on Half-Day Sessions

CLARKSTON — Clarkston Community Schools will open Monday. Buses will leave Clarkston High School, Andersonville School and Sashabaw School at 7 a.m. to pick up high school students. They will arrive at the high school at 7:45 and will leave immediately for their respective schools again to begin pickup of elementary school children. People living in this area may expect the buses to begin pickups at approximately 8 a.m. All children will be taken into their respective schools on Monday. Elementary school children will be taken home at noon; high school students will stay all day.

Until the elementary school additions are completed, students will be on half day sessions. This should last for about a month or six weeks, when full day classes will start.

On Tuesday, the grade school children designated to attend morning classes will be picked up from 8 a.m. on and taken home at noon, at which time the buses will pick up the afternoon session students and will return them at 4 p.m. High school hours will be from 7:45 a.m. to 3:15 p.m. Elementary school hours are from 8:45 a.m. to noon and 1 p.m. to 4 p.m.

Ralph Thayer will be in charge of the operation of the school buses and drivers for the school district.

Cub Pack 52 to Meet Monday at Drayton

DRAYTON PLAINS — The first fall meeting of Drayton Plains Cub Pack 52 will be held Monday 7:30 p.m., at the Drayton Plains School.

Special speaker will be Waterford Township Police Chief Frank Van Atta. In addition, the program will include moving pictures showing scenes from this summer's day camp, the Indian reservation at Walpole Island, views of Niagara Falls, the Montreal Bridge, and the 1,000 Islands Boat Trip.

Cubmaster Kirk Francis urged all parents to accompany their sons to this and other monthly pack meetings.

An invitation is also extended to Cub age boys who would like to join, to bring their parents and find out more about the Cubbing movement, Francis said. The evening will close with refreshments served by the mothers.

Sewage Supt. Resigns to Take Industrial Post

ROCHESTER — Arthur Maass, of 125 Alice St., has resigned as superintendent of the village sewage treatment plant, to take a position with a local industry.

Maass, who has held the job since March, 1932, has submitted his resignation to the village council and village manager Robert Stone. It will be taken up Monday at the regular meeting of the council.

He is taking a similar position with the Packard Motor Car Co., in Utica.

Oxford Residents Set to Manage Convention

OXFORD — Edmund A. Unger will preside over the 1st annual convention of the Grand Lodge Knights of Pythias of Michigan Sept. 16-18 at Grand Rapids.

He is the grand chancellor. The Grand Temple Pythian Sisters of Michigan will hold their 63rd annual convention at the same time, with Grand Chief Joann Miller, also of Oxford, presiding.

Sen. Homer Ferguson will be the principal speaker at the grand banquet Sept. 17.

County Deaths

Frank Plonkey — Service for former resident Frank Plonkey was held recently in Tulsa, Okla. Surviving is his widow, Grace.

Arthur G. Morris — Service for Arthur G. Morris, 70, of 1538 Greenwood Rd., will be at 2 p.m. Monday from Baird Funeral Home, with burial in Hunter's Creek Cemetery. He died Friday night at Lapeer County General Hospital.

He is survived by a brother, Ray, and a sister, Mrs. Charles Nass, both of Lapeer Township.

Charles W. Richmond — Service for Charles W. Richmond, 67, of 1080 Duck Lake Rd., will be at 2 p.m. Monday from Richardson-Bird Funeral Home, with burial in Lakeside Cemetery, Oxbow Lake. He died Sunday at Pontiac General Hospital.

Surviving are his wife, Anna, three sons, Carlton M., Gilbert C. and Donald W., of Pontiac, three stepchildren, Dale Smith of Holly, Donald Smith of Clarkston and Mrs. Lorrie Striggen of Holly, and seven grandchildren.

Mary M. Phelan, Theodore Fuger Speak Vows

METAMORA — Wearing her maternal grandmother's wedding gown, Mary Meade Phelan, of Metamora and Grosse Pointe Farms, became the bride of Ensign Theodore Hall Fuger Jr., in a ceremony Saturday at St. Peter and Paul Catholic Church in Detroit.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James J. Phelan Jr. of Barber Road, Metamora. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Hall Fuger of Grosse Pointe.

The bride's gown was of white satin and duchess lace, with a long train. Her veil of duchess lace reached to the end of the train and she carried a bouquet of miniature white gladioli.

Maid of honor was her sister, Florence Phelan. Bridesmaids included two other sisters, Ellen and Anne Phelan, and Mrs. Henry E. Bodman of Grosse Pointe Farms, Mary L. Lusk of Bronxville, N. Y., Mary Ellen Carroll of Charleston, W. Va., and Kitty May Macauley of Grosse Pointe Farms. The flower girl was Susan B. Skae, a cousin and god-daughter.

Best man was Ensign Fuger's father, Theodore Hall Fuger. The ushers included Brenton G. Fuger, Donald Beaumont, Harold R. Boyer, Jr., Charles Edey Jr., William Farquar, Robert Edgar Jr., Stanford Brainerd of Easton, Pa. and Charles Wood of Whitmarsh, Pa.

Pontiac Church Site of Wedding of J. C. Lafnear

METAMORA — James C. Lafnear, of Stewart Road, took Joyce Arlene Meyer of Pontiac as his bride recently at the Emmanuel Baptist church, Pontiac.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Meyer of Pontiac. She chose a white length gown of white net and lace over taffeta for the rites.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Lucille Vandewiele, of Pontiac, while Dale Matznick, of Lapeer, served the bridegroom as best man.

Great Oaks Farm Takes Top Honors

ROCHESTER — Aberdeen-Angus displayed by Great Oaks Stock Farm recently at the Michigan State Fair won not only top honors in the purebred show, but in the interbreed steer competition as well.

The entry which was named grand champion steer of the fair was a lightweight senior calf sired by Prince Quality MB and out of Cesar's Mercury Lucy.

In the breed show, Bardolierme G 35th, entered by both Great Oaks and Newtondale Farm, was named senior and grand champion bull, while Great Oaks Black Oaks Black Bardolier 4th won the junior championship, and Great Oaks Prince Black 8th was named reserve junior champion.

The junior champion female went on to win grand champion honors. She was Pauline Grenade Great Oaks. Reserve junior and reserve grand champion was Blackbird 3rd of Great Oaks, and reserve senior champion, Blackcap 42nd of Great Oaks.

Mrs. Lawrence Giddings is vice president and membership chairman; Mrs. Bertha Saylor, treasurer; Mrs. Henry Buck, recording secretary; Mrs. Abbie Toles, financial secretary; Mrs. Elmer Davis, chaplain; and Mrs. Charles Richard, historian.

Mrs. Giddings and Mrs. Henry Melberg were appointed to attend the MOMS state convention in Detroit, Oct. 7, 8 and 9.

It's Not Difficult to Have a Beautiful LAWN

A will to work, some elbow grease, a few tools, the right plant food, the right grass seed—that's all you need to build a beautiful lawn. Not just any plant food, but the kind that will supply those elements your soil lacks. Not just good grass seed but the special varieties that will thrive on your soil.

Bring a Sample of Your Soil

We'll analyze it for you without charge... we'll examine it for texture and humus. We can then recommend to you the plant formula that will correct your soil deficiency. We can also suggest those seed varieties that will assure you of lawn success.

Will Air Views Before Council

Residents to Demand Accounting of Methods of Department

MILFORD — At least 200 Milford residents have promised to be on hand to demand an accounting of police department methods and protest the firing of Milford Assistant Chief of Police George (Bill) Ellenwood when the Village Council holds its regular meeting Monday.

According to supporters, Ellenwood was fired by Police Commissioner Joseph Gerrard while on duty, for three "insignificant reasons," charges were that Ellenwood failed to punch box clocks, had unauthorized persons in the patrol car, and answered calls outside the village limits.

Ellenwood claims that he can explain the charges but was given no chance to do so.

Mrs. George Eberle, who represented the citizens group at a special council meeting, today stated: "We feel that the dismissal was irregular in that it was too abrupt. 'We disapprove of the Council's action in not giving Ellenwood a hearing, and we want the whole thing to be brought before the community so that residents can decide if the dismissal is fair.'"

Answering protesting citizens, Joseph Gerrard said: "I don't understand what is so important about this $75-a-week night job. I've had at least six applications so far. It just puzzles me."

Citizens of Milford have circulated over 200 petitions protesting the firing of Ellenwood. The Village Council, however, upheld Gerrard by voting 3-1 in favor of the dismissal.

Davison Man Wins at Sheep-Shearing

DAVISON — A fast man with shares is Jerry Cary of Davison. He proved it Friday at the sheep-shearing contests at Michigan State Fair by beating the time of 11-time winner Carl Hakes of Hanover.

Cary gained his victory over the international champion by only 5-100 of a point.

Garden Club Plans New Member Reception

ROCHESTER — A plant exchange and reception of new members as well as pointers in flower arrangement will highlight the 1 p.m. Monday meeting of the Stiles Branch of the Women's National Farm and Garden Assn., to be held at the home of Mrs. John Hoffman, of Hazelton road.

Smorgasbord Scheduled

SASHABAW PLAINS — The regular smorgasbord of the Sashabaw Presbyterian Church will be held at 5:30 p.m. today at the church, with the proceeds going to the church building fund.

THE BIBLE IS A CATHOLIC BOOK

People differ radically in what they think about the Bible. Some seem to think it was handed down from Heaven written in English and bound in morocco. Many accept it as the inspired Word of God without knowing why they are justified in doing so. And others say that the Bible is full of contradictions and must be taken "with a grain of salt."

A proper understanding of the Scriptures can exert a tremendous influence for good in your personal life. You should, therefore, know where we get the Bible... what it means... why you can believe its every word.

Nowhere in the Bible text will you find a list of the 73 inspired books of which it is composed. This list was given to the world by the Catholic Church almost three full centuries after the crucifixion of Jesus Christ. Between the time of the Crucifixion and the time that the Scriptures were gathered into a single Book, millions had received and accepted the teachings of Christ... and had died without ever seeing the complete Bible.

Established by Christ Himself and rapidly spread among the nations of the world, the Catholic Church was carrying on Christ's work for the salvation of men some 60 years before the Apostle John wrote his book of the New Testament.

Those who are familiar with the Bible, as well as those who are reading it for the first time, will find many important questions concerning it clearly answered in a free booklet which we shall send you on request. Ask for Pamphlet No. 3-N.

Dolls Will Reflect Religious Emphasis
By Religious News Service
NEW YORK — Dolls and other toys will "increasingly reflect that the modern family is a religious family," according to an announcement from a toy corporation here.
The company said it had created a doll that can "kneel in a praying position with back upright."
"American parents are now interested in teaching their children the habit of daily worship," the toy makers said. "Spiritual values are being stressed in child training."

Japanese to Tell Why He Turned to Christianity
John Kayama, a young Japanese Christian who arrived in the United States in August to begin theological study at Asbury Seminary in Kentucky, will speak to the Tuxis Society of the First Presbyterian Church at their first meeting Sunday at 6 p.m.
Kayama, a native of Osaka, of Buddhist-Shintoist background, was converted to Christianity in 1947. Since his conversion, Kayama has served as translator to Jake De Shazer, Doolittle flier and bombardier on the Tokyo flight. De Shazer is now a missionary to Japan bringing Christ to people he once destroyed. Kayama will tell how and why he became a Christian.

Following Kayama's talk, the Rev. Edward D. Auchard, associate pastor, will conduct a short consecration service.

American Legion Encourages Plan
"Back to God" Program
Designed to Promote Family Devotion
By Religious News Service
WASHINGTON, D.C.—Resolutions perpetuating the American Legion's "Back to God" movement and urging the use of religious references on the nation's postage stamps and currency were adopted at the annual convention of the veteran's organization here.
Legionnaires voted to make the "Back to God" movement, a program designed to promote family devotion, regular church attendance and religious training for youth, a permanent Legion activity.
Another resolution asked President Eisenhower and the Postmaster General to consider issuing a special stamp to commemorate Congress' action in inserting the words "Under God" in the pledge of allegiance to the flag.
A third measure urged the President and the Treasury Department to print suitable slogans, quotations or references, such as "In God We Trust," on all new currency issued. The slogan now is used on all current U.S. coins and on the 3-cent and 8-cent stamps.

CANTOR JAY KARZEN

High Holy Day Services Begin

Cantor Jay Karzen Will Conduct Chanting for Jewish New Year

Congregation B'nai Israel of Pontiac wishes to announce that High Holy Day services will be conducted at the synagogue at 143 Oneida Street, under the leadership of Rabbi Henry Hochlander.

The Jewish New Year will commence at sundown on Monday, September 27, and end at sundown on Wednesday, September 29.

The cantorial portion of the services will be conducted by Cantor Jay Karzen of the Hebrew Theological Seminary of Chicago.

Cantor Karzen is the recipient of the Ariam Medal for musical excellence; has composed several popular liturgical compositions; is the director of a musical quintette and has directed and participated in several operettas.

Cantor Karzen will be assisted in performing the services by Cantor Lazarus Hershovitz of Pontiac.

Women Will Present Message and Music

Sunday will be Women's Day at the Providence Missionary Baptist Church with the women of the church planning all of the services.

Mrs. Gracie Clark will be the speaker at 11 a. m. The afternoon service at 3 p. m. will have Mrs. L. R. Miner bring a message. Miss Neldin Page will speak at the evening meeting at 7:30 p. m. and she has asked the Pastor's Chorus to present several musical selections. Mrs. Mattie Jones is the director of the chorus.

Senior Choir Sings at Sunday Concert

The Senior Choir of the Trinity Baptist Church is presenting its quarterly concert Sunday at 7:30 p. m. with Mrs. Laura Crawford Price the guest soloist. Levi Eubanks is director of the choir.

The Rev. Richard H. Dixon Jr. is pastor of the church.

REV. CHARLES S. MAHER

Elmwood Youth Present Program

The Youth Fellowship of the Baldwin Ave. Methodist Church will meet for the first time at 6 p. m. Sunday.

This newly organized group is under the leadership of the Rev. Charles S. Maher, pastor of the church. All young people between the ages of 12-19 years are urged to attend.

The Youth Group of the Elmwood Methodist Church with their pastor, the Rev. Keith Colby, will present a program and conduct the meeting.

Professor Plays at Dedication

Congregation to Hear Recital on New Organ at Memorial Baptist

Sunday will be Rally Day at Memorial Baptist Church. At 7:30 p. m., the new organonic organ will be dedicated.

Religion Would Combat Hoodlums, Church Told

DETROIT—An emphasis on religion and religious education would result in less youngsters becoming troublemakers, a leader of the Greek Orthodox Church said here.

Archbishop Michael, head of the Church's Archdiocese of North and South America, made a 24-hour stop to visit with members of the Greek Orthodox community here. He said there was a minimum of juvenile delinquency involving Americans of Greek descent because they have "kept close" to their religion. Detroit has been the scene in recent weeks of youth terrorism with teen gangs blamed for "thrill" killings involving skid row bums and drifters.

WHY there are no images, no holy water, no candles, no beads etc. in Our Christian Faith.

When Moses received the law for the children of Israel he reminded the nation: "And the Lord spake unto you out of the midst of the fire: ye heard the words, but saw no similitude, only ye heard the voice . . . And the Lord commanded me at that time to teach you statutes and judgments, that ye might do them in the land . . . Take ye therefore good heed unto yourselves: for ye saw no manner of similitude on that day that the Lord spake unto you in Horeb out of the midst of fire: lest ye corrupt yourselves and make you a graven image, the similitude of any figure, the likeness of male or female, the likeness of any beast that is on the earth, the likeness of any fowl that flieth in the air, the likeness of anything that creepeth on the ground, the likeness of any fish that is in the waters beneath the earth: and lest thou lift up thine eyes unto heaven and when thou seest the sun and the moon and the stars even all the hosts of heaven, shouldst be driven to worship and serve them . . . Take heed unto yourselves, lest ye forget the covenant of the Lord your God, which he made with you, and make you a graven image or likeness of anything, which the Lord thy God hath forbidden thee. For the Lord thy God is a consuming fire, even a jealous God."

"When thou shalt beget children, and children's children, and ye shall have remained long in the land and shall corrupt yourselves and make a graven image, or the likeness of anything and shall do evil in the sight of the Lord thy God, to provoke him to anger: I call heaven and earth to witness against you this day, that ye shall soon perish from off the land . . . ye shall not prolong your days upon it, but shall be utterly destroyed." (Deut. 5:12-27).

"Thou shalt not make unto thee any graven image, or any likeness of anything that is in heaven above, or that is in the earth beneath, or that is in the water under the earth: thou shalt not bow down thyself to them to serve them, for I, the Lord thy God am a jealous God." (Second commandment).

During Israel's journey through the wilderness, when the nation rebelled against their God, he sent a scourge among them—the fiery serpents, but when people repented of their deeds, God provided an unusual remedy for their affliction—the brazen serpent set upon a pole, and every Israelite bitten by the serpents when he looked expectantly towards this brazen serpent he was healed. This brazen serpent had all the necessary qualifications for an utmost deserving the worship—this was the one! Yet in the latter years, in the days of Hezekiah the King, during a period of spiritual revival in Israel we read about the acts of this king: "And he did that which was right in the sight of the Lord, according to all that his father David did. He removed the high places, and brake the images, and cut down the groves, and brake in pieces the brazen serpent that Moses had made: for unto those days the children of Israel did burn incense to it." (2 Kg. 18:1-4). So even the image of a proven healing power and ordered by God himself was destroyed, for it led the people into corrupt practice.

In the days of another faithful king of Judah, king Josiah, God granted to the nation again a revival and thus is it described in the 24th chapter of Second Chronicles: "For in the eighth year of his reign, while he was yet young, he began to seek after the God of David his father: and in the twelfth year he began to purge Judah and Jerusalem from the high places, and the groves, and the carved images, and the molten images. And they brake down the altars of Baalim in his presence; and the images, that were on high above them, he cut down; and the groves and the carved images, and the molten images he brake in pieces, and made dust of them, and strowed them upon the graves of them that sacrificed unto them.

And he burnt the bones of the priests upon their altars, and cleansed Judah and Jerusalem. And so did he in the cities of Manasse, and Ephraim, and Simeon, even unto Naphtali, with their mattocks round about. And when he had broken down the altars and the groves, and had beaten the graven images into powder, and cut down all the idols throughout all the land of Israel, he returned to Jerusalem." (vv.3-7).

When King Solomon completed the building of temple in Jerusalem according to the pattern given by God to his father David, he furnished it with every necessary item which God himself had requested to be there, the number of them to be sufficient to fill one whole chapter (ch.6) in the 1 book of Kings.

No doubt every item was essential for temple worship, but in spite of all visual helps present—Solomon the builder was the very person who trespassed against the Lord, he introduced and legalized idolatry in Israel, thus setting to naught all the "visual worship helps." The nation followed the example set by their king.

Israel failed to take heed. Some 800 years later writes prophet Isaiah this message from God: To whom ye liken me and make me equal, and compare me, that we may be like? They lavish gold out of the bag, and weigh silver in the balance, and hire a goldsmith; and he maketh it a god: they fall down, yea, they worship. They bear him upon the shoulder, they carry him, and set him up in his place and he standeth; from his place shall he not remove: yea, one shall cry unto him, yet he can not answer, nor save him out of his trouble. Remember this, and shew yourselves men: bring it again to mind, O ye transgressors." (Isaiah 46:5-8).

And still later adds Jeremiah: "Thus saith the Lord, learn not the way of the heathen . . . For the customs of the people are vain: for one cutteth a tree out of the forest, the work of the hands of the workman, with the ax. They deck it with silver and with gold, they fasten it with nails and with hammers, that it move not. They are upright as the palm tree, but speak not; they must needs be borne, because they cannot go. Be not afraid of them: for they cannot do evil, neither also is it in them to do good . . . But they are altogether brutish and foolish: the stock is a doctrine of vanities. . . . Thus shall ye say unto them: The gods that have not made the heavens and the earth, even they shall perish from the earth and from under these heavens. . . . Every man is brutish in his knowledge: every founder is confounded by the graven image of his molten image: falsehood and there is no breath in them. They are vanity, and work of errors; in the time of their visitation they shall perish." (Jer. 10:2-16).

Israel still would not listen and this was the sentence: "Therefore thus saith the Lord: Behold I will bring evil upon them, which they shall not be able to escape; and though they shall cry unto me, I will not hearken unto them. Then shall the cities of Judah and inhabitants of Jerusalem go and cry unto gods unto whom they offer incense, but they shall not save them in the time of their trouble. . . . Therefore pray not thou for this people, neither lift up a cry or prayer for them: for I will not hear them in the time that they cry unto me for their trouble." (Jer. 11, 11-14).

Even the warnings which Jeremiah uttered took no effect and this was the end: "Therefore He brought upon them the king of the Chaldees, who slew their young men with the sword in the house of their sanctuary and had no compassion upon young man or maiden, old man or him that stooped for age: He gave them all into his hand. And all the vessels of the house of God, great and small and the treasures of the house of the Lord and the treasures of the king and of the princes; all this he brought to Babylon. And they burnt the house of God, and brake down the wall of Jerusalem, and burnt all the palaces thereof with fire, and destroyed all the goodly vessels thereof." (11 Chron. 36:17-19).

When Jesus Christ explained the new principle of worship unto the woman of Samaria He said: "Woman, believe me, the hour cometh, when ye shall neither in this mountain, nor yet at Jerusalem worship the Father. . . . But the hour cometh and now

Mrs. Anthony Fisher will be her matron of honor and other attendants will be Mrs. Donald Gaddes and Ellen Plante. Mr. Fisher will be best man and Pershing Plante and John Schwartz will seat the guests.

Guests were Mrs. Jere Donaldson, Mrs. A. J. Church, Betty Reid, Mrs. Jack Richards, Mrs. Robert Girdley and Mrs. William Giles.

Belts Brighten for Autumn

Belts are styled for the occasion with dark leathers for town and bright braided elastics for casual living.

Truly luxurious leathers are alligator, seal skin, ostrich and lizard. These finer leathers are shown in many new exciting colors which harmonize with darker shades of fall suitings.

Sports slacks require a change of pace in belts. The new braided elastic belts break away from the traditional sash belts usually worn with slacks. Black and red, black and white, blue and silver are among the striking combinations with metallic thread added for a sporting effect.

Chantilly Lace Worn by Bride

St. James Chosen by Joan Burnett for Ceremony

BIRMINGHAM — Saturday afternoon Joan Burnett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Dean Burnett of Buckingham road, spoke her marriage vows to Milton A. Manley Jr. in St. James Church. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Milton A. Manley of Brookwood court.

For the double ring ceremony the bride wore a gown with bodice of Chantilly lace, round necked, and full skirt of nylon tulle. Panels were inset with lace and a crown of pearls held a tulle veil edged in Gallon lace. Her flowers were white tea roses and white orchids.

Joyce Pixley of Rochester was maid of honor and Marjorie Thayer, Adele Huebner and Mrs. David Manley of Boston, Mass. were bridesmaids. They wore azure blue nylon net over tulle with velvet bodices and jackets. Velvet head bands were of the same shade and their flowers were white carnations with azure net and ribbons.

Barbara Jo Burnett was her sister's flower girl wearing white orchids, lace trimmed, and carrying tiny white chrysanthemums.

David Manley was his brother's best man and ushers were James McNamara, Glenn Freidt Jr., Tony Bruner and Jack Heaton. A reception followed in the church parlors.

Mrs. Burnett wore a dress of beige peau de sole with a matching sequin hat and wore a white orchid. Mrs. Manley's gown was of stone blue peau de sole. She wore a matching hat and orchid corsage.

The young couple left for a month in Europe, the bride wearing a charcoal costume suit under a gray coat lined in red. Her hat was of red velvet. The couple will live on Graefield road.

Plush Touch Found in Winter Coats

The fall season's new elegance is being ushered in by the return of the Chesterfield coat in a new guise.

Gone are solid color fabrics in plain blues, oxfords, and black. In place are neat effect herringbone tweeds in two-tones of black and brown and black and grey. These rugged fabrics with velvet collars in black, brown or grey combine a textured look with Plush Touch.

Many new effects are being achieved in shetland fabrics. Shots of blue on black grounds impart a new richness that coordinate well with the color of the velvet collar, in black blue combinations.

All of these new coats are tailored with colored plain linings for brighter effect. The shades of the linings are also coordinated with the color of the coat body and the collar. The single-breasted fly front style is preferred.

Plush-Touch Found in Sportswear

From costliest cashmere to less expensive brushed-cotton, wool and supple suede leather, fabrics with a pile or napped surface comprise a group of apparel called the Plush Touch. From sports clothes to evening wear, there are fabrics lending a luxurious feel.

Many new hats have a cashmere-like finish felt. A high fashion note is the use of velvet in the hat band for evening wear.

Brushed wool fleece jackets, suedes in jackets, shoes, gloves, and belts all contribute a Plush Touch. Corduroy and printed velveteens in jackets, vests, shirts, also are in this category.

Cranbrook Setting for Friday Rite

R. M. Chesbrough Claims Bride in Christ Church

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — White chrysanthemums and gladioli ornamented the chancel of Christ Church Cranbrook Friday evening when Joyce Barden Woolfenden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry L. Woolfenden of Kensington road, became the bride of Richard McCormick Chesbrough whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. William J. Chesbrough of York-shire road, Grosse Pointe.

The bride's gown was of simple elegance in antique ivory satin fashioned with appliques of Chantilly lace on the bodice and panels of the full skirt. Seed pearls defined the portrait neckline and the skirt fell in a chapel train. A cap of heirloom lace held a three tiered illusion veil and the bridal bouquet was a semi-cascade of stephanotis and white orchids with iceland pothos foliage.

Matron of honor was Mrs. John R. McCarthy of Ft. Campbell, Ky. and Carolyn Woolfenden was her sister's maid of honor. Carolyn Lintrell, and Elizabeth and Rosemary Chesbrough, sisters of the bridegroom, were bridesmaids.

Miss Woolfenden's gown was of burnt-orange imported silk made on Princess lines with a draped neckline and very full ballerina length skirt. The other attendants were gowned similarly in peacock blue. Their flowers were yellow and butterscotch Fugi chrysanthemums and variegated croton leaves.

William Lowe Chesbrough was his brother's best man and ushers were John D. W. O'Hair, George E. McKean, Joseph Butler Jr., Peder Field, Richard Hamilton and William Wood.

Receiving her guests at the reception at Orchard Lake Country Club Mrs. Woolfenden wore heavenly blue silk with encrustations of iridescent sequins at the neckline. She wore a jeweled hat and corsage of pink cymbidium orchids. Mrs. Chesbrough wore a princess gown of beige tulle with a jeweled hat and orchid corsage.

Mrs. E. J. Knight, grandmother of the bride, wore blue lace with a matching hat and garnet roses.

For her wedding trip to northern Michigan the bride wore a red tweed suit with a matching hat and black accents.

For the present the couple will live in Bloomfield Hills.

Penny Mendez Given Shower

Penny Mendez, bride-elect of Richard Haddad, was honored at a bridal shower Wednesday evening.

The Rev. and Mrs. Henry Mendez of Drayton Plains are Penny's parents and he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Keen Haddad of Forest street.

Mrs. William Godfrey was hostess for the shower which was held in the Haddad home.

Penny and Richard will exchange their vows Sept. 25 in First Baptist Church.

Guests invited to the shower were Mrs. Haddad, Mrs. Mendez, Mrs. Melvin Washburn, Mrs. Paul Cornell, Mrs. Wallace Brown and Mrs. Russell Grover.

Others were Mrs. Peter Perna, Mrs. Frank Perna, Mrs. Bud Morris, Mrs. Carl Rogers, Mrs. Clayton Linsemen and Mrs. William Burnett.

MRS. RICHARD DONALD HALPIN

St. Hugo's Setting for Halpin and Wiesler Rite

BIRMINGHAM — At an eleven o'clock ceremony this morning in St. Hugo of the Hills Church, Mary Elizabeth Wiesler became the bride of Richard Donald Halpin, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Halpin of Birmingham.

The bride, daughter of Mrs. Norbert Henry Wiesler of Glenhurst drive and the late Mr. Wiesler, was given in marriage by her grandfather Frederick J. Ward of Detroit. She wore a gown of antique ivory satin with fitted bodice, long sleeves and appliques of Chantilly lace and seed pearls around the portrait neckline. A satin cap held a full veil and she carried stephanotis and white orchids.

Mary Josephine Wiesler, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and Mary Margaret Wiesler, another sister, Diane Halpin, Mary Lou Gregory and Joanne Sproule were bridesmaids.

They wore wild rose silk tulle frocks with full skirts and scalloped necklines. They carried Rapture roses and iceland pothos with matching tulle.

At the reception at Bloomfield Hills Country club Mrs. Wiesler greeted her guests wearing a gown of sand colored silk faille with a matching lace bolero and hat.

Mrs. Halpin wore dusty rose tulle, feta with a beaded bodice. Her hat was of matching tulle.

For her wedding trip to Harbor Springs the bride wore a suit of charcoal wool with red plaid lining and charcoal velvet hat.

The couple will live at River-view Terrace, Detroit.

Joan Thompson Honored at Shower

Midge Hallett was hostess in her home on Baldwin avenue for a linen shower Tuesday evening honoring bride-elect, Joan Thompson.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Thompson of Judah road, she will speak her vows with Thomas Pruente on Sept. 25. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Pruente of Gingell court.

Guests at the shower included Mrs. Pruente and Mrs. Thompson. Mrs. Merle Parent, Mrs. Melvin Womack, Mrs. Albert Biles, Jane Steinhilper, Charlotte Carpenter, Nella Spear, Mary Pruente, Joan Thompson and Delores Taylor.

Lorraine Abbey, Jeanette Timmins and Sue O'Neal completed the list.

Patient in Hospital

W. Allen Booth of East Iroquois road is convalescing in Pontiac General Hospital following an operation.

Pierre Balmain designed this wool tweed costume. Vintage claret is the color. The two-piece suit is fitted closely to the body—the long line of the jacket ends in a narrow cuff that turns up and buckles toward the back.

Needlework Guild Section Meets

Queen Mary Section of the Needlework Guild met Thursday afternoon in the Hill Circle home of Mrs. Peter Leonard.

A report by the welfare committee showed that many sewed, purchased and knitted garments have been turned in by the members.

grove, Mr. and Mrs. Ray E. Cragin, Mr. and Mrs. Anson Hillborn, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dearth and Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Dewey.

Mr. and Mrs. Clark Bennett and Anne Bennett spent the holiday weekend at Old Trail Inn, Harbor Springs.

Pink and Blue Shower Given

Mrs. Charles L. Chancy was honored at a pink and blue shower given Thursday evening by Mrs. James L. Tarr of East Lansing and Mrs. William J. Yates in the Strathmore avenue home of Mrs. Tarr's mother, Mrs. Louise Chancy.

On the guest list were Mrs. Jack Avery, Mrs. Philip Banycky, Mrs. Jack Banycky, Mrs. Louise Chancy, Mrs. Bob Costello, Mrs. C. L. Costello, Mrs. Patzy Davenport and Mrs. Grace Dibble.

Others were Mrs. Cliff Johnson, Mrs. Jo Ann McDonald, Mrs. Charles Shear, Mrs. Barbara Tunny, Mrs. Charles Yates Jr., Mrs. Mike Shebella and Mrs. Eric Brown.

Memberships Open

Boys Don't Know She's Free Again

Get Around With Others to Show Going Steady's Off

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

A girl whose heart is in going steady can find herself very much on the end of a limb when the big blow falls. For what seems like ages she hasn't looked at another boy. She hasn't even thought how it would be to date anyone else.

Steady-going blunders have limited her vision to just one guy. And when it's all over she's very much alone.

If the woods aren't full of new possibilities, she's likely to stay alone for some time. And the longer the time the deeper the restlessness. Which is the mood that's riding this girl hard.

"Dear Miss Woodward—After going steady with him for the past year we decided we no longer liked each other as much as we did, so we aren't going steady any more. Now, how am I supposed to get a date?"

"Most of the boys I know were aware of the fact that I was going steady, and they don't ask me out because they think they'll be butting in. How are they going to know they can ask me out now?"

It's surprising how news like yours gets around fast. Particularly if you and your steady boy friend were part of a crowd. Your break is a matter of general interest and will be noised around among your friends.

The proof of the pudding, of course, is for you—or your boy friend—to be seen with someone else. That puts real teeth into the story that you're no longer going together. Your own first public appearance with another boy is all you can manipulate. But your ex-beau's first date with another girl will give you a big boost back into circulation.

There's no point in waiting endlessly for him to publicize the change in affairs. Not when you can do something to speed up the progress.

First of all, concentrate on some of the girls who can help you most. Make dates with them to go places and do things. Be seen with them, being gay and having fun. With them you can go where the boys are—you might hesitate to adventure that far alone. The girls will realize that you're not going steady any more. You can count on them to fix up double dates for you.

Second: now that you're free to look around, there will be nothing to stop you from being really friendly toward other boys you know. They'll recognize the difference in your attitude.

Then take the initiative in your own hands and have an informal party or two. Invite some of the couples that go steady, and include boys and girls who free-lance. Your old beau will be conspicuous by his absence, of course.

Keep yourself in the swing of things if you want your friends to know you're still alive. You can stay home quietly waiting for someone to discover you—and wait forever. But if you keep popping up, looking happy and being friendly, somebody's sure to take the proper interest and make appropriate moves.

Making a decision always seems to be a painful operation. There are all the pros and cons to consider—and those arguments are always limited by one's experience and imagination. And to top it all off the mental anguish gets clouded with a lot of sentimental fog so that you're likely to wind up feeling certain that what you want to do is the very thing you shouldn't do.

All of this applies to the decision to go steady. Some nice boy asks you to, and you have to give an answer. You have to make a decision. How much better to let things take their own course so that you wake up some fine morning to realize that you've settled down, quite involuntarily, to going only with each other!

Such a decision faces these two girls:

"Dear Miss Woodward: My girl friend and I have been going out quite often with two boys who aren't old enough to have drivers' licenses, so we have to depend on someone else to take us all the time. They're going to ask us to go steady with them, we feel sure, as they like us very much. But there are two older boys that we like equally well. They both have cars, but they don't ask us out very often. We'd love to go with them again. It's because of them that we don't know whether we should agree to go steady, as we'd feel we weren't being loyal to the older boys. Please help us decide."

Fluff Up Ball Fringe

If the ball fringe trimming on your cafe curtains isn't as fluffy after that last laundering, let it dry thoroughly. Then, before ironing, hold the curtains and trimming over a steam kettle or steam iron for a couple of minutes.

American designer's pattern

Vera Maxwell Tweeds Take on Glitter to Liven Fall Designs

The Eisenhower jacket, the softly bloused back, the seemingly lowered waistline—these are important fashion points for fall. Combine these then in a tweed and you have Vera Maxwell's two piece dress.

A silhouette that can do wonders for the not-too-slender waistline, it is as easy to make as it is marvelous to wear. If you choose tweed as does Mrs. Maxwell, have rhinestone buttons, and a froth of chiffon for the neck trim.

Other suggestions include solid colored corduroy for the dress and a paisley silk or cotton scarf, velvet for the dress and again chiffon for the neck trim.

This pattern is cut to Designer measurements not Standard pattern measurements.

Size 12 requires 3 1/2 yards of 35 inch material for the dress and 1 1/2 yards of 39 inch material for scarf. To order pattern No. 1155, address Spadea Syndicate, Inc., P. O. Box 535, Dept. P-6, G. P. O., New York 1, N. Y., State size. Send $1.00. Airmail handling 25 cents.

Choose Vests for Leisure or Business

Now that vests have passed the novelty stage, there's enough variety to combine them with business wear or leisure wear ensembles.

Styles, fabrics and patterns are abundant. Luxurious fabrics like fine cashmere blends are made into vests along with staple tie silk patterns.

Sportsmen's motifs embroidered on wool reflect increased interest in novelty patterns of vests.

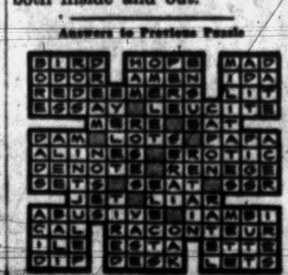

Skiers, ball players in bright colors against a solid ground, hunting horn motifs are among the sportsmen's pattern vests in many colors. Wool vests with these patterns can be worn with tweed, cheviot and shetland suits.

Reversible vests, which are two vests in one, are shown in solid color wools on one side, authentic tartans on the reverse. Velvet is coming into the fashion picture with solid color velvet on one side and matching tartan on the reverse. The more conservative patterns and colors make ideal business vests.

A new idea in real suede leather features fancy embroidered motifs and is aimed toward men who take particular interest in wearing new ideas first. In blazer stripe corduroys, black stripes are shown on gold and red grounds.

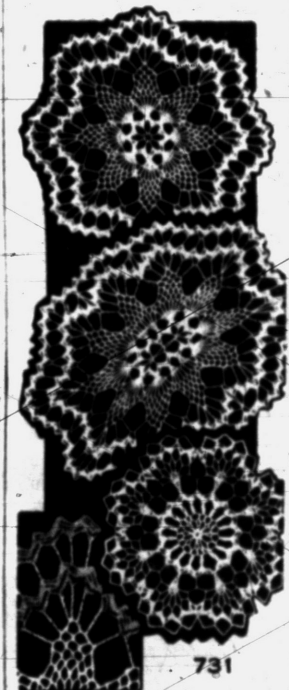

Suds Space Helmet

White Junior is getting a lot of enjoyment out of wearing his fireman's hat or space helmet, he may also be picking up a lot of germs. Since it's probably made of plastic, be sure to snatch it away just long enough to sponge it clean, both inside and out.

Telephone Invitation a Bother

Ask First What's On Then Decide to Avoid Boring Time

By EMILY POST

A reader asks: "Will you please say something in your column to those who telephone invitations by saying, 'What are you doing next Wednesday?'"

"This has happened to me time and time again and I am left standing at the end of the wire, tongue-tied, because if I say 'nothing,' then I have no loophole to save me from an invitation I don't want to accept. And then again if I say I have a definite engagement, how do I get out of it if I like the telephoned suggestion?"

If you are married, it is simple—you can say "I have to wait until John comes home to see if he has made any engagements. What have you planned?" If you are single and free, you can say, "Why? What are you planning?" After she has told you, then you either accept or decline.

Dear Mrs. Post: I expect to go on a tour soon through the National Parks. The trip has been arranged through a travel agency and will be "personally conducted" throughout. I would like to know if it is customary to tip the tour director who will accompany us at the end of the trip? This will be my first trip of this kind and I want to be sure to do the correct thing.

Since customs differ in different sections, it would be best to ask at the office where you buy your tickets. They can give you accurate answers to any questions of this sort.

Dear Mrs. Post: In introducing a man in his early thirties to my mother, it is correct to say, "Mother, this is Mr. Smith" or, "Mother, this is Bob Smith." Or just what is the correct form of introduction?

It depends upon how well you know him. If he is an intimate friend, you would introduce him as Bob Smith and if you know him slightly, as Mr. Smith.

Color Liven Dark Coats

Dark ground sport coats with a dash of bright color subtly woven into the design, make any man look and feel years younger.

The swing to deeper toned more elegant clothes is also reflected in sportswear. To counteract this dark trend therefore, the use of new contrast colors lends visual impact for dramatic effect.

Outstanding are blackish tones with the new cognac color. Black with pique already well established is growing in favor in jackets for fall.

Helio is another contrasting tone moving in an upward fashion cycle. Black and brown are another combination that is catching on in a big way.

All these new contrast shades are shown in lighter weight fabrics and styled with easy lines.

PETUNIA!

Flowers are such a luxury They NEVER seem To last for me.

Two suggestions, Petunia—keep the vase away from drafts, because circulating air dries cut flowers faster—and re-cut stems under water, each day.

Part Time Job Agencies Fill Housewives' Needs

By ANNE HEYWOOD

The part time job field is beginning, at long last, to open up. This is as it should be. So many, many young mothers with school-age children want and need part time jobs; and so many older women, with children grown, have to have them if the husband's retirement pension is too small, as it often is.

There are still far more women wanting part-time jobs than there are employers willing to hire a part time worker, but that too is beginning to change.

One of the most encouraging straws in the wind is the arrival on the New York scene of the Part Time Job Agency, an organization devoted entirely to placing part time workers. It is run by two young women who started it purely and simply because, when they themselves needed part time work, they couldn't find it.

The agency is charmingly decorated, with none of the dreary air of hopelessness which sometimes characterizes employment agencies.

The two young women, Lorie Beecher and Joan Lewis, are doing a wonderful job. They are beginning to find employers sufficiently open-minded to try a part time worker, and they spend much of their time trying to dig up more and more of them. And the joy of finding a job for a woman who has to have it, is a constant source of satisfaction.

Lorie Beecher is herself the mother of three children and she knows at first hand what a blessing a part time job can be—a chance to add to the family income, to get away from the house for a few hours' change every day, and to enrich your experience and your personality so that you don't have that day-in, day-out, "mind of all work" feeling which makes so many young mothers depressed and depressing.

Whenever thousands of women decide that they want something, society somehow comes around and provides it. My guess is that in the years ahead, a part time job when the children reach school will be the natural thing for most American women. And the trail blazers, like Lorie Beecher and Joan Lewis, will deserve a lot of the credit.

Baby Under 1 Year Cannot Be 'Bad'

The things that baby does when he is less than a year old cannot be termed "bad". They're natural to him. He doesn't understand that a cup will break if he pushes it off the table. When he screams or kicks because he can't have something he wants, it's the only way he knows to express his frustration.

Calling him "bad" or "naughty" will only hurt him. Instead, learn to divert his attention by picking him up and talking to him or giving him a toy to play with.

Shampoo Own Rugs

You can shampoo your rugs at home if they're washable and color-fast. With a sponge or brush, apply "dry" suds. Work on just one section at a time, and overlap to avoid rings. Work quickly and keep your windows open to speed drying.

Links Are Bold on Fall Cuffs

Bright, bold and startlingly different are the trends in men's jewelry.

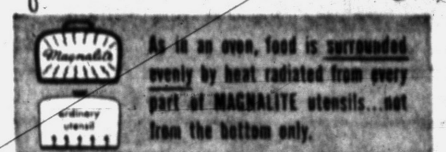

More French cuffed shirts will be worn this fall. For them, jewelry designers have fashioned many new ideas in cuff links.

Black cuff links in African motifs are a dramatic contrast to the popular pink shirt. Chunky stones, illusion links and modern initials are among the novelties. American designers have borrowed from Cheop's heaven ship and are spotlighting Egyptian motifs in both cuff links and tie bars. Many jewelry sets harmonize with fall shirtings.

Film Role No 'Bargain'
LOS ANGELES (U) — Actor Vincent Price contends the role he played in "The Bargain" was too much of a bargain. He filed suit yesterday for $15,000 against William Marshall and Errol Flynn, producers of the picture, charging that they promised him $35,000 but paid him only $20,000.

Wolf Packs Invading New York Army Post

WATERTOWN, N. Y. (UP) — Wolves—and not the human kind—have been reported on the nearby Camp Drum military reservation. Soldiers and civilians have seen the beasts and claim their howls can be heard at night on extreme reaches of the post.

However, the Jefferson County sheriff said a recent state ruling forces the termination of bounty payments. From now on in this county a wolf-killer's only reward will be the animal's carcass.

SEATO Pact Highlights the Good News of Week

By CHARLES M. McCANN
United Press Staff Correspondent

The week's good and bad news on the international balance sheet:

The Good

1. The Red victory in Indochina awoke the West to the danger that all of southeast Asia might fall to communism. As the result eight free nations decided to take action. They signed in Manila on Wednesday the "Southeast Asia Treaty Organization" (SEATO) pact designed to stop Red encroachment at its present limits.

The treaty provides that an attack on any of the eight nations shall be regarded as endangering the peace and safety of all the others. It provides also for collective action against Communist subversion, which is now active in Thailand, Burma and Malaya.

Great Britain, one of the treaty signers, made it known that it will oppose any attempt at the United Nations General Assembly starting Sept. 21 to admit Red China to membership.

2. President Eisenhower announced that the United States is forming "an international agency which will foster the growth and spread of the new atomic technology" to carry forward his plan for a pool of atomic resources for peaceful purposes.

Soviet Russia had refused to take part in the historic "atoms for peace" plan, which the President announced last Dec. 8. Eisenhower decided to go ahead anyway, in cooperation with other countries "of good will."

3. The new anti-Communist government in Guatemala seemed increasingly strong. President Carlos Castillo Armas was so confident of his position that he decided to let 700 members of the ousted pro-Red regime, who sought refuge in foreign embassies in Guatemala City, leave the country under a safe conduct.

He knows they will work against him in exile.

The Bad
1. United States defense officials expressed belief that the Chinese Communists may attempt to capture Quemoy Island, the outpost off the Red-held mainland which the Nationalists have held ever since they fled to Formosa in 1949. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, on his way home from the Manila conference, conferred on Thursday with Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek. A decision whether to commit the United States 7th Fleet to defend Quemoy may be reached at a meeting of the National Security Council which President Eisenhower has called for Sunday in Denver.

Censor Wants 'Hell' Cut in 'Waterfront'

BALTIMORE (U) — The word "Hell" had Maryland's movie censors and Columbia Pictures Corp. wrapped up today in a heck of a court fight.

The Board of Motion Picture Censors ordered the word deleted from dialogue in the film, "On the Waterfront."

Columbia, asking the Baltimore City Court yesterday to overrule the board, said the word is necessary to help "create a climax." Its deletion, they said, would weaken a moral lesson pointed up by the picture.

The court has given the censors 22 days to show why they should not be overruled.

Margaret Truman Visits Her Parents for 2 Weeks

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (U-P)—Margaret Truman is at the home of her parents, former President and Mrs. Harry S. Truman, for a two-week visit.

Miss Truman arrived here Thursday night after a 10-week appearance in "Autumn Crocus" which ended in Philadelphia last Saturday. From here she will go to New York to fill television commitments.

Thunder is heard in New Mexico 50 to 70 days out of each year.

FIRST BIRTHDAY GIFT—Sheryl Ann Kolbe, 4, is happy to be leaving a Meskegon Hospital for her home in Hesperia (Mich.) where she celebrated her birthday yesterday. Blonde Sheryl, in a brace from hips to neck, has been hospitalized 33 times for meningitis, polio and pneumonia. Mom smiles as daughter chortles over cowgirl boots, her first birthday gift.

Chicago Tribune Says Flier Who Flew With MIG Shot at in Car

CHICAGO (U-P)—The Tribune said today police and the Federal Bureau of Investigation were investigating an attempt on the life of Lt. Frank Jarecki, 23, former Polish pilot who fled to Denmark from behind the Iron Curtain in a Soviet MIG15 fighter in 1953.

The Tribune said Jarecki was fired on from a black sedan which had followed him about five miles and pulled up past his car at a stoplight about 20 miles from Chicago.

It said Jarecki related he heard a shot and his face was peppered with powdered glass from the window on his left. The car sped away after the shot, it said.

Cook County and State Highway Police said they had received no report of a shooting, which reportedly occurred on U.S. 12.

The Tribune said Jarecki found that the bullet, believed of .22 caliber, spent its force on the rolled up window, shattering it, at about the point where it would have struck Jarecki's head.

Jarecki was driving from Meeker, Wis., where he has been living at the home of Rep. O'Konski (R-Wis.), his sponsor in this country. He planned to leave Monday for Alliance College, Cambridge Springs, Pa., which he entered last year after coming to this country.

Children Get Polio Shots

NEW DELHI, India (U-P)—Children of U.S. Embassy personnel were given anti-polio inoculations today. The precaution was taken after the 11-year-old son of Walter D. Lawrence, of Casper, Wyoming, died in an iron lung at New Delhi Hospital. Lawrence is a member of the technical assistance program staff.

Highest rank ever created in the United States Navy was that of Admiral of the Navy, created in 1899 for George Dewey. The rank expired upon his death in 1917.

4-Year-Old Girl Makes 33 Trips to the Hospital

MUSKEGON, Mich. (U-P)—If determination and patience continue to pay off, little Sheryl Ann Kolbe of Hesperia will be around for many more birthdays.

Sheryl Ann celebrated her fourth birthday yesterday only 24 hours after discharge from Hackley Hospital and her 28th victory over pneumonia on her 33rd trip to the hospital.

Sheryl Ann suffered a near fatal attack of meningitis when she was only six weeks old. Her first battle with pneumonia came about two months later. Polio struck at seven months and left her partially paralyzed in a body brace. Doctors say the brace may come off when she reaches 18.

Two bouts with measles and more and still more pneumonia attacks have left her body weak and susceptible to disease, doctors say.

But nurses at the hospital, which has practically been her second home, are amazed at Sheryl's patience and stamina. They say she is one of their most lovable patients.

Giannini Dies at 43

LOS ANGELES (U-P)—Death has taken Bernard Giannini, nephew of the late A. P. Giannini who founded the Bank of America. Giannini, himself a vice president of the bank, died in a hospital yesterday at 43. He concerned himself primarily with motion picture financing in his banking capacity.

Loyalty Suspect Is Back on Job

Civil Service Worker Calls Suspension Time 'Just Like Combat'

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (U-P)—Thomas Humenny has his civil service job back today and he says the 17 months his loyalty was in doubt were to him "just like combat during the war."

Humenny, chief of the control branch of the Mutual Assistance Project at McClellan Air Force Base, had his security clearance restored Thursday after losing it April 30, 1953.

Eight months after it was cancelled he learned why. Six months ago he was suspended without pay pending a hearing. A McClellan spokesman said Humenny will receive his back salary.

Married and the father of five, Humenny was accused of membership in the International Workers Order in Cleveland from 1936 to 1948. The IWO is listed as subversive by the attorney general.

Humenny said he learned why his loyalty was questioned when his immigrant father wrote that he took out a IWO insurance policy in his son's name in 1936.

The 17-month nightmare is over now and Humenny described it yesterday as an ordeal "just like combat during the war." He was an infantryman in the 36th Division and spent part of his two years overseas in a German prisoner-of-war camp.

Hamburg-Baited Basket Lures Kitten From Well

Shows on Radio Back to Pattern of Five a Week

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (U-P)—Notes and comments on the Hollywood scene: The news in radio is the return to the five-a-week pattern. Remember back in the early days of radio when many of the shows were on the air every weekday night? It's starting all over again.

On Monday Amos 'n' Andy return to doing a 15-minute show five nights a week over CBS. It's the same format they started with 26 years ago. Only this time the show comes from the grand ballroom of the Mystic Knights of the Sea Lodge, and the boys will have guest stars and play records. Sounds good. I personally liked their 15-minute shows better than the half-hour production.

Among the other nighttime shows that can be heard five times a week are Fibber McGee and Molly, Mr. Keen, the Tennessee Ernie Show, Mr. and Mrs. North, The Great Gildersleeve and One Man's Family.

Billing battles can harm pictures. As for instance, Paramount wanted to co-star Humphrey Bogart and Spencer Tracy in "The Desperate Hours." But both their contracts would call for top billing, so Tracy couldn't be signed. Robert Ryan was almost signed for "The Conquerors." But Susan Hayward's contract stated that only one other name be starred with her. That name was John Wayne. So Ryan didn't do the role. If actors only realized how unimportant billing is...

Much ado about big screens. But isn't it odd that last year's Oscar biggie was "From Here to Eternity," made in black and white for normal screens. Ditto fills year's top contender, "On the Waterfront." The test is still what is on the screen and not how big it is...

Fliers are still discussing "The High and the Mighty." Many of them say John Wayne should have been grounded for flying by the seat of his pants, even if he did bring his plane down safely in San Francisco. They argue that the plane should have been ditched in the ocean under all regulations, and Wayne had no right to endanger his passengers and persons on the ground. I got the impression he was a hero, but fliers feel otherwise....

School Construction Tops $20,000,000

By HAZEL A. TRUMBLE
School building has become big business in Oakland County — about $20,000,000 in an 18 month span.

The entire State of Michigan, participating in an unprecedented school building program to meet the "battle of the bluge," (induced by a mass population movement—and-increasing birth rates), will spend $30,000,000 this year for new classrooms. These figures are according to State Superintendent of Public Instruction, Dr. Clair L. Taylor.

Estimated state enrollment for 53 counties this year is about 70,000 more youngsters than last year. Oakland County will absorb more than 16,000, or one-seventh of that statewide increase.

Local school districts—a few wealthy in tax bases with well-balanced valuation provided by industry, business and residential property; many more that are rich in child number but poor in tax base—have without exception stood up to be counted on the school problem in recent years and approved bond issues to meet the need.

Many fringe communities — Waterford, Walled Lake, Troy and Avondale, to cite a few—are getting a preponderance of residential development with very little business and industry to balance the tax bill.

State aid is only available for help with school operating costs.

School building bills are underwritten by the local taxpayer.

The Pontiac School District this June approved a $9,000,000 school expansion program to take place over a 10-year period. This week they authorized the drawing of plans for a new junior high school and several elementary additions.

Other school districts in this area involved in building include: Waterford Township School District whose Isaac E. Cray Junior High School (reputed to be designed for the largest student load in the state for junior high) will be completed the last of this month.

Built at a cost of $1,200,000, the district also constructed elementary additions this year at Jayno Adams, Williams Lake, Waterford Center and Four Towns. These totaled $218,899.

West Bloomfield, with a new senior high school under construction at Orchard Lake and Comm. Ave. roads, will spend $900,000 for this structure. Its Scotch School addition totaled $103,000.

Birmingham, trying hard to keep pace with the new houses springing up each day on its horizon, is working on a $3,500,000 program. Two years ago they had a $3,300,000 expansion plan.

For Christmas opening, they are planning the new Pembroke School. Ready for this week's beginning was the new Beverly School and additions to Franklin and Bloomfield Village are also underway.

An addition to the Birmingham High School is under construction which will create an E shape for the former C design building.

Walled Lake, also attempting to keep classrooms available for its growing student body, will open its new high school on October 4. This will be the first time in five or six years, said Superintendent Clifford Smart, they can look forward to full-day sessions for their 4500 enrollment.

Their bond issue was in the amount of $1,300,000.

Rochester, with additions to Hamlin and Goodison Schools nearing completion, is breaking ground for its new North Hill Elementary School and considering plans for its proposed high school. This will be financed by a $1,550,000 issue.

Bloomfield Hills, with the footings completed for its new high school building on Long Lake just off Telegraph Road, will have this facility ready within a year.

Clarkston Community School District, with contractors busy pressing for completion on the high school addition and two elementary additions, will have buildings completed before the end of the 1954-55 school year.

In Troy, the new Stuart Baker Junior High School has been

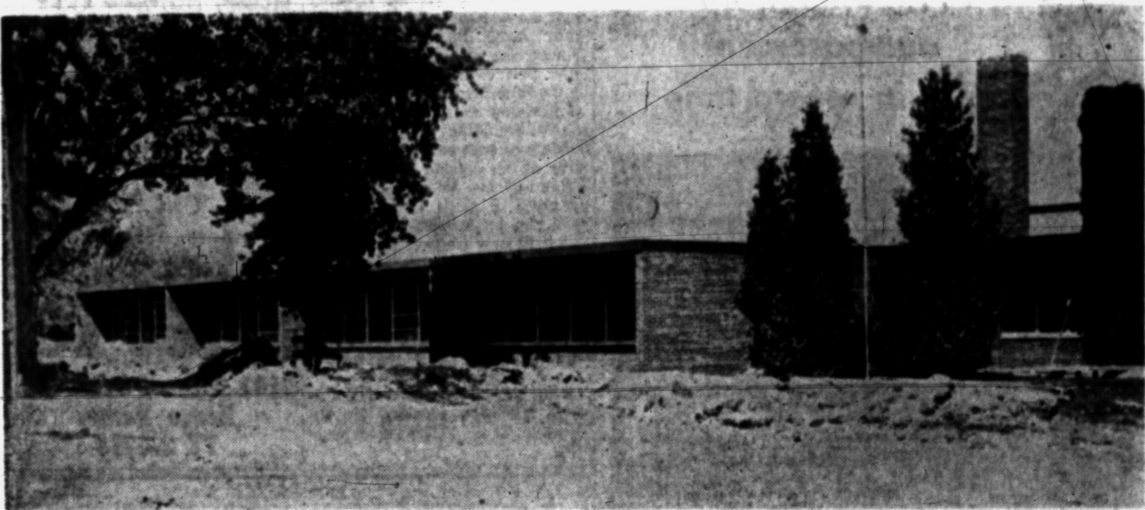

WATERFORD'S NEW JUNIOR HIGH—Scheduled for Sept. 27 opening, the Isaac E. Cray Junior High School in Waterford Township is reputed to be the largest student body junior high in the state. Designed to fit the contour of the land, it has complete departments for each phase of junior high school curriculum and activity. Architect for the building was the George D. Mason Co., Detroit; contractor, J. A. Fredman Co.

opened for 600 students. They have also added room to Poplar, Troy Union and Coleman. The total building program was for $700,000.

Districts either just finishing or about to begin expansion programs are Huron Valley, Holly, Berkeley, Farmington, Royal Oak, Ferndale, Avondale, Southfield and Dublin as well as several others.

ROCHESTER'S HAMLIN—Designed by Beyster Associates, this new addition has four classrooms plus a multi-purpose room. Sky domes are an interesting overhead lighting feature. A similar addition is nearing completion at Goodison for the Rochester School District.

NEW WALLED LAKE HIGH SCHOOL—Scheduled for Oct. 4 opening, this new high school was designed by Walter T. Anicks of Ann Arbor. It has 33 classrooms, library and cafeteria and the footings have been built for the future gymnasium. Constructed by A. N. Hickson of Pontiac, this photo taken from the roof shows the interesting wing angles of the school.

ST. BENEDICT'S NEW SCHOOL—Opened for the first time this week, St. Benedict's new Catholic school on S. Lynn St., Pontiac, will house 500 students. This will be from the kindergarten through sixth grade. There are 12 classrooms in this school.

TROY'S JUNIOR HIGH—Named for Troy's superintendent, Stuart K. Baker, the new junior high school is located north of Big Beaver. Designed by Yamasaki, plastic roof domes admit overhead light. Four hundred students will be accommodated here. Classrooms number eleven and the school is placed on a 40 acre site.

WEST BLOOMFIELD HIGH SCHOOL—Designed by George D. Mason Co., and built by Ray Misch & Son, the new West Bloomfield high school is located at the corner of Orchard Lake and Commerce Rds. Total cost of the school is about $900,000. It has 18 classrooms, a gymnasium and combined study hall and cafeteria. It is located on a 42 acre site.

About 92 per cent of America's rated horsepower is in automobile engines.

Dress Up Game Room Before School Reopens

Now is a good time to prepare that basement game room for all the activity it sees when school starts. Dress it up with colors and interesting "gimmicks" that will appeal to people in a gay mood.

But don't forget, it has to be able to "take it." This is why the room should have a floor of a really durable material such as tile, which also offers wide decorative possibilities because it comes in 200 different colors.

BUILDING SERVICE

Miscellaneous Taxes on New Homes Increase Price by Almost 13 Per Cent

All of this home-care-and-repair and do-it-yourself business we hear so much about nowadays has a lot of reason back of it. Briefly, we are obliged to take care of our homes because new homes cost so much.

Of course, it's getting to be almost old-fashioned to talk about the high costs of building. We've been talking about that ever since World War II and costs still show no signs of going down. So it's interesting to run across some reasons for this situation.

Taxes are a big item, says an expert, Myron L. Matthews of the Dow Service building reports of New York. He cites an average size house selling with its land for about $17,325 and finds that taxes account for $1,854 of that cost.

"In 1939-41," he says, "the sales price of that house included only about 2 per cent to cover the miscellaneous taxes then current. Today taxes add almost 13 per cent."

And he isn't talking about the taxes you pay after you buy the house. He means taxes on the builders' corporate profits and taxes on salaries and on labor in the production of the materials and the house.

Matthews incidentally divides the cost of that house as follows: 30 per cent for materials, equipment and appliances; 30 per cent for labor on the site, and 31 per cent for land and builder's overhead and profit—of which he says the land probably amounts to $2,000.

He has figured other mark-ups since pre-war days, such as $972 on the same house for loss of productivity at mill, mine, quarry, forest and other—and $244 for added benefits to the building trades.

Protect Nail Heads From Rust Damage

What can you do about the rust which accumulates on nail heads and comes through the paint on wood siding of your house?

Scrape or sand paint off of the nail heads, then remove rust by sanding.

Cost each nail head with aluminum paint, and repaint the siding.

Don't Overdo Bath Color

Don't overdo color when you plan the walls and floor in a bathroom. It's better to limit such permanent materials as clay tile to one or two shades and get your color variety by using shower curtain, bath mat and towels in different shades.

"Spring peppers," zoologically known as Hyla crucifer, are found from Manitoba to Kansas and eastward.

New Materials Speed Building

Prefabricated Edifices Helping to Beat High Labor Costs

NEW YORK (AP) — Builders are cutting corners today to speed factory, office and store construction—and to pare costs.

Here are a few of the new devices and materials that are changing building methods as well as the face of America:

Concrete floor slabs piled like pancakes—then lifted into position by hydraulic jacks.

Sidewalls prefabricated and hung into place by derricks—to cover an entire skyscraper in a matter of hours.

Porcelain-enamel panels fastened onto an old building—for a quick face lifting.

Walls entirely of glass swung into place—leaving special problems for window cleaners.

Prefabrication is getting a big boost these days in the efforts of builders to beat high labor construction costs. Competition is spreading among materials. Steel, aluminum, glass, porcelain are giving brick and stone a race for exterior walls. Plywood and plastics vie with lath and plaster for interior partitions.

Teaming ready-made concrete floors and steel walls can make for a speed operation, according to the Truscon Steel Division of Republic Steel Corp.

First, reinforced concrete floors are poured on the ground, stacked like flapjacks with a thin layer of talcum-like powder keeping them apart while they dry. Hydraulic jacks raise each in turn to its place on bracketed structural columns. They have to start with the top floor and work down.

Then four-man crews swing Truscon's ready-made glass and steel wall units into place. Each unit has complete exterior and interior wall finishes, with window and insulation built in.

The pour-and-raise floors and window-walls were teamed by Clemson College in building a new dormitory on its Clemson, S.C. campus. Truscon says its four-man crews erected 1,400 square feet of wall space, completed inside and out, in a day, or in 32 man-hours.

The same units were also used in the United Air Lines office building at Chicago's airport, and Truscon says they will be used in the Oklahoma State Fair's office building.

Builders are also using aluminum panels, die-stamped and prefabricated for enclosing office buildings, stressing the speed with which the exterior walls can be completed.

Glass panels fitted into frames furnish entire walls of some new buildings. They can be bolted quickly into place. A New York bank is raising an "all-glass" banking office building on Fifth Avenue.

The chief problem comes later—cleaning them. Where the glass walls are sealed and fixed, they are cleaned from the outside by cabs or platforms lowered from the roof by mechanisms that are part of the building itself.

In some of the new buildings the glass is put into frames that are pivoted vertically, so that they can be spun around for cleaning from the inside.

For some large skyscrapers, window cleaning is a full-time job—the first window is dirty again by the time the last one is washed.

Porcelain-enamel faced steel panels are also being used by builders on both new and old structures as an outside finish.

A sturdy but dated building can be given a fresh look, builders point out, by fastening the panels to a light steel framework attached to the old facings. It's been used on factories, office buildings, hospitals and service stations.

Presto, and an old Victorian pile can be made as young and fetching as the newest Hollywood starlet.

With only slight interruption, a yacht has been provided for the President of the United States since 1873.

Two Buy Better Home Than One

Wife Should Aid Mate in Selecting House for Pleasant Living

The old adage that two heads are better than one certainly applies in home buying.

In the search for a home, a wife should be a partner with her husband, and something more. She should also bring into play her special talents and insights as a homemaker, so that the house finally selected will be a pleasant place to work in and will "fit" the entire family. Here are some of the special problems of home buying in which the wife can play a decisive role:

The location. The wife has a much better chance than the husband to investigate the caliber of the schools, look over the shopping facilities and find out the character of the neighborhood.

Exterior. Accustomed to spending most of her time in or near the home, the wife is usually more choosy than the husband about its appearance. She's the one who will avoid the development in which all houses look alike.

Interior arrangement. The homemaker knows the importance of having quiet areas—the bedrooms—separated from noise. She won't get stuck, either, with a house in which traffic cuts through the living room or the kitchen.

Kitchen. The wife can visualize readily the preparation of a meal and so decide how good a kitchen is. Good layout and plenty of storage space make kitchen work easy.

Orientation. The location of rooms in relation to sunshine and to prevailing winds is very important. Past experience makes most homemakers experts on that subject.

Portable Porch Looks Like Circus Big Top

Everything for the back yard barbecue can be portable these days—even the porch.

A firm in Oak Park, Ill., a Chicago suburb, has perfected an octagonal, screened-in porch that literally folds away.

It consists of eight aluminum screens, hinged in pairs, with a waterproof canvas covering that makes the whole thing look like a miniature circus big top.

The manufacturer says the porch can be installed by a woman in less than a half hour.

Twelve-inch spikes anchor it to the ground and it can accommodate a 6-foot picnic table comfortably.

The porch has a diameter of 9½ feet and a height of 8 feet.

EFFICIENCY KITCHEN—The kitchen as the social hub of the home, adaptable as a combination hobby room, dining room or family room, was featured in a recent display at Chicago's Museum of Science and Industry. A model setup designed by Jules Marling, architect, was part of a hardwoods exhibit. Striped pialdao wood paneling for walls and cabinets, hickory plank-type plywood with simulated pegs for flooring built-in copper finished oven and separate gas burner were among features.

1954 Bedroom Looks Like Sitting Room

NEW YORK (INS) — It takes more than a bed and a frilly spread to furnish the up-to-date 1954 bedroom.

You need, according to one expert: a TV set, a radio, a bookcase, an easy chair and a table or table-desk to make a proper bedroom these days.

In fact, says Mrs. Mary L. Brandt, you can't call it a bedroom any more. It's a sitting room first, and a place to sleep second.

Mrs. Brandt, a home furnishings consultant who specializes in bedroom decor, says the American bedroom has undergone a complete change of character since the war.

"People don't ask how to decorate a bedroom any more," Mrs. Brandt declared, "they want to know how to change the bedroom into a multiple purpose room."

"The old-fashioned bedroom, all panels and ruffles and fluffiness, is vanishing except in large homes."

The tip-off on the situation, she added, is that fewer people buy bedroom furniture suites. Often they don't even buy beds, but shop instead for sofa-beds and studio couches. And they buy individual "living room" pieces to furnish the rest of the "bedroom."

Mrs. Brandt, who works for such firms as cabin crafts, the bedspread makers, and who arranges "model bedroom" displays in stores, said the second biggest change is in colors.

'Occasional Chair' Placed in All-Purpose Category

NEW YORK — The practical minded American public has rejected the manufacture's term

House-Buying Pointers

Here are some points to remember if you're in the market for a new house: Buy with the house's re-sale potential in mind. Make sure the neighborhood is established. Beware of the "cute" house. Remember that one-and-a-half to two bathrooms with clay tile surfacing is a mark of a quality house. Avoid extremes in styling. Tastes change overnight, so stick to the middle-of-the-road modern design.

Sponge Mops Useful

You should have an assortment of sponge mops in your cleaning supply closet. Most sponge mops are angled to save the housewife considerable bending and to make it easier to reach dirt in corners. Sponges have a way of hoarding soapsuds so that latter can be spread wherever needed.

"occasional chair." So varied in use is this type of chair that it would be more aptly designated "all-purpose."

If behind in nomenclature, manufacturers have nonetheless kept pace with the growing demand for chairs which can be appropriately employed in bedroom, living room or dining room.

A middle-of-the-road balance between formality and informality, with lines scaled down for a lighter, cleaner look, is the understandable design trend for these multi-use chairs.

A packaged collection of only seven chairs is sufficiently versatile to satisfy every home-seating requirement except for dining and, of course, sofas. Additionally, each chair, though different in styling, affords complete comfort.

A fiberglass chair, for example, featuring 18th Century comfort in design and executed in completely modern material, can be used just about anywhere in the house, or even on patio and lawn.

A contour lounge chair, with separate ottoman, offers relaxing moments in living room, bedroom or den. For a novel note in living room, den or bedroom, a wrought iron-framed chair with leaf-shaped elbow-rest arms has foam rubber back and seat. Springs welded to the frame give added flexibility and comfort.

Two chairs in the packaged collection have been imported from Denmark. One, a small seating unit, has a suspended upholstered seat and a molded barrel back with elbow supports.

The other chair, equally adaptable for many purposes, has graceful shaped back for free-standing placement in a room. Cushions for seat and back are zippered for easy removal.

Fabrics in the collection are as versatile as style. Nubby tweeds, shaggy materials and smooth, tightly woven fabrics are included. Colors range from high-style pinks to rich charcoals.

Priming Seals Pores

In painting, a "priming" coat is a "first" coat that's applied to seal the pores of a surface and prevent the uneven absorption of final coatings. Because a prime coat provides a flat surface that is not too smooth, it serves as an excellent base for finish coats.

Brick Wall
That Leaks?
Check Joints

By HUBBARD COBB

The important thing to remember should you ever happen to run across a leaky brick wall is that probably the last thing in the wall that is leaking are the bricks themselves.

It may be the joints between the bricks or it may be spots where the bricks join other materials such as wood window frames but it's seldom the bricks that are at fault.

The most common spot to find a leak in a brick wall is where the bricks join the window and door frames.

Unless these seams are well filled with caulking compound they will cause trouble. Also check the cornice where the bricks join with the roof. This can be a trouble spot especially if the gutters are not properly hung and allow water to splash onto the top of the wall.

As far as the mortar joints between the bricks go, these are often at fault. Sometimes the mortar has cracked and fallen out. In this case, remove the loose mortar with a small cold chisel, wet down the bricks and surrounding mortar and then pack the seam with fresh mortar—one part cement and three parts sand.

The manner in which the mortar is applied between the bricks has a lot to do with how water-proof is the wall.

In the ideal joint, the mortar should come out flush with the lower brick and then slant backward so that it does not come out flush with the outside face of the upper brick. This type of joint sheds water easily and is superior to a mortar joint which could possibly collect and hold water long enough for the water to be absorbed by the mortar.

In some cases, the mortar between the bricks is so inferior that it is highly absorbent and in this case it should be coated with some waterproofing compound.

Only if the wall is made of most inferior brick or is subject to strong driving rains would it be necessary to apply a waterproofing compound to the bricks themselves.

The last Indian campaign launched from Ft. Vancouver, Wash., was made by Gen. Oliver Howard in 1878.

"NEW FOR DINING"—Outstanding feature of this dining room grouping is the long narrow drop-leaf table. The entire grouping is smartly styled to add beauty and utility to the contemporary home. Brass is used for drawer pulls and ferrules on the legs. Woods are beach and elm with a spicy finish. These pieces are from an open-stock grouping of over 30 living, dining, and bedroom pieces.

Furniture in Dining Areas Stays Basically Unchanged

Since the way to the male heart is through his appetite, one of the most important areas in a home will be the dining area. Your first dining room, or area, will undoubtedly be small. It can be, however, just as attractive and comfortable as the large one you ultimately will have.

You will need basically the same

PLYWOOD

This pattern is taped on the wood and the saw lines for cutting out the blank figures are traced. To get the alert expressions which make this group so attractive the exact shape and position of each spot of color is also traced.

This method is to make sure of a realistic effect in the finished project. This will appeal to anyone who likes to work with color and watch the plain wood come to life as each color is added. When a silk-screen printing frame saves time in decorating. Pattern 400 shows how to make frame and directions for use. Number 308 and 400 are 25c each. Both are included in the Lawn and Garden Figures Packet. Six patterns at $1 post-paid. Write to Workshop, Pontiac Press.

Occasional pieces, such as console commodes, desk, china cabinet, serving carts, may provide a dining surface and storage space. Serving carts blossom into dinette duty for two, four and possibly six.

The console commode, the desk and the china cabinet, may convert into dining tables.

Any of these pieces are ideal for the initial home and dining area. They will also find a place of equal importance in the larger home.

Plywood Sold 2 Ways

Plywood is made and sold with either one or both sides good. If one side is not going to be exposed don't waste the money on the more expensive plywood with both sides good. Use the less expensive "good one side" stuff — no one will ever know the difference.

Prevents Soiling Floors.

Laying the top finish floor? After plastering is done, and all wood-work except base shoeing or quarter-round is installed, the finish-flooring may be laid. If you do it earlier, the clean maple wood is almost sure to be scarred or soiled.

According to University of Texas engineers, Texans aren't comfortable in temperatures above 91 degrees.

Expanded Metal
Used in Making Outside Furniture

Expanded metal—once regarded useful only as a material for reinforcing highways and bank vaults—is now an indispensable product used in the construction of fashionable summer furniture.

Because of its sag-proof edges, durability and lightness of weight, the manufacturer has been able to produce high quality outdoor furniture in trend-setting designs.

This material is found in other equally unusual uses: for the farmer as a summer stable door; for the fruit grower as storage bins; and for the homemaker as grill-work for barbecue pits.

Vacuum Cleaner
Used in Every Room

Many household possessions need protection for one reason or another, and thus should be thought of whenever cleaning is done. These include, in addition to draperies and upholstered furniture, slip-covers, book shelves and books, lamp shades, bedspreads, walls, ceilings, screens, door and window frames, moldings, carved woodwork, fireplaces, radiators, registers and ventilators, to mention only a few.

The household vacuum cleaner or one or another of its tools and attachments, is the perfect way for cleaning all these, and any part or parcel of the house on which dust and dirt can land.

Surprise in Store

If you never have used your vacuum cleaner on kitchen and bathroom floors, you are due for a surprise. This helpful appliance eagerly draws in dust, loose powder and various other particles, leaving the floors almost as clean as if they had been scrubbed. Some women use it on their kitchen floors every morning, just as their mothers used the old-fashioned broom.

Choose Sturdy Fabric

Fabric experts warn against using flimsy materials in making any garments, and especially those to be worn by active children. Cloth should be sturdy and closely woven, guaranteed against shrinking and fading, and thus perfectly suited for sudsing in the household washer. Any garments, in fact, not suited for quick cleansing at home are an extravagance.

SPLIT-LEVEL PLAN—A new idea in split-level construction, this house has a one-story front, two-story rear, with bedrooms half a flight up and half a flight down from the living room. Only the fireplace and the chimney separate the kitchen from the rest of the open family room. This is Plan No. 7326 by Herman York, architect, 90-04 161st St., Jamaica 2, N. Y. The house was built and sold with a quarter-acre of land in Eastwood Village, Centerach, N. Y., for $13,000. The upper levels cover 939 square feet; the lower level at rear covers 391 square feet. Basement is under the living room. Further information and blueprints are available from architect.

Handmade Glass Is More Durable

Engineering tests have shown that in addition to its beautiful luster and clarity, American handmade glassware is more durable because of the methods by which skilled glass craftsmen make it. Rooms in which glass is used for decorative accents are proportionately brighter, since the brilliant texture of the glassware picks up and magnifies light rays. Another important asset of handmade glass is the ease with which it can be kept clean.

Room Floors
'Have Floor'
in Planning

Floors "have the floor" in decorative planning these days. More so than ever before, rooms are being planned with particular emphasis on floor glamor. Leading decorators are basing many of their most pleasing room creations on the central idea that beautiful floors enhance immeasurably the charm and appeal of homes and therefore should be seen, not concealed.

In carrying out this theme, which fashion-wise home-makers have embraced enthusiastically, the styling experts are manifesting a strong preference for attractive hardwood set off with distinctive area or accent rugs.

Various species and types of hardwood floors are utilized in this arrangement. Topping them all in popularity is oak in the strip style. A perennial favorite, oak is famed for its matchless natural beauty of grain and coloring. Its lifetime durability and easy upkeep. Also employed extensively are hard maple, beech, birch and pecan, all of which form strikingly handsome, long-wearing floors.

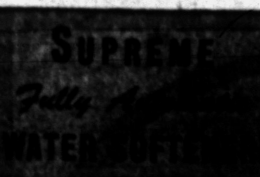

The strip style wins the strongest support perhaps because of its versatility and economy. Prominent in the fashion parade, too, are the other major types—plank and parquet floors. The latter include a modern form of conventional parquetry known as unit-block flooring.

Much of the universal appeal of strip floors lies in the fact that they are appropriate for any setting. They are equally "at home" in a small, modestly furnished dwelling or in the most luxurious home. They are "correct" for houses of any architectural style.

As the name implies, strip flooring consists of long, narrow strips. These are laid in random lengths and usually in uniform widths designed to give the floor a sense of rhythm and flow. No two are ever exactly alike. Just as the grain pattern of each tree boasts individuality of character, so does the hardwood in each floor.

Occupants Face Eviction

The government may legally evict occupants of public housing projects who refuse to say whether they are members of groups listed subversive by the attorney general. This decision has been handed down by the Municipal Court of Appeals of the District of Columbia.

UEW-CIO Members
at 26 Plants Get 5 Cent Increase in Pay

PITTSBURGH (UP)—A new two-year contract, signed three hours before a midnight deadline, is in effect today for members of the CIO International Union of Electrical Workers at 26 Westinghouse Electric Corp. plants across the country.

The agreement grants wage and salary increases of "approximately five cents an hour" and improved pensions to 42,000 union members, the corporation said. Rates under the old contract were not revealed.

The wage hikes are retroactive to July 1, the day the old contract expired. The agreement is in force until Oct. 15, 1956. A re-opening clause permits 30 days of bargaining on wages between Sept. 15 and Nov. 15, 1955.

Salaries employees represented by the union will get raises of $1.40 to $2.80 a week. The corporation said raises for hourly employees range from 3 1/2 to 7 cents an hour.

Jobless File More Claims Last Week

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Labor Department says the number of new unemployment compensation claims last week increased for the first time in nearly two months.

The Bureau of Employment Security, announcing this yesterday, attributed about 60 per cent of the 23,000 increase in initial claims to work stoppages caused in New England by Hurricane Carol.

The increase brought the volume of compensation claims during the week ended Sept. 4 to 268,400. The agency said the rest of the increase was caused by new lay-offs in the automobile, ordnance, electrical equipment and metals industries.

Claims for jobless pay in cases of unemployment continuing for more than one week declined by 15,800 in the week ended Aug. 28. They reached a new low for this year of 1,668,900.

Business Briefs

The Elsea Realty and Investment Co., of Detroit, today announced the sale of 107 commercial and residential properties during August for a total of $1,012,440. This compares with 101 sales for the same period last year at a total of $1,085,640.

Personnel managers from three Pontiac firms and a Farmington accountant were among 80 who attended the 15th annual industrial relations workshop Wednesday at Michigan State College. They were Alex Clark of Baldwin Rubber Co., Willard L. McRea, of the American Forging and Socket Co., Donald Rose, of Willys Motors, Inc., and Nelson W. Korte, of the Star Cutter Co. in Farmington.

Milton R. Hoagland, chief engineer of the Higbie Manufacturing Co., has been named works manager of the company's Avon Tube Division in Rochester.

Chrysler Corp. Recalls
12,500 More Employees

DETROIT (UP)—More than 12,500 workers will be called back to work at the Chrysler Corp. Dodge Main Plant beginning next Wednesday, the company announced Friday.

The company said the laid-off employees would be called back to start production of the 1955 Dodge models.

It was the second back-to-work call issued by Chrysler Corp. this week. Earlier, the firm had announced that workers would be recalled starting Sept. 20 to begin production of the 1955 Chryslers.

Royal Oak Man Is Held in Outboard Motor Thefts

GAYLORD (AP)—Manuel Calvin P'Simer of Royal Oak, was held today on a grand larceny charge in the theft of outboard motors.

State police said P'Simer admitted stealing 18 outboard motors, but police added they have reason to believe the number is more than that.

The thefts, police said, took place from boats at Houghton Lake, Traverse City, Alpena and in the upper peninsula.

Dick Powell Is Busier Than He's Ever Been

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—It was 9 o'clock Friday night—and most people who'd worked hard all week were beginning their weekend rest—but not the pride of Pittsburgh.

"I'm sitting here trying to learn 15 pages of TV dialog I have to know by tomorrow," Dick Powell said, groaning a little. "Here, say hello to my girl June!" he suddenly added—and June Allyson got on the phone.

"I'd called Dick, New York to Los Angeles, and he himself had answered the phone. And now June began telling me she's trying to get him to take a vacation—but he says he's got to work. Isn't he silly?"

Singer, dramatic actor, director and producer—not to mention being husband of a glamor girl—Dick Powell's busier and more successful than he's ever been. And he can't let go.

"How can I? I got a houseful of kids," he said. "But when a banker gets around 50, he slows up," I told him. "I got some friends out here who play golf every Wednesday and Saturday," Dick said. "They don't even go to the office. But me—"

June, he said, long ago grounded him as far as flying his own plane was concerned.

"I had a Bonanza. I got a motorcycle now. She clipped my wings pretty good."

"She was afraid for me to fly. June'd say 'Where you going?' I'd say 'To the office.' June would call the airport—and there I was."

"Now I ride up and down these hills on a motorcycle. I know she'll 'ground' that too before long."

Dick's owner and one of the stars of the Four Star Playhouse on TV, has just finished producing "The Conqueror" at RKO, and has also been offered the job of bossing all production at RKO for Howard Hughes.

"Hughes is wonderful to me. For him, I can do no wrong. He let me do anything I wanted to with this picture. It cost about four-million-three before I got through. I'm trying to glue it together now. John Wayne thinks it's the best thing he ever did."

"Will you take the job Hughes offered you?"

"We're still talking about it."

"You're not ready to sign any contract?"

"I haven't had a contract with anybody in pictures for 10 or 12 years."

But he did have one with Paul Gregory to direct the stage show, "The Caine Mutiny Court-Martial," and that's why he sued for 2% of the gross—his promised share—when he was ousted in favor of Charles Laughton.

"They fired me. I figured the thing will gross 10 million; so they owe me a lot of money and I'll collect."

Powell also finds himself more and more in demand as an actor. He had just agreed to go on the Chrysler dramatic show.

"I don't know why," he said.

"June's supposed to come to New York in October to shoot some scenes for 'The Shrike' with Jose Ferrer. We've been married 9 years, but we still hate to be away from each other. I may come in with her."

"Isn't he silly?" said June.

"Don't Print That!": A handsome Hollywood star entered a Greenwich Village tattoo parlor for an artistic hearts-and-flowers job, but fled when he was recognized. One local TV comic was cautioned to stop using all those free plugs.

Janet Leigh and Tony Curtis make love so realistically in "Black Shield of Falworth" that, says director Rudy Mate, "Nobody'll believe they're married." Marty Kimmel and Gloria de Haven will talk a possible reconciliation when she returns to N. Y. Jeff Chandler and Tony Curtis will be ushers when publicist Jess Rand marries Bonnie Byrnes in Brentwood Dec. 11.

George Shearing, the blind pianist, is studying for his citizenship exams. John Wayne's ex, Chata, will make films in Mexico.

Gabriel Heatter's son, Basil, is being set for a foreign correspondent's job. Perez Prado, the mambo king, has picked up two words of English: "cherry cheesecake." Sign on Route 17: "Last Gas Station Before the Last Gas Station Before the Bridge."

In MGM's "Brigadoon," Van Johnson tells Gene Kelly, "Scratch the surface of a woman and you'll find—that she loves it."

Today's Best Laugh: "The trouble with Russian roulette is there aren't enough Russians playing it."—Sylvia di Mello.

Jack Pearl, opening in Las Vegas, was told by a cynic, "There are two kinds of women—the kind who try to fool a man and the kind who do." That's Earl, brother.

Few Chores for Kids

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Mrs. Celesta Jane Hall Via says children today suffer because they do not have enough chores to do. Mrs. Via, who has 33 grandchildren and 22 great grandchildren, is 90.
