House Approves Turnpike Curb; Bill Faces Veto

MTA Spokesman Claims Outlet Roads Planned to Protect Property

LANSING (AP)—The House today passed a bill giving cities and villages "veto power" over the route of the proposed Flat Rock-Saginaw turnpike.

The vote was 58-36. It now goes to the senate for action there.

Supporters of the turnpike claimed that the bill would kill the project.

At the same time Gov. Williams hinted he may veto the measure.

Rep. Richard D. Van Dusen (R-Birmingham) fought to eliminate the veto power and allow local units instead to appeal grievances over the turnpike route to the state administrative board.

"It's up to us to provide an outlet road where residents would be isolated by construction of the proposed Rockwood-Saginaw toll road," Michigan Turnpike Authority Publicity Director Leonard Schramm said today.

Many persons owning property which would be cut in two by the projected route fear their homes will be cut off from roads they now travel in transacting daily business, he explained.

"We don't intend to leave any home high and dry with no road in and out. Where the turnpike would do this, it will be up to us to provide a private route in to the home."

Under the turnpike act, roads belonging to the county can't be altered without county road commission approval, he added.

In purchase of right-of-way, damages will be paid in excess of the actual right-of-way cost where value of the remaining property is impaired, said Schramm.

The authority is not limited to just buying right-of-way and in instances where value of remaining land would be completely ruined the whole piece may be purchased, he explained.

The toll road group would attempt, in certain cases, to work out a deal between neighbors for a shift in the combination of land areas which would satisfy both owners.

"We intend to pay the price the property is valued at by appraisers acceptable in court," Schramm said.

Schramm said Pontiac Mayor William W. Donaldson and County Road Commission Chief Engineer Leon V. Belknap have been invited to arrange a meeting here at which authority officials would answer questions on land acquisition procedures and the route line.

"We would show the route in detail and receive all criticisms and suggestions for study and possibly make corrections based on them."

"We can answer questions about individual pieces of property which often show people they are not as immediately involved as they thought they would be. Anyone wishing to come to our headquarters in Ann Arbor and talk over the situation is entirely welcome."

Wins 73 to 13 Victory in Senate

Foreign Trade Bill Gives Ike Power to Cut Tariffs

WASHINGTON (AP)—A 73-13 Senate victory for President Eisenhower's foreign trade bill today assured him of the first new tariff-cutting powers granted a chief executive in 10 years.

The bill, passed by the Senate last night, now goes to conference with the House to resolve differences. But the two versions both contain the key provisions sought by the President.

Thus he is assured of a three-year extension of the Reciprocal Trade Act to June 30, 1958, plus new authority to reduce tariffs in LANSING (INS)—The House of Representatives in Lansing today passed a bill which provides $2 million for Salk anti-polio vaccine for 1,250,000 Michigan children 10 years and under. The measure was passed by a unanimous vote 104-0 and sent to the Senate.

LOS ANGELES (INS)—A yellow alert, the warning for "probable enemy aircraft in the vicinity," was flashed to civil defense offices throughout Southern California for a six-minute period today.

The "all clear" came six minutes later but the sheriff's office said the alert was not a test. And in San Francisco a yellow alert on the bell and light warning system was flashed in nine San Francisco bay area counties today and great confusion developed. The "all clear" came five minutes later.

31 Billion for Defense

House Group Approves Military Manpower Cuts

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Appropriations Committee today approved the administration's planned military manpower cuts and voted $31,488,206,000 in new defense funds.

It promised additional funds in a hurry "in the event of drastically worsened world conditions."

State Hospital Funds in Sight

$250,000 Will Finance New Service Building and Generator

The state Senate Appropriations Committee yesterday recommended a $250,000 allotment to Pontiac State Hospital for purchase of a new generator and preparation of plans for a new service building.

The committee also took the first step toward construction of a new mental hospital, possibly in Southeastern Michigan.

The local institution hopes to purchase a $192,000 generator to take the load off the present two machines which are becoming inadequate, said Dr. Ivan A. LaCore, medical superintendent.

The remaining $58,000 would be used to prepare for construction of a new service building. The present service facilities are some 65 years old, the doctor explained.

The new building would be used as a storehouse and include headquarters for the maintenance department plus its stock of materials.

The committee yesterday introduced a bill calling for a total of $227,500 appropriation from the nearly-exhausted hospital bond issue fund for mental hospital construction—and included $25,000 to make surveys for a new hospital.

Unemployment in Michigan Drops 23,000

DETROIT (AP)—The number of unemployed dropped 23,000 in Michigan in the month ended April 15, the Michigan Employment Security Commission reported today.

Despite the drop, 97,000 persons were listed as unemployed. But this represents only 3.5 per cent of the state's available labor force.

Statewide employment was reported as 2,537,000, including 1,441,000 in the Detroit area. Of the unemployed 48,000 were reported in the Detroit area.

The MESC reported that it placed 44,097 in jobs in the month ended April 15, but there were 21,997 new applications filed for unemployment compensation in the period.

Hot Spell Ends, Spring Returns

Fair weather and spring-like breezes are forecast for tonight and tomorrow after two days of unseasonable scorching heat.

Yesterday's high of 87 degrees failed to crack the high mark of 89 for the date which was set in 1949. But it was more than twice the high of last May 4, when the mercury reached only 42.

Cooler temperatures are seen for tonight, with a low of 46-50. Tomorrow's high is expected to be 76-80.

A cold front which moved into the area shortly after 4 p.m. yesterday broke the hot spell and tumbled the mercury from 84 degrees to 68 degrees in less than an hour.

A fraction of an inch of rain accompanied the cool air.

Subject to House action next week, the bill approved by the 50-man committee provides $741,600,000 less new money than President Eisenhower requested, but much of the cut was more technical than real.

Fruehauf Buys Hutchinson's Coach Plant

Detroit Trailer Firm Brings 500 More Jobs to Pontiac Area

Fruehauf Trailer Co. of Detroit, yesterday announced purchase of the Pontiac Coach Co.'s quarter-million-square-foot Williams Lake road plant for an undisclosed sum.

Approximately 500 workers will be employed at the plant, a Fruehauf spokesman said today.

The spokesman said production is expected to begin within 60 days after May 15, when Fruehauf will begin moving in manufacturing equipment.

Robert L. Hutchinson, Pontiac Coach Co. secretary-treasurer, said his company is now in the process of returning operations to its original plant on Dixie Highway in Drayton Plains.

He said the deal for the $2½ million plant on Williams Lake road west of Dixie highway was approved by the Pontiac Coach board of directors last week.

The transaction was sanctioned by the Fruehauf board yesterday afternoon.

Hutchinson said negotiations with Fruehauf began a little over a month ago, just before the death of Leslie Hutchinson, founder of the coach company.

It had been known that the coach firm had been trying to sell the plant for some time. The company moved onto the 42-acre site a year and a half ago.

Hutchinson said several other companies had been dickering for purchase of the plant.

The Fruehauf spokesman said present plans call for the plant to be used primarily to manufacture automobile hauling trailers "and other types of vans particularly suited to the production of the area."

"The plant is in the heart of the auto producing section and is ideally situated for production of auto hauling trailers," he said.

He said the company would move its haulway trailer manufacturing operations to the plant from its factory at Fort Wayne, Ind.

He said the purchase was the

Quemoy Area Plastered Heavily by Commie Guns

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Communist artillery plastered the Quemoy area today with one of the heaviest barrages in eight months, the Nationalist Defense Ministry reported.

An announcement said Red batteries in the Communist port of Amoy fired more than 150 rounds at Little Quemoy, second largest Nationalist offshore island. Little Quemoy is but four miles from Amoy.

The ministry was awaiting further details.

The vest pocket war on the offshore island front appeared to be rising in tempo.

Nationalist quarters reported an intensification of air base construction near the Matsus and charged the Communist countries in East Asia are forming a unified military command in Peiping to launch simultaneous attacks on Formosa, South Viet Nam and South Korea.

Atom Blast Churns Earth in Nevada

SECOND AFTER ZERO — A second after an atomic device, more than 1½ times as powerful as the bombs which devastated Hiroshima and Nagasaki, was detonated atop a 500-foot tower at dawn today, this churning fireball tore at the earth and sucked up clouds of dirt from the desert floor at Survival City, Nevada. News pictures were made from a distance of eight miles with a 36-inch lens.

Within five years, West Germany is expected to field an army, navy and air force totaling 500,000 men—the largest Western armed force on the Iron Curtain frontier. Twelve divisions numbering 400,000 men trained in atomic warfare, a jet air force of 80,000 men and 1,300 planes and a coastal navy of 20,000 men will be added to the Atlantic Alliance.

Such a force would outnumber the Soviet Union's present armed strength in Red-ruled East Germany.

Under the occupation, diplomatic relations with the Soviet bloc were banned. Now Bonn can establish relations with any country, East or West.

The sovereignty treaty stipulates that West Germany "shall have the full authority of a sovereign state over its internal and external affairs." But in actuality, the Western Big Three will continue to wield a strong influence here.

U.S., British and French troops will stay on as defense forces under a special treaty agreement.

West Germans Free After 10 Years

BONN, Germany (AP)—The West German Republic became a sovereign nation in alliance with the free world today. The 10-year allied occupation ended at noon.

Two short ceremonies wiped out the supreme powers wielded by the United States, Britain and France over the 50 million West Germans since 1945.

In the first, the Allied High Commission repealed all its laws and abolished itself by proclamation.

Then the British and French high commissioners completed the formality of depositing the sovereignty treaty at Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's office. The United States and West Germany did this April 20.

The French and West German governments simultaneously put into effect their agreement to Europeanize the Saar.

"The occupation statute is revoked and the Allied High Commission and the offices of land (state) commissioners in the Federal Republic are abolished," the high commissioners' proclamation said.

Sixty Allied laws and 130 ordinances were repealed by the declaration, which was signed by Dr. James B. Conant of the United States, Sir Frederick Hoyer Millar of Britain and Andre Francois-Poncet of France. They now become their nations' ambassadors to the Bonn Republic.

"Federal Germany has re-entered into the circle of free nations," said Francois-Poncet, chairman of the High Commission's first meeting Sept. 21, 1949, and of its 10th and final session today.

"We wish to believe . . . that the free nations will find Germany a loyal and efficient partner, enlightened by the memory of her past ordeals. We wish her good luck on the road she will follow, mistress from now on of her own destiny."

Conant said: "All of us are gladly giving up our responsibilities and our authority, and we rejoice in the fact that the Federal Republic of Germany is being welcomed into the family of sovereign nations."

In the final ceremony, Hoyer Millar and Francois-Poncet called on President Theodor Heuss tonight to present their fresh credentials as ambassadors to the newly sovereign republic. Conant, whose appointment as ambassador has not yet been confirmed by the U. S. Senate, will go alone to deliver a message of congratulation from President Eisenhower.

With these formalities out of the way, Adenauer goes to Paris tomorrow for West Germany's admission to the seven-nation Western European Union. In another ceremony in the French capital next week, the Bonn government will become the 15th member of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

65-Day Jail Term Cools 'Hot' Driver

"You're going to spend 65 days in the Oakland County Jail to cool off your driving during the warm months," said Municipal Judge Cecil McCallum yesterday when he sentenced Alvin Johnson, 30, of 45 Hibbard Ct., who pleaded guilty to reckless driving.

In the reckless driving charge, Johnson also faced 10 other violations committed after Patrolman James L. Ockerman arrested him yesterday following a two-mile chase which ended when Johnson's car overturned and crashed through a wire fence.

"He committed practically every traffic violation in the book and besides he didn't have an operator's license," said Ockerman.

Western Skies Are Lighted Up by White Flash

Survey Tomorrow to Determine the Extent of Doomsday Damage

SURVIVAL CITY, Nev. (AP)—Atomic fury at least one and a half times as powerful as the blast that leveled Hiroshima struck at this tiny test town on the desert today.

It knocked out the 250-watt radio station located less than a mile from the heart of the great nuclear explosion, and probably caused extensive damage to the four homes along Doomsday Drive only 4,700 feet from the blast tower.

The huge device packed a fireball lasting 25 seconds and a power of between 30 to 35 kilotons. The bombs that hit Hiroshima and Nagasaki contained 20 kilotons of power, the equal of 20,000 tons of TNT.

The full extent of the damage will be determined in a tour of battered Survival City tomorrow.

The test organization announced that the 14th and final shot of the 1955 series—also from a 500-foot tower on Yucca Flat—might be detonated before dawn tomorrow. A weather evaluation meeting was set for today.

The tower for the final shot is located about seven miles east of today's blast and is not expected to have any effect on the test town. The shot, if it comes off, will be in advance of the Survival City tour.

The great white flash from the explosion was seen throughout the Southwest and 500 miles northwest at Klamath Falls, Ore.

It also lighted the sky across the Mexican border from San Diego, Calif., and was sighted in Los Angeles, San Francisco, Salt Lake City, Utah, and Phoenix, Ariz.

Although it illuminated Las Vegas, Nev., 75 miles away, brighter than the sun for an instant, no concussion was felt there. However, the barred Jester Henderson, near Las Vegas.

The scattered little test city here—it might be a suburb in any part of the United States—lay completely enveloped in dust, some of it radioactive, a few minutes after the detonation. An hour later Atomville still was completely obscured from the view of observers on News Nob, eight miles back.

The shock wave, a jolting wall of unequalled by any previous public test, hit observers in trenches at 2,600 and 3,500 yards and GI's in tanks at a distance of only 3,100 yards. It was felt as a sharp earthquake by observers on the Nob.

Measure Causes Bitter Guerrilla Warfare in Michigan Senate

LANSING (AP)—After the bitterest floor fight in recent years, the Senate is ready to vote on Republican-sponsored legislation aimed at the CIO Political Action Committee's (PAC) use of union dues to aid the Democrats.

Aided by a few Republicans, Democrats waged a fierce guerrilla war on the bill as it progressed through debate yesterday and forced the Republican leadership to bring up every trick at its command to keep the measure going ahead.

Once the chamber recessed to calm tempers after at least eight senators were on the floor at once shouting at each other and at the presiding officer for recognition.

Both sides accused the other of anti-American motives and of hypocrisy.

At one point the Democrats, with Republican help, mustered the votes to send the bill back to committee by a one-vote margin.

But the Republican command ordered a call of the Senate, slipped on the gag rule and upset the committee burial move.

Sen. Frank J. La Follette (D-Idaho) said the bill was "a piece of anti-American legislation."

Sen. Charles McNary (R-Ore.) said the bill was "a piece of anti-American legislation."

Flat—20 miles long and 10 miles wide—within an hour and a quarter after the 5:10 a.m. blast.

Army tanks started to roll forward, skirting the area some four minutes after the detonation. The 500-foot tower which had held the explosive was completely vaporized.

Six women in a Civil Defense trench and two others in an Army trench, both at 3,500 yards, witnessed the blast. It was the first time women had been in trenches.

Director Val Peterson of the Federal Civil Defense Administration, who viewed the test from a six-mile spot, lauded the demonstration as "a very profitable experience for all civilian defense people." He also took occasion to upgrade some who had been complaining about delays.

Peterson criticized "amateurs who try to advise men who have set off more than 40 of these shots."

Today's televised detonation was the 13th of the 1953 series and the 45th in the continental U. S. It was the largest of the three open shots held here. The others were in 1952 and 1953.

Dust prevented observers from seeing whether there were any fires burning except the usual scattered flames in Joshua trees.

Veteran observers of the press corps agreed they had never seen anything to match this shot.

At the time of the detonation there were about 60 high altitude aircraft aloft over or near the test site. They were on experimental and training flights. Later a squadron of more than 25 planes took off from nearby Indian Springs Air Force Base to perform customary atomic cloud tracking and sampling duties.

Sponsored by the Detroit Real Estate Board and composed of Wayne, Oakland and Macomb Counties, the seminar was the first tri-county real estate function. Nine real estate boards were represented from the three counties.

Following the afternoon conference and dinner, James C. Downs, President of the Real Estate Research Corporation of Chicago, Chicago, spoke on "How Long Can It Last?"

Downs viewed mortgage market trends and said there was a shortage of land for development throughout the nation.

The Day in Birmingham

Board Eyes $5,295,000 School Expansion Plan

BIRMINGHAM (AP)—The Birmingham district Board of Education today had under consideration a proposed expansion program calling for construction of 82 new classrooms in four new elementary schools and classroom additions in five existing schools.

Included were recommendations for construction of two swimming pools and improvements in the district's older schools.

The program, recommended by the independent Citizens Committee on Education, would cost an estimated $5,295,000 and could be financed with no increase in the tax rate for school debt service, according to the committee's fiscal experts.

Recommendations presented to the board by the committee Tuesday night included:

Construction of enough new classrooms for pupils in the kindergarten through the sixth grade to meet needs through the school year 1957-58.

Modernization of certain older facilities.

Completion of the high school swimming pool and inclusion of another in the new junior high school at Adams and Derby.

The new schools would be one each in the northeast and southeast corners of the district, one at Lahser and 14 Mile and one near Walnut Lake.

Of the recommended new additions, two would be at schools opened this year, Beverly and Pembroke; one would be at Franklin School, and two others at schools as yet not determined, the committee said.

The classroom construction program would be limited to elementary schools. Existing high school facilities, the committee said, were considered adequate until 1960. It said junior high school facilities—including the new east side junior high—were sufficient until 1959.

The estimated cost also would include a $345,000 outlay for improvements in the district's older schools: rearrangement of classrooms, improvement of playgrounds, modernization of lighting.

Committee findings were that school sites at the older schools—Adams, Pierce, Bloomfield Village and Franklin—require "considerable improvement" to provide more play area and to relieve "intolerable" mud conditions in wet weather.

The "package" also includes $600,000 for construction of an outdoor pool and an indoor pool. The committee said it recommended construction of two pools because of "overcrowding" of the city's single pool at Barnum School and because "it would be a healthy factor toward preventing juvenile delinquency."

The committee was appointed by the PTA Council. It consists of two dozen men and women of Birmingham, Franklin, Bloomfield Village, and Bloomfield, West Bloomfield and Southfield townships, who have worked since last fall to lay the groundwork for the recommendations made by the committee.

Committee recommendations will be studied by the school board which must take final action by May 17 on proposals to put before the voters at the June 13 school election.

Under the committee's financing proposals, the entire program could be realized without increase in present tax rate for school debt service. It said this would be possible because reserves on previous bond issues have accumulated to a point where "recoverable millage will be available to apply to new bond issues."

The studies presented to the board by the committee were whittled down to reports totaling more than 175 pages; in addition to numerous graphs and maps.

In Hungary and the Netherlands, corn is called "Turkish wheat."

Williams Claims Dems Have Lots of Qualified Men for Presidency

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan said today "the Democratic party has plenty of candidates" qualified for the presidency whether Adlai E. Stevenson seeks the nomination again or not.

Williams, who previously had said Stevenson looked like a shoo-in for the 1956 nomination, said in an interview he didn't want to single out now any of the potential candidates.

Gov. Allan Shivers of Texas said yesterday he still opposes Stevenson. Democratic National Committee Chairman Carmine de Sapio of New York indicated he is lukewarm toward the former Illinois governor, who lost to President Eisenhower in 1952.

The governors yesterday discussed 1956 campaign plans at a closed session which National Chairman Paul M. Butler said produced "no dissent" to the idea that the Democrats would win the White House next year.

Butler said the Democrats plan to attack what he called "the indecisive leadership of the Eisenhower administration."

De Sapio said he told the governors the party ought to "go after Eisenhower rather than the people of second rank" in the administration.

As for his own party, De Sapio said he doesn't think "any Democrat should play coy or have to be drafted to serve as the party's nominee."

Stevenson has been silent about his plans. De Sapio called the nomination race "wide open" at this point, indicating he may seek to hold New York's 94-vote convention delegation for Gov. Averell Harriman. Harriman has said he is for Stevenson.

Foreign Plasm Found in Plants

Traits From Abroad
of U. S. Varieties

GENEVA, N. Y. (UP)—Practically all the present commercial grain varieties in the United States carry germ plasm traceable to foreign parents, according to a plant expert at the State Agricultural Experiment Station here.

"Also, 55 of 56 potato varieties released since 1932 in state and federal breeding programs are reported to have one or more foreign introductions in their pedigrees," pointed out Dr. D. D. Dolan, regional coordinator of the North-eastern Regional Plant Introduction Station.

For this reason, Dolan says, it is important to grow, evaluate and distribute plant introductions from abroad.

In a current project, Dolan is studying, among other plants, an alfalfa from Spain which has a distinctive branching habit, a serpentine melon from Afghanistan, a cucumber from Korea and a tomato from India.

He said all may have characteristics that may prove valuable to plant breeders in this country.

Besides looking for desirable traits that might be used by plant breeders, the station preserves seeds of older varieties to guard against loss of germ plasm that might be wanted in the future.

Thermal Barrier Tested by Device

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP)—University of Maryland scientists are seeking the answers to the problem of the "thermal barrier" in a specially constructed tube 12 feet long.

In the tube, Prof. Edward L. Resler and his associates have been able to produce shock waves such as those that would be generated by a projectile traveling 30,400 miles per hour.

The "thermal barrier" is the term applied to the problem of heat caused by friction with the air at speeds of more than five times that of sound when metals begin to melt.

Although the project is one of pure research, Dr. Resler believes it will produce information of value to missile and aircraft designers. A speed of 25,000 miles per hour is needed for any missile to escape from the earth's gravitation.

Sues Business Associate for Shortage of Worms

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Suit in Superior Court to dissolve a worm business charged that one partner had short counted the other by five million worms.

Howard W. Neal said the shortage was in worms provided for the venture at his ranch, where they were to produce millions of others for sale to avocado growers. Worms are supposed to aerate roots and help organic fertilization. Neal asked $1,500, the value he placed on the five million worms he said he didn't get.

Just Charging It Up

DETROIT (AP)—Mrs. Espynola Fuller, 23, testified in Traffic Court she was doing 80 miles an hour but only to charge her car battery. The excuse wasn't good enough for Traffic Referee John M. Wise.

She was fined $75 and told not to drive for two months.

Face Rocky Problem

MOUNT AIRY, N.C. (AP)—Trustees of the Surry District Hospital, in the planning stages, are riled. This town's claim to fame is its native granite. Architect's plans for the hospital call for Indiana limestone.

Benson Warns Against Return to High Parity

There were both timeliness and common sense in a warning sounded by Secretary of Agriculture BENSON.

It was timely because it came in a news conference held just as the House was about to take up a bill proposing return to 90 per cent parity price support for the basic crops. There was wisdom in it because Mr. BENSON pointed out that adoption of this measure would be a step backward.

"The high, rigid supports," he said, "destroy markets, create surpluses and set up a system under which the Government allocates the right to produce."

The Secretary is right in urging Congress to give a fair trial to the flexible price supports written into the law last year. President EISENHOWER took the same position at his latest press conference.

Anyone who doubts the soundness of their stands should ponder the tax eating, price depressing effects of the multibillion dollar's worth of surplus farm products now owned by the Government.

More Jobs Than Graduates

Although commencements are weeks away, it is apparent that June's college graduates will have little trouble finding jobs.

Actually there may be more jobs than graduates. This is especially true of seniors with technical training. Three to five calls are reported for every available engineer, physicist or chemist. There also are said to be two jobs open for every student qualified in home economics, agriculture, teaching and medical technology.

One of the reasons for this, as U. S. News & World Report points out, is the fact that this year's class is the smallest since 1948 numbering 324,800. About one-third of these are women, many of whom are not interested in jobs. This leaves about 210,000 male graduates this year.

Another complication is that many of these youths are going to the armed forces through the draft and ROTC. No one knows exactly the number to be drafted this year. But many have been deferred to finish college and now are at the top of their draft boards' lists.

What is happening, of course, is that we are experiencing a period of good business. We also are in the midst of a technological revolution. These and the steady call for trained men for the armed forces have combined to raise the country's need for youths with higher education.

Banjos and Postal Rules

Purchase of a mail order banjo by one of his constituents has moved Missouri's Democratic Congressman JONES to urge simplification of postal regulations.

After the banjo reached the buyer at Wyatt, Mo., he decided that he didn't like it. But when he set about returning it, as reported in the Congressional Record, he ran into baffling postal complications.

Having some business in nearby Charleston, a larger community than Wyatt, he decided to mail it there. To his surprise, however, the post office refused to accept the banjo for return by mail although it was in its original package.

What existing regulations say is that the package was too big to be mailed from a first class post office to another first class post office. But it was not too big to be mailed from or to other post offices.

WYATT's post office is third class so the banjo buyer took his parcel there and had no trouble mailing it back to Chicago. Thereafter it was put on a U. S. mail truck which returned it to Charleston where it had been refused. From there it was forwarded to Chicago.

What's happening, of course, is that people are getting around the postal regulations by taking their large parcels to nearby second or third class post offices. As a result a provision designed to benefit express companies is being nullified and the post office is doing a lot of work for which it is not being paid.

That's why Congressman JONES wants the regulations amended to apply equally to all post offices.

We second the motion.

THE late EINSTEIN's desk, just as he left it, was shown on TV. It was covered to various depths with about 12 pounds of papers of various kinds in almost as wild a state of disorder as the contents of a woman's handbag. Indeed, it looked exactly like the desk of the typical weekly newspaper editor.

We're entirely willing to contribute our full share to pay Henry to dance with that gal who keeps wailing from the juke boxes, "Dance with me, Henry!"

PERHAPS, one way or another, the H-bomb will bring permanent peace to the earth.

The Man About Town

The Excessive Heat It Brings Unusual Conditions to Many in the Pontiac Area

Criticism: What you may avoid by saying and doing nothing.

Repercussions of this violent May heat are numerous. Some sheep in the flock of Crowell Anderson in Pontiac Township died from its effects Tuesday. They still were carrying their winter coats. Others in the flock that had been shorn did not suffer from the heat. A mother robin died from the heat while sitting on her nest in an old mall box near the home of Homer Westgate in White Lake Township. The eggs were about to hatch, and the heat completed the incubation, and Westgate moved the nest to a cooler spot and is feeding the young birds. "Wilted worse than in midsummer," phones

Anthony Laughlin in speaking of his garden at 874 East Pike St. A call from

Mrs. Jennie O'Dea of Rochester, tells of a diary kept by her father, the late

Michael Donahue of Pontiac, which recounts that excessive heat wave in May 83 years ago. On May 3, 1872, he wrote: "Never saw it so hot; must be near 100. Has the weather gone plumb crazy? What will July and August bring?" His entries in these months are usually "Cool and comfortable," and one day he adds, "They cooked us in May."

Among the great myriad of resplendent and eye appealing colors on the cars being made at

Pontiac Motor Division I have it directly from Body Engineer W. R. Miller that two more dashing combinations have just been added. They are Polo White and Driftwood Biege, either of which will hasten your wife's name to the dotted line.

Reports of large mushrooms are arriving, the largest to date being that found by Fereval Potter of Lake Orion. It measures 15 inches high and nine inches across.

Newspapermen are keen with interest in an Oakland County death this week. Passing away, at the age of 90, at the home of her daughter in Southfield Township,

Mrs. Ina Graham Hubbell was the widow of David E. Hubbell, former president of the Michigan Press Association.

We like the letter over the signature of "A Kind and Loving Wife," and bearing a Pontiac postmark, which says that she is making an extra effort to be kind and obedient to her husband for a few days because this is

"Be Kind to Animals Week."

Hal Boyle Says:

Father of 13 Boys Scoffs at Delinquency Problems

NEW YORK (U)—The parents of what is believed to be the nation's largest all-boy family don't see why poverty should cause juvenile delinquency.

Emory and Thelma Harrison, a farm couple who live near Johnson City, Tenn., have 13 sons ranging in step-ladder style down from 21-year-old Guy to Ivan, an infant of 3 weeks.

Money poor all his life, Harrison said his children "never caused us a speck of trouble," and explained why:

"It's the way we raised them. We raised them to obey us, never to bother anybody, and never to pick up anything that belonged to anybody else."

"If they need a spanking, they get it. But they don't need it often. Each has his chores—one feeds the hogs, one feeds the chickens, one does the milking. Some dry the dishes, some cut wood, some carry it in."

"They all help each other. The big boys are just as crazy about the new baby as my wife and me are."

"There never was a child born but what there was a bite made to fill its mouth with—but there have been fathers and mothers too trifling to fill a child's mouth."

"When we had one child we just lived. When we had six children we lived. Now we got 13—and we're still living."

Mrs. Harrison was named "Honorary Mother of the Year" by the Interfaith Movement in recognition of "her exemplary life as wife, mother and neighbor." The Robert Hall clothing firm paid the expenses of the entire family here so they could see her get the award.

During a four-day stay the boys won a $3,200 jackpot in cash and prizes on a CBS network show, "On Your Account." But the wonders of Manhattan palled quickly and left the whole family homesick.

"It's corn plantin' time," explained Harrison.

The tall, rawboned farmer, who had to quit school after the fourth grade to go to work, is a man of natural dignity with a rich vein of homespun humor.

Having a large family came naturally to the Harrisons. His wife is one of 16 children. His grandfather, a religious man as he tells it, had 27 children, 3 wives, rode a red mule to church every Sunday until he was 85, and died triumphant at 93, still praising the Lord for a good life.

"And he raised all 27 children on a 70-acre farm," said Harrison. "I courted for a year before I got married when I was 23," he added. "I'll never forget that day. I didn't have anything at all only a woman." Mrs. Harrison glanced up with a shy smile. "And maybe 75 cents in my pocket. I earned only $2 the first week we were married."

After years of struggling labor during which he sometimes had to go out after his day's work and cut wood to trade for groceries, Harrison was able with the help of a friend to buy a 72-acre hill farm.

The farm has 2 horses, 3 cows, 225 chickens, 6 or 8 hogs, a large vegetable garden. The cash crops are wheat, corn and tobacco.

"We don't spend more than $13 to $14 a week for food," Harrison said. "We raise the rest."

"I don't believe our medical bills have been more than $50 all told since we were married, not counting the cost of getting the boys born."

"If they get a cold I just mix up some hog lard, turpentine and kerosene, rub it on their chest—then turn 'em off barefooted. We don't pay no attention to 'em not wearing shoes."

One Tuesday last October a fire destroyed their home. For the first time in his life Harrison felt completely down at heart. But the next Sunday the congregations of 12 nearby churches pitched in with money, materials and labor and built the family a larger, better home.

Woman Pleased by Gesture of Girls Who Placed May Baskets on Doorsteps

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

A small group of young girls, none older than 13, have banded together to form "The Terrace Maids." These young ladies delighted tenants in 56 homes by leaving small floral offerings in gaily decorated containers at each door along with a wish for a "Happy May Day."

The money for this heartwarming project came from the club's own modest treasury. I'm sure the girls would be pleased to see mention made of their gracious and friendly gesture.

An Appreciative Tenant

'Pontiac Crime Accounts Mild Compared to Detroit'

The Pontiac Press has been the target of unjustified criticism for the manner in which sex crimes have been reported.

These self-styled moralists should read the accounts of such crimes printed in the Detroit papers. By comparison the Pontiac Press stories read like the minutes of a WCTU meeting.

I agree that crimes which involve violence and sex do not make for aesthetically enjoyable reading. But it is the duty of a free press to publish facts, and any editor worthy of the name possesses an inherent sense of censorship and holds to a minimum those details of crimes which might offend even the most fastidious.

I believe this newspaper does just that.

'Children Build Character Through Care of Pets'

It is a well-known fact that much of our juvenile delinquency stems from the fact that parents have neglected to teach their children respect and consideration for people and their property and things weaker or less fortunate than themselves. Thus we find, as these children grow, they run roughshod over people and property.

The training of a child in character starts with the kind treatment of his brothers and sisters and his kindness to living creatures around him. There is no better training than the care of a pet in the home.

The great reverence for life begins at an early age and builds strength of character and develops a child into a respectable, kindly individual who thinks about his acts and how they will affect those around him.

Case Records of a Psychologist

Parents Should Let Their Children Know They Too Were Afraid When Young

Clarice tells about her "fear party" and its excellent benefits. You parents and especially you Dads should have a confessional with your children. Lead them into it by admitting your own childhood terrors, for it is very reassuring to youngsters to know you, also, were once afraid of the dark or of barking dogs, etc.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
 Case O-322: Clarice R., aged 28, teaches the second grade.

"Dr. Crane, a year or so ago you suggested that teachers and parents hold a 'fear party' for their children," she smilingly began.

"Well, I tried it with my second graders one day last week, and it proved so helpful that I want you to tell others about what happened."

"First of all, I told my class that I had been a 'fraidy cat' when I was a little girl, for I explained how other children would tease me when they learned I was afraid of dogs."

"Well, with that as a starter, I asked the children if any of them had ever been fearful of a dog. 'Three of the children confessed they still felt panicky whenever a barking dog rushed up to them.'"

"Reassured by my own admission of fear and these three-pupils, the others then began to volunteer their secret fears. 'We spent an entire hour just giving our autobiographies regarding terrors and unhappiness in general.'"

"Ever since then I have noticed a happier atmosphere in my classroom. The children somehow seem more relaxed."

"And my impression hasn't been solely on my general observation, for several of the youngsters came up after class that day and told me they were so relieved to know that I had been afraid when I was a little girl."

"A 'fear party' is ideal prophylaxis against later abnormality. So I recommend this strategy to Scout leaders, Sunday school teachers, and especially you parents, particularly you dads."

Many children feel badly dejected because they think they are disgracing their powerful, courageous fathers by feeling so timid and afraid. They can't imagine that their dads ever were timid or cowardly youngsters.

And most dads try to intimidate their never were afraid. That's wrong! Let your children know that you, too, were fearful as children. It will reassure them and help them learn to be more brave. So have a "fear party" tonight.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and a dime to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his psychological charts.

Rabies Racketeers Run 13 'Clinics' for Canines

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

Anti-rabies inoculation clinics will be held in 13 Birmingham, Ala., neighborhoods, says a newspaper item (no date) from Birmingham and the county rabies inspector—

I swear, they must have the racket working almost automatically now.

The county rabies inspector reminds dog owners that the shots are mandatory by law. Clinics, charging $1 per inoculation, will be open rain or shine.

Birmingham, "The place known as the 'rabies capital of North America.'"

I hate to bring it up again, I really do, because both Birmingham authorities who said the city was so known were, I believe, sincere when they concluded their report of their long experience with the rabies problem with a statement that—

"Rabies is primarily a veterinary problem. Regardless of its prevalence among dogs, it will probably never cause sufficient morbidity or mortality among human beings in this region to allow its classification as a public health problem of importance."

Since they made this frank statement (4, 28, '29) one of the Birmingham (Jefferson County) authorities has died. The other, I believe, is still in the health department—but I don't know which.

Since the Birmingham authorities decided that rabies should be left to the veterinarians, the U.S. Public Health Service politicians moved in and those boys have a good deal to say about the contributions the federal government may make to state or county governments for public health work.

Money talks. I can almost hear it talking with a clinking sound in those thirteen doggy "clinics" in Birmingham.

If the 20,000 dogs in Birmingham are duly inoculated with whatever the racketeers think is good for 'em, the dog catcher for the health department, whichever runs the racket, ought to be pretty happy.

You poor frightened people haven't noticed, I imagine, that the periodic scares drummed up by publicity hungry health authorities are generally based on fears or rumors that a "mad" dog is loose in the community and published warnings to hypothetical victims to report at once to the health department.

Although I doubt that rabies occurs in man, I offer only this advice to any one bitten or scratched by animal or bird in any circumstance: Have proper surgical treatment by your own or any reputable physician at once.

Signed letters, not more than one page, for news items, pertinent to personal health and hygiene, will be accepted by Dr. William Brady at The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Mich.

What's Her Pitch? Sewage!

Congress Misses Chance to Show Off Youngest, Cutest City Concilwoman

WASHINGTON, May 4 (AP)—Wouldn't you know Congress would flub a chance like this?

Here it had as a witness probably the youngest, and undoubtedly the cutest, city councilwoman in the whole world. And what did it do with this opportunity to decorate the normally dull looking witness chair?

It followed tradition, and, as it almost always does in testimony on appropriations, barred the public from the hearing room.

And so a House Appropriations subcommittee met behind closed doors today to hear Rosalind Wiener Wyman, 24-year-old Los Angeles councilwoman, explain the city's sewage problems.

Mrs. Wyman, a vivacious brunette, is the girl who stepped out of the University of Southern California two years ago into a $7,200-a-year job as councilman.

She feels her career proves: A. That there's a future for young people in politics.

B. That in politics, as in advertising, it pays to have a gimmick, and

C. That even a political speech may serve as husband bait.

In spite of her age, Rosalind is no political novice. Her parents were red-hot Democrats, she began reading political tracts at 14, and so—"I can tell my grandchildren the first vote I ever cast was for me, for the Democratic County Committee. Big deal."

Now, the gimmick. Her camp had the idea, see, that if you knocked on doors and handed voters little bars of soap they would get the idea here was a gal who would clean up the city.

"When we got the darn soap," Rosalind said, "we knew why it was so cheap. It wasn't wrapped. We had visions of going from door to door handing out this soap, all sweaty from being held in your hand. Finally we put it in a cellophane wrapper, along with a 3 by 5-inch campaign card—they're the cheapest. It worked fine."

So what with gimmicks, and what with eight male candidates ignoring this upstart female, a political upset occurred.

As for romance, normally not considered a by-product of politics:

"It's just like a fairy story. Gene heard me make a speech, and right away he said, 'There's a girl I'm going to marry.'"

By getting himself named a committee of one to act as an escort to another meeting at which Rosalind was speaking, he managed to meet the girl. And soon the political stump romance blossomed into marriage.

And why is she in Washington? It seems the federal government began—and then stopped—a storm sewer project in Los Angeles. Rosalind wants it started again.

"I guess," she said reflectively, "that I'm lobbying."

"I hope the Florida Chamber of Commerce doesn't notice this, but it does rain in California. Not often, you understand. But when it does rain, it rains good. Even cars are washed away."

She gathered up the maps, the papers and a piece of movie film she expected to show the committee.

"I never thought when I got into this job I'd get all stirred up about drainage. I even talk about sewage problems at women's teas."

6 Bomb Threats Keep Police Busy

NEW YORK (AP)—Six bomb threats in rapid succession kept Manhattan police hopping yesterday afternoon and last night.

Exhaustive searches were made. No bomb was found.

The threats were reported in this chronology: Macy's department store; the Roxy Theater; Webster Hall, on East 11th Street; the Academy of Music movie theater on East 14th Street; a First National City Bank branch at Canal Street and Broadway, and the Radio City Music Hall.

At Macy's, a woman shopper found a note warning that a bomb had been planted. The rest of the bomb scares were telephoned.

A homemade bomb, with death-dealing potentialities and a faulty timing device, was found in the Radio City Music Hall Monday morning. A warning had been telephoned the day before, but searchers failed to discover the contrivance then.

Negro, White Children Mixed in Texas School

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Three Negro children are attending elementary school with white children at Friona, in northwest Texas, in the state's first racial integration in public schools.

The historic move was revealed yesterday, Friona School Supt. Dalton Caffey said about 700 white children enrolled have accepted the Negroes and in fact seem rather proud of them.

142,000 Europeans to Get Migration Aid

GENEVA, Switzerland (AP)—The Intergovernmental Committee for European Migration has approved a $45,625,000 budget to pay for the most ambitious program of its four-year history—the moving of 142,000 Europeans to new homes overseas.

The action was taken at the final session yesterday of the committee's semiannual meeting. The program calls for the resettlement of more than 50,000 Italians, 37,000 Germans and refugees living in Germany, 18,000 Austrians, 12,000 Greeks, 11,000 Dutch and 13,000 other Europeans.

Australia is to receive the largest number, 48,850, followed by the United States with 34,280.

GI Duty Seen for Most
WASHINGTON (AP)—... defense official told the U. S. Chamber of Commerce yesterday that even after planned cuts in the armed services "virtually every physically and mentally fit young man may look forward to a term of military service sometime between the ages of 18 and 26." Robert Anderson, deputy secretary of defense, said national defense will also continue to absorb about a tenth of the nation's hard goods.

Atom Workers Return to Jobs

Sandia Base Strikers Await Suggestions by Mediation Panel

ALBUQUERQUE (U)—Twelve unions went back to work today at Sandia Base, ending for a month at least a strike against the firm operating the atomic center.

About 2,600 workers, split between the AFL Metal Trades Council and AFL Office Employees local 251, returned to man the sprawling installation where atomic weapons are assembled and used for them are developed.

They ended their walkout, which began April 26, last night when they were told of a plea by the President's atomic labor-management relations panel. William F. Leverenz, president of the Metal Trades Council who conferred with the panel in Washington, reported to the strikers that the panel would make recommendations within 30 days after a hearing on strike issues in Albuquerque next week.

Sandia Corp., a subsidiary of Western Electric, runs Sandia. J. B. McCoy, a local labor leader, said, "this doesn't mean we're going to accept anything they are willing to hand out."

Involved are 29 issues. One of the union demands was that the firm be replaced by another to operate Sandia. The unions also object to a company proposal to cut vacations from 24 to 12 days with a raise in pay. The unions also claim the company has not recognized union representatives in collective bargaining, and they seek a 14-cent an hour wage increase across the board. Current wages are from $1.48 to $2.80 an hour.

Old Age Begins at 70, British Doctor Claims

LOS ANGELES (U)—Old age, a British doctor says, begins at 70.

"We are entirely convinced that the majority of those who are 65 are still only in their late middle lives," said Dr. J. Harold Sheldon, of Birmingham.

"The inexorable weakening processes of old age don't usually start until the age of 70," said Sheldon, who is president of the International Assn. of Gerontology (the scientific study of old age). He spoke yesterday at the University of Southern California.

Fried Chicken Fanciers in Luck Again This Week

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Feel like having fried chicken again? Reports from food stores over the nation indicate that it continues to hold a prominent place on the list of good buys for weekend shoppers.

Not as many stores will be featuring frying chickens this week as a week ago, but prices generally will be the same or a trifle lower. Meat men consider them a fine buy.

If you're looking for something else for Sunday dinner, however, you'll find the choice is wide. A number of markets, with an eye to Mother's Day this Sunday, will be offering small turkeys and smoked hams at lower prices. There'll be a number of specials on prime ribs and legs of lamb, too.

There won't be many weekend specials on pork items. That meat went up at wholesale during the week and in some stores the price of pork chops is being increased by a dime or more a pound.

Eggs continue to be a good buy. One chain is lowering prices by a penny or two a dozen in some of its markets.

The Department of Agriculture sees a small increase in the next few months in the general level of retail food prices. It says recent freeze and wind damage to fruits and vegetables and strong consumer demand will be major factors in the rise.

The department says there may be increases in prices of fresh and processed vegetables, eggs, pork and some cuts of beef. It adds, however, that consumers can look for lower prices for fresh vegetables, potatoes and fresh fruits by mid-summer, when normal supplies become available.

And the outlook is not strictly for higher prices: Dairy products, poultry and fish are expected to come down in the months just ahead.

As of right now, you can pick up lots of worthwhile buys in vegetables. The best value this week may be found in spinach, iceberg lettuce, and nearby vegetables, including radishes, green onions, leeks, kale and parsley.

Old crop potatoes are a good buy. New crop spuds haven't come to market in big volume yet, but supplies are increasing and prices are a little lower than last week.

Corn supplies are heavier; and the price has come down. There are plenty of onions in all shapes and sizes at reasonable prices.

Produce men also recommend cabbage, beans, carrots, beets, radishes, cauliflower, celery, peppers and yellow green squash.

Oranges and grapefruit still are rated among the better buys in

Nation's Industry Continues Expansion

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (U)—All that talk about American industry being overexpanded—is it outdated already?

Some top industrialists are saying so and calling for further increases in the capacity of mills and factories to keep in step with the increased consumer demand they foresee.

Just one year ago it was fashionable in some circles to say that the great postwar spurt of building new plants and buying new equipment had given the United States a production capacity well in excess of current civilian consumer demand.

It would be quite some time, they said, before civilian demand—if unsupported by an additional huge defense production—would catch up.

But now plans for future expansion are being announced by the corporate leaders in many industries. The basic industry steel is a good example.

Between 1950 and 1954 it increased its capacity by one fourth. Last year industry leaders were saying that present capacity of 124,300,000 tons a year should be enough for at least five years more.

This week the nation's steel mills are set to turn out 2,328,000 tons, according to the American Iron & Steel Institute. This would top the record set in March 1953.

And today at least five of the top men in the industry are on record as saying another round of building more mills and upgrading old equipment must be started.

3 Children Killed After Seeing Circus

URBANA, Ohio (U)—Two brothers and their sister, riding home from a circus, were killed last night when the car in which they were riding skidded on loose gravel and struck a tree.

Dead were Gerald Eugene Barnhart 7, William, 9, and their sister Vivian Irene, 4.

Another brother, Robert, 2, was in critical condition with head injuries at Mercy Memorial Hospital here.

Their mother Mrs. Glendale Barnhart, 28, who was driving them home, suffered multiple injuries, and was taken to Mercy Hospital at nearby Springfield.

The reason: the steady increase in the nation's population and—more importantly—the increase in the standard of living. Steelmen believe Americans will be buying more cars, more appliances, building more offices, stores and homes, more bridges, schools and highways.

Benjamin F. Fairless, in his swan song as he steps down from the chairmanship of the board of U.S. Steel, says his company to keep in step must add more than one million tons of new capacity each year.

Eugene G. Grace, chairman of Bethlehem Steel, the nation's second largest producer, says his company should add eight million tons of capacity in the next 10 years.

E. T. Weir, chairman of National Steel, says the industry is using all of its first-class equipment today and now faces the problem of further development.

W. W. Sebald, president of Armco Steel, and Avery C. Adams, president of Pittsburgh Steel, join in the call for another round of expansion.

This expansion of basic steel production capacity will be accompanied by upgrading facilities for making finished products.

Charge Mom Beat Boy, 4, for Laughing

LOS ANGELES (U)—The mother of a 4-year-old boy is accused of child beating—and her son is under treatment for a possible blood clot on the brain, black eyes, bruises and burns of the hands and feet and body.

A policeman found little John Haska near his home Tuesday night. Yesterday his mother Mrs. Pearl Chew was booked on suspicion of child beating. Officers said she told them she knocked the boy down when he laughed at her while she was scolding him. "He's a good boy, but I get mad when he laughs at me," she said. Investigators said John told them his mother "made me sit on a stove." Mrs. Chew has two other children and is expecting a fourth.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (U)—There has been no action in the case, but policeman Johnny Perez said he had "enough evidence."

A San Antonio woman complained to police that a neighbor was harboring 36 cats in a one-room house. Perez found all the doors locked when he got to the house, he said, but could hear considerable movement inside. He returned to the police station—covered with fleas.

12 Mexicans Killed as Chemical Erupts

MEXICO CITY (U)—At least 12 persons, including six bus passengers, perished last night in a blazing shower of chemical solvent from a plastics factory. Authorities feared the death toll would go higher.

Touched off by sparks from an electric circuit breaker, the flaming liquid erupted from a 2,500-gallon tank of thinning fluid. Within minutes the fiery shower had:

1. Enveloped a bus stopping at the factory gates, killing six passengers instantly and burning 20 others.
2. Set the factory afire, burning to death five or more persons inside.
3. Indirectly caused the death of a bus passenger who was struck by a falling power line as he fled from the vehicle.

Austrian Treaty Hopes Brighten

Soviet Drops Demands on Refugees and Eases Arms Restrictions

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—Chances for quick signing of the Austrian independence treaty looked still better today as the Russians dropped their controversial demands on refugees and eased insistence on armament restrictions.

But the Soviets and the West must still agree on the touchy issues of prewar foreign oil investments and of a declaration guaranteeing Austrian neutrality before the pact will be ready for signing by the Big Four foreign ministers.

Diplomats attending yesterday's meeting of the four powers' ambassadors and Austria's foreign minister said the picture brightened considerably when Soviet envoy Ivan I. Ilyich accepted a Western-backed, Austrian proposal to drop the treaty article on repatriation and to raise limits on Austrian rearmament.

The disputed Article 15 would have allowed Soviet repatriation teams to enter Austria—once it had won independence—to quiz refugees from communism. Western diplomats had feared this would enable the Reds to spread propaganda inside Austria while the nation was supposed to be neutral.

Article 17, also bitterly disputed, would have imposed a 53,000-man ceiling on Austria's armed forces, limited the air force to 90 planes and barred Austria from building or taking over certain categories of equipment. Diplomats said the Russians had agreed to raise the limits to levels which were not disclosed.

Fruehauf Purchases Hutchinson Plant

biggest deal in recent history for the Fruehauf company.

The company will begin employing persons immediately after moving in, he said.

"A report of us hiring 1,000 workers is strictly a wild guess," he said. "I don't think we could possibly employ that many people."

Both firms declined to disclose the purchase price.

The Pontiac Coach Co. employs 300 workers when working at full production, Hutchinson said. He said he expects full employment to be reached as soon as full operations are moved back to the Dixie highway plant.

In order to provide more room for production, retail sales have been removed from the plant. A new sales lot has been opened at 4301 Dixie Hwy.

Hutchinson Trailer Sales Co. operates a total of six lots in Michigan, Indiana and Florida. Two hundred dealers across the nation sell Pontiac coaches.

Waterford Township Supervisor Lloyd L. Anderson said purchase of the plant by Fruehauf "is going to help stabilize employment in the township and help the tax picture."

"We have very little industry now and hope to have more as time goes on," he said. "In fact, I'm sure we will."

He said other companies have indicated interest in manufacturing-zoned land near the plant. He said the plant might be the start of an industrial community in the section.

Meanwhile, in Detroit, $8,000,000 in new orders for 1,440 commercial trailers assure Fruehauf "its greatest first half in the company's history," said Roy Fruehauf, president.

In a report at the annual stockholders meeting, Fruehauf said sales for the first six months of 1955 will be "well above" 100 million dollars. Customer demand, he added, is running far ahead of production.

Fruehauf said the company is adding space to its plant at Avon Lake, Ohio.

Last week the company announced the purchase of a 100,000-square-foot factory at Delphos, O., and construction plans for additions to its plant at Fort Wayne.

Uninvited Lunch Guest

DENVER (AP)—Robert C. Gingles, 23, was having a peaceful snack in a cafe yesterday when a driverless automobile smashed through the wall and knocked him out of the booth. He was taken to a hospital. Police said a truck, trying to avoid a collision with another car, smashed into a parked car and sent it hurtling through the wall.

The cast of 17 includes (l-r) Mary Kay Nelson, Pat Prosser, and Randy Beedle shown here in a scene in rehearsal. Parke, Davis Asking Help in Union Talk Stalemate DETROIT (AP)—Parke, Davis & Co., a major producer of the Salk polio vaccine, says it has reached a stalemate in its effort to settle a contract dispute with the CIO Chemical Workers.

The company asked the federal government to appoint a fact-finding commission to recommend a basis for settlement.

Parke-Davis' contract with Union Local 178 expired at midnight Saturday. It has been extended on a day-to-day basis while federal and state mediators attempt to bring the two sides into agreement.

The last scheduled mediation session broke up at 4:30 a. m. yesterday. Negotiations are scheduled to resume today.

British Actress Faces Deportation June 7
LOS ANGELES (AP)—British actress Simone Silva was told today she must leave this country by June 7 or be deported.

The order was issued by David Carnahan, regional immigration commissioner.

Miss Silva came here on a tourist's visa and applied for a work permit so she could appear in films. Her producers' plans for her went awry, however, and the movie she was to star in was not made.

In his order today Carnahan said: "It was not established that her services are needed in the United States."

Panting, She Made It

MIAMI (AP)—A young woman ran across busy Flagler Street waving toward a bus. Midway across the intersection, she stopped suddenly and grabbed her waist with both hands. Sovereignty Fails to Stir Fanfare in West Germany

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP)—West Germany became a sovereign state today, but to the man on the street it caused less concern than a scorched sausage.

A sidewalk poll, from the sprawling port city of Hamburg to the rolling hills of Bavaria, brought only casual reaction. No banners flew, no hurrahs were raised.

A German traffic policeman in Frankfurt may have summed up the reason:

"We haven't had any real occupation here since 1945," he said. "And since then things have moved gradually ahead until today it's just a scratch of the pen."

A Munich beer trucker was more interested in quenching his thirst. "Sov—I don't even know how to say it but we don't need it. I drank 20 steins of beer yesterday and I'll drink 20 today. Leave me alone."

126 Men Manage to Get Giant Bomber Off Nose

AGANA, Guam (U)—It took 126 men to get a B-36 giant bomber off its nose. Failure of the nose wheel to stay put once the bomber was on the ground caused it to tip as the wheel retracted.

Once on its nose, all the usual heavy equipment could not get the bomber upright again. So Lt. Col. Robert J. Ray marshalled maintenance men and spectators and marched them into the plane. When the 126th man stepped into the rear of the plane, up came the nose.

Hat Salesman Is 'Specialist'

Detroit Spots Size at First Glance; Now Nearing 70

DETROIT (U)—Tom Flattery, a man who can't fit a lid on almost anyone's head at 20 paces, says he has bolstered the confidence of financial tycoons with his derbies.

Flattery has been selling mens' hats in Detroit for 55 years. Now, almost 70, Flattery contends that a hat is so important that no mere layman should be allowed to pick his own.

"I'm a specialist," says Flattery. "Just like a surgeon or an architect. My customers walk out happy and confident because they know I've done the best possible for them."

Flattery likes to use Henry Ford as a prime example. "Mr. Ford and his son, Edsel, came in to buy a top hat, which would make him look right at a conference with President Woodrow Wilson," said Flattery.

"He asked me to pick it out. After scrutinizing Ford's head," he replied: "You take a 6 and 1/4ths."

Ford turned to Edsel and asked if it looked all right. It did.

"On his way out, Ford stuck his head back in the door and said, 'Say, how did you know I wore 6 and 1/4ths?'"

"Because it's my business to know just like yours is making cars."

Gaudy Getup Explained

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (U)—Chief Judge Francis J. McCabe of the Rhode Island Juvenile Court says parents whose children wear outlandish attire and too much lipstick should treat the result as natural. He told a Parent-Teacher Assn. last night that the fancy dressers are only bidding for attention and if ignored perhaps would lose interest in showing off.

Utah Firemen Can't Complain of Routine Work

SALT LAKE CITY (UP)—Firemen in some Utah communities do many things beside fight fires.

At the mining community of Eureka, the pumper truck was pressed into service recently to carry water to Mammoth, several miles away, after the 17-mile long pipeline bringing water to Mammoth froze. Mammoth is too small to maintain its own fire department.

In Price, the fire wagons roll every time it rains heavily. Their pumps are needed to empty water out of the main U. S. 50 underpass at the north end of town.

During one flash flood, Chet Mills, Price's only full-time fireman, had to rescue five youngsters who were trapped in a car.

The pumping and rescue jobs are listed by Mills as "unusual." On his "usual" list are routine expeditions to get children out of locked bathrooms and pluck stranded cats from tree tops.

Two thousand five hundred dollars and a lot near the White House were paid to Pierre L'Enfant for planning the city of Washington.

PRIZE WINNER—William Faulkner, 57, a native of New Albany, Miss., has been awarded the Pulitzer Prize for Distinguished Fiction in 1955. The award was for his "A Fable," an allegory based on life in the World War trenches. Faulkner was previously honored with the Nobel Prize for Literature in 1949. The award was announced in New York by President Grayson Kirk of Columbia University.

Bomb Victims Get Facelifting

Free Plastic Surgery Planned for 25 Girls From Hiroshima

HIROSHIMA, Japan (U)—"The night before the choice was announced the girls prayed," the New York physician said.

"We were told they prayed not that they would be the ones picked but that we doctors would not feel anguish at having to leave some of them home."

That is the little story behind the story of 25 Japanese girls, disfigured by the atomic bomb 10 years ago, who were selected for free plastic surgery treatment in the United States.

Dr. William M. Hitzig, who helped to make the selections, told the story as the 25 excited girls prepared for the first and most important airplane trip of their lives. The girls, all in their 20s, leave tomorrow.

They may face up to a dozen operations, and be gone a year. Yet all are filled with hope and are in unbelievably good spirits, said Hitzig.

They hope that the treatment will remove the scars that were left after the atomic bombing in 1945. The scars have shut them off from normal social activities. One wears a mask.

The trip to Mt. Sinai Hospital, New York, is being financed by private contributions. The project was organized by Norman Cousins, editor of the Saturday Review; Mt. Sinai Hospital; and Kiyoshi Togasaki, president of the Nippon Times of Tokyo. The U.S. Air Force supplied the plane.

Sound Waves Figure in Tests Upon Materials

CHICAGO (UP)—Sound waves soon may give scientists and engineers a better insight into the composition of a broad range of materials.

Dr. Howard C. Hardy and Robert W. Benson, both of the Illinois Institute of Technology, predicted that non-destructive acoustical tests will help determine other than acoustical properties of the materials.

The two sound experts said acoustical tests in the past have been used primarily in determining such properties as the sound absorption of materials.

"The new tests, to be performed by sending sound waves through materials, will detect flaws so that defects may be anticipated before they occur," the scientists said.

Hardy predicted that architects will give increased attention to acoustical design in homes and other structures and Benson added that plant and office equipment will get quieter within the next few years.

Both scientists felt something must be done "to reduce the airplane, truck and locomotive noise nuisances."

"Too many people are complaining," Benson added.

GIs Told Not to Loiter on Sinful Tokyo Corner

TOKYO (U)—The Army has cracked down on the naughty, noted street corner known as 4th and Y.

The downtown Tokyo corner is a respected business street by day, a lighted entertainment area by night—and in the wee hours a hangout for hundreds of prostitutes.

The Army this week posted white signs saying, "U.S. personnel not permitted to loiter in this area."

One Prison or Another

NORFOLK, Mass. (UP)—Recaptured eight months after escaping from the Norfolk Prison Colony, Leo Poiré, 34, was found to have served six of those months in a federal reformatory after being arrested—under an alias—as an automobile thief.

There are 107 class I railroads in the United States.

Get Children Out First, Fire Chief Tells Sitters

WATERLOO (UP)—Fire Chief Ray Tiller stocks his stations with pamphlets to instruct baby-sitters what to do in case of a fire.

Tiller said the first responsibility of the sitter is to get children to safety and then report the fire.

He said that of the 11,000 persons who die in fires each year, about 2,000 are children five years old or younger. He said the reason is the child's helplessness and also his inquisitiveness and lack of fear.

Has Definition for Expert

HARTFORD, Conn. (UP)—Robert A. Wall, state legislative commissioner, offers this definition of the word "expert": "The experts for has been and the spurt means a drip under pressure."

Portugal Begins Search for Radioactive Minerals

LISBON (UP)—Portugal is launching a widespread search for radioactive minerals.

Under the direction of the year-old National Board of Nuclear Energy, the search will start in the north of metropolitan Portugal and later will extend to Portugal's widespread African possessions. "In continental Portugal the zone laid out for the first phase of the search totals about 12,000 square kilometers south of the Douro River," said Jose Frederico Ulrich, president of the board.

Rogério Cavaca, who will head the search, said "we feel Portugal will yield (uranium) reserves sufficient for our needs."

About one-half of the U. S. supply of beef and veal is from dairy cattle.

Ban on Evening Parking Tested in Boston's Loop

BOSTON (UP)—Boston is trying out a complete no-parking rule on key downtown streets during the evening rush hour as another means of cutting the city's apparently insoluble bottle-necks of traffic.

Police Commissioner Thomas F. Sullivan suggested the plan to bar all parking on 13 thoroughfares between 4 and 6 p. m. The plan is on a 60-day trial basis before being made permanent.

Boston previously had imposed an 8 to 9:30 a. m. downtown parking ban on a larger area than that affected in the current experiment.

The population of New York state increased by 10 per cent from 1940-50. Number over 65 increased by 39.3 per cent.

EUREKA, Calif. Air-Conditioning of Homes Increases

MINNEAPOLIS (UP)—One of every eight homes built in the United States this year will have central air-conditioning, a leading manufacturer predicts.

Richard M. Locke, air conditioning market director, said studies indicate about 150,000 air-conditioned homes will be built in 1935. Last year about 75,000 new homes were provided with central air-conditioning.

Locke predicted that by 1938 there will be more than a million air-conditioned homes in the country. Eventually, he said, central air-conditioning will be nearly as common as central heating.

The population of Tokyo has reached 7,825,810.

18 States Approve Slum Resale Plan

CHICAGO (UP)—The highest courts in 18 states have ruled that redevelopment agencies may use the power of eminent domain to buy up blighted areas for resale to private developers.

The National Association of Housing and Redevelopment Officials lists the following states where this has been declared constitutional:

Alabama, Arkansas, California, Connecticut, Illinois, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, Missouri, New Hampshire, New York, Ohio, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Tennessee and Wisconsin.

A three-member Federal Court of Appeals also has upheld the law.

Razor Blade Is Weapon Minus Other Equipment

NEWPORT NEWS, Pa. (UP)—The defendant, charged with carrying a concealed weapon—a razor blade in his hat band—said he just wanted to be prepared to shave at any time.

Police said they could find no razor which went with the blade. The man paid a $50 fine.

Grass Under Study by Texas Scientists

AUSTIN, Tex. (UP)—Two University of Texas scientists have launched a study of grass as part of a long-range program aimed at improving natural forage in the cattle-raising Southwest.

Drs. Walter V. Brown and Irwin

S. Spear, university botanists, are directing research into chemical features related to nutritional values of Southwestern grasses.

The project is proposed to determine chemical differences among selected strains of forage grasses and to discover seasonal chemical changes in single plants. The chemical-composition studies, based on several years' collections and observations at the university, will help determine what plants should be developed further, a botany department spokesman said.

Pilot Drives $42,000 Car Designed for Woolworth

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—The speedometer registers 31,000 miles, but it is broken so there's no way of knowing how far the Brewster has traveled. It uses very little gas.

While the car was stored on the Woolworth estate, someone in the Reynolds research laboratory removed the black paint from the body to show the aluminum. Johnson likes it that way.

Veterinarians Warn of Rabies in Cattle

CHICAGO (UP)—The American Veterinary Medical Assn. has warned of the danger of rabies in cattle. It said that the possibility of vaccinating cattle against rabies is under study.

Foxes, squirrels and even vampire bats in some areas of the country and in Mexico are spreading rabies, the association reported.

A test of a new rabies vaccine on more than 1,000 cattle in Georgia show an immunity in 70 per cent of the animals after six and a half months, the association said.

In Georgia, the association reported, more than $100,000 worth of cattle were reported killed by rabies in four counties in 1952. A report from Mexico to the association said that vampire bats spread rabies to cattle there. About 800,000 cattle have been vaccinated with virtually complete protection, while about 12 per cent of unvaccinated cattle became rabid, the report said.

Admits Coed Engineers

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (UP)—The Providence Engineering Society has decided to recognize the 19th Amendment. The 60-year-old society voted to admit female engineers.

Philanthropy Increases

NEW YORK (UP)—Gifts and bequests for philanthropy in the United States reached new high levels in 1954, according to an index based on a study of publicly announced giving in 10 large cities made by John Price Jones Company, Inc. The total in 1954 was $603,047,382, as against $495,039,966 in 1953.

The Carlsbad Caverns were discovered in 1901 when Jim White, a cowboy, saw a great number of bats come out of an opening in the ground.

Can't Toot His Horn

INDIANAPOLIS (UP)—Thieves stole 11-year-old Tommy Burlash's trumpet from a plating company where the instrument was waiting to be refurbished. However, it wasn't of much value because Tommy's father had taken the values out before delivering it to the firm.

Tears are beneficial to the eyes. They help to clear the eye of foreign particles, such as dust and hairs, and keep it from drying out. If the cornea should dry out, the eye would become blind.

No Charge for Rooms

NEW BRITAIN, Conn. (UP)—A telephone inquirer asking whether an advertised room for rent was still vacant was told: "We have plenty of rooms—with and without. This is the police station."

Refugees Flow Into Hong Kong

Live in Squalor, Filth as Government Fights for Better Housing

HONG KONG (UP) — Hong Kong has reconciled itself to its role as haven for hundreds of thousands of refugees from Communism.

As a result, the housing of these penniless Chinese has been put on an emergency basis, with roughly $3,400,000 earmarked for the 1955-56 fiscal year to build homes for them.

The present situation is not pretty. Hundreds of thousands of refugees, who fled China in 1949 when the Communists took over, live in filth and squalor that any observer would find deplorable.

They live in patchwork huts with no plumbing or sewage facilities. They scrape together barely enough money doing coolie labor to buy food.

Edward Hambro, United Nations high commissioner for refugees, puts the number of refugees here at 680,000. An accurate count would be impossible.

But Hong Kong's population in 1941 was around 800,000. Today, it is estimated at close to 3,000,000. And the increase is almost entirely due to the flight of Communist-hating Chinese to this British colony.

The teeming squatter areas pose huge problems and dangers. Hardly a month goes by that there are not several squatter villages destroyed by fire. The squatter areas are infested with disease.

To combat this, the Hong Kong government, in its 1955-56 budget, has allotted approximately $3,400,000 for housing and resettlement of refugee squatters. This represents about 4 1/2 per cent of the budget.

About 120,000 former squatters have now been re-housed and are living in resettlement areas.

Additional accommodations for over 20,000 persons are under construction, so it can be said that the squatter problem is about half solved.

State Offers Everyone Chance to Own Forest

LANSING (UP) — Private forests are now within the reach of anyone with a little land, a little money and a lot of patience.

For as little as $7.50, you can buy 1,000 seedlings that in 15 or 18 years will grow into a tidy forest. The Michigan Conservation Department offers them under the reforestation program. It figures Michigan residents will buy about 20 million seedlings this year. Last year the figure was 12.5 million.

Speeders Set Off Electronic Siren

CHICAGO (UP) — An electronic device that sounds a siren warning when drivers exceed speed limits has been developed for school zones, recreation areas and congested sections, the American Public Works Association reports. The sirens will be installed at the extremities of speed zones as speeding vehicles will set off the alarm when they enter the zones. The warning serves three purposes, the association said. It lets pedestrians know there is a vehicle coming on at an excessive speed, it alerts drivers to the fact that they're speeding and it draws attention to traffic violators and thus helps law enforcement officials. The system can be automatically timed to work at certain fixed intervals each day.

Tires Changed at $50 Apiece

It Takes Specialists to Cope With 1,200-Pound Monsters

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Monroe Bey is a specialist at changing tires at $50 apiece.

That's a lot of money but the tires he changes are big ones. They weigh approximately 1,200 pounds, are a little more than 6 feet across, and cost from $1,200 to $1,600 each.

Most of them are used on earth-moving equipment, big machines which will tote about 45,000 pounds of dirt.

Quite a few of these vehicles are being used in Kentucky now, and that's why Bey's employers, a supply firm, decided to enter the tire-changing field.

The company invested $8,000 in a truck equipped with a hoist and other labor-saving tools, then sat back to wait for business.

It wasn't long in coming because the big tires blow out or go flat with about as much regularity as those on an automobile.

Bey and his co-worker, John Mueller, usually spend from three to six hours changing a tire. Some come off fairly easy. Others don't. That accounts for the time variation.

And time is important since the contractors figure they lose about $60 every hour that an earth-moving machine is idle.

Town Makes Good Use of Ex-Resident's Legacy

PERRYOPOLIS, Pa. (AP)—This small southwestern Pennsylvania community is going to have a modern sewage system, thanks to a woman who left about $1,500,000 to her home town, Mrs. Mary Fuller Frazier of Philadelphia, who died several years ago, stipulated the money be used for civic improvements.

The first improvement made when the money finally became available more than a year ago was 113 new street lights.

The trustees of the estate now have given their okay to the sewage system to cost $325,000.

Rubber Makes Grade Crossing Smooth for Cars

AKRON, Ohio (UP)—The old time head-banging railroad crossing has disappeared in one place here, and developers of a newer and smoother type predict it soon will vanish throughout the country.

The new and smooth crossing is made of rubber—the first such in the world. It is so arranged that an automobile crosses level with the tracks and can barely feel it when it goes over them.

Slabs of rubber form the roadway. They are a little over 3 inches thick, including a sandwiched sheet of heavy gauge steel.

The roadway rests on heavy treated wood planking laid on top of each railroad tie. Each slab is fastened down by 12-inch screws.

The slabs are sprung into place. They have tapered flanges where they meet the rails and thus form a watertight joint to keep water from seeping through.

Instructors Almost Outnumber Pupils

PUTNEY, Vt. (UP)—Tiny Windham College is probably the only college in the country where faculty almost outnumbers the students.

Enrollment at the proudly different school has often numbered only 12 or 15—never more than 40—while the faculty includes 10 instructors.

The two-year, co-educational school, housed in three large old houses in Putney Village, specializes in "cross-exchanges" of American and foreign students. In its first three years, less than half of Windham's students were from North America.

Its English courses are representative of the difference in its structure and aims. A doctor from Colombia became fluent in English within nine weeks. Another Colombian compressed his courses into three months and now teaches English to students in his native country.

Virtually all of the foreign students go on to other colleges in the United States to specialize in various fields of study.

The "experimental" school was established in 1951.

Says That West Misuses Water

Prof. at UCLA Warns Area May Not Be Able to Meet Future Needs

LOS ANGELES (UP)—Water, the West's major natural resource, is being badly misused, and if something isn't done about it soon, the area stretching from the Great Plains to the Pacific Coast will not be able to meet the demands of the future, an irrigation expert has warned.

Martin R. Huberty, professor of irrigation and engineering on the Los Angeles campus of the University of California, pointed out that the West uses most of its water for irrigation.

But, he added, only 1 per cent of that vast land area is under irrigation, and, because of poor methods, much of the water now in use is lost by evaporation.

Huberty declared that farmers must learn to apply irrigation water more effectively, if their land is to produce enough food to meet the demands of a growing population.

To conserve the water already available, Huberty added, industry should make a conscious effort not to pollute water supply unnecessarily so it will be available for reuse.

As for developing new sources of water supply, Huberty warned that neither cloud-seeding nor reclaiming sea water are likely to help out in the immediate future.

However, he said, results to date do show promise for reclaiming slightly salty waters in arid regions.

Huberty said promising areas for new water supplies which could be used for expanded irrigation and other needs include Hudson Bay in North Dakota, the Mississippi River for the Great Plains area, the Gulf of Mexico for Texas and part of New Mexico, the Gulf of California for the Colorado River watershed land, the great basin of Utah and Nevada, and the great basins of the north and south Pacific Coast.

These seven major drainage basins cover approximately 1,118,000 miles, he said, and when and if developed, could provide all the water necessary for expanding needs. In the meantime, he warned, the West's largest single fresh water source is the Columbia River through which 150,000,000 acre-feet of fresh water are annually lost to the sea.

Jet Planes Causing Zoning Headaches

CHICAGO (UP)—Jet planes are a problem for city and county zoning boards because they require a lot of room for landings and takeoffs.

In a study of land-use problems created by jets, the American Society of Planning Officials said the situation needs facing now because the volume of jets in the air will grow in the next five years.

In a report setting forth information to be taken into account in planning for jet airports and surrounding territory, the society said jets need more land than propeller-driven planes because:

1. The jet is more sluggish during take-off.

2. Because of design characteristics—sweep-back wings and the like—jets do not lift off the ground as quickly as propellercraft.

3. Jets must carry a bigger part of their weight in fuel, making them slower to get airborne.

4. Jets need more space in which to land because of their high speed.

Dust Bowl Cure: Rain, Prayer, Care

(Editor's Note: Reporter John Booth accompanied Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson on last week's tour of the Southwest, where officials fear another "dust bowl" is threatening the Great Plains. In two articles, Booth reports what five years of drought have done to the once-productive area and tells what steps have been taken or are being planned to meet the "dust bowl" threat.)

By JOHN BOOTH

WASHINGTON (INS)—Rain, prayer—and long-range conservation.

Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson believes these are the answers to the multi-billion-dollar drought and wind erosion problems in the nation's potential "dust bowl."

The Cabinet member's recent tour of the Great Plains in the Southwest has confirmed his opinion that the only permanent solution for this once lush area is a long-range, carefully executed conservation program.

Benson frankly admits that he has no cure-all plan to tie down the billowing clouds of dust that are making parts of a vast seven-state area a near desert.

Like farmers and everyone else who is suffering through this fifth year of severe drought, the secretary knows that the only immediate answer is rain. It's as simple as that.

In two of the hardest-hit states—Colorado and New Mexico—Benson suggested that the governors might well proclaim special days of prayer for crop-saving rains.

But much of this sprawling plains country has no crops left to save. Physical and economic damage, generally speaking, is as serious as it was when the first disaster of this kind struck in the 1930s.

This time, however, there is one important difference. There is no panicky rush to get off the land and let the wind take over. Everywhere there is dogged determination to stick it out with such help as the federal and state governments can offer.

Government emergency aid takes many forms. In Colorado alone the Farmers Home Administration has made more than 600 drought disaster loans this season totaling more than $1,100,000.

Other kinds of credit help producers buy cut-rate feed grains and hay to maintain their basic livestock breeding herds, to install irrigation systems and to carry out a variety of conservation measures.

As broad as these emergency programs are, there is expected to be some action to expand federal assistance. One possibility is that the periods for repayment of government loans may be extended.

Meanwhile, the matter of developing a program to attack the causes rather than the effects of dust storms is being approached from many angles.

Benson has had a special committee of agency heads in his own department working on it for some time. The Great Plains Council, representing 10 states, has wrestled with the problem for years.

The course official thinking is taking should become clearer at a series of conferences to be held in Denver between May 31 and June 2. Benson has invited governors of the 10 states to meet with him there on June 1.

The Cabinet officer is expected to call for a complete soils survey throughout the plains region as a basis for deciding the best possible use for any given tract of land.

One of the chief difficulties at present, as Benson is aware, is that distinguishing between productive lands and marginal lands is a well-nigh superhuman task.

Land which is marginal one season may not be marginal the next, depending on crop prices, rainfall and other factors.

The Benson plan almost certainly will call for a better balanced agriculture in the Great Plains. The secretary has said many times that farmers in this area should develop more livestock herds, together with supporting pastures and feed crops.

Finally, the program very likely will recommend turning large acreages back to grass—perhaps as much as 20 per cent of the land now under the plow.

Dog Brings In Evidence to Convict Duck Hunter

ROSEVILLE, Calif. (UP)—California game wardens have credited a dog with aiding in the arrest of a rancher who shot ducks out of season from an airplane.

The wardens said Edgar Ernest, 41, Rio Linda, Calif., was spotted shooting ducks from his airplane. The wardens, working in separate cars, followed the plane by keeping close radio contact and found it at a ranch landing strip.

Their dog then rounded up the dead birds for evidence. Ernest paid a $200 fine.

How soon the secretary will be ready to lay final concrete proposals on the line is his secret. The only inkling on how the wind blows came in an announcement that he would invite farm organization leaders and others interested in drought problems to confer with him in Washington late in June.

'Long Arm of the Law' Is Too Strong for Door

BEAVER FALLS, Pa. (UP)—The proprietor of a store found the lock on the front door broken and the lock screws removed. He reported attempted burglary.

Police listed the case as unsolved for several weeks until a mislaid report from night patrolman John Jackson turned up. Jackson reported he rattled the door and the "lock broke and the screws fell out."

Jackson smiles when other members of the department refer to "the long arm of the law with a strong paw."

Lewis Still Uncommitted in CIO-AFL Labor Merger

By DON WHITEHEAD

WASHINGTON (U-P)—John L. Lewis is the mystery man of American labor today, standing on the sidelines while the AFL and CIO push forward with plans to merge their 15 million members into one giant federation.

The shaggy-browed chief of the United Mine Workers of America remains uncommitted and enigmatic. He declines to give a hint as to whether he will eventually make peace with the AFL-CIO chiefs and give organized labor virtually a solid front in pushing for expansion and political power. But there are signs aplenty he doesn't intend to at least not right now.

The best hint as to Lewis' thinking comes from his old friend and long-time lieutenant Thomas Kennedy, UMWA vice president, whose statements usually can be taken as an accurate reflection of Lewis' own views.

Kennedy said in reply to a list of questions that organized labor could boost its present membership of 16 million (this includes the AFL, CIO and independents) to more than 26 million members under certain conditions.

Then he added: "These conditions would include, first, a unified labor movement with a militant leadership that is capable of standing up for labor's rights and with the ability to see beyond the end of a Stillson wrench."

The implication is inescapable that Kennedy doesn't think that kind of leadership will be present in George Meany, AFL president who will head the merger and, with whom Lewis has been at odds for years.

Kennedy had "no comment" when asked if he could foresee a time when the miners would join the merger and under what conditions such a move might be made.

Kennedy indicated that Lewis and the UMWA believe the AFL and CIO are moving too deeply into politics before consolidating their strength by or organizing drive. On this score, Kennedy said: "The American labor movement is now and always has been essentially an economic movement in contrast to the European labor movement, which has been basically a political movement."

"The UMWA foresees the greatest advances for labor to be gained through organizing the unorganized. It would appear obvious that as long as there are approximately 60 million Americans in the work force and only 16 million of them belong to unions, that organized labor still has a tremendous job of organizing to do.

"It stands to reason that political action is not the No. 1 job of organized labor but is secondary to the basic job of organizing the unorganized. Votes are what count in political action, and unless labor is able to convince the politicians that it can deliver the votes, the politicians are not going to pay much attention to the leadership of labor when that leadership proposes legislation of a favorable nature." Kennedy thinks labor's greatest achievement in the past 20 years was the organization of the basic mass production industries such as steel, automobiles, electric manufacturing, etc.—and Lewis' success in winning the first industrywide welfare and retirement fund for his miners.

What, then, has been labor's greatest failure?

Kennedy said: "The greatest failure has been the failure to spread organization into unorganized fields, particularly in the southern states. This has been partly due to the lack of unity in the labor movement and partly due to restrictive legislation."

Where will John L. Lewis go? No man can say except Lewis, whose shaggy eyebrows are growing gray with age. But at 71, he remains a labor power and there never can be a truly united labor front without him.

Bonn Peace Forces Soviet to Drop 2 Austria Demands

By CHARLES M. McCANN
United Press Staff Correspondent

Russia, faced with the certainty of German rearmament, has made two important concessions in the Austrian treaty negotiations now being conducted in Vienna.

The Soviet government started by pursuing its usual tactics in such negotiations.

It tried to word the treaty so Austria would not be really independent.

It tried to include an article that would permit it to get hold of the Iron Curtain refugees now being sheltered in Austria.

As the result, the negotiations which started off so smoothly on Monday ran into some snags.

Nevertheless, Allied diplomatic authorities insisted all along that the Kremlin seemed ready at last to sign the treaty restoring to Austria the sovereignty which it lost when Nazi Germany seized it in 1938.

Their optimism now seems justified, for the Soviet delegation has announced that it is ready to drop two unacceptable demands.

One was on the fate of the Iron Curtain refugees. The other was that the Austrian armed forces be rigidly restricted in size.

It is reported that Secretary of State John Foster Dulles hopes the treaty may be signed in Vienna around the middle of this month.

As has been pointed out, if Russia does agree to an acceptable treaty, it will be because of its acute anxiety over the prospect of West German rearmament.

Sees A-Power Running Autos

UM Engineering Dean Also Predicts Use of Sun Energy

ANN ARBOR (U-P)—By the year 2000 automobiles may be operating on electricity from atomic power stations, and energy from the sun, harnessed by huge mirrors, may have become man's major source of power.

Possibilities of such a solar and atomic paradise were described by George Granger Brown, dean of the University of Michigan College of Engineering.

Dean Brown spoke on "Future Sources of Power" in a university lecture.

The rapid decrease in the earth's supply of fossil fuels eventually will turn this nation to other sources of energy, Dean Brown said.

"If we could convert 3 per cent of the solar energy that falls on one-tenth of the land area of the world into electric power, the world could sustain a population of five billion at the high level of living anticipated at the end of another century," he said.

He outlined one plan which he called "Technically practical, if expensive."

He proposed that 80 square miles of land in New Mexico be covered with mirrors. If the mirrors were 10 per cent effective, he said, the present requirements for work in this country could be met.

The application of solar energy could take place within the next 15 to 20 years, Brown said, before the world's supply of fossil fuels, such as gas, coal and oil, reach a critically low point.

Five thousand nuclear reactors, such as those currently used, he said, could assume 20 per cent of the world's work requirements in the next 50 years.

Germans would be told that they, too, could have a treaty and get foreign occupation troops out of their country if they would refuse to rearm.

This appeal is strong. In the Vienna negotiations, the United States, British and French delegates must not only oppose the greediness of the Russians. They must guard against over-eagerness by the Austrians themselves to give the Russians concessions in order to get rid of the detested Red army.

One snag in the Vienna negotiations concerned about 36,000 refugees from behind the Iron curtain who are now in Austria. They include Russians, Poles, Czechs, Slovaks, Hungarians and Romanians.

These people have escaped from Iron Curtain territory at risk of their lives. They are the fortunate ones. Thousands of others have been shot while trying to cross the border or have been killed by land mines planted along it.

Russia tried to word the treaty so it could get all these people into its grip, to be tortured, enslaved or murdered.

A second snag concerns the size of the Austrian armed forces. Russia wanted to limit the Austrian army to 53,000 men, and the air force to 5,000 men—with 90 planes.

Russia also, however, wants Austria to be completely neutral. An army of 53,000 is hardly large enough to permit Austria to attempt to defend its neutrality. Further, this restriction would limit Austria's sovereignty.

Fish Banners Float Over Japanese Homes

TOKYO (U-P)—Thousands of "fish" floated over Japan today. Bright-colored banners tailed to look like carp were displayed from flagpoles on almost every home in the nation to mark Children's Day, a national holiday.

To the Japanese the carp is the most spirited of fish, ready to overcome all obstacles.

That's the way they want their children to be.

Free Germany's 10-Year Twist of Fate

1945: No. 1 Foe . . . 1955: Key Ally

An innocent generation of Germans looks at its inheritance—shame, bombed-out cities, poverty and a thoroughly defeated homeland. Now, ten years after the surrender of Germany, May 8, 1945, that inheritance is remarkably transformed west of the Soviet zone.

As the East-West cold war developed, the western world saw the need for West Germany's aid in defending Europe against possible Communist aggression. Plans were made for West Germany to contribute 12 divisions to a European army, but France's fear of a re-armed Germany kept these plans from becoming an early reality. Meanwhile, a West German police force, armed only with small weapons, grew up, later to become the nucleus of a West German army within the framework of NATO. A group of these police inspect weapons, above, during training in American sector in Berlin.

Under the Yalta Agreement defeated Germany was divided into four zones, one each administered by U. S., Great Britain, France and Russia. Russia's zone soon became communized, and the Western zones merged their zones in 1949, creating anti-Communist Federal Republic of Germany.

West Germany's economy, in the meantime, made rapid strides. Today she is the strongest nation in Europe, economically, competing commercially in world markets. The Republic's 1954 import and export figures more than doubled prewar 1934 levels.

Then, West Germany rolled up its sleeves for the build-up job ahead. Under the leadership of Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, it immediately began a comeback that has made West Germany the strongest nation in Europe, and vital key to the success of NATO.

West Germany's independence was assured when the western powers completed ratification of the Paris pact to rearm their one-time enemy and end occupation. Although fear of a remilitarized Germany lingers in many quarters, NATO nations are pleased that a free West Germany is joining them in the struggle against communism. This pleasure is reflected above in the faces of U. S. President Eisenhower, left, and Secretary of State Dulles as the President signs U. S. approval of the pact. West Germany will be the 15th NATO nation. And while West Germans rejoice at their freedom, their countrymen in the Russian zone remain under the Communist fist.

Berry Plant Inspection Starts Early This Year

LANSING (U-P)—Inspection of strawberry and raspberry plants will start earlier than usual this year because the growing season is ahead of schedule, the State Agriculture Department said today.

The inspection, done by the department's Bureau of Plant Industry, generally doesn't get under way until mid-May.

State law requires that strawberry and raspberry plants sold commercially be inspected twice during the growing season.

House GOP Hopes to Knock Out Dem Farm Measure

WASHINGTON (U-P)—Republican House forces hoped with the aid of some Democratic votes to administer a knockout blow today to a bill to scrap the administration's flexible farm price supports.

The House Democratic leadership, seeking to restore price supports to high rigid levels opposed by President Eisenhower, suffered a setback yesterday. The House voted 186-150 to eliminate peanuts from the list of basic farm commodities on which price supports are mandatory. That tentative vote was subject to a later roll call on which it could be affirmed or reversed. Some Northern Democrats voted with the Republicans.

In advance of today's session, Rep. Harrison (R-Neb.), a leader of the administration farm forces, told newsmen, "In my opinion the bill will be defeated."

The Senate has not acted and has indicated it will not consider such a bill this year. And even if one should pass, it probably would be vetoed by the President.

Eisenhower said his news conference yesterday the price squeeze now being experienced by farmers stemmed from the old program of price supports at a rigid 90 per cent of parity.

He said the new plan, which does not take effect until this year's crops are harvested, should be given an opportunity to work and that he is convinced it will bring permanent prosperity to farmers.

The bill before the House would scrap the present flexible program of supports at 82½ to 90 per cent of parity, and reinstate mandatory supports at 90 per cent on basic crops. Parity is a legal standard designed to give farmers a fair return in relation to their costs.

Sponsored by Rep. Green (D-Pa.), the amendment would take peanuts off the list of "basic" crops and permit unrestricted planting. Price support would be left to the discretion of the secretary of agriculture.

The peanut amendment, if allowed to remain in the bill, threatened to split high-support forces by denying that crop the mandatory supports now provided for them and for rice, corn, wheat, cotton and tobacco.

Northville Oil Field Converted to Gas

LANSING (U-P)—The Northville oil field is being converted to natural gas production effective today, the State Conservation Department announced.

Gerald E. Eddy, supervisor of wells, said the change was recommended by the State Advisory Board. It places the primary value in gas, instead of oil, shifts responsibility of administration to the Public Service Commission and permits a number of capped wells to be opened for production.

Eddy said the change came as a result of a decline in oil production from the field. It is now more economical to produce gas from the field, Eddy said.

Temporary production will be set at 200,000 cubic feet of gas per 24-hour day until a proration order is issued by the Public Service Commission.

Ike Promises Vaccine for All

President Prepared to Use Curbs if Voluntary System Fails

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower's promise that Salk polio vaccine "is going to be distributed equitably" stilled for a time today congressional demands that the government take on full supervision.

But Congress members, like the President, appeared ready to step in with mandatory controls if the voluntary system Eisenhower advocated should fail.

The President told his news conference yesterday that no child would be deprived of the vaccine "for want of ability to pay." A later White House statement went further, saying:

"If a situation ever develops in this country where children are deprived of the vaccine because of inability to pay or maldistribution of the supply available, the President would immediately ask . . . authority . . . to buy the entire output of the vaccine. . . ."

Rep. Keating (R-NY) said he would introduce legislation today to give Eisenhower a million-dollar fund to buy vaccine for needy children.

Army Burns Up Surplus Stock of Quinine Pills

ST. LOUIS — Maj. J. V. Huffman, chief of the stock control division at the St. Louis Army medical depot, says 11,000 bottles of quinine sulfate tablets were burned last month because it was not economically sound to put them on the surplus market.

Each bottle contained 1,000 five-grain tablets. They cost a total of $28,050 and had a current value of $7,520, Maj. Huffman said he did not know when the tablets were acquired nor how many were still fit for use.

He said yesterday there was no longer an Army demand for the tablets which were used for malaria but had been replaced by more effective drugs. Maj. Huffman also said there was no demand from other federal agencies and they were not wanted for government stockpiling.

The officer said a laboratory analysis is required before the tablets could have been offered as surplus on the open market and in this case there were 162 different lot, each requiring a separate representative analysis. The cost of this, he said, made it economically unsound to put the tablets on the market.

The bottles were burned at the Granite City, Ill., Army Engineers depot in two batches on April 19 and April 21.

Saar to Become European Area

Coal Valley Won't Be German or French or Independent

SAARBRUECKEN, Saarland (U) — The new Saar statute which goes into effect today creates a new kind of territory out of the tiny German-speaking coal valley on the border between France and Germany.

Until a final peace treaty with Germany decides its permanent status, it will be neither German, French nor independent.

It will be European, under the supervision of the seven nations of the new Western European Union. They are France, West Germany, Britain, Belgium, the Netherlands, Luxembourg and Italy.

WEU will set up a control commission. WEU will name a high commissioner who can be neither French, German nor a Saarlander.

Otherwise the 970,000 Saarlanders will run the government of their 991 square miles of territory, as they have since the end of 1947. They have a 50-member elected legislature, and a coalition government of the Christian People's party and the Socialists.

The new statute and subsequent French-German agreements continue France's monetary and customs union with the Saar. The valley's biggest steel plant, the Roehling works, will be shared between French and German private interests.

West Germany gets an increasing part of the Saar's trade. The Saarlanders themselves must accept or reject their new status in a plebiscite to be held within the next three months. The territory's government parties are strongly in favor of them; the pro-German groups complain they won't have enough campaign time to make much of a dent.

Legion Endorses Bill

INDIANAPOLIS (U) — The National Executive Committee of the American Legion has endorsed a bill that would give the government more time to prosecute attempted treason, spying and sabotage. The bill, by Sen. Butler (R-Md.), would increase from 5 to 15 years the statute of limitations in subversive activities cases.

Mendes Wins Party Control

But His Swing to Left Threatens to Split the Radical Socialists

PARIS (U) — Ex-Premier Pierre Mendes-France stepped out on the comeback trail today as the dominant voice in France's powerful Radical Socialist party. But his pledge to put it back in the forefront of leftist, non-Communist thinking threatened to split the organization.

His opponents accused him of seeking to lead the Radical Socialists into a working agreement with the Communists, a charge denied by the energetic former premier.

Mendes-France won control of the party machinery last night at a stormy one-day special convention. He called for the Radical Socialists to turn to the left and agree on a specific program before next year's general election.

Once considered well to the left, the Radicals have become more and more conservative with the years and have acquired a reputation for vagueness of principle.

Mendes-France's triumph was assured when the 1,800 delegates voted by a show of hands to oust his chief rival, former Justice Minister Leon Martinat-Deplat, from the party's executive presidency.

Three of Family Hurt in Accident

The Rev. Paul McCombs, 30, of 5871 Mill, Waterford, his wife Colleen, 23, and son James 2 months, were injured in a two-car accident last night at Walton and Dixie Hwy., according to Waterford Township Police.

Mrs. McCombs is reported in good condition at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital with a fractured pelvis and her son was admitted with head injuries. McCombs, minister at the Elizabeth Lake Christian Church was treated for a broken finger.

Police quoted McCombs as saying he attempted to drive through the intersection when the signal light was yellow. The accident occurred when another auto driven by Ronald J. Collins, 24, of Clarkston, attempted a left turn, said police.

Net Sales Set Record

FT. MADISON, Ia. — Net sales of the W. A. Sheaffer Pen Company for the fiscal year ended Feb. 28, 1955 reached a record high of $27,072,821, an increase of 7.6 per cent over the previous year's record, W. A. Sheaffer II, president, announced today.

Acquits Ferrell in Phenix Killing

Jury Deliberates for 13 Hours Before Freeing Ex-Prosecutor

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (U) — Arch Ferrell, prosecutor at Phenix City in the days of its lush rackets empire, is free of the charge that he murdered vice foe A. L. Patterson last June 18.

The 35-year-old Ferrell sat tense yesterday as a jury returned the verdict of acquittal after deliberating 13 hours and 11 minutes. The decision came after a 17-day trial.

The young attorney, stripped of his office in the cleanup campaign which followed the Patterson slaying, had nothing to say to newsmen concerning his future plans.

Patterson was shot down outside his law office 17 days after he had been nominated as Alabama attorney general on a pledge to wipe out Phenix City's multi-million-dollar vice empire.

Ferrell was one of three men charged with the slaying. Albert Fuller, former chief deputy sheriff at Phenix City, was convicted and sentenced to life here March 11. Former Atty. Gen. Si Garrett is in a mental hospital in Galveston, Tex., and has not been tried.

The former prosecutor contended that he was talking with Garrett, who was in Birmingham, on the phone at the instant Patterson was slain. Garrett told the same story to Birmingham reporters the night of the killing. He was not here for the Ferrell trial.

Ferrell sat frozen in his chair after the verdict. His attractive brunette wife was tearful with joy.

Counsel for Ferrell had sought to postpone the trial at this time because a jury which acquitted Ferrell of vote fraud charges in March was criticized by two officials for that action.

The vote fraud, in which 600 votes were added here to the total for Patterson's opponent in a vain effort to change the outcome, figured largely in the murder case.

Special prosecutor Cecil Deason told the murder jury Ferrell had tried to buy the attorney general's race with $23,000 from Phenix City gamblers; then tried to steal it by changing votes; and then shot Patterson down to keep the 60-year-old crippled World War I veteran from carrying out his pledge.

Water Study Group Slates First Meeting

A tentative May 16 first-meeting date has been set by the recently formed Oakland-Macomb-St. Clair County water study committee.

The three delegations are expected to meet in the County-City Bldg. in Port Huron at 8 p.m., according to Howard K. Kelley, of Royal Oak, chairman of the Oakland group.

The initial meeting will probably be concerned with discussing water problems of individual counties, then setting up a permanent organization and meeting schedule," Kelley explained.

"As I understand our purpose," said Kelley, "it is to work with the other two counties to formulate a plan to solve the long-range water need, then get permission from our local boards of supervisors to form an authority or whatever group is needed to take the necessary action."

"It will be a long, difficult process," he warned, "and we must have a lot of support from groups and individual citizens."

'Barbershoppers' Seek New Members

Harmonizers of Pontiac's Chapter 17 Barber Shop Quartet Singers launched their annual membership program this week, according to William Pascher, chorus Director.

Local chapter of SPEBSQSA, the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America Inc., hopes to recruit 65 new members by the end of the year.

Persons interested in singing or listening may attend any of the Society's regular rehearsal meetings, the first three Mondays of each month, 7:30 p.m. at the Knights of Pythias Hall 277, 962 Voorheis, Pascher said.

A social meeting, with entertainment provided by the chapter, is held the last Friday of the month, for members and guests.

Michigan has 1,800 quartet singers in 40 chapters throughout the state.

But Search Continues for U.S. Flying Tanker in North Atlantic

REYKJAVIK, Iceland (U) — Little hope was held today for nine crewmen of a U. S. Air Force flying tanker which plunged flaming into the stormy North Atlantic. But an air-sea search continued on the chance some might have gotten clear of the blazing wreckage.

U. S. Air Force headquarters said the plane, a strato-cruiser-type oil transport, radioed yesterday it was afloat about 90 miles southwest of Iceland. The aircraft was en route from Keflavik, Iceland to Prestwick, Scotland.

Later rescue craft reported seeing a big oil slick and what appeared to be wreckage, but said there was no sign of survivors.

Air Force headquarters in London said the plane belonged to the 310th Air Refueling Squadron and was on a training mission. Normally stationed at Salina, Kan. the unit is now on overseas duty. The Air Force listed the missing as:

Lt. Billy N. Baker, 29, Blackwell, Okla.; Lt. Hugh L. Crowther, 35, Montclair, N. J.; S. Sgt. Robert C. Merriman 32, Chicago; A. 1. C. M.R. Devries, 26, Phoenix, Ariz.; A. 2. C. Courtney R. Taulbee, 24, Dayton, Ohio; A. 1. C. Joseph Lee Priddy, 26, Sturgis, S. D.; Lt. Harold J. Everly, 33, Rock Island, Ill.; A. 2. C. Virgil Bryant 24, McAlester, Okla.; A. 2. C. Roger Johann, Kewaskum, Wis.

Search for Owner of Tagless Burro

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (U) — Anybody know who belongs to Judy? Judy is a little burro from Texas who has been living at the Railway Express office here for five days — ever since a companion burro ate the tags off Judy's crate.

Railway express says a check with the shippers in Laredo, Tex., hasn't been very helpful so far. They can't remember Judy's destination.

So Judy will probably be farmed out until somebody somewhere comes looking for a missing burro.

Hy-Grade Corp. Buys Chicago, Tampa Plants

MUNCIE, Ind. (U) — John Hartmeyer, executive vice president of Marhoefer Packing Co., announced last night the sale of the firm's Chicago and Tampa, Fla., plants to Hy-Grade Food Products Corp. of Detroit. Financial details were not disclosed.

Hartmeyer said the plants will be operated with the same personnel as the Marhoefer Division of Hy-Grade. Marhoefer had owned the Chicago plant since 1941 but bought the Tampa plant from Cudaly Packing Co. only last October.

The Marhoefer official indicated extensive expansion is planned for the firm's Muncie plant.

Tent Caterpillars Hatching in State

LANSING (U) — Forest tent caterpillars have been spotted hatching in the Alpena area, Richard Fox, State Conservation Department entomologist, reported today.

"This means that the big crawlers will soon be out elsewhere in the north," Fox said.

Fox said the most serious defoliation this year probably will be near Grand Lake, Alpena County, at other spots in the and near Escanaba and Iron Mountain in the Upper Peninsula.

The outbreak will not be a serious one compared to the invasions by millions of the pests several years ago, Fox said. He said parasites are destroying the caterpillars and this year should see an end of the nuisance.

Fox said if DDT spraying projects are planned near resort or residential areas they should be started within the next two weeks.

Stiff Sentence Imposed for 2nd Driving Offense

William H. Houck, 50, of 3747 Lakewood, yesterday was assessed $500 court costs and ordered not to drive in the United States when he appeared in Oakland County Circuit Court after admitting to a second drunk driving offense.

Houck was arrested Jan. 26 in Waterford Township. He was previously convicted Sept. 23, 1953, in Bloomfield Township.

Jury to Mall Herron's Fate

Second Degree Murder Trial Testimony May End Today

The fate of Charley R. Herron, charged with second degree murder, was expected to be placed in the hands of an Oakland County Circuit Court jury today.

Herron, 37, of 357 Rockwell Ave., is accused of the fatal shooting last Sept. 25 of Lawrence Freeman, 28, of 478 Dismar Ave. in the back yard of a home at 29 Iowa St.

An argument had developed between Herron and the victim over Freeman's attempts to get his estranged wife to rejoin him, police said.

Some eight witnesses were called yesterday, including neighbors and police officers. The testimony included a statement that Freeman and Herron had fought previously on Aug. 22 last year.

Assistant Prosecutor Homer G. Gerue said he plans to read a transcript of a confession Herron allegedly made to police into the record today. Judge H. Russell Holland is presiding.

Drayton Man Hurt in 3-Car Collision

James R. Davidson, 67, of Drayton Plains was treated at Pontiac General Hospital for minor face cuts and bruises Wednesday after his auto was involved in a 3-car crash at Hatcher and Airport Rds., Waterford Township Police said.

Davidson's car collided with one being driven by Miss Patricia Keene, 17, of Drayton Plains. The impact drove Davidson's auto into one being driven by William Kelly, 45, of Waterford.

Miss Keene said she was unable to avoid Davidson's car as he drove onto Airport from Hatcher.

YOUR SPRING FLOWER GARDEN—4

The Narcissus

The narcissus, a beautiful yellow or white blossom, was named for a boy in Greek mythology. The story says that the boy, Narcissus, loved his own reflection so much that he would stare all the time into a pool of water. He was so vain that the gods punished him. When he died, the legend says, he was changed into this flower.

Originally from Europe, the narcissus is a sweet-smelling flower and is cultivated in many parts of this country. Narcissus is really the name for a family of flowers which includes both daffodils and jonquils. They all grow from bulbs, have long stems and sword-shaped leaves.

In the spring, the Alpine meadows of Switzerland are covered with thousands of these lovely flowers. They are planted in the fall and bloom in March and April.

The drawing shows Patty placing three flower pots filled with the poet's narcissus near a window so they can get enough sunlight. Color the flowers as part of the week-long series on spring blossoms.

'Walking Encyclopedia' Is Beautiful to Actress

NEW YORK (INS)—The "walking encyclopedia" of television is a pretty blonde actor's daughter who never went to college.

She's June Lockhart, Gene Lockhart's little girl, who grew up to be a regular panelist on the weekly "What Said That?" quiz program, where she must identify quotes from the news and from quips that have stood the test of time.

"That's a slight exaggeration," said June, smilingly referring to the "walking encyclopedia" tag, "although you do pick up a lot of information you'd never know otherwise."

June spent her childhood and school years in Hollywood. Her father was one of the film colony's leading character actors.

On graduation from a girls' high school the slim and trim blonde signed with a movie studio. Among her picture credits are "Sergeant York," "All This and Heaven, Too," "White Cliffs of Dover" and "Meet Me in St. Louis."

She has acted in a number of television dramas and two Broadway productions. In her last Broadway play she sang.

"I'm all right if the singing is loud, fast, funny and not to be taken seriously. The show in which I sang lasted a fast 2½ weeks."

The dimpled, senior grade quiz kid puts in a lot of time studying for her panel show, about which she says:

"I love it. It's a great challenge. Once I was able to answer a question H. V. Kaltenborn missed. The study was worthwhile if this could happen."

The studying she speaks of totals about 20 hours a week, "more rehearsal time than they use on some half-hour dramatic shows."

She must read carefully all the New York daily and Sunday newspapers and several weekly news magazines. That takes two hours a day, three on Sunday and five the day of the show, catching up on anything missed and re-reading earlier notes.

"They won't let me raise my hand anymore unless nobody else knows the answer," June complains. She had been answering too many questions. "I'm learning to take this with good grace. For myself I don't mind, but explaining to my mother each week is really rather difficult."

"She wants to see her child with her paw in the air all the time." Two of the reasons for the answer girl's enjoyment of her program, she says, are the fellow "regulars" she performs with each week.

John Daly "does a beautiful job of moderating," according to June. Daly also finds favor with June's 13-month-old daughter, who throws kisses to Daly whenever she sees him on the screen.

And when it comes to the other steady panelist on the ABC network program, International News Service columnist Bob Considine, June, who is happily married to a New York doctor, grins and says:

June says she's much better informed since she first appeared on the show in 1952, but she added:

"The only time I've been able to put it to use was at a recent party. A woman had just returned from a well-publicized safari and I knew all the details. Pretty useless, isn't it?"

Collector Hunts for Pig Bottle

Kansas Professor Has More Than Hundred Model Hogs

MANHATTAN, Kan. (UP) — A Kansas professor is looking for a bottle—one shaped like a pig. Dr. C. E. Aubel of the Kansas State College Department of Animal Husbandry has a 25-year collection of model pigs. Now he is searching for a pig bottle.

"I have only seen two glass bottle models of pigs in the United States," he said. "But I still hope to get one for my collection."

Dr. Aubel has more than 100 model pigs, "every one with a story behind it."

One of his outstanding items is a carved jade model from China. It formerly was used as an amulet.

He also has a wooden model of a pig from Rhodesia, a carved model from the Philippines with the professor's name engraved thereon, a carved model from Russia and two china models known to be centuries old.

Models in the collection are of wood, glass, ivory, porcelain, bone, jade, peat, seashell, metals, china, clay and rubber.

Dr. Aubel has worked with hogs at K-State since 1915. He still heads the swine program at the college.

He keeps a file of clippings of unusual hog incidents dating back 30 years.

Troy Residents Acclaim Water System Proposal

AVON TOWNSHIP — More than 100 property owners from sections 34 and 35 of Avon Township last night heard finance expert Louis Schimmel and engineer Felix Anderson outline the financing of the new water system to be constructed in the southern portion of the township.

Residents were clamoring for work to begin, but were told it would take at least 70 days before construction could begin.

Schimmel said some of the delaying factors would be the necessary signing of new petitions, approval by the state and the approval of a bonding attorney.

Total cost of the project has been tentatively set at $500,000, to come from three potential sources. These are special assessment, privilege fee, and revenue from the use.

Further plans will be made following a meeting of township supervisor C. E. Miller, township attorney L. R. Bebout, clerk Frances O. Covert, and Pontiac bonding attorney Claude Stevens this afternoon.

Golf Equipment Stolen

FOUR EAGLES IN ONE NEST—Davisburg Troop of the Boy Scouts enjoys the distinction of elevating four of its members to the coveted Eagle rank in one ceremony. Organized only two and one-half years ago, in turning out Eagles, it has done what no other troop of similar age or size has done in the history of Clinton Valley Council. Above are the four scouts and their scoutmaster. Left to right: Robert Schoenhals, William Milton, Scoutmaster Lester Smith, Walter Brown and Darrel Kinney. Four other members of the troop also are approaching the Eagle rank.

Set Completion Date for School

Rochester High Building Expected to Be Finished by July 1, 1956

ROCHESTER—The new Rochester high school probably will be completed by July 1, 1956.

This announcement was made last night by Henry Haberkorn of H. E. Beyster Associates, architects and engineers of Detroit, who are completing plans for the new building.

To be located on a site at Livernois and Walton boulevard, the new school's projected construction schedule was announced by Haberkorn as follows:

Site grading: Drawings available for bid, May 16, 1955. Bids due and awards of contract, May 23, 1955. Work completed, August 1, 1955.

Building trades: Drawings available to bidders, July 25, 1955. Bids due, August 15, 1955. Award of contract, start construction, Sept. 1, 1955.

Haberkorn appeared before the Rochester Community Board of Education and said:

"An outstanding job of co-operative planning has been done on this school. It has involved school administration, staff, community and our architectural firm in joint planning which will give this school district a building new in planning, in construction and in school cost."

(A descriptive story on the new school's planning will appear in the Pontiac Press tomorrow.)

Quints Show Little Interest in Boys, Money

MONTREAL (INS)—Boys and a million dollars don't mean much to the Dionne quintuplets.

"There is too much to study now to think about it," said Yvonne Dionne, one of the four surviving members of the quintuplets. She was interviewed at the hospital where she is in training.

The world's most famous sisters have "no plans" to celebrate their coming-of-age May 23, when they will split a million-dollar trust fund.

"Cecile and I shall probably be on duty," Yvonne said.

Asked about rumors of an impending marriage for one of the sisters, Yvonne giggled girlishly and said:

"Oh, don't tell me! We don't even have boy friends. We don't have time to go out."

Yvonne seemed entirely indifferent to her share in the million-dollar trust fund, held for the quints since their birth 21 years ago in a farmhouse at Callander, Ont.

"I don't know what to do with it. I'm not interested in it right now," she said. "First I want to finish my course, and that will be two more years."

Asked if she would like to see the United States and Europe with some of the money, Yvonne's enormous brown eyes lit up brightly.

"Oh yes, that would be very nice... there are many places I should like to see—but not now."

For the first time, each of the sisters will spend her birthday in her own way.

In a sense, the separation will be an anticlimax, for the first blow at the charmed legend of the quintuplets came eight months ago with the death of Emile.

"The girls are much better now," one member of the family said. "They don't talk about Emile so much any more."

Yvonne Dionne—who with her air of puppy-like shyness looks more like a teenager than a young woman entering maturity—carefully shielded away from any mention of Emile.

Does she miss not being with all her sisters?

"Yes, of course, but you get used to it," Yvonne replied. "Besides, Cecile is here with me."

Yvonne and Cecile are in their first year of training at the suburban Hospital of Good Hope, run by an order of nuns.

A third sister, Annette, is studying piano and music at the Marguerite Bourgeoys College in Montreal.

"She has more time off, so we see her quite often," Yvonne said.

Annette hasn't yet decided what she will do on her birthday, but she probably will break away from her daily four-hour practice session to visit her sisters at the hospital.

"We're on night shift this month," Yvonne said. "That's from 8:30 at night until 8:30 in the morning."

"I like it—I don't like to get up in the morning," she laughed.

Tiny and slender, Yvonne's straight hair is clipped close in the trademark of an efficient nurse. She wears no makeup. With her unsophisticated eagerness to please, she is much prettier than her pictures indicate.

"I like everything about nursing—taking care of people, getting them to bed, working on case histories," Yvonne said enthusiastically.

"There is more than enough to keep busy here—we write exams three times a month."

She was modest about her marks: "Not too bad—Cecile's the same."

The two have one day off weekly. "Sometimes, we go out to see the city. I like Montreal. But mostly, we stay around the hospital," Yvonne said.

"I like to read and listen to music... but there is too much to study here to do anything else."

Asked if she went to any parties, Yvonne looked shocked, then said quickly, "Oh, no! No parties here... we have the sisters (nuns), you know..."

The four Dionne sisters do not expect to reunite until this summer. Yvonne said she and Cecile will probably go home for their two-week annual vacation. Annette plans to go home for the summer months when her school year ends in mid-June.

Of the three Dionne sisters studying in Montreal, Annette leads the most secluded life. When approached for an interview, she burst into tears and fled.

"I think she wants to be friendly, but she's afraid," a nun at the college said. "She won't see anyone unless she knows that it's a friend of hers or the family."

"I think Annette wants to teach music—but I don't know if she'd want to study for three more years," a member of the Dionne family laughed.

The Library of Congress in Washington was established in 1800.

Cramped Coach Flights OK for Small Fry

NEW YORK (INS)—I came to know a snoring brute quite well the other night while flying across the country. He was in my lap. We never got introduced socially. But that's not socially correct when flying coach-style, anymore than you strike up a conversation with the person you're glued to in an office elevator or unwillingly embrace on the subway to Jackson Heights.

This bum in my lap snored alto to somebody else's tenor snore down what was charitably called the aisle of this coach job. Which was bad enough. But what I chiefly resent about this sort of travel is that it makes a mockery out of the wide blue yonder.

The sky is the greatest and loveliest of the oceans of the earth. Its contents are similar to water, though thinner and lighter, but its vistas are incomparably greater than those of the earth-bound seas.

The storms aloft are more magnificent, the calms more entrancing, the color combinations a breath-taking delight. There are no shoals, no treacherous reefs, no sand to run upon, no channels, really. A fish, piscatorial or man-made, must stay within the prim confines of the banks. The plane is a bird, with the same majestic freedom of motion.

Into this endless airy ocean has swum a kind of scavenger, the coach flight. It will have its defenders, and their point is well taken. Pan American begins its annual report to its stockholders this time by reminding them that for the first time in history more passengers are being flown across the oceans than go by ship—thanks to the low-cost coach.

Who then am I to contest an operation that has brought untold volumes of new business to the airlines? My only defense is this: It seems essentially ridiculous to be afloat in an ocean of air 25,000 miles around and be as cramped within the winged vessel as while holding a family picnic in a phone booth.

It is a tribute to the airlines of the country that they have assigned good safe equipment to the coach trade, and some have cut a row off the old "three and two" arrangement of seats that introduced the refugee box car to the skyways.

But nobody's yet solved how to keep the guy immediately in front of you from jettisoning his backrest and himself into your lap or your meal.

There should be a legal limit to the back-rest incline on coach flights. Or maybe just a plain nail in the reclining apparatus of the chairs would be the answer. Anyway, it's just not right for a person who bought a seat to poach on half or more of the seat behind him, without so much as turning around and asking, "Do you mind?"

Through the years I've tried varied ways of defending my square foot of leg and lap space. I've dropped cigarette ashes into the open sleeping mouth on my lap, set fire to arms flung backward into my soup.

I've assumed the position of an old vaudeville barrel spinner and with my feet have warned off successive efforts to take over my place for as many as 1,494 miles. But Charley horses set in thereafter. I've sometimes even considered going to an extreme: Reducing 25 pounds so that I don't ooze out of those wasp-waisted coach seats like a well-padded muffin spilling out of its divot in the pan.

Don't scrap the coach equipment. More and more children are flying these days. They'd like the coziness of these ships, the long lines waiting to get into the Early American chic sale, the surprises in the box lunch and the pretty waitresses periodically welcoming them aboard and warning them not to get off until the plane has stopped.

As for us old fat folks, we could use the existing adult planes, wherein people can eat, drink and be almost as free as they are during surface life. And we could continue to hope that in time the industry we love so dearly comes up with a George Mortimer Pullman.

Jimmy Dey Auxiliary Has Banquet

Mrs. Keith Bigger Is Chairman of the Charter Dinner

Jimmy Dey Amvet Auxiliary celebrated its eighth annual charter dinner Wednesday evening with a program held at Old Mill Tavern.

Mrs. Keith Bigger was general chairman of the affair assisted by Mrs. O. T. Baxter, Mrs. Louis C. Hadden, Mrs. Richard I. Moore, Mrs. John Moss and Mrs. Norman Windiate.

Toastmistress Mrs. Edward Pompein introduced the speaker of the evening, Helen Lapsich.

For her topic Miss Lapsich chose, "Friendship" stating that this is comradeship, it is respect. Friendship, the speaker said, is something that grows and develops, it must be cultivated by love and understanding.

"It needs to be watered by mercy, by overlooking many of the pettinesses of all of us." We keep friends, Miss Lapsich said, when we really like people. We keep them when we have a common purpose. Friendship, she said, encloses both good and bad traits of a person.

Friendship can affect the health of an individual, and by way of illustration Miss Lapsich cited the beliefs of many psychiatrists who say, "a healthy friendship can cure a very sick person."

Mrs. George Brown, one of the founders of the Amvet Auxiliary was honored on the occasion of her birthday. She spoke briefly thanking members for their cooperation throughout the years.

Mrs. Bigger introduced Retha Houck, state chairman of Amvets Auxiliaries who also spoke briefly.

Mrs. George Sugg gave the invocation and the benediction.

Others invited to the shower were Mrs. Edward Kern, Mrs. Norman Moore and Mrs. Frank Cassel all of Rochester, and Marilyn Shearer, Mrs. James Hargraves, and Mrs. George Shearer from Pontiac.

Mrs. Howard Wheatley spoke to those present at the breakfast on "Coming Fashions and Fabrics." Her talk centered on the difference in materials which are being used in fashions.

Mrs. Wheatley touched on the popularity of the shirtwaist — how it goes from casual dresses to formal sleeveless sheaths. She also explained that the new long torso look can be modified in many ways to suit anyone.

A person can be changed from "a girl with a smart dress" to a "smartly dressed woman" through the use of the proper accessories.

Mrs. Stewart Houghton (left) of Desiax road chats with the speaker of the evening Helen Lapsich (center) of Dellwood drive before the banquet started. Looking on is Mrs. Keith Bigger of Old Orchard drive. The charter dinner was sponsored Wednesday evening by Jimmy Dey Amvets Auxiliary.

Garbo: The Legend and the Lady

Stiller Is Despondent in Hollywood

VIII

When Mauritz Stiller was given a chance by Metro to direct his protegee Greta Garbo, in her second American film, The Temptress the deep depression that had shadowed him since he and Garbo reached Hollywood disappeared. He was full of excitement and enthusiasm. "At last," he told Lars Hanson, "they'll see what Greta can do."

Stiller labored over the script and developed a number of unusual ideas that he thought would be effective.

Trouble started brewing the minute Stiller stepped on the set. "When I got there ready to start," he later told his friend Ernest Mattson, "I saw fifty people standing around. 'Who are all those people? What are they doing here?' I asked. I was told that one was an assistant director, another was an assistant producer, somebody called a script girl and so on. 'Take them away,' I said. 'I don't need them. All I need is a camera and actors.' But they all stayed."

In practically no time Stiller succeeded in antagonizing Antonio Moreno ostensibly the star of the film. Since Stiller felt that the hero of The Temptress should be clean-shaven, he ordered Moreno to get rid of his mustache. This ruffled the sensibilities of the swarthy Prince Charming, and an angry scene ensued.

Later, to achieve an arty effect, Stiller got ready to make a shot of Moreno's feet under a table next to Greta Garbo's; for the purpose of heightening the contrast. Stiller said Moreno would have to wear shoes several sizes too large for him. Moreno, who was proud of his small feet, refused and retired in very bad humor to his dressing room.

Playing his usual role of a tyrant with a megaphone, shouting, gesticulating and running about, Stiller alternately irritated and amused the other members of the cast. He was severely handicapped by the fact that he knew only a few words of English.

An interpreter had been placed at his disposal, but Stiller seldom bothered to use him, preferring to try to make himself understood with his faulty English and by gestures and pantomime. To the other people on the set, except for Greta Garbo, his instructions were comically confusing. When he wanted the cameraman to start shooting, he said "Stop," and when he wanted him to stop, he said, "Go." In one scene he wanted a group of extras to applaud. "Now," he shouted, "all explode."

On the afternoon of the fourth day of shooting, a cablegram was delivered to Greta Garbo, informing her of the death of her sister Alva in Stockholm. Alva had herself begun a motion picture career in Sweden and seemed to have a rather promising future when she was stricken and died of tuberculosis. As soon as Greta Garbo informed Stiller of the tragic news, he dismissed the entire cast and took her home. His action did not make a hit with the budget-conscious front office.

Metro officials were further perplexed and exasperated by Stiller's working methods, which seemed to them utterly chaotic. "Stiller tried to work in Hollywood the same way he had worked in Sweden, where the head office didn't know any more about what he was doing than the title of the picture," Lars Hanson has said.

"He shot scenes as he wished, not necessarily in sequence and not necessarily the ones he intended to use. He could never stick to a schedule. He would plan to shoot a scene calling for a mob of extras and then leave them standing around idle all day while he worked on something else, often something very trivial."

One night, after Stiller had been working on The Temptress for ten days, he was summoned to Thalberg's office. He learned that he had been summarily removed as director of The Temptress. The picture was to be turned over to another director. No other assignment had been offered to Stiller.

His dismissal, understandably, plunged him and Greta Garbo into a state of profound melancholy and resentment. An indication of her despair is revealed in this letter, which she wrote at that time to Axel Nilsson, a mutual friend of Stiller's and hers in Stockholm:

Dear Nisse:

Thanks for your nice letter. I meant to write to you so often, but I am like Moje—I don't get beyond the planning. Perhaps you know what things are like? Well, Nisse—it has been difficult here, you might even say terrible!—I don't want to tell you how I have felt.—When this thing happened to Moje, I thought the sun would never rise again.—Can you understand, Nisse, why Moje should always have such difficulties?—always so much to fight against! Moje, who is one of the best persons in the world. However, I still hope that everything will turn out all right . . . You should have seen Moje, as sweet and submissive as he could be. He got so tired and depressed that he said he could not continue. I felt terribly sorry for Moje . . . God bless you, Greta.

There was ample reason why she might also have felt sorry for herself. She had not recovered from news of her sister's death when she was stunned by the embarrassing failure of the man whose life was so closely intertwined with her own.

After The Temptress fiasco, Stiller was laid low with despondency. As he sat on his terrace brooding, Greta Garbo went about propping him up with pillows and doing what she could to cheer him up. The person whom she most admired and who had been for so long a mountain of strength had begun to crumble.

Instead of being protected, she was now forced into becoming the protector, a role for which she was poorly prepared. "She had developed no ideas or opinions of her own at that time," Lars Hanson has said. "Whatever thoughts she had were thoughts she borrowed from Stiller. She was still just a little girl from the South Side, young and inexperienced. For her, life was like walking on a marsh."

The pervasive gloom lifted a bit when Stiller rallied sufficiently from his depression to seek work. Though he was still under contract and being paid by MGM, it was evident that he would never be given another chance to work there.

However, Paramount had recently brought over from Germany a brilliant producer named Erich Pommer, who was an admirer of Stiller's work. Over vociferous objections of Paramount executives, Pommer borrowed Stiller from Metro to direct Hotel Imperial, a spy thriller set in Austria during the First World War. Heading the cast were Pola Negri and James Hall. Pommer, whose reputation rested on his skillful collaboration with directors, wisely allowed Stiller to work in his own manner, and Stiller plunged into his task with frenzy.

Meanwhile Greta Garbo had finished The Temptress, which had been completed under the direction of Fred Niblo. Again, the Swedes in the film colony turned out in a body for the preview, and again they shook their heads collectively in disapproval. The critical Swedes again badly misjudged American filmgoers.

Despite its florid subtitles and spurious plot, The Temptress was another distinct triumph for Greta Garbo. "I want to go on record as saying that Greta Garbo in The Temptress knocked me for a loop," wrote Robert E. Sherwood in the old Life. "The Temptress is a lavish, luxurious picture, with all known forms of audience appeal. It would, however, be pretty dreadful were it not for the individual and unassisted efforts of Greta Garbo, who qualifies herewith as the official Dream Princess of the Silent Drama Department of Life."

The newly crowned princess was showered with much other critical acclaim: "a magnetic woman" . . . "a finished actress" . . . "such a profile, such grace, such poise" . . . "leaves nothing to be desired." Realizing what Stiller and his friends and she herself thought of her performance, Greta Garbo read these notices with a sense of increasing wonderment.

Couple Shares Retirement Hobby

By ANNE HEYWOOD

"You said you were interested in hearing of older people who have interesting projects," Mrs. K. J. writes.

"My father and mother have a wonderful one. They're in their early 60s. Father has been retired for about three years. They're happier than they've ever been.

"Mother was always awfully busy at home, raising the four of us and doing all her own work. Father commuted to his job, which was in the accounting department of a big oil company.

"He liked it all right, and worked hard, but he never had much time for hobbies after he got home. He didn't see much of mother and us kids.

"When he first retired, he was kind of lost and we were worried. One day he and mother came to see me, right after my husband and I had moved into an old house in the country.

"It was a nice house, but it didn't have many rooms. Out of that fact, you might say, grew my parents' retirement hobby!

"Father decided I needed a screen in the kitchen, to separate the kitchen part—which was an eyesore — from the dining area. He got some plywood and stuff, and made me a charming screen.

"Mother, who had never had time to engage in anything artistic, got some stencils and decorated the screen beautifully.

"After that, they made us one for the nursery, so the diapers and other equipment could be hidden from sight. Mother put bunnies and kittens and puppies all over that screen. It was really adorable.

"After they went home," she concluded, "they kept it up."

"They got some simple equipment, and began making screens for their friends. They do lovely work, and one of the stores now handles their stuff.

"They don't work too hard, and they don't make too much money, but they just love it. They work together beautifully.

"At an age when many parents of my friends are bored and lethargic and sick of each other, my parents have a wonderfully happy marriage!"

Women Painters Will Exhibit Work

By RUTH SAUNDERS

BLOOMFIELD HILLS—Bloomfield Hills and Birmingham members of a group of women painters, namely the Birmingham Society of Women Painters, plan to have an exhibit and sale of their works at an out-of-door showing May 14.

Each member will show her own works, which will be plainly and modestly priced, and this will give viewers a chance to meet the artist of the painting to be owned and lived with.

Shain Park, the controversial memorial park in Birmingham which the city recently voted not to move, will be the setting. Working smocks and berets of the exhibitors will give a Latin Quarter air to the affair.

Mrs. Ralph D. Williams of Bloomfield Hills is general chairman and her assistants are Mrs. F. Chalmers Smith and Mrs. John H. Hoppin Jr. These three will be exhibitors as will Mrs. Harvey G. Luce, Mrs. Cyrus R. Osborn, Mrs. J. Vinton Birch and Mrs. Donald M. Chaffee.

Mrs. Herbert H. Gardner Jr., Mrs. Warren Pease, Mrs. John Gaffill, Mrs. Ralph Skinner, Mrs. Paul N. Averill, Mrs. George O. Cutter and Mrs. F. B. Etter will also show their paintings.

A gay party left in two private planes Wednesday to be guests of Mr. and Mrs. Roy A. Fruehauf at their Georgian Bay lodge, "North Branch," for some trout fishing.

Mr. Fruehauf and Russell Strickland flew their own planes, taking their wives, the Sterling Docksons of Grosse Pointe and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Forster Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest R. Brech entertained at dinner Tuesday for Mr. and Mrs. Eberdt Vitter and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Schmidt of Cologne, Germany. Mr. and Mrs. William T. Gossett entertained for them Sunday evening, and on Saturday their dinner hosts were Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Yntema.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Klingler are expected home from Delray Beach, Fla., early next week.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Brech and Mr. and Mrs. William E. Slaughter Jr. have issued invitations for a large cocktail and supper party May 14 at Oakland Hills Country Club.

A group of friends of Mr. and Mrs. Henry S. Booth gathered Saturday to assist in cleaning the "Thornlea" swimming pool. Several wives, provided the workers with a picnic luncheon at the pool's edge.

Mr. and Mrs. George T. Trumbull Jr. plan to sail for Europe May 15, just after the marriage May 14 of Mr. Trumbull's sister, Nancy, to William David Seibert.

Mr. and Mrs. Everell E. Fisher will spend the coming weekend at Dixiana Farms in Lexington, Ky. On Saturday they plan to motor to Louisville to attend the Kentucky Derby.

Mr. and Mrs. William A. Alts have returned to their home on West Long Lake road from a month in Florida. They spent 10 days in Miami Beach and toured the Florida West Coast.

Mrs. W. Laurence Shaffer was hostess at luncheon Monday in her home near Rochester for Mrs. Robert Braun of Pasadena, Calif., who is visiting in Birmingham.

Among members who will attend the mint julep party Saturday at Bloomfield Open Hunt are the Carleton C. Pattersons, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur C. Butterbaugh, who are arranging the affair; Mr. and Mrs. Victor Armstrong, Mr. and Mrs. John R. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. DeVaser, Mr. and Mrs. Rocco DiMarco and the A. S. McEvoy.

The group will watch the Kentucky Derby over television.

Mrs. Robert H. Hills has returned from a visit at Ormond Beach, Fla.

Which Date Should Be Announced?

Civil and Religious Ceremonies May Both Be Included

By EMILY POST

A reader tells me: "I ran away and was married six months ago at a civil ceremony. My parents were very much distressed over the fact that I did not have a religious ceremony and so I am going to be married again in the church next week."

"I will be very quiet with just the members of both families present. We intend to send wedding announcements but are not sure which date should appear on them—the date of the civil marriage or the religious one."

Answer: If you have not been living together and you are going to start now, then merely announce the second date.

But if you have been living together as man and wife for the past six months then both dates would be included in this way:

Mr. and Mrs. John Brown announce the civil marriage of their daughter Jane Marie to

Jr. Henry Jones on Thursday, the fifth of December at City Hall, New York and the religious ceremony on Sunday, the eighth of May at Trinity Chapel, New York

Dear Mrs. Post: When dining in a restaurant, is it suitable for a woman guest to check her coat or should she always take it with her to the dining table?

Answer: She checks it or not as she prefers. In the evening—and particularly if she is going to dance—she usually checks it. In the daytime she usually leaves it across the back of her chair.

Dear Mrs. Post: I have been elected to write you on behalf of our June graduating class as to whether or not it is proper for the girls to wear earrings with their academic gowns. We stand divided on this question and anxiously await your decision.

Answer: If the earrings are small buttons they would be all right; long dangling ones would not.

Community Services Tell Plans for All-Day Session

Therapists, social workers, doctors, ministers and all interested citizens will join together Tuesday to study one of Oakland County's major problems; that of our rapidly-growing aged population.

"Planning for Living in the Later Years" is the theme of a day-long institute of the Southern Oakland Community Services which will begin at 9:30 a.m. and close to 4 p.m. at the Elks Club, Royal Oak.

Pontiac and Birmingham persons will present latest information on our aging, who have, in the 65-and-up bracket, quadrupled in number since 1906.

Ora Hinckley, supervisor of the Bureau of Social Aid, speaks on "The Economic Well-being of the Later Years"; Arthur Heaton, UAW-CIO, deals with "Focus on Retired Workers."

Mrs. Harvey A. Kresge, of the Junior League of Birmingham will explain how the senior workshop at the Birmingham Community House is operating.

Estelle Martin, director of Family Service of Oakland County will act as moderator of the afternoon discussions.

"It is hoped that this Institute will be the forerunner of a permanent committee on the study of the aged, for Oakland County," according to Miss Martin.

Karl A. Bradley, managing director of the Pontiac Community Chest is in charge of visual aids for the program, assisted by William MacDonough and Jack Hodges.

On the publicity committee are Fred Lindberg, Bureau of Social Aid, Mrs. Mary Sands and Alice Krueger.

Advance reservations are being taken by Family Service at both the Pontiac and Birmingham offices.

New officers have been elected for the Fashion Your Figure Club, with Mrs. Hartley Bray taking over presidential duties for the weight-conscious members.

Assisting for the next four months will be Mrs. R. M. Baker, vice president; Mrs. William Johnson, treasurer; Mrs. Russell Skrine, secretary; Mrs. Clarence Edwards, scales manager; Mrs. Ramon Zollner weight recorder; and Mrs. Gerald Rose corresponding secretary.

Winner of the weekly trophy when the group met recently at Pontiac High School was Mrs. Russell Gortner.

Mother, Daughter Banquet Held

Mrs. Paul Havens spoke to mothers and daughters of Baldwin Avenue Evangelical United Brethren Church when they gathered there for their annual banquet.

The men's brotherhood took over in serving the 150 women, with George Hollis and Paul Spragg as co-chairmen.

On the program committee were Mrs. Philip Waldie, Mrs. Barbour Williams, Mrs. Charles Parrott, Mrs. Walter Fredericksen and Mrs. Earl Metz. Those who took part in the program included Mrs. Mary Spragg, Mrs. Parrott, Mrs. William Killen, Mrs. Carson Fall and Mrs. Harold Bell.

Others were Pamela Foote, Mrs. Dan Foote, Mrs. Don Lunsford and Carolyn Gaddes.

Mrs. Kenneth McQueen headed the kitchen committee. The invocation and closing prayer were given by Mrs. H. E. Ryan.

Adults Play Games With Decisions

By MARY MARGARET McBRIDE

Goodness knows what any friend or even stranger might have thought who watched me walk home from an appointment the other day. It was farther than I had counted on, the way was mostly through uninteresting streets and my feet began to hurt. So to divert myself I reverted to a childhood game.

Chanting under my breath an old rhyme, "Step on a crack, break your mother's back," I concentrated on missing the cracks in the sidewalk. This resulted in rather strange-looking progress, but it certainly helped me cover the ground quickly.

If I were the only adult playing childish games I might feel self-conscious but just recently an important businessman, in remiss mood, confessed he has never lost the habit and then told of the day when he, newly in business for himself, had to make a sale that meant the difference between going on or failing.

"I walked up and down the corridor for 20 minutes trying to summon enough courage to go through with it," he confessed with a grin. "Finally I stood facing the mail chute—one of those glass-fronted things that drop mail from every floor into a box on the ground floor—and watched the occasional letter or bunch of letters go zipping down."

"Suddenly I vowed that if a letter shot by in the next five seconds I'd walk into that office. If none did, I'd regard it as a sign that I shouldn't try to make the sale. Fortunately, a letter whizzed along at 4½ seconds."

I also know a man who slipped a silver dollar in Paris and because it came up tails has stayed in Europe for the past 10 years as a newspaper correspondent out of Moscow, Yugoslavia and other sports where the news is hard to get but generally dynamic when you get it.

I saw him not long ago and we speculated about what would have happened if the dollar had said heads and he had sailed for home. Would he now have a nice little rose-and-mortgage-covered cottage on Long Island instead of a hotel room wherever the story is likely to be hottest?

The other day, waiting for Alice, I decided if she didn't show up by the time that man in the brown suit finished his spaghetti, I'd conclude she had forgotten the luncheon appointment and just leave.

The man finished his spaghetti. She wasn't there, so I left but when I got to the sidewalk, there she was paying off her taxicab. So maybe the next time I have the impulse to settle something by counting out or similar juvenile device, I'll stop and reflect.

Playing games may pass the time on an uninteresting walk, but it's really a dangerous method to use in handling what may prove to be a turning point in one's life.

Daughter to Relieve Mom of KP

On Sunday, the day reserved for honoring mothers everywhere, many Pontiac area daughters will prepare all or part of the dinner.

Mother will have a real day of rest. Eight-year-old Mary Huemiller is no exception. With the help of the cookbook she received as a Christmas present she will get most of the dinner. We have a hunch that her mother, Mrs. Clarence Huemiller of Walnut road, will be in the background where she will be handy in case of emergency.

We previewed part of the Huemiller dinner earlier this week. On that day Mary decided on her menu and had a rehearsal of the salad course.

Here is what Mary is going to cook:

Baked Carrots Candle Salad
Peaches Chocolate Chip Cookies

In the second grade at Willis School, Mary is Student Council representative for her room. She is also president of her Bluebird troop.

This dark-haired, dark-eyed little girl is a most efficient young lady who will probably grow up to be a good cook.

Here is Mary's recipe for Candle Salad, told in her own words:

"This is one recipe I can make without looking at the book. First

I put the lettuce on the plate. Then I put a piece of pineapple on the lettuce (she drains this first on a piece of paper towel-ling).

"I peel a banana and cut it in half. Take one half and put it in the middle of the pineapple. Then I take some mayonnaise and put it on top of the banana for the wax."

"Then I take a cherry (a drained maraschino) and put a toothpick through the cherry and put it on top of the banana." (This toothpick through the cherry was Mary's idea.)

Two salads are made by the above method. Repeat for as many as you need.

We hope lots of little girls will be encouraged by Mary's attempts and will take part in preparing some or all of the dinner for their Mother's Day.

Orange Slices Team With Ham

There can never be too many recipes for using leftover ham. That wonderfully versatile meat finds itself at home with any number of other ingredients.

In the following recipe, orange slices provide the different twist.

Orange Upside-Down Ham Loaves

4 tablespoons brown sugar
1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
4 thin unpeeled orange slices
2 cups ground, cooked ham
1 pound pork sausage
1 minced small onion
1/2 cup fresh bread crumbs
1 egg
1/2 cup orange juice
1/2 teaspoon paprika
1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire
1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
Pinch ground cloves.

Start heating the oven to 350 degrees. In each of six custard cups or individual casseroles (about 3 1/2 inches in diameter) place 1 tbsp. brown sugar; sprinkle on a little mustard; top with orange slice.

Combine ham and remaining ingredients; pack lightly into cups. Bake 45 minutes; let stand five minutes. Drain, then invert onto serving platter. Makes six servings. Note: This may also be baked in 9x5x3-inch loaf pan 1 1/4 hours, using three or four orange slices.

Vegetable Sandwich Features Leftovers

Vegetable sandwiches, featuring a little bit of a lot of things, are a good way to get rid of leftover carrots and beans.

This recipe will make about 1 1/2 cups of filling:

1 1/2-cup package cream cheese, softened
1-1/2 cup green pickle relish
1/2 cup chopped, cooked green beans
2 tablespoons chopped canned pimiento
1/2 cup grated carrots
2 tablespoons minced onions
2 tablespoons chopped green pepper
Salt and pepper to taste

Combine all ingredients and mix well. Spread between buttered bread slices to serve.

Thin hamburgers, cooked and cooled, make good lunchbox fare when they are sandwiched into a roll with pickle relish or chili sauce.

Chewy Fig Cookies Used in Stateside Hula Pudding

Spring takes our minds off housework and cooking, doesn't it? It's much more enjoyable to be out-of-doors working in that new garden, shopping in the stores for those new clothes and planning the vacation just around the corner than trying to think what to cook for the family.

It's a clever woman who serves easy-does-it recipes, those quickies that look and taste like a lot of work. For such fabulous camouflage, try California dried figs and fig cookies.

May is Fig Festival time. Why not acquaint your family with the chewy, crunchy goodness of fig cookies this month in some brand new desserts or serve them as they come from the package with a glass of cool, refreshing milk.

They're everybody's favorite and you'll find them perfect for mealtime, snacktime, bedtime — anytime.

Stateside Hula Pudding

1/2 cup sugar.
8 fig cookies.
2 medium size oranges.
1 cup heavy cream.
1/2 cup confectioners sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla.
1 cup finely cut shredded coconut.

Empty contents of coconut-orange tapioca pudding into a saucepan containing 2 cups milk. Add the marshmallows, quartered, and the sugar. Stir over low heat until pudding comes to a boil.

Crumble the fig cookies into the hot pudding and stir together. Peel the oranges and cut the segments into one-half-inch pieces. Add to the pudding together with half the coconut.

Stir and place in sherbet glasses. Place in refrigerator until very cold. Top with the cream which has been whipped with the sugar and the vanilla.

Sprinkle with remaining coconut. Serves 6-8.

Shoppers Like Topped Carrots

Vegetable Now Usually Trimmed, Packaged in Plastic Bags

A well balanced diet should include a daily serving of leafy green or yellow vegetables for vitamin A. Carrots fill the bill nicely because they contain more vitamin A than any other vegetable.

Food shoppers have shown certain preferences during the past few years, concerning the carrots they buy. They've liked to buy them without the tops — and they've liked them packaged in film bags.

Pre-packaging hit the carrot industry about three years ago. Carrots used to be shipped with the green tops left on. Now most of them are "topped" and washed, and placed in consumer-sized plastic packages before being shipped.

This reduces transportation costs because the tops are left behind. It also gives the consumer a better product because carrots keep better and longer with the tops removed. The tops draw moisture and flavor from the roots.

The plastic bag helps retain freshness and provides a good "storage" for carrots until they are used. Nearly all of the shipped-in carrots today are marketed in plastic bags.

When buying carrots, look for those that are firm, clean, fresh in appearance, smooth, well-shaped, bright orange, long and slender.

Avoid oversized carrots since they may have a hard core, and carrots with green "shoulders" since they often have a bitter flavor.

When using carrots, remember that 1 pound provides five half-cup servings, cooked, and eight half-cup servings, shredded raw. A serving of cooked carrots costs about three cents and a raw serving costs about two cents.

ROLLED BEEF CHUCK ROAST — A typical all-American is beef pot roast served with browned carrots and buttered noodles. Add a tossed vegetable salad and apple pie with cheese. Here the pot roast is a boned rolled chuck; the noodles are dressed up with poppy seeds.

Roast Rolled Beef Chuck for All-American Dinner

The most frequently prepared pot roasts are those from the beef shoulder. These are called chuck roasts. Another popular pot roast is the rump roast.

Let's talk about chuck roasts, the most plentiful of beef pot roasts. Chuck roasts sometimes are found on the market in the form of boned, rolled roasts. These are popular because they're easy to carve.

Boned Beef Chuck Roast
In a Dutch oven or other large heavy utensil melt a little lard and in it brown roast on all sides to a rich deep brown.

Sprinkle roast with salt and peppers as you turn it during cooking. Slip a trivet (small rack) under the meat and then add a few chopped onions, a piece of bay leaf and a sprinkle of dried or powdered herbs (unless you're lucky enough to have fresh herbs).

Add about one-half cup of water, bouillon or tomato juice. Turn the heat to a simmering temperature and cover the utensil. Cook for three or four hours.

A compact rolled roast requires somewhat more cooking time than a regular chuck roast with the bone left in. After about the first hour, the liquid will start cooking away and then it must be replenished in small amounts fairly frequently.

The last hour lay whole carrots around the roast to cook in the savory liquid. Sprinkle them with salt.

And Then The Gravy!

The pot roast gravy is half the joy of eating this favorite meat. 1. Skim off all but about 4 tablespoons of the fat. (A roast baster is handy for this purpose.)

2. To the fat and liquid left in the pan, stir in about 4 tablespoons flour which has been mixed with just enough water

Baking Soda Removes Oils in Coffee Pot

Good coffee starts with a clean pot. A hot water rinsing is not enough to remove the greasy film which sticks to the inside of your coffee maker and creates a rancid stale odor. For really superlative coffee you'll want to give your coffee pot more careful treatment.

Baking soda, which is pure mild bicarbonate of soda, removes the oils which cling to the inside of your coffee pot quickly, easily and effectively. Here's all you do:

For aluminum, just sprinkle a little soda on a damp cloth or sponge and rub on the inside of your coffee pot and all the fittings—the coffee basket, stem and rod. Then rinse well and dry.

For glass or porcelain enamel, you can boil a solution of 3 tablespoons soda to every quart of water in the pot. Then let cool, rinse and dry.

Soda is non-abrasive so it won't mar the sparkling finish of any utensils, and it doesn't leave any "after-taste" either — just a wonderfully sweet-smelling coffee maker.

Lemon Bread Has Tart Tang

You've never heard of lemon bread before, have you? Neither had we until we devised this recipe for Lemon Saffron Bread. But after tasting the results of our first test baking we sighed, "Why didn't we hear about it before?" For all that the golden lemon has to give in the way of glowing color and distinctive flavor finds its way into this delicately zesty little loaf.

Tastewise, Lemon Saffron Bread is definitely "lemony." It does not have "just a trace" of lemon in it. It has a really powerful lemon flavor with a little of the sharpness that comes from inclusion of the grated peel.

This is the type of bread that we, frankly, think is at its best unadorned simply with plenty of fresh butter and accompanied by lots of fragrant hot coffee.

However, since tastes differ so widely, why not set out dishes of cream cheese and grapefruit or orange marmalade when you serve it? Then your guests can please themselves, either savoring to the full the sharp lemon flavor, toning it down with cream cheese or make it a little sweeter with the marmalade.

Finally, if you prefer your coffee without cream or sugar, you'll find that a demitasse of black coffee with a twist of lemon peel in it, taken with a finger of Lemon Saffron Bread, makes just about the most perfect simple ending to a meal that you could possibly find.

Lemon Bread
1 cup boiling water
1 teaspoon Spanish saffron
2 cups sifted enriched flour
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup shortening
1/2 cup lemon juice
1/2 cup grated lemon peel
Add boiling water to saffron and let "steep" 30 minutes. Mix and sift flour, salt, baking powder and baking soda.
Cream shortening and sugar until light and fluffy. Add eggs and beat well. Add saffron and water to lemon juice. Add with lemon peel. Pour into flour mixture.
Stir just enough to moisten dry ingredients; do not beat. Turn into three small loaf pans, 7 1/2 x 3 1/2 x 2 1/2 inches. Bake in moderate oven, 350 degrees, 40 to 45 minutes. Three loaves.

LEMON BREAD — This is definitely a new idea in quick bread recipes. Here's a bread with a powerful lemon flavor, just perfect to serve with afternoon tea or coffee. It's colorful, decorative and delicious, a real conversation piece.

And Now It's Time to Talk of 'Cabbages and Kings'

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

We haven't had a "cabbages and kings" column for some time. I save up all the little tidbits from time to time until there are enough for a column.

The people who make frozen waffles suggest serving them with generous helpings of peaches, pears, oranges or pineapple. Use fresh or canned fruit and serve

Chicken Baked Atop Dressing

This is truly a topsy-turvy pie. The enriched yeast-raised bread stuffing which usually bakes inside the chicken becomes the crust in this recipe to hold plump pieces of chicken and an assortment of vegetables.

These vegetables may be left-overs that combine well with chicken such as corn, green beans, peas or potatoes or a combination of two or three.

Just before you're ready to serve the pie turn upside down on a pretty platter. Garnish with parsley and whole button mushrooms.

Topsy-Turvy Chicken Pie
3 1/2 cups soft enriched yeast-raised bread crumbs
1/2 cup diced celery
1/2 cup minced parsley
1/2 cup minced thyme
1/2 cup water
1/2 cup butter
2 tablespoons butter
1 bouillon cube
2 cups diced cooked chicken or turkey
2 cups diced cooked vegetables
1 can condensed cream of chicken soup

Combine bread crumbs, celery, parsley, thyme and pepper. Heat water with butter and bouillon cube until cube is dissolved; pour over crumb mixture and toss lightly.

Pat half the crumb mixture on to sides and bottom of a greased 2-quart casserole. Mix chicken with vegetables and condensed mushroom soup; spoon into casserole. Top with remaining crumb mixture.

Bake at 400 degrees (hot oven) for 35 minutes. Remove from oven, let stand five minutes then invert on serving platter. Makes six servings.

Try Quickie Dessert

Pineapple Coconut Pudding is a quickie dessert that seems to be long on spring menus. Add 2 cups of milk to one package of coconut cream pie filling. Cook as directed on package. Remove from heat and stir in one-half cup of drained crushed pineapple. Cool before serving.

Give Vegetables Zestful Flavor

About this time each year many homemakers start looking for new ways to pep up the meals they serve their families. On way to do this is to add a new taste to your vegetable dish.

Here are two flavorful recipes that will add that desired new zest to your meals.

Red Cabbage With Vinegar Sauce

1 cup cider vinegar
1 tablespoon brown sugar
2 cloves
1/2 bay leaf
1/2 teaspoon salt
Spring parsley
2 tablespoons grated onion
2 cups cooked red cabbage

Simmer first six ingredients for five minutes. Strain, add onion, and pour over hot cabbage. Yield: Six to eight servings.

Harvard Beets

1/2 cup sugar
2 teaspoons cornstarch
1/2 cup cider vinegar
4 cups cooked beets
2 tablespoons butter
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper

Combine sugar and cornstarch. Add cider vinegar and water and boil for five minutes. Add beets and simmer one-half hour. Add butter and season with salt and pepper. Yield: Six to eight servings.

Blend grapefruit, pineapple and orange juice; add syrup from maraschino cherries to taste. Pour over ice cubes and serve to the teenage crowd.

Salad Made in Layers, Chilled Till Dinnertime

One good cook we know makes salad an hour or so ahead of dinnertime when she is having company.

For four hearty servings, she places layers of shredded lettuce and coarsely grated carrots in a salad bowl, and sprinkles the top with a teaspoon of sugar and crumbled crisp bacon. Then she dots the top layer with a tablespoon of mayonnaise, covers the salad bowl tightly and refrigerates until serving time. Tossing is unnecessary, even at serving time.

Yank Ovens Too Modern for Crusty Foreign Bread

Pontiac Press Food Editor

Today we are answering a note we received from a reader, Mrs. A. A. Millican. Mrs. Millican said in part, "I wish you would print some recipes for foreign breads, notably Polish, French, Italian and Vienna. I'm very interested in learning how they get such a crusty crust on their bread."

Well, Mrs. Millican, we are going to have to disappoint you a bit. Many authorities inform us that it is impossible for us to produce the kind of bread you wish in the modern ovens we use.

In some of the old-fashioned ovens, those of the French Canadians for instance, the heat comes from all sides. In our ovens the heat is concentrated in one place, usually the bottom of the oven. So for that reason alone we cannot get a true loaf of French bread.

We can, however, make some very acceptable substitutes. Ann Seranne in her excellent volume, "The Complete Book of Home Baking," says:

"The characteristic crisp and glazed crust of French or Vienna bread and rolls is the result of baking at a high temperature in special ovens that are supplied with moist steam. The steam forms a coating of moisture on the surface, which gives the dough time to expand and to develop its crust."

"Unfortunately, this kind of professional baking cannot be duplicated in the home. Somewhat similar results may be obtained by placing a flat pan of boiling water in the hot oven just before the bread is put in."

This pan of water may be removed 15 minutes after the bread has started to bake. The following French bread recipe may be made in this manner.

Pain Ordinaire (Crusty Bread)

1 cake yeast
1/2 cup boiled water, cooled
1/2 cup flour
2 cups boiled water, cooled
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
6 cups flour

Knead the first three ingredients into a ball. Make two cuts across the top one-quarter inch deep. Set the ball in a bowl containing the 2 cups water. When the ball floats, add the salt and the rest of the flour.

Using more flour if necessary, knead 15 minutes. Let rise until double in bulk. Punch down. Knead again. Shape into long loaves, pointed at the end.

Cut a deep furrow in the center of each loaf. Put the loaves, not touching, on a greased baking pan. Let rise till double in bulk. (Put pan of boiling water in oven). Bake 10 minutes in a hot oven and 50 more in a moderate.

Brush with beaten egg white and return to the oven about two minutes to form a glaze. Makes two loaves. Cool in a draft for a crackly crust.

Kipfel

1 cup milk
2 tablespoons butter
1 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon sugar
1 cake yeast
1/2 cup lukewarm water
4 cups flour

Scald milk and add butter, salt and sugar. Cool. Soften yeast in water and add. Add the flour and knead well one minute. Let rise till double.

Roll one-half-inch thick and cut in three-cornered pieces. Spread with butter and roll large end toward small. Shape in horns.

Place on greased baking sheet an inch apart and brush with melted butter. Let rise till double. Bake in hot oven 15-20 minutes. Makes 3 dozen rolls.

We were not able, Mrs. Millican, to find a Polish recipe for bread. If someone sends us one, we'll gladly print it.

Italy, a wine country, relies more on eggs for leavening agent in bread, rather than yeast. This was truer in the early days than it is now. But the characteristic Italian bread has lots of eggs in it.

We think you'll like this recipe for a rich tea bread, full of fruit.

Sweet Bread (Italian)

1 cup shortening
1/2 cup sugar
4 eggs
2 cups flour
1/2 teaspoon baking powder
1 cup chopped candied fruit

Cream the shortening and sugar. Add the eggs two at a time, beating well after each addition. Sift baking powder with flour and add. Mix well.

Place in a long, narrow, greased pan, a layer of dough, a layer of fruit, etc., until the fruit is all used. Bake in a moderate oven about 40 minutes.

Lamb Chops Star in Casserole Meal

An idea for a busy-day dinner is a combination of lamb chops, refreshing pineapple slices, mushrooms and potatoes en casserole.

Dinner-In-a-Dish

4 lamb chops
4 pineapple slices (one flat can)
1 small can (one ounce) button mushrooms
4 potatoes cut in 1/2-inch slices
Salt and pepper

Arrange the drained pineapple slices and mushrooms on top of lamb chops and potatoes. Season with salt and pepper and dot the potatoes with butter or margarine.

Pour pineapple syrup over all and bake at 350 degrees for about one hour. Serve with aspic salad, hot rolls and apple pie for dessert.

When you use pastry flour in a standard recipe, add 2 extra tablespoons of pastry flour for each cup of all-purpose flour called for.

SUNDAY NIGHT SUPPER—Canned cream-style corn topped with eggs and deviled ham is a good choice for Sunday night supper. Green beans with almonds and cloverleaf rolls are the accompaniment. Good, but inexpensive eating.

Corn Casserole Topped by Eggs

After feasting on rich holiday food, something simple yet tasty is welcome for Sunday night supper. Homemakers appreciate a dish which is easily prepared after the hustle and fuss of holiday dinners.

Creamy Corn with Baked Eggs is a suggestion which fills the bill on both counts. Canned cream-style corn is teamed with sautéed celery, onion, deviled ham and parsley, then topped with eggs and slipped into the oven for half an hour.

Canned corn can always be depended upon as a flavorful part of simple quickie meals. The only preparation needed when you're in a real hurry is to heat and serve.

Creamy Corn with Baked Eggs
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 medium-sized onion, thinly sliced
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
1/4 cup diced celery
2 No. 303 cans cream-style corn
2 4-ounce cans deviled ham
4 eggs
Salt and pepper

Melt butter or margarine over medium heat. Add onion, parsley, and celery and sauté 10 minutes. Add corn and 1 can deviled ham. Mix well and continue cooking over low heat 10 minutes.

Turn corn mixture into a greased shallow 1 1/2-quart casserole. Break eggs over corn mixture and arrange remaining deviled ham around eggs.

Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) 25-30 minutes, or until eggs are done.

Countertop Units Offer Decorative Kitchen Planning

The kitchen has suffered a breakdown, but it's all for the benefit of the average housewife.

Modern appliances are now divided into separate pieces that can be located right where they are most handy.

Take the kitchen range, for instance. Separate cooking units may be built into the countertop and surrounded by a fireproof yet decorative surfacing such as tile, while the oven is installed in the wall at eye-level.

This does away with the typical confusion of pots and pans on the old stove-oven range and the tiresome effort of watching a roast in a knee-level oven. Heavy holiday and weekend cooking chores are really simplified.

Some ovens have a dual control so you can cook two different items simultaneously at the required temperature for each. Others have a glass front which permits easy inspection as the roast cooks.

A dishwasher-dryer on wheels, another recent development, can be rolled out to the dinner table, loaded with dishes and pushed back into the kitchen where it's hooked up with the kitchen sink. When you are through with it, the mobile washer can be rolled out of sight into the utility closet.

Mix Seafood, Chowder

Add shrimp, lobster or crabmeat—or all three—to frozen condensed fish chowder; dilute with light cream. Heat according to directions on can and serve with chopped chives or parsley. Makes a wonderful company lunch along with a salad and hot rolls.

For your first-asparagus-of-the-season lunch or supper: Cook the vegetable until just tender crisp and serve with stuffed eggs heated in a well-seasoned cream sauce.

Pearadise Cake Features Striking Blend of Flavors

"A unique flavor treat," exclaimed Duncan Hines when he sampled this Pearadise Upside-Down Cake. "Mellow flavor and smooth texture make canned Bartlett pears the perfect partner for spice cake."

You, too, will exclaim when you bite into your Pearadise Upside-Down Cake for the first time. It's a strikingly different flavor combination, subtle yet compelling as good perfume.

It's bound to become lodged in your family's memory so they keep asking for it over and over, which should be fine with you because with the new quick-as-a-wink cake mixes, there couldn't be a simpler dessert to fix.

If you need an extra special quickie for drop-in guests, add a few chopped nuts to the brown sugar and butter combination. Serve it warm as is or with a dab of whipped cream.

In fact, if you're one who likes to be prepared for all eventualities, teach one of the youngsters how to make Pearadise Upside-Down Cake. Then when unexpected guests drop in, give your son or daughter the high sign. You'll not need to leave the living room till it's time to put the coffee on.

This, of course, is just one of the many, many ways canned Bartlett pears may be used both as time-savers and taste-tempters. They're a fruit which blends with everything... one which is delicious for any meal.

Too, because of their spicy but mellow flavor, you'll never tire of them no matter how often you serve them. Keep several cans on hand always. You'll soon come to depend on them when you're up against a tight schedule and need something especially tasty for dessert.

Pearadise Upside-Down Cake
3 canned Bartlett pear halves
2 tablespoons butter
1/4 cup brown sugar
2 tablespoons chopped nuts
1/4 package spice cake mix

Drain pears. Melt sugar and butter in 8-inch round pan. Place drained pears, cut side down in bottom of pan and sprinkle nuts around the pears. Mix cake according to directions on package and pour batter over pear halves.

Bake at 350 degrees for 45 to 50 minutes. Let cake stand for three minutes, then turn out on serving plate. Garnish the pear cavities with maraschino cherries, if desired. Serve warm or cold with whipped cream.

If only one layer of cake is desired, use one-half package of cake for Pearadise Cake and use the remainder for one regular layer or 12 cupcakes. For a second layer of Pearadise Upside-Down Cake, use the remaining pear halves and the entire package of cake mix and double the amount of butter, brown sugar and nuts.

Bake Chicken in Lemon Sauce

Barbecue sauce need not be tomato and red pepper seasoned. In fact, the gentle flavor of chicken is bolstered, but not subdued, when swathed in a subtle lemon sauce to which a whiff of garlic and a pinch of thyme are added.

This chicken is oven barbecued but the out-of-door devotees can adapt the recipe for over-the-fire slow grilling.

The lemon barbecue sauce can become a "swab" sauce during long slow cooking over glowing coals.

Oven-Fried Chicken With Lemon Barbecue Sauce

1 2 1/2-pound ready-to-cook chicken, cut up for frying
1 cup flour
2 teaspoons salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
2 teaspoons paprika
1/4 cup (1/2 stick) butter or margarine
Lemon Barbecue Sauce

Dip chicken pieces in mixture of flour, salt, pepper and paprika. Melt butter in a shallow baking pan in a hot oven (400). Remove baking pan from oven. As pieces of floured chicken are placed in pan, turn to coat with butter, then bake skin side down in a single layer.

Bake in a hot oven (400) for 30 minutes. Turn chicken. Pour Lemon Barbecue Sauce over chicken.

Continue to bake another 30 minutes, or until tender. If chicken cannot be served at once, reduce oven heat and brush chicken with the sauce or with melted butter. Makes four servings.

Lemon Barbecue Sauce
Mash 1 small clove garlic with 1/4 teaspoon salt in a bowl. Add 1/4 cup salad oil, 1/4 cup lemon juice, 2 tablespoons finely chopped onion, 1/2 teaspoon freshly ground black pepper, and 1/2 teaspoon thyme.

Yanks Eating More Processed Potatoes

Potato consumption, after years of steady, drastic decline, is leveling off. That's the opinion of A. E. Mercker, marketing specialist with the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Mr. Mercker feels the all-time low came in 1951 when per capita consumption dropped to 96 pounds. In 1954 it rose to 104 pounds per person.

Of this, 89 pounds were fresh potatoes and 15 pounds processed. As short a time ago as 1940, Americans were eating only 2 pounds of processed potatoes each, yearly.

People are going to continue to eat more processed potatoes, Mercker says. This will offset any decrease in the use of fresh spuds and may even increase the total consumption of potatoes in all forms.

Indicative of this is the frozen French-fried potato industry which is increasing at the rate of 25 per cent yearly.

Lamb Pineapple Crowns Spell Quick, Festive Meal

Today, hurry-up meals definitely have a place in our lives. Of course, "quickie dishes" must be attractive and good tasting as well as easy to prepare.

Salmon, Cucumber Are Salad Partners

Spring seems to inspire salad-making. Salmon and cucumber flavors are compatible partners in a salad using sour cream as a tempting dressing.

Salmon Cucumber and Macaroni Salad
 4 ounces shell macaroni (about 1 1/2 cups)
 1 cup salmon (8-ounce can, drained, boned and flaked)
 1/2 cup finely sliced cucumber
 1 tablespoon finely chopped onion
 1/4 teaspoon salt
 Dash pepper
 1/2 cup commercial sour cream

Cook macaroni in boiling salted water until tender (about eight minutes). Drain and rinse with cold water. Chill thoroughly. Mix with remaining ingredients.

Chill about one hour before serving. Serve on crisp greens. Makes four servings.

Ever try this vegetable combination? Add cut green beans to cream-style corn and season with a little curry powder.

Lamb Pineapple Crowns — a quick broiler dinner—is in this category. The golden pineapple slices and lamb make the best of partners.

Bacon is added to the two-some, and just right seasonings give the dish even better flavor. What's more it can be on the table in 30 minutes.

Let fresh asparagus with drawn butter, garden relishes and the family's favorite dessert round out the meal.

Lamb Pineapple Crowns
 1 1/2 pounds ground lamb
 1/4 teaspoon salt
 2 teaspoons grated onion
 1 minced clove garlic
 2 tablespoons minced parsley
 1 egg
 Seasoned salt
 4 slices bacon
 4 slices canned pineapple

Mix lamb with salt, onion, garlic, parsley and egg. Sprinkle generously with seasoned salt and nutmeg. Form into four large patties. Lay each on slice of bacon, then bring ends of bacon up over top of patty. Fasten with pick.

Broil on each side until browned and bacon is crisp; about 6 to 10 minutes total. Place pineapple ring on top of each patty and broil until heated through and glazed. Serves four.

Frozen Food Sales to $1.5 Billion a Year

The frozen food business has increased 574 per cent in the past decade, with sales soaring to one and a half billion dollars a year. This tremendous growth has opened up a large potential market for freezers. At present only 15 out of every 100 persons own freezers. With the increasing consumption of frozen foods—4 1/4 per cent of all food sold today is sold in the frozen state—this ratio is sure to change rapidly.

No other household appliance has enjoyed the rapid sales growth freezers have had in the 10-year period since the end of World War II.

There are four points to look for in buying a freezer: Sufficient power to maintain zero temperatures under all conditions; freezing surfaces large enough to fast-freeze 15 per cent of the unit's total capacity; anti-condensation protection in cabinet, and a warranty on the freezer power unit and the food.

Prepare Artichokes

Cook artichokes in salted water until tender. Drain well, cut each in half and remove chokes. Serve as a first course with mayonnaise to which lemon juice and Bahama-type mustard has been added.

For Appetizer, Stuff Eggs With Liver Mixture

PATE STUFFED EGGS

For each serving
 1 egg
 1 chicken liver
 1/4 teaspoon butter or margarine
 1/4 teaspoon mayonnaise
 Onion salt
 Salt
 Pepper
 Extra mayonnaise
 Paprika
 Watercress or other salad greens

Hard-cook eggs, shell, and cut each in half lengthwise. Wash

chicken livers and drain; cut each in half removing center membranes. Melt butter in skillet; add chicken livers and cook just until they lose pink color inside.

Scoop out yolks from eggs and mash in skillet with liver and drippings. Add mayonnaise and onion salt, salt and pepper to taste; go easy on the salt if you use a generous dash of onion salt.

Pile liver mixture into egg white cavities, spreading over entire top surface of whites. Put a tiny blob of the extra mayonnaise in center of each egg half, sprinkle with paprika. Cover and refrigerate until serving time. Serve garnished with watercress or other salad greens.

Orange, Lemon Juice Flavor Uncooked Icing

Cut plain white cake, baked in a sheet pan, in strips. Frost top and sides of cake strips with this frosting. Cream 1 1/2 cups confectioners' sugar with a couple of tablespoons of butter or margarine; blend in a tablespoon of lemon juice and 2 tablespoons of orange juice. A little grated orange rind may also be added if desired.

Let Your Guests Concoct Own Ice Cream Desserts

Almost half of all ice cream produced in the United States comes pre-packaged, generally in pint and half-gallon cartons. So widely and conveniently is it sold packaged and in such a variety of flavors, that every party mood and theme can be met.

The hostess who is planning the ice cream soda fountain can easily shop for nutmeats, maraschino cherries, chocolate syrup and other favorite toppings at the same food store where she buys her ice cream.

Grocery stores since 1942 have become the leading sellers of ice cream, with drugstores second, restaurants third and confectionery stores fourth.

For the do-it-yourself ice cream spread, place chocolate, strawberry and vanilla ice cream on a tray. Have soda glasses and carbonated water and chocolate syrup handy for those who will dream up a fancy soda. Or there can be milk for those of a mind to make a frosted milk drink.

For the sundae crew have sherbet glasses ready to take a scoop of ice cream and a topping of fruit, molasses, butterscotch sauce and nuts.

Mentalist to Try 'Double-Whammy' on Top Red

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (INS)—A man who put the "double-whammy" on former Soviet Premier Georgi Malenkov said today he's planning the same treatment for Malenkov's successor.

And, said Jimmy Grippo, the world can look for another Kremlin shake-up "within the next six to eight months." Grippo is a "mentalist" who says: "The mind, like radio, short waves, can establish and re-establish contact with any desired element. With the proper medium, conditioned by hypnosis, I can reach the mind of Bulganiu"—new Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin.

About a year ago, Jimmy told

International News Service he was "going to work" on then-Premier Malenkov, with an aim toward "directing the psyche of the dictator toward world peace."

"I can't prove I was responsible for Malenkov's removal," Grippo admits, "but I feel I played a part. I worked on him through my medium 'whenever possible.' We talked to him when he was asleep or any other time we found his mind unoccupied."

Grippo said he planned the same sort of treatment for Bulganin. "I don't want to hurt anybody," he stressed, "but Russian leaders must be made to understand that their present policies are a threat to the world."

"If I can keep the top job changing hands, I figure we all have a good chance of finishing our days in peace."

Grippo refused to disclose the name of the person through whom he "contacted" Malenkov.

Actually, it doesn't make any difference," he said, "the guy got scared of Russian agents and quit. I've found a new one though, a White Russian that's terrific."

Grippo, who works as an entertainer, caused a major stir in sports circles back in 1939 when he crawled into the ring with Melio Bettina just before a title fight to give the boxer a "hypnotic boost."

Bettina came away with the light heavyweight crown.

Grippo is "dead serious" about the Bulganiu project.

Believe Hong Kong Ship Seized Near Chiang Isle
HONG KONG (AP)—Owners of the 2,257-ton cargo ship "Incharran" said today they feared she has been seized in the Formosa Strait. She was en route from Foochow to Shanghai with a cargo of timber for the Chinese Reds.

The owners, Williamson and Co., said the ship radioed yesterday that she was "being boarded" about 10 miles south of Nationalist-held White Dog Island near Foochow.

Her captain is a Briton, G. A. Angus, and she has three other British officers and a crew of 33 Asians.

Long Lost Son Writes Police but Snubs Dad

DETROIT (AP)—One night in 1924 Thomas E. Josephs had an argument with his 16-year-old son Bernard over the boy's companions and late hours.

The next day Bernard ran away. A police search failed to locate him.

As the years went by, Bernard was all but forgotten by everyone but his father, a widower with no other children than his son.

Yesterday, the police missing persons department called up Josephs, now a building caretaker, to tell him they'd received a letter from Bernard, age 47.

After discharge from the Army in 1947 he had landed a job with the Military Transport Service in the Pacific and needed papers to prove his citizenship. He asked police to get the papers from his father.

Did his son ask about him? Josephs wanted to know.

No, said police, that's all the letter said.

Michigan Appetites Give Vet the Jitters

BOISE, Idaho (AP)—As Idaho state veterinarian, Dr. A. P. Schneider gets lots of strange requests. But he got one yesterday which really gave him the shakes.

He was asked to inspect a shipment bound for Michigan—a shipment of 200 rattlesnakes.

"I told them," he said, "I'd do it with a telescope—not a microscope." So the request, by the Michigan State Agriculture Department, was waived.

The rattlesnakes were sent by D. Shaw, a rancher in Council, Idaho, to a Michigan restaurant which specializes in exotic foods.

Cement Shortage Noted

HOUSTON (AP)—A gray market in cement was reported here as the city and apparently the Southwest faced a growing shortage. A cement manufacturing firm official said yesterday some operators were buying up cement and reselling it at handsome profits. The spokesman attributed the shortage to "prosperity, defense and pretty weather."

Deaf Tots Learn to Hear at School in New England

WASHINGTON — Eighty years ago Alexander Graham Bell wrote, "It is possible to teach the deaf to hear speech with their eyes."

In the March issue of the National Geographic Magazine, Lillian Grosvenor, granddaughter of the man who invented the telephone and who spent much of his life furthering education for the deaf, tells how such work is now being carried on.

The article, called "Deaf Children Learn to Talk at Clarke School," is filled with heartwarming examples of the freeing of boys' and girls' minds through lip-reading and speech, the oral method.

Yet how does it come about, the author wondered, as she watched little Bobby strain to distinguish drum, cowbell and horn sounds in a beginner's lesson, "How can he read lips if he doesn't know words and sentences? How can he think? His mind is trapped in a soundproof prison, and until he learns language it cannot grow and develop."

The Clarke School for the Deaf at Northampton, Mass., has wrestled with these problems since it was founded as a pioneer in the oral teaching movement back in 1867. Dr. Bell himself was active there for 51 years as teacher, consultant, researcher, and president of the board.

Today, new teaching techniques and modern electronic equipment offer valuable aids. But basically the system remains the same—the building of vocabulary and association of words with objects and actions. Always the emphasis is on talk, not gestures.

One of the first things the child learns at Clarke, the author reports, is to make the most of his hearing, however slight. Once he understands the connection between sound and movement of lips, he has grasped the all-important principle of ear and eye teamwork.

Powerful group-hearing aids help. For even the unintelligible drone of natural voices is useful in regulating the deaf child's speech.

Total deafness is rare, Miss Grosvenor points out. Specialists grade those with hearing difficulties as hard of hearing, partially deaf, and profoundly deaf. Moreover, deaf children are seldom mute. They have normal speech organs that need only to be trained and used.

From an observer's alcove, the author saw a pretty little girl begin the process of learning to speak. Facing a mirror with her teacher, blue-eyed, dimpled Laura tried to imitate teacher's lips in making sounds, while at the same time her tiny hand was pressed first against the teach-

More Cities Hiring Women on Force

CHICAGO (UP) — Two more cities have hired women to free policemen from some of their time-consuming duties.

The Civil Service Assembly reports that Wichita Falls, Tex., and Sacramento, Calif., have hired women for jobs of a public relations nature.

Wichita Falls hired and trained four women in human relations and city geography so that they can answer questions of residents and visitors.

The women also are assigned to the job of handing out parking tickets and checking parking meters.

In Sacramento, women have replaced men at the information counter and radio dispatching desk in the police department.

Million-Dollar Array of Portraits Arrives

GENOA, Italy (UP) — A million-dollar collection of masterpieces by the great portrait painter Van Dyck today was unloaded under heavy guard from the Italian liner Saturnia for a two-month Genoa exhibition.

The works came from the Iowa State Gallery, the Institute of Fine Arts in Detroit, the Los Angeles County Museum and the New York Metropolitan Museum of Art.

TWO-TIME WINNER—The 1955 Pulitzer Prize for Drama has been awarded to Tennessee Williams for his play, "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof." This was the playwright's second Pulitzer Prize. His first was in 1948 for "A Streetcar Named Desire." The award was announced in New York by President Grayson Kirk of Columbia University.

Wedding Set Friday by Marion Marlowe

NEW YORK (INS) — A spokesman announced today that singer Marion Marlowe, recently fired from the Arthur Godfrey show, and television producer Larry Puck will be married in St. Louis on Friday.

The wedding will take place at the home of her mother and grandparents. Puck also was fired from one of Godfrey's shows some months ago after he and Marion announced their engagement.

The couple will fly to New York immediately after the ceremony and then leave for a 2-week honeymoon in Bermuda. They will return in time for Miss Marlowe to start an engagement in Philadelphia's Latin Casino on May 23.

Godfrey Reported Ready to Scrap Vacation Plans

PHILADELPHIA (INS) — TV Godfrey, in an all-out effort to lift his "friends" Wednesday night show back into the top 10, may forego his summer vacation.

The red-haired entertainer, embattled over the most recent firings in his cast, was reported to be clearing the decks in an attempt to build a new cast and to regain popularity with viewers who may still be loyal to some of his departed "friends."

In a copyrighted interview, the magazine quoted Godfrey as saying: "All I know is we got too heavy with stars. . . . They weren't interested in the show, but only in themselves."

More Bees Needed to Pollinate Crops

TRENTON, N. J. (UP) — Bees have not been doing their utmost lately on one of their best-known chores—pollination.

Dr. E. J. Dyce, professor of agriculture at Cornell University, told the New Jersey Beekeepers' annual convention that the number of bees, for pollinating farm crops is declining because honey prices have not kept pace with beekeeping costs.

"One of our greatest problems in our overall agriculture economy is to maintain enough insects to pollinate our agriculture crops," he said.

"During recent years there has been a definite and progressive decline in the number of colonies of honey bees."

Benson Ford to Head '55 Detroit UF Drive

DETROIT (UP) — Benson Ford, a vice president of the Ford Motor Co., will be chairman of Detroit's 1955 Torch Drive Oct. 18 to Nov. 11. Selection of Ford as head of the "give once for all" charity campaign was announced Tuesday by John S. Bugas, president of the United Foundation, which sponsors the Torch Drive. Bugas also is a Ford vice president.

Summerfields Sue to Recover Taxes

BAY CITY (UP)—Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield and his wife, Miriam, filed suit in Federal Court here yesterday seeking to recover $183,895 paid to the government in taxes.

The suit stemmed from a dispute over the amount of taxes due on $440,000 received by Mrs. Summerfield for the sale of 333 1/2 shares of stock to the Summerfield Chevrolet Co. in Flint in 1948.

Attorneys for the Summerfields have contended that the proceeds from the stock sale should be considered as long-term capital gains and subject to a lower tax rate than ordinary dividends.

The government contends that $275,000 of the total should be regarded as ordinary dividends and thus subject to the higher rate.

The $183,895 was paid by the Summerfields in three payments as alleged deficiencies in interest.

Skunks Get Hot Foot

MYSTIC, Conn. (UP)—Eugene H. Smith got rid of a brood of skunks under his back porch by giving them a hot foot. The striped creatures fled after they stepped on the wet grass, in front of the porch, which had been sprinkled with lye.

Richmond, Va., Known as None-Such Long Ago

RICHMOND, Va. (UP)—The mayor of the little town of Ashland, Va., once known as "None Such," invited the mayor of Richmond to the town's 100th anniversary at Ashland.

The acceptance came from the mayor of "None Such." Legend has it that this name was given to Richmond by Capt. John Smith in early colonial times when the doughty captain discounted the reports brought to him about the proposed site for a town.

Drycleaning Growing

CHICAGO (UP)—Since 1948, there has been a 22 per cent increase in the number of dry-cleaning plants in the United States.

Norbert J. Berg, general manager of the National Institute of Drycleaning, told the organization's convention, Berg attributed the growth to the high level of personal income.

A child born today has a five times better chance to grow to maturity than a child born 30 years ago. Females can expect to live to an average of 72 years and males can expect to live to be 68.

New Skyscraper in Buenos Aires

Work Near Completion on Tallest Building in Latin America

BUENOS AIRES (UP) — The Atlas Building, tallest structure in Latin America and the tallest armored concrete structure in the world, will be ready for use by mid-1955.

Already the 40-story giant glitters white and has a finished appearance from even a short distance. Homeowners are clamoring for the right to occupy the 220 apartments consisting of a total of about 1,000 rooms.

Two of the floors, containing two garages, with the capacity of 80 automobiles each, and service rooms, are built underground.

There are nine apartments on every floor up to the 19th where the steeply-sloped structure, becomes slender. On the top floor there are only three apartments.

There will be no air conditioning

JET TRANSPORT IS A "SMOOTHIE"—Cleveland, Ohio, recently got its first glimpse of a new era in jet air transportation and liked what it saw. As a prelude to starting regular service between Cleveland and Toronto-Montreal in June, Trans-Canada Air Lines put on a number of demonstration flights with the Vickers Viscount, turbo-prop 40-passenger transport, shown above at Cleveland Hopkins Airport. Powered with four 1400 h.p. Rolls Royce Dart jet engines, the Viscount gives the smoothest and quietest ride in commercial aviation. It is the first British-built transport to be purchased in quantity for use in the U. S. Trans-Canada has purchased 25 Viscounts and Capital Airlines is replacing its entire fleet of piston-engined planes with 60 of the turbo-above the second floor because South Americans get uneasy when they cannot open their windows.

Three huge tanks—one on the ground floor, another on the 20th, and another, with a capacity of 100,000 liters, at the top—insure an ample supply of water. And a power station in the building steps up the electricity from the city lines to necessary amperage.

There is also an emergency diesel power unit in case the city system fails.

On the ground floor there will be a moving picture theater with a seating capacity for 700, plus a bank and four shops facing Leandro M. Alem Boulevard which runs parallel to the River Plate. The top floor of the building will become a television studio for Radio el Mundo, a privately owned network. Radio el Mundo will construct a television antenna on top of the studio.

'Heat Barrier' Menaces Fliers

Aircraft Builders Eye Ways of Overcoming High Speed Problem

WASHINGTON (UP)—The competition between world powers for absolute air superiority has greatly magnified the urgency of overcoming the efforts of the "heat barrier" which confronts America's aircraft builders today.

Planes, official publication of the Aircraft Industries Association, says this is caused by air friction at extreme speeds, which lowers the efficiency of ordinary aircraft metals.

It said the "heat barrier" is proving far more difficult than was the anticipated problem of driving aircraft through the sound barrier—765 miles per hour.

Already an American research aircraft has flown at Mach 3

(twice the speed of sound).

And tests have shown that aluminum, steel and titanium, the metals most widely used in today's aircraft, all melt at speeds under Mach 8.

Even more amazing is that research into the heat barrier has indicated that even diamonds will vaporize at the searing heat created at speeds of Mach 10 through the atmosphere.

Planes says new materials must be developed to protect American airmen and their aircraft before much greater speeds become a reality.

Scientists are working now to develop new metal alloys, synthetic rubbers, ceramics, plastics and lubricants.

Aiding these new materials must be new design techniques and innovations, some of which are now taking definite form and some of which are still in experimental states.

Nickel Goes Untouched

HELENA, Mont. (UP)—"Sure, go ahead and use the 'phone,'" gregarious Vern Coughill told a customer adding as a joke: "But it will cost you a nickel." After he finish the caller tossed the nickel on the phone top. The coin is still there. "Thousands of people have used the telephone since, says Coughill. 'They're either an honest lot or they think a nickel isn't worth picking up."

Discount Polio Shot as Cause of Lad's Death

NEW ORLEANS — Funeral services today were arranged for 30-month-old Eugene Allen Davis Jr., who died of infantile paralysis eight days after he received the Salk antipolio vaccine.

The boy, grandson of the noted surgeon Dr. Alton Ochsner, was inoculated April 28 with vaccine obtained from the Cutter Laboratories. The Cutter vaccine was withdrawn April 27 after several children in California contracted polio after receiving it.

The boy was stricken Sunday and was taken to the Alton Ochsner Medical Foundation Hospital the following day. His father is public relations director for the hospital.

Dr. C. Harrington Snyder, who attended the boy, said he and other physicians did not believe the vaccine was responsible for the boy's contracting the disease.

Lad Drowns in Pool

ATLANTA — A 9-year-old boy has become the first drowning victim in the downtown YMCA swimming pool since the pool was opened in 1913. Roland Bailey was pulled from the bottom of the pool yesterday.

Boundaries Set for Southwest

UCLA Librarian Uses Book Backgrounds to Demark Area

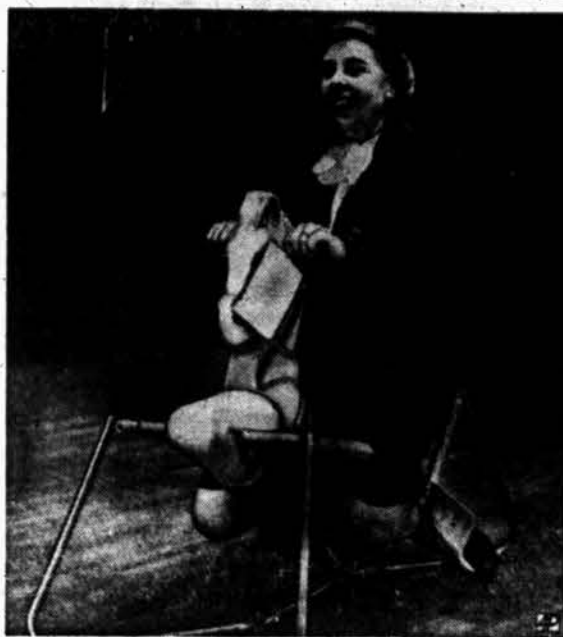

LOS ANGELES (UP) — There is a man in California who believes that the true boundaries of the Southwest can be answered only by books and not maps. He is Clark Powell, librarian on the Los Angeles campus of the University of California.

Powell, now compiling a bibliography of 120 novels which he feels represent the truest picture of the Southwest, believes that he can demark the area by the books he has read.

The northern boundary of the Southwest, he believes, is represented by Zane Grey's most famous western novel, "Riders of the Purple Sage," whose plot is laid in southern Utah and northern Arizona.

He locates the eastern boundary in Tom Lea's "The Wonderful Country," set in the El Paso, Tex., area.

West — "Crazy Weather," a story by Charles McNichols set

TOY TESTING — Professor Emma Dickson Sheehy of Columbia University, chairman of an educators' committee to pass on safety and educational value of toys, has a good time testing a plastic riding horse during a New York meeting.

FIRST STEP—Big daily haul of White House mail gets a preliminary sorting by mail clerk Joseph Landolt.

Many Letters to President Swamp the White House

By DOUGLAS LARSEN

WASHINGTON (NEA) — To many Americans the White House is more than the home and office of the President of the United States. It's their court of last resort.

That feeling, White House officials say, is the chief reason why the postman delivers anywhere from 10,000 to 25,000 pieces of mail each week to 1600 Pennsylvania Ave., N. W.

What different persons consider to be their "last resort," however, sometimes amuses and frequently swamps the White House mail room.

"Dear President Eisenhower: I am in sixth grade and having a civics test next week. Now you are the only one who..."

"Dear Ike: I'm captain of our college debate team and if you would only explain your stand on..."

Letters from kids and students make up the largest single category of White House mail. When it's exam or quiz time the volume, which averages several thousand per week, skyrockets. During the summer it slacks off but still keeps high. All letters are answered from the White House if possible, or referred to the proper federal agency. The U. S. Office of Education furnishes replies to most of them.

Once in a while Ike will see a letter from a youngster and answer it himself. He is especially touched by letters from crippled children and is frequently moved to reply personally.

A crippled little boy in upstate New York, for instance, is the proud possessor of the following letter from Ike after the President had heard the child had a plastic pistol and played at being one of Ike's bodyguards.

"A friend of yours has just told Mrs. Eisenhower and me a wonderful story that... I have a small but courageous little bodyguard by day and that my picture watches over you while you sleep. I am proud to have such a staunch defender."

"Please tell your mother I hope very much the miracle of science will help you to grow up to be strong and well—and as you grow a little older my good wishes are always with you."

The biggest single deluge of mail was inspired by the electrocution of the Rosenberg spies. For several weeks before the event an average of 20,000 letters and postcards a week was received on the subject. Most did not require an answer. A good percentage was from foreign countries and had to be read by interpreters to make sure other important foreign correspondence buried in it was found.

Other typical letters in the "last resort" category include pleas for pardons, requests for review of some decision of a federal agency and appeals to redress any number of wrongs which the writer believes he has suffered.

A weekly three-page report is prepared on mail received. Top item on it is marked "support." This tells how many letters have been received favoring some presidential action or decision. On a 12,000-letter week, "support" usually runs close to 500 letters. "Critical" will run about 100.

Strangely enough, taxes and the question of balancing of the budget produce negligible mail. The Taft-Hartley law and the farm program reach Ike's desk. And when the important ones are more than one page long, they're briefed on a small yellow piece of paper which is clipped to the letter.

A very few letters—from old friends, or those marked personal from heads of foreign states to top officials—get to his desk unopened. The mail room has elaborate electronics equipment for examining all mail to make sure that nothing which might injure the President is enclosed.

Ike personally answers several hundred letters per week, either by direct dictation or by suggesting what ideas must be included. He does not have the habit, like his predecessor, of dashing off hand-written notes when the mood hits him.

The only thing he does in his own handwriting is add long postscripts or personal notes on the bottoms of letters.

The President's mail accounts for a goodly share of all that is delivered to the White House. Mamie gets at least 600 letters a week and sometimes a great many more.

She takes a more personal interest in answering the mail than Ike, who just doesn't have the time. She answers a great many in her own handwriting and makes sure every query is replied to in one manner or another.

Ike's mail is now down to a normal of about 12,000 per week when there's no red hot issue, like the Harry Dexter White case which brought in several thousand letters a week after it broke. It was three to four times that amount at first.

Two major steps have been taken to reduce the mail answering load. It has been ordered that replies to routine queries be kept extremely brief. And a robot typewriter has been installed to turn out duplicate letters with a relatively personal touch.

Can't Say It's Wordy

HARTFORD, Conn. (UP) — A 18-word will, written on paper measuring 2 by 4 inches, was admitted to probate. It was signed by the late John Wysocki and read, "In the event of my death, I want my car to go to my son, Joseph."

Preparedness Fails

BRIDGEPORT, Conn. (UP)—A liquor store owner placed a loaded revolver in his coat pocket just in case holdupmen picked him for a New Year's Eve target. Two bandits, one carrying a gun, entered the store and took $225 from the cash register. They also took his gun, which fell out of his pocket during the stickup.

Punch-line to the year's hottest power story—

Chevrolet "Turbo-Fire V8"!

There's only one way you'll really discover the hottest power story of the year. Get aboard a new Chevrolet that packs a bundle of velvety TNT under the hood—the new "Turbo-Fire V8"!

For this is the engine that's writing a whole new chapter in the book of automobile performance records. This is the engine that has stock car timers doing a "double take" at their stop-watches wherever experts gather to compare the abilities of the 1953 cars.

For example, in the recent NASCAR* stock car competition at Daytona Beach, Florida, Chevrolet literally ran away from every other car in its class—and a raft of others besides. In the one-mile straightaway run for low-priced cars, the first two places—and six of the first ten—went to Chevrolets. And in acceleration runs from a standing start against all comers, Chevrolet beat all other low-priced cars—and every high-priced car except one!

What's behind this blazing performance? A compact honey of a V8 that only the world's leading producer of valve-in-head engines can build. Chevrolet's new "Turbo-Fire V8" has the shortest piston stroke in the industry (that means less piston travel... longer engine life!) And it delivers the highest power per pound of any V8 in the low-priced field. It's so efficient that it requires only four quarts of oil instead of the usual five...needs less radiator coolant, too. It's the most modern V8 under anybody's hood!

But the thing you'll like most is the way it puts a new kind of fun in your driving life. You're in charge of 162 high-spirited horsepower with the new "Turbo-Fire V8" and if you're looking for even more excitement, the new "Super Turbo-Fire V8" (optional at extra cost) puts 180 h.p. under your toe.

Pick the one you'd rather have fun with, then come in and get behind the wheel. You'll see why the Motorama Chevrolet is showing its heels to everyone else on the road!

No other low-priced car has any—no high-priced car has all—of these great Chevrolet features!

Body by Fisher—You see it on some of the highest-priced cars. Nine engine-drive choices in any model—The greatest choice going. 12-volt electrical system—Twice the voltage of other low-priced cars. Anti-Disc braking—A Chevrolet exclusive for heads-up stops. Outrigger rear springs—Wide-spaced for steady cornering. Ball-Race steering—Turns on ball bearings. High-Level ventilation—Cleaner, fresher air. Double-Arch cowl construction—Extra strength and safety.

Early Railbirds Pick Nashua as Derby Victor

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Preparations for the 81st Kentucky Derby virtually were completed today with at least nine finely-tuned 3-year old horses ready for the start of the mile and one-quarter race leading to fame and fortune.

Nine colts from eight stables are considered definite starters. And the name of a 10th may well be dropped into the entry box before the deadline at 10 a.m. Eastern Standard Time Friday.

It costs $250 to enter a horse tomorrow and an additional $1,250 is payable before he can join the colorful parade to the post at the top of Churchill Downs' long home stretch. If 10 are in the post parade Saturday, the race will have a gross value of $152,500 with the winner taking down a net of $108,400. Both figures are records since Churchill Downs boosted the added money from $100,000 to $125,000 this year.

Post time is 4:30 p.m. Eastern Standard Time. The broadcast and television time via CBS is 4:15-4:45.

The horses themselves have completed their training with the exception of a blow-out tomorrow and possibly speed sharpeners by two of the favorites—Mrs. John W. Galbreath's Summer Tan and Rex Ellsworth's Swaps. Nashua, the 4 to 5 choice from William Woodward's Belair Stud, is as fit and ready as man can make him.

These three dominate the race

almost to the exclusion of all others. Here and there could be found scattered supporters for the Cain Ho Stable pair of Racing Fool and Flying Fury.

But the early arrivals among the predicted turnout of 100,000 joined with the trainers of the derby candidates in picking Nashua as the horse to beat—come rain or shine. And they say it'll be either Summer Tan or Swaps in the runner-up spot. Early odds quoted Summer Tan at 2 to 1 and Swaps at 6 to 1.

The weatherman's predictions calls for temperatures hovering around 90 degrees and a lightning fast track. Such conditions could well endanger Whirlaway's record of two minutes, one and 25 seconds established in 1931. There's enough early speed and plenty of finishing power in the race to warrant a new record.

The scattered supporters of Racing Fool and Flying Fury were quick to recall that Native Dancer appeared unbeatable two years ago. But he bowed to Dark Star, another Cain Ho representative who like Flying Fury won the Derby Trial.

From there on down you can about write your own ticket. If any of the others should be on the front end at the finish it would be one of the biggest upsets in derby history.

Eddie Arcaro, who'll be after his sixth derby winner on Nashua, is due in from New York late tonight, Eric Guerin, Summer Tan's rider, will arrive tomorrow. Steve Brooks, set down for 10 days at Keeneland for illegal riding, once again is eligible. He'll be astride Jean's Joe. All of the other jockeys either are on hand or expected today.

Hank Moreno, winner with Dark Star, and Conn McCreary, who scored with Pensive in 1944 and Count Turf in 1951 will be the guiding hands on the Cain Ho pair. Moreno will be astride Racing Fool, a speed horse working on a string of four straight wins, and McCreary will be up on the late-closing Flying Fury, victor in an unimpressive Derby Trial Tuesday. It is understood they have agreed to split whatever money, if any, they receive. The winning jockey usually gets 10 per cent of the purse.

Meantime, Louisville itself was starting to bulge at the seams. A carnival atmosphere was apparent on the streets and in the hotel lobbies. By tomorrow night it will be a merry mob.

Derby town for years has been the crossroads of the world when the 3-year olds race for fame and gold. And this year is no different. There'll be the youthful Shah of Iran and his auburn-haired Empress Soraya, such movie stars as Marilyn Monroe, Cyd Charisse and her husband, Tony Martin, Arthur Godfrey from the television field and a host of millionaires and industrial giants.

Three members of President Eisenhower's cabinet have indicated they'll be here. They are Treasury Secretary George Humphries, Secretary of Air Harold Talbott and Secretary of Interior Douglas McKay.

Champ Floored by Sparmate

CALISTOGA, Calif. (AP)—Heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano was "properly nailed" and floored yesterday by a sparring mate's left hook to the jaw.

"It was a knockdown, no question about it," said Peter Wilson, of the London Daily Mirror. Wilson was one of five British boxing writers watching Rocky workout with Toxic Hall of Chicago, a 200 pounder.

There was no question, either, that the second knockdown in Rocky's career couldn't have come at a better time in the buildup for Marciano's May 16 title defense against British challenger Don Cockell in Kezar Stadium.

Manager Al Weill, seemingly surprised at seeing Rocky on the canvas in a training workout with 16 ounce gloves, recovered quickly to exploit the punch that nailed Rocky flush on the jaw.

"It only goes to show," said Weill, "that anything can happen when two men are in there swinging."

Wilson, telling what he saw, said, "both men threw left hooks. It was Hall's that landed."

"Marciano was down for three seconds, maybe four. Then he was back on his feet."

"Marciano is always open to be hit, you know," Wilson continued. "The problem is to make him stay hit."

With Wilson at the workout were Gerard Walter of the News Chronicle, Harry Carpenter of the Daily Mail, Harold Mayes of Kemsley Newspapers, and A. W. Parsons of the Sunday Dispatch.

Wilson said he had talked with all except Parsons. All concurred there was no question about Hall's punch flooring Rocky.

"You all saw what happened," Rocky told the English writers in his dressing room. "I got hit."

Ben Bentley, Rocky's publicist, said Rocky made no claim of "slipping" or any other excuse. At Cockell's San Rafael camp there was a lift in the news that a solid punch could sit Rocky down on the seat of his pants.

"Blimey," said Cockell, "it looks as if he's as easy to hit as they tell me. I saw pictures of Jersey Joe Walcott knocking him down. Now along comes a bloke, almost unknown, who floors him. 'I think if I knock him down I can keep him down.'"

Former Sandlot, Prep Mound Ace Signs Pro Pact

Waterford's Jack Kratt, pitching for Lakeland 9 in Florida Loop

Jack Kratt of Waterford, former prep and sandlot pitching star, has signed a professional baseball contract with the Lakeland Pilots of the Class D Florida State League. He was scouted while attending the baseball school operated by White Sox pitcher Virgil Trucks at Auburndale, Fla., this spring.

The 20-year-old southpaw is a 1933 graduate of Waterford High School, where he won letters in football and baseball. He was twice named to the All-Inter-Lakes Conference baseball team.

In his senior year, he won 5 games for the Skipper nine, posting a brilliant 1.64 earned run average in 64 innings, striking out 35, while walking only 21.

An outstanding performer for two seasons with the Waterford American Legion junior baseball team, Kratt last season was a member of the Class A General Motors City League club.

He attended Western Michigan College for a semester prior to enrolling in Trucks' baseball school. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William P. Kratt of 4191 Foley, Waterford.

Nixon, 'Tiger Killer'

DETROIT (AP)—Willard Nixon, known as a "Yankee Killer," also is becoming a Detroit nemesis. The Boston Red Sox hurler posted a 3-1 won-loss record over the Tigers during the 1934 season. Last night he continued his mastery over the Tigers by gaining credit for a 3-2 victory.

Yankee Influence

HANOVER, N. H. — Two former New York Yankees stars are coaching Dartmouth's baseball team this spring — Bob Shawkey and Red Rolfe.

MADISON — In his career as a fullback for Wisconsin, Ann Amegachine gained a total of 3,212 yards for a collegiate record.

Durocher Accuses Himself of Being 'Asleep' on Play

NEW YORK (AP)—"I fell asleep on the bench. That's the first time I ever did that."

Such a self-accusing statement is surprising enough when made by any major league manager but coming from Leo Durocher, it is a real shock.

"That's right," the manager of the New York Giants repeated, "I was asleep, out there. I made a wrong decision because I lost track of the other team's lineup. Luckily, it didn't hurt us but I pulled a rock."

Durocher's "rock" however, did not prevent the Giants from winning 4-3 over the Chicago Cubs in 11 innings yesterday.

There was one out in the Cubs' half of the eighth with the score tied at 3-3 when Ernie Banks raised a routine high fly to straightaway center, Willie Mays

MSC Session Popular Many County Coaches Attend Grid Clinic

The Pontiac area will be well represented by high school football coaches this weekend at the annual Michigan State College football clinic, which is highlighted Saturday afternoon by the annual Green and White Spartan spring scrimmage.

Pontiac High will be represented, probably by Ed Heikkinen and Arnold Wilson, and the Waterford High delegation will include head coach Dave Freeman and assistants Don Beedle and Al Cuthrell, as well as athletic director Walt Ashley and Cray Junior High's Jerry Lewis.

Tom Evans, of Walled Lake is attending as is Southfield's Monte Charles and his aides. Dick Yeager and assistant Bill Golden of Milford will be there along with Avondale's Frank Crowell and Gene Koneley of Rochester.

Jean Harkness of Oxford and Burl Glendening of Orionville are making the trip, while Herb Quade and probably Reese Protz of Holly are going.

Friday and Saturday morning clinic sessions will be handled by guest coaches Lynn (Pappy) Waldorf of California and Eddie Erdelatz of Navy, along with the Duffy Daugherty and the MSC staff.

The usual summer grid clinics are listed Aug. 4-6 at Northern Michigan College, Marquette, featuring Iowa's Forest Evashevski, and Aug. 15-19 at Central Michigan College, Mt. Pleasant, with Murray Warmath of Minnesota on hand for football discussions, MSC's Fordy Anderson for basketball, and Don Canham of Michigan, track.

Hogan Seeking End of Victory Drought Today

Bantam Ben Hasn't Won in Year, but is Picked in Colonial Tourney

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—The Rich Colonial National Invitation golf tournament opens today with Ben Hogan favored to return to his winning ways.

Hogan is starved for a victory although his record over the years is one of the most impressive in links history. It has been more than a year since he bagged first money.

But the man who has won four of the eight Colonial tournaments, but failed last season because of illness is a solid choice to drag down the $5,000 first prize again. Posting scores of 66, 69 and 67 in tuneup rounds, Ben became a two to one favorite, just a step ahead of Cary Middlecoff, former Colonial champion and recent victor in the glamorous Masters.

The 7,035-yard Colonial Country Club course with a tight 35-35-70 par challenges 48 ace shotmakers in the opening 18 holes of the $25,000 tournament that runs through Sunday.

Byron Nelson, Raymond Gafford and Jimmie Demaret were scheduled off the tee at 11:30 a.m. (CST). Hogan goes out at noon, playing with Johnny Palmer, the 1934 Colonial champion, and Fred Haas.

A crowd of 6,500 jammed the course yesterday to watch the final tuneups.

In the practice rounds Skip Alexander, the big blond from St. Petersburg, Fla., who had his golf career dimmed by injuries in a flaming plane crash several years ago, turned in a 3-under-par 67. That was the best round other than one shot by Hogan early in the week.

Middlecoff, the 1951 champion, didn't post a score yesterday in his tuneup round and said he played poorly. But he promised he'd be much better today.

Middlecoff ventured the prediction that it would require 276 or 277 for the 72 holes to win the tournament. Palmer's score last year was 280 and even Johnny figured the winning total this time would be lower. Absence of a rough of any consequence and the good greens were reasons for the forecasts of a lower score.

Hogan talked about an under-280 score if there is no troubling wind.

Two Connie Macks

CHAPEL HILL, N. C. — When North Carolina and Rollins College met in baseball this year, Connie Mack was in the middle of things. Two of them, that is — Connie Mack Gravitt of the Tar Heels and Connie Mack Butler of Rollins.

Strikeout Comparison

NEW YORK — Don Mueller of the Giants fanned only 13 times in 1934 to top the National League. Duke Snider whiffed 96 times but also batted at a .341 pace.

Explosive Title

NEW YORK — Of the past seven middleweight champions, Carl Olson, the incumbent, is the only one who didn't win his title by a knockout. He took 15-round decisions from Paddy Young and Randy Turpin to gain the crown.

One-Third Point Is Margin of Defeat for Shamrocks

Pontiac St. Michael's 1st track effort in a 3-year span may have been a losing cause, but you can't lose much closer than the Shamrocks do.

Coach Bob Mineweaver's thin-clads, not given much of a chance with only one holdover and a highly inexperienced squad, battled Avondale's Yellowjackets Wednesday afternoon at Avondale before bowing by the thinnest of margins, 54.2-54.5.

St. Mike's captured six 1st places in the dual meet, took five 2nds and tied for another, and gained seven 3rds while deadlocking the opponent for two others. The scoring was evenly distributed among St. Mike's cindermen, Dan Dropps being the only double winner. Dropps won the high jump and broad jump.

Shamrocks jumped off to an early lead and maintained it until the last three events. But just when victory seemed within their grasp, Avondale triumphed in the shot, the 880 relay, and the medley relay to nose them out by one-third of a point.

Avondale won seven 1sts, seven 2nds, and three 3rd places in its narrow win.

Linscott Gets Perrault Next

Pontiac 160-Pounder Signed for Main Go on Motor City TV

Gene Linscott, Pontiac's undefeated middleweight hopeful in the professional boxing world, will be confronted by a formidable opponent in his next match.

Linscott, now making a comeback campaign after his discharge from service, has signed to fight Jimmy Perrault in a six-round bout at Detroit's Motor City 17. The bout will be half of a televised double main event, Don Frayer, Gene's manager reports.

Perrault, of Duluth, Minnesota, is an extremely clever boxer with a good left hand. He holds victories over several ranking fighters, such as Allen Kennedy of Bay City, and Iowa's tough Bob Rossi, whom he has beaten twice.

Linscott won his last outing April 26 at Motor City, gaining a unanimous six-round decision over Detroit's "Young" Chico.

Tickets for the Linscott-Perrault fight can be purchased at the Triple X Sandwich Shop and Frayer's Refrigeration.

Dancer, Rocky in Same Fix—No Opponents

Writer Figures Heavy King Will Get Archie Moore Next

NEW YORK (INS) — Native Dancer was a great champion. How good he was nobody really knows because, as they say at the track, he had nothing to beat.

Rocky Marciano, also a splendid champion, is in the same fix. Nobody knows how good he may be because he, too, has no worthwhile competition.

There was no Nashua or Citation around to make Native Dancer extend himself, and Marciano has no Gene Tunney to test him as Gene did Jack Dempsey.

Lack of competition was not the fault of either Native Dancer or Marciano. Both did what they were expected to do and that is all you can ask of any champion.

The sorry state of the heavy-weight division was clearly demonstrated Monday night when a fat old pappy guy Archie Moore, light heavyweight champion, beat Nina Valdes, who was ranked as Marciano's No. 1 contender.

The victory automatically moved Moore up into the No. 1 spot for the next shot at Marciano's title.

It will be interesting to see which victim Al Weill, Marciano's cagy manager, will select next for Marciano.

It is our guess that Moore will be chosen because the other contenders — Bob Baker, Hurricane Jackson, Johnny Holman, Ezzard Charles, Earl Wells, Rex Layne, Hans Neuhaus and James J. Parker—don't figure to draw a thin dime with Rocky.

Boudreau Pleased With Kaycee's .500 Mark in First Round Against AL Rivals

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Manager Lou Boudreau asks another few weeks before offering his idea of how well the Kansas City Athletics will do in the American League pennant race, but in one respect he's just like the everyday fan here—downright pleased.

"I feel the club has done a good job thus far," Boudreau said after the A's dumped Baltimore 6-3 yesterday to bring their season record to .500. The club leaves today on its first long road trip. It opens in Cleveland Friday.

But handsome Lou, once the boy wonder of the Cleveland Indians and later manager of the Indians and the Boston Red Sox, isn't ready to offer even a guess on the eventual success of the club.

"I've said all along we'd get out of the cellar this season," Boudreau commented. "Naturally I am pleased with the fact we beat everybody at least once on the first go-around and I feel just about all the boys have been playing up to their capability."

Vic is second in batting in the American League with a .415 average. He's well up in other departments, too—13 runs batted in, 18 runs scored, 27 hits, 6 doubles, 2 triples and 4 home runs.

Boudreau cited first baseman Vic Power, third baseman Jim Fingand and shortstop Joe DeMaestri for their excellent performances in early games.

Power has been great both at the plate and on defense. Out now for a few days with a leg injury.

Injured Boxer Still in Serious Condition

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (AP)—Jose Contreras, Taunton middleweight, who underwent emergency surgery for a brain injury in a bout with Bob Bolton of Providence Monday night, lapsed into a coma again late yesterday. He had regained consciousness briefly Tuesday and spoke to his family and doctors.

Hospital authorities said Contreras' return to a coma was not unusual in such a case but pointed out that the fighter's condition is still very critical.

Crane Teams Split

Cranbrook athletic teams split with Dearborn Wednesday with the baseball team losing out to the Pioneers, 5-4, while the tennis team took a 4-3 defeat.

The Crane nine went into the 6th inning trailing 4-3, but Chuck Dunkel homered behind Jim Grube's double and that was the ball game. Steve Hayes, who relieved Pete Bedford in the 5th, was the winning pitcher.

Spartans End Bronco String With 14-1 Rout

MSC Batters 3 WMC Pitchers; Matsock Is Top Slugger

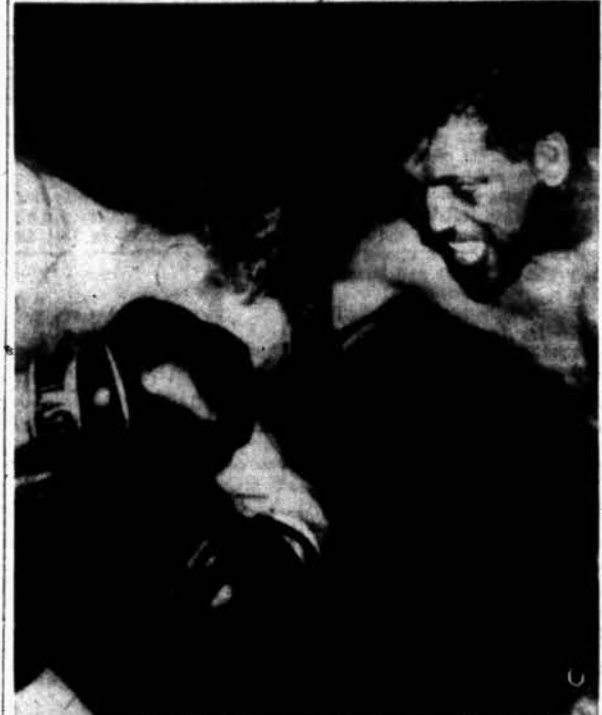

KALAMAZOO (AP) — Michigan State ended Western Michigan's nine-game winning streak yesterday with a 14-1 rout in a non-conference baseball game.

Spartan batter pounded three Western Michigan pitchers for 10 hits that produced 13 runs before Jerry Spisto went to the mound to squelch the uprising. He allowed one more run and five scattered hits in his five-inning appearance.

MSC has a big 2nd inning, pouring across eight runs on six hits, two walks and two Bronco errors. Spartan football regular John Matsock led the hitting attack with two singles and a triple in six tries.

Defeat left the Broncos with a 10-2 won-lost record. Michigan State's is 10-8.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Top featherweight contender Percy Bassett undergoes an eye examination today that could determine whether he will be able to continue boxing.

Following the scheduled examination by Dr. P. Robb McDonald, Bassett will enter Wills Eye Hospital for surgery on a detached retina in his left eye.

Bassett arrived here yesterday after a flight from France where he TKO'd Seraphin Ferre, French lightweight champion, Bassett says he suffered his injury in the first round of that bout.

The Philadelphia boxer held the interim featherweight title while champion Sandy Saddler was in the Army and after a series of setbacks has fought his way again to the No. 1 contender's position.

Bow to Bosox 3-2, in Extra Inning Contest

Kinder Saves Nixon's Game in 11th; Frank Lary Loses 7-Hitter

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit Tigers blew a chance to move into 1st place in the American League last night when they dropped a 3-2 decision to the Boston Red Sox in 11 tense innings.

As the two teams headed into extra innings before 32,685 in Briggs Stadium, Tigers knew a victory would shove them into undisputed possession of 1st place.

The gigantic scoreboard atop the centerfield bleachers showed that the Cleveland Indians had dropped an 11-5 decision to the New York Yankees. A win and the Tigers would pass Cleveland.

But it wasn't to be. The Red Sox squeezed out a run in a hectic 11th inning, highlighted by a demonstration by the fans in centerfield. They didn't agree with umpire Nestor Chylak's decision on a pitch to Ray Boone in the bottom of the 11th. They voiced their disapproval by tossing paper cups, beer cans and newspapers onto the field.

The Red Sox filled the bases in the 11th on two singles and an intentional walk. Harry Agganis scored the winning run on Ted Lepcio's infield grounder, just beating Boone's throw to the plate. Tigers kicked up a fuss in their half of the 11th, with Ferris Fain slapping a single to right and Boone drawing a walk.

On a 2-1 pitch to Boone, right-hander Willard Nixon missed the corner of the plate and the umpire called it a ball. The Red Sox protested and play was held up for nine minutes.

After Nixon walked Boone, he was replaced by Ellis Kinder, Boston's ancient relief pitcher. Kinder worked out of the jam and saved the game by getting Jim Delsing and Bill Tuttle on fly balls.

Rookie Frank Lary went all the way for the Tigers. He permitted only seven hits but dropped his 2nd game against two wins. He walked three and struck out six.

Tuttle sent the Tigers into a 1-0 lead in the 2nd with a single which scored Fain. They made it 2-0 in the 3rd on successive singles by Harvey Kuenn, Fred Hatfield and Al Kaline.

Kaline's hit, incidentally, was his only one of the game and his batting average dropped below the .400 mark, to .394.

Jackie Jensen hit a right field home run for Boston's 1st run in the 4th. Sox tied the score in the 7th on Lepcio's double, a fly ball and a single by Bill Klaus.

The two teams close out their three-game series today. It also will mark the end of Detroit's home stand.

Old-Fashioned Homers Keep Dodgers in Front

By The Associated Press
The secret of the Brooklyn Dodgers' staggering head start in the National League now is out in the open—and it's not a complicated one. It's nothing more than the old-fashioned home run.

Gil Hodges, Duke Snider and Roy Campanella hit three more at Ebbets Field last night to crush the St. Louis Cardinals 12-4. This was their sixth victory in a row, their 17th in 19 starts. It gave them a 6½-game lead over second-place Chicago.

The Dodgers have hit 32 home runs, accounting for 59 runs. Many of them have come at "clutch" moments.

Right fielder Carl Furillo leads with eight. Snider has seven and Campanella five.

While the Dodgers keep right on striding, the other red-hot teams in both leagues run into occasional cool-off periods.

The Cleveland Indians, American League leaders who had won seven of their last eight, were chilled by the New York Yankees, who scored seven runs in the last two innings to win 11-5. The brash Detroit Tigers, winners of 9 of 10 and facing a chance to take over the league lead, dropped a taut 11-inning game to the Boston Red Sox 3-2.

The Chicago Cubs saw a four-game winning streak snapped at the Polo Grounds, where an 11th-inning home run by Whitey Lockman gave the reshifted New York Giants a 4-3 triumph.

The Kansas City Athletics defeated the Baltimore Orioles 6-5 for their seventh victory in nine games. The Pittsburgh Pirates won their fourth straight, whacking Milwaukee 5-4.

The Washington Senators smothered a late rally to shade the Chicago White Sox 5-4 and Cincinnati's Redlegs walloped the Philadelphia Phillies 7-3 with the aid of two home runs by Wally Post.

Both Snider and Campanella hit their homers for Brooklyn with two men on base while Hodges socked a loner. The Dodgers continued to get good hitting and pitching when they needed it. Johnny Podres, gave up nine hits, including home runs to Rip Repulski and Ken Boyer, but he never was in grave danger.

Manager Leo Durocher shook up the batting order of his world champion Giants and the move paid dividends. Young Foster Castleman, replacing Davey Williams at second, got the first home run of his major league career. Ruben Gomez won the tense mound duel from Sam Jones.

Rookie Roberto Clemente made a spectacular catch to save the Pittsburgh game. He ran deep to the right field stands to spear George Crowe's long drive with two out in the ninth and two men on base for Milwaukee.

At Cleveland, the Yankees scored four runs in the eighth and three in the ninth to crush Bob Lemon's bid for his sixth straight victory. Yogi Berra homered for the Yanks and Dave Pope for the Indians. Tom Morgan, who relieved Bob Grim in the seventh, was credited with the win.

A home run by Gus Zernial and some tight relief pitching by Tom Gorman accounted for the Athletics' verdict over Baltimore.

Chuck Stobbs did a top-flight relief job for Washington's Bob Porterfield at Chicago. He came into the game in the ninth to stop the White Sox with two men on base and one out.

Dodgers Missed Boat, Let Pirates Draft Roberto Clemente, Now Playing Starring Role for Pirates

NEW YORK (U)—It is only by grace of a stringent new bonus rule and a slight sleeping at the switch by the Brooklyn front office that the rampant Dodgers do not have still another 300-plus hitter.

Not that they need any help at the moment, but there could come a time when a fresh young hand such as Roberto Clemente, Pittsburgh's sparkling rookie outfielder and leadoff batter, would be a great comfort to have around.

What hurts the Brooklyn brass is that up to less than six months ago it owned the Puerto Rican flash body and soul, only to lose him and $16,000 in cash through a tactical blunder.

The chain of events began two winters back, when a Dodger scout saw the boy, then only 19, playing in his native land, and liked what he saw to the extent that his bosses slipped Roberto $20,000 to sign a contract. Any gift over $4,000 brings a new "bonus" player into the game and makes him a target for unrestricted draft after his first season in the minors.

Playing with Brooklyn's Montreal farm last year, Clemente burned down no barns. He hit a mere .257. Brooklyn took no measures to cover him up. They let him go back to Puerto Rico last fall and sign on with the Santurce club in the winter league.

First thing anyone knew, Roberto was going wild, hitting practically level with his illustrious teammate Willie Mays and fielding like a little demon.

On Nov. 22, at least five clubs had him down as their No. 1 draft choice. The last-place Pirates got first pick and sailed away what appears to be an authentic young star for only $4,000. Under the bonus rule, this is the intentionally low price set on a bonus baby, and it's all the Brooks have to show for their $20,000.

Several baseball men said they believed Clemente would have escaped detection entirely if he had not played in Puerto Rico.

As of this time, the speed boy is clouting well up among the first 10 in the National League and has had much to do with the Pirates' greatly improved showing in the past week.

Junior Highs Win 2nd Meets

Eastern, Washington Victors Over Lincoln, Wever Teams

Eastern and Washington Junior High track team each marked up their 2nd dual meet victories of the season against one loss Wednesday on the Wisner Field track.

Eastern's Indians downed Lincoln, 49% to 27%, while Washington routed Wever 60-16.

Jim Skinner was the pacesetter for Eastern with a win in the shot put and a first place tie with the high jump. John Phlegm won 3 events and Willie Shaw 2 for Washington.

Phlegm took both hurdles and the high jump, while Shaw won the 75-yard dash and the broad jump. Phlegm, making his first start in competition, was two-tenths of a second off the 100-yard low hurdles record in 12.3 seconds, and .4 off in the 50-yard high in 7.3 seconds.

Citation's Son 3rd in Racing Debut

ALBANY, Calif. (U)—Document, grey 2-year-old son of Citation, finished third yesterday in his debut at Golden Gate Fields but it was a rousing race he ran.

Acquired by Andy Crevolin as a yearling for $36,000, the son of the great Citation broke last in the field of 11 but was closing hard at the end of the five-furlong test. Mobile, son of Count Speed, won the race in 58 seconds, a track record. Both are eligible for next Thursday's $15,000 added Golden Gate Futurity.

Citation is the only horse in American turf history to earn more than one million dollars racing.

Junior Golfer Sets Record at Jackson

JACKSON — Bob Zimmerman, 17-year-old Jackson High school golfer, fired a nine under par 32-31 — 63 to set a record for the Cascades course here.

The youngster birdied nine of the 18 holes on the hilly course, considered tougher than most. It was his 4th round in the 60s. Two weeks ago he shot a 67 at the championship old course at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va.

CINCINNATI — Maybe the fans in the stands already are figuring the fast-starting Brooklyn Dodgers will have the 1955 National League pennant race locked up by the Fourth of July but such fast breaks from the barrier don't always mean a spot in the World Series.

A runaway race naturally does not help things at the box office so Dave Grote, the National League's service director, has dug up some psychological trouble for the Dodgers who now have won 17 of their first 19 games and are leading second place Chicago Cubs by 6½ games.

Since 1914 more than a dozen National League teams have gotten away to brilliant starts and then failed to win the pennant. The oddity of all probably was in 1914. Pittsburgh won 15 of its first 17 games and 21 of its first 29 yet finished seventh. And Cincinnati, which was second as late as June 28, wound up in last place. That also was the year the Boston Braves came from last place on the Fourth of July to win the pennant.

The New York Giants of 1913 won their first nine games and on May 9 stood atop the heap with an 18-1 mark but when the final action was recorded the Cubs were champs with a 10½ game margin over the Polo Grounders.

In 1919 the Dodgers won 9 of the first 10 yet finished fifth and in 1921 the Pirates boasted such early-season marks as 16-3, 19-3 and 25-6 but came in second, four games behind New York.

The Giants of 1925 stood 21-6 on May 18 but ran a bad second to Pittsburgh which finished 8½ games on top. The Pirates reversed the proceedings in 1933 when they won 15 of their first 20 games but bowed to the Giants in the final standings by five games.

The 1934 Cubs opened with 10 victories in 12 starts and finished third while the St. Louis Cardinals lost 7 of their first 10 but won the championship. The Giants of 1935 hopped out in front with 14 victories in 18 games and on June 1 had won 26 while losing only 9 yet they finished third, 8½ games behind the Cubs who pulled off one of the greatest pennant drives in history. The Cubs won 60 of their last 82 games.

In 1940, Brooklyn won its first nine games but finished second and in 1941 the Cardinals roared away with a 31-9 start by Memorial Day but closed in the rubber-up spot. The following year the Dodgers placed second after winning 14 of their first 17 and 25 of the first 33.

Birmingham Takes 4th Straight Win

Birmingham's Maples hung up their 4th straight baseball victory Wednesday and their 2nd in Eastern Michigan League play by shutting out Hazel Park, 5-0, on the 2-hit pitching of Dick Sheldon and Larry Milford.

Sheldon worked 6 innings, yielding one hit and striking out 12. Tom Beck paced the Maples at bat with 3 singles in 4 trips. Bill Watkinson hammered a run-producing triple with Beck aboard.

Birmingham is the defending EML champion.

Double Award for Yogi

NEW YORK—Yogi Berra of the Yankees last year became the 6th player in history to win the American league's most valuable player award twice. He was also named for the honor in the 1951 season.

Housewife Jockeys Horse That Always 'Beats' Nashua

LOUISVILLE, Ky. — If anybody can get ahead of a horse like Nashua, it's Mrs. Claire McClary. She does every day.

Mrs. McClary, wife of Nashua's exercise boy, rides the lead pony when the derby favorite goes to the track.

It's a plushy part-time job for a housewife. For one thing, says Mrs. McClary, the hours are short even though she's out of bed at 5 a.m.

"But by 10 o'clock your work's all done. Then you can have the rest of the day to do what you like... oh, maybe you work at the track for an hour in the afternoon."

At 10 she also can swap boots and saddle for home, usually a furnished apartment in New York, Chicago, Miami or Baltimore.

"It's really like a vacation all the time," Mrs. McClary, a city girl who learned to ride in rental stables at Dover, N.J., also has been a registered nurse—a profession she gave up 10 years ago for marriage.

Naturally, she feels Nashua will win the Kentucky Derby next Saturday.

"He's a horse who never worries about anything. Just takes it easy—never frets. It's just like people. Someone nervous and fretful may be better at something than a calm person. But it's the calm one who does best. Look at that."

Nashua stuck his head out of the stable and yawned.

Gorman Paying Off for A's as Reliever

KANSAS CITY — Tom Gorman, the bespectacled right-hander the Athletics bought from the New York Yankees last month, is paying off as a reliever for Manager Lou Boudreau.

Gorman put down Baltimore's ninth inning uprising last night as Kansas City emerged with a 4-3 victory. It was Gorman's third successful relief stint in a row. Previously, he had saved games against Boston and Washington. Gorman, however, did not receive credit for the victory. Ed Burt-sch was the winning Kansas City hurler.

Fans Asked to Give Nickname for Al Kaline

DETROIT — Sports editor Lyall Smith of Detroit had a problem. He wanted to give a nickname to Al Kaline, the young slugger of the Detroit Tigers, but couldn't think of one.

So he asked his readers to send in some nicknames. Here are a few:

"A-Bomb Al... The Nipper... The Greyhound... The Arm... King... Zip... Kitten... Baby Doll..."

But the best, perhaps, was "Salty."

"After all," pointed out the reader, "Salt means alkaline." Ouch!

KC Athletics Option 3 to Columbus Club

KANSAS CITY — The Kansas City Athletics optioned pitcher Bob Trice and infielder Harold Bevan to Columbus of the International League and sent pitcher Bob Spicer to Savannah of the South Atlantic League yesterday.

Trice had pitched 10 innings, given up 14 hits and 13 runs, and had no record. Spicer had pitched only 2 2-3 innings, and also had no record.

Bevan had made only three fruitless pinch hit appearances for the A's.

Best Smelt Dipper Wins Rod and Reel

CHEBOYGAN (UP) — Raymond Phillips, 28, Cheboygan, today was awarded a rod and reel for dipping the biggest smelt in the Cheboygan area this year.

Phillips won the annual contest by dipping a smelt 11½ inches long in Mill Creek.

Practical but Not Loyal

NEW YORK — Baseball writers covering the Yankees this year are practical observers.

By a vote of seven to two they picked the Indians to win the American League pennant. They also chose the Braves to take the flag in the National League.

All seven picking the Indians for first place had the Yanks for second.

Kansas City was the unanimous choice for the cellar spot.

Record Victory Total

EAST LANSING — Michigan State's 25 baseball victories in 1954 was an all-time season high for the Spartans.

WEDNESDAY'S STARS

PITCHING—Ruben Gomez, New York Giants, pitched the Giants to a 4-3 11-inning victory over Chicago Cubs, allowing only three runs in the fourth inning.

BATTING — Wally Post, Cincinnati Redlegs, drove out two homers good for three runs as Redlegs downed Philadelphia Phillies 7-3.

Maple Thinclads Win 4th Straight Meet

Four meets—four victories, and never even pressed. That's the record to date of Birmingham High School's fine track team, which made Hazel Park its 2nd Eastern Michigan League victim Wednesday, 73½ to 35½, at Pierce Field.

Two field records fell to Maple athletes Wednesday as Al Fuhrmann buzzed the quarter-mile in 33 seconds, and Dave Long churned the half-mile in 2 minutes and 4 seconds.

Gordon Pade took point honors for Birmingham by winning the high hurdles and taking 2nd in the low hurdles and high jump.

Elsewhere, Berkley downed Troy, 66 2/5 to 42 3/5, with Jerry Meyers turning in 2 fine hurdle races for Berkley. He won the 120-yard high in 15.9 seconds, and skinned the lows in 21.3.

Dave Larabee won both the high and broad jump for Berkley, while Troy's Floyd Bailey took the 440 and shot put.

Oxford's balance was too much for Lake Orion and Ortonville as the Wildcats of Warren Liken piled up 65½ points to 35 11/12 for Ortonville.

Lynn Hazlett raced the 440 in 54.6 seconds and added a victory in the shot, while Ortonville's Harrison was a double winner in the hurdle events. Holly was overpowered by Owosso, 90-18, but the Broncos' Jerry Hunter won the dashes, taking the 100 in 18.6 seconds and the 200 in 24 flat.

Dan Jakubiszyn was the big difference as Roseville edged Clawson and Fitzgerald in a thrilling triangular that wasn't decided until the half-mile relay, the final event. Roseville took the relay to win with 48 points. Clawson had 47 and Fitzgerald 42.

Jakubiszyn won the high hurdles, 100-yard dash and broad jump, and anchored Roseville's victorious relay team in the meet-deciding race.

Opposition Not Greatest, but Sugar Ray Is Victor

DETROIT (UP)—Sugar Ray Robinson looks a little sharper and a little faster in his ring comeback, but his opposition remains of questionable quality.

So it's difficult to say just how good, or bad, the former champion actually is at this point.

Robinson recovered from a staggering right to the head to win an easy and unanimous 10-round decision over slow-moving Garth Panter of Salt Lake City last night.

Panther tagged Robinson with a right to the side of the head in the first minute of their non-televized fight in Olympia Stadium. Robinson wobbled but didn't fall, grabbing the ropes to keep his balance.

But other than that, the fight virtually was no contest as the dapper Robinson, who talks hopefully of regaining the middleweight championship, took nine rounds of healthy target practice at the willing but rather inept Panter.

Panther, a once-promising youngster, went into the fight with the record of having lost six out of his previous seven fights. He didn't figure to give Robinson anything more than a good workout, and that's exactly how it turned out.

It was Robinson's fifth fight in a comeback aimed at a title shot against middleweight champion Bobo Olson.

However, if one had to draw a comparison between the Robinson who knocked out Rindone in six rounds in Detroit last January, and the Robinson who whipped Panter, the nod must go to the more recent Robinson.

While his famed combinations were not in evidence, the former champion showed more stamina and more punching power. In fact, he turned slugger in the second and third rounds, pummeling Panter about the body, then to the head.

Grove Gets Place on Town Council

LONACONING, Md. (UP)—Robert Moses (Lefty) Grove, former major league pitcher great and member of baseball's Hall of Fame, today was elected to the town council in his first try for public office.

Lefty, the last major league pitcher to win 300 games, polled 261 votes in the non-partisan town election, good enough for one of the four council seats.

Lefty, who returned to Lonaconing, his birthplace, after retiring from baseball in 1942, pitched for the Boston Red Sox, Philadelphia Athletics and the old Baltimore Orioles.

Low-Scoring Uclans

LOS ANGELES—Stingiest team in the nation in 1954 football season was UCLA which allowed each opponent only 4.4 points.

Fans at Baltimore Will Honor Kaline

BALTIMORE (UP)—Al Kaline will find a big reception awaiting him May 17 when he comes home to Baltimore for the Detroit Tigers 1st game with the Orioles in Memorial Stadium this season.

The 20-year-old Tiger outfielder, only two years out of a Baltimore high school, will be given a watch by the Holy Name Society as its "young man of the year" before the game.

Kaline, with a .397 batting average, currently is the 3rd best hitter in the American League.

Racine's Record Rollers

RACINE, Wis. (UP)—Bowling fans of this city are mighty proud of their representatives in the ABC Tournaments down through the years.

Two keggers from Racine have rolled perfect games of 300. No other city in the United States can match this record.

Myron Erickson bowled his "dream game" this year. Charlie Reinlie did the trick in 1926.

'M', Gophers May Settle Title Saturday

ANN ARBOR (AP)—The four top pitchers and the leading active hitter in the Big Ten will be on the field Saturday when Michigan meets Minnesota in an off-beat baseball showdown.

Winner of the Saturday doubleheader will likely be the Big Ten baseball champion, even though the season is barely half over.

Both teams are tied for the Big Ten lead with records of five victories and one defeat, well over the other eight teams.

Both teams have two pitchers in the top four of the league standings, released today, Michigan has Marv Wisniewski (3-0) and Bill Thurston (2-0). Minnesota has Jerry Thomas (3-0) and Roy Ostad (2-0).

Michigan also has Don Eaddy, the league's leading active hitter with a .500 batting average. Eaddy is also the league's leading base stealer with six.

He's slugged two doubles, a triple and a home run in his 12 hits and has batted in 8 runs. His presence on the Michigan team can mean victory. His absence defeat.

Last Saturday in a doubleheader with Purdue, Michigan took its last loss of the season. Eaddy was beaten early in the 2nd game by a pitched ball. The batter who took his place didn't get a hit. As a senior, Eaddy is pouring it on this season. The possibility of the big leagues is always a hidden incentive. At 3rd base, he has also been effective.

Minnesota's pitching is the stronger of the two teams, although Wisniewski is indisputably the league's and Michigan's strongest pitcher. Thurston heads a quartet of sophomores who have done remarkably well, but have been used mostly in relief.

Minnesota's Thomas has pitched 15 innings and allowed 11 hits, while striking out eight. His teammate Ostad has not done as well. Michigan's Wisniewski has pitched 18 innings, allowed 13 hits and struck out 30.

Michigan took over the league batting lead this last week from Michigan State with a .353 team average. State has .349 with more times at bat. Michigan has eight players batting over .300.

Michigan is second in team fielding behind Indiana.

Whatever happens Saturday, both teams have preliminary hurdles Friday in single games. Michigan's hurdle is the easiest.

Michigan hosts 9th place Iowa and Minnesota visits 3rd place Michigan State.

Flyweight Title Bout Postponed

TOKYO (AP)—The rematch for the world flyweight title between champion Pascual Perez of Argentina and former champion Yoshio Shirai scheduled for May 19 has been postponed.

The announcement of the postponement came yesterday from promoter Ken Shimbo. Shimbo said he has now reserved a Tokyo ball park for May 30 and 31 and arrangements for the fight will be completed when Perez and his manager arrive in Japan within the next week.

The postponement was requested by Perez. He took the title from Japan's first world boxing champion last November.

Slugging Mileage

CINCINNATI (AP)—Cincinnati's Chuck Harno is getting the most mileage out of his base hits. The Redlegs' utility infielder has collected only six hits, but two have been home runs and two others have gone for triples.

Sam Snead's Golf School

"Keep your head down!" and "Keep your head still!" are golf sayings that often puzzle beginners. Pictured is a player who's doing the right thing in the right way. Notice that though his hands are almost hip-high in the follow-through, his head is still in the address position and he is looking at the spot where the ball was. You should keep your head down—and immovable—because it is the top anchor of the axis of your swing. If your head is permitted to bob up-and-down or move back-and-forward with your swing, you can easily understand how difficult it is to lay the clubface on the ball accurately. You should keep looking at the ball as pictured until the hands reach this position in the follow-through because the action at the bottom of the stroke is so fast that you can't be sure when it's safe to turn the head and look after the ball until your right arm pulls you.

Fan Had Good Idea but It Wasn't Legal

LYNCHBURG, Va. (AP)—An ardent baseball fan arose at a meeting planned to sell advance tickets for the Lynchburg Cardinals of the Piedmont League.

How about free tickets, he suggested. He went on to outline a plan for them to be distributed by chain stores, doctors and other professional people.

"Watch what you say in front of the judge," warned Abe Schewel, the moderator. He pointed to Judge S. DuVal Martin and told the fan what he advocated was the equivalent of a lottery which is against the law in Virginia.

PHS Linksmen Square Record by Win at PH

Pontiac High School's golf team brought its percentage up to an even .500 for the season Wednesday afternoon at the Black River Country Club in Port Huron by scoring a 332-344 victory over Port Huron.

Bill Martin and Truman Hammett sparked the Chiefs to their 3rd win in six meets. Martin fired 40-38-73, while Hammett shot 41-35, also for a 79, to give the pair medalist honors for the day.

Tom Cross posted 45-40-85, Tom Jacobson shot 42-47-89, and Jerry Richards scored 48-46-94. Bucky Gough was top linksman for the Big Reds, posting a 42-39-81.

Colts Face Giants in Pre-Season Go

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Baltimore Colts scheduled a pre-season National Football League game today with the New York Giants in Minneapolis the night of Sept. 6.

The game will be sponsored by the Greater Minneapolis Catholic Welfare Assn.

It is the third exhibition date scheduled so far by the Colts. The others are Aug. 13 in Hershey, Pa., with the Philadelphia Eagles and Aug. 30 in Baltimore with the Washington Redskins.

Don Kellett, president, said others are to be played with the Pittsburgh Steelers and Chicago Cardinals.

Top Passing Mark

LAFAYETTE — Purdue was the top collegiate passing team in 1954 with a mark of 177.3 yards a game by its aerial attack.

Lighting the Way

BOSTON (AP)—Boston not only has auto traffic lights but it has stop lights for baseball fans.

A flashing red light atop a tall building tells the fans when Boston Red Sox games have been postponed because of bad weather.

NEW YORK — Willie Pep was world featherweight champion 1942-48 and again after a comeback for the period 1949-50.

Dean Emerges From 'Eden' as Big Time Star

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD — What kind of a guy is James Dean? Film fans who saw "East of Eden" have been asking that. In his first important film, he emerged as a star of first magnitude. No other debut of a virtual unknown in recent years has appeared so auspicious.

A great deal has been written about Dean since his rise to fame, and much of it has been spurious. The real Dean was observed at close range on the location of "Rebel Without a Cause," his second starring film. He was emoting at the Griffith Park Observatory, which overlooks Los Angeles.

At first he doesn't seem too impressive in person. He is not so tall as most leading men. He dresses casually and mingles with the other young actors who are portraying juvenile delinquents in the film. He generally wears horn-rimmed glasses, with clip-on dark lenses when he's in the sun. He has a handsome, expressive face with a shock of blond hair.

He is somewhat amused by the legends that have already sprung up about him.

"Some of the things that have been printed about me are fantastic," he said. "One night I was supposed to have been in Ciro's, and I was also reported in two other places. How could I be in three places at once?"

"I probably should have a press agent. But I don't care what people write about me. I'll talk to the ones I like; the others can print whatever they please." This attitude has been expressed by other new stars; how long it lasts remains to be seen.

The comparison to Marlon Brando has been pointed out by most reviewers. How does he feel about it?

"It doesn't bother me," he declared. "When a new actor comes along, he's always compared to someone else. Brando was compared to Clift. Clift to someone else. Barrymore to Booth and so forth."

Eden" have been asking that. In his first important film, he emerged as a star of first magnitude. No other debut of a virtual unknown in recent years has appeared so auspicious.

A great deal has been written about Dean since his rise to fame, and much of it has been spurious. The real Dean was observed at close range on the location of "Rebel Without a Cause," his second starring film. He was emoting at the Griffith Park Observatory, which overlooks Los Angeles.

At first he doesn't seem too impressive in person. He is not so tall as most leading men. He dresses casually and mingles with the other young actors who are portraying juvenile delinquents in the film. He generally wears horn-rimmed glasses, with clip-on dark lenses when he's in the sun. He has a handsome, expressive face with a shock of blond hair.

He is somewhat amused by the legends that have already sprung up about him.

"Some of the things that have been printed about me are fantastic," he said. "One night I was supposed to have been in Ciro's, and I was also reported in two other places. How could I be in three places at once?"

"I probably should have a press agent. But I don't care what people write about me. I'll talk to the ones I like; the others can print whatever they please." This attitude has been expressed by other new stars; how long it lasts remains to be seen.

Midtown Hot Dog King Likes Franks on Beach

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—I don't mind being called a "tourist"—with the popcorn . . . and the camera . . . and the hot dogs . . . especially the hot dogs.

Our little family was driven up to City Island by Max Asnas, who boasts that his Stage Delicatessen in midtown serves the finest frankfurters in the world.

While there, I noticed Max suddenly stuffing himself on hot dogs at a waterfront place called "the Sea Breeze."

"Somehow," grinned Max, along about his third one, "hot dogs taste so wonderful here . . ."

Zsa Zsa Gabor isn't anxious to marry Porfirio Rubirosa though he has his divorce from Barbara Hutton—so she has just insisted to me.

"It would interfere with my work," she said.

"None of my ex-husbands," said Zsa Zsa—referring to Turkish Sen. Burhan Belge, Conrad Hilton and George Sanders—ever married again. After they've married me, they've had it!"

"What time do you want me to show up?" Guest Star Jack Benny asked TV Star Jackie Gleason . . . "A half hour before the show," said Gleason . . . "But I want to be made up so I'll look good," said Benny . . . "In that case, about four hours before the show," said Gleason.

Betty Kean, "the 'Ankles Aweigh' star panned by the critics but adored by several columnists, now says, "You remember me—the Critics' Pet!"

Lilo, French star of "Can-Can," told in Sardi's how two gents looking out a window saw her sun-bathing on a roof, with her top down (the top of her bikini): "If I kept the top off, they'd be bothered, but if I put it on I'd be bothered, so I decided to let them be bothered."

Comedian Joe E. Lewis, wearing a single diamond ring, sat with Sonja Henie, wearing $300,000 worth, at El Rancho Vegas. "Darling," cooed Joe to Sonja, "since we love each other so very much, don't you think we ought to pool our jewels?"

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

There may be a row in Actors Equity because "Ankles Aweigh" Producer Tony Farrell notified actor Eddie Hanley his part's being "written out" and asked Frankie Conville to take a 25 per cent cut. (They were hired by Co-Producer Fred F. Finkelhoffe who's barred from the theater.)

Joe DiMaggio whipped out to California for a while but will return for the All-Star game . . . Ernie Kovacs is so sure ABC TV'll be big that he turned down a great bundle at NBC just to start on radio at ABC.

The Mariners are being billed as "Arthur Godfrey's Axe-Friends" . . . Jose Melis of the Jack Paar show got the mumps from his kids . . . Pretty Ilse Bey threatened an expose magazine with a lawsuit if they printed anything about her . . . Lenya Gabriele, Chez Vito's attractive vocalist, can serve up your favorite tune in any of a half dozen languages.

TODAY'S WORST PUN: "No spend-thrift," says Terry Moore, "is ever a hero to his wallet."

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Jan Bart claims he can tell when his wife's bought a new hat: "I can tell by the bills for new shoes, new gloves and new dress."

It's George Gobel's description of James Stewart: "He's sort of an outdoor Herb Shriner." That's earl, brother. (Copyright 1955)

Log Cabin Baby Boom

BATTLE CREEK, Mich. — Leon Pier, who was born 78 years ago in a log cabin, decided to form an exclusive club for log cabin

"babies" like himself. He doubted that more than a dozen Battle Creek residents could meet the membership requirement, but at the first meeting 18 men and women showed up.

Norway Plans for Television

Technicians Are Busy Preparing for National Video System

OSLO (UP)—Norwegian technicians have been busy during the past year preparing a national television system, but so far only 12 registered viewers see those geometric patterns the technical staff relays from headquarters at nearby Tryvasshoege.

The leader of the preparations, Christian K. Rytter, told the United Press that the present station could reach some 750,000 of Norway's population of slightly over 3,000,000.

If regular programs were transmitted, most of the people around Oslo would see them, Rytter said.

Great difficulties are involved in extending the network to the mountainous Norwegian west coast, not to speak of the three northern counties of Nordland, Troms and Finnmark.

"We expect the trial period to end next January and hope that we are able to give Parliament a report in the spring of 1956," Rytter said.

"After a review of our experiences and estimates, the Parliament will decide whether regular programs should start or the television net be extended."

Rytter stressed that it still is far too early to say whether Norway will join the European television network, but he described that possibility as "most likely."

"I should believe that Norway, Sweden and Denmark at least will cooperate closely in making the programs because there are no language difficulties," Rytter said. The younger engineer declared that no foreign experts will be called to help the Norwegians with their television system.

"As soon as the basic technical preparations are finished we will educate the necessary number of technicians and program editors," he said.

He also revealed that the future transmitter in the Oslo area probably will be located at Hurum near the Oslo Fjord, at least a trial station will be built there to replace the one at Tryvasshoege.

"We Norwegians have just started on the field of television. Time will show how things develop, and the Parliament has the last word after seeing our report," Rytter concluded.

Give Him A for Effort

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (UP)—Eleven-year-old Marvin Fletcher, Jr., lost his report card on the way home from school. Highway patrolman finally found Marvin, tired and still fearful, heading south 12 miles from town at 1 a.m. Now Marvin knows lost boys are more important than lost report cards.

Collector Finds That Fiddle-Gun Is 'Real McCoy'

DALLAS (INS)—Gangsters who carry their weapons in violin cases probably got the idea from one of the "feudin' McCoy's" of Kentucky.

Leon Jackson, a Dallas gun collector, believes he has the proof. He recently came into possession of a fiddle-gun, complete with a violin case, which once belonged to the family that didn't get along with the Hatfields.

pistol rigged into the neck of a crudely made though playable violin.

The trigger is on the underside of the fiddle neck, several inches from the end.

Legend has it that the McCoy who owned it could settle a score with a Hatfield without missing a beat of the old fiddle.

Maximum depth of Lake Erie is about 210 feet.

Far Reception to Be Possible

Engineering VP Says Consistency Can't Be Counted On, Though

By WAYNE OLIVER

NEW YORK (AP)—Television viewers who like to bring in distant stations have better hunting ahead. We're entering a 11-year cycle of high sunspot activity that should result in more frequent TV reception at distances of a thousand miles and more. There even may be rare instances of interference on American sets from British signals, and vice versa.

But don't plan on being able to tune in a station at the opposite end of the country at any given time.

"It will be like looking for meteors," says Robert Shelby, engineering vice president of NBC. "You're more apt to see one when the earth is passing through a meteor shower, but you can't predict just when."

As for your chances of picking up a program from the British Broadcasting Corp., Steve Tobey of the BBC's New York office says you couldn't even if you got a pretty good signal. The technical standards are so different the signal wouldn't produce a picture on an American set. But Tobey concedes that on the lower channels, in the United States there may be rare instances of BBC signals causing some interference on American sets.

The fad of trying to tune in distant stations hasn't developed in TV the way it did in radio for a good reason. Radio signals bounce back from the upper atmosphere while TV signals as a rule sail out into space and aren't reflected around the earth's curvature.

But the rule on TV reception, like all rules, has exceptions. And it isn't unusual to hear of someone tuning in a station 1,000 miles away, and 300-mile reception is even more frequent. That compares with a normal 50 miles, more or less, depending on station power, antenna height, and topography.

Veteran of Little Big Top Surrounded by Mementos

DETROIT (AP)—Just because Clyde Wixom's home looks like the big top of a circus people think he's crazy about circuses.

"I am," says Wixom, "and any real American is nuts about a circus. Many won't admit it, but the way TV has been going daffy over the circus proves it. Fortunately," he adds, "I've got an excuse—I was almost born in a circus tent."

A hand-carved miniature circus crowds his attic and his recreation room is filled with a bright red calliope.

Wixom, now 65, was born in a house only because his mother was frightened away from the circus lot by a fight, he says.

It all started in 1874 when Wixom's grandfather, a clothing store proprietor in Holly, suddenly decided to organize his own circus.

After going broke the first year, the "Greatest 25-Cent Show on Earth" became famous in Michigan's small towns.

Dairyland State Thinks Rats Are Pretty Smart

MADISON, Wis. (UP) — Dairy-men in Wisconsin, which calls it-self "America's Dairyland," think rats are pretty smart. They point out that experiments at the University of Wisconsin have revealed that laboratory rats won't eat dairy food substitutes and will refuse carbonated beverages when milk is available. Mrs. Ray Reynolds, university home economist, says the rats "get pretty clever at picking out the foods they want."

Retired Phone Worker Won't Have One in Home

ENDEAVOR, Wis. (UP) — Mrs. Bertha Moore, who served as this community's only telephone operator for 52 years, doesn't have a phone in her home. "I don't have any desire for one," the 77-year-old woman said. The Endeavor Exchange was converted to dial service several months ago and Mrs. Moore retired. The only telephone she kept in her home was an old fashioned brass instrument which she made into a table lamp.

Angry Boss Discovers Workers Locked in Safe

CHICAGO (AP) — William Herzog was in a back office of his interior decorating establishment. When none of his eight employees responded to his telephone call, he stormed into the front office to see why. He heard a rapping on the office vault door. He opened it and out strode eight employees, plus a customer. They said two gunmen held them up, took $170 cash, herded them into the safe and slammed the door.

Political Agreement

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (UP) — Democratic Gov. Dennis J. Roberts of Rhode Island and Republican Chairman Herbert Carkin have at least one thing in common. The governor's automobile license plate bears the state seal and the Republican chairman's bears the word "House" for State House of Representatives. Each plate bears the number 1.

Next to Mecca's Kaaba and Medina's Mosque, Jerusalem's Dome of the Rock is the edifice most revered by Moslems. It stands on the site of Solomon's Temple.
