Dem Leaders Set Strategy on Romney's Tax Program

LANSING (AP)—Democratic leaders have set their basic strategy on Gov. George Romney's tax reform program as a demand that all its component parts must be tied together in a package.

Unless the program is dealt with on that basis in the legislature, they decided last night, it cannot have the Democratic support which it may need for passage.

Former Gov. John Swainson, U.S. Rep. Neil Staebler, D-Mich., State Chairman Zoltan Ferency, member of the administrative board and other Democratic leaders attended the meeting in near-by Okemos.

Also present were Rep. Joseph Kowalski, D-Detroit, Sen. Charles Blondy, D-Detroit, the Demo-

Flora Crosses Cuba Again; Hurricane Toll Now 4,100

FROM OUR NEWS WIRES

MIAMI — Hurricane Flora crossed Cuba today for the third time, heading for the Bahamas and leaving a trail of destruction across three Caribbean islands which counted more than 4,100 dead.

The weather bureau urged emergency hurricane precautions be taken in the Southern Bahamas Islands at once. It predicted the center of the deadliest storm in 63 years would cross Acklins Island late this afternoon and cross Crooked Island a few hours later.

Flora went on the growl today after spending an unprecedented four days pounding Cuba where the death toll mounted to more than 100. It left the economy of Premier Fidel Castro's regime reeling and the government ordered tight food rationing.

The hurricane crossed into Atlantic at 11 a.m. (Pontiac time) near Cape Loececia, the Miami weather bureau said. Its center

State Reply to Pontiac Due Soon

City commissioners will probably get an answer on their request for a state investigation of election and other law violations in Pontiac by the end of the week.

Their request for the investigation arrived in Lansing this morning and was immediately turned over to the attorney general's criminal investigation division.

"The next step will be to discuss the request and evidence with law enforcement agencies in the Pontiac area," explained Deputy Atty. Gen. Leon Cohan.

"Then we'll discuss it with the people requesting the investigation. I expect we will know whether or not an investigation by our office is necessary by the end of the week," he said.

In a resolution passed Sept. 24, the commission requested an "impartial and complete" investigation into alleged violations of election laws by candidates opposing current commissioners in the April 1962 city election.

It also asked a probe into "other areas of law violations."

BIAS CHARGED

The commission charged Oakland County Prosecutor George F. Taylor of "bias" in an investigation of city affairs by his office.

"It should be remembered that we get many allegations like this all the time," Cohan said. "We check them all out, and then decide if there is enough valid evidence to warrant a formal investigation."

Veterans' Widows Get Boost in Benefits

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Approximately 122,700 widows of men who died during or as a result of military service will get increases averaging from 5 to 10 per cent in their compensation checks, effective at once.

The raise resulted from a general military pay boost that became law last week and a separate widows' benefits bill that was signed into law by President Kennedy yesterday.

cratic minority leaders, and Rep. Joseph Gillis, D-Detroit.

In a statement issued today, Ferency said the group decided to "urge Gov. Romney to exert his influence in getting the tax bills out of committee."

REITERATE SUPPORT

Basic to yesterday's strategy conference was a reiteration of Democratic support for the principle of fiscal reform and for its being accomplished now.

Swainson, whose own program went down in defeat in 1962, said he was hopeful that "we can get this problem behind us."

Gov. Romney's chief legislative spokesman and three other Republican senators joined the movement yesterday to put a constitutional ceiling on any statewide income tax.

The name of Sen. Stanley Thayer, R-Arizona, the Senate majority leader, and three others were added to the list of sponsors of a resolution originally introduced by Sen. Emil Klotz, R-St. Louis.

At the same time, a resolution bearing 35 names — approximately 20 of them Republicans — was introduced toward the same purpose in the House.

A two-thirds majority vote of both houses is required to put a constitutional amendment to a referendum vote.

Romney has proposed a 2 per cent income tax on personal income, a 3½ per cent tax on corporate income and a 5½ per cent tax on financial institutions as part of his two-point tax program.

Although he did not call for setting limits, the governor has said he would not oppose a constitutional amendment to have them submitted to a general vote.

Romney said, however, that he would resist an effort to call for a referendum on the tax reform program itself, or on tax rates. He has termed 5 per cent a "reasonable figure" for a top limit on the personal income tax.

Lockwood's resolution would put a vote a proposal to set constitutional limits of 5 per cent on personal income taxes, 7½ per cent on corporate taxes and 10 per cent on financial institutions taxes.

A Tree Grows in Lansing ... or Does It?

LANSING (UPI) — When Rep. Russell Hellman, D-Houghton, journeyed down from the Upper Peninsula for the special session, he brought along a small decorated Christmas tree and said he was prepared for Gov. Romney's special session to last that long.

Members of the House complained that the diminutive tree was not large enough, but Rep. Hellman assured them it would grow by the time Christmas rolled around.

And true to Rep. Hellman's word the tree has grown during the 12-day recess for tax hearings around the state. In fact the tree has more than doubled in size and changed from a balsam to a Scotch pine, with the help of some humorous prankster.

When faced with the new tree on his desk, Hellman replied, "It has grown because there is so much fertilizing material around here."

"In fact it has been converted from a balsam to a Scotch pine. Let's hope it doesn't turn into a Republican."

ROBERT G. BAKER
FBI Is Probing Dem Official

Investigating Business Affairs of Senate Aide

WASHINGTON (AP)—The FBI has launched an investigation into the business affairs of Robert G. Baker, 36, who resigned his $19,600 a year post as secretary to the Democratic majority in the Senate.

A Justice Department source disclosed the investigation shortly before Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield announced Baker's resignation yesterday.

The inquiry apparently began with allegations in a $300,000 civil damage suit that charged Baker with using his office to help win contracts with a government defense subcontractor for an automatic vending machine company with which he had financial dealings.

Baker was to have met with Senate leaders of both parties yesterday afternoon but turned in his resignation before the meeting.

JOHNSON PROTEGE

A former Senate page who came here from Pickens, S.C., Baker was named secretary of the majority eight years ago when Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson was Senate majority leader. He reportedly was a Johnson protege.

Baker's wife is also on the government payroll, serving as records manager for the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee at $11,900 a year.

Mansfield said in a statement that Baker had "discharged his responsibility to the majority with great intelligence and understanding" and that "his great ability and his dedication to the majority and to the Senate will be missed."

"Developments during the past few weeks, however, have made it apparent to him that it would be best if he withdrew from office," Mansfield added.

"He has acted, as was to be expected of those who know him, in what he believes are the highest interests of the Senate and the majority. I deeply regret the necessity for his resignation and the necessity for its acceptance."

Mansfield declined to go beyond his statement except to say "it's been a most difficult situation."

Pickup of Leaves Under Way in City

The pickup of leaves from the gutters is under way by the Department of Public Works in Pontiac.

Only leaves falling between the sidewalk and curb may be raked into the gutters. Others may be placed in containers for pickup on regular trash collection days.

Clyde Christian, DPW superintendent, warned residents it is against a city ordinance to burn leaves in the street.

Valachi Charts Who's Who of N.Y. Crimedom

Station, More Guards as Testimony Continues Before Subcommittee

WASHINGTON (AP)

—Using elaborate, detailed charts, a New York police officer and Joseph Valachi, gangland's gravel-voiced songbird, spelled out who's who in the New York underworld today at a Senate hearing held under an anonymous threat of bombing.

Because of telephoned tips the heads of the five New York "families" of gangs in La Cosa Nostra, the secret crime organizations, are Vito Genovese, Carlo Gambino, Gaetano Lucchese, Giuseppe Magliocco and Joseph Bonanno. He has described Genovese as still "boss of bosses" even though in federal prison on a narcotics charge.

Detective Chief Inspector John F. Shanley of the New York Police Department took over to explain the charts, and said his information on the gangland hierarchy is in accord with Valachi's testimony.

The Genovese "family" listed 142 members, and Shanley said police records show an average of seven arrests for each man; that one out of every four has been arrested for murder in the first degree, and one out of two on narcotics, gambling and assault charges.

Shanley did most of the talking at the forenoon session.

Mme. Nhu Arrives in U.S. for 3-Week Speaking Tour

FROM OUR NEWS WIRES

NEW YORK — Mme. Ngo Dinh Nhu, the acid-tongued first lady of South Viet Nam, has arrived in the United States "to try to understand why we can't get along better."

Mme. Nhu, accompanied by one of her four children, daughter Le Thu, 15, arrived at Idlewild Airport last night for a three-week American speaking tour.

Mrs. Nhu, 38, denied an assertion by her father, Tran Van Chuong, that she is power-hungry.

"If I'm power-hungry, she told newsmen at the airport, 'I would not have the confidence of the Viet Nam government. I would betray the Viet Nam government if I were power-hungry.'"

She is scheduled to appear on WWJ television's "Town Meeting" Oct. 21.

WANTS VISA CANCELED

He urged the State Department to cancel her visitor's visa and ask her bachelor brother-in-law, President Ngo Dinh Diem, to recall her.

Conte told the House that U.S. aid to South Viet Nam may be paying for her "expensive hairdos and wild shopping binges in Rome, Paris and elsewhere."

Rep. Wayne Hays, D-Ohio, today ordered his House Foreign Affairs subcommittee to determine why the State Department issued a diplomatic visa to Mme. Nhu, whom he called "a 20th century Lucretia Borgia."

'EVIL WOMAN'

"She is an evil woman and should have been kept out of the United States," Hays declared.

Before her arrival, she was denounced as "irresponsible and arrogant" by Sen. Stephen Young, D-Ohio, and as "one of the potentially dangerous figures in the world today" by Rep. Silvio O. Conte, R-Mass.

DETROIT (AP)—South Viet Nam's outspoken First Lady, Mrs. Ngo Dinh Nhu, is scheduled to visit Detroit Oct. 20-21 during her three-week tour of the country.

She is scheduled to appear on WWJ television's "Town Meeting" Oct. 21.

Young told the Senate Mrs. Nhu has been guilty of using "a serpent's tongue" to spread "vicious and poisonous anti-American utterances."

LANSING (UPI)—Gov. George Romney announced today he will leave for Europe Oct. 15 to take part in Detroit's effort to win the host role for the 1968 Olympic Games.

Romney said he would fly from Detroit to New York next Tuesday and then fly on to Frankfurt, West Germany, Oct. 16.

"I'll get to Frankfurt at midnight Wednesday and take a car down to Baden Baden Thursday," Romney said.

The West German spa will be the site of the International Olympic Committee meeting at which the spot for the 1968 games will be designated.

Romney said he will participate in a rehearsal for Detroit's presentation Oct. 17 and take part in the official presentation Oct. 18.

"At least, since she is neither a diplomat nor a government official, she should not have had a diplomatic visa."

Hays announced the inquiry in a statement to the press. He said Mme. Nhu "has desecrated the memory of the 112 Americans who have died fighting in Viet Nam and she has incited the United States armed forces by calling them 'little soldiers of fortune.'"

Government Hunts Poison Fish Source

DETROIT (AP)—Government investigators hunted with test tubes today for the source or sources of poisoned smoked whitefish, blamed for four deaths in two states.

A Michigan producer of smoked whitefish held off on further opening after ordering the destruction of all its distributed stock.

Two deaths from deadly botulism Monday in Tennessee — following by six days two similar deaths in Michigan — led to the precautions.

Eight other persons were ill in Tennessee, one critically.

At least seven of the victims had eaten smoked whitefish, medical authorities said.

The Federal Food and Drug Administration at Washington ordered tests of Michigan whitefish samples at its laboratories in Detroit.

At the Lake Michigan port of Grand Haven, the firm of H. J. Dornbos & Bros., which has produced smoked whitefish for 70-odd years, suspended work pending results of the inquiry.

Three national food store chains — A&P, National Food, and Kroger — ordered the product removed from shelves of their stores.

Harold Dornbos, president of the Michigan fisheries company, said he closed his plant voluntarily before the imposition of an embargo on his inventory by the Michigan State Department of Agriculture.

DOING EVERYTHING
"What a horrible, horrible thing. We are doing everything that can be done," Dornbos said.

The Tennessee deaths were those of David S. Cohen, 36, Knoxville businessman, and his daughter, May Beth, 10.

Chester O. Mitchell, 64, and his wife, Blanche, 63, a Kalamazoo, Mich., couple, died last Wednesday.

The Dornbos firm, founded in 1889, distributed its smoked whitefish in vacuum-sealed plastic bags with red and white labels.

The bags, marked "ready to eat," bore the company name and instructions to "keep under refrigeration."

The Mitchells died after eating an unidentified smoked whitefish on a vacation trip to northern Michigan.

CHAIN MARKETS
Tennessee health officers said Cohen and his daughter, as well as others who became ill, had eaten Dornbos' smoked whitefish purchased at chain markets.

Harold Dornbos, whose company was founded by his grandfather and handed down through the family, was shaken at word of the Tennessee deaths. Most of the whitefish chubs netted on Lake Michigan and Lake Huron are sold to the company for smoking. Its distribution area extends to the east and to Miami, Fla., Dallas, and Minneapolis.

Senate Unit Acts

Rights Bill Okayed

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Commerce Committee approved today in somewhat limited form the public accommodations bill urged by President Kennedy as part of his civil rights program. The vote was 14 to 3.

The bill to ban racial discrimination by business establishments catering to the public was amended so that its coverage would not extend to neighborhood shops not part of an interstate chain and not primarily serving interstate travelers.

Also exempted would be rooming houses if the proprietor uses the premises for his home and has no more than five rooms for rent.

ADOPTS AMENDMENTS

Chairman Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., told newsmen the committee also adopted amendments designed to encourage voluntary compliance as much as possible and providing for the right to a jury trial in contempt cases growing out of injunctions obtained against discriminatory practices.

He said that just how far the bill's coverage extends would have to be determined in the end by the courts.

But, over-all, the committee moved in the direction of restricting coverage in contrast to the broader coverage provided in an omnibus civil rights bill recently approved by a House Judiciary subcommittee.

PER CENT OF BUDGET
The approved mileage extension represents approximately 20 per cent of the school system's total operating budget.

Based on a school district valuation of about $113 million, the mills would yield $11.3 million in revenue.

A relatively high voter turnout coupled with the fact that only one proposal was on the ballot enabled election workers to tally the total vote by 9 p.m., just an hour after the polls closed.

Waterford OKs School Levy

Waterford Township voters yesterday approved a five-year extension of a 10-mill operating levy in a special school election.

Approximately 14 per cent of the school district's 22,000 registered voters went to the polls as the proposal passed by a margin of 442 votes.

A total of 1,730 votes favored the millage issue while 1,288 opposed it.

A majority favored the proposal in each of the eight school precincts.

The only close tally was registered at the Waterford Center Precinct where 218 'yes' votes were recorded compared to 209 against the millage renewal.

JAMES P. DICKERSON

OU Official Seeks Bid to Run in 19th

James P. Dickerson, assistant to the chancellor at Oakland University, today announced he will seek nomination as the Republican party candidate for the 19th district congressional seat.

A member of the Republican State Central Committee, Dickerson said his 10 years of activity in the Republican party had created a strong interest in serving the party in an elective capacity.

He has served the party as precinct delegate and captain, district chairman, public relations committee chairman, member of the county executive committee and as a delegate to the county and state conventions.

Dickerson, 37, of 720 Westwood, Bloomfield Township, is married and has three children.

ECONOMIC POTENTIAL

In announcing his candidacy, Dickerson said he believed the district's economic potential and problems "present an interesting challenge to a new congressman."

"Naturally, I am happy that it now appears neither Dan Murphy nor Farrell Roberts will be candidates in the primary race for Congress."

"Both have been good friends and their interest in serving the county and state in other offices strongly influenced my decision."

Dickerson has participated in many community activities, including the Pontiac Area United Fund and the Michigan Employment Security Commission's manpower retraining committee for Northern Oakland County.

PAST CHAIRMAN
He is past chairman of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce Industrial Affairs Committee.

Dickerson holds a bachelor's degree in economics from the University of Michigan and is a graduate of the university's law school.

Before joining Oakland University, he served in a business management and sales capacity in the newspaper and magazine publishing industry.

'New' WKC Reopens, Fulfilling Owner's Vow

A store that flames couldn't put out of business last January has reopened with a modern look that belies its 35-year past.

At WKC, 108 N. Saginaw shoppers will find an enlarged department store with 1,000 more feet of floor space, the latest fixtures, and some new ideas in merchandising.

The "new" store is the result of a fire last Jan. 7 which made a shambles of the building. As the debris was still smoking, Jack J. Wainger, WKC president and founder, promised to rebuild.

Surveying the new WKC, Wainger reaffirmed that "As business people, we are firm believers in the stability and future of business not only in downtown Pontiac, but all downtown business areas."

'AWARE OF TRENDS'

"We are well aware of trends to move sales outlets to suburban areas," Wainger said, "and we don't ignore the proven value of these adjusted markets."

"But we're sold on the stability of downtown business and we're happy and proud to open a store that will enhance the general business climate of Pontiac."

The WKC building has undergone a complete remodeling from steel structure outward, explained manager Bert Paur.

Unseen behind the concrete walls, the floors, and modern light fixtures is the latest in fireproofing.

The rear portion of the store has been enlarged, and customers who park in the rear lot will find a nearby lower level entrance.

The city will pay for 15 per cent of both projects with the rest financed through special assessment.

Commissioners last night also agreed to purchase $8,331 worth of equipment for a golf course irrigation system from Sprinkler Irrigations Supply Co.

AT NEW COURSE

The system will be installed at the new municipal golf course and recreation area on Cranbrook Road.

The contracting firm has agreed to instruct city employees in the installation of the equipment, which is to begin within the next few days.

Area Scientists Detect Sunspot

atory of the University of Michigan, 804 N. Lake Angelus Road, sighted its first sunspot of the new 11½-year cycle of solar activity between 9:30 and 10:30 a.m. yesterday.

The spot was first observed by staff member Andrew DeRader, 3701 Baldwin, Orion Township, and confirmed by George Bergsby, 1610 Airport, Waterford Township.

For a spot to be considered the start of a new cycle it is necessary to know that the polarities of the sunspots (sites of magnetic fields at lower temperatures than the rest of the surface of the sun) are reverse of what they were in the previous period.

If, in one period, the spots on the northern hemisphere of the sun are positively charged and those on the southern hemisphere are negatively charged, the reverse will be true in the next period.

ANSWER: Horses, like many other animals, are creatures of habit, and like to have things done the same way each time. They have been trained to understand that when you approach from the left side you may mount them; but they might be startled if you tried to mount from the right side.

Using the left side is said to have come from the old days when riders, such as the knight in chain armor which we show, had to mount a horse with a long sword hanging by his left side.

If he had mounted from the right the weight of both left leg and sword would have to be thrown over the horse's back, making it a clumsy operation.

Cows these days are by no means all-milked from the right side.

Most cows are milked by machine, in which case it doesn't matter which side you use. In the days of hand milking, however, most milking was from the right side because most people are right handed.

It is more natural for a right-handed person to reach under the milk bag with the right hand, as our pictures (B) and (C) show.

FOR YOU TO DO: Imagine there's some enemy standing in front of you which you have to knock out fast. Take a swat at him through the air. Which hand did you use? Chances are, the right. This shows how a right-handed person uses his right for the jobs further away.

DEFECTOR — Japanese Foreign Ministry reports said yesterday that Chou Hong-chiang, 44, a Chinese Communist interpreter, sought political asylum yesterday in the Soviet Embassy in Tokyo.

Defector Wants to Go to Formosa

TOKYO (UPI) — Communist Chinese defector Chou Hong-chiang told Japanese police today he asked for political asylum at the Soviet Embassy in order to get to Nationalist China, not Russia.

Chou, surrendered to police this morning. They were waiting for him when he walked out of the Soviet Embassy, where he had sought refuge yesterday, shortly before the technical delegation for which he was interpreter was scheduled to fly back to Communist China.

He is being held for investigation of violation of the immigration law, since his visa expired Sunday, but the government indicated he would probably be permitted to go to Formosa.

The Soviets washed their hands of the matter when they learned of Chou's wish to go to the Nationalist China.

BEGAN NEGOTIATIONS

The Nationalist Chinese Embassy began negotiations with the Japanese Foreign Office today for Chou's release and said the Japanese government should respect the wishes of Mr. Chou from a humanitarian standpoint.

The fact that Chou was choosing Nationalist China took some of the political significance out of his act, which was first believed connected with the current dispute between Communist China and the Soviet Union.

Defections by Chinese Communists to Nationalist China and vice versa occur with relative frequency.

DO YOU TAKE VITAMINS AND STILL FEEL TIRED?

If you take vitamins and still feel tired, your trouble may be due to iron-poor blood. Vitamins alone can't build up iron-poor blood. But GERRITOL can! Because just two GERRITOL tablets, or two tablespoons of liquid GERRITOL, contain 7 vitamins plus twice the iron in 1-lb. of calves' liver.

In only one day GERRITOL-iron is in your bloodstream, carrying strength and energy to every part of your body. Check with your doctor. And if you've been feeling tired because of iron-poor blood, take GERRITOL, liquid or tablets, every day. You'll feel stronger fast in just seven days or money back from the GERRITOL folks.

Urge Congress to Eye Seaway

Representatives Want
More Benefit for State

LANSING (UPI) — Five state representatives last night launched a bipartisan drive to get more benefit for Michigan from the St. Lawrence Seaway.

Two concurrent resolutions were proposed which would involve the U.S. Congress in an investigation of why the seaway has not spurred the economies of Midwestern states in its four years of operation.

Rep. E. D. O'Brien, D-Detroit, called for the U.S. House of Representatives Economic Welfare Committee to investigate:

• Why the Great Lakes are bracketed with the Atlantic Coast area when shipping rates are set

• Why no flagship vessels are made available to foreign shipping in Great Lakes waters, but vessels on the coast are supposed to serve this purpose and don't

• Shipping rate structures in order to set reasonable ones.

The other concurrent resolution introduced by House Majority Floor Leader Robert Waldron, R-Wayne, and signed by other Republicans and O'Brien, a Democrat, called for a special committee to be set up in Congress which would consist of five House and five Senate members to report on the seaway questions posed by O'Brien in his resolution.

Legislature Eying State Driver Education Program

(Editor's Note—Despite Michigan's pioneering driver education program, one in seven injurious or fatal traffic wrecks a year after year involves teen-age drivers. The following tells why two lawmakers are calling the legislature's scrutiny to a big question: Is the driver-training program working?)

LANSING (UP)—Michigan led the nation when it instituted mandatory driver education in public schools in 1956. Has it improved the driving of teen-agers?

Serious doubt has been cast on the "driver ed" classes by two state senators who are asking the legislature to review the whole program. They have some surprising statistics.

Sens. Garland Lane, D-Flint, and Stanley Thayer, R-Ann Arbor, were disappointed in the program after their own children took the course, required for drivers' license applicants under 18.

Then a study by the American Automobile Association, revealed last month by American Legion magazine, sparked their Senate Resolution No. 6, which is pending in the Senate Business Committee.

LITTLE AFFECTED
"A recent review of a dozen representative states shows that the rate of youthful accidents were little affected by such courses," says the resolution.

"Instead, the state having the highest percentage of enrollment in driver education courses had the highest percentage of teen-age accidents."

The AAA divided the 12 into group A, six states with a high percentage of enrollment in driver training, and Group B, six with only a few students in such courses. The test period began before Michigan's program became compulsory and jumped to 100 per cent of eligible students.

"By 1962, (Group A) had enrolled fully a third of their students, yet 11.7 per cent of their total accidents still involved teen-agers. The other six, where only one in ten students was taking driver training, had a slightly lower youth accident rate—10.3 per cent."

AVERAGE ROSE
"The enrollment average of (Group A) rose to 77 per cent by 1961. The other six states increased their driver education little, if at all. One would expect the percentage of accidents involving teen-agers (in Group A) to be reduced. Instead, the percentage ... increased about the same amount in both groups," said the study.

"Where driving classes were full, teen-age accidents during the ... decade climbed to 15 per cent of the total. In other states, it rose, too, but only to 12 per cent."

Algeria Denies Assassin Story

Say No Attempt Made on Ben Bella's Life

ALGIERS, Algeria (UPI)—A government spokesman denied today that a man arrested in a crowd near President Ahmed Ben Bella Sunday was armed or intended to assassinate Ben Bella as a Paris newspaper reported.

Police said the man was a drunk who tried to push his way through the crowd towards the president.

Rumors in Algiers said the man carried a pistol and intended to shoot Ben Bella as he left a car to speak to a street-corner crowd.

In Paris, Le Figaro said today the man was a member of the rebel Kabylia Province within 25 miles of the mountain area where Berber rebels held power.

Ben Bella was flying today to Bougie, a port city in dissident Kabylia Province within 25 miles of the mountain area where Berber rebels held power.

He was under heavy security guard.

GOING TO NEW YORK
The president was making a final attempt to end the nine-day-old uprising in Kabylia before leaving for New York to address the United Nations General Assembly.

He was expected to speak at a mass rally, appealing for support to keep the smoldering revolt from engulfing the young nation. It is believed scheduled to return to Algiers in time to leave for New York tomorrow.

During his one year of rule, there has been no real attempt on Ben Bella's life, according to police.

"On the basis of these findings" the magazine said, "the state money given to these schools may have been wasted."

Orrin Lucas, state police traffic analyst, says about 10 per cent of drivers involved in fatal accidents in Michigan since 1960 were under 20, and in statistics including both fatal and injurious accidents, the figure is 14 to 15 per cent.

VARIED SLIGHTLY
"This percentage has varied only slightly from year to year," Lucas said.

"On the surface, that would look like driver education has not accomplished much. However, if the truth were known, there are probably a lot more teen-age drivers now than in the past.

"We don't know the percentage of teen-agers driving because the secretary of state (who issues drivers' licenses) does not have that information.

"The driving ability of the average teen-ager may actually be improving because of driver education," says Lucas. "Also, there may be more two-car families now, and teenagers may have more access to cars."

LEAD IN SPEEDING
Lucas said teen-agers lead all age groups in speeding violations and in accidents in which cars run off roads out of control.

"For one reason or another, they don't adjust their driving to road conditions," he said.

Sen. Thayer said Michigan "doesn't seem to have a uniform standard as to what a student should cover. I know of instances where the children were certified without getting the proper training—and there has been a growing dependency of parents on this program to see to it their children can drive well."

"Some of these students are not taught night driving, and can get through the course without ever having had to work the dimmer."

Sen. Thayer hinted that the attitude of school officials could share the blame. "Some of the public school people have looked on this as an added burden without sufficient funds to do it right," he said.

Sen. Lane said the courses "may be building overconfidence. Over the nation, 16 per cent more driver-education graduates failed their drivers' license tests than the people who never took the course," he said.

NOT TO DESTROY
Lane, an insurance man as well as legislator, said the resolution is not meant in any way to destroy Michigan's driver education program.

Venezuelan Quints Are Thriving

MARACAIBO, Venezuela (UP)—since a week after their birth, in hopes of selling publicity rights in Venezuela, where the boys are national heroes.

Foreign publication rights for their six months were acquired by a television and radio mara-Saturday Evening Post for $10,000. The Post also holds publication rights for the Fischer quintuplets.

TO GET SCHOOLING
The Prieto boys have government assurances guaranteeing their education. A foundation of leading Venezuelans has been named to handle their financial affairs. Commercial rights have been sold to talcum powder and diaper firms.

Prieto commutes to the hospital daily from his mud block shack on the west shore of Lake Maracaibo. He said his wife is strong enough to leave the hospital but he agrees with the doctors that she should be near the quintuplets.

Prieto's employer, the Venezuelan subsidiary of the Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey, has donated a new home for the family. For the time being the father and the other children are still living in the old lakeside shack.

Two of the boys now weigh 4.4 pounds and the others are gaining.

Oxygen is no longer being fed to their incubators.

Juan, Jose, Fernando, Otto and Mario Prieto were born a week before the Fischer quintuplets of Aberdeen, S.D.

The University Hospital Medical Commission has maintained an all-most complete news and photographic blackout on the quintuplets.

in starting it, we should lead in the improvements. I think something is wrong with it," Lane said, "But I don't know what it is."

"The driving ability of the average teen-ager may actually be improving because of driver education," says Lucas. "Also, there may be more two-car families now, and teenagers may have more access to cars."

City's New Tax Rate Low by Comparison

The long-delayed midyear tax levy was approved by the City Commission at last week's meeting with authorization that it be spread on the tax roll. Taxpayers will receive their 1963 city and Pontiac School District tax bills within the month.

Amounting to $4,477,184, the levy represents a tax rate of $16.10 per $1,000 of assessed property value. This is a $2.24 rate increase over last year and $1.45 in excess of the rate initially established earlier in the year.

Deferment of the tax billings and increase in rate offer no reflection on the City administration or fiscal authorities.

Both were occasioned by the action of the City's largest industrial taxpayer in appealing its assessment to the State Tax Commission, which found in favor of the appellant. As a result, the amount of reduction granted had to be spread over the entire tax roll.

The appeal arose from contradiction in the City's industrial tax assessment formula with that approved by the State Tax Commission and in use in other cities of the State.

Despite the increase, however, Pontiac's tax rate compares most favorably with other state municipalities of like classification. Moreover, the fiscal condition of the City is an enviable one. With the funded debt of inconsequential amount, Pontiac can point with pride to the many unencumbered public buildings and capital improvements recently evolved on a pay-as-you-go basis.

It is true that no one cheers over a tax increase. But this one, chargeable to unusual circumstances, is unavoidable if the City is to pay its bills and keep the high credit rating now enjoyed—and we are sure that taxpayers will accept it in that light.

Interest in Government Is Everyone's Business

Timely and significant was the Public Affairs Conference recently sponsored by the State and national Chambers of Commerce.

The accent was on arousing wider and continuing bipartisan interest among the electorate toward all levels of government.

Although government, good or bad, has from time immemorial directly affected the citizenry, it would seem that it holds even greater importance for those of the present age.

Our problems seem so complex, and the economic and sociological shifts at home and abroad so baffling, that only the most enlightened and trustworthy public servants should be in office to shape our governmental destiny.

It behooves everyone, therefore, to make government his business; and not to assume that this personal responsibility can be left to others. It cannot.

Public issues of the day ought to be given the same measure of unremitting consideration as those private ones that seem closer at hand.

Those qualified to vote should unfailingly exercise their privilege, even though the matters at stake appear comparatively unimportant.

Moreover, constituents owe it to their elected representatives to acquaint them with home-front attitudes on matters of general interest.

It is a political truism that expressions of opinion come largely from dissenting persons or groups, or those with axes to grind—while voices of approval are rarely heard.

If legislators are effectively to represent their constituents, they should hear constructive reactions on both sides of every question. The voice of influence is YOUR voice.

Tea Leaves Too Little for Alimony Payment

Tea, national drink of Great Britain, oftentimes steals the news spotlight. A spot of tea, as a proper Englishman might put it.

It first made headlines with the Boston Tea Party, and tea was behind the countless vain assaults on America's Challenge Cup by Yachtsman Sir Thomas Lipton.

Now we find a British wife brewing a tempest in a teapot. She became teed off and haled her estranged husband into court because he was $294 in arrears in maintenance payments.

The reason: He spent 84 cents a day on cups of tea. "My craving is my downfall," he ruefully told the judge.

From this side of the Atlantic, it looks as though there is but one solution for the tea drinker—to become a "teatotaler."

GRAMMARIANS point to the expression "a more perfect union" in the Constitution and say it is in error, as it is impossible to improve on perfection, but they are mistaken, as car manufacturers do so annually.

314 Entrants Still in Game

Spartans Favored
Over Wolverines

Today 314 Press Football Contest entrants remain in good standing. In losing Sunday, San Francisco kept that many contestants happy in the fourth game of the contest's 15-game schedule.

The boys from the Golden West even brought along a piece of the California heat wave in their bid for a first victory in 11 starts.

But the 49ers panned no Lions pay dirt, their total points when their kicker tied the mark for a try. Meanwhile, the Lions accumulated 24 points.

So much for that. Saturday, two of Michigan's teams met in another of their traditional tangles.

The Spartans from East Lansing, not Greece, travel to Ann Arbor to match signals with the Wolverines.

State has a pretty fast cheering section going for it, 221 entrants having checked the game in green. Michigan carries the hopes and prayers of 85. Eight would like nothing better than to have a dead-lock.

Four-leaf clovers are now out of season, but maybe you can come up with another good luck charm before game time.

Here She Comes Again

David Lawrence Says:

Colleges Can't Create New Jobs

WASHINGTON—Fallacies sometimes get a long start over truth. It takes a long time to dispel them.

One of the fallacies of the day is the lack of education is responsible for most of the nation's unemployment and that a high percentage of Negroes, for instance, are out of work today just because they do not have enough education.

Walter W. Heller, chairman of the President's council of economic advisers has, however, just pointed out that the unemployment rate for male workers of all ages having an eighth-grade education or less rose in the five-year period from 1957 to 1962 by one-half, while the unemployment rate for those who graduated from college more than doubled.

Mr. Heller spoke before the American Council on Education here the other day, and he didn't discuss any aspects of the racial controversy.

He emphasized only the relation between education generally and employment opportunities.

He dispelled, incidentally, a widespread fallacy about "automation" as the cause of much of today's unemployment.

He said, "Though total unemployment has been consistently higher since 1957 than in the years before, its general pattern has not changed significantly."

CONTRARY EVIDENCE

"If 'automation' were generating a new surge of technical unemployment, it would surely be reflected in rising relative unemployment of those with low educational attainment and shrinking relative rates for those with college educations. But the evidence is to the contrary."

Dr. Heller revealed that, among those workers with even a little college education, the unemployment figure also rose, in contrast to the group with an eighth-grade education or less, where unemployment showed a sizable drop.

He added, "It does not appear that the ranks of the unemployed have been increasingly swollen by persons of low competence, nor that shortages of trained college graduates now block the path to full employment and thus threaten to frustrate the stimulus of tax cuts and other expansionary policy."

Dr. Heller said his conclusions are supported also by a comparison of the years 1954 and 1962, when the unemployment rate for highly trained professional technical workers, averaging over 16 years of school, was exactly the same in both years.

He pointed out that education and skill are very important—that, "whether the economy is booming or stagnating, the most poorly educated come off second best," and that "a grade-school graduate is five times as likely to be unemployed as a college graduate."

He then declared:

"But even if we could wave a magic wand and make every worker a college graduate, we would not solve the unemployment problem. There simply aren't enough jobs—not enough holes of any kind, square or round—to absorb both the unemployed, the technologically displaced and the new entrants all at once.

"High unemployment must be laid primarily at the door of insufficient demand. It is an old-fashioned economic ailment . . . the $11 billion tax program is the centerpiece of policy to generate that demand and create the needed jobs."

Bob Considine Says:

Sukarno Indonesia's Boss —No Ifs, Ands or Buts

THE SCRUTABLE EAST—It is very easy to understand the political situation in Indonesia, once you apply your mind to the task.

For example, Sukarno has no political party but is the unquestioned leader of all parties. He is always the principal speaker at party conventions, including that of the largest and most closely knit Indonesian party, the Communist.

"He dances on top the political parties," a State Department official told us before we left on this trip. "Keep all of them more or less happy. The PNI, the National party, officially stated at the end of its last convention, Sukarno in effect is the chairman of the board of our party."

PNI's enemy, the Communist party, which has between 2 million and 2.5 million members, has never gone so far as to overthrow Sukarno, a chief national industry.

But it makes no moves, apparently, without his official blessing or the countenance of his silence, as in the shocking raids on the British Embassy and the property of its people.

NO REIDS

Sukarno personally appoints his parliament, but he is noted by his apologists that he never takes advantage of that power.

Each Sukarno-appointed parliament has just about as many partisans from the many political parties as were in the parliament the last time elections were held.

That was in 1955. No Communist heads a working ministry in the Sukarno government.

Foreign Minister Dr. Subandrio was asked just why the boss had stopped this business of holding elections.

"If we held an election the Communists would win," he said. Simple as that.

Japan Airlines has big American jets, some of them equipped with the latest jet-jet engines, a good record for punctuality, and lovely little stewardesses in Gai-sha girl kimonos.

But whoever's in charge should do something about the one letter

Opinions will differ as to whether a one-time "shot in the arm" will provide the cure. For the task of job creation is one that the politicians constantly ignore.

The bigger challenge in job creation lies in the field of economic opportunity for everybody. "Civil rights" legislation will not solve the problem. The time devoted to that controversy will only postpone the day when Congress comes to grips with measures dealing with unemployment for all citizens.

U.S. Policies Subject to Change

By PETER EDSON
WASHINGTON (NEA) — If you're a little fuzzy on just what U.S. foreign and domestic policies are at the moment, don't let it worry you and wait a minute.

All programs are subject to change without notice and you may have to learn everything new you learn, substituting for it something new.

This has happened half a dozen times on big issues in the last fortnight. As Al Smith said, "Let's look at the record."

1. As of mid-September, you could write it in bazaar letters that the United States was committed to getting a man on the moon before the Russians and never mind the cost.

Then the President spoke at the United Nations and surprised everyone in his administration by saying that the United States and Russia should cooperate in space to save money.

2. Until recently, it was American policy to have no trade with Communist countries — except Yugoslavia and Poland — if it would do them any good.

But today deals are cooking to sell surplus wheat not only to Russia but also to the satellites and maybe even Red China. Even Congress seems to be going along on this.

3. Since the test ban treaty was

'Parents Abuse Children— Yet Go Unpunished'

I am outraged at the number of so-called "accidents" to children. Beaten, scalded or otherwise abused children are brought into hospitals and while the cases are more than just "questionable," the loving parents go free.

They have committed the most horrible of sins, the torture of their own babies. Yet, they are free to masquerade as a citizen and parent.

Where are the authorities, their protection and justice—in the cemeteries? May God have mercy on their souls.

'Police Give Fast, Courteous Service'

Many of our citizens seem to delight in criticizing our police force. I would like to praise it.

Last week I became ill with a rare illness and within five minutes policemen were here with an ambulance and in record time my doctor had been notified and I was in the hospital.

I also had a prowler last month and the police were here while I was still talking to the desk sergeant.

Thank you, policemen, for making me feel safe and for being courteous.

'Let's Keep Passenger Trains Going'

Are we going to wait until the Grand Trunk discontinues two more passenger trains before we realize what a pleasure it is to sit back and relax on our way home from work or are we going to find ourselves battling our way through the surge of traffic on our crowded highways?

If we want the Olympic Games shouldn't we keep every possible means of transportation available? For your best to keep the trains rolling—be at that hearing Oct. 21 at 10 a.m., Veterans Building, Detroit.

Another Resident Complains About Dogs

I live in an area such as described by "Victim." I wonder why so many are obliged to lose sleep to accommodate people who insist on keeping noisy dogs.

Stress is placed on the need for education and millions are spent for educational facilities. It is unfair and inconsistent for students to be deprived of necessary sleep by howling dogs.

I was amazed to learn that the police budget has been cut again. We need more officers to enforce our laws, including the ones regarding barking dogs.

The Country Parson Smiles

Some politicians name names, others just call them.

Prices being what they are, it's easy for folks to cry at their own expense.

When mother does fall housecleaning she may find an egg or two hidden for the kids at Easter.

A Wyoming woman sued a restaurant for $5,000 when she was injured in a rush for the powder room. No wonder she blew up.

signed, there has been a move on in Washington to cut down U.S. forces in Europe because Russia was being so friendly they wouldn't be needed.

West German Foreign Minister Gerhard Schroeder made a hurry-up visit to Washington, however, and then it was announced in Bonn that the U.S. would not cut European forces.

4. All summer long, the Kennedy administration has insisted it wanted both a tax cut bill and a civil rights bill enacted this year. But after the last White House conference with congressional leaders, they announced that civil rights should come first and that if Congress couldn't pass a tax cut this year, it would have a running start on next year.

5. Ever since the 1960 campaign, Kennedy has maintained that he was opposed to the AFL-CIO plan for a 30-hour work week to increase employment.

Resting at Palm Springs after a strenuous, overtime non-political work week campaigning for re-election, the President announced, "We're going to find the work week reduced."

6. On foreign aid, the policy of cracking down on friendly countries that become unfriendly is now so confused you can't make heads or tails of it. Take these cases:

• Indonesia gets in a row with Britain and the new Federation of Malaysia. The U.S. cuts off further aid to Indonesia. This fits the pattern of announced policy.

• When President Ngo Dinh Diem of Viet Nam — or more specifically his brother and sister-in-law — began to upset U.S. policies in Southeast Asia and make dirty cracks about American second lieutenants, congressmen demanded that aid be suspended. But it wasn't.

• When Dominican Republic generals gave a heave-ho to Juan Bosch — the first democratically elected president to be supported by the U.S. since 1924 — was promptly cut off and American ambassador John Barilo Martin was called home.

But now the Dominican military junta has issued a strong statement in support of U.S. opposition to Fidel Castro's Cuba. So the betting is about even that the new provisional government will soon be back on the dole, if a proposed Senate investigation doesn't stop it.

These are only a few of many examples.

The whole situation adds up to incredible, iron-clad policy with a built-in, two-way stretch to give it flexibility.

U.S. Looking Hard at Aid to Viet Nam

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. aid programs for South Viet Nam are receiving a close review of whether they are helping the anti-Communist war and not going toward the Diem government's campaign against critics at home, officials reported today.

So far, they said, none of the existing programs — running at a rate of more than $400 million a year — have been cancelled.

In Saigon, the pro-government Times of Viet Nam charged that the United States had suspended economic aid in an effort to force the Diem government to liberalize its authoritarian policies.

HELD FOR REVIEW

Reliable U.S. sources in Saigon denied this. They said some import licenses for aid to South Viet Nam had been held up for review in Washington or because Congress has not yet acted on the foreign aid bill.

Washington officials said aid projects for South Viet Nam are being given a "hard look" which has had the effect of holding up approval in some cases that previously would have received a prompt go-ahead.

Meanwhile, some of the senators who have demanded an end to military and economic aid to the Diem government question Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff. The two reports today to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee on their recent mission to Saigon.

SNUFF OUT

Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, said in advance of their closed questioning that their reports indicated a likelihood of heading down the Communist guerrillas by 1965 were "designed to snuff out the spreading congressional revolt against the Diem regime."

Church and 23 other senators are sponsoring a resolution recommending all aid be cut off unless South Viet Nam President Ngo Dinh Diem ceases his "policies of oppression" against Buddhists and seeks the support of his people.

McNamara and Taylor told a closed session of the Senate Armed Services Committee last Thursday that "we are winning the war" in Viet Nam.

Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., chairman of the Armed Services Committee, said some senators at that briefing "expressed skepticism about the situation being as bright as Secretary McNamara thought it was."

The Vietnamese situation was one of the topics discussed by high ranking administration officials Monday as part of a two-day briefing at the State Department for newsmen and broadcasters from around the United States.

President Kennedy and AID director David Bell are on the program today. Under the rules of the session, information from the speakers cannot be attributed by name.

Illinois Puts Bite on Spaniel

CHICAGO (AP) — Danny Boy, pet spaniel of the late Margaret M. Strew, will have to pay a $400 tax because his mistress remembered him in her will.

Miss Strew, a retired telephone operator, set aside $500 for care of the pedigreed animal and appointed G.R. Wade of Kenosha, Wis., his trustee.

The question whether Danny

Boy was legally a member of Miss Strew's family and thereby exempt from the state inheritance tax was referred to Atty. Gen. William C. Clark of Illinois.

Clark held that while Danny Boy's blood lines undoubtedly were sound, he was not a relative of the testator. In the eyes of the law, he's a casual legatee and the state is within its rights in putting the bite on Danny Boy.

Out of Order? It Is Now

TUNBRIDGE WELLS, England (UPI) — Ronald Newick was fined $8.40 yesterday for damaging an outdoor telephone booth despite his plea that "I was told the phone was out of order so I made sure by pulling the wires out."

Eugene Hobart, 48, pleaded guilty at the time before the late Judge Horace W. Gilmore said he was reluctant to grant a retrial but did so because of implications in the old trial record that Hobart had been promised leniency.

Romney Shuns Hoffa Support

Not Interested in Help of the Teamsters

FLINT (UPI) — Gov. George Romney told newsmen here last night he is not interested in Teamster President James R. Hoffa's support.

Hoffa said Sunday in Indianapolis he might throw his support to Romney for president in 1964.

Asked about this, Romney said, "I've never met Hoffa, I'm not a candidate for the presidency," and that he was not interested in political support from Hoffa.

'COULD GAIN BACKING'

Hoffa, talking to newsmen prior to an appearance at a Teamsters conference in Indianapolis, said the Republican governor could win support of his big union if he presented a platform the Teamsters could back.

He described President Kennedy and Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., the front-runner for the GOP nomination, as "completely unacceptable" to the Teamsters.

Hoffa said he could also support two other GOP governors — James A. Rhodes of Ohio or William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania — for the presidency.

He denied a report earlier that he had made statements that indicated a preference for New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller.

City Eyes Action on Renewal Loan

City officials today may take final action tonight on a proposed $400,000 loan to keep Pontiac's R20 urban renewal program operating until next spring.

The proposed loan got tentative approval from the City Commission two weeks ago and at that time was slated for final approval at tonight's commission meeting.

The $400,000 would keep urban renewal operating until a new R20 plan and expanded budget is approved by federal agencies. Approval is estimated to take six months.

The new plan would free federal funds to repay the proposed loan. If federal agencies didn't approve the new plan, the loan would have to be repaid from capital improvement funds.

TO TELL OF ADDRESS

Last week Mayor Robert A. Landry said he planned to address the public on the commission's position regarding the recent suspension and dismissal of former city manager Robert A. Stier.

Yesterday, Landry indicated he hadn't yet decided where or when the speech will be given, but that he would make an announcement concerning the address tonight.

Week Holds Meaning for 365 in Area

National Employ the Physically Handicapped Week has a special meaning for 365 Oakland County men and women.

Merrill Walls, employment manager of the Michigan Employment Security Commission office, 242 Oakland, said this is the number of handicapped persons for whom employment was found within the past year.

The fact that this many were helped is the message underlying this week's observance, Walls said.

A second purpose, explained Walls, "is to inform the public, and potential employers, that the handicapped person can be as capable and efficient worker as a nonhandicapped."

MESC statistics show the 365 were of 503 job applicants classified as handicapped. They are among 7,700 of 17,000 applicants who were helped to new employment by the local office.

No tabulation is kept of the various physical impairments, said Walls. But they range from those handicapped by heart conditions to others minus limbs or sight.

Augmenting the MESC placement service are state and federal vocational rehabilitation programs to train the handicapped for new occupations.

structures on 12 lots south of Pontiac General Hospital will be up for final approval.

Also up for approval is a resolution to sell an urban renewal parcel to First Methodist Church.

Commissioners will also get several recommendations from the city planning commission, including one to rezone seven acres on Telegraph between Hazel and Edna for a proposed $2.5 million apartment house development.

Slated for public hearings and final approval are ordinances to rezoned to commercial use a parcel at Francis and Auburn, and Lots 74-76, Dupont Heights Subdivision.

Final approval is also slated for dance permits requested by owners of Bud & Lou's Bar, 417 Auburn, and the Waldorf Hotel.

Court Orders Retrial or Release for Life

NEW YORK (AP) — Samuel T. Williams, 34, who has served 10 years of a life sentence on a murder conviction, has been ordered released from prison or re-tried promptly.

The U.S. Court of Appeals ruled Monday his confession was obtained by coercion. It added that it was unlikely that Williams would be tried again since the purported confession was the only real evidence against him.

Williams, a Negro, was sentenced to die in the electric chair for the slaying of a girl during a burglary in Brooklyn. Thomas E. Dewey, then governor, commuted the sentence.

Waterford OKs Sheep Payment

Moves to Avoid More Dead Animal Claims

Waterford Township Board members last night authorized payment of $27 for a dead animal claim and then took steps to avoid other such claims in the future.

The money will be paid to Frank Williamson Jr., 1123 Biely, as compensation for five of his sheep killed by two stray dogs.

Under the township's dog ordinance, patterned after state law, residents may submit claims of livestock that die as a result of an attack.

Six of the Township Board members voted to pay the claim, overruling the negative vote of trustee John Coleman.

NO CONTROL

Coleman felt that the township should not pay the claim because it had no control over the incident.

After allowing the claim, the board introduced an amendment to the dog ordinance that removes the provision on livestock liability.

Action on the amendment will be taken at a future board meeting.

In other business, the board approved a zoning change from R1A (residential) to R2 (multiple dwelling) to allow construction of a convalescent home in the vicinity of Dixie and Watkins Lake Road.

The board also approved the moving of a beer and wine license from the A & P store at 4724 Dixie to the firm's store under construction at 3400 Florida.

Michigan Gets $7 Million for New Hospitals

LANSING (AP)—Michigan Health Commissioner Albert Heustis reports some $7 million in federal funds will be distributed this year in the state for medical facilities construction.

Dr. Heustis said of this, $4.6 million has been granted under the federal accelerated patient works program, and the rest will be Hill-Burton funds which will be matched by local money.

He made the announcement in releasing the state plan governing Hill-Burton funds for the coming fiscal year.

The plan shows Michigan's greatest need is facilities for the mentally ill and for long-term patients requiring rehabilitative and nursing care.

An East Detroit widow and mother of two, Mrs. Geraldine Schultz, 28, was awarded $90,000 damages yesterday in an Oakland County lawsuit against Metes and Powers, Inc., a Pontiac beverage distributor.

Betancourt Blames Castro for Increased Venezuela Violence

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
CARACAS, Venezuela — President Romulo Betancourt blamed Fidel Castro last night for the increase in antigovernment violence in Venezuela that has cost at least 20 lives in the past week.

In a nationwide broadcast, Betancourt appealed for public support of the police and military campaign to crush the terrorists. He said:

"Cuba is living in hours of desperation. In spite of millions of dollars spent daily by the Soviet Union on its Havana vassal, there is hunger in Cuba."

Betancourt said Communists and fellow travelers are waging the campaign of terrorism to keep Venezuela's national elections scheduled for Dec. 1 but he said control of the government is even more firmly in his hands than when he assumed office four years ago.

Promising impartial elections, Betancourt said, "I will deliver power in March 1964, to a president freely chosen by Venezuelans."

TERRORISM CONTINUES

There was no abatement in the terrorism that has promoted the government to move paratroopers and other military units into Caracas. Three more persons died in street battles last night.

The violence intensified last week when Betancourt ordered the arrest of 23 Communist and extreme leftist members of Congress and a roundup of other Red leaders after a terrorist attack on an excursion train.

Betancourt said he alone was responsible for their arrests. He warned he would lock up any newspaper editor who hints the arrests were "ordered by the army. There has been some suspicion that the military is trying to provoke the Reds to give it an excuse to overthrow Betancourt, enlisting the military coups in Honduras and the Dominican Republic."

Accusing the pro-Castro lawbreaker of directing the terrorism, Betancourt said the constitution permitted removal of their parliamentary immunity because they were seeking to overthrow the constitution.

Betancourt said the congressmen were being held for military trials. He said they had been caught with plans for knocking out the Caracas power and telephone service and for a mass jail break so convicts could terrorize the city.

Elsewhere in Latin America: —The new military regime in Honduras set up machine guns in the central plaza of Tegucigalpa, the capital, after it received reports of plans for antigovernment demonstrations by students. A junta headed by Col. Oswaldo Lopez Arrelano ousted the elected government of President Ramon Villeda Morales last Thursday.

—In the Dominican Republic, where the elected government was also deposed in a coup, the military government ordered a state of siege after university students battled police in Santo Domingo, the capital.

The students attempted to march on the presidential palace to protest the ouster of President Juan D. Bosch. Police fired machine guns hurled tear gas and the students retaliated with stones. About 50 students were arrested.

—In Brazil, a dispute between workers and guards at a big steel mill resulted in the death of six workmen when police fired on them. The outbreak occurred at Acesitas, 200 miles north of Rio de Janeiro.

President Jose Goulart meant to congress for a 30-day state of siege to keep order.

He said extreme measures were no longer necessary, but most observers believed he backed down because congress was going to deny him most of the emergency powers he asked for.

—Gen. Andrew O'Meara, commander of the U.S. Southern Command with headquarters at the Panama Canal, said he had cancelled a scheduled visit to the U.S. military mission in Brazil next week because of the political situation there.

—In Washington, State Department officials said military coups do not necessarily jeopardize the Alliance for Progress.

Department officials told newsmen at a briefing that the United States opposes all military coups. But the officials said they are a fact of political life in Latin America.

They added that military coups are sometimes even a sign of progress, because modern military leaders are less dictatorial than their predecessors.

Russia Says 'Reputation' Hurt by China

LONDON (UPI) — The Soviet Union is accusing Communist China of trying to hurt Russia's "good reputation" in Asia, Africa, and Latin America, it was disclosed today.

An official Soviet pamphlet being circulated by Novosti, the Soviet press agency, severely attacks the Chinese for attempts to undermine Moscow's position and prestige in the underdeveloped nations.

It charges that western "colonialists and Chinese critics of Soviet policy appear on the same side of the fence" in the struggle for the emerging nations.

The disclosure followed a report that Communist China is trying to arrange its civilian air traffic routings through the British colony of Hong Kong to avoid flying over the Soviet Union.

Both moves were signs that the Moscow-Peking split is widening.

Summarizing Is a Powerful Study Tool

By THE READING LABORATORY

Written for Newspaper Enterprise Association

We've discussed reading outlines which organize the ideas of a textbook chapter or any piece of writing in a logical order. They are tools for analyzing the thought structure of prose. The ideas are not arranged in the order of presentation of the text; the most important idea must appear first in the outline, so that when it appears in the text, the reader can follow it.

Practice outlining. When you read a newspaper, outline one of the editorials.

It'll only take a couple of minutes, and you'll be developing the ability to think logically. The logical thinker never has any trouble in school.

As your skill in outlining develops, you'll be ready to try summarizing. Skilled summarizing presupposes outlining skill.

You must be able to arrange ideas logically before you can make short, accurate summaries. Summaries are powerful study tools. If you can summarize a textbook chapter, you can be sure that you've understood it.

MAIN IDEA

A summary must contain the main idea of a text, it must be brief and it must be in your own words.

Summarizing is a great aid to retention. If, for instance, you've capitalized an entire lecture into a few, well-chosen words, you can be sure you'll never forget that lecture.

To a skillful reader, summarizing is an automatic process; it's the practice is the best way by far to prepare for essay tests.

If you summarize everything that you study, you'll have no trouble writing clear, concise answers.

To show how a summary works, let's outline this article, then make a summary from the outline.

1. Summaries are powerful study tools.
 - 1.1 Must state main idea.
 - 1.1.1 Aid comprehension.
 - 1.2 Must be brief.
 - 1.2.1 Aid retention.
 - 1.3 Must be in your own words.
 - 1.3.1 Develop logical facility.
 - 1.4 Must be logical.
 - 1.4.1 Presuppose outlining ability.

Using the outline, we can make summary:

"By developing the ability to construct, in your own words, brief, comprehensive and logical summaries of textbook chapters or lectures, you will have taken a long step toward better comprehension, surer retention and more skillful writing."

As your summarizing and outlining skills develop, mental summaries, rather than written, will suffice.

State Dems' Fate Rests in Swainson's Hands

By JIM DYBERT

The fate of the Democratic party's efforts to recapture Michigan's governorship next year appears to be in the hands of former Gov. John B. Swainson.

His decision whether to make a comeback try could open a fork in the party's road.

One path could lead to bitter discord and certain defeat.

The other would mean united strength for a powerful counter-attack on Republican control of the governorship.

News Analysis

The bitter struggle could come in a Democratic primary if Swainson chooses to try for another crack at George Romney, the man who beat him last year.

Swainson's chief opponent in such a development would be Congressman-at-large Neil Staebler.

NO OPPOSITION

The Democratic state chairman who built the party into the state's dominant political force behind G. Mennen Williams, Staebler said Friday he would not oppose Swainson in a primary, though he would run for the governorship if Swainson didn't.

But many party leaders are convicted that Staebler would enter the race, anyway.

If so, the ensuing battle, many in the party fear, would be more than just a follow-up of the Staebler-Swainson clash over the party's state chairmanship in February.

That was when Swainson-backed Zolton A. Ferency ousted incumbent John J. (Joe) Collins.

A contest is envisioned that would make the heated antagonism that split party ranks in the 1960 gubernatorial primary between Swainson and Sec. of State James M. Hare look like a friendly tiff.

Essentially, the struggle would be between the majority of party leaders on one side and, on the other, Swainson and elements that played a prominent role on his behalf in the past; union leaders.

The fight would be for control of the state Democratic party and would decide the course of the party's future in Michigan.

Party stalwarts have been trying quietly for months to stave off

'Twain Altered Religion View'

Later Words Revealed by Christian Scientist

NEW YORK (AP)—Mark Twain modified his bitter views about religion during his declining years and once called Christian Science "humanity's boon," a Christian Science official said yesterday.

C. W. Christenberry, chairman of the Christian Science committee on publication, made the contention following publication of a copyrighted UPI dispatch which quoted in detail from Twain's hitherto unpublished article called, "Reflections on Religion."

The article was printed in full in the current issue of the Quarterly Literary Magazine, Review. Twain had asked that it be kept secret for 500 years after his death, but his third daughter, Mrs. Clara Samassoud, granted permission to have it published shortly before she died last year.

The author called the Old Testament of the Bible "the most damnable biography that exists" and blamed Christianity for much of the suffering on earth.

However, Christenberry, in contending that Twain later in life radically changed his mind on the subject, quoted from a book written by the same Mrs. Samassoud who permitted "Reflections on Religion" to be published.

The quote from her book, titled "My Husband Gabriel," goes: "Mark Twain in contradiction to his previous statements said: 'Christian Science is humanity's boon.'"

Father of JFK Aide Dies

BOSTON (AP)—Harvey Hollister Bundy, 75, attorney and father of McGeorge Bundy, presidential adviser, died Monday. Bundy at one time was secretary to the late Oliver Wendell Holmes and also was special assistant to Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson in World War II.

such a war, which they know would weaken the party's drive for the governor's chair regardless of its GOP opponent.

COMPROMISE TRY

They apparently have been working toward an arrangement in which Staebler would become the candidate, Swainson would not, and the issue of control would be settled by compromise.

Evidence of this came Sept. 21 when Staebler said party leaders hoped to crystallize sentiment, resolve differences and agree on a candidate "within 60 days."

This prompted Swainson to reassert publicly his position in the driver's seat with an indignant reply.

His decision, he said, would come near the first of the year and be based only on his physician's appraisal of his health.

Party leaders, he said, could not decide on the candidate and neither he nor anyone else need be bound by any agreement they reached.

ENCOUNTER SNAG

Swainson's outburst raised speculation that the party leaders seeking to settle the matter had encountered snags in discussions with Swainson supporters.

Despite Staebler's statement, most party leaders want him to run even if Swainson does. They seem to be more against Swainson's nomination than against a bitter fight.

They want peace and Staebler, but apparently they want Staebler the most.

Chief basis for the opposition to Swainson are his defeat last year and his identification with labor unions in the public's mind, even though party leaders feel this latter is exaggerated.

LITTLE CHANCE

Although some say Swainson must be considered the front-runner as titular head of the party, most feel he would have the least chance of out-polling any Republican nominee.

Several of the state's union leaders backed Swainson in the 1960 primary. Not all backed him on Ferency. State AFL-CIO chief Gus Scholle was one who did not.

If Swainson should defy his fellow party leaders in this case, it would not be the first time. The ex-governor was practically alone in his support of Ferency.

If he decides not to run, Staebler is expected to become the nominee even though such names as State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie, Sec. of State James Hare, Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley and Detroit Mayor Jerome Cavanagh have been mentioned as possible candidates.

Although Staebler might face a decision between peaceful withdrawal and war later, right now it's up to Swainson.

Why Grow Old?
By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

This week I am bringing you a few examples of the exciting and inspiring letters which come to me from readers. The one today will make many folks feel like a piker. The following letter is from a man.

not a figurehead, but do my day's work the same as I did 28 years ago.

"I am secretary of our local Rotary Club and have been for 22 years.

"I send this along for those who are inclined to feel too old to work."

Isn't it exciting to hear about someone who is busy and who is enjoying life at the age of 89? Isn't it inspiring to hear about someone who did not allow a physical blow to become a handicap?

Yet there are those who feel finished at 50. There are those who bewail the first gray hair and the first wrinkle as disasters. There are those who are so upset by any small physical defect that they withdraw into their shell and remain there most of their lives.

Bringing Up Baby.

Sometimes we tend to forget the benefits derived from the simplest baby-care routines. Take baby's strolling sessions. Wheeling about in the fresh air reaps wonderful rewards. It invigorates appetite and sets a cheek to bloom. It jolles disposition and makes the sunbeam welcome.

Push-strolling does all these things for you, too, so try not to skip these jaunts unless the weather is mean.

Fresh-air opposites appreciate the "stick-to-the-rib" satisfaction of Gerber Strained and Junior Meats. Made from cuts selected by Armour, they're ever so easy to digest. Most important, they are cooked by an exclusive Gerber-Armour method that protects precious nutrients, preserves true meat flavors and assures an unusually smooth, moist texture.

Altogether, they're the most succulent protein foods you can give your baby to aid his growth.

Baby basie. Baby cereals are pretty much a daily menu "must" from the infant age right through the toddler stage, for the iron and other important nutrients and supply. Gerber Baby Cereals are enriched with a special kind of iron that's easily absorbed by babies. Seven tablespoons will give your baby more than 100% of the recommended daily dietary allowance for iron. Calcium and important B-vitamins are also added for further nutritional benefits. Sheldon Finds Job

Fantare Silenced

BOSTON (U) — Life at Boston advertising agencies has settled down to a quiet routine now that Sheldon Silk is working.

Silk started on a new job Monday and no longer is making the rounds in search of employment.

Receptionists recall the well-dressed man of 30, carrying an attache case, who breezed in with the pronouncement "My name is Sheldon Silk."

The sound of his name triggered a 60-piece orchestra into blaring a fanfare usually associated with working kings and television guest stars.

Silk stands 5-10, weighs an ideal 175 pounds and is unmarried. He is not likely to go unnoticed by pretty young receptionists, but he took no chances. He taped the orchestral fanfare on a portable tape recorder he carried in his attache case.

4 MINUTES 17 SECONDS

After the musical equivalent of a 21-gun salute, Sheldon would ask exactly 4 minutes and 17 seconds of the boss's time.

That's how long it took to play the roll of tape-set to music—which Silk had prepared in his effort to land an advertising job.

Included in the sales pitch were two original songs, sung, of course by Silk. Silk, who lives with his widowed mother in suburban Randolph, Mass., says: "Actually, I'm a very conservative man. My musical approach was a rebellion against the indifference of secretaries and receptionists and doors that are bolted against the job-seeker."

'COLD SHOULDER'

Did it work out? "Not really," said Silk. "The reaction was either cold shoulder or hot tongue, if you'll permit me to use somebody else's lines."

"I got to see a lot of personnel directors," he added, "but I sure frightened a lot of receptionists in the process."

Last week, Silk left his tape recorder home and landed a job in the credit department of a chain-store clothing.

He got the job by answering a newspaper want ad.

It Was Hardly Worth the Trip

MONTEBELLUNA, Italy (UPI) — Officials found in some archives an unpaid traffic ticket issued 29 years ago to Mrs. Maria Anna Bonesso on charges of riding a bicycle without lights.

With all haste they whipped off the ticket to Mrs. Bonesso and told her she would be brought to court unless she paid up immediately.

Mrs. Bonesso jumped into a taxi and rushed to the court to pay the ticket. The ticket cost her 24 cents, the cab ride cost $1.92.

Men like their food sweeter. A postage stamp, "The Black

Drug Hearing Set for Justice Court

Two of three Saginaw men charged with fraudulently obtaining narcotic drugs were remanded back to Waterford Township Justice Court for examination yesterday by Circuit Judge Frederick C. Ziem.

Counsel for Donald Holden, 24, and Harry Givens, 34, requested that they be granted lower court examinations.

They had waived examination before Township Justice Patrick K. Daly Sept. 23 but were not represented by counsel at that time.

Ziem granted their motion and also entered a plea of not guilty for the third party, John Brown, 20, after Brown was undecided on how he should plead.

State Police arrested them Sept. 27 on charges of purchasing a cough syrup containing cocaine and signing for it with fictitious names and addresses.

They were returned to Oakland County Jail with bond continued at $2,500.

Hart to Join Dedication

GRAND RAPIDS (U) — Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., is taking part Oct. 14 in dedication of the $130,000 suburban Wyoming Post Office, Grand Rapids Postmaster H. Wayne Parker said yesterday.

Also among speakers at the evening program is Post Office Regional Director Donald L. Swanson of Chicago.

Train Runs Out of Hand for 5 Miles

CLEMSFORD, Mass. (UPI) — A

116-car Boston & Maine freight train reportedly ran about five miles without anyone at the controls yesterday when all three men in its cab were overcome by a deadly gas, police said.

Police said the three men were overcome by hydrocyanic gas as the train passed the Hampshire Chemical Corp. in nearby Nashua, N.H.

The train ran without anyone at the controls until a fireman in a second engine of the train came forward and found the three men unconscious in the front engine. He stopped the train here and two of the men were carried unconscious from the train.

Officials said that John Kempton, 45, of Dracut, Mass., the engineer, and Harold House, 43, of Manchester, N.H., were admitted to St. Joseph's Hospital in Lowell. They were treated and released.

A third person in the cab was unidentified but officials said he was not admitted to the hospital.

The train, en route from White River Junction, Vt. to Boston, continued its trip.

If He Filled Glasses,

He'd Sell More Beer

WOLVERHAMPTON, England (UPI) — Pub-keeper Louis Moskop was fined $2.50 yesterday for giving his customers only 19 fluid ounces of beer in a 20-ounce mug. Moskop's plea that he cut down on the beer because his customers like a lot of foam on their drinks was rejected.

Splendor of Autumn Covers Oakland County

By PAT McCARTY

How suddenly Indian Summer came upon us!

Because of the unusually dry summer, fall arrived two weeks earlier than is its custom.

The earth, soaking up the last warmth of a lowering sun, has offered in return its vast array of colors.

They are there for us to enjoy during these days of seasonal change, when nature makes her progress clear to us.

The change is manifest throughout Oakland County — not only in the mighty oaks for which she was named but also in the other leaf-shedding trees and low brush.

Even the evergreens which never change serve their purpose in the landscapes nature has painted, for they provide a sedate contrast to the splashy reds, yellows and browns.

FAVORITE SPOT

Pick your favorite spot in Oakland County and make your way there — it may be a place where you enjoyed picnicking this summer.

mer of the slope you'll ski down later in the year.

With the crowds gone, you may be surprised at the change. A former scene of activity will be idyllic now. Your reaction is certain to be a pleasant one.

While seeking out your favorite spot, do not take the conventional route. You need be in no hurry.

Although each of Oakland county's highways and roads has something to offer — a particularly colorful curve or a panoramic view on the straightaway — now is the time to explore new paths for a refreshing change from the familiar.

The time of day you choose for your trip is unimportant and the weather need not be of any special concern.

There are some almost-pink tinges which can best be seen in the early hours of the morning. Purple casts appear to their best advantage just before dusk falls.

BRIGHTEN DAY

On Cooley Lake Road in Highland Township, a mile and a half west of the spot where it becomes gravel, there is a tunnel of yellow that can brighten the dreariest day.

There are deeper yellows — in this area along Ford Road — that are most effective with backlighting, that special quality which prevails just before the sun sets or as it is rising.

Color tours of Oakland County can be any length. They can be a peaceful interlude after dinner or they can consume an entire day.

Ideal spots for driving breaks are provided throughout the county. Produce is offered at the many roadside stands which dot the area. Particularly suitable at this time of year are cider and doughnut shops.

Mt. Holly, the ski resort a mile north of Grange Hall Road on Dixie Highway in Groveland Township, is now operating its chairlift for sightseers.

A 20-mile panoramic view is provided from the top of its major slope. The chairlift is being used from noon-7 p.m. on weekend days.

HILLS OR LAKES

In Oakland County, the motorist seeking scenery has his choice of traveling through hills or winding around the lakes.

The recreation areas provide foot trails as well as roads through woods now displaying a variety of hues.

Among them are Kensington Metropolitan Park which is wrapped around Keokuk Lake, the deeply wooded Highland State Recreation Area, the popular Pontiac Lake area and the state parks at Holly and Bald Mountain with their rolling hills.

There are worthwhile sights at all of these.

SCENIC ROUTES

Orion Road stretching between

Lake Orion and Rochester is a popular scenic route in the county. A perfect color triangle is on display now on both Orion and Adams Roads where they travel downhill to meet in Oakland Township.

Sashaw Road near Pine Knob is also warm with fall colors. Growing close to the road, every tree has been touched with a different color from nature's palette.

The now-yellow willow trees around Ford Pond in Clarkston bend down to the dark blue water to take one last look before shedding their slim delicate leaves.

Flamboyant sumac, so prolific in the county, adds its bold touch to landscapes. Rolling hillsides in the Long Lake Road area are ablaze with the flaming shrubs.

Old Orchard Drive swinging around the western side of Orchard Lake is beautiful at any time of the year and does not let the motorist down now.

Travel where you will in the county, but keep your eyes open for these spots. Fledge Park No. 10 on Pettibone Lake Road, with deep shades of brown and gold; Middlebelt Road, displaying vivid reds and golds; M-47 where it joins I-75 in Springfield Township, worth seeing at sunset.

Add your spots to the list — it might include your own backyard.

Site Purchases to Be Discussed

W. Bloomfield School Board Meeting Oct. 21

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Board of education members here have scheduled a special meeting Oct. 21 to decide on the much-discussed purchase of future school sites.

A number of sites have been under consideration since voters approved a $1.6 million bond issue in June.

The issue includes $400,000 for the purchase of sites.

Foremost in the school board's plans is the construction of a core junior high school unit. Its probable location has been determined.

"We're now carving 30 acres out of the 63-acre parcel available," Schools Supt. Dr. Leif A. Houghton said.

The property, on the west side of Orchard Lake Road about a half-mile north of Maple, is known as the Miller farm.

Consideration for a high school site has been narrowed to three pieces of property, all in the vicinity of the West Bloomfield Township Hall on Orchard Lake Road.

The site will be between 50-60 acres, Houghton said.

Specific properties available are two 80-acre parcels, one owned by Irwin Cohn and the other known as the Zuckerman property, and 125 acres owned by the Housman-Spittley Corp.

"Each one has some disadvantages," Houghton said. "All have some low ground."

PURCHASING 10 ACRES

To complete its site-buying program, the school board is now purchasing 10 acres on Maple midway between Middlebelt and Orchard Lake Road. It will be held for a future elementary building.

The Oct. 21 meeting was set for 8 p.m. in the board of education office in West Bloomfield High School.

Obscene Literature Is Speaker's Topic

"The Effect of Obscene Literature on Our Young People" will be explained at Thursday's 8 p.m. meeting of the Avondale Junior High School PTA.

Featured speaker is attorney John Danahy of Warren, a former Macomb County prosecuting attorney. Danahy is also past president of the St. Clair Shores Council on Better Literature for Youth.

The meeting, for adults only, will take place at the junior high school, 2800 Waukegan, Auburn Heights.

Flint Officials, Romney to Talk

From Our News Wires
FLINT — After telling Gov. George Romney his tax reform program could upset Flint's budget, Flint officials planned to meet with him today in Lansing.

Romney last night promised to help the city of Flint solve its tax problems.

At a hearing, Romney assured city officials he felt certain if the people of Flint adopted a proposed 1 percent city income tax Nov. 12, it will not be illegal.

City Manager Thomas Kay told Romney that the governor's proposed fiscal reform plan jeopardizes the proposed city tax.

WOULD PREVENT
He said state action to take power to levy income taxes on corporations, as proposed in the governor's package, "will prevent Flint from granting a property tax reduction."

The city income tax was put on the ballot with the understanding that if approved, local property taxes would be reduced $2 per $1,000 per assessed valuation.

Romney replied that he was certain the legislature could modify his program to assure Flint the legality of any tax program citizens approve.

Board Moves for New School

The Avondale School Board took its first step toward establishing another grade school in the district last night.

Members voted 5-3 to purchase a 10-acre site in Pontiac Township's Bloomfield Orchards Subdivision.

Costing $46,971, the land is located in the northeast corner of the subdivision, at the end of Old Salem.

The district has bonds sufficient to cover the purchase.

VOTED NO
Trustees Floyd L. Cobb Jr. and David Hackett voted against the move. Today Hackett defended his position.

"The present need in our district is at the secondary level. We have met our growth problems in the elementary grades," he said.

Hackett pointed out that some people had expressed an idea that the school district was short of space for future schools.

"No emergency exists," he said. "We already have a potential site on the 53-acre junior high property." The board member said this is within a mile of the Bloomfield Orchards site.

In addition to Dr. Early's presentation, Mrs. Florence Mortimer, school principal, will offer a brief report of school activities. In addition, kindergarten and first grade mothers will sponsor a bake sale.

Presently 17 of the parochial school pupils are taken to school in the morning but must find their own transportation home.

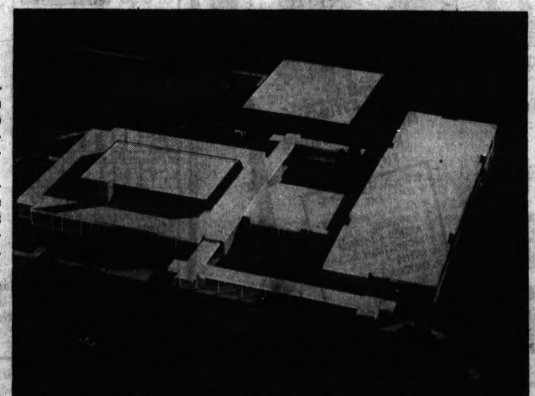

The three named to study the problem are board members David Hackett and Thomas Galloway and Assistant Supt. Arnold Ojala.

Parents of the students have requested the board to try and provide the return transportation.

In Absence From Hollywood

Actor Finds Himself, Ability

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD — Why did Robert Wagner absent himself from Hollywood for two years?

"Well, my career wasn't exactly going great guns here," he explained. "My marriage to Natalie Woods had broken up and I had a couple of pictures I could do in Europe. It seemed like a good time to leave."

Four pictures and a marriage later, he is back in town, and seems a different figure from the handsome hero whom the fan magazines once gushed over.

"Yes, I think I've changed," he admitted. "You can't go through analysis without finding out something about yourself. It helped me greatly — that is, I learned to help myself; psychiatrists can't do that for you."

"Going to Europe was a great experience for me, too. I lived in London and Rome, and I drove a car all over the Continent. It was a different world to me, and I was exposed to people who helped me think. Like Jean-Paul Sartre, a tremendous intellect. And Vittorio de Sica, who gave me great insight as an actor."

The extent of Wagner's maturity is demonstrated in his first role after returning from abroad. He is appearing on "The 11th Hour" as a sick car salesman whose life is blighted when half his face is burned into a gruesome mask.

"I took the part because I thought it had something to say," the actor remarked.

Wagner and his second wife, Marion Donen, have settled in a Tarzana house. He indicated that he is back to stay. "California is my home; I like it here," he said.

Stepdaughter of Robert Taylor Held for Forgery

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Actor Robert Taylor's stepdaughter is being held by police on suspicion of forgery.

Manuela Theiss, 20, daughter of Taylor's wife, actress Ursula Theiss, was arrested Sunday in Santa Monica. Police said she and two men tried to cash a forged $12 check.

Arrested with her were Dewey Atkinson, 25, and William Fairbanks, 22.

Miss Theiss was placed on a year's probation May 4, 1962, after pleading guilty to being under the influence of drugs in a public place.

Judge Aids in 'Life Term'

LONDON (UPI) — Judge W. H. Hughes rushed Michael Murphy's trial through in big time yesterday, fined him $50, wished him "good luck" and sped him out of the courtroom on the way to his wedding.

But he is grateful to the European experience for giving his life and career a new boost.

During the two years he made the multiple-star "Longest Day"; "The War Lover" with Steve McQueen; "The Prisoner of Altona" with Sophia Loren, Maximilian Schell and Frederic March; and "The Pink Panther" with David Niven and Peter Sellers.

"The Prisoner of Altona" put him in fast company — Oscar winners, all — and Wagner said he worked hard to keep up with them.

"De Sica was directing and he was an immense help," he said. "Sophia was also a big help."

Wagner admitted that he has had much to learn.

"Some of the pictures I did at Fox were just awful," he said.

Tories Gather for Convention

BLACKPOOL, England (UPI)—The ruling Conservative party, divided and shaken by government scandals, began gathering today for the convention it hopes will settle the political future of Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

Party officials were holding preliminary meetings in this seaside resort today while Macmillan conferred with his cabinet in London.

The convention, the last the Conservatives will hold before they face Harold Wilson's Labor party in general elections, opens tomorrow and winds up Saturday with a speech by Macmillan.

With the election due within the next 12 months, the 69-year-old prime minister has given no indication of his plans — whether he will stay in office and lead the party in the campaign, or will resign in favor of a younger man.

Musicians Again Threaten Strike on Broadway

NEW YORK (AP) — Broadway musicians have renewed their strike threat. A walkout would close 21 stage shows.

Al Manni, president of Local 802 of the American Federation of Musicians, AFL-CIO, said yesterday no new contract offer had been made in mediation talks with the League of New York Theaters.

"We will strike on Monday," he said, unless "something unforeseen happens."

The musicians union's rank-and-file had threatened to strike during the week of Sept. 15, but city and state mediators intervened.

Snake Eyes for Sinatra, the Gambler

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Singer Frank Sinatra, who survives $1.5 million in Nevada gaming interests, says he's going to concentrate on the entertainment field from now on.

He wished the gambling industry good luck in parting. Casinos, he said, make jobs for entertainers and he is all for them. Sinatra announced Monday he would not fight an attempt by the Nevada Gaming Commission to revoke his license. He said he had been planning to pull out for several months.

The commission had been seeking to revoke Sinatra's license on grounds he entertained underworld figure Sam Giancana at Sinatra's Cal-Neva Lodge in Lake Tahoe.

Sinatra's attorney, Harry Calborne, asked the gaming commission in a letter to terminate the singer's license, adding he was withdrawing from the gaming industry.

The singer's withdrawal was expected to end further action by the commission, although technically it still could proceed.

NO USE PERSUADING

"No useful purpose would be served by my devoting my time and energies convincing the Nevada gaming officials that I should be part of their gambling industry," Sinatra said in a statement issued here Monday. The singer was in New York.

A commission spokesman said Sinatra's failure to provide the commission's charges "shall constitute an admission of all matters and facts contained in the complaint."

By failing to file a notice of defense, Sinatra waives all rights to both a hearing before the commission and any judicial review of the commission's decision.

The Gaming Control Board had asked the gaming commission, its parent organization, to revoke Sinatra's gaming license at Cal-Neva and to force him to give up his 9 per cent. interest in the Sands Hotel in Las Vegas.

Sinatra's interest in Cal-Neva was estimated at $3 million, his Sands Hotel holdings at about $300,000.

The five-count charge was filed in Carson City Sept. 11. The board claimed Sinatra played host to Giancana at Cal-Neva, on the California-Nevada state line, during July.

Giancana is one of 11 men listed in the control board's "black book" of men not welcome in Nevada casinos.

The board also claimed Sinatra used "vile, interperate, obscene and indecent language" in a telephone conversation with Edward A. Olsen, gaming commission chairman.

It also charged that a Sinatra aide tried to force money on two control board auditors. The board said it considered the action tantamount to a bribe.

NL Dominates '63 All-Star Team

NEW YORK (U) — Seven National League players, including World Series star Sandy Koufax, and three American League players were named today to the Associated Press Major League All-Star baseball team for 1963.

Koufax, who posted a 25-5 season record and collected two victories in the Dodgers' sweep of the New York Yankees, was the only member of the world champions selected in a vote of 71 baseball writers.

Koufax topped the balloting with 68 votes. The other National League players selected were first baseman Billy White, shortstop Dick Groat and third baseman Ken Boyer, all of the St. Louis Cardinals. Cardinals outfielders Willie Mays of San Francisco and Hank Aaron of Milwaukee, and right-handed pitcher Juan Marichal of the Dodgers; third baseman Ron Santo, Chicago Cubs; outfielder Vada Pinson, Cincinnati; left-handed pitcher Warren Spahn of Milwaukee and right-handed pitcher Jim Maloney, Cincinnati. First baseman Dick Stuart and outfielder Carl Yastrzemski, Boston, and catcher Earl Battey, Minnesota were the American League players on the second team.

SECOND TEAM
The National League also dominated the second team, placing second baseman Jim Gilliam, shortstop Maury Wills and outfielder Tommy Davis of the Dodgers; third baseman Ron Santo, Chicago Cubs; outfielder Vada Pinson, Cincinnati; left-handed pitcher Warren Spahn of Milwaukee and right-handed pitcher Jim Maloney, Cincinnati. First baseman Dick Stuart and outfielder Carl Yastrzemski, Boston, and catcher Earl Battey, Minnesota were the American League players on the second team.

SECOND TEAM
The National League also dominated the second team, placing second baseman Jim Gilliam, shortstop Maury Wills

Aaron, who shared the NL home run crown with San Francisco's Willie McCovey at 44 and captured the RBI title with 130, was runner up to Koufax in the balloting with 67 votes. He was followed by Groat with 65, Howard 63 and Mays, 55.

The only other lefty pitchers besides Koufax to receive votes were Spahn, 2, and the Yankees' Whitey Ford, 1.

Oklahoma No. 1; but Texas Looms

By The Associated Press
The Sooners, their foot ball fortunes on the rebound, will find out in the Cotton Bowl Saturday just how far they've come on the road back from mediocrity.

The mighty Sooners, who dominated college football a decade ago but among the also rans in recent years, will place their best-in-the-anion ranking on the line there against old Texas. A victory would put the Sooners in good shape for a shot at the national title. The rest of the schedule is against Big Eight opponents, against whom Oklahoma has a 9-3-3 record under Coach Bud Wilkinson.

Texas, however, may have something to say about that. The Longhorns, unbeaten in three games and gunning for the national title they forfeited when they lost to Navy last season, have taken over the No. 2 spot in the latest Associated Press poll and have a recent history of success against their favorite foes.

The Longhorns have won the last five games in the old series, with Texas Coach Darrell Royal matching wits with his old boss, Oklahoma's Wilkinson.

Oklahoma was idle last week after scoring victories over Clemson and defending champion Southern California, but held on to the top spot in the poll without trouble, getting 41 first place votes in a total of 54 ballots cast by the AP's special selection board.

Texas, No. 3 a week ago, vaulted over Alabama and into the runner-up spot on the strength of a 34-7 romp over Oklahoma State. Alabama also won its third straight, beating Vanderbilt 41-6.

Texas gained five first place votes and Alabama four, with the Longhorns just edging "Bama" for the No. 2 spot, 435 points to 430 on the basis of 10 for a first place vote, 9 for second, 8 for third and so on.

OTHER CHANGES

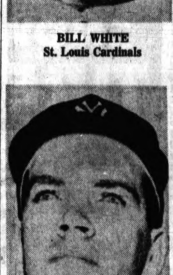

There were a number of other changes in the select list, with only No. 40 Mississippi staying in the same spot. Northwestern and Georgia Tech, fifth and seventh a week ago, dropped from the list and were replaced by Ohio State and Penn State.

Wisconsin, idle last week, dropped from fourth to fifth and was replaced by Navy. The Midlands, defeated Michigan 26-13 for their third straight victory and advanced from sixth place.

Pittsburgh, a 35-15 victor over California, jumped from ninth to sixth and Southern California advanced one notch to seventh with a 13-10 rally over Michigan State.

The top ten, with first place votes in parentheses, are: Oklahoma (40) 435, Texas (34) 430, Southern California (24) 425, Wisconsin (11) 390, Michigan (10) 385, Penn State (9) 380, Ohio State (8) 375, Navy (7) 370, Vanderbilt (6) 365, and Mississippi (5) 360.

Others receiving votes, listed alphabetically: Air Force, Arkansas, Auburn, Duke, Georgia Tech, Illinois, Louisiana State, Minnesota, Nebraska, North Carolina, North Carolina State, Northwestern, Oregon, Oregon State, Purdue.

NHL Campaign to See Canadians Counting on Worsley in Nets

BOSTON (AP) — Montreal unveils the little round man, Gump Worsley, at goal, and Boston takes the wraps off its revamped defense in the 1963-64 National Hockey League opener tonight.

Worsley, unmasked but far from unfamiliar, was the key acquisition by Les Canadiens in a multiplayer trade with New York, which sent goalie Jacques Plante to the Rangers.

In the same deal Montreal also got forwards Dave Balon and Leon Rocheford.

Canadiens have some old time firepower in Boon Boom Geoffrion, Jean Beliveau and Henri Richard, although Dickie Moore has retired.

The question mark for the Montreal "youth movement" is defense. Jean-Guy Talbot, ace of Worsley's supporting cast, is followed by J. C. Tremblay, Jean Gauthier, youngsters Jacques LaPere and Terry Harper, plus March, Resnais, an American leaguer who has had previous NHL shots at Toronto and Detroit.

Ironically, one of the keys to Boston's hopes for a stronger defense is Tom Johnson, drafted from Montreal.

Johnson, who fell out of favor with Montreal fans last season, is the central figure on the defense corps with Leo Bolvin.

They will work with NHL yearlings Teddy Green and Ed Westfall. Rookie Don Awrey and veteran AHL defenseman Bob McCord round out the group.

Another draftee, Andy Hebenton, six-ex-Ranger mate Dean Prentice as sold two years forwards whom Bruins coach Milt Schmidt hopes will give the club more back-checking.

In another move, Schmidt has changed ex-defenseman Doug Mohns to a forward.

Boston, mired in last place for the past three seasons and out of the playoffs for the last four, is staking everything on goalie Ed Johnston who won the job last year. Schmidt is abandoning platooning of goalies.

Boston again will lead off with the Murray Oliver-Johnny Bucyk-Tommy Williams line which accounted for 73 goals in 1962-63.

Chicago opens at home Wednesday against New York and Detroit is at home Thursday to Chicago. Defending champion Toronto opens at home Saturday against Boston.

Pay Day for State

The state of Pennsylvania received $1,907,180.79 from the 50-night summer harness race meeting at Liberty Bell Park in Philadelphia.

SHORT PUNT — Yale Larry, who last week boomed his punts to an average of 52 yards per try against the 49ers, shows the boys entered in the Punt, Pass and Kick program at McAuliffe Ford last night, how it's done. Registrations for the contest close Friday. Boys can enter at any Ford dealer.

Title Bout in Puerto Rico Kenny Lane to Box Ortiz

MUSKEGON (UPI) — Another title fight announcement came from lightweight boxer Kenny Lane's corner yesterday. Lane's manager, Pete Petrosky, said he wired acceptance to promoter Bob Lett in San Juan, Puerto Rico, for a title bout between Lane and champion Carlos Ortiz there the second week in December.

Petrosky said the Ortiz camp offered Lane $10,000, plus three plane tickets to the island and the club more back-checking.

Trotters Gain at Jackson

JACKSON, Mich. — Jackson Harness Raceway began its second full week of racing here Monday night showing an increase of 10 per cent in mutual handle and a boost of 12 per cent in attendance over 1962.

A crowd of 2,100 turned out in ideal weather and saw a locally owned pacer stomp some of the flounder when Guy Christian and Sterling Ray's Minnie Dell turned in a 2:07 1/5 mile in the sixth race.

The daily double combination of 3 and 1 was worth a scant $12.00. In the first race, the 14-year-old pacer, Honey Bonney, driven by Jim Merriman Jr., scored a three-quarter length victory in 2:13 1/4 and returned $5.00, $2.50 and $1.25. It was the fourth win of the year for the veteran side-wheel.

Deadline Is Friday for PPK Entries

Friday is the deadline for all area boys from ages 8 to 11 to register for the Punt, Pass and Kick contest sponsored by local Ford dealers and the National Football League.

In Waterford, with the cooperation of the recreation department, boys can register at Beetle Motor Sales. The Optimist club is helping with registrations at McAuliffe Ford.

Boys registering must be accompanied by parent or guardian and the contest Saturday in Waterford Township will be held at Pierce Junior High starting at 1:00 p.m. In case of rain, it will be delayed until Sunday.

Registrations from McAuliffe will have their finals Tuesday evening October 15th at 6:30 p.m. at Wlmer Stadium.

This Thursday at the Pontiac Boys' Club a clinic and film will be held and all boys and parents are invited to attend. Tom Kennedy is directing the program.

The state winners will compete at Tiger Stadium, Sunday, December 8th in the game between the Lions and Browns and the national champions will be guests of the NFL at the championship game, Sunday, December 29th.

Plan Keg Awards

The American Bowling Congress this season will present awards to bowlers who roll a three-game series of 700 or more.

Wounded 'M' Now Awaiting State Rivals

6 Michigan Starters Hope to Go Against Spartan Eleven

ANN ARBOR (UPI) — A three-way quarterback battle shaped up today on the University of Michigan football team as the Wolverines, kicking their Navy-inflicted wounds, prepared for Saturday's traditional clash with arch-rival Michigan State.

Coach Bump Elliott said senior Bob Chandler, overlooked until injuries made him an emergency substitute, is back in the picture that had included only Frosty Evashevski and Bob Timberlake.

Chandler, pressed into service in the third quarter of the 26-13 loss to Navy last Saturday, caused Elliott to reconsider the quarterback situation.

He clicked on nine of 10 passes and connected with end John Henderson for the Wolverines' two touchdowns.

Six Michigan starters were hurt against the Midlands but Elliott said all probably will face Michigan State.

Tackle Bill Yearby and guard Joe O'Donnell both suffered head injuries while leg injuries injured Timberlake, Evashevski and halfbacks Dick Rinduss and Dick Wells.

O'Donnell was held Monday at the U-M medical center but was expected to rejoin the squad for workouts Wednesday.

LOOKING AHEAD

EAST LANSING (UPI) — Michigan State University football coach Duffy Daugherty wasn't spending much time reminiscing about Friday's 13-10 defeat to Southern California today, but he did predict his squad would snap back to meet arch-rival Michigan this Saturday.

Daugherty wasn't looking for excuses in the Spartans' loss and even denied press reports that Southern Cal had an illegal player downfield on the pass play to Hal Bedsole that saw the Trojans go head of the Spartans in the fourth quarter.

"I don't think there was an illegal receiver downfield," Daugherty said.

Daugherty had more primary worries facing him because he learned only late Sunday that halfback Dewey Lincoln had fractured his jaw on the second play of Friday night's game.

Team physician James Ferrig won't be able to tell whether Lincoln can play against the Wolverines until the swelling goes down.

"We probably won't be able to tell until Wednesday," Daugherty said.

No Unbeatens Will Top List of State 11s

By The Associated Press
Losses by Adrian, Michigan State and Wayne State last weekend ended the state's hopes of having at least one college football team go through the 1963 season undefeated.

Adrian, with a 2-1 record, heads the list which finds only three teams playing better than 500 ball. Central Michigan and Hillsdale are 2-1-1.

Six of the state's 13 colleges are just at the 500 mark, while four others have yet to chalk up a victory.

The combined record of the state's teams is 20-35-3.

Central Michigan's Larry Moore held his lead in the individual scoring race with 20 points on three touchdowns, seven extra points and a field goal.

Ferris State's Emery Welsh is second with 24, while others are tied for third with 10 points each.

Ranked County Elevens Tumble in Weekly Poll

Oakland County area teams ranked in last week's state Associated Press high school football poll took a beating in their last starts and tumbled in the standings.

West Bloomfield, a 26-20 loser to Milford, tumbled from third to seventh in Class B, while Clawson, also a victim, fell from fifth to 12th in the same class.

Royal Oak Shrine, Ferndale, Pontiac Northern dropped out of 10th place in Class A.

Royal Oak Shrine, Ferndale, Pontiac Northern dropped out of 10th place in Class A.

Shrine made its first appearance in the Class B ratings, placing ninth. New Haven held fourth and Emmanuel Christian moved from 16th to 11th in Class C-D.

Walled Lake edged Southfield 19-18, and lost its 10th place tie with PNH in "A."

Last Friday's victory by Lansing Sexton over defending champion Ann Arbor has resulted in quite a race for the No. 1 spot in Class A in this week's AP poll.

Flint Central, a 47-0 victory over Pontiac Central last week, has taken over the top spot by a scant eight poll points over Sexton. Another two points back is Bay City Central.

Bad Axe assumed sole possession of first in Class B after East Grand Rapids was advanced to Class A because of an increase in enrollment.

Kalamazoo St. Augustine held its lead in Class C-D as St. Charles moved into a second place tie with St. Joseph Catholic.

Benton Harbor moved up three places to fifth in Class A, while Lincoln Park made its first appearance, placing 10th.

Ann Arbor stayed in the top 10 as the AP's statewide panel of sports writers and sportscasters put it in eighth place.

Olympic Torch 16 Hours Early

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (U) — Cross country runners carrying a torch from Los Angeles to Detroit arrived in Springfield Monday night about 16 hours ahead of schedule.

A spokesman for the athletes said they planned to jog the 25 miles along U. S. 56 to Lincoln, their next stop, reaching themselves so as to arrive about 7 a. m. they got to Springfield at 8 p. m. (CDT).

An estimated 125 runners from Illinois were to help nearly 1,000 runners get the torch to Detroit by Thursday to promote that city as a proposed site for the 1968 Olympics games.

The liquid petroleum torch, having crossed to Illinois from St. Louis in being carried 311 miles across Illinois to the Chicago area where it is to be passed to Indiana runners. It left Los Angeles Sept. 27.

Chest of National League Inflated

By OSCAR FRALEY
LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The National League is so cocky today over the manner in which the Dodgers walloped the Yankees four straight in the World Series that things threaten never to be the same in their regard for the silenced bombers or the American League.

The boasting has become so arrogant in "El Pueblo de Nuestra Señora la Reina de los Angeles de Porciuncula" — the original full name of the City of the Angels — that it's even hard on the eardrums of a fellow who picked them to win in six games.

Those Dodgers are so high that they have a scheme afoot for selling season tickets to the World Series.

It was only last Friday that the National League came up with a plan allegedly designed to aid the lowly New York Mets and the Houston Colt .45's, who fire more than their share of blanks.

Each of the other teams are to put up four players and the two have-nots will paw over the merchandise in this baseball fire sale.

That the Colts and the Mets are in New York's Mayor Trophy going to let the American League choose five players from each club.

One National League pointed out that the NL's dormant Mets, after all, had beaten the Yankees in New York's Mayor Trophy game and held it possible that over the full season they probably would have won the American League pennant.

That's sublimely ridiculous and would have to be taken with a

SOUVENIRS NOW — Little Paul Blanchard gives his best "What do I do with 'em" look while holding World Series tickets for games five, six and seven. His father, Johnny Blanchard of the Yankees, found the ducats while cleaning out his Yankee Stadium locker yesterday after the Los Angeles Dodgers took the first four games of the 1963 series and clinched the world championship.

Fullmer, 'Voice' Debate Future

Ex-Champ Waging Big Battle

TEANECK, N. J. (AP) — Gene Fullmer is fighting the toughest battle of his life and it's got him hearing things.

A little voice keeps telling him to "try one more fight" and a much bigger voice — Mrs. Fullmer — wants him to call it quits.

While he tries to make up his mind, the former middleweight champion, now 32, bides his time working on his farm and quarter-horse ranch in West Jordan, Utah, and training his brother, Don, for a future shot at the title he once held.

Don, 24, gets a chance to take a step up Wednesday night when he meets Jose Torres in a 10-rounder at the Teaneck Armory. Gene will be in his corner.

Kentucky Works for Titans Next

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — University of Kentucky head coach Charlie Bradshaw put his young Wildcats through a "routine Monday night" practice session, but warned they have their work cut out for them this Saturday against Detroit.

"If Detroit is as versatile as our scouts report," Bradshaw warned, "it will be hard to stop them."

The 'cats who saw the most action in last weekend's heart-breaking 14-13 loss to Auburn were dressed in sweat clothing for Monday night's session.

The 'cats worked principally on their own offensive game and a good defense against expected Detroit plays run by the freshman team.

Hockey Star Still Unsigned

CHICAGO (AP) — Stan Mikita, star center for the Chicago Black Hawks, has not signed a National Hockey League contract and might miss the opening game of the season against the New York Rangers Wednesday night.

Mikita met with general manager Tommy Ivan Monday but the two failed to reach an agreement. Another meeting was scheduled for today.

Mikita, who received a reported $15,000 last season, said the Hawks aren't seeking to cut his salary but rather he is trying to get a raise.

Arnie's Wallet Stretches

DUNEDIN, Fla. (UPI) — Arnold Palmer, the first "hundred grand" pro golfer, has won $127,555 in official PGA earnings this year through last weekend's Whitmarsh Open.

Palmer's $26,000 gained for his Whitmarsh victory put him a considerable distance in front of a bad night. But my wife says maybe the bad nights are just coming more often."

No Teams Perfect in Touch League

None of the six teams boasts an unbeaten, untied record as the Waterford Township Recreation Department men's touch football league enters its third week of play.

The 1963 champions, the Red Raiders, were held to a 12-12 tie last week by Tim's Barber Shop.

This week's schedule (won-lost-tied in parentheses), all haven't set a definite date when I'll make up my mind but it won't be too long.

NO ACTION
"I haven't been in a ring or had a pair of gloves on since the last Tiger fight."

The oldest of the fighting Fullmers brother Jay, a promising lightweight, retired several years ago because of an eye injury. Gene has found it increasingly tougher to get into shape.

Also preying on his mind is the fact that a fighter usually is the last one to know when he's through.

"Everybody hates to admit they've had it," he said. "I know I do. In two of the three Tiger fights the second was a draw, he lost the others. I feel I just had Jim Baggio, Percy Clark, John Carroll, A-Stock Jr., Harry Edwards, John Carroll, Jr. and Tom Anderson."

SHOWDOWN TIME

Showdown time is coming on the area gridiron. This Friday Birmingham Seaholm and Ferndale collide in the Maples stadium with the winner probably going on to win the Eastern Michigan League crown.

The big action comes a week later, starting Oct. 18, when Waller Lake hosts Pontiac Northern for the Inter-Lakes crown.

West Bloomfield and Northville square off for the right to challenge Clarkson for Wayne-Oakland title.

Royal Oak St. Mary can cause a three-way tie in the Northwest Cadillac League by downing Farmington OLS Oct. 20.

Shrine's fine team, rated ninth in Class B this week, upped its record to 3-0 by beating a good Holy Redeemer 7-0. Tim Seymour scored all the points on a 45-yard TD run and a conversion with 34 seconds to play.

All-State center Ron Ranieri was a standout on defense for Shrine, making 30 percent of the tackles. He's a 215-pounder.

St. Frederick coach Bud Duff was dissatisfied Sunday afternoon by the Rams' first half performance at Detroit St. Agatha.

At the intermission they trailed, 20-0.

Duff inserted eight new starters into the lineup for the second half and promptly had results. St. Fred tallied two touchdowns in the final half and held the host team scoreless.

More important, when the game ended the Rams had gained 173 yards, five more than St. Agatha and their best showing in quite A wave of the piskin cap goes to Emmanuel Christian High School and its football team.

The Lancers, starting their fourth season on the gridiron, are on the verge of joining the state's gridiron elite for their class. The Class D Pontiac school is ranked 11th in this week's Associated Press Class C-D poll.

One more big victory could put Emmanuel in the top 10.

Considering that over half of the state's 650 football playing high schools fall in this classification, it is quite a feather in the Lancer helmet.

There is nothing easy about the Emmanuel schedule. The Lancers meet a couple of Class B schools, four in 'C' and three in 'D'.

Coach John Malone's philosophy of the players learning "two or three" positions has paid a dividend. Injuries have handicapped the Lancers, but the coach has always been able to shift his personnel with success. The 4-0 record proves this.

A few games. The touchdown scores for St. Fred were Bob Peoples on a pass from Mike Murphy, and Joe Murphy on a short plunge.

A Murphy-to-Murphy pass set up the latter tally. The brother combination may develop enough to replace last season's Chuck and Mike Dean combination.

British Ryder Cup Golf Team Hopeful

ATLANTA (AP)—"They're not all Palmers," said John Fallon, the slender, red-nosed Scot who captains the British Ryder Cup golf team. "I think we have a very good chance of winning."

Fallon and his proteges have an awesome respect for Arnold Palmer, the all-time money-winning king of American golf, but they don't hesitate to predict they expect to hold their own with the rest of the Yankee lineup in the biennial matches here this weekend.

The British have brought over a 10-man team—the best from all over the Isles—to battle Uncle Sam's top pros in a streamlined series of 32 matches Friday through Sunday over the East Lake course.

"We feel we have an excellent team—just the right percentage of experienced veterans and eager youngsters," Fallon said today. "I fully realize Britain has never won a Ryder Cup match played on American shores. I think this year we might well set a precedent."

The British, who have won only three of the 14 matches played since 1927, are working like beavers over the 6,896-yard par 70 course where the immortal Bob Jones first swung miniature clubs as a tyke.

Playing particularly well are Neil Coles, 28-year-old veteran of the 1961 squad from Surrey; Peter Alliss, son of a famous British professional and at 32 with four Ryder Cup campaigns behind him; and Bernard Hunt, the tall-stylized swinging Englishman whom the Americans regard as the toughest of the invaders. All have had practice rounds of 67 over the tight, rolling layout.

Other holdovers from past teams include Tom Halliburton, 46; Harry Wootman, the dear Englishman who beat Sam Snead in 1953; Christy O'Connor, the laughing Irishman; and Dave Thomas, the 6-foot-2 Welshman who is one of the longest drivers in the game.

NEW FACES

Newcomers are George Will, a young Scotsman; Bernard Hunt's brother, Geoff, and Brian Huggett, a 26-year-old Welshman who is the son of a golf professional. The stocky, rugged Huggett is said to be a tough match competitor.

The U.S. team is headed by Palmer, who is playing captain, and include U.S. open champion Julius Boros, Dow Finsterwald, Bill Casper and Gene Littler, all Ryder Cup veterans, plus newcomers Tony Lema, Bob Goalby, Billy Maxwell, Johnny Pott and Dave Ragan Jr.

Eight 18-hole fourstroke matches in which players hit alternate shots, will open the series Friday, followed by eight 18-hole best-ball matches Saturday and 16 individual duels Sunday. The lineups will be announced later.

Aussies Moving Mast of Gretel to Gain Speed

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—Gretel, Australia's challenger for the last America's Cup yacht race, is being altered to make her better, faster boat, her designer, Alan Payne, said today.

The main change, the Sydney nautical architect said, was to move the 90-foot aluminum mast 10 inches toward the bow. This in turn, enabled three feet to be cut off the stern, saving 100 pounds of useless weight, Payne said.

This is the second movement of the mast — it was moved 19 inches forward on the eve of the cup races in which Weatherly beat Gretel 4-1 last year off Newport, R. I.

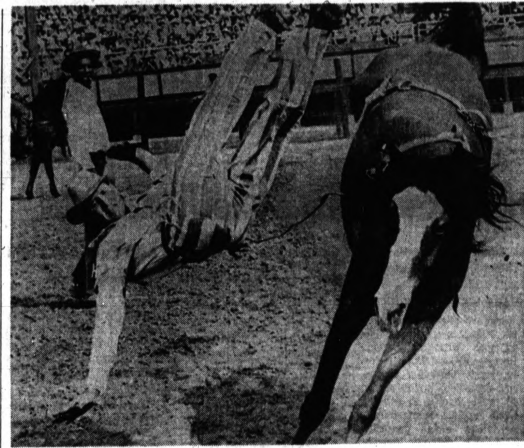

Payne said the same thing as he is doing to Gretel was done to Weatherly in the winter before the 1962 races.

Tipped Field Goal Pistons' Downfall

STREATER, Ill. (AP)—Gus Johnson tipped in a field goal in the final three seconds, giving the Baltimore Bullets a 109-108 exhibition basketball victory over the Detroit Pistons Monday night.

Johnson's basket came seconds after Detroit had gone ahead on Willie Jones' free throw. Terry Dischinger's 24 points were high for Baltimore, now 6-3 in exhibition play. Detroit, finishing pre-season play with a 1-4 record, was led by Bailey Howell's 24 points.

MONDAY'S FIGHT RESULTS
BALT. LAKE CITY—Tony Doyle vs. Tony Danza, knocked out Jim Beatty, 1st round, 1:10. Don Smith, 2nd round, 1:10. Don Smith, 3rd round, 1:10. Don Smith, 4th round, 1:10. Don Smith, 5th round, 1:10.

NO CUSHION — The 32nd annual Texas Prison Rodeo opened at Huntsville over the weekend before 20,000 spectators. This convict would have found his parting from the

Browns to Invade New York

NFL Giants Take Over Yankee Stadium

NEW YORK (AP)—The workmen were doing a quick-change job on the sign at Yankee Stadium when the New York Giants moved in.

They were taking down a sign that said something about "World Series, Wed., 1 p.m." and replacing it with one advertising the impending arrival of Mr. James Brown of the Cleveland Browns.

The Giants, who had been working out at Fordham while the other tenants were involved in some sort of an affair with a West Coast delegation, moved their gear into the stadium Monday and were to hold their first practice session there today.

A portion of it involved going over four cans of films on the games of the Cleveland Browns, the current eastern division leaders, who will furnish the opposition for the Giants' National Football League home opener Sunday.

It's a big one. The winner will be favored to win the division title. Cleveland, powered by Jimmy Brown and guided by Frank Ryan, has a 4-4 record. The Giants, defending eastern champs, are 3-1, all on the road.

The Giants, expected to be healthy for the first time this season, are slight favorites for this first of two meetings with the Browns this season. The game has been a sell-out for weeks.

The feature attraction will be the Giants' attempt — particularly the efforts of middle-linebacker Sam Huff — to slow down Brown.

The 230-pound fullback, five-time rushing leader and the league record holder, is off to his best start ever. The Giants will key their defense on him and probably assign Huff to him personally.

MORE DANGEROUS

"Brown has been running to the outside much more often than he did in the past," Giant coach Allie Sherman said. "That makes him even more dangerous than usual."

"He always had the speed of a fast halfback as well as the muscles of a fullback."

Brown, who holds the league rushing record of 1,327 yards for a season, had carried 78 times for 664 yards, an average of 8.5 per carry and 166 a game. He's caught five passes for another 115 yards and has scored a league-leading seven touchdowns.

"Our line has been opening the holes for Jimmy," Cleveland coach Blanton Collier said. "No one can do it all on his own. He has received some key blocks downfield, too. While our blocking is by no means perfect, it is improving each game."

Frank Ryan has taken charge at quarterback for the Browns and has thrown nine touchdowns passes in Cleveland victories over Washington, Dallas, Los Angeles and in the important 35-23 victory over Pittsburgh last week.

The Giants' only loss was a humiliating 31-0 blanking by the Steelers when old Y. A. Tittle was out of action with injuries. He's returned to lead the Giants over Philadelphia and Washington the last two weeks.

Takes Weekly Honors

NEW YORK (UPI) — Roger Staubach, who put on the greatest one-man show in Naval Academy football history last Saturday, today was selected to the weekly all-east major college team for the second time.

Heading the list of interior linemen on the team chosen by the Eastern College Athletic who was named to a tackle Conference was an unused hero Joe Buesing of Rhode Island, week.

INTRODUCING THE DEPENDABLES FOR '64

Compact families, if you've grown larger... Dart's for you Something new in compacts! Family-size fun. Dart is a fresh new compact in the large economy size.

Dart's a little bigger outside, a lot roomier and more comfortable inside. A bigger engine under the hood, a lot more fun on the open road. And bringing up the rear? A whopping trunk with more usable luggage space than many full-size cars.

Yet Dart is a compact. You can rely on the great gas mileage. By the way it slips into skippy parking spaces. And by its small compact price. In short, few compacts cost less than Dart. Not one gives you so much for the money. So head for your Dodge dealer and try Dart on your family for size. Three series, nine new models. With each, you get a 5-year/50,000-mile warranty.*

*THE DEPENDABLE 5-YEAR/50,000-MILE WARRANTY—Chrysler Corporation warrants, for 5 years or 50,000 miles, whichever comes first, against defects in materials and workmanship and will replace or repair a Chrysler Motors Corporation Authorized Dealer's plans of business, the engine block, head and internal parts, intake manifold, water pump, transmission case and internal parts (excluding manual clutch), torque converter, drive shaft, universal joints, rear axle and differential, and rear wheel bearings of its 1964 compacts, provided the owner has complied with every 2 months or 4,000 miles, whichever comes first, the oil filter replaced every second oil change and the car is taken to such a dealer evidence of performance of the required service, and requests the dealer to certify (1) receipt of such evidence and (2) the car's then current mileage.

Wrinkles Defied by Memory

Remember When...? You Do? Oh, Oh!

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (KAP)—It is hard to tell the age of men and women today.

There is a conspiracy to stay young.

Gray hair is tinted, cosmetics give a youthful complexion, diets keep figures trim, and—for those who can afford it—plastic surgeons remove tattle-tale wrinkles.

But no matter how skillfully you camouflage your exterior, you have a secret betrayer within. That is your memory. And it will quickly give away your real age anytime you succumb to the temptation of re-living old times.

Certainly you're no longer a spring chicken if you can remember when—

John Barrymore became one of the first actors in history to buy a yacht.

OL' CASE
Casey Stengel was a madcap outfielder for the New York Giants.

Red Grange kept in shape for football by delivering ice in the summer.

There were two things you could be sure of: Nobody would ever climb Mt. Everest, and no man would ever run a 4-minute mile.

Girls wore dresses so short you could see their rolled stockings on a breezy day.

Nobody ever whipped the New York Yankees four in a row during a World Series.

A pet dog ate the scraps from the family table, and didn't require a special menu of its own.

Most workmen wore white shirts only on Saturday night and Sundays.

PH. WEEEEE!
The biggest goal of a small boy was to learn to whistle shrilly through his teeth with two fingers stuck in his mouth.

Young ladies used to sit in the backyard with a towel wrapped around their necks and let the hot sun dry their long hair—which, naturally, they washed themselves.

When you wanted to get someone on the phone, you first cranked it.

Everybody broke out crying when the telephone boy knocked on the door. You knew for sure the message was probably news of a death or illness of some loved one far away.

When anyone was sick in the house, neighbor women always baked fresh bread and sent it over.

A lad's knowledge that his grandpa was old and might die at any time was compensated for by the hope that he might get the old man's watch.

R'S, SA AND GA
Children studied reading, writing and arithmetic in school—instead of social adjustment and group adaptability.

Ruffians hesitated about trying to steal the purses of little old ladies, because little old ladies also had long, needle-sharp hatpins.

Any town that didn't have at least two pool halls was really only a village.

A man could always get a free drink from a political candidate on election day.

Remember? If you do, don't admit it—or everyone under 40 will either put you down as a contemporary of Methuselah, or think you're still in mourning for William B. McKinley.

Addition of 15 per cent nickel and 5 per cent zinc to gold produces white gold.

Although most systems still play the jump to three of partner's suit by an unpassed hand as a game force, the examples are always in the major suits. Somehow or other no one really likes to play the minor suit jump as anything, but a strong invitation to further bidding.

For years the western players have played this way and it is only with the majors that they are just coming around to playing limit bids.

It is necessary to have some way to handle the forcing raise of a major and after years of experimentation I have come around to using two-trump as this forcing raise by an unpassed hand.

This means that the normal two-trump response cannot be used, but I have never found any great use for it anyway and it does come in mighty handy at the forcing raise because it leaves lots of room for exploration below game.

In the Jacoby system the jump to four by an unpassed hand remains just as in other systems. A hand that should produce game and that has little defense against the opponents and little chance for a slam unless opener really has lots of control cards.

South has 17 high card points and a pretty good six card suit. Most any strong bid by North should suggest a slam, but not the jump to four spades.

South misses three aces and there is little chance that North will hold two of them, so South passes and settles for the game.

Waterford Schools Gain 3 New Teacher Positions

Three new positions have been created this fall to strengthen the education program in Waterford Township elementary schools.

All 34 of the elementary school buildings share the facilities of the materials center. Miss Parent will conduct staff meetings and workshops for physical education resource instructors in the elementary school buildings. Areas of study will include organized games, physical fitness and movement exploration.

Miss Sally Parent, who taught physical education for two years in Detroit, joined the Waterford Township staff last month to coordinate the physical education program in the lower grades.

Miss Mitchell's main duties are assisting teachers in classroom management and in the elementary school reading program.

Mrs. Mohoke works with library resource personnel in all elementary schools as coordinator of the library program.

Waterford teachers utilize a variety of materials and methods in helping children learn to read better.

Why Can't They Speak 2 Languages?
Xvwxt Pstuwxt Gxwvbsqt?

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI)—When administration officials appear before congressional committees to seek funds for the foreign

amount of hostility.

Why do they have so much trouble getting their points across to Congress? I believe

caused by a language barrier.

If the witnesses spoke

Hausa and the committee members spoke Urdu, they could call in some interpreters and get along very

they both speak English.

Speaking the same language can seriously impair communication, as we shall see as we examine a volume of testimony

subcommittee on Foreign Aid

Appropriations.

As we tune in on the hearing, subcommittee Chairman

Otto E. Passman, D-La., and

Rep. William E. Minshall, R-

Gen. Stephen O. Fuqua Jr.

about the purchase of some air-

program.

Passman: How many Cessna

185 aircraft did you request last year in the 1963 budget?

HORSE AHEAD

Passman: We want to keep the horse ahead of the car this

quested.

Fuqua: There were no

185's. There were 15 180's requested last year.

Minshall: How much did you

Fuqua: Cessna 185's cost $18,-

000.

Minshall: How much did you pay for the 180's?

Fuqua: We did not buy any 180's.

Minshall: You just said 180.

FACE NEWSMEN — Mme. Ngo Dinh Nhu (right) South Viet Nam's fiery first lady and sister-in-law of President Ngo Dinh Diem, and her daughter, Ngo Dinh Le Thuy, talk to newsmen upon their arrival at New York's Idlewild Airport yesterday. Mme. Nhu plans a speech-making tour in this country.

U.S. 'Invaded' by Mme. Nhu

NEW YORK (AP) — Mrs. Ngo Dinh-Nhu, the acid-tongued first lady of South Viet Nam, has arrived in the United States "to try to understand why we can't get along better."

Mrs. Nhu, accompanied by one of her four children, daughter Le Thuy, 18, arrived at Idlewild Airport Monday night for a three-week American speaking tour.

Mrs. Nhu, 38, denied an assertion by her father, Tran Van Chuong, that she is power-hungry. "If I'm power hungry, she told newsmen at the airport, 'I would not have the confidence of the Viet Nam government. I would betray the Viet Nam government if I were power hungry.'"

Before her arrival, she was denounced as "irresponsible and arrogant" by Sen. Stephen Young, D-Ohio, and as "one of the potentially dangerous figures in the world today" by Rep. Silvio O. Conte, R-Mass.

DETROIT (AP)—South Viet Nam's outspoken First Lady, Mrs. Ngo Dinh Nhu, is scheduled to appear on WWJ television's "Town Meeting" Oct. 21.

Young told the Senate Mrs. Nhu has been guilty of using "a serpent's tongue" to spread "vicious and poisonous anti-American utterances."

WANTS VISA CANCELED
He urged the State Department to cancel her visitor's visa and ask her bachelor brother-in-law, President Ngo Dinh Diem, to recall her.

Conte told the House that U.S. aid to South Viet Nam may be paying for her "expensive hairdos and wild shopping binges in Rome, Paris and elsewhere."

Pickup of Leaves Under Way in City

The pickup of leaves from the gutters is under way by the Department of Public Works in Pontiac.

Only leaves falling between the sidewalk and curb may be raked into the gutters. Others may be placed in containers for pickup on regular trash collection days.

Clyde Christian, DPW superintendent, warned residents it is against a city ordinance to burn leaves in the street.

Five-Year Extension Approved by Voters

Waterford Township voters yesterday approved a five-year extension of a 10-mil operating levy in a special school election.

Approximately 14 per cent of the school district's 22,000 registered voters went to the polls as the proposal passed by a margin of 442 votes.

A total of 1,730 votes favored the millage issue while 1,288 opposed it.

A majority favored the proposal in each of the eight school precincts.

The only close tally was registered at the Waterford Center Precinct where 218 "yes" votes were recorded compared to 209 against the millage renewal.

30 PER CENT OF BUDGET
The approved millage extension represents approximately 30 per cent of the school system's total operating budget.

Based on a school district valuation of about $113 million, the mills would yield $11.3 million in revenue.

A relatively light voter turnout coupled with the fact that only one proposal was on the ballot enabled voters to tally the total vote by 9 p.m., just an hour after the polls closed.

FBI Starts Quiz Into Affairs of Senate Democratic Aide

WASHINGTON (AP)—The FBI has launched an investigation into the business affairs of Robert G. Baker, 36, who resigned his $19,600 a year post as secretary to the Democratic majority in the Senate.

A Justice Department source disclosed the investigation shortly before Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield announced Baker's resignation yesterday.

The inquiry apparently began with allegations in a $300,000 civil damage suit that charged Baker with using his office to help win contracts with a government defense subcontractor for an automatic vending machine company with which he had financial dealings.

Baker was to have met with Senate leaders of both parties yesterday afternoon but turned in his resignation before the meeting.

JOHNSON PROTEGE
A former Senate page who came here from Pickens, S.C., Baker was named secretary of the majority eight years ago when Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson was Senate majority leader. He reportedly was a Johnson protégé.

Baker's wife is also on the government payroll, serving as records manager for the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee at $11,800 a year.

Manfield said in a statement that Baker had "discharged his responsibility to the majority with great intelligence and understanding" and that "his great ability and his dedication to the majority and to the Senate will be missed."

"Developments during the past few weeks, however, have made it appear to him that it would be best if he withdrew from office," Manfield added.

REGRETS NECESSARY
"He has acted, as was to be expected of those who know him, in what he believes are the highest interests of the Senate and the majority. I deeply regret the necessity for his resignation and the necessity for its acceptance."

Manfield declined to go beyond his statement except to say "it's been a most difficult situation."

There was no immediate comment from Baker.

Assistant Democratic Leader

Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota who sat in at the meeting after which Baker's resignation was announced, said the Democratic majority, who had chosen him, did not request his resignation.

Among the other senators at the session were Wayne Morse, D-Ore., Clinton P. Anderson, D-N.M., George A. Smathers, D-Fla., Warren Magnuson, D-Wash., Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois and Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., who has been conducting his own inquiry into Baker's business activities.

"I was disappointed that Bobby did not come to the meeting to answer some questions," said Williams.

Francis R. Valeo, 47, administrative assistant to the majority leader, was assigned by Mansfield to take over Baker's duties. Valeo increased their protection because of anonymous telephone tips that a bomb would be planted in the hearing room.

Chief U.S. Marshal James McShane said the FBI had received several telephone tips here and in New York that a bomb would be planted and also that several spectators in the audience would try to shoot Valachi if they got a chance.

McShane said the marble-columned Senate caucus room, scene of the hearings, was searched this morning and no bomb was found.

The guard of U.S. marshals that flanks Valachi as he walks down the hall and sits behind him in the hearing room was strengthened, McShane said. He said spectators carrying briefcases and cameras were asked to leave them outside the room.

News photographers were asked not to congregate directly in front of the witness table as they had been doing. "It makes him kind of nervous," McShane said, referring to the witness.

McShane said other precautions were taken which he would rather not describe at this time.

PLACED PRICE

Off to one side of the room, as Valachi testified, was a 20-foot high wooden framework supporting four rolled-up chairs.

The sessions was billed in advance as dealing with hundreds of top criminals and members of La Cosa Nostra, the secret crime organization Valachi says he belonged to.

The rolled up chairs were rigged with ropes so they could be unrolled from the hall.

GENERAL NATURE
The subcommittee's chairman, Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., said he had been informed of the general nature of the bombing and shooting tips but had no details. He said he planned to proceed as usual with the hearings.

Valachi seemed tense as he was hustled into the hearing room by a big squad of marshals and seated at the witness table. He had dyed his hair red in an effort to disguise himself in jail, but evidently is letting his hair return to its natural iron gray.

Resolution Bearing 35 Names Introduced in Michigan House

From Our News Wire
LANSING—Gov. George Romney's chief legislative spokesman and three other Republican senators joined the movement yesterday to put a constitutional ceiling on any statewide income tax.

The name of Sen. Stanley Thayer, R-Ann Arbor, the Senate majority leader, and three others were added to the list of sponsors of a resolution originally introduced by Sen. Emil Lockwood, R-St. Louis.

At the same time, a resolution bearing 35 names — approximately 20 of them Republicans — was introduced toward the same purpose in the House.

A two-thirds majority vote of both houses is required to put a constitutional amendment to a referendum vote.

ROMNEY PROPOSALS
Romney has proposed a 2 per cent income tax on personal income, a 3½ per cent tax on corporate income and a ½ per cent tax on financial institutions as part of his two-point tax program.

Although he did not call for setting limits, the governor has said he would not oppose a constitutional amendment to have them submitted to a general vote.

Romney said, however, that he would resist an effort to call for a referendum on the tax reform program itself, or on tax rates. He has termed 5 per cent a "reasonable figure" for a top limit on the personal income tax.

Lockwood's resolution would put a vote a proposal to set constitutional limits of 5 per cent on personal income taxes, 7½ per cent on corporate taxes and 10 per cent on financial institutions taxes.

A Tree Grows in Lansing ... or Does It?

LANSING (AP) — When Rep. Russell Hellman, D-Houghton, journeyed down from the Upper Peninsula for the special session, he brought along a small decorated Christmas tree and said he was prepared for Gov. Romney's special session to last that long.

Members of the House complained then that the diminutive tree was not large enough, but Rep. Hellman assured them it would grow by the time Christmas rolled around.

And true to Rep. Hellman's word the tree has grown during the 12-day recess for tax hearings around the state. In fact it has more than doubled in size and changed from a balsam to a Scotch pine, with the help of some humorous prankster.

When faced with the new tree on his desk, Hellman replied, "It has grown because there is so much fertilizing material around here."

"In fact it has been converted from a balsam to a pine. Let's hope it doesn't turn into a Republican."

Area Scientists Sight Sunspot

Yesterday was quite a day at the McMath-Hulbert Observatory at Lake Angelus. The staff identified a sunspot, signaling a new cycle of solar activity.

The sunspot, larger than the earth, is the second to be reported in the world in the last month and a half.

The detection of the sunspot is important since it reveals the approach of a period of minimum activity on the sun.

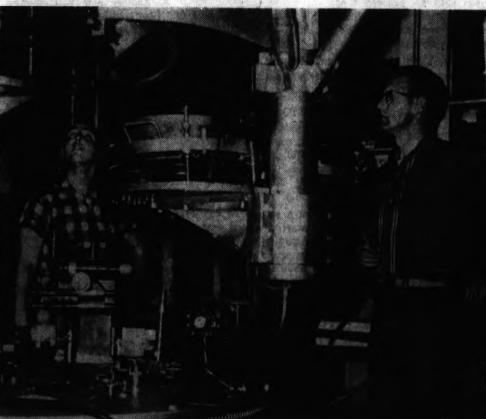

Beginning Jan. 1 a cooperative international program will be undertaken to study solar-terrestrial conditions brought about by this relative inactivity on the sun.

QUICK SUN
This will be known as the Year of the Quiet Sun.

The first report of a new cycle spot was made by Professor M. Waldmeier of the Solar Observatory in Zurich, Switzerland.

This report came Aug. 28 and was one of the seven days since May 1 that the weather in the Pontiac area was so cloudy that solar observations could not be made here.

AT OBSERVATORY — A sunspot of the new 11½-year cycle of solar activity was sighted yesterday by Andrew DeRader (right) of the University of Michigan's McMath-Hulbert Observatory and confirmed by George Bergey

MAKE OVER-PAGERS Government Poison Fish Source

DETROIT (AP) — Government investigators hunted with test tubes today for the source or sources of poisoned smoked whitefish blamed for four deaths in two states.

A Michigan producer of smoked whitefish held off on further operation after ordering the destruction of all its distributed stock.

Two deaths from deadly botulism Monday in Tennessee — following by six days two similar deaths in Michigan — led to the precautions.

Eight other persons were ill in Tennessee, one critically.

At least seven of the victims had eaten smoked whitefish, medical authorities said.

The Federal Food and Drug Administration at Washington ordered tests of Michigan whitefish samples at its laboratories in Detroit.

At the Lake Michigan port of Grand Haven, the firm of H. J. Dornbos & Bros., which has produced smoked whitefish for 70-odd years, suspended work pending results of the inquiry.

Three national food store chains — A&P, National Food, and Kroger — ordered the product removed from shelves of their stores.

Harold Dornbos, president of the Michigan fisheries company, said he closed his plant voluntarily before the imposition of an embargo on his inventory by the Michigan State Department of Agriculture.

DOING EVERYTHING
"What a horrible, horrible thing. We are doing everything that can be done," Dornbos said.

The Tennessee deaths were those of David S. Cohen, 35, Knoxville, May 10.

Chester O. Mitchell, 64, and his wife, Blanche, 63, a Kalamazoo, Mich., couple, died last Wednesday.

The Dornbos firm, founded in 1889, distributed its smoked whitefish in vacuum-sealed plastic bags with red and white labels.

The bags, marked "ready to eat," bore the company name and instructions to "keep under refrigeration."

The Mitchells died after eating an unidentified smoked whitefish on a vacation trip to northern Michigan.

CHAIN MARKETS
Tennessee health officers said Cohen and his daughter, as well as others who became ill, had eaten Dornbos' smoked whitefish purchased at chain markets.

Harold Dornbos, whose company was founded by his grandfather and handed down through the family, was shocked at word of the Tennessee deaths. Most of the whitefish cubs netted on Lake Michigan and Lake Huron are sold to the company for smoking.

Its distribution area extends to the east and to Miami, Fla., Dallas, and Minneapolis.

Gillis questioned whether the income tax proposal was constitutional because the bill referred to federal law when computing exemptions. Gillis said the 1968 state constitution prohibited imposing a tax which relied on another tax law for its basis.

Kelley also was asked whether counties could use any motor vehicle registration fee and they collected for purposes other than highway uses. Romney proposed that any registration fee levied by use to finance county services or possibly to alleviate property taxes.

3RD QUESTION
In his third question, Gillis asked whether the beer tax exemption proposed, which would apply only to Michigan breweries, would conflict with the commerce clause of the U.S. Constitution.

With the names of Thayer, Sens, William Milliken, R-Traverse City; Frederic Hilbert, R-Wayland; and Lester Begick, R-Bay City, added to the list, it brought total sponsorship of the resolution to nine.

This is better than a third of the 23 Republicans who control the Senate.

Thayer, in addition to serving as Senate spokesman for the governor, is the leader of the GOP's so-called "moderates." Milliken and Hilbert both are identified with the same group.

Actress to Resume Role
LONDON (AP) — Actress Vivien Leigh said today she has recovered sufficiently from her bout of nervous exhaustion to fly back to the right and the left-wing approach New York yesterday and resume her role in the musical "Tovarich" on Oct. 16.

Nephew said most Romney club members "are political amateurs who are convinced that Romney represents the common-sense middle road between the right-wing approach of Goldwater and the left-wing approach of Nelson Rockefeller."

George A. Zimmerman of Dallas, Tex., national chairman of the Romney clubs, says the organization is active in 18 states.

FAVORITE SON
Romney has said he is not a candidate for the GOP nomination and does not intend to be, but the Michigan club will try to persuade the governor to enter himself as a favorite-son candidate, Nepheus said.

"We are going to snow under the Goldwater (Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz.) Committee in Michigan," he said.

FLORA SURVIVORS — Waving frantically to Miami Herald photographer Doug Kenney are survivors from a demolished town in Haiti, hit by Hurricane Flora last week. Haitian officials estimated the death toll at 4,000, yesterday. The storm continues its fury near Cuba today.

4,000 Believed Dead in Haiti shore of the arm 40 miles west of Port au Prince. Like Jacmel, it caught the full fury of the storm. CARE sent 3,000 pounds of relief supplies to Petit Goeve.

Also hard hit were the port of St. Marc, with a population of 10,500 about 45 miles northwest of Port au Prince, and Aquin, a town of 2,000 some 70 miles west of the capital.

Haitian officials said 90 percent of farms, factories and homes were destroyed in the storm area. They said destruction was complete on many coffee, rice and banana plantations, which produce Haiti's principal crops.

Girard Philipeaux, minister of health and social welfare, estimated two-fifths of the country was devastated. He made the first call for outside help through Fred Devine, CARE's representative in Haiti.

In response, the U.S. Navy sent the Lake Champlain to Port au Prince. Naval officers worked with Haitian officials to expedite relief.

One of the major threats was an epidemic. Floods polluted water supplies and cut off power. The magnitude of the task of relief was multiplied by the floods. Nearly all roads in Haiti were reported cut at some point by rivers that surged far out of their banks.

tory of the University of Michigan, 894 N. Lake Angelus Road, sighted its first sunspot of the new 11-year cycle of solar activity between 9:30 and 10:30 a.m. yesterday.

For a spot to be considered the start of a new cycle it is necessary to know that the polarities of the sunspots (sites of magnetic fields at lower temperatures than the rest of the surface of the sun) are reverse of what they were in the previous period.

If, in one period, the spots on the northern hemisphere of the sun are positively charged and those on the southern hemisphere are negatively charged, the reverse will be true in the next period.

Dr. Richard Teske and Clifford Bennett confirmed the new cycle studying the magnetic characteristics of the newly formed spot with a spectrograph.

'New' WKC Reopens, Fulfilling Owner's Vow

A store that flames couldn't put out of business last January has reopened with a modern look that belies its 35-year past.

At WKC, 108 N. Saginaw, shoppers will find an enlarged department store with 3,000 more feet of floor space, the latest fixtures, and some new ideas in merchandising.

The "new" store is the result of a fire last Jan. 7 which made a shell of the building. As the debris was still smoking, Jack J. Wainger, WKC president and founder, promised to rebuild.

Surveying the new WKC, Wainger reaffirmed that "As business people, we are firm believers in the stability and future of business not only in downtown Pontiac, but all downtown business areas."

"We are well aware of trends to move sales outlets to suburban areas," Wainger said, "and we don't ignore the proven value of these adjusted markets."

"But we're sold on the stability of downtown business and we're happy and proud to open a store that will enhance the general business climate of Pontiac."

The WKC building has undergone a complete remodeling from steel structure outward, explained manager Bert Pauer.

Unseen behind the concrete walls, the floors, and modern light fixtures is the latest in fireproofing.

The rear portion of the store has been enlarged, and customers who park in the rear lot will find a nearly lower level entrance.

Another new WKC feature is floor and wall displays that put merchandise and appliances directly before shoppers, rather than hidden by showcases.

WKC was founded in 1928, a few doors away from its present location. The store prospered, and Wainger went on to acquire control of Grinnell Bros. music store chain and factory and Wright-Kay jewelers.

Store remodeling was designed by Way-See Associates, with interior design by Jacob Holleman Associates, both of Birmingham, Taubman & Co., Detroit, did construction work.

Lava Flow of 1½ Miles Unleashed by Volcano
HILO, Hawaii (AP)—The weekend eruption of a crater of Kilauea volcano which had been inactive for 123 years released 8 million cubic yards of lava in a flow a mile and a half long, scientists reported Monday.

The eruption, which now appears to be forest, spilled lava into the Puna forest reserve and got within seven miles of Pahoa village of 400.

Contracts Awarded for Drain Projects

BIRMINGHAM — Dry basements in three sections of the city came one step closer to reality last night when the City Commission awarded contracts for relief services.

The Ruffner, South Elton and Cummings drain projects are expected to be completed before the spring rains.

A $131,194 contract for the South Elton drain was awarded to S. Weisman Excavating Co., Inc. of Detroit. The firm offered the lowest of 12 bids.

The Ruffner and Cummings construction went to Sugden, Inc., of Oak Park, lowest of 13 bidders. The job is to cost $75,388.

The city will pay for 15 percent of both projects with the rest financed through special assessment.

Commissioners last night also agreed to purchase $8,331 worth of equipment for a golf course irrigation system from Sprinkler Irrigations Supply Co.

AT NEW COURSE
The system will be installed at the new municipal golf course and recreation area on Cranbrook Road.

The contracting firm has agreed to instruct city employees in the installation of the equipment, which is to begin within the next few days.

The auto accident pace in Birmingham increased at a fast rate during the first three-quarters of the year, according to Ralph W. Moxley, chief of police.

Moxley noted that property damage accidents rose 17 percent, reaching a total of 590 for the first nine months of 1963.

Personal injury accidents climbed 11 percent with the number of persons injured increasing 15 percent.

Agents have also noted fatalities this year, while there had been none at this time last year.

Joseph C. Mahannah, 73, of 101 St. Andrews, died today after a long illness. His body is at the Manley Bailey Funeral Home.

Mr. Mahannah was a retired executive for Kelsey-Hayes Wheel Co., Detroit; a member of the Methodist Church of Memphis, Tenn.; the Memphis Masonic Lodge, Shrine and Scottish Rite.

Surviving are his wife Fannie; a daughter, Mrs. William T. Applegate of Clarkston; and four grandchildren.

Palmer G. Bundy, president and founder of Bundy Construction Co., died this morning in Pontiac General Hospital after a one-day illness.

Service will be at 2 p.m. Thursday in Sparks-Griffin Chapel with Dr. Harold C. DeWindt of Kirk in the Hills officiating.

Surviving are his wife, Mary Angela; and his mother, Mrs. Margaret Bundy of Watkins Lake, Waterford Township.

The family suggests friends make any memorials to their favorite charity.

Mr. Bundy, one of the city's best loved businessmen, was born Feb. 25, 1917 in Redford. Coming to Pontiac in 1948, he started in business for himself as founder of the Bundy Construction Co.

It was Mr. Bundy and his company who were in charge of construction of the new Oakland County Court House. He was currently working with Dr. DeWindt and his congregation in building the new Kirk Abbey.

REYNOLDS first came to the Pontiac Press in 1927 and served until 1933. He returned in 1940, and most recently has been assistant composing room foreman.

He is an avid golfer and a member of Pontiac Elks Lodge 810. Two of his three sons are married, another is an Air Force officer, and a step-daughter resides at home.

Reynolds' promotion has led to the advancement to assistant foreman of William Triplett, Alan Crawford and Robert Kogovitz, while Devere Bigler has been named new night foreman.

Veterans' Widows Get Boost in Benefits
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Approximately 122,700 widows of men who died during or as a result of military service will get increases averaging from 8 to 10 percent in their compensation checks, effective at once.

The raise resulted from a general military pay boost that became law last week and a separate widows' benefits bill that was signed into law by President Kennedy yesterday.

Romney Group to Hold Session

DETROIT (AP) — Regional leaders of a movement to draft Michigan Gov. Romney for the 1964 Republican presidential nomination plan to hold their first national-level strategy session here Nov. 1.

Club leaders from the Midwest, Southwest and Far West will attend, said Henry Nephew of Wayne, head of the Michigan George Romney for President Club.

Observations on People

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor
NEW YORK — Some observations on the American scene:

It actually happened in a supermarket during a Saturday afternoon traffic jam of carts and cart pushers. Two women, apparently sisters, counted the items in the one grocery cart they were pushing as they moved forward in an express checkout lane plainly marked for "Five items or less."

They counted eight items, consulted, and then one of the pair sallied forth to get a second cart — empty. Swiftly, three items were transferred to the second basket, making the two eligible for the express checkout lane.

But the speed lane jammed suddenly, so another conference was held, and one pointed out that now the regular lane next to them was moving more rapidly than express.

CHANGED AGAIN

Before you could say, "Detergent," the three items were repiled into the original cart and the pair moved into a regular lane.

The strategy worked. They beat the shopper, at first ahead of them in express line out of the store by three customers.

One wise female of our acquaintance has figured a way to mark the keys on her husband's chain so he never has trouble knowing which key will open the front door. She splashed red nail polish on the keys which count the most.

Anyone want to join STAM?

It's an organization some of us working women are thinking of founding. STAM would stand for the Society to Abolish Mondays.

Why is it that those who pride themselves on being on time find themselves always waiting on the laggards? But let the person who traditionally is prompt for an appointment run late just once, and the one he or she is to meet is right there on the dot waiting!

I worry about Johnny's future in spelling and grammar as well as in reading when I see highway signs which warn "Slow" and "Drive Slow."

HOME HELPERS

A neighbor, looking at the reconditioning her household needs for fall and winter, sighed, "Why don't they invent pushbutton slipcovers and draperies?"

Another neighbor, staring at blank walls she never has figured how to decorate properly, suggested that to go with all the other "instants" on the market there should be instant art collections.

Discouraging to the weight watchers in the family are the tailor's markings on a new suit for the teen-aged stepson, taller than six feet and so thin you'd never picture him as polishing off two cheeseburgers, two glasses of milk and cherry pie for lunch. The markings read, "Waist, take in," "Seat, take in," "Coat sides, taken in."

Q: Will you please tell me if it is correct to use both hands while eating? I am a European and when I eat I hold the knife in my right hand and the fork in my left hand and convey the food to my mouth with the fork in my left hand.

I have been told that this is not correct here in America and that I should change the fork to my right hand after cutting a piece of meat.

Will you please advise me as I am anxious to conform to the ways of this country.

A: Using both hands as you do while eating is absolutely correct. Many Americans do switch the fork from the left hand to the right hand after cutting each mouthful of meat, and while not incorrect, in my opinion it is awkward.

Conveying the food to the mouth with the fork in the left hand is preferable.

Q: One of the girls in our office is going to be married soon and it is customary to take up an office collection and buy the bride-to-be a present.

The girl who is taking up the collection is very friendly with the bride and has suggested that we buy her a negligee which the bride-to-be is admired in one of the stores, for a wedding present.

I think such a present would be in very bad taste from an office group consisting of both men and women. What is your opinion on this?

A: I agree with you. A negligee is much too personal a present to give from an office group consisting of men and women. Something for her future home would be in much better taste.

The Emily Post Institute cannot answer personal mail, but all questions of general interest are answered in this column.

So Dad, 84, Has Girlfriend; Daughters Should Be Happy

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: My sister and I have a problem with our father. He is 84 years of age.

He has a "girlfriend" about 65, and has been seeing her for about a year now.

As he still drives his own car he has asked my sister (who lives out of town) if he and his "girlfriend" can drive down to her place some Saturday and stay until Monday.

My sister is a widow and she is very upset over the prospect of entertaining a woman she does not know.

Father says he does not contemplate marriage — she is only a "girlfriend."

Yet he says, unless his wife will not drive down alone any more. How should this be handled?

SISTERS

DEAR SISTERS: Tell your sister to put out the welcome mat and to do it with a smile. You girls should be tickled pink that you aren't running a nursing home with chicken soup every day.

DEAR ABBY: Please help me out of this mess I got myself into. I am 14, but I liked this life guard so much I told him I was 17 and he believed me.

I told him a bunch of other lies about where I went to school and where I lived because I don't live in a very nice part of town and I didn't want him to know it.

I gave him my telephone number. What will I do if he calls me up and wants to take me out?

My parents are very strict and I can't date yet. Would it be terribly wrong to have him pick me up at my girlfriend's house?

IN A MESS
DEAR MESS: Yes, it would be. If he calls you, tell him the truth.

And DON'T tell any more fibs, or you'll find yourself in so deep that even a life guard can't save you.

DEAR ABBY: Yesterday I sent my little boy next door to borrow a cup of sugar. He came back with a large white envelope (sealed) with a cup of sugar in it.

Across the envelope was a written: "PLEASE RETURN WITHIN 24 HOURS," and her name and address.

Don't you think this is a very unfriendly way for a neighbor to act?

SHOCKED

DEAR SHOCKED: Yes, I'll wager this woman isn't bothered by the same "borrower" twice, which is undoubtedly her motive.

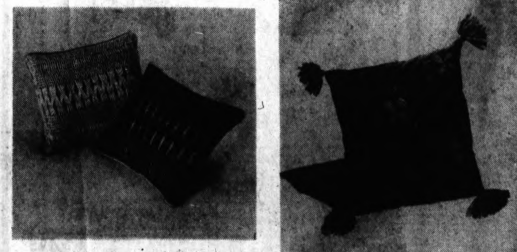

CONFIDENTIAL TO GRIEVING MOTHER:

Do not grieve too long. Had your daughter been a really "bad" girl, she would have known all the tricks.

Splendor of Autumn Covers Oakland County

By PAT McCARTY

How suddenly Indian Summer came upon us!

Because of the unusually dry summer, fall arrived two weeks earlier than is its custom.

The earth, soaking up the last warmth of a lowering sun, has offered in return its vast array of vivid colors.

They are there for us to enjoy during these days of seasonal change, when nature makes her progress clear to us.

The change is manifest throughout Oakland County — not only in the mighty oaks for which she was named but also in the other leaf-shedding trees and low brush.

Even the evergreens which never change serve their purpose in the landscapes nature has ainted, for they provide a sedate contrast to the splashy reds, yellows and browns.

AVORITE SPOT

Pick your favorite spot in Oakland County and make your way here — it may be a place where you enjoyed picnicking this summer or the slope you'll ski down later in the year.

With the crowds gone, you may be surprised at the change. A former scene of activity will be idyllic now. Your reaction is certain to be a pleasant one.

While seeking out your favorite spot, do not take the conventional route. You need be in no hurry.

Although each of Oakland County's highways and roads has something to offer—a particularly colorful curve or a panoramic view on the straightaway—now is the time to explore new paths for a refreshing change from the familiar.

The time of day you choose for your trip is unimportant and the weather need not be of any special concern.

There are some almost-pink tinges which can best be seen in the early hours of the morning. Purple casts appear to their best advantage just before dusk falls.

On Cooley Lake Road in Highland Township, a mile and a half west of the spot where it becomes gravel, there is a tunnel of yellow that can brighten the dreariest day.

There are deeper yellows—in this area along Ford Road — that are most effective with backlighting, that special quality which prevails just before the sun sets or as it is rising.

Color tours of Oakland County can be any length. They can be a peaceful interlude after dinner or they can consume an entire day.

Ideal spots for driving breaks are provided throughout the county. Produce is offered at the many roadside stands, which dot the area. Particularly suitable at this time of year are cider and doughnut stands.

HILLS OR LAKES

In Oakland County, the motorist seeking scenery has his choice of traveling through hills or winding around the lakes.

The recreation areas provide foot trails as well as roads through woods now displaying a variety of hues.

Among them are Kennington Metropolitan Park which is wrapped around Kent Lake, the deeply wooded Highland State Recreation Area, the popular Pontiac Lake area and the state parks at Holly and Bald Mountain with their rolling hills.

There are worthwhile sights at all of these.

SCENIC ROUTES
Orion Road stretching between

Lake Orion and Rochester is a popular scenic route in the county. A perfect color triangle is on display now on both Orion and Adams Roads where they travel downhill to meet in Oakland Township.

Sashabaw Road near Pine Knob is also warm with fall colors. Growing close to the road, every tree has been touched with a different color from nature's palette.

The now-yellow willow trees around Ford Pond in Clarkston bend down to the dark blue water to take one last look before shedding their slim delicate leaves.

Flamboyant sumac, so prolific in the county, adds its bold touch to landscapes. Rolling hillsides in the Long Lake Road area are ablaze with the flaming shrubs.

Old Orchard Drive swinging around the western side of Orchard Lake is beautiful at any time of the year and does not let the motorist down now.

Travel where you like in the county, but keep your eyes open for these spots: Dodge Park No. 10 on Pettibone Lake Road, with deep shades of brown and gold; Middlebelt Road, displaying vivid reds and golds; M-87 where it joins I-75 in Springfield Township, worth seeing at sunset. Guide on Communism

Prepared for Teachers

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit's public school system has prepared a guide to teaching about communism to help students "understand better what American democracy means to them."

The guide recommends books and film strips for Detroit school teachers to use in teaching about communism within regular history, geography, government and economics courses.

KC Hall, Philinda Ashley, of Oxford, and Sam Chaffman, Lake Orion, will sing.

The nation-wide organization was started in the civil war period. It is well known for patriotic endeavors, such as donating flags to public groups and assisting girl and boy scout units.

The city income tax was put on the ballot with the understanding that if approved, local property taxes would be reduced $3 per $1,000 per assessed valuation.

Romney replied that he was certain the legislature could modify his program to assure Flint the legality of any tax program citizens approve.

LAKE ORION — A new junior dining area, will also be shared with high school students. Band and vocal rooms will be located off the stage.

To accommodate some 1,200 students, the combination one- and two-story building will contain 34 classrooms, a cafeteria, library and athletic facilities.

Weather permitting, construction is scheduled to begin this fall. Students are expected to move into the building by mid-term of the next academic year.

Flint Officials, Romney to Talk

From Our News Wires

FLINT — After telling Gov. George Romney his tax reform program could upset Flint's budget, Flint officials planned to meet with him today in Lansing.

Romney last night promised to help the city of Flint solve its tax problems.

At a hearing, Romney assured city officials he felt certain if the people of Flint adopted a proposed 1 per cent city income tax Nov. 12, it will not be illegal.

City Manager Thomas Kay told Romney that the governor's proposed fiscal reform plan jeopardizes the proposed city tax.

WOULD PREVENT

He said state action to take power to levy income taxes on corporations, as proposed in the governor's package, "will prevent Flint from granting a property tax reduction."

Architect's Conception Of $1.1-Million Junior High

Site Purchases to Be Discussed

W. Bloomfield School Board Meeting Oct. 21

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Board of education members here have scheduled a special meeting Oct. 21 to decide on the much-discussed purchase of future school sites.

A number of sites have been under consideration since voters approved a $1.6 million bond issue in June.

The issue includes $400,000 for the purchase of sites.

Foremost in the school board's plans is the construction of a core junior high school unit. Its probable location has been determined.

"We're now carving 30 acres out of the 65-acre parcel available," Schools Supt. Dr. Leif A. Houghton said.

MILLER FARM

The property, on the west side of Orchard Lake Road about a half-mile north of Maple, is known as the Miller farm.

Consideration for a high school site has been narrowed to three pieces of property, all in the vicinity of the West Bloomfield Township Hall on Orchard Lake Road.

The site will be between 50-80 acres, Houghton said.

Specific properties available are two 80-acre parcels, one owned by Irwin Cohn and the other known as the Zuckerman property, and 125 acres owned by the Houseman-Spitzley Corp.

"Each one has some disadvantages," Houghton said. "All have some low ground."

Most Changes Small

Market Prices Are Irregular

NEW YORK (AP)—Stock market prices held to an irregular pattern in early, run-of-the-mill trading today.

Most changes were small although a few of the blue-chip issues advanced about a point.

Shares of companies in the sugar business continued an improvement started yesterday when it became apparent that Cuba's sugar supplies had suffered heavy damage from Hurricane Flora.

Some market analysts thought that doubt over Senate passage of the tax bill was causing concern among investors. Another factor in yesterday's market decline mentioned by some brokers was the drop of about 1¢ in August. Business sales from a year ago.

Among the sugar issues, American Crystal jumped around 4 and Holly Sugar about 1 1/4. Great Western Sugar and South Puerto Rico Sugar each gained more than 1 and Amalgamated Sugar was higher by a major fraction.

The Associated Press 67.26 average Monday fell 1.8 at 67.00.

American Stock Exchange prices were steady to a shade lower in spots. Data Control, Guilton Industries and Hartford Stores fell fractions.

Corporate bonds were mixed.

Romney Seeks Insect Relief

Asks Funds to Fight Japanese Beetle

LANSING (AP)—An emergency appropriation of $100,000 to fight a sudden Japanese beetle infestation in Calhoun and Washtenaw counties has been asked by Gov. George Romney.

In a special message to lawmakers last night, the Governor termed the situation "a genuine emergency, like a fire."

Unless immediate steps are taken to provide the supplemental funds, Romney warned, "The problem will be much greater and we may never be able to control it."

The $100,000 would be matched by a similar emergency allowance from the federal government to spray the infested areas of the two counties with insecticide, a total cost of $200,000.

NO PROVISION The special appropriation is needed because the Michigan Department of Agriculture's 1963-64 budget makes no provision for combating the beetle.

Romney said the department reported some 60,000 acres of farmland near Battle Creek, in Calhoun County, are infested with the highest beetle population ever recorded in Michigan.

In Washtenaw County, nearly 124 acres in the Ypsilanti area are infested.

Romney told lawmakers failure to treat the beetle menace immediately would probably result in the infested areas being placed under federal quarantine, restricting the movement of crop products to other areas.

Wheat Prices Rise, Buoyed by Reports

CHICAGO (AP)—Grain futures continued upward today, led by heavy demand for wheat and soybeans.
