

Airport Master Plan Is Up for Action by County Board

By ED BLUNDEN
A master plan for the Oakland-Pontiac Airport received approval by the Oakland County Board of Supervisors Aviation Committee yesterday.
Its most prominent features include proposals to drop a north-south runway plan and to construct 400 small hangars.
The master plan will be submitted for board of supervisors' approval at 9 a.m. meeting Friday at the County Service Center.
Submitting the plan was Robert Peckham of Peckham Engineering, airport consultants, of East Lansing.
Peckham also announced that a master plan for the county-owned Allen Airport in Orion Township would be ready within 60 days. The two studies were ordered by the County Board of Auditors in February of this year.
Peckham said the present facility in Waterford Township is near the capacity level of 200,000 operations per year.

The proposed expansion would add an expected 100,000 per year potential.
This would require purchasing of about 80 acres to the north and smaller parcels to the east and west. Private firms are said to be acquiring land for commercial-industrial facilities to the south.
Key to expansion plans is installation of the federal government's Instrument Landing System (ILS). This facility would provide all-weather service for large planes, including jet craft, and would be installed at U.S. expense as part of a nationwide system.
However, land and property acquisitions are mostly the responsibility of local authorities, it was explained.
IMPORTANT TO WATERFORD
Elmer R. Johnson, Waterford Township supervisor and also member of the aviation committee, said the elimination of plans for a north-south runway at the site was important to his community.
He said development of adjacent property, particularly along William Lake Road, had been held up since 1963. At that time a master plan had been approved which called for the proposed future construction of a north-south runway which would have entailed purchase of more property in Waterford Township than is now being called for.

Negro Mayors Elected; GOP Sees Win Pattern

WASHINGTON — Cleveland Democrat Carl B. Stokes has become the first Negro elected mayor of a major American city, but Republicans claimed a pattern of victory and an omen for 1968 when in off-year elections which gave the GOP Kentucky's governorship and New Jersey's legislature.
Another Negro Democrat, Richard G. Hatcher, came out of the mayoral balloting in Gary, Ind., with a winning margin of 1,495, but his white opponent, Joseph Radigan, charged fraud, and certification of the result was held up.
Radigan contended that in two precincts where Hatcher gathered topheavy majorities "more voters voted than were on the rolls."
The issue was to be put before the same federal court to which Hatcher had gone with his own pre-election fraud complaint.
In a third race-tinged contest for mayor Boston voters rejected the backlash-oriented campaign of Louise Day Hicks.
MATHEMATICS OF RACE
In Gary as in Cleveland, the mathematics of race was the crucial factor.
And the issue of Negro-white balance in the public schools was a key question in Boston, where Secretary of State Kevin H. White was elected mayor in a nonpartisan runoff.
Republican National Chairman Ray C. Bliss saw in the election returns evidence "that the upsurge in Republican strength which began in 1966 is continuing."
Democratic Chairman John M. Bailey said he discerned no trend at all.
RECLAIM OFFICE

Federal Funds Committed to Rental Project in Pontiac

Officials of the Federal Housing Authority in Detroit today issued a commitment for federal funds assuring construction of 200 rent supplement housing units in the northwest section of Pontiac.
Developer Charles F. Langs was on hand this morning to sign contracts which call for a $156,000 subsidy by the federal government.
Eddie McGloin, director of the Detroit insuring office of FHA, said the project, titled Northhill Farms, will be the first rent supplement project in the metropolitan area to begin construction.
The federal money is to be applied to 200 rental units to be constructed on Kennett adjacent to the Alcott Elementary School.
Construction will start as soon as possible, Langs said.
This is the first of three phases that are presently planned. Fruition of plans could lead to 700 such units on a 50-acre site.
Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. at the contract signing said there is a great demand for such units in Pontiac. "We're happy to get this finally approved," he said.
Under the program, renters with low income would have to pay 25 per cent of their monthly income for rent and the government would subsidize the difference between that and the required rent.

City Income Tax Need Stressed

As far as new finances for the city's operating fund go, all of Pontiac's eggs are in one basket and that is the income tax package which the City Commission hopes will go into effect Jan. 1.

In essence, that's what Director of Law Sherwin M. Birnkrant told the City Commission last night.

Birnkrant said the income tax is the only new tax the city can hope for until July 1969 because the only alternative to an income tax is a raise in the property tax levy.

No raise in that levy, which would have to be approved by city voters in a charter amendment election, could be achieved before then even if the commission were to make moves in that direction immediately, he said.

Birnkrant also reported that petition circulators who are seeking to force a referendum election on the income tax ordinance enacted by the city commission recently have until Dec. 15 to come up with the required number of signatures.

LEGAL OPINION

The director of law said this is based on a legal opinion rendered by City Gen. Frank J. Kelley which was received this week.

Birnkrant had requested the opinion because of a change in laws governing tax enactment by municipalities. The law was passed by the State Legislature this year.

Kelley's opinion gives those circulating petitions a month longer than previously supposed to obtain the required number of signatures.

Some 1,100 valid signatures of registered electors are needed to call for the referendum vote.

SERIOUS PROBLEMS

Workers Jump Gun on UAW Deadline

DETROIT (AP) — More than 24,000 Chrysler Corp. workers jumped the gun on a midnight strike deadline today, closing down nearly a quarter of the No. 3 auto maker's operations.

The walkouts at eight plants came as bargainers for the company and the United Auto Workers union passed the 24-hour mark in a marathon attempt to write a new three-year contract before the deadline.

The mushrooming stoppages raised the possibility more of Chrysler's 103,000 UAW members would go out during the day even if quick agreement is reached and that Chrysler was likely to suffer substantial production loss.

Once agreement is reached on the national contract, local agreements must be written for 131 bargaining units at Chrysler's 17 plants in 12 states.

18,000 WALK OFF JOBS

A midmorning check by company officials showed workers out at plants in Delaware, Missouri and Michigan.

Some 18,000 workers actually walked off the job with another 6,000 at the Joliet assembly plant in Detroit idled by a parts shortage resulting from a refusal to work by 600 truckers.

There were no indications from the bargaining table as to what progress had been made in the session that started at 10 a.m. yesterday.

Negotiators are trying to fit to Chrysler a record three-year contract gained at Ford Motor Co. two weeks ago after a 45-day strike.

NOW GETTING BACK

Ford is just now getting back into production because local agreements, like those at Chrysler, had not been settled when the national contract was signed.

Warmer Weather to Stay Till Friday

The weatherman is giving us another fling at Indian summer as temperatures are expected to climb into the 40s and 50s through Friday.

Today's mostly sunny skies will become partly overcast tonight with the low in the 30s.

Partly cloudy with not much change in temperature is the forecast for tomorrow.

Partly cloudy with near-normal temperatures, the high near 51 and low of 34, is the outlook for Friday.

Twenty-four was the low temperature in downtown Pontiac before 8 a.m. The mercury had warmed up to 42 by 2 p.m.

Hudson Launches Job Program

The program involves two major steps.
● Selecting and hiring 250 students who would be potential school dropouts.
● Providing an opportunity of employment in order to supplement family income, or students who are currently dropouts who would return to school with the promise of employment. These students would be referred to J. L. Hudson Co. by Detroit inner-city and Pontiac area, high school administrators.

● Selecting and hiring 250 hard-core unemployed who will be referred to the company by inner-city and Pontiac area church leaders.

Hudson further announced the appointment of Norrpin Johnson, downtown store supervisor of selling operations, to the new position of director of community training programs under the direction of Dexter H. Ware, vice president and director of personnel.

Dem Senator Slates Talks, Testing Opposition to LBJ

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., takes soundings in four key states this weekend to plumb the depth of Democratic party opposition to President Johnson's Vietnam policies.

In connection with scheduled speeches in St. Paul, Minn., on Thursday, Ann Arbor, Mich., on Friday, Boston on Saturday and Chicago on Sunday, McCarthy said he plans talks with party leaders to learn the extent of anti-Johnson sentiment in their areas.

McCarthy, who has said he believes there is widespread Democratic discontent with personalities but of issues. It Johnson's war policies, indicates his findings on the week-end tour may help him decide whether to oppose the President in some 1968 presidential primaries.

The Minnesota senator, whose name was one Johnson mentioned in 1964 to conceal for a time his choice of Hubert H. Humphrey as his vice presidential running mate, denied in an interview Tuesday that he and the President have reached a political parting of the ways.

NO PERSONAL CONFLICT

"You don't reach a point of no return in politics," McCarthy said.

"The question here is not one of personalities but of issues. It is better to have the party operate divided on such issues as Vietnam than to try to cover up the division by a false front of unity."

He said Johnson's attacks on his Democratic war critics have not contributed to party discussion of the issues.

"The President has had experience in handling cattle," he said.

"You start them slowly and then stampede them. He doesn't understand that that same psychology can be applied to people."

MAY ENTER PRIMARIES

McCarthy said if he reads the signs as favorable he might enter four or five primaries as Johnson's opponent. Presumably he could get his name on the April 30 Massachusetts and June 11 Illinois ballots.

If he keeps on talking like a candidate he might also be entered in the New Hampshire, Wisconsin, Nebraska and Oregon primaries, where officials select candidates to be put on the ballot.

McCarthy said he won't be worrying about finances if he decides to put on primary campaigns. He noted his expenses will be paid in connection with his speeches on this weekend's tour.

And he predicted Democrats who aren't contributing to the regular party organization because they oppose Johnson's Vietnam policies could be expected to chip in. He noted the regular party organization in California is being cramped for funds in this connection.

Saturn Poised for Key Flight

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The Saturn 5 superrocket is poised today for Thursday's high-stakes flight to test its worthiness as a thoroughbred workhorse of the American space program.

Technicians scrambled in the shadow of the 36-story high machine to complete the countdown ticking toward 7 a.m. EST Thursday launch.

The workmen spent Tuesday reworking an Apollo spacecraft, much like the one astronauts will use for the moon trip, for its ride atop Saturn 5. Today's chores called for check-outs and first fueling of the rocket itself.

Worksheets for today were punctuated with stop-points where the space agency must decide if things are going well enough to continue. If work lags, a built-in 7½-hour hold can be used to catch up, and a Thursday launch could be delayed to as late as Monday.

Never before has the space agency launched anything as big, powerful and complicated as Saturn 5, but this is the vehicle built to send Americans on their way to the moon.

The mighty ship is crammed with equipment untested, in space. Although its maiden flight is to be unmanned and only 8½ hours long, cameras and sensors aboard seek answers to thousands of open questions about the rocket's limitations.

Voters Decide Bonds, Posts

W. Harold Knisley, 3213 Erie, a write-in candidate received 42 votes. Another write-in, Donald Stone, 5873 Shore Drive, received one vote.

Orchard Lake voters also approved 301 for rezoning one acre at 2200 Orchard Lake Road from residential to professional office building.

The approval of a $1.5-million bond issue by Birmingham voters will provide for the city's second parking garage.

VOLE ON GARAGE

The vote was 1,574 to 859. The garage planned to hold 701 cars is to be located on a site bounded by Merrill, Pierce and Brown streets.

Total cost of the structure is estimated at $1.9 million with the difference made up by some merchants.

Voters in Lapeer County approved by 3,494 to 1,947 a $2.5-million bond issue for a new Suncrest Convalescent Hospital to replace the 50-year-old building.

"If the Suncrest issue hadn't passed," said County Clerk Lyle Stewart, "the county would have been without an approved Medicare facility."

Residents will probably pay about 1.6 mills for 20 years to retire the bonds, he added.

A second $2.5-million issue for additions to the Lapeer County General Hospital was defeated, 3,631-1,742.

Also on the Lapeer County ballot, Almont Township voters voted for a new $12,000 fire truck. They will be paying 1½ mills for one year to finance the purchase.

Marines, Reds in Fierce Fight; 3 Planes Lost

SAIGON (AP) — A fierce U.S. Marine battle with North Vietnamese troops, Communist attacks up and down the country on provincial capitals and refugee hamlets, and heavy air strikes against North Vietnam that cost three American warplanes were reported today.

U.S. Marines charged through a screen of American tear gas to take a heavily fortified village which the North Vietnamese abandoned Tuesday after nearly 24 hours of hard fighting and bombardment in the capital lowland 27 miles south of Da Nang.

The Marines reported 22 of their men killed and 58 wounded, most of them in a savage machine-gun crossfire from the enemy. The Leathernecks said they found 36 enemy bodies, but terrified villagers said they carried away at least two dozen of their dead.

A suspect in the armed robbery of a Clark Service Station in Utica at 2:17 a.m. yesterday was arrested last night by Warren police and arraigned today on the charge.

Michael Charles Silvani, 20, of 2726 Emmons, Warren, was identified in a mug shot by the attendant at the gas station.

Kenneth Smith, 18, of Utica who was reportedly struck on the head with an ax handle during the holdup, according to Utica Police Chief Edward Anderson.

Smith told police that the assailant, accompanied by another man, ordered $150 worth of gas and then one of the men, identified as Silvani, hit him on the head.

They then ordered Smith to turn over the money, which he did. Smith was then locked in the storage room. The bandits got away with $79, said Anderson.

Silvani was arrested at 8:30 p.m. yesterday by Warren police. He was arraigned this morning before Judge Richard Stave in Utica Municipal Court. Silvani pleaded innocent.

Bond was set at $10,000, and the suspect is expected to be transferred today to Macomb County Jail to await trial, he said.

While the gun board was still County Jail to await trial, he was busy with the unintentional void.

"A woman wanting a permit walked into the office, but was hustled out by sympathetic clerks when she produced a pistol from her purse.

"The other suspect has not been found. He is described as tall, white and in his late teens," Anderson said.

Voters OK Bonds for Garage

BIRMINGHAM—The city will get its second parking garage.

Voters here yesterday approved a $1.9-million general obligation bond issue for a 701-car structure to be on a site bounded by Merrill, Pierce and Brown.

"We're pleased with the results," said Assistant Administrator John Saeffe, "and construction bids will be open starting today."

Cost of the structure will be $1.9 million with the difference from the bond issue to be made up with a 10 per cent assessment to merchants who will benefit from the garage, said Saeffe.

There will be no taxes involved, he explained. The bonds should be retired in 25 years with parking revenue which recently received a boost by increased parking meter rates.

The garage designed by the architectural firm of O'Dell, Hewlett and Lukenbach will provide space for 701 cars replacing a surface lot with space for 232 cars.

A similar five-story parking garage with a 564-car capacity on Woodward was opened last December.

"We will accept bids at the Dec. 18 City Commission meeting and will hopefully let a contract on the following Monday," said Saeffe.

Actual construction is to begin Feb. 1, with a tentative completion date of October 1968.

This year the City of Birmingham will light its Christmas lights on Dec. 4, the annual Men's Night of the Birmingham-Bloomfield Chamber of Commerce, according to Director Noel Smith.

The City Commission has approved $638 for the purchase of new merchant string lights to be intertwined with cedar roping on street light poles and an additional $300 was set aside for the purchase of miniature Italian lights for the trees on Merrill, he said.

The 18 Tudor plastic decorations used on the poles last year will not be used this year.

Reservation Deadline for D.C. Trip Extended

The Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce and U.S. Rep. Jack McDonald today announced an extension of the deadline for reservations for the first "19th District Day in Washington."

Area businessmen and others wishing to make the trip Nov. 15 will have until Friday to make reservations by calling the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce.

The event is being sponsored by the Chamber and McDonald, R-19th District, to bring residents of the district together with key officials of five executive departments — State, Commerce, Labor, Housing and Urban Development, and Health, Education and Welfare.

Area bus service will be provided to Metropolitan Airport where the flight will leave at 7:30 a.m. and return 12 hours later. The cost of the trip is $80 per person.

U.N. Council Considers Egypt Demand on Israel

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. settlement, consulted today on (AP) — The U.N. Security Council already divided over withdrawal from territory it occupied in the June war.

Delegates expressed belief that the 15-nation council would take up the Egyptian request Thursday.

"One diplomat charged privately that Egypt was exerting a 'disruptive influence' in calling at this stage for debate on adjourned the hearing just as territory that Israel seized from Egypt, Jordan and Syria last June."

Egyptian sources said the meeting was requested to "precipitate action" by the various parties still bogged down after weeks of fruitless negotiations.

VW Amendment Blocks Roads Bills

LANSING (AP) — A legislative traffic jam caused by a dubbed by some the "Volks-little economy car is preventing wagen Amendment"—would put the $60 million "good roads" a $12 minimum on the annual package from being signed into cost of license plates for a law.

The House and Senate reached agreement Tuesday on all but the present year's weight tax one provision of the five-bill on autos from 35 to 35 cents per package of road tax increases, 100 pounds, the $12 minimum designed to bring in more high-weight matter only to motorists with cars weighing less than 2,200 pounds.

But although the Senate rejected the amendment last week, the House refused Tuesday to withdraw it, leaving the package in line for more negotiations between the two chambers.

Before the governor can sign a bill into law, it must win approval of both houses of the Legislature in identical form.

The Senate did not return to the roads package Tuesday, but only briefly for routine business.

Sen. Harold Hungerford, R-Lansing, was voted a leave of absence for the remainder of the special legislative session. Hungerford declined to say why he sought the leave, but it was reported he planned to undergo several physical examinations.

FOREIGN CARS Rep. Alfred Sheridan, D-Taylor, admitted Tuesday the $12-minimum House amendment is aimed at small foreign cars, which compete with Michigan-made cars.

They should be taxed more steeply than American-made cars, he said, "for the same reason they don't tax cigarettes in North Carolina. We build cars in Michigan — American cars."

The strike also has nothing to do with current work stoppages at some GM and Chrysler plants in protest of overtime, he said.

The Pontiac strike will first effect the midnight shift, but resume work 12:01 a.m. Friday when normal work will resume, Anable said.

Fisher Body Local 596, said he expected his members would report to work as usual for the 6:30 shift tonight.

Malaria Kills AID Adviser Held by Cong

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Gustav Hertz, a captured U.S. AID adviser who lived under the threat of execution by the Vietnamese, died of malaria while still in Communist hands. He was 49.

The State Department announced yesterday that Hertz, the highest-ranking civilian of the American government held captive in Vietnam, died Sept. 24 of "a very serious attack of malaria after a short illness."

There had been recurring reports of his execution as a prisoner but none was confirmed, and the United States made an intensive, month-long effort through various secret channels to get Hertz out alive.

Word of his death was relayed by Cambodian chief of state Norodom Sihanouk on an Oct. 30 letter to Hertz's wife, Nellie, who lives in Leesburg, Va.

The contents of the letter were transmitted to the State Department in a cable from Australia, which represents U.S. interests in Cambodia.

Holdup Suspect Under Arrest

A suspect in the armed robbery of a Clark Service Station in Utica at 2:17 a.m. yesterday was arrested last night by Warren police and arraigned today on the charge.

Michael Charles Silvani, 20, of 2726 Emmons, Warren, was identified in a mug shot by the attendant at the gas station.

Kenneth Smith, 18, of Utica who was reportedly struck on the head with an ax handle during the holdup, according to Utica Police Chief Edward Anderson.

Smith told police that the assailant, accompanied by another man, ordered $150 worth of gas and then one of the men, identified as Silvani, hit him on the head.

They then ordered Smith to turn over the money, which he did. Smith was then locked in the storage room. The bandits got away with $79, said Anderson.

Silvani was arrested at 8:30 p.m. yesterday by Warren police. He was arraigned this morning before Judge Richard Stave in Utica Municipal Court. Silvani pleaded innocent.

Bond was set at $10,000, and the suspect is expected to be transferred today to Macomb County Jail to await trial, he said.

While the gun board was still County Jail to await trial, he was busy with the unintentional void.

"A woman wanting a permit walked into the office, but was hustled out by sympathetic clerks when she produced a pistol from her purse.

"The other suspect has not been found. He is described as tall, white and in his late teens," Anderson said.

LBJ Bid for Tax Backing Has the Opposite Effect

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's request that people write their congressmen about his proposed tax hike is bringing results—but not exactly those Johnson hoped for, an Associated Press survey indicates.

Only a few congressmen queried said they had received letters from constituents asking for the tax boost. Most said the President's appeal for public support last week resulted in an flood of mail opposing the proposal.

Rep. Al Ullman, D-Ore., a House Ways and Means Committee member who has backed the tax hike measure, reported receiving a letter from home saying: "I hear the President wants us to write you to ask for a tax increase. I am asking you to vote against a tax increase."

In the same vein was a letter to Democratic Rep. Richard L. Ottinger, whose district encompasses New York's wealthy Westchester County. The woman correspondent said her letter was prompted by Johnson's appeal, but added: "I don't want any higher taxes."

There were some scattered exceptions to the trend, however.

Sen. Clifford P. Case, R-N.J., received his message from a West Orange constituent:

"While I am not in sympathy with everything which has been emanating from the White House, I do believe that the interests of the country will be served by the enactment of surtax of incomes."

Johnson's proposed 10 per cent surcharge on income taxes also drew backing from a rural Illinois man, who wrote his congressman:

"I never thought I would write you asking that you raise my taxes but I'm doing just that. My fear of inflation with the erosion of purchasing power is greater than my fear of the tax increase proposed by the President."

Others reporting mostly anti-tax hike mail were Rep. Don H. Clausen, R-Calif., 12 to 1 against and Rep. Thomas M. Pelly, R-Wash., 30 to 2; Rep. Lionel Van Deerlin, D-Calif., 19 to 1.

Some representatives and senators said they had received little or no mail on the subject since Johnson's appeal.

Along with a lot of letters opposing the tax boost came a few suggestions.

WAR PROFITS

"The honest and fair thing to do is to place the surtax on the excess war profits and not on the small taxpayers who have not had these gains," suggested one constituent of Van Deerlin's.

"End the war, quit giving our money to Communist countries, stop supporting the ingrates in the whole world and we won't need an increase in taxes," was a message received by Rep. Paul Rogers, D-Fla.

A Florida Republican, Rep. Edward J. Gurney, read into the Congressional Record Tuesday a number of anti-tax letters and said so far the response has been 100 per cent unfavorable. The President, Gurney suggested, with another clunker in public relations and has struck out again.

County Auditors to Mull Airport Purchase

TROY — The County Board of Auditors will study the possibility of the county purchasing Berz Airport here, rather than having it sold to a private developer.

The subject was brought up yesterday before the County Board of Supervisors Aviation Committee.

Wallace Hudson of Troy, chairman of the committee, said it had come to his attention that a sale could take place within 10 days.

The prospective buyer was said to be a developer who would use the land for industrial construction and not as an airport. Indications are that action by the County Committee would delay the possible sale to the developer.

Hudson pointed out that 145 planes use the facility and could be ordered out in 30 days. The other facilities in the county are being used almost at capacity now, he said.

$2.5-MILLION TAG
A price of $2.5 million was given as a possible figure with an indication it might go lower. Daniel T. Murphy, chairman of the board of auditors, indicated at the meeting that the board would undertake the study.

Both Murphy and Hudson said they had information that indicated the Berz operation had a "profit margin." This makes it possible for it to be bonded and pay itself off, if the county approved the purchase, they said.

The motion to make the study was directed to the full board of supervisors for their meeting at 9 a.m. Friday. The committee agreed that only with such a study, to reveal all cost factors, could any decision be reached.

Representatives of the Birmingham-Bloomfield Chamber of Commerce were at the meeting to urge the committee to approve purchase of the field at East Maple and Coolidge.

CITY COMMISSION
The Birmingham City Commission recommended purchase of the facility at their meeting Monday after hearing rumors of a possible sale.

The delegation claimed that present airport plans being studied by the aviation committee — for Oakland-Pontiac Airport in Waterford Township and Allen Airport in Orion Township — did not take into account the needs of the southern part of the county.

15 in Avon Seek Plans for Water System to Be Charter Commissioners Presented in Walled Lake

AVON TOWNSHIP — Fifteen township residents have filed for the positions of charter commissioner for the township incorporation election here Jan. 15.

If incorporation for the area is approved, nine of the candidates will be elected. It will be their job to formulate a new charter for the city of Avon which will then be voted on by the people.

Those who met yesterday's deadline at the Oakland County Clerk's office for filing nominating petitions included:

Thelma G. Spencer, 161 Perrydale, township clerk; Helen V. Allen, 2556 Gerald, township treasurer; George J. Ennis, 800 Ironstone, township trustee; William E. McCullough, 41 Willowtree, township trustee; Harold Pepper, 325 Hillview, chairman of the Avon Township Study Committee; Louis Berlich, 2409 S. Livernois, twice defeated candidate for supervisor; Harold Huber, 167 Winny, Justice of the Peace.

Others were: Norman F. Kappia, 212 Nesbit; George Karas, 1659 Fair Oak; Herman Lamb, 3783 Mildred; Eugene S. Nowicki, 270 Donegal; Arlene L. Rampson, 880 Castlegar; Ross C. Rector, 6225 Orion; George L. Schutte, 706 Sandstone; Marian Tymkow, 47955 Dequindre.

WALLED LAKE — Steps toward a citywide water system moved ahead last night as the city manager presented final plans to the City Council.

The council instructed City Manager Royce Downey to begin negotiations with the Oakland County Department of Public Works, which may construct the system.

City Attorney Howard L. Bond also was instructed to write ordinances for the water system, as well as the sewer system still in the planning stages.

The entire city will have water service by the end of 1968, according to plans. The proposed $1.6 million system now calls for 1,109 units.

The system is now planned to serve the city's population of some 3,550 and can expand to serve 15,000 in the future.

POSSIBLE SERVICE
This indicates possible water service for areas in Wolverine Lake Village and Commerce Township being considered for annexation into the city, Downey said.

Four city wells are planned to provide five million gallons of water every 24 hours.

The system may be financed by a revenue bond issue with a 30-year retirement program.

The cost for single family homes is estimated at $2.50 per month for a minimum of 2,800 gallons. The average single family home uses about 2,500 gallons per month, reported the city manager.

The cost for businesses will vary depending on each building's service needs, explained Downey.

There is a strong possibility of higher costs, however, because of rising prices since estimates were made on the system's construction, warned Downey.

The city is also planning to lay the water mains at the same time and near the same locations as the sewer mains.

The sewer system, Downey said, will also be completed by 1969.

Downey reported that a flashing red arrow will replace the flashing green arrow at the northbound lane of Pontiac Trail at Maple. This intersection has seen three accidents so far this year.

DRIVERS' PROBLEM
The council also mullied over the problem of drivers southbound on Pontiac Trail and turning east onto Maple. Downey reported that cars often were lined up waiting to make that left turn.

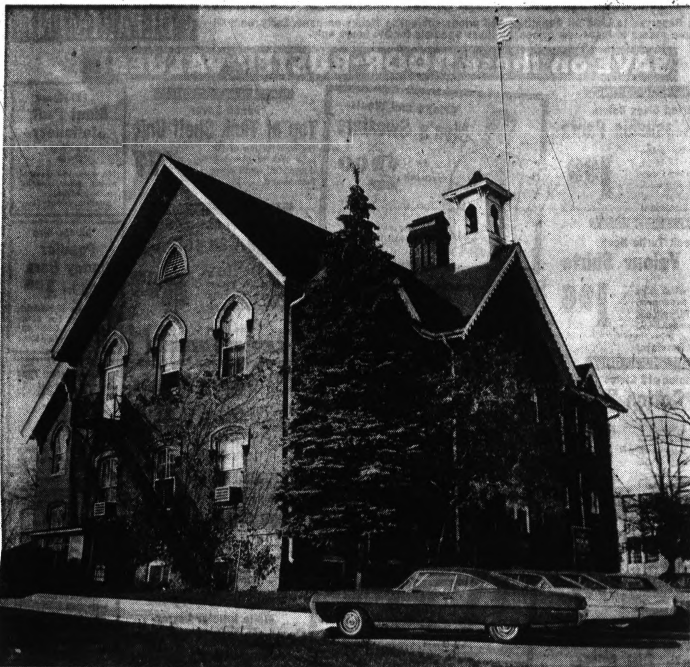

Bond was also instructed to draw up a letter to State Rep. Clifford H. Smart, 60th Dist., expressing the council's dissatisfaction of the plans for lower court reorganization.

The council was concerned that taxpayers may be paying more for court operation under the new system. It also disapproved of the new court districts, combining some areas and splitting others.

The council accepted the resignation of Thomas W. Coe, plumbing and heating inspector. Coe, who had been with the city two years, said in his letter of resignation that he didn't feel he could best fill the position.

TEMPORARY INSPECTOR
Joseph Casey, West Bloomfield Township, was temporarily appointed inspector until the city hires a permanent person.

The council purchased for $1,189 with trade-in a 1968 Dodge Polaris as the new police car.

TO BE RAZED — With the approval by the Birmingham Board of Education last week of plans for a new $675,000 administration building, the 96-year-old Hill Building here at Merrill and Chester will be torn down.

Clears County Committee

Annexation Move Gains

Voters in Wolverine Lake Village and some of neighboring Commerce Township will have to think about joining an existing city before the possibility of creating their own — as the situation now stands.

The boundaries committee of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors yesterday unanimously voted to recommend a Jan. 16 election on annexation of the village and about 10 square miles of the township to the city of Walled Lake.

The recommendation will be presented for final approval to the Board of Supervisors at its Friday meeting.

Yesterday the committee also decided that it couldn't take any action on petitions proposing incorporation for the entire village and some of the township, including parts also up for annexation.

However all four petitions regarding the annexation weren't included in the committee's recommendation. The petition concerning the northern and western portions of Wolverine Lake was tabled for a report from the County Engineering Department.

DETERMINATION DUE
The report is expected to determine whether or not a part of the village included in that petition is contiguous to Walled Lake, said township committee Chairman Philip Mastin Jr.

According to state statute a city can only annex area directly next to it. The possibility that a part of the village doesn't border Walled Lake was brought up in a letter to the committee from the village citizens committee attorney Martin Boyle.

County Election Clerk Mabel Child assured that there is still time to process plans for the vote on the petition recommended.

Mastin said that possibly there won't be enough time to put the tabled petitions on the same Jan. 16 ballot.

IN ABOUT ONE WEEK
The chairman said he expects the engineering report in about one week and a committee meeting the following week.

Inactive for the present are the petitions proposing incorporation for the village and parts of the township.

Corporation Counsel Robert P. Allen recommended that the committee take no action on the cityhood petitions because they did not contain 80 per cent of the same signatures which appeared on the annexation petitions.

The county clerk had earlier reported the lack of the 80 per cent, Mastin said.

Earlier Clifford Cottrell, village manager and citizens committee president, and Martin L. Boyle, attorney for the village in this matter, had claimed otherwise.

If the signatures had been sufficient, the committee would have had to decide on the precedence of the two issues, said Mastin.

Even now, he added, the village citizens committee can try to secure the necessary signatures and ask for a precedence decision.

Cranbrook Events

Following is a list of special events taking place at the facilities at Cranbrook on Lone Pine Road in Bloomfield Hills this week.

PLANETARIUM — Public demonstrations today at 4 p.m. and weekends at 2:30 and 3:30 p.m. The topic for the month is Comets and Meteors.

ATOMARIUM — Public demonstrations Sunday at 3:30 p.m. and by appointment.

OBSERVATORY — This week the institute's six-inch refracting telescope will be used on Wednesday and Friday nights to view the moon. Admission is free to members, $1.00 for others. Appointments must be made in advance. Warm dress is advised since the observatory is unheated.

Proper PTA to Meet

ORION TOWNSHIP — Proper School PTA will meet at 8 p.m. Monday to hear Steven Dudash, counselor for troubled families, discuss "A Guide to Families," discuss "A Guide to Family Living." A question-and-answer period will follow, and refreshments will be served in the school's multipurpose room.

Independence OKs Apartment Rezoning

INDEPENDENCE TOWNSHIP — The way was cleared here last night for construction of 110 apartment units on 15 acres of ground in the Sashabaw-Orion Road area.

Albert Luploff of Detroit won the approval for a zoning change permitting apartments despite opposition expressed by neighbors from Sashabaw Heights subdivision.

Luploff, who with his partner, Morris Stein of Detroit, had originally asked for a "planned community" zoning for 56.8 acres in the area.

Since the township's new zoning ordinance, due for review by the township board in about a month, has not yet taken effect and since such a classification is lacking from the present ordinance, the "planned community" classification was refused.

Luploff, present at last night's meeting, won 3-1 approval of the board with the added subdivision provisions that he construct a sewage disposal system or field plus a water system for the development. Treasurer Kenneth Johnson was the lone dissenter on the vote.

TOWNSHIP FACILITIES
Luploff has stated his intent to hook onto both water and sewer facilities when made available by the township.

Neighbors who objected cited increased traffic added to that drawn by nearby Pine Lodge Ski Resort, possible overcrowding of schools and loss of the rural character of the land.

Pine Lodge Ski Resort's problems with the State Water Resources Commission and the Oakland County Health Department were also reviewed by the board and by neighbors present.

Supervisor Duane Hursfall and Clerk Howard Altman reported that they had visited the resort several times and that progress in repair of the resort's sewage system was evident.

POLLUTION CHARGES
Owners of the resort have been asked to appear at 10:30 a.m. Nov. 30 before the state board to answer charges of possible pollution. Meantime, the county health department is attempting to win the state's approval to drain the lagoon system at the resort.

In other business a copy of a suggested open housing ordinance, distributed by the Oakland County Office of Economic Opportunity, was given to board members for study.

Air Pollution Fight Holly Firm's Business

HOLLY — Smog and its control is big news these days in metropolitan areas, but it's always been big news for a firm located here.

Holly has one of the oldest air pollution control industries in the nation which makes wet type controllers for installation on factories that feed pollutants into the air.

The Claude B. Schneible Co., 714 N. Saginaw, has been in the business since 1935. Sales have been increasing steadily, especially in the last 10 years, said President George Schreiber.

Schreiber, of 510 Whitehall, Bloomfield Hills, who has been head of the company since 1956, said that sales have been to chemical processors, foundries and other manufacturers all over the nation and even some international firms. They sell up to 250-500 units a year.

"Recently, we sold units to a plant in Zurich, Switzerland, and 18 units to a new General Motors foundry in Defiance, Ohio," he said.

MULTI-WASH SCRUBBER
The Holly company's unit, developed by Claude B. Schneible, who died in 1955, is called a Multi-Wash Scrubber.

"It works like a giant vacuum cleaner," Schreiber explained. "Pollutant-filled air from either furnaces or the factory areas is brought by a series of ducts to the cylindrical unit where it enters near the bottom and is spiraled up into the cylinder against horizontal baffles where a water spray encompasses many of the larger polluted particles and gravity then deposits them into a tank below the unit."

"The cleaner air is then blown out the top."

Run by electric motors, the Multi-Wash units are capable of capturing particles

the size of one micron or larger (75 microns are the thickness of one sheet of paper), explains Schreiber.

UNIT'S CAPACITY
The units can handle from 10,000 to 30,000 cubic feet of air per minute and during the process such gases as ammonia, and carbon dioxide are removed, he said.

"It's economically impossible to get rid of all the pollutants—which are basically particles injurious to health and property," said the president. "These can be in the form of dust, fumes, gas, mist, vapor, or smoke or any combination of these."

A grant by the company to Wayne State University is making possible the study of higher energy units, with the research being carried on by Dr. Stanley K. Stynes, associate professor of chemical engineering.

The project, which has been going on for one year now, concerns the development of a more effective control facility at the most economical cost to industry. Called the Multi-Turi, the unit works on the same principal as the Multi-Wash units, said Schreiber.

"Probably the biggest single factor developing effective air pollution control, is the need for cooperation between the manufacturer and communities," said Schreiber.

"It's a piece of expensive ($5,000-$50,000 each) equipment which is non-productive to a manufacturer. And yet, he pays a substantial tax base and provides jobs to the community. To the community, on the other hand, the resulting pollution can be an aggravation and health hazard—working together is the only solution."

City Commission Feeling Strain of Open Housing Controversy

By BOB WISLER

The strain of continuing pressure on city commissioners regarding the issue of an open occupancy ordinance began to show last night.

District 2 Commissioner Robert C. Irwin, already on record as being against an ordinance, blasted young Negroes who have been pushing for the ordinance for their conduct in the commission meeting room.

Four other commissioners took a softer line but admitted they weren't in favor of some of the approaches made by the Pontiac Organization of Black Youth (POOBY), whose members have been evident and vocal in commission meetings each week.

District 5 Commissioner John A. Dugan took the opportunity, as he has done in past weeks, to call for a vote of the people on the controversial issue.

He offered promise of what his stand may be in future weeks as he discoursed on the need for law and order and for more police to stop crime.

DISCUSSION OF ISSUE

While Dugan questioned the need for discussion of open housing again, Mayor Pro Tem Leslie H. Hudson said there was a need for open discussion on the subject as long as it was not repetitious.

"We certainly can't condemn a minority group for speaking up for what they believe in," Hudson said, although he admitted he was bothered by the seemingly hostile attitude of some POOBY members.

Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. called for more discussion and asked to hear from all segments, both those opposing and those in favor.

He said the commission has agreed that the draft formed by the city law department will now be sent to all social, religious and civic groups in the city for recommendations and comments.

He asked for these in writing by Dec. 1 addressed to city hall.

CIVIC PRESSURE

Both Taylor and Hudson made references to attempts by civic leaders to dissuade their vote, although they didn't say which

Hudson said he had received, "three or four letters" request- ing that he vote a certain way on the proposed open housing ordinance.

Taylor also said he wished persons wanting to influence the issue would "speak here and not send me private letters."

Taylor said that, despite rumors, no vote has been taken on the issue and nobody can predict how the commission will vote on the matter once it comes to a commission vote.

STATED COURSE

The mayor said the commission was proceeding on a course it said would be taken when the ordinance was first proposed.

"I don't feel that the City of Pontiac is against open housing," Fowler said, although earlier that the white community of Pontiac probably does not today accept an open housing ordinance.

Taylor also said he wished persons wanting to influence the issue would "speak here and not send me private letters."

Taylor said that, despite rumors, no vote has been taken on the issue and nobody can predict how the commission will vote on the matter once it comes to a commission vote.

Man Found Dead

A 33-year-old White Lake Township man was found dead in a car in his garage yesterday afternoon, according to Pontiac State Police.

The victim was identified as Arthur J. Nelson Jr. of 5 N. Hulbert. Police said the coroner ruled death was caused by carbon monoxide poisoning. An autopsy was to be performed to

As Dugan had called for a public meeting to discuss the ordinance, Hudson said such discussion will enable "both sides to learn something of what the other feels."

He said that if the commission passes an ordinance too soon, the citizens are not going to understand the issue.

"I don't think frankly that passage of an open occupancy ordinance is going to open the floodgates at all," he said.

Taylor said he was satisfied with the pace of the commission handling of the ordinance.

He said he had been taking steps to alleviate some of the problems endured by Negroes and was working with the younger element.

MANY UNCONCERNED

"There are many people today living in our community who are living pretty well. They have very little concern with these (Negro) problems," he said.

"I don't think frankly that passage of an open occupancy ordinance is going to open the floodgates at all," he said.

Taylor said he was satisfied with the pace of the commission handling of the ordinance.

New OCC Lights Leave Us in Dark

It must be nice to have money to burn — in the form of ornamental gas lamps.

Not many educational institutions nowadays are blessed with such affluence as is displayed by Oakland Community College in its selection of decorative illumination for the roads and parking areas at its new Orchard Ridge campus in Farmington Township.

It cost $250,000 to install some 900 of the gas lamps on the campus. A mercury, incandescent lighting system on tall poles would have cost about $120,000, according to OCC President Dr. JOHN E. TIRRELL.

Recently the OCC Board of Trustees was criticized by JOEL J. SMITH, a campus newspaper editor, for spending the money on gas lamps rather than using it to build an auditorium on the Highland Lakes campus in Waterford Township.

He also questioned the cost and effectiveness of the gas lamps, pointing out to trustees that the lamps didn't give off enough light and some students had to use flashlights to find their way around the campus. We think Mr. SMITH makes a pretty good point.

While we don't entirely agree that an auditorium is a greater need than adequate lighting of campus areas, we certainly feel the prime reason for installing any outside lighting is to adequately illuminate an area.

The mercury, incandescent system clearly would do that job better. And at $130,000 less in taxpayers' dollars, Dr. Tirrell defends the choice on the grounds that over the years the gas lamps will cost less to maintain and operate. While that may be true, the Orchard Ridge campus still ends up with less than adequate lighting.

Now, obviously realizing the pretty lamps are low on illumination, OCC has installed 10 large spotlights on the Orchard Ridge campus, at additional cost, to help solve the already costly problem.

Administrators and trustees also cited the fact that they didn't want to upset neighboring property owners with bright lights, therefore selected the gas lamps. What comes first: Student safety, or what the JONESIES will think?

We fail to see how such use of tax monies for frills can have anything but a psychologically adverse affect on a public which is being continually asked to pay more taxes to meet the rapidly growing needs of our area school districts.

All we need now at OCC is a little old lamplighter.

Not Practicing What They Preach!

David Lawrence Says:

Vietnam Has Legal Precedents

WASHINGTON — Two members of the Supreme Court of the United States — Justices Stewart and Douglas — dissented this week when six other justices refused to grant a review in a test suit brought by three soldiers who were drafted into the Army in 1965 and ordered to Vietnam.

Justice LAWRENCE Marshall took no part in the case.

Justices Stewart and Douglas said that, while they didn't want to intimate what their conclusions would be if the case were given a hearing, they felt that the high court should first decide whether it had the power to rule on the issues.

If a majority concluded that it was within the court's authority to go into the matter, there would then be an examination of some of the "large and deeply troubling questions" which exist in the case.

These involve a controversy over whether the conflict in Southeast Asia is a "war" within the meaning of the Constitution and whether these soldiers could be legally ordered to go to Vietnam.

The provision in the Constitution which gives Congress the power "to declare war" doesn't say just when war has to be formally proclaimed.

What is most pertinent, however, is that the Constitution separately provides that the president of the United States is commander-in-chief of the armed forces. As such, he is authorized to engage in military operations to insure the security of this country.

USE AS DETERRENT

Thus, the strategy of the United States today is based primarily upon the potential use of our manpower and military resources as a "deterrent."

Even more significant is the long list of precedents over the last 150 years wherein the chief executive has ordered troops of the United States into foreign lands to protect the lives and property of American citizens.

In most instances, no congressional resolutions were passed. Congress, of course, could have refused to authorize the continued use of the troops or the expenditure of public funds for such purposes.

What is known as the "Tonkin Gulf" Resolution — adopted overwhelmingly by both houses of Congress in August 1964 — authorized "the president, as commander-in-chief, to take all necessary measures to repel any armed attack against the forces of the United States and to prevent further aggression" in Southeast Asia.

NOT LIMITED

It may be argued that this referred only to a particular threat arising in this area. But since Congress has not limited the scope of the resolution or subsequently modified it, the President has every right to assume that the resolution has the broadest meaning when it authorizes military action to defend a country that has been promised American protection by the Southeast Asia treaty.

The fact that the majority of the Supreme Court of the United States decided not to pass judgment on the legality or illegality of American military operations in Vietnam is in itself an indication that no persuasive legal points have been cited to alter the present situation.

Bob Considine Says:

Bulging Saigon Hospital Is Court of Last Resort

SAIGON — On my last trip here, in September, I wrote a piece about a wonderful girl named Rosemary Taylor. She's an Australian teacher and a nurse who works cheerfully, sometimes around the clock, in an abominable refugee hospital named Phu My Hospital in an abysmal part of Saigon.

The hospital has no doctor. Twenty-five nurses of the order of St. Paul de Chartres, and Rosemary, are the nurses for the 1,500 inmates.

Phu My is the court of last resort. It takes the infants left in gutters, and the old people who cannot find any other place or are turned out.

"But every day we have to turn people down," she said today as she and white-robed Sister Rose Marie, the Swiss-born mother superior, strolled around the place.

"You have to say to a stricken soul, 'Come back in two months. We'll have a bed for you then.' Some don't make it back. They just go away and die. It's heart-breaking."

MORTALITY RATE

The mortality rate at Phu My is 25 per cent per month. The place literally bulges at the seams. The weeping children fill an acre of space, the heavy percentage of tuberculosis sufferers spread from the beds of their area to the floors and porches.

In addition to her hospital chores, Rosemary Taylor is now undertaking the task of writing a thank-you note to each of the good-hearted people who sent Phu My a contribution in the wake of the earlier piece I did about the place and the girl.

The contributions came to $2,700, a windfall that has stirred up lots of prayers of thanksgiving among the overworked nuns. It means they'll have a new wing and more beds. And more work.

The sum of $2,700 may not sound like much but it is big around Phu My. The Saigon government provides it with 15 cents a day to take care of the adult patients, nothing for the children.

"War makes for many problems," mother superior said, with Rosemary serving as interpreter in fluent French.

"Ask her when this war will end," I asked Rosemary.

The message went through. Mother superior thought for a moment. Then a short word. "Mother says 'Never!'"

Reader Discusses Open Housing Ordinance

To the City Commission, how many people who have so much to say are home owners? The clergy, with few exceptions, are not home owners. They are in parsonages and should have nothing to say as they have no worry about depreciation. If you pass an ordinance restricting individual home owners from disposing of their property, you are going to have a referendum and you can be sure your ordinance will be defeated. I am a property owner and the Bill of Rights gives me certain rights which a city ordinance cannot cancel.

RETIRED, DISGUSTED TAXPAYER

Compares News Coverage of Demonstrators

A comment on a recent letter asked why conservatives didn't speak out more, implying they would get more news coverage. Just speaking isn't enough. While 60,000 peace rioters got week-long coverage in the newspapers and on television, the more than 100,000 people in New York who paraded to show their support of our G.I.s rated just a few seconds on television and a few paragraphs in the newspapers. Besides the marchers in New York, there were hundreds of other marchers across the Country. These rated almost no coverage.

Replies to Complaint about Ambulances

We hope those who complain about the speed or siren of an ambulance will think about the other side. How would you like to be dedicated to doing all possible to save the life of a total stranger, and have disgruntled motorists begrudge the ten seconds it takes to pull out of the way, or have a knicker complaint about 30 seconds of noise? That ambulance driver (or policeman) is oriented to move fast but safely. Just give him a chance, stay out of his way, and worry about important things.

Question and Answer

They're planning to pave Oakland Avenue west of Wide Track even though the pavement seems in good shape except for a few bad spots that could easily be repaired. Since Pontiac is so short of funds, could the City Commission block this project and use the money for jobs of more importance? Also, is one-way Oakland doing any good or harm?

F. L. J.

REPLY.

We talked to Mr. Christian who said this is a cooperative State-City project, the State paying 75 per cent. Since the work is already contracted for, it's unlikely to be stopped now. However, complaints could go either to your City Commissioner or to the State District Engineer, J. A. Wills, at the District Office on Featherstone. Money used by the State for this project is part of the annual rebate to the City by the State Highway Department of gas and weight monies.

Mr. Gusman of Traffic Engineering says one-way traffic on Oakland has smoothed the traffic flow and increased the street's capacity for traffic flow.

New Law Seems Hazard for Drinking Driver

Now in effect is a State law that should significantly lessen casualties on Michigan highways.

It is the so-called "implied consent" law. It stipulates that on acceptance of a license to operate a motor vehicle, the licensee agrees to undergo an alcohol test if he is arrested for driving under the influence of liquor. In the past, arrest of drivers on suspicion of drunken driving have been relatively infrequent because of the difficulty of proving their legal guilt.

Since in more than 50 per cent of highway accidents the drivers involved have been drinking, application of the new law holds great promise of reducing drunken driving and related accidents.

This law, which brings Michigan into conformity with the Federal safety standard regarding alcohol and highway safety, gives a suspect the option to demand breath test only, although blood or urine tests are also legal.

Should a suspect exercise another option — that of refusing to submit to an alcohol test — he will face automatic suspension or revocation of his license.

A training program to qualify law enforcement personnel to conduct the tests has been established in conjunction with Michigan State University, and testing equipment provided in all sections of the State.

We heartily commend the lawmakers on a constructive piece of legislation looking to the welfare of Michigan's 4.5 million vehicle drivers.

Russian Bear Ate a Light Bulb

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON — It's been like watching a Russian bear eat an electric light bulb.

Seizure, convulsions, indigestion, internal bleeding, thrashing around half out of mind and dazed confusion restored have all been part of the process since the Bolsheviks took over the Russian revolution 50 years ago today.

Surprise — The Bolsheviks were caught flatfooted, unprepared for the take-over when the revolution began. They got themselves together and grabbed their chance, and communism has been in charge since.

Convulsion — The beginning was dreadful: the struggle with the other factions which were split and indecisive, civil war and economic collapse.

Indigestion — Lenin and his Bolsheviks started out as the apostles of Karl Marx. But they twisted Marxism to suit their needs.

BLOODBATH

Internal bleeding — From the beginning there was a bloodbath. It became a hemorrhage in the 1930s with Stalin's purges and executions.

Half out of mind — Stalin was a mental case, one of the most vicious in history, who reigned through terror for 29 years. Under him a primitive nation became a world power, with all that meant. Only a brief moment, the United States had a nuclear monopoly. Stalin quickly broke it.

Digestion restored — With Stalin's death, some sanity was restored, restrictions were eased, and the Soviet Union began to look a little more like a civilized society.

After all this agony the most obvious question is: What will happen inside the Soviet Union and what will it do in these next 50 years?

POWER STRUGGLES

No one in his right mind will try to predict it. Through their whole history the Russian people have known nothing but submission to autocracies. At the moment power is divided among the leaders but nevertheless centered in them. Internal struggles for power among them could resurrect the nightmares of the past 50 years.

The people are asserting themselves a little more. Bit by bit they may get more freedom. Eventually, if the Soviet Union follows the road of the modern-day revolutions, there will be democracy.

The most civilizing and restraining force in recent Soviet history is fear — fear of nuclear war with the United States.

In time the Soviet Union may surpass the United States as the world's No. 1 industrial power—it's No. 2 now—with increasing prosperity for its people.

SHATTERING DEFEAT

But the Soviet Union has also suffered a shattering defeat. For most of the past 50 years it not only dominated world communism—but the world's Union followed it.

That's gone. Gigantic Red China is its rival and apparently its enemy and is fast on its way to becoming a great nuclear power. When that happens the future of the Soviet Union and of mankind may depend on the answer to this question:

Will it manage to team up with the Red Chinese against the rest of the world, or, against the fear of China, will it cozy up to the United States and the West in search of allies against Red China?

Gaullist Strategy Is Outlined

PARIS (AP) — Mind reading and explaining are twin political obligations for the followers of President Charles de Gaulle. It is not always easy, and sometimes downright embarrassing.

Only a restricted few of his closest confidants can claim to know what De Gaulle really wants, what he is trying to do, where he would lead France and the world. Even those few can never be sure they are right.

CHARLES DE GAULLE

De Gaulle drops copious hints of his intentions, but often uses fuzzy language that leaves room for different interpretations.

That doesn't stop Gaullists from making educated guesses about the general's aims. One of them, Rene Capitant, has now come out with a succinct outline of Gaullist global strategy. De Gaulle has supplied the individual building blocks, but Capitant has fitted them together to make a clearer over-all design than De Gaulle has ever sketched.

THREE RULES

Writing in the Gaullist weekly Notre République—Our Republic—Capitant said: "The world of tomorrow will have three poles: in the West, the Anglo-Saxon world; in the East, China; in the center, Europe from the Atlantic to the Urals."

"There, defined with a singular force, are the essential elements of the European problem. On one side are the partisans of a little Europe, historically linked to the twin poles (Russia and the United States) of 1947. Their aim is to tie as tightly as possible 'Western Europe' to America. This was only half of Europe, of a Europe divided and torn apart as Poland was for a long time.

"The Gaullist vision of a big Europe is much different: It is of a Europe that is reconciled, reunified, finding again with its historical frontiers its essential structure of nations recovering their independence but henceforth resolved to organize their cooperation on a basis of equality."

A CONDITION

"In such a perspective, national independence is the condition for European reunification:

The independence of the nations of Western Europe from Washington; the independence of the nations of central Europe from Moscow; without in any way questioning the fact that Russia belongs to Europe. Because Moscow, Leningrad and Kiev are European and it would be a new mutilation of Europe to stop at Brest-Litovsk.

"This is the Europe that we want, made up of independent nations and itself independent of neighboring continents. Independent with regard to America, independent with regard to Asia, independent with regard to Africa, but ready to organize its cooperation with each of them and with each of the nations that compose them."

There is not much startlingly new in what Capitant says. De Gaulle has been preaching national independence for years. His dream of a Europe extending from the Atlantic to the Urals goes back to World War II. One of his more recent themes has been detente, followed by understanding, followed by cooperation in Europe. Still, Capitant has drawn the lines more clearly than De Gaulle ever has in public.

Capitant is a law professor in De Gaulle's provisional government in Algiers during World War II, then in the first cabinet of De Gaulle in Paris in 1944-45. He is a leader of the left wing of the Gaullist majority in the French National Assembly.

Every branch of the French government is straining to set up new political, economic, cultural and technical links with Eastern European nations. De Gaulle himself has made highly publicized trips to the Soviet Union and Poland. Premier Georges Pompidou and Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville also have the satellite nations on their travel schedules. Eastern European officials from premiers on down, are given extremely warm welcomes in France.

Russia has adopted the French color television system, and pulled the satellite nations along. France and Russia have set up limited cooperation on atomic research. The Russian chief of staff was in France recently at the invitation of Defense Minister Pierre Messmer.

Commercial relations are expanding but are still at an extremely low level. Cultural exchanges of all kinds continue, and a big Russian exposition of art works is now on display in Paris.

One of the themes of Capitant's article was that the French people should be unanimously behind De Gaulle's foreign policy. It was a carefully worded invitation to French Communists to swing in behind De Gaulle to get maximum benefit from the foreign policy.

Ravaged Fairbanks Fighting Cold Rush

FAIRBANKS, Alaska (UPI) — The wolf winds are beginning to howl down from the northwards. The snow soon will be drifting deep along the road.

Ordinarily, preparing for the long winter's night in Fairbanks is a routine operation. This year it has been a frantic race against time.

Every winter here is harsh, but what last summer did to the "Golden Heart of Alaska" was downright cruel. Nature went on a rampage.

First she wracked the town with an earthquake. Then she flushed it with a flood. The quake caused considerable damage; the flood almost washed out the town.

Alaskans are a hardy people, and the folks in Fairbanks are tougher than frozen moose hide. They didn't ask for charity. All they wanted was a little credit.

TYPICAL REACTION

A typical comment came from Lemmy Johnson, a city electrician.

"Just a few weeks ago there was four feet of water in my place. Now the floor is buckled. The walls are warped, some of the doors won't close. But we'll be okay."

It's going to be a tough winter for a lot of people. I suppose I'm just about as ready as I can be. I just hope the furnace runs without too much trouble."

The Chena River, which flows through the heart of Fairbanks, crested Aug. 15 at 18.82 feet, 6½ feet above flood stage. This was the result of phenomenal rains that fell in the wilderness northeast of Fairbanks, which is situated on the flat plain of the Tanana Valley.

FLOOD SURPRISE

The flood came so fast it caught the residents by surprise. Lowland villages in the valley also were flooded—Nenana, Big Delta and Minto.

Fairbanks, second largest city in the state, was hit hardest of all. The flood of 1967 was the worst thing that has happened to Fairbanks since it was founded during the gold rush days at the turn of the century.

About 1,500 have left since the flood. Many of them might have left anyway with winter coming on.

But, said Mayor H. A. (Red) Boucher, "the people with roots are going to stay. They are uncommon people who shared a common disaster."

$200 MILLION

The flood inflicted damage estimated at upwards of $200 million and sent most of the city's 16,000 residents fleeing to high ground.

The flood soaked the city for almost a week. Once the water began to recede the townspeople waded back to their homes and businesses and began their race with winter.

First on the agenda, of course, was warmth. Every basement furnace in the city had been flooded out of commission, and most other heating systems had been ruined or damaged.

Al Swearingin, service manager for a heating firm, said his crew worked around the clock to restore furnaces and other home heating units.

Cleveland and Gary Elect Negro Mayors

On the GOP balance sheet, the Kentucky victory of Louis B. Nunn, rated something of an upset, put Republicans in charge in 26 of the 50 U.S. governor's offices.

The states in the GOP column now represent 304 electoral votes, 34 more than the number needed to elect a president in 1968.

In yesterday's only other gubernatorial race, Rep. John Bell Williams, a Democrat, predictably triumphed in a Mississippi landslide.

LEJ AND VIETNAM

The off-year contests were scattered from New England to San Francisco, marked in many spots by the racial issue, and touched—Republicans said—by the standing of President Johnson and by the war in Vietnam.

Nunn, elected Kentucky's first Republican governor in 20 years, had aimed his campaign in large measure against Johnson and his war policies.

But in San Francisco, where the electorate had a chance to speak directly on the war issue, a ballot proposition urging a cease fire and U.S. withdrawal from Vietnam went down to a resounding defeat.

With 1,000 of 1,341 precincts counted, there were 96,140 votes against U.S. withdrawal from the Asian war, 55,951 in favor of the proposition.

Mayors were elected in scores of U.S. cities, but in many instances, shifts in party control of the office on one city were balanced by reverse switches in another.

Republicans took particular delight in one victory: The up-scattered from New England to San Francisco, marked in many spots by the racial issue, and touched—Republicans said—by the standing of President Johnson and by the war in Vietnam.

Bliss pointed as well to New Jersey, where Republicans took firm command of a legislature in large measure against Johnson and his war policies.

Cleveland's Stokes won by 2,497 votes over Republican Seth C. Taft. The final, unofficial tally: Stokes, 129,825; Taft 127,328.

EARLY LEAD LOST

Taft mounted an early lead as returns rolled in from predominantly white neighborhoods but Stokes overtook and passed him as the Negro vote poured in.

In Gary, Hatcher, whose apparent primary victory bitterly divided Gary's Democratic organization, told his heavily Negro victory rally:

"Let us begin by conducting ourselves in such a fashion that no one can find a basis of criticism. Any incident in the city on this night will spoil the victory."

White's Boston mayoral victory was applauded by allies in the both parties. Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., and Republican Gov. John A. Volpe, a Republican, both turned up to congratulate him.

LINEUP OF LEADERS

They had joined a near solid lineup of state political leaders to support Democrat White in the nonpartisan contest against the controversial Mrs. Hicks, a Mrs. Hicks, a 48-year-old grandmother, vaulted to prominence and controversy on her opposition to the transportation of Negro schoolchildren into white areas to achieve racial balance in the schools.

White won, 102,551 to 90,122. Kentucky's Nunn, a conservative lawyer from the southern corner of the state, defeated former highway commissioner Henry Ward by some 21,000 votes.

BIGOTRY CHARGE

There, too, racial factors surfaced during the campaign. Ward charged Nunn was running a campaign of bigotry.

But, while both men opposed open housing laws, it was Ward who advocated a state law barring local open occupancy ordinances. There were signs that many Kentucky Negroes stayed away from the polls.

Democrats held control of the Kentucky legislature.

Tests Confirm Pope's Gland Nonmalignant

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul's doctors announced today that laboratory tests had confirmed that the Pope's prostate gland, removed by surgery Nov. 4, was not cancerous.

The announcement was the first official word that the enlargement of the Pope's prostate, which put him to bed two months ago with an inflamed urinary tract, was not due to a malignancy. However, earlier bulletins after his operation Saturday had indicated as much.

The bulletin today said the Pope's condition continued good with normal pulse and blood pressure.

It said that his pain "is progressively and spontaneously diminishing" and added: "Examination of tissue from the removed prostate, conducted on a series of sections, has confirmed the diagnosis of simple adenomatous hypertrophy (non-malignant swelling)."

Airport Master Plan Clears Unit

The primary reason for not having the north-south facility was given as cost—estimated at $4.5 million with schools and fully developed subdivisions having to be relocated, it was explained.

Plans call for adding 900 feet to the existing 5,300 feet of runway, bringing it to 6,200 feet long. This will accommodate such craft as DC8s and 737s, according to Peckham. He said jet planes that can carry 80 to 100 passengers.

EAST-WEST RUNWAY

For small planes, and additional east-west runway is to be constructed 500 feet parallel to the large runway.

The new hanger development, 400 "T-hangers," is an operation that could be expected to pay for itself through rentals, officials have pointed out.

The airport currently has 425 planes based there with a hangar capacity of 200. The other plane owners are said to be ready for immediate occupancy of facilities if available.

Peckham said two steps are needed soon:

The following is a list of recent Pontiac area births as recorded at the Oakland County Clerk's Office (by name of father):

• Acquiring land, 45 parcels containing 33 homes, and easements, on 71 parcels.
• A complete engineering plan.

PREREQUISITE FOR AID
He said both these steps are necessary if state and federal aid is to be readily obtainable for airport development.

Committee member Sherwin Birnkrant, Pontiac director of law, asked if the possibility of passenger service for the area would be eliminated by adoption of the proposed master plan without a north-south runway.

Peckham answered that the North Central Airlines, which used to serve the area, abandoned service here because of nonuse by area residents and not because of runway problems.

In the last 68 years, some 1,600,000 people have been killed by automobiles, more than in all the wars in which the U.S. has fought.

RECRUITING VOTERS—Michigan Gov. George Romney talks with students near a Peace Corps recruiting booth on the University of Wisconsin campus in Madison yesterday. Romney was greeted with scattered hissing and booing when he told students law and order and a belief in God were essential parts of America. The possible White House hopeful is in Wisconsin to test the political winds.

'No Comment' on Rumors

Romney Mum on Rocky Deal

MADISON, Wis. (UPI)—Michigan Gov. George Romney yesterday refused to confirm or deny a report he had asked New York Nelson Rockefeller to enter the presidential race.

Romney, swinging through La Crosse and Madison on a two-day tour of one of the key presidential primary states, had a persistent "no comment" to questions about a published report he had three times urged Rockefeller to throw his hat in the ring.

Romney ended his tour with a breakfast meeting in Oshkosh today.

The Minneapolis Tribune reported that Romney had told a meeting of Minneapolis-St. Paul business leaders on Monday that Rockefeller would not actively seek the GOP nomination.

Romney said he was convinced of this because he himself had three times asked Rockefeller to run and each time the New Yorker refused, according to the Tribune.

'UNIMPEACHABLE'

The story was written by Frank Wright, who told UPI yesterday that his source was "unimpeachable."

Romney also answered "no comment" to questions about a rumor that he had made a deal with Rockefeller. According to the rumor, Romney would get out of the race if he lost poorly in the primaries and throw weight to Rockefeller.

Speaking on the University of Wisconsin campus, which has experienced some of the loudest dissent in the country, Romney classified himself as a "dissenter." But he said dissent

Don't Let an Exam Make You Nervous

By The Reading Laboratory
Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Don't let nervous because a test is coming.
Actually, it's very unproductive. You don't score any extra points for a wildly palpitating heart. As a matter of fact, the more anxious you get, the more chance there is of "freezing" on the test.

So let's assume you're calm, cool, collected and have been doing what these chapters have been telling you to do.

Start to review your notebook. You've been keeping a general outline of the course in your notebook, so the best thing to do is to read that over. As you come to each major point, stop and think about it. Consider its possible ramifications.

Miniskirts Draw Judge's Eye(re), Jail Sentences

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) Two teen-age girls who appeared as spectators during a narcotics hearing for hippies in Municipal Court were ordered arrested by Judge Ed Brock because they wore miniskirts.

The judge held them in contempt of court and ordered them jailed until they "purge themselves by obtaining clothing sufficient to cover the body in a decent manner."

The girls, both 17, were held until other clothing was brought to the jail.
Brock said he felt such behavior threatened to turn the courtroom into a burlesque house.

General expenditures by city governments in the U.S. during 1965-66 amounted to $150 per person, up from $138 the preceding year.

tions—everything that it means, everything that it leads to. Try to infer what the next major point should be.

Use your textbook to check anything that's not completely clear from your notes.

Or if you like, make a general overview of the chapters that pertain, just to confirm the accuracy of your notes. You won't have very little detail in your notes, but you'll have notes on where they can be found.

At first, don't bother with anything that may require memorization.

Begin your reviewing at least a week before the test is scheduled so you can study somewhat leisurely and with a minimum of pressure.

NIGHT BEFORE
Save the memorization until the night before, or at most, two nights before the test. As a rule, memorization doesn't stick for a long time.

Review for the test the same way you've been studying. Get the main idea first; learn the general overview before you start to get involved in details.

You can afford to miss a detail or two, because if you really understand the main idea of the course, you'll be able to figure out the details—or at least you'll be able to make good guesses.

For most people, a brain-picking session with four or five others is a good idea—with two cautions: If they turn into bull sessions, nothing gets accomplished, and secondly, if anyone starts to panic, go off and study by yourself. Panic is contagious.

Finally, the morning of the test, a quick general overview of the notes is in order. It will refresh your memory and put you in good shape.

As a general rule, your aim in preparation is this: get yourself to the point where you can give, off the top of your head, about a 15-minute summary of all the material covered.

If you can do that you can afford to relax; you can be sure you won't have any trouble.

Her Son Guilty, Too

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am going to write this quickly and mail it, so I don't have a chance to reconsider and close my eyes to a wrong.

ABBY

My son recently told me about some youngsters in our neighborhood who steal bikes, remove the parts, rebuild and sell both rebuilt bikes and extra parts. I asked him how these youngsters managed to get away with it without their parents knowing about it, and he says the kids tell their parents that the bike belongs to another boy, and they bought the spare parts with their allowances.

I am appalled at the whole thing. I can't expect my boy to reveal the names of these boys, and my husband would think it unseemly if I were to bring this to the attention of the authorities. You are the only way I have of warning parents who unknowingly may be allowing their children to continue this practice.

I do not condone ray own child's acceptance of this behavior and have asked him to avoid this group of friends until they, too, become aware of their unacceptable behavior and stop it.

CONCERNED
DEAR CONCERNED: A boy who is old enough to "rebuild" a bike, is old enough to know he is breaking the law. While your son may not be guilty of stealing, he is guilty of another "crime." (Knowing of thievery and keeping quiet.)

Opti-Mrs. Club Sees Self Defense Film

The women's self defense film "Attack" was shown to members of the Opti-Mrs. Club of Pontiac Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Tom Hruska of West Iroquois Road was hostess with Mrs. Lloyd Jones, her assistant.

Guests present were Mrs. William Streman Jr. and Mrs. Terry Galan.

I do not approve of friends informing on one another, but a real "friend" would do all in his power to set his companions straight.

I hope the parents of the guilty boys see this, and check out the stories their sons tell about "buying" spare parts, and repairing another boy's bike. And if they discover that their sons have stolen bikes, they should insist they are returned to their rightful owners. Otherwise they should report their own sons to the authorities. Stealing is stealing. And the successful petty thief goes on to bigger things.

DEAR ABBY: You let me down when you wrote in your column that you thought it was all right for a married man to go to a "stag" party. Abby, my husband thinks your word is holy, and when he read that he heally shoved it under my nose.

Surely you are aware of what goes on at stags? They always have girls doing strip-tease dances and even movies for men only that are so bad your husband won't even tell you what they were about.

DEAR MARGOT: Sorry about that. My definition of "stag" is simply social engagement for men only.

Paint-In Slated at Art Gallery

A kind of "demonstration-panel-lecture" entitled "Paint-In for 3" is slated Friday evening at the Bloomfield Art Association in Birmingham.

Three artists of differing viewpoints will compare "how they work."

Robert Wilbert, oil and water color painter, will represent the traditional form in which paint on canvas is used to represent an object or person.

Somewhat more abstract, is Olga Constantine who works in collage—"torn papers glued on."

FACULTY

All three serve on the art faculty at Wayne State University and hold BFA and MFA degrees.

Moderating the panel will be Jan Aertsen, new director of education at Cranbrook Academy of Art.

The event is Bloomfield Art Association's way of saluting Wayne State on its 100th year.

Mrs. Tom Bradley is chairman. Refreshments will be served and non-members are welcome. A modest fee will be charged for admission.

'Women Are People Too' by U.N. Proclamation

UNITED NATIONS (UPI) — The United Nations today proclaimed a Bill of Rights for women around the world and told the male captains of business and government that the "weaker" sex must receive equality without discrimination in all aspects of life.

The word went forth from U.N. headquarters in the form of a declaration described as a milestone that will test the sincerity of the men's world in promising rights long denied millions of women in vast areas of the globe.

The U.N. has been debating the status of women for almost four years in seemingly endless argument over the rights and privileges of the female of the human species.

The months of argument finally ended late Tuesday night when the predominantly male General Assembly, in a rare display of unanimity, approved the declaration by a vote of 1114 with no abstentions. It said any discrimination against women is "an offense against human dignity."

The declaration said all governments should guarantee equal rights for men and women by either constitution or law. No single nation was mentioned, but observers said the biggest problem areas are parts of the Far East and Latin America where men have dominated societies for centuries.

The text covered several typewritten pages, but the more important clauses in the distaff "declaration of independence" said women must be given the right to vote, hold office, change their nationality, buy, sell and inherit property, choose their own husbands, get a job, and receive the same pay and treatment from employers as accorded men and be assured of re-employment if child bearing interrupts tenure.

The assembly provided no penalties for nations which do not comply with the terms of the declaration.

Jeffrey Siegel will appear in a piano recital Monday at 8:30 p.m. in Wilson Hall, Oakland University. His program will include music of Mozart, Franck, Debussy and Hindemith. The Chicago-born artist is a graduate of the Juilliard School of Music and has appeared as soloist with the Detroit Symphony as well as most of the nation's other major orchestras.

Writer Thanks Ones Interested in TV Quality

By ELIZABETH L. POST

I want to express my appreciation to all of you who wrote offering to support an effort to improve the taste of TV commercials and/or programs.

It is up to each and every one of us to do our utmost to make the medium fulfill its tremendous possibilities as a source of amusement, education, and examples of the best in taste.

The most important thing we all can do is write to the sponsor and the station manager when we see a program or commercial which shows lack of taste or is offensive. They, after all, wish to sell their products by delighting, not by offending, and it does not take many such letters to make a sponsor reconsider the effect of a particular commercial.

I hope our joint efforts will help to make TV what it can, and should, be.

To make your wedding day perfect from start to finish, my booklet "Your Guide to Formal Wedding Procedure" is just what you need.

84-Year-Old Is Still Active

HUTCHINSON, Kan. (AP) — As she has been for the past 20 years, Mrs. Ella C. Downs was at her post in her church's concession cafeteria at the Kansas State Fair, working a 12-hour daily shift despite the fact that she is 84 years old.

A volunteer for the fund raising dining facility at the South Hutchinson Methodist Church ever since the program started, Mrs. Downs kept busy cleaning tables and taking care of the thousands of people who ate at the cafeteria during Fair week.

SEW SIMPLE
By Eunice Farmer

Dear Eunice Farmer,

Please tell me how in the world to make a tailor tack that won't pull out when I separate the two layers of fabric?

Mrs. J. B.

Dear Mrs. J. B.:

Begin with a double thread, never knot the ends. Break a hole in the paper pattern with your needle, take a small stitch through both layers of fabric, leaving the ends of thread extend about two inches. Next, take a small stitch in the opposite direction, leaving a loop of thread about one inch long. Cut the end of the thread, again leaving two inches extend.

Carefully separate the two layers of fabric and cut the threads at the center of the tailor tack. Always remember one point: The loop of the tailor tack must be shorter than the two ends before clipping.

Dear Eunice Farmer,

Have you any information available that will help keep a dress from wrinkling across the thighs when I sit down?

Mrs. D. S.

Dear Mrs. D. S.:

I think perhaps you are making the skirt too narrow at the hipline. You must have a minimum of at least two inches extra fabric for the ease necessary. The size of your legs can also make a difference. The heavier your thighs, the more room you will need to avoid these wrinkles.

I have always found that when you underline a dress, the dress fabric resists wrinkles more than a dress of just one layer of fabric.

TAILOR TRIX WINNER

Mrs. Ruth Erickson, Coral Gables, Fla., is this week's Tailor Trix pressing board winner for her following suggestion.

"After many years of sewing, I have finally discovered a quick and easy way to convert my favorite dress or blouse pattern from sleeves to sleeveless. I took the bodice armhole facing pattern from a well fitting sleeveless armhole dress and made myself a permanent copy of this out of lightweight pressed interfacing fabric.

"Now all I have to do when I want to convert is to simply place my copy over the pattern, pin in place and cut. This same pattern can also be used as the facing."

The pair has 22 grandchildren and 15 great-grandchildren.

Pair Departs for the Falls

A Niagara Falls honeymoon followed a reception Saturday at the Anvets Hall for newlyweds, the Arthur B. Greeces.

They were united in marriage earlier that day in St. Michael's Catholic Church.

Carrying a bouquet of roses, chrysanthemums and daisies, the bride, nee Susan Jean Bilkey, was attired in a taffeta gown with a sheer nylon overlay.

The bodice of her gown featured a scalloped lace neckline and long pointed sleeves.

Maid of honor was Susan Conklin with bridesmaids Janice Piuszki and Judith Bilkey.

Paul Robiquillo was best man with ushers Ricky Greene and Darrel Durham.

Parents of the newlyweds are the Jack K. Bilkeys of Fourth Street and Mrs. Alan Greene of West Beverly Street and the late Mr. Greene.

Family Home Recent Scene for Vows

The Rochester home of the John A. Garavaglias was the setting Saturday for vows spoken by their son, John Charles, and Sandra Elizabeth Gravin.

The bride, daughter of the Charles C. Gravins of Rochester, was attired in a Chantilly lace gown with seed pearl trim. Her elbow length veil was held with a crown of matching lace likewise frosted with pearls.

For her bouquet, she carried white carnations and small pink roses.

Honor attendants for the ceremony were the bride's sister, Pamela, and Steven G. Jewitt.

The newlyweds, who were honored at a reception in Red Oak Lane the following afternoon, are honeymooning in the Upper Peninsula.

Polly's Pointers

It's No 'Pill' Now

DEAR POLLY — Are you such as the toaster, coffee, tired of chipping ice to put in a vacuum bottle? If so, I have a trick for you. I save plastic pill bottles, fill them with water (leave room for expansion of water), cap and put in the freezer. I then have nice, round cylinders of ice that slip into the neck of the vacuum bottle with no mess and no fuss.

When there are small children in the house, small appliances should be unplugged when not in use, even when one is at home. Do not leave them so the child could be tempted to slip the plug back into the outlet.

Frayed cords are always a hazard and should be repaired as soon as possible. Of course, we would not unplug the television, refrigerator and radio every time we leave the house.

DEAR POLLY — I would like to know the proper way to wash and dry a double-sized crocheted bedspread. It is done in the Radiant Star pattern. — RUBY.

DEAR POLLY — I no longer use my electric curling iron on my hair so I put it to use in the kitchen. Whenever anyone is taking a sandwich to school or work I put the sandwich on a piece of folded waxed paper, then use the hot curling iron to seal the other three sides together. The sandwich stays fresh until opened.

This makes a bag that is certainly cheaper than those one buys. — BONNIE.

DEAR POLLY — Grace wondered about the danger of leaving appliances plugged in even though they were "off." DON'T do it. This is especially true if you are leaving the house. The insulation in the appliance itself could eventually deteriorate without warning, which could cause a short circuit and possibly a fire. — JEAN.

DEAR READERS — I think both Grace and Jean were thinking of small appliances.

Sidelight on 'Pill'

The birth control pill may well be a preventive for cancer of the endometrium, or lining of the womb, suggests Dr. Robert W. Kistner of Harvard Medical School.

He treated 66 women who had hyperplasia or excessive growth of the endometrium, or carcinoma in situ, with estrogen-progestin hormone compounds, on my back and out we'd go. In every case the processes which were corrected "and invasive cancer did not develop."

Case No. B-567

Has Wonderful Outlook

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE CASE, B-567: Jamie, aged three and one-half, was our daughter's youngest child.

He was a healthy youngster till he caught mononucleosis at 14 months.

After that, he ceased growing and the fat disappeared from his body, leaving shrunken muscles covered by wrinkled, hard skin.

Pearly oval DR. CRANE patches were also scattered over his stunted body.

Medical experts gave up all hope and said he would die before he entered kindergarten.

But Jamie retained a keen mind, though his joints ultimately became frozen so he could not walk.

Last July during our 90-degree heat wave, Jamie was visiting us at our Indiana farm home.

At breakfast, Jamie would say:

"Grandpa, don't you think we should take a hike today?" Naturally, I would assent with double enthusiasm, so after we were through eating, I'd put on a "Piggy-pack" device, like an Army knapsack, but with a seat attached.

Mrs. Crane would then gently lift Jamie, who weighed less than 23 pounds, into the seat and four points and to give added interest, six smaller diamonds. A favorite since girls began to wear engagement rings with matching diamond wedding bands, making a total of two and one-quarter carats.

Though adults were grumbling about the humidity and excessive heat, as soon as we'd step outside, Jamie would always exclaim:

"Grandpa, isn't this a beautiful morning?"

Back from our hike, as we later had lunch, Jamie said:

"Grandpa, I guess I need help with my soup."

He could move only his right finger and thumb and lift his arm at the shoulder, so he would soon tire.

As I fed him the rest of his soup, he added:

"Isn't this soup that mamma made, delicious?"

Jamie just naturally paid compliments, though we adults seldom do and I even had to teach my college students this desirable habit.

At dinner at my mother's that week, Jamie commented:

"Great grandma, that is a very pretty dress you are wearing."

And during the dinner discussion, he said of his five-year-old sister who was with him at the table:

"You know, I just couldn't get along without Debby."

The skin on the back of his hands and feet had eroded, leaving raw surfaces that kept enlarging.

I tried a new liver extract that for the first time seemed to prove helpful.

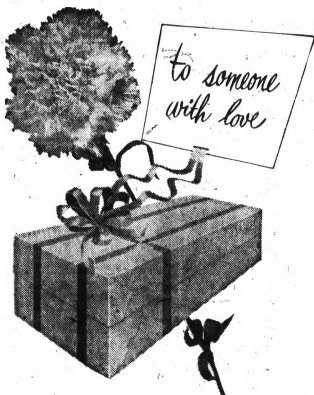

As Jamie saw the healing area, he shouted: "Mamma, look I'm getting well!"

Then he raised his arms against his chest and lifted his eyes upward, meanwhile exclaiming:

"Thank-you, God," as if he were conversing with the Almighty.

And so he must have been! For Jamie slipped away from Mrs. Crane and me just before dawn a few days later, and I joined the angels.

He was such a spunky, alert little fellow that we grieved to see him go. But among the angels he can now romp and play like other youngsters, so it was better thus.

Nosy Planes to Track Apollos

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Five big-nosed aircraft that look as if Jimmy Durante's schnozzle slipped into their engineering plans will have an operational debut with the launch of America's first Saturn

5 superrocket, scheduled tomorrow. The modified jet cargo planes, built with 16-foot-long "droop snoots" in front to hold the biggest steerable antennas ever flown, will play a major role acting as airborne radio relay tracking stations during all missions in the Apollo man-to-the-moon program.

Called ARIA for Apollo Range Information, the aircraft will fly over the Atlantic to acquire data during the 363-foot-tall Saturn 5's launch phase and events during a portion of its second orbit.

OTHER PLANES

Orbital activity will also be handled by ARIA craft over the Gulf of Mexico, while two ARIAs over the Pacific are to acquire data during the unmanned Apollo craft's reentry near Hawaii.

The fifth ARIA, to be positioned southwest of Hawaii, will relay a signal simulating an astronaut's voice from the unmanned Apollo 4 spacecraft to the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's Hawaii tracking station in a communications test.

Altogether, eight ARIAs are being developed, to support Apollo missions under a $37-million contract with McDonnell Douglas and Bendix Corporation. The "droop snoots" are modified versions of eight C135 jet transport cargo planes.

The movable, dish-shaped antenna in the aircraft's elongated nose—coupled with the maneuverability of the plane itself—gives each ARIA the capability to act as a long-range communications relay link.

VOICE RELAYS

Flying at altitudes between 35,000 and 40,000 feet at specific locations around the globe, the aircraft during manned Apollo missions will be equipped to relay astronauts' voices from orbiting spacecraft to ground flight controllers and vice versa. They will also receive and record telemetry data concerning the equivalent of letting off 100 megatons of TNT, or many hydrogen bombs.

When not being used for Project Apollo, the airplanes and their 11-man crews will help gather telemetry data during other NASA and Defense Department launches, officials said.

Nudists Warn Buzzing Pilots

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — Pilots who buzz a nudist colony near Albuquerque were given a poetic warning. Pete Ettinger of Coronado Airport received the following verse Tuesday from the Yucca Naturist Club of Albuquerque:

Hello up there, you in the sky; We like to see you zoom close by;

But please, if you would be our friend, Don't come to an unfortunate end.

You know the power lines are here, So don't please don't come down so near;

We know the nudes are lovely to see, So why not join us? a nudist be!

Blast Kills 15

LIMA, Peru (AP) — Fifteen workers were killed Tuesday by a gas explosion in a tunnel of a hydroelectric plant at Mantaro, about 200 miles east of Lima.

Minor Planet Won't Hit Earth, Scientists Aver

LONDON (AP) — The minor planet Icarus approaches Earth for the first time in 110,000 years, but scientists once feared would be a collision course.

But the British government said today it will be a miss—by four million miles.

"No collision, nor any near approach in any but the astronomical sense will occur," said a spokesman for Britain's Science Research Council.

The council said it is indebted for this information to the Institute of Theoretical Astronomy in Leningrad—recognized international center for the collection of information about minor planets.

Scientists are themselves indebted for information on orbital elements by Dr. S. Herrick of the University of California.

One British scientist, Ian McIntyre, has calculated that Icarus—one mile across—struck the earth the impact would be the equivalent of letting off 100 megatons of TNT, or many hydrogen bombs.

He said the effects would be many times worse than the biggest known explosion—that of the volcano, Krakatoa in 1884, which set off worldwide tidal waves and drowned 36,000 people in the Dutch East Indies.

Another scientist worked out that on the figures quoted, the odds against a direct hit must be about a million to one.

State Man to Head 4-H Agents' Group

WASHINGTON (AP) —Gould S. Pinney of Bay City, Mich., today was elected president of the National Association of Extension 4-H Agents.

Pinney, an extension 4-H youth agent, served as vice president of the national organization last year. He has been 4-H club agent in Bay County for 24 years and also has served based extension program in Midland, Isabella and Saginaw Counties.

The new national president is a past president of the Michigan 4-H Agents Association and has received both the state and national distinguished service award for outstanding organization work with youth.

Assessment Revisions Sought by City Commission

City commissioners last night were asked to make major changes in the city's special assessment policies affecting water mains, sewers, sidewalks, paving, grading and graveling.

The Commission agreed to defer the subject to examine the proposed changes more closely. The commissioners indicated they will discuss the subject Nov. 20 prior to reaching a decision.

The changes would reduce sharply the city's share of special assessment projects in some cases as much as 40 per cent.

Director of Public Works and Service Joseph E. Neippling said, "Time has run out and some action must be considered either now or in the very near future."

"For some time," he said, "the comparison of actual costs of special assessment projects to the assessment revenues has indicated that present assessment rates have fallen far behind actual construction costs."

'BURDEN ON CITY'

The demand for improvements has created a burden on city funds, he said.

"It has been necessary to curtail certain street paving projects and some sidewalk construction because of the inadequacy of matching funds on the part of the city," he said.

He said the demand for public improvements will be greater in the next 12 to 18 months than has been experienced in the last five years.

In other action, the commission gave preliminary approval to a new water rate ordinance calling for an increase in water rates.

20 PCT. HIKE

Rates for most residents will go up a flat 20 per cent.

The rate change was partly necessitated by the City of Detroit which raised bulk rates to its users by 15 per cent starting Nov. 1.

In other action, the commission:

- Authorized an agreement with the Oakland County Drain Commission which allows the city to dump its snow from street removal at the outlet of the Clinton River Drain No. 1.
- Authorized vacation of streets and alleys in the area bounded by Walton Boulevard, Highwood, the Belt Line Railroad and the P.O. & N. Railroad.
- Set Nov. 28 public hearings on five rezoning requests.

wood and on Dearborn from Fairview to Kennett.

• Authorized adding space to Elks Lodge 810 at 114 Orchard Lake. Permission is needed because of the club's liquor license.

Among the rezoning requests is one for construction of apartments on an 11-acre parcel north of University Drive and west of the Belt Line Railroad. The planning commission has recommended approval of the request.

Housing Unit Post Is Filled

City commissioners last night appointed Theodore Nellis of 76 Chippewa to the Pontiac Housing Commission to serve an unexpired term.

Nellis, a retiree, was an accountant with Pontiac Motor Division. He has lived in the city since the early 1930s.

The commission now consists of Nellis, President Karl A. Walter of 990 Argyle; Vice President Mrs. Harry F. Killian of 119 Lincoln; Mrs. Joseph Howard of 18 Gillespie; and Vernon M. Page of 199 Rockwell.

City officials expect that another vacancy will be coming up with the resignation of another member.

Nellis will fill the unexpired term of Theodore E. Wiersma of 316 W. Troquais, a 20-year member, who resigned in moving from the state.

The term runs until June 1970.

Commission Defers Action on Yule Decor

A decision on whether the city will help decorate the downtown area for the Christmas season was deferred for one week by the City Commission last night.

Officials said the Downtown Pontiac Business Association had inquired about the possibility of a joint effort to decorate the downtown area.

Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. suggested waiting until "we receive a proposal in form of a contract."

"We don't want another occurrence of the last few years," he said, referring to a general mix-up over the obligations of the business association in regard to bills for past joint Christmas ventures.

Last week the commission voted to cancel a debt of some $13,000 which officials said the association owed from the past ventures.

Accord Reached

DETROIT (AP)—A five-week strike by about 900 job-shop pattern-makers is expected to end next week with the ratification of a new three-year contract.

The new contract provides a boost of $1.89 an hour in wages and fringe benefits. The tentative settlement reached Monday night provides a third-year minimum of $7.03 per hour.

Town's Credit Is Questioned

REHOBOTH, Mass. (AP)—When a town employee suggested that the town hall needed a doorman on which people could view their feet, officials asked various businesses how much such a mat could be rented for.

Monday night, to their consternation and amusement, the selectmen received a letter from an unidentified laundry and dry cleaning firm. It offered a $150 monthly rental fee—accompanied by a form inquiring about the customer's credit rating.

It was the first time anyone had questioned the town's financial ability to pay a $150 monthly bill, but the selectmen welcomed their discomfiture nobly and moved on to other business.

Junior Editors Quiz on Motion

QUESTION: Who first studied motion?

ANSWER: Too many people have studied different kinds of motion since ancient days to be able to answer this question exactly. We illustrate one kind of motion study which ultimately lead to motion pictures and TV.

In 1872, the English photographer Eadward Muybridge decided to see if the new high speed camera could show separate phases of the movement of a galloping horse. He set up a row of cameras with trip threads, which the horse broke as it galloped past, producing a series of still pictures.

The six horses above are a sequence taken from one of Muybridge's sets of photographs. Run your eye across them and you will get a suggestion of movement.

Thomas Edison photographed similar sets on long, continuous film and arranged them inside a cabinet—lower picture. As the film passed over a light, the series of still photographs merged together, capturing the full sense of movement.

By 1896 Edison was projecting film stories which moved; a new era of entertainment had arrived—the movies were with us!

Collegians Queue for Art Work Rentals

CHICAGO (U) — Standing in line is the bane of most college students, but at the University of Chicago students scramble for a chance to do just that. That's the queue for art works to decorate their rooms.

The competition for selection of favorites is so intense that many get in line the night before the pictures are loaned so they will have priority to select the work they want.

Hardly had the shoe soles cooled from standing in registration lines at the start of the autumn term than the art rental exhibition was announced.

For $1 a quarter, the students may rent pictures to hang in their rooms from the "Art to Live With" collection, which consists of 500 paintings, lithographs, silk screens and etchings.

FAMOUS ARTISTS

Represented in the collection are works by such artists as Chagall, Miro, Rouault, Hans Hoffman, Max Ernst, Francis Chapin, Max Kahn, Goya, Curt Seligman, Braque, Leger and Picasso.

The collection was donated by Joseph Randall Shapiro, a trustee of the university, well-known art collector and president of the new Museum of Contemporary Art in Chicago.

Shapiro continues to add to the collection, selecting the works himself and having them custom-framed by the man who frames his own private collection. The loan collection has grown from an initial 50 to its present size.

The nominal rental fee paid by the students covers insurance.

TREAT WITH RESPECT

There is little damage to the works, Prof. Harold Hayden, university art professor, said in an interview, because the students treat the pictures "with the greatest respect."

Occasionally a glass has to be replaced and frames refinished, but this is routine and expected, he said.

Shapiro reflected this view. He said the students look upon the pictures "as something to be revered."

The idea for the art-loan program originated with Prof. Hayden.

He said he was disappointed that students in his arts and humanities courses had only reproductions to look at. These, he pointed out, are not very good substitutes for originals.

He was discussing with the university administration the possibility of getting started some sort of original art-loan program and talked with Shapiro about it.

It was then, in 1956, that Shapiro offered works from his own collection for the program and later donated these to the university.

Killed in Combat

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Michigan Marine is among the latest list of servicemen killed in action in Vietnam, released Tuesday by the Pentagon. He was Pfc. James G. Edinger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dale E. Edinger of Sodus.

From the loan program, Hayden says, "a lot of students have developed a lifelong interest in the arts."

The program represents a "democratizing of art," he says, in that it "lets people know they don't have to depend on museums."

"It provides day-to-day enjoyment of art works," he said.

Faculty and staff members of the university took envious note of the treasures made available to the students and asked if they, too, might not be included. They now rent works to hang in their offices.

A universal snakebite serum—suerio antiofiofio polivalente—has been developed, which cures people, if treated within hours of the bite, within a few days.

YOUR CHILD MAY HAVE PIN-WORMS 1 OUT OF 5 DOES

Fragrant, nose-picking, a turning-out fecal feet are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms... ugly parasites that medical experts say infect 1 out of every 5 persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it. To get rid of Pin-Worms, they must be killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do... and here's how they do it: First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily. Don't take chances with dangerous, highly contagious Pin-Worms which infect entire families. Get genuine Jayne's P-W Vermifuge... small, easy-to-take tablets... special sizes for children and adults.

Eased Abortion Law Starts in California

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (UPI) — The new liberalized California abortion law — praised by some as progressive, condemned by others as immoral — became effective today.

The law generated an emotional controversy before it cleared the 1967 California Legislature and was signed by Gov. Ronald Reagan.

For 106 years women in California could obtain a legal abortion only if the life of the mother was threatened by a full-term pregnancy.

The new law legalizes abortion when the pregnancy threatens the physical or mental health of the mother, in cases of statutory rape involving a girl under 18, and when pregnancy results from rape or incest.

Freshman Sen. Anthony C. Beilenson, D-Beverly Hills, sponsored the liberalization measure. He called it "a very modest reform of our very stringent law."

'GUESS OF PROGRESS'

But 13 members of the University of San Francisco Theology Department said that "under the guise of humanitarianism and scientific progress, a basically immoral proposition is being peddled as moral and proper."

And a small group of women paraded in front of the capitol urging legislators to repeal entirely laws prohibiting abortion.

Reagan insisted that a provision be eliminated that would have permitted an abortion when there was grave danger of the child being born physically deformed.

He said it was "only a step away from what Hitler tried to do" by executing mentally and physically defective persons.

PROVISION DELETED

With that provision out of the bill, Reagan signed it.

But under California's constitution, the new law didn't go into effect until 91 days after the legislature adjourned its regular session in August.

Colorado and North Carolina eased their abortion laws earlier this year. Those statutes, already in effect, are similar to the California act but both permit termination of pregnancies to prevent birth of deformed children.

To make abortions possible, hospitals must establish abortion committees of three doctors each.

An abortion may be performed during the first 12 weeks of pregnancy with the approval of two of the three committee members. From 12 to 20 weeks, unanimous approval is required. The law does not permit abortions after 20 weeks.

The California law has no residence requirement.

Hal Boyle Looks Back: 30 Years of Marriage OK

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Thirty years ago today I married my first wife.

We are still together, my last duchess and me, no more strangers now than we were when we set out to find each other so brief a long time ago.

"This looks like steady work," I muttered to myself as I carried my bride, Frances, across the threshold of our $35-a-month apartment in Greenwich Village in 1937.

As weddings go it didn't make much of a splash. It happened at one of those churches so busy you simply had to be there on time. If you showed up 15 minutes early, you might be baptized instead of married, and if you showed up 15 minutes late you might be buried.

THRIFT WEDDING

I saved $5 by not having all the candles lit, and $10 by providing the music from the soul rather than paying for a hired hand to key the sounds.

Since then, that wedding has endured cockroaches and higher rents, movings on to new adventures, arguments and agreements, the sharings of happinesses and dismayes, and the wistful attempt to raise a child to the point where she has the ability to pay for her own telephone.

Looking back across that small eternity of union, I have concluded that it is only wonder that has kept it going.

Over the years many benefactors have asked me if I have any suggestions that might help make a marriage endure. I can think of only two.

ONE FOR THE MONEY

First, both partners shouldn't always worry about what to do with the money that is available. This problem should be given to the mind of whichever partner is best able to deal with it.

The second suggestion I would make for a lasting marriage is that the wife get up and cook her husband a good breakfast every day.

Marriage does odd things to people. It has turned my brown hair to silver, and my pretty brunette Frances into a lovely blonde.

Thirty years with a first wife if a fellow isn't careful, a condi-

Interference With Recruiters to Imperil Deferments

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Selective Service Director Lewis B. Hershey has told local draft boards they should strip deferments from college students who interfere with military recruiters on campus and put them at the top of the induction list.

It was learned yesterday that Hershey made the recommendation in letters to local boards on Oct. 26 as several hundred students at Oberlin College in Ohio were attempting to physically block recruitment activities of a Navy representative in a college building.

The recruiter later was kept penned in his car for four hours until police broke up the crowd of students with tear gas.

Hershey's letter justified re-voicing deferments in such instances on the grounds that student deferments are "given only

Flag to Wave Till War Ends

PLAINVIEW, Tex. (AP)—An American flag will be raised here Saturday to be taken down only at the end of the Vietnam war.

Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 5399 of Plainview have voted to raise the flag at daybreak on Veterans Day, and to leave it flying, outlined at night with a spotlight, as long as the Vietnam war continues.

The move was projected to counter war protesters, and the VFW unit declared 100 per cent approval of the present war policy, post officials said.

He added that all members of the Guard would be assured of the opportunity for continued service under the new proposal.

The Federal Government has made available $4.5 million to oaseside states to help increase stocks of ocean fish that spawn in fresh water.

State Guard Troops, Units Are Hiked

LANSING (AP)—The Department of Defense has increased for a total state strength of 10,207 Army Guardsmen and 80 Guard troop and unit strength over its Aug. 10 proposed realignment plan, State Adjutant Gen. Clarence C. Schnipke said yesterday.

This would have been a reduction from the guard's present troop strength of 9,909 men.

Maj. Gen. Schnipke said the latest proposal, received from the department provides for an

The department's earlier proposal had given Michigan a troop allotment of 9,857 Guardsmen making up 70 units.

Schnipke said he and his staff are studying the proposal and will make recommendations to Gov. George Romney, who had protested the department's Aug. 10 proposed cut-back plan.

AN EARLIER PROPOSAL
The earlier proposal did not provide an adequate command structure and troop strength to cope with civil disorders of the size experienced last July in Detroit, Romney, the Guard's commander in chief, had charged.

Romney also said increased capability is necessary should there be simultaneous outbreaks of violence in several Michigan cities.

Gen. Schnipke said the new plan would require changes in unit composition, but he said Michigan cities that now have a Guard unit would continue to have a unit under the new plan.

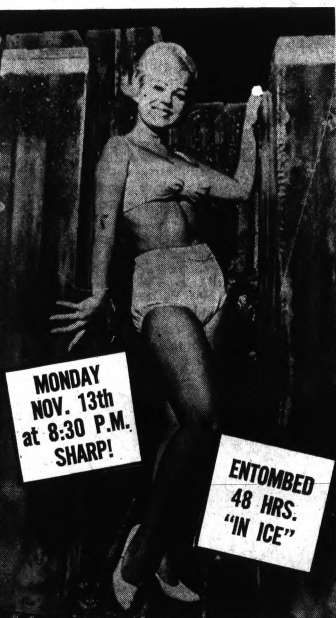

Dog Named Champ Is a Driving Chump

FISHERS ISLAND, N.Y. (AP)—A dog named Champ drove his master's station wagon into the Fishers Island Coast Guard station Monday. But he proved to be a bit of a chump as a driver, barely missing one flagpole, bashing into another and narrowly avoiding the water.

The 2-year-old springer spaniel is owned by John Gada of Fishers Island, who left the dog in the car with the motor running while he waited for a ferry.

Somehow the dog engaged the automatic transmission and the car backed slowly into the station. Champ emerged unscathed.

Counties Fear Revenue Loss

Court Bill Funding Assailed

LANSING (AP) — Several of Michigan's counties, in turn, would provide Groat, R-Battle Creek, pro-Michigan's counties, including vide and maintain court facilities that the state would pay the biggest one, are mounting ties and pay salaries of all court counties nearly $9 million over an attack on the fiscal provisions. The state would pay the lower court fees each district judge $20,000 a five years to offset court expenditures which could be en-year. A county could supplement that up to a total of $27, as members tried to clarify the financial picture.

Some lawmakers, echoing the fears of their county supervisors, are insisting on amendments to divert more of the revenues from the proposed district court system to the counties, which would bear much of the cost of the system.

The bill's sponsor and chief spokesman, House Judiciary Committee Chairman Donald A. Holbrook, R-Clare, contends the year.

county figures are wrong and says he is sure the counties would not lose money under the present bill.

The Board of Wayne County Auditors Tuesday wrote to legislators urging them to oppose the bill as now written, claiming it would cost Wayne County an additional $2 million-plus per year.

Holbrook said the figure "is utterly ridiculous."

Nevertheless, a number of legislators have made it plain they are worried that their counties might be saddled with the expenses of the new court system without getting enough of the courts' revenue to break even.

While those fears are widespread in the House, the court bill's chances of getting the two-thirds majority needed for passage appear slim.

As now written, the bill would return 85 per cent of all costs assessed by district judges in criminal cases for the counties, along with 65 per cent of civil filing fees and $10 for each marriage performed by a judge.

Decision Near on OCC Intercollegiate Athletic Policy

A controversial proposed policy at Oakland Community College President Dr. John E. Tirrell is expected to recommend approval of an intercollegiate athletic policy, which would pave the way for football to be up for adoption at Three of the six trustees are tomorrow's board of trustees known to oppose adding the sport to the college program.

Financial considerations will also be an important item of business.

Tirrell is expected to: Present bids to the board for construction of science, general assembly and boiler buildings in an estimated $10-million construction project at the Auburn Hills campus in Pontiac Township.

Recommend the reduction of tuition for Michigan residents from outside the college district from $20 per credit hour to $12.

Present a revised operating budget for the current fiscal year in the neighborhood of $5.4 million.

The meeting will be 8 p.m. at the George A. Bee Administration Center, 2480 Opdyke, Bloomfield Hills.

West Sees a Loophole in Chinese Gooseberries

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI)—If you have been following the House investigation of tax-exempt foundations, it may have started a little bell the "Chinese Gooseberry Foundation" will come into being there in a dim corner of your mind. I got the idea for my foundation from the tariff fight taking place in the Senate.

"Aha!" you may have exclaimed to yourself. "The small business subcommittee petition."

WEST claims that thousands of individuals are setting up philanthropic, educational, scientific and religious foundations primarily as tax loopholes.

"In that case, why don't I create my own foundation and join in the fun?"

This, of course, is usually Chinese gooseberries? Don't feel what happens when Congress finds a tax loophole. Rather than a great public outcry for hearing of them either.

Hospital Flight Saves Tonsils

WEYMOUTH, Mass. (AP)—Kenneth Baumeister, 12, was tax-exempt foundation. It will due to have his tonsils out but he dedicated to the dissemination when he saw one of his brothers (ton of information about Chi-far after a similar operation, he nose gooseberries.

He dashed from a hospital—Chinese gooseberries are not hospital gown flowing and hare-grown in China. They are grown feet flashing—and hid in a New Zealand. On the outside, thick of bushes 1½ miles they resemble a small hairy coconut. The inside tastes something like a strawberry-flavored honeydew melon.

Ninety minutes later, two neighbors found Kenneth and Judging from the subcommittee took him home. His mother's findings, that data alone said he agreed to surrender his should be good for a sizable tonsils at a later date.

There happens to be a fruit dealer in Ullman's district who imports the things.

All of which provides an ideal purpose for my new nonprofit.

Already I have learned that tax loophole.

MARKET BASKET

By JANET ODELL

Pontiac Press Food Editor
Apple pie has been named one of the favorite desserts of all time. You're sure to please the men when you serve this typical American delight.

There are any number of different apple pies and we're about to add to your recipe collection.

Apples which make the best pies are Greenings (my favorite), Spys, Winesaps, Jonathan, McIntoshes and Yellow Transparents.

We'll skip the conventional recipe for apple pie and concentrate on some interesting variations.

APPLE PECAN PIE

1 cup sifted enriched flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup shortening
2 to 3 tablespoons cold water
sugar and spice mix
4 cups sliced peeled green apples crisp apple pie topping
1/2 cup-pecan halves

Sift flour and salt together into bowl. Cut or rub in shortening until mixture is crumbly. Sprinkle with water, mixing lightly until dough begins to stick together.

Turn out on lightly floured board or pastry cloth and press dough together. Roll dough to circle 1/8 inch thick and line 9-inch pie pan. Trim and flute edge.

Sprinkle bottom of pie shell with sugar and spice mix. Arrange half of sliced apples on top. Sprinkle with remaining sugar and spice mix and top with remaining apple slices.

Sprinkle the crisp apple pie topping evenly over apples. Bake in moderately hot oven (400 degrees) 30 to 40 minutes or until apples are done.

Remove pie from oven, and top with pecan halves. Makes one 9-inch pie.

Sugar and Spice Mix

1/2 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
1/2 teaspoon salt
Mix sugar, cinnamon, nutmeg and salt.

Crisp Apple Pie Topping

1/2 cup sifted enriched flour
1/2 cup brown sugar
1/2 cup butter or margarine
Combine flour and sugar. Cut in butter or margarine until mixture is crumbly.

Amber Apple Pie

Amber Apple Pie is a gelatin version. If you can't find apple gelatin, use orange gelatin and cider for the liquid.

1 package apple-flavored gelatin
1 to 2 tablespoons sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/8 teaspoon cinnamon
1/8 teaspoon nutmeg
1 cup boiling water
8 to 12 large ice cubes
1/2 teaspoon lemon juice
2 cups diced fresh apples, (about 3 apples)
1 baked 9-inch pie shell
Whipped cream

Combine gelatin, sugar, salt, cinnamon, and nutmeg. Add boiling water and stir until gelatin is completely dissolved. Add ice cubes and stir constantly 2 to 3 minutes, or until gelatin starts to thicken.

Remove unmelted ice. Add lemon juice and let stand 2 to 3 minutes. Then add apples. Stir.

Pour into pie shell. Chill until set, about 3 hours. Garnish with pinwheel of apple slices in a puff of whipped cream.

AMBER APPLE PIE

Two One-Crust Apple Pies

This deep dish apple pie has a robust flavor with blue cheese mixed into the pastry.

BLUE CHEESE DEEP DISH PIE

8 cups thinly sliced, tart apples
1 cup sugar
1 1/4 teaspoons cinnamon
2 tablespoons butter
2 1/2 tablespoons cold water
1/4 cup American blue cheese (about 1 1/4 ounces, crumbled)
1/2 cup shortening
1 cup sifted all-purpose flour

Combine apples, sugar and cinnamon; mix well. Turn into greased 8x8x2-inch baking dish. Dot with butter.

Cut cheese and shortening into flour with pastry blender or 2 knives until mixture is size of peas. Add water in small amounts, stirring lightly. Press dough lightly into a ball.

Roll out on lightly floured surface to 1/8-inch thickness; place over apples. Trim and flute edges. Cut slits in top.

Bake in 400-degree oven 45 to 50 minutes, or until apples are tender. Serve pie with additional wedges of American Blue Cheese, if desired.

UPSIDE-DOWN APPLE PIE

1/4 cup light corn syrup
1/2 cup sugar, divided
2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
1 tablespoon ascorbic acid powder
1/4 cup flour
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
Dash salt
6 cups sliced apples (4 to 5)
1 8-inch round unbaked pastry
Whipped cream

Combine corn syrup, 1/4 cup of sugar and butter in the bottom of an 8-inch round layer cake pan. Mix together remaining 1/4 cup sugar, ascorbic acid powder, flour, lemon rind, nutmeg and salt.

Peel, core and slice apples into sugar and flour mixture. Toss well to coat each slice. Turn apples into pan on top of syrup mixture.

Fit unbaked pastry round over top. Flute edge and prick. Bake in a 375-degree oven 45 minutes. Remove from oven and cool at least 30 minutes. Invert on serving plate. Garnish with whipped cream. Makes 6 servings.

UPSIDE DOWN APPLE PIE

Elegant Apple-Mince Pie

Apple-Mince Pie calls for a lattice crust. This one is served with wine-flavored whipped cream and grated lemon rind.

2 packages pie crust mix
4-6 medium size green apples (4 cups), peeled, cored and thinly sliced
1 package (9 ounces) concentrated mincemeat, crumbled
3/4 cup sugar
1/2 cup chopped pecans
Grated rind and juice of 1 small orange

Prepare pie crust according to package directions. Roll out 3/4 of pastry large enough to line bottom and sides of ungreased 10-inch pie pan. Allow about 1 inch of pastry overhang at edge of pie for fluting.

Combine remaining ingredients and spoon into pie pan. Roll out remaining pastry and cut into 1/2-inch wide strips. Arrange in a lattice over filling. Flute edge.

Bake, in 400-degree oven 35 to 40 minutes, or until crust is richly browned and apples are easily pierced. Cool to lukewarm before cutting.

Serve with slices or wedges of sharp cheddar cheese and wine-flavored whipped cream: combine 2 cups whipped cream (1 cup heavy cream), 2 tablespoons confectioners' sugar and 2 tablespoons red sweet wine; spoon into serving dish, and sprinkle with 1 tablespoon grated lemon rind.

Apple 'n' Pumpkin Pie

1 10-inch unbaked pie shell
2 eggs, slightly beaten
1 3/4 cups (14 1/2 oz. can) evaporated milk
1 lb. 2 oz. can pumpkin pie filling
1 lb. 4 oz. can pie-sliced apples, drained
1/4 cup brown sugar, firmly packed
1/2 cup granulated sugar
2 tablespoons all purpose flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
3/4 teaspoon cinnamon
1/4 teaspoon nutmeg

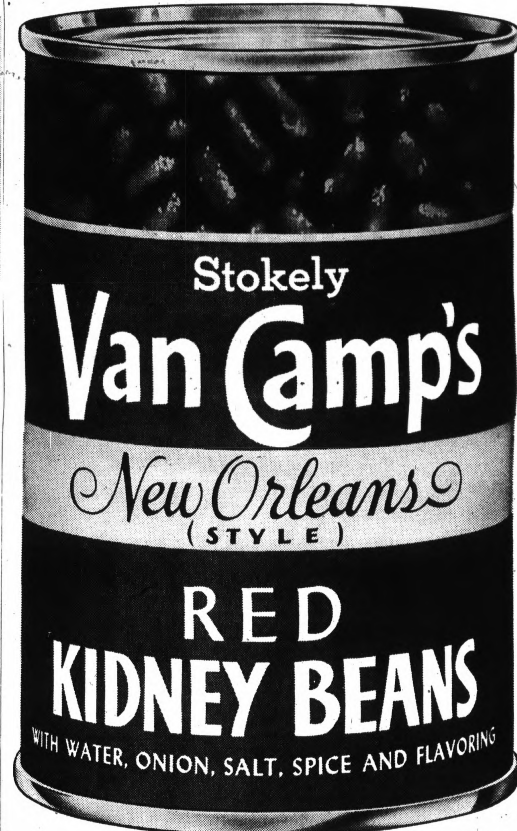

Combine eggs and evaporated milk. Stir in pumpkin pie filling and mix until well blended; set aside. Combine apples, sugars, flour, salt and spices. Pour apple mixture into prepared pie shell.

Pour over 2 cups of the pumpkin mixture. Bake in a 425-degree oven for 15 minutes. Reduce oven temperature to 350 degrees and continue baking about 45 minutes or until firm.

Use remaining pumpkin mixture for pumpkin custard: Pour pumpkin mixture into 4 buttered custard cups. Place in a pan of hot water. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) for 45 to 50 minutes or until done.

Freezer Offers Ingredients to Top Sundaes

An easy, excellent way to add sparkling color and lustre to fresh fruit flavors to ice cream is to serve it with frozen fruits.

For the simplest, no-work version of this dessert combination just spoon the defrosted frozen fruit of your choice over scoops of ice cream or alternate spoonfuls of the defrosted fruit and ice cream in tall parfait glasses.

Always defrost the fruit in its unopened container, following the package directions or allowing about 6 hours at refrigerator temperature; 1½ hours at room temperature; 20 minutes under cold running water; 7 to 14 minutes in a bowl of warm water (for new quick-thaw frozen fruits in plastic pouches).

Another speedy and favorite topping for ice cream is pureed frozen fruit, plain or enhanced with just a dash of liqueur or wine.

Good combinations are frozen raspberries with kirsch or framboise; frozen strawberries with grand marnier or cointreau.

frozen peaches with benedictine or peach brandy; frozen melon balls with cognac, or marsala wine.

To puree frozen fruit, thaw it only enough so that it can be separated into pieces. Place it in the container of an electric blender, cover and whirl until smooth.

If the frozen fruit is thawed completely, it can be pureed with a food mill or by pressing it through a sieve.

Here are two excellent choices for vanilla ice cream: a smooth, creamy sauce made with frozen peaches and packaged pudding; a rich red raspberry sauce and a tangy, blueberry-almond sauce.

Frozen Peach Sauce
1 package (12 ounces) frozen sliced peaches
1 package (3¼ ounces) vanilla pudding and pie filling
1½ cups milk
2 tablespoons chopped drained maraschino

cherries
Defrost peaches. Prepare vanilla pudding according to package directions, adding juice drained from the peaches and milk. Cook until pudding bubbles and thickens. Cool.

Chop peaches or force through a very coarse sieve. Stir peaches and cherries into pudding. Chill for several hours. Serve over scoops of vanilla ice cream. Makes about 2½ cups.

Frozen Raspberry Sauce
2 packages (10 ounces each) frozen raspberries

¾ cup currant jelly
1 tablespoon cornstarch
2 tablespoons cold water

Defrost raspberries. Combine raspberry syrup and jelly in saucepan. Blend together cornstarch and cold water; stir into syrup mixture.

Cook over medium heat, stirring frequently, until sauce is clear and thickened. Add raspberries. Chill. Serve on scoops of vanilla ice cream. Makes about 2½ cups sauce.

FROZEN FRUIT SUNDAES—Chopped frozen peaches and maraschino cherries are combined in convenient packaged vanilla pudding for this smooth, creamy ice cream sauce. Other frozen fruit toppings for ice cream are featured in the accompanying story.

Liver in Bacon Bakes Briefly

For the family who really wants to avoid fried foods and enjoy their meals at the same time, here's a baked dish of iron-rich liver — delicious, different and economical.

Serve this with scalloped potatoes and green beans.

Liver and Bacon Rolls With Scalloped Potatoes

1 pound young beef liver
1/2 teaspoon powdered sage
1/2 pound sliced bacon

Remove membrane from liver, then cut into 1 1/2-inch pieces. Sprinkle with sage.

Cut each bacon slice in half and roll up 1 piece of liver in each half slice. Place on skewers, 3 to 4 rolls on each. Lay skewers on rack in shallow pan.

Bake in 400-degree (hot) oven, turning once, 20 minutes. Place hot skewers over bed of scalloped potatoes. Makes 6 servings.

Saute a Medley of Vegetables

U.S. Achievements Reviewed

Space Show Is at Mall

Models of the Surveyor and the Apollo and Lunar Excursion spacecraft are on display as part of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration show at the Pontiac Mall.

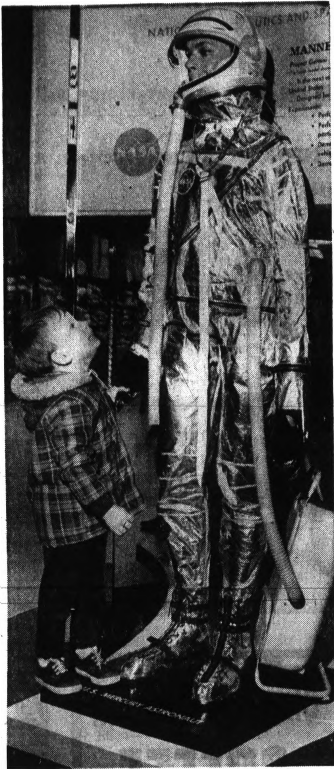

The NASA exhibit, which runs through Saturday, reviews American space achievements. There are more than 20 individual exhibits ranging in size from eight to 18 feet.

The show is being sponsored by the Waterford Township School District in observance of American Education Week.

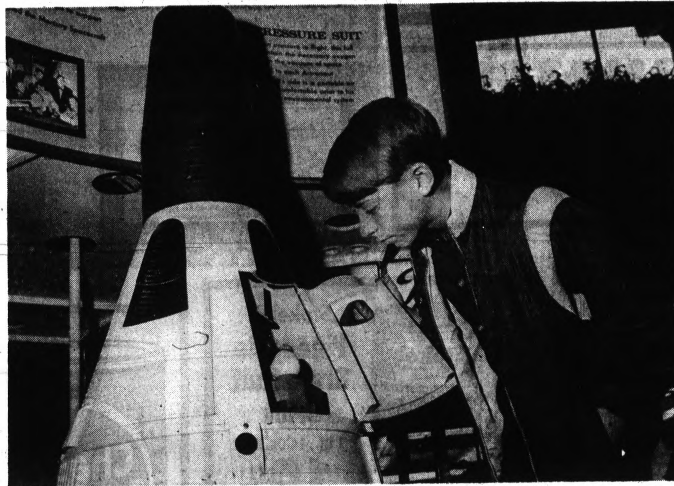

One of the NASA exhibits is a full-scale model of the soft-lunar-landing spacecraft of the Surveyor series. A Surveyor recently completed a photographic mission to the moon, taking more than 18,000 pictures of the moon's surface around its landing site.

Scale models, one-third the size of the Gemini and Mercury craft which blazed original trails into space for American astronauts, are included.

An animated exhibit explaining tracking of satellites and full-scale models of four weather and communication satellites also are featured.

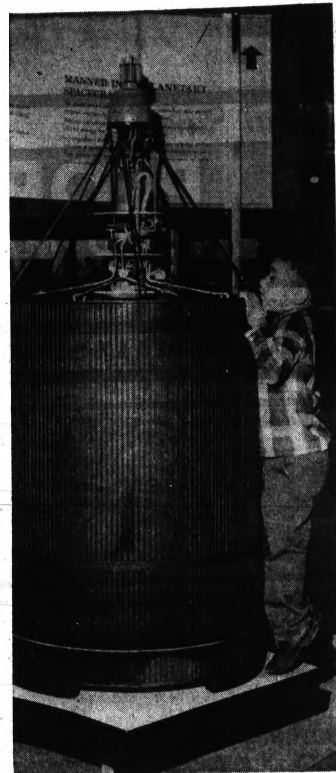

A NEW FRIEND—Timmy, 3, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Parlin of 2380 Pine View, West Bloomfield Township, views a model of a U.S. Mercury astronaut. The model is dressed exactly as an astronaut would be on a manned space flight.

ARE YOU COMFORTABLE?—Richard Edwards, 13, of 2621 Elsinore, Waterford Township, views a model of an astronaut strapped into a seat for blast-off. The capsule is from Project Mercury, the first step in the manned space-flight research program.

WHAT'S IN THERE?—Gregory Trejo, 5, son of Mr. and Mrs. Felix Trejo of 276 S. Sanford, wants to know what's inside the manned interplanetary spacecraft. This craft will go at high speeds in the vacuum of space, a necessity for manned space travel.

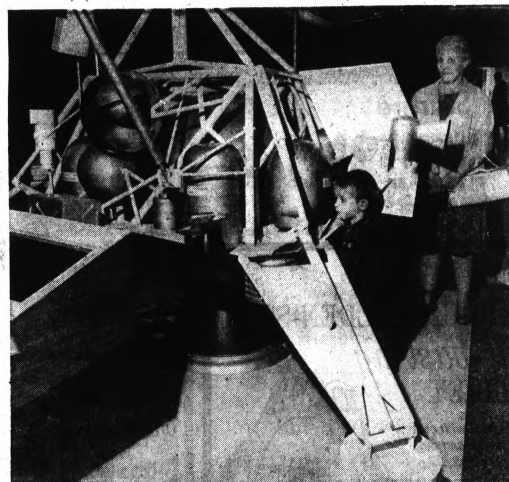

LOOK AT THAT!—Three Waterford Township teen-agers, Cheryl Reed (right) of 430 N. Cass Lake, Teri Ayers (center) of 3778 Brookdale and Leslie Francisco of 3684 Shad-dick, examine a nuclear engine for rocket vehicle application. This engine concept uses a nuclear reactor to heat liquid hydrogen to a high temperature to create a high thrust.

ROCKET POWERED—An Air Force X15, an experimental rocket-powered plane, is of interest to Mark Mason, 15, of 2598 Voorheis, Waterford Township. Gliding craft surround the X15 which is an experiment in reentry to the earth's atmosphere.

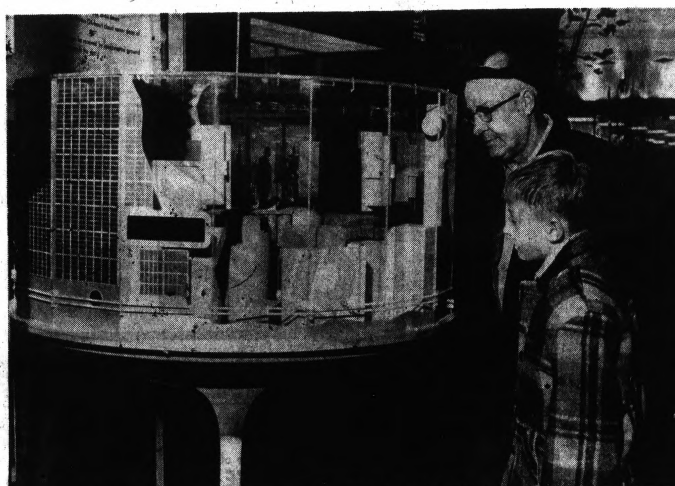

INSPECTING—David Woody, 4, son of Mr. and Mrs. Garland Woody of 424 Boyd, checks out the NASA Surveyor while grandmother Mrs. Charles Edwards of 2163 Phillips, Pontiac Township, watches him. A Surveyor recently landed on the moon and took pictures of the lunar surface.

A SUPER TELESCOPE—The Goddard experiment package being examined by Randy Woody, 8, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Woody of 1639 Joslyn, includes a 38-inch telescope and optical system. The package was sent into space on NASA's second orbiting astronomical laboratory to probe ultraviolet radiation and magnify things which can't be seen on earth-based telescopes.

TIROS SERIES—Melius Pederson of 4072 Crocus, Waterford Township, and his son Kim, 11, examine space applications of meteorology. The Tiros series was first launched in 1960. TV cameras were used for weather forecasting, and infrared sensors took pictures through clouds.

'Visit U.S.A.' Drive Closing Travel Gap

By DON GRAFT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
KANSAS CITY, Mo. — The United States has a bad case of gapitis in its travel accounts. To cure it, a major effort is under way to turn Americans the tourist business. Package deals making travel cheaper and more convenient have long been pushed on the tourist-conscious continent.

Bus and rail package deals are now available in the United States, and the airlines offer a staggering choice of budget plans, usually at 50 to 75 per cent of regular fare with fringe benefits.

The difference is the travel gap — more than twice as many Americans going abroad as foreigners visiting the United States and leaving behind almost three times as much money. In dollar terms, it represents a sizable chunk of the chronic U.S. balance of payments deficit.

While the gap has been with us for a long time, until recently it was not seen as a major problem by the men in Washington who keep books on national income and outgo.

TRAFFIC ENCOURAGED
In the immediate postwar years, in fact, American travel abroad was actively encouraged, for the dollars it pumped into a sick economy. Little thought was given to tourist traffic in this direction, and there was little of it.

All that began to change with the late 1950s, and the start of the long run of U.S. international payment deficits.

"Come on over and see us," became the new line, and the numbers came with a bang. In earnest, with the United States Travel Service (USTS), set up in the Commerce Department in 1961, calling the plays and keeping the score.

In 1960, the count was 491,359 overseas visitors, the next year 516,152. The million mark was passed in 1965 with a 1,040,002 total, and the yearly figures continue to climb.

Another record year is shaping up. During the first half of 1967, with the heavy travel season just getting under way, the head count showed 542,195 visitors, up 11.7 per cent over 1966.

American transportation has turned out to be a potent ally for the USTS. Particularly the airlines, obviously recognizing a good thing when they see it — about 10 overseas arrivals come by air to every one by sea.

Tips have been picked up from European old hands in Another typical bargain is Frontier's 30-day Vacationland tour at $100, $50 for the younger set.

Trans World Airlines offers visitors its entire coast-to-coast network with unlimited stopovers at 75 per cent of regular fare.

For its third U.S.A. Editors' Tour, TWA brought over 29 European journalists for a fast-paced look at Washington, New York, Expo 67, Cape Kennedy, San Francisco, the racous splendor of Las Vegas, the Grand Canyon and, for a peek at typical mid-America, Kansas City.

Eastern Airlines' 14-day Cradle of American History tour covers nine eastern states and the District of Columbia at $40 dross at Las Vegas, the Grand Canyon and, for a peek at typical mid-America, Kansas City.

There could be some question as to how much of the tourist increase can be credited to the sales job and how much is the natural result of increased prosperity abroad, permitting indulgence of a basic human itch to travel.

But a recent survey, conducted for USTS by a prestigious private research firm, credited the combined government-industry promotional effort in 1966 with adding nearly half a million tourists and $25 million in additional revenue to the U.S. take from tourism since 1961.

of foreign visitors is expected this year. During the first half of the year, with the heavy travel season just getting under way, the head count was up 11.7 per cent over 1966.

When playing the Landy convention, what do you do when your partner asks you to bid a major suit and you don't have one? You aren't happy and you may be in trouble, but you should pass his two club bid only with some-thing like seven clubs and singletons in both majors. If you have three cards in one major, just bid it and hope for the best; otherwise bid two diamonds, two no-trump or three clubs.

Two diamonds says, "You got us in trouble. Get yourself out into the best spot." Two no-trump says, "I have a good hand with nothing in the majors."

New Zealand Plans Switch to N-Power

By Science Service

WELLINGTON — Mountainous New Zealand now produces 84 per cent of its electricity by water power, the rest from fossil fuel. But the demands projected for the future far outstrip these sources, so the islands are going nuclear.

Within 10 years, for example the power demands of the single city of Auckland will equal the needs of the whole country.

So, New Zealand plans to begin nuclear energy generation with a station tentatively sited in the Hauraki Gulf area about 1977 E. B. Mackenzie, general manager of the New Zealand Electricity Department, recently completed a world trip investigating the advantages of nuclear power.

The type of reactor which appears most suitable for conditions here is a Canadian design using enriched uranium as fuel and heavy water for the moderator, he reports.

This combination permits fuel manufacture procedures simple enough to be carried out in New Zealand. It also allows the use of a low-cost fuel which does not need to be treated after irradiation, thus avoiding transport to a treatment plant.

Jackie, Prince Talk on Prisoners' Release

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia Tuesday after news of its release (AP) — Prince Norodom Sihanouk lay to his wife through Cambodia disclosed today he told her.

Mrs. John F. Kennedy that North Vietnam could not release the American flyers it holds or Nguyen Huu Tho had in prison, "because it would be an encouragement to continue to keep (Hertz) alive but he was the bombing."

"They also consider the pilots as war criminals," Cambodia's ruling prince told a news conference after Mrs. Kennedy flew to Thailand.

The prince, whose government maintains close ties with North Vietnam and the Vietcong, said Mrs. Kennedy had brought up the subject of American prisoners and inquired particularly about American air men held in North Vietnam and about Donald Ramsey, an AID official captured in South Vietnam almost two years ago. Several Americans taken by the Vietcong have been released through Cambodia in the past.

Mrs. Kennedy, looking a bit tired after her six-day stay in Cambodia, returned to Bangkok aboard a U.S. Air Force plane escorted to the Thai border by two Soviet-built Cambodian MIGs. After three days of social functions, sight-seeing and shopping, she and her party leave for home early Saturday.

WILLING INTERMEDIARIES — Sihanouk said three American Army sergeants the Vietcong promised last week to release would probably be sent through Cambodia but added that he is "now awaiting a decision" from the National Liberation Front, the Vietcong's political arm.

"We are always willing to act as intermediaries," he said. Reliable sources reported that the release of the three Americans was decided as a result of the death Sept. 24 of Gustav C. Hertz, a U.S. aid official kidnaped near Saigon February cancer common in parts of 1965. Hertz' death of Malaria Africa, are believed allied to was announced in Washington viruses.

Sihanouk said he had given Mrs. Kennedy no special message for President Johnson.

New Yorkers Reject New State Constitution.

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — New York's $2.5-billion transportation vote was 1,171,172 for the constitution and 2,897,116 against. Tuesday against a new state issue in U.S. history. It promulgated a constitution that would have more highways in New York than any other state, more airports everywhere, against.

They solidly approved Republican Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller. With 12,089 of the state's Assembly Speaker Anthony J. Travia announced they would to salvage some features of the constitution by amendment of the old one—a process that would take until November 1969 at the earliest. "Now that the voting is over," Rockefeller said, "I urge all citizens to approach our common problem in a positive manner, free of the divisiveness which to a certain extent characterized the constitutional debate." While the church school aid provision dominated the campaign, it was not unusually acrimonious and many other issues were involved.

DEFENSIVE ACE—End Ron Bemis latches onto a pass during a practice session with the Pontiac Firebirds, but the only passes he's caught this season have been thrown by the opposition. Bemis, former Royal Oak Kimball player, will be at defensive end for the Firebirds who travel to Flint to meet the Wildcats this evening.

Former RO Kimball Ace Stars on F-Bird Defense

Former Royal Oak Kimball grid star Ron Bemis has become one of the defensive stars for the Pontiac Firebirds who hope to preserve their winning streak and MFL title hopes tonight at Flint's Atwood Stadium.

Bemis, a 6-1 and 220-pounder who has been a starter at defensive end, is a strong candidate for the Firebirds' "Defensive Lineman of the Year" honors.

A 1964 graduate of Kimball, Bemis is now a resident of Berkley and when various circumstances prevented him from entering college, he decided to join the Firebirds this season.

"He certainly has done a great job on defense," says head coach Tom Tracy, "and he could be a good prospect for one of the major league teams to look at."

"He might be too tight for the major leagues as a defensive end but he could do a good job at a corner linebacker spot," Tracy added.

Bemis was one of the game stars when the Firebirds upset Dayton in Dayton early in the season and since then he has been a steady performer in the six-game winning streak.

Last week he smeared Detroit Steelers' backs for numerous losses and he picked up a fumble and raced 35 yards for a touchdown.

It was his third fumble recovery of the season. He also has an interception to go with it.

The Firebirds have shown strength in the defensive unit with Bemis, Dan LaRose and Willie Washington at the defensive end slots.

LaRose is moved to tackle on occasions to employ all three in the lineup, and Bemis occasionally handles the corner linebacker spot.

The Firebirds need the victory tonight at Flint to stay on the heels of Mt. Clemens in the MFL race.

Flint scored more points on Pontiac than any other team during the current six-game winning streak, having lost a 46-25 decision to the Firebirds two weeks ago in Pontiac.

Chi Chi, Partner Score With Fans in Golfing Tuneup

MEXICO CITY (AP) — David Jimenez and Chi Chi Rodriguez of Puerto Rico are one of the strongest — and happiest — teams in the 15th World Cup Golf Tournament that starts Thursday.

They came to Mexico to win. But no matter what their final score they figure to have more fun than anyone else on the 7,500-yard Club de Golf Mexico course.

Rodriguez and Jimenez will be among 80 golfers when play opens in the 72-hole tournament for national pride and personal prestige. Entries come from 36 countries, Wales, Hawaii, Scotland and Ireland.

The Puerto Ricans, playing on three good legs and an injured foot, had their first practice round on the narrow, hard-filled course Tuesday and only a few of the 80 or so members of their gallery abandoned them when word came that Jack Nicklaus of the United States had started his practice round.

Northern Moves Up

NEW YORK (UPI) — Unbeaten Northern Michigan moved up two notches to fourth spot in this week's top 10 small college football ratings announced today by United Press International's 35-member board of coaches.

San Diego State, with a 7-0 season mark, held onto the top spot in this week's ratings.

Oxford Favorite Foe of Winless Orion 11

Lake Orion's Dragons will entertain their neighbor and favorite opponent Friday evening in bringing down the curtain on the 1967 high school football season.

In their last 35 games, the Dragons have compiled a record of 13-1, and Oxford's Wildcats provided the 1's on either side of the 33.

To replay a bad record, Orion's Dragons have lost eight in a row this season, and their only dent on the plus side of the ledger in the past 26 games was a 6-4 deadlock with Oxford at the tailend of last season.

So it's understandable why the Dragons are happily awaiting the arrival of the Wildcats.

Orion's last victory was a 13-0 decision over Oxford in the 1964 finale. Oxford won two years ago, 20-6, and despite their dismal record, the Dragons are rated no worse than a tossup in this week's game.

The game is one of a handful around the county that brings old rivals together for season-enders.

In others, Birmingham Seaholm entertains Brother Rice in a battle to see who's best in that city, while Clarkston visits Rochester and Ketterling has a date at Waterford.

In some of the other games on the Friday schedule, Avondale entertains highly-touted Marysville, Milford has a date at Swartz Creek and Romeo visits Utica Stevenson.

Oxford has a 2-6 record, the wins coming over Harper Woods (42-7) and Chippewa Valley (6-0). In those six losses, the Wildcats have been blanked four times and scored only once in each of the other two setbacks.

Seaholm, with a 32-19 victory over city rival Groves already in the books, can become the toast of the town with a decision over Brother Rice.

Clarkston, likewise, has some good running talent in Jeff Keyser, Mark Erickson and Bill Parker, and on a reasonably dry field, quarterback Rich Johnson and Jerry Ostrum make a tough passing combination.

Milford, with the Wayne-Oakland title in hand, heads north to close the season against Swartz Creek. The Redskins are favored to win that one and run their record to 8-1 for the season.

The Falcons have a good ground game built around halfbacks Dave Marr and Mike Phillips. Marr has collected nine touchdowns while Phillips has ran across eight times.

Mix 'n' Match Slated

New Features in Keg Event

There are numerous features in the 1967 Pontiac Open Bowling Championship which gets under way in 10 days at three qualifying houses, Howe's Lanes, 300 Bowl and Cooley Lanes, Nov. 18-19.

The tournament, expected to be the largest in its 11-year history, will have guaranteed prizes starting at $800 for first and $500 for second, will also have features which should appeal to all average bowlers and to women bowlers as well.

For the first time since 1959, women will be permitted to bowl in the tournament.

One feature of the 1967 event is the Mix 'N Match doubles. This is not a special entry event. Upon entry into the tournament, any male or female bowler desiring to match their scores as a doubles total during their qualifying round can do so and shoot for an additional $50 prize.

The bowlers, however, should submit their entries at the same time, be marked on the back with whom they will match total scores and bowl on the same squad, the same day in the same house.

The total handicap score of the Mix 'N Match doubles will count, with high total of all qualifiers earning the added $50.

The Team 'N Match feature will be similar, except that any five bowlers, male or female, who want their total scores with handicap totalled, should submit entries together and bowl their qualifying at same time in same house, the high total prize being $50.

ONCE STARTED

Once a bowler has started his singles, he cannot change or decide to add his score to a doubles or team total.

Pistons Option Long

Sent to Tomahawks

The Detroit Pistons have formed that 6-2 rookie guard to former University of Detroit Paul Long of Wake Forest will be optioned to the Pontiac Tomahawks in time for their Saturday night North American Basketball League debut in Holland.

The flashy 24-year-old backliner played one year at Wake Forest and averaged 16.2 points per game before transferring to Wake Forest where he had 24 and 22 p.p.g. marks.

In addition, he was better than a 50 per cent marksman both years at Wake Forest as well as the second best scorer in the rugged Atlantic Coast Conference both seasons.

Long captained the Deacons as a senior. He is expected to be in the starting lineup at Holland, providing the Tomahawks can acquire negotiation rights to him from Grand Rapids.

Tomahawk coach Bob Duffy also is talking to Grand Rapids in hopes of acquiring the rights to former University of Detroit star Louis Hyatt, a 6-2 River Rouge resident who could give the Pontiac squad valuable back court depth.

Long is the first of several Pistons players expected to play for Pontiac under the informal working agreement between Duffy and Detroit general manager Ed Coll and Pistons coach Dennis Butcher, a close friend of the Tomahawk manager.

Bulls Suspend Reggie Harding

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Cincinnati didn't have Oscar Robertson and missed him. Chicago didn't have Reggie Harding and didn't.

The Royals were whipped by Boston 113-103 in a National Basketball Association game Tuesday night and the lack of the injured Big O was critical.

The Bulls were beaten, too, 111-106 by St. Louis, about as close as the have-not Bulls have been to their second victory this season. Harding, the big Chicago center, was suspended for failing to rejoin the club after leaving it when his mother died in Detroit.

In other NBA games, Philadelphia downed San Diego 130-105 and San Francisco whipped Seattle 126-112.

The Detroit Pistons meet the New York Knicks tonight in Co bo Arena.

Cepeda Easy Winner in Most Valuable Voting

SAN JUAN (AP) — Puerto Rican Orlando Cepeda, named circuit.

"This is the most marvelous thing that could happen to a ball player," Cepeda said after receiving a telephone call from St. Louis announcing the award.

"I feel very proud, but I really don't know what to say. I want to thank all the people who helped me."

Interviewed at his Bayamon home after his selection today, Cepeda gave most of the credit for his award and tremendous comeback with the world champions St. Louis Cardinals to team trainer Dr. Robert Baum.

"Those selflessness and hard work helped me greatly this year."

The Cards' big first baseman became the first player in the history of the National League to receive unanimous support from the MVP award.

He won with the highest batting average since Pittsburgh's Dick Groat won it batting .325 in 1960. Cepeda finished the season also with .325, hit 25 homers and

GLENWOOD PLAZA — NORTH PERRY AT GLENWOOD

Bump Standing Pat in Tuning for Illini
ANN ARBOR (AP) — The University of Michigan football team went through a routine two-hour practice session Tuesday in preparation for a game Saturday against Illinois at Champaign.
Coach Bump Elliott said he plans no changes in either the offensive or defensive starting lineups. He said he plans to spend the rest of the week working against players that have been used by the Illini.
He singled out Illinois offensive end John Wright as a player on whom he plans to focus special attention: Wright is one of the country's top pass receivers.
Injuries Forcing Personnel Shifts on MSU Squad
EAST LANSING (AP) — Coach Duffy Daugherty's complaint that he hasn't been able to start the same lineup two weeks in a row holds true again this week as Michigan State prepares for Indiana.
One consolation for the injury-ridden Spartans was the return to workouts of offensive left tackle Joe Przybycki, who has been out with a stomach ailment.
Larry Smith, who has been playing his position the last few games, was shifted to right tackle.
Ed McCloud, who started out at tackle, now is playing offensive center in place of Ron Runieri, out with a shoulder separation.

Browns' Kelly NFL's Total Offense Leader

NEW YORK (AP) — Leroy Kelly is not only the National Football League's leading rusher but also first in total yardage for rushing and pass receiving.

Counting only those who have 738 yards in rushing and 223 yards in passing, Kelly is the Cleveland Browns' leading rusher and pass receiver. He is also the league's leading rusher and pass receiver.

Lahser Downs Catholic, 19-6

Knights Undefeated in First Season

There'll be other years, but future Bloomfield Hills Lahser's football squads will have trouble topping the mark posted by this year's team.

The Knights of Lahser knocked off Pontiac Catholic yesterday, 19-6, to put the finishing touches on their 10th season.

It's the first year for the Knights, who'll play another year of independent ball next year and move into the Oakland A League the following year.

The Pontiac Catholic squad, closing with a 3-5 record in its first year, also took a 6-0 lead early in the first period, but the Knights then took control and put the game away.

Quarterback Doug Wagner knotted the score at 6-6 later in the first when he hit Bruce Gangnath with a nine-yard scoring pass, and Jim Coe made 7-6 with a PAT run.

Halfback Jeff Kezarlian hauled in a 27-yard pass from Wagner in the second to make it 13-6, and Kezarlian bulled over from one-yard out in the third to cap the scoring.

Lineman John Victor and Brad Boston turned in a strong defensive performance for the Knights.

Roles Reverse for Edwards, Roger Crozier

"I don't sleep the day of the game or the night after it. I used to throw up every night just before I went on the ice. But I haven't done that in a couple of years."

"You tell yourself there's nothing to worry about," added Edwards, who like Crozier, doesn't wear a mask. "After all, what can the other team do — kill me?"

"But talking and acting are two different things. Some nights you are so shook up in that goal that you fight the puck. You see a guy get ready to shoot and you actually jump to make the save before he even shoots."

"That's when you're fighting it," he added, "and that's what is the toughest thing about playing goal."

Edwards has been tough this year at Fort Worth, a Wing farm club in the Central Professional Hockey League. He had four shutouts and a 1.33 goals against average in leading Fort Worth to an 8-1 win-lost-tied mark.

He was drafted by Pittsburgh last year and traded to the Wings for Hank Bassen.

WILL START

Sid Abel, manager-coach of the Wings, wanted to put Edwards into the lineup right away, partly to see how he would react to the NHL, and partly because he has a hot hand.

Johnny Roland of St. Louis is second in both rushing and two-way totals with 645-138-783. Ernie Green, Kelly's backfield partner, is third with 428-310-273.

The other holdover leaders include Sonny Jurgensen, Washington, passes; Willie Richardson, Baltimore, pass receiving; 39 catches; Jim Bakken, St. Louis, scoring, 80 and Pat Studstill, Detroit, punting, 45.4 yards average.

Conservationists Worried

Beetle Spray May Harm Coho

LANSING (U)—Indiscriminate insecticide spraying could kill New York off Michigan's spectacularly successful salmon planting program, the State Conservation Department and independent scientists are warning.

Department director Ralph MacMullan sounded the alarm when he came out against an Agriculture Department plan to spray parts of Berrien County with the chemical Dieldrin to control Japanese beetles.

MacMullan's opposition to the program has backing from Charles Wurster Jr., an assistant professor of biological sciences at the State University of New York. "If there is anything that could knock our Coho program flat, it's the continued use of such death-dealing pesticides," Wurster has offered an affidavit that stresses this danger to salmon as part of the evidence in a court suit seeking to halt the agriculture department spraying program and the use of DDT by local communities to control Dutch elm disease.

The suit is being brought in the U. S. District Court at Grand Rapids, by Environmental Defense Inc., a group of scientists and laymen concerned about the problem.

"The residues of DDT, and to a lesser extent Dieldrin, seem to be almost everywhere," Wurster said. "They are found in the air, and come down in the rain. They occur in soils, waters and in the bodies of most animal organisms."

"They are found on birds and seals that never leave the Antarctic, while birds that never come near a spray area are heavily contaminated."

Sometimes, he said, less than half of the chemical sprays released from an airplane reach their target on the ground.

"Once in the air, these materials can completely circle the globe in two weeks," he said. "Increased nervousness, hyperactivity and a variety of neurotic and behavioral symptoms occur in organisms carrying sublethal concentrations of DDT or Dieldrin," Wurster said.

Wurster said just a few parts per billion of these chemicals can upset temperature control mechanisms in your salmon, "a factor that could spell the difference between life and death in a natural, competitive environment of wide temperature fluctuations."

"Fish populations within the Great Lakes must be of special concern when the application of Dieldrin or DDT is contemplated," Wurster said.

Gill Netting Ban Proposal Action Will Be Deferred

Plans to seek final action on a proposed commercial gill netting ban in lakes Michigan and Superior at the Conservation Commission's meeting this week in Lansing will be deferred until December.

The delay will give commissioners more time to "weigh the proposal's ramifications," Conservation Director Ralph A. MacMullan says in an advisory memorandum to be formally presented to the commission which meets Thursday and Friday.

The recommended ban, tentatively approved by the commission with reservations in August and since aired at 10 separate public hearings, would rule out gill nets in Michigan waters of the two lakes except for:

1) Gill nets of 2½ to 2¾-inch mesh set on bottom at depths of 50 fathoms or more; and 2) Gill nets set for scientific or research purposes under permit issued by the Director of the Conservation Department.

TURKEY DINNER — Among the successful wild turkey hunters since the special season opened last Friday is James Orlovski, 15, of Gladwin, who shows the bird to his father Floyd. The bird was taken near Mio.

Season Opens Nov. 18

Increase in Deer Noted

LANSING (UPI) — With the start of the deer season less than two weeks away, indications are that there is an increase in the deer population from a year ago.

Hunters will take to the woods Nov. 18 in both peninsulas for the first uniform opening of the deer season since 1961.

An estimated 500,000 hunters are expected to take out licenses for the deer season, which ends Dec. 3.

David Arnold, conservation department game specialist, based a report on an increase in the deer population on more field sightings of deer this year and an increase in the number of deer killed by cars.

He said the two factors are prime indicators that the deer population may be up this year. "With these observations about the deer population, the herd is probably following an upward trend," said Arnold. Deer kills in Michigan have been slowly declining.

Field Trip Planned by Audubon Group

The Pontiac Audubon Club has scheduled a field trip to the Holly recreation Saturday.

Members will meet at Grange Hall and Dixie at 9 a.m. and be escorted in caravan by John Reagan, manager of the recreation area. A noon snack lunch is planned.

A slide fest is scheduled for tonight's regular meeting at All Saints Episcopal Church at 7:30. It was announced Jean Millard received the Fomd Robin Prize for sighting a hooded warbler.

Wind Rules Duck Hunting

Migrant Divers Move Into Michigan

Large flights of ducks, mostly bluebills and roadrunners, moved into Southeastern Michigan in front of last weekend's snowstorm.

Layout and sneak shooting has been fair to good, depending on the wind, on Lake St. Clair, Saginaw Bay and upper Lake Erie. Some canvasbacks and green-winged teal are being taken.

The largest concentrations are on Saginaw Bay and the lower Detroit River and upper Lake Erie. Open water gunners are getting the best action.

However, when the wind is right, those hunting close to shore also are picking up some divers.

Migrating geese were observed flying south through central Michigan last week. A good number have moved into northwestern Oakland County near Holly and into Kent Park near Milford.

Hunting for ducks and geese closes Nov. 17. Locally, hunters have been picking up a few teal, mallards and blacks from potholes and along streams.

Buoyant U.S. Equestrians Head for Toronto Show

NEW YORK (AP) — The U.S. States, up on Untouchable, finished third.

As things turned out, the U.S. Equestrian team finished with eight victories in 11 international events and 138 points. Great Britain won the other three and had 74 points. Canada was third with 40.

The Royal Winter Fair is the final of the four major shows on the North American circuit, and while the U.S. team will be out to match its fine performance at the National, the British team will be trying to prove its victory in the last class in the National Tuesday night was no fluke.

Harvey Smith of the British team rode O'Malley to victory in the Grand Prix of New York. Smith, a 29-year-old Yorkshireman, gave the crowd of about 13,000 in Madison Square Garden some anxious moments when he gave O'Malley a good cover during these times, when he was to find the best of the most daring ride of the sport that each day has to show in the jumpoff.

It paid off. O'Malley was clocked in 35.4 for the jump. In the process, Smith beat his teammate, Carolyn Bradley of France, who was caught in 36.1. Kathy Kusner of the United States was caught in 36.1.

Market Rolls Up Big Gains

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market rolled up big gains in a vigorous rally following election day early this afternoon.

Gains outnumbered losses by about a 9-to-2 ratio on the Big Board.

Blue chips and glamor stocks

Prices advanced sharply in active trading on the American Stock Exchange. Sifted away the list on volume, making a fractional gain. Microwave Associates, climbed nearly 3 points, Aiken Industries almost 2 along with Hydrometals.

Airport Master Plan Is Up for Action by County Board

By ED BLUNDEN
A master plan for the Oakland-Pontiac Airport received approval by the Oakland County Board of Supervisors Aviation Committee yesterday.

Its most prominent features include proposals to drop a north-south runway and to construct 400 small hangars. The master plan will be submitted for board of supervisors' approval at a 9 a.m. meeting Friday at the County Service Center.

Submitting the plan was Robert Peckham of Peckham Engineering, airport consultants, of East Lansing.

Peckham also announced that a master plan for the county-owned Allen Airport in Orion Township would be ready within 60 days. The two studies were ordered by the County Board of Auditors in February of this year.

Peckham said the present facility in Waterford Township is near the capacity level of 200,000 operations per year.

Related Story, Page A-4

The proposed expansion would add an expected 100,000 per year potential.

This would require purchasing of about 80 acres to the north and smaller parcels to the east and west. Private firms are said to be acquiring land for commercial-industrial facilities to the south.

Key to expansion plans is installation of the federal government's Instrument Landing System (ILS). This facility would provide all-weather service for large planes, including jet craft, and would be installed at U.S. expense as part of a nationwide system.

However, land and property acquisitions are mostly the responsibility of local authorities, it was explained.

IMPORTANT TO WATERFORD

Elmer R. Johnson, Waterford Township supervisor and also member of the aviation committee, said the elimination of plans for a north-south runway at the site was important to his community.

He said development of adjacent property, particularly along Williams Lake Road, had been held up since 1963. At that time a master plan had been approved which called for the proposed future construction of a north-south runway which would have entailed purchase of more property in Waterford Township than is now being called for.

Negro Mayors Elected; GOP Sees Win Pattern

WASHINGTON (AP) — Cleveland Democrat Carl B. Stokes has become the first Negro elected mayor of a major American city, but Republicans claimed a pattern of victory and an omen for 1968 today in off-year elections which gave the GOP Kentucky's governorship and New Jersey's legislature.

Another Negro Democrat, Richard G. Hatcher, came out of the mayoral ball-counting in Gary, Ind., with a winning margin of 1,495, but his white opponent, Joseph Radigan, charged fraud, and certification of the result was held up.

Radigan contended that in two precincts where Hatcher gathered topheavy majorities "more voters voted than were on the rolls."

The issue was to be put before the same federal court to which Hatcher had gone with his own pre-election fraud complaint.

Related Stories, Pages A-2, D-16

In a third race-tinged contest for may-

MATHEMATICS OF RACE

In Gary as in Cleveland, the mathematics of race was the crucial factor.

And the issue of Negro-white balance in the public schools was a key question in Boston, where Secretary of State Kevin H. White was elected mayor in a nonpartisan runoff.

Republican National Chairman Ray C. Bliss saw in the election returns evidence "that the upsurge in Republican strength which began in 1966 is continuing."

Democratic Chairman John M. Bailey said he discerned no trend at all.

RECLAIM OFFICE

Voters Decide Bonds, Posts

Area voters decided two city council elections and three bond issues yesterday.

In Sylvan Lake, incumbent John Roeper, 42, of 1565 Lakeview and Willis Brewer, 75, of 1655 Lakeview each won three-year terms on the City Council.

ROEPER BREWER

Roeper topped the four candidates with 278 votes. Brewer received 234 votes.

Other candidates were John D. McKinlay, former councilman, of 2709 Little, with 226 votes; and write-in candidate Roy William, Sylvan Lake justice of the peace, of 2174 Avondale, with 153 votes.

Orchard Lake electors returned Mayor Sylvester F. Leahy, 58, of 5271 Elmgate to the council for three more years with 256 votes.

David A. Bradbury, 41, of 4009 Harbor Vista with 215 votes will fill the other open council post.

INCUMBENT DEFEATED

Three-year incumbent Frederick S. Strong Jr., 80, of 4375 Pontiac Trail, was defeated with 139 votes.

CLEVELAND'S NEW MAYOR — Democrat Carl Stokes and his wife, Shirley, present a happy picture following the 40-year-old lawyer's uphill victory over Republican Seth Taft in Cleveland's race for mayor. Federal Funds Committed to Rental Project in Pontiac

Officials of the Federal Housing Authority in Detroit today issued a commitment for federal funds assuring construction of 200 rent supplement housing units in the northwest section of Pontiac.

Developer Charles F. Langs was on hand this morning to sign contracts which call for a $156,000 subsidy by the federal government.

Eddie McGloin, director of the Detroit Housing office of FHA, said the project, titled Northhill Farms, will be the first rent supplement project in the metropolitan area to begin construction.

The federal money is to be applied on 200 rental units to be constructed on Kennett adjacent to the Alcott Elementary School.

Construction will start as soon as possible, Langs said.

This is the first of three phases that are presently planned. Fruition of plans could lead to 700 such units on a 50-acre site.

Capitol Plans Weighed

LANSING (AP) — Members of the House-Senate Capitol Outlay Committee are considering plans for a cube-shaped, 15-story Capitol which would cost an estimated $40 million.

Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. at the contract signing said there is a great demand for such units in Pontiac. "We're happy to get this finally approved," he said.

Under the program, renters with low income would have to pay 25 per cent of their monthly income for rent and the government would subsidize the difference between that and the required rent.

J. L. Hudson Co. officials yesterday announced plans to initiate a program aimed at offering job opportunities to the hard-core unemployed and high school dropouts in Pontiac and Detroit.

The training program would initially hire 500 people, according to Joseph L. Hudson Jr., president, who made the announcement.

Hudson further announced the appointment of Norman Johnson, downtown store supervisor of selling operations, to the new position of director of community training programs under the direction of Dexter H. Ware, vice president and director of personnel.

City Income Tax Need Stressed

As far as new finances for the city's operating fund go, all of Pontiac's eggs are in one basket and that is the income tax package which the City Commission hopes will go into effect Jan. 1.

In essence, that's what Director of Law Sherwin M. Birnkrant told the City Commission last night.

Birnkrant said the income tax is the only new tax the city can hope for until July 1969 because the only alternative to an income tax is a raise in the property tax levy.

No raise in that levy, which would have to be approved by city voters in this year.

Related Stories, Pages A-5, B-7, E-7

a charter amendment election, could be accomplished before then even if the commission were to make moves in that direction immediately, he said.

Birnkrant also reported that petition circulators who are seeking to force a referendum election on the income tax ordinance enacted by the city commission recently have until Dec. 15 to come up with the required number of signatures.

LEGAL OPINION

The director of law said this is based on a legal opinion rendered by Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley which was received this week.

Birnkrant had requested the opinion because of a change in laws governing tax enactment by municipalities. The law was passed by the State Legislature this year.

Kelley's opinion gives those circulating petitions a month longer than previously supposed to obtain the required number of signatures.

Some 1,100 valid signatures of registered electors are needed to call for the referendum vote.

SERIOUS PROBLEMS

The entire commission spoke of the seriousness of the financial problems facing the city, and most commissioners

Chrysler Talks Go Around the Clock

DETROIT (AP) — Representatives of the United Auto Workers and Chrysler Corp. bargained around the clock today trying to avert what would be the second nationwide strike in the auto industry this year.

Some Chrysler operations were threatened with premature shutdown before tonight's midnight strike deadline as truck drivers moving parts in the Detroit area and workers at one of the firm's two most important stamping operations walked off their jobs yesterday.

Walter P. Reuther, UAW president, and John D. Leary, Chrysler vice president for administration, led the negotiations. The latest session began at 10 a.m. yesterday.

More than 6,000 Chrysler employees refused to work at five operations around the country, including the Sterling Stamping Plant and the Interplant Transportation Office (ITO) in the Detroit area.

The company said that if truck drivers did not report for duty at 7 a.m. today at the ITO, the firm would not be able to operate Detroit-area facilities for more than four hours.

AT INTERNATIONAL LEVEL

UAW officials at the international level have been trying to keep their men on the job, a union spokesman said, but he pointed out that the work stoppages could not be called "wildcat strikes" since the union had no contract.

At Ford, production resumed at all but four of the firm's 16 assembly plants.

At two-Wixom and St. Louis—only a ratification vote on tentative agreements reached yesterday stood in the way of a resumption of work.

The union asked Chrysler to match or better a record settlement won from Ford Oct. 22. The Ford pact gave workers roughly $3 an hour more in wages and fringe benefits above the old Big Three level of $4.70.

Warmer Weather to Stay Till Friday

The weatherman is giving us another fling at Indian summer as temperatures are expected to climb into the 40s and 50s through Friday.

Today's mostly sunny skies will become partly overcast tonight with the low in the 30s.

Partly cloudy with not much change in temperature is the forecast for tomorrow.

Partly cloudy with near-normal temperatures, the high near 51 and low of 34, is the outlook for Friday.

Twenty-four was the low temperature in downtown Pontiac before 8 a.m. The mercury had warmed up to 42 by 1 p.m.

City Commission Feeling Strain of Open Housing Controversy

By BOB WISLER

The strain of continuing pressure on city commissioners regarding the issue of an open occupancy ordinance began to show last night.

District 2 Commissioner Robert C. Irwin, already on record as being against an ordinance, blasted young Negroes who have been pushing for the ordinance for their conduct in the commission meeting room.

For other commissioners

took a softer line but admitted they weren't in favor of some of the approaches made by the Pontiac Organization of Black Youth (POOBY), whose members have been evident and vocal in commission meetings each week.

District 5 Commissioner John A. Dugan took the opportunity, as he has done in past weeks, to call for a vote of the people on the controversial issue. He offered promise of what his stand may be in future weeks as he discoursed on the need for law and order and for more police to stop crime.

DISCUSSION OF ISSUE

While Dugan questioned the need for discussion of open housing again, Mayor Pro Tem Leslie H. Hudson said there was a need for open discussion on the subject as long as it was not repetitious.

"We certainly can't condemn a minority group for speaking up for what they believe in," Hudson said, although he admitted he was bothered by the seemingly hostile attitude of some BOOBY members.

Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. called for more discussion and asked to hear from all segments, both those opposing and those in favor.

He said the commission has agreed that the draft formed

Related Stories, Pages B-7, E-7

by the city law department will now be sent to all social, religious and civic groups in the city for recommendations and comments.

He asked for these in writing by Dec. 1 addressed to city hall.

CIVIC PRESSURE

Both Taylor and Hudson made references to attempts by civic leaders to dissuade their vote, although they didn't say which

Hudson said he had received "three or four letters" requesting that he vote a certain way on the proposed open housing ordinance.

Taylor also said he wished persons wanting to influence the issue would "speak here and not send me private letters."

Taylor said that, despite rumors, no vote has been taken on the issue and nobody can predict how the commission will vote on the matter once it comes to a commission vote.

STATED COURSE

The mayor said the commission was proceeding on a course it said would be taken when the ordinance was first proposed.

"I don't feel that the City of Pontiac is against open housing," Fowler said, although Commissioner Hudson had said earlier that the white community of Pontiac probably does not accept an open housing ordinance.

Man Found Dead

A 33-year-old White Lake Township man was found dead in a car in his garage yesterday afternoon, according to Pontiac State Police.

The victim was identified as Arthur J. Nelson Jr. of 5 N. Hulbert. Police said the coroner ruled death was caused by carbon monoxide poisoning. An autopsy was to be performed today.

As Dugan had called for a public meeting to discuss pros and cons, Hudson said such discussion will enable "both sides to learn something of what the other feels."

He said that if the commission passes an ordinance too soon, the citizens are not going to understand the issue.

"WON'T OPEN FLOODGATES"

"I don't think frankly that passage of an open occupancy ordinance is going to open the floodgates at all," he said.

Taylor said he was satisfied with the pace of the commission handling of the ordinance.

He said he had been taking steps to alleviate some of the problems endured by Negroes and was working with the younger element.

MANY UNCONCERNED

"There are many people today living in our community who are living pretty well. They have very little concern with these (Negro) problems," he said.

'Women Are People Too' by U.N. Proclamation

UNITED NATIONS (UPI) — The United Nations today proclaimed a Bill of Rights for women around the world and told the male captains of business and government that the "weaker" sex must receive equality without discrimination in all aspects of life.

The word went forth from U.N. headquarters in the form of a declaration described as a milestone that will test the sincerity of the men's world in promising rights long denied millions of women in vast areas of the globe.

The U.N. has been debating the status of women for almost four years in seemingly endless argument over the rights and privileges of the female of the human species.

The months of argument finally ended late Tuesday night when the predominantly male General Assembly, in a rare display of unanimity, approved the declaration by a vote of 111-0 with no abstentions. It said any discrimination against women is "an offense against human dignity."

The declaration said all governments should guarantee equal rights for men and women by either constitution or law. No single nation was mentioned, but observers said the biggest problem areas are parts of the Far East and Latin America where men have dominated societies for centuries.

The text covered several typewritten pages, but the more important clauses in the draft "declaration of independence" said women must be given the right to vote, hold office, change their nationality, buy, sell and inherit property, choose their own husbands, get a job, and receive the same pay and treatment from employers as accorded men and be assured of re-employment if child bearing interrupts tenure.

The assembly provided no penalties for nations which do not comply with the terms of the declaration.

Jeffrey Siegel will appear in a piano recital Monday at 8:30 p.m. in Wilson Hall, Oakland University. His program will include music of Mozart, Franck, Debussy and Hindemith. The Chicago-born artist is a graduate of the Juilliard School of Music and has appeared as soloist with the Detroit Symphony as well as most of the nation's other major orchestras.

Writer Thanks Ones Interested in TV Quality

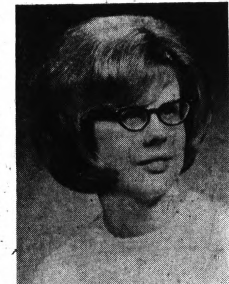

By ELIZABETH L. POST

I want to express my appreciation to all of you who wrote offering to support an effort to improve the taste of TV commercials and/or programs.

It is up to each and every one of us to do our utmost to make the medium fulfill its tremendous possibilities as a source of amusement, education, and examples of the best in taste.

The most important thing we all can do is write to the sponsor and the station manager when we see a program or commercial which shows lack of taste or is offensive. They, after all, wish to sell their products by delighting, not by offending, and it does not take many such letters to make a sponsor reconsider the effect of a particular commercial.

I hope our joint efforts will help to make TV what it can, and should, be.

Her Son Guilty, Too

Silence of Theft Is Also a Crime

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am going to write this quickly and mail it, so I don't have a chance to reconsider and close my eyes to a wrong.

My son recently told me about some youngsters in our neighborhood who steal bikes, remove the parts, rebuild and sell both rebuilt bikes and extra parts. I asked him how these youngsters managed to get away with it without their parents knowing about it, and he says the kids tell their parents that the bike belongs to another boy, and they bought the spare parts with their allowances.

I am appalled at the whole thing. I can't expect my boy to reveal the names of these boys, and my husband would think it unseemingly if I were to bring this to the attention of the authorities. You are the only way I have of warning parents who unknowingly may be allowing their children to continue this practice.

I do not condone my own child's acceptance of this behavior and have asked him to avoid this group of friends until they, too, become aware of their unacceptable behavior and stop it.

CONCERNED

DEAR CONCERNED: A boy who is old enough to "rebuild" a bike, is old enough to know he is breaking the law. While your son may not be guilty of stealing, he is guilty of another "crime." (Knowing of thievery and keeping quiet.)

I do not approve of friends informing on one another, but a real "friend" would do all in his power to set his companions straight.

I hope the parents of the guilty boys see this, and check out the stories their sons tell about "buying" spare parts, and repairing another boy's bike. And if they discover that their sons have stolen bikes, they should insist they are returned to their rightful owners. Otherwise they should report their own sons to the authorities. Stealing is stealing. And the successful petty thief goes on to bigger things.

DEAR ABBY: You let me down when you wrote in your column that you thought it was all right for a married man to go to a "stag" party. Abby, my husband thinks your word is holy, and when he read that he really shoved it under my nose.

Surely you are aware of what goes on at stags? They always have girls doing strip-tease dances and even movies for men only that are so bad your husband won't even tell you what they were about.

DEAR MARGOT: Sorry about that. My definition of "stag" is simply social engagement for men only.

Paint-In Slated at Art Gallery

A kind of "demonstration-panel-lecture" entitled "Paint-In for 3" is slated Friday evening at the Bloomfield Art Association in Birmingham.

Three artists of differing viewpoints will compare "how they work."

Robert Wilbert, oil and water color painter, will represent the traditional form in which paint on canvas is used to represent an object or person.

Somewhat more abstract, is Olga Constantine who works in college "torn papers glued on."

FACULTY

All three serve on the art faculty at Wayne State University and hold BFA and MFA degrees.

Moderating the panel will be Jan Aertsen, new director of education at Cranbrook Academy of Art.

The event is Bloomfield Art Association's way of saluting Wayne State on its 100th year.

Mrs. Tom Bradley is chairman. Refreshments will be served and non-members are welcome. A modest fee will be charged for admission.

Eased Abortion Law Starts in California

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (UPI) — The new liberalized California abortion law — praised by some as progressive, condemned by others as immoral — became effective today.

The law generated an emotional controversy before it cleared the 1967 California Legislature and was signed by Gov. Ronald Reagan.

For 106 years women in California could obtain a legal abortion only if the life of the mother was threatened by a full-term pregnancy.

The new law legalizes abortion when the pregnancy threatens the physical or mental health of the mother, in cases of statutory rape involving a girl under 15, and when pregnancy results from rape or incest.

Freshman Sen. Anthony C. Beilenson, D-Beverly Hills, sponsored the liberalization measure. He called it "a very modest reform of our very stringent law."

'GUISE OF PROGRESS'

But 13 members of the University of San Francisco Theology Department said that "under the guise of humanitarianism and scientific progress, a basically immoral proposition is being peddled as moral and proper."

And a small group of women paraded in front of the capitol urging legislators to repeal entirely laws prohibiting abortion.

Reagan insisted that a provision be eliminated that would have permitted an abortion when there was grave danger of the child being born physically deformed.

He said it was "only a step away from what Hitler tried to do" by executing mentally and physically defective persons.

PROVISION DELETED

With that provision out of the bill, Reagan signed it.

But under California's constitution, the new law didn't go into effect until 91 days after the legislature adjourned its regular session in August.

Colorado and North Carolina eased their abortion laws earlier this year. Those statutes, already in effect, are similar to the California act but both permit termination of pregnancies to prevent birth of deformed children.

To make abortions possible, hospitals must establish abortion committees of three doctors each.

An abortion may be performed during the first 12 weeks of pregnancy with the approval of two of the three committee members. From 12 to 20 weeks, unanimous approval is required. The law does not permit abortions after 20 weeks.

The California law has no residence requirement.

Hal Boyle Looks Back: 30 Years of Marriage OK

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Thirty years ago today I married my first wife.

We are still together, my last duchess and me, no more strangers now than we were when we set out to find each other so brief a long time ago.

"This looks like steady work," I muttered to myself as I carried my bride, Frances, across the threshold of our $35-a-month apartment in Greenwich Village in 1937.

As weddings go, it didn't make much of a splash. It happened at one of those churches so busy you simply had to be there on time. If you showed up 15 minutes early, you might be buried instead of married, and if you showed up 15 minutes late you might be buried.

THRIFT WEDDING
I saved $5 by not having all the candles lit, and $10 by providing the music from the soul rather than paying for a hired hand to key the sounds.

Since then, that wedding has endured cockroaches and higher rents, movings on to new adventures, arguments and agreements, the sharings of happinesses and dismays, and the wistful attempt to raise a child to the point where she has the ability to pay for her own telephone.

Looking back across that small eternity of union, I have concluded that it is only wonder that has kept it going.

Over the years many benedicts have asked me if I have any suggestions that might help make a marriage endure. I can think of only two.

ONE FOR THE MONEY

First, both partners shouldn't always worry about what to do with the money that is available. This problem should be given to the mind of whichever partner is best able to deal with it.

The second suggestion I would make for a lasting marriage is that the wife get up and cook her husband a good breakfast every day.

Marriage does odd things to people. It has turned my brown hair to silver, and my pretty brunette Frances into a lovely blonde.

Thirty years with a first wife. If a fellow isn't careful, a condi-

Conservationists Worried

Beetle Spray May Harm Coho

LANSING (UP)—Indiscriminate use of the State University of insecticide spraying could kill New York.

MacMullan said Lake Michigan already has a serious problem and the Dieldrin spraying would make it worse.

HIGH CONTENT

Department director Ralph MacMullan sounded the alarm when he came out against an Agriculture Department plan to spray parts of Berrien County with the chemical Dieldrin to kill Japanese beetles.

MacMullan's opposition to the program has backing from Charles Wurster Jr., an assistant professor of biological sci-chemical is about four times as toxic to salmon as DDT is," he said.

"If there is anything that could knock our Coho program flat, it's the continued use of such death-dealing pesticides," Wurster has offered an affidavit that stresses this danger to salmon as part of the evidence in a court suit seeking to halt the agriculture department spraying program and the use of DDT by local communities to control Dutch elm disease.

The suit is being brought in the U. S. District Court at Grand Rapids by Environmental Defense Inc., a group of scientists and laymen concerned about the problem.

"The residues of DDT, and to a lesser extent Dieldrin, seem to be almost everywhere," Wurster said. "They are found in the air and come down in the rain. They occur in soils, waters and in the bodies of most animal organisms."

"They are found on birds and seals that never leave the Arctic, while birds that never come near a spray area are heavily contaminated."

Sometimes, he said, less than half of the chemical sprays released from an airplane reach their target on the ground. "Once in the air, these materials can completely circle the globe in two weeks," he said. "Increased nervousness, hyperactivity and a variety of neurotic and behavioral symptoms occur in organisms carrying sublethal concentrations of DDT or Dieldrin," Wurster said.

Wurster said just a few parts per billion of these chemicals can upset temperature control mechanisms in your salmon, a factor that could spell the difference between life and death in a natural, competitive environment of wide temperature fluctuations.

"Fish populations within the Great Lakes must be of special concern when the application of Dieldrin or DDT is contemplated," Wurster said.

TURKEY DINNER—Among the successful wild turkey hunters since the special season opened last Friday is James Orlowski, 15, of Gladwin, who showed the bird to his father Floyd. The bird was taken near Mio.

Season Opens Nov. 18

Increase in Deer Noted

LANSING (UPI)—With the start of the deer season less than two weeks away, indications are that there is an increase in the deer population from a year ago.

Hunters will take to the woods Nov. 18 in both peninsulas for the first uniform opening of the deer season since 1961.

An estimated 500,000 hunters are expected to take out licenses for the deer season, which ends Dec. 3.

David Arnold, conservation department game specialist, based a report on an increase in the deer population on more field sightings of deer this year and an increase in the number of deer killed by cars.

He said the two factors are prime indicators that the deer population may be up this year.

"With these observations about the deer population, the herd is probably following an upward trend," said Arnold. Deer kills in Michigan have been slowly declining.

Field Trip Planned by Audubon Group

The Pontiac Audubon Club has scheduled a field trip to the Holly recreation Saturday.

Members will meet at Grange Hall and Dixie at 9 a.m. and be escorted in caravan by John Reagan, manager of the recreation area. A moon snack lunch is planned.

A slide fest is scheduled for tonight's regular meeting at All Saints Episcopal Church at 7:30. It was announced Jean Millard received the Found Robin Prize for sighting a hooded warbler.

Wind Rules Duck Hunting

Migrant Divers Move Into Michigan

Large flights of ducks, mostly bluebills and redheads, moved into Southeastern Michigan in front of last weekend's snowstorm.

Layout and sneak shooting has been fair to good, depending on the wind on Lake St. Clair, Saginaw Bay and upper Lake Erie. Open water gunners are getting the best action.

The largest concentrations are on Saginaw Bay and the lower Detroit River and upper Lake Erie. Open water gunners are getting the best action.

However, when the wind is right, those hunting close to shore also are picking up some divers.

Migrating geese were observed flying south through central Michigan last week. A good number have moved into northwestern Oakland County near Holly and into Kent Park near Milford.

Hunting for ducks and geese closes Nov. 17.

Locally, hunters have been picking up a few teal, mallards and blacks from pot holes and along streams.

SECOND TIME AROUND—When Dave Smith, 228 Robin Creek, entered a ringneck in the Pontiac Press Pheasant contest last week it only tied for first at 40 1/2 inches. Monday afternoon he dropped this 41 1/2-inch to grab sole possession of first place. The deadline for entering is noon Saturday.

Hunting Ends Friday

Poor Season on Ringnecks

The poorest pheasant hunting season since 1947 will come to a close Friday.

And it may be even worse than that year in the forties, when a late spring snowstorm made major inroads on the flock. The final tally won't be known for some time.

The Pontiac Press Pheasant Contest will officially close at noon Saturday. The current leader is a 41 1/2-inch ringneck shot Monday in Pontiac Township by Dave Smith, 228 Robin Creek.

Trapping Season to Open Nov. 25

The trapping season will open in Southern Michigan Nov. 25 at noon.

Muskrats and fox will be the most sought after with mink running a poor third. Raccoon trapping is more incidental than planned. Licenses cost $2.

Under Implied Consent Law

Drivers Balk at Sobriety Tests

LANSING (UPI) — Two drivers balking at what is sure to be a long parade of people who don't want to take sobriety tests under Michigan's new "implied consent" law.

Secretary of State James M. Hare reported yesterday he had gotten reports from police that the two motorists refused tests to determine if they were drunk last Friday, the day after the law went into effect.

One is from Menominee and the other from Port Huron. Their names were not released.

Each now has 14 days to request a hearing by the License Appeal Board. If a driver does not ask for a hearing, Hare's department may then suspend, revoke or deny a license to drive for from 90 days to two years.

If a hearing is requested, it must be held within 10 days to determine four points:

• Whether the arresting officer had reasonable grounds to believe the person was under the influence of alcohol or that his driving was impaired.

• Whether he was arrested for other offense.

• Whether he was advised of his rights.

And whether he refused to take a drunken driving test. Once the hearing is held,

Jobless Rise: Good or Bad?

Administration Views on Economics Split

By NEIL GILBRIDE
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Johnson administration, still plugging for increased income taxes, appears undecided over whether the recent employment slowdown is good or bad news for a specific purpose but not for the general purpose of supporting the administration's spending plans.

News Analysis

years, a lag in employment growth and millions of Americans working shorter hours is "certainly disappointing," said one government official.

But other government sources discounted the jobless rise and said, "We're building a tremendous head of steam" in the economy that requires a tax hike to siphon off inflationary pressures.

The comments appear to reflect a split personality over every latest bit of economic news.

SHY AWAY

On the one hand, administration officials shy away from any hint of economic trouble that may reflect adversely on the White House.

On the other hand, government economists turn over every economic pebble in search of evidence supporting President Johnson's requested 10 per cent income tax surcharge.

Commissioner Arthur M. Ross of the Bureau of Labor Statistics, in reporting the jobless rate up to 4.3 per cent in the biggest two-month rise in seven years, called the news disappointing but declined Tuesday to comment on whether it meant more economic trouble ahead.

"It is premature to attempt a firmer explanation," said Ross, who also declined to say whether the slump in job growth supported the case for a tax hike.

ADDED FUEL

BUT other high administration sources firmly insisted the new sources added fuel to the economic dangers Johnson seeks to quell by boosting taxes.

The jobless rate was up five-tenths of 1 per cent since August, the largest rise in two months since 1960. The total number of unemployed at 9,251,000 was 500,000 higher than a year earlier. Total employment rose 550,000 to 75.1 million, but a 600,000 rise in the labor force more than wiped out the gain and some 50 million Americans were averaging a 38.1-hour work week, down more than half an hour over the year.

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK — While the House of Representatives has erected a dam of determination against President Johnson's tax increase proposal, its counterparts in the Senate have opened the floodgates.

As it stands now, the President's request for higher income taxes has been buried in the House. But the Senate, paradoxically, hopes to raise Social Security taxes even more than the President requested.

This situation appears to say that members of Congress may be willing to see their constituents taxed for a specific purpose but not for the general purpose of supporting the administration's spending plans.

Ironically, the people in the lower income brackets would be taxed the most, relatively, if the Senate Social Security bill finds sympathy in the House and is enacted.

NEARLY AS MUCH

If it is passed, and if the nation continues to have inflation at the rate of more than 3 per cent a year, then, most Americans are going to find themselves paying out nearly as much as they would through an income tax increase.

The Social Security bill seeks an increase in the tax on income to apply not just to the first $6,000 earned, as under the present law, but to the first $8,000.

This means that the maximum amount to be deducted for Social Security would jump from $20.40 to $40.40, a whopping $20.00 advance and considerably more than the President has requested.

Now compare this with the additional money that would be paid out under the Johnson income tax proposal, which seeks a 10 per cent surtax on corporate and personal incomes.

JOHNSON'S EXAMPLE

In sending his proposal to Congress last August, Johnson said that a family of four with an income of $10,000 would pay $1,000 in the bank at 4.75 per cent interest, your deposit will earn $47.50 a year. But if prices are rising at the rate of 3.1 per cent a year, that $47.50 is reduced to $16.50.

For three out of every four American families, the burden of this increase will be between a few cents and $9 a month," the President said. The increase in Social Security taxes would average more than $12.

The Senate, therefore, through approval of a bill that would draw billions of dollars out of the economy, would bring about much of the restraint that the President has failed to extract from the House. The Senate action, however, would mean many who can little afford to pay an increase. The person earning $10,000, for example, would pay no more than the lower income brackets don't $149.60 advance and considerably more than the President has requested.

Ships Provide Shop Furniture

Furniture made from the wood of ancient schooners is sold at the Treasure Cove, a recently opened shop at 91 W. Long Lake Road, Bloomfield Hills.

The furniture is made from the wood of schooners salvaged from the bottom of Lake Michigan, according to owners M. and Mrs. Darwin Sawtelle. The wood is salvaged by their son, James, who is a professional diver.

He dries the water-soaked wood and sands off any rust. A clear sealer wax is the only thing placed on the natural wood, the Sawtelle explained.

The natural grains and shapes of the wood worn by years under water is merely heightened by the sealer.

Couch and table legs are made from metal links from the schooners' anchors which are forged together.

A plaque with the name of the schooner which the wood came from is placed on every piece.
