Ike Works on Message to Congress

Force Vote on Parking Plan

New Farm Plan on Way

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower may rush an expanded farm program to Congress next week in an effort to get the jump on Democrats primed to make falling agricultural prices a 1956 campaign issue.

Sen Aiken (R-Vt), top Republican on the Senate Agriculture Committee, said in an interview he has reliable information that unless plans are changed a special farm message may be sent to Capitol Hill early next week, probably Monday.

The fact that Eisenhower has decided to send his farm message to Congress first among the several special messages planned for this year underscores the importance the White House attaches to the matter in this election year.

This would likely precede any action by the Democratic-controlled Agriculture Committee on a House-passed bill to restore high, rigid price supports for major field crops.

The bill would upset the administration's flexible support program now in effect.

The President is expected to recommend retention of flexible supports, plus increased benefits for low-income farmers and establishment of a "soil bank" plan under which acreage would be taken out of production of surplus crops and its fertility built up for the future.

It would work this way:

A farmer who voluntarily cooperated with the government by cutting his allotted acres would be given two choices. He could take a government certificate which he could turn into cash. Or he could receive from the government's surplus stocks a quantity of the kind of crop he grew and dispose of it as he saw fit.

The second section of the "soil bank" will be geared to long-range conservation. Payments also would be made to farmers for acres removed from production and planted to soil-building grasses and trees.

The long-term conservation phase involves 350 million dollars for the first year of a five-year operation. This will be coupled with the existing agricultural conservation program of 250 million dollars to provide a total of 600 millions.

Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala) predicted the Democrats will come up with a farm plan of their own. He said it will be based on restoration of rigid supports "but will go a long way beyond that."

In Key West, Fla., President Eisenhower, his work completed on two major messages to Congress, arranged to take it "completely easy" today.

The White House announced that at breakfast tomorrow Eisenhower will be host here to President-elect Juscelino Kubitschek of Brazil.

His message on education is expected Jan. 12 or 13, while his proposals on health are to go to Congress Jan. 19.

Both Houses marked time while awaiting the State of the Union message, but it was clear that the Democratic majority was split on the question of reducing individual income taxes.

House Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex), said he thought the cost of foreign and domestic programs would bar a tax cut this year.

Unrest Seethes in Pittsburgh

Westinghouse Strike Talks Transferred to Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Top-level disputants in the violence-ridden Westinghouse strike meet in this City of Brotherly Love today in hopes of settling a 12-week walkout.

James Finnegan, director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, yesterday asked two company and two union officials to meet with him here. He gave no reason for shifting the scene of negotiations from Pittsburgh, where Westinghouse headquarters are located.

The union representatives were James B. Carey, president of the AFL-CIO International Union of Electrical Workers, and Al Hartnett, union secretary-treasurer.

Both sides gave up in despair in negotiations yesterday after club-swinging disorder broke out at a plant in Columbus, Ohio. It was the most serious of a series of picket-line disputes.

A 34-year-old picket died of a heart attack in the clash, according to the coroner, and 8 persons were hospitalized and 88 persons, including 12 women were jailed.

The union called the death of picket Troy Tadlock "murder on the picket line" and said he was beaten. County authorities said there were no marks of violence on his body.

COMPANY WALKS OUT

Westinghouse negotiators walked out of their meeting yesterday, according to a company spokesman, after "the union officials once again launched into a violent verbal attack . . . in which they used more foul and abusive language."

Both sides issued blistering statements blaming each other for the Columbus violence.

Common Pleas Judge Dana Famreynolds of Columbus warned the IUE's Local 764 there that he will bar all pickets at the plant "if there is any repetition of violence."

Forty-four thousand IUE members in 30 plants were called out last Oct. 17 to back up a demand for a 15-cent increase in their $2.10-an-hour average wage. They turned down a company proposal for a five-year contract said by the company to provide a minimum of 23½ cents an hour pay increase over a five-year period.

Shotgun Bandit Eludes Police

6 Area Law Agencies Unsuccessful in Try to Nab Holdup Man

A stickup artist wielding a sawed off shotgun slipped through a network of converging cars from six police departments yesterday morning and escaped into Oakland County with $70 loot from a Shelby grocery store.

Alerted through telephone, teletype and radio contacts, police cars from Rochester, Utica, Romeo, Romeo State Police, and Macomb and Oakland County Sheriffs Departments were speeding toward Shelby five minutes after the bandit held up Mrs. Bernice Kielan in her store at Shelby and 24 Mile Rds.

State Police detective Ray McConnell said today "there isn't any doubt" the robber is the man who held up DeClerck's Grocery on Auburn avenue, Pontiac Township, several weeks ago.

In that stickup, the man walked into the store, made a 15 cent purchase, and walked out again, waiting for customers to leave. Returning with a sawed off shotgun under his coat, he escaped with $110.

Yesterday he entered the store only once, McConnell said, but with the shotgun under his coat as before. He told Mrs. Kielan to give him the money, and ran out, driving away from the scene.

Retail Sales Jump

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's sales tax barometer of retail business was up seven per cent for December collections on November business.

Taylor Township Mother Picket Injured in Crash

DETROIT (AP) — One of the original mother-pickets for a traffic signal light at the Taylor Township school intersection of Telegraph and Cypress Roads was injured seriously in a two-car collision at that intersection yesterday.

Mrs. Beryl Gray, 32, was returning home after driving her daughters, Donna, 11, and Bobby, 5, to school.

She was crossing Telegraph on Cypress when her car collided with one driven by Alexander Kuchar, Wyandotte. He was given first aid for face cuts.

The mothers picketed the crossing in protest against State Highway Department refusal to install a traffic light.

Cloudy and Colder Pontiac Prediction

Mostly cloudy and colder tonight with a low of 20-24 is the weather forecast for this area. Tomorrow will be somewhat warmer with the mercury rising to 35 degrees.

Winds are west to northwest at 10-18 miles an hour. They will become variable tonight, 5-10 miles an hour.

In downtown Pontiac this morning the thermometer registered 26 degrees. The mercury rose to 28 by 2 p.m.

Faure Favoring 'National Union' Form of Rule

All Parties Except Reds and Extreme Rightists Sought; Omits Self

PARIS (INS)—Caretaker French Premier Edgar Faure called today for a "national union" government comprising all parties except the Communists and extreme rightists. But he ruled himself out as premiere of such a cabinet.

As the leaders of all France's democratic parties strove to find a solution to the problems posed by Monday's election results, Faure warned that the victory of 51 anti-parliamentary Poujadists meant "the Republic is in danger."

He told the Foreign Press Assn. at a Paris luncheon that the "national union" government he proposed should take for two planks of its program the reform of French institutions and the application of a liberal policy in strife-ridden Algeria.

The apparent threat to French stability resulting from the Communist and Poujadist gains in the election was on every moderate politician's mind as the "lame duck" French Cabinet met this morning.

President Rene Coty, Premier Edgar Faure and the other holdover ministers reported in a post-meeting communique that the elections in France's overseas territory had been held peacefully and that there were no serious anti-French demonstrations.

PIERRE POUJADE

The communique also said that three of the caretaker ministers who had been defeated for re-election offered their resignations but that the cabinet decided they should continue in office until the government resigned as a body. The assembly convenes on Jan. 19.

But these were minor events in comparison to the difficulty facing the nation's democratic parties.

With at least 153 Communists sitting on the left of the National Assembly elected on Monday and 51 "Poujadists" on the right, the moderate politicians — badly split during the campaign — must patch up their differences to save France from chaos.

There will be 626 seats in the new Assembly. The election for 30 of them from Algeria was postponed indefinitely due to the unrest there.

Fourth Circuit Judge on Bench

Bridge Named Sales Manager

Appointment of Frank V. Bridge as general sales manager of Pontiac Motor Division was announced today by Robert M. Critchfield, general manager of Pontiac and vice president of General Motors.

Bridge, assistant general sales manager of Buick since 1950 and a member of the Buick factory sales organization since 1930, succeeds Howard E. Crawford, who has resigned his position as general sales manager. Crawford has been granted a leave of absence because of ill health.

Bridge's appointment is effective immediately.

"I am delighted to announce Bridge's appointment to head the Pontiac sales organization," Critchfield said. "He has had extensive experience in every phase of the retail automobile business and has demonstrated outstanding capacity for leadership."

Bridge, a native of Plankinton, S.D., attended the University of South Dakota and the South Dakota State School of Mines. He began work in 1926 as a salesman for a Buick dealer in Rapid City, S.D.

In 1930 he joined Buick as district sales manager in Minneapolis, and during succeeding years served as assistant zone manager for Buick in Minneapolis, and a zone manager in Denver, St. Louis, Minneapolis, Los Angeles and Chicago.

In 1949 Bridge was appointed regional sales manager for Buick in Chicago and in the following year was appointed assistant general sales manager for the Eastern area with headquarters in New York.

SAN FRANCISCO — Northern California has been warned by the weather bureau that new floods may be caused by heavy rains expected in the next 24 to 48 hours.

New Year Has Bad Start for Goodrich Family of 17

For most people, Sunday was the beginning of a happy new year, but not for Mr. and Mrs. Truman Smith and their 16 children of Goodrich.

A fire Sunday night swept their home at 4073 Shifman Rd., destroying just about everything the family owned and causing an estimated $20,000 damage. Firemen could save only the refrigerator, the living room furniture and an electric roaster.

The clothing for the 15 children living at home was destroyed by the fire and the children, seven of which are under five, faced the prospect of no home and wearing only the clothing they had on when the fire broke out.

Immediately the friends and neighbors of the Smiths, who are expecting their 17th child, joined together to aid the stricken family.

Mrs. Smith's sister, Mrs. Roy Baker of 5610 Croswell, offered the Bakers' three bedroom home as a shelter for the family. The Bakers have four children themselves, which necessitated 19 children sharing one home.

"We are doing the best we can," Mrs. Smith said this morning. "The children are eating in relays and are forced to sleep on the floors."

The former owner of the destroyed home, Mrs. Jack Johnson of 109 Green St., Pontiac has started a campaign to aid the Smiths.

"They can use just about anything, and people willing to help this couple and their children can contact me," Mrs. Johnson said.

Stogies on the Rise

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Tampa manufactured more cigars last year than ever before—698,746,000. That was more than 38 million above the previous record, made in 1954.

Donald Plankel Succumbs at 52

Collapse in Courthouse Precedes Later Death of County Official

Assistant Oakland County Prosecutor Donald A. Plankel died yesterday afternoon in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital shortly after he collapsed while attending to duties in the courthouse.

Plankel, 52, of 7405 Parkston Lane, Southfield Township, had been in poor health for some time.

He first became an assistant prosecutor in 1939, serving for about four years. He was reappointed in 1947. The official had been working on a part time basis from the prosecutor's Royal Oak office.

"Plankel will be hard to replace," said Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem. "He had served long and efficiently."

The deceased published a novel, "Twisted Tracts," four years ago. Plankel graduated from the Detroit College of Law. Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

Their Youngest Mayor

MT. PLEASANT (AP) — G. R. (Rollie) Denison, 37-year-old oil company accountant, was elected mayor of the City Commission last night to become the youngest chief executive in Mt. Pleasant history. Another "first" was Mrs. Helen Johnson, who took office as the city's first woman commissioner.

Opponents Win Battle to Carry Issue to People

Petition Signers Reach 9,900; Commission Eyes Election Date

A citywide vote will be taken on whether Pontiac will issue $600,000 bonds to finance installation of 624 municipal parking stalls.

At last night's City Commission meeting, City Clerk Ada R. Evans reported that enough valid signatures have been obtained on referendum petitions to force the vote.

The 396 petitions containing 9,900 signatures were submitted last month by a group seeking a referendum vote on the issue due to the program's "financial magnitude."

The commission will discuss a date for the balloting at its informal meeting tomorrow night.

Mrs. Evans read a letter from city bonding attorney, Claude H. Stevens, of Detroit, recommending that the vote be set for the regular March 5 primary election.

The election laws covering registration would not allow a vote until about two weeks before the regular election, said Stevens, and a special election would only "complicate the regular procedure."

On Nov. 22, the Commission unanimously adopted the ordinance which would provide 624 additional 5-cent-an-hour parking stalls in the city. The city presently has 117.

CHARGES "SCARE"

On Dec. 13, Commissioner John A. Dugan charged that some citizens were being "scared" into signing the circulating petitions because of fear of increased taxes if the program goes through.

Dugan said the petitions were "misleading" the public because of a notice attached to the documents saying that the parking program "could mean additional taxes" if approved.

City Manager Walter K. Willman declared the issue could not raise taxes and that the operation and maintenance of the lots could be financed from the revenue derived from the public's use of the additional spaces.

High Production Reported for '55

Truck, Coach Division Has Best Year Since Record in 1951

Production at the GMC Truck & Coach Division climbed to near-record heights during 1955, making the year the best since the post-war boom period of 1951, company officials said today.

Overall output was 107,973, a total which included 89,091 trucks and 2,883 coaches produced by the division's Pontiac plant. The remaining 15,999 trucks were built at assembly plants located in Oakland, Calif., and Bloomfield, N.J.

The year's record was the best since 1951, when post-war buying and military vehicle production pushed the year's total to 122,405 units. The division turned 73,295 units from assembly lines in 1954.

December production totaled 9,415 trucks and 237 coaches at the three plants.

Company spokesmen pointed out that 22,866 or 25 per cent of trucks built during 1955, were equipped with Hydro-Matic transmissions, double the total installed in 1954 vehicles. Of light-duty trucks, 32 per cent carried the automatic transmissions.

Significantly, division officials said, the drive accounted for one in four of all GMC truck transmissions three years after it was introduced. The achievement

Violence, Controversy, Progress -- News of 1955

By BURDETT C. STODDARD

The past year in Oakland County is gone, but can't be forgotten.

On the local scene, the last 12 months witnessed tragedy, violence and controversy — but also considerable progress.

The now-historical 1955 started inauspiciously when three 16-year-old boys were sentenced to Jackson state prison following a $20,000 destructive rampage through 18 Woodhull Lake summer homes.

On Jan. 11 the Pontiac City Commission approved fluoridation of city water, but an opposing group circulated referendum petitions and the project was turned down April 4 in a citywide vote, 5,775 to 4,311.

Three West Bloomfield Township women were credited Jan. 24 with saving the life of a three-year-old boy who fell into a canal near hi home. Honored were Mrs. Bruce Knapp, Mrs. Eldon Eroh and Mrs. A. J. Stilwell.

Also during January, the Pontiac General Hospital Board of Trustees took the initial steps toward construction of a $3,000,000 hospital addition.

February, an eventful month, started with announcement that a $9,000 fund had been raised for Bobbie Dunn, 13, of Pontiac, who lost his legs under a freight train Christmas Day of 1954. Bobbie returned home later in the year walking on artificial limbs.

On Feb. 17 the mutilated body of Kathleen McLaughlin, 9, of Farmington Township, was found in an icy pond 200 yards from her home. Floyd Diamond, 16, of Farmington Township, confessed beating the pretty young girl to death and later was sentenced to Jackson after juvenile authorities turned him over for prosecution as an adult.

Also at mid-month, three adults and three children were killed when an explosion rocked their Highland Township basement home.

The Citizens Protective Assn. of Michigan was set up March 6 by a group of Bloomfield Township and Franklin residents to fight construction of the toll road proposed to run through Oakland County.

On March 6, four Pontiac men were arrested and charged with kidnaping and raping a 21-year-old Pontiac mother. They were later convicted on both counts and received long prison terms.

Some 128 new GMC Truck and Coach models were announced March 16, embodying 500 major styling and engineering improvements.

After a nine-day search, the body of Barbara Gaca, 7, of Detroit, was found April 1 on a West Bloomfield Township dump. The suspect sex murderer is still at large, despite a continuing police investigation.

A milestone in Pontiac's civic history was reached May 9 with the official opening of the new $1,200,000 city hall.

On June 3, William E. Slaughter Jr., of Detroit, failed to win reappointment as Michigan Turnpike Authority head and the task of building the north-south toll road fell to former state senator, George N. Higgins, of Ferndale, who pushed ahead with an aggressive program.

Attorney Clark J. Adams, of Pontiac, was named Oakland County's fourth circuit judge June 25 to begin serving in 1956.

The weather made news in July with the mercury soaring over the 90 mark during 17 days of the 31.

Night Courses for Credit Planned

Open in Week, Director Says

Registration Will Begin Monday, With Classes Starting January 12

Adult night school classes for high school credit will be offered for the first time in Pontiac next week, Raymond J. Graff, director of adult education, announced today.

Courses in any high school subject will be offered wherever 12 or more persons register to form a class, Graff said. Previously those desiring high school credit courses have had to travel to Highland Park or Detroit for tuition.

Registration for the high school courses as well as the regular adult education courses starts Monday at Pontiac High School, from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Classes begin Thursday night, Jan. 12. Early registration is requested, wherever possible.

To receive credit for a high school course, 60 clock hours of classwork are required. Credit courses will run as three-hour classes, two evenings a weeek, for a 10-week period. A total of 16 units of credit is required for high school graduation.

In addition to the credit courses, classes will be held from 7-10 p.m. Thursday for 12 weeks in the following subjects: accounting, bookkeeping, comptometer, business English, office machines, typewriting, shorthand, tailoring and dressmaking, modern photography, effective writing, and investments. Registration fee for any of these courses is $8.

Free classes in citizenship will be held Monday and Wednesday evenings at 7:30 and another free class, Americanization, will be held at 7:30 p.m. Thursdays.

A 10-week course in lip reading, starting March 5, will be held from 7-9 p.m. Mondays, with a registration fee of $5.

The Board of Education is willing to start classes in ceramics, jewelry making, art metalwork, oil and water color painting, public speaking, languages and any other subject for which there is a demand. A minimum of 12 students is required to form a class, and these courses will be given only if the demand warrants it, Graff said.

Driver education for adults also will be offered from 4-6 p.m. Mondays, Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays. The course will include 20 hours of driving instruction, for a registration fee of $22.

Vocational industrial classes will be open to persons employed in trade vocations. Classes for 12 weeks, from 6-10 Thursday nights, will start Jan. 12 in automotive diagnosis and tune-up, shop mathematics, blueprint reading, tool and die design, drafting, sheetmetal layout, electrical maintenance, machine shop and welding. All courses will cost $16 except welding, which is $20.

In addition to the above classes, all to be held in Pontiac High School, there will be a free class for expectant parents, to be held at the Pontiac Health Department in the City Hall, starting in February.

Persons interested in classes for high school credit or classes other than those definitely scheduled have been asked to phone their requests to FE 4-3547, Extension 32, or come in to the Pontiac High School, 250 W. Huron, to register.

Last semester a record number of 431 persons enrolled for adult night classes. This semester, with credit courses also offered, the number is expected to exceed 500.

Begins 10-Day Sentence

Joseph Eifert, 21, of Detroit, began a 10-day jail sentence yesterday after pleading guilty to drunk driving before Hazel Park Justice Robert C. Baldwin. A fine of $100 with $5 costs also was assessed.

LILY PONS HONORED — Opera star Lily Pons is kissed by her mother, Mrs. Marie Pons, of Paris, at the close of the "Lily Pons Gala" staged at the Metropolitan Opera House in New York last night. The occasion marked the 25th anniversary of the night the French soprano made her debut there.

Fluoridation Tests Reveal 60 Per Cent Cut in Decay

Ten-year tests of water supply fluoridation in three North American cities have shown reductions in dental decay averaging nearly 60 per cent, an article in the Journal of the American Dental Association said yesterday.

Results of the tests, carried on in Grand Rapids, Newburgh, N. Y., and Brantford, Ont., have now been compiled, the Journal said.

Dr. H. Trindley Dean, of Chicago, secretary of the Association's Council on Dental Research, said: "The results from these three cities evidence the gradual transformation of the theory of fluoridation into a scientific law."

Dr. Dean added that reports from independent studies "merely augment the overwhelming scientific evidence" of fluoridation's effectiveness, safety and economy.

In another Journal report this month, Dr. David F. Mitchell of Indianapolis described fluoridation as "the most promising factor" in resistance to tooth decay.

Wilson Inspects Coast Factories

Says Dual-Purpose Plant Will Be Utilized in Time of War Mobilization

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Wilson returned today from an inspection of West Coast aircraft factories where some of the nation's new and secret weapons are made. He said he was pleased with what he saw.

But in meeting newsmen, he talked only cryptically of his tour of factories in California, declining even to list all plants and places visited.

When asked if he inspected progress on the Atlas intercontinental ballistic missile project at the Convair plant, Wilson replied, "Naturally, I looked around when I was out there."

Wilson laughingly told how he slipped up in trying to keep secret a visit to one factory. He said that at the factory he was given an identification badge to wear during his inspection. However, Wilson said, he left the factory in such a hurry that he forgot to remove the badge, with the name of the plant, from his lapel. He wore it to a public luncheon, remembering it too late.

Wilson was asked if he thinks the new Air Force production policy, for use in event of war, means that his plan for dual-purpose factories, which could be converted quickly from peacetime to wartime use, has been discarded.

"Oh, no," Wilson said. "If you ever have to mobilize the war effort, the dual-purpose plant will be right in there."

Commission OK's City Navy Company

After authorization by the City Commission last night, Mayor William W. Donaldson proclaimed January as a special Navy enlistment month in Pontiac.

The Navy hopes to enlist 65 city men to form a "Pontiac Company" which would remain together and be the first named after a city in Michigan. The resolution was introduced by Commissioner John E. Carry (District 6).

The Chamber of Commerce has given its support to the Pontiac Company and feels this a wonderful opportunity for the boys of Pontiac to be with someone from home while in service, a spokesman said.

Pleads Not Guilty to Check Charges

BIRMINGHAM — A construction worker who allegedly stole a Birmingham car Friday night and abandoned it after a police chase pleaded not guilty yesterday when arraigned on a bogus check charge before Justice John J. Gafill.

Peter Orlando, 22, of 2488 Yorkshire Rd., was unable to furnish bond of $2,000 pending his next appearance Monday.

Det. Lt. Merlin Holmquist said Orlando stole the car from Schutz Motor Sales. The phony check warrant, he said, had previously been filed against Orlando.

Two Men Stand Mute on Indecency Charges

James G. Freeman, 35, of 123 Euclid St., and Alvin P. Rezelman, 32, of 2640 Lansdowne, Drayton Plains, stood mute on gross indecency charges yesterday in Oakland County Circuit Court.

Judge H. Russel Holland entered innocent pleas for them and directed that trial dates be set. They are charged with engaging in immoral activities in the men's lounge of a downtown store. Both are free on bond.

Postpone Examination

Examination of Bernard L. McNamara, 28, of Detroit, charged with attempt to procure an act of gross indecency, was put over to Jan. 18 by Municipal Judge Cecil McCallum today.

The case was put over at the request of McNamara's attorney, Oakland County Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem said.

Met Pays Honor to Its Coloratura

NEW YORK (INS)—The Metropolitan Opera — management, backstagers and audience — paid tribute to Lily Pons on the 25th anniversary of her Met debut.

Miss Pons included among her arias last night the title role she sang on Jan. 3, 1931, in her Met debut.

"We will always hear the sweet sound of your voice."

Neither voice nor presence failed the soprano who has a town, miscellaneous hotel suites, flowers, and for some indiscernable reason two locomotives named for her.

SHE'S NOW 51

Last night's program opened with Act II of Verdi's "Rigoletto," with Miss Pons, supported by Jan Peerce and Robert Merrill, singing the role of Gilda.

As she acknowledged the audience's applause, neither Peerce nor Merrill could resist kissing the petite coloratura on hand and cheek.

Lucia and the presentations followed. Then Miss Pons — an unacknowledged 51 years of age — retired momentarily from the stage before resuming.

In the final section she sang four numbers—two of them recalling her first audition in 1930, the "Bell Song" from Lakme and "Je Suis Titania" from Mignon.

Police Arrest Three as Breakin Suspects

BIRMINGHAM — Bloomfield Township Police Chief Clark Green said today the arrest of 17-year-old Frank Rocamora and two juvenile companions had cleared township books of at least 10 breakins in the last three weeks.

Chief Green, who said he has been trailing Rocamora and his companions for two weeks, caught the pair yesterday allegedly stealing gasoline from parked cars.

Loot from their breakins, he said, included beer and whisky, binoculars, jewelry, watches, guns, antique swords, cameras and knives. "Practically all" the loot has been recovered, Chief Green said.

Rocamora allegedly admitted selling the stolen beer and whisky to other minors.

No charges have yet been filed against the trio.

vision announced production of the 500,000th 1955 model car, an all-time, one-year record.

A house at 6-8 Liberty St., Pontiac, was demolished by a gas explosion Aug. 16 with three men miraculously escaping death.

In September, Utica's water supply was twice contaminated by chromium wastes making their way into the Clinton River.

The Pontiac Press and Oakland County legislators helped spark a drive to obtain more beds for care of mentally retarded children which met success after lengthy political wrangling.

Pontiac Motor Division announced its 1956 models Oct. 19, revealing that a record 552,000 autos had been produced during the 1955 model year.

Plans for a race track in Troy Township were abandoned after the State Racing Commission held hearings in Detroit into reports three county men stood to make an enormous profit on the deal.

The Pontiac Chamber of Commerce Nov. 6 suggested that the Board of Supervisors consider building a ten-story new courthouse in downtown Pontiac instead of a planned three-story structure west of the city. The downtown building, the chamber said, could be built at less cost.

On Nov. 18 a move was launched to obtain a study of the possible merging of Pontiac and Waterford Township. Discussion has also cropped up as to chances of Waterford incorporating on its own.

At month's end, three children of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Johnson, 86 W. Beverly, died from fire injuries.

Announcement that the Hotel Pontiac, in Pontiac, would be converted to a 110-bed osteopathic hospital came Dec. 12.

Also last month, the act creating the Michigan Turnpike Authority was upheld by the State Supreme Court and Chairman Higgins called the proposed toll road, "now a reality." But State Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler continued his opposition and the toll-freeway battle carried over into the new year.

High Production Reported for 1955

compared with 11 years for the auto industry in general.

The Hydro-Matic drive was initially used in GMC trucks in 1952. Automatic transmissions, first installed in automobiles in 1938, reached 25 per cent in the industry for the first time in 1949.

Total trucks produced in Canada during 1955 was 29,755, compared with 30,891 in 1954.

Ann Arbor 'Y's to Merge

ANN ARBOR (AP) — The YWCA and the YMCA plan to merge in Ann Arbor. Only one other city, Newark, N. J., has a combined YMCA-YWCA. The combined Ann Arbor groups will have a membership of about 750.

Surviving are his wife, the former Hilda Robinson; a son, Dale; two daughters, Mrs. James Roddewig and Mrs. Clifford Barkell, both of Pontiac and eight grandchildren.

Also surviving are a sister, Mrs. Kirt Newcomb of Detroit; four brothers, Andrew of Tefre Haute, Ind., Roscoe of Altoona, Pa., Chauncey and Herschel, both of Denver, Colo.

Service will be Friday at 3 p.m. from the Donelson-Johns Funeral Home with the Rev. Paul R. Havens of the First Methodist Church officiating. Burial will be in White Chapel Memorial Cemetery.

Sparks Pleads Guilty

Charged with drunk driving, Otis Sparks, 35, of 764 St. Clair Ave., pleaded guilty yesterday before Sylvan Lake Justice Joseph J. Leavy. Failing to pay fine of $75 with $25 costs, he began a jail sentence of 30 days.

The Day in Birmingham

Mull Parking in Regard to Business Expansion

BIRMINGHAM — Need to provide East Maple businesses with a way to expand, and possibility of business growth along Hamilton between Hunter and Woodward were prime points in the two-and-a-half hour parking lot discussion last night at City Commission.

Sam Bruni, who owns east Maple property, contended that East Maple property owners, if participating in assessment for parking lots E and F would be allowed to expand according to zoning restrictions. Without additional parking of some sort he foresaw a blighted area, with "no improvements over the years." Bruni also owns part of the land included in proposed lots E and F.

Jack Maynard, owner of land in E and F, which edge the north side of Hamilton, took a stand that the lots should be used for business purposes. He contended that the price which must be paid for lots there, estimated at $2,400 per car space, is much more than paid previously for lots here, and more than paid usually in other cities. He feels also that lots E and F are too close to lot A for top utility.

Several others spoke on pros and cons of land usage.

DISPLAY MODEL LOT

A model was displayed of the Ann Arbor parking lot which has three levels with building-long ramps on the three per cent incline, on which cars park perpendicularly. Its architects, Colvin, Robinson and Associates, had brought it to Birmingham and conferred with city Manager D. C. Egbert earlier yesterday.

More figures will be sought for such a structure.

East Maple property owners would not be assessed for site A lot-improvement so they are favoring sites E and F, according to Bruni and others.

A decision on whether the lots will be used is expected within two weeks and commissioners will slate a hearing on the lot A necessity soon.

Plans for a $50,000 building on the southwest corner of Lincoln and Woodward were presented to the city for approval this week by Marvin Hahn, 625 Williamsbury. Hahn, who now operates an advertising agency in Detroit, intends to use a little over half of the L-shaped building for his firm and rent the rest, according to the plans.

The ad agency will have a 27 foot frontage on Lincoln but its two entrances and Tennessee stone planter will actually face on a triangular parking lot. The building will be 118 feet long and 27 feet wide, with an L of 62 feet.

TWA President Dies in New York

He was born at Franklin, N.H., July 6, 1897, was graduated from Harvard in 1918, and then served as a flying cadet in the U. S. Air Corps.

Damon began his business career as a millwright assistant for G. Elias & Co., Buffalo, in 1920.

Then he served in various capacities with the Curtiss Aeroplane & Motor Co., becoming president in 1935. He had developed the Curtiss-Wright "Condor" commercial transport in 1933.

Damon served as president of American Airlines and of Republic Aviation Corp. before becoming head of TWA.

He was a director of a number of firms, including the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co., the New York Trust Co., and the New York Telephone Co.

Damon was married in 1922 to Harriet Dudley Holcombe. They had four children, Priscilla Loomis, Barbara Ives, William Alden and Edmund Holcombe.

Detroit Guild Meets Free Press Today

DETROIT (AP)—Detroit's newspaper strike, which has closed the city's three metropolitan dailies, entered its 35th day today with no negotiations scheduled between the publishers and any of three unions officially on strike.

The morning Free Press slated an afternoon bargaining session with the Detroit Newspaper Guild, which represents editorial and business office employes on the Free Press and the afternoon Times. The Guild represents only maintenance workers at the afternoon News.

The Guild bargains separately with each newspaper. So do the teamsters (truck drivers) who met yesterday with the News. Neither of these unions, however, is officially on strike.

A walkout of stereotypers Dec. 1, following expiration of their contract, closed all three newspapers. Other printing craft unionists honored their picket lines, and since then the mailers and printers have gone on strike officially.

An agreement has been reached by the Detroit Newspaper Publishers Assn., which represents the dailies in bargaining with printing craft unions, and the pressmen and the paper and plate handlers. They accepted $3.75 weekly increases.

Lansing Children Unhurt in School Bus Mishap

LANSING (AP) — A school bus loaded with 40 children careened into a ditch on the southern outskirts of Lansing early today when its driver suffered a heart attack. None of the children was injured.

Juveniles Released to Parents' Custody

BIRMINGHAM — Four juveniles who, police say, have admitted stealing five cars, were released to the custody of their parents yesterday pending filing of charges today in juvenile court.

Police Det. Merlin Holmquist said the four were picked up yesterday in the new city parking lot while attempting to start a parked car by crossing dashboard wires.

Under questioning, he said, they admitted stealing two cars in Birmingham, one from Walnut Lake, and another from the Northland parking lot.

One of the youths, he said, lives in Birmingham. The other three are from West Bloomfield Township.

Wales at Last Gets Capital—It's Cardiff

CARDIFF, Wales (AP)—After doing without one for centuries, Wales at last has a capital.

It is Cardiff, and all Welshmen feel better now that they can look to some place as headquarters for their national aspirations.

The 2,597,000 Welshmen who live in Wales can now look the English, Scots and northern Irish in the eye without envy.

Cardiff, attractive industrial city of 248,000, was finally selected by the British government in London.

Bob Considine Says:

Dancing Rates as Big Business Plus Fun

MIAMI (INS)—Quiet, please. Prof. Arthur Murray is talking shop. Who has better credentials?

"Dancing is big business as well as fun," the maestro said, staring reflectively into his Scotch. "A new dance means millions of dollars in lessons, opening of new studios and the like. We gross about $15,000,000 a year on the rumba alone. People spent better than $60,000,000 learning to dance new steps this past year."

There are 402 Arthur Murray studios in this country, Australia and South Africa. Others are planned for Italy, England, Switzerland, West Germany and the Scandinavian countries.

The operators enjoy a certain amount of sovereignty but must pay Murray a percentage of their gross for the use of his name and certain services having to do with the science of new dance steps, hints of decoration and sterner rules concerning deportment.

No Murray instructor or instructress may date a student after hours without consent of the management.

"We don't have any trouble along those lines," Murray said. "Why would an instructor louse himself up with some dance-struck old gal when there's such a great future in his own business? Why hurt his chances of getting his own studio?"

PLENTY OF PROFIT

The owner of the Murray franchise in Milwaukee recently sold out for $300,000. The Chicago Murray man not long ago turned down an offer of $2,500,000.

Murray was an instructor at Vernon Castle's school in 1914 when it occurred to him that he had picked up enough from the old, old master to branch out on his own.

"It was the golden age of dance instruction," he recalled. "More people took lessons about that time than ever took them before or since.

"The whole country wanted to learn how to Turkey Trot. Do the Bunny Hop, the Grizzly Walk, the Castle Walk and the tango.

"I opened the first Arthur Murray studio in Asheville, N.C. I guess I've danced the equivalent of around the world since that time.

"I couldn't even guess at how many people we've taught to dance We had three White House hopefuls through the years—John W. Davis, Wendell Willkie and Tom Dewey. No winners."

Murray once taught dancing by mail, building up a $1,000,000 a year business in the days before the avalanche of his dance studios.

LATIN LEANING

I asked him why, when America takes on a new dance step, it almost invariably borrows from Latin America. Mrs. Murray, the vivacious wife who has been his partner for 31 years, answered.

* * *

"The Latin dances have more sex appeal, I guess," she said clinically. "Besides, most of the rest of the world has no imagination about dancing. The Latins gave us the tango, the rumba and all the variations of the rumba. At least half of all the instructions today are in the Cha-Cha-Cha or the Meringue."

"The Meringue is nothing but our old Lame Duck," Arthur corrected in his serious way. "We gave it up in 1915, now we're buying it back.

"Maybe sex is the answer to why Latin dances are the most popular. But what has the rest of the world to offer, really? The world fox trots, that's all. We hope to change that with our studios abroad."

I asked him to name the dances that had changed the culture of the world.

"That's easy," he said. "The waltz, fox trot, tango, rumba and jitterbug."

He sees no end to the quest for dancing lessons. "Television is the greatest thing that has happened to our business," he stated. "People see good dancing, want to imitate it, and look around for the school that will teach them how. It's a great business."

Reaches for Chicken, Gets $1,724 in Cash

BALTIMORE (AP) — Mrs. Mary Burns opened the door of her refrigerator and reached for a package of chicken.

What she got instead was $1,724 in cash.

She turned the money over to police, who checked the poultry store she had visited.

Proprietor Morris Caplan recalled he had put the day's receipts into a canvas bag, then put the bag in a paper sack.

Mrs. Burns took the wrong package from the counter accidentally.

Meet Konrad Adenauer

German Chancellor Ordered Nazi Flags Ripped Down From Bridges of Cologne

By TOM AGOSTON

(This is the second of three articles giving a picture of West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, who will be 80 years old Thursday.)

BONN (INS) — Power has not wearied Konrad Adenauer. It has made him hard as nails.

Bedridden for eight weeks with bronchial pneumonia, and at the age of 79, he returned to his job as Chancellor of the German Republic recently with his mental agility and restless energy seemingly intact.

He had prepared well for the position of power that finally came to him when he had passed the biblical span of thre score and ten.

Son of a Prussian official, he started on the bottom rung of the civil service ladder at the age of 30, after a successful university career which netted him his first degree of doctor of law.

A serious auto accident at that time left the mask like countenance that has stayed with the chancellor to this day. But before he left the hospital, he had already been elected mayor in 1917, a post he held until he crossed swords with Hitler.

TEAR THEM DOWN

The occasion was the impending visit in 1933 of the Fuhrer to Cologne. The Nazis draped the Rhine bridges in beswastikaed flags and garlands. The mayor told his police to "tear them down."

In the next 13 years, Adenauer was arrested twice by the Gestapo, was in a concentration camp for alleged conspiracy in a plot against Hitler's life and later remained a virtual prisoner in his Rhoendorf villa.

World War II came to an end for Adenauer virtually on his doorstep —he was busy dodging American artillery shells, dropping dangerously near his favorite rose bushes.

HIS HELPERS

Adenauer directs his complex empire through a bevy of first and second string aides and secretaries, who often work wearily in shifts.

His closest aides are Secretary of State Dr. Hans Globke and Secretary of State Dr. Walter Hallstein, his top foreign policy aide.

He hates detail, retains only basic facts and relies on Globke and Hallstein to implement or to fill him in on data.

Working for the chancellor often means a 16 hour day, starting as early as 7:30 a.m. with the arrival of the first summary of world news, dispatched from the information ministry's monitoring desk by special messenger.

LOVES SPEED

Averaging only five or six hours a night, the chancellor is up at 6 a.m. After a short walk in his garden, weather permitting, brief morning exercise and light breakfast he is seated at his radio by 7 a.m, and listens to early morning news broadcasts.

With a curious love for speed, nothing pleases him more than to chide his driver, even at night, not to "dawdle." One morning, when they arrived at home at 5 a.m. Adenauer turned to his driver:

"Thanks," he said, "you deserve a rest. I will not need you before 9 a.m."

The chancellor's car is equipped with a two way radio. On one of his trips, scanning his diary, Adenauer suddenly discovered that he had the dates mixed up and that he was due at a formal cocktail party at the house of a prominent Western diplomat.

INTO THE WOODS

Ordering his driver to stop, the chancellor disappeared in the woods with a small suitcase, and after a while returned, wearing a tuxedo. Quickly polishing his patent leather shoes with a handkerchief he was ready for the party.

Off duty, the twice - widowed chancellor is a family man. Fourteen times a grandfather, nothing pleases him more than to take time out with his family—four sons and three daughters and their children.

In his family circle Adenauer comes nearest to relaxing. And every member of the Adenauer clan understands that "Vati" (dad) knows best.

(Tomorrow: As Adenauer sees the world.)

Pope Gives Blessing to Argentine Regime

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Pius XII has given his blessing to the people of Argentina, Provisional President Pedro Aramburu and his government.

The pontiff expressed his good wishes for the Latin-American nation yesterday when he received an Argentine embassy official in private audience.

The papal act marked a further step in resumption of relations between the Vatican and Argentina. They were badly strained by a series of acts against the church by former dictator President Juan D. Peron.

The Jail Can Wait

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Judge Carl Traub listened to a bootlegger's plea, then deferred a 30-day sentence for one week so the man could be around for a blessed event expected any day.

Research Forecast for 1965: Reduction in U.S. Tax Bill

NEW YORK (INS)—A private, non-profit New York research organization took a 10-year look into the future and came up with glad tidings for overburdened American taxpayers.

The Tax Foundation, Inc., predicted that by 1965 there could be "some reduction" in the total U.S. tax bill through a substantial cutback in federal tax rates.

Sharp increases were foreseen, however, in state and local tax burdens over the next decade, largely through heavy spending for education and highways.

The forecasts also were based on government estimates that the U.S. population by 1965 will reach 189,916,000 (a 19 per cent increase over 1953) and that there will be more than a 40 per cent increase in the U.S. gross national product.

The foundation's experts said they ruled out the prospect of a serious depression "because such an event seems unlikely."

"Extremely difficult" tax problems were forecast for state and local governments over the next 10 years, but the possible federal tax reduction would "more than offset" the state and local increases.

The study predicted that total state and local spending might increase anywhere from 58 to 72 per cent over the 1953 figure of $32.9 billion.

On the other hand, the foundation gave this possible picture of federal spending 10 years hence:

1. If national security spending should be reduced to about $30 billion in 1965 and other federal spending were held to "conservative levels," general federal expenditures should be reduced from the 1953 level by some $14 billion.

2. On the basis of the 1955 tax rates, the federal treasury could have a 1965 surplus of $20 to $34 billion, excluding insurance trust fund accounts.

3. And if all of this possible surplus were used for tax reductions, the present federal tax rates could be cut by 23 to 39 per cent.

We Don't Wish To Play Cassandra—

Remember in Greek mythology, Cassandra was the prophetess of doom. Her predictions, of the fall of Troy and the subsequent misfortunes of her race—all came true.

Now we have no desire to assume her role. We cannot foretell the future. But, we do know calamities happen every day to people who thought they would never happen to them.

We can't tell what calamities may befall you—but we can help you guard against loss resulting from fire, windstorm, burglary, liability or other insurable disaster.

Fear Murderer Kidnaped Girl

GREAT FALLS, Mont. (AP)—Authorities searched today for the 16-year-old girl friend of a young airman found shot in the head in a "lover's lane" west of here. She was feared kidnaped by the killer.

The body of A.2.C. Lloyd Duane Bogle, 18, of Waco, Tex., was found face down beside his car.

Pat Kalitzke was missing. Her mother said the 5-foot-8, 112-pound girl and Bogle left the Kalitzke home Monday evening. She was last reported seen with the airman by drive-in restaurant attendants about 9 p.m. Monday. They told police the two were alone in Bogle's car.

Officers discounted robbery as a motive. Five dollars were found in the airman's wallet. The ignition switch, radio and headlights of the car were on.

There was no evidence of a struggle, investigators said. They theorized the airman was killed by someone known to him and of whom he had no fear. His hands were tied behind his back, apparently with his own belt.

Bogle had been assigned to nearby Malmstrom Air Force Base since April 16, 1955.

Detroiter Fined $25

Pleading guilty to reckless driving, 55-year-old Clarence Minster of Detroit was fined $25 with $10 costs yesterday by Sylvan Lake Justice Joseph J. Leavy.

TODAY'S ASSIGNMENT FOR:

JUNIOR EDITORS

WINTER FUN — 3
Susan on Her Sled

Large sleds may hold three or four children. This is a small one and holds only one. Sometimes Susan lies down on it and sometimes she sits.

Fold down the sides of the sled along the dotted lines and paste the runners on the side flaps. Now fold up the back of the seat along the dotted line. So Susan will sit up on the sled, fold her at the waist.

By making two holes in each mitten and holes in the front end of the sled, you can put a string through them to act as a steering rope. Then she will look as she does in the small sketch above.

Junior Editors pays $10 for any reader's idea that is used. Write your suggestion to "Junior Editors" in care of this newspaper; it cannot be acknowledged or returned and in case of duplication of ideas, the first submission shall be accepted.

Ohioans Co-operating in Planning 2nd Pike

There is a splendid object lesson for Michigan in the co-operation Ohio is getting from its highway department and turnpike authority.

Instead of the bickering we have had from local communities about our turnpike and the opposition of our State Highway Commissioner, the story in Ohio is entirely different. That state's turnpike commission and its department of highways are working together efficiently and harmoniously.

As a result the way is being cleared for the Buckeye State's second toll road. This would connect Conneaut in the northeast corner of the state with Cincinnati 410 miles Southwest. There also would be a spur from Columbus north to the recently completed east-west Ohio pike.

It is expected that large economies can be effected by reducing shoulders, redesigning interchanges, reducing paving costs and changing some grades. But these would not be at the expense of safety and design.

At Columbus it is reported that further savings may be derived from the Ohio highway department's financing of an expressway planned in conjunction with the turnpike.

What a difference co-operation makes!

Already it has given Ohio a splendid 241 mile toll road on which traffic is increasing steadily. In addition, work is going ahead with enthusiasm on the planning of a second toll road and an expressway.

It's high time we in Michigan get going on a turnpike from our southern boundry to the Straits. Co-operation instead of bickering could do much to speed its completion.

Campaign Costs Up

Before the next election is over more Americans than ever before are going to realize that electing a President in a country of 165,000,000 costs a lot of money.

Nobody should be startled if, when the figures are all in, the cost of the 1956 election adds up to $100,000,000. Such a total is expected by experienced observers.

Their estimates are based on the increasing use of advertising and plane travel. Another factor is the growing cost of maintaining headquarters in many cities and the salaries of necessary staffs.

These mounting expenses are well recognized in Congress. Present indications are that the legislators will make the overdue election law change to raise from $5,000 to $10,000 the limit of individual campaign contributions.

Actually, the expenditure of $100,000,000 on a Presidential campaign in a country as large and wealthy as ours isn't extravagant. This figures out to about 66 cents per capita.

It is contended with good reason that our democracy would be strengthened if the cost of our elections were met by a large number of small contributions. Undeniably, this would tend to eliminate one of the most serious influences of American political life—the buying of special privileges through large contributions.

Finally, greater individual financial participation in the campaign would make the voters appreciate more the value and privilege of the franchise.

Election Rocks France

For several reasons many Frenchmen are looking back sadly at the results of their national election.

To say that what they saw amazed and disheartened them is the understatement of the week. Except among the Communists and Poujadists, the gloom is thick for pro-Western deputies.

The Reds with 151 seats have emerged with the strongest single party in the new chamber. The new Poujadist party, headed by Pierre Poujade, foe of all taxes, captured 49 seats. Thus these two parties control a solid block of 200 irresponsible votes in a 544 seat chamber.

With no party strong enough to form a government, France is headed for more coalition rule and more cabinet crises. One possibility is that the quarrel between Premier FAURE and MENDES-FRANCE can be patched up. Together they control 350 seats.

Another but far less welcome idea, is that one or the other of these leaders might make a deal with one or both of the extremist parties.

It is too early yet to see which new political alliances will materialize. What is certain is that the election has hurt France.

Behind the Scenes

David Lawrence Says:

Present Day 'Liberalism' Shows Hypocrisy by Ignoring Crass Abuses of Civil Liberty

WASHINGTON — Civil rights were flagrantly abused Tuesday yet no committee of Congress or "liberal" organization showed signs of protest.

No word of disapproval came from groups which award prizes to defenders of "civil liberties." No comment came from organizations quick to denounce a jury's acquittal of persons charged with violence in the south.

Yet Columbus, Ohio, tells the story of how nearly 1,700 citizens tried to exercise their right to work at the Westinghouse plant and were set upon by a mob ordered to mass picketing by a labor-union official in defiance of a court order limiting the number of pickets.

Here is one report:

Trouble broke out at 5:10 a.m. when some 2,000 members of the striking AFL-CIO International Union of Electrical Workers massed for a demonstration scheduled by the president of Local 746. Two or three cars were overturned, 86 strikers were arrested, 74 men and 12 women were jailed, cars attempting to enter the plant were smashed and 7 suffered injuries during the uprising . . .

The 86 strikers who were arrested were held in the bullpen of the Franklin County Jail on charges of inciting a riot . . . The union called sheriff's handling of the situation 'one of the worst cases of police brutality ever seen in such a situation' . . . Jail officials said they found clubs and stones on some of the strikers who were arrested.

INTIMIDATION IS MEASURE

Gov. Frank J. Lausche termed the conduct of the strike leaders 'indefensible.' He said the state would 'intervene to maintain law and order' if necessary.

But the damage cannot be measured in terms of persons arrested or injured or in violence at the gates. The real measure is in intimidation exercised on workers who stayed home and who do not dare to return to work.

Thus the right to work is abolished by physical force in a free America. Union leaders know mass picketing has been prohibited by state laws. Yet they order "mass demonstrations" to frighten those who may wish to work.

HYPOCRISY OF LIBERALISM

The laws of the land are designed to protect unions if employers refuse to bargain. There is no justification for violence as a means to union demands.

Only moral force can prevail in the court of public opinion. It is regrettable that no national leaders of trade unionism have come forth to denounce the use of physical force to win strikes or to intimidate workers. Employers used to do such things, and the court promptly punished "goon squads."

But today various labor unions evidently feel they can threaten to defeat at the polls the mayors of cities or governors of states who dare to use public authority to squelch violence.

Civil rights are important, because they protect citizens of every race or creed or color, but it is a mark of the hyprocrisy of so-called "liberalism" today that it spends so much of its energies in defense of "security risks" accused of Communist affiliations or associations and doesn't seem to be bothered by the fact that thousands upon thousands of loyal Americans are losing their civil liberties at the gates of the plants where they try to exercise their right to work.

Doctor Says Climate Fails to Influence Rheumatism

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

I have been told it is unsafe to live in a home with concrete floor, even if the concrete is covered with asphalt tile. The reason given is that such a floor is cold and damp, and therefore may cause rheumatism.

If this is so, what kind of floor and floor covering would be better from the viewpoint of health?

Would the harmful effects which a cold damp floor may produce be prevented if one wore shoes with rubber heels and soles? If one must live in a home with a concrete floor what safeguards would you recommend? (C. H.)

In order to live healthily and comfortably in such a house you should first toss Ben Told, Mrs. Sumsey and Saireygamp out the back door into a suitable slush puddle and pitch their earlaps, throat mufflers, chest protectors, belly bands, woolen leggins and overshoes out after them.

DUST YOUR HANDS

Then dust your hands, slam the door, pick up the paper, relight your pipe, put your feet on the mantel and . . .

It may be that a concrete floor with cellar or an air space under it makes the house easier to keep warm in winter and cool in summer than would a concrete floor built on the ground.

In either case the kind of floor or floor covering you prefer is as desirable as any other, from the viewpoint of health.

It is a question solely of your personal comfort and convenience what kind of soles and heels to wear.

NO EVIDENCE

There is no evidence in statistics that chronic joint disability is more likely to affect people exposed to cold and damp than those who live in the finest climate.

There is no evidence that wearing more clothing than is necessary for comfort makes a person less susceptible to chronic joint disability.

My notion — call it what you like — is that in most cases of point disability of gradual onset and more than a year's standing, the trouble is not inflammation at all (not arthr-itis) but physical degeneration of joint tissues.

This is what I call rheumatis (not rheumatism, please) and I believe it is due to nutritional deficiency through the years from early childhood through breakfast or dinner today.

If you have a faint idea that I may have something here, do squander enough money and time to get further details.

Send stamped, self-addressed envelope and ask for pamphlet Calcium and Rheumatiz.

Signed letters, not more than one page of 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to the Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Henry W. Fowler Praises Features of Pontiac Press

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

The inclusion of a weather map in the Press is a welcome addition to one subscriber at least. Why not make it a daily feature.

I have one objection. It is a forecast rather than a map of conditions as they were at a certain time. A better map would show the location of fronts with speed and direction of movement, and of pressure areas.

Thanks for your coverage of events leading up to the building of a turnpike through this area. Objectors should give their underlying motive in opposing the toll road. Seeing through the objections I have read is as easy as looking through a window pane. Dissentors give me a pain.

Big business has been praised as looking forward. Evidently all slipped in the newsprint industry. Else, what is their motive in causing a shortage?

31 Year Subscriber Wants No More of Fluoridation

This is my first request for a small space in your column to ask what's in the wind again.

The Pontiac Press is giving its readers another dose of news on fluoridation and lately it's getting considerable space on the front page.

We had so much on this topic during the Press' all out campaign for fluoridation before the voters rejected it, and now some of us are wondering if we are in for more of the same.

Newsprint stock is very low. Perhaps this will give us some relief. If not, here is one subscriber less and that's for sure.

A Subscriber for 31 Years

Personally, I think the price of newsprint was raised to provide capital for expansion, which in turn will increase the value of stock certificates at your and my expense. Free enterprise has the right, so why should you and I object. That is why we pay through the nose.

For example, GM with tremendous earnings statement increase car prices to expand plants. Yet Curtice is cited as the man of the year. At whose expense?

Our Pontiac Press looks like a million since the Detroit news strike. It is an outstanding newspaper.

Ticketed Motorist Cites Police Traffic Violations

During the Christmas shopping season, one morning in Pontiac after hopelessly trying to find a parking space, I gave up and double-parked in front of a store (on a side street) in which I had to pick up a package. It was raining and, having three small children, I couldn't park too far away.

I was in the store approximately six or seven minutes and upon returning to my car, I found an officer was writing a ticket.

I realize he was justified in doing this, but his scout car meanwhile was entirely blocking a fire route. If there had been an ambulance rushing an emergency case to a hospital, he could not have made it, as this scout car covered the entrance to an alley.

And upon leaving Pontiac, I also observed another officer's car double-parked on Saginaw street.

U. S. Standard of Living Sets Example for World

By MERRYLE S. RUKEYSER
INS Economic Commentator

Wherever the blight of Marxian errors has been lifted, spectacular gains are being made on a global basis in popular living standards.

Western Europe, emulating the American example, has been experiencing an expanding market at home in durable consumer goods, including automobiles and household appliances.

For a time, war-weakened nations, short of foreign exchange, had to divert temporarily an undue share of their output to exports, but in the last several years the home market for comfort goods has been expanding. Increased use of consumer credit in Western Europe has given a lift to the movement.

The impulse for progress is not limited to the Americas anc. Western Europe, but will spread around the world.

The political preparations for the big change came with the defeat of the anti-free enterprise groups in England, Australia and elsewhere, and the recent Australian elections confirmed the earlier switch, with growing strength for what President Eisenhower calls "dynamic conservatism."

TERRIBLE PRICE

On a global basis, the countries behind the Iron Curtain, suffering from the malady of fallacious economic thinking known as Marxism, are paying a terrible price in retarded progress in levels of material well-being of the people.

Former Premier Malenkov, evidently sensitive to this shortcoming, had been maneuvering to put greater accent on the output of consumer goods for home consumption. But he was ousted by those who wanted to stress heavy industries, on which the flow of armaments depends.

On a global basis, it is becoming increasingly apparent that under a congenial social, political and economic setup, the potentials for lifting popular living standards are unprecedented in character.

Once this fact becomes recognized behind the Iron Curtain as well as elsewhere, the peoples affected will doubtless find a way to get rid of the tyrants, who are a barrier to economic progress.

The American free-choice system, which has become an inspiration for other peoples, couples with rising productivity appropriate techniques for stimulating demand through advertising, selling and merchandising.

Our know-how is being exported, and a new influence of unbounded potentials has been let loose in the world.

Case Records of a Psychologist

Whether Drinking, Smoking, Petting, Don't Be Fooled by 'Everybody Does'

Notice Philip's attempt to stampede me with the familiar form of mob psychology known even to children. "Forewarned is forearmed" runs an old adage, so you teenage girls should not be deluded by this clever ruse. The next time a boy friend tries this ancient device on you, recognize it as a common form of psychological coercion.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case Q-339: When Philip, our second child, was about two years old, he was sitting beside me at the dinner table.

Mrs. Crane had given him a liberal helping of mashed potatoes and gravy. He was scooping them up with his spoon.

But he was using his left thumb to push them into the bowl of the spoon, so his left thumb was getting smeared with gravy.

"Philip, why don't you take a piece of bread and use it for a pusher?" I asked.

Maybe my tone was a little sharp and thus deflating, for he immediately bristled in his own defense.

"Everybody does it this way!" he pompously tried to browbeat me. Then, when I may have looked unconvinced, he delivered the final knockout by saying, "Two people do it!"

Well, his use of the number "two" showed that he thought he had me cornered, for "two" was the biggest number he knew.

And he uttered it with the forcefulness which we adults would employ if we said "two billion" people.

This attempt to coerce human beings by mob psychology thus is learned spontaneously and very early in life.

What Philip tried to do to me, other children rapidly attempt on many occasions, as when they want to sit up late for a TV show.

"Mother, all the other kids get to sit up late for TV," they will generalize.

"All the other kids at school ride bicycles," they may vary their stampede attempt.

"All the girls give in to their boy friends," many high school boys exclaim in trying to browbeat virtuous coeds into illicit affairs.

And this same coercive effect of trying to intimate that Everybody Is Doing It, is an axiom of advertising agencies who thus intimidate teen-agers with reference to cigarets and liquor.

For it is certainly true that timid or wavering folks can be forced into a desired type of action by convincing them that others are ALL doing it, too.

SEX STRATEGY

On my last trip to New York editor-in-chief of a magazine took me to lunch.

"I've been reading your column," he said, "and I like your emphasis on common sense psychology in moral affairs.

"So I'd like to have you elaborate some of your newspaper cases for longer articles in my magazine."

When I returned to Chicago, I finally found time to follow his suggestions. The first article was headed "You Can't Buy Back Your Chastity," and was directed to teen-age girls.

Therein I pointed out the stampede tactics of boys who try to coerce morally trained high school and college coeds by that juvenile slogan:

"All the other girls do it."

Well, don't be intimidated by such mob strategy. It is not true that all the other girls or boys indulge in cigarets or liquor, for only a minority do.

And they definitely don't all indulge in illicit sexual affairs, for it is the inferiority complexers and intoxicated or the stupid girls who let themselves be used as experimental animals by callow youths.

See tomorrow's follow-up.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Harriman Asks 6-Point Reform

Gotham Legislators Get Social Benefit Program at Opening Session

By HENRY LEADER

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Gov. Averell Harriman of New York, his eyes on the White House, placed before the Legislature today a program calling for widespread social welfare benefits, a "substantial" income-tax cut and pay boosts for state workers and teachers.

* * *

He told the Senate and Assembly in his second annual message opening the 1956 session of the Legislature that he expected state revenue to reach an all-time high in the new year. In the same breath he said expenditures also would rise.

NOT SPECIFIC

He did not spell out how much of a reduction in state personal income taxes he would seek. This he left to his budget message, to be submitted Feb. 1.

Neither was he specific on how much he wanted to increase teachers' salaries and other forms of state aid to education.

But he detailed to a considerable extent the social welfare phases of his legislative program.

The governor, who formerly worked for Presidents Roosevelt and Truman and who is an avowed but not an "active" candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, urged:

1. Liberalization of workmen's compensation, unemployment insurance and sickness disability benefits.
2. Higher minimum wages.
3. A concerted assault on poverty.
4. Tightening of the antidiscrimination law with respect to housing.
5. Improved housing and health facilities for migrant workers.
6. Steps to protect small and medium-size businesses from being squeezed to death by big business.

Who Kills Parakeets? Mystery Baffles Police

HAGERSTOWN, Md. (AP)—Washington County police are probing the puzzle of the murdered parakeets.

Yesterday, a parakeet was found decapitated at the Fountain Dale elementary school, just north of Hagerstown on U.S. 11. The bird, a pet of the second graders, was a replacement for another parakeet in the same classroom, which was drowned in an aquarium by someone who broke into the school last month. And that bird had replaced another one, which was decapitated when the school was entered earlier.

Utah City's Main Street Was Possible Death Way

BINGHAM, Utah (AP) — Officers found a sack full of dynamite and blasting caps in a culvert beneath Main Street yesterday.

Deputy Sheriff Elmer Pantalone said the dynamite was so old that a rock tossed into the culvert could—if it had struck the sack—have blown up the street.

Pantalone said the explosives had been taken recently from the U.S. Smelting and Refining Co. plant near here.

Claims Alimony Unpaid

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The former wife of movie producer Howard Hawks, 58, has filed suit for unpaid alimony and child support payments. Mrs. Nancy Gross Hayward, 38, now the wife of Broadway theatrical producer Leland Hayward, stated in the suit filed yesterday that Hawks did not live up to a 1948 divorce agreement. She said he owes $50,000 in installments and $500 a month support of their child Kitty, 9.

Teens, Night Don't Mix

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Teen-agers should be prevented from driving after dark, says Dr. Elmer Hess, president of the American Medical Assn. Dr. Hess, of Erie, Pa., said in an address here, "In my part of the country most of the after-dark accidents involve teen-agers." He also blamed elderly people who poke along the highways as a major cause of accidents.

Pontiac City Affairs

Commissioners Consider $502,118 in Drainage Work

Some $502,118 in sewage and drain construction work was considered by the Pontiac City Commission last night.

City Engineer Lewis M. Wrenn estimated that cost of the first three sections of the proposed Pontiac Creek Drain would be $332,252.

The drain would serve the area bounded generally by Saginaw, Summit, Sanderson and LeGrande in the city's northwest section.

The area cannot be drained properly, said Wrenn, until the project is completed. Action on the project was deferred pending detailed study of the plan at Thursday's informal meeting.

Public necessity was declared and a public hearing set for Jan. 10 on construction of $169,867 worth of sanitary sewers in the following streets:

Featherstone from existing sewer to Richton.
Emerson, Cameron and Kenilworth from Mount Clemens to Featherstone.
Jordon from Mount Clemens to Featherstone.
Maxwell from Mount Clemens to Featherstone.
Broadway from Mount Clemens to Cedar.
Bigham from Featherstone to Broadway.
Cedar from Bigham to Maxwell.
Hotchkiss from Cameron to Richton.
Exton from Kenilworth to Richton.
Mount Clemens from lot 364 Pleasantdale Sub. to Richton.

Commissioner John A. Dugan (District 5) questioned the practice of planning more public improvement projects each year than normally can be completed.

City Manager Walter K. Willman said lack of men and equipment often prevented all jobs on the yearly program from being completed, but those left over are carried into the next year's schedule.

Dugan stated he feels residents often get the impression that all listed projects will be completed and suggested the list of slated work might be reduced slightly each year more in line with what actually can be done.

"I don't want to cut out advance planning," he explained, "but I don't think the public should be given a false impression." The commissioners decided to discuss the matter further at Thursday's informal meeting.

In other action, Percy G. Newman, Richard R. Dougherty and Fred Smiley were reappointed as Municipal Court process servers for the next year.

Commission approval was given the Pontiac General Hospital Board of Trustees to sell houses off lots owned by the city at 19, 25 and 29 Seminole Ave. and 325 Johnson Ave.

A resolution was passed commending Stephen J. Cloonan for his service to the community while on the Police and Fire Trial Board, from which he recently resigned.

A tavern license at 883 Baldwin Ave. was transferred from Gaye Williams to Daisy Beauchamp and Ethel Cringos.

Authorization was given the Northside Community Club to have a festival June 30 through July 4 and display fireworks on July 4.

A request from residents that no-parking signs be placed on Allison street to eliminate storage and abandoning of cars and trucks was referred to City Manager Walter K. Willman for study.

Referred to the Plan Commission was a Mahan Realty Co. request for rezoning of the west 95 feet of lots 62 to 66, inclusive, of Hillside Manor Sub. on Baldwin avenue.

A request was approved from Charles Marotta Bldg. Corp. asking the grading and graveling of High street from Euclid to Blaine.

The rezoning to M-3 of lots 147 of Dixie Highway Subdivision, brought up by Mayor William W. Donaldson (District 3), was referred to the Plan Commission.

Commissioner Floyd P. Miles (District 4) asked Willman to bring in a report on the city ordinance covering snow removal by residents.

Willman also will study a request from Charles Hooks that he be allowed to reopen a barbecue on South Saginaw street. Hooks was denied a license in 1952.

CD Walks Supplies to Flooded Victims

RIO DELL, Calif. (AP)—Civil defense volunteers are daily packing food and medicines on foot across three slippery miles of a mud slide for between 250 and 300 marooned residents of Bull Creek.

The convoy moves by jeep to the slide, which wrecked the highway west from U.S. Highway 101 to Bull Creek in northern California. There it becomes a pack job.

Miss Lillian West, Red Cross nurse from Riverside, Calif., made the trip yesterday with six men. She said Bull Creek was as badly smashed as any flood area she had seen.

Texas to Probe Insurance Evils

2,500 CPAs Enlisted by the State to Weed Out Distrustful Firms

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Texas' 2,500 certified public accountants have been enlisted by the state insurance commission to weed out within a year insurance companies "which are unsound and unsafe and unworthy of the public confidence."

The vast audit was projected by the commission yesterday as a state judge called for a new Travis County (Austin) grand jury to investigate diligently what he called the "recent insurance debacle."

The audits will be aimed only at the approximately 1,400 firms chartered and headquartered in Texas. The companies will have to bear the expense of examination.

The board promised prompt action against any company that refuses to make its records available for CPA examination.

Russian Aid Offer to Liberia Reported

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Times said today Russia has offered economic and technical aid to Liberia. The West African Negro republic organized a century ago with American help.

A Times dispatch from Monrovia said the Russian delegation to the third inauguration of President William V. S. Tubman, held yesterday, also suggested the two countries exchange diplomatic representatives.

* * *

The Liberian government probably will approach the Soviet offers with caution, despite its need for foreign aid, the Times said. Liberia is strongly opposed to communism and permits no Red organizations within her borders.

Seattle Transit Tries Free Ride to Lure Patrons

SEATTLE (AP)—The Seattle transit system, plagued with higher and higher costs and fewer and fewer customers, hopes to increase its revenue by giving away rides.

With your favorite morning or afternoon newspaper thrown in free too.

Hoping to stimulate transit riding, the Transit Commission, which operates the publicly owned system, will put a free bus in service next Tuesday. It will be one of a hundred new "air-ride" coaches purchased by the system.

* * *

Anyone will be able to board the conspicuously marked bus without paying a fare from 6 a.m. to 6 p.m. The catch will be that the bus will take a different route each day. Those who board it will save a 20-cent fare (4 tokens for 75 cents).

Juveniles Suspected in Weekend Breakins

Juveniles are suspected of ransacking three Pontiac homes over New Year's Eve weekend and stealing at least $50, Pontiac Police said.

From $40 to $50 in dimes were stolen from one home on Chippewa Rd., and $7 was taken from a dwelling on Navajo St., owners told police.

Nothing was reported missing from a second house on Chippewa St., also ransacked, police said.

Theater Group Being Formed

West Bloomfield Folks Set First Open Meet for Jan. 9

West Bloomfield Township is to have its own amateur theater organization, with plans for private and public presentations of plays, skits and similar presentations, as well as social activities for members and their friends.

A preliminary informal meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Franklyn Donegan, Middlebelt and Pine Lake Roads, was attended by some twenty interested persons and the tentative name of "Township Players" was selected for the group.

Date and place for the first open meeting was designated as 9 p.m. Jan. 9, at West Bloomfield Town Hall on Orchard Lake Road. Meeting dates and plans for immediate future activities will be discussed at this meeting.

Those over 21 who are interested in membership are cordially invited to attend. Residence in West Bloomfield is not a requirement, the only provision being an interest in acting, directing, scenery building and design, costume, make-up, play reading, business administration or any of the many and varied activities connected with amateur theatricals.

Provisional membership committee heads include Mrs. John Batts and Mrs. Crew Couse.

Cash Register, Machines Broken in Restaurant

Thieves who broke into the Tom-A-Hawk Restaurant on Auburn Road, Pontiac Township, yesterday broke into the cash register and five dispensing machines, Oakland County Sheriff's detectives said today.

It is not yet known how much loot the robbers got, detectives said. Entrance was made through the back door of the restaurant after breaking a pane of glass.

Detroiter Gets Probation in Negligent Homicide

After pleading guilty to negligent homicide Dec. 19, Howard Ellis, 32, of 901 Connor, Detroit, was placed on two-year probation and assessed $300 court costs yesterday by Oakland County Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland.

Ellis was charged after a passenger in his car was killed Sept. 25 in Hazel Park.

Display of Uranium Slated at Cranbrook

A special exhibit of uranium minerals will be on display at Cranbrook Institute of Science until Jan. 15, the Institute said yesterday.

Arranged by Dr. E. W. Heinrich of the University of Michigan, the exhibit is composed of specimens from the University's collection and from the Institute's regular display cases.

Killed in Plane Crash

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Seafood importer John R. Dillon was killed when his training-type monoplane crashed shortly after takeoff yesterday at Municipal Airport.

CHOSEN FOR AWARD — Chosen "Citizen of the Year" by the Oakland County Ministerial Fellowship was Allen D. Noble of Lake St. A graduate of the University of Michigan with an A. B. degree in history and political science, Mr. Noble is a member of Alpha Phi Alpha fraternity and of Wells Edwards post No. 411 American Legion. He has been with the police department since April 6, 1937, except three years in the service. The Rev. Richard H. Dixon Jr. (left), president of the Fellowship, presented the award at a recent program at Trinity Baptist Church.

Keego Tax Date to Be Jan. 19

Council Finds Fees Are Due One Week Later Than Announced

KEEGO HARBOR — The City Council held its first meeting of the new year last night in City Hall here.

There was a discussion on the date that taxes were payable and it was discovered that there was an error on the tax date and they are due on Jan. 19 instead of Jan. 10.

The Council also voted to have the regular meeting on the third Tuesday of each month for this year.

Members of the Council authorized the purchase order which gave Edward Hermoyian and Louis Doyle the authority to purchase a snow plow for any sum up to $500.

Pennell Pleads Guilty; Gets Fine, Jail Term

Robert R. Pennell, 41, of 1824 Thorndale Rd., Commerce Township, who yesterday pleaded guilty to a charge of accosting, was fined $100, jailed 10 days and placed on six months probation by Municipal Judge Cecil McCallum.

Pontiac Patrolman Gerald A. Navarre said he arrested Pennell yesterday in the men's lounge of a downtown establishment.

Barnyard Economics Meeting to Be Jan. 5

Know what "parity" means?

"Most folks don't, though 'parity' is a word that comes up every time national farm programs are discussed," believes Lyle Abel, Oakland County Agricultural Agent.

At the 1956 Barnyard Economics meeting local farmers will discuss the significance of "parity for agriculture", as well as other aspects of national farm policy. The two hour meeting, scheduled for Waterford Community Activities Building on Williams Lake Road on Thursday, will also feature latest information on social security for farmers. Program will begin at 1:30 p.m.

Dale Butz, extension specialist from MSU, will present background information and features of various current farm program proposals. Several proposals, including the storage-loan program, direct payments, two-price plan, and the fertility bank, will be summarized and compared.

IDEAS OF FARMERS

Following Butz's remarks, a panel of local farmers will present their ideas in current and proposed programs for agriculture. Panel members will also describe how their individual farming operations have been affected by national farm legislation.

Henry Morin, field representative of the Pontiac Office of the Social Security Administration will answer questions on social security as a further feature of the meeting. This year for the first time farm operators must file social security tax reports for their own income, as well as reporting for their employes. All phases of social security as it pertains to farmers will be covered.

The Barnyard Economics program is conducted by the County Extension Office, in cooperation with the Cooperative Extension Service of MSU.

Fines Totaling $80 Paid by Floyd Bailes

A Pontiac man who appeared before Orion Township Justice Helmar G. Stanaback on two counts yesterday paid fines totaling $80.

Floyd Bailes, 44, of 3227 Perry St., pleaded guilty to reckless driving and to driving without an operator's license. For the first charge he was fined $50 with $10 costs, and for the second $10 and $10 costs.

Liquor, Cash Stolen

An undetermined amount of liquor, cash from a vending machine were stolen from Morey's Golf Club on Wise Road, Commerce Township, last night, Oakland County Sheriff's detectives said today.

The robbers broke out the circular window in the front door of the building and crawled through, deputies said.

Williams Denies Credit to GOP

Accuses Republicans of Using Desegregation Order in Politics

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Michigan's Gov. G. Mennen Williams has accused the Eisenhower administration of seeking "to make political capital" out of the Supreme Court's desegregation decision.

"This," he says, "presumably is because the chief justice (Earl Warren), just one of nine justices, happens to be an Eisenhower appointee."

He made that accusation in a Los Angeles speech last night, following one at Riverside in which he accused the administration of "cold materialism" and "indifference to the individual."

Williams, a Democrat, is looked upon by some as a candidate for his party's presidential nomination this year. He has insisted, however, he is not a candidate.

In accusing the Eisenhower administration of seeking "to make political capital" on the court's desegregation ruling, Williams charged that the Republican administration had failed to take action on specific civil rights proposals.

Williams urged relaxation of immigration and naturalization laws as a step toward reducing what he called "33 million second-class citizens" in the United States.

He offered these as "minimum suggestions" in his speech to fellow Democratic Party members at Los Angeles.

Expand refugee legislation to aid victims of Communist enslavement.

Eliminate all barriers to "the fullest possible participation by all of our citizens in all of the good things" to which they are entitled.

Coonskin Cap Falls Into Ring at Florida

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Sen. Estes Kefauver has announced he would enter Florida preferential primary this year for the Democratic presidential nomination.

He said at a press conference he would enter the race against Adlai Stevenson who already has said he would be in the primary.

In Washington Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala) said today supporters of Adlai E. Stevenson welcome a test with Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn) in the Florida Democratic presidential primary.

Kefauver announced yesterday he will bid for the state's 28 convention nominating votes. Stevenson, the party's 1952 presidential candidate, said previously he would enter the May 29 primary.

Nothing of Value Gone in Lumberyard Office

Nothing of value is missing from a lumber yard office, at 1441 Baldwin Ave., broken into over New Year's Eve weekend, according to the owner.

C. S. Dennis, of Huntington Woods, told Pontiac Police that a file cabinet and desk had been rifled aftern entry was gained by smashing the window of a rear door.

One Year Jail Sentence Given Center Line Man

Clifford J. Brideau, 21, of 8086 Harding, Center Line, yesterday was sentenced to one year in Oakland County Jail by Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland.

He admitted Dec. 27 to taking two tires and wheels Dec. 21 from a car parked in a Birmingham auto sales lot.

Amvets Post Presents Flag for City Hall

A large American Flag, for display outside the City Hall, was presented to the City Commission last night by the Pontiac Jimmy Dey Amvets Post.

Nancy Roach Chooses Beige Lace for Wedding

WALLED LAKE — Mr. and Mrs. Dick Roach, of Pontiac Trail, are announcing the Christmas Eve marriage of their daughter, Nancy Ione to William Jerry Chenoweth, son of Mr. and Mrs. I Delbert Chenowath of Rochester, Minn.

Evergreens, white poinsettias, and cathedral tapers formed the background as Nancy was escorted to the altar by her father. A waits-length beige lace gown with brown accessories and brown orchids was the bride's choice for her wedding.

Following the ceremony a family reception was held at the bride's home. The young couple left Monday on the MSU train to California where they are the guests of the bridegroom's brother and attended the Rose Bowl game.

Upon their return they will reside at 300 M.A.C. Avenue, East Lansing, where they will resume their studies at Michigan State University.

Romeo Youth Hurt in School Bus Crash

A 13-year-old Romeo schoolboy who suffered a broken leg in a school bus collision this morning was reported in good condition in Mount Clemens General Hospital at noon.

Charles Walkowski was riding in a car with his brother Kenneth, 16, on their way to school in Armada, Romeo post State Police said. The car reportedly skidded on icy pavements in attempting to stop behind an Armada school bus taking on a passenger.

Kenneth Walkowski suffered severe lacerations of the hand, hospital authorities said. No one in the bus was injured.

FALSE TEETH
That Loosen
Need Not Embarrass
Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug counter.

Boy Is Wary About Career Trap

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Of her 17-year-old son, a mother writes: "He can't decide what career he wants to follow. As his father knew that he wanted to be a businessman by the time he was 3, he has no patience with the boy's indecision. Our pastor says that holiday and summer jobs help clarify career decisions. Do you agree — and have you any other comment on my son's problem?"

I agree that holiday and summer jobs are helpful experiments in discovering young people's work interests.

But a child's indecisiveness toward a career is not necessarily inexperience. It may represent actual positive resistance to a decision. In such a case, it behooves us to look at our own ideas about career choices. Do we regard them as final and irrevocable?

If any such idea finds secret lodgment in this boy's father, the child is right to resist committing himself. For he's not resisting work, but confinement by future, unknown restraints. And he's as wary of the trap he feels is hidden in any career decision as any other young creature that must protect itself.

Unfortunately, he wouldn't be aware that his resistance to entrapping decision was quite proper. The poor land would imagine it to be the stubbornness and laziness we said it was instead of the self-protection it really is.

CAN'T EXPLAIN

So he would be unable to explain or defend himself to us easily and confidently. Believing himself to be irresponsible, he'd have to express himself cynically and irresponsibly in shame of his most understandable feeling.

To such a problem, my own answer would be to confess my own mistake.

I'd say, "I have misled you. No human decision can ever be final. Right now, all a career decision can possibly commit you to is a certain general direction at school. All right. Make it—and stop being afraid of it.

"We're not going to take it seriously. What we take seriously will be reading the signs God gives us as He unfolds His purpose for you."

Today, our surpassing interest in children's future material "success" makes their career decisions unnecessarily difficult. Imagining that their choice is deciding their future value, they become afraid of it. Their anxiety to make the "right" and undisappointing one swamps their awareness of their own spontaneous interests.

At this point we cry, "Help!"—and professional aptitude testers have to rush to our rescue with their special digging equipment for unearthing children's buried, spontaneous interests.

Opti-Mrs. Club Hears Stories by Mrs. Boggs

Mrs. Robert Boggs, a member of the Pontiac Story-Tellers Club, was speaker at the January meeting of the Opti-Mrs. Club held Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Herbert Dearing opened her home on Cass Lake road for the meeting. Assisting the hostess was Mrs. H. Guy Moats.

The speaker explained how Beethoven wrote his "Moonlight Sonata" and how Samuel Foss came to write his poem, "House by the Side of the Road," and she told an Irish folk story of the sunken castle in the Enchanted Lake.

The history of the Pontiac Story-Tellers Club was also related by the speaker.

Pattern Makes Drapery News

Pattern is the style news in woven drapery and slipcover constructions. For a while, the term "plains" meant just about any solid fabric. Not so today. Weaves have taken to pattern in much the same way that prints have been simulating textures.

There are box checks, dominoes, scrolls and geometrics. They are achieved through loops, nubs and coils—the contrasting of the shiny with the dull, the combining of many yarns, some of them used in new ways for eye-catching effects.

Round Table Hears Talk on Tuesday

Speaker Discusses the Topic of World Understanding

"Adventures in World Understanding" was the subject chosen by Mrs. Edwin S. Noth when she spoke before members of the Round Table Club Tuesday afternoon. The meeting was held in the Civic Room of the Federal Savings and Loan Building.

Mrs. Eugene Cleland introduced Mrs. Noth, who is the international hostess for the General Federation of Women's Clubs.

The speaker told of clubwomen in Europe and what they have done to raise the standard of living in their native lands. She also told of numerous individuals, the radiance of their personalities, and the important part exchange teachers play in the international program.

In closing, the speaker quoted S'Hota Rustaveli by saying, "What you keep is lost, what you give is forever yours."

Mrs. George Eldred was received into the group as a new member. Serving as hostesses for the day were Mrs. William Ford, Mrs. E. L. Guy, Mrs. John G. Lewis, Mrs. Leon Belknap, Mrs. Clarge Hegestrom and Mrs H. E. McCulloch.

Making arrangements for Husbands' Night to be held in February are Mrs. William Dawe, Mrs. J. A. Rammes, Mrs. Clyde Nelsey, Mrs. Russell Austin and Mrs. Cleland.

Table Designed for Ike, Mamie

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — One of the prize exhibits at the Grand Rapids winter furniture market, which opens Thursday, will be a table designed especially for President and Mrs. Eisenhower.

Ralph B. Morse, president of the Grand Rapids Furniture Makers Guild, announced today that the table will be presented to the Eisenhowers immediately after the market concludes.

The table, designed and manufactured by guild members, symbolizes the nation's hope for a long life for the President.

A band of English yew wood, symbol of immortality in Gothic and Byzantine art, encircles the table top. Designers said the wood and circle both symbolize the wish of a long life for the President.

The pedestal table has a top of grained French walnut. It also contains portions of American walnut and cherry. The feet are massive carved lion's paws. Heavy brass rings, one serving as a drawer pull, provide accents on the table side.

Morse said it will be delivered by special van, lined with black velvet, provided by a Cincinnati firm. Details of the presentation ceremony are being completed by guild officials.

The table will become personal property of the Eisenhowers and is for use either at the White House or at their Gettysburg home.

If you're the kind who bakes a big batch of things all at once, do doubles on the cookies and freeze a few for lunchtime surprise later on.

Afraid? Naw, Just Sensible

Indianapolis Loyal to Auto Racers

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (INS) — I've always thought that race car drivers are brave fools, and that the people who come to watch them spin toward death or $150,000 in the speedway classic must have the instincts of vultures. But you just don't express such views in Indianapolis.

* * *

They pish-tush you. What is worse, they insist upon barreling you around their track, sometimes called "Heartbreak Oval," to show you how safe it is.

"Ready?" leers Duane Carter, former race driver and director of the U.S. Auto Club which supervises next May 30's speedway classic. "Let's go!"

As we snailed around the 2½-mile track in a sluggish 151 auto that couldn't keep pace with Roger Bannister, much less the 128.13 m.p.h. average speed in last year's 39th annual Indianapolis race, Carter explained the merits of his classic.

"You think it's dangerous, but it's really quite safe, compared to say football or boxing," he said. "Those sports, the participants take delight in hurting others. People get killed all the time.

"Well, we occasionally lose a fellow, sure. But we're not brutal. Many men have lost their lives just to keep from jeopardizing other drivers on the track.

"It's a gentleman's sport."

In the backstretch, Carter said he would stop talking for a moment so I could absorb the wonders of the track. I absorbed a 50-foot-wide expanse of asphalt, widening out at the turns and curving upward sharply on one side like an earthquaked highway . . . four long straightaways and two short ones, enclosing a gray-green infield full of immaculate white houses marked "ladies" and "men."

"We have 94 rest rooms," said Carter proudly. "Everyone can rest but the drivers."

Picking up speed again, the handsome ex-racer, who finished fourth in 1952's race and 11th last year, pointed out that contestants go around this giant circuit 200 times before the race is over and that most of them love every strenuous lap of it.

"It's not so much a quest for speed or thrills that makes guys go into it," he believes. "It usually starts out with a mechanical inclination—kid gets interested in the insides of a car, and then he wants to make the best car on the road.

"Then if he's got a good car, he's got to show what it can do. I'd say the basic ingredient of a good racer is a mechanical nature combined with a competitive spirit."

Although, Carter concedes, some of the younger racers today have entered without mechanical know-how. "Sometimes just the competitive part of it gets them—there's no sport more actively competitive than racing."

ALL HOGWASH

It's all hogwash about drivers considering it dangerous. Carter says, in spite of their famous superstitions (racers traditionally refuse to have pictures taken before a race, don't want their wives to wear pink, refuse to have peanuts or women in the garage area, etc.)

* * *

"That's not fear," says Carter. "That's just—well, that's just good sense. Women and peanuts don't belong in garages."

To prove he was afraid of nothin', Carter then drove me into the garage area, a "no-woman's land" visited before a race only by two women in history, Amelia Earhart and photographer Margaret Bourke-White who for some unexplained reason had special dispensation.

It was a clump of small white buildings, distinguishable from the "ladies" and "men" establishments because there were horseshoes tacked over most of the doors.

If it's so safe, why the horseshoes?

Use Creamy Dressing Atop Salad

Mrs. Deyo Blends Cottage Cheese With Mayonnaise

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Now that the holidays are over, you will be getting back to your regular schedule of clubs and informal card games. What to serve is always a bit of a problem. Please your feminine friends with a tuna fish and egg salad, topped with Cottage Cheese Dressing.

COTTAGE CHEESE DRESSING
By Mrs. Stanton L. Deyo

1 cup cream style cottage cheese
2 tablespoons mayonnaise
¼ teaspoon paprika
1 teaspoon worcestershire sauce
Salt and pepper to taste

Blend all ingredients together. Serve on tuna fish salad, accompanied by bleu cheese crackers. This recipe makes about 1 cupful.

If desired, you may substitute lemon juice for the worcestershire sauce and serve the dressing on fruit salad.

Paris Teen Idea: Scent-Cushions

PARIS (INS)—U.S. teenagers who want to smell pretty in a new way can copy a trick used by their Paris cousins.

Girls in Paris have a special perfume fashion which can be copied by anyone who can stitch a bit.

They make scent-bags the size of a match box—in imitation of a "gay nineties" fad in which dressmakers sewed perfumed cotton scent-bags into each dress.

Today's scent-bags are made of small bits of fabric or wide silk ribbon. You just sew a tiny square bag and, before stitching the fourth side, stuff it with perfumed cotton to make a miniature cushion.

Brotherly Love Wins Friendships

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Miriam is a nice girl. She has a good job, but isn't progressing nearly as fast as she could.

Although she's been in the job for three years, she has had only a minor raise and no real advancement in responsibility.

DIFFICULT PEOPLE

When I asked her how she accounted for it, she said, quite defiantly, "The people are so difficult, tempermental and hypocritical. I try to get along with them and handle them properly, but it never works."

Then she calmed down a little and when she spoke again, there was a new note in her voice.

"Like everyone else," she said sadly, "I kind of review my life, every New Year's Day. I try to decide what's wrong and what I'm doing that is keeping me from success. I've always known that it's the getting along-with-people department where I fall down.

"But what do you do about it? I've taken all kinds of courses in human relations and charm, but none of them seem to do any good. Some girls are so lucky. They just play it by ear and everybody likes them.

"What can be wrong with my technique?"

It seems to me that what's wrong with Miriam's technique is just simply the fact that it is a technique.

In this age of knowhow and formulas, we are apt to forget the basic truths. And the basic truth about human relationships lies in the word love.

In fact, the Bible is the best book in the world on the subject of getting along with people.

NO REAL STUDY

Miriam has been memorizing techniques, using slick, accepted bits of dialogue and giving compliments when indicated, but she's never taken the time to really study the people around her and to find what is good in them.

She has never studied their lives, their problems and the reasons why they are sometimes mean, temperamental or "bad."

If she would, she would find that most people are basically decent and behave badly only when they're frightened. She would get the feeling of brotherly love.

Once you have that feeling, it is unimportant what kind of dialogue you make or whether you compliment people or not. They sense that you value them as decent members of the human race and they value you in return.

My suggestion is that Miriam drop all the how-to books and start looking sympathetically at the people with whom she works.

ONE GOOD THING

If she looks hard enough, she'll find some single good thing about each one of them. And by contemplating that one good thing and ignoring the bad ones, she will find that people become, to her anyway, more good and less bad.

And in return, she will attract their friendship and their respect.

There are many reasons for doing this, speaking ethically and philosophically. But with Miriam, and many others, the immediate reason is that, without it, they will be miserable failures the rest of their lives!

AUTHORIZED DEALER BARRY'S SHOPS

Admire, Consult, Defer to and Exalt Lad!

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

"Dear Miss Woodward: When a person likes you, how can you show him privately that you care?"

Answer: When you like a boy who likes you, you're blissfully happy just to be with him. And when you're happy it shows. Your eyes sparkle, your voice lilts, you're ready to laugh and smile, you're an appreciative audience.

It's all generating warmth — a sure sign of your pleasure in his company. It speaks volumes about your affection for him. If you feel it isn't enough you can show in words that you care.

ADMIRE HIM OUT LOUD

Select one detail of him at a time and let him know that it has your complete approval. Remark with a purr of contentment while you're standing beside him that he's just the right height for you.

Chirp, while you outline it with your finger, that you like the way his hair grows at the temple. Join him in rollicking laughter, just because his laugh is so contagious—and tell him so.

Compliment him when he's particularly well-turned-out. Don't make big speeches — just slip your nice words into your ordinary conversation so that he'll know you're very much aware of him.

CONSULT HIM

Make him feel important to you as adviser and counselor. Tell him your secrets, dump your problems in his lap, ask for his advice — as though you greatly respect his point of view and his experience.

And keep the issues alive by reporting on your progress and asking what to do next. If his suggestions work, thank him for them and let him know that you appreciate his judgment.

DEFER TO HIM

Instead of battling to get your own way every time, give in gracefully. You want him to be happy when he's with you, so don't boss him around. Ask him what he wants to do. Make no plans for the two of you without consulting him.

If you disagree on details, give your angle quietly and calmly, but show a willingness to compromise. This is playing up to his masculine ego and giving him the confidence of knowing that you think he's the boss.

EXALT HIM

In outspoken and in subtle ways tell him that he's wonderful. Applaud enthusiastically all of his achievements encourage him when he fails or is moody or blue.

Show a real concern for his activities and accomplishments. Mourn with him, rejoice with him; let him feel that what happens to him happens to you, too.

All of this you could demonstrate to any boy who is a very good friend of yours. But you might have to top it off with those three little words for a special boy, after all.

Still tailoring tends to emphasize signs of age. The softness of fur in slim (but not severe) lines is flattering.

The softness of fur near the face is very flattering and particularly the big collar on the narrow coat silhouette. Gray fur is wonderful with gray hair and the crushy velvet beret will surely bring compliments to the after-forty-age.

Usual Pink, Blue, Ousted From Nursery Colors

Arbiters of fashion in home decoration appear to have decreed the gradual extinction of traditional pink and blue as "musts" for the nursery.

Sophisticated hues keynoted a 1955 presentation of modern children's room settings as staged by the Fashion Group, an organization of New York fashion industry dignitaries.

The youngsters are all for the change, so far as could be determined by fashion writers in a public opinion survey of small fry attending the exhibit.

Young visitors applauded the adult approach toward color, and they agreed it was high time their own rooms looked more like those of their elders.

Among the new ideas presented by the Fashion Group, which directly and indirectly exerts a powerful influence on American fashion trends, was a sample room in turquoise, white and black. The youngsters loved it.

DRAPERY STYLES

Styles in draperies and bedspreads being offered by manufacturers for children's rooms echo the sophisticated treatment.

Conversely, adult decorative schemes are beginning to borrow from the children. Clean bonbon colors—including good old pink and blue—are showing up as the last word in gay bedroom decor for elders in a merry mood.

Some new bedroom settings provide a quaint and quilted look with floral printed cotton bedspreads in harmony with bright blue dust ruffles, often as not combined with more blue in the curtains.

"No question about it," exclaims a veteran fashion editor, "blue is making its debut as the decorating color of the future."

But as for children's blue, the indications are that it's had it—at least for children.

Bulky Coats Offer Foils for Sheaths

PARIS (INS) — Some Paris fashion designers have decided to make women look as warmly bundled up as Eskimos in midwinter.

Possibly as a reaction against the mode of sheath dresses, bulky coats of fox, lynx and even swan's down are striking a new fashion note in Paris. On ribby women wearing sheath dresses, those "jumbo-coats" look stunning by contrast.

Genevieve Fath has designed a jumbo-coat luscious in material and bulky in looks. It's of three-quarter length and made of natural mutation blue fox.

It has a huge wide collar and is fastened by three large pompons of fluffy fur instead of buttons. It makes a woman look and feel as snug as a bug in a rug.

One of the bulkiest yet lightest coats in Paris is Hubert de Givenchy's creation made of real white swan's down. This stunning garment weighs only 1½ pounds and makes a girl look like a super-size powder puff.

Of street-length, this coat has no collar but a high neckline and is double breasted with white buttons.

Lynx fur in its light natural color is also very popular now in Paris. A coat of this long-haired fur has the fashionable bulkiness and looks very dressy worn over a black sheath-dress for contrast.

Hubby Says Wife Acted Unfriendly

Refused Invitation Into Home, Stayed in Car Instead

By EMILY POST

A letter tells me: "Last week my husband offered to help a friend and his wife who were moving, by taking some of the things in his car. After he picked up the things to be moved he stopped for me and I went with him to the new house, as we were going to my mother's house afterwards.

"These people were complete strangers to me and so I did not go into the house but waited in the car for my husband. Shortly thereafter, the wife came out and asked me to come into the house.

"I said 'no, thank you' . . . I would wait outside. I didn't think they would appreciate a stranger standing around in the way while they were trying to get things in order.

"My husband thinks I was very unfriendly and rude not to have gone into the house. I would appreciate your opinion on this matter."

Answer: If her request to come in was welcoming, then it was rude not to have done so. But if she said it in a perfunctory tone of voice, it would not have been rude to explain that you didn't want to interrupt their work and that you'd love to come some time when she could show you the house.

"Dear Mrs. Post: May I send flowers to a man who is making his concert debut? Flowers do not seem quite proper to send a man, but if not flowers, what then? I would like it to be something more personal than a telegram."

Answer: You can send a basket of flowers if you'd like to, or you could send him something personal such as cuff links, or an attractive address book, or a silver pencil, etc.

"Dear Mrs. Post: How can I show a young man I like very much that I also like a man to look well groomed? There is nothing a girl likes less than being told that someone she cares for is sloppy He is very kind, intelligent and a perfect gentleman except in his carelessness of dress.

Answer: I don't know, unless by persistently praising the smartness of men who are neat you can make him gradually aware of his own shortcomings.

WHAT FOR '56?

How will your hair look this year? Will it be shining, manageable, easily brushed into place, and yet smartly styled? The first step toward a lovely hairdo is clean, healthy hair, which all can have. In nearly every case, damaged hair is the result of external causes. It is not brought about by poor health. Hair is only alive at the root. We prove this each time we get a haircut. The hairshaft is formed in the root, and pushed out from the scalp by new cells formed in the root. The hairshaft you have today was made in the root several months ago. And the cold you had last week could have no effect on it. Only a very prolonged illness which effected the nutritional supply to the scalp could noticeably change the quality of the hair. Next week we will discuss some external causes which can damage the hairshaft.

Hal Boyle Says:

Is He Breathing? Will He Wed? Grab Him!

There never really are enough good men to go around. This year there aren't enough men of any kind.

An expert has estimated there are now 20 million women eligible for marriage in the United States, but only 17 million men.

What do these figures mean? Let's face it, ladies. They add up to a disheartening fact—demand exceeds supply. Competition will be keener than ever. It is, for once, truly a man's world—at least for single men. The rascals have a real edge. To win them you will have to woo them harder than ever

To catch a man this Leap Year a girl may have to do more than leap She may also have to hop, skip, gallop, go at a dead run, throw a lasso—or even learn to use an insect net to imprison the butterfly male of her choice.

This brings up the primary problem. Who will be the man of her choice? Many a big game hunter who goes out after bear returns home with a rabbit and, if he is a philosopher, tries to be contented. After all, he has had the thrill of the chase—and he did bag something.

A common-sense girl will seek to follow this same philosophy. When it comes to husband hunting in 1956, this must be the year of "the great feminine compromise." The crop of potential husbands is not only small in quantity. It also leaves much to be asked for in terms of quality.

The depressing truth is that the present lot of bachelors is about the most worthless, self-centered bunch of responsibility dodgers in history. All they do is eat off their married friends, refuse to help with the dishes, and then go home and watch television.

(Editor's note: The real truth is that Boyle is envious of all bachelors.)

(Boyle's note: And so are you!)

In this situation, therefore, the wise girl will adjust herself to the conditions of the chase. She may go out loaded for bear, but she won't reject a lonesome rabbit. Only a foolish girl will tell a fellow in February, "I wouldn't marry you if you were the last man in the world." By December he may indeed be the last man in the world available, so far as she can find.

Naturally every average girl dreams of marrying a tall, dark, and handsome millionaire. But in the matrimonial sweepstakes this kind of target is a rarity.

For one thing, few millionaires are tall, dark and handsome. For another thing, most millionaires are already married—or already paying alimony to two ex-wives and unwilling to grubstake a third. And finally, the last person the average millionaire wants to marry is an average girl. (If he marries an average girl, he does it before he is a millionaire.)

Is there no hope for the average girl, then? Of course, there is. Her natural target is the average guy.

How can she find him? Very simple.

She should walk up to the first single man she can discover, and listen closely. Is he breathing? Good. He has passed the first test with flying colors.

The next test is whether he has character. To women there is only one genuine sign of character in a man, and that is—will he marry? It doesn't take long to find this out. Any man will marry if he isn't unalterably dedicated to wine, horses, gin rummy, or his own mother.

Sister, if you find a guy who breathes and has character, go ahead and put your brand on him. He may look like a nightmare but that is every woman's lifelong wifely challenge—to take a male mouse and turn him into the great big man of her schemes.

MARQUETTE (UP)—His busy season on a "lonely" lighthouse finished, Louis Wilks is looking forward to a quiet winter.

As for that time-worn belief that the life of a lighthouse keeper is a lonely one, Wilks says there's nothing to it.

Wilks is keeper at the Standard Lighthouse, most isolated man-made light station in the United States. It stands 45 miles northeast of Marquette, a concrete and steel tower rising from the Lake Superior bedrock.

A veteran of 38 years in the U.S. Lighthouse Service, Wilks has served at this outpost for 20 years. He heads a three-man crew responsible for servicing and maintaining the equipment that guides lake freighters along shipping lanes.

CRAMMED WITH DEVICES

Standard is crammed with equipment that demands fulltime maintenance chores. It includes two 110-volt generators, four gasoline engines, two air compressors, one boiler, there pumps, 58 batteries with specific gravity meters, one main second-order light, a set of celonnoid valves, two electric sound signal timers, and an inboard motor powerboat.

During the shiping season—which lasted from April 24 to Dec. 6 this year—the crew keeps vital signal equipment in working order.

In their spare time—if any—the men read, fish and play cards. Each crewman usually spends 21 days on the "Rock" and one week on shore leave. Sometimes, though, storms make it impossible to reach the mainland.

month. Not only do the worst storms come then, but it's when all equipment must be checked and repaired to be ready for operation when the station reopens.

He says the worst storm at the station was on Thanksgiving 1941. The smoke stack was buckled by high winds, leaving the station without heat for 36 hours in freezing cold. Giant waves smashed the heavy plate glass kitchen window 40 feet above the normal water line.

Wilks is proud of his crew's 1937 commendation from the commanding officers of Fort Snelling, Minn. It was awarded in the rescue of a U.S. Navy seaplane and its two-man crew after a forced landing half a mile from the lighthouse.

The lighthouse boat towed the plane to "the rock" then the station crew filled the tank with gasoline, added a quart of ether to step up the power, tied a rope to the tail to secure the plane while the engine was "revved" up, then detached the rope and saw the plane take off safely.

Weapons Count Facing Suspect

Witnesses Still Lacking in 28-Year-Old Murder; Trial Opens Today

A suspect in a 28-year-old Pontiac murder case goes to trial in Chicago today, with Pontiac Police, possibly hampered by uncooperative witnesses, as yet unable to uncover enough evidence to extradite him to Michigan.

The suspect, known to Pontiac Police as Charlie Johnson and to friends here as Willie Banks, was charged by Chicago Police with carrying a concealed weapon, after his arrest in a gambling raid Dec. 12.

If sentenced, he may draw a jail term, which will give detectives here more time to dig up evidence before the 71-year-old man, a self-professed gambler, has a chance to "disappear" again.

But Assistant Prosecutor George B. Taylor said yesterday that so far not "one iota" of evidence has been found to convict the man of the baseball bat slaying of James Blair during a poker game here Oct. 30, 1927.

Police believe that one of the players could testify as an eyewitness. But either all are dead or won't admit holding a hand in the fatal game. "And that's the trouble," Taylor explained.

Det. Sgt. Allen D. Noble, who questioned witnesses, summed up the problem this way:

"Twenty-eight years is along time to remember, even for those who are honest. It is by far too long for those who do not want to cooperate and see justice done."

Admits Drunk Driving

Pleading guilty yesterday to a charge of driving under the influence of liquor, Benjamin Davenport, 41, of 210 Prospect St., was fined $100 by Municipal Judge Maurice E. Finnegan.

McNerney Fined $50

Charged with reckless driving, Harold F. McNerney, 23, of 1530 Taylor Rd., pleaded guilty yesterday. Municipal Judge Maurice E. Finnegan fined him $50.

A newborn bear cub averages eight to nine inches in length and weighs about 12 to 15 ounces.

I BELIEVE THAT O-JIB-WA BITTERS WILL HELP YOUR ARTHRITIS

MR. EDWARD MAJEWSKI, 5238 ELMWOOD, DETROIT 11, MICHIGAN, SAYS, "I was told that my only hope of getting rid of my arthritis was to pack up and move to Arizona, but as a last resort, I tried O-JIB-WA, and now can't praise this wonderful medicine enough."

"It was about three years ago that I first started to suffer from arthritis pains in my right arm. The pain would wake me 3 or 4 times during the night, and I had to flex the muscles in my arm, and open and close my fist for awhile until the pains would leave. If I didn't do this, then my arm would stiffen up so that I couldn't use it. Is was awfully painful, and felt just like my arm was clamped in a vise. The flesh felt as hard as concrete. I tried many things seeking relief, but was told by some that my best bet may be the warm climate of Arizona. Frankly, I just couldn't afford to pack up and go there. Then last February, I saw an ad for O-JIB-WA BITTERS in the newspaper and decided to try it. Believe me, that was the best investment I ever made. In only a week, the pains started leaving and I could sleep without being awakened by those terrible pains. About two months after starting on this great medicine, the pains were entirely gone. O-JIB-WA helped me in other ways too. I used to feel tired and run down, with just not enough pep and ambition for anything, but now it takes quite a bit to tire me out. This year I am going deer hunting with a 60 pound pull bow and arrow. This would have been impossible if it wasn't for O-JIB-WA BITTERS. I even have my wife taking it now. She used to wake up crying because of the pain in her shoulder. It has helped her already and she has only been taking it a week. I wish that I could get a microphone in my hand and tell everyone in Michigan about this wonderful product. There is no doubt in my mind that O-JIB-WA BITTERS is the best all around medicine of its kind ever made."

Eight City Police Recruits Starting Detroit Training

Eight new recruits to the Pontiac Police force started training yesterday at the Detroit Police Academy, Police Chief Herbert W. Straley announced.

He said the eight will spend 12 weeks at the school, gaining intensified training in police work.

Straley pointed out that the newest recruits will spend four more weeks in school than the last group of six Pontiac Police recruits, who graduated about a month ago and since have had regular assignment with the Uniform Patrol Bureau.

"The city, its police force and the recruits themselves will all gain from this extra training," Straley said.

Starting school yesterday were: Robert W. Beltz, 751 First Ave.; Raymond V. Solwold, 3181 Donley St., Auburn Heights; Harold E. Risner, 341 Whittmore St.; William W. Nightingale, 263 Norton Ave.

2 Minors Plead Guilty

Two minors pleaded guilty to charges of illegal possession of beer and were sentenced by Municipal Judge Maurice E. Finnegan Saturday.

Manuel Garcia Jr., 20, a soldier stationed at Fort Bragg, N. C., was placed on 30 days probation. His companion, Richard T. Armstrong, 18, of Rochester, was fined $10.

Dingell Takes Seat as Congress Opens

WASHINGTON (AP)—John D. Dingell Jr. was sworn in yesterday as a representative in Congress from the Dettroit district his late father represented for 22 years.

Like his father, who died in September at the age of 61, young Dingell is a Democrat. Now 29, he was six years old when his father first entered Congress.

House Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex) administered the oath as the young man's mother, Mrs. John D. Dingell Sr., watched from the gallery. Rep. Rabaut (D-Mich) escorted the new congressman down the aisle.

2 Flint Men Jailed, Fined for Beating Man

Two Flint men were jailed 20 days after sentencing on charges of assault and battery Saturday.

Edward A. Estep, 23, and Carl J. Hough, 28, were also fined $100 apiece by Municipal Judge Cecil McCallum.

TV Cavalcade to Feature Jimmy McHugh's Songs

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — A very nice New Year's gift for Jimmy McHugh is Hal Roach's deal with him to put all the McHugh songs into a TV cavalcade to be called "It's a Most Unusual Day."

Fred MacMurray already has been signed, and Jimmy, himself, will appear in it.

An interesting thing about Fred's appearance is that Claude Binyon, who wrote one of Fred's first pictures, "The Gilded Lily," is the director and writer. Claude has a lot of big successes to his credit.

The premise he has worked out is good, I think. He will show a married couple who go back through the years and play each of the McHugh tunes, illustrating what effect they had on their lives. The starting date is right away.

OFF-BEAT CASTING

Cary Grant — as a middle-aged playwright who can write only about teenagers much to the distress of his wife who dislikes looking back to youth — seems to me to be the most off-beat casting of the year.

Yet this is the deal Charles Feldman has just tied together for "Lot's Wife," the European hit.

This is on Cary's schedule immediately following the movie he'll make in Spain with Frank Sinatra, "The Pride and the Passion."

Don't say I told you, on account of it's a secret, but Claire Bloom, the British actress, is the hottest contender for the role of "Marjorie Morningstar."

Accompanied by Herman Wouk, the author, Milton Sperling goes to England to see the Bloom girl, who is in a play there.

Milton, who has had nothing but praise for his great picture, "The Court Martial of Billy Mitchell," is having a rewrite job done on the J. P. Marquand story, "Melville Goodwin, USA." He has Charlie Lederer doing a polish job, which should make it okay for Humphrey Bogart and Lauren Bacall.

COLE PORTER AILING

I hear from the East that Cole Porter has been ailing, but he's going to try to make it to Hollywood a couple of days in the next week to be on hand for the start of "High Society," the first film in 10 years for which he's written the score.

Incidentally, both Frank Sinatra and Bing Crosby will sing love songs to Grace Kelly, but there is still a big question at MGM as to whether Grace will sing, although she's been taking lessons.

Frank will sing "You're Sentimental," and Bing will sing "I Love You, Samantha," which is the name of the character Grace portrays.

Nancy Gates, who was heartbroken when her father died on a plane on his way back to Texas after spending the holidays with her, has something to make her happy. She's been signed for the ingenue lead in "Death of a Scoundrel."

Ambulance Crash Injures 2 Persons

A woman passenger and a funeral home worker were injured Monday afternoon when a hospital bound ambulance collided with a towing truck at Perry and Mt. Clemens Sts.

Mrs. Rassie Turner, 42, of Ecorse, and Lewis E. Wint, 21, of 268 N. Perry St., were released after treatment in Pontiac General Hospital.

Driver of the wrecker, John S. Blaney, told Pontiac Police that he didn't see or hear the ambulance coming when he entered the intersection. Morgan E. Siple Jr., reported that he couldn't slow down fast enough to avoid the collision.

The two, plus Mrs. Turner's daughter, who had been injured slightly in a previous accident, continued to the hospital in another ambulance.

Plan of Virginia Sees Opposition

Constitutional Changes to Halt Integration May Ruin Public Schools

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—The fate of Virginia's carefully planned initial step toward avoiding compulsory integration in its public schools appeared today to turn on questions overshadowing, in many minds, those of race.

The proposed step is removal of a constitutional barrier to the use of public funds for a child's public schooling—a key recommendation of the Governor's Commission on Public Education.

In a statewide referendum next Monday, Virginians will decide whether a limited convention shall be held to amend the state constitution for this purpose.

ELIGIBLE FOR AID

Should the amendment be made, parents who choose not to send their children to integrated schools would become eligible for state aid in financing the education of the children in private, nonsectarian schools.

Opposition to the amendment has developed on many fronts, including some labor, civic, ministerial and church groups. The opponents, largely ignoring the racial issues, hammer away on the theme that the amendment would threaten the state's public school system.

Spearheading the campaign against the amendment is a group organized as the Virginia Society for the Preservation of Public Schools. Its spokesmen describe it as neither segregationist nor integrationist.

Daughter, 17, Asks to Be 'Emancipated'

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Ione Turner, 17, wants to be "emancipated" from her father. She says he's "cruel and abusive."

Miss Turner, who came to live with her father four months ago, asked yesterday in Superior Court for $500 a month support.

The father, cafe owner Joseph Norman Turner, 47, denied he mistreated her or asked her to leave his Sierra Madre home.

Both Turner and his daughter said he gave her a $100-a-month allowance. She said a great deal of it went back to her father in fines.

"He fined me for anything he thought I'd done wrong," she testified. "If I didn't finish all the food from my plate it was $1. If I left all the burners going on the gas range it was $5 or $10. If I didn't brush the swimming pool properly it was $10."

Leo Durocher Is Really Robbed This Time, of $50

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Leo (Lippy) Durocher, former manager of the New York Giants, isn't kidding these days when he says: "I was robbed."

He was closing the garage door at his Beverly Hills home last night when a voice said:

"Don't move."

Leo turned his head just enough to see a man holding a pistol. Then Lippy did a rare thing.

"I said nothing. I was too scared to talk," he said. "The gunman said, 'Give me your money'. I gave him $20, all I had on me. If I had had $1,500 I'd have given him that."

Durocher, now a $50,000-a-year NBC executive, said his wife, actress Laurine Day, was asleep in the house.

NEW YORK—What burns me up about modern music is that I'm not writing any of it.

★ ★ ★ ★

But I have to admire a couple of University of Florida pre-law students, Wade Buff and Gene Adkinson, each 21, who'll make around $50,000 with their three-year-old tune, "It's Always Tomorrow," which they practically wrote on the telephone to show some coeds they could do it.

DREAM WEAVERS

They and Eddie Newsom, 19, a bass player, and Lee Turner a pianist, also 19—comprising "The Dream Weavers" — were just on Ed Sullivan's TV show before starting a night club career.

Adkinson made up a melody — didn't know enough about Tin Pan Alley to steal one — and hummed it on the phone to Buff who was going hunting in the Everglades.

"I wrote the words on the back of a swamp buggy," he said.

They played it on a little late-night radio show on the university station. "We got a lot of fan mail—six cards in one week," said Buff. "That's a lot of fan mail in Gainesville.

"We decided to make 350 records to sell to the kids at school and figured we could make $100 at least."

A coed, Mary Carr, sent word to Cleveland disc jockey Jack Randall that a "local girl" had made a record and asked him to play it.

She didn't precisely explain that she was merely one of three girls singing the background music.

They sent it to some big publishers who said, "This song is crazy. The title doesn't come in till 16 bars after the opening."

★ ★ ★ ★

Finally after 3 years the song began "making noise," Decca re-recorded it, signed the boys up as writers and artists, and it's sold over a half million and is guaranteed by their manager, Budd Granoff, to become No. 1. They've quit school and are writing more songs.

"We're not like Rodgers and Hammerstein," the boys say. "If we can't write a song in 15 minutes, we throw the idea away."

"Where are your arrangements?" they were asked when preparing for the Sullivan show.

Michigan Apple Crop Tops '54 Record Yield

LANSING (AP)—Michigan's 1955 apple crop of 6,400,000 bushels was seven per cent above that of last year, the federal-state crop reporting service said today.

Production was eight per cent below the 1944-53 average, however, the service said.

The service said most varieties blossomed earlier than usual because of above average temperatures in the spring. The May 9th freeze caught most fruit in a critical state of development.

Many growers reported a heavy drop of Jonathons in the southwestern counties and of McIntosh in the central areas.

Probers Ask How Military Uses U.S. Land Holdings

WASHINGTON (AP) — A congressional spotlight will be focused today on extensive land holdings of the Defense Department.

The House Committee on Interior and Insular Affairs wants to know how the military agencies are using the millions of acres they now have and why they want to take millions more out of the public domain.

Chairman Engle (D-Calif) said a two-day hearing, today and tomorrow will be limited largely to assembling statistical information on defense holdings for land and water utilization by states and the purpose and extent of use.

The chairman informed Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson in advance of the hearing that particular emphasis will be placed on the role of top defense officials in setting policies for the acquisition of land and water areas for defense purposes in the continental United States, the territories and possessions.

Engle said the military agencies already hold land enough in the United States to make a strip 11 miles wide from New York to San Francisco. He said that applications are pending with the Interior Department for military withdrawal of an additional four million acres of public domain, enough to widen the cross-country strip to 14 miles.

Two of the largest proposed withdrawals are in the Death Valley area of California and the Fallon Gunnery Range in Nevada.

Areas stripped of topsoil by flood are known as scablands.

WALKER IN HAWAII — Doak Walker, star halfback of the Detroit Lions, his wife and four-year-old daughter, Laurie, pose in Hawaii after their arrival where Walker will appear in the annual Hula Bowl game Jan. 8. The former Southern Methodist University All American will join a group of outstanding pro gridders opposing a talented array of college players in the annual classic.

Cassady Chosen "Athlete of 1955"

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A freckle-faced redhead who thought he was too small for big-time college football today was named the nation's top male athlete of 1955.

He's Howard (Hopalong) Cassady, who came to Ohio State University four years ago a scrawny 150-pounder and grew into one of the greatest gridiron giants of our time.

The kid who "always dreamed of playing in that big stadium" ran away from the other contenders for the honors with the same, clear-cut effectiveness as he did enemy players in his four years at Ohio State.

Cassady piled up 257 points in The Associated Press year - end poll, nearly 100 more than his nearest rival, heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano. The 179 sports writers and broadcasters who took part in the poll gave Hopalong 53 first place votes, 37 second and 24 third. The Rock had 35 firsts, 16 seconds and 24 thirds for 161 points on the 3-2-1 scoring basis.

The scintillating halfback, who consistently came up with the "big play" when it was needed most, picked Ohio State over dozens of other schools and enrolled there in the spring of 1952. He was eligible for varsity football that autumn and the season was only a few minutes old when Hoppy got a chance to prove himself. He did it with three touchdowns and sparkling all-around play in a lopsided win over Indiana.

From that day on, OSU foes were trying to devise ways to stop this guy with the number 40 on his jersey.

Sparkplug of winning Buckeye teams his first two seasons, Hoppy and the Bucks rode to fame in his junior and senior years. In 1954, Ohio State won the Big 10, national and Rose Bowl championships and Cassady gained All-America recognition.

Coaches and writers have heaped lavish praise upon him. But most of them agreed the 5-10, 175-pound senior had his greatest year in 1955. In every game he was a marked man. Ohio State had no passing attack and everyone knew it. All the other teams had to do was "stop Hop."

But in 9 games, he rushed 161 times, gained 984 yards and lost 26 for a 5.9 average. He scored 14 touchdowns rushing and another on a 37-yard punt return for a total of 90 points. In four years, he scored 222 points on 37 touchdowns to break the school record of 201 set by another All-America halfback, Chic Harley.

The Buckeyes weren't eligible for another Rose Bowl trip, but a 17-0 win over Michigan gave them the Big 10 crown for the second straight year. They won 7 of 9 games after a 10-0 record the year before.

Married and the father of a 2-year-old son, Cassady is an All-America performer both on and off the field. He's faithful about attending classes and comes out with better than average grades. One high OSU official said this of Cassady: "Probably no one in the history of our university has had so much favorable publicity. Through all of this, Howard's first consideration has been for his teammates, coaches and university officials. His only fault is that he tries too hard to keep from letting other people down."

Cassady graduates in June and probably will get in a year of pro football with the Detroit Lions before doing a hitch in the service. The Lions picked him up in the draft as their first choice.

He turned down several offers to play in post-season games that would have made him a professional. Hoppy has a season of baseball ahead of him and there's a possibility of a pro baseball career. An outfielder, Cassady hit over .300 last season and is strong-armed and fleet-footed.

Hopalong leans toward a football career and hopes someday to coach. There have been attractive offers from Canadian football clubs and business opportunities in Columbus.

PHS Resumes Valley Play

With two straight wins (in 1955) over an always unpredictable Bay City Central five, Pontiac High School basketball Chiefs Friday night will shoot for their 3rd victory, on the home floor. They also seek their 2nd Valley win as they resume play in the league title race.

Central comes here with an overall record of two wins and a single loss. Pontiac has won three, lost one (1-1 in Valley).

Coach Art Paddy's club is a veteran aggregation, with three regulars from the 1954-55 team still going, along with several others up from the reserves. The lettermen are paced by all-state football back, Jim Chesney. Johnny Krafft and Harold Bush are others.

Currently, Wolves occupy the Saginaw Valley cellar spot.

Art Van Ryzin's club is in contention for the top bracket, just back of Flint Central and Flint Northern. A stunning loss, 80-58, at Flint Central toppled the PHS squad from unbeaten ranks, Pontiac, however, trampled the new Edsel Ford club in its last outing, before the holidays, 67-47.

Friday's Valley test here will be one of three league games.

Northern and Central will collide in their big "city series" in Flint's IMA to highlight the weekend action. Winner will take over the SVC lead. Neither has suffered a loss so far in loop play.

In last year's engagements with the Wolves, PHS took the first game, 32-26 and came back in the second round with a 60-43 victory here.

Of the squad that came through then, Van Ryzin has only Rod Treais and Dave Diehm left. Paddy has his high scorer, Chesney, who hit 14 points in the final game, plus Charley Crampton and Karl Proffer, Krafft and Bush.

Paddy's starters will include Proffer and Krafft or Crampton, forwards; Bush at center; Chesney and either Crampton or Krafft at guard. "I'm not yet sure just who will be my starters," Paddy said today.

For this third Valley test, Van Ryzin probably will start his "original" five, Willie Dewalt and Rod Treais at forwards; either Hud Ray or big Jim Skinner at center, and Dave Diehm and Larry Peet at guards.

Little Wolves, unbeaten so far face the PHS reserves in the opener at 6:30 p.m. Paddy's reserves have won three straight.

Shamrocks Trip Favored St. Benedict

By BILL CORNWELL

St. Michael successfully opened defense of its Suburban Catholic League basketball championship Tuesday night at Highland Park by upending favored St. Benedict, 41-37.

Art Massucci's Bens, boasting the return of last season's entire quintet which finished 2nd in the SCL race, were the pre-season choice for the crown.

But the Mikes, going on the old adage that you can't bet against the champion, proved they are still very much in contention.

Forward John Keller, Bob Mineweaser's only holdover from the 1954-55 title-winning squad, showed the way last night as he meshed 10 field goals and eight free throws for 28 points. Guard Dan Dropps collected 10 points and Chuck Brown added three to account for the remainder of St. Michael's scoring.

St. Benedict, winner over Orchard Lake St. Mary in its lone previous SCL game, started out as though it was going to bury the visiting Shamrocks.

The Bens netted their 1st five attempts from the floor and leaped off to an early 15-4 lead, but the Mikes whittled away at the deficit, reducing it to 15-11 entering the 2nd quarter.

Early in the 2nd period the Shamrocks captured the advantage and never relinquished it. They outscored the Bens, 13-4, in the 2nd stanza, with Keller scoring 11 points. Their largest margin was seven points and once in the last quarter their lead was cut to one by the rallying Bens.

Although outshot in field goals 16-14, the Shamrocks made victory pay off at the foul line as they collected 13 charity tosses in 23 tries while the losers were hitting on only five out of 19. Forward Don Philion paced St. Benedict with 16 points.

St. Mike's reserves took it on the chin in the preliminary, bowing to the Bens by the decisive count of 41-18.

Ben May Play in Los Angeles Tuneup for Rich Open Test

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The nation's leading golfers get a final tuneup and a chance at pocket money when they compete in the pro-amateur celebrity event tomorrow as a prelude to the rich Los Angeles Open.

Prize money for the pro-amateur one-day event is $2,500 and among those slated to compete is Ben Hogan.

Clarkston Still Atop Cage Loop

Aussie Net Star Will Not Compete in U.S. Matches

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — Lew Hoad, who only a month ago rejected a fat offer to turn professional, today announced that he wouldn't compete in the U.S. national tennis championships this summer.

"They do not give visiting private players too much help financially in America," he complained.

Actually, Hoad, one of Australia's Davis Cup stalwarts, does not have the permission of the Lawn Tennis Assn. of Australia to make a projected tour yet.

Akins Scores TKO Over Bent in 5th

HOLYOKE, Mass. (AP) — Making his first New England appearance, Virgil Akins, 149, of St. Louis, scored a technical knockout over Rudolph Bent, 148½, British Honduras, welterweight champ, in the fifth round of a scheduled 10-round boxing bout at the Valley Arena last night.

Akins floored Bent three times in the fifth before the fight was stopped at 2:54.

International Loop Board Votes in Favor of Miami

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Miami will replace Syracuse when the International Baseball League opens its 154-game schedule April 18.

This rapidly-growing resort city was officially voted into the far-flung Triple-A circuit at a board of directors meeting here yesterday.

The league unanimously endorsed the proposal of Sid Salomon Jr., St. Louis insurance executive, to transfer the Syracuse franchise to Miami after Salomon received a verbal agreement from the City Commission on the club's use of Miami Stadium.

Salomon and his associates, Bill Veeck, former president of the Cleveland Indians, and Elliott Stein, St. Louis investment banker, bought the franchise from Martin Haske for a reported $100,000.

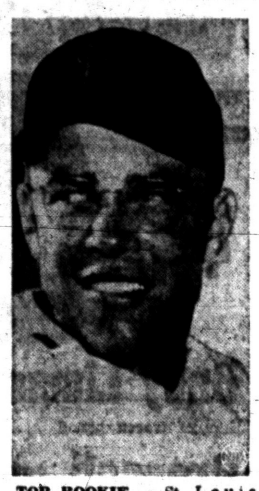
The ultimate goal is to get Miami into the major leagues, Salomon said, and he hopes that possibility will materialize in four to five years.

Members of the league gave Miami a solid endorsement because they feel it will give Triple-A baseball solid support and because it will break up the long trip the teams must make from Richmond, the southernmost U.S. member, to Havana.

President Roberto Maduro of the Havana club predicted that Miami would draw 400,000 customers in its first season in the league.



TOP ROOKIE — St. Louis Cards' outfielder, Bill Virdon, is the Baseball Writers Association's choice as the National League's outstanding rookie of '55. Virdon batted .281, hit 17 homers, six triples and 18 doubles for 231 total bases. He drove in 68 runs.

City Basketball Resumes Tonight

Pontiac's city league basketball campaign resumes tonight at Pontiac High and Lincoln Junior gymnasiums after a two-week layoff for the holidays. Four games are scheduled.

In adult action at PHS, Stadium Inn meets Stone Front at 7 o'clock and the Keego Merchants battle the Lakeside Royals in the 8:30 windup. Both are American League contests.

Two Class D scraps are on tap at Lincoln. The Blue Devils face Pulver Tire in a National division game at 7 and Oliver Buick plays the Lakesiders in the American loop at 8:30.

Houston Gets Fight

HOUSTON (AP)—Paul Jorgensen of Houston, Texas, featherweight champion, and Lauro Salas of Monterrey, Mexico, former world's lightweight champion, will meet in a 10-round match here Jan. 17.

NL Rookie King Instructor for Diamond School

Bill Virdon to Teach Hitting, How to Run Base-Paths

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Bill Virdon, National League rookie of 1955, will be chief instructor at a baseball school opening here tomorrow.

The 24-year-old St. Louis Cardinal outfielder will teach batting and baserunning to all candidates and also will instruct in outfield play. The school, managed by Lou Haneles, formerly was operated in Auburndale.

Virdon said he expected his work at the school to help get him in shape for the opening of the spring training season.

Lapeer Wins 5th Straight

Lapeer started the New Year off on the right foot by winning its 5th straight victory of the season in as many games. Coach Burt Jackson's quintet downed Davison 70-50 on the road last night, with high scoring Tom Wilson setting a school record with 31 points.

Wilson bucketed 13 field goals and 5 free throws to lead Lapeer to an easy win.

The winners took a 17-9 lead after the first period and were never headed.

Names Studied for Eagle Post

Davore, Lewis Listed as Top Prospects for Philadelphia Job

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The top choices for the vacant Philadelphia Eagles head coaching job are Hugh Devore of Dayton and Art Lewis of West Virginia, it was learned yesterday.

Lewis, 44, coached at Washington & Lee, Mississippi State, Ohio U. and with the old Los Angeles Rams of the NFL.

Former Open Champs to Play in Seniors

DUNEDIN, Fla. (AP)—Five former U.S. Open golf champions will compete in the 17th annual PGA Seniors championship here Jan. 27-29.

They are Gene Sarazen, runner-up last year in this tournament to Mortie Dutra; Craig Wood, making his first appearance as a senior; Fred McLeod, Billy Burke and Olin Dutra.

Last year 176 players competed for the championship, for PGA members at least 50 years old.

Jubilant MSU Team Lansing Bound Today

Two Spartans Head for Hawaii to Play in Hula Bowl Sunday

PASADENA, Calif., Jan. 4 (AP)—Still jubilant over victory in the Rose Bowl over UCLA, the Michigan State football squad leaves for East Lansing by chartered plane today.

Two of the four married players on the squad, fullback Gerry Planutis and tackle Norm Masters, will be missing from the flight. They are in Honolulu to play in the Hula Bowl Jan. 8.

The pair flew to Hawaii on the same plane with four UCLA players, fullback Bob Davenport, halfback Sam Brown, end Rommie Loudd and guard Hardiman Cureton.

Duffy Daugherty, coach of MSU, headed for a few days' rest with Mrs. Daugherty at Palm Springs and will return here later in the week for the American Football Coaches Assn. convention. He has already been named Coach of the Year by the Scripps-Howard newspapers.

The MSU players were "on their own" yesterday. Some visited friends, went sightseeing and some "just slept late" after their 17-14 victory in the bowl Monday.

Oklahoma placed six of its players on the Associated Press All-Big Seven first team for the 1955 season.

Maryland Moves to Retain Jim Tatum

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Maryland moved today to retain Jim Tatum as head football coach and athletic director but gave him permission to discuss an offer with officials at the University of North Carolina.

"We have told Mr. Tatum if he wanted security we could have the coaching position put on permanent tenure just like a professor," said Dr. Wilson H. Elkins, Maryland president.

* * *

Dr. Elkins explained that permanent tenure would mean Tatum would have to agree to certain Maryland policies and if his personal conduct was satisfactory, he would remain at Maryland as long as he desired.

"The position would not depend on his winning or losing but on his personal conduct," said Dr. Elkins. "It would not be a lifetime contract but would give him a lot more security."

The Maryland president said he had made Tatum no other offer or agreement and pointed out that he can only recommend to the Board of Regents, but his recommendations are given serious consideration.

Tatum asked and obtained permission to discuss the North Carolina offer with officials there and is expected to confer at Chapel Hill on Friday.

Tatum said he was happy at Maryland but since his alma mater, North Carolina, made an offer, he asked and received permission to go to Chapel Hill to "talk it over."

Tatum, 42, has been at Maryland nine years. During that time the Terrapins have won 73, lost 15 and tied 4. They were unbeaten in 1951, 1953 and 1955.

Tatum was head coach at North Carolina in 1942, where his team won 5, lost 2 and tied 2. At Oklahoma, where he coached in 1946, his team won 8 of 11 and beat North Carolina State in the Gator Bowl.

Tatum brought his Maryland team to the Orange Bowl in 1954, where it lost to Oklahoma, 7-0. Maryland came back this year for a return meeting with Oklahoma, losing this time, 20-6.

Titan Still Leads MVC Scoring Race

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Jim (Legs) McLaughlin, top rebounder and fancy ball handler of the St. Louis Billikens jumped into the top five of Missouri Valley scoring last week with 5 points in two games.

The Valley's first four remained unchanged, with Detroit's Bill Ebben well in front with 26.7 points a game, followed by Houston giant Don Boldebuck (22.8), St. Louis guard Grady Smith (21.4) and Wichita center Bob Hodgson (19.5).

Notre Dame has had 18 undefeated football seasons and 10 in which is was both undefeated and untide.

Score, Mossi Agree to Tribes' Terms

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians announced today that Herb Score and Don Mossi, the Tribe's brilliant southpaw huring duo, have agreed to terms for the 1956 season.

Their salaries were not announced but General Manager Hank Greenberg indicated that both received substantial increases.

Competition Stiffens in Dixie Tennis

Eddie Moylan of Trenton, N.J., defending champion, takes on Reynaldo Garrido, Cuban Davis Cup player.

Grant Golden of Chicago, seeded third, faces Orlando Garrido, brother of Reynaldo and also a Davis Cup player.

200-Point Games

Accent on Offense Is Indicated by High Scores Among Nation's Quints

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Almost everywhere you look in college basketball the accent is on offense and more offense. At that rate it probably won't be long before 200-point games will be the rule rather than the exception.

Take, for example, some of last night's games.

West Virginia came mighty close to the 100 mark in trampling Washington and Lee 98-84.

North Carolina walloped Louisiana State 95-69. The Tarheels almost certainly would have gone over 100 if they hadn't played substitutes a good part of the way.

In other games, DePaul crushed Illinois Normal 102-77. Vanderbilt downed William and Mary 89-80 in double overtime. Virginia defeated South Carolina 84-83. Carnegie Tech beat Penn State 69-62, Boston University defeated Northeastern 73-59 and Stanford nipped St. Mary's (Calif.) 51-50.

All America Darrell Floyd, the nation's top scorer last season, tossed in 40 points for Furman.

North Carolina, the only one of the nation's top 10 teams to see action, shot into a 15-0 lead in the first four minutes and substituted freely thereafter.

With six minutes of regular play left, Vanderbilt was down seven points. Then Bobby Thyn and Al Rochelle combined to knot the count 69-69 and send the game into overtime. In the second extra session, Vanderbilt scored 10 straight points.

Almont Hands Imlay City 1st Loss of Season, 60-59

Almont avenged a 67-63 overtime loss in the season opener by handing Imlay City its first defeat in six games, 60-59 on the Almont court last night.

Highlight of the game was the scoring duel between Imlay's Larry Dorow and Larry Kersten of Almont, two of the leading point makers in the area.

Kersten led the scoring for the night with 24 points while Dorow was collecting 20. In the first game between the two teams Dorow had 27 points and Kersten 31.

Almont had only four players in the scoring column. Bob Wentworth and Blake Lassiett each pumped in 17 points, giving three players 58 of the 60 points scored. Senior Jim Franz got 14 for Imlay.

The visitors took an early lead but Almont knotted the count after the first stanza 14-14.

Imlay led at halftime 36-34, but midway in the third period Almont took the lead and never fell behind even though the game was played closely until the final five seconds when Imlay got within one point.

It was a non-league game for the teams, giving Imlay a 5-1 season mark and Almont 4-2.

Guild Rejected

New York Feared as Boxing's Ghost State

NEW YORK (AP)—Will Madison Square Garden follow ancient St. Nicholas Arena into the dim shadows as a fight club with no fights?

That was the question before the house today as New York moved closer to becoming a ghost state for boxing with the loss of its only regular weekly fight show.

The London Sporting Club, which ran 86 consecutive weekly televised shows at St. Nick's, announced it was moving to Baltimore, effective Jan. 23, because of inability to make matches in New York. It reported bids from "20 other cities" but planned to run in Baltimore for at least four or six weeks.

The reason St. Nick's can't make matches in New York is the recent ruling by Julius Helfand, chairman of the New York State Athletic Commission, setting a Jan. 16 deadline for all managers to quit the Boxing Guild of New York.

"We are not interested in the guild or what trouble commissioners have with guilds," said Tex Sullivan, whose London Sporting Club shows are seen on Du Mont TV. "We just cannot get fighters to sign for bouts here after Jan. 16. When I talk to managers, they tell me the fighters 'aren't ready' or 'my guy's still bothered by cuts' or something like that."

Jim Norris, IBC president, was due to return from Miami soon to make a decision on future plans. Harry Markson, IBC managing director, pointed out that the promoters had definite TV contracts to fulfill. He said there are "a good dozen Friday boxing dates" in the Garden in February, March and May under the current contract.

Phog Allen Rebuked by AAU

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP)—Olympic official Harry D. Henshel says he intends to make Coach Phog Allen "pay dearly" for lambasting him in a recent speech on the Amateur Athletic Union (AAU).

Henshel cabled the University of Kansas basketball coach yesterday that he was planning legal action and added:

"I was shocked to learn through the press of your (1) libelous attack on me as a permanent hitchhiker to the Olympic games at public expense; (2) your libelous reference to my military service as a 'colonel in the Brooklyn band'; (3) and your gratuitous slur on Brooklyn obviously intended to insult me and many of my fellow New Yorkers, including those of us who never had the honor of living in Brooklyn . . ."

"If you were quoted accurately, your libelous attack on me might seriously endanger raising sufficient funds to assure adequate size and quality of our 1956 Olympic teams."

Henshel, who is chairman of the Olympic basketball committee and vice-chairman of the AAU Olympic finance committee, sent the cable from San Juan, Puerto Rico, where he has been on vacation.

He told Allen that in 45 years of activity in the AAU as athlete and committeeman and in 20 years on Olympic committees "I have not received a dollar directly or indirectly from either organization."

In reference to his military career, Henshel said he was awarded a Bronze Star Combat Medal in 1945 and earned five Campaign Stars in the European Theater of Operations from Normandy to Germany in 1944-45. He added that the attack on the European Continent.

Allen referred to Henshel last week in a Kansas City speech in which he criticized the AAU for suspending Wes Santee, America's fastest miler and a University of Kansas graduate. Santee was suspended on grounds he had accepted excessive expense allowances in three California track meets. The suspension later was lifted.

The basketball coach called Henshel a "permanent hitchhiker" among AAU officials who "are quadrennial oceanic hitchhikers" in referring to overseas Olympic games trips. Allen labeled the AAU a "paper" organization and asked that it be thoroughly investigated.

Last night Allen told a reporter Hensel's cable was about 400 words long and "I must admit that previously he had served on the U.S. Administrative Staff of the 21st Army Group which planned it was voluminous but hardly ominous." He said he paid little attention to it, adding:

Henshel cabled that he had instructed counsel "to give me quick action to make this an expensive lesson to you."

"You have popped off once too often," he told Allen.

FEATHERED BEAUTY — An unusual, but very beautiful visitor has been taking life easy the last few days at Drayton Plains Fish Hatchery. The big, gleaming white-feathered whistling swan (above) came in with a flight of geese, landed on a pond at the hatchery, and stayed on to gratefully (and gracefully) accept the feed provided by hatchery people. The big bird (North America's largest species) apparently is a "loner." It was alone, and no other swan has been seen around the area this winter. Swans pass this way occasionally, but not in any numbers, on their way south from the Arctic to the warm southland. Detroit Zoo personnel will try to capture the bird and give it a home in the fine Royal Oak zoological park.

NBA Hawks Pick Prep Star as 1st 1960 Draft Choice

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The St. Louis Hawks of the National Basketball Assn., announced today they will select 6-5 Jack Pirrie, of suburban Maplewood High School as their first draft choice for the 1960 season.

The 16-year-old Pirrie was described by Coach Red Holzman of the Hawks as one of the greatest high school players he has ever seen.

Pirrie will be the second high school star selected under a new NBA rule that permits a club to draft a high school senior living in that club's teritorial limits. This enables the club to establish a claim on the player regardless of where he decides to attend college.

The first youngster selected under the rule was 7-1 Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain, named by the Philadelphia Warriors last spring when he was in high school at Philadelphia as their first draft choice for the 1959 season. Chamberlain now is attending Kansas University.

Court Delays Stotz' Moves

U.S. Judge Will Rule Friday on Argument in Little League

LEWISBURG, Pa. (AP) — Federal Judge Frederick V. Follmer has extended until Friday a temporary injunction barring former Little League Commissioner Carl E. Stotz from forming a rival organization.

Follmer said yesterday that he expected to hand down a decision Friday on whether to make the injunction permanent or to dissolve it, thus giving Stotz the right to go ahead with his plans for a second baseball organization for boys 8 to 12 years old.

Little League obtained the temporary injunction after Stotz filed a $300,000 breach of contract suit and announced plans for the rival group. The league removed Stotz as commissioner after his suit was filed.

The temporary injunction was to have expired tomorrow.

Michigan Selected for Dixie Classic Tourney

DURHAM, N. C. (AP)—Michigan, Amherst, Colgate and Loyola of New Orleans have been chosen to oppose North Carolina's "big four" in this spring's Dixie Classic basketball tournament.

The "big four" are Wake Forest, Duke, North Carolina and North Carolina State and the three-day round robin tournament will begin April 4.

Senior Bowl to Use Sudden Death Playoff

MOBILE, Ala., Jan. 4 (AP)—Senior Bowl officials today announced that a sudden death playoff is planned if the North and South teams end the regulation playing time in a deadlock in the seventh annual All-Star game Saturday.

The teams are tied at 3-3 in the series. The South evened the count last year with a 12-6 victory.

North Coach Buddy Parker and South Coach Paul Brown agreed to the change this year so that one club can end the deadlock. It will be patterned after the sudden death playoffs used in pro championship games. Other pro rules will also be used.

Both coaches looked their 25-man squads over yesterday and came up with drastic position changes aimed at winning.

Parker's most surprising move was the shifting of Jim Brown, UCLA All-America, from guard to linebacker. The other side of the line will be backed up by Jim Furey of Kansas State. Side backs were Tony Branoff of Michigan and Herb Nakken of Utah. Jerry Harkrader of Ohio State and Gary Lowe of Michigan State were the deep backs.

Brown built his defense around Marylands fine center, Bob Pellegrini, whom he shifted to middle guard. The 225-pounder will be flanked by Don Goss, Southern Methodist tackle, and M. L. Brackett, Auburn tackle.

Herb Gray, Texas tackle, was moved to defensive end opposite Joe Tuminello of Louisiana State.

Ten pro coaches in addition to several scouts are already in Mobile to observe the pro prospects. A capacity crowd of 36,000 is expected for the game. Kickoff is at 1:30 p.m. Mutual Broadcasting System will broadcast the game.

Bowling Clinic

By BILLY SIXTY

PLAYING 'RUN' ALLEYS—Put to heavy use, most alleys today "run" a lot, the polish wears off, and on dry alley surfaces any spin put on the ball is accentuated. So the bowler has the problem of reducing turn or hook to keep the ball in the strike pocket.

Topflighters use two methods of cutting down the hook: Either move the thumb to ball-center, pointed forward at the pins, or, by "freezing the wrist," as Chicago star Paul Krumske does. Krumske is a master at "playing alleys." As sketch shows, he stiffens or freezes the wrist as he releases the ball, eliminating wrist turn entirely. Yet, as the arm comes upward smoothly and unhurried, he applies finger-spin that has tremendous pin-mixing power.

As Krumske explains, this stiffening of the wrist at ball release isn't easy, so don't be discouraged if for a time you inject wrist turn, and your untamed hook rides high on the head pin or to the left side of it. Perfect the wrist action, and your scores will go up. Work on it.

Castellani Aims for 10th in Row

CLEVELAND (AP)—Rocky Castellani will be shooting for his 10th straight victory at the Cleveland Arena and a step closer to a shot at the middleweight title when he meets Gene Fullmer in a 10-round bout at the arena tonight.

Castellani, a former coal miner from Luzerne, Pa., who now calls Cleveland his home, is the third-ranked middleweight behind champion Sugar Ray Robinson and former champion Bobo Olson. He lost a decision to Robinson in San Francisco last July, but had Sugar Ray in trouble after flooring him.

Fullmer, a strong and willing walloper from West Jordan, Utah, is hoping for an upset and a return bout with Eduardo Lausse, the middleweight challenger from Argentina who has a victory streak of 32.

Fullmer, a wide-open, wading-in type of fighter, has lost only three times in 36 professional fights. He has never been knocked out.

Newark Quintet Needs Strong Concentration

Most of them are married veterans. Their wives form a special cheering section behind the regular cheerleaders. Spread out behind them is a rhythm section of 20 students who bang on drums, cymbals, triangles, castanets, etc. The din is terrific.

2,110 Listed in '58 Futurity at Pimlico

BALTIMORE (AP)—Pimlico Race Track announced today that nominations to the 1958 Pimlico Futurity, which closed Dec. 15, totaled 2,110, making possible a gross purse of more than $200,000.

Leslie Combs II, who headed the syndicate which recently purchased Nashua, is the top Futurity nominator with 61 mares named.

The 1956 race will be the last for a $25,000-added purse, the track having doubled its offering beginning with the 1957 race.

Nation Surveys Hunting, Fishing

Personal Interviews to Begin Jan. 7; Will Show Economic Aspects

LANSING—A nation-wide survey of economic aspects of hunting and fishing is scheduled to get under way Jan. 7 when survey agents begin personal interviews with hunters and fishermen.

The survey, supervised by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, is designed to determine: (1) the number of persons, by age, sex and licensing, who hunted and-or fished for sport; (2) the amount of time spent on these sports by each hunter or fisherman; and (3) the amount of money spent by each, including all expenditures for items directly connected with hunting or fishing.

Total contribution of hunting and fishing to the nation's business has been estimated at $5 billion to $11 billion annually.

Fish and Wildlife Service officials say data collected in the survey will help answer questions facing legislators and fish and game management authorities on the amount and importance of hunting and fishing.

Recipes for Outdoorsmen

ROAST GROUSE

Split two grouse and marinate overnight in red wine to which 1 bay leaf is added. Drain, dry, and season with salt, pepper and paprika. Fry lightly on both sides in equal parts butter and bacon drippings.

Press ½ cup drained tomatoes and ½ cup pimentoes through sieve and add to pan with 2 cups water, 1 medium onion minced, 2 six-inch pieces of celery minced, 1 clove garlic minced and ½ teaspoon salt. Simmer until grouse are tender.

Thicken pan liquids with 2 tablespoons flour dissolved in a little cold water for gravy.

Wildlife Confab Set for Michigan

LANSING — Michigan has been selected as the site for the 1956 Midwest Wildlife Conference. The meeting has been set for early December, but exact time and location have not been determined.

The group, composed of nine midwestern states, recently completed its 1955 meeting at Purdue University. More than 300 fish and game workers participated in discussions of mutual wildlife problems and programs.

SKIING IN MICHIGAN — Here is pleasant evidence that Michigan's winter sports season has begun. Some 46 ski centers throughout the state, with facilities for beginners and experts alike will be in full operation early in January. The Michigan Council has made large-sized maps available free to the public showing all of the ski areas. Copies of the folder can be obtained by writing to the Tourist Council in the Mason Building, Lansing.

Seekers After Officer Posts Must File Today

Today is the final date on which young men interested in becoming officers with the Michigan Conservation Department may file applications for state civil service examinations.

"There is need for a number of officers to round out the state staff," says M. Warren Kendall, officer attached to the Oakland County area group. "Qualified young men can file for this test, through today, by applying at any conservation office, or sending applications to the Civil Service Section, Lansing 13, Mich."

Applicants must be between 23 and 29 years old, inclusive, weigh 150-220 pounds, and be 5 feet 9 to 6 feet 4 tall. For those who get by the physical and mental tests, a recruit school will be held, to last six months. Afterwards officers will be assigned to regular field posts about the state, Kendall says.

Stale Grasshoppers Are Rewarding Bait

DANA POINT, Calif. (AP) — The bait worked just fine—even though it was six centuries old. Dr. Richard T. Street displayed four fish to prove it.

The bait? A jar full of grasshoppers found embedded in the ice of a glacier in Montana. They were sent to Dr. Street by some friends who are members of the American Assn. for the Advancement of Science. They dug them out of the glacier and say the bugs must have been caught in the ice when trapped in a downdraft.

Dr. Street, an ardent fisherman, tried them as bait more or less as a joke. His success proves fish don't know the difference between fresh bait and stale.

Flooding of Marshlands Provides Game Habitats

LANSING — Fifty-five flooding projects were completed this year to provide 4200 acres of marshland habitat for waterfowl, furbearers and other wildlife.

Included in the conservation department program were seven major projects and 48 smaller water impoundments on southern Michigan game and research areas.

Approximately $95,000 was spent on the work financed by state and federal funds under the Pittman-Robertson program and budgeted over a two-year period.

Under a stepped-up flooding program begun in 1949, some 34 major projects have been completed with P-R funds. One other major project was constructed with game funds during that period.

Largest of the flooding developments this year was the 1420 acre Martiny Lake project in Mecosta county.

Heavy Grouse Kill Reported by State

LANSING (AP) — The State Conservation Department said today hunters kill every year about 40 per cent of the ruffed grouse nesting in the Rifle river area near Rose City.

The department said some 700 hunters hunt 2,000 hours and take home 200 grouse and woodcock from the Rifle river area every year.

North Owners Pressed to Permit Property Timbering

By JACK PATTERSON

Owners of northern wild lands are being increasingly pressured by agents of paper mills to permit selective timbering of their properties.

The mills are understandably interested in latching onto new sources of pulpwood and many owners perk up an interested ear at the thought of a cash return from otherwise unproductive land.

On the face of it the necessary elements for a good deal seem to be present. But is it a good deal, all things considered.

Let's take a look at the mills' argument. Their primary interest is in aspen, or popple to us unwashed Michiganders. They like to take on large stands of mature popple, which they point out, and truthfully, are of little or no value as cover or a food source to wildlife.

PATTERSON

Root systems of mature popple, that has been cut, will send up shoots for two or three years after the cutting and these shoots grow into trees which serve as a primary food source particularly for deer, for a number of years.

In an area, and there are many, where extensive stands of mature popple grow to the exclusion of most everything else, systematic logging looks like a very good deal, aside from the money angle, in that many acres now useless to wildlife could be made to produce an enormous quantity of primary food for that wildlife.

If you happen to have an abundance of grown popple it might be useful to look into the lumbering angle.

It is in the mixed stands of popple, hardwoods of other types, pines, cedar and whatnot that the deal begins to look less attractive.

Naturally, the loggers can't economically pick this tree and spare that one nor could they be reasonably expected to do so. So before any cutting starts property owners should be very, very sure what they've agreed to part with.

Doing away with undesirable and quick growing popple is one thing. Unwittingly destroying trees that will take a lifetime and a half to replace is something else again, assuming that one reason the owner bought the property in the first place was because it had a resemblance to the north woods.

Another thing to consider when jumping into a logging deal is what will be done with the brush—small branches, tree tops and so forth.

Normally the logging contract won't include the disposition of brush and this residue of a cutting operation is not only unsightly but a potential fire hazard of first degree.

We think that lumbering off

mature popple can be a very useful method of improving game cover and certainly do not intend to imply that the paper companies are interested in pulling any fast deals.

We do think, though, that property owners considering having a cutting made should familiarize themselves with present day lumbering methods so that they fully understand what it is they've agreed to have taken off their property.

Rabbit Season in Full Swing

Hunters in northern portions of the state are taking aim at the big hares while their counterparts in the southern areas are after bouncing cottontails.

Rabbit populations appear to be increased over last year and successes so far give indications of a good season. Last season, hunters bagged more than 1,400,000 cottontails and 205,000 hares.

Annual rabbit production stays well ahead of the number bagged by hunters, however. D. H. Jenkins, Conservation Department game biologist, says hunters could take two-thirds of the rabbit population in a single season without reducing the next year's production, but the actual hunter harvest is far less than half the population.

Hunting seasons on rabbits extend through January 31 in the southern half of the lower peninsula through March 1 in the northern portions of the state. Bag limits are five per day, 10 in possession and 50 for the season.

State Crews Map Lakes in Oakland County

One party will chart 26 lakes in Crawford, Kalkaska and Otsego counties. Another crew will map 30 lakes in Oakland County and a third will cover 24 lakes in Kalamazoo, Lake, Mecosta, Newaygo and Osceola counties.

The department said it has mapped some 2,400 lakes as part of its lake management program.

Lower Peninsula Rabbit Hunting Should Improve

LANSING (AP)—Rabbit hunting in the Lower Peninsula should be better this year than last, when hunters killed more than 1,400,000 cottontails.

The department said the rabbit kill in the Rose Lake area has increased this year although hunting pressure is down four per cent.

Shift in Research

New Year Marks Turning Point for Conservation Body's Fish Program

LANSING (AP)—The year 1956 will mark a turning point of sorts for the state conservation department's fish research program.

Dr. Justin W. Leonard, research coordinator, said the emphasis will be on finding ways to improve size and numbers of warm water fish — the popular panfish which dad, mom and the kids can hook with the simplest of equipment.

In recent years, the department's fish research activities have centered around cold water species—the trouts.

"Most of the advances in the past in the management of warm water fish have taken the form of liberalized regulations," Dr. Leonard said.

"In other words, we have upped creel limits and knocked out size limits on many species on the theory that the only way to have your cake is to eat it."

"The biggest reason for poor pan fishing," he said, "is that there are too many fish of small size which consume the available food and impair the growth of fish."

So far, he said, the department hasn't done much research in ways to increase the "carrying capacity of the lakes—their ability to support the fish population.

To further knowledge on this point, the department plans to carry out experiments at the site of the old Hastings hatchery.

The experiments, to be conducted under the supervision of researcher Dr. John Williams, will test four ways of improving the quality of warm water species:

3—Using poison to kill off part of the fish and so leave more food for the others.

4—Using predatory game fish like walleyes, northern pike and muskies to keep the pan fish numbers down to the level where they can grow properly.

This last method, Dr. Leonard says, would probably be the best. It would not only improve the pan fish themselves, but would better the quality of the predators.

May Go the Limit

Wayne University's quest for a Presidents' Athletic Conference title in basketball may not be settled until the final game of the season with John Carrol on March 3 in Detroit. Wayne and John Carroll each have lost but one game this year and appear to be the strong teams in the PAC. They meet for the 1st time on Saturday Jan. 14 in Cleveland.

Price Ground Lost by Grains

CHICAGO (AP)—Most grains lost moderate price ground in fairly active dealings on the Board of Trade today.

Profit taking after the previous session's advance set back wheat and rye. Some light selling entered soybeans on news a major processor was curtailing soybean crushings. Feed grains eased on prospect of increased offerings of cash corn.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ⅛ to ½ lower, March $2.11⅝; corn ⅛ to ⅜ lower, March $1.28½; oats unchanged to ⅛ higher, March 66⅛; rye ½ to 1 cent lower, March $1.23¼; soybeans ⅛ to ¾ lower, January $2.39½, and lard unchanged to 5 cents a hundred pounds lower, March $11.27.

Record Steel Output, Price Hike Predicted

NEW YORK (AP) — The year 1956 will probably bring both record-breaking steel production and price increases aggregating about $11 a ton, The Iron Age, national metalworking weekly, said today.

The steel mills are off to a running start toward a probably record of from 118 to 120 million ingot tons this year unless labor troubles interfere, it added. Iron age also reported:

The United Steelworkers want higher wages, supplementary unemployment benefits, an unqualified union shop and improved pension and social insurance benefits.

"That's a big order," the magazine said. "And steel companies will buy only part of it."

Steel prices may rise an average of $3 a ton by March. The labor settlement will be followed by another boost, probably around $8 a ton, bringing the likely total to around $11.

Steel producers, for the first time in years, are entering a new year with orders outrunning production and with an order backlog of three to four months. A full production schedule is certain for the first six months.

The letdown in the auto industry will afford no relief in steel supply to other consumers as Detroit has no intention of by-passing.

Tucker Withdraws in Billing Squabble

NEW YORK (AP)—Richard Tucker, Metropolitan Opera Tenor, withdrew from a benefit concert after seeing advance ads that had costar Renata Tebaldi's name in larger letters.

The concert tomorrow night is sponsored by La Follia, an Italian-language newspaper, and was to have featured Miss Tebaldi, a soprano; Tucker; and Jerome Hines, bass.

"I'm not taking second money to anybody," Tucker said yesterday. "Because of the graciousness of my art I consented to sing. And I expect equal billing. The least they can do is that.

"I'm going to send them a check as my personal contribution, but I will not sing."

Ex-Boxing Coach of Spartans Dies

EAST LANSING (AP) — Leon D. Burhans, longtime Michigan State University boxing coach, died last night at a Lansing hospital.

Burhans, 70, joined the MSU faculty in 1922 as the only full-time physical education man on the staff. During his first years on the faculty, he coached almost every sport.

An assistant professor of education for 30 years, he coached wrestling until 1929 and boxing until his retirement in July, 1951.

Twin's Deathbed Runs Just Routine for Officer

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Patrolman Gene Haynes considered it a routine run Sunday when he delivered Margie Baker to a hospital, where she died of a cerebral hemorrhage.

It was all in a day's work too when on Monday he delivered Magdelene Baker, who had collapsed on a sidewalk, to the hospital. She was pronounced dead of a heart attack.

He learned yesterday they were 45-year-old twin sisters.

Official Cider Explodes

LANSING (AP) — A glass jug of apple cider left over from Gov. G. Mennen Williams' Christmas office party exploded while stenographers were working in the office reception room yesterday. The explosion shot the neck of the jug 30 feet across the room and showered frightened employes with glass and cider.

Truck Producer Prepares for Best Year in History

NEW YORK (AP) — Mack Trucks Inc. is tooling up for the greatest truck demand in its 56-year history, P. O. Peterson, president, said yesterday.

He predicted that in 1956 civilian sales of larger-capacity motor trucks, long a barometer of business conditions, will rise to their highest peak in history.

"Advance orders, as well as a survey of truck-user purchasing plans, indicate that 1956 will be a banner year for truck makers of the larger sizes," Peterson said in a yearend statement.

Real Sense of Values: He Knows What's Best

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Wolf Diamond would like to have his $900 back, but he'd rather have his citizenship papers. A bandit, using a knife in the ribs as a persuader, took the money and papers from Diamond at his shoe repair shop. Diamond, a native of Lithuania who became a citizen about 40 years ago sobbed: "I'm worried more about my citizenship papers than the money."

Moderate Sales Bring Stock Dip

NEW YORK (AP) — Moderate selling clipped prices today in the stock market. In the early afternoon, there were losses of 1 to around 3 points while most gains were minor.

Trading was subdued and maintained a pace somewhat less than yesterday's 2,390,000 shares traded in a declining market.

There was no concentration of selling in any particular division. Most depressed were the steels, motors, rubbers, aircrafts, chemicals, electrical equipments, the railroads, and coppers. Others were mixed.

General Motors opened on 6,000 shares unchanged at 45¼, and later it traded blocks of 12,000 and 17,000 shares at 45.

The whole market was unsettled and the Associated Press average of 60 stocks was off 90 cents at $179.30. At noon today the average was down an additional 50 cents.

Grief-Stricken Dad Kills Wife and Self

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A lumber-laden trailer, tearing loose from a runaway truck, smashed into two cars Monday night and killed three men.

One of them was Charles L. Hoffman, 43, of nearby Glendale.

His father, Lawrence Hoffman, 70, was grief stricken when he learned of the son's death. Relatives said he became irrational.

Last night the elder Hoffman's wife, stepmother of the son, was talking on the telephone with a friend, who suddenly heard her say:

There was the sound of shooting. Then silence.

Friends found Mrs. Hoffman dead and Hoffman dying. Sheriff's officers termed it murder-suicide.

No Wives Next Season

INSPIRATION, Ariz. (AP)—Harry C. Fansler and Stanley Dornik will go hunting again next year—alone. They took their wives this year and the ladies each bagged a deer. But Fansler and Dornik came home empty handed.

STOCK GAINS OVER YEAR — The Associated Press average of 60 stocks closed the year out at $180.20, a rise of around 16 per cent. The average was only a shade under record highs of $181.50 set Sept. 23 and reached again Dec. 5 and 6.

Amazed Business Looks Back on Astounding 1955

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Businessmen busily totting up their final accounts this week still act a little amazed at how much they produced and sold this year.

Merchants closing their books on a fat Christmas report dollar sales this season topping last year's, sometimes by as much as a fifth. The national average will be a much more modest gain, but in almost all parts of the country Christmas trade was the best ever.

The railroads added sharply to their earnings in moving these goods around. The Association of American Railroads estimates the carriers will net 915 million dollars after taxes this year, a gain of 34 per cent.

The building industry reports Americans spent a record 42 billion dollars for construction of all types. Businessmen put out nearly 28½ billion dollars for new plants and equipment, a gain of 1½ billion.

The National Machine Tool Builders Assn. reports 900 million dollars worth of new orders in that industry, compared with 560 million the previous year.

Electronics producers moved nearly 6½ billion dollars worth of their goods to market. Aluminum mills shipped a record four billion pounds of the metal, a gain of 36 per cent for the year. Americans consumed a record 1½ million tons of rubber.

The Federal Reserve Bank of Cleveland rounds it up this way: "If the description of business activity in 1955 had to be limited to one word, the most fitting would be 'Tremendous.'"

ROBERT K. RUSSELL

Purchasing Assistant Named at GMC Truck

Appointment of Robert K. Russell as assistant director of purchasing for GMC Truck and Coach Division has been announced by J. P. McManus, purchasing director.

He replaces P. S. McNellis who has been named general purchasing agent of Delco Appliance Division at Rochester, New York.

Russell, of 1063 Mohegan, Birmingham, joined GMC in 1935 as a cost clerk after graduating from Michigan State University. Prior to his new appointment, he was supervisor of cost estimators.

Anne Mielock Begins Juvenile Court Work

Anne M. Mielock, of Detroit, began work yesterday as an assistant county agent in the adoption department of the Juvenile Court, County Director of Juvenile Services James W. Hunt said today.

She was appointed by Gov. G. Mennen Williams to succeed Edith Doench, who resigned. Her salary will be paid by the state.

Rochester Firm Declares Common Stock Dividend

Directors of the Higbie Manufacturing Co., of Rochester, have declared a dividend of 15 cents a share on common stock having a par value of $1. The dividend is payable Feb. 1, 1956, to stockholders of record Jan. 16, 1956, treasurer V. J. McAvoy announced yesterday.

Ford Smashes Output Record

DETROIT (AP) — Ford Motor Co. reported yesterday its factories built a record-smashing 2,614,559 cars and trucks last year.

The total, which compares with 1,990,020 vehicles in 1954, included 1,764,524 Ford cars; 373,898 trucks; 434,911 Mercury cars; 39,995 Lincoln and 1,231 Continental cars.

The previous single year's record for Ford was 2,019,000 cars and trucks built in 1923. The Mercury total also was a record high, topping the 1950 mark of 334,081 cars. The truck total upset the previous record of 355,453 units assembled in 1929.

Lincoln Division, which built 4,206 cars in December, plans to produce 6,683 in January.

Ben D. Mills, general manager, said the schedule surpasses the 6,542 record for a single month, made in May of 1953. He said retail orders on hand are "still running two months ahead of our production."

Ex-Husband Sought to Aid Murder Probe

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Police today were trying to find a 50-year-old Los Angeles bellhop to question him about the fatal shooting of Mrs. Carmen Pedrin, his former wife and mother-in-law of tennis star Pancho Gonzales.

Mrs. Pedrin, about 47, a jewelry shop clerk here, was found dead in her apartment yesterday. She had two bullet wounds in the head. Police said they found no gun in the room and figured she had been murdered.

In Los Angeles, Homicide Sgt. S. R. Lopez said Joseph Henry Addington, Mrs. Pedrin's former husband, got several days off from his job as a bellhop and told his bellhop captain he was going to Phoenix Sunday to visit friends.

Mrs. Pedrin's landlady, Mrs. Altah Rose Maris, said she smelled gas, entered the room and found the body on a bed. The room was filled with gas from a leaking heater, she said.

Stunt Girl Takes $750 in Honey Court Case

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Being "honeyed and feathered" during a publicity stunt was worth $750 for brunette model Mrs. Marguerite Ventre.

Mrs. Ventre, 21, had asked $70,000 damages for having pots of honey and feathers dumped on her head while she stood in a bathing suit next to a Hollywood pool three years ago. When the case was called to trial yesterday in Superior Court, she accepted the settlement.

* * *

Named as defendants were singer John Arcesi, disc jockey Peter Potter, Capital Records, Inc., press agents Bud Freeman and Ed Scofield and the Superior Honey Co.

Mother, Daughter Hurt in Cab-Auto Collision

Passengers in a taxicab, a mother and daughter were slightly injured in a collision on Lull St. yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Connie Smith, 29, and Mary Lee Smith, 10, both of 379 Howard McNeil St., were released after treatment in Pontiac General Hospital.

Driver of the cab, Rose T. Davis, 35, of 815 Robinwood Ave., and the other driver, Dorothy M. Turner, 21, of Fildew Ave., both were uninjured, Pontiac Police said.

Chrysler Announces New Plymouth 'Fury'

DETROIT (INS) — A new Plymouth model with the appearance of a luxury-priced passenger car and the performance of a sports car is announced by the Chrysler Corp. Division.

The two-door hardtop model has been named the "Fury." It is finished in egg-shell white and trimmed with a band of gold anodized aluminum inlay, bordered in chrome, extending from the fin-type rear fender and gradually tapering to near the headlights.

The car has a special Hy-Fire V-8 engine of 240 h.p. and a 9.25 to 1 compression ratio. The model will be shown at the Chicago Auto Show beginning Saturday.

Mansfield said the car will go into production next month and that it will sell for a higher price than any other Plymouth models.

Disorderly Conduct Brings Fine, Jail Time

Racketeer Adonis Deporting Self; Sailing for Italy

NEW YORK (AP)—Racketeer Joe Adonis "deported" himself from the United States yesterday.

He left his wife and four children in Fort Lee, N.J.

He said he would take up life anew in Naples, Italy, but that he had no intention of renewing his old acquaintanceship with Charles "Lucky" Luciano, a New York vice king also deported to Italy.

"I'm not going to look him up and I hope he doesn't look me up," said Adonis.

Card of Thanks 1

I WISH TO EXTEND MY HEARTfelt thanks and appreciation to my many neighbors, friends and relatives for their expressions of kindness and sympathy shown in the recent bereavement in the loss of my beloved husband, Charles G. Bissett. To the Rev. Stanley Bailey, the Elba Methodist Church, the Donelson-Johns Funeral Home and the Hadley F. & A. M. and pallbearers, the Lapeer Chapter R. & A.M. and the Elba Hospital Auxiliary. Mrs. Charles G. Bissett.

WE WISH TO EXTEND OUR heartfelt thanks and appreciation to our kind friends and neighbors and to the Rev. D. B. Pawley for the kindness and sympathy shown in the recent death of our beloved wife and mother Mae Williams, may God bless you all. Elmer Willis and daughter Ester L. Mcgowan.

WE WISH TO THANK REV. FAther Curry of St. Joseph Hospital and Rev. Father Bartol of Our Lady of Refuge, doctors and nurses of St. Joseph Hospital, neighbors and friends for sympathy and kindness in bereavement of our Mother, Mrs. Margaret DeSmith. The Family of Margaret DeSmith.

WE WISH TO EXTEND OUR heartfelt thanks and appreciation to our kind friends and neighbors and to the Rev. D. B. Pawley for the kindness and sympathy shown in the recent death of our beloved wife and mother, Mae Willis. May God bless you all. Elmer Willis and daughter, Esther L. Megowan.

WE WISH TO EXTEND OUR heartfelt thanks during our recent bereavement in the loss of our beloved father, Herbert St. John. We especially want to thank Rev. H. H. Savage for his comforting words, Dr. Brown, all the nurses in the Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital, and the fellow workers in the Pontiac Fire Department. Further thanks to those who acted as pallbearers, Huntoon Funeral Home, and many friends for their prayers during his illness. The family of Herbert St. John.

TV Star Born in Border City

Country-Style Singer Amazed by Success of 'Sixteen Tons'

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—If Ernie Ford had been born a few miles distant, the nation's No. 1 record might have been "Sixteen Tons" by Virginia Ernie.

That's the thought for today.

As a matter of fact, Ernie's hometown is on the Tennessee side of the border city of Bristol. It's a good thing too. He probably never would have gotten very far as Virginia Ernie.

But as Tennessee Ernie Ford, his career is booming. It looks as though his "Sixteen Tons" is going to be the biggest seller in recent history.

"I'm amazed by it all," said the modest singer over breakfast. "Nothing like this ever happened to me. I guess nothing like it ever happened to anyone."

The astounding sales: over two million records in eight weeks, and the amount is still climbing.

No wonder Ernie is amazed—he has only been a performer for six years. He came to California in 1946, landing in San Bernardino as a radio announcer. He moved on to Pasadena and that's where he adopted the Tennessee, using it as a disc jockey for country music.

In 1949, hillbilly emcee Cliffie Stone enlisted Tennessee Ernie on his Hometown Jubilee TV show. That's when Ernie's career started taking off. He rumbled around in the TV and record world, then came to national attention as Lucille Ball's country cousin on I Love Lucy.

For the past year he has been doing 10 shows a week, five on NBC-TV in the morning and five on CBS radio at night. He has been called a bucolic Arthur Godfrey, since he has much the same kind of voice and delivery.

How did he find "Sixteen Tons"? He explained that he was able to do a variety of songs on his TV and radio shows because he needed so many to fill the time. He remembered some folk tunes that Merle Travis, a guitar player and singer, had recorded. He picked "Sixteen Tons" out from the sheet music.

"I did it three times on the show," Ernie recalled. "The mail response was terrific. Then I sang the song at the Indiana State Fair last summer. There were 18,000 people in a big hall and you could have heard a pin drop. That's when I decided I'd better record it."

'Times' Copy Editor Faces Senate Probe

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Internal Security subcommittee called a New York copyreader today as it resumed its hunt for traces of Communist infiltration of the press, radio and television.

Starting three days of public hearings, the subcommittee said several witnesses had been subpoenaed but named only James Glaser. Subcommittee sources said he was expected to be a cooperative witness.

Glaser was identified by the subcommittee as a former managing editor of the Communist Daily Worker. That reportedly was in the mid-1930s. He once was a copyreader for the New York Times and now holds a similar job with the New York Post.

A number of past or present employes of the Times reportedly have been called to testify in the subcommittee inquiry. The Senate group held closed hearings in New York a month ago, but has not identified witnesses it questioned at that time.

Rita and Haymes Sued for $8,400 Legal Fees

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Although Rita Hayworth divorced crooner Dick Haymes in Reno last month, she is being sued with him for attorney fees.

Robert A. Eaton, lawyer and son-in-law of Gov. Goodwin J. Knight, sued the actress and singer yesterday for $8,400, saying he performed services for Haymes in connection with divorce proceedings by his former wife Nora Eddington, and with a deportation action against him by the federal government.

Eaton alleged that Miss Hayworth agreed to pay for the services but failed to do so.

Jackson Terms Given When Pair Admit Rape

Joseph Milobar, 23, of 21688 Lundey, Farmington, and Rudolph Kucharek, 24, of Detroit, yesterday were sentenced to 1 to 10 years in Jackson State Prison by Oakland County Circuit Judge George B. Hartrick.

GI Admits to Strangling Girl in Chicago Park After Base Beer Party

CHICAGO (AP)—A young Army private who admitted he raped and strangled a girl he met at an antiaircraft unit party in a South Side park was sentenced to 199 years in prison yesterday.

Matthews related he slapped and strangled Joanne Pushis, 17, in the park Aug. 6. He pushed her into a clump of bushes, where her body was found four days later.

Matthews said he had drunk 14 or 15 cans of beer at the party, held in the mess hall of Battery A, 734th Antiaircraft Artillery Battalion, in Calumet Park on the shore of Lake Michigan.

His statement led to an order prohibiting sale of liquor at Army posts in city parks.

The 199-year sentence will keep Matthews from getting parole until he has served 66 1-3 years.

GRAVE DECISION — A coffin protrudes from this monument in a churchyard at Pinner, England. It's said that one John Loudon "buried" his father in mid-air to keep relatives from getting the dead man's money. Loudon supposedly believed the estate couldn't be touched until his father was "under ground."

South Pole Base Officially Settled

Little America No. 5 Is Formally Dedicated as Naval Operations Begin

LITTLE AMERICA V, Antarctica (AP)—Little America No. 5 was formally dedicated today on a gently rolling desert of endless snow, four miles south of Kainan Bay and some 30 miles east of Adm. Richard E. Byrd's four previous antarctic camps.

But within two months Seabees will have completed a small modern village of 17 buildings, spread over five acres, which for the next three years will be the main base for Operation Deepfreeze. Here scientists during the 1957-58 International Geophysical Year will probe the mysterious phenomena of antartic skies, winds, ice and waters.

All you can see from the base site to the east, south and west is the snow-covered Ross Sea ice shelf, a bigger area than California.

To the north on a clear day can be seen Kainan Bay, which is one reason the site was chosen. The view of something more than snow is expected to have a helpful psychological effect on the 76 Seabees who have volunteered to spend the winter here.

The view won't make any difference after April, when the sun goes down and the party is enveloped in total darkness for six months. Before long the entire base likely will be covered with snow. The men will have to travel between the buildings in tunnels.

At the commissioning ceremony, Byrd, director of the U. S. antarctic program, and Rear Adm. George Dufek, commanding officer of the Navy task force, briefly congratulated the Seabees on laying the trail from the expedition's ships to the site and wished them well for the winter.

"Little America No. 5 is now in commission," said Cmdr. Herbert Whitney of Arlington, Mass., who will command the winter base. Then the flag was raised and the main base was in business.
