Romney Outlines Michigan Needs

LANSING (AP) — Gov. George Romney unveiled his outline of Michigan needs today but warned that to meet them, the state's tax structure must be overhauled by 1967.

In a State of the State message which contained mostly only general proposals rather than program specifics, the Republican governor declared that the treasury surplus — headed for $100 million—will almost certainly be exhausted within two years.

★ ★ ★

Romney said he is ready to talk tax reform any time the legislature is willing. He proposed a $200,000 study of Michigan's financial requirements for the next decade so that new revenue can be located.

Otherwise, he touched virtually every base of government concern from mental health to education exemptions for the Amish.

His nearly 4,000-word text was prepared for delivery to a late-morning joint gathering of the legislature, which began its 1965 session yesterday.

In it he promised at least six special messages to the legislature.

GLOWING PICTURE

Romney painted a glowing picture of Michigan's "new confidence," booming economy and movement from a treasury deficit to a surplus.

"But we must not be lulled into complacency by our sizable surplus," he declared.

"Our annual revenue growth is not keeping pace with just the unavoidable increases in public services expenditures . . . if we didn't have a surplus, we would not be able to meet the built-in costs without a deficit or improvement in services without an even greater deficit."

★ ★ ★

He said the state must dip into the surplus to balance the forthcoming budget.

HIGHER TAXES

"Higher taxes or interest-bearing debt will be necessary this year or next if we decide to materially increase my budget recommendations," Romney declared to the predominantly Democratic group.

His budget, expected to approach $800 million for general fund operations, will be presented in about two weeks.

SENIOR CITIZENS

The governor said in the three years since July 1962, revenue projections and figures show an average yearly increase of $38.5 million. Cost hikes caused merely by population growth are averaging $50 million annually.

Romney cited one area for potential tax relief — senior citizens' property taxes.

Yesterday he appointed a citizens' commission to study such relief.

Today he promised recommendations based on its report —if not in time for this legislative session, then at a special session later this year.

In education the governor cited three fundamental problems:

- To make a comprehensive coordinated plan to meet total education needs through public and private institutions.
- To devise equitable and effective controlled programs to distribute increased state financial support.
- To find and adopt the revenue sources to pay for improvements.

FURTHER INCREASE

He declared that state aid should be further increased and the aid formula revised to give every child equal educational opportunity regardless of school district property tax base. He set no figures.

Romney called for expansion of vocational education facilities and the community college program.

He spoke for more scholarship and loan programs for both public and private universities to bring higher education "within the financial reach of every qualified student in Michigan."

And, in reference to a current controversy in Camden, he said the state's few Amish families should be exempted from the requirement that teachers be state-accredited.

He said in the mental health

Say U.S. in Strikes on Laos Supply Lines for the Past Month

WASHINGTON (AP) — U. S. fighter-bombers have been smashing at Communist supply and reinforcement lines running through Laos for at least a month, government sources said today.

Yesterday's strike — which cost the United States two Air Force jets—bore down on Route 7, key segment of a road and trail network feeding both the Red Pathet Lao in Central Laos and the Communist guerrillas in South Viet Nam.

American authorities refused to say anything publicly beyond the terse announcement that an F100 Supersabre and an F105 Thunderchief were shot down in Central Laos by ground fire.

Defense Department spokesman Arthur Sylvester declined to discuss the type of a mission the two jets were flying.

Later it was reported that the pilot of the F105, Capt. Albert O. Vollmer of Denton, Kan., and Henrietta, N.Y. had been rescued.

Early today the Pentagon announced that the F100 pilot, Capt. Charles L. Ferguson of Clovis, N.M., and Parma, Idaho, had been "successfully recovered and was all right." At first Ferguson was reported missing.

4 SHOT DOWN

Four Navy and Air Force jets were shot down over Laos prior to yesterday's losses. Each was either conducting photo reconnaissance or escorting planes taking pictures of Red supply roads and trails.

For weeks, the Communist Chinese and North Vietnamese have been claiming that U.S. air and sea forces have been raiding Communist territory.

The U.S. government evidently is not ready to acknowledge that its war planes are in combat outside the borders of South Viet Nam.

★ ★ ★

The degree of escalation of the war still is rather low.

FURTHER STEP-UP?

The issue of whether it will be stepped up further — possibly to strike at production and supply centers, rail lines and military bases inside Viet Nam — is in doubt.

So far, sources said, the air strikes against supply lines leading from North Viet Nam through Laos have been conducted chiefly by American planes, with some activity by Laotian-piloted aircraft.

The South Vietnamese air force has not yet taken part in these operations, the sources said.

Ford's Man Loses in House

Arends Is Winner for Post as Whip

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Leslie C. Arends of Illinois was re-elected today to the House whip job he has held for 21 years, in spite of the endorsement of his opponent by the new House GOP leader.

The vote was 70 to 59.

The new leader, Rep. Gerald R. Ford of Michigan, had endorsed Rep. Peter H. B. Frelinghuysen of New Jersey as his personal choice for the job of second in command.

By endorsing Frelinghuysen, Ford had laid the prestige of his own new job squarely on the line.

Although Arends had said in advance that his election should not be interpreted as a blow at Ford, such a reading of the result seemed inevitable.

OUSTED VETERAN

Ford took over the leadership only last week by ousting old-liner Charles A. Halleck of Indiana by a 73-67 vote.

There are 140 Republicans in the House, so today's 70-59 vote showed there were 11 absentees. The ballot was secret.

Ford told newsmen after the vote that "Les has been whip a long time and I think he's done a good job. He has made a lot of friends over the 30 years he has been in Congress.

★ ★ ★

HAS INDICATIONS

Ford said that he had told the Republicans he hoped they would follow his leadership in the whip matter and the fact that they didn't "has some implications" that his leadership has been weakened or undermined.

But he added "Since Les has clearly stated to me that he will be loyal, I don't think this has all the ramifications that have been read into it."

Arends said "It certainly is not a slap at Gerry Ford.

"I intend to turn my allegiance over to Gerry Ford and to help him. I don't think you should call this a repudiation."

School Board OKs Policy on Pontiac Teacher Groups

The Pontiac School Board last night adopted a proposed policy on teacher association-school board relationships.

The chief effect of the new policy, which has been under consideration unofficially for several months, is that the board will now only recognize the association which has in membership the majority of the teachers in the district.

The new policy was strongly opposed by the Pontiac Federation of Teachers (PFT).

The official recognition will be limited to the purpose of maintaining and conducting professional relationships between the teaching staff and the school board.

★ ★ ★

This will include salary negotiations and other similar issues which arise.

DETERMINE MAJORITY

The board will determine which association has the majority of teachers after each group seeking recognition submits a notarized list of all paid-up members.

There are two teacher associations in the Pontiac School system — the Pontiac Education Association (PEA) and the PFT.

PEA is affiliated with the National Education Association and PFT is an affiliate of the American Federation of Teachers (AFL-CIO).

The policy defines majority as more than one-half of the teachers employed by the school system.

CAN JOIN BOTH

Since teachers are free to join both groups if they desire, it is conceivable that both teacher associations could have as members a majority of the teachers.

There are about 900 teachers in the school system.

At present PEA boasts a membership of more than 600 teachers and administrators. The PFT membership is under 300.

★ ★ ★

Both groups made statements at the meeting prior to adoption of the policy.

ENDORSES POLICY

PEA president Traver Miller stated his group endorsed the policy, with the exception of Rule 2 which excludes administrators from the definition of the teaching staff.

The PFT indicated strong disapproval of the policy, especially the method of recognition.

Graham Lewis, PFT president, stated that the executive committee of his group felt that the proposed method of selection was undemocratic.

★ ★ ★

Lewis said his group would like to see a schoolwide election in which teachers could choose which group would act as representative for the staff.

PFT AGAINST PLAN

If the policy was adopted, the PFT head said his group could not support the plan and would do everything possible to arouse the teachers and public opinion against it.

When asked what he meant by the statement Lewis replied that the PFT would make an appeal through teacher publications to gain support for an election.

Robert Vackaro, editor of "Pontiac Teacher," the official PFT publication, said many

LBJ Asks Lowest Aid Sum Since Marshall Plan Start

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson asked Congress today for $3.38 billion in foreign aid to promote the defense and economic strength of free countries.

Johnson's proposal — $1.17 billion in arms aid and $2.21 billion in economic assistance during the coming fiscal year — was the lowest such presidential request since the beginning of massive foreign aid under the Marshall plan after World War II.

And Johnson stressed continued efforts to streamline the program.

In a special message to Congress outlining the 1965-66 aid program, Johnson said more than a half-billion dollars will be used for weapons and economic help to counter Communist guerrillas in Viet Nam and Laos.

"Indeed, $500 million may not be enough," the President said.

He said he would ask an additional open-end "standby authorization," for use if he decides later that more money is needed "to protect our interests there" against the Reds' "frontal attack."

TOUCHY MATTERS

The nine-page presidential message left undecided some touchy matters that are likely to come up in Congress.

The message did not say whether further aid will be going to Egypt and Indonesia, whose presidents, Nasser and Sukarno, respectively, have publicly scorned U. S. assistance. Administration sources said this has not yet been determined.

Administration officials say direct aid to those two countries is now small. Nevertheless there have been protests in Congress against continuing any of it.

★ ★ ★

Also left open was whether the specific legislation — to be sent to Congress later—will be in one package or in separate bills. Influential Senate and House members are at odds on this. Administration officials said the economic and military measures might be split this year.

A large chunk of the economic aid in the new program — $580 million—is being earmarked for the Alliance for Progress program of assistance for Latin America.

If You Think Today Was Cold, Wait 'til Tonight

The mercury's failure to get up this morning set a new record low for this season — a frigid 3 above at 8 a.m. today. The previous low this winter was 5 above on Dec. 6.

The temperature at 2 p.m. was 9.

The weatherman expects even colder weather tonight. Zero to 7 is the forecast.

Tomorrow won't be quite as cold, with a high of 20 to 27 predicted. Skies will be mostly sunny.

Warmer weather is expected Saturday, along with partly cloudy skies.

The other driver, Clarence H. Williams, 54, of 2015 Lone Tree, Highland Township, died at 10:15 a.m. at Pontiac General Hospital where he had been taken for emergency treatment.

Sheriff's deputies said May's car was traveling west in the eastbound lane when the accident occurred.

★ ★ ★

Officers said the youth's car had crossed a yellow line and was in a no passing zone when it struck Williams' auto.

Deputies estimate the May auto was traveling between 75 and 80 miles per hour when the accident occurred. No skid marks were found for the car.

Plane Crashes at Willow Run

Pilot and Instructor Are Badly Injured

DETROIT (UPI) — Two men were injured, perhaps fatally, today when a two-engine Lockheed plane crashed on the runway at the Willow Run Airport.

Police at the airport said there were a pilot and an instructor on the plane. It crashed on the runway and both men were thrown clear, police said. The plane then burst into flames.

The two were put in ambulances and rushed to a hospital. Extent of their injuries was not immediately determined.

BEFORE NOON

The crash happened shortly before noon at the airport about 30 miles west of Detroit.

It was reported that the aircraft was owned by the Burroughs Corp.

State Agrees to Place Wide Track Signs

State Highway Department officials yesterday agreed to put up signs to help wandering motorist find their way onto Wide Track Drive.

★ ★ ★

City officials agreed to the plan — with skepticism — after the department representatives agreed to a reappraisal of Pontiac's downtown traffic problems in 90 days.

In a meeting with city officials, Max N. Clyde, State Highway Department traffic engineer, presented a large map showing the proposed location of signs at problem intersections.

Clyde said signs reading "East Wide Track" with arrows will direct motorists eastbound on the Auburn-Orchard Lake crossover to turn left on S. Saginaw, right on Water and left on East Wide Track.

NEW TYPE SIGN

Clyde said the signs will be put up next week. They will be the new "trailblazer" type, he said, manufactured in the State Highway Department's sign shop.

Clyde and three other department representatives accompanying him reiterated the department's stand that the new downtown traffic plan hasn't been given a fair chance.

City Manager Joseph A. Warren read a letter from Howard E. Hill, acting director of the State Highway Department, which said in part:

★ ★ ★

LACK OF FAMILIARITY

The problem is due to "lack of familiarity" with the new pattern, Hill wrote.

★ ★ ★

Hill's letter promised a review of the situation in six months, but Warren and Mayor William H. Taylor Jr., were adamant in their demands for another meeting 90 days after the signs go up.

To Keep Treasury Out of Red

Romney Urging State Income Tax?

By A. F. MAHAN
Associated Press Writer

LANSING — Gov. George Romney told the Michigan Legislature in effect today that an income tax is needed by 1967 or the state treasury will be back in the red.

He did not use the words "income tax" in his State of the State message, but he proposed "tax reform" anew. And both Republican Romney and the Democratic party, which now controls both House and Senate, have made "income tax" a keystone in tax reform packages of recent years.

"It is clear," he said, "we can improve services where necessary in the coming year only by spending a great deal more than our present tax structure will produce. This means the state will dip into this year's surplus to balance next year's budget.

"It will be only through the most prudent use of this surplus over the next two years that we will be able to meet essential state needs without increasing taxes, or going into debt."

field that 12 task forces are preparing recommendations for Mental Health Director Richard Kimmich.

Then, Romney, said the problem can be turned over to the $200,000 bipartisan Finance Study Commission for determination of how expanded programs can be financed.

He reported that Michigan is making full use of programs under the federal War on Poverty program.

Program improvements in education, job training, health and welfare can check delinquency and crime, he declared, but expansion of rehabilitation services and facilities are also needed.

NEEDS REVISION

Workmen's Compensation "badly needs revision and improvement," declared the governor.

He asked for expansion of the Department of Economic Expansion, citing $1.6 billion in planned capital improvements announced by Michigan industries in 1964.

In a separate section on the Upper Peninsula, the governor said Mackinac Bridge should be refinanced so tolls can be reduced and that new economic projects should be stimulated.

Compulsory vehicle inspection, stricter driver licensing, an implied consent to chemical tests law for drinking drivers and addition of 200 state troopers were asked in the traffic section.

BUDGET SUPPORT

Romney said he'll ask budget support for his new Human Resources Council, a body coordinating and encouraging state and private efforts on human and social problems.

He said 18-year-olds should be able to vote and declared that election campaign financial laws should be stricter.

★ ★ ★

At both the start and finish of his address, the second-term Republican governor emphasized the need for bipartisanship in executive-legislative dealings.

GENERAL FUND

Some usually well-informed sources forecast the state's general fund surplus will be approaching $100 million by the end of the fiscal year, June 30. Romney is withholding his estimate until his budget message is delivered. A surplus of $57 million existed last June 30 compared with a deficit of $85.6 million two years earlier.

While Romney proposed, without mentioning any figures, increased appropriations for education, mental health, state police and many other functions, he warned:

"Higher taxes or interest bearing debt will be necessary this year or next if we decide to materially increase my budget recommendations, or if we make piecemeal reductions in state taxes, with the possible exception of property tax relief for senior citizens."

Democrats in the 1963-64 legislature criticized Romney's spending programs as too small. Democratic governors in the past have proposed larger appropriations than GOP legislators would approve.

STUDY GROUP

Saying he was appointing a bipartisan study commission "to review and analyze Michigan's financial requirements over the next 10 years," Romney added:

"Meanwhile, the basic injustice of our existing tax structure has not diminished, nor has my personal concern for fundamental tax reform on a purely reform basis. Both parties have pledged such reform and in the past presented specific legislative programs for that purpose.

★ ★ ★

"I stand ready now or at any time to work toward a bipartisan program of fundamental tax reform when you are genuinely so inclined."

In his major setback since breaking a 14-year Democratic hold on the governor's office, Romney lost a proposed tax reform package—including an income tax — in a Republican-dominated legislature in 1963.

GETS TOUGH

Several times in his message, Romney proposed executive-legislative cooperation. Only once did his language get tough. This was it:

"During the coming year it is your opportunity, under our new Constitution, to reorganize our sprawling maze of state agencies into not more than 20 principal departments. If you want to know my position on such reorganization so that you can avoid a futile vetoed effort, I will be glad to make known the basic principles and departmental structure I support."

Recalling, without mentioning names, the stalemate that often prevailed between a Democratic governor and a Republican legislature over the 14 years before he took office Jan. 1, 1963, Romney said:

"Whether this difficult period was the fault of the governor or the legislature or both is not important now. But it is said history repeats itself and each time it is more expensive. A repetition of Michigan's executive-legislative conflict would be far more costly in the decade ahead than in the past."

RENEWS BID

Romney renewed his bid for cooperation in closing, thus:

"Few governors and few legislators have started a new session with so much public desire that we avoid the dire forbodings and pessimistic predictions of some based on recent state experience.

"That we will disagree from time to time, there is no doubt. It will ever be so under our system of checks and balances.

"But you have my personal pledge that I will do all in my power to aid you in discharging your responsibilities. I will not make recommendations that are motivated primarily on a political basis. I will not deal in personalities or name-calling. At all times, my door is open to the frank, timely and complete consultation that alone can produce the understanding and cooperation needed for the sound solutions we seek.

"I have faith you will want to make this a common mutual commitment."

ESCALATING WAR

Talk about escalating the war reached a pitch by the time U.S. Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor came here in late November from Saigon to confer with President Johnson, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

Taylor was reported to have proposed escalating the war in a bid to choke off North Vietnamese support for the Communist insurgents in South Viet Nam.

The raids on the supply routes through Laos apparently began about the time he returned to Viet Nam in early December.

U.S. Warning in U.N.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United States is reportedly telling United Nations members that it will take a second look at the big sums it pours into U.N. projects if they let the Soviet Union keep its General Assembly vote without settling its peace-keeping debts.

Informants said U.S. officials were relaying this warning to delegates as the time nears for the threatened showdown over Soviet refusal to pay U.N. peace-keeping assessments.

In another effort to avoid a clash when the assembly resumes Monday, Secretary-General U Thant called in U. S. Ambassadro Adlai Stevenson and Soviet Chief Delegate Nikolai T. Fedorenko yesterday.

Neither Stevenson nor Fedorenko gave any indication whether any progress had been made toward breaking the deadlock.

★ ★ ★

SOUNDING OUT

Thant has been sounding out the two powers on an Asian-African plan to resolve the dispute. It would set aside for this session Article 19 of the U.N. charter, which says a member two years in arrears on assessments loses its assembly vote.

This would deny voting rights to Russia, France and 16 other nations who are two years or more behind because of their refusal to pay for the Congo and Middle East operations.

The plan also calls for voluntary contributions to a rescue fund to help clear up the peace-keeping deficit of nearly $86 million.

members in the group would consider a strike against the schools if an election or some other compromise were not reached.

★ ★ ★

The PFT also objected to the lack of a written contract concerning negotiating rights or a provision for a third party mediator in the event of a dispute. The federation also opposed a provision giving the school board the final word in all negotiations.

1 DISSENTING VOTE

The board adopted the policy with Russell L. Brown casting the only dissenting vote.

Brown said he felt an election would be a more representative method of determining recognition.

The policy takes effect immediatley and the groups seeking recognition have until Jan. 22 to submit their notarized lists of members.

After this year recognition will be given on a 12-month basis from Dec. 1 to Nov. 30.

Legislation Introduced by Broomfield

Tax breaks for the parents of college students, higher outside earnings for widows and others receiving Social Security and repeal of auto excise taxes were among bills introduced today by Congressman William S. Broomfield of the 18th District.

In other bills introduced in the House of Representatives, Broomfield also proposed federal government guarantee of water supply, drain and sewer bond issues to reduce interest costs to communities and elimination of overtime charges for custom inspections for private pilots returning to the U.S. from Canada.

All were referred to House committees for further study.

A tax credit of up to 30 per cent of the cost of tuition and fees, minus room and board, would be permitted the parents of college students under the Broomfield bill.

Widows with minor children would be permitted to earn up to $3,600 yearly and still be eligible for full Social Security benefits. Others eligible for Social Security would be permitted to earn up to $3,000.

Broomfield said present limits on outside earnings of $1,200 were "unrealistic and unfair."

State Prisoners Paint Away Hostility

JACKSON (AP) — Will learning to wield an artist's brush help criminals from using more deadly implements when they get out of prison.

A rehabilitation expert at Southern Michigan Prison here thinks so. He's conducting art classes to prove his point.

The idea, says a psychologist, is that a prisoner tortured by pangs of hostility "works off these feelings on canvas before they develop into an explosive nature."

The program has been so successful that Dr. E. L. V. Shelley, supervisor of treatment for the State Corrections Department, hopes to expand it to other institutions.

SELF-RESPECT

Not only does painting help prisoners reduce hostility, Shelley says, but it also "helps them develop a sense of worthiness.

"They create something that other people recognize and appreciate," he explains. "Many convicts have feelings they don't know how to express or are afraid to express.

"In their group, expressing feelings is a sign of softness," Shelley says. "But in art, they can let themselves go."

The class takes up to 25 students at a time. The best paintings are sent on exhibition tours. When some went to college campuses last year sales brought in about $1,000.

Another set of paintings is being sent on a tour of penal institutions in Wisconsin, Indiana, Illinois and Minnesota.

Fire Runs Up for Waterford

Blaze Damage Down, Figures for '64 Show

Despite an increase of 129 alarms handled by the Waterford Township Fire Department during 1964 as compared to 1963, fire damage dropped nearly 50 per cent last year.

A total of 975 alarms were answered by firemen in 1964 compared to 846 during 1963.

Fire loss last year amounted to $160,401. This compares to $305,555 in 1963.

Three persons, all victims of a plane that caught fire and crashed, were killed during 1964 and eight suffered injuries as the result of fires.

Four fire-connected fatalities occurred in 1963 and five persons were injured that year in fires.

GRASS FIRES

The department's most significant activity increase last year over 1963 was in grass fires with 373 and 228, respectively.

★ ★ ★

Emergency rescue runs dipped slightly in 1964 from 1963. Respective totals were 178 and 181.

FALSE ALARMS

A total of 18 false alarms were received during 1964. This compares to 27 in the previous year.

Turkey Quits MLF Project

WASHINGTON (AP)— Turkey has pulled out of the proposed multilateral nuclear fleet, knocking another pin out from under the already wobbly project.

The notification was given Washington yesterday, but officials say they are not surprised.

The State Department has been aware of Turkey's lack of enthusiasm for about two months.

Turkey borders Russia, and officials speculated that Moscow's stiff opposition to MLF might have had something to do with the decision.

★ ★ ★

Uncle Sam's pet tiger already has picked up more than its share of thorns.

VIOLENT ATTACKS

France attacked MLF violently last month. Britain's new Labor government has been working on alternative plans.

Other allies are cool.

In fact, West Germany is the only major western power to see MLF in the same light that Washington does.

Turkey's desertion is the first, however, and officials consider it a heavy psychological blow. Others, it is feared, might follow suit.

MLF is a proposal for a separate force of surface ships, equipped with nuclear-tipped Polaris missiles and manned by a mixed crew of Allied sailors.

London Bobby At His Post In Fog

Muggings, Violent Crimes Begin to Plague England

LONDON (NEA) — Muggings and other senseless crimes of violence that have plagued New York and other big American cities now threaten to become a familiar part of city life in Britain.

Parts of London are becoming unsafe to ordinary law-abiding persons after dark as young hooligans roam the streets, bent on destruction.

In the last week in December 1964, mugging alone accounted for three murders in London, two of which took place outside of pubs. All of these killings were apparently motiveless.

There are two new factors which make the present wave of violence different from preceding ones, and which give the police cause for alarm.

TEEN GANGS

In the past, teen-ager gangs used their fists mostly whenever there was a rumble, although the odd bicycle chain or flick knife made its appearance.

But in recent weeks young gangsters have terrorized their rivals by firing at them with shotguns from speeding cars, making sedate London resemble Chicago of the 1920s.

Smash-and-grab gangs now go armed with everything from sawed-off shotguns to pistols when they raid a bank, a practice which has hitherto been rare in Britain, whose police are unarmed.

An unwritten code long existing between the underworld and the police holds that as long as one side did not take up arms, the other would refrain from toting firearms. Until recently, this understanding has worked remarkably well.

But now gunplay has become contagious, and even youngsters have taken to firing at trains with their air rifles.

The other factor that worries police is the seeming public indifference to violence in the streets, with bystanders slow to go to the aid of victims who are being attacked.

In order to counteract this indifference Scotland Yard recently called on the public to "have a go" at criminals such as bank raiders, providing that the circumstances were right.

★ ★ ★

This brought the wrath of the British Safety Council down upon Scotland Yard's head.

'HAVE A GO'

To advise the public to "have a go" at armed criminals is "madness" and "suicial," the council claims.

Not only would such bystanders get in the way of the police, but they'd risk losing their lives without preventing criminals from escaping.

"You are not being a coward if you keep out of these affairs and let the police deal with them," Graham Spiers, an official of the safety council, explains.

After President Kennedy's assassination the British viewed with horror the ease with which firearms can be procured in the United States. But the situation is little better here. Anyone over the age of 17 can buy a shotgun across the counter.

Most of Britain's shotguns are imported. More than 42,000 were imported in the first 10 months of 1964 from Spain, Italy, France, Belgium and Czechoslovakia—a big increase over the 25,000 brought into Britain in 1963.

Outgoing Burch Made Scapegoat for Election Day Debacle

By WALTER R. MEARS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Outgoing Republican National Chairman Dean Burch took the rap for the conservative cause he championed in a campaign he did not control.

It was Barry Goldwater's show, and Burch was Goldwater's man. When the show flopped, only Burch was around to face the critics.

Goldwater and his influence were their real target. But the former senator was out of public view, and the key men in his campaign policy decisions were back in private life.

During the futile effort to keep his job, Burch argued that he was a technician, not a theoretician. And he insisted he had done his technical chores well.

★ ★ ★

SYMBOL OF BARRY

But that was never the argument. To his liberal and moderate critics Burch was simply a symbol of Goldwater, a leader they never relished.

Every step Burch took in hope of holding on only tied him closer to Goldwater, without whom he would never have had the job in the first place.

★ ★ ★

Perhaps his status was best dramatized on the December day when Burch sat across the hall while Goldwater, former President Dwight D. Eisenhower and former Vice President Richard M. Nixon talked about his future.

A newcomer to top-level national politics, Burch could only turn to Goldwater for help in the effort to withstand his foes.

News Analysis

FIRMLY SET

Each time the chairman did so, his own image as a symbol of the defeated presidential nominee and the party's conservative wing — an image Burch acknowledged — became more firmly set.

Aside from Goldwater and former Rep. William E. Miller, Goldwater's running mate, Burch had no top-level allies to plead his cause. As a newcomer he lacked the store of political contact and past-due favorors that might have helped his losing campaign.

★ ★ ★

Ray C. Bliss, the man Goldwater finally accepted as a replacement, has his own store of alliances, built during 16 years as Ohio party chairman.

Arguing Burch's competence, Goldwater pointed to the surplus in the national committee's treasury. Its size has not been disclosed by the committee.

NO POINT

Republican critics answered that there was no point in having dollars left over if the money could have helped avert a landslide loss. Some charged that liberal and moderate candidates were short changed during the campaign.

Sen. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania accused conservative leaders at national headquarters of hoarding the money in anticipation of their defeat.

And soon Burch was busy denying that the committee's bank balance was as big as some reports indicated.

The chairman himself was not the policy maker in the Goldwater campaign. The men who were stepped out of the lineup soon after the election, and Burch stood alone as a visible symbol of the election-day debacle.

Bliss Expects to Conduct Behind-Scenes Rebuilding

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI) — Ray C. Bliss as Republican national chairman plans to work quietly in the background in his determined effort to rebuild the Republican party.

Describing himself as a realist, the man slated to become national chairman on April 1 said he was optimistic about his party's future.

He is convinced it has a solid base upon which "qualified candidates, adequately financed, with proper organization support" can expect to make a winning race.

Bliss is not discussing the party's ideological disputes and any plans he may have except to say he expects to be a "desk chairman" working full-time at his $30,000-a-year job.

★ ★ ★

He has not sought a single vote for the chairmanship he told newsmen yesterday when he made it plain he expects to pattern his national operation after that which has been successful in Ohio.

CANDID ANSWERS

"I don't like to be vague," Bliss said when asked about his more specific plans as chairman. "I don't hold many news conferences and I like to be candid in my answers.

"But all this happened rather quickly and I have had no time to do any thinking about what I would do in an office to which I haven't yet been elected.

"You don't make plans and announcements until you have had time to study them and know what you are doing."

★ ★ ★

He said, however, in answer to a question, that he expects to have a "relatively free hand" in rebuilding the party and hopes to "conduct myself so as to invite the confidence and support of all."

NO COMMITMENTS

In that connection, he said he had not made commitments to anyone in exchange for support to replace Dean Burch, who will submit his resignation next week effective April 1.

Bliss said also that he would continue his Akron insurance business so that he would be financially independent.

"I never want to be dependent upon politics for a living," he said. "I am glad that I have a business to fall back upon because having that security I made some decisions that I otherwise might have been hesitant to make."

★ ★ ★

He said he would be a "desk chairman," putting his seemingly limitless energy to organizational matters and leaving most of the speaking engagements to others.

NOT AN ORATOR

The Buckeye State chairman reminded a newsman, who suggested Bliss was reluctant to make speeches, that he didn't profess to be an orator. He added that he had made and would make many speeches to finance committees and other party groups.

"If I spent all of my time making Lincoln Day speeches and talking to service clubs, I would never get anything done," he said. "Those are the type of speeches congressmen and senators can make best.

"I have always felt it was my duty to build up others, not Ray Bliss."

★ ★ ★

Candidates and party leaders are not developed by chairmen "running around making speeches," he stated.

WORK CLOSELY

Bliss expressed a desire to work closely with the party's finance committee and other organization groups, particularly the state chairmen. He has been head of their national organization for some time.

There was a sound of resignation in his voice as the 57-year-old Bliss said that this was the second time he had given up a long-planned vacation with his "unusually fine wife" of five years to plunge deeper into politics.

She understands, he said, but had been concerned about the long hours he worked — a situation which led to his being bedfast for a spell during the recent presidential campaign. He wore house slippers during his travels because of a severe attack of gout.

★ ★ ★

Bliss said he had not given any thought to reorganization of the party's headquarters. He had told Burch to go ahead with several programs he intended to present at the Republican National Committee meeting in Chicago next Thursday.

Say Big Fish Dragged Angler to His Death

MANILA (UPI) — A monstrous fish dragged fisherman Mateo Tanganili, 46, to a watery death off the Southern Philippines, according to two companions.

They said Tanganili became entangled in his line and was dragged overboard by a 660-pound "barili" fish which took the hook and dived for deep water.

Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt Says:

Test May Detect Throat, Mouth Cancer

Q—I recently read that the Pap test could be used to detect cancer of the mouth. Would this apply to cancer of the throat also?

A—Since the Papanicolaou or Pap test consists of a microscopic examination of a smear or discharge for isolated cancer cells, it can be applied to several locations including sputum from the lungs or bronchial tubes, washing from the stomach and smears from the throat.

Usually the throat would have to be sprayed with a local anesthetic first so the swabbing could be done without causing gagging.

Q—Several months ago a tumor was removed from my leg. My doctor said it was a malignant melanoma. Is this a form of skin cancer and will it return?

A—Yes, this is a type of skin cancer. For this reason a wide area around the lesion should be removed at operation.

In addition to this and following the operation, phenylalanine mustard or a related product should be injected into the affected area.

When this has been done many victims of this otherwise fatal disease have been cured and have had no return of the melanoma.

Q—What causes pateca or small pinhead dots under the skin?

A—I assume you are referring to petechiae or pinpoint hemorrhages in the skin.

One of the commonest causes is insect bites of various kinds. These are usually accompanied by itching.

Petechiae are also seen in persons who have purpura and they are commonly associated with a great variety of acute infections.

A few scattered petechiae may be seen in persons who are over 40 and who are in good health. This type is of no significance.

Man belongs to the Chordata division of the animal kingdom.

Is Viet Nam Impasse a Dead-End Street?

It is doubtful if the diplomatic and military branches of the United States government were ever in a more frustrating and contradictory entanglement than that characterizing our involvement in South Viet Nam.

General KHANH and his fellow officers are feuding with American Ambassador TAYLOR, who has rebuked them for whittling down the civilian elements of the Saigon government. Premier HUONG, heading what is left of civilian government, is feuding with the political Buddhists. The Communists of North Viet Nam are trumpeting their gains, and predicting more.

And in the jungle and rice paddies, in Saigon itself, men—Vietnamese and American—are dying.

The American purpose in South Viet Nam can be stated simply. It is to stem the tide of Communist conquest and subversion, fueled by Red China, from overrunning all of Southeast Asia, and reaching a long arm into the Pacific by way of Indonesia. To effect this requires a stable, free government in South Viet Nam.

Such a government could have no permanence without the suppression of the Viet Cong. Even a negotiated settlement, given the present temper of the Asian Communists, cannot be reached without a greater measure of military success than has thus far been possible in Viet Nam. But it is inconceivable the Viet Cong be checked, much less put down, without at least effective government in Saigon.

Is there a way out of this vicious circle?

The Administration appears to believe that the beginning must be made with the government in Saigon. Others argue that a direct American military campaign is essential if any government in Saigon is to have any viability.

Which of these two courses is correct depends upon a large number of factors, relatively unknown to the public. The American people, therefore, are in no position now to insist that their government choose a particular line of action.

But what they do have a right to demand is that whatever the government does shall be based on realities, not upon theories, either of government or of military origin.

U.S. Aid to Business Holds Fiscal Dilemma

When President KENNEDY'S depressed area program was under debate in 1961, opponents raised a pertinent question. They asked what the Federal government's responsibility would be if a plant established under the program turned out to be unprofitable. Would the government then be bound to keep it in operation?

The question arises anew following collapse of the first big effort to revive the economy of Appalachia by using Federal aid to help create a new industrial establishment. In the face of mounting debts, a West Virginia woodworking venture, initiated in 1962 with $1.8 million in Federal financing, has been forced to close its doors.

Many of the 100 men put out of work clearly regard the plant as a Federally protected project. Said one worker, "We never thought the government would let them close it. But I'm glad they got that company out of there. Maybe they'll send a new boss down from Washington to run it right."

But government officials have no authority to run the plant. At best they can try to find a buyer and give him technical assistance, and possibly new financing help.

Industrial and commercial loans under the Area Redevelopment program now number 379, representing about $165.5 million in taxpayer money. In most cases, the loans were extended at the maximum 65 per cent of financing permitted by law for firms unable to obtain bank loans. These 379 facilities are said to employ 42,668 persons.

But the recent failure dramatizes the risks that are taken when the government finances commercial activity in places where businesses no longer are able to operate without assistance from taxpayers.

Burch's Decision Sign of Change

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — Dean Burch's decision to quit as chairman of the Republican National Committee April 1 is a major defeat for former Sen. Barry Goldwater. But it made some other things clear, too.

MARLOW

Goldwaterites will not run the Republican party; Goldwater is definitely not its leader any longer; Republican governors and former President Dwight D. Eisenhower and former Vice President Richard M. Nixon charted the road for Burch's exit.

Many, if not most, Republicans would have felt Goldwater controlled the party chairman so long as the 37-year-old Burch remained as chairman. He had been the senator's loyal lieutenant for years and had been handpicked by him as party chairman for a four-year term.

The cries of "Burch must go" began shortly after the November election. Burch didn't accept this and began to fight to retain his job.

On Dec. 5 Republican governors called for an overhaul of the National Committee and, without mentioning Burch by name, said the National Committee should "adopt leadership which clearly represents a broad view of Republicanism."

Four days later Goldwater went to New York to confer with Eisenhower and Nixon.

MUST GIVE GROUND

The three agreed Republican unity could be achieved if opposing factions gave a little ground.

Later in December, Goldwater wrote the committee members to say he would be glad to recommend Burch's replacement if it would help unify the party.

Then Burch wrote all 132 committee members, saying his resignation had been called for on the grounds that he was a "symbol" of Goldwater and the "so-called conservative faction."

"If this is true," he added, "then my resignation under pressure at this time would clearly be interpreted as a repudiation by the Republican party of all those voters who identified themselves with responsible conservative Republicanism."

But Goldwater and Burch finally, after a nose-count, concluded that while Burch could win a vote of confidence from the committee it would not be big enough to provide a mandate.

So, with Goldwater standing beside him, Burch said Tuesday he would quit in April to make way for Ray Bliss, Ohio's Republican chairman.

Waiting until April can hardly be interpreted as anything but a face-saving device. But the returns are plain enough: Goldwater and Burch lost.

We Can Afford The Money, But–

David Lawrence Asks:

Is New York Poverty-Stricken?

WASHINGTON — New York City is supposed to be the richest city in the world, and New York State is often referred to as the wealthiest in the union.

LAWRENCE

But the Empire State is evidently being regarded here as a "poverty-stricken" area in dire need of federal funds.

For administration officials admit that, out of the appropriations for education which President Johnson has recommended to Congress, New York State is expected to get close to $92 million in the first year of the program.

New York City itself, according to Washington officials, may get almost $50 million as its share.

Much of this sum is to be made available to what are called "poverty - impacted" school districts.

★ ★ ★

The theory is that, because the residents of the area have low incomes, the schools are "poor" in quality.

UNREALISTIC

This, of course, is unrealistic, because funds for schools are provided by the state, counties and cities, irrespective of the income of individual citizens in any given school district.

Many cities have slum areas, but does it become, therefore, the sole obligation of the federal government to deal with them?

The situation is reminiscent of what happened in the 1930s in the midst of a deep depression.

At that time, many citizens were placed on "relief" and the government developed "made work" programs to help the unemployed.

But today the nation is supposed to be "prosperous." The state governments are raising unprecedented amounts of revenue. Personal income in most of the states is up by many percentage points.

Yet the federal government is expected to hand out money to the rich states and the rich cities in order to deal with "poverty-stricken" areas.

The question arises as to how long the federal government can keep up an outflow of money without regard for a balanced budget or a surplus out of which to make annual payments on the public debt.

★ ★ ★

The present mood in Washington is to spend more money for education and for medical care.

THEIR DUTY

For many decades, the states have felt it was their duty to handle problems in the field of education and public health.

But the federal government has begun to appropriate such vast sums in these two fields that it begins to look as if the states will play a diminishing role in both areas.

There is no reason why the schools in a slum district should be treated any differently than the schools in a prosperous section of the city.

There is no justification for assuming that education is of an inferior quality in one part of a city just because the residents happen to be poor people.

Bob Considine Says:

Fete to Honor Journalist Who Gave Me My Start

NEW YORK—The fellow who must be held responsible for smuggling me into the newspaper business, Shirley Povich of the Washington Post, gets the Grantland Rice Memorial Trophy tonight at the Americana Hotel.

CONSIDINE

It's another jewel in Shirley's crown, as luminous as his distinction of being the only male ever listed in the who's who of well-known American women.

Shirley ruined my promising career as a tennis bum one day in 1929. I was District of Columbia singles champion, for some reason or other that slips me now, worked as a clerk in the State Department, and had a crazy notion that the Washington papers were neglecting tennis news.

I batted out a column of items and spread it before Denman Tompson, sports editor of the Washington Star. Denman said sorry, or ugh, but the Star already had a tennis columnist—fellow named Bill Tilden.

It was a long walk back to the State Department that day of defeat. The path led past the Post. Shirley happened to be at his desk.

BIGGER THAN LIFE

He read the piece, said he'd let me know, didn't, but in the following Sunday's sports pages there it was, bigger and more beautiful than life, under the heading of "Speaking of Tennis."

He paid me five bucks. It was the biggest fin I ever made, before or since. Lived like a king on it, taxes being what they were in those days.

Anyway, a year later Shirley's regular high school reporter, Bill Dismer, quit for something better, the hardware game, and Shirley whistled for me to come and work full-time.

★ ★ ★

The Depression-mired paper's "receiver" must have been off that day, or his back was turned. The rest of the sports staff — Walter Haight, Jack Espey, Frank Young, Tony Atchison, John Hinkel—accepted me in time, particularly after I turned over to the department a trophy I won in the Middle Atlantic doubles, a cocktail shaker.

A JOY

Working for Shirley was a joy. We hated to go home nights when the last edition was proudly put to bed, and sometimes we didn't.

We'd drive out to Jimmy La Fontaine's, the gambling hell built exactly on the boundary line between the District of Columbia and Maryland.

More nights than one, Shirley won our rent money at Jimmy's with a hot hand and earnest supplication to the dice. Classy shooter.

He was the only one of us fancy enough to belong to the National Press Club, too. We'd dine there in splendor, on him, whenever we could and always order the best—the steak sandwich dinner which cost 45 cents.

SHOWED ME WAY

One day Shirley took me off high school sports . . . and showed me the way to New York.

I miss those days. I miss my old buddy, too. It will be great to be a part of his reverent claque at the Americana.

Wonder whatever became of that cocktail shaker?

In Washington:

Dissension in Viet Cong Units

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Vietnamese contacts have just sent me word from friends who have relatives out with the Red guerrillas that there's growing dissension in a considerable number of Viet Cong units.

CROMLEY

These messages are numerous in the rice-rich delta areas of South Viet Nam where Red troops and their political agitators have done well.

The reports indicate that in some areas numbers of non-Communist nationalist Vietnamese who joined up with the Viet Cong years ago — to fight the French, the Diem government or hated local officials — are becoming disillusioned with the Communists.

★ ★ ★

This disillusionment reportedly began to appear in recent months as the Red Chinese stepped up sharply the number of their "advisers" in South Viet Nam.

In effect, these Chinese apparently have taken actual command of numerous Viet Cong military and political action units.

This influx of advisers reportedly has caused some guerrillas and some guerrilla-cooperators to feel that the Communist Viet Cong is dominated by Chinese and run from Peking.

★ ★ ★

Vietnamese do not like Chinese running their affairs. The Chinese have time and again conquered their country. The hatred is especially strong in the extreme south, which has a rich history of outsmarting and outfighting the Chinese.

In some areas, knowledgeable Vietnamese estimate that 40 to 45 per cent of those with the Viet Cong are not Communists, but people who could be won back to the loyalist side.

Some of these men have hinted to their relatives that they'd like to desert.

But however many of these non-Communists there are and however many hints they have sent home, there are so far no concrete signs that they are actually preparing to desert in any appreciable numbers.

These waverers don't know what the Vietnamese government would do to them. Many are afraid the Communists would retaliate by killing them or members of their families.

While in Viet Nam a few months back, a series of talks with Viet Cong defectors brought out one point clearly: the Reds had regularly attempted to assassinate those who defected and went home. One defector showed me the blast marks where a Viet Cong grenade had exploded against the wall inside his room.

If this disillusionment is widespread among Viet Cong guerrilla forces, the time would be ripe for an imaginative psychological warfare program that would increase that dissension and encourage desertions.

Meanwhile, this dissension indicates no collapse of the Viet Cong effort. All reports indicate that things are likely to get worse for the U.S.-Vietnamese forces before they get better. But this dissension may open a door toward improving things if we are alert enough to seize upon it.

'Danger of Great Society Being Poverty Stricken'

Kudos to Ellerie Wolfer of Highland for saying it's time for middle class Americans to unite against Mr. Johnson's "Great Society." We are heavily taxed by Federal, State, City and County governments and pay exorbitant insurances to protect our property. Charities constantly dun us for contributions.

★ ★ ★

Everyone is constantly digging into our meager incomes until one day we will all be reduced to the level of being considered "poverty stricken." Then who will pay the cost of our "Great Society." It's time someone woke up before we are reduced to a third-rate nation.

Actually Forecasts Crimes

Computer Now Valuable Partner to Police

NEW YORK (NEA) — Quietly, a patrol car turns into a street off a busy avenue and parks at the curb. Shortly afterward, three men head down the avenue in a late model sedan. They stop just before reaching a liquor store and two hurry inside to rob the proprietor.

From the opposite end of the block, a dilapidated convertible with two plainclothes detectives moves slowly toward the getaway car.

Inside the store, the thugs lock the owner and a customer in the back room, and raid the cash register.

Minutes later, the plainclothesmen in the convertible hold the driver at gunpoint while the patrolmen seize the robbers inside.

★ ★ ★

SPEEDY PARTNER

The crime had been predicted by the policeman's speediest partner, an electronic computer.

Criminal data processing spans a broad field ranging from a punched card machine to a complex computer.

Although the punched card machine was invented at the end of the 19th century, only recently have police departments found special applications for their problems.

★ ★ ★

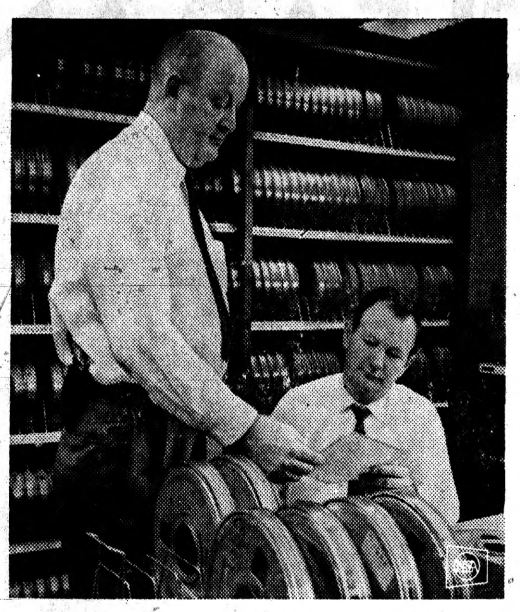
FORESEE CRIME

Throughout the United States today, advances in data processing and availability of equipment help an increasing number of cities to foresee crime, get rapid-fire criminal identification and co-ordinate traffic violations with payment of fines.



BIG PICTURE — A New York policeman makes request for fingerprint stored on magnetic tape. When computer filing is complete, police will be able to search through 300,000 sets of prints in one hour.

Computer crime reports in the metropolitan areas, Chicago and New York in particular, free policemen from time-consuming paper work for more active duty in investigating, making arrests and covering beats.

New York's "crime index" tells the exact location of every crime on every beat in every precinct.

In Chicago, an IBM 1401 computer analyzes criminals' methods of operation and isolates potential trouble spots.

For example, administrators coming to work Tuesday morning get a daily report of 5,000 calls for service occurring from midnight Sunday through midnight Monday.

The statistics pinpoint areas where more patrolmen are needed to stop crime before it starts.

How does data processing help identify criminals?

WITHIN SECONDS

If the victim notifies the authorities right away, a list of suspects can be in a detective's hands within seconds after the call.

Under the old system, the procedure took anywhere from minutes to days, depending on the nature of the case.

Modern data processing's speed makes it possible for a detective, working from a computer-produced suspect list, to be en route to question the actual robber before he gets home with the cash.

★ ★ ★

Major police departments from Fort Worth, Tex., to New York are currently transferring their massive files of fingerprint sets to magnetic tapes for computer use.

24 HOURS

When New York completes its enormous job of converting more than 4 million sets onto the tapes, it will be able to examine all of them, if necessary, by computer within 24 hours.

The chore would take two men a century to perform by hand.

Since the cards are now filed 75,000 to a cabinet, the reels of tape also represent a saving of space.

★ ★ ★

A half dozen, each slightly smaller than a movie reel, can hold all the information.

MOST VALUABLE

Michael J. Murphy, commissioner of police, calls the department's IBM 1401 "The most valuable tool of law enforcement in years."

Data processing acts as an auxiliary policeman in Hartford, Conn., when a cop gives a ticket.

When he tags the violator, the original of the three-part ticket goes to be key-punched and put on magnetic tape for computer.

★ ★ ★

AUTOMATICALLY

If not, the system automatically produces a delinquent notice for the violator. Finally, he receives a court summons.

Proof of the system's effectiveness lies in a recent Hartford report.

Records show 80 per cent collections, a 30 per cent increase over tickets previously paid before arriving at the summons level.

Revenues rose significantly, too.

NET INCREASE

While the number of tickets issued in two years used for comparison, 1960 and 1962, remained about the same, in 1962, the city netted $300,000, an increase of $80,000 over the 1960 figures.

Because of its increasing effectiveness in crime prediction, criminal identification and crack down on scofflaws, data processing plays an ever-broadening role as the policeman's speediest partner.

★ ★ ★

This means that the successful criminals of tomorrow will have to add a legitimate speciality to their dubious assets: they'll need to be data processing experts, too.

Bats in Belfry Fail to Chase Mosquitoes

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — The results of a 1929 experiment remain on Sugar Loaf Key, 15 miles north of here. A tall, shingled, windowless tower is a reminder of an antimosquito campaign that failed.

The tower was built by Richter Perky, who had discovered that mosquitoes were the biggest handicap to development of a fishing resort for wealthy sportsmen.

A Texas scientist had explained to him that bats, emerging from the tower, would destroy the mosquitoes.

The tower was constructed and baited with the scientist's special bat bait to lure bats into residence in the tower.

★ ★ ★

The unexpected happened, however. The 1929 hurricane blew the bat bait into the Gulf of Mexico.

SCIENTIST DIES

A call to Texas for more bait revealed that the scientist had died, leaving behind neither bait nor formula.

Bats were imported and placed in the tower, but they all disappeared.

The bat tower still stands — but legend reports that the mosquitoes ate the bats.

Can you name the 6 reasons Martini devotees prefer the glorious Gordon's Martini?

[1] To this day, the ancient pot still method is used in distilling Gordon's Gin. [2] Only gin from the heart of the run is bottled for Gordon's. [3] Gordon's uses only juniper berries and other choice botanicals aged to the peak of maturity. [4] Gordon's is extraordinarily dry. [5] Gordon's has a distinctively delicate flavour. [6] Gordon's maintains its exceptional quality because it still harks back to Alexander Gordon's original formula created in England in 1769. Reasons enough for enjoying a Glorious Gordon's Martini soon, wouldn't you say?

Hunt 14 Seamen From Stricken Ship

TOKYO (AP) —A Japanese patrol boat and a U.S. Air Force plane searched waters east of Tokyo Bay today for 14 seamen missing after their Nationalist Chinese freighter broke up in rough seas.

The Maritime Safety Agency said 23 of the 7,198-ton freighter Grand's 43 crewmen were rescued and six bodies were recovered.

Nine of the rescued crewmen were heading for San Francisco aboard the American freighter Japan Bear.

Wants to Buy Gas Chamber

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — A hotel and nightclub operator wants to buy the state's gas chamber. The voters abolished the death penalty in November.

Hotelman Harvey Dick said he was not sure what he would do with the chamber, but he wants the state to set a price for it.

State officials are not sure they will.

They noted that Oregon abolished the death penalty in 1914 but restored it in 1920.

★ ★ ★

Even the man who invented the gas chamber in 1933 had a suggestion.

'DUMP IT'

"I'd put that thing on a ship and dump it 500 miles at sea.

"I don't believe in capital punishment and I never have," said Earl Liston, a retired engineer at Denver.

Say Father, Son Stole Phone Wire

ANDREWS, Tex. (AP) — A father and his son are accused of stealing 30 miles of telephone line.

★ ★ ★

Ralph Flowers, 59, and Richard Flowers, 26, were charged Wednesday with felony theft in the disappearance of the wire, which linked Goldsmith, Tex., and Hobbs, N.M. It was not in service at the time.

Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. said the line was worth $6,500.

Dr. Albert Schweitzer

Jungle Hospital Thronged

Great Humanitarian 90 Today

LAMBARENE, Gabon (AP) — Dr. Albert Schweitzer's famous jungle hospital was thronged today as the man often called the world's greatest living missionary celebrated his 90th birthday.

Hundreds of well-wishers were still en route to the outpost three miles from Lambarene where Schweitzer has spent much of his life treating the sick of French Equatorial Africa.

★ ★ ★

The throng included black men, entire villages of grateful tribesmen, and white men, some 200 Europeans and a few Americans from outside Africa. They came by plane, riverboat and on foot.

Schweitzer, who has helped more than 60,000 persons at the hospital he founded 40 years ago and won a Nobel peace prize, is stooped and burdened with age.

FAMILIAR TWINKLE

But the old man with the bushy white hair and the drooping mustache still had his familiar twinkle as he told visitors:

mustache still had his familiar twinkle as he told visitors:

"I assure you I feel wonderful. I am grateful you could come."

★ ★ ★ ★

A living legend because of his humanitarian work, Dr. Schweitzer is also one of the controversial figures of Africa. Despite criticism from some Africans, he has refused to change either his methods or the crowded corrugated iron shacks that serve as his hospital.

"He treats our people like savages instead of bringing progress," a Gabonese official said recently.

REFUSES TO CHANGE

Dr. Schweitzer insists he knows what's best for Africans and will not change. He points to the man from the bush who continues to come for help and to his staff of 50 men and women, some of whom come from the world's best hospitals.

Renouncing a successful career in Europe, he first came to Africa in 1913. Although he was to win recognition later as a missionary, he had already achieved greatness as a young man.

Born the son of a preacher in the Alsace village of Kayersberg, Schweitzer enjoyed a wide reputation in music, philosophy and theology before he turned to medicine at the age of 30.

As an organist, he attracted large audiences in European concert halls. As a scholar, he left a storehouse of knowledge on subjects ranging from music, German literature and Bach to studies of Jesus.

Zambia Cancels Plans for Goat's Blood Rite

LUSAKA, Zambia (AP) — The Zambia cabinet canceled plans today for a ceremony in which goat's blood was to be smeared on the feet of President Kenneth Kaunda.

The cabinet decided that the ritual—a mark of respect for an African hero — would damage Kaunda's image abroad. Churches also protested. Some 60,000 persons were to have watched the ceremony Sunday at Ndola, in the copper belt.

Gales and Blizzards Sweep British Isles

LONDON (AP) — Severe gales and blizzards swept much of the British Isles today after the worst buffeting of the winter last night.

London had bright sunshine and blue skies, but an air ministry spokesman said the north and west coasts could expect "a tough time again." Winds of more than 60 miles an hour held the 43,340-ton British aircraft carrier Ark Royal in Devonport Harbor and prevented her sailing.

Hawaii led the country last year with the most life insuran per family — an average of $18,400.

Congress Groups Studying Electronic Eavesdroppers

WASHINGTON (AP) — The advertisement proclaimed in black type and breathless prose:

"The Snooper. World's only private listening device. Aim it at a group of friends a block away and pick up every word."

Giving the imagination a nudge, it added, "Just think of the ways you can use this."

ANOTHER DEVICE

Another "amazing little device" being offered to the public can be placed against any wall, according to its hucksters, and "you can detect the faintest of voices and sounds in the next room — good for knowing what the kids are doing without their realizing it."

Data about these electronic eavesdroppers and similar devices are in the files of Rep. Cornelius Gallagher's government operations subcommittee, which is investigating invasion of privacy and intends to open hearings late this month or early February. The New Jersey Democrat's group is one of at least five congressional committees probing various facets of the situation.

The hearings will concentrate of how far Uncle Sam has stepped across the thin line of a man's privacy.

At the congressman's request the General Services Administration is conducting a survey of private contractors to learn what types of snooping devices have been purchased by what agencies.

The preliminary hearings will be of an exploratory nature with experts discussing invasion of privacy in many fields and its ramifications.

Sponsors of Immigration Legislation Are Guardedly Optimistic

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sponsors of legislation recommended by President Johnson to revamp the nation's immigration law expressed guarded optimism today about making a breakthrough in the obstacle-ridden field.

Johnson's key proposal was to do away with an immigration quota system based on the national origins of the U.S. population in 1920. The system favors immigrants from northern and western Europe over those from other parts of the world.

In a special message Wednesday he urged Congress to abolish this system over a five-year period and allow admission of immigrants on the basis of needed work skills, family relationships and priority of registration.

Johnson's predecessors — John F. Kennedy, Dwight D. Eisenhower and Harry S. Truman — tried without success to persuade Congress to eliminate or to overhaul the national origins quota system.

★ ★ ★

Critics contend it discriminates against Italians, Greeks and other southeastern Europeans — to say nothing of Asians.

★ ★ ★

Whether Johnson will make any headway remains to be seen. But one Senate source said that he understands "the push is on this year."

★ ★ ★

In the last Congress, a virtually identical bill submitted by Kennedy was backed by Johnson but got nowhere.

NO ACTION

A House Judiciary subcommittee headed by Rep. Michael A. Feighan, D-Ohio, held hearings near the end of last year's session but took no action. Feighan is an outspoken foe of the legislation.

However, Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., chairman of the House Judiciary Committee, said he is optimistic about getting the measure before the House for a vote this year.

Federal contributions make up slightly more than 20 per cent of the cost of school lunches served to some 17 million children daily in 70,000 public and non-profit private schools. Children's contributions amount to almost 60 per cent. The remainder is provided by state and local sources.

NASA Awards Grant for U. of M. Project

ANN ARBOR (AP)—The National Aeronautics and Space Administration has awarded a $400,000 grant to the University of Michigan for continuation of a weather project.

U. of M. Aeronautical engineers plan to launch an instrument carrying balloon 112,000 feet (22 miles) in March to evaluate instruments for the Tiros and Nimbus weather satellites.

Marion B. Folsom, former secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, says the taxpayer—not the patient—should pay for hospital training and research programs.

Because these costs are used in determining the hospital rate structure, he said at a New York news conference yesterday, it has placed a heavy financial burden on patients and hospital insurance programs.

Folsom is chairman of a New York State Committee on Hospital Costs.

Japanese Claims Record Climb

A Japanese mountain climber has scaled a previously unconquered 22,637-foot Himalayan mountain, it was reported in Tokyo today.

The newspaper Asahi said Hiroaki Tamura, 27, financed his expedition with 400,000 yen ($1,100) and climbed to the top of Mt. Pentang Karpo in Nepal last October. He buried a red flag with his name and date on the mountain peak.

Philippine Award 14 Years Late

Carlos P. Romulo finally received today a medal voted him by the Philippine congress 14 years ago.

President Diosdado Macapagal presented a congressional gold medal of honor, the only decoration of its kind ever issued by the Philippines, to the veteran diplomat on his 65th birthday anniversary in Manila.

ROMULO

The citation spoke of Romulo's "distinguished service to the Philippines and to the cause of world peace."

Romulo joked to Macapagal: "Had it not been for you and the alert director of the national museum, this congressional medal of honor would have been a congressional medal of oblivion."

UCLA Gets Valuable Art Collection

Dr. Armand Hammer, chairman of the board and president of the Occidental Petroleum Co., has donated his private art collection, including works by Rembrandt, Frans Hals, Rubens and Lippi, to the University of Southern California in Los Angeles.

The 50 paintings, collected over a period of 40 years, are believed to be worth $1 million.

SOON THE MOON — This bit of terrain in Hawaii is the nearest thing on earth to what U.S. astronauts will find when they land on the moon. The lunar-type surface is the crater bed of a volcano. Detroit Slaying Hearing Is Set

DETROIT (AP)—Court examination has been set for next Wednesday for a 20-year-old Dayton, Ohio, youth who police say admitted the fatal stabbing of a mentally-retarded Detroit girl.

Howard Thomas Manuel of Dayton, O., the father of two children, stood mute at his arraignment on a first degree murder charge Wednesday in the slaying of 16-year-old Betty Jean Smith. Her body was found in a Detroit park last week. She was beaten and stabbed 39 times.

★ ★ ★

Dayton police arrested Manuel at his home after Detroit investigators received a tip in the case. Detectives sent to the Ohio city to return Manuel to Detroit quoted him as saying he killed the girl because he "hates women."

Manuel told police he was in Detroit earlier to look for a job when the slaying took place.

Police said they found the slaying weapon — a four-inch stiletto — in the home of Manuel's mother, Mrs. Mary Montes, 41, with whom he lived during his stay in the Motor City.

Castro, Tito Feuding Over Tactics

By LEON DENNEN

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Now it is Fidel Castro and Yugoslavia's President Tito who are reported to be feuding over the proper "revolutionary strategy" in Latin America.

Their quarrel, according to U.S. intelligence, has increased the confusion that already exists in the Red world as a result of the conflict between Russia and China.

Castro apparently continues to hope that his type of revolution with all its extremism will continue to serve as a model for the rest of Latin America.

Since the demise of President Goulart and his Red partisans in Brazil, Cuba's bearded dictator has been trying desperately to regain his image of Latin America's Communist hero.

He has been pressing hard for the resumption of terrorism and guerrilla warfare in the Caribbean countries, especially in oil-rich Venezuela.

This, however, is contrary to Russia's current go-slow strategy in Latin America, which is also backed by Tito.

The Yugoslav president is said to have warned Castro against using the "adventurist" tactics of Red China's Mao Tse-tung.

At the recent Cairo conference of "unaligned" nations, Tito even charged openly that Castro and Indonesia's President Sukarno were against Moscow's policy of peaceful coexistence.

He hinted strongly that they were "neutral" on the side of Red China.

SHARP ATTACK

This was followed up with a sharp attack by Yugoslavia's official newspaper Politika, which said bluntly that Castro's policy of terrorism and armed struggle in Venezuela was a failure since most people refused to back it.

Because of Cuba's "adventurist" policy in Venezuela, Politika said, the extreme left in that country was being increasingly isolated.

Castro's press, in turn, derided Tito's attitude as "hostile, insulting, disloyal and harmful to Cuba."

As seen by specialists on Latin America, the Castro-Tito feud, like most such quarrels among secondary leaders in the Red world, merely reflects the conflict between the two Communist giants, Russia and Red China.

BADLY SPLIT

As in most Latin American countries, the Reds in Venezuela are also badly split between adherents of Mao Tse-tung's revolutionary brinkmanship and Moscow's "peaceful coexistence."

The election of pro-Western President Leoni in December 1964 and the failure of the pro-Castro terrorists to keep him from taking office has led to considerable soul-searching and maneuvering within Venezuela's extreme left.

For several months guerrilla warfare in Venezuela came to a virtual stop.

★ ★ ★

However, according to U.S. intelligence, the Reds' armed attacks are about to be resumed.

E. Gallego, the Communist leader who works closely with Fidel Castro, is known to have returned recently from China with orders to renew guerrilla warfare against President Leoni's regime.

Street Zoning Chief Topic at Oxford Hearing

OXFORD — Several suggestions for modification of the village's proposed zoning ordinance, particularly concerning South Washington Street, were offered by local citizens at a public hearing last night.

During the 1½-hour-long session, discussion of future plans for two portions of the main street just south of the central business district occupied most of the time.

Many citizens wanted it to remain commercial as it is now zoned while others sought to have it changed to residential.

Village officials and planners had proposed that one section, immediately south of the business district, be rezoned commercial service, which would restrict retail selling in that area and also include offices.

This section is between Mechanic and Lincoln streets.

This, proponents said, would make it serve as a "buffer" between the stores near the main intersection and the general commercial section further south.

GENERAL COMMERCIAL

Under general commercial, retail selling and services both would be allowed at the southern end.

Before the hearing got under way, Village President Edmund Unger explained the purpose of the hearing and gave a brief history of the whole zoning plan.

He said the ordinance was necessary to implement a master plan for orderly development of the village. He added it will serve as a general guide for village officials and planning commissioners to follow in future decision-making.

★ ★ ★

Consultants Vilican - Leman and Associates of Southfield, who helped develop both the master plan and zoning ordinance, were represented at the hearing by Claude Coats.

RAISES QUESTIONS

One of the citizens who raised several questions was Donald G. Tripp, local attorney representing four parcels on South Washington.

He asked why that section and one other could not be retained general commercial and why it was decided that Lincoln should be the cutoff between the commercial service and general commercial districts.

The second section in question is south of Stanton Street, just north of Holy Cross Lutheran Church.

In answer to both queries, Coats said that the zoning planned for that area was based on existing uses.

★ ★ ★

After the hearing Unger thanked the citizens for their suggestions and said they would be taken under advisement before formal action on the ordinance was taken.

★ ★ ★

Funds for the award will be provided through the pancake supper to be held from 5 to 7 p.m. Saturday at the Davisburg Restaurant.

AREA NEWS

Ease Bus Rule for Troy Pupils

School Board to Relax Some Curtailments

TROY — Some relaxation of the curtailment of school bus transportation for students living within 1½ miles of their schools is in sight, specifically for kindergartners.

★ ★ ★

The school board has authorized the district to transport kindergarten children who live a half-mile or more from their schools.

The administration is studying ways of providing such busing and intends to bring its recommendations back to the board, perhaps at its next meeting.

A report to the board indicated that about 1,300 students who had been bused to school before the curtailment last year now are walking.

All live within 1½ miles of their schools.

The cut in transportation within that limit was ordered to save money, in view of the fact that state help in meeting the expenses of busing comes only for the transporting of schoolchildren beyond that limit.

PAY PENALTY

In addition, the district is penalized $8 for each child it transports within the 1½-mile limit.

Some elementary children who live less than 1½ miles from school have been bused to school regardless of the penalty and loss of state assistance.

These students were transported due to walking hazards in certain areas. Pathways were constructed in others where possible to make safe walking possible.

★ ★ ★

The report on transportation limitations and path construction estimates that about $43,000 will be saved in the 1964-65 fiscal year as a result of the transportation curtailments.

OTHER ACTION

In other action, the board authorized preparation of detailed architect's drawings of a proposed addition to Niles Elementary School.

★ ★ ★

The move was made in the belief that the $4-million bond issue which failed to pass Oct. 2, and which would have paid for the addition, will eventually be approved by the voters, school officials said.

100 Dealers in Potatoes Said Illegal

Not all of the persons buying and selling potatoes at wholesale have complied with the licensing and bonding requirement of a Michigan law passed by the 1964 legislature.

★ ★ ★

Agricultural director G. S. McIntyre said 233 of such dealers have met requirements of this statute which is enforced by the Michigan Department of Agriculture's Foods and Standards Division.

Estimates indicate at least 100 others are operating illegally.

Recently these persons were convicted for operating without the required license and bond.

The amount of a licensee's bond is in proportion to the volume of business with a $2,000 bond the minimum, said J. L. Littlefield, Foods and Standards Division chief who is in charge of issuing these licenses.

COST $15

The cost of the license is $15.

For their own protection, Littlefield suggests growers ask to see licenses of persons to whom they sell potatoes at wholesale. In this way growers may be assured they are dealing with individuals licensed by the state and that the transaction is covered by bond.

Because of Michigan's supply, there has been active movement of the state's potatoes with generally good prices that are attractive to housewives.

State Unit Honors Ex-School Official

Rep. Clifford H. Smart has been honored with a distinguished service award from the Michigan Association of School Administrators.

★ ★ ★

Smart was among 16 named by the association now in convention in Grand Rapids.

The Republican legislator from the 60th District resigned his post as Walled Lake schools superintendent after being elected in November.

Also receiving the award was James H. Vander Ven, who was South Lyon schools superintendent for 12 years before moving to Mason, where he has headed the school system for 18 years.

Mrs. Romney Main Speaker

Hospital Dedication Saturday

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP—Michigan's First Lady will be the principal speaker at the dedication of Botsford General Hospital Saturday.

In conjunction with the ceremony, two open houses will be held Saturday and Sunday at the new 202-bed osteopathic unit.

Mrs. Romney will speak at a 2:30 p.m. program.

Delos Hamlin, a member of the board of directors of Botsford and Detroit's Zieger Osteopathic Hospital, will deliver a welcome address.

★ ★ ★

The governor's wife will be introduced by Jacques Cousin, former executive director of the Greater Detroit Area Hospital Council and now executive associate of the United Foundation.

HOSPITAL TOURS

Dr. Robert M. Frehse, executive director of the Detroit Round Table of Catholics, Jews and Protestants, will deliver the invocation and benediction.

Tours of the new hospital, 28050 Grand River at Eight Mile, will be held from 2 to 5 p.m. Saturday and 2 to 4 p.m. Sunday.

The $3.8-million center, a unit of Zieger, is located on a 15-acre site.

★ ★ ★

Dominating the structures is a five-story building housing hospital rooms and the offices of administrators and physicians.

ANOTHER TOWER

The unit was designed by Smith, Hinchman and Gryllis of Detroit to be expanded through another similar tower.

Adjoining the main building is a single-level structure containing surgery and X-ray departments, delivery rooms, laboratories, an emergency section, kitchen and cafeteria facilities.

The hospital, with Seymour Cantor as administrator, has 139 staff physicians and has been approved for the training of interns.

★ ★ ★

SPECIALISTS

The staff includes qualified and certified specialists in anesthesiology, internal medicine, obstetrics and gynecology, pathology, pediatrics, radiology and surgery.

★ ★ ★

The unit was partially financed by a $1,152,585 Hill-Burton grant. Other funds were raised through mortgages and loans from staff physicians.

Patronage Is Down for NCA in '64

North Central Airlines (NCA) patronage at Pontiac Municipal Airport averaged well below the one-passenger-per-day mark on both inbound and outbound flights during 1964.

★ ★ ★

Patronage for the month of December, however, just missed the one-per-day mark on outbound NCA flights.

There were 30 outbound passengers in December, according to NCA officials. This compares to 43 riders in December 1963 on outbound planes.

For the 12-month period ending Dec. 31, there were 314 inbound and 314 outbound passengers, as compared to 402 and 404, respectively, during 1963.

Inbound passengers totaled 31 for last month, compared to 15 for November and 48 for December 1963.

OUTBOUND FLIGHTS

Outbound NCA flights carried 26 passengers during November.

At the same time, outbound flights carried more air freight (2,071 pounds) in December than in November (1,389 pounds).

For December, airmail on outbound flights jumped to 1,535 pounds, compared to 679 pounds in November.

★ ★ ★

Outbound air express dropped to 525 pounds in December, which was under the 769 pounds carried in November.

AIR FREIGHT

Inbound NCA flights carried 6345 pounds of air freight, no air express and 2,007 pounds of airmail during December.

★ ★ ★

This compared to 3,683 pounds air freight, nine pounds of air express and 1,515 pounds of airmail in November.

The first natural gas well was drilled in the U.S. in 1821. This tiny well, at Fredonia, N.Y., was only 27 feet deep, but it supplied the people of the town with enough gas to light their homes and businesses.

Junior Editors Quiz on RAINDROPS

QUESTION: Why does rain fall in drops?

ANSWER: "Rain, rain, go away, come again some other day! People don't sing this as much as they used to, for many parts of our country have been suffering during recent years from such severe drought that rainy days are extremely welcome.

Janie, in our picture, likes rain anyway and enjoys the exhilaration of a raindrop driving against her face, although her dog doesn't seem to share her enthusiasm.

Water vapor carried up by warm air rising into the sky often becomes visible as clouds. Clouds are composed of very minute ice crystals and water droplets. Although gravity works to pull them down, these crystals and droplets are so small that the air currents can easily hold them up, and so a cloud can appear to remain stationary in the sky.

But the cloud droplets are of different sizes. The tiny ones are easily whipped around by air, and if there are enough will collide with each other and form larger ones.

When enough such collisions have made the drops large enough to overcome the air's lifting forces, they fall as rain.

Sometimes, water droplets evaporate and then condense on ice crystals. If these fall down through warm air, they may melt into raindrops.

FOR YOU TO DO: Ask a friend to draw a falling raindrop. He will probably make it pear-shaped.

Then explain it is only pear-shaped when it strikes something, sticks on at the top and hangs down at the bottom. As it falls through the air, the raindrop is a sphere (upper right).

Yugoslavia Is Big in Leech Business

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP) — Yugoslavia is an important exporter of leeches to Italy, France and West Germany.

The leeches, used alive in olden times by barbers on customers with high blood pressure, are now a source of Hirodin, used against thrombosis and other blood troubles.

Experts here are planning to try out several large "farms" on which leeches could be raised hygenically. At present they are collected in marshes.

YOUNG AND OLD OF IT—Rep. Emanuel Celler, 76-year-old veteran Democrat from New York, poses with the youngest member of the House, Rep. Jed Johnson, D-Okla., who was 25 years old last Dec. 27. Celler is top man in seniority, starting his 43rd year as a member of the House.

Battler for Underdog

Emanuel Celler New Dean of House

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Emanuel Celler, who used an antiprohibition campaign to win a seat in Congress in 1922, is the new dean of the House of Representatives.

At 76, he is not the oldest member, but his 42 years of service top all 434 of his colleagues now that Rep. Carl Vinson of Georgia has retired after 50 years in the House.

Celler, a New York Democrat and judiciary committee chairman, has spent nearly all his congressional career in the midst of controversy as a battler for the underdog. That career was crowned last year with passage of the civil rights bill that bore his name.

But despite the feelings aroused by the fights he is engaged in, Celler's genial manner and sense of humor have won him friends among even his staunchest opponents.

MANY SIDES

In 42 years he has found himself on many sides of the same issue, but it doesn't bother him.

"Consistency is a stagnant pool that breeds reptiles in the mind," is his standard answer to anyone who questions his changed view.

And when liberals complain that he is making too many concessions to opponents of a bill, he observes: "If you want the rose, you must put up with the thorns."

Celler has mellowed with the years but still retains a remarkably fresh and youthful outlook.

MATTER OF SPIRIT

"Age is a matter of spirit, not years," he said. "Some men are old at 20 while others are young at 80."

Born in Brooklyn, Celler developed his passion for civil rights and immigration legislation through contact with his multiracial constituency.

His father became wealthy as a bottler and distributor of whisky, and, when the business failed, Celler worked his way through Columbia University law school by selling wine.

Celler celebrated his 50th wedding anniversary last year. His wife is an invalid. She stays in Brooklyn with a daughter, who was born a spastic paraplegic. Another daughter is married and has two children.

Celler is headed for another strenuous session.

President Johnson has asked for a major overhaul of the immigration laws and it could be harder to get than the civil rights bill.

★ ★ ★

When you ask Celler how he thinks things will go, he replies: "There is an old Turkish proverb that says you should never roll up your pants until you come to the river."

Might Get Thirsty

MADRID, Spain (UPI)—U.S. Air Force personnel have received pamphlets on shelter supplies necessary for survival in atomic attack. Included under "essential items" are dog food and soft drinks. Water, under the heading "miscellaneous," also was among the essential items.

Wants Adoptions Canceled

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Earl J. Barnes wants to cancel his 1960 adoption of five children. The reason: They don't love him, says Barnes.

Barnes is a 37-year-old fireman who, after he and his wife wed, adopted her five children by a prior marriage. He says she talked him into it.

Yvonne B. Barnes, 33, divorced Barnes in 1963, and was awarded $243.50 a month in child support.

Barnes, in a suit filed yesterday, asked that the adoption be canceled and the $4,992 he has paid in child support be returned him. The children range in age from 9 to 16 years.

No Cutbacks on Essentials, Says VA

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Veterans Administration has promised that essential services won't be impaired by its order to close 11 hospitals, 4 homes and 17 regional offices.

VA Administrator William J. Driver said a June 30 target date has been set for the shutdown.

Any patients remaining in the facilities will be transferred to other installations, he said, and the 2,974 beds involved in the hospital closings will be relocated at other VA hospitals.

Affected employes, Driver said, will be offered jobs in the VA system.

The reorganization is designed to save more than $23 million annually.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Weapons specialists have told a group of congressmen that the United States is ready to resume atmospheric testing if other nations break the limited nuclear test-ban treaty.

Spokesmen for the Atomic Energy Commission and the Defense Department talked to the Congressional Military Applications Atomic subcommittee Wednesday.

Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., subcommittee chairman, said "this is notice to our adversaries that if they break it (the treaty) we are in position to fulfill our test requirements. . ."

The treaty forbids all but underground testing.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Mariner 4 spacecraft has about 245 million miles more to go before it reaches picture-taking range of Mars next July 14.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said that as of 9 a.m. E. S. T., today the Mariner was to be traveling 9,276 miles per hour relative to the earth and was to be 8,342,946 miles from earth.

Members of House Units Oppose Extremes in Viet

(Editor's Note: The capital has resounded recently with debate over U.S. policy in Viet Nam. Little has been heard from a group of Congressmen who will have a major voice in any final decision—the members of the House and Senate Foreign Relations and Armed Services Committees. A UPI team presents the first of two dispatches reporting their views.)

★ ★ ★

WASHINGTON — Members of the two House committees most immediately concerned with the problem are almost unanimously opposed to taking extreme steps in Viet Nam, whether it be pulling out entirely or sending in regular U.S. fighting units.

A survey of the House Foreign Affairs and Armed Services committees produced a wide variance of views on what should be done to improve the U.S. position in the Southeast Asian country.

The representatives were in general agreement only on what should not be done.

Rep. Alvin E. O'Konski, R-Wis., was only sole member who felt the United States should definitely withdraw from South Viet Nam.

"I think we should make as graceful a withdrawal as possible," he said. "The situation is hopeless."

At the other extreme, no member polled was flatly in favor of having Americans fighting alongside Vietnamese beyond their present roles as advisers. But there were some lawmakers who indicated they would not rule out the possibility at a future date.

"If using U.S. troops is going to help bring a quick end, I favor this," said Rep. James F. Battin, R-Mont.

Rep. Charles E. Bennett, D-Fla., leaned toward such a step — if requested by the South Vietnamese government — but said the decision must await any such request.

Rep. Richard Ichord, D-Mo., would favor sending troops "if it took that to assure that Viet Nam would remain on the side of the free world."

These were the most drastic steps advocated in the survey of 53 congressmen. About half that number responded. The total membership of the two committees is 73 but vacancies had not yet been filled when the poll was taken.

Besides being queried on whether they thought the United States should withdraw from Viet Nam, the members were also asked if the entire problem should be turned over to the United Nations.

Many said no, but this alternative elicited the response "not at this time" from many others.

Rep. Donald Fraser, D-Minn., said he would encourage anything along this line but personally doubted that the world organization would accept the responsibility.

Rep. Clement Zablocki, D-Wis., chairman of the House Foreign Affairs Committee's Far East subcommitee, suggested U.N. participation without "taking over."

U.N. TOKEN FORCE

He proposed a U.N. token force on the Laotian-Cambodian border and along parts of the Ho Chi Minh Trail as a possible means of curtailing Red infiltration.

Zablocki's chief recommendation when asked what should be done to win the war, was to draw other nations into it, particularly Asian nations.

Zablocki does not favor using American troops "at this point or in the foreseeable future." He said such a move would seem too much like imperialism and he would back it only if the Chinese Communists threw regular troops into the war.

A number of other members also called for more participation in the war by other Asian countries.

Michigan Rep. William S. Broomfield from the 18th Congressional District, one of the ranking GOP members of the Foreign Affairs Committee, was critical of the administration.

"I think the administration has been dragging its feet in this regard, in encouraging other nations to participate in Viet Nam," he said.

"I don't believe the United States should be called on as the sole one to stop Communist aggression . . . it is the responsibility of all the free nations."

Rep. Frances Bolton, Ohio, the senior Republican on the committee, touched on the point when asked if regular American troops should be used in South Viet Nam.

"That, I think, would be disastrous," she said firmly. "White skins are not popular in Asia."

'Holdups Cut Progress of Venezuelan State'

BARQUISIMETO, Venezuela (UPI) — Raul Asparren, president of the Lara State Chamber of Commerce, said today holdup men are a major barrier to the state's economic development.

Banks and business houses in Lara are plagued not only by ordinary criminals but by Castroite gunmen seeking to finance Communist guerrilla activity in the state's Red-infested hills. "Whoever works the most gets held up the most," Asparren said.

Rash of Murders Stirs Officials

Philadelphia in Crime Wave?

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Does almost a murder a day — 13 since New Year's Eve — constitute a crime wave in Philadelphia?

"No," says Philadelphia Police Commissioner Howard Leary. "The current pattern is typical for this time of year."

"Yes," says Councilman Edward McNulty, who is demanding more policemen patroling beats on foot. He said people are afraid to walk the streets at night. In some neighborhoods, they're afraid even in daytime.

"No," says City Managing Director Fred T. Corleto. "Every major city in the nation has experienced an increase in crime over the past decade — and it's lower in Philadelphia than in New York, Chicago, Los Angeles and Detroit."

PUBLIC OUTCRY

Corleto said the public outcry has been loud over the number of homicides in Philadelphia since mid-December — 29 killings. Seven occurred in a 36-hour period Dec. 31-Jan. 1.

"The facts show that every one of the 10 largest cities in the nation has experienced similar increases," said Corleto.

Leary said his statistics show that violent crimes in Philadelphia "annually increase from a period beginning about Thanksgiving and ending several weeks into the new year."

There were 188 homicides in Philadelphia last year, 43 per cent more than the 116 in 1963. Of the 188, Leary said, police solved 180 and "we have made arrests in eight of the 11 committed this year."

GOOD JOB

Mayor James H. J. Tate said the police have been doing a good job. He places part of the responsibility for a breakdown of law enforcement on lenient judges.

"We need to crack down on criminals," said Tate.

The current rash of murders apparently are unconnected. They have occurred in every section of the city.

Last week Leary assigned some policemen to do detective work. This week he announced plans to hire 30 additional detectives, increasing this force to 420.

Sukarno Asks Study on Borneo

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — President Sukarno called today for a new investigation by an African-Asian commission or by the United Nations of whether the people of North Borneo want to remain in Malaysia.

Sukarno said he would abide by the decision of either group and added, "Am I not peaceful?"

"I am for a peaceful solution of the Malaysia issue," Sukarno told newsmen, "but let us investigate the real feelings of the people of North Kalimantan."

(North Kalimantan is the name the Indonesians apply to Malaysia's North Borneo states of Sabah and Sarawak.)

★ ★ ★

Asked if he would agree to a second investigation by a United Nations mission in Sabah and Sarawak although Indonesia has withdrawn from the U.N., Sukarno replied:

ANY DECISION

"Yes, I am calling on (Malaysian prime minister) Tunku Abdul Rahman to come back. I shall abide by any decision of an Afro-Asian study commission. I will (also) abide by any decision of a United Nations commission."

A U.N. team in August and September of 1963 conducted a survey to ascertain whether the peoples of Sabah and Sarawak wanted to join Malaysia.

The result was positive, but Indonesia rejected it with the contention that it was held under the threat of British bayonets.

The Federation of Malaysia was proclaimed despite Indonesia's objection in mid-September 1963.

PROPOSAL ACCEPTED

Sukarno had said previously the Malaysia dispute could be solved by a plebiscite in Sabah and Sarawak. He also accepted Philippine President Diosdado Macapagal's proposal that an African-Asian conciliatory commission seek a solution of the dispute.

Malaysia also agreed to the proposed African-Asian commission but demanded that Indonesia first withdraw its guerrillas from Malaysian Borneo. This Sukarno refused to do.

Meanwhile, combat-ready Gurkha troops from Hong Kong landed in Malaysian Borneo today and immediately began moving toward the Indonesian border, where Indonesian troops have been reported massing.

★ ★ ★

Some of the famed Nepalese jungle fighters were flown to the border area by helicopter. Others moved overland to forward posts to ready for patrol duty along the border.

GURKHAS

The first plane load of Gurkhas took off from Hong Kong before dawn and landed in Kuching a few hours later.

Shuttle flights of Royal Air Force four-engine Britannias will complete the airlift of the 500-man battalion to Borneo within the next five days. They will bring the number of British Commonwealth troops in Borneo to 10,000.

Strike Deadline New Steel Union Issue

CHICAGO (UPI) —The United Steelworkers (USW), its contract talks with the steel industry recessed until a fight for control of the union is resolved, today faced another possible internal struggle.

The battle could develop over whether the union will extend its strike deadline against the nation's "Big 11" basic steel producers.

Union President David J. McDonald, fighting for his $50,000-a-year job against Secretary-Treasurer I. W. Abel, has put his prestige on the line in an effort to convince the powerful wage policy committee not to extend the deadline.

The wage policy committee and the union's executive board scheduled meetings today and McDonald and Abel were on hand.

The suggestion that the April 30 strike deadline be extended came from the steel industry, which also pressed for and won the recess in contract negotiations pending the outcome of the union's Feb. 9 elections.

REGAIN TIME

The industry contended that the time lost in bargaining should be tacked onto the strike deadline.

McDonald, who opposes the recess, has expressed confidence in his campaign speeches that the wage policy committee would go along with his refusal to extend the deadline.

Abel, who favored the recess, has made no public statement regarding extension of the strike deadline.

McDonald's decision to call the Chicago meetings for today and tomorrow was criticized by Joseph Germano, a USW district director, board member and one of the most powerful men in the union.

Germano, who is backing Abel in the presidential contest, said McDonald did not inform the board members of his action and made a costly mistake by opening contract negotiations with the steel industry before the union's internal struggle was ironed out.

Vigilantes Alarm NY Police Boss

NEW YORK (AP) — Police Commissioner Michael J. Murphy is alarmed by the mushrooming growth of vigilante groups here.

As head of a 27,000-member force, he is faced with an increase of crimes against women.

As the crimes are reported, vigilante groups have popped up to guard single apartment buildings, housing developments and whole neighborhoods.

Wednesday night that he believes such activity is a police responsibility that he does not intend to hand over or share with any group "no matter how well-intentioned."

HAZARDOUS

"The civilian, lacking the legal and tactical training given police," he said, "lacking arms and the knowledge of how and where to use them, is in a tenuous and hazardous position.

★ ★ ★

"Should they constitute themselves as self-appointed peace officers, they must realize they have no true police power and that they themselves will be subject to police action for any illegal act."

Rainy in N. California? They Got the Message

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)— It's official. The California Department of Water Resources says it rained a lot last month in the northern half of the state.

★ ★ ★

Victims of the Christmas week flood disaster will offer no argument. Actually, the state agency said yesterday, rainfall last month ranged up to 400 per cent above normal.

AFS Adults Set Benefit and Party

The Metropolitan Detroit Board of the American Field Service met this week at the Bloomfield Hills home of the chairman, Mrs. Arbie O. Thalacker.

Final plans were made for the annual fund raising event, a folk jazz concert to be held at the Masonic Temple, Detroit, on Feb. 27 and 28.

The Ford Motor Company will present their Ford Caravan of Music for the AFS benefit.

PARTY

A supper party will be given for board members at the Birmingham home of the social chairman, Mrs. Edmond Cooper on Sunday.

Table Rule Is Always Head Up

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: At a dinner party, my wine glass was filled to the brim and, fearing that I would spill it over my hostess' beautiful tablecloth if I attempted to lift it, I leaned over and sipped the first mouthful.

At home, my wife brought me to task and said that I had embarrassed her by my bad manners. How would you have handled this situation?

A: The fault was with the person who filled your glass but even so this did not excuse your leaning over and sipping from the glass without lifting it.

You should have lifted the glass as carefully as possible using both hands if necessary to steady it and held it over your plate for the first sip.

A: Leaving your lace cloth on the table between meals would not be in good taste.

Q: I was divorced a few months ago and my friends tell me I should use my maiden name. Is this true?

A: You should no longer call yourself Mrs. John Smith. If you were Mary Jones before your marriage, correctly, you should now call yourself Mrs. Jones Smith.

The clothes of the bride's and groom's parents as well as those of the wedding guests are described in the Emily Post Institute booklet entitled, "Correct Clothes for a Wedding Reception."

Forget the Technicalities; It's Still Merely Relative

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I know that, technically, my sister's husband is MY brother-in-law, but does that make him my husband's brother-in-law, too?

ABBY

Also, my husband has three married sisters. I know that their husbands are my husband's brothers-in-law, but what are they, technically speaking that is, to me?

And while I'm asking, are my aunts and uncles my husband's aunts and uncles, too? And how about cousins?

JUST TECHNICAL

DEAR TECHNICAL: Technically, your sister's husband is YOUR brother-in-law, not your husband's. And neither are your husband's brothers-in-law YOURS.

Your aunts, uncles and cousins are not your husband's, technically. Nor are his yours. But (and this is a very big "but") in most healthy marriages, both husband and wife "take on" the relatives of their spouses as their own.

And don't get too "technical" or you might give the impression that you are trying to disclaim relationship to your husband's relatives.

DEAR ABBY: I was unemployed when I met my wife, but she said she'd marry me anyway and she would work until I found a job I could handle with my bum back.

★ ★ ★

We've been married 11 years, and I'll admit I haven't worked much, but it's because of my back. I've been to all kinds of doctors and not one of them has been able to help me, so they say it is all in my head and I am just lazy.

I am NOT lazy and it is NOT all in my head. When I wake up in the morning my back feels like a locomotive ran over it.

★ ★ ★

Now my wife refuses to give me any money. Can I sue for non-support?

BAD BACK

DEAR BAD BACK: A lawyer can tell you whether you can sue or not.

It sounds to me like a case of not enough backbone and too much wishbone.

Needs Status Symbols

Longs for Importance

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE U-472: Dr. David Crane is my youngest son, and a psychiatrist with "horse sense."

"Dad," he began as we were dining together recently, "don't you think a lot of people strain unduly for status symbols?

"Wouldn't there be much less nervous tension if people faced up to the facts of life quite frankly?

"The desire to 'keep up with the Joneses' kills many business executives prematurely."

STATUS SYMBOLS

There are two general classes of status symbols.

One pertains to the human desire to show off and affect importance among one's neighbors.

It is typified by the "keeping up with the Joneses" slogan.

The other is a legitimate use of status symbols to help produce a more constructive outside influence.

For example, when a teenage high schooler starts smoking cigarettes, he does so to intimate that he is older, more sophisticated and "collegiate."

Thus, his adoption of cigarettes is a subtle attempt at four-flushing.

For he wants to fool the public so he himself will seem more important.

But when a clergyman graduates from college, plus the three years in seminary, his wish for a D.D. (Doctor of Divinity) degree is not merely for his own ego or conceit.

For that D.D. will indicate to his parishioners that he is a well educated clergyman and not merely a zealot convert with a lot of religious enthusiasm but not even a grade school diploma.

M. D. DEGREE

By the same token, the M. D. degree is a scientific status symbol, but it is awarded not merely to flatter the vanity of the recipient, but to signify to the community that such a man has a certain type of specialized training which patients can rely upon.

Similarly, the title of judge, or managing editor, or general or professor, or sales manager, all have merit as legitimate, wholesome status symbols.

But in contrast, suppose we consider the desire of a person on a modest salary who wishes to drive a swanky new car instead of a cheaper jalopy.

Actually, there is very little difference in riding comfort between a $500 jalopy vs. a $5,900 new automobile.

Both may be efficient transportation vehicles that will get you across the country as fast as the law allows.

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis F. Hutchinson of Cross Hill Street, Springfield Township, announce the engagement of their daughter, Lynda Elaine to Ronald John Klempp, son of the Jack Klempps of Holly. She is a graduate of the Port Huron School of Nursing.

Pre-Nuptial Festivities Given in Honor of Bride

Pre-wedding festivities for Janet Kay Schenck who will become Mrs. Herbert Edward Schomberg on Saturday, included a trio of showers.

Cheryl Patten, Judith Garrels and Mrs. John Kubat shared hostess honors at a recent linen shower in the Patten home at Wolverine Lake.

Miss Schenck opened gifts of bathroom linens in the home of Mrs. Wayne T. Helfrich, Union Lake. Mrs. Harold Shaver was cohostess. Those present were former members of Janet's Girl Scout troop.

Linda and Barbara Schomberg honored their future sister-in-law at a family shower in their home on Crooks Road, Avon Township. They are daughters of the Leonard Schombergs.

Parents of the bride-elect are the Robert L. Schencks of Westacres.

Secretaries Have Dinner and Speech

Members of the Pontiac chapter, National Secretaries Association, International, held their January dinner meeting at Bedell's, Bloomfield Hills.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. John Duncan and Mrs. Warren Trevethan.

Speaker, Dr. Joseph Davenport of Oakland County Community College, talked about the new school.

Guests included Miss Irma Herr, Michigan division president of NSA and Miss Marge Engel, Michigan division vice president.

Meet in Detroit

The Detroit Alumnae chapter of Mu Phi Epsilon will meet at 8 p.m., Monday, in the Detroit home of Mrs. William E. Wooster.

Presenting the musical program will be Mrs. Saul Bernat, cellist, and Mrs. J. D. Symons and Mrs. S. W. Curtiss, vocalists.

Bookends Find Better Balance

Not All Can Save on Quantity Buying

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant
in Money Management

Dear Miss Feeley:

Could you tell me at what price a person would have to buy a side of beef, in order to save money? My sister seems to think that at 55 cents a pound, you're ahead.

MARY FEELEY

I feel that it is cheaper to buy meat when it's on sale at the supermarket. The price of a side would include wrapping and freezing. I object to paying for bones, fat and other wastes.

Please let us have your comments, for our budget's sake!

D.M., Brockport, N.Y.

Dear D.M.:

Buying for the freezer, to cut the food costs, can be very economical — or just very convenient, depending on a number of factors.

If a woman is feeding a family of five to seven people, knows how to use the various cuts, and can plan for fast turnover, then buying meat in quantity this way can pay off.

Many a homemaker knows how to do just this.

But I recall the case of a man who thought buying a side of beef would be the solution to his large food bills for a family of eight. First, he found it difficult to lay his hands on the money to buy 300 pounds of beef — $170. In addition, his wife didn't know how to make use of all the cuts efficiently.

So the experience was not financially profitable.

They lived high on the hoof, of course — serving steaks and roasts frequently. But it cost them more money in the long run because the whole project became an inconvenience and they hadn't planned ahead.

SOME LOSS

Remember, you have to plan on a loss of from 20 to 25 per cent, due to fat, bone, and trimming.

Figure that a 1,000-pound U.S. Choice steer yielding about 580 pounds of carcass will result in a side of beef weighing approximately 290 pounds and the forequarter about 150 pounds.

At 55 cents per pound, you'd pay $159.50 for a 290-pound side. Since approximately 25 per cent of it can be in fat, bone, and cutting costs, this would account for $39.87. So you'll get, say, 217 pounds of steaks, roasts, short ribs, brisket, etc.

Now, let's compare the cost per pound of beef bought, processed, and stored in the home freezer with beef bought at a retail store:

If you average these costs, you'll see that you can do pretty well if you buy "specials" at retail and freeze them. There's just no way of setting a certain price per pound for buying in quantity and making sure ahead of time that it will prove more economical in the long run.

Mayonnaise in Sauce Gives Piquant Flavor

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Some stores are having a special sale on tuna this week. This good canned fish is always an economy food. How to vary your presentation of it is the problem.

Mrs. Kenneth Vailliencourt who was a district chairman during last fall's United Fund campaign suggests you try her recipe.

TUNA IN SAUCE
By Mrs.
Kenneth Vailliencourt

2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 tablespoons flour
1½ cups milk
¾ cup mayonnaise
¼ teaspoon pepper
3 hard cooked eggs
2 cans tuna
1 tablespoon catsup

To make the sauce, melt butter or margarine in top of a double boiler and stir in flour until mixture is smooth.

Add milk and cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until bubbly. Remove from heat.

In a separate bowl, mix mayonnaise, catsup and pepper and stir into hot sauce. Add quartered hard cooked eggs and drained tuna.

Polly's Pointers

Shoelaces Make Ties

By POLLY CRAMER
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

DEAR POLLY — I like soft woven shoestrings better than ribbons or bulky fabric ties on my baby's bonnets.

They are long enough when cut in half, have good ends, are not bulky under the child's chin and do not come untied until you want them to.

I also use them to tie the front flaps on maternity jeans and skirts.—MRS. E. D. J.

DEAR POLLY — I think mine is the best way ever to keep those kinks out of raveled yarn that is to be reknit.

As you ravel, wind this yarn tightly around the top part of the ironing board and steam out the kinks with the steam iron. The yarn will loosen slightly and can be moved around easily to steam on all sides of the skein.

Use a lightweight pressing cloth.—MRS. R. J.

DEAR POLLY — Use string to remove a tight ring from a finger.

Wind a 12-inch length of string around the finger, between the ring and the knuckle (over the knuckle, too, if necessary) and force one end of the string under the ring to the other side.

Then unwind the string using the end just pulled through the ring. Slowly the ring will slide over the knuckle.—JANET

★ ★ ★

GIRLS — I found that cheap gift wrapping ribbon, about one-fourth inch wide, was best as it held the fleshy part of the finger in more evenly. A nail file will push the end through the ring. —POLLY

DEAR POLLY — Remove the stamped price from merchandise with a little cologne, after-shaving lotion or even vinegar.

Drop it on the numbers. Let it stay a minute or so and then wipe with a cloth or tissue.

This works fine on plastic, metal, cellophane, wrappings and glass.—IRMA

Thank you girls. These marks have long been a pet peeve. Take your choice or the thing you happen to have on hand.—POLLY

DEAR POLLY—I like unexpected company in the morning and am always so happy to have someone drop in for coffee.

To assure them that they are not intruding, I always set the table again after the children leave for school.

My friends think I am psychic because I always say, "I thought you would never get here."—CATHY

★ ★ ★

GIRLS — That is really having the welcome mat out. I think it would be simpler to have a tray ready to take coffee and cake to the living room or if you prefer the kitchen table, just put it there.—POLLY

Churchwomen Set Date for Discussion

The Episcopal Churchwomen of Christ Church Cranbrook will open their Tuesday meeting with Holy Communion in St. Dunstan's Chapel at 10 a.m.

The Rev. Michael Nesbitt will discuss the history and content of the Book of Common Prayer.

Following a noon luncheon, Mrs. Maurice Garabrant, organist and choir director at the Church of the Nativity, will speak.

Remove With Tape

To remove a splinter from your child's hand, try placing a piece of adhesive tape over it.

Pull off the tape, and the splinter usually will come with it if it's not too deeply imbedded.

Protect Skates With Lubricant

NEW YORK (UPI) — Like the metal parts of ski equipment, blades of ice skates will stay in like-new condition with a few minutes of after-skating care to prevent dulling and rusting.

Pack a tube of petroleum jelly with skating gear and after each skating session dry the blades and protect them with a thin film of the lubricant.

Removes Stains From Furniture

Water, cosmetic and liquor stains are easily removed from the finishes of mahogany, maple, birch, oak, pine, teak, walnut, cherry, fruitwood, rosewood and veneers.

★ ★ ★

It's done by a new liquid product that the manufacturers say is to be soaked in a fine steel wool pad.

Encouragement for BIP

Would you like to look from five to 10 years younger just eight weeks from now? It is entirely possible, as many of my readers know, if you will follow my Eight-Week Beauty Improvement Plan (BIP for short) which your newspaper is bringing you.

If you haven't already done so why not join thousands of other women who have accepted the challenge, to see how much they can improve their appearance in eight weeks?

I have already told you how to decide what your ideal weight is and have published a height and weight chart.

I have also brought you information about measurements, what their ratio should be, and how to take your own measurements.

I have urged all of you to begin counting calories. I suggested that you hold your daily calorie intake to 900 or 1,000 at the most.

I think you should do this for the first week or 10 days. Then increase your intake to 1,200 to 1,400 for the rest of the eight weeks.

★ ★ ★

This gives you an encouraging start, but for a beautiful reduction of from 15 to 20 pounds in eight weeks, you should increase your intake to 1,200-1,400 calories a day after the first week or 10 days.

ALL FOODS FATTENING

Perhaps you want to know what foods are fattening and which are not. All foods are fattening if you eat enough of them and all foods are slimming if you eat little enough of them.

The whole thing depends on how many calories you consume.

You could reduce and eat nothing but pie a la mode, if you kept the intake within the calorie limit, but I would hate to know how you would look or feel at the end of such a reducing diet.

The important thing to do is be sure that you eat a well-balanced diet which supplies you with the essentials for health.

You can, and should, skip food which is not important to health but very high in calorie count.

Build your diet with lean meat, fish, sea foods, fowl, eggs, green and yellow vegetables, fruit juice, skim milk, non-creamed cheese, cottage and green salads.

A baked potato is a wonderful item on the reducing diet if you do not load it with butter. Whole grain cereals are splendid health items, and acceptable, if you do not sink them with cream and lots of sugar.

★ ★ ★

Substitute skim milk for whole milk, fresh fruit or water-packed canned fruit for pastries.

Avoid gravies and calorie-heavy salad dressings and fried foods.

Take smaller portions than usual and no seconds. Here is a sample dinner for you to think over.

One cup consomme — two rye wafers
Generous helping of lean meat (no gravy and all visible fat cut away)
One-half cup of carrots and peas. (Light buttering)
One medium baked potato — with onion salt and parsley for seasoning.
Lettuce salad, with calorie-low dressing.
Eight ounces of skim milk.
Two very small pieces of hard candy.

The way you cook and season your food makes a great difference.

Tomorrow we will consider exercise and its value in this course, and I will start you out with two good ones.

SEND FOR KIT

If you missed the first few columns of this series or would like to have my BIP Kit which gives you a booklet with complete instructions and a chart on which you can plot your progress, send 25 cents, plus 15 cents for postage and handling, and your printed name and address to Josephine Lawman in care of this newspaper.

Legs Still Showing Is Fashion News

Don't look for any drop in daytime hemlines anytime soon.

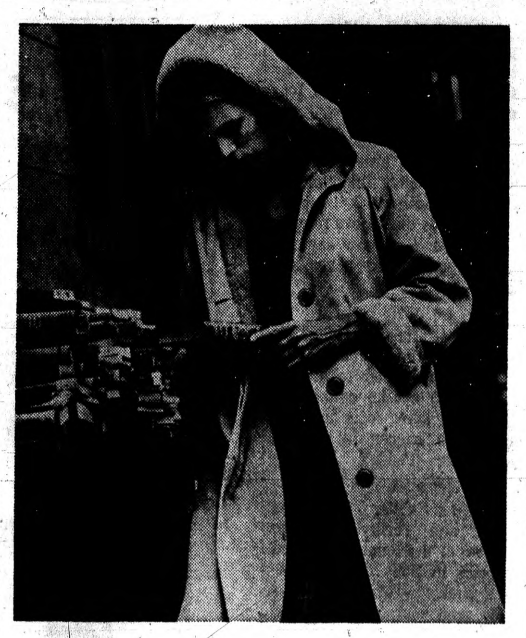
John Weitz, pace-setting New York designer, says hemlines will stay high simply because they're practical in this, our fast moving age, when clothes must leave room for motion.

"It's like Agnes de Mille (dancer - choreographer) once said to me," said Weitz. "How can you pivot in the middle of 57th Street with traffic bearing down on you?"

Do-It-Yourself

Make candles by preparing a wick from heavy cotton cord and rolling a sheet of beeswax around it. Give different shapes and sizes by rolling lengthwise, crosswise or diagonally.

The Jake Bells of Going Street announce the engagement of their daughter, Willie Mae to Maurice D. Johnson, son of the Maurice Johnsons of Chapman Avenue. Feb. 20 vows are planned.



The answer to the coat problems of any college girl or suburban wife when cold weather approaches is the full length twill casual coat with warm, lightweight pile liner. This one by Weatherbee is in a practical, full bodied, wrinkle resisting fabric of "Dacron" polyester and cotton, with a soft pile line or "Orlon" acrylic and nylon. About $60 locally.

Text of Romney's State of State Message

LANSING (AP) — Here is the State-of-the State message prepared for delivery to the 73rd Michigan Legislature as Gov. George Romney began his second term of office:

We are convened here today to consider the state of our state.

It is my duty as governor of Michigan to propose and your duty to dispose.

This relationship between the legislature and the governor is a crucial one in determining the future state of the state. Perhaps no state has had so much recent evidence of this fact. Only during the past two years have we finally emerged from the decade of deficiency and difficulty influenced by conflict and deadlock in this relationship.

Whether this difficult period was the fault of the governor or the legislature or both is not important now. But it is said history repeats itself and each time it is more expensive. A repetition of Michigan's executive-legislative conflict would be far more costly in the decade ahead than in the past.

You are here today as a result of one of the greatest turnovers in the legislature in Michigan's history. You bring to this body a freshness of new ideas unencumbered by past commitments or habitual restraints.

★ ★ ★

You are not alone. There is a newness prevailing throughout state government. We have a new State Board of Education, a new State Court of Appeals, a new State Highway Commission, and many other new or revised state boards and commissions. The full impact of our new one-year-old constitution is only beginning to be felt.

Accomplishments

Michigan has a new confidence. It has already produced a firm base upon which we can build together.

Michigan is booming economically.

★ ★ ★

By paying our debts and keeping our commitments, our state's integrity has been restored.

A sizable deficit has been replaced by a sizable surplus.

PUBLIC SERVICE

Grave public service deficiencies that accumulated during our decade of difficulty have been partially overcome.

Our relationships with federal and local governmental levels have been improved and made more responsible.

ECONOMIC CONFLICT

The divinely endowed right of all men without regard to creed, race or skin color "to hold up their heads as self - respecting citizens" is closer to realization.

Our laws have been applied to individuals and groups without fear or favor.

The partisan rancor fired by the combination of political and organized economic conflict has been dramatically reduced.

But while the state of the state is greatly improved, this very improvement conceals the magnitude of the responsibilities we jointly face.

Based on the action we take and the directions we assume in the next two years, the coming decade can be either one of renewed deficiency and difficulty, or one of unequaled progress.

We have entered a period of unprecedented change and explosively expanding needs — a revolutionary rising in expectations.

NEW SKILLS

For most citizens, learning and acquiring new skills will become lifetime processes. The "scientific age" is giving way to a "learning age." Current and new knowledge will revolutionize education, work, travel and recreation.

Increased income, leisure time, family formation and urbanization all will develop unexpected demands on our recreation facilities and natural resources, including land and water supplies, and water and air purity.

ADVANCED METHODS

Advanced—and more costly—physical and mental health methods will not only prolong the lives of the healthy but also of the handicapped.

Our state's population is growing by about 200,000 annually and is expected to reach over 10 million by 1975. It is taking on an hour-glass shape. An estimated 159,000 young people will celebrate their 18th birthday this year, as compared to 102,000 last year—a 50 per cent increase in a single year. By 1970, more than 50 per cent of our total state population will be less than 25 years of age. And senior citizens over 65 are the next fastest growing age group.

The roaring population explosion will require a corresponding increase in job opportunities and the huge investments necessary to supply them. Human and social needs, old and new, will confront our private and public resources, institutions and leadership with unprecedented demands.

Thus the awesome task of the next two years unfolds.

PEOPLE'S NEEDS

It is to prepare our state with efficient methods of meeting the people's needs adequately and the tax structure to yield the revenue justly. And it includes accomplishing this without losing our competitive ability to attract the business investments necessary to provides us sufficient time to do this.

But we must not be lulled into complacency by our sizable surplus.

Despite our record record levels of annual economic progress and personal income improvement, our annual revenue growth is not keeping pace with just the unavoidable increases in public service expenditures. And as we improved these services, the gap steadily widens between revenue growth and the built-in level of unavoidable expenditures made necessary by the sheer increase in the number of individuals to be served.

If we consider a three-year period since July 1962, when Michigan experienced its last increase, we find that the actual and projected revenue growth average is an estimated $38.5 million annually. But when we examine for the same period the built-in expenditure increase is over $50 million.

RECORD PERIOD

Thus, additional revenue over the three-year period, which is a record period of economic expansion in Michigan, averages $12 million less each year than the built-in cost increase in state government.

The present facts are that on the basis of revenue growth alone, if we didn't have a surplus, we would not be able to meet the built-in costs without a deficit or improvement in services without an even greater deficit.

It is clear we can improve services where necessary in the coming year only by spending a great deal more than our present tax structure will produce. This means the state will dip into this year's surplus to balance next year's budget.

Responsibilities

It will be only through the most prudent use of this surplus over the next two years that we will be able to meet essential state needs without increasing taxes, or going into debt.

Higher taxes or interest bearing debt will be necessary this year or next if we decide to materially increase my budget recommendations, or if we make piecemeal reductions in state taxes, with the possible exception of property tax relief for senior citizens.

In addition, we should guard against premature long - range answers to pressing needs. Two examples are senior citizens' property tax relief and education.

We must decide soon on property tax relief for senior citizens. To this end, I have recently appointed a distinguished group of individuals, without regard to party affiliation, to conduct an impartial and objective study of this problem based on our needs and experience in other states. I am hopeful they will submit a report soon enough to permit me to send you a special message during this session. Should this not prove possible, I pledge to call a special session for this purpose.

3 PROBLEMS

In state education, three fundamental problems remain.

The first is to make a comprehensive coordinated plan to meet our total educational needs through our public and private educational institutions.

The second is to devise equitable and effectively controlled programs to distribute increased state financial support.

★ ★ ★

The third is to find the revenue sources to pay for such improvements and secure their adoption.

In the next two years searching studies will be completed charting needed state expenditures for the coming decade in major areas of public service.

EDUCATION BOARD

The new State Board of Education will be submitting its planned and coordinated expenditure recommendations for education as a whole.

In the summer of 1966 a comperhensive interdepartmental study of some of this state's future human and social resource requirements will be completed.

★ ★ ★

This will cover five basic areas of need based on population and other factors: economic base, land use, transportation, recreation and financial requirements.

Mental Health

Expert regional study groups are currently determining future mental health requirements and our new mental health state leadership is searching out improvements required in this major and increasingly important area of state expenditure.

During the next two years authoritative recommendations for essential programs to prevent water and air pollution and to maintain our precious water supply will be completed.

This means that during our present term of office the facts on rising needs, and the expenditures required to meet them, will be more fully developed and understood. At approximately the same time this occurs our surplus will no longer be available.

Therefore, it is apparent we now need an objective continuing study of these two things:

1. Expenditure increases necessary to meet essential needs in this decade efficiently, and how the money to finance them can be raised on a just basis at the right time;

REVIEW

2. Cost reduction, through a searching review of the essentiality of all present state activities as we reorganize the executive branch of state government, and ceaseless improvement in the efficient conduct of state operations.

The need for greater preparation on the financing side is immediate.

I therefore expect to appoint a special top - flight bipartisan study commission to review and analyze Michigan's financial requirements over the next 10 years. It should examine our total tax structure and determine where changes should be made. This should be a total review.

My budget recommendations will include $200,000 to finance the staff work of this commission.

BASIC INJUSTICE

Meanwhile, the basic injustice of our existing tax structure has not diminished, nor has my personal concern for fundamental tax reform on a purely reform basis. Both parties have pledged such reform and in the past presented specific legislative programs for that purpose.

I stand ready now or at any time to work toward a bipartisan program of fundamental tax reform when you are genuinely so inclined.

Spending Reform

Government owes a continuing obligation to the people to be efficient. This obligation now assumes priority importance.

Foreseeing this problem two years ago, I appointed a special task force on expenditure management made up of outstanding Michigan management specialists. Their recommendations have already led to significant economies in state government. Efficiency savings realized to June 30, 1964, were slightly over $1 million, and estimated savings in the current fiscal year are about $2 million. In addition, the task force has recommended modification of antiquated laws on investment of state funds that would produce about $10 million additional income each year.

I will reorganize and expand this task force, and give it the additional duties of carefully reviewing the essentiality of all present state services. We should never assume we cannot do things better or that under changing conditions all services are still needed.

Governments

State and local government modernization is urgent for three reasons:

First, to enable them to again fully perform their vital separate and distinct functions in our decentralized federal system of government and thus prevent its gradual destruction;

★ ★ ★

Second, to perform these functions more efficiently; and

Third, to eliminate duplication and waste.

State Government

State government should set an example for local government.

During the coming year it is your opportunity, under our new Constitution, to reorganize our sprawling maze of state agencies into not more than 20 principal departments. If you want to know my position on such reorganization so that you can avoid a futile vetoed effort, I will be glad to make known the basic principles and departmental structure I support.

★ ★ ★

Aside from executive branch reorganization, the military establishment needs immediate basic revision. I will submit recommendations for this purpose.

Local Government

County Home Rule standards should be established on a flexible, optional basis to permit more efficient and economical government. Adequate studies and recommendations are available for this purpose.

Efficient local government and economic growth are being stifled through inadequate and obstructive annexation laws. The boundary commission proposals of 1964 provide a sound basis for modern annexation procedures.

There is urgent need for general property tax relief. The uniform city income tax was a first step in granting such relief. Additional nonproperty tax alternatives must be made available to local units of government. State standards of uniformity and fairness should be applied to exclusive local government tax sources.

Work should start on a lower court system plan to replace the justices of the peace as required under the new Constitution.

Political Process

The people have a right to know the facts about the activities and interests of their public servants. We need legislation which will:

Prohibit "conflict of interest" by members of the legislature;

★ ★ ★

Require annual public disclosure of income and assets by state public officials;

Establish a more adequate system of determining and reporting complete political and campaign expenses; and Strengthen our lobbying laws.

More citizens should be eligible to vote in our elections, both through implementation of our new Constitution and through a proposed constitutional amendment to grant voting rights to those 18 years of age and older.

Education

The education of children is not postponable and cannot be turned on and off at will. The need to prepare citizens of all ages for productive employment and enrich lives has placed new challenges before our educational systems. In fact, education is the most basic public service responsibility of state and local governments.

State aid should be further increased. We need an improved school aid formula that will provide every child with equal educational opportunity regardless of school district property tax base.

We need to accelerate construction of area vocational education facilities. Training and retraining under our manpower development and training programs is essential in this age of learning and automation.

Community colleges must perform a much larger role in meeting future educational and training needs for both college and job bound students. They should also become a principal source of life-long learning.

EDUCATION DIMENSION

The dimension of education at our four-year colleges and universities is expanding on the basis of knowledge, research and enrollment. Michigan's increased investment in their facilities and programs will largely determine Michigan's future.

Higher education should be within the financial reach of every qualified student in Michigan through scholarships and loan programs. These programs encourage the greater use of our private colleges and universities, which should also be one of our principal educational goals.

★ ★ ★

Our state and local libraries need greater support.

And I cannot leave this general subject of education without a special recommendation.

In its most important aspects, the inherent character of life among our few Amish families is model and well established. I urge an amendment specifically exempting them from the accredited teacher requirement.

Mental Health

Michigan's mental health and mental retardation programs are in the process of revolutionary change as a result of two things: first, the new Community Mental Health Services Act, and second, the new professionally qualified leadership at the state level.

Statewide planning for future mental health and mental retardation services is in process. This planning involves the efforts of over 600 people at the state and local level. It brings together expert personnel from the mental health professions, our university departments, state agencies, voluntary organizations, as well as interested and informed community leaders and citizens.

★ ★ ★

Twelve task forces are working and preparing recommendations to the new director of mental health in the areas of:

Community mental health services; inpatient psychiatric services; research; mental health and mental retardation statutes;

MENTALLY FRAIL

Emotionally disturbed children; elderly mentally frail; mental retardation manpower; social welfare services to the mentally retarded; education, training and employment of the mentally retarded; preventive and medical services for retardation; research in retardation.

In 26 designated regions in the state, local planning activities are in various stages of development.

This statewide planning includes charting the effective division of responsibility among state agencies for the performance of mental health activities. It will recommend distribution and priorities for local, state and federal financial participation in developing and carrying out aspects of a comprehensive mental health program.

With this planning completed, it will still be necessary to translate the plans into financial requirements so that the Revenue Study Commission, referred to earlier, can determine how the money for justified expenditures can be raised.

Anti-Poverty

We have launched a broad attack in Michigan in the last two years on the causes and consequences of poverty and human misery — through increased jobs and reduced unemployment, improved educational and training programs, increased welfare benefits, and positive civil rights action.

★ ★ ★

Michigan is making full use of the new Federal Economic Opportunity Act.

We must improve the long-suffering conditions of our Indian population and our migrant workers. Specific recommendations will be submitted soon.

Delinquency, Crime

We must check the rising rates of delinquency and crime. This will require improved prevention and rehabilitation.

Continuing program improvements in education, job training, mental and physical health, local welfare services and protection of children from physical abuse are preventive keys. We must pinpoint responsibility in abuse and neglect cases, reduce caseloads for social workers assisting vulnerable children, and stimulate citizen concern and local action.

★ ★ ★

Rehabilitation requires further increases in the capacity of our juvenile detention institutions and expansion of our probation and parole systems.

Senior Citizens

We need the contributions our senior citizens are particularly capable of making in solving our growing human and social problems. In turn, they need our help in providing better medical care and living standards.

Last July, a 10-year plan for dealing with problems of the aging was presented to a statewide governor's conference. I will submit to you recommendations based on this conference.

Labor

Michigan now has a construction safety statute. The safety code rules as submitted to you should be approved and the commission should then be granted rule-making authority.

The Workmen's Compensation statute badly needs revision and improvement. A governor's study commission report will be available shortly and I will then submit a special message containing my recommendations.

BACKLOG

The two-year backlog of workmen's compensation claims must be eliminated. Six additional hearings referees should be promptly provided through supplemental appropriations.

Both Workmen's Compensation and Unemployment Compensation benefits should be regularly adjusted to reflect cost-of-living changes.

Michigan Economy

Last year both employment and personal income in Michigan reached all - time highs. In December of 1964, there were 172,000 more people employed in nonfarm jobs than in December 1962 — an increase of 6.2 per cent in just two years. Unemployment, on the other hand, has been significantly reduced —from 5.4 per cent in December 1962, to 3.6 per cent in December 1964.

The personal income of Michigan residents — the money in their pockets — soared 9.2 per cent in the first nine months of 1964 over the comparable period of 1963.

Capital expenditures announced by Michigan industries in 1964 reached an astonishing total of $1.6 billion, more than double the $741 million announced in 1963. The 1964 announced expansions will result in an increase of 50,000 direct manufacturing jobs, and will stimulate an increase of at least 75,000 additional non - manufacturing jobs throughout the state.

★ ★ ★

This dramatic record of economic progress calls for the continuation and expansion of a number of programs, including the research, promotion, planning and local assistance activities of the Department of Economic Expansion, and the impartial application of state policies and programs.

Agriculture

Any farm product group should be permitted by vote to establish and support promotional and marketing programs.

Uniform statewide programs of meat and milk inspection should be established.

★ ★ ★

Sale of Michigan agricultural products at home and abroad should be promoted.

Permanent loss - leader selling of milk must be stopped.

Activities

Our conservation, recreation and tourism activities need so many improvements I will present recommendations separately for their expansion, wise management and encouragement.

Upper Peninsula

The costly tolls on the Mackinac Bridge must be reduced. Refinancing of the bridge bonds should be authorized and the reduction in interest costs used to cut the tolls.

We must give continued attention to the special problems of our Upper Peninsula citizens through economic expansion activities, product research development, educational institutions and anti-poveryt programs.

★ ★ ★

Our geologic mapping, iron ore investigation and forest survey programs must be expanded to increase our use of those resources and the employment they are capable of providing.

Public Health

A statewide air pollution control program is overdue in Michigan.

Increased support of local health departments is needed through a formula equitable to every area of the state.

★ ★ ★

Our hospitals deserve better reimbursement for care of crippled and afflicted children.

Establishment of a cancer products development center would speed up research in combating this dread disease.

Traffic Safety

The increased rates of death, injury and property loss on our streets and highways must be reversed.

Based on the recommendations of a 219 - member Governor's Commission on Traffic Safety, we can launch a definitive attack on this problem. This should importantly include 200 additional state police troopers, implied consent to chemical tests to combat drinking drivers, firmer accident reporting and driver licensing, expanded driver education, and periodic vehicle inspections.

I will present details of my recommendations in a special message.

Resources Council

A Human Resources Council has been established. Its purpose is three-fold:

1. To coordinate state agencies working on related human and social problems;

2. To encourage private initiative and community services;

3. To secure needed Citizen Service Corps volunteers in carrying out public and private programs.

The alarming increase in human and social problems requires a massive attack which marshals both private effort and the combined resources of state government. I will recommend budget support for this new effort.

Conclusion

We are here because the people of Michigan sent us here to serve their intersts in their government. In the service of the people, we have two responsibilities:

First, to provide a climate of opportunity which will not only permit but stimulate individuals, families and voluntary institutions to meet their own needs and the needs of others as fully as possible without direct dependence on government (surely the time has arrived to do everything we can to fully discharge this responsibility);

Second, to devise and conduct governmental programs to meet the needs of people which cannot be met adequately by their voluntary action — either individually or cooperatively.

As we begin to test our ability to measure up to these challenges, we do so with a sense of another special responsibility. Few governors and few legislatures have started a new session with so much public desire that we avoid the dire forebodings and pessimistic predictions of some based on recent state experience. That we will disagree from time to time, there is no doubt. It will ever be so under our system of checks-and-balances.

PERSONAL PLEDGE

But you have my personal pledge that I will do all in my power to aid you in discharging your responsibilities. I will not make recommendations that are motivated primarily on a political basis. I will not deal in personalities or name-calling. At all times, my door is open to the frank, timely and complete consultation that alone can produce the understanding and cooperation needed for the sound solutions we seek.

★ ★ ★

I have faith you will want to make this a common mutual commitment. On that basis, we can prepare for the greatest decade of universal progress in Michigan's history.

Gov. George W. Romney

Highlights of Message

LANSING (UPI) — These are the highlights of Gov. George Romney's State of the State message to the legislature, with the recommendations he said could pave the way for "the greatest decade of universal progress in Michigan history."

FISCAL REFORM

Noting the "built-in" government costs have been outstripping state revenues by $12 million a year for the last three years, Romney said a revised tax structure is needed to "yield the revenue justly" required for meeting the people's needs."

SENIOR CITIZENS

The Democrats' demand for a property tax exemption for senior citizens was called by Romney one area where tax revision could be made without the entire revenue structure being revised. He said a special message with his ideas would be made later — or he would call a special session if the studies from which he'll gather facts aren't ready in time.

EDUCATION

—Increased state aid to public schools through an improved formula for distributing state funds on a more equitable basis; a larger program of state college scholarships; more funds for libraries.

★ ★ ★

—Accelerated area vocational education facilities with emphasis on training and retraining under the manpower development act.

ELECTIONS, OFFICIALS

—Lower the legal voting age minimum to 18; stricter laws governing lobbyists who deal with legislators; prohibition of conflict of interests by members of the legislature.

—Annual income disclosure by all state public officials; tighter and more complete laws governing campaign spending and reporting of expenses.

LABOR

—Immediate revision of the workmen's compensation law and regular adjustment of benefit payments for both workmen's and unemployment compensation according to the cost of living index.

—A strong construction safety code and authority to the construction safety commission to make binding rules.

AGRICULTURE

—Autonomous promotional or marketing programs for any commodity group voting for them; state support for promotion of Michigan agricultural products.

—Uniform, statewide meat and milk inspection and banning the "loss-leader" sale of milk.

TRAFFIC SAFETY

—Implied consent chemical tests for suspended drunk drivers; compulsory motor vehicle inspection; stricter accident reporting and licensing requirements; 200 more state police troopers; expanded driver education.

Report on State Universities Shows Strength in Research

ANN ARBOR—Research at Michigan's major public universities had boomed to $50 million by 1963 and is strongest in economic areas in which the state most needs growth.

★ ★ ★

This is shown in a study published today by the Institute of Science and Technology (IST) at the University of Michigan. It covers research at Wayne State and Michigan Technological Universities and at U. of M.

The 55-page report shows that research emphasis at these four schools matches the national economic growth pattern more closely than it does the state economy.

This provides a strong basis for the diversified economic growth within Michigan which the state needs, the report says.

★ ★ ★

The pattern is aligned with industries growing rapidly throughout the nation and encourages their development in Michigan, according to Frank R. Bacon Jr. Bacon, director of the IST Industrial Development Research Program, made the study along with Kenneth E. Bayer, IST research assistant.

NOT ALIGNED

But the universities research emphasis also suggests the pattern is not aligned with the present pattern of industry in Michigan.

For example, in fiscal 1963 half of the four schools' research was in the electronics-aerospace field (as compared to 56 per cent nationally), while this industry in Michigan was little more than 3 per cent of the total.

At the same time, only 11 per cent of the universities' total research was in the motor vehicles, machinery and metallurgy fields although these made up 70 per cent of the state's manufacturing.

INDUSTRY USE

But, Bacon points out, "our universities have research capabilities in several appropiate fields that contain new technigues that could be infused benefically into our key industries—vehicles and metalworking."

The application of electronic techniques and the use of plastics and new materials in these industries are just a few such samples.

Research at the four schools totaled $7.8 million in 1951 and $41.3 million in 1961. This "compares favorably" with the rate of growth of research by industry nationally.

They're Hard Drinkers When It Comes to Milk

WASHINGTON (AP) — Canadian consumers drink more milk and use more butter than Americans. Per capita consumption of dairy products in the Dominion is about 900 pounds on a milk-equivalent basis, compared with a U.S. average of 632 pounds.

There are half as many dairy farmers in Canada as in the U.S., with last year's output estimated at 19.3 billion pounds as against the U.S. figure of 128 billion.

More than 12 million Americans have arthritis and related rheumatic diseases.

Washington Stopped at Many Public Inns

During his travels and campaigns, George Washington kept a careful diary of all his stops, feeling it incumbent upon him, as president, to stay in public hostels rather than private homes.

Many of these places stand today. It is simple truth that threre are many cases where "George Washington slept here."

The fastest growing state in the country is Nevada, where the population has jumped by 155 per cent since 1950, six times as fast as the entire country.

Give Salad a Citrus Dressing

A mix-your-own orange salad is such fun to serve—delights your guests and adds sparkle and glamour to any buffet table. The diners start with large golden cartwheels of fresh oranges and help themselves to other luscious fruits.

A lazy-susan is ideal for serving the mix-your-own salad.

Place fresh orange slices in the center; garnish with sprigs of parsley and surround with a selection of other colorful fruits —crisp apple wedges, tangy grapefruit sections, sliced bananas (to keep light dip in orange juice before serving), and plump purple grapes.

Add salad greens and crunchy peacans to complete the picture.

CARAWAY CHEESE RING—Caraway seed in a fruit salad sounds like a revolutionary idea. It is, but it will lift the molded salad out of the ordinary class.

Molded Fruit Salad Flavored With Caraway

For a fancy buffet, this lemon Cheese Ring" with its sparkling canned fruit cocktail, caraway seed, Cheddar Cheese and sour cream is handsome fare indeed. Or you may prefer to serve it with hot rolls at an informal bridge party.

★ ★ ★

Either way, it's an elegant-looking salad to arouse cheers from everyone — the guests who will revel in its flavor and the party-giver who can make it well ahead of time without fretting about last - minute food preparation.

★ ★ ★

Canned fruit cocktail eases the lot of homemakers in more ways than one: It's ready to use the moment you open it and its versatility makes this convenient fruit assortment ideal for a wide range of fast-to-fix recipes.

Fruited Caraway Cheese Ring

- 1 can (1 lb. 14 oz.) fruit cocktail
- 1¾ cups water
- 2 teaspoons caraway seed
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- 2 packages (3 oz. each) lemon gelatin
- ½ cup lemon juice

Chill until thickened and mixture mounds on a spoon. Fold fruit cocktail into half of gelatin mixture; turn into 2-quart mold.

Fold sour cream and cheese into remaining gelatin mixture. Turn into mold over fruit layer. Chill until firm. Makes 8 to 10 servings.

Doughnut Cutter for Big Biscuits

Mary Greene's Big Biscuits

- 4 teaspoons baking powder
- ¾ teaspoon salt
- ½ cup dry milk solids
- ½ cup vegetable shortening
- ¾ cup (about) cold water

In a mixing bowl, stir together thoroughly the flour, baking powder, salt and milk solids. Cut in shortening until particles are fine.

Gradually stir in enough water to make soft dough. Roll out on prepared pastry cloth about ⅛ inch thick.

Cut out with a doughnut cutter (with "hole" part removed) or another 2¾-inch cutter.

Bake in a hot (450 degrees) oven for 12 to 15 minutes. Makes 10 to 12 biscuits.

Yellow Plus Red

Want to color that cake frosting coral pink for a special table setting to match a centerpiece of Talisman roses? Use a few drops of yellow and a few drops of red food coloring in your frosting.

How to Pick Grapefruit of High Quality

To be sure of taking home the best quality grapefruit USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service recommends choosing fruit that is firm but springing to the touch, well - shaped and heavy for its size.

★ ★ ★

Heavy, relatively smooth grapefruit usually are thin-skinned and juicy.

Soft, wilted, flabby or excessively lightweight fruit usually are undesirable. But, general surface defects (scale, scars, scratches, discoloration) do not affect edible quality. Thus these are minor considerations.

To avoid thick-skinned grapefruit, beware of a fruit which is somewhat pointed at the stem end and has rough, ridged or wrinkled skin.

Once home, keep grapefruit at cool room temperature — 60 degrees to 70 degrees. If refrigerated, they should be used within a week.

Cheese, Fruit in Salad

Pineapple cheddar mold is also known as "yum yum salad" and justly so!

Dissolve 1 (6-ounce) package lemon gelatin in 1½ cups hot water. Add 1 undrained 1-pound 14-ounce can crushed pineapple, ½ teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon prepared mustard and 2 tablespoons lemon juice. Chill.

When mixture starts to set, fold in 1½ cups grated cheddar cheese and 1 cup whipping cream stiffly beaten. Chill in 8-cup mold.

Exotic Flavors Blend in Pineapple Relish

Pacifica herbed pineapple gives zest 'n' zing to baked or broiled fish.

Combine 1 (1-pound 4½-ounce) can pineapple tidbits and ½ cup pineapple syrup with ¼ cup vinegar, ½ teaspoon dill weed, ¼ teaspoon garlic salt and 2 tablespoons instant minced onion. Cover and chill overnight.

Steak for broiling should be thick! Pan-fry those thin steaks.

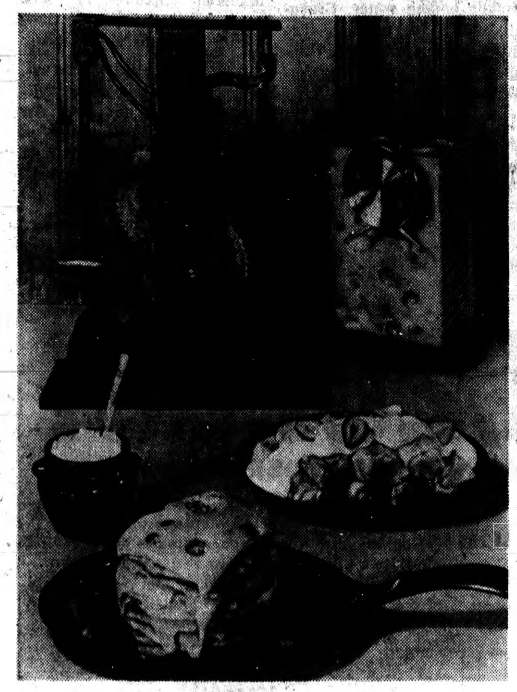
Sophisticated Recipes Use Cheese

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Every year Americans get more sophisticated about their food. This is as true about eating cheese as it is about any other food.

Whereas great-granddad was content to eat a hunk of "rat cheese" with a simple cracker, his descendant wants cheese blintzes.

He was a connoisseur of fancy cheeses and seeks them out in specialty food shops.



SWISS CHEESE BLINTZES

PEAR-PINEAPPLE CHEESE PIE

CHEESE PEANUT SAUCE

The cheese blintzes mentioned above may well be Swiss in origin.

Swiss Cheese Blintzes

1 cup all-purpose flour
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon sugar
1 egg
1 cup milk
24 slices Swiss cheese
24 pineapple spears, drained

Sift flour with salt and sugar. Beat egg with milk. Add milk mixture to flour; beat with rotary egg beater until smooth. Let stand 1 hour.

Lightly grease a 6" frypan; spoon 2 tablespoons batter into pan, rotating the pan to coat bottom. Brown pancake lightly on one side. Turn pancake brown side up; cool.

Roll each slice tightly around a drained pineapple spear. Place cheese on pancake; roll pancake around cheese to enclose it entirely.

★ ★ ★

Fry blintzes in butter until golden brown on all sides.

Serve hot with sour cream and strawberries. Makes 24 blintzes.

Another suggestion from the land of the Alps is this:

When your Swiss watch tells you it's time to wake up the family appetites, then it's time for cheese, be it breakfast, lunch, or supper. Try "Swiss Pancake Sandwich."

Pancakes (your favorite recipe or mix) are laced with grated Switzerland Swiss cheese to taste, stacked with flavorsome cheese slices between each cake — what man of the house wouldn't go for this hearty fare? Teen-agers love it, too.

Another idea: ever have pancakes left over? Don't throw them out!

Roll slices of Swiss cheese in the cooked cakes; fasten with toothpicks; dip in beaten egg. Fry in deep fat 2 minutes.

Or bake in well-buttered casserole at 350 degrees 20 minutes, or until cheese is melty.

If fish is on your menu every week, you may be looking for a new way of serving it.

★ ★ ★

How about blanketing it with cheese sauce dotted with peanuts? This makes a dish that is both attractive and tasty.

Halibut With Cheese-Peanut Sauce

Plan on two pounds fresh or frozen halibut steaks for 6 to 8 servings. If halibut is frozen, let thaw on refrigerator shelf for two hours.

Arrange steaks in greased baking dish and brush tops with melted butter or oil. Bake in preheated 350-degree oven for 30 minutes or until fish flakes easily with a fork.

Brush once or twice with butter or oil during cooking time. Serve with Cheese-Peanut Sauce

Cheese-Peanut Sauce

¼ cup butter or margarine
¼ cup flour
2 cups milk
2 cups grated sharp Cheddar cheese
½ cup chopped peanuts

Melt butter or margarine in a small saucepan. Stir in flour. Gradually add milk, stirring constantly. Cook over medium heat, continuing to stir constantly, until mixture thickens and begins to boil.

Stir in cheese and peanuts. Add salt. Continue stirring until cheese melts.

Serve over baked halibut. Makes 3 cups, enough for 6 to 8 servings of halibut.

Cheese adds interest to pear pie which could be rather bland. Shredded cheese is melted in the canned fruit juice and poured over the pear filling before baking.

Pear-Pineapple Cheese Pie

Pastry for double crust pie
8 large (1-lb., 13-oz. can) pear halves, drained
2 cups (1-lb. can) pineapple chunks, drained
½ cup pear juice
½ cup pineapple juice
¼ cup cornstarch
¼ cup sugar
⅛ teaspoon salt
Dash of nutmeg
¼ teaspoon vanilla
1 tablespoon butter
1½ cups shredded Cheddar cheese
Egg white

Sour Cream Topping

1 pint dairy sour cream
2 tablespoons combined pear and pineapple juice
2 tablespoons confectioners sugar

For pie: Line pie plate with pastry. In pie shell arrange pear halves, cut-side up with narrow ends toward center. Arrange pineapple chunks around pear halves. Set aside.

In a saucepan mix a small amount combined pear and pineapple juice with cornstarch, then add remaining juice. Cook until clear and thickened.

Lower heat and stir in sugar, salt, nutmeg, vanilla, butter and Cheddar cheese. Spread cheese-fruit sauce over fruit.

Roll out remaining pastry and cut into ⅝-inch strips; make a latticed top on the pie. Bake 12 minutes; reduce heat to 375 degrees and bake 35 more minutes.

To give a golden glaze, brush lattice top with egg white for the last 10 minutes of baking. Serve with sour cream topping.

For topping: blend together sour cream, fruit juices and confectioners sugar. Refrigerate until needed.

Fill Noodle Ring With Chicken

Turn cooked noodles into a buttered ring mold and keep warm while you make (or heat) creamed chicken. Turn out the noodle ring and fill with the chicken.

★ ★ ★

You'll need to cook half a pound medium-width noodles to fill a 1½-quart ring mold.

Pineapple Gets New Treatment

Scalloped pineapple is such an unusual idea that it rates a repeat printing.

SCALLOPED PINEAPPLE
By Mrs. R. L. Grant

4 cups soft bread crumbs (8 slices bread
1½ cups sugar
1 cup melted butter or margarine
3 eggs, beaten
2 cups pineapple bits (can use more)
½ cup milk

Mix first five ingredients together. Add milk and mix again. Pour into greased casserole. Bake in 350-degree oven about one hour or until brown. Makes about 6 servings.

Today's Housewife Is Missing a Lot if She Ignores Dozens of New Food Products

New food products and changes in food packages will continue in 1965 reports Mrs. Josephine Lawyer, Consumer Marketing Agent. More convenience and built-in service will characterize these products and packages.

Cracker-size cheese slices are reaching shoppers in a number of states—Michigan included. These 9-ounce packages contain 48 cracker-size slices of pasteurized, processed cheese (either American or Pimento) and retail at about 39 cents each.

Instant omelet mixes are available in four varieties — Western, ham, cheese, and mushroom. No refrigeration is necessary. Each package serves three people and contains two envelopes, one of dehydrated eggs and one a freeze-drjed ingredient mix.

Instant applesauce, a new product developed by Agricultural Research Service engineers, is not yet available but promises to be a desirable new item of the near future. It weighs only one-fifth as much as canned applesauce, has good keeping qualities, and requires less storage space.

It is made by grinding explosion puffed, dehydrated apple pieces and is instantly converted to applesauce by addition of hot water. The degree of graininess or smoothness depends upon the fineness to which the puffed pieces are crushed.

INSTANT FRUIT POWDERS

Instant berry powders—strawberry, raspberry, blackberry, and boysenberry—have been developed by the U.S. Department of Agriculture Utilization Laboratory in Albany, California.

The powders contain one to two per cent moisture, and about 80 per cent sugar. They dissolve instantly in cold water to make puree or liquid.

Instant mashed potato buds, a new form of instant mashed potatoes, will soon be test marketed in four areas.

Packed in eight and 24 serving sizes, they are described as "tiny puffs of potatoes—light, fluffy, and better tasting than any other—even homemade."

Four frozen dinners with special appeal to youngsters 13 years of age and under will be introduced nationally early this year. These will contain Tater Tots, an entree, vegetable, and apple brown Betty dessert.

Entrees include hamburger with corn, chicken with peas, wieners with corn, and fish with peas. The 11-ounce packages will retail at 49 cents each.

★ ★ ★

Boil-in-the-bag frozen vegetables will be introduced in eastern and midwestern states by a large processor at five to nine cents below competitors. The new line will include broccoli spears, baby limas, cut corn, green beans, and cut green beans.

SNAPPLES

Fried apple slices called Snapples are now being test marketed in California. Snapples are a snack of dried apple slices deep-fried with cinnamon and sugar. They are packed in 3½ ounce foil bags at 39 cents or in a 7-ounce size at 75 cents.

Prepared pie crust packaged in an aluminum pan and covered with plastic film is now being marketed. To use, simply remove the plastic cover and add the pie filling.

Nut Topped Strips Good With Fruit

FINNSKA KAKON
By Mrs. John K. Kleene

¾ cup butter
¼ cup sugar
2 cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon almond flavoring
Finely chopped almonds

Mix together first four ingredients. Roll ¼-inch thick and cut into strips ¾ by 2½ inches.

★ ★ ★

Brush with slightly beaten egg white. Sprinkle with sugar and finely chopped almonds, mixed. Bake 15-20 minutes at 350 degrees.

Macaroni Plus Gouda Equals Salad

There are times when you want a good hefty salad. One you can serve with cold cuts, and hot garlic bread and have a change-of-pace meal.

A cup of hot soup might go well with this combination—plain fare with high-class satisfaction.

Gouda Macaroni Salad

1 tablespoon salt
3 quarts boiling water
2 cups elbow macaroni (8 ounces)
1 Gouda cheese (about 10 ounces)
1 cup sliced cucumber
½ cup chopped celery
1-3 cup chopped scallions
½ cup sliced radishes
1 package (5-8 ounces) Italian salad dressing mix

Add 1 tablespoon salt to rapidly boiling water. Gradually add macaroni so that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender.

Drain in colander. Rinse with cold water; drain.

Meanwhile, cut cheese coating vertically halfway down cheese. Make cuts about ¾-inch apart; peel coating down to resemble petals.

Remove cheese from coating; reserve shell. Dice cheese.

Combine cheese, macaroni, cucumber, celery, scallions and radishes; mix well. Arrange macaroni mixture in salad bowl, placing some of salad mixture in cheese shell. Chill.

Combine cheese, macaroni, cucumber, celery, scallions and radishes; mix well. Arrange macaroni mixture in salad bowl, placing some of salad mixture in cheese shell. Chill.

Prepare dressing mix according to package directions. Serve with salad.

Rutabagas, Turnips Often Are Neglected Vegetables

Parsnips pep up those succulent winter stews and vegetable soups. This root has a sweet nutty flavor when cooked properly.

Look for smooth, firm and well shaped parsnips ranging from small to medium size. Avoid large soft flabby roots as they are usually pithy or fibrous and lack flavor.

Scrub the skin and put in one inch of boiling salted water. Cook until tender. Remove the skin and cut lengthwise and remove the core.

Vary the finishing touch of the cooked parsnips by any one of the following suggestions: seasoning and butter, mash like potatoes, glazed with syrup or brown sugar and butter, smother in a cream sauce or French fry.

RUTABAGAS AND TURNIPS

Rutabagas and turnips sometimes fool the consumer because there are white and yellow fleshed varieties of both, but most rutabagas are yellow fleshed and most turnips are white.

As far as production is concerned, here in the United States they are considered a minor vegetable, however, when the number of annual carloads sent to market are divided up, it indicates that about three pounds are eaten per person each year.

Western rutabagas have a good supply of Vitamin C and minerals. Both of these vegetables are low in calories.

Choose small to medium size roots for best eating flavor. They need not be peeled, just scrub and cook in an inch of boiling salted water. The skin can be removed after cooking.

If the oven is on for other food preparation, these root vegetables can be baked like potatoes. Not only will they enhance stews and soups, but fritters, pancakes, French fried, glazed or made into a casserole dish are just a few other ideas.

Simmered Figs Garnish Cake

Here's a very glamorous way to make a quick dessert from bakery cake.

Continental Cake

Loaf sponge cake or pound cake
2 tablespoons honey
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 cup apricot nectar
¼ cup curacao
12 California dried figs
1 cup water
1 teaspoon grated lemon peel
Whipped topping or cream

Slice cake into 12 servings. Blend honey, lemon juice, apricot nectar and curacao. Spoon over cake. Let stand; simmer figs in water and lemon peel for 10 minutes. Drain and cool. Place 1 fig in center of each slice of cake. Make wide ruffle of cream around each fig. Makes 12 servings.

Oven Sandwich

Easy luncheon sandwich: Spread toasted bread with soft cheddar cheese and top with thin slices of bacon. Broil or bake until bacon crisps.

Luncheon Salad Pie Has Unusual Mixture

Dice 5 slices pineapple from 1 (1-pound 4½-ounce) can; toss with 2 (7-ounce) cans tuna, 1 cup sliced celery, ¼ cup EACH chopped green onion and cashews, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 2 teaspoons seasoned salt and ½ cup mayonnaise.

Pile into baked 9-inch pastry shell and decorate with remaining 5 pineapple slices. Makes 5 festive servings.

These Muffins Get Color From Pumpkin

If there's a little pumpkin left after you make a pie, this is a fine way to use it.

Pumpkin Muffins

1 cup sifted flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon each cinnamon and nutmeg
¼ cup shortening
⅔ cup sugar
1 egg
½ cup canned mashed pumpkin

Sift together the flour, baking powder, salt, cinnamon and nutmeg.

Cream shortening and sugar; thoroughly beat in egg. Stir in sifted dry ingredients alternately with pumpkin mixture; stir only until smooth after each addition — do not beat.

Fill greased muffin-pan cups about half full; bake in a moderate (350 degrees) oven until wire cake tester inserted in center comes out clean — about 25 minutes.

Serve hot or reheat. If muffin-pan cups are ⅓ cup size, recipe will make 10 muffins.

This Dip Has Pickle in It

Tangy party dip can be made in minutes in an electric blender.

Place 1 large cut-up dill or sour pickle and ¼ lemon, cut up, in blender container. Blend for 60 seconds.

Add 1 (3-ounce) package of cream cheese and 1 (2¼-ounce) can of deviled ham. Blend 10 seconds. Add 2 cups of canned apple sauce and a dash of liquid red pepper sauce.

Blend a few seconds more, or until dip is very smooth. Chill before serving with crackers or potato chips. Makes about 3 cups.

Handgun Ownership Has Increased Since JFK Assassination

Since Nov. 22, 1963, the day John F. Kennedy was shot and killed in Dallas, Tex., Americans believe they have found an increasing need to own and carry handguns.

Oakland County is following this national trend, as registrations have jumped 20 per cent over the 1963 total of 1,108, according to Deputy Robert G. Phillips.

During November alone, more than 400 purchase permits were processed in the county.

During 1963 the number of purchase permits issued jumped by 37 per cent.

A large portion of this increase came after Nov. 22.

SPECIFIC REASON

Phillips, who is in charge of handgun permits for the sheriff's department and is a member of the county's gun board, said it is hard to point to one specific reason for the increase.

Experts in other parts of the country have blamed it on the uneasiness of the general public due to civil rights conflicts or the assassination of the president.

The majority of persons who request a permit say they want a gun for hunting or target use, but many of these persons really want it for supposed self-protection, Phillips said.

★ ★ ★

"We have turned down a lot of people, especially women, who want a handgun for personal protection," the deputy said.

DOUBTFUL USE

Most persons who were being attacked wouldn't have a chance to use a handgun or wouldn't use it once they realize they are accountable for shooting someone, even in self-defense, he said.

For protection of a home Phillips recommends a single-shot shotgun, filled with birdshot.

A shotgun is cheaper, easier for a woman to use, is much more frightening than a small handgun and is not likely to kill anyone, unless the intruder is standing right in front of the barrel, he said.

★ ★ ★

Phillips said also that registration certificates are not issued to many persons because the gun which they want to register is not safe.

SURPLUS WEAPONS

Many of the "surplus" pistols which are bought through the mail are unsafe from a mechanical standpoint and present a real hazard to the owner, the deputy said.

Other persons seeking a permit will bring in relics they have found in an old trunk which are rusty or broken. This type of weapon is also considered unsafe, he said.

State laws govern the purchase and use of handguns. The laws are strict and specific.

★ ★ ★

In order to purchase a handgun, the buyer must have a purchase permit.

OWNER RULES

To be eligible for such a permit the buyer must be 21 years old, a U.S. citizen, a resident of Michigan at least six months and must not have been arrested for a felony for the past eight years.

This permit allows the buyer to pay for the gun and transport it to his home.

The weapon cannot be carried from that property again unless it is unloaded, wrapped up and carried in the locked trunk of a car, Phillips said.

★ ★ ★

A registration certificate doesn't allow a gunowner to hunt with his pistol. He may use it for target practice only if he has the proper target facilities on his own property, Phillips said.

CARRYING PERMIT

Most persons who buy a pistol are encouraged to apply for a carrying permit, Phillips said. This allows the owner to transport his handgun, hunt with it, and use it for target practice.

The carrying permit must be approved by the county gun board, which is made up of a member of the sheriff's department, a member of the state police and a representative of the prosecutor's staff.

All types of handguns are governed by these laws, Phillips said.

This includes CO-2 pellet pistols, blank-cartridge or starting pistols, even antique pistols which are operative.

Pistols firing a pellet smaller than 177-caliber, or BBs, are the exception, he said.

Lion Tamer Trades Cage for a Cradle

VENICE, Fla. (AP) — A pert Polish girl who has tamed scores of lions and tigers is taking a week off to train her 6-pound, 9-ounce boy, born Wednesday.

"Having a baby is considerably more complicated than working with the lions," she said through an interpreter at a hospital. "But I feel it was worth all the trouble."

★ ★ ★

A trouble it was, too, agreed Dr. Charles O. Becker, who said a translator was needed to aid in the delivery.

While Adela (Ada) Smeija, 24, and her boy, named Brunon Gerard, were doing fine, her husband, a clown with the Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus, carried on with his act at Miami Beach.

Adela has been training wild animals for four years and is currently a member of the Polish National Circus.

Blast Bests Big Bad Bear

INVERNESS, Fla. (AP) — Deputy Sheriff Louis Pielow, notified to look out for a dangerous black bear, met the 350-pound animal face-to-face and emerged victorious.

After getting a glimpse of the bear near a residence, Pielow parked his patrol car and hid behind a clump of bushes, expecting the bear to approach from the left or right.

He did not see the bear until it was 20 feet away, directly facing him. A single blast from his shotgun killed the bear instantly.

Kent GOP Will Hear N.Y. Congressman

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Rep. Charles E. Goodell, R-N.Y., will be speaker here Feb. 9 for the annual Lincoln Day Dinner sponsored by Kent County Republicans.

A congressman since 1959, Goodell was a leader in the push which resulted in the election of Rep. Gerald R. Ford Jr., R-Mich., as House minority leader.

Harmony Prevails at State School Board's 1st Session

LANSING (AP) — The eight elected Democratic members on Michigan's new State Board of Education got along famously with the two nonvoting members Wednesday—although one is a Republican.

Gov. George Romney, who sits on the board as a nonvoting member under the new Constitution, was praised for his spirit of cooperation.

Dr. Lynn Bartlett, Democratic state superintendent of public instruction, was elected board chairman.

The fate of Bartlett, whose present term runs through June 30, will be up to the board. The new board has the power to name its own superintendent of public instruction and set his term of office.

FIRST DAY

Indications at the first day-long meeting were that Bartlett, a proved vote-getter for the party, is popular with board members.

Romney told board members they face a tough job in developa sound, coordinated plan for education in Michigan.

"But there is one job tougher than that," he amended. "And this board doesn't have it. That is to raise enough money to pay for the educational program."

★ ★ ★

The eight board members, elected Nov. 3 and sworn into office Jan. 1, are Donald Thurber of Grosse Pointe, Leon Fill of Huntington Woods, Carmen Delli Quadri of Houghton, Peter Oppewall of Grand Rapids, Thomas Brennan of Dearborn, Charles Morton of Detroit, Edwin Novak of Flint and Marilyn Jean Kelly of Albion, the only woman member.

ENTIRE RANGE

The board covered almost the entire range of education in the day-long meeting, discussing everything from broad general policy and multi-million dollar federal grants to whether or not one teach should get a renewal of a temporary teaching certificate.

Members decided to delay until a meeting on Jan. 27 final approval of Michigan's participation in a federal program which will make $523,000 available to the state this fiscal year to train illiterate adults.

Under the program, these adults would be taught the basic skills of reading, writing and simple arithmetic.

Bartlett said 42 school districts in the state have expressed in the program. It still has to be approved by the legislature and the governor and checked out by the attorney general's office for legality.

HINTS APPROVAL

Romney indicated he would give approval but added: "You can't help people who don't want to help themselves."

The board also decided to delay until a later meeting the appointment of an eight-member advisory board for public community and junior colleges. Names of possible appointees will be suggested at the next meeting.

★ ★ ★

Eugene Krasicky, an assistant attorney general assigned to public instruction, was instructed to draw up two bills affecting education for presentation to the legislature.

One would delete the provision that the board of education must have legislative approval before accepting any gifts or grants.

The other would allow a hearing officer instead of the full board to sit in on property and school district boundary hearing. The officer would summarize testimony and the board would still make the final decision.

'Seek School Cash Means'

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Michigan educators were told bluntly by Gov. George Romney Wednesday that they must work for new means of raising money to cover growing future costs of education.

He indicated property owner resistance had closed the door to additional levies on property.

"There's got to be acceptance of responsibility instead of just the need for more money," he told the Michigan Association of School Administrators here.

Approximately 500 school superintendents at the MASA semiannual convention heard his address.

TAX REFORM

The governor told the schoolmen that "the most essential principle in meeting future educational requirements is tax reform . . .

★ ★ ★

"There is a moral obligation on the part of education and other public services . . . to support tax reform as a means of obtaining more revenue to provide for such services," he said.

Consumer Interest Report

Will Johnson Push 'Shoppers Law'?

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The holiday which Lyndon Johnson has enjoyed with the business community may suffer its first rainy weather with the release of the long-awaited report by the President's Committee on Consumer Interests.

Some businessmen have been skeptical of the administration's efforts in behalf of the American consumer—especially since the appointment of Mrs. Esther Peterson as Johnson's special assistant for consumer affairs and the creation of the consumer committee.

Major strike against Mrs. Peterson, who still continues to hold her post as assistant secretary of labor, was her testimony in favor of the Hart packaging-labeling bill and the Douglas credit bill, two measures opposed by some segments of the business community.

The President himself did not not exactly dispel businessmen's fears when he said the new committee would "focus on consumer needs which can appropriately be met through federal action."

Subsequently, though, both the President and Mrs. Peterson did much to allay fears that the consumer program would be antibusiness.

Four regional conferences — in St. Louis, Salt Lake City, Detroit and Atlanta — between representatives of consumer groups, manufacturers, advertising agencies and government officials produced the cautiously friendly relations which lasted through the presidential campaign.

Many observers feel that this atmosphere will cloud over following the release of the committee's report.

Yet, warns the U.S. Chamber of Commerce:

★ ★ ★

"If the program results in restrictive proposals that needlessly complicate business methods, or sap competitive vigor, or curtail business efforts to maximize consumer choice or consumer satisfaction, the business response will surely be antagonistic."

RECOMMENDATIONS

Recommendations the Chamber would view with misgivings include:

- That Mrs. Peterson be given power to conduct investigations of production, distribution, prices and quality of consumer goods.
- That the consumer program be upgraded to cabinet level status.
- That further legislative restrictions — such as the Hart and Douglas bills — be placed upon business.

BIGGE RVOTE

A recommendation business would like to see in the report is one which would give businessmen a bigger voice on the Consumer Advisory Council (CAC), a grou pestablished by President Kennedy to protect consumers from unsafe or worthless foods and drugs. (Only one of the 12 CAC members is a businessman.)

On the other side of the coin are the American consumers who, numbering only 6 per cent of the world's population, consume more than one-third of the world's goods and services.

Last year the country's consumers spent more than $380 billion.

★ ★ ★

At times, according to testimony at hearings on the Hart and Douglas bills, they were submitted to declining product standards, phony retail list prices, planned obsolescence of products, hidden credit charges, fraudulent packaging and misleading labeling.

MAJOR POINT

The major point of the packaging-labeling bill sponsored by Sen. Philip Hart, D-Mich., is that the consumer cannot make a rational purchase on the basis of what a package looks like or what it says on the label about its contents.

Business' answer is that studies show consumers prefer to have quantity reduced rather than prices raised.

Thus, four-inch candy bars still come in six-inch cardboard trays.

The credit bill introduced by Sen. Paul Douglas, D-Ill., would require among other things:

- Stores which have a 1½ per cent service charge per 30-day billing period on revolving charge accounts must inform customers that the actual charge is 18 per cent annually.

LOAN COMPANIES

- Loan companies which advertise, for example, 2½ per cent interest on the first $300 borrowed and 1½ per cent on the remainder, must inform customers that the annual interest rate is really 24 per cent.

★ ★ ★

Both bills have languished in committee for some time. But both sponsors are determined to try again for final action in the 89th Congress.

OFFICIAL SCRUTINY—Packaging and labeling practices of business are expected to be given careful study by the Johnson administration.

Waterford, Northern Cagers to Clash Friday

Series Success of PNH Stirs Family 'Feud'

Improving Skippers Seeking I-L Upset; Walled Lake Home

Dick Hall is the basketball coach at Pontiac Northern.

They are father and daughter. As the successful PNH mentor tells it, during the cage season there is little peace around the Hall household — particularly since the Huskies set a school record of 104 points against Waterford last winter!

Undoubtedly feelings are higher than ever this week since the two schools will tangle on the Township court Friday.

The Waterford record is much improved over last year's and the Skippers are fresh off a 70-67 win over arch-rival Kettering Tuesday, their third victory in four starts.

Waterford is 3-3 on the year, the same as PNH. However, the Huskies are 1-0 in the Inter-Lakes League while their host is 0-1.

Northern whipped Walled Lake in the loop opener last Friday while the Township quintet was surprised by Farmington. The latter will visit Walled Lake in the other I-L contest Friday.

SERIES EDGE

Northern has won nine of the 12 games played between the two basketball squads, including the last five in a row. Hall has only had one losing season overall while at PNH.

Waterford coach Bob Taylor is in his second season. In light of the 104-49 debacle last season and the continued league dominance by Northern, a win Friday would most likely be the biggest thrill he's had . . . even surpassing the triumph over Kettering.

The Huskies will be favored. The game will provide a physical test for them, also, since Saturday they must travel to Ann Arbor for a game against the Pioneers which should be a good scrap.

Two of the area's top scorers will see action in the Northern-Skippers clash. Roger Hayward, PNH's all-state candidate, does everything on the court for Hall. His scoring average is 25 points per game and he also rebounds in double figures.

Rick Ziem has a 20 ppg average for Waterford. Like Hayward, he is the key to the attack and must have a top all-around performance if the Skippers are to upset PNH.

★ ★ ★

The Farmington-Walled Lake contest could leave Northern alone atop the I-L if it can get by Waterford. The Falcons do not appear strong or big enough to get by Walled Lake on the Vikings' floor.

The latter ironed out some lineup problems Tuesday in nipping Redford Union and will be anxious to square its league record at 1-1 as well as Farmington's now spotless mark.

Warriors Trade Wilt to 76ers

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Wilt Chamberlain, the highest paid player in the National Basketball Association, was traded to the Philadelphia 76ers by the San Francisco Warriors late Wednesday night after he had played for the West in the league's All-Star game.

★ ★ ★

The Warriors received forward Lee Shaffer, guard Paul Neumann, reserve Connie Dierking and an undisclosed amount of cash for Chamberlain, who pulled down a reported $65,000 a year for his astronomical scoring and rebounding.

END RUMORS

The trade ended weeks of rumors and speculation that Wilt was on the block with numerous clubs bickering for his services, including the New York Knicks and the Los Angeles Lakers.

The 7-foot-1 Chamberlain, who never has averaged less than 33 points a game in the NBA and presently is scoring almost 40 points a contest in his sixth year in the league, will join the 76ers for their game tonight against Baltimore in Philadelphia.

Neumann, Dierking and Shaffer, who sat out the season after a salary dispute with the 76ers, will be ready to play Friday for the Warriors against New York in San Francisco.

Frank Mieuli, owner of the Warriors, jointly announced the trade with Irv Kosloff, president of the 76ers, shortly after the NBA All-Star game Wednesday night, won by the East 124-123.

Mieuli said that Shaffer had been contacted and told that he would play for the Warriors.

Both officials glowed over the trade and shrugged off any thoughts that Shaffer or Chamberlain are problem players.

"I'm told Shaffer is possibly a super star," Mieuli said. "He's been training in Durham, N.C., where he works for a trucking firm, and he's ready to play.

Neumann can be a great player and Dierking and the money are the equalizers."

Mieuli said the cash amounted to less than $100,000.

Eastern Stars Repel West 5

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Even playing against Oscar Robertson and Jerry Lucas, Red Auerbach manages to guide Bill Russell and the Boston Celtics to the Eastern Division title year after year in the National Basketball Association.

But Red and Russell gave professional basketball fans a glimpse Wednesday night of what might be if they could play with the Cincinnati stars, instead of against them. Not even a team of Western Division All-Stars managed to beat them.

The Big O, Big Bill and Luke took control of the 15th annual NBA All-Star game and led the East to a stirring 124-123 victory over the West after almost blowing a 20-point lead.

"Russell, Oscar and I played on that foreign tour this summer," Lucas said, "and we were used to a lot of the things we did on the court."

Lucas, who hit 12 of 19 shots for 25 points, grabbed 10 rebounds and won the Most Valuable Player award for the game. He attributed much of his shooting accuracy to being set up by Russell.

Luke scored 13 points in the first half and Robertson, notched 12. Russell clogged up the West's offense by forcing poor shots and bad passes, and the trio boosted the East to a 75-61 lead at intermission. When the margin grew to 20 several times in the third period, it looked like a runaway.

But with Russell in foul trouble and Lucas taking a breather, the West began to hit the mark and climbed within 110-107 as a record-breaking crowd of 16,713 roared its approval.

Only Oscar, who scored seven of the East's first eight points in the final 12 minutes, kept the lead until the big boys returned.

★ ★ ★

Browns' Parrish Brews NFL Storm

CLEVELAND (AP) — Pete Rozelle and Paul Brown, living at opposite ends of the country, quietly go about their business while arguments over them continue here between the owner of the Cleveland Browns and one of his players.

Rozelle, National Football League commissioner, is in New York and Brown, former Browns' head coach, is in La Jolla, Calif.

Meanwhile, Bernie Parrish, Browns' defensive back and vice president of the NFL Players Association, said Wednesday a committee of the association will be here next week and likely will discuss specific charges against Rozelle. Parrish has said Rozelle doesn't represent the players "as we feel we should be represented."

He would like Rozelle replaced by Paul Brown.

Art Modell, Browns' owner, called Parrish's statement "outrageous and disgraceful" and suggested in a statement Wednesday that the six-year pro back retire if he wasn't happy with the NFL or ask to be traded.

NO COMMENT

Neither Rozelle nor Brown has commented on the situation.

Rozelle can only be replaced by a vote of the 14 NFL owners, who hired him in 1962 to a five-year contract at $40,000 a year. He has been NFL commissioner since 1960.

Brown, dropped by Modell two years ago, still is listed as a vice president of the club and makes an estimated $80,000 a year on a contract which has four years to go.

★ ★ ★

Parrish, 29, said the team representatives last week were unanimous in their discussions to unseat Rozelle. The Players Association met at Hollywood Beach, Fla., but he said the idea to make Brown NFL commissioner "was my own idea." A six-man players' committee, including association president Ordell Braase of the Baltimore Colts, will be here next week.

★ ★ ★

Modell, in Rozelle's defense, said "I'm going to have to assume that Parrish is speaking only as an individual and not for the NFL Players Association. Too many members of the association are familiar with Rozelle's efforts in their behalf.

Star End Seeks Spot on Lions

Detroit Native Beset by Family Situation

DETROIT (AP) —Veteran tight end Ron Kramer has told the Green Bay Packers he cannot play for them any more and wants to continue in professional football only if he can play for the Detroit Lions.

Kramer, who has played with the Packers since 1957, said he is faced with "a family situation" and that he doesn't want to leave his family any more.

Kramer's family has remained in Detroit during recent seasons. He has been away from his wife and two children for six months of every year.

His son, Curtis, 6, suffered a freak injury last year when hit in the eye by a shoelace and has undergone one operation and may need another.

Lions General Manager Edwin Anderson said he intended to call Packers Coach Vince Lombardi today to seek permission to talk to the 6-foot-3, 240-pound end.

★ ★ ★

"If he says no, we can't talk to Kramer," said Anderson.

Kramer was quoted as saying he had "talked it over with Lombardi, and he understands my problem."

Kramer made it plain there was no other reason for his quitting the Packers.

The 29-year-old Kramer is a former East Detroit High and University of Michigan star.

Lions' Coach Rehires Forte

Offensive Line Coach Picked by Gilmer

Aldo Forte, who was one of the five Detroit Lions' assistant coaches fired prior to the resignation of head coach George Wilson, was today rehired by new coach Harry Gilmer.

"I am very happy to have Aldo on the staff," said Gilmer, "his football knowledge is hard to match."

Forte, who joined the Lions as scout in 1949 and has been on the coaching staff since 1950, will handle the offensive line, the job he held under Wilson.

A resident of Farmington, where he has his own business, Forte will be with the Lions on a seven-month basis.

★ ★ ★

"I'm very happy to be back with the Lions," said Forte who immediately left for Canada on a business trip after his conference this morning with Gilmer.

300 Game, 1435 Series Mark All-Star Opening

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Roy Lown and Glenn Allison collaborated in a historic scoring binge at the $100,000 All-Star Bowling Tournament Wednesday and shattered several opening day records.

Lown, a slender southpaw from Brockton, Mass., fired the first opening day 300 in the 24-year-old history of the event.

Allison, a Brea, Calif. pro, took the lead in the 432-man field with a first-day record 1435 six game series. He rolled games of 220, 247, 206, 257 and 248.

Pontiac bowlers George Chicovksy and Mike Samardzija, Jr. had differing degrees of success. "Chico" stood 69th with a solid 1221 (233-170-233-183-191-211).

Samardzija could muster only 1097 pins on 184-170-171-205-190-177 games to rate well down the list.

Lown is the only contestant in All-Star history with two 300s. He rolled a perfect game in the 1962 edition in Miami Beach, and eventually finished second in that tournament behind champion Dick Weber of St. Louis.

Lown opened with 241 and 255 before unleashing his 300. He shot 254 in the next game, for an incredible four game average of 262. He stumbled to a 137 in the fifth game and closed with 204 for a second-place total of 1391.

Four-time titlist Don Carter of St. Louis mustered a 296th place six-game series of 1119. Former champions Bill Welu of Houston and Bill Tucker of Los Angeles shot 1212 and 1173, respectively.

Weber, the spindly St. Louisian who won the 1962 and 1963 All-Star crowns, fired a third-place 1367 series. Harry Smith, winner in 1960, was fourth with 1342.

Walled Lake Gridder on All-America Unit

NEW YORK (AP) — Tackle Roger Ruminski of Walled Lake, Mich., and back Dick Berlinski of Kingsford, Mich., were named Wednesday to the 95-man All-America high school football team selected by Scholastic Magazines, the national publications.

Komets Nip Muskegon

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP)— The Fort Wayne Komets rebounded from a scoreless first period to trip Muskegon 4-2 in an International Hockey League game Wednesday night.

More Games on Grid Program?

HOUSTON (AP) — The football season isn't over yet. Always time for one more. The floating All-Star game of the American Football League will be played Saturday at Jeppesen Stadium. Already they are dreaming up games to lengthen next season.

The AFL is considering a proposal to add a new game in early August at New York's Shea Stadium between the league champion Buffalo Bills and the AFL All Stars.

If Ralph Wilson, owner of the Bills, and Sonny Werblin, the New York Jet owner who distributes $400,000 bonus checks, both are in favor of the game—its chances are good. The league will take action later this week.

NO CONFLICT

There will be no conflict between this game and the All-America game among pro rookies in Buffalo June 27 or the College All-Star game in Chicago Aug. 6.

In the Chicago game the National Football League champion Cleveland Browns play rookie all-stars from both leagues.

If the AFL goes along with the new game it will upset the training plans of its clubs. Each team would have to give up a number of regulars to form an all-star team just a few days before the exhibition season starts.

The same clubs already will have lost rookies to the Chicago game.

★ ★ ★

Mike Holovak, general manager and coach of the Boston Patriots, says he is willing to cooperate if he can be shown that the new game is for the good of the league.

In the meantime, the two teams for Saturday's transplanted game are down to a one-a-day practice session after a series of double workouts.

★ ★ ★

Coach Sid Gillman of San Diego, who bosses the West team, has added defensive back Dick Westmoreland to replace halfback Billy Cannon, who has problems getting away from dental school. Gillman reports former back Lance Alworth and fullback Keith Lincoln, injured in late season games, will be ready to start.

BILLS DOMINATE

The East team, coached by Lou Saban of Buffalo, will have a strong Buffalo tinge to its attack. Both ends Elbert Dubenion and Ernie Warlick and fullback Cookie Gilchrist are Buffalo stars. So is Jack Kemp, the No. 2 quarterback behind Boston's Babe Parilli.

Both coaches reported their charges in good spirits despite the switch in sites from New Orleans on short notice when 21 Negro players complained they were victims of racial discrimination. Advance ticket sales is spotty.

★ ★ ★

The AFL is expected to follow recommendations of the National Collegiate Athletic Association to prevent premature signing of college athletes until after bowl games. Commissioner Joe Foss said he had a "very pleasant conversation" in Chicago with NCAA officials. The NFL already has banned such signings.

Pontiac Central Travels to Bay City

Chiefs Looking for 8th Victory

Handy Five Winless in Six Outings

Pontiac Centrals' journey to Bay City Handy tomorrow night will be an event somewhat like the calm before the storm.

★ ★ ★

It's likely the undefeated Chiefs (7-0) will be looking past the Handy quintet to Saginaw, the No. 2 team in the Saginaw Valley Conference which comes to Pontiac next week to take on PCH.

Handy is something less than a formidable foe.

The Wildcats have lost six in a row (0-6) and they are expected to fall easily before the potent PCH squad, the No. 2 Class A team in the state.

Handy almost won five games ago at Midland. The Cats' struggled and lost 52-50. PCH belted the Midland crew, 70-56.

LEADS LEAGUE

Pontiac Central leads the SVC with a 5-0 record, followed by Saginaw (4-1), Flint Southwestern (3-1) and Saginaw Arthur Hill (4-2).

Arthur Hill entertains Bay City Central tomorrow night, Midland plays host to Flint Central and Flint Southwestern has a date at Flint Northern. Saginaw, idle tomorrow, meets Flint Norhtwestern Tuesday.

The Chiefs have used a steady offense and a tight defense in wading through seven opponents.

In the seven contests, the Chiefs have compiled a scoring average of 67.2 a game, while allowing the opposing squads 53.2 a game.

The Chiefs' Carl Arnold, a 5-8 senior guard, shares the lead in the SVC scoring race with Monroe Dent of Flint Northern. Both sport an average of 19.8.

Arnold, who hits from close in and from long range, has poured in 139 points in seven outings. Dent has tallied in 119 in six.

17-Year-Old Boxer 'Regains Life'

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Novice boxer Jerry Como Jr., who was brought back to life after his heart stopped Tuesday night, remained in critical condition Wednesday at South Side Hospital.

Como, 17, did not regain consciousness after a left hook to the temple felled him in a Golden Gloves bout.

★ ★ ★

In a matter of seconds after he plunged head first to the canvas, doctors were in the ring working on the East High School senior.

Dr. Ernest Perry, an intern at South Side Hospital who happened to be at ringside, gave mouth-to-mouth resuscitation while Dr. M. M. Szucs, attending physician at the bout, used external heart massage.

Dr. Perry said there was a faint heartbeat when Como was put in an ambulance, but the heart stopped later.

★ ★ ★

Doctors at the hospital restored the heartbeat and performed a tracheotomy, making an incision in Como's throat, and a mechanical aid was used to help the boy's breathing. Another machine was hooked up to maintain heart action.

★ ★ ★

Como, who weighs 135 pounds, had been in only seven or eight fights previously, and this was his second Golden Gloves tournament.

His father, acting as co-trainer, was in his corner when Como collapsed during the fight with Harvey Christian, 16.

Como reportedly had intended to pass up the boxing tournament this year because of a hand injury but changed his mind and entered.

When he fell, sinking first to his knee before dropping to the canvas, there were scattered boos from the audience. That was before the crowd realized that he was injured.

Coach Quits Green Bay 11

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) —Line coach Bill Austin, who came to the Green Bay Packers of the National Football League with Coach Vince Lombardi in 1959, resigned Wednesday citing "family health reasons."

Austin said he has no definite plans for the future but hopes to remain in coaching.

Will Receive Awards

NEW YORK (UPI) — John Bell of Rye, N. Y., and Helen Crabtree of Simpsonville, Ky., will receive awards as the horseman and horsewoman of the year at the opening session of the American Horse Shows Association's convention today.

The annual Army-Navy basketball game will be played Feb. 27 at Annapolis.

PNH Swim Squad Edges Hazel Park

Pontiac Northern won the final event of the evening yesterday and squeezed out a 54-51 swimming decision over Hazel Park.

The Huskies trailed, 47-46, as the teams moved to the final event, the 200-yard freestyle relay.

Northern took the event in 1:41.2, just a shade ahead of Hazel Park (1:41.3).

On the relay unit were Tom Schram, Larry Hawkins, Ron Chambers and Don Chambers.

End Seen to Athletic Dispute

CHICAGO (AP) — A surprising twist to the end of the 59th National Collegiate Athletic Association convention may have opened the door to compromise of the long and bitter NCAA-AAU dispute for control of amateur athletics.

The NCAA, closing its convention Wednesday approved—in essence—a boycott of AAU-sanctioned track meets after March 1, but tacked on a resolution to invite the AAU to co-sanction meets "at the domestic level."

BEST APPROACH

This was the most compromising approach by the NCAA in its four-year battle with the AAU in which the real bone of contention has been control of sanction at the international level.

Immediately, the AAU's Executive Director, Col. Don Hull, countered with a courteous, but suspicious reply, while the president of the U. S. Olympic Committee, K. L. (Tug) Wilson, applauded the resolution as a "most promising bid" for peace.

Under the new NCAA policy, schools whose athletes compete in not sanctioned track meets by the U. S. Track and Field Federation after March 1, will be subject to the same penalties imposed for recruiting violations—ranging from censure to banning from NCAA championship and TV revenue.

The resolution, passed by a 99-33 standing vote, proposed that the NCAA "by direct communication invite the AAU to participate in negotiations directed towards the formation of a plan to achieve cooperative sanction and certification at the domestic level."

This action stole the spotlight from such earlier convention procedures as:

★ ★ ★

Voting for a mail referendum on penalties for any college coaches accepting money in any form for aiding pros in canvassing college football prospects.

Indorsing a minimum academic floor (C minus) for athletes of member schools.

Placing West Texas State University on a year's probation for fining its football players in disciplinary measures.

And authorizing the NCAA Television Committee to increase its football TV package from two to either three or four years when new contract negotiations come up later this year.

★ ★ ★

The NCAA Council's meeting today will decide the manner in which the truce offer should be presented to the AAU—either through the NCAA-backed National Track and Field Federation, or by direct NCAA communication.

Pro Golfers Bidding for San Diego Title

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — The $34,500 San Diego Open Golf Tournament got under way today.

It's a wide open affair, with many big name players missing from the field. But among those present are Art Wall Jr., the winner here a year ago, and Tony Lema, California's British Open champion.

HULL HALTED — Toronto Maple Leaf goalie Johnny Bower turned back Chicago's Bobby Hull on this scoring attempt last night in Toronto. The game wound up in a 0-0 tie, the first scoreless outing in the NHL this season.

Chicago, Toronto Tie

Hulls Irk Leafs' Player

By The Associated Press

Bobby Hull didn't score any goals, but he did arouse the wrath of Toronto's Kent Douglas in Chicago's 0-0 deadlock with the Maple Leafs.

★ ★ ★

Hull, Douglas said after the National Hockey League game Wednesday night, apparently is acting as a policeman for his younger brother, Dennis.

Douglas gave his account of a couple of first-period brushes with Dennis and a later encounter with Bobby.

"If Dennis Hull wants trouble, he'll get it," Douglas said. "And his brother won't always be around."

Referring to his tangle with Bobby against the boards after Tim Horton had drawn a penalty for holding the elder Hull, Douglas said:

"I don't know what Bobby was doing. He just hit me with his glove. I guess he was looking after Dennis."

DIFFERENT STORY

The Hulls, however, saw it differently.

"Dennis is big enough to look after himself, and Douglas knows that," Bobby said.

Added Dennis:

"I don't need anyone looking after me. Maybe next time we meet Douglas will need some straightening out as proof."

★ ★ ★

Despite the tie, Chicago increased its league lead to two points over idle Montreal. Third-place Toronto also moved to within three points of the Canadiens.

Goalies Denis DeJordy of the Hawks and Johnny Bower of the Leafs combined for a relatively low total of 39 saves, DeJordy making 20 and Bower 19 in the stalemate, the league's first since Nov. 30, 1963.

Arkansas, Irish Coaches Share Gridiron Honor

CHICAGO (AP) — One coach who went all the way, one who missed by two minutes and another who ranks as a real throw-back, have been named the Coaches of the Year by the American Football Coaches Association.

★ ★ ★

"I'm delighted," said Notre Dame Coach Ara Parseghian, who had to share the award with Arkansas' Frank Broyles when the balloting of the membership ended in a tie.

Outgoing president of the association, Len Casanova of Oregon, said the vote was counted three times.

★ ★ ★

"One ended in a tie, Broyles led on one and Parseghian led on another," he said. "So we got in a certified public accountant and he said it was a tie."

Clarence Stasavich of East Carolina College, one of only a handful of coaches still teaching the single wing, was named the small-college Coach of the Year.

Tribe to Move Fence

CLEVELAND (AP)—Gabe Paul, Cleveland Indians general manager, announced plans Wednesday to move back the outfield fence at Cleveland Municipal Stadium 10 to 20 feet in hopes of taking advantage of the Indians' speed in the 1965 baseball season.

★ ★ ★

The fence will be moved 10 feet deeper in left and right field—to 375 feet—and 20 feet deeper in left and right center—to 400 feet.

The distance from home plate to the foul poles will remain at 320 feet.

Paul and Manager Birdie Tebbetts figure their fleet outfielders—Leon Wagner, Vic Davalillo, Chuck Hinton, Tommie Agee and Chico Salmon—won't have any trouble covering the extra territory.

★ ★ ★

Offensively, Tebbetts believes the fence should help his smaller players too. Dick Brown, Dick Howser, Davalillo and Salmon should cut down on their swings and get more extra base hits that roll to the deeper fences, according to Tebbetts.

Iceboaters Still Race Despite Jam

The area's iceboaters are a hardy, devoted crew.

Neither thin ice nor a traffic condition reminiscent of a Friday afternoon rush hour on the John Lodge Expressway could deter them from their last weekend races.

Before the Saturday night cold front moved through quite a few sailed across the Cass Lake half-mile course despite a stretch where the ice was only a couple inches thick and supporting perhaps as much as 300 pounds of weight.

None of the fragile looking craft — not designed for water propulsion, however — broke through, though; and all were back for more racing Sunday when the ice had as much as doubled in thickness following the overnight freeze.

The group included Larry Hattwick, who drove all the way from Woodbridge, Va., just to compete where there was some ice. That's 1,585 miles round trip, and he drove back Sunday night.

But all's well that ends well and the host club's Chuck Cartwright scored an unusual double by winning both the permanent trophies at stake as 43 boats competed at Cass Lake.

Ro Redner was second and Eddie Stack (both of Cass Lake) third one trophy race. Roy Holden of Mount Clemens finished second to Cartwright in the other, just edging out Hattwick.

Competition will resume Saturday and Sunday at Cass Lake near the southeastern shore.

Ski Boom Continues in Michigan

By the Associated Press

Attracted by the glamour of high speed maneuvers and stylish clothes, more and more people are skiing down Michigan hills — sending Michigan's ski business booming up hill.

Skiing's glamour is paying off for the men who rushed to groom the snow-covered hills, put lifts on them, build lodges nearby—and occassionally aid mother nature by making snow themselves.

Michigan has 88 ski or toboggan areas, of all sizes. And the Michigan Tourist Council estimates these will draw 225,000 skiers, who will spend $25 million in the state this season.

This compares with an estimated 200,000 skiers and $20 million last season and with 65,000 skiers and $6.5 million in ski areas 10 years ago.

The figure is based on a Michigan State University survey at the time.

Ken Dorman, secretary-manager of the Upper Peninsula Tourist Association, points out that skiing "provides a lot of revenue at a time when it is really needed" in his area.

PONTIAC AREA

The biggest concentration of ski areas within a short radius of any Michigan metropolitan area is around Pontiac, who are members of the Southeast Tourist Association.

Within 23 miles of Pontiac, all from northeast to northwest, are 11 ski areas; Alpine Valley, Dryden, Pine Knob, Pontiac Lake, Mt. Brighton, Mt. Christie, Mt. Grampian, Mt. Holly, Silverbell, Mt. Summit and Teeple Hill.

Mort Graddis, president of Mt. Holly, near Pontiac, declared:

"For potential, I wouldn't trade this area for any in the world. There are bigger hills elsewhere, but one million kids within 100 miles of here want to ski."

Mt. Holly is more at the mercy of the weather, he added.

"When we're melting at 35 degrees, they're having a great time at 30 in northern Michigan," he said.

But, he added: "I think we're going to lick the weather. I'd like to."

He was referring to snow making machinery, which can provide a reserve of packed base snow to last through warm spells which melt the natural snowfall in other areas.

Mt. Holly was the first in Michigan to make snow, some nine years ago.

At least 31 of Michigan's ski areas have snow making equipment, including nearly all of the southeast Michigan areas.

As for expansion, Graddis said, "I don't think we're hitting 10 per cent of the market."

People are just getting used to snow making equipment, he said. He spoke on a day when temperatures were in the 40s, and Mt. Holly had about 700 skiers.

"On a day like this two years ago we'd be lucky to have 50," he said.

Mt. Holly handles 2,000-plus skiers on a good day, and plans to expand so "5,000 a day can have fun," Graddis said.

Also handling about 2,000 skiers a day is Indianhead Mountain near Wakefield in western Upper Michigan.

The resort's president, Jack English, said Indianhead put $300,000 into expansion this year, and intends to spend $500,000 more next spring—aiming to handle 3,000 skiers a day.

Michigan has eight brand new ski areas this year, and another area—Iroquois Mount Lodge near Sault Ste. Marie—re-opened this year. But the Iroquois Lodge was destroyed by fire Dec. 28—with damage estimated at $250,000.

There also were five closings, since Michigan listed 85 ski areas last winter. One loss was Indian Hills Ski Park near St. Helen, which had changed hands several times.

Dorman says the Upper Peninsula will have two new areas next year: Tower Hill near Bergland and Keweenaw Lodge near Copper Harbor.

The average skier in the Midwest last year was 24.7 years old many, many children ski, skied 12.7 days and spent $18.06 a day, not including expenses on equipment and transportation, reports Tom Joynt, executive director of the U.S. Ski Association's central division.

There were 980,000 skiers in the Midwest last year, he said, compared with 60,000 in 1948, and of the 980,000 one in five was skiing for the first time and three of five had skied less than three seasons.

Switzerland Conditions Available by Phone

Area residents interested in the ski conditions at all of Switzerland's major resorts can call 212-757-6336 at any time for an up-to-date accounting.

The service has been established by the Swiss National Tourist Office in an effort to attract vacationers. The office's announcement noted that calls from anywhere in the country to New York City cost no more than $1 for three minutes after 9 p.m.

SHARPENS FOOTWORK? — Heavyweight boxing contender George Chuvalo apparently feels skiing will aid his ring footwork as he takes ski lesson near his Catskill Mountains (N.Y.) training camp while preparing for Feb. 1st fight with former champion Floyd Patterson.

Scoring Pace Slowed in Rec Cage Contests

The scoring pace slowed down in the Waterford Township Men's Recreation Basketball League games last night but Ganzia-Cote, Spencer Floor Covering and Wardrobe Cleaning will settle for the victories anyway.

Spencer had to rally for a 56-50 verdict over Bill's Towing, after trailing most of the game. The winners caught Bill's at 46 and pulled out the decision. Charles Brown topped the winners and all scorers with 15 points.

Ganzia-Cote nudged Frushour-Struble Realty in a close tilt, 40-37. The score was tied at 35 and 37 before the winners nudged in front at the end.

Wardrobe Cleaners held Beauty-Rite Homes to four points in the third quarter and spurted to a 60-41 win after trailing, 27-25, at intermission. Dave Dodd (28) and Jim Spadafore (17) paced the cleaning quintet.

Pontiac had two more practice games in its men's program with Coulacos Insurance defeating the All-Stars, 49-23, and Roy White's Unbeatables taking The Hawks, 89-46.

In Class D scheduling, New Hope Baptist had to go one overtime period before edging the Tams, 53-52. The winners blew a 25-18 halftime lead.

Another junior contest saw K-Town 5 whip the Auburn Heights Boys Club Hawks, 63-39.

Lakers Sweep Meet Honors

Ferndale, Township Finish Two-Three

West Bloomfield, Ferndale and Waterford Township ran one-two-three yesterday twice in the Mt. Holly High School Ski League meet.

The results were the same in both the girls and boys divisions. Utica, the fourth competing squad, did not qualify skiers in either class.

Tom Carter of the Lakers paced the boys class with a combined time of 46.2, just 1.5 seconds better than Ferndale's Gil Duhn.

Larry Walter and Rick Walton of West Bloomfield swept third and fourth. Utica's Dennis Park took fifth and Waterford's fastest entry was Ron Edwards who was ninth.

★ ★ ★

Ferndale's Nancy Goodwin topped the girls with a 50.9 timing. That was one second better than Kathy Stanker of West Bloomfield. Laura Carter, sister to Tom, took third for the Lakers.

Township's Carolyn Budlaff finished seventh while Utica could not place any girl skiers. The league will ski again Saturday morning.

Ice Scoring Leader Gets Competition

Arrow Auto Wash teammate Dave Durkin of Royal Oak is pressing Clarkston's Tom Petrie for the individual scoring leadership in the Metropolitan Detroit Junior Hockey League.

Petrie continues on top with 46 points and Durkin now has 43. Both have 26 goals, the top mark in the circuit. The team added two wins and a tie last week to deadlock for first place with Adray Appliance.

Both teams are in action tonight at Olympia in the triple-header; and they will collide head on tomorrow in Dearborn.

Nub's Nob Has Festival

Nub's Nob at Harbor Springs will mark its sixth anniversary Saturday with the annual Hootenanny Folk Festival.

No Skimping With Ski Resort Plans

By JERE CRAIG

When Tom Gardner and Ralph (Ted) Bookmyer decided to erect Pontiac's closest ski resort they didn't skimp any with their plans.

Silverbell Village Ski Resort—just seven miles from downtown Pontiac — officially started skiing on its beginner and intermediate slopes Monday night.

The uncommonly mild and generally snowless winter to date certainly encouraged construction at the area just off Bald Mountain Road but did not expedite snow on the slopes.

In fact, when the partners welcomed photographers to the official opening last Friday they donned swimming trunks for pictures at the resort's pond in 61-degree weather.

However, a cold front moved through, the snowmaking machines were turned on and now there is 12 inches of snow on the ginners' slope.

Yesterday's natural fall was added encouragement and it is thought other slopes will open for the weekend skiers.

POTENTIAL

Silverbell could rapidly develop into one of the state's finer resorts. Its 1,300-foot longest run and 200-foot vertical drop rate among the best in the area.

The snowmaking capacity, it is claimed, when finished will be the best. A 20,000-cubic-feet-per-hour capability is anticipated. The parking lot has room for 2,300 cars; and the prices for skiing are comparable to most resorts in the area.

Othmar Schneider, renown ski pro, will have charge of this ski school which is already in operation.

The resort opens daily at 10 a.m. While the upstairs part of the lodge is due for completion by the end of the month, all the comforts needed by skiers are provided on the lower level.

The partners are not stopping with the development of the resort. The valley where the skiers cavort will also have a motel and two 18-hole golf courses.

At the upper (or north) end a 200-room motel will be erected this spring. This will include a swimming pool, tennis courts and horseback riding facilities in addition to dining and cocktail lounge areas.

A lighted par-3 golf course will stretch across the skiing expanse, and south of it a regulation 18 holes will be laid out. And next fall, skiers Gardner and Bookmyer plan to continue building their mountain.

News From Around the World

Algeria Postponing Second Afro-Asia Summit Conference Scheduled for March 10

CAIRO (AP) — Algeria is postponing the second African-Asian summit conference scheduled for Algiers March 10, Algerian Ambassador Lakhdar Ibrahim announced.

Ibrahim said Wednesday an African-Asian ambassadorial committee will meet in Algiers Monday to discuss a new date.

★ ★ ★

The ambassador said postponement was necessary "due to delayed accommodation preparations."

There was speculation, however, that the reason was the squabbling that is going on over what nations will attend. Indonesia is trying to bar Malaysia. Communist China is trying to keep the Soviet Union away.

MADRAS, India (AP) — The Communist Chinese have deployed about three divisions of soldiers, supported by armored units, along the Sikkim-Tibet border, the Gangtok correspondent of the Madras newspaper Hindu said in a dispatch today.

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — About 40 Iraqi government troops have been killed in recent clashes with rebel Kurdish tribesmen in northern Iraq, informed sources report.

★ ★ ★

The clashes reportedly occurred after the Kurds established control over large areas in the Sulemania and Diala districts and imposed a curfew.

★ ★ ★

The rebels have demanded a measure of autonomy and a share of the country's oil revenues. An uneasy truce has been in effect since last February.

ENUGU, Nigeria (AP) — The Moslem faith may be gaining new adherents faster than Christianity in Africa, the World Council of Churches' meeting here was told.

Reports presented Wednesday said large pockets of paganism — whose practitioners worship juju medicine men and their fetishes — also remain in Africa.

MOSCOW (AP) — Millions of rubles worth of consumer goods piling up on shelves has apparently finally convinced the Soviet government of the need to provide customers with what they want instead of what government planners think they should have.

The Council of the National Economy has ordered factories making 25 per cent of the nation's ready-made clothing and shoes to produce according to store orders by July 1.

MEXICO CITY (AP) — The United States and Mexico have reached general agreement on the problem of the Colorado River's salt content, described as the most serious problem between the two nations in the past three years.

A Foreign Ministry announcement Wednesday night did not announce details of the agreement but said further consultations will be carried out before the accord is made formal.

Earlier reports indicated a likely agreement would involve building a canal to carry off the river's water at times when it becomes too salty. The United States would also assure that low-salt water would be available enough of the time to meet irrigation needs of Mexican cotton farmers in Sonora State and Baja California.

Poker Palace Shooting Fatal

GARDENA, Calif. (AP) — One of 29 persons whom police say were shot by a berserk gunman died Wednesday night at a hospital.

★ ★ ★

He was Arthur Adrian Archibald, 73, of Burbank. Police said he was one of the many wounded when Louis Koullapis, 70, shotup three poker parlors early Tuesday.

★ ★ ★

Archibald was in the Rainbow Club when the gunfire began.

Koullapis has been hospitalized with a broken collar bone which police say he suffered when they wrestled him to the ground 10 minutes after the shooting.

★ ★ ★

Police say Koullapis emptied six guns into the poker parlors before he fled. He was captured near his home.

Acquaintances of Koullapis, a retired machinist, described him as a loner.

Detergent Bubbles Break Up Oil Scum

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — To rid the St. Johns river of a heavy black oil scum left by a leaky oil tanker, city fire crews sprayed approximately $24,000 worth of high-powered detergent on the river in the vicinity of the Jacksonville Shipyards.

★ ★ ★

"It worked like soap and water when you wash your hands," C. I. Stephens, superintendent of the shipyard, explained. The detergent acted to break up the molecular construction of the

Tough Mountain Men to Ride in Inaugural

WILLIAMS, Ariz. (AP) — A tough, bearded group known as the Bill Williams Mountain Men will ride in President Johnson's inauguration parade Jan. 20.

Northern Arizona people contributed about $10,000 to finance the trip. A spokesman said earlier lack of funds would mean an invitation would have to be turned down.

Trading Fairly Active

Stock Market Turns Irregular

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market showed an irregular pattern early this afternoon. Trading was fairly active.

Drugs and airlines relinquished their recent market leadership although American Airlines was strong, up about 2.

★ ★ ★

Drugs were a little higher at the start but settled back, most of them unchanged.

Airlines reflected some profit taking by traders. Eastern, a big gainer recently, fell more than a point. Pan American was a fractional loser.

STEELS, MOTORS

The major steels and motors were slightly lower. Chemicals and electronics rose a little on balance.

Gold mining stocks recovered from recent selling and were apparently being "bought on weakness" by traders.

The golds advanced despite a published report to the effect that President Johnson will request that Congress partially sever gold's tie to the U.S. monetary system.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .6 at 330.5 with industrials up .3, rails up .5 and utilities up .8.

ADDS 2

IBM added about 2. But du Pont and Xerox were down nearly a point.

Among the golds, Homestake gained about a point, American South African Investment more than a point and Dome Mines a fraction.

Publishing stocks were mixed, Crowell-Collier rising nearly a point after trading on a 43,200-share block.

AMERICAN EXCHANGE

Prices were generally higher on the American Stock Exchange. Trading was active.

Corporate bonds were generally higher. U.S. Government bonds were mostly unchanged.

Your Memories Can Keep You Young

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Only memories can keep you young.

Your face may get as wrinkled as a contour map of the Rocky Mountains. Age may put snow white hair on you. Time may slow you from a hop, skip and a jump to a tired crawl.

BOYLE

But all that is only on the outside. Inside you, the serene eye of memory enables you to look back and see yourself at any age you choose to be. At your own wish you can be a child again, an adolescent, a young lover, a warrior for your country, a young man on his first job.

The past never dies, because all of us spend at least part of every day of our lives reliving it.

YOUR OWN PAST

Your own past may be longer than you'd care to brag about if you can remember when—

The neighbors always brought food to your house when someone in it was ill or had died.

Fatty Arbuckle, the 350-pound comedian, was making $5,000 a week in Hollywood before scandal clouded his name and fame.

More people used tooth powder than toothpaste.

A juvenile delinquent was a boy under 17 who went behind the barn and smoked cigarettes made of dry cornsilk rolled in paper torn from a mail order catalog.

BIG BABIES

A father felt kind of crestfallen if his wife gave birth to a baby weighing less than eight pounds. The bigger the baby, the healthier it was supposed to be.

Everybody was expected to run away from home at least once before he got out of high school.

★ ★ ★

Few folks were afraid of a hobo if he knocked on the back door and asked for something to eat. But he usually had to chop some kindling or beat a rug before he got fed.

Nine out of 10 men carried toothpicks and a change purse in their pockets.

The $2 bill was common.

You knew a widow was through with mourning and looking for a new husband when she started using henna on her hair.

A radical was anyone who announced openly that he believed in the theory of evolution.

No woman felt her role in this world was complete unless she fainted in public at least once in her liftime.

A well-bred lady always wore black stockings when she went swimming.

LARD FOR EVERYTHING

Lard was used as a food, an ointment for chest colds, and a hair pomade.

The motto of business was, "The customer is always right."

Those were the dear old days. Remember?

Jacoby on Bridge

By OSWALD JACOBY

Here is a hand with an unusual twist to try out on your friends. Let them play it at seven diamonds and see if they can manage to go down.

JACOBY

There are umpteen ways to make the contract, but when the hand came up in actual play one of the world's greatest players did manage to go down.

As some might say, "He played brilliantiy, but with conspicuous lack of success."

He started by winning the heart lead and discarding a spade from his hand on a second heart. He cashed the ace of spades, then ruffed a spade and entered dummy with the king of clubs in order to ruff a second spade.

His next play was a trump to dummy's last spade and East was unkind enough to discard a club. South ruffed with the jack of diamonds and cashed his king. He could not afford to overtake because that play would have set up East's ten as the high diamond, so he was still in his own hand. He had to play clubs in order to get back to dummy. When he ruffed the third club with the nine of trumps, East was able to overruff.

The simplest line of play would have been to attack clubs and trumps right away. That would have worked. Or, if he wished to ruff out spades it would have been better to start by cashing all dummy's hearts and discard both his spades. Then he could have trumped the three low spades and held back the ace so that East would not have been able to get that killing club discard.

Pontiac School Affairs

Board OKs Youth Work Training Plan

The Pontiac Board of Education last night approved a youth work training program for the Pontiac School system.

The cost of the system will be shared jointly by the schools and the State of Michigan.

Plans call for 15 youths to be trained in the classroom and on the job in the school system for a period of 20 weeks.

Mechanical, clerical and stock handling skills are typical of what will be taught.

★ ★ ★

The trainees will receive a training allowance of $20 per week, with the cost divided equally between the school and the state.

PRACTICAL NURSES

The program is being administered by the Michigan Employment Security Commission.

A program to train practical nurses, which is sponsored by the Board of Education and financed with funds appropriated under the Manpower and Development Act, was given continued support by the board.

Pontiac General Hospital, an on-the-job training site for the nurses, had asked the board if the program would be continued in Pontiac. It began in 1963.

Because the Manpower Act support is not permanent, the board indicated it would continue the policy as long as the funds were available from the federal government.

Although they expressed interest in seeing the program continue on an indefinite basis, board members said the school system would likely need financial help from local hospitals to continue the schooling if federal financing stopped.

The school board also heard reports from two architects on proposed school additions.

The board instructed O'Dell, Hewlett, and Luckenbach Associates to expand preliminary plans for a six-room addition at Frost School to a 10-room addition.

Preliminary plans of Harry M. Denyes Associates for a six-classroom, four-conference room addition at Alcott School were approved.

WANTS TO RUN — Harvard University's 329-year history of male supremacy is being challenged by Faye Levine, 20, a Radcliffe senior. She wants to be class marshal at commencement exercises this June. Miss Levine contends that since she will receive a Harvard diploma she should be permitted to run for office.

Viet Troops Press Attack; Large Cong Force Retreats

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — An attack by 1,200 Vietnamese soldiers on a Viet Cong concentration 140 miles southwest of Saigon today resulted in 11 Communists killed and 12 taken prisoner.

Helicopters flew the Vietnamese into the Soc Trang area for an assault on an estimated 800 Communist guerrillas. But reports from the scene said the Viet Cong did not stand and fight. They were said to be fleeing.

Most of the Communist dead apparently resulted from air strikes preceding the troop attack. No casualties were reported among the government forces.

Two U.S. Army men were injured today when their single-engine L20 Beaver plane crash-landed at a rubber plantation south of Tay Ninh.

★ ★ ★

Army reports said the plane, on a reconnaissance mission, suffered an engine failure. The plane was destroyed.

CONG ATTACK

About 20 heavily armed Viet Cong attacked a police headquarters guarding the Saigon University's facilities in Thu Duc, six miles from the capital, last night. One policeman was killed and another wounded.

Meanwhile, Premier Tran Van Huong in a broadcast declared that "every complaint and point of concern has been erased." He obviously was referring to the recent dispute between the army leaders and civilian politicians.

Huong appealed for support to build a free Viet Nam and urged a return to normal life.

★ ★ ★

His appeal followed a compromise solution of the political crisis between the civilian administration and the military high command.

UNRECONCILED

But it was apparent that he had not reached a reconciliation with the Buddhists who have been trying to overthrow him.

The premier said, "The government once again reaffirms its strict respect of freedom of worship. Any rumors contradictory to this policy are only deliberate and malevolent lies by extremist elements . . ."

About 1,000 persons demonstrated against Huong today in Da Nang, but dispersed when told that rangers would be used against them. It was the third day of antigovernment demonstrations in Da Nang.

★ ★ ★

An American spokesman announced U.S. officers will move back into the Brink officers' quarters in downtown Saigon tomorrow.

ROOMS REPAIRED

Two thirds of the 120 rooms shattered by a Viet Cong terrorist bomb on Christmas Eve have been repaired. Two Americans died in the explosion.

★ ★ ★

In Bangkok, Premier Thanom Kittikachorn said Communist North Viet Nam has asked for postponement of plans to evacuate thousands of Vietnamese who want to move from Thailand to North Viet Nam.

He told newsmen the Hanoi government said the "safety of the refugees could not be guaranteed.

About 30,000 Vietnamese who came to Thailand during the Indochina war still remain.

Just Looking Out for Her Girlfriend

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — The submarine Sea Cat was in port and — as Jim Metcalf of the chamber of commerce tells the story — a sailor in immaculate whites was following two pretty girls down Franklin Street in early evening.

Finally, says Metcalf, one girl turned angrily on the sailor and said: "Listen. Either quit following us, or go get a shipmate for my girlfriend."

THINKING OF SELLING?
Put a proper price on your home. That's the way to sell it quickly. Ask for too much and you frighten people away. Ask for too little and you lose money. There's no substitute for experience and no comparison with ethics in dealing with us.

Earl Sees Things Shady in Vogue for the Spooky

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — There's a girl ghost named "Lucy" clattering and banging on the walls in June Havoc's Hell's Kitchen apartment near the Actor's studio—and Lucy's hungry—but who'll feed hr . . . 'cause what you gonna feed a spook?

WILSON

Miss Havoc held a ghost-exorcising to chase Lucy to heck out of the apartment, on W. 44th near 10th Av., on the site of an old Potter's Field.

I, too poor for ghosts of my own, attended the seance.

Lucy got real riled when Ghost-Chaser Hans Holzer said, "Go away from this house, Lucy!" Next day Lucy pounded twice angrily on the walls . . . so June Havoc said.

"I swear on a stack of Bibles there's a machine gun sound late at night that wakes me," June said.

Seance, anybody? They brought a "witch", Sybil Leek, "high priestess of English witchcraft," she went into a trance, and purportedly ghost-talked.

"Who are you?" Holzer demanded . . . The spook, through the medium's lips, mumbled, "Food . . . food . . . hungry!"

★ ★ ★

Gradually we got the name . . . "Lucy Ryan," about 20, camp-follower, girl friend of a soldier . . . she died there in 1792 . . . well after the Revolutionary War . . . oh yes, and "Food . . . Hungry . . Food!"

"Lucy's making me hungry!" I said

"Could Lucy be waiting for Desi?" someone asked.

Then they tried table-tipping.

"Lucy"—anyway, the table—lurched around wildly, seemed to waft by its own power toward a big table of rich pastries.

★ ★ ★

Spooky, eh? The "witch" in the trance mentioned an officer named Napier.

Well, there was a Col. George Napier on Gov. Henry Clinton's staff . . . on this very location . . . in 1780-81!

There was another one, Sir Charles James Napier, 1782-1853, and he was also a British general!

★ ★ ★

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Aren't the mobsters moving back into Show Business? Weren't the assailants of Billy Eckstine really tough guys demanding "a piece of his action"? . . . And Bandleader Tito Rodriguez was blackjacked in the jaw and nose and left lying in blood on the floor in a Spanish dance hall, by three fearless attackers. Then Tito's 7th Av. office was mysteriously wrecked. Is hoodlumism returning?

★ ★ ★

EARL'S PEARLS: Short and suite dialogue in a department store: "I want to see some furniture" . . . "Yes, sir, Modern or comfortable?"—Dublin Opinion.

"In Hollywood," claims Dave Barry at the Copacabana, "one kid got an award for bringing the most daddies to the PTA meeting." . . . That's earl, brother.

'Liz Decided on Citizenship'

LONDON (AP) — Richard Burton says Elizabeth Taylor's decision to renounce her American citizenship was her idea.

"I had nothing to do with it at all," the brunette beauty's Welsh husband said in an interview. "It was entirely Elizabeth's idea.

★ ★ ★

"She had dual nationality because she was born in London of American parents and had always used her American nationality. Then, about a year ago, she decided she would like to be British.

"While we were in the United States, Elizabeth applied for and got a British passport. She first used it when we came across on the Queen Elizabeth last October."

NOT PRESCRIBED FORM

In October, Miss Taylor arranged with the U.S. Embassy in Paris to send a consular official to her hotel so that she could renounce her American citizenship. The State Department refused to recognize her renunciation because it was not in the prescribed form. Miss Taylor refused to forswear allegiance and loyalty to the United States.

★ ★ ★

"She has been using her British passport since last October and it was apparently only last week in Paris that someone noticed it," Burton said.

★ ★ ★

Burton has just started work in the lead role of a Cold-War espionage movie being filmed in London.

John Springer, Miss Taylor's press agent, denied that she wants to give up her American citizenship to escape American taxes on her earnings.

★ ★ ★

"That certainly was not her idea," said Springer. "In fact we don't even know if she will gain a tax advantage out of this switch of nationality. If she does, it will be an unlooked for result — a sort of fringe benefit."

Judge Rules on Custody of Singer's Son

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — A judge has ended a week of courtroom battling between Vic Damone and his ex-wife, Pier Angeli, by making this ruling on custody of their son, Perry:

Miss Angeli gets legal custody of the boy.

He will live with her in Rome.

★ ★ ★

But, under new visitation rights, Damone will bring the boy here each July and August.

The boy will spend alternate Easter and Christmas holidays with Damone.

HAD CUSTODY

Damone, 35, has held temporary custody of the 9-year-old boy since he brought Perry here rom New York Sept. 30. Miss Angeli, 32, charged him with contempt because, she said, he violated the custody agreement following their 1960 divorce which granted her Perry's custody.

Status-Seeking Film Stars 'Sweating It Out' in Style

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD — Back in the stone age of Hollywood's history, the status symbol was the tennis court. Then it became the swimming pool, the grander it was, the higher the status.

THOMAS

Most recent times have brought the private projection room, the fully equipped soda fountain, the yacht — yachts lately have been out — the Palm Springs house — currently in — plus the shifting vogue in cars, ranging from custom jobs of obscure European make to the always acceptable Rolls-Royce.

★ ★ ★

Another wrinkle was the car telephone. This was pioneered by Frank Sinatra, a pace-setter in the field of status symbols — private plane, helicopter pad, etc.

All this is by way of introduction to the latest toy of the film famous: the steam room. Sinatra has one, natch. So does Glenn Ford. Dean Martin has been mulling one. Numerous other actors and producers have had steam rooms installed or planned. Some new homes in posh districts come equipped with saunas. They're a must for luxury Hollywood apartment buildings.

HIGH COST

The cost for sweating it out, Hollywood style? It can range from $2,200 for a wood-lined cubicle with steam machine to $10,000 for a sumptuous steam room like the one built by television producer William Dozier.

One of the most popular of the Beverly Hills steam rooms is owned by Tony Owens, ebullient husband of Donna Reed and producer of her television series. I dropped by his house one afternoon and talked to him through a glass door as he took his daily steam. He was alone, which was unusual.

★ ★ ★

"When I get home at night, I never know who I'm going to find in here," he said.

A three-time visitor gets a towel with his name embroidered on it; Owens has a closet full of towels and a rack for the most frequent patrons. Even the rack is subject to status.

TOP BILLING

Said Owens: "One day Eddie Fisher was taking a steam and he looked at the rack. 'I sing a better song than Dean Martin,' he said, and he placed his towel above Dean's on the rack. Now everybody wants top billing."

The producer pooh-poohs the notion that the steam is good for weight reduction.

★ ★ ★

"Drink a glass of water and you've got the fluids back again," he said.

★ ★ ★

"I take the steam because it makes me feel good. I've got a touch of rheumatism in my hip and the heat is great for it."

Gov. Hughes to the Rescue

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — Gov. Harold E. Hughes, being inaugurated for a second term today, had to take time out Wednesday to help free his granddaughter, 2, from a bathroom.

Tracy Otto had locked herself in at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Otto. Tracy's mother called the governor's mansion. When the telephone there was busy, she called the statehouse.

Hughes alerted a rescue squad and called Mrs. Hughes. She sent a worker from the mansion to the daughter's home, and he got Tracy out.

Grand Jury Calls 3 in Dearborn in Race Incident

DEARBORN (AP)—A federal grand jury has subpoenaed three Dearborn officials to answer questions in connection with a racial disturbance in the city during Labor Day, 1963.

Thse served with subpoenas were police detective Wilmot Schlaff, assistant city attorney Fred Weidman, and Norbert Schlaff, administrative assistant to Dearborn Mayor Orville Hubbard.

Two other city officials were indicted last month by the grand jury: Police Chief Garrison Clayton and Safety Director George Lewis were accused of failing to take action when an all-white mob attacked the home of Giuseppe Stanzione in the mistaken belief that he had rented an apartment to Negroes.

Funeral Service Set

GREENWICH, Conn. (AP) — Funeral service will be held in Detroit Friday for Mrs. Ora M. Eddins, widow of former Chrysler Corp. Plymouth Division President Daniel S. Eddins. Mrs. Eddins died here Tuesday night while on a visit to her daughter, Mrs. Burdette W. Bellinger.

Population in the United States has increased by 40 million — or 26 per cent — since 1950 and now totals 191 million.

Two Panels of Court Will Sit in Detroit

LANSING (AP) — Appeals Court Chief Judge T. John Lesinski said Wednesday that two panels of the court will sit in Detroit during February.

Following a meeting of the nine judges on the day before they hear their first cases, Lesinski said the second district panel of three judges will join panel one in Detroit. Normally the second panel will sit in Lansing.

★ ★ ★

He said a rotation schedule for the judges has also been set to begin in February. Thus, judges will at times sit outside the district from which they were elected.

December Big in Construction

Over $5 Million Mark in Pontiac Permits

The estimated value of new construction in Pontiac reached $5,345,488 last month—the highest monthly total for 1964.

It brought the total value of construction in Pontiac to $16.2 million in 1964.

The total number of permits (116) declined from November (119), but the valuation more than doubled November's $2 million.

The big item in December's high value was a permit issued for Pontiac Motor Division's new warehouse, valued at $4,762,350.

★ ★ ★

This project jumped the city's 12-month total to 1,915 permits with a valuation of $16,261,156, topping the total for 1963 slightly.

LAST YEAR TOTAL

In 1963, there were 1,623 permits issued for a total value of $16,060,262.

There were 16 permits issued for new family dwellings during December. Their total value was put at $220,500 by Carl F. Alt, city building inspector.

In December of 1963, nine permits were issued at $130,500.

Of last month's total, $158,242 came through four permits for commercial alterations and repairs.

OTHER TOTALS

Four residential garages totaled $4,850, 25 residential alterations and repairs reached $29,143, while two commercial buildings were valued at $36,090.

Twenty - six moved houses were valued at $111,200, 27 demolitions at $13,290, two tanks at $1,300 and 7 miscellaneous permits at $8,613.

For the year 1964, 239 permits for new family dwellings valued at $3,894,345 were issued, as compared to 1963 when 271 permits were granted for new family dwellings at a value of only $1,850,925.

Blind Concession Operator Finds Lost Pocketbook

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Mrs. Stanley Cantrell of Lutz, arrived home from a visit to Tampa General Hospital recently and discovered that her pocketbook was missing.

It contained a $250 check issued to "cash."

Quite upset, she called the hospital. She was told that Joe Messina, who operates the concession stand in the lobby, was holding her pocketbook for her.

Joe, who is blind, said the incident was nothing new.

★ ★ ★

He makes it a practice to feel around the counter periodically to see if customers have left anything, and he finds a surprisingly large number of items — eyeglasses, car keys, pipes and wallets.

FORGETFULNESS

Joe attributes his customers' forgetfulness to the fact that they are visiting friends or relatives in the hospital and are, naturally, worried and under stress.

A Jewish synagogue was opened in Spain in 1959 for the first time since the expulsion of the Jews in 1492.

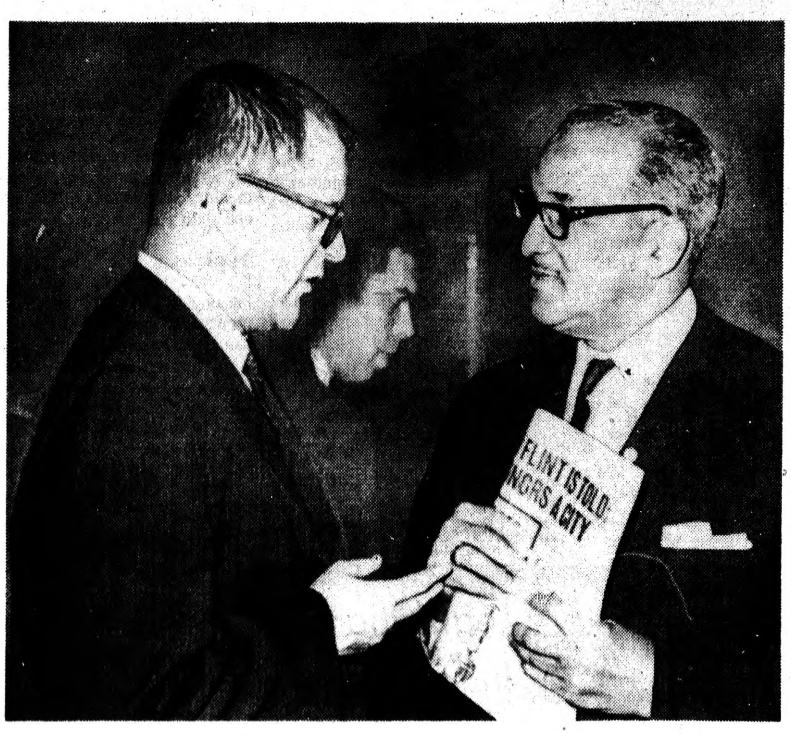
Romney Outlines Michigan Needs

'Laos Strikes Started Month Ago'



AP Photofax

DENIED A SEAT—Rep. Daniel W. West (right), charged with 117 counts of income tax fraud, talks with Democrat Majority Floor Leader Rep. J. Robert Traxler of Bay City yesterday in Lansing. Democrats have voted to deny seating the Detroit representative, at least until charges against him have been decided.

U.S. Officials Keeping Mum

Supply Line Attacks Cost 2 Jets Yesterday

WASHINGTON (AP) — U. S. fighter-bombers have been smashing at Communist supply and reinforcement lines running through Laos for at least a month, government sources said today.

Yesterday's strike — which cost the United States two Air Force jets — bore down on Route 7, key segment of a road and trail network feeding both the Red Pathet Lao in Central Laos and the Communist guerrillas in South Viet Nam.

American authorities refused to say anything publicly beyond the terse announcement that an F100 Supersabre and an F105 Thunderchief were shot down in Central Laos by ground fire.

Defense Department spokesman Arthur Sylvester declined to discuss the type of a mission the two jets were flying.

Later it was reported that the pilot of the F105, Capt. Albert O. Vollmer of Denton, Kan., and Henrietta, N.Y., had been rescued. Early today the Pentagon announced that the F100 pilot, Capt. Charles L. Ferguson of Clovis, N.M., and Parma, Idaho, had been "successfully recovered and was all right." At first Ferguson was reported missing.

Four Navy and Air Force jets were shot down over Laos prior to yesterday's losses. Each was either conducting photo reconnaissance or escorting planes taking pictures of Red supply roads and trails.

For weeks, the Communist Chinese and North Veitnamese have been claiming that U.S. air and sea forces have been raiding Communist territory.

The U.S. government evidently is not ready to acknowledge that its war planes are in com-

Turks Quit Proposed MLF Project

WASHINGTON (AP)— Turkey has pulled out of the proposed multilateral nuclear fleet, knocking another pin out from under the already wobbly project.

The notification was given Washington yesterday, but officials say they are not surprised.

The State Department has been aware of Turkey's lack of enthusiasm for about two months.

Turkey borders Russia, and officials speculated that Moscow's stiff opposition to MLF might have had something to do with the decision.

★ ★ ★

Uncle Sam's pet tiger already has picked up more than its share of thorns.

VIOLENT ATTACKS

France attacked MLF violently last month. Britain's new Labor government has been working on alternative plans.

Other allies are cool.

In fact, West Germany is the only major western power to see MLF in the same light that Washington does.

Turkey's desertion is the first, however, and officials consider it a heavy psychological blow. Others, it is feared, might follow suit.

SURFACE SHIPS

MLF is a proposal for a separate force of surface ships, equipped with nuclear - tipped Polaris missiles and manned by a mixed crew of Allied sailors.

In this way America's allies would share in a nuclear force and yet proliferation of nuclear weapons would be avoided.

GOV. GEORGE W. ROMNEY

Tax Overhaul Said Necessary

LANSING (AP) — Gov. George Romney unveiled his outline of Michigan needs today but warned that to meet them, the state's tax structure must be overhauled by 1967.

In a State of The State message which contained mostly only general proposals rather than program specifics, the Republican governor declared that the treasury surplus—headed for $100 million—will almost certainly be exhausted within two years.

Romney said he is ready to talk tax reform any time the legislature is willing. He proposed a $200,000 study of Michigan's financial requirements for the next decade so that new revenue can be located.

Otherwise, he touched virtually every base of government concern from mental health to education exemptions for the Amish.

His nearly 4,000-word text was prepared for delivery to a late-morning joint gathering of the legislature, which began its 1965 session yesterday.

In it he promised at least six special messages to the legislature.

These will carry his specific recommendations on poverty, senior citizen aid, workmen's compensation, traffic safety, conservation, tourism and recreation, and reorganization of the state military establishment.

Romney painted a glowing picture of Michigan's "new confidence," booming economy and movement from a treasury deficit to a surplus.

"But we must not be lulled into complacency by our sizeable surplus," he declared.

"Our annual revenue growth is not keeping pace with just the unavoidable increases in public services expenditures . . . if we didn't have a surplus, we would not be able to meet the built-in costs without a deficit or improvement in services without an even greater deficit."

★ ★ ★

He said the state must dip into the surplus to balance the forthcoming budget.

HIGHER TAXES

"Higher taxes or interest bearing debt will be necessary this year or next if we decide to materially increase my budget recommendations," Romney declared to the predominantly Democratic group.

His budget, expected to approach $800 million for gen-

School Board Adopts Policy

To Recognize Teacher Group With Majority

The Pontiac School Board last night adopted a proposed policy on teacher association-school board relationships.

The chief effect of the new policy, which has been under consideration unofficially for several months, is that the board will now only recognize the association which has in membership the majority of the teachers in the district.

The new policy was strongly opposed by the Pontiac Federation of Teachers (PFT).

The official recognition will be limited to the purpose of maintaining and conducting professional relationships between the teaching staff and the school board.

This will include salary negotiations and other similar issues which arise.

DETERMINE MAJORITY

The board will determine which association has the majority of teachers after each group seeking recognition submits a notarized list of all paid-up members.

There are two teacher associations in the Pontiac School system — the Pontiac Education Association (PEA) and the PFT.

PEA is affiliated with the Na-

U.S. Warning on U.N. Issue

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United States is reportedly telling United Nations members that it will take a second look at the big sums it pours into U.N. projects if they let the Soviet Union keep its General Assembly vote without settling its peace-keeping debts.

★ ★ ★

Informants said U.S. officials were relaying this warning to delegates as the time nears for the threatened showdown over Soviet refusal to pay U.N. peace-keeping assessments.

In another effort to avoid a clash when the assembly resumes Monday, Secretary-General U Thant called in U. S. Ambassadro Adlai Stevenson and Soviet Chief Delegate Nikolai T. Fedorenko yesterday.

Neither Stevenson nor Fedorenko gave any indication whether any progress had been made toward breaking the deadlock.

★ ★ ★

SOUNDING OUT

Thant has been sounding out the two powers on an Asian-African plan to resolve the dispute. It would set aside for this session Article 19 of the U.N. charter, which says a member two years in arrears on assessments loses its assembly vote.

This would deny voting rights to Russia, France and 16 other nations who are two years or more behind because of their refusal to pay for the Congo and Middle East operations.

The plan also calls for voluntary contributions to a rescue fund to help clear up the peace-keeping deficit of nearly $86 million.

LBJ Asks Lowest Aid Sum Since Marshall Plan Start

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson asked Congress today for $3.38 billion in foreign aid to promote the defense and economic strength of free countries.

Johnson's proposal — $1.17 billion in arms aid and $2.21 billion in economic assistance during the coming fiscal year — was the lowest such presidential request since the beginning of massive foreign aid under the Marshall plan after World War II.

In a special message to Congress outlining the 1965-66 aid program, Johnson said more than a half-billion dollars will be used for weapons and economic help to counter Communist guerrillas in Viet Nam and Laos.

"Indeed, $500 million may not be enough," the President said.

He said he would ask an additional open-end "standby authorization," for use if he decides later that more money is needed "to protect our interests there" against the Reds' "frontal attack."

TOUCHY MATTERS

The nine-page presidential message left undecided some touchy matters that are likely to come up in Congress.

The message did not say whether further aid will be going to Egypt and Indonesia, whose presidents, Nasser and Sukarno, respectively, have publicly scorned U. S. assistance. Administration sources said this has not yet been determined.

Administration officials say direct aid to those two countries is now small. Nevertheless there have been protests in Congress against continuing any of it.

Also left open was whether the specific legislation — to be sent to Congress later—will be in one package or in separate bills. Influential Senate and House members are at odds on this. Administration officials said the economic and military measures might be split this year.

A large chunk of the economic aid in the new program — $580 million—is being earmarked for the Alliance for Progress program of assistance for Latin America.

House Action Due on West Resolution

LANSING (AP) —The House of Representatives planned to act today on a resolution demanding that Rep. Daniel West vacate his seat until a committee investigates his qualifications.

He has been indicted on 117 counts of income tax fraud and charged with voting irregularities and income tax check forgery.

West probably was the most closely-watched figure at the opening of the 73rd Legislature.

But the major business today was to listen to Gov. George Romney deliver the annual State - of - the - State address in which he listed what he considers major areas and items of legislation.

West sat with the House just long enough yesterday to hear a motion adopted asking that he not take the oath of office.

FORGERY CHARGE

While he was sitting in Lansing, Wayne County Assistant Prosecutor Samuel Brezner was recommending the forgery charge in the cashing of a $4.24 check.

The House later received the resolution asking that West step aside until a five-man bipartisan committee investigates his qualifications.

The resolution was reported out favorably in the House Policy Committee.

If You Think Today Was Cold, Wait 'til Tonight

The mercury's failure to get up this morning set a new record low for this season — a frigid 3 above at 8 a.m. today. The previous low this winter was 5 above on Dec. 6.

The temperature at 1 p.m. was 12.

The weatherman expects even colder weather tonight. Zero to 7 is the forecast.

Tomorrow won't be quite as cold, with a high of 20 to 27 predicted. Skies will be mostly sunny.

Warmer weather is expected Saturday, along with partly cloudy skies.

2 Dead, 5 Missing in Landslide

VANCOUVER, B. C. (AP) — A giant landslide thundered into the mountain-ringed British Columbia coastal lumber town of Ocean Falls last night, killing at least two persons and injuring five others, Canadian Mounted Police reported.

★ ★ ★

Five other persons were believed missing in the earth, rock and broken timber which demolished several homes.

The Mounties said ham radio operator Einar Carlson reported from the isolated community 300 miles northwest of Vancouver.

Carlson radioed that a search for the missing was called off early today because of the fear of more slides, triggered by heavy rainfall and melting snow.

★ ★ ★

Police said Carlson reported two bodies were recovered and several families were evacuated to the Crown Zellerbach pulp and paper mill, the town's main industry, before rescue crews withdrew.

The injured were taken to a hospital, Carlson said.

Telephone lines to the region came down, apparently when the slide struck at 10 o'clock last night.

The slide followed by five days a rock-mud-snow slide 110 miles east of Vancouver in which a crumbling wall of a mountain toppled over a highway and killed four persons.

State Agrees to Place Wide Track Signs

State Highway Department officials yesterday agreed to put up signs to help wandering motorist find their way onto Wide Track Drive.

City officials agreed to the plan — with skepticism — after the department representatives agreed to a reappraisal of Pontiac's downtown traffic problems in 90 days.

In a meeting with city officials, Max N. Clyde, State Highway Department traffic engineer, presented a large map showing the proposed location of signs at problem intersections.

Clyde said signs reading "East Wide Track" with arrows will direct motorists eastbound on Orchard Lake to turn left on S. Saginaw, right on Water and left on Wide Track.

NEW TYPE SIGN

Clyde said the signs will be put up next week. They will be the new "trailblazer" type, he said, manufactured in the State Highway Department's sign shop.

Clyde and three other department representatives accompanying him reiterated the department's stand that the new downtown traffic plan hasn't been given a fair chance.

City Manager Joseph A. Warren read a letter from Howard E. Hill, acting director of the State Highway Department, which said in part:

". . . 536 illegal turns (during an eight-hour period) at two intersections illustrate the fact that some motorists are confused . . ."

LACK OF FAMILIARITY

The problem is due to "lack of familiarity" with the new pattern, Hill wrote.

★ ★ ★

Hill's letter promised a review of the situation in six months, but Warren and Mayor William A. Taylor were adamant in their demands for another meeting 90 days after the signs go up.

To Keep Treasury Out of Red

Romney Urging State Income Tax?

By A. F. MAHAN
Associated Press Writer

LANSING — Gov. George Romney told the Michigan Legislature in effect today that an income tax is needed by 1967 or the state treasury will be back in the red.

He did not use the words "income tax" in his State of the State message, but he proposed "tax reform" anew. And both Republican Romney and the Democratic party, which now controls both House and Senate, have made "income tax" a keystone in tax reform packages of recent years.

"It is clear," he said, "we can improve services where necessary in the coming year only by spending a great deal more than our present tax structure will produce. This means the state will dip into this year's surplus to balance next year's budget.

"It will be only through the most prudent use of this surplus over the next two years that we will be able to meet essential state needs without increasing taxes, or going into debt."

Outlines State Needs

eral fund operations, will be presented in about two weeks.

SENIOR CITIZENS

The governor said in the three years since July 1962, revenue projections and figures show an average yearly increase of $38.5 million. Cost hikes caused merely by population growth are averaging $50 million annually.

Romney cited one area for potential tax relief — senior citizens' property taxes.

Yesterday he appointed a citizens' commission to study such relief.

Today he promised recommendations based on its report —if not in time for this legislative session, then at a special session later this year.

In education the governor cited three fundamental problems:

- To make a comprehensive coordinated plan to meet total education needs through public and private institutions.
- To devise equitable and effective controlled programs to distribute increased state financial support.
- To find and adopt the revenue sources to pay for improvements.

FURTHER INCREASE

He declared that state aid should be further increased and the aid formula revised to give every child equal educational opportunity regardless of school district property tax base. He set no figures.

Romney called for expansion of vocational education facilities and the community college program.

He spoke for more scholarship and loan programs for both public and private universities to bring higher education "within the financial reach of every qualified student in Michigan."

And, in reference to a current controversy in Camden, he said the state's few Amish families should be exempted from the requirement that teachers be state-accredited.

He said in the mental health field that 12 task forces are preparing recommendations for Mental Health Director Richard Kimmich.

Then, Romney, said the problem can be turned over to the $200,000 bipartisan Finance Study Commission for determination of how expanded programs can be financed.

He reported that Michigan is making full use of programs under the federal War on Poverty program.

Program improvements in education, job training, health and welfare can check delinquency and crime, he declared, but expansion of rehabilitation services and facilities are also needed.

NEEDS REVISION

Workmen's Compensation "badly needs revision and improvement," declared the governor.

He asked for expansion of the Department of Economic Expansion, citing $1.6 billion in planned capital improvements announced by Michigan industries in 1964.

In a separate section on the Upper Peninsula, the governor said Mackinac Bridge should be refinanced so tolls can be reduced and that new economic projects should be stimulated.

★ ★ ★

Compulsory vehicle inspection, stricter driver licensing, an implied consent to chemical tests law for drinking drivers and addition of 200 state troopers were asked in the traffic section.

BUDGET SUPPORT

Romney said he'll ask budget support for his new Human Resources Council, a body coordinating and encouraging state and private efforts on human and social problems.

He said 18-year-olds should be able to vote and declared that election campaign financial laws should be stricter.

At both the start and finish of his address, the second-term Republican governor emphasized the need for bipartisanship in executive-legislative dealings.

GENERAL FUND

Some usually well-informed sources forecast the state's general fund surplus will be approaching $100 million by the end of the fiscal year, June 30. Romney is withholding his estimate until his budget message is delivered. A surplus of $57 million existed last June 30 compared with a deficit of $85.6 million two years earlier.

While Romney proposed, without mentioning any figures, increased appropriations for education, mental health, state police and many other functions, he warned:

"Higher taxes or interest bearing debt will be necessary this year or next if we decide to materially increase my budget recommendations, or if we make piecemeal reductions in state taxes, with the possible exception of property tax relief for senior citizens."

Democrats in the 1963-64 legislature criticized Romney's spending programs as too small. Democratic governors in the past have proposed larger appropriations than GOP legislators would approve.

STUDY GROUP

Saying he was appointing a bipartisan study commission "to review and analyze Michigan's financial requirements over the next 10 years," Romney added:

"Meanwhile, the basic injustice of our existing tax structure has not diminished, nor has my personal concern for fundamental tax reform on a purely reform basis. Both parties have pledged such reform and in the past presented specific legislative programs for that purpose.

★ ★ ★

"I stand ready now or at any time to work toward a bipartisan program of fundamental tax reform when you are genuinely so inclined."

In his major setback since breaking a 14-year Democratic hold on the governor's office, Romney lost a proposed tax reform package—including an income tax — in a Republican-dominated legislature in 1963.

GETS TOUGH

Several times in his message, Romney proposed executive-legislative cooperation. Only once did his language get tough. This was it:

"During the coming year it is your opportunity, under our new Constitution, to reorganize our sprawling maze of state agencies into not more than 20 principal departments. If you want to know my position on such reorganization so that you can avoid a futile vetoed effort, I will be glad to make known the basic principles and departmental structure I support."

Recalling, without mentioning names, the stalemate that often prevailed between a Democratic governor and a Republican legislature over the 14 years before he took office Jan. 1, 1963, Romney said:

"Whether this difficult period was the fault of the governor or the legislature or both is not important now. But it is said history repeats itself and each time it is more expensive. A repetition of Michigan's executive-legislative conflict would be far more costly in the decade ahead than in the past."

RENEWS BID

Romney renewed his bid for cooperation in closing, thus:

"Few governors and few legislators have started a new session with so much public desire that we avoid the dire forbodings and pessimistic predictions of some based on recent state experience.

"That we will disagree from time to time, there is no doubt. It will ever be so under our system of checks and balances.

"But you have my personal pledge that I will do all in my power to aid you in discharging your responsibilities. I will not make recommendations that are motivated primarily on a political basis. I will not deal in personalities or name-calling. At all times, my door is open to the frank, timely and complete consultation that alone can produce the understanding and cooperation needed for the sound solutions we seek.

"I have faith you will want to make this a common mutual commitment."

Board Adopts Policy

tional Education Association and PFT is an affiliate of the American Federation of Teachers (AFL-CIO).

★ ★ ★

The policy defines majority as more than one-half of the teachers employed by the school system.

CAN JOIN BOTH

Since teachers are free to join both groups if they desire, it is conceivable that both teacher associations could have as members a majority of the teachers.

There are about 900 teachers in the school system.

At present PEA boasts a membership of more than 600 teachers and administrators. The PFT membership is under 300.

★ ★ ★

Both groups made statements at the meeting prior to adoption of the policy.

ENDORSES POLICY

PEA president Traver Miller stated his group endorsed the policy, with the exception of Rule 2 which excludes administrators from the definition of the teaching staff.

The PFT indicated strong disapproval of the policy, especially the method of recognition.

Graham Lewis, PFT president, stated that the executive committee of his group felt that the proposed method of selection was undemocratic.

★ ★ ★

Lewis said his group would like to see a schoolwide election in which teachers could choose which group would act as representative for the staff.

PFT AGAINST PLAN

If the policy was adopted, the PFT head said his group could not support the plan and would do everything possible to arouse the teachers and public opinion against it.

When asked what he meant by the statement Lewis replied that the PFT would make an appeal through association publications to gain support for an election.

Robert Vacharo, editor of "Pontiac Teacher," the official PFT publication, said many members in the group would consider a strike against the schools if an election or some other compromise were not reached.

★ ★ ★

The PFT also objected to the lack of a written contract concerning negotiating rights or a provision for a third party mediator in the event of a dispute. The federation also opposed a provision giving the school board the final word in all negotiations.

1 DISSENTING VOTE

The board adopted the policy with Russell L. Brown casting the only dissenting vote.

Brown said he felt an election would be a more representative method of determining recognition.

The policy takes effect immediately and the associations seeking recognition have until Jan. 22 to submit their notarized lists of members.

After this year recognition will be given on a 12-month basis from Dec. 1 to Nov. 30.

School Officials Set Move to New Pontiac Quarters

The Pontiac School administrators will be moving into their new offices at Wide Track and Auburn on Jan. 23 and 24.

This word came from Assistant School Superintendent Richard C. Fell at last night's board meeting.

The regularly scheduled session marked the close of nearly 22 years of board meetings in the school offices at 40 Patterson.

The new administration center was scheduled for completion last fall, but construction delays slowed building progress.

★ ★ ★

School workers will spend the week of Jan. 25 removing semi-permanent fixtures such as light appliances from the old building.

★ ★ ★

Legislation Introduced by Broomfield

Tax breaks for the parents of college students, higher outside earnings for widows and others receiving Social Security and repeal of auto excise taxes were among bills introduced today by Congressman William S. Broomfield of the 18th District.

In other bills introduced in the House of Representatives, Broomfield also proposed federal government guarantee of water supply, drain and sewer bond issues to reduce interest costs to communities and elimination of overtime charges for custom inspections for private pilots returning to the U.S. from Canada.

All were referred to House committees for further study.

A tax credit of up to 30 per cent of the cost of tuition and fees, minus room and board, would be permitted the parents of college students under the Broomfield bill.

★ ★ ★

Widows with minor children would be permitted to earn up to $3,600 yearly and still be eligible for full Social Security benefits. Others eligible for Social Security would be permitted to earn up to $3,000.

Broomfield said present limits on outside earnings of $1,200 were "unrealistic and unfair."

State Prisoners Paint Away Hostility

JACKSON (AP) — Will learning to wield an artist's brush help criminals from using more deadly implements when they get out of prison.

A rehabilitation expert at Southern Michigan Prison here thinks so. He's conducting art classes to prove his point.

★ ★ ★

The idea, says a psychologist, is that a prisoner tortured by pangs of hostility "works off these feelings on canvas before they develop into an explosive nature."

The program has been so successful that Dr. E. L. V. Shelley, supervisor of treatment for the State Corrections Department, hopes to expand it to other institutions.

SELF-RESPECT

Not only does painting help prisoners reduce hostility, Shelley says, but it also "helps them develop a sense of worthiness.

"They create something that other people recognize and appreciate," he explains. "Many convicts have feelings they don't know how to express or are afraid to express.

★ ★ ★

"In their group, expressing feelings is a sign of softness," Shelley says. "But in art, they can let themselves go."

The class takes up to 25 students at a time. The best paintings are sent on exhibition tours. When some went to college campuses last year sales brought in about $1,000.

Another set of paintings is being sent on a tour of penal institutions in Wisconsin, Indiana, Illinois and Minnesota.

A foundation grant of $5,000 is being sought to buy art materials and establish a gallery at the Jackson institution.

The degree of escalation of the war still is rather low.

FURTHER STEP-UP?

The issue of whether it will be stepped up further — possibly to strike at production and supply centers, rail lines and military bases inside Viet Nam — is in doubt.

So far, sources said, the air strikes against supply lines leading from North Viet Nam through Laos have been conducted chiefly by American planes, with some activity by Laotian-piloted aircraft.

The South Vietnamese air force has not yet taken part in these operations, the sources said.

There was no word here on what downed the F100 and F105. But it is known that there are radar-directed 37 millimeter antiaircraft guns in Laos, probably manned by North Vietnamese troops.

Talk about escalating the war reached a pitch by the time U.S. Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor came here in late November from Saigon to confer with President Johnson, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

Outgoing Burch Made Scapegoat for Election Day Debacle

By WALTER R. MEARS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Outgoing Republican National Chairman Dean Burch took the rap for the conservative cause he championed in a campaign he did not control.

It was Barry Goldwater's show, and Burch was Goldwater's man. When the show flopped, only Burch was around to face the critics.

★ ★ ★

Goldwater and his influence were their real target. But the former senator was out of public view, and the key men in his campaign policy decisions were back in private life.

During the futile effort to keep his job, Burch argued that he was a technician, not a theoretician. And he insisted he had done his technical chores well.

SYMBOL OF BARRY

But that was never the argument. To his liberal and moderate critics Burch was simply a symbol of Goldwater, a leader they never relished.

Every step Burch took in hope of holding on only tied him closer to Goldwater, without whom he would never have had the job in the first place.

★ ★ ★

Perhaps his status was best dramatized on the December day when Burch sat across the hall while Goldwater, former President Dwight D. Eisenhower and former Vice President Richard M. Nixon talked about his future.

A newcomer to top-level national politics, Burch could only turn to Goldwater for help in the effort to withstand his foes.

News Analysis

FIRMLY SET

Each time the chairman did so, his own image as a symbol of the defeated presidential nominee and the party's conservative wing — an image Burch acknowledged — became more firmly set.

Aside from Goldwater and former Rep. William E. Miller, Goldwater's running mate, Burch had no top-level allies to plead his cause. As a newcomer he lacked the store of political contact and past-due favorors that might have helped his losing campaign.

★ ★ ★

Ray C. Bliss, the man Goldwater finally accepted as a replacement, has his own store of alliances, built during 16 years as Ohio party chairman.

Arguing Burch's competence, Goldwater pointed to the surplus in the national committee's treasury. Its size has not been disclosed by the committee.

NO POINT

Republican critics answered that there was no point in having dollars left over if the money could have helped avert a landslide loss. Some charged that liberal and moderate candidates were short changed during the campaign.

Sen. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania accused conservative leaders at national headquarters of hoarding the money in anticipation of their defeat.

And soon Burch was busy denying that the committee's bank balance was as big as some reports indicated.

The chairman himself was not the policy maker in the Goldwater campaign. The men who were stepped out of the lineup soon after the election, and Burch stood alone as a visible symbol of the election- day debacle.

Bliss Experts to Conduct Behind-Scenes Rebuilding

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI) — Ray C. Bliss as Republican national chairman plans to work quietly in the background in his determined effort to rebuild the Republican party.

Describing himself as a realist, the man slated to become national chairman on April 1 said he was optimistic about his party's future.

He is convinced it has a solid base upon which "qualified candidates, adequately financed, with proper organization support" can expect to make a winning race.

Bliss is not discussing the party's ideological disputes and any plans he may have except to say he expects to be a "desk chairman" working full-time at his $30,000-a-year job.

★ ★ ★

He has not sought a single vote for the chairmanship he told newsmen yesterday when he made it plain he expects to pattern his national operation after that which has been successful in Ohio.

CANDID ANSWERS

"I don't like to be vague," Bliss said when asked about his more specific plans as chairman. "I don't hold many news conferences and I like to be candid in my answers.

"But all this happened rather quickly and I have had no time to do any thinking about what I would do in an office to which I haven't yet been elected.

"You don't make plans and announcements until you have had time to study them and know what you are doing."

★ ★ ★

He said, however, in answer to a question, that he expects to have a "relatively free hand" in rebuilding the party and hopes to "conduct myself so as to invite the confidence and support of all."

NO COMMITMENTS

In that connection, he said he had not made commitments to anyone in exchange for support to replace Dean Burch, who will submit his resignation next week effective April 1.

Bliss said also that he would continue his Akron insurance business so that he would be financially independent.

"I never want to be dependent upon politics for a living," he said. "I am glad that I have a business to fall back upon because having that security I made some decisions that I otherwise might have been hesitant to make."

★ ★ ★

He said he would be a "desk chairman," putting his seemingly limitless energy to organizational matters and leaving most of the speaking engagements to others.

NOT AN ORATOR

The Buckeye State chairman reminded a newsman, who suggested Bliss was reluctant to make speeches, that he didn't profess to be an orator. He added that he had made and would make many speeches to finance committees and other party groups.

"If I spent all of my time making Lincoln Day speeches and talking to service clubs, I would never get anything done," he said. "Those are the type of speeches congressmen and senators can make best.

Candidates and party leaders are not developed by chairmen "running around making speeches," he stated.

WORK CLOSELY

Bliss expressed a desire to work closely with the party's finance committee and other organization groups, particularly the state chairmen. He has been head of their national organization for some time.

There was a sound of resignation in his voice as the 57-year-old Bliss said that this was the second time he had given up a long-planned vacation with his "unusually fine wife" of five years to plunge deeper into politics.

She understands, he said, but had been concerned about the long hours he worked — a situation which led to his being bedfast for a spell during the recent presidential campaign. He wore house slippers during his travels because of a severe attack of gout.

★ ★ ★

Bliss said he had not given any thought to reorganization of the party's headquarters. He had told Burch to go ahead with several programs he intended to present at the Republican National Committee meeting in Chicago next Thursday.

Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt Says:

Test May Detect Throat, Mouth Cancer

Q—I recently read that the Pap test could be used to detect cancer of the mouth. Would this apply to cancer of the throat al

A—Since the Papanicolaou or Pap test consists of a microscopic examination of a smear or discharge for BRANDSTADT isolated cancer cells, it can be applied to several locations including sputum from the lungs or bronchial tubes, washing from the stomach and smears from the throat.

Usually the throat would have to be sprayed with a local anesthetic first so the swabbing could be done without causing gagging.

Q—Several months ago a tumor was removed from my leg. My doctor said it was a malignant melanoma. Is this a form of skin cancer and will it return?

A—Yes, this is a type of skin cancer. For this reason a wide area around the lesion should be removed at operation.

In addition to this and following the operation, phenylalanine mustard or a related product should be injected into the affected area.

When this has been done many victims of this otherwise fatal disease have been cured and have had no return of the melanoma.

Q—What causes pateca or small pinhead dots under the skin?

Petechiae are also seen in persons who have purpura and they are commonly associated with a great variety of acute infections.

A few scattered petechiae may be seen in persons who are over 40 and who are in good health. This type is of no significance.

Is Viet Nam Impasse a Dead-End Street?

It is doubtful if the diplomatic and military branches of the United States government were ever in a more frustrating and contradictory entanglement than that characterizing our involvement in South Viet Nam.

General KHANH and his fellow officers are feuding with American Ambassador TAYLOR, who has rebuked them for whittling down the civilian elements of the Saigon government. Premier HUONG, heading what is left of civilian government, is feuding with the political Buddhists. The Communists of North Viet Nam are trumpeting their gains, and predicting more.

And in the jungle and rice paddies, in Saigon itself, men—Vietnamese and American—are dying.

The American purpose in South Viet Nam can be stated simply. It is to stem the tide of Communist conquest and subversion, fueled by Red China, from overrunning all of Southeast Asia, and reaching a long arm into the Pacific by way of Indonesia. To effect this requires a stable, free government in South Viet Nam.

Such a government could have no permanence without the suppression of the Viet Cong. Even a negotiated settlement, given the present temper of the Asian Communists, cannot be reached without a greater measure of military success than has thus far been possible in Viet Nam. But it is inconceivable the Viet Cong be checked, much less put down, without at least effective government in Saigon.

Is there a way out of this vicious circle?

The Administration appears to believe that the beginning must be made with the government in Saigon. Others argue that a direct American military campaign is essential if any government in Saigon is to have any viability.

Which of these two courses is correct depends upon a large number of factors, relatively unknown to the public. The American people, therefore, are in no position now to insist that their government choose a particular line of action.

But what they do have a right to demand is that whatever the government does shall be based on realities, not upon theories, either of government or of military origin.

U.S. Aid to Business Holds Fiscal Dilemma

When President KENNEDY's depressed area program was under debate in 1961, opponents raised a pertinent question. They asked what the Federal government's responsibility would be if a plant established under the program turned out to be unprofitable. Would the government then be bound to keep it in operation?

The question arises anew following collapse of the first big effort to revive the economy of Appalachia by using Federal aid to help create a new industrial establishment. In the face of mounting debts, a West Virginia woodworking venture, initiated in 1962 with $1.8 million in Federal financing, has been forced to close its doors.

★ ★ ★

Many of the 100 men put out of work clearly regard the plant as a Federally protected project. Said one worker, "We never thought the government would let them close it. But I'm glad they got that company out of there. Maybe they'll send a new boss down from Washington to run it right."

But government officials have no authority to run the plant. At best they can try to find a buyer and give him technical assistance, and possibly new financing help.

Industrial and commercial loans under the Area Redevelopment program now number 379, representing about $165.5 million in taxpayer money. In most cases, the loans were extended at the maximum 65 per cent of financing permitted by law for firms unable to obtain bank loans. These 379 facilities are said to employ 42,668 persons.

But the recent failure dramatizes the risks that are taken when the government finances commercial activity in places where businesses no longer are able to operate without assistance from taxpayers.

Burch's Decision Sign of Change

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — Dean Burch's decision to quit as chairman of the Republican National Committee April 1 is a major defeat for former Sen. Barry Goldwater. But it made some other things clear, too.

MARLOW

Goldwaterites will not run the Republican party; Goldwater is definitely not its leader any longer; Republican governors and former President Dwight D. Eisenhower and former Vice President Richard M. Nixon charted the road for Burch's exit.

Many, if not most, Republicans would have felt Goldwater controlled the party chairman so long as the 37-year-old Burch remained as chairman. He had been the senator's loyal lieutenant for years and had been handpicked by him as party chairman for a four-year term.

The cries of "Burch must go" began shortly after the November election. Burch didn't accept this and began to fight to retain his job.

On Dec. 5 Republican governors called for an overhaul of the National Committee and, without mentioning Burch by name, said the National Committee should "adopt leadership which clearly represents a broad view of Republicanism."

Four days later Goldwater went to New York to confer with Eisenhower and Nixon.

MUST GIVE GROUND

The three agreed Republican unity could be achieved if opposing factions gave a little ground.

Later in December, Goldwater wrote the committee members to say he would be glad to recommend Burch's replacement if it would help unify the party.

Then Burch wrote all 132 committee members, saying his resignation had been called for on the grounds that he was a "symbol" of Goldwater and the "so-called conservative faction."

"If this is true," he added, "then my resignation under pressure at this time would clearly be interpreted as a repudiation by the Republican party of all those voters who identified themselves with responsible conservative Republicanism."

But Goldwater and Burch finally, after a nose-count, concluded that while Burch could win a vote of confidence from the committee it would not be big enough to provide a mandate.

So, with Goldwater standing beside him, Burch said Tuesday he would quit in April to make way for Ray Bliss, Ohio's Republican chairman.

We Can Afford The Money, But—

David Lawrence Asks:

Is New York Poverty-Stricken?

WASHINGTON — New York City is supposed to be the richest city in the world, and New York State is often referred to as the wealthiest in the union.

LAWRENCE

But the Empire State is evidently being regarded here as a "poverty-stricken" area in dire need of federal funds.

For administration officials admit that, out of the appropriations for education which President Johnson has recommended to Congress, New York State is expected to get close to $92 million in the first year of the program.

New York City itself, according to Washington officials, may get almost $50 million as its share.

Much of this sum is to be made available to what are called "poverty - impacted" school districts.

★ ★ ★

The theory is that, because the residents of the area have low incomes, the schools are "poor" in quality.

UNREALISTIC

This, of course, is unrealistic, because funds for schools are provided by the state, counties and cities, irrespective of the income of individual citizens in any given school district.

Many cities have slum areas, but does it become, therefore, the sole obligation of the federal government to deal with them?

The situation is reminiscent of what happened in the 1930s in the midst of a deep depression.

★ ★ ★

At that time, many citizens were placed on "relief" and the government developed "made work" programs to help the unemployed.

But today the nation is supposed to be "prosperous." The state governments are raising unprecedented amounts of revenue. Personal income in most of the states is up by many percentage points.

Yet the federal government is expected to hand out money to the rich states and the rich cities in order to deal with "poverty-stricken" areas.

The question arises as to how long the federal government can keep up an outflow of money without regard for a balanced budget or a surplus out of which to make annual payments on the public debt.

★ ★ ★

The present mood in Washington is to spend more money for education and for medical care.

THEIR DUTY

For many decades, the states have felt it was their duty to handle problems in the field of education and public health.

But the federal government has begun to appropriate such vast sums in these two fields that it begins to look as if the states will play a diminishing role in both areas.

There is no reason why the schools in a slum district should be treated any differently than the schools in a prosperous section of the city.

There is no justification for assuming that education is of an inferior quality in one part of a city just because the residents happen to be poor people.

Bob Considine Says:

Fete to Honor Journalist Who Gave Me My Start

NEW YORK—The fellow who must be held responsible for smuggling me into the newspaper business, Shirley Povich of the Washington Post, gets the Grantland Rice Memorial Trophy tonight at the Americana Hotel.

CONSIDINE

It's another jewel in Shirley's crown, as luminous as his distinction of being the only male ever listed in the who's who of well-known American women.

Shirley ruined my promising career as a tennis bum one day in 1929. I was District of Columbia singles champion, for some reason or other that slips me now, worked as a clerk in the State Department, and had a crazy notion that the Washington papers were neglecting tennis news.

I batted out a column of items and spread it before Denman Tompson, sports editor of the Washington Star. Denman said sorry, or ugh, but the Star already had a tennis columnist—fellow named Bill Tilden.

It was a long walk back to the State Department that day of defeat. The path led past the Post. Shirley happened to be at his desk.

BIGGER THAN LIFE

He read the piece, said he'd let me know, didn't, but in the following Sunday's sports pages there it was, bigger and more beautiful than life, under the heading of "Speaking of Tennis."

He paid me five bucks. It was the biggest fin I ever made, before or since. Lived like a king on it, taxes being what they were in those days.

Anyway, a year later Shirley's regular high school reporter, Bill Dismer, quit for something better, the hardware game, and Shirley whistled for me to come and work full-time.

★ ★ ★

The Depression-mired paper's "receiver" must have been off that day, or his back was turned. The rest of the sports staff — Walter Haight, Jack Espey, Frank Young, Tony Atchison, John Hinkel—accepted me in time, particularly after I turned over to the department a trophy I won in the Middle Atlantic doubles, a cocktail shaker.

A JOY

Working for Shirley was a joy. We hated to go home nights when the last edition was proudly put to bed, and sometimes we didn't.

We'd drive out to Jimmy La Fontaine's, the gambling hell built exactly on the boundary line between the District of Columbia and Maryland.

More nights than one, Shirley won our rent money at Jimmy's with a hot hand and earnest supplication to the dice. Classy shooter.

★ ★ ★

He was the only one of us fancy enough to belong to the National Press Club, too. We'd dine there in splendor, on him, whenever we could and always order the best—the steak sandwich dinner which cost 45 cents.

SHOWED ME WAY

One day Shirley took me off high school sports . . . and showed me the way to New York.

I miss those days. I miss my old buddy, too. It will be great to be a part of his reverent claque at the Americana.

In Washington:

Dissension in Viet Cong Units

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Vietnamese contacts have just sent me word from friends who have relatives out with the Red guerrillas that there's growing dissension in a considerable number of Viet Cong units.

CROMLEY

These messages are numerous in the rice-rich delta areas of South Viet Nam where Red troops and their political agitators have done well.

The reports indicate that in some areas numbers of non-Communist nationalist Vietnamese who joined up with the Viet Cong years ago — to fight the French, the Diem government or hated local officials — are becoming disillusioned with the Communists.

★ ★ ★

This disillusionment reportedly began to appear in recent months as the Red Chinese stepped up sharply the number of their "advisers" in South Viet Nam.

In effect, these Chinese apparently have taken actual command of numerous Viet Cong military and political action units.

This influx of advisers reportedly has caused some guerrillas and some guerrilla-cooperators to feel that the Communist Viet Cong is dominated by Chinese and run from Peking.

★ ★ ★

Vietnamese do not like Chinese running their affairs. The Chinese have time and again conquered their country. The hatred is especially strong in the extreme south, which has a rich history of outsmarting and outfighting the Chinese.

In some areas, knowledgeable Vietnamese estimate that 40 to 45 per cent of those with the Viet Cong are not Communists, but people who could be won back to the loyalist side.

Some of these men have hinted to their relatives that they'd like to desert.

But however many of these non-Communists there are and however many hints they have sent home, there are so far no concrete signs that they are actually preparing to desert in any appreciable numbers.

These wavereres don't know what the Vietnamese government would do to them. Many are afraid the Communists would retaliate by killing them or members of their families.

While in Viet Nam a few months back, a series of talks with Viet Cong defectors brought out one point clearly: the Reds had regularly attempted to assassinate those who defected and went home. One defector showed me the blast marks where a Viet Cong grenade had exploded against the wall inside his room.

★ ★ ★

If this disillusionment is widespread among Viet Cong guerrilla forces, the time would be ripe for an imaginative psychological warfare program that would increase that dissension and encourage desertions.

Meanwhile, this dissension indicates no collapse of the Viet Cong effort. All reports indicate that things are likely to get worse for the U.S.-Vietnamese forces before they get better. But this dissension may open a door toward improving things if we are alert enough to seize upon it.

Kudos to Ellerie Wolfer of Highland for saying it's time for middle class Americans to unite against Mr. Johnson's "Great Society." We are heavily taxed by Federal, State, City and County governments and pay exorbitant insurances to protect our property. Charities constantly dun us for contributions.

Everyone is constantly digging into our meager incomes until one day we will all be reduced to the level of being considered "poverty stricken." Then who will pay the cost of our "Great Society." It's time someone woke up before we are reduced to a third-rate nation.

Actually Forecasts Crimes

Computer Now Valuable Partner to Police

NEW YORK (NEA) — Quietly, a patrol car turns into a street off a busy avenue and parks at the curb. Shortly afterward, three men head down the avenue in a late model sedan. They stop just before reaching a liquor store and two hurry inside to rob the proprietor.

From the opposite end of the block, a dilapidated convertible with two plainclothes detectives moves slowly toward the getaway car.

Inside the store, the thugs lock the owner and a customer in the back room, and raid the cash register.

Minutes later, the plainclothesmen in the convertible hold the driver at gunpoint while the patrolmen seize the robbers inside.

★ ★ ★

It sounds like a classic piece of law enforcement — but there is a difference.

SPEEDY PARTNER

The crime had been predicted by the policeman's speediest partner, an electronic computer.

Criminal data processing spans a broad field ranging from a punched card machine to a complex computer.

Although the punched card machine was invented at the end of the 19th century, only recently have police departments found special applications for their problems.

★ ★ ★

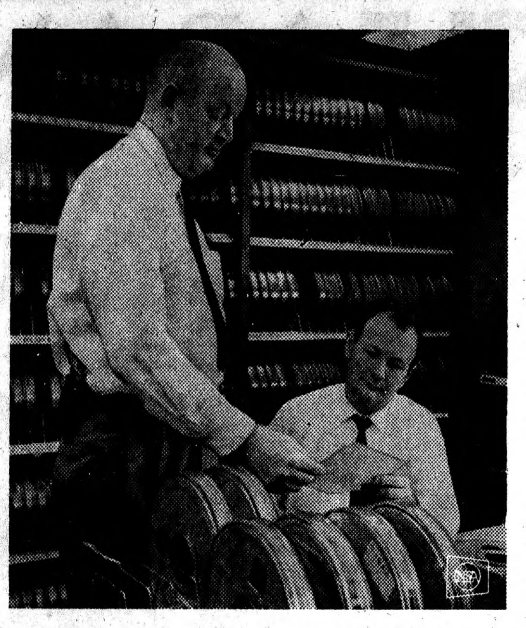
FORESEE CRIME

Throughout the United States today, advances in data processing and availability of equipment help an increasing number of cities to foresee crime, get rapid-fire criminal identification and co-ordinate traffic violations with payment of fines.



BIG PICTURE — A New York policeman makes request for fingerprint stored on magnetic tape. When computer filing is complete, police will be able to search through 300,000 sets of prints in one hour.

Computer crime reports in the metropolitan areas, Chicago and New York in particular, free policemen from time-consuming paper work for more active duty in investigating, making arrests and covering beats.

New York's "crime index" tells the exact location of every crime on every beat in every precinct.

In Chicago, an IBM 1401 computer analyzes criminals' methods of operation and isolates potential trouble spots.

For example, administrators coming to work Tuesday morning get a daily report of 5,000 calls for service occurring from midnight Sunday through midnight Monday.

The statistics pinpoint areas where more patrolmen are needed to stop crime before it starts.

How does data processing help identify criminals?

★ ★ ★

Say that in Los Angeles, a gunman about 6 feet tall, wearing an Army surplus jacket and leather sandals, heists a liquor store.

WITHIN SECONDS

If the victim notifies the authorities right away, a list of suspects can be in a detective's hands within seconds after the call.

Under the old system, the procedure took anywhere from minutes to days, depending on the nature of the case.

Modern data processing's speed makes it possible for a detective, working from a computer-produced suspect list, to be en route to question the actual robber before he gets home with the cash.

★ ★ ★

Major police departments from Fort Worth, Tex., to New York are currently transferring their massive files of fingerprint sets to magnetic tapes for computer use.

24 HOURS

When New York completes its enormous job of converting more than 4 million sets onto the tapes, it will be able to examine all of them, if necessary, by computer within 24 hours.

The chore would take two men a century to perform by hand.

Since the cards are now filed 75,000 to a cabinet, the reels of tape also represent a saving of space.

★ ★ ★

A half dozen, each slightly smaller than a movie reel, can hold all the information.

MOST VALUABLE

Michael J. Murphy, commissioner of police, calls the department's IBM 1401 "The most valuable tool of law enforcement in years."

Data processing acts as an auxiliary policeman in Hartford, Conn., when a cop gives a ticket.

★ ★ ★

Each week, a regular check determines whether the ticket has been paid.

AUTOMATICALLY

If not, the system automatically produces a delinquent notice for the violator. Finally, he receives a court summons.

Proof of the system's effectiveness lies in a recent Hartford report.

Records show 80 per cent collections, a 30 per cent increase over tickets previously paid before arriving at the summons level.

Revenues rose significantly, too.

NET INCREASE

While the number of tickets issued in two years used for comparison, 1960 and 1962, remained about the same, in 1962, the city netted $300,000, an increase of $80,000 over the 1960 figures.

Because of its increasing effectiveness in crime prediction, criminal identification and crack down on scofflaws, data processing plays an ever-broadening role as the policeman's speediest partner.

★ ★ ★

This means that the successful criminals of tomorrow will have to add a legitimate speciality to their dubious assets: they'll need to be data processing experts, too.

Bats in Belfry Fail to Chase Mosquitoes

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — The results of a 1929 experiment remain on Sugar Loaf Key, 15 miles north of here. A tall, shingled, windowless tower is a reminder of an antimosquito campaign that failed.

The tower was built by Richter Perky, who had discovered that mosquitoes were the biggest handicap to development of a fishing resort for wealthy sportsmen.

A Texas scientist had explained to him that bats, emerging from the tower, would destroy the mosquitoes.

The tower was constructed and baited with the scientist's special bat bait to lure bats into residence in the tower.

★ ★ ★

The unexpected happened, however. The 1929 hurricane blew the bat bait into the Gulf of Mexico.

SCIENTIST DIES

A call to Texas for more bait revealed that the scientist had died, leaving behind neither bait nor formula.

Bats were imported and placed in the tower, but they all disappeared.

The bat tower still stands — but legend reports that the mosquitoes ate the bats.

Can you name the 6 reasons Martini devotees prefer the glorious Gordon's Martini?

1 To this day, the ancient pot still method is used in distilling Gordon's Gin. 2 Only gin from the heart of the run is bottled for Gordon's. 3 Gordon's uses only juniper berries and other choice botanicals aged to the peak of maturity. 4 Gordon's is extraordinarily dry. 5 Gordon's has a distinctively delicate flavour. 6 Gordon's maintains its exceptional quality because it still harks back to Alexander Gordon's original formula created in England in 1769. Reasons enough for enjoying a Glorious Gordon's Martini soon, wouldn't you say?

Rash of Murders Stirs Officials

Philadelphia in Crime Wave?

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Does almost a murder a day — 13 since New Year's Eve — constitute a crime wave in Philadelphia?

"No," says Philadelphia Police Commissioner Howard Leary. "The current pattern is typical for this time of year."

★ ★ ★

"Yes," says Councilman Edward McNulty, who is demanding more policemen patroling beats on foot. He said people are afraid to walk the streets at night. In some neighborhoods, they're afraid even in daytime.

"No," says City Managing Director Fred T. Corleto. "Every major city in the nation has experienced an increase in crime over the past decade — and it's lower in Philadelphia than in New York, Chicago, Los Angeles and Detroit."

PUBLIC OUTCRY

Corleto said the public outcry has been loud over the number of homicides in Philadelphia since mid-December — 29 killings. Seven occurred in a 36-hour period Dec. 31-Jan. 1.

"The facts show that every one of the 10 largest cities in the nation has experienced similar increases," said Corleto.

Leary said his statistics show that violent crimes in Philadelphia "annually increase from a period beginning about Thanksgiving and ending several weeks into the new year."

There were 188 homicides in Philadelphia last year, 43 per cent more than the 116 in 1963. Of the 188, Leary said, police solved 180 and "we have made arrests in eight of the 11 committed this year."

GOOD JOB

Mayor James H. J. Tate said the police have been doing a good job. He places part of the responsibility for a breakdown of law enforcement on lenient judges.

"We need to crack down on criminals," said Tate.

★ ★ ★

The current rash of murders apparently are unconnected. They have occurred in every section of the city.

Last week Leary assigned some policemen to do detective work. This week he announced plans to hire 30 additional detectives, increasing this force to 420.

Sukarno Asks Study on Borneo

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — President Sukarno called today for a new investigation by an African-Asian commission or by the United Nations of whether the people of North Borneo want to remain in Malaysia.

Sukarno said he would abide by the decision of either group and added, "Am I not peaceful?"

"I am for a peaceful solution of the Malaysia issue," Sukarno told newsmen, "but let us investigate the real feelings of the people of North Kalimantan."

(North Kalimantan is the name the Indonesians apply to Malaysia's North Borneo states of Sabah and Sarawak.)

★ ★ ★

Asked if he would agree to a second investigation by a United Nations mission in Sabah and Sarawak although Indonesia has withdrawn from the U.N., Sukarno replied:

ANY DECISION

"Yes, I am calling on (Malaysian prime minister) Tunku Abdul Rahman to come back. I shall abide by any decision of an Afro-Asian study commission. I will (also) abide by any decision of a United Nations commission."

A U.N. team in August and September of 1963 conducted a survey to ascertain whether the peoples of Sabah and Sarawak wanted to join Malaysia.

The result was positive, but Indonesia rejected it with the contention that it was held under the threat of British bayonets.

★ ★ ★

The Federation of Malaysia was proclaimed despite Indonesia's objection in mid-September 1963.

PROPOSAL ACCEPTED

Sukarno had said previously the Malaysia dispute could be solved by a plebiscite in Sabah and Sarawak. He also accepted Philippine President Diosdado Macapagal's proposal that an African-Asian conciliatory commission seek a solution of the dispute.

Malaysia also agreed to the proposed African-Asian commission but demanded that Indonesia first withdraw its guerrillas from Malaysian Borneo. This Sukarno refused to do.

Meanwhile, combat-ready Gurkha troops from Hong Kong landed in Malaysian Borneo today and immediately began moving toward the Indonesian border, where Indonesian troops have been reported massing.

★ ★ ★

Some of the famed Nepalese jungle fighters were flown to the border area by helicopter. Others moved overland to forward posts to ready for patrol duty along the border.

GURKHAS

The first plane load of Gurkhas took off from Hong Kong before dawn and landed in Kuching a few hours later.

Shuttle flights of Royal Air Force four-engine Britannias will complete the airlift of the 500-man battalion to Borneo within the next five days. They will bring the number of British Commonwealth troops in Borneo to 10,000.

Steel Union Issue Strike Deadline

CHICAGO (UPI) — The United Steelworkers (USW), its contract talks with the steel industry recessed until a fight for control of the union is resolved, today faced another possible internal struggle.

The battle could develop over whether the union will extend its strike deadline against the nation's "Big 11" basic steel producers.

Union President David J. McDonald, fighting for his $50,000-a-year job against Secretary-Treasurer I. W. Abel, has put his prestige on the line in an effort to convince the powerful wage policy committee not to extend the deadline.

The wage policy committee and the union's executive board scheduled meetings today and McDonald and Abel were on hand.

★ ★ ★

The suggestion that the April 30 strike deadline be extended came from the steel industry, which also pressed for and won the recess in contract negotiations pending the outcome of the union's Feb. 9 elections.

REGAIN TIME

The industry contended that the time lost in bargaining should be tacked onto the strike deadline.

Vigilantes Alarm NY Police Boss

NEW YORK (AP) — Police Commissioner Michael J. Murphy is alarmed by the mushrooming growth of vigilante groups here.

As head of a 27,000-member force, he is faced with an increase of crimes against women.

★ ★ ★

As the crimes are reported, vigilante groups have popped up to guard single apartment buildings, housing developments and whole neighborhoods.

Wednesday night that he believes such activity is a police responsibility that he does not intend to hand over or share with any group "no matter how well-intentioned."

HAZARDOUS

"The civilian, lacking the legal and tactical training given police," he said, "lacking arms and the knowledge of how and where to use them, is in a tenuous and hazardous position.

★ ★ ★

"Should they constitute themselves as self-appointed peace officers, they must realize they have no true police power and that they themselves will be subject to police action for any illegal act."

Rainy in N. California? They Got the Message

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)— It's official. The California Department of Water Resources says it rained a lot last month in the northern half of the state.

Victims of the Christmas week flood disaster will offer no argument. Actually, the state agency said yesterday, rainfall last month ranged up to 400 per cent above normal.

Waterford, Northern Cagers to Clash Friday

Series Success of PNH Stirs Family 'Feud'

Improving Skippers Seeking I-L Upset; Walled Lake Home

Dick Hall is the basketball coach at Pontiac Northern.

They are father and daughter. As the successful PNH mentor tells it, during the cage season there is little peace around the Hall household — particularly since the Huskies set a school record of 104 points against Waterford last winter!

Undoubtedly feelings are higher than ever this week since the two schools will tangle on the Township court Friday.

The Waterford record is much improved over last year's and the Skippers are fresh off a 70-67 win over arch-rival Kettering Tuesday, their third victory in four starts.

★ ★ ★

Waterford is 3-3 on the year, the same as PNH. However, the Huskies are 1-0 in the Inter-Lakes League while their host is 0-1.

Northern whipped Walled Lake in the loop opener last Friday while the Township quintet was surprised by Farmington. The latter will visit Walled Lake in the other I-L contest Friday.

SERIES EDGE

Northern has won nine of the 12 games played between the two basketball squads, including the last five in a row. Hall has only had one losing season overall while at PNH.

Waterford coach Bob Taylor is in his second season. In light of the 104-49 debacle last season and the continued league dominance by Northern, a win Friday would most likely be the biggest thrill he's had . . . even surpassing the triumph over Kettering.

The Huskies will be favored. The game will provide a physical test for them, also, since Saturday they must travel to Ann Arbor for a game against the Pioneers which should be a good scrap.

Two of the area's top scorers will see action in the Northern-Skippers clash. Roger Hayward, PNH's all-state candidate, does everything on the court for Hall. His scoring average is 25 points per game and he also rebounds in double figures.

Rick Ziem has a 20 ppg average for Waterford. Like Hayward, he is the key to the attack and must have a top all-around performance if the Skippers are to upset PNH.

★ ★ ★

The Farmington-Walled Lake contest could leave Northern alone atop the I-L if it can get by Waterford. The Falcons do not appear strong or big enough to get by Walled Lake on the Vikings' floor.

The latter ironed out some lineup problems Tuesday in nipping Redford Union and will be anxious to square its league record at 1-1 as well as Farmington's now spotless mark.

With former University of Michigan football coach Benny Oosterbaan main speaker and Bill Flemming, Detroit sportscaster, as toastmaster, the annual event will have an all-sport representation.

Last year a record 1,100 fathers and sons attended the sports bust.

Among the sports representatives expected to attend are: Don Lund, Hank Aguirre and Beach, ex-PCH star with the Cleveland Browns.

STARTS FAST—Roy Lown, 34, of Brockton, Mass., is off to a fast start in the 24th annual All-Star Bowling tournament in Philadelphia. He opened with a 300 game, the first on opening day in he 24-year history of the event.

300 Game, 1435 Series Mark All-Star Opening

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Roy Lown and Glenn Allison collaborated in a historic scoring binge at the $100,000 All-Star Bowling Tournament Wednesday and shattered several opening day records.

Lown, a slender southpaw from Brockton, Mass., fired the first opening day 300 in the 24-year-old history of the event.

★ ★ ★

Allison, a Brea, Calif. pro, took the lead in the 432-man field with a first-day record 1435 six game series. He rolled games of 220, 247, 206, 257 and 248.

Pontiac bowlers George Chicovksy and Mike Samardzija, Jr. had differing degrees of success. "Chico" stood 69th with a solid 1221 (233-170-233-183-191-211).

Samardzija could muster only 1097 pins on 184-170-171-205-190-177 games to rate well down the list.

LONE HONRO

Lown is the only contestant in All-Star history with two 300s. He rolled a perfect game in the 1962 edition in Miami Beach, and eventually finished second in that tournament behind champion Dick Weber of St. Louis.

Lown opened with 241 and 255 before unleashing his 300. He shot 254 in the next game, for an incredible four game average of 262. He stumbled to a 137 in the fifth game and closed with 204 for a second-place total of 1391.

While the relatively unheralded Lown and Allison were having a scoring field day, some of bowling's most famous names had difficulty solving the 36 lanes installed in the Convention Hall especially for this event.

★ ★ ★

Four-time titlist Don Carter of St. Louis mustered a 296th place six-game series of 1119. Former champions Bill Welu of Houston and Bill Tucker of Los Angeles shot 1212 and 1173, respectively.

Weber, the spindly St. Louisian who won the 1962 and 1963 All-Star crowns, fired a third-place 1367 series. Harry Smith, winner in 1960, was fourth with 1342.

Defending champion Bob Strampe of Detroit rolled a solid 1239, placing him 58th.

★ ★ ★

The men roll 12 more qualifying games today and Friday before the field is slashed to 216 for the quarter-finals.

Qualifying for the 216 member women's field begins Saturday.

Kramer Quitting Packers

Browns' Parrish Brews NFL Storm

CLEVELAND (AP) — Pete Rozelle and Paul Brown, living at opposite ends of the country, quietly go about their business while arguments over them continue here between the owner of the Cleveland Browns and one of his players.

Rozelle, National Football League commissioner, is in New York and Brown, former Browns' head coach, is in La Jolla, Calif.

Meanwhile, Bernie Parrish, Browns' defensive back and vice president of the NFL Players Association, said Wednesday a committee of the association will be here next week and likely will discuss specific charges against Rozelle. Parrish has said Rozelle doesn't represent the players "as we feel we should be represented."

He would like Rozelle replaced by Paul Brown.

★ ★ ★

Art Modell, Browns' owner, called Parrish's statement "outrageous and disgraceful" and suggested in a statement Wednesday that the six-year pro back retire if he wasn't happy with the NFL or ask to be traded.

NO COMMENT

Neither Rozelle nor Brown has commented on the situation.

Rozelle can only be replaced by a vote of the 14 NFL owners, who hired him in 1962 to a five-year contract at $60,000 a year. He has been NFL commissioner since 1960.

Brown, dropped by Modell two years ago, still is listed as a vice president of the club and makes an estimated $80,000 a year on a contract which has four years to go.

★ ★ ★

Parrish, 29, said the team representatives last week were unanimous in their discussions to unseat Rozelle. The Players Association met at Hollywood Beach, Fla., but he said the idea to make Brown NFL commissioner "was my own idea." A six-man players' committee, including association president Ordell Braase of the Baltimore Colts, will be here next week.

★ ★ ★

Modell, in Rozelle's defense, said "I'm going to have to assume that Parrish is speaking only as an individual and not for the NFL Players Association. Too many members of the association are familiar with Rozelle's efforts in their behalf.

AFL Owner Talks Here

Ralph Wilson, Jr., owner of the Buffalo Bills, will address the Pontiac Traffic Club's monthly meeting 6:30 p.m. Monday at the Hotel Waldron on the Development and Future of the American Football League.

Star End Seeks Spot on Lions

Detroit Native Beset by Family Situation

DETROIT (AP) —Veteran tight end Ron Kramer has told the Green Bay Packers he cannot play for them any more and wants to continue in professional football only if he can play for the Detroit Lions.

★ ★ ★

Kramer, who has played with the Packers since 1957, said he is faced with "a family situation" and that he doesn't want to leave his family any more.

Kramer's family has remained in Detroit during recent seasons. He has been away from his wife and two children for six months of every year.

His son, Curtis, 6, suffered a freak injury last year when hit in the eye by a shoelace and has undergone one operation and may need another.

Lions General Manager Edwin Anderson said he intended to call Packers Coach Vince Lombardi today to seek permission to talk to the 6-foot-3, 240-pound end.

★ ★ ★

"If he says no, we can't talk to Kramer," said Anderson.

Kramer was quoted as saying he had "talked it over with Lombardi, and he understands my problem."

Kramer made it plain there was no other reason for his quitting the Packers.

The 29-year-old Kramer is a former East Detroit High and University of Michigan star.

Warriors Trade Wilt to 76ers

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Wilt Chamberlain, the highest paid player in the National Basketball Association, was traded to the Philadelphia 76ers by the San Francisco Warriors late Wednesday night after he had played for the West in the league's All-Star game.

★ ★ ★

The Warriors received forward Lee Shaffer, guard Paul Neumann, reserve Connie Dierking and an undisclosed amount of cash for Chamberlain, who pulled down a reported $65,000 a year for his astronomical scoring and rebounding.

END RUMORS

The trade ended weeks of rumors and speculation that Wilt was on the block with numerous clubs bickering for his services, including the New York Knicks and the Los Angeles Lakers.

The 7-foot-1 Chamberlain, who never has averaged less than 33 points a game in the NBA and presently is scoring almost 40 points a contest in his sixth year in the league, will join the 76ers for their game tonight against Baltimore in Philadelphia.

★ ★ ★

Neumann, Dierking and Shaffer, who sat out the season after a salary dispute with the 76ers, will be ready to play Friday for the Warriors against New York in San Francisco.

Frank Mieuli, owner of the Warriors, jointly announced the trade with Irv Kosloff, president of the 76ers, shortly after the NBA All-Star game Wednesday night, won by the East 124-123.

Mieuli said that Shaffer had been contacted and told that he would play for the Warriors.

Both officials glowed over the trade and shrugged off any thoughts that Shaffer or Chamberlain are problem players.

"I'm told Shaffer is possibly a super star," Mieuli said. "He's been training in Durham, N.C., where he works for a trucking firm, and he's ready to play.

Neumann can be a great player and Dierking and the money are the equalizers."

Mieuli said the cash amounted to less than $100,000.

Eastern Stars Repel West 5

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Even playing against Oscar Robertson and Jerry Lucas, Red Auerbach manages to guide Bill Russell and the Boston Celtics to the Eastern Division title year after year in the National Basketball Association.

But Red and Russell gave professional basketball fans a glimpse Wednesday night of what might be if they could play with the Cincinnati stars, instead of against them. Not even a team of Western Division All-Stars managed to beat them.

The Big O, Big Bill and Luke took control of the 15th annual NBA All-Star game and led the East to a stirring 124-123 victory over the West after almost blowing a 20-point lead.

"Russell, Oscar and I played on that foreign tour this summer," Lucas said, "and we were used to a lot of the things we did on the court."

Lucas, who hit 12 of 19 shots for 25 points, grabbed 10 rebounds and won the Most Valuable Player award for the game. He attributed much of his shooting accuracy to being set up by Russell.

Luke scored 13 points in the first half and Robertson, notched 12. Russell clogged up the West's offense by forcing poor shots and bad passes, and the trio boosted the East to a 75-61 lead at intermission. When the margin grew to 20 several times in the third period, it looked like a runaway.

★ ★ ★

But with Russell in foul trouble and Lucas taking a breather, the West began to hit the mark and climbed within 110-107 as a record-breaking crowd of 16,713 roared its approval.

Only Oscar, who scored seven of the East's first eight points in the final 12 minutes, kept the lead until the big boys returned.

★ ★ ★

Lucas hit a basket for a 122-111 spread. Robertson dropped two more free throws with 1:15 left for the decisive points and a 124-117 margin before the West made its final, but futile, flurry.

More Games on Grid Program?

HOUSTON (AP) — The football season isn't over yet. Always time for one more. The floating All-Star game of the American Football League will be played Saturday at Jeppesen Stadium. Already they are dreaming up games to lengthen next season.

The AFL is considering a proposal to add a new game in early August at New York's Shea Stadium between the league champion Buffalo Bills and the AFL All Stars.

If Ralph Wilson, owner of the Bills, and Sonny Werblin, the New York Jet owner who distributes $400,000 bonus checks, both are in favor of the game—its chances are good. The league will take action later this week.

NO CONFLICT

There will be no conflict between this game and the All-America game among pro rookies in Buffalo June 27 or the College All-Star game in Chicago Aug. 6.

In the Chicago game the National Football League champion Cleveland Browns play rookie all-stars from both leagues.

If the AFL goes along with the new game it will upset the training plans of its clubs. Each team would have to give up a number of regulars to form an all-star team just a few days before the exhibition season starts.

The same clubs already will have lost rookies to the Chicago game.

Mike Holovak, general manager and coach of the Boston Patriots, says he is willing to cooperate if he can be shown that the new game is for the good of the league.

In the meantime, the two teams for Saturday's transplanted game are down to a one-a-day practice session after a series of double workouts.

★ ★ ★

Coach Sid Gillman of San Diego, who bosses the West team, has added defensive back Dick Westmoreland to replace halfback Billy Cannon, who has problems getting away from dental school. Gillman reports flanker back Lance Alworth and fullback Keith Lincoln, injured in late season games, will be ready to start.

BILLS DOMINATE

The East team, coached by Lou Saban of Buffalo, will have a strong Buffalo tinge to its attack. Both ends Elbert Dubenion and Ernie Warlick and fullback Cookie Gilchrist are Buffalo stars. So is Jack Kemp, the No. 2 quarterback behind Boston's Babe Parilli.

Both coaches reported their charges in good spirits despite the switch in sites from New Orleans on short notice when 21 Negro players complained they were victims of racial discrimination. Advance ticket sales is spotty.

★ ★ ★

The AFL is expected to follow recommendations of the National Collegiate Athletic Association to prevent premature signing of college athletes until after bowl games. Commissioner Joe Foss said he had a "very pleasant conversation" in Chicago with NCAA officials. The NFL already has banned such signings.
