Senate Stalls Secret Talk on ABMs, Soviet Threat

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate postponed today a secret session on the Safeguard program and potential Soviet threats but agreed to hold a closed meeting later limited to senators only.

Sen. John G. Tower, R-Tex., led the demand that all staff members be excluded from any secret session. He was joined by Democratic leader Mike Mansfield who said, "We have a hard enough time keeping our own mouths closed."

Chairman John Stennis, D-Miss. of the Armed Services Committee wants a closed-door session to outline the potential Soviet threat.

Although there was general agreement to hold a secret session at a later date, Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen made clear any GOP member objecting to closed doors would be recognized to make a motion to go into open session. Such a move would require a majority vote.

FOES CONFIDENT

Meanwhile leaders of a bipartisan effort to limit the program to research while prohibiting any antimissile deployment or site acquisition say they expect a lengthy debate but are confident of victory.

Sen. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., and Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., prepared an amendment to block the Safeguard proposal for introduction today, as debate on the entire antiballistic missile — ABM — program entered its second day.

Their amendment would not cut any of the $759.1 million in funds earmarked for Safeguard but would limit the use of research, development, testing and evaluation, plus "normal procurement incident thereto," mainly at the Kwajelein Islands test facility.

In addition, it would bar use of any funds — including those carried over from previous years — for deployment of an ABM system or for purchase of any sites for such a system.

STENNIS HOPEFUL

Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, opened the long-awaited ABM debate yesterday after predicting the Senate would uphold his committee in approving the Safeguard proposal.

With many senators planning to go to Florida next week for the launch of the Apollo 11 flight to the moon — and the splash-down in the Pacific scheduled the following week — any ABM showdown could be put off until the last week in July.

As debate began, there was little open talk of any possible compromise.

Sen. Thomas McIntyre, D-N.H., has been pushing — thus far without takers — what he calls a compromise. It would deploy the system's computers and radars at the two initial ABM sites in North Dakota and Montana but would bar deployment of any of the missiles.

HER BOY IS HOME — Mrs. Helen Hetherwick of Alturas, Calif., has a big hug for her sergeant son, Robert, on his arrival at McChord Air Force Base in Washington yesterday. He was on the first plane in an airlift bringing a battalion of U.S. troops home from Vietnam. She and her husband drove all night from their home to greet the youth.

First GIs in Pullout Home From Viet

FT. LEWIS, Wash. (AP) — More than 800 American soldiers slept under quiet skies for the first time in months, home from the war in Vietnam.

The vanguard of 25,000 servicemen President Nixon is withdrawing from Vietnam flew into McChord Air Force Base near here yesterday.

Their first night at this Army post was a far cry from their last night in Saigon, where helicopter gun-ships hovered on the horizon to keep the Vietcong from spoiling their exit.

When the first group of 94 veterans, most of them in their early 20s, stepped from their C141 transport plane, Gen. William C. Westmoreland, Army Chief of Staff, told them they would find themselves "more mature, more dedicated to the service of others, more compassionate, more responsible, more realistic and more practical" than their contemporaries.

134 BEING RELEASED

Of the 814 troops, 776 are enlisted men and 38 are officers. Of the enlisted men, 118 are being released from active duty and 658 are being reassigned. Sixteen officers will be reassigned and 22 will be released from active duty.

The men came home under the banner of the Army's 3rd Battalion, 60th Infantry, 9th Infantry Division, but only 138 of them actually fought with the division.

★ ★ ★

The others were men from other outfits who had almost finished their year's tour of duty in Vietnam or were due for discharge from the Army.

There were no antiwar demonstrators among the 500 relatives, beauty queens, boy and girl scouts, Little League baseball players and civilians who greeted the men at the base.

ANTIWAR PARADE

But three Seattle antiwar groups said they planned a parade in Seattle tomorrow to coincide with the soldiers' homecoming march.

'Hubert Refused to Exploit Issue'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Could Hubert H. Humphrey have changed the course of the 1968 presidential campaign by disclosing information that a Richard M. Nixon supporter tried to sabotage preliminary Vietnam peace talks?

Author Theodore H. White speculates in his book "The Making of a President 1968" that Humphrey might have won the election if he had ballyhooed the story.

★ ★ ★

White reports in his recently published book the Johnson administration intercepted messages from Anna Chan Chennault, a Nixon supporter, undertaking to sabotage the Paris agreement preceding the U.S. bombing halt and peace negotiations.

But, White reports, Humphrey refused to air the story despite urgings from some in his campaign staff.

RAISED FUNDS FOR NIXON

Mrs. Chennault, widow of the wartime hero Gen. Claire Chennault and now an American citizen, had raised funds for the Nixon campaign and was chairman or cochairman of several Nixon citizens committees.

She learned by gossip, rumor and speculation of the October halt, White says, and "she had undertaken most energetically to sabotage the talks."

★ ★ ★

He adds: "In contact with the Formosan, the South Korean and the South Vietnamese governments, she had begun early, by cable and telephone, to mobilize their resistance to the agreement — apparently implying, as she went, that she spoke for the Nixon campaign."

No Leveling Signs Ahead

Food Prices Continue Rise

WASHINGTON (AP) — The rising cost of food, already painful to the nation's consumers, is still going up, and the government says there is no sign of leveling off.

Agriculture Department economist Stephen J. Hiemstra made the assessment after it was disclosed yesterday that wholesale food prices jumped another 1.2 per cent during June.

★ ★ ★

When wholesale prices go up, the cost of food on the average citizen's table follows up the spiral, Hiemstra indicated.

"There's not anything that we can see to indicate a drop or a leveling off" he said.

FOOD SPURS INDEX RISE

Due entirely to the jump in food costs, the government's Wholesale Price Index climbed four-tenths of one per cent in June to 113.2.

Continuing to lead rising food prices is the cost of meat, particularly beef.

Hiemstra said high farm prices for beef, the most popular meat, are expected to continue most of the summer at least.

The Labor Department said yesterday wholesale prices for processed meat, poultry and fish jumped 4.5 per cent in June, leading all other food items.

25-30 PCT. FOR MEAT

Hiemstra said meat accounts for 25 to 30 per cent of the average grocery bill. Consumers as an average spend about 17.2 cents of their take-home dollar on food.

"But food is not leading the pack," Hiemstra said. "So far this year food has averaged about 4 per cent above a year ago in the January-May period, while other consumer items have increased more . . . approaching 6 per cent."

Area Residents Protest ABM

About 30 Pontiac area residents picketed yesterday in front of the downtown Pontiac Federal Building demonstrating opposition to the proposed Safeguard ABM (antiballistic missile) system.

The group, mainly residents of Pontiac, Rochester and Waterford Township, was headed by Father Charles Rooney of St. Michael's Catholic Church, a member of the Michigan Stop ABM Committee.

★ ★ ★

Committee members charge that congressional approval of the system would be a waste of tax dollars and lead to escalation of the nuclear arms race.

Rooney said that Stop ABM leaders hope to influence debate and voting on the measure at the state and the federal levels.

★ ★ ★

The purpose of yesterday's demonstration, he said, was to indicate to Sen. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., that the people of Michigan are opposed to the ABM system.

Senate Panel Likely to Hold Up Surtax

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic leaders today appeared to have the votes in the Senate Finance Committee to overcome presidential objections and tie tax reform to extension of the income surtax.

If the two issues are intertwined, final congressional action on the surtax could be delayed until fall. President Nixon has said quick action on the surtax alone is necessary to his anti-inflation fight.

★ ★ ★

The committee continued its hearing today to extend the surtax until next June 30 by calling in several witnesses who oppose repeal of the 7 per cent investment credit, which was one tax reform the House did attach when it approved the continuance.

Of the 10 Democrats on the committee, only Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy of Minnesota had said he might be willing to support quick action on the surtax bill and leave tax reform until a second measure.

9-TO-8 MARGIN

But the other nine Democrats seemed ready to follow the strategy of their Senate leaders.

This would mean a 9-8 margin for taking up reform along with the surtax extension, assuming that all seven Republican committee members support the administration position.

The senior Republican on the panel, John J. Williams of Delaware, has a number of reform amendments he intends to push either on the surtax legislation or a second measure. He said he has not decided which strategy to follow.

"I'd just as soon see us pass this surtax bill without any amendments and settle it. But, if it is going to be a reform bill, too, I'll be ready."

Commission in Dark on Firing

By ED BLUNDEN

Six city commissioners were forced to admit at last night's meeting that none of them knew why the administrator of Pontiac General Hospital had been fired.

The commission for the second week faced a delegation of employes demanding a probe into the sudden discharge of Harold B. Euler on June 19 by the hospital board of trustees.

Last week they came with petitions signed by 835 employes. Yesterday they had petitions signed by 335 private citizens.

In both instances the group of about 40 demanded to be told why Euler was fired without a hearing and with no announced cause. This week they added a demand that the hospital board be discharged if they failed to give an answer.

ANSWER BEING SOUGHT

Commission members said the answer was being sought but that none of them knew. All commissioners were present except Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. who was attending a convention.

Mayor Pro Tem T. Warren Fowler Sr., District 1, presided at the meeting and assured the audience some sort of reply would be forthcoming.

He announced Sherwin Birnkrant, city attorney, was leaving the meeting at 8:30 p.m. to attend a meeting of the hospital board. Birnkrant indicated the meeting was not a regular one.

After their appeal to the City Commission, employes followed Birnkrant to the trustees meeting held at the hospital.

Spokesmen for the employe group said today they attempted to speak at the board meeting, but were refused permission. They were told it was an "executive session" and after it broke up none of the trustees nor Birnkrant would speak to the employes, the spokesmen said.

Showers Predicted for Pontiac Tonight

More rain is predicted for the Pontiac area late this afternoon and tonight. The low temperature is expected to be near 65.

The U.S. Weather Bureau forecasts decreasing cloudiness tomorrow with temperatures ranging in the low 80s.

★ ★ ★

Winds are moving in a southeasterly direction at five to 10 miles per hour increasing to 10 to 15 miles tonight.

There's a 20 per cent possibility of precipitation today, 50 per cent tonight and 20 per cent tomorrow.

Fifty-eight was the low temperature before 8 a.m. in downtown Pontiac. By 2 p.m. the mercury reached 78.

Delay Sought on Bids for Jail

The Oakland County Building Authority is seeking a 45-day extension on bid prices from firms on the proposed $8-million law-enforcement building complex in an effort to avoid increasing construction costs.

Unless contractors agree to the extension, bids on the project will expire Saturday and leave the county faced with rebidding and perhaps spiraling costs.

The project's low bidder, Sorenson-Gross Construction Co., already has informed the county it wants to withdraw its bid of $7,181,000.

★ ★ ★

Approval from the Michigan Municipal Finance Commission on the sale of bonds to finance the construction has hit a snag in Lansing but Daniel T. Murphy, chairman of the county board of auditors, said yesterday the go-ahead is expected to be given yet this month.

If contractors elect not to extend their bid offers, the county will be faced with rebidding the project which was originally put out for bids last May.

DOUBLED CAPACITY

The law enforcement complex will include a jail with double the capacity of the existing jail. Some 400 prisoners could be housed in the two-story structure.

A morgue, crime laboratory and ballistics testing range are included in the plans.

Expected to take 24 months for completion, the complex will be built on a site just to the east of the county's court tower in the service center area.

A tunnel will lead directly from the jail to the courthouse.

County Unit Votes to Join Suit on Judge-Pay Ceiling

The salary ceiling for circuit court judges set by the State Legislature at $30,000 a year is due to be tested in court.

The board of supervisors public protection and judiciary committee voted unanimously yesterday to recommend the county join litigation already under way in Macomb County challenging the constitutionality of the state law.

Circuit court judges are now paid $20,000 annually by the state and counties are allowed to contribute an additional $10,000, under the existing state law. However Oakland County prior to 1968 paid $14,000 a year to its nine circuit court judges.

Earlier this year the county's corporation counsel, Robert Allen, gave the board of supervisors an opinion that reducing the pay of judges during their term of office is unconstitutional. A total of $36,000 for the judges is being held back until this legal point can be settled.

Another legal question still unanswered is whether the seven judges elected at the last judicial election should get paid more than the two judges whose terms didn't expire at that time. Because they didn't run for election in 1968, they are now receiving $1,000 a year less than the other seven judges.

Circuit Court Judge James Thorburn provided some additional information to the supervisors yesterday at the judicial committee meeting.

He said in past years Oakland County Circuit Court judges were always paid on a par with federal court judges and school superintendents who now earn salaries in the $50,000-a-year range.

Judge Thorburn stated the volume of cases handled in the Oakland County Circuit Court was substantially higher than that of other jurisdictions throughout the state.

SEEN AS DETERRENT

He expressed concern that a salary ceiling set by the Legislature could deter the county from attracting high-caliber aspirants for the circuit court bench.

Supporting the recommendation to join the litigation were three attorneys serving on the supervisors' judicial committee — Chairman Dennis M. Aaron, D-Huntington Woods, Phillip O. Mastin, Jr., D-Hazel Park, and Wallace F. Gabler Jr., R-Royal Oak, — plus Alexander C. Perinoff, D-Southfield, Carl W. O'Brien, D-Pontiac, and Richard R. Wilcox, R-Ortonville.

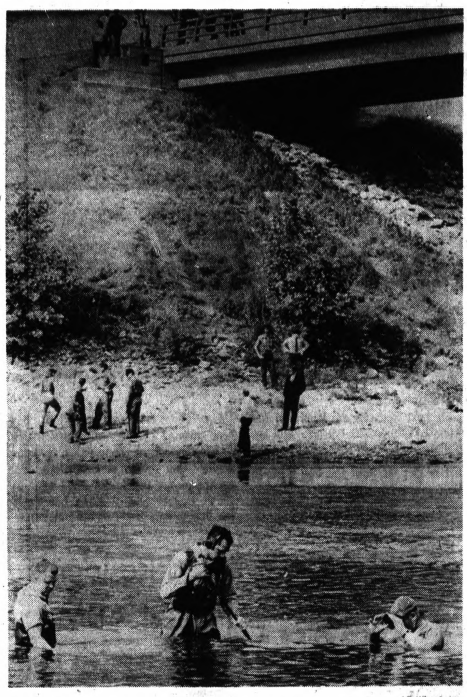

★ ★ ★

The committee's recommendation will be that the county take an "affirmative" position in the lawsuit, in an attempt to have the Legislature's action rescinded.

The county's corporation counsel, it is proposed, would represent the county in the litigation.

Supervisors earlier had sought to find an attorney practicing outside Oakland County and one not having done business in courts here for at least a two-year period.

The search apparently has been unproductive which gave rise to the judicial committee's action yesterday.

HUNT FOR MURDER WEAPON — State police skin divers use mine detectors to search the Huron River near U.S. 23 in Ann Arbor in an effort to find the gun they believe was used to kill University of Michigan graduate student Margaret A. Phillips.

Trial Ordered for Ex-Con in Death of Seventh Coed

ANN ARBOR (AP) — A convicted rapist today was ordered bound over for trial on a first-degree murder charge in the slaying last Saturday of a University of Michigan coed, the seventh young woman killed in the Ann Arbor area in the past two years.

The order came after District Court Judge S. J. Elden denied a defense motion that the charge against Ernest R. Bishop Jr., be reduced to manslaughter, on grounds the prosecution had failed to produce evidence supporting a first-degree murder charge.

★ ★ ★

Bishop is accused of murdering 25-year-old Margaret Phillips, a B-plus graduate student, in her apartment near the campus.

Earlier, her roommate testified she heard the shots that killed Miss Phillips. Bishop, a small muscular handyman, listened intently to the witness.

Judith Rubin, 21, told the court that after she heard the shots, she stayed in her room until hearing footsteps pass her door. After someone left the front door of the building, Miss Rubin said, she then ventured out of her room to call police.

The witness said she looked into Miss Phillips' room because there was a telephone there. She said she saw the victim from the knees down, slumped on the bed.

"She was breathing just awful —like snoring," Miss Rubin testified. "Her legs were shaking."

★ ★ ★

Miss Phillips, a graduate student at the University of Michigan, had been shot twice in the head and died about 24 hours later.

"I didn't want to look at her any more," said Miss Rubin, adding that she then used the phone in a hallway, where she tried to call authorities.

She said she had trouble reaching either police or the operator, and then called a friend who in turn called police.

S. California Housing Construction Threatened

Striking Plumbers Seek 40 Pct. Pay Hike

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Housing construction in southern California could soon be curtailed because of a deadlock over a demand by striking plumbers for $21,500 a year.

That is what a journeyman plumber would make at $11.48 an hour — including fringe benefits — for a 36-hour week as demanded by the AFL-CIO Plumbers Union, on strike for the last week.

★ ★ ★

The union is also asking for a 4½-day work week beginning in the third year of a three-year contract.

Plumbers now make $5.79 an hour plus $2.32 in fringe benefits for a total package of $8.11. The proposed increase to $8.20 and $3.28 after three years represents a hike in base pay of more than 40 per cent.

CONTRACT OFFERED

Management—the Plumbing, Heating and Piping Employers Council—has offered a three-year wage package of $10.92 an hour for a five-day, 35-hour week.

The union claims new piping methods plus the advent of plastic piping is putting some plumbers out of work and reducing the work hours of others. Management claims most plumbers are fully employed.

Don Steele of the employers council concedes that plastic plumbing is a legitimate issue.

"Plastic piping can be placed in residences at lower cost than present piping because it's lighter and takes less time to install," he said. "But if it becomes favorably accepted by the construction industry, it'll mean reduced building costs and consequently more construction, which would make more work for the plumbers."

Ray Buckley of the Associated Plumbing, Heating and Cooling Contractors, commented:

"New construction is going to be greatly curtailed if this strike continues, even for a short while.

Commissioners in Dark on Firing

At the city commission meeting about 12 persons spoke in favor of Euler, citing his long service and fair treatment of employes.

★ ★ ★

One of the speakers leveled a charge against two members of the hospital board, Board Chairman Aleck Capsalis and Vice Chairman Harold Goldberg.

The woman, Mrs. Jack Baker, said she was an employe of the hospital for 15 years and worked in the emergency room.

PREFERENTIAL TREATMENT?

She said both of the men, on one occasion each, had arranged for preferential treatment in the emergency room for members of their families.

She said former assistant administrator Donald Carros, who had been discharged by Euler, had made arrangements for the two board members, obtaining a room and a doctor to speed procedures.

★ ★ ★

"He did this while other (emergency room) patients were waiting their turn," Mrs. Baker said.

★ ★ ★

Capsalis was unavailable for comment this morning. Goldberg was waiting to hear a tape recording before commenting.

★ ★ ★

Another employe spokesman, Bernice Ferguson, warned the city commissioners the group would come back until action was taken. "We need some new faces in there (the hospital board)," she said. "If you think you're going to wear us down, you're mistaken," she said. Identifying herself as an employe of 16 years, she said Euler was held in high regard.

'NEGOTIATIONS ARRANGED'

Fowler and Birnkrant told the assembly that negotiations have been arranged with Euler's attorney, Clarence J. Patterson, to try to work out an agreement.

The City Commission held a joint meeting with the entire 11-member hospital board last Wednesday. After the meeting a short, joint statement indicated the commissioners concurred with and supported the hospital board.

★ ★ ★

However, apparently, the commissioners had not been told why the man had been fired and at last night's meeting vehemently denied they were lying when they said they didn't know.

District 6 Commissioner Wesley J. Wood repeatedly shouted, "I do not know," but vowed "to get to the bottom of it and soon."

★ ★ ★

Fowler also vowed "The public will know."

Soviets Voice Indignation Over Chinese Border Clash

MOSCOW (AP) — A Soviet official said today the latest Soviet-Chinese border violence has caused indignation throughout the Soviet far east, the official news agency Tass reported.

"We believe all attacks on the border rivers are perpetrated by the Chinese deliberately and with full knowledge of the Maoist clique," Tass quoted Yakov Ovchinnikov, deputy chief of the traffic board for the Amur River.

★ ★ ★

The clash occurred yesterday on an island in the Amur and each side has blamed the other for starting it.

So far there has been no mention of Chinese casualties.

The Soviet protest note said Chinese troops armed with submachine guns, grenade launchers and hand grenades killed one Russian river worker and injured three Tuesday "in the Soviet part of the Goldinsky Island on the Amur River."

★ ★ ★

Peking also lodged a protest, saying the Russians landed frontier troops on the island, sent in gunboats and planes, and burned down a Chinese civilian home.

★ ★ ★

Goldinsky or Pacha as the Chinese call the island, is located about 40 miles west of the Soviet city of Khaharovsk, where a Sino-Soviet commission has been meeting since June 18 to discuss problems of navigation on border rivers.

The island is slightly west of the confluence of the Amur and Ussuri rivers. Soviet and Chinese troops fought two bloody battles on a disputed island on the Ussuri in March.

Six Directors Are Named at Cranbrook

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — Six new members have been elected to the board of directors of Cranbrook School, according to John M. Sanders, newly named board chairman.

New directors are P. Thomas Austion, Dr. Norton J. Cooksey, Gordon Craig, J. Burke Gelling, David W. Lee and Donald H. Parsons.

In other board changes, James M. Gillen was named vice chairman; Jervis B. McMechan, secretary; and Austin, assistant treasurer. Norman B. Weston was reelected treasurer.

Austin, a Cranbrook School 1944 graduate, is a partner in Ernst & Ernst. He is a trustee of the Cranbrook Music Guild and holds memberships in the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants, Michigan Association of Certified Public Accountants and the Financial and Estate Planning Council of Detroit.

ON BEAUMONT STAFF

Dr. Cooksey, on the active staff of William Beaumont Hospital, is a member of the Michigan State and Oakland County medical associations. He maintains offices in the Beaumont Medical Building.

Craig is president and chairman of the board of Booth Newspapers Inc. A 1943 graduate of the University of Southern California, Craig served for three years with the Naval Air Transport Service. He joined the Booth Newspapers in 1949.

★ ★ ★

Gelling is chairman of the board of directors and president of Federal's Inc.

Lee is a truck advertising manager for the Ford Division of Ford Motor Co., a member of Christ Church Cranbrook, a senior member of St. Dunstan's Guild, a member of the Bloomfield Hills Board of Appeals, and a past trustee and president of the Bloomfield Hills Board of Education.

★ ★ ★

Parsons, who holds degrees from Yale and the University of Michigan, is a senior partner in the Birmingham and Detroit law firm of Parsons, Tennent, Hammond, Hardig & Ziegelman. He is board chairman of the Bank of the Commonwealth in Detroit, director and executive committee chairman of the Union Commerce Bank in Cleveland.

Medical Costs Nixon's Target

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The White House is expected to announce a plan tomorrow for battling skyrocketing medical costs by recruiting new kinds of health personnel — such as returning medical corpsmen from Vietnam — and by emphasizing out-of-hospital care.

The White House also is expected to try to bolster the Medicaid program for the needy with more administrative personnel and plug "areas of weakness" in the Medicare program for the aged.

★ ★ ★

Although the White House could break new ground in its statement, sources said it was expected to be primarily a presidential stamp of approval on proposals outlined by HEW Secretary Robert H. Finch and his aides.

Both out-of-hospital care and new types of manpower were in a five-point program Finch outlined for the Department of Health, Education and Welfare (HEW) June 28.

NOT AS TRAINED

Finch frequently has proposed greater use of paramedical workers, including medical corpsmen returning from Vietnam, to assist doctors in caring for patients who are not critically ill. These workers would not be as highly trained as doctors and nurses.

HHH Decision Not to Exploit 11th-Hour Story in '68 Is Told

White says Johnson was aware of Mrs. Chennault's Asian messages before he made his announcement Thursday, Oct. 31 — just five days before the election — of the bombing halt and the anticipation of the peace talks, but had not taken them seriously.

JOHNSON IRATE

But two days later when 11 South Vietnamese senators expressed their support of Nixon, and South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu repudiated the Paris agreement "the President's wrath was lit," White says and he adds:

★ ★ ★

"By Saturday he had accused Sen. Everett Dirksen of a Republican plot to sabotage peace (which Dirksen, presumably, hastened to relay to Nixon headquarters); and by Sunday, Johnson was in direct and bitter telephone contact with Richard Nixon in Los Angeles."

White says, "What could have been made of an open charge that the Nixon leaders were saboteurs of the peace one cannot guess.

★ ★ ★

"But," he added, "the good instinct of the small town boy (Humphrey) prevailed. Fully informed of the sabotage of the negotiations and the recalcitrance of the Saigon government, Humphrey might have won the presidency of the United States by making it the prime story of the last four days of the campaign."

★ ★ ★

White says "I know of no more essentially decent story in American politics than Humphrey's refusal to do so."

Nixon aides felt, White adds, that "if the Democrats chose to air the story, no rebuttal of the Nixon camp would be convincing; and they were at the mercy of Humphrey's good will."

Daylong Battle Kills 9 GIs, Wounds 7 After VC Ambush

SAIGON (AP) — American paratroopers walked into a Vietcong ambush 50 miles south of Da Nang and lost nine men killed and seven wounded in a daylong battle that followed, U.S. headquarters reported today.

The ambush occurred shortly after noon Tuesday. A spokesman said about 150 Vietcong deeply entrenched in bunkers near a jungle trail waited for a detachment of the 101st Airborne Division to walk into the "kill zone," then opened fire with machine guns and rifles.

* * *

"The enemy small arms and automatic weapons fire was returned immediately by the troopers, who were supported by an Air Force gun-ship, artillery and tactical air strikes," said the spokesman. He added that contact continued for about seven hours until nightfall.

Only two bodies of Vietcong soldiers were found.

ROCKET ATTACKS PERSIST

Elsewhere, light rocket attacks persisted and the U.S. Command reported 77 enemy troops were slain in eight small fights from the Mekong Delta to the demilitarized zone. U.S. casualties were one killed and six wounded.

Spokesmen said the actions were not significant enough to be considered a break in the Vietnam war's current three-week lull. But they reported movement of enemy troops in small groups, similar to the pattern that ended similar lulls in February, May and June.

"One of the indicators in the past of increased enemy activity is when he starts to move in small groups," said the U.S. Command spokesman. "Prior to a very active enemy period . . . you run into him and make more contact."

He said it is too soon to tell if the enemy is gearing for another series of heavy attacks, but noted the enemy seems to be "advertising he will have a series of high points."

TWO COPTERS LOST

The U.S. Command reported the loss of two more helicopters to enemy ground fire Tuesday — an Army UHi downed 16 miles northwest of Saigon, killing the four Americans aboard and a Marine chopper downed 25 miles southwest of Da Nang, killing one American and wounding three.

The losses raised to 2,832 the number of American helicopters lost in the war.

Headquarters said 14 rocket and mortar attacks hit allied bases and towns, including Saigon, overnight.

Judge Dissolves Order Preventing Firing of Teachers

GRAND RAPIDS (UPI) — Circuit Judge Roman J. Snow yesterday dissolved a temporary order restraining the Wyoming Board of Education from firing 70 teachers for economy purposes.

Judge Snow, in dissolving the restraining order issued last week, scheduled a full hearing in the case for Aug. 20, two days after a 4.4-mill tax increase election will be held in the school district.

* * *

The Wyoming Education Association said the teachers, many of whom have tenure, had been informed they would not have jobs in the fall unless the millage passes, despite having contracts.

* * *

The association claimed the dismissals are contract violations. A millage issue was defeated in April.

Training Session for Vo-Ed Counselors

About 30 counselors who will assist in the selection of students for vocational education in four proposed centers in Oakland County are attending a two-week training session at the Oakland Intermediate Schools center.

The counselors, who were selected by area high schools, are studying theories of vocational education, testing and job placement as well as the vocational programs now being developed for the area centers in Pontiac, Royal Oak, Walled Lake and Clarkston.

Instructors for the training sessions include the principals of the four centers, the Oakland Schools staff of vocational education consultants and vocational education specialists from four universities.

One of the speakers was Dr. Norman Gysbers, editor of the Vocational Guidance Quarterly and professor of education at the University of Missouri.

"After the first job is landed, the individual will be faced the rest of his life with evaluating his opportunities and the need for information about opportunities. He needs to be taught the process of career decision-making," Gysbers told the counselors.

He said that teachers and counselors have the responsibility for assisting individual students to decide on their own system of values and to teach them to look for employment that will fit that framework, for their own welfare as well as that of future employers.

$500,000 Plan Hinges on Surplus, Priorities

County Supervisors Panel OKs Revolving Road Fund

Establishment of a $500,000 revolving fund to help finance improvements for special-assessment road projects in subdivisions in the county has been recommended for approval by the supervisors' finance committee.

Originally proposed as a million-dollar fund by the road commission, the latest plan dims hopes that some $700,000 worth of proposed projects can get under way this year.

L. W. McEntee, attorney for the road commission, explained to the supervisors' committee that townships could borrow from the road fund to initiate financing of special assessment road and sidewalk improvement projects. Bonds when approved and sold would be used to pay back the loans.

* * *

Funds for the loan pool will have to come out of the county's unappropriated nontax surplus in the 1969-70 fiscal year budget, it was pointed out by Daniel T. Murphy, chairman of the county board of auditors. he road commission will contribute to the pool as its budget allows.

MORE NEEDED LATER

It has been indicated during previous discussion of the revolving fund that considerable monies will be needed from the county during the second year of its operation and succeeding years in diminishing amounts before bond revenues will be enough to make the fund self-sustaining.

Murphy indicated the surplus funds would be available if this year county operations remained "status quo" now through the end of September. He advised the supervisors, however, that several other high-priority items may be competing for the surplus funds at year's end.

George N. Grba, D-Pontiac, chairman of the finance committee, told the road commission representatives that "overruns" or additional costs involved in existing planned county projects could easily "wipe out" a budget surplus.

The $8-million law enforcement building complex, a girls' educational unit expected to cost $400,000 proposed for the county's children's village and construction costs over the supervisors' self-imposed limit of $2 million for the proposed service center building are three projects likely to require added financing from the budget surplus.

Murphy indicated these projects would take priority over the revolving road fund in drawing from any surplus. The estimate he gave the supervisors on the budget surplus by his department was $502,000.

Christian F. Powell, R-West Bloomfield, originally proposed the committee recommend $250,000 as the county's share of the revolving fund. Supervisor Fred D. Houghten, R-Rochester, supported Supervisor Thomas H. O'Donoghue's motion to raise the amount to $500,000.

Road Commissioner, Saul Lomerson said six hearings have already been staged by his office for the consideration of local township road improvement projects which could benefit from establishment of the revolving fund.

* * *

West Bloomfield Township Supervisor Homer Case stressed the need for the revolving fund. He said improved roads in his township "would go back to gravel" unless some help is provided.

Levitt Shows Its New Homes on Site in Troy

TROY — The most famous of the postwar builders — Levitt & Sons of New York City — formally opened for business locally yesterday.

The press and special guests were invited to Windmill Pointe subdivision on East Long Lake at Dequindre to view four of the five available Levitt models, ranging in price from $29,990 to $35,900.

* * *

Levitt & Sons is best known for the "Levittown" developments on Long Island. The tradition that began then and is carried out today: a completely equipped home.

The Troy homes include such items as carpeting, washer and dryer, all kitchen appliances including dishwasher, complete tilling, all landscaping (sod, shrubbery, trees, planting and flowers fireplace, draperies and decorative gas lamps.

START EQUALLY

"It's nice for people to move into a subdivision and start out equally — on the outside. All the lawns are in at once; you don't have to wait six months for your neighbor to sod his lot when he can afford it," is the way one Levitt representative put it.

* * *

The Troy Levittown will include 280 homes, all on generous lots. Construction is in the early stages, but four completely furnished models are available for public inspection. Sales personnel are on hand.

* * *

Two bright features of the homes are the full-wall mirrors in most bedrooms and the master bath facilities in all models.

Police in Rochester 'Itching to Picket'

ROCHESTER — Police here are getting restless, and they may picket a City Commission meeting.

That's the word from the negotiations, now under way for three weeks, between the 10-member Rochester Police Local 1445 of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes, AFL-CIO, and the City of Rochester.

* * *

According to Howard Draft, northern Oakland County AFSCME representative, the union and the city are some 10 cents apart on hourly wage negotiations for radio operators.

Previously, the radio operators earned $2.27 hourly. The union is asking, $2.60, and the city is offering $2.50, Draft explained.

'PRETTY NEAR'

"We're pretty near," Draft said, describing the package now being considered for patrolmen. The salary calls for $9,550 yearly with a boost to $9,750 after Jan. 1, 1970. Previously, the patrolmen earned $8,500.

Yesterday Draft submitted the negotiations to representatives of the State Labor Mediation Board for mediation proceedings.

* * *

"Usually, the best thing to do is to submit to mediation," Draft said. "That way, the state representatives can help work out a compromise acceptable to both sides. We can avoid any really serious hard feelings, too."

Draft said that while the police officers are forbidden by their own bylaws to strike, the men "are itching to picket."

'BECOMING IMPATIENT'

"Our only deadline is our patience," Draft said, "and the men are becoming impatient with the hang-up."

Rochester police voted to organize a union May 28 by a 9-1 decision. The police became the first city department to unionize in Rochester's two-year-old history. Excluded from the union were the chief of police, lieutenants, sergeants and detectives.

Bargaining for the city is City Manager William Sinclair.

Henry Kochan And Family Dig Out Buried Backyard Elephant

Tale of Elephant Graveyard Never to Forget (Tusk, Tusk)

OAKLAND TOWNSHIP — This is literally the largest story unearthed this week.

It concerns an elephant that was buried in the backyard of the Henry Kochan home, 2673 Snell. It's gone now, after a two-hour bulldozer and crane-hoist struggle last night to extricate the carcass.

* * *

It all happened Monday night, Mrs. Kochan explained. She phoned home from a restaurant after she and her husband had driven her mother to the Windsor Airport.

"I asked my son Joey, 15, if everything was all right and he said yes, except that there was an elephant buried in the backyard," Mrs. Kochan said.

"When I told my husband, he fished out another dime and called Joey back. He couldn't believe it at first," Mrs. Kochan related.

The Kochans, a bit stunned, ordered dinner nevertheless.

"My husband usually eats two hamburgers, but that night he ate only one. He was kind of anxious to get home," Mrs. Kochan understated.

What had happened was that two young men in a white panel truck had been given orders by International Animals Exchange, Inc., Ferndale, (owned by TV's "Bwana Don") to bury the dead baby elephant.

OFFERED $10

The young men met Joey on Snell Road and offered him $10 if they could bury the elephant in his backyard. Accommodating, Joey led the men to a hole in the ground he used for a fort. The men backed in the truck and deposited the elephant's body.

"Joey," explained Mr. Kochan, "just thought he was doing someone a good turn."

* * *

By Tuesday, the body was beginning to smell quite badly and, as Mr. Kochan delicately put it, "everything was falling out." The men had covered the carcass with only a foot of sand.

International Animals Exchange Vice President Ian Brennan said the 600-pound pachyderm had arrived Sunday en route to a Lincoln, Neb., zoo and was "noticeably sick" at the time of Detroit arrival.

BACTERIAL INFECTION

Brennan explained that the elephant had died from a bacterial infection. He apologized to the Kochans for the two employes, whom he has promised to discipline.

"They know better," Brennan said of the two young men.

They were supposed to drive to company-owned land near Rochester to properly bury the beast.

"They got lost," Brennan said, and then they asked the Kochan boy if they could dump it in his backyard.

OLD FARM LAND

Brennan would not disclose however, the location of the "old farm land" near Rochester that is, apparently, an ivory-loaded elephant burial ground a la Edgar Rice Burroughs.

What does one do when he is confronted by a 600-pound dead elephant on his property?

* * *

"Well, my husband has these great big eyes. For two days they were the biggest I had ever seen. After the thing was finally gone last night about 9, we all laughed. You know, it's actually a kind of funny thing," Mrs. Kochan said.

Youths Protest Smoking, Drugs

Mock Coffin Makes a Point

LANSING (AP) — A mock coffin containing a skeleton was carried to the State Capitol steps yesterday by a group of youngsters opposed to smoking and drugs.

Near 1,000 youths from the Seventh-day Adventist Church camp meeting at Grand Ledge staged the peaceful and colorful demonstration.

* * *

Gov. William Milliken was presented with a petition containing some 10,000 signatures. The petition urged the creation of an educational program in the public schools on the dangers of smoking to health and requested the banning of cigarette advertising on radio and television.

The young people carried hand-lettered signs with such slogans as "Save America's Teens — Out Cigarettes" . . . "Commit Suiiide the Slow Way—Smoke" and "Smoking Causes Coffin."

* * *

The demonstration was part of a program sponsored by the church in opposition to both smoking and drugs.

* * *

Dick Kenney, former Michigan State football star who specialized as a barefoot place kicker, presented a lecture against smoking later in the day.

Other lectures and movies are scheduled on the dangers of drug use.

Milliken smoked while in the service but gave up the habit nearly a decade ago.

He congratulated the young people on their campaign against smoking and the use of drugs.

* * *

"Too often today the general public gains the impression that young people do not care about some very significant issues," Milliken told them.

* * *

"As you are well aware," the governor said, "some people have a very negative view of young people. I know that such views are inaccurate and your program concerning two highly important issues — smoking and drugs — proves the point."

CAPITOL COFFIN — Youths from the Seventh-day Adventist church camp at Grand Ledge staged a march on the State Capitol in Lansing yesterday to demonstrate against cigarette smoking. They carried a mock coffin with a skeleton to dramatically convey their opinion of cigaret consumption. Gov. William Milliken congratulated the youngsters for their concern on the subject. Milliken is a nonsmoker.

W. Bloomfield Paves Way for Shopper Center

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHP — A T-shaped parcel of land on Maple near Orchard Lake Road has been rezoned by the Township Board from residential to business to allow development of a controversial shopping center.

About 30 residents argued the pros and cons of the proposed center at a public hearing prior to the township meeting this week when the decision to rezone was made. Several residents in high-priced homes on nearby land have fought the rezoning.

* * *

The total area involved for the 25-acre center includes five parcels. Three were zoned residential while the other two are zoned for local business (which does not allow a shopping center) and already occupied by banks.

Two of the residential sections were rezoned this week for community business, which does allow a shopping center. The other three sections had been tabled by the planning commission with definite approval apparently pending on the fate of the two parcels just rezoned.

NORTHEAST CORNER

The area includes the northeast corner of the Maple-Orchard Lake intersection with the exception of a gas station on the corner.

The land backs on at least one home, that of Mr. and Mrs. Robert General of 6364 Nicholas. The Generals, and others whose property backs land parcels fronting on Orchard Lake( all live in Doherty Estates subdivision, an area with $50,000 homes.

* * *

These residents, joined by many in the neighboring North Doherty Estates subdivision, claim that the residential character of the neighborhood "will be shattered by allowing a shopping center."

Air-Freight Service for Detroit, Europe

DETROIT (AP) — Seaboard World Airlines announced the start Tuesday of direct air-freight service, five times weekly, between Detroit and 10 major European cities.

The cargo service was also extended to Chicago and Cleveland.

A Seaboard spokesman said the airline carries more freight across the Atlantic than any other airline.

Senator's Son Reaps Own Rewards on Farm

BRULE, Neb. (AP) — Far from the hustle of Manhattan, the son of Sen. Jacob K. Javits is spending part of his summer vacation as a Nebraska farmhand and finding it "very rewarding doing an honest day's work."

"You know, all we New Yorkers know about Midwesterners is their politics. And that is usually conservative. But we don't know why," said Joshua Javits, 19, a Yale University junior whose father is New York's senior Republican senator.

* * *

"So I'm finding out," young Javits continued, "not as a privileged spectator, but by working and fitting in where I'm needed here on the farms."

The youth's comments came as he perched atop a tractor, straw hat pushed back on his head, in a dusty field on a western Nebraska farm, working as a hired hand of Ed Prochaska and Roger Rankin of Ogallala.

DIFFERENT JOB

"Believe me, nothing could be more different than what I've been doing," Javits said, squinting into the sun. "Here I'm working 12 hours a day, six days a week, and last summer I worked from 11 to 6 in an air-conditioned museum."

The work ranges from ranching and sheep raising to overseeing irrigated and dry land corn, beets, wheat and alfalfa.

"I wanted to get away from the hustle and bustle of the big city," he said. "I wanted somewhere quiet where I could do some thinking. I also wanted to see Nebraska. I also wanted to be anonymous.

"Everybody talks about the land," he said. "But to me the sky here is just incredible. Back in New York we don't get to see much of it for the buildings.

NO GRUFFNESS

"Social relations are so easy here—there is none of the gruffness of New York."

What does he think of farming?

"You have to be a little of everything," he said. "I even had to help Roger operate on a sheep, besides all the other things a farmer or rancher has to know.

"I can really appreciate the farmer's problems. It sure takes a lot more brains and perseverance than I thought."

For Apollo 11 Pickup

Recovery Rehearsals Start

ABOARD THE USS HORNET (AP) — Three Navy divers stood in for the Apollo 11 astronauts in the first full-scale recovery rehearsal for next week's moon shot. It went off Tuesday without a hitch.

But the skipper of the USS Hornet, charged with directing the pickup of man's first moon-landing travelers, said the responsibility is no greater "than the one we exercise every day."

* * *

Capt. Carl J. Seiberlich said, "We have a responsibility to everyone aboard as well as the astronauts."

Seiberlich expressed satisfaction with the practice recovery of the simulated lunar module and three "astronauts" in moderate seas under sunny skies about 60 miles south of Hawaii.

JULY 24

The carrier, the Apollo 11 prime recovery ship, is scheduled to pick up Astronauts Neil Armstrong, Edwin Aldrin Jr. and Michael Collins July 24 after their lunar flight.

The Hornet, which recovered an unmanned Apollo-Saturn space capsule near Wake Island in August 1966, had previously practiced the recovery in sections. This was the first time the entire recovery was rehearsed from splash-down to return of the astronauts and module to the carrier.

* * *

Another rehearsal was to be conducted today en route back to Pearl Harbor.

* * *

The carrier, which completed a tour of Vietnam a month ago, will leave again Saturday to take its position in the recovery area.

BIGGEST PROBLEM

Seiberlich said weather conditions pose the biggest potential problem. But he said a partial practice Monday night was successful even though there was heavy rain and rough seas.

Rehearsals will be conducted almost daily en route to the recovery area.

* * *

The skipper said his 2,200 crewmen have adopted "Hornet Plus Three," as their motto for the mission. He explained that this meant the carrier would bring back everyone it took out plus the three astronauts.

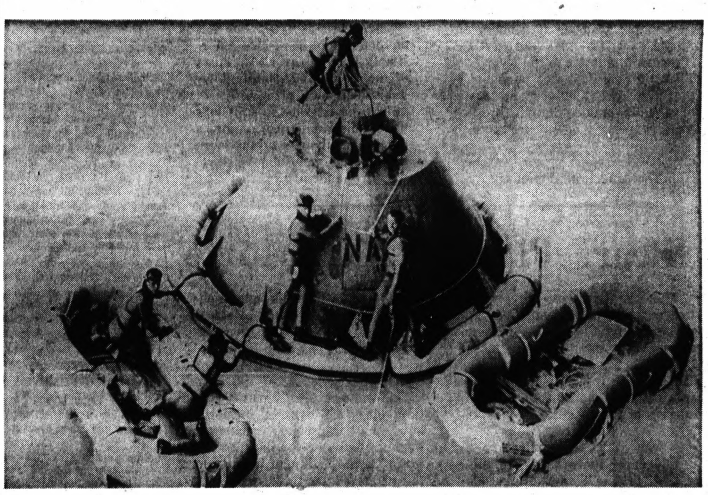

Two airplanes and four helicopters will be used in the recovery.

40 MINUTES

The Navy says it expects the astronauts to be on the carrier 40 minutes after splash-down. They will come aboard in biological isolation garments to prevent spreading any germs from the moon, and enter the Mobile Quarantine Facility, a 35-foot aluminum van that will be used to return them to Houston.

* * *

Recovery of the lunar module is expected to take 2½ hours.

SUCCESSFUL RUN-THROUGH — Navy frogmen attach a cable to a simulated Apollo 11 spacecraft to be lifted aboard the carrier Hornet. A full dress rehearsal of the recovery mission was carried out successfully yesterday some 60 miles south of Hawaii. The Hornet is the primary recovery ship for the Apollo 11 mission.

Kids Gird for 'Derby'

The All-American Soap Box Derby, which has become as essential an ingredient of summer as sunshine itself, is bigger than ever in this, its 32nd running since its inauguration in 1934.

A record high of 260 boys from throughout the United States, Canada and overseas will compete in this year's event at famed Derby Downs in Akron, Ohio. Thousands of others will pit their coaster-car building and racing skills in local run-offs in the coming weeks.

★ ★ ★

Locally, the qualifying trials will be run on the morning of July 19 at the Oakland County Service Center.

The competition is again being endorsed by many cities as a major recreation program for youths, including 31 new cities for the first time. The Army, Navy and Air Force are cooperating with Derby officials in programs for dependent children on military installations from the Canal Zone to the Philippines. Along with Chevrolet dealers, sponsors include 130 Jaycee chapters, 103 newspapers, 41 radio stations, 31 television stations and 30 Optimist Clubs.

★ ★ ★

Climax of soap box summer will be the world finals in Akron on August 23, when local champions race for a share of $30,000 in college scholarships and national fame.

Cites Church Aid to Blacks

Slapped with a $500-million bill for "reparations" to pay for their fathers' sins against Negroes, many churchmen turned the other cheek. Many others, though, merely turned their heads. Black leader JAMES FORMAN has now upped the debt to $3 billion.

What is strange, however, is that whether they believe the claim is a valid one or whether they consider it outrageous, churchmen have been amazingly reticent about pointing out to black militants that, at least in the area of monetary aid, the churches' record in relation to Negroes has not been entirely shameful.

★ ★ ★

"More than 100 educational institutions in the South were founded, financed and staffed (1865-1890) by the churches in one of Christianity's most remarkable missionary upsurges," writes FRANCIS STUART HARMON in a letter to the New York Times. HARMON is vice president of the Interchurch Center and a trustee of the Riverside Church in New York.

★ ★ ★

The American Missionary Association (Congregational) sponsored 37 of these colleges and training schools, he notes. Baptists founded 26, Presbyterians 41 and Methodists 30. Others began under auspices of the Disciples of Christ, Episcopalians, Lutherans and Friends.

★ ★ ★

Christians and Jews, and non-church people as well, have channeled tens of millions of dollars to these schools through various funds and foundations and, since the end of World War II, through the United Negro College Fund.

Forget FORMAN and his tactics and the particular chunk of money he demands. The real questions he has raised is, do the churches indeed have an unfinished mission?

★ ★ ★

The answer is "yes," but that mission cannot be discharged by simply handing over vast sums of money to black militant organizations out of a sense of guilt for past sins of omissions or commission. It will require a carefully planned, long-term, interchurch and interracial cooperative endeavor.

David Lawrence Says:

U.S., in Effect, Has Lost War

WASHINGTON — As small contingents of American troops begin to arrive home from Vietnam, there is naturally rejoicing. But it would be a mistake to interpret the "withdrawal" as a sign that peace is really coming and that America's military involvement in Southeast Asia is about to end.

LAWRENCE

The sad truth is that the United States government, in its desire to make an impression before the world of being conciliatory, has rejected military advice and, in effect, has lost the war.

★ ★ ★

In testimony given to a closed session of the Senate Armed Services Committee on April 16, which has just been released, the Air Force chief of staff, Gen. John P. McConnell, said that between the time the bombing was halted by President Johnson on Oct. 31, 1968, and April 1969, North Vietnam had rebuilt all the bridges, highways and transshipment points which previously were destroyed by U.S. planes.

For the last few days, there have been reports from Vietnam that a lull in the fighting was developing and that the war was being de-escalated by North Vietnam in response to the pullout of some American troops.

PHASE OF OFFENSIVE

But the Vietcong and North Vietnamese have just shelled 27 towns and allied bases in a single night, and American military officials say that the Communists are being reinforced for the "third phase" of their summer offensive to be begun in coming weeks.

President Thieu of South Vietnam goes along publicly with the idea of a gradual withdrawal of American troops because he knows this is what President Nixon would wish him to say.

★ ★ ★

The big question, however, is whether the South Vietnamese will be able to handle the situation themselves, even with materiel and technical help from the United States.

Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss. chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, said on ABC's "Issues and Answers" last Sunday, "I don't think the troops — the local troops — will be able to take it over very rapidly. My opinion is it will take several years to develop the leadership and get enough men trained to do the job . . . I am afraid we are not going to be able to fully pull out of Vietnam."

"ALTERNATIVE PLANS'

There is talk of "alternative plans" — some method of stabilizing the situation so that hopefully the fighting will cease. But there is no indication that North Vietnam will reciprocate.

A South Vietnamese representative at the Paris peace conference has stated that his government is ready to match any genuine move by the Communists to reduce the level of the fighting, but that "a unilateral de-escalation would get us nowhere."

★ ★ ★

If the situation is realistically examined, it must be concluded that there is as yet no evidence of a contemplated withdrawal by the Communists.

The North Vietnamese are waiting for the United States to bring home practically all of its troops, and it may be anticipated that the South Vietnamese then will face an even bigger war and the prospect of a Communist takeover.

★ ★ ★

So appeasement such as America is practicing today — in withdrawing troops without any corresponding steps by the enemy — is an example of how a one-sided "de-escalation" becomes synonymous with defeat.

Bob Considine Says:

Headwind Shakes Loose Memories of Early Flight

EN ROUTE TO NEW YORK — Irish Airlines' big Boeing Intercontinental Flight 105, nonstop Shannon-John F. Kennedy, ruddy Capt. James Smith commanding, ran into a beaut of a headwind an hour out. Some 145 miles an hour.

CONSIDINE

So the commander of the good ship St. Canice flew us into calmer air. That easing northwest to the 60th parallel.

"If you wish to observe the mountains of Greenland they're now off on our right," the captain said as casually as if he were pointing out the flower bed in Dublin's O'Connell Street, where Nelson's Column affronted generations of Dubliners.

★ ★ ★

In calmer air and at greater speed we left the forbidding Icecap to our right, and in time the captain came back on the pipe to say that we were passing over Goose Bay, Labrador.

Greenland . . . Goose Bay . . . brought back memories of a remarkable airman named Fish Hassell. In 1928 he attempted to fly from his native Rockford, Ill. to Copenhagen in a single-engined plane. He ran out of gas over the Greenland Icecap, made an emergency landing and became the first white man ever to walk off the cap.

NEARLY 100 MILES

Fish trudged nearly 100 miles over some of the most hostile terrain this side of the moon.

★ ★ ★

I happened to be staying with him at Goose Bay in November 1944 — he was by then the American commander at a U.S.-Canadian airbase — when he learned that his old plane had been spotted by a Navy patrol plane.

★ ★ ★

It had been deep-frozen in Arctic ice but temporarily exposed by a shift in a crevass. It looked well preserved after all those years.

Well, now the Navy has sent a big cargo helicopter in there and lifted it out. It is by now back in Rockford after 41 years. And gray-bearded Fish will stand at its side when he's honored by his townsfolk next month.

It's an ill headwind that blows no good . . .

'Pearl' Planner Aids Movie

There is a vast cost difference between reality and simulation, as is witnessed by the making of a new movie about the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor called "Tora! Tora! Tora!" (The word, meaning "tiger," was the code signal announcing the success of the air strike.)

★ ★ ★

The film reportedly has a budget of more than $20 million. Sizable even by Hollywood standards, it shrinks to nothingness compared to the actual monetary cost of that catastrophe.

★ ★ ★

Ho May Be Feeling Pinch in Vietnam

By RAY CROMLEY
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — Some of President Nixon's analysts see signs the growing Sino-Soviet conflict may be bringing hard pressure on Ho Chi Minh to reach some sort of an accommodation in South Vietnam.

CROMLEY

When Ho began arming his men with modern Chinese weapons and his cities with Soviet antiaircraft arms, he made himself dependent on continuous doses of heavy aid from Peking and Moscow.

★ ★ ★

If China and Russia become too deeply involved, the danger is Red China will cut sharply its supply of weapons, ammunition, food and other assistance. Russian aid, which comes largely by rail through China, would likewise almost certainly be curtailed heavily. The closing of the Suez Canal has already made shipping Soviet material to Hanoi by sea, more expensive.

Ho knows these facts. He has already issued orders to his troops to conserve arms, ammunition and other war material.

SOMEWHAT LIMITED

There are signs Hanoi calculates future replacements may be somewhat limited.

Temporarily at least, the amount of war supplies carried down the Ho Chi Minh trails seems to have dwindled.

★ ★ ★

To some analysts here, the creation by the Communists of the Provisional Revolutionary Government may indicate Ho now believes time is no longer with him.

A guerrilla force — when it is growing — expands policitcally by the creation of a series of fronts, attempting to draw in larger and larger numbers of the population and key men with a wide following in various areas of the society.

CRISIS REACHED?

Normally, such fronts become open Communist groups when the battle is won, the Reds are taking over, or when a crisis has been reached and the guerrillas must retrench and take hard-handed action in which orders from above are quickly and unquestionably obeyed, regardless of who or what is sacrificed in the operation.

Since the Communists have not taken over in South Vietnam, some administration Vietnam watchers reason Hanoi is clearing the ineffectives and wobblies out of the Vietcong ranks preparatory to hard secret political bargaining with the South Vietnamese.

Even if these analysts are correct, and Ho is now ready for a deal, Ho's concept of time is such that the talks could take a year, or two years.

'This Suggestion Might Break Up Welfare'

I read where the Congressmen's wives and families are going hungry living on welfare allotments of 18 cents per meal.

I find there is only one way to break up welfare and get a decent job done by the lawmakers. Close the doors on election day to any person who has drawn welfare for 90 days in any one calendar year. If they wanted to vote they would get a job and protect that right.

EDWARD WEIR

'Stop Paying Farmers for Unused Land'

I just finished reading an article on negative income tax. This was about the rich farmer with lots of land who is paid for not farming it. If this practice were stopped, perhaps they would either sell the land or start growing something. With our system of supply and demand, food prices would come down. Some of the surplus food could be purchased by the government to help feed the needy.

Apparently there is some legislation to limit the amount that these farmers can make for not growing anything to $20,000. It passed in the House, but the Senate keeps turning it down. The way it stands now, the more land you have, the more subsidy you get. I wonder if some of our congressmen are getting some of this easy money. At any rate, we should get busy and let them know that we don't like it.

Another Opinion on Johnson Street Parking

Have you ever looked at the driveways on South Johnson? If the houses even have driveways, there's just room for one car. What if residents have two cars or two different people visit them? There is a lot of traffic at the hospital end of Johnson and by the medical building, but it all comes off Huron, not from Orchard Lake Road. I don't care what time of day or night it is, there isn't enough traffic to warrant no parking on both sides of the street.

Question and Answer

We had two awnings put up, and they leak. We called the construction company right after the work was done July 11, 1968, and they gave us the run-around. They promise to fix leaks but never show up. Is there anything we can do about this? We wrote the Better Business Bureau and never heard anything.

T. P.

REPLY

We checked with the Detroit Better Business Bureau, which said the company was established there in 1953, and they've had no complaints made against the firm. The man who wrote up your contract said he came out right after you called, and even though your language was very abusive, he still sent workmen out twice. Since he hadn't heard from you in almost a year, he assumed everything was fine. However, he's still willing to take care of the problem. Just call him at the number you gave us.

Reviewing Other Editorial Pages

The User Pays

The Holland Evening Sentinel

The nation's air travel needs have been surging ahead of present facilities about as fast as ground traffic is overwhelming highways and city streets. Safety is being jeopardized. Delays in landings and take-offs are intolerable.

In advancing a program for air traffic control and airport improvement, President Nixon has drawn on some of the same philosophy that went into the sweeping interstate highway system started a few years ago: Make the user pay.

The highway user was tapped for a special gasoline tax. Nixon's plan would boost the airline ticket tax, set up a new levy on air freight and add to the tax on aviation fuels for general (not commercial) use.

It would raise $5 billion in 10 years to pay for more air traffic controls and expanded airports.

★ ★ ★

Military Logic

Milwaukee Journal

The defense department is buying $400 million more of a sub-standard guidance "brain" for the Minuteman missile. The reason, it is explained, is that the system doesn't work as long as it was supposed to, so it needs frequent replacements.

★ ★ ★

Herman Kahn, one of our top experts in the whole field of deterrents, said recently that we need the anti-ballistic-missiles even if they don't work when all assembled. The reason: If we don't have them we can't improve them.

★ ★ ★

The logic escapes a lot of people, perhaps most of all those who have been demanding "truth in packaging" laws to protect consumers.

Maybe if we got "truth in packaging" applied to what the defense department buys, the problem of soaring federal expenditures would recede a bit.

Jobs for Youths Discussed

There are 242 youths under the age of 22 working for the city in special summer employment programs, a report to the City Commission disclosed at last night's meeting.

The city participates in the summer employment programs of several agencies.

★ ★ ★

A breakdown showed 40 youths 14 to 15 years old are in the Police Youth Corps; 73 under 18 are in high school programs; 15 college-bound are in four departments and 113 college students are working in 15 different departments.

The programs provide both training and wages.

'SEVERE LIMITATIONS'

Two criticisms of the city effort were made.

Administrative assistant, Gary Webster, pointed out in his report that the city was limited by state laws in employing persons under 18. This group is severely limited in being allowed to run machinery, lift weights and in hours allowed to work.

District 4 Commissioner F. Jack Douglas, also pointed out that no provision had been made for employment of girls. He said all the emphasis had gone on young men.

District 5 Commissioner Robert F. Jackson suggested a "CCC-type" of program for future years (The CCC was the national Civilian Conservation Corps of the 1930s which carried out conservation projects).

The City Commission also agreed to extend the contract with Pontiac Transit Co. to provide buses for 60 more days. The bus company operates with a subsidy in which the city pays the difference between fare revenues and operating costs plus 3 per cent for profit on investment.

The city has set aside $85,000 for subsidies this year. A contract with bus drivers recently approved has raised salaries to $2.83 per hour from $2.48 as of July 1. This is expected to add $15,000 yearly to total costs.

The city has been renewing the agreement for short periods of time for the last year while seeking agreements with the school district or some other area agency to provide an alternate system.

★ ★ ★

In other business, the commission:

● Called for bids on $335,000 in concrete road work to be submitted by July 21. The work, previously approved, is to be done on the following streets: Franklin Road from Rapid to north of South Boulevard; the intersection of Kennett and Mansfield; the intersection of Walton and Joslyn; Linfere from Franklin Road to the Department of Public Works yard.

● Was informed the Oakland County Commission on Economic Opportunity (OCCEO) would vacate their offices at 7 W. Lawrence by July 25. All OCCEO central office operations will then be at 1 Lafayette.

● Gave final approval to the Housing Commission to apply to the office of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) to have 250 units of family-sized public housing set aside for Pontiac in HUD's next allocation. As approved previously, the commission specified the housing units would be in scattered locations rather than any single, large project.

● Held first reading on rezoning of the rear of 715 Auburn from local to general business to allow expansion of West Dee Glass Co. Public hearing was set for 8 p.m. July 29.

● Concurred with planning commission in denying vacating the end of Irene Street to Bagley. Bagley Auto Parts wanted the space for parking.

● Hired for $150 appraisers William Knudsen and John Mills, to determine price of purchase of 56 Cottage to be included in urban renewal lands.

● Set public hearings at 8 p.m. July 22 on the following projects: curb and gutter, West Iroquois between Manitou and Menominee, cost $14,920 with $4,960 to be assesed; sidewalk on west side of Bay from University to end of existing walk, cost $17,250 with $3,150 assessed; sidewalk on Ditmar between Highland and Franklin Road, cost $9,000 with $3,000 assessed.

● Also set public hearings on the same date for assessment rolls on two previously approved projects, water main on Brooks to east end of Joslyn and curb, gutter and paving on Pearsall from Motor to Bagley.

● Approved transfer of retail wine and beer license at 191 W. South Blvd., from Hortense Riddick to Wilbert Nealy.

● Honored by proclamation Lewis M. Wrenn, city engineer for 27 years, who died last weekend.

● Sent to planning commission three petitions: for vacating Diston east of Bagley; vacating Howard McNeil between Gillespie and Warner; and vacating an alley between East Ypsilanti and East Yale from Baldwin to Price.

Ruling on Hair Called Unfair

The subject of hair was again raised at last nights' City Commission meeting.

Fireman Frederick Milton, suspended because his moustache is too long, charged Fire Chief Charles Marion discriminated against him and his moustache in enforcing a strict ruling on styles.

Milton, one of two black men on the 143-man force, said if the rule was correctly enforced, most of the other men would also be suspended.

He said the ruling calls for hair no longer on the back of the neck than "an imaginary line extending from one ear lobe to the other at the base of the skull." It also calls for sideburns not below the center of the ear.

MOST DON'T COMPLY

Milton said in his examination most of the firemen did not comply with this. His moustache descends below the lip line — also forbidden.

The black fireman also appeared last week before the commission and accused Chief Marion of racism. He said he had found a petition on the main fire station bulletin board calling for the recall of Detroit Recorder's Court Judge John Crockett.

★ ★ ★

Crockett, a black judge, was involved in court proceedings in the New Bethel Baptist Church shooting incident in which a patrolman was killed. Milton said the chief's name was the first on the petition and that the name of Assistant Chief Albert Rayner was on another petition.

Milton had complained to City Attorney Sherwin Birnkrant about the petitions, and they were removed.

TWO WEEKS LATER

About two weeks later, June 30, Milton was given a four-week suspension.

It is Milton's contention that he was suspended because of his complaint. He said he had the moustache when he was hired five years ago.

★ ★ ★

The accusations were the subject of two reports submitted by City Manager Joseph A. Warren. In one report, it was alleged that Chief Marion had seen the petitions lying on a coffee table in the fire station and had signed one. The chief afterwards had been on a two-week training school in Dallas, Tex., and claims no knowledge of the bulletin board posting.

Milton asked censure of Chief Marion for allowing political activity at the fire stations.

'NOT POLITICAL CENTER'

Mayor Pro Tem T. Warren Fowler, District 1, commented the incident was a "lack of good management." District 5 Commissioner Robert F. Jackson asked the manager to forbid such activities. "That's (station) not a political action center," he said.

In was pointed out that political activities by public employes on public property is forbidden in state and city laws.

In the Warren report, Chief Marion was also accused of giving special treatment to Milton in allowing him to trade shifts.

The report said Chief Marion had allowed him to be relieved, trading duty with another fireman, to attend law classes.

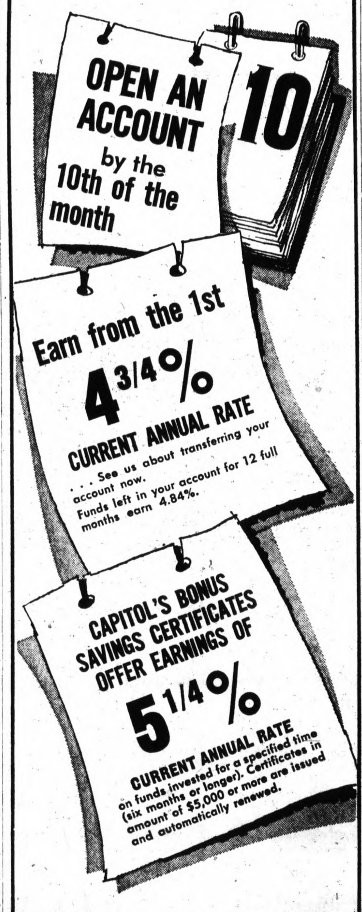

Milton contended this was established policy of the fire department and no special treatment had been given him.

District 4 Commissioner F. Jack Douglas, a former fireman, supported Milton in this.

★ ★ ★

Milton said he has filed a complaint with the Pontiac Fire Civil Service Commission and is expected to get a hearing within the next 10 days. He said he has retained an attorney and is considering other legal action.

School Bias Charges Eye Church Sharing

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration has indicated it will challenge some arrangements allowing Catholic and public school systems in several northern cities to share facilities.

The first court test may involve Waterbury, Conn., where the federal government says such an arrangement is used to deny equal educational opportunities to Negro and Puerto Rican youngsters.

★ ★ ★

Asst. Atty. Gen. Jerris Leonard, chief of the Justice Department's civil rights division, notified the Waterbury Board of Education Tuesday a lawsuit is in the works unless immediate steps are taken to correct alleged inequities.

Among them, he said, is an arrangement with the Catholic school system "that allows white students to escape the predominantly nonwhite school districts in which they reside and to attend the practically all-white parochial school system at the expense of nonwhite students and parents."

SHARED FACILITIES

Leonard did not specify in his letter to Board President Salvatore Terenzo how the agreement worked.

But other officials said the program involved public facilities, such as classrooms and gymnasiums, that are shared with Catholic schools.

★ ★ ★

In addition, they said a "totally public bus system" provides free transportation to Catholic school pupils as well as students at public schools.

Gerald W. Jones, the civil rights division's northeastern section chief, said situations under which Catholic-public school arrangements are used "prevail pretty much universally throughout the Northeast."

OTHER CITIES

And, Jones said, the department is "looking into other cities" for what may be violations of the 1964 Civil Rights Act's Title IV, the section that permits the government to file suits on behalf of school children deprived of equal protection of the laws.

Leonard charged that in Waterbury, an industrial city of 110,000, Negro and Puerto Rican children are assigned to schools in the worst condition and with fewer special services than those to which white pupils are assigned.

Nonwhite youngsters comprise only 28 per cent of Waterbury's 13,000 public school students.

Nevertheless, Leonard said, several elementary schools are predominantly nonwhite and "district lines, bus routes, and transfer policies have been drawn so as to insure that predominantly white schools remain 'white' and predominantly nonwhite schools remain 'nonwhite.'"

Jobless College Graduates Offered Teacher Training

Recruitment of candidates for a short-term teacher - training program in Pontiac is under way.

The Pontiac School District has received $68,000 in federal funds to finance the project for one year in cooperation with Oakland University.

★ ★ ★

This program has been established to provide up to 50 unemployed college graduates with training that will lead to certification as teachers. It will provide up to 20 tuition-free hours of education credit including student-teaching experience in Pontiac Schools.

The program will begin in September. During the first semester, certification candidates will work in classrooms in the mornings and will attend classes and seminars in the afternoons.

During hhe second semester, they will receive partial remuneration for supervised classroom experience. This experience and the seminars will foxus on the needs of disadvantaged youths.

This is an area of great demand for specially trained teachers. The hope is that these newly trained teachers will feel qualified for, and want to remain in, this area of teaching, according to program supervisor William Condon.

To be eligible for the program, the candidate must have a college degree or be within about 10 hours of it. He should not have been employed in the teaching field during the past six months.

Those interested in the program may contact Condon at the Pontiac School District offices, 350 E. Wide Track.

Trailer-Length Limit Hike Hit in House

LANSING (AP) — The Michigan House has thrown a stop sign in front of the state's budding trailer and mobile home industry.

In a surprise action Tuesday, the lower chamber voted 52-47 against a bill introduced by Senate Majority Leader Emil Lockwood, R-St. Louis, to add five feet to the present 60-foot maximum trailer length.

★ ★ ★

Opponents of the measure, Republicans and Democrats alike, charged the mammoth vehicles are a highway menace, particularly when drawn behind tractors that may add 20 more feet to the over-all length of the unit.

Block Club Sets Speech by Fowler

District 1 City Commissioner T. Warren Fowler will speak at a meeting sponsored by the Rapid Street Block Club at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow at St. James Missionary Church, 337 Bagley.

Interested residents from other area block clubs are invited.

Grant Received

LANSING (AP) — The State Highway Department has received a $2,350 grant from the National Highway Safety Bureau for a study of the best methods of obtaining safety information from highway accident data.

'Hoffa Wiretaps Not a Factor'

CHICAGO (AP) — The government maintained Tuesday that information it picked up from Teamster union automobile telephones in Detroit did not contribute to the conviction of Teamsters President James R. Hoffa of mail fraud.

Hoffa, appealing the 1964 conviction, contends it is invalid because he was not allowed to see wiretap transcripts used in the trial. He was sentenced to five years in prison.

★ ★ ★

Hoffa now is serving an eight-year sentence in the Lewisburg, Pa., federal prison on a conviction for jury tampering in another trial.

The government introduced an affidavit of a special employe of the FBI, Kenneth E. Bickel, who said he was told to monitor calls placed to automobile telephones by Teamsters officials from July 1961 to January 1963.

NO ANSWER'

In one conversation, the affidavit set forth Hoffa spoke with Roland McMasters, an official of Teamsters Local 299, and said: "There is no answer to your problem."

Another FBI monitoring clerk Theodore Klimaszewski, testified he overheard a conversation between Charles O'Brien, a Detroit union official, and a man identified as "the boss."

★ ★ ★

The conversation took place in December 1961 and concerned 15 jackets that were to be picked up in Cleveland, Klimaszewski said.

Defense attorney Maurice Walsh objected to the government's introduction of the wiretap logs and declared, "If this is the only production we're going to get, I doubt the value of this hearing."

★ ★ ★

Judge Richard B. Austin of U.S. District Court, who is conducting the hearing, replied:

"They say that is all they have so what are you going to do about it?"

★ ★ ★

The U.S. Supreme Court ruled earlier this year that defendants have a right to see all wiretap evidence used against them.

Junior Editors Quiz on BASEBALL

QUESTION: Did baseball originate in England or America?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: Batting a ball and running comes from cricket. In rounders, another English game, you throw a soft ball at the runner to put him out. Years ago, in America, boys played "town ball," similar to the English games.

In 1845, a group organized by Alexander J. Cartwright adopted a set of rules in which a runner was put out by touching him with the ball instead of throwing it at him. This leid to the use of hard ball and the development of our fast modern game.

At Cooperstown, N.Y., in 1839, Abner Doubleday laid out a baseball field which can still be seen today.

The Baseball Museum and Hall of Fame were established in Cooperstown 100 years later.

Brilliant players, such as those in the picture, helped make the game enormously popular.

It is certainly true that baseball's ancestors came from England. But the game we call baseball today, with all its speed, thrills and excitement, originated in America.

Current Books

MYSTERY AND MANNERS, by Flannery O'Connor. (Farrar, Straus & Giroux, $6.95).

Once Flannery O'Connor lent some of her stories to a neighbor lady in Milledgeville, Ga. The lady's reaction: "Well, them stories just gone and show you how some people would do."

★ ★ ★

In this posthumous collection of articles and lecture materials, edited by her friends Sally and Robert Fitzgerald, Miss O'Connor spoke of what she was trying to do in her fiction.

★ ★ ★

Peopled by grotesques, freaks and religious fanatics, filled with major and minute violence, her stories made some people uncomfortable.

For those made uncomfortable by her fiction, this book is of little value. For those who find comfort or joy in that work, it is a welcome gift, a tiny key to a door or two in a southern mansion of wondrous beauty.

Joe O'Sullivan (UPI)

GOT TO STOP DRAGGIN' THAT LITTLE RED WAGON AROUND. By Robert Paul Smith. Harper. $4.50.

For a guy who has two grown sons, this Smith retains a remarkable memory of, and empathy with, little kids.

One of his books was the little classic with an odd title, "Where Did You Go?" "Out." "What Did You Do?" "Nothing."

This too is a little book with an odd title. The author's point is that each of us keeps dragging around our own little red wagon, "hauling pieces of our childhood on wheels, usually creaking, behind us."

Smith has a sly way of showing you what his childhood wagon still contains, and even more slyly reminds you to look back and see what you've been hauling around.

Reporter Comments on Revenge

By DICK ROBINSON

Nothing frustrates a newspaper reporter more than to ask a person a question and get the reply, "No comment."

The reporter is seeking information for a story and can't very well write much around those two words.

But sometimes when the tables are turned, it's a reporter's delight. I know because I was in such a situation recently.

★ ★ ★

My assignment was to cover a meeting between Harold B. Euler, the fired administrator of Pontiac General Hospital, and the officers of the board of trustees which fired him.

REPEATED REFRAIN

The trustees dismissed Euler, saying only it was "in the best interests of the hospital." They repeatedly gave "no comment" answers to further questions.

When I arrived at the meeting place—city hall—I found all of the doors locked. It was Saturday and the building was closed.

★ ★ ★

I pounded on several doors of the building but no one came to let me in. I was frantic.

But somehow I did get into the building and took the elevator to the second floor where the meeting was to be held.

ONLY AN ECHO

I had a strange feeling after I got off the elevator. I saw no one. The echo of my shoes as I walked down the hall was the only sound to be heard.

This was unusual. When I'm in city hall—during office hours, of course—it's normally bustling with activity.

★ ★ ★

I did finally find the meeting after entering a number of unlocked offices. But I was not allowed to stay. So, I sat outside the meeting room until it was over.

I got some information for a story on the same elevator, this time with City Attorney Sherwin Birnkrant and Hospital Board Vice Chairman Harold Goldberg.

★ ★ ★

They asked me how I got into City Hall. Did I have a key?

I replied, "No comment."

"That's the greatest," Goldberg chuckled.

But I kept quiet—in "the best interest" of me.

Can of Worms Unearthed by Street Survey

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Officials of suburban North Kansas City ordered a city street survey and discovered that for 50 years the city has been maintaining streets it doesn't own.

N.R. Valentine, assistant city engineer, said he found about one-fourth of the city streets are privately owned.

North Kansas City's main business route, Swift Avenue, is only half city-owned.

"The procedure is for a developer to dedicate right-of-way for public improvements such as streets," explained Valentine. "The city then can accept the dedication of the improvements.

"But there apparently has been no dedication or acceptance on a lot of streets we thought were dedicated."

Focus on '30s Disillusioning

STORRS, Conn. (AP) — University of Connecticut students who have just completed a special semester of study devoted to the 1930s are convinced that time has done little to heal major social ills of that turbulent decade.

The "Semester of the Thirties" represented a novel attempt to expose students the 60s to a concentrated dose of the depression days. The Ford Foundation backed the experiment with a $30,000 grant.

★ ★ ★

Over-all, the students who took part in the program — which covered everything from radio and films of the 30s to the rise of Adolf Hitler — pronounced it a success.

But the nagging thought is left behind: Why hasn't more progress been made on the country's social problems which first attracted massive government attention more than 30 years ago?

REACTS ANGRILY

"My reaction is one of anger," says attractive, 22 year old Michelle Owaroff, a senior. "I can use the example of the 1930s to answer those critics of today's radicals who say you have to have time to accomplish needed change.

★ ★ ★

"In the 30s we had the Bonus Army; in the 60s we have the Poor People's March. How much time do you want? How much longer are we going to take it? The American people are so apathetic."

Miss Owaroff says she spends part of her free time working in an inner city ghetto.

SAME THING

"I am working in the ghetto now because I don't want this country to blow up," she says.

William Palmer, a senior, says of the Semester of the Thirites: "I got the feeling that a kid could read something about that period and say to himself: 'my God, the same thing is happening today.'

"It is a sort of shocking thing to find out that there were poor marches then, antiwar movements and students taking the Oxford pacifist oath.

★ ★ ★

"It makes you think that the United States is a perpetual virgin, losing its innocence every decade."

Blonde, 19-year-old Mary Bennett says it is a little scary to realize the similarities between the 30s and the 60s.

PARALLELS

"You are struck when you study the '30s by the number of things that have remained totally unchanged today. You can parallel the Bonus March and student protests about war abroad and with what is happening among students today. It's practically scary."

★ ★ ★

Rebecca Browning, an anthropology major, said the semester demonstrated to her that "We have made progress on many social issues, but we have forgotten and left many behind."

★ ★ ★

Despite some disilusionment with the fact that the country today still grapples with some of the same basic problems it confronted in the 30s, most students who went through the semester feel confident about the future.

★ ★ ★

"I got worried about this country," says Rebecca Browning. "But if we can't make it, who can?"

Voter-Rights Bill Extension Is Debated

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., a loser four years ago in the southern fight against a historic voting rights law, said today the act was unconstitutional and repressive and should not be extended.

The North Carolina Democrat's contention was challenged by Sen. Charles M. Mathias, R-Md., and NAACP official Clarence Mitchell, who said extension of the 1965 law is necessary to preserve voting rights gained by southern blacks.

★ ★ ★

The positions were taken in statements prepared for hearings opened today by the subcommittee on constitutional rights, headed by Ervin.

In attacking the 1965 act, Ervin also said he doesn't see any need for a substitute proposal by President Nixon, although the senator said the administration bill is less offensive than the older measure.

'WE KNOW IT WORKS'

Mitchell said it may be that the 1965 law can be improved, but he added that before making any changes, Congress should extend "the law that we know does work."

★ ★ ★

He cited the recent election of Charles Evers as mayor of Fayette, Miss., the first Negro mayor of a biracial community in the state since Reconstruction, as "perhaps the most dramatic example of the effectiveness of the 1965 Voting Rights Act."

★ ★ ★

Mitchell said his statement was presented on behalf of both the NAACP and the Leadership Conference on Civil Rights.

Mathias also called for straight-out extension of the 1965 law before Congress considers the administration measure, which would ban voter literacy tests in all 50 states instead of the seven southern states now covered.

"This is not to say that other reform and improvements should not be considered in good season," Mathias said. "But first things should be put first."

★ ★ ★

A House judiciary subcommittee, which held hearings earlier, is expected Thursday to approve extending the 1965 act for five years beyond its Aug. 6, 1970, expiration date.

★ ★ ★

But Ervin's subcommittee is regarded as closely divided, and the outcome is in doubt.

★ ★ ★

Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell, in testifying before the House subcommittee, objected to the 1965 act as regional legislation and said Congress should pass a bill applying to the nation as a whole. He is to appear before Ervin's subcommittee on Friday.

'A KIND OF TUTELAGE'

Ervin, a leader in the fight against the 1965 act, said it placed the affected states "under a kind of tutelage generally reserved for conquered provinces rather than for full and equal states of the Union."

★ ★ ★

The current law suspends voter literacy tests and authorizes the use of federal registrars in Alabama, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, South Carolina, Virginia and 39 counties in North Carolina.

★ ★ ★

In addition, the affected states are prohibited from making election law changes without the approval of the U.S. attorney general or of a federal court here.

★ ★ ★

The administration bill would wipe out this provision and substitute authority for the attorney general to seek federal court injunctions against state election laws he regards as discriminatory.

Dodge Recalls 2,911 Trucks

DETROIT (UPI) — Possible brake defects on Dodge trucks have led the auto maker to issue a recall for 2,911 new trucks, the company said yesterday.

One of the recalls involve 1,485 Dodge model D200, D300, W200 and W300 trucks for inspection and replacement, if necessary, of the brake master cylinder booster. The defect was discovered during an in-plant inspection of the same model trucks, a company spokesman said.

★ ★ ★

Another 1,426 Dodge truck 1969 model M300 and M375 motor home chassis also were being recalled for replacement of brake pedal arm. This defect was discovered by a motor home manufacturer which makes bodies.

OU Woman Scores a First

Sharon Fritz, 23, catering manager at Oakland University, has become the first woman to go to Korea in the International Farm Youth Exchange (IFYE).

She received a week of orientation at the National 4-H Center in Washington, D. C., before flying to Korea, where she will spend six months living with host families.

★ ★ ★

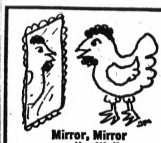

Being the first woman on the formerly all-male exchange with Korea doesn't faze her. As a foods major at Ferris State College, Miss Fritz graduated with an all-male class.

★ ★ ★

The IFYE program, conducted by the National 4-H Club Foundation, has exchanged more than 4,000 young people between 74 countries since it was started in 1948.

★ ★ ★

Miss Fritz's exchange is sponsored by the Ralston Purina Co. and friends of 4-H in Michigan. The Michigan Cooperative Extension Service helps coordinate the program.

Apollo 11 to Extend Application of U.N. Space Treaty

(EDITOR'S NOTE — Twelve years of exploration have given man a good knowledge of the scientific laws of outer space. But what about the other laws — the legal concepts of politics and military men? A United Nations space treaty sets down some legal guidelines for all of mankind.)

By MAX HARRELSON

UNITED NATIONS (AP) — The Apollo 11 moon landing attempt will be watched with special interest by a little group of diplomats who were mainly responsible for extending international law to the celestial bodies through the 1967 U.N. space treaty.

For them the event will have double significance:

● It will represent the only history of space law in which important instance in the brief the diplomats moved faster than the scientists and technologists.

● It will be the first time that some of the basic provisions of the 1967 treaty actually become applicable.

★ ★ ★

Although this treaty represents a milestone in space law, it has had only limited application so far because it was designed essentially to govern the exploration of the celestial bodies.

★ ★ ★

Its major contribution has been the prohibition of the orbiting or stationing of nuclear weapons in space, but its broad objective—as stated by former President Lyndon B. Johnson was "to see to it that serious political conflicts do not arise as a result of space activities."

NO STAKING CLAIMS

If astronauts Neil Armstrong and Edwin Aldrin successfully land on the moon's surface, for example, it will be perfectly clear under the treaty that they cannot stake claim to the moon as U.S. territory.

Legally, all the celestial bodies have been internationalized and all activities on them are under international law—including the charter of the United Nations.

★ ★ ★

Under terms of the treaty, the Apollo 11 crew and the crews of subsequent flights to celestial bodies will be obligated to carry on their explorations for the benefit of mankind and in the interest of all countries.

Other provisions of the treaty that will become applicable with the beginning of celestial exploration will impose more specific obligations.

CONTAMINATION BAN

The U.S. astronauts, for example, will be required to carry on their activities so as to avoid harmful contamination of the celestial bodies. They also must avoid bringing back to earth any extraterrestrial matter which might cause adverse changes in the earth environment.

Although these precautions presumably would have been taken without the legal obligations, the authors of the treaty were mindful of the plunder and exploitation which took place in other great ages of exploration.

In the case of the Apollo 11, elaborate arrangements have been made to avoid contamination of either the moon or the earth.

Armstrong and Aldrin will bring back moon fragments, but they will be sealed in vacuum boxes and these, along with the astronauts themselves, will be placed in quarantine at the Lunar Receiving Laboratory at the Houston Space Center. The fragments will be guarded carefully until scientific examination has been completed. Then the results will be made available to world scientists.

A LOOK AHEAD

The treaty looks ahead to the day when traffic to the moon and beyond becomes commonplace and laws will be needed to deal with rights of access, communications and other problems which might cause friction.

★ ★ ★

Some of the terms are the treaty's prohibitions against the stationing of nuclear weapons on celestial bodies, the conduct of military maneuvers, or the establishment of military bases.

★ ★ ★

One problem has been to develop space law fast enough to cope with the mounting problems of the space age. While the diplomats concentrated on governing the exploration of the celestial bodies, many areas closer to the earth were left without definition or established procedures. It is agreed by international lawyers that space law has many serious gaps and these seem to be increasing as space technology leaps ahead.

The regulation of space traffic is becoming increasingly urgent, as orbiting satellites mount in number and elaborate space platforms are about to join them. Added to this is the problem of controlling so-called space garbage.

COMMUNICATIONS, LAWS

Another problem is the lack of comprehensive regulations in the field of space communications. Experts see the possibility of jamming, pirating of broadcast materials and other injurious uses of space unless international agreements provide for licensing and regulation.

Actually, the use of space so far has resulted in few disputes. These were mainly over some early experiments, such as the U.S. Westford project in 1961. This involved the release of 75 pounds of tiny copper needles that were supposed to disperse into a narrow band in space for possible use in long-range radio communications. The disagreements were quickly settled.

★ ★ ★

More important for the future are broad questions of military espionage, possible conversion of space platforms into military vehicles and the definition of outer space.

The question of espionage is complicated by the fact that there is no definition as to where outer space begins, and by constantly improved methods of earth surveillance.

DEFINITION

The definition of outer space is one of the priority issues now being studied by the legal subcommittee of the U.N. Committee on the Peaceful Uses of Outer Space.

There is no ban on the use of space vehicles for military purposes. The United States and the Soviet Union are carrying on comprehensive reconnaissance from space and probably will continue to do so.

★ ★ ★

One of the most important segments of space law is contained in the U.N. Charter, which was adopted in 1945. It was agreed subsequently, however, that its provisions would apply to space.

This is especially important because the right of self-defense is spelled out under Article 51 of the charter. It is this article which would permit use of the most sophisticated space vehicles, space platforms and weapons of mass destruction in the event of an attack from space. That is why both the United States and the Soviet Union continue to develop military space programs even though all countries are pledged to use space for peaceful purposes only.

While space law is admittedly inadequate in many respects, the area of agreement on space principles is much larger than that covered by treaty. Much of the progress has been made in "soft" law—accepted practice or nonbinding U.N. resolutions.

Despite the urgency of the legal problems, the consensus among legal authorities favors a step-by-step approach rather than an attempt at a comprehensive codification of space law. At present, the outlook is for steady but slow progress and for a widening gap between scientific and legal advance.

Sled-Dog Food Cry Feeds Furor

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP) — Are Alaska's hardy huskies hungry?

Hardly, says Gov. Keith H. Miller's office and an official of the U.S. Interior Department's Bureau of Indian Affairs. Yes, says Owen Hunt, 72-year-old president of the Philadelphia-based American Anti-Vivisection Society.

The society, which has been shipping dry dog food to Alaska for the sled dogs since 1962, sent 55 tons this year by boat, rail or plane from Seattle and Portland, Ore., at a total cost of $20,485.60.

But the Alaska officials insist on two things: The advent of the snowmobile has greatly reduced the number of huskies in Alaska, and those remaining are not starting.

And Gordon G. Cavnar, area social worker from the Bureau of Indian Affairs in Juneau, wrote Hunt in March asking him to "tone down your appeals . . . to reduce the chance of misinformation and misunderstanding."

One of the society's newspaper ads appealing for funds from its 35,000 members and the public reads: "An emergency call for help! The huskies of interior Alaska are facing starvation."

★ ★ ★

But the Anchorage Chamber of Commerce asked the society to "cease and desist" from the advertisements. And the chamber wrote the National Better Business Bureau that the ads were "flatly untrue."

Joyce Galleher, wife of the owner of Munz Northern Airlines, says the dog food the airline ferries to bush villages attracts numbers of rats and ground quirrels.

★ ★ ★

Hunt is unswayed by the protests.

He says he has hand-written letters from tribal heads of several Alaskan villages requesting food for the dogs and thanking him for the gifts.

College Officials Get the Message

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — The suggestion box in one department at Vanderbilt University has been removed. Officials said it was used only twice in a little over a year.

★ ★

One message, dated June 15, 1968, suggested improvements in the department mail room. The second dated June 15, 1969, was from the same person — who suggested the suggestion box be checked more frequently.

At Sex Education Meeting

Noisy Parents Make Themselves Heard

LANSING (AP) — The touchy subject of sex education in the public schools provoked angry outbursts that threatened to break up a State Board of Education meeting lasting into the morning hours today.

An estimated 600 spectators attended the Lansing meeting, scheduled as a briefing to the board on a report of its advisory committee on sex education.

The crowd wanted to be heard and tried to turn the session into a public hearing.

They heckled speakers trying to read the more than 70-page report and waved signs such as "Sex Education With No Moral Guide. We Say No." and "Protect Our Children. No Sex Ed."

★ ★ ★

Dr. Ira Polley, state superintendent of public instruction, had to pound his gavel for order more than a dozen times.

"If the outbursts continue, the public business can not be conducted," Polley warned. "If you can't contain yourselves, we'll cancel the meeting."

NOT INTIMIDATED

"We are the public — sit down," shouted back a heckler.

As the meeting dragged past midnight, the board voted to receive the report but not act upon it until after a series of public hearings.

Some of the objectors were against any teaching at all of sex education in the public schools. Others objected there should be more parental control and participation in any such program.

Still others protested the state still has a law forbidding teaching of birth control methods. They said family planning sections of the proposed guidelines for sex education teaching would violate this law.

PARENTS' JOB

Leaders of a group called United Committees of Michigan said they represented some 18 parent and community organizations opposed to sex education made demands "to put the subject back in the hands of the parents."

The crowd repeatedly groaned, catcalled, shouted, "boo," and cried "no," as sections of the report were read. The noisy and often unruly group ranged from young adults to the middle aged to the elderly.

★ ★ ★

They cheered a minority report by Mrs. Susanne Talt, a housewife from Swartz Creek, a member of the advisory committee.

Receiving the loudest applause were her recommendations that:

- Sex education be entirely voluntary and be offered at a time that parents can attend with their youngsters.
- Boys should attend with their fathers; girls with their mothers.
- Sex education should begin no sooner than junior high school.
- Sex education should not include instruction or discussion of sexual techniques.

★ ★ ★

Board member James O'Neil of Livonia accused Polley of allowing the release of pornography—such as pictures of a nude man and woman — as instructional material in schools. He said this material also showed animals having sexual intercourse.

"It was either misjudgment, incompetency or duplicity," O'Neil said. "I think he would serve the people of Michigan better if he would consider resigning from the State Board of Education."

★ ★ ★

O'Neil, a Republican and Polley, a Democrat, have long been feuding.

Polley said afterwards he had no intention of resigning. He said the material was released by the staff and the committee.

★ ★ ★

Board member Thomas Brennan noted the report said sex education should be integrated into the entire school curriculum. If this is done, he asked how a pupil could be excused without missing a number of classes.

But Brennan defended members of the committee and the staff.

"To assume that this is some effort to corrupt our children is not true," he declared.

The board, by a 5-3 vote, agreed also to receive the minority report from Mrs. Talt and a somewhat similar nine-point set of recommendations from O'Neil.

"Parents can not do this job alone, they need our help," said Mrs. Eleonard Skufis of Adrian, a medical doctor and mother, head of the guideline writing subcommittee in reading one section of the report.

"Let us bring up our own children," responded a shout from the audience.

The report said that "No school is mandated to provide sex education at any level."

It stressed that local school districts would have complete control. Also emphasized was the right of any parent to have his child excused from sex education classes.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Leon Washkin, chief of staff and liaison officer for the planning committee, said teachers would not violate the law by giving instructions on birth control.

Several critics of the report said this already was being done in some public schools.

Assure Daughter of Love Then Explain Situation

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: This is a rather delicate subject. I imagine there are many other married couples who have the same problem, so I hope you'll answer soon.

We live in a small house and the bedrooms are next to each other. We have an eight year old daughter who has started to wake up in the middle of the night and come into our bedroom unexpectedly. She says she feels fine, and there is nothing wrong, but she wakes up and comes into our room to say "hello."

We have told her that she must stay in her bed, but that hasn't done much good.

We want our privacy, Abby, and can't be listening half the night to know whether she is asleep or not, and we don't know how to handle this. If we suddenly put a lock on our bedroom door, she might feel "shut out" or rejected, and this is the last thing we want to do. Can you help us? NO PRIVACY

DEAR NO: Put a lock on your door, and explain that it is to prevent her (or anyone else) from walking in and startling you. (It's true.) Assure her that you "love" her, and if she "needs" you for anything, she may knock and you will respond.

DEAR ABBY: This is for "Too Much Ironing," who complained about having to iron her husband's undershorts:

Dear Madam: You really have high-class problems. I wonder if you know how lucky you are? I would gladly iron seven, 10 or 20 pair of shorts every week if my husband would leave my panties alone.

When I first found out that my husband was snitching my panties to wear under his shorts I was bewildered and sick. How long he had been doing this I didn't know, but I'm sure it must have been most of the 11 years we had been married because when I look back, a lot of things make sense now that didn't some time ago.

My first reaction was to pack my bags and leave him, but there were three good reasons why I stayed. They are three adorable children who deserve a father and mother, and as long as God gives me strength I'll keep my home together, until our children are on their own.

I am not a martyr nor do I enjoy being married to one I consider less than a man. Love and respect for him have flown out the window, and my marriage has become a "job" and nothing more.

So, to "Too Much Ironing," I say, "Keep that iron hot, lady, and don't complain." "OLD AT 35"

DEAR OLD: Since this problem is so close to you, I am amazed that you have not made an honest effort to learn more about it instead of flatly condemning that which you do not understand.

A man who secretly wears feminine attire is a "transvestite." And though it may seem unbelievable to you, a transvestite is NOT necessarily a homosexual. So when you describe your husband as something "less than a man" you may be doing him a disservice.

Marriage Request Ousts City Council

WARREN (UPI) — Joseph Spencer, 26, and Diane Silverest, 21, presented the Warren City Council with an unusual request during the regular city council meeting Tuesday night.

They said they wanted to be married.

Council members recessed the meeting and allowed District Judge Robert Chrzanowski to use the chambers for ceremonies to unite Spencer, of Roseville, and Miss Silverest, of Sterling Heights.

Observers said turning the chamber over for the wedding was the only thing the council agreed on all night.

From Beethoven With Love Is Expressed at This Performance

By BERNICE ROSENTHAL

Sonata for Violin and Piano ..Prokofieff
Rondo ..... Schubert
Kreutzer Sonata ..... Beethoven

Itzhak Perlman, violinist, and Vladimir Ashkenazy, pianist, presented a duo concert last evening in the Meadow Brook Theatre. Both artists are teaching master classes at the Meadow Brook Summer School of Music. The program was an example, not only for the many students who filled the auditorium and overflowed on to the crowded stage, but for the visiting artists and chamber music lovers alike, who thronged to hear them.

Beethoven's Kreutzer Sonata was the highlight of the evening. In this most difficult medium of musical endeavor, the two artists were at the highpoint of their skill and creativity.

They played it lovingly, with great understanding and sensitivity, and were relaxed enough to bring out the variety of shading and development that this great work of musical art demands. They projected perfect accord, a rare quality in chamber works, particularly in the second movement.

In this movement, and in the third, with its quick, witty rondo built around a simple, dance-like theme, they showed their thorough, carefully grounding, and superior knowledge of this perfect gem of chamber literature.

Schubert's Rondo for Violin and Piano, while not as great or as profound a work, was given a careful, thoughtful reading. At times, Ashkenazy's great strength and vibrance was a little too heavy for Perlman's more delicate tone, and he seemed to be pushing the tempo a little faster than necessary. As a result, many of the subtle nuances were glossed over as a sacrifice to nervous haste.

★ ★ ★

The Prokofieff Sonata, a fascinating modern work, was not as well known to the audience, and probably not to the artists either. Here, the ensemble playing was not as uniform or as well balanced as in the other two works.

But the Kreutzer Sonata more than made up for any tonal deficiencies earlier in the program, and the evening, in toto, was a beautiful example of chamber music art.

Losing Odds on Happy Marriages Is Conviction of One Researcher

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sex is No. 2 in a man's priorities for selecting a mate but No. 6 on the woman's list and that's the reason 75 per cent of American marriages are a bust, according to an eminent psychologist.

"When a man gazes into a woman's eyes with what they think is love and devotion they are not seeing the same thing," Dr. Clifford Rose Adams, professor emeritus of Penn State University, added in a report based on 30 years of research.

★ ★ ★

"Odds on any marriage being a success are shorter than those of hitting the jackpot on a pinball machine in Las Vegas."

Adams, 66, a consultant for Encyclopedia Britannica and numerous scientific publications, presented his latest findings to the Identity Research Institute here after studying 6,000 couples.

"Since the sex revolution following World War II sexual satisfaction has been much more important to the male than to the female," the professor said.

COMPANIONSHIP

"Companionship is the first subconscious factor influencing the male in mate selection. Next, in order, come sex, love-affection-sentiment in a single category, home and family, a helpmate (one giving encouragement) and, lastly, security.

"For the woman the first things she seeks are love, affection and sentiment. She has to feel loved and wanted. The second is security, then companionship, home and family, community acceptance and, sixth, sex.

"So you see man and woman do not see eye-to-eye. How can marriages, under these circumstances, last?"

Adams said government statistics showing that 28 per cent of all marriages end in divorce are misleading.

★ ★ ★

"If you take in annulments and desertions, which are not included, the figure would be nearer 40 per cent. Add to this what we call the morbidity marriage where a man and woman may continue living with each other just for appearances or convenience while actually hating each other and you find that only about 25 per cent of marriages are really happy.

"The other 75 per cent are a bust."

The doctor, whose research included interviews with college undergraduates as far back as 1939, said the biggest divorce year is the third year after marriage. Half of all divorces are obtained within seven years.

He said too many marriages are founded on sexual compatibility — or "body heat," as he put it — and this is disastrous.

"A good date does not necessarily make a good mate," the professor added. "Those who marry because of a sexual attachment don't see the rest of the pie. These marriages usually end in divorce."

★ ★ ★

Adams said the sex revolution erupted after World War II because millions of servicemen, who previously might have been inhibited and restrained, coming in many cases from small towns with strict codes, experienced women for the first time.

"They came home without any inhibitions and some of them found girls who thought sex was a dirty thing. Wives were inclined to be cold. Some wives had to experiment with another man to find proper adjustment."

DR. CLIFFORD R. ADAMS

SEW SIMPLE
By Eunice Farmer

Dear Mrs. Farmer,

When I make my daughter's clothes, I measure the hem so carefully and when the dress is finished, the hem is exactly the same width all around. My problem is that when she puts the dress on it seems to be much shorter in the back. Should I cut the back slightly longer when I cut the dress out?

Mrs. J. K. E.

Dear Mrs. J. K. E.:

The only accurate method of making a hem even when the garment is worn is to actually mark the hem while it is on with one of the convenient hem markers. If you have someone to mark your hem for you, the markers that have an attachment that permits pinning the correct length are the greatest.

However if you must take your own skirt length, you will have to use the kind that sprays white chalk at the correct spot. By using a hem marker, your hem will always be the same distance from the floor. You can always change the width of the hem itself if it isn't exactly even.

TAILOR TRIX WINNER

Mrs. G. H. Creecy Jr., Portsmouth, Va. is this week's Tailor Trix pressing board winner for her following sewing suggestion.

"New idea to add to the avalanche of uses for nylon net! Wanting to finish a dress and finding myself out of either woven or non-woven interfacing, I came across some nylon net and decided to give it a try.

I used a single layer in my collar and found it does a beautiful job, perhaps better than the woven kind. It launders better and doesn't lose its stiffness and is much less expensive. I have used a double layer where I needed more body and it, too, works beautifully."

Dear Eunice Farmer,

Since the return of fur muffs in the fashion picture, I would love to make one for my daughter out of the fabulous fake furs but simply can't find a pattern for one. Have you any suggestions as to where I might locate one?

Mrs. R. S. G.

* * *

Dear Mrs. R. S. G.:

Sorry, but I don't have a pattern available for fur muffs either, but your question is certainly opportune. If any of our readers know how to make a fur muff or know where a pattern can be purchased, please write to me, Eunice Farmer in care of The Pontiac Press, Dept. E-600, P.O. Box 9, Pontiac, Mich. 48056, so that I may pass this information on to other readers. At this time, may I thank all of you who have written me in the past about any special information I asked for through the column. I read and love to receive your letters so please keep them coming.

Why Grow Old?
By Josephine Lowman

Nicholas Kounovsky is partly responsible for the grace and beauty of some of the world's most glamorous women. For many years he has been teaching them exercises.

* * *

Mr. Kounovsky is Russian born and French educated. He holds many degrees in physical education, and also one in airplane engineering. His "no stress, no strain" system is based on 25 years of anatomical, physiological and mechanical studies in consultation with scientists. He says "any exercise is better than none.

Setting-up exercises at home are all right though they may not cover all phases. Exercise every day, or at least every other day, even if only for 10 concentrated minutes. But remember that moderation is the password to health.

DON'T STRAIN

"Don't be discouraged if you can only do an exercise once or twice without puffing. Don't strain yourself and slowly you'll find you can do more every day, with more ease too."

Aren't those encouraging, relaxing words for the woman who wishes to begin exercising? They are also very true. It is always amazing to see how wonderfully and how quickly the body responds to exercise. You should not push it but take it easily and gradually. Soon you will notice that you have more pep and more endurance as well as better coordination.

The following are a few of the exercises Mr. Kounovsky's pupils do.

- Lie on your back, hands under head, feat resting on a solidly anchored chair seat. Pressing down with feet, raise hips and extend thighs, keeping shoulders and back on the floor. Lower hips slowly. Continue.
- Kneel on both knees, arms held straight out in front of you. Twisting slightly, lower hips to the left, then raise them. Repeat, lowering hips to the right. Raise hips and continue. Do not swing the arms from side to side.
- Lie on back, arms extended sideways. Raise both legs straight up with stiff knees. Lower legs to left, twisting waistline and trying to keep the shoulders against the floor. Raise legs and repreat to the right. Raise legs. Continue, alternating.
- Lie on your back, arms at sides. Bend the knees and try to touch them to your nose. Slowly return legs to the floor. Continue.
- Lie on back, arms at sides. Raise hips and bring legs back over your head as far as possible. Try to touch the floor with your toes in back of your head. Very slowly return legs and hips to the floor.

It's normal for a bride to spend weeks preparing for her wedding and for the father to pay for it. But Karen E. Koker's father, Fred Koker of Jackson, decided to eliminate one of the expenses by baking and decorating the wedding cake himself. He didn't save any money as he took a week off from work to produce this 32-inch high cake. It has a champagne fountain in the middle The wedding was Saturday.

Medics Seek Law Revision

LONDON (UPI) — Parliament is facing demands from British doctors to curb Britain's recently liberalized abortion laws and to prevent foreign women from seeking expensive abortions at private clinics.

At Aberdeen, Scotland, the British Medical Association and other medical groups voted almost unanimously for revisions in the 1968 law, which allows abortions by government or private doctors on the grounds that a mother's physical or mental health would be impaired by having a baby.

In the first year of the law, nearly 40,000 abortions were conducted compared to 6,000 annual average before.

This Is a Republic

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE J-588: Nancy G., aged 19, attends the University of Wisconsin.

"Dr. Crane," she began, "Is it not possible to use the term 'art' as an excuse for obscenity and cheap publicity?

"For example, here at Madison several nude coeds participated in a student play.

★ ★ ★

"The house was packed and the producer argued that such a big turnout proved the interest of youth in art.

"But the District Attorney ruled the play obscene.

"The producer stated that no one has the right to censor a work of art except the audience.

"Dr. Crane, do you agree with this rule?"

DR. CRANE

In a democracy, that rule of the majority prevails.

But a democracy can easily be stampeded into error.

Pontius Pilate thus changed his courtroom into a democracy where men, women and children apparently could vote.

★ ★ ★

And they voted 100 per cent wrongly, so they freed a proved murderer named Barabbas and sent the innocent Jesus to a cruel death on a cross.

Our country is thus a Republic! Every school child acknowledges that fact in the "Salute to the Flag."

★ ★ ★

And it was not mere chance that caused our Founding Fathers to give us our Republic.

Chief Justice John Marshall thus said the difference between our Republic and a democracy is the difference between order vs. chaos!

So college youth must begin to realize that a majority vote does not necessarily prove truth or justice or even scientific facts.

A propagandized mob could thus vote that two times two make 5, but even their unanimous vote would be as wrong as was Pontius Pilate's courtroom.

Newlyweds Settling Into First Homes

Lutheran Church of the Ascension was the setting for Thursday vows exchanged by Patricia Karyn Kems and David J. Ruelle Jr.

Parents of the newlyweds later feted at a home reception, are Dr. and Mrs. Harry Kems of Motorway Drive and the senior David Ruelles of Alhi Street.

★ ★ ★

The newlyweds, who were attended by Judith Kems and Richard Ketts, are alumni of Central Michigan University.

GROULX-WIGHTMAN

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Wightman of Kenilworth Street announce the recent marriage of their daughter, Barbara Lee, to Benjamin Roy Groulx, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Groulx of Kalamazoo. The newlyweds are making their home in Kalamazoo.

HUDSON-BROOKS

Janet Ann Brooks and Benjamin Earl Hudson were united in marriage in a recent ceremony in the West Dennis Community Church in Dennis, Mass.

Parents of the couple who were feted at a reception in the Bayside Inn, are the R. C. Brookses of Troy and Mrs. Chester Baker of West Dennis.

After a honeymoon in Nantucket, the newlyweds will be residing in Dennis Port, Mass.

Business Group to Hear Teacher

Mrs. Roy Lambert, teacher of remedial reading at Waterford Learning Center, will be the guest speaker at tonight's meeting of the Waterford Charter Chapter, American Business Women's meeting.

Mrs. Glenn Nelsey of Carlos Drive will host the group. Also slated to talk is Mrs. Kenneth Sabell who will speak on her experiences as vocational speaker at the Riverside School.

Mrs. Frank Syron will announce activities scheduled for the national convention slated for October in Detroit.

Sale Is Benefit

A "Poor Man's Art Sale" will take place Saturday and Sunday at the Beverly Hills home of the Louis G. Herschelmans. Hours are 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday and 1 to 5 p.m. Sunday. Proceeds will go to the Birmingham Humane Society.

Flower Power Applied to Tub

Flower power comes to the bathtub and adds protection as well as decoration. Adhesive-backed rubber flower appliques when applied to the bottom of the tub help to assure firm footing and add gay color.

THE MUSTARD FAMILY

The mustard family is one that is enormous and consists of a large number of weedy plants. Some of these plants are watery but most of the juice contained in them is poisonous.

Some plants which are grown in the garden and are members of this family are the cabbage, stocks, sweet alyssums, and many other plants similar to these. The Latin name for this family is cruciferae, which comes from the word crux. A crux is a cross and the four opposing petals on the flowers resemble a cross. These are generally small flowers.

Arab City Seethes at Occupation

(EDITOR'S NOTE — Nablus, with a population of 80,000 persons, is the largest city in the occupied West Bank of Jordan. Joseph was buried there and Jacob drank at a well. Its people have fought the Romans and the French and they are still fighting. Now it is their Israeli occupiers.)

By RODNEY PINDER
Associated Press Writer

NABLUS, Occupied Jordan (AP) Israeli Defense Minister Moshe Dayan, after a particularly lengthy and bitter episode of anti-Israeli activity in Nablus, visited the somber city and frankly told its leaders they could follow two paths.

One led to a normal life, the expulsion of "terrorists"—the Arabs call them "freedom fighters"—from city limits and an end to disturbances.

★ ★ ★

The other: war with the occupiers—a process which, Dayan stated, "will finally bring the deterioration of the town to chaos and destruction."

NO DEVIATION

Shortly after he left, stores and school s closed in protest.

Nablus, since the Israeli armies first marched through its streets in June 1967 on the heels of the retreating Arabs, has followed the latter course and gives no sign of deviating.

The resistance rarely takes a more violent turn than rioting by schoolchildren and the sullen shuttering of stores in sometimes week-long general strikes by businessmen.

★ ★ ★

Last February, a grenade wounded eight Arabs, and a branch of Israel's national bank, the Bank Leumi, was shattered by an explosion.

Nablus 30 years ago was the leader of the Palestinian revolt against the Jews and the British Mandatory authorities.

RIDING THE CREST

Now the name has become synonymous with discontent and rebellion against the Israeli occupation. Whenever a wave of discontent lashes the West Bank, Nablus is riding the crest.

The city gives a picture of occupied Jordan in microcosm.

Nablus lies white and exposed to the sun in a lap of the Samarian mountains. From their tops there is a clear view of the Israeli resort beach at Netanya on the Meterranean seaboard 25 miles away.

It is a market town and focal point for a large agricultural hinterland, farmed by largely inefficient and ancient methods. Produce is loaded on convoys of gaudy trucks and shipped over the Damiya Bridge across the River Jordan to the Hashemite Kingdom.

BETTER KNOWN

For 20 stable years since the British withdrew from Palestine, Nablus has been better known for a less tangible export —brains. It boasts 80 per cent literacy and more university graduates than any other town of its size in the Arab world. Nabulsis turn up as teachers in Kuwait, in lawyers' offices in Cairo and banking houses in Beirut.

There are 47 doctors in the town, against 11 in Hebron, a comparable city. There are 10 pharmacies—two in Hebron. There are 2,000 telephones—a sign of the Establishment—and only 400 in Hebron.

★ ★ ★

Nabulsis owned land in Jaffa in the Beisan Valley before they came under Jewish tutelage in 1948.

The city was the scene of the most ferocious fighting between Palestinians and British and succored intense political activity, mostly underground.

OUTWARD CALM

Outwardly the town is calm and somnolent. Wizened and bent traders hawk cheap trinkets from stalls in the town square, marked by a modern clock which sometimes works and sometimes doesn't. Along the wide main street, storekeepers sit in doorways drinking strong coffee and watching the world go by. There is little business.

Inside the teeming Casbah, the pulse of the city, narrow alleyways reek of sizzling shishkebab on the spit and flies alight, buzzing happily, on a caracass slung afront a butcher's shop.

In his comfortable apartment not far from the town clock, Dr. Walid Kamhawi, a noted Arab author and political theorist, talks about rebellion:

"One who is educated feels more his dignity and resists more the occupation," he said.

BIG DIFFERENCE

"But I think the most important difference is that one with an education knows how to resist whereas one without education resists without knowning how. There are many ways, starting with the Gandhi method of passive resistance and going up the scale.

"The Nablus method of resistance—the demonstrations and the strikes—should be much stronger, but also much, much more intelligent. How?

"If your enemy wants to displace you—and the Israelis aim not to govern, not to rule, not to exploit, but to displace—the first and most primitive way of resisting it is just to stay where you are. So far it has been successful. It could be changed by brute force, but this will have its own consequences inside and outside."

In quiet tones, at times hard to hear over the cacaphony of traffic beneath his balcony, he says: "There has to be an end to the present situation. It's against the logic of history. There will be three developments: war and continuous war, peace and continuous peace or no war and no peace and continuously so.

BEGIN CHANTS

"What can the Arabs do?" he repeats the question, appearing surprised, and smiles: "We did move a lot. Now we don't hear any Arab saying the Jews have to be thrown into the sea. What happened was they threw us into the desert."

As he spoke, a group of wiry schoolchildren gathered in the Casbah and began to clap. They chanted for Palestine; for Egyptian President Nasser; for Yasser Arafat, the Palestinian guerrilla leader; and for Al Fatah, his commando organization. Their shrill voices screamed hatred for the Jews.

★ ★ ★

More children ran up and were shephereded into the raucous choir by a handful of men flanked by impassive youths. Shoppers disappeared and steel shutters clanged shut as the noisesome procession—now about 300-strong—wound its way through the littered alleyways and tried to burst into the city proper.

There they met a wall of border troopers. A hail of stones came from the children and the troops—wearing steel helmets —moved in, laying about with nightsticks. The children scampered back to the Casbah and the troops left them alone.

NOT PERMITTED

"What we won't permit—and this is our responsibility as the government in that area—are any demonstrations or anything else which disturbs public order, which blocks a certain street, where you say 'here you can't go through.'" said Brig. Gen. Shlomo Gazit, coordinator of occupied territories affairs, in his roomy office at the Defense Ministry in Tel Aviv.

"One of the main reasons for the troubles we have there is the concentration of high schools and higher education—some 121 schools in the area. This is the root of fermentation and everything else.

★ ★ ★

"What will be the kind of disaster Gen. Dayan referred to is rather difficult to say. It will be the combination of chaos in the streets, nobody controlling what goes on, no schools going on, very heavy economic difficulties, all kinds of measures employed by us to impose order by which again they will suffer.

"Gen Dayan (in his talks with city notables) was much more insistent on the other part: 'Gentlemen, if you really want, we are prepared to get out of here. You won't see one Israeli soldier. Just be quiet and that's that.'

NO LOSS OF FACE

"There is no loss of face. The people of Nablus don't have to lose any face as long as Nasser sits on the other side of the canal and can't put up anything and as long as Hussein sits in Amman and doesn't do anything. What can they do? They are a civilian population.

"I believe—I hope," Gazit added, "that there will be some movement, that they will make their own decision that this can't go on . . ."

Nablus has suffered from Israeli reprisals and counter-insurrection methods. Invoking a British mandatory law, Israeli troops descend on the home of an Arab suspect who has confessed to some active anti-occupation role, clear out his family and belongings and blow the house up. Thirty-seven have been destroyed in the city.

Three-hundred Nabulsis are under detention. Nablus prison, a squat former British stronghold, has accommodation for 450 and is always full.

NOT OPTIMISTIC

Hamdi Canaan, mayor of Nablus until he resigned over a political squabble in March, says: "I have no good hopes for the future. I am not optimistic."

Later, during an interview in Beirut, he predicted the Arab "resistance movement" will soon develop into a full-scale revolution.

★ ★ ★

Former Jordanian Foreign Minister Kadri Toukan, a scientist as well as a politician, looked through the other end of the telescope and said: "I am optimistic. I believe that a peaceful settlement based on justice will come into action very soon.

"I don't believe it is natural that the occupation will continue. I also think the great powers will not stand still and will have to exert pressure on Israel and the Arab states to come to a peaceful settlement."

A high-ranking Israeli officer, who did not wish his identity disclosed, declared: "I think things are going to get much worse.

"If it was just us and the occupation and the people in the areas it would definitely get better and better. But it is not something going on in a vacuum.

★ ★ ★

"We are not going to evacuate —at least not because of things going on inside the areas. If things get worse the local population will have very much to suffer. If this really happens they'll either come back to their senses or it might be very, very dangerous to them.

"I hope for them that they will take control of what's going on."

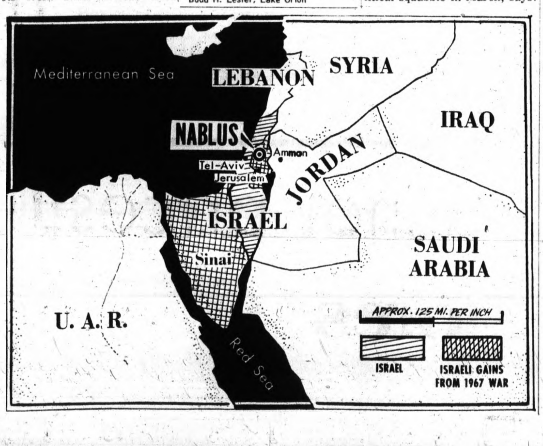

AP Photo

ISRAELI ROADBLOCK—On the outskirts of Nablus on the West Bank of Jordan, the Israeli occupation forces maintain an armed roadblock to check Arab vehicles. This town, 18 miles west of the Jordan River, is a hotbed of "terrorists" by Israeli standards, or "freedom fighters" as the Arabs call them. Since it fell to the Israeli armies in June 1967, the Nabulsis have followed the course of resistance and show no sign of ending disturbances.

Candid Siberians Bend Newsman's Ear

By JOHN T. WHEELER
AP Newsfeatures Writer

TRAVELING THROUGH SIBERIA — "But of course my students and I listen to your Voice of America. It is very necessary for us to have other points of view so we can judge for ourselves what the government in Moscow says about the world."

Antonina, a Russian high school instructor first class, paused, ran her fingers through her jet black hair and added:

"We know the Kremlin does not always tell the whole truth."

★ ★ ★

The trim, 25-year-old teacher's candor was not rare among Russians who repeatedly sought out one American reporter during his three weeks of traveling through the Soviet Union aboard the Trans-Siberian Express.

The reporter had been told before the start of the trip that Siberians like Antonina were far more independent on politics than other Soviet citizens, and that this grew from the fact that Siberia had become the intellectual center of the nation because so many dissenters had been exiled there in the past.

CLASSROOM DISCUSSIONS?

If Antonina was not afraid to discuss such things with an American, then she and her students must hold some rare classroom sessions, the reporter suggested.

For the only time in an hour-long discussion. Antonina refused to meet her luncheon companion's eyes.

"I would like to tell you that is true. But I cannot. Such things are not yet possible for us. Perhaps some day this will change. But for now it is too dangerous. One of the students might report us. So now each of us must keep his thoughts to himself or discuss them only with people who are safe. Is it not odd that I can talk about things with you that I cannot tell my students openly?"

"The trouble you Americans have in your schools now would be impossible here," another schoolteacher said. "Our students would simply be forced to become manual laborers or to go to the army. But don't misunderstand. Youth all over the world has its own ideas now and no one, even the government, can prevent this.

The possibility of dissent and independent thinking is not universally accepted or even considered in the Soviet Union.

A guide taking American tourists through the Kremlin was asked how the Soviet government resolved differences within the power elite.

"There is no dissent here," she said a bit shortly through a professional smile.

★ ★ ★

Vietnam was a conversational favorite with Russians. Czechoslovakia was something they tried to avoid.

On Vietnam, many Russians appeared to want to register their displeasure and moralize a bit about the American involvement. But seldom were the comments angry or directed in such a way as to embarrass their American listeners. Most of the phrases tended to repeat themselves and appeared to come from the typewriter of a phrasemaker in a Moscow propaganda bureau.

Victor, a Red army artillery colonel, said the United States had made one "fatal mistake" in Vietnam. "You believed you could shoot ideas in the head with a gun. It is fortunate for the Vietcong that Washington has never learned this. You still use tanks when you should be using counterideology."

On the Czech issue, even Antonia, who listened to Western news broadcasts, followed the Moscow line without much deviation. Nicolai used words and phrases repeated continually by others:

"There was much trouble in Czechoslovakia, and we were asked by the president of the country to come and help restore order and to prevent the plots of international gangsterism in West Germany from overthrowing the socialist government in Prague."

Melting-Pot Malaysia Is Bubbling With Fear, Hate

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP) — Malaysia is a live volcano. It has blown up once in racial fury, and its people live in constant fear of another eruption.

Fear and hate are evident among Chinese and Malays, young and old, in the streets of this palm-fringed capital city. Chinese taxi drivers won't pick up Malay fares; Malay shoppers avoid Chinese-owned shops; racially mixed groups are almost never seen.

★ ★ ★

A young Chinese woman, a newspaper reporter, relates that she stopped at a Malay stall recently and ordered some satay, a snack of barbecued meat tidbits.

★ ★ ★

"Suddenly a well-dressed Chinese man approached me and said: 'Pardon me, miss, but have you forgotten May 13th already?' I paid my money and left without eating the satay," she said.

1-WEEK BLOODBATH

On May 13 bands of Malays and Chinese clashed in the streets in and around Kuala Lumpur, starting a weeklong bloodbath.

When the outburst ended, reliable sources report, some 1,200 persons were dead. Other sources have indicated that about 90 per cent of those killed were Chinese. The government says 186 persons were killed.

★ ★ ★

Isolated outbursts have continued since, the most serious a week ago when, says the police report, five persons were killed in a predominantly Indian district of the capital.

Even the slightest provocation, real or imagined, is enough to send people fleeing from the streets in terror. This is a measure of the dread and uncertainty generated by May 13 and an indication of the lack of confidence the government faces.

EMERGENCY GOVERNMENT

The government established under a state of emergency the day after the May outbreak is in the hands of Deputy Prime Minister Tun Abdul Razak. His working title is director of operations.

Razak and a nine-man board called the National Operations Council hold the country in a tight grip and are determined not to let go until they are satisfied life will resume according to their wishes. Some observers guess this may take six months to five years.

★ ★ ★

Razak says he is charged with four major points. He said two — the restoration of law and order and the smooth operation of the government — had "almost" been accomplished.

But the other two, "rebuilding trust and confidence and assuring that this trouble does not happen again, I cannot say how long this will take."

HARD TO GIVE UP

Many Chinese here and some diplomatic observers fear that the longer Razak and the council hold onto their power, the harder it will be for them to give it up.

★ ★ ★

At the same time, extremist elements within Razak's United Malay National Organization, the prime force of the former ruling Alliance party, are known to be pressing for Malay domination of the government. Under the council that dominance is currently a fact. One question is how Razak would be able to make the leap from emergency rule back to parliamentary democracy and still satisfy the Malay majority.

★ ★ ★

"Before we return to parliamentary democracy," Razak said, some sort of ground rules may be necessary."

These rules, he made clear, would govern the freedom of opposition political parties. Razak insist they set the atmosphere for the May 13 rioting.

'IT WON'T WORK'

The minister of home affairs, Dr. Ismail bin Abdul Rahman, who seems to be capable of commanding both Malay respect and Chinese confidence, has said Western-style democracy won't work in Malaysia.

Under the National Operations Council emphasis is being placed on trying to locate new industries in rural — and predominantly Malay — areas.

The council is also beefing up military forces. A reliable source says one of the three new battalions being planned is to be completely Malay; the others will be overwhelmingly Malay."

Such steps seem likely to result in further alienation of the Chinese community and increase the potential for Communist insurrection.

ALLEGIANCE CAN SHIFT

"If the Chinese are maltreated here," one long-time Western resident said last week, "they'll shift their allegiance to China. In the past they've realized they had a good thing here. Now all that may be changed."

On the other hand, it is clear the Malays have a real fear of a Chinese take-over of the country the Malays consider their homeland. The Chinese already hold economic and educational advantages.

Asked whether the Chinese and Indians were truly welcome in Malaysia, Razak said, "We are trying to make them welcome. But we want those who become citizens, to be loyal to this country. If they don't, that's just too bad."

★ ★ ★

Requested to clarify that, Razak reflected and added: "Too bad for them and too bad for us."

Cedar Point in Rain Can Be Lofty Lark

By JODY HEADLEE
Garden Editor, The Pontiac Press

What do you do on a rainy day at Cedar Point? If you have an appointment with LeRoy Metzler, landscape director, you scurry between the raindrops and have a ball.

Metzler retired almost 10 years ago as district manager of the Prudential Insurance Co. of America.

"To take it easy," he said, his brown eyes smiling under a neatly combed shock of white hair.

But he wasn't to take it easy long. George A. Roose, president of Cedar Point, near Sandusky, Ohio, learned of Metzler's gardening avocation and asked him to lend a hand to beautify the Point.

LIKED GARDENING

"I was pleased that Mr. Roose called me," said Metzler. "I've always liked to garden and this gave me an opportunity to try out new ideas."

Keeping the grounds beautiful at Cedar Point is a year-round project.

"As soon as the park closes, I sit down and go over the beds on paper. By Nov. 1, I know just what flowers I want in each bed and place my orders with the growers.

"This way, come spring, we're all ready to go as soon as the weather permits. You should be here opening week," he said, leading the way to the midway. "The hawthorns are in bloom and the whole grounds look like a bower.

DISPLAY BEDS

"We have our displays that the public keeps asking for every year, like the American flag and the Cedar Point emblem. But most of the beds are handled differently each year.

"I'm really kind of proud of the flag," he continued, standing at its site. "It's 24-by-60 feet long. We use red and white petunias for the stripes, blue ageratum for the field and 50 white fibrous begonias for the stars.

"Cords mark the stripes so the plants will stay where they belong. Right now you see a lot of dirt but by mid-summer it will be a solid mass of blooms.

"Whenever the plants overgrow their bounds, I have the men shear them back to the cords to give the trim effect."

SUMMER CREW

Eighteen men make up the summer crew which maintains the florific beauty of the midwestern amusement park.

"We have 400 acres alone in lawn," said Metzler. "During the winter, of course, the crew is much smaller. Only five or six stay with us all year long."

★ ★ ★

"When we started we had quite a problem. You know this is all sand — pure beach sand. Not too much likes to grow on that kind of soil . . . so it was up to us to pull in good dirt.

"Truck load by truck load, we hauled it in . . . so that we have 10 inches of top soil on the sand. We feed the plants well and supplement the rainfall when needed to keep everything thriving."

BRICK PLANTER-SEAT

Metzler stopped to rest on the edge of a brick planter.

"Now you take this spot," he said. "It was bare . . . just dirt and the two trees. I didn't want to lose them so I had the brick planter built around to maintain the soil line.

"It serves a double purpose . . . it also acts as a comfortable seat for visitors to pause and rest. We saved the buckeye and the maple," he said with pride, leaning back to pat the carpet of green grass, "and don't you think it looks nice?"

Centering the midway are beautiful beds of blooms.

"You can get a better look at them," said Metzler, "if you take the sky ride. It's really very beautiful."

I looked up approximately 60-feet and saw the tiny cars gliding gracefully overhead. I didn't exactly want to admit that I was scared of heights and if he ever got me up there, I couldn't look down on the beauty of the gardens, because my eyeballs would be frozen with fear.

★ ★ ★

"Oh, let's see the rest of the gardens," I said, silently complimenting myself on the way I'd gotten out of that one.

"You must go to frontier land," he said. "We'll take the train down and then you can see how our next project is coming along."

VETERAN RIDER

"Fine," said I, being a veteran rider of the miniature train at the Detroit Zoo.

The ride was delightful. By this time, the sun had come out, the wind had died down, and it was a perfect June afternoon.

★ ★ ★

"We have all sorts of plans," he said. "We're going to put in a Williamsburg garden in keeping with the town hall's architecture, and we will have all the buildings landscaped to resemble the plantings of the place and time. Some of it, I think we should even leave with a wild effect."

We continued to stroll along, the old-time saloon-type piano plinking merrily in the background.

'I'M LATE!'

Time, oh my! I looked down at my watch it was 4:30 and the very time I was to meet my family back at the hotel to start the ride home.

Explaining my plight, my kindly guide assured me, he knew of the quickest way back. We hurried up a nearby ramp and sat down in an open car.

It wasn't until our conveyance wretched itself free into the air, that I realized I was in a cable car . . . not 60-feet over the planted midway to be sure . . . but 60-feet over the tree tops of frontier land.

"You won't mind this too much," said my host confidently. "The tree tops give the effect of your being closer to the ground."

UP, UP AND AWAY

With both hands strangling the center pole and all systems frozen, I couldn't answer. I furtively glanced over the side.

And, you know what, 60 feet is 60 feet, tree tops or no. The car swayed gently. I nearly collapsed. Though my watch didn't register more than 10 minutes from drop-off to glide-in, it seemed like an eternity.

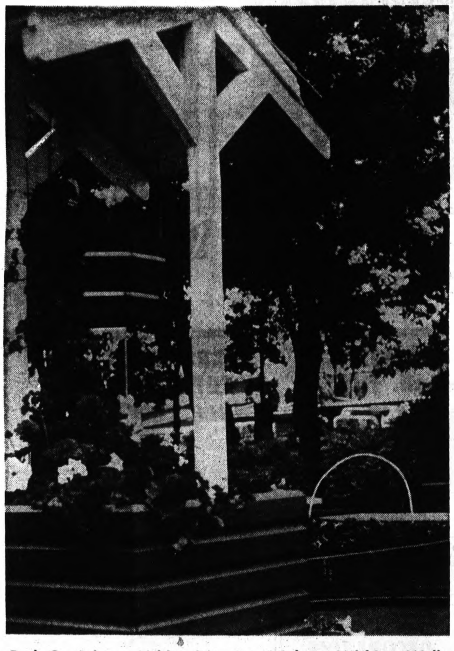

"There," said my new friend, as an attendant opened the door, "that wasn't too bad was it?"

You know, it wasn't, in retrospect.

Dynamic but Controversial Chief Sparks Singapore's Growth

SINGAPORE (AP) — "Lee Kuan Yew is a dictator," says a retired Singapore police officer.

"Lee may be all-powerful, but he's what Singapore needs. He put this place on its feet." — A British businessman.

★ ★ ★

"My children go to English school. I have a job and we live in a clean flat. Without Lee Kuan Yew we would have none of this." —A taxi driver.

"Mr. Lee Kuan Yew is too clever by half." —Malaysian Prime Minister Tunku Abdul Rahman.

WHAT HE MADE IT

Somewhere among these divergent opinions of Singapore's dynamic young prime minister lies the real Lee Kuan Yew. Whatever he may be, Singapore today is what he has made it.

Lee, 46, is a hard-fisted ruler who directs his People's Action party and most of Singapore's two million polyglot population with demanding severity.

★ ★ ★

At the same time, not even his most outspoken critics can deny that Lee has altered the face of Singapore for the benefit of the island's people. It is almost unrecognizable as the sleepy city-state it was when he elbowed his way into office 10 years ago behind a pockmarked face, thrusting jaw and unsmiling, hard-lined mouth.

★ ★ ★

There are frequently strained relations between Lee and his genial, easygoing Malaysian neighbor, the Tunku. Long-time observers of Singapore-Malaysia relations claim that when the two leaders meet, the Tunku automatically says "no" to any proposal Lee makes, fearing the brilliant Singaporean will trap him.

OBVIOUS ACCOMPLISHMENTS

Lee's most obvious accomplishments are seen on the streets of sweltering, bustling Singapore every day:

Hundreds of high-rise workers' apartment blocks tower from the flat, red earth over the 224-square-mile island, which forms the dot at the end of the Malay Peninsula's exclamation point. Over 600,000 Singaporeans now live in this efficient, if somewhat sterile, housing.

★ ★ ★

On street after street in the traffic-choked downtown section, modern office buildings and luxury hotels are shooting up.

Thirty-three hotels with over 9,000 rooms are now being built or are on the boards.

BUSY HARBOR

Giant tankers and cargo ships from virtually every seafaring nation steam in and out of the superb harbor, making this the world's fourth most active port.

At the new Jurong Industrial Estate, a Lee Kuan Yew scheme of vast proportions, bulldozers and steam shovels gobble up gaping mouthfuls of earth, making hills disappear while swamplands harden under transported fill. Some 3,000 feet of dredged deepwater wharves hug the Jurong area, providing set transport for the multitude of factories and plants springing up.

★ ★ ★

Dockyards are being enlarged to enable Singapore to service tankers up to 200,000 tons.

Such gains are impressive, both to the outsider and the citizen of Singapore. "Singapore's problems are the kind other countries in this region would like to have," a Western diplomat says.

COMFORTABLE LIFE

Eng Hock Huan, a 39-year-old clerk in a British-owned rubber brokerage, tends to agree. He's worked for the same firm 11 years, earns $117 a month and finds life in his native country comfortable.

★ ★ ★

"We want for nothing," he says. His two younger children, a girl of 9 and a boy, 12, attend English school. His eldest son, 18, has completed high school and is a clerk in a government office. He lives at home and contributes his salary to the family.

★ ★ ★

"When he marries," Eng says, "of course he will leave and we will miss his earnings. Perhaps my wife will return to work."

★ ★ ★

The family lives in a three-bedroom flat in one of the older government housing developments. The rent was $57 a month until this year when the building was turned into a cooperative under a government plan and the family began buying its flat.

NEAT AND CLEAN

The apartment is plain but extremely neat and clean. The living room is furnished in quasi-Danish motel: plastic-topped tables, orange and blue plastic cushions. A large television has a place of honor and a portable record player - radio combination sits on a low bookcase.

The older Eng children are music fans. "They know all the latest pop tunes," their father says.

★ ★ ★

Eng's annual income is more than double the island-wide average of $667 yet the national per-capita income is nearly twice that of Malaysit and indicates Singapore's high living standard in Southeast Asia.

★ ★ ★

Many of the poorest Singaporeans live in ramshackle attap, or thatch, huts, but they seem to have few complaints. One attap dweller, a Chinese cane-furniture maker, says: "We have plenty to eat, we are clothed and housed. We are happy."

LOUD CHOPSTICKS

Food is plentiful and cheap. A long-time resident once commented that on any night the loudest sound in the streets of Singapore is the clicking of chopsticks.

★ ★ ★

As soon as the sun fades, hawkers and stall keepers set up shop in parking lots or in streets of the old Chinatown sector. Illuminated by lanterns, the night markets are steamy pinpoints of activity.

★ ★ ★

The choice of delicacies includes dozens of varieties of noodles, from thread-thin transparent strands which even the most practiced chopstick user has difficulty picking up, to broad strips drowned in bold or subtle sauces.

★ ★ ★

Other stalls display glazed brown candied ducks, whole roasted fish, innards of half a dozen types of animals, great heaps of dried birds' nests, salted shark's fins, tubs of snappy live crabs and giant freshwater prawns.

17-CENT MEAL

For no more than 17 cents, the native or the tourist can eat his fill of soup, noodles, chicken and dumplings, steaming hot and equal to the best in many American Chinese restaurants.

★ ★ ★

Other restaurants offer vast selections of food catering to the varied tastes of the island's conglomerate population. The Indian curries are fiery. A milder snack is Malay satay, small bits of meat barbecued on a straw and dipped in peanut sauce. Expert Chinese chefs in first-class continental restaurants prepare French, Russian, Italian and Swiss specialties.

★ ★ ★

The dress of the island's people is as varied and colorful as the food:

Bearded sikhs with tightly wound turbans; old Chinese men in wraparound baggy trousers; young Chinese girls in slit-to-the-thigh mini cheong sams; Malay women in hip-hugging sarongs and waist-cinching blouses known as kebayas; Indian girls in modified hipster saris and others, from the Punjab, in tight trousers and tunics.

WELL-FED, WELL-DRESSED

"Well-fed and well-dressed people in Asia are seldom dissatisfied with their government," a diplomat notes.

★ ★ ★

But there are others, Singaporeans and outside observers, who fear the growing power of the puritanical Lee Kuan Yew government.

★ ★ ★

"There is integrity in government," says native-born attorney David Marshall, "but there is no humanity. Singapore humanity is being transformed into ants."

A former civil service clerk observes: "The people in Singapore think the government is efficient, very efficient. But they also think it's too strict."

STRICT INDEED

The government, which holds every seat in the 51-place parliament, is strict indeed. Not even Lee's own cabinet ministers deny this.

"Emerging nations are like airplanes in a storm," Foreign Minister S. Rajaratnam says. "The captain must be able to make decisions without interference."

★ ★ ★

What is needed, according to Rajaratnam, a former newsman, is "democracy without overattention to democratic principles.

★ ★ ★

"Once we give full vent to the principles of democracy, as is going on in the United States today and as has been tried in some Southeast Asian countries with dismal failure, we make effective governing impossible," he adds.

POWER POLITICS

The government directly controls radio and television, indirectly controls the press through licensing, controls education by issuing or not issuing "suitability certificates" to students, controls workers through stringent labor laws. It can deprive citizens of citizenship, may jail suspected subversives for life without trial, and has effectively removed all political opposition.

★ ★ ★

A bill soon to be passed by parliament will eliminate trial by jury. While critics like Marshall, Singapore's first minister under British rule, decry Lee's "power politics," the government has shown itself to be an effective force in crisis.

★ ★ ★

In the May 13 race war in Malaysia, according to informed sources, 1,200 persons—most of them Chinese—were killed in the federation. A flurry of racial incidents broke out in Singapore, too. Within a week, police and military troops had swept through every trouble spot on the island, making arrests and screening suspects. In all, four persons were reported killed.

★ ★ ★

Communism, always a fear in this corner of Southeast Asia, is apparently not taken too seriously by the government. "They have become an anachronism," Foreign Minister Rajaratnam observes.

'A GROWING FORCE'

Attorney Marshall, 66, describes himself as "pathologically anti-Communist." He says the Communists, who went underground when Lee came into power, are a growing force. "They're attracting the frustrated intelligensia" of the city-state's Chinese, he says.

The Chinese represent about four-fifths of the total population. The rest are mostly Malays and Indians.

★ ★ ★

One problem, which nobody in Singapore denies, is unemployment. Jobless Singaporeans are increasing at a rate to match the soaring downtown skyline.

★ ★ ★

Nearly 20,000 students spill onto Singapore's job market every year, their numbers far from absorbed by burgeoning industry. Of some 550,000 persons fit for work, about 50,000 are idle.

PULLOUT WILL HURT

The removal of British troops east of Suez, to be completed by the end of 1971, and the resultant closure of their giant military bases here will put 30,000 Singaporeans out of jobs.

★ ★ ★

The British withdrawal hangs heavy, but with typical zest Lee is trying to take up the slack. He has converted a former Royal Navy shipyard to civilian use and is planning other conversions.

Local diplomats and business leaders regularly travel around the world, seeking investors and tourists. The search for new industry appears to be effective. But a government estimate shows only some 5,000 industrial jobs are created each year, sometimes at a cost of $10,000 apiece.

The government is fostering two bills, to liberalize abortion and sterilization, which it claims are needed "on medical, social and humanitarian grounds." Opponents call the bills desperate attempts to cut population growth and ease the unemployment crisis.

150 YEARS LATER

This, in part, is Singapore 150 years after its founding by Sir Stamford Raffles.

Her ambitious prime minister calls it the "Rugged Society."

★ ★ ★

Others term it a technological society and a pragmatic society.

Complains one disenchanted citizen: "No one calls it a human society."

BUSTLING SINGAPORE — New workers' apartments (top) jut dramatically from Singapore's flat red earth. Downtown streets are so choked by traffic and pedestrians (bottom) the government has instituted queuing so people can board buses in an orderly manner.

NOW Charmglow Gas Yard Lamps and Gas Grills AVAILABLE For Immediate INSTALLATION!

Gas Lamps — Extend your hours of summer fun with a gas yard lamp. A gas lamp lends a soft glow to patio or yard, repels insects, makes walkways safer, and discourages prowlers. Made of cast aluminum with black finish, the gas lamps are topped by graceful eagle finials. "Snug-Fit" windows allow complete cleaning without a tool.

Gas Grill — For those who love the outdoors and gracious patio living, the gas grill is the modern way to enjoy outdoor cooking at its best. This new method of barbecue cooking gives the flavor of charcoal without the muss and fuss. Gas offers a full range of heat from high to low. Cast aluminum construction makes the gas grill virtually weatherproof.

Standards Are OK'd for Nursing Homes

LANSING (UPI) — The supervisors of Michigan's 400 nursing homes must soon meet federal competency standards and be licensed by the state, under provisions of a bill passed by the Legislature.

The Senate gave final approval to the measure yesterday by a 25-9 vote, while the House passed it last month with a wide 89-9 score. The date it becomes effective still must be worked out by both chambers.

★ ★ ★

"We have people running nursing homes who don't know about proper diet, hygiene and other basic needs," declared chief sponsor Rep. Vincent Petitpren, D-Wayne. "If we put our parents in those homes, we want our money's worth."

Nursing homes are booming as an industry, especially with the advent of Medicaid and Medicare, Petitpren said. "They must be run by qualified people."

GROUP'S PRESIDENT PLEASED

Basil F. Boyce of 118 Terry, Rochester, president of the Michigan Nursing Home Association (MNHA) and regional administrator of Beverly Manor Convalescent Center (formerly Seminole Hills Nursing Home), said today he was pleased with the passage of the bill.

"The association has for some time been in favor of such legislation. We testified on behalf of the bill and worked very closely with the House committee and with Rep. Petitpren to see that this fine piece of legislation was passed," Boyce stid.

★ ★ ★

The state bill follows provisions of a federal act sponsored by Sen. Edward Kennedy, D-Mass., in 1967. This sweeping law gives the individual states until 1970 to set standards for the home administrators.

"If we don't enact this, the federal government will cut off payments to the homes," Petitpren continued. He estimated, Michigan could lose $46 million initially, and up to $70 million by 1972 if lawmakers failed to comply with the mandate.

BILL A 'SKELETON'

The bill actually is a "skeleton" with an advisory board to be appointed by the director of the Department of Licensing and Regulation scheduled to fill in the details in line with soon-to-be-complete U.S. standards.

★ ★ ★

But the measure does insist that applicants to run a nursing home of six or more beds meet fundamental standards of age, physical and emotional character, passing a course of instruction given by the licensing department, and previous experience.

★ ★ ★

The department director is empowered to revoke, suspend or refuse a license if the applicant has been convicted of a serious crime, or is considered unfit in certain ways.

2 Patrolmen Facing Trial in Rape Case

DETROIT (AP) — Two suspended Detroit vice bureau patrolmen have been bound over for trial on a charge of raping a 20-year-old admitted prostitute.

★ ★ ★

The two, Robert Jones, 24, and Carl A. Woods, 22, were released on $5,000 bond following their pretrial examination Tuesday.

★ ★ ★

The girl, who appeared at the hearing, said both officers raped her in a car June 7, adding that Jones afterwards stabbed her three times when she broke free of the car.

Rats Driven Out of Park

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — Hundreds of rats were driven from Military Park downtown Tuesday by police armed with shotguns. Police said 23 rats were killed.

★ ★ ★

Observers said the rats apparently had been driven from an underground parking garage by recent rains and found a readily available food supply in the bread crumbs left to feed pigeons.

★ ★ ★

Police said they were selective in choosing targets for fear that shotgun pellets would bounce off sidewalks and injure onlookers. They said the rats ran into bushes and disappeared when the shooting started.

Found Dead

TROY — Mrs. Elaine D. Berglund of 1291 Kirts was found dead in her apartment yesterday afternoon of apparently self-inflicted gunshot wounds, Troy police said today.

2nd HEW Grant for Mental Health Center Okayed

A grant of $211,562 to staff the proposed Oakland County Mental Health Center has been approved by the office of Health, Education and Welfare (HEW), it was announced today by Rep. Jack H. McDonald, R-19th District.

This is the second grant by HEW for the facility. The first, announced July 2, was $637,000 for construction.

★ ★ ★

The Oakland County Board of Supervisors has allocated $1 million toward construction of the center.

The facility will provide day-care, training and workshop programs for mentally retarded children and youths.

The building will also include office space for the Oakland County Community Mental Health Services Board, administrators of the program.

Savings and Loan Confab July 20-23

LANSING (AP) — The annual convention of the Michigan Savings and Loan League will be held July 20-23 at the Grand Hotel on Mackinac Island, with over 150 Michigan member executives expected to attend.

★ ★ ★

Speaking will be Gov. William Milliken and Carl O. Kamp Jr., newest member of the Federal Home Loan Bank board in Washington. Other speakers include Robert P. Briggs, Commissioner of the Financial Institutions Bureau in Lansing; and Robert Pickup, zens Research Council in Detroit.

★ ★ ★

The League represents all of Michigan's 70 savings and loan associations, with total assets exceeding $4 billion.

Journalism Grad Cited

DETROIT (AP) — The Journalism Department at Wayne State University announced that Louis J. Mleczko, a June WSU graduate, has won the 1969 Malcolm Bingay award, given each year to an outstanding graduating journalism major.

Mleczko, who is 22, graduated from suburban Center Line High School in 1965. He now works for the Macomb Daily in Warren.

★ ★ ★

Mleczko, a member of the WSU chapter of Sigma Delta Chi, also received a citation from that professional society for scholastic and journalistic achievement.

Viet Reds Are Challenged to Accept Free Elections

PARIS (UPI) — Allied officials challenged the Communists again today to accept free elections in South Vietnam but said they need not necessarily be held under international supervision as President Nixon has proposed.

"Our policy amounts to a democratic challenge to the Communists," said an Allied delegate to the Paris peace talks. "We are offering free elections with adequate guarantees or international supervision."

★ ★ ★

The Communists have always rejected the idea of international supervision, a proposal which was part of President Nixon's May 14 peace plan.

An Allied spokesman said the United States and South Vietnam would be willing to consider an alternative means of ensuring the fairness of such elections.

COMMON GROUND

A South Vietnamese spokesman said there was "common ground for negotiations between the two sides on the basis of peace plans put forth by President Nixon."

"We want them (the Communists) to discuss this common ground," the Saigon spokesman said. "But they refuse. That is why we say they have not shown good will. They want us to accept their preconditions first before they will even enter into discussions."

★ ★ ★

The Communists have demanded the unconditional withdrawal of U.S. and other Allied troops from South Vietnam and the removal of the present Saigon government as preconditions.

The Allies have refused both demands.

★ ★ ★

Allied and Communist negotiators will meet for the 25th time of the Paris peace talks Thursday in the former Hotel Majestic.

Ice Is in Demand as the South Melts

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Dealers say sales of ice and ice-making machines across the Southeast have "gone up like the temperature" during the current heat wave.

★ ★ ★

Several Atlanta manufacturers said they have not been able to keep up with the demand for ice while one distributor of ice-making machines said he could sell as many as he could get.

★ ★ ★

During the past several weeks, temperatures in the Southeast have ranged from the 90s to low 100s.

Divorce Granted to Rolling Stone

LONDON (AP) — Bill Wyman, bass guitarist with the Rolling Stones, the British pop music group, was granted a divorce today on grounds of adultery.

His wife, Diane, did not contest the suit.

Razing of Hotel Yields $28,000 in Postal Savings

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Demolition workers, razing a rundown hotel, found old postal saving certificates with a face value of more than $28,000.

Contractor L. L. Gribble said he found the certificates in the Waco Hotel and turned them over to postal authorities.

★ ★ ★

Gribble said the certificates, all dated around 1917, were found in an old wall flue for a wood stove in the once-lavish quarters of the late hotel owner.

It was not determined who, if anyone, would eventually get possession of the certificates.

"I didn't ask the Post Office people," Gribble said.

Airport Study OK'd; No Land Need Seen

DETROIT (AP) — R. L. Rathbun, Detroit Aviation Commission diretcor, said yesterday that a $25,000 study just approved by Common Council to update Detroit City Airport's master plan does not call for buying additional property or increasing runway length.

He said residents near the airport need not fear they will be forced to leave their homes, since improvements will be limited to those needed within present boundaries. Rathbun added that future flights will be limited to the size and weight of aircraft currently using the airport.

★ ★ ★

"An updated study is necessary to meet the demands of rapidly expanding general aviation," he said.

Incumbent Files for Detroit Council

DETROIT (AP) — The Rev. Nicholas Hood says he plans to file today for reelection to Detroit Common Council. The 46-year-old Hood becomes the first incumbent to file for the council race, which has already drawn 35 members.

One of Detroit's two Negroes on the council, Hood is pastor of the Plymouth Congregational Church.

7 Months at Issue in House Rift on 1-Bank Holding Firms

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House is heading for a row over who was doing what in the special world of financial combines between June 30, 1968, and Feb. 17, 1969.

That seven-month-plus period has become a focal point in the controversy over regulation of one-bank holding companies.

★ ★ ★

Such companies—combines that include only a single bank—have been free to engage in a wide variety of nonbanking businesses, while multibank combinations have been required to stick close to the field of banking.

After a protracted tussle within the House Banking Committee, a coalition of Republicans and Southern Democrats produced a bill containing a "grandfather clause"—a provision that one-bank holding companies would not be subject to the new restrictions with regard to nonbanking enterprises acquired before Feb. 17, 1969. Other versions rejected by the committee either had no "gradfather clause" or—in the case of one sponsored initially by the Nixon administration—set the cutoff date at June 30, 1968.

ARGUMENT WILL RAGE

When the bill reaches the House, possibly in August, argument will rage about the question: who benefits by the later date?

Opponents of the committee version say it would protect at least 28 holding companies that were formed, or acquired banks, between June 30, 1968 and Feb. 17, 1969. These companies, they say, operate 82 nonbanking subsidiaries.

★ ★ ★

But supporters of the bill say the practical effect of changing the cutoff date is actually much less than the bare figures would indicate. Some of the newly organized holding companies acquired no subsidiaries during the seven months.

Moreover, they argue that Feb. 17 is the only equitable date. It is the day Chairman Wright Patman, D-Tex., introduced the original regulatory bill, thereby putting would-be organizers of holding companies on notice they had best think twice before going ahead.

Much of the heat over the regulatory bill has been generated by the demonstrated interest of certain bank holding companies moving into the insurance field. Some of the bigger holding companies have eyed large insurance companies, but pulled back when the Justice Department's antitrust division raised questions. Other holding companies have organized or acquired insurance agencies.

Bank-insurance combines are being opposed both by insurance agents and by some members of Congress, like Patman, who say they would result in intolerable concentrations of financial power.

★ ★ ★

Among bank holding companies that acquired insurance interests during the disputed seven months, according to the committee hearing record, are:

NCNB Corp. (North Carolina National Bank, Charlotte); The Southern National Corp. (Southern National Bank of North Carolina, Lumberton); Vernon Financial Corp (The First National Bank of North Vernon, Ind); Packers Management Co. (Packers National Bank, Omaha, Neb.); First Wyanet Investment Corp. (The First National Bank of Wyanet, Ill.).

VARYING LIMITATIONS

Multibank holding companies, those presently regulated, are not permitted by law as interpreted by regulatory agencies to engage in general insurance activities.

★ ★ ★

Banks themselves are under varying limitations. Those under state charter are governed by state law. National banks in towns of 5,000 population or less may operate insurance agencies.

★ ★ ★

The committee bill would allow bank holding companies to acquire insurance companies, but not agencies.

Not Fit to Drink

YOKOHAMA, Japan (AP) — For more than a year, some residents drank water fit only for industrial use. The reason, a mix-up in pipe connections, came to light when authorities investigated dysentery among kindergarten children.

Burger Faces Test on Poor

Court Will Consider Rights to Legal Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court's response to the legal problems of the poor will be tested early in its first term under Warren Earl Burger as chief justice.

The test will take the form of two appeals that seek to broaden the expansion of poor people's rights begun in the years Earl Warren headed the court.

★ ★ ★

They put these questions to Burger and his colleagues:

- Should a woman on welfare have to give up hopes for a divorce because she cannot afford court costs?
- Should a family ordered out of its home by a landlord have to move because it cannot afford to post bond to fight the eviction order?

EQUAL PROTECTION

Lawyers of the Legal Aid Society will argue that the Constitution's answer is "no." Their targets are Connecticut and Georgia laws that they claim deny poor people the equal protection promised by the 14th Amendment.

This clause was used in the Warren years as the basis for rulings that gave impoverished criminal defendants, and then poor people generally, a more nearly equal legal footing with the affluent. The two cases were put on the court's fall docket just before the summer adjournment.

★ ★ ★

The appeals are particularly interesting because they may serve as a barometer of the position Burger will take in this field of law.

In the Connecticut case, six women whose welfare assistance ranges from $66 to $370.86 a month are attacking state laws that impose an initial cost of about $60 to begin a divorce suit.

NO WAIVERS

Their New Haven legal aid attorneys say the laws make no provision for waiver of the fees for the indigent.

In the Georgia case, two women, one living in a public housing project and the other in a private house in Atlanta, are fighting eviction notices.

★ ★ ★

To fight an eviction in Georgia a tenant must post a bond payable to the landlord. The law does not say how much, but if the tenant loses at trial, the landlord is apt to recover double the amount of six months' rent.

The appeal, by Michael D. Padnos, an Atlanta Legal Aid Society lawyer, argues that tenants have no protection against arbitrary or malevolent evictions except to sue for damages after they have been forced from their homes.

★ ★ ★

He claims the bond system serves to keep poor people from defending themselves against arbitrary evictions and that only 13 tenants raised defenses to 19,000 eviction notices served in Atlanta in one year.

He Engenders Guy-dlines on Sorting Sexes

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Sex today has become something of a guessing game.

BOYLE

The two sexes have become so outwardly similar that when boy meets girl for the first time it takes them a while to figure out who is who and which is what. If they are both near - sighted, this process may take days.

Such confusion is natural, considering that so many women are determined to dress, talk and think as much like men as possible. This is a real compliment to men, of course, since imitation is the sincerest form of flattery.

But this flattery has gone a step too far when it results in situations that make it all but impossible to tell the sexes apart.

WAYS TO DISCERN

Fortunately, however, there are still ways for the discerning eye to separate the hims from the hers. Here are a few:

Does it like to loll in a bathtub full of bubbles? It's a woman. Does it still have soap in one ear an hour after taking a morning shower? It's a man.

★ ★ ★

If it likes practical jokes, it's masculine. If it hates practical jokes but is willing to marry a practical joker, it's feminine.

★ ★

Does it gripe, grumble and complain when it carries out the garbage once a week? That's papa. Does it merely give a martyr's sigh when it carries out the garbage the other six days? That's mama.

SHEDDING LIGHT

Can it light its cigar in a howling gale unaided? It's bound to be a male. Is it seemingly unable to light its cigarette in public without help? What could it be but a female?

Does it yell "scat!" to scare the cat off the sofa when it wants to take a nap? That's milord. Does it merely curl up on the part of the sofa that the cat isn't occupying? That's milady.

★ ★ ★

If it likes to pick up a baby and cuddle it to its shoulder, it's a her. If it would rather toss a baby up in the air and catch it like a football, it's a him.

Does it politely stifle a yawn with the back of its hand? That's a gentlewoman. Does it simply give a grunt after it yawns? That's no gentleman—just a man.

A FARE IDEA

Has it its money ready in its hand when it alights from a cab? That's a guy. Must it first fumble for five minutes in a suitcase-sized handbag before it can find its cash? That's a girl.

★ ★ ★

Can it recall a fancied slight or grievance done to it 37 years ago? That's the wife. Is it unable to recall a wrong it did only the day before yesterday? That's the husband.

★ ★ ★

Does it like to spend hours just sitting and holding hands and dreaming? That's the lassie. Would it rather have its hands free? That's the laddie.

Does it bulge in only one place? Probably a fat man. Does it bulge in several places? Undoubtedly a fat woman.

LUNCH HUNCH

If it always orders chicken salad or a tuna-fish sandwich for lunch, it is a girl. If it would rather have corned beef hash with an egg on top, it's a fellow.

★ ★ ★

Can it make a good dry Martini blindfolded? That's a man. Can't it ever make a good dry Martini even with both its eyes wide open? That's a woman—every time.

★ ★ ★

Does it think money grows on trees? That's the missus. Does it go through life proclaiming aloud that money doesn't grow on trees? That's the mister.

★ ★ ★

Can it give offhand the batting average of Carl Yastrzemski, the Boston Red Sox outfielder? That's a male sports fan. Does it think that Yastrzemski is probably an obscure Polish dress designer? That's the sport fan's wife.

★ ★ ★

Yes, if necessary, you can still distinguish between the sexes. The only question is—is it usually worthwhile anymore?

Aaron, the high priest of the Hebrews wore 12 precious stones in his jeweled breastplate. In the New Testament, these stones became the foundation stones of the New Jerusalem described in Revelations.

Ear Wax Survey Among Indians Bears Out Asia Link

By DELOS SMITH
UPI Science Editor

NEW YORK — To the science of genetics it is exciting news that dry ear wax is widely prevalent among American Indians.

Dr. Nicholas L. Petrakis came up with this news after an ear wax survey of 3,030 members of 16 North, Central and South American tribes. It is exciting because it is a powerful factural indication of where American Indians came from.

* * *

Ear wax is of two kinds, the dry and the wet, the latter being moist rather than dripping.

Which kind any person has depends upon a pair of genes one of which came from each parent.

DOMINANT GENE

The wet ear wax gene is a dominant one and the dry gene is recessive.

Wet ear wax is the usual ear wax in whites and Negroes. Dry ear wax is common among Asiatics descended from Mongols.

* * *

Therefore, the wide prevalence of dry ear wax among American Indians is seen as a factual proof that they are descendants of Asiatics who entered a man-free Western Hemisphere over a once-existing Alaskan land bridge during the prehistory void of many thousands of years ago.

* * *

Many scientists and others have supposed this to be true, of course, but aside from the coloration of the "red man" and certain features of his physiogomy, there has been very little factual support of it.

* * *

Science hit upon the ear wax clue some 10 years ago.

Petrakis, working with a number of collaborators from the University of California Medical School in San Francisco, took in Indians along the entire length of the hemisphere.

It is now within the realm of possibility that with present knowledge utilized humans can preselect the sex of their children, regenerate defective organs, live 90 to 100 years and change their sex at will.

U.S. Closing Its Electronic Listening Post on Pakistan Frontier

PESHAWAR, Pakistan (AP) — This sleepy, dusty town in Pakistan's mountainous old Northwest Frontier province is about to lose one of its best friends — a supersecret American "communications facility" used to spy electronically on the Soviet Union and China.

The government of Pakistan, which now has good relations with Russia and China, asked the Americans to close down the base, a leftover from the days when Pakistan was a partner of the United States in an effort to contain communism.

The world's attention was riveted on Peshawar in 1960 when Gary Powers' U2 spy plane was shot down over the Soviet Union.

★ ★ ★

Powers in fact took off from the Peshawar airport. It has no relation to the communications facility, which has no airfield.

BASE NO MYSTERY

To the Pakistani inhabitants of Peshawar the base is not a mystery or a focus of international intrigue — it is a source of jobs and income. The secret number of Americans associated with the base employ about 700 Peshawaris, says Asghar Ali Shah, mostly as domestic servants.

★ ★ ★

A cluster of cooks, bearers and drivers standing outside the base said they received 200 to 300 rupees a month — or $43 to $63. That is three to four times what Pakistanis pay.

★ ★ ★

They all said they were being given comparable jobs with other U.S. government employes stationed in Pakistan.

★ ★ ★

The citizens of Peshawar and the Peshawar Americans have been on remarkably good terms for 10 years.

★ ★ ★

The base — but not its secret equipment — is being turned over to the Pakistan air force. The date for closing down is officially July 18.

WEDDING RING PUFF — Bake cream puff mixture in ring form. Fill it with a luscious creamy pineapple and whipped cream mixture. Serve proudly as refreshment for that special bridal shower or other pre-wedding party.

Use Pineapple Filling

Bake Cream Puff Batter in Ring

This pineapple cream puff ring is designed for pre-wedding parties. Dressed up especially for the bride-to-be, cream puffs are baked in a circle, symbolic of the ceremonial wedding ring. Golden crushed pineapple — with its sweet, refreshing taste — sparkles like jewels in the heavenly whipped cream filling.

Easy-to-make, this glamorous dessert can be prepared well ahead of party time, ready to assemble just before guests arrive. Dust the top with powdered sugar and decorate with pineapple "diamonds."

PINEAPPLE WEDDING RING PUFF

1 (13½-ounce) can crushed pineapple
½ cup sugar
3 tablespoons cornstarch
⅛ teaspoon salt
1 egg
1 teaspoon lemon juice
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup whipping cream
Cream Puff Ring
Powdered sugar

Combine pineapple, sugar, cornstarch and salt. Cook over moderate heat, stirring constantly, until mixture boils and is very thick. Stir a little hot mixture into lighten beaten egg, then combine with remaining pineapple mixture. Stir over very low heat for 1 minute longer.

Remove from heat and blend in lemon juice and vanilla. Cool. Fold in whipped cream.

SLIT PUFFS

Slit each puff, without breaking the ring. Spoon in pineapple mixture, saving a little for the top. Sprinkle ring with powdered sugar and top with remaining pineapple cream. Garnish with pineapple tidbits, if desired. Makes 8 servings.

CREAM PUFF RING: Combine 1 cup water, ½ cup butter and ¼ teaspoon salt; heat to boiling. Add 1 cup sifted flour all at once, and stir over moderate heat until mixture forms a ball that follows spoon around the saucepan.

Remove from heat and cool slightly. Add 4 eggs, one at a time, beating until smooth after each addition.

★ ★ ★

On lightly greased baking sheet, spoon or pipe dough into 8 mounds in a circle about 9 inches in diameter. Bake in hot oven (400 degrees F.) about 1 hour, until puffs are golden brown. Cool before filling.

Hearty Salad Has Vegetables, Meat

"Beef and Vegetable Salads" are perfect for Saturday or Sunday lunch, or whenever you want to serve a salad to please the men in your life.

Crisp slices of western iceberg lettuce supply the "foundation" for slices of roast beef rolled around sweet gherkins, arranged with cauliflowerettes and canned pickled beets.

Serve with salty rye wafers or toasted rye bread and non-fat milk for a low-calorie but satisfying and nutritious lunch.

BEEF AND VEGETABLE SALADS

1 head western iceberg lettuce
⅔ cup corn oil
⅓ cup vinegar
4 teaspoons bottled mixed salad seasonings
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon tarragon
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 small cauliflower
8 oz. slice droast beef, boiled ham (2 packages, 4½ oz. each), or another luncheon meat
½ cup chopped sweet gherkins
1 can ((8¼ oz.) sliced pickled beets, drained, chilled

Core, rinse and drain lettuce; chill in disposable plastic bag or lettuce crisper. Combine oil, vinegar, salad seasonings, salt, tarragon and pepper in jar; cover and shake.

Trim cauliflower and separate into flowerettes. Steam them in a little boiling salted water for 5 minutes, or until tender-crisp. Drain, cover with the dressing and chill 1 to 2 hours until full-flavored.

LETTUCE SLICE

Slice lettuce head crosswise into 4 slices (save end pieces to put into tossed salads). Place each lettuce slice onto a luncheon plate. Drizzle each with a little of the marinade-dressing.

Roll roast beef slices around some of the gherkins. Arrange rolled meat, cauliflower, beets and remaing gherkins on top of lettuce slices.

Serve with remaining marinade-dressing alongside. Makes 4 servings.

Real Winner

A dietitian's delight, potatoes can be served to people on many kinds of special diets. Beside providing bulk and valuable nutrients to the reducing diet, potatoes may also be served on low cholesterol, low sodium and bland diets.

Green Onions Make Unusual Lunch Sandwich

A frequent request is for a green onion sandwich served with cheese sauce. This sandwich makes a nice luncheon dish.

GREEN ONION SANDWICH

Wash and cut roots and tops off three bunches green onions (20 bulbs). Slit bulb and stem in half and add to ¼ cup boiling salted water. Cook onions covered for 5-7 minutes, just till tender. Drain. Makes 4-5 servings.

★ ★ ★

Toast 5 slices of bread. Layer each slice with 4-5 cooked onion stems. Cover with cheese sauce.

Easy Cheese Sauce

1 tablespoon butter
2 tablespoons flour
1 cup milk
½ cup sharp grated cheddar cheese

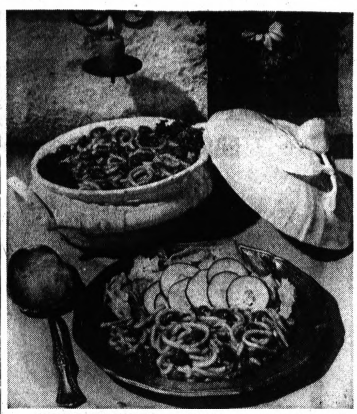

Blend butter and flour together over low heat. Add milk and cheese stirring constantly till thick. Makes 1 cup.

Or you can try this:

½ can cheddar cheese soup
1 cup milk
½ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce

★ ★ ★

Beat until smooth and place over low heat.

CHILI PASTAFAZOOL — Heat one can of spaghetti and meat balls with tomato sauce. Mix in one can chili with beans, ½ cup Parmesan cheese, 1 teaspoon sugar, salt and pepper to taste. Heat thoroughly. Serve with a cucumber salad. Makes 8-10 servings. Pasta is a generic word for macaroni products. Fazool is a generic Italian word for beans in general. Chili is a Spanish word meaning red pepper.

Hearty Dessert Is Excellent for Kids

Chocolate Rice Pudding

1 package (4 ounces) dark chocolate pudding and pie filling
1½ cups soft-cooked regular rice
1 teaspoon vanilla
3 small or 2 medium ripe bananas
Sweetened whipped cream

Make up pudding according to package directions for pudding; mix in rice and vanilla. Turn into 6 custard cups; cover and chill. At serving time top with sliced bananas and whipped cream, Makes 6 serings.

Tuna Salad Is Heated in Lemony Tart Shells

Fresh as a daisy and bright as a daffodil is this spring luncheon idea. Tender, flaky pastry, quickly made with dependable pie crust mix, takes a sparkling flavor accent from grated lemon peel. The pastry cups are filled with a delicately seasoned tuna-pineapple salad. Garnished with shredded cheese, the luncheon tarts bake to piping hot, golden brown goodness.

Lemon Pastry Cups' Tuna Salad:

One 9¼-oz. can tuna, drained
1 cup diced celery
One 13¼-oz. can pineapple tidbits, drained
½ cup sliced almonds
2 tablespoons minced onion
½ cup mayonnaise
¼ teaspoon pepper

Lemon Pastry Cups:

One 10-oz. pkg. pie crust mix
1½ teaspoons grated lemon peel
4 tablespoons cold water
1 cup shredded American cheese

Heat oven to hot (425 degrees). For tuna salad, combine tuna, celery, pineapple, almonds and onion. Stir in mayonnaise and pepper; set aside.

For lemon pastry cups, empty contents of package into bowl; stir in lemon peel. Sprinkle cold water by tablespoonfuls over mix; stir with fork until just dampened. Form into ball. (If necessary, add a little more water to make dough hold together.

CUT IN CIRCLES

Roll out on lightly floured board or canvas to ⅛-inch thickness. Cut into six 5½-inch circles. Invert six 6-oz. custard cups and place on cookie sheet. Fit pastry circles over backs of custard cups; prick. Bake in preheated oven about 10 minutes.

Cool about 3 minutes. Carefully remove lemon pastry cups from custard cups; cool. Reduce oven temperature to moderate (350 degrees).

Place lemon pastry cups on cookie sheet. Fill with tuna salad. Top with cheese. Bake in preheated oven about 15 minutes or until heated. Sprinkle with paprika. Makes 6 servings.

Mash Sardines for Good Spread

Patio entertaining is no chore with this savory sardine canape. Open and drain a can of Norway sardines. Mash the sardines and blend with a little horseradish and mayonnaise.

Spread on toast strips or cocktail crackers. Decorate with radish rosette or sprig of parsley. Refrigerate until party time.

Picnic and Listen at Meadow Brook

By JANET ODELL
Food Editor
The Pontiac Press

Picnics are the IN thing if you attend the Meadow Brook Music Festival. Two hours before concert time, the grounds are open. Couples and groups stream in with their baskets of food. When all the tables are taken, cloths go down on the grass.

We've rarely seen sandwiches as the main bill of fare. More often than not, it's chicken in one form or another and salads. One group that comes every year brings a gourmet meal of Greek food.

★ ★ ★

With all the efficient thermal units and foam containers, no one should have trouble keeping food at the proper temperature. Just remember that it should be very hot or very cold, not lukewarm.

MARINATE FIRST

Mayonnaise potato salad presents no problems if you marinate the ingredients in french dressing for several hours, then mix them with mayonnaise at the picnic site. Or put the mixed salad in a thermos.

Cook chicken early in the day and chill thoroughly; you can wrap it in foil and carry it in a pan of ice cubes which can be used or drinks at the picnic site.

Keep your picnic basket filled with the gay plastic and paper products so that there are no dishwashing chores. Picnics should be fun, not work.

★ ★ ★

Instead of cut-up fried chicken, how about a pair of broiler-fryers baked with lemon and tarragon? They'll carry easily and can be carved at the picnic site.

TWIN LEMON CHICKENS

2 whole broiler-fryer chickens
2 teaspoons MSG, divided
2 teaspoons salt, divided
2 teaspoons tarragon, divided
1 lemon

Sprinkle cavity of each chicken with ½ teaspoon of MSG, ½ teaspoon of the salt and ½ teaspoon of the tarragon. Hook wing tips into back to hold neck skin. Truss chickens.

Rub each chicken with cut surface of ½ lemon and sprinkle each with ½ teaspoon MSG and ½ teaspoon salt and ½ teaspoon tarragon. Place on rack in small roasting pan. Bake in 375-degree oven 30 minutes per pound. Makes 4-6 servings.

Assorted raw vegetables right out of the refrigerator and transported in plastic bags make the easiest of salads. Supply several bottled dressings.

★ ★ ★

Macaroni Picnic Salad can be made a day ahead and chilled overnight.

MARCARONI PICNIC SALAD

2 tablespoons salt
4 to 6 quarts boiling water
4 cups elbow macaroni (1 pound)
1 cup each:
sliced radishes
sliced celery
sliced sweet gherkins
2 tablespoons chopped onion
1 cup mayonnaise
½ cup sweet pickle liquid
¼ cup spicy brown mustard
1 teaspoon prepared horse-radish
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon white pepper

Add 2 tablespoons salt to rapidly boiling water. Gradually add macaroni so that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender. Drain in colander. Rinse with cold water. Drain again.

In large bowl, combine macaroni, radishes, celery, gherkins and onion. Blend together remaining ingredients. Toss dressing with macaroni mixture. Chill. Garnish with gherkin fans, radish roses and salad greens, if desired. Makes 8 servings.

While fruit and cheese make an ideal dessert, those with a sweet tooth will like Dated-Up Cookie Cakes. No messy frosting.

DATED-UP COOKIE CAKES

1 roll any flavor refrigerated slice and bake cookies, softened to room temperature
⅔ cup butterscotch or caramel ice cream topping
2 eggs (reserve 1 white for topping)
1 cup chopped dates
1 cup dairy sour cream

Coconut Topping

Reserved egg white
⅛ teaspoon salt
1 cup powdered sugar
1 can (3½ oz.) or 1½ cups flaked coconut

In large mixing bowl, break cookie dough into smaller pieces. Add ice cream topping, whole egg and egg yolk; mix until blended. Stir in dates and sour cream.

Spoon into 18 to 20 paper-lined muffin cups, filling cups ⅔ full. Bake at 325 degrees for 30 to 35 minutes until golden brown.

★ ★ ★

Remove from oven; spread each cupcake with Coconut Topping. Bake an additional 10 to 15 minutes until Coconut Topping is golden brown.

Coconut Topping: In small mixer bowl, beat egg white and salt until soft peaks form. Add powdered sugar; continue beating until well blended. Stir in coconut.

PICNIC SUPPER—Picnics at Meadow Brook Festival grounds are popular pre-concert events. Some people even go elegant with candles. Fried chicken is the main course for John M. and Barbara Peters of Birmingham (left) and the Richard Prays of Saginaw. They are waiting to hear Van Cliburn.

TWIN LEMON CHICKENS

Pancakes Are Fine for Brunch Menu

With packaged pancake mix and applesauce from the pantryshelf, this dish is a breeze!

Apple-Spice Pancakes

1 cup pancake mix
⅔ Cup milk
1 egg
1 tablespoon butter or margarine, melted
½ teaspoon lemon juice
½ teaspoon cinnamon
Dash of nutmeg
⅔ Cup sweetened canned applesauce

Into a mixing bowl turn all the ingredients. Mix lightly until batter is fairly smooth.

For each pancake, pour about ¼ cup batter onto a hot lightly greased griddle. Bake until goldenbrown, turning once. Serve with butter and maple syrup. Makes 4 servings.

Serve This Souffle With Meat Course

To give your meals a lift, try this new recipe. It can be prepared in a large oven-proof casserole. Savory Souffle is a delightful accompaniment for roast pork or a hearth baked ham.

Savory Souffle

1 cup butter
2 cups sugar
8 eggs
10 pieces bread, trimmed and cubed
2 No. 2 cans crushed pineapple, drained

★ ★ ★

Cream butter and sugar. Add eggs and beat until light. Fold in bread cubes and pineapple. Bake in buttered casserole for 1 hour at 325 degrees. Makes 10-12 servings.

Heat Herring an Easy Way

Know how to heat a can of kippered herring the easy way? Open can and place in a skillet; add enough hot water to come about halfway up the sides of the can.

Cover the skillet and allow the water to simmer for about 15 minutes; by that time the kippers should be thoroughly hot— if they aren't simmer a little longer.

Chocolate Is Favorite of All

For a picnic dessert, try a new version of a delicious chocolate cookie.

New Chocolate Crisps

⅛ pound (½ stick) butter, at room temperature
½ cup sugar
1 large egg
1 envelope no-melt chocolate
¾ cup unsifted flour, stir to aerate before measuring
1/16 teaspoon salt
¼ cup finely chopped pecans

Butter bottoms of 2 square cake pans (each 8 by 8 by 2 inches). In a small mixing bowl cream butter and sugar; thoroughly beat in egg, then chocolate. Add flour and salt; beat gently to blend.

★ ★ ★

Spread evenly and thinly in prepared pans; sprinkle with pecans. Bake in a preheated 400-degree oven until firm — about 12 minutes. Place pans on wire racks — in a minute or two (before cookies crisp), cut into 2-inch squares; cool completely.

Remove with a small spatula; store in tightly covered tin container. Makes 32.

Soup for Sauce

Combine cream of mushroom soup with a can of drained peas and a can of drained onions for an unusual vegetable dish. Season with paprika and sprinkle bread crumbs over the top.

Pair of Spreads Is Full of Zest

Spreads to go with crackers or potato chips make good nibbling food at picnics as you wait for other guests or to have the food put on the table.

CHEESE SPREAD

1 tablespoon lemon juice (¼ of a large juicy lemon)
2 tablespoons milk
¼ cup thin strips onion loosely packed (½ of a small onion)
8 flat anchovies (about ½ of a 2-ounce can), drained and cut up
1 package (8 ounces) cream cheese, room-temperature soft

Into an electric blender turn the lemon juice, milk, onion and anchovies; blend until liquidized and smooth. With a spoon, gradually beat blended mixture into cream cheese. Turn into a jar; cover tightly; refrigerate 6 hours or overnight to allow flavors to blend. Makes 1¼ cups.

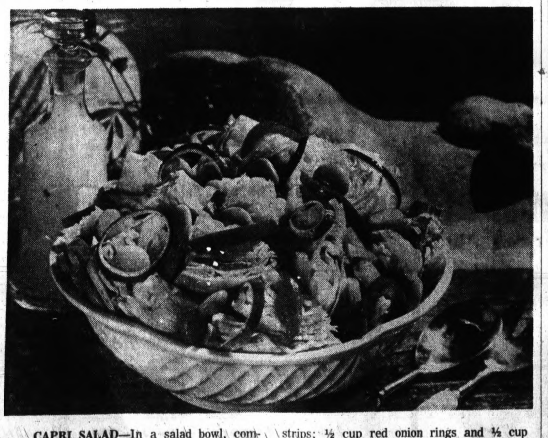

★ ★ ★

Serve with party-size rye bread slices, halved, or crackers. Tightly covered, spread can be stored in refrigerator for about a week.

VIRGINIA SPREAD

1 jar (4½ ounces) Smithfield-type deviled meat spread
¼ cup peanut butter
2 tablespoons slightly drained sweet pickle relish

In a small bowl thoroughly stir together all the ingredients. Cover and refrigerate; let stand at room temperature about ½ hour before serving. Makes about ¾ cup.

CAPRI SALAD—In a salad bowl, combine 1 cup sliced carrots, cooked; 1 package (10 oz.) frozen lima beans, cooked; ½ cup chopped green pepper; ¼ cup pimiento strips; ½ cup red onion rings and ½ cup Italian dressing. Chill. Add 1 small head lettuce cut in 2-inch chunks; toss lightly. Makes 8 servings.

Bob Charles Fires 66 to Lead British Open

LYTHAM ST. ANNES, England (AP) — Bob Charles, the New Zealand lefthander who won here six years ao, equalled his own course record with a five-under par 66 and seized the early lead over a star-studded field in the first round of the British Open Golf Championship today.

Among the first American finishers the leaders were Orville Moody of Killian, Tex., and Davis Love Jr. of Atlanta, who shot 70s. Neither of the other two, Gardner Dickinson nor Lee Trevino was able to break par. Trevino, of Dallas, finished with a 75, Dickinson, of Palm Beach, Fla., came in at 76.

* * *

Charles fired his superlative round over a course freshened by overnight rain and, with only a light wind blowing, the field of 130 had virtually ideal conditions.

* * *

The New Zealander went out in 31 and came home in 35 over a course lengthened by 200 yards over the one he mastered in 1963. He had a 277 total that year and won the title in a 36hole playoff with Phil Rodgers of La Jolla, Calif.

He had five birdies on the front nine and three on the back nine, and his round far outstripped the field. The nearest to him at this point were Moody and Love.

* * *

Moody, the 35-year-old former army sergeant who won the U.S. Open earlier this year, said after his round:

"That's the way I started out when I won the U.S. Open. If I start out lie that then I tend to improve.

Love took a bogey five at the second but got that back with birjies at the long sixth and seventh holes. On the return trip, Love made his only mistake on the tough 462-yard par four 15th. But he already had a birdie three at the 13th.

* * *

Dickinson also had trouble on the back nine, taking a 41 after going out in 35. Included in his last nine were two sixes.

Among the other early finishers, Bruce devlin of Australia shot a 71 and Roberto de Vicenzo of Argentina had a 72.

De Vicenzo, the British Open champ in 1967, had a brilliant 32 going out, but slipped to 40 on the back nine.

* * *

Jack Nicklaus of Columbus, Ohio, a prime pre-tournament favorite despite his slipping record of the past two years, blew to a 35-40—75 and said "I hit a lot good putts that edged the hole, but few dropped. Up to the 13th hole I was one under par and feeling good."

But then his game fell apart.

Nicklaus sank a 20-foot putt to hole his par at the 12th hole and slotted one from 30 feet for a birdie three at the 13th.

Then he took a double bogey six at the 14th, where his drive hit a mound and got a bad bounce, and he finished by sing a putt from about three feet.

He bogeyed the 16th after hitting the cup with his chip and then missing a putt from five feet.

Another double bogey came on the home hole, where his drive landed in a bush and he had an unplaayble lie. He dropped, sent a seven iron over the green and took three more to get down.

Rich Bassett, Upper Montclair, N.J., shot identical 39s for 78.

Bruce Fleisher, the U.S. Amateur champion from Hialeah, Fla., took one six and six fives but still managed to put together a respectable 74.

Pennant Hopes Look Slim for Detroit

Red Sox Hand Mickey Lolich Second Setback

BOSTON (AP) — Any hopes for the Detroit Tigers to repeat as champions of the American League and the world ride strictly on the arms of Mickey Lolich and Denny McLain.

And today those hopes looked slim indeed after the Boston Red Sox bombed Lolich for five hits and took advantage of five walks for a 4-1 win, snapping the Mick's nine-game winning streak and inflicting his second loss in 20 decisions over two seasons.

* * *

Detroit, whose slim pennant hopes had been briefly ressurected by a five-of-six flurry against Boston and leagueleading Baltimore, fell 12 games back once again as the Bosox took over second place in the East Division.

The obvious culprit in Lolich's second loss of the season against 11 wins — both losses have come in Fenway Park— was rookie pitcher Mike Nagy, who threw a three-hitter at the Tigers and drove in all the runs he needed with a bases-loaded single in the second inning.

RARE LAPSE

The real villain, though, was a rare lapse in the Mick's control. Lolich had walked three batters to load up the bases before Nagy came to bat.

"He had walked a few, and I didn't want to let him get off the hook," the rookie righthander said."They never let me off the hook when I walk a few."

Nagy didn't have any problems to speak of Tuesday night, striking out five, walking three and hiking his record to 5-1.

His own hit and Russ Gibson's two-run single in the third gave him a quick 4-0 lead, and he was in command all the way.

The 21-year-old New Yorker gave up only a double by Tom Tresh in the first inning and a single by Dick McAuliffe in the eighth before a hit batter, Jim Northrup's double and a ground out broke up his shutout in the ninth.

Lolich noted that there isn't any warmup mound at Fenway Park and said, "I couldn't adjust to the change in height after I got out there."

Of the problems of a lefthander working in Fenway, he said, "I don't think it's a question of pitching too carefully in this park. Most of the home runs hit out of here would be out of any park."

A key play in the contest came in second inning when Bill Freehan dropped Gibson's pop foul helping set up the first Boston runs as Gibson then walked to load the bases.

"I heard Norm (Cash) yelling and I thought he was calling for it. Then I realized he was yelling for me to take it," the Bengal catcher said.

The Tigers try to salvage at least one game in the series today when they send Pat Dobson (3-6) against Lee Stange (3-0).

Canadians Score in Hockey Debate

CRANS-SUR-SIERRE, Switzerland (AP) — Canada was given the right Tuesday after two days of hard bargaining before the International Ice Hockey Federation to redeem some stature as a leading country in the game it invented and nurtured.

And looking back, financier Charles Hay of Toronto says it is difficult to explain how Canada overcame the clash of political and economic complexities.

* * *

"I think the only reason we got what we did was because the Canadian delegates presented such a unified front," said Hay, the chairman of Hockey Canada, which operates the country's national team.

* * *

"I'm sure the European countries were amazed that the presidents of the National Hockey League, Hockey Canada, the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association and federal government could unite so successfully on the issue."

The Canadian delegation came to propose to delegates attending the IIHF annual meeting that the World Hockey Championship A pool be declared an open tournament.

This was defeated but granted was the right for the countries in a pool to use nine certified professionals, reinstate amateurs less than six weeks before the World Championship and employ rules with unlimited body checking.

* * *

This does not mean the use of National Hockey League players in the World Tournament at Winnipeg in Montreal next March.

It simply means that any country can use nine professionals below the NHL level and fill its roster with reinstated amateurs who have retired from professional ranks.

The 14-man Canadian delegation was aware it had to lobby effectively for support among the 50 attending delegates — two from each country.

EIGHT VOTES

Canada and the United States were united with eight votes and a number of smaller countries were sympathetic because of the financial structure of the IIHF.

These smaller countries in the B and C pools of the World Championship are carried financially by the A pool tournament and Canada's failure to ice a winning team during the last eight years meant less interest and therefore less revenue.

Three Teams Share 1st in Father-Son Tourney

Three teams shared first place yesterday in the annual Golf Association of Michigan father-son tournament at Barton Hills and Washtenaw country clubs.

* * *

In with 73s were Rudy and son Mark Bartolotti of Plum Hollow, Pat and son Gary Hucker of Essex and Cles and son Ed Shaffran of Washtenaw.

W. H. Brafford and son W. D. posted a 74 to take the first flight honors.

Orioles Sweep Doubleheader From Yankees

By the Associated Press

If the Baltimore Orioles were in a slump, Manager Earl Weaver didn't know about it.

"I wouldn't call it a slump," Weaver said after the Orioles swept a doubleheader from the New York Yankees Tuesday night, 10-3 and 4-1, ending a skein of five losses in seven games.

* * *

"Two of the five losses were to Mickey Lolich, one to Denny McLain and one to Mel Stottlemyne," Weaver said, rationalizing as best he could.

"What I mean is," Weaver added, "you can't catch those guys all in a row, and beat them every time out."

* * *

RECORD SET

In the opener, the Orioles scored a club record 10 runs in the fourth inning on nine hits— seven in succession with two outs after New York Manager Ralph Houk ordered an intentional walk to bring pitcher Tom Phoebus to the plate.

But Phoebus, now 8-2, rapped out his second hit on a 1-2 pitch, to drive in the third run of the inning, and Mark Belanger, Paul Blair and Frank Robinson followed with run-scoring singles to chase loser Fritz Peterson.

* * *

Boog Powell, who also drove in two second-game runs to give him 79 RBI, then clubbed a three-run homer off reliever Mike Kekich, Brooks Robinson singled and rode home on Dave Johnson's double.

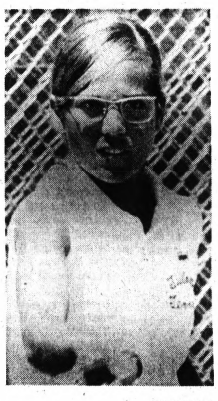

* * *

* * *

While Oriole batters were too fast for Houk in the opener, the Yankee skipper was too slow for umpire Bob Stewart in the nightcap.

LEADING LADY — Linda Tuero, a member of the Tulane University varsity tennis team and No. 1 seed in the women's division of the U.S. Amateur Tournament, advanced to the second round of the tourney yesterday with a 6-1, 6-1 victory over Sue Dalrymple of Rochester, N.Y.

Scott, Fishbach Meet in Amateur Tennis Play

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — Top-seeded Eugene Scott of New York, a former Davis Cupper, faced Long Island star Pete Fishbach today in the feature match of today's third round of the U.S. Amateur Tennis Championships.

* * *

Scott, a 31-year-old attorney, breezed past William Cullen, the tennis coach at West Point, 6-1, 6-2, 6-2 Tuesday while Fishbach, from Great Neck, N.Y., dropped a set before he eliminated Michael Machette of Belvedere, Calif., 6-1, 4-6, 6-0, 6-4.

* * *

In women's play, top-seeded Linda Tuero, a Tulane University coed from Metairie, La., lost only two games in ousting Sue Dalrymple of Rochester, N.Y., 6-1, 6-1. Miss Tuero rested today while the other women players completed the second round.

Emilie Burrer, a June graduate of Trinity, Tex., University faced Shari Barman of Los Angeles in the key distaff match today.

Braves Feel Pain From L.A. Aches

By the Associated Press

The Los Angeles Dodgers ache all over but the Atlanta Braves are the ones feeling the pain.

Led by super-cripple Manny Mota, who banged out eight hits, one short of the major league record for most hits in a doubleheader, the Dodgers swept Atlanta 5-3 and 4-3 Tuesday night and took over first place in the National League West from the Braves by onehalf game.

* * *

After rapping seven singles and a double in 10 at-bats, driving in three runs, scoring twice and stealing a base, Mota limped into the clubhouse, where his left elbow and left knee were packed in ice.

Mota broke the elbow playing winter ball in the Dominican Republic and injured the knee sliding a few days ago. The elbow probably will require postseason surgery, but the injuries didn't stop the 5-foot-11, 168-pound outfielder from raising his average since coming to the Dodgers from Montreal to .412 and his over-all mark to .366.

Elsewhere, the New York Mets rallied to nip Chicago 4-3 and trimmed the Cubs' lead in the East to four games, Cincinnati whipped San Diego 8-2, San Francisco turned back Houston 7-4, St. Louis downed Philadelphia 6-3 and Pittsburgh walloped Montreal 8-2.

Mota's big night began with an infield hit in the first inning of the opener, after Hank Aaron had put the Braves ahead 1-0 with his 23rd home run and 533rd of his career. Willie Davis singled Mota to third and they both scored when Orlando Cepeda threw wildly to second trying to trap Davis in a rundown.

* * *

In the third inning, Mota singled and was out trying for a double. In the fourth, he doubled a run home and was out trying for third. In the sixth he got a harmless single and he flied out in the eighth.

Mota singled in the first inning of the second game and stole second, but was stranded. He wasted a single in the third and grounded out in the sixth, one of 14 straight batters retired by Ron Reed.

But Maury Wills broke the spell in the eighth with a two-out triple and Mota singled him in, cutting Atlanta's lead to 2-1. Mota then scored the tying run on singles by Davis and Len Gabrielson.

The Braves went ahead 3-2 in the ninth on Rico Carty's pinch double, but Tom Haller, who homered in the first game, started another rally with a leadoff double in the Dodgers' half. A single by Bill Sudakis knotted the score again and, after a single by Willie Crawford, the Braves elected to walk Wills intentionally and pitch to Mota. He promptly singled, scoring Sudakis with the winning run.

* * *

Davis, who was hit on the wrist by a pitch Sunday and had trouble squeezing the bat, collected three singles and a triple; Haller, who has two swollen ankles after being hit by foul balls, had a single, double and home run, and Wes Parker, still bothered by a persistent hamstring pull, singled in a first-game run.

Teen Leads West Golf Tournament

ROCKFORD, Ill. (AP) — Pat Fitzsimons, an 18-year-old from Salem, Ore., fired an opening round three-under-par 68 Tuesday to gain the lead in the Western Amateur Golf Tournament.

Fitzsimons parred the first 14 holes over the par 35-36—71 Rockford Country Club course, then fired three consecutive birdies before parring the final hole.

William Kratzert, 17, of Fort Wayne, Ind., and Pat Welch, 22, of Auburn, Ind., were tied for second place, one stroke back with 69s.

Rich Grigas, 19, of Grand Rapids, Mich., fired 34-36—70, and Lynn Janson, 21, East Lansing, Mich., had 35-35—70.

TEEING OFF

By FLETCHER SPEARS

On a recent stop in the state National PGA president Leo Fraser wondered out loud amid reporters, "Why we couldn't have two pro tournaments going at the same time?"

"Say, one here in the Detroit area and another in New York. What d'you think?" he asked.

The immediate thought was how in the world could you have Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus in two places at the same time. Same for Lee Trevino, Julius Boros, Dave Hill and even old Army sergeant Orville Moody.

The just concluded Buick Open may have given Leo some of his answer. From the success at Warwick Hills, it's obvious that a tournament can be a success without the presence of drawing cards like Arnie and Jack.

Measured in figures, the Buick was a success. Hill's winning 277 was just three shots off the record 274 of Boros a few years back, and a record-day crowd of some 29,000 fans jostled each other for seeing room in the wrap-up Sunday. And probably no more than half of them had passes.

STARS ELSEWHERE

While the Buick was in progress, Nicklaus, Palmer, Trevino and the likes were elsewhere, with most of them across the ocean practicing for this week's British Open.

★ ★

Leo's question though, was what would have happened to the Buick if Palmer and Nicklaus were out east along with half of the pro touring crowd playing in an event the same time.

The point was raised by Leo because of the rising number of professionals trying to make a living on the golfing circuit and because of the obvious increased interest by fans in pro golf.

"If there were two tournaments in progress at the same time, would you invest your money?" Leo asked a writer. "I would," said Leo. Looks like you'd do well, Leo.

Troy's Bob Wood, who won the Syron Memorial over the weekend at Pontiac Country Club, is a long-time acquaintance of the Syron family.

START AS CADDY

Bob's just 25, but he used to caddy at Detroit Golf Club when Huey Syron, brother of Frank Sr. in whose memory the tournament is held, was caddymaster there.

★ ★ ★

Both Huey and Frank Sr. came to Michigan from Chicago back in the 1920's. Frank became caddymaster at Bloomfield Hills Country Club (later pro at Orchard Lake before buying Pontiac CC), while Huey was caddymaster at Detroit Golf Club for 37 years.

In 1960, Wood played on Huey's caddy team at Detroit GC and that year won the Michigan Caddy Championship.

HITS POLICY

A caddy policy of the Professional Golfers Association has drawn some fire from Jim Dewling, president of the Michigan Caddy Superintendents Association.

★ ★ ★

In a letter to PGA tournament director Jack Tuthill this week, Dewling was objecting to the use of traveling caddies by touring professionals.

"There were 45 players at the Buick who brought their own caddies," said Dewling. Winner Hill was among them.

Dewling contends the caddies from area private country clubs are qualified for the bag-toting jobs. It's a competitive thing for the area caddies, too. Only the best from each club will be sent to Grand Blanc says Dewling.

Holly Greens pro Lance Van Natta, in his first professional tournament, carded a 150 to place 35th in a field of 130 last week in the 'Little Buick' at Grand Blanc Country Club.

State Tourney in Waterford

Netters Will Compete Under Jaycee Flag

A state Junior Tennis Tournament sponsored by the Waterford Jaycees is slated for Saturday and Sunday at two high school courts in Waterford Township.

Some 15 teams from communities throughout the state are expected for the event. Competition will get under way at 9 a.m. on both Saturday and Sunday on courts at Waterford and Kettering high schools.

Players will compete in three age divisions: 12-14, 14-16 and 16-18.

Waterford has several entrants in the event. Gary Williams is in the 12-14 singles; Eric Gage is entered in the 14-16 singles and in the doubles with Chris Beam; while Rodger Reed will try his hand in the 16-18 singles and in the doubles with Gary Dovre.

Baltimore Bombs Yank Pitchers

After the Orioles raked starter Bill Burbach for three runs in the first inning, one on a Blair triple, and threatened again in the second, Houk went out to visit Burbach.

Following a long delay, Stewart also went to the mound. An argument ensued, and Houk was ejected for delaying the game.

Elsewhere, Chicago shackled Oakland slugger Reggie Jackson in a doubleheader split with the Athletics, taking the nightcap 5-2 after a 2-1 loss; Cleveland pitched around big Frank Howard and nipped Washington 6-5; Cesar Tovar's first 1969 homer got Minnesota past Kansas City 4-3 and Seattle beat California 3-1 on Don Mincher's threerun blast.

Jackson, the majors' home run leader with 34, went hitless in six trips at Chicago, where the Athletics took the opener behind Jim "Catfish" Hunter and the White Sox rebounded on a bases-loaded triple by Tom McCraw.

Hunter scattered seven hits and struck out 10 as the A's snapped a four-game losing streak, but McCraw's sixth inning shot keyed a four-run Chicago flurry that decided the nightcap.

Jackson, whose errant throw in the third inning of the nightcap hit teammate Danny Cater in the back of the neck, knocking him out of the game, has gone 5-for-30, with only one homer, against the White Sox this year.

Cleveland pitchers walked Howard, who smacked his 31st and 32nd homers Monday night against the Indians, twice intentionally—once with the bases empty—and a third time semiintentionally.

★ ★ ★

The Gentle Giant still managed to deliver one run with a sacrifice fly, but the Indians came from behind to win with a three-run seventh inning rally climaxed by Ken Harrelson's 13th homer.

Tovar hit a two-run homer in the eighth for Minnesota giving the Twins their fifth straight victory for a 3½ game West Division lead over Oakland. The bantam infielder had tied the game in the seventh, cracking a single, stealing second and raring home on Ted Uhlaender's single.

Seattle's Gary Roggenburk, staked to a 3-1 first inning lead by ex-Angel Mincher's 14th homer, checked California on five hits, registering his first complete game in the majors.

COLLEGE CHAMP

Joaquin Loyo-Mayo of Mexico, the collegiate champion from Southern California, played F. D. Robbins of Salt Lake City, Utah, after a troublesome second-round encounter with Ned Wald of Weston, Mass.

Loyo-Mayo, seeded second, rallied from set point twice before beating Wald 6-3, 8-6, 8-6. The Mexican was down 5-2, 5-2 in the second and third sets.

Herb Rapp of Decatur, Ill., fresh from a 3-6, 6-2, 6-2, 7-5 upset over third-seeded H. Thomas Leonard of Los Angeles, was expected to have an easier time with James Pressley of Palm Beach, Fla.

★ ★ ★

Carolyn Clarke, the Junior Wightman Cupper from Beaver Falls, Pa., was idle after a surprise 8-6, 6-3 second round victory over third-seeded Peggy Moore of New Orleans.

Unseeded Charlie Owens, who eliminated eighth-seeded Bob McKinley in a five-set marathon in which both players were bothered by leg cramps, faced Terry Hassal of Wilmington, Del. Owens, from Tuscaloosa, Ala., fought off McKinley, of St. Ann, Mo., 3-6, 8-6, 6-2, 3-6, 6-4.

After losing three of the first four games the Detroit Tigers won the World Series. Only two other teams won the series that way.

Byrne Losing Golf Titles

One Year Makes Big Difference

My, what a difference a year makes.

Lake year, Chuck Byrne was the 'King of the Hill' on the invitational golfing circuit as he made it to the winner's circle on three occasions.

It's just the opposite this year. He and Dave Fett earlier this season lost their Pine Lake Invitational crown. Next, Chuck and Joe Brisson were relieved of their Red Run title.

THIRD DEFENSE

Now it's time for a third title defense, and he and Brisson will go about trying to hang onto their Birmingham crown when play opens in the 23rd event tomorrow.

★ ★ ★

There'll be some familiar names on hand, too, some that will be eager to get a return shot at Byrne and Brisson.

BROTHER TEAM

There's the brother team of Jim and Bill Stephenson, who fell to Bryne and Brisson in the finale, 1 up. Another family combination that bit the dust through the efforts of Bryne and Brisson is the father-son duo of Rollie and Rich Weyand.

★ ★ ★

Single rounds are slated tomorrow and Friday with the semifinals and finals on tap for Saturday.

SECOND WIN

Bryne and Brisson also won the title in 1966, and Bryne won it with Dave Paul in 1962.

★ ★ ★

Angelo Lotti, the 1968 Michigan Seniors' titlist, and Peter Jackson of Red Run, who won in 1967, are among the entrants.

FORMER CHAMP

Chuck Kocsis of Red Run, who won the title twice with James Nick in 1956 and 1958, will team with Dale Springer in this year's event.

★ ★ ★

But Stevens of Western, who teamed with Elmer Ellstrom to take the 1965 crown, joins John Panelli this year.

FAMILY PAIR

Another strong family combination is that of Ray Palmer, former National Seniors champion, and son Ron of Grosse Ile.

WORK YOUR WAY IN FROM THE MIDDLE

HITTING FOR THE MIDDLE OF A GREEN WILL, IN MOST CASES, GET YOU CLOSER TO THE HOLE THAN GOING STRAIGHT FOR THE PIN.

WHEN THE FLAG IS LOCATED ON THE LEFT, MY METHOD IS TO HIT FOR THE MIDDLE OF THE GREEN USING A HOOK TO WORK THE BALL IN. IF THE PIN IS ON THE RIGHT, I'LL FADE TO THE MIDDLE AND LET THE BALL SPIN TO THE HOLE.

IF THE PIN IS FAR TO THE REAR, I'LL PLAY THE BALL LOW AND SHORT TO RUN MORE. FOR A FORWARD PIN PLACEMENT, I'LL PLAY THE SHOT HIGH TO STOP QUICKLY.

Junior Baseball Has 4 Heroes

Unassisted Triple Play in T-Ball Action

Four youngsters in the city's junior baseball program today are savoring the thrill of being a sports hero; one used his glove, one his pitching arm and the other two swung their bats at the right moment.

Billy Howell of the Class D Fraternal order of Police unit cracked a tie-breaking home run with one out in the bottom of the sixth inning for a 5-4 triumph over the Met Club Tuesday evening.

* * *

Yesterday morning in the Widget National program, Bryan Wilson's triple snapped a stalemate and gave the younger Met Club team a 5-4 verdict over Aladdin Vending.

In the T-Ball action, Fletcher Spear's unassisted triple play featured the 8-7 conquest of the Angels over the Pirates.

* * *

A Monday Class E contest that was reported late saw Rochester pitcher Rick Hallauer toss a no-hitter to defeat the Auburn Heights Boys Club, 6-0. At one time, he retired 12 straight batters.

Defending Champ Gains in City Baseball League

The defending city champion R. T. Clippers surged into second place in the men's Class A city baseball league Tuesday night with a 7-1 rout of Talbott Lumber.

Pitcher Jim Horner, making only his second start in the circuit this season, limited the lumbermen to just one hit and an unearned run. The win is the Clippers' sixth in a row after an early season run famine.

Also last night, Teamsters 614 staged the loop's biggest last-ditch rally of the summer to pull out an 8-5 triumph over C.I.O. Local 594 and tie the losers for fourth place.

* * *

Horner whiffed 12, including the first five batters he faced and seven of the first nine Talbott hitters, and had a no-hitter until Rick Rhoney singled with one out in the sixth.

* * *

He and Al Thomas were in a 0-0 duel until the Clippers erupted for their first four hits and five runs in the last of the fifth inning. Willie Holloman's single broke the scoreless tie, and Bob Martin's two-run double capped the outburst.

Santos Sanchez tripled in the sixth for two more tallies. Talbott spoiled Horner's try for a shutout by bunching two walks, a passed ball and a force out for a run in the last frame.

The victory gives the Clippers a 9-5 mark, while Talbott slipped to third place with a 7-5 log.

ONE OUT LEFT

The Teamsters trailed, 5-2, and were down to their final out when they clawed their way to an uphill win. Six straight men reached base and scored before the C.I.O. squad could retire the last man.

* * *

Sandy Heavenrich's two-run triple ignited the explosion. He then scored the tying marker on an error by the third baseman. Two walks were sandwiched around a single by Randy Sutt led to three more gift runs.

* * *

The tie-breaking tally scored on a passed ball, and a two-run error padded the lead. Don Picmann benefitted from the outburst to register the mound decision in relief, his fourth win without a defeat.

2 Milford Teams Find Six Runs Proper Amount

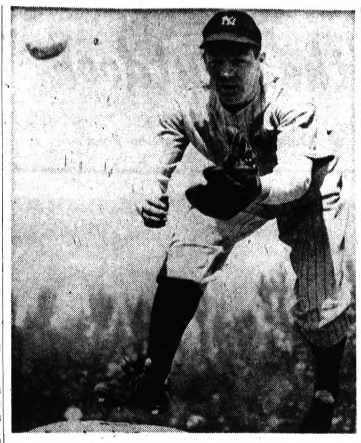

Milford Car Wash came from behind with a six-run rally in the sixth inning to polish off Emily Pure Oil, 8-5, in a Milford Slow-Pitch Softball League game last night.

* * *

Greg Richter had three RBI's and went two for three for Car Wash, with a record of 1-1 in the second round.

In the other game, Oxbow Window (2-0) downed C & L Construction, 6-4. Oxbow's Bob Barns went three for three as did Lou Ostrander for C & L.

Nineteen Belmont Stakes winners have become 3-year-old racing champions.

YANKEE GREAT — Robert A. (Red) Rolfe, who died yesterday at age 60, is shown during his playing days with the New York Yankees. A third baseman, Rolfe's best year was in 1939 when he batted .329 and led the American League in hits, doubles and runs scored.

Private Service Set for Ex-Yankee Star

GILFORD, N.H. (AP) — Private funeral services will be held Thursday in Penacook for ex-New York Yankee great Robert A. "Red" Rolfe.

Rolfe, who recently was named the Yankees' all-time third baseman, died Tuesday at his home on Governor's Island in Gilford after a long illness. He was 60.

* * *

Rolfe's career included brilliant performances as a player and as a coach. At Dartmouth College he led the 1930 team to its first Eastern Intercollegiate baseball league championship. Later with the Yankees, he helped the New York club win five world championships from 1936 to 1942.

Forced to retire from the Yankees in 1942 because of poor health, Rolfe turned to coaching. At Yale he served as head baseball and basketball coach. He returned to the Yankees as a coach in 1946 but stayed only one season.

CAGE MENTOR

He then went to Toronto as a coach in the early days of the National Basketball Association.

After a year with basketball, Rolfe returned to baseball, first as director of the Detroit Tigers' farm system in 1948 and as the team's manager the following year.

* * *

He was named American League manager of the year after steering the Tigers to a second-place finish. He stayed with Detroit until 1952, when he was replaced midway through the season by the late Fred Hutchinson.

* * *

A native of Penacook, Rolfe returned to New Hampshire in 1954 and became athletic director at Dartmouth, a post he held for 13 years.

* * *

As the regular third baseman for the Yankees from 1935 through 1941, Rolfe compiled a lifetime batting average of .289. His best year was 1939 when he batted .329 and led the league in hits, doubles and runs scored.

He leaves his widow, the former Isabel Africa, whom he married in 1943.

Cubs' Margin Sliced by Mets

9th-Inning Comeback Saves New York

It was Atlanta's sixth defeat in eight games, all coming in doubleheaders last Friday, Sunday and Tuesday night.

Cleon Jones belted a game-tying two-run double and scored the winning run on Ed Kranepool's two-out bloop single as the amazing Mets rallied for three runs in the ninth to trip the Cubs and Ferguson Jenkins.

Until the fateful last inning, Jenkins had allowed only one hit, Kranepool's fifth-inning homer. Ernie Banks and Jim Hickman connected for Chicago.

Tony Cloninger hurled a five-hitter, retiring the side in order in seven of the nine innings, and Tommy Helms and Alex Johnson laced two-run singles as Cincinnati overpowered San Diego. The Reds trail Los Angeles by three games.

Wixom Fails in Bid for 2nd Place

Imperial Molded Products retained sole possession of second place in the Walled Lake Industrial Slowpitch softball A League last night by upending third-place Wixom, 9-5, as Pete Kerttu swung the big bat.

Imperial (9-3) profitted from a two-run homer by Kerttu in the second inning and he added to his contribution with two more runs batted in later.

Mike Tobias thwarted the Wixom Athletics' final bid to gain a tie for the runner-up slot, pulling an unassisted double play at first base to end the game. The defeat drops Wixom to 8-5.

Hold Yachting Lead

BOSTON (AP) — Jubo, Jubilee III, Geronimo, Tala and Tantara are reported as the second day leaders in the annual Marblehead to Halifax ocean race.

City Slowpitch Team Unleashes Its Fury

Relentless Conn's Clothes, the city's softball league's only unbeaten slowpitch team, demolished Designers' Cabinet Shop, 34-1 in five innings Tuesday night.

The men's store clouted 21 extra-base-hits among its 30 safeties, and sprayed seven home runs over the close-in fences at Baudette Park.

Cliff Armstrong led the assault by blasting a grand-slam homer, a three-run homer, three doubles with which he scored twice and drove in two other teammates.

Larry Peet and Cy Green, the one-two men in the Conn's lineup, had four hits each. All the hitting plus a tight defense enabled Paul Simmons to coast on a one-hitter. Conns' is now 14-0.

WINNING SINGLE

J. A. Fredman needed an eighth-inning single by Tom Davis to beat stubborn Oxford Mattress, 3-2, and regain a share of second place behind Conn's. Fredman's is now 3-2 and the mattressmen sank to 3-11.

The losers posted both of their runs in the third inning and the 2-2 tie persisted from the fourth inning on after Ivan Martinez singled to knot the game.

In two other high-scoring contests last night, The Congregation padded its A League National Division lead with a 12-4 romp over Local 594, and Grubb's Kennels caged 1st Christian Church, 18-3.

Chuck Mason's lead-off home run started a five-run first inning that enabled the Congregation to overcome a 2-0 union edge. Earl Richardson had key doubles in the big first and fourth innings of the winners (9-6).

* * *

Grubb's squared its mark at 7-7 with a 23-hit onslaught that featured four singles by Dick Lewis and three-hit nights for five of his teammates.

Catfish Offer Angling Action

Bluegill and bass fishing in Southeastern Michigan was pretty much washed out by too much water July 4th and still hasn't fully recovered.

So let's delve into one of the lesser lights on the list of fish catchable in Michigan. The channel catfish is a good battler and tops in the frying pay, but is overlooked by most anglers.

One reason is because catfish are confined mostly to some of the larger rivers and the Great Lakes. However, the Department of Natural Resources is beginning to stock them in some inland lakes.

Lake St. Clair is rated a catfish factory. Saginaw Bay also ranks high. Many fishermen who live near these two locations take advantage of the potential offered. But the majority are more interested in perch, walleyes or blackbass.

FAVORED HAUNTS

Bill Coffie, 418 Emerson, spends considerable time seeking the favored haunts of channel cats. In fact, he and his sons — Harley, John, James and Glenn — go to Wisconsin each year for that reason. They have just returned and Coffie reports about 100 taken from the Rock River near Ft. Atkinson.

Otherwise Coffie fishes Lake St. Clair off the Clinton River spillway.

★ ★ ★

"I use nightcrawlers and let the bait to the bottom," he said. "That way I often catch perch, rock bass or an occasional walleye that I wouldn't get if I fished with shrimp. If I used just shrimp, I would catch only catfish."

Another bait favored by anglers is crawfish.

15 POUNDERS

Most of Coffie's catfish, and those taken by others, run in the two to five-pound class. But some get much larger. Coffie said he has taken them to 15 pounds and DNR netters on Lake St. Clair report a few to 18 pounds.

Unlike his bottom feeding cousin, the bullhead, a catfish will strike deep running plugs and often is caught on minnors. Best action on St. Clair and the Bay is from late June through July.

Name Judges for Summer PKC Show

A judge from England will select the best-in-show winner of The Pontiac Press trophy in the annual Pontiac Kennel Club summer show Aug. 17 at Wisner Field.

William Burrow, Cheshire, leads the panel of 12 judges for the all-breed bench and obedience event.

★ ★ ★

Group judges will be Mrs. James E. Clark, Cecilton, Md., sporting; Cecil Y. Smith, Palmyra, N.Y., hound; Lee E. Murray, Ft. Worth, Tex., working and toy; Mrs. Winifred L. Heckman, Elliott City, Md., terrier; and Mrs. Byron Hofman, Toledo, non-sporting.

Other judges will be Dr. Richard F. Greathouse, Jefferstown, Ky.; Loy F. Green, Berea, Ohio; Norman L. Korn, Taylor; Hayden H. Martin, Gary, Ind.; George C. Spradling, Wichita, Kan.; and Mrs. M. Lynwood Walton, Mt. Holly, N.J.

Green and Korn will judge obedience.

The PKC show will be on Sunday, following Friday's show at Traverse City and Saturday's at Flint. Premium list will be available from Bow Dog Show Organization in Detroit. The deadline for entering is the same for all three shows, July 29.

Sails Like Lightning

Wins PYC Championship

Dr. Leo Wasserberger and his crew swept all three races to win the Pontiac Yacht Club championships that were completed last weekend on Cass Lake.

Wasserberger, 2154 Park Circle, Keego Harbor, and his crew, Pete Young, Troy and Hank Callahan, 3809 Airport, Waterford Township, with their boat, the Algernon, defeated 21 other lightning class boats entered in the championships.

It was their 28th year of competition.

★ ★ ★

Runners-up were Dr. Jim McCoy and his wife Julie of West Bloomfield and Jim Grogan of Farmington, with fourth, sixth and second places in the three races.

The third spot was captured by Roy Nelson and his sons Bill and Roy Jr., 3820 Burning Tree, Bloomfield Hills, taking third, fourth and sixth places in the races.

★ ★ ★

In the first race, the runner-up was George Berry of Oak Park in White Supremacy. Third were the Nelsons.

The second race runner-up was Roger Asbury of West Bloomfield with third place taken by Jack Ostrander, 5766 Loch Leven, Pontiac.

Dr. McCoy was runner-up in the third race and third place was won by Gene Bego of Southfield.

BUILDERS — Officers and directors who had a hand in building a home for the Michigan Trapshooting Association at Mason are (from left) Bill Harrington, Waterford; Arthur F. Hickey, Saginaw; George McKay, Battle Creek; Forest E. Toyer, Marine City; Russ Saathoff, Niles; Boyd R. Williams, Davison; and Martin V. Clark, Albion. Williams is the current president and Harrington, a director, also has charge of the grounds and facilities at Mason.

Comes of Age

Permanent Trapshoot Home

MASON (AP)—Trapshooting has been organized in Michigan since the 1920s, but this clay-target sport finally became of age when state shooters adopted this community as their permanent home.

Their new shooting grounds along M-127 just south of here will host the Michigan State Trapshoot Thursday through Sunday for only the second time.

★ ★ ★

A year ago, officers and directors of the Michigan Trapshooting Association (MTA) might well have had second thoughts about striking out on their own.

Only their enthusiasm overshadowed what had to be considered a shaky financial venture. And they were beset by a seemingly impossible time schedule, to say nothing of almost catastrophic weather conditions.

RAPID GROWTH

The MTA, some 2,000 strong, had decided late in 1967 that it must have its own grounds if it were to keep up with the rapid growth of trapshooting as a competitive sport.

For years it had used the facilities of the Detroit Gun Club near Walled Lake, but it was evident in 1966 that the state shoot had outgrown the club's 12 fields. And Detroit is the largest club in Michigan.

After some preliminary talks, the MTA decided in September, 1967, to purchase 228 acres of flat farmland adjoining M-127 and near one of its interchanges.

It wasn't until April, 1968, however, that the first contract was let — for construction of 20 trap fields. Yet the MTA had as its goal a state zone shoot (Lower Michigan is divided into three zones) June 29-30 and the state trap shoot July 11-14.

MUDDY SHOOT

Nine inches of rain made a quagmire of the fields just a week before the zone shoot, but somehow it was held.

Two weeks later salt had to be spread on roads to keep the dust down. More than 700 shooters participated in that first state shoot, assuring the MTA that it had the right move in establishing its own shooting fields.

Today the place looks like a well-kept golf course. And the facilities, which include a clubhouse, shower and toilet buildings, are valued at from $200,000 to $250,000. Six more trap fields have been constructed.

The Michigan state shoot already is one of the largest in the country, according to Boyd R. Williams, Davison, president of the MTA.

SECOND LARGEST

With its expanded facilities, he said, it has every possibility of becoming the second largest — next to Ohio — in the nation. Because Ohio holds its state shoot on the grounds of the Amateur Trapshooting Association (ATA) at Vandalia, Williams explained, it has always had the largest state shoot.

ATA is the national trapshooting organization. It's 100 trap fields anually host the Grand American Trapshoot, the largest clay-target event in the country.

First to build such an extensive layout for state shooters, Michigan is being watched by other state organizations that either do not have their own grounds or who do not have adequate shooting facilities, Williams said.

Fish Derby Leaders Remain Unchanged

There were no changes in The Pontiac Press Fish Contest during the last week.

Leader in the blackbass division is a six-pound, five-ounce largemouth. Top pike is a nine-pounder. Edward G. Barber of Warren caught a 10-pound northern Monday at Pontic Lake but it was not eligible for the contest because Barber lives outside of Oakland County.

Entries must also be caught in county waters. Top prize in each division is a $50 savings bond. The contest will close Sept. 2.

Commission at Higgins Lake

Antlerless Deer Quotas Top Item

Antlerless deer hunting quotas will be the biggest issue before the Natural Resources Commission Thursday and Friday at Higgins Lake training school.

The commission will formally set all hunting seasons except for waterfowl. Included in the DNR recommendations is the reopening of Oakland County to quail hunting after a two-year closure.

The season, if approved as expected, would be Nov. 1-20.

★ ★ ★

All other seasons are basically the same as last year with some adjustments in sharptailed grouse gunning and the possibility of a limited bear hunting in the Lower Peninsula.

Thursday's commission session will start at 1:30 p.m. Formal action on agenda items will begin at 9 a.m. Friday.

SLIGHT DROP

The game division is recommending a kill of 45,590 antlerless deer this fall, a slight reduction from the quota of 46,155 last season.

The proposed quota for the Upper Peninsula has been scaled down nearly 19 per cent from the past season, to 11,985 antlerless deer. Department experts said between one-third to one-half of the area fawn crop was believed lost because of the severe winter.

Deer came through the winter in relatively good shape in the northern lower peninsula. The antlerless deer quota for the area is proposed at 30,115, a four per cent increase over the 1968 figure.

The quota of does and fawns for southern Lower Michigan has been increased from 2,470 to 3,490 with an additional 3,000 square miles open to hunting.

Game experts contend the increase is justified by the growing deer herd in the area and a resultant growth in crop damage.

In a protective measure, it is proposed that Dickinson and Iron Counties be added to Upper Peninsula area off limits for shooting of sharptailed grouse. Game experts said grouse populations in these counties have been decreasing.

★ ★ ★

A shorter sharptailed grouse season for the Upper Peninsula also is proposed. The recommendation is for an Oct. 1-15 season instead of Oct, 1-Nov. 10, as in recent years.

Trout Ponds 'Treated'

Chemical treatment to remove fish from all special trout ponds in Oakland County has been completed by the Department of Natural Resources.

The small, upper pond near Fenton has been stocked with black bass fry and will be used as a rearing pond, according to fish biologists at the Pontiac Lake district office.

The larger pond is being drawn down and probably will be restocked with panfish and bass to provide a warm-water fishery from shore.

"There is nothing definite on this," said Melvin Bonham, "but we are taking a look in that direction."

Bonham said very few trout were recovered from the Fenton, Davisburg, Bald Mountain and Pettibone ponds. Suckers, bullheads, small bluegills and a few carp dominated the kill.

★ ★ ★

All ponds will be drawn down for the remainder of the summer to kill heavy aquatic growth.

Troy Firm Rates as No. 2 Car Maker

DETROIT (UPI) — Bet you thought General Motors was the world's biggest manufacturer of automobiles.

Wrong.

Two other companies claim to be the world's largest auto makers, even though you'll never ride in one of their products. One is Mattel Inc. of Hawthorne, Calif., which makes more than 30 million toy automobiles a year, nearly six times as many as GM, and more than are produced by all the world's big-sized automobile makers combined.

* * *

The other is a Michigan company, AMT Corp. of Troy, which makes model cars, patterned exactly after the big cars down to the last detail, and makes more than 20 million a year.

So of the more than 80 million toy and model cars produced in this country each year, these two companies, Mattel and AMT dominate the market.

DESERVES DISTINCTION

But it is AMT that probably deserves the distinction because it does not make toy cars in that sense of the word, but rather exact duplicates, on a 1-25 scale, of the products of the major car makers of the world.

The company not only makes models of all the new cars coming out each year, it produced cars of all nameplates dating back to the 1925 Model T Ford. Out of the 20 million plastic cars it sells each year, only about 3 million are the current models.

* * *

It's a $12-million-a-year business for AMT. In its inventory, it has 375 dies of different makes of automobile. It even has five dies of the Edsel.

AMT gets cooperation from all the auto companies in making preparations for brining out the new model cars each year.

STRICTLY CONFIDENTIAL

Carl Clendenin, president of AMT, says that, along about January, the auto companies make available to his company, on a confidential basis, the complete blueprints of their cars coming out for the next model year.

AMT handles them in a complete secrecy as the auto companies themselves.

* * *

From these blueprints, the company makes up wood or clay models on a 1-10 scale. Then, after consultation with the auto companies that all details are accurate, the company pantagraphs them down to the 1-25 scale.

Then dies are made. The company spends $50,000 for each die, plus about $20.00 thousand in engineering and planning.

ITS OWN DEBUT

When the new models come out, AMT has its own "introductions" the day after the auto companies place their cars in the dealer show rooms.

Accuracy in reproducing cars is a watchword at AMT Clendenin says the "kids" are, of course, the biggest buyers of AMT's products, and he says you can't fool them.

* * *

Says Clendenin, "One boy wrote us a complaint about last year's Shelby Cobra. He pointed out that we had set the tachometer on the instrument panel at zero. The Shelby Cobra engine will turn up as high as 7,300 rpm. He wanted us to set out tachometer at about 7,200 for realism."

But Clendenin pointed out that the tachometer on the instrument panel of the model Shelby-Cobra that AMT turns out is only about the size of the head of a pin. He added. "These kids examine the details on our cars under microscopes, believe it or not."

AMT has jut brought out a new model that is not patterned after an existing big-car nameplate . . . something unusual for the company.

It's called the "Amtronic."

It's a 21st century car, representing the best thinking of the auto industry on what cars will look like, and what the requirements of travel and road conditions will be. It's powered theoretically by solar batteries, says Clendenin.

* * *

Before completing it, however, AMT consulted Goodyear Rubber Co. on what kind of a tire a 21st Century car should have. Goodyear made a full-size tire with the features its scientists thought a tire should have. AMT copied that tire and it's on the "Amtronic" car, avilable in kit-form.

"By the way," says Clendenin . . . "AMT also is the world's biggest tire maker, too."

His company each year turns out 72 million vinyl tires about the size of a candy Life Saver.

I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW

By John Carter

Here's quite an oddity about golf balls . . . Oddly enough, the number 1.6 occurs in both the weight and the diameter of golf balls . . . Golf rules say golf balls should weigh 1.6 ounces and be 1.6 inches in diameter.

*

With the All-Star baseball game coming up, here's one of those ironic oddities that make sports so interesting . . . In the first All-Star game ever played, in 1933, the American League lineup had some of the greatest hitters of all-time such as Babe Ruth, Lou Gehrig and Al Simmons—yet the man who batted in the first run in the history of All-Star competition was not any of the great sluggers, but the weakest hitter on the team—Lefty Gomez! . . . Strange, isn't it?

* * *

Here's a question for you about hunting . . . Do you have any idea which animal is considered by experienced big-game hunters to be the most dangerous animal alive? . . . It's the cape buffalo, found in Africa . . . Experts feel that more hunters have been injured by this beast than by any other, anywhere in the world . . . Isn't it odd that big-game hunters fear the cape buffalo more than other animals such as lions or tigers which are usually considered to be the most ferocious.

* * *

I bet you didn't know . . . that a bargain tire, like a bargain parachute, may work but if it doesn't, you may not get the chance to complain about it. See one of our pros.

Streisand's Vegas Gamble Hits on a Stock Jack Pot

By EARL WILSON

LAS VEGAS — Barbara Streisand gambles.

She gambled on her clothes, she gambled on her nose, and she gambled on the stock of the new $60,000,000 International Hotel, where she had probably the most expensive, most glamorous and highest salaried cafe opening of all time.

WILSON

The details of a mysterious $1,000,000-for-a-month deal are secret, but the best possible source disclosed that she bought stock for $100,000 which is now worth $1,200,000.

"She was determined to get stock," this source said. "She got 20,000 shares. It was 5, now it's 60. What does that come to? One million two."

* * *

The little Brooklyn girl with a head for business also gambled with her art. She devised a special piece of business.

"It's kind of tricky," her manager, Marty Erlichman, said.

"I know, but I like to take a gamble on opening night," Barbra said.

As a shock to those anticipating something high fashion, she had planned to come out in dungarees, say with a shrug. "The hotel isn't ready yet, either," then run off and change in 4½ minutes into a flowing raspberry chiffon gown, while 35 musicians played the overture.

She had discussed it with her separated but friendly husband Elliott Gould, a very hot star himself now, who was busy nightfilming "Getting Straight" in Hollywood.

But it was hot, the crowd was restless, and she gave up the idea — probably wisely.

'Most Bomb Damage Fixed in N. Vietnam'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — North Vietnam has practically rebuilt all the bridges, highways, and transshipment points that were destroyed by U.S. planes before the Oct. 31 suspension of bombing, according to Air Force Chief of Staff John P. McConnell.

"Everything is operating up there now very nearly as if it had not even been touched," McConnell said. "I would say the repair is 75 per cent completed."

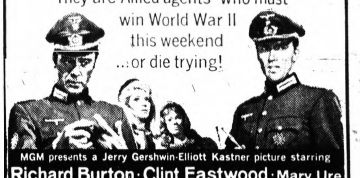

McConnell's assessment was given to the Senate Armed Services Committee in closed session April 16. It was released Monday.

McConnell said that since the bombing halt, "supplies now enter North Vietnam and are brought right down to the DMZ (Demilitarized Zone) without any difficulty, and the tonnages are extremely high."

McConnell predicted North Vietnam will soon be able to infiltrate supplies through the DMZ "Because the weather over there is going to become good.

Opening lead—♥Q

By OSWALD & JAMES JACOBY

A little learning is a dangerous thing. Browse through a medical journal and you may find yourself with symptoms of several fatal diseases. Read a little law and, as an amateur lawyer, you may get into a lot of trouble.

A slight knowledge of safety plays may do the same to a bridge player who refuses to leaven this knowledge with some grains of common sense.

★ ★ ★

South had been reading up on the ace of hearts and counted one heart loser and one diamond loser. He could afford to lose one trump trick.

South had een reading up on safety plays and knew that there was a standard play to guard against the loss of two trump tricks. He led his three of spades and played dummy's seven on West's five. This play protected him against four spades in the West hand. That was roughly a 5 per cent chance.

It did not protect him against all sorts of 2-2 and 3-1 trump breaks combined with a 3-1 break in diamonds.

★ ★ ★

Of course, it took good defense to punish South for his unsafety play but that good defense was forthcoming.

East was in then with the jack of spades. He didn't have too much of a problem. His ace of diamonds was only going to take one trick, no matter when it was played, so he led it.

Then he put West in with a heart. West thought awhile but he was merely wasting time. He was surely going to lead a diamond and, when he did, East ruffed and another game had been lost, strayed or stolen.

CARD Sense

Q—The bidding has been:

| West | North | East | South |
|---|---|---|---|
| | 1♥ | Pass | 1♠ |
| Pass | 2♥ | Pass | 3♦ |
| Pass | 3♥ | Pass | ? |

You, South, hold:

♠A K 9 8 4 ♥3 ♦A K 10 9 2 ♣6 5

What do you do now?

A—Pass is slightly favored but with a conservative partner you might raise him to four hearts. Do not keep on with your own suit.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Instead of rebidding two hearts your partner has jumped to two no-trump over your one spade. You bid three diamonds and he bids three no-trump. What do you do now?

Answer Tomorrow

THE BETTER HALF

Astrological Forecast

By SYDNEY OMARR

For Thursday

BEST BUYS: Great values obtainable today in books, gloves, bracelets, rugs.

SPECIAL HINT: Driving today could be hazardous. Applies to all signs, but especially to GEMINI and SAGITTARIUS. Use caution.

★ ★ ★

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Study SPECIAL HINT. Avoid actions based on impulse. Garbled message could send you on wild-goose chase. Get directions, instructions from authoritative source.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): In money dealings, be sure you are aware of fine print. Read between the lines. Stick with product you know, recognize. No day to take chances in area of basic security.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Vitality is high, but there is definite challenge. You finish one phase of activity and begin another. Many pay heed to what you say and do. Know this and be meticulous in dress, speech.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): You can now take a more independent course. What you were keeping secret is known. You can act in manner more befitting natural desires. Message crystal clear by tonight.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Friends may be argumentative. Remain neutral. Those who battle today could be allies tomorrow. Know this and don't get caught in middle. Share knowledge. Instruct rather than direct.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Conflict could exist between ambitions and basic duties. Family and one in authority seem involved. Be versatile, flexible. Make intelligent concession for sake of peace.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Some of your long-range plans may be subject to abrupt change. Be sure of details. Be specific. Collect facts. Don't neglect important correspondence.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Put off money decisions. More facts are required. Mate, partner is aggressive. But charm, diplomacy can gain you needed time. Act accordingly.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): You could hurt one you love. Avoid this by keeping firm rein on temper. Words can sting as can actual blows. Realize this and strive for harmony.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Practice moderation. Keep resolutions concerned with diet, exercise, proper rest. Important that you take care of basic matters. Leave apparent big projects for another time.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Road to love could contain obstacles. Quarrel mars fine evening if you let emotions get out of control. Realize this; obtain hint from CAPRICORN message.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Career activity intensifies. You have chance to gain greater recognition. Key is to build on solid foundation. Get promises in writing.

IF THURSDAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY you are independent, original and could earn much money. Currently there are details to be ironed out — and a domestic adjustment.

Trading Pace Is Leisurely

Stock Mart Continues Slide

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market continued to slide lower in slow trading early this afternoon, with losses leading gains by more than 400 issues and the Dow Jones industrial average off more than 6 points.

The DJI at noon was off 6.73 at 863.62. Its closing low for the year of 869.76 was reached June 27, as the indicator fell 12.86 Tuesday, its biggest single day loss since Feb. 17.

The dull trading, an analyst said, "indicates there's no great rush to sell." And another remarked that "there's almost a complete lack of buying interest and no incentive to buy. The market appears to be falling of its own weight."

Concern over the fate of the income tax surcharge extension bill continues to weigh on the market, an analyst said. Treasury Secretary David M. Kennedy has said wage and price controls would have to be considered if the extension bill died and other inflation controlling methods failed.

Also continuing to curb investor enthusiasm, they said, was the tense Mideast situation as well as an apparent lack of constructive developments.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off 1.3 at 307.3, with industrials off 2.9, rails off .5, and utilities off .2.

Among conglomerates, which mostly were lower, Ling-Temco-Vought and White Consolidated Industries bucked the trend. LTV gained ½ to 41¼, and White was up ½ at 21¾.

LIKE THREADING A NEEDLE — A midsection of the SS Manhattan is pushed and pulled through the narrow spans of the Chesapeake & Delaware Canal. The Manhattan, largest U.S. merchant vessel, was cut into sections for conversion to icebreaking operations in the Arctic. After reassembly, the ship will test whether the Northwest Passage can be used to transport Arctic oil to the U.S. east-coast market. The trickiest maneuvering was getting the 155-foot-wide section through the opening of an old iron lift bridge where clearance is only 164 feet.

Veto Spurned, Detroit Hikes Water Rates

DETROIT (AP) — Water bills for Detroit residents are almost certain to increase from 30 to 70 per cent, and 100 per cent for industrial users, as a result of a Common Council vote to override a veto by Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh.

The water increase will not affect the Detroit suburbs.

★ ★ ★

The council originally passed a city ordinance amendment that would permit the city to increase water and sewage charges, which the mayor vetoed. The council voted Tuesday 8-0 to override the veto.

Cavanagh had asked that the Council consider running a $10 million deficit rather than increase charges, which the council ignored.

DEBT TRANSFER

The increase in charges will help the city pay off a $105 million general obligation in bonds by transferring the debt from all taxpayers to water users. It will be paid off at the rate of $10 million a year.

Cavanagh warned that the transfer of the debt might endanger the credit rating of the water system and its ability to float bonds in the future. A bond attorney said the security of the present bondholders is not threatened, but did not comment on the effect on future bond sales.

★ ★ ★

Cavanagh aides have argued that the transference of the bond responsibility from all taxpayers to just water users was unfair.

They said people who benefit most from the bond issue, which was used to build storm drains, do not necessarily use much water. Parking lots, a major drainage problem, were cited as the greatest benefactors of the change.

LITIGATION SEEN

Cavanagh also predicted that "litigation is almost certain to result" from the council's decision.

Knife-Wielding Bandits Get $40 From Area Man

An Addison Township man was robbed at knifepoint of $40 in Pontiac early yesterday, he reported to police.

Wesley G. Harris, 32, of 1940 Lakeville said he was backing his pickup truck out of an alley off Hibbard near Bagley when two men approached him.

★ ★ ★

One, he said, put a knife to his throat. Harris said he then grabbed the assailant's arm while the other man grabbed Harris' wallet and truck ignition keys.

The pair then ran west on Hibbard Court, according to Harris.

Cabooses Not Last in Comfort

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. (AP) — The little red caboose, home away from home for railroad crewmen, is getting homey, indeed.

Once upon a time they had just the bare necessities.

★ ★ ★

Now Santa Fe Railway is remodeling 223 to include: Pullman berths, refrigerator, thermostatically controlled oil stove, two-way radio and a swivel-mounted, multiposition upholstered armchair in the dome for observing train operations.

And cabooses ride like parlor cars because of cushion underframes that absorb track jolts.

SLEEPS SIX

The cars sleep six and have an office for the conductor-lighted desk for paper work, plus communications equipment.

The oil stove has a flat top that enables it to double as a cook stove.

★ ★ ★

The caboose, last car on a train, is used by crew members traveling to or from assignments and as headquarters for the conductor of a freight train.

Diploma Doesn't Hold Key for These Graduates

SAN QUENTIN, Calif. (AP) — Bayview schools will confer 352 diplomas and certificates tonight, but there'll be no talk of sending the graduates out into the world—not right away, at least.

A man on death row, Walter Clayton Hines, is among the 137 high school graduates in this prison educational system. He was convicted in 1962 of a killing during a holdup.

★ ★ ★

The first associate of arts degree, for completing the equivalent of two years of college, goes to Donald Eugene Walter, 30, sent up for manslaughter in the auto accident deaths of three little girls in 1964.

Elementary school diplomas go to 111 inmates who never got through the eighth grade before they landed in San Quentin Prison.

LITERARY CERTIFICATES

There are literacy certificates for 72 men who didn't know how to read or write when they went behind bars.

And 31 prisoners completed vocational courses ranging from banking through dental assistant.

Addressing graduation exercises will be Dr. Berkeley Johnson, assistant dean of instruction at nearby Marin Junior College, whose faculty operates the prison's year-old junior college program.

Associate Warden James Park says Hines took the courses "to occupy his mind, and his thinking of going on and taking some college courses. He's an intelligent man."

Hines is now 30 and has been on Death Row since 1963 except for time spent at a retrial in which his penalty was reaffirmed. At present he is under a blanket stay of execution in California pending decisions on several cases before the Supreme Court.

TEACH BY HOUR

The prison's elementary and high school programs have 14 full-time day teachers, and at night up to 25 teachers from throughout the Bay Area who teach by the hour, explains Principal Daryl Hopkins.

★ ★ ★

Bayview is accredited by the Western Association of Schools and Colleges, and "we're the only high school that has this accreditation, earned by and for itself within the walls of a penal institution," says Hopkins.

★ ★ ★

He is particularly proud of results in the literacy courses.

"We've got some new teaching materials—none of this 'run, Jane, run' jazz you get in kids' primers," Hopkins said. "It's in adult language. They're eating it up."

Three weeks ago Bayview figured 56 would get literacy certificates, but another 16 also made it.

★ ★ ★

"The high school programs these men are getting are just as good as kids get on the outside," said Park.

★ ★ ★

"This is a really valuable thing, especially in these days when nobody will even let you in the door unless you have a high school diploma."

Youths Injured in Auto Mishap

A Fenton teen-ager was hospitalized and two other youths injured after their car ran off a Holly Township road early today.

Listed in satisfactory condition in Flint's Hurley Hospital is Larry R. Foland, 16, of Fenton.

★ ★ ★

Driver of the car Russell M. Fay, 19, of Fenton told Oakland County sheriff's deputies the car was traveling 65 miles per hour before entering a curve on Thompson near Halsey Road at about 12:15 a.m.

He said he lost control, skidded, went off the road and struck a tree. Deputies said he skidded 185 feet.

★ ★ ★

Fay and another passenger were treated at the hospital and released.

Chicago May Face Suit on School Bias

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government threatened today to bring a school desegregation suit against the Chicago Board of Education unless steps are taken toward faculty integration in the nation's second largest school system.

★ ★ ★

The Justice Department notified the Chicago board it had concluded, after an extensive examination of the city's school policies, that present faculty assignment transfers procedures deny equal protection of the laws to Negro pupils.

★ ★ ★

Any suit against Chicago would be the government's largest, single desegregation action since passage of the 1964 Civil Rights Act. The largest city now under a court order is Houston, Tex.

★ ★ ★

In a letter to Board President Frank M. Whistler, Asst. Atty. Gen. Jerris Leonard said the department is providing school officials "with an opportunity to take appropriate steps to eliminate voluntarily the racially discriminatory practices we found in the operation of the school system."

Four to Face Trial in 2 City Holdups

Four armed robbery suspects in two city holdups were ordered to stand trial in Oakland County Circuit Court during pretrial examinations in Pontiac District Court yesterday.

Carol Ann Rowls, 18, and David Scott, 22, both of 343 Howard McNeil, are charged with armed robbery of $389 of Auburn Bar, 378 Auburn, on June 7.

★ ★ ★

Gary E. Reith, 18, of 6452 Davison, Davison, and David E. Wilson, 20, of 60 Oak Hill, are charged with armed robbery of nearly $1,000 from Jax Roast Beef restaurant, 541 N. Perry, on June 22.

Circuit court arraignments on both cases are scheduled for July 23.

$965 in Goods Taken From Home

An estimated $965 worth of furnishings was reported stolen in a break-in of a Pontiac residence yesterday.

★ ★ ★

Arthur M. Sommerville, 25, of 278 E. Wilson told city police a tape recorder, stereo receiver, portable television and record turntable were stolen between 1 and 11:35 p.m. yesterday.

★ ★ ★

Entry was gained by breaking a door window, police said.

Green is regarded by the Moslems as a sacred color.

Sinking Victims' Kin Win Suits; Appeals Looming

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Damages of $2.4 million were awarded Monday to seven survivors and five families of victims of the 1965 sinking of the ore carrier Cedarville, but legal experts said it will be years before any of the claimants receive any money.

★ ★ ★

Ten men lost their lives when the Cedarville sank May 7, 1965, after a collision with the Norwegian freighter Topdalsfjord in the Mackinac Straits.

★ ★ ★

The 11 claimants object to the award, saying it is not enough. Ship owners say the award is too high.

"This case is going to be appealed and appealed," one attorney said, adding that it would be years before any money changed hands.

★ ★ ★

Most of the claimants live in Michigan.

The New York City Chamber of Commerce was the first one to be founded in the United States.

State OKs Bonds for Drain Project

The State Municipal Finance Commission yesterday approved a bond issue for a $1.1-million drain project in West Bloomfield Township.

Bonds will be sold to finance construction of the Mullen Drainage District, Mullen Drain, in the township.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY of Gerald T. Luppman who passed away July 7, 1968.

Gone is the face we loved so dear,
Silent is the voice we loved to hear;
Too far away for sight or speech,
But not too far for thought to reach.
Sadly missed by Mom, Dad, Brothers and Sisters.

People in the News

By The Associated Press

Sophia Loren's baby son, Carlo Jr., will have a part in his mother's new movie.

Sources close to the actress said she would take Carlo, 6 months old, with her to Moscow where the film, "I Girasoli," or "The Sunflowers," is being shot. The producer is her husband, Carlo Ponti.

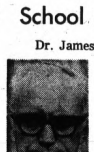

MISS LOREN

School Spending Seen Doubling

Dr. James E. Allen, the new U.S. commissioner of education, says spending on schools will reach about $100 billion a year—twice the present amount—by 1980. He predicted much of the increase would come from federal funds.

"The educational requirements of the next decade," Allen told a meeting of the Education Commission of the States in Denver, "would appear to justify a federal sharing in the order of 25 to 30 per cent of the cost of elementary and secondary education."

ALLEN

Allen said the government contribution now is 8 per cent.

Deadpan Comic Faces Tax Sentence

Deadpan comedian Ben Blue will be sentenced Aug. 18 for income tax evasion.

Blue, 67, originally was charged in a 1964 federal grand jury indictment with five counts of evading corporate income taxes. He pleaded no contest to one count yesterday in Los Angeles and the assistant U.S. attorney said he would not press the remaining counts.

★ ★ ★

The indictment charged Blue with evading a total of $22,979 in income tax for the years 1958, 1959 and 1960 and with filing false corporate income tax returns for those years.

(The corporation involved was Merry-Go-Round Inc., owned by Blue to operate his Ben Blue night spot in Los Angeles.)

Rickover to Stay in Nuclear Job

Vice Adm. Hyman G. Rickover, 68, has received an extension to January 1972 of his term of office in the Navy's nuclear propulsion program.

The Navy announced yesterday in Washington that Rickover, whose term was to have expired next January, would continue for a further two years as director of the Division of Naval Reactors of the Atomic Energy Commission and deputy commander for nuclear propulsion of the Naval Ship Systems command.

A Look at TV

'Room 222' Aim: Honesty

By JERRY BUCK
AP Television-Radio Writer

HOLLYWOOD — "Room 222," an ABC series that proposes to take an honest look at an integrated high school, goes before the cameras this week.

Before anyone thinks it will be a translation of the black headlines, it should be said it is a situation comedy. Or, as the creators prefer to call it, a drama told with humor.

★ ★ ★

"We're not going to do a social documentary," said Gene Reynolds, the producer at 20th Century Fox. "That's not the frame of reference. But any subject we undertake we'll do realistically.

"Our initial objective is to be entertaining. We are getting a lot of admonitions to keep it light, but we're not going to make it light if it hurts our story."

ATHLETIC EXPLOITATION

Jim Brooks, the writer-creator of "Room 222," said, "Take the story in which flu strikes the school and 50 per cent of the teachers are out. There's no reason why that can't be funny. But if the story is about the exploitation of a black athlete, it can't be funny."

Lloyd Haynes plays the black teacher whose classroom is Room 222. Denise Nicholas is the guidance counselor and his love interest. Michael Constantine is the principal, and Karen Valentine is the student teacher assigned to Haynes' room.

★ ★ ★

Haynes, whose handsome face has a quick grin, is a late starter as an actor. He didn't play his first role until 1961, when he was 26 and a production manager for a company turning out television game shows.

He enrolled in the Film Industry Workshop and it wasn't long before a director spotted him and got him a role in a series pilot that didn't sell. That led to a small part in "Star Trek" and his career began to orbit.

NO SUPERTEACHER

He admits he is excited about his first starring role. "There's so much going on in schools today," Haynes said.

He said he hopes the role stays honest. "When I say honest, I mean that they don't make him superteacher. He'll have hang-ups, but they shouldn't be negative ones."

★ ★ ★

The show's approach to problems—by which a problem will be examined through its affect on a character—also appeals to Haynes. "I like a one-to-one relationship," he explained. "That makes it easier to handle than a generalized approach."

GLADYS SWARTHOUT

'Best Female Opera Singer' of '30s Dies

FLORENCE, Italy (AP) — Gladys Swarthout, the soprano whom critics called "the best female singer in the opera world" during the 1930s died here Monday, it was reported today. She was 65.

A native of Deepwater, Mo., Miss Swarthout spent a few years with the Chicago Civic Opera before making her debut at New York's Metropolitan Opera in 1929.

★ ★ ★

Her success was sudden and lasting. She was the top female star of the Metropolitan in the 1930s and was acclaimed by critics in the United States and Canada.

She had been living for several years in Florence, the renaissance city which she fell in love with during a tour of Italy to improve her Italian.

NEW YORK RESIDENT

Miss Swarthout also had a residence in New York City.

A graduate of the Bush Conservatory of Music in Chicago, she was best known for her portrayal of Carmen, although she started her operatic career with a succession of boys' roles.

★ ★ ★

She made her Metropolitan debut as La Cieca, the blind old mother of La Gioconda in the opera of that name, and went on to create the part of Cathos in the American premiere of "Le Preziose Ridicole."

She retired from the Met in 1945.

STAGED FOR TV

In 1950 Miss Swarthout sang Carmen in the first opera ever 1945.

In 1950 Miss Swarthout sang Carmen in the first opera ever staged exclusively for television. Between operas she gave numerous concerts, was a regular performer on radio programs and made five Hollywood movies. None of the movies ever created much of a stir.

Miss Swarthout believed in constant training and practice —she told an interviewer in 1949: "I'm still learning my trade"—and was a stickler about attending rehearsals.

★ ★ ★

She also included musical comedy tunes, little known classical works and unusual new music in her repertory.

Victim Sues in Riot Beating

DETROIT (UPI) — The black owner of a service station in the heart of the 1967 riot area has filed an $850,000 damage suit against the city, its police commissioner and 12 policemen, charging he was beaten by a policeman during the riot.

The suit, filed Tuesday in circuit court by Edward Rosario, also claimed he hasn't been able to learn the identity of the patrolman who beat him because of the department's "blue curtain of secrecy" in which police won't discuss his complaint.

★ ★ ★

Rosario's suit claimed that 11 officers arrived at his gas station on July 25, 1967, the third day of the riot, to enforce Gov. George Romney's proclamation prohibiting the sale of gasoline.

He claimed he wasn't selling gasoline, but was hit on the back of the head with a rifle butt when he complained about an officer throwing a gasoline pump hose on the ground.

★ ★ ★

Rosario's suit said he was subjected to "continuing profane and vulgar verbal abuse and was further maliciously and unlawfully assaulted" by two other officers.

In December 1968, the Michigan Civil Rights Commission ruled that Rosario had been harassed and struck by Detroit policemen and ordered the police department "to take appropriate action."

4-Year Phase-Out Proposed

TV Board Hits Cigarette Ads

WASHINGTON (AP) — Cigarette commercials on most of the nation's television stations would be phased out over a four-year period under a surprise recommendation by the TV Code Review Board of the National Association of Broadcasters.

The plan, which would eliminate all cigarette commercials from subscribing networks and stations by Sept. 1, 1973, must be approved by the association's TV board of directors before it becomes effective.

★ ★ ★

In phasing out the commercials in a five-step program, stations and networks would first figure the minutes of such advertising each carried in a base year from July 1, 1968, to July 1, 1969.

Beginning next Jan. 1 each station or network would cut back advertising to 90 per cent of the base period. They would reduce cigarette ads to 75 per cent by Sept. 1, 1970; 50 per cent by Sept. 1, 1971; 25 per cent by Sept. 1, 1972; and be totally eliminated by Sept. 1, 1973.

The phase-out would apply specifically to the three national networks and 64.4 per cent of the nation's 623 commercial stations which subscribe to the NAB television code.

In other action, the review board moved to prohibit cigarette commercials in or adjacent to any program directed primarily at young audiences.

Melee Erupts in Parliament

LONDON (AP) — Members of Parliament hurled books, paper and invective at each other in the biggest row under the face of Big Ben since the Suez crisis of 1956.

Nearly 500 MPs participated in the uproar last night after the Laborite leader of the House of Commons, Fred Peart, moved to shelve a review of constituency boundaries under which opposition Conservatives had hoped to gain 15 seats in Parliament.

Conservative MP Geoffrey Rippon tore up paper and flung it at Peart, following through with a flying book. Peart winced when the paper hit him, caught the book and, white with anger, hurled it back.

Other Conservatives began chanting "shame, shame" and unleashed a barrage of paper on the Laborites opposite them.

"Cheats," "dictators," "fiddlers," the Tories cried. Some of them yelled: "Sieg Heil."

Conservative Quintin Hogg called Bob Mellish, the government chief whip, the "biggest parliamentary nincompoop in 100 years."

Opposition leader Edward Heath thrust a finger at Laborites and declared: "There are no depths to which Labor will not sink. However dictatorial, however reprehensible, they will do it."

The din subsided when the speaker looked at the clock and adjourned the House.

WPON Moving to Riker Building

After 15 years in the Waldron Hotel, radio station WPON is moving into new studios on the third floor of the Riker Building, Huron at Wayne. The relocation will be completed by July 14.

The public is invited to visit the new WPON location anytime between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. on weekdays.

Transplanted, Impoverished Micronesians Have No Home Atoll

SAIPAN (AP) — The men of Eniwetok Atoll once were the proud masters of the biggest and fastest sailing canoes in the Marshall Islands.

Now the fleet of prized canoes rots on a foreign beach, used only as a creaking plaything for island children.

★ ★ ★

Old men watch from outside decaying jungle shacks and swap tales about the time the 40-foot canoes plied the vast Eniwetok lagoon.

The young men listen, but home is a place they have never seen. Reality for the 300 Marshali Islanders living on Ujelang Atoll is a grinding squalor unmatched by any ghetto on the U.S. mainland.

NOT ENOUGH FOOD

They are victims of the atomic age, forced by "progress" to live on a narrow island so barren it cannot provide enough food or even the breadfruit wood needed to repair their one-sleek canoes.

Twenty-five years ago, the U.S. Marines charged ashore on tiny Lujor Island in the Eniwetok Atoll, more than 2,000 miles southwest of Hawaii. They found only a handful of island people who had fled the Japanese to the northwest.

★ ★ ★

Together with another group of refugees on Parry Island to the south, the Eniwetokians numbered fewer than 100.

In December of 1947, the Eniwetokians were forced to move 140 miles southwest to the isolated Ujelang Atoll.

NEW HOUSES

Their own picture postcard atoll was made a nuclear testing ground and a target for ICBMs.

The U.S. government provided the displaced islanders with new wood and tin houses, then left them to manage their own affairs.

★ ★ ★

"But the Navy did not realize that islands are usually left uninhabited for good reason," Daniel C. Smith, a Micronesian Peace Corps worker, says of the forced move.

"In the case of Ujelang, the atoll was uninhabited because a typhoon around the turn of the century stripped the meager soil from the narrow islands."

$16 PER PERSON

The Navy gave the U.S. Trust Territory of the Pacific $500,000 in 1958 to settle the displaced people of Eniwetok and Bikini atolls. The Eniwetokians got $175,000.

Of that sum, all but $25,000 was invested in U.S. bonds. The annual interest accrues to less than $5,000, or about $16 per person.

★ ★ ★

Unlike the people of Bikini, who are preparing to return to their atoll, the Eniwetokians cannot go home. Eniwetok Island is now the site of a U.S. Air Force base.

The Eniwetokians are restless and becoming increasingly vocal about their plight. And the outcome of their paradise lost involves not only the 300 people of Ujelang, but the entire U.S. Trust Territory.

'FREE ASSOCIATION'

Micronesia's Future Political Status Commission already has called for "free association" with the United States, arguing that the people can get more for their land if they bargain together.

★ ★ ★

Eniwetokians recently saw the original inhabitants of Kwajelein get $1,000 an acre in rent for the next 25 years. And the people of Kwajelein's midcorridor islands also get $40 a month and free housing on Ebey Island.

"The rent of $3.50 an acre a year hardly seems fair to the Eniwetokians," Smith said. "A Peace Corps volunteer assigned to Ujelang saw small children rooting through garbage for food."

The islanders actually ran out of food in 1967 and threatened to leave Ujelang.

HOSTAGE HELD

But Smith said they were talked out of it by a representative of the Micronesian government, who suggested they might get help by holding him hostage.

★ ★ ★

A few weeks later, says Smith, "The district administrator arrived with $10,000 in food and rescued his staff member."

★ ★ ★

The Micronesian government hopes to erase poverty from its 3,000 miles of Pacific islands.

Islanders want more money for American use of Eniwetok Atoll. And they want jobs.

CONSTRUCTION WORK

Recent advertisements in Honolulu newspapers offered $189 a week for laborers and $252 a week for carpenters in construction work on Eniwetok.

The Ujelang men would be happy to work for less than half that amount, says Smith. Fellow Marshallese at the Kwajalein Missile Range hold similar jobs for $80 a week and are considered well-to-do.

★ ★ ★

Smith and other Peace Corps workers see help on the way.

"The problem will be solved," he says, "because the Ujelangese are underfed, underhoused and undereducated. A just solution would build credibility for Interior Secretary Walter Hickel's call for a partnership between the United States and Micronesia."

Can You Tell a Man by Car He Drives?

By BOB COCHNAR
NEA Automotive Editor

NEW YORK — "A man is known by the car he drives" is an old saying I just made up. It probably has as much truth associated with it as Polonius' apparel that "oft proclaims the man."

On the other hand, "You can't tell a book by its cover" is another old saying composed, Bartlett's says, by a Mr. Anon. But for the purposes of this column, please accept my old saying as a truism.

★ ★ ★

A wire service correspondent, just up from Cuba, tells me that Fidel Castro favors a dark maroon Alfa-Romeo sedan.

He maintains three of them and Castro-watchers say they travel in a pack with Fidel always in the center car.

STATUS SYMBOL

Guess which automobile is Cuba's ultimate status symbol.

Incidentally, in Cuba the word "Leyland" is syponomous with "reliability." Seems that the Cubans had ordered Czech and Hungarian buses which promptly fell apart after several hundred miles on the country's nonroads.

★ ★ ★

Several years ago the Cubans ordered a number of buses built by Leyland, the British firm, and they are still going strong.

Wonder if Leyland can use that as an endorsement?

HUSSEIN'S FAVORITE

But back to the subject. When I met King Hussein of Jordan several years ago, he was driving — and racing — Porsches which, his garage master said, were his favorite automobiles. He may now be driving Patton tanks, under the current circumstances in the Middle East.

★ ★ ★

Charles, the newly crowned prince of Wales, tools about the Welsh countryside in a blue MBG-GT.

★ ★ ★

Alan King, the comedian, owns a custom-built Rolls-Royce based on a 1935 model.

Actor Steve McQueen owns a number of sports cars but favors his D-type Jaguar and 275-GTB Ferrari.

SOUPED UP VW

Paul Newman drives a Volkswagen with a Porsche engine (this is probably very meaningful).

Charles de Gaulle used to be driven around in a jet-black Citroen.

President Nixon's official car is a buble-top Lincoln Continental.

Lydon Johnson still rides the Texas plains in his Continental convertible.

OWNS A CORVETTE

New Jersey Assemblyman Harold Hollenbeck owns a Corvette.

Finally, in perhaps the ultimate measure of auto status, a research firm surveyed a sampling of Playboy readers and other people to determine the auto purchasing habits of the two groups.

★ ★ ★

Although the survey may or may not be representative, it did point out that the Playboy reader's favorite 1969 car is a Mercury Cougar hardtop with automatic transmission, white wall tires, power brakes and steering and a vinyl roof.

The other group (which includes Playboy readers) preferred, interestingly, the same car. All of which proves not very much.

MUSTANG IS NO. 2

As for the No. 2 Playboy favorite( it's a Mustang. The general group buys more Plymouth Furys than Mustangs, but the hardtop is still the preferred model.

Frankly, the survey is somewhat confusing. For example, the researchers determined that among the Mercury Cougar buyers, Time was the favorite magazine (Playboy was third) but Mustang, Pontiac Grand Prix, Ford Torino, and Firebird buyers prefer Playboy.

★ ★ ★

The favorite magazine among all the car buyers sampled? Reader's Digest, naturally.

In fact, owners of 15 different makes prefer the Digest 11 to 1 over any other magazine. You can draw any conclusion you like from that.

★ ★ ★

People are always asking me what car I drive, assuming the automobile owned by an automobile writer ought to be the best thing going. My answer is disappointing since I try to drive all of them and, at the same time, own one of them. And I haven't owned a car in five years, a fact which tends to keep me out of trouble with the manufacturers.

It may comfort them to know that when I did own cars, they generally were oddballs like Nashes, Toyotas, Singers, Studebakers, Hudsons and, believe it or not, LaSalles.

ABM Foes Are Confident They Can Limit Proposal

WASHINGTON (AP) — Leaders of a bipartisan effort to limit the administration's Safeguard program to research while prohibiting any antimissile deployment or acquisition of sites, say they expect a lengthy debate but are confident of victory.

Sen. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., and Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., prepared an amendment to block the Safeguard proposal for introduction today, as debate on the entire antiballistic missile — ABM — program entered its second day.

★ ★ ★

"It is unlikely that there would be any precipitate action," Hart told reporters.

Cooper said "I have always thought that we would have a majority. I still do."

NO FUND CUT

Their amendment would not cut any of the $759.1 million in funds earmarked for Safeguard but would limit the use of research, development, testing and evaluation, plus "normal procurement incident thereto," mainly at the Kwajelein Islands test facility.

In addition, it would bar use of any funds — including those carried over from previous years — for deployment of an ABM system or for purchase of any sites for such a system.

★ ★ ★

Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, opened the long-awaited ABM debate yesterday after predicting the Senate would uphold his committee in approving the Safeguard proposal.

Stennis had hoped to hold a secret Senate session to lay out details of potential Soviet threats to the nation's security.

SECRET SESSION

ABM opponents plan to hold a later secret session to lay out their contentions that the Safeguard system would provide only limited protection for the nation's Minuteman intercontinental ballistic missile bases.

With many senators planning to go to Florida next week for the launch of the Apollo 11 flight to the moon — and the splash-down in the Pacific scheduled the following week — any ABM showdown could be put off until the last week in July.

As debate began, there was little open talk of any possible compromise.

★ ★ ★

Sen. Thomas McIntyre, D-N.H., has been pushing — thus far without takers — what he calls a compromise. It would deploy the system's computers and radars at the two initial ABM sites in North Dakota and Montana but would bar deployment of any of the missiles.

"Any supposed compromise which included a deployment would not be acceptable," Cooper declared. Hart said that "all the administration is asking is what the McIntyre compromise proposes."

HER BOY IS HOME — Mrs. Helen Hetherwick of Alturas, Calif., has a big hug for her sergeant son, Robert, on his arrival at McChord Air Force Base in Washington yesterday. He was on the first plane in an airlift bringing a battalion of U.S. troops home from Vietnam. She and her husband drove all night from their home to greet the youth.

First GIs in Pullout Home From Viet

FT. LEWIS, Wash. (AP) — More than 800 American soldiers slept under quiet skies for the first time in months, home from the war in Vietnam.

The vanguard of 25,000 servicemen President Nixon is withdrawing from Vietnam flew into McChord Air Force Base near here yesterday.

Their first night at this Army post was a far cry from their last night in Saigon, where helicopter gun-ships hovered on the horizon to keep the Vietcong from spoiling their exit.

When the first group of 94 veterans, most of them in their early 20s, stepped from their C141 transport plane, Gen. William C. Westmoreland, Army Chief of Staff, told them they would find themselves "more mature, more dedicated to the service of others, more compassionate, more responsible, more realistic and more practical" than their contemporaries.

134 BEING RELEASED

Of the 814 troops, 776 are enlisted men and 38 are officers. Of the enlisted men, 118 are being released from active duty and 658 are being reassigned. Sixteen officers will be reassigned and 22 will be released from active duty.

The men came home under the banner of the Army's 3rd Battalion, 60th Infantry, 9th Infantry Division, but only 138 of them actually fought with the division.

★ ★ ★

The others were men from other outfits who had almost finished their year's tour of duty in Vietnam or were due for discharge from the Army.

There were no antiwar demonstrators among the 500 relatives, beauty queens, boy and girl scouts, Little League baseball players and civilians who greeted the men at the base.

ANTIWAR PARADE

But three Seattle antiwar groups said they planned a parade in Seattle tomorrow to coincide with the soldiers' homecoming march.

'Hubert Refused to Exploit Issue'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Could Hubert H. Humphrey have changed the course of the 1968 presidential campaign by disclosing information that a Richard M. Nixon supporter tried to sabotage preliminary Vietnam peace talks?

Author Theodore H. White speculates in his book "The Making of a President 1968" that Humphrey might have won the election if he had ballyhooed the story.

★ ★ ★

White reports in his recently published book the Johnson administration intercepted messages from Anna Chan Chennault, a Nixon supporter, undertaking to sabotage the Paris agreement preceeding the U.S. bombing halt and peace negotiations.

But, White reports, Humphrey refused to air the story despite urgings from some in his campaign staff.

RAISED FUNDS FOR NIXON

Mrs. Chennault, widow of the wartime hero Gen. Claire Chennault and now an American citizen, had raised funds for the Nixon campaign and was chairman or cochairman of several Nixon citizens committees.

She learned by gossip, rumor and speculation of the October halt, White says, and "she had undertaken most energetically to sabotage the talks."

★ ★ ★

He adds: "In contact with the Formosan, the South Korean and the South Vietnamese governments, she had begun early, by cable and telephone, to mobilize their resistance to the agreement — apparently implying, as she went, that she spoke for the Nixon campaign."

No Leveling Signs Ahead

Food Prices Continue Rise

WASHINGTON (AP) — The rising cost of food, already painful to the nation's consumers, is still going up, and the government says there is no sign of leveling off.

Agriculture Department economist Stephen J. Hiemstra made the assessment after it was disclosed yesterday that wholesale food prices jumped another 1.2 per cent during June.

★ ★ ★

When wholesale prices go up, the cost of food on the average citizen's table follows up the spiral, Hiemstra indicated.

"There's not anything that we can see to indicate a drop or a leveling off" he said.

FOOD SPURS INDEX RISE

Due entirely to the jump in food costs, the government's Wholesale Price Index climbed four-tenths of one per cent in June to 113.2.

Continuing to lead rising food prices is the cost of meat, particularly beef.

★ ★ ★

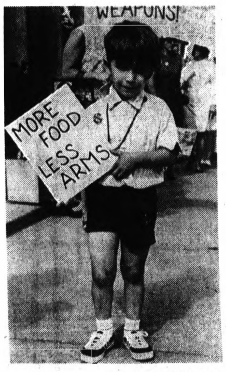

Hiemstra said high farm prices for beef, the most popular meat, are expected to continue most of the summer at least.

The Labor Department said yesterday wholesale prices for processed meat, poultry and fish jumped 4.5 per cent in June, leading all other food items.

25-30 PCT. FOR MEAT

Hiemstra said meat accounts for 25 to 30 per cent of the average grocery bill. Consumers as an average spend about 17.2 cents of their take-home dollar on food.

"But food is not leading the pack," Hiemstra said. "So far this year food has averaged about 4 per cent above a year ago in the January-May period, while other consumer items have increased more . . . approaching 6 per cent."

Area Residents Protest ABM

About 30 Pontiac area residents picketed yesterday in front of the downtown Pontiac Federal Building demonstrating opposition to the proposed Safeguard ABM (antiballistic missle) system.

The group, mainly residents of Pontiac, Rochester and Waterford Township, was headed by Father Charles Rooney of St. Michael's Catholic Church, a member of the Michigan Stop ABM Committee.

★ ★ ★

Committee members charge that congressional approval of the system would be a waste of tax dollars and lead to escalation of the nuclear arms race.

Rooney said that Stop ABM leaders hope to influence debate and voting on the measure at the state and the federal levels.

★ ★ ★

The purpose of yesterday's demonstration, he said, was to indicate to Sen. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., that the people of Michigan are opposed to the ABM system.

Commission in Dark on Firing

By ED BLUNDEN

Six city commissioners were forced to admit at last night's meeting that none of them knew why the administrator of Pontiac General Hospital had been fired.

The commission for the second week faced a delegation of employes demanding a probe into the sudden discharge of Harold B. Euler on June 19 by the hospital board of trustees.

Last week they came with petitions signed by 835 employes. Yesterday they had petitions signed by 335 private citizens.

In both instances the group of about 40 demanded to be told why Euler was fired without a hearing and with no announced cause. This week they added a demand that the hospital board be discharged if they failed to give an answer.

ANSWER BEING SOUGHT

Commission members said the answer was being sought but that none of them knew. All commissioners were present except Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. who was attending a convention.

Mayor Pro Tem T. Warren Fowler Jr., trict 1, presided at the meeting and assured the audience some sort of reply would be forthcoming.

He announced Sherwin Birnkrant, city attorney, was leaving the meeting at 8:30 p.m. to attend a meeting of the hospital board. Birnkrant indicated the meeting was not a regular one.

After their appeal to the City Commission, employes followed Birnkrant to the trustees meeting held at the hospital.

Spokesmen for the employe group said today they attempted to speak at the board meeting, but were refused permission. They were told it was an "executive session" and after it broke up none of the trustees nor Birnkrant would speak to the employes, the spokesmen said.

Senate Panel Likely to Hold Up Surtax

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic leaders today appeared to have the votes in the Senate Finance Committee to overcome presidential objections and tie tax reform to extension of the income surtax.

If the two issues are intertwined, final congressional action on the surtax could be delayed until fall. President Nixon has said quick action on the surtax alone is necessary to his anti-inflation fight.

★ ★ ★

The committee continued its hearing today to extend the surtax until next June 30 by calling in several witnesses who oppose repeal of the 7 per cent investment credit, which was one tax reform the House did attach when it approved the continuance.

Of the 10 Democrats on the committee, only Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy of Minnesota had said he might be willing to support quick action on the surtax bill and leave tax reform until a second measure.

9-TO-8 MARGIN

But the other nine Democrats seemed ready to follow the strategy of their Senate leaders.

This would mean a 9-8 margin for taking up reform along with the surtax extension, assuming that all seven Republican committee members support the administration position.

The senior Republican on the panel, John J. Williams of Delaware, has a number of reform amendments he intends to push either on the surtax legislation or a second measure. He said he has not decided which strategy to follow.

"I'd just as soon see us pass this surtax bill without any amendments and settle it. But, if it is going to be a reform bill, too, I'll be ready."

Showers Predicted for Pontiac Tonight

More rain is predicted for the Pontiac area late this afternoon and tonight. The low temperature is expected to be near 65.

The U.S. Weather Bureau forecasts decreasing cloudiness tomorrow with temperatures ranging in the low 80s.

★ ★ ★

Winds are moving in a southeasterly direction at five to 10 miles per hour increasing to 10 to 15 miles tonight.

There's a 20 per cent possibility of precipitation today, 50 per cent tonight and 20 per cent tomorrow.

Fifty-eight was the low temperature before 8 a.m. in downtown Pontiac. By noon the mercury reached 74.

Delay Sought on Bids for Jail

The Oakland County Building Authority is seeking a 45-day extension on bid prices from firms on the proposed $8-million law-enforcement building complex in an effort to avoid increasing construction costs.

Unless contractors agree to the extension, bids on the project will expire Saturday and leave the county faced with rebidding and perhaps spiraling costs.

The proect's low bidder, Sorenson-Gross Construction Co., already has informed the county it wants to withdraw its bid of $7,181,000.

★ ★ ★

Approval from the Michigan Municipal Finance Commission on the sale of bonds to finance the construction has hit a snag in Lansing but Daniel T. Murphy, chairman of the county board of auditors, said yesterday the go-ahead is expected to be given yet this month.

If contractors elect not to extend their bid offers, the county will be faced with rebidding the project which originally put out for bids last May.

DOUBLED CAPACITY

The law enforcement complex will include a jail with double the capacity of the existing jail. Some 400 prisoners could be housed in the two-story structure.

A Morgue, crime laboratory and ballistics testing range are included in the plans.

Expected to take 24 months for completion, the complex will be built on a site just to the east of the county's court tower in the service center area.

A tunnel will lead directly from the jail to the courthouse.

HUNT FOR MURDER WEAPON — State police skin divers use mine detectors to search the Huron River near U.S. 23 in Ann Arbor in an effort to find the gun they believe was used to kill University of Michigan graduate student Margaret A. Phillips.

Skin Divers Hunt for Pistol in Murder of Seventh Coed

ANN ARBOR (UPI) — Ernest R. Bishop Jr., the 28-year-old accused killer of a University of Michigan coed, has been out of his jail cell only twice since he was arrested late Sunday.

The first was for his arraignment Monday. Second was yesterday afternoon, when police had him throw two stones off a bridge into the muddy Huron River.

★ ★ ★

They have been searching there for a 22-caliber pistol they hope might link him with the slayings of six other young women in the area in the past two years.

★ ★ ★

The 5-foot-5, 131-pound ex-convict is accused of first-degree murder in the death of Margaret Phillips, 25, a graduate student in the university's School of Social Work, who had befriended Bishop after meeting him in February.

She was shot twice in the head in her near-campus apartment early last Saturday and died the next morning.

A dam was closed seven miles up the river from where police say the pistol was thrown in, according to Bishop's own admission.

★ ★ ★

The water level dropped to about one foot and the area under the U.S. 23 freeway overpass was scoured with metal-detecting devices.

★

Bishop was returned to his jail cell immediately after the demonstration to await a preliminary examination in district court today before Judge S. J. Elden.

NOT A SUSPECT

Earlier yesterday, Police Chief Walter Krasny said Bishop had been ruled out as a suspect in at least three of the sadistic slayings.

County Unit Votes to Join Suit on Judge-Pay Ceiling

The salary ceiling for circuit court judges set by the State Legislature at $30,000 a year is due to be tested in court.

The board of supervisors public protection and judiciary committee voted unanimously yesterday to recommend the county on litigation already under way in Macomb County challenging the constitutionality of the state law.

★ ★ ★

Circuit court judges are now paid $20,000 annually by the state and counties are allowed to contribute an additional $10,000, under the existing state law. However Oakland County prior to 1968 paid $14,000 a year to its nine circuit court judges.

Earlier this year the county's corporation counsel, Robert Allen, gave the board of supervisors an opinion that reducing the pay of judges during their term of office is unconstitutional. A total of $36,000 for the judges is being held back until this legal point can be settled.

Another legal question still unanswered is whether the seven judges elected at the last judicial election should get paid more than the two judges whose terms didn't expire at that time. Because they didn't run for election in 1968, they are now receiving $1,000 a year less than the other seven judges.

Circuit Court Judge James Thorburn provided some additional information to the supervisors yesterday at the judicial committee meeting.

He said in past years Oakland County Circuit Court judges were always paid on a par with federal court judges and school superintendents who now earn salaries in the $50,000-a-year range.

Judge Thorburn stated the volume of cases handled in the Oakland County Circuit Court was substantially higher than that of other jurisdictions throughout the state.

SEEN AS DETERRENT

He expressed concern that a salary ceiling set by the Legislature could deter county from attracting high-caliber aspirants for the circuit court bench.

Supporting the recommendation to join the litigation were three attorneys serving on the supervisors' judicial committee — Chairman Dennis M. Aaron, D-Huntington Woods, Phillip O. Mastin, Jr., D-Hazel Park, and Wallace F. Gabler Jr., R-Royal Oak, — plus Alexander C. Perinoff, D-Southfield, Carl W. O'Brien, D-Pontiac, and Richard R. Wilcox, R-Ortonville.

★ ★ ★

The committee's recommendation will be that the county take an "affirmative" position in the lawsuit, in an attempt to have the Legislature's action rescinded. the county from attracting high-caliber proposed, would represent the county in the litigation.

Supervisors earlier had sought to find an attorney practicing outside Oakland County and one not having done business in courts here for at least a two-year period.

The search apparently has been unproductive which gave rise to the judicial committee's action yesterday.

Striking Plumbers Seek 40 Pct. Pay Hike

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The man in the overalls who crawls around unstopping the sinks of Southern California says he deserves $21,500 a year.

That is what a journeyman plumber would make at $11.48 an hour — including fringe benefits — for a 36-hour week as demanded by the AFL-CIO Plumbers Union, on strike for the last week.

The union is also asking for a 4½-day work week beginning in the third year of a three-year contract.

Plumbers now make $5.79 an hour plus $2.32 in fringe benefits for a total package of $8.11. The proposed increase to $8.20 and $3.28 after three years represents a hike in base pay of more than 40 per cent.

CONTRACT OFFERED

Management—the Plumbing, Heating and Piping Employers Council—has offered a three-year wage package of $10.92 an hour for a five-day, 35-hour week.

The union claims new piping methods plus the advent of plastic piping is putting some plumbers out of work and reducing the work hours of others. Management claims most plumbers are fully employed.

Don Steele of the employers council concedes that plastic plumbing is a legitimate issue.

"Plastic piping can be placed in residences at lower cost than present piping because it's lighter and takes less time to install," he said. "But if it becomes favorably accepted by the construction industry, it'll mean reduced building costs and consequently more construction, which would make more work for the plumbers."

CONSTRUCTION CURTAILED

Ray Buckley of the Associated Plumbing, Heating and Cooling Contractors, commented:

"New construction is going to be greatly curtailed if this strike continues, even for a short while.

At the city commission meeting about 12 persons spoke in favor of Euler, citing his long service and fair treatment of employes.

★ ★ ★

One of the speakers leveled a charge against two members of the hospital board, Board Chairman Aleck Capsalis and Vice Chairman Harold Goldberg.

The woman, Mrs. Jack Baker, said she was an employe of the hospital for 15 years and worked in the emergency room.

PREFERENTIAL TREATMENT?

She said both of the men, on one occasion each, had arranged for preferential treatment in the emergency room for a member of their families.

She said former assistant Administrator Donald Carros, who had been discharged by Euler, had made arrangements for the two board members, obtaining a room and a doctor to speed procedures.

★ ★ ★

"He did this while other (emergency room) patients were waiting their turn," Mrs. Baker said.

★ ★ ★

Capsalis was unavailable for comment this morning. Goldberg was waiting to hear a tape recording before commenting.

★ ★ ★

Another employe spokesman, Bernice Ferguson, warned the city commissioners the group would come back until action was taken. "We need some new faces in there (the hospital board)," she said. "If you think you're going to wear us down, you're mistaken," she said. Identifying herself as an employe of 16 years, she said Euler was held in high regard.

'NEGOTIATIONS ARRANGED'

Fowler and Birnkrant told the assembly that negotiations have been arranged with Euler's attorney, Timothy J. Patterson, to try to work out an agreement.

The City Commission held a joint meeting with the entire 11-member hospital board last Wednesday. After the meeting a short, joint statement indicated the commissioners concurred with and supported the hospital board.

★ ★ ★

However, apparently, the commissioners had not been told why the man had been fired and at last night's meeting vehemently denied they were lying when they said they didn't know.

District 6 Commissioner Wesley J. Wood repeatedly shouted, "I do not know," but vowed "to get to the bottom of it and soon."

★ ★ ★

Fowler also vowed "The public will know."

Soviets Voice Indignation Over Chinese Border Clash

MOSCOW (AP) — A Soviet official said today the latest Soviet-Chinese border violence has caused indignation throughout the Soviet far east, the official news agency Tass reported.

"We believe all attacks on the border rivers are perpetrated by the Chinese deliberately and with full knowledge of the Maoist clique," Tass quoted Yakov Ovchinnikov, deputy chief of the traffic board for the Amur River.

★ ★ ★

The clash occurred yesterday on an island in the Amur and each side has blamed the other for starting it.

So far there has been no mention of Chinese casualties.

The Soviet protest note said Chinese troops armed with submachine guns, grenade launchers and hand grenades killed one Russian river worker and injured three Tuesday "in the Soviet part of the Goldinsky Island on the Amur River."

★ ★ ★

Peking also lodged a protest, saying the Russians landed frontier troops on the island, sent in gunboats and planes and burned down a Chinese civilian home.

★ ★ ★

Goldinsky or Pacha as the Chinese call the island, is located about 40 miles west of the Soviet city of Khaharovsk, where a Sino-Soviet commission has been meeting since June 18 to discuss problems of navigation on border rivers.

The island is slightly west of the confluence of the Amur and Ussuri rivers. Soviet and Chinese troops fought two bloody battles on a disputed island on the Ussuri in March.

HHH Decision Not to Exploit 11th-Hour Story in '68 Is Told

White says Johnson was aware of Mrs. Chennault's Asian messages before he made his announcement Thursday, Oct. 31 — just five days before the election — of the bombing halt and the anticipation of the peace talks, but had not taken them seriously.

JOHNSON IRATE

But two days later when 11 South Vietnamese senators expressed their support of Nixon, and South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu repudiated the Paris agreement "the President's wrath was lit," White says and he adds:

★ ★ ★

"By Saturday he had accused Sen. Everett Dirksen of a Republican plot to sabotage peace (which Dirksen, presumably, hastened to relay to Nixon headquarters); and by Sunday, Johnson was in direct and bitter telephone contact with Richard Nixon in Los Angeles."

White says, "What could have been made of an open charge that the Nixon leaders were saboteurs of the peace one cannot guess.

★ ★ ★

"But," he added, "the good instinct of tha small town boy (Humphrey) prevailed. Fully informed of the sabotage of the negotiations and the recalcitrance of the Saigon government, Humphrey might have won the presidency of the United States by making it the prime story of the last four days of the campaign."

★ ★ ★

White says "I know of no more essentially decent story in American politics than Humphrey's refusal to do so."

Nixon aides felt, white adds, that "If the Democrats chose to air the story, no rebuttal of the Nixon camp would be convincing; and they were at the mercy of Humphrey's good will."

Six Directors Are Named at Cranbrook

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — Six new members have been elected to the board of directors of Cranbrook School, according to John M. Sanders, newly named board chairman.

New directors are P. Thomas Austion, Dr. Norton J. Cooksey, Gordon Craig, J. Burke Gelling, David W. Lee and Donald H. Parsons.

★ ★ ★

In other board changes, James M. Gillen was named vice chairman; Jervis B. McMechan, secretary; and Austin, assistant treasurer. Norman B. Weston was reelected treasurer.

Austin, a Cranbrook School 1944 graduate, is a partner in Ernst & Ernst. He is a trustee of the Cranbrook Music Guild and holds memberships in the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants, Michigan Association of Certified Public Accountants and the Financial and Estate Planning Council of Detroit.

ON BEAUMONT STAFF

Dr. Cooksey, on the active staff of William Beaumont Hospital, is a member of the Michigan State and Oakland County medical associations. He maintains offices in the Beaumont Medical Building.

Craig is president and chairman of the board of Booth Newspapers Inc. A 1943 graduate of the University of Southern California, Craig served for three years with the Naval Air Transport Service. He joined the Booth Newspapers in 1949.

★ ★ ★

Gelling is chairman of the board of directors and president of Federal's Inc.

Lee is a truck advertising manager for the Ford Division of Ford Motor Co., a member of Christ Church Cranbrook, a senior member of St. Dunstan's Guild, a member of the Bloomfield Hills Board of Appeals, and a past trustee and president of the Bloomfield Hills Board of Education.

★ ★ ★

Parsons, who holds degrees from Yale and the University of Michigan, is a senior partner in the Birmingham and Detroit law firm of Parsons, Tennent, Hammond, Hardig & Ziegelman. He is board chairman of the Bank of the Commonwealth in Detroit, director and executive committee chairman of the Union Commerce Bank in Cleveland.

Medical Costs Nixon's Target

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The White House is expected to announce a plan tomorrow for battling skyrocketing medical costs by recruiting new kinds of health personnel — such as returning medical corpsmen from Vietnam — and by emphasizing out-of-hospital care.

The White House also is expected to try to bolster the Medicaid program for the needy with more administrative personnel and plug "areas of weakness" in the Medicare program for the aged.

★ ★ ★

Although the White House could break new ground in its statement, sources said it was expected to be primarily a presidential stamp of approval on proposals outlined by HEW Secretary Robert H. Finch and his aides.

Both out-of-hospital care and new types of manpower were in a five-point program Finch outlined for the Department of Health, Education and Welfare (HEW) June 28.

NOT AS TRAINED

Finch frequently has propsoed greater use of paramedical workers, including medical corpsmen returning from Vietnam, to assist doctors in caring for patients who are not crtically ill. These workers would not be as highly trained as doctors and nurses.

Kids Gird for 'Derby'

The All-American Soap Box Derby, which has become as essential an ingredient of summer as sunshine itself, is bigger than ever in this, its 32nd running since its inauguration in 1934.

A record high of 260 boys from throughout the United States, Canada and overseas will compete in this year's event at famed Derby Downs in Akron, Ohio. Thousands of others will pit their coaster-car building and racing skills in local run-offs in the coming weeks.

★ ★ ★

Locally, the qualifying trials will be run on the morning of July 19 at the Oakland County Service Center.

The competition is again being endorsed by many cities as a major recreation program for youths, including 31 new cities for the first time. The Army, Navy and Air Force are cooperating with Derby officials in programs for dependent children on military installations from the Canal Zone to the Philippines. Along with Chevrolet dealers, sponsors include 130 Jaycee chapters, 103 newspapers, 41 radio stations, 31 television stations and 30 Optimist Clubs.

★ ★ ★

Climax of soap box summer will be the world finals in Akron on August 23, when local champions race for a share of $30,000 in college scholarships and national fame.

Cheers Lapeer Jaycees for Goodwill to Drivers

One of the best examples we've seen in a long time of unselfish goodwill and concern for others was experienced on our way home from up north on July 6. Driving through Lapeer, we found the Lapeer Jaycees giving free pop and coffee to all travelers to keep them alert and give them a rest from the busy highways.

They were having a lot of fun, which proves that it's not too painful to help your fellowman without any thought of payment in return. God bless them all.

'Close Doors on Election Day to Leeches'

I read where the Congressmen's wives and families are going hungry living on welfare allotments of 18 cents per meal.

I find there is only one way to break up welfare and get a decent job done by the lawmakers. Close the doors on election day to any person who has drawn welfare for 90 days in any one calendar year. If they wanted to vote they would get a job and protect that right.

'Stop Paying Farmers for Unused Land'

I just finished reading an article on negative income tax. This was about the rich farmer with lots of land who is paid for not farming it. If this practice were stopped, perhaps they would either sell the land or start growing something. With our system of supply and demand, food prices would come down. Some of the surplus food could be purchased by the government to help feed the needy.

Apparently there is some legislation to limit the amount that these farmers can make for not growing anything to $20,000. It passed in the House, but the Senate keeps turning it down. The way it stands now, the more land you have, the more subsidy you get. I wonder if some of our congressmen are getting some of this easy money. At any rate, we should get busy and let them know that we don't like it.

Another Opinion on Johnson Street Parking

Have you ever looked at the driveways on South Johnson? If the houses even have driveways, there's just room for one car. What if residents have two cars or two different people visit them? There is a lot of traffic at the hospital end of Johnson and by the medical building, but it all comes off Huron, not from Orchard Lake Road. I don't care what time of day or night it is, there isn't enough traffic to warrant no parking on both sides of the street.

REPLY

We checked with the Detroit Better Business Bureau, which said the company was established there in 1953, and they've had no complaints made against the firm. The man who wrote up your contract said he came out right after you called, and even though your language was very abusive, he still sent workmen out twice. Since he hadn't heard from you in almost a year, he assumed everything was fine. However, he's still willing to take care of the problem. Just call him at the number you gave us.

Cites Church Aid to Blacks

Slapped with a $500-million bill for "reparations" to pay for their fathers' sins against Negroes, many churchmen turned the other cheek. Many others, though, merely turned their heads. Black leader JAMES FORMAN has now upped the debt to $3 billion.

What is strange, however, is that whether they believe the claim is a valid one or whether they consider it outrageous, churchmen have been amazingly reticent about pointing out to black militants that, at least in the area of monetary aid, the churches' record in relation to Negroes has not been entirely shameful.

★ ★ ★

"More than 100 educational institutions in the South were founded, financed and staffed (1865-1890) by the churches in one of Christianity's most remarkable missionary upsurges," writes FRANCIS STUART HARMON in a letter to the New York Times. HARMON is vice president of the Interchurch Center and a trustee of the Riverside Church in New York.

★ ★ ★

The American Missionary Association (Congregational) sponsored 37 of these colleges and training schools, he notes. Baptists founded 26, Presbyterians 41 and Methodists 30. Others began under auspices of the Disciples of Christ, Episcopalians, Lutherans and Friends.

★ ★ ★

Christians and Jews, and non-church people as well, have channeled tens of millions of dollars to these schools through various funds and foundations and, since the end of World War II, through the United Negro College Fund.

Forget FORMAN and his tactics and the particular chunk of money he demands. The real questions he has raised is, do the churches indeed have an unfinished mission?

★ ★ ★

The answer is "yes," but that mission cannot be discharged by simply handing over vast sums of money to black militant organizations out of a sense of guilt for past sins of omissions or commission. It will require a carefully planned, long-term, interchurch and interracial cooperative endeavor.

David Lawrence Says:

U.S. in Effect, Has Lost War

WASHINGTON — As small contingents of American troops begin to arrive home from Vietnam, there is naturally rejoicing. But it would be a mistake to interpret the "withdrawal" as a sign that peace is really coming and that America's military involvement in Southeast Asia is about to end.

LAWRENCE

The sad truth is that the United States government, in its desire to make an impression before the world of being conciliatory, has rejected military advice and, in effect, has lost the war.

★ ★ ★

In testimony given to a closed session of the Senate Armed Services Committee on April 16, which has just been released, the Air Force chief of staff, Gen. John P. McConnell, said that between the time the bombing was halted by President Johnson on Oct. 31, 1968, and April 1969, North Vietnam had rebuilt all the bridges, highways and transshipment points which previously were destroyed by U.S. planes.

For the last few days, there have been reports from Vietnam that a lull in the fighting was developing and that the war was being de-escalated by North Vietnam in response to the pullout of some American troops.

PHASE OF OFFENSIVE

But the Vietcong and North Vietnamese have just shelled 27 towns and allied bases in a single night, and American military officials say that the Communists are being reinforced for the "third phase" of their summer offensive to be begun in coming weeks.

President Thieu of South Vietnam goes along publicly with the idea of a gradual withdrawal of American troops because he knows this is what President Nixon would wish him to say.

★ ★ ★

The big question, however, is whether the South Vietnamese will be able to handle the situation themselves, even with materiel and technical help from the United States.

Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss. chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, said on ABC's "Issues and Answers" last Sunday, "I don't think the troops — the local troops — will be able to take it over very rapidly. My opinion is it will take several years to develop the leadership and get enough men trained to do the job . . . I am afraid we are not going to be able to fully pull out of Vietnam."

"ALTERNATIVE PLANS'

There is talk of "alternative plans" — some method of stabilizing the situation so that hopefully the fighting will cease. But there is no indication that North Vietnam will reciprocate.

A South Vietnamese representative at the Paris peace conference has stated that his government is ready to match any genuine move by the Communists to reduce the level of the fighting, but that "a unilateral de-escalation would get us nowhere."

★ ★ ★

If the situation is realistically examined, it must be concluded that there is as yet no evidence of a contemplated withdrawal by the Communists.

The North Vietnamese are waiting for the United States to bring home practically all of its troops, and it may be anticipated that the South Vietnamese then will face an even bigger war and the prospect of a Communist takeover.

★ ★ ★

So appeasement such as America is practicing today — in withdrawing troops without any corresponding steps by the enemy — is an example of how a one-sided "de-escalation" becomes synonymous with defeat.

Bob Considine Says:

Headwind Shakes Loose Memories of Early Flight

EN ROUTE TO NEW YORK — Irish Airlines' big Boeing Intercontinental Flight 105, nonstop Shannon-John F. Kennedy, ruddy Capt. James Smith commanding, ran into a beaut of a headwind an hour out. Some 145 miles an hour.

CONSIDINE

So the commander of the good ship St. Canice flew us into calmer air. That easing northwest to the 60th parallel.

"If you wish to observe the mountains of Greenland they're now off on our right," the captain said as casually as if he were pointing out the flower bed in Dublin's O'Connell Street, where Nelson's Column affronted generations of Dubliners.

★ ★ ★

In calmer air and at greater speed we left the forbidding Icecap to our right, and in time the captain came back on the pipe to say that we were passing over Goose Bay, Labrador.

Greenland . . . Goose Bay . . . brought back memories of a remarkable airman named Fish Hassell. In 1928 he attempted to fly from his native Rockford, Ill., to Copenhagen in a single-engined plane. He ran out of gas over the Greenland Icecap, made an emergency landing and became the first white man ever to walk off the cap.

NEARLY 100 MILES

Fish trudged nearly 100 miles over some of the most hostile terrain this side of the moon.

★ ★ ★

I happened to be staying with him at Goose Bay in November 1944 — he was by then the American commander at a U.S.-Canadian airbase — when he learned that his old plane had been spotted by a Navy patrol plane.

★ ★ ★

It had been deep-frozen in Arctic ice but temporarily exposed by a shift in a crevass. It looked well preserved after all those years.

Well, now the Navy has sent a big cargo helicopter in there and lifted it out. It is by now back in Rockford after 41 years. And gray-bearded Fish will stand at its side when he's honored by his townsfolk next month.

It's an ill headwind that blows no good . . .

'Pearl' Planner Aids Movie

There is a vast cost difference between reality and simulation, as is witnessed by the making of a new movie about the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor called "Tora! Tora! Tora!" (The word, meaning "tiger," was the code signal announcing the success of the air strike.)

★ ★ ★

The film reportedly has a budget of more than $20 million. Sizable even by Hollywood standards, it shrinks to nothingness compared to the actual monetary cost of that catastrophe.

★ ★ ★

Ho May Be Feeling Pinch in Vietnam

By RAY CROMLEY
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — Some of President Nixon's analysts see signs the growing Sino-Soviet conflict may be bringing hard pressure on Ho Chi Minh to reach some sort of an accommodation in South Vietnam.

CROMLEY

When Ho began arming his men with modern Chinese weapons and his cities with Soviet antiaircraft arms, he made himself dependent on continuous doses of heavy aid from Peking and Moscow.

★ ★ ★

If China and Russia become too deeply involved, the danger is Red China will cut sharply its supply of weapons, ammunition, food and other assistance. Russian aid, which comes largely by rail through China, would likewise almost certainly be curtailed heavily. The closing of the Suez Canal has already made shipping Soviet material to Hanoi by sea, more expensive.

Ho knows these facts. He has already issued orders to his troops to conserve arms, ammunition and other war material.

SOMEWHAT LIMITED

There are signs Hanoi calculates future replacements may be somewhat limited.

Temporarily at least, the amount of war supplies carried down the Ho Chi Minh trails seems to have dwindled.

★ ★ ★

To some analysts here, the creation by the Communists of the Provisional Revolutionary Government may indicate Ho now believes time is no longer with him.

A guerrilla force — when it is growing — expands policitcally by the creation of a series of fronts, attempting to draw in larger and larger numbers of the population and key men with a wide following in various areas of the society.

CRISIS REACHED?

Normally, such fronts become open Communist groups when the battle is won, the Reds are taking over, or when a crisis has been reached and the guerrillas must retrench and take hard-handed action in which orders from above are quickly and unquestionably obeyed, regardless of who or what is sacrificed in the operation.

Since the Communists have not taken over in South Vietnam, some administration Vietnam watchers reason Hanoi is clearing the ineffectives and wobblies out of the Vietcong ranks preparatory to hard secret political bargaining with the South Vietnamese.

Even if these analysts are correct, and Ho is now ready for a deal, Ho's concept of time is such that the talks could take a year, or two years.

The User Pays

The Holland Evening Sentinel

The nation's air travel needs have been surging ahead of present facilities about as fast as ground traffic is overwhelming highways and city streets. Safety is being jeopardized. Delays in landings and take-offs are intolerable.

In advancing a program for air traffic control and airport improvement, President Nixon has drawn on some of the same philosophy that went into the sweeping interstate highway system started a few years ago; Make the user pay.

The highway user was tapped for a special gasoline tax. Nixon's plan would boost the airline ticket tax, set up a new levy on air freight and add to the tax on aviation fuels for general (not commercial) use.

It would raise $5 billion in 10 years to pay for more air traffic controls and expanded airports.

★ ★ ★

Passengers won't welcome the bigger bite, of course. But neither do they like present problems. Something has to be done. Nixon's plan seems in the right flight pattern.

Military Logic

Milwaukee Journal

The defense department is buying $400 million more of a sub-standard guidance "brain" for the Minuteman missile. The reason, it is explained, is that the system doesn't work as long as it was supposed to, so it needs frequent replacements.

★ ★ ★

Herman Kahn, one of our top experts in the whole field of deterrents, said recently that we need the anti-ballistic-missiles even if they don't work when all assembled. The reason: If we don't have them we can't improve them.

★ ★ ★

The logic escapes a lot of people, perhaps most of all those who have been demanding "truth in packaging" laws to protect consumers.

Maybe if we got "truth in packaging" applied to what the defense department buys, the problem of soaring federal expenditures would recede a bit.

Candid Siberians Bend Newsman's Ear

By JOHN T. WHEELER
AP Newsfeatures Writer

TRAVELING THROUGH SIBERIA — "But of course my students and I listen to your Voice of America. It is very necessary for us to have other points of view so we can judge for ourselves what the government in Moscow says about the world."

Antonina, a Russian high school instructor first class, paused, ran her fingers through her jet black hair and added:

"We know the Kremlin does not always tell the whole truth."

★ ★ ★

The trim, 25-year-old teacher's candor was not rare among Russians who repeatedly sought out one American reporter during his three weeks of traveling through the Soviet Union aboard the Trans-Siberian Express.

The reporter had been told before the start of the trip that Siberians like Antonina were far more independent on politics than other Soviet citizens, and that this grew from the fact that Siberia had become the intellectual center of the nation because so many dissenters had been exiled there in the past.

CLASSROOM DISCUSSIONS?

If Antonina was not afraid to discuss such things with an American, then she and her students must hold some rare classroom sessions, the reporter suggested.

For the only time in an hour-long discussion. Antonina refused to meet her luncheon companion's eyes.

"I would like to tell you that is true. But I cannot. Such things are not yet possible for us. Perhaps some day this will change. But for now it is too dangerous. One of the students might report us. So now each of us must keep his thoughts to himself or discuss them only with people who are safe. Is it not odd that I can talk about things with you that I cannot tell my students openly?"

"The trouble you Americans have in your schools now would be impossible here," another schoolteacher said. "Our students would simply be forced to become manual laborers or to go to the army. But don't misunderstand. Youth all over the world has its own ideas now and no one, even the government, can prevent this.

The possibility of dissent and independent thinking is not universally accepted or even considered in the Soviet Union.

A guide taking American tourists through the Kremlin was asked how the Soviet government resolved differences within the power elite.

"There is no dissent here," she said a bit shortly through a professional smile.

★ ★ ★

Vietnam was a conversational favorite with Russians. Czechoslovakia was something they tried to avoid.

On Vietnam, many Russians appeared to want to register their displeasure and moralize a bit about the American involvement. But seldom were the comments angry or directed in such a way as to embarrass their American listeners. Most of the phrases tended to repeat themselves and appeared to come from the typewriter of a phrasemaker in a Moscow propaganda bureau.

Victor, a Red army artillery colonel, said the United States had made one "fatal mistake" in Vietnam. "You believed you could shoot ideas in the head with a gun. It is fortunate for the Vietcong that Washington has never learned this. You still use tanks when you should be using counterideology."

On the Czech issue, even Antonia, who listened to Western news broadcasts, followed the Moscow line without much deviation. Nicolai used words and phrases repeated continually by others:

"There was much trouble in Czechoslovakia, and we were asked by the president of the country to come and help restore order and to prevent the plots of international gangsterism in West Germany from overthrowing the socialist government in Prague."

TIME FOR CONVERSATION — Passengers aboard the Trans-Siberian railway find plenty of time for conversation. Here, a former Korean (left) who is now a Soviet citizen chats with a young lady medical doctor and a Japanese business executive headed for Moscow.

ROUGH GOING — This is the kind of rough golfers are battling in today's opening round of the British Open golf tournament at Lytham, St. Annes, England. Billy Casper of San Diego found himself shooting out of the knee-deep grass during a practice round yesterday.

Bob Charles Fires 66 to Lead British Open

MAKE EVEN PAGES

LYTHAM ST. ANNES, England (AP) — Bob Charles of New Zealand equalled his own course record here today with a 66 to take the early first round in the British Open golf tournament.

It could possibly be considered a new record for the left-handed swinging former champion because the course is now 200 yards longer than the one he mastered in 1963 when he beat Phil Rodgers in a playoff.

The course now measures 6,848 yards with a par of 35-36—71.

Charles had five birdies on the front nine, starting with a decue and ending with another two at the short No. 9 for a 31. Coming home he posted three birdies, but also had two bogeys for a 35. His round far-outstriped the other early finishers.

SECOND PLACE

Davis Love Jr. of Atlanta, Ga., was next with a 70.

Lee Trevino of Dallas, winner of the 1968 U. S. Open, finished with a 34-41—75 and said: "Thursday I'm going to leave my driver in the club house and go out with a three wood and one iron."

★ ★ ★

He added: "Once you get into the rough here you've got a bogey. That's why I bogeyed so many holes on the last nine."

Trevino birdied the 490-yard sixth hole and got another birdie four at the long seventh hole again by reaching the green in two.

THREE-PUTTED

"I three-putted the eighth for a bogey and it was there that my troubles started," he said.

Trevino bogeyed the short 12th hole after pushing his tee shot, chipping to 12 feet from a bad lie and missing the putt.

He was in the rough at both the 14th and 15th holes and bunkered his second shot at the 16th for another bogey.

★ ★ ★

Another bogey came at the home hole where he missed a putt of about three and a half feet.

Love was the first to turn in a sub-par round.

His one under par performance was steady as a rock. He slipped to a bogey five at the second but got that back with birdies at the long sixth and seventh holes.

On the return trip, Love's only mistake — an off line shot at the tough 462 yard par four 15th was equalized by an earlier birdie three at the 13th. He finished strongly in three straight regulation fours, home holes that had been too tough in rising wind for much of the field.

Bruce Devlin of Australia, turned in the first complete par round and it followed par exactly at 35-36—71.

DISASTROUS FINISH

Gardner Dickinson, after a sound opening nine, blew to a disastrous 41 on the home trip, including two sixes, and his five over par 76 presented him with a very steep hill to climb in subsequent rounds.

★ ★ ★

Roberto de Vicenzo, the 46-year-old Argentine who won this title in 1967, finished with a 72.

Said the Argentine star: "On the front nine I play like Sam Snead. On the back nine I play like de Vincenzo."

Pennant Hopes Look Slim for Detroit

Red Sox Hand Mickey Lolich Second Setback

BOSTON (AP) — Any hopes for the Detroit Tigers to repeat as champions of the American League and the world ride strictly on the arms of Mickey Lolich and Denny McLain.

And today those hopes looked slim indeed after the Boston Red Sox bombed Lolich for five hits and took advantage of five walks for a 4-1 win, snapping the Mick's nine-game winning streak and inflicting his second loss in 20 decisions over two seasons.

★ ★ ★

Detroit, whose slim pennant hopes had been briefly ressurected by a five-of-six flurry against Boston and leagueleading Baltimore, fell 12 games back once again as the Bosox took over second place in the East Division.

The obvious culprit in Lolich's second loss of the season against 11 wins — both losses have come in Fenway Park— was rookie pitcher Mike Nagy, who threw a three-hitter at the Tigers and drove in all the runs he needed with a bases-loaded single in the second inning.

RARE LAPSE

The real villain, though, was a rare lapse in the Mick's control. Lolich had walked three batters to load up the bases before Nagy came to bat.

"He had walked a few, and I didn't want to let him get off the hook," the rookie righthander said. "They never let me off the hook when I walk a few."

Nagy didn't have any problems to speak of Tuesday night, striking out five, walking three and hiking his record to 5-1.

His own hit and Russ Gibson's two-run single in the third gave him a quick 4-0 lead, and he was in command all the way.

The 21-year-old New Yorker gave up only a double by Tom Tresh in the first inning and a single by Dick McAuliffe in the eighth before a hit batter, Jim Northrup's double and a ground out broke up his shutout in the ninth.

Lolich noted that there isn't any warmup mound at Fenway Park and said, "I couldn't adjust to the change in height after I got out there."

Of the problems of a lefthander working in Fenway, he said, "I don't think it's a question of pitching too carefully in this park. Most of the home runs hit out of here would be out of any park."

A key play in the contest came in second inning when Bill Freehan dropped Gibson's pop foul helping set up the first Boston runs as Gibson then walked to load the bases.

"I heard Norm (Cash) yelling and I thought he was calling for it. Then I realized he was yelling for me to take it," the Bengal catcher said.

The Tigers try to salvage at least one game in the series today when they send Pat Dobson (3-6) against Lee Stange (3-0).

Canadians Score in Hockey Debate

CRANS-SUR-SIERRE, Switzerland (AP) — Canada was given the right Tuesday after two days of hard bargaining before the International Ice Hockey Federation to redeem some stature as a leading country in the game it invented and nurtured.

And looking back, financier Charles Hay of Toronto says it is difficult to explain how Canada overcame the clash of political and economic complexities.

★ ★ ★

"I think the only reason we got what we did was because the Canadian delegates presented such a unified front," said Hay, the chairman of Hockey Canada, which operates the country's national team.

★ ★ ★

"I'm sure the European countries were amazed that the presidents of the National Hockey League, Hockey Canada, the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association and federal government could unite so successfully on the issue."

The Canadian delegation came to propose to delegates attending the IIHF annual meeting that the World Hockey Championship A pool be declared an open tournament.

This was defeated but granted was the right for the countries in a pool to use nine certified professionals, reinstate amateurs less than six weeks before the World Championship and employ rules with unlimited body checking.

★ ★ ★

This does not mean the use of National Hockey League players in the World Tournament at Winnipeg in Montreal next March.

It simply means that any country can use nine professionals below the NHL level and fill its roster with reinstated amateurs who have retired from professional ranks.

The 14-man Canadian delegation was aware it had to lobby effectively for support among the 50 attending delegates — two from each country.

EIGHT VOTES

Canada and the United States were united with eight votes and a number of smaller countries were sympathetic because of the financial structure of the IIHF.

These smaller countries in the B and C pools of the World Championship are carried financially by the A pool tournament and Canada's failure to ice a winning team during the last eight years meant less interest and therefore less revenue.

Three Teams Share 1st in Father-Son Tourney

Three teams shared first place yesterday in the annual Golf Association of Michigan father-son tournament at Barton Hills and Washtenaw country clubs.

★ ★ ★

In with 73s were Rudy and son Mark Bartolotti of Plum Hollow, Pat and son Gary Hucker of Essex and Cles and son Ed Shaffran of Washtenaw.

W. H. Brafford and son W. D. posted a 74 to take the first flight honors.

Orioles Sweep Doubleheader From Yankees

By the Associated Press

If the Baltimore Orioles were in a slump, Manager Earl Weaver didn't know about it.

"I wouldn't call it a slump," Weaver said after the Orioles swept a doubleheader from the New York Yankees Tuesday night, 10-3 and 4-1, ending a skein of five losses in seven games.

★ ★ ★

"Two of the five losses were to Mickey Lolich, one to Denny McLain and one to Mel Stottlemyne," Weaver said, rationalizing as best he could.

"What I mean is," Weaver added, "you can't catch those guys all in a row, and beat them every time out."

★ ★ ★

In Tuesday's twi-nighter, the Orioles rapped out 21 hits off New York pitchers of lesser reknown and extended their bulging lead in the American League's East Division to 11½ games over runnerup Boston.

RECORD SET

In the opener, the Orioles scored a club record 10 runs in the fourth inning on nine hits— seven in succession with two outs after New York Manager Ralph Houk ordered an intentional walk to bring pitcher Tom Phoebus to the plate.

But Phoebus, now 8-2, rapped out his second hit on a 1-2 pitch, to drive in the third run of the inning, and Mark Belanger, Paul Blair and Frank Robinson followed with run-scoring singles to chase loser Fritz Peterson.

★ ★ ★

Boog Powell, who also drove in two second-game runs to give him 79 RBI, then clubbed a three-run homer off reliever Mike Kekich, Brooks Robinson singled and rode home on Dave Johnson's double.

★ ★ ★

"I can't remember ever having eight runs scored against me with two outs," Houk said. "I didn't have anybody warming up with the pitcher coming up. There was no reason to."

★ ★ ★

While Oriole batters were too fast for Houk in the opener, the Yankee skipper was too slow for umpire Bob Stewart in the nightcap.

LEADING LADY — Linda Tuero, a member of the Tulane University varsity tennis team and No. 1 seed in the women's division of the U.S. Amateur Tournament, advanced to the second round of the tourney yesterday with a 6-1, 6-1 victory over Sue Dalrymple of Rochester, N.Y.

Scott, Fishbach Meet in Amateur Tennis Play

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — Top-seeded Eugene Scott of New York, a former Davis Cupper, faced Long Island star Pete Fishbach today in the feature match of today's third round of the U.S. Amateur Tennis Championships.

★ ★ ★

Scott, a 31-year-old attorney, breezed past William Cullen, the tennis coach at West Point, 6-1, 6-2, 6-2 Tuesday while Fishbach, from Great Neck, N.Y., dropped a set before he eliminated Michael Machette of Belvedere, Calif., 6-1, 4-6, 6-0, 6-4.

★ ★ ★

In women's play, top-seeded Linda Tuero, a Tulane University coed from Metairie, La., lost only two games in ousting Sue Dalrymple of Rochester, N.Y., 6-1, 6-1. Miss Tuero rested today while the other women players completed the second round.

Braves Feel Pain From L.A. Aches

By the Associated Press

The Los Angeles Dodgers ache all over but the Atlanta Braves are the ones feeling the pain.

Led by super-cripple Manny Mota, who banged out eight hits, one short of the major league record for most hits in a doubleheader, the Dodgers swept Atlanta 5-3 and 4-3 Tuesday night and took over first place in the National League West from the Braves by onehalf game.

★ ★ ★

After rapping seven singles and a double in 10 at-bats, driving in three runs, scoring twice and stealing a base, Mota limped into the clubhouse, where his left elbow and left knee were packed in ice.

Mota broke the elbow playing winter ball in the Dominican Republic and injured the knee sliding a few days ago. The elbow probably will require postseason surgery, but the injuries didn't stop the 5-foot-11, 168-pound outfielder from raising his average since coming to the Dodgers from Montreal to .412 and his over-all mark to .366.

METS TRIUMPH

Elsewhere, the New York Mets rallied to nip Chicago 4-3 and trimmed the Cubs' lead in the East to four games, Cincinnati whipped San Diego 8-2, San Francisco turned back Houston 7-4, St. Louis downed Philadelphia 6-3 and Pittsburgh walloped Montreal 8-2.

Mota's big night began with an infield hit in the first inning of the opener, after Hank Aaron had put the Braves ahead 1-0 with his 23rd home run and 533rd of his career. Willie Davis singled Mota to third and they both scored when Orlando Cepeda threw wildly to second trying to trap Davis in a rundown.

★ ★ ★

In the third inning, Mota singled and was out trying for a double. In the fourth, he doubled a run home and was out trying for third. In the sixth he got a harmless single and he flied out in the eighth.

Mota singled in the first inning of the second game and stole second, but was stranded. He wasted a single in the third and grounded out in the sixth, one of 14 straight batters retired by Ron Reed.

SPELL BREAKER

But Maury Wills broke the spell in the eighth with a two-out triple and Mota singled him in, cutting Atlanta's lead to 2-1. Mota then scored the tying run on singles by Davis and Len Gabrielsen.

The Braves went ahead 3-2 in the ninth on Rico Carty's pinch double, but Tom Haller, who homered in the first game, started another rally with a leadoff double in the Dodgers' half. A single by Bill Sudakis knotted the score again and, after a single by Willie Crawford, the Braves elected to walk Wills intentionally and pitch to Mota. He promptly singled, scoring Sudakis with the winning run.

★ ★ ★

Davis, who was hit on the wrist by a pitch Sunday and had trouble squeezing the bat, collected three singles and a triple; Haller, who has two swollen ankles after being hit by foul balls, had a single, double and home run, and Wes Parker, still bothered by a persistent hamstring pull, singled in a first-game run.

Teen Leads West Golf Tournament

ROCKFORD, Ill. (AP) — Pat Fitzsimons, an 18-year-old from Salem, Ore., fired an opening round three-under-par 68 Tuesday to gain the lead in the Western Amateur Golf Tournament.

Fitzsimons parred the first 14 holes over the par 35-36—71 Rockford Country Club course, then fired three consecutive birdies before parring the final hole.

★

William Kratzert, 17, of Fort Wayne, Ind., and Pat Welch, 22, of Auburn, Ind., were tied for second place, one stroke back with 69s.

Rich Grigas, 19, of Grand Rapids, Mich., fired 34-36—70, and Lynn Janson, 21, East Lansing, Mich., had 35-35—70.

DOUBLE STEAL — Catcher Russ Gibson of the Boston Red Sox slides into third base on the front end of a double steal in last night's game against the Detroit Tigers. Pitcher Mike Nagy stole second in this second inning action. Third Baseman Don Wert of the Tigers takes the late throw from catcher Bill Freehan. The Red Sox won, 4-1.

Moderately Active Trading

Stock Mart Continues to Sink

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market, which took a steep drop Tuesday, continued to sink in moderately active trading early today.

The Dow Jones industrial average at 10:30 a.m. was off 3.24 at 867.11.

A 13,000-share block of American Telephone & Telegraph traded at 54¾, up 1/8. A 6,200-share block of Polaroid traded at 116, unchanged.

Pan American World Airways, in which a 14,700-share block was traded, was off 7/8 at 18. Pan Am omitted the quarterly dividend Tuesday for the first time since 1941.

Opening prices included:

Lucky Stores, off ¾ at 50 on 22,000 shares; U.S. Steel, up 1/8 at 41⅞ on 9,400 shares; Anaconda, off ¼ at 30¼ on 8,800 shares; Reading & Bates Offshore Drilling, up 1/8 at 38¼ on 7,900 shares; and General Electric, off ¾ at 87 on 7,200 shares.

The market slid sharply Tuesday under a variety of troubling developments. The Dow Jones industrial average plunged 12.86 to close at 870.35. The loss was the biggest in a single day for the DJI since Feb. 17 when it fell 14.23. The Associated Press 60-stock average dropped 3.9 to 308.6—a new low for the year.

Prices mostly were lower on the American Stock Exchange, although Parvin-Dohrmann gained 1 to 92½.
