Russia OKs Foreign Ministers' Talk May 11

Chiefs Declare U.S. Invincible This Year

WASHINGTON (AP)—The nation's military leaders have assured Congress the United States would be invincible this year in an all-out-war — and they say more power is in sight.

Adm. Arleigh Burke, chief of naval operations, said bluntly that if the Soviet Union starts an all-out war "we would break her back."

In censored versions of the military leaders' testimony last January and February to the House Defense Appropriations subcommittee, released today, Burke and Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor said they think America already has too much atomic retaliatory power. Taylor is the army chief of staff.

Gen. Nathan F. Twining, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, summed up the administration's cause for optimism.

Twining said a Soviet nuclear assault, if delivered today, would come almost entirely from manned aircraft. And the Soviet Union's air threat, he added, is "not half as big as ours and not nearly so effective."

Burke said that in an all-out war "we can destroy her (the Soviet Union) many times over with the weapons we now have in existence. There is no way that she can stop that. We would break her back."

Burke, whose Navy will pack a growing atomic wallop, said he thought the United States has "too much retaliatory power." He urged a bigger share of defense spending for small wars in which the U. S. S. R. might not be a direct participant.

Taylor said U. S. atomic retaliatory power is overwhelming. He said the nation has thousands of vehicles which could rain nuclear destruction on the Soviets, whereas, he added, the job could be done with hundreds.

AF CONFIDENT

The testimony shows the Air Force is confident it knows the location of major Soviet strategic targets. It also says it can deliver nuclear bombs by manned aircraft with accuracy measured in feet, compared to the miles expected from long range missiles.

The military leaders, bolstered by their civilian defense chiefs in testimony, backed up their confidence with many facts about American might and intelligence estimates of Soviet strength and intentions.

FROM OUR NEWS WIRES

WASHINGTON — A House leader has accused U.S. military chiefs of leaving "the American people out on a limb" by not agreeing on many important arms matters.

Rep. George Mahon (D-Tex), chairman of the House Defense Appropriations subcommittee, charged the Joint Chiefs of Staff "are not the advisory group the nation expects."

Mahon fired his strong criticism at the high command after hearing testimony that although they are agreed on broad strategic concepts, they have not agreed on the strength of forces needed to carry out their long range plans.

While criticizing the military leaders, Mahon made it clear no one should underestimate American military might.

"I think it is important," Mahon said, "for everybody to know that we have a terrific capability for launching an unstoppable counter-offensive if attacked. I do not want to make this country appear naked to its enemies. I know that we are not."

It was obvious the nation's military leaders have flatly ruled out a "me-too" policy of trying to match Russia missile-for-missile in the long-range rocket field.

The testimony released today made it crystal clear that defense officials believe it is unnecessary to have the same number of 5,000-mile intercontinental ballistic missiles (ICBMs) as Russia does.

Defense Secretary Neil H. McElroy and Gen. Nathan F. Twining, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, said Russia will be capable of pulling ahead of the United States in ICBM production next year.

However, they stressed their belief that U. S. forces will be strong enough to deter war at least through 1962 with a combination of air power, 1,500-mile rockets based in Europe, submarines armed with other weapons.

★ ★ ★

Included in testimony leading to Mahon's criticism was that of Gen. Maxwell Taylor, Army chief of staff, who said the joint chiefs never reached complete agreement on "force tabs" setting forth how many Army divisions, Navy ships and Air Force wings of various types will be required to execute strategic plans.

Poised, Ready, Says McElroy

Defense Head, Talking in Detroit, States U.S. Can Destroy Russia

DETROIT (AP) — Defense Secretary Neil H. McElroy said today the United States has nuclear weapon power "sufficient to destroy the Soviet Union if it should attack us."

★ ★ ★

He said that the unanimous opinion of his top military advisers is that this power also is adequate to discourage any all-out attack on this country or the rest of the free world.

Poised and ready to daunt any such attack, McElroy said, is a composite force.

"The greatest force of heavy bombers in the world, the greatest force of medium bombers in the world, the only carrier bomber force in the world, plus tactical aircraft at forward bases—all four capable in concert of carrying atomic weapons sufficient to destroy the Soviet Union if it should attack us," is the way he described it.

TAILORED FOR THREAT

U.S. forces also are tailored to meet the threat of limited aggression, he said in a speech prepared for delivery to the Economic Club of Detroit.

"The charge has been made by some that the size of our defense budget for the next fiscal year has been limited in order that the budget might be balanced," McElroy said, without mentioning names.

"This charge is simply not true," he said. "There is no question that this administration desires to balance income and outgo. This is merely sound fiscal policy. But such a desire did not have a determining influence on the size of the defense budget. The determining influence on that budget was what was required for national security."

Straley to Testify at Hearing Tonight

Suspended Police Chief Herbert W. Straley will return to the witness stand for a third time tonight as the Civil Service Commission resumes its hearing on ouster charges against him.

Straley was suspended Feb. 9 by City Manager Walter K. Willman on charges of inefficiency and incompetency, insubordination, neglect of duty and failure to maintain good behavior.

The hearing will begin at 7:30 p.m. in the City Commission chambers.

Commissioners plan to wind up the hearing, now in its seventh week, and reach a decision before April 6 when the city votes on repeal of civil service.

Parachute Puzzler Is Solved

A Holly Township man phoned the Oakland County Sheriff's Department Sunday morning with a report that for awhile held more mystery and intrigue than a flying saucer sighting.

Robert L. Tucker of 5481 Shields Rd. said there was a parachute in a tree in his backyard. Deputies found the parachute. It looked as if it had been used within the preceding 12 hours.

"Everything was alright, except that there were no footprints anywhere in the snow around the tree," said bewildered Deputy Robert Cannon.

The mystery was soon solved when deputies checked identification marks on the chute and located its owner, Donald O. Bird of 860 Scott Lake Rd., Waterford Township.

Bird said he was a freefaller—a jumper who falls most of the way before pulling the rip cord.

"I went up in a friend's plane late Saturday afternoon planning to jump into a field owned by my brother, Basil Bird, who lives nearby."

Bird explained that he jumped too soon and missed his field. He got caught in the tree, swung over to the trunk, unbuckled the chute straps and climbed down.

"I didn't get the chute because it was too dark by then," he said.

Easter Observed the World Over

Christians Hail Resurrection

From Our News Wire

Christians rejoiced Sunday in celebration of the Resurrection of their Saviour and its promise of eternal life.

Easter services in huge cathedrals and humble country churches, on mountain tops and at ships at sea repeated the message which gives Christianity its meaning: "He is not here; for He is risen."

Cold weather cut attendance at outdoor services in the northeast and occasional rain dampened the Easter parade in the southeast. Despite near freezing temperatures, an estimated 200,000 persons turned out to parade along New York's Fifth Avenue. The cold and a Good Friday snowstorm froze out the traditional floral display at Rockefeller Center.

At the other end of the country, clear, mild weather brought out a throng of about 20,000 persons at Easter services in California's Hollywood Bowl.

Overseas, Pope John XXIII, in the first Easter Mass of his pontificate, pleaded for peace. But he declared that "the good Christian does not yield and is wary of compromises."

Despite an all-day downpour, 100,000 persons were in St. Peter's Square for the pontiff's blessing. Among them were 65 contest winning newsboys from 58 U.S. newspapers. Afterward, the boys presented an Easter egg to Italian movie queen Gina Lollebrigida.

Tokyo Court Perils Defense

U.S. Bases Ruled Unlawful

TOKYO (AP)—A lower Japanese court ruled today that the presence of U.S. bases and troops in Japan is unconstitutional.

The decision, if upheld by higher courts, could wreck the U.S. defense setup in this strategic Far Eastern nation.

It also would bring into review all of the international commitments made by Japan since she regained independence in 1952.

The surprise verdict was made by the three-man Tokyo District Court in acquitting seven men indicted in 1957 after they broke into the U.S. Tachikawa Air Base outside Tokyo to protest its expansion.

The court, freeing them, said the presence of U.S. bases and personnel in Japan violated the famous "no-war" Article 9 of the Japanese constitution, which was largely written by the American occupation authorities after the war.

It also declared that Japanese citizens were discriminated against by special laws connected with the treaties giving the United States the right to station troops. It was under one of these laws, the special criminal code, that the defendants were indicted.

The Japanese government has 14 days to appeal.

The American Embassy said any comment from it on the actions and decisions of a Japanese court would be improper.

(In Washington, the State and Defense departments took the position that any comment from them would be improper at this time. But U.S. officials said informally that the court ruling has raised an important issue that will have to be clarified.)

Any appeal will be filed first in the Higher Court, and that tribunal's decision can be appealed in turn to the Supreme Court.

Japan's constitution renounced war forever as a means of national policy. But Gen. Douglas MacArthur, while U.S. supreme commander in Japan, directed that the constitution would be interpreted to mean that Japan could have military forces provided they were for defense purposes.

Groggy Weather Is Area Prospect

Mostly cloudy with little temperature change tonight and tomorrow is the weather forecast for Pontiac and vicinity. Light showers are expected, with a low near 40 degrees.

Tomorrow's high will be 55. Winds will be from 10 to 20 miles per hour.

A five-day outlook for this area indicates temperatures will average about three degrees above the normal 50 high and 32 low. Little temperature change is predicted, with precipitation to total about one-half inch Tuesday and Wednesday.

The lowest temperature recorded in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 35. At 2 p.m. the mercury reading was 40.

Take Vacation, Doctor Tells Ike

Hint President May Go to Augusta, Ga., for Customary Trip

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower's doctor has advised him to take a vacation in a warm climate and get some exercise.

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty reported this today when asked whether the President would make his customary trip to Augusta, Ga., next week.

Hagerty said White House physician Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder and other presidential staff members have advised the chief executive to take a break from official routine.

The President and Mrs. Eisenhower motored back to Washington today after a restful five-day Easter weekend at their Gettysburg, Pa., farm.

At the same time, Secretary of State John Foster Dulles flew to Florida to recuperate from massive radiation treatments for cancer and to ponder a decision on whether to remain in the cabinet.

Residents Praise City for Report in Pontiac Press

A flury of favorable comment reached Pontiac City Hall today, following distribution of the city's 1958 annual report Saturday in the form of a Pontiac Press supplement that reached nearly every home in the city.

Almost 22,000 copies of the report were distributed within Pontiac alone, greater coverage than ever attained before. And more than twice that many homes outside of Pontiac were reached, letting readers in neighboring communities know in detail why the report described this city as "Progressive Pontiac."

The city dedicated its report to GMC Truck & Coach Division, one of the city's top industries for nearly 30 years.

This was the first time Pontiac, one of the originators of the idea of an annual report to citizens, published its report in the form of a newspaper supplement. The city last year won first prize for its report from the Michigan Municipal League.

Will Consider German Treaty, Berlin Question

U.S., British and French Ambassadors Handed Notes by Gromyko

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union today handed notes to the Big Three Western powers agreeing to an East-West foreign ministers conference opening in Geneva May 11, Tass, the Soviet news agency, reported.

Tass said "according to information received," the Soviet government agreed to attend "in order to consider questions concerning Germany, including the peace treaty with Germany and the Berlin question."

Tass said Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko received the U.S., British and French ambassadors and handed them the Soviet notes in reply to the three Western notes of March 26.

The notes had differences in empasis, but all looked beyond the foreign ministers conference to a summit meeting later in the year.

The Soviet government expressed regret in its notes "that complete mutual understanding has not yet been reached" on the participation of Poland and Czechoslovakia.

The Allies have suggested the two Communist nations should join the later stages of the talks.

Moscow said it "considers it possible that the question of the participation of Poland and Czechoslovakia should be solved during the conference."

"The question of the representation of the two German states at the conference of foreign ministers can be regarded as mutually agreed," Tass reported.

The West has proposed that both West and East German representatives sit in on the parley as observers.

India Hints at Policy Shift

Public Opinion Clamors for Open Aid to Tibet Against Red China

From Our News Wires

NEW DELHI — Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru told Parliament today India should have friendly relations with Communist China but "that does not mean we should submit to anybody's dictations."

★ ★ ★

Nehru spoke as the revolt in Tibet plunged relations between India and Red China to an all time low.

There were predictions the revolt may lead to a major shift in Indian foreign policy but Nehru's statement today was cautiously and carefully worded.

He indicated India might give asylum to certain Tibetan refugees but would not say definitely India would grant asylum to the Dalai Lama should the deposed spiritual and temporal leader of Tibet try to enter India. Each case must be settled on its merits, he said.

Criticism mounted in Indian newspapers of Nehru's failure to back the Tibetan rebels' attempt to free the Himalayah country of Communist control.

"Let us hold our heads low today," said the Hindustan Times, considered closest to Nehru's Congress party. It called for a "realistic reassessment of the basis of our foreign policy."

Nehru told Parliament he would make firm statements on Tibet when he was in a position to make them.

Indian government spokesmen denied Red Chinese charges that India was sheltering the command center of the revolt in the frontier town of Kalimpong.

Communist China was expected to launch an all-out drive to communize Tibet following its replacement of the fugitive Dalai Lama's rebellious government by a puppet regime headed by the country's other spiritual leader, the rival Panchen Lama.

Reveal Plans for MSUO Sewage System

The Oakland County Department of Public Works has undertaken a giant step towards the initial development of a Michigan State University Oakland community.

Plans for a small, $470,000 sewage collection-treatment system serving the university and potential residential areas around it were disclosed today by Harold K. Schone, acting director of the DPW.

The system should be ready in time for the school's opening this fall, said Schone, meaning that Pontiac no longer is being called upon to provide treatment for the new institution.

Financing will be on basis new to the county agency—cash, put up by the university and interested land developers.

MSUO has already committed $30,000 for its share and three private developers have promised the rest, Schone said. More developers are expected to join in the project, and if they do, the cost per developer will be reduced, he said.

Working plans are being drawn up, Schone said, and should be ready for submission to the Board of Supervisors this spring.

Schone saw the new system as the initial step towards the development of the proposed Clinton River Sewage Disposal System, the mammoth project which the Board of Supervisors has already told the DPW to prepare for northeast Oakland County.

About five square miles will be served by the system, including potential residential areas north, east and west of the campus, mostly in Avon Township but partially in Pontiac Township.

The system is designed to serve 700 homes and a school population of 400-600 students, which is the expected enrollment this fall.

Leasing arrangements for the site of the $90,000 treatment plant have not been completed yet, said Schone. It will be located in the vicinity of Avon and Livernois roads.

The plant itself is planned as an all-steel affair, which would be 65-70 per cent salvable if the system is integrated into the larger facilities proposed for the area Schone said.

DPW TO OPERATE

The plant would be operated by the DPW for as many years as the system is in use, said Schone.

DPW projects in the past have been financed through general obligation bonds backed by the county, but Schone said this scheme would take too long to arrange to get the plant built by this fall.

It was figured that developers would eventually get all or most of their money back by charging sewage connection charges to purchasers of the new homes that are planned for the area.

It was estimated the charges might range about $260 per home, $120 for collection and $140 for treatment.

If for some reason the DPW plans fail to materialize, MSUO is prepared to install its own trickling filter system on the campus by fall, said Geore Karas, director of the university's physical plant.

Thus one of the objections leveled against Pontiac's plans to expand its own sewage treatment facilities has been removed, said City Manager Walter K. Willman.

"There are now virtually no plans to use the expanded facili-

3 Rulings Due in Arson Trial

One Might Lengthen Thompson Case as It Enters Third Week

Genesee Circuit Judge Stephen J. Roth will open up the third week of the Jack D. Thompson arson trial tomorrow by ruling on three motions presented Friday as Prosecutor Jerome F. O'Rourke sought to close his case.

One of the three motions might cause O'Rourke to stretch his case longer than he anticipated.

Thompson's attorney, James E. Haggerty Sr., requested Judge Roth to have O'Rourke place on the stand for the purpose of cross-examination some eight witnesses O'Rourke had subpoenaed but later decided not to call.

Thompson is charged with arson of a eastside suburban Flint dry cleaning establishment, in which, police say, Kierdorf a fellow Teamsters business agent, received fatal burns.

Judge Roth will also rule on whether a fingerprint expert should be called back for further cross-examination, another of Haggerty's motions, and whether a statement tracing Thompson's activities before and after the Aug. 3 fire can be read to the jury of eleven women and three men.

Fire Destroys Plant at Ironwood Mine

IRONWOOD (AP) — Fire destroyed the crusher plant of the Penokee Iron Mine today, forcing evacuation of 35 miners working about half a mile beneath the surface.

The flames were discovered about an hour after the night crew went to work at midnight.

Showers of sparks flew for a quarter-mile at the height of the blaze, which was brought under control by the Ironwood Fire Department in about an hour an a half.

Three in Family Hurt in Two-Car Collision

Two Oxford Township residents and a Pontiac girl were injured in a two-car collision at M150 and Tienken road, Avon Township, Saturday evening, according to Oakland County Sheriff's Deputies.

George A. Penny, 56, of 191 W. Romeo Rd., his wife Florence, 53, who was driving, and their granddaughter Joyce, 13, were treated at Avon Center Hospital. The woman and girl were released. The man was admitted with knee and shoulder injuries and is reported in fair condition today.

Frank X. Meier, 42, of 1291 Washington Ave., Rochester, who was driving the other car, was uninjured, deputies reported.

'Balloon' to Explore Ocean Deep

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UP) — A weird-looking "water balloon" will begin a series of dives in about two weeks that eventually may take it into ocean depths man has never seen before.

The bathyscaphe Trieste, recently purchased by the Navy for $200,000 from designer Auguste Piccard, already has descended nearly 12,000 feet in the Mediterranean.

With changes now being made, it will be capable of diving into the Pacific's deepest trenches—almost seven miles below the surface.

Observers said the bathyscaphe experiment is the Navy's first big move in developing deep-water submarines. Today's subs cannot operate much below 750 feet, yet 90 per cent of the ocean lies below that level.

Senate Sounds Like Primary

GOP Leader Says Dems Have Turned Chamber Into Presidential Stage

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican National Chairman Meade Alcorn says jockeying among four Democratic senators has turned Senate proceedings into a presidential primary and the public is the loser.

"And the House," Alcorn went on in a weekend statement, "is being used as a secret gravy train for the financial benefit of Democrats, their immediate families, their other relatives, their political cronies back home and their front porches."

The GOP chief suggested the voters demand explanations while the legislators are at home on Easter holiday.

His statement amounted to a rejoinder to claims, set forth by the Democratic leaders of both houses as Congress shut down for the holiday, that the record for the session compares favorably with that of any previous Congress at the same stage.

Alcorn's roster of competing Democratic senators, with his listing of their fields of special interest, was made up of Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, defense affairs; Stuart Symington of Missouri, space matters; John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts, labor-management rackets; and Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota, agriculture.

★ ★ ★

"So far, nearly three months of jockeying for headlines by the contenders has yielded little if anything in the way of legislative action on these four basic issues," Alcorn said.

15,000 Ask N-Arms End in London

LONDON (AP) — A five-mile column filed into central London today with jazz bands blaring and banners demanding an end to all nuclear weapons.

Nearly 15,000 singing demonstrators snarled traffic around Trafalgar Square at the climax of a 53-mile march to the capital from Britain's nuclear arms factory at Aldermaston.

Leaders of the march went to No. 10 Downing St., Prime Minister Macmillan's official residence. They delivered a written appeal denouncing nuclear arms as "wholly evil" and calling on Britain to scrap them even if the United States and the Soviet Union won't.

Area Man, Woman OK After Crash

Two area residents were pinned under an overturned vehicle for about 20 minutes Saturday night on M24 at Shimmons road, while Oakland County Sheriff's Deputies and a wrecker crew worked to free them.

When the auto was finally lifted, the couple emerged with only a few minor bruises.

Donald L. Reene, 24, who lives on the Pontiac State Hospital grounds, and his passenger, Bonnie B. English, 24, of 21 Monroe St., were taken to Pontiac General Hospital for a checkup, however, and later released.

Reene told deputies he was going south at about 45 miles an hour when a dog ran in front of his car. He swerved to miss it, lost control, careened into the center section of the two-lane highway and rolled over several times.

Milford Couple Hurt as Car Crashes Tree

Mortgaging Plan Expected to Pass

Senate Tackles Fund Use

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's Senate will get down to brass tacks on veterans trust fund mortgaging when the Legislature comes in for its 12th week at 8 tonight.

Majority Republicans, with a 22 to 12 whip hand, will caucus tonight on the eve of committee consideration tomorrow of Gov. Williams' four bill package. Mortgaging already has been approved by the House.

A second major issue due for action this week is extension of temporary unemployment compensation benefits before the April 1 expiration date.

The GOP is pushing a multi-purpose bill that also would short circuit future application of the so-called Ford Supreme Court decision which awarded Michigan workers benefits for 1953 idleness tied in with a strike in Ohio.

If as many as one half of the Republicans line up in favor, Senate passage of the mortgaging plan will be a foregone conclusion. Most Democrats are certain to support the package.

If the GOP bloc backs away, it will mean new cliff-hanging episodes in the battle against payless paydays and threatened suspension of state welfare grants.

The best guess as to when disaster might overtake the state's general fund currently is about May 1 although state officials never have pinpointed an exact date.

Generally, the outlook in the Senate was for favorable action on mortgaging despite stubborn opposition by the leadership of organized veterans.

Sen. Frank D. Beadle of St. Clair, GOP majority leader, and Sen. Lynn O. Francis of Midland, Republican floor leader, both said last week they saw no alternative and would back the governor's proposal.

Williams today blasted a Republican unemployment compensation bill as an attempt "to exploit the misery of those long out of work."

Republicans drafted it "solely for the monetary benefits of a few employers and without regard for the rights of the employees or the public," the governor told a news conference.

Williams said Democrats would try to kill the measure and substitute an amendment to bring Michigan under federal extension of temporary jobless pay benefitism.

The federal bill, already approved by congress, would extend benefits for 28,700 Michigan workers from April 1 to June 30.

The GOP bill, sponsored by Sen. John P. Smeekens of Coldwater, also provides extended unemployment benefits. But the Governor complained it was "full of fishhooks" which would deprive unemployed workers of needed benefits.

Plans to Defy U.S. Court Again

Swiss Merchant Takes Son

ZURICH, Switzerland (AP) — Swiss multimillionaire Rene Lang returned to Zurich today with his 7-year-old son, Francis, and announced grimly: "You watch, I'll go and get the other boy as well."

The boys' mother, Marian Rothstein of New York, accused Lang of abducting Francis Sunday in Manhattan. She had a contempt of court warrant sworn out against him in New York.

The warrant charged Lang defied a court order giving temporary custody of the two boys to Mrs. Rothstein, who is living in New York with her second husband.

They came here after a brief stopover in Paris, where Lang said he intended to go back for Gerald in two weeks.

"I am Swiss and my children are Swiss," Lang said in Paris. "American justice had no reason and no right to counter the justice of my country. I did not kidnap Francis. I only took him back."

Three Blast Victims Remain Hospitalized

Three victims of an explosion and fire which killed a Troy man Friday night remained in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital today with burns suffered in the blaze.

Ralph LaBarge, 31, of 6735 Montclair St., Troy, is still critical, the hospital reported today. His wife, Yvonne, 27, has improved and is in fair condition. Mrs. Fluvanna Fogus, 20, of 6910 Montclair St., whose husband, Harry, 25, was killed in the blast, was reported "still critical, but showing improvement."

The explosion took place at the Fogus residence when a small oil burning torch broke, spraying the couples with oil and igniting. LaBarge suffered first, second and third degree burns over "100 per cent of his body," according to Dr. Charles L. Bowers, who treated him in emergency.

The women were burned over an estimated 20 per cent of their bodies. Neighbors today reported that they are starting a fund for the survivors and their children.

The Fogus couple have two boys and the LaBarges have four daughters and a son.

Rioters Chase Police Until Help Arrives

ROYAL OAK TOWNSHIP — Repulsed by beer-bottle throwing rioters at an Easter dance yesterday, Royal Oak Township Police asked for help.

Some fifty police armed with riot guns, hand grenades and tear gas rushed to the Duke Roller Skating Rink at 8940 W. Eight Mile Rd., scene of the mayhem. They came from Oak Park, Ferndale, the Redford State Police post and the Oakland County Sheriff's Department to quell the celebrators.

When it was all over, one unidentified woman was given first aid for cuts and another woman arrested for selling a beer to a patrolman in violation of state liquor laws.

She was identified as Mrs. Geraldine Way, 23, of 20256 Cherrylawn St., Detroit, by township Police Capt. Samuel Whitfield.

College President Dies

Student Can Use Absentee Ballots

Pontiac college students, home for Easter vacation, can vote in the April 6 election, even if they have to be back to classes by then.

Students, like other registered voters who will be out of town election day or unable to get to the polls because of physical reasons, can vote through absentee ballots, City Clerk Ada R. Evans reminded today.

The ballots may be obtained at the Clerk's City Hall office from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. every day through the deadline at 2 p.m. Saturday, she said.

Absentee ballots may be cast immediately at City Hall or mailed back in time to be counted April 6.

Plan Defense Meetings

ITHACA (AP) — Five rural meetings have been planned April 6-10 for Gratiot County to inform out-county residents of Civil Defense Organization needs. Information gained from the meetings will be used by the Office of Civil Defense and Mobilization

Jet With Hoffa Aboard Has Trouble, Returns

NEW YORK (AP)—A Westbound American Airlines jet-prop Electra returned to LaGuardia Field yesterday because of Engine trouble.

The plane, en route to Detroit, returned a half hour after the takeoff. The pilot, Capt. William Mego of Chicago, said certain instruments in the cockpit indicated low frequency vibrations in the No. 4 engine.

The passengers were transferred to another flight. Among them was James Hoffa, president of the Teamsters Union.

But Easter Was Generally Nice

Soggy Skies Widespread

By United Press International

Rainfall, which held off long enough for completion of the Easter parade in most areas, brought soggy weather Monday to widespread areas of the East and Northwest.

A generally light rain which dampened parts of the Southeast Easter Sunday pushed northward overnight to cover a region ranging from Florida, Georgia and the Carolinas into the upper Ohio Valley and lower Michigan. Light, scattered snow occurred along the northern fringe of the moisture area.

Although most of the rainfall amounts were light, Tampa, Fla., was doused by a 1.75-inch downpour in a six-hour period Sunday night. Other heavier amounts included one-half inch at Eureka, Calif., Brookings, Ore., and Astoria, Ore., and three-fourths of an inch at Newport, Ore.

Southerly winds in the East boosted readings as much as 15 to 20 degrees over the sub-freezing temperatures which greeted Easter worshippers Sunday.

Temperatures dipped to the freezing mark as far south as North Carolina Easter morning and to the wintery depths of 2 below zero at Oneonta, N.Y., and zero at Houlton, Maine.

Worshippers at the Cathedral of the Pines in Rindge, N.H., discarded spring finery in favor of ski outfits because of the cold.

By contrast, Buffalo, N.Y., Monday reported an early morning reading of 38 compared to a reading of 16 at the same time Sunday.

About 40 persons evacuated their homes, police said, and were sheltered in the national guard armory at nearby Freeport, Ill. Others took refuge in homes of friends and relatives.

Commission to Get Plan for Surfacing 10 Streets

BIRMINGHAM — City Engineer Grover R. Serenbetz will present the first phase of his 1959 asphalt surfacing program at tonight's City Commission meeting.

The cost for 10 streets is estimated at $56,400, Serenbetz said. Included in the street project are portions of Bates, Brownell, Daines, Forest, George, Hazel and Townsend streets, Bloomfield court, Eton road and Lincoln avenue.

The Bates street resurfacing is to be in two sections—Lincoln avenue north to Brown street and Maple avenue north to Willits street. It will cost an estimated $19,000 said Serenbetz.

Two repaving and widening projects under consideration are Eton road from Webster avenue north to Yosemite street and Lincoln avenue from Pierce street west to Southfield road. Serenbetz estimated the cost on these at $13,200 and $28,000 respectively.

Commissioners also will review the guest fee recommendation made by City Forester Charles W. Gale for the Springdale Golf Course. He suggests an increase bringing guest fees to $2.50 for nine holes on weekends and holidays. An additional nine holes cost another dollar.

Daily membership cards for Birmingham residents are $1. No change is recommended. Season memberships for individuals would remain at $35 with family memberships at $65.

Fee increases are sought as a possible means of curtailing play during peak periods, said Gale.

"During the past two years, play has increased sharply with nearly 31,000 rounds registered last season. About 43 per cent of that total was played by guests," the forester claimed.

About 650 youngsters from 3 to 11 years old slipped and slid over a wet Springdale Park Saturday afternoon in the annual Easter Egg Hunt.

Junior Chamber of Commerce members joined the City Recreation Department in sponsoring and managing the event which drew about as many spectators as participants.

Marshall R. Reed, bishop of the Methodist Churches of Michigan, will speak on "I Wish I Were a Layman" at 6:30 p.m. tomorrow when the Methodist Men's Club has its regular monthly dinner meeting.

The Supper Club of the Congregational Church of Birmingham will hold its monthly meeting at 6:45 p.m. Friday at the church.

Miss Jessie Orr of the Chrysler Corp. Photographic Department will speak and show colored slides on her recent trip to Hawaii.

Former Lawyer for Ford Dies

Louis J. Colombo Heart Victim; Son, Daughter of Bloomfield Survive

MELBOURNE, Fla. (AP) — Louis J. Colombo, an immigrant's son who became a prominent Detroit corporation lawyer and chief counsel for the Ford Motor Co., died here yesterday after a heart attack.

Colombo was 75. In 1905, he became one of the first of Detroit's Italian colony to practice law after his graduation from the Detroit College of Law.

He became chief counsel for Ford in 1928, a position he held for 12 years.

Colombo successfully defended the late Henry Ford in a six million dollar damage suit filed by Henry Leland in connection with Ford's purchase of the old Lincoln Motor Co.

He also represented Ford in many hearings before government boards and in suits brought by the United Auto Workers.

Colombo was survived by his widow, Jane, two sons, Frederick and Louis Jr., and a daughter, Mrs. Hanley Dawson Jr.

Mrs. Dawson and Louis J. Colombo Jr. and residents of Bloomfield Hills.

The body will be returned to Detroit for funeral services Thursday.

Tell Plans for MSUO Sewage System

ties to treat new areas outside the city limits," he said.

CITY SEEK PLANT

The city is asking for approval of the $3,300,000 sewage treatment plant bond issue April 6, on grounds that the existing Pontiac treatment facilities must be expanded to meet needs inside the city limits, not outside.

Willman reiterated that it is still Pontiac's rule-of-thumb not to provide services such as sewage treatment to outside areas without annexation.

Any change in this procedure would have to come in the form of a new stated policy adopted by the City Commission, he said.

One exception occurred last year, when the city allowed Waterford Township supermarket property to hook up to the Pontiac system without annexation.

Another may occur this spring, if Sylvan Lake annexes the Sylvan Shopping Center and wants Pontiac to service it as it serves the rest of Sylvan Lake.

Willman pointed out that the exceptions were minor ones and do not reflect a change in policy.

The bond issue, which must be approved by 60 per cent of the property owners balloting on it to pass, has been defeated two times, the second time last fall.

Willman pointed out that last fall it was believed that MSUO had no agency other than Pontiac to turn to for sewage treatment.

Mr. Pero died yesterday in Henry Ford Hospital, Detroit, after a short illness.

He was Michigan representative for the Callaghan Law Publishing Co. of Chicago. Also, he was a member of the Elks Lodge and served on the board of directors of the Western Golf Club, Detroit.

Surviving besides his wife, Ethel, are two daughters, Mrs. Shirley Ann Krueger and Patricia Mae; a son, Roy W. Jr.; his father, William J. Pero; two grandchildren, and six brothers and sisters.

MRS. HARRIET CRONENWETH

Service was held this morning for Mrs. Harriet (McKenzie) Cronenweth, 75, of 18438 Bedford Rd., at the Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co.

She died Friday in New Grace Hospital, Detroit, after a long illness.

Mrs. Cronenweth was a member of the First Presbyterian Church of Birmingham and Chapter T of the PEO Sisterhood.

Welfare Cases Given Advice as Cutoff Nears for Able-Bodied

BELLAIRE, Mich. (AP) — The Antrim County Welfare Board says all able-bodied welfare recipients will be cut off the rolls May 1 and will have to fend for themselves.

The board says that if they expected to get help next fall they would have to raise a garden, can fruits and vegetables, get in a supply of wood or pay ahead on fuel bills, and stay away from bars and beer gardens this summer.

It said "our forefathers never knew of welfare but made plans in the summer for the year ahead. If our forefathers could do it, we can do it too."

The board said welfare costs last winter were $83,757, a record high for the county. Unemployment during the period was high because of layoffs at nearby plants.

Persons who feel it unjust to be dropped from the rolls may apply for a hearing, the board said.

Waterford Schools Plan Huge Softball Program

A new program to enable more Waterford Township children to participate in the recreation softball program this year is being planned, according to director Tom Belton.

Instead of about 500 youngsters playing competitive baseball, the new setup will have 1,500 boys and girl teams in league competition at the 18 elementary schools in the district.

Last year the league was made of only one team from each school. At the conclusion of the season this year, an all star team from each school will play in a one-game elimination tournament.

Although the Recreation Department furnishes all of the equipment, awards and administers schedules, at least three or four fathers from each school will be needed to coach the teams, Belton said.

An organizational meeting for fathers only will be held at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday at the Community Activities Center.

Safe Driving Facts

Injury Rate Is Lowest at Speeds of 45 to 70

By LOUIS CASSELS

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Last year 35,000 Americans were killed and 1,300,000 were injured in automobile accidents.

Reducing this terrible toll has become a major national objective. But little progress can be made in preventing accidents without sound knowledge about when, where and why they occur.

The U.S. Bureau of Public Roads has just completed a three-year study which was the most comprehensive attempt yet to substitute facts for opinions on highway safety. The finds, to be published soon, support some long-held popular ideas about accidents — but sharply contradict others.

The bureau found that under good driving conditions — that is, on main open-country highways, in daytime and in fair weather — it is substantially safer to drive at a relatively high speed than to poke along at very slow speeds.

★ ★ ★

Lest this finding be dangerously misconstrued, it should be emphasized at once that the study confirmed what common-sense already knew, excessively high speeds are hazardous, particularly at night. And what constitutes a safe speed on a main rural highway would definitely be too fast in a congested urban area, or on a narrow, winding road.

The study covered 3,700,000,000 vehicle-miles of actual automobile travel by 200,00 drivers of both sexes and every age bracket, over typical stretches of man rural highway in 11 widely-scattered states.

By analyzing in an electronic computer the 10,000 accidents which occurred, the bureau came up with a mass of statistics on the "accident involvement rate" of various kinds of drivers under widely varying travel conditions.

The accident involvement rate for drivers traveling at speeds below 40 miles per hour proved to be several times higher than that of drivers traveling at somewhat higher speeds.

This does not mean that the faster you drive, the less likely you are to have an accident. Plotted on a graph, the accident involvement rate for daytime travel on major highways drops steadily from 40 to 55 miles an hour, then gradually levels off until about 65 miles an hour, where it begins to climb again. Above 70, it climbs steeply.

In determining a safe speed, however, a driver must take into account not only the chances of having an accident, but the severity of the accident that is likely to occur at various speeds.

Here the findings are unequivocal — the faster you are going, the more likely you are to be seriously hurt if you are in a wreck. At 40 miles an hour, only a third of the accidents result in substantial injuries. At 70 miles, nearly 90 per cent of the accidents involve injuy.

Weighing together both considerations —the chances of having and accident, and its proable severity — the bureau found the overall injury rate is lowest at speeds between 45 and 70 miles an hour. It rises sharply below 40 and above 75.

One conclusion stands out clearly — the desirability of enforcing minimum as well as maximum speed limits on main highways. A few states already have such laws. Others may be prompted by the bureau's findings to adopt them.

All of the figures given above are for daytime travel. What the bureau learned about night driving and about the accident rates of various types of drivers will be summarized in another dispatch tomorrow.

'The Babe and I'

By MRS. BABE RUTH with Bill Slocum

(Condensed from "The Babe and I" Copyright, 1959, by Mrs. Babe Ruth and published by Prentice Hall, Inc.)

Babe raised two daughters, my own Julia and Dorothy, whom Babe and his first wife took from an orphanage and whom Babe and I legally adopted the day we married. He was a good father. Perhaps a little strict, but also overindulgent.

His strictness never showed up until young men started showing up. Lord knows he approved of boy meeting girl, but like so many fathers, that didn't go when the girl was his own.

No matter who the young man was—a stranger or the son of a life-long friend — Babe insisted his daughters be home by 11.

There were no exceptions. No party was important enough to waive this strict rule. If Julia or Dorothy questioned it, his only reply was, "I am a man, you're a girl."

Both girls were pretty and attractive, but they could never be sure what had lured the young man to their home. Did he come to see a girl? Or did he come to see Babe Ruth?

The Babe forced Julia to break an engagement when she was not quite 20. Julia had flatly refused to go to college because "I want to get married as soon as I find a guy I love." She found, or thought she found, such a guy when she was 20.

Said the Babe: "No girl has enough sense to get married until she's 25." He had been married when he was 20 to a girl of 16. Julia, incidentally, married when she was 24; Dorothy when she was 19.

LOTS OF FUN

The girls had a lot of fun with the Babe. When they went anywhere with him they were mobbed. Babe didn't like it but Julia and Dorothy adored it.

When mobbed at a sporting event he would sign autographs for a while, then throw up his hands and roar, "We came to enjoy this. Please be nice and let up." It usually worked.

He called Julia "Butch," and Dorothy was either that or "Dot."

He would play bridge with the girls. Julia was a serious and gifted bridge-player and her old man's bridge was the complete test of her adoration.

"My God, he's an awful bridge player," she reported, ruefully. "He absolutely believes everything his partner says.

"If the partner says 'two, no trump' that's the way Father plays it. He believes anything anybody tells him." That, I think, is a capsule description of his life.

The Babe, aware of his weakness in remembering names, tried desperately to overcome it when one of the girls had a young man over. He got an "E" for effort but he failed miserably.

DATING A PROBLEM

He told me about the problem of dating her. "I came to see her. Not him. But he'd always start one of those bridge games and I didn't like bridge and Culbertson was the only guy who should have been Julia's partner.

"But when I'd leave, it was the worst. He was so awful nice, telling me how much he enjoyed having me over and almost begging me to come back.

"Then he'd say, 'Good night, Pete.' Or Eddie, or Joe, or Bill, or Mike. He never called me 'Jack' in his entire life."

If Babe couldn't remember a beau's face. Most of the kids bored him, naturally. Occasionally he would say, sarcastically, "Oh, it's that drip again."

A few times he took a violent dislike to a boy. Then, when the young man was gone, he would say, "Dot (or Butch), don't see that guy any more."

★ ★ ★

He bought both kids lavish presents, almost always jewelry. And he performed all the duties a father is expected to perform but doesn't always perform.

Julia graduated from Tisne, a New York City private high school, in 1934 and the Babe promised to be at her graduation.

That was his last, ghastly year with the Yankees. He was hurt, exhausted, bewildered and by now more than happy to get into bed right after dinner. He found himself in St. Louis with the Yanks on graduation day.

He said he would fly in for the ceremonies. He hated to fly. We all went out to Newark to meet his plane, but when the old Ford trimotor lumbered in at noon he wasn't aboard.

Julia was heartsick and so was I. We returned to New York for the ceremonies.

Fifteen minutes after they began he walked in, looking exhausted, as he was. He had flown at night to keep a promise. And he had to fly the next night to rejoin his team.

During the 1939 season Julia was desperately ill. Babe was with the Dodgers then, and Larry MacPhail had a private telephone installed on the bench.

The phone was used one afternoon to tell Babe to get to the hospital at once. He gave Julia a blood transfusion that saved her life.

He was meticulous in seeing that neither Julia nor Dorothy ever had any reason to feel slighted. A present for one meant a present for the other.

They were both his daughters to him. And, to the very best of my ability, to me.

Dorothy has drifted away from me, I'm afraid. I do not think we are in any sense enemies. I have no explanation for this situation, which can best be called a mutual disinterest.

Dorothy now lives in Connecticut and is the mother of four children, a fact that would have simply delighted her father.

A BALL PLAYING GRANDSON?

Julia married Dick Flanders, who ran an inn up in Kearsarge, N. H., and they would both visit us each spring and fall.

Dick died on Jan. 8, 1949, five months after Babe died and two months after my brother Hubert.

After Dick's death, Julia married Grant Meloon and had a son, Tammy. They were divorced in 1955, and today Julia and Tammy live on the beautiful chicken ranch owned by her present husband, Brent Stevens, in Eaton Center, N. H.

They are very happy and my visits with them every summer and over the Holidays are very precious to me.

He remembered birthdays with lavish gifts. And he accepted the unpleasant parts of fatherhood.

I remember him being terribly upset after saying to Julia, "You're a pretty girl, Butch. But you're too fat. Get yourself down."

Naturally I wonder often if any of the Babe's grandchildren will become ball players. I hope they will and I hope they won't. He, of course, would have been mad for a son or grandson who could play ball.

He thought everyone should play ball. I found him once giving Julia hitting instructons before she left for a girls' camp. Among his other accomplishments, Babe Ruth was a great father.

Fisher in Vegas to Work, Liz to Enjoy Rest

Eddie Fisher was speaking to reporters between rehearsals at the Tropicana Hotel where he opens his night club act Wednesday.

★ ★ ★

Fisher and Elizabeth Taylor arrived Sunday in this desert gambling resort. The actress, accompanied by her three children, a nurse and valet, went into seclusion at a $500-a-week ranch outside of town. A guard patrolled the entrance as a steady procession of sightseers tried to get a look at the raven-haired actress.

★ ★ ★

Fisher, recently divorced by actress Debbie Reynolds, declined comment on whether he and Miss Taylor will marry during their Nevada stay.

Hospital Asks Full Pay for Welfare Patients

Recently the Pontiac General Hospital Board of Trustees went on record to the effect that it will no longer assume losses on County welfare patients.

The decision by the board was practically unanimous and meets with wholehearted approval of the taxpayers that foot the bills for the hospital. It does not seem right, now or in the past, that payments from the Oakland County Welfare Board for patients have not covered all the expenses.

Under the arrangements for the last few years, the Pontiac hospital has been forced into a secondary welfare division. Last year the hospital reported a $75,000 loss on welfare patients. It is not fair to expect the hospital to assume this loss.

★ ★ ★

Actually, it is the patients that pay their own bills who are paying the losses on the County patients. James Clarkson, speaking as Chairman of the hospital board, stated the current arrangement is unjust and not realistic to expect paying patients to pick up the tab for County cases.

The Board of Trustees has made it clear that it wants actual costs per patient from the Welfare Board, plus a year end adjustment up or down to make the payments cover the expenses completely.

St. Joseph Mercy Hospital and William Beaumont have indicated that they will join Pontiac General in these demands. The three hospitals are seeking a meeting with the County Social Welfare Board to establish this formula.

It seems reasonable to expect that the County Social Welfare Board will accept their responsibility and pay the complete bill where welfare patients are concerned.

Hawaiian Agency May Be Delinquency Solution

Our newest state, Hawaii, is abreast of major problems and is already set up in Honolulu to cope with juvenile delinquency. Operation "Help" is a Hawaiian experiment operated by police and public welfare to handle family problems.

★ ★ ★

According to the National Probation and Parole news, the Hawaiian setup was started in 1956 as a result of a syndicated newspaper column by Muriel Lawrence (Pontiac Press columnist).

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Lawrence pointed out that a family crisis was a public hazard and needed immediate attention. Her answer — a new city agency — a Family Emergency Service. Upon notice of trouble a social worker-police officer team responded immediately. In many cases by going directly to the heart of the problem, this new agency "Help" could stave off real serious trouble before it was out of hand.

★ ★ ★

To date, this preventive measure to curb delinquency working through the chief of police, a territorial juvenile court judge and the public welfare bureau is having remarkable success in Honolulu.

Train-Auto Deaths Cry Another Grim Warning

Another train-auto collision has raised the death toll to three in the past three months, in addition to another four persons who died last year in similar accidents.

★ ★ ★

In some cases, on the more heavily traveled streets and highways, barriers or gates might have cut the toll somewhat, but it is impossible to erect these devices at every intersection of tracks and roads.

The greatest safety device is a healthy lump of caution, and a firm foot on the brake

Too often, drivers who cross these tracks in their daily driving grow contemptuous of the warning signs and signals, and tend to forget them completely.

★ ★ ★

Some drivers will risk their lives and the lives of their family to gain a few seconds and "beat the train" without ever considering the odds, and whether they are gambling far to much to gain a few seconds.

Those who lose the gamble make grim statistics.

The Man About Town

Consider Them All

Keep in Mind Only Eight Teams in Junior League

Younger generation: What the only thing wrong with is that us old codgers cannot belong to it.

In the 1959 baseball contest now under way, it is hoped that not such a large portion of our readers will make the same mistake as they have in former years: They did not look further than Detroit.

The $250 in U.S. Savings Bonds goes to the person making the nearest correct answer to the following question:

What player who has been at bat at least 25 times will be leading the American League on the night of Thursday, April 23, and what will be his batting average?

In the final count of last year's contest, was outstanding favorite among the 2,648 contestants getting 371 votes, with a number of other Tigers near the top.

Harvey Kuenn

But the leader on the closing night was one of the other 121 players who had received votes. It was of Baltimore, who had been picked by only 14 of the contestants.

Some hitherto unknown rookie may be tops this time. You'd better pick your favorite, judging by the work in the training camps and pre-season games. Do it now, and you won't forget it, and lose your chance on the prize.

All entries must be received in The Pontiac Press office by noon on Friday, April 10.

Every member of your family, regardless of age, can compete, but each entry must be on a separate piece of paper, although they may be mailed in the same envelope.

This column is looking for that old (or young) couple among its readers who have a son or daughter nearest to celebrating THEIR golden wedding. We know of one, married for 66 years, who have a son who in two years will celebrate his golden wedding. Can you beat that?

Some our our great railroads are known by odd nicknames, but I've never seen one to beat by which the Pontiac, Oxford and Northern, now a part of the Grand Trunk System, was known a half century or more ago.

"The Polly Ann,"

Verbal Orchids to—

Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. McNulty of 3328 Bald Mountain Road; 55th wedding anniversary.

Mrs. Zenaide Lesage of Rochester; 89th birthday.

Mrs. Margaret Percival of Lake Orion; 85th birthday.

Mrs. Albert Schingeck of Holly; 93rd birthday.

"Can I Have the Help Wanted Section?"

David Lawrence Says:

Labor Heads Create Joblessness

WASHINGTON—When President Eisenhower appealed last week to labor and management for "statesmanship" on both sides, he was concerned with its absence nowadays at the bargaining table.

LAWRENCE

How different, for instance, is the attitude of the big labor unions today from what it was only 10 years ago when there was evidence of real statesmanship as well as sound economics!

Attention was called recently to this contrast by one of the editors of the Springfield (Mass.) Republican, who wrote that, on unwrapping an old mirror, he found in a 10-year-old newspaper some quotations which afford an opportunity for comparison with what is being said today.

In the article, which happened to be one that this correspondent write on June 21, 1949, there was an excerpt from the monthly survey issued by the national headquarters of the American Federation of Labor and distributed to local unions throughout the country. The A. F. of L. declaration read as follows:

"In the present precarious business situation, wise union policies are of utmost importance in negotiating with your employer. Get the facts on his financial condition and outlook from him if possible; supplement your information by writing to A. F. of L. headquarters.

"Perhaps your employer's prospects are excellent; but if his profit margin is being squeezed by price declines your future will be more secure if you help him improve his competitive position. A wage increase may depend upon a plan for union cooperation to prevent waste, save expense, cut costs, improve production.

"Such a plan can be developed through a union-management production committee. Now is the time to revive this pre-war idea and make it effective for today's needs."

This writer in his 1949 dispatch characterized the statement as "an excellent example of responsible leadership in the trade union movement," and added:

"The main pillar of the free-enterprise system is competition, but again and again wage rates are forced upwards by considering only what large units in business can absorb. These are the very increases that put smaller companies in the red or out of business.

"The A. F. of L. does not by any means abate its interest in wage increases. In fact, it urges these be sought wherever possible because of the need for maintaining consumer purchasing power. . . .

"There is no doubt that union leaders of the responsible type are fearful of the effects of the present recession. The fact that they are sending out words of reassurance concerning the underlying strength of the economic system does not alter the fact that they know this is no time for boat-rocking on extraneous issues."

The Springfield Republican in its editorial the other day describes the 1949 pronouncement of the A. F. of L. as significant of what its doctrines used to be before the merger and prior to the AFL's absorption of the Reuther philosophy.

Nowadays the AFL-CIO merged organization seems to have two voices, George Meany tends to be like his predecessors in the AFL—Sam Gompers and Bill Green—while Walter Reuther makes speeches which would indicate that he sincerely believes the American economic system would fare better along socialistic lines and with more and more government control, intervention or even government ownership.

There's a big argument currently as to what has caused inflation. Wage rates that are forced upward irrespective of the higher prices they induce can only result in more and more unemployment.

Unemployment today is due largely to the attacks on the private-enterprise system by thoughtless labor union leaders. This is the opposite of statesmanship. It can only bring discouragement to private initiative and, finally, introduce a species of government control and monopoly.

There is no substitute for competition, and even the labor union movement, which is governed by a monopoly today, would be far better off with a little competition inside its own ranks or at least some of the 1949 statesmanship that sincerely recognized at the bargaining table the common interest of employer and employe.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Overweight, Malnutrition Often Go Hand-in-Hand

Many individuals who are 20 or 30 pounds overweight are poorly nourished. That is to say, they do not get from their food the quantities of minerals and vitamins they need, and in an instinctive way, they try to satisfy the need by overeating.

DR. BRADY

Unfortunately the superfluous food they consume in this way is almost entirely refined carbohydrate — refined white flour, refined white sugar. This supplies enough calories to carry them into the middle of next week, but scarcely a vitamin or a mineral in a bellyful.

It does little good to tell these undernourished citizens to use crude raw sugar instead of refined white sugar, and plain wheat (whole grain, cracked or ground by your own hand mill or coffee mill daily) instead of refined white flour.

They haven't the gumption to find such items, and if they do find a place where crude raw sugar and/or wheat is available, the grocery clerk scares them off by showing them the sugar is labeled "not for human consumption," or the farmer's hired man informs them that wheat like that in the bin is for pigs and chickens.

SUPPLEMENTS NEEDED

So it becomes necessary to spoon feed the poor souls their vitamins and minerals in tablet form, as described in the pamphlet "Young Folks and Old Folks," for which send a stamped, self-addressed envelope. This won't work a miracle overnight, but if continued for at least six months this daily dietary supplement will replace that tired feeling with vite.

An aphorism of the old-timers is still in circulation—namely, that the expectant mother must "eat for two." If only natural or undenaturized foods were available, this would not be so bad for the expectant mother.

But what with the grocery clerk and the hired man holding her off from such foods, how in the world is the lady going to satisfy the demands of the greedy little parasite ensconed within, to say nothing of her own vitamin and mineral requirements, which are greater during pregnancy than at any other time of her life?

Let the expectant or nursing mother supplement her ordinary diet with a daily ration of two to six calcinatal tablets. Calcinatal supplies ALL the extra vitamins and minerals of the expectant or nursing mother requires: Calcium lactate, iron gluconiate, vitamin A, vitamin B (thiamin, riboflavin, niacin), vitamin C (ascorbic acid), vitamin D and even B12 (the red blood vitamin).

Asks Voters to Give State Clue to Good Government

In answer to Nauseated, let's all vote April 6th, to elect the right men, particularly the Circuit Judges, who are supposed to be non-partisan. Let us be very sure to elect men we know to be honest, able, and courageous enough to seek the judgeship for Oakland County without the support of any political party, or influenced by any particular group or faction.

★ ★ ★

Let us at this election elect our own native men we feel sure will carry out and protect the best interests of Oakland County in particular and Michigan in general. The safest and surest way to protest the base conditions we are surrounded by in Michigan today is to elect the right men on April 6th.

★ ★ ★

Then we voters in Pontiac and Oakland County will show by our good judgment the rest of Michigan voters how to have clean government.

'Colored Schools Do Work Out'

A recent article in the Miami Herald points out the success of the Negro high school in Vero Beach. The expenditure for Negro students has been $30 over the state average and the principal of the school says it's meant more than any one thing that could have happened. He reports good relationship between the faculty and the community and with the white high school.

★ ★ ★

He said most people for the last 15 or 20 years have recognized a general uplift in relations with other people. They take pride their principal can sit down with principals of white schools and discuss common problems. The school is geared the students' needs, with exceptionally good agriculture and homemaking courses, and little stress on science, because the principal points out very few students are scientific-minded.

★ ★ ★

This article shows how we get along in colored schools in Vero, so this may give you some idea that colored people get along in their own schools, too.

Another Ohioan Watches, Gloats

Regarding an article I read glorifying the incumbent Michigan Governor, if we in Ohio were entirely selfish we would say, "Elect Williams six more times," as he has been probably the greatest boom to industrial Ohio that we've had in my 30 years of practice down here. So I suppose if you want to keep "Soapy," the Boy Blunder," and stay in the tin cup class, why should we in Ohio bother to object?

Favors Present Courthouse Site

In answer to A. Taxpayer, space doesn't allow all our reasons why we're opposed to moving the Courthouse from its present site, but we'll be happy to submit our reasons to A. Taxpayer if he'll give us his name and address.

★ ★ ★

We cannot understand his say-it's the choice of the majority of people to move the Courthouse, as it's never been submitted to a vote, which we've repeatedly requested. We also cannot understand the Board of Auditors being commended for "saving money" when they've purposely excluded fees and revenues from various departments in their original budgets. This method of obtaining "surplus revenue" has been deemed legal but in our opinion is still morally wrong, as it circumvents the wishes of the people.

We feel A. Taxpayer and many supervsiors aren't fully informed of the serious problems that will arise in moving the Courthouse. We will be pleased to furnish anyone with our reasons for favoring building the Courthouse on its present site.

I plan to move to Massachusetts and I understand this is predominately a Catholic state. I've been told that birth control information or aid, even from a Protestant doctor to a Protestant patient is illegal. Is this true, and if so, how can it be explained?

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Spanking Sometimes Necessary

Notice Mike's problem, for it confronts thousands of families. But Mike's mother is the real culprit in this case. It is surprising how many college folks lack "horse sense" in dealing with children. See the bizarre advice of the Dionne quintuplet's nurse and you parents will realize the difference between "braintrusters" vs. "horse sense" educators.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE A-491: Mike D., aged 3, is an "only" child whose mother will not permit corporal punishment to be used on him.

Like the usual child, he is full of curiosity but but he doesn't curb it at all.

DR. CRANE

Recently he was visiting another family. His parents were along. Mike went over to a candy dish, filled with chocolates and bit into every one of them just to see if he liked any.

His mother threw up her hands in a gesture of dismay and said: "Isn't he the limit! I just don't know what to do with him."

Well, Mamma, let me tell you what to do with him! Lay your hands on his rear piazza in a few sharp, staccato beats and he will learn to be socially more acceptable in the future!

About 25 years ago, a group of sentimental "old maids" invaded the field of child psychology and preached the "braintruster" doctrine that the developing soul of such young hopefuls as Mike, should never be hampered by the laying on of hands.

That brand of false psychology swept this country so widely that one of the magazines for parents wouldn't accept an article of mine wherein I advocated a judicious use of corporal punishment!

It just goes to show how "isms" may invade other fields than the political.

DIONNE TECHNIQUE

Thus, a nurse for one of the Dionne quintuplets wrote an article advocating the elimination of ALL corporal punishment.

And to prove that she could get results without paddling, she mentioned the specific quintuplet who was in her custody. "I tucked her into bed," added the nurse, "but when I got back to the living room, there she was, having slipped out ahead of me.

"So I just smiled and placed her back into bed a second time. But when I reached the living room, there she was again.

"I again smiled and put her to bed. This kept up till she finally stayed under the covers."

As I recall, however, it took some 56 "tuckings" before the youngster stayed put.

The next night this same farce began all over again, but the child desisted after some 45 tuckings.

On the third night, she surrendered with about 32 tuckings and after a week or 10 days, she stayed tucked on the first attempt.

We shall not deny this nurse's experimental facts.

But success in life also involves practical "efficiency." A busy mother with other youngsters to care for, plus a husband and social duties in the PTA or church, hasn't time to play tag with each child.

Tuck the youngster into bed once. Then warn it in simple words it should be able to comprehend.

If it hops out, give it a second chance but remind it of the penalty that will follow on the third misdemeanor.

Then apply your hand on its rear piazza and the child will not only stay tucked by the 3rd attempt on that very first night (not the 56th, a la the Dionne girl) but the second night he will stay put on the very first tucking, instead of the 45th.

See tomorrow's follow-up, and scrapbook these cases for PTA discussion.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

20 Housing Permits Issued

Waterford Building Up

There has been more building in Waterford Township in the last week than during the entire winter, according to Building Inspector Carl Walton.

There were 20 permits issued for new houses totaling $305,630 with four additions, and remodeling, garages and commercial, permits. Construction values totaled more than $330,900.

Last year in the same week only four houses were built, and total value of construction was $67,835.

"Individuals as well as developers seem to be on a building spree," Walton said.

He added that builders all say their volume of business is up, especially in remodeling, adding of rooms, converting garages into rooms, and constructing of porches with the new types of awnings.

★ ★ ★

Deluxe garages with open breezeways are a favorite because of low construction costs, and people are finishing their attic space for more bedrooms, Walton reported.

★ ★ ★

Others are making cement enclosures under their garages or in a corner of the garage for safety of their families in case of disaster, Walton said.

Report Disinfectant Kills Hospital Germs

NEW YORK (AP)—A new disinfectant that fights drug-resistant hospital germs has been reported by a Columbia Presbyterian Medical Center team. It is said to be economical as well as 80 per cent effective.

Hudson told an Albany, N.Y., medical conference that the active ingredient, called "permachem," is a metallic-organic molecule which cleanses the air and all surfaces contacted for at least six weeks. He said the system had been tried out for eight months.

Four different lengths were legally recognized as constituting the 12 inches of a foot until the U.S. Bureau of Standards came along in the early 1900's.

From Obscurity to Number One Man, Is Story of Nikita Khrushchev

(He is in the news almost every day, but he is almost a man nobody knows—Nikita Khrushchev, the man the West must deal with in any summit sessions. What makes him run? How did he get where he is? How smart is he? These are some of the questions William L. Ryan, long a close student of the Soviet Union, takes up in the first of five informative articles.)

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

Long before anyone dreamed of Nikita Khrushchev as a future czar, a Western diplomat sized him up shrewdly as "that brilliant bonehead."

★ ★ ★

The man can bluster and guffaw his way with a terrifying air of carelessness toward the edge of global disaster. But he is no genius. His career has been dotted with bonehead plays.

★ ★ ★

In a meeting at the summit, nonetheless, Western statesmen would face a formidable antagonist, a dynamic bundle of reckless energy and dazzling paradoxes, far less predictable, potentially far more dangerous than the mighty Stalin.

One of his success secrets seems to be an astonishing knack for blaming his own mistakes on others—and getting away with it. Another has been an Olympian scorn of weakness and what he would regard as bourgeois morality.

Khrushchev knows only one truth. In a sense he is a missionary. He has referred piously to his "Communist faith." In propagating this faith, he has shown himself a true disciple of Lenin.

World Communism as developed under Soviet control has one basic aim: to impose its political philosophy on the whole world. To accomplish this, any subterfuge, any lie, any deceit, any tactic is justified in Communist eyes.

POLITICAL SPUTNIK

The Khrushchev era in the U.S.S.R. is now about five years old. In that brief historical period the 5 foot 5, 220 lb., former coal miner has zoomed like a political Sputnik to the top of the Soviet heap.

Perhaps he went too far too fast. He is not yet the sole inheritor of Stalin's awesome power. Those who stood in the way of his climb have been silenced, but not eliminated. His victories have been dazzling, but their foundation is flimsy.

He was born in a hovel in Kalinovka, in Kursk province, not far from the Ukraine, April 17, 1894. His father, Sergei, may have owned a small plot of land around the mud and reed hovel and thus have been a "kulak"—a landowning peasant. But his chief trade was that of coal miner. Nikita's grandfather had been a serf, one of the agricultural slaves freed by czar Alexander in 1861.

Nikita at 17 was working as a locksmith in a factory at Kharkov in the Ukraine. From there he traveled to the Donets Basin to work, like his father, in the coal mines. He was there, a young man of 23, when the Russian revolution burst out.

★ ★ ★

Khrushchev took no active part in the revolution against the czar. But in 1918, when the Bolsheviks were striking for power, he joined the party and served in the First Proletarian Regiment in the Donets Basin during the first party of the bloody civil war.

SCHOOL AT 27

After the war, Khrushchev worked for a while in an iron mine and for the first time, at 27, got a chance to go to school. He studied at a rabfak or workers' faculty for three years in Kharkov, and went from there to party jobs in Stalino and Kiev. Then came his first big break.

Khrushchev's party work came to the notice of Lazar Moisevich Kaganovich, the dreaded "iron commissar," then first party secretary in the Ukraine. Kaganovich had Khrushchev sent to Moscow's Industrial Academy in 1929 for further studies.

A quarter century later Khrushchev would repay his benefactor by bouncing him out of the post-Stalin hierarchy, labeled an enemy of the party.

But in 1934 Khrushchev was just a Kaganovich man, and his boss got him finally on the powerful central committee. He now had a firm grasp on the first rung of his ladder to power.

Jurist Urges Faubus Seek North Votes

MEMPHIS (AP)—An Arkansas jurist proposes that Arkansas Gov. Orval Faubus enter presidential primaries in the northern states so "those people could show their true feelings for states rights."

Jim D. Johnson, 33, the youngest associate justice of the Arkansas Supreme Court, made the proposal on a television panel show Sunday.

The primaries would give Faubus a chance to show "that he can win outside the South," Johnson said. Then the Arkansas governor can go to the Democratic convention "with the backing of the solid South, the border states and any other states he captures in the primaries."

★ ★ ★

Johnson said if things don't turn out that way and Faubus is read out of the Democratic party over states' rights, a third party would result.

'Kansas Mother of the Year'

39 Women Told They Won

WICHITA, Kan. (AP)—A mail mix-up caused 39 women to think they had been designated "Kansas Mother of the Year," but the selection committee today will end the confusion by naming a bona fide state "mother."

★ ★ ★

Mrs. John Selfridge of Wichita, Kan., chairman, stuck with the job desipte the distraction resulting from the mistake. She will preside at the committee meeting here.

The confusion originated in New York, where volunteer workers mailed the wrong batch of letters from national headquarters of the American Mothers Committee.

Mrs. Aileen Fogarty, national director of the organization which selects the national Mother of the Year from state winners, said there were two batches of form letters to be mailed.

'DEAR MEMBER'

One, addressed "Dear Member," was an invitation to the national convention in New York May 4-8. The other, addressed to "Dear State Mother," was to be sent after 39 states chose their winners.

★ ★ ★

De-Icing Plan Urged for Lakes, Seaway

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army Engineers were urged today by Sen. Alexander Wiley (R-Wis) to step-up efforts to develop a de-icing program for the Great Lakes and the St. Lawrence Seaway.

Such a development, to permit increased traffic during the winter time, Wiley said, would be a real boon to the Great Lakes and the upper Midwestern economy.

Wiley said opening of the 27-foot-deep St. Lawrence Seaway, scheduled for April, will result in increased traffic through the big inland waterway. He said that if a de-icing method could be developed, it would greatly increase the traffic moving through the seaway.

"We recognize, of course," Wiley said, "that 'cracking the ice barrier' will not be a simple or quickly accomplished task." To the contrary, he said, it will require extensive study, research and experimentation.

"Currently, de-icing methods are helping to keep open normally ice-bound ports and harbors in Sweden and Canada. A number of systems are being experimented with, including the 'bubbling system' — an underwater piping system through which compressed air moves through tiny holes to the surface melting the ice; electric heaters, use of chemicals and other methods."

★ ★ ★

Wiley wrote Maj. E. C. Itschner, chief of Army Engineers, to urge the stepped up program. He said he was aware that some studies have been initiated and believes the time has come to push it.

Weekly Skate Is Just Great at 90, Says Mate

Skating is the sport he substitutes for tennis during the winter. Crowley works five days a week as secretary-treasurer of a stationery company, and he thinks he needs the exercise.

Although he takes a tumble on the ice now and then, Crowley never has been hurt because, his wife says, "He knows how to fall."

Crowley, a small, thin man, makes sure he doesn't get too much exercise. An afternoon of skating, or tennis, once a week is enough.

"He has always been a very, very temperate man," said Mrs. Crowley.

He must have been. Crowley is 90 years old.

This is a public service advertisement on our economic health.
Its message is based on statements by the Honorable Robert Anderson, Secretary of the Treasury of the United States.

THERE IS A CURE FOR INFLATION

To most people, inflation means that it costs more to set the table, more to clothe and house the family.

Inflation hurts everyone alike. It hurts farmers and city people, business and labor. It is not a political problem. It bears no party labels. It is a very serious economic problem for all our people.

Even a "little" inflation is bad

Some have suggested that a slight rise in prices each year is not harmful.

Economic history reveals that there is no such thing as "little" inflation. As long as prices keep rising year after year, the value of the dollar declines and people—particularly those on fixed incomes—are seriously hurt.

What the government can do

The government can pay its current expenses out of current income. This calls for discipline and courage in government—and it is particularly appropriate in prosperous times. A government deficit (or fear of future deficits) can keep people from saving because of the possible shrinkage of these savings through inflation. If we ever reach the point where the people believe that to speculate is safe—but to save is to gamble—then we are indeed in trouble.

What we can do to help

We can urge and actively support economies in government—whether federal, state or local. This does not mean endangering national security or affecting vital services, but it does mean helping the government to limit spending to services which are truly necessary.

We should not run to the federal government for help on matters which we ourselves should take care of as individual citizens or through our local forms of government.

Cutting government expenditures is a job for everyone, if taxes and our government debt are to be reduced. Reduction of both is extremely important in our fight against inflation.

We can buy prudently. It is always wise to get full value for our money. But, in time of inflation, it is even more important.

We can save more. We are a saving nation. We must save to pay for the modernized or additional plant and equipment which industry needs to raise its productivity, and to make the increasing jobs our country must have. The more we save, the more we help ourselves . . . and the more value we give the dollar.

We can give a dollar's worth of value for every dollar we earn. Increased productivity is an effective way to help defeat inflation. Here is what President Eisenhower said about productivity:

". . . if our efficiency does not increase, if our productivity does not rise, we . . . will tend to fall into the costly error of overpaying ourselves for the work we do. Along that road . . . lies the spur to further inflation."

Ask yourself this question. Is it "Tax Wise" and "Sound Judgment" to hire a Judge for six months, then turn him out for someone else — perhaps someone without equal training and qualifications? Bob Considine's People, Places, Things

Nikita: U.S. Fear We Won't Cook Cutlets?

NEW YORK — People . . . places . . . things . . .

A number of amateur and a few pro reporters have answered a writing challenge recently sketched here. Briefly, it was an Editor and Publisher puzzler on how a newsman might handle the story of Babe Ruth winning the World Series with a homerun that struck and killed an eminent statesman outside the park.

I like the "lead" of Al Herchick of the Bronx best:

"President Roosevelt walked out on Babe Ruth yesterday afternoon in the last half of the ninth inning of the deciding game of the World Series. In reprisal, the Babe pointed dramatically to the right field stands and then bounced a homer off the President's bean, which done him in instantly.

"The judge who heard the charges absolved the Bambino, declaring, 'Baseball is the great American sport. The Babe is the apotheosis of the game. Disloyalty can go too far. Case dismissed!"

Nikita Khrushchev may possibly be asked to come to New York for the summit meeting. Interviewed recently, in the course of NBC's Image Russia radio series, Khrushchev said, "Certainly, I would like to go to the United States," then added quickly, "if I had business there."

But he struck a pessimistic note in subsequent answers. He said that the U. S. makes it very difficult for even the most innocent of Russians to visit our country.

"Recently, the United States would not accept a delegation of our Russian chefs who were on tour explaining our food and recipes," he said, then hardy-hardy-harred, "perhaps the United States was afraid that they might cook up something besides the cutlets."

The relationship between Senate Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson and Speaker Sam Rayburn, his early mentor and staunchest ally, is as close and one might say tender as any in remembered Congressional history.

We were in Johnson's office not long ago at close of day. He had had a long and hard one. He put on his coat and was about to head for the door when he suddenly returned to his desk and picked up a phone that apparently is a direct line to Rayburn.

"Mr. Sam," he said, "do you want to see me about anything?"

Mr. Sam had nothing particular in mind.

"I'll come right over if there's anything you want to talk about," Johnson said.

Mr. Sam held his ground.

"That's fine, Mr. Sam," Johnson said. "At that rate, I guess I'll call it a day."

U. N. never lacks for color, but even veterans of the topless tower on the East River turned their heads the other day as seven Lamist Buddhist priests solemnly filed into the offices of Andrew Cordier, executive assistant to Dag Hammarskjold. The saffron-robed priests were there to protest Red Chinese aggression in Tibet in the name of the American Kalmuk community.

The Kalmuks number about 500 in this country. They worship the 24-year-old Dalai Lama as "god-king." The Kalmuks emigrated into Russia in the 1600s and thrived, more or less, until hundreds of thousands of them were deported en masse to Siberia in 1943.

The American end of the sect — escapees — has no notion of what fate befell the others. Their priests presented a remarkable protest to U. N., a mixture of outraged feeling and a prayerful supplication which, translated phonetically, read, "O manja badma hum!"

State Develops Antibiotic of Great Aid in Curing VD

LANSING (AP)—Two venereal disease experts say an antibiotic developed by the State Health Department holds great promise as a cure for syphilis and gonorrhea. It's called synnematin B.

Dr. Arthur C. Curtis of the University of Michigan and Dr. Benjamin Schwimmer of the Detroit Social Hygiene Clinic told a statewide conference on disease control the antibiotic works well in treating VD patients sensitive to penicillin.

Dr. Curtis said penicillin probably will continue its role as the chief medical weapon against syphilis for some time. But, he said more and more people are reacting to penicillin because of sensitivity developed from previous shots. For these, he said, synnematin B is a boon.

In a related talk, Dr. John A. Cowan of Lansing reported more cases of venereal disease in Michigan than any other major communicable disease.

Last year, he said, 13,087 cases were reported to the State Health Department.

Dr. Cowan, director of the department's Division of Tuberculosis and Adult Health, said there probably are five to 10 times as many cases of gonorrhea as the department learns about.

He estimated there are 58,000 Michigan residents in need of treatment for syphilis who aren't receiving it, many because they are unaware of an infection.

"If these 58,000 aren't treated," he said, "about 7,000 eventually will develop disabling illness and 1,200 will become mental cases."

To Instruct Jury in Teel Murder

All-Male Panel Finally Arrived at After Two Weeks of Deliberation

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—An all-male jury will get instructions from Judge Thomas J. Faulconer today in the first degree murder trial of Minnie B. (Connie) Nicholas.

The judge will instruct the jury after two alternate jurors are sworn in. This will be followed by opening statements from the defense and prosecution, provided objections to Judge Faulconer's instructions are not filed.

Such objections, which have been indicated, could cause further delay in trial. It took two weeks to impanel the jury.

Mrs. Nicholas, 44, is charged with the fatal shooting last July 31 of Forrest Teel, 54, a wealthy drug executive.

She maintains the gun fired accidentally during an argument. the prosecution charges she fired it deliberately because Teel, who was married and the father of an adopted son, spurned her for a younger woman.

JAMAICA, N. Y. (UPI) — April showers may come the way of commuters on the Long Island Railroad, but nobody will get wet if the railroad's new plan works out.

The L. I. R. R. announced today its lost and found department will put hundreds of unclaimed umbrellas at strategic spots on train stations next month. Commuters can borrow 'em, free? The railroad hopes the bumbleshoots will be returned the next day.

The Easter bonnets glimpsed at local church services were a joy to behold this year. Most of them were beguilingly feminine, frothy and utterly appealing.

There were concoctions of flowers in soft, pastel colors and one hat of white feathers that looked good enough to eat —it resembled a coconut cupcake.

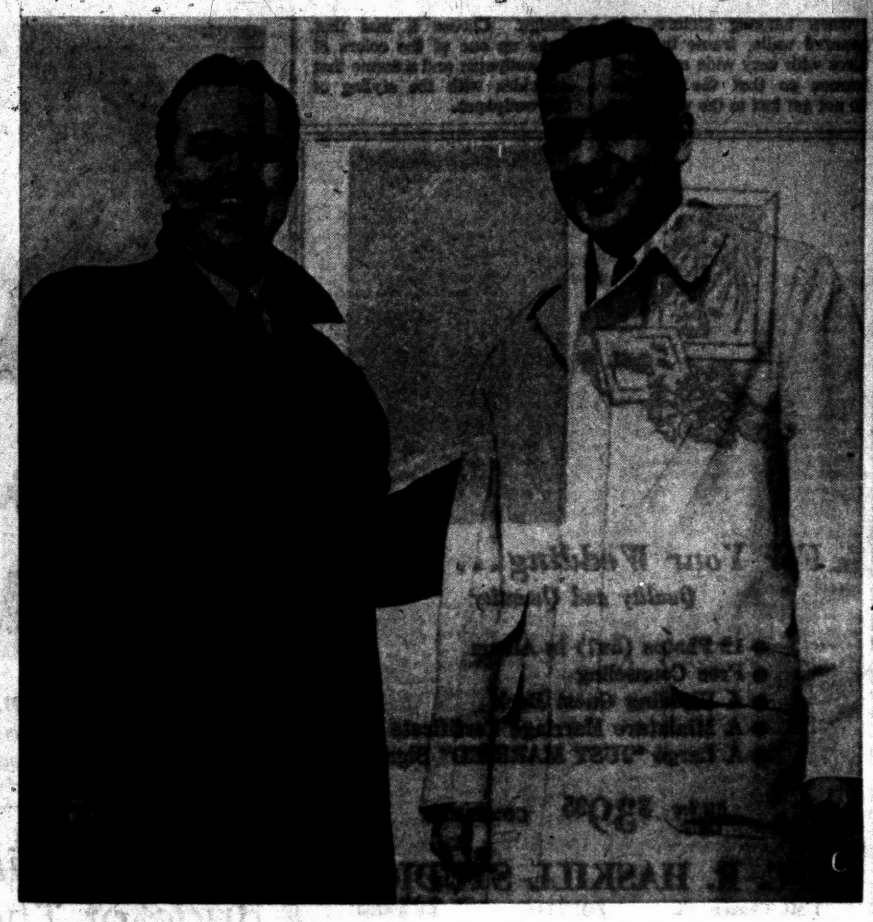

There were straws trimmed with a perky red rose in the back or a bunch of cherries. brimmed, although there were two elegant wide-brimmed straws.

The most delightful bonnets were composed entirely of flowers and fitted the head closely. There was one of blue roses, one a luscious pink, and another with an arrangement of dusty rose and gray-blue satin roses.

All in all, the Easter hats struck a gay and happy note for spring.

OK to Tell Your Hostess About Sauce

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: I spent several days at a friend's house recently. She gave a dinner party of eight one evening during my visit. Among other things, she made home-made cranberry sauce which she intended to serve with dinner that evening. However, when we were seated at the table I noticed that the cranberry sauce was not there so I said, "Mary, you forgot the cranberry sauce."

"She seemed rather fussed and went out to the kitchen to get it. I have been wondering since, where I was wrong to have said anything about it. I would appreciate your opinion on this matter."

Answer: If you knew that the cranberry sauce had turned out well, there was no reason for your not saying, "Oh Mary, you forgot that delicious cranberry sauce. Can I get it for you?"

"Dear Mrs. Post: Should house guests, staying several days in a friend's house, be expected to assist the hostess in getting meals under way or in cleaning up afterwards, or may house guests normally expect that their hosts are quite self sufficient and would not want their guests to go to any trouble?"

Answer: They should offer to help, but not insist if the hostess does not readily agree and tell them what she would like them to do.

Fancy Monocles for the Ladies

Women can go highbrow with the rise of an eyebrow. An eyewear manufacturer has come out with hand-made monocles for the ladies.

Dear Abby . . .

Guilt Brings On Nightmares but Boy Finds Way to Peace

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

"DEAR ABBY: I am 14 years old and saw a letter in your column which meant a lot to me because I used to steal, too. Nothing big, just little things from school, my friends, and sometimes a quarter from my mother's purse. I used to have nightmares about getting caught and being sent to prison. Finally I went into a church (not my own) and I got down on my knees and prayed really hard for God to give me the strength to quit stealing. I pray every night for this strength and, Abby, I haven't stolen a thing since and I know I never will again." CURED

"DEAR ABBY: We have been married 14 years and are just as happy as any other married couple. What I mean is we fight like everybody else occasionally. My big problem is that my husband can't stand my folks. They live near us and don't need an invitation to come over, so they just drop in.

"The minute they walk in my husband excuses himself and goes to a movie. He doesn't even have brains enough to say he has a "business date" or has to see a fellow about something important. When Pa says, 'Where are you going?' my numbskull says, 'To a movie.' Have you any help for me?"

NUMBSKULL'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: Your husband obviously has no regard for your parents' feelings. There is much to be said for "honesty" but sometimes a kind fib is better than a cruel truth. Let him go. He and his brutal frankness could be embarrassing company.

★ ★ ★

"DEAR ABBY: I am the mother of a teenage daughter and I understand you are, too. What, in your opinion, is a DECENT hour for a 17-year-old girl to be in on a Friday night? We have been going around and around over this question for a long time. Thank you."

MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: It all depends on WHERE she goes. A school dance sometimes doesn't end until midnight; time for a snack afterwards should be considered, also the distance they must drive. Too many mothers watch the clock only. Far more important is the fellow with whom your daughter goes. What does it profit a girl to be in a DECENT hour if she's been out with an INDECENT boy?

★ ★ ★

"DEAR ABBY: Three years ago my husband left me for another woman. We had two boys, 12 and 14. Just the ages when boys need a father. He asked me for a divorce and I said, 'Over my dead body.' He turned up this morning (after 3 years, mind you!) and announced that he has been married to another woman for two years. I never signed any divorce papers but he said he got the divorce anyway. Is this possible? If he is still my husband, how can he have two wives?"

HILDA

DEAR HILDA: He is still your husband, and if he married another woman he is probably guilty of bigamy. You need legal advice. See a lawyer.

Life Begins After 60 for Many Great Men

Think you're too old to set the world on fire? You're not. A study of 400 outstanding men in history showed 35 per cent had made their greatest achievements between 60 and 70, 23 per cent between 70 and 80, and 8 per cent when they were more than 80. In other words, 66 per cent of their greatest work was done by men past 60.

On the other hand, the most written about man in history is Christ, the second is Shakespeare, the third is Abraham Lincoln. None of them lived to be 60. Conclusion: it's what you do that counts, not the age at which you do it.

Urges More Say in County Votes

Legislator Renews His Drive to Spread Power in Political Parties

LANSING (AP)—Rep. Russell H. Strange Jr. (R-Clare) is renewing his fight to give delegates to county political conventions a say in electing county chairmen and county committees.

★ ★ ★

Though backed in state platforms of both the Democrats and Republicans, the bill has been killed twice in the last two years.

Currently, county chairmen and committees are chosen by candidates for county and legislative offices.

Strange's bill, to be introduced this week, would give candidates and delegates all a vote in making the selections at the fall county convention.

The measure would apply in all counties but Wayne. It is designed to encourage more competition and interest in precinct delegate posts.

Under the present setup, their activities are limited largely to selection of delegates to state conventions and drawing up resolutions for a state platform.

Polio Shots Required in North Carolina

RALEIGH, N. C. (AP)—North Carolina is the first state in the country with compulsory polio vaccination.

The House of Representatives voted 73-3 Friday for the measure, which was backed by Gov. Luther H. Hodges and state health authorities. The Senate passed it two weeks ago.

Under its provisions, 6-year-olds will have to have certificates of polio immunization to enter school next fall.

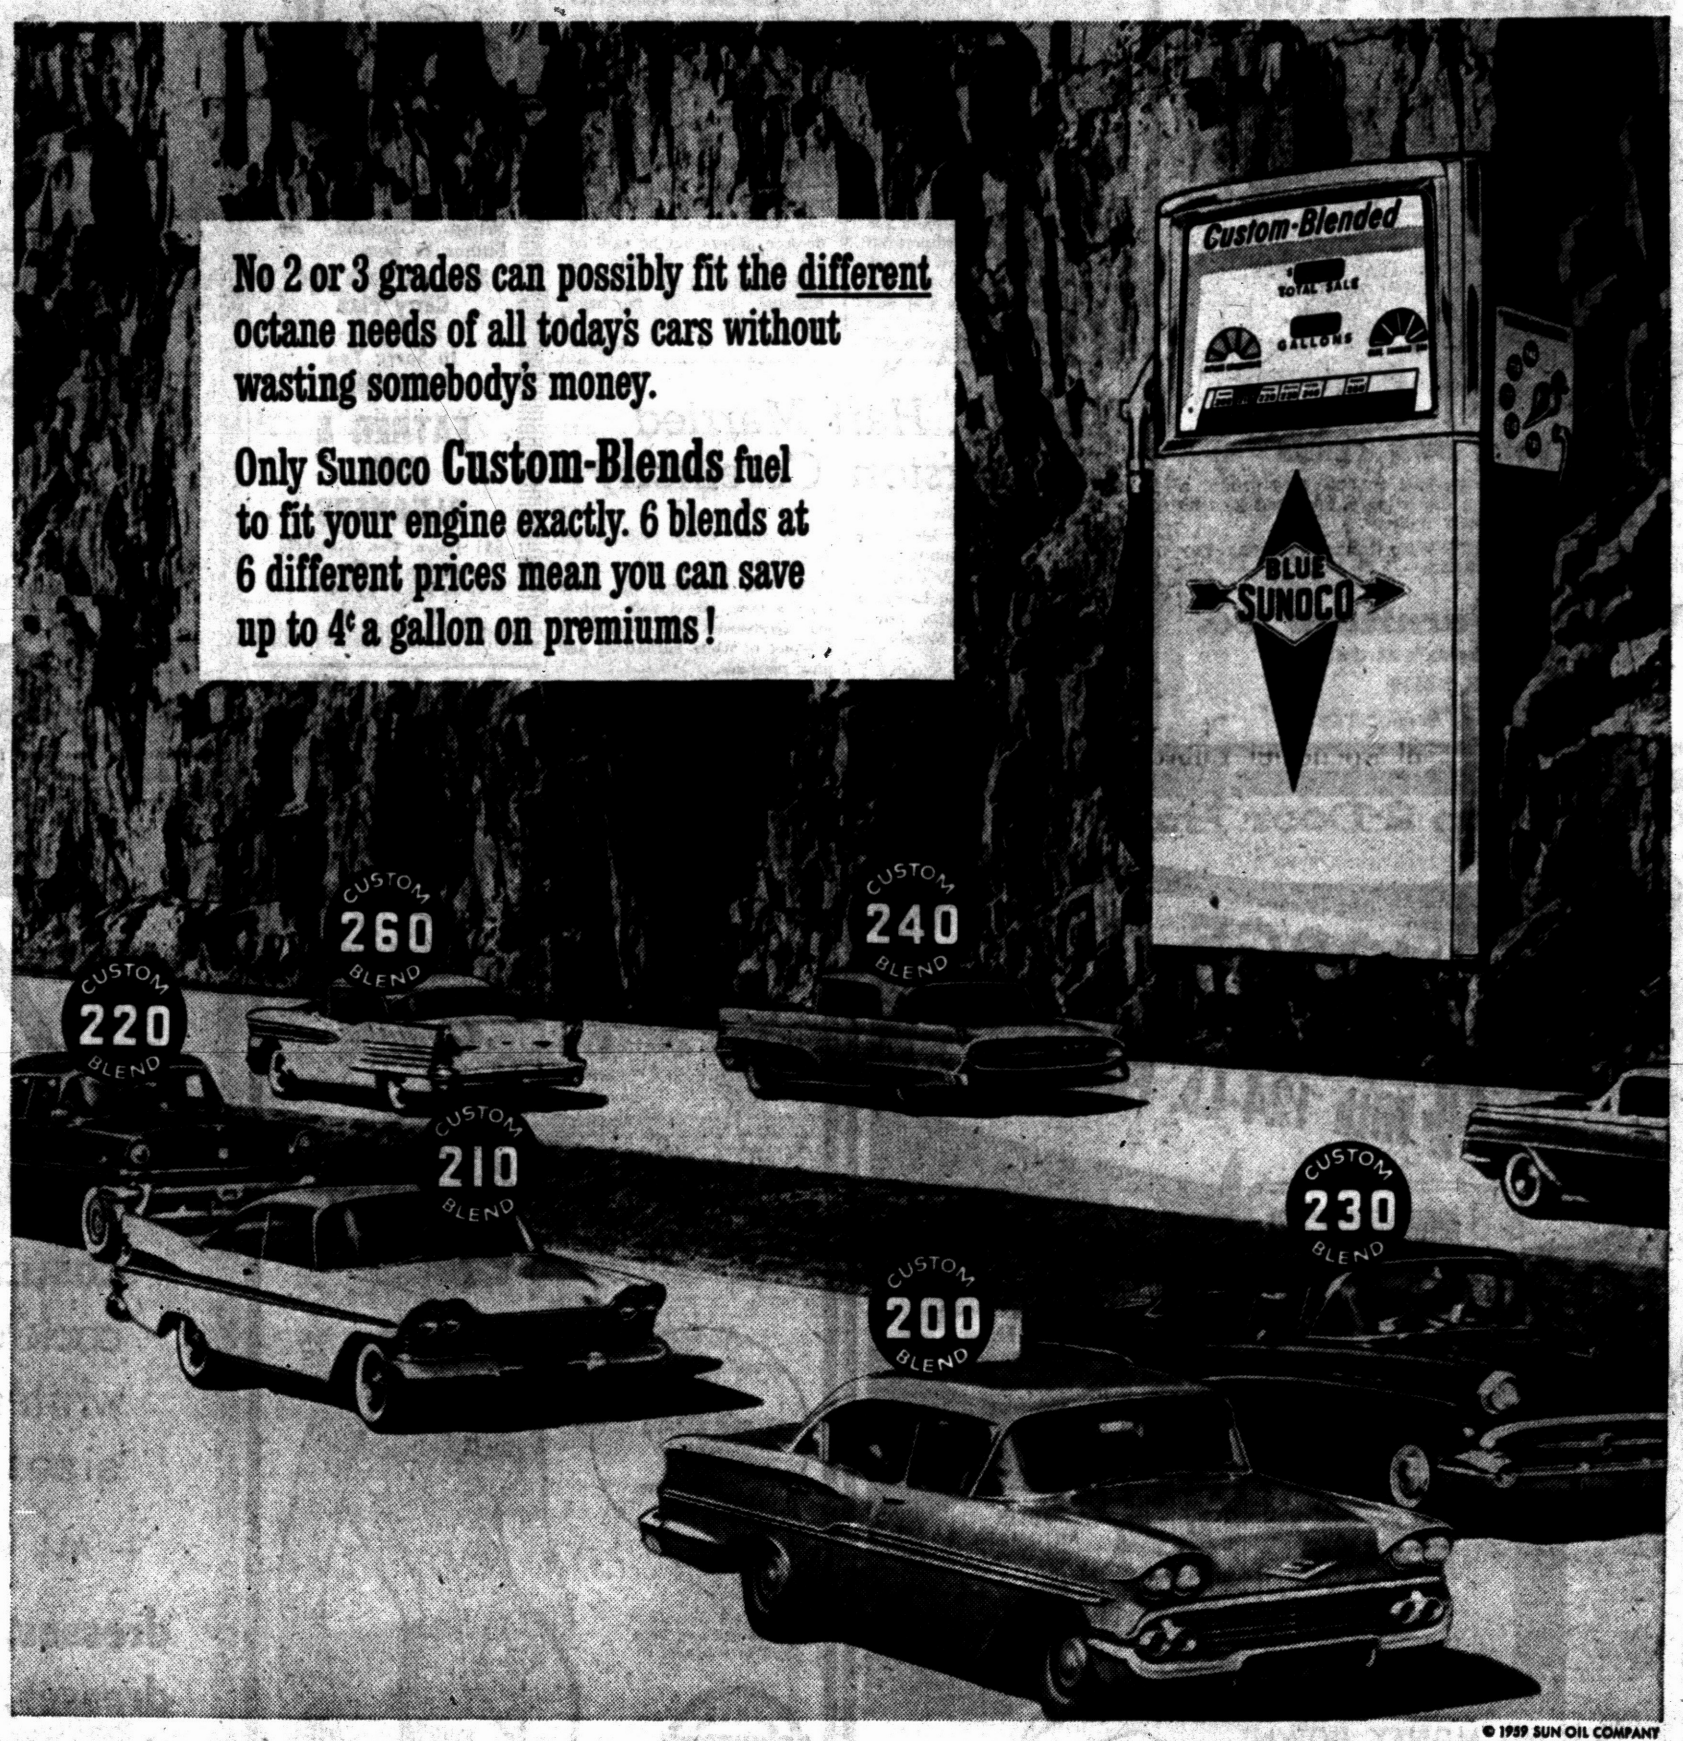

Certain exemptions are provided, including religious grounds and reasons of health that might make vaccination medically unwise.

Oak Park Seeks School Revenue

$1.9 Million Bond Issue, Millage Increase on June 8 Ballot

OAK PARK — The Board of Education here has decided to seek both a $1,900,000 bond issue and additional operating millage in the June 8 school election.

The bond issue which would be in effect for the next 29 years would finance a 100,000-square foot addition to the Clinton Elementary School, providing the district's first junior high school.

The amount of millage to be sought has not yet been determined. The three mill school tax this year and the board is waiting for further budget figures before deciding to seek renewal of the full three mills or perhaps less.

School Superintendent James N. Pepper estimates the bond issue if approved would cost the average homeowner about an additional $4.48 a year whose house has an assessed evaluation of $4,000.

When the school is completed it will hold 1,200 students. Completion would be planned for the fall of 1960.

Macomb Child Struck by Car

Father of Four Hit While Walking Along Madison Heights Road

A four-year-old boy and a father of four children were weekend traffic victims in the Oakland County area.

James W. Neblock, 4, died shortly after darting into the side of a car about 100 yards from his Macomb Township home Saturday afternoon, Romeo State Police reported today.

Oakland Highway Toll in '59

12

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Neblock, of 55670 Romeo Plank Rd., he was pronounced dead in Detroit Osteopathic Hospital where he was transferred for brain surgery from Mount Clemens General Hospital after the accident.

With the death of Carl Fletcher, 39, of 42560 Dequindre St., Utica, Madison Heights recorded its first traffic fatality in nine years.

He was struck by a car while walking on John R. street, Easter night and died three hours later, at 1 a.m. this morning in William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak.

Vincent R. Moeller, 37, of 2630 Culbertson St., Rochester, driver of the death car is being held by Madison Heights Police for investigation of negligent homicide. He was to make his statement before Assistant Prosecutor William Lang later today.

Moeller told officers he did not see Fletcher who was wearing dark clothes. Police say it was raining and slightly foggy at the time.

Moeller is married and the father of three children.

Officers Thomas Linzelle and Frank Good were driving directly behind Moeller when the accident occurred. They said he was going 35 m.p.h. in a 45 m.p.h. zone when Moeller suddenly swerved into the oncoming traffic (southbound) evidently trying to avoid hitting Fletcher. But the man was struck by the right front fender of Moeller's car.

The officers said they didn't see the pedestrian either.

Police Chief Robert E. Richardson said that Fletcher had been drinking "heavily" at a local bar where he was put out twice before trudging off down the road to his death.

★ ★ ★

Moeller admitted having a couple of drinks earlier in the evening, Richardson said, but apparently was not intoxicated when the accident happened, according to Officers Linzelle and Good.

Moeller was on his way home after visiting with his mother-in-law in Ontario. He had his wife and three children with him in the car.

Romeo State Police said the Neblock boy suddenly ran into a car driven by Raymond E. Kregar, 33, of 56690 Fairchild St., New Haven.

Kreger, who has four children of his own, told police he saw the child playing on the shoulder of the road and slowed down but was unable to get out of the boy's way when he dashed out onto the pavement. Kreger was not held.

Livestock Price Shifts Seen

Changes Also Expected in Poultry; Beef, Pork Due to Drop

EAST LANSING (UPI) — Consumers can expect some changes in livestock and poultry prices from now through April, John Ferris, Michigan State University agricultural economist, said today.

In general, beef, pork and egg prices will be down and lamb and broiler prices will show some increase, he said.

Beef prices, particularly on the higher grades, are expected to decline somewhat in April due to the record number of beef animals fattened in farm feed lots this winter.

However, the number of lower grade beef animals, particularly cows, marketed will be relatively smaller as they are being saved for fattening on summer pastures, he said.

"Pork prices are expected to decline further as spring progresses and will probably not turn up until May or June," Ferris said.

"A large number of pigs were farrowed last summer and fall. They are coming on the market now in large volume thus causing the price decrease."

Lamb prices are now tending upward from midwinter levels, he said, which is the usual time for a price increase because by April lambs fattened in winter feed lots are mostly sold and spring lambs are not usually large enough for slaughter.

Egg prices are expected to decline slightly in April because of a decline in demand. The decline comes from a seasonal decrease in use of hatching eggs and the end of the Lenten season.

If the price relationship goes to the retail store, consumers will be able to buy more eggs for their money by getting larger ones.

Wholesale ready-to-eat broiler prices in Detroit were expected to be 28-29 cents a pound which is lower than for the same period a year ago.

Government Reports Civilian Payroll Down

WASHINGTON (UP)—The sixth successive monthly decrease in the number of civilian employees on the government's payrolls was reported today.

Sen. Harry F. Byrd (D-Va.) chairman of the Senate-House Committee on Reduction of Non-essential Federal Expenditures, said the executive agencies reported that they had 2,335,224 civilian workers in February, a net reduction of 2,596 as compared with January.

He said the civilian agencies reported a rise of 3,237 in the number of their workers, while the military agencies reported the number of their civilian workers was down 5,833—enough to produce the over-all net decrease.

Byrd said the number of civilians on payrolls of the Army, Navy and Air Force was 1,078,169, while the civilian agencies reported 1,257,055.

ROCHESTER — The newly-decorated Rochester Golf and Country Club will be the setting for the first annual luncheon and fashion show, to be staged at 12:30 p. m. Thursday, by the Confraternity of Christian Mothers of St. Andrew's Catholic Church.

IMLAY CITY — Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Glassford and family, who live at 391 S. Summers Rd., here, were visiting friends in Almont Sunday afternoon when their one-story log home was gutted by fire, Imlay City Fire Chief Forest Whitkopf reported today.

The blaze was discovered by a passing motorist who turned in the alarm. Imlay City firemen battled the flames for about two hours before bringing it under control.

Cause of the fire is not yet known, and no estimate has been made of the extent of damage. The furniture and all of the Glassford's personal effects were lost in the conflagration, and only the walls remain standing today, Whitkopf said.

Heed Mothers' Advice

Charles R. Fisher, now retired and living in Beverly Hills, Calif., said he would not make any comment because he "was not going to see this thing tried in the daily press."

He said he planned to testify in the multimillion dollar suits against the company "for a congressional investigation, if there is one."

"I have no desire for publicity," Fisher added. "I don't think it would be sensible to comment at this time. All I want is to help in the action which is now in the courts."

MSU Dean Cites Agriculture Losses

Cash Crisis Damage 'Irreparable'

EAST LANSING (UP) — The dean of Michigan State University's College of Agriculture says a six-months extension of the state's fiscal fiasco will result in "irreparable damage to the university."

"We must face the facts that staff morale is at a very low ebb and this institution is rapidly deteriorating," reported Dean Tom Cowden in a letter to MSU President John A. Hannah. The letter has been made public by the university's governing board.

"I have witnessed a great deal of progress in 10 years as a faculty member," Cowden said. "However, it is my opinion that in the last six months we have lost much of the progress we made during the past 10 years."

He expressed particular concern for the plight of the young and promising staff members.

"Somehow," he said, "they have lost faith in the ability of this university to provide the environment in which they are willing to stake their future."

Cowden said defections from the staff of the Agriculture College he heads exemplify the deterioration of the entire university.

In the past six months, he added, an agricultural economist has left to join an out-of-state farm co-operative, a promising researcher has gone to the University of California, a poultry science expert has taken an industrial job, and an information services specialist has been lost to Wisconsin.

The Horticulture Department alone, Cowden continued, has lost three outstanding scientists to out-of-state universities and is about to lost a fourth.

Cowden said many of these men left because of the university's inability to provide laboratory facilities and other equipment.

The university's problems have been compounded, he added, by the adverse national publicity stemming from the state's money miseries.

Cowden noted that MSU is looking for a new Dairy Department head and added:

"I shudder to think of the consequences if our prospective department head should pick up a paper and read of payless paydays or some of the other aspersions cast on higher education."

On Ballot in Brandon

Fire Dept. Funds Proposed

BRANDON TOWNSHIP — Voters will decide whether the township will be set up as a special assessment district for fire protection when they go to the polls April 6 to elect new township officers.

The purpose of this special issue as stated on the ballot, is to raise money for the purchase and housing of fire-fighting apparatus and equipment. It also asks for approval of a tax levy not to exceed 10 mills of the assessed valuation to cover the cost of these purchases.

Another part of the proposal seeks voter support of a tax levy not to exceed 2½ mills for maintenance and operation of the department.

The millage, if the proposition passes, will be levied for one year.

The Memory Express

Trolley Fans Recall Colorful Past

BRANDSFORD, Conn. (AP)—Every weekend a tiny railroad station here comes alive with the nostalgic memories of a bygone, but not forgotten, era.

The Bera Brae station doesn't rate mention in standard railroad timetables and its 1½ miles of track won't be found on most maps. Only 10 persons can crowd inside it at one time.

OUT OF THE PAST — This open-sided trolley of another era carries pleasure passengers over the 1½ mile trackage of Bera Brae station at Brandsford, Conn. A group of trolley enthusiasts maintains a collection of 42 trolleys at the station.

The tiny station's importance is that around it are 42 trolleys in various stages of restoration.

SOME STILL OPERATE

Some were the workhorses of the trolley era, hauling our fathers and grandfathers to work in the morning and bringing them home again at night. Most of the trolleys could do the job again if they had to.

The station is located a few miles from Long Island Sound. The "Bera" stands for Brandford Electric Railway Assn., the collection of memory-builders who come on weekends to restore trolleys.

The association describes itself formally as "a non-profit, educational organization operating the Brandford Trolley Museum, exhibiting a collection of street railway equipment which is complete from the horse cars to streamliners, and inviting you to an enjoyable ride down memory lane. . . ."

VANISHED ERA

But informally, "We're just a group of guys who love trolley cars and who want to let people experience a part of America which has almost vanished," says John Stern of New Rochelle, N. Y., treasurer of the organization. On weekdays, Stern works as a mapmaker.

Among trolleys on display is No. 33, a relic of New York's Third Avenue Railway Co., which clattered through Times Square as a cable car in the 1890s.

There is No. 34, the last of its kind—a 60-year-old, open-sided Toonerville trolley which started service in Lynchburg, Va., put in a term on the New Jersey coast and still sways along the tracks in the summertime at Bera Brae.

★ ★ ★

There are trolleys that served Brooklyn and the Bronx at the beginning of the century, cars that opened or closed their sides according to the weather.

ONE IS PLUSH

No. 500 is a parlor car, built in 1904 for executives of a trolley company, and boasts of hand-carved oak panels, wicker chairs, mirrors, carpeting, a bathroom and a galley.

★ ★ ★

Most of the trolleys at Bera Brae are in running order. Every summer they roll through the farmland, along the 1½ miles of track to Short Beach carrying pleasure passengers.

Almost all the trolleys are being restored. Some are being painted to look like new; others have been stripped down to their frames and electric motors for complete rebuilding.

TIME-CONSUMING JOB

"The panels were painted cream a few years ago," he say. "One day I did some scraping and found that under the paint was beautiful mahogany."

Burchard has been working on the trolley for two years. Less than one-fourth of the cream paint has been removed, revealing the deep-mahogany finish.

"It'll take me about five or six years more to finish," he says. "This is not the type of job you want to hurry."

French Wage Purge Against Foreign Words

PARIS (UPL)—A drive is on to purge the French language of all foreign words — especially the American slang expressions which have become increasingly prevalent since World War II.

The semi-official office of French vocabulary has set April 1 as D-Day in a drive to eliminate foreign words from French speech.

The OFV, headed by Georges Duhamel of the French Academy, has asked readers to report all publications which use foreign words on that day. Although no formal punishment of the publication is contemplated, Duhamel's office will try to mobilize moral indignation against them.

A number of American expressions are in common use in France, although the fact is not apparent to the casual tourist. On a Frenchman's tongue, "gangster" becomes "gong-stair" and "budget" is "boo-jay."

The OVF is urging French newspapers to refrain from the use of such words, using the French equivalent instead — and, presumably, inventing an equivalent where none now exists.

The drive has borne some fruit in official circles. Practically all French officials now say "oleoduc" when they mean "pipeline," even though ordinary Frenchmen—more accustomed to the American term—often don't know what they're talking about.

England contributed such words as "high life" (pronounced "igg-leaf"), "weekend," "five o'clock" (meaning afternoon tea), "football" and "flirts" to the French vocabulary during the years between the great wars, and "gangster" was a well-established American import before World War II.

Since the war, the dominant foreign influence on the French language has been American. Frenchmen like to show off their linguistic talents by dropping such words as "call-girl," "pickpocket" or "brain trust" into their conversation, just as their American counterparts use expressions like "tout de suite."

Senator's Platform? Front Porch

NORTH VERNON, Ind. (AP)—Rep. Randall S. Harmon (D-Ind) visited with businessmen Sunday who are booming the congressman for president as the man "who saved the American front porch from extinction."

While here he met Mrs. Elvin Hill of Tucson, Ariz. who told him of her plans to organize a "Harmon for President Club No. 2" as soon as she gets back home.

"She keeps pestering me for the rental of our front porch. I haven't made a stand whether she is going to get any money or not."

AAU Next for Michigan Swimmers

'M' Tank Team Hailed as Best Ever in NCAA

Wolverines Set Record Number Total Points in College Meet

ITHACA, N.Y. (AP) — Mighty Michigan will send some of its bright, young stars into faster company next weekend in the National AAU swimming and diving championships at Yale.

Coach Gus Stager's Wolverines, hailed as the greatest college swimming team ever put together, will find this open meet a lot tougher than the NCAA championships. Michigan piled up a record 137½ points in overwhelming the college set in the NCAA meet last week.

Their opposition in the butterfly will include Bill Yorzyk, the Olympic champion as well as the defender in the AAU 220. Yorzyk is from Northampton, Mass.

Also waiting for the collegians is a slim, potent band of vengeance-minded Southern California Trojans headed by Olympic champions Murray Rose and John Hendricks of Australia.

The Trojans couldn't compete in the college championships at Cornell because of a one-year NCAA suspension. Southern Cal was barred from the NCAA championships because of football recruiting irregularities.

So the Trojan swimmers and divers expect to get even at New Haven. They are defending team champions in the AAU meet. Rose, who would have swept the NCAA boards on the basis of his times, will defend his AAU 220, 440 yard and 1,500 meter freestyle crowns.

Rose's competition will include a couple of Olympic opponents — George Breen of Buffalo and Michigan State's Bill Steuart.

A 22-year-old South African, Steuart retained his 440 and 1,500 titles in the NCAA meet. He was the only 1958 champion to repeat.

The third double winner in the NCAA, backstroker Frank McKinney of Indiana, is expected to sweep both the 100 and 220 at New Haven like he did last year.

Six American, eight NCAA and 10 meet marks were smashed in the college meet. Michigan won six of the 16 events and scored heavily in every event except the 440-yard freestyle en route to its third straight team title.

100-yard backstroke — Frank McKinney, Indiana, 0:56.1.
400-yard individual medley — George Harrison, Stanford, 2:06.7.
800-yard medley relay — Michigan, 3:21.6.
400-yard medley relay — Michigan, 3:46.8.
Three-meter dive — Sam Hall, Ohio State, 485.10 points.

Tebbetts Blasts Braves

By United Press International

Things are getting so tough for the Milwaukee Braves that they can't even beat the Cincinnati Reds.

The staggering Braves suffered their 13th exhibition loss in 18 games Sunday when they bowed to the Reds, 7-3.

The National League champions are having a rough spring but three factors made this a particularly humiliating defeat.

All these facts made an impression on Birdie Tebbetts, the Braves' new vice-president, and he let loose today with a blast at the Braves' "complacency" as "as one of our big problems."

Tebbetts pointed out that the only competition for jobs on the Braves is at first base and second base and he accused the other players of "taking it easy throughout spring training." He warned them then that only the wartime St. Louis Cards (1942-43-44) have been able to win three straight pennants in the last 35 years in the National League.

The Reds battered Spahn, a 22-game winner last season, for six runs, including four homers, in five innings.

Milwaukee usually masters Cincinnati simply by showing up at the park. The Braves eased their way to the last two pennants by compiling an 18-4 mark against the Reds in 1957 and a 17-5 record against them in 1958.

It was the same story when Milwaukee belted Cincinnati, 11-5, in their first 1959 exhibition clash March 15. But No. 2 came up Sunday and the Reds teed off on Spahn.

Frank Robinson, Dutch Dotterer, Johnny Temple and Pete Whisenant nicked him for homers. Robinson also homered off Joey Jay in the seventh. Cuellar allowed the Braves eight hits and two runs in the first eight innings. It was Cincinnati's fifth straight victory.

Frank Malzone, Willie Tasby, Jim Bolger and Ralph Terry were heroes and Willie Mays returned to action in other Sunday exhibitions.

Malzone's two homers sparked the Boston Red Sox to a 9-7 victory over San Francisco, but the Giants took the defeat lightly because Mays returned to the lineup for the first time since March 12.

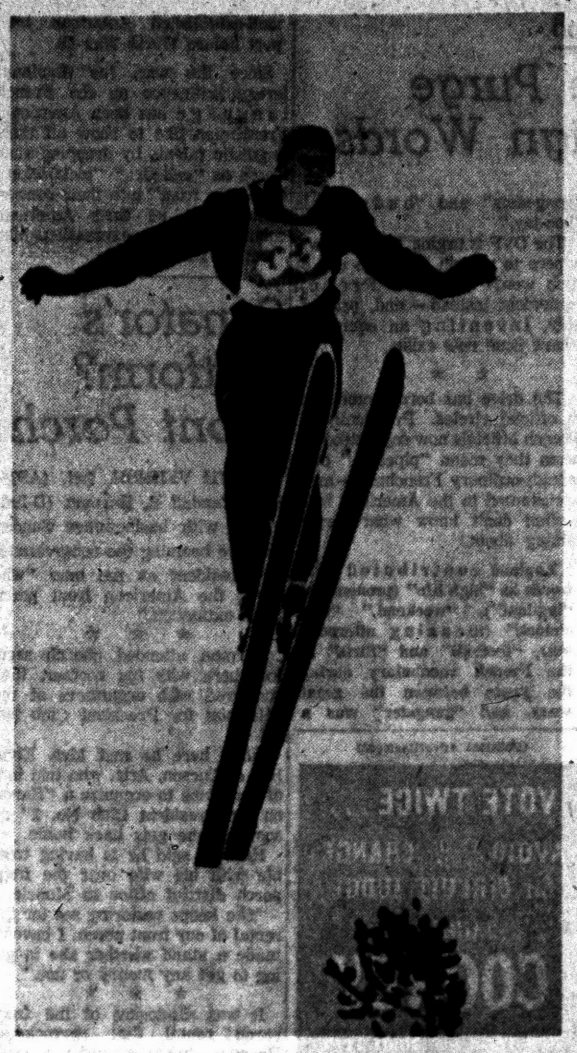

Mays, sidelined after suffering a bone-deep gash on his right leg while sliding home, tripled off Ike Delock in the first inning and slid into third to show he was fully recovered. Pumpsie Green smashed a pinch-hit homer for Boston. Eddie Bressoud, Orlando Cepeda, Jackie Brandt and Andre Rodgers homered for the Giants.

Tasby, Baltimore's rookie center fielder, hit two homers to help the Orioles edge the Pittsburgh Pirates, 6-5. His second came with two mates aboard in the seventh and won the game.

Bolger's 10th inning homer with Carroll Hardy on base gave the Cleviland Indians a 4-2 victory over the Chicago Cubs. Bolger, an ex-Cub, hit his homer off Dick Drott, who relieved Taylor Phillips in the eighth.

Terry, A right-handed pitcher for the Kansas City Athletics, won his own game with a two-run double in the fifth. The Athletics edged the Washington Senators, 3-2, in a game called after seven innings because of rain.

The White Sox cut three players yesterday while the Cubs were adding one. Hurlers Jim Derrington and Hal Trosky and shortstop Don Prohovich were the boys dropped. Young outfielder George Altman was promoted to the Cub roster after hitting .350 in exhibitions. Cletis Boyer joined the Yankee shortstop sweepstakes Sunday.

TIMBER — Art Wall Jr., from Pocono Manor, Pa., hits a nice chip shot from the woods and putted for a par-3 on the 8th hole in the third round of the Azalea Open in Wilmington, N. C. He shot one under par 71 to lead the field with a total of 209.

Montreal, Black Hawks Summon Reinforcements

By The Associated Press

The Montreal Canadiens and the Chicago Black Hawks called up reinforcements today as they joined the Boston Bruins and Toronto Maple Leafs in a day of rest before resuming the Stanley Cup playoffs Tuesday night.

★ ★ ★

The Canadiens, leading the Black Hawks 2-1 in their best-of-seven semifinals, recalled 36-year-old Ken Mosdell to fill in for injured Jean Beliveau. Mosdell, a right-winger who played 12 seasons with Montreal and part of the 1957-58 campaign with the Black Hawks, has been with the Montreal Royals of the Quebec League.

★ ★ ★

Chicago called up right-winger Ron Ingram from Buffalo of the American Hockey League, as a replacement for injured defenseman Elmer (Moose) Vasko. Vasko's trick shoulder, on which he wears a brace, popped out during Saturday night's game and he's not likely to be ready for tomorrow's game in Chicago.

Meantime, there were no reports of serious injuries by either the Bruins or the Leafs, who resume their best-of-seven set in Toronto with Boston in front 2-1.

The Hawks defeated Montreal 4-2 as the high scoring Beliveau suffered a spine injury. He has returned to Montreal for treatment and may not be available for the remainder of the playoffs. He is able to walk but is in considerable pain.

The Leafs, who dropped two straight at Boston, whipped the Bruins 3-2 with Gerry Ehman caging the winning goal at 5:02 of the sudden death overtime.

Record Tied by Jones Again

From Our Wire Services

CHICAGO — Hayes Jones of Eastern Michigan College and Pontiac, Mich., tied the American indoor record for the 2nd straight year to repeat as 60-yard hurdle champion in the Chicago Relays Saturday night.

Michigan and Central Michigan each won sections of one-mile relays. Michigan and Western Michigan finished 2-3 in the two-mile relay.

3rd Straight Cage Title

CHICAGO ((UPI)—South Chicago held the national Serbian-American basketball title for the third straight year today, an unprecedented feat. South Chicago won the championship yesterday with a 65-50 win over Youngstown, Ohio. In the Junior tournament, Gary beat Detroit, 60-47.

SVC Schools Dominate Huron Relays

PCH Takes 4th Place Behind Flint Northern and Farmington

Saginaw Valley Schools walked off with three of the four top team places in the Huron Relays held over the weekend at Eastern Michigan College with Flint Central giving indication as the power-to-beat in the league and state.

"Flint Central looks like the best in the state," said PCH coach Dean Wilson, "they are in the same position this year as we were when we had our best team in 1956 and 1957."

Top individual honors went to Farmington's Warren Cawley, who set new marks in winning both hurdles events. He broke the previous records held by Pontiac's Hayes Jones.

Birmingham's Bill Alcorn, state prep champion, won the pole vault as was expected with a record vault of 13-feet-8 inches. The Maples however placed second only in the sprint medley relay to gain other points.

Pontiac Northern got ½ of a point on Mike Fedynik's 3-way tie for 5th place in the pole vault. Fedynik cleared 11-feet, along with Bob Finely of PCH.

Mike Montgomery of PNH just missed a place in the mile run. He was passed on the last lap and came in at 5:01. Broad jumper Bob Hocking went 18 feet 7 inches and shot putter Steve Toth had a toss of 40 feet for other PNH entries.

The Chiefs failed to take a first place for the first time in the meet. Best efforts were turned in by Bill Ratcliff in the 60 yard dash finishing third; the shuttle hurdle relay and taking second and sprint medley relay team taking fourth.

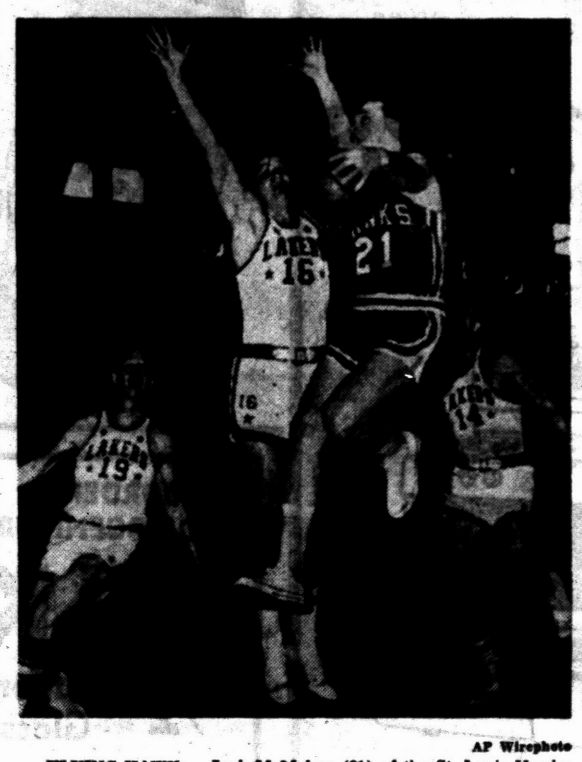

Walled Lake's Frank Fink was the lone pointmaker for the Vikings. He was 5th in the 60 yard dash and 4th in the pole vault.

U.S. Track Stars on Tour

Roll Bar Gets Safety Credit

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) —A roll bar required on racing cars this year in U.S. Auto Club competition is credited by Bob Veith of Oakland, Calif., with saving him when his speedway thpe car flipped in a practice run on the Daytona International Speedway.

The 32-pear-old driver was going down the backstretch straightaway yesterday when his Sclavi and Amos Special started spinning. Veith said a wind caught him and sent him sideways.

The car skidded about 300 yards, hit a guard rail, rode it and came off upside down, went 200 yards infield and turning upright.

Aggies Win NCAA Wrestling Crown

IOWA CITY, Iowa (UPI)—The Oklahoma State wrestling team returned to its campus today with a bright new sheen on an old hat feat—winning the NCAA wrestling championships.

Hours before the collegiate world's top wrestling tournament ended here Saturday night, the Aggies had amassed enough points in preliminary and consolation bouts to win their 21st title in 29 tournaments.

Oklahoma took third place with 41 points, followed by Iowa with 33, Pittsburgh 30, Wyoming 25, NAIA champions Mankato State 21, Lehigh 20, Michigan State 17, Minnesota 17, Yale 16, Cornell University 14 and Syracuse 13.

Hawks Eliminated

Baylor Is Lakers' Hero

By The Associated Press

There was no shoving.

Baylor earned his niche alongside the former Minneapolis great this weekend as he led the Lakers into the National Basketball Assn.'s final playoff.

It was Baylor's prolific scoring as well as his superlative defensive work that enabled Minneapolis to defeat St. Louis in two consecutive games and eliminate the defending champion Hawks 4-2 in their best-of-seven series.

Rookie Baylor, an All-America at Seattle last year, scored 36 points Saturday night — including seven of eight Minneapolis scored in overtime — as the Lakers squeezed out a 98-97 decision.

The Eastern Division semifinal playoff between Boston and Syracuse is tied at three games each with the deciding contest to be played Wednesday in Boston. The Celtics romped 129-108 at home Saturday, but the Nats squared it with a 133-121 victory Sunday at Syracuse.

The big items due to be talked over are:

The NBA governors will also set up the annual association meeting, probably in New York late next month.

Huron Relays Summary

65-YARD HIGH HURDLES — Won by Cawley, Farmington, time :07.8, bettered previous mark of :08 set by Pontiac's Hayes Jones in 1956; 2. Trumbo, Mt. Clemens; 3. Shailor, Livonia; Wright, Flint Northern; 5. Jones, Monroe.

Hospitalization Expected

Williams Awaits Treatment

BOSTON, (AP) — A discouraged Ted Williams today awaited examination and treatment for the latest ailment which ranks him as one of baseball's all time hard luck guys.

The 40-year-old Boston Red Sox batting perfectionist, who has the highest salary and biggest following in the game, arrived by plane last night from the club's Scottsdale, Ariz., training camp to clear up pains in his neck and right shoulder.

Williams was scheduled for a consultation today with Dr. Charles Fager, a neurosurgeon, who was expected to recommend hospitalization and traction treatment for the trouble which stems from a pinched nerve.

Despite his repeated triumphs on the field, Williams is experiencing still another of a long line of physical ailments which have plagued him since his World War II hitch as a Marine pilot.

"I'm all right, I'm all right," the defending American League batting king said when he left the plane at Logan Airport. "This has been bothering me for about two weeks now and been getting progressively worse. It's definitely more than muscular but I'm not worried about it."

"Why does everything happen to me?" the temperamental leftfielder asked later.

Williams explained he got relief from the pain only when he held his chin up and his head motionless. He said it produced a sharp pain when he turned his head to the right and that there are periods when he is lying down when it hurts him to breathe.

Detroit Badminton Title Bids Fail

BALTIMORE (AP)— Fourth-seeded Patsy Hitchens of Wilmington, Del., yesterday defeated little Sharon Pitrula of Detroit to capture the under-18 girls singles in the annual U.S. Junior Badminton Championships.

In the boys finals for the same age group, second-seeded Stanton Hales of Pasadena, Calif., placed his shots deftly to surprise the No. 1. seed and 1958 runnerup, Jack Keating of Detroit. The scores were 8-15, 15-11, 15-9.

Wall Has 5-Stroke Lead

WILMINGTON, N.C. (AP)—Art Wall Jr. and Mike Souchak, a couple of Pennsylvanians who played golf together at Duke University and are regarded as "home folks" in North Carolina, were the dominant figures entering today's final round of the Azalea Open tournament.

Wall was in the driver's seat with a five-stroke cushion on rounds of 72-66-71 for a 209 total, seven under par. Souchak was in second place after a pair of 72s and a 70 for 214.

They were the only players in the field to equal or better par every day, a remarkable achievement in view of the bad weather that has plagued the tournament. Strong winds have swept the 6,800-yard Cape Fer Country Club course daily. There also has been rain and bone-chilling cold.

Bob Gajda of Forest Lake has a 54-hole card of 226 and Tom Cosmos of Birmingham is at 236.

Mound Star Had Violent Temper

Colorful Johnny Allen Dies of Heart Ailment

ST. PETERSBURGH, Fla. (AP) — Hot-tempered Johnny Allen hated to lose a baseball game. And when he did, he usually blamed his teammates.

That's what many baseball men remembered about the former Major League pitcher when told he had died at his home here yesterday at the age of 53. He had been ill with a heart ailment for several months.

Allen pitched for five Major League teams between 1932 and 1944, racking up impressive records with the New York Yankees and Cleveland Indians before an All-Star game injury in 1938 affected his delivery. He finished his career with the St. Louis Browns, Brooklyn Dodgers and New York Giants.

"Once," recalls a former sports writer who knew Allen well," "he threw a tantrum in a Boston hotel corridor after losing a 1-0 game to the Red Sox' Wes Ferrell. He was with Cleveland at the time.

"He yanked down a fire hose and shot water all over the place. He kicked over a cigarette stand filled with sand and knocked over furniture. It took him a long time to cool down.

"Johnny was a very intent ball player. He never lost a game. Someone else lost it for him. That was his theory."

Allen made an impressive big league debut with the Yankees in 1932, winning 17 and losing 4. He had three more good years with the Yanks before he was traded to Cleveland before the 1936 season.

In his first years as an Indian he had a 20-10 mark. Then followed his most remarkable season. He won 15 games and lost only one, despite an appendectomy that sidelined him for six weeks at mid-season.

The loss came on his last appearance of the season when he was shooting to tie the American League record of the most consecutive victories (16).

"He lost that one, 1-0, to the Browns. And was he mad," recalls the ex-sports writer. "He blamed the third baseman for letting a ball get through."

In the 1938 All-Star game in Cincinnati, something snapped in Allen's pitching shoulder and he was never the same after that. He won only 43 games in his last eight seasons. He went to the St. Louis Browns for part of the 1941 season, then to Brooklyn until the middle of the 1943 season when he was traded to the Giants. He wound up his career the next year with 142 wins, 75 losses.

Record-Tying Shot Put May Be Recognized

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP) — Dallas Long's world record-equalling shot put of 63 feet 2 inches will be submitted for official recognition.

Easter Relays officials said all conditions were met when the 18-year-old University of Southern California giant made the throw Saturday.

The record was originally established by Parry O'Brien, former USC star. O'Brien finished third Saturday with 62-¼.

Former Trojan Rink Babka tossed the discus 190 feet 2 inches for a meet record with the third best throw of all time as USC won the team championship with 40 29-35 points.

Burnside Leading Tiger Hurler

RAINY DAY WORKOUT — Ray Narleski, Detroit Tiger pitcher, gets his workout on a rainy day by doing back bends off the training table with assistant trainer Joe Proski holding on to his feet. The Detroit-Los Angeles game was called off by rain yesterday and the teams hoped to play a doubleheader today.

Southpaw Only Bengal to Go Route So Far

Whips Cards Saturday for 3rd Win Against No Losses

LAKELAND, Fla. (UPI)—Pete Burnside couldn't make a go of it with the pitching poor San Francisco Giants, but it looks like he'll stick with the Detroit Tigers, a club supposedly rich in mound talent.

Burnside, skinny 28-year-old southpaw, has been the number one pitcher for Detroit this spring. He started five games, won three and lost none and has thrown 29 innings. He's the only Tiger to go the route.

In that span, he's had only two rough innings — one against Washington when uncertain fielding conditions played a major part, and the other was against St. Louis last Saturday. But Burnside is quick to point out that he has one big advantage.

"I pitched winter ball from October right up until a week before camp opened in Lakeland, so I was in good shape and didn't have to spend any time getting into condition. But I've pitched better this spring than any other," Burnside said.

The only thing that's kept Burnside out of the majors is control. The Tigers bought him from the Giant's Phoenix farm club last October on a conditional basis after he'd spent ten years in the National League Club's farm chain.

"The Giants gave me plenty of good opportunities and I had an excellent chance to make the club in 1957, but I just wasn't consistent," Burnside said. "I know I'm real lucky to be getting another chance and I'm certainly grateful for it."

Tiger manager Bill Norman gave Burnside a big boost Saturday in St. Petersburg. The Cardinals rapped him for two runs and had the bases loaded in the first inning but Norman made no motion to the bullpen.

"He could have yanked me, but he stuck with me," Burnside said. He went on to beat the Cards 8-4 and at one stretch retired 16 men in order. The 16th was Stan Musial who fanned weakly at a changeup pitch.

'Duster' Most Effective Weapon

Brush-Back Pitch Defended by Tigers

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — Pitchers who complain about the rabbit ball and the live bat claim the brush-back pitch is their most effective weapon.

The Detroit Tigers' Frank Lary doesn't like to discuss the controversial pitch but the records indicate he uses it about as often as any hurler in the big leagues.

Lary hit 12 batters last season for the third straight year and led the American League in that department. But he claims it's strictly accidental.

"Sure, I try to pitch guys a little tight sometimes," said Lary. "But I don't try to hit them. Sometimes a pitch gets away from a guy."

This is a favorite rainy day subject among pitchers and the Tiger moundsmen, who unlike some discuss it freely, are unanimous that they'd be lost without the duster.

"What's a guy gonna do?" asked Paul Foytack. "Those 135-pound batters are getting up there nowadays and hitting one-handed home runs. You gotta protect yourself. I think I should brush them back more than I do."

Jim Bunning, who has a knack for giving up home run balls, said: "Let's face it. The duster is here to stay. I give up a lot of home runs because I generally have the ball around the plate. But I think I'd give up fewer if I'd brush back those hitters more."

"It's a pitcher's only defense," said pitching coach Willis Hudlin, himself a long-time Major League hurler. "We teach kids in the Minor Leagues to keep the ball tight. If a pitcher doesn't do that those hungry batters will lean all over the plate and you just can't make that outside pitch good enough.

"I don't think anyone deliberately tries to hit another fellow—well, not often anyway. Our boys should pitch tighter. In fact, all pitchers should."

"You have to keep those hitters honest if you expect to make the big leagues," he explained. I wouldn't try to hit a fellow, but I don't want him wearing me out, either. They get a toe-hold, lay all over the plate — and brother, if you let them do that you're in real trouble."

Wisconsin Archer Wins Open Title; State Ace 2nd

DETROIT (UPI) — Jim Caspers, of Racine, Wis., took series of 82 and a record-setting 842 to pile up 1,668 points for the men's individual title in the Ben Pearson Open the world's largest archery tournament.

Caspers also shot a high round of 1,658 to lead the L. C. Whiffen team from Milwaukee to the team crown. A total of 6,314 points were credited to the squad consisting of Caspers, Ron Imhoff and Gordon Bentley of Milwaukee, and Bob Papley of Madison, Wis.

Top honors in the women's individual competition went to Kay Clay of Chicago. The Illinois state field and target champ scored 1,578 points out of a possible 1,728 total and was a full 30 points ahead of her nearest competition.

Pittsburgh's Carole Meinhard, former national target champion and former women's world target titlist was second in the women's division with 1,548. Third place went to Margaret Tillberry of Springfield, Ohio, with 1,483.

Only two points separated the second and third place winners in the men's division. Bob Bitner, Big Rapids, Mich., took second behind Caspers with a 1,642 total. Bob Pender, Clarendon Hills, Ill., shot 1,640 for third.

The Chicago archery team's 6,292 was good for second in team play and a four-man squad from Big Rapids, Mich., took third with 6,286. Trophies were awarded to the second and third place winners in the team competitions.

Highlighting yesterday's action was the pick of a 7-10 split by Jack Oberman of St. Louis.

There was no change Sunday in the standings of any division.

Children's champion Dave Patterson was the only repeat winner as the Union Lake Fire Department held its 5th annual bowling tourney at Cooley Lanes Saturday.

Wyandotte Hurler Sticks With Nats

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — Southpaw Jack Kralick, who has been impressive in spring training, has earned a place on the Washington Senators' pitching staff.

The 22-year-old hurler from Wyandotte, Mich., was purchased yesterday from Chattanooga — Washington's Southern Assn. farm club. Kralick has been training with the parent club and has not surrendered a run in 13 innings in four Grapefruit League appearances.

Kralick was signed by the Senators' farm system after pitching for Grand Rapids, Mich., in last summer's national semi-pro tournament at Wichita, Kan. He hurled a no-hitter and a three-hitter in the tournament.

Spring Influx at Peak This Week

Tourist Horde Rolling Into Washington

By MARTHA COLE

WASHINGTON (AP) — Even if the crocus and the forsythia weren't bursting into blossom you'd know it was springtime in Washington—the tourist season is in full bloom.

The annual spring influx of Americans to see their nation's capital started about two weeks ago and is expected to be at its peak this week.

This is the time the high school kids on their senior class trip roll into town in school buses with signs such as "Washington or Bust."

On April 7 there'll be another big influx for the traditional Cherry Blossom Festival with a torchlight parade and high school bands from many sections of the country.

The East Front of the Capitol looks like the aftermath of a bombing. The statues and the columns are gone and windows are boarded up; the front steps are gone; a bulldozer and two giant cranes are at work on a gaping hole in the project of extending the East Front.

And there are the towering statues in Statuary Hall, the shoes on their feet worn smooth by the caressing or curious hands of thousands of children through the years.

Will Rogers in bronze—Oklahoma's contribution to the hall—has the shiniest shoes in town.

Waterford Vote to Cost $3,000

Expense Will Be Same No Matter How Many Exercise Their Right

It will cost Waterford Township taxpayers more than $3,000 for the April 6 election, whether 10 or 10,000 residents go to the polls to vote, according to Clerk James E. Seeterlin.

There are six people employed in each of the 18 township precincts. They are paid a total of $1,980.

Three custodians will be paid $2.10 an hour to prepare and set up 36 voting machines, and a moving van is hired to transport the machines.

In the February primary election, 3,630 persons voted, costing the township taxpayers $1 for each vote cast. This did not include the printed ballot material furnished by the county. This expense is extracted from county taxes and subsequently paid by the voters.

More than 500 new registrations have been filed at the Clerk's Office since the November election bringing the total of registered voters to 18,800 in the township.

Deadline date for application of absentee voter ballots has been set for 2 p.m. Saturday, Seeterlin said.

Israeli Air Force Will Train Pilots for Ghana

ACCRA, Ghana (AP) — A team of Israeli air force pilots and technicians is due in Accra shortly to start a training school for Ghana pilots.

Graduates of the school will form the nucleus of a Ghana air force which is to be established in the near future.

Ghana also plans to set up its own military academy this year. Ghana army officers now are trained in Britain.

CONFLICT IN SOUTH — The story of the disintegration of an aristocratic Southern family and the crumbling of their way of life is told in William Faulkner's "The Sound and the Fury," now playing at the Oakland Theater. The CinemaScope production stars Joanne Woodward, Yul Brynner and Ethel Waters.

Tarzan's 'Jane' Phi Beta Kappa

By GENE HANDSAKER

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The 19th actress in 40 years to play Tarzan's jungle mate Jane may be the first to own a Phi Beta Kappa key.

She's in the Boston Social Register and a member of the Junior League. Her father is treasurer of the New England Mutual Life Insurance Co.

Joanna Barnes says that in Smith College, from which she was graduated in 1956 with her key for scholarship, she decided: "I didn't want to spend my life driving a station wagon with two children to meet the 5:18."

Many wives who meet their husbands on the 5:18 may think swinging through the jungle with Tarzan isn't much improvement.

★ ★ ★

Miss Barnes, who has appeared on TV's "Ford Theater," "Playhouse 90," "Cheyenne," "Matinee Theater," "Maverick" and in five movies including "The Garment Jungle" and "Auntie Mame," sees it as another acting break.

"It should be quite good for me. My other roles have had a drawingroom quality. It's only one picture, not a series, so there's no danger of typing."

★ ★ ★

Joanna follows Maureen O'Sullivan, Eleanor Holm, Brenda Joyce, Vanessa Brown, Vera Miles, and others in the role. Her Tarzan in "Tarzan the Ape Man" will be Denny Miller, former UCLA basketball player.

Where's Heston Going? Back to MGM for 'Wreck'

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD—There have been so many rumors as to where Charlton Heston is going now that he has finished "Ben Hur," which took a year, I will give you his definite plans.

★ ★ ★

Last week Charlton was on the Paramount lot to discuss "Summer and Smoke" with Hal Wallis. This won't start until late summer when Jean Simmons is free, and so far no definite commitment has been made.

Tuesday, President Eisenhower will see "Pork Chop Hill," the motion picture Gregory Peck and Sy Bartlett made.

The picture tells a story of the last battle of the cold Korean War on Pork Chop Hill, where out of 135 men only 23 survived. If, says Sy, our boys fought to save a hill, which meant nothing to them, they certainly are not going to let Russia have Berlin.

I have seen a truly great picture —"The Diary of Anne Frank" which is made true, tragic and at times even humorous by that artist George Stevens, whose creative ability is second to none.

Millie Perkins, slim, big-eyed little girl who plays Anne Frank and is seldom off the screen, is a pupil of whom George can well be proud. This is her first screen appearance, I don't know when any beginner has equaled her fine performance.

Millie has the brilliant company of Joseph Schildkraut, a player of many years experience, as her father; Shelley Winters, a very human Mrs. Van Daan, and Ed Wynn with his wonderful flair for comedy, as the bachelor dentist.

After looking at her, Manulis has extended her commitments to 20 in the "Five Fingers" series.

★ ★ ★

She has leased herself a house in Laurel Canyon and is now busy furnishing it when she isn't stepping out with the Hollywood swains.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Over at Columbia they are saying that Ben Gage's performance in "The Hero" gives the screen a brand new actor.

A two car collision on Silverbell road at Kern road, Orion Township, Sunday sent two Birmingham residents to Pontiac General Hospital with head and leg injuries.

George N. Bliss, 39, of 1871 Villa St., was reported in fair condition today with a broken right leg. His wife, Ellie, 36, was treated and released, said Oakland County Sheriff's Deputies.

Soybeans Move, Wheat Hits High

CHICAGO (AP) — Soybeans and the feed grains were in good demand today in early board of trade transactions and moved up rapidly within the first few minutes before encountering freer offerings.

May wheat went to a new high for the season, but only for a few moments.

The most active demand appeared to be reinstatement of some positions that had been liquidated for the long Easter weekend. Export business was limited to only one cargo of soybeans, bought by Israel.

Wheat was ⅛ to ¾ cent a bushel higher after about an hour, May $2.10⅛; corn ¾ to ⅞ higher, May $1.21; oats ⅛ to ¾ higher, May 67¼. rye unchanged to ⅝ higher, May $1.42¾; soybeans ¼ to 2⅛ higher, May $2.25⅛.

A gradual gain of about 15 cents a bushel for May wheat over the past two months has encouraged moderate country selling of wheat at times in a few areas but Chicago commercial stocks are estimated by a few commission houses, at about equal to requirements for the remainder of the crop year ending July 1.

May Be First 'Man' on Moon

Robot Can Twirl a Hula

SCHENECTADY, N.Y. (AP) — A machine resembling a science-fiction robot is taking its bows here and the General Electric Co. says "Handyman" may be the first "man" on the moon.

"Handyman" is a mechanical slave consisting of two arms that have a nine-foot reach from fingertip to fingertip. It responds to a human operator through an intricate electric-hydraulic system.

★ ★ ★

GE said the machine could be operated by remote control over many thousands of miles—with the machine on the moon and its human operator on earth, for instance.

"Handyman" was designed to serve as a master mechanic on an atomic aircraft power plant and to work in radioactive areas where man cannot exist.

It is the first robot that can simulate the clutching action of the human hand, GE said, and can hammer a nail into a board, unscrew a bolt or twirl a hula hoop.

The unit also can be equipped with a 3D closed circuit television for eyes, GE said.

Coin Dealer, Secretary Die

Numismatist Murders Aide, Takes Own Life at Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Police sought today to pin down the motive for the fatal shooting of a young dealer in rare coins and his attractive blonde secretary.

Homicide detectives said Robert Sommers, 26, pumped six bullets into Miss Eleanor Spuhler, 26-year-old divorcee, then fired a single shot into his head Sunday.

Both died a short time later in Mercy Hospital.

Drowns in Icy Lake

YPSILANTI (AP)—Ralph Culpepper 32, of Taylor Township, drowned Saturday night when he fell through ice while crossing Mud Lake about 10 miles north of here. Culpepper was hunting racoons with two companions when he attempted to cross the two-inch ice sheet to reach his dog who had just chased a raccoon up a tree.

Cabin Fire Kills Man

ST. IGNACE (AP)—The body of George Pond, 65, was found yesterday in his burned out cabin here. Firemen said Pond, a garbage collector, apparently died in a fire set off by an overheated kitchen stove.

CAT BANGS KNOCKER—"Bodine," a year old tomcat of John Hamilton of Philadelphia, Pa. stands on the sash bar of the storm door where he pulls the knocker away and lets it fall until someone lets him in. It all began after a pane in the storm door was broken. Bodine began jumping up on the sash bar and using the knocker.

Air Force Drops Quota for Aviation Cadet School

The Pontiac Air Force Recruiting Station, at 53½ W. Huron St., has temporarily eliminated all quota limitations for avaton cadet training.

According to T. Sgt. Charles A. Ahnen, local Air Force representative, the unlimited quota assignment will remain in effect through June.

The restriction has previously been placed on the number of applicants for this specialized training. The increase was made possible because many of the pilots and navigators on active duty are World War II veterans and will be retiring in the next few years.

Contrary to popular belief, it is not mandatory that applicants have a minimum of two years of college. Although entrance requirements are rigid, physically and mentally, a considerable number of high school graduates are qualifying, said Sgt. Ahnen.

Persons qualifying will be commissioned as second lieutenants after approximately 13 months training. An officer of this rank who is on flying status and residing at a military reservation receives $438.58 a month. Pilot classes begin every six weeks with navigator classes starting every two weeks.

Ahnens pointed out that many young men shy away from the Air Force since guided missiles have taken the place of many forms of manned aircraft.

"It is far more reasonable to believe that the unmanned missile is a transistory stage between manned airplanes and manned space craft. Therefore the future of a pilot or navigator has greater scope than ever before," he said.

Kinross to Get SAC Jet Unit

Bombers and Tankers, 1,500 Airmen, Officers to Arrive Shortly

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP) — The Air Force announced today that the Strategic Air Command soon will base jet bombers and KC135 jet tankers at Kinross Air Force Base near here.

The Air Force did not divulge the exact arrival date of the SAC unit which will include 1,500 airmen and officers. It said the arrival will be spread over a period of about three to six months.

The SAC unit will be a strategic wing under an air division and the Second Air Force, commanded by Maj. Gen. J. P. McDonnell.

SAC's mission at Kinross will be to contribute to the global deterrent capability, the Air Force said. It will not be a training unit. The jets will average from 120 to 180 landings a month at the Upper Peninsula base, the Air Force announced.

Met Soprano, Ill, Collapses While on Stage

NEW YORK (AP) — Soprano Zinka Milanov, who disregarded doctor's orders not to sing in Verdi's "Messa da Requiem" Sunday night, collapsed on the stage of the Metropolitan Opera House.

The house physician, Dr. Adrian Zorgniotti, said Miss Milanov had been suffering for a week from bronchitis and influenza. She had been forced to cancel a matinee appearance on Good Friday. He said she might be well enough to sing in her next scheduled Metropolitan performance, as Tosca on April 2.

Hostesses Ordered: No Eye Shadow, Nail Polish

British Airlines Ban 'Unwashed' Look

LONDON (UPI)—The state owned British European Airways was feuding again today with its ground hostesses.

An order was handed down to the girls to lay off eye shadow and nail polish because it makes them look "unwashed."

The last time BEA took issue with the girls came when the wife of the company director said the girls looked "dowdy" because their hemlines were too long. The dresses since have been shortened.

Her words trailed off as she turned to smile through her eye-shadow at a customer and offer her services. She was wearing red nail polish and she definitely did not look unwashed.

Section leaders already have censured three girls for dipping too deeply into their vanity boxes and cosmetics. One girl said they were told the company soon would publish a full report on just how the smart ground hostess should look.

A company officials said there was no new ruling on makeup but he said a long-standing company rule forbade the ground staff to use eye shadow or nail polish.

He said the ruling was introduced because the makeup made the girls look "unwashed," but he declined to single out any of the great unwashed for specific comment.

"As usual," another said, "someone has gone the wrong way about this. If we saw one of the girls looking like a clown we would advise her gently not to use quite so much makeup. Now someone wants to make an issue of the whole thing."

Said a BEA pilot: "Oh, my. Here we go again."

Probe Neglect by Area Parents

Couple Due in Court to Tell Why 8 Children Were in Rags

Robert and Cordelia Courtney of Royal Oak will appear before Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore tomorrow to tell why police found their eight children dressed in rags, undernourished, and living in an untidy home.

The children, ranging in age from 2 to 12, have been in the Oakland County Children's Home since Royal Oak police launched an investigation into the death of a ninth and youngest Courtney child, Barbara, age seven months.

James W. Hunt, director of Children Services for Oakland County, said the Juvenile Court holds a neglect complaint against the parents.

Judge Moore, Hunt said, will determine whether the eight children should be returned to their parents or made wards of the court.

Barbara Courtney died earlier this month from what a deputy coroner termed an infection apparently brought on by a severe diaper rash. The child also showed evidence of dehydration, Dr. Thomas S. McInerney said.

TV News and Reviews

By WILLIAM EWALD

NEW YORK (UPI)—The show, of course, must go on — though why I couldn't say.

Yesterday, Mary Martin, who has been virus-bugged and abroil with 103 degree fever since Thursday, bounced on with not one, but count 'em, two NBC-TV specials.

To complicate matters, 36 members of her cast and crew also were be-bugged and the situation was so serious that:

1. NBC was spending $60 a day on medicine for the afflicted.
2. Miss Martin's understudy, Beryl Tobin, was standing by at showtime.
3. Director Vincent Donehue had to work in a facial mask to ward off the assembled diseases.

The trouble was well worth it. Both specials — the daytime "Magic with Mary Martin" and the nighttime "Music with Mary Martin" — were slickly packaged and were, I'm sure, a joy to all of Miss Martin's fans.

Miss Martin, I must admit, is one of my lesser enthusiasms — her excessive coyness and continual cheer erode my nerve ends — but she has reached holy status by now and along with mother, flag and Albert Schweitzer is invulnerable to criticism.

However, I can sense her attraction for others: she has vast resources of energy, tries hard to please and goes to some pains to honeycomb her main bocher elegance with Sears Roebuck homespunness.

"The Human Comedy," presented Saturday on CBS-TV's Du Pont Show of the Month, was standard William Saroyan — an upsetting mixture of the charming and the banal.

Some of its parts had glisten: The exchanges between Thomas Grogan, the telegrapher, and Michael Pollard, the boy; a scene in a schoolroom; a scene in which the boy receives a letter from his soldier-brother. But an uncomfortable amount of ooze also sluiced through the show: Jo Van Fleet, a fine actress, was saddled with some incredibly trite lines. So was Burgess Meredith, who acted as narrator, a tedious device in itself.

SHORT SHOTS: The portions of "Power Among Men," a film offered on NBC-TV's omnibus, that dealt with the transformation of a Haitian village were stunning — too bad there wasn't enough time for the entire movie . . . NBC-TV's "Hawaii — Pacific Miracle" was a solid and absorbing hour . . . I watched the special hour rodeo offered on CBS-TV Saturday, but find myself unable to form any kind of opinion about it — who can be either for or against cows?

Sheriff Seizes Liquor License

Takes It From Motel Third Time Despite OK of State Commission

CASEVILLE (AP)—The nearby Bella Vista motel had its liquor license seized by the sheriff this weekend for the third time.

Huron County Sheriff Merritt R. McBride, who disapproved issuance of the license originally, seized it Saturday. He contended there were two similar liquor licenses within one and a half miles of the motel.

The state Liquor Control Commission ordered the license returned the two previous times McBride took it. Saturday, it sent the motel a telegram authorizing it to continue selling liquor.

The sheriff has been warned by the Commission not to take the license from the motel and said he was acting illegally if he did so.

McBride said he would welcome legal action by the Commission in order to start a test case.

Farmer's Tough Eggs Win Cracking Contest

PETERS HOLLOW, Tenn. (UPI)—Folks here are just about ready to concede that farmer Ray Lowe has chickens that lay the toughest eggs in town.

Lowe, 53, won Peters Hollow's annual Easter egg fight yesterday for the third time in the last four years. He had the only uncracked egg left after 200 "contestants" bashed eggs against each other.

Clyde Beatty Wants to Be Television Star

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Thirty years ago—in 1929—Clyde Beatty came out of Ohio with chair, whip and blank pistol, to star at the Ringling Circus at Madison Square Garden as the fearless lion-tamer.

WILSON

Fifty hospital visits and several hundred stitches later, he sat in Sardi's the other morning—hoping to become a TV star.

Boyish looking, tough, scarred from a tangle with a lion in Detroit, he mentioned his opening at Palisades, a projected "Adventureland" near Disneyland —but mostly a filmed TV show he'll start here with Hollywood director Leroy Printz.

"Funny thing," he said, "a dozen old movies of mine are on TV now. I bought animals with the money I got and sold them to a guy who never paid me, so I made the movies for nothing."

"I got him up to $200 a week," grinned Clyde. "That was when I liked to go in the cage with those cats for free!"

Clyde's got a son, "Clydie," 7, living in Hollywood, who wants to be a lion-tamer when he grows up, but Clyde's sure Clydie's mom, (the former Jane Abel, singing comedienne from San Antonio) is going to say "No."

Just to show you how long Clyde's been around: The columnist who showed him around New York when he first arrived here was O. O. McIntyre. Clyde later played Gallipolis, McIntyre's home town, for sentimental reasons.

★ ★ ★

Liz Taylor and Eddie Fisher'll get married in Spain when Liz is there to do Mike Todd Jr's smellorama, and will stay in Europe for many months—until the California divorce is final. That's the latest rumor. Debbie Reynolds reportedly got the right to buy a load of new clothes in her settlement and is amassing the greatest wardrobe yet—as what gal wouldn't?

★ ★ ★

A tipping husband who's been on a three-day drunk returned home with the best alibi yet. He greeted his irate wife (as Dennis Shea of Pittsburgh tells it), "DARLING—I hope you didn't pay the ransome—I escaped!"

★ ★ ★

French Claim Death of Algerian Leader

ALGIERS, (AP) — The French claim their paratroopers have killed one of the Algerian rebels' leading fighters, 33-year-old Col. Amirouche.

Gen. Maurice Challe, the top French commander in Algeria, personally announced that Amirouche was among 71 rebels found dead after a battle Saturday in the mouptains of Zamer, in western Algeria.

The French said 136 rebels were killed and 62 captured in the action. As usual, French losses were not announced.

Waterford General Fund Balance Totals $170,270

As Waterford Township's fiscal year comes to an end Tuesday, the clerk's annual statement of finances shows a balance of $170,270 in the general fund, as compared to last year's $94,545 balance.

The largest amount of money received by the township was approximately $180,000 from state sales tax. Another $115,000 came from current and delinquent tax collections.

Liquor licenses and intangible tax colections netted the township $50,847. Next highest was $16,600 for building permits and violations.

The largest individual cash fund disbursement for one department, was $57,566 for operation and maintenance of the township's three fire stations. Full time firemen received $37,032 in salaries with $16,289 paid into the Volunteer Fire Fighters Assn. for calls it answered.

The Township Police Department received $55,177 with $45,557 earmarked for salaries and the balance for department operating costs.

Township operation, capital assets and other expenditures totaled approximately $70,000, and some $46,000 was disbursed for township cemeteries, dump maintenance, street lighting and to the highway department.

Approximately $10,500 went into the Township Recreation Department program. The Board of Education and the township divide this cost equally.

Total building, electrical and engineering costs were some $22,000, and township hall maintenance and three elections cost residents about $17,000.

All special assessment districts were compiled individually and are available for inspection at the clerk's office, Seeterlin said.

Unable to Recover Body of Man From Crevice

CASTLETON, England (UPI) — Fifty volunteers tried but failed yesterday to recover the body of Oxford student Neil Moss from a narrow rock crevice 1,000 feet below the surface of the earth.

They finally had to fill the crevice with rocks and rubble, sealing the body in the shaft into which Moss fell last Tuesday. Rescue efforts failed to free Moss and he died in the crevice.

MOSCOW, (AP) — An American ice show won enthusiastic acclaim at a rehearsal preview Sunday assuring the success of its 40-day engagement in the Soviet Union.

Yuri Zavadski, noted Soviet theater manager, said the performance was "technically brilliant." The troupe's regular engagement in the Lenin Sports Stadium opens tonight.

The cost is small. Only $8.50 a month. But you must act now. Mail your application today. The present enrollment period is for a limited time only.

Policy good in any regular hospital, convalescent or nursing home anywhere in the world. Naturally, your policy does not provide benefits for treatment in any place used primarily as a clinic, rest home or health resort. In relation to this, services provided or paid for by the United States Government or any state or county tuberculosis, or mental institutions, are not covered since such services are normally provided without cost.

Covers both illness and accidents except those caused by war or covered by Workmen's Compensation or Employer's Liability Laws; alcoholism or drug addiction.

There is no limit to the number of times you may collect benefits for each hospital confinement due to a different accident or sickness. If confined more than once for the same or related cause within a 6-month period, any benefits not used during the first confinement may be used for the second; however, benefits for hospital "extras" are payable only while you are eligible for hospital room benefits. When confinements are separated by 6 months or more full benefits start over again.

Pays in addition to other insurance. You can carry any additional insurance you want and still receive Senior Security Benefits. The only restriction is that you can have just one Senior Security Policy.

10 DAY MONEY BACK GUARANTEE

When you receive your policy, examine it. Examine the information sent with it. If you decide for any reason that you do not want to continue with it, return your policy within ten days and your $8.50 will be quickly and cheerfully refunded
