Pontiac City Commission last night reappointed Fred V. Haggard to a second term on the city's Fair Employment Practices Board. Haggard is president of the Oakland County CIO Council. The term is for five years. Other board members are Irving Steinman, chairman, Leon H. Hubbard, A. J. Cadieux and James F. Spence.

City Mulls Vote District Changes

Charter Study Group Revived to Consider Boundary Proposals

The Pontiac City Commission last night took the first step toward formulating a plan to change the city's voting district boundaries and provide a closer balance of population in them.

Commissioners reactivated a Charter Study Commission first set up in 1952. New members will be appointed and asked to work out a plan to amend the city charter providing a more equal number of registered voters in the seven districts.

Dipcussion was started by a proposal from Mayor William Donaldson that four precincts from two other districts be moved to his district (number three).

Donaldson said there are less than 4,000 voters in his district and over 7,300 in District 1 (Dr. Roy V. Cooley's).

He proposed taking two precincts from District 1 and two from District 2. This would bring registered voter totals to about 5,688 in District 1, 5,060 in 2 and 5,626 in 3, Donaldson added.

City Attorney William A. Ewart said the Commission would have to formulate and approve the proposed changes by Feb. 2 in order to get them on the April 4 ballot in the form of a charter amendment to be voted on by all city electors.

Commissioner Floyd P. Miles (District 4) said, "I'm not opposed to the change as it looks now, but I am opposed to making it in such an all - fired hurry."

An amendment to the mayor's proposal, that the boundary line of District 6 be straightened, was offered by the commissioner from that district, John E. Carry.

Commissioner Harry W. Lutz (District 7) also objected to "rushing the matter through. I'd like more time to study it". Dr. Cooley plus Commissioners Harcourt S. Patterson (District 2) and John A. Dugan (District 5) then said, if proposals other than Donaldson's were brought in they should be given a complete investigation.

A motion by Miles to table the mayor's proposal and reactivate the Charter Study Commission was passed with only Donaldson opposed.

During the debate, Donaldson said, if his district was not to be enlarged he would favor doing away with it and electing the seventh commissioner from the city at large.

Highest Budget in City History Ready for OK

Commission Tentatively Approves $4,393,960, Authorizes Pay Hikes

The highest budget in Pontiac history is expected to be approved by the City Commission next week after the body unofficially endorsed the financial plan last night.

Although a record expenditure of $4,393,960 is called for in the budget, increases in the city's assessed value are expected to permit continuation of a tax rate of $13.80 per $1,000 assessed valuation.

The Commission also passed a resolution authorizing pay raises to top city administrators. The salary increases were not included in the original budget submitted by City Manager Walter K. Willman.

The resolution amending the budget calls for a salary increase of $500 yearly for the city manager and annual pay boosts for the director of finance, the city attorney, city assessor and two municipal judges to $8,294.

The judges formerly received $7,875 yearly, the other three posts paid $7,956.

The city clerk's pay was increased from $5,850 to $6,188 and the municipal court clerk's salary from $5,355 to $5,525.

In addition to the pay hike, Willman was also given a three-week per year vacation allowance.

The appropriation ordinance, which puts the budget into effect, will be drawn up by City Attorney William A. Ewart and presented for action next week.

Higher than the 1954 budget by approximately $162,000, the 1955 financial blueprint makes provision for increased pay for lower-ranked city employes and increased cost of municipal supplies.

It calls for an expanded capital improvement program to include the following:

1. Completion of the new City Hall.

2. Participation with the State Highway Dept. in the construction of a grade separation at Telegraph Rd. and Orchard Lake Ave.

3. Initial allocation of one-half

Third to Die

DR. RICHARD SHEPPARD

Third in his family to die since July 4, Dr. Richard Sheppard, father of Dr. Samuel Sheppard, died last night at Bay View Hospital, near Cleveland, from a respiratory ailment. His daughter-in-law, of whose slaying Dr. Sam was convicted, was murdered early on July 4. His wife, Mrs. Ethel Sheppard, took her own life.

Lets Sheppard Go to Funeral

Judge Says Dr. Sam May Attend Last Rites for Father Tomorrow

CLEVELAND (AP) — Common Pleas Judge Harry A. Hanna today gave Dr. Sam Sheppard permission to attend his father's funeral scheduled for sometime tomorrow.

Dr. Richard Sheppard, 64, "lost his will to live" after the suicide of his wife 11 days ago. He died at Bay View Hospital last night of a respiratory ailment. Services will be held at the Saxton Funeral Home in Lakewood but the hour has not been divulged.

Dr. Sam was kept in a special observation cell today while guards at county jail maintained close watch.

Just a few days ago the younger Sheppard, who is appealing his conviction for second-degree murder, had been returned to his regular 4 by 8-foot cell.

He had been under observation since Jan. 7, when his mother shot herself in the head.

Jailers said Sheppard, 31, appeared to know something was wrong last night as soon as he was brought to the jail's visiting room and saw his two brothers, Dr. Richard N. and Dr. Stephen and their wives. It had been there that he had learned of his mother's death.

Placing a hand on Sheppard's shoulder, Dr. Richard said to him:

"It is good to be here again," he said. "There were many times when I never thought I would make it."

The bank's capital increased $98,558 to $775,508, equal to $3.28 per share.

A new retirement plan for employes was approved.

Girl, 16, Pleads With Felon Dad to End Rebellion

4 Prisoners Continue to Hold 5 Guards and 6 Fellow Inmates

BOSTON (INS)—A pale-but-spunky 16-year-old girl today made a futile face-to-face plea to end the 30-hour rebellion of four desperate inmates at Charlestown State Prison.

Toby Green, daughter of ringleader Theodore "Teddy" Green, bank robber and escape artist, made the unusual and dramatic plea to her daddy after the quartet defied Warden John J. O'Brien's starvation order and the arrival of a National Guard tank and continued to hold five guards and six fellow-prisoners as hostages.

Toby was brought unannounced into the main prison building with her mother, and then went alone to see her father through a barred kitchen window in the besieged, isolated Cherry Hill section.

She was brought out quickly as she entered, and what was said between father and daughter no one was able to hear.

Dr. Samuel Merlin, who accompanied the girl, said:

"Toby was there only a few minutes. I'm not sure how close they were to each other, but they were able to talk to each other."

Merlin also revealed food was brought to the hostages this forenoon.

"They had soup, egg sandwiches and coffee," he said. "The food was eaten exclusively by the hostages in a cell. The prisoners were in a separate room. They didn't ask for any of the food or try to get it.

"I think their own food supply is getting very low. I had no conversation with them but they looked good.

"They're just as defiant as ever."

The doctor said arrangements have also been made to supply the hostages with lunch and dinner. He and the Catholic chaplain, the Rev. Edward D. Hartigan of Lowell, will serve as escorts for the food.

He said the convicts heard by radio about the tank brought up to the prison from Ft. Devens and are "very uneasy about it."

"I make an hourly check by phone on the condition of guard Eugene Wills, the hostage, who is

Injuries Fatal to Pedestrian

Mrs. Mamie Burr Dies When Hit by Auto in Royal Oak Today

A 27-year-old mother of two children was injured fatally this morning when she was struck by a car at Woodward Ave. and Coolidge Hwy.

Dead on arrival at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital was Mrs. Mamie Burr, 24260 Oneida, Oak Park.

Royal Oak Police said the victim was struck by a car driven by Robert E. Nihranz, 16, of 1912 Evergreen, Royal Oak, as she was crossing Woodward. She was a laundry department employe at William Beaumont Hospital.

In a statement to Assistant Prosecutor Donald A. Brown, Nihranz, a filling station attendant, said he was traveling north on Woodward just right of the island.

"I felt a thud, but I didn't see anything until I hit her," he said. Police said they found Mrs. Burr lying about 90 feet north of the point of impact.

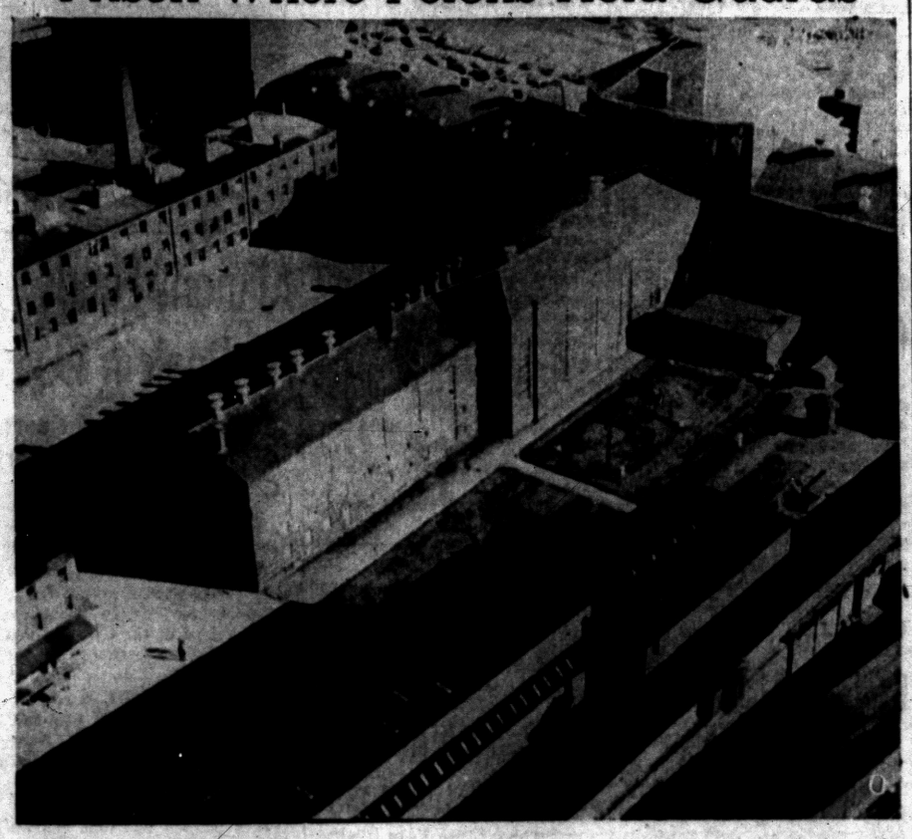

Brown, who said Nihranz has been turned over to juvenile authorities, added that another woman who witnessed the accident will make a statement later today.

The youth said he was traveling about 40 to 45 miles an hour while the traffic signal at the intersection was green.

Besides the children, Patricia, 4, and Dianne, 2, Mrs. Burr is survived by her husband, Elmer A. Also surviving are her mother in Washington, D. C., three brothers and a sister in Virginia.

THREATEN REPRISALS—Five guards are being held as hostages (in cell block in lower left hand corner of picture) by four desperate convicts who attempted to escape from Charlestown State Prison in Boston yesterday. The felons, led by Theodore "Teddy" Green, threatened to kill a guard for every shot fired at them late last night. Prison officials said no force was planned to subdue the uprising.

OCSC Again Named Host

Local Sportsmen Awarded '55 National Skeet Shoot

By H. GUY MOATS
Pontiac Press Sports Editor

National Skeet Shooting Assn. today announced that the 1955 championships would return to Pontiac. They were held here, at Oakland County Sportsmen's Club, near Waterford, last fall. The record-setting event at that time almost assured its return this year.

Chester Crites, international skeet champion and president of the NSSA for 1955, joined today with Jerry Wooliever, OCSC president, in making the announcement, which followed a luncheon and meeting at OCSC this afternoon.

The shoot falls on the same dates as last fall, beginning Aug. 28 and running through Sept. 4.

While the event last fall attracted a field of some 450 active shooters and some 600 altogether, it is anticipated this year's championships will boost these figures considerably.

It will again be an event of international aspect. There are hopes this phase will be increased as a result of Crites' participation, and success, in the big shoot in Venezuela last fall. Crites emerged from that test as international champion.

Last fall, in Pontiac, Canadian and Puerto Rico teams made important contributions to the success of the affair. The big gun of the event turned out to be a San Juan police executive, Col.

Second Storm Rips California

Southern Part of State Hit by Wind, Rain and Blizzards

By UNITED PRESS

A furious winter storm lashed southern California today with a combination of tornado-like winds, torrential rains, floods and mountain blizzards.

The shrieking winds ripped Los Angeles, whisking up an automobile and hurling it 40 feet. Another blast sent a billboard crashing onto four cars.

It was the second savage storm to hit California within 48 hours. Central and Northern California were lashed yesterday by a wintry blast that packed winds up to 104 miles per hour.

In southern California the snow storms had closed several mountain roads.

Rain came down by the bucketful piling up an inch deep in Long Beach within just one hour.

The water ran curb-high in downtown Los Angeles for a while and a lightning bolt tore a hole in a building roof, knocking down two women office workers.

Streets were flooded on the city's outskirts, and some power and telephone lines were down. In some areas school children were sent home for safety yesterday.

The snow was down to the 2,200-foot level in mountains surrounding Los Angeles.

Both the California storms were the worst of the season for the stricken areas. In the northern part of the state there was 19 inches of new snow in the Sierra Nevada Mountains and 30 in the Siskiyous. Some cities were doused with more than an inch and a half of rain in 12 hours.

54,000 in Area Still Need 1955 Auto Licenses

With only 34 days remaining until the Feb. 28 deadline, some 54,000 Pontiac area residents still have not purchased their 1955 auto license plates.

Willis M. Brewer, manager of the Pontiac secretary of state's office, said today that only about 15,000 plates had been issued so far.

Last year's total for the local office was 64,000 registrations, and an increase of 5,000 is expected this year.

The license bureau is open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. weekdays, and from 9 a.m. to noon on Saturday.

Brewer pointed out that motorists should not forget to bring their titles along when applying for the new plates, since licenses cannot be issued without the title certificates.

New location of the office is at 53 N. Parke St., a half-block north of the municipal parking lot.

Four-Footed Flatfeet Pound Dearborn Beat

DEARBORN, Mich. (AP) — Members of the Dearborn City Council last night warily inspected the four latest additions to the police force: a quartet of dark-eyed German shepherd dogs which will be assigned to accompany officers on the night beat.

Mrs. Marguerite C. Johnson, public safety director, said that after undergoing rigorous training the dogs will be able to disarm bandits, scale fences and walls and hold at bay any trespasser.

The beauty of the arrangement, she said, is that the dogs' only wages will be three pounds of horsemeat a day.

"And they work seven nights a week," she said, "with nothing mentioned about overtime."

More County Office Space Would Result From Shifts

Suggested moves to provide more space for Oakland County offices will be presented to the supervisors Friday by the Building and Grounds Committee, according to Auditor Robert E. Lilly.

The recommendations are embodied in a report made to the committee by the three auditors.

They include:

Converting to office space 5,000 square feet in the Welfare Building in the county service center on North Telegraph road, and moving the Probate Court's juvenile division there.

Expanding the prosecutor's and county clerk's offices into space in the courthouse which would be vacated by the juvenile division.

Switching the Board of Education offices from the office building at 1 Lafayette St. to the nurses' home at contagious hospital on North Telegraph.

Moving the equalization department from the office building's second floor into the present education offices and putting the civil defense director in the present equalization department.

Giving additional space in the office building basement to the register of deeds and providing quarters either in the office building or courthouse for a fourth circuit judge.

Heaviest Attack Believed Sign of Invasion Soon

Chiang's Soldiers Still Fighting Off Commies on Bloody Outpost

TAIPEH, Formosa (AP) — More than 200 Communist warplanes unleashed the heaviest air attack of the Chinese Civil War against the Nationalists' Tachen Islands today in a likely prelude to invasion.

Eight miles to the north, said the Nationalist Defense Ministry, guerrillas "fighting in pools of blood" were still resisting on battered Yikiangshan, invaded by the Reds yesterday.

It was believed here, however, that only isolated groups were still fighting and that Red conquest of the 3½-square mile island was nearly complete. The Reds claimed they had already captured it.

Peiping radio said the conquest was made in two hours. Quoting the official newspaper People's Daily, it called the invasion "a victory of modern military technique." It said, "The victory shows that the Chinese people are unshakable in their determined will to fight for the liberation of Taiwan (Formosa). The ocean is no barrier to the heroic Chinese people's liberation army."

(In Washington, the Pentagon said yesterday U.S. sources in the Formosa area had sent the Joint Chiefs of Staff a report officially confirming that Yikiangshan had fallen to the Reds. Early today, a Pentagon spokesman said he had no further information.)

Actual invasion of the Tachens may not come until they have been softened up from the air. The islands are reported to be well fortified and strongly manned, and having terrain that makes them almost ideal for defensive warfare.

The statement by U.S. Secretary of State Dulles that the United States would offer no objection to the United Nations seeking a cease-fire in the civil war caused a real sensation here.

Qualified sources indicated the Nationalists would flatly reject such an idea. Official quarters refused to talk for publication, but there was no mistaking their unfavorable reaction.

The China News, an independent newspaper with close contacts in high places, declared, "Free China will fight to the very end against such a presumptuous idea as a cease-fire in any form or under any circumstances."

There is a general impression here too that Dulles in effect was

Invaders Pushed by Costa Ricans

Loyalist Forces Gain 5 Miles; Fighter Planes Sent by U.S. Idle

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica (INS)—The Costa Rican government announced today its troops advanced five miles north of Santa Rosa in renewed fighting against rebel invaders yesterday.

A headquarters communique said the high command estimated 50 of the enemy were wounded in the third battle in the Santa Rosa area within four days. One loyalist soldier was wounded.

The number of invaders killed in yesterday's action in northwest Guanacaste Province was not known.

The communique added that government forces captured a considerable amount of equipment including one truck.

The high command also announced the capture of Miguel Ruiz, who was identified as having opened the invasion by leading the rebel attack on Villa Quesada last week. Six other invaders were taken by the government troops.

The investigating committee of the Organization of American States was scheduled to return to San Jose today. A military commission attached to the investigating group left for the Nicaraguan-Costa Rican frontier yesterday.

The four F-51 fighter planes sold to Costa Rica by the U.S. on the recommendation of the OAS committee were yet to go into action. Costa Rican pilots practiced with them yesterday.

City Will Study Dogs on Loose

Will Seek Means to Cut Number at Large as Safety Measure

The Pontiac City Commission last night decided to set a meeting to discuss ways of cutting down on the number of dogs running loose in the city.

The move was suggested by Commissioner John E. Carry and supported by Commissioner Harcourt S. Patterson.

Carry cited a recent incident where three children were bitten by a dog at Webster School.

An informal meeting will be held at an early date, commissioners indicated, to review the problem and discuss what can be done about it.

The city now requires that dogs be kept tied from May to October, said City Manager Walter K. Willman. Carry suggested that school grounds might be fenced in or that a year-round leashing of dogs be made mandatory.

Willman anticipates income from taxes will total $2,773,264 and income from other sources of municipal revenue will total $1,500,338. The budget also recommends that $120,357 from surplus be applied to budget income.

Besides these sources of income, approximately $375,000 will be returned to the city by the State Highway Dept. in gasoline and weight taxes during the year, Willman said.

The funds will be used for street construction within the city.

Willman estimated that approximately $500,000 in special assessment income will also be available during the year for a like purpose.

Major items expenditure - wise are $3,318,196 for operations; $717,500 for the city's share of capital improvements; $257,264 for waste collection and disposal and $101,000 representing one-half mill levied for payment of a $3,000,000 hospital bond issue, assuming the bonds will be sold this year.

Selfridge Officer Explains Air Defense

Col. William Tope, commander of Selfridge Air Force base addressed the Oakland County Torch Club at Birmingham Community House last night. Col. Tope discussed air defense, and especially the operations centered at Selfridge.

He said Selfridge is charged with defense of an area roughly within a 200-mile radius from the field. Other bases to the north take over beyond that limit, although all are directed from a central command.

He described the intricate radar systems which keep a constant alert and by which all-weather jet fighters are guided to their targets.

Rockets from fighting planes are fired without the pilots ever seeing their targets, he said.

Pilots and planes at Selfridge are on constant alert 24 hours a day, Col. Tope said, and can be airborne within minutes after an alarm. Every plane which flies in the area must be satisfactorily identified, he added.

Girl's Condition Is Satisfactory

Man Who Fired Shot, 4 Teenagers Released After Questioning

Reported in satisfactory condition at Pontiac General Hospital today was Mrs. Jo Ellen Hall, 17, of Auburn Heights, who was wounded in the back by a shotgun slug yesterday.

The slug was fired by Seward Rossman, 45, of 3151 Lake George Rd., Oxford Township, who told the prosecutor's office he fired at the gas tank of the car in which she was riding, thinking its occupants had stolen gas from a tank in his yard.

Rossman and the four teenagers in the car were released after questioning yesterday by Oakland County Assistant Prosecutor Robert D. Long, who said no charges would be lodged unless future developments changed the picture.

Driver of the car, James Maybee, 18, of 2627 Frankson, Rochester, said he had gone to Rossman's door to ask directions after becoming lost following an early morning skating party on Silver Lake.

The shot, which passed through the car's trunk and back seat, was fired as he drove away, said Maybee.

Released besides Rossman and Maybee were Clement C. Berger, 18, of 3035 John R., Birmingham; Edward Drogosh, 17, 2321 Longview, Rochester, and Sylvia Maybee, 16, James' sister.

A threat to Pishan, a Nationalist island 32 miles southwest of the Techesn, also appeared to be developing. The Nationalist reported the Communists fired 132 shells at Pishan and said Red warships were in the vicinity.

Air Force headquarters reported Nationalist planes carried out night-long attacks against Communist ships in the Tachens and many Communist craft were destroyed or damaged.

The Nationalists also said anti-aircraft guns shot down a Soviet-built TU2 twin-engine light bomber in the attack on the Tachens.

Real Estate Scheme Exposed by C. of C.

A group of unlicensed real estate promoters are flooding Pontiac and vicinity with cards stating they can sell business places at high prices, according to John W. Hirlinger, assistant manager of the Pontiac Chamber of Commerce.

"All they offer to do, when you study the proposal closely, is to put a listing in a so-called national publication of theirs," Hirlinger explained.

"But they ask a $250 to $600 advance commission. I've never heard of any property being sold through this method, but we have had several complaints from people who paid the commission and got no results."

Officials OK Standards for Civic Betterment

In order to remind Pontiac residents of the need for civic betterment to keep the city on a par with the best in the nation, the City Commission last night adopted a set of standards designed to measure improvements.

The resolution, submitted by Commissioner Harcourt S. Patterson, was unanimously approved.

Pointing out that Pontiac measures up favorably with most cities, Patterson said it is "the responsibility of the Commission to maintain a civic betterment program and to point out requirements for the best type of community to residents.

The resolution lists 10 gauges to measure and appraise betterment. They are:

The best type of community—

1—Possesses a marked degree of civic unity and community pride.

2—Affords reasonably good opportunities for honest and industrious parents to maintain a comfortable standard of living for themselves and children.

3—Provides adequate facilities for wholesome physical and social recreation for children and adults of different ages.

4—Emphasizes the importance and value of the refining influence of good music, lectures, entertainment and books.

5—Emphasizes health and physical well being of children.

6—Is liberal in its financial and moral support to schools.

7—Insists upon a high standard of efficiency in schools.

8—Maintains churches that are active in the matters pertaining to the religious education of children and young people.

9—Possesses the services of influential men and women who exhibit a keen sense of responsibility for meeting exacting standards in their personal, business and official conduct.

10—Supports one or more community organizations designed to promote the civic, cultural and moral welfare of the community as a whole.

The resolution concludes with a plea to residents urging them to "give their wholehearted support and backing in attaining the above standards during 1955 and the years following."

EXPLORER SUB — George Moore Jr., is shown in a two-man submarine after it was launched on Lake Texoma, near Durant, Okla. Stern of the midget ship is almost submerged, and the bow is awash. Alimony Funds Hit Peak in 1954

County Friend of Court Collects $2 Million for Child Support

Alimony payments in divorce cases involving minor children hit an all-time high last year in Oakland County.

Receipts for 1954 in the office of the Friend of the Court totaled $2,076,696.95, an increase of 8.8 per cent over 1953.

W. Cadman Prout, friend of the court, said that at year-end his office was handling 3,000 active cases. New cases filed during 1954 totaled 1,168, involving 2,251 minor children.

Prout pointed out that enforcement was also a bigger problem, with 680 warrants for contempt of court issued for failure to meet alimony payments. The number issued in 1953 was 565.

Duties of the office of the Friend of the Court include investigation and recommendations in divorce cases involving minor children, collection of alimony and payments for support of children, and enforcement of court orders in these cases.

The office has a staff of 22 and was operated on a budget of $84,184 in 1954.

Daughter, 16, Begs Felon to Surrender running a fever and has a heart condition," Dr. Merlin said. "I will go in to see him any time his condition worsens."

The four desperadoes still hold somewhat of a whip hand by their threats of death to a hostage for every shot fired against them.

The quartet, armed with three pistols, was not moved by the warning of Attorney General George Fingold, broadcast over the prison public address system to them, that all four would face the electric chair if even one of the hostage guards died in captivity.

They made only one continual request—safe conduct to a car and freedom—and they continued that request in the face of increasing armed might against them.

"They have given their ultimatum—they want out," said Warden O'Brien. "The answer is no to any and all concessions. I want my five guards and surrender, nothing more."

O'Brien's firm stand against any deal paid off in one crisis. Green had told him to get Gov. Christian A. Herter to send over a getaway car and assure the four of safe conduct out of the prison or there would be fireworks at 5 p.m.

O'Brien didn't bother to answer the brazen demand and the deadline passed without incident.

O'Brien said this much was learned concerning the start of the attempted break. It was planned seven weeks ago when saws and at least one pistol were smuggled into the Cherry Hill cellblock.

Shortly after midnight Tuesday, Fritz O. Swenson, 31, doing life for the murder of a Boston police sergeant, sawed his way out of his cell. He tossed Green the saw and the pair broke a slide block, springing 15 cells in one tier open.

They were joined by Walter H. Balben, 38, of Hudson, doing 35 years for armed robbery and escape, and Joseph A. Flaherty, 32, of Boston, a rapist and one-time Boston Public Enemy No. 1.

Troy Resident, 33, Named Man of Year

TROY TOWNSHIP—A 33-year-old attorney, Donald K. Harness, was chosen Detroit's Young Man of the Year at the 14th annual Award banquet of the Detroit Junior Board of Commerce last night.

He lives at 1181 Long Lake Road.

Harness' selection was based on general personal reputation, community work, business standing and interest in state and national affairs.

The award presentation was made by Raymond T. Perring, president of the Detroit Bank. The speaker at the banquet was Walker L. Cisler, president of the Detroit Edison Co.

Teeth of the Law Close on Nose-Biting Hubby

LOS ANGELES (INS) — The FBI announced in Los Angeles today that a man wanted for biting off the nose of his estranged wife has been captured in Sarasota, Fla.

The suspect is Calvert J. Mack, 36, a television technician, who is held in Sarasota on a charge of flight to escape prosecution.

Los Angeles Police said they will move at once for the return of Mack to face the charge that on Aug. 14, 1953, he bit off almost one-third of the nose of his wife, Mrs. Joan Saville, 40.

OCSC Will Entertain National Skeet Shoot

Salvatore Roig, who captured several top championships.

Other members of the island's team also figured in a number of the more important title events. Howard Confer, Detroit, took the big one, the all-gauge championship, and Roig the high-overall.

Following the close of last fall's championships many of the contestants expressed the hope that it would be brought back here in '55. This view was based upon the exceptionally fine handling the event was given by the host club, and the almost perfect setup in the skeet fields and other physical facilities.

Another important factor was the geographical location—most centrally located championships site since the NSSA has held these events.

Last year's shoot was the first to be held in many years east of the Mississippi.

When selection of the 1955 site was first discussed invitations to other areas interested in filing bids were sent out, Crites says. "When these areas found out what the OCSC had to offer, they soon left Pontiac alone in the field" one OCSC official said today.

Elder Sheppard Dies in Family Hospital

"You must know why we are here."

Quietly he said:

"Dad passed away tonight."

Sheppard sobbed, his head in his hands.

The brothers and their wives spent 15 minutes with the prisoner. They had come to the jail directly from the Bay View Osteopathic Hospital, where the elder Sheppard was chief of staff. They had been summoned to his bedside, but did not arrive before he died.

Son of a methodist minister, the elderly doctor was born at Fostoria, Ohio. His father had a pastorate in Paris, Ill., in 1915, when he met and married Ethel Leah Niles, a schoolteacher.

After some years of practice in Fayetteville, N.C., and Upper Sandusky Ohio, Sheppard came to Cleveland about 1923. In 1935 he founded what later became the Bay View Hospital. He was a former president of the National Osteopathic Hospital Assn. and the American College of Osteopathic Surgeons.

An Appellate Court today denied bail to Dr. Sam Sheppard.

Study Shows Need for 4 School Sites

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — Preliminary studies indicate that four elementary school sites should be acquired in the very near future and one school should be built here immediately, the Board of Education heard this week.

Dr. Donald Leu, chairman of the Michigan State College survey committee now studying all phases of the school district's needs, suggested sites as follows: East of Woodward between Kensington and Adams; the Pine Lake area; the Wing Lake district; and in the vicinity of Lone Pine and Telegraph roads.

Needed at once is an elementary school to serve the northeast area, Leu told board members. He also recommended at least one other junior high school separated from the new senior high school.

Education Talk Slated Tonight

Council for Exceptional Children Is Sponsoring Wayne Professor

Dr. John J. Lee of Wayne University will deliver a talk tonight on "Recent Trends and Developments in Special Education" in Lincoln Junior High School at 8 o'clock.

Dr. Lee is professor and general adviser of special education at Wayne and is on the advisory committee for elementary and secondary education in the United States Office of Education.

Sponsored by the Pontiac Area Chapter of the International Council for Exceptional Children, Dr. Lee's talk is open to the public.

The local chapter of the ICEC said that Dr. Lee's appearance will aid many people in becoming better acquainted with the aims and functions of the program.

Oakland County is the only county in the nation which locally supports and controls its own program.

Prior to the opening of the meeting, the ICEC will conduct a coffee hour from 7:30 to 8 p.m.

Halt China War, Ike Hints to U.N.

President Says He'd Like World Body to Try for Cease Fire

WASHINGTON (AP)— President Eisenhower said today he would like to see the United Nations try to arrange a cease fire between the Chinese Nationalists and Red China's attacking forces.

The President told a news conference that he does not know whether the U. N. would be able to do anything about halting the shooting, but he said he would like to see it use its good offices to seek a cease fire.

* * *

The President's remarks came atop a statement yesterday by Secretary of State Dulles that the United States would offer no objections to the United Nations' seeking a cease fire. Dulles' statement created a sensation in Formosa, stronghold of the Chinese Nationalists.

AP correspondent Spencer Moosa at Taipeh reported that qualified sources indicated the Chinese Nationalists would reject such an idea.

* * *

A cease fire in effect would end Chinese Nationalist hopes of ever returning to the mainland.

Eisenhower also told his news conference that Dag Hammarskjold's mission to Peiping in an effort to win release of 11 imprisoned American airmen cannot be regarded as a failure so long as negotiations are continuing.

'Influencers' Fakes, Postmaster States

"There is no possible way in which outside influence can be exerted to aid persons in getting civil service jobs," Acting Pontiac Postmaster Leslie H. Dean said today.

Dean said he has information that a group is circulating through the city leading people to believe they can help get them civil service positions.

"To obtain a position," said Dean, "you simply pass the exam and wait for an opening for which you are qualified.

"All information on job openings and civil service procedure can be secured from any larger post office, such as the one here."

Three Children of Fireman Die as Home Burns

SOUTH AMBOY, N.J., (AP)—Three children of a fireman, including twins, suffocated early today in a blaze that swept their two-story frame home here.

The victims were Geraldine and Jacqueline Deliman, each 4 and their 2-year-old brother, Raymond Jr.

Their father, Raymond, 38, suffered first and second degree burns.

His wife, who had been sleeping downstairs with a month-old daughter, fled to safety with the infant. They were unhurt.

Deliman, who was upstairs, heard his wife's screams when the fire broke out in the living room. He raced down, but found his way blocked by flames when he tried to get back to his other youngsters on the second floor.

2 Words Spoken by Homeless Child Raise Millions for Others Like Her

By EDDIE CANTOR

Shortly after France was freed from the Nazi occupation, I paid a visit to a suburb where the Joint Distribution Committee has one of its many homes for refugee children.

Having handed 40 or 50 bars of chocolate to these motherless and fatherless children, I noticed, in a corner, a little girl not more than 6 years old. She had blonde curls and a thin, wan face. She had not touched her candy.

I walked over and knelt beside her. "Now what can I do for you, young lady?" I asked. Then I heard the two saddest words I have ever heard in my life. "Love me," the little girl said. Not another thing—just "love me."

Those words and the child's face haunted me for weeks. I began to tell the story at meetings—at dinners—wherever I would go—just as it happened, with no attempt at eloquence or pathos. I have seen many men and women visibly affected.

I do not know where the little girl is now, but I am here to report that her two words have raised millions of dollars for children like her.

Ida and I were on a ship returning from Europe, when the news came that Babe Ruth had passed away. That night, in memory of the great "Babe," I arranged a concert aboard ship—the money to go to The American Cancer Society.

The passengers were most generous. We had raised many thousands of dollars when I announced to the audience that I would gladly sing any song for five hundred dollars. A distinguished-looking gentleman stood up and, in a booming voice, said, "Eddie Cantor, I'll pay a thousand dollars if you don't sing!" The people laughed—Cantor sat down—and two worthy charities were made a little richer.

Presbyterians' Merger Stalled

Dixie Churches Balk at Unification of Three U.S. Branches

ATLANTA (AP)—Southern Presbyterians have defeated a plan to merge the three branches of the Presbyterian Church into the Presbyterian Church of the United States.

The Southerners started the present move 17 years ago after considerable debate and then finally voted against it yesterday.

* * *

Church leaders generally were disappointed but remaing firm in the conviction that union of the three branches with a membership of 3½ million was inevitable in the next few years.

Yesterday 23 Southern presbyteries (districts) voted on the suggestion to end the split which originally developed over the slavery question in 1861. The results: 14 against, 7 for, 2 still to be heard from.

The 26 negative votes were more than enough to kill the plan. Only 22 were needed, as approval of three-fourths of the 86 presbyteries was required for acceptance. However, voting will continue into April.

Approval would have united the 737,000 - member Presbyterian Church in the U.S. (Southern) with the 2½-million - member Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. (mostly Northern) and the 229,000-member United Presbyterian Church (largely Midwestern).

Top governing bodies of all three branches, called the general assemblies, approved the merger last year and the voting was on ratification by the regional presbyteries.

Northern presbyteries have been coming out solidly for the union, with endorsement already received from 45 of the 256 districts. Each presbytery is made up of the pastor and one elder from each congregation in the district. The elders have equal voice with pastors in the regional votes on ratification.

Sees A-Power Within 10 Years

But Solon Thinks Early Use Will Be Limited to Needy Regions

DETROIT (UP) — Rep. W. Sterling Cole (R-NY), former chairman of the Joint Congressional Committee on Atomic Energy, has predicted atomic power "should come into its own" in some areas within 10 years.

Speaking before the Detroit Economic Club recently, Cole said the use of atomic power within the next decade would be limited to high-cost, power-starved areas of the world, however.

"Technical problems of great complexity must still be solved before atomic power is available at prices competitive with electricity secured from cheap conventional fuels with which our nation has been endowed," he said.

He said it might take another 5 or 10 years of hard work and cost another billion dollars in research and in construction of model reactors.

But he predicted that by the end of the century half of the new generating capacity installed in the United States each year might well run on atomic fuel.

Followers Back Spirit Preacher

UM Prof Sues Adviser for $16,400 He Lost in Spooky Investments

DETROIT (AP) — Followers of a woman spiritualist preacher accused of giving a University of Michigan history professor bum steers in the business world were ready to testify in her behalf today.

Dr. Albert Hyma and his wife Vera are suing the Rev. Lillian Lee in an effort to recover $16,400 allegedly lost in bad investments. Mrs. Lee is a Church of Christ, Spiritualist, minister.

* * *

Dr. Hyma contends the money was fraudulently obtained from him through "bad financial advice" of departed souls contacted by Mrs. Lee.

He said their poor counsel led him to invest $16,400 in a dry oil well near Grand Rapids, Mich., a nonexistent Mexican fortune and an Ann Arbor, Mich., firm which later went bankrupt.

* * *

Mrs. Lee denies the charges, contending she merely transmits advice of spirits either through a silver trumpet or through her own mouth while she is in a trance.

Dr. Hyma testified yesterday he was one of Mrs. Lee's followers for 13 years, but left the church in 1947 after suffering the three financial setbacks by following spirit world advice given by Mrs. Lee via Thomas Carlyle, Scottish writer who died in 1881.

Once previously the case was thrown out of court by a judge who said that Hyma, being an intelligent man, visited Mrs. Lee "with his eyes wide open." The State Supreme Court later upheld the professor's right to sue.

East Lansing Moves Closer to Fluoridation

EAST LANSING (AP)—The East Lansing City Council has taken another step toward fluoridation of the city's water supply as a means of preventing tooth decay.

The council authorized the city manager to obtain price quotations on fluoridation machinery.

Council members said they will not seek a popular vote on the issue since the city charter gives the council full control of the water supply. A vote on the issue in adjoining Lansing rejected fluoridation by approximately four to one.

Individual prospectors have made nearly all the important new uranium discoveries in the United States, says the National Geographic Society. Early in 1949 at Marysvale, Utah, about 160 miles south of Salt Lake City, a prospector discovered radioactive minerals while examining some old mines and gave the United States its first important source of primary uranium.

Financial World

New to Brown

Farmer Determined to Succeed as Michigan Treasurer

LANSING (UP) — New State Treasurer Sanford A. Brown, Bay Port, freely admits the only financial experience he's had is balancing his own bank book.

But running the state treasury is practically the same thing on a larger scale, he adds.

Brown, 45, a life-long farmer before he was elected guardian of the state's money in the Democratic sweep last November, is finding it a bit more complicated, however, to handle Michigan's billion-dollar bank book than his own.

He's analyzing the whole problem to determine whether it would be wise to set up a permanent advisory committee on state investments, rather than trust the judgment of two or three people in his department.

He says he believes his most important job is investing the state's money at the highest possible rate of interest. This means finding good investments for the $250,000,000 or $300,000,000 which comes into the treasurer's office for investment each year.

The total amount of money handled by the treasurer's office last year was $961,000,000. This figure doesn't overwhelm "Farmer Brown," a nickname coined by Gov. G. Mennen Williams, but he's proceeding cautiously and seeking expert advice along the way.

He has a study going on the merits of paying the state's bills by checks signed by the treasurer rather than warrants routed through the auditor general's office.

Under the warrant system, the auditor general gets vouchers from the Department of Administration for payment of bills, turns these into warrants and passes them on to the treasurer who mails them out to creditors.

When the warrants are cashed and eventually returned to the treasurer, he sends them back to the auditor general.

Brown has an idea it might be more efficient and cheaper to handle the whole thing by checks direct from the treasurer's office.

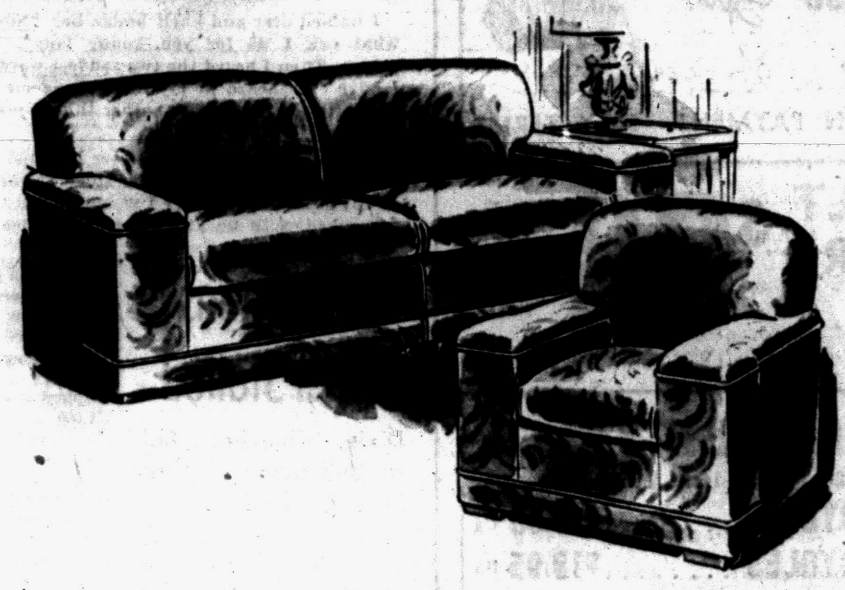

Brown was a successful farmer, and he is determined to be a successful treasurer.

Draft Law Extension

President Eisenhower has asked Congress to extend the draft law four years, create a powerful military reserve and for a selective pay increase to encourage more re-enlistments.

The draft law extension and stronger reserve and selective pay boost plans are the same as unveiled early in December by Defense Secretary Wilson.

As we pointed out then, this reflects the Administration's new approach to the manpower problem. Instead of considering it piecemeal, it is being treated as a unit and includes a modified version of universal military training.

The Press believes that no one understanding the tense international situation could dispute our continuing need for conscription. We also believe it is equally important to strengthen our military reserves.

Finally, we share the President's opinion that selective pay increases are necessary to induce more men to make military service their career. His plans call for raises for officers after three years service and for enlisted men after two years.

These increases and other allowances proposed would increase the service payroll by about $750,000,000 a year. That sum would be more than offset by the armed forces manpower cuts announced by Secretary Wilson December 20.

Controversial as some parts of this program are, Congress has given the President's plans a reasonably favorable reception. Here, surely, is one issue in which our national need for adequate defense transcends partisanship.

Ratification Shoals

The French Assembly has ratified the London and Paris agreements but that doesn't mean that there aren't troubles ahead for the plan to rearm Germany.

At the time the Assembly redeemed itself with a favorable vote, similar action by the Council of the Republic was considered a foregone conclusion. Unfortunately, however, the French Constitution provides that if the Council, which corresponds to our Senate, makes even a minor change in the ratification act, it will have to go back to the Assembly.

In this process there would be delay and the possibility that the slim 27 vote margain given ratification might disappear. The fact that there were more than 80 abstentions in the Assembly is further indication of the situation's weakness.

Similarly, in Germany conditions have changed. Chancellor Adenauer has lost some strength and there is at least room for doubt about ratification. A factor now apparent is the great distrust with which the German view remilitarization. This represents a complete change in public opinion.

In Washington it is recognized that there is a strong desire in Germany and more so in France for still another conference with the Russians. German Socialists feel that such talks somehow might further German unification.

★ ★ ★

All this admittedly reflects the pessimistic view of ratification prospects. But it may not be unduly gloomy in view of Russia's continued effort to block French and German ratification. Even Washington expects that in the coming weeks there will be increasing pressure on the United States and Britain to agree to new talks with the USSR before Germany is rearmed.

Confession in Panama

A Panamanian lawyer's confession has solved the murder of that country's President, Jose A. Remon, unseated his successor and given the Republic its third chief executive in 13 days.

This startling development came suddenly and climaxed a series of events which would have given a romantic novelist material for a fast moving story of intrigue. The confession of assassin Ruben Miro, read before the Assembly, implicated the former vice president, Jose Ramon Guizado, as one of those who plotted the assassination.

The Assembly immediately removed Giuzado from the presidency, ordered his arrest and started arrangements for his trial as a plotter. It then installed the new vice president, Ricardo Arias Espinosa, as President.

The big break in the assassination mystery came on a tip from a girl friend of Cadet Edgardo Tejada who had backed out of the plot at the last minute. This led to Miro's confession that he, the deposed President and one other plotter were heavily in debt and thought the best way to recoup financially would be to get Guizado into the presidency.

Also revealed as a factor in the solution was Miro's anger because the deposed president hadn't carried out his bargain to give him a high post in the Guizado administration.

In the absence of any evidence of outside participation it seems reasonable to consider the assassination a strictly domestic political crime.

Slain President Remon was a staunch friend of the United States. Because of that and because the Canal Zone is part of Panama, our Government naturally hopes that political stability already has been restored there.

The Man About Town

Car Going Strong

Inspiration Follows Pontiac Delegation to Big Auto Show

Friend: A person who learns all about you and still is your friend.

The Pontiac delegation in New York for the GM Motorama finds inspiration in the words of

to the effect that more Pontiac cars came off the assembly line in December than in any other previous month in history, and that this month will be still larger. This inspiration is shared by Mr. Critchfield's men who make the cars, and by all the rest of us folks back home.

New Courthouse Site Would Best Serve This County in Entirety, Says Milfordite

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

Here are a few suggestions relating to the courthouse and its location. It is my opinion that the new location would best serve Oakland County as a whole.

Here are my reasons: There are many more people in the outer districts of Oakland County than there are within the City of Pontiac. It is democratic in principle to serve the majority and the majority interest.

Also our Board of Supervisors and others have moved the Oakland County Farmer's Market to a new location very remote from downtown Pontiac, on the Pontiac Lake Road, ½ mile west of Telegraph Road.

It is going to take a long hard pull to bring this market up to the point where it will be as well patronized as was the old market in downtown Pontiac. First of all, we must establish a transportation system into that district.

There is no single act on the part of the citizens of Oakland County that would do more to bring this about than to move the Oakland County Courthouse into the nearby district of the "farmers market."

If there is a doubt as to how Oakland County stands as a whole, why not put it on the April ballot and settle it in a democratic way?

Increase Export Trade, Avoid Unemployment

The workers in the automobile companies are to go through a period of distress over the annual wage problem. There is no need of this worry if everyone would help make our export trade greater.

The once illiterate countries are fairly aching for our goods, at a moderate price. We should be selling at least twice as much outside our borders as figures show.

Instead of stirring up the trouble the majority does not want, the union leaders should be in Africa, South America, anywhere that markets for our goods could be made.

There is a race for world trade. If we get our share, there will be no unemployment for many years.

Children Who Faint After Bump on Head Very Common - - - Fear Is the Cause

Dolly's case scared her mother almost to death. But our oldest son and our daughter Judy did the same thing as Dolly when they were her age. So read about this case and pass it along to mothers of young children, for this problem is widespread.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case N-327: Dolly F., aged 4, has scared her mother almost to death.

"Dr. Crane, when Dolly was 15 months old," her mother explained, "she fell off a kitchen chair and struck her head on the floor.

"It wasn't too serious a fall but Dolly started to cry, more from fright than actual pain.

"Then her eyes started to roll and she blacked out. She went limp and was unconscious for a few seconds.

"It frightened me, for I thought she was dying. But in a short time she regained consciousness.

"I took her to our family doctor and he said he didn't find anything wrong with her.

"However, throughout the following three years, she has done the same thing several times.

"For example, yesterday she struck her head slightly while playing with her brother and immediately she passed out. She always looks as white as a sheet at the time. What can I do for her?"

Many of you parents have expressed the same difficulty with your children.

And it obviously frightens a parent. In fact, when our oldest son was about a year old, he was sitting on the floor. He accidentally fell forward and struck his head. Then he passed out just exactly as Dolly has done.

And our daughter Judy would do the same thing if she bumped her head. She and her brother both fainted away in this manner on several occasions during their toddler years.

Medically, we explain this effect as due to fear. The condition is a simple case of fainting, which becomes linked with the pain of bumping the head.

I have seen children faint when the actual blow to the head was so slight it couldn't have produced unconsciousness due to the physical force of the impact.

But the child was scared. And fear can cause the blood vessels in the brain to contract suddenly, thus producing a temporary anemia.

We call this effect a vascular spasm. And it isn't limited to babies or toddlers.

In the Army or Navy for example, when men are lined up awaiting a simple medical shot with a hypodermic needle, many robust males will faint and drop to the floor.

They may bravely face the enemy with assurance and even enter into bayonet battles with the foe in hand to hand conflict.

But the sight of a tiny needle on the end of a hypodermic syringe will cause them to turn pale. This vascular spasm affects the brain, so they black out.

In dealing with such child fainters, just be calm. Wipe the child's forehead with a cold wash cloth or rub an ice cube over it.

During fainting, the heart still keeps beating and the child breathes at regular intervals.

So, as long as the child breathes regularly, you don't need fret. And you can always employ artificial respiration if breathing ever should stop.

Ultimately, the child seems to outgrow this fainting from simple bumps on the head.

It is a temporary nuisance habit, like blushing and stuttering, but it doesn't persist into adulthood as those habits often do.

David Lawrence Says:

GM Executives Optimistic About Future of Business

WASHINGTON — The cynical in our midst who speak of American businessmen as standpatters or ultra - conservatives, timid about change and hesitant to move forward, would have been disillusioned if they could have attended the luncheon given by General Motors to several hundred of the top industrial and financial executives of the country.

Something of the imagination and boldness in planning which has made America the most powerful nation industrially in the world was reflected in the speeches made by Harlow H. Curtice, president, and Alfred P. Sloan Jr., chairman of the board, of the General Motors Corporation.

Sitting in the audience was Charles E. Wilson, former president of the corporation and now the secretary of defense and, if anybody had any doubt about that famous misquotation which was so widely circulated, he must have had such doubt removed. For it was plain from the speeches that what is good for America is what General Motors considers paramount for itself.

Thus, just a year ago when the prophets of gloom were shaking their heads and predicting a depression, Curtice stood before the same group of businessmen and predicted that there would be a continuing high level of employment and consumer expenditures, with unprecedented housing starts and a gross national product not far from the 1953 level.

But he startled his audience then by announcing that General Motors was planning an expansion program of a billion dollars, which has since grown by a half billion. Such was his confidence in the future.

This time Curtice was able to say "I told you so." For his 1954 prediction as to car sales and volume of business were right on the button. General Motors crossed the ten billion mark in sales, and the whole industry produced close to 7,000,000 auto units.

Curtice is optimistic about 1955, which he thinks will be a great year in business. He foresees a gross national product for 1955 of $370 billions, which is a three per cent increase over last year. He added:

"A world-wide strengthening of national economies is clearly evident. I was greatly impressed with the economic recovery in England and six European countries which I visited last fall. . .The increasing productivity and prosperity of the free world contributed added strength to our own economy.

Sloan was stimulating, too, as he presented, in extemporaneous remarks, his appraisal of the future. He said:

"The interesting thing is it took us 32 years to make the first 25 million automobiles and 14 years to make the second 25 million. Now how long is it going to take us in America to make the third 25 million? I won't make a prophecy. That belongs to Mr. Curtice but I venture to say it well be less than eight years."

Sloan pointed out that there has been an enormous expansion of auto plants abroad and that less and less export from America might be in prospect. He said that this was one reason why General Motors had just invested two hundred million dollars in production facilities in England, on the continent of Europe, and in Australia.

Calling on businessmen to do more basic research, Sloan stressed the importance of scientific discovery and technological improvement. But his most significant statement was in relation to the economic climate in which business is operating today. He declared:

"For over 20 years, we had all kinds of discouragement from the standpoint of national economic policies — repression of industry, lack of appreciation of the great force and power of expanding the economy. This is now finished and, as I forecast last year in supporting Mr. Curtice's program of a billion - dollar expansion, I make the point that we are entering an era wherein business will be encouraged by more incentive, eliminating many things that have held us back for so many years.

"My plea to you gentlemen is this: Let us plan boldly in expansion and development. Don't let's wait until the thing is before us. Let's forecast that it is going to happen and let's go ahead and do the job before it happens. In that way, the job will be done in a bigger and better way than otherwise will occur."

This was a fitting supplement to the predictions of business growth made by Curtice as he declared that population by 1962 may total 184 million and that the number of households should increase from 48 to 54 million, "creating a tremendous demand for homes, motor vehicles and other goods and services."

Nowhere in the world, as the speakers indicated, has any industrial group demonstrated such faith in the economy of its nation or such confidence in its own future as has the automobile industry.

It was an inspiring sermon of true progressivism for all business and industry.

Baering Down

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER
(International News Service)

Went down to Washington last week to observe national affairs in the world's largest ant hill.

Came away with the idea we would know more about Congress if there was a visitors' gallery in the cloak room.

This is the 84th Congress against thirty-four Presidents. In football they woud call it the unbalanced line.

The difference between the 84th Congress and the 83rd is one.

Meaning one was Republican and one was Democratic.

In this way we keep politics honest. Until the next investigation.

The switch in legislative bivouacking does not affect the indoor fate of our nation. The conservatives are still in the backseats with their brakes on inside their Congress gaiters.

This Congress is so conservative it carries geiger counters to salvage old carpet tacks. Will not pass the butter to the left and only rarely includes hoss blankets in its laundry frank.

Brady Toys With Idea of Conferring Honorary Degree of P.H.D on Himself

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

Whenever I read of a gent receiving an honorary degree I go into a reverie, wondering whether the guy has any use for it . . . or whether I might quietly appropriate one such as I have always wanted, without obligating myself to cough up even $1,000 or $2,000 . . .

No, I suppose that wouldn't be the proper way to go about it. In the legitimate way, that is. The slightest hint of quid pro quo would deter a self-respecting institution . . . but here is an alternative proposal:

An inventor, I should be the first person authorized to sign his name with the new degree, thus: Ima S. Tinker, P. H. D.

Oh sure, thousands of characters use Ph. D., Dr. P. H., or similar mystic symbols, but prior to publication of this piece no one has received the P. H. D. degree and few if any readers will know precisely what it means until I explain it. And just for fun, if you think you're smart about such things, send me your interpretation via letter or postal card, postmarked not later than Jan. 24. If your interpretation is correct, I'll send you a complimentary $5 set of Little Lessons on the Ways of Health, a 23 volumette encyclopedia containing the gist of my teachings.

If you don't hear from me, please don't get shirty about it. I often wish I could send the encyclopedia to every family in the country, but I just can't afford to do so—without giving up my pipe and my bowls, and if I had to do that well, it would be just too bad for the poor geeks who have truck with the trick specialists and "clinic" racketeers.

Talk it over with your friends consult the dictionary, examine old clippings of this column or, if possible, go into a brown—huh, what am I saying? This is the twentieth century. Better yet, hold a panel discussion of the question and set up a pool . . . all in a private way—it's all off if the thing is exploited publicly without relieving me of responsibility for additional expense so entailed.

Maybe it is a mistake to attempt in this way to familiarize the public concerning the new degree before bringing the matter to the attention of the regents. But what chance would an avowed quack have of even being admitted to a meeting of the board of regents, much less presenting a recommendation?

Lots of people use phony degrees to impress the public, degrees they have concocted for themselves or "come by," nobody knows how. At times I have toyed with the idea of quietly hooking onto the degree P. H. D.—but, I have worried along for years without it, so why risk my future career?

Next Tuesday, Jan. 25, I'll explain what P. H. D. stands for and give some further details which should but probably will not interest administrators of education, particularly medical education, in Yankeeland.

Signed letters not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. Brady if a stamped, self addressed envelope is enclosed, etc.

Stomach Not Upset, Just Ticking a Little

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Mary Jeanne Jones, 5, swallowed a toy watch but suffered no ill effects after doctors removed it from her stomach through surgery.

The child, reported in satisfactory condition at Missouri Pacific Hospital, calmly remarked to her sister after swallowing the object Saturday night:

"Oh, I swallowed a watch."

Mary Jeanne, daughter of Mrs. Mary Ann Jones who works on the hospital's office staff, had the one-inch long, half-inch wide watch removed Sunday. Asked by relatives what happened to the band, she replied:

"Oh, I chewed off the band first."

Book on Kemal Ataturk Written With Both Fists

NEW YORK (INS) — When Ray Brock writes a book, and a man drops a 10-ton safe off the observation platform of the Empire State Building, much the same results are obtained. There are vast crunching sounds, screams of surprise and rage, and a state of disorder sets in that is restored at just about the time he writes another one.

Brock's newest "Ghost on Horseback" (Duell, Sloan and Pearce) has nothing to do with the memoirs of Don Meade, who did some pretty spooky things on the backs of horses. This is about Mustapha Kemal, the incredible Ataturk.

Brock, who began working on the book while covering Turkey for the Times during part of World War II, is fascinated by his topic — but hardly overwhelmed:

"Mustapha Kemal was a rakehell and a libertine, bacchanalian, self-destructive and iron-willed, a Turkish tryant who shot and hanged his closest friends yet lived to receive from his driven, grateful peoples the name and accolade Ataturk — father of all the Turks."

In his short, crowded, tumultous life which began "in the squalor Kemal whipped Churchill expeditionary force at the Dardanelles, chased the Sultan, threw out the Moslem caliphate, took the veil from women's faces and ruthlessly insisted that Turkey—once "the "sick man of Europe"—become a republic.

If there had been no Kemal we could not have the highly skilled Turkish army which today is keeping the Red army out of that part of the world..

My friend Brock writes with both fists and knows how to use his knees in close. Turkey has responded by banning the book. Doug Fairbanks wants to film it.

Wage-Hour Law Applied to Builders

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Labor Department said today a federal court decision in New Mexico, holding that the wage-hour law applies to construction work on government-owned and operated military bases, holds "major importance to workers and contractors throughout the country."

A Labor Department spokesman said a number of contractors on military bases have disputed the application to them of the wage-hour law, which requires payment of a 75-cent hourly minimum wage and time-and-a-half rates for work beyond 40 hours a week.

The department said the court found that a contractor had failed to pay overtime to employes working at the Holloman Air Force Base, Alamagordo, N. M.

Giant Russia Has Reason to Fear 'Little' Germany

BONN, Germany (UP) — The Western Allies are about to rear a colossus in Western Germany.

For better or for worse, they are rearming the country which they forced to unconditional surrender only 10 years ago.

Regardless of French fears, the United States and Great Britain have decided that the Bonn Republic must be armed as the first line of defense against a possible Soviet Russian attack, even though they know they are taking a calculated risk of reviving aggressive German militarism.

But the question already is being asked: How long will it be before the colossus of Germany overshadow the colossus of Russia?

On the surface, there is no comparison between Russia and Germany.

Russia, with a population of 200,000,000, spans Europe and Asia from the Baltic and Mediterranean Seas to the Pacific. Its area is 8,708,070 square miles.

West Germany's population is 50,000,000. Its area is 94,692 square miles.

Russia's armed forces are enormous. They total more than 4,000,000 men. Russia has 175 army divisions.

West Germany's armed forces will be small. They will total 500,000—a 12-division army of 400,000 men, an 80,000-man air force and a 20,000-man coastal navy.

But Russia is frightened at the prospect of German armament. The Kremlin remembers how the German army cut through its Red Army in 1941 like a knife through warm butter.

Germany is compact, where the Soviet Union is sprawling. Germany's transport network is among the world's best. Russia's is among the world's worst.

Germany's industry is efficient. Russia's is inefficient. Where Germany's factories hum, Russia's creak.

The West German workman is free and well fed. Russia's workmen are little more than slaves.

Germany's army will be completely new. Every weapon in it will be modern. Most of its men will be volunteers. It will have the pride and tradition of the most warlike nation in Europe.

Industrially, West Germany is booming. It is one of the most prosperous countries in the world.

Its great factory, steel and coal areas were ruined by Allied bombs during World War II. But it has made a remarkable comeback.

West Germany's coal and steel industries broke all postwar records in 1954.

Coal production totaled 128,000,000 tons, compared with 124,500,000 in 1953.

Production of raw steel totaled 17,432,104 tons compared with 15,419,959 in 1953. Production of finished steel totaled 11,462,069 tons, compared with 10,199,824 in 1953.

Production of pig iron totaled 12,512,000 tons compared with 11,655,722.

Steel plants are operating at 89 to 90 per cent of capacity, and cannot keep pace with orders.

In 1938, the last full year before World War II, all Germany turned out 136,956,000 tons of coal, 17,902,000 tons of raw steel, 11,730,000 tons of finished steel and 15,176,000 tons of pig iron.

Western Germany turned out about 670,000 automobiles in 1954, a six-fold increase since 1948.

Of these, 109,000 Volkswagens, the mass production cars, were exported.

Other German manufactures are going to all the world.

No wonder the Kremlin does not like the idea of West German armament!

Stassen Study Confirms Belief in Ladejinsky

WASHINGTON (UP)—Foreign Aid Administrator Harold E. Stassen has cited 12 reasons for believing Wolf Ladejinsky, Russian-born land reform expert, deserves the security clearance Stassen granted him.

Though the Agriculture Department had labeled Ladejinsky a security risk, Stassen said yesterday he later made 12 findings which convinced him Ladejinsky meets the requirements of the federal security program.

* * *

Stassen said, in a summary of the case, that Ladejinsky's hiring by the Foreign Operations Administration for a land reform program in Indochina was in keeping with "fundamental principles of justice and of human rights."

Ladejinsky, 55, had security clearance as State Department agricultural attache in Tokyo. But when agricultural attaches were transferred by law to the Agriculture Department, Secretary Benson ruled Ladejinsky a security risk.

* * *

Stassen said he later intervened in the case because of White House interest in resolving the conflicting decisions by the State and Agriculture departments.

Now Who'd Do That

TRENTON, N.J. (UP) — Somebody forced a lock at the state prison and took $200 worth of cigarettes and gold wire used in craft work.

Youth's Court Hearing Postponed Until Tuesday

A Juvenile Court hearing for 16-year-old Eric Matheny, who fired a rifle shot at his stepmother and attempted to rob his father Jan. 4, has been postoned until next Tuesday. Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore said he wanted more time to study the case.

Young Matheny, a ward of Starr Commonwealth School at Albion, terrorized his parents in their West Bloomfield Township home with a 30-caliber deer rifle. He is being held at the Oakland County Juvenile Home.

GIs Are Ticketed, Too

FORT WORTH, Tex. (UP)—Some top sergeant probably had a disillusioned rookie after an 18-year-old soldier was involved in a minor traffic accident. He said the police couldn't give him a ticket for careless collision and no driver's license.

"I'm in the Army," he said.

They said it didn't make any difference. And it didn't.

Individual payments ranged from $1.50 to $475.97 at the rate of 20 yen for a dollar—a price agreed on 10 years ago. Today, the yen is pegged at 360 yen to a dollar.

Baptist Hunter Fells Fortune

But Balloon He Bagged Yields $1,955 to Church of Different Faith

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UP)—A 71-year-old Baptist hunter literally shot $1,955 from the heavens but got nothing for his marksmanship.

Instead, the money will be used by a Catholic priest to help build a new church.

The hunter, Forrest Wilson, was looking for rabbits last Saturday when he noticed a huge plastic balloon floating through the air toward him.

"Now, when you see something like that and you're carrying a shotgun you're going to shoot it," he said. And he shot.

Inside the balloon was a certificate worth $1,955 to the finder's favorite charity, but Wilson didn't take the message seriously. He gave the paper to his granddaughter Mrs. Marie Lacefield, a member of St. Jerome's Catholic Church, now in the middle of a building program. Actually, the Rev. Jerome Moore is building the church himself with the aid of his congregation.

So Mrs. Lacefield is donating the $1,955 to Father Moore.

"It's her certificate now," said her Baptist grandfather. "The Baptists can't blame me if she gives it to the Catholics."

* * *

Wilson said, however, it would be nice if he could just get some money out of it himself.

But the certificate doesn't work that way. It was the most valuable of 122 sent aloft throughout the country last week by General Mills Inc., to commemorate the anniversary of a company product.

The one captured near here had been aloft about 52 hours, a detail that didn't interest Wilson.

"I think I'll give up rabbit hunting," he said, "and start hunting balloons."

He didn't bag any rabbits Saturday anyway.

Suicide Victim Found 'Kneeling' in Bedroom

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Mrs. Clarence E. McCloskey told Homicide Detective V. F. Hart she saw her husband kneeling in a bedroom yesterday. She said she thought he was praying, since he frequently did so, and tiptoed away.

Half an hour later, finding him in the same position, she investigated. He was dead. A cotton sash cord had been looped around his neck and the top hinge of a door.

Mrs. McCloskey said her husband had been in ill health. An inquest verdict of suicide was returned.

Lawrence of Arabia No Hoax, Associates Tell British Author

LONDON (AP)—A British author's charges that the World War I exploits of Lawrence of Arabia were largely a hoax brought friends to Lawrence's defense yesterday.

The charges were made by Richard Aldington, 63-year-old author and critic, in his book "Lawrence, the Impostor," published last week in Paris.

Thomas Edward Lawrence, who was killed in a motorcycle accident in Britain in 1935, has been pictured as a young archeologist who during World War I sparked the Arab revolt against Turkey and led the Arab raiders to outstanding victories. He also won literary acclaim as the author of "Seven Pillars of Wisdom."

Aldington claims most of Lawrence's exploits were the product of his own imagination. In any case, the author contends, most of the Middle East fighting was done by the British and the Arab contribution was negligible.

Several of Lawdence's former associates cited the words of Sir Winston Churchill in support of Lawrence.

Churchill once wrote that, while Lawrence should not have the "whole credit for the great success" of Britain's World War I policy in the Arab lands, "the wonder was that he was able to sink his personality, to bend his tmperious will and pool his knowledge in the common pool."

Another support came from Prof. Lionel Curtis, a fellow of All Souls College at Oxford.

"I knew Lawrence intimately, and whatever he was he was no charlatan," said the professor.

Curtis scouted Aldington's implication that the late George Bernard Shaw, a friend of Lawrence, did much of the writing of "Seven Pillars of Wisdom."

"It is unfortunate for Aldington that recently the Lawrence letters were published," Curtis said. "They are among the most brilliant in the English language."

British Release Wife of Guiana's Ex-Premier

GEORGETOWN, British Guiana (AP)—Mrs. Janet Jagan, U. S.-born wife of the British Guiana Premier ousted in 1953 on charges of Communist plotting, is free again after serving five months in jail.

Mrs. Jagan, general secretary of the Peoples' Progressive party led by her husband Cheddi Jagan, had been convicted of possessing subversive literature and holding a prohibited political meeting.

Even Hat of Beaver Skin Brings Happy Memories

By MARGARET LATROBE

It was the year for a new hat. In those childhood days a hat had to fit. You bought the bonnet by head-size first, then color, and you were lucky if it "did something for you."

The trip to the milliner meant holding Mother's hand through three changes of street cars, and long chilly waits on alien corners. The gentle, graying woman who subsisted by hatmaking in a modest cottage filled with caged canaries and milliner's findings was void of imagination when it came to chileren's hats. Warmth and durability was about it.

Mother fell in love with a wide-brimmed beaver horror which would have suited Samuel Johnson or an elderly English coachman to the nines. But it didn't suit me. Although I could see the pit into which they were about to thrust me, no word of protect came from my lips, no tear fell from my eyes.

Being a weekday, my hair was pulled so tightly back in braids that vocal or visual manifestations of any kind were nearly impossible. This hair-do gave rise to the eyebrows (mine) and the expression, peeled onion.

The horrendous hat sat squarely on my head, and from its brim dangled two crocheted streamers ending in large fur balls. Mother assured me that on Sundays, when the hair fell in perfect rag-rolled curls, things would look up with the hat. She said, while the milliner's canaries chirped merrily, that nobody on earth would have a hat like this one.

What other lucky child could have a parent willing to spend two whole dollars for such a hat? Besides, it was warm. It would last for years.

And she was right. It was the only hat of its kind anywhere. People stopped to gaze in disbelief that a fur umbrella had somehow been attached, upside down, to my braided cranium. No one could sit beside me at church because of the scope of its brim. I dare not take it off for there was no place to put it. Although seen by many, I saw no one that winter. Entire weeks were spent looking straight down at my toes.

How we laughed—Mother and I—in later years about that beaver hat. Now that she is gone, the remembrance of every trolley car trip, every curl she wrapped so carefully for a child's head, every good and wonderful thing she did—even the dreadful beaver hat—is sweet. She bought it because she thought it was divine. I wore it because I thought she was.

Sometimes I wonder what memories our children will have of us, don't you?

Viet Nam Launches New Land Reform

SAIGON, Indochina (AP)—The South Viet Nam government has launched its new land reform program, the weapon it is counting on most to save the country from the Communist-led Vietminh.

Premier Ngo Dinh Diem fixed rents at no less than 15 per cent of the principal annual crop and no more than 25 per cent. Previously they ranged from 40 to 75 per cent. Written contracts between tenants and farm owners are also required in place of verbal agreements.

The contracts will be for a minimum of five years, renewable for another five. If the tenant keeps up payments for 10 years, he acquires ownership of the land.

Hal Boyle Says:

New Chin Every 4 Days Possible on Cruise Ship

SOMEWHERE IN THE CARIBBEAN (AP) — Leaves from a cruising notebook:

The pleasantest feature of a winter cruise is that once you are at sea all the worries of land become unimportant.

The word "diet," by unspoken agreement, drops from everyone's vocabulary. Time becomes meaningless. You don't need a calendar to chronicle the passing days. You tell time by your chins.

This morning, for example, when I got out my razor I found I had a brand new chin to shave — a round, firm, fully packed chin slightly browned by the sun. When I remarked on this to the steward, he explained:

"Oh, that means we've been at sea four days. A three-dessert man your age and weight, who enjoys his food, can grow a new chin every four days without any trouble at all."

Since I started with two chins and we will be at sea 13 days, that means I'll get back to New York with five and one-fourth chins. And somehow I don't mind it at all.

Our ship is the Furness Line's Ocean Monarch, one of Britain's newest and trimmest cruise vessels. When we boarded her—Frances, our daughter, Tracy Ann, and I — I started to walk right off again. There was a telephone in the stateroom, and if there is anything I detest on a vacation it is the sight of a telephone.

"Don't worry," said Frances. "Anybody who phones you from shore will have to pay $4.50 for a three-minute call, and if I know your friends — and after 17 years I feel I know them only too well — you are as safe as if you were in Heaven."

How right she was! Every morning I lie in bed for half an hour just admiring that telephone. It is boudoir white in color, and it is the most beautiful telephone in the world. It never rings.

Aboard ship you have to get accustomed to strange noises — the creaking of wood in the night, the soft slap of waves against the steel hull.

The first day I stretched out on a deck chair in the hot sun I was startled out of my doze time after time by a strange sound — sna-a-a-p, sna-a-a-p!

"You hear anything snapping?" I asked a veteran voyager next to me. He cocked his ears.

"I don't hear anything," he said, then after a moment inquired, "Do those snapping sounds sound like they're inside you?"

"Yeah, come to think of it, I guess they do."

"They're just the kiks coming out of your nerves," he said tolerantly.

The kiks are all gone now. My nerves are so relaxed I feel I could skip rope with them.

No one has more fun on a cruise than small children. They have more sense of adventure than older passengers, and enjoy stormy as well as mild weather. They rarely become seasick before the age of two, when they first learn what it is by hearing their elders talk about it.

Tracy Ann, who isn't quite 19 months old, got a real thrill when we poughed through some rough seas off Cape Hatteras. To keep her from plunging overboard to pick foam flowers out of the sea, I had to put a harness and a leash on her while on deck.

It bothered my sense of dignity to have to put in on her, and at first it bothered her to have to wear it.

"I know how you feel, honey," I told her. "It makes you feel like a doggie, doesn't it?"

At the word doggie, she quit rebelling and began barking, "Bow-wow-wow-wow-wow!"

Now each morning she brings the harness to me to put on her before our deck stroll. She thinks she is a dog, and since she loves dogs, she has no objection to walking on a leash.

Sikorsky Gets Medal

LONDON (AP)—The British Institution of Mechanical Engineers has awarded the 1955 James Watt International Medal to Igor I. Sikorsky in recognition of his pioneer work in the development of various types of aircraft, particularly helicopters.

Dems Withhold Okay on Lincoln Day Recess

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democrats withheld a decision today on a Republican request for a 10-day Senate recess during February to let GOP members make Lincoln Day speeches.

The Republican National Committee has been lining up senators for Lincoln Day speeches, but Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) said he is setting up his own schedule. He said he has engagements to speak in Bridgeport, Conn., Appleton, Wis., and Chicago and may schedule some other appearances.

There are three times more widows than widowers in the U.S.

Dies Trying to Save Dog

CHICAGO (AP) — An apparent attempt to save his mongrel dog from his burning basement flat brought death last night to Patrick Gahagan, 80. The body of the man and his pet were found in the ruins of the flat. Neighbors said Gahagan had been seen outside during the fire, but then he disappeared.

CLOTHING OUTLET

Fore and Aft- and Curbside, too-

It's the style hit of the year!

YOU can take our word for it when we tell you this:
The first time we put eyes on the 1955 Buicks, we really raised a cheer.
To top the looks of last year's Buick—the car that moved Buick into the top three of the nation's best sellers—that was something.
That gave us two hits in a row, we figured—and it seems we figured right.
For with these stunning new 1955 Buicks, we're getting even more noses pressed against our showroom windows than last year—and more folks coming in to look and study and drive and buy.
But bold new styling, of course, is just one reason for the sensational success of these great cars.
New power is part of the picture—robust new V8 power in record might—236 hp in the CENTURY, SUPER and ROADMASTER—188 hp in the low-priced SPECIAL.
New performance, too—from the dynamic action of Buick's Variable Pitch Dynaflow* that gives you far better gas mileage in normal driving and cruising—and full-power getaway or safety-surge acceleration, but instantly, and with infinite smoothness.
So you can see that just looking isn't enough.
You have to take that wheel in your hands, try that power, feel that Dynaflow take-hold surge, sample that Million Dollar Ride—and check the hard-to-pass-up prices we're quoting.
We'll gladly help you do all that. Why not come in this week?
*Dynaflow Drive is standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.
Thrill of the year is Buick

Youth Organization Has Annual Candy Sale

Pontiac Press Photos

Pontiac Camp Fire Girls wish ever so much that their day camp were a resident camp. They know that wishing won't make it so—that's why the recent city wide candy sale was such a success. When these girls wear their new Camp Fire uniforms they'll remember their initiative in the sale contest as they look forward to camping days. These uniforms were special prizes for the top three sellers. First prize winner for the Blue Birds was Elaine Farner (right) of Going street and second place winner was Linda Rollison (second from right) of Baldwin avenue. Lesta Jean Stanley of Rosewood drive and Sharon Verwey (left) of East Mansfield avenue tied for third place.

Camp Fire Day Camp to Benefit Girls Set Record With Candy Sales This Year

Pontiac Camp Fire Girls are hoping that their 120 acre camp site near Clarkston will someday become a resident camp.

As a means to that end, over 200 Blue Birds and Camp Fire Girls in Pontiac participate in a candy sale contest each year to raise funds. This year, 13,000 cans were sold, a record in the history of the sales.

Camp Fire group treasuries also received a boost from the sale and individual recognition was given. Each girl who sold 24 cans or more received a sewing kit.

Girls who sold 48 cans or more had the choice of a gift certificate for Camp Fire equipment or a day camp registration.

For the top three sellers in each program special prizes were awarded. Blue Bird winners were Elaine Farner of St. Frederick School, first prize and Linda Rollinson of Hawthorne School, second prize. Lesta Stanley of Hawthorne School and Sharon Verwey of LeBaron School tied for third place. Various items of the Camp Fire uniforms were received by these girls.

Dorothy Boardman of Crofoot School won first place for the Camp Fire Girls; Dorothy Alderman of McConnell won second place and third place winner was Magdalen Daily of St. Frederick School. Clarice Graves was top winner in the Horizon Club

BLOND or BRUNETTE?
Hair coloring has at last become a legitimate part of our grooming. But . . . an even more important question than whether or not to tint our hair, is what shade will we make it.
There is one sound approach . . . we cannot effectively change our basic coloring. If we wish to do something about the color of our hair we should aim to enhance or improve our own natural coloring.
If you are a brunette, be a more beautiful brunette and not an artificial blond.
If you never had a reddish cast to your hair do not suddenly decide to have red hair.
You won't fool or please anyone. You will look like what you are, an artificial red head. But there is a way to improve the color of your hair if it has become drab and faded. Let us help you.

Poppy Sales Aid Bobbie Dunn Fund

Members of Cook Nelson unit 20 auxiliary of American Legion point out that proceeds from the annual poppy sales, which are ear-marked for child welfare, have made it possible for the organization to contribute to the Bobbie Dunn fund.

'Scoutarama' Plans Told by Council

Plans for the March 12 "Scoutarama" were detailed Tuesday when members of the Northern Oakland County Council of Girl Scouts gathered for an all-day meeting at Grace Lutheran Church.

Mrs. Paul Gorman is chairman of this birthday celebration which is to be held in Webster School. Troops may work alone or combine with others to exhibit the different badges.

Every Brownie may display a sample of her handiwork. These are to be handled in neighborhood units. All girls may participate in the poster contest to advertise the event. Prizes will be awarded by districts.

Decisions governing the organization's annual cookie sale were also made at Tuesday's meeting. Mrs. Donald Redmond of Drayton Plains is chairman of this project which finances the troop camping program, Camp Sherwood, and provides camp scholarships for worthy scouts. The dates are April 18 to April 29.

Orders for Girl Scout cookies will not be taken this year, but the cookies will be sold directly to the customers. Cookie cupboards will be set up in the neighborhoods and each troop will receive a three-cent rebate from each box of cookies its members sell.

According to Michigan law adults now have to accompany any person under 18 years of age who is selling any products.

Applications for camp scholarships may be obtained from the Girl Scout office by the leaders. They must be returned by March 1.

In other action, Mrs. Lyle Gately, Mrs. Elwin Tripp, Mrs. Charles Matson, Mrs. Keith Crissman, and Mrs. Dorothy Hollister were elected to board membership. Mrs. Donald Baldwin of Rochester was elected to serve on the membership-nominating committee.

Reports showed that there were 2,048 Brownies registered in 1954, 1,638 Intermediates and 103 Senior Scouts. Registered adults who actively participated in the program numbered 1,115, according to Mrs. E. J. Lally, registrar.

18-Year-Old Annoyed by Censorship

Parents Protection Sometimes Carried to Extremes

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

"Dear Miss Woodward: I'm nearly 18 and yet my parents continue to censor my reading material. Recently I began a novel that's been at the top of the best seller list for ages, and when about halfway through the book, they took it away from me—forbidding me to read such 'trash.'

"As far as I had gone I had come upon nothing that shocked me in the least. Certainly, it's a strong story, but one would have to be extremely narrow-minded to mistake depth and strength for 'trash.' What is your opinion of the principle involved?"

I have met parents in my day who insisted on raising their children without benefit of any outside-of-the-home influences. They wrapped their offspring in cotton batting to protect them from all breezes they didn't whip up themselves.

They saw the movies first before they'd let their children go. They ripped off covers of magazines, tore out articles or stories, before they left such literature around the house. They did their school homework with the children and kept an eagle eye on their required reading. No influences but theirs were to guide them. No ideas but theirs were to excite the imagination.

Parents have a right to protect their children according to their own rights. But the rejection of all outside influences sets them up as masterminds, as though they knew enough to supply all the information their children need, and will be ever-present to ward off what they think wouldn't be good for them!

To me, it always seems like molding one's children in one's own image. As though only one set of values was the correct one. One's experiences with life are the only kind worthwhile.

Parents, to my way of thinking, do more to help their children grow by teaching them how to be discriminating. With various influences to choose from, which is soundest, most helpful, most far-reaching, most attractive? Broad-minded, levelheaded discussion of values will equip their offspring better for the lives they're going to lead, the experiences they're going to have, the influences they'll respond to.

Parents can forbid activities, reading matter, movies, plays, music, as not being appropriate for your age and degree of maturity. But I can't see that the experience would unbalance you if they stand ready to discuss the experience with you, to weigh its truth or falsity, to evaluate its very essence.

Finding out why your parents consider the best-seller "trash" might be the opening wedge for you. The levelheadedness of your own angle might surprise them—their lack of narrow-mindedness might surprise you. Together you might polish up your sense of discrimination. Which might result in their leaving your reading up to you.

Short waves, in the early days of radio, were regarded as almost useless. Now they carry many services, including television transmission.

Sally Victor created this small profile hat of pink and red jersey with a large cluster of flowers to complement a new flattering scent which is a blend of many notes, some quite exotic with warm undercurrents.

Answers to Previous Puzzle

Remember Adolescence? Then Consider Teenager

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Sara's Aunt Dot is a childless, pretty woman in her early forties who has reasons of her own to prefer to forget that time passes.

One Saturday, after shopping with Sara and her mother, she invited them to lunch at an expensive downtown hotel.

Giving the order to the waiter, Aunt Dot said, ". . . some Melba toast, please, and the chicken salad for the child."

After a moment, Sara's mother found the courage to meet the 13-year-old eyes across the table from her. And to the question of agonized appeal in them, gave an imperceptible nod.

Then she waited, hoping that the words would come out right, but knowing that right or not, they had to come out.

Sara said, "Aunt Dot, please don't call me a 'child' to people any more."

Aunt Dot stared. Then, flushing angrily, she began, "Well, of all the impertinence I ever—" when she was interrupted.

Her sister-in-law said, "Please do what Sara asks, Dot. How good this sweet butter is! I'd forgotten how delicious. . ."

I hope that all parents of people around Sara's age will support them in a similar fashion on these occasions.

It is an age of special strain in our society. Among primitive people who listen with respect to what the human body tells them, there would be no question of granting Sara new dignity as a person who has crossed from childhood into puberty.

But we civilized people like to pretend that nothing meaningful has happened to Sara's body, though it is capable of motherhood. This is very confusing to Sara, whose biology insists on one thing and her Aunt Dot, another.

Her own uncertainty makes Sara very sensitive to our charity or lack of it. If we fail to realize this and do not support her right to new dignity, our failure will be remembered in the adolescent flight ahead.

Time and again, the fits of irritation that suddenly seize on people of Sara's age are resentment at our refusal to accord new status that is their biological right.

It is even unwise to rebuke them in terms associated with their childhood. I, for example, had a relative who was prone to correct all that was unlovely in me as a small girl with the words, "That isn't sweet."

I can still remember my sense of outrage when she applied the phrase to some 13-year-old comment I had made. I knew then as I know now that it was used to thrust me back into the convenient nonentity of prattlerhood.

We all have similar experiences. Let's use them.

Gelatin Mold Is a Salad or Dessert

Mrs. Lawton Uses Cherries and Wine in Gourmet Treat

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Salad or dessert? This Black Cherry Ring, a recipe contributed by Mrs. George Lawton of Commerce, may be either. The whipped cream suggested in the recipe makes it a dessert; mayonnaise would make it a salad.

Mrs. Lawton is a member of the Commerce Home Extension group. Besides caring for a fourteen months old daughter, she is interested in a number of handcrafts. She lists ceramics, oil painting, cooking, sewing and piano playing.

BLACK CHERRY RING
By Mrs. George Lawton

1 can black Bing cherries
1 package cherry gelatin
Sherry wine, if desired
Chopped pecans

Drain the juice from the cherries and add enough sherry wine to make 2 cups of liquid in all. If you do not care for the wine, substitute water. Heat 1 cup of the liquid to boiling, add the gelatin and stir until well dissolved. Add the cherries and pour into a mold. Chill. When partly set, chopped pecans may be added. Serve with sweetened whipped cream or mayonnaise, as desired. Makes 6 servings.

Coil Spring Auger Will Clean Drain

By HUBBARD COBB

Give the average child a large piece of soap or a wash cloth to hold and the chances are that said child will toss said soap or wash cloth into the toilet bowl.

If you don't act fast at this point, the next thing you know the child will have flushed the toilet and you have a problem on your hands.

For our money the best device to clear up a clogged toilet bowl trap is something called a coil spring auger or a closet auger. This device consists of a handle, a tube and a long flexible shaft that runs through the tubing and is connected to the handle at one end and to an auger shaped device at the other.

What you do with this machine is to insert the auger point into the bowl and work it up so that it goes up and then down into the trap.

You can see the trap but the flexible shaft will allow the auger to get there. Once you've accomplished this, get a second person to hold the tubing while you rotate the handle.

If all goes well the auger will find the obstruction and either cut it to pieces—if it's something like soap—so that it can pass through the drain pipe or engage it as would be the case with wash cloth, so it can be pulled out.

You can get these augers from plumbers and hardware stores. They can be rented at some stores but if you have children in the house it might be wise to own one of your own. They aren't too expensive and can save a lot of time and worry.

New Tablecloth Is Adjustable

NEW YORK (UP) — Comes now an adjustable tablecloth.

Most large tablecovers are used so seldom they spend most of their time in the buffet drawer or linen closet. But this one can be "converted" to fit either large or small gatherings, simply by zipping off or on neatly matched 15 - inch panels.

The zippers are hidden under fine flat folds of the material—washable lurex with gold or silver banding—and the folds serve as finished edges when the cloth is left small. The metal yarn in the material won't tarnish from soap water or age.

Try It

Newspapers Are Comfy

Have you been on a picnic or out camping and wished that you had something to sit-up-on?

Here is our WINNER OF THE WEEK and this is a good suggestion for a softer seat for a ball game, too. It also will keep clothes clean. Congratulations to Carolyn Brewer of Fort Wayne, Indiana. Her TRY IT book and surprise is on its way to her. You will need 12 double page sheets of newspaper.

Fold each sheet over and over after you spread it out so that you have a length of paper about two inches wide. Do this to all 12 sheets. Lay 6 of these down on a table about 3 inches apart. Now, weave the other lengths in and out to make a woven mat. After the weaving is finished, tuck in all of the loose ends by doubling them back under one of the squares. Do this on all four sides. This Sit-Up-On will last a long time. Thanks Carolyn!

Have you sent in your idea so that you can be in the "running" for WINNER OF THE WEEK?

Marquess Can't Forget 'Age of Extravagance'

By MARY MARGARET McBRIDE

When I hit London in the spring of 1953 to cover the Coronation, the most important question everybody seemed to be asking everybody else was "Will the Marquess of Bath be allowed to drive to Westminister Abbey in his coach-and-four?"

Henry, sixth Marquess, had announced his intention of sweeping up to the important ceremony in the traditional manner, and had even rented a north of England's brewer's horses for the occasion.

The police were trying to dissuade him on safety grounds and Coronation officials were frowning on the idea because, oddly enough, though once it had been ultra correct and even conservative they found it too theatrical for the present.

I got the impression from what I heard that Henry must be either an irreverent prankster or a publicity hound. But when I met him the day before the big event — a tall handsome young man who surprisingly looked the way I thought a marquess should — I became convinced that Lord Bath was merely following to a logical conclusion his preoccupation with family tradition.

Since the family fortune is not what it once was, His Lordship has made a career out of showing fabulous Longleat, the Bath country house, to the public for a price. At first the sixth marquess himself acted as guide but as more and more tourists showed a willingness to plank down their shillings, he was able to delegate the task.

The determined noble whom I watched drive up to the Abbey in his horsedrawn carriage just as he'd planned came to mind the other day when I was reading "The Age of Extravagance," and ran across an article written by a former Marchioness of Bath — describing the splendor of the huge establishment in the great days between 1880 and World War I.

The Marchioness, chronicling the old days with more amazement than regret, records that a Victorian-era predecessor of hers had her shillings and pennies washed each day; that valets ironed their master's shoe-laces and morning papers were warmed and pressed before being brought to the breakfast table.

The 43 servants of the house lived and worked in a social hierarchy all their own under a steward and a housekeeper. The steward ruled over a butler, an under butler, a groom of the chambers, a valet, three footmen, a steward's room footman, two "oddmen," two pantry boys and a lamp boy.

The housekeeper's staff included two lady's maids, a nurse, a nursery maid, eight housemaids, two sewing maids, two still-room and six laundry maids. The French chef was assisted by two kitchen maids, plus a maid for the vegetables and another for the scullery. Besides all this, there was a "daily woman" whose function never was explained by the Marchioness.

The stable staff of 14 included a "steel man" to polish the metal of harnesses, and a small boy in livery called a tiger, who sat on the carriage box with arms folded across his chest and, when he wasn't doing that, led the ponies of the Bath children when they went riding.

No wonder, as Lady Bath wrote, that every week, three sheep of different species were butchered for the household, "one Southdown, one Westmorland, and one Brittany, the last being used exclusively for small cutlets!"

Bauxite, an important source of aluminum, was originally discovered at Les Beaux, France, from which it derives its name.

Long Talks on Street Bad Taste

Friends May Stop, but Not Continue Chat in One Place

By EMILY POST

A young reader tells me: "My mother, who is a 'stickler' for etiquette, tells me that it is not good manners for a girl and man to stand talking on the street. Is this true, and if so, why is it improper for a girl to stop a man friend to whom she may have something to say?"

The street has never been considered a suitable place to carry on a long conversation, either between a girl and a man or between two girls, and still less by a group.

She may perfectly well stop a man if she has something important to say to him, but if they begin a long conversation, he should join her and walk in her direction.

Dear Mrs. Post: I am giving the rehearsal party the night before the wedding for my son and his bride-to-be. It will be a buffet supper and we want to have everything as friendly and as informal as possilbe.

Am I to invite the wedding party or let my son do it, and may the invitations be given verbally in either case? And are any others besides the wedding party to be invited to this supper? Invitations given verbally by your your son would be entirely proper. Usually none but those in the wedding party are included, but your son and his bride may ask other intimate friends of theirs if they want to.

Dear Mrs. Post: When a husband invites two businessmen and their wives—all strangers to his wife—to his house for dinner, is his wife suposed to do anything about seconding his invitation? If so what?

She should send notes or telephone messages to the wives if she possibly can. If this is not possible, then the guests should at least be reassured by the husband who should relay a message of welcome such as, "My wife is looking forward to meeting you."

IF pleasingly rounded—

Little-girl fashions become you. Choose pretty rather than smart fashions. Emphasize gay, round lines.

Miss P. R.—Don't try for the skinny look, but accent your youthful plumpness in dresses that curve and outline the figure—taut lines are better than too loose fitting. Colors not too insipid; use those with warm appeal.

Guide Posts for Success Are Given

By ANNE HEYWOOD

The other day, I asked a group of 20 young business women to fill out a questionnaire, indicating which of many factors they thought were standing in their way and keeping them from further advancement.

Among the things listed, which they were to check, were: 1. Lack of the necessary business skills. 2 Lack of education. 3. Lack of understanding on the employer's part. 4. Lack of basic interest in the field. 5. Lack of sufficient skill in handling human relations.

The overwhelming percentage of them—16 to be exact—indicated as one of their problems, lack of sufficient skill in handling human relations. And most employers, in answering the same questions about their workers, assure me that the biggest cause of failure on the part of their employees is the very same thing.

How, if this is so, can we improve our ability along this line? What can we do, if the people we work with are difficult, or downright hard to get along with?

There is no magic answer, but here are a few hints which have helped me.

1. When people say or do things which are mean or nasty, do not let yourself fuss and fume and concentrate on what she said or what she did. Try, instead, to concentrate on why she said it or why she did it. If you do this, you will find that, instead of getting angry, you may even find yourself sympathetic.

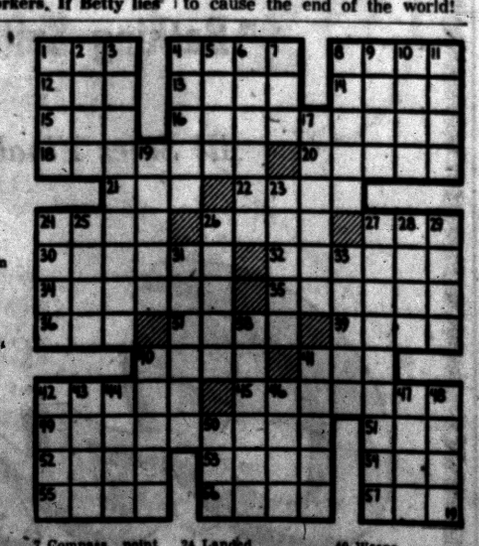

You may find that she did it because she is exhausted from working all day and nursing an ailing mother all night. Or she may have said that mean thing because she has bad headaches, or because she's worried to death about her debts.

Try, objectively, to understand why people do things, and you will learn far more about your fellow workers, and you will like and admire them more.

2. Try to train yourself to put all your energy into your own performance, and none into that of your co-workers. If Betty lies down on the job, and gets away with murder, that's Betty's business.

Your own row is plenty to hoe, and if you honestly hoe it, you won't have either time or energy left over for carping criticism of anyone else.

3. Finally, try to keep your sense of humor, which, of course is actually a sense of proportion. You're a tiny part of a large universe, and what Susie said to Janie about you is really not going to cause the end of the world!

TODAY'S ASSIGNMENT FOR:

JUNIOR EDITORS

LET'S GO TO MARKET—3
The Fruit Stand

Juniors Editors Judy and Jimmy went to market to help their mother do the shopping. Here is an action cutout of the children helping select vegetables and fruit.

1. Color today's picture with crayons or water colors. Give Jimmy a brightly striped sweater, and make Judy's dress a nice color with a bright red bow, hair ribbon and stockings. You can make Jimmy's hair brown and Judy's blonde. Color the grapefruit, oranges, carrots, bananas, cabbage and potatoes just as they should be. Do you know what colors to use? You can make the stand green, and leave the scale behind Judy's head white.

2. Paste the picture down on stiff paper, then cut it out. Also cut through the short heavy line at the edge of Judy's skirt, so the one end of the stand can be folded back along the dotted line.

3. You can make Jimmy duck down behind the stand as though he were bending down to get a paper bag to hold some of the vegetables. Just hold back along the dotted line at the top of the stand, and then fold forward along the dotted line across Jimmy's sweater.

Temperance Course Revived in Muskegon

KALAMAZOO (AP) — Western Michigan College has revived courses in scientific temperance as a weekly extension course at the Community College of Muskegon.

Fifty years ago the course was required teaching in the elementary schools of many states. It still is required under Michigan law but a lack of teachers prepared to offer instruction in the course has kept the law shelved since the end of Prohibition.

As a three-month experiment the course is jointly sponsored by Western Michigan, the Muskegon Board of Education and the State Board of Alcoholism.

Diphtheria Kills 25 Tots

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — Twenty-five children have died in a diphtheria epidemic in the village of Minabad near the Soviet-Iranian border, the newspaper Keyhan reports. It said the government is rushing doctors to the area.

Dems May Ask Income Tax Cut

Representatives' Drive Would Collide Headon With Ike's Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democrats on the House Ways and Means Committee said today they are considering an early drive to cut everybody's income taxes.

The move, if it develops, would be a reversal of earlier strategy to wait until next year to consider tax cuts.

It would run headon into President Eisenhower's declaration on Monday against tax cuts this year because of an anticipated $2,408,000,000 deficit in the bookkeeping year beginning July 1.

It also seemed likely to ram into significant Democratic opposition in the Senate where Sen. Byrd of Virginia and Sen. George of Georgia already are on record as against tax reductions this year.

* * *

The continuing federal deficit loomed as the biggest factor against the House Democrats' tax cutting plan. But Democrats backing the proposal argue that Republicans cut taxes last year in the face of an even bigger deficit than is now anticipated for next fiscal year.

Rep. Boggs (D-La) said he favored writing a general income tax cut into the Eisenhower administration's bill to postpone about three billion dollars in corporation and excise tax cuts, now set to become effective on April 1. Among others known to favor some such action are Representatives Dingell (Mich) and Mills (Ark), high ranking Democrats on the tax-writing Ways and Means Committee.

Fishermen Flocking to County Lakes This Winter

ANY BITES?—While Jim McPherson of Troy Township, and Jack Kreilach, of Keego Harbor, handle the fishing rods, Herman Wilmoth of Birmingham (second from left), and Henry Kreilach of Rochester look on. Trying their luck on Pine Lake, they said pan fish were biting good but were running small.

YOUNGSTERS TOO—Fishing through the ice isn't an exclusive sport for hardy grown-ups. Above, Bob Polidan, 1640 Orchard Lane, Birmingham; and Dave Lowrie, 548 Southfied, Birmingham, try their luck on Square Lake.

Pontiac Press Photos

A BEAUTY—Although Lyle B. Fish, of Rochester, says pike fishing has been slow on Pontiac Lake, the catch he's displaying here would seem to refute the statement. Lyle did say, however, that his luck is beginning to pick up.

PERCH A-PLENTY—Arthur Payne, of 91 Crawford St., kneels expectantly at his fishing hole on Crystal Lake where he reported perch fishing was very good. He's using the bob-up method. When a fish takes the bait, the little flag attached to the wire bobs up, showing the angler he has a catch. This method is used by fishermen who want to have several lines out at once.

HEAVE HO—Pontiac ice fishing fans Cecil Beckwith, 83 Auburn Ave., and Walter Block, 470 Robinwood Ave., move their fishing shanty to what they hope is a better location on Little Silver Lake. Use of shanties is becoming increasingly popular because it protects the angler from wind and cold and allows him to see down into the water. Some deluxe shanties have heating units.

Angling Through Ice Becoming Popular Cold Weather Sport Among Young, Old

By JACK PATTERSON
Pontiac Press Outdoor Writer

From the first freeze-up until spring rains and winds remove their ice, Oakland County's lakes are popular operating areas for that hardy breed of citizens known as ice fishermen.

No wind is too strong, no thermometer reading too low to keep these intrepid characters from their favorite sport.

Weekends, of course, bring out the biggest congregations, but any day will see some activity on most any of the county's 400-odd lakes.

Perch, bluegills and calicos are primary targets, with pike offering the lure of "bigger game" for many others. In some county lakes ciscoes are available for spearing, and in Pontiac Lake, bass are legal quarry for the winter angler.

The three basic ice - fishing methods in use today haven't changed much in the last century, except that this cold weather sport has grown popular enough to prod equipment manufacturers into producing greatly imporved gear.

Probably the most widely used method of ice fishing is simply jigging an ice fly and-or bait—usually a corn borer or a larval insect such as a "wiggler" or "mousie" through a small hole in the ice for pan fish.

This is probably the oldest, and the coldest method of winter fishing known to man. Greatest assist to this type of fishing has been the development of the ultra-light monofilament line.

The tip-up, arranged so that a flag will fly up when a fish strikes is much used with a fair to middling minnow as bait for pike, and has an advantage in that the fisherman can keep an eye on things from a distant and perhaps warm location.

Ice shanties provide the most comfortable method of winter fishing. Originally used mostly for spearing pike through a large hole, where it was necessary to be covered both so that the fisherman could see into the water and so the fish could not see what was waiting for him above, ice shanties are getting increasingly popular for all winter fishing, as a glance at most any lake hereabouts will show.

Spearing with either a large natural minnow or a wooden imitation used as a decoy, continues to be the most popular way of taking big pike.

Oddest thing about ice fishermen, and fisherwomen, too—for the sport is taking an increasing hold on the feminine imagination—is that nobody seems to mind whether the fishing is any good or not—or seems inclined to call it quits even after several frigid hours of inaction. That's real dedication.

Nicest thing about ice fishing is that the closest lake is just about as good to fish in as those farther away. A Pontiac resident, for example, doesn't even have to leave town for good perch catches are the rule rather than the exception in Crystal Lake, practically down town.

As with summer lake fishing in this area, it isn't so much where the fisherman goes into action as when and how.

U.S. Is Curtailing Pledges on Defense of Formosa

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Eisenhower administration is curtailing its pledges in defense of Formosa to the minimum called for under the new mutual defense pact with Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist China.

A top-level government decision against using the 7th Fleet in defense of the Tachen Islands off the Red China coast is an indication of that policy development.

Secretary of State Dulles indirectly disclosed the decision at a news conference yesterday. In doing so, he reportedly was prompted by word from key Democrats on the Senate Foreign Relations Committee that their task in winning approval of the defense pact would be assisted by evidence that the treaty would definitely not cover the offshore islands. Signed early in December, the pact has not yet been ratified by the Senate.

The decision on the Tachens fits into a developing effort by the United States to stabilize the whole area around Formosa, Chiang's refuge. Exactly how this is to be done is far from clear. The British government has been thinking in terms of letting the Nationalist-held islands close to the China coast go eventually to the Communists while confirming Nationalist China permanently in possession of Formosa and the nearby Pescadore Islands. Under this plan, the dividing line would be the center of the Formosa Strait.

Implied in all this, diplomats say privately, is withdrawal from the long-range objective of having Chiang someday return to the mainland in an anti-Communist invasion—his oft-stated goal.

Christmas Seals Bring In $50,000

Christmas Seal sales in Oakland County last month totaled about $50,000, it was announced today by A. R. Musson, secretary of the Oakland County Tuberculosis Assn.

Musson said 25,000 individuals responded to the appeal this Christmas, and added that 84 per cent of the money collected will stay in Oakland County for tuberculesis work here.

Musson said the association has planned a large-scale educational program for 1955, designed to acquaint residents of Oakland County with the important facts about finding and curing tuberculosis.

Ferris Soon to Start Building Program

BIG RAPIDS (UP)—Construction is expected to start soon on three new student housing projects for Ferris Institute that will cost $1,375,000.

Ferris officials, who predict the school's enrollment will reach 2,000 by 1960, approved the new housing projects to be financed through a self-liquidating bond issue.

The projects include a $600,000 married students apartment, a $125,000 extension to a dormitory for women now being built, and a $650,000 men's dormitory. They will provide housing for 72 married couples, 200 men and 48 more women.

The new units are scheduled to be completed in time for use next September.

C. E. Wilson Tells Congress

World Trade May Hold Key to Fight With Communism

WASHINGTON (UP) — Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson told congressmen yesterday that food, clothing and ideas may play a bigger role than military might in the free world's struggle with Communism.

He made the statement in urging the House Ways & Means Committee to approve President Eisenhower's proposals for stimulating world trade through a three-year extension of the tariff-cutting Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act.

Wilson said the United States "must move in the direction of removing unreasonable restrictions to international trade" in order to help its allies "maintain basic living standards for their people" and build strong economies to resist Communist subversion.

"The final showdown between the free world and the Communist world may not be a military one," the defense chief said. "We hope not. It could very well be in the economic, political and propaganda areas."

Secretary of Commerce Sinclair Weeks told the committee that the administration's trade program will "substantially benefit American business." He said the "modest" tariff cuts it would permit—15 per cent over a three-year period—would promote exports of American goods without inflicting "serious harm" on domestic manufacturers.

Killing Suspect Betrays Himself

Routine Highway Check Nets Ex-Convict Wanted in Girl's Murder

TRENTON, N. J. (UP)—Joseph De Maio, 35-year-old ex-convict, was arrested yesterday, after being picked up by chance, and held for Connecticut authorities on a charge of killing his Sunday night date, pretty Celia Cienski, 20.

De Maio and a friend were arrested separately in New Jersey within hours after the girl's nude and battered body was pulled from the bottom of an icy canal near her home at Windsor Locks, Conn.

A New Jersey state trooper, who stopped De Maio on a routine highway check, reported that as he approached the car, De Maio blurted, "I didn't mean to do it, officer."

The trooper said De Maio offered no resistance and indicated he would return voluntarily to Connecticut.

A short time later, De Maio's friend and fellow construction worker, Gerald J. Celette, 34, voluntarily surrendered in Newark, N. J. He told police he had read that he was wanted for questioning. He was formally charged with aiding and abetting in a homicide.

The men, both of Springfield, Mass., are to be turned over to Connecticut authorities after arraignment later today on fugitive charges.

On Sunday De Maio and Celetti, a father of two children, had a double date with Celia and her sister Ann, 22. The older sister had met the pair in a hotel, she told police, and took them home to get Celia. The two couples then visited a number of bars together but later separated.

At the Hightstown, N. J., state police barracks, where De Maio was first taken after his arrest, Trooper J. A. Smith reported that De Maio made a statement in which he told about the double date and how he later went off alone with Celia.

Smith quoted him as saying he tried to attack the girl but she fought back, scratching his face sharply. Then she ran into the woods, he said, but he caught up with her and beat her.

Wife Solves $72 Theft

MUSKEGON (UP)—It didn't take patrolman Arnold Van Nunen long to solve "theft" of $72 reported by a Muskegon man. When Van Nunen went to the man's home to make out a report on the missing money, he obtained a "confession" from the victim's wife that she had taken the money from his pockets.

Ray Milland Says Goodbye to TV in March

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—Ray Milland is waving adieu to TV in March—for the time being at least. He's filming three of his "Meet Mr. McNulty" TV shows a week in order to be ready to co-star in and direct "The Gunman," a western for Papa Yates at Republic.

Said Papa, "this is a western thriller and Ray is making it on a percentage deal. He'll play a man accused of murder and he has to hide out from a lunching crowd."

The story is by Talbot Jennings and John Tucker Battle. As for the leading lady, well, Republic is trying to get Elaine Stewart to co-star with the handsome Milland.

I'd like to place a small size wager of a million dollars (if I had the money!) that Garbo will not do "Anastasia." Even if Garbo were movie-minded she would never do the Eugenie Leontovich role which is an old lady of 83.

I'd also like to place another small sized wager that Bergman will not come to Hollywood to make a picture.

This latter could be possible, but the two girls, both Swedish born, who went to the same dramatic school in Stockholm, never had any great admiration for each other and nothing, but nothing, would ever persuade them to be in the same picture.

Darryl Zanuck must have been kidding or was it wishful thinking.

Not much luck, romantically speaking, for Ballerina Liliane Montevecchi who followed Robert Petit (not to be confused with Roland) back to Paris.

To an interested friend in Hollywood Liliane cabled, "Sad and cold," which is as good a way to describe a chilling romance as I've heard.

Liliane should be cheered up, however, when she learns they are raving about her tests at MGM and that she will be put under contract.

Petit's big romantic interest is another dear charmer in the ballet world, Leslie Caron.

Purchasing a 'Shortie' for Wife Is Perilous

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Maybe you can help me.

Should a husband buy his wife lingerie for Christmas?

I've been struggling with this one for some years now. About 1953, glancing through a "man's magazine," I saw an ad for "Frenchie nightgowns" which would be mailed in "plain wrapper" on receipt of $8.67.

★ ★ ★ ★

In about two minutes I felt like an underworld character, I phoned the company, and a voice, low, mysterious and not at all Frenchie—in fact, Brooklyn—said in practically a whisper that I should go to another address and "ask for Charlie."

★ ★ ★ ★

Now all I was doing was trying to buy a nightgown for my wife and they made it sound like I was smuggling dope.

The nightie turned out to be sheer lace on the left side, practically nothing on the right side, and cut to the waist. My wife loved it—till it came back from the laundry. It had shrunk till it was about the size of a cumberbund for a midget.

CONNIE CONN

Undiscouraged, I decided this Christmas to buy HER a shortie nightgown.

But the saleswoman, possibly noticing the gray in my crewcut, brought out a nightgown that came to the ankles.

"I want a shortie," I insisted. "One that just comes to . . . well . . . you know just between the knees and the stomach."

★ ★ ★ ★

Women customers were snickering at my description of the length. Finally I persuaded her to sell me shorties in red and white, but it was clear that the saleswoman didn't think I knew anybody young enough to wear such frivolous nightwear.

"It's for my wife!" I spluttered, defensively . . . and more laughter came from the females in hearing distance.

★ ★ ★ ★

Two days later, I was back in the store. The saleswoman was happy to see me—she said, "Oh, so you did make a mistake? You want a longer one?"

"No, I snapped, "I also want one in BLACK. A short shortie!" Just yesterday I told my wife my sad story.

"Your mistake was in telling her it was for your wife," she said. "You should have told her it was for your girl friend."

"But she might have believed that!" I said.

"Don't worry, she thought it was for your girl friend anyway!"

Anyway, I hope these shorties don't shrink.

Ike's Conference to Be Televised

Press Interview Today Is First to Be Filmed by TV Cameras

WASHINGTON (AP)— President Eisenhower today holds the first White House news conference by a chief executive to be filmed by television and newsreel cameras for likely public viewing later.

Photographers who make "still" pictures for newspaper and magazines also were authorized for the first time to operate while the conference is going on.

* * *

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty announced the innovations late yesterday and said the same practice will be followed at the President's news conferences from now on. Hagerty told newsmen:

"This is being done so that all media of information can cover presidential press conferences, and so the people of our country can not only read the reports of the conferences but can hear and see the discussions the President has with you gentlemen."

* * *

In reply to questions, Hagerty said the new rules do not provide for any "live" television coverage of news conferences, a proposal which the White House has just about abandoned.

Child's Testimony Helps Save Man

COVINGTON, Ky. (AP)—The words of a child may have saved a man from a penitentiary sentence.

Rancy Hull, 55, of Covington, was being tried on a charge of breaking into a dwelling with intent to steal. Mrs. Emma Lou Ryan charged he broke into her house while she was out shopping.

* * *

Judge Joseph P. Goodenough explained it had to be proved, under Kentucky law, that Hull forced his way into the house.

Mrs. Ryan said Hull had opened a screen door. Her 4-year-old son Timmy, home at the time of the incident, was brought into the courtroom to tell what he saw.

Before Timmy was sworn in, he piped up:

* * *

"I let him in. I opened the door."

Goodenough dismissed the charge against Hull.

Chiefs' Valley Hopes Hurt by 46-31 Setback

By BILL MARTIN

Pontiac High's basketball team, bidding for its 1st Saginaw Valley Conference cage title in history, had its aspirations badly bruised last night at Saginaw.

Chiefs turned in their poorest performance of the season in bowing to league-leading Arthur Hill, 46-31.

A capacity crowd of more than 2,500 fans packed Arthur Hill's gymnasium to watch an anticipated exciting clash between the two top teams in the conference. They saw instead a one-sided and largely uninteresting exhibition of mediocre basketball.

The victory boosted the Lumberjacks into a commanding position in the Valley race, giving them a clean 5-0 sweep in the 1st half of the 1954-55 league season.

* * *

They were far from impressive in winning, connecting on only 28 per cent of their 50 shots from the floor and sinking 18 of 41 free throw chances. 'Jacks failed to score a single field goal in the final 10 minutes of play, picking up their final nine points on foul shots.

Arthur Hill built up a 7-0 lead in the 1st four minutes of play before PHS center Dick Blacklaw dumped in a follow-up shot for Pontiac's 1st goal.

Walter King then hit on a leaping 1-hander and Walt Poe added another basket and two free throws as the Chiefs made their only real threat of the game.

Neither team showed much in the way of offense through most of the following quarter, but Gary Lee and Tom Jones each dropped in a pair of long shots late in the stanza to spark the Lumberjacks to a 27-14 halftime edge.

PHS starters continued their lack-lustre play in the 3rd period and Coach Art Van Ryzin began replacing them when the margin reached 17 points. Forward John James was the only regular to see action in the finale, and he gave way to a reserve early in the quarter.

Bill McMahon led Lumberjacks in scoring with 14 points, while Lee had 10. Rod Treals, who connected on three of his five shots, and King were high for Pontiac with six points apiece.

Chiefs make their 2nd long road trip of the week Friday night, when they go to Bay City to meet Central's 5th-place Wolves.

Coach Fred Zittel's Little Chiefs lost their 1st game in six starts, bowing to the Hillite junior varsity 49-44 in the preliminary tilt. Pontiac's Fred Diehm copped game honors with 20 points.

PCC Prexy Defends Policies

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP)—A scathing attack on the proposed football television policies of the Pacific Coast and Big Ten Conferences by a small college official has brought an immediate defense from the president of the PCC.

Professor Emmett Moore of Washington State College reaffirmed the PCC stand Tuesday on the coast immediately after being informed of the attack by J. Shober Barr, athletic director of Franklin and Marshall College here. Barr accused the two conferences of being "selfish in their approach to the solution of the (TV-control) problem."

* * *

Barr is one of the 13 members of the committee which is working on the NCAA's TV program for next season. He said in a statement that the two major conferences have "no concern for the hundreds of independent and small colleges and universities throughout the country and particularly those in their own areas."

Both conferences are outspoken proponents of a regional program of TV. The PCC says it's that or nothing.

Barr, noting that 85 schools have dropped football since the end of the 1946 season, said the coast plan of regionalized TV with unlimited night game telecasts would force many more colleges to abandon the sport.

Moore replied that the PCC is "not out to disregard anyone and we recognize the small schools as an integral part of the athletic picture. After all, Washington State is a 'little fellow.'"

PCC Commissioner Victor O. Schmidt defended the conference program as "best suited to the attainment of a proper balance between the legitimate interests of member institutions, of the different geographical regions of the country and of the television public."

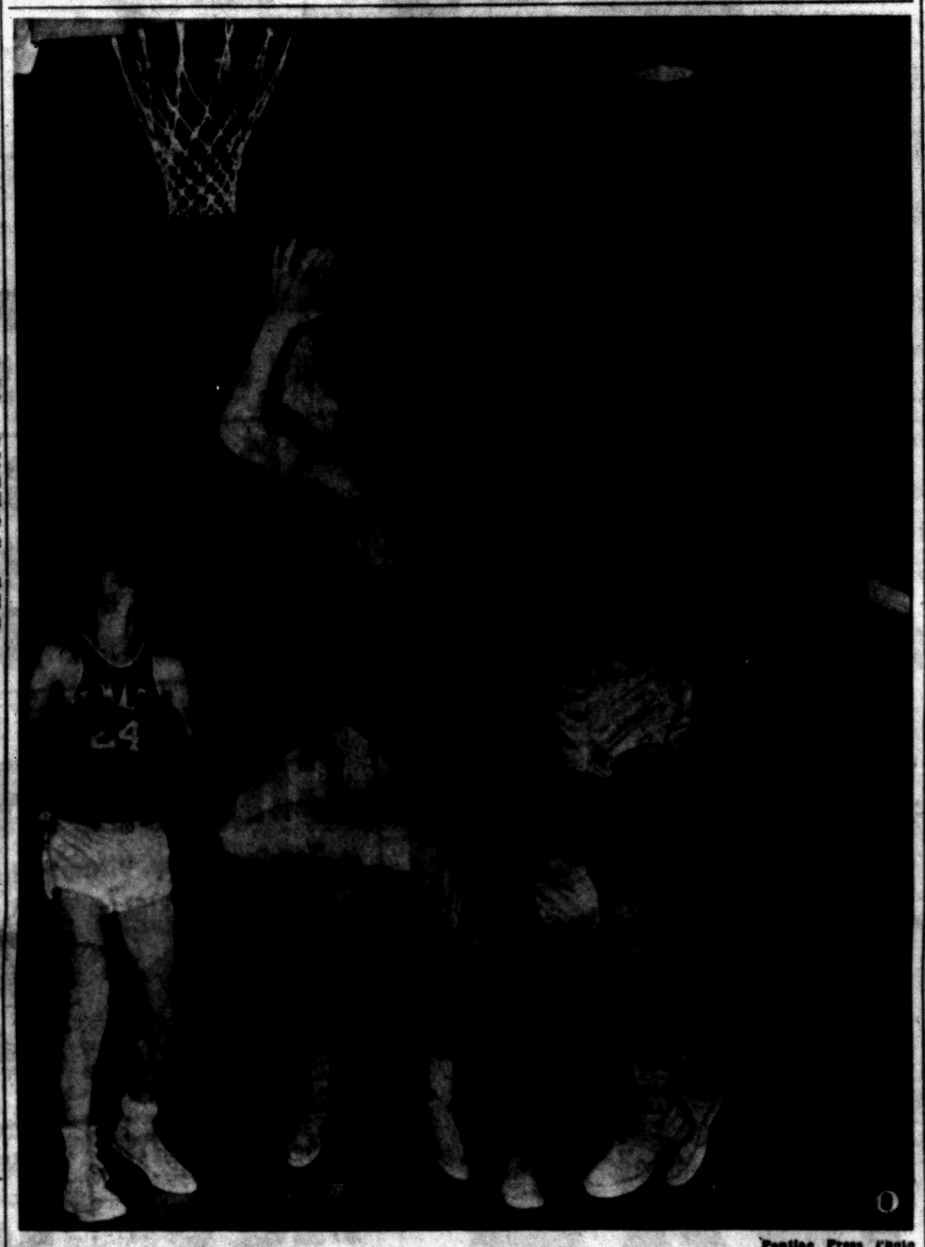

Earlier Tuesday, Fritz Crisler, athletic director at Michigan in the Big Ten, had cautioned state legislators against going "too much into the matter of telecasting college football."

* * *

Legislatures in Michigan and Ohio are considering proposals to force Big Ten schools in those states to ignore the NCAA TV controls. Crisler, referring to the present effort in the NCAA to work out a solution, said that "if they let it run its course, we have a good chance of reaching the objective we are seeking."

* * *

Later, an Illinois state legislator, Republican Rep. Ora Dillavou of Champaign, revealed he has prepared a bill to permit the University of Illinois telecast any game it wants.

PHS Swimmers in Test Today

Chiefs, Highland Park Compete in PHS Pool This Afternoon

Pontiac High's swimming team, which already has bettered last year's 4-7 record, returned to action here this afternoon in a non-league meet with Highland Park.

Chiefs were seeking their 6th victory in seven starts against the Parkers.

Coach Des Boyce's splashers hold victories over Flint Central, Mt. Clemens, Ferndale, Birmingham and Saginaw. Their only loss was a 50-34 beating by Arthur Hill, unbeaten Saginaw Valley Conference leader.

Free-styler Bob Lamson was out to post his 7th consecutive victory in the 100-yard event this afternoon. His best time to date was a 55.8-second clocking against Arthur Hill.

Meet was scheduled for 4 p.m. in the PHS pool.

11th Straight Win for Adrian's Five

ALBION (AP)—Adrian college was forced into an overtime last night before racking up its 11th straight basketball victory of the season with a 69-65 win over Albion. The score at the end of regulation play was 63-63.

Adrian, undefeated this season, now leads the MIAA basketball race with six straight victories in conference play. Albion has a 4-2 record.

Lions Official Denies Trial for Canuck Pro

DETROIT (AP)—General manager Nick Kerbawy of the Detroit Lions says there is no truth to a report that Roger Savoie, 22-year-old tackle guard of the Winnipeg Blue Bombers, has been offered a chance to try out with the Lions. Savoie, whose club is a member of the Interprovincial Football Union, said a Lions representative talked with him Sunday, offering him a chance to show his talents to the Detroit coaching staff.

Hurler Tom Morgan 19th Yank to Sign Contract

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Yankees announced today that pitcher Tom Morgan had sent in his signed 1955 contract from his home in El Monte, Calif. He was the 19th Yankee to sign.

Morgan, a righthander who served in the Army in 1953, had an 11-5 record with the Yankees last season. He pitched 143 innings in 32 games and had an earned-run average of 3.34.

Veteran Catcher Signs

Leo Pulls No Punches

Durocher Claims Giants' Willie Mays Is Better Ballplayer Than Stan Musial

NEW YORK (AP)—The way Leo Durocher talks about Willie Mays, they're going to have to move the hall of fame from Cooperstown (N.Y.) to Birmingham (Ala.), Willie's home town.

This is the time of year when the "paper" arguments flourish. Is Mays better than Stan Musial? Would you take Mays over Duke Snider? Is Willie the greatest ever?

* * *

Durocher pulls no punches in his 100 per cent support for his "electrifying" center fielder on the New York Giants. Leo uses the word "greatest" like a Hollywood press agent but this time he really means it— he says.

* * *

"If Willie hits .325 or better for the next three or four years he'll be the best we've ever known," said Durocher Tuesday at a press conference in the Giants' office.

As for Musial, the St. Louis Cardinals' proven "great", Leo said, "Mays is a better ball player than Musial. He is as good a hitter and has as good power. He can outrun, outthrow and outfield him."

Durocher doesn't give Musial any ground for his versatility, either. When it is pointed out that Musial also plays a pretty fair first base, Durocher has this answer:

"Mays could play shortstop or third base or any position if he had to. I know. I've hit him a thousand balls at shortstop and he picked 'em all up. To me the greatest thing of the World Series film was to see him picking up those ground balls. He's the greatest shortstop that ever played center field."

* * *

He'll give you the same kind of argument for Mays over Snider, Brooklyn's star center fielder.

* * *

Durocher isn't worried about Mays being all tired out after the long '54 season, World Series and a winter of Puerto Rican baseball. In fact, Leo says he doesn't think Willie is tired physically but only "tired of putting on the uniform and taking it off."

Tatum Answers Charges Against Maryland Setup

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP)—Take a charge — any charge — from an accrediting group's report of impurities in the University of Maryland athletic program and Jim Tatum can give you an explanation.

For example, the Middle States Assn. of colleges and secondary schools reported that athletes, who total only 8 per cent of the student body, are receiving 78 per cent of the scholarships.

Why, says Jim, "we don't have too much assistance for athletes. We should just have more for academics."

The Maryland football coach and athletic director isn't very concerned with the report. But one section affects his blood pressure.

That's the association's report that Maryland violated Atlantic Coast Conference and NCAA recruiting rules by luring a youngster away from little Allegheny college in Meadville, Pa.

Tatum said one of Maryland's assistant coaches spotted the boy in a high school all-star game in Pennsylvania and talked to him after the game, unaware that he was tabbed for Allegheny. The coach did not offer him a scholarship, Tatum said, but did tell him he was eligible for one.

The boy, who has an uncle living here, had hoped to attend Maryland but didn't have enough money, Tatum said. After talking to the assistant coach, he visited the Maryland campus, made application for a grant-in-aid and was accepted, he added.

Maple Tankers Win Fourth EML Meet

First-place winners in all nine events, Birmingham High School's swimming team splashed to an easy 64-20 triumph over Ferndale Tuesday in Birmingham's Barnum pool.

It was the Maples' 4th straight Eastern Michigan League victory. For the first time, the 400-yard free style replaced the 200-yard event and Doug Lewis' clocking of 5 minutes, 2.2 seconds was an automatic record.

Howard May Be Yankees' First Negro

Outfielder - Catcher Starred for Toronto in IL Last Year

NEW YORK (AP)—Unless all signs fail, Elston Howard, 26-year-old son of a Negro high school principal in Missouri, apparently is destined to be the first of his race to play for the New York Yankees.

It is conceivable, but not likely, that Howard will fail in spring training to meet the Yankee requirements in technique and ability. In other points of eligibility, he is 100 per cent. He is a quiet, well-behaved young man with admirable traits.

Insofar as ability and qualifications are concerned, Howard seems to be what the New York club has wanted for its first Negro player. With the pennant-winning Toronto club of the International League last year, Elston won the most valuable player award of the circuit.

Howard missed the league batting title by two points with his .331, and drove in 108 runs. He smacked 22 homers, 20 doubles and 15 triples. An outfielder all his playing days, he was converted into a catcher last season. His improvement over the 1953 season with Kansas City was remarkable. He batted .286 and drove in 70 runs with 10 homers, 9 triples and 22 doubles in 1953.

With the New York outfield limited to five men, and Yogi Berra showing no signs of slowing up, it appears likely that Manager Casey Stengel will be forced to reconvert Howard into an outfielder.

Wings Recall Hay

DETROIT (AP)—Jack Adams, general manager of the Detroit Red Wings, has recalled Jim (Redeye) Hay from Quebec to bolster the team's defense. Adams said he is sending right wing Lorne Davis and rookie defenseman Ed Zeniuk to Edmonton to make room for Hay.

Eaglets Just Miss Upset; Shamrocks Take Easy One

St. Michael and Orchard Lake St. Mary kept alive their hopes for the Suburban Catholic League basketball title last night, but the Eaglets narrowly missed an upset at the hands of St. Frederick.

St. Mary eked out a 52-50 decision over the 4th-place Rams at Orchard Lake. Freds, trailing by eights points at the end of the 3rd period, pulled to within a single point of the Eaglets with two minutes left to play.

Orchard Lakers went into a freeze for the next 90 seconds and upped the margin to two points when Vince Pernicki sank one of two free throw chances.

Rams' Dick Doyon missed an opportunity to send the game into overtime when he failed to hit on two charity tosses in the final five seconds.

Pernicki and St. Fred's Lionel Bradley shared scoring honors with 21 points apiece.

St. Michael turned in its top scoring effort of the season in swamping Royal Oak St. Mary, 62-43. Three Shamrocks hit double figures, with Joe Wilhelm piling up 18 points and John Keller and Bud Schwartz adding 14 and 13, respectively.

Mikes led 34-21 at halftime, and the Irish were never able to narrow the gap to less than eight points in the 2nd half.

Shamrocks' unbeaten reserves won their 6th consecutive victory in the preliminary game, edging St. Mary 37-35. Chuck Brown paced the win with 15 points.

Tuesday's 3rd SCL game saw St. Clement down St. James of Ferndale, 53-42.

Big Names Fail in Pin Tourney

Day, Bomar, Varipapa, Wilman Fall in All-Star Bowling Event

CHICAGO (AP) — Four former champions were among the bowlers failing to qualify into today's semifinal round in the National All Star tournament.

Billy Welu, a young St. Louis kegler led the more than 150 men shooters in the preliminary rounds and with 45 other bowlers who qualified, will seek one of the 14 spots for the finals starting Thursday. Welu, 22, posted 5,108 for the 24 games he shot since the tournament opened last Saturday.

* * *

Merle Matthews, Long Beach, Calif., secretary, paced the women with 3,136 in 16 games, which gave her a lead of 57 pins over Norma J. Porbes of New Orleans.

The four bowlers who have won the all-star tourney but failed to qualify were Ned Day, West Allis, Wis.; Buddy Bomar, Chicago; Joe Wilman, Berwyn, Ill., and Andy Varipapa, of West Hempstead, N. Y.

DETROIT (AP)—Wheaton college of Illinois and Lawrence Tech battled on even terms most of the way last night before Wheaton came through with an 88-77 basketball victory. The lead in the contest changed hands 20 times.

Griping Urged, Too

'Divot-Diggers' Find Ally in Turf Expert

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The griping, divot-digging golfer found a friend today in of all places — a meeting of the nation's golf turf specialists.

* * *

The gripers had a champion in Bob Williams, superintendent of Chicago's Beverly Country Club.

And the divot-diggers had the support of the president of the Golf Course Superintendent's Assn. of America, Norman C. Johnson of Jacksonville, Fla.

* * *

Johnson recommended, in fact insisted, a good iron shot couldn't be made without taking a healthy chunk of turf—say about an 18-inch square patch.

Williams, who thinks maybe college psychology ought to be standard equipment of the golf course superintendent along with technical turf knowledge, says a golfer who comes out to play after a tense day at the office is entitled to let off steam.

"If a player doesn't gripe on the golf course," said Williams, "he is likely to take it out on his family."

Paul E. Weiss, a turf expert from Ammaus, Pa., estimated something like an acre of turf is dug up each year on the average golf course. The only golfer who irks the club superintendent, he said, is the one who doesn't replace the divot firmly.

* * *

"Some players don't realize a divot must be tromped into place," he said. "Some pat it lightly, trying to avoid a hole for the next player's ball. It has to be tromped, depression or not, or it won't take root."

* * *

The superintendents reported that vandalism damages the nation's golf courses perhaps as much as any one thing with the exception of the natural elements of drought or disease.

Tarheels, G-W Pull Upsets on NC State, Terps

North Carolina Leads ACC Alone; Dartmouth, TCU Also Surprised

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

North Carolina State, rated right behind Kentucky, and Maryland, the latest Atlantic Coast Conference power, took their places alongside virtually every top team in the country today—they have been bitten by the upset bug.

North Carolina whipped State 84-80, while George Washington, perhaps the strongest team in the Southern Conference, took the measure of Maryland 75-53 in the two top games last night.

* * *

And as if that wasn't enough, Yale turned in a double-overtime triumph over Dartmouth in the Ivy League 83-79, and Rice whipped Texas Christian, the Southwest Conference favorite, 73-63.

North Carolina's victory over the mighty Wolfpack sent the Tarheels into undisputed possession of first place in the Atlantic Coast Conference.

* * *

North Carolina used only five men and four of them scored in double figures. Faced with a 71-54 deficit, the Wolfpack drove the score to 74-70 with five minutes to go, but from there on, the tiring North Carolina outfit held on doggedly.

George Washington put on a fine defensive exhibition in snapping Maryland's nine - game winning skein. The Terps, ranked sixth in this week's Associated Press poll, stayed close until midway in the second half. Then GW's zone defense stoped them.

Dartmouth's demise at the hands of Yale was about as close as they come. The Indians had a 17-point lead with about 6½ minutes to go, but the Elis kept whittling away until Charlie Ross tied it in the closing seconds.

* * *

Again in the first overtime, Dartmouth pulled ahead, only to have Ross deadlock it again. Then Dave Hobson took over the main scoring and Yale pulled away. The loss dealt a severe blow to Dartmouth's hopes of winning the league title.

In other major games, Washington State defeated Idaho 53-39; South Carolina edged Clemson 90-87; William and Mary stopped VMI 88-68, and Baylor halted Texas A&M 89-77.

Robinson Picked at 3-1 to Beat 'Tiger' Jones

Sugar Ray Continues Comeback Attempt on TV Tonight

CHICAGO (AP) — Ralph "Tiger" Jones should be considered more than just a whistle stop on Sugar Ray Robinson's comeback timetable tonight.

Their 10 rounder at Chicago Stadium will start at 10 p.m. EST and will be televised nationally (CBS).

* * *

Robinson, looking as sleek and as magnificently confident as ever, is a solid 3-1 choice to dispose of the 26-year-old Yonkers, N. Y. "crowder," noted as a rough-and-ready body-punisher who once was a third-ranked middleweight contender.

* * *

It will be the second fight in two weeks for Robinson, who at 34 is trying for a comeback that he hopes to climax by regaining the middleweight crown now worn by Bobo Olson.

If he succeeds, he will be the first fighter to come out of retirement and win back his title.

Robinson made his start back by kayoing plodding Joe Rindone in the sixth round at Detroit Jan. 5 in a non-televised affair that drew 12,000 customers.

About 7,000 fans are expected at Chicago Stadium tonight for a firsthand look at the popular former champion who will be appearing on home television for the first time since he chilled Rocky Graziano in three rounds at the Stadium April 16, 1952.

* * *

Most ring experts agree that Robinson at his peak ranked with the all-time greats of boxing.

Among the more memorable fights that made him an international idol were his brutal battering of Jake LaMotta in the stadium to win the 160-pound title Feb. 14, 1951, his two scraps with Randy Turpin and his pitiful collapse from exhaustion in the 98-degree heat against Joey Maxim in New York June 25, 1952.

Navy to Be Feted for Bowl Victory

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — Navy's Sugar Bowl football champions will be honored at a dinner Feb. 4 by their homefolks.

Merchants of Annapolis formed a touchdown club today and picked the 21-0 conquerors of Mississipi to be feted at their first annual sports banquet.

Edwin Avery, general chairman, announced that tickets for the affair will be limited to 250. Gifts will be given each player and coach.

Gluck Seeks to Add Race Track to Stables

CHICAGO (AP) — Max Gluck, New York chain store executive who purchased Widener Racing Stables in 1952, is negotiating to buy Lincoln Fields for approximately $2,300,000.

Atty. Charles R. Aiken told Superior Court Judge James J. McDermott Tuesday that Gluck is willing to pay $27.50 a share for the 83,753 shares controlled by a trust.

College Football Coaching Changes Widespread; Dartmouth, Houston, Oregon State Still Looking

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

There should be a brisk sale in programs at college football games next fall. You won't be able to tell the coaches without one.

At least 12 new head coaches will be on the sidelines, plus three who will be in new surroundings following shifts from one campus to another.

* * *

That number represents just the coaches who already have found lodgings for next season. The "coach wanted" sign still is out at seven other colleges—Dartmouth Houston, Loras, New Mexico A&M, Norwich, Oregon State and Xavier (Ohio).

And there could be more.

Two of the seven, Houston and New Mexico A & M, appear near the point of decision, which in turn may leave vacancies at two other colleges.

Houston and Bill Meek, now top man at Kansas State, appear quite chummy as the Cougars search for a "big name" replacement for Clyde V. Lee, who quit Dec. 6 after a 4-5 season. K-State had a 6-4 mark last fall.

* * *

New Mexico's Aggies reportedly have a list of four prospects for a successor to Jim Patton, who resigned with a 0-9 record Dec. 2. The four are said to be Ara Parseghian, head coach at Miami (Ohio), Bill Yeoman, a Michigan State assistant; Bob Friedlund, resigned Pitt assistant, and Cecil Coleman, Phoenix high school coach. Parseghian says he's happy where he is.

* * *

Also to be considered are the head coach positions at Nebraska and Texas, where Bill Glassford and Ed Price are under "unofficial" fire. Glassford weathered the same storm last year, but after getting a bid to the Orange Bowl in lieu of Big Seven champion Oklahoma, the Cornhuskers were clobbered by Duke 34-7. Price was thought to have the Southwest Conference champ in preseason predictions, but his Longhorns wound up with a 4-5-1 record.

Poor seasons have been responsible for most of the coaching changes, although there have been varied "official" reasons. Some coaches resigned—with or without alumni pressure—while others retired or quit. Some were just plain fired.

* * *

Borden Wyatt of Arkansas, Jack Mitchell of Wichita and J.B. Whitworth, late of Oklahoma A&M all won more games than they lost in '54 but packed up to take similar assignments at other colleges. Wyatt went to Tennessee, Mitchell to Arkansas and Whitworth to Alabama.

Bobby Dodds is the new man at Tulsa after serving as an Army assistant. Bill Chipley left private business to head Washington & Lee's deemphasized program.

W&L's Carl Wise, incidentally, resigned after the school sat out 1954 as far as intercollegiate competition was concerned.

Charity Gets $41,800 From Pro Bowl Game

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Pro Bowl football game in Memorial Coliseum last Sunday netted $41,800 after deduction of 20 per cent of the net for the National Football League.

Rain held the crowd to 43,972. The West team defeated the East, 26-19. Proceeds, except the 20 per cent, go to charities.

Harbert, Middlecoff, Furgol Win for U. S.

LA JOLLA, Calif. (AP)—Play was scheduled to resume today in the Hopkins Trophy International golf matches, with the score all tied between select teams representing Canada and the United States.

There was promise of continued rain but plans went ahead to proceed with the singles matches—interrupted after nine holes Tuesday—and follow up with the doubles matches.

The trophy fight, brought to this country for the first time in its 4-year-old history, is played over the La Jolla Country Club course. It is 6,583 yards long and par is 36-36 for 72.

* * *

Each team racked up three points Tuesday in the Nassau system of scoring. The winner of each nine holes earns one point, and the winner of the 18 holes of match play gets the third point.

The lineup for the singles matches, in the same order as Tuesday is:

Ed Furgol, St. Louis vs. Al Balding, Toronto; Chick Harbert, Northville, Mich. vs. Pat Fletcher, Saskatchewan; Jack Burke Jr., Kiamesha Lake, N. Y. vs. Stan Leonard, Vancouver, B. C.; Dr. Cary Middlecoff, Kiamesha vs. Bill Kerr, Montreal; Marty Furgol, Lemont, Ill., vs. Henry Martell, Edmonton and Jerry Baber, Los Angeles vs. Jules Huot, Montreal.

The American points were picked up Tuesday by Middlecoff's 2-up score over Kerr, Harbert's 2-up decision over Fletcher, and Ed Furgol's one-up edge over Balding.

* * *

The Canadians scored with Leonard's one-up lead over Burke; Martell's 3-up margin over Marty Furgol, and Hout's one-up lead over Barber.

* * *

The trophy series was originated by John Jay Hopkins, wealthy industrialist and founder-president of the International Golf Assn.

The Americans were heavily favored, but the Canadians proved equal to the challenge of the Yankees, the golf and the California weather in the brief opening play. Winds up to 40 m.p.h. plus a steady downpour of rain, proved a terrific handicap.

* * *

Only man to equal par was Middlecoff, who is still celebrating his victory Sunday in the Bing Crosby tournament at Pebble Beach, Calif. Middlecoff's 36 was aided by a 12-foot putt for a birdie four on the seventh green.

* * *

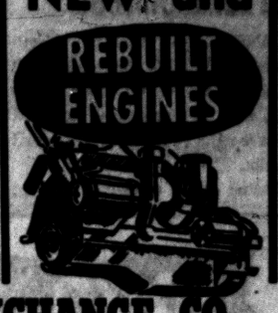

Harbert, the U. S. PGA champion, had a great day on the greens. He canned putts that measured 25, 20 and 15 feet in his match with Fletcher, the 1954 Canadian Open champion.

Boys' Club Five Takes Opener

Pontiac Boys' Club Wonders won their opening basketball game in the 1955 Michigan-Ohio Conference season last night by dumping Detroit's Philadelphia Branch Boys' Club, 58-28.

Bob Dewey and Butch Sharp sparked the victory with 12 and 11 points, respectively.

In a preliminary exhibition game, Boys' Club Seniors dropped a 53-49 decision to the Philadelphia seniors. Willie Norwood piled up 32 points for the winners, while George Thrasher was high for Pontiac with 19.

Sharman, Cousy Lead East '5' to 100-91 Win

West Team Falls for 4th Time in All-Star Series

NEW YORK (AP)—The Eastern Division of the National Basketball Assn. continued to sweep the honors today in the league's annual all-star game.

The East and the West came to grips at Madison Square Garden Tuesday night where a partisan crowd of 13,148 fans saw the East win for the fourth time in five meetings, 100-91. Bill Sharman of the Boston Celtics, was voted the game's outstanding player and was the fourth Easterner to receive the award since the classic's inception in 1951.

* * *

The game was nip-and-tuck most of the way before the East, sparked by Sharman and his talented teammate, Bob Cousy, erupted in the fourth period to leave the West in arrears. A 10-point spurt by Sharman and Cousy's seven tallies carried the East to a 30-20 advantage over the West in the final period.

* * *

Cousy, whose classy ball-handling and play-making dazzled the spectators, also headed the scoring parade with 20 points. Sharman, hitting consistently with his one-hander, and Syracuse's Dolph Schayes, a tower of strength under the boards, contributed 15 each.

* * *

A pair of Minneapolis veterans, Jim Pollard and Vern Mikkelsen, kept the Westerners in contention with 17 and 16 points, respectively.

The East did a good defensive job on Milwaukee's sharp-shooting rookies, Frank Selvy and Bob Pettit, who are averaging 20.6 points in regular-season play. Pettit was limited to eight points and Selvy seven.

Committee Session Is Set to Study AL Realignment

CHICAGO (AP) — Frank Lane, Chicago White Sox general manager and chairman of the American League's realignment committee, has called a meeting on Jan. 30 of the group in New York to study three hypothetical 10-club schedules.

Lane Tuesday revealed the "dry schedules, which include six prospective major league sites, have been completed.

* * *

One schedule includes two Pacific Coast teams, another adds two from the Midwest and the third includes two Canadian cities.

* * *

Lane would not say what cities were added to the schedules.

"The American League is not soliciting new members," Lane said. "The purpose of these mythical schedules is to help us set up standards in passing on the applications which we can reasonably expect.

"We want to get information in advance so that we can move in an orderly fashion when the time comes to consider expansion."

Lane said he believes that expansion can be accomplished by 1957.

* * *

"We are going to make sure first that the new owners would be financially responsible, that adequate stadiums would be available and that populations in these cities would be large enough to support major league baseball," Lane added.

NBA Player Group to See Loop Head

NEW YORK (AP) — The newly formed National Basketball Assn. Players' Committee has voted to request meetings with Commissioner Maurice Podoloff to discuss mutual problems.

The committee, with representatives from seven of the eight teams present, met Tuesday night and agreed that the purpose of the group "was to work for the betterment of basketball in the NBA to the mutual benefit of the owners and players."

It's Time Out!

"Er, Timekeeper, wasn't this game supposed to end quite some time ago?"

Former Olympic Champ Wins Over Detroiter

DETROIT (AP)—Davey Moore of Springfield, Ohio, former Olympic bantamweight champion, won a unanimous six-round decision over John Barnes of Detroit in a lightweight bout at Motor City Arena last night.

Moore weighed 130 for the fight, last to be televised from the arena until April 26. Barnes scaled 136.

John Riggins, 174, of Detroit, scored a unanimous decision over Bud Baker, 173, of Hazel Park in the co-feature.

Heavy Sports Program

Michigan State's intramural athletic program lists 23 sports, including weight-lifting and the annual "Turkey Trot," a one-mile obstacle run that offers a live turkey as prize to the individual winner. Last runner to finish is awarded a pair of rubber boots.

Oakland County Offers Good Action for Red Fox Hunting

By JACK PATTERSON

To a degree approached by no other American game animal, the common red fox has learned to adapt himself to changing times, and a life in close proximity to man.

PATTERSON

Although often thought of as a creature of the wild, the fox continues to abound in thickly populated areas, in fact he seems to prefer such regions to his native wilderness.

* * *

Because he does most of his hunting at night the fox is rather uncommonly seen except by hunters who either intentionally or incidentally rout him out of his daytime resting place. Thus he can go about his business, with the landowner, whose place he's sharecropping, unaware of his presence —at least until he raids the chicken yard.

Oakland County has plenty of foxes, and they can be hunted practically in the shadow of the courthouse. By way of example consider the bag of eight foxes taken in a couple days hunting around Bald Mountain, by J. Lee Voorheis, Jerry O'Dean, Jess Griffin, Will Looney and Forest Cotcher.

Fine full-furred animals all, and one bagged by young O'Dean, weighed 14 pounds—a big fox when one considers that the average dog fox seldom goes over nine.

* * *

These boys, with the aid of dogs and a little new snow, rely on fast leg-work and maybe a little luck to get within shotgun range of the quarry.

Good dogs are a big asset to the along the trail, with the hunter's attention well ahead, may result in the fox's starting from his resting place within shotgun range.

If there is more than one hunter present, one can be elected "dog" to follow the trail, while the others take stations off to the side. If the "dog" does his work well, then fox more often than not, will circle around behind him to see what gives, and is likely to present the other hunters with a shot.

A variation of this method, used to trail by. A slow, quiet advance fox hunter but are not essential. The animals can still be hunted successfully, if there's fresh snow for generations in New England, involves the use of a dinner bell by the "dog." As the bell-toller goes along the trail, the fox's curiousity will invariably get the better of him, and he can't resist doubling back for a look at the strange critter pursuing him.

If the other hunters are properly stationed behind and off to the side of the bell ringer, with due consideration for wind direction—that is, down wind from the fox's estimated position — one of them may be able to intercept the beat and demonstrate that the old saw about curiosity and cats applies also to foxes.

One rather popular method of hunting foxes hereabouts is the drive. In this operation, a large number of hunters (the more the merrier in fact) disperse their numbers so as to surround three sides of the area to be driven with shooters, while the remainder drive the area with much noise and whoop-de-do from the "open" end.

The theory is that any fox trying to escape from the driven area will have to pass within range of one of the flankers or end men. It should work fine and sometimes does, but never underestimate the fox's ability. He's been in-and gotten out of tighter situations than this before, and with any kind of break will do it again.

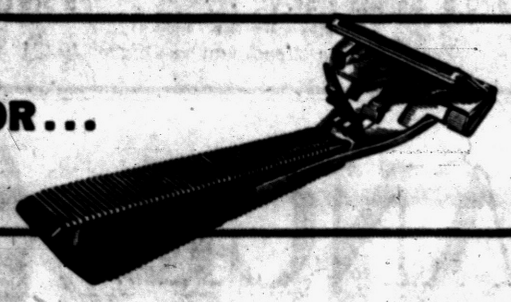

'FOXY BUSINESS' — Jerry O'Dean, 3921 Bald Mountain road, displays a nifty bag of foxes, taken in the Bald Mt. area in recent weeks. There are eight animals in the picture. All appear to have excellent pelts. (See Patterson story on this page for further details.

Nebraskan Says Beavers Become Pest in State

Easier Trapping Laws Sought After Animals Make Big Comeback

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP)—The beavers are in bad with beaver.

* * *

In fact, says Nebraska State Sen. John Beaver of Beemer, they are a pest in several Nebraska areas.

Beaver—Senator Beaver that is—drew smiles but attention, too, as he told the legislature's agriculture committee this week why he had introduced his bill to make trapping of the industrious animals easier.

Beaver—the animal that is—began to get legislative protection about 20 years ago when it was feared it might become extinct in the state.

* * *

But now he's in Dutch with not only Sen. Beaver but the state game commission. Appearing for the bill was game department expert Lloyd Vance who said the comeback of the animal is "an example of what strict enforcement of conservation laws can accomplish in bringing back a declining population."

* * *

Sen. Beaver's bill would cut the trapping permit fee from $5 to $2.50 and eliminate the $2 fee for tagging each hide.

The committee sent the bill to the floor after receiving assurance the game commission will adhere to the "strict policy of enforcement" and no all-out onslaught on the beaver would result from passage of the measure.

Mexican Tetra Fish Invade Mississippi

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—Arriving as live bait, a little Mexican cousin of the man-eating piranha fish of South America has invaded Mississippi water.

Wade Creekmore, director of the game and fish commission, said the three-inch long tetra doesn't harm humans but can and does gang up and devour large game fish.

* * *

Biologists thought the little fish wouldn't survive the relatively cold weather but apparently they are thriving and have been reported in Louisiana as well as Mississippi.

200 Deer Letters Pour Into Conservation Dept.

LANSING—The conservation department had received about 200 letters on the deer hunting issue at the end of 1954, about as many as were received to the same period last year.

* * *

The largest portion of the letters protest some aspect of any-deer seasons, but a large percentage offer friendly suggestions or take a neutral stand, while others express belief the department is on the right track.

Catches Big Cats

CEDARVILLE, Mich. (AP)—Trapping off Lake Huron on Michigan's Upper Peninsula, Martin De Jonge, a Zeeland, Mich., taxidermist, caught two prize specimen bobcats. One weighed 44 pounds; the other 41. Bobcats normally weigh 20 to 25 pounds.

Training Group to Demonstrate Work With Dogs

A "spring training" preliminary will be held Thursday at Daniel Whitfield School, Sylvan Lake. Persons interested in obedience training of dogs are invited to attend this program, starting at 7:30 p.m. It is presented under direction of the Southern Michigan Obedience Training Club.

* * *

This program is preparatory to opening of the regular SMOTC training classes starting Jan. 27 at the same place.

* * *

A demonstration of obedience trained dogs and a lecture by a prominent dog authority will highlight the event. There is no charge for attendance.

Inter-Agency Council Meets

Labor, Industry, State Represented Today at Haven Hill Session

LANSING—There are plenty of recreation opportunities in Michigan that can be used for week-end, or single-day excursions.

Beaches, forests and parks are scattered throughout the state and within short driving distance of most large cities.

The Michigan Inter-Agency Council for Recreation will study ways of publicizing these facilities for industry at a meeting slated at Haven Hill Lodge near Milford planned for today with representatives from labor, industry and state and federal agencies participating.

* * *

This is the 2nd conference highlighting use of recreational facilities by industrial workers of the state.

The conservation department will be represented through its parks and recreation division.

Preakness Test Set for Pimlico, May 28

BALTIMORE (INS)—The Maryland Jockey Club announced today that the 79th running of the Preakness will be held May 28 at Pimlico racetrack.

Nominations for the $100,000 added classic—2nd event in turfdom's famed triple crown for three-year-olds—will close Feb. 19.

The Preakness, won last year by Hasty Road, will be the feature-race on the final Saturday of Pimlico's 18-day spring meet.

Top prospective candidates are Summer Tan, Nashua, Royal Note, Trentonian and Royal Coinage.

Gun Collection Assn. Plans Week-End Show

Michigan Gun Collectors association will hold an exhibit of weapons, and at the same time conduct a meeting this weekend at Hotel Detroiter, Detroit. Sessions will be held both Saturday and Sunday, and are open without cost to the public.

Several Pontiac collectors are represented.

All types of arms and accessories, plus a fine Civil War display will be shown, according to Max R. Schwartz, Wyandotte, association official.

Michigan State has 112 athletic events listed for eight varsity teams during the 1954-55 winter season.

INQUIRE and be surprised

The fellow member collision coverage included in every collision policy written by this Exchange for members of the Auto Club is so broad and unusual that oftentimes motorists can hardly believe it. But it is true.

As one surprised insured member wrote: "How in the world can any good driver be insured elsewhere, if he is qualified for Exchange fellow member collision insurance at the Club?"

Better investigate, and you may be surprised, too, at this surprising protection.

Falcons Top KH, Wolves Win 6th in Row

Steadily applied pressure snapped a 3-game losing streak for Rochester High School's basketball team Tuesday night as the Falcons handed Keego Harbor a 49-41 setback in the Presidents' gym.

Clarkston gained its 6th straight victory by beating Northville and the Utica and Shrine outfits remained the area's only undefeated quintets.

Pat Nunn sparked the pressing defense utilized by Rochester as it took a 7-0 lead. Poor shooting and wild passing plagued Sam Minard's Keego club throughout as Ron LeBarre's nine points led Rochester to a 26-17 halftime lead.

Bill Dean took over the scoring burden in the 2nd half for the Falcons. Mid-way in the 3rd quarter, a set shot by Frank Rogers and a pair of hooks by John Craig pulled Keego within four points, but three buckets by Dean and a free throw by Nunn widened the gap again.

Holding a 7-point margin, Gene Konley's club went into a semi-stall to preserve the edge. Dean had his best night of the season with 17 points and LeBarre added 12 points.

Rogers, with 11 points, was high for Keego, which dropped its 3rd game in four starts.

At Northville, Clarkston jumped off to a 15-3 lead in the 1st period and never trailed although the Wolves wasted away much of a 17-point bulge they enjoyed in the 2nd half.

It was Clarkston's 6th straight success since losing the season opener by one point to Oxford. Dick Johnston, with 16 points, and Bob Yahnke, with 15, set the pace. Poor foul shooting (9 out of 27) kept Clarkston's victory margin as small as it was.

Utica scrambled to its 5th consecutive win by handing Romeo its 8th defeat in a row, 61-48, and Shrine maintained its perfect record by drubbing Lourdes, 80-50, with Hugh Kiriek tossing in 22 points and Ron Troy, 18.

Cranbrook began to hit in the 2nd half and laced Kennedy of Windsor, 75-59, as Shaw Emmons tallied 26 points.

Holly fell back in the Wayne-Oakland League cellar by bowing to Brighton, 63-40, while a pair of Inter - Lake Conference teams, Southfield and Farmington, were victors in non-league settos.

Jerry Rice hopped 19 points to lead Farmington's 58-40 margin over Bentley. Southfield got over the .500 mark with its 5th win as the Bluejays downed Dearborn Lowrey, 53-36. Bob Evans had 17 points for the 'Jays.

Jim Hock's 24 points went for naught as South Lyon was beaten by Willow Run, 76-68.

Defense Factor in Colonials' Upset of Terps

WASHINGTON (AP) — "We outdefensed them," a jubilant Bill Reinhart said today after his George Washington team had inflicted a 75-53 drubbing on Maryland's sixth-ranking basketball team.

GW, ninth-rated in The Associated Press basketball poll, beat Maryland Tuesday night by using a tight defense, ball-control style of play for which Maryland is noted. GW has been regarded as a run-run type of club.

"But we're not a race-horse team," Coach Reinhart protested. "I'm old fashioned enough to think defense is still a mighty big factor in basketball."

It was a sliding zone defense that confounded Maryland in the second half as GW popped in 20 points at one stretch while limiting Maryland to five free throws.

Basket (Stall) Game Won by 10-5 Score

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP) — Seaman High School's basketball team scored two points in the first quarter and started stalling Tuesday night. Wamego got three points and matched the stall. Final score: Wemego 10, Seman 5.

Wamego tried four field shots and made them all. Seaman made one out of nine.

Pontiac City Affairs

Court Officer Nomination Stirs Commission Debate

A recommended appointment and a request from the Pontiac Firefighters' Assn. touched off discussions at last night's City Commission meeting.

A recommendation from Municipal Judges Maurice E. Finnegan and Cecil McCallum that James M. Stone, of 651 E. Mansfield Ave. be appointed process server brought remarks from Commissioners Harry W. Lutz and D. Roy V. Cooley.

Lutz attempted to submit another name for consideration. But City Attorney William A. Ewart said he thought names had to be submitted by the judges subject to Commission approval.

Lutz said he thought it was useless for commissioners to take any action in the appointment if they could not submit names.

Dr. Cooley wondered why a recommendation had not come in sooner. He remarked, "This job has been open for months. Now it's suddenly on the floor of the Commission."

Commissioner John A. Dugan said, "We use the same process in approving other recommended appointments. If we don't want to go along, we don't have to."

The appointment was tabled until the Commission's Feb. 15 meeting and Ewart was asked to send copies of the law covering the appointment to commissioners. Cooley asked City Manager Walter K. Willman to find out how long the job has been open.

Another debate started over a request from members of the Firefighters' Assn. that they be allowed to have a representative present at the Commission's next informal meeting.

Willman said they were requesting pay for seven holidays allowed other city employes, but from which firemen have been excluded.

Lutz and Commissioner Harcourt S. Patterson said the informal meetings were not intended for open discussions, but to let commissioners work out details of city business which would lengthen regular meetings if not discussed beforehand.

Commissioners decided to invite the group to attend the Feb. 15 regular meeting and said they would be glad to meet with the firemen at any other time, if invited.

In other action, commissioners set a public hearing for Feb. 2 on the proposed vacating of Court drive from Pontiac drive to the north line of lots 33 and 57, assessor's plat 13, and on vacating Pontiac drive from Court to the west half of lot 53, assessor's plat 13.

A special assessment roll was received for proposed construction of a water main in Columbia from Baldwin to the west boundary line of assessor's plat 107.

A conditional 90-day food license was issued to Arnold Capogna at 157 Auburn Ave. The permit will be revoked at end of three months if Capogna has not begun work on changes in his building ordered by the City Health Department.

Right-of-way was accepted for a water main running to the new wells at Hawthorne School.

First reading was passed of an ordinance rezoning to commercial lots 1 to 5, inclusive, and part of lots 127 to 130, inclusive, of Merrimac Subdivision.

Conditions providing for a cash deposit to insure installation of improvements in Plat 722 were passed.

A communication from Manley E. Young, asking rezoning of property at 61 Short St. to light manufacturing, was referred to the City Plan Commission.

Two letters were read commending commissioners for their action last week in approving fluoridation of city water.

Letters opposing the move were read from Mrs. John Prestini of Grosse Pointe Farms and Mrs. Olivia Hoyt, 204 Pioneer Dr.

Mrs. Hoyt said, "I find an overwhelming number who are opposed to" the fluoridation plan. She asked that more research be done before steps are taken to institute the plan.

Commissioners said last week that they would not begin the fluoridation program for 90 days to allow opposed groups to circulate referendum petitions if they desire.

Senate to Study School Loan Bill

Aid Plan Introduced by Sen. Broomfield Is Cost Free to State

A bill authorizing the state to borrow up to $200,000,000 for creation of a public school construction "loan pool," which would cost the state nothing, was introduced in the Senate today by State Senator William S. Broomfield (R-Royal Oak).

Broomfield explained that the loan pool would be cost free to the state because the bill requires that individual school districts to repay loans, including administration costs.

The freshman senator told the Pontiac Press the bill which requires constitutional amendment, has the backing of State Superintendent of Public Instruction Clair L. Taylor.

If the Legislature approves the bill, the amendment will be submitted to the voters at the spring election on April 4.

He said his plan would not cost the state anything since the school districts would have to repay their loans to the state, including the cost of administration.

In order for a school district to qualify for the loan, he said, it would have to: 1—Obtain a vote of their people. 2—Prove their present bonded indebtedness is at least nine per cent of their state equalized valuations or that they have levied or pledged at least 47 mills of local property taxes already including the 15-mill tax limitation. 3—Levy four mills per dollar of state equalized valuation for 20 years, or the equivalent, to repay the state loan.

Sen. Broomfield proposes that a state loan board be established composed of the state superintendent of public instruction, the three members of the state board of education, the attorney general, auditor general and state treasurer.

Last year, Sen. Broomfield presented the Special Education Act which enjoyed unanimous approval in both the Senate and the House.

Turnout Poor at CD Meeting

Only Two Civic Groups Respond to Invitation by Ground Observers

A top Pontiac civil defense official today expressed disappointment at the poor turnout at a Ground Observer Corps meeting held last night.

"Only two of the 20 civic organizations invited to attend were represented," said William L. Collins, assistant civil defense head for Pontiac.

"While there were about 50 people present, they were mostly those already in the GOC and their friends," he said.

The meeting was called by S. Sgt. Nicholas Chizewsky, newly assigned by the Air Force as a liaison man to the GOC in Pontiac.

Its purpose was to inform the public, and especially the representatives of the civic groups, of the aims and needs of the GOC.

Arthur Heaton, GOC post supervisor, told the group that the observer post atop the Oakland County Office Building is manned only 70 per cent of the time. "A city this size should be manned 100 per cent of the time," he declared.

Pontiac Police Chief Herbert W. Straley said:

"It is very disapointing that there are not more citizens in this very necessary program. Inasmuch as it requires only two hours a week per person it behooves us as citizens of Pontiac to participate in this worthy endeavor."

Ground observers fill gaps in the radar screen which guards the United States against sneak air attack.

Peggy Keenan Hopes to Be First Woman at North Pole

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS)—Most women cry for the moon when they're young, and for mink when they're wise, but Peggy Keenan is different. Peggy sort of hankers after the North Pole.

"It's not that I want to own it, or anything like that," she says, because Peggy is not a greedy girl. "But I surely would like to be the first woman to set foot on it."

At first flush, it may sound like this girl is living in an ivory igloo, but the flush is false. Miss Keenan not only knows whereof she dreams, but she doesn't fool around. Next month she is taking off—with 31 Husky dogs and 22 even huskier men—for the North Pole.

Judging from her past experience at getting what she wanted, it's safe to say that the sign of the lipstick is as good as staked out in the Arctic.

The junket which will win Peggy a place in the midnight sun is the American Polar Basin Expedition—a scientific venture with the primary aim of measuring the depth of the Arctic ice cap for the future safety of defense aircraft in that area. The expedition is headed by Lt. Col. John F. Stanwell-Fletcher, a veteran explorer who loves the snow almost as much as he loves Peggy.

He met up with both of them forcibly, the snow and Miss Keenan, in 1947 during a blizzard in Alaska when Peggy, then a concert pianist, was entertaining troops for the U.S. "The temperature was 73 below zero," she remembers, "and I think he was impressed by the way I could weather the cold."

Two years later they were married, in South Dakota, with the temperature 110-above-zero. Obviously another weather test.

"So you see I'm not just going along as a pampered wife. The colonel knows, by this time, I can take it."

Peggy, who still goes by the name of Keenan because it's her trademark in the musical and business worlds where she has also proven she can take it, does not look like the kind of girl who would be content to sit around in caribou snuggies, sipping whale oil 'n bitters, the rest of her life.

She is tall and delicate, with eyes in honest green and hair the color of good tomato puree. She was brought up by a father who explored in mining and used to strap her to his back while he surveyed the Sierra Nevadas on mountain horses; and a mother who wanted her to be a fine musician.

She could have turned out to be a sharp-looking schizophrenic, under these circumstances, but "as it was," she says, "I found there was plenty of time to do what both parents wanted."

So Peggy Keenan first became a concert pianist on stage, screen and radio. When she had that made, she started looking into the mining situation in the Black Hills of South Dakota, and now she owns and manages her own company, Northwest Defense Minerals, Inc., which will, starting next May, recover and process minerals and metals for defense.

"I guess you might say," ventures Peggy soundly, "I like to be doing things."

On the North Pole trip, she'll be doing plenty. She'll drive one of the three dog sleds used by the scientific crew; officially record, on micro-film, all tests made in 65-below temperatures; act as chief radio announcer, giving daily accounts of the trek, and head up the film production crew which will turn out a full-length color movie of the $400,000 project.

And for all this premeditated frostbite, all Peggy gets is the privilege of standing on the Pole and saying "We-w-well, I m-m-m-made it."

Alumni Vote to Keep Name of University

PHILADELPHIA (UP) — Benjamin Franklin may have been its founder, but the University of Pennsylvania is still the University of Pennsylvania. That's what the alumni decided in a poll, 1,101 to 234.

Changing the school's name was the idea of Alexander D. Chiquoine Jr., of Scarsdale, N. Y., a member of the class of 1934. He suggested the institution's name be changed to honor its founder, Benjamin Franklin.

Promises to Go Straight After Hard Night on Job

DENVER (AP) — Andy Mares, a foreman at a products company, reported to police yesterday a burglar broke into the plant through a side door, ransacked desks and cabinets, broke the locks off tool boxes, and knocked the dial off a safe in an unsuccessful attempt to open the strong box.

Then he left the following note in a company typewriter:

"This night has convinced me that tomorrow I am starting to go straight. Your friend, the burglar."

Grains Steady in Active Trade

CHICAGO (AP) — Grains ruled steady on the Board of Trade today but were not able to make any substantial gains. Dealings again were quite active, particularly in wheat and soybeans.

There appeared to be a renewal of yesterday's early short covering in wheat, possibly again inspired by the intensified fighting north of Formosa. January soybeans dropped a couple of cents at the start but then rallied. Feed grains advanced small fractions.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ½ to ⅞ higher, March $2.28¼; corn ¼ lower to ⅜ higher, March $1.53; oats unchanged to ¼ higher, March 75⅞; rye ¼ to ½ lower, March $1.19¼; soybeans ½ lower to ¾ higher, January $2.81½; and lard unchanged to 5 cents a hundred pounds lower, January $12.80.

Stocks Advance in Early Trade

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market advanced moderately today in early dealings.

The rise was a continuation with lessened vigor of the rally that yesterday carried the entire market upward substantially.

Prices today were up from 1 to 3 points at the outside with the aircrafts displaying the most buoyancy as they did yesterday.

Ahead with the aircrafts were the steels, railroads, oils, chemicals, coppers, and electrical equipments. There was a narrow mixture of gains and losses in the motors.

Trading was brisk at the opening with the tape unable to keep step with floor transactions for a brief period.

Among other blocks were Douglas Aircraft 1,500 up 1 at 126½, American Telephone 2,000 up ¼ at 174¼, Youngstown Sheet & Tube 1,200 up ⅞ at 73¾, Cities Service 1,000 up 1⅜ at 118⅛, Boeing 3,500 up 1 at 72½, and Pennsylvania Railroad 5,000 up ⅝ at 21¾.

Tool Engineers See Pontiac Engine Plant

Members of Pontiac Chapter 69 of the American Society of Tool Engineers made a trip through the new Pontiac Motor Division engine plant Monday evening. The tour started in the plant cafeteria, where G. R. Scharp, assistant superintendent of the motor plant, made a brief talk.

About 150 members of the chapter made the tour, which was arranged by C. E. King, vice chairman of the chapter. The visitors were especially interested in automation in the new plant, transfer machines and revolving test stands which contribute to building of the new Pontiac V-8 engine.

Business Notes

Max E. Kerns was elected president of the Pontiac Association of Insurance Agents at its annual dinner meeting at the Waldron Hotel last night. He succeeds Roy Wilton.

Other 1955 officers are Robert R. Lazelle, vice president; and Noyce Strait, reelected secretary-treasurer. Merton Brummitt was elected a director succeeding Dan R. Lazelle.

Allied Stores Inc., owners of Waites Department Store here, this week announced plans to spend a total of $20,000,000 on improvements in its downtown stores. Plans for a $292,720,000 shopping center network across the nation were also revealed.

General Motors Corp. is working on plans to build a revolutionary lightweight railroad train, company President Harlow H. Curtice said yesterday. Curtice told a press conference in New York there "is perhaps some substance to the rumor we are doing the work at the request of some railroad officials."

"It's all in the Engineering Department," he said. "Whether it will get beyond that we are not certain." Both the New York Central and the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroads have expressed interest in the high-speed low-slung Spanish talgo train.

The nation's two largest finance companies, General Motors Acceptance Corp. and Commercial Credit Corp., of New York, today raised their commercial paper interest rates ¼ of 1 per cent. Effective immediately, the interest rate paid by these companies will range from 1⅝ to 1¾ per cent for 30-day to nine-month maturing notes. Previously, the range was 1¼ to 1½ per cent.

Continental Motors Corp. and its consolidated subsidiaries of Detroit reported today sales during the fiscal year ended Oct. 31 were down more than $116,000,000 from the fiscal year 1953. Continental listed sales of $182,061,693 during the last fiscal year compared with $298,438,605 during the previous 12-month period. The firm said earnings were "proportionately less," from $6,023,812 or $1.83 a share to $4,542,748 of $1.38 a share.

George Bennett today was appointed general manager of Burroughs Manufacturing Co., of Kalamazoo.

The appointment was announced by Douglas F. Roby, president of American Metal Products Co., of Detroit, parent company of the Kalamazoo firm.

William J. DeGrace, 63 Bloomfield Terrace, has been named account executive for Harris and Coy Inc., Detroit advertising firm. DeGrace, former copywriter with Grant Advertising Inc., will handle the Detroit Parking Assn. account. GM to Pull No Punches in '55

Curtice Refuses to Put Ceiling on Production of Any Division

NEW YORK (AP) — General Motors is not planning to pull any punches in the auto industry's 1955 competitive battle, GM President Harlow H. Curtice told a news conference yesterday he "wouldn't want to put a ceiling on the ability or capacity" of any of the five GM car divisions or upon the corporation itself.

General Motors accounted for 52 per cent of the car market in 1954. Curtice declined to say specifically that GM would go after that same volume this year. He did say, however, that GM's goal in 1955 "is to get a fair share of the market."

The news conference was another of the series of preliminaries to the opening tomorrow of GM's annual Motorama at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel. An invitational preview of the huge showing GM products was held today.

Curtice also told news writers: GM dealers are selling 1955 model cars as fast as they arrive from the factory.

He expects high demand for GM products to continue through what is normally a slower period early in the year.

He would not want to express any views regarding the proposed guaranteed annual wage because GM conducts its labor negotiations in private.

The United States is not ready for the 30-hour work week.

General Motors' engineering department currently is doing some research work on a revolutionary light railroad train, at the request of "certain important railroad officials."

Reckless Driver Jailed

Pleading guilty to a reckless driving charge yesterday before Waterford Township Justice Willis D. Lefurgy, Warren Green, 42, of 310 E. Seventh St., Flint, was sentenced to 30 days in the Oakland County Jail after he failed to pay a $50 fine and $25 costs.

No Big Stars, but Few Casts

Rarely Reaches Height, Also Has No Flops; Uses Good Material

NEW YORK (AP)—Video's most venerable dramatic show, the Wednesday night Television Theater on NBC, is nearing its 400th performance with no signs of wear and tear.

In fact, some of its recent shows have been among its best, such as last week's "Patterns" that combined a good cast, strong script and able direction into an hour of good theater.

If the key to the show's success and long life can be summed up in one word, it's balance.

Television Theater rarely has as many big name stars as its contemporaries. But the cast usually is competent from top to bottom. The show may not reach the dramatic heights too often, but neither does it have many flops.

And despite the absence of a star policy, it has had the services of some of the best known performers of TV and stage and many of its alumni have gone on to movie and stage successes. It has been a prodigious employer of Thespian talent.

The veteran Vaughn Taylor has appeared on television theater 45 times, Dan Morgan 30, Valerie Cossart 28, E. G. Marshall 24, Margaret Phillips 18 and Harry Townes 16, to mention a few.

Jack Lemon went directly from a Television Theater performance to a Hollywood movie role. Others who've been on the show, such as Rod Steiger, have gone on to film careers, although not necessarily as a result of their Television Theater performances. Patty McCormack, child star of the Broadway hit Bad Seed, made her acting debut on the program.

Some of its most notable productions have included F. Scott Fitzgerald's Babylon Revisited with Kevin McCarthy, Chess Game with Russell Collins and Joey Walsh, His Brother's Keeper with Rod Steiger, and Kitty Foyle with Cloris Leachman.

Mad Killer's Mother Ends Life on Tracks

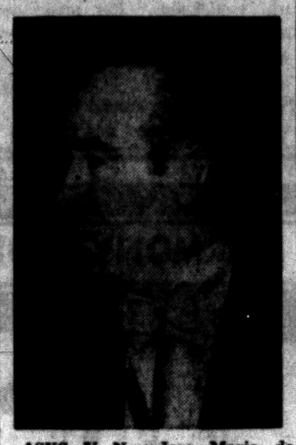

BATTLE CREEK, Mich. (AP)—Standing on the tracks with her arms folded, Mrs. Pearl Roscoe, 65, calmly faced the New York Central's Mercury yesterday as the passenger train swiftly bore down on her. Moments later she died beneath the wheels of its big locomotive.

The woman was the mother of Robert Roscoe, 28, who was committed to the Ionia State Hospital for the Criminally Insane for the slaying of Mrs. Beulah Pontius last July 12.

Roscoe admitted shooting Mrs. Pontius, a mother of six, "because she was a dangerous Communist and I was an FBI agent doing my country a service." Police said the woman, a neighbor of Roscoe's, had no subversive connections and Roscow never was an FBI agent.

Town Looks for Refuse

NEW BRITAIN, Conn. (AP) — The city of Hartford sent 70 tons of refuse to the city of New Britain. New Britain wanted to try out its new incinerator and didn't have enough refuse for the test.

ASKS U. N.—Jose Maria de Areilza, Count of Matrico, Spanish ambassador to the U. S. has asked the privilege of establishing a permanent observer at the United Nations. According to U. N. observers, the U. S. is said to look with favor on the application.

Convict Corrects Judge on Parole Violation Law

DETROIT (AP)—Merton Colegrove, 19, pulled the law book on Recorder's Judge John P. O'Hara yesterday.

The judge had just sentenced Colegrove to three to five years for parole violation.

"Judge", said Colegrove, "You're givin' me the wrong term. The 'max' is four."

O'Hara checked the lawbook, and the sentence was amended to three to four years.

Detroit Reveals Plan for Elevated X-Way

DETROIT (AP) — Plans for Detroit's first elevated expressway were announced today almost before motorists became acquainted with a looping interchange connecting the city's two major expressways.

The elevated highway would connect with the end of the John C. Lodge Expressway in northwestern Detroit and soar 17 feet over James Couzens Highway. It would span James Couzens — already a parkway — and traverse it four miles to the northwestern city limits, some 15 miles from downtown.

The elevated would cost an estimated 20 million dollars. The start of construction will depend on the availability of federal funds.

A large portion of the complex interchange connecting the Lodge and the east-west Edsel Ford Expressway was opened yesterday.

Summer temperatures at Adak in the Aleutian islands average only about 25 degrees higher than the 30-degree average for the winter.

National Budget Growing, but Taxes Multiply Faster

WASHINTON (UP) — The record shows that the government's take from individual income taxpayers has multiplied 64 times in the past 20 years.

President Eisenhower's fiscal 1956 budget estimated government spending at seven times as much as Franklin D. Roosevelt estimated 20 years ago for fiscal 1936.

While individual income tax payments now are estimated for 64 times the 1936 take, overall government revenue in the new fiscal year will be only 15 times that proposed in 1939 by FDR.

Twenty years ago this month newspapers were cracking with charges that FDR was about to spend the nation to disaster.

His budget estimates for fiscal 1936 had just been made public. Taxpayers still were relatively calm and almost contented. The so-called Roosevelt soak-the-rich tax bill had not yet gone to Congress.

Roosevelt's 1936 and Eisenhower's 1956 budgets had, respectively, a few things in common. They both estimated deficits and both were hopeful of an early balanced budget. Both also could explain the red ink.

Roosevelt said his budget balanced except for spending to give work to the unemployed.

Eisenhower said his budget would have been balanced if there had been no tax cuts last year.

But there were great differences, too. Eisenhower estimated a 1956 deficit amounting only to about 1.6 per cent of overall government spending. Roosevelt's estimated deficit was for more than half of all the government spending planned. It is a matter of record that in his sequence of White House terms, FDR was unable to balance the budget or come very near to it. The war relieved him of all such responsibility during his final years in office.

Here are some comparative 1936 and 1956 figures:

	1936
Revenue	$ 3,991,000,000
Expenditures	8,520,000,000
Deficit	4,528,000,000

	1956
Revenue	$60,000,000,000
Expenditures	62,408,000,000
Deficit	2,408,000,000

National defense required only $792,484,000 in Roosevelt's 1936 budget compared to $40,455,000,000 in 1956 for what Eisenhower called major national security.

Of the three services, the Army gets the least in Eisenhower's budget, $8,850,000,000. But that is a bit more than Roosevelt planned to spend for all government services in 1936.

As Eisenhower's warning that taxes are too high is pointed up by the increase over the years, so is his counsel that the nation should take a sober look at the costs of veterans pensions and benefits. They were estimated to cost $704,885,000 in 1936 against $4,684,000,000 in the new fiscal year.

The first pension law for veterans of the Civil War was passed July 14, 1862.

Four-Day Ordeal Fatal to Woman

Injured Crash Victim Dies on Way to Hospital After Rescue

ST. JOHN'S, Ariz. (AP)—A young woman who lay for four days paralyzed from the waist down in the snow-covered wreckage of a light plane died en route to a hospital early today.

"There was still a spark of life left" when searchers found Melba Tomlinson, 22, of Denver, Sheriff Erant Hamblin, of St. John's, said.

She was found a few hours after William C. Wilson, 33, Denver attorney, staggered in to an Arizona ranch on frost bitten feet and with a fractured ankle. He said Miss Tomlinson, his secretary, was paralyzed and near death in the wreckage.

A party headed by Sheriff Hamblin and Arizona Patrolman R.E. Panell found the young woman lying in the snow beside the Stinson Voyager shortly after midnight.

Wilson said his secretary had been on a flight from Santa Fe, N.M., to Winslow, Ariz.

She was taken through the rough country along the New Mexico - Arizona line to a ranch where Wilson had gone for help. A waiting ambulance rushed her to St. John's but she died on the way.

Wilson, resting in a St. John's hospital, said they had been in the plane since it stalled and crash-landed in a "flat area between mountains" on the New Mexico side of the line. He said both had been knocked out when the plane struck the ground.

"We had only two blankets," he said. "I tried to make her comfortable."

Wilson said he had torn the plane's fabric to try to keep warm. He said they had no matches, food or water. They spent three days in the plane before he started for help yesterday morning.

The area—wild, rugged country—is covered with about 12 inches of snow. The CAA said the temperature was about 3 below zero.

Wilson, an attorney, is not considered in serious condition.

"Life History and Ecology of the Five-Lined Skink, Eumeces Fasciatus" is by Dr. Henry S. Fitch, director of the KU natural history reservation.

SPOKANE, Wash. (UP) — Spokane motorcycle officers wore cowboy hats to advertise the Spokane rodeo, and twice in 24 hours they had to play the part of real cowboys. Two officers rounded up a cow which had escaped from a packing plant. Then three cops chased a frightened heifer some 10 blocks before corraling her near the downtown business section.

Find Body of Woman Chained to Her Bed

MONTREAL (AP) — Police last night found the body of a 65-year-old woman chained to her bed in her dirt-floored, two-story home in nearby Pointe St. Charles. They expressed belief she had starved to death but had not been the victim of foul play.

Police said the chain around the woman's body was padlocked to the metal bed and $130 was beside the body. The woman was the owner of the unlighted, unheated brick structure.

The discovery was made after neighbors reported they had not seen the woman for nearly a month.

Weight Loss Big Aid

DALLAS, Tex. (UP) — Detective Bob Abbott credits a reducing campaign that brought his weight down from 320 to 249 pounds with helping him win a footrace with a law violator. When Abbott drove up to the home of a man wanted on a check-writing charge, the suspect ran. Abbott took out in hot pursuit and nailed the man in less than 200 feet.
