Red Battle Raging Against Iraqi Rule

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI)—Two Cairo newspapers reported today that a Communist uprising in Iraq against the government of Premier Abdel Karim Kassem in the oil city of Kirkuk was still raging and that the Communists were hanging a "large number" of notables there.

The death toll was estimated at between 50 and 100 persons.

A clandestine radio calling itself the voice of free Iraq also reported today the fighting had spread to the city of Anah across the top of Iraq from Kirkuk and that Communists there had made "another" attempt to capture the city.

(Conflicting reports received in London from the British embassy in Baghdad indicated that "the situation in Kirkuk now seems to be calm" a British foreign office spokesman said. The spokesman said the reports from Baghdad were dispatched late yesterday. He said there were no reports of injury among Britons in Kirkuk or of damage to British property.)

Most of the happenings in Iraq were veiled by heavy government censorship but the government confirmed last night that the Communists began an attempt on July 14 to seize control.

★ ★ ★

July 14 is the first anniversary of the uprising against King Faisal.

Major fighting was reported confined to the city of Kirkuk where an army brigade there mutinied and joined the Communist rebels, the semiofficial Middle East News Agency reported in Cairo.

Reports today said the Reds held large areas of the city and had seized an arms depot.

BRIDGES BLOWN UP

Two Cairo newspapers, the government organ Al Gomhouria and Al Shaab, reported fighting was still under way in Kirkuk and that the Communist-led second brigade of the second army division had blown up a number of bridges in its mutiny against the government.

The "Voice of Free Iraq" in a broadcast monitored here said Iraqi armed forces had defeated "previous criminal attempts" by Communist agents to seize the city of Anah.

It said the latest attempt came last night but was foiled by an army patrol.

★ ★ ★

"The Communists opened fire and the patrol retaliated," the broadcast said.

"At this very moment a military reinforcement arrived . . . and joined the patrol in the fight.

"The armed forces succeeded in forcing most of the Commu-

Nixon Assures Nikita He'll Keep Mum

Hopes Soviet Premier Will Feel Free to Relay Confidences to Ike

From Our News Wires

WASHINGTON — Vice President Richard M. Nixon has sent word to Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev that he will keep in the strictest confidence any discussions they may have in Moscow.

Nixon, who leaves Wednesday for a tour of the Soviet Union, was said to hope that his assurance of secrecy would encourage Khrushchev to transmit to him any confidential message he might have for President Eisenhower.

It was emphasized that the vice president does not know whether Khrushchev will have such a message. But if he should, Nixon wants him to feel free to state it and to discuss cold war problems generally.

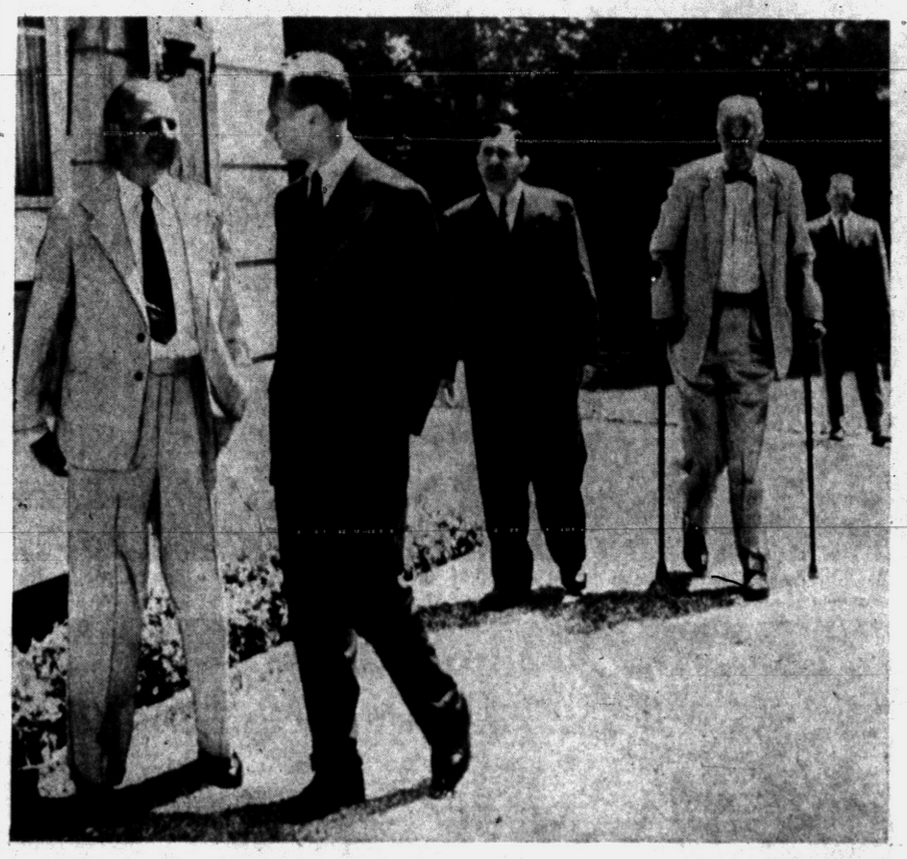

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon will hold a little summit meeting with Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev in Moscow Sunday to discuss the Berlin crisis, atomic tests, disarmament, trade and other East-West issues.

The Vice President also is expected to talk with Khrushchev about prospects for a summit meeting. Nioxn will confer with President Eisenhower Wednesday.

There has been no announcement that Khrushchev will confer with Nixon. But such a meeting is regarded as virtually certain, especially since Eisenhower received First Deputy Soviet Premier Frol R. Kozlov during his recent visit here.

Nixon asked Kozlov to relay to Khrushchev assurances that he in-

Luncheon Diplomacy in Action

TAKING GARDEN PATH TO PARLEY — The Big Four foreign ministers walk up path to villa of French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville at Geneva, Switzerland, for informal luncheon meeting on Berlin problem. Front to rear, they are: Britain's Selwyn Lloyd, De Murville, Russia's Andrei Gromyko and the United States' Christian Herter.

Report Gromyko Is Tentatively Against the Plan

Continuing Conference, East, West Germany as Advisers Proposed

GENEVA (AP)—In an effort to find a way to end the Berlin crisis, the West proposed to Russia today the creation of a continuing conference of foreign ministers, with East and West German advisers, to negotiate a German peace settlement.

U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter presented the Western compromise offer, after rejecting a proposal by Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko for formation of an all-German committee to negotiate unification and a peace treaty during an 18-month Berlin truce.

"The purpose of the Soviets in putting forward the proposal is all too clearly to perpetuate the partition of Germany," Herter said in a speech to the Big Four in a formal session at the Palace of Nations.

He then made the Western counterproposal, which would retain direct big power responsibility for German unification and a peace treaty but would specifically provide for increasing contacts between West Germany and Communist East Germany.

Here is the text of the proposition which has West German approval and was reluctantly agreed to by France Saturday after a week of Western disagreement:

"The Geneva conference of foreign ministers, as at present constituted, shall continue in being for the purpose of considering the German problem as a whole.

★ ★ ★

"It should also consider questions relating to the extension and development of contacts between the two parts of Germany.

"For these purposes the conference shall meet from time to time at such level and at such place as are agreed.

"The conference may also make special arrangements for the consideration of particular questions arising out of its terms of reference as defined above."

GENEVA (AP) — Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko was reported today to have rejected, tentatively, a Western proposal for a continuing conference of foreign ministers to work on a German peace settlement. The proposal was made in an effort to get Gromyko to cut his price for a truce in the Berlin crisis.

Narrow Motives for House Arson

Probers Still Hunting New Clues in Blaze at Bloomfield Residence

The motive behind the deliberate burning of Detroit Teamster official Charles O'Brien's Bloomfield Township home was narrowed down to possible revenge or arson for insurance today by investigators.

Sgt. Oramel O'Farrell, head of the Redford State Police post arson squad, and Det. Hubert Hanley traveled in opposite directions today while working toward one end—solving the puzzle of who put the torch to the $50,000 home last Thursday night.

★ ★ ★

O'Farrell is in Lansing to see if technicians at the State Police crime laboratory have finished their analysis of four five-gallon cans used by the arsonists.

Hanley is back at the burned-out home in his search for new clues.

The lab today extinguished one hope with a report that no identifiable fingerprints were found on the cans.

Before leaving this morning he said, "We can narrow this down to two motives, revenge or collecting insurance."

"In arson cases," he explained, "there are these and two other motives always present. The others are that the fire was set by a pyromaniac or with the purpose of covering up a burglary."

DISCOUNTS PYROMANIA

O'Farrell discounted a pyromaniac in the burning of the O'Brien home at 205 Harrow Circle.

"The burglary motive is very weak. The jewelry reported missing could easily have been consumed by flames; in fact a wrist watch has already been found in the rubble," the investigator said.

O'Farrell said complete lab reports had not been issued but he hoped they would be ready today.

Det. Hanley plans to continue questioning neighbors. Saturday, questioning didn't turn up any new leads, said detectives.

O'Brien's mother, Mrs. Sylvia Paris, 41, who owns the house, was

And What Is Missing?

LONDON (UPI) — A huge notice spotted yesterday outside a Roehampton Church said: "This is ch--ch. What is missing?"

... And It's Forecast Tomorrow

Rain Great--More Needed

Farmers and homeowners throughout the Oakland County area are cheering the much-needed rain which has been falling periodically since Friday afternoon. But they also are hoping there is more to come.

Actually, the "lick and a promise" of the last three days has done little to affect the critical drought currently withering farm crops, lawns and the flower beds alike.

The best the Weather Bureau can come up with is scattered afternoon or evening showers developing tomorrow. And for Wednesday? Generally fair with moderate temperatures.

According to Lyle Abel, Oakland County agricultural extension director, the farm situation is "still critical." He concurred that the current rainfall can prove to be very valuable if more follows soon.

"Our crop yield this year will be vastly reduced if we don't get more rain," he noted.

So far less than 1.99 inches of rain have been recorded for the area since June 1. About .65 of an inch has fallen since Friday's initial shower.

This slight moisture has done little to alleviate the situation.

Homeowners have achieved a respite from watering the brown stubble where green lawns once existed. Farmers report their crops, for the most part, are dehydrated and thinning out disasterously.

In downtown Pontiac the lowest temperature recorded before 8 a.m. was 64. By 1 p.m. the mercury had reached 76 degrees.

8 Survive 2-Day Ordeal in Sun With 1 Pint Water

MOAB, Utah (AP) — Eight parched people and one pint of water, a spoonful at a time. . .a burning sun with only a disabled car for shade. . .a little salmon-egg fish bait for food. . .and, finally, a thirsty child's question: "Mommy, what does it feel like to die?"

That was Diane Scott, 9, trying to sleep after almost two days of this. Mommy, 35-year-old Laura Scott, answered gravely:

"It would be like going to sleep. You'd just go unconscious and gradually die."

"Will I get water in Heaven?"

"Yes, honey, all you want."

Diane didn't die. Neither did Mrs. Scott, her husband Virl, 37, or their five other children, ages 4 to 12. A search plane spotted them Sunday, where their car had stranded them for two days in the remote Country of Standing Rocks. It's near where the Green and Colorado rivers join in southeastern Utah.

They drove into the rugged, treeless country Friday morning, to see the breathtaking view from Dead Horse Point, a bluff that

Racing Midgets

One of the area's newest and most popular sports for participants and spectators alike is the Quarter-Midget racers involving boys and girls between 4-15 years of age.

Crowds as high as 5,000 have watched the midget racers at Miracle Mile on Sunday afternoons.

Teamsters Try Again to Block Monitor Cleanup

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The embattled Teamsters Union tries again today to block court-appointed "watchdog" monitors from going ahead with a cleanup campaign.

★ ★ ★

Union attorney Raymond Bergan said he expected to ask Supreme Court Justice Hugo L. Black to stay an order by the U.S. Court of Appeals authorizing the monitors' housecleaning efforts.

Bergan said he would file the papers with Black because Chief Justice Earl Warren, who normally handles appeals in this area, is on the West Coast.

Legal sources said chances were slight that Black would interfere with the monitors' reforms until the Supreme Court decides whether to review the Appeals Court ruling. The high tribunal does not mett again until October.

Sale of Mysterious Ring Initiates UF Tribute Fund

The romance of an unmarked package from Corte Madera, Calif., a valuable lady's diamond ring, and the helping of a needy person somewhere in the Pontiac area, has proved the beginning of a new way to contribute to the Pontiac Area United Fund.

A Tribute Fund has been set up for this year's UF campaign.

It all started several weeks ago when Norman Pattison of 3401 Devon Brook Dr., Bloomfield Township, owner of Connolly's Jewelers, 16 W. Huron St., received the unmarked package containing a valuable ring.

An anonymous hand-written note asked that the dollar value of the ring be given to charity.

The note, written with pen on the inside wrapper, read:

"Value $125. Please sell this. It means nothing to me anymore. My loved one's dead. Keep the money or give it to charity."

There was no hint as to who sent the ring.

Today, the heartbroken person who sent the ring has something to rejoice about. The sale of the ring for $125 marks a major contribution to the UF fund campaign and has led to the creation of a Tribute Fund.

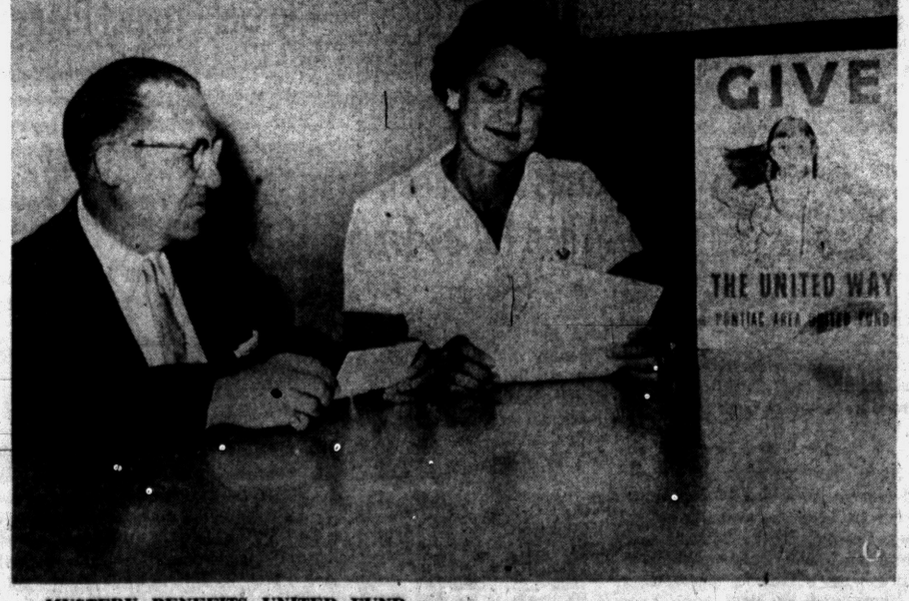

The new fund will be devoted to aiding individuals and families throughout the Pontiac area whose personal tragedies have come to the attention of local social service agencies.

Dollars can be donated to the Fund through special bequests by Pontiac residents. It is expected that many contributions will be made during instances of bereavement.

The Tribute Fund will send an engraved card to the bereaved family stating the donor's name and that a contribution has been made.

Admiral Leahy Dies of Stroke at Navy Center

WASHINGTON (AP)—Admiral of the Fleet William Daniel Leahy, wartime chief of staff to President Franklin D. Roosevelt, died today.

The veteran naval officer, diplomat and senior adviser to the White House was 84.

The Navy said death resulted from a "cerebral vascular accident," the usual medical term for a stroke. Death took place at the Navy Center in Bethesda Md.

Leahy, who was the senior five-star officer elevated to that rank during World War II, was a native of Hampton, Iowa.

★ ★ ★

During a career which began in 1897, the year of his graduation from the Naval Academy, he served in four wars starting with the Spanish-American War. His next fighting assignments were during the Philippine insurrection and in the Boxer uprising in China.

Leahy reached the peak of his service in the Navy in 1937 when he was appointed Chief of Naval Operations.

After his retirement two years later he served successively as Governor of Puerto Rico and ambassador to France during the early stages of World War II.

In 1942 he was recalled to active duty as chief of staff to the commander in chief.

GMC Picnic Draws Thousands

EGG-CITING — All the action wasn't on the kiddie front at the annual outing, as it shows here. The ladies were competing in an egg and spoon race, and if the little woman brings your eggs that way in the morning, we hope you like them scrambled.

PASS THE MUSTARD — Sharing a table at the picnic were the families of Roscoe Helsel, retired trim department employe, and Clifton Persful, of the sheet metal department. Brief showers and high humidity didn't stop appetites.

Appoint 13 Teachers; Teamster Buttons Are IT

BIRMINGHAM—Appointment of 13 new elementary and junior high school teachers for the 1959-60 school year has been announced by Dwight B. Ireland, Birmingham superintendent of schools.

Ireland also announced the resignations of eight teachers from the Birmingham system and clerical appointments for the coming year numbering three, with two clerical resignations accepted.

The Cranbrook Summer Festival will continue Sunday with a concert featuring pianist Ruth Meckler with Paul Olefsky, cellolist, Gordon Staples, violinist, and Paul Schaller, clarinetist.

The program is scheduled for 4:30 p. m. at the Cranbrook House Gardens on Lone Pine road in Bloomfield Hills. The final concert of the Summer Festival will follow on Aug. 2.

New collecting and trading items are circulating among Birmingham youngsters.

The items are Teamster Union lapel buttons, claimed by children as salvage after the Thursday night fire at the home of Teamster business agent Charles O'Brien, 205 Harrow Circle, Bloomfield Township.

One 11-year-old seen in Birmingham yesterday proudly displayed an even dozen of the blue and gold buttons attached to his cap.

Henry T. DeHart

Rosary service for Henry T. DeHart, 65, of 310 Southfield Rd., Birmingham, will be held at 8 p. m. today at the Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co.

Requiem Mass will be at 10 a. m. tomorrow at the Holy Name Catholic Church in Birmingham. Burial will follow in Holy Sepulchre Cemetery, Detroit.

Mr. DeHart died at his home Friday after a short illness.

He had retired early this year as merchandising manager of the GMC Truck & Coach Division in Pontiac. He was a member of the Military Order of Loyal Legion of the United States and of Sigma Delta Chi Journalistic Fraternity.

Surviving are his wife, Mary, and a son, Richard of 1900 Fairview Lane, Birmingham.

The family requests that any memorial tributes be sent to the Holy Name Church Building Fund, Birmingham.

Many Governors Avoid Naming Election Favorites

WASHINGTON (AP) — With the presidential nominating conventions still a year away, half the nation's governors say it's too early to commit themselves to any potential candidate.

In their respective parties, Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) each got the nod from three governors willing to name a single choice in an Associated Press canvass. Many of the governors listed alternative choices or none at all.

★ ★ ★

Nixon's support came from Govs. J. Hugo Aronson of Montana, John E. Davis of North Dakota and Harold W. Handley of Indiana. On the Democratic side, Govs. Abraham Ribicoff of Connecticut, Foster Furcolo of Massachusetts and Joseph J. Hickey of Wyoming said they prefer Kennedy as their party's candidate.

★ ★ ★

Twenty-four of the 45 governors who responded to the canvass wouldn't name a favorite at this time. Twenty of those who wouldn't make a public choice were Democrats, including governors of such politically strategic states as California, Ohio and Pennsylvania.

Conspicuous Republican holdouts included Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, a possible strong challenger to Nixon for the GOP nomination, and Gov. William G. Stratton of Illinois, regarded as a vice presidential hopeful.

Democratic Govs. S. Ernest Vandiver of Georgia and Orval E. Faubus of Arkansas support Sen. Richard B. Russell of Georgia, who hasn't indicated that he is running.

Gov. Gaylord A. Nelson of Wisconsin named Kennedy, Adlai E. Stevenson and Sen. Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn) among the most likely Democratic nominees—but he did not choose among them. Washington's Gov. Albert D. Rosellini added Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo) to this list without stating any preference.

Gov. James T. Blair of Missouri said he is for Symington. Gov. Ralph G. Brooks of Nebraska said he is for Stevenson. Gov. A. B. (Happy) Chandler of Kentucky, himself an aspirant for the nomination, said he believes Stevenson will wind up again as the standard bearer.

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, Senate Democratic leader, has the support of Texas Gov. Price Daniel.

On the Republican side, Gov. Christopher Del Sesto of Rhode Island said he expects Nixon will get the nomination, but he made no final commitment. Govs. Robert T. Stafford of Vermont, Mark O. Hatfield of Oregon and George D. Clyde of Utah said either Nixon or Rockefeller would suit them.

nists to surrender, but some of them managed to escape."

The Middle East News Agency reported the Communists in Kirkuk executed a number of persons and dragged them through the streets.

But in London the Iraq Petroleum Co., announced its 500 British civilians were safe.

Kassem, in a radio appeal to the nation, asked Iraqis to avoid "blind fanaticism" that might lead to further civil war.

★ ★ ★

He warned that his government would "settle accounts" with the Communists and other antigovernment forces but expressed hope no further force would be necessary.

Heavy Baghdad censorship kept most of the details from the outside world, but reports reaching Cairo and other Middle East capitals said antigovernment flareups occurred throughout Iraq with the heaviest fighting at Kirkuk, 90 miles from the scene of a major antigovernment revolt last March.

The March revolt in Mosul was crushed in a week of heavy fighting in which the Iraqi government said the rebels were aided by Egypt and Syria.

★ ★ ★

The Damascus newspaper Al-Wahdah said the Communists began "fierce battles" in Kirkuk three days ago and that Communists and Turkmen tribesmen battled in the streets.

'HANG EIGHT CORPSES'

"The Communists hanged eight of their corpses on gallows and dragged the remaining two in the streets of the city," the Middle East News Agency reported in Cairo.

★ ★ ★

It said army units rushed to restore order but one army unit, the second regiment, defected to the Communist side.

It said the Communists assassinated the anti-Communist second-in-command of the defecting unit, dragged his body through the streets and then seized "control . . . of important sectors of the city."

The Communists have become increasingly influential in the Kassem government since he came to power last year and Western diplomats have expressed fear they would try to take over the oil-rich nation.

★ ★ ★

Reports from Iraq today indicated that the Communists' major effort may have started.

MOVED CAR

She was asked Saturday by police why she drove her car to a neighbor's house about 100 yards away and left it there about 1½ hours before the fire broke out.

"I had intended to drive to a meeting," she told detectives. "Instead, Mr. Schjolin drove."

She referred to Mr. and Mrs. Hans Schjolin, of 127 Stoney Brook Lane, with whom she attended a township meeting. Police said they plan to question her again.

Another big development police expect to unfold today is the identification of a "mystery repairman."

Mrs. Paris said a man came to the house last Tuesday and said he was a telephone company repairman.

He said he was lost and looking for a house on Big Beaver road. She let him into the house to consult a map and offer him directions.

The man, she said, was driving an unmarked truck.

Police expect a report from Michigan Bell Telephone Co. today telling whether this was one of their men or someone posing as a repairman in order to check the interior layout of the O'Brien home.

"No other neighbors questioned saw the car," O'Farrell revealed.

O'Brien, 23, is business agent for Local 299, in Detroit, and a close friend of James R. Hoffa. Police haven't talked to him since Friday and don't plan to question him today.

overlooks the convoluted Colorado River gorge. It's about 35 miles southwest of Moab, the nearest community.

They took some wrong turns and got lost on Shafer Trail, a boulder-crowned pair of ruts suitable only for trucks or jeeps. Scott said the car's radiator burst. He drove on, thinking they were pointed toward Moab—by now more than 40 miles to the northeast. Then the crankcase oil pan ruptured and the car quit.

"We survived by keeping cool under the dirt," Scott said after their rescue; "drinking water—about a pint from the radiator, one spoonful every 2½ hours. All we had to eat was some salmon eggs, and we tried to eat cactus but our mouths were so dry we couldn't swallow it. . . .

"We gave the children the radiator water after trying to purify it by straining it . . . it had a permanent type anti-freeze in it"—not the poisonous denature alcohol type.

Scott explained that the family buried themselves in sand up to their necks, to avoid the burning rays of the sun. Relatives in Moab reported the Scotts missing when they didn't return Friday.

Two fliers, searching for the Scotts, saw the car near an "S-O-S" sign made of rocks. They radioed Moab, then landed a few miles away to take water to the family. A pickup truck reached them later and drove them to a spot where two other planes landed. The planes flew them here.

"When two fliers reached us this morning," Scott said, "the kids were bursting with laughter and then they started to cry—and so did we. I don't see how we survived as long as we did and I'm sure we couldn't have made it through today. . . prayer and the Lord helped us. . . ."

Scott works in a factory in Salt Lake City and lives in Murray, a suburb.

He said a doctor told him the children were in better condition than they should have been after such an ordeal. Besides Diane, the children are Virlene, 12; Laurene, 10, Byron, 7; Duwayne, 5, and Leland, 4.

She and her companion, Dianne Kaminski, 18, of 1750 E. Maple Rd., Troy, were treated at the center and sent home.

Associates of the vice president said this reflected the view Nixon takes of his expected talks with Khrushchev. They said he feels he could best serve the U.S. government by creating an atmosphere in which Khrushchev would talk freely.

Nixon said Saturday that he expected to visit six cities in Russia, including four key industrial areas in Siberia. A tentative itinerary calls for him to visit Leningrad and the Siberian cities of Novosibirsk, Sverdlovsk, Nizhni Tagil and Beloyarsk, as well as Moscow.

Nixon will spend four days in Moscow where he will open the American National Exhibition Friday. After opening the American fair, he will confer with top Soviet officials, visit the Russian agricultural and industrial exhibit, and see housing projects and other government works.

Nixon's official party, including his wife Pat and Vice Adm. Hyman G. Rickover, will take off Wednesday from Friendship International Airport near Baltimore aboard a luxurious VIP version of the Boeing 707 jet airliner. They will use Soviet planes to fly between Russian cities.

Nixon's office said final details on the exact installations he will visit will be announced in Moscow after the vice president's arrival. Mrs. Nixon is expected to visit schools and hospitals and meet with women's groups.

The vice president's return date is uncertain but his office said he probably would be back about Aug. 3.

Surgeon Hops on Bandwagon for Lazy Folk

COLES PARK, England (UPI) — A prominent British surgeon claims that laziness makes the world go 'round.

Sir Heneage Ogilvie, 72, one of Britain's best-known surgeons, told a bee keepers' association here that "laziness is time spent profitably and pleasurably and is not time wasted.

"Without it, the world would not continue to function for very long," he said.

"Laziness implies a lot of intelligence, and is the normal healthy attitude of a man with nothing to do. We should study its technique. Its greatest enemy is conscience.

Europe Nations Eye 2nd Free Trade Zone

STOCKHOLM Sweden (AP) — Ministers of seven European nations gathered here today to put final touches to a plan for Western Europe's second free trade zone.

★ ★ ★

Fifteen ministers and about 100 experts and specialists from Austria, Britain, Denmark, Norway, Portugal, Sweden and Switzerland assembled in a big white resort hotel to consider a 24-page plan worked out by experts from the participating nations, known as the "Outer Seven."

The plan's purpose is to remove trade barriers to catch up with the six-nation Common Market of West Germany, France, Italy, Belgium, Netherlands and Luxembourg.

★ ★ ★

This group, known as the "Inner Six," is creating a tight economic community under leadership of France and West Germany.

Road Federation Boss Dies in Switzerland

LAUSANNE, Switzerland (AP) — Douglas Clarke, 62, American president of the International Road Federation, died of a heart attack in his Swiss chalet in Ovrannaz near here yesterday.

Clarke, of Fenton, Mich., and his wife have been living in Geneva for several years. They had no children. Clarke will be buried in Ovronnaz, where the couple spent weekends.

Frankie Throws Big Party

Natalie Wood Is 21

By JAMES BACON
AP Motion Picture Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Natalie Wood, an actress for 17 years, today turns 21 but a surprise prebirthday party Saturday night left her too tired to celebrate.

More than 100 of the biggest names in Hollywood—from Spencer Tracy to Jack L. Warner—attended Frank Sinatra's bash at Romanoff's. The party finally broke up at 5 a.m. Sunday morning at the home of Natalie and her husband, Robert Wagner.

★ ★ ★

Sunday night she and Wagner spent an "exhausted but quiet" evening at home with a dinner of barbecued hamburgers. Wagner presented his young wife with a diamond necklace with matching tear drop earrings.

Sinatra's party left her flabbergasted but she planned to be on the set early today for her costarring role opposite James (Maverick) Garner in "Cash McCall." It's part of a two-million-dollar multi-picture deal the actress recently signed with Warner Bros.

It was on her birthday 17 years ago that her mother took her to a movie location in their home town of Santa Rosa, Calif.

The child broke away from her mother and wound up sitting on the lap of director Irving Pichel. He put her in the picture and later called her to Hollywood for another role.

★ ★ ★

Then followed years of child parts in movies and television.

Stardom—and an Academy Award nomination—came when she made "Rebel Without a Cause" with the late James Dean.

Community Bank Team Signs Up to Give JA Aid

A three-man adult advisory team of the Community National Bank of Pontiac is the first to register with the Junior Achievement program here for 1959-1960.

President of the business organization for teenagers, James M. Roche said the team will act in an advisory capacity in the sales, manageemnt and production activity of a Junior Achievement firm.

Roches, a General Motors vice president and general manager of the Cadillac Motor Car Division, explained that each JA company is assigned an advisory team from a counseling firm.

The Community National Bank advisers are James Himmelberger, Roger Russel and S. Tenny McGraw.

Bank president and chairman of the board, Alfred Girard, initiated sponsorship of JA here six years ago.

Overweight?

New 24-Hour Diet Takes Pounds Off Big Eaters

Big eaters now can lose 10 to 20 pounds and more and still enjoy big meals of fine food... thanks to the Swedish Milk Diet. It is an on and off diet. Eat today ...eat everything just like you now eat. Then tomorrow you diet for 24 hours taking Larson's S.M.D. with milk...that's all.

No calorie counting. No exercise. No mechanical massage. Yet not only do the pounds and inches of horrid looking fat melt away but more important, those bulges disappear in the right places from all over the body the same way. It's quickly noticeable how much weight is gone from chin, back, neck, arms, legs, stomach, bust, backside, hips and thighs.

So even if you are a true gourmet when it comes to fine food and big meals, start the Swedish Milk Diet. Automatically thousands of fat building calories are eliminated. Energy goes up...weight goes down. Once again you're slim and there's no underfeeding. This is the reducing plan you've seen advertised in Harper's Bazaar, Glamour, Vogue and other authoritative fashion magazines.

You can get Larson's S.M.D., the complete Swedish Milk Diet, at our cosmetic counter. You have your choice of this filling, energy-packed food either regular or in chocolate flavor or in handy condensed food tablet form. Satisfaction is guaranteed or you need only return empty package for purchase price refund.

Brewing Over Somaliland's Unity

Africa Tense as 1960 Crisis Approaches

CAIRO (AP) — A crisis that won't come due till 1960 already is creating tension in northeast Africa.

★ ★ ★

The area is the Somalilands, a series of desolate territories hugging the African coastline just south Ethopia.

In 1960, Italy must give up its trusteeship over the Italian Somaliland and the independent country of Somalia will be born.

As soon as Italian Somaliland becomes independent, there is certain to be a hue and cry among Somalis for independence for other Somalilands and union of them all.

dependence and unity for all the Somalilands by 1960.

"We will fight to the death to achieve our independence and unity by 1960," Omar says.

When the Italians leave their sector, the British are expected to offer their Somaliland the choice of independence or commonwealth status.

The French apparently intend to hang onto their little Somaliland, and the Ethiopians clearly will fight to keep Ogaden.

Ahmed Omar predicts there will be serious trouble if the demand for unity is frustrated.

TO INVOLVE NASSER

And that will cause trouble for the British, the French, and the Ethiopians, all of whom hold Somali territory.

The crisis also is expected to involve Gamal Abdel Nasser's United Arab Republic, which already is backing its fellow Moslems in the Somalilands.

The United States may get drawn in indirectly because it is supplying arms which Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia may have to use to hold his portion of Somali territory.

Somali political exiles have opened an office in Cairo from which they direct propaganda attacks against Ethiopia.

Somali nationalists claim that Ethiopia's rich Ogaden Province is a part of the Somalilands. It is largely populated by Somalis but has been under Ethiopian control since 1887.

The Somalis are Moslems, while Ethiopia's rulers are Christian. This religious cleavage has added to the tension in the area.

DEMANDS RETURN

The Cairo daily Al Gumhurriya —owned by the Nasser government — has charged that Ethiopia had "annexed" Ogaden Province from the Somalilands. The paper demanded the return of Ogaden to Somali rule.

In Addis Ababa, the official Ethiopian Herald angrily denied Ethiopia had taken Ogaden from anyone else. The Herald accused Egyptian writers of "ignorance of history" in making their charges.

Only three Somalilands are shown on the map, but Somali nationalists claim there really are five.

The three on the map are the French Somaliland, British Somaliland, and Italian Somaliland. Somalis here add Ogaden, which they call "Ethiopian Somaliland," and the northern frontier district under British administration in Kenya.

Ahmed Omar of the Somali office in Cairo says a general Somali congress in the Italian Somaliland wil demand full in-

Teach Police Rookies in Academy Courses

OAKLAND, Calif. (UPI) — A gunman standing in front of several children fires at a policeman. What does the policeman do?

If he works in Oakland, he doesn't fire back since he might hit the children.

This is typical of the situations presented to rookies attending a police academy course here.

They stand seven feet from a moving picture screen armed with a pistol loaded with wax bullets while colored slides depicting various shooting situations are flashed on the screen. It's up to the recruit to decide instantly whether to fire, run for cover or take other action.

Another aspect of the program is night shooting. Lt. Joseph Lawrence points out that "an officer is apt to do much more shooting at night," so rookies now practice firing at targets 7, 15 and 25 yards away in darkness. To pick out the target at 25 yards, however, they can use a flashlight.

Honored a Little Late

Centennial Celebration Now Up to All of Us

Initial planning for Pontiac's 1961 centennial is well along, and the original advisory committee of 35 are named by Mayor PHILIP E. ROWSTON has been retired.

This committee packed and started rolling the small snowball which will pick up girth and speed until its culmination with the giant celebration marking Pontiac's 100th year.

The committee also started something else — donating time for this project. The few hours they put in are just a very small percentage of the amount of time which hundreds of thousands of the city residents must give if this project is to be a success.

★ ★ ★

The seven directors of the centennial organization, along with the general chairman, STUART E. WHITFIELD have taken up the job. It will soon begin to widen, as more and more committees are formed to handle the various aspects of marking Pontiac's birthday.

Eventually, most of the people in the community will have a hand in the affair, one way or another. We might as well realize right now that this is a tremendous undertaking, and there are just not enough "Joes" to "Let Joe Do it."

When the request comes for you to take a position with the centennial, accept it gladly.

Burmese Now Aware of Communist Danger

After refusing to accept further American aid six years ago, Burma recently decided that it needs that help now. The refusal stemmed from charges that the United States was supporting Chinese Nationalist guerillas in northern Burma.

In an effort to appease Moscow and Peiping, Burma has tried to steer a neutral course. It didn't work. Barter deals made with the Soviet Union turned out disastrously. Local Communists became so powerful that the army has had to take over to prevent chaos.

★ ★ ★

The real change in thinking came with the Red Chinese assault on Tibet, another Buddhist country. Asians for the first time seemed to understand what Communism meant. Recently, too, some members of the Russian diplomatic corps in Rangoon tried to escape claiming that their mission was merely espionage and subversion.

Burma, with Red China on its northern border, of course, does not admit any official change in its neutralist policy. But acceptance of the $37 million in U.S. aid over a period of four years, for road construction and university building is evidence of a changed attitude.

Put Bulldozers at Work on Job

The Pontiac area and that of Lakeland, Fla., have one thing in common.

In the rural sections around each much of the land has been converted into canyons.

★ ★ ★

Around Lakeland it is in digging out phosphate. In our area it is in digging for sand and gravel.

Lakeland is doing more toward restoring the canyoned land to a general level than we are doing in the Pontiac area.

★ ★ ★

In Florida the modern bulldozer is used to fill up these great crevices in the landscape, and orange groves are growing where older groves were rooted out a few years ago in order to excavate for the phosphate deposits beneath them.

While a small amount of the same restoration work has been done in the Pontiac area, there is room for much more.

★ ★ ★

At the present price of real estate here, it would seem that the reclaiming of this land for housing, agricultural or other purposes would surely be as profitable in the Pontiac area as around Lakeland.

★ ★ ★

If Florida can raise oranges and other citrus fruits in such locations, we surely can raise apples, peaches and other fruits that are not grown to any extent in Florida—and whose Michigan varieties far excel anything that they do grow there.

David Lawrence Says:

U.S. Crisis: Inflation in Full Swing

WASHINGTON—The nation is in the midst of a serious crisis in the financial and economic sense. Here are some significant facts:

1. Five years ago the government could borrow money for one-year notes at an interest rate of one and one-eighth per cent. Last week it cost the government four and three-quarters per cent to borrow one-year money—the highest rate in 30 years for short-term money. Predictions among bankers are that it will go to an unprecedented five per cent rate before the end of the year.

LAWRENCE

2. Interest rates for commercial borrowing are rising. Also tax-exempt bonds of states and cities that just a few years ago used to bear interest at one and three-quarters per cent now pay more than twice as much to attract investors. The state of California borrowed four years ago at two per cent and last month had to pay 3.94 per cent.

3. Because U. S. savings bonds pay too low a rate of interest, many people are cashing them in and investing in something else. In June alone the public cashed in $470 million and bought only $323 million of the "E" and "H" bonds.

4. President Eisenhower is pleading with Congress to raise the ceiling established by law so that government bonds can compete with other interest rates, but the Democratic party politicians are blocking action. They are urging the federal reserve banks to buy into the market and keep the price up artificially. This is called "printing press" money by the federal reserve board chairman.

One wonders whether a catastrophe in the financing of government securities has to happen before the inflationists will be convinced of the wisdom of the President's request.

5. Mortgage money for house building now requires a high interest rate, and the end isn't in sight. This can squelch the building boom and result in unemployment. Interest rates for mortgages now are above six per cent in many parts of the country.

INFLATION'S HERE

What's it all about? The truth is that inflation is in full swing. The government has been spending more than it has been taking in. The "spenders" are still fighting against the "savers" in Washington. Confidence is lacking.

The public is being repeatedly told, moreover, that the Democratic Party is going to win in the 1960 presidential and congressional elections, and that's less than 18 months away. So if there's going to be more and more spending and more and more inflation in the next few years, the investor feels he must turn now to the places where he can get a higher return on his money.

Also the government later would have to pay higher prices for the same quantity of things it bought this year. This means more deficits and a further weakening of confidence in the dollar.

As for the economic situation generally, while there has been a business boom for the last few months, now the steel strike has produced a new climax. It could mean a turning point for the nation in both wages and prices.

If the steel unions win, inflation will be encouraged because steel prices will rise. If the steel companies, however, can effect a stabilized settlement that saves money on "working rules," then prices can be held down despite a slight increase in wages next year. Every business and every union in America is watching steel for a clue to the future of the economy.

It will do the worker little good to get a wage increase now and pay out more later for living costs. This really reduces his pay.

To illustrate the meaning of inflation, look back only a few years. In 1946 a new house priced at $10,000 required about $4,000 down and a 20-year mortgage at 4.6 per cent. Total cost amounted to $13,202. Today a similar house costs $17,600, and the usual down-payment is $3,250 and the interest rate is 6 per cent, so the total cost is $27,748.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Pledge Does Great Job in Building Character

"I feel certain that the McGill Institute you mentioned in a May column is McGill Institute of Mobile, Ala., conducted by the Brothers of the Sacred Heart, one of the finest high schools in the state," writes a reader.

DR. BRADY

"I have two sons," the reader continues, "who, at their introductory session with faculty and students, were asked, NOT TOLD, to take a pledge not to smoke until they were at least 18 (smoking on campus was forbidden) and not to drink until they were 21—and encouraged not to drink at all.

"My oldest son, now 39, an officer until after Korea and all during World War II, still does not smoke or drink, because at McGill he had been encouraged not to. Likewise his younger brother. Both are members of the Pioneer Total Abstinence Association of the Sacred Heart.

"We have been readers of your column and followers of your health teachings most of our adult lives. We both enjoy and live by the principles you inculcate.

(Signed)———"

★ ★ ★

What this country needs today is a hundred thousand more McGill Institutes to encourage total abstinence among young Americans. I can't help shuddering when I realize what alcohol is doing to the country.

START EARLY

Boys in their early teens start surreptitiously smoking perhaps cornsilk or dockweed at first, but presently real cigarettes when they have mastered the art of spitting through their teeth. They smoke, not because they get solace from it but just to show off.

Girls, too, especially the morons, begin smoking for the same reason—the movies have taught them it is the smart thing to do.

My parents didn't tell me I must not smoke or drink before I was 21. They merely asked their four sons to take the pledge, when we were 8 to 10 or 12 years old. Of course we did so. And we became total abstainers for life.

As for smoking, I believe a person who has not yet become self-supporting is morally delinquent if he or she squanders money for tobacco while dependent on parents or a guardian. I believe, too, that by refraining from smoking even though "all the fellows" or "all the girls" smoke, with or without consent of parents or guardians, a young person builds character.

Declining to smoke merely because he or she has promised not to smoke is good training in self-discipline.

It is encouraging to know that graduates of McGill Institute are conspicuously absent from cocktail parties, bars and bistros.

Many Mistakenly Regard X Ray as Man's Enemy

By DELOS SMITH
UPI Science Editor

NEW YORK—In mounting public excitement over fallout and other atomic bomb radiations, a new and unanticipated danger to people is emerging.

★ ★ ★

The danger is this: People may start mistaking their good old friend the X ray for an enemy and refuse to have anything to do with it.

There already is some of that around the country. A man with cancer refused X-ray treatment. He had been convinced X rays would kill him before the cancer could.

A woman with a shattered leg wouldn't let a doctor get an X-ray picture of where and how the bones were broken.

BLAME RADIATION DEBATE

Medical and dental circles report that more and more people are paling when X rays are about to be applied to them. These circles blame the continuing and heated debate over atomic bomb radiations.

This debate often is emotionally unfactual and scientifically uninformed.

It often uses the X ray as a whipping boy. Why worry about fallout?

A debater will ask, in defending the testing of atomic weapons, when people get many times a fallout dosage in the form of medical (or dental) X rays and think nothing of it.

That's both misleading and scary. The next time people encounter a medical or dental X-ray machine, they're likely to think a great deal of it.

And they're entitled to because in all truth X rays in inexpert hands are potentially harmful and even deadly.

CHECK COMPETENCE

For their own sake, people should be certain of the competence of the man using X rays.

But they shouldn't lose sight of the X ray being a good friend of their health.

Without X rays, untold millions of people would have lived much of their lives as cripples or would have died long before their time.

X rays are the number one detectors of cancers in their early stages, when cancers are curable.

They're also capable of destroying well-established cancers. X rays and surgery, separately or together, are medical science's principal weapons against cancer in all its stages.

X rays provide windows, so to speak, through which doctors can find out what goes on deep inside bodies.

Many diseases, in addition to cancer, are detected in early stages.

Doubts are removed when symptoms suggest a number of possibilities, and the doctor knows at once what ails his patient and can proceed accordingly.

Before science found out how to use X rays, broken bones often knitted in grotesque ways, permanently crippling people.

And NOT least of all, countless persons keep their teeth because X rays tell dentists what to do.

POTENTIAL MENACE

Yet X rays have become a potential menace to all of us and to our descendants.

This is because we are entering the atomic age, and potentially harmful rays of all sorts, (including X rays,) are going to be in our environment in increasing amounts, regardless of whether atomic weapons continue to be tested.

There is a limit on the amounts of these rays the human body can take during a lifetime without harm to itself or to the germ cells by which the body reproduces itself in offspring, although, to be sure, scientists can't as yet be positive of what the limit is.

★ ★ ★

It's a vital business for the whole human race, and for your own good, you ought to be hep to rays and radiation.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Colleges Should Use Horse Sense

Some educators act like Don Quixote and conjure up frightful monsters that don't exist. Notice what happens when "horse sense" is applied to our colleges. Taxpayers should scrapbook this case, for the colleges can easily pay their own way just by imitating the efficient S:T ratio of city high schools.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case B-91: Three years ago I addressed the college and university presidents of the North Central Association.

DR. CRANE

"Dr. Crane, we have two critical problems," they announced.

"First, where are we to obtain enough teachers to handle the predicted doubling of college enrollments by 1970?

"Second, how can we operate our colleges in the black?"

COLLEGE EFFICIENCY

Applied psychology includes "efficiency engineering" which is why I was invited to address this splendid group of college heads.

★ ★ ★

So I applied what we call efficiency engineering to the colleges' two major problems just cited.

And found that many colleges had an S:T (student:teacher) ratio of only 5:1 or 6:1. Indeed, the average number of students per faculty in all of our American liberal arts colleges is approximately 12:1.

Yet our big city high schools have an S:T ratio of 24:1, and do a very fine job of educating youth.

If our colleges will thus imitate that high school ratio, then our present college faculties can easily handle DOUBLE their present enrollments. Thus, there actually is no teacher shortage on the campus at all!

BLACK INK COLLEGES

Meanwhile, the colleges will get out of the red ink and into the black, without coaxing alumni for annual contributions or pleading with big business corporations for liberal endowments.

Since the average college faculty salary is approximately $5,000, notice how little is left from tuitional income for the college overhead when the present S:T ratio of 12:1 is in vogue. Then contrast it with the results when a 24:1 ratio is reached.

Income	Salary	Overh'd
12 x $500 ($6,000)	$5,000	$1,000
24 x $500 ($12,000)	$8,000	$4,000

With the simple expedient of imitating the high school S:T ratio of 24:1, the average college would then be able to jump teachers' salaries 60 per cent (from $5,000 to $8,000) and still leave four times as much for the general overhead expenses!

Thus, both of the major problems of modern colleges can EASILY be solved by the simple device of using the efficient high school ratio of 24:1.

Meanwhile, taxpayers will not be faced with further lobbying for billions of dollars for new buildings to meet the doubling of college enrollments in the next decade.

CAMPUS HORSE SENSE

This surefire remedy is just plain "horse sense". We have had far too much of the jackass variety for the past 25 years.

And the public is tired of being hounded constantly for an increase in teachers' salaries when the colleges could jump salaries 60 per cent without bothering the taxpayer one iota.

Furthermore, teachers work only nine months of the year, so when they are listed as earning $5,000, please remember that figure actually means the teacher is paid at an annual rate of $6,666.

If a professor's salary is $6,000 (for a nine-month year), his rate is really $8,000 per annum.

And with the "horse sense" solution mentioned above, the new average $8,000 teacher salary actually will mean a $10,666 annual rate, which isn't bad for any profession nowadays. See tomorrow's followup!

U. of M. Opens Nation's First Political School

ANN ARBOR (AP) — The university of Michigan today opens the country's first institute in practical politics.

Twenty Democrats and 20 Republicans, most of whom hold party posts, will attend the two-week course financed with a $9,000 grant from the Ford Foundation.

The idea for the school was proposed by Neil Staebler, state Democratic chairman, four years ago. He was joined by Lawrence B. Lindemer, state Republican chairman.

Lynn W. Eley, associate professor of political science, will direct the institute.

It is the hope of the institute that those attending will be the nucleus of a trained force in either party, dedicated to getting every citizen participating in one party or the other," said Eley.

Lindemer and Staebler will open the session with a discussion of practical politics. Gov. G. Mennen Williams will address a Tuesday institute dinner.

Paul D. Bagwell, unsuccessful GOP candidate for governor in 1958, will talk Wednesday night.

Others to address the institute are congressmen Chester Bowls (D-Conn) and Alvin Bentley (R-Owosso).

Mackinac Fort Will Be Restored to 1753 Original

CHEBOYGAN (AP)—The stockade of old Fort Michilmacinac has been closed to tourists this summer while archeologists excavate for the foundations of the original fort.

The fort will be reconstructed next year to look as it did in 1753, when it was the site of an Indian massacre of the British garrison stationed there.

Prisoners from the Pellston Prison Camp are assisting in the restoration project.

Stuart Woodfill, president of the Mackinac Island State Park Commission, said funds for the project will be raised through a bond issue financed by an admission charge at the fort.

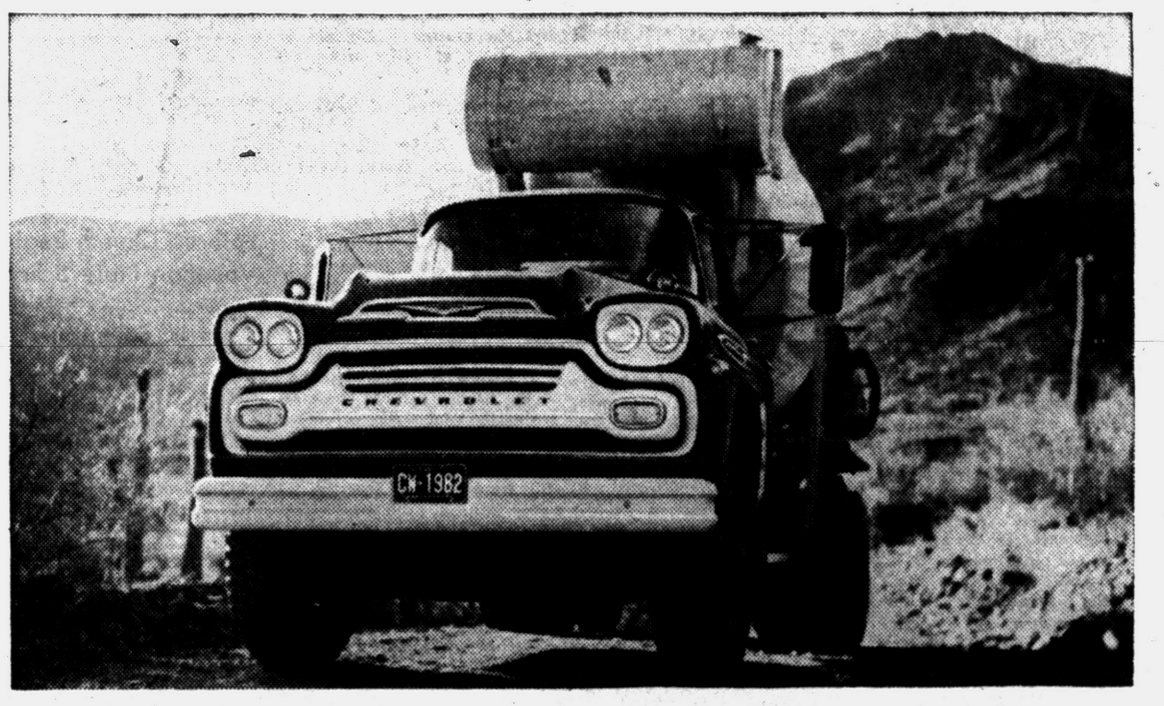

The archeologists, Dr. Moreau Maxwell of Michigan State and Louis Binsford of University of Michigan, have uncovered British and French culture layers containing parts of guns, tools, buttons and other artifacts.

A monument in the fort shows it was built by French troops some time after 1712. There are plans to replace the present stockade and erect from 20 to 30 buildings at the site.

Twenty miles out of Tucson on a high-desert run . . .

Chevy shows how a real pro handles the hot ones!

You'll find four 10703 heavyweights working out of Tucson for Construction Materials, Inc. They tote big, bruising ready-mix loads up and down mountain grades and through the furnace heat of Arizona desert country. According to Mr. H. K. Creswell, a company executive, "You couldn't ask for more out of a truck. They handle every run we put them on . . . and cost less to buy and maintain than any make we've had."

Big-tonnage operators don't become Chevy believers overnight. If you're used to big oversized rigs, you might question Chevy's lean-muscled modern design. Once you get one in action though, all the questioning stops.

Then you see how pure efficiency stacks up against excess pounds. It's Chevrolet's advanced engineering and quality control that make the difference. Its soundly constructed chassis and sheet metal. Its slick-shifting 5-speed box mated to high-torque Workmaster V8 performance. Its precise steering and handling ease. That's why so many heavy-duty owners are being converted to Chevy. Your Chevrolet dealer's the man to see.

Chorale Group to Visit France Next

30 Area Students Tour Germany

Presently staying at Stolberg, Germany, are 30 high school students from Oakland County. They are members of the 1959 Michigan Chorale which is conducting a 12-city good-will tour of the British Isles and the European continent.

Approximately 100 teen-agers are included in the group on tour. They arrived in Germany this week after visiting and presenting concerts in and around Belfast, North Ireland.

The concerts in North Ireland were presented as benefits for the British Leprosy Relief Assn. and the National Fund for Polio Research, on beha'f of a teen-age program sponsored by the Michigan Council of Churches.

Next stop for the Chorale will be Paris, France, before going to Cuxhaven, Germany.

Among high school juniors and seniors from Oakland County are Marilyn Vernon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Vernon of 158 W. Rundell St., Pontiac; Kathryn Olmstead, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Lester E. Olmstead of 7030 Commerce Rd., Orchard Lake; and Dennis Garrels, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl H. Garrels of 7648 Sweetbriar, also of Orchard Lake.

★ ★ ★

From Birmingham are Lawrence Erdman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Erdman of 6830 Castle Dr.; Gwen Fett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Fett of 16215 Buckingham Rd.; and Shawnee Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. William S. Smith of 27375 Northwestern Hwy.

Attending from Oxford are James Casey of 955 Lakeville Rd.; Nancy Grey of 241 Granger Rd., and Paul Koerner of 930 E. Drahner Rd.; and a senior from Milford, Joel Beam, of 145 Monteagle St. Sharon McKinney of 2061 Hemsford Dr. and Martha Thibideau of 1710 Pontiac Trail, are two teenagers from Walled Lake with the group.

Among those whose stay in Ireland included guided sightseeing excursions of the countryside and exploration among the exhibits of Baugor Castle and gardens were Carol Domke, Jo Anne McAleer, and Sandra Niemi, of Southfield High School.

Others were Robert Hartman, Jay Maddock, Eric May, Douglas Mead, Stephen Novic, Pamela Paltz, Fred Rohrbach, Ken Rutledge, and Lois Simpson of Dondero High School in Royal Oak; and Greg Forsythe, Nancy Katke, Patricia McLean, Susanne Parssinen, Judith Schnell, and Maxine Winn, all of Ferndale and Pleasant Ridge.

After going to Cuxhaven, Germany the chorale members will visit West Berlin, and Hamburg, Germany, before traveling on to Copenhagen, Denmark, and Stockholm, Sweden, Helsinki, Finland, will mark the end of their tour, after which the singers will return to their respective homes.

Four Lapeer Boys Shocked as 'Shelter' Zips to Oxford

OXFORD — Four teenage boys from Lapeer, who sought shelter in a railroad boxcar Saturday night had a frightening experience when they were unexpectedly locked in and taken on a five-hour ride which ended here.

The four youths were Bob Borck, Bob Cross and Walter Davis, all 15, and Bob Cross, 16. They were apparently heading for Borck's house to spend the night when it started to rain.

The quartet decided to seek temporary shelter in a Michigan Central Railway boxcar and then continue on their way.

All of a sudden they were trapped inside when a railroad man closed the door and signaled the train to pull out of the siding.

FLASHLIGHT QUITS

The boys had a flashlight, but the battery gave out shortly after they started on their unplanned trip.

They also had a jackknife which they used to try and enlarge a hole in the floorboards so the smallest could slip through at one of the many stops.

This did not work either, nor were their screams for help heard until the train stopped in back of the Symcro Manufacturing Co. here.

★ ★ ★

Then a railroad worker heard the boys yelling and released them. They were taken to the local police department where they waited until Bob Borck's father drove down to pick them up.

Local police said they were a dirty and scared bunch, but after they realized that they were safe and soon would be en route home they loosened up and grinned as they recounted their harrowing experience.

The boys entered the boxcar at about 4:30 p. m. and were released at about 9:30.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church parlors. The newlyweds then left for a honeymoon in Northern Michigan. They will reside at Lexington Park, Md.

Explosives Safer Than Farm Work

EAST LANSING (AP)—Farmers have a higher on-the-job death and accident rate than handlers of explosives, a safety specialist at Michigan State University says.

More than 3,500 on-the-job deaths occurred on American farms last year, reports Richard Pfister of MSU's agricultural extension service.

He holds that most farm accidents can be traced to carelessness.

Pfister says nearly one-half of all farm fatalities usually occur in summer. Tractor accidents cause about 50 per cent of all farm deaths, with falls ranking second.

The MSU safety specialist notes that a survey by the Michigan Farm Bureau showed that in 1958:

1. Six hundred of 6,000 bureau members surveyed had accidents.
2. The average accident cost about $700 in property losses alone.

Boy Recovering After Accident

WASHINGTON — A 10-year-old boy was injured at 12:25 a.m. today when his head went through the windshield when a car driven by his father hit a utility pole.

Anthony Bugenski Jr., is reported in satisfactory condition at the Community Hospital near Almont, Romeo State Police said. The boy suffered lacerations of the head and face.

His father, Anthony Bugenski Sr., 35, of 7735 Garland St., was turning onto Garland street from Van Dyke when he hit the pole, troopers reported. He was ticketed for driving too fast for conditions.

Collision Takes Life of Imlay Bicyclist

IMLAY CITY — A 21-year-old man who was critically injured when his bicycle was hit by a car Friday night on M53 two miles north of town, died Saturday morning in Hurley Hospital, Flint.

Donald Estep, of 812 N. Van Dyke, suffered severe head injuries in the mishap.

Lapeer County sheriff's deputies said Estep rode is bicycle out of a driveway in front of one car and then into the direct path of another car in the opposite lane. The driver, James Briggs of East Detroit told investigating officers that he tried to stop. He was not held.

The accident happened at 9:43 p.m. Friday, and Estep died about 12 hours later.

Lapeer Brothers Gone

Build Factory Near 'Fort'

MARLETTE (AP)—"Fort Ziegenhardt," the makeshift bastion of two elderly brothers in a long, futile fight against eviction from their farm, has been stormed once more—by industry.

The farmland in northeastern Lapeer County has been purchased by Henry Drettman, a Detroit industrialist.

The steel framework of a 240-foot by 75-foot building is going up near the old sand-bagged fortress home of the brothers, Chris and Paul Ziegenhardt.

Drettman said the farm will be the site for an assembly plant for "special vehicles of some kind." He did not specify employment statistics.

★ ★ ★

"Mobile homes, milk trucks, some special type of assembly for the automotive trade, that's our specialty," Drettman said.

The fort was the result of a court fight in which the brothers refused to pay assessments in the failure of a mutual insurance company. The land finally was sold to satisfy the court judgements.

The brothers fought eviction. They battled with State Police and sheriff's deputies sent to put them off the land.

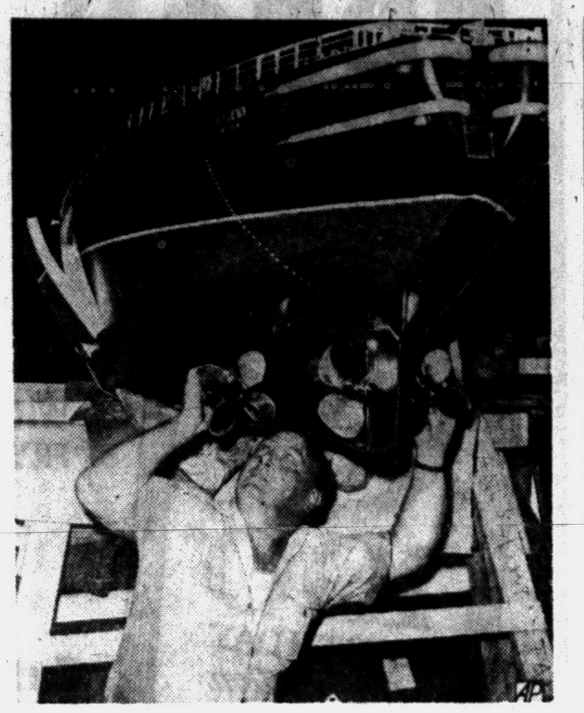

After several attempts, the eviction was carried out. The farmers' adviser finally landed in jail.

Chris died two years ago. Paul now lives in Marlette.

Last year, more color ads appeared in daily newspapers than ever before. 1,000 daily newspapers in the United States and Canada, with a combined circulation of over 47,000,000 copies daily, now offer advertisers run-of-paper color.

Long Fidgets at Services

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — After a day of telephone talks and attendance at church services Sunday, Gov. Earl K. Long of Louisiana planned, at last notice, to go to Denver today.

★ ★ ★

He had reservations, it was learned in the Colorado city's Brown Palace Hotel.

The governor cancelled a planned second trip to Juarez, Mexico, across the Rio Grande from here, Sunday night. His plan to go to Denver today also upset a previously announced itinerary that was to take him to Phoenix, Ariz., Colorado Springs, and Monterrey, Mexico.

Sunday morning, twitching his hands nervously, Long heard Dr. W. Herschel Ford thunder, "You can't live with the devil six days and live with the Lord on Sunday," as he attended services at the First Baptist Church.

★ ★ ★

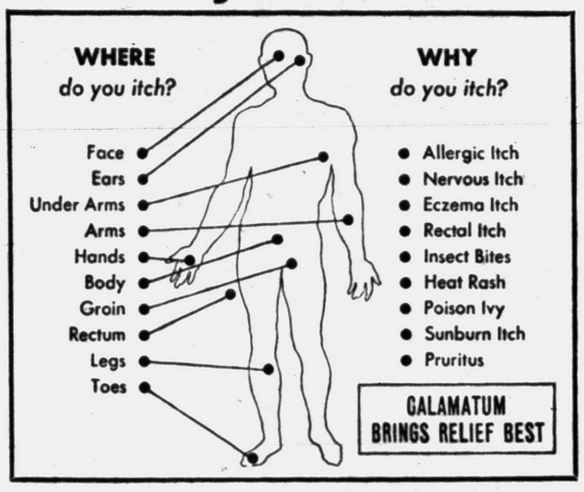

After the services Long said, "That's good preaching. It was only 35 minutes long. In the country they used to preach for an hour and a half. That's too long for an old man to sleep."

The Soviet Union put 35 new television stations on the air in 1958.

Waterford Relocates Elementary Classes

Until more school buildings have been completed in Waterford Township, many elementary school pupils will be assigned to buildings other than they attended last year, according to Supt. William Shunck.

Some 80 pupils in the Jayno Adams fifth grade will be accommodated at two rooms in the Newberry School. Sixth grade pupils will have two rooms in the Drayton Plains School, and kindergarteners will have half-day sessions at the Church of the Atonement.

Arrangements are being made with officials of the Christian Alliance Church, located across from the Isaac E. Crary Junior High School, to rent four rooms to accommodate approximately 140 pupils from the Leggett School. This will include the fourth, fifth and sixth grades.

Sixth grade pupils of Monteith School will attend nearby John D. Pierce Junior High.

★ ★ ★

Fourth graders who attended the Schoolcraft School will now occupy two rooms at Webster School. Sixth graders of the Williams Lake School will also attend classes in two rooms at the Webster School.

Sixty-six pupils from Waterford Center will attend Stringham School.

The disposition of pupil overloads culminated months of geographical study, Shunck said.

There will be two sessions set up for Waterford High School pupils, and, although they will attend approximately six hours daily, this does not mean they will be on half-day schedules, Shunck explained.

Pupils in the 10th and 11th grades will begin at 7:40 a.m. and finish at 2:30 p.m. Seniors will begin at 7:40 a.m. and complete their classes by noon.

Another shift will begin at noon and end at 4:30 p.m. Studyhall and lunch periods have been eliminated.

Charge Astronautics Program Big Secret

WASHINGTON (AP) — From a Senate group handling legislation dealing with space has come a complaint that information about the country's astronautics program is being kept from Congress by a presidential secrecy decision.

The complaint was contained in a report by a subcommittee to the parent Senate Committee on Aeronautical and Space Sciences.

★ ★ ★

The report said there should be improvements in reports by agencies dealing with aeronautics, space and science so that Congress could receive more complete information.

But Farmers Still Fish

ITHACA, N.Y. (UPI)—Fishermen are hundreds of years behind farmers in their methods of obtaining food, according to a Cornell University professor.

The fisherman, said Prof. John P. Barlow, must "still depend on luck and skill to find fish. He is still essentially a hunter.' Barlow called for more research in getting food from the sea.

Johnson Battles for New Laws

Overrides Row Within Dem Party to Seek Compromise Legislation

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Criticism within his party apparently has not weakened Senate Democratic leader Lyndon B. Johnson's determination to have Congress create new laws rather than issues.

A call by Sen. Joseph S. Clark (D-Pa) for Democrats in Congress to "get in line with our party in the country" seemed unlikely to alter Johnson's course of trying to compromise legislation in a form that will escape presidential vetoes.

★ ★ ★

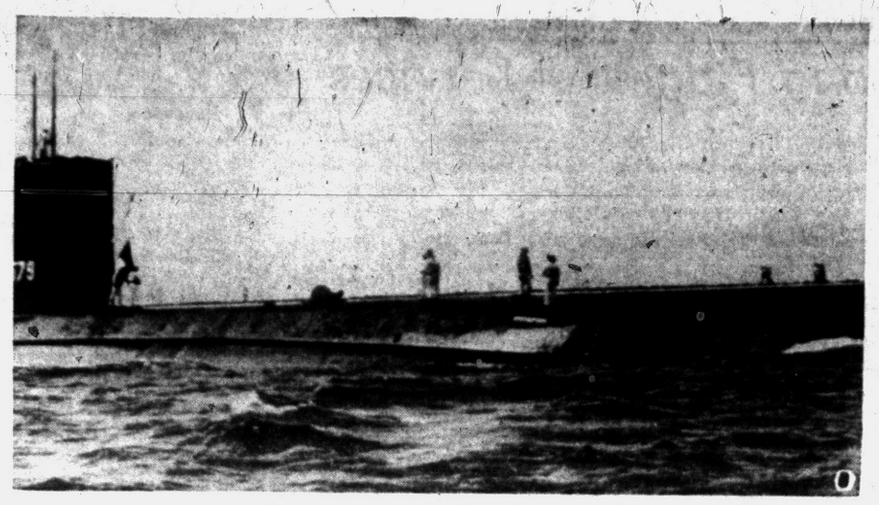

Clark said on a television program Sunday that the Democrats' big problem is to "try to bring the Congressional leadership, including our friends from the South, back closer to the national Democratic party before the convention next year."

Clark, who classes himself as a liberal, sided with National Chairman Paul M. Butler in saying that Democrats ought to implement their 1956 platform pledges.

★ ★ ★

Butler said on another television program Sunday he will continue to speak out, especially since the opposition party controls the White House. He said his role as chairman would be different if a Democrat were president.

Johnson has been under pressure from the liberal wing of his party to push through expanded legislative programs even though President Eisenhower is likely to veto them. This wing argues that the Democrats thus will have have made their record and can stand on it in next year's campaign.

The Swordfish will stop two days to make certain the port is ready for a Fleet Ballistic Missile sub which will fire the Polaris missile early next year.

Georgia Leader Out to Fight Segregation

ATLANTA — Former Gov. Ellis Arnall has emerged from political retirement to challenge those who would close Georgia's public schools to block racial integration.

Unless the schools are kept open Arnall declared, he will seek re-election in 1962 "and I'll win."

This is the first time in the South that a political figure of his stature has openly chosen to make school integration the issue.

If he forces the bitter-end faction to change its policies or defeats it at the polls, the result might mark the beginning of the end for massive resistance in the Deep South.

Bus Driver Avoids Auto Wreckage, Saves Riders

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Fast action by a Cape Girardeau, Mo., bus driver was credited with keeping the death toll of eight in a headon auto collision Saturday night from climbing higher.

Driver Raymond Volkerding, 48, was bound for St. Louis with 30 passengers aboard a double-deck Greyhound bus. He swerved around the wreckage, and steered the bus up a steep incline where it hit a telephone pole.

"A piece of real driving where it counted," said a state highway trooper.

Five members of a St. Louis family were killed. Three members of a Rockford, Ill., family of five were killed and two injured.

Probe Radiation—Life Span Link

Atom Research Goes to Dogs

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

WASHINGTON (AP) — If they can beat the law of averages and the laws of nature, the Atomic Energy Commission's pack of hound dogs may become howling scientific successes.

At least one of them will have to live to the ripe old canine age of 15 years. If he makes it, he will be the hottest dog in history.

★ ★ ★

The law of averages is against the approximately 400 dogs of the AEC being used in a 15-year experiment on the effects of radiation. The average life of a dog, say commission experts, is 7 to 10 years.

And the laws of nature, as currently interpreted, say that not even the average dog can stand the amount of radiation the commission's animals will be exposed to.

★ ★ ★

But Dr. C. L. Dunham, director of the AEC Division of Biology and Medicine, said he has "a hunch that the last dog may live as long as 15 years from birth."

"Every time you set up a biology experiment, nature has a way of fooling you," Dr. Dunham said.

If the doctor's hunch is right, the beagle or foxhound that survies is likely to be so hopped-up from radiation that he could tree a rocket.

Dr. Dunham explained the experiments to the House Appropriations Committee during recent hearings on the AEC's fiscal 1960 budget. He elaborated in a subsequent interview.

★ ★ ★

Two groups of dogs are being used in the tests, one group of beagles at the University of Utah and another group of foxhounds at the University of California School of Agriculture at Davis.

There's not a mongrel in the lot.

"They have to be the best," Dr. Dunham said.

Except for the addition of a little radium, plutonium, strontium 90 and thorium to their diets from time to time, the dogs eat what the average well-cared-for dog should eat.

"They have a very carefully planned diet," Dr. Dunham said.

They seem to be enjoying a normal dog's life, too, the doctor explained, although from time to time one of them will pass out permanently from an overdose of something or other.

★ ★ ★

The experiments have been going on since 1951. Dr. Dunham said he believes that when the results are all in—or the last dog is all out—"We will have a very good idea of what actually is a permissible body burden for any of those elements in the human body."

Floridian Fed Up With U. S.

He Prefers Soviet Union

MOSCOW (AP)—A former U.S Air Force officer has quit the United States with his wife and three children to seek citizenship in the Soviet Union, the Soviet government newspaper Izvestia announced.

Izvestia published a statement credited to Libero Riciardelli, 42, a native of Needham, Mass., identified as a World War II Air Force major. He had been living in Florida since the war, the newspaper said.

★ ★ ★

Having failed to build up a business in the United States, the statement said, Riciardelli thought there was a greater future for him in the U.S.S.R. and decided to move his family to the Soviet Union and seek Soviet citizenship.

"The only freedom is in the U.S.S.R.," the statement said.

Izvestia said one reason for his decision was that he would get free college education for his daughter and two sons in the Soviet Union.

"Under capitalism there is no future either for my children or for my entire family," Riciardelli was quoted as saying, adding that he is not a Communist.

★ ★ ★

"I am sick of such a life in which man has no value," he continued.

"I was shocked when I learned of the aggressive nature and policy of the government of the United States and of big business and of the Pentagon.

"I would like to give the remainder of my life to the noble construction of communism."

The U.S. Embassy here said it had no information on Riciardelli.

Upset Stomach Settled, Queen to Resume Tour

WHITEHORSE, Y.T. (AP) — Queen Elizabeth II was expected to resume her whirlwind tour of the Canadian Northwest today after losing a day because of an upset stomach.

★ ★ ★

The Queen's doctor blamed her upset Sunday on heat and weariness. She spent the day resting at the guest house at the Whitehorse Airport and was reported "tremendously improved."

Elizabeth had been scheduled to fly to Dawson City and Mayo for brief vsits. Her husband, Prince Philip, went in her place, telling greeters in both places that the Queen was disappointed she could not make it.

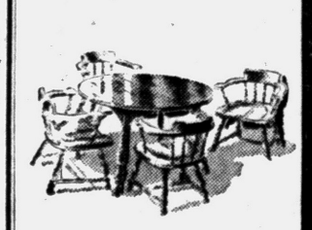

★ ★ ★

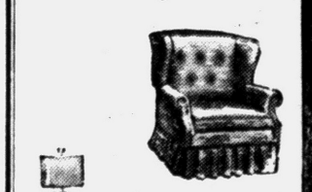

Dawson City's population of less than 700 was increased by several planeloads of Alaskans who flew in from Fairbanks for the royal visit.

Ring in New System

MARTINEZ, Calif. (UPI)—The firemen of Martinez have been run ragged since the town installed dial telephones recently. There is only a one-digit difference between the fire department's regular office number and the number which automatically sets off a fire alarm when it is called.

May Just Eliminate Opportunities

Russian No-Censor Move Deceiving

NEW YORK—It's a little hard to believe that there will be no censorship of the material the newsmen will be permitted to send out of the Soviet Union during the Nixon trip.

This couldn't have happened five years ago. Matter of fact, it couldn't have happened a week ago. Something is happening in the Kremlin; something that would have confused both those great archantagonists, Joe Stalin and Joe McCarthy. Each, in his way, would have suspected that something was rotten, and not in Denmark.

The probable truth of the matter is that the Russians have lined up a trip for Nixon and his tag-alongs which will just about eliminate opportunities or justification for criticism.

What we'll see will in substance be as hard to be critical of—without editorializing—as what Comrade Kozlov saw in his swing through the United States.

★ ★ ★

We'll see the best they've got and the best side of their natures, just as we ourselves endeavored to show their fellow the White House rather than a Puerto Rican ghetto in Harlem.

When there's a guest in your house you don't invite him to rummage through the soiled linen or the overdrawn bank account. You take him to the bar, you feed him well, and you bed him down in the best room.

TAKE CHANCE

What the Russians are taking the long chance on is not unfettered straight-away reporting on who gave the key to what city to Nixon but blasts of a general nature: Slave camps documented in the U. N., Hungary, the drabness off the beaten path, privation. Old-time wielders of the blue pencil on censorship desks probably will decide—when they see or hear this—that Khrushchev has blown his top.

With 70 U. S. newsmen loose—more or less—in Moscow, Leningrad and other cities to be visited, and no holds barred, a reader has reason to expect man-of-the-street interviews: What the average Russian bloke thinks of us and of his own leaders.

Well . . . it doesn't work out that easily. In the first place the language barrier is simply appalling. It's tough to order an egg from a waiter in a hotel Americans have been patronizing off and on since the time of the czars. There is a suspicion of the English tongue among those who can use it. Russian officials capable of speaking English better than most of us will insist that all replies to questions during interviews be spoken or even written in Russian.

When Gromyko gave us his first interview as foreign minister, he received us cordially in his office, chatted easily about previous meetings in New York at the U. N., and asked about the little tape recording machine Bill Hearst had brought along.

"Is it a bomb?" he asked, kiddingly, of course.

Bill showed him how it worked. He picked it up and held it against his solemn face.

'BLEEP' JOKE

"You are right," he said, "It isn't a bomb. It does not tick. Instead, it says, 'Bleep . . . bleep . . . bleep.'" It was a cutting joke. They had two sputniks overhead; we had none at the time. When he stopped laughing, he invited questions—and immediately responded in Russian.

We figured he felt that even he was being bugged, and that if his leaders later confronted him with what he had said he wanted the record to be in Russian—not in English which might be accused of having shadings, nuances.

So don't look for Ivan Ivanovich, the Joe Blow of the U.S.S.R., to pop off when asked a question. He grew up during regimes wherein it was a police offense to talk to strangers or listen to broadcasts from the West. And, besides, he won't know what the devil the American reporter is asking him.

The only English we heard on the streets of Moscow during our stay there was whispered entreaties—all from young and rather well-dressed young men—to sell them some dollars for their rubles. We deduced they were black marketers or persons trying to amass getaway money after slipping across the border.

But it's possible they were also plainclothesmen attempting to catch us in a money deal which, had we fallen for it, could have been used against us in case what we wrote from Russia didn't set well with them.

★ ★ ★

They've never needed much "evidence" to throw out a reporter. Charles Klensch of INS was tossed for giving an old copy of Life Magazine to a Moscow University student.

In short: The "no censorship" ruling does not necessarily mean that the millenium is here.

State '59 Polio Toll—17

LANSING (AP) — Two new cases last week raised to 17 the number of paralytic polio cases reported in Michigan this year, the State Health Department reports. Both cases were in Wayne County. Twelve paralytic cases were reported in a comparable period last year.

For the first quarter of 1959, cumulative sales of all retail stores amounted to over $48 billion. Last year retail advertisers invested more money in daily newspaper advertising than in any other advertising medium.

Reds Promise No Censor

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon announced today that the Soviet government has given assurances that American newsmen accompanying him to Russia will be able to file stories freely and without delay.

Canada's province of Ontario extends from the state of New York to Minnesota along its southern border.

Makes all curves feel banked...

...the curve-hugging Wide-Track Pontiac!

It's been a long time since the public took to an automobile with the verve and vigor of the current admiration for Pontiac. It's now first in sales in its price class. Sleek beauty is one reason. Wide-Track Wheel design is another. The wheels are five inches farther apart to increase stability on curves and corners. It's a very simple, basic innovation yet the improvement it makes in your control of the car is remarkable. You notice it immediately. You're more comfortable than you've ever been in narrow track cars.

THE ONLY CAR WITH WIDE-TRACK WHEELS

Dotted lines show conventional wheel positions. Pontiac's wheels are five inches farther apart. This widens only the stance, not the car itself. Pontiac hugs tighter on curves and corners. Sway and lean are considerably reduced, ride is smoother, balanced, steadier.

Stay Alive Longer!

Tension: Your Arteries Worst Enemy

By LELORD KORDEL

Installment Seven

John Stanton is still in his 30s. Yet high blood pressure is already wrecking his chances of living much longer. John was a pharmacist mate in the United States Navy during World War II. His wife was the daughter of a successful drugstore owner; so when John came back to join his wife and family, it was decided that John should take over his father-in-law's prosperous business. This he did, without consulting his natural aptitudes.

For 14 hours every day of the week including Sunday, John worked to make the success and profit his father-in-law expected.

He was mentally and physically exhausted by the time he came to see me. "Just tell me how I can keep going," he pleaded.

"I can't tell you to go back to that store," I said. "Not since you've told me what your blood pressure is. There are two things wrong with your job: for one thing, you're working too hard, for another, you don't like your work—it's something for which you're not suited."

"There is increasing belief," I told John, "that such things as nervous tension and feelings of anxiety, insecurity, and worry affect a person's blood pressure.

AUTHOR WITH EVA GABOR — This glamorous personality is only one of many hundreds of famous persons who find Kordel's teachings enable them to enjoy the health and vitality so necessary to success in life. Eva Gabor regards the author's new book as her daily guide to healthful living.

You have all these things to contend with in the store. Then, you say you don't eat a balanced diet or sleep regularly. Don't you know what this regimen is doing to your arteries?"

"I'm beginning to have an idea," said John. "But go on. Maybe if I can find out the things that cause it, I'll know what to do to prevent further hypertension."

Lelord Kordel

★ ★ ★

"Do you water your own lawn, John?" I asked.

"Well, sure," said John, "when I have the time. But why do you ask that?"

"Then, you know what happens inside a garden hose when you screw down the nozzle to throw a stream of water farther across the lawn. In hypertension something similar happens within your abnormally contracted arteries.

Pressure increases, and the heart has to pump harder to force blood through these tightly contracted small vessels."

RESULTS OF PRESSURE

As a result of increased pressure, two things can happen.

Either your overworked heart becomes excessively enlarged and you suffer from congestive heart failure or, because of increased pressure within it, a weakened artery elsewhere in the body may give way and cause a stroke.

Hypertension also hastens the development of atherosclerosis—the disease of clogged arteries. These two blood conditions are the greatest contributors to the heart disease that strikes men down in the prime of life. They cause one-third of all deaths in men under 55.

Few of you can tell, without a physical checkup, that your blood pressure is high. One of the most common symptoms is persistent headache.

The headache may make you pessimistic, irritable, and morose, which further increases your blood pressure. You may suffer dizziness and light-headedness. Vertigo, with the feeling that the world is spinning around you, occurs in extreme cases.

★ ★ ★

Your blood pressure goes up and down, perhaps varying during the day or from day to day. It varies with your activities, or even your peace of mind. In the normal person, these rises of pressure are temporary. Your arteries are dependent upon the functioning of the arterioles—the very small terminal portions of the arteries—which in turn are dependent upon the functioning of your nervous system.

Looking at John's tense and haggard face, I had a hunch that his functional high blood pressure was due to stress or anxiety rather than physical difficulty.

You hear the word "tension" everywhere—in offices, at luncheon tables, on the factory assembly line, and, conspicuously, on buses and in subways. You don't have to wear the gray flannel suit of Madison avenue. You can be just as tense in your old shiny blue serge, or even Levis!

More than one-fourth of the nation's industrial labor force are tense and often emotionally upset.

The psychosomatic ills of workers—high blood pressure, ulcers, migraine headaches, arthritis—cost industry three billion dollars each year in unproductive wages and in damage to the workers themselves and to their machines.

"John," I said, "did you ever see a show called Finian's Rainbow?"

"No," said John, looking startled at my seemingly irrelevant remark. "Why?"

★ ★ ★

"There's a song in it that says something to this effect: 'If I can't fondle the hand I'm fond of, I'll fondle the hand at hand.'"

John grinned a little. "Surely you're not suggesting that I hold hands with my customers?"

"Hardly that," I said. "I am suggesting this: If you don't like your job, you must, for the sake of your health, either learn to like it or else quit and get another job. Your nervous tension, anxiety, and worry tend to increase your blood pressure."

★ ★ ★

Fear, anger, and anxiety are some of the emotions that stimulate high blood pressure and disturb the sympathetic nervous system.

Harboring resentment or frustration can be equally harmful. The stress caused by pent-up resentment and unresolved frustration is dangerous — a veritable emotional time bomb.

Hypertension is something that can be controlled, in both physical and mental ways. And many long, useful years can be added to life. Are you willing to make the necessary effort?

Detroit Will Host U. S. County Officials

DETROIT (UPI)—Detroit will host more than 2,000 county officials from across the nation July 25-29 at the 23rd annual conference of the National Association of County Officials.

Speakers during the conference will include Gov. G. Mennen Williams, Detroit Mayor Miriani, Illinois Gov. William G. Stratton, Sen. Albert Gore (D-Tenn) and Windsor Mayor Michael Patrick.

President Eisenhower and Senate Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex) will speak to the assembly over a record telephone hookup.

Beer Drinkers Stay Home

NEW YORK (UPI)—Ninety-five out of 100 beer drinkers consume at least some of their beer at home and three out of four now drink all or most of it there, according to an American Can Co. survey.

Won't Cut Lady Chatterly

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit police censors have dropped their objections to certain portions of the movie "Lady Chatterly's Lover" and will allow the film to be shown uncut, a film distributor said Friday. Albert Dezel, head of Albert Dezel Productions, Inc., said the decision apparently was based on a New York court ruling against a ban in that state.

What do women want in the daily newspaper...but not on television?

ONE OF A SERIES

ANSWER: ADVERTISING. In a survey by Northwestern University among housewives, 92 per cent said they wanted newspapers with advertising. By comparison, 61 per cent said they would prefer television without advertising. This receptive attitude toward the daily newspaper is one of the greatest assets that an advertiser could ever want. And it is one of the big reasons why advertisers place more money in the daily newspaper than in radio, television, magazines and outdoor combined!

They'll Pick From Four New Silhouettes

Fashion Aims to Suit Men

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UPI) — For a change, the men have the wider choice of fashion silhouettes for fall.

One look — the fitted Look — is just about it for the girls. But the men can choose from the true "Continental," the "Middle of the Road Continental," the "Ivy Continental" and "American Ambassador."

The true Continental, inspired by Italian tailoring, appeared on the scene last spring. Its major features were a natural shoulder and definite shaping of the coat through the waistline. The coat was two-button and the trousers were unpleated and worn without cuffs. Side tabs kept the pants up — no belt, no belt loops.

TWO VARIATIONS

Now, for fall, the Continental continues, and has two variations. The Middle of the Road has squared shoulders, side vents to the coat, the two-button front, a slight cutaway effect, semi-peaked lapels, a slight fit to the waist, and pockets cut at about a 20-degree angle with welt seaming instead of flaps.

The Ivy Continental is more shaped to the torso, and is most popular with the under-35 set. With Ivy, you're supposed to add a vest—in solid flannels with fancy metal buttons and patterned linings.

★ ★ ★

American Ambassador still is largely a West Coast style, where it originated. This also is a shaped silhouette, but with shoulder padding for a "he man" look. The jacket has the three-button front, slanted pockets with welt or flap, and the single-pleated trousers are cuffed.

★ ★ ★

New for fall is the shawl collar, in suits, on dinner jackets, sweaters and sports coats. The shawl also is taken from the Italians, and does away with the peaked and notched lapel. Instead the narrow collar forms one smooth line around the neck and down the front. When used in sweaters, it is more of a soft rolled collar.

A report on trends in men's wear comes from Harold Dessler, stylist for the Wool Bureau Inc., whose job is covering the men's wear market. Other highlights for fall, according to Dessler:

TOPCOATS SHORTER

In topcoats, it's the Continental influence again — they come with the two-button front, slight fit at the waist, slanted welt pockets, minus a breast pocket and with cuffed sleeves. The topcoats are two inches shorter than last year, coming to slightly below the kneecap.

Look also for the "split sleeve" in the topcoat, for both town and country. This is a dress-type, set-in sleeve at the front, but with a raglan back. Looks best worn with the snap brim hat.

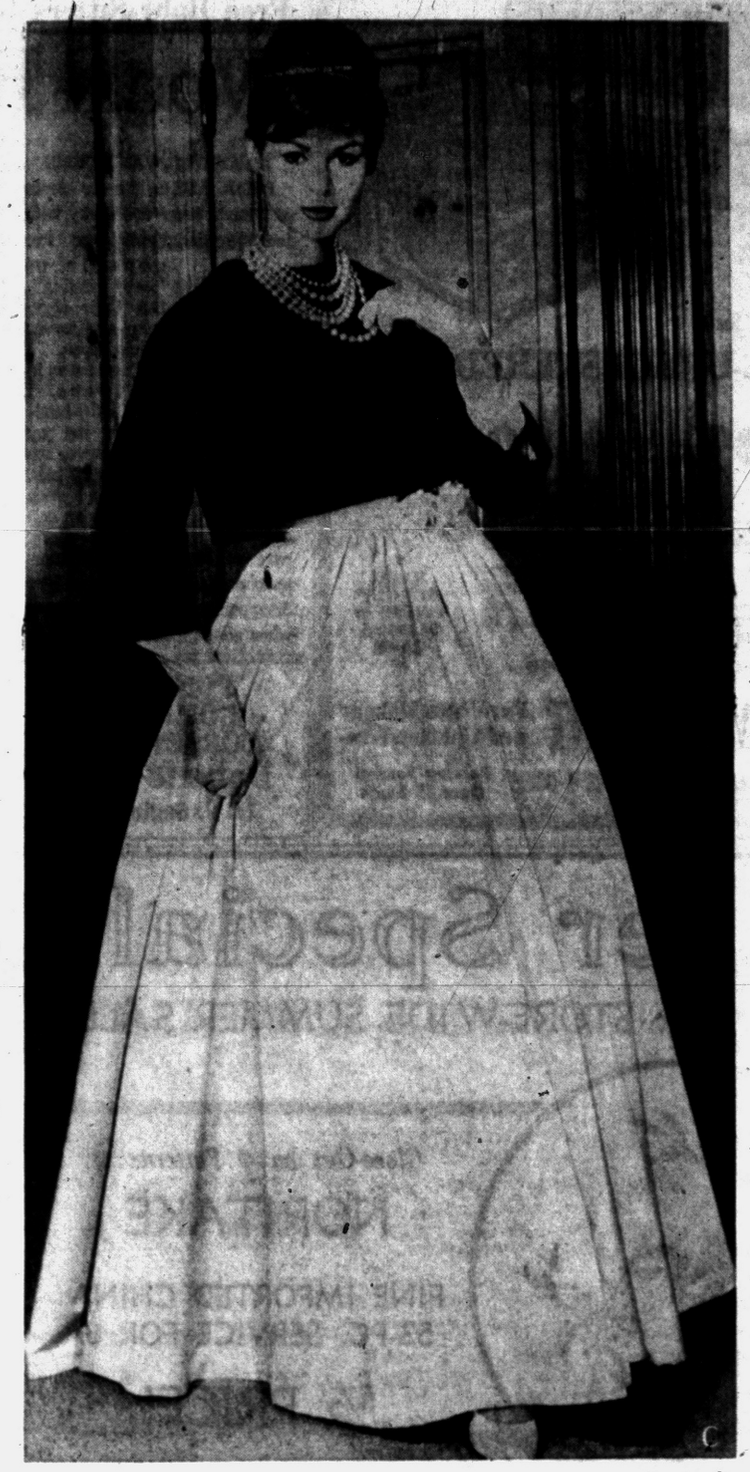

The Continental also influences sports coats, with the cutaway front, side vents and welt pockets. Coming back for sports is the Norfolk jacket, a favorite with the Duke of Edinburgh and the Duke of Windsor. It has a belted back, paneled front and usually is made in Harris tweed.

Blazers in solid colors go into fall, in wool flannel or hopsacking if in solid color; and in wool challis, paisley patterns.

★ ★ ★

The new permanent crease process now is used in most wool slacks; this is a process developed recently in Australia. You will find the permanent crease in slacks with the pleatless, the single or double pleat front. For braver souls, patterned slacks will be on the market by fall, in muted plaids of miniature checks.

Tops in sweater styles is the cardigan, usually with an eight-button front. And the bulkier the knit, the better.

This full-skirted evening dress of stucco colored silk-faced satin, combined with olive green wool fleece for a brief jacket costume, was designed by Anne Klein for the fall 1959 collection of Junior Sophisticates. The back-buttoned jacket covers a sleeveless bodice, belted with a draped pink cummerbund.

New York Fashion Finale Resembles United Nations

By DOROTHY ROE

NEW YORK (AP)—Closing sessions of this week's fall fashion showings by New York designers resembled a meeting of the United Nations, as 25 women from foreign consulates and three Moscow fashion experts viewed American styles.

★ ★ ★

The consular ladies were present at the invitation of Leonard and Andrew Arkin, father-and-son team presenting a group of typically American, moderately-priced fashions.

A number appeared in native dress, and all applauded the smart, wearable clothes. Their favorite of the Arkin collection was a black broadcloth cocktail dress, cut on slender lines, with plunging back neckline and a satin belt.

★ ★ ★

All those present appeared captivated by the children's fashions shown by Helen Lee, featuring pint-sized school and party dresses worn by small glamor girls, aged 4 to 8. A favorite of this group was a red calico smock over a black cotton full-skirted dress, for the smart kindergartner.

★ ★ ★

Suzy Perette, who often sells as many as 10,000 copies of a single dress, showed a group of the top fashions already ordered in volume by store buyers throughout the country.

★ ★ ★

Best-sellers included: A plaid sheer wool dress with sweater to top and full skirt; a black jersey sheath with square neck, long sleeves and a wide leather belt; a dress and jacket in violet wool jersey; and a dress-and-jacket outfit in dark green and red-checked wool, with waist-length jacket and scarf neckline.

★ ★ ★

Betty Carol, of Mam'selle, showed a slick group of junior fashions which stressed dress-and-jacket costumes with "space girl" capes and hoods.

Paula Dean showed a flattering line of clothes for the woman who is too busy to watch her figure, featuring sheer, chiffon-weight wools and simple jersey dress-and-jacket costumes in high colors.

Patricia Smith Weds Robert Jarrard

Patricia Ann Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde T. Smith, became the bride of Robert Earl Jarrard Saturday at St. Paul Lutheran Church

MRS. ROBERT EARL JARRARD

Some 300 guests witnessed the Saturday evening candlelight wedding of Patricia Ann Smith and Robert Earl Jarrard. The Rev. George Mahder officiated at St. Paul Lutheran Church.

The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Clyde T. Smith of Mark avenue. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Henry P. Jarrard of Third avenue.

IN PRINCESS GOWN

A princess style gown of white silk organza over taffeta was the bride's choice for the ceremony. The bodice featured a Sabrina neckline and long tapered sleeves of French Alencon lace. A large bow at the back of the skirt ended in a chapel train.

Her fingertip veil of French silk illusion was held by a halo of orange blossoms and seed pearls, and she carried a cascade bouquet of white feathered carnations and stephanotis centered with white roses.

For "something old" she carried the white linen handkerchief used by her great-grandmother at her wedding in England in 1872. It also was carried by the bride's grandmother at her wedding 50 years ago.

Maid of honor was Joan Jarrard, sister of the bridegroom. Bridesmaids were Nicki Folsom and Bernice McLean, and Penny Boneff of Detroit, the bridegroom's cousin, was junior bridesmaid. They wore street-length princess style dresses of pale blue organza over taffeta with matching accessories and headpieces of matching organza leaves and nose veils sprinkled with rhinestones. The honor maid's bouquet was comprised of feathered carnations surrounded by blue organza and lace leaves. The bridesmaids held round bouquets of white roses and feathered carnations edged in blue.

ASSIST BRIDEGROOM

Fred Vollrath attended as best man. Ushering were Gerald Smith, the bride's brother; Richard Arteaga, and James Lennon of Detroit.

Mrs. Smith wore a champagne chiffon dress with matching accessories and green cymbidium orchids for the wedding. Mrs. Jarrard chose a pink linen and lace dress with matching accessories and wore a corsage of Rose Throated Cream cymbidium orchids.

The guests attended a reception in the church parlors following the ceremony.

★ ★ ★

Before leaving on a trip to Florida and the southern states, the new Mrs. Jarrard changed to a beige silk twist suit with black accessories and added the corsage of white roses from her bridal bouquet. Upon their return the couple will reside on Fourth avenue.

The bridegroom attends Lawrence Institute of Technology.

MRS. JOHN K. BERSCHE

Janet Elaine Thompson and John K. Bersche were married July 11 by their fathers, the Rev. Oliver A. Thompson and the Rev. G. J. Bersche in Aliquippa, Pa. The Rev. and Mrs. Bersche live on North Cass Lake road.

Bersche-Thompson Vows Said in Pennsylvania Rite

Janet Elaine Thompson of Aliquippa, Pa., and John K. Bersche were united in marriage July 11 by their fathers, the Rev. Oliver A. Thompson and the Rev. G. J. Bersche. The ceremony was performed at the Christian and Missionary Alliance Church at Aliquippa before an altar banked with ferns and candelabra.

The Rev. and Mrs. Thompson reside in Aliquippa. The Rev. and Mrs. Bersche make their home on North Cass Lake road.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a floor-length white gown of scalloped embroidered nylon organza featuring a Sabrina neckline with long sleeves. An Empire waistline accented by a white satin bow topped the bouffant skirt of nylon organza which was scalloped at the edge and extended to form a chapel train. She wore a tiara of pearls with a fingertip veil and carried a white pearl Bible, a gift from her father, in an arrangement of white roses centered with an orchid.

SISTERS TAKE PART

Ellen Thompson of Aliquippa, sister of the bride, attended as maid of honor, gowned in a lavender street-length frock with matching headpiece and carrying a cascade of pink roses.

Bridesmaids Helen McLaughlin, Cynthia Thompson and Bonita Thompson, all sisters of the bride, of Aliquippa, wore gowns identical to that of the honor maid and headpieces of taffeta in a deeper shade of lavender. Their flowers were yellow roses.

Another sister of the bride, Cathy Christian Thompson, was flower girl.

All of the attendants' gowns were fashioned by Mrs. Matt Gaines of Aliquippa.

★ ★ ★

The bridegroom's brother, The Rev. Paul Bersche, of New Haven, Conn., served as best man. Ushers were James and Joseph Bersche, both of Pontiac, William McLaughlin of Aliquippa, and James Speed of Haverstraw, N.Y.

★ ★ ★

At the close of the ceremony the bridegroom joined hands with the new Mrs. Bersche and sang the solo "At Dawning." Soloist before the wedding was the Rev. Paul Bersche. Bruce Jackson of Ontario, Canada, was organist.

RECEPTION FOR 350

The 350 guests present attended a reception following the wedding.

★ ★ ★

The couple now is residing at Nyack, N.Y., where the bridegroom is a student at Nyack Missionary College. They honeymooned in northern Michigan. The bride also attended Nyack Missionary College.

MRS. FREDERICK ZITTEL JR.

Married Saturday evening in Detroit were Sally Jean Reid and Frederick Zittel Jr. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. John R. Reid and Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Zittel.

Sally Jean Reid Becomes Bride of Frederick Zittel

Sally Jean Reid and Frederick Zittel Jr., were married Saturday evening at Mayflower Congregational Church, Detroit.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. John R. Reid of Detroit and Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Zittel of Navajo road.

The bride wore a silk taffeta gown with a chapel train. The neckline and skirt were appliqued with re-embroidered Alencon lace trimmed with seed pearls and iridescent sequins. She wore a fingertip veil and carried a cascade bouquet of stephanotis centered by an orchid.

ATTEND BRIDE

Mrs. Robert C. Brown III of Palo Alto, Calif., was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Marilyn Christiansen of Milwaukee, Wis., Virginia Louis of Birmingham and Mrs. James Wilkinson.

They wore aqua colored sheath dresses with net overskirts and carried bouquets of white daisies and aqua chrysanthemums. The matron of honor was dressed in darker aqua.

★ ★ ★

David Zittel of Flint was best man. Ushers were James G. Aldrich, Robert C. Irwin and Donald A. Deeter of Dayton, Ohio.

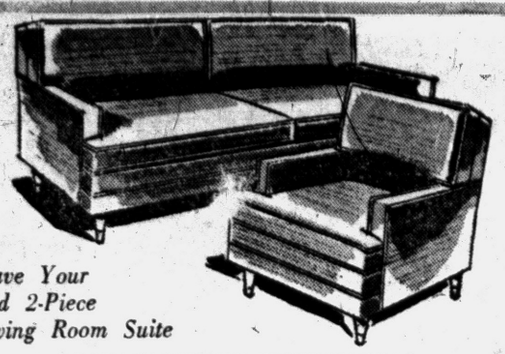

HONEYMOON IN CANADA

After the reception at the church, the couple left for a honeymoon to Canada. They will live on Murphy street.

The bride is a graduate of Michigan State University where she was a member of Alpha Phi Sorority. Mr. Zittel graduated from University of Toledo.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Reid was dressed in beige taffeta and Mrs. Zittel in cocoa taffeta for the wedding. Both had cymbidium orchid corsages.

Free Baby-Sitters Gone Forever — Abby

Would Recapture 'Good Old Days'

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: In our circle of friends there are many with teenage daughters who are capable of "baby-sitting". But their services are never offered free.

ABBY

When I was in my teens, I loved baby-tending for the joy of it. I never expected any pay. An aunt once gave me an dollar for taking care of her baby one afternoon and I still remember how disappointed my mother was when she learned I accepted it. (She made me return the dollar.)

Where are those lovely teenage girls who tend babies for the joy of it?

—OLD FASHIONED

DEAR OLD: When you and I were young (Maggie) parents did not treat themselves to many evenings "out". When a big occasion arose, there always seemed to be a member of the family handy to stay home with the little ones. Today, everyone socializes more. "Baby-sitting" has become a vocation. No one is willing to do for "free" that for which their contemporaries are paid.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: My husband says I am very cold. Actually I am very warm and affectionate, only he isn't home long enough to find out.

He stays out until 4 and 5 o'clock in the morning without an explanation, and when he comes home he expects me to greet him with open arms.

Do you blame me for acting cold? What would any other woman do in my position?

COLD

DEAR COLD: A man who stays out until 4 and 5 in the morning can expect to come home to a physiological phenomenon: A cold wife who is pretty burned up.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I am in love with a very wonderful boy. We have gone together for two years and have never quarreled. I am 21 and he is 23. We want to get married but we have a problem.

I am a Baptist and he is a Catholic.

We respect each other's religion but neither one of us wants to change. I have heard that if a Catholic marries a Baptist they will throw him out of the Catholic church. Also that if they have any children they will be considered illegitimate. Is this true? We love each other, Abby, but I want to be sure our marriage will work out. Can you help me?

JANE

DEAR JANE: I admire your willingness to seek the answers to questions regarding a religion you do not understand. Call on a Catholic priest and ask him to answer your questions. You will find him cooperative and helpful. Good luck!

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: Is there a cure for snoring? My wife snores something fierce. It's not just an ordinary snore. She sounds like a B29 taking off. When I nudge her, there will be a lull for about 30 seconds. Then she starts up again—only in a different key and usually much louder.

She falls asleep the minute her head hits the pillow. I can't and her snoring keeps me awake most of the night. Can you help me? L. V. D.

DEAR L. V. D.: Far as I know, there is no sure cure for snoring. You have two choices. Ear plugs or separate bedrooms.

Trench Coat, Riding Suit Lauded in Italian Shows

By SUE CARDOZO

FLORENCE, Italy (AP)—A low-slung trench coat and a riding-coat suit hold the honors after the first week of showings of Italian fall and winter fashions.

They took laurels in the Rome fashion openings which ended Sunday night. The second round of showings opens today in Florence with presentations of ready-to-wear "boutique" clothing and sportswear.

High fashion showings resume tonight. Simonetta Fabiani, Emilio Schuberth and Emilio Pucci are among the Florence exhibitors.

The trench coat and suit represent contradictory concepts in new autumn-winter styles, one being dramatic for the sophisticated woman, the other prim, ladylike and very Junior League.

Fath-trained Patrick de Barentzen, controversial newcomer to Roman couture, introduced the trench coat. The suit was featured by Fontana, conservative founding member of the Rome fashion syndicate.

★ ★ ★

The turtle-back silhouette, featured by De Barentzen, with sleeves set low on the forearm, turned up with modifications in the Gregoriani collection and elsewhere in Rome showings.

So did the classic suit. Jackets were mainly semifitted, edging thighward, and skirts were consistently straight and safely below the knee.

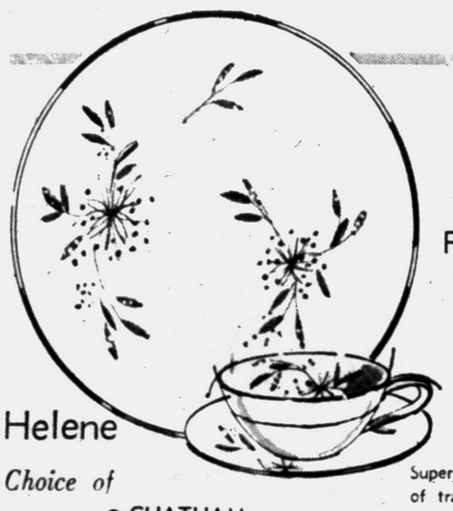

Other notable features of coming cold weather wear were (1) bulky, belted coats reminiscent of the 1930s, often double-breasted and lavishly trimmed with long-haired fur; (2) 7-8 length redingote ensembles in elaborate brocade; (3) deep hats and exposed wrists.

Galitzine came up with more of her convertible cocktail-to-ball downs and optical tricks with cut-away coats.

Fabrics and colors on the whole were understated by day and unrestrained by night. Most memorable of these was a velvet and satin combination of huge vermilion flowers splashed on saffron brown. It was shown by Eleanora Garnett.

Chinese Exercises Flowing

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

In New York City recently I had a most pleasant and interesting experience. Mr. and Mrs. Freeman Chum took me to Chinatown for lunch. This seems a strange procedure since Freeman Chum has one of the most popular Chinese restaurants in mid-Manhattan.

Freeman explained that he not only wanted to take me to lunch but that he especially wanted me to see some Chinese exercises. These were entirely different from the ones we are accustomed to and most fascinating; and the theory on which they are built is very sound.

The Chinese exercise is a continuous one, one movement going smoothly into the next. The exercise lasts for 10 minutes without a break. It is done slowly and consists of reaching, twisting, stretching motions.

Mr. Chum said the exercise routine was worked out and perfected by Hok Pang Choy long ago in Canton in a temple dedicated to Buddha. The name of the temple was Hu Lum Doo. At the age of 35 Mr. Choy went there prepared to die. He had high blood pressure and diabetes and sought peace and quiet.

However, within six months he was much improved and was in splendid health a year afterward. Later Mr. Choy taught the exercises to a friend of Freeman Chum's, Ngai Kai Poy. He taught them to Mr. Chum, whose health has improved vastly since taking the exercise.

Mr. Poy demonstrated the exercises for me and executed them with amazing grace and muscular control. It would take years of practice to do it as he did. However this gave me the idea of a continuous flowing group of movements and I have made up a short routine for you and me. Here it is.

Stand tall with arms at the sides. Turn the body toward the left slightly as you step forward with your right foot and reach forward with your right arm, about shoulder height. Bend over trying to touch the fingers of the right hand to the right toe. Reach back with the left arm. Raise the trunk and right arm up, stretching toward the ceiling as the left arm returns to side. Do this three times.

After the fourth bend, raise the trunk and as you do so pull back with the right elbow, reach forward with the left arm as you step back with the right foot. The right arm is extended backward. The right foot is now behind the left.

Now bend over and try to touch the fingers of the left hand to the left toe as you reach back with the right arm. Continue for three times.

Mrs. Carl Rehm entertained the Fashion Your Figure Club at her Watkins Lake road home Thursday evening. Activities for the evening included a card party, tea and swimming.

Mrs. Bert Olliffe and Mrs. Richard Snover were hostesses.

A trophy for losing the most weight during the week was presented to Mrs. Wallace Rauch.

Feet Need Treat in Hot Weather

Warmer weather may cause your feet to perspire fore than they normally do. Certain types of shoes also seem to trap heat

So at night treat your feet to a relaxing hot and cold bath. Then massage them with rubbing alcohol. Apply a lotion to keep the skin soft and follow this with an antiseptic powder.

To get onion or bleaching agent odor off hands, rub well with paste of baking soda and water.

Keeps Kids Busy

Fingerpainting is fun and keeps youngsters out of mischief for hours. And, even if they smear the paint on themselves and furniture, mother needn't worry. It washes off with lukewarm suds and water.

The cost of dyes used in a man's suit represent less than one per cent of its total retail sale price.

Reveal Income Record High

Rise in Americans' Earnings Due to More Hiring, Longer Hours

WASHINGTON (AP)—Personal income of Americans climbed in June to a record rate of $382,900,000,000 a year. This is more than 1½ billion dollars higher than the May rate.

★ ★ ★

Announcing the figure today, the commerce department said the rise was chiefly a reflection of higher wage and salary payments due to stepped-up hiring by industry and a lengthening workweek in factories generally.

The report of the rise in personal income came atop a weekend report from the department that national output in the first quarter of 1959 reached a rate exceeding 470 billion dollars a year.

The term personal income, as used by government economists, includes all payments to individuals — wages, salaries, rents, dividends etc.

Wage and salary payments in June were reported at $261,000,000,000, an increase of $1,300,000,000 from a month earlier and a gain of nearly 12½ billion in annual rate from the January figure.

On the other hand, government "transfer payments" — unemployment compensation and other federal payments which surged upward in the business recession — dropped somewhat from the May figure.

The Department said that bigger factory payrolls last month contributed half the advance in total wages and salaries. The major payroll gains were in the metals, machinery, stone, glass and clay industries.

The prospect appeared, however, that the steel strike will cut deeply into the wage and salary payments for July when the next personal income report is issued a month hence.

New York's Official Greeter Improving

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (UPI) — Grover A. Whalen, 73, New York's official greeter for nearly 35 years, was reported somewhat improved today at Grace-New Haven Hospital. He was under treatment for a stroke suffered at his summer home at nearby Madison.

Whalen was stricken Saturday and was taken by ambulance to the hospital on orders of Dr. Hyman Birnbaum of Madison.

At the hospital, where it was reported that Whalen's left side was partially paralyzed, he was given the last rites of the Catholic church.

Congressman Sympathtic

Little Girl vs. Library

WASHINGTON (UPI)—This is the story of a little girl, a librarian, a puppy dog and a congressman.

A letter written in pencil on ruled paper from Patricia C. Vaughn of Akron, Ohio, to Rep. William H. Ayres (R-Ohio) opens this way:

"Dear Mr. Ayres, I am 8 years old and I am very sorry to trouble you."

Patricia plaintively writes that some time last May she checked out two books from the Maple Valley Public Library in Akron—"The Happy Prince and Other Tales" and "Wicked John and the Devil."

Now tragedy: Her puppy chewed the corners of the books. "But the pages were undamaged. The puppy was not to blame," she writes.

Conflict: "Mrs. Vinepaul and Miss Coleman (the librarians) said I must pay $6.70 for the books."

"Daddy said I must work and pay for these books to teach me a lesson."

★ ★ ★

The righteous way: "I am getting 15 cents a day for washing breakfast dishes," mowed lawns and swept floors to earn, finally, $5.00.

Cruel reverse: The library said the $5.00 wasn't enough but Patricia was told she couldn't have the books even if she paid the $6.70 because they were government property and "would be destroyed."

"Please sir, is there something you could do that these books could be given to me. I worked so hard for them. I have learned my lesson to respect other peoples property, and I will never forget it as long as I live."

Plot thickens: Ayres worte Akron head librarian Russell Munn, received a reply from Munn that he had no authority to sell the books and besides, they cost $6.70, not $5.00.

Happy ending: Ayres ordered the books from a Washington bookstore. Patricia should get them soon.

And guess what the bookstore here said they cost—$2.50 each.

Peasants Flock to Back Castro

Converge on Havana to Demonstrate Support of Farm Program

HAVANA (AP) — Thousands of straw-hatted, machete - carrying peasants are arriving early for a demonstration next Sunday of support for Fidel Castro and his agrarian reform program.

The revolutionary leader himself was in seclusion today. There was some speculation that he might not take back the prime minister's post he resigned Friday. Possibly he might pick someone to carry out his policies while he devotes most of his time to the land redistribution program. In any case he clearly will continue to boss Cuba.

The farmers were spilling into Castro's capital from as far as 500 miles away, answering the call of their bearded leader for 500,000 to attend the anniversary celebration of Castro's first unsuccessful attack July 26, 1953, on Fulgencio Batista's forces.

The visitors are being housed in private homes and on cots in government buidings and warehouses. Havana's normal population is 1,200,000, and the city is aready crowded.

The first 5,000 — from Oriente Province—marched up Havana's famed Prado Sunday to a brass band. Many of them had never seen a large city and seemed awed by the capital's traffic, luxurious hotels and sprawling business buildings.

★ ★ ★

Cuba meanwhile rocked along with a standstill government, waiting to learn what Castro plans to do. But the new president, Dr. Osvaldo Dorticos, told a Boston radio station by telephone that he considers Castro still is prime minister.

★ ★ ★

The 40-year-old lawyer also said that former President Manuel Urrutia, whom Castro forced out of office Friday, was in no danger in Cuba and probably would remain in the country. Urrutia was at the heavily guarded home of his brother-in-law outside Havana. Dorticos said the guard had been requested by the ex-president.

★ ★ ★

Castro accused Urrutia of near treason because he had spoken of a Communist menace in Cuba after the ex-chief of the Cuban air force, Maj. Pedro Luis Diaz Lanz, told a U.S. congressional committee that Castro and leaders of his government were Communists.

Castro's attack on Urrutia found strong support among the Cuban masses, but the reaction in some middle and upper class circles was adverse. The president, a former judge, was considered a moderate, and the business community felt his departure had removed a brake on the revolutionary forces.

★ ★ ★

The new president, who had laws, said Saturday night, "I most been minister of revolutionary certainly am not (a Communist) and neither is the government."

Crowd Argues — and Boy Dies on Canada Beach

STOUFFVILLE, Ont. (AP)—An excited crowd anxious to help save the life of a boy after he was pulled from a nearby lake yesterday pushed away a man trying to breathe life into the boy and hampere the efforts of a young lifeguard.

While the crowd milled and argued over the best method of artificial respiration, David Laur, 8, of Toronto, died on the shore of Shadow Lake six miles north of this village and 14 miles north of Toronto.

Frank Samon Jr. of Toronto, who tried breathing into David's mouth to revive him, said, "It was an awful mess. I started to use the mouth-to-mouth method and the kid seemed to come around a bit.

"Then 15 or 20 people started pushing me away. They were pulling the boy's arms and legs and everything."

It is estimated that in the 1960's there will be 30,000,000 more people with $170 billion more to spend. To inform and sell the ever growing market household fixture advertisers increased their investment in daily newspapers last year by 117 per cent.

Find No Wrongdoing by Retired Officers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chairman F. Edward Hebert(D-La) of a House Armed Services subcommittee says his group's two-week investigation hasn't yet turned up any cases of undue influence by retired military officers on defense contracts—and may never do so.

"We're dealing with something both nebulous and elusive," he said. "Influence—what is it? When is it bad?"

His main hope for the inquiry, Hebert said, is that it will result in legislation to clear up the ambiguity of the present situation.

'Cops' Weren't There

VERGENNES, Vt. (UPI) — There wasn't a single "cop" around when 175 graduates of the FBI Academy held their annual convention here. They said "professionally trained lawmen aren't 'cops' any more; they're law enforcement officers."

Almont Couple Named in Lien

U. S. Government Says $1,095,103 Owed by Glenn, Mary Averill

A federal tax lien of $1,095,103 for alleged unreported income, penalties and interest has been filed with the Oakland County Register of Deeds office against Glenn and Mary Averill, of 6330 Boardman St., Almont.

The case covers a period from 1950 to 1956.

S. R. Cash, internal revenue officer of the Flint district office, reported that Averill is a retired Detroit police officer and presently is a land property owner in Lapeer.

Cash said that similar liens, of the same amount of assessment, have also been filed in Wayne, Macomb and Lapeer counties.

"Averill owns a farm and other properties that border on the boundary lines of these counties," said Cash. "We don't know as yet how much, if any, of the properties are in Oakland County. The separate liens have been filed as a precautionary measure.

Averill could not be reached for comment. He is reportedly vacationing with his wife at their summer cottage in Canada.

According to James F. Deane, assistant director of the Detroit internal revenue office, attempts are being made to reach a settlement with the Almont man.

"We'll try and work out a settlement with him to pay this liability," Deane said. "If suitable arrangements cannot be made, we will then have to seize any assets he may have."

Deane said criminal charges against Averill are possible.

Averill cannot dispose of any of his property of holdings as long as the federal government has the lien against him.

The amount the Averills owe in taxes, penalties and interests, broken down successively for the years 1950 to 1956 are $119.794; $275.710; $196,568; $225,980; $106.836; $99,591; and $70.623.

Gets Bid of $600

HAVANA (AP) — A lock of Fidel Castro's hair is up for auction in a telemarathon program being held to raise funds for agrarian reform. The latest bid was $600.

The hair was snipped as a souvenir during the days of the Castro revolution by a barber who contributed it to the TV program.

Demands State Pay Interest on Overdue Account

LANSING (AP) — A Saginaw businessman has taken on the State of Michigan in an attempt to collect interest on an overdue bill.

The hassle stems from the state's failure to pay the Sam Symons & Co. for articles shipped to Mt. Pleasant State Home and Training School in May and early June.

State Controller James W. Miller told Sam E. Symons Jr. that his low bid on four items didn't provide for interest on any overdue account.

Hundreds of vendors and contractors have written to Miller pleading for payment of overdue accounts. The state has fallen nearly six million dollars behind in payment to more than 4,000 firms.

Cancels Visits to Scandinavia

Nikita's Plan Change Blamed on Sweden's Press, Politicians

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, (AP) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev today called off the visits to Scandinavian countries he had been planning for August.

The Swedish, Danish and Finnish governments made almost simultaneous announcements of Khrushchev's abrupt change of plans.

An announcement from the Norwegian government was being prepared by the office of Premier Einar Gerhardsen in Oslo.

The Finnish government said it had been informed in Moscow this morning that "Khrushchev's visit to Denmark, Norway and Sweden had been postponed. As he is not visiting Scandinavia, he will have no opportunity this time to visit Finland."

★ ★ ★

The Soviet foreign ministry, in a note to Sweden, said the visit to Stockholm was called off because of "an anti-Soviet campaign" by the Swedish press and certain political leaders.

The Soviet note lashed out at a number of prominent Swedish politicians, editors and organizations, calling them "anti-Russians."

Previously it had been assumed that the only thing that would bring a change in Khrushchev's plans for his visit would be an East-West summit meeting.

8½-Pound Son Born to Terry Barr's Wife

BIRMINGHAM (UPI) — An 8-pound-7-ounce son was born to Mrs. Shelly Barr, wife of Detroit Lions defensive back Terry Barr, during the weekend.

The child, the couple's first, will be named Brian Isaac. Mrs. Barr is the former Shelly England, daughter of Mrs. Isaac England of Traverse City. Terry's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Fred Barr of Grand Rapids. Brian was born Saturday night.

Last year $49 billion was spent for new construction in this country. Housing equipment and supply companies invested over $28 million in daily newspapers to insure that they reached the major portion of their market.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all — this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne*)—the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called *Preparation H. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

A Day With Our Midget Racers

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

"Tomorrow's Safest Drivers" . . . . . are the youngsters from four to 15 years of age who race their car motors between 15 and 30 miles per hour. And they don't even have drivers' licenses.

There are over 100 such drivers who zoom around the one-tenth mile track at Miracle Mile shopping center most every Sunday with 85 colorful midget race cars.

They compete for points and trophies, but mainly they are learning the skill of handling mechanical vehicles safely and they are having fun doing it.

The Wolverine Quarter-Midget Club, which has a membership comprised of men from hourly shop workers to big business executives, is truly an all-family venture.

It is strictly a non-profit organization. The mothers and dads push the brooms, do the hammering, repair the cars and lead the cheering sections for their youngsters.

★ ★ ★

Funds to maintain the track are raised through donations of parents, friends, businessmen and from the sale of programs.

★ ★ ★

Typical of the enthusiasm seen among the midget drivers is that of little Jimmy Wilfong who can claim he drove before he even started school.

Jimmy was only four when his dad, Jim, Sr., put him behind the wheel of No. 26, the Wilfong Special. Now he's five and he takes the turns of the track like a veteran.

The throttle of the car is adjusted so that it can reach a maximum of 15 mph, but next year Jim says he will be ready to go at full throttle like the older kids. This will mean speeds from 25 to 30 mph.

★ ★ ★

Jim, Sr., who works at Pontiac Engineering, never drove race cars but he has held an interest in cars since he was Jim, Jr.'s age.

The midget cars are built or purchased at costs which range from $200 to $600, and in many instances three and four youngsters from a single family enter the races in the various age classes with the same car.

The four Lilley youngsters, Roy, Terry, Sharon and Jim all share car No. 72 and atrio of Alfords, Bill, Bob, and Bruce hold equal shares in No. 739.

★ ★ ★

Ten year old Johnny Eager and sister Carol, 12, of Waterford are pretty proud of their midget racer No. 91. For Carol, it meant giving up her bedroom all last winter so that the car could be built.

"We have no basements or garage, so Carol had to lease her bedroom while the mechanics, welders and painters did their work," said Mrs. Darwin Eager.

For many youngsters such as Andy Robinson of Birmingham the interest in midget racing has been a great boon to morale. Andy is seven years old. He was a victim of polio deformaties since birth, leaving him without a left foot and a deformed left arm.

★ ★ ★

But he still takes the wheel of his car No. 93 and competes against the others in the 7-9 year old division. "His interest in the midget cars has been great for his morale," said Don Robinson, the father.

A total of 26 towns are represented among the Midget members with 40 per cent from the Pontiac area.

Races are held by divisions of age. There are a dozen pee-wee drivers in the 4-6 bracket and they merely race as exhibitions.

★ ★ ★

The other age brackets include drivers in 7-9 year old group; the 10-11 year olds; 12-13 year olds and 14-15 year olds.

Racing isn't restricted merely to the Miracle Mile track. Local midgets travel to Toledo, Clinton and places in Canada to race.

Yesterday the mid-season championships took place at Miracle Mile and over $600 in trophies were awarded in the various age brackets.

The calender for the rest of the year includes racing dates for August 2nd, 16th and 30th and for September 7th, 13th and trophy day September 27th.

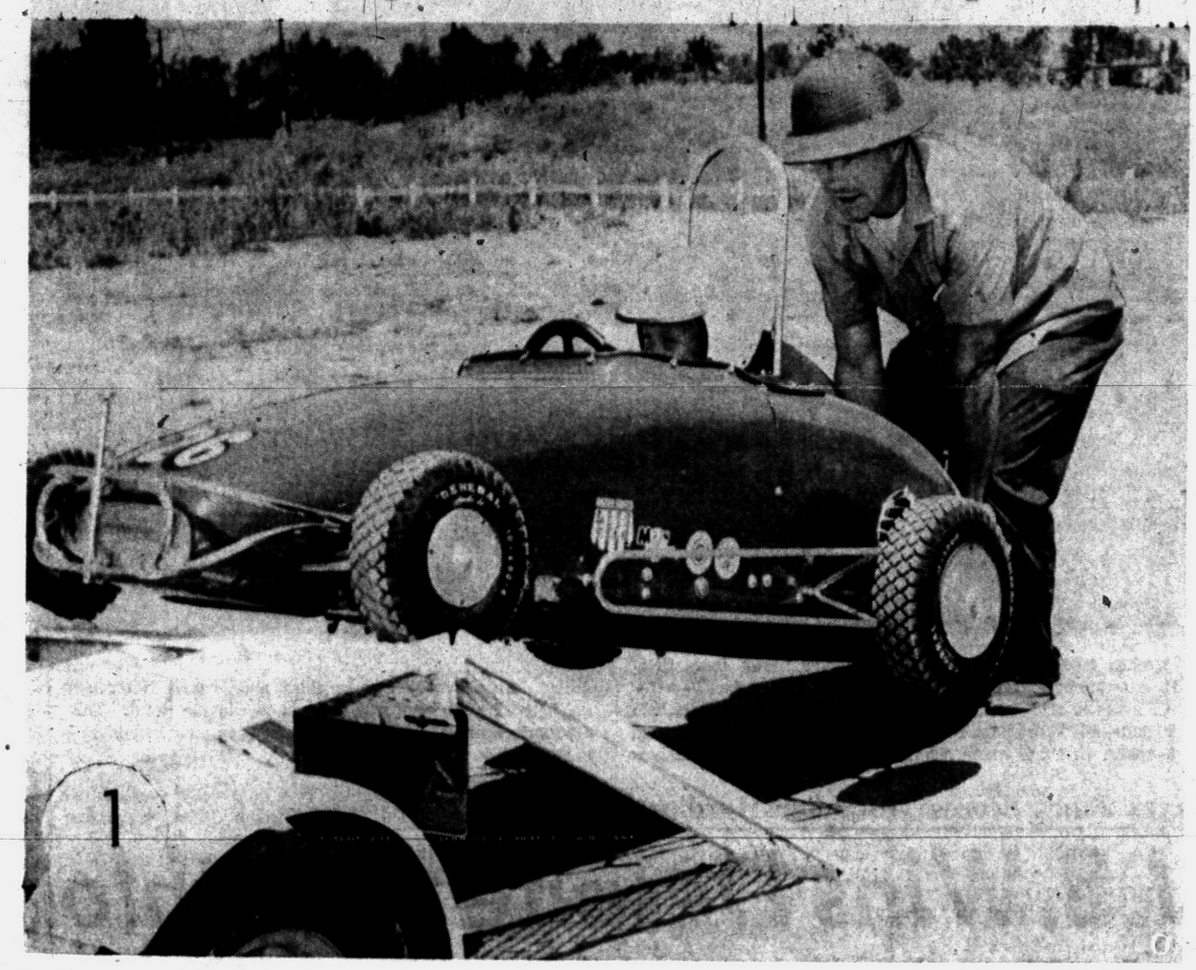

August 23rd, the Wolverine Club Midgets will race in Toledo.

★ ★ ★

As many as 5,000 people have watched the little midgets on a single Sunday afternoon and according to Lew Stern, member of the Board of Directors and publicist, the club "is hoping to get lights for night racing."

There is also a strong possibility that one of the major auto companies may undertake the sponsorship of the Midgets—"Tomorrow's Safest Drivers."

Big Day Ahead for Little Jimmy

1

No. 26 Stays With the Pack

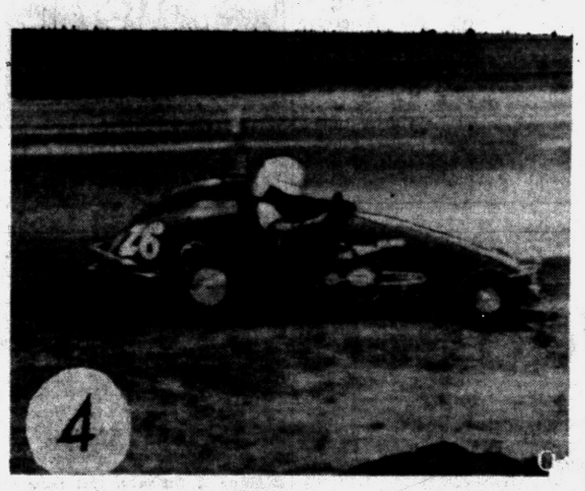

2

Oh, Oh, Trouble Ahead

3

Jimmy Takes a Spin

4

Day With the Midgets

3. Oh, oh, Jimmy runs into trouble at the turn. He drives his car with the 4-6 age group in exhibitions only. The drivers in his group go between 12-15 miles per hour at half-throttle. Next year Jimmy says he will be ready to race with a full throttle which will produce speeds between 25-30 mph.

4. Like a master driver he spins off the track into the safety zone inside the oval to stay out of the path of the other drivers. "Jimmy is just learning to spin off the track," says his dad, "it's good know how to do it in event he runs into trouble." In five years, however, the club has not had any serious accidents.

5. Jimmy has had his troubles for the day so he heads back to the pit area where his dad waves him through the gate.

6. With his face covered with smudges, Jimmy put in a couple hours on the track and now is a little dejected for having to drop out of the race.

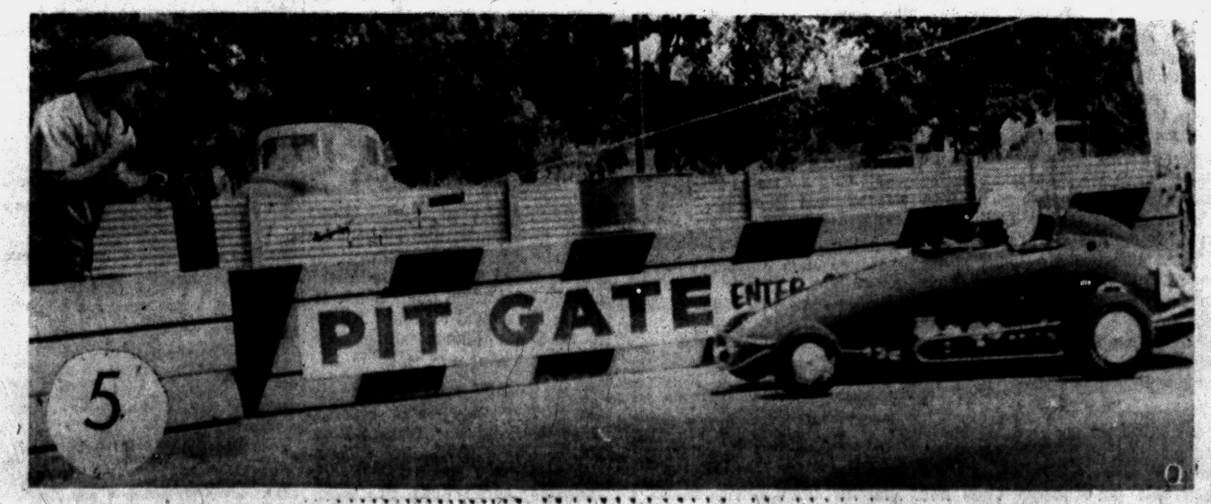

7. Jimmy, however, wasn't the only one in trouble. Johnny Eager, 10, of Waterford does some repair on his No 91 also.

8. Little Andy Robinson, 7, of Birmingham gets some final tips from his dad Don just before getting into his age-group race.

9. The big thrill is to win, and Jimmy Briney, 12, of Pontiac gets a hero's welcome from mom, Mrs. James Briney of 62 E. Iroquois Rd. Jim is one of the top drivers in the 12-13 age group.

Kalamazoo Pro Captures State Title With 285

Tommy Watrous Shares Second Position With Barnum, Zakarian

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Dave Hill, a slender 22-year-old assistant pro from Kalamazoo, played steady golf through a 36-hole final round grind yesterday and won the 37th annual Michigan Open golf tournament.

★ ★ ★

Hill, who played on two state championship high school golf teams, won his biggest purse, $750, in finishing three strokes ahead of runners up John Barnum of Grand Rapids, Joe Zakarian of Detroit and Tommy Watrous of Birmingham.

Playing cautiously, Hill had a morning round of 71 and posted a 72 in the afternoon, finishing the 72-hole tournament with a 285 total over the 6,374-yard Green Ridge Country Club course.

★ ★ ★

Barnum, defending champion, Zakarian and Watrous each had 388's, good for $416.67 in prize money.

Hill, who finished fourth in the event at Atlas Valley near Flint last year, started his afternoon round with a 34, two-under-par for the course.

He bogied the 170-yard 10th hole, flubbing a chip shot, and also picked up a bogie at No. 12 where he hit his tee shot against a fence and was forced to chip out by hitting a shot against a fence and was forced to chip out by hitting a shot left handed.

But from there on he played it safe all the way.

★ ★ ★

Play yesterday was marked by the disqualifying of Wally Burkemo, former National PGA champion from Detroit. Burkemo called the disqualification penalty on himself when he signed an erroneous scorecard.

★ ★ ★

Burkemo's 11th hole score on the card was a par 4, but he had three-putted and never noticed the error until signing the card and turning it in.

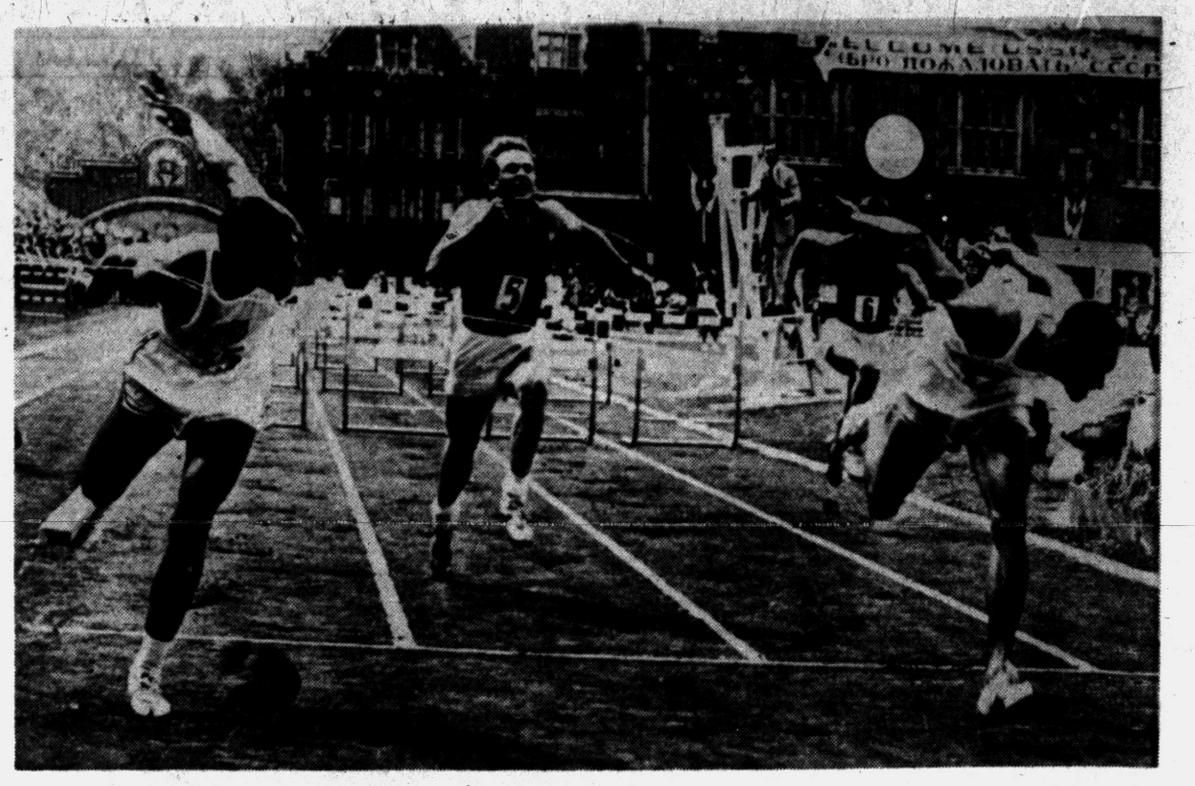

★ ★ ★

Watrous, whose father Al won the State Open title six times, turned in rounds of 73 and 72 yesterday in gaining a share of the second place money.

The top 20 scorers and money winners in the 37th annual Michigan Open Golf Tournament:

Dave Hill, $750.
Kalamazoo ..... 70-72-71-72—285
Tom Watrous, $416.67.
Birmingham ..... 67-76-73-72—288
John Barnum, $416.67.
Grand Rapids ..... 73-73-71-71—288

HAYES BREAKS THE TAPE — Pontiac's Hayes Jones (left) of Eastern Michigan College, breaks the tape to win the 110-meter high hurdles in :13.6 in the United States-Russian track meet held at Philadelphia's Franklin Field over the weekend. Lee Calhoun of Durham, N. C., Olympic champion, was second with Russians Antoly Mikhailov (5) coming third and Nicolai Nezerutsky (6) finishing 4th. Calhoun was favored to win the event. This was the fourth time Jones has beaten Calhoun in their individual battle in the hurdles.

Hayes Jones Scores 110-Meter Hurdles Victory

U.S. Wins Despite Decathlon

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — The greatest all-around athlete in the world is a Russian, but the men's team of the United States still is the greatest track and field power.

The two day track meet Saturday and Sunday ended with victory for the American men, 127-108, and defeat for U.S. women, 67-40.

The combined score was 175-167 in the Soviet's favor, but the U. S. considers the male and female events to be separate.

Regardless of the score, dark-haired Vasily Kuznetsov proved himself to be the No. 1 track star of the world.

Only a drenching thunderstorm that hampered the last three events kept Kuznetsov from breaking his own world record in the decathlon event yesterday. The Russian ace was 74 points ahead of his own record pace going into those three events, but then finished seven points shy of the mark with 8,350 points.

★ ★ ★

"The weather prevented it," said, Gabrial Korobkov, coach of the Soviet squad. "He will do better the next time."

The top U.S. rival to Kuznetsov, former world record holder Rafer Johnson of Kingbury, Calif., missed this meet because of injuries in an auto accident. But Kuznetsov looked yesterday as if he would have beaten even a healthy Johnson.

As expected, the Russian women scored a 67-40 triumph in their meet against the best U.S. girl athletes.

Last year, when the two nations clashed in Moscow, the Russians combined the point scores of men's and women's events (illegally, according to the U.S. claim) and claimed an overall victory, 172-170. This time, if they chose, they could make claims of another "overall" win, 175-167.

★ ★ ★

Korobkov hinted at such a claim when he said, "we won the combined meet mainly because of the women."

Final figures on this year's meet and last year's were strikingly similar — both times U.S. men won 14 of 22 events. Russian women won six of 10 events at Moscow, eight here.

The surprises were about evenly divided—the defeat of American Olympic hammer throw champion Harold Connolly by Russia's Vasily Rudenkov, the surprise second place in the hop, step, and jump by Ira Davis of Philadelphia.

Hayes Jones of Pontiac ran away from his closest competitors Lee Calhoun and Russian Anstoly Mikhailov after he cleared the final hurdle in the sprint to the wire in 110-meter event. His winning time was 13.6, Calhoun, the favorite, was second.

Record honors also were evenly divided—Parry O'Brien of Los Angeles eclipsed the world shot put record with a heave of 63 feet, 2½ inches; Russia's Tamara Press bettered the women's shot put mar with a toss of 55 feet, 6¾ inches. Neither mark probably ever will be recognized as a world record—they were better than the listed world marks but not as good as previous performances by O'Brien and Miss Press which still are awaiting official recognition.

SOVIET ACE — Vasily Kuznetsov (40) Russian decathlon ace was individual star of the U.S.-Soviet track meet in Philadelphia where the American men whipped the visitors, 127-108. Kuznetsov finished seven points shy of the world mark by scoring 8,350 points in the decathlon.

The United States went into the Sunday half of the men's meet with a 59-47 lead and never faltered. The clinching points came in the 1,600 meter relay when anchor man Eddie Southern who won the 400 meter run on Saturday, ripped off a 46.2 second 400 meter leg to cross the finish line 30 yards in front.

Ray Norton of San Jose State, America's new claimant to the title "world's fastest human," was the only double individual winner. He took the 100-meter dash in 10.3 seconds on Saturday and the 200 meters Sunday in 20.7 seconds.

The U.S. men won all running events up to 1,500 meters, where 19-year-old Dyrol Burleson of Oregon continued his march toward world fame with a 3:49.4 eyelash win over Jim Grelle. The Soviets took all long distance events.

The only two U.S. victories in women's events also were in sprints, Barbara Jones of Chicago taking the 100 meters and Lucina Williams of Nashville, Tenn., the 200 meters.

Still Can't Consider Yanks Out of AL Race

By The Associated Press

Just when you get ready to count the Yankees out, they pop right back into the thick of the American League fight.

A week ago, after losing an entire 5-game series in Boston, they were dead. On Friday morning they were very much alive with a series sweep over Cleveland.

The magic of Early Wynn and Bob Shaw gave Chicago the first two games of an important weekend series. Once again they were ready to hang the crepe on Caseyy Stengel's office door.

★ ★ ★

But the Yanks knocked the lid off the coffin Sunday by sweeping two from Chicago. The explosion knocked the White Sox out of first place. The Cleveland Indians, who had been eased out of the lead by the Yanks, regained "control" by .001 percentage. New York is 5½ back.

This should teach people a lesson. From the looks of things at this stage, nobody is going to romp off with this American League pennant until late September. Each club has a vital weakness.

★ ★ ★

Stengel found help from unexpected sources in his Sunday sweep, ending a streak of eight straight Sunday defeats dating back to June 7. In the first game it was 43-year-old Enos Slaughter, oldest active player in the majors, hitting a pair of two-run homers in a 6-2 victory for Whitey Ford. In the second it was Eli Grba, a 6-2, 200-pound rookie from the Richmond farm, turning back the White Sox 6-4. Ryne Duren helped out both Ford and Grba, but Chicago did not score an earned run all day.

The rain that left them slipping and sliding around Yankee Stadium in the late innings, gummed up things at Boston.

The Red Sox nipped the Indians in the opener 6-5 on Frank Malzone's double with two out and the bases full in the last of the ninth. Cleveland grabbed first place by taking the second 5-3, a game interrupted and finally called because of rain as Boston came to bat in the ninth.

Maxwell's Sunday Hit Not Enough to Prevent 2-1 Loss at Baltimore

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Tigers limped into town today trying to pick up the pieces before opening a 13-game home stand tomorrow night against the Washington Senators.

The Tigers ended an eight-game invasion of the east yesterday with a 2-1 loss to Baltimore. Even slugging Charlie (Paw Paw) Maxwell couldn't pull the skidding Bengals out of their current slump.

Maxwell came through with his 10th home run of the year—clearing the right field fence off Baltimore starter Billy O'Dell in the fourth inning. It was his 21st round tripper of the year and a cut a two-run lead given O'Dell in the first inning.

Neil Chrisley delivered a pinch-hit double in the seventh off Oriole reliefer Billy Loes, (O-Dell retired in the sixth because of a blister on his pitching hand) and Frank Bolling singled in the third for the only other Tiger hits.

But it took Baltimore 40 minutes to get the final out. Loes retired Maxwell and Chrisey in the ninth before the game was delayed by rain just as Lou Berberet came up to bat for Red Wilson.

Berberet ran the count to 3-2 before popping out as the rain started again.

Baltimore got to Jim Bunning for its two runs after two were out in the first. Albie Pearson singled and stole second. Gene Woodling walked and Gus Triandos lifted a pop fly behind second base.

Harvey Kuenn, Johnny Groth and Bolling converged on the ball. Bolling made a swipe as the ball bounced up from the ground and threw to the plate. But Pearson was across and Woodling scored all the way from first.

Bunning gave up 7 hits in absorbing his eighth loss in 16 starts. Ray Narleski relieved Bunning in the eighth and gave up one more safety.

O'Dell received credit for his sixth victory in 13 starts.

Outboards Here July 26

When the APBA rejected an application for a July 26 outboard regatta at Oakland County Boat club, on Sylvan Lake, club officials moved to the younger Racing Outboard Drivers Assn. of America (RODAA) for sanction.

★ ★ ★

"The APBA," says John Benson, chairman for the regatta, and OCBC commodore, "wanted us to operate the inboards, so we had to make another move. Our regatta is now sanctioned by the RODAA."

The speedboat test here will be all outboards, and all seven classes will be raced, with many of the midwest's (Region Six) drivers expected to be on hand. Benson said a field of 150 or more entries is anticipated. Post entries will be taken in all classes.

Regatta is a one-day affair, starting at 1 p.m. July 26, over an oval course of two-and-a-half miles. This is a departure from former layouts, designed to bring the fast action nearer to the spectators.

A regatta ball is set for Saturday night, preceding the races, at OCBC clubhouse.

Drivers will compete for total awards of $1,000, split into 3-places for each event.

Benson said that all entries are of the "Alki Group," their fast motors using special fuels.

Among top pilots, coming from Canada, Michigan, Indiana, Ohio, Illinois, Pennsylvania, Kentucky, Wisconsn and West Virginia, will be Ken Saunders, of Detroit, RODAA commodore, and Harry Demski of Midland.

Other regatta officials, besides Benson, wil' be Fred Hershey of Detroit, chief timer and starter; secretary, Robert Bullard of Detroit, both Region 6 officials; John Pemberton (OCBC), grounds; Jack Skelton (OCBC) manpower; Ken Peterson (OCBC rear-commodore) docks, and reagatta ball, Don Kelly (OCBC).

Bill Wells, London, Ont., in three classes; Jerry Kerns, West Milton, Ohio, (3 classes); Jack Dertinger, Delhi, Ont.,; Phil Barbour, Illinois; Ralph Dowling, Cleveland; Clint Gieth, Ohio, and Nels Kirtz of Elkhart, Ind. are among the top drivers.

Doctoring Your Golf

By DR. CARY MIDDLECOFF

PATIENT'S COMPLAINT: "I'll never learn the game!"

DIAGNOSIS: That's true of us all.

TREATMENT: Many a temporarily frustrated golfer has confided in me that he fully intends to quit the game because he is convinced that he will never really learn to hit the ball right.

I can sympathize, because I have felt the same way myself.

What I think golfers in this frustrated state of mind fail to realize is that nobody — but nobody! — ever really conquers the game.

Golf is really a game of misses. Three or four really fine shots per 18 holes is about the most that even the greatest experts ever hit. The rest of the shots are, to some degree or other, misses.

What you must do is keep on striving for improvement—not perfection. Realize that you're go-to hit some bad shots every round, but try to make them fewer and less costly. Try to improve the way you THINK on the golf course, as well as the way you swing.

Overall improvement in your golf score comes this way—and also more pleasure in your game.

Midgets List Point Champs

It was trophy day at the Wolverine quarter-midget race track at Miracle Mile yesterday and mid-season champions were crowned in each age division.

Larry Joe Wallace of Pontiac took points honors in the 7-8 age group and Jimmy Briney of Pontiac was champion of the 11 year olds.

In other classes: Novice point champs were Tom Ostrander of Walled Lake and Bill Garcia of Pontiac. Alex Kujawski of Hamtramck was 9-year-old victor; Eddie Ross of Detroit the 10 year olds; Terry Allen of Livonia in the 12-13 bracket and Bobby Thomas of Detroit in the 14-15 bracket.

Nearly 5,000 fans watched the midgets race and the only driver casualty was a bee sting treated by Dr. Charles Bowers of Pontiac.

Second half schedule begins Sunday August 2nd at the track.

Brooklyn-New York Rivalry Flourishes Again

Like Old Times for Dodgers

By The Associated Press

It is just like old times for the Dodgers. Duke Snider and Gil Hodges are hitting home runs. Clem Labine is winning in relief. And an important series with the Giants is coming up next.

The old rivalry that flourished in Brooklyn and New York seems to have lost little of its vigor transplanted 3,000 miles west in Los Angeles and San Francisco.

The Giants' National League lead measured 2½ games with the second place Dodgers coming to town Monday for a two-game series.

Pittsbrgh shaved the Giants' lead a half game Sunday when Bill Virdon's eighth-inning home run beat the pace setters 3-2 in the first game of a scheduled doubleheader. The second game went only two innings before it was postponed because of the Sunday curfew.

★ ★ ★

Los Angeles gained ground although it had to settle for a split at Philadelphia. Hodges' three-run homer and Snider's blast helped the Dodgers win the opener 8-4 behind Labine's relief work. Eddie Bouchee's two-run double gave the Phils a 3-2 second game, cut to 5½ innings by rain.

Milwaukee continued its tailspin, losing its sixth straight as St. Louis mounted a 16-hit attack for a 9-5 victory. Curt Flood drove in three runs with a homer and double, Ken Boyer hit his 18th homer, Don Blasingame had four hits and Bill White drove in two runs with two doubles.

★ ★ ★

About 30,000 fans waited for 90 minutes in Wrigley Field before a doubleheader between Cincinnati and the Chicago Cubs had to be postponed because of rain.

It took 5½ hours to play the first game at Pittsburgh with three rain delays interrupting the battle between Vern Law and Stu Miller. Pittsburgh led 1-0 after two innings of the second game which must be replayed.

Hodges' 17th homer clinched the first game for the Dodgers as it came with Jim Gilliam and Snider on base. They started strong in the second game, but the Phils got to Johnny Podres for three big runs while Taylor Phillips pitched effectively in the clutches.

Vinegar Bend Mizell won his 11th at the Braves' expense but had to leave the game after seven innings because of a pulled back muscle. Marshall Bridges held the fort although touched for homers by Eddie Mathews and Joe Adcock in the ninth.

Suspension Awaits U. S. Davis Cupper

CHICAGO (AP) — The possibility arose today that Alex Olmedo, Wimbledon champion and Davis Cup star, might be suspended for his showing at the National Clay Court tennis tournament last week.

Such a suspension from tournament competition could keep Olmedo out of the Challenge Round of the Davis Cup matches at Forest Hills N.Y., next month.

The Cay Court Championships committee huddled over the affair yesterday when the finals of the National Clay Court tournament were postponed because of rain. The finals will be played today, weather permitting.

Brawl Ends Soccer Game

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Two players were injured seriously and dozens of persons suffered bruises in a free for all fight that broke up an amateur soccer football game yesterday.

Fighting first started among players as a result of the referee's decisions. Cheering squads then joined in, and next other fans. About a hundred persons were in on the melee on the field.

When police arrived, the participants had managed to flee, except for the two badly injured players and three others also taken to a hospital.

Jaycee Park Is Jammed for City Baseball Games

Knights, Grill Victors in Feature Attractions of 9-Game Program

Amateur baseball was displayed at Pontiac's Jaycee Park Sunday afternoon before the largest crowd in city history.

The Jaycee grounds at Walton and Joslyn were jammed for the city's annual presentation of "Amateur Baseball Day" under the auspices of the Parks and Recreation Department and the Pontiac Baseball Federation.

Nine exhibition games representing all ages from 11 years old to the adult level were played simultaneously on four Jaycee diamonds with upwards of $400 going to the Federation for the betterment of baseball in Pontiac.

★ ★ ★

Six different classes of city baseball — A, B, D, E, F and Widgets — participated in the all-afternoon program with a couple of All-Star attractions heading the list.

The All-Star games in classes A and B were free-scoring, error-marked contests which probably made up in excitement what they lacked in finesse. The All-Star battles matched the divisional leaders against the stars of the other clubs.

In Class A, the front-running Knights of Columbus tallied nine times in the first two innings and went on to defeat the Stars, 11-8. Griff's Grill, setting the pace in the "B" loop, scored seven runs in the first two stanzas and whipped the Stars, 11-9.

The Knights outhit their rivals, 10 to 7, with Hal Trott and Ernie Zubalik each making three safeties and Del Stewart contributing a pair. Chet Woodmore and Gene Cox, both of the Jets, had two hits apiece for the Stars.

★ ★ ★

Jim Wagner, the first of four K.C. pitchers, received credit for the victory. John York was the starter and loser for the Stars and three other hurlers saw duty.

Bruce Johnson, Marv Evans and Denny Evans each garnered three hits to lead Griff's 15-hit assault while Greg Meadows had two of the Stars' 10 safeties. Bob Garrett, the last of three Grill hurlers, was the winner. Bob Pickett was the last of three Stars to work and he took the loss.

Chuck Kirken and Dave Jones combined for a three-hit shutout and Kirken and Ken Shaw slammed home runs as Lytell & Colegrove trounced Don Nicholie, 6-0, in Class D action.

Neither team won officially in Clsas E. Independence Township had scored nine runs in the 7th inning and was still at bat when the time limit forced league director George Gary to halt play. Pontiac Boy's Club entered the 7th with a 3-1 lead and never got its final turn at the plate.

★ ★ ★

Dan Curtis and Dean Souden blasted homers as Perry Drugs defeated the Moose, 23-1 and Tom Laverdore homered twice, Bill Chapman once and Dan Hayes made four hits in a 20-5 victory for the Northside Kiwanis over the Tigers in Class F battles.

In the Widget end of the program, Larry Cushist and Ricky Lyons both hit grand slam homers as Ultra-Stone walolped the Auburn Heights Boys Club, 18-3; pitcher Glynn Kitchen struck out 12 in Baldwin's 7-3 win over Furtney's, and the Hall Aces downed the Little Senators, 4-1.

Little Becky Sets 2nd World AAU Swim Mark

REDDING, Calif. (AP) — Little Becky Collins, 15-year-old Indianapolis lass, Sunday set her second world record in the National AAU women's outdoor swimming meet —2 minutes 43.7 seconds in the 220-yard butterfly.

The high school girl Saturday night swam to a world record in the 110-yard butterfly in 1:12.2.

Another 15-year-old, Chris Von Saltza of the Santa Clara, Calif., Swim Club, who already has won the 110 and 440-yard freestyle races, bettered the American record for the 220 with a qualifying time of 2:23.7.

The listed mark is 2:30.5 by Marley Shriver of the Los Angeles Athletic Club set in 1955, and five girls bettered it in qualifying.

Results of final events in the AAU national women's outdoor swimming championships:

220-yard Butterfly — 1, Becky Collins, Indianapolis Riviera Club, 2:37.9. 2, Sylvia Ruuska, Berkeley, Calif., YMCA, 2:43.2. 3, Carolyn Schuler, Berkeley YMCA, 2:43.4. (Time establishes new world record, betters time set by International Federation for new event.)

110-yard Backstroke—1, Carin Cone, Houston Shamrocks, 1:13.3. 2, Lynn Burke, Portland Multonomah, 1:14.8. 3, Lyn Hopkins, Philadelphia Vespers, 1:15.8.

220-yard Freestyle — 1, Chris Von Saltza, Santa Clara SC, 2:21.1. 2, Donna Graham, Indianapolis Riviera, 2:23.7. 3, Anne Bancroft, Berkeley YMCA, 2:26.2. (Betters American record of 2:30.5 by Marley Shriver, LAAC, 1955.)

440-yard Medley Relay—1, Santa Clara SC, Von Saltza, Warner, K. Simecek, Ransom 4:59.9. 2, Berkeley YMCA, 5:02.8. 3, Indianapolis Riviera, 5:04.6.

Final Team Standings: 1, Berkeley, Calif., YMCA, 76. 2, Santa Clara, Calif., Swim Club, 75. 3, Los Angeles Athletic Club, 69. 4, Indianapolis Riviera Club, 61.5, tie Seattle, Wash., Los Angeles Kris Kristensen, and Houston Shamrocks, 14. 8, Portland Multnomah, 13. 9, Mesa, Ariz., AC, 9. 10, Philadelphia Vesper Boat Club, 8. 11, Miami Shores, Fla., 7. Lee Swim Club, Everett, Wash., 8, tie Santa Monica, Calif., and Ann Arbor, Mich., 2.

Smith, Adams Golf Champions

Defeat Weyand Duo to Seize Birmingham Invitational Crown

Ben Smith of Detroit Golf Club and Dr. Fritz Adams of Orchard Lake were three-under-par Sunday afternoon as they defeated Birmingham's father-and-son team of Rollie and Rich Weyand, 1 up, to win Birmingham Country Club's 15th annual Invitational Best Ball golf tournament in the championship flight.

Smith, one of the state's finest amateur golfers for the past 20 years, and Adams, defending club champ at Orchard Lake, were partners for the first time a year ago when they won the 1st flight in this same event. Both are Birmingham residents.

One down at the turn in their 18-hole match play final, Smith and Adams won the 11th and 14th holes to go one up, then played even with the Weyands the rest of the way to win their first top flight crown at Birmingham.

Smith won both holes on the back nine, netting a par four on the 11th and a birdie three on the 14th with a four-foot putt. Rollie Weyand narrowly missed a birdie four on the 18th green which would have sent the match into overtime and Rich also missed birdie chances on 15, 16 and 17.

CHAMPIONSHIP FLIGHT
Quarter-Final Results

Jack Geiss, Birmingham, and Duke Yager, Richmond, Va., defeated Mike Andonian, Pontiac, and Jack Andrews, Birmingham, 5-4; Ben Simth, DGC, and Dr. Fritz Adams, Orchard Lake, def. Tommy Sheehan, Oakland Hills, and Frank Liebert, Chicago, 3-2; Rollie Weyand, Birmingham, and Rich Weyand, Birmingham, def. Ed. Dayton, Gowanie, and Tommy Skover, Meadowbrook, 1 up; Mace Brown, Plum Hollow, and Dr. Dick Wibel, Bloomfield Hills, def. Dr. Frank Lovell, Birmingham, 1 up.

Semifinal Results

Smith and Adams def. Geiss and Yager, 1 up; Weyand and Weyand def. Brown and Wibel, 1 up, 19 holes.

Championship Final

Smith and Adams def. Weyand and Weyand, 1 up.

Mickey Wins by Dramatic Finish

ALLIANCE, Ohio (AP)—Blonde and Willowy Mickey Wright, 24-year-old golfing lass from Bonita, Calif., was $2,200 richer today and heading for more dough in the Mount Prospect, Ill., tourney starting Thursday.

The two-time National Open queen picked up the payoff yesterday as she won a dramatic come-from-behind victory in the Alliance International 72-hole test, running her year's earnings to $13,082.61 — second best in the land.

Win Outboard Marathon Class Tests

2 Area Drivers on Top

PETOSKEY (AP) — Raymond A. Lenk of Detroit, competing in Class D, brought his boat home first yesterday in the 87-mile Top 'O Michigan Outboard marathon.

Lenk nosed out defending Class D champion Ted Moberg of Wauwatosa, Wis., by one second, finishing the gruelling run across Northern Michigan lakes and streams in one hour, 33 minutes and 35 seconds. Gale Cummings of Berkley finished third in Class D.

Gene Hawthorne of Royal Oak, won his fifth straight Class B title finishing ahead of Fred Miller of Trenton and Phil Van Syckle of Battle Creek.

Defending champion Robert D. Smith Jr. of Dayton, Ohio, took Class C honors, coming in ahead of runnerup Carl Clark of Lincoln Park and third place John Martinson of Dearborn.

Bruce Alexander, a 17-year-old Toledo, Ohio, high school student finished first in Class A ahead of Archie Visnaw of Cedarville and third place Gerry Hedlund of Wilmette, Illinois.

In Class 36 competition, Bob Moore of Royal Oak edged out Tullio Celano Jr., of Bronx, N.Y., for the title and Gerald Van Conant of Royal Oak finished third.

Some 142 boats entered this year's race in competition for $1,000 in trophies and $3,000 in cash.

12 Area Boys in State Event

JC Tourney Opens Tuesday

A dozen Oakland County teenagers representing three Junior Chamber of Commerce chapters will have their sights set on state honors this week when they enter the Michigan Jaycee golf tournament at Lenawee Country Club in Adrian.

They'll have plenty of opposition in the 36-hold tourney. Teenage golfers from Jaycee chapters throughout the state are entered in the event, which is scheduled tomorrow and Wednesday over the Lenawee course.

Both individual and team championships are at stake for the 12 area youths, three of them representing the Pontiac chapter, five Waterford and four Birmingham.

Pontiac players entered include Joe Anderson, Larry Beaupre and Bob Finley. Carrying Waterford's colors are Mike Wiegand, Jon Shaw, Don Stipcak, Don Cole and Jim Armistedt while Birmingham's standard-bearers will be Chuck Coffin, Fred Ewald, Gary Mouw and Chuck West.

★ ★ ★

All of these boys qualified for the Michigan event in local 18-hole tests. Their expenses to these Junior golf outings will be paid by the Jaycees.

Besides the state honors up for grabs is the challenge of gaining one of the four berths available for the 14th annual International Jaycee tournament, slated Aug. 22-29 at Portsmouth, Va.

The boys will take practice rounds today on the Lenawee layout, then get down to serious competitive shooting for the next two days. Eighteen holes of medal play will be held each day.

★ ★ ★

Trophies are awarded to individual and chapter winners with the team title based on a four-man total score. The same system is followed in the International tourney.

Pete Green was the Michigan Jaycee champ last year and he and his Birmingham teammates also won the team crown.

Publinx Champ Has a Problem; Army, or Golf?

DENVER (AP)—National Public Links golf king Bill Wright can't make up his mind whether to report for Army reserve training or continue playing the pitch-and-putt game.

★ ★ ★

Wright, 23-year-old Western Washington College senior from Seattle, won the Public Links crown here Saturday. He's the first Negro to win the event since the tournament began in 1922.

★ ★ ★

Wright scored his public links triumph by turning back Frank Campbell of Jacksonville, Fla., 3 and 2 in the 36-hole finals over the 6,617-yard, par 71 Wellshire municipal course here.

Hirsch Fires No-Hit Win for RO Legion 9

A shining no-hit mound performance by Royal Oak's Jim Hirsch, against Troy, and a 11-inning victory over Berkley, for Birmingham, marked Sunday's action in area Junior American Legion baseball games.

Hirsch fanned nine, walked two and faced only 28 batsmen in his team's 4-0 win. He had errorless support, with shortstop Greg Preston throwing out 8 in fine defensive play. Royal Oak got its runs in the 4th (2) and 5th, with Dick Widgren's two doubles and a single figuring in the results. Loser was Davidson who gave up 13 blows.

Birmingham defeated Berkley 6-5 after the count was knotted at 5-5 in the bottom of the 9th, and won in the 11th on George Didier's 3rd single of the game that scored Bob Arnold. Didier also singled in Jay Madonna and Tom Bardsley to get the 9th inning tie. Jerry Van Giesen went all the way for the winners, with Bob Zryomski relieving Wichman in the 9th for losers.

Southfield kept its top spot with a 7-3 win over Milford at Milford. Southfield now has a 11-1 mark. Bob Filar hurled a 5-hitter for his win. Losers were Hoggard and Miller (relieved in 9th).

Seattle Driver Injured

Maverick Wins Cup Again

COEUR D'ALENE, Idaho (AP) — Mighty Maverick muscled to her second Diamond Cup in a race for unlimited hydroplanes yesterday that put two drivers in the hospital and one boat 110 feet to the bottom of Lake Coeur D'Alene.

Little Jack Regas of Seattle, was reported in "serious and unconscious condition" early this morning in a hospital at this resort community.

★ ★ ★

Regas, veteran driver of Miss Bardahl and 1957 national point champion, apparently didn't even know what happened. Neither did the estimated 60,000 spectators at the time.

The accident happened at the south turn of a 15-mile heat, the same spot where Miss Burien flipped at 130 m.p.h. a few moments before and sank.

The shore patrol said Regas was struck a "wicked blow" by his steering wheel and dashboard which were jarred loose by water pressure of more than 100 m.p.h.

★ ★ ★

Doctors said Regas was hit so hard "his helmet was dented way in." Regas suffered a skull fracture, chest injuries, three broken ribs, a leg sprain and a broken finger.

It was a repeat for Bill Stead who drove Maverick to victory in the inaugural race here last year. This time the winner was decided on elapsed time, Maverick edging Miss Thriftway of Seattle by 1.8 seconds.

★ ★ ★

Maverick's average speed for 45 miles in the two-day race was 105.058, Thriftway's 104.922. Both wound up with 1,100 points.

Rosburg Ahead in Utah Open

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—Bob Rosburg of Palo Alto, Calif., was 10 strokes under par as he went into the final round today of the $7,500 Utah Open golf tournament with a 206.

★ ★ ★

Rosburg, runnerup in the National Open this year, was one stroke ahead of Ed (Porky) Oliver of Denver.

National Open champion Billy Casper of Chua Vista, Calif., was five strokes behind Rosburg.

★ ★ ★

Casper had 211 after a 60 yesterday.

Planet Mercury Is Superlative

It's Hottest, Coldest, Speediest, Smallest and Closest to Sun

WASHINGTON — Mercury, the sun-scorched midget planet, abounds in solar superlatives.

★ ★ ★

The curious sphere is the hottest, coldest, speediest, smallest, and closest to the sun of major plants. It has the shortest year and the longest day in the solar system.

The plant revolves once on its axis every 88 earth days and completes a revolution around the sun in the same period, which means that it always turns the same face towards the sun.

This motion keeps one side of Mercury baked in perpetual heat that reaches temperatures as high as 750 degrees—enough to melt tin and lead. The other side is frozen in cold that approaches absolute zero, 459.7 degrees Fahrenheit below zero, the National Geographic Society says.

Mercury has an eccentric orbit and periodically its rotation and position in orbit get "out of step," creating a belt where tremendously high and low temperatures alternate as the sun sways above and below the horizon.

★ ★ ★

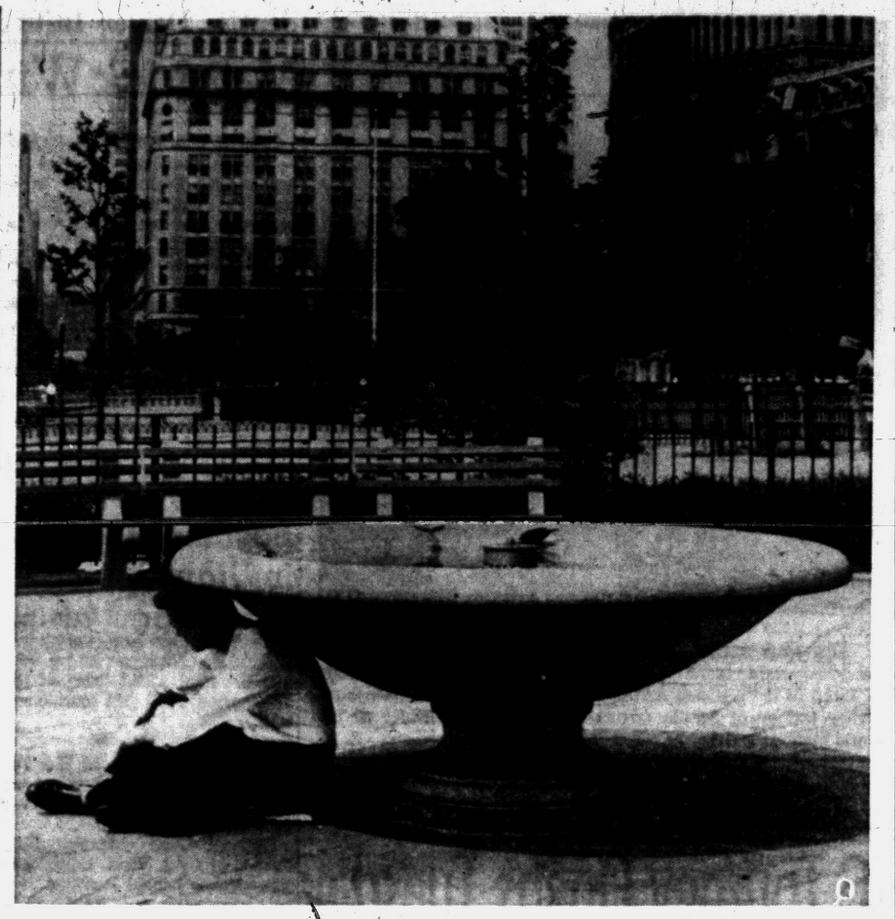

A century ago, it was thought that another plant lay between Mercury and the sun because Mercury was coming closer to the sun than calculated. The plant was given a name, Vulcan, but never was seen. Years later, Albert Einstein's theory of relativity, holding that a body gains mass as it gains speed, cleared up the discrepancy of motion to the satisfaction of astronomers. Vulcan was removed from the list of plants.

Mercury, named for the wing-footed messenger of the gods, speeds through the solar system at 36 miles a second when closest to the sun and 24 miles a second when farthest from it.

Mercury's average distance from the sun is 36 million miles, compared to the earth's 93 million miles. Mercury swings as close to the sun as 28.5 million miles and as far away as 43.4 million miles. Only comets and one asteroid, Icarus, pass as near.

★ ★ ★

The plant is about 3,000 miles in diameter, slightly larger than the moon. Because Mercury has no satellite, its mass must be computed from the slight distance it pulls its nearest neighbor, Venus, from her path. Estimates of Mercury's mass range from one-twentieth to one-twenty-seventh that of earth. A man on Mercury would weigh about one-third of his earth weight.

'I Might Run' — Rockefeller

Certain Circumstances Would Have to Appear Before He'd Enter Race

NEW YORK (AP)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller says he might seek the Republican presidential nomination next year under certain circumstances that have not yet developed.

Rockefeller made the statement Sunday night in answer to questions on "Meet the Press," a nationwide television program.

A panelist asked if a statement he made before entering the New York gubernatorial race last fall would apply to the presidential nomination.

Last fall's statement was: "If there is an opportunity for me to render really useful service by running, then my decision will be to do it."

Rockefeller's answer was "Well, should the circumstances develop—as they have not to date developed in my opinion — then maybe what you say in giving my quote might apply."

Rockefeller was asked if he planned to withdraw his name from the New Hampshire presidential preferential primary next month.

"It hasn't been put in," he parried.

Reminded that members of Congress plan to enter his name in the New Hampshire primary, and that he alone could remove it, Rockefeller said: "Well, frankly, what I'd do would be to appraise the situation, should such a situation develop, at the time it develops and act accordingly."

Deadpan Chanteuse Shakes Up Show Biz

By FRED DANZIG

NEW YORK (UPI)—Girl Singers are supposed to be smilers.

The sweet gladness of countenance is as basic to their work as the glittering evening gown.

Or so it was until Keely Smith came along.

Keely does it without a smile. This exotic-looking Indian-Irish singer from Norfolk, Va., has deadpanned her way to show business gold while working with a frantic group of musicians led by her husband, leaping Louis Prima of New Orleans.

Not only does Keely refrain from smiling, she even scratches herself or wipes her nose, while singing. But the voice, pure and true in the best pop singer tradition, is acclaimed by the critics, the trade and the public.

Largely because of Keely's wooden-indian style, the act has left a trail of shattered box office records from Hollywood to New York. Its first New York night club appearance in May, the Louis Prima-Keely Smith act packed 'em in at the Copacabana for no fewer than three shows a night for two weeks, a new record for the celebrated cellar club.

During that same Manhattan visit in May, Keely, Louis & Co. appeared on "The Ed Sullivan Show" for a total of 34 minutes on two successive Sundays and it was reliably reported that Keely even out-frowned "Smiley" Sullivan.

How does Keely account for all this: With a characteristic shrug and a frown, that's how. It's her gravel-voiced hubby who tried to explain:

"All I know," said Louis, "is that that's her. My mother says to me, 'Louis, she can sing but she needs a pin stuck in her.' I tell her, Ma, leave her alone. That's how she enjoys herself. Oh, once in a while, she breaks out on the stage and does a dance.

"It's a great act," Prima went on, "but it's not an act. You dig? With Keely, it's not an act. It's her."

What about the scratching bit?

"On TV, the director says to me, 'Look, let me know when she's going to scratch.' I tell him, look, when it itches, she scratches.

"A woman wanted to give Keely some lotion for dry skin. I tell her to go away, don't fool around."

Louis thinks the informality of the act is one big reason for its success. "We have more fun than the people. Nobody knows what we're going to do because we don't know ourselves. If a song isn't going right, we stop in the middle.

I call out a song for Keely and introduce her and on the way to the mike she says, 'Isn't there something else?' So we cut what we're playing and do something we know she likes, like 'Stormy Weather.' Meanwhile, people are wondering what happened to the song I announced. But we don't care. We have a ball, my Keely and me."

Through it all, Keely didn't open her mouth. Not even to smile.

Scan Lake Michigan for Missing Pilot

LUDINGTON (AP)—Coast Guard vessels and aircraft probed the Lake Michigan coastline south to Gary, Ind. today in their search for an East Chicago pilot missing since early Saturday.

No trace has been found of John N. Visak who left Gary at dawn Saturday to meet friends at a Ludington airport, 200 miles away.

State Police said a farmer living near Ludington reported seeing a plane resembling the description of Visak's Cessna 140 single engine plane Saturday but officers said they were unable to verify the report.

Police said a check of airports along Visak's route and in the vicinity failed to turn up any traces of the craft.

Author Learns How to Print Own Books

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (UPI) — Hallie H. Holt didn't get discouraged when publishers rejected his manuscripts. He learned the printing trade and published his books himself.

Holt said that printing has now become as much a part of his life as writing and that his books are finally being bought and read.

The elderly printer-writer published his first book in 1955. It was entitled "Young Pioneers," a story about hunting and camping aimed at Boy Scouts. Holt printed 300 copies and sold 250 of them at $2.50 apiece.

Two years later, he published a 16-page booklet about Abraham Lincoln which still is being sold by souvenir shops near the Lincoln home here.

He turned out his latest book, "The Mysteries of Existence," several months ago. In 113 pages, he explains his ideas on life, death and life after death.

'Banks of Old Raritan'

NEW BRUNSWICK, N.J. (AP) — The ancient bell tower of the city of Bruges in Belgium rang out with a very different tune one morning.

Different, that is, to the residents of that city, but familiar to Rutgers men everywhere.

Dr. William H. Bauer, a member of the Rutgers University faculty who had been visiting Brussels, got permission to try out the carillon in the bell tower.

And what would a good Rutger's man play anywhere but, "On the Banks of the Old Raritan."

More than three out of every four tons of crude oil in the United States travel by pipeline, according to the American Petroleum Institute. One ton in 17 goes by water in tanks or barges; one in 17 by truck, and a little less than one in a 100 by rail.

Warrant Awaits 'Mad Dog' Killer

Charge Missouri Youth With Slaying of Former County Judge, Girl

QUAKER, Mo. (AP) — A coroner's inquest and a murder warrant today await a 19-year-old youth accused of the "mad dog" slaying of a former county judge and a teen-age girl.

Robert Carr, Washington County prosecuting attorney, said a first-degree murder warrant will be filed today against John Crump, described by Sheriff Thomas B. Allen as a "hard boiled punk."

★ ★ ★

Carr said Crump's 14-year-old accomplice, John Edward Davis, would be charged with delinquency.

Authorities said Crump told them the slaying spree Saturday night started as a plan to take the car of the slain man "to go out and have a big time."

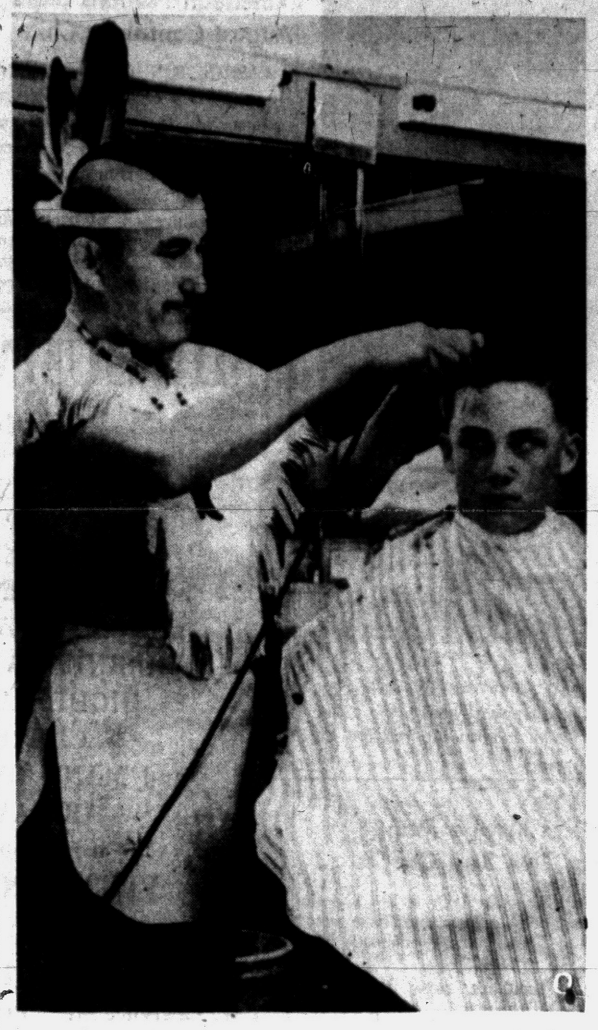

★ ★ ★

Leonard (Lynn) Barr, 57, a former Washington County judge, was shot in his general store while preparing a sandwich for the two youths.

Sheriff Allen said the boys ran to Barr's home next door and shot his wife, Vallie, 52, when she refused to hand over the car keys. Crump clubbed the Barr's daughter Ella Jo, 16, and her friend, Bobbie Lou Shipp, 17, of Belgrade, Mo., with his 12-gauge shotgun, the sheriff said. Bobbie Lou was killed. Mrs. Barr and her daughter are in critical condition at Bonne Terre (Mo.) Hospital. The shotgun was broken by the blows.

★ ★ ★

Sgt. Ernest Dennis of the Missouri highway patrol called the killings "an act of mad dog violence."

Gangsters Gun Beer Distributor

Near Death in Chicago; Indicted 2 Months Ago by Federal Grand Jury

CHICAGO (AP)—A beer distributor indicted two months ago by a federal grand jury lay near death today after being gunned down in what police described as a bobbled attempt at a gangland-style assassination.

★ ★ ★

Victim of the attack Sunday by two gunmen, their faces blackened in disguise, was Joseph Bronge, 50, of suburban Melrose Park. He is the only person indicted to date by a special grand jury which has been seeking possible links between organized crime and beer distribution.

Police Chief Marvin Giles of Melrose Park called the shooting a "professional job, badly bungled."

Giles said witnesses reported the assailants wounded Bronge in the head in front of his suburban office. Bleeding heavily, he fled to the rear of an apartment building where a gate blocked his path.

Bronge fumbled with the latch, witnesses said, fell face down in the grass, and the gunmen pumped a second volley of .45 caliber slugs into his head. The pair fled to a waiting auto driven by a third man.

★ ★ ★

Bronge was in critical condition with at least five bullet wounds in the head. Police guarded his room in Westlake Hospital.

Four Sets of Twins Just Routine to Her

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Mrs. Gerald E. Hendrickson didn't have time to read a news story about a woman who had given birth to four consecutive sets of twins. She was too busy caring for her own four consecutive sets.

Mrs. Hendrickson was unimpressed when told that the odds of such a thing happening were about 100,000,000 to one. "I thought it was routine," she said.

The Hendricksons have 12 children. He is a chief petty officer in the Navy.

Sheriff's Cars Rigged as Real Speed Trap

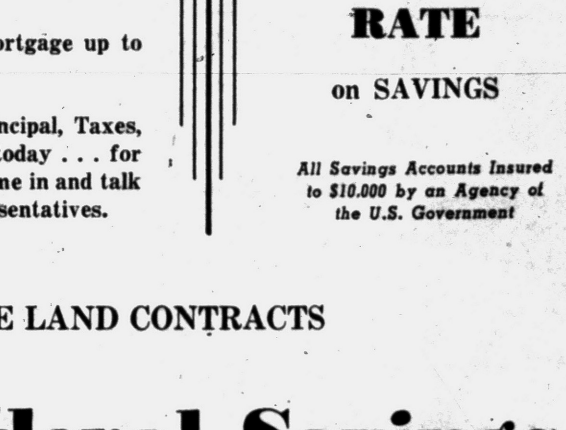

WAUKESHA, Wis. (AP)— The Waukesha County district attorney's office will review all cases since the first of the year in which speeds of motorists were clocked by squad cars.

The sheriff's department discovered it has been using a squad car in which the speedometer was 12 miles an hour off.

Construction OK Needed

N-Carrier May Be Pioneer

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The 380 million dollar nuclear-powered aircraft carrier under consideration in Congress would start a new class of super flat top if construction is authorized.

★ ★ ★

About 9,000 tons lighter than the first nuclear carrier, the new vessel would be closer in size to the Forrestal class of conventional flat top. But its nuclear engines would make it a radically different ship.

The Enterprise, atom-driven carrier scheduled to be completed at Norfolk, Va., in 1961 and to displace 85,000 tons when loaded, would remain in a class by itself as the largest fighting ship ever built.

The Navy said the smaller A-carrier would be substantially the equal of the Enterprise in endurance and fighting power.

TECHONOLOGY IMPROVES

A spokesman said improved technology, making it possible to build smaller nuclear engines, was the principal factor in reducing the size.

He added that the reduction saves 55 million dollars, since the Enterprise now is expected to cost 435 million dollars and would be equally expensive to duplicate.

The Senate has approved the 380 million dollar carrier 90 to 0, but the House refused the funds. Sen. Dennis Chavez (D-NM) chairman of the Senate conferees, hopes the House will change its mind.

★ ★ ★

The Navy said that the cost experience with the Enterprise is not likely to be repeated. In 1956, the Enterprise was estimated to cost 314 million dollars. Its price tag has gone up 121 million dollars since the ship was authorized.

★ ★ ★

More "sophisticated" electronics and inflation were blamed by the Navy spokesman for the huge increase in cost.

The spokesman said the smaller A-carrier would have a flight deck slightly longer than that of the Forrestal, which measures 1,040 feet. The Enterprise's flight deck will be 1088 feet long.

VAST RANGE

Like other nuclear ships, the spokesman said, the smaller carrier would have a range limited only by the amount of stores it could haul and the endurance of the men.

American Nations Slate August Confab in Chile

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The foreign ministers of the 21 American nations will meet in Santiago, Chile, next month on the troubled situation in the Caribbean.

★ ★ ★

The Organization of American States (OAS) unanimously approved the site after Mexico withdrew its objections of Santiago. The Mexicans wanted the meeting to be held in Washington.

★ ★ ★

The OAS will fix an exact date July 24 after the 21 governments decide if Aug. 12, the tentative date, is acceptable for the conference.

★ ★ ★

The foreign ministers meeting grew out of charges by the Dominican Republic that Cuba and Venezuela committed aggressions against it.

Polio Case Rise Will Cost Nearly $20 Million in '59

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The current sharp rise in polio cases will increase expenditures for patient care by the National Foundation to nearly 20 million dollars this year, a foundation official estimates.

Melvin A. Glasser, the organization's executive vice president, said the epidemic at Des Moines, Iowa, is costing about $9,000 a week.

He predicted that the incidence of polio this year will be the highest since 1955.

Glasser's report followed a conference with Dr. Arthur S. Flemming, secretary of health, education and welfare, and Deputy Surgeon General John B. Porterfield. All three urged the public to take full advantage of the Salk polio vaccine.

Flemming reported earlier this week that there have been more than twice as many new cases of paralytic polio this year than during the same period last year. Most of the victims had not been vaccinated, he said.

★ ★ ★

"Polio epidemics can eventually be prevented throughout the nation by full use of the Salk vaccine," Glasser said. "But as long as more than half of all Americans have had no vaccine at all, and millions more have not completed the full series of three shots, paralytic polio remains a real threat."

Hardest hit in the polio outbreaks have been those in the lower income groups, who can least afford an illness, according to health service and foundation surveys. Glasser urged that the vaccination program by stepped up in poorer neighborhoods.

Surgeon General Leroy Burney has requested vaccine manufacturers to give shipment priorities to areas where the supply is low or where there is a concentration of cases.

In addition to the Des Moines epidemic, there have been polio flareups in Pike County and Kansas City, Mo., Little Rock, Oklahoma City, and Lincoln, Neb. A number of smaller communities all over the country also have been hit.

Glasser said the foundation believes that with the peak of the number of new cases will be the polio season still to come, the highest since the Salk vaccine was made available.

The foundation is successor to the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. After the Salk vaccine was developed, it expanded its work to include other fields of disease.

'I Am an American' Founder Dies at 80

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—The founder of "I Am an American Day" is dead.

★ ★ ★

The Rev. Dr. A. Watson Brown, 80, collapsed and died Sunday shortly after he finished teaching a Sunday school class in nearby National City.

Dr. Brown was the retired pastor of the First Baptist Church in National City and had served other churches in Marshall, Mich., Covina and Sacramento, Calif.

★ ★ ★

He conceived the idea of "I Am an American Day" in 1937, proposing to the Sons of the American Revolution that a day be set aside to honor those who became citizens through naturalization. President Roosevelt officially proclaimed the observance soon after.

Ask a Silly Question . . .

BOSTON (UPI)—Ted Williams of the Red Sox kept trying in vain to attract a waiter's attention at a Boston restaurant. Finally he just sat there with his arm in the air.

Eventually a waiter came over and asked: "Did you want a waiter, sir?"

"No," growled Williams, "I'm signaling for a fair catch."

Vandals Blight Art Museum

Columbus, Ga., Institute Paintings Burned and Walls Smeared

COLUMBUS, Ga. (AP)—A private Columbus museum is offering $1,000 reward for the vandals who made a bonfire of three art collections and scrawled Nazi swastikas on the walls.

★ ★ ★

Authorities said about $20,000 worth of art went up in flames and that damage to the building itself might run as high as $30,000 in the fire at the Columbus Museum of Arts and Crafts.

Swastikas have also been splattered on outer walls of two Jewish houses of worship in this west central Georgia city since last Wednesday.

★ ★ ★

The reward for information leading to the capture of the vandals was announced Sunday night by Edward S. Shorter, director of the museum, following a meeting of the board of directors.

Shorter ordered the museum closed indefinitely for repairs.

The museum, a two-story stucco building, is operated as a nonprofit organization financed through donations.

★ ★ ★

Authorities said at least 165 pieces of art were destroyed in the fire, apparently set shortly before midnight Saturday.

Federal Lunch Program to Buy Cherries This Year

TRAVERSE CITY (UPI) — The U.S. Department of Agriculture plans to purchae cherries for the federal school lunch program this year, Rep. Robert P. Griffin (R-Mich.) reports.

Griffin, in a telegram from Washington to Northwestern Michigan cherry growers, said the volume of cherries to be purchased for school lunches will depend on the amount of cherries offered and the price.

Michigan supplied about 75 per cent of the cherries purchased by the department for school lunches in 1957. Cherries were not used in the lunch program last year.

Picks Wrong Man to Give Bad Checks

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — The defendant in a mail theft case asked that his bond be reduced from $2,000 to $500.

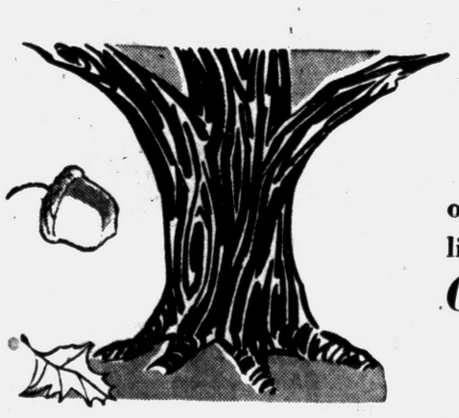

He couldn't raise the larger amount because he owed his bondsman $400 on some bad checks.

U.S. District Judge Dave W. Ling took the request under advisement.

Train Operators Hoping to Reform Passengers

TOKYO (UPI) — The Japan National Railways Corp., which runs one of the most efficient train systems in the world, launched an "etiquette training" program today to make its passengers the neatest and best-mannered as well.

A spokesman for the corporation said special officers will be assigned to 24 trains to tell passengers how to behave. They will tell passengers not to:

—Walk around railway cars in their underwear;

—Enter the dining car in nightgowns;

—Throw refuse all over the floors;

—Play their radios too loud.

Von Humboldt Great Scientist

Died 100 Years Ago; Pioneered in Many Diverse Fields

WASHINGTON—After 100 years, Alexander von Humboldt, a one-man academy of sciences, more than ever commands the awe of the scholarly world.

He was an anthropologist, astronomer, botanist, geographer, geologist, geophysicist, meteorologist, oceanographer, physiologist and zoologist—all rolled into one.

In each field he made distinguished contributions. For botany, he collected some 60,000 specimens and described 3,500 new species. For geography, he fathered the modern science and started climatology as a study in itself, says the National Geographic Society.

Thomas Jefferson proudly received von Humboldt at Monticello. Charles Darwin called him the "greatest scientific traveler that ever lived." Ralph Waldo Emerson declared he was "one of those wonders of the world, like Aristotle, like Julius Caesar, like the Admirable Crichton, who appear from time to time, as if to show us the possibilities of the human mind, the force and range of the faculties—a universal man."

★ ★ ★

This year the world is marking the 100th anniversary of his death, which occured on May 6, 1859. But in a sense the recent International Geophysical Year is his monument, for he led the way toward world-wide cooperation among scientists.

Born in Berlin in 1769, von Humboldt was the son of a chamberlain to Fredrick the Great. He became a mine director in his early twenties but it wasn't enough to keep him busy. He studied electricity and published the results of his experiments in two books.

In 1799 King Charles IV of Spain gave him permission to travel without restriction in Spanish America. Within a year, von Humboldt had explored Venezuela extensively and found the connection between the Orinoco and Amazon rivers. He went to Cuba and wrote a book on Cuba's political history. The part dealing with slavery was suppressed when the book was published in the United States, where somewhat similar conditions existed, but von Humboldt's report probably hastened slavery's abolition.

He studied mining in Mexico, the guano deposits in Peru, and geology in Ecuador. Before leaving the Americas he had long conversations with his friend Jefferson, "the most virtuous of men." Von Humboldt returned to Europe with great chest of plant and rock specimens, notes and diagrams. He set up headquarters in Napoleon's Paris.

There he wrote voluminously, and his fame spread. Tsar Nicholas of Russia sponsored his expedition to the Ural and Altai mountains, where he studied gold platinum mining. He traveled as far as the Chinese frontier.

THE SQUARES DON'T KNOW HIM—This is Fabulous Fabian, the hottest thing to hit the teen-age market since Presley. The 16-year-old Philadelphia boy was "discovered" by a vocal scout because of his looks. Then he was taught to sing in the current teen-age style.

Hollywood Headlines:

Fabulous Fabian Is Hot but His Voice Is Cold, Man

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Fabulous Fabian is here!

Who he? Man, are you square or something? Don't you know he's the tiger, the hottest thing to hit the teen-age singing market since the wiggly one? No, I didn't realize it either, until I heard about him from my not-quite-teen-age daughter.

THOMAS

So when Fabian came to town to play in his first movie, "Hound Dog Man," I hurried out to observe.

★ ★ ★

I found him to be a squarely built 16-year-old with a large mop of hair and a handsome face along the Latin lines of a Valentino. If he is indeed a Tiger, he didn't show it, for he was mild and well-mannered.

Fabian is a product of the same Philadelphia factory that produced Frankie Avalon. (What has happened to staid old Philly?)

"We were looking for another teen-age star like Elvis Presley or Ricky Nelson," says Avalon's manager, Bob Marcucci. "One day I saw a police ambulance in front of the house of a couple I know. She was expecting a baby, and I was afraid there was some trouble, so I stopped.

★ ★ ★

"The ambulance was for the family next door, where the father had had a heart attack. The son was on the porch and I saw in him just the boy I was looking for. That was Fabian."

There was one small problem: The kid couldn't sing. But that has failed to blight careers in today's pop music field. Fabian was deprived of his last name (Forte) and given a few months of intensive training in current vocal style.

"My idol is Elvis," he says. "I've been a fan of his since his first record came out. I like his singing."

Television and a high-powered promotion campaign put the boy across. The girls took it from there. His appearances with Dick Clark, Perry Como and Ed Sullivan stimulated youthful interest in him while bringing some barbs from the adult critics.

★ ★ ★

That doesn't bother Fabian, either. He's having a ball. But what about the future? After all, he's riding the crest at 16. Where does he go from here?

"I'd like to do more pictures," he said. "I'd like to develop as an actor."

★ ★ ★

Twentieth Century-Fox feels the same way and is lavishing care on his acting debut (he never even appeared in school plays). And if he becomes the Presley successor at the box office—well, they can dream, can't they?

Choosy Rain Waters 20 Feet of His Backyard

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Did it rain or did it not in Charles Coval's backyard?

If it did, the missile engineer can lay claim to witnessing one of the tiniest rainstorms on record Sunday. At 6 a.m., and continuing through most of the day, rain—or reasonable facsimilie—came down in a 20-foot square area on Coval's property.

★ ★ ★

"I know it sounds screwy," said Coval, "but I can't find the source anyplace else. It's got to be rain."

The San Diego Union sent a reporter out. He came back convinced it was rain although there wasn't a cloud in the sky.

Impossible, said the Weather Bureau.

TV News and Reviews

Sullivan's Spoleto Festival Adventurous, Rewarding

By FRED DANZIG

NEW YORK (UPI)—Last night on CBS-TV, Ed Sullivan offered his own miniature Spoleto Festival (not to be confused with the Spoleto Festival produced by composer Gian Carlo Menotti, despite the preshow publicity.)

Sullivan recruited Eileen Farrell, John Gielgud, ballet dancers, opera singers, a chorus and symphony orchestra and taped their performances in and around the picturesque Italian town.

While the talent didn't venture far afield artistically — except for the magnificent Miss Farrell, who displayed a fine jazz voice — the hour still had an adventurous and rewarding impact.

This idea of videotaping a one-hour show in a town like Spoleto, Italy, remains an exciting one and deserves to be done more often, with or without a "festival" for an excuse.

So: bon voyage, Ed.

As a TV show, the 90-minute telecast of the track meet between the United States and Russia from Franklin Field, Philadelphia, pulled up lame.

Even with the aid of videotape, the NBC-TV special could show only 13 of the 41 events, five of them "live." (There were 12 commercials).

While the American trackmen shellacked the Soviet team, as expected, viewers saw nothing of the highly-touted Russian women athletes or Vasily Kuznetsov, the Russian decathlon champ. That's like televising the Bolshoi Ballet without Ulanova.

Other omissions: Perhaps the meet's most dramatic race, the controversial 10,000-meter event, in which runners keeled over in the heat; Parry O'Brien's record shot-put toss; the field events, which had the crowd roaring while the cameras weren't looking.

SHORT SHOTS: "Cowboy 5-7," on CBS-TV Friday night, was a most effective story about the men — and families — in our Strategic Air Command.

The script by Beirne Lay Jr., was a modest, matter-of-fact jet age soap opera that Jimmy Stewart narrated with loving affection.

THE CHANNEL SWIM: American Bandstand celebrates its second anniversary on ABC-TV Wednesday, Aug. 5, with on-the-air telephone chats between Dick Clark and Elvis Presley, Ricky Nelson, Edd Byrnes, Fabian, etc. . . . Back to School, a survey school problems in America, is the title of an NBC-TV news special set for Tuesday night, Aug. 25 . . . Phil Silvers has signed for four one-hour CBS-TV specials next season. Nat Hiken, creator of the Sgt. Bilko series, is writing the first special, set for Saturday, Oct. 17.

North Slipping on Racial Front

Speaker Tells NAACP Congress Must Pass Civil Rights Law

NEW YORK (UPI) — The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People was told last night that the south is making progress toward racial equality, but the North is slipping back.

★ ★ ★

Rep. Adam Clayton Powell (D-N.Y.) told the final meeting of the NAACP's 50th annual convention "The time has come . . . to pay more attention to the increasing discrimination and segregation in the North."

Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the NAACP, warned earlier that Negro citizens might some day make a concerted effort to put Republicans in control of Congress if southern Democratic committee chairmen continue "to choke us to death."

An estimated 18,000 to 20,000 persons gathered in the polo grounds for the windup session, which was repeatedly interrupted by thundershowers.

Powell branded northern "Liberalism" a "sham and a hypocrisy" and charged that "self-righteous, self-appointed liberals in the U.S. Congress appear to say 'You have our sympathies but the time is not right.'"

★ ★ ★

He urged the NAACP to turn its attention to ". . . Puerto Rican elements concentrated in New York, Chicago and Detroit, about one third of whom are colored."

Wilkins asserted that Congress would have to pass a strong civil rights law if either party expected Negro support in 1960.

Seen the Midsummer Shoe Sale, Comrade?

VIENNA, Austria, (UPI) — Czechoslovakia's Communist regime inaugurated an old-fashioned capitalistic device today—the midsummer clearance sale.

Radio Prague said all government-owned shoe stores in Prague would offer their older stock at reduced prices starting today. The special sales lasts two weeks.

It was the first such event in the history of the Communist regime in Czechoslovakia but the second time the state has resorted to capitalistic ideas. Last year it inaugurated instalment plan buying.

More than 400 active volcanoes have been located in the world and many more that are inactive.

Seth Boyden of Newark, N.J. was termed "one of America's greatest inventors" by Thomas A. Edison. He discovered patent leather, made the first American camera, found the secret of malleable castiron, and developed a strawberry so large it took only 15 to make a quart.

Time to Pull Morons Out of Autos

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK — "Double Scotch," ordered the man.

Nobody at the bar had seen him before. He was shaky.

★ ★ ★

They all stared, feeling better inside because obviously this guy had a fatter hangover than their own. Then he destroyed the complacency.

"I got brushed just now," he said, "by a moron."

TORN SPORT COAT

And he turned to show a tweed sport coat torn jagged from left hip to right shoulder by a driver—the moron—who'd sped through a red light and caught a swatch of good cloth on one of the car's shiny gadgets.

This happened years ago and the incident was forgotten until I recently went through the thought-provoking experience of taking a couple of driving lessons to renew a long-lapsed license.

My driving teacher bade farewell with some immortal words on mortality—"Good luck, and keep your eye on the morons!"

It's an easy word to pronounce, "moron," and the most common terminology for the millions of motorists who daily pull stupid, potentially disastrous, goofs on the road.

But it's a weak noun, signifying nothing but an unimaginative vocabulary . . .

Our "morons" on the road are not mental idiots. They are the irresponsible products of a materialistic era in which a high-powered car is as accessible to everyone as a new hat, and is treated with less deference.

They are the products of an age when prosperity is so prevalent that a 16-year-old kid expects periodic use of the family auto, if not his very own; and this kid, who likely as not has never embraced a girl, is believed capable of embracing the responsibility for his life and the lives of those who cross his headlights.

BURIED IN INSURANCE

Everybody rocks. Everybody rolls. Every sensible family is up to its crewcut in insurance because, subconsciously at least, they know this latest 6-cylinder gadget of Junior's is more than a toy.

But kids are not the supreme offenders. There are the "voting age" morons too. The ones who have long since graduated from adolescence into maturity.

But even they are afflicted with irresponsibility, often, at the wheel of an opulent auto which allows them the perfect opportunity to express themselves in the prevailing philosophy of the times: The "what's in it for me?" attitude, or to each his own right-of-way.

The only thing that makes a good driver is respect for his machine. And an automobile today is so accessible to all, it does not receive the necessary care and caution it deserves.

★ ★ ★

If any of use realized how many "morons" are actually alcoholics, cardiac cases, cripples, criminals, psychopaths and partly blind drivers—I think probably we'd all write our congressmen, lock our garages, and go back to bed.

5 Major Issues Tie Up Congress

Expect to Work Long Past July 31 Deadline on Key Measures

WASHINGTON (AP)—Five legislative toughies—civil rights, labor regulation, housing, highways and interest rates—hold the key to the adjournment date for the 1959 Congress.

There appears to be more uncertainty this summer about the windup date than for many years.

Early this year some leaders predicted a relatively short session with a July windup.

But if one thing is certain now, it is that the July 31 adjournment date proposed in the 1946 Congressional Reorganization Act will pass with Congress still hard at work.

Many members now are resigned to staying here into September although some still are hopeful of quitting around Aug. 22, two weeks before Labor Day.

Most of them agree that the bitterly disputed civil rights legislation is the major hurdle. If a compromise bill on that subject could somehow get through quickly, the other barriers probably would be much less formidable.

The Senate Judiciary Committee, headed by Sen. James O. Eastland (D-Miss), an all-out foe of any such legislation, meets Monday to consider a relatively simple bill approved last Wednesday by a subcommittee.

Other committee action is scheduled during the week on three of the other major pieces of remaining legislation.

California's population at mid-1956 was estimated at 13,433,000, a figure second only to the population of New York state.

Stock Prices Recede Slightly

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock market prices receded in moderate trading early today.

Steels and motors paced the retreat which lopped a few cents key shares. A handful of gainers to arround a dollar off fought the downtrend.

The downswing sustained last week's market decline, touched off by the national steel strike and fears the shutdown would be lengthy.

Among the steels, both U.S. Steel and Bethlehem sagged about a dollar. Republic Steel, Youngstown Sheet and Tube and Jones & Laughlin fell fractions.

Motors followed with Ford and American Motors down close to a dollar. American Motors, which slumped sharply at the opening on several large trading blocks, rebounded a bit later.

* * *

Rails, which worked steadily lower last week, generally continued to decline. Southern Railway, Southern Pacific and Illinois Central all took modest losses. But New York Central crept a notch higher.

Hold Man in Auto Death of Cecil Betron and Wife

DETROIT (AP)—A 34-year-old factory worker was held today for investigation of manslaughter and leaving the scene of a fatal accident in which veteran Detroit newspaperman Cecil Betron and his wife were killed.

* * *

Police said a car driven by Norman Glover Saturday sideswiped one carrying Betron, 59, and his wife Jessie, 57. The Betron car spun into a concrete abutment on the westbound Ford Expressway. Glover was arrested more than an hour later three miles from the scene.

* * *

Betron was a feature writer for the Detroit News from 1925 to 1952, when he retired and became news editor of the weekly Dearborn Independent. At his death he was news editor and feature columnist for the Dearborn Guide.

Rain Weakens Grain Futures

CHICAGO, (AP) — Reports of weekend rainfall over fairly large areas of the major corn and soybean producing areas weakened the futures prices of those commodities today on the Board of Trade.

Both were off about a cent a bushel within the first several minutes while wheat advanced about a cent on a good demand which appeared to include the most active mill buying in several days.

Private advices said the rainfall was a soaker in parts of the drouth area where it was needed most. At some points it measured up to an inch.

Wheat was ⅞ to 1⅛ cents a bushel higher after about an hour July $1.87; corn ⅜ to ⅞ lower, July $1.24½; oats ¼ lower to ⅛ higher, July new type contract 67⅝; rye ¼ lower to ¼ higher, July $1.27½; soybeans unchanged to ¾ lower, July $2.20½.

Eye Zone Shift, Blacktopping

Waterford Board Will Consider 2 Major Items at Tonight's Session

When the Waterford Township Board meets at 7:30 tonight a zoning change and blacktopping of a parking lot behind stores on Dixie Highway will be major items on the agenda.

A request to rezone five lots in the Huron Gardens subdivision from residential to commercial will be discussed.

The one block of lots fronts Voorheis Rd. between Pioneer and Tilden streets. If approved, it would be the only commercially-zoned block in the area.

The zoning change has been approved by the Waterford Township Board and Oakland County Zoning Commission.

For more than a year businessmen in the area between Frembes street and Seeden street have been attempting to have a one-acre parking lot blacktopped.

They have finally collected $5,350 toward the project and the township has agreed to pay the balance of the $11,000 project.

Official action tonight is expected to get the work under way immediately.

Teenagers Escape When Car Overturns

An Ortonville teenager escaped with minor injuries Sunday afternoon when the car in which she was a passenger struck another auto and overturned.

Wanda Robinson, 17, of 69 Viola Lane, was treated at Pontiac General Hospital and released. She was riding with Alby L. Klump, 17, of 9406 Dixie Highway, Springfield Township.

Klump told Oakland County Sheriff's Deputies he saw a car stop ahead of him as he drove east on Davisburg road at about 65 miles an hour. He hit the brakes and they didn't work, he related.

To avoid the stopped auto, Klump swerved into the westbound lane, careened off the right front fender of an oncoming car, and overturned in a field. No one else was injured.

To Seek Murder Warrant for 'Get Even' Father

DETROIT (AP)—Police said a murder warrant will be sought today against a young father accused of drowning his infant son in a creek "to get even with" his divorced wife.

Det. Paul Montgomery said Gale Henry Schall, 27, unemployed Detroit roofer, admitted slaying his two-year-old son Gary Saturday.

The baby's body was recovered from shallow water of a creek in Trenton.

Montgomery said Schall wanted "to get even with" his divorced wife June, 25. The couple was divorced last month. Mrs. Schall charged nonsupport and cruelty. The father had weekend visiting privileges with the baby.

Will Deluge Lucky Motorist With Presents

ST. IGNACE (UPI) — A lucky motorist will be deluged with gifts today at the Mackinac bridge.

The two-millionth vehicle to cross the span linking the upper and lower peninsulas since it opened in November, 1957, is expected to reach the bridge about noon.

The driver of the milestone vehicle will get more than $2,000 worth of gifts, including a year's supply of gasoline, a refrigerator, a set of whitewall tires, a case of beer each month for a year, a five horsepower outboard motor, $150 worth of hunting and fishing equipment, complete insurance coverage on the vehicle for one year, an electrical appliance and a complete set of artificial fishing bait.

Lawrence A. Rubin, executive secretary of the Mackinac Bridge Authority, said motorists by the hundreds converged on the bridge during the weekend when it was disclosed that the two-millionth crossing was approaching.

But the heavy traffic volume failed to produce the two-millionth crossing on the weekend.

Milford Woman Hurt as Car Rams Into Tree

Mrs. Ada Allen, 58, of 603 Elizabeth St., Milford, is listed in poor condition at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital today with chest and rib injuries suffered in an auto accident Saturday.

Oakland County Sheriff's Deputies said she was riding in a car driven by her husband, Russell 55, on Commerce road west of Bogie Lake road, Commerce Township.

Allen said he was passing another car and lost control of the car, running off the road and striking a tree. He was uninjured.

Asks Court Halt Steel Picketers

Jones & Laughlin Corp. Claims USW Members 'Sealing Off' Mills

FROM OUR NEWS WIRES

NEW YORK—Federal Mediation Chief Joseph F. Finnegan met for two hours today with representatives of the steel industry in an effort to end the six-day nationwide strike.

* * *

R. Conrad Cooper, executive vice-president of U. S. Steel and chief negotiator for the industry said after the meeting, "We are standing by waiting any future call" from the mediators.

Finnegan declined to comment to newsmen but said he might have something to report later in the day after meeting with representatives of the striking United Steelworkers Union.

In Pittsburgh, Jones, Laughlin Steel Corp. asked the courts today to break up mass picekt lines of striking United Steelworkers which the company declared have "unlawfully" imprisoned supervisory employes in three Pennsylvania plants.

The legal action, first of the six-day walkout of 500,000 basic steel workers, came as the government's top mediator, Joseph F. Finnegan, was striving in New York to get negotiators for the union and industry back to the bargaining table.

* * *

J & L, the nation's fourth largest producer, filed requests for injunctions in both the courts of Allegheny County (Pittsburgh) and Beaver County. Hearings of the petitions were set for tomorrow in the Beaver County Court and Thursday at Pittsburgh.

J & L charged that USW members had through "malicious conduct" sealed off its mills, even blocking deliveries of milk to the "hundreds" of supervisory workers trapped in the plants.

The company asked that the courts limit picketing to two men at each gate, spaced 10 feet apart and in motion. It asked a bar to any form of intimidation of persons entering or leaving the property. Should the injunctions be granted as outlined by J & L, even a "jeer" by a picket could be construed as contempt of court.

* * *

The petitions named as defendants all of the union's international officers, including USW President David J. McDonald, and officers and committeemen of the local unions at the firm's two plants at Pittsburgh and one at nearby Aliquippa.

President Eisenhower met in Washington with Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell today for another discussion of the steel strike.

Eisenhower has been getting almost daily reports from Mitchell since the strike started last Wednesday.

Nearly 90 per cent of the country's steelmaking capacity is shut off. Steel production losses entering the sixth day of the walkout totaled about 214 million dollars.

A half-million striking steelworkers counted pay losses amounting to some 50 million dollars.

Reuther Cites a Lag in Purchasing Power

FLINT (UPI) — Walter Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers, said yesterday the United States has expanded its producing power lately, but its purchasing power hasn't kept pace.

Reuther attended a closed meeting of UAW region 1-C in Flint, and later gave an exclusive interview to a Flint radio station.

"If we can have full employment and full production making the weapons of war and destruction," he said, "we in the UAW want to know why we can't have full employment and full production making the good things of life for people in peacetime."

Noting the high rate of unemployment in the Flint area, Reuther said, "what we need is affirmative leadership from Washington."

Traffic, Drownings Claim 18 Lives in Michigan

By United Press International

Traffic accidents during the weekend claimed 14 lives and 4 persons drowned, for a total of 18 deaths in the state.

Two persons were killed in each of four separate accidents, accounting for eight of the traffic victims.

Cecil Bertron, 58, news editor of the Dearborn Guide, and his wife, Jesse, 56, were fatally injured Saturday night when their car was forced into an abutment on the Ford Expressway in Dearborn. Police held Norman Glover, 34, Detroit, for investigation of manslaughter in the fatal accident.

Mrs. Virgil Byrne, 52, Grosse Ile, and her father Jeremiah L. Fuller, 77, who was visiting here from his home in St. Petersburgh, Fla., were killed Saturday in a two-car collision in Erie Township of Monroe County. Police said their car was sideswiped by another auto on the Detroit-to-Toledo Expressway.

* * *

A Grand Rapids couple, the parents of three children, were killed Saturday when their car skidded out of control after being hit in the rear and struck a tree on Grand Rapids' South Side. The victims were identified as John Ruble, 37, and his wife, Marie Louise, 34. Their three children were also injured in the crash.

MIO COUPLE DIP

Another single-car crash claimed the lives of Walter E. Lalone, 70, and his wife, Beatrice, 54, Mio. They were killed Friday night on M72 near Kalkaska when their car missed a curve on a hill and crashed into a tree.

Charles J. Rogers, 67, Bridgeport, died last night when he fell from a pickup truck driven by his son, Charles Jr. Police said Rogers fell from the truck as it turned out of a driveway in Bridgeport.

Ralph E. Ward, 33, St. Clair, was killed in an accident in St. Clair County.

William Schultz, 20, an employe at the Oceana Herald in Shelby, was fatally injured early yesterday when his car ran off a road in Benzonia Township of Oceana County and struck a tree.

* * *

Donald Estep, 21, Imlay City, died Saturday in Flint's Hurley Hospital of injuries received Friday night when his bicycle was struck by a car on M53 near Imlay City. The driver of the car said Estep did not have lights on his bicycle.

A retired Detroit Fire Department captain, Edward Bettinger, 64, was killed Saturday when his car veered into a light pole after striking another auto in the rear at an intersection.

Danny Allen Ott, 7, Saginaw died Friday night during a visit to his grandparents home in Iosco County. Police said the boy ran into the path of a car on M65.

Marvin C. Schuark, 15, Mt. Clemens, drowned yesterday at Kelly's Beach on Square Lake in Oakland County. Officials said the youth fell off a paddle board into deep water. He didn't know how to swim.

Nine-year-old Larry P. Leonard, Jackson, drowned Saturday in the Cut River in Roscommon County when he stepped into a hole while wading.

Dr. Vladimir Illic, 30, Royal Oak, drowned Saturday while swimming in Lake Michigan at Holland State Park. His body was recovered.

Rufus P. Sears, 29, drowned late Friday in Silver Lake in Washtenaw County. Sears, a lieutenant in the Air Force, was living in Ann Arbor while attending summer school classes at the University of Michigan. He was a native of Norfolk, Va.

Burglars Back, Take Typewriter on Return Call

Burglars who don't succeed at first sometimes try again and get what they're after on their second attempt.

That was the story of two breakins this weekend at the Sarjac Steel Supply Inc. offices, 115 Branch St.

Thursday night someone entered the offices and pried open the safe, but nothing was taken.

The burglars returned a second time the next evening.

* * *

They stole an office typewriter and a man's suede jacket. The total value of the two items was estimated at $167 dollars.

Police believe the same burglars broke into the Pontiac Waste Material Co., 135 Branch St., the same two nights.

The first time the burglars dragged a large floor safe out the door and into the yard behind the building. There was nothing of value in it, however.

* * *

The second attempt to burglarize the firm also flopped. Nothing was reported missing.

Rain, Lightning and Winds Slam Hard Into East

By The Associated Press

Thunderstorms dumped more heavy rain across wide areas of the East today after scattered outbreaks of violent weekend weather.

Heavy rains and fierce winds smashed power lines and trees in several Maryland communities near Washington. Homes in 14 communities were without light and power for a time after the storm late Sunday.

The stormy area today was centered in the Southeast from Georgia northward through Virginia, but extended northwestward into lower Michigan and northward along the coast into Massachusetts.

A six-hour downpour at Boston produced 1.34 inches of moisture and Findley, Ohio, and Gordonsville, Va., had nearly an inch.

Showers in the West dampened the Rockies and portions of the plains and reached southward into Texas, where Comanche was given a 2-inch soaking Sunday.

Rains in the central Rockies aided fire fighters in bringing under control flames sweeping across 4,000 acres of timber and brush in Mesa Verde National Park near Cortez, Colo.

Fish Fry Must Move

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI) — Firemen chased a column of black smoke to the top of a nine-story apartment building Saturday night expecting to find a major blaze. Instead, they found a family firing up a portable barbecue grill for a fish fry. The firefighters strongly urged them to cook elsewhere.

Morreros' Death Ends Struggle

Dominican Labor Leader Believed Instrumental in Relaxing Policies

NEW YORK (AP) —The New York Times said today the mysterious death of Dominican Labor Minister Ramon Marrero Aristy ended a "long, lonely struggle" by the progressive minister to liberalize dictator Rafael Trujillo's regime.

Marrero and his chauffeur were burned to death Friday night in the mysterious crash of their automobile on a mountain highway, no details of the crash.

Tad Szulc, Times correspondent who was forced out of the Dominican Republic Sunday, reported from Miami that Marrero, 45-year old newsman and labor specialist, was convinced Trujillo's regime could weather the crisis now facing it only by becoming more liberal and wiping out spreading corruption among high officials.

There is reason to believe Marrero may have looked on himself as a possible leader for the republic if Trujillo's regime collapsed.

The Dominican regime is under strong pressure from opponents at home and in Cuba, where a number of anti-Trujillo men have taken refuge.

In espousing some of the opposition demands for changes in the dictatorship's policies, Marrero made many powerful enemies. However, he had remained loyal to Trujillo, believing the 66-year-old dictator was still the best person to run the country.

There were some indications, Szulc said, that Marrero succeeded in persuading Trujillo to relax his policies a bit.

Foreign newsmen were given more freedom and allowed to work without censorship because of Marrero's efforts. Then stringent curbs were placed on correspondents after Szulc on July 12 sent a dispatch about corruption in the government.

Informed sources told Szulc Marrero's car had fallen off a mountain top and that the minister and his chauffeur had been burned beyond recognition. Marreo was buried with military honors.

IT HURTS—Seventeen-year-old Charles Webb of Kokomo, Ind., screams with pain as he receives emergency treatment for burns suffered when gasoline fumes ignited while he was cleaning paint brushes. Webb, who ran from the house with clothing aflame, had to be pinned to the ground by a neighbor, who then smothered the flames with a cloth.

Call Rockefeller on Housing Vote

Senate Subcommittee Feels Governor Favors Bigger Bill Than Ike

WASHINGTON (AP)— A Senate banking subcommittee has invited GOP Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York to testify in hearings beginning Thursday on President Eisenhower's veto of the housing bill.

★ ★ ★

Although Democratic members don't know how Rockefeller stands on the national program they believe he is for bigger housing expenditures than Eisenhower seems willing to undertake.

If Rockefeller accepts the invitation — and he hasn't replied yet — he will be one of the principal witnesses in a hearing in which Chairman John Sparkman (D-Ala) said the subcommittee hopes to disprove Eisenhower's charges that the veto bill would have produced extravagant and inflationary outlays.

Sparkman said one of the chief aims of a scheduled six-day inquiry will be to "find out just what the President wants in the way of housing legislation."

★ ★ ★

The Alabama senator dismissed as wholly inadequate an administration bill introduced by Sen. Prescott Bush (R-Conn) and others.

The bill calls for a total of 810 million dollars in housing loans and grants, as compared to the $1,375,000,000 tag the Democrats put on the vetoed measure.

Eisenhower contended the Democratic bill would have cost $2,200,000,000.

Hundreds Seeking to Sail on 1st U.S. Nuclear Liner

By ETON FAY

CAMDEN, N.J. (AP) — Several hundred would-be passengers already have submitted applications for tickets to travel on the first American nuclear-powered merchant ship, the NS Savannah.

The builders and operators are delighted at this evidence of public confidence in atom-engined transportation.

The applications, however, are a little early. The Savannah today is poised on the ways at the yards of the New York Shipbuilding Corp., about 60 to 70 per cent complete. She is scheduled for launching Tuesday, for her first trial runs in 1960, and her maiden voyage perhaps a year after that.

Newsmen were given a detailed briefing and a visit to the white-hulled sleek lined Savannah today.

Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower will crack the traditional bottle of champagne across the knife-sharp prow of the ship at the launching Tuesday.

The Savannah is intended primarily as a demonstration by the United States of the peaceful use of atomic energy—also as an experimental, prototype vessel.

No one contends this first merchant ship, powered by nuclear fission, can compete economically against oil-powered vessels.

John J. Allen, undersecretary of commerce for transportation, emphasized that point in talking to reporters about the Savannah, which is costing $40,950,000.

But, Allen said, the next atomic merchant type ship the United States builds "will be truly competitive" with current vessels in operating costs and earning power.

American Legion Elects State Leader

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Lewis C. Bricker, 54, Coldwater insurance agent, is the new commander of the American Legion's Michigan Department.

Bricker was elected on the 12th ballot at the close of the department's four-day annual convention here yesterday, defeating Patrick Malloy of Sault Ste. Marie and Fred J. Mary of Prudenville. Bricker is a veteran of World War II.

Delegates to the meeting reiterated the department's previous stand against proposed use of the state's 50-million-dollar veterans trust fund as a solution to Michigan's financial crisis.

A resolution against the proposal was adopted unanimously on the convention floor. Gov. Williams and other state officials have proposed that the fund be mortgaged to ease financial difficulties.

Pittsburgh Racer Dies in Same 'Death' Car

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — Van Johnson of Pittsburgh was killed Sunday during a race at the nearby Williams Grove Speedway. He was driving the same Vargo Special in which Dick Linder was killed earlier this year.

Johnson, 32, of Pittsburgh was competing in the feature for Indianapolis 500 cars when his racer was rammed from the rear by an auto driven by Joe Barzda of New Brunswick, N. J.

The race was restarted and Roger Ward, the Indianapolis 500 winner, was the victor at the 50-lap distance.

New Singer Must Cover Knees

Seek 'Champagne Lady'

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Lawrence Welk sought a new "Champagne Lady" today following Singer Alice Lon's abrupt departure from the band because she allegedly showed "too much knee" on television.

A spokesman said a new champagne lady will be picked in about six months.

"We will have a new girl every week or so," the spokesman said. "The new Champagne Lady will be chosen on the basis of fan mail."

He said the new Champagne Lady would have to be about 22 years of age, have a nice voice and be a very petite, wholesome-looking girl."

Welk said Saturday Miss Lon had given her notice and it was accepted because "cheesecake doesn't fit on our show." Saturday night the show went on without Miss Lon for the first time in six years.

★ ★ ★

He said there were other minor problems involving Miss Lon, including a disagreement over the selection of her songs. But he denied Miss Lon's charge that members of his orchestra "family" were unhappy.

Pianist Tiny Little also recently left the band as did clarinetist Pete Fountain.

Welk said he could prove Miss Lon "showed too much knee" on a recent show.

"We have it on film as proof," he said. "It went on the air two or three weeks ago. Our show goes into homes and I have always opposed anything the least bit immoral.

"I will not stand for such things."

★ ★ ★

Miss Lon said she was "never guilty" of being immodest on the show.

"I resent him saying that," she said. "I was hurt by what he said.

"Lawrence has changed," said Miss Lon. "It isn't the same happy family it used to be when I joined him six years ago. He now lacks consideration and there are no exceptions in his book."

Asked about her leaving the band, she said: "I just couldn't take it any longer. I was mad (after being accused of displaying her knee) and I told him I was quitting, but he didn't say anything. A few days later I received a letter telling me my resignation had been accepted."

Miss Lon also complained of not making enough money with the band. She declined to give her salary but industry sources estimated it at between $20,000 to $25,000 a year.

'All for One' Say Mercury Astronauts

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Seven American astronauts have signed an "all-for-one, one-for-all" agreement to share equally in the financial returns of the first one to travel in space.

★ ★ ★

The seven men are military test pilots now in training at a National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) base in Virginia. Sometime in 1961 one of them may become the first American ever to take a flight in space.

No one knows which of the seven men will be the first project Mercury spaceman. But it is certain that whoever takes the first ride aboard the bell-shaped satellite will have a valuable story to tell if he returns to earth.

The government will have first call on the pioneer space traveler's recollections. It also has already announced that "all information reported by the Mercury Astronauts in the course of their official duties which is not classified to protect the national security will be promptly made available to the public by NASA."

But beyond the "official" information, the first successful astronaut will have a personal story of considerable value.

To avoid any later problems, the seven astronauts agreed early in their training to divide equally the proceeds from the sale of the first spaceman's personal story.

This "all for one, one for all" compact applies even if one or more of the candidates is compelled to drop out because of illness. If a candidate voluntarily drops out of the training program, however, he no longer will share the profits.

Hope to End Steel Strike

MRA Delegates Gather

MACKINAC ISLAND (UPI) — Moral Re-Armament delegates from 40 nations are mobilizing for a drive they say will lead to settlement of the steel strike in the United States.

They also prepared a task force to create a "moral tone" for easing racial tensions in Little Rock, Ark.

The steel strike and integration disputes were focal points during a weekend summit strategy conference for 1,100 MRA followers who say they have an ideology to stop communism.

The MRA delegates, who met in a high-ceilinged chamber that looks like an oversized wigwam, claimed the world had to "choose between Mackinac and Moscow."

★ ★ ★

William Yager, a Washington labor relations authority devoting full time to the MRA movement, said the steel strike was an "absolutely crazy" class struggle.

Yager was expected to lead an MRA-trained contingent that will contact negotiators in the steel talks. He said a similar effort was successful in using moral principles to break the 1952 steel strike deadlock.

One of the leaders of the summit conference was Rajmohan Gandhi, 24-year-old grandson of the Mahatma, who said, "America and India need fundamental revolution."

Gandhi said the "primary objective in Russia today is to prevent America from getting moral re-armament."

Summerfield Eyed for Governor Run

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield has been projected into the 196 Michigan political picture as a Republican prospect for governor.

Frank D. McKay, one-time Republican party boss in the state, urged Summerfield's nomination in a signed article in his paper, "The Michigan Times." He said he acted without Summerfield's knowledge.

★ ★ ★

"Art Summerfield knows Michigan like the back of his hand." said McKay of the former national committeeman and Flint auto agency head.

"With his ideals of efficiency and economy, you can just bet he'd prove to be one of our best governors," he added.

Steel Strike Cost $35,000 Every Minute

PITTSBURGH (UPI) —Each minute the steel strike drags on the nation's economy loses at least $35,000.

★ ★ ★

Those 60 seconds cost the industry $27,777 in production losses and a half million striking steelworkers can write off $6,944 in wages. Each minute of the strike means 208 tons of steel are lost.

But the $35,000-a-minute figure applies to the steel industry only. It is still impossible to judge the money losses in related industries.

$4,000 a Pound Isn't Bad Incentive to Diet

By EARL WILSON

BEVERLY HILLS — Judy Garland's going slimming — no, not slumming, slimming. If she slices off 25 pounds she comes into $100,000. That sum's promised her by Charles Wacker of Chicago and others who want her to look her old sylph for a movie they're starring her in, called, "Gaiety Girl," from the book, "Born In Wedlock."

Judy's already selected the place where she's going to do-or-diet; she takes off on her taking off this week. If my figures about her figure are accurate, every time she loses a pound she'll gain $4,000. Judy estimates that after about one month she'll be able to have friends over to see her new figure and her new money.

I wouldn't say that the popular Slate Bros. saloon is dark — but I came in the door and shouted, "Well, if it isn't Lou Nova!" to the body that loomed before me — and it was Tina Louise.

Tina was with Mamie Van Doren's ex, Ray Anthony. We were there to catch that controversial Southern, way-out comedian, Dave Gardner, who's frequently seen with Jack Paar.

After greeting us as "dear hearts," and exclaiming, "Joy!" in the manner of an evangelist, he said, "It's easy to be a success in life — there's so much competition among the people trying to be failures."

He mentioned a friend going south to retire, and asked, "Did you ever hear of anybody retiring to the north?" Following which he said, "Weigh that, fellows."

We Won't Miss Murrow's Face

He's On Leave, but Will Still Appear Often on Video Screens

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP)—Edward R. Murrow, who departed a few weeks ago from CBS on a widely publicized sabbatical leave, is one man who won't be missed on the nation's TV screens. He won't be missed because he'll be on them almost as much as usual.

★ ★ ★

Actually, Murrow's leave involves merely absence from CBS New York headquarters and the necessity for turning up on Madison Avenue every weekday evening for his regular radio broadcast, and once a week to host "Person to Person."

Footloose and pretty much able to roam where his fancy leads him, Murrow will continue to steer conversations on his weekly "Small World" show, and will, in addition, make at least two special news-in-depth programs. He'll also be constantly on the lookout for news developments he figures call for Murrow-type coverage.

Before taking off around the world late in August, Murrow has taped five "Small World" shows and is working on a special news show about missiles—all for fall showing.

Tool and Diemaker Also Makes Crowns

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UPI) — Richard Long has a head start on success. He makes crowns.

"Sometimes people don't believe me when I tell them what I do," he said. "I have to show them the catalog."

A former jeweler's benchman, Long teamed up three years ago with Harold Gilbert to buy a small crown-making company. Gilbert handles the sales and shipping. Long works at their shop after his regular job as a tool and diemaker.

Working by hand, with only a torch and a grinder and polisher as tools, he turns out more than 1,000 crowns, tiaras and scepters each year. The regal headwear, retailing from $5 to $50, graces beauty queens, lodge officials and actors.

Although he loses track of most of the crowns when they are sold, Long remembers that one of his most expensive models was bought by a housewife a year ago.

"She said she just wanted to wear it around the house," he said.

Baby Strangles in Crib

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Angelia Marie Leeth, 6 months old, of Detroit was strangled in her crib here yesterday. The baby's head became wedged between the wall and the edge of her mattress. She was dead on arrival at St. Joseph Hospital in Ann Arbor.

Auto Injuries Fatal

DETROIT (AP)—Rudolph Orlow, 60 of Detroit, died yesterday in Wayne County General Hospital of injuries he suffered May 31 when struck by a car at Woodward and Bethune in Detroit.

Sleeps After Burglary

RIDGEWAY, Ont. (UPI) — Police who discovered a break-in at the Watt Electric store here found the watchdog sleeping peacefully in the basement and the intruder, George W. Price, 48, asleep in a chair.

The first country park commission in the nation was founded by Essex County, N. J., in 1895. It now operates 21 parks covering 5,000 acres located in a compact metropolitan area.

One in 4 in Area Has Pair

2-TV Set Families Grow

ANN ARBOR (AP) — About one in 20 homes in the Detroit metropolitan area now has three or more television sets, a University of Michigan study shows.

The university's Detroit area study said, "Similar to the automobile, luxury is not determined by the presence or absence of television, but by the number of sets in the home."

The survey found that one out of every four Detroit families owns at least two TV sets — more than the number of single set owners just nine years ago.

Ninety-six out of every 100 families in the Wayne, Macomb and Oakland county area has at least one television set.

Multiple TV ownership is more common among families with children. Almost 30 per cent of these families have two or more sets, compared with 19 per cent in homes without children.

★ ★ ★

Families in the age group between 30 and 59 are more likely to have two or more TV sets, representing those at the peak of their earning power.

The survey found that only one family in 50 owns color TV.

Navy Can Place Ghost Fleets on Enemy's Radar

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Vice Adm. Ruthven E. Libby, commander of the First Fleet, has disclosed new techniques by which the Navy can create the illusion of "ghost fleets" on enemy radar screens.

★ ★ ★

"We have the means to make a ship look big," Libby said. "Unfortunately, we do not have the facility to make a big ship look small. But we can create all sorts of effects to mislead him as to our true strength."

He said the result was that a fleet could actually appear to be more powerful in numbers and ship size than it actually is.

★ ★ ★

In theory, he said, actual ghost ships could be created by having real ships tow rafts with frames of foil or other material simulating the superstructure of a ship.

Lincoln Owners to Meet

DEARBORN (AP) — Owners of Lincoln Continentals made from 1939 through 1948 will hold their national rally July 25 at Greenfield Village. Members of the club, which was founded six years ago, will compete in car judging for mechanical performance, accuracy of restoration and appearance.

Million-Dollar Fire Rips Warren Department Store

DETROIT (AP)—A million-dollar fire ripped through a wholesale department store in suburban Warren yesterday. Four employes narrowly escaped being caught in the blaze but no one was injured.

Hall's Wholesale Department Store, Eight Mile and Rayn, was destroyed by a fire which shot flames 50 feet into the air and sent up a column of smoke visible for 20 miles.

★ ★ ★

The fire spread over the one-story building 10 minutes after closing time. It attracted a crowd which police estimated at 15,000 persons.

Jack Sarnow, general manager, said damage would run "well over a million dollars."

Jim Perry, 35, manager of the diamond department, said the fire started in the carpet department and the houseware and small appliances section.

"I started to gather up some of the diamonds and jewelry. I got some, but not enough, then somebody grabbed my sleeve and said, 'Come on, the whole roof is gonna fall.'"

★ ★ ★

One fireman and one volunteer were overcome by smoke. Firemen Joseph Sucaet and Ross Bonnie, 19, were treated at Holy Cross Hospital.

New Jersey had its own tea party in December 1774, a year after the famed Boston affair. A group of patriots disguised as Indians burned a tea cargo landed at Greenwich, N.J.

YOU ARE SEEING DOUBLE — This is the way it looks when you pass a "double-bottom," two trailers hitched to a single tractor. In use in Western states for some time, the double units are now in use on the New York Thruway, the first time they have been allowed on any of the East's toll roads. Specially equipped tractors hauling two trailers doubles payloads and cut expenses. Thruway authorities report few difficulties with the huge units and only scattered complaints from motorists.

Seek Strategy of Southerners

Bill in Senate Group Will Test Resistance to Civil Rights Measures

By JOHN CHADWICK

WASHINGTON (AP) — Proponents of civil rights legislation looked to a Senate Judiciary Committee meeting today for a tip-off on the strategy of Southern opponents.

The closed meeting is the first scheduled since a subcommittee approved an abbreviated two-point bill by a 4-3 vote last Wednesday.

The move to take the measure up for consideration will test how much resistance Chairman James O. Eastland (D-Miss) and other Southern Democrats on the committee are going to offer to any kind of civil rights measure.

Two years ago the committee proved to be a graveyard for all such legislation. Congress succeeded in passing a bill only after the Senate voted to bypass the committee and act directly on a House-passed measure.

Senate Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex) has said he expects the committee to approve a bill this year.

The track was cleared for today's committee meeting when Johnson obtained agreement last week not to have a session of the Senate itself.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Kirksen of Illinois also has urged action, but he said recently that any civil rights bill probably can be talked to death in the Judiciary Committee by Southern opponents. He offered to join any move initiated by Johnson to short-circuit the committee, as was done in 1957, and take up for Senate hearing any civil rights bill the House passes.

Manhattan Takes Fat Phone Book Title

CHICAGO (AP) — Chicago is ceding to New York the honor of having the world's fattest telephone directory.

The new Chicago directory has 1,779 pages, compared with 1,836 pages in New York's Manhattan directory.

The old Chicago directory had 2,133 pages, but the Illinois Bell Telephone Co. cut the size by using five columns of listings per page instead of four.

Chicago still claims the most listings, about one million in its directory compared with 776,000 in the Manhattan book.

You Just Can't Win

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Dale Jones Martin, 26, was driving down the street when a mounted wheel fell off a station wagon, rolled onto the hood of Martin's car and through the windshield.

Besides suffering a cut hand, Martin was cited for driving without a license.
