

Mother, Son Feared Abducted by 2 Killers in Oregon

SPRINGFIELD, Ore. (AP) — A mother and her young son were missing today, and police feared they were abducted by two killers who fatally ripped a deputy sheriff with a shotgun blast and pistol bullets late last night.

The deputy, Carlton E. Smith, 33, was killed while making his first night patrol.

The killers' car was found a few miles away abandoned in southeast Springfield, some 110 miles south of Portland, early today.

Mrs. David Corbin, 33, her son Clinton, 12, and the family car were missing from a home less than two blocks away.

Lights were on in the house and the television was on. A daughter, Bernadette, 15, said she and three other younger children in the house heard nothing during the night. But neither did they hear police who checked the house at 2 a.m. as part of a house-to-house search through the area near where the car was found.

The husband, a construction worker, was not at home over-night.

The killers' car was sold in Salem yesterday to Wilbur Marion Grey.

Police sent out a bulletin seeking him and one of his frequent companions, Karl Cletes Bowles, for questioning.

Both were released this spring from Oregon State Prison. Grey had served a sentence for armed robbery and Bowles for breaking and entering.

Smith had reported by radio near midnight last night that he had stopped a 1968 sports car for a routine check. He included its license number in his report.

Moments later his voice came over the radio again.

"Oh my God I'm shot." He was dead when Sheriff's Sgt. Howard Kerahner raced up a few minutes later.

Search for the killers spread out in an ever-widening area today with a brushy area at the southeast edge of Springfield the center. It was near there that Springfield police found the sports car, apparently abandoned moments earlier.

The shooting took place on a county road. A nearby resident, Donald Tusch, and his son, Robert, 20, said they heard a series of shots, then a louder blast.

They ran from their house and saw two men pushing a (Continued on Page 2, Col. 8)

Official Suggests Putting City Bar Issue on Ballot

How many bars and where they will be located — the basic questions of Pontiac's liquor controversy — arose again at the City Commission meeting last night.

This time the subject was coupled with an informal proposal for a city vote on the questions.

Halt to Rain Seen Tonight

Today's showers are expected to end in the Pontiac area this evening, leaving skies partly overcast and temperatures a little on the cool side, the low 55 to 62.

Partly cloudy and cool, the high near 72 to 78 is tomorrow's forecast. Friday will be somewhat warmer.

Morning southeasterly winds at 12 to 22 miles per hour will shift to southwest late today and to northwest at 8 to 10 m.p.h. tonight.

Sixty-one was the low temperature reading in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. By 2 p.m. the thermometer registered 72.

GMTC Breaks Sales Record

A new sales mark was set by General Motors Truck and Coach Division in the first half of 1965 when 61,860 trucks and buses were delivered, it was announced today.

Calvin J. Werner, vice president of General Motors and general manager of the division, said the record January-through-June figure topped by 13.5 per cent the 54,594 units delivered in the first six months of 1964.

Werner said the record sales were paced by all-time highs in March, April and May.

This June's sales reached 10,612 units, making it the best June in 14 years. Sales last month exceeded those for June 1964 by 10.4 per cent.

Amendment King Aide Backed on Disability OK'd

Senate Vote Is 68-5; Proposal Now Goes to State Legislatures

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress has given its final stamp of approval, and now it's up to the state legislatures to decide whether an amendment covering presidential disability should be added to the Constitution.

Sponsors believe that sometime in 1967 the proposal will be approved as the 25th Amendment by the legislatures of 38 states — three-fourths of the nation's 50 states.

Such action thus would seal into the Constitution the first definitive answer to the query of John Dickinson of Delaware when he asked the Constitutional Convention in 1787: "What is the extent of the term 'disability' and who is to be the judge of it?"

Senate approval of the proposed amendment came yesterday on a 68-5 roll call vote.

DISSENTERS

Voting against it were Sens. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, Eugene J. McCarthy and Walter F. Mondale, D-Minn., and John G. Tower, R-Tex.

The House had given its approval on a vote yesterday Wednesday. President Johnson's signature is not required.

The proposed amendment would supplant a provision of Article II, Section 1, of the Constitution.

Article II says that in the case of the inability of the president to carry out his duties "the same shall devolve on the vice president."

According to state records, Pontiac has been allotted 36 Class C licenses, 17 tavern licenses and two class B hotel licenses.

With Two-Thirds Benefits

Senate OKs Retirement at 60

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate voted today to allow all persons covered by Social Security the option of retiring at age 60 with monthly payments at two-thirds of the rate that would apply at age 65.

It accepted by voice vote and with only brief debate an amendment to accomplish this offered by Sen. Robert C. Byrd, D-W.Va., to the Social Security health care bill.

Byrd said he was primarily interested in persons "in the twilight zone over age 60" who lose their jobs and cannot find new employment.

WIFE RETIREMENT

A wife entitled to 60 per cent of her husband's benefit at age 65 now gets 37 1/2 per cent of his payment if she elects to retire at age 62. Under the Byrd amendment, she would receive about 29 per cent of his payment at age 60.

The bill as it came from the House already had provided an age 60 retirement for widows with a reduced benefit.

Byrd estimated that 3.5 million persons would be eligible for earlier benefits under his proposal, and that 900,000 would take advantage of this in the next year.

He said the estimated initial extra cost would be $500 million a year, but that reduced payment figures had been worked out actuarially so there would be no long-run cost to the Social Security system.

Buildup Seen as Counter to Red Assaults

5,200 Leathernecks Will Join Contingent in the Next Week

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — About 2,800 U.S. Marines landed at two ports of Central Viet Nam today as part of an 8,000-man Leatherneck buildup that seemed launched on an emergency basis.

A U.S. spokesman announced the rest will come ashore in the next week to boost American military strength in Viet Nam to nearly 60,000 men.

The movement coincides with heavy Communist probing of government towns in the central highlands.

Depending on decisions in Washington and Saigon, the Marines may be called on to meet a Red force that U.S. intelligence men believe to be North Viet Nam's 325th Division, part of which is known to have infiltrated South Viet Nam several months ago.

Swarming in from U.S. Navy ships in the South China Sea, the Marine vanguard landed at Qui Nhon and Da Nang, 170 miles apart.

WILL DEBARK

The spokesman said the rest of a 3,400-man force will debark tomorrow and 4,000 will follow later.

About midway between the two Marine landing points, the district capital of Dak, in the central highlands 280 miles northeast of Saigon, was reported overrun by the Viet Cong last night and was believed still in Communist hands late today.

New Officers Are Elected by Pontiac School Board

A 17-year veteran of the Pontiac School Board was named president of that group last night at the annual organizational meeting.

Monroe M. Osmun, 2094 Lakewind, West Bloomfield Township, was named president of the school board for the fourth time since he was first elected to the school group in 1946.

He succeeds William H. Anderson, 145 E. Columbia, who was defeated in his bid for reelection to the school board.

Osmun is a downtown merchant and has also been a member of the Oakland County Board of Education.

Elected vice president was Dr. Walter L. Godesell, 307 W. Huron. Mrs. William Mihalak, 1592 Vinewood, was named secretary.

In other action at the organizational meeting Vernon Schiller, 216 Oneida, was renominated school district treasurer and authorized to sign checks for the school.

Bizarre Events in Tragedy: Bullets Find Wrong Mark

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A bizarre turn of developments unfolded today as police continued an investigation of a wild shooting spree that left three persons dead and two police officers wounded.

The head of the homicide squad said the crazed gunman who touched off the deadly incident early yesterday killed himself and was not gunned down by police bullets as was first believed.

And in a tragic postscript to the shootings, an autopsy revealed that one of the victims was killed by police gunfire and not by a 22-caliber rifle in the hands of the berserk gunman.

Developments today were:

- Coroner Joseph B. Dobbs said it was established that Aaron Godfrey, 59, had died of a police bullet that struck him in the chest.

- Originally, it was thought Godfrey died at the hands of Leroy Scott, 25, who had been keeping company with Godfrey's 16-year-old daughter, Ruth.

- Del. Capt. Eugene Coon of homicide reported that Scott committed suicide when police closed in on him as he crouched in a tree on a wooded hillside in the city's Hazewood section.

- The police official said the suicide angle was based on the fact that four bullet wounds in Scott's chest were caused by slugs from a 22-caliber rifle.

- Scott was the only person using such a weapon during several exchanges of gunfire.

- Coon said it was a bullet from the service revolver of patrolman Melvin Cortez that killed Godfrey. Cortez was among the first police officers on the scene.

- It was believed Godfrey was dead when police arrived at his house early yesterday.

- But patrolman Leo Minchin, the second policeman to enter the residence, said Godfrey was alive but was caught in a crossfire between police and Scott, who was armed with a 22-caliber rifle.

- Minchin's partner, acting Lt. Coleman McDonough, 52, was hit five times and killed almost instantly. Homicide detectives said he was not able to get off a shot.

- Minchin, 36, suffered a leg wound but returned Scott's fire. A second wounded patrolman, 32-year-old Joseph LaFayette, remained in critical condition today at Montefiore Hospital. He was given the last rites of the Catholic Church yesterday.

- After shooting the three policemen, Scott fled into a nearby heavily wooded area and hid throughout the night. A force of 200 police surrounded the area and moved in at daybreak.

- Minchin's condition was listed as good.

- The violence began when Godfrey ordered Scott from his home.

- Bridge Jump Spectator Slips, Drowns in River

BUFFALO, N.Y. (UPI)—A man drowned in the Niagara River today when he fell from a dock where a crowd had gathered to watch another man who threatened to jump from the International Bridge.

Police said the dead man, who was unidentified, was watching a Catholic priest persuade Earl K. Harmon to come down from the bridge when he lost his footing on the dock and fell into the river.

Ex-Politician Sought After Missing Trial

DETROIT (AP)—A bench warrant was issued yesterday for former State Rep. Daniel W. West after he failed to show up for his trial in U.S. District Court on 117 counts of income tax fraud.

The 55-year-old West was being sought by U.S. marshals and agents from the Internal Revenue Service and the Secret Service.

The warrant was signed by Federal Judge Thaddeus M. Browne, who earlier gave West's attorney Fred K. Persons said he made a few phone calls to find West but did not reach his client.

"He must be sick or something or he would have been here," Persons said.

33 COUNTS

West is charged with 33 counts of making false claims on federal income tax returns. The others charge West with uttering and publishing bogus tax refund checks.

West was unmasked last December as a man who had assumed the guise of a deceased New York lawyer.

Commissioners Confirm Garage Assessment Plan

BIRMINGHAM — The City Commission last night confirmed its stand to assess central business district property owners a maximum 10 per cent of the cost on a $1,174,800 parking garage.

The commission, informed that the assessment roll is prepared for final approval July 19, but that the rate cannot be increased unless another public hearing is held.

He noted that the commission can lower or eliminate the rate when the assessment roll is prepared for final approval July 19, but that the rate cannot be increased unless another public hearing is held.

At a public hearing June 28 the structure was declared a necessity and the 10 per cent assessment rate tentatively set.

Businessmen attending that meeting objected to a proposal that they be assessed 40 per cent of the costs. They said they already had paid or were paying assessments for existing surface parking lots.

Construction of the five-deck structure on Woodward near Willis is scheduled to begin in January.

Under the 10 per cent plan, parking rates on long-term meters probably will be increased to provide additional funds.

Revenue derived from meters is used to finance construction of municipal parking facilities.

MOTION FAILS

While the rate was being reconsidered, Commissioner Carl Ingraham proposed that no as-essment be levied, but his motion failed for lack of support.

The commission requested the administration to return next week with a report on just what is required to change the rates on all-day parking meters.

In other business, the commission extended for one month an agreement to sell water from the Walker Well to the city of Troy.

The original agreement terminates July 31, but Troy informed the commission that it has a definite need for the water for a longer time.

WELL UNUSED

Birmingham no longer uses the Maple Road well for a water source.

The city commission also directed City Manager Robert Keating to set up a joint meeting with the Troy City Commission in the near future to discuss construction developments in Troy that affect Birmingham.

Birmingham commissioners have made it known that they have been "disappointed" over several zoning actions taken recently by Troy.

George W. Coombe Jr. was a candidate for president of the Birmingham Board of Education last night, while the Bloomfield Hills school board retained Richard H. McGraw in the top office.

Coombe, former vice president of the Birmingham board, succeeds E. Ross Hanson.

Dr. Charles A. Leach was named vice president. Secretary Mrs. Louise C. Adams and Treasurer Pell Hollingshead were reelected.

Soviet-Built Plane Crashes

30 Die in Mishap; Crewman Survives

CAIRO (AP)—A Soviet-built Egyptian air force plane with a Russian crew crashed in the desert near Suez today, killing 30 of the 31 persons aboard, a military announcement said.

A Russian gunner bailed out safely and walked to the nearest military post to report the crash, a spokesman said.

The big Antonov transport was bound for Yemen with one Egyptian officer, 21 soldiers and a Soviet crew of nine, the spokesman reported.

The plane reportedly was one of two Antonovs that took off before dawn from a base near Suez for Yemen.

NEAR HIGHWAY

The plane went down within sight of the main highway across the desert between Cairo and Suez.

Bus passengers arriving at Cairo said military guards sealed off the crash site. Wreckage was scattered over a wide area, witnesses said, and two engines were the only parts of the plane that could be readily identified.

Authorities said they may be the men wanted in a $13,400 armed robbery of a First National Bank branch in Portland Tuesday.

Two planes were in the air at dawn scanning the area. A helicopter search was made. Searchers with bloodhounds took to the fields.

Kernahan said it looked as though Smith had ordered the sports car to pull over and that the two occupants came on to the deputy's car, one on each side, and each fired pointblank at Smith.

Hunt Motive for Chicago Explosion

CHICAGO (AP)—Explosion of a bomb rocked office buildings at the western edge of Chicago's downtown area early today causing damage estimated in excess of $200,000 and leaving police puzzled in their hunt for a motive.

The blast, caused by a black powder bomb planted in a city refuse container in front of the 10-story Masonic building at 29 N. Wacker Drive, broke hundreds of windows in the structure and in nearby buildings.

It sent shrapnel as high as the 26th floor of the Kemper Insurance Building, which houses the city opera house and the civic theater, across Wacker Drive.

Two automobiles parked nearby were badly damaged by the explosion that occurred at 3:45 a.m., but no one was injured.

Police said the refuse container was in front of the sales showrooms of Friden Inc., an office machine manufacturing company which occupies almost the entire first floor of the Masonic building.

3200,000 DAMAGE

Damage to adding machines and computers on display there was estimated at $200,000.

John J. Angus, manager of the Friden office, said he was mystified by the blast.

Arthur Nolan, a detective on the city bomb and arson squad, said a preliminary investigation indicated the firm had no union troubles and that its competitors "are not the kind that throw bombs."

He said there is a possibility the bomb was a "test" device—set off by someone trying to determine the efficiency of a bomb to be used later.

W. Germans Propose Trade Pact With Reds

BONN, Germany (AP)—Chancellor Ludwig Erhard's government has made a new proposal for handling West German-Soviet trade, the foreign ministry reported today.

A ministry spokesman said the proposal was presented in Moscow Monday. He declined to disclose details.

Moberg won a year-long trial reconciliation Aug. 12 when he agreed in Circuit Court to give the test a try.

The agreement stipulated that if he broke even one of the 31 points "a divorce hearing will be had and all merchandise and all property will be given to Cecilia and the children Craig, 3, and Carl, 2 without a fight."

Divorce Is Canceled

'A' on 'Perfect Husband' Test

CHICAGO (AP)—A carpenter who passed a long and exacting "perfect husband" test with flying colors has been reconciled with his wife, who drafted the test.

For nearly 11 months, Curt Moberg, 33, has been living with a 31-point ultimatum issued by his wife, Cecilia, 39, requiring among other things, that he "cooperate in everything and anything."

He also agreed to give up all hunting and fishing trips, pay all bills on time, let his wife handle all financial matters, earn $125 or more a week for $2 weeks a year, and maintain an open-door policy for all relatives and friends.

Moberg won a year-long trial reconciliation Aug. 12 when he agreed in Circuit Court to give the test a try.

The agreement stipulated that if he broke even one of the 31 points "a divorce hearing will be had and all merchandise and all property will be given to Cecilia and the children Craig, 3, and Carl, 2 without a fight."

2,800 Marines Land in S. Viet

the relief force was ambushed and forced back.

As the Marines began coming ashore, about 25 B52 bombers of the U.S. Strategic Air Command flew 2,800 miles from Guam and dropped about 500 tons of bombs on an area in the Communist-infested D Zone jungle 35 miles northeast of Saigon.

A U.S. spokesman said no ground assessment of the damage had been made.

THIRD RAID

It was the third raid on a D Zone area by the huge eight-jet bombers.

U.S. Army paratroopers combining another sector of D Zone with a force of Vietnamese and Australian troops got into an intense, half-hour clash with the Viet Cong today about 25 miles northeast of Saigon and were planned down briefly by machine-gun fire.

A U.S. spokesman declined to say if there were any American casualties.

He said the Viet Cong broke off the attack after the Marines began strafing the area.

The operation began yesterday. The combined force blew up Viet Cong tunnels and abandoned huts, but made only negligible contact with the enemy.

The stabbing occurred in front of Talbot's home, 2045 Watkins Lake, Waterford Township, on June 27.

If jurisdiction is waived, the prosecutor's office will charge Pearson with first-degree murder. The hearing starts at 1:30 p.m.

Judge Norman Barnard was to hear testimony and then make a decision on the waiver of Ross Pearson, 1127 Alibi. Pearson has been held in custody of juvenile authorities since stabbing Jeffrey Talbot in view of more than 20 witnesses.

Next Steps 'Big Ones' in Space Race

HOUSTON (UPI)—America's adventuresome astronauts will spend eight days in orbit next month, message earth with a "ray gun" next year and possibly reside in a living room-sized space station by 1968.

And people are beginning to ask the question: What ever happened to the Russians?

The latest report in the U.S. bid for manned conquest of space came in three parts yesterday:

At Cape Kennedy, informed sources revealed Aug. 17 is now the planned launch date for the eight-day orbital flight of astronauts L. Gordon Cooper Jr. and Charles (Pete) Conrad. At the same time, their Gemini 5 capsule was slated to fly on Titan 2 booster rocket on pad 19.

At Houston, Gemini 7 pilot Frank Borman and copilot James A. Lovell said they will try to communicate with a ground tracking station over a slender beam of light on their planned 14-day orbital voyage, now expected around January 1966.

SPACE STATION

At Los Angeles, Maj. Gen. Ben I. Funk, commander of the Air Force Space Systems Division, said the 1966 military budget requests include $1 billion to build and launch a space station.

This presumably is the manned orbital laboratory (MOL) program that the Air Force expects to have approved by President Johnson this month.

Space veteran Cooper and rookie Conrad were on hand at Cape Kennedy when their 7,000-pound Gemini capsule was delicately lowered and bolted to the top of the two-stage Titan 2 rocket. Still ahead are five weeks of intensive checkouts before they can leave.

Meanwhile, space agency officials in Houston said flatly that neither Cooper nor Conrad would attempt a "walk in space" similar to that taken by astronaut Edward H. White during the four-day voyage of Gemini 4 last month. The Gemini 5 astronauts will not have the right equipment along.

REPORTS DENIED
Also, Houston officials denied recurring reports that an Atlas Agena rocket now at the Cape would be launched to provide a target for a "rendezvous and docking" attempt on the flight of Gemini 5.

Instead, that must await the voyage of astronauts Walter M. Schirra and Thomas P. Stafford aboard Gemini 6, now set for October.

Very likely, said Borman, the Agena target rocket from that flight will still be in orbit when he and Lovell depart for the skies early next year. If so, the Gemini 7 team may attempt to rendezvous with — but not link up with — the satellite.

However, more dramatic was the scheduled first attempt at laser communication. A laser transmits a beam of light that, like wire or cable, can carry voices and messages.

LASER SIGNAL

A station at White Sands, N.M., will flash a laser signal to Borman and Lovell as Gemini 7 soars by 100 miles overhead at five miles a second. The astronauts will try to answer by pointing their capsule nose downward and aiming a 10-pound, handheld laser "ray gun" at the ground where White Sands should be.

A final decision on whether to go ahead with the Air Force's MOL — America's first space station project — is expected within days. Vice President Hubert Humphrey, chairman of the National Aeronautics and Space Council, probably will review the proposal this week.

But the announcement likely will be made by President Johnson.

If all goes well, the first MOL — 10 feet in diameter and about 25 to 30 feet long, or about the space of the average living room — will be fired into orbit aboard a Titan 3C super-rocket in 1968.

38-DAY LIMIT

Funk said astronauts could stay aboard MOL for as long as 30 days.

Rumors continued to crop up that the Soviet Union would launch a new manned spectacular — perhaps an attempt to link up two manned satellites in space before Schirra and Stafford get their chance — sometime this summer.

Russian authorities, as usual, were saying nothing. The last Soviet manned shot was the Vokhod 2 which brought the "spacewalk" of cosmonaut Alexei Leonov last March 18.

Hand Spankings OK'd for Berkeley Pupils

BEKELEY, Calif. (AP) — Hand spankings of grammar school pupils have been authorized by the Berkeley School Board to prevent what a member termed "Little Caesars." The board voted Tuesday night to permit principals, deans and teachers to spank "as promptly as possible after the offense, to associate the punishment with the specific need for control."

"All I said was:

Claims Romney 'Denying Votes'

LANSING (AP)—Senate Majority Leader Raymond Dzendzel, D-Detroit, accused Gov. George Romney Tuesday of trying to deny votes to "those who may be less fortunate, but who definitely have an intelligent vote."

Dzendzel was criticizing Romney's vote of a bill which would have permitted local units to use a four-year voter registration system rather than the now-mandatory two-year system.

Romney said state election laws should be uniform. Earlier in the session, he vetoed a mandatory four-year bill, arguing that the two-year law lessens the chance of election fraud.

Dzendzel said "the governor assumes our citizens are unable to recognize their citizenship responsibility and may not vote in every election, unless they are forced to register to vote every two years before being 'authorized' their birthright."

To Air Problem on Road Signs

WASHINGTON (AP)—A group of Michigan state legislators meets today with officials of the Bureau of Public Roads to discuss a controversy involving the withholding of federal highway funds when states permit commercial signs to be placed on rights-of-way.

The delegation is headed by Sen. Stanley Rozyczki of Detroit, chairman of the State Senate Highway Committee.

One of the questions to be discussed with D. H. Anders, the bureau's general counsel and other federal officials, is the type of legislation needed to meet federal standards.

A bureau spokesman said states that receive federal highway funds must have laws that prohibit placing of commercial signs on actual rights-of-way. This has nothing to do with advertising signs beyond the rights-of-way, the spokesman said.

DECLARED INVALID

The Michigan Supreme Court recently declared invalid a 1925 state antislavery law.

As a result, the Public Roads Bureau gave the state 90 days, ending Aug. 24, in which to get the situation in shape to control billboards and other commercial signs on the rights-of-way in the state involving federal highways. Otherwise, the bureau said, it would not approve aid funds for the state.

GOP, Dixie Dems Join Vote Bill Push

WASHINGTON (AP)—Efforts to build a Republican-Southern Democratic coalition in support of a Republican substitute for the administration's voting rights bill were under way today in the House.

The move suffered a setback Tuesday when Rep. John V. Lindsay, R-N.Y., GOP candidate for mayor of the city of New York, came out strongly for the administration measure.

But the coalition got a big push from Rep. Howard Smith, opened debate on the legislation, told them the administration version was vengeful and flagrantly unconstitutional. But he said they could support the Republican bill.

DRIPPING VENOM

"See how it lacks the dripping venom that pours from every paragraph and sentence of the (administration) bill," said Smith of the GOP measure. It is cosponsored by House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford and Rep. William M. McCulloch, R-Ohio, senior Republican on the Judiciary Committee.

McCulloch said his bill was fairer and sounder than the administration one, and added some arguments designed to Rules Committee.

Smith, speaking to his South appeal to Southerners.

"Under the Ford-McCulloch bill there will be no 'carpetbagger' examiners from far away places to perform their important duties in strange surroundings," he said. He referred to a provision requiring that federal registrars activated under the bill be residents of the state in which they are to serve. There is no restriction on the residence of such officials in the administration bill.

McCulloch also said his bill "respects state interests in literacy qualifications and recognizes the constitutional rights of a state to enact and maintain its own nondiscriminatory voting qualification laws." He said the administration's measure does not do this.

LITERACY TESTS

The administration bill would automatically suspend literacy tests in seven Southern states—Alabama, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina and Virginia—where less than 50 per cent of the adult population voted or was registered last November. Federal examiners could then be sent in to register qualified Negroes.

The GOP bill would authorize federal examiners only in a state or county where 25 residents complained of being denied the right to register or vote because of race or color. Literacy tests would be suspended in such areas only for those who had at least a sixth grade education.

Lindsay, who had voted for the administration bill in preference to the GOP substitute in the Judiciary Committee, said he would do so again on the House floor when a vote on final passage comes, probably on Friday.

In spite of some shortcomings, he said, "It is directed at a fundamental problem that is disgracing this country today and its provisions offer an efficient means of dealing with that problem."

The strength of the GOP-Southern Democratic coalition won't be tested until Thursday when voting will begin on amendments to the bill.

Treasury Receipts Up $4 Billion in Fiscal '65 Despite Tax Cut

NEW YORK (AP) — Despite last year's big tax cut, the U.S. Treasury's total cash receipts in the fiscal year ended last Wednesday rose by nearly $4 billion from the year before, the New York Times said today.

ton, the Times said: "The Treasury's final statement for the fiscal year also disclosed today that total cash spending exceeded receipts by less than $1 billion, the smallest deficit since 1960.

receipts, the Treasury wound up the fiscal year with $11.5 billion in the bank, up $1.5 billion from a year earlier. This will reduce borrowing needs in the current fiscal year."

The newspaper said the rise in receipts, despite the tax cuts, had been expected by both the government and private economists "because of the upsurge in the economy partly induced by the tax cut."

The newspaper account also said: "It is generally agreed cutting tax rates and getting higher receipts can work only as long as the economy has idle resources of plant and labor and thus has room to expand. If the economy were fully employed, a tax cut would produce no additional economic activity and would instead contribute to inflation. Receipts might fall."

House Okay on Cigarette Warning Seen

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House is expected to mirror the Senate and approve compromise legislation to require a health warning on all cigarette packages.

This compromise bill cleared the Senate Tuesday by voice vote. How quickly the House acts depends on when the Democratic leadership decides to put aside temporarily its debate on the voting rights bill.

House approval would send the cigarette measure to the White House.

A chief critic of the legislation, Rep. John E. Moss, D-Calif., told a reporter he sees no way to block passage. But he said he plans to "make my views known."

"Caution, cigarette smoking may be hazardous to your health."

Bandit Robs Bank After Police Chief Leaves

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A bandit held up the Coral Gables Savings and Loan Association Tuesday just after a police chief had walked out.

The robber handed two tellers a bribe and told them to "fill it up." He did not show a weapon. Police Chief Jack Knight of the nearby community of Sweetwater had just made a mortgage payment and walked out.

Parents: These Rules May Save Your Child

Parents, take three minutes and read your children these rules. They will not remember them all, yet the one they may remember could save them from a lot of trouble.

This is the season of the year that the degenerates are on the prowl.

Your children don't realize this, so give them some assistance and read these suggested rules to them tonight.

- 1-Don't talk to strangers or accept any offer of money, candy or gifts to go for a walk or ride with them.
- 2-Report to your parents, police or teacher any suspicious stranger who tries to join you or your group.
- 3-Stay with playmates when outdoors. Don't play or walk alone in alleys, deserted buildings or other secluded areas.
- 4-Don't go alone to the movies, fairs or carnivals. Try to have at least one companion wherever you go.
- 5-Keep a safe distance from the road so that a stranger in a passing car cannot easily reach out and seize you.
- 6-Don't loiter in public rest rooms. These are danger spots.
- 7-These rules are for your protection. Don't let anyone persuade you to disobey them. If you have any question or problem, tell your parents.

Robert W. Hodge

Friends and associates were saddened by the death Sunday of ROBERT W. HODGE, a Detroit-born graduate of the University of Michigan Engineering School and the Detroit College of Law. HODGE practiced law in the area for some thirty years.

He was active on a wide spectrum of community activity, serving as Oakland County Republican Chairman and for 20 years as an official of his home village of Lake Angelus Shores. Kindred interests had made him president of the Oakland Citizens League and a trustee of Civic Research, Inc.

He saw military service with the ordnance division of the War Department during World War II, and subsequently as a reserve officer. In the passing of Mr. Hodge with his warm and outgoing personality, the community loses a most estimable and talented figure.

He will be keenly missed by all privileged to know him.

Alcoholism the Target of a United Campaign

Michigan business is moving to make its business what has been generally considered a social problem.

It is Alcoholism. Although both industry and trade-union leadership decry lack of concrete data, there is agreement that the drinking bill costs American business over $1 billion annually in sick leave, absenteeism, inefficiency and accidents.

They also reveal the shocking estimate that 5 per cent of all business and industrial workers are alcoholics.

A University of Michigan task team after a 10,000-employee survey found that problem drinkers:

- Were absent 7 1/2 times as many days as were normal workers;
- Cost three times as much in sickness benefits;
- Were involved in 3.6 times as many accidents as the normal force.

Until recently, programs to combat alcoholism have been confined to major industrial entities and conducted on pretty much of a private basis.

But with the affliction assuming the alarming proportions it has, broad programs involving industry and business as a whole leagued with employee unions, medical authorities and social agencies are being activated.

The director of the 14-year-old State Board of Alcoholism declares that "gradually industry and business have come to look on alcoholism as a treatable disease."

That it can be treated is witnessed by the countless numbers of the once-afflicted who have found redemption within themselves or through understanding assistance and treatment from other sources.

Past Presidents Not as Dramatic

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON — Presidents Harry S. Truman and Dwight D. Eisenhower were seldom out of the news, but they never dominated it in the manner of Presidents Johnson and John F. Kennedy.

In their sense of the dramatic, Truman and Eisenhower were no match for Kennedy and Johnson. Kennedy always knew where the center of the stage was but he never occupied it so steadily as Johnson, who has built his tent there.

In the first half of 1965, events seemed to revolve around Johnson and get overshadowed in the process. He made them revolve around him.

His aides and members of his administration, either naturally or by order, let him do the talking. And what he had to say came in a ceaseless torrent: speeches, news conferences, statements, messages, garden conversations.

The two men in Johnson's administration who, next to the President, do most of the talking are Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara.

Even so, they're just echoes of Johnson. They're explainers, not announcers. Johnson does all the major announcing.

CONGRESS SECONDARY
Even the role of Congress appeared secondary to the performance of the energetic and dramatic man in the White House.

In the first six months of any year, congressional lightning, plus occasional belching, and the struggle between the men in the Capitol and the President take up a good part of the front pages.

But this year, Congress has been comparatively quiet while tackling and passing some major legislation and laying the necessary groundwork for passing much more in the months coming up.

True, Johnson's foreign policies got some criticism in Congress and from other sources.

But, by and large, he seemed undisturbed and kept on making statements or talking of new programs that got a lot more attention than the criticism.

Some of his best help came from the Republican leadership on Capitol Hill. Lately there's been some rumbling from congressional Republicans, but not of a strenuous kind. It may pick up sound as the 1966 congressional elections get closer. Nevertheless, now as this Johnson public relations picture is, there's a wait-and-see air about it. No one knows, and perhaps Johnson himself doesn't know, how he'll perform if events turn sour on him.

'They Hung Up On Me!'

David Lawrence Says:

Rebaptism Shows U.S. Freedom

WASHINGTON — Throughout the world last week went the news item announcing that Luci Johnson, age 18, had been converted to the Roman Catholic religion.

If she had not been the daughter of the President — and, in this instance, had been planned for more than five years.

The episode, however, has a deep meaning for all nations. It reminds the world not only that tolerance of all religions prevails in the United States but that individual freedom of choice is recognized here by parental acceptance.

Indeed, this is no novel doctrine, as the Vedic Scriptures of thousands of years ago repeatedly reiterated that the soul has no creed, caste, color, race or sex.

LAWRENCE

Religious conflicts unfortunately are still divisive of national unity in some countries and have overflowed into political channels.

BITTER FEELINGS
The bitter feeling, for example, between the Buddhists and Catholics in Viet Nam is partly responsible for the overthrow of one or more regimes in Saigon during the present turbulence.

In the free world, to be sure, the emphasis in recent years has turned toward the many things which all religions have in common.

There is a growing acceptance of the view that good government cannot endure without a basic morality developed out of the religious spirit of the people.

The relations between the major churches of the world nowadays are becoming more and more friendly and reciprocal, and this is designed to remove the regrettable antagonisms that have arisen in the past.

COMMON ASPIRATIONS
The Vatican in the last few years has been discussing with leaders of other churches in the world the common aspirations that motivate all faiths.

Incidentally, this is not a new objective. Just 35 years ago in India, a profound address was delivered to the first all-Asian education conference by Bhagavan Das, a noted Hindu scholar, on the subject: "The Essential Unity of All Religions." It later was published throughout the world as an uncopyrighted book.

The famous Hindu scholar drew this conclusion:

"So long as men and women are left, are encouraged, are even positively taught, to believe that religions differ, even in essentials, so long will they, as the followers of such different religions, also necessarily continue to differ, to quarrel, to fight, to shed each other's blood. If, on the contrary, they are led to see that all religions are one and the same — in essentials — they will also assuredly become one in heart, and feel their common humanity in loving brotherhood."

Capital Letter:

Are Bay Staters Trying to Split Up the Kennedys?

By RUTH MONTGOMERY
WASHINGTON — Some Bay State congressmen are reportedly attempting to drive a political wedge between Sen. Ted Kennedy and his elder brother, Sen. Robert Kennedy.

Several members of the Massachusetts delegation, which meets once a month for political shop talk, confide that they take turns needling Ted Kennedy with such remarks as: "When you met Bobby for breakfast this morning, did MONTGOMERY you genuflect?" and "When Bobby goes down the drain trying to fight LBJ, are you going down with him?"

They report that "at first Ted would get mad and defend Bobby, but now he just grins and says, 'Oh, Bobby's all right. You fellows lay off.'"

The legislators claim that there's a method in their madness. They explain that they want another president from Massachusetts, and feel that unless Teddy strikes out independently of the junior senator from New York, he'll be backed into a political corner.

"We think Ted Kennedy has a strong chance for the presidency in 1972, if he'll stop listening to Bobby and follow an independent course," one of them declared. "President Johnson is so down on Bobby that Ted will suffer accordingly, unless he becomes his own man. After all, Ted's the one who most resembles the late president."

THINGS TO COME
One source sees a portent of things to come in the current New York mayoralty race, saying: "Bobby was itching to have LBJ call Alex Rose to ask that the Liberal party back a Democratic candidate. This would have helped Kennedy politically, but the President didn't lift a hand because he knew it."

Ted Kennedy is genuinely popular with the Massachusetts delegation, including Speaker John McCormack, whose favorite nephew, Ed McCormack, reportedly hopes to get Teddy's backing for his gubernatorial candidacy next year.

They feel that they owe no loyalty to Bob Kennedy, who broke his Bay State political ties when he won election as senator from New York.

The congressmen want no part of Bobby's feud with President Johnson, which could hurt their own patronage and influence; but they do want another White House occupant from the state, and their best chance lies with Sen. Ted Kennedy.

HIT HOME

As one of the congressmen phrased it: "This is why we keep ribbing Teddy about how Bobby tried to discourage him from running for the Senate, or entering a governmental career. We hope some of the shafts will hit home."

It looks like a long, hot summer for the devoted Kennedy brothers.

Reader Expresses Views on New School Programs

I see the educators have another revolutionary new reading program. The ITA alphabet had its first experimental study in this country only two years ago, in Pontiac only last year. Yet already it's proclaimed "a great success." How can anyone judge its merits until at least the first group reached reading maturity?

I'm neither for nor against the system. It may very well be the "glory road" to reading. But then again, it could fail as dismally as some of the "great new innovations" tried in the past. In that case, what do we do about the children who didn't learn to read properly as a result? New ideas must be tried, but public schools are not the place. Experimental education should be left to private institutions where parents have a choice of taking the risk involved. Public school families must accept what is offered, good or bad. Few can afford a choice. For that reason, I feel public school programs should be only those that have been proven effective, especially for something so vital as reading.

In the case of the new alphabet, a few experiments in first and second grade, however promising, seem grossly inadequate for judging its over-all effectiveness.

Suggest Legislation on Misusing Firearms

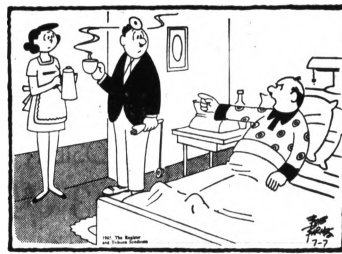

If the anti-gun group in our Senate and Congress were really interested in crime prevention, they would have to admit that crimes are committed by people and not by guns. It is therefore suggested that legislation be passed that might discourage some of these people from misusing firearms. A bill which meets these requirements is H.R. 5642, introduced in the 89th Congress by Honorable Bob Casey of Texas.

If a gun were as terrible as some of our lawmakers would have us believe, I do not think that the late President Kennedy would have made a gift of one to the president of the United Mexican States.

Example of Cloth

Chicago Tribune

In later editions we gave our editorial views on the effrontery of rabble-rousers presuming to dictate to Mayor Daley and the Chicago board of education what will satisfy their "civil rights" demands. These people have elected themselves as a kind of super-government without portfolio, and everybody else is expected to yield to them and get out of their way.

If they are crossed, they threaten to bring disturbances to the streets and to tie up traffic, and their spokesmen have made the insane statement that if he doesn't succeed in removing the superintendent of schools he is prepared "to go to jail for 30 years to solve this question." The prospect may be accepted with equanimity.

We find it difficult to understand why clergymen who support such wild talk and wild demands think they are helping contribute to the cause of religion. Among the elements of religion are order, authority, charity, and peace, and we find none of these in campaigns of civil insurrection. Of 41 persons arrested in recent street disturbances here, 61 of the adult males — 76 per cent — were clergymen.

Therefore Mayor Daley was entirely correct in saying, first, that law and order will be enforced in Chicago, and his appeal for a cessation of civil strife was addressed not only to the demonstrators but to the religious leaders whom he expected to set a proper example by following the law.

That example has been conspicuously absent when members of the cloth desert their pulpits and take to the streets. In respect for the clergy enhanced when citizens see their representatives lying in the dust at State and Madison streets with hands linked to agitators?

Church authority was concerned when the Rev. James G. Jones, director of development for Episcopal Churches, invited his arrest by engaging in a sit-down designed to disrupt rush hour traffic at the city's busiest intersection. His activities imply that they carry the board's approval, which they do not, and board members feel that the priest has a full-time job which he voluntarily assumed and for which he is paid, and that demonstrating, being arrested and seeking publicity infringe upon his responsibilities.

Former Justice Charles E. Whitaker of the United States Supreme Court recently observed that lawless actions did not have their origin in racial strife but in the unjust, sit-ins, and lie-downs of an earlier era.

"They have recently used these techniques," Mr. Whitaker continued, "to incite their followers to assemble, from far and wide — often, unfortunately, with the encouragement and at the expense of well-meaning but misguided church organizations — into large and loosely assembled groups, which many have regarded as mobs, to wage what they have called 'demonstrations' to force the grant of 'rights' in defiance of the law, the courts, and all constituted authority."

This is precisely what has been going on in Chicago, and we believe that the overwhelming majority of citizens is heartily sick of it and will support the mayor and police in ending it for good and all. That result will be more speedily achieved when the clergy shows respect for the principle that communication of views on public questions must be regulated in the interest of all, and must be exercised in subordination to the general comfort and convenience, and in consonance with peace and good order.

Teen Over Noisy Brawl: It's My Fault

SOUTHGATE (AP) — A teenager whose noisy July Fourth party ended in a brawl with police and landed him in jail said Tuesday he doesn't blame his father for letting him serve his sentence.

Albert P. (Buddy) Scobie, 18, was given 15 days in jail in lieu of a $100 fine on a disorderly charge filed against him after the beer and rock 'n' roll party. His father, Albert J. Scobie, had refused to pay the fine.

"He (Scobie's father) comes back and finds himself smeared all over the city—he's a respectable citizen," young Scobie told reporters from his jail cell.

"It's my fault," he added.

FAMILY NOT HOME
The other members of the Scobie family were away for the holiday weekend when the party, attended by some 80 teenagers, erupted. Forty police officers were called to squelch the backyard commotion. Three officers were injured. Fourteen teenagers were arrested.

"The police weren't at fault," Scobie continued. "They were pretty good cops. They had to use force. They never would have got it broke up if they hadn't."

The youth said he had not tried to talk to his father, but he disagreed with his father's reported statement in which the elder Scobie called his son "a hoodlum."

'NO SUCH THING'
"There is no such thing as a hoodlum," young Scobie said. "We're not different from other teenagers. Sure we go out and have a beer now and then. But usually we don't bother anyone."

Police were called three times to the party at the Scobie home. Neighbors had complained about the noise from the teenagers and a three-piece combo. The fight broke out at the last visit.

The father told newsmen earlier he planned to order his son out of the house.

MANY ARGUMENTS
The son said he had many arguments with his father over the last few years. He said he had moved out of the house for a while after he dropped out of 11th grade.

"I disgraced my family," the boy said. "That's the only thing that bothers me now. I'd sooner sit 30 days in jail than disgrace my family. I'd like to apologize."

Asked what he would do once his jail term is over, Scobie said "I'll try to find a job. If I can't, maybe I'll join the Army or the Marines...Then I'll see if I can get me a decent girl and maybe I'll settle down."

Meanwhile, Wayne County Prosecutor Samuel H. Olsen said his office would "do everything possible" to prevent such trouble as occurred at the Southgate party.

Olsen said, "the people of Wayne County want peace and quiet and we're going to do everything possible to give it to them. We're going to charge every young hoodlum who has violated the law to the fullest extent that the law permits, and we're going to use every means possible to prevent this sort of thing from happening again."

Israeli Leader Dies at Age 70

JERUSALEM, Israel Sector (AP) — Moshe Sharet, one of the Zionist leaders who helped found the state of Israel in 1948, died today of cancer. He was 70.

Sharet was prime minister from 1963 to 1965 and was foreign minister from 1948 until 1956, holding both posts for a time. He was a leader of the labor movement in Israel.

He is survived by his widow, two sons and a daughter.

Sharet ranked next to David Ben-Gurion as senior statesman and founder of the state of Israel until he resigned from the Foreign Ministry in June 1956. Mrs. Golda Meir succeeded him.

He was Israel's first foreign minister. He and Ben-Gurion were the nation's only prime ministers in the nation's first years of life. Ben-Gurion succeeded him as prime minister.

An illness last January prevented Sharet from attending the Zionist Congress at which he was re-elected chairman of the Executive Agency.

A thoughtful intellectual, Sharet was born Moshe Sheretok in Russia on Oct. 16, 1894. He changed his name to symbolize his Zionist identification. He emigrated to Palestine at the age of 10. Starting as a shepherd boy he developed into a cosmopolitan, well-tailored diplomat.

In his early twenties, Sharet went to Constantinople to study law, but World War I intervened, and he served as a lieutenant in the Turkish army.

When the war ended, Britain was in control of the Holy Land, and extended the promise of a national homeland to the Jews. Sharet was one of those chosen to build the framework as a member of the Zionist Commission.

In the years between wars, Sharet worked with other Israeli leaders blueprinting the establishment of hundreds of collective settlements and a powerful trade union.

Pontiac City Affairs

House Numbers on Street Plan Is 'Curbed'

City Commissioners last night gave a divided "no" reply to a proposal to paint house numbers on the curbs of city streets.

The commission voted down a resolution to give city permission for the curb painting by Hal G. Krag of Wayne. Last week Krag had sought the commission's okay to go ahead with the project. The issue was tabled one week.

Krag had offered to begin a citywide project to paint house numbers on curbs as a donation bases. Krag said the charge would be voluntary from a smile up to $1.

Commissioner Leslie H. Hudson, who raised the strongest objection to the numbering plan, said that if the project was a good idea it should be city-sponsored.

He objected to the basis on which home owners would be asked to pay for the curb numbering.

FAVORABLE REPORT

Upon Hudson's request, city officials had a check made of Krag's work performance on a similar project in Wayne. The report was favorable from Wayne officials.

Voting against the curb painting were Hudson, Mayor William H. Taylor Jr., and Commissioners Robert C. Irwin and Wesley J. Wood.

The city seeks to use $300,000 from the 1962 bond issue for water improvements. The funds would help finance construction of new water mains in the northeast corner of the city.

City Manager Joseph A. Warren reported last night that nearly all the improvements called for in the 1962 bond issue have been made.

Unexpended proceeds from the bond issue total about $297,578, he said. Cost of the water mains is estimated at $268,819. Special assessments of $71,185 would be made.

CALL FOR BIDS

The commission also authorized the city clerk to advertise for bids on the water mains. Bids are to be received at 2 p.m., July 28.

An agreement with Aerodynamics, Inc., to sell jet fuel at Pontiac Municipal Airport was approved last night in other commission action.

The city would receive about $1,000 a year in revenue on the sale of the jet fuel.

The commission set new sewer charges for two local auto plants, Fisher Body Division and General Motors Truck and Coach Division.

NEW RATES SET

The new rates result from extensive negotiations between plant representatives and city administrators dating back to December, 1964, according to Mayor Taylor.

Dies in Air Terminal

CHICAGO (AP)—Rose White, 49, of Webberville, Mich., collapsed and died Tuesday, apparently of natural causes in the American Airlines terminal at O'Hare International Airport. Mrs. White, with her husband Daniel, 50, was starting a vacation trip to Honolulu.

In the past, industrial billings have been on a factor set up in 1938, said city officials.

City Engineer Joseph E. Neippling estimated that the city would receive $30,000 a year more in sewer service charges from Fisher Body and $12,000 more a year from Truck and Coach with the new rates.

Final commercial rezoning was approved last night for a lot at the rear of Economy Welding & Fabricating Corp., 815 Auburn.

HOUSING

The annual report of the Pontiac Housing Commission was received in other business last night. The report details the 1964 operations of Lakeside Homes, the city's only public housing project.

Also, the commission passed two resolutions commending E. M. Estes during his tenure as general manager of Pontiac Motor Division and welcoming John DeLorean as the new manager of that division.

Action on the construction of curb, gutter, grade and gravel on Whittemore from East Boulevard to Clifford was tabled indefinitely. A protest petition signed by over 58 per cent of the property owners was submitted.

A hearing on similar construction for Cottage was tabled one week because of the objection of a resident there.

Spaceport a Sprawling Giant

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the second article in a three-part series on the United States lunar program.)

By AL ROSSITER JR.
CAPE KENNEDY (UPI)

America's No. 1 spaceport is bigger and busier than ever. It has the world's largest building, a huge crawler that runs on a road as wide as an eight-lane expressway, a massive launch complex built in the middle of a lagoon and a 26,000-man work force.

And it still has the launch pads that made its name a household term back in the 1950s and early 1960s when the United States was racing to build a strategic missile force.

Times have changed. The cape's job is no longer just to develop military missiles, although some are still being tested.

It is now a base for space exploration, a launch site for America's manned and unmanned space shots.

BIGGEST JOB

And the biggest job of all is preparing for Project Apollo, the $20 billion program started by President Kennedy in 1961. Its goal is to land two men on the moon before 1970.

To do it, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) is building a huge moonport on an 85,000-acre tract on Merritt Island, west of the main missile launch area at Cape Kennedy proper. The estimated cost: $1 billion.

Most impressive structure at the space center is the huge Vehicle Assembly Building, VAB for short, that will house the 364-foot Saturn-5 moon rocket while they are being assembled for launch.

This Colossus is so big that if its air-conditioning system breaks down, clouds could form inside and rain could fall.

82 STORIES TALL

The building is 82 stories tall, 716 feet long and 518 feet wide. Adjoining it is the "blockhouse" of the Apollo program — a four-story control center longer than a football field.

The VAB will do away with the present method of assembling rockets stage by stage on the launching pad and keeping them there for weeks or even months during extensive check-out periods.

NASA plans to put the towering, 7.5-million pound thrust Saturn-5's together in the VAB on mobile launchers that themselves are massive pieces of equipment.

The launchers will be moved about by a turtle-like crawler larger than a baseball diamond. One of the monstrous $5.2 million machines is now undergoing tests and the second is under construction.

3 MONTHS' WORK

As envisioned by Apollo planners, the Saturn-5 rockets and their three-man moonships will be assembled on the launcher in the VAB in about three months. Three can be put together at one time in the huge building.

Then, when a Saturn-5 is ready, it will be moved to one of two launch pads three miles away.

The moving job is up to one of the crawlers. It will edge beneath the launcher and then lift it and the mighty rocket — a 6,500-ton load — on its back and creep toward the launch site at 1 mile per hour along a specially prepared roadway.

"You have to look down at the ground to make sure you're still moving," said Gunther Lehmann, an engineer who drove the crawler during recent tests.

HAS 8 TREADS

The machine moves on eight caterpillar treads. It has a special system of hydraulic jacks to keep its Saturn-5 rocket balanced almost perfectly upright during the trip to the pad.

After five to 10 days of final tests, fueling and launch preparations, the mighty rocket and its Apollo moonship will be ready for blastoff.

The space agency's moon rocket complex does not stop with the Saturn-5 assembly building or launch site.

Five miles to the south, a small space city has been created to handle the administrative and engineering duties linked to Project Apollo and the Gemini two-man spaceflight program now under way.

WORK GOES ON

Construction and expansion also continues at the missile area on the cape itself.

One Saturn launch pad is being modified to handle the Saturn-1B super boosters that will start orbiting three-man Apollo ships in 1967. The first Saturn-1B test flight is now set for early next year.

Another complex, which had been used for flight tests of the Titan-2 Intercontinental Ballistic Missile (ICBM), is now being reworked for tests of the Apollo moonship's rocket engines.

Order to Hubbard
Due Hearing Today

DETROIT (AP) — A court hearing was scheduled for today on a Michigan Civil Rights Commission order forbidding Dearborn Mayor Orville Hubbard to post anti-Negro clippings to city hall bulletin boards.

The hearing was set in Wayne County Circuit Court before Judge Edward S. Piggins. The commission issued the order Jan. 26, saying stories pinned to the bulletin board were "derogatory" to Negroes.

Hubbard contends the commission has no jurisdiction in the matter.

Achievement, Ability Abound at Unique School of Music

"Hey! We're late!" was the cry as these students hurry from the dorm to auditions. Bob Skinner of Jackson (from left), Jerry Collins, Fenton; John Wiling of Oak Park and Al Edwards, Cleveland, are among the 415 students attending the first Meadow Brook School of Music at Oakland University this summer. The school began Tuesday with the choral division to last four weeks and the instrumental program six weeks.

Flint resident, Eleanor Grandas, auditions for the orchestral section which will be under the direction of Detroit Symphony flutist, Albert Tipton (left). Students were auditioned to determine their capabilities and limitations. Each student will participate in the section of his major field of interest, take private lessons, and either enroll in an academic course or take lessons on another instrument.

Giles Kandt of Palmer Drive, a Pontiac Northern graduate, is slowly working his way through the maze of the school's registration. Giles, a baritone, will be a member of the chorale conducted by famed musician, Robert Shaw. Over 200 of the students are enrolled for the four-week choral program.

Dr. and Mrs. Luther R. Leader, their daughter Jane, son Albert C. (better known as Gus) and daughter and son-in-law, the Bruce Wilsons are back home after spending the weekend with Mrs. Leader's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Appleford at their farm in Warm Springs, Va.

Albert Leader who is in the U.S. Marine Corps is home on several weeks' furlough.

The Leaders hosted an impromptu party for 40 of their son's friends upon his arrival.

Mrs. D. K. Roosevelt leaves immediately following this week's concert at Meadow Brook for San Francisco to spend the summer with her daughters and their families, Mr. and Mrs. Agar Jaicks and Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Katten.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Tipton will occupy Mrs. Roosevelt's home while she is away.

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Hutton of Rochester, N.Y. are spending part of the summer with their daughter and son-in-law Mr. and Mrs. John R. Hutton in Birmingham.

The Fourth of July weekend, the Huttons spent with a friend of many years, Mrs. William Zabriskie.

Colonel and Mrs. Edward Moegle gave a large dinner party on their farm "Edrene Acres" in Armada July 4. This has been a tradition of many years.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward S. Wellock returned home yesterday after spending a long weekend with the John Wellocks of Harbor Beach.

The young Japanese couple, Mr. and Mrs. Toro Suzuki, who last summer were married with Mr. and Mrs. Wellock taking the place of the Suzukis' parents, enjoyed the Wellock home while their hosts were at Harbor Beach.

Her Sister Attends the Bride

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: Will you please resolve what seems to be contradictory advice concerning the giving of bride showers?

Information I have read states that the maid of honor is expected to give a shower for the bride-to-be. It further states that it is improper for a sister to give a shower.

I am the sister of a bride-to-be and am also going to be her maid of honor. What does one do in this situation?

Does the fact that I am going to be the maid of honor excuse the impropriety of my giving a shower for my sister?

A: It will not be proper for you as a sister of the bride-to-be to give a shower for her.

Furthermore, there is no such obligation on the maid of honor.

Q: When a man is sitting with a group and is about to smoke, is it necessary that he offer cigarettes to all the others?

A: It is polite to offer a cigarette to those next to him, but he need not pass them to those sitting further away.

The Emily Post Institute cannot answer personal mail, but all questions of general interest are answered in this column.

"Oh no! I'm next!" is the lament of Wayne State University student, Kay Buchbinder of Franklin. All the high school and college students, as well as adult musicians, were auditioned Tuesday. They will now take their places in the university orchestra, orchestra conductors' workshop, youth chorus, university chorus or choral conductors' workshop. Walter Collins is dean of the school and Sixten Ehring its music director.

You Can't Have Both

Ease or Independence?

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am a 31-year-old woman who has been divorced five years. I have two children. We live with my parents as my mother is always at home, which makes it convenient for me to work.

Besides, if I had my own place it would put a strain on my budget, and my job requires that I dress well and own my own car. I do pay room and board, however.

All my life my father has been domineering, unreasonable and very narrow-minded. Even my mother has never dared to cross him.

If I am not in by 12 o'clock, he goes out looking for me. He has burst into places, insulted my escort, and has literally dragged me home with him.

My friends have all been respectable, but after such a scene, they never call again. I don't want to move out as it is so very comfortable and convenient having Mother to look after my children, and do all the laundry and cooking and cleaning.

But I can't live like this, either. What would you do if you were in my shoes?

WANTS FREEDOM

DEAR WANTS: Which do you want more? The convenience of a live-in cook, cleaning woman and 24-hour babysitting service? Or, the right to live your own life? Obviously, you can't have both. If I were in your shoes, I would prefer the latter. And the longer you wait, the more difficult the break will be.

DEAR ABBY: I suspected that my husband was running around with a certain girl so I had him tailed by a private detective.

They followed him to a motel where he checked in with this girl. They stayed only 32 minutes and then left. Do you think he could be guilty of wrongdoing?

DEAR WIFE: You're his wife; I'd ask you. Could he?

DEAR ABBY: In a club initiation recently I had to shoplift a pair of shoes. I did this easily at a self-service shoe mart by taking a new pair of shoes and replacing them with an old pair I wore in.

I didn't feel guilty while I was doing it, but I do now. I wanted to get into this club at all costs because all the cool kids belong. What should I do?

FEELING GUILTY

DEAR FEELING: Return the stolen shoes to the manager of the shoe mart, explain the circumstances and take the consequences.

Since you wore the shoes out of the store, prepare to pay for them. I suggest you find "cooler" kids to go with before you end up in the "cooler."

Designers Agree, Fall Silhouettes Are Soft

Glinting against New York's night lights—a black brocade coat-and-dress costume from the Fall 1965 Malcolm Starr collection by Elinor Simmons. The coat is belted from the sides to the back, over a slender sleeveless dress.

From Oscar de la Renta's Fall 1965 collection for Jane Derby—a white wool jacket lightly-shaped over its swing front, black wool dress. The dress is sleeveless and paneled in an unbroken line from under the arms.

Evening coat of white dyed broadtail processed lamb with flared and pleated skirt, designed by Lilly Dache for Wells-Treister's fall-winter 1965-66 fur collection. Of Indian origin, the fur is sleek, allowing for neat narrow sleeves and a mandarin collar.

Bill Blass for Maurice Rentner's autumn collection selected velvet and Tartan plaid for an after-five costume. The navy velvet blazer jacket has a notched collar and flap pockets outlined with black braid. For the double breasted closing, he uses black braid buttons. Its dress in red and navy Tartan plaid, with box pleated skirt, has a bare top fitted bodice with narrow straps. The waistline is encircled with a navy satin belt.

How Was Stork Hired?

How the stork became associated with the baby delivery routine is anybody's guess. There are many farfetched legends about the stork bringing babies from fountains or baby pounds, but probably the most endearing notion is that because the stork has so many traits that would be admired in a human, he got the job over all other feathered contenders. He is known to be a faithful mate, a model parent and is unusually considerate of his elders. Despite the fact that the stork is the most widely pictured bird in the world, very little is known about him. The best known branch is the White Stork of Europe. These are gentle and pious birds of the old school, well-mannered in personal relations and held in high esteem in Germany, Belgium and Holland.

They often strut stiffly about from dooryard to dooryard in hamlets seeking food.

They are so gregarious and friendly that villagers often build special stork platforms on their rooftops hoping the birds will find favor with them as foundations for their homes.

Storks love heights and build massive stick nests in such high places as treetops, cupolas, church steeples and deserted chimneys.

When the birds find a rooftop to their liking and return to the same house year after year, it's considered a good omen. But if they vacate after only one season it's regarded as a bad omen.

How's Your Barbecue?

To get the most enjoyment out of your family cookouts, get your outdoor facilities in order.

Take a close look at your present barbecue. The most desirable type is a built-in that harmonizes with the garden landscaping. A grill and sink built into a durable counter will make an attractive and practical garden barbecue.

For easy cleaning and low maintenance, the counter should be surfaced with ceramic mosaic or quarry tile. These materials will stand up under the roughest punishment. They can't be burned even by a sizzling frying pan. And they're scratchproof, too.

For assurance of high quality in ceramic tile, you can now use tile that is "quality certified" by the Tile Council of America, trade association of domestic manufacturers. Such tile is certified to equal or exceed the high quality standards of the United States government, or it will be replaced.

Girls, Beware of Habit

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE, CASE W-426: Marcia D., aged 17, is a high school senior.

"Dr. Crane," she began, "do boys prefer girls who smoke?"

"We are to have a debate in our Public Speaking class on that very topic, so could you give me any information to use?"

"And why do young people start smoking in the first place?"

"Are there any differences in the personality of the teenager who smokes in contrast to the non-smoker?"

PROFILE OF SMOKERS

An editorial in the September 14, 1964, Journal of the American Medical Association estimates that 4,500 new teenagers start the cigarette habit each day!

And it also suggests that about 40 per cent of high school seniors are regular smokers.

This means, however, that 60 per cent are non-smokers. What personality differences exist between these two groups?

FINDINGS

• Teen-age smokers are more likely to have poorer school achievement records than the non-smokers.

• They are not as active participants in school activities, such as glee clubs, band, athletics, etc.

• They are more addicted to truancy than the non-smokers.

• They don't get along as well with teachers and parents.

• They are more likely to develop minor illnesses.

In general, the teenager who starts to smoke feels inferior or afraid of being an independent thinker so he reacts like sheep and tries to join the "herd," as pictured in TV ads.

Since women are more suggestible than men, they will stampede faster into adopting any new habit that fashion para-setters hold up in front of them.

Since they are educated by advertisers into thinking that the smoking girl is more alluring, they rush into the habit, like sheep.

But our famous Scientific Marriage Foundation thus far has had only ONE request from a man, asking to be in-terduced to a woman who smokes.

By contrast, thousands have warned us bluntly:

"Dr. Crane, don't waste my time introducing me to any girl who smokes!"

"When quizzed as to their aversion to a smoking girl, they often reply:

"I don't want to be asphyxiated with stale tobacco halitosis when I kiss her good-night."

Thousands of other desirable young men - doctors, salesmen, business executives, teachers and the like - will tell us to set our 10 dials on the IBM machine so they don't get matched with a smoking female.

MIGHT CONCEDE

"But, Dr. Crane," they add, "if you can't find a girl that matches my personality on 10 counts, and if the only point of variance is the fact she smokes, I might be willing to have one date with her."

"But I'd rather you didn't even introduce me to a girl who smokes!"

Many of our beautiful college coeds, who had been winners in campus beauty contests, could have been married a year or two ago except for the fact they said they smoked!

That one nuisance habit has cost them marriage with handsome doctors, business executives, etc.

So - if you girls want to increase your chance of happy marriage send for my booklet "How to Break the Tobacco and Liqueur Habit," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20c.

Michigan State Offers Courses to Women

"Today's Home Shapes Tomorrow's World."

That is the theme of the 38th annual college week for women to be held at Michigan State University, July 27-30, according to Mrs. Carol C. Kurth, Extension Home Economist, Oakland County.

Over 1,000 Michigan women are expected to attend this annual educational program designed to provide an opportunity for women to learn more about home and family life, individual enrichment and leadership training.

This unique, informal adult education experience is available for homemakers in Oakland County who are interested in attending.

The program is set up to benefit homemakers who want to gain new knowledge in the home and family living area; for organizations who want to improve their program planning and their leadership; and for individuals who want personal enrichment or a new perspective on daily living.

It is not necessary to belong to any organization in order to attend, says Mrs. Kurth.

THREE SESSIONS

Most classes are held for three days to provide a more comprehensive course for those attending. Other programs are planned for those wishing to attend only one day of class work.

Some of the classes scheduled are: Home Management for Young Homemakers, Managing the Family's Money, Building Family Strengths, Understanding Contemporary Art, Design Your Own Clothing, Creative Home Decoration With Color, Before 65 after 65 and many, many others.

Rooms are available for those attending the entire program.

To obtain your program details, registration blank and costs for the educational program, contact your Oakland County Extension Service through the Home Economics Family Living Department, 155 N. Saginaw St., Pontiac.

Registration forms must be sent in ahead of time and no later than July 20.

The W. M. Websters of Blantyre, Malawi, Africa, announce the engagement of their daughter Lynette to Dr. Gordon Lee Marsa of Hinsdale, Ill., son of Dr. and Mrs. Percy Marsa of North Lapeer Road, Orion Township. She is an alumna of Helderberg College, Cape Town, South Africa, and Dr. Marsa is a graduate of the University of Cape Town.

You can pin your hopes for a youthful appearance, with confidence, on a straight spine. There is nothing which makes you feel younger and look younger than good posture.

Haven't you noticed it over and over again? Whenever we see an older person who is very straight it is impressive.

Not only do you look younger but you feel younger for two reasons. There is the psychological impact. Then there are physical reasons. Poor posture places a strain on muscles and ligaments.

It crowds the lungs and heart and is usually associated with a protruding abdomen and slumping internal organs. This often leads to backache, constipation and fatigue.

AN ASSET

A lovely carriage is one asset we can take down the years with us if we fight gravity and fatigue and discourage a moment and keep our thoughts and our spines reaching up instead of slumping down.

If you have habitually allowed your shoulders to droop forward, your back to round, your chest muscles will have shortened and your back muscles will have become stretched and weak. Exercise is the only way to correct this condition.

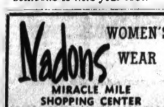

However, you must also be conscious of your posture during your waking hours. You must really want to improve it and must check yourself many times each hour at first.

It would also be helpful if you could form the habit of sleeping on your back without a pillow or with a very small pillow.

This is an exercise for the back.

LIE ON CHAIR

Lie across a chair or a bench with your abdomen on the seat of the chair, letting your upper trunk, head and arms hang down toward the floor. You may want to ask someone to hold your feet.

SEW SIMPLE

By Eunice Farmer

"Dear Eunice:

"Please help me with my daughter's wedding gown. Most of the ones we have tried on seem to be rather stiff. What is used to line them?"—Mrs. T.W.

Dear Mrs. T.W.:

Most of the wedding gowns I have seen, whether they are cotton or silk, have been underlined with a nonwoven-type fabric. It is cut the same as the garment and basted together. From this point on, treat it as if it were one piece of fabric. Since the gowns today are made on the A-line or sheath styling, they need this extra body for the shaping.

Some of the very tailored trains are also underlined in the same nonwoven interfacing which is available in most stores in many different weights.

TAILOR TRIX WINNER

Mrs. Norma Hohman, Eustis, Fla., is this week's winner of Tailor-Trix pressing board for this suggestion.

"I'd like to share my idea for sewing buttons on permanently before they are torn off your children's shirts and blouses.

"Place a piece of iron-on tape between the facing and the outside of garment. Machine stitch back and forth on an area about 1/4 inch square through all layers of the fabric just where the button will be sewed.

"When you sew the button on through the extra firmness and the stitched area, it just simply won't pull out and leave an ugly tear that can't be mended."

KNIT NOTES

In answer to Mrs. M.P. who asks about the best way to block afghan squares, Block or steam-press each square separately and then sew into strips. You may wish to press again before sewing the strips together. An afghan all sewed together would be too heavy and bulky for anyone to block evenly.

"Dear Eunice:

"I wish to make a very full chiffon skirt and can't find a pattern. If I do find one, what would I use to line the skirt?"—Mrs. E.M.

Dear Mrs. E.M.

The kind of skirt you are referring to is almost impossible to find on patterns. It is made up of many circles of fabric stitched together so that the lower edge is extremely full.

If you should find a pattern, be sure to let it hang for several days before finishing with a hand-rolled hem. I have noticed in gowns of this type that cost hundreds of dollars, the hems are very uneven. A skirt of this type is never underlined. Usually, a taffeta underskirt is made to blend with the chiffon. You would probably use grosgrain ribbon for the waistband of a skirt of this type.

When you need a needle and there just isn't one handy, gently squeeze your pin cushion and you can usually find several needles that have become imbedded in the sawdust. My last try produced 25 in one cushion alone. This sure beats having to go to the store!"

SEWING GLOSSARY Chassis: A soft, lightweight fabric made of wool, cotton, or similar blends. Small floral or jacquard prints usually identify this fabric.

Please write to Eunice Farmer, in care of The Pontiac Press and tell me what little details in dressmaking cause you the most frustrations. Also, please share your little sewing tips with others—you may win a Tailor-Trix pressing board for the best idea of the week.

Says Luci Aids Church Ties

Bishop Pike Cites Support From Vatican

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Episcopal Bishop James A. Pike, who Sunday ignited the controversy over the rebaptism of Luci Baines Johnson, says Miss Johnson has innocently helped better Catholic-Episcopalian relations.

Bishop Pike's comments came yesterday after a member of the Christian Unity Secretariat at Vatican City — in effect — backed Bishop Pike's denunciation of Miss Johnson's rebaptism into the Roman Catholic Church.

In his sermon last Sunday, the Episcopal bishop termed the rebaptism "sacrilegious" and a "direct slap" at the Episcopal Church.

He pointed out that both Episcopal and Catholic churches teach that baptism is "an unrepeatable sacrament."

The President's youngest daughter had been baptized in the Episcopal Church as an infant, but was baptized again last Friday, her 18th birthday, when she joined the Catholic Church.

UNFORTUNATELY, UNNECESSARY. Yesterday, following the Vatican statement, Bishop Pike said he saw good emerging from the furor. A member of the Christian Unity Secretariat said the second baptism was "unfortunate" and unnecessary.

In Washington yesterday the priest who baptized Miss Johnson, Rev. James Montgomery, disclosed that she had requested rebaptism because she wished to be sure she was meeting the church's requirements.

By requesting the rebaptism, Bishop Pike said, Luci had "innocently made a distinct contribution to the ecumenical movement."

Her case has spotlighted the agreement between the two churches on baptism, he said.

"Her request, contrary to the teachings of her new church, has resulted in a clear reaffirmation that such designation of Christian baptism should never occur again — and I doubt that it will," Bishop Pike said.

Police Hear 'Phantom' in Chicago

CHICAGO (UPI) — Who is the phantom radio voice? High police officials were mystified, but a good many in the lower echelons were following his orders.

It all started early yesterday when police cruising the North Side heard this message over their radios:

"For the information in regards to the North Side district, no tickets are being issued. No pay raise, no tickets. For compliance with 5th, 15th, 16th, 17th, 18th and 20th districts, 5th area and 4th traffic area. And thank you."

A startled Lt. Kenneth Kells, who runs the communications center, said the message was immediately jammed off the air before it could be repeated, but not before at least 65 cars had received it.

Patrolman Joseph J. Le Fevour, head of the Fraternal Order of Police, Chicago lodge, said he did not know who made the unauthorized broadcast. But he said many policemen have stopped writing traffic tickets in protest of the state legislature's failure to vote them a pay raise.

NOT CITYWIDE

"I know (the boycott) is going on," said Le Fevour. "It's not citywide yet, but it's picking up momentum."

Kells ordered an investigation to track down the owner of the phantom voice. It was believed the broadcast originated in a car patrolling one of three North or West Side districts.

Kells said the inquiry was going on the "assumption" that the voice belonged to a policeman "because they're the only ones who were really upset over the failure of police to receive a raise."

Wounded Yank Tells of Life as Mercenary in Congo

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — After six months as a mercenary soldier in the Congo, Ronald D. Duka of Wadsworth, Ohio, has much adventure under his belt, little money in his pocket and bullet fragments in his side.

He said in an interview today he plans to rejoin Premier Moise Tshombe's hired white forces after some leave and medical treatment.

Duka, 25, had to give up his American citizenship last February when he joined Lt. Col. Michael Hoare's 5th Commando mercenaries. American law bars U.S. citizens from joining foreign armies.

Duka said then he wanted to earn some money to pay for medical treatment he had received in Salisbury, Southern Rhodesia, and hoped later to become a Rhodesian citizen.

WAS AMBUSHED

He said he was wounded while riding in a truck during an operation against rebels in the northeastern Congo.

"We were ambushed and a bullet came right through the door and knocked me into the driver. It left little pieces of metal in me and they're still there," Duka said. He is a veteran of four years in the U.S. Army.

After training in northeastern Katanga Province, Duka was made an adjutant in the mercenary army. The rank roughly equals that of a warrant officer.

FIRST ACTION

Duka's first action was a drive against the rebels from Buta through Nioka and Aba which began March 12.

"Resistance was many ambushes from as far back as 1,500 yards," he said. "Their aim was atrocious. Yet, I remember that one man was killed and another wounded with two shots."

"We chased the rebels to the Uganda border. They fired on us from Uganda. We fired back and killed a border guard."

BLEW UP SAFES

"We blew three safes there and only found some writing chalk and cobwebs," he continued.

"The rebels used Communist-made weapons. They were so good we took them for ourselves. They were brand-new, just out of the packing oil and grease."

While on the road, he said, "We lived on C-rations and Belgian rations. If we stopped for a few days we lived off the land. We could shoot a cow, buy some vegetables and there was a large supply of American instant coffee."

Illinois Governor Due at Camp Dedication

Blind at D.C. Parley 'Seeing Sights' Like All Tourists

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bus tour of the sights today — a convention of blind people is the Washington Monument, the Lincoln and Jefferson memorials and the two Jima Monuments. They also plan to visit the grave of President John F. Kennedy and the Tomb of the Unknowns.

The sightseeing guides have been specially briefed to tell them what things look like rather than just saying, "That's the State Department over there."

It is the 25th anniversary convention of the National Federation of the Blind, an organization of, by and for the blind — the blind leading the blind, as the federation says. About 500 to 600 blind persons are expected to attend before the convention ends Friday. A few are from other countries. Many are accompanied by families, but about half traveled alone.

VOLUNTEER GUIDES
Local Boy and Girl Scouts have volunteered to guide them around town if they desire help. Most of them don't.

John Nagle, a blind lawyer who is Washington representative of the federation, said guide dogs are a matter of preference. Only 10 or 12 were brought to the convention. He said he has had two in the past, but prefers a cane.

"We swing it back and forth with a rhythmic motion," Nagle said, "sort of clearing the path." He said his other senses may be no sharper than anyone else's, "but because I depend on them so much I get full value from what I have.

"It's not a handicap, it's a nuisance," said Ruth Drummond, a sighted woman who works with a local chapter of the federation.

That is the main idea the federation is trying to get across to everybody else.

John Taylor of Des Moines, Iowa, assistant director of field operations of the Iowa Commission for the Blind, told a reporter, "We are trying to get people to view it not as crippling, limiting disability, a condition which makes one helpless. Certainly it is an inconvenience, but with the right training and opportunity blind people can compete successfully. Sight is not a requirement in most jobs."

Blood cholesterol level is considerably below that considered normal in western populations in Bedouin men of the Negev Desert areas and few cases of coronaries are found in this group.

GLENWOOD PLAZA CORNER NORTH PERRY AT GLENWOOD

Lake Orion Has Quiet Session

LAKE ORION — Last night's council meeting was so peaceful it was a downright disappointment to some members of the overflow crowd who went to the village hall looking for a fight.

In contrast to the meetings of the past three months, there three times for a variety of reasons.

The controversy over the status of the two officials has been the main topic of discussion at the council's last half-dozen meetings.

Rossman kept tight control on the meeting last night, however, and it was adjourned in less than two hours, which is probably close to a record.

The nearest thing to an argument came at the end of the meeting when Police Chief Neal Leonard announced he had received three applications for the job of patrolman vacated June 25 by the resignation of Al Biron.

COULDN'T AGREE

The council at first couldn't agree on whether to accept one of the applications last night or call the three applicants together for an interview at a later date.

They finally decided to interview the three men at 6 this evening.

Those who have applied for the $4,600-$5,300 job are Charles Ray, 314 N. Shore, and John Pales, 436 E. Shadoli, Lake Orion, and Frank Jones, 1488 Vinewood, Pontiac Township.

Although the meeting was relatively peaceful, those who came looking for a scrap got their wishes in front of the village hall after the meeting.

LOUD QUARREL

A newsletter published and distributed in the village this week by the Lake Orion Homeowner's Association apparently had rubbed some residents the wrong way.

One man challenged association President William Barry to admit that he was responsible for the newsletter, which he did.

The atmosphere grew more volatile as others entered the discussion, and it soon erupted into a loud quarrel.

Apparently nothing was settled, but most of the issues that usually generate heat in the council meetings received a thorough airing before the crowd dispersed.

Heavy Trash Pickup Set Early in Keego

KEEGO HARBOR — The heavy trash collection schedule in the city has been speeded up to allow for pickups this month rather than next.

Heavy trash left at the curb will be picked up tomorrow and Friday.

BLAZE LIGHTS THE SKY — A barn containing hay and straw burned to the ground last night in spite of efforts of three fire departments to save it. The fire, which started about 10 p.m., was not extinguished until 6:30 a.m. The barn was on Oakwood Road in Brandon Township.

3rd Fire in 3 Weeks

Brandon Twp. Barn Levelled

BRANDON TOWNSHIP — A fire of undetermined origin destroyed a barn last night despite the efforts of firemen from three departments who battled it for eight hours.

Township Fire Chief William Buckingham said the barn, located across the road from 2991 Oakwood, was owned by Floyd Kent, Pontiac realtor. It contained 5,500 bales of hay and straw.

Buckingham said the fire was reported at 10 p.m. and township firemen, with assistance from the Oxford and Hadley departments, worked until 6:30 a.m. to keep it from spreading to neighboring barns and houses.

The amount of damage has not been determined.

The fire is the third in the township in three weeks. On June 18, a $20,000 fire destroyed a tool shed on the farm of Roy Hotchkiss on Sashabaw Road. A $50,000 fire last Thursday destroyed a barn belonging to Ronald Howes, 5101 Oakwood.

Buckingham said the cause of the fires is still being investigated.

"We don't know how they started," he said, "but we have our suspicions."

Sale of Bonds for Addition Is Approved

MILFORD — Sale of bonds for a $485,000 addition to the Milford sewage disposal plant has been approved by the State Municipal Finance Commission.

The commission yesterday granted Oakland County the authority to sell the bonds, according to Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelly, commission chairman.

Half of the bonds will be backed by a 1.25-mill property tax and the other half by fees paid by customers.

The addition to the plant will provide for a population of 8,500.

Plans for the expansion were started after the State Health Department expressed concern over discharge into the Huron River from the system, which now serves an estimated 4,500 persons.

One-Act Play Part of Festival

ROCHESTER — "The King's Mistress," a one-act comedy by George Long will be presented as part of the Art 'n' Apples Festival Sept. 16 through 19.

The play won first place recently in the Community Theater Association of Michigan annual play-writing contest.

Long of 202 E. Third is a member of the Avon Players.

Victor Zink, chairman of the theatrical arts committee said his group hopes to do the play in the new Avon Playhouse which is now under construction.

"The play is ideal for this situation because it requires a minimum of settings," he said.

The first half of the program will be a musical featuring barber shop quartets and other musical groups.

Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt Says:

Bladder Ills Possible Without Gallstones

Q—Is it possible to have a diseased gallbladder without having gallstones?

A—Two years ago I had an exploratory operation and was found to have adhesions around my gallbladder. Nothing was removed. I still have a pain in my right side.

BRANDSTADT

A—Acute inflammation of the gallbladder may occur in the absence of gallstones but this is relatively rare (about 10 per cent).

Some other cause for your pain should be sought. Although the pain of colitis usually shifts from one side to the other, some forms of colitis cause pain only on the right side.

The pain of appendicitis is usually on the right side but this is not a chronic disease.

Because there are many causes for abdominal pain and since the cause is often hard to determine, a specialist in diseases of the digestive tract should be consulted.

Q—X rays show that I have a nonfunctioning gallbladder. Will I always have nausea and indigestion from it? What is the treatment?

A—When, after a fatty test meal, X rays show that the gallbladder does not empty itself, it is said to be nonfunctioning. You should avoid all fats, alcoholic beverages and opiates. If you do this and your symptoms persist for more than 10 days, your doctor should look for some cause other than your gallbladder. The treatment would depend on the cause.

Q—Is it true that people with gallstones pass them occasionally?

A—Small gallstones often pass through the common bile duct into the intestinal tract without causing any symptoms. Larger stones stretch the bile duct, they cause no more trouble but, since a gallbladder often contains dozens of stones, more attacks of colic can be expected. Such a gallbladder should be removed.

SURVIVAL SCHOOL — Sally Ryan and Ed Perkins of Salem, Ore., make their way up a rocky butte at the end of Dry Lake, about 70 miles southeast of Portland, as they take part in a wilderness survival school. They were part of a group of 10 men and six women, ranging in age from 15 to 48.

AP Photo/

Sixteen Brave the Wilds for Lessons in Survival

By SALLY RYAN

BREITENBUSH LAKE, Ore. (AP) — We were lost in the fog on a snowpatched hill, high in Oregon's Cascade Mountains. A gale, wind threatened to blow us into an ice-covered pond 15 feet below.

It was a night of terror. But we survived it, and seven other nights like it in freezing temperatures, with no food except what we caught and no shelter except what we could carry.

There were 16 of us — 10 men and six women — ranging in age from 15 to 48, taking part in a wilderness survival school.

We went into the mountains 70 miles southeast of Portland armed only with hunting knives and survival kits, consisting mainly of fishing gear and one match for each day.

HIKED 45 MILES

We hiked 45 miles with 20-pound backpacks — a physician, a mailman, a transportation company controller, two housewives, two teachers and a sprinkling of students, few of whom ever had been in the back country before.

The second day we ate wild sorrel, broiled ferns and skunk cabbage. There is a school of thought to which Odd Bjørke alone among us subscribed — that skunk cabbage is edible. Bjørke is a survival training instructor.

By the third day, we were listless and wobbly, talking of nothing but food.

Then Mrs. Bjørke, a 100-pound elf who grew up on the Oregon coast hunting bullfrogs, clubbed a water snake to death. Another crew came up with a sack of salamanders. Someone caught a frog.

SALAMANDER TAILS

We ate only the tails of the salamander, but were so hungry we used them twice: once boiled for soup and then roasted to eat like shrimp. You must be very hungry to spend 10 minutes skinning one tail, but we were very hungry.

The snake, cut up, was soup, boiled and roasted.

We were cold and hungry enough so it was good.

Actually, all replies are edible. Bjørke said the poisonous ones — such as rattlesnakes — actually taste the best. We never saw any to check.

More than a mile above sea level with snow still melting, we saw deer tracks only once and one squirrel as we hiked out. So we had to rely on the plants we picked on the way up and on the streams.

There always were streams to fish or to fall into, and fish, baked or smoked, formed the basis of our diet the final days — after we reached Dark Lake, where the fish were biting.

Fish can be found in nearly all regions, and in the northern temperate zone all can be eaten. Bjørke said. Thus they can be important to anyone lost in the woods.

On the fifth day, manna fell from heaven, on two orange and white parachutes. Food for one day was dropped — a chicken, potatoes, carrots, bread, ice cream and candy bars.

UP AT DAYLIGHT

The whole crew was up at daylight to begin marking the bluff for the air drop — burning green boughs, and a smoke bomb, strewn yellow and red shirts and ponchos on the rocks, and flashing mirrors. When the plane finally sighted, yells went up like a high school basketball game.

But by then we no longer worried much about food. We knew we could live 30 days without food if we conserved our energy, but only 10 without water. And we could freeze to death in a matter of hours.

By the eighth and final night, we agreed water was the most important concern in the wilderness. Then warmth, dryness and food, in that order.

Cleanliness may be next to godliness in the city, but it was a distant fifth in the wilds.

The major effects were more psychological than physiological. Some of the men lost 10 to 12 pounds, but I lost only four. Everyone was discouraged at some time, by the cold and Breitenbush Lake or the rain at Oallie Lake or by the slow fishing at Lake Alice.

Rains Hit Many Parts of Nation

By the Associated Press

Thunderstorms and rains pummeled scattered sections of the Midwest and Southeast early today and an unseasonal chill dipped into portions of the Northeast.

But there was only a little break in the crippling drought that gripped portions of the Southwest, the Northeast and sections of the Far West.

Rain fell over wide sections of the Midwest, starting mostly late Tuesday night.

TORNADOES, RAIN

Tornadoes and heavy rain, in some places accompanied by hail, struck portions of the nation's midsection Tuesday.

Wide sections of Minnesota reported up to one inch of rain, and in the Twin Cities more than 1½ inches fell Tuesday. At least two tornadoes dipped over Minnesota towns during the day.

In the Chicago area, more than two inches of rain fell over a wide section north and southwest of the city. Some utility lines were downed, causing power breaks from 30 minutes to two hours.

A tornado was sighted over Chicago's South Side in the early evening. A tornado did some property damage near Milledgeville, in Carroll County, in northwestern Illinois. Tornado winds uprooted trees and downed utility lines at Crystal Lake, Ill., about 50 miles north of Chicago, where heavy tornado damage occurred in the spring.

FLASH FLOOD

A flash flood in Hays, Kan., forced several families from their homes. There was some light flooding also in west central and northeastern Kansas, and northwestern Missouri Tuesday night.

Winds of tornadoic proportion raked sections of Oklahoma and at least two tornadoes were sighted Tuesday. There were some injuries and property damage. Winds hit 80 to 90 m.p.h. at Oklahoma City and Ponca City. Hail up to an inch in diameter fell during a half-hour storm that brought an inch of rain at Oklahoma City.

A funnel cloud was sighted at Mexico, Mo., northwest of St. Louis, but there were no reports of injuries or property damages.

About two inches of rain fell in north-central Wisconsin, but in other sections of the state a late frost was said to have caused heavy damage to corn crops.

EAST DROUGHT

In New England and portions of the Northeast the severe lack of ground moisture continued.

Water supplies at major New England reservoirs were reported below normal. Some communities in western Massachusetts have banned outdoor use of water, many limited it.

New York State remained mostly in the grip of a drought now in its fourth year. However, at Utica, a rainfall of 6.1 inches Monday eased local conditions.

Forty-five counties in the state have been approved for federal drought aid. Most towns in the eastern and southeastern sections of the state have imposed strict water use rules.

Eastern Pennsylvania also fought a drought, although some rain has fallen periodically over some sections.

LOW WATER

Some rain fell Tuesday over portions of New Mexico, but surface water supplies remained low. Some southeastern New Mexico ranchers were considering supplemental feeding for livestock.

Washington State fought a heat wave that sent temperatures into the 90s east of the Cascades. More than a million acres of forest land in the western part of the state were closed to the public because of fire hazards.

Prof Says Teen Rioters Feel Inferior, Fear Adult World

NEW YORK (AP) — Teenagers who riot are in terror of the adult world which they feel inadequate to enter, says Dr. Rhoda Lorand, a psychotherapist who specializes in treating youngsters.

Boys who whooped it up at several summer resorts last weekend "were expressing lack of confidence in their own masculinity as well as hostility toward their parents and a need to discharge sexual excitement in this disturbed way," Dr. Lorand said in an interview.

The girls who went along with the rioting have the same hostile feelings, she said.

"The adult world seems dangerous to all these youngsters because they feel so inadequate to cope with its demands for achievement and self-control and sexual responsibility. In a large group they give each other support for acting out their childish fears."

GROUP APPROVAL

"Approval of the group serves the same function that approval of the parents does for young children. If these youngsters had not felt helplessly unable to please their parents, or too full of hostility to want to, they could have identified with them — assuming the parents are law-abiding and self-controlled individuals — instead of feeling in continuous revolt against them."

Many people, says Dr. Lorand, explain the riots as nothing but lack of discipline.

"But some young people who act the worst have been subjected to extremely harsh discipline — too harsh," she said. "The trick to making discipline truly effective—and that means that it leads to establishing reliable inner controls which replace parental guidance by the time the youngster is in middle adolescence—is to combine genuine affection for the child with appreciation of his efforts."

INNER CONTROLS

When a child obeys out of fear alone — and not a desire to please his parents — no inner controls are established, says Dr. Lorand, author of "Love, Sex and the Teen-Ager."

Dr. Lorand says that a perfect recipe for trouble is to mix a large group of teen-agers and alcohol.

"The teen-agers with the least self-control and self-confidence will immediately rise to the surface and begin to act out childish aggression and hostility toward the adult world," she said.

"Shortly a second group will join them. These are the adolescents whose rebellious drives are under shaky controls. Left to their own devices and without alcohol they would remain peaceful. But they cannot resist being infected by their uncontrolled companions' behavior."

"Remaining at the bottom of the bowl are the majority of teen-agers who might occasionally do something foolish but certainly don't lose control of themselves to the point of lawless and destructive behavior."

In just 25 years, from 1937 to 1962, life expectancy in the U.S. increased 10 years — from 60 to 70 years.

Strike Ties Up Passenger Ships

Divorcee Believed a Suicide Victim

Filibuster Won't Work—Dirksen

NEW YORK (AP) — As the summer vacation rush nears its peak, more than 3,000 travelers have been forced to seek alternate transportation because of an East and Gulf Coast strike of ship's officers which went into its fourth week today.

Sailings were canceled for the 52,000-ton United States, flag ship of the U.S. Lines and the nation's largest and fastest liner. Also marooned were Moore-McCormack's 15,000-ton Argentina and its similar-sized Brazil and the Grace Lines' 15,300-ton Santa Rosa.

Losses in passenger bookings to the three lines was estimated at over $2 million.

The U.S. Maritime Administration reported 111 ships tied up. Sources estimated a daily cost of $2,000 per idle ship, with total losses to the industry of more than $4.5 million.

LITTLE AFFECTED

Cargo movements have been little affected. Foreign and domestic traders have been able to shift to foreign-flag vessels.

Progress was reported Tuesday night between one of the three striking officers' unions and one of the two struck shipping groups. A federal mediator said the two sides "believe they have reached agreement in principle on a new contract."

The mediator, Robert E. Kennedy, said talks would resume today.

The deadlock continued between the three unions and a second shipping group.

PARIS (AP) — The French police said today they believed Nina Dyer, 35, a former British model whose divorce settlements from a German steel magnate and a Moslem prince reportedly totaled more than $2.5 million, ended her life with a "massive dose" of sleeping pills.

Miss Dyer's body was discovered by her butler Saturday in her apartment in the suburb of Garches.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen said today he doesn't believe a filibuster can halt Senate action on a proposed constitutional amendment on legislative reapportionment.

Dirksen said in an interview he hopes to pry out of the Senate Judiciary Committee shortly an amendment which would permit the voters in each state to determine whether one house of their legislature should be elected on other than a population basis.

Under the Supreme Court's difficulties, no tumors, no nath-

one man-one vote decision, both houses of state legislatures would have to be apportioned according to population.

Dirksen has led an effort to get around that ruling by means of a constitutional amendment. Dirksen returned to his Senate duties Tuesday after another bout with painful stomach cramps. The doctors at Walter Reed Army Hospital, where he stayed for a checkup, "haven't been able to find a thing," Dirksen said. "No ulcer, no organic difficulties, no tumors, no nath-

one man-one vote decision, both houses of state legislatures would have to be apportioned according to population.

Dirksen said he had some other changes in mind which would condense the language of the proposal. He has been under pressure to include a provision which would make it certain that apportionment would not be used to discriminate against Negro voters. He did not comment on this.

Liberals have indicated they plan to filibuster against Senate action unless they can be certain in advance that they have enough votes to defeat the proposal. It requires a two-thirds majority for passage.

LT. O'NEAL

'Still Too Upset to Understand'

To Arraign Father of Raped Girl Tomorrow

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Police Lt. Thomas E. O'Neal is still too upset over the rape of his daughter to understand legal action he faces for shooting what he believed was a suspect, his attorney says.

O'Neal, police said, fired his service revolver in a police station last Friday where three men were waiting to be questioned about the attack.

One bullet wounded Carl E. Norman, 21, of Reseda, Calif., who is hospitalized in serious condition. Police say Norman is no longer a suspect in connection with the rape, but will face charges of possession of marijuana.

O'Neal, 41, has been suspended from the force, booked on suspicion of assault with intent to commit murder and charged by police officials with shooting a suspect "without just and reasonable cause."

A three-man board, composed of O'Neal's superiors on the force, will hear the administrative charge.

ON CRIMINAL CHARGE

O'Neal, free on $3,300 bail, will be arraigned on the criminal charge tomorrow.

His 18-year-old daughter, Shirley Diane, has been under psychiatric care since she was attacked a week ago.

O'Neal's attorney says the father "continually reflects back in his thinking to his daughter."

"He is still obsessed with the attack on Shirley Diane and not able to reflect on anything involving himself," attorney Max Herman said yesterday.

Yesterday, police said Miss O'Neal identified four more California youths in a police lineup as her assailants. A total of five now have been charged with forcible rape.

Altercation at the Altar Court Case

DANVILLE, Va. (UPI) — Two ministers involved in a scuffle at the altar during Sunday services swore out warrants against each other yesterday.

The Revs. Harvey Edward O'Ham, High Point, N.C., and Gollard Lee McGuire, Danville, each charged the other with "interrupting and disturbing an assembly for the worship of God."

McGuire also swore out similar warrants against two laymen. The cases will be heard in Municipal Court Friday.

Police said the warrants resulted from a dispute Sunday at the Banner Street Trinity Church of God, founded by O'Ham but whose current pastor is McGuire.

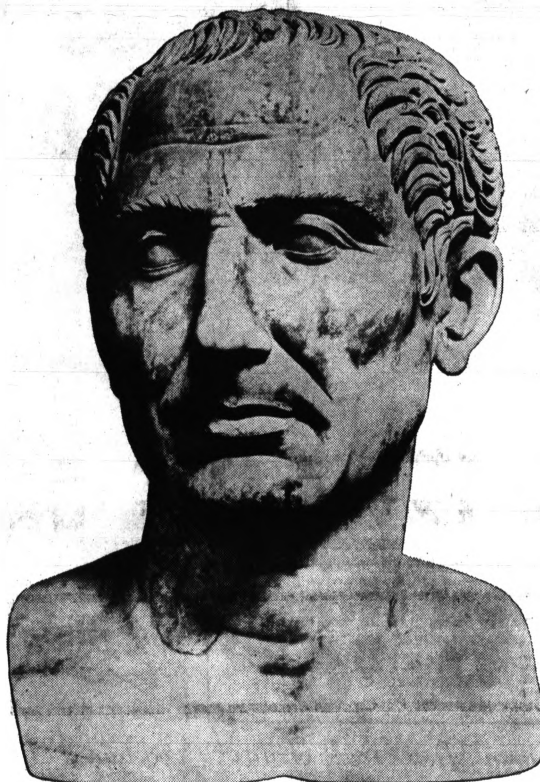

O'Ham was conducting services when McGuire entered the church, expecting to deliver the sermon himself, police said. McGuire informed the congregation O'Ham was out of order and told the other minister to take a seat.

REPORTS CONFLICT

Police said there were conflicting reports about what followed but apparently some blows were thrown in the dispute, which officers said also stemmed from some dissatisfaction among the congregation with McGuire's policies at the church.

You will probably save a good deal of money during Osmun's annual July sale.

And you can blame it on Julius Caesar.

Soon as we heard that Julius had named a month after himself, the way was clear.

Or you might say clearance.

So let yourself go and come to Osmun's. See how our famous brand names look now. For example: There's a Martinelli two-pants suit that looks like a million, but only costs $53.00, and a Petrocelli model that looks like an unbeatable Osmun's value at $79.00. And there's more. But don't wait . . .

Before you know it, Julius will be Augustus.

Evaporated Milk and Nonfat Dry Milk Can Be Whipped

Evaporated milk whips to 3 times its volume. Chill milk in freezer compartment of refrigerator until fine ice crystals

Hash Sandwich

Spread slices of toast with heated corned-beef hash; sprinkle generously with grated cheddar cheese and place in the oven or broiler until the cheese melts. Serve with chili sauce—preferably homemade!

form around edges. Also chill bowl and beaters.

Whip milk until stiff, adding flavorings desired as milk becomes thick. Lemon juice added at this time helps to stabilize the whip.

A half cup of nonfat dry milk powder plus a half cup of water, fresh or frozen fruit juices, or canned fruit syrups will whip to 2½ cups of low-calorie goodness.

Chill liquid, bowl and beaters.

Stir milk powder into liquid and beat until thick.

Continue to beat until mixture is stiff while gradually adding flavorings desired, and lemon juice to stabilize.

Whipped dairy toppings add a gala touch to dessert, salad and entree fare. They are also delightful as the basis of many mealtime delicacies, such as these USDA recipes.

Cucumber Mousse
¾ cup evaporated milk

1 cucumber, peeled and shredded
¾ cup blue cheese, crumbled
1 package lime-flavored gelatin
¾ cup water, boiling
1 teaspoon onion, grated
¼ teaspoon salt
Chill milk until fine ice crystals form around edges. Also chill bowl and beaters.
Beat cucumber to a pulp; add blue cheese; set aside.

Dissolve gelatin in boiling water. Add onion, salt and cucumber mixture. Chill until slightly jelled.

Whip milk until stiff peaks form, then fold in gelatin mixture. Pour into 1-quart salad mold which has been rinsed in cold water. Chill until set.

Apricot Whip

1 11-ounce package dried apricots
1 tablespoon (1 envelope) unflavored gelatin
¾ cup water
1 cup sugar

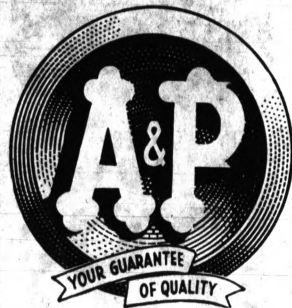

1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 teaspoon lemon rind, grated
2 egg whites
¾ cup nonfat dry milk
¾ cup water, cold

Cook apricots according to package directions; sieve and return to saucepan. Sprinkle gelatin on ¾ cup water to soften; add with sugar to apricots; heat until gelatin and sugar dissolve. Remove from heat; add lemon juice and rind; and cool.

Whip egg whites, dry milk and ½ cup water in cold bowl with cold beaters until stiff peaks form. Fold into apricot mixture. Divide into dessert dishes and chill.

Serve with custard sauce. Makes 8 servings.

Crushed pineapple and finely shredded green cabbage make a good combination to add to a molded lemon-flavored gelatin salad.

Take Every Precaution With Home Canned Food to Prevent Botulinus Poisoning

National attention was focused on food poisoning in 1963 when deaths followed outbreaks of botulism in Michigan, caused by

Chilly Conclusion

Fill parfait glasses and store them in the freezer so they will be all ready for dessert for that company dinner. You might alternate vanilla ice cream and raspberry sherbet in them and top with a rosette of whipped cream.

eating tuna fish of Japanese origin canned in California.

Botlin, the toxin produced by the botulinus bacterium, is by far the most powerful poison known to medical science, estimated to be thousands of times more poisonous than animal venom.

Quick tracking by the Food and Drug Administration revealed that the tuna had been contaminated through defective closure of lids on cans at a California plant.

MORE DANGER

A greater danger lies in home canning, particularly of non-acid foods, and especially when high - pressure steam methods are not used.

Although not all instances of botulinus poisoning from home - preserved foods are known, in 1963 there were 22 reported cases with 5 deaths.

To avoid canned food that may have spoiled, examine each container carefully before opening it. Leaks, bulging can ends, jar lids or rings may mean the food has spoiled.

When the container is opened, look for other signs such as gas formation, spurting liquid, an off odor or color, mold, or undue softening of food.

It is also possible for preserved food to contain botulinus poison without showing any sign of spoilage. There is little danger if a pressure canner in perfect condition is used and every step of canning is done correctly.

BOIL FIRST

But unless you are absolutely certain of the gauge and canning methods, boil home-preserved food with cover on for at least 10 minutes before tasting. Boil corn and spinach 20 minutes.

Even a taste of food containing the potent botulinus poison can be deadly. If the food looks spoiled, foams, or has an off odor during heating, dispose of it so that it cannot be eaten by humans or animals.

If you preserve food at home, helpful booklets can be obtained from the Office of Information, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D.C.

Frosted Berries

Frosted fresh strawberries provide delicious garnishes for summer salads and desserts. For 24: dip 1 pint of whole, dry strawberries into 1 lightly beaten egg white; roll in ¼ cup of granulated sugar. Chill or freeze.

Carry Molded Picnic Salad to Outing in a Cake Pan

America's on the move these days and it's a wise cook who keeps her family well-fed with meals adapted to quick preparation and easy travel.

For those times when everybody packs up for an outing at the beach or the park, have this Carry Along Salad ready in the refrigerator. In a well-chilled dish wrapped in newspaper or packed in the picnic cooler along with the milk and relishes, it's cool and tasty when you're ready to eat.

This salad is such an easy, appetizing combination, you'll wonder why you never thought of it before.

Simply blend fruit cocktail, cottage cheese, powdered celery and nuts in the new carry along gelatin. The double portion of celery flavor is a refreshing change from the sweeter fruit gelatin.

And here's another change of pace. For the salad dressing blend cream cheese, dairy sour cream and a little lemon juice for a nippy, satin-smooth topping to spread on the salad like frosting.

Cut in squares for serving, with a cherry on each square for a touch of color.

This delicious, easy to make salad is well-suited for backyard meals and indoor eating, too. Make it in a convenient square black cake pan or in any portable container.

Carry Along Salad is the perfect partner for hamburgers, with crisp relishes to nibble and plenty of milk to drink. Cottage cheese gives the salad extra milk protein that helps you serve a nutritious summer meal wherever you are.

Carry Along Salad
1 can (1 lb. 14 oz.) fruit cocktail
Water
1 package (3 oz.) celery flavor gelatin
1 cup cottage cheese
1/2 cup finely diced celery
1/2 cup chopped walnuts
1 package (3 oz.) cream cheese
2 tablespoons dairy sour cream
1 teaspoon lemon juice

Drain fruit cocktail reserving syrup; add enough water to syrup to make 2 cups. Heat 1 cup of syrup-water mixture to boiling; stir into gelatin until gelatin is dissolved. Add remaining 1 cup syrup-water mixture. Chill until jelly-like in consistency.

Fold in fruit cocktail, cottage cheese, celery and walnuts. Turn into 8-inch square pan and chill until firm. Beat together cream cheese, sour cream and lemon juice until smooth. Spread over gelatin. Makes 9 servings.

Pancake Sundae

Serve Pancake Sundaes as a surprise dessert. Top pancakes with scoops of vanilla ice cream. Then spoon sliced, sweetened strawberries or canned cherry or blueberry pie filling over the ice cream.

CARRY ALONG SALAD — Let's pack up and have a cookout with juicy hamburgers and Carry Along Salad. The family will love its refreshing blend of fruit cocktail, cottage cheese, celery and nuts in the new carry along gelatin. Frost it with a cool sour cream dressing.

Coal Candy New Snack

Are you tired of munching the same old between-meal chocolate cherries, pretzels, and Macadamia nuts? Are your guests getting bored with the same old after-dinner bon bons, chewy cheesies and mint puffs? Treat yourself and dazzle your friends. Try coal.

Shiny black coal candy, packed aged by the pound, comes to you from the mines of West Virginia and Pennsylvania. Each box of delicious coal contains a tiny metal sledge hammer which enables you to break the coal into your own individual bite size.

Coal Age says it's great fun; you can mine out chunk after chunk.

Does coal really taste good? Yes, of course! Especially if it's only licorice candy in a most convincing disguise.

Carbon Dioxide Gas Makes Doughs Rise

Baking powder is a carefully balanced combination of chemicals. It consists of baking soda plus one or more acid ingredients which react with the liquid in a batter or dough and the heat in an oven to produce carbon dioxide gas.

It is this gas which leavens or "raises" the product to desired texture, height, and shape.

New Wine Party Punch Mix Has Great Variety of Uses

Looking for something new to serve your bridge foursome, weekend or holiday party? Try the new Concord wine party punch mix that makes preparing a sparkling punch even easier than putting on the coffee pot.

All you do is add ginger ale and ice. And the punch can be mixed in individual glasses as easily as in the traditional punch bowl.

The new party punch mix is composed of Concord grape wine, plus natural orange, lemon and raspberry juices. Produced by the Mogen David Wine Corporation, the new drink is the first punch mix to be marketed already containing wine.

For a special party, freeze fruit slices or even flowers in your ice cube or unusually-shaped molds. Or, garnish the punch with slices of fresh fruit.

If one of your friends is having a birthday, you can freeze plastic candle-holders in ice cubes, then add birthday candles and float the ice on the punch.

Party Punch Mix makes a good ice-cream topping, too! Pour it over the ice cream straight from the decanter. Or, try it undiluted as an after-dinner cordial.

If you want a super delicious molded dessert or salad, use the punch mix as the liquid in your gelatin.

This new convenience drink should be popular for large parties because it takes less than a minute to mix a new bowl of punch. You don't have to worry ahead of time to heat the evening or risk having enough left over for another party.

Don't Interchange Baking Powders

Because of the different action of baking powders, the different types cannot be used interchangeably (same amounts) in recipes.

The right amount of baking powder to use in cake baking varies, too, with the thoroughness of creaming of ingredients, the method of mixing, the extent of mixing, the type of flour used, and the altitude at which baking takes place.

Tested recipes are carefully formulated to take all these factors into account. For best results always use the exact amount of the type of leavening called for in each recipe.

If you want to use aluminum foil for wrapping packages for the freezer, use the kind that is marked "for freezer" or "heavy duty."

Time Saver, Too

Here's an easy way to make cheese-flavored bread crumbs for casserole toppings — and clean your grater at the same time! Next time after you grate or shred cheese, rub a dry bread crust over the grater. The bread removes sticky cheese bits, giving you flavored bread crumbs at the same time.

Spicy Drops Soft, Chewy

The baseball season is in full swing. Little Leaguers are big news. True the local team may not always win, but it's probably endlessly hungry.

That's when the family cookie jar goes to bat.

These spicy molasses drops will touch all bases—they are soft, nutritious, plump.

Not only the players, but also the coaches (dads and older brothers) will dive into the cookie jar after the game and refresh themselves with these molasses drops and a glass of milk.

Spicy Molasses Drops
 1/2 cup shortening
 1/2 cup sugar
 1 egg
 2 1/2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
 1/4 teaspoon salt
 1/4 teaspoon soda
 1 1/2 teaspoons allspice
 1 1/2 teaspoons ginger
 1/4 cup light molasses
 1/4 cup boiling water
 1 cup rolled oats (quick or old fashioned, uncooked)
 1/2 cup chopped nuts
 Heat oven to moderate (375 degrees). Beat shortening and sugar together until creamy. Blend in egg.

Sift together flour, salt, soda and spices. Add alternately with molasses and water to creamed mixture. Stir in oats and nuts.

Drop teaspoonfuls onto greased cookie sheets. Bake in preheated oven (375 degrees) 8 to 10 minutes. When cool, frost with Browned Butter Frosting.
Browned Butter Frosting
 Brown 1/4 cup butter or margarine over low heat; remove from heat. Beat in 1 1/2 cups sifted confectioners sugar, 1 1/2 tablespoons evaporated milk until smooth and of spreading consistency. If necessary, add a little more milk. Makes 4 dozen.

They're All New and Different

By JANET ODELL

Pontiac Press Food Editor
 Babies rate two of the new products were telling you about today.

One is a strained orange-apple-banana juice. It's lightly sweetened, pasteurized and finely strained for bottle feeding or drinking.

The other new baby food is a quartet of natural fruit gels. These ready to eat jelled desserts come in orange, cherry, apple and pineapple flavors.

Packed in both strained and junior sizes, these desserts stay jelled at room temperature and need no refrigeration before opening.

TWO FLAVORS

Lemon-Lime Drink and Lemon-Orange Drink are made from natural fruits with added vitamin C. Cans are the 46-ounce size.

If you're pleasing adults, you'll serve them the new flavored iced teas. This trio of mixes with sugar added needs only water and ice for a complete drink.

Flavors are lemon, lime and mint. Producer is one of the country's oldest tea companies.

A new coffee cake mix has a caramel butter pecan topping, part of which is "marbled" into the cake before baking. Vacationers and campers can take this mix along for good breakfast eating.

The newest cereal — that is, newest to us — is a sweetened corn cereal. Both sugar and honey give the honeycomb shaped pieces their sweetness. The producer suggests you eat it with fruit milk.

Cereal with Fruited Milk
 Combine two cups chilled milk and one cup sweetened sliced peaches or strawberries. (Or use two ripe bananas, cut in small pieces.) Mix milk and fruit in an electric blender or with rotary beater, or electric mixer until blended.

Pour over cereal; top with additional fruit, if desired. Makes about 2 1/2 cups or 2 or 4 servings.

Six Companies Make Most Dry Cereal

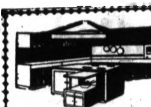

Ready-to-eat cereals are the largest single type of food eaten at breakfast. In 1964 per capita consumption—continuing a five year rise—reached an average of 7.9 pounds.

Six companies control 96.5 per cent of the ready-to-eat cereal market. Competition between cereal manufacturers has resulted in many new products (some 40 per cent of the ready-to-eat cereals did not exist in 1963).

Ice With Avocado

Chill a cooked head of cauliflower. Mash a ripe avocado seasoned with minced onion, salt almonds. Ice the cauliflower and pepper and chopped salted with this mixture when ready to serve.

Top Special Hamburgers With Zesty Sauces

Behind every he-man backyard cook who likes to parade his culinary skill over the barbecue grill there is a patient wife who usually salvages the party with advice, a salad, pot of beans and maybe some garlic bread and relishes.

So the next time the outdoor chef in your family wants to impress the guests, urge him to grill wheat germ-buffet burgers, which can be topped with one of three delicious sauces — cheese olive, Italian or tangy-butter.

You can fool-proof his show by making one or all three of the toppings ahead of time, and building the high-nutrition wheat germ-burger patties for him.

BUFFET BURGERS

4 cups (2-lbs.) ground chuck or round
 3/4 cup wheat germ
 2 eggs
 1/2 cup half and half (thin cream)
 2 tablespoons minced onion
 2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce
 2 teaspoons salt
 1/4 teaspoon thyme
 1/4 teaspoon marjoram
 Combine all ingredients. Mix well. Shape into 8 patties, about 4 inches in diameter. Broil, fry or grill until done as desired, turning once. Yield: 8 servings.

Cheese Olive Topping
 1 cup (4-oz. pkg.) shredded Cheddar cheese
 1/4 cup salad dressing

1/4 teaspoon garlic powder
 1/2 cup (1 1/2-oz. pkg.) blue or Roquefort cheese, crumbled
 2 tablespoons chopped stuffed olives
 Combine Cheddar cheese, salad dressing and garlic powder. Mix well. Stir in blue cheese and olives. Yield: 1 cup topping.

Italian Topping
 1/4 cup chopped onion
 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
 1 cup (10-oz. can) tomatoes
 1/2 cup finely chopped salami
 1/2 teaspoon oregano
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1/2 teaspoon sugar
 1/4 teaspoon black pepper
 1/2 cup shredded Parmesan cheese
 Sauté onion in butter until tender. Add tomatoes, salami and seasonings. Simmer over low heat about 15 minutes. Spoon topping over burgers. Sprinkle with Parmesan cheese. Yield: 1 cup topping.

Tangy Butter Topping
 1/2 cup soft butter or margarine
 1 tablespoon lemon juice
 1/4 teaspoon paprika
 1/4 teaspoon dill weed
 1/4 teaspoon garlic powder
 1/4 teaspoon black pepper
 2 tablespoons sliced green onion
 Combine all ingredients except onion. Mix thoroughly. Stir in green onion. Yield: 1/2 cup topping.

Conservatives Shout 'Resign' at Ambushed Laborites, Wilson

LONDON (AP) — Spokesmen for Britain's Labor government said today that Prime Minister Harold Wilson would not resign despite three staggering defeats in the House of Commons.

The spokesmen said the issue at stake was not considered vital to the government's program.

It was clear, however, that the government had suffered great embarrassment and its floor managers in Commons servatives apparently had tricked a number of Labor members into going home too early.

The votes came early today during debate on the government's finance bill embodying stiffer taxes and a new system of company taxation. The votes added a clause limiting the effect of the new capital gains tax on mutual funds.

DEBATE GOES ON

Until midnight the debate droned on. Some Conservatives appeared to be going home, leaving only 40 or so in the chamber. The lobbies Labor floor managers assumed they had plenty of supporters in case of a surprise vote and let some of their more elderly members go home.

Most of the Conservatives had parked their cars nearby and trickled back unobtrusively. At

Theater Notable Dies

BAYSHORE, N. Y. (AP) — Hallye Clogg, 86, who started a theatrical career as a chorus girl in the 1890s and became one of the best known wardrobe mistresses on Broadway, died Monday of a heart attack.

1 a.m. the first vote came, and the Tories appeared in force. The vote on the new Conservative clause was 180-180, a majority of 14 for the opposition.

Labor whips frantically loured the lobbies looking in vain for their lost majority. A second vote a few minutes later on a technical motion scored 180-187 for the opposition.

The delighted Conservatives charged, "Resign, resign." Edward Heath, Conservative finance spokesman and the architect of the ambush, told the House: "The lesson for the government is plain — it should resign and resign quickly and let the country record its verdict."

Chancellor of the Exchequer James Callaghan tried to take some of the sting from Heath's attack by noting that votes on the bill so far had brought 93 victories for the government against 2 for the opposition.

BLUNTS ASSAULT

"Not a bad tally," he said. The government soon suffered a third reverse, again by 13 votes. Heath successfully moved that the House adjourn for the night. The vote was 180-187.

Since its election last October, the Labor party's majority in the 60-seat Commons had varied from three to six, according to the number of special elections pending. It now stands at four.

Despite this slender margin, the government had suffered only one previous Commons defeat, and that on a minor matter of House procedure.

551 Killed in Traffic Over 3-Day Fourth

CHICAGO (U) — Traffic accidents killed 551 persons over the Fourth of July weekend, establishing a record for a three-day observance of the holiday.

Last year's final figure of 504 was the previous record for a three-day Independence Day holiday. In the four-day July Fourth observance in 1963, there were 557 deaths in traffic.

The National Safety Council had estimated in a preholiday tabulation that 470 to 570 persons would be killed in traffic.

For comparative purposes, the council conducted a 78-hour tally of traffic deaths on the nation's highways over a nonholiday period earlier this year. The toll was 435. A similar survey by the Associated Press from 6 p.m. Friday, June 18, through midnight Monday, June 21, recorded 363 traffic deaths.

The worst holiday traffic toll on record was nine years ago when 706 persons were killed during a four-day Christmas observance.

Boating accidents took 36 lives during this year's Independence Day holiday and 123 drowned in accidents unrelated to boats.

Integration Formula OK'd

NEW IBERIA, La. (AP)—A federal judge has approved the Iberia Parish School Board's plan to desegregate all grades this fall.

Although it would be the first complete integration of any school system in the state, U.S. Dist. Judge Richard Putnam, in his order Tuesday, noted that no Negroes had asked for assignment to white schools.

Spanish Cabinet Is Reshuffled

MADRID (UPI)—Generalissimo Francisco Franco today replaced six cabinet ministers in a move to solve Spain's worsening economic and agricultural problems.

It was the first cabinet reshuffle in six years.

Justice — Antonio M. De Ojedo; commerce — Faustino Garcia Monco; agriculture — Adolfo Diaz Amrona; finance —

Juan Jose Esquinas; public works — Federico Silva; minister without portfolio — Laureano Lopez Rodo.

Informed sources said the appointment of Lopez as minister without portfolio apparently reflected Franco's confidence in his administration of the current four-year economic development plan.

Lopez, who had not previously held cabinet rank, now becomes a sort of super-minister.

The sources said this will give him sufficient authority to coordinate aspects of the plan affecting other ministries such as finance, agriculture, housing and commerce.

Another key appointment was the designation of Diaz Amrona to replace the present agriculture minister, Cirilo Canovas.

Canovas had not been able to cope with the shortage of farm labor, caused by the cityward shift.

Diaz Amrona, who had been governor of Badajoz Province, is an agricultural specialist and has large land holdings. He is a member of the Spanish Parliament (Cortes) and has fought vigorously for agricultural interests during many legislatures.

U.S. Moving Carefully, Purposefully Toward Accord With Panama on Canal Treaty

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States, anxious to convert what has been a propaganda liability into an asset, is moving carefully but purposefully toward agreement with Panama on a new Canal Zone treaty.

U.S. and Panamanian sources say it is extremely important that current negotiations produce clear prospects of agreement soon, so that recent cordial relations do not suffer a new setback.

The Panamanian National Assembly reconvenes Oct. 1. President Marco A. Robles will be obliged to touch on the negotiations in his state of the union speech. If there is no clear sign of progress, hot nationalist tempers are likely to flare up.

Both Robles and U.S. negotiators say they are optimistic. Robles says he expects in his administration—he took office last October for four years—to sign a new canal treaty with the United States.

President Johnson last April named John N. Irwin his special representative in the negotiations, to serve as an alternate to special Ambassador Robert B. Anderson, who was Treasury secretary under President Dwight D. Eisenhower. Anderson was appointed last December when Johnson notified Panama the United States was ready to negotiate a new treaty on the present canal and seek a site for a new sea-level one.

Panama remained tranquil during the Dominican Republic crisis despite efforts of extremists to stir up violence on that issue. But regarding the canal, it would take only a small incident to move crowds into the streets. Many Panamanians claim they were treated unfairly under the 1903 treaty. The very existence of the Canal Zone is a convenient handle for agitators.

Robles seems determined there will be no repetition of that violence. The Panama National Guard, the country's 3,500-strong army, seems gradually to have withdrawn from politics.

U.S. sources in the zone say clear indications of progress in the treaty talks would help toward insurance against a new outbreak. The Canal Zone governor, Robert J. Fleming Jr., says he hopes the United States will determine what are its essential interests, but that it could meet many of the Panamanian demands.

Both sides are being careful.

There are some potentially explosive factors involved. Almost 25 per cent of the labor force is on unemployment lists in the cities of Panama and Colon, at either end of the canal. This provides an emotionally charged situation.

A generous U.S. attitude in the negotiations, say North Americans on the scene, could pry propaganda weapons from the hands of the agitators.

TIME LIMIT

Panama wants acknowledgment of her sovereignty over the zone, an area 10-miles wide and 56-miles long. She wants a time limit on the provision which now gives the United States control in perpetuity. This is a sore issue in Panama. The United States is inclined to go along with the general idea.

The Panama Canal is important to the country. It gets an annual annuity of about $2 million under the treaty, but the indirect income amounts to nearly $110 million, or more than $20 million above the current total Panamanian budget. The benefits come from wages to Panamanians in the zone, U.S. purchases in Panama and the influx of U.S. dollars in connection with operation of the canal.

Senator Urges Campaign Fund Controls

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John Sherman Cooper has recommended that Senate officers and employees be prohibited from handling political campaign funds.

The Kentucky Republican, a member of the Senate Rules Committee which investigated the Bobby Baker case, said: "We found evidence of his collecting, handling and distributing funds for political campaign purposes."

Baker resigned as secretary of the Senate Democratic majority after his financial dealings came under fire in 1963. His job paid $10,000 annually, but he claimed a fortune of $2 million.

Cooper asked yesterday that Senate rules be amended to include the ban.

He said "political contributions should be channeled directly to the senatorial campaign committees of either party or to the other lawful campaign committees."

Cooper also proposed a rules change to require each member, officer and employee of the Senate to disclose annually his non-governmental business, professional or employment activities.

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — Ten years ago, Charn Pumsiri eloped with Suket Hakkayanon's sister from a small town in southeast Thailand.

Firing Mars Dominican Peace

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — Brazilian, Nicaraguan and Honduran troops of the Inter-American Peace Force exchanged heavy fire with the Dominican rebels for half an hour Tuesday night, a peace force spokesman said.

The rebels traded shots for five minutes with U.S. paratroopers nearly two hours later, the spokesman added.

He said a U.S. paratrooper was reported captured by rebel troops. It was not immediately known whether the capture was connected with the shooting. No injuries were reported during the flareups.

NO JUNTA FIRE

The spokesman said troops of the military-civilian junta did not fire at any time during the exchanges.

The incidents were the most serious since mid-June and threatened negotiations by an Organization of American States mediating committee to establish a compromise government.

Gen. Hugo Panasco Alvim, Brazilian commander of the inter-American force, charged that the rebels staged an "unprovoked and preplanned" attack.

The rebels complained to the united mission that junta troops had fired first from behind the lines of the inter-American force. The inter-American force surrounds the rebel stronghold in downtown Santo Domingo.

A spokesman for the inter-American force said the shooting started when three rebels advanced on a checkpoint manned by Honduran troops. They were told to halt but instead started shooting, he said.

The shooting quickly spread along the six-block sector manned by Latin-American troops. The spokesman said it ended shortly after Nicaraguan troops fired four rounds from a recoilless rifle to silence 50-caliber rebel machine guns.

Entering Junior High Is Real Adventure

By LESLIE J. NASON, Ed. D.

Entering junior high can be a real adventure. For the first time, the student becomes a member of the whole school and not just a room.

Unfortunately, fears too often spoil what should be a happy occasion.

There was Raymond who worried all summer long.

Would he look funny when suited up for gym classes? Would he be able to run fast enough and catch well enough? And what about the new locker room? He had always been taught to close the door and keep the bathroom a private place.

Parents can help make this a happier summer and smooth the first days of junior high by finding out about the programs and discussing them with their children.

It would help them to know if, for example, the first day is to start with an assembly in which procedures will be carefully explained.

VISIT SCHOOL

A visit to the school is important, especially if the new student is timid.

Someone should explain to him that the boys from other schools will be just as anxious to be friendly as he is; that rather than being lost among 1200 students he will be a member of a small group in each of the classes and that each teacher will be eager for him to succeed. Everyone will be on his side.

A student who has been at the junior high the previous year can be of great help in allaying fears.

The subject matter often is either too easy or too difficult right from the start.

START A REVIEW
The start is usually a review. Parents who suspect that the work of their child is not up to grade level should initiate some review in the deficient subject in the weeks before school opens.

Even a short review will often give a child enough of a start for him to keep up with the classroom work. At no time in the school year will a little effort bring such great rewards.

Since reviews usually are paced for the average, they are boring to the superior student. This boredom can be relieved if the student will turn his attention from the subject matter to improving his learning skills.

If he tries to write neat, perfect papers, homework can become an activity through which he practices the skills needed to make him a better student. While he needs no review in the days before school opens he does need to be forewarned so that he will make the most of an otherwise uninteresting situation.

Tigers' Denny McLain Shuts Out Yanks

AP Photo

TIGER SLIDES HOME — Detroit's Dick McAuliffe crossed up the New York Yankees defense last night in Tiger Stadium in the fifth inning when he scored from third on a short fly to center off the bat of Jerry Lumpe. Yankee shortstop Tony Kubek caught the ball in short centerfield, and McAuliffe surprised the defense by heading for the plate after the catch. Kubek fired the ball toward catcher Elston Howard at the plate, but first baseman Joe Pepitone, who didn't see McAuliffe, cut the ball off in front of the plate. Waiting to bat above is Tiger Jim Northrup (30). Tigers won, 8-0.

DETROIT (AP) — Playing against the New York Yankees sometimes brings out the best in a team and the Tigers took their turn Tuesday night. Denny McLain scattered seven hits and picked up his sixth straight victory as the Tigers pounded the defending American League champions 8-0.

“That’s the most fun we’ve had since I came back,” Manager Charlie Dressen said. “McLain, who blanked the Washington in a rain-shortened game his last time out, saw his teammates collect a dozen hits, seven of them for extra bases.

HOMERS HELP

Bill Freehan and Norm Cash, who entered the game with a combined batting average of .195, paced the attack. Each hit a two-run homer and batted in three runs.

Freehan also added a double and Cash a single to give some indication that maybe they are ready to break loose and give a little more hitting support in the second half of the season.

“That’s the best night I’ve had since I hit the two homers against Chicago in May,” Freehan said, suddenly forgetting the back and hand injuries which hampered his start.

“Denny really had the stuff out there tonight,” he added.

McLain, who now has five complete games and three shutouts, said he did not feel any happier about blanking the Yankees.

GOOD CONTROL

“I thought I had good control out there and was able to get my change-up pitch over when I had to,” McLain said. “But I guess you can’t help but have better control when you get to work.”

“After the Yankees got those two hits in the ninth (and sent a runner to third for the first time in the game), Dick Mc-

Auliffe came over and told me to forget about the shutout. I told him I was sick of losing shutouts late in the game.

“I really wanted to strike out (Hector) Lopez, but he bounced into a double play so I was happy,” McLain added.

McAuliffe showed why he was selected to the All-Star team with a fancy fielding play to throw out Elston Howard in the second inning. He went over to the second base side of the bag to appear the grounder and threw while running at full speed.

SHORT FLY

McAuliffe opened the fifth with a triple and scored after Jerry Lumpe lifted a pop fly to short center. Yankee shortstop

Tony Kubek caught the ball with his back to the plate and McAuliffe scored.

Lumpe raced behind the bag in the eighth inning to start a double play after McLain had hit pinch-hitter Jake Gibbs to open the inning.

McLain hit the middle finger of his pitching hand while laying down a sacrifice bunt in the seventh inning. He said it was sore for a while but did not affect his pitching.

FIFTH LOSS

Freehan’s homer started Mel Stottlemyre on his way to his fifth loss. The Yankee right-hander was seeking his 10th victory.

Doubles by Jim Northrup and Al Kaline, singles by Cash and Don Wert and a ground out by Freehan gave the Tigers three runs in the fourth inning and sent Stottlemyre to the showers.

Cash’s homer came off Gil Blanco in the eighth inning. It was his first off a left-handed pitcher since last June.

Nicklaus Opens With 73

Lema Setting Torrid Pace

British Golf Event in First Round

Lou Brock Chasing Stolen Base Leader

By the Associated Press

Lou Brock may be only the No. 2 thief in the National League but he tops San Francisco's most wanted list today. Brock, who has been chasing champion Tony Lema got off to a sizzling start in the first round of the British Open Golf Championship.

Lema, from San Leandro, Calif., playing with only two days' practice, shot the first nine holes in 33, two under par. It was the best first round of the early starters.

Phil Rodgers of LaJolla, Calif., shot a 75 and Mike Hadlock of Houston, Tex., one of the two American amateurs, registered a 77 over the 7,037 yard par 73 Birkdale seashore links. Of the early finishers, Christy O'Connor, the crusty Irishman from Dublin, had the best score — a 69, a record for the newly constructed course.

OVER PAR

Other international stars, including Roberto De Vicenzo, Harry Weetman and Angel Miguel, saw their scores skyrocket over par.

Arnold Palmer, second to Nicklaus in the favorite's list, was among the late starters. So were Sam Snead, Doug Sanders and the new U.S. Open champion, South Africa's Gary Player.

The burly, 210-pound Nicklaus, who fired a 65 in his practice round Tuesday, started badly with five on the first three holes. But he rallied to salvage a par score.

BIRDIE SPREE

The Californian birdied the first hole by hitting the green with his second shot. He got another birdie at the fifth with a four footer. And then at the 459-yard eighth hole, Tony whammed a 30 footer in for a birdie three. He mastered the ninth with a 21-foot putt for another birdie three.

After his round Nicklaus said: “The conditions were not difficult out there. And I would expect to see some good scores by the end of the day.”

“But I found the greens slow and bumpy. They are not as good as the other ones I have played in the British Open.”

“I missed half my putts by misreading the greens.”

Then he added: “Despite the poor start which those three fives it was the back nine that really killed me.”

“I had bogeys on the two short holes — the 12th and 14th. Those are the two holes where you’ve a chance to pick up strokes with birdies.”

Juan Marichal's string of scoreless innings at 20 with an RBI single in the first. Lou stretched a fourth-inning hit into a double and scored the tying run on Ken Boyer's single, then beat out a bunt in the sixth, stole second and broke the 2-2 deadlock on a single by Curt Flood.

Curt Simmons was the winner, with relief help from Don Dennis and Hal Woodeshick, while Marichal took his seventh loss in 20 decisions.

The Dodgers, although outlived 14-13 by Cincinnati, dropped the Reds back into second place, one game out. Lou Johnson leading the way with three hits. Johnson, Dick Tracy, and John Roseboro each knocked in two runs.

Throat Exam Set for Hagen

DETROIT (AP) — Walter Hagen, 72, one of the grand old men of golf, was scheduled to check into Henry Ford Hospital here today for a throat examination.

Hagen won the British Open title four times and the U. S. Open twice.

Hagen's son, Walter Hagen Jr., representative here of a sports magazine, said his father had been undergoing cobalt treatment at his home in Traverse City, Mich., for the past year.

The son said his father expected to stay at least two weeks in Detroit.

Hagen himself said earlier that doctors planned to examine tissue from his throat, but “I don't know if they are going to operate.”

'Bonus Baby' Recalled From Mets Farm Club

NEW YORK (UPI) — Dennis Musgraves, 21-year-old former $100,000 bonus baby, was recalled by the New York Mets today from their Buffalo farm club in the International League. Musgraves had a 2-6 record and a 3.70 earned run average in 13 games for the Bisons.

Pirates' Pitcher Denies, Admits Throwing Spitter

PHILADELPHIA (AP)— "Go ahead look at it," pitcher Don Cardwell of the Pirates told reporters, nodding toward his cap in his locker.

"Yeah," said Pittsburgh Manager Harry Walker, "look at it. You won't find a thing."

Cardwell's cap had been the center of controversy for awhile Tuesday night as Pittsburgh defeated Philadelphia 4-1.

Phillies' coach George Myatt complained there was a foreign substance on Cardwell's cap and he was using it to juice up his pitches.

Umpire Chris Pelekoudas examined the cap, however, and found nothing.

"I've been accused of throwing a wet one before," said Cardwell, "but I don't throw it. To tell you the truth, I threw two in 1963—one to Harvey Kuenn and one to Orlando Cepeda. One hit me on the kneecap and the other hit me up here. Knocked my cap off."

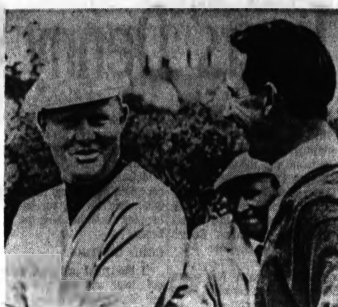

Myatt said he was flabbergasted by Pelekoudas' elaborate inspection of Cardwell's cap.

"No reason to go through a big production. I didn't say a word about a spitter. All I said was there's something on the bill of his cap. And I still say there was."

"It could have been a wet bill. It could have been grease. It was something."

In Beating Yankees

Tigers Play Long, Short

DETROIT (AP)—Tuesday night's Tiger-Yankee game featured one of the longest doubles and the shortest sacrifice flies ever seen in Tiger Stadium.

Jim Northrup's double in the fourth inning hit the wall in center field on one hop and bounced into the hands of Roger Repoz. The ball hit near the 440-foot sign.

Jerry Lumpe got credit for a sacrifice fly in the fifth when Dick McAuliffe scored after his pop fly to short center.

First baseman Joe Pepitone cut off the throw after Tony Klock caught the ball, apparently not seeing McAuliffe streaking for the plate.

MAY SURPRISE

But Dressen indicated he may have a surprise for the Yankees.

"We'll wait and see how we come out tonight," Dressen said.

Following the split in the holiday doubleheader Monday, Dressen said he might throw Joe Sparma—who pitched seven innings in the second game and won his third straight over the Yankees—at the New Yorkers again.

Dressen feels playing winter ball has done wonders for Denny McLain.

"He got a lot of work when he was in Puerto Rico," Dressen said. "It helped him gain his control and his curve ball is better."

"He threw five curves tonight that were out of this world—they were A-1 curves. I just told him to remember what he did when those balls acted the way they did."

By Racing Champions

Highway Driving Problems Cited

NEW YORK (UPI)—Pay attention to what you're doing; they always ask questions at the morgue.

A record total of 557 victims no longer is in a position to answer any questions today.

"The principal fault of today's average highway driver is he isn't attentive enough behind the wheel," declared the blond, lanky 28-year-old Hall, who teamed up with the heavier, 37-year-old Sharp to win the Sebring 12-hour endurance race earlier this year.

SECOND NATURE

"Instead of being alert every second, too many people drive their cars as if it were second nature," Hall added. "They start out for the neighborhood supermarket, begin thinking about a dozen different things and wind up in front of their office instead."

Sharp, sitting nearby, nodded his head in agreement.

"I know I'm much more attentive driving on the track than I am on the highway," he said.

Hall said he tries to pay 100 per cent attention to his driving, every moment he's on the track although he confessed there's always a tendency to do a little day-dreaming "when you get too far out ahead."

UNIQUE TEXANS

Sharp and Hall are a pair of Texans unique in their field because they designed and built the race car they both drive. It is called a Chaparral but cannot be bought because it is not on the market.

The two partners finished second and third to Bruce McLaren of New Zealand last weekend in Montreal but wound up one-two at Watkins Glen, N.Y., two weeks ago.

Road racing differs from track racing such as the famed Indianapolis 500 in that it simulates actual driving conditions.

That means road racers go uphill and downhill and have to make right and left turns, while in track racing the drivers are called upon to make only left turns.

Moreover, road racing has mushroomed in popularity to such an extent that manufacturers, such as Robert Bosch, give drivers like Hall and Sharp $10,000 just to use their products in their car.

Bluegills in Deep Water

Sylvan Lake Yields Big Bass

Sylvan Lake, once a highly regarded fishing spot but slumped in recent years by most anglers because of heavy weeds, is No. 1 on Arthur H. Potter's list. The 31-year-old Redford Township resident fished the lake for the first time Saturday morning and carried away an experience he will never forget.

The experience in this case was a 74-pound largemouth black bass.

Potter was with Tony Ruzzin, 323 S. Telegraph, who is one of the few remaining anglers who fish the lake consistently. Ruzzin was casting for bass while Potter was fishing for bluegills with worms.

Ruzzin hooked a 13-inch bass and just before getting it to the boat, a small bluegill took Potter's bait. Both fishermen saw the big bass following the smaller one Ruzzin was about to land.

BATTLE JOINED

Potter maneuvered his bluegill toward the lunker. The largemouth took the bluegill and Potter set the hook. Twenty minutes later the 24-inch bass was in the boat.

"The bass didn't jump," reported Potter. "It just kept heading for the weeds. The fish made one long run."

It was the largest fish he has ever caught. Potter was using eight-pound test line.

Although the bass is the largest reported to The Press this summer, it is not eligible for the Big Fish Derby because it was caught by a fisherman who does not live in Oakland County.

The Derby is open to residents of the county and the fish must be taken in county waters.

A 54-pounder leads the bass division and a 124-pound northern tops the pike division. Entries must be brought to The Press sports department for weighing Monday through Saturday between 7 a.m. and 3 p.m.

The Derby ends Sept. 7.

Good catches were reported from Pontiac, Lakeville, Stringy, White, Wildwood and Orchard lakes.

DEEP WATER

Bluegills have moved off spawning beds and are now found in 12-25 feet of water.

Crickets are the best bait. Craple fishing is excellent at Kent Lake.

Still fishing with small minnows was the most productive method.

Pike remain slow. A few good northern were taken at Proud Lake last weekend. Brendel and Onbaw have been fair. Best bass spots were Pine and Union.

Few rainbows are being caught. Still fishing late at night on Meceday and Elizabeth has been fair to good.

ADRIAN (R)—George Moffat won the speed dash event Tuesday in the National Soaring Championships here.

Moffat, of Elizabeth, N. J., covered the 33 mile triangular course with an average speed of 33.31 miles an hour. The win enabled him to tighten his hold on first place in the overall standings boosting his point total to 5,535 out of a possible 6,000.

Wally Scott of Odessa, Texas, was second in the speed-dash event with an average speed of 30.25 miles an hour, and Dean Svec of Bedford, Ohio, was third with 30.18.

Teal Applications Accepted July 14

With requests continuing to pour into its Licensing office, the Conservation Department reminds Michigan duck hunters that it is not accepting permit applications for this fall's early teal season until July 14.

That means that sportsmen have one week to wait before they can apply for 15,000 free federal permits which will be issued for hunting teal in 10 special areas of the state during an experimental Sept. 16-24 season.

Hunters whose applications are postmarked during the July 14-31 period will be eligible for the permits.

If the department receives more than 15,000 applications postmarked July 14, a random machine drawing will be held to select successful applicants.

Should the total submitted with that date's postmark be fewer than the limit, all hunters properly filing their applications will be issued permits.

Applications postmarked on subsequent days will be filled until the 15,000 limit is reached.

POST CARD

All a hunter needs to do is pick up a regular post card, print or type his complete name and address on the back of it, and sign his name in ink. The department is also asking that each applicant's county of residence be included on the card.

Next step is to address the application to: Blue-Winged Teal, Michigan Department of Conservation, Lansing, Michigan 48928.

Hunters who cannot positively identify teal on the wing are being asked not to apply.

"The success of this hunt and Water Levels Down Behind AuSable Dams

Water levels behind the Loud and Five Channels hydroelectric dams on the AuSable River have started to drop.

Consumers Power Company is lowering the levels about three feet so that the repairs can be made at the plants. The Fiv Channels backwater is expected to be back to normal by July 18 and the Loud pond by Aug. 6.

MILAN, Italy (AP)—Brazilian soccer star Jose Altamini was transferred by the Milan club to the Napoli team of Naples for $400,000 Tuesday.

Raising Rice 'Is for Birds'

St. Clair Experiment Suffers Setback

The Conservation Department is finding out that raising domestic rice in Michigan is for the birds.

An experimental crop was planted this spring at the St. Clair Platts station. All went well until blackbirds discovered that domestic rice buds protruding above the flooded fields are a much more delectable than wild rice.

"The birds damaged the crop badly enough that part of this year's experiment won't be possible," said Howard Green, Pontiac Lake district habitat biologist.

"However, we should be able to gain some valuable information from the remaining rice."

Green said the department is experimenting with the rice "to see if it can be raised in Michigan in sufficient quantity so as to become a food source for waterfowl."

"Ducks flock to rice fields in the south and we feel the same thing will happen here if we can raise it," Green pointed out.

Pontiac Club Places Plaque at Nest Site

A bronze plaque commemorating the finding of the first rare Kirtland's warbler nest was dedicated in northern Michigan July 4 by members of the Pontiac Audubon Club.

The plaque was prepared by PAC members with the help of several local business firms and set in concrete at the site of the discovery.

The site is located in western Oscoda County, a mile north and four miles west of Red Oak (Parnale) bridge over the AuSable River.

It took scientists over 50 years to discover that the rare Kirtland's warbler breeds only in Michigan — and only in a certain area.

The bird was first described in 1851 after Dr. Jared Kirtland collected a male on his farm near Cleveland.

The warbler was first discovered in Michigan by two University of Michigan students in the spring of 1903. Earl Frothingham and Thomas Gale collected a male near the AuSable.

MADE DISCOVERY

Gale, an experienced field ornithologist, discovered a warbler singing a song he was not familiar with because the Kirtland's was relatively unknown at the time.

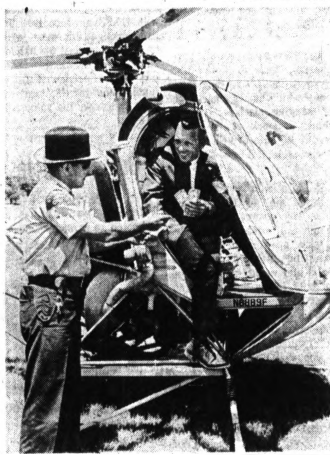

The pair turned the bird over to Norman A. Wood, curator of birds at U-M. He identified it as a Kirtland's and immediately set out for the north with hopes of locating the nesting area. He succeeded in observing the first active nest on July 8, 1903.

The PAC plaque also commemorates the initial discovery of a warbler by Frothingham and Gale.

BUYS PERMIT — Visitors to the Pontiac Lake state park last week received somewhat of a jolt when a helicopter dropped down behind the entrance booth. Joe Clark of Royal Oak only wanted to purchase a vehicle entry permit so he could legally land at state parks around Michigan while touring children's camps on behalf of AMT Corporation in Troy. Clark, who is shown handing over $2 to assistant park supervisor Marc Meyer, is believed to be the first pilot in Michigan to purchase the permit for use on an airborne vehicle.

Trading Is Sluggish

Stock Mart Extends Decline

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market extended its decline into a second session early this afternoon.

Brokers saw the fall in prices as a not unexpected reaction to last week's sharp rise.

LOSERS A POINT

Towmorrow lost about a point after gaining more than 2 yesterday. Caterpillar Tractor was off about half a point. Caterpillar declined to comment on rumors that it was negotiating to acquire Towmorrow, which said yesterday it was holding merger discussions but didn't identify the other company.

Motors failed to find strength in the report that new car sales in June were the highest for any month. General Motors and Chrysler lost about a point.

Aircrafts, electronics, utilities, nonferrous metals, chemicals, rails, oils, airlines, tobacco, and drugs declined.

The Associated Press 60-stock average at noon was off $.3 at $19.5 with industrials off 1.4, rails off .8 and utilities off .4.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials at noon was down 3.34 at $69.84.

The loss deepened as the session progressed.

Planning Unit Elects Leader

Former Supervisor Named in Waterford

Charles Richardson, a former township supervisor, last night was elected chairman of the Waterford Township Planning Commission.

Also named as commission officers for one-year terms were William Shuck, vice chairman; and Mrs. Dorothy Olson, secretary.

Shuck, former superintendent of Waterford Township Schools, now is superintendent of Wayne County Schools. Mrs. Olson is township treasurer and the township board representative on the planning commission.

In other business last night, the commission approved two subdivision plats which will be referred to the township board for final disposition.

One was the Lakeland Estates No. 1 plat detailing a 58-lot development in the area of Eagle and Woodhull Lakes and the other was a plat of the 30-lot Huntton Shores No. 1 subdivision on the south side of Huntton Lake.

Commission members were advised that the revised township zoning ordinance will be ready this fall and that applications for an assistant planning director are being reviewed.

Purchasing Splurge by Airlines Evident

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analysis
NEW YORK — The busy airline purchasing agents are even more free-handed than earlier reports indicated.

A new survey by the Air Transport Association shows orders of new equipment to total $3 billion before the end of the year.

The airlines say this rate of capital investment exceeds that of any other major industry in the country.

Others than the planemakers getting the order will benefit. The airlines point out that most of the new equipment will be short- and medium-range aircraft designed to serve the intermediate cities. This would answer some of the complaints that these cities have been bypassed by the big jets.

NEW EQUIPMENT

The new equipment, when it is delivered by the end of 1967, will increase available seat miles by 48 per cent.

The airlines also say that the investments and the increased productivity from the new equipment should create 50,000 new jobs by 1970. The airlines now employ about 100,000 in the air and on the ground.

The survey to be released later this week shows that as of June 30, orders totaled 400 aircraft at a purchase cost of $2.4 billion. Of these, 308 are Boeing 727, 737, Douglas DC-8s and British made BAC 111 jets, designed primarily for the short-haul and medium-range markets. Jet service to communities which do not have it now should increase sharply in the next two years.

The big expansion comes on top of a spurt in 1964 which found the airlines' new spending equalling 23 per cent of the purchase cost of the property and equipment they had in service at the beginning of that year.

THE ASSOCIATION POINTS OUT THAT at the end of World War II, the cost of property and equipment operated by the airlines was $12.5 billion. By the end of 1964, this had multiplied to $12.5 billion. By the end of 1964, the investment totaled $5 billion.

Finding the money to finance this growth has been a headache at times. And ahead is the supersonic age, when the planes will be priced at $25 million to $35 million each.

THE NEW EQUIPMENT IS counted on to make the lines even more profitable in 1965. And that is why they have chosen to expand now rather than retreat after the four-year lull of 1960 through 1963 which saw many report losses.

The new orders also are attributed to belief in the industry that the general economy is due to go on expanding, with only a few slow-downs or mild recessions ahead.

The airlines have gone deeply into debt at times to finance their growth. Today, the ratio is 60 per cent debt and 40 per cent equity. The association says the goal is to reverse this by the early 1970s. If so, they'll be in better condition to finance the expensive switch to supersonic planes.

Helping with the financing of the new rush of orders for the medium-range jets is the increased earnings of most airlines this year.

MORE PROFITABLE?

The new equipment is counted on to make the lines even more profitable in 1965. And that is why they have chosen to expand now rather than retreat after the four-year lull of 1960 through 1963 which saw many report losses.

The new orders also are attributed to belief in the industry that the general economy is due to go on expanding, with only a few slow-downs or mild recessions ahead.

France Holds to Decision to Shun Euromart Sessions

PARIS (AP) — France held firm today to its decision to boycott Common Market meetings following last week's breakdown in efforts to negotiate agricultural financing provisions.

Information Minister Alain Peyrefitte told a crowded news conference after a Cabinet meeting that the government held to its statement made last Thursday.

At that time, the Cabinet said there is no question, for the moment, of France participating in any new meetings concerning the Common Market in Brussels.

Asked under what conditions France would return to Brussels, Peyrefitte replied that he had no comment.

SIMILAR VEIN
He responded in a similar vein to other questions, sometimes with a half smile.

Peyrefitte reported on measures the Cabinet adopted to benefit French farmers.

These decisions, he said, are in line with statements made by Premier Georges Pompidou during a trip through Brittany last week when he said "French farmers will not have to pay for the failures of our European partners." This was a reference to the Common Market deadlock.

One of the controversial points in the crisis is compensation of farmers, particularly French farmers — who will find their prices lowered when Common Market price ceilings are fixed.

WILL NOT AGREE
Some of France's partners wanted the farm funds handled by the Common Market parliament which sits in Strasbourg. France will not agree to this because it does not want "supranational" powers given to the Strasbourg Assembly, which is advisory in nature.

Most of France's Common Market partners want steps taken toward political unification of Europe, along with economic union. Giving the Strasbourg Assembly powers given to the Strasbourg Assembly, which is advisory in nature.

France opposes political union and this is basic to the Brussels deadlock now.

Calls for Probe in Arson Try

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla. (UPI) — Fire Chief B. M. Hall called for a state investigation today into a fire at the home of the local secretary of Martin Luther King's Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC).

Hall said the fire was "definitely set by someone" near a 100-gallon liquid petroleum tank on the side of Mrs. Lucille Plummer's home shortly after 10 o'clock last night.

He said the fire did no damage to her home.

Hall said the Florida fire marshal would be asked to investigate.

Mrs. Plummer told newsmen a beachball full of flammable liquid had been set on fire with burning rags beneath the tank.

She said her son saw "a green pickup truck full of white men" drive away shortly before the fire was discovered.

Successful Investing

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q "I hold 50 shares of Norfolk & Western and am contemplating buying 50 more. The yield is very attractive, but can a stock be safe paying $7.70 annually and earning $8.71 last year? Why is the stock down so much from this year's high, while Chicago & North Western has moved up?"

M.S.

A) If safe income is your goal, I would certainly buy an additional 50 Norfolk & Western shares which is one of the strongest of all rails. I do not believe the stock can be considered to be on a $7 annual rate. It pays $6 regularly and last year declared a special of $1, which I do not believe will necessarily be repeated.

The stock has come down from its 1964 high, registered when rails were being picked up by traders because of interest in forthcoming mergers. Chicago & North Western has held up well, due to the remarkable management job done by Chairman Heinemann. It is speculative, however, and I would stick to NIFK.

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD — As Yarrow, Stookey and Travers, they might have achieved success. Fortunately for folk-niks, the trio chose to bill themselves by their first names.

Peter, Paul and Mary have become what variety calls a boff act. So boff, in fact, THOMAS that they can almost fill the echoing Hollywood Bowl with clamorous fans, as they did last week.

The same sort of thing happens everywhere they go, and they have gone into most of the 50 states and as far afield as Tokyo and Paris in the four years they have been singing together. Their records sell in the millions — say about five. These sales came from a mere five albums; they conscientiously refuse to sacrifice volume to quality.

Their concert here afforded a closeup view of the successful triumvirate. All are in their late twenties; all, like most folk singers, are aware. Their conversation veers to causes, from the purity of folk music to civil rights. They care not that they have lost dozens of magnificent bookings in the South by marching at Selma, etc.

BLACK GOATEES
To differentiate: Mary Travers wears her straw-colored hair long; the other two have black goatees. Paul Stookey is balding, the trio's comic; Peter Yarrow is stern-minded and the usual spokesman.

"We all had been working separately, and Paul was the only one who was making any money," said Peter. "We were brought together by Albert Grossman, the man who has managed Joan Baez, Bob Dylan, Ozette and many others. He saw something in each of us that might combine into something new."

They rehearsed in New York for seven months, melding their talents into a smooth-functioning team before accepting any play-dates. When they finally appeared before audiences, they possessed a confidence that was startling.

Their first date was at a New York folk house called the Bitter End, which wasn't the least bit prophetic. Audiences knew they were listening to something unique and exciting, even if show business moguls didn't.

WANTED CHANGES
"RCA-Victor didn't feel we were ready to record," Peter recalled. "Columbia Records would have signed us if we changed our material. The Bell Telephone Hour and the night club, the Blue Angel, would have taken us if we had shaved our beards. In each case, we declined."

Warner Bros. Records was pleased to accept the singers bearded and with their original material. Three months after being rejected by RCA-Victor, Peter, Paul and Mary had the best-selling album in the country.

Peter's conclusion: "The impact of a new success is in direct ratio to its degree of departure from the previous norm."

Official Suggests Putting City Bar Issue on Ballot

How many bars and where they will be located—the basic questions of Pontiac's liquor controversy—rose again at the City Commission meeting last night.

This time the subject was coupled with an informal proposal of a city vote on the questions.

Commissioner John A. Dugan said that what to do with liquor licenses was a real problem and that the issue had been ducked for nine years.

Dugan suggested that the liquor question should be submitted to a vote of the people to "see just what we are to do."

Pointing out that the question of what to do with liquor license transfers and the problem of upgrading had been with the commission during his nine years on the commission, Dugan said he was sure he couldn't make the decision alone.

According to state records, Pontiac has been allotted 36 Class C licenses, 17 tavern licenses and two class B hotel licenses.

CITY HAS QUOTA
Under state liquor regulations, each city is given a quota of liquor by the glass licenses on the basis of population. Pontiac has been allotted a total of 55 such licenses, although all are not in active use right now.

Thus, all of the 17 tavern licenses could be upgraded to permit liquor by the glass.

Discussion of the liquor issue was prompted by commission action on a requested transfer of a Class C license — liquor by the glass — from 734-736 Glenwood to 1480 Baldwin.

GMTC Breaks Sales Record

A new sales mark was set by General Motors Truck and Coach Division in the first half of 1965 when 61,860 trucks and buses were delivered, it was announced today.

Calvin J. Werner, vice president of General Motors and general manager of the division, said the record January-through-June figure topped by 13.5 per cent the 54,564 units delivered in the first six months of 1964.

Werner said the record sales were paced by all-time highs in March, April and May.

This June's sales reached 10,612 units, making it the best June in 14 years. Sales last month exceeded those for June 1964 by 10.4 per cent.

Amendment on Presidential Disability OK'd

Senate Vote Is 68-5;
Proposal Now Goes to State Legislatures

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress has given its final stamp of approval, and now it's up to the state legislatures to decide whether an amendment covering presidential disability should be added to the Constitution.

Sponsors believe that some time in 1967 the proposal will be approved as the 25th Amendment by the legislatures of 38 states — three-fourths of the nation's 50 states.

Such action thus would seal into the Constitution the first definitive answer to the query of John Dickinson of Delaware when he asked the Constitutional Convention in 1787:

"What is the extent of the term 'disability' and who is to be the judge of it?"

Senate approval of the proposed amendment came yesterday on a 68-5 roll call vote.

DISSENTERS

Voting against it were Sens. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, Eugene J. McCarthy and Walter F. Mondale, D-Minn., and John G. Tower, R-Tex.

The House had given its approval on a voice vote last Wednesday. President Johnson's signature is not required.

The proposed amendment would supplant a provision of Article II, Section 1, of the Constitution.

Article II says that in the case of the inability of the president to carry out his duties "the same shall devolve on the vice president."

King Aide Backed on Indictment

SELMA, Ala. (AP) — Civil rights leaders have rallied to the support of one of their number, Rev. Frederick D. Reese of Selma, who is charged with embezzling $1,850 from the organization which he heads.

Reese, a lieutenant of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. in the Alabama civil rights campaign, was indicted yesterday on three charges of embezzling from the Dallas County Voters League, a key organization in the lengthy civil rights drive in Selma and Dallas County earlier this year.

Rev. Ralph Abernathy, vice president of King's Southern Christian Leadership Conference, flew into Selma last night with other leaders assigned by King to investigate the charges made against the Negro minister.

Before flying back to Atlanta, Abernathy announced the full support of the organization for Reese before a cheering crowd at Brown's Chapel AME Church, a center of the Selma civil rights drive.

King jumped to Reese's defense after news of the indictments reached him.

NO REASON

"At this time," he said, "we have no reason to doubt either the interest or the integrity of the Rev. Mr. Reese or any of the Dallas County leadership."

King continued, "However, in order to emphasize our interest in fair play and justice, SCLC will immediately launch an investigation into allegations made against Mr. Reese and any other members of the organization."

"The public should be made cognizant that these charges were made in an area where justice traditionally has been biased against Negroes, and too often just consideration under law has to be sought in federal court," King added.

Selma Mayor Joe Smithman and Safety Director Wilson Baker stressed at a news conference after Reese's indictment that the investigation was begun only after Negro civil rights workers complained.

The grand jury, called into special session by Circuit Judge James Hare, turned in one indictment for each of three checks alleged to have been written on an account Reese is said by Baker to have established in Montgomery.

Question 2 in Oregon

Hunt Pair in Robbery, Killing

SPRINGFIELD, Ore. (UPI) — Law enforcement officers searching for two men who shot a rookie deputy sheriff questioned two men found today near an auto abandoned by the fugitives.

A spokesman for the Lane County Sheriff's Office said one of the men was armed with a nine-millimeter pistol similar to the type believed carried by one of the suspects.

Meanwhile, a heavily armed posse of about 100 law enforcement officers moved cautiously through a one-mile square rural residential area in Springfield in search of the two men suspected of robbing Portland, Ore., bank yesterday and gunning down his first night patrol.

Two small planes carrying deputy sheriffs aided the search swooping low over the gently rolling farmland in the heart of western Oregon's lush Willamette Valley. The area includes hay fields, fruit orchards and about two dozen new homes.

SHOT IN BACK

The deputy, Charlton E. Smith, 33, was shot in the back with a 12-gauge shotgun when he stopped the suspect's car on a country road last night. The shooting took place about three miles north of Eugene.

Smith crawled to his patrol car and his dying words over his radio were a description of the car and its license number.

He had stopped the auto for a routine check on the $13,400 robbery of the 42nd and Going Branch of the First National Bank of Oregon in Portland, 110 miles to the north, yesterday afternoon.

The deputy, a former Alaska highway patrolman and mem-

Cong Overrun City in Highlands, Clash With Combined Force

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Some 3,400 U. S. Marines landed at two points in central Viet Nam today, and a U. S. spokesman announced 4,600 more would come ashore during the next week to boost American military strength to nearly 60,000 men.

About midway between the two Marine landing points, the district capital of Dak, in the central highlands 280 miles northeast of Saigon, was reported overrun by the Viet Cong last night and was believed still in Communist hands late today.

A U. S. spokesman said an American adviser with a relief unit was wounded when the relief force was ambushed and forced back.

As the Marines began coming ashore, about 25 B52 bombers of the U. S. Strategic Air Command flew 2,200 miles from Guam and dropped about 500 tons of bombs on an area in the Communist-infested D Zone jungle 35 miles northeast of Saigon.

A U. S. spokesman said no ground assessment of the damage had been made.

THIRD RAID

It was the third raid on a D Zone area by the huge eight-jet bombers.

U. S. Army paratroopers combining another sector of D Zone with a force of Vietnamese and Australian troops got into an intense, half-hour clash with the Viet Cong today about 55 miles northeast of Saigon and were planned down briefly by machine-gun fire.

A U. S. spokesman declined to say if there were any American casualties.

He said the Viet Cong broke off the attack after helicopters began strafing the area.

New Officers Are Elected by Pontiac School Board

A 17-year veteran of the Pontiac School Board was named president of that group last night at the annual organizational meeting.

Monroe M. Osmun, 2094 Lakewind, West Bloomfield Township, was named president of the school board for the fourth time since he was first elected to the school group in 1946.

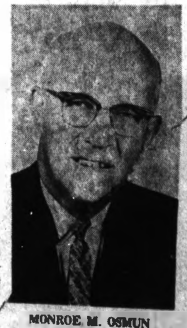

He succeeds William H. Anderson, 145 E. Columbia, who was defeated in his bid for reelection to the school board.

Osmun is a downtown merchant and has also been a member of the Oakland County Board of Education.

Elected vice president was Dr. Walter L. Godsell, 307 W. Huron. Mrs. William Mihalick, 1592 Vinewood, was named secretary.

In other action at the organizational meeting Vernon Schiller, 218 Oneida, was named school district treasurer and authorized to sign checks for the school.

Senate May Vote Today on Care Bill Amendments

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate hopes to start voting today on amendments to the landmark Social Security health care bill.

The measure is one of President Johnson's major legislative proposals. It would set up health care programs for 19 million Americans 65 or older and would boost Social Security benefits.

The proposals would cost an estimated $6.8 billion yearly. Increases in Social Security taxes paid by workers and employers would pay for most of the cost.

Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., floor manager for the measure, said there undoubtedly would be some additional public speeches on the proposals but he was hopeful the first votes could be taken this afternoon.

DEBATE OPENED

The debate opened Tuesday with Long declaring "this bill will be the largest and most significant piece of social legislation ever to pass Congress in the history of our country."

Sen. Clinton P. Anderson, D-N.M., long-time sponsor of programs for health care for the elderly, said the measure is "a tremendous stride forward toward making economic security in old age a reality for the great majority of Americans."

Long said he expected 15 or 20 amendments would be offered to the bill before final action. Passage would send it to conference with the House, which has passed its own version of the measure.

But Long added there was every reason to believe that final action could come by Friday.

WON'T DELAY

Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., senior Republican on the Finance Committee which handled the bill, said this estimate might be optimistic but Republicans would not delay consideration.

"I expect to vote against it on the floor as I did in committee," he said. "But I am willing to go right ahead and vote."

A major amendment is expected to come from Sen. Carl T. Curtis, R-Neb., who plans to try to revise the health plan so as to introduce an income factor in the contribution which the individual would make.

The administration strongly opposes this as a violation of the principles of its proposal. It succeeded in getting the Finance Committee to reverse itself and reject such an amendment after first accepting it.

EXPECTS TO LOSE

Long was the author of the amendment in the committee. He said he would support Curtis' move on the floor but added he expected it to be beaten.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., served notice he would offer amendments to add prescription drugs to the voluntary supplemental health plan in the bill and to go back to the House provision for handling tip income of tipped employees.

His drug proposal would boost the monthly premium payment, for both the individual and the federal government, to $3.75 a month instead of the $3 in the House bill to pay for the added benefits.

Mariner 4 to Feel Gravity Pull of Mars

PASADENA, Calif. — Sometime today U.S. spacecraft Mariner 4 is expected to begin feeling the gravitational tug of the planet Mars.

The 575-pound vehicle is 1.5 million miles to one side of Mars and about nine million miles from its historic July 14 photographic rendezvous with the mysterious planet. Hopefully, 21 pictures will be transmitted to earth then when Mariner 4 emerges from behind the planet.

Hunt Motive for Chicago Explosion

CHICAGO (AP) — Explosion of a bomb rocked office buildings at the western edge of Chicago's downtown area early today causing damage estimated in excess of $200,000 and leaving police puzzled in their hunt for a motive.

The blast, caused by a black powder bomb planted in a city refuse container in front of the 20th floor of the Keapler Insurance Building, which houses the civic opera house and the civic theater, across Wacker Drive.

It sent shrapnel as high as the 20th floor of the Keapler Insurance Building, which houses the civic opera house and the civic theater, across Wacker Drive.

Two automobiles parked nearby were badly damaged by the explosion that occurred at 3:45 a.m., but no one was injured.

Police said the refuse container was in front of the sales showroom of Friden Inc., an office machine manufacturing company which occupies almost the entire first floor of the Masonite building.

$200,000 DAMAGE

Damage to adding machines and computers on display there was estimated at $200,000.

John J. Angus, manager of the Friden office, said he was mystified by the blast.

Arthur Nolan, a detective on the city bomb and arson squad, said a preliminary investigation indicated the firm had no union troubles and that its competitors "are not the kind that throw bombs."

He said there is a possibility the bomb was a "test" device — set off by someone trying to determine the efficiency of a bomb to be used later.

Fire Marshal Gerald Millin said dozens of persons might have been killed if the blast had occurred in the daytime when people were on the streets.

OFF FOR D ZONE — Helicopters lift off from Bien Hoa Air Base near Saigon yesterday with 173rd Airborne Brigade paratroopers headed for the Viet Cong-infested D Zone jungle. These troops are among three battalions of combined forces now in that area.

Central Area at Stake

Marines, N. Viets on Collision Course?

By MALCOLM W. BROWNE, SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A showdown appears imminent between U.S. Marines and what U.S. intelligence believes to be North Viet Nam's 325th Division.

At stake is central Viet Nam — a huge area of jungle-covered mountains, with a string of vital coastal communities running along the South China Sea. One of these is Da Nang, the land anchor of U.S. air raids on North Viet Nam.

For the past few weeks, guerrilla forces of unprecedented strength have roared across the Vietnamese highlands, smashing one important post after another. Thousands of government soldiers have died or been captured.

nor has the enemy tried any major frontal operations.

The U.S. Marines may soon have a green light to shoulder the brunt of the war in central Viet Nam. Vietnamese government forces who have carried the main responsibility up to now have been badly hit.

BACKBONE

Some of these attacks are believed to have involved Viet Cong guerrilla units that have been working in the area for years. But the backbone of Viet Cong strength in this area, many top U.S. officials believe, is the North Vietnamese 325th division, which is said to have begun infiltrating into South Viet Nam early this year.

One battalion of the 325th was identified to the satisfaction of U.S. intelligence officers several months ago in Kontum Province, which borders on Laos. Tuesday night a powerful Viet Cong force overran Dak To, a key district capital in Kontum Province.

U.S. Marines in South Viet Nam have been technically limited to operations connected with securing Da Nang air base and the approaches to it. So far, the Viet Cong has not tried one of its meat-grinder operations on the U.S. Marines.

The officials said 18 Americans were killed, 62 wounded and 1 missing.

Vietnamese government casualties for the week were estimated at 1,075, including 265 killed, and Viet Cong losses at 976 killed.

BY AIR STRIKES

A U.S. spokesman claimed 28 Viet Cong were killed and 280 buildings destroyed by air strikes against Communist positions in South Viet Nam today.

U.S. Air Force and Navy planes hit targets in North Viet Nam throughout most of the day.

Heavy ground fire was reported over some areas, but no hostile planes were sighted and all the raiders returned safely, spokesman said.

They said the raiders destroyed or damaged, 7 bridges, 8 barges, 15 boxcars, 2 trucks, a radar site and a ferry installation.

RETURNED FIRE

Mincin, 36, suffered a leg wound but returned Scott's fire. Ballistics tests were planned to determine which police revolver fired the shot that killed Godfrey.

"There were so many shots fired nobody knows now," a homicide detective said.

A second wounded patrolman, 32-year-old Joseph LaFlee, remained in critical condition today at Montefiore Hospital. He was given the last rites of the Catholic Church yesterday.

After shooting the three policemen, Scott fled into a nearby heavily wooded area and hid throughout the night. A force of 200 police surrounded the area and moved in at daybreak. He was sighted sitting in a tree by three policemen and shot to death.

U.S. officials reported that American forces during the past week had suffered 81 casualties, making it one of the bloodiest weeks to date for the Americans.

Commissioners Confirm Garage Assessment Plan

BIRMINGHAM — The City Commission last night confirmed its stand to assess central business district property owners a maximum 10 per cent of the cost on a $1,744,800 parking garage.

The commission, informed that last night was the last opportunity to reconsider the rate, voted to discuss the matter further but then turned down a proposal by Commissioner David Breck to increase the assessment to 20 per cent.

Breck explained that he made the proposal only to give the commission more latitude in determining the exact method of financing the 560-car structure.

He noted that the commission can lower or eliminate the rate when the assessment roll is presented for final approval July 19, but that the rate can be increased unless another public hearing is held.

At a public hearing June 28 the structure was declared a necessity and the 10 per cent assessment rate tentatively set.

ALREADY PAYING

Businessmen attending that meeting objected to a proposal that they be assessed 40 per cent of the cost. They said they already had paid or were paying assessment for existing surface parking lots.

Construction of the five-deck structure on Woodward near Willis is scheduled to begin in January.

Under the 10 per cent plan, parking rates on long-term permits probably will be increased to provide additional funds.

MOTION FAILS

While the rate was being reconsidered, Commissioner Carl Ingraham proposed that no as-essment be levied, but his motion failed for lack of support.

The commission requested the administration to return next week with a report on just what is required to change the rates on all-day parking meters.

In other business, the commission extended for one month an agreement to sell water from the Walker Well to the city of Troy.

WELL UNUSED

Birmingham no longer uses the Maple Road well for a water source.

The city commission also directed City Manager Robert Keating to set up a joint meeting with the Troy City Commission in the near future to discuss construction developments in Troy that affect Birmingham.

Birmingham commissioners have made it known that they have been "disappointed" over several zoning actions taken recently by Troy.

George W. Coombe Jr. was named new president of the Birmingham Board of Education last night, while the Bloomfield Hills school board retained Richard H. McGraw in the top office.

Dr. Charles A. Leach was named vice president. Secretary Mrs. Louise C. Adams and treasurer Pell Hollingshead were reelected.

Soviet-Built Plane Crashes

30 Die in Mishap; Crewman Survives

CAIRO (AP) — A Soviet-built Egyptian air force plane with a Russian crew crashed in the desert near Suez today, killing 30 of the 31 persons aboard, a military announcement said.

A Russian gunner bailed out safely and walked to the nearest military post to report the crash, a spokesman said.

The big Antonov transport was bound for Yemen with one Egyptian officer, 21 soldiers and a Soviet crew of nine, the spokesman reported.

The plane reportedly was one of two Antonovs that took off before dawn from a base near Suez for Yemen.

NEAR HIGHWAY

The plane went down within sight of the main highway across the desert between Cairo and Suez.

Bus passengers arriving at Cairo said military guards sealed off the crash site. Wreckage was scattered over a wide area, witnesses said, and two engines were the only parts of the plane that could be readily identified.

ber of the Springfield Police Department, was hired by the Lane County Sheriff's Office two weeks ago. He leaves a wife and four children.

IDENTIFY PAIR

Authorities tentatively identified the two suspects as Wilfred M. Gray, 31, and Carl C. Boles. Both were released from Oregon State Prison.

Sheriff Harry Marlowe said the two men matched the descriptions of the Portland bank robbers.

Deadly Smith's body was found by a passing motorist 15 minutes after the shooting. The dead man's service revolver was missing and empty nine-millimeter shell cases and an empty 12-gauge shotgun cartridge indicated the suspects had at least three guns.

Special Film for Classes on Driving

The fourth class of the Pontiac drivers school will be held tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. in city commission chambers at City Hall.

A special film, prepared by the Ohio Highway Patrol, will be presented by the Waterford Police Department.

The documentary movie shows the effects of highway accidents on both the occupants in the car and bystanders.

The drivers school is presented on the second Thursday of each month. It is sponsored by the Pontiac Police, the Automobile Club and The Pontiac Press.
