State Milk Farmers, Dairies Differ on Holdback Effect

SARANAC (AP) — Conflicting claims clouded the milk strike picture in Michigan today as the withholding action entered its third day.

Spokesmen for state National Farmers Organization (NFO) claimed the movement to be a success, but many dairy distributors reported little or no effect on the milk received for processing.

The farmers' group is seeking an additional dollar for each 100 pounds — 46½ quarts — of milk.

This would be an increase of two cents per quart. Farmers now receive $5.50 per 100 pounds.

Ray Nielsen, state NFO representative, claimed the withholding of milk from producers was 80 per cent effective and contended that some counties were 100 per cent dry.

Nielsen said some dairies, including two in Detroit, already were out of milk. He refused to name them, however.

Reports from around Michigan painted a different picture.

In Muskegon, the Farr View Dairy reported that five of 120 farmers supplying milk withheld their supplies yesterday, but two of them came back today.

At Carney, in the Upper Peninsula, the Frigo Brothers Cheese Corp. plant reported that six farmers of 270 withheld deliveries, causing about a three per cent decline in milk volume.

BESSEMER FIRM

The Consolidated Dairies company at Bessemer reported about one-third of its normal supply withheld. The firm, which makes ice cream and butter as well as bottling milk, gets its supplies from Gogebic and Ontonagon counties and some Wisconsin farmers.

Milk receipts were reported off in southeastern Calhoun County, according to a milk depot salesman in Homer.

An NFO representative who moved into Homer from Ohio commented yesterday on the disabling of a milk truck near Saginaw, saying the action was not in accordance with NFO policy.

But when contacted today, he refused even to verify his name to newsmen.

Other NFO representatives were not so closed-mouth, however.

In Napoleon, Harold Seifert, chairman of the Jackson County NFO unit, said there was between 85 and 90 per cent strike participation among county members, and that some nonmembers have expressed sympathy with the withholding action.

State Clocks to Stay on EST

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's clocks will remain on Eastern Standard Time, despite an 11th-hour lobbyist campaign to move them ahead one hour in accordance with a federal regulation.

Withstanding pressure from backers of Daylight Saving Time, senators voted 28-9 yesterday to give immediate effect to a bill exempting Michigan from the federal Uniform Time Act.

Twenty-six votes were needed to exempt the state from the act, which requires all states to observe daylight time for six months of the year unless they enact exempting legislation.

The bill was passed earlier by the Senate and House and given immediate effect by the House despite an unsuccessful attempt to reconsider the measure. It goes to Gov. Romney for signature.

Romney has said he favors keeping the state on Eastern Standard Time.

LOBBYISTS BUSY

Lobbyists, including representatives of a national radio and television network, airlines and industry, staged a last-minute pressure campaign, urging senators not to give immediate effect to the bill.

The federal regulation specifies that states must exempt themselves by April 1 or go on daylight time from the last Sunday in April until the last Sunday in October.

Had the Legislature not given the exemption bill immediate effect, it would not have gone into effect until 90 days after the end of the legislative session—well beyond the federal deadline.

★ ★ ★

Many senators said they had received telephone calls and telegrams from a Donald Loury, representing the National Broadcasting Co. (NBC), urging them to vote "no" on immediate effect.

Senators said the network told them Michigan would become a "time island" if it remained on standard time.

Sen. Coleman Young, D-Detroit, and one of the bill's sponsors, said an NBC representative told him 90 per cent of the nation would be on Daylight Time under the new law and that the network planned to schedule its program on this basis.

Young said he was told Michigan's remaining on standard time would put the state out of step with the rest of the nation regarding program scheduling.

Consular Treaty Ratification Backs LBJ's Moscow Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate ratification of the controversial U.S.-Soviet consular treaty in effect backs President Johnson's policy of improving relations with Moscow despite the Vietnam war.

The next step is up to Moscow — and U.S. officials expected today that the Soviet presidium, or legislative body, would soon stamp its customarily automatic ratification on the document which U.S. and Soviet negotiators signed in June 1964.

The consular convention is the first treaty ever concluded between just the United States and the Soviet Union. U.S.-Soviet treaties existed in the pre-Communist czarist days, and in more recent times both countries have joined in multination pacts like the limited nuclear test ban treaty.

The consular treaty sets forth technical procedures to be followed in various nondiplomatic dealings between the two nations.

If an American visitor is arrested in the Soviet Union, for instance, a U.S. official has under the treaty the right of access to the American within four days. And consular officers of the two countries are to be accorded diplomatic immunity similar to that of embassy personnel.

As the Senate neared its climactic 66-28 vote Thursday, both friends and foes of the treaty debated it in the broad context of U.S. policy toward the Communists.

'Rights Events Pleasing, Vexing'

Urban League Hears Exec

A New York businessman and recognized leader in equal opportunity employment movements is both "pleased" and "disturbed" with recent civil rights developments, he told a large dinner gathering last night.

George A. McLellan, public affairs director for the Olin-Mathieson Corp., made the remarks as featured speaker at the 17th annual Pontiac Area Urban League meeting.

Some 500 persons, including local Negro leaders, city officials, area businessmen and civic representatives, crowded the cafeteria hall at Pontiac Northern High School for the event.

McLellan cited his mixed feelings about the drive for Negro opportunity and status as paralleling his dissatisfaction with America.

"I am both proud — and unhappy about my country," he said, "and I expect that you are both proud and unhappy about Pontiac.

"I was disturbed . . . that the suggestion that the "Star Spangled Banner" be sung at a rally supporting the reelection of a Negro congressman was greeted with boos and catcalls.

"I was pleased to read that Roy Wilkins was brave enough to say the same congressman was 'wrecking the civil rights movement.'"

McLellan then pinpointed Plans for Progress — federally backed involvement of corporate business in minority group problems — as a means of attacking lack of Negro job opportunities.

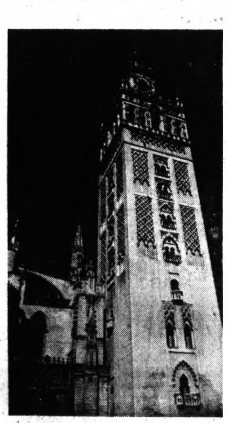
Spain arranged by The Pontiac Press in cooperation with the Pontiac Travel Service Inc.

Conducting the tour that will begin with a flight to New York May 16 will be Bernard M. Salvatore, assistant advertising director for The Press, and Mrs. Salvatore.

Cost per person for the 15-day adventure is $765 which includes all meals, hotel lodging air flights and the historic sight-seeing jaunts in Spain and Portugal.

Arrangements already have been made for stops at the Hotel Excelsior in Lisbon, the hotel Alcazar and Montecarlo in Seville, the Hotel Don Pepe in Marbella and the Nevada Palace in Granada.

Hotel arrangements still are pending for the conclusion of the trip, a four-day visit to historic Madrid.



SCENE IN SPAIN — An example of Spanish architecture is the LaGiralda tower in Seville, one of the stopping points on the 15-day Pontiac Press tour beginning May 16.

Top House Dem on Very Critical List After Stroke

LANSING (AP) — State Rep. Joseph J. Kowalski of Detroit, the House Democratic leader, was in very critical condition today after suffering a massive brain hemorrhage yesterday in the Capitol Building office.

The 56-year-old lawmaker, who was speaker of the House during the 1965-66 session, spent the night in Lansing General Hospital with a respirator assisting his breathing.

It was reported unofficially, by a source who declined to be identified, that Kowalski's doctors were not optimistic.

His wife and three sons were called to his bedside yesterday. Mrs. Kowalski was rushed by State Police from Detroit where she had been working in a hospital.

Kowalski was stricken during a meeting with assistant House Democratic leaders. One of them, Rep. William Ryan, D-Detroit, gave this account:

"Mr. Kowalski's hand began to shake and he put his hand up to his cheek. He seemed to have difficulty clearing his eyes.

"We asked him to sit over on the couch, where we thought he might be able to lie down. But it was rather difficult to get him over there because he seemed to be collapsing.

"When he did get to the couch, he seemed to lapse into semiconsciousness immediately."

Spacecraft Reported

LONDON (AP) — The London Evening Standard reported today a large Soviet space vehicle is circling the earth. Evening Standard Science Editor Peter Fairley reported that it has been scrutinized by Western radar and may be the biggest spaceship ever launched.

Walled Lake Boy Dies With Dog in Clothes Dryer

A 4-year-old Walled Lake boy and his dog were suffocated yesterday afternoon when they became locked in the clothes dryer in the basement of their home at 1604 High Meadow, Walled Lake.

Walled Lake Police Chief Leland Pratt said attempts to revive Charles Valente by resuscitator were unsuccessful and that the boy was pronounced dead on arrival at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Pontiac. Mouth-to-mouth resuscitation by the boy's father, Ramon, also failed.

Pratt said the boy was discovered by his mother after he had apparently put the dog in the dryer, crawled in himself and shut the door which automatically turned it on.

Spring IS Coming, Believe It or Not

The north wind may blow and we do have snow but spring will arrive without much fanfare in the wee hours Tuesday morning — officially at 2:37 a.m.

There's a chance of a few more flurries today. Sunny skies with shivery temperatures is the forecast for tomorrow, a little warmer with partly cloudy skies the outlook for Sunday.

Frigid temperatures are predicted tonight, the low dipping to 4 to 12. The high is expected to climb into the 30s tomorrow.

Snow falling late yesterday measured approximately one inch.

Today's north to northwest winds at 15 to 28 miles per hour will diminish tonight.

A bone-chilling eight above was the recording at 7 a.m. today. The mercury had moved to 17 by 2 p.m.

Area Woman Trapped in Car After Hitting Utility Pole Wire

A West Bloomfield Township woman was trapped in her car in Keego Harbor for more than 30 minutes last night after hitting a utility pole guide wire which electrically activated a wire fence.

Keego Harbor Police Chief James Sisk said Mrs. Beverly R. Hanifin, 38, 6610 Commerce was trapped in her car at Portman and Cass Lake Road while Detroit Edison workers attempted to remove the live wire from the fence around Roosevelt School.

The 6:27 p.m. accident also caused lights to go out in a large portion of the city from Maddy Lane to Willow Beach and from Kendrick to Norcott.

West Bloomfield Township Fire Department was standing by while police from Waterford Township, Bloomfield Hills, Sylvan Lake, Orchard Lake, West Bloomfield Township and Keego Harbor assisted with traffic and checked the city for fires caused by the breaking of electrical wires.

★ ★ ★

Sisk said five minor fires broke out and that a falling wire broke the windshield of a car parked in front of the Cloverleaf bar.

SHOCK

The woman was treated for shock at Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital and released.

'Hard Stand' by Reuther Likely

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Having waited a day "to get the feel of things," United Auto Workers President Walter Reuther was expected to take an aggressive tack today in keynoting a convention at which some 200,000 skilled tradesmen within his union are represented.

* * *

The 1,126 delegates at the UAW's 12th international skilled trades conference took a belligerent attitude Thursday in adopting some 1967 contract aims that could within themselves cause a strike, if the union's drive for a guaranteed annual income does not.

* * *

The conference's opening session overwhelmingly adopted a proposal to take from management the right to let to outside contractors any work which UAW tradesmen feel they should do.

It also voted to ask a general goals-setting convention of the union in April to demand that lines of demarcation be spelled out for each skilled classification and that no one be required to perform work outside prescribed limits for his classification.

OVERTIME LIMIT

Another resolution winning overwhelming approval was one to volunteers. Such work now generally is required of any posted for it.

* * *

The tradesmen also gave "emphatic notice to employers that we will not tolerate any effort to tamper with" cost-of-living wage escalators in renewal of three-year contracts running out with General Motors, Ford and Chrysler next Sept. 5.

Wages in the current contract have moved up 16 cents hourly due to advances in the government's cost-of-living index.

The right to strike over outside contracting was demanded, and the skilled tradesmen asked their international union to call a strike this year, if necessary, to win this inclusion in new contracts.

New Charter for OU Okayed

A new constitution for Oakland University, which will give students a voice on the University Senate, was approved yesterday by the Michigan State University Board of Trustees.

* * *

The document, presented by OU Chancellor D. B. Varner, provides for the addition of three students to OU's major policy-making board.

The 44 other seats in the Senate will go to faculty members. The new organization will replace the current Senate of 39 faculty members.

Varner noted the addition of students to the group "represents a clear departure from past patterns here and one which has been controversial within the faculty."

* * *

"I have consistently supported this position on the grounds that most junior and senior students have achieved a workable level of maturity and judgement and because they have a clear stake in the affairs of the university," he said.

ROUTINE BUSINESS

The new constitution provides for much of the routine academic business to be conducted by OU's organized faculties, their actions being subject to the concurrence of the Senate.

A 10-member special committee was named a year ago to draw up a new constitution to fit Oakland's status as a university.

Keystoners' Referendum

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Pennsylvania Gov. Raymond P. Shafer sat in Independence Hall recently as he signed into law a bill authorizing a referendum to determine whether the state should hold a constitutional convention.

Former Govs. George M. Leader and William W. Scranton were among 500 persons present as Shafer used 35 quill pens to sign the legislation.

What Lent Means to Me

CHUCK DAVEY

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the 32nd in a series of articles through Lent written by prominent Pontiac area citizens.)

By CHUCK DAVEY
Commissioner, State Athletic Board of Control

In today's society, the stress and strain of making a living, raising a family and the many other responsibilities that a person can have makes it difficult to lead a balanced life.

Lent serves as a reminder that we must do a little extra on our spiritual well-being, because the continual emphasis on worldly things tends to squeeze out the thoughts and actions directed toward God.

Lent gives me an opportunity, once a year, to stop and reflect on my spiritual well-being, make some plans and then for 40 days place a little more emphasis on the spiritual.

As each season of Lent approaches now, I look forward to the opportunity to make a spiritual "audit" and then plan an extra "deposit" on the "asset" side of the ledger.

Urban League Reports on City Racial Challenges

De facto segregation, urban renewal plans and alleged failure of the Negro community to strive for change are among Pontiac's racial challenges, according to the annual report of the Pontiac Area Urban League.

* * *

A preface to the report expressed these observations:

- "We still do not have a comprehensive urban renewal program needed to control blight. . .
- "De facto segregation and all its negative implications are just as real today as a year or five years ago. . .
- "The Negro community has yet to develop the will to significantly alter its present socio-economic status."

ASSESSMENT

Included in the report, compiled by Executive Director Clarence E. Barnes, is an assessment that the city is perhaps "not really much farther along than . . . last year about this time."

Barnes and his staff noted in the seven-page report, however, a number of service activities carried out by the league in housing, welfare, education and employment opportunities.

Elvin J. Ryan, director of job development, education and youth incentives, said a summer employment program undertaken by the league with Pontiac Motor Division "is bearing more lasting fruit," as evidenced in professional and administrative jobs.

Leroy F. Moore, director of health, welfare and housing, cited a high mortality rate and low health-care level in asking for greater attention to medical and housing needs of disadvantaged persons.

Rights Events Said Pleasing and Vexing

Through Merit Employment Councils, he said, Plans for Progress can "enlist the cooperation" of additional business, industry and professional people.

EXPANSION

Noting the expansion of both programs throughout the country, McLellan declared, "Pontiac should be on this list."

"White leaders should work with sophisticated Negro business, professional, religious or community leaders with full realization that one group cannot do this job alone."

The dinner was also the occasion for awarding of three "at-large" citations to persons deemed to have furthered Urban League aims.

Honored were:

- Mrs. Hugo Swan, 605 Apple Hill, Avon Township, President of the Rochester Human Relations Commission, she was noted as adding "charm and hope to an otherwise frustrating situation."

OTHERS

- Allen D. Noble, 52 Lake, Circuit Court officer and outgoing Urban League board member. Noble was described as "a peerless advocate of human dignity and humanity."
- Charles M. Tucker Jr. of 161 Eastmoor, Pontiac real estate broker and former president of the Oakland County NAACP. Tucker's award noted his "devotion of time, money and energies to changing of public policies" regarding Negro rights and opportunities.

Fatally injured was Kenneth L. Stoltenberg of 1776 Lockwood. He was dead on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital.

Both occupants of the other car are in Pontiac General with injuries received in the accident.

In fair condition is Julie Reader, 21, of 311 E. Liberty, Milford.

* * *

Admitted, but with no condition listed, is Robin Lee Barnes, 20, daughter of Terry Barnes of 632 Union, Milford. She was driving at the time of the accident, according to Oakland County sheriff's deputies.

Deputies said Stoltenberg was driving west on Highland when the collision occurred.

Group Picks Press Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) — Harry J. Reed, managing editor of The Pontiac Press, has been elected to the membership of the American Society of Newspaper Editors (ASNE).

ASNE Secretary Norman E. Isaacs, executive editor of the Courier-Journal and Louisville Times, said the election of Reed and 62 other editors pushed the organization's enrollment above the 700 mark.

REED

The Society, which has been in existence since 1922, now has 701 members, Isaacs said.

Membership in the society is limited to directing editors having immediate charge of editorial or news policies in daily newspapers in the United States.

Sheriff Quits

ATLANTA (AP) — Montmorency County Sheriff Joel Sekrist has submitted his resignation to the county board of supervisors, effective March 31. Sekrist, 44, who has served as sheriff since January of 1961, said he has accepted a position with the Michigan Department of State as assistant manager of a driver's license station in Detroit.

Dodd: Disliked Testimonials

Hoped for Different Cash Woes Solution

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Thomas J. Dodd testified today he had "kind of an aversion" to testimonial dinners and had hoped he could get out of the hole financially some other way.

The Connecticut Democrat, testifying in his own defense at a Senate ethics committee investigation, said he had been unable to get out of debt since his first unsuccessful Senate race in 1965.

He said he didn't think he had "ever solicited anybody" or asked anybody "to buy a ticket to a testimonial dinner", but he testified he had talked with friends "about my financial situation."

"They all knew about it," he said.

* * *

"Did you tell them you had personal debts you needed to pay off from these testimonials?" asked Chairman John Stennis, D-Miss., referring to a series of fund-raising events for Dodd between 1961 and 1965.

"If so, you ought to say so," Stennis said.

"I'm sure I did," Dodd replied.

He said his financial straits were not something he liked to talk about — "It was kind of hair shirt to me" — but he testified that nonetheless he and his intimate friends "talked about it all the time."

Dodd, charged with using campaign contributions for personal expenses, said that every facet of his life and virtually every cent he has spent for the last 11 years have been "intertwined with politics."

Teacher Recruiter: Man on Go

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — "I have to do a lot of talking," said Clyde Fischer, director of personnel for Bloomfield Hills School District.

* * *

He was discussing his role as "recruiting sergeant" for the district schools. He is charged with the task of enlisting between 150 and 200 teachers before the new school year begins in the fall.

In addition to a normal turnover of 10 to 15 per cent, his job this winter has called for filling the ranks of three new schools.

He'll need full complements for Way Elementary, West Hills Junior High and Lahser High.

* * *

And to get them he has been reconnoitering all over the country.

'GOOD RESPONSE'

"The response has been good," Fischer reports back, and his "operation sign-up" should be complete by July.

He said most of the new recruits will be from Michigan. "But "the competition is terrific," he said.

At the University of Michigan he counted 10 of the "enemy" (recruiters from California) trying to undermine his efforts.

* * *

But nonetheless, 30 to 40 applications a day are arriving at the school, Fischer said.

HAS TROUBLE

While giving his recruiting "pitch" outside of Michigan, Fischer said he has trouble because "they've never heard of us."

He noted that most of the graduates want to be in or near a big city. "The fact we are so near Detroit has a lot of pull," he added.

In addition to 'raw' recruits, fresh from college, Fischer has been seeking out veterans from other districts, especially for higher-echelon positions.

But the Bloomfield district is not taking just any teacher. "For each person we hire, six or seven interviews are held," Fischer said.

Word War Hotter

Venezuelan Reds Blast Castro

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — The war of words between the Venezuelan Communist party and Fidel Castro is getting hotter. The Venezuelans say the Cuban prime minister can't tell them what to do.

"We categorically reject Castro's pretension that it is he and only he who decides what is revolutionary and what is not revolutionary in Latin America," the party said Thursday in a statement signed by the seven members of its politburo.

In a stinging speech in Havana Monday, Castro accused the party of siding with the Venezuelan government by blaming Castroite terrorists for the assassination of Julio Iribarren Borges, brother of Venezuela's foreign minister.

Castro called the pro-Soviet leaders of the party traitors, cowards and rightists. He said he had "in an act of virtual treason abandoned the armed struggle."

Cuba, Castro said, will "back, in any country, those who, without calling themselves Communists, act as such rather than those who call themselves Communists and do not fulfill their duty."

Deadline Met by 351 Bills

LANSING (AP) — Legislators filed an avalanche of last-minute bills Thursday — the last day for introduction of measures not levying taxes or appropriating money.

Senators introduced 99 bills, bringing the session's total to 790. In the House, a fresh batch of 252 would - be laws brought that chamber's total to 1,257.

The bill - drafting Legislative Service Bureau, which twice earlier had pleaded successfully for extensions of the deadline, reported Thursday that all requested bills had been delivered to their sponsors.

Hospital Modernization Estimated at $500,000

It will cost Pontiac General Hospital an estimated $500,000 to modernize its facilities to meet state and federal codes, according to a report made last night to the board of trustees.

Hospital administrator Harold B. Euler said federal inspection of the hospital preparatory to seeking federal aid for expansion plans disclosed the various code deficiencies.

Euler said the state fire marshal's office has directed that corrections begin this year.

Biggest item to be corrected, according to Euler, is an estimated 65 per cent of the ceilings, which must be made more fire resistant.

Some fire glass installation and new outlets leading directly outside for some stairwells are other items that must be provided.

Euler said that when the safety corrections are made, the hospital also should be completely air-conditioned. The estimated cost of this is $200,000.

In another report received last night by the hospital board, the personnel committee reported that it will cost $480,000 to bring wages in line with those at area hospitals.

The committee had received a survey of wages in the area for 52 main hospital jobs.

In still another report, the hospital trustees were informed that five options have been obtained on property at the south end of the hospital block. A total of seven parcels is sought to provide for construction of 20 units of intern housing.

Cause Sought in Crash That Killed Area Pilot

'Secret Viet Peace Move by U Thant'

MANILA (UPI) — Philippine Foreign Secretary Narciso Ramos today said United Nations Secretary General U Thant has launched a new secret Vietnam peace offensive.

"We all know these new efforts but they are still under wraps," Ramos told newsmen.

"I better not comment. You wait. I hope it will break out soon. Right now, it's very classified," he said.

He said his government is not taking a direct part in the move for peace being engineered by Thant. But he said the Philippine government has been kept informed officially about it.

The Manila regime last year tried to perform as a Vietnam peacemaker. It proposed an all-Asian peace conference but drew no favorable response from the Communists.

Since then the Philippines has been silent on war peace moves.

NO STRINGS — Getting a preview of "Pinocchio" are Becky Zachos (center) of 4611 Oakgrove and Gerry Adams of 5554 Warbler, both of Independence Township. Playing the part is Mrs. Barry Breidenbaugh of the Clarkston Village Players. Two performances will be offered to children at Clarkston Junior High tomorrow.

Trash Disposal Offer Accepted

West Bloomfield Can Use Pontiac's Site

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — In order to provide its citizens with some means of trash disposal, the Township Board has accepted an offer from Pontiac for use of its disposal site on a fee basis.

Township residents have been without a place to dump their trash since the Cooley Lake Road site was closed earlier this year.

Under the agreement, residents could purchase tickets from the township and present them when delivering trash to the site on Kennett Road.

The suggested fee schedule is 50 cents per load delivered by car; $1.50 per load for a car-trailer or pickup truck; and $1 per cubic yard of waste delivered by other means.

In other action, the board accepted the low bid of Pacific Cement Co. of $3,400 for construction of a sidewalk to the Ward Eagle Elementary School in the Farmington School District.

The cost will be split three ways: 25 per cent for West Bloomfield Township, 25 per cent for Farmington Township and 50 per cent for the three subdivisions involved.

Novi Cityhood Vote Appears Off for Now

NOVI — It's beginning to look as though an incorporation vote will not be held April 4 as village officials had hoped.

The Michigan Court of Appeals is not scheduled to act on the village's appeal until March 28, which, according to Manager Harold N. Ackley, doesn't leave enough time to set up a referendum.

"Even if the court ruled favorably, I don't think we can hold an election on April 4," he said.

"The council would have to act on it and the next meeting is scheduled for April 3."

★ ★ ★

The village appealed to the appellate court after Oakland County Circuit Judge William J. Beer ruled that the village could not hold an incorporation vote because it does not meet a state statute requiring 500 persons per square mile to incorporate.

Ackley said that C. A. Smith, head of a citizens committee which is backing cityhood, has indicated that his group will continue to hold informational meetings "with the expectation that an election will be held sometime," but will not force a.. April 4 vote.

★ ★ ★

If a later date is scheduled for a vote, Ackley said, new petitions for the charter commission will have to be filed.

Avon Twp. Refers Plans for a Mobile Home Park

AVON TOWNSHIP — Revised plans which would permit the township's first mobile home park have been submitted to Vilican-Lemon planning consultants and Johnson and Anderson consulting engineers.

The plans ask for industrial zoning on East Avon between John R and Dequindre which would permit establishment of the park on 55 acres of land there.

The developer told the Avon Planning Commission his plans would include an outside corridor of undeveloped land around the park. He said development, which would include a community center, swimming pool and recreational facilities, will hinge on the availability of water and sewer service.

Also referred to the consultants was a request by Superior Development Co. for rezoning to permit the construction of luxury apartments on Walton between Rochdale and Rochester Knolls Subdivision. The land involved amounts to 17½ acres with the remainder of the 83-acre parcel devoted to residential.

★ ★ ★

No objections to a nursery sales and garden on 10 acres on the south side of Crooks, east of Auburn were received at a public hearing. The zoning change was forwarded to the Oakland County Planning Coordinating Committee for recommendation.

★ ★ ★

The land is owned by Patrick LaFleur of Troy.

'Pinocchio' to Be Staged in Clarkston

CLARKSTON — "Pinocchio," the tale of a puppet who came to life, will be presented by the Clarkston Village Players at the junior high, 6300 Church, Saturday.

★ ★ ★

The one-hour presentation will be offered under the auspices of the school district at 11 a.m. and 2 p.m. The show is for children or preschool children (if accompanied by adults).

The play is directed by Mrs. Vince Luzie, a teacher in the Clarkston district.

The Players are a group made up of Clarkston area performers. The group presents its regular performances at their playhouse on White Lake Road at the railroad tracks.

★ ★ ★

PROCEEDS

Proceeds of the play will go to the Independence Library fund drive.

New Committee to Inform People on Annexation

WOLVERINE LAKE — Plans for informing residents about a proposed annexation of part of the village to Walled Lake were formulated at a meeting Wednesday night of a special committee set up for that purpose.

The committee will hold a series of public hearings "to present the facts to the people."

"We're not out particularly to block the annexation," said Clifford Cottrell, head of the committee, "but to bring the facts to the people."

He said that any resident interested in obtaining information may call him.

Earlier this week, a group of residents petitioned Walled Lake and the Oakland County Board of Supervisors for a vote on annexing the southeastern portion of the village to the city.

Veteran Supervisor May Retire

COMMERCE TOWNSHIP — Township Supervisor Thomas C. Tiley may retire soon after 10 years in the top township post.

Although he has not yet made a decision, he said his doctor has told him to "slow down or retire."

The 78-year-old supervisor has been a member of the Township Board for 24 years. He was reelected to his supervisory post last November and his new term expires in April, 1969.

He said that if he does decide to retire, the board will appoint a successor to fill the unexpired term.

★ ★ ★

His decision will probably be made around the end of April, he said.

At Walled Lake Church

Special Services Slated

WALLED LAKE — Dr. Harm Webber of Covenant Baptist Church, Detroit, and evangelists John and Bobbie Landgraf will begin a series of pre-Easter services Sunday at the First Baptist Church, 309 Market.

The young Landgrafs, who will provide special music, have worked extensively with teenagers. They will conduct "Youtharama" meetings during the special series.

The series will start at 9:45 a.m. Sunday when the combined Sunday School classes meet with the Landgrafs.

The evening program will begin with a "Youtharama" at 6, followed by a sacred concert at 7 p.m. by the Landgrafs and a sermon by Dr. Webber.

"Youtharamas" will be held Tuesday and Thursday nights. A special meeting with the parents will be held Monday and Wednesday at 6:45 p.m. and evening services will be conducted at 7:45 nightly.

Resigns Post

ROMEO — Louis H. Freye, 245 Church, recently named assistant clerk of the House of Representatives, has resigned from his position on the Michigan Waterways Commission.

Freye has been succeeded by Frederick Rouse Jr. of St. Clair, chairman of the St. Clair County Republican Committee. His term is until Dec. 31, 1968.

'Brat Patrol' Offered in NY Teacher Strike

NEW YORK (AP) — Striking teachers at a Bronx junior high school voted to return to their classes today after the Board of Education offered to set up a "brat patrol" to curb violence by pupils.

The 79 teachers, who had submitted their resignations last Tuesday in protest of a growing wave of assaults and boisterousness in classrooms, met for more than three hours to debate a plan given them by the superintendent of schools Bernard E. Donovan.

★ ★ ★

They voted shortly after 1 a.m. to give a trial run to Donovan's proposals for improving the present school disciplinary procedures.

Donovan had ordered the teachers at Bronx Junior High School 98 to return to classes today or lose their jobs.

LACK CONFIDENCE

Harvey Hertzman, a spokesman for the teachers, members of the AFL-CIO United Federation of Teachers, said his colleagues had "no confidence in the Donovan proposal by itself not knowing how it will be implemented."

Hertzman, a guidance counselor at the school, said the teachers would be challenging the board to act on the plan "between now and June."

★ ★ ★

The teachers had charged that they were subjected to physical and verbal abuse by pupils; that the school, with its 2,000 pupils, needed more than the 127 teachers it was alloted; and that building repairs had to be made.

★ ★ ★

Under Donovan's plan, the board would set up an eight-man team of aides to "patrol the school's premises." Donovan said that a pupil who physically assaulted a teacher "should" be immediately suspended and not returned to the same school when his status as a pupil is restored.

CONFERENCES

Donovan said that in the case of a pupil who threatens physical violence, a conference would be held, not later than the day following the threat, with parents, the teacher, a guidance counselor and other appropriate personnel "to bring about a better adjustment of the pupil to the school situation."

In the case of a pupil who issues a threat, he may be placed in another class in the same school, referred to counseling or clinical service, or returned to his class.

★ ★ ★

Donovan said he would appoint a committee to recommend further improvements in methods of dealing with disruptive children. He said the committee would consist of representatives of the union, the local school boards, the Council of Supervisory Associations and citywide civic and parent groups.

He said the committee would draw up its recommendations in time for the opening of schools next September.

Group to Program Fund Raising

With the creation of a capital funds committee under the banner of the Pontiac Area United Fund, a rising local need has been met.

It will be the function of the nine-member committee, representative of influential elements of the community, to evaluate the growing number of capital fund campaigns envisioned by local institutions in this rapidly expanding area.

★ ★ ★

Though the need for new or expansion of existing facilities has invariably been manifest, the fund-raising campaigns have at times overlapped, to the detriment of the causes espoused and an unreasonable demand on the pocketbooks of contributors.

The Pontiac area has an enviable area for going over the top in its various campaigns for institutional betterment, but because of unfavorable timing, one worthy project last year fell short of its goal.

It is this sort of uncoordinated and ill-timed fund raising that the new committee will strive to preclude. But it will be concerned only with proposals of public, communitywide interest, not with programs promoted by organizations within their respective memberships.

★ ★ ★

We heartily commend the United Fund on the establishment of the capital funds committee and the foresightedness of local leaders who recommended it.

Camp Fire Girls Observe 57th Anniversary

This week marks the 57th anniversary of Camp Fire Girls, founded in Maine by a group devoted to character development of American girls.

Now functioning on a national scale, Camp Fire Girls councils are found in every community giving practical training, spiritual guidance and recreational outlet to those in their formative years.

The organization concept is programmed into four age categories so as to offer maximum appeal to enrollees regardless of their state of maturity.

Although Camp Fire Girls has professional staffing, it is operated and administered by thousands of volunteers who see in the cultivation of the youth potential of America the great hope for the future.

★ ★ ★

We congratulate this worthy organization on its significant milestone with commendation for the purposeful men and women who have given of themselves in pursuit of its objectives.

Must Drug Industry Swallow Another Inquiry?

Another congressional inquiry is scheduled to look into the practices and prices of the drug industry. Apparently the taxpayers are destined to foot the bill for a rerun of much of the substance of former hearings. Belaboring the drug industry has become a congressional pastime that may end up costing the Country dearly.

Widespread political campaigns to discredit brand-name drugs have opened the way for a "new growth industry" in generic drugs of dubious quality. As in prohibition days, a flood of fly-by-night operators, like the old bootleggers, is appearing on the scene. As in the days of the revenuers, they capitalize on the sheer inability of the authorities to catch up with them.

The constant harassment of ethical drug manufacturers is having its effect. A Pharmaceutical Manufacturers Association spokesman reports that, despite an all-time high for expenditures on prescription drug research and development, fewer new products reached the market in 1966 than during any single year on record. Among factors contributing to the slowdown, he said, are the difficulties encountered under Federal drug regulations.

Despite a $400 million research and development expenditure for last year, only 11 basic new products were marketed. So far as drug prices are concerned, President JOHNSON recently noted that drugs and pharmaceuticals were among the industries which had "shared with consumers" the gains of lower costs and rising productivity.

★ ★ ★

Another disruptive inquiry into the affairs of the drug industry could conceivably backfire. The public may eventually ask whether it is not time to investigate the investigators.

LBJ Speech Points to Intensified War

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON — "We shall stay the course."

MARLOW

A lot of fish were fried with those five words from President Johnson's speech on Vietnam to the Tennessee Legislature.

- They're his answer to American critics who want him to stop the bombing and tone down the war.
- They're his warning to North Vietnam not to think American dissension over the war will weaken his will to see it through.
- They're a reasonable indication his Guam meeting next week with his top war advisers will deal with intensifying the war. He's been doing that.

Some of his aides have tried to give the impression the Guam meeting will be just routine.

This can be justly questioned, since the administration has also tried to give the impression U.S. military action since February's bombing truce has been routine.

It's been anything but.

INTENSIFICATION

Since then, and for the first time, U.S. bombers have plastered a steel mill near Hanoi, rivers in North Vietnam have been mined, U.S. long-range guns have hit the North, and the U.S. Navy has shelled the coast.

Since that is more than was done before, it is intensification of the war.

The Guam meeting does not look thoroughly planned. Johnson apparently had some last-minute thoughts.

★ ★ ★

If it is to be merely routine, as his aides say, it will have a lot of high-placed participants, his top war advisors, including Henry Cabot Lodge, U.S. ambassador to South Vietnam, plus a surprise participant.

'NO DATE SET'

Only last week at his news conference Johnson was asked if there was truth in reports Lodge wanted to resign and that Johnson was looking for a replacement.

He said there was "no truth that I am looking" for a replacement and that, while Lodge had told him he wanted to quit "in due time" no date had been set.

Then Wednesday in Tennessee Johnson announced Lodge was leaving — without saying when — and that his successor would be Ellsworth Bunker, 72, a diplomat with experience in hot places, like the Dominican Republic.

★ ★ ★

Bunker will be at Guam, too. He was the star U. S. negotiator in bringing together the feuding factions in the Dominican Republic which eventually returned to a constitutional government.

SHOULD BE USEFUL

His talents should be useful in South Vietnam, now in process of changing from a military regime to a constitutional government.

No doubt part of the Guam meeting will be taken up with that problem, too.

But this seems like a late thought for Wednesday.

Also, it was announced by Saigon that South Vietnam's Premier Nguyen Cao Ky would go to Guam. The meeting had originally been planned as an all-American affair.

'Present Arms!'

David Lawrence Says:

School Bias Rules Go Too Far

WASHINGTON — Nowhere in the Constitution or in a Supreme Court decision or in an act of Congress is authority given to the federal government to tell the public schools what teachers they may select or otherwise to exercise control over the choice of faculty members of an educational institution.

LAWRENCE

Yet the U.S. commissioner of education has just notified 17 state governments that, in effect, he intends to withhold federal funds unless they obey the rules he lays down.

The circular letter to the state school superintendents says that at least two Negro teachers must be assigned to predominantly white schools and two white teachers to each school where Negroes are in the majority.

The objective is to start to achieve "racial balance," and each year hereafter the quotas will be increased.

★ ★ ★

Neither the Supreme Court of the United States nor any law of Congress since the court's 1954 decision on segregation has commanded the schools to "integrate."

ONLY WORD

The only word used is "desegregation," and the Civil Rights Act of 1964 defines it as follows:

"'Desegregation' means the assignment of students to public schools and within such schools without regard to their race, color, religion, or national origin, but 'desegregation' shall not mean the assignment of students to public schools in order to overcome racial imbalance."

Congress, however, is doing nothing about the flagrant violations of the law that are involved in stretching the word "desegregation" to include the assignment or selection of teachers.

★ ★ ★

It is true that the statute provides for appeal to the courts against such action, but this involves lengthy and costly litigation. And what school district likes to antagonize the agency of the federal government which controls the purse strings?

MATTER FOR CONGRESS

Clearly this is a matter for Congress to handle. It can forbid the use of public funds as a form of blackmail or for purposes not set forth in the law.

Selection of teachers is the prerogative of a school district. The U.S. department of education, however, has virtually taken over the educational system.

Will the choice of textbooks for the classroom come next?

★ ★ ★

This issue doubtless will emerge in the next political campaign. President Johnson thus far has acquiesced in the concept that federal funds may be used to coerce the states.

Bob Considine Says:

Ingredients of Irish Life Are Celebrated in Verse

NEW YORK — In his endlessly enchanting "Treasury of Irish Folklore," Padraic Colum wrote of the potato and the clay pipe:

CONSIDINE

"Whether or not they are emblems in any innate sense is a question, but considering the attention that has been given them on the fringes of Hibernianism, it would be wrong to relegate the potato and the clay pipe to utter obscurity in such a compilation as this.

The editor's researches have enabled him to discover two pieces that can be regarded as celebrations of these good ingredients of an Irish way of life:

THE POTATO

(From Thomas Crofton Croker's "Popular Songs of Ireland," early 19th Century.)

Sublime potatoes! That, from Antrim's shore
To famous Kerry, form the poor man's store;
Agreeing well with every place and state —
The peasant's noggin, or the rich man's pate.
Much prized when smoking from the teeming pot,
Or in turf-embers roasted crisp and hot.
Welcome, although you be our only dish;
Welcome companion to flesh, fowl, or fish;
But to the real gourmands, the learned few,
Most welcome, steaming in an Irish stew.

That's sheer torture to a guy on a diet.

So put this one in your pipe (clay) and smoke it:

MY PIPE OF IRISH CLAY

(From "The Gael," September 1904)

When I wish to solve those problems,
Which perplex the wisest men,
And deduce abstruse conclusions,
That transcend all human ken;
When I wish to know the secrets
Which the pyramids infold,
Or to understand the statecraft
Of Rameses Great of old,
I just sit here quiet and easy,
And all things seem clear as day,
When I see the smoke a-curling,
From my pipe of Irish clay.
But more dear to me than problems,
Of the pharaohs and their kind,
Are the pictures which I then see of the land I left behind.

Agrees With Need for Restrictions on Press

A recent Chicago Tribune editorial reprinted in The Pontiac Press holds that freedom of the press and the right of the public "to know" are constitutionally guaranteed. Judge Paschen—the target of the editorial because of the limitations he has placed on the trial of Richard Speck in Illinois—argues, however, that the right of the individual to be tried fairly and impartially is above the right of the public to be informed. Judge Paschen is certainly right.

★ ★ ★

An outstanding example of "trial by newspaper" is Lee Harvey Oswald, the supposed assassin of President Kennedy. Because of the extensive press coverage of Kennedy's death, Oswald, says Harvard's Law Dean Erwin M. Griswold, "could not have received a fair trial anywhere in the United States, and the Supreme Court would have so held."

★ ★ ★

Contrary to the Chicago Tribune editorial, there is a definite need for restrictions on the press. Restrictions on pre-trial statements by police, prosecutors, defense attorneys, and others involved are also necessary.

'Students Should Have Same Opportunity'

I wonder why the same children are picked for jobs such as library duty and safety patrol at school year after year. I believe part of the problem of school drop-outs is because a few are picked for those jobs. If children having problems were given the same opportunity as a few favored students it would help them improve mentally and give them a sense of responsibility. These jobs could be alternated.

'History Courses Lacking at Local College'

In reply to a letter to the administration of Oakland Community College asking why no history classes were being offered, Albert H. The third year has almost gone and still no history courses. State school bus service is provided for religious school students and yet prayers are banned because church and state are supposed to be separate. How is this justified?

JUST WONDERING

REPLY

Marvin Tableman, special assistant to the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, says legislation providing such service to students of religious schools is based on the "child benefit theory"; that is, the aid goes to the individual and not to the religious institution.

James H. Meredith gave no reason when he first announced that he was quitting his congressional campaign against Adam Clayton Powell in Harlem. But one reason can be assumed: the vacuum of support his candidacy had attracted.

Not one Negro leader in Harlem or out had come to his aid. Sunday, the Rev. Martin Luther King came out against him. Within hours, Meredith made it unanimous by withdrawing.

Meredith had been warned by Negro leaders that he was courting political and/or personal martyrdom in challenging Powell.

★ ★ ★

Racial solidarity, something Meredith had fought for years, finally defeated him among his own race.

The campus riots at the University of Mississippi and the ambush on an Alabama highway did not succeed in stopping Meredith. Adam Clayton Powell's political machine and racial appeal did.

The idea of diversity and individuality — in short, of freedom — within the Freedom Movement has been dealt a revealing blow.

★ ★ ★

So has Harlem. Everyone said its people would never abandon Powell, no matter how he abused and shamed them.

Meredith's campaign would have given the people of Harlem a chance to show that Powell could not take them all in. Now that opportunity has been eclipsed along with Meredith's campaign.

Wife-Beating Bad Habit, Ho Tells Red Comrades

BY KENNETH L. WITING

SAIGON (AP) — Ho Chi Minh has urged his Communist comrades to stop beating their wives.

"Beating one's wife is savage and against the law," the president of North Vietnam told members of an agricultural cooperative in Ha Tay Province. The text of Ho's speech, broadcast by Hanoi, was monitored in Saigon.

The 76-year-old leader covered a wide range of topics in his address to men and women at Cooperative "T," a pilot project in the province adjoining Hanoi to the southwest.

Near the end of the speech he said: "Now, I ask you whether you continue to beat your wives. It is bad to beat one's wife. Why are you sometimes so intimate with your wives and why at other times do you beat them?

"If you have been beating your wives you must get rid of this bad practice because beating one's wife is savage and against the law. Both men and women are citizens, even if they are man and wife. If one citizen beats another, he acts against the law.

COVER UP ACTS

"I have learned that those husbands who beat their wives side with one another to mutually cover up their acts."

Ho urged women to "struggle against this bad practice."

The Communist leader called for belt-tightening "to step up the tasks of production, combat and education and other tasks." He urged better care of 100,000 persons evacuated into Hay Tay Province, presumably because of American bombing.

RELATIVELY AVERAGE

"Concerning combat, Ha Tay's progress is relatively average since it had downed 24 aircraft," he said. "Concerning the air defense task, which comprises communications pits and trenches, Ha Tay has also made some progress."

Fidel Shows Independence of Russians

HAVANA (AP) — Prime Minister Fidel Castro has been showing a growing sense of Cuban independence, at least ideologically, from the Soviet Union, his main financial backer.

Castro criticized the Russians this week for having commercial talks with Colombia. He charged that anyone who trades with such "traitorous" governments undermines the guerrilla movement he supports in South America.

★ ★ ★

Cuba's revolution, he declared, "will follow its own road; this revolution will follow its own line; this revolution will never be a satellite of anybody."

Some Western observers said this criticism appeared to be the harshest Castro has aimed at the Soviet Union. But one diplomat said the prime minister has made stronger attacks on Russia before and nothing has happened.

DEPENDS ON EXPORTS

Cuba is diplomatically isolated from the rest of estern Hemisphere except Mexico. It depends heavily on exports of sugar to the Soviet Union.

Castro also said Communist parties are being weakened by infiltration of nonrevolutionaries.

One diplomatic source said Castro has indicated he does not care whether movements he supports are Communist or not, so long as they are revolutionary — and that by revolutionary Castro means guerrilla.

The source indicated that Castro's criticism could have a damaging effect on Latin-American Communist parties.

REFERS TO VENTURES

Referring to Russian commercial and cultural ventures in Latin America, Castro appeared to be talking to the Soviet Union when he said that wars against guerrillas are made not only with arms but also with "millions of pesos which pay for those arms and the mercenary armies."

He called special attention to news reports that "high Soviet officials" talked with Colombian officials the same day the Bogota government arrested Colombian Communist leaders and the office of the Soviet news agency Tass was attacked.

★ ★ ★

"There is the friendly spirit of those (Latin American) oligarchies for you," he said.

Castro also remarked it seemed curious that the Russian ambassador in Washington attended a New Year's reception at the Venezuelan Embassy "despite the fact that no relations exist between the Soviet Union and Venezuela."

Waterford Pilot Is Teacher

They Learn Flying From the Ground Up

By DAVID J. COOK

The history of aviation — beginning with the waxen wings of Icarus — is a monument to inventive men attracted by the simplicity of flight.

★ ★ ★

That simplicity was fatally beguiling, as a long chronicle of futile experiments was to prove.

A Waterford Township pilot and flight instructor now says it is indeed "easy to fly" — providing the pilot is backed by eight weeks of ground school and the equivalent of two days in the air.

"Not only that," said Ralph D. Hudson, chief flight instructor for Aerodynamics, Inc. (ADI), "you're three times as safe in a plane as you are in a car."

★ ★ ★

Hudson is presently guiding another class of novice pilots toward graduation from the ground school course.

2 NIGHTS A WEEK

Students meet for two hours two nights a week on the second floor of ADI headquarters at the Pontiac Municipal Airport.

There they are lectured by veteran pilots, weather experts, Federal Aeronautics Administration (FAA) officials and radio technicians.

"It's something any person of average intelligence can handle," Hudson declared, "but they've got to want to.

★ ★ ★

"Lessons they learn here will determine whether or not they'll get through actual flight examinations."

SIX-PART COURSE

Instruction is based on a standard six-part course:

★ ★ ★

- Preflight checking of an aircraft; examination of fuel, tires, gasoline and engine.
- Meteorology — reading of weather maps, significance of atmospheric pressures, danger signs in thunderstorms and air masses.
- Flight computing with the use of a circular slide rule, taking into account speed, time, distance and fuel.
- Navigation, including use of Sectional Charts in plotting a flight course.
- "Reading" the earth — importance of longitudinal and lateral lines plus isogonic deviations.
- Radio facilities: not only as a means of two-way communication, but also utilization of Visual Omnirange (VOR) signals to take the shortest flight route.

Completion of the course is followed by a standard FAA written test.

A 70 per cent score on the exam along with instruction in basic piloting techniques and 40 hours flight time will get you a pilot's license.

★ ★ ★

"From that point, the country is wide open to a pilot who likes to fly," Hudson said.

3,000 PLANE STRIPS

"There are over 3,000 private plane strips in the United States — compared to only 800 airports serving commercial flights."

Annual FAA license inspections keep pilots briefed on the latest in techniques and regulations, which may explain what the flight people consider to be a remarkable safety record.

"Last year, for example," Hudson said, "there were more fatal accidents in homes than in planes."

★ ★ ★

Ground school instruction rarely runs over $60 and Hudson estimates rental and flying instructional expenses leading to a license at between $950 and $1,000.

Allergies and You—11

Hay Fever? Don't Give Up

By Allergy Foundation of America
(Distributed by NEA Special Services)

In the very first place, hay has nothing to do with hay fever. A fever is not one of the common symptoms. Unadulterated misery is.

Get the picture:

There are uncontrollable fits of sneezing. The nose runs. The eyes are swollen and exude tears. The roof of the mouth is sore and itchy and the throat as well.

There can be hives on the skin, sometimes, stomach upset, lack of sleep, irritability and headaches.

★ ★ ★

It's just dreadful as you know even if you've only experienced hay fever second hand.

MANY AFFECTED

There are eight or nine million Americans that have it in one form or another, during one season or another.

Anything can set it off. Most commonly it comes from tree or plant pollens.

An eerie aspect of this whole mess is that the humans are mere hit-and-run victims of a perfectly ordinary biological process that is taking place in nature.

★ ★ ★

Pollen is the male germ of a plant, one-half of the union which will produce a new seed and thence a new plant.

CARRIED BY BEES

When a plant has fancy, perfumed blossoms, insects are attracted and do most of the work of geting pollen and the female germ of the plant together. That's where the bees and the birds come in.

Homelier types of plants with less alluring blossoms depend on the wind to carry their pollen and they're really loaded, just to make sure.

Ragweed pollens, the biggest offenders, are dustlike, 1/2500th of an inch in diameter. They blast off by the zillions.

The reasons why the natural defenses of some persons don't resist these inhaled particles, as they do in others, are still obscure.

HOPEFUL NEWS

On the hopeful side, doctors know that antihistamines which appear to work in the blood stream can give relief as a palliative.

Desensitization with small doses of the offender, though still the subject of continued research, is considered the treatment of choice, according to the book, "Allergy," just published by the Allergy Foundation of America.

Air-conditioning has proved a boon. Avoidance, of course, is still the best prevention.

There's not much use in running away, though. There aren't many places you can run and there are cases aplenty on the books where the fugitive fell victim to a new and different pollen in his new locality.

Cigarette Smoking Declines in England

By Science Service

WASHINGTON — Recent reports from England indicate a decline in cigarette smoking, according to the American Cancer Society. Two billion, four hundred million fewer cigarettes were sold in 1965 than in 1964.

★ ★ ★

Also, the number of Smokers (16 years and over) dropped by almost half a million between 1961 and 1965, a period in which the population rose by more than one and a quater million.

★ ★ ★

By contrast, figures on consumption of cigarettes in the United States have risen each year since the Smoking and Health Report to the Surgeon General implicated them in the cause of lung cancer. In all, 497.4 billion were sold in 1964; 511.5 billion in 1965, and 522.5 billion in 1966.

Panel Warns Congress on Economy

WASHINGTON (UPI) — With no sign of an upturn in the economy, members of the House-Senate Economic Committee warned Congress yesterday to hold off on a $5 billion tax increase and urged President Johnson to cut spending.

But the joint committee's annual report on the President's evaluation of the economy also included dissenting viewpoints by members of both parties.

The majority report said "many of the leading indicators of economic activity for several months have been pointing toward a slowdown or even a downturn."

But in a "statement of agreement" by GOP and Democratic members, the outlook was put this way:

"The administration's recommendation for a 6 per cent surtax is based on the expectation of a substantial pickup of the economy in the second half of the year.

ECONOMY 'LEVELING'

"At present economic activity is leveling out. There is considerable possibility that the optimistic midyear forecast may not eventuate in which case a tax increase would be unwarranted."

It urged Congress to "remain flexible" on the issue.

Administration officials have already indicated they may change plans for the surtax on corporation and individual income taxes if the economy doesn't pick up. The proposal would bring in $5 billion during the first 12 months it was in effect.

★ ★ ★

Johnson apparently anticipated one recommendation that almost all committee members supported — restoration of the 7 per cent tax credit for business investment. There was also complete agreement that the Federal Reserve Board continue to ease credit and monetary policies.

As for cuts in federal spending, the majority report said Congress "must find ways to reduce expenditures by 'at least $5 to $6 billion."

Calling for a reshuffling of budget priorities, it urged that any budget cuts not fall merely on welfare, antipoverty and urban aid programs.

"Wise investment in manpower training and other human resource programs will prove most beneficial to our economic welfare," the bipartisan statement said.

In a minority viewpoint titled, "a failure of economic stewardship," Republican members said the President "has failed to properly manage economic policy and threatens a repeat performance in 1967."

Coming to the President's defense in dissenting views, however, were Democratic Reps. Richard Bolling, Mo., and Henry S. Reuss, Wis. They said:

"We cannot agree with the report's central thesis. The economy is so weak and the possibility of a downturn so great that we cannot afford to raise taxes, but at the same time we should cut expenditures by about the same amount as the administration proposes to raise taxes."

They said Congress should act on the assumption that administration forecasts are correct.

Enshrined Ship Hoists Irish Flag

FALL RIVER, Mass. (AP) — The green, gold and white flag of Ireland flies this St. Patrick's Day from the main truck of the battleship Massachusetts.

The American flag was in its customary spot on the stern of the World War II ship which is enshrined here as a state memorial.

Junior Editors Quiz on DAVY CROCKETT

QUESTION: Why are there so many legends about Davy Crockett?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: Davy Crockett and Daniel Boone were both famous frontiersmen. Because of their knowledge of the wilderness and of Indian ways, they helped American settlers to advance westward into new territory.

Boone, born in 1734, pioneered the Wilderness Road which led from Tennessee across Kentucky.

Crockett, born in 1786, became a famous hunter in Tennessee and a colonel in the Tennessee militia. Then he ran for Congress. He claimed he was elected because the crickets were all chirping "Crockett, Crockett, Crockett."

He was a dead shot. This, together with his strong sense of humor, led to many tall tales being told about him, such as that of the raccoon giving himself up, which we illustrate.

He had hunted in Texas and believed it should be independent from Mexico, so after his term in Congress, he joined the Texan army.

Crockett died alongside Jim Bowie and other brave men in the heroic defense of the Alamo, a fort in San Antonio, Tex. Only a few years ago American children honored this wilderness hero, as a Davy Crockett craze swept America.

A Family Tradition

Eager GI Wins Viet Trip

FT. DIX, N.J. (AP) — An eager volunteer leaves for Vietnam today in line with a family tradition which saw seven brothers serve in World War II and three in Korea.

"I'm ready for combat," said Pfc. Harold Hamburg, 27, of Gering, Neb., Thursday. "All they have to do is ask."

Three of his brothers were wounded in World War II.

AP Wirephoto

GOT WISH — Pfc. Howard Hamburg, a 27-year-old Nebraskan, is going to Vietnam after complaining to high sources about a scheduled assignment in Germany. LBJ was on his writing list.

Hamberg said he's not afraid of getting killed in Vietnam. "It can happen anywhere, so why not there?" he says.

HOUSE PAINTER

The soldier was in the peacetime Army seven years ago before becoming a house painter and fathering a son, now 6 years old.

"This thing's been bugging me for the last couple of years," he said. "I just had to get over there."

So he reenlisted two months ago in Denver, Colo., with a promise from the recruiting officer of a Vietnam tour. But when his company, composed of men with prior service, finished basic training recently at Ft. Bliss, Tex., everyone but him was sent to Vietnam, he says. His orders read Frankfurt, Germany.

"I was the only one who asked to go to Vietnam," said Hamburg, "but they all went and I didn't. I couldn't believe it."

WROTE LETTERS

Hamburg wrote letters to his congressman, David T. Martin, and President Johnson. He told of his wish in an interview in a Philadelphia newspaper.

An information officer here said, "We saw the article in the paper, took it to the adjutant general's office, and the Pentagon changed his assignment."

Told that he was going to Vietnam, Hamburg exclaimed, "It's great, just great!"

As of Now, 39 States Will Switch to DST

By the Associated Press

At least 39 states will go on Daylight Saving Time this year, an Associated Press survey showed today.

Among others the score stands this way as of now:

One state, Hawaii, has decided to stay on standard time. Michigan appears certain to follow suit. Five others still are uncertain. Four more have not made up their minds definitely, but probably will switch to Daylight Saving Time.

★ ★ ★

A law enacted by Congress directs all states — except those which exempt themselves — to observe Daylight Saving Time from 2 a.m. the last Sunday in April until 2 a.m. the last Sunday in October.

Any state may exempt itself by adopting a state law to that effect.

So, in the big majority of states, clocks will be put ahead one hour April 30 and remain that way until Oct. 29.

Hawaii's Legislature approved a bill this week to keep the state on standard time.

Here is the latest information from states still on the fence:

Alabama — Legislation now is before lawmakers, but the state probably will go on daylight time this summer, at least.

Missouri — Bills pending to keep the state on standard time, but they have little chance of passage.

Arkansas — There's a remote chance that a bill to bar daylight time may get through after the Legislature returns March 27 from a recess. But chances are slim.

★ ★ ★

Idaho — The Legislature defeated a measure to keep the state on standard time. But a similar bill was introduced this week. It is being held in a committee with no indication of any effort to bring it to a vote.

Tennessee — A bill to keep the state on standard time has been introduced. But there has been no action thus far.

Georgia — House voted to remain on standard time. Senate disagreed. A conference committee has recommended that Georgia remain on standard time this year and switch to daylight time next year only if three of the five states contiguous to Georgia decide to accept daylight time.

Florida — Legislature may consider time legislation when sessions open April 4.

★ ★ ★

Indiana — Only the western half of the state has been changing to daylight time. Officials are trying for federal approval of the same arrangement this year, although the federal law required a whole state to use daylight time if it doesn't elect to stay on standard time.

Texas — A bill to exempt the state from daylight time has been cleared for debate by the Senate. The House has sent legislation to a subcommittee.

★ ★ ★

Michigan — the House and Senate approved a bill exempting Michigan from daylight time. The governor said he would sign it.

$546,842 in Contracts Awarded for Construction Projects

Contracts totaling $546,842 were awarded by the Waterford Township Board of Education last night for construction projects at Waterford Village and Stringham elementary schools.

The contracts consisted of low base bids amounting to $540,249 plus $6,593 for optional additional construction.

Awarded the architectural contract for the two projects was Julian Wilson and Sons of Birmingham with a proposal of $359,892.

★ ★ ★

C. R. Anderson Plumbing and Heating Co. of Independence Township was given the mechanical contract for $123,650. The electrical contract went to T. L. Jacobson Electric, Inc., of Waterford Township with a bid of $63,300.

The over-all construction cost for the projects is $18,000 less than the amount budgeted.

★ ★ ★

Waterford Village School will gain a gymnasium-multipurpose room complex, four classrooms and a conference room.

The school's library-instructional materials center will be enclosed and three existing classrooms will be converted into a new classroom, a kindergarten and a connecting corridor.

Stringham School also will be provided with a gymnasium multipurpose room complex. Also earmarked for the school are a confreence room, general office, principal's office, teachers' lounge, interior remodeling and a boiler room.

★ ★ ★

In addition, two classrooms will be converted into a library-instructional materials center.

TOTAL AMOUNT

With contracts awarded for projects at 10 schools thus far this school year, the district is only $12,388 over the amount budgeted for the work.

Total amount of awarded contracts is $2,049,213.

In other business last night, the board approved a $25,174 appropriation to the 1967-68 recreation department budget.

★ ★ ★

An equal amount was allocated by the Township Board Monday night. The remaining $12,815 of the estimated $63,163 budget is expected to be received through fees.

CONTRIBUTIONS TO BUDGET

Last year, the two boards contributed $21,826 each to the budget.

The plan is offered to each student in the district on a voluntary basis.

★ ★ ★

Cost is $2 a year for kindergarten-through-sixth grade pupils and $2.50 for secondary school students. The maximum medical payment will be increased from $4,000 to $5,000 next school year.

COVERAGE

Insured students are covered to, from and at school and also at school-sponsored extracurricular activities.

The coverage will be with GM Underwriters, Inc., of Detroit, an insurance agency representing American Community Mutual Insurance Co. of Farmington.

School officials said the average participation is about 25 per cent of the student enrollment.

★ ★ ★

Also last night, the board agreed to participate financially in a street paving special assessment district project for Merry Road providing more than 50 per cent of the affected property owners sign petitions in favor of the undertaking.

The district would pay for paving the 500 feet of road in front of Sandburg School. The district's share of the cost is estimated at $3,500 to $4,000.

The board also approved the reemployment of most of the district's professional personnel for the 1967-68 school year and accepted a resignation.

COMMAND PERFORMANCE — When queen Marsha Elliott (far left) says dance, her loyal subjects, (from center) Sharol Smith, John Patrick and Kinda Anderlie, perform. The Troy High School students are rehearsing the musical "The Princess and the Pea." The production will be presented to the public April 7 and 8. Marsha is a senior, Sharol and John, juniors; and Kinda, a freshman.

'The Princess and the Pea' Set for April at Troy

By LINDA STEWART

The Broadway musical, "The Princess and the Pea," is moving along to opening night at Troy High School.

Performed by the Troy High stage crew, this light-spirited comedy, is a story of a prince's search for a princess.

The queen, his overly aggressive mother, and the king, his mute, overpowered father, help to complicate the prince's vain attempt to find a wife.

The musical will be presented in the high school gym, April 7 and 8.

This past week the varsity cheerleaders held cheer-leading clinics. Tryouts will be held on March 30. Several cheerleaders and teachers will be doing the judging.

SATURDAY DANCE

There will be a dance Saturday, sponsored by the freshman class.

For the first time, two bands will be playing, the Split Ends and the Vistels. Both bands have high school instrumentalists.

Students at BHHS Study Mental Health

By DIANE LAMB

The sociology and psychology students at Bloomfield Hills High School are interested in mental health and society's methods for solving problems.

The students have had speakers visit their classes, and they have visited institutions on the subject.

Mrs. Eleanor McCurry, an occupational therapist, showed film slides of Pontiac State Hospital and talked with the students. Approximately 60 Bloomfield student-volunteers recently went to Pontiac State Hospital to give an Easter party for the preadolescent group. The volunteers brought bunny-like Easter baskets, punch and cookies, and a combo — Ed Westfall and his Pakistanpastronicminimizers.

The volunteers played games with the children gathered on the floor for refreshments in the pleasant atmosphere, and capped off the evening with everyone dancing to the band.

Students planning these activities were Pat Nibblink, Marsha Paull, Jeff Pike, Penny Stressen-Reuter, Shelly Tuddy, Kathy Vogt, and Bob Wright.

Kathy is in charge of all financial affairs.

The Bloomfield High volunteers collected enough donations to supply the hospital with a time-clock for athletic events. Donations of clothing from several Birmingham-Bloomfield merchants were much appreciated.

Also gifts of money are now being received from merchants and parents for the purchasing of needed recreational equipment.

According to Mrs. Maxine Baumhart, the sponsor, "Anyone interested in contributing to the project, merchant or parent, may contact Kathy Vogt through Bloomfield Hills High School."

After the party, John Kearns, the hospital's director of recreational activity, came to the morning classes to explain much of the work of the recreational department.

Arrangements are being made for a continuing program of volunteers from Bloomfield Hills High School's psychology and sociology classes to visit the patients and to participate in future recreational activities.

Arts Festival Is Held at Walled Lake

By ANNE PERSSON

Literary and art works by students of Walled Lake High School were presented, judged, and awarded ribbons last weekend at the Arts Festival.

Winning and other selected literary works were published in "Touche," the annual literary magazine.

In the short story division David Baker received the first place award with "God Is Relative."

Larry Short's "Three Wishes" and Peggy DuFresne's "Charlie" placed second and third, respectively.

Receiving first place in the sketch division was David Zaffer with "Harlem Heights."

2ND AND 3RD

Carol Vreeland placed second with "Human?" while "Man On the Street" by Kris Kessler received third place.

In the light verse division, Mary Skora was awarded first and third places with "Ode to Abe" and "Life Is Just a Cherr of Bowlies," while Sheryl Dooley's "Oh Well" was second.

In the poetry division "Edath" by Kris Kessler was awarded first place.

Rita Tubbs and Jeff Whitney were second and third with "A Particular Black Weekend" and "A Magic Picture."

JUDGES

The literary works were judged by three faculty members of the English department, Mrs. S. E. Domurath Jr., Marilyn Kirk, and Michael Piper.

Art works were displayed at "The Gallery."

First prize ribbons went to Karl Hizelberger, oil painting; Syb Johnson, print making; Sharon Tarabusi, pencil and sculpture; Jill Pingston, paper assemblage; and Karen Hoyt, mixed media.

Ribbons denoting first place also were awarded to Jim Kilroy, jewelry; Pam Winn, water color and tempera; Mark Loveland, chalk; Mark Eicher, commercial art, and Pam Munger, ink drawing.

ART JUDGES

The art entries were judged by Laurel Alder, Ada Dickinson, Marilyn Kirk, and Elaine Mattingly.

Tonight the senior class will sponsor a combination Bermuda and St. Patrick's Day dance.

Last Deadline at Waterford

By MARY JERGOVICH

Waterford Township High School's Waterlog staff will meet its last deadline tomorrow for the school yearbook.

According to Larry Timm, yearbook adviser, there will be several changes. A better quality of paper will be used, and girls' sports will receive as much coverage as the boys.

Other changes include a larger introductory section, expanded index, and a few symbols will be added to the cover.

★ ★ ★

Tonight the unified studies class is sponsoring "The Nervous Cow." The dance will be held from 7:30 to 11 p.m. in the gym.

SIX BANDS

Featured will be six bands and mixed soft drinks. Merchants from the famous Plum Street will also be at the dance, selling candles, incense and pearl earrings.

Proceeds from the dance will help finance the group's trip to Expo '67 in the spring.

The annual Spring Forensic Contest, sponsored by the Michigan High School Forensic Association was held on Monday and Tuesday

OTHER WINNERS

Others were Rachel Schettling and Kathy Ryden, serious interpretive reading; Mickey Burns and Rick Sherman, radio news commentary; and Beth Griffin and Shirley Winne, humorous reading.

The multiple reading was won by Lynda McLaughlin-Carol Schaad, Mary Reynolds, and Anne Voydanoff for their reading of "The Mad Woman of Chaillot."

These students will go on to compete in the district contest to be held March 20 at Mercy High School.

Seniors have selected as their prom theme "Spring Parodies." The event will be held at Greenfield's early in June.

Emmanuel Juniors Show Money-Making Talents

By LINDA WRIGHT

The junior class of Emmanuel Christian High School is putting all of its money-making efforts to work Tuesday evening at the monthly meeting of the Parent-Teachers-Fellowship.

★ ★ ★

A spaghetti dinner at 5:30 p.m. will launch the evening. Serving will continue until 7 p.m.

Following dinner a Beeline Fashion Show will be narrated by Mrs. Don Stouffer, a Beeline representative.

The junior girls will act as models and afterwards sell the products of their sugar-molding class.

★ ★ ★

The girls have been spending spare moments making Easter eggs. Proceeds from the evening will go toward the Junior-Senior Banquet.

ON WITH THE SHOW — West Bloomfield High School freshmen (from left) Cheri Brasfield and Pam Psihas practice their routine for tonight's "Lakers Capers," the school's annual talent show. Presented by the Student Council, the show will begin at 7:30 p.m. in the auditorium.

PNH Musician to NY

Pontiac Press Photo

BUDDING VIRTUOSO — Garry Shelton, a senior at Pontiac Northern High School, practices for the American Youth Perform concert which will be presented April 21 at New York's Carnegie Hall. He has played the violin for nine years and has been Northern's concert master for three years.

By DEBBIE KILLEN

Pontiac Northern High School's Gary Shelton, a member of the school orchestra, will go to New York to play at Carnegie Hall.

Gary, a senior, was recommended by Alonzo Seaboldt, director of Northern's orchestra, and passed by a jury familiar with his playing.

While at Carnegie Hall, Gary will play his violin in an orchestra of 90 selected students. The concert is called America Youth Perform, sponsored by American Airlines.

Gary has been playing violin for nine years. He has been concertmaster of Northern's orchestra for three years, and has been a member of the Pontiac Symphony Orchestra for three years.

Three summer sessions were spent by Gary at the National Music Camp at Interlochen.

Gary has been honored by receiving the Salute to Youth Award in music for three years in a row, a scholarship from the Pontiac Symphony Women's Association and has received high ratings in Solo and Ensemble Festivals.

With all expenses paid, Gary will travel to New York for the week of April 15-22. The concert will be on April 21.

Northern has two other musicians who play with the Pontiac Symphony, Jody Schmucker and Don McGeen.

Winners in the Forensics Speech Contest were announced recently.

Earning first and second places respectively were Larry Glover and Ralph Bartles, oratory; Bruce Kilmer and Terri Brubaker, serious interpretive readings; Jon Hurtado and Pat Griffin, memorized declamations; and Cindy Kiels and Brenda Drake, girls' extemporaneous speech.

Others were Pat Leonard and Mike Lucius, boys' extemporaneous speech; Jim Corr and Jim Harrison, humorous readings; and Mike Harroun and Bob Han, radio commentaries.

The contest was judged by David Kayan.

SCHOOL NEWS ROUNDUP

Our Lady

By CONNIE MAYWORM

In honor of the Rev. Father F. J. Delaney's feast day, the students and the faculty of Our Lady of the Lakes attended Mass this morning to begin a day full of the spirit of the Irish.

Later both the high school and the grade school gathered for a two-hour song and dance show.

Winners in the Forensic Speech Eliminations have been announced. James Torrey was named the best extempore speaker.

Other first and second place winners were Greg Matzelle and Beth Brown, original oratory; Michele Seeterlin and Pam Wise, declamations; Theresa Thill and Caesar Weston, humorous reading; and Karen Keenan and Tim McDonnell, serious readings.

Dominican

By KATHIE De RYCKE

Dominican took part in a "day of Awareness" last week.

Keynote speakers for the day were Father Baldwin, director of vocations for the Archdiocese of Detroit, and Sister Jane Edward, associate director.

Other speakers included two Seminarians from Sacred Heart Seminary, and a brother from the Benedictine Monastery.

The day included a unity mass and ended with a self-commitment program.

Yesterday was "Color Day" at D.A. Each homeroom took an aspect of D.A. and represented its theme through colors and decorations.

Oxford

By CLARA CALLAHAN

Two ensembles of the Oxford High School Band will travel to Trenton tomorrow to the State Solo and Ensemble Festival.

One group, a trombone trio, is made up of Martha Ricketts, Mike Janway, and Lee Royer.

The other, a percussion ensemble, is composed of Bill Burr, Wayne Misenar, Dennis VanWagoner, Gary Schaaf, and Brad Scott.

They will be accompanied by Wendell Honsinger their band director.

★ ★ ★

The biology classes have been traveling, too. Groups of students accompanied by biology teacher Richard Billman, have been visiting the planetarium and art museum in Flint.

Saturday night the faculty put up a good fight, but couldn't outplay the Harlem Astronauts.

The final tally showed a shooting margin close to 2-1 for the Astronauts.

St. Mike's

By LYNN BAUER

St. Michael's girls' basketball team received a trophy last week. The team came in second place in the St. James-Ferndale Invitational Tournaments by defeating St. Michael's of Livonia and St. Mary's of Redford.

Boys' intramural basketball games were also held last week.

The junior boys were champions of the intramural games, while the faculty was defeated by the seniors in a game last Friday night.

St. Fred's

By TIM HALL

Cast of the St. Frederick High School's senior play, "Cheaper by the Dozen" attended Meadow Brook Theater yesterday to see George B. Shaw's "You Never Can Tell."

The student play will be presented April 22 and 23.

W. Bloomfield Show Tonight

By MARGIT MISANGYI

West Bloomfield High School will present its annual "Lakers Capers" Talent Show at 7:30 p.m. tonight in the school auditorium.

The show is presented by the Student Council under the sponsorship of David Vivian.

Directing the production is Edward Penney, president of the council, assisted by Barbara Waldon, a representative on the council.

The show consists of 20 performances. Presentation of these acts will be done by a "dynamic duo,". James Neubacher and John Pollock.

Types of acts include song and guitar, dance routines, piano and vocal solos, a trumpet duo, and other skits. There is also a free exercise routine done by two freshmen girls.

SOLD AT DOOR

Tickets have been sold by Student Council representatives throughout the week, but will also be sold at the door.

★ ★ ★

The senior trip, sponsored by the parents, will be to the Gay El Rancho, Gaylord on May 7-9.

Seniors will probably be let out of school early on that Friday, and will return Sunday evening.

48 at Avondale Visit Institute

By HELEN LOWERY

Under the guidance of instructors Mrs. John Oles and Charles Carpenter, 48 of Avondale's business students traveled to the Automotive Institute Tuesday to view the latest in modern office machinery and equipment. All schools in the Greater Detroit area were invited to attend.

Class tournaments were held during the latter part of this week.

An assembly concerning the American Field Service was held the last hour of school today. A color film on AFS was shown, and five representatives in addition to Avondale's spoke about the American Field Service.

During the end of the program a student survey was taken in regard to student knowledge on the AFS.

Oakland County Elementary Physical Education Association is sponsoring a conference on physical education and recreation for the specially educated student.

CONFERENCE THEME

The theme of the conference is "Our Neglect Cannot Continue." It is to take place today and tomorrow.

Included in the program are many outstanding teachers of educable and trainable mentally retarded children such as Isobel Lea and Doreen Crystal from Toronto, Ken Kline, Coldwater Home and Training School; Larry Meier, Brandon Schools; William Emigh, St. Clair Schools; and Oakland County physical education teachers. Wilbur Whately, Avondale's special education instructor, will be attending the meetings.

St. Patrick's Day was celebrated with a bang Friday night for those students who attended the "Shamrock Shuffle" sponsored by the sophomore class.

Sunday at 3 p.m. Avondale's band will conduct a concert, under leadership of Larry Detter, band instructor. The program will be free of charge and is open to the general public.

Foreign Students View Americans

NEW YORK (NEA) — Foreign students, it appears, don't have much that's good to say about their American counterparts.

Several were interviewed while attending the International Student Movement for the United Nations Conference in Jerusalem recently.

"A combination of sophistication and native characterizes American student's social relationships, I'd say," Hans Potsch of East Germany said.

"The Americans I've been out with remind me of Lucy in the I Love Lucy television show. They are good-hearted and pleasant but they are continually making faux pas."

★ ★ ★

Asked whether he preferred to date American or French girls, Frederic de Chavanes of France, who might not be considered to be impartial, said, "I've dated a few American girls and I think in general I prefer the French girl. Just the way she dresses, the way she walks and talks.

'FULLER LIFE'

"She has a sense of herself as a woman that the American lacks. Nevertheless, the woman in America leads a fuller life than the American man. He becomes second-fiddle to her projects and abandons his own leadership. I find the American male quite effeminate."

The foreign students seem to disapprove generally of American sexual mores. "Petting, for instance," said Frederic, "doesn't exist in France and I find the idea disgusting."

"It is the same way in Scandinavia," added Jon Theiss of Denmark.

★ ★ ★

"If I would live with the woman I love before marriage, in our country, it would be totally acceptable."

SERIOUS ROMANCE

"Americans seem to fall in and out of love so easily," complained Ilan Cohen of Israel. "In my country we take romance much more seriously; you wouldn't go steady after just one or two dates.

"The American boy shows his girl that he is bright, able to converse easily, able to show her a good time. She shows him that she is a fine dresser and a good dancer.

"They may go steady for a year but their relationship rarely goes beyond these superficialities. Neither wants to display concern for the other, or take responsibility for the other. Neither wants to admit that he can be hurt."

★ ★ ★

"In Ghana, marriages are still arranged, usually by the parents," said Aluko Abalufo. "Our system of dating is such a contrast to the American that I hesitate to mention them both in the same discussion.;

"It's only recently and, I might add, as a result of American films, that we have anything that evens resembles dating."

Olaf Venes of Norway thought that Norwegian college students have more fun than American students do.

"Dating isn't so formalized," he said. "In Scandinavia, the group is central to socializing. We do everything in groups, even at college age. There are lots of places where a group of kids can go just to talk and sing and be together."

Fats Strictly in the Groove

Musical Repertoire Still Jazzy as Ever

By Gilbert Youth Service

While some performers seek variety in musical style and drop rock 'n roll in favor of rhythm and blues, there's one who has remained steadfast in what he calls "his groove."

★ ★ ★

Fats Domino has been singing jazz for 17 years, and he plans to go right on without change.

"He's been singing songs like "Blueberry Hill," "The Saints," and "My Blue Heaven" ever since he began performing, and they're part of his repertoire wherever he's booked.

"There's no difference in audiences," he explains. "They holler, and stamp along with the music. I like that. It shows they're enjoying themselves."

★ ★ ★

Fats hit the big time in 1949 when a record company man heard him play "Fat Man" in a New Orleans club.

FORMS HIS OWN

He toured with Dave Bartholomew's band, and then went back to New Orleans to form his own.

Besides being a supper club performer, Fats is a tireless composer.

He wrote "Ain't That a Shame," which made a million and a half in record sales for Pat Boone. Rick Nelson did nearly as well with Fats' "I'm Walkin'."

★ ★ ★

While he belts out his songs on stage, in an interview Fats is soft-spoken.

He admits to one weakness—if it can be called that. He's wild over jewelry, and carries a pocketful of watches in addition to the one he's currently wearing.

★ ★ ★

"Rings on my fingers," he says, and there they glisten. "But no bells on my toes."

This year is Canada's 100th birthday.

Come on up. We're having a party.

The Centennial flame lights Parliament Hill in Ottawa, our capital city, to welcome over 15 million people coming to Canada's big 100th birthday party. Our Centennial.

Getting to our party is no problem. Just head north till you're in Canada. Because Canada is where the party is. All year long. Coast to coast.

One of the greatest highlights of our 100th birthday is Expo 67 in Montreal, Québec, the largest World's Fair ever held. 70 nations are spending 300 million dollars to create a spectacle that summarizes all that man has achieved on earth and in space. Its theme: Man and his World.

Expo 67 is a once-in-a-century experience. But it's not all that's happening in Canada this year.

There's our 100-day Voyageur Canoe Pageant from the Rocky Mountains to the St. Lawrence River. It's going to re-trace the original journeys of exploration made by the bold voyageurs.

And there's our tattoo. But not the kind you see on a sailor's arm. Our tattoo is a military musical review of Canada's history. It's going to travel right across the country complete with military marching and bands, drums and bagpipes, past and present military dress, and plenty of swirling action. And in one unforgettable scene, you'll see a real Spitfire plane play out a Battle of Britain sequence.

And don't miss the great Gold Rush Days re-enactment in Edmonton, Alberta. And while you're in the west, take in the world-famous Calgary Stampede. Real cowboys from all over North America bust loose in a week-long extravaganza of roaring rodeo competition.

And, if you're for sports competition, come to Winnipeg, Manitoba, for the spectacular Pan-American Games. Over 3,500 athletes from over 25 countries are competing for honour and glory in the "Olympics of the Western Hemisphere".

Eastward in the Atlantic Provinces, you can have a fling at the Highland Games and Scottish Folk Festival. And on both east and west coasts, you can see two great Naval Assemblies in which ships from 15 nations are taking part.

So if you like a good party, and you'd like to know more about ours, send in the coupon below.

This is the year that everything's happening in Canada. So be here during our Centennial birthday party.

It will be a birthday party you'll never forget.

It's our 100th birthday. Join us in our year-long, coast-to-coast Centennial celebrations.

Nigerian Situation Not as Warlike as It Sounds

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP) — Nigerian military leaders are hurling warlike accusations at one another but they are also carrying on quieter contacts in an effort to keep the country from falling apart.

The two lieutenant colonels who are major actors in the Nigerian drama, Yakubu Gowon, head of the federal military government, and C. Odumegwu Ojukwu, military governor of the eastern region, demonstrated the technique this week.

★ ★ ★

Ojukwu met foreign newsmen in his regional capital of Enugu. Gowon followed by meeting some of the same newsmen in Lagos.

Each man accused the other of importing arms, showing bad faith and threatening to tear Nigeria apart.

PROMISES MOVE

Gowon said he was weary "of having to get down on my knees to satisfy Ojukwu." He promised to move promptly should Ojukwu take the unilateral action he has threatened by March 31.

But in the midst of his bitter remarks, Gowon mentioned that, at Ojukwu's request, he had ordered a meeting of federal and legal experts that an eastern representative could attend.

★ ★ ★

Ojukwu has threatened to act independently unless Nigeria's other military leaders have put into operation by March 31 an agreement all reached at a January meeting in Ghana. Ojukwu's statement has been considered by some to be a threat to take the eastern section out of Nigeria.

This week he spoke contemptuously of Gowon's ability "to do anything."

NEGOTIATIONS

He also virtually invited more negotiations when he said, "The only person who can help Gowon out of his problem is myself. All Gowon has to do is recognize this. Then he will come and discuss solutions."

Ojukwu appeared to back away from an ultimatum when he suggested Gowon set up a time schedule "so at least we will know where we are going instead of this drift."

Three men in a tub, and sometimes more, are seen on the Euphrates River in Syria, where a tin tub is used as an excursion boat.

Russian Revolution—3

News of Coup Spread Slowly

(Last in a Series)

By LEON DENNEN
Foreign News Analyst
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

News of the fall of the Romanov dynasty was slow in reaching Russia's provinces.

Even before Czar Nicholas II abdicated his throne on March 15, 1917 a democratic provisional government had been formed in Petrograd, Russia's capital.

But in Rovno, the provincial Ukrainian capital where my parents were stranded after the outbreak of World War I, czarist officials still ruled with an iron fist on March 25.

Telephone and telegraph communications were disrupted by the war. Rail service was completely disorganized by the advancing Germans. Local newspapers no longer appeared because of the shortage of paper.

★ ★ ★

Alexander Kerensky, the last premier of the provisional government, told me that some of Russia's remote provinces heard of the revolution only six months later.

WORKED BETTER

However, there were rumors. The grapevine, as usual in Russia even today, worked better than the communications media.

Rumors were circulating that a revolution had occurred in Petrograd.

At the gymnasium where I studied, students told each other mysteriously that "Nikolashka" was already pushing up daisies.

★ ★ ★

On the main street of the city little groups of people were talking endlessly. They started fires and tore up the wooden sidewalks to keep them burning.

EXPECTING MIRACLE

No one wanted to go home. Everyone expected a miracle. But no one really believed that Russia was at last free.

Thus it was that my father, who once campaigned with Eugene V. Debs in New York, where I was born, was the first to bring the message of freedom to the inhabitants of Rovno.

He had been in Petrograd and took an active part in the czar's overthrow. Now he was making his way slowly to the provinces to spread the happy news.

★ ★ ★

I shall never forget the faces of two Russian soldiers when they first heard that the czar had abdicated.

FLOWING BEARD

One was a man about 60 with a long flowing beard streaked with gray.

Even to a youngster of nine his soldier's uniform seemed ludicrous. His arm was clasped around a soldier of about 16 — his son, as I later learned — with a bluish face covered with pimples.

The old man and the young boy were standing in a circle of soldiers who were listening to my father's speech about the revolution in Petrograd.

★ ★ ★

They stood silent and sullen. There was hardly a trace of emotion on their impassive faces.

SEEMED INCREDIBLE

"Fellow citizens, the tyrant has fallen," my father roared. "Russia is free. Long live the democratic provisional government! Long live Alexander Kerensky!"

But the soldiers were suspicious. It seemed incredible that Nicholas II was no longer the God-ordained autocrat of Russia.

Was the revolution a reality this time? Or was it merely a czarist ruse, a provocation like Black Friday in 1905?

★ ★ ★

Suddenly the old soldier stepped forward. He fell to his knees in the snow, crossed himself and began to cry. Amidst sobs, he addressed his sullen comrades:

"Brothers, soldiers, freedom has come to Mother Russia. We are poor and oppressed and burdened by hard work. The 'Nemka' is sending us soldiers to the slaughter like cows. We are considered not as men but as slaves. But now the truth has dawned in Russia."

BEGIN TO STIR

The silent soldiers began to stir. Here was someone of their own, speaking their own language, who was not afraid to speak of freedom.

The police were nowhere in sight. Sensing doom, the czar's cops had long ago disappeared from the streets.

Suddenly, cries pierced the air: "Long live freedom! Long live the democratic provisional government!"

★ ★ ★

The old soldier rose to his feet and started to walk toward the main street. His comrades moved after him. Those in the rear pressed against the front rank and they moved on.

PRISONERS FREED

The spontaneous demonstration, which was soon joined by thousands of jubilant men and women, marched to the city jail to liberate the political prisoners.

At the prison gate the crowd was met by Col. Kossonogoff and a detachment of Cossacks.

A fierce-looking man with pointed black mustache, Kossonogoff was an ardent monarchist. But on that freezing day in March, 1917, he was fighting for a lost cause.

★ ★ ★

"In the name of the czar, disperse," Kossonogoff screamed. "The Jews are fooling you. You will be punished for your disobedience."

RIFLES RAISED

"We no longer have a czar," the old soldier replied.

"Fire!" the colonel screamed again.

The Cossacks shuddered in obedient movement and raised their rifles. But they did not fire.

★ ★ ★

Biologic Life Dated 2.15 Billion Years

By Science Service

WASHINGTON — From deep in the gold mines of South Africa's Orange Free State has come evidence that there was some form of biologic activity on earth at least 2.15 billion years ago.

Polymerized hydrocarbon "chemofossils" found in the gold ores were studied by Jochen Hoefs and Manfred Schidlowski of the University of Gottingen, Germany.

Isotopic composition of the hydrocarbons, they report in the March 3 Science, falls into the range of sedimentary organic carbon.

Thus, it is probable that they were originally part of a rich bacterial and algal life in the Witwatersrand basin.

Less Peril for 'Bleeders'

By Science Service

WASHINGTON — Some 8,000 "bleeders" or hemophiliacs in this country can face surgery with less danger of hemorrhaging because research has discovered certain blood factors that can correct the abnormal blood clotting mechanism.

An example of foot surgery in a hemphiliac in Melbourne, Australia, shows the way a factor numbered "eight" was obtained in sufficient quanity to be pooled from blood donations totaling 438 pints.

Erl Roberts, a 21-year-old hemophiliac from Toowong, Brisbane, had a foot deformity long in need of correction. As a result of the donations from strangers he had never seen, he is now able to walk with a cane and is hopeful of getting about on his own in the future.

Less common surgery involving factor number "nine" has been reported recently by Dr. Robert W. Bailey, associate professor of orthopedic surgery, University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, who operated on five hemophiliac B patients after infusing the deficient factor.

Dr. Bailey says that antibiotics are important when a bleeder has an operation because wounds of this type can be an ideal culture medium for infection.

Auburn Hills Construction

$12 Million in Bonds Sold for Complex

Oakland Community College last night sold $12 million worth of bonds to finance construction of a new building complex on its Auburn Hills Campus.

The bonds were sold to Northern Trust Co. of Chicago, representing 19 financinal institutions.

Average interest rate during the 27-year retirement schedule will be 3.84978 per cent.

Net interest paid during that period will be $8,544,599.

Oakland Community College News

The rate offered by Northern was the lowest of three. Date for the awarding of construction contracts has not been set.

LEVEL OF SUPPORT

"We can set it as soon as we know what level of support to expect from the state," said James W. Hobson, OCC vice president-treasurer.

The college's request for $6 million to help finance construction on the campus was not included in Gov. Romney's recommended budget.

Depending on what happens to the request in the Legislature, "we could be ready to start construction as early as July 1," Hobson said.

* * *

The $12 million will cover the first phase of a planned $22-million construction program to replace the former Army Nike headquarters in Pontiac Township.

OTHER ACTION

In other action, the OCC board approved a total of $78,786 in additional expenditures for the Orchard Ridge Campus, now under construction in Farmington Township.

These include $31,261 for revision of the electrical system to provide power from a secondary source should the primary source fail.

Another $20,125 will pay for gas piping at the school, $15,900 for movable interior walls and $11,500 for lock cylinders and keys for the campus buildings.

* * *

The trustees also voted to join the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments, now being formed as a voluntary organization of cities, counties, school districts and townships in the metropolitan area.

Supervisors' Unit Delays Decision on Rights Group

Action by the bylaws committee of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors on recommending whether the supervisors' human relations committee should continue as deferred yesterday pending further consideration.

By laws Committee Chairman James Clarkson asked County Corporation Counsel Robert P. Allen to write an opinion on the eligibility of the human relations group to continue as a committee.

Established nearly four years ago as a special committee, the human relations unit has six members including two who are members of the board of supervisors.

Standing committees of the supervisors are comprised of board of supervisor members only.

The bylaws committee yesterday asked Duane Hursfall, chairman of the human relations committee, to ask his committee members to evaluate the function of the committee at the next meeting and file a report with the bylaws committee.

MERGER EYED

In other business yesterday, the bylaws committee recommended the merger of four standing committees into two.

Proposed for merger were the auditor general and local taxes committees and the markets and cooperative extension committees.

4 Troy Apartments Are Broken Into

Four apartments in the Somerset complex at Maple and Coolidge in Troy were broken into yesterday. Some $150 in cash and a $50 camera were taken, police reported.

The apartments were entered sometime in the early afternoon by forcing open hallway doors, police said. Apartment buildings entered were 2718 and 2726.

At 2718, about $100 in cash and the camera were taken from the apartment of Daryll Heinemann. A total of $50 is missing from the three others. The four apartments, unoccupied at the time, were ransacked, police said.

Fire Damages Photo Studio

A fire at La Zaroff Photography, 135 W. Huron, early today caused an estimated $850 damage and took Pontiac firemen more than an hour to extinguish.

Firemen were able to contain most of the blaze in a one-story frame garage attached to the main building.

Two engines and an aerial truck under the command of Chief Charles Marion responded to the alarm about 3:30 a.m. and were at the scene until about 4:50.

Fire officials said the blaze apparently started in a space heater.

Some $750 of the damage was to the building, the rest to contents, they said.

OU Study to Focus on School Life

Student life on the Oakland University campus is the subject of a thorough study initiated last night by a commission of 21 students, faculty members and administrators.

"It has become increasingly apparent that a major study of this important facet of the university now is in order," OU Chancellor D. B. Varner announced to the university community two weeks ago.

The idea of a Commission on Student Life was developed in a series of discussions with student leaders, senior faculty members, the provost and dean of students, Varner said.

It is expected to start making recommendations "at an early date," Varner said.

* * *

Areas suggested for study reflect those in which student unrest recently has ranged from grumbling to loud protest.

CONTROVERSIAL TOPICS

No coincidentally, these are the same areas which have caused controversy among persons on the faculty and staff.

Topics include housing, academic freedom for students, dormitory regulations, student conduct and discipline, the role of students in policy formulation and the campus security office.

Varner said he also hoped the group will look at the collection, allocation and utilization of the student activities fees, student publications and student government.

Membership on the commission was rounded out this week when the students elected their seven representatives. Another seven members were appointed by Varner.

The Steering Committee of the University Senate also named seven members and chose Robert Howes, associate professor of history, as chairman of the commission.

GOP Will Hear Crime Fighter on Kelley's Staff

Vincent Piersante, in charge of the state attorney general's program for combating organized crime, will be the speaker Tuesday at a meeting of the Oakland County Young Republicans in Birmingham.

The 8 p.m. meeting will be at the Community House, 380 S. Bates.

Before being named to his present post, Piersante was chief of detectives for the Detroit Police Department.

A social gathering will be held before and after the public meeting.

White Lake Man on Critical List After Collision

A White Lake Township man was in critical condition today in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Pontiac after a head-on collision at 9:30 p.m. yesterday.

William G. Humphrey, 40, of 8033 Kenwick was injured at Telegraph and Devonbrook in Bloomfield Township when his car collided with one driven by Leonard W. Armstrong, 49, of Allen Park.

* * *

Armstrong was treated at the hospital and released.

Bloomfield Township police said Humphrey's car, southbound, apparently crossed the center line into northbound traffic.

Man Is Arrested in Flint Slaying

FLINT (AP) — James Robinson, 35, of Flint was arrested at his home Thursday following the rifle slaying of Marresto Castillo, 33, a maintenance worker at Hurley Hospital in Flint. Police said Castillo was found mortally wounded at Robinson's home. A .30-30 caliber rifle was found nearby and on a table in the same room were money and playing cards, police said.

Doctor to Retire

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) —Dr. Willard W. Dickerson, 61, former Grand Rapids resident and medical superintendent of Caro State Hospital, plans to retire May 1 after 32 years on the hospital's medical staff. He is an authority on epilepsy and mental retardation and a past president of the Michigan Society of Psychiatry and Neurology.

Killer Convicted

FLINT (AP) — A Genesee County Circuit Court jury convicted Andrew Newell, 50, Flint, of first degree murder Wednesday in the fatal stabbing of Mrs. Thelma Atkins, 36, Flint, last September. Newell had pleaded self defense, contending Mrs. Atkins threatened him with a straight razor during an argument on a Flint street.

Firemen Get Help From Dog Pound

DETROIT (AP)—Detroit firemen had to call on the city dog pound for help Thursday in quenching a three-alarm fire on the city's West Side.

The dog-handling specialists were called in because two large German shepherd dogs occupied the ground floor of a building adjoining the blazing building.

"Our guys feared the dogs more than the fire," said a fire department spokesman.

'No Fine' Day at Waterford Library Is Near

Next Thursday will be "no fine" day at the Waterford Township Public Library, Jean M. Andrews, librarian, announced today.

Miss Andrews encourages all patrons with overdue books to return them to the main library at 5168 Tubbs or the CAI branch at 5640 Williams Lake next Thursday.

* * *

No fines will be levied on that day.

Both libraries will be open from 1 p.m. to 9 p.m. next Thursday.

Knifing Charge Is Renewed

Suspect Released From State Hospital

The Oakland County prosecutor's ofice has renewed a charge of attempted murder against a Huntington Woods man accused of knifing an Oakland University coed last January.

* * *

The charge had been dismissed against Roger B. Shaw, 23, of 26116 Wyoming on Feb. 3 after two psychiatrists said that he was in need of immediate treatment.

The prosecutor's office agreed to temporarily drop the charge since Shaw could not be committed while the charge was pending, but with the understanding that it would be reinstated on his release from Pontiac State Hospital.

Following his release Wednesday, Shaw pleaded innocent at his arraignment before Pontiac Township Justice R. Grant Graham to the stabbing of Janice Leverenz, 20.

* * *

Graham scheduled a preliminary court examination for March 31 at 1:30 p.m., and released Shaw on $5,000 bond.

PARKING LOT

Miss Leverenz, a senior, majoring in business economics, was stabbed in the abdomen. The stabbing took place Jan. 19, in Shaw's car on a campus parking lot. She was released from William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak, after undergoing surgery.

"Slow as a turtle" can mean up to 22 miles per hour, a speed attributed to a leatherback turtle, in the water.

Grants for OU Are Accepted

Two federal grants totaling $46,788 to support projects at Oakland University were accepted yesterday by the Michigan State University Board of Trustees.

A grant of $42,228 was awarded by the U.S. Office of Education for an institute in reading, which will be offered at OU this summer under the direction of Dr. Harry T. Hahn, professor of education and noted authority on the teaching of reading.

The planning of the institute, for teachers of grades four though 12, was announced earlier, along with acceptance of a $7,500 grant in planning funds.

The other federal grant was in the sum of $4,560 from the National Science Foundation to support undergraduate research work in the OU physics department. The project will be under the direction of Dr. Ralph C. Mobley, professor of physics and department chairman.

* * *

The board also accepted a grant of $2,000 from the Michigan College of Osteopathic Medicine of Pontiac to sponsor a series of seminars in the life sciences. The project will be under the direction of Reuben Torch, professor of biology and assistant dean of the College of Arts and Sciences.

Nonresident Tax Divides Republicans

LANSING (AP) — A fight may be brewing between House Republicans and Senate Republicans over whether to repeal the law allowing cities to collect income taxes from nonresidents.

The Republican majority in the Senate Thursday urged repeal of the one-half per cent nonresident levy — apparently hoping to pick up the vote of Sen. George Kuhn, R - West Bloomfield Township, for Gov. George Romney's fiscal reform package.

* * *

Kuhn of the 14TH District is a veteran campaigner against the nonresident tax.

Despite the Senate caucus position, two influential house Republicans—Speaker Robert Waldron and James N. Folks, chairman of the house taxation committee—said they would oppose any effort to cut the revenues cities now collect.

$8 MILLION ANNUALLY

Detroit would lose an estimated $8 million a year if it were unable to collect the tax from nonresidents who work in the city.

Romney has not proposed to change the city income tax law.

Ironically, Waldron, who lives in Grosse Pointe, represents six Detroit suburbs whose residents are hit by the motor city's nonresident tax.

But, he said, few of his constituents oppose the tax.

"They figure that Detroit is their home town, and that they should support the city of Detroit because they work in it," Waldron said.

Gotta Hand It to This Robber

LONDON (AP) — A man walked into Lloyds Bank Thursday, held up his finger and thumb, and asked a woman cashier: "How much would a wad of 5 pound notes like this be worth?"

* * *

The woman showed him a bundle of fivers and replied: "About 1,500 pounds ($4,200)." The man grabbed the bundle and ran away.

South Carolina's textile industry, the state's biggest business, employes 150,000 persons.

Barge Strike Pilot Former Pontiac Man

A former Pontiac man, Milton Bank Jr. of La Jolla, Calif., was one of the U.S. pilots who attacked two cargo barges 20 miles south of Haiphong, North Vietnam's principal port, yesterday, the Navy said today.

Lt. Cmdr. Bank, 31, is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Milton H. Bank, 58 Franklin Blvd.

"The weather was pretty bad as we made our reconnaissance flight up the coast," Bank said.

"We spotted the barges and made our run in. As soon as we fired, we broke away and were not able to see our hits, but the skipper saw that I got a good hit on one of the barges."

Bank, who joined the Navy in 1957, used five-inch rockets against the barges.

3 County Judges to Attend Seminar

Three Oakland County circuit judges will attend the National College of State Trail Judges at the University of Nevada in Reno during August.

Judges William J. Beer, Farrell E. Roberts and Robert L. Templin will join with 150 judges from all over the nation for the four-week course. They were selected from nearly 500 applicants.

Now in its fourth year, the college is part of the continuing education program of the American Bar Association.

It is designed to acquaint judges with methods of effective judicial administration through an exchange of ideas and information.

Schlesinger Due

MIDLAND (AP) — Arthur Schlesinger Jr., author and former adviser to Presidents Kennedy and Johnson, will give two speeches and hold a news conference at Northwood Institute March 20. One speech will be at a closed meeting of the Northwood Executive 100 Club, and the other to a group of Midland High School history students.

CAI Board Chief Retained

Dr. John Naz of 2826 Orange Grove has been reelected president of the board of directors of Community Activities, Inc.

Also reelected to office were Arthur Salley, vice president, and Mrs. William Bruckman, secretary.

Alfred Beebe was elected treasurer for 1967.

Named to three-year terms on the board of directors were E. Frank Richardson, Joseph Franz, John DeWees, Dean Salley and Mrs. Bruckman.

* * *

Selected as one - year alternates on the board of directors were Carlos Richardson and Clare Novess.

PLAN TO ROW ATLANTIC — Lewis C. Mills, 54, and his son, Lewis Jr., 21, are shown in their 16-foot dory in Gloucester, Mass., as they prepare to start their row across the Atlantic Ocean. The trip is scheduled to start today. Mills, a truck driver and part-time lobster fisherman, hopes to make the voyage in 40 days. Last year one pair of British rowers made the trip in 92 days and another pair was lost at sea. The "No Riders" sign was donated as a gag.

U.S. Pilots Report Flak Heaviest Ever

ABOARD CARRIER KITTY HAWK, GULF OF TONKIN (AP) — The admiral who directs the U. S. Navy's carrier strikes against North Vietnam said today the Communists are throwing up more antiaircraft fire than ever before.

Rear Adm. David C. Richardson also said the North Vietnamese are digging more and more underground storage areas to protect their war supplies from the American planes.

★ ★ ★

Richardson, commander of the 7th Fleet's Task Force 77, said in an interview: "The quantities of flak our pilots are getting are heavier than ever about one-third heavier than last summer would be my guess."

In one recent raid, he continued, "We had 15 to 30 tons of ammunition fired at us in a matter of a couple of minutes. suppose that every North Vietnamese over 4 feet high has a gun and is shooting at us."

6,000 SITES

U.S. intelligence officers estimate the North Vietnamese have some 6,000 antiaircraft sites spread around the country.

★ ★ ★

Task Force 77 is built around five aircraft carriers with 400 warplanes and includes 25 cruisers, destroyers and other ships. Usually, three of the carriers at one time are on "Yankee Station," in the Gulf of Tonkin 100 to 150 miles off the North Vietnamese coast.

★ ★ ★

Carrier bombers so far have concentrated their attacks largely on railroads, boxcars, barges and trucks to cut the flow of supplies and men to the South.

"We highlight transportation," Richardson said. "Once you take out his (North Vietnamese) transport, its gone.

"But they adapt themselves to what we're doing. They build bypass bridges and roads. And they have an endless capacity for repairs.

"But repair requires a lot of effort, doesn't it?"

★ ★ ★

As for the North Vietnamese "going underground," Richardson said: "It's picked up a great deal. It is a response to our attacks, and it's not at all surprising. They are storing their high-priority materials — ammunition and fuel."

★ ★ ★

"I have a lot of admiration for the determination and resourcefulness of these people in getting their supplies South. They are decentralizing their modes of transport. When a railroad is knocked out, they use trucks and barges. They will shift from trucks to railroads and back to trucks if they have to."

BOMBARDMENT

The admiral said the 7th Fleet's new operation Sea Dragon — offshore bombardment by cruisers and destroyers — is "discouraging a lot of supplies" from moving South.

"We've had several days recently in which we haven't seen any waterborne craft," he said.

★ ★ ★

Richardson, 52, defended continuance of the U.S. raids on the North, declaring, "If we stopped the bombing, there would be an awful lot more supplies" going South.

★ ★ ★

"What we are doing is cutting his (the North Vietnamese) arms off," Richardson said. "The arms in this case are his transportation. His rail line is being knocked out. And he has fewer modes of transport to get his stuff down. In that sense we are chopping his arms off.

"But we can't get to his mind."

Bonn Diplomatic Efforts in East Europe Stalled

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — Poland, East Germany and the Sovet Union have stalled West Germany's diplomatic offensive in Eastern Europe, temporarily at least.

Western diplomats say this was confirmed by a brief announcement Thursday night that Poland and Bulgaria will sign a treaty of friendship, cooperation and mutual assistance in the first 10 days of April.

★ ★ ★

They said Bulgaria, southernmost member of the Soviet bloc, by signing the pact is joining the movement against West Germany launched this month by the northern tier of Communist countries — Poland, East Germany and Czechoslovakia.

Bulgaria has no frontiers with Germany and a few weeks ago was considering opening diplomatic relations with Bonn with no strings attached, as Romania did Jan. 31.

The Polish-Bulgarian treaty is considered certain to contain clauses upholding the present Polish-German boundary. It might even reject Bonn's claim to represent all of Germany.

Diplomats said it would be politically embarrassing for the West Germans to open diplomatic relations with Bulgaria for some time at least after the Bulgarian government subscribed to such a treaty.

★ ★ ★

West Germany claims to represent the whole German nation as it existed in 1937. This includes territories seized by Poland and the Soviet Union during World War II as well as all of East Germany. Since it began making overtures to the Communist nations in Southeast Europe, the present West German government has muted these territorial claims but it has not abandoned them.

Predictions are now heard in Warsaw that East Germany may soon sign bilaterial friendship and cooperation treaties with Bulgaria, Hungary and Romania, in addition to the two concluded this week with its immediate neighbors, Poland and Czechoslovakia. Such pacts would uphold the existence of the two German states and deny the West German claim to represent all of Germany.

★ ★ ★

Discussions between West Germany and Hungary about diplomatic relations are reported to be at a standstill.

Many diplomats from both Western and Eastern Europe say Chancellor Kurt Georg Kiesinger's West German government is itself partly to blame for the growing resistance to its overtures to Eastern Europe.

2 Hospitals off Insurance

DETROIT (UPI) — Michigan Blue Cross has announced it will cut off full payments to two hospitals owned by a former State Board of Education member June 15.

The action by the insurance company yesterday followed a charge by suburban Madison Heights officials that one of the hospitals, Martin Place Hospital-East, was dodging taxes by posing as a nonprofit corporation.

The osteopathic hospital and another institution, Martin Place Hospital-West, are owned by Dr. Leon Fill, 52, a long-time state Democratic worker who was defeated last November when he ran for a second term on the State Board of Education.

Civilians Unaffected by GI Bonus Cutoff

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. civilians working for Defense Department agencies in Vietnam will continue to receive a 25 per cent pay bonus while American servicemen there lose a cost of living allowance.

This bonus, called a "post differential," is an incentive payment to Civil Service employes who volunteer for duty in certain overseas locations where there is an element of hardship.

★ ★ ★

"This differential pay is not being stopped," the Pentagon said. "It is required under employment agreements."

The question was raised with the Defense Department after it announced last week plans to halt on May 1 a cost of living allowance now collected by more than 31,200 U.S. servicemen, most of them stationed in the Saigon area.

SAVE MILLIONS

That action is calculated to save about $21 million a year.

The approximately 450 U.S. civilians working for Defense Department agencies in Vietnam receive bonus pay estimated at about $1.1 million a year, the Pentagon said.

★ ★ ★

Officials said a study showed living expenses in Vietnam generally were lower than those in the United States.

The military differential ranges from $27 a month for privates to $84 a month for generals and was put into effect originally to help servicemen overcome excessive living cost in Vietnam.

DIFFERENTIAL

The Defense Department estimated that the salary base of the civilians in its employ in Vietnam averaged about $10,000 a year. Thus, a 25 per cent "post differential" would yield about $2,500.

All servicemen stationed in Vietnam receive $65 a month above their normal pay for service in a war zone. Some of them receive housing allowances.

Civilian employes of the Defense Department also receive a quarters allowance if they do not live in government billets. This, the Pentagon said, amounts to what is normally considered to be a fair rental cost within certain limits.

The civilians are obligated to pay their regular income tax, including tax on the 25 per cent differential.

Enlisted men stationed in Vietnam are forgiven their federal tax exemption.

Maternity Watch Fizzles; Lioness Muffs TV Debut

WASHINGTON (AP) — A round-the-clock maternity watch of the National Zoo's ranking lioness has flopped. She isn't pregnant.

The lioness, Princess, was mated four months ago to Caesar. Simultaneously, the National Zoo initiated a program to televise zoo births and create a library of animal birth on video tape.

★ ★ ★

Princess was a natural for the pilot program. She is 14 years old and has had 24 cubs. She's familiar with the lying-in den and her keepers.

Last week the 105-day period of gestation was almost up. Zoo officials organized. Thirty three friends of the zoo — including Mrs. Nicholas Katzenbach, wife of the undersecretary of state — volunteered for a 24-hour watch in the lion house.

They sat in a nearby office with a television monitor beamed on Princess. At the first indication of labor pains, the volunteer was to flick on a recording device, then notify the zoo police who would call the zoo veterinarian.

★ ★ ★

Some of the volunteers thought it was a little spooky sitting in the lion house at night. They read. Some played crossword puzzles. There were two false alarms over labor pains.

★ ★ ★

"Just when it seemed the most peaceful at night," said Mrs. Peter Grogan, "one of the cats roared." She and Lydia Katzenbach shared a 4 a.m. to 6 a.m. watch.

"I spent part of the time playing with Dennis and petting two cheetahs," said Warren J. Illiff, 30, an airline executive. Dennis is an orangutan.

After eight days of focusing in on Princess' every move, the zoo's animal department head, Donald R. Dietlein, has called off the watch.

"She's just a misshapen lion," he said. "She's not pregnant."

Paper Gets GM to Furnish Car for Nader

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors Corp. will keep its mechanical fingers crossed Saturday.

The company is donating a car to carry auto safety critic Ralph Nader around Detroit, despite Nader's criticism of GM and his book, "Unsafe at Any Speed," which spurred new federal auto safety standards.

★ ★ ★

Nader will be in the Motor City to speak at the honors convocation at the University of Detroit's engineering college.

Engineering students, admitting they were too "chicken" to call an auto maker and ask for a courtesy car for their critic-speaker, wrote to a problem-solving column in the Detroit Press.

★ ★ ★

The newspaper made the call and got a car "complete with safety stuff like shoulder harnesses, head restraints, disc brakes, traffic hazard flasher switch, freeway lane-changer signal, padded instrument panel and energy-absorbing steering column."

★ ★ ★

"GM has a sense of humor," the column said, adding: "Just drive carefully."

Vote on Complex

GRANDVILLE (AP) — Residents will ballot April 3 on a proposed $685,000 civic complex. They are being asked to approve a 25-year general obligation bond issue to finance the project which includes a city Hall, library, and a police and fire department building.

Soviet Spectacular Seen Aiding Cause of U.S. Space Funds

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey expressed belief today that the Soviets will try to rocket a very large manned space platform into orbit this year to celebrate the Soviet Union's 50th anniversary.

Many U.S. space enthusiasts feel such a move would give an indirect boost to the American man in space program, facing budget cuts from a Congress more concerned about money for war, schools and slums than for space.

★ ★ ★

Some of the program's supporters in Congress, the space agency and industry feel a Soviet spectacular will help whet a dulled American public and congressional interest in the race to the moon, and beyond — perhaps to Mars, as urged by some space and industry officials.

The Soviets have not openly ventured a manned space flight since March 1965, said Humphrey in an interview. "They are pretending they aren't in the space race, but they are, and they want to beat us."

James E. Webb, administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, expressed belief "they are developing a capability to produce another very dramatic advance in space."

Humphrey, chairman of the President's Space Council, noted that October is the 50th anniversary of the Russian revolution and the 10th anniversary of Sputnik 1, the Soviet satellite that opened the space sprint.

"I cannot imagine the Soviets letting two such dates pass without trying at least to come up with some spectacular in space," Humphrey added.

Humphrey said he thought the Soviets "will try to put in orbit a very large space platform or a module that will accommodate several persons."

PLACES ODDS

An administration space aide put the odds at 2 to 1 the Soviets "will try something big, not only to celebrate the anniversaries but to try to kill off the international impact of a U.S. moon landing."

NASA officials hold to the belief the United States will be able to land men on the moon and return them safely before 1970 despite the setback from the Apollo spacecraft fire that killed three astronauts.

But a sharp cut in the budget, they contend, would increase the risks and further reduce the chances of meeting the moon deadline.

Although NASA officials describe their $5-billion budget as "austere," the project's critics see the congressional tug of war over funds as their opportunity to chop the appropriations.

BEST CHANCE

"I think we have the best chance we've had" to make a deep cut, said Sen. William E. Proxmire, D-Wis., chairman of the Senate-House Economic Committee. "I think there is a growing feeling that this is a nonessential program and is a drain of manpower that takes energies away from other areas."

★ ★ ★

House Democratic leader Carl Albert, who serves on the House Science and Astronautics Committee now considering the space authorization, said "the program will be lucky to get by without cuts."

"But," he added, "I wouldn't think Congress would do anything to jeopardize landing on the moon before the Russians — at least I hope not."

Webb acknowledges he expects a congressional fight over the budget authorization, and an industry representative characterized the space mood in Congress as "growing weariness."

OTHER WARNINGS

There were these other red warning lights flickering at Capitol Hill's mission control.

Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield — "I think the budget can be cut. I don't think we should indulge in a race to the moon with the Russians or anyone else."

Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen — "Does it really make any difference whether we get to the moon this year, or next year, or the following year?"

★ ★ ★

Rep. Chet Holifield, a Democrat from the space industry capital, California, and deputy chairman of the Joint Atomic Energy Committee — "I am getting colder and colder on this space business as we go along."

But, cautioned Holifield, those who would like to flag down the space drive are facing "a juggernaut of vested interest" — NASA, the big industries, small businesses, merchants, scientists, workers, universities, have shared in the $23-billion states and communities who moon action since 1961.

More Money for Viet War

House Backs LBJ, Votes $12.19 Billion

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has voted overwhelmingly to give President Johnson nearly all the extra money he's asked for the Vietnam war.

By a 385-11 margin, the House passed Thursday and sent to the Senate a $12.19-billion emergency appropriation bill for defense. That was only $79.3 million less than Johnson asked.

★ ★ ★

The House action came as Johnson signed an authorization bill passed earlier by Congress covering $4.59 billion of the sum voted Thursday for Vietnam fighting.

The President hailed the measure as adding strength to U.S. efforts to attain "an honorable settlement" of the war.

CRUSHES AMENDMENT

Before approving the appropriation bill, the House crushed 123 to 2 an amendment that would have put it in opposition to a land invasion of North Vietnam.

The amendment was offered by Rep. George E. Brown Jr., D-Calif. Brown didn't suggest invasion plans were in the works, but said his amendment would put the House on record as opposing a major expansion of the war.

★ ★ ★

Final Senate approval of the emergency appropriation would boost to about $71 billion the amount allocated to defense during the current fiscal year. Johnson is asking about $72 billion for defense for the year starting July 1.

In the Senate, Democratic leader Mike Mansfield suggested that the United States work through the United Nations Security Council to bring nations involved in the war to the peace table for talks.

DISCUSSIONS SUGGESTED

Mansfield said a Security Council invitation should go to all nations "deeply involved" in the Vietnam struggle, including non-U.N. members North Vietnam and Communist China.

The Montanan said he's hopeful that secret diplomacy eventually will lead to peace talks, but added: "In my judgment, if there is to be peace in Vietnam, the need remains for a direct confrontation of views between all of the principals."

★ ★

Pentagon sources announced during the day that the United States has far more bombs than it actually needs in Vietnam and plans to cut back its inventory in the next few months.

Spokesmen said the U.S. stockpile of bombs in South Vietnam now totals 209,000 tons and production slowdowns are necessary to reduce inventories.

'Electric Cars Not Whole Answer'

Give Us Time on Air Pollution---Big 3

WASHINGTON (AP) — Major automobile manufacturers told a Senate committee Thursday they can suppress dangerous automobile poisoning of the air if the government gives them reasonable time to produce equipment.

And while they said electric automobiles hold some promise they added that the electric car won't solve the immediate pollution problem.

★ ★ ★

They testified this is so because a car's life is from five to 10 years and the electrics wouldn't replace gas automobiles fast enough to keep up with the government schedule for purifying America's air.

Ford, General Motors, Chrysler and Allis-Chalmers representatives testified at a hearing by the Senate Commerce Committee and a Public Works subcommittee on air and water pollution.

FEDERAL ASSISTANCE

The hearing is on bills that would authorize government assistance in research and development on means to overcome air pollution problems.

The auto manufacturers told the senators an electric car can be developed quickly for city use—shopping, running errands and similar travel. But they said the electrics wouldn't have the pickup and cruising speeds to safely mix with turnpike and fast city travel.

★ ★ ★

Rep. Richard L. Ottinger, D-N.Y., gave testimony that conflicted in part with those estimates. He said he has been using an electric car supplied by its producers. He said it will travel 55 miles an hour and accelerate faster from zero to 30 miles an hour than some small gas automobiles. And he said improvements can be expected.

Dr. Frederic De Hoffman, president of the general atomic division of General Dynamics Corp., testified his company has developed a zinc-air battery and expects to make a car commercially available in the early 1970s.

DELIVERY VANS

He said the first use probably will be for city delivery vans and school buses.

Harry F. Barr, GM vice president for engineering, testified his company believes the standards the government is setting for reducing pollution by car exhaust are reasonable. He said if given two or three years notice on what is expected in the tightening of government standards, General Motors can keep up to the schedule.

★ ★ ★

Charts introduced by the manufacturers showed that methods currently available could cut pollution by cars 50 per cent or more in 10 years. If improved exhaust control systems become available as expected the pollution will be cut considerably more.

Michael Ference Jr., Ford vice president for scientific research, said the electric vehicles now envisioned will not be suitable replacements for gasoline cars and trucks for most transportation purposes but "will have significant advantages for important local uses in urban areas."

But he said that within 10 years the industry fully expects "emissions from internal combustion engines will be reduced to such low level that they will no longer constitute a significant public problem."

B. W. Bogan, vice president for engineering, Chrysler, said virtually the same thing. He said nearly all passenger cars and trucks will be equipped with control systems by 1978.

He said the equipment can cut pollution 70 per cent per car. But cars will increase in number and Bogan estimated the over-all pollution reduction at 50 per cent. He added it is probable that in the near future the efficiency of pollution control equipment will be increased and pollution can be cut 80 per cent per car.

State Reviews Makeup of Draft Boards

LANSING (AP) — To prevent any possible complaints of racial discrimination, Michigan has increased efforts to make sure minority groups are represented on draft boards, an official said Thursday.

Col. W. J. Myers, deputy state Selective Service director, said Michigan had no particular problems in this area but "to offset any possible criticism, we are reviewing the makeup of the boards."

★ ★ ★

Michigan continually has tried to make draft boards as representative as possible of the communities in which they operate, Myers said.

But, he said, the report of the President's Commission on Selective Service added emphasis to this policy, and "we're adding more (minority representatives) in a shorter period than in the past."

PRESENT SETUP

About one-fifth of Michigan's 132 draft boards now have Negro representatives, he said.

Asked about reports that draft officials in 10 Michigan cities had been instructed to include qualified Negro members on local boards, Myers said there had been no directives from Washington to Lansing, or from Lansing to local boards on the subject.

★ ★ ★

He said Michigan Selective Service field officers, in their routine contacts with local boards, ask for nominations of qualified minority group representatives.

Board members must be at least 30 years old and residents of the county in which the board operates. Nominations go through the state office and final appointments are made by the president, Myers said.

★ ★

Most Michigan boards have five members, with an average age of 55, he said.

TV Producer Slain in Boston

BOSTON (UPI) — The bound, stabbed and badly beaten body of an award-winning television producer and director, Jack Landau, 42, was found last night in a pool of blood in his apartment.

Baling wire had been used to tie Landau's hands and feet. His hands were tied tightly behind his back and a scarf encircled his neck. He had been stabbed repeatedly.

Medical examiner Dr. Michael Luongo ordered an autopsy for today to determine the cause of death.

David Weiss, a business associate of Landau, found the body in the apartment. The victim was wearing a bathrobe and slippers and was lying face down in a bedroom.

★ ★

Weiss, who lives nearby, said the door to Landau's apartment was unlocked.

The apartment, in a building overlooking the Charles River, was ransacked.

Designers Working to Quiet Future Aircraft

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Mounting protests by millions of airport-area residents have begun to influence designers of tomorrow's aircraft.

Threats of reprisals range from nighttime curfews on jet flights to outright barring of jet aircraft from terminals in heavily populated districts.

* * *

To forestall such drastic action aircraft and airline officials have begun to make public promises that future planes—despite the fact that they will need greater power to haul far heavier payloads—will be less noisy than today's transports.

Can these pledges be fulfilled?

BUILT LIKE SIREN

One thing that makes the job difficult is that a jet engine is built like a siren. Both jets and sirens generate sound by chopping the air with blades.

The jet engine is even louder than a siren, however, because it also heats air—to produce greater thrust—and exhausts it into surrounding colder air, a process something like that which causes thunder.

* * *

Aircraft makers are studying both sources of noise: the engine and the exhaust.

Carl Haddon, a vice president of Lockheed Aircraft Corp., which is building a 700-passenger jet for the Air Force, believes the two-prong attack will succeed.

GOOD NEIGHBOR

"We know how to build quieter planes," he says, "and it is time to do it. We must make the airplane a good neighbor.

"Designers have come to realize that there is a competitive advantage in building quiet planes."

* * *

Haddon says that despite earlier fears that making an engine less noisy would reduce its performance, designers now are finding quieter engines are more efficient.

"Noise is wasted energy," he says. "Air can whistle through an engine, or it can be made to flow through quietly. Strangely enough, the quieter flow is more efficient because there is less turbulence."

CAN INCREASE THRUST

Some years ago designers learned they could increase jet engine thrust by putting a fan in front of the engine to ram a greater volume of air into the combustion chamber, where fuel is ignited to heat and expand the air. It is the rapid escape of this hot air to the rear that thrusts the plane forward.

* * *

One way of reducing jet engine noise — particularly that created by the exhaust — is to enlarge the front fan so that some of the air from its blades goes around the engine instead of through it. This outer sheath of cool air envelopes the hot gases exhausted from the engine, then mixes with them and cools them before they come in contact with the surrounding air. The result is a reduction in the thunderous noise trailing the plane.

* * *

These so-called "bypass fans" are in use on late model jets.

Reduction of noise from the engine itself is the goal of a $10.5-million research program by Douglas Aircraft and the Boeing Co. for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

TRAP WAVES

The screeching sound made by jets comes from the front of the engine, where air is forced into a narrow inlet at speeds close to that of sound.

Douglas engineers have found a way of absorbing some of this noise by coating the inlet with a layer of metal fibers. They act as baffles, trapping the sound waves.

* * *

Boeing is studying ways to change the shape of the inlet to reduce the screech.

These studies studies are not concerned with the sonic boom generated by faster-than-sound military craft and anticipated for the proposed supersonic transport.

* * *

Sonic booms are created when an object traveling faster than sound — 750 m.p.h. at sea level — compresses the air ahead of it into a shock wave, which trails behind the object and sounds like an explosion. This noise does not come from the engine. The day it will be a major nuisance is still some years away.

* * *

The immediate puzzle for aircraft designers is how to make jet engines tolerable to the public and at the same time provide extra power for the aerial buses and expanding population soon will require.

As Haddon says, "The new transports will be big and they must be less noisy. It is time to create the 'quiet giant'."

Alexander Hanway, son of the W. C. Hanways of Bloomfield Hills, (left) won the piano section of the Pontiac Symphony Concerto Contest, held recently and will play with the orchestra Tuesday evening at Pontiac Northern High School. Runner-up is Norman Berman of Southfield.

Pontiac Press Photos

Winner of the instrumentalist portion of the Pontiac Symphony Concerto Contest is Theodore Baskin, oboist from Oak Park. Kathleen Grulich, flutist from Royal Oak, was the runner-up. They topped a field of 17 contestants.

To Honor Four Young Artists at Pontiac Symphony Concert

Four young musicians will be honored during the Pontiac Symphony Orchestra concert Tuesday evening at Pontiac Northern High School. Two of them will perform with the orchestra.

Pianist Alexander Hanway of Bloomfield Hills will be the soloist for Schumann's "Piano Concerto in A Minor" and Theodore Baskin, Oak Park, will play Hayden's Oboe Concerto.

★ ★ ★

Norman Berman of Southfield, pianist, and Kathleen Grulich, Royal Oak, will receive $25 awards. First place winners will receive $50 each.

★ ★ ★

Judges for the preliminary contest were Roger Welton, Alonzo Seaboldt and William Brown, Instrumental. Piano judges were Mrs. James Rosenthal, Mrs. Roger Welton and Seaboldt.

The four finalists were judged by Felix Resnick, director of the Pontiac Symphony Orchestra, Edward Sauve of the Detroit Symphony and Mark Wessel, noted area pianist and teacher.

Alexander Hanway is a 16-year-old junior at Cranbrook School.

At the age of 14, he gave his first solo recital and is scheduled to perform for the Cranbrook Music Guild in April. But Tuesday's performance will be his first with a large orchestra.

Also 16, Ted Baskin has been playing the oboe since he was 10. He has performed in several music festivals.

Kathleen Grulich, 22, has played in bands and orchestras since she was in the fourth grade.

A graduate of Oakland University last December with a major in physics and math, Kathleen has also attended the Meadow Brook School of Music.

Norman Berman hopes to study composition at the New England Conservatory of Music. While at Cass Technical High School, he directed and choreographed several shows.

★ ★ ★

The orchestra will play Wagner's "Overture to Die Meistersinger"; the Rosenkavalier Waltzes by Strauss; "The Espana Rhapsody" by Chabrier and Alfven's Swedish Rhapsody.

Concert time is 8:30 p.m.

The Pontiac Society of Artists will have an exhibition in the foyer as it does each time the Symphony plays.

Fashion 'Touches' for These Teens

WASHINGTON (AP) — Leggy fashion models strutted. The audience of teen-agers clapped and sang. They let out breathless sighs and asked for more.

Mrs. Hubert H. Humphrey, wife of the vice president, was at the Fifth Avenue-like fashion show. So were three cabinet wives.

One hundred bouncy high school girls sat at round yellow tables sipping soft drinks.

★ ★ ★

They talked about baseball, school, hemlines and boys.

But they had to be hushed to hear the program — they couldn't see it because they're blind.

They heard a yellow dress described as "warm at the summer sun" and red called "zippy as pizza."

★ ★ ★

When a miniskirt was introduced as "a full hand above the knee," they howled. Even Mrs. Humphrey blushed.

"I've got to have one," said Charlotte Rehder, 17, of Baltimore. "But my mother will kill me if I wear it."

The girls own attire showed every evidence they are style conscious.

Most said their mothers helped them choose clothes, but that they made the final decisions based on texture and feel.

They had definite taste for short hemlines, big belts, fabrics such as corduroy, jersey, and knits.

None had attended a professional style show before, though they said they have amateur showings at their schools.

Laurinda Steele, a pretty 16-year-old from Chevy Chase, Md., sat next to Mrs. Humphrey and was so thrilled she couldn't even sit still.

★ ★ ★

"Mrs. Humphrey and a fashion show all at once," she said, "It's almost too much to take. I'm thrilled."

The show, arranged by Seventeen Magazine, included braille programs printed by the Library of Congress.

She Got More Than Expected

FLINT (UPI) — Mrs. Helen Spezia called in the police during a tiff with her husband Thursday and wound up on the wrong end of a free trip to Canada.

Police in answering the trouble call, discovered that Mrs. Spezia, 24, had entered the country illegally at Port Huron last year. She married Gene Spezia, 26, nine months later.

★ ★ ★

The U.S. Immigration office in Detroit said Mrs. Spezia agreed to return to Canada Thursday and she was taken across the border. The office said no charges would be filed.

Longer Hours for Women Are Approved

LANSING (AP) — A bill which would allow women to work more than 10 hours a day or 54 hours a week received unanimous Senate approval Wednesday.

A bill removes from state law a provision which says no male under 18 and no female may be employed for a period longer than an average of nine hours a day or 54 hours in any week, nor more than 10 hours in any one day.

★ ★ ★

As amended, the restrictions would apply only to persons of both sexes under age 18.

The bill's sponsor, Sen. Raymond Dzendzel, D-Detroit, said the measure would bring Michigan law into line with present federal statutes regarding equal rights for women.

WOMEN'S SECTION

Another Misconception

Always Woman's Fault

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am both infuriated and amused when I meet women who are divorced (and there are so many of them) and the first thing they ask me is, "Do you know of any eligible men?"

ABBY

If they want a man, why didn't they hang on to the one they had? I get around a lot and know a lot of people, and I will fix up a widow any day of the week with a man, but I refuse to get dates for divorcees.

I wouldn't give a dog to a person unless I was sure he'd treat it right. Sign me—

GETS AROUND

DEAR GETS: It's unfair to assume that a woman is a divorcee because she didn't treat her man right. (Mabe HE didn't treat HER right!) And you can't generalize about widows either.

How about the women who are widows because their poor husbands worked themselves to death trying to support them? Or drank themselves to death trying to escape them?

DEAR ABBY: My first cousin and I are in love and want to marry each other. Is it against the law for us to marry? Someone told me that if we did marry our children would be crazy. Is that true?

BIG QUESTION

DEAR BIG: It is against the law for first cousins to marry in most states. Consult a lawyer or a clergyman who is familiar with the laws of your state.

Children of such a marriage would not necessarily be "crazy" unless a hereditary-type insanity existed in the family and the children inherited it.

DEAR ABBY: When I hear women complaining because their husbands never tell them their love them, I know all too well how they feel.

My husband is a minister, and he is a wonderful man. He loves the Lord, the brethren of his church, and all mankind. He has the greatest compassion for the weakest sinner, yet he denies his family his love.

We have been married for 24 years and have a beautiful family, yet he had never shown me or the children by word or deed that he "loves" us. He has always said he would never let his family stand between him and his God. But, Abby, we are not competing with God, for we love God, too.

I have a confession to make. At times I have been tempted to turn to other men. I was saved only by the knowledge that it was my driving "need" for love—not "love" itself that tempted me.

With God's help I was able to overcome the temptation. God pity those who have neither this knowledge nor His help. Please print this.

Written Word Is Studied

A visual demonstration of the history of writing will be shown at the Oakland University Art Gallery, starting on Tuesday and continuing through to April 11.

The exhibition was designed and prepared by UNESCO and is being circulated throughout the United States and Canada under the auspices of the American Federation of Arts.

Fifty panels, approximately three feet by five feet, trace the evolution of written communication throughout the history of man in 500 black and white, and color reproductions.

There are examples of Far Eastern calligraphy, Near Eastern and South American script as well as examples of the evolution of European writing.

Gallery hours are 12:30 to 4:30 p.m. and 7 to 10 p.m. daily except Monday.

People Who Make Decisions Aren't Sure

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Women's Editor

I hate being confused. I like to get answers from the experts. When they disagree, it throws me.

Not one to follow slavishly all the dictates of fashion (I don't even own a pants suit), I do like to keep up with the trends in clothing and hair styles.

It's the latter that has me in a tizzy right now. In fact, I've decided I was born a generation too soon.

LONG, LANKY

One authority tells us that "With today's overwhelming fashion direction continuing to decree hairstyles that swing long and straight, or short, straight and wispy, this casual, straight look is becoming increasingly popular with countless women."

Even women who have naturally curly hair are using products that "relax" their curls.

Imagine!

All my life I've put up with baby—fine straight hair and spent hundreds of dollars to get it curled.

Think what an "In" person I'd be, if I were younger. All long straight hair would do for me now would be to make me look like an old hag.

But that's not really the confusing issue.

Another expert — equally famous — says that short curly hairdos are the latest fashion.

Which one am I to believe? Should I go to my hairdresser and ask to have my permanented locks relaxed?

Or should I cut the tresses shorter and continue on the winding course I've followed for years?

GREAT PRETENDER

Or should I buy a wig and evade the whole issue?

On the practical side, readers may be interested in hearing about a few of the new hair products.

Max Factor's curl relaxer is a cream to be combed into the hair. Then after a neutralizer and a conditioner, the curls are gone, but the hair still has body.

Another new product is a cream that stabilizes hair color and acts as a hair conditioner.

This one, developed by the Guardian Chemical Corp. prevents fading, streaking and dulling of bleached, toned and tinted hair.

The creamy product coats the hair and absorbs both the oxidizing power of the air and ultra-violet rays.

This product will be sold only through beauty shops.

It looks like a spring when you can take your choice. But the extreme bouffant hairdo is out.

New Ideas Lure Coed From Rules

ELIZABETH L. POST

The following letter has been chosen as the most interesting one for this week. Unfortunately the writer failed to sign her name. If she will make her identity known, I will be glad to send her a copy of Emily Post's Etiquette.

★ ★ ★

Dear Mrs. Post: My late husband and I sacrificed and saved so our daughter could go to college, but I am sorry because it ruined her.

I have never smoked or taken a drink. My daughter does both, thanks to college. College taught her to stop going to church and question the existence of God. Worst of all, it taught her to wonder if this is really the greatest country.

★ ★ ★

College is supposed to be America's best friend. With friends like that, we don't need enemies. It should be possible to educate girls without teaching them bad habits. — Veteran's Widow

★ ★ ★

Dear Veteran's Widow: It is unfortunately true that some young people, especially those who have led very sheltered lives, do go overboard when they suddenly find themselves in college.

This is why I believe pre-college teen-agers should be given a large degree of independence and the chance to make their own decisions.

★ ★ ★

Then, when they leave home, they are prepared to judge what is right and wrong and may have the strength and sense to resist Godless influences they are sure to run into.

★ ★ ★

Many of them experiment with the new ideas, accept them temporarily, and then find that their only appeal was novelty, and they revert to the sensible standards with which they arrived at college.

★ ★ ★

I suspect that you brought your daughter up well, but very strictly, and she is undergoing a reaction against restrictions. I hope for your sake, and hers, that she will come to see the value of the ways you have tried to teach her.

MARRIED BEFORE

Dear Mrs. Post: Would it be proper for me to have a formal wedding if the young man I intend to marry has been married before? I have never been married. — Jennifer

★ ★ ★

Dear Jennifer: Yes, the bride who has not been married before, even though her husband has, may have as formal a wedding as she wishes.

Cheese Dip Is Hot in Several Ways

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

If you are tired of the usual dip mixtures you serve, take a tip from Mrs. Robert Huber of Troy. The state senator's wife is enthusiastic about a fiery tasting dip.

Mrs. Huber enjoys traveling with her husband. An avid recipe collector, she obtained this one from a friend in Arkansas.

CHILI CONQUESO
(Cheese Dip)
By Mrs. Robert Huber

1½ pounds Old English cheese
1 can tomatoes and green chili peppers
1 cup canned tomatoes
1 teaspoon cumin seed
3 pods garlic
1 large onion
3 tablespoons butter or bacon drippings

If you can't get the tomatoes with chili peppers, use a No. 2 can of tomatoes and add one tablespoon Tabasco or other hot sauce.

Dice and try onion until soft in butter or drippings. Mash or grind the cumin seed and garlic. Add with rest of ingredients to onions. Cook slowly for 30 minutes.

Grate cheese and add. Serve in a chafing dish.

Ordinarily, fried tortillas are used for the dip, but potato chips or corn chips are all right.

When cold, the dip is good on crackers. Any remaining dip can be kept in the refrigerator and used as needed.

Why Grow Old?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

A letter from a reader stimulated this column. She writes:

"What can I do about blushing? I blush when someone compliments me or when someone teases me or for no good reason at all. It is so embarrassing!

* * *

I am very shy, but I don't really have a reason to be. I mean, I don't have lots of big warts on my nose or anything like that. I have a fairly good figure and am fairly good looking, but I always dread going to a party because I know I will blush a lot."

Many of us have this problem. Of course, the best thing to do if you can do it, would be to forget about blushing. The very fear of it will cause you to blush.

* * *

Nervousness triggers blushing just as it does excessive perspiration, and self-consciousness makes one nervous.

The best cure for shyness is to forget yourself and concentrate on others. I know that this is easier said than done, but it is a trick you can learn with a little serious practice. When you are with others, look at them and decide what their best features are. Listen to what they say and try to discover what their interests are.

SURPRISE PACKAGE

Every person is a surprise package with unknown depths and talents, unsuspected wit and accomplishments, dreams and ambitions. After some practice, when you deliberately turn your attention toward others, this will become a habit of thought, and you will do it naturally.

I predict that the blushes will then disappear and I know you will be popular because there is no one so popular as a good listener, because they are so rare.

By listening I do not mean to suggest that a person should sit, say nothing and daydream or plan their next vacation while others are talking. I am thinking of intelligent, interested, eager listening. This will be even more rewarding to you than to those to whom you listen.

* * *

I learned a long time ago that others are more interested in what they are wearing and what impression they are making than they are in what I am wearing and what impression I am making, and it was a great relief!

Did someone mention "no-cal"? Unfortunately not. These three members of Our Lady of the Lakes Rosary Altar Society are preparing the tempting cream puffs filled with ice cream and covered with rich chocolate for the annual card party and luncheon at noon on March 27 in the school. From left are Mrs. Ben Soave of Shawnee Lane, Mrs. John Gregor of Coventry Street and Mrs. Alfred Willockx of Big Lake Road, Springfield Township. Chairman is Mrs. Arthur LaVergne with cochairman, Mrs. Sid Centilli.

She Makes Apple Dolls to Illustrate

GREENSBURG, Ind. (AP) — Mrs. James R. Lawson doesn't use apples to keep the doctor away. She uses them, in the form of apple dolls, to illustrate the lectures she gives over the state on women in foreign countries and women of the Bible.

She makes the faces from peeled and carved apples, which are allowed to dry and then given two dips of clear shellac. Eyes are made from beads or plastic discs from soap bottles and copper packing wire is used for arms, legs and bodies. Then Mrs. Lawson adds ceramic hands and feet or carves wooden ones, and makes the costume. She even creates shoes from scraps of leather.

The engagement of Jacqueline L. Splan to Ted C. Leahy is announced by her parents, the Earl J. Splans of Carroll Lake Road, Commerce Township. His parents are the Jack Leahys of Van Gordon Street, White Lake Township. An October ceremony is planned.

Psychiactives on Increase

NEW YORK (UPI) — Use of mind and mood drugs is on the increase. According to the Medical and Pharmaceutical Information Bureau, Americans use billions of tranquilizers, stimulants, depressant and anti-depressant pills.

★ ★ ★

The bureau quotes Dr. Roger Russell, Indiana University psychologist and dean of advanced studies, as saying "it is estimated that by 1968, there will be more psychiactive drugs used than aspirin."

Polly's Pointers

Plain Warm Water

DEAR POLLY — The following Pointers were picked up from professionals. When the man from the window-cleaning company came to wash my windows, I asked what he used to do such an excellent job. "Just plain warm water," he said.

Also, I never have wax build-up in the corners of my kitchen linoleum. The woman who cleans for me flatly refuses to use an applicator for wax, nor will she pour liquid wax on the floor. She gets down on her hands and knees and uses a soft cloth on which she pours the wax.

This way, she explained, she is always in control of a thin, even coat. Thank you for your interesting, informative and helpful column.—MRS. T.

DEAR POLLY — My teacher friend will be the recipient of the Polly Dollar if you use the Pointer she gave me for packing books when getting ready to move.

Cut handles in each end of a cardboard carton, near the top edge, to get a better grip. The packed boxes are then much easier to lift and carry during the moving than lifting them "dead weight" from the floor. — MRS. M. D.

DEAR POLLY — Whenever there is a very light rain (a drizzly one is best), Dorothy should sprinkle powdered detergent on her grease spot and watch it disappear.

This has worked well on the greasy and oily spots left by the car on our cement driveway.—MRS. E. P.

Laundry Appeal Isn't Enough

In spite of their obvious appeal, machine-launderable, drip-dry, no-iron shirts are sometimes difficult to keep tucked in.

One antidote to their slippery surface is to apply three iron-on, washable patches to the outside of each shirt about two inches below the belt line — one patch in back, and one at each side seam.

KALAMAZOO (AP) — Mrs. Walter Kleinert of Birmingham was elected Wednesday as state regent for the Daughters of the American Revolution. She will serve a three-year term.

Garden Women View Movies

Slides were shown at the Thursday meeting of the Better Home and Garden Club in the First Federal Savings of Oakland Building. Subject for the program was "Planting Seeds to Make America Beautiful."

Mrs. William Campbell and Mrs. Vernon Harcourt presented the program.

Mrs. Ray Linabury, Mrs. Albert Barnett and Mrs. Harold Soper were elected to club membership.

Committee for the day consisted of Mesdames: Guy Tubbs, E. K. Vanderlind, Roy Haeusler and John Lyons.

Prices Will Be Going Up With Hems

EAST LANSING — Prices for clothes will probably go up this year, according to a clothing specialist at Michigan State University.

Bernetta Kahabka, specialist with MSU's Cooperative Extension Service, says high consumer and military demand and increasing costs of operation for manufacturers may mean higher prices.

"Shoe prices are expected to go up in the spring, although probably not as much as last spring, and not the same amount on all items," she said. "Prices of some suits for men are expected to increase this spring by as much as $5. By next fall the increases should be fairly widespread at a maximum five per cent increase."

The increased retail prices reflect higher wholesale prices of fabrics and fibers. Cotton prices went up five per cent, spun rayon three per cent and wool one per cent.

At the same time, filament synthetic yarns and fibers went down slightly.

The price of Dacron fibers commonly used in blends with cotton was reduced 14 per cent and the price of type 420 nylon, also used in cotton blends, was reduced 11 per cent.

DEMAND GROWS

Miss Kahabka noted that these prices were going down because manufacturers were planning to increase their production capacity, and that demand for the fibers was gorwing.

The specialist noted that production of nylon should increase more in the coming year than at any time in its 28-year history. She cited the number of production companies entering the field and the increased output of existing companies.

Some manufacturers expect nylon prices to drop as much as 10 per cent this year, and continue to drop, since patents on early fibers are running out.

St. Patrick's Day Buffet Dinner

A St. Patrick's Day buffet dinner for the Twelve O'Clock High Club was hosted in the home of the Victor P. Sutts of Hammond Lake.

Husbands of members were included in the Tuesday evening festivities.

Assisting with the planning were Mrs. Allan Denham, Mrs. Melvin Brim and Mrs. Robert O'Connor.

The Leslie Wares gave a travel talk entitled, "From Europe With Love," and shared pictures of their travel experiences in Europe.

A visit to the Detroit Institute of Arts with luncheon in the Continental Cafe is being planned.

WHAT'S IN A KNOT?

A great deal of beauty, really . . . when it's knot, upon knot, upon knot as is employed with skill and meticulous care in the making of a rare and beautiful Pakistani rug or carpet.

We have a wonderful selection of these rugs, hand-tied in that Asiatic nation. They are made in small villages, by successive generations of families which have been making them to these identical patterns for more than 500 years.

Their manufacture is tedious; even the smallest rug, 2'7" by 3'8" requiring as long as six months to complete. A "reader" sits on one side of a primitive loom and "calls" out the pattern while a partner on the opposite side painstakingly ties each individual knot - according to the design-as many as 800,000 separate knots to a square meter, even one million in the very finest of these rugs. Together those thousands, upon thousands, of minute knots are blended to create mosaics of luxurious color; and a large rug 9'by 12' (the largest we now have in stock) will take from 18 to 24 months to complete.

And each pattern is distinctively the product of a particular family: The shape of a diamond or the color in the center of an octagon serving as the signature of its maker.

There is much, much more for one to enjoy learning about these asiatic textiles which have been sought after since the ancient Grand Mogul of India returned from warring in Persia with the secret of their making. Truly, in their rich colors predominately greens, blues, red, and creams — and deep, soft piles, these rugs lend an expressive Oriental cast to any room when used as floor coverings or tapestries.

We invite your inspection of our varied stock, just arrived from Pakistan. Price? From $160 to $1,700.

Great Day for the Kids

WARREN, Mich. (UPI) — It was a great day for the second graders of Cromie Elementary School when they rode on the Grand Trunk Railway from Detroit to Royal Oak, Mich. Although many of the children had ridden in airplanes, 90 of the 100 students on the trip had never been on a train before. The outing was the culmination of a study unit on transportation.

T. E. Wiersemas Are Back Home

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore E. Wiersema, West Iroquois Rd. have returned from a three-months trip of 13 European and North African countries.

Christmas was spent in London with the Henry I. Baylis family (Barbara Wiersema).

* * *

Dr. Baylis is acting head opthalmologist with the Beni Messous Hospital, Alger, Algiers. The Wiersemas also spent some time in Algiers with them.

While in Frankfort, Germany, the Wiersemas visited several Pontiac Northern High School students: Barbara Nelson, Fairmount Street, a foreign student there this year, and Monica Knab, a former foreign exchange student at PNHS.

Survey Shows Lady Mechanics

NEW YORK (UPI) — Make way for another survey. This one proves that the housewife is ingenious in finding ways to save the family money.

The survey showed that nearly 20 per cent of all oil changes are made by the car owner in his own garage.

* * *

The firm reported — would you believe — that nearly one-third of these car buffs doing their own oil changing are women.

Opening lead—♦ Q

By OSWALD & JAMES JACOBY

Opening bids of three and four in a suit are called pre-emptive bids or pre-empts. They show a one-suit hand that will take a lot of tricks with that suit as trump but very few tricks against an opponent's trump.

JACOBY

In general, the bid also denotes a hand not worth an opening bid of one in high cards.

Everyone uses these bids. Many people abuse them. The way not to abuse them is to make sure that you and your partner are in complete agreement as to their meaning.

South's hand is typical for a nonvulnerable pre-emptive bid. He doesn't have the high cards for an opening bid of one. He doesn't expect to make three spades unless his partner can give him three tricks but if he can't make three spaces he is sure that his opponents can make a contract of their own.

South could have a slightly better hand. In general the three bid shows six to seven playing tricks when not vulnerable and seven when vulnerable. South only has six.

If North decides to bid South will go down one trick. If North passes, South will make his contract.

Left to themselves, East and West would bid and probably make four hearts. If West takes his life in his hands and does bid four hearts, a spade lead will probably defeat him. It will be up to North to continue by winning the first heart and playing ace and another club but that won't be too difficult.

Stranded Flier Forgets Detail

JACKSON (UPI) — Harry Parr, 27, of Detroit phoned State Police yesterday afternoon to tell them he had just landed his single-engine plane in a farmer's field. But he forgot to tell them where he was.

★ ★ ★

It took State Police and Calhoun County Sheriff's deputies nearly two hours to locate Parr, who finally showed up at Reynolds Airport after thumbing a ride into town. He was uninjured.

★ ★ ★

Parr said he had lost power in his single-engine Piper Commanche over Spring Arbor but was able to coast to a landing in a farmer's field during a sudden snowstorm. He phoned police from the farmer's house and then decided to hike into Jackson when they failed to show up — mainly because he forgot to tell them where he was.

Snowfall Total

IRONWOOD AP) — Snowfall for the season reached 246 inches Thursday, highest since Ironwood began keeping records in 1908. Snow banks are still six feet high along many roads.

CARD Sense

Q—The bidding has been:

West	North	East	South
	1 ♠	Pass	2 ♣
Pass	2 ♦	Pass	3 N.T.
Pass	4 ♦	Pass	?

You, South, hold:

♠ J 2 ♥ A K 6 5 ♦ 4 3 2 ♣ A Q 8 2

What do you do?

A—Bid four spades. Prefer a 10-trick to 11-trick game. If your partner has bid like this with only four spades get a new partner.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Instead of rebidding two diamonds, your partner bids two no-trump over your two clubs. What do you do now?

Answer Tomorrow

UFO Expert Due

HILLSDALE (AP) — Dr. J. Allen Hynek, Northwestern University astronomer who is scientific consultant on UFOs (unidentified flying objects) to the Air Force, appears as a guest lecturer at Hillsdale College next Wednesday, first anniversary of a reported series of UFO sightings in the Hillsdale area. Dr. Hynek said swamp gas may have caused sightings reported at the same time near Dexter, 45 miles northeast of Hillsdale.

Astrological Forecast

By SYDNEY OMARR
For Saturday

"The wise man controls his destiny . . . Astrology points the way."

ARIES (Mar. 21 - Apr. 19): If you demand immediate results, you may confuse issue. Best approach is subtle, indirect. Give others time to familiarize themselves with procedure. Patience pays off today.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 - May 20): Accent simplicity. Others impressed by sincerity, not extravagance. New starts, originality. Independence should be stressed. Be yourself. Others want YOU, not an imitation.

GEMINI (May 21 - June 20): Cycle continues high. Now is excellent time for new ventures. Put forth best efforts. Circumstances turn in your favor. Give care to appearance. You could meet THE person.

CANCER (June 21 - July 22): Gain possible if you keep open mind. Be receptive. Fine evening for attending theater or special lecture. Take mental notes. You learn lessons which can be successfully applied.

LEO (July 23 - Aug. 22): Emphasis points to fulfillment of desires. Greater harmony indicated. Pleasure received as result of friendship. Fine day if you APPRECIATE surroundings, opportunities.

VIRGO (Aug. 23 - Sept. 22): Day could feature travel, greater chance for meeting significant people. Important persons can be impressed. Present ideas in logical manner. You could help yourself to greater security.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 - Oct. 22): Good lunar aspect promotes chance to travel, write, advertise special product. Your mind is alert to opportunity. Follow through — express confidence. Others respond favorably.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 - Nov. 21): Face issues as they exist. Tonight you discover truth if perceptive. Some may try to cloud basic premise . . . but with persistence you gain major objective. Maintain steady pace.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 - Dec. 21): If some of efforts are blocked, look for answer close at hand. What you need IS available. But you must be observant, willing to accept truth. Act on past lessons.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 - Jan. 19): Better to complete rather than start projects. Opportunity exists to elevate prestige. Others today have tendency to look up to you. Know this — take advantage of circumstances.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 - Feb. 18): Money, budget, emphasized. Check for genuine bargains. Accent QUALITY. You could get a break in price if observant. Ask key questions . . . answers are forthcoming.

PISCES (Feb. 19 - Mar. 20): If you handle your end of responsibility . . . others extend hand of cooperation. Give and you also receive. Day to promote harmony at home. Take steps which enhance future.

★ ★ ★

IF SATURDAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY . . . this is a year which sees you fulfilling some of fondest desires. You have special knack for turning dreams into realities.

★ ★ ★

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Cycle high for GEMINI, CANCER, LEO. Special word to ARIES: Be versatile. And don't forget sense of humor!

Profit Taking Increases

Stock Market Rally Falters

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market had a difficult time continuing its latest rally as profit taking increased early this afternoon. Trading was active.

The market was up from the start on a statistical basis and remained with a plurality of gainers over losers, but the Dow Jones industrial average showed a minus sign in late morning, recovering by noon.

★ ★ ★

Big investment institutions which bought blue chips avidly yesterday were said to be unwilling to "chase" these stocks at higher prices.

At the same time, the sharp drop in industrial production and doubts as to whether lawmakers will endorse President Johnson's proposal for an income surtax tended to restrain enthusiasm, especially before a weekend.

STEELS MIXED

Steels were mixed and motors were lower while most major groups were thoroughly scrambled. Gains and losses running mostly from fractions to a point were scattered throughout the list.

The Associated Press industrial average at noon was up .5 at 323.3 with industrials up .4, rails up .7 and utilities unchanged.

★ ★ ★

Prices were irregularly higher on the American Stock Exchange. Gulf American Corp. was active and up about 2. Vernitron sank 3 points in active dealings. Computer Sciences rose about 2. Silicon Transistor lost about 2. Cubic Corp. and Saxon Paper rose about 2 each.

Probe Moves on Two Fronts

Battle in Court; Grand Jury Meets in Secret

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — The Kennedy assassination conspiracy probe moved on two fronts today — with legal infighting in the courtroom and secret sessions by the grand jury.

Defense lawyers for Clay L. Shaw accused the state of trying to bulldoze controversial testimony into the preliminary hearing.

★ ★ ★

The hearing, called by Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison in a rare proceeding, decides only whether Shaw must go to trial on a charge of conspiring to murder President John F. Kennedy.

However, the court record compiled here could automatically go into any subsequent trial. And the trend of testimony kept the defense in a lather of objections and argument.

SIGNS OF WEARINESS

Shaw, 54, a retired executive, showed signs of weariness as the hearing moved through its third day Thursday. His eyes were bloodshot, his suit rumpled.

"How would you like to swap places with me?" he asked a newsman, with a glum smile.

★ ★ ★

Free under $10,000 bond, Shaw was booked — but not formally charged — with conspiracy to murder the President. He says he knows nothing about any such plot.

The Orleans Parish (County) grand jury, which has occupied Garrison's full time over the past two days, indicted a puzzling figure from the Warren commission hearing Thursday — charging Dean A. Andrews Jr., 44, with perjury.

POSTS BOND

The hefty, jive-talking lawyer posted $1,000 bond Thursday night. He said he had no idea what led to the charge. He testified before the grand jury last week and again Thursday.

"They must think I have some key that turns the lock and unlocks everything," he said, "but I don't even know where the lock is."

★ ★ ★

Andrews, who said he had advised Lee Harvey Oswald on some minor legal matters in 1963, told the Warren commission that a man he knew as "Clay Bertrand" telephoned him after the assassination and asked him to represent Oswald in Dallas.

The FBI was never able to find a "Clay Bertrand" and Andrews said he couldn't either.

Garrison contends that Shaw used Bertrand as an alias.

Clarkston Teen Slated for Exam in Auto Case

A 17-year-old Clarkston youth is slated to appear before Independence Township Justice William H. Stamp for preliminary examination at 1:30 p.m. Thursday on a charge of unlawfully driving away an automobile.

Standing mute at his arraignment yesterday before Stamp was James Bond of 10260 Allen.

★ ★ ★

Bond and two juvenile companions are accused of stealing two automobiles owned by Independence Township residents Wednesday night.

★ ★ ★

They were captured by Michigan State Police troopers Ronald A. Shulters and David C. Suminski of the Pontiac post early yesterday morning at the Payless Service Station, 6594 Dixie, Independence Township.

FIRST OF SERIES — Technician at left demonstrates to newsmen the lifelike, life-size dummy called "Sim One," first of a progressively complex series of simulators planned to train doctors and aides in health services ranging from first aid to fractures.

Chapter in Science Fiction Unfolding for U.S. Medicine

AZUSA, Calif. (AP) — The age of the android has dawned.

Androids are automatons fashioned in human form—long forecast in science fiction.

Man's progress toward duplicating himself took a spectacular step forward this week with a demonstration in an electronics laboratory of a lifelike, life-size dummy that breathes, has a heartbeat and pulse, blinks its eyes, opens its jaws to disclose teeth, tongue and vocal cords, and even responds to drugs the way a man would.

The 6-foot-2, 195-pound android was created in skin-colored, skin-textured plastic to speed up the teaching of anesthesiology and thus help relieve a shortage of physicians threatening to become critical as the population expands.

'SIM ONE'

The dummy has been dubbed "Sim One," meaning it is the first of a progressively complex series of simulators planned to train doctors and aides in health services ranging from first aid to fractures.

Sim One is instrumented only in head and chest but one of its creators, Dr. Stephen Abrahamson of the University of California School of Medicine, predicts a fully functional "whole unconscious form" in seven years.

"The future is unlimited," Abrahamson said at a news briefing at the Aerojet-General Corp. laboratory where Sim One was created. "The second generation of Sims will be able to bleed and sweat and will be shaped to simulate different ages of each sex. The third generation, which we hope to evolve within several years, will be even better than cadavers for training medical students."

Will they be able to walk and talk?

COULD BE DONE

"They could—that would be a comparatively simple task," said Don Carter of Sierra Engineering Co., which made Sim One and also makes Sierra Sam and Sierra Sue, dummies used in auto and plane crash research.

"But there is no requirement so far for an ambulatory patient. They have talked about asking us to build in a groan, and the second generation will shed tears and bleed at the mouth if the student is too rough.

★ ★ ★

"And we're not through with Sim One yet. He'll be able to frown and wrinkle his forehead to simulate patient discomfort."

Another of Sim One's creators, Dr. J. S. Denson of USC, demonstrated the dummy's prime use—training anesthesiologists to slip a tube down the throat into the trachea, or windpipe, without damaging delicate tissues. This procedure, he said, is used in 90 per cent of major surgery and usually takes three to four months to master.

FAST LEARNER

"By constant practice with Sim One," he said, "a young resident could learn the procedure in one or two days."

The three-year project to build Sim One cost $272,130 under a grant from the U.S. Office of Education. The manikin accounted for $100,000 of this. The rest went into research to hook it up with a computer which calculates its responses to drugs injected by catheter and to mixed anesthetic gases forced into its plastic bronchial tubes.

★ ★ ★

Abrahamson said that eventually a package consisting of a manikin and a small computer could be produced for about $150,000, for use in hospitals and medical schools.

Fire Damages Roof of Store

A fire at the Country Music Shoppe at the M59 Plaza in Waterford Township this morning caused an estimated $250 damage to the store's roof.

Township firemen, who responded to the alarm at 9:42 a.m., said the fire was caused by faulty electrical wiring.

The M59 Plaza is located on M59 near Williams Lake Road.

Business Notes

Jacques Carpenter has been appointed custom fabricated products manager in the Vickers Incorporated Machinery Division of Sperry Rand Corp.

CARPENTER

Carpenter of 6549 Alden, West Bloomfield Township, was formerly central regional sales manager in the Detroit industrial sales office.

Three area persons were recently elected to the Oakland County Chapter of the National Association of Accountants.

They are Howard V. Rummell, an accounting supervisor at Oakland County Drain Commission and Department of Public Works; Catherine R. Barker, a junior accountant at Lohff and Noble CPA firm; and Albert H. Flynn, owner of Flynn Accounting Service.

News in Brief

A tape recorder valued at $270 was stolen from the office of the Oakland County Commission on Economic Opportunity, 1 Lafayette, Pontiac police were told yesterday. Investigators said there was no sign of forcible entry to the building.

U.S. Jet Aims at Power Plant

New N. Viet Facility Target of Lone Plane

SAIGON (AP) — A lone Navy jet bomber dodged a hail of gunfire and four guided missiles Thursday night to attack North Vietnam's newest major power plant only 20 miles from Hanoi.

Intelligence officers said the plant, at Bac Giang, reportedly generates 9 per cent of North Vietnam's power and appears to be the main new unit in the Hanoi area's power system.

★ ★ ★

The pilot, Cmdr. Ronald J. Hays, 39, of Olla, La., dropped 13,000 pounds of bombs. But he said he could not assess the damage because it was too dark and "too many things were happening."

It was the fourth attack on a major element of North Vietnam's industry within a week. Last Friday and Saturday U.S. Air Force planes bombed the Communist regime's only steel-fabricating plant — its largest heavy industry installation — at Thai Nguyen, 38 miles north of Hanoi, and on Sunday an electric power center was hit at Viet Tri, 32 miles from Hanoi.

CLOUDY WEATHER

Hays' all-weather Intruder from the carrier Kitty Hawk zigzagged through darkness and cloudy weather until just before the bomb run. The pilot cut in his radar-controlled guidance system for the final run through antiaircraft fire.

Dodging off the target after unloading his 13 bombs, Hays threw his supersonic jet into violent twists to escape four Soviet-built surface to air missiles thrown up at him. One exploded close below the plane.

★ ★ ★

"I've had enough excitement for a lifetime," said Hays as he and his bombardier-navigator, Lt. Ted Been of Houghton, Mich., returned to the flight deck of the Kitty Hawk.

The power plant raid was one of 78 missions flown over the North Thursday despite heavy weather. Other strikes concentrated on roads, railroads, bridges, barges and other supply facilities.

★ ★ ★

There was also bitter ground fighting Thursday. A platoon of about 45 U.S. Marines, operating from an exposed camp near the demilitarized zone, was badly mauled by North Vietnamese regulars. The Marines lost 20 dead and 62 wounded in this and other fights.

Green With Envy? You're Not Irish

(EDITOR'S NOTE — Arm in arm with a leprechaun, Hal Boyle headed for the St. Patrick's Day parade early this morning, leaving behind in his typewriter a fresh sprig of shamrock and the following message, which may have a similar ring to some.)

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—What is it to be Irish?

On 364 days of the year being Irish isn't visibly different from being Scotch, French, Italian, Jewish, Serbian, Dutch, or-y e-seven English.

BOYLE

* * *

The Irishman pays his bills, complians against his taxes, does his work, and listens to his wife like the man of any other race.

But on this one day of the year — holy St. Patrick's Day — the Irishman becomes an Irishman.

FOOT TALLER

And on this day you have to be Irish to know what it is to be Irish.

The outer signs, of course, can be seen by all. The Irishman overnight grows a foot taller and stalks the earth a giant. All traffic lights turn green before him, and if they don't he sees red.

* * *

But this air of majesty is only token evidence of interior change. The men of other races who envy the Irishman his bearing of St. Patrick's Day would envy him far more if they could look inside the Irishman's soul.

What is it to be Irish?

How can you put the wonder of it into words? If a psychiatrist stretched himself out on his own warm couch after his last customer had gone home, and he dreamed of the man he himself would most like to be — well, he might be perfect, but he'd still be only half an Irishman on St. Patrick's Day.

GIFT TO TONGUES

hat is it to be Irish?

It is to have an angel in your mouth, turning your prose to poetry. It is to have the gift of tongues, to know the language of all living things. Does an Irishman pause and turn an ear to a tree? It is because on this day he wants to hear what one sleepy bud says to another as it opens its pale green hands to the warm sun of spring.

* * *

What is it to be Irish?

Oh, on this day it is music. Not just the cornet in the parading high school band, but the deep, deep music of living, the low, sad rhythms of eternity. The Irishman hears the high song of the turning spheres, the dim lullaby of the worm in its cocoon. All the world is in tune, and he is in step with that tune, the tune that only he can hear.

What is it to be Irish?

It is to live the whole history of his race between a dawn and a dawn — the long wrongs, the bird-swift joys, the endless hurt of his ancestors since the morning of time in a forgotten forest, the knock at his heart that is part of his religion.

Diggers Spurn, Burn Money

Special Breed of Hip Crowd Finds SF Home

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A man touches a match to a $10 bill and watches it burn with no regrets.

"We don't always burn money," he says. "Sometimes we eat it."

He is a Digger, a special breed of the hip crowd dedicated to the proposition that money is an unnecessary evil.

The Diggers also frown on working at conventional jobs, which they consider to be a bore and dehumanizing. Their home is that area of San Francisco known as Haight-Ashbury and populated by thousands of hippies whose tastes run to weird dress, LSD and marijuana.

* * *

"Not wanting money — wanting to be poor — and giving everything away blows everybody's mind," explains a Digger.

FREE MEALS

The giving takes the form of free hot meals served daily to all comers in Golden Gate Park, edging on the city's fast-changing Haight - Ashbury district, which seems to have become the hippies' national capital.

If you can't have a place to stay, the Diggers will take you to mattresses scattered on floors of their low-rent flats in the district's Victorian homes.

Their only rule is "You can't push your thing on anybody else."

* * *

The Diggers, who materialized after the San Francisco race riots, are predicting the Haight-Ashbury will be overwhelmed this summer by up to 50,000 jobless sympathizers.

Their expectation stems from the district's growing fame, enough to attract sight-seeing buses and cause hopeless traffic jams.

This is what the boss drinks.

Pick County Team

PNH Matman Chosen

Five performers from Pontiac Northern dominate what stacks up as the finest All-Oakland County Wrestling Team ever produced.

Northern's dominance was not unexpected, since the Huskies went through the season unbeaten and claimed the state high school championship.

Along with placing five grapplers on the 14-man squad, the Huskies also produced the county's top coach and the Outstanding Wrestler.

Earning the coaching award was PNH's Bill Willson, a wrestling coach for the past 11 years, the first two at Pontiac Central and the remainder at Northern Under Willson's guidance the Huskies climbed past all opposition, reaching the summit a week back by claiming the state Class A mat crown. It was the school's first state athletic championship.

CASSELL

WON TITLE

And amoung the youngsters who prospered under Willson's care is senior cocaptain Frank Lafferty, who captured the state 180-pound title and earned the Pontiac Press Outstanding Wrestler Award for 1966-67.

* * *

Members of the Press' wrestling team were selected by Oakland County mat coaches.

Second to Lafferty in the balloting for the Outstanding Award was Farmington's Jay Cassell, a junior, who took the state 120-pound crown.

Along with Rafferty on the squad from PNH are juniors Bill Green (112), Al Morris (154) and Ken Corr (165), and senior cocaptain Tom Kell (103).

* * *

The squad includes six juniors, one sophomore and seven seniors. There were ties in two weight classes — 112 and heavyweight.

The lone sophomore on the squad is Royal Oak Dondero's Tom Vassalo, who posted a 27-0-0 record this season in the 95-pound division.

The other juniors on the team are Pontiac Central's Charles Mason who shared the heavyweight position with Madison's Bill Pietrosky, and Mark Davids (112) of Hazel Park.

* * *

Claiming the other spots on the team were Brent Fleury (127) of Southfield, Rick Hyde, (127) of Southfield, Rick Hyde (133) of Walled Lake, Bryan Hepburn (138) of Waterford Kettering and Denis Fitzgerald (145) of Walled Lake.

TOP WRESTLER — Senior Frank Lafferty, who helped Pontiac Northern claim the state wrestling championship this year, has been named the winner of the 1966-67 Outstanding Wrestler Award, an honor given each year by The Pontiac Press to the top performer in Oakland County.

COUNTY'S BEST—The vote of Oakland County swim coaches was unanimous in picking Read McCarty of Royal Oak Kimball as the Outstanding High School Swimmer of Oakland County during the 1966-67 season. He receives The Pontiac Press award for the honor.

Swim Stars Selected

McCarty Top Tanker

The 1966-67 All Oakland County swimming team, representing the 10 county high schools which sponsor the varsity sport, may not be as star-studded as some of the teams of the past.

However, except for a couple of events, there was almost solid balloting by the swimming coaches for the specialists.

Read McCarty, the all-around versatile swimmer at Royal Oak Kimball, was a unanimous choice for the Outstanding Swimming Award in Oakland County as presented by The Pontiac Press.

Last year, another Kimball star, Doug Webster, now at Indiana University was a solid choice for the award, and he received the honor in two successive years.

Former Seaholm swimmer, Bob Wolf, was a previous two-time winner.

Southfield's Mike Burt, who surprised favored 400-yard freestylers in the state meet last weekend with his time of 4:00.6, was the other solid selection for all-county honors.

DIVING CHOICE

Hazel Park dominated the diving selections with mid-year graduate, Rod O'Strand, picked first and teammate, Keith Gill, who was third in the state meet in second spot.

Madison, the only class B school in the county with swimming as a varsity sport, placed diver Dave Sharum in the voting, however, he did not out-ballot the Hazel Park board men.

* * *

Seaholm and Kimball, as usual, dominated the county selections.

McCarty received votes for almost every position except the breaststroke, however, he was placed in the 200 freestyle, the event in which he went 1:50.1 as state champion.

Closest race for honors took place in the 100 breaststroke between Seaholm's Dave Crosby and Pontiac Northern's Carl Hiller. Crosby was voted the edge in view of his runner-up position in the state meet.

* * *

Hiller then got the nod in the 200 individual medley even though Kimball's Dick Reff finished 4th in the state. Larry Smith of Ferndale was also voted high in this event.

Steve Driver, one of the Groves' twins on the swim team, and brother to former star Lee Driver, is considered to be one of the top sophomore prospects for the 100-yard breaststroke with two more years of eligibility remaining.

Underclassmen Pace County's Ski Teams

Skiing continues to be a sport for the "young."

Underclassmen more than ever are prominent on the All County Prep Ski Team selected by the coaches in the Mount Holly League.

Three seniors and three juniors are on the boys' first team while only one senior, four juniors and a sophomore comprise the girls' first squad.

* * *

Second team selections include only one senior each on the boys' and girls' teams.

For the girls there has been a complete turnabout from last season when five seniors and a sophomore, Betsy Shuler of West Bloomfield, filled the honor roster.

Of the boys, although there were only two seniors gaining last year's top ranking, only two repeaters — Tom Carter of West Bloomfield and Gary Sayers of Southfield — are listed.

REPEATS

Carter, a junior, retained his rating as the county's top male prep skier although fast-developing junior "Butch" Newton of Waterford did beat him in the annual league meet.

Carter and Marlen Jarosz, Bloomfield Hills' junior who captains the girls' honor team, dominated their classes during the over-all campaign and led their schools to state regional titles.

Joining Miss Jarosz on the first team are senior Penny Fulton of Walled Lake, juniors Cathy Benson and Julie Crary of Waterford plus Miss Shuler, and sophomore Karen Fast of Bloomfield Hills.

* * *

Sayers, Hills' Dick Kraatz (an All-County football halfback) and Don Willis of Rochester are the seniors on the boys' first team, and West Bloomfield's Tim Brennan joins Carter and Newton as the outstanding juniors.

Coaches Al Cuthrell of Waterford and Nancy Chenault of Hills earned their associates' nods as the top mentors.

The Mt. Holly League had its largest participation this winter with nearly 300 boys and girls competing. The league grew to 18 teams and indications are there will be a limit placed on the number of new teams.

Rochester's Cliff Lilly has been elected to succeed outgoing loop president Jim Mills of Southfield.

Pontiac Churchmen Wear Hoop Diadem

Pontiac rolled to an easy 85-54 victory over Auburn Heights last night to wrap up the Free Methodist Church basketball championship.

The trimph gave the winners an over-all record of 11-1 for the season.

Leading the attack for the winers was Charles Seets with 30 points.

In the consolation game, Jeff Harnick flipped in 24 markers and teammate Les Dietzman added 18 to lead Drayton Heights to a 58-42 victory.

Clinton Jones Inks Big Pact

ST. PAUL - MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Clint Jones, Michigan State's all-America halfback, is in the fold of the Minnesota Vikings for an estimated $40,000 bonus and $20,000 first-year-salary.

The signing took place Thursday night at the hospital bedside of Jim Finks, general manager of the National Football League club, who is awaiting gall bladder surgery.

The Vikings picked Jones in the first round of the combined NFL-American League draft earlier this week.

Vikings coach Bud Grant said after the signing, "Clinton has the capability of turning a six-yard run into a 80 yard gain. He is one of those great natural runners who is a threat every time he touches the football."

The speedy, durable halfback gained 113 yards in the 1966 Rose Bowl game. He's been clocked at 9.7 in the 100 - yard dash.

Ewen in Class D Only No. 1 Quintet

DETROIT (AP) — Twelve of the top 40 teams in the final Associated Press high school basketball poll were still in the thick of the fight going into tonight's semifinals of the Michigan High School Basketball tournament.

Ewen, No. 1 in Class D, meets Adrian Catholic, No. 4, and Flint St. Matthew, rated second, takes on unrated Freesoil.

Fourth-rated Detroit Pershing faces Detroit Catholic Central, No. 8, in one Class A semifinal and seventh-ranked Flint Central takes on unranked Kalamazoo Central, which knocked off third-rated Muskegon Heights in the regionals.

* * *

Defending Class B, champion Grand Rapids East Christian, No. 4, which knocked off No. 1 ranked South Haven Wednesday in the quaterfinals, meets sixth-ranked Willow Run. Lansing O'Rafferty, No. 5, is pitted against Menominee in the other Class B semifinal.

Three unbeaten Class C powers, Leslie, Mount Pleasant Sacred Heart and Wakefield, ranked second, third and fourth, respectively all made it to the semifinals.

Cage Teams, Army of Fans in Lansing

By BILL HALLS

LANSING (AP)—The 16 best schoolboy basketball teams in Michigan, backed by an army of 40,000 fans, converged on the state capital today for the final act of the 42nd annual State High School tournament.

★ ★ ★

The 16 semifinalists will spend the next two days vying for championships in four classes after hacking their way through an original field of 750 teams.

Grand Rapids East Christian, the only defending champion still in the running, faces Willow Run in one Class B semifinal with upstart Menominee up against the St. Patrick's Day luck of Lansing O'Rafferty in the other game.

CLASS A TEAMS

The Class A doubleheader at Jenison Fieldhouse matches 6-foot-8 Spencer Hawood and his Pershing Doughboys, bidding for the Detroit City League's first title since Detroit Northern won in 1930, against Detroit Catholic Central which won its only championship in 1961.

In the other Class A game, Kalamazoo Central, a finalist nine times with five championships to its credit, faces newcomer Flint Central, looking for its first title.

★ ★ ★

In Class C, Wakefield's Cardinals, semifinalists in 1965, tangle with Mount Pleasant Sacred Heart, boasting a starting five averaging 6-foot-4, and little Detroit All Saints, runnerup in 1953, meets unbeaten Leslie.

The Cardinals had the longest ride, 516 miles from the Wisconsin border, to the tournament. Their big scorer, Al Inkala, still remembers his sophomore year when Wakefield was bumped in the semifinals by Muskegon Christian in 1965.

★ ★ ★

Adrian Catholic's small but frantic rebounders meet Ewen, the No. 1 team in the final Associated Press poll, in one semifinal Class D game, Flint St. matthew is pitted against tiny Freesoil in the other match.

St. Matthew won the title in 1962 and Freesoil was runnerup in 1961 but neither Adrian Catholic nor Ewen have been to Lansing before.

CLASS A

Det. Catholic Central (19-1) vs. Det. Pershing (19-1), Jenison Fieldhouse, 7 p.m.

MSU's Irishman 'Drafts' Smith

Veteran Coach Leaves County

Walled Lake Loses Dave to 'Duffy'

DAVE SMITH

There's nothing like a bit of optimism on St. Patrick's Day to decorate Michigan State's football offices where that whimsical Irishman "Duffy" Daugherty has been looking for Shamrocks since the pros drafted the likes of Jones, Webster, Washington and Smith . . .

. . . Smith.

Now there's a name without any blarney (or Irish) attached to it.

A fellow named "Bubba" was the best lineman in the land last fall. He wore MSU green. Now comes another Smith, Dave this time, who just happens to be the most successful prep football coach in Oakland County.

"Duffy" loses an outstanding player and gains a top-notch coach.

Walled Lake's Dave Smith is moving to the East Lansing campus where he will direct the Spartans' scouting team. This is the outfit that takes a beating while playing the role of the upcoming opponent almost every afternoon during the fall workouts.

Smith, who practically stepped from the MSU campus into the Walled Lake post, was a success from the start. He was named Oakland County's Coach-of-the-Year in 1956 — his first year as grid boss of the Vikings.

★ ★ ★

In 11 seasons, Walled Lake posted a 76-15-1 record and won or shared nine Inter-Lakes League championships.

Although he always tempered his preseason outlooks with a few "ifs," Smith went into each campaign giving the impression he expected the Vikings to be at or near the top. This kind of optimism rubbed off at Walled Lake.

It may bolster the forlorn "Duffy," too.

ALL-AMERICA

Two of his players, John Walker in 1956 and Roger Ruminski in 1965, were winners of the Thom-McAn Trophy as the outstanding prep gridders in the county.

Ruminski was a sophomore regular at tackle on MSU's Big Ten championship team last fall. John Van Sicklen, who played under Smith at Walled Lake, won All-America honors as a tackle at Iowa State in 1964.

The 36-year-old Smith graduated from Charlevoix and spent 46 months in the Army. He won a frosh football letter at MSU, but failed to letter while an end on the Spartans' varsity during the 1952-53-54 seasons.

He spent 1955 as an assistant coach at East Lansing before moving into the head job at Walled Lake. He, also, coached the ski team at Walled Lake.

Jerry Lumpe Makes Bid for Tiger Job

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — Jerry Lumpe, fighting for survival with the Detroit Tigers, is talking with his bat again.

The veteran infielder drove in three runs with two hits as Detroit ended a three-game losing streak Thursday with a 6-3 decision over the Cincinnati Reds. He was inserted into the lineup at first base in place of the injured Norm Cash.

"I'll play anywhere when I'm fighting for my life," grinned the 33-year-old infielder after game. "First base isn't the answer for me. There won't be any room there when Norm Cash gets back in the lineup.

"But things are awfully crowded around second base."

Manager Mayo Smith moved shortstop Dick McAuliffe to second this year, bumping Lumpe. Dick Tracewski, Jake Wood and rookie Tom Matchick also have their eyes on the job. Smith is expected to cut one of them before the season starts in April.

Lumpe drove in Detroit's first run with a third-inning single, then slammed a double in the Tigers four-run, fourth-inning rally, to knock in two more.

The Tigers added a run in the seventh to round out the scoring.

The Reds touched rookie Pat Dobson for two runs in the sixth on Tommy Hlem's bases-loaded single and scored their final run in the eighth when Deron Johnson homered off Hank Aguirre.

Cage Playoffs Continue

Booth Homes has a chance to atone for last March's disappointing finish after eliminating Perry Drugs last night, 68-60, in the city men's American League recreation cage playoffs.

The Booth quintet moves into the city championship best-of-three series now against the regular-season leader, the Amigo Celts, beginning Monday at Kennedy Junior High School.

Last winter the Booth builders demolished its opposition during the regular season, then were surprised in the playoffs.

Last night, Booth's well-balanced attack built a 52-42 lead in the first three periods and held off the drugmen.

Mike Pope (16 points), Gary Wilcoff (14), Scott Maentz (13) and Chuck Phillips (12) all were in double figures for the winners.

OTHER GAMES

The National and International leagues completed their semifinal eliminations Thursday, also.

The Amigos' Club ousted McDonald's Drive-In, 73-47, with a 27-7 last-quarter spurt plus Bob Rebhan's 24 points; and the Packers topped the Unbeatables, 70-54, as Ken Carpenter hit 27 in NL action.

Unbeaten Coulacos Insurance nipped local 596, 50-46, and Country Chef held off Orchard Lanes despite Nick Neira's 38 points for a 73-68 victory in IL activity.

ATLANTA (AP) — The Atlanta Falcons announced Thursday that Tom Braatz has joined the club as a full-time assistant to director of player personnel Gene Cronin.

Marichal Lone Holdout

Phillies Sign Richie Allen

By The Associated Press

And then there was one.

Richie Allen left the automobile business and Juan Marichal with one swift signature Thursday, becoming what Philadelphia General Manager John Quinn called "one of the highest paid four-year players in the game."

Allen's signing left San Francisco's Marichal as the only holdout.

Allen, who was spending spring training selling cars in Philadelphia while holding out for $100,000, probably reached $75,000. He made $40,000 last year when he hit .317, drove in 110 runs and belted 40 home runs.

Marichal, the Giants' ace right-hander, and Horace Stoneham, president of the Giants, apparently have reached an impasse in negotiations.

Marichal is still at home in the Dominican Republic, thinking in terms of six figures while the Giants are standing by their $90,000 offer.

Another $100,000 athlete, Baltimore's Frank Robinson, expects to test his right knee for the first time under game conditions tonight against the New York Mets.

Robinson, who underwent a cartilage operation during the winter, went through a stiff sliding and running workout Thursday with no ill effects.

Robinson feels ready to go, and the New York Mets left no question that they're fully prepared. The Mets dropped one of their unbelievable games, 23-18 to Boston Thursday.

In other exhibitions, Philadelphia edged St. Louis 3-2, Detroit dropped Cincinnati 6-3, Atlanta topped the New York Yankees 6-4 in 16 innings, Cleveland whipped San Francisco 6-2, the Chicago Cubs downed California 7-1, the Chicago White Sox defeated Houston 11-3 Pittsburgh blanked Baltimore 6-0 and Kansas City beat Minnesota 5-2.

The Mets took a five-run lead into the final inning against the Red Sox and came out of it five runs behind.

"That's the wildest thing I've ever been in," said Wes Westrum, who is only starting his second season of managing the Mets.

Larry Jackson pitched five scoreless innings as the Phillies edged the Cardinals. Tony Taylor drove in two first inning runs with a single.

Singles by Hank Aaron and Joe Torre and a sacrifice fly by Felipe Alou drove in three runs in the 16th inning as the Braves dumped the Yankees. New York made seven errors in the marathon.

Unranked Cowboys Tangle With Uclans

By The Associated Press

Hardly anyone expected Wyoming to qualify for the NCAA post-season championship tournament when the college basketball season opened last December.

Yet the Cowboys from Laramie did and tonight they have the chance to do what no other team has done, beat UCLA and its Player of the Year, Lew Alcindor.

The Cowboys, with the poorest record of any team in the NCAA tourney, 15-12, but with a seven-game winning streak, go against the team with the best, 26-0, in the semifinals of the Far West Regional at Corvallis, Ore.

"Of course, UCLA is a heavy favorite," said Bill Strannigan, the Wyoming coach. "But we're not going in with a defeatist attitude. I don't know yet how we'll try to stop Alcindor, but offensively we'll shuffle the same as we have the last few weeks."

* * *

The NCAA, with eight games at four regional sites, moves into the national spotlight following the triumphs of Southern Illinois and Marquette in the semifinals of the NIT Thursday night.

CAPACITY CROWD

A capacity turnout of 18,499 at New York's Madison Square Garden saw Southern Illinois come from 11 points back to beat Rutgers 79-70 after Marquette had whipped Marshall 83-78.

Southern Illinois, now 23-2 with an 18-game winning streak, battles Marquette, 21-8, in the nationally televised final game Saturday afternoon.

Winston-Salem State from North Carolina surprised Kentucky Wesleyan 82-73 and Southwest Missouri routed Illinois State 93-76 in the semifinals of the NCAA small college tournament at Evansville, Ind. Winston-Salem, 30-1, and Southwest Missouri, 23-4, play tonight for the championship.

Oklahoma Baptist, the defending champion, St. Benedict's, Morris Harvey and Central Washington won in the NAIA quarter-finals at Kansas City to round out Thursday's action.

Oklahoma Baptist edged Southwestern Louisiana 66-65, St. Benedict's beat St. Mary's, Tex., 88-73, Morris Harvey downed Tennessee Wesleyan 75-58 and Central Washington squeaked by Eastern New Mexico 60-58.

St. Benedict's, 25-2, meets Morris Harvey, 28-3, and Oklahoma Baptist, 24-6, battles Central Washington, 26-3, in the NAIA semifinals tonight.

Playoff Hopes Looking Bleak for Piston '5'

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Pistons' slim playoff hopes look bleak today in the wake of a 132-109 shellacking by the Boston Celtics.

The loss Thursday night left Detroit a full game back of Chicago in the battle for the fourth and final playoff spot in the Western Division of the National Basketball Association.

Each team has two games to play, so Detroit would have to win both of its games while hoping for a Chicago split to gain at least a tie and force a playoff.

In other NBA games, Cincinnati beat St. Louis 114-111 while San Francisco whipped Philadelphia 145-131.

Detroit, playing without Dave DeBusschere, out with an injured knee, fell behind 32-22 in the first quarter and never caught up.

Former Piston Baily Howell sparked the Celtics with 37 points and teammate John Havlicek added 25.

Cornell Reaches NCAA Title Tilt With 1-0 Victory

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP) — Cornell's Big Red hockey squad goes into the National Collegiate Athletic Association hockey championship game Saturday night against the winner of tonight's Boston University-Michigan State game.

Defenseman Walt Stankowski scored the only goal of the game as Cornell beat North Dakota 1-0 in a semifinal round Thursday night.

Stankowski picked up a pass from Bob McGuinn as he left the penalty box in the first period. The Willodale, Ont., junior skated between the North Dakota defense to slam in a 15-footer.

The victory was Cornell's 26th in 28 starts. North Dakota, Western Collegiate Hockey Association champion, is 19-9.

Dan Sikes One Up at Jacksonville

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—Dan Sikes has his hometown rooting for him in the Jacksonville Open, but the 36-year-old lawyer says he thinks it's harder to win in golf at home than it is on the road.

Even Arnold Palmer says the same thing," Jacksonville's only native son on the pro tour said Thursday after grabbing a one-stroke lead in the first round of the $100,000 tournament here.

"I was really nervous," added Sikes after his five-under-par 67 on the wind-raked Deerwood Club course. "It's hard not to let your mind stray when you see somebody you know all the way around the course.

Every bowling ball has its day.

Some don't always have the chance to prove it since there are always a few quick-tempered souls who will sell, trade or drastically dispose of a ball on the spur of the moment.

Others burden themselves with so many balls that it takes years before they learn to be proficient with any one. One local man has so many bowling balls home in the closet he could bowl in two leagues a day for a week and never use the same one.

However, Ted Haddon of Holly believes in giving a ball a good chance to prove itself.

Haddon has used the same ball for 25 years and never surpassed 580 with it — until last week, that is.

Competing in the Thursday Night Men's League at Mavis Lanes, Haddon finally hit the 600 mark, and kept right on going. He bowled 228-254-240 for a 722 series.

The series is the second best this season at Mavis Lanes and possibly the second best in the history of sanctioned bowling in Holly. Dick Bayer's 735 last month is the all-time high.

SATISFIED

George (Perfect Game) Bishop obviously is quite satisfied with his ball. He followed up last week's 300 at Sylvan Lanes with a 245-235-265—745 Tuesday night in the West Side Lanes' Pontiac Motor Mixed circuit.

This makes him seventh on the current list of high series keglers for the Pontiac area this season.

On the other hand, North Hill Lanes' proprietor Lou Koprince threw a 299 game and retired the ball. When he then bowled 298 he kept that ball active; but last week he hit 288—748 and has decided to retire the second ball now.

SPARE PINS

North Hill Sunday will be host to the 700 Club's monthly singles outing. The men will bowl three games beginning 1:30 p. m. and then have a buffet luncheon with their guests.

★ ★ ★

The Greater Detroit Bowling Association's 54th annual city tournament will commence tomorrow at three sites. The official opening ceremonies will be 6:15 p. m. at Eastland Bowl.

Ladies' City Keg Meet Nears End

Final PWBA Weekend May Decide Champs

New champions will be determined this weekend at 300 Bowl in the 34th annual Pontiac Woman's Bowling Association city tournament.

Only Saturday and Sunday remain for the women to make their bids for some of the $5,800 prize money plus championship trophies.

★ ★ ★

Already last year's winners have competed and fallen short of this winter's leaders in all classes.

Although the new winners will be known in every event Sunday night, the trophies and prize money won't be distributed until the PWBA Open Meeting next month.

Ironically, the current team leader—Huntoon's captained by Dorothy White of Pontiac — has the same handicap total, 2938, as posted by last year's winners, Amberwood Kennels.

LEADERS

Sonja Johnson of Rochester currently leads the handicap singles with 669, Pat Donner of Waterford Township has 1728 to pace the actual all events, and Pontiac's Carol Carter's 1993 leads the handicap all events.

While none of those scores are unattainable, the 1375 doubles score posted by Mrs. Carter and partner Mable Wilson last Sunday has the PWBA officials checking the record books.

It is more than 130 pins above this year's runner-up total and more than 50 pins better than last March's winning total. Mesdames Carter and Wilson seem certain to take the $100 plus trophies in the handicap doubles.

Next year's 35th annual PWBA Tournament will be at Sylvan Lanes. The current top scores:

Wings in Desperate Bid

DETROIT (AP)—Detroit's injury-riddled Red Wings, fighting against time in a desperation bid to make the Stanley Cup playoffs, learned Thursday that Gordie Howe may not be able to help much in the final eight games.

Howe, who scored a goal in Wednesday's 4-2 victory over Toronto, suffered a severe bone bruise in his right shoulder and may not play Saturday when the Wings are host to Boston.

Manager-Coach Sid Abel said he would rest Howe until game time before deciding if the veteran winger will dress. Ray Cullen probably will be used on the Alex Delvecchio, Doug Roberts line if Howe doesn't play, said Abel.

Floyd Smith, Gary Bergman and Delvecchio are suffering from shoulder injuries. Norm Ullman is recovering from a fractured rib. Paul Henderson and Bert Marshall have groin injuries and Cullen has a bad knee.

"We certainly have a parade of casualties," said Abel. "I won't know until after I get the reports from our doctors whether I will have to summon players from the farm.

"If Howe can't play over the weekend and if Henderson is out again, I probably will bring somebody up from Pittsburgh on an emergency basis."

Lakeland Has Easy Victory

The easy victories are over for Howe's Lanes in Waterford Township men's recreation basketball National League activity.

Howe's, runner-up to Lakeland Pharmacy in the first-place scrap, won just by showing up for the second week in a row last night as Zilka Heating forfeited.

Lakeland, meanwhile, stayed one game ahead of the Clarkston quintet by overcoming Struble Realty, 56-40. Square Deal Garage tied Struble's for third place with a 61-47 victory.

Lakeland trailed at the half, 29-26. Dave Struble's 16 points was tops.

Square Deal jumped ahead of O'Neil Realty, 21-6, in the first quarter and coasted. Bruce Hazen poured in 31 points to lead the assault.

FCC to Reconsider Merger Plan Okay

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Communications Commission will take another look later this month at the proposed $2-billion merger of American Broadcasting Companies Inc. and International Telephone & Telegraph Corp.

The FCC set new hearings on the merger for March 27 after voting 4 to 0 Thursday — with three members abstaining — to reconsider the consolidation it approved 4 to 3 Dec. 21.

★ ★ ★

Chairman Rosel H. Hyde, who originally voted for the merger, switched sides Thursday to join the three original opponents and force the rehearing. The three original backers of the proposal abstained from Thursday's vote.

The FCC's action came at the request of the Justice Department, which charged the commission acted too hastily in approving the merger and did not adequately consider all the evidence the department claims it has unearthed.

ACTION HAILED

The commission decision drew immediate praise from Rep. Silvio O. Conte, R-Mass. He said "I'm extremely pleased. It should never have been done in the first place."

He expressed hope the FCC would block the merger, saying, "There are plenty of grounds."

★ ★ ★

A spokesman said IT&T had tried to supply complete information to the commission and will "continue to furnish any information asked for as quickly as possible, and as extensively as requested."

An ABC spokesman said the two companies always had believed the merger is in the public interest and, "We welcome the opportunity to demonstrate it further."

★ ★ ★

The three commissioners who abstained in the vote, Robert E. Lee, Lee Loevinger and James Wadsworth, said in a separate statement: "We do not believe that the showing which has been made warrants a further hearing, but since a majority of the commission has decided to hold a further hearing we will abstain from opposition and give appropriate consideration to any further evidence adduced."

Joining Hyde in voting to reconsider the Merger were Robert T. Bartley, Kenneth A. Cox and Nicholas Johnson.

Playboy Club Answers State

DETROIT (UPI) — The Detroit Playboy Club says it intends to prove to the State of Michigan it has a right to support itself in the manner to which it is accustomed.

Eugene Howard, president of the local club, issued the latest blast yesterday in the battle of the bunnies. He indicated the club would fight before it switched.

At issue is a Michigan threat that the Club may lose its license if it sticks to restrictive membership policies. Under state law all establishments which hold liquor licenses must be open to the public.

The Detroit night spot stuck to that law until recently when it announced it would admit only those who bought a $25 membership card. It modified that earlier this week to admit anyone who pays a $25 "admission fee."

The commission ordered the club owners to be present at a hearing March 23.

50,000 Expected for Bay City Parade

BAY CITY (AP)—An estimated 50,000 spectators will be on hand Sunday for Bay City's annual St. Patrick's Day parade, featuring the University of Notre Dame band and 14 other musical groups.

★ ★ ★

Twenty-one floats will be in the parade, one of them carrying the pageant's queen, 18-year-old Connie Willett.

Honored guests will be 15 foreign exchange students, including one from Belfast, Ireland—Veronica Thompson.

Cheboygan Gets School Funds

CHEBOYGAN (AP) — Cheboygan Public School District No. 1 has been given $7,267 in federal assistant from the Office of Education, Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., announced Thursday.

About 150 families of Coast Guard members live in the school area, making it eligible for the funds.

Prize for March

ANN ARBOR (AP)—A $1,000 prize was posted by the University of Michigan today for a march musical composition for the university's sesquicentennial. The march must be an "Origignal quickstep suitable for gridiron and concert performance." July 1 is the entry deadline. Dr. William D. Revelli, U-M band conductor, is in charge.

State Native Picked to Head College

PIKEVILLE, Ky. (AP)—The Pikeville College Board of Trustees has announced the selection of Dr. Thomas H. Johns as president of the school.

Dr. Johns, executive vice president of Missouri Valley College, Marshall, Mo., for the past two years, will succeed Dr. B.H. Jarman.

Dr. Johns, a native of Kalamazoo, Mich., received his bachelor's degree from Hanover in 1953 and a bachelor of divinity degree from the Louisville holds master's and doctor degrees from Indiana University.

Ex-Prosecutor for Bay County Is Dead at 64

BAY CITY (AP) — Funeral services will be held Saturday for Karl Kilburn Liebrand, 64, former prosecutor, circuit court judge and Constitutional Convention delegate.

Liebrand died at his home Wednesday.

He served as Bay County prosecuting attorney from 1938 to 1942, judge from 1944 to 1953 and con-con delegate in 1961-62.

Survivors are his widow, Shirley; two sons, Karl David and Charles; and a sister, Mrs. Dorothy Flood. All live in Bay City.

Broader Tax Relief Eyed

LANSING (AP)—Most Senate Republicans say they agree with Gov. George Romney's property tax relief plan but would give more relief to individuals, farmers and small businessmen than to corporations.

The Republicans reached the majority position Thursday in their fourth caucus on fiscal reform, said Senate majority leader Emil Lockwood, R-St. Louis.

A fiscal reform package proposed by Romney, including a state income tax accompanied by some relief from property and sales taxes, is pending before the Legislature.

Many of the country's 7,500 textile mills are devoting as much as 40 per cent of their production to military requirements, the American Textile Manufacturers Institute estimates.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF ROY S. McGinnis, who passed away March 17, 1966:
God gave me strength to bear it,
The courage to take the blow;
But what it meant to loose him,
No one will ever know.
When evening shadows are falling,
And I sit here all alone;
To my heart there comes a longing,
If He could just come home.
Sadly missed by his Wife, Children and Grandchildren.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF GEORGE M. and Adrienna Stephens who passed away 3 years ago.
We miss you now, our hearts are sore,
As time goes by we miss you more;
Your loving smile, your gentle face,
No one can fill your vacant place.
—Sadly missed by Children, Grandchildren and Sister.

Oakland University
Secretarial Positions Available

A number of new secretarial positions have been created in several areas at the University. Openings exist in Administrative Offices, the Library and in the accounting Department.

Since these positions have been classified as departmental secretary, they are located at the mid-point on the clerical salary scale. Actual starting salaries will be based upon training skills and previous experience. Opportunities for advancement are excellent, due to the rapid and continuous growth that the University will experience in the months and years to come. Above average typing is required. Shorthand is preferred.

Barbara Slips Earl Ten-Spot to Help Get Needy Off Spot

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Barbara Stanwyck suddenly handed me a $10 bill in 21 this morning—and I took it.

I'd been outlining a pet project of mine—that people having a drink or dinner in a restaurant might contribute the equivalent of the cost of one round, or one course, to somebody in need: "Don't Be Greedy, Help the Needy."

WILSON

"My friend," said Barbara, as she handed me the ten, "I know what it is to want a buck."

"You've been there?" I asked.

"Damn right! My chorus days. They were very lean sometimes. And there were some very lean days between pictures. The thing is, everybody forgets those people that need a buck."

★ ★ ★

Eddie Slotkin, the Detroit meat packer boss, had also given me a $10 bill, so I racked up $20 right there for some needy people—and if anybody knows the needy it's me, because of the mail.

Miss Stanwyck went to see Mary Martin and Robert Preston in "I Do, I Do!"—and remembered that in 1937 Preston was in a DeMille movie with her ("Union Pacific") and she taught him to scene-steal. "Get your kisser in the —— camera!" she told him.

The popularity of her films and her TV show on ABC, "Big Valley," is such that she got an ovation on the sidewalk and in the theater. Turning to the sidewalk crowd, Miss Stanwyck said, "What are all of you doing here? You ought to be at home watching me on TV!"

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

We keep hearing there was a fist fight between Keir Dulles and Producer Raymond Stross in Toronto during filming of "The Fox." One story was that other actors felt that Mrs. Stross (Anne Heywood) was the producer's pet . . . Sharon Tate got the much-coveted "Jennifer" role in "Valley of the Dolls" that Raquel Welch aspired to . . . Miss Teen France (Maud Sejournant, 18), here for the Miss Teen International Pageant on ABC Mar. 25, is a medical student—and will be out of school in about eight years.

Comedian Henny Youngman at Dann's Hideaway boasted that he pays gag writers fantastic sums for jokes—say, $1,500 for five jokes. "Dean Martin threw himself on the floor—and missed." That's $300 worth. "In Mississippi a cop had to assist at the birth of a Negro baby and when the cop slapped the newborn baby, the baby screamed 'Police Brutality.'" Another $300 worth.

Henny says Phyllis Diller's housewife fans send her jokes she pays $10 for. (He's looking for some $10 jokes, and upon receipt of one, he'll pay $5 for it.)

EARL'S PEARLS: You can't win, sighs Art Paul: "My first wife could cook but wouldn't; my second wife can't cook but does."

Joan Rivers agrees that women have a rough life: "They have to clean, cook and sew—and that's hard to do without getting out of bed." . . . That's earl, brother.

Five Appointed to OU Faculty

MSU Board Also OKs 3 Leaves of Absence

The appointment of five new members of the faculty at Oakland University and leaves of absence for three others were approved yesterday by the Michigan State University Board of Trustees.

All of the new appointments will be effective for the fall semester.

Two new members of the OU political science department will be Dr. John E. Rue, now a research fellow with the Hoover Institution at Stanford University, who will join the faculty at Rochester as associate professor; and James R. Ozinga, now an assistant instructor at MSU, who will join OU as an instructor.

Rue, who holds three degrees from the University of Minnesota, is an authority on Chinese political history and has written a book entitled "Mao Tse-tung in Opposition: 1927-35." Ozinga received a bachelor's degree from Calvin College and a master's from Western Michigan University.

The other new apointments include:

- Dr. Donald E. Morse, assistant professor of English, now is an assistant professor at the Babson Institute in Massachusetts. He holds a bachelor's degree from Williams College, and a master's doctorate from the University of Connecticut.
- Dr. Helene Mitterkalkgruber, assistant professor of German, is currently a visiting assistant professor at MSU. A native of Austria, she holds a doctorate from the University of Vienna.
- Roy A. Kotynek, instructor of history, is now completing his doctoral studies at Northwestern University, where he received a master's in 1962. His baccalaureate work was done at Morton Junior College and the University of Illinois.

Leaves were approved for George T. Matthews, professor of history and dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, from May 1 to July 31 to study in the Oakland area; Donald Hildum, associate professor of psychology, from Sept. 6 to April 20, 1968, to study at the University of Ghent, Belgium, under the Fulbright Exchange Program; and Thomas Fitzsimmons, professor of English, from Sept. 6 to April 20, 1968, to travel and study in Europe.

Park Gets Grant

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Department of the Interior Thursday announced a grant of $89,500 for expansion of recreation facilities in Browers Park in Michigan's Mecosta County. The county is to provide matching funds.

State Sells Addresses

He Guards Privacy

WETHERSFIELD, Conn. (UPI) — Someday, someone will record for posterity the names of those fearless little men who fought the losing battle against forces that work unceasingly to strip the individual of what little privacy he preserves in this age of blatant publicity.

High on the list will appear the name of Norman S. Chapin, clerical worker.

Today Chapin was awaiting word from the Connecticut Motor Vehicles Department on whether his registration has been revoked for refusing to divulge his new address.

He refuses to give the department his address because of its practice of selling vehicle registration lists to advertisers, the purveyors of so-called "junk mail."

"It's an invasion of my privacy, and my privacy is something worth fighting for," he said after a hearing before Motor Vehicles Commissioner John J. Tynan.

COULD LOSE REGISTRATION

Tynan said Chapin was liable to lose his registration because of a law requiring a motorist to file a change-of-address form within 48 hours of his move.

Chapin said he became aware of the address selling practice when he moved to a new address. He informed only the Motor Vehicles Department of his move.

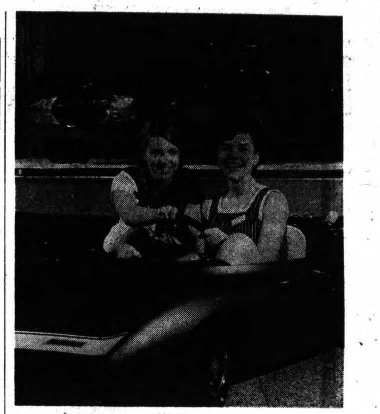
"I continued to get junk mail," he said.

Chapin said he then found out that the department sells lists of addresses to a Detroit firm which has a similar arrangement with licensing authorities in all 50 states. Last year, for instance, Connecticut got $15,000 for its auto registration list.

The firm then resells the lists to auto dealers and other business firms that market their wares via mail.

Three years ago, Chapin unsuccessfully sought legislation to ban the practice, at least in Connecticut.

But a General Assembly Committee voted unfavorably on the measure, saying that any invasion of privacy was "technical and only minimal."



JUNIOR MISS TRIES MINI-CAR — Michigan's Junior Miss, Kathie Fliss, 24625 W. 10 Mile, Southfield, and Pennsylvania's Junior Miss, Barbara Lias, drive the "Chevy Junior," a miniature dream car, on display in Mobile, Ala., where the National Junior Miss Pageant is being held this week. Pageant finals selecting America's ideal high school senior from the 50 state contestants will be televised at 8 p.m. tomorrow on Channel 4.

Widow of German Composer Dies

BLONAY, Switzerland (AP) — The death of Gertrud Hindemith, widow of German composer Paul Hindemith, was announced Thursday. She was 67.

Burial was scheduled for today near the tomb of her husband, a pioneer in contemporary music, who died four years ago.

Since the end of World War II the couple had lived in this village in the vineyards above Montreux on Lake Geneva.

Heads Egg Hunt

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — The annual Easter egg hunt of the South Kent Lodge of the Fraternal Order of Police will have a new twist this year. The chairman of the hunt is Susan Schultz, recently assigned to the Wyoming City Police Department's Juvenile Division. She estimated 435 dozen eggs will be used in the hunt March 25 in Lamar Park.

Blood Cuts Traffic Fine

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — When the mayor of suburban Elmwood Place holds traffic court, he doesn't insist on a pint of blood — but it helps.

Mayor Otto Hasler has been giving traffic violators a chance to have their fines reduced by $15 if they agree to give a pint of blood to the Veterans Administration Hospital. The Veterans of Foreign Wars recently began a drive for the hospital's almost-depleted blood bank.

The mayor says six traffic violators have signed pledge cards to give blood so far this week — and if they don't go through with it, they will be held in contempt of court.

IT'S PADDY'S DAY — Wearin' lots of green and doffing his hat in a salute to St. Patrick's Day is this little Emmanuel Christian School first grader whose name — honest! — is Kelly Green. State Will Stay on EST

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's clocks will remain on Eastern Standard Time, despite an 11th-hour lobbyist campaign to move them ahead one hour in accordance with a federal regulation.

Withstanding pressure from backers of Daylight Saving Time, senators voted 28-9 yesterday to give immediate effect to a bill exempting Michigan from the federal Uniform Time Act.

Twenty-six votes were needed to exempt the state from the act, which requires all states to observe daylight time for six months of the year unless they enact exempting legislation.

The bill was passed earlier by the Senate and House and given immediate effect by the House despite an unsuccessful attempt to reconsider the measure. It goes to Gov. Romney for signature.

Romney has said he favors keeping the state on Eastern Standard Time.

LOBBYISTS BUSY

Lobbyists, including representatives of a national radio and television network, airlines and industry, staged a last-minute pressure campaign, urging senators not to give immediate effect to the bill.

The federal regulation specifies that states must exempt themselves by April 1 or go on daylight time from the last Sunday in April until the last Sunday in October.

Had the Legislature not given the exemption bill immediate effect, it would not have gone into effect until 90 days after the end of the legislative session—well beyond the federal deadline.

★ ★ ★

Many senators said they had received telephone calls and telegrams from a Donald Loury, representing the National Broadcasting Co. (NBC), urging them to vote "no" on immediate effect.

'TIME ISLAND'

Senators said the network told them Michigan would become a "time island" if it remained on standard time.

Sen. Coleman Young, D-Detroit, and one of the bill's sponsors, said an NBC representative told him 90 per cent of the nation would be on Daylight Time under the new law and that the network planned to schedule its program on this basis.

Young said he was told Michigan's remaining on standard time would put the state out of step with the rest of the nation regarding program scheduling.

Voting for immediate effect — against daylight time — were 18 Republicans and 10 Democrats.

NEGATIVE VOTES

Two Republicans and seven Democrats cast votes against immediate effect.

Urban League Speaker George A. McLellan

Rights Events Said Pleasing, Vexing

A New York businessman and recognized leader in equal opportunity employment movements is both "pleased" and "disturbed" with recent civil rights developments, he told a large dinner gathering last night.

George A. McLellan, public affairs director for the Olin-Mathieson Corp., made the remarks as featured speaker at the 17th annual Pontiac Area Urban League meeting.

Some 500 persons, including local Negro leaders, city officials, area businessmen and civic representatives, crowded the cafeteria hall at Pontiac Northern High School for the event.

McLellan cited his mixed feelings about the drive for Negro opportunity and status as paralleling his dissatisfaction with America.

"I am both proud — and unhappy about my country," he said, "and I expect that you are both proud and unhappy about Pontiac.

ANTHEM

"I was disturbed . . . that the suggestion that the "Star Spangled Banner" be sung at a rally supporting the reelection of a Negro congressman was greeted with boos and catcalls.

"I was pleased to read that Roy Wilkins was brave enough to say the same congressman was 'wrecking the civil rights movement.'"

McLellan then pinpointed Plans for Progress — federally backed involvement of corporate business in minority group problems — as a means of attacking lack of Negro job opportunities.

Top House Dem on Very Critical List After Stroke

LANSING (AP) — State Rep. Joseph J. Kowalski of Detroit, the House Democratic leader, was in very critical condition today after suffering a massive brain hemorrhage yesterday in the Capitol Building office.

The 56-year-old lawmaker, who was speaker of the House during the 1965-66 session, spent the night in Lansing General Hospital with a respirator assisting his breathing.

It was reported unofficially, by a source who declined to be identified, that Kowalski's doctors were not optimistic.

His wife and three sons were called to his bedside yesterday. Mrs. Kowalski was rushed by State Police from Detroit where she had been working in a hospital.

First reports said the former speaker had an attack of diabetes — a condition from which he had suffered in the past. That was later denied by a hospital spokesman.

Kowalski was stricken during a meeting with assistant House Democratic leaders. One of them, Rep. William Ryan, D-Detroit, gave this account:

"Mr. Kowalski's hand began to shake and he put his hand up to his cheek. He seemed to have difficulty clearing his eyes.

"We asked him to sit over on the couch, where we thought he might be able to lie down. But it was rather difficult to get him over there because he seemed to be collapsing.

Michigan Milk Holdback Is Called 80 Pct. Effective by Spokesman for Farmers

SARANAC (AP) — A milk holdup by Michigan dairy farmers was called 80 per cent effective today by Ray Nielsen, state milk representative for the striking National Farmer's Organization (NFO).

The holdup began Wednesday afternoon.

Nielsen said some counties are 100 per cent dry.

The farmers' group is seeking an additional dollar for each 100 pounds — 46½ quarts — of milk. This would be an increase of two cents per quart. Farmers now receive $5.50 per 100 pounds.

★ ★ ★

Nielsen said some dairies, including two in Detroit, are already out of milk. He would not name them.

'100 PCT. SUPPORT'

He would not reveal how many state farmers were participating in the nationwide effort or how many dairies were involved, but he said NFO members were supporting the holdup 100 per cent and that in some counties there were as many as 1,000 members.

"We feel that by not revealing our membership, this gives us a secret weapon in bargaining power," said Nielsen. "Members voted not to reveal these figures at the national convention.

"Someday these figures will be revealed and it will surprise a lot of people."

★ ★ ★

"Starting tomorrow we will be talking with many dairies," said Nielsen. "We will settle dairy by dairy as fast as we can get to them."

Consular Treaty Ratification Backs LBJ's Moscow Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate ratification of the controversial U.S.-Soviet consular treaty in effect backs President Johnson's policy of improving relations with Moscow despite the Vietnam war.

The next step is up to Moscow — and U.S. officials expected today that the Soviet presidium, or legislative body, would soon stamp its customarily automatic ratification on the document which U.S. and Soviet negotiators signed in June 1964.

The consular convention is the first treaty ever concluded between just the United States and the Soviet Union. U.S.-Soviet treaties existed in the pre-Communist czarist days, and in more recent times both countries have joined in multination pacts like the limited nuclear test ban treaty.

The consular treaty sets forth technical procedures to be followed in various nondiplomatic dealings between the two nations.

If an American visitor is arrested in the Soviet Union, for instance, a U.S. official has under the treaty the right of access to the American within four days. And consular officers of the two countries are to be accorded diplomatic immunity similar to that of embassy personnel.

As the Senate neared its climactic 66-28 vote Thursday, both friends and foes of the treaty debated it in the broad context of U.S. policy toward the Communists.

DIRKSEN SUPPORT

Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen, whose support was crucial for the treaty, rose from a hospital bed to voice his backing just before the final vote.

Dirksen saw the overriding problem in the world today as the prevention of a nuclear clash between the superpowers.

"To be sure, a consular treaty is such a small step toward ameliorating this condition, but it is at least a step," the GOP chief said.

But Sen. Karl E. Mundt, R-S.D., a leader of the treaty's opponents, found it inconceivable that the United States could "sit down and make love with the Russians" while they furnish weapons to kill American GIs.

The outcome slightly exceeded the two-thirds approval required for ratification.

Spring IS Coming, Believe It or Not

The north wind may blow and we do have snow but spring will arrive without much fanfare in the wee hours Tuesday morning — officially at 2:37 a.m.

There's a chance of a few more flurries today. Sunny skies with shivery temperatures is the forecast for tomorrow, a little warmer with partly cloudy skies the outlook for Sunday.

Frigid temperatures are predicted tonight, the low dipping to 4 to 12. The high is expected to climb into the 30s tomorrow.

Snow falling late yesterday measured approximately one inch.

Today's north to northwest winds at 15 to 28 miles per hour will diminish tonight.

A bone-chilling eight above was the recording at 7 a.m. today. The mercury had moved to 19 by 1 p.m.

hotel lodging air flights and the historic sight-seeing jaunts in Spain and Portugal.

★ ★ ★

Arrangements already have been made for stops at the Hotel Excelsior in Lisbon, the hotel Alcazar and Montecarlo in Seville, the Hotel Don Pepe in Marbella and the Nevada Palace in Granada.

Hotel arrangements still are pending for the conclusion of the trip, a four-day visit to historic Madrid.

Area Woman Trapped in Car After Hitting Utility Pole Wire

A West Bloomfield Township woman was trapped in her car in Keego Harbor for more than 30 minutes last night after hitting a utility pole guide wire which electrically activated a wire fence.

Keego Harbor Police Chief James Sisk said Mrs. Beverly R. Hanifin, 38, 6610 Commerce was trapped in her car at Portman and Cass Lake Road while Detroit Edison workers attempted to remove the live wire from the fence around Roosevelt School.

The 6:27 p.m. accident also caused lights to go out in a large portion of the city from Maddy Lane to Willow Beach and from Kendrick to Norcott.

West Bloomfield Township Fire Department was standing by while police from Waterford Township, Bloomfield Hills, Sylvan Lake, Orchard Lake, West Bloomfield Township and Keego Harbor assisted with traffic and checked the city for fires caused by the breaking of electrical wires.

★ ★ ★

Sisk said five minor fires broke out and that a falling wire broke the windshield of a car parked in front of the Cloverleaf bar.

SHOCK

The woman was treated for shock at Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital and released.

Word War Hotter

Venezuelan Reds Blast Castro

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — The war of words between the Venezuelan Communist party and Fidel Castro is getting hotter. The Venezuelans say the Cuban prime minister can't tell them what to do.

"We categorically reject Castro's pretension that it is he and only he who decides what is revolutionary and what is not revolutionary in Latin America," the party said Thursday in a statement signed by the seven members of its politburo.

In a stinging speech in Havana Monday, Castro accused the party of siding with the Venezuelan government by blaming Castroite terrorists for the assassination of Julio Iribarren Borges, brother of Venezuela's foreign minister.

Castro called the pro-Soviet leaders of the party traitors, cowards and rightists. He said he had "in an act of virtual treason abandoned the armed struggle."

Cuba, Castro said, will "back, in any country, those who, without calling themselves Communists, act as such rather than those who call themselves Communists and do not fulfill their duty."

Deadline Met by 351 Bills

LANSING (AP) — Legislators filed an avalanche of last-minute bills Thursday — the last day for introduction of measures not levying taxes or appropriating money.

Senators introduced 99 bills, bringing the session's total to 790. In the House, a fresh batch of 252 would - be laws brought that chamber's total to 1,257.

The bill - drafting Legislative Service Bureau, which twice earlier had pleaded successfully for extensions of the deadline, reported Thursday that all requested bills had been delivered to their sponsors.

Hospital Modernization Estimated at $500,000

It will cost Pontiac General Hospital an estimated $500,000 to modernize its facilities to meet state and federal codes, according to a report made last night to the board of trustees.

Hospital administrator Harold B. Euler said federal inspection of the hospital preparatory to seeking federal aid for expansion plans disclosed the various code deficiencies.

Euler said the state fire marshal's office has directed that corrections begin this year.

Biggest item to be corrected, according to Euler, is an estimated 65 per cent of the ceilings, which must be made more fire resistant.

Some fire glass installation and new outlets leading directly outside for some stairwells are other items that must be provided.

Euler said that when the safety corrections are made, the hospital also should be completely air-conditioned. The estimated cost of this is $200,000.

In another report received last night by the hospital board, the personnel committee reported that it will cost $480,000 to bring wages in line with those at area hospitals.

The committee had received a survey of wages in the area for 52 main hospital jobs.

★ ★ ★

In still another report, the hospital trustees were informed that five options have been obtained on property at the south end of the hospital block. A total of seven parcels is sought to provide for construction of 20 units of intern housing.

'Secret Viet Peace Move by U Thant'

MANILA (UPI) — Philippine Foreign Secretary Narciso Ramos today said United Nations Secretary General U Thant has launched a new secret Vietnam peace offensive.

"We all know these new efforts but they are still under wraps," Ramos told newsmen.

"I better not comment. You wait. I hope it will break out soon. Right now, it's very classified," he said.

He said his government is not taking a direct part in the move for peace being engineered by Thant. But he said the Philippine government has been kept informed officially about it.

The Manila regime last year tried to perform as a Vietnam peacemaker. It proposed an all-Asian peace conference but drew no favorable response from the Communists.

Since then the Philippines has been silent on war peace moves.

Arts Festival Is Held at Walled Lake

By ANNE PERSSON

Literary and art works by students of Walled Lake High School were presented, judged, and awarded ribbons last weekend at the Arts Festival.

Winning and other selected literary works were published in "Touche," the annual literary magazine.

In the short story division David Baker received the first place award with "God Is Relative."

Larry Short's "Three Wishes" and Peggy DuFresne's "Charlie" placed second and third, respectively.

Receiving first place in the sketch division was David Zaffer with "Harlem Heights."

2ND AND 3RD

Carol Vreeland placed second with "Human?" while "Man On the Street" by Kris Kessler received third place.

In the light verse division, Mary Skora was awarded first and third places with "Ode to Abe" and "Life Is Just a Cherr of Bowlies," while Sheryl Dooley's "Oh Well" was second.

In the poetry division "Edath" by Kris Kessler was awarded first place.

Rita Tubbs and Jeff Whitney were second and third with "A Particular Black Weekend" and "A Magic Picture."

JUDGES

The literary works were judged by three faculty members of the English department, Mrs. S. E. Domurath Jr., Marilyn Kirk, and Michael Piper.

Art works were displayed at "The Gallery."

First prize ribbons went to Karl Hizelberger, oil painting; Syb Johnson, print making; Sharon Tarabusi, pencil and sculpture; Jill Pingston, paper assemblage; and Karen Hoyt, mixed media.

Ribbons denoting first place also were awarded to Jim Kilroy, jewelry; Pam Winn, water color and tempera; Mark Lovelland, chalk; Mark Eicher, commercial art, and Pam Munger, ink drawing.

ART JUDGES

The art entries were judged by Laurel Alder, Ada Dickinson, Marilyn Kirk, and Elaine Mattingly.

Tonight the senior class will sponsor a combination Bermuda and St. Patrick's Day dance.

Last Deadline at Waterford

By MARY JERGOVICH

Waterford Township High School's Waterlog staff will meet its last deadline tomorrow for the school yearbook.

According to Larry Timm, yearbook adviser, there will be several changes. A better quality of paper will be used, and girls' sports will receive as much coverage as the boys.

Other changes include a larger introductory section, expanded index, and a few symbols will be added to the cover.

★ ★ ★

Tonight the unified studies class is sponsoring "The Nervous Cow." The dance will be held from 7:30 to 11 p.m. in the gym.

SIX BANDS

Featured will be six bands and mixed soft drinks. Merchants from the famous Plum Street will also be at the dance, selling candles, incense and pearl earrings.

Proceeds from the dance will help finance the group's trip to Expo '67 in the spring.

The annual Spring Forensic Contest, sponsored by the Michigan High School Forensic Association was held on Monday and Tuesday

OTHER WINNERS

Others were Rachel Schettling and Kathy Ryden, serious interpretive reading; Mickey Burns and Rick Sherman, radio news commentary; and Beth Griffin and Shirley Winne, humorous reading.

The multiple reading was won by Lynda McLaughlin-Carol Schaad, Mary Reynolds, and Anne Voydanoff for their reading of "The Mad Woman of Chaillot."

These students will go on to compete in the district contest to be held March 20 at Mercy High School.

Seniors have selected as their prom theme "Spring Parodies." The event will be held at Greenfield's early in June.

Pontiac Press Photo

BUDDING VIRTUOSO — Garry Shelton, a senior at Pontiac Northern High School, practices for the American Youth Perform concert which will be presented April 21 at New York's Carnegie Hall. He has played the violin for nine years and has been Northern's concert master for three years.

By DEBBIE KILLEN

Pontiac Northern High School's Gary Shelton, a member of the school orchestra, will go to New York to play at Carnegie Hall.

Gary, a senior, was recommended by Alonzo Seaboldt, director of Northern's orchestra, and passed by a jury familiar with his playing.

While at Carnegie Hall, Gary will play his violin in an orchestra of 90 selected students. The concert is called America Youth Perform, sponsored by American Airlines.

Gary has been playing violin for nine years. He has been concertmaster of Northern's orchestra for three years, and has been a member of the Pontiac Symphony Orchestra for three years.

Three summer sessions were spent by Gary at the National Music Camp at Interlochen.

Gary has been honored by receiving the Salute to Youth Award in music for three years in a row, a scholarship from the Pontiac Symphony Women's Association and has received high ratings in Solo and Ensemble Festivals.

With all expenses paid, Gary will travel to New York for the week of April 15-22. The concert will be on April 21.

Northern has two other musicians who play with the Pontiac Symphony, Jody Schmucker and Don McGeen.

Winners in the Forensics Speech Contest were announced recently.

Earning first and second places respectively were Larry Glover and Ralph Bartles, oratory; Bruce Kilmer and Terri Brubaker, serious interpretive readings; Jon Hurtado and Pat Griffin, memorized declamations; and Cindy Kiels and Brenda Drake, girls' extemporaneous speech.

Others were Pat Leonard and Mike Lucius, boys' extemporaneous speech; Jim Corr and Jim Harrison, humorous readings; and Mike Harroun and Bob Han, radio commentaries.

The contest was judged by David Kayan.

'The Princess and the Pea' Set for April at Troy

By LINDA STEWART

The Broadway musical, "The Princess and the Pea," is moving along to opening night at Troy High School.

Performed by the Troy High stage crew, this light-spirited comedy, is a story of a prince's search for a princess.

The queen, his overly aggressive mother, and the king, his mute, overpowered father, help to complicate the prince's vain attempt to find a wife.

The musical will be presented in the high school gym, April 7 and 8.

This past week the varsity cheerleaders held cheer-leading clinics. Tryouts will be held on March 30. Several cheerleaders and teachers will be doing the judging.

SATURDAY DANCE

There will be a dance Saturday, sponsored by the freshman class.

For the first time, two bands will be playing, the Split Ends and the Visteis. Both bands have high school instrumentalists.

Students at BHHS Study Mental Health

By DIANE LAMB

The sociology and psychology students at Bloomfield Hills High School are interested in mental health and society's methods for solving problems.

The students have had speakers visit their classes, and they have visited institutions on the subject.

Mrs. Eleanor McCurry, an occupational therapist, showed film slides of Pontiac State Hospital and talked with the students. Approximately 60 Bloomfield student-volunteers recently went to Pontiac State Hospital to give an Easter party for the preadolescent group. The volunteers brought bunny-like Easter baskets, punch and cookies, and a combo — Ed Westfall and his Pakistanpastronicminimizers.

The volunteers played games with the children gathered on the floor for refreshments in the pleasant atmosphere, and capped off the evening with everyone dancing to the band.

Students planning these activities were Pat Nibblink, Marsha Paull, Jeff Pike, Penny Stressen-Reuter, Shelly Tuddy, Kathy Vogt, and Bob Wright.

Kathy is in charge of all financial affairs.

The Bloomfield High volunteers collected enough donations to supply the hospital with a time-clock for athletic events. Donations of clothing from several Birmingham-Bloomfield merchants were much appreciated.

Also gifts of money are now being received from merchants and parents for the purchasing of needed recreational equipment.

According to Mrs. Maxine Baumhart, the sponsor, "Anyone interested in contributing to the project, merchant or parent, may contact Kathy Vogt through Bloomfield Hills High School."

★ ★ ★

After the party, John Kearns, the hospital's director of recreational activity, came to the morning classes to explain much of the work of the recreational department.

Arrangements are being made for a continuing program of volunteers from Bloomfield Hills High School's psychology and sociology classes to visit the patients and to participate in future recreational activities.

Emmanuel Juniors Show Money-Making Talents

By LINDA WRIGHT

The junior class of Emmanuel Christian High School is putting all of its money-making efforts to work Tuesday evening at the monthly meeting of the Parent-Teachers-Fellowship.

★ ★ ★

A spaghetti dinner at 5:30 p.m. will launch the evening. Serving will continue until 7 p.m.

Following dinner a Beeline Fashion Show will be narrated by Mrs. Don Stouffer, a Beeline representative.

The junior girls will act as models and afterwards sell the products of their sugar-molding class.

★ ★ ★

The girls have been spending spare moments making Easter eggs. Proceeds from the evening will go toward the Junior-Senior Banquet.

ON WITH THE SHOW — West Bloomfield High School freshmen (from left) Cheri Brasfield and Pam Psihas practice their routine for tonight's "Lakers Capers," the school's annual talent show. Presented by the Student Council, the show will begin at 7:30 p.m. in the auditorium.

SCHOOL NEWS ROUNDUP

Our Lady

By CONNIE MAYWORM

In honor of the Rev. Father F. J. Delaney's feast day, the students and the faculty of Our Lady of the Lakes attended Mass this morning to begin a day full of the spirit of the Irish.

Later both the high school and the grade school gathered for a two-hour song and dance show.

Winners in the Forensic Speech Eliminations have been announced. James Torrey was named the best extempore speaker.

Other first and second place winners were Greg Matzelle and Beth Brown, original oratory; Michele Seeterlin and Pam Wise, declamations; Theresa Thill and Caesar Weston, humorous reading; and Karen Keenan and Tim McDonnell, serious readings.

Dominican

By KATHIE De RYCKE

Dominican took part in a "day of Awareness" last week.

Keynote speakers for the day were Father Baldwin, director of vocations for the Archdiocese of Detroit, and Sister Jane Edward, associate director.

Other speakers included two Seminarians from Sacred Heart Seminary, and a brother from the Benedictine Monastery.

The day included a unity mass and ended with a self-commitment program.

Yesterday was "Color Day" at D.A. Each homeroom took an aspect of D.A. and represented its theme through colors and decorations.

Oxford

By CLARA CALLAHAN

Two ensembles of the Oxford High School Band will travel to Trenton tomorrow to the State Solo and Ensemble Festival.

One group, a trombone trio, is made up of Martha Ricketts, Mike Janway, and Lee Royer.

The other, a percussion ensemble, is composed of Bill Burr, Wayne Misenar, Dennis VanWagoner, Gary Schaaf, and Brad Scott.

They will be accompanied by Wendell Honsinger their band director.

★ ★ ★

The biology classes have been traveling, too. Groups of students accompanied by biology teacher Richard Billman, have been visiting the planetarium and art museum in Flint.

Saturday night the faculty put up a good fight, but couldn't outplay the Harlem Astronauts.

The final tally showed a shooting margin close to 2-1 for the Astronauts.

St. Mike's

By LYNN BAUER

St. Michael's girls' basketball team received a trophy last week. The team came in second place in the St. James-Ferndale Invitational Tournaments by defeating St. Michael's of Livonia and St. Mary's of Redford.

Boys' intramural basketball games were also held last week.

The junior boys were champions of the intramural games, while the faculty was defeated by the seniors in a game last Friday night.

St. Fred's

By TIM HALL

Cast of the St. Frederick High School's senior play, "Cheaper by the Dozen" attended Meadow Brook Theater yesterday to see George B. Shaw's "You Never Can Tell."

The student play will be presented April 22 and 23.

W. Bloomfield Show Tonight

By MARGIT MISANGYI

West Bloomfield High School will present its annual "Lakers Capers" Talent Show at 7:30 p.m. tonight in the school auditorium.

The show is presented by the Student Council under the sponsorship of David Vivian.

Directing the production is Edward Penney, president of the council, assisted by Barbara Waldon, a representative on the council.

The show consists of 20 performances. Presentation of these acts will be done by a "dynamic duo," James Neubacher and John Pollock.

Types of acts include song and guitar, dance routines, piano and vocal solos, a trumpet duo, and other skits. There is also a free exercise routine done by two freshmen girls.

SOLD AT DOOR

Tickets have been sold by Student Council representatives throughout the week, but will also be sold at the door.

★ ★ ★

The senior trip, sponsored by the parents, will be to the Gay El Rancho, Gaylord on May 7-9.

Seniors will probably be let out of school early on that Friday, and will return Sunday evening.

48 at Avondale Visit Institute

By HELEN LOWERY

Under the guidance of instructors Mrs. John Oles and Charles Carpenter, 48 of Avondale's business students traveled to the Automotive Institute Tuesday to view the latest in modern office machinery and equipment. All schools in the Greater Detroit area were invited to attend.

Class tournaments were held during the latter part of this week.

An assembly concerning the American Field Service was held the last hour of school today. A color film on AFS was shown, and five representatives in addition to Avondale's spoke about the American Field Service.

During the end of the program a student survey was taken in regard to student knowledge on the AFS.

Oakland County Elementary Physical Education Association is sponsoring a conference on physical education and recreation for the specially educated student.

CONFERENCE THEME

The theme of the conference is "Our Neglect Cannot Continue." It is to take place today and tomorrow.

Included in the program are many outstanding teachers of educable and trainable mentally retarded children such as Isobel Lea and Doreen Crystal from Toronto, Ken Kline, Coldwater Home and Training School; Larry Meier, Brandon Schools; William Emigh, St. Clair Schools; and Oakland County physical education teachers. Wilbur Whately, Avondale's special education instructor, will be attending the meetings.

St. Patrick's Day was celebrated with a bang Friday night for those students who attended the "Shamrock Shuffle" sponsored by the sophomore class.

Sunday at 3 p.m. Avondale's band will conduct a concert, under leadership of Larry Detter, band instructor. The program will be free of charge and is open to the general public.

Russian Revolution—3

News of Coup Spread Slowly

(Last in a Series)

By LEON DENNEN
Foreign News Analyst
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

News of the fall of the Romanov dynasty was slow in reaching Russia's provinces.

Even before Czar Nicholas II abdicated his throne on March 15, 1917 a democratic provisional government had been formed in Petrograd, Russia's capital.

But in Rovno, the provincial Ukrainian capital where my parents were stranded after the outbreak of World War I, czarist officials still ruled with an iron fist on March 25.

Telephone and telegraph communications were disrupted by the war. Rail service was completely disorganized by the advancing Germans. Local newspapers no longer appeared because of the shortage of paper.

★ ★ ★

Alexander Kerensky, the last premier of the provisional government, told me that some of Russia's remote provinces heard of the revolution only six months later.

WORKED BETTER

However, there were rumors. The grapevine, as usual in Russia even today, worked better than the communications media.

Rumors were circulating that a revolution had occurred in Petrograd.

At the gymnasium where I studied, students told each other mysteriously that "Nikolashka" was already pushing up daisies.

★ ★ ★

On the main street of the city little groups of people were talking endlessly. They started fires and tore up the wooden sidewalks to keep them burning.

EXPECTING MIRACLE

No one wanted to go home. Everyone expected a miracle. But no one really believed that Russia was at last free.

Thus it was that my father, who once campaigned with Eugene V. Debs in New York, where I was born, was the first to bring the message of freedom to the inhabitants of Rovno.

He had been in Petrograd and took an active part in the czar's overthrow. Now he was making his way slowly to the provinces to spread the happy news.

★ ★ ★

I shall never forget the faces of two Russian soldiers when they first heard that the czar had abdicated.

FLOWING BEARD

One was a man about 60 with a long flowing beard streaked with gray.

Even to a youngster of nine his soldier's uniform seemed ludicrous. His arm was clasped around a soldier of about 16 — his son, as I later learned — with a bluish face covered with pimples.

The old man and the young boy were standing in a circle of soldiers who were listening to my father's speech about the revolution in Petrograd.

★ ★ ★

They stood silent and sullen. There was hardly a trace of emotion on their impassive faces.

SEEMED INCREDIBLE

"Fellow citizens, the tyrant has fallen," my father roared. "Russia is free. Long live the democratic provisional government! Long live Alexander Kerensky!"

But the soldiers were suspicious. It seemed incredible that Nicholas II was no longer the God-ordained autocrat of Russia.

Was the revolution a reality this time? Or was it merely a czarist ruse, a provocation like Black Friday in 1905?

★ ★ ★

Suddenly the old soldier stepped forward. He fell to his knees in the snow, crossed himself and began to cry. Amidst sobs, he addressed his sullen comrades:

"Brothers, soldiers, freedom has come to Mother Russia. We are poor and oppressed and burdened by hard work. The 'Nemka' is sending us soldiers to the slaughter like cows. We are considered not as men but as slaves. But now the truth has dawned in Russia."

BEGIN TO STIR

The silent soldiers began to stir. Here was someone of their own, speaking their own language, who was not afraid to speak of freedom.

The police were nowhere in sight. Sensing doom, the czar's cops had long ago disappeared from the streets.

Suddenly, cries pierced the air: "Long live freedom! Long live the democratic provisional government!"

★ ★ ★

The old soldier rose to his feet and started to walk toward the main street. His comrades moved after him. Those in the rear pressed against the front rank and they moved on.

PRISONERS FREED

The spontaneous demonstration, which was soon joined by thousands of jubilant men and women, marched to the city jail to liberate the political prisoners.

At the prison gate the crowd was met by Col. Kossonogoff and a detachment of Cossacks.

A fierce-looking man with pointed black mustache, Kossonogoff was an ardent monarchist. But on that freezing day in March, 1917, he was fighting for a lost cause.

★ ★ ★

"In the name of the czar, disperse," Kossonogoff screamed. "The Jews are fooling you. You will be punished for your disobedience."

RIFLES RAISED

"We no longer have a czar," the old soldier replied.

"Fire!" the colonel screamed again.

The Cossacks shuddered in obedient movement and raised their rifles. But they did not fire.

★ ★ ★

They, too, sensed that something strange was happening in Russia.

Biologic Life Dated 2.15 Billion Years

By Science Service

WASHINGTON — From deep in the gold mines of South Africa's Orange Free State has come evidence that there was some form of biologic activity on earth at least 2.15 billion years ago.

Polymerized hydrocarbon "chemofossils" found in the gold ores were studied by Jochen Hoefs and Manfred Schidlowski of the University of Gottingen, Germany.

Isotopic composition of the hydrocarbons, they report in the March 3 Science, falls into the range of sedimentary organic carbon.

Thus, it is probable that they were originally part of a rich bacterial and algal life in the Witwatersrand basin.

Less Peril for 'Bleeders'

By Science Service

WASHINGTON — Some 8,000 "bleeders" or hemophiliacs in this country can face surgery with less danger of hemorrhaging because research has discovered certain blood factors that can correct the abnormal blood clotting mechanism.

An example of foot surgery in a hemphiliac in Melbourne, Australia, shows the way a factor numbered "eight" was obtained in sufficient quanity to be pooled from blood donations totaling 438 pints.

Eri Roberts, a 21-year-old hemophiliac from Toowong, Brisbane, had a foot deformity long in need of correction. As a result of the donations from strangers he had never seen, he is now able to walk with a cane and is hopeful of getting about on his own in the future.

Less common surgery involving factor number "nine" has been reported recently by Dr. Robert W. Bailey, associate professor of orthopedic surgery, University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, who operated on five hemophiliac B patients after infusing the deficient factor.

Dr. Bailey says that antibiotics are important when a bleeder has an operation because wounds of this type can be an ideal culture medium for infection.

THOMAS FURNITURE INTRODUCES 2 EXCITING NEW COLLECTIONS . . .

'SHERWOOD COUNTY'—rugged rural english and 'PERUGIA'—classic italian provincial

From two of history's most romantic ages comes the inspiration for Thomas Furniture's spirited new bedroom and dining room collections. There's 'Sherwood County' for those who favor the stately beauty of Country English. 'Perugia' speaks classic elegance with an Italian accent. Whatever your taste—come—be inspired by these new treasures for your home. Dream a little!

China $329.95

Host chair $64.95

Oval leg table $149.95

OUR NEW 'SHERWOOD COUNTY' COLLECTION

These pieces were designed to capture the beauty of Country English detailing combined with the simplicity of Early American styling. The result is a new formal look. Antique brass hardware, bold moldings and a warm brown nutmeg finish give a look of warm hospitality and inviting charm.

Triple dresser . . . $209.95
Hooded mirror . . . $54.95
Chest on chest . . $189.95
Headboard bed . . $89.95

Chest on chest $199.95

Triple dresser $219.95

Commode $89.95

Headboard bed $89.95

Host chair $64.95 Oval pedestal table $184.95 Side chair $54.95 Credenza $229.95

OUR EXCITING 'PERUGIA' COLLECTION

A Classic design, featuring a unique carved disc theme inspired by an ancient Perugian chest. Clean, flowing lines, sharp square corners and fluting emphasize the formal air. The finish is sand tone Topaz over Pecan. Heavy antique brass hardware brings the traditional feeling to perfection.
