John Fox Tells Hush-Up Tale About Goldfine

Ex-Publisher Repeats in Detail Scene Between Adams and 'Friend'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ex-publisher John Fox swore today that Sherman Adams had tried to hush up Bernard Goldfine and prevent him from boasting that Adams had never let him down.

Fox thus flatly contradicted a denial by Adams, President Eisenhower's principal assistant, that Goldfine made such a statement in his presence.

This came after the House subcommittee hearing testimony by Fox for the third day clamped down on Fox, refusing to let him read a new statement in the probe of the Adams-Goldfine case.

Fox, stormy Boston financial figure, repeated with details his story of a conference in the Sheraton-Carlton Hotel here involving Adams and Goldfine and of Goldfine's subsequent boast to Adams.

Goldfine, wealthy Boston industrialist, was having difficulties at the time—May 1955—with the Federal Trade Commission over labeling of some of his textile factory products.

After the conference with Adams, Fox said, Goldfine called Fox into the room for a drink and proposed a toast to Adams, who "never lets his friends down" and "isn't letting me down now."

Rep. Joseph O'Hara (R-Minn.) asked Fox whether this was "a kidding remark."

Fox said he didn't know, but "Adams took Goldfine by the arm to a far corner of the room and quite obviously admonished him not to talk too much."

Chairman Oren Harris (D-Ark.) interrupted to admonish Fox not to testify about things he did not know himself.

But Fox insisted. "From the snatches of conversation I got and Mr. Adams' obvious concern," he knew he "was telling Mr. Goldfine to keep his mouth shut," he said.

Adams in a public statement Friday specifically denied that Goldfine made any such remark in his presence.

Fox has pictured his business rival, Boston millionaire Bernard Goldfine, as getting favored treatment from federal agencies through friendship with Serman Adams, President Eisenhower's top aide.

Adams has issued angry denials; so have Goldfine's lawyers.

Goldfine flew in from Boston last night but was reported planning to stay clear of today's hearing. His lawyers said they wanted Goldfine to bone up on Fox's allegations so he will be ready for a scheduled appearance tomorrow.

Both the White House and Adams denounced as lies much of what Fox told the subcommittee last week.

The group had just returned from a tavern visit and the Myers couple got into an argument, Deer was quoted as saying.

Deer and Myers had been friends for years and the Myers were making a weekend visit at the Deer farm. Deer is being held for investigation of murder, State Police said.

Myers was shot with a shotgun. After the shooting Deer called police and surrendered at a relative's home.

U. S. Demands Soviets Return 9 Fliers Downed in Armenia

MOSCOW (AP) — U. S. Ambassador Llewellyn E. Thompson Jr. today asked the Soviet Foreign Ministry for the immediate release of nine American airmen forced down inside Soviet Armenia.

Thompson was ordered from Washington to transmit his government's denial of Soviet charges that the plane, an unarmed DC-6A Air Force transport, had deliberately trespassed into the Soviet air space.

The U. S. Defense Department suggested that the aircraft was flying above an overcast on instruments and strayed off course.

The ambassador also was expected to request that embassy representatives be permitted to visit the detained airmen.

The Soviets previously reported that the plane, forced down Friday by two Soviet jets, burned on landing but that the six officers and three airmen aboard were unharmed and are being well cared for.

Presumably the Americans set the plane afire to keep the Soviets from getting its classified equipment.

They are the second group of nine American military personnel held by the Communists.

The East German Reds have been holding nine U. S. Army men since their helicopter got lost in a thunderstorm June 7 and ran out of gas over East Germany. The United States has been trying to get the Soviets to secure release of the Army men, but the Soviets say it's a matter for negotiations between the United States and the East German regime.

The plane downed in Armenia was en route from Weisbaden, Germany, to Tehran and Karachi with cargo for U. S. military and diplomatic missions in Iran and Pakistan. The Soviets gave this version:

The plane was picked up by Soviet radar as it flew 105 miles inside Armenia.

Two jet fighters took off and intercepted the American craft, ordering it to follow them to the nearest airport.

"For awhile this foreign plane did not respond," a Soviet account said. "Then it turned sharply and began to fly south. Our fliers forced this intruding plane to make a landing. It landed and began to burn."

"Nine members of the crew who jumped out of the plane were detained."

The U. S. Defense Department said the plane was traveling the regular international civil airway route which passes within about 50 miles of the Soviet border.

"The weather was overcast," a Defense Department statement said. "Due to high mountains along the route, it is presumed that the aircraft was flying above the overcast on instruments and radio beacon guidance, and had no visual reference to ground checkpoints."

Partly cloudy and warm is the forecast for tonight. The low will be around 68.

Tomorrow's outlook is partly cloudy with scattered thunder showers afternoon and evening. The high will be about 85 with the evening low expected to be 64.

The U. S. Weather Bureau's five-day Michigan weather forecast reports that temperatures will average near the normal 82 high and normal 62 low. Cooler temperatures are due Wednesday, but it will be warm again Friday. Scattered thunderstorms are predicted for Wednesday and again Friday.

Rebels Trying to Draw New World Attention

No Signs of Progress in Negotiations by U.S. Consul for Release

HAVANA (UPI) — Cuban rebels kidnaped two more Americans in Oriente province this morning, the U. S. Embassy was informed. The latest victims brought to 41, the number of Americans known to be in rebel hands.

HAVANA (AP) — Fidel Castro's rebels held 39 kidnaped Americans and three Canadians today in a bold new campaign to draw the world's attention back to their sputtering revolt against President Fulgencio Batista's rule.

U. S. Consul Park Wollam made contact with a rebel source deep in the mountains of eastern Cuba but there was no indication he was making any progress in negotiating for the captives' release.

Wollam also had no word on the 28 American servicemen who disappeared over the weekend, 27 of them on an overnight picnic excursion from the U. S. Navy base at Guantanamo.

Seventeen sailors and 10 Marines were captured 30 miles east of Guantanamo in the mountainous countryside near Castro's Sierra Maestra hideout in Oriente province.

The other man was grabbed Saturday as he was walking just outside the base.

10 SEIZED THURSDAY — After Castro's war of nerves fizzled three months ago, the rebels withdrew to the hills and remained relatively quiet. Cuba had begun returning to normal.

Then last Thursday night the rebels seized 10 American and two Canadian engineers at the isolated Moa Mining Co. on the northern coast of Oriente.

Two sugar mill executives were carried off in separate kidnappings in Oriente. The rebels' biggest catch was the (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4)

Party's Over for Big Mac

Business as Usual Today as Straits Area Returns to Normal

MACKINAC BRIDGE (AP) — Straits area communities returned to "business as usual" today. But the mishaps and drama, that sprang from three days of merrymaking will furnish fireside talk for many a long-winter's evening when the straits are covered with ice and the last tourist has headed south. All agreed the dedication festival of the new straits bridge was the biggest show the Northland ever saw.

Gov. Williams headed back to his desk at Lansing, but his likely opponent in the November election, Paul D. Bagwell, stayed behind to continue his hand-shaking tour of the north country in his 1908 Oldsmobile.

Rep. Donald E. Brown (R-Royal Oak), Bagwell's mate as Republican candidate for lieutenant governor, likewise remained.

Traffic returned to normal, summertime volume at St. Ignace and Mackinaw City though bridge traffic continued heavy. Bridge officials expect the 500,000th car to cross this week.

Street cleaners were busy cleaning up the litter and Army men were carting away military displays.

The party was over.

Apparently, Explorer III Is Dead, Experts Agree

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (UPI) — Explorer III apparently is dead. Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory scientists said last night there has been no confirmed sighting of the American satellite since 9:30 p. m. (EST) Friday at Memphis, Tenn. They discounted reported sightings since then in Connecticut, Arizona, and over the Atlantic Ocean.

A spokesman said, "Those objects probably were just fireballs." Smithsonian experts had predicted Explorer III, launched last March 26, would burn up by last night.

2 Area Residents Killed in Traffic

A Lake Orion National Guardsman and a Romeo housewife were killed in separate traffic mishaps this weekend outside Oakland County.

Dead are: Vern E. Williamson, 34, of 505 Heights Rd., Lake Orion, a father of five, and Mrs. Loreane Beamish, 36, of 80977 Holmes Rd., Romeo.

Williamson was killed early Sunday when his car veered across U.S. 27 on the north city limits of Grayling and smashed into a tractor-trailer driven by Donald Ramsey, 24, of Saskatoon, Saskatchewan, Canada.

Williamson, a cook in the 125th Infantry Regiment, was spending the weekend with Pontiac's National Guard Company during its annual pre-camp range firing at Camp Grayling.

He was an employee at GM Truck and Coach Division. His body has been taken to Flumerfelt Funeral Home, Lake Orion.

Mrs. Beamish died Sunday in Yale Hospital of injuries received when she was crushed between her husband's truck and the family auto Saturday night on Donald Rd., southwest of Capac, in St. Clair County.

The truck and auto were parked without lights, deputies reported.

As she walked between them, the truck was struck from behind by a car driven by Tony Costello, 18, of Inlay City, deputies said. Costello was slightly injured.

Her husband, George, 53, and son, James Manning, 16, were also admitted to the hospital.

A three-year-old boy died Saturday afternoon at Pontiac General Hospital of burns received when a jar of gasoline exploded in his backyard.

James Walker Jr., of 164 Franklin Rd., was admitted to the hospital Friday afternoon with third degree burns of the face, chest, hands and legs.

He was injured as he watched his brother, James Wesley, 11, and an uncle, Ronald Wims, 13, running a small gasoline motor. A spark from the motor ignited the open jar of gasoline nearby, causing the explosion.

Cool Cats: It's Time for Open Collar

Gentlemen, doff those ties and don those open-collar shirts.

With his finger pointing to the 85-degree spot on the thermometer, Paul Sparrow, champion of masculine summer comfort, has decreed it's too warm today for cuff and cravat formalities.

The mercury slipped past 85 at 10:45 this morning and was still headed upward as Sparrow, wiping a faint trace of perspiration from his brow, sounded the word for all who belong to his Male Emancipation League: "Cool cats dress for comfort on hot summer days. If you dress otherwise, you are not a cool cat, you are not cool, period. You are hot and miserable."

This sage advice applies to every day it is 80 degrees or hotter. It will probably apply tomorrow, Sparrow says, so be prepared.

Glance at the thermometer before leaving for work in the morning. If it's around 70-75 then, you can be confident it will hit 85 latter, Sparrow says.

Shoots Old Friend for Striking Wife

BAD AXE (AP) — A reunion of two friends ended in the fatal shooting of one at a farm home yesterday.

State Police Cpl. Carl Harrison said that Harvey Deer Jr., 33, a farmer, told him he shot and killed Earl E. Myers, 49, Detroit truck driver, when the latter struck Mrs. Myers, 44.

The group had just returned from a tavern visit and the Myers couple got into an argument, Deer was quoted as saying.

Deer and Myers had been friends for years and the Myers were making a weekend visit at the Deer farm. Deer is being held for investigation of murder, State Police said.

Myers was shot with a shotgun. After the shooting Deer called police and surrendered at a relative's home.

Open X-Way Stretch to Clio, Bypassing Flint

FLINT (UPI) — A 34-mile stretch of expressway from Fenton to Clio was opened today by the State Highway Department. The route bypasses Flint.

Although the new road is 19 miles longer than existing highways around Flint, it will save motorists half an hour's driving time.

Senate Resumes Debate Today

Alaska May Get Star by Midweek

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate enters a second week of debate on Alaskan statehood today with prospects of a vote by midweek to send the first star to the nation's flag since 1912.

With the Senate again meeting early, there was hope for a vote during the day on a constitutional point of order raised against the bill by Sen. James O. Eastland (D-Miss.).

Backers of the House-passed bill, heartened by two test vote victories, were confident the admission measure would be on its way to the White House no later than Wednesday. They forecast passage by a 3-1 Senate margin.

Delegate E. L. Bob Bartlett (D-Alaska), traditionally cautious in his statehood forecasts, said he would not be surprised to find 70 senators lining up for the bill on the final roll call. He said he looked for action by tomorrow night.

Similar forecasts were made during the weekend by Senate backers of the bill which would authorize the first new state since New Mexico and Arizona joined the Union 46 years ago.

From the beginning, statehood strategists have successfully opposed any alteration of the House-passed bill to avoid parliamentary troubles which might occur if the bill had to go back to the House for action on Senate amendments.

Two such efforts were rejected Friday when the Senate voted 50-29 against a proposal to substitute commonwealth status for statehood and beat back 53-28 the first of Eastland's three constitutional challenges.

MAKE OVER PLANT

NEW MESC BRANCH — The Michigan Employment Security Commission today opened this new branch office at 242 Oakland avenue. Containing about 9,000 square feet of office space, it is about a half again as large as the former Pontiac headquarters at 142 Wayne St., which closed down today. Paul Kimball, Pontiac branch manager, said that the temporary downtown office at 17 E. Lawrence St. will remain open indefinitely.

most frequently, its climate. A southern congressman, during the House debate on the Alaska statehood bill in May, said he doubted the territory would ever be settled by Americans because of the climate.

Alaska does have cold temperatures during the long winters, but the territory's weather — like virtually everything else about its 586,400 square miles — defies a blanket description.

You can't call Alaska a land of ice and snow — even though it has 18,000 square miles of glaciers. You can't very well say its winter temperatures are unlivable — because some 35,000 persons live in Fairbanks (where the mercury sinks more than 60 degrees below zero) and call their city the golden heart of Alaska.

The southeastern Alaska panhandle, an island-studded coastal area, enjoys a climate much like the Pacific Northwest states.

Anchorage, which has weather that compares with Chicago, was so hard-pressed by a heat wave last winter that snow had to be imported to stage dog sled races that are a feature of the annual fur rendezvous.

But beyond a universal love for land that has been a possession of the United States for 91 years, Alaskans often are at odds among themselves.

Congress was first asked to admit Alaska as a state more than 40 years ago, but statehood bills have been vigorously supported only since 1936.

Alaska is a land of potential. It has vast possibilities for the development of hydro electric power. Timber stands of spruce, hemlock and birch are abundant. Virtually every type of mineral, and vast quantities of coal are to be found in many sections of Alaska.

Most of Nation Enjoying Fair Skies Today

By United Press International

Most of the nation enjoyed fair skies today and summer finally caught up with the northern Midwest.

A flow of warm, moist air from the Gulf of Mexico yesterday chased a month-long spell of cold weather out of the Upper Mississippi Valley and the Northern Great Lakes.

The Gulf air was responsible for the only major cloudiness around the nation early today, centered in the Great Lakes region.

The only other exceptions to the fair weather pattern were a few showers in Montana and along the Washington and Oregon coasts and some cloudiness along the eastern coast of Florida.

But TV Doesn't Do Justice

3 Huzzas for Moiseyev Dancers!

By WILLIAM EWALD

NEW YORK (UPI) — I can't think of any recent show which so clearly defined the nature of the television beast as the TV debut last night of the Moiseyev Dance Company.

Ed Sullivan devoted his full TV hour to the Russia troupe and I must say at the start it was an hour shot through with a wonderful exuberance. It was a little like having a whirlwind in the living room. It was an hour full of swirl and whoop and good humor and stylish corn—I mean that in the best sense. I don't see how anyone could possibly fault the company.

But—ah, there he goes with his buts again—as also was a terribly frustrating show. Television is simply not suited to the dance. Dancing exists in space—the special relationships between the dancer and the space around him. Without that feeling of space, you get a flat imitation of what's going on.

It was not the fault of the cameras. When a camera tried a long shot, the dancing was not too well defined. When it tried medium shots of individual dancers, the rest of the troupe was lost. When it tried closeups of feet, torsos were snipped out. When it tried overhead shots, feet were blotted.

Tot Runs Into Path of Car on City Street

A four-year-old girl suffered head injuries Saturday when she was struck by a car as she ran out into the street.

Wilfred H. Bowman, 49, of 245 Draper St., the driver, told Pontiac police he was driving near his home when Pamela Dell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Dell, of 201 Draper, dashed in front of his car.

He said there was an oil truck parked on the street and the girl was hidden from his view by the truck.

My minor carping aside, last night's Sullivan show was an enormous contribution to television. It demonstrated that dance companies can be—well, I hate to use the word, but—fun. The Moiseyev girls looked jolly and, unlike so many female dancers, amply proportioned. And the men, unlike most male dancers, looked like men.

One side note: There was one almost excruciatingly embarrassing moment at the tail of the show when the woman translating the words of impresario Moiseyev started to say: "I am delighted . . ." and a derisive hoot was heard from the audience.

Sullivan turned a withering glance toward the offender the likes of which I've not seen since Leo Durocher last looked at an umpire. It was a glance justly deserved.

Zsa Zsa Cancels Hostess Plan for Gen. Trujillo

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Actress Zsa Zsa Gabor bowed out today as the "hostess with the mostest" for Gen. Rafael Trujillo Jr.'s star-studded soiree at the luxurious Beverly Hilton Hotel on July 8.

The blonde, Hungarian-born actress sent out telegrams which read:

"I am hereby giving up my role as the hostess with the mostest and I regret that the party which I had planned to give on July the eighth for my dear friend His Excellency General Rafael Trujillo Jr. must be canceled. So many friends requested invitations that I am afraid the party got out of hand. I hope that my early invitation has not inconvenienced you."

A rift between Zsa Zsa and the free-spending 29-year-old son of Dominican strongman Rafael Trujillo was denied by Miss Gabor's publicity representative.

excursion party of 27 U. S. sailors and Marines. They failed to return to Guantanamo on schedule Friday night and their empty bus was found Saturday afternoon.

Two Cubans, presumably the driver and his assistant, also were reported missing.

Two Michigan men are among the Naval and Marine Corps personnel missing from the Naval base at Guantanamo Bay. The Defense Department names the men as Merritt H. Stuck, seaman, U. S. Navy, of Grand Rapids, and Robert A. Astour, Aviation Structural Mechanic 3c, U. S. Navy, of Dearborn.

Although the U. S. Embassy reported the men were forced from their bus and driven into the mountains, there was no public expression of fear for their safety or that of the other captives. Wollam was told by a reliable rebel source that the 12 engineers were in good shape.

In the past Castro's men have been studiously polite to their foreign captives, releasing them unharmed after the kidnapping made its desired publicity splash.

AVOID OPEN FIGHTING

Because of the current kidnappings the Cuban army curtailed its offensive against the rebels to avoid open fighting that might harm the captives.

The current wave of kidnappings was preceded by a rebel charge that the United States was allowing Batista's air force to use the Guantanamo airstrip as a base from which to bomb Castro's mountain hideouts.

This was promptly denied by U. S. Ambassador Earl E. T. Smith.

PURSUER REBELS — Lebanese government troops keep watch on a hillside near Safur, Lebanon, after running into snipers while moving up toward the hill hideout of rebel Druze leader Kamal Jounblatt. This action took place in central Lebanon.

Fierce Battle Also Reported at Tripoli

Rebels Press In on Lebanese Capital

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI) — Rebels drove into hills overlooking Beirut today and security forces fought back with jet planes, artillery and armored cars.

The surprise thrust brought rebel mountain fighters closer to the capital and Beirut International Airport than at any time since the revolt began May 10.

Security forces struck back immediately and wrested two hills from the rebels near Hamman Village, but the fighting continued.

Rebels and government forces fought the fiercest battle in Lebanon's civil war this weekend at Tripoli, but there were no reports today on whether the rebel attack had broadened into an offensive to capture the whole city.

U. S. HOSPITAL SHAKEN

The battle in the northern port city yesterday centered around the U. S. Presbyterian Hospital, which stands on a hill surrounded by rebel territory. Bullets nicked the hospital's outer walls, and it was shaken by explosions.

Inside the hospital were 25 Lebanese patients and 42 Lebanese staff members. They reported by telephone yesterday that their reinforced patrol of government guards was still there.

American personnel quit the hospital two weeks ago. The rebels were trying to capture the hospital for their own wounded.

Rebel strongholds in the Tripoli area were shelled by land and sea-borne artillery. Government gunboats in the Mediterranean shelled the El Mena port area, staging point for the rebel attacks on the hospital. Armored cars continued blasting rebel strongpoints from land.

Casualty figures were uncertain, although 38 persons have been reported killed so far, at least 12 of them rebels.

Tripoli has been the scene of the heaviest fighting since the rebellion against President Camille Chamoun's pro-Western government broke out 52 days ago with riots that resulted in the burning of the U. S. Information Agency library.

The Day in Birmingham

Ten Injured, 4 Seriously, in Four Auto Accidents

BIRMINGHAM — Ten persons were injured, four seriously, in four auto accidents over the weekend in the Birmingham area.

A three-car crash at Woodward avenue and Long Lake road at 9 last night sent four persons to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Pontiac.

Dale Mangrum, 26, of Detroit, ran a red light, Bloomfield Hills Police, said, and struck cars driven by John S. Coppin, 53, of 4301 Echo Rd., Bloomfield Township, and Flery Zimmerman, 48, of 8439 Artis Rd., Walled Lake.

Most seriously hurt was Coppin's son, Terry, 8, who suffered multiple head injuries. Doctors this morning described his condition as fair.

Also in fair condition is Mrs. Coppin, 41. She has a broken collar bone.

Coppin suffered head injuries and Mangrum, back and possible internal injuries.

At 10 p.m. Sunday, two Detroit women were injured when the driver lost control of her car and struck the large directional sign post at the Woodward avenue-Hunter boulevard crossover.

Kathleen Macks, 21, the driver, suffered head and chest injuries. A passenger in her car, Irene Myhren, 20, has a broken thigh, possible fractured skull and chest injuries. Both are in William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak.

George Bernard, 79, of the Fens Trailer Park on Southfield road, Southfield Township, is in the Beaumont Hospital with a broken hip after having fallen against a Great Lakes Suburban Lines bus yesterday afternoon at the Woodward avenue bus station in Birmingham.

Seven public hearings will be conducted by Birmingham City Commissioners tonight, six on the confirmation of special assessment districts.

They will include the resurfacing of Pine street, Willow Lane, Midland street, Lakeland drive, and Lakeside drive, and the sewer improvement project on Valley View Lane.

The surfacing of Randall street in the Quanton Lakes Estate will be discussed.

The contract between the City of Birmingham and the Birmingham Country Club for fire protection and water service also will be discussed.

Police Chief Ralph W. Moxley is attending the convention of the Michigan Association of Chiefs of Police at Harbor Springs. The three-day session opened this morning.

Mrs. James M. Hart (Mary) Hart, 65, of 1556 Yosemite St., Birmingham, will be held at 1 p.m. tomorrow at Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co. Burial will be in White Chapel Cemetery.

Mrs. Hart died Saturday at her home after a brief illness. She was a member of the Grosse Pointe Chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star.

Surviving are her husband; a daughter, Mrs. Wilson H. Sanborn of Birmingham; one grandson and a brother in Scotland.

Mrs. Thomas H. Cape (Florence) Cape, 79, of 75 Devon at 1 p.m. tomorrow at Manley Rd., Bloomfield Hills, will be held Bailey Funeral Home. Burial will be in Grand Lawn Cemetery, Detroit.

Hal Boyle Says:

More People Born in August, September

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a year. This fact puzzles scientists. What is your theory?

That the English are trying to develop a radar instrument which will enable the blind to get along without guide dogs. The gadget sounds a warning buzz when it approaches an obstruction.

That if you worry about how much candy to allow your children, here's a royal tip from abroad: Prince Charles, heir to the British throne, is rationed to half a pound of sweets a week. That of America's 25 million anglers, 62 per cent are men, 23 a year now.

That if you've been wondering how tall Napoleon was, the answer is 5 feet 4.

That everybody remembers the Alamo, but few know it is a Spanish word for cottonwood.

That despite the outcry against Mickey Spillane's gruesome mysteries, 7 of them are among America's top 10 all-time fiction best sellers. Crime does pay—in print.

That Mitchell Mitsuhide Shirota of Hawaii is the only professional American jockey with a college degree.

That one of the most unheroic deaths in military history came to Henry Knox, one of George Washington's favorite generals in the Revolution and later first U.S. secretary of war. He died of a stomach inflammation caused by swallowing a chicken bone.

That no sensible dentist would want a hippopotamus to visit him twice a year. These animals have teeth that weigh up to seven pounds and reach a length of 30 inches.

That a survey showed wives pick the vacation site in 56 per cent of American families. But in my neighborhood the figure is closer to 100 per cent.

That most actors in the legitimate theater here have to live on hope. Their average professional income is only about $800 a year.

That in ancient Rome it was customary to grant freedom to a woman slave after she had borne three children. The only catch: She didn't get to keep the kids.

That it was Kin Hubbard who observed: "It's no disgrace to be poor, but it might as well be."

The Department of State receives in an average day some 10,000 written communications from domestic sources. About half are letters from the public; the rest are from other agencies, the Congress, and foreign embassies in Washington.

Rd., died Sunday at Oakwood Hospital in Dearborn.

He was a member of the Masons and Elks.

Mr. Lyman leaves his wife, Gladys; three sons, Eugene L. of Detroit, Donald H. of East Lansing and Robert M. of Dearborn; two sisters, Miss Belle Miller of Waterloo, Iowa, and Mrs. Sarah Nauman of Lincoln, Neb., and two grandchildren.

Service will be at 3 p.m. Wednesday from the Richardson-Bird Funeral Home. Burial will be in Highland Cemetery.

WILLIAM ROSS

MILFORD — William Ross, 62, father of Mrs. Betty Lentz of Milford, died Saturday evening at his home in Detroit after an illness of six months.

He had been employed by the Ford Motor Company for 35 years and was a member of the Trailerside United Brethren Church, Detroit. He served in the British Army during World War I.

Also surviving are his wife, Clara; a son, another daughter, six grandchildren, two sisters and two brothers in Scotland and England.

Service will be held at 1:30 p.m. Tuesday at the Lesney Funeral Home, Dearborn, with burial in Parkview Memorial Cemetery.

Second Cornice Falls in Downtown Detroit

DETROIT — For a second time within five days a heavy piece of cornice has fallen from a downtown Woodward avenue building.

A slab of decorative tile and stucco fell yesterday from a third floor. No one was injured. No pedestrians were passing at the time.

The scene was just about two blocks from the place where a seventh-floor cornice collapsed and killed a woman window shopper last week.

City building inspectors said owners of the second building had been given a ticket because of bad condition of masonry on the building face. Improvement work had been scheduled to start today.

Chief Inspector Charles E. Allen said the building is one of more than 100 from which cornices have been ordered removed.

Can you afford their services?

When you or your wife, or one of your youngsters is ill, you want the best care possible regardless of expense.

These days, sickness or accident might readily require the services of one or even all of the people shown above... and the cost of their services can add up.

The wise way to protect against the financial hardships of sickness and accident is through properly selected insurance policies designed to meet today's needs.

That is why Metropolitan is introducing two new policies which aim to help meet the heavy costs of major illnesses or accidents and apply to many items of expense not ordinarily covered.

The first of these new policies is intended for the individual or family who already incurred at home, including nurses' and doctors' visits.

The second new policy is designed for the individual or family not yet covered by one of the Metropolitan popular basic medical expense plans.

Like the first new policy, it is designed to help you obtain for your family the necessary medical care in those circumstances which are apt to impose a serious financial burden. It, too, provides payment towards "at home" medical expenses. The benefits provided by both these new Metropolitan plans are at a cost within the average budget.

There is an insurance expert near you—your Metropolitan Representative. Call him today. He will be glad to tell you in detail all the features of these two policies.

Oswalt-Axford Rite Performed

ROCHESTER — In a garden ceremony Saturday afternoon at the home of her parents, 4090 N. Rochester Rd., Helen E. Axford became the bride of Gordon F. Oswalt of Vicksburg. Performing the rite before a small altar banked with flowers was the Rev. E. John Yuells, pastor of the First Congregational Church of Rochester.

The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Axford. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Foster Oswalt of Vicksburg.

For her wedding, the bride chose a gown of Italian silk with a bodice of Chantilly lace and tiny seed pearl trim.

Her finger-tip veil of imported Belgium Mantilla was attached to a skull cap of imported Italian silk, accented by Chantilly lace and seed pearls, and she carried a white basket of stephanotis centered with a white orchid.

Matron of honor was the bride's sister-in-law, Mrs. Henry W. Axford Jr. of Rochester. Attendants were Miss Sherry Petty of Cumberland, Md., Mrs. Jerry Dahmann of Mt. Pleasant and Miss Ellen Purdy of Rochester. Flower girl was Mary Jane Niles of Rochester.

MRS. GORDON F. OSWALT

William Oswalt of Vicksburg, the bridegroom's cousin, was best man. Ushers were John Oswalt, the bridegroom's brother; Henry Axford Jr. of Rochester, brother of the bride, and Roger Smith of Fowlerville.

The reception took place in the garden following the ceremony. Upon returning from their honeymoon trip to northern Michigan, the couple will make their home near Vicksburg.

The bridegroom was graduated last fall from Michigan State University where he was affiliated with Alpha Gamma Rho. The bride, who will graduate from MSU in the fall, is a member of Alpha Gamma Delta.

Many Strong Spots Throughout Country Giving Lie to the Recession

Editor's Note: There are signs that the recession has slowed up, perhaps bottomed out. There are still plenty of strong spots — and evidence that people are taking the recession in stride. In the following article, The Associated Press gives results of a nationwide survey showing the pulse of the nation's economy at midyear.

By WALTER R. BREDE JR.
Associated Press Staff Writer
W. J. Dannenberg, director of the Dodge City office of the Kansas State Employment Service, has a problem: too many jobs to fill.

Dannenberg's dilemma is by no means typical of the nationwide employment situation. In many of the great industrial centers, unemployment totals are at or near their post-World War II highs. But the Dodge City labor shortage does point up the fact that the U. S. economy, midway through recession 1958, has pockets of prosperity that contribute mightily toward keeping business on an even keel.

These pockets of prosperity probably explain why America is taking the recession in stride. To find out the mood of the nation at midyear, Associated Press reporters talked to hundreds of people — salesmen, stenographers, store executives, housewives, bankers, bartenders, economists and bus drivers — in a survey that ranged from coast to coast.

The reporters found some anxiety. They heard plenty of complaints. They encountered a good deal of dissatisfaction with the way the general trend of business is going. But — and this is what many businessmen consider significant — evidence of panic was just about nil.

Roy K. Erickson of J. L. Hudson & Co., Detroit's biggest department store, echoed the views of many U. S. businessmen when he said:

"We are not sliding off any further. Things are holding their own." Here, broadly, is what the survey found:

Bankers and economists tend to share Erickson's view that the business downturn is running out of gas. Many say it's touching bottom. Few see signs of a real upturn now.

Many consumers are holding back. They have been scared by recession talk. Others say they're broke — that they spend every penny they get on food, housing, medical care and other basics of daily living.

Auto dealers are among the hardest hit of all major business groups. Farmers are sitting pretty. Some have jobs for unemployed city folk.

Ask Dean R. Williams, controller of the big Zions Cooperative Department Store in Salt Lake City, how the economy is going and he'll tell you: "I rather feel the recession has bottomed out."

In Chicago, Earl Kribben, vice president of Marshall Field & Co., says: "Business has declined somewhat but State Street (hub of Chicago's retail and commercial district) is not at all discouraged."

When will the economy pick up again? Opinions vary.

Ben Schiffman, financial editor of the Kansas City Star, asserts: "Businessmen are feeling better. Retailers think the third quarter will be better than the first and second and the fourth will be best of all."

Miner Baker, economist for the First National Bank of Seattle, declares: "Businessmen expect the rest of the year to be bad. But they're not at all panicked by it."

Some of these views tie in closely with the latest government statistics on the nation's economic trend.

Mid-1958 finds gross national product, the government's measure of total business activity, ticking along at an annual pace of about 42 billion dollars. In the January-February-March quarter the rate was 42.2 billions a year. The average for all of 1957 was 43.44 billions.

Unemployment, just below five million in May, is probably higher now because there are more job-hunting students in the labor market.

The Federal Reserve Board's index of industrial production, which measures output of the nation's factories and mines, stands at about 127 per cent of the 1947-49 average. Last month it stopped going downhill for the first time since August 1957.

Personal income of Americans moved up last month to a yearly rate of 344.13 billion dollars — and it was still climbing in June. Pay increases have gone out, or will soon be on the way, to hundreds of thousands of government workers.

Even so, many consumers are hanging on to their cash. Savings deposits are on the increase almost everywhere you look. Why?

"The principal reason," says President Ralph N. Larson of the Morris Plan Co. of California, "seems to be uncertainty over the future."

Mrs. Jean Tentz, who works as a private secretary in Chicago, agrees. "I think," she says, "that the average person is confused and uncertain."

Consumer thrift is a sore point with businessmen all over the country. A Cheyenne, Wyo., barber bemoans the fact that penny-pinching customers are letting their hair grow longer. And a restaurant proprietor in St. Cloud, Minn., complains: "We didn't even have a good Mother's Day."

What's wrong with the auto business?

Go almost anywhere and you'll find new car sales down from last year. Down sharply in recession-ridden industrial centers like Cleveland, Pittsburgh and Detroit.

Down moderately — but still down — in lush farm states like Iowa where other lines of business are booming.

Ed Hayward, executive manager of the Greater St. Louis Automobile Assn., says: "We've given up on 1958 being a year of profit. Right now the automobile business is dead."

Explanations are many and varied. Carl Flora of Milwaukee's First Wisconsin National Bank says people are making the old car do and putting their extra spending dollars into trailers, boats and outboards.

Orah Hankins, Sacramento roofer, says the new cars "cost too damn much."

And a wealthy Denver retail executive — impressed by reports of sagging auto sales — gives this reason for not buying: "People would say I was crazy if I bought a new car now."

In Utah, Secretary of Agriculture Benson's home state, farm-ers refer to the recession as "that thing back East."

That's the attitude of farmers, too, in California, Texas, the Dakotas, Nebraska, Arkansas, Kansas, Iowa and Wisconsin. Arkansas farmers are importing workers from Mexico.

Prospects for the wheat crop are generally excellent; cattle prices the highest in years.

Businessmen in Des Moines, Iowa, are reaping a bumper harvest of farmers' dollars. All major business indicators are up from a year ago, despite lagging sales of appliances and cars.

One reason for the farm boom is suggested by Charles Markert of Syracuse, N.Y., an office worker who is stretching his paycheck as far as it will go.

"You can do without cars," he says, "but eating is a habit."

Did sand get in her eye—or is this the look of disbelief that comes to a winner? Mickey Wright of Chula Vista, Calif., placed first in the U. S. Golf Assn. National Women's Open at Forest Lake Country Club during the tournament Thursday through Saturday.

Mickey tells how she played the final round on Saturday—and all about those famous long drives.

It's all over, and smiling Mickey is leading money winner among women professional golfers.

Glasses back on, Mickey begins to think about the next tournament. This is the last time golf enthusiasts will see the golfer's specs, as Mickey has joined the group wearing contact lenses.

Low Flying Helps Earn Law Degree

By REBA HEINTZELMAN

Swooping down out of the skies over Waterford Township to within three feet of the ground in his tiny Piper Cub airplane is no thrill for 24-year-old Paul Valentino of Pontiac. That's his business.

He has an aerial spraying outfit installed in his high-winged monoplane, and it is this equipment that is helping him to obtain a law degree at the University of Detroit, as well as supporting his wife and two children.

After concentrated study of contour maps, the day before, Valentino and his two ground crew members arise before dawn load one hundred gallons of specially-mixed poisonous insect chemicals together, then the young man takes off into the wild blue yonder on a mission of warfare all his own.

He is out to kill mosquitoes, corn borers, weevils, bugs, flies, cutworms, moths, beetles, potato bugs and other insects.

Valentino, a former United States Air Force jet pilot, can CROP DUSTER — Although he has abandoned jets in favor of a Piper Cub, Paul Valentino is, still flying combat missions. Only now his enemies are insects that attack crops. The 24-year-old pilot is putting himself through law school from the profits of his crop-dusting business.

FINAL CHECK — Giving his spraying equipment a last examination, Valentino, a former Air Force pilot turned crop sprayer, prepares for another job. Uniform coverage by the spray is a "must" in his work, Valentino says.

cover more than one hundred acres with a fine deadly insect spray in less than twenty minutes, and unconditionally guarantees the job. An effective job produces 97 drops to every square inch.

Golf courses, subdivision developments, small settlements as well as farm lands are part of his early morning work. Each job is given personal surveys both before and after the spraying operation.

When Valentino first enrolled at U. of D. he had an idea he would like to be an engineer, but after two years of study, decided to become a lawyer instead.

Some 47 credits were tossed aside and after an early release from the Air Force, he began the seven long years of studying law. Next September he will begin his fourth law course.

Realizing his need for a seasonal job, Valentino was attracted to the aerial spraying business. With more than 2,300 flying hours to his credit, he took a job in Northern Michigan to learn the intricate crop-spraying work.

Chemistry entered into the picture when Valentino found that commercially-mixed insect spray usually disappears with the first hard rain, so he began experimenting during the winter months.

Finally after he had many tests run at an organic laboratory, he came up with a secret formula which was the answer to the desired durability for spraying. This original formula is now in the process of being patented.

Two long spray-booms with 20 spigots are suspended under each wing of the 125 h.p. plane.

A special control recirculates the fluid when the pilot turns it off, and in case of engine failure, Valentino can release the one-half ton load from two big emergency openings in a matter of seconds.

The pilot explained the importance of thorough uniform coverage, of a contracted area. He said, "If we miss one small 10-foot swath—that's where all the mosquitoes head for, and people entering that space really suffer."

The crew has a system which resembles a gigantic paint brush. Valentino flies in a complete right angle square, ending in the center of the designated area, and he expects to cover approximately 6,000 acres this season, for $3.75 an acre.

If and when this wonder-killed is perfected, Valentino won't have to worry about law school, chemistry, spraying operations or anything else, according to state conservation officials.

MISSION ACCOMPLISHED — The light plane piloted by Valentino, returns to its Waterford Township airport after a spray attack on voracious insects that destroy farmers' crops. The plane carries 100 gallons of special chemicals which when properly sprayed protects against a variety of insects. Valentino uses his own formula which, he says, gives the insecticide durability despite rain.

WATER NYMPHS — A bevy of beauties surround Eddie Rose, diving comedian who will star in the Water Follies of 1958 which will appear in five performances at Warner Stadium, July 11 through 13. Recently featured at the Brussels World's Fair, the show will feature 12 water scenes using huge portable diving and swimming pools and eight stage numbers. Tickets are available at Osburn's downtown and Tel-Huron stores, J.C. Penney Store, Miracle Mile, and at Lion Store, downtown. The Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring the Water Follies.

Weed Cutters Ready to Act

Lot Owners Have Until Tomorrow to Do Job or City Does It at Cost

Lot owners in Pontiac have until tomorrow to cut weeds on their property or weed cutting crews from the Parks and Recreation Dept. will do the job for them—at cost.

Seymour M. Gold today announced July 1 as the deadline for lots to be cut.

A pre-deadline check, Gold said, shows the "large property owners to be cooperating quite well this year."

Gold and the city department are entering into the third summer of enforcing the city's 1955 weed cutting ordinance, which this year has become the basis for a law suit testing its constitutionality.

About 75 per cent of property owners in the city last year cut their own lots. The remainder were charged by the city for the work. There were 3,414 lots checked last year.

"May I remind property owners," Gold said, "that it is far cheaper to cut their weeds themselves than to violate the ordinance and have the city do it."

The city, which is not in the weed cutting business, Gold added, will charge $10 an hour for cutting lots this year. Last year the charge was based on lot frontage.

Gold defined a weed "as any non-woody plant growing where it is not wanted."

"We estimate that most lots will have to be cut at least twice during the growing season to keep growth below the 12-inch maximum," he said.

Hoffa, Marine Unions Talk Seaway Pact

DETROIT — Teamsters' President James R. Hoffa says his union is trying to reach an agreement with four Marine unions on organizing workers along the St. Lawrence Seaway and Great Lakes.

"We are trying to write a seaway pact so we won't get tangled up in jurisdictional issues when the seaway opens next year," Hoffa said in a weekend interview. He identified the other unions as the International Longshoremen's Assn., the International Brotherhood of Longshoremen, the Seafarers International Union and the National Maritime Union.

Boater, 79, Son Found Safe in Saginaw Bay

BAY CITY — A 79-year-old father and his son, missing in a rowboat since yesterday on wind-tossed Saginaw Bay, were found safe today by a Coast-Guard cruiser.

The coast guard located Robert Knowles and his son John, 26, in their 15-foot, flat-bottomed boat about 25 miles out in the Bay northeast of here. The pair was last reported seen in midafternoon yesterday. A yacht sighted them as high offshore winds kicked up the bay.

Citizens League to Meet County Hopefuls

65 Candidates' Interviews Set

The Oakland Citizens League has announced three meeting dates at which the 65 candidates for Oakland County offices this year will be interviewed as part of the League's election year program.

Interviews will be conducted by the League's Candidates Committee July 10 at the Urban League of Pontiac 29 Orchard Lake Ave., July 14 at the Fern-dale Community House, and July 15 at the Birmingham Community House.

The League, by these interviews and questionnaires, selects what it believes is the best slate of candidates based on the nominee's education, experience, reputation; character, personality, adaptability and ability to think.

"ELECT QUALIFIED PERSON"

"We don't feel our system is perfect," said Larry Shaffner, co-chairman of the committee, "but if we can help the voters elect the most qualified person running on his party's ticket in the primary, we have accomplished our goal."

Each candidate is asked to fill out a questionnaire, supply three references, be interviewed at home and at the scheduled committee meetings.

Shaffner said, "Each candidate, regardless of party, is given ample opportunity to present his qualifications and platform."

IN 13TH YEAR — Pontiac's Y, now in its 13th year of operation, has as its primary function the leadership training of women and girls. It works with age groups ranging from 2 1/2 years to above 90 years.

"We offer 23 weeks of classes, both day and evening, in as wide a variety of activities as we can arrange facilities for," Mrs. Nettler informed the panel.

"In connection with the classes, we provide nursery care for pre-school age children of members for five hours a day, two days a week. We have Day Camp in the summer; work with Junior and Senior high school teenagers all during the school year; party a major portion of USO activity in the area; work with a convalescent group from Pontiac State Hospital and have two active Golden Age groups with a membership over 90," stated Mrs. Nettler.

When all panel members' questionnaires, presentation was completed, panel chairman Wilson executed the agency representatives. After the agency representatives left, the executive session of the hearing began with a final discussion of the YW's requests.

During this discussion period, decisions were reached on allowable budget requests. Specific recommendations will be included in the minutes of the panel meeting for consideration by the Budget Steering Committee.

Kiwanians Initiate $1 Million Building

CHICAGO — Kiwanians, in Chicago for their annual convention, laid the cornerstone yesterday for their new $1,250,000 headquarters building.

Some 14,000 members of Kiwanis International and their families are here for the four-day meeting.

Harry Young, 77, of Detroit, last surviving founder of the 252,000-member service organization, inserted into a time capsule a copy of the original articles of the first Kiwanis Club, which was organized in Detroit in 1915.

H. Park Arnold of Glendale, Calif., Kiwanis International president, placed the capsule in the pillar of the new structure being erected on the site of the home of the late Mrs. Anita McCormick Blaine.

The capsule was sealed with a 14 karat gold trowel.

Navajo Indians to Get New Health Center

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Public Health Service announced today it has awarded a $302,777 contract for construction of a field health center and six staff housing units on the Navajo reservation at Chinle, Ariz.

The service said the new center would replace an outmoded structure and serve as both an outpatient clinic and a headquarters for field health services for some 10,500 of the reservation's 82,000 Navajos.

The contract was awarded to Sanders Construction Co., Ltd., of Farmington, N.M.

1935 Pontiac Still Running Great

Three men from Brooklyn and door sedan, pulled into the Division's parking lot with a speedometer reading of 151,185 miles after a trouble-free jaunt across eastern turnpike routes.

The Christiansen brothers, Carl and Anton Jr., and their Norwegian-born father, Anton Sr., driving immaculate 1935 Pontiac four-door sedan, pulled into the Division's parking lot with a speedometer reading of 151,185 miles after a trouble-free jaunt across eastern turnpike routes.

TOUR ASSEMBLY LINE

En route to the General Motors Technical Center at Warren, the Christiansens stopped long enough to tour the Pontiac assembly line and chat about their "wonderful vehicle."

Anton, Jr., who serves as chauffeur and mechanic both at home and on the road, was quick to point out that their car of the famous Silver Streak line has not been a precious heirloom preserved through the years on garage blocks, but has served faithfully as the family's prime means of transportation day-in and day-out for the past 23 years.

Onlookers had difficulty believing it, viewing the shiny original paint and chrome finishes and the impeccable mohair interior showing wear only in the driver's seat.

Adding to this skepticism was the steady, barely audible beat of the outdated six-cylinder, 80 horsepower engine which operated on a diet of one gallon of gasoline for every 17 miles while powering the Christiansens 450 miles from Brooklyn to Cleveland in only 13 hours.

Anton Jr., attributes "careful personal attention" to maintenance of the automobile as the key to its excellent condition and operation. He himself performs all oil changes (every 1,500 miles), lubrications, tuning, exterior waxing (twice a year) and other service functions.

Visits to service stations are for as only. "In 1937 I went to a garage for a clutch adjustment," he relates, "but found nothing wrong and before I could get out the door they sold me a radio."

NEW REPLACEMENTS

Front springs, a clutch disc, a generator, and piston-rings comprise all of the replacements in the old Pontiac.

Such "modern innovations" as aluminum roof gutters, directional signals and backup lights also have been installed by Anton Jr., "to keep up with the times."

NO SHOWPIECE — This 1935 Pontiac which rolled up to the Pontiac plant recently is in top shape despite its years, and it's no showpiece that has been blocked up for years. It has been the main day-by-day transportation of the Car Christiansen family of Brooklyn, N. Y., and has more than 150,000 miles on it, according to Christiansen, shown here.

Burglars Active Over Weekend

Gas Stations, Taverns, Grocery Stores Their Favorite Targets Here

Burglars and thieves were active over the weekend with gas stations, taverns and grocery stores their favorite targets.

Burglars broke into the Cities Service Station, 842 N. Perry St. and took change from coin machines and a battery valued at $12.

Pierre Gulf Service, 684 East Blvd., also reported a burglary in which spark plugs valued at $75 were taken and a telephone coin box looted.

George's Market, 462 S. Saginaw St., was the intended victim of two burglars but they were apprehended in the building. Arrested were Clarence Reed, 17, of 217 Orchard Lake Ave., and a juvenile.

A salesman for Liggett and Myers Tobacco Co., Robert G. Hamilton, of Royal Oak, told police thieves broke into his truck and took 60 cartons of cigarettes valued at $136. The truck was parked at Turk and S. Saginaw Sts. Saturday when the burglary occurred.

Orchard Lake Tavern, 404 Orchard Lake Ave., was burglarized Sunday and about $30 taken from three coin machines.

Thefts reported included that of $230 in cash and a $30 check from a cash register in the women's wear department of the J. C. Penny Store, 17 S. Saginaw St.

Mrs. Fred Scribner, of 126 Mark St., told police that as she and her husband were watching television, she saw a man in her kitchen. The thief grabbed her purse containing $14 in cash, and fled through a side door.

Bob Considine Reports:

British Traitor Dr. Fuchs to Be Set Free

LONDON — Dr. Klaus Fuchs, the physicist whose delivery of A-bomb and H-bomb secrets to the Soviet Union helped to alter world history, will leave Wakefield Jail later this year. The British have offered him several inducements to stay in Britain. There is some reason to believe that there have been calculated overtures from America, too.

But indications now are that the master traitor, who was stripped of his British citizenship in 1951, will go directly to Leipzig in Communist East Germany to visit his father — after which it seems probable that he will offer his rare genius to Russia.

Fuchs' defection over a period stretching between 1942 and 1949 is credited with delivering to Russian and captured German physicists an immense store of research and development. It unquestionably aided them in their remarkably fast demolition of America's atomic bomb monopoly. Had Fuchs been an American he would have met the fate of Julius and Ethel Rosenberg, death in the electric chair at Sing Sing.

But in today's world, where the balance of power between the west and the communist world is so sensitized, physical possession of a physicist of Fuchs' stature can override moral revulsion.

It hardly seems likely that the British offers to him have come from Harwell, the British Los Alamos where Fuchs once headed the theoretical physics division. Private atomic industries in Britain, sensitive to what Fuchs might now be able to tell the Russians after eight years of theorizing and study in prison, would consider the spy's retention a ten strike. A source close to Scotland Yard insists that several American firms feel much the same way and have informally got the word to Fuchs.

Fuchs' sentence for his crime against humanity was modest compared to those meted out to American members of the communist apparatus. In addition to the executed Rosenbergs, Harry Gold, a messenger boy in the intrigue, and later principal government witness, was given a 30-year term. Sgt. David Greenglass, who betrayed plans for the intricate triggering mechanism of the A-bomb, and later helped send his sister Mrs. Rosenberg to the chair, drew a 15-year sentence.

Fuchs, who confessed to telling all he knew, was given 14 years, the maximum permitted by the British Official Secrets Act, under which he was tried. He has been a placid and studious prisoner and therefore is eligible for parole this fall.

Sea-Snake Bites Kill 30 Per Year in Malaya

PENANG, Malaya — Physicians report that venomous sea snakes cause about 30 deaths a year out of an annual total of 150 cases of sea-snake bite among Malayan fishermen.

The doctors point out that statistics on the sea-snake bites are difficult to obtain because the superstitions fishermen believe that talking about the bites will cause the victim to fall dead if the talk is heard by a pregnant woman or will anger the sea snakes and lead them to bite again.

Our precious mother has gone. The voice we loved is still. The place made vacant in our home can never more be filled. Our Father in Heaven called our Mother home.

And though on earth her body lies, her soul is safe in Heaven. Sadly missed by her four sons, Howard, Sam, Bob and Wayne. Two daughters, Betty and Vera.
