Secretary of Interior Predicts Nation Will Continue Strong

By BURDETT C. STODDARD

"The nation is stronger today — much stronger — than it was two years ago," the U. S. secretary of the interior told 450 Oakland County Republican Club members last night at their 65th annual meeting.

"Under Republican leadership," Douglas McKay forecast, "our strength will continue to grow."

At the banquet honoring Abraham Lincoln's birthday Feb. 12, at Waterford Township's CAI Building McKay drew a parallel between the Civil War leader and President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

U.S. Rep. George A. Dondero, who introduced McKay, said in the same vein, "I think Lincoln would approve the present Republican Administration."

McKay traced the first GOP president's efforts to maintain the union and lamented Lincoln's assassination before a peace could be secured "of conciliation, rather than a continuance of hate and distrust."

"I am confident that had he lived such a peace would have been achieved. As it was, the peace of 1865 was conceived in bitterness and fear. The problems that had brought on the war were only partly solved."

"Faint traces of sectionalism remain in the country even today."

The 1952 election, which saw Eisenhower made President, eliminated many factors that had kept the North and South at odds politically, the secretary declared.

The Republican Party, led by Eisenhower, will "undoubtedly help

Odds Against Zhukov Visit

Invitation to New Soviet Defense Chief Unlikely Despite Ties With Ike

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower may invite Russia's Marshal Georgi K. Zhukov to visit him someday, but the experts are not betting on it.

There are too many problems, hostilities and suspicions between Moscow and Washington to make such an invitation possible now.

One of the President's associates said he does not see "a chance in a million" for such an invitation. State Department officials label the whole question "premature."

Yet diplomats said that in some special future circumstances the friendship which developed between Eisenhower and Zhukov when they were Allied military leaders in Berlin at the end of World War II might prove useful to both countries.

Zhukov moved into the spotlight yesterday when he was appointed defense minister of the Soviet Union. A few years ago under the late Joseph Stalin he had apparently been banished from Moscow.

Eisenhower was reminded of Zhukov's new eminence at his news conference yesterday and was told Zhukov had said recently he still held the dream of visiting the United States someday.

The President said he had, at the direction of Washington, invited Zhukov to visit this country in 1945. Zhukov accepted but later called off the visit, giving illness as the reason.

The President himself indicated to newsmen the improbability of a visit under present conditions. He commented that "this would be a remarkable thing at the present state of affairs." He added that he "certainly wouldn't hesitate" to talk over with his advisers the problem of an invitation "if we found it desirable."

Scholle, Gibson Backing Merger

CIO and AFL Officials Predict More Gains for Working People

DETROIT (INS)—Union officials in Detroit today unanimously approved of the agreement to merge the AFL and CIO.

August Scholle, president of the Michigan CIO Council, stated:

"This merger will result in greater progress, beneficial to all working people. Unity will achieve increased bargaining power and bring about even greater success in the election of liberal candidates. We will do everything in our power to make the merger successful in Michigan."

James Gibson, vice president of the Detroit and Wayne Federation of Labor, AFL, commented:

"We've been working very closely with the CIO in political matters and now we'll be even closer. The merger certainly meets with approval here."

"After all, it simply follows the philosophy of Samuel Gompers, the founder of the AFL."

Executives in the auto industry declined comment, but Harvey Campbell, executive vice president of the Detroit Board of Commerce, said:

"The merger is another step toward a labor government and brings closer the danger of socialism, which, in my opinion, is not American. The unions are holding out a promise of utopia they can't deliver. It's the beginning of an era of great disappointment for the American worker."

Said Mayor Cobo:

"The merger is good if it means an end of jurisdictional disputes. This increase in centralized power entails added responsibilities. I hope it is a constructive move."

Senate Approves Treaty to Protect Formosa, 64-6

WASHINGTON — For the second time in two weeks, the Senate in effect has told Communist China to keep hands off Formosa.

By a lopsided 64-6 vote, the Senate last night approved a mutual security treaty with Nationalist China pledging American military might in defense of Formosa and the nearby Pescadores Islands.

A strong favorable vote had been expected in the light of the acceptance given Jan. 28 to President Eisenhower's request for congressional approval of his use of American troops in the Far East if necessary, but the final action on the treaty came with surprising speed.

After decisively rejecting amendments, the Senate approved the treaty with less than six hours of debate. Voting against it were Senators Chavez (D-NM), Gore (D-Tenn), Kefauver (D-Tenn), Lehman (D-Lib-NY), Langer (R-ND) and Morse (Ind-Or).

The treaty pledges that the United States, in accordance with its constitutional processes, will help Formosa, the Pescadores and "such other territories as may be determined by mutual agreement."

The Chinese Legislative Yuan already has approved the new pact, so its provisions take effect as soon as ratification instruments are exchanged.

Communist China and Russia have bitterly denounced the treaty as proof of American "aggression" on Chinese soil.

Morse proposed an amendment to make clear in the treaty that the United States did not recognize Chiang Kai-shek's title to Formosa, but it was rejected 57-11.

The second Morse amendment sought to eliminate from the treaty territories. This was downed 60-10. However, the Senate Foreign Relations Committee took official note that it is the understanding of the Senate that "nothing in the

'55 Auto Plate Sales Zooming

Local Office Sets New Daily Record of 1,000; Deadline Feb. 28

Sale of 1955 auto license plates at the Pontiac secretary of state's office spurted this week, with only 15 days remaining until the Feb. 28 deadline.

Willis M. Brewer, branch office manager, said 1,000 plates were sold Monday, setting a new one-day total for the local office this year. To date, motorists in the Pontiac area have purchased a total of approximately 21,000 auto tags and 4,000 truck plates.

An estimated 25,000 more plates will be sold before the deadline, Brewer said. He expects some 10,000 more will be issued later this year.

Car owners were reminded again that tags cannot be issued unless they bring their certificates of title. Brewer said many persons were coming to the office without their titles, and had to make a second trip to obtain licenses.

The Pontiac secretary of state's office, located a half-block north of the municipal parking lot at 53 N. Parke St., will be open on Washington's and Lincoln's birthdays, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

On Feb. 19 and 26, both Saturdays, the office will be open until 5 p.m. This Saturday it closes at noon, the usual time.

Lifebelt Puts Ailing Fish Back in Swim of Things

NEWCASTLE - ON - TYNE, England — Seven-year-old Ian Miller reported today his pet goldfish Peter, who can't swim, is getting around nicely in a lifebelt.

Peter flipped out of his bowl recently in a burst of high spirits and damaged his side fins. Returned to the water, he sank glumly to the bottom.

Ian appealed to his father, who cut a piece of cork and fastened it to Peter's back with a rubber band twined round the fish's midline. The cork keeps Peter top side up. He propels by flicking his tail.

State Unionists to Be Brothers Under Merger

United Body of Million Likely to Give Labor More Political Power

DETROIT (P)—An estimated million unionists in Michigan will become "brothers" instead of just "half brothers" under the new AFL-CIO merger agreement.

And the unification of the two big organizations may give labor a louder voice at the bargaining table and in the state's political affairs.

The merger, if finally approved by the constitutional bodies of both groups, will bring together roughly 700,000 CIO members and 300,000 AFL members in Michigan.

This ratio is in sharp contrast with national proportions, which give the AFL a 2 to 1 margin in membership. Thus the CIO may exercise considerably more influence in working outstate and local merger agreements than in the nation as a whole.

On the state level, for example, August (Gus) Scholle, president of the Michigan CIO Council, has been frequently mentioned as the most likely choice to head the two groups.

The CIO's 500,000 members in Wayne County seem certain to give this "junior" organization a strong hand in merger at the county level.

In Michigan, CIO President Walter Reuther's big following hardly could be expected to agree to a setup which would give the AFL the upper hand in organization of the merged group. This is especially true in that Reuther agreed

Low Temperatures End Balmy Spell

A cold air mass rolling down from Canada put an end to Pontiac's warm spell today.

Forecasters said snow flurries and lower temperatures beginning tonight will make up the weather picture for the next few days. Tonight's low will be from 14 to 18 degrees as compared to yesterday's low of 30.

A balmy high of 44 Wednesday was followed by lower temperatures today. A 37-degree reading was reported at 8 a.m. dropping to 36 by 1 p.m. Friday will bring even lower temperatures with the high expected to range between 23 and 27 with a low tomorrow night near 10, according to the U.S. Weather Bureau.

Michigan's coldest spot last night was Houghton with eight above, while Detroit boasted the highest temperature — 48. Snow-covered roads were reported slippery today in the northern half of the lower peninsula and in the entire upper peninsula.

Benson Hopeful on Farm Future

Tells MSC Audience Agriculture Is Working Out of Slump

EAST LANSING (UP)—Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson said today American farmers are "working their way out" of the postwar farm price slump and the future looks bright.

In a speech prepared for delivery to a Michigan State College Farmers' Week audience at 3:15 p.m., Benson said "We are not at the end of the road, but only at the beginning."

Benson said he would "not minimize the seriousness of the cost-price squeeze on the farmer, but I believe most of the postwar adjustment has now been completed. The price parity index has been remarkably stable during the past year. It averaged 89 per cent of parity in 1952—only five points below the level of January 1953."

Praising Michigan State College for its 100 years of service to agriculture, Benson said the nation's colleges can lead the way to a bright farm future through more research and education.

"It is the American way for farmers and marketing people to make their own decisions, but they need and expect the best available information if they are to make the right decisions," he said.

"We need more research and education on the development of

Predict Merger to Be Complete by End of Year

Visualize 15 - Million on Rolls of Strong Union Federation

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (P)—The nation's top union leaders, agreed on consolidating forces into a single organization, today planned a giant drive to take in millions of new members.

Leaders of the American Federation of Labor and Congress of Industrial Organizations decided to bury traditional rivalries and embark on the same sort of intensive mass organizing campaign that sparked the CIO's surge two decades ago.

The AFL and CIO chiefs worked out what appeared to be an ironclad arrangement to merge into a 15-million-member union federation.

A long series of ratifying actions still was required to solemnize the wedding, but declarations of intentions from principals appeared convincing. Both George Meany, top man in the AFL, and Walter Reuther, CIO chief, predicted the merger would be an accomplished fact before the end of the year.

They said a well-financed organizing drive to take in new members would be launched and where possible unions in the same general field would be combined to make more effective their bargaining and political powers.

An initial organizing goal was the chemicals and plastics industries. A field where combining rival unions appeared most likely was in the textile industry where relatively weak AFL and CIO unions have largely neutralized each other for years.

There was no way of anticipating whether the apparently stronger union setup would bring on bigger or longer labor strikes, but it was apparent that AFL and CIO leaders felt their hand would be strengthened in dealing with employers.

In arranging the merger agreement yesterday the union chiefs

Enthusiasm for the AFL-CIO merger was voiced here today by top union officials who agreed the unification would be "the best thing that ever happened to the American labor movement."

"There is no question that it will help both organizations, nationally and locally," said Fred V. Haggard, president of the Oakland County CIO Council.

"The AFL and the CIO have not been too close here. This may bring the two groups closer together," he said.

Earl E. Ross, president of the Pontiac-Oakland County Federation of Labor (AFL), commented: "The least the merger will do is keep down jurisdictional disputes and raiding by other organizations. It's a big step in the right direction."

"Of course, it's going to take a long time to iron out all the details."

William MacLulley, regional UAW-CIO director, said he was sure both organizations will ratify the agreement made yesterday by Walter F. Reuther, CIO president, and George Meany, AFL chief.

"On the local level, it will mean a union will get more support in case of a strike," he added. Haggard sees little political strengthening in the move.

"Each organization is going to

Ike Sees Russian as Decent If Free to Follow Own Instincts

Newsman Gives Intimate Memories of Gen. Eisenhower and Zhukov in Moscow

Editor's Note: Eddy Gilmore was an AP correspondent in Moscow for 11 years, starting in World War II and ending soon after the funeral of Joseph Stalin. He wrote "He and My Russian Wife," an account of his life in the Soviet Union. Currently assigned to AP's London Bureau, he is just now in the United States on a brief leave.

By EDDY GILMORE

Associated Press Staff Writer

The time was a late summer day right after the war. The place was the Blue Room of Spasso House in Moscow. The man slouched easily in a deep leather chair was Gen. Eisenhower.

I remember asking the question, "What do you think of Zhukov?"

The general hesitated for a moment. The slanting rays of a setting sun fell across his face. He frowned slightly as he replied.

"Georgi," he said, "is a very decent fellow."

American and British correspondents who had covered the war from the Russian side had the same opinion of the broad-shouldered, square-jawed Soviet commander. A tough guy all right, but a man who could smile and a man who—unlike many other Red commanders—would give you a straight answer to a question.

"Do you think we could ever do business with Zhukov?" someone asked the supreme Allied commander who was later to become president of the United States.

"Well, left on his own," said Eisenhower, "I believe I could do business with him."

That seemed to be a good endorsement of Georgi Zhukov, Russia's new minister of defense. It fitted in with what I knew of this man who was a good soldier, but I'm afraid not a very good politician.

Eisenhower visited Moscow after the war as Zhukov's guest. He received a sports parade atop Lenin's Tomb with Zhukov, attended a football game with him at Dynamo Stadium and was cheered by the Russian people as no American perhaps ever been cheered in Moscow.

I remember Zhukov sitting around a big table in Berlin erase remaining vestiges of sectionalism."

When the President took the reins, "extravagance, cynicism, bungling on foreign and domestic issues were rampant." The U.S. had "no definite peace plan, or even ability to decide upon our future course," McKay stated.

The world looked to Eisenhower for leadership, the secretary said, and "not in vain."

"Devout belief in Providence" and determination to safeguard the heritage of freedom are sensed by the people as qualities of Lincoln reliving in Eisenhower, McKay stated.

This trust in the President brings "opportunity for true unity and cooperation in achieving our common goals."

"Lincoln's selfless dedication to the fundamental welfare of all Americans we find reflected in the words and actions of our President today. His program is... for all America, based on enduring principles and not on political expediency."

The leader of the 1860s "brought to the country the promise of strong, progressive government which drew adherents from both the older parties."

"In just such a fashion has President Eisenhower provided the answer to the demand of the American people today for responsible, incorruptible leadership."

McKay cited the "outstanding" work of Dondero and Senator Charles Potter (R-Mich) and urged the gathering to take part in county affairs to build "the foundation for continued Republican progress."

The secretary quoted words used by Eisenhower to describe the present GOP program which might have been uttered by Lincoln: "It is a program that does not deal in pie in the sky promises to all, nor in bribes to a few, nor in threats to any."

"It is a program inspired by zeal for the common good, dedicated to the welfare of every American family 'whatever its livelihood, social position, ancestral strain, or religion.'"

Describing his department's program for the 400,000 Indians in America, McKay said: "No one is good as a ward of the government. All citizens must be free. But freedom can't be forced upon them, they must desire it."

Dondero also likened Eisenhower to Lincoln saying, "The Great Emancipator once stated, 'Government should never do for the people what the people can do for themselves.' Republican policy has always been guided by this simple formula."

"On the Dixon-Yates Tennessee Valley power contract... Lincoln would endorse the position of President Eisenhower, saying that in what private industry can do as well, the government ought not to interfere."

Regarding McKay, the congressman said, "This is the first time I can recall that a member of a president's cabinet spoke in Oakland County."

A brief address was given by Mrs. William A. Kennedy, president of the county Republican Women's Federation.

Among those introduced were Mrs. Peter Gibson, vice chairman of the GOP State Central Committee; Miss Sarah Van Hoesen Jones, State Board of Agriculture member; and Oakland County's State Senator William S. Broomfield.

Others were Edward E. Wilson, county Republican chairman; Mrs. Douglas McKay; and former state treasurer, D. Hale Brake.

Congratulatory messages were read from Senator Potter, Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield and the office of the President.

to step aside on the national level to give AFL President George Meany the No. 1 post.

On the political front, AFL-CIO merger could mean solidification of labor backing for certain candidates. It may eliminate situations where the AFL—or one segment of it—supports one candidate and the CIO a rival.

Last November, for instance, most labor groups—AFL and CIO—supported Democrat Patrick V. McNamara for the U.S. Senate. James R. Hoffa's AFL Teamsters Union actively campaigned for Republican incumbent Homer Ferguson.

Various segments of the Wayne County Federation of Labor have split many times in the past over whom to support. Thus a member's contribution for political action was divided between rival candidates.

Auto industry officials declined to comment as to the effect of merger on labor negotiations.

Harvey J. Campbell, executive vice president of the Detroit Board of Commerce, said merger "is another step toward a labor government and brings closer the danger of socialism, which, in my opinion, is not American."

Schools and Barney Hopkins, secretary-treasurer of the Michigan CIO Council, said merger would "result in greater progress beneficial to all working people."

James Gibson vice president of the Detroit and Wayne County Federation of Labor, commented: "We've been working very closely with the CIO in political matters and now we'll be even closer."

Neil Staebler, state Democratic chairman, added:

"To paraphrase someone else's remark, it looks like it's good for the country, and what's good for the country is good for the Democratic Party."

Chiang Wrecks Island Defenses

Underground Bulwarks Blasted, Ammo Saved in Tachen Evacuation

TAIPEI, Formosa (INS)—Chiang Kai-shek's forces blasted and burned a maze of underground defense works and shuttled tons of ammunition and supplies to rocky beaches in the high-speed final phase of the Tachen Islands evacuation.

U. S. 7th Fleet warships churned the East China Sea around the island and jets swept overhead protecting the critical military withdrawal.

Civilians already had been removed. Most of the refugees already were on the Nationalist bastion of Formosa 300 miles to the south.

Nationalist sources said the withdrawal had been completed on three outlying islands, the Yu Shan group 35 miles northeast and Pishan 32 miles southwest of the Tachens.

The government announced a decision to pull out civilians on Nanchuan, 80 miles south of the Tachens. But official quarters said the military garrison would remain there and probably would be strengthened to maintain the island as a northern shield for Formosa.

wisest military genius who ever lived."

Georgi Zhukov was the only hero of the Russian people who came out of the war. They knew and he knew of course that he did more to win the war than any single Soviet commander or Kremlin official.

The high esteem in which he was held by Russia's 200 million people, and the fact that he seemed to get along well with Eisenhower, are probably the reasons why Joseph Stalin banished him to the relative wilderness of the Odessa military district after the war, a wilderness from which he did not return until after Stalin's death in March 1953.

Of all the Soviet officials he remains the one who on the face of things seems the sort of fellow Americans might be able to do business with. That is—if the politicians would ever let him do business on his own.

AFL Leader George Meany to Head Merged Unions

MIAMI BEACH (INS)—The first step to seal the agreement for a historic merger of the AFL and CIO will be taken today when the AFL executive council meets to ratify the amalgamation.

The merger formula announced yesterday in Miami Beach after two days of "showdown talks" means that 15 million workers will enter 1956 with American labor united for the first time in nearly 20 years.

AFL President George Meany will become top officer of the merged labor group, while the CIO's Walter Reuther will be named a vice president of the new federation.

The agreement, though reached in top-level talks between the two groups, must go through the following steps before merger becomes final:

1. It must be approved by the AFL and CIO executive councils.
2. Each organization in separate conventions must ratify it.
3. A joint AFL-CIO convention must then give final approval.

The AFL executive group is expected to approve the move today. The CIO executive board will vote on it Feb. 24.

The AFL convention will be in Chicago in September and the CIO meets in October at Buffalo.

The agreement, culminating two years of unity talks, brings to an end the bitter split between the two groups which began in 1935 when the industrial unions left the AFL.

In a joint announcement, Meany and Reuther said they were happy to help bring about labor unity "at a time when the unity of all the American people is most urgently needed in the face of the Communist threat to world peace and civilization."

Under the pact, the executive officers of the new organization would be elected at conventions held every two years.

The initial president and secretary-treasurer must come from the AFL, but the agreement does not stipulate that the post be rotated between former AFL-CIO officials nor does it specify whether officers must step down at the end of the two-year terms.

There will be 27 vice presidents, 17 coming from the 10,300,000 member AFL and 10 from the CIO's 4,400,000 members.

The merger calls for the preservation of the identity and integrity of the more than 140 unions affiliated with the two parent bodies.

On the problem of no-raid pacts, which ban unions from raiding other unions to gain members—a stumbling block to amalgamation in the past—the merger calls for a constitutional clause upholding the principles of no-raiding and establishing appropriate machinery to implement no-raiding agreements.

The merger does not call for mandatory no-raiding pledges by all unions.

In cases where unions of the CIO and AFL have conflicting and duplicatory organizations and jurisdictions, the agreement says that the unions "will be encouraged to eliminate conflicts and duplications through the process of agreement and merger."

The pact also creates within the new federation a department of organization whose purpose would be "to organize the unorganized into collective bargaining units."

new products, new uses and new processes" to expand farm markets and lift the problem of surpluses.

"We must face up to the ever-present needs of balancing total farm production with the kinds and amounts of products consumers want and will take at equitable prices," he said.

"This means we must provide forward-looking information to help farmers gear their individual production plans to the realities of consumer demand."

He said the founding fathers who created Michigan State College in 1855 "built a highway to enormous progress and we must carry on."

He suggested more research into control of the weather, the possibility of replacing some fast-diminishing minerals with farm crops, farm machinery powered by atomic energy and economical irrigation of desert land.

U.S. Sending Lodge to Disarming Talks

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (INS)—President Eisenhower confirmed today instructions for Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge to speak for the U. S. at the 5-power London disarmament talks late this month.

The meeting of the U. N. subcommittee will give the West its first chance to test the Kremlin's policy on nuclear weapons following the big top-level shakeup in Moscow.

Lodge will go to London with orders to report to the President and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles on his return the implications and evaluation of Soviet claims of superiority in nuclear weapons and of threats to use them against aggression.

keeps its autonomy, as I understand it," he said. "Therefore, I don't see any increase in political power."

Commenting on charges that the merger would lead to socialism and a socialist government, Haggard declared:

"Whenever there is a difference of opinion, one of the opinions is socialist. It was the same thing with workman's compensation, unemployment compensation and social security."

Meanwhile, Edward E. Wilson, Oakland County GOP chairman, predicted an increase in the political activity of the union movement.

"Now, the CIO is more interested in power politics and when the two hook up they will try to get the AFL to take the same road," he said.

Wilson, co-owner of Wilson Pontiac-Cadillac Agency in Birmingham, added:

"The merger of the two unions would be a greater monopoly than any that exists on the other side now. What other unions are there of any importance?"

By "other side," he said he meant the industrial or manufacturing side.

Carlos G. Richardson, Oakland County Democratic chairman, declined to comment on the move.

Expect to Complete Merger This Year

accustomed to hard horse trading with employers, played a give-and-take role with each other.

The AFL was given the top jobs in the new setup. Meany was assured of the presidency and AFL Secretary-Treasurer William Schnitzler will have the same title in the merged federation.

The CIO won the right to enter the AFL as a union group and to organize entire plants from top to bottom in individual unions without regard for AFL crafts.

In addition, it was agreed that the leadership for the ambitious new member organizing activities would come from the CIO.

The key question of whether unions would be allowed to "raid" or seize each other's already organized members was left open. Reuther had wanted a definite police system to stop this, but it was agreed only that "raiding" was a disease which ought to be discouraged.

The merger agreement contained intentions to include guarantees in the new constitution that would prevent racial discrimination among unions and effectively deal with union racketeers.

Henry G. Riter III, president of the National Assn. of Manufact-ers and president of Thomas A. Edison, Inc., of West Orange, N.J., said the planned union merger would bring a threat of "dangerous monopoly."

"Monopoly is always costly to the public," he said in a statement.

"and labor monopolies should be outlawed for the same reasons that business monopolies have been banned."

Riter said the merger "could have the beneficial effect of eliminating costly jurisdictional strikes throughout the nation."

Urges Review of Military Cuts

Dem Leader of House Terms Ike's Program 'Dangerous'

WASHINGTON (U)—House Democratic Leader McCormack of Massachusetts urged the administration today to reconsider proposed Army manpower cuts and said 95 percent of House Democrats are opposed to them.

"It is a dangerous thing," he said in an interview, "to think that one man is possessed of all knowledge in one field. It could be a terrible thing for our country if the President is wrong."

Sen. Russell (D-Ga.) said some senators also "are greatly disturbed," but that there probably is little Congress can do unless "we want to impeach the President, and everybody knows that is not going to happen." He said re-appraisal of the cuts seems justified.

President Eisenhower has said he made the final decision on the extent of manpower reductions, which propose mid-1956 armed forces of 2,850,000 men, compared with more than three million now. The bulk of the cut, 173,000 men, would be in the Army.

The Senate Armed Services Committee, which Russell heads, spent nearly six hours yesterday questioning Secretary of Defense Wilson and Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, about the reductions.

Wilson later told newsmen he sees no reason to revise the plans because of the shift in Soviet Russia's leader, and he added: "That's the President's position too." Wilson said the program will provide "an adequate defense structure for the United States... on a long-term basis."

Two Republicans, Senators Duff of Pennsylvania and Flanders of Vermont, said in separate interviews they are backing Eisenhower's decisions. Flanders said: "Even if we had more ground forces, we could not use them immediately in case of a sudden war."

Russell and Sen. Byrd (D-Va.) told newsmen they are undecided on the issue.

Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.) of the House Armed Services Committee reiterated his support for the President's program.

But McCormack said that in view of developments ranging from the Soviet political change to the Formosa situation, "I cannot understand how any leadership would not immediately reconsider the proposed reduction of the Army and Navy."

Representatives Brooks (D-La.) and Winstead (D-Miss.) also threw their support to demands for a reappraisal of the program after hearing what they described as second warning by Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway.

The Army chief of staff told a House subcommittee yesterday that only active forces could supply needed Army units at the outbreak of war. Earlier, he had testified the decision to cut the Army "jeopardizes our security... to a degree."

Former Servant Held in Slaying of Broker's Wife

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (U)—A former man servant was booked today on suspicion of murder in the ax killing of Mrs. Katie Hayden, elderly wife of financier and real estate developer Samuel Hayden.

Booked was Rutherford Leon Bennett, 39, Los Angeles, who detectives said was discharged by the Haydens Jan. 31 after about three weeks' employment as a cook.

Bennett and a man with whom he lived, also brought in for questioning, steadfastly denied any connection with the case and said they were at home yesterday morning when the slaying occurred. Both are now employed in an automobile assembly plant.

Mrs. Hayden, 71, died soon after she was found on the kitchen floor in her luxurious home by a maid, Mrs. Peggy Smith. She had four head wounds. A bloody ax lay nearby. A few minutes before, the maid told detectives, Mrs. Hayden had gone from the living room to the kitchen to answer the back door bell.

Hayden, 70, had left for his office about an hour before. He is a former Chicago investment broker who has lived here about 10 years.

Urges Secret Confab on Formosa Dispute

OTTAWA (U)—Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent, just back from the Commonwealth prime ministers conference in London, says he thinks "secret diplomacy would do more than an international conference" to solve the Formosa dispute.

In a radio interview, he said he did not believe the Formosa issue could be settled without the presence of both Nationalist and Communist China at any negotiations.

The most easterly town in the United States is Lubec, Maine.

State Hospital Planning Workshop

A workshop for the women's clubs of Oakland County and neighboring counties is being planned for May 2 at Pontiac State Hospital.

The event is being planned by Marguerite Parrish, director of social service for the hospital, and Richard Arthaud, case work supervisor. They believe that through the workshop, mental health information which is important to all, will be widely spread.

This workshop will cover a variety of mental health topics in which club women are interested. Representatives of the various women's organizations are invited to participate in each of the workshops, reporting back their findings to the total membership of their organization.

A total of 62 reservations are already in, reports Mr. Arthaud.

Among the first group to register were Round Table Club, Junior Chamber of Commerce Auxiliary, The American Business Women's Association, Ladies Auxiliary of Metropolitan Club No. 60, Women's Auxiliary of the Master Plumbers Contractor's Association, MOMS of America, Inc. Unit No. 2, and the Lake Orion Child Guidance Group.

To make reservations for the workshop, interested groups may either call or write the social service department, Pontiac State Hospital, prior to March 1.

Canadian Province Backs Fluorine Use After Two Years of Technical Survey

EDMONTON, Alta. — Highways Minister Taylor said today the Alberta government "does not plan immediate action" on a recently completed survey on fluoridation, given "unqualified endorsement" by the Alberta Research Council.

Mr. Taylor made his brief comment in making public the report, which took two years to complete. It is understood the report will be open for debate during the legislative session starting Feb. 17.

Mr. Taylor is chairman of the Research Council, which two years ago started its "unbiased technical survey concerning the habits of fluoridating public water supplies."

The report said: "Actually, all that is proposed is that the concentration of a substance naturally present in the water supply be increased to a level which has been demonstrated to be optional for dental health."

"Such a procedure is neither more or less than the addition of vitamin A to butter or to margarine, or the addition of vitamin B complex members to flour."

Although studies were still in progress to determine the greatest amount of protection to be realized from fluoridation, there now was ample evidence to justify its use in any community where the water supply is deficient in fluorides.

"Sufficient evidence has been presented," the council says, "to indicate there is a safe margin between drinking water containing the trace quantities of fluorine which are required for optimal dental health and the amount which produces undesirable physiological effects."

The council estimated that for every $1 spent on fluoridation, $60 to $70 would be saved in dental treatment.

Italy Influences Fish Scaloppine

We've borrowed a famous Italian culinary idea and developed a recipe for Fish Scaloppine. Tender veal lends itself to this idea so popular with Italian restaurant patrons — so why not tender fish fillets, which are always available throughout the country, and easier to prepare than veal?

Fish Scaloppine is a delicious top-of-the-stove dish, which takes not more than 20 minutes to prepare, once the frozen fillets are thawed. So it's especially good for dinners on busy evenings, or for extra-special company meals when you have to get something ready in a hurry.

Fish Fillets Scaloppine
1 package frozen fish fillets
1/2 cup flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1/2 teaspoon paprika
2 medium onions
4 green peppers
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1/2 cup cherry wine

Let fillets thaw on refrigerator shelf and separate fillets. Mix together flour, salt, pepper and paprika. Turn out mixture onto a piece of waxed paper. Dip each fish fillet into the flour mixture to coat both sides.

Cut onions into rings and peppers into eighths. Melt butter in a large frying pan. Add onion rings and pepper and cook until tender but still crisp, about five minutes.

Lift out onion rings and pepper. Add fillets and cook just long enough to lightly brown on both sides. Add onions and pepper and sherry. Cover pan and cook about three minutes or until fish flakes easily when tested with a fork.

Two tablespoons water and 2 tablespoons lemon juice may be substituted for sherry.

Glazed Ham Balls Perfect for Parties

Here's fork food for a party buffet.

Glazed Ham Balls
1/2 pound ground lean ham
1/2 pound ground pork
2-3 cup uncooked quick rolled oats
1 egg (beaten)
1/2 cup milk
1-3 cup firmly packed brown sugar
1/2 cup butter
1/2 cup water
1/2 cup vinegar
1/2 cup whole cloves
1-3 cup dark corn syrup

Mix ham, pork, rolled oats, egg and milk thoroughly; chill. Shape into small balls; place in shallow baking pan.

Bake in slow (325) oven one hour; drain. Mix remaining ingredients in saucepan; cook on top of stove, stirring constantly, until slightly thickened.

Pour over top of ham balls; continue baking 15 minutes. Makes six servings.

Follow 4 Hints for Successful Meat Freezing

Owners of home freezers can save money these days by taking advantage of the large supplies of beef and pork on the market, often at attractive prices.

Here is a list of freezing suggestions which may be helpful:

1. Wrap tightly — Trim the meat so that it is ready for cooking and wrap tightly in special moisture and vapor-proof freezer paper. Seal securely with freezer tape or tie well.

2. Label carefully — Each package should be labeled with the name of the cut, weight or approximate number of servings and the date.

3. Store systematically — Rotate the frozen meats—the first placed in the freezer, the first to come out. Fresh pork should be kept no longer than three to four months, while beef may be kept six to eight months.

4. Thaw correctly — Leave meats wrapped while thawing; thaw them in the refrigerator if time permits, rather than at room temperature.

The meat should then be cooked as soon as possible after thawing. (Small cuts of meat need not be thawed before cooking.)

Braised Ox Joints Appeal to Menfolk

The next time you see a "special" on ox joints at your meat market, buy a few pounds and treat your family to a delicious dish. (If restaurant sales are any indication, ox joints are always a favorite with the men.)

Braised Ox Joints
2 ox tails
Flour, fat
2 medium onions
1/2 teaspoon celery salt
1 bay leaf
4 cloves
1 cup canned tomatoes
1 1/2 cups water

Have meatman cut ox tails into 2-inch pieces. Roll in flour. Brown thoroughly in several tablespoons hot fat in Dutch oven or large heavy kettle.

Add chopped onions, seasonings, tomatoes and water. Cover and cook slowly for 3 to 4 hours or until meat is nearly falling from bone; add more water as needed.

FISH FILLETS SCALOPPINE—Since tender fish fillets are now universally available—thanks to any part of this country. Borrowed from the Italians, it's a quick dinner idea. Use it often, varying the kind of fish fillets you use.

Make Use of Food Color to Mark February Fetes

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

February is the month of parties. There are at least three occasions — Valentine's Day, Lincoln's Birthday and Washington's Birthday — when you have an excuse for entertaining. Even if you don't invite guests, you will please the family with special dishes for special days.

What's this all about? Color in food. Nature has lavishly bestowed color on food as it grows. We sometimes think we must improve on her and add more. This can be both good and bad.

For instance, I dislike food colored blue. I'm rather fond of naturally blue foods like plums and blueberries. But artificially blue food makes me just a bit ill. How about you; do you like blue frosting? This is a purely personal reaction, and I have no doubt women will go right on putting blue frosting on cake. When I want a patriotic color scheme, I like to have the red and white in the food, reserving the blue for dishes, napkins or other garnishes.

Cherries, raspberries and strawberries are perfect means of putting red into your color scheme. I came across this recipe for a red sauce to be used on puddings or cakes. You might like it for the approaching holidays.

Clear Red Sauce
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup cornstarch
1 cup boiling water
1/2 cup juice from cherries or raspberries
1/2 teaspoon almond extract
Few drops red food coloring

Mix sugar and cornstarch in saucepan. Gradually stir in water and juice. Boil one minute, stirring constantly. Stir in coloring and coloring.

Add any coloring slowly. Need I say that you can always add more but can never take it out? Too much makes food look violent; too little makes it look dingy. My mother once tried to make me a green angel food cake for my birthday which is near St. Patrick's Day. She didn't use enough coloring and the cake was a sickly, pale green. Cookie dough takes well to food coloring. You must get enough in for clear sharp colors, or the color will bake out.

A well known brand of coconut now includes food coloring sheets in every package. You may tint the coconut before using it as a garnish. It sounds easy enough to do. Can't you see a whole plate of Easter cupcakes, topped with fluffy icing and garnished with pastel coconut?

When carrying out a color scheme for a meal, don't have everything one color. Use your chosen color for accent, plan one or two dishes to carry out your theme. Too many lose their effectiveness.

Since logs and Lincoln seem eternally attached, a log cake dessert is a natural for this Saturday. This one is flavored with orange and mace and is covered with an orange frosting. It is both an attractive and a delicious concoction.

Lincoln Log (Orange and Mace Flavored)

Four eggs, separated
1 cup soft brown sugar
1/2 cup cold water
1/2 cup cold water
1/2 cup cold water
1/2 cup cold water
1/2 cup cold water
1/2 cup cold water

Beat egg whites until they stand in soft peaks. Beat in 1/4 cup sugar and set aside. Beat egg yolks until thick and lemon colored. Add orange and lemon juice. Gradually beat in remaining sugar. Fold beaten egg whites into the beaten egg yolks. Sift flour with the salt, baking powder and ground mace, all at one time, and fold in gently.

Pour batter into a paper-lined, greased 15 1/2 x 10 1/2 x 1-inch jelly roll pan. Bake 15 minutes or until done in a preheated moderate oven (350 degrees F.). Turn out onto a towel sprinkled with confectioners' sugar. Quickly remove paper. Roll up cake in the towel. Cool.

Unroll. Spread with orange frosting. Roll up. Sift confectioners' sugar lightly over the roll or frost, to resemble bark on the log, with orange frosting. If desired, shave bitter chocolate or slivered orange salt in saucepan; mix well. Stirring constantly, slowly add boiling water. Cook until thickened, stirring often. Cover; continue cooking over low heat 10 minutes or longer. Stir in dry mustard, then ham. Pour mixture into pan (8 by 8 by 3 inches). Chill. Cut into rectangles about 1 by 2 1/4 inches; remove from pan with small spatula. THAT EXTRA TOUCH—Two interesting touches for your meals—Parmesan Cheese Muffins and Stuffed Onions in tomato sauce. Both contain nonfat dry milk which will enrich the food with extra flavor and nutrition, without adding extra expense.

1/2 cup cold water

Little Touch of Imagination Fancies 'Up' Plain Dishes

It's that little extra touch of imagination that helps a home-maker turn budget-wise foods into special dishes instead of a routine meal.

For example, instead of just having hamburger or meat loaf from ground beef, have stuffed onions with tomato sauce and enrich the meat mixture with economical nonfat dry milk which adds flavor as well as the important milk nutrients.

Another interesting lift to a meal is making Parmesan cheese muffins instead of plain muffins.

Nonfat dry milk gives a rich golden brown to hot breads as well as extra nutrition. This versatile product yields the same nourishment as the pasteurized whole milk from which it is made except for the fat which is removed.

Here are recipes which show how economical nonfat dry milk enriches food with extra flavor and nutrition:

STUFFED ONIONS WITH TOMATO SAUCE

Stuffed Onions
4 large, whole onions, peeled
1 pound ground beef
2 tablespoons finely chopped green pepper
1/2 cup nonfat dry milk
2 teaspoons salt
1/4 teaspoon black pepper

Sauce
1 cup stewed tomatoes
1 8-ounce can tomato paste
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon black pepper
1/4 teaspoon oregano, crushed

Mix all sauce ingredients together and put in round 9-inch baking dish. Cook onions in boiling water just until tender, about 20-25 minutes.

Remove inside of onions and chop finely. Measure and divide in half. Mix one-half with the tomato sauce in the baking dish. Mix the other half with the beef, green pepper, nonfat dry milk, salt and pepper.

Divide meat mixture into six parts, and carefully stuff the whole onions. Place in baking dish with the tomato sauce. Bake in moderate oven at 350 degrees about one-half hour or until meat is browned. Serve at once.

Parmesan Cheese Muffins

2 cups sifted flour
2 tablespoons sugar
2 tablespoons nonfat dry milk
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup grated Italian-style cheese
1 egg, well beaten
1 cup water
1/2 cup shortening, melted

Sift together flour, sugar, nonfat dry milk, salt and baking powder. Mix in grated cheese. Combine egg, water and slightly cooled, melted shortening.

Make a well in dry ingredients; pour in egg mixture all at once and stir just enough to moisten dry ingredients. Do not beat.

Fill greased muffin pans two-thirds full. Bake in hot oven 400 degrees until golden brown, about 22 to 25 minutes. Serve warm. Makes 12.

Frenchwoman's Cookery Is Answer to Egg Surplus

Madame Romaine de Lyon is France's gift to American egg producers. She runs the only restaurant in the United States where nothing but egg main dishes are served. She has 350 omelets on her menu.

Her squeeze in restaurant at 133 East 56th St. in New York City seats only 22 guests, most of them socialites and screen and stage celebrities.

Madame herself does all the cooking and a young woman from Alsace-Lorraine does the serving. The fame of her omelets has spread over the civilized world.

She uses 3 eggs for each individual omelet. Break eggs in a bowl and stir with fork until egg whites and yolks are well mixed. But do not beat until fluffy as though making a soufflé.

Add salt and pepper and 1 tea-

Avoid Eavesdropping

LOWELL, Mass. (AP) — Policemen have petitioned for removal of an inter-office communications system at police headquarters which, they say, makes it possible to eavesdrop. Superior officers, they say, can tune in on their normal, everyday conversations having nothing to do with operation of the department.

An easy-to-wash rubber mat near the back door during winter provides a good spot for the family to stack overshoes.

spoon of cold water for each three eggs.

Melt a heaping tablespoon of sweet butter or margarine in a saucepan. Pour in eggs. Cook over moderate hot fire, holding pan in hand a little away from heat.

With spatula or fork, as eggs begin to cook around the edges of the pan, push the dome part away from edge to permit the uncooked part to flow against the edge.

Cook only until the bottom is slightly browned and the top still moist. Never overcook your omelet—that's her advice.

When done, fold over in pan and serve at once on hot plate. If you use filling, add it just before turning the omelet.

Madame Romaine prepares a special "midwinter omelet" filled with chicken pieces which have been cooked in wine and then sprinkled with brandy, nuts, sliced apples and tiny pieces of toasted French bread.

With it she serves a delicate mixed green salad with her own subtle dressing, brioche, French pastry and coffee.

One of her most famous omelets is filled with chicken cooked in wine, truffles, pate de foie gras, and served with a sauce of cream, brandy and madeira wine.

So be inspired by this talented Frenchwoman and take advantage of our American crop of low-cost eggs.

Army Discusses OK of Football Bowl Contests

Resolution Is Expected to Be Adopted After Board Debate

WASHINGTON (AP) — An 18-man delegation was expected Thursday at West Point to discuss a resolution by Rep. Hebert (D-La.) that the U.S. Military Academy accept possible future bids to participate in a post-season major football bowl game.

The New Orleans Times-Picayune and the Washington Post and Times Herald both reported Wednesday night the probability of Army teams taking part in future bowl games.

The board, comprised of Congressional, military and civil members, is expected to adopt Hebert's resolution in a vote Friday.

Secretary of Defense Wilson was reported to have told advocates of post-season games for Army that he favors such a decision.

Hebert said he had talked with Wilson about his resolution and "he is throwing his support behind our project." The Congressman said he also had talked with Col. Earl Blaik, Army athletic director and

With Clarkston gone, Orionville is the county's only representative among five teams in the Blackhaws' Class C district.

For the regionals, eight Class A schools will gather at Birmingham to bid for the title won last year by Pontiac. Joining the Chiefs are Waterford's Skippers, Southfield, Berkley, East Detroit, Mt. Clemens, and Detroit DeLaSalle as well as the host Maples.

Oakland County's three other Class A teams, Ferndale, Hazel Park and Royal Oak, tangle with Highland Park, Hamtramck, Grosse Pointe and Austin Catholic at Ferndale. Highland Park won this regional a year ago.

Six-Man Team to Screen Applicants for LSU Job

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — A board of supervisors and the selection committee chairman, said Wednesday he could not predict when successors would be named to Coach Gaynell Tinsley and Athletic Director T. P. Heard.

He said the committee would need "some time" for checking applications and suggested candidates, estimated by an unofficial source to total more than 100 names.

The selection committee, appointed Wednesday, met to organize and set up procedure for screening applications. It made no announcement of the men under consideration or their names.

One board member said privately the names before the selection committee included head coaches Jim Tatum of Maryland, Stanley Galloway of Southeastern Louisiana and Don Faurot of Missouri; former assistant coach Ed McKeever; former Los Angeles Rams coach Hamp Pool and assistant coaches Ray Graves and Frank Broyles of Georgia Tech and Gomer Jones of Oklahoma.

Working Drawings Nearly Completed for New High School in Rochester

ROCHESTER—Working drawings for the new Rochester High School are nearing completion on the draft boards of the H. E. Beyster Associates, architectural firm of Detroit.

Superintendent Donald C. Baldwin said today that contractual bids will be taken in mid-April with completion date for the new building set for September of 1956.

A land use sketch with a design of the high school and its future additions is on display in the Rochester National Bank for the public to view.

"We feel that the public should be informed of the progress being made on its school," said Baldwin, who indicated that some of the delay in plan presentation was due to the hilly nature of the property. To be located on a 50-acre site

Imlay District Urged to Plan High School

IMLAY CITY—An Imlay City Citizens Committee, at a meeting called by the board of education to acquaint the public with the findings of the group, recommended this week that an architect be engaged to draw up preliminary plans for a new high school building.

H. G. DeCamp, president of the school board, reported that a 22-acre tract of land south of Gretenberger Field is being considered as a site for the proposed school.

DeCamp told some 80 people who attended the meeting that the Attica district will need three additional classrooms next year. He pointed out that a public opinion poll of the Imlay City district showed the public to be in favor of spending money from the building and site fund to develop facilities at the Attica School next fall, should that district vote to annex to the Imlay City district.

Schools Superintendent Alvin Norlin said that two sections of the second grade are meeting in the Congregational Parish house, and that additional facilities plus an extra teacher would be needed.

Reports by the committee included results of another opinion poll, which showed the public favored action on recommendations of the citizens' group.

Pocklington, head of the Leader Dog School for the Blind, charged today nobody heeded his appeal for slower traffic along Rochester road where a blind man and his dog were killed by an automobile.

Charles E. Sailer, 54, of Mackinac City, and his seeing-eye dog "Prince" were killed when they wandered into the road yesterday by a car driven by James Farrell, 55, of Detroit.

Pocklington said he had asked Gov. G. Mennen Williams to install a traffic light near the school last March but his request was denied when a traffic count showed there was no need for the light.

County Will Aid Sanitation Study

Monroe Says Pontiac, Oakland to Cooperate in Metropolitan Survey

County and city health departments will cooperate in a long-range research program designed to combat environmental sanitation problems in the Greater Detroit area, it was announced today by Dr. John D. Monroe, director of health for Pontiac and Oakland County.

This program was announced Monday by the National Sanitation Foundation, a non-profit organization with headquarters at the University of Michigan. Plans include research into control of sanitation of water, food, air, wastes and general conditions in this area.

"We will give every assistance to the program," Dr. Monroe stated, "so far as research and studies are concerned. All work done here, of course, will have to be completed within our present organization and budget."

He pointed out that any NSF projects which call for fund contributions from participating counties would have to be approved by the Board of Supervisors.

Russell H. Colston, county sanitarian, attended a meeting in Detroit last week at which the program was outlined by Dr. Henry F. Vaughan, president of the NSF and dean of the School of Public Health at the University of Michigan.

Aim of the foundation's project is to work out a long-range program for insuring high sanitation standards in the Detroit metropolitan area in future years.

Engineering Costs Approved by Board

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP—The Township Board has agreed to advance $1,000 for its share of preliminary engineering studies of the proposed interceptor sanitary sewer which is visualized as running south from Waterford through West Bloomfield, Southfield and Farmington townships, and the city of Farmington.

The funds will be repaid from the proceeds of a bond issue to be sold to finance the proposed project.

In other action, the board approved three plats: Westridge, on Dixie Highway; Woodland subdivision, adjacent to Lakewood Farms on M-59, and supervisor's plat 66, adjacent to Pontiac Lake and Scott Lake Roads.

Brownie Troop Guests of Honor at Club Meeting

ROCHESTER—Brownie Troop 62 will be the guests of the Rochester Women's Club at its 2 p.m. Friday meeting in the Avon Pavilion. The club is marking Girl Scout Day.

A demonstration of a troop meeting will be given by the scouts and their leaders, Mrs. Charles W. Case and Mrs. Arthur Dewey.

Mrs. Leroy Aldinger and Mrs. Worth Mallory will show films of the senior girl scout troop taken on the troop's summer vacation through Canada and Eastern states.

High School Site Given Approval

Highland, White Lake and Milford Committee Makes Swift Decision

MILFORD—A group of 20 representatives from Highland, White Lake and Milford met at Highland last night, and voted unanimously to recommend a new high school site to the Huron Valley School Board.

The proposed site would be on the west side of Milford road, halfway between Highland and Milford, at Reid Road.

Instead of a drawn out series of meetings on the site which was expected, the group acted quickly to speed action on the project.

The high school will accommodate students from White Lake, Highland, Clyde and Milford, in the 144 square mile Huron Valley School District.

There are 43 acres of flat land on a paved road available for purchase at the recommended site.

"This rapid decision by the building site committee comes as a complete surprise," Harold Hansen, superintendent of schools, stated.

"With as much territory as the school system covers, it is gratifying to see that the people are aware of the needs of a new high school," he added.

Carl Hanna, president of the Milford PTA, pointed out that the recommended site is only one mile from the $50,000 lighted athletic field. The new quarter mile cinder track with a 220 yard straightaway was completed this year.

At a recent meeting in Highland, several hundred residents of the school district appointed the building site committee, and said they would abide by the committee's decision.

To Air Problems Expansion Move

City Status, Annexing, to Get Public Hearing at School This Evening

ROCHESTER—A large turnout is expected for this evening's public meeting on the proposed incorporation of the village as a city, and the annexation of a portion of Avon Township.

The village council called the meeting two weeks ago to sound out public opinion of the plan which the council has released in a report.

It will be held in the high school cafeteria, with a starting time of 8 p.m.

The changeover to city status, and the accompanying annexation, were recommendations made by the council after more than a year of study and survey of problems facing the village.

Copies of the report are still available at the village office.

As outlined, the annexation would increase Rochester's area from 1.6 square miles to 5.8.

Avon Township officials have voiced opposition to the plan, which would take two large industries from the township's tax rolls.

Additional Public Discussion Is Planned on Proposed Lake Orion High School

LAKE ORION—As a result of a recent meeting on the proposed new high school, another public discussion of the project has been called for Tuesday evening at the Blanche Sims school.

Earlier this week the PTA heard Arlie Reed, superintendent of schools, report on the work of the area study and citizen's advisory committees over the past two years.

The meetings of these two groups culminated in the decision to build a new high school, he said. Pointing out that all the decisions so far were the result of intensive study by nearly 100 interested citizens, Reed also outlined steps in the study which led to the selection of the building site.

Because the 40 acre site selected is about 2.5 miles south of the village, there has been some question of a nearer location. Reed seeking possible locations, studied

Wheat Climbs, Others Decline

CHICAGO (AP)—Wheat prices advanced while other grains slipped a little lower in fairly active dealings on the Board of Trade today.

The firm tone in wheat followed upon the quite steep break in the closing hour of the previous session, particularly in the old crop months. It was therefore attributed in part to the belief wheat may have been oversold late yesterday.

Selling pressure in other cereals wasn't unusually heavy but it was enough to cause fractional declines in view of very limited demand in all pits.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was unchanged to 1/8 higher, March $2.25 1/2; corn 1/8 lower, March $1.51 1/2; oats unchanged to 1/8 lower, March 76; rye 1/8 lower to 1/4 higher, March $1.21 1/2; soybeans 1/8 to 1/4 lower, March $2.22 1/2; and land unchanged to 10 cents a hundred pounds lower, March $12.55.
