OAKLAND UNIVERSITY

Two OU campus highlights — the beauty of Beer Lake and the renowned Kresge Library.

In 1957, the late Alfred G. and Matilda Wilson donated $2 million and their 1,500-acre Meadow Brook estate to Michigan State University to establish a college in Oakland County.

Oakland University was founded in 1957 as a branch campus of MSU, with 570 first-year students. By the mid-1960s, it had evolved into a medium-sized university and in 1970 became an independent, state-assisted university. It now offers more than 70 undergraduate programs and more than 30 graduate programs, and enrolls about 12,000 students.

OU's distinct instructional programs — the college of Arts and Sciences, School of Economics and Management, School of Engineering and Computer Science, School of Health Sciences, School of Human and Education Services and School of Nursing — offer a diverse curricula of general education and career preparation courses. Virtually all of these courses are taught by faculty members, not teaching assistants.

The Honors College, a division of the College of Arts and Sciences, meets the educational needs of highly motivated students. The Division of Continuing Education meets the needs of nontraditional adult learners through evening and extension programs.

Academic support facilities include such notable entities as the Eye Research Institute, the only major eye research center in the United States not affiliated with a medical school; the Meadowbrook Health Enhancement Center, which provides health maintenance/health improvement and cardiac rehabilitation community outreach programs; and the Center for Robotics and Advanced Automation, a unit of the school of Engineering and Computer Science that utilizes high technology manufacturing methods.

And OU's professional arts programs annually attract thousands to the campus. OU has received national recognition and local kudos for its Meadow Brook Theatre, Meadow Brook Art Gallery, Meadow Brook Hall and Meadow Brook Music Festival, the summer home of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra.

OU is located 25 miles north of Detroit, in the small town of Rochester. OU's modern campus, which houses the university's many academic and public service programs, is located on a beautifully wooded site — much of it still undeveloped.

OU President, Dr. Joseph Champagne

OU ATHLETIC STAFF

DR. PAUL HARTMAN

Athletic Director

In his career as an athletic director, one which has spanned three decades and covered four different institutions, Dr. Paul Hartman has been one to make visible changes wherever he has been.

As athletic director at Plymouth State College in New Hampshire, his first position, Hartman started a football program with enthusiastic student support. Fifteen years later, a running back named Joe Dudek put that program on the national map with his bid for the Heisman Trophy. In his second post, at Florida International University in 1974, Hartman began a women's golf program. One of the first women's scholarship award winners was Pat Bradley, who later became the first $2 million winner on the Ladies' Pro Golf Association tour. Hartman did not begin the basketball program at his next stop, the University of Wisconsin-Stevens Point, but one of his athletes there, Terry Porter, drew national attention as an NBA draftee from a non-scholarship school.

The programs Hartman has instituted at Oakland University are not as visible as some at his former schools, but they have been plentiful. The department began a Varsity "O" Club for former athletes, brought back baseball as a varsity sport, and made several changes in the Lepley Sports Center — ranging from a refurbishing of the locker rooms and equipment area to renovation of the offices and the addition of the Pioneer Lounge, which is used for conferences and athletic receptions.

"I don't think any one person does one certain thing," said Hartman. "I depend on the president to answer our needs, so maybe the best thing I have done is to adequately translate our needs to the president."

"There are many ways to be an administrator and I choose to be one that's more of a facilitator. I look at my job as more of a service job. I try to keep people happy because I believe a happy family, or a team concept, is healthy."

Previously Hartman had developed additional summer camp programs, created a new season ticket plan and instituted a Hall of Honor for exceptional Pioneer athletes, as well as introduced the first athletic team banquet. Additionally since Hartman's arrival, there has been a large changeover in the coaching staff, as well as in the department's support staff.

Now in his sixth year at Oakland, the veteran athletic administrator still sees more changes for OU on the horizon.

Hartman, Oakland's third director of athletics, succeeded Corey Van Fleet in June of 1983. The only other AD was OU's founding father of athletics, Hollie Lepley.

A graduate of Ohio State University and a native of Columbus, Ohio, Hartman lives in Rochester with his wife, Jane.

TOM FORD

Head Athletic Trainer

Tom Ford begins his first full year as Oakland University's head athletic trainer. Ford joined the OU staff in January. Ford came to Oakland from Cypress Creek High School in Houston, where he was the school's head trainer for five-and-a-half years. Ford went to Cypress Creek after earning a Master of Science degree in Physical Education with a specialization in athletic training from the University of Arizona. He earned a bachelor of science degree from Ball State University. Ford, who has served as a trainer at sports festivals and Olympic Training Centers, will travel to Bulgaria in February as a part of the US contingent to the Winter World University Games. Tom and his wife, Kathleen, live in Rochester with their sons Tom, Jr. and Travis.

RON FORBES

Business Manager

Entering his 19th year at Oakland, Ron Forbes serves as business manager for the athletic department. A graduate of Western Michigan University and a native of Royal Oak, he also handles ticket distribution and receipts for the Pioneers.

ANDY GLANTZMAN

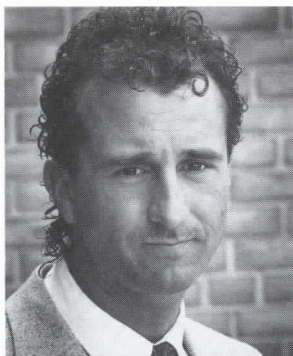

Sports Information Director

In his fourth year as Sports Information Director is Andy Glantzman. Andy joined the Pioneer staff in August, 1985 after six years in the University of Detroit's Sports Information Office. This Brooklyn, New York native has won six publications awards from CoSIDA, including three last year. Glantzman earned a bachelor of science degree in athletic administration from St. John's University (NY) and a Master of Business Administration from U of D. He and his wife, Kim, live in Redford.

TOM VanVOORHIS

Marketing and Promotions

Tom VanVoorhis handles marketing and promotions for the athletic department. Among his duties are selling advertising for Pioneer publications, arranging special game and sports camps promotions and scheduling speaking engagements for the coaching staff. This retired General Motors public relations and marketing employee is a graduate of the University of Michigan.

BOB TAYLOR

WOMEN'S BASKETBALL COACH

When Bob Taylor came to Oakland University, he had the reputation as a program builder. In three years Taylor turned the Lake Superior State College women's program into a Midwest power, and it was hoped he could do the same at OU. No one dreamed it would happen overnight.

The OU coach led his squad to a 21-7 record in his first season, an improvement of eight games over the previous year. The Pioneers also showed a seven game improvement in the GLIAC standings, rising from seventh to third with a record of 11-5. Last year OU ran up a 24-4 record for an .857 winning percentage, best in school history, and tied for second place in the GLIAC at 13-3. OU is 45-11 in two years under Taylor, running his five-year coaching mark to 97-43.

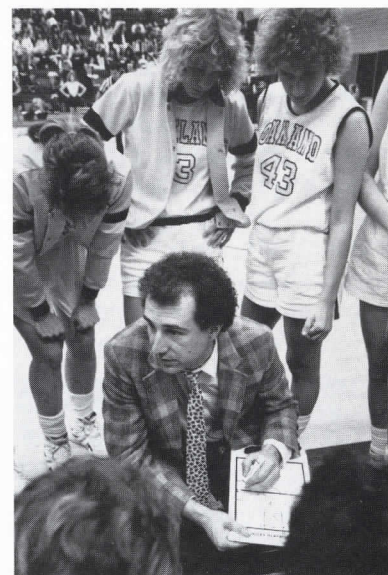

"Except for one week last year we were 24-1," Taylor said. "We think we have a quality program and we are willing to prove it by playing anyone we can."

Last year OU toppled the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor and also suffered one of its four losses at Notre Dame. This year the Pioneers will be traveling further to prove their point, playing at Arizona and Arizona State.

The 31-year-old Taylor has guided teams to the best record in the school's history every place he has been. He was the head coach at Lake Superior State for three years prior to coming to OU, guiding the Soo Lakers to a 52-32 mark. In 1985-86, LSSC was 24-5 overall, 14-2 and second behind Saginaw Valley in the GLIAC. Taylor's squad was the number one seeded team in the Great Lakes Region in the NCAA Division II Women's Basketball Tournament and finished the season as the seventh ranked team in the country. At LSSC Taylor took a program that had never finished higher than seventh in the GLIAC and guided it to 13-15 and 15-12 seasons in his first two years.

Taylor is a native of Sparta, Michigan and attended Sparta High School where he starred in both basketball and tennis. He earned two letters apiece in both sports at Grand Rapids Junior College and Arkansas Tech, where he also earned a bachelor of science degree in social science in 1980 and began his coaching career as an assistant coach. He then became the head coach at Boyne City High School, where he led the Ramblers to a two-year mark of 37-10 and a spot in the Michigan Class C top ten.

Taylor, who has been involved in camps for both men and women, is co-director of the Michigan All-State Basketball Camp for girls held in Traverse City. The college division representative of the Basketball Coaches Association of Michigan is single and lives in Rochester.

QUOTING COACH TAYLOR

WHAT CAN YOU DO TO AVOID BEING LEFT OUT OF THE NCAA TOURNAMENT AGAIN?

By playing the type of schedule we are playing we should leave no doubt as to the kind of team we are. We are playing any one that will play us. And I think the biggest thing is winning the league. The committee made a statement last year that if you win the league you're in, and that's our number one goal right now.

WHAT IS YOUR PHILOSOPHY ON SCHEDULING?

We would like to play as many Division I's as possible because it will help recruiting. We would like to get as many games locally as we can because we are developing a strong local following. This year we have 16 home games, but we also go to Arizona to play two games against Division I schools. In the future I would like to play the teams in our region more, the teams we must compete against to get into the NCAA tournament.

LAST YEAR FOUR TEAMS IN THE GLIAC HAD AT LEAST 20 WINS. JUST HOW GOOD HAS THE GLIAC BECOME?

It had become evident that the GLIAC is a very good league. The teams that have gone to post-season tournaments have done well, both in the NCAA and the NAIA. Lake Superior was within one point of the NCAA quarter-finals last year, and Saginaw Valley has always done well in the NAIA. Last year the GLIAC was 2-0 against the Big 10, and our teams can play with any teams in the state regardless of division.

YOU'VE HAD SUCCESS AT OAKLAND WITH TRANSFERS AND JUNIOR COLLEGE PLAYERS. IS THIS A PHILOSOPHY OR JUST A COINCIDENCE?

When your program becomes successful, as we have been, it sells itself. We have become a viable alternative for players who want to come back home. We haven't pursued the four-year transfers, they have come to us, and that's a tribute to our program. As far as the junior college players go, we are trying to get the best players available, and at times that means the JC players. We have been able to fill holes with these players.

SHAWN CLEMONS

ASSISTANT COACH

Beginning her third year as Bob Taylor's assistant coach is Shawn Clemons, who came to Oakland with a solid basketball background.

Clemons' background includes four years as a varsity basketball starter, camp work in both Arizona and New Mexico, and contact with outstanding coaches throughout her playing career, including former Notre Dame assistant coach Greg Bruce, now head coach at Portland State.

Clemons was a two-year starter and captain at Howard Junior College in Big Springs, Texas before moving on to Arizona State. At ASU, Shawn was part of the 1980-81 and 1981-82 Sun Devil squads that went a combined 46-18, including 25-7 in her senior year when she captained the squad. Clemons' best year was her junior campaign, averaging 7.9 points and 4.7 boards per contest.

After earning her bachelor's degree in physical education from ASU, Clemons joined Greg Bruce's staff at Thunderbird High School. She has worked basketball camps in Arizona State and Eastern New Mexico Universities as well as OU, and served as the Director of Summer Recreation for the City of Clayton, New Mexico.

Clemons, who also serves as intramural director and summer camp coordinator at OU, is married and lives in Rochester with her husband Don, who serves as strength coach for the NFL Detroit Lions.

MEET THE PIONEERS

DETERMINED PIONEERS ON A MISSION

When you win better than 80 percent of your games over two years, you expect the tournament bids to follow. That hasn't been the case for the Oakland University women's basketball team. Coach Bob Taylor's Pioneers were 21-7 in his first year, 1986-87, and won their last six games. They extended the winning streak to 13 by winning their first seven last year enroute to a 24-4 mark. OU was 13-3 in the GLIAC, tying for second place, and only lost to teams with 20 or more wins. Subtract eight days from the calendar, and the Pioneers were 24-1. A two-year record of 45-11, yet OU stayed home while others played on.

"We were the Rodney Dangerfield of women's basketball," coach Taylor said. "We had two great years, but we got no respect."

That looks like it is about to change. OU loses two starters in three-time All-GLIAC forward Sarah Knuth and outstanding guard Kim Klein-Green, but has the bulk of its squad from the last two seasons back. And once again Taylor and his staff have done an outstanding job of filling the team's holes through recruiting.

The Pioneers may have one of the most talented front courts in the Midwest this year. Senior Leah Fenwick had another excellent year in her junior season, averaging 11.8 points and 6.8 rebounds. She led the GLIAC in field goal percentage once again, and shot 58% from the field and 81% from the foul line overall. And those numbers were even better in league play. Junior center Debbie Delie came into her own mid-way through the 1987-88 campaign. Delie led OU in both scoring and rebounding as a soph at 15.9 points and 9.9 boards. Those numbers improved to 17.9 and 11.5 boards in GLIAC games as Delie showed drastic improvement. If that continues, she could be the most dominant player in the GLIAC this year. The third baseline spot is up for grabs between a pair of returnees and a solid transfer. Junior Amy Atkinson averaged 6.1 points and 3.9 boards last year, and her outside shooting ability is a big plus. Janice Kosman had an excellent freshman year last season, netting 8.9 points and also nabbing 3.9 rebounds. Her ability to score both inside and out and her overall floor game will get her lots of minutes. The transfer is Shawne Brow, a former starter at Michigan. Brow is a rugged inside player who can also step out and hit the jumper. Also in the hunt for front court playing time are sophomores Kim Brow, Shawne's sister, and Maura Conroy, as well as freshman walk-on Janell Scott from Standish Sterling Central.

"We will be bigger and have more of an inside game than in the past," Taylor said. "We have more people who can score inside than before. Our offense may be a little more inside oriented, but our overall philosophy to try and score off of our opponents' mistakes won't change."

And that's because of OU's overall quickness, which starts in the backcourt. Juniors Ann Serra and Dawn Lichty will team up and give the Pioneers a talented and versatile guard combination. Serra led OU in assists last year with 127 and ranked among the leaders in the GLIAC. Lichty had another strong year as the Pioneers' third guard, averaging four points and three assists in 19 minutes. The Pioneers will get a big boost from the return of Margaret Boyle-Cobb, back after a year lay-off. Boyle-Cobb is OU's game, season and career leader in assists, and among the all-time leaders in steals. Her return once again gives OU three excellent guards. Also looking for backcourt playing time will be returning sophomore Beth Moore, jet-quick Jessie Powell from Grand Rapids Ottawa Hills, and Oxford's Tiffany Emenaker, the top three-point shooter in Oakland County.

"I think our depth will be a huge factor," Taylor said. "Competition for the top eight or nine spots will be heavy. We are committed to playing an up tempo, run and gun type of game with defensive pressure. We think it's fun for the players and fun for the coaches. With our style of play depth is important, and we think that down the line we will have as much depth as any one we play," Taylor concluded.

OU will be looking for even more outstanding front line play from junior center Debbie Delie (top) and senior forward Leah Fenwick (bottom).

Another way OU will try to state its case is by taking on all comers. Of the Pioneers' 12 non-conference opponents, six won 20 or more games and three more are Division I schools. OU's first four opponents won at least 20 games last year, including Division II semi-finalist North Dakota State. Two more Pioneer foes, Calvin College and Ohio Northern, advanced to the Division III tournament. Oakland will also travel to the Southwest to play Arizona and Arizona State, and host Wright State in yet another Division I game. And then there is the always-tough GLIAC, which counted OU among its four 20-game winners a year ago and should be just as rugged in 1988-89.

"Our philosophy is to schedule anyone who will schedule us," Taylor said. "We feel that by playing the toughest schedule we can, we can remove all doubt as to the quality of our team."

With a difficult slate Oakland will need a squad as deep as it is. If the Pioneers can survive the non-league games and once again challenge for the league title, coach Taylor and his crew could finally break into the NCAA tournament field.

Sophomore forward Janice Kosman will see lots of playing time after her excellent frosh season a year ago.
