Diane's Punches Getting Weaker

Keego Seaman in London

PLEASANT DUTY — The lucky fellow handing British screen actress Jeanette Scott in a goat cart outside of the West London Fashion House is A.T.E.3 James Mitchell. Jeanette had a fitting for the wardrobe she will take to the forthcoming Venice Film Festival. Mitchell is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arden T. Mitchell of 1531 Kessler Ave., Keego Harbor. A 1951 graduate of Roosevelt High School, Mitchell enlisted in the Navy the same year. He will return home in October with his bride, Shirley Allbeury.

Threat to Shoot Puts Down Nebraska Prison Rebellion

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP)—A 12-hour prison rebellion at the Nebraska State Penitentiary collapsed today when armed troopers and National Guardsmen marched into the cell block with orders to shoot to kill if necessary. No shots were fired.

Gov. Victor Anderson said about 225 prisoners, who had set fire to six prison shops and spent the night smashing furniture and equipment in their cell block, offered "no difficulty at all" after Warden Joseph Bovey told them at 6 a.m. to be back in their cells within two minutes or the troopers would shoot.

When the troopers and guardsmen marched into the cell block they found all prisoners within their cells.

Newsmen waiting outside the walls heard a noise that sounded to them like a gun shot, but Gov. Anderson told them that was the automatic cell doors being shut.

Three convicts were injured during the rebellion which started just after supper last night. Two were slugged over the head last night by other inmates, and when officers entered the cell block this morning they found a third convict, his face and shirt covered with blood, curled up in the back of a cell.

No guards were injured. The governor attributed this to Warden Bovey's move in withdrawing the unarmed guards from the prison yards yesterday when he got the tip-off to the impending outbreak — demands from a group of convicts that two men who had been placed in segregation yesterday be released.

This was Nebraska's second prison rebellion this year. Last March eight prisoners seized two guards and holed up in the security building for 3½ days before they were starved out.

Peronistas End Uneasy Truce

Supreme Council Warns Catholic Churchmen to Expect Reprisal Action

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, (AP)—The end of a shaky two-month truce between the Roman Catholic Church and Argentina's dominant Peronista political party appeared at hand today.

The party's Supreme Council last night indicated its open anti-church campaign would be revived with a statement condemning "those who use religious dogma and their church as instruments of low political ends." The council said the time had come for it to resume all-out political activity.

Such a move had been expected after the government announced Monday that it had uncovered a plot to assassinate President Juan D. Peron and other government leaders. The government blamed "Catholic nationalists" and opposition political leaders.

Peron last November brought a church-state dispute into the open with a charge that some church leaders were working to undermine his regime. The church denied the accusation.

Since the June 16 revolt the government has soft-pedaled criticism of the church and sponsored a move in Congress to postpone for six months the constitutional convention authorized to remove Catholicism's favored status as the state church.

Brothers Suffocate in Old Refrigerator

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Two young brothers playing in an abandoned refrigerator were trapped and suffocated last night.

The bodies of Lee Andrews, 2, and his brother Lewis, 5, were discovered by their mother when she opened the refrigerator in a vacant first-floor apartment of their north Philadelphia tenement.

The mother, Mrs. Veronica Andrews, 21, had just returned from a police station where she reported the boys missing.

She pulled the boys from the cubicle and went for help, but both were dead on arrival at the hospital.

Koreans Injure Army Officer at Neutral Site

SEOUL (AP)—Rock-hurling South Koreans injured an American Army officer today as they again turned their wrath against U. S. troops guarding inspection teams of the Neutral Nations Supervisory Commission.

Lt. Wayne N. Hansen, Augusta, Ga., was hit on the head as South Koreans hurled a barrage of rocks and stones at eight U. S. Army vehicles crossing the causeway between Inchon and Wolmi Island, where neutral truce inspectors are housed.

Army doctors said Hansen sustained a slight brain concussion and bruises of the ribs and legs but described his condition as "not serious."

The incident, latest in the series of South Korean demonstrations demanding ouster of pro-Communist Czech and Polish members of the NNSC, flared into violence as 100 South Koreans tried to block Army supply trucks going to Wolmi.

It came just as last week's mob rioting and demonstrations against NNSC personnel appeared to have subsided and as Gen. L. L. Lemnitzer, U.N. Far East commander, was en route to Seoul airport for the return flight to his Tokyo headquarters.

Lemnitzer spent several heated sessions with South Korean President Syngman Rhee last week, sternly warning Rhee that American troops would protect all members of the NNSC from violent demonstrations.

Lemnitzer conferred with Rhee again today.

Burke Assumes Top Navy Post

New Commandant Will Continue Present Policy of Readiness

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP)—Adm. Arleigh A. Burke assumed command of the Navy today from Adm. Robert B. Carney and pledged "to push with all my energies" those policies which Carney has initiated to contribute further to the combat readiness and fighting trim of the U.S. Navy.

Burke became the new chief of naval operations in colorful ceremonies at the Naval Academy's Dahlgren Hall, where he was commissioned an ensign 32 years ago. It was the first time the Navy's top command had been changed outside of Washington offices.

"The problem of controlling the seas in tomorrow's world is a greater challenge to man than ever before," Burke told an audience of some 2,000 including heads of the other military services.

He said no one was more keenly aware of man's importance in the realm of maritime strategy than Adm. Carney.

Burke won fame in World War II as commander of the "Little Beaver" destroyer squadron in the South Pacific.

Loose Plug on Gas Line May Have Caused Blast

The explosion which demolished a home at 6-8 Liberty St. Monday may have been due to a loose clean-out plug on the 1¼-inch gas service line leading into the basement, Pontiac Fire Marshal Charles E. Metz said today.

An inspection team found the loose installation yesterday, Metz explained. Gas may have seeped into the basement through it, he added.

Meanwhile, Oakland County Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem said his office will investigate the blast on request of W. E. C. Huthwaite and Arthur P. Bogue, attorneys for the home's owner, Hugh M. Dana.

Dana, 45, in the basement with two Consumers Power Co. servicemen when the explosion occurred, was taken off the critical list at Pontiac General Hospital today. He is now reported in fair condition.

The two servicemen are in fair condition. They are Benson Savedge, 20, of 2401 Opdyke, and Lawrence Abbey, 21, of 37 Cayuga, Lake Orion.

The concussion shattered windows in some 30 neighboring homes and injured seven persons altogether.

MORE DAMAGE REPORTED

Damage reports continued to come in today. Mr. and Mrs. Orley Bruff, owners of a house at 103 Henderson St. directly in back of the blast site, returned from a vacation. They said their garage was wrecked and house and auto severely damaged.

Assistant Prosecutor Homer G. Gerue will conduct the prosecutor's office investigation, said Ziem.

Tentatively OK Annexing Land

Annexation of a 145-acre shopping center site in Bloomfield Township was given tentative approval by the City Commission last night.

Although not giving a full green light to the project, the Commission gave the developers strong indication the city will annex the land at Telegraph and Square Lake Rds. when it concurred with a Plan Commission report recommending the move.

Final approval will hinge on several provisos included in the planning board's report. Included were the questions of sewage, draining and water facilities, and for widening Franklin road and annexation of other nearby property to straighten the city limits.

City Manager Walter K. Willman will report next week on the points raised by the plan group.

"I don't see any serious objections, but in fairness to the citizens of Pontiac we want all the angles covered," said Mayor William W. Donaldson. "But this, in effect, is tentative approval."

Developer Bernard Edelman, of Detroit, said the center, which will cover 50 of the 145 acres, will have a property value of $5,000,000 and a yearly inventory of another $5,000,000.

"And this is only a portion of the development," he added. "It may hit $25,000,000 in three, maybe four years." Edelman previously indicated offices might be constructed on the adjacent land.

Damages Light as Hurricane Moves Inland

Wind Strength Dwindles as Twister Approaches Raleigh-Durham Area

WILMINGTON, N. C. (AP) —Hurricane Diane, churning menacingly eight days up from the tropics, hit the North Caroline coast today but did relatively little damage.

She pushed into central North Carolina with falling force. The Weather Bureau said she would have 60-mile-an-hour winds by the time she reached the Raleigh-Durham area. Her route, northwestward, would carry her on into Virginia tonight.

The office of North Carolina Gov. Luther Hodges said scattered and "very preliminary" reports indicated damage along the beaches was "almost miraculously light."

This fourth hurricane of the season made her central landfall at this southeastern North Carolina river port. Her force was blunted as she moved on a northwestward course over land toward northwestern Virginia.

Even before Diane came to the mainland her one-time 115-mile-an-hour core winds had fallen to gusts of 100. Maximum winds clocked here were 74 m.p.h.

Diane invaded the land only five days after Hurricane Connie had sideswiped northeastern South Carolina, invaded this area and blown out in Pennsylvania. Connie took 43 lives and wrought damage estimated in the millions.

BEACHES GET SOAKED

Diane's center passed Wilmington at 5:20 a.m. Nearby beaches suffered heavy soakings. Many beach areas of both Carolinas had been evacuated yesterday.

The Weather Bureau said the storm would move into northwestern Virginia early tomorrow with winds abated to 20 to 30 miles an hour.

At Carolina Beach, N. C., on a peninsula south of Wilmington, waves washed away several feet of the beach and pounded the buildings in the boardwalk area. Water flooded streets and washed across from the ocean to the yacht basin.

Hurricane winds, 75 miles or higher, were recorded along the North Carolina coast with gusts up to 95 miles at Southport, N. C.

Before the storm hit land, hurricane force winds extended far ahead of the storm center and gales ranged up to 250 miles out.

Many of the buildings on the North Carolina coast were unprotected. Last week's Connie carried away protective sand dunes which had been rebuilt after Hurricane Hazel's onslaught only last October.

Suspect Soldier in Gorham Case

GI Was Camp Aide When Boy Vanished; Showup Planned

MUSKEGON (AP) — Police said they would question a soldier from Fort Riley, Kan., today in the slaying of 12-year-old Peter Gorham.

And they planned a showup of Camp Wabaningo personnel for a woman who reported seeing "a boy like Peter" talking to a motorist the day the Evanston, Ill., boy scout vanished.

Peter vanished July 5 while on a hike at the Duck Lake scout camp. His body was found Sunday five miles from the camp area. He had been shot through the head with a small caliber bullet.

The showup was planned for Mrs. Elsie Farrell who lives near the camp, 12 miles north of Muskegon. She reported July 7 she saw a boy she said was "like Peter" talking two days before to a motorist. Police are seeking the driver of a blue car who they believe talked to Peter about a half an hour after the youngster disappeared.

Oakland Citizens League Proposes County Manager

The Oakland Citizen League has published the first of a series of bulletins describing why it feels county government here could be improved by installing a stronger executive head, such as a county manager.

"There is no chief executive in Oakland County. Instead we have a committee . . the Board of Auditors," the league says.

"There is no business manager, as such." There is no centralized purchasing, administration or supervision "over the numerous agencies performing duplicate functions within the county. . ."

"Anyone who has examined Oakland County's form of government will immediately recognize its faults, but who is doing anything about it? What has become of the repeated studies the Board of Supervisors has authorized, or private citizens financed?

COUNTY IS HEADLESS

"The most serious criticism that has been reported by every study is the fact that Oakland is headless. There is no coordinating, supervising authority to see that all the agencies of the county pull together in the common interest. Our county government is not a unified government with a responsible head, but a group of officials, boards and commissions with overlapping activities."

The State Constitution of 1908 gives cities and villages power to adopt individual charters, but withholds this authority from counties, the league states.

"It seems that counties are not capable of determining how they want to conduct their own affairs."

Two constitutional amendments have been submitted to public vote which would have allowed counties to frame their own charters, the league says.

OAKLAND FAVORED MOVE

In 1934, this was voted down two to one, although Oakland approved by 20,650 to 17,150. In 1936, county home-rule was again voted down statewide, but Oakland again favored it.

The county "thus repeatedly demonstrated that it wants to run its own affairs and set up its government according to its own desires."

In 1958 Michigan citizens will vote on whether they want a constitutional convention for a general overhaul of the state constitution. This should afford a chance to make changes in the county governmental setup, the league points out.

A state law passed in 1927 would permit Oakland to name a "county controller," the group states.

He would have "some of the powers of a city manager — accounting, purchasing, building maintenance—but lack the important power of appointment of board members or department heads. . .

"Is that, however, what we want—a controller instead of a responsible executive?

BOARD CHIEF BODY

"In Oakland County, the chief executive body is the Board of Auditors. Because they function as both auditors and managers, in effect they are auditing themselves. They are both judge and jury. There is no true audit of what is going on in the county."

The league stresses that it is not criticizing the present Board of Auditors, but "merely pointing out a principle which we believe must be improved. . .

"We leave management of a multi-million dollar business to a loose arrangement. . ." it asserts.

Future bulletins, it says, will discuss how other states handle the problem, tell where county manager forms of government are now functioning and describe how Oakland could obtain such a system.

Officials Plan New POW Code

Compromise of Strict, Lenient Attitude Set in Case of War

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The Summer White House in Colorado and the Pentagon planned to spell out late today a new code for conduct for American servicemen who become prisoners in another war.

President Eisenhower, vacationing at Fraser, Colo., was reported ready to sign an executive order authorizing the new program.

A commission of retired senior officers and Pentagon civilians prepared a report to guide the services in training their men.

The new code is known to represent a compromise between the stern attitude of the Army and the far more lenient viewpoint of the Air Force on conduct of prisoners of war.

The commission studied cases growing out of charges that some Americans yielded to Communist pressure in North Korean camps and either signed false confessions or collaborated with the enemy to obtain better treatment for themselves.

Only the Army has actually court-martialed anybody on such charges. In eight completed cases, two men were acquitted, one officer was dismissed after a finding of guilty and five servicemen drew sentences ranging from 2 to 20 years.

An additional six court-martial cases are pending and the Army said that preliminary investigations point to the possibility of 12 other trials.

The Air Force secretly investigated 83 cases. It found no serious fault in most of these cases, but allowed seven men to resign and released three others, none of them under dishonorable conditions.

Discussion Set on Institutions' Lack of Space

Two Oakland County officials will meet Monday with Governor Williams to discuss how institutional space might be provided to care for the increasing number of mentally-defective juveniles in this area.

Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore and State Sen. William S. Broomfield (R-Royal Oak) will convene with governor at 2 p.m. in Lansing.

The two revealed Aug. 8 that 93 county children have been committed to the Lapeer State Home and Training School but cannot gain admittance for lack of space.

They remain a tremendous burden on their families.

Bloomfield said today he has learned the Pinecrest Tuberculosis Sanitorium at Oshtemo is vacant. The senator said he will propose converting it to care for mental defectives.

"At least 100 Oakland and Wayne County children could probably be housed there," he stated. "We're going to suggest that it be converted immediately.

GM Auto Sales Set 10-Day August Mark

DETROIT (AP) — Retail sales of new General Motors cars totaled a record 106,852 for the first 10 days of August, Harlow H. Curtice, president, announced today.

He said the figure was 156.3 per cent greater than for the comparable period last year.

Used car sales by GM dealers for the first 10 days of August were 132,408 or 136.3 per cent more than for the corresponding period last year.

The 1955 GM sales totals through Aug. 10 came to 2,366,219 new cars and 3,048,284 used cars, Curtice said. Both figures are all-time highs. Every GM passenger car division had record sales for both new and used cars, he said.

Polio Clinics Continue Slow Pace in Area

The vaccine anti-polio program continues at a low ebb in the two County clinics, as 83 first and second graders were inoculated yesterday.

Dr. John D. Monroe, Oakland County health director, reports that 51 children were treated Tuesday at the Pontiac clinic on West Huron street.

At the South Oakland County Health Center in Royal Oak, doctors yesterday administered vaccine to 32 youngsters, according to Dr. Frank J. Condon, deputy director.

The two figures bring the total of children treated Monday and Tuesday to 155, which brings the overall figure for youngsters processed at both clinics to 1,768. Some 11,113 have yet to be inoculated.

Meanwhile, the number of reported polio cases in Oakland County continues to decrease. Last week four cases were listed in the county, while the previous week saw six polio victims stricken.

POW Murder Trial Continues

Gallagher Denies He Caused Death of Three American Prisoners

NEW YORK, (AP)—The court-martial of Sgt. James C. Gallagher, 23, accused of collaborating with the Reds and of unpremeditated murder of three fellow prisoners in North Korea, is expected to end today.

The tall, red-blond Brooklyn soldier completed his own defense testimony yesterday. He denied causing the deaths of three other prisoners and said much of the previous testimony was mistaken in alleging that he curried favor with Communist captors.

He said mistaken impressions probably stemmed from his general unpopularity in the POW camp. "The men just didn't like me," he stated.

Emuel Turner, 22, Evarts, Ky., said Gallagher had kicked him when he tried to get a pair of trousers from a bannister at Gallagher's hut. When defense counsel suggested he might have been caught stealing, Turner answered: "I didn't have any pants. Gallagher had about six pair hanging up there."

He said Gallagher kicked him several times and "after the first one I didn't feel any more." He said he couldn't run away because he was suffering from dysentery and "could hardly walk."

Court Fight Looms on Cut-Rate Glasses

LANSING (AP) — A long court fight has been promised in what was described as the first legal battle between licensed optometrists in Michigan and sellers of cut rate glasses.

The State Board of Examiners in Optometry heard evidence in a day-long session yesterday in the case of Dr. Edwin L. Sanchick of Lansing, an optometrist, charged with unprofessional conduct.

The board can lift his license to practice if it finds, as charged, that Sanchick had an arrangement with the King Optical Co. to steer business his way.

Board members emphasized that there was no charge that Sanchick gave "kickbacks" to the company for business.

Ernest Goodman of Detroit, attorney for Sanchick, declared that the fight was in reality between the optometrists and the sellers of cut rate glasses.

Three Pontiac men were treated for cuts and bruises yesterday at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital after a 2-car collision at Osmun and Marshall Sts., Pontiac Police said.

Hillhouse told officers that Collier ran a stop sign on Osmun and struck his car broadside. Collier said he was unable to stop in time.

1,188 on Waiting List

Williams Orders Housing for Mentally-Ill Youngsters

LANSING (AP)—Urging an end to what he called an "intolerable" situation, Gov. Williams ordered state officials today to develop an emergency program for housing mentally retarded children.

At the same time, the governor repeated an earlier statement that he may be forced to call a special session of the Legislature this fall to deal with the problem.

Williams said his goal is to wipe out a waiting list of 1,188 mentally retarded children. These children have been committed by courts but cannot enter state institutions because of space shortages.

The governor instructed Charles F. Wagg, director of the State Mental Health Department, to draft an emergency housing program for submission to the Legislature "at the earliest possible date."

He said he was willing to call a special session of the Legislature this fall "if it appeared such action would be effective in dealing with the problem of the child mental patients."

The Legislature has appropriated planning money to construct facilities to house 1,336 additional patients.

UNIT NEARLY COMPLETE

During the last six years, facilities for some 1,600 children have been added to the state's mental hospital system.

The latest of these improvements is a 220-bed unit now nearing completion at Mt. Pleasant.

But these improvements are not enough, Williams said, because the waiting list is growing faster than the state's building program can possibly move.

The waiting list is now 1,188, Williams said, and growing at the rate of 31 additional cases each month.

"These figures indicate to me that we are faced with an emergency situation which cannot be met by ordinary expansion plans," Williams said in a letter to Wagg.

LITTLE RELIEF SEEN

Even if the Legislature were to appropriate unlimited funds for needed facilities, the waiting list would continue to grow faster than accommodations could be built during the next few years unless some emergency program is set up, Williams said.

The ultimate answer, he remarked, lies in a new children's institution. The Legislature has already appropriated $25,000 to survey sites for this project.

"But any hope of relieving this situation within the next few years must rest upon emergency measures, probably including steps to put some of the waiting list children in temporary quarters," the governor added.

Snake Cultists Plan Rite With Killer Rattler

PINEVILLE, Ky. (AP)—As a testimonial to their faith, members of a snake-handling cult planned to hold services Sunday with a rattlesnake that fatally bit one of their mountain preachers.

Preacher Oscar Sutton said the killer snake will be handled by a Pentecostal Church congregation at a "big" meeting just across the Kentucky line in Virginia.

The announcement came Tuesday at the funeral near here for Lee Valentine, who died 10 hours after being bitten by the rattler during services Saturday in Ft. Payne, Ala.

Snake handling violates Kentucky and Alabama law. Alabama authorities are investigating the death of Valentine, 52, of Pineville.

An overflow crowd turned out for the last rites on Straight Creek, the community Valentine served for many years. There were eulogies, singing, guitar picking and snake handling.

More than a dozen preachers eulogized Valentine. And while four guitar pickers sang, other preachers handled two copperheads and passed them among the crowd.

Keego Harbor police said they were caught in the act of taking a $425 outboard motor from a boat Aug. 5.

Nike Missiles Set for Defense

Antiaircraft Weapon Launching Site Opens for Inspection

CHICAGO (AP) — Nike, the U. S. Army's supersonic antiaircraft guided missile, now is ready to act as the nation's first line of defense against enemy air attack.

"I hope the day never comes when we'll have to use it," said 1st Lt. Willam Henschel during a guided tour of site C-93 of the Chicago-Gary AAA defense network. "But we'll be ready if we do."

Lt. Henschel is one of 8 officers and 101 enlisted men who man "B" Battery of the 86th AAA Missile Battalion. Situated in Skokie Lagoons north of Chicago, the unit is one of many which ring the Chicago area. Nike missile installations like it are deployed throughout the United States as an inner ring of defense for industrial, highly populated and strategic areas.

Named after the goddess of victory of Greek mythology, the Nike is a deadly weapon designed to seek out and destroy enemy aircraft traveling at supersonic speeds.

INSTALLATION OPENED

This Nike guided missile installation was opened for inspection for the first time since the perimiter defense system was established. The first site was installed at Ft. Meade, Md., in December, 1953.

A visit to Nike launching site is revealing. Except for Nike itself, you see little that makes spectacular news until the details of its operation are explained. The speed, range, altitude and lethality of Nike are classified. So are its instrument panels and guiding equipment.

A Nike system consists of a large underground storage area available by platform elevator. The expendable missiles are launched from above ground racks. A separate missile loading area and a control station are placed some distance from the launchers.

The Nike is fired from an almost vertical position. Each is ready to go at a moment's notice. They are manned 24 hours a day, seven days a week, Lt. Henschel said.

RADAR CONTROLS

Nike is guided to its target by radar. Ground control equipment includes three radars, a computer, automatic plotting boards, remote control launching racks and gasoline powered generators.

* * *

One of the three radars searches the target and detects the approach of distant aircraft. The second is a tracking radar which picks up and tracks the enemy plane as it approaches and feeds information on its movements to the computer. The third radar tracks the missile throughout its flight and reports its computer. These data enable the missile to go where it can hit the target.

Water Wonderland

LANSING (AP)—No point in Michigan is more than 85 miles from one of the Great Lakes. And a lake or stream is no more than six miles from any one spot. Michigan has 11,037 inland lakes larger than 10 acres.

A-Power Knowhow Unmasked by U. S.

GENEVA (INS)—The United States explained at Geneva today the why's and wherefore's of atomic energy and just what has to be known to produce it.

The report, hailed as a "historic landmark," disclosed the results of highly secret research into the fundamental physical processes of the atomic era.

But the paper read by Dr. Vance L. Sailor of the Brookhaven National Laboratory shed little light on the subject for the man in the street or even the college physics student.

It summarized in terms and symbols incomprehensible to anyone but an advanced mathematician the results of all research made on atoms in the United States.

Dr. Sailor told the scientists at the atoms-for-peace conference that "the interaction of neutrons with uranium 235 is the fundamental physical process of the atomic era.

DELAYED REACTION

Another American scientist, Robert S. Stone of the University of California, said a person exposed to radioactivity might not show the effects for 25 years. He said the time lag would make it difficult to connect cause and effect.

Dr. A. A. Letavet of Russia advised the conference that shorter working days and longer paid vacations were among the best ways of protecting the health of workers in atomic plants.

Commissioners Seek Pay Hike After 30 Years

Although his proposal that City Commissioners' posts become completely honorary ones failed dismally, Mayor William W. Donaldson last night succeeded in establishing a committee to study increasing the seven commissioners' lowly salaries.

Commissioners receive $5 for each official meeting they attend, with a maximum salary of $300 a year.

"This schedule was set over 30 years ago and at the present time is considered grossly inadequate," Donaldson said.

"At present, the position is practically an honorary one. I, for one, would rather forego the present remuneration and make it purely an honorary position until an adequate adjustment is made.

"The present Commission has often been referred to as a good Commission. I would be willing to be 'good for nothing' if it would help to rectify the present situation."

Donaldson's motion that the $5 pay scale be eliminated from the city charter failed for lack of a second. But unanimous approval was given his second proposal that a study committee be formed "to consider modern compensation for the commissioners."

Named to the committee were former Mayors John C. Cowe, James F. Spence and Arthur J. Law, and former Commissioners Harold W. Dudley and Harcourt S. Patterson.

The Day in Birmingham

City Okays $86,000 Bid in Eton Park Rink Start

BIRMINGHAM — After lengthy debate at this week's City Commission meeting, and upon advice of the architect, lawmakers approved the second low bid of $86,000 by Chissus Construction Co. of Birmingham for the architectural work to be done towards construction of the city's first artificial ice skating rink at Eton Park.

Assistant City Engineer Grober R. Serenbetz said this morning the commission has 10 days after awarding the bid to sign the contract. He did not know when construction would begin but hoped the rink would be available by the first of the year.

With a $125,000 bond issue passed for that purpose, City Manager Donald C. Egbert estimated that costs now stand at $136,000. Mechanical bids will be received this Friday.

Despite the July heat wave, the city's water department records for that month show that no day has equalled the May 21 water demand, when just under 6,000,000 gallons were consumed.

The monthly report indicates heavy demands, with an output of 110,887,200 gallons from Birmingham's eight wells. The maximum total gallons pumped for any one day fell on July 12 when water usage totaled 5,893,300 gallons.

A dance is in store for members of the YMCA Young Adult Club tonight, who will leave the "Y" at 8 p.m. for the Hannan YMCA in Detroit. President Jim Patterson invited men and women between the ages of 18 and 35 to join the group.

What's in a name? Plenty, as far as Bruce Carlisle is concerned. The young dancer, home on vacation from the Julliard School of Music in New York, joined the cast putting on the Melody Circus performances at Botsford Inn, Farmington.

This necessitated entry into Chorus Equity Society, theatrical union. Much to his chagrin, Carlisle was told that someone else already had the stage name of Bruce Carlisle, and that he'd have to find something different.

He's now trying to accustom himself to the new moniker of "Kevin" Carlisle. Bruce, or Kevin, is staying with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Carlisle, of 764 Southfield Rd.

Baldwin and St. James Parks, in addition to Booth Playground, will receive the consideration long due them, city commissioners said this week.

Because the three were gifts, lawmakers moved to secure bronze name signs, showing the donors and the official name of the park. Other city parks will receive future consideration.

City Manager Donald C. Egbert attended his first City Commission meeting this week, since incapacitated with a broken leg he suffered in a June 27 automobile accident.

Fugate, who died at 3 a.m., was one of nine persons injured in the smashup, Glenda Churchwell, 17, of Flint, was killed instantly.

Study New Proposal on Prisoners' Release

A suggested city ordinance establishing a new policy for the release of arrested persons was referred to the city attorney for study at last night's City Commission meeting.

The ordinance, closely paralleling a recently established county-wide policy for releasing state law violators from jail, was proposed by Milton R. Henry, a Pontiac attorney. It would apply to persons arrested for violating city ordinances.

City Attorney William A. Ewart was instructed by the Commission, to which Henry submitted the proposal, to study the plan and report on it at a future meeting.

State GOP Official to Be Guest at Picnic

Michigan's recently appointed Republican National Committeeman Clifford O'Sullivan, a Port Huron attorney, will be an honored guest at the annual picnic of the Republican Women's Federation of Oakland County tomorrow at 6 p.m. in Rochester's Avon Park.

O'Sullivan was named by the GOP State Central Committee to replace David Kendall, of Jackson.

Many other state Republican leaders will attend, according to Federation Chairman Mrs. Charles Barrett, of Pontiac.

Pontiac Boys' Clubbers Hold 'Bike Rodeo' Today

Following a "Bike Rodeo" this afternoon at Eastern Junior High School for all members of the Boys' Club, younger children in the club will officially close their Davy Crockett program with an open house tonight.

William Coulacos, executive director of the club, said bike riders would participate in snail races, speed races, and carom contests.

All age groups will participate, Davy Crockett Clubbers and older boys, Coulacos said. Prizes will be given to winners of the various events.

About 75 youngsters in the Davy Crockett program will meet in the Boys' Club tonight at 7 o'clock to receive awards for completing various projects. Wooden medals with an embossed symbol of their accomplishments will be given for library activities, airplane spotting, woodworking, campfires, and swimming, among others.

The afternoon and evening events will be jointly supervised by physical education director Michael Fiorillo, program director Joseph Shevalier, and Coulacos.

Coulacos announced that the Boys' Club will close for two weeks beginning Saturday, allowing the 14 staff members to take vacations at the same time.

"Because of our large membership and the number of boys we service, it is advisable to close the club for two weeks, rather than be short-staffed during the summer," Coulacos explained.

He said program changes have been made for the coming year in order to serve new members who have joined since the first of the year.

He remarked on the summer program by saying, "The program gave the boys an opportunity to learn to do things they have never done before, such as various woodworking projects, camping, and other activities."

Red Chinese Accuse U. S. of Korean Truce Breach

TOKYO, (UP) — Communist Peiping's People's Daily today accused the United States of preparing to send atomic cannon into South Korea in violation of the Korean armistice agreement.

The propaganda article, broadcast by Radio Peiping and heard here, ignored repeated statements by American Army officials at Washington and Tokyo that atomic cannon will not be introduced into South Korea.

The U. S. Defense Department announced earlier this summer that it was sending atomic cannon to U.S. bases in Okinawa.

Model T Saga

HOLLAND (UP) — Peter Elzinga and Gerhard Ritsema, each 20, made a 4,500-mile trip to California in a 1919 Model-T Ford. They reported they had only minor motor trouble and only two flat tires.

Guide Children in Entertainment

Help in Movies, Video Aids Youth in Choice of Material

A child can be helped to learning through proper guidance in selecting movies and television programs. This is the verdict of experts.

The Child Study Association of America has published several booklets on problems involved in television, radio comics and the movies, which it considers "part of our children's world today."

Here is a check list of some of the things parents can do to help their children through the maze of influences involved in these forms of entertainment.

1. Understand your children's interests and needs.

2. Know what they are reading, seeing, hearing. Be with them and let them share your choices.

3. Discuss their books and programs without condescension.

4. Don't arbitrarily tear up a comic book or interrupt a program.

5. Be firm in saying "No" to what seems truly upsetting and harmful, and stick to it.

6. Help them budget their time reasonably.

7. See that they have enjoyable things to do, places to go, wholesome friendships, hobbies, responsibilities.

8. Help them discover how to use the library.

9. Take part in your community's effort to safeguard children from vicious horror and crime comics, programs and movies.

"Very young children," says Miss Frank, "can be kept away from the movies.

There is little in the motion picture theater for children under 6, and just sitting still and keeping quiet through a full-length film is more than should be expected of them.

"Special matinees for children have been hampered by the attendance of large numbers of two, three, and four-year-olds who are not ready for movie going of any kind. Eight has been suggested as a minimum age."

"This researcher takes a dim view of movies for children in general. "None of the movies commercially shown," she says, "is made especially for children.

Even the shorts and animated cartoons are designed to interest the whole movie audience. Some of these are amusing, childlike, and delightful, but others are sophisticated, vulgar, or frightening and highly unsuitable for children."

Hard Head Pays Off

LAKELAND, Fla. (UP) — A .45 caliber bullet smacked H. D. Van Sickler in the head but didn't do much more than make him angry.

Police said apparently the pellet was hurled from a slingshot rather than fired from a pistol. Van Sickler was treated for a minor laceration.

Returned Flier to Fight for Son

Parents of Re-Married Una Schmidt-Fine May Side With Airman

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Una Schmidt-Fine's own parents may be on opposite sides of the fence when Airman Daniel Schmidt fights for custody of the 2½-year-old son he has seen only once.

The 23-year-old gunner is one of 11 American airmen released recently by the Communist Chinese after 32 months in prison. In Schmidt's absence, his 20-year-old wife Una says, she married Alford Fine, 21, a logging worker, in the belief that the airman was dead.

Schmidt, through his Sacramento attorney, said yesterday he intends to ask the courts for custody of his son Danny Jr. as well as a divorce.

The lawyer, Howard P. Welch, said the airman's determination to ask for the boy was seconded by Una's mother Mrs. Walter Ferguson, formerly of Boise, Idaho.

Mrs. Ferguson was quoted as saying she wanted to show her daughter that "her own flesh and blood" was in favor of seeing the boy with his father. Una's mother, who now lives in northern California's Tehama County, is staying with Schmidt here.

Una's father Ralph Howell, of Bruneau, Idaho, and his second wife, on the other hand, have given continuous support to Una since they joined her at her Sierra hideaway last week.

There has been no comment from Una other than a remark by her attorney Harold Berliner that she "would fight for her child as any mother would."

Police Act Quickly— but Not in Bostontown

BOSTON (AP) — It took Edward White, 32, three days to convince authorities they had the wrong man in jail.

White, father of three, was arrested while in bed before dawn Saturday and hustled to jail on warrant dated Sept. 16, 1953, charging an Edward White used an auto without authority.

He protested his innocence to jail guards all day Saturday, Sunday and Monday. Finally authorities took his fingerprints and found they did not match those of the Edward White who was wanted.

About 20,000 Americans from 15 to 44 years old died of cancer last year.

Rare Dollar Bill Found by Philadelphia Woman

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — An "$11 bill" — genuine American money —turned up in Philadelphia today. Miss Lillian Knoff, a federal government secretary, has it. One stamp and coin dealer here said it might be worth many thousands of dollars to collectors.

The bill has the $1 "Washington face" and the seal back of a $10 bill. Miss Knoff said she didn't recall where she got it.

Experts Hold Out Hope for Fewer Hurricanes

With the blown out Hurricane Connie and rapidly growing sister Diane, has come hope that fewer such disastrous disturbances will lash our Atlantic seaboard states in the future.

This hope is the fruit of our Weather Bureau's vastly improved hurricane warning system. Most middle aged adults can remember a quarter century or more back when little or no accurate advance warning was given as to where hurricanes would strike. Loss of life and property then often was far heavier than in the worst blows of recent years.

This year, for example, there was plenty of advance warning about Hurricane Connie. As a result only 42 deaths have been attributed directly or indirectly to this storm and property damage has been estimated at only $15,000,000. This is far less than the average of three 1954 hurricanes which killed hundreds of persons and caused damages totaling $750,000,000.

Last week, thanks to better warnings, East Coast residents had time to tape their windows and otherwise prepare for the blow. It is probable that the death list would have been smaller if those warnings had been heeded by everybody.

Unfortunately, the Weather Bureau's warning service is hampered by the fact that hurricanes are more unpredictable than 20 years ago. This is attributed to the effect on high altitude polar air currents of a relatively stationary high pressure area off Newfoundland.

This condition is blamed for pulling hurricanes farther north along the East Coast instead of allowing them to turn eastward out to sea as before.

The Bureau's belief that t will be less East Coast hurricane damage in the future rests on indications that this high pressure area off Newfoundland soon will disappear. This will allow these tropic storms to resume their normal course paralleling our coast and turning out to the open Atlantic.

Ike Signs Security Bill

One of 47 bills recently signed by President Eisenhower provides for a bipartisan commission to study the entire Federal security system.

This bill is the result of a desire in both Republican and Democratic ranks to take the whole question of loyalty and security out of politics.

One section of the bill provides that the commission will include six members from each major party. Four of these are to be named by the President, four by the vice-president and the others by the Speaker of the House.

Besides charging the proposed commission with investigating every phase of the security-loyalty problem, the measure calls for a report back to Congress by December 31, 1956.

Bipartisan support of the idea of taking this issue out of politics doesn't mean that both parties see eye to eye on it. But in backing the commission approach they are acknowledging the enormous difficulty of balancing the Nation's security interests against the protection of personal liberties. That is a task Army Secretary Brucker says "calls for the wisdom of Solomon and the patience of Job."

It is anyone's guess, of course, whether this commission can come up with an answer. Very likely it will need all the time Congress has given it for the study. That is so because of the bewildering array of statutes, executive orders and departmental directives which govern internal security.

Dr. Rhee's Backdown

Fortunately for the shaky and oft violated Korean truce, Dr. Syngman Rhee has withdrawn his ultimatum demanding departure of the neutral nation's truce team.

The aged South Korean President's dissatisfaction with the truce and his dislike of the Communist members of the truce commission, are understandable. But his last minute withdrawal of his ultimatum does nothing to win him new friendships in the United States.

Dr. Rhee explains his backdown by saying he was assured by Assistant Secretary of State Robertson that the U.S. would seek peaceful departure of the four nation truce commission.

What he doesn't explain is the resort to mob terrorism which forced U.S. protection of the truce team and led to the wounding of 44 GIs. It is true that the truce has been violated frequently by both North Koreans and Red Chinese. It also is true that the Communist members of the truce team have blocked honest truce supervision in North Korea.

The South Korean President's habit of threatening renewal of hostilities shouldn't be taken too seriously. Last week he insisted that resumption of the "hot" war is the only solution for his country.

The stark fact is that if there is a solution of the Korean problem, it will have to be part of a general settlement in the Far East.

Pontiac Man Determined to Drive Fakirs Out of Fair

Ripe old age: What more of us would attain if we were not so busy providing for it.

With the Michigan State Fair held here a few years just after the turn of the century, it again has a Pontiac touch this year with a local man, as chairman of its Board of Managers. He tells me that his strongest effort is to keep the rackets and frauds out of the midway and elsewhere on the grounds of the big show. It runs from Sept. 2 to 11, just over the edge of Oakland County. Special officers from the state police, sheriff's office and plain clothes detectives, as well as an attorney, will always be on hand to ward off the slick artists who always endeavor to horn in at such events, with alluring baits for the suckers. Some of our recent State Fairs needed such a fumigating.

Harry Garling

Ever see a humming bird's nest? One has been watched by

of Lake Orion. The four eggs were the size of peas, and each of the young birds would shuck around in a small thimble. The parents fed them honey a small drop at a time. They left the nest in a couple of weeks.

Another log cabin birth was that of

of Sylvan Lake, born in Ohio.

Now it has been found that goats thrive on a diet of old newspapers. This prompts a local wag to remark that he's glad they're good for something besides covering the pantry shelves, wrapping up garbage or hiding behind when a woman wants a seat on the bus.

David Lawrence Says:

Peaceful – but Bloody – Demonstrations New Weapon for 'Cold War' Nations

WASHINGTON—There's a new propaganda device being introduced in the "cold war." It's called "peaceful demonstration." It has cropped up in India and in South Korea — and, of course, there's bloodshed in each case.

India's Nehru, who is always championing the cause of "peaceful coexistence," sanctioned a "peaceful demonstration" by a mob from the territory of India which tried to cross over into the little Portuguese colony of Goa, on the Indian coast.

When the Portuguese frontier guards fired back to stop the invasion which was deliberately planned for publicity and propaganda purposes, India's premier made a speech of denunciation. As a consequence, India's mobs were inflamed and they paraded in the streets of Bombay and elsewhere demonstrating against Portuguese consulates.

Goa is a tiny territory which has been Portuguese for 400 years. It no more belongs to India than Hong Kong to China or Bermuda to the United States. The controversy over Goa has been inspired by the Communists, as they know it will tend to strain relations between the United States and India and between Britain and India. That's because the London government has an alliance with Portugal and because the United States needs the Azores for air bases and is about to negotiate a new agreement with Portugal.

PURPOSE TOLD

The world of "left wingers" will, of course, condemn Portugal and applaud Nehru and argue that it is "colonialism" which is being uprooted. But the real purpose of the "peaceful demonstrations" against Goa is to force the issue into the United Nations in the hope that the United States and Britain will be embarrassed and will refrain from participation as some scheme is devised to let India grab the territory of Goa.

As for Korea, the "peaceful demonstrations" there have consisted of riots in protest against the presence of Polish and Czech members of the so-called neutral nations supervisory commission appointed to carry out the terms of the Panmunjom armistice.

Maybe President Rhee saw the value of a little propaganda to publicize throughout the world the true situation with respect to the Polish and Czech members of the commission.

For, while this commission is permitted to go anywhere in South Korea, the Swedish and Swiss representatives are not allowed to inspect where they please in North Korea.

CHINA BLUFFING

The Red Chinese say they want to negotiate for the unification of Korea but in Geneva a year ago they spurned the United Nations and still do. President Rhee is willing to negotiate directly with the North Koreans after the Chinese Red Army is withdrawn and the North Korean Army is demobilized.

The position of the United States in all this is anomalous. The Washington government is committed to the support of a United Nations plan for supervision of any solution. Secretary Dulles sees no signs of any progress toward unification and reiterates that America will not use force to unify Korea.

All that Syngman Rhee wants is that the Communists get off his land and give him back the part of his territory they were unjustly granted at Panmunjom. That's why he, too, puts on a few "peaceful demonstrations." Doubtless he will be denounced by the "neutralists" and "left wing" spokesmen as a disturber of the peace.

Yet the chief "neutralist" in New Delhi will continue his coercive economic campaign against Goa and will undoubtedly call it all a "peaceful excursion" with nonviolence." Despite the inspirational meeting at Geneva, the "cold war" goes on.

Dr. Brady Says:

Good Irish Name Doubles as Public Relations Man

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

Take it from Ol Doc Brady, who never lets you poor souls down, the easiest way to become famous is to employ a good agent, the kind formerly called a press agent but latterly known as a public relations counsellor. The difference between the former and the latter is upwards of $800 a month.

Up to now I haven't spent a penny for such service. Why should I? Some of the best PR counsellors in the business are glad to serve me out of kindness, gratitude or good will, as for instance this Chicago cop, who probably will never forget how easy I was with him the extremely hot day he stopped me out on Lake Shore Drive and opined I was going a tweeny-weeny bit too fast.

Well, anyway, he was a fine broth of a boy and when I told him me name was Brady he waved me on with all good wishes.

Not long afterward I heard from a New Jersey reader whose cousin from Chicago had just visited her. She says:

"I have arthritis in my knees, hands and hips. He said you had cured so many people in Chicago and I should write and ask for your prescription of vitamins and also what foods to eat."

ONE TESTIMONIAL

From that army of people in Chicago I have received one testimonial, to wit:

Dear Dr. Brady:

What you said about rheumatiz made a deep impression on me:

"In my judgment joint disability of more than a year's duration is usually not arthritis at all (joint inflammation) but rheumatiz (degeneration of joint tissues) due to prolonged, probably lifelong nutritional deficiency."

Having had two years of treatment with medicine and shots for so-called arthritis, I realized I was steadily getting no better.

So I discontinued medical treatment and began Ca. D. B Complex and I as you suggest in your pamphlet. That was in April, '54. Have never seen my doctor since. All of the pain has left my knees and I feel just fine . . .

(Signed—C. W. Van H.)

ARTHRITIS RARE

Treatment of arthritis, a comparatively rare disease, is a matter which only the patient's physician can intelligently advise or apply. For all the information the New Jersey woman vouchsafes her trouble may or may not be arthritis.

In the case of the Chicago man, I'm encouraged to think, I got over the point I have been trying so hard to put over. He's one in a thousand. Most of you poor geeks will continue to pay through the nose for wonder drugs and shots as long as your trick specialists and "clinic" racketeers can string you along with the phony diagnosis of "arthritis."

What do I mean, phony?

For one thing I mean that in nine cases out of ten the joint disability is not inflammation at all (not arthr-itis) . . . instead, it is physical degeneration.

Consult the dictionary for the meaning of physical degeneration, and if you want to know how to prevent, retard, arrest or maybe reverse degeneration, send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope and ask in writing, signed, (no clipping, please) for the pamphlet Calcium and Rheumatiz.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to the Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Mich.

Case Records of a Psychologist

Well-Established Plant Foreman Asks If He Should Quit Job to Go to School

Robert needs to realize that life is not always a case of "either or". Sometimes you can effect a compromise which will salvage the present values, yet permit you to expand in a new direction. St. Paul did his preaching as his hobby, for he worked full time as a tentmaker.

By DR. GEORGE W CRANE

Case P-315: Robert T., aged 31, is father of 3 youngsters.

"Dr. Crane, I have a good paying job in industry," he began. "I am a foreman.

"My wife is a wonderful woman, too, and very economical so we get along fine.

"But I am unhappy. For my mother always wanted me to be a teacher. And I feel that maybe I should borrow money and go to college so I could teach.

"My wife says if that is what I really want, she'll do everything in her power to help me.

"So what would you advise me to do?"

VOCATIONAL GUMPTION

Definitely I would not advise Robert to give up a good job in industry so he can try to get into public school teaching.

If his yen to be a teacher is based on his desire to fulfill his mother's plans for him, he can still effect a good compromise.

For anybody who likes teaching can instruct a Sunday school class each week, or handle a Boy Scout troop.

Or Robert could probably study at night in a local college, while holding down his good paying job by day, and specialize in personnel strategy.

Then he could probably tie in with his Personnel Department as a teacher of new employes in some phase of manufacturing.

USE HORSE SENSE

But it isn't good "horse sense" to gamble a good position on an indefinite future job in a radically different field.

Suppose Robert should quit his job. His pleasant home life would no longer be so enjoyable, for his wife would be forced to get a job to help keep him in school.

They'd probably be compelled to live in cramped quarters for economy sake.

And the three children would play and fight and get in Robert's hair, so to speak, when he tried to study.

FROM BAD TO WORSE

She'd then become hurt at his ingratitude for her sacrifices for him.

He'd be forced to study at home and serve meanwhile as baby sitter. Maybe she'd finally grow so irked she'd stop at a movie with a girl friend.

Robert might then grow jealous. So she might give him something to be jealous of. And a divorce might slither into their previously happy home before he even graduated from college.

LOOK AHEAD

You married folks must look ahead and anticipate future contigencies. Don't make snap judgments.

It is your main duty to protect the safety and harmony of your home. You are obligated to rear your children properly. Robert's first educational duty is to his own three children.

Besides, society can recruit plenty of teachers for the public schools without having to jeopardize the happiness of already established homes.

So never let nostalgia for mamma's approval, cause you to act foolishly. The churches permit everybody to indulge in altruistic work as a hobby.

CHURCHES NEED HELP

Whether you originally aspired to be a nurse or physician, teacher or missionary, you can still perform much of such humanitarian work via your local church.

Remember, St. Paul was a tentmaker by trade. He did his preaching in his spare time, and so can all of us, if we are not professional clergymen.

So send for my "Vocational Guidance" booklet, enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus a dime. It will inject "horse sense" into your vocational plans.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and a dime to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his psychological charts.

Voice of the People

Fred V. Haggard Supports Goal of Municipal Parking

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

I agree with the editor that the Pontiac City Commissioners should have whole-hearted support of all citizens of Pontiac in their efforts to give this city more municipal parking facilities.

The Press points out one reason we should have additional parking is the revenue factor. Although revenue is to be considered, I feel the most important factor is the need for the additional parking facilities. This city has been far behind other cities of the same size in providing such facilities.

People living in the city are traveling to the outskirts to do their shopping because there are no convenient parking areas downtown. If the City of Pontiac does not furnish parking downtown, in the very near future, we will find the Saginaw Street business center a 'ghost town'.

Another important aspect of the downtown parking situation, as far as I am concerned, is the possibility of the very important County governmental building moving from the downtown area because of lack of parking facilities.

The Commissioners of the City of Pontiac should be commended for their action. Support your Commissioners. Let them know you are in favor of additional parking facilities.

Fred V. Haggard, President
Pontiac-Oakland County Industrial Union Council, CIO

Identification in Wallet Fails to Bring Return

I am wondering if the party who picked up the billfold in Ted's Trailer needed the money more than the widow who was saving it to pay her taxes.

Since there were all kinds of proper identification, there was no reason for it not to be returned if one were honest enough for it.

Hoping you will have much pleasure from something that belongs to another.

Rukeyser Lauds Freedom in Political Organization

By MERRYL S. RUKEYSER
INS Economic Commentator

My interest has been reawakened by the comment alleging that I was pro-Big Business and anti-Welfare State.

That characterization is at best a jumble of confusing half-truths.

It is important that in these days of the Battle of the International Conferences, we should know exactly what Americanism in August 1955 is.

As for myself, I am in favor of a voluntary form of social and political organization, as contrasted with a police-state, which rests on force.

To me, business can be a social tool through which human beings deal with one another. Business has respect for the individual, who, as customer, is ultimate boss.

Likewise, while our free-choice economic society gives the customer liberty in selecting goods and services, it also provides the individual, as worker, to choose a calling to his own liking.

IMMATURE NOTION

Any notion that I have a bias for or against bigness in business is immature. In handicraft industries, the optimum size of a business unit is small. On the other hand, in the mass-production industries, substantially larger units are indicated. As to the best size, this differs with circumstances. I go along with Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., chairman of General Motors Corporation, who points to the need of decentralization within a big corporate organization.

The point is that optimum size is a delicate technological question. It has been befuddled because politics has been injected, and for a time critics were making it appear that bigness was an evil per se. Concepts of bigness must be related to contemporary trends.

The remark about being against a welfare state should also be carefully audited.

BE ON GUARD

Unless you are on guard, you might think that one who would like to achieve the good life through a voluntary, free-choice system is against "welfare." On the contrary, the annals of the American enterprise system reveal that it has achieved vastly more per capita material well-being than any so-called "welfare state."

Never let it be said that the American economic system rests its case merely on being more productive — on giving toilers more and better things in exchange for a week's work. It can and does vastly out-produce the slave economies of Eastern Europe and Asia, but in addition the American system throws off precious extra dividends in the form of self-expression, self-determination and increasing leisure.

In the free world it is essential that we have a clear understanding of the essentials of our operating procedures. As for myself, I reserve the right to attack as emphatically as I can any business entity, large or small, which exploits, cheats or dishonors the public interest. The tools should not be regarded as the ultimate objectives of human activity.

Children Need School Preview

Take Tot to Grounds Before Opening Class Begins for Him

Every child needs a preview of school, says the National Education Assn.

A good beginning is to take him on visits to school in the spring before he will be entered. He'll have a chance to watch other children having fun on the playground. He'll see them enjoying block building and reading in the classrooms.

These experiences, the association contends, should give him an idea of what to expect and whet his appetite for starting school.

If he seems overwhelmed by the size of the school, explain all the things that go on inside the friendly walls—things he'll be doing when it's his school.

As opening day nears, walk to school with him several times so he'll know the route. When he does, and you know it's safe, turn him loose—let him go alone on foot or by bus.

If you must go with him for safety, stop at the school steps cheerfully tell him goodbye, and leave him to get acquainted with his classmates.

ON HIS OWN

Remember that at school he should feel he's on his own. He can't feel very responsible with mother hovering outside his classroom.

Show by your words and attitude that school is not only a happy, but an important place of new and wonderful experiences.

Proper health habits to go along with his independence at school also should be part of the basic preparation. It should be started at home.

Your youngster should be able to use a drinking fountain correctly, use the toilet regularly and by himself, cover his nose and mouth with a handkerchief when sneezing or coughing, wash his hands thoroughly with soap and water after play, before and after eating and after toileting.

A topknot-to-toenail physical examination by your family doctor and dentist should be planned well in advance of the day he'll start school.

Then you'll have plenty of time to start treatment for any defects found by the examination.

Also, your doctor can advise you as to just what immunization — smallpox, diptheria, whooping cough, tetanus — your youngster should have before registration day.

Child's TV Watching May Prove Valuable

Television watching by children worries many parents. But even the critics admit that "children may be getting much from television that is valuable."

The problem seems to be to control it or ration it and to make some use of it.

"With a bit of encouragement," says a child guidance expert, "children may be inspired by television's delightful puppet characters to make their own plays modeled after their favorite programs.

This kind of activity, however simple and crude, turns their television viewing into a creative experience."

Teaching children to discriminate between good and bad programs also is advocated as a kind of education.

Mary, Queen of Scots had so many wigs she had a special coach to carry them when she traveled.

The Navy's standard oxygen equipment for flyers will permit a man to breathe under water for half an hour.

Let the Installment Buyer Beware!

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK, (AP)—You walk along the street and see a sign on a good used car: "Only $5 down."

You look at a new house and the builder tells you: "If you're a veteran, $200 down is all you need." (Until recently you didn't need even that.)

An ad in the paper says: "Wall-to-wall carpeting for the entire house at $4 a week."

Next to striking oil, it's the easiest way man ever has devised for raising his standard of living—and fast.

It's also one of the easiest ways of getting beyond your depth if you don't watch your step.

The vast majority of Americans are meeting their weekly or monthly payments. Finance companies say the record of installment payments on cars is now the best in history. In June, when a record $1,766,000,000 of credit was extended to new car buyers, others were paying in $1,190,000,000 on previous loans.

The percentage of delinquencies and repossessions remains at a remarkably low level—and stable over the years. But as the total of consumer debt rises, the total amount of delinquencies tends to rise also, even if at the same low percentage.

The American Collectors Assn. says that six million American families are delinquent on payments for one or more things they've bought on time.

An agency that specializes in helping families after they get in a financial mess estimates that 10 million families are pinched by the debts they've piled up with overenthusiasm.

The quality of some installment loans in recent months worries Administration officials. Terms have been getting easier—down payments lower, maturity times extended.

This has been due largely to sales competition. Almost all kinds of consumer goods are in abundant supply.

How do people get in over their depth? Silver Shield, an organization that makes a business of trying to help people who find they can't meet their payments—and charges 10 per cent for doing it—says that most of them just didn't realize they were taking on so much debt.

Modern merchandising puts such emphasis on time payment sales and makes credit look so easy that a family lacking sound money judgment just eases into debt before it knows it.

Others are victims of illness or reduced income because of loss of overtime or from layoffs.

Finance companies and bankers have assured the administration that from now on they'll be looking more closely to see if loan applicants are credit-worthy.

Social Security Laws Change With Times

WASHINGTON (INS) — Welfare Secretary Marion B. Folsom says the nation's social security system "must change with changing economic and social conditions."

In his first speech as Secretary of the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, Folsom told past and present officials of the Social Security Administration that "social security cannot remain static."

Pledging a continuing study of the 20-year-old social security program, Folsom said:

"I am cognizant of the fact that millions of persons are dependent upon social security as a basic floor of protection, that huge sums of public funds are involved, that a tremendous administrative machinery has been developed to administer the program.

"All of these, and other factors, call for a continuing analysis and a willingness to recognize that programs as large as social security cannot remain static."

American Tourists Help French Profit

PARIS (AP) — American tourists make a lot of food, drink and laundry business for the French.

The Compagnie International des Wagons-Lits et des Grands Express Europeans — which operates the familiar blue railroad dining cars—says that during the season it serves American tourists each month with:

A half million meals, 17,000 half bottles of fine wines (hardly anyone ever buys a full bottle); 15,000 bottles of champagne, 8,000 bottles of cognac.

In addition, Wagon-Lits launders 55,000 table covers a month, 530,000 napkins and 100,000 bedsheets. Crockery makers do all right, too. Each year, the company replaces 100,000 plates, 74,000 glasses, 93,000 saucers and 10,000 broken cups.

Government experts estimate that a black snake has a value of $3.75 for rodent control.

Pencil makers estimate that pencils still do about 90 per cent of U.S. writing jobs.

Army Fighting Arctic Winter

U. S.-Canada Task Units Racing to Install Radar Outposts Before Freeze

WASHINGTON (INS)—The Army is engaged today in a race against time—the approaching Arctic winter.

The Defense Department reports that 3,900 specially trained U. S. troops are rushing construction material into positions north of the Arctic Circle to begin the continental electronic warning system.

For the so-called "Dew Line" radar network—a joint U. S.-Canadian project—over 200,000 tons of supplies and material are to be landed during the next six weeks at more than 50 locations.

The radar system is designed to protect North America from any surprise trans-polar air attack.

The job must be completed before polar ice closes in for the winter along the northern Alaskan coast and at Baffin Island.

Two Army task forces, one from the Atlantic and the other from the Pacific, are en route aboard transports to the scene of operations.

PACIFIC FORCE

For the Pacific and central Canada operations, 1,675 Army troops will pass Point Barrow, Alaska, eastbound this month.

The Army said this group will proceed through the Beaufort Sea into the Canadian Artic. It will drop off detachments of men, equipment and cargo vessels at various landing sites. The easternmost site probably will be reached late in August.

The Army added that the task team for this location must finish its unloading operations in time to clear Point Barrow westbound with the rest of the convoy by late September.

ATLANTIC FORCE

The Atlantic force, numbering about 1,300 men, is divided into two groups. The first group arrived recently at Baffin Island, and will operate along that coast until late September. The second group is due shortly in the Baffin Island area. It is to proceed to landing sites in northeastern Canada as the ice clears from the beaches.

In this region the open water season usually ends late in September, while along the east coast of Baffin Island, the ice moves in during early October.

The Army said Arctic summer will be past its height when the forces arrive at the landing areas, and that daylight temperatures will average about 30 degrees Fahrenheit.

Before the Army convoys again reach the open seas at the end of September, the Arctic winter will be under way.

Malaria Everywhere

NEW DELHI (AP) — The government of India estimates that nearly 100 million people—more than a quarter of the national population—suffer attacks of malaria annually in this country. Of those infected, says the estimate, at least one million die each year from the fever.

PERFECT GO-TOGETHERS — Fall season of 1955 dictates the new flared skirts such as Wyona Turner is wearing in the above photo. Part of the flare is achieved with inverted pleats which are anchored with the belt line. In small checks, the skirt is topped with a harmonizing slipover Orlon sweater.

An average family today has twice as much life insurance as it had 25 years ago, and at least four times as much in personal savings, according to government estimates.

Test Your Reading Habits on This Item

Your reading habits are shown by the way you read this item, say the experts.

If you read each word and look again, or if your eye movements are irregular, you are not reading as well as you should.

Challenge, a university magazine contends that you can double your reading speed if you train yourself to note key words such as subjects, verbs and negative words, switch gears to match the material and read ideas instead of words.

More Roads Needed

DETROIT (AP) — Metropolitan Detroit will need 200 miles of expressways to handle the traffic that can be expected in 1980, says an expert after a two-year study of driving habits here. He is Dr. J. Douglas Carrol Jr., of the University of Michigan, and he said the cost would be a billion dollars.

WORM'S EYE VIEW — Marching, bane of the foot-soldier's existence, is still an integral part of military training. Members of Pontiac's two National Guard units currently training at Camp Grayling are finding the roads just as dusty, the sun just as hot and their feet just as weary as ever.

MOTOR MAINTENANCE — Lt. Jon Karaw, of Waterford Township, points out a trouble spot in a truck motor to repairman Cpl. Robert C. Henderson, of Pontiac. Both are members of the 107th Ordnance Company. Men of this unit are vital cogs in the machinery that keeps a fighting division in peak operating efficiency. Their work ranges from keeping a .45 caliber automatic firing to correcting malfunctions in huge tanks.

READY FOR BARRAGE—Pfc. Gerald C. Lewis, of Keego Harbor, left, and Pfc. Malcolm A. Walker of 35 Henderson St., stand ready to fire their 81 millimeter motor after Sgt. Glenn Baker, of 93 Dwight St., checks their sight. The three men, along with others in Company M are taking part this week in simulated combat exercises.

TRUCK REPAIR — Cpl. Robert C. Henderson, of 257 Auburn Ave., tightens front end bolts on a jeep as men from the 107th Ordnance Company, of Pontiac, kept busy maintaining vehicles and weapons for the 46th division in training at the northern Michigan camp.

SACK TIME — It isn't all work for men of the 107th Ordnance Company. Here Sgt. Joseph H. Batten gets 40 winks between duties as a mechanic.

CHECK RESULTS — Members of an M Company heavy machinegun squad await reports of their marksmanship during training at Camp Grayling. Crew members are, standing left to right, M. Sgt. Everett B. Austin of Birmingham, Sgt. Billie J. Flippo, of 103 Hamilton Ct., and Sgt. 1.C. Charles W. Austin, of 86 Murphy St., and Lt. Col. Robert C. McCall, of Owosso. Col. McCall is commander of the 3rd Battalion, 125th Infantry.

Bonanzagram No. 24

Story Clues

John C. and his bride of a year, nicknamed Ellie, decided on a motor trip for their first vacation. Their plans included a visit to Ellie's parents in Virginia. She was very excited about this, as she had not seen her family or friends since the wedding. So she and John set out in their battered, old convertible. The plan was that, after the visit, John's parents, who were also motoring, would join them for the home stretch. They were to meet on Thursday, the tenth, at the Cascades Motor Court, some miles from Ellie's old home. When the elder C's arrived, they found the meeting had been postponed for a day, because of some unexpected festivities. Ellie had stopped at the motel earlier in the week and left a characteristically hasty and chatty note to explain the situation. The motel proprietor was most apologetic; the note had blown off the desk and his spaniel puppy had chewed it, gouging out a number of the letters. Can you figure out, as the C's did, what the note says?

How to Play 'Bonanzagram'

Solve the "Bonanzagram" by filling in all the missing letters, as indicated by the underscores, in the message. Insert only one letter above each underscore. Many clues to the missing letters are hidden in the story, or anecdote, accompanying the message itself, and, in a few cases, the contestant's general knowledge should provide the correct letter. The contestant will note that the message is unpunctuated. Punctuation will help solve the message but is not necessary to win.

All missing letters must be correctly inserted to win a Bonzagram prize. Punctuation will not be considered in judging a correct answer.

When properly filled in, the "Bonanzagram" will spell out a clear message that will conform in every way with the clues. In many cases it will seem that more than one word would be the correct one. That's part of the fun! You should weigh the clues and select the BEST possible word in each case.

How to Submit

1. After solution is completed, "Bonanzagram" should be clipped and pasted to a two-cent postcard with your name and address.

2. Entries will be received at the Pontiac Press office, 48 W. Huron St., until 5 p.m. Tuesday, Aug. 23. Mail entries must be postmarked before midnight Tuesday, Aug. 23, for Bonanzagram No. 24. Address "Bonanzagram, % Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Mich.

3. Entries may be mailed in envelope but contestant's full name and number of puzzle must be printed in upper left corner of address side of envelope.

4. Copies of the Press need not be purchased to enter. Facsimiles made by hand and corresponding as closely as possible to the original "Bonanzagram" printed in the Press will be accepted but are limited one to a family. Mimeograph, duplicator or other unofficial mechanical reproduction is forbidden.

How to Collect the Prize

The entrant must work out and keep duplicate solution as a claim check. When the solution is published in the Press, he should compare his "claim check" with the published solution, and if his claim check is identical, he should call in person with his claim check at the Press office, 48 W. Huron St., before 5 p.m. on the Monday following publication of the solution.

If a winner cannot call at the Press office in person he should mail his solution to "Bonanzagram Editor." This letter must reach the Press not later than 5 p.m. the Monday after publication of the answer. Correct answers are void unless the contestant reports his claim by the deadlines listed here.

Judge Selection Under Scrutiny

Lawyers Move Ahead to Revise Current Mode for Bench Appointment

LANSING (AP) — The State Bar Association is moving ahead in its campaign to revise procedures for appointment of Michigan Judges.

The association's committee on judicial selection and tenure adopted a report on the plan for submission to the association membership at its annual meeting Sept. 16 in Detroit.

The report recommended that:

Lawyers assist the better judges for Michigan committee in circulating initiative petitions to amend the constitution in order to adopt the new appointment plan.

That lawyers get behind a public relation campaign to inform the public as to what changes would take place if the new system were adopted.

A hotly-disputed issue for years, the association itself is split almost evenly in its attitude toward the proposal.

Under the present system, the governor fills vacancies on the supreme court, circuit and probate courts benches.

Under the American Bar Association plan, the governor would appoint a committee of three judges, three lawyers and three laymen to help out in selection.

This committee would review the names of candidates and select three for submission to the governor. The governor would have to appoint one of the three.

The better judges for Michigan committee has presented the initiatory petitions to the state board of canvassers for approval.

Plant Life of the Oceans Will Become Food on Table

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (INS) — The plant life of the sea, now serving only as food for fish, will in the future become a common place item on man's dinner plate.

Minute live animal and plant creatures called plankton, which furnish the food supply of fish, have been recognized by scientists as a potential food resource for men and domestic animals.

Scientists calculate that a square mile of ocean produces an average of 13,000 tons of vegetation a year, with a world total probably five times that of the vegetation on land.

The importance of mastering the vast storehouse of marine resources is demonstrated by the predication that by the end of the century the population of the world will be almost double its present figure.

Even the most promising advances in agricultural sciences will not be sufficient to furnish the future demand for food.

To investigate further the sea's resources UNESCO has organized the international advisory committee on marine sciences which will meet for the first time next October in Tokyo.

The committee is expected to coordinate a cooperative, long-term international research program now being prepared under UNESCO auspices.

The program will include such activities as the mapping of the ocean bottom and the study of the soils and sediments, temperature variations and ocean currents, conditions governing plant growth, types of animal life at various locations, diseases and parasites of plant and animal life, and the resources of edible fish in accessible areas.

The advantages of "farming" the sea are:

The sea contains great quantities of nutrients which could be made to increase the growth of planktonic life and in turn stimulate the growth of marine animal life.

In marine agriculture there can be no such lack of water such as besets terrestrial agriculture.

It is believed that marine plant diseases, where they exist, can be more easily controlled in this environment.

Flow of River Silt Heavy

WASHINGTON (INS)—On an average day some half a million tons of silt ride the Colorado River down to Lake Mead, the huge reservoir created by Hoover Dam. During the flood year of 1927 the river carried 27,600,000 tons of silt past a given point in 24 hours, says the National Geographical Society.

Old Cars Add New Gloss to Local Highway Scene

The Rolls-Royce, "Coupe de Ville," photographed with its owners, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brodie of Birmingham, was made in England in 1935. This 20-25 horsepower model, nicknamed Baby Rolls, is cream with black fenders and a light tan top. Mr. Brodie has added stainless steel bumpers. The 20 year old car is far ahead of its time with 12 volt ignition, power brakes and automotive chassis lubrication. Mr. Brodie, a member of the "Classic Car Club of America," will be part of a caravan of 100 cars leaving Harrisburg, Pa., for a two-day trip to Detroit.

The bright, black Ford roadster with nickel trim, in Dr. Ashton W. Emery's garage on Dixie Highway dates back to 1923. This Model T is exactly like the car in which Dr. Emery took Mrs. Emery (above) on a wedding trip 32 years ago. The car, 16 horsepower, has three foot pedals on the floor and uses 30x3½ inch tires. Until a few years ago when the Emerys purchased it, the roadster had been in the Ford Motor Car Company collection, and was driven in the Golden Jubilee Parade in Detroit. Dr. Emery bought this 1923 car its first license.

Ancient Autos Were 'Freak' Luxury

By MARY ANGLEMIER

At the turn of the century, the Barnum and Bailey Circus advertised: "The famous Duryea Motor-Wagon, the identical HORSELESS CARRIAGE that won the great race in Chicago last November—to be seen every day in the new street parade."

The race was from Chicago to Evanston, Ill., and back, 52 miles. The average speed was 5.05 miles per hour.

Although steam cars were made as early as 1871 in Racine, Wis., by Dr. J. W. Carhart and Ransom E. Olds in 1886, the first marketable car was built by Charles and Frank Duryea in 1893 and is an exhibit in the Smithsonian Institution.

Early automobiles had carriage wheels, dashboard and springs with the engine beneath the seat.

The vogue for steam cars lasted several years with the Stanley and White, the most popular. Drawbacks to the steamer were the time it took to get steamed up, the limited number of miles that could be traveled on a boilerful of water and the corrosion of the boiler.

LED PARADE

In 1905, a White Steamer led the inaugural parade for President Theodore Roosevelt.

In 1903, Henry Ford put out his first Model A, a two cylinder, which had two speeds forward, one reverse. His advertisements read: "No smell, noise or jolt." The famous Model T or "Tin Lizzie" was produced in 1908. He continued with this model for 19 years, manufacturing 15,000,000.

A single cylinder Packard carried Tom Fetch in 1903 from San Francisco, Calif., to New York city in 61 days. Dubbed "Old Pacific," it is in the Greenfield Museum in Dearborn.

From 1900-1915, electric car companies advertised cars which were "clean, quiet and easy to operate —the only car for a lady." This car was considered a social asset.

The electric car had several disadvantages. One was that it would run only 40 to 60 miles before it was necessary to recharge the batteries. It could not compete with the gasoline car.

The very first automobile show was held in 1900, in Madison Square Garden and 34 cars, all kinds—gas, steam and electric were exhibited.

The Oakland car, 1907 model, which later became the Pontiac had a new variety of engine that rotated in a counterclockwise direction, and the Oakland company was the first to use Duco instead of paint.

NO TOPS ON AUTOS

Most of the early cars had no tops, so the wind, rain and dust took its toll. Fashions of the day for motorists were goggles and caps for men and huge veils tied over the hats for women. Both wore long tan linen or rubberized coats or dusters.

Rubber robes that completely covered both back and front seats were tucked away for a rainy day. These storm aprons had five holes in them for the heads of the riders. Each hole had a collar that buttoned securely around the neck.

In the 1920s, many songs were written about the automobile and motorist. The most famous was Gus Edwards' "In My Merry Oldsmobile." Others were "Henry's Made a Lady Out of Lizzie" and "Get Out and Get Under."

Through the years, many men have contributed to the invention, design and production of American automobiles. Several of the early ones are remembered today because there are still cars bearing their names: Buick, Chevrolet, Chrysler, Dodge, Ford, Nash, Olds, Packard and Studebaker.

Others who offered auto contributions were scientists and engineers, like Kettering, who invented the self starter and developed Ethyl gasoline, and Leland of Cadillac, whose precision work led to the first automobile with interchangeable parts.

Great executives and organizers, like Durant, Joy and Sloan also did their part. They were all men who devoted most of their lives to the automobile.

Hostess Not Expected to Pay Dinner

By EMILY POST

An interesting letter today tells me: "I invited several of my old classmates to my house for Sunday dinner as a sort of reunion. These classmates, all of whom are from out of the state, wrote accepting the invitation to come to this city but they suggested having dinner at a restaurant, thus saving me the work involved in preparing a meal and giving me more time to visit with them.

"As they insisted upon this I agreed to do just that. Please tell me if it would be incorrect not to offer to pay for the dinner for the group. I do not feel that I can afford to do this, but would like to do what is expected of me. Please advise me."

Answer: Under the circumstances you describe it would not be expected of you to pay for the dinner because they themselves have taken the initiative. If you had suggested it, then you would have to pay for it.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Would it be improper to include the name of the church in which we were married on our wedding announcements? We were married in a very old and famed chapel and I think many of our friends would be interested in this detail, but I am told the name of the church is never put on an announcement. Is this true?"

Answer: It is true that neither the hour nor the church in which the marriage took place is included in the usual announcement because this information is not needed by those who were not invited to the service and needless lines of engraving are needless expense. But there is certainly no objection to including this information if you would like to.

Fete JoAnn Dearing at Birthday Party

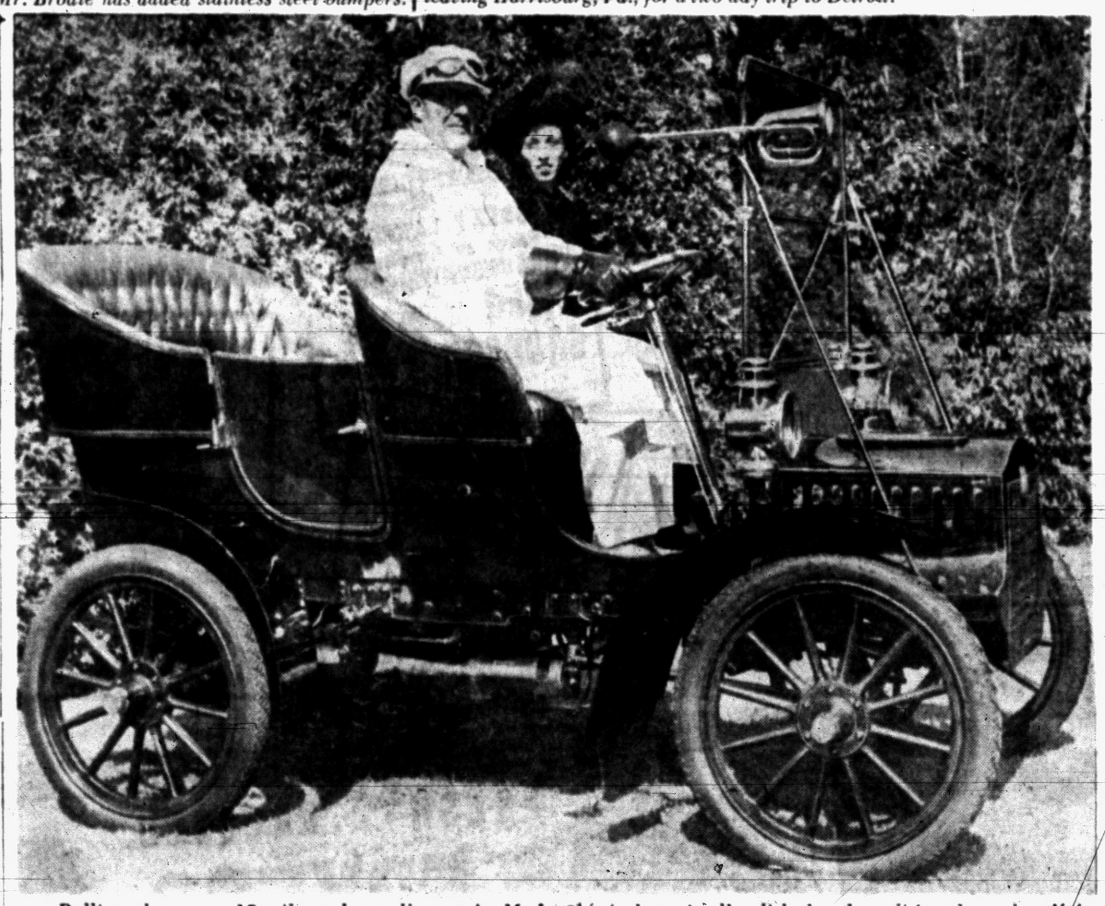

Pine Lake Country club was the setting for the party held Tuesday honoring JoAnn Dearing, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde N. Dearing of Ottawa drive. The occasion marked JoAnn's fifteenth birthday.

Invited to attend were Gail Blamy, Terry Fortino, Judy Baker, Lynne Benter and Sharon Gale. Judy Inman, Mary Inman and Suzanne Boyd were also invited.

Coming from out-of-town were Gibby Slater, Margo Mehas and Mary Ellen Bogen of Birmingham and Elaine Mustard of Pennsylvania.

Keep Draperies Clean

Vacuum draperies or shake out loose dirt before washing. Lined draperies are rarely washable. Slipcover instructions apply to draperies, too. Iron on the wrong side or use a press cloth, then brush fringes or comb them with your fingers.

Rolling along at a 15 mile an hour clip are the M. J. Donnells of Waterford, in their 1904 Cadillac. Brewster green in color, the car has one cylinder and a whistle that sounds like a turkey gobbler. When this Cadillac needs a new part, Mr. Donnell makes it. This four passenger car, 8½ ft. long, is all polished and conditioned to take off for the annual old car show and parade at Greenfield Village in September. The cap, goggles and duster worn by Mr. Donnell, and the hat and dress Mrs. Donnell is wearing were the fashion of the era.

Beattie of West Walton boulevard have loaned this 1903 model for the old car exhibition at the Michigan State University Centennial, which is now being held in East Lansing. Back seat riders enter the car, from a door at the rear to sit in the tonneau seats. The eight horsepower car has two-cylinder chain drive, kerosene head and tail lights and a decorative brass railing that surrounds the seats. The Beatties were in Ludington for the centennial the first week of August and entered the parade with this prized possession.

Desperation Never Caught a Man

By ANNE HEYWOOD

There is one thing I have learned, from my work with unmarried career girls, and that is: when you try desperately to attract a man, you make him run a mile; but when you get so interested in what you're doing that you forget all about men, you attract them easily.

* * *

Take the summer vacation problem, for example.

Every summer, hundreds of business girls splurge like crazy on their two weeks with pay. They take a cruise, or go to a resort, buy fabulous clothes and hope some man will fall.

As a rule, there are about fifty girls to each man and the men are, therefore, rotten spoiled. The girls come back to the office, still unattached, and hope they'll have better luck next year.

Eventually, they may take up fishing, or golf, or something that men engage in, and they spend their two weeks in a place where, for a change, there are more men than women.

But it still doesn't work. Their interest in fishing—or golf, or whatever—is not real. All they are really interested in is catching a man. The men sense this and continue to stay away in droves.

THE RIGHT WAY

All too often, this goes on year after year. But occasionally, I hear from a girl who does it the right way. Helen is such a girl, and here is what her letter said:

"This summer, I decided to give up. I'm thirty-seven and have a good secretarial job. Every blessed year I've spent my two-weeks-with-pay trying to get a man. This year, I figured it was too late, so I engaged in a thing that has always interested me — photographing flowers.

"I flew to Puerto Rico and went all over the island, camera in hand. I wore old clothes, and it was a great relief not to have to put on an act.

I got some wonderful shots and when I'd get back to the hotel at night, I'd be so tired that I slept like a baby.

"On the next to the last day, while I was photographing fern trees, I met a wonderful botanist who was doing research. We joined forces, and honestly, I was enjoying the work so much that I was downright startled when he asked if he could see me when I got back home to New York. That's his headquarters, too."

Helen concluded, "We've been dating ever since, and in the fall we're getting married!"

And the moral is: Find something that interests you, and you'll interest a man!

MR. and MRS. HUGH WILKINS

Betty Mae Ashby and Hugh Allen Wilkins were married Saturday evening at Church of Christ. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawson Ashby of Mariva street, and he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Wilkins of Whitfield drive.

Betty Mae Ashby Speaks Vows With Hugh Wilkins

Before an altar banked with bouquets of gladioli, chrysanthemums and palms, Betty Mae Ashby became the bride of Hugh Allen Wilkins at the Church of Christ Saturday evening.

Rev. Milton E. Truex performed the ceremony at 7:30 in the presence of 250 guests.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawson Ashby of Mariva street, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Ira J. Wilkins of Whitfield drive.

The bride's chapel length gown featured a white Chantilly lace bodice. Her full skirt was fashioned of illusion net over satin, and her fingertip veil fell from a headpiece of sequins. The bride carried a cascade arrangement of red and white roses with feathered carnations.

Shelvey Hodges was maid of honor and other attendants were Mrs. Bill Yates and Janice Lou Ashby. The maid of honor wore a waltz length princess style gown of ice blue. The other attendants wore gowns similar to the honor maid's. They carried bouquets of pink gladioli.

BEST MAN, USHERS

George Gidley was best man and ushers were Bill Yates, Ray Hester, Weldon Hatcher and E. C. Cloud.

A navy blue linen suit with white accessories was chosen by the bride for a going-away costume. After a honeymoon at Niagara Falls, the couple will reside in Sethcy, Ark, where Mr. Wilkins will enter college this fall.

Knit New Sweater From Yarn of Old

Instead of discarding an outgrown wool sweater, unravel it and knit up a new one. To keep the yarn from being kinky, wash the sweater in lukewarm soapsuds before unravelling.

After rinsing and drying bend a wire coat hanger into a square (rustproof metal cake racks will also serve) and unravel the sweater, winding the yarn around the hanger or rack as you go.

Next, swish yarn and holder through sudsy water, rinse and dry on clothesline.

Great Shortage in U.S. Is Rags

The great American shortage nowadays is just plain rags. Miracle fibers are now used for almost everything around the house—but they make poor rags and that narrows the field down to sheets, pillowcases and table linens, which are not lightly disposed of these days.

One good way of taking care of those indispensable mirror and glass cleaners, car polishers and spill-wipers is to keep them clean at all times.

Have a special weekly wash for household rags, and speed the whole process by using your clothes dryer to return them to duty fresh-smelling and lint-free.

Half-Hour Ham Loaf Made of Left-Overs

Left-over ham and corn meal can be combined to make an unusual ham loaf that can be ready for the table in about half an hour.

Bring two cups sweet milk to boiling point, but do not boil. Slowly add ½ cup corn meal, stirring constantly, and simmer five minutes.

Finely chop about ½ pound cooked ham and thoroughly mix it with ¼ pound grated cheese and three egg yolks, slightly beaten. Add to the corn meal and milk, and mix thoroughly. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites.

Navy Mothers Schedule Picnic

At a recent meeting of the Navy Mothers Club, plans were made for a cooperative picnic to be held Aug. 24 at 6 p.m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Pike of Draper street.

Members of the Executive Board will meet at the home of Mrs. Frank Reilly in Drayton Plains Aug. 31 at 7 p.m. The Navy Mothers plan to meet again Sept. 8 at Naval Training Center on South East Boulevard.

Emphasize width rather than height in the hat you wear with the new slim silhouette. The smart bulky look using long-haired felts and melusine complements the elongated lines of fall clothes.

MR. and MRS. JOHN SNEED JR.

Emma Lee Riggs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan W. Riggs of LeGrande avenue, became the bride of John H. Sneed Jr., Saturday. He is the son of the John H. Sneeds of Hudson avenue.

Emma L. Riggs Marries

The Rev. John W. Mulder officiated at the 7:30 candlelight ceremony. The altar was decorated with arrangements of white gladioli and stock.

The bride wore a floor length gown of Chantilly lace over bridal satin. The fitted bodice, which buttoned down the back with tiny covered buttons, was trimmed with sequins and pearls, and the long sleeves came to points over her wrists.

Her fingertip veil of illusion was fastened to a crown of pearls and sequins. She carried a spray of stephanotis with a white orchid center.

When they return the couple will reside on LeGrande avenue. The bride is a graduate of Henry Ford Hosiptal School of Nursing.

Every student who lives at college should have the organized essentials of good grooming, including a manicure set, a sewing kit and a shoe-shine kit for his or her basic needs.

Use Imagination to Buy Unique Hardware Items

Unusual hardware doesn't have to cost a mint of money. All you have to do is to put your imagination and a few dollars to work for you and you'll give your home a custom look.

Many items that you can buy in shops here and there would cost a small fortune if custom-designed. Instead they can be had at a low price and add really elegant touches to your home.

You will find it exciting to search through variety stores for unique objects and convert them to your own special hardware. Change the pieces around when you redecorate, and you will be amazed at the distinction you can give old furniture and cabinetwork.

Sunset Club Enjoys Jaunt to Bob-Lo

CAROL LEE FULTON

Mr. and Mrs. Baker Fulton of Auburn Heights are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Carol Lee, to Donald Clare Mosher, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clare Mosher of Donley avenue. The couple plan a fall wedding.

All bright colors and prints should be washed quickly in warm soapsuds and rinses. Soaking tends to loosen dyes and thus increases fading.

Girls It Takes Courage to Land Shy Lad

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

A shy boy is a tough nut to crack. He's standoffish, solemn, quiet (or too noisy), and usually surrounded by other boys. With them he gets along fine. But girls make him shrivel and run.

And how's an interested girl to catch up with a guy on the run when his whole object seems to be to stay out of her reach?

If she's shy, too, he's not likely to get caught. But a girl with some courage can break down the barriers, do his talking for him, make him feel wanted and comfortable. She can give him confidence. And that's all he really needs.

This girl took away all his confidence, and shattered his self-esteem—and now wonders why she's having trouble getting together with him. She writes:

"Dear Miss Woodward: When I told my girl friends that I liked him they all ran up and told him. I know if I were a boy I wouldn't like it.

"So I got mad and went to him myself and told him not to get the wrong impression. I didn't send those girls to him. I told him I didn't like him, never had and never would.

"He is terribly bashful and has never bothered with girls, though many (including me) have liked him. I see him out at swimming all the time. How could I get to know him better? How could I get him to notice me?"

Answer: The guy is shy. He needs a pat on the back. He needs to know that people find him interesting. He needs the assurance that girls like him.

So practically before he'd gotten used to the idea that you were interested in him, you knocked the props out from under him. You made him plenty uncomfortable by telling him you didn't like him. Nobody likes to hear that—most particularly a shy guy.

But you can undo the damage by being very friendly when you see him around. Let him see that you do like him and would like to get better acquainted. Gradually you can melt the ice and make him feel comfortable with you.

With a shy guy, don't knock—boost!

"Dear Miss Woodward: The kids say he likes me, but he is very shy. I'd like to tell him to call me or come over to my house now and then, but I can't get up enough nerve because of his shyness. What can I do?"

Answer: Whose shyness is really bothering you? It's yours! But you can get the courage to call him and ask him over if you don't make a big thing of it.

Ask another couple to help with the talk and the fun. A special invitation like that is legitimate, and ought not take too much nerve. It would help him to get started!

Short Formals Are Back Again

NEW YORK (NEA)—The short, formal evening gown and the gown at above ankle length are the gowns shown most often in the autumn collections.

But new this year is the slinky, full-length evening sheath. Floor-length ball gowns are shown, too, but it's the sheath that presents the newest, freshest silhouette in the longer lengths.

White satin is the fabric best liked for the new sheath and this is followed by black velvet and gold lame, the latter with mink touches.

Altogether, fabrics for evening gowns of all lengths are rich both in texture and color this year. Velvet, chiffon satin, lace, metallic brocades and peau de soie appear again and again.

Green, magenta, gold, black, white, scarlet and raspberry are colors that lend themselves to jeweling, embroidery, braid or fringe.

The formal evening gown is shown as a pencil sheath in the short as well as the long length this year and in fabrics every bit as luxurious as those used for the floor-length gowns.

Good Pictures Are the Result of Camera Care

A season in a dusty corner may not harm your galoshes, but such treatment can't do your camera any good.

Proper care and treatment of your camera will help you get good pictorial mementos of your summer vacation.

But if you did relegate your camera to some cobwebby shelf during the winter months, now's the time to take it out, wel in advance of that car trip you're planning.

Have your photographic supply dealer give it a thorough checking to make sure it's in perfect working order.

If it's an old camera, have it checked for light leak. Also, pick up an ample supply of film in case you may want to take pictures en route where film supplies may not be available.

If you plan to take some indoor shots or night scenes, get the proper flash equipment and an adequate supply of bulbs. In case you want to record your vacation story in both black-and-white and color, you might take two cameras, each loaded with different film.

En route, keep your camera in a case to protect it from hard knocks, dust and moisture. Never put your camera in the glove compartment or on the back window shelf, where extreme heat can damage the film.

To get clear snapshots, make sure the lens is free of dust and fingerprints. Grit or sand should be blown off the lens; rubbing may scratch the surface.

If you're doing any beach photography, remember to keep your camera away from the sand, which is ruinous to the works, also, a filter will protect the lens from beach spray.

Anniversary Party Honors the Yungks

There will be tweed shoes for fall and tweed bags, too. But to wear with black, not with a tweed suit.

HAIR FADED?
Has the summer sun taken its toll and left you with dull, faded hair. It can be easily and safely brightened, and lightened to harmonize with your fall clothes.

Perhaps your problem is a few new grey hairs which you would like covered, this too can be done without a drastic change in the shade of your hair. Of course you may have an entirely new shade. However, this we do not recommend. It is usually best to stay in your own color group.

Why go through the winter and its gala activities with grey or faded hair when it can be made more attractive?

Avoid Mildew Stains

Mildew stains are difficult to remove, so be sure to store clean fabrics dry. It's a good idea not to toss soiled items that are damp into the laundry bag in warm weather.

True Comfort Increases Strength

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

For an hour, the "new kid" who had just moved into the neighborhood had been pedaling his red, sleek automobile up and down the pavement before George's house.

Finally, unable to endure his envy, George asked for a ride. Without stopping the new kid said "Nope"—and executed a turn so skillfully that George wanted to hit him. Tearing his cherished space patrol badge from his T-shirt, George pursued the red car. When he caught up with it, he urged his offer to trade it for a ride so insistently that the new kid accepted the bribe—and clambered out of the car.

But as George reached for its wheel, his eagerness angered its owner. The new kid reneged on the deal. Shouting, "Leave my car alone!" he shoved George, who fell to the pavement and cut his knee.

He got it. First, with sympathy, she bathed his cut. Second, she listened carefully to his story of betrayal. Third, when it was told, she exposed his mistake—and suggested the way to correct it.

"I guess the new kid never wanted to give you a ride," George's mother said. "Perhaps you pushed him so hard to give you one that he wanted to push you back. If this was your mistake, you can go back to where you made it—and put it right. You could go out right now—and ask the new kid to give you back your space patrol badge."

On his mother's lap, George sat up. Slackness went out of his body; eagerness came back to it. He scrambled to his feet, the cut forgotten—and rushed out the door to put right his mistake.

True comfort always works like this. Always its aim is to free us from need of its strength—and release our eagerness to test our own again.

False comfort always aims to keep us dependent on its strength—and has all kinds of tricks to discourage us from testing our own.

In George's situation, it would have used two tricks. First, it would have made a big production of his cut. Second, it would have carefully ignored his aggressiveness toward the "new kid" to persuade him that he'd been unjustly used. It would have masked its intention to convince him of his helplessness by a show of indignant tenderness.

It would have said, "Poor darling, what a terrible thing to have done to you! Never go near that boy again! Never mind, Mommy's got chocolate pudding for lunch. No you musn't go and get your space patrol badge back—or you'll start that cut to bleeding again. Just be quiet and don't worry. Mommy will see that you get another badge."

Lulled by this tricky talk, George would not know that he was being told, "You have no strength. I have it all."

False comforters take secret delight in children's relapses into weakness because they are opportunities to keep the children to themselves.

Give Fragrance Shower for Bride-to-Be

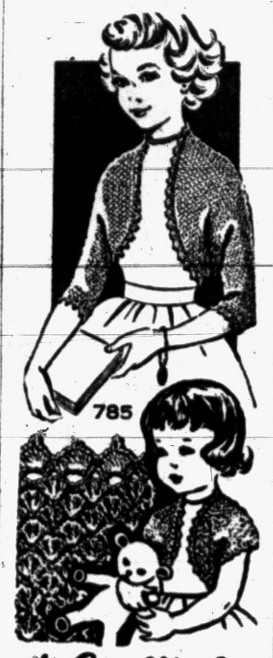

Ever stopped to wonder what to give as a gift at a forthcoming shower? Oh, yes, the usual linens, lingerie and knick-knacks occur to you. But why not suggest to the shower hostess that she make the party a "fragrance shower" — literally shower the bride with a complete trousseau of fragrance gifts.

It's a new idea in showers and one which will make the party a terrific success. Certainly there's nothing more feminine, more welcome and luxurious for a soon-to-be-bride!

Every new bride looks forward to arranging her lovely linens in a spic and span linen closet, and one of her practical shower gifts can be an aerosol spray of fragrant toilet water or eau de cologne.

Then she can spray the shelves and walls of that closet, so that her new, fresh linens will be scented, oh, so delicately, and fastidiously.

Sudden transition from sticky hot day to icy-cold air conditioning can be unpleasant. Carry stole or sweater with you if you expect to dine out or go to a movie.

by Laura Wheeler

Pattern 785 has easy crochet directions. Children's sizes 2 to 12—all included in pattern.

Send 25 cents in coins for this pattern—add 5 cents for each pattern for 1st-class mailing. Send to 124 Pontiac Press Needlecraft Dept., P.O. Box 164, Old Chelsea Station, New York 11, N.Y. Print plainly pattern number, your name, address and zone.

Wet Old Newspaper

Paris Promises Natural Lines, Simple Elegance

PARIS (INS)—Gals won't have to "torture" their bosoms this winter—they won't even have to diet.

This promise has just been made by Paris fashion designer Jacques Heim.

This year, he says, clothes will be made to fit the women and not women to fit the clothes.

"I'm not for exhibiting bosoms," Heim explained. "But I am for nature and for respecting womens forms."

Elegance and studied simplicity, according to Heim, will be the keynotes of the new autumn and winter Paris styles. They will make you appear slim without effort.

No cinched waistlines, said Hem. But skirts that won't tell tales when you eat that extra piece of pastry and are out to gently follow the feminine form. The slightly larger shoulders will make your hips appear slim by contrast.

"We have seen too much of the deeply scooped Lollobrigida-type decolletes," said the fashion stylist, adding that a neckline should be flattering and foundations beautifying.

by Anne Adams

Sizes up to 50 can benefit from this wonderful bra—it gives a perfect fit, comfortable firm support to the larger figure! Easy sewing too—make it in regular and long length. See how flattering your fashions will look—with this new foundation beneath!

Pattern 4619: Women's Sizes 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48, 50. Size 36 takes 1 yard 35-inch fabric.

Send 35 cents in coins for this pattern—add 5 cents for each pattern for 1st-class mailing. Send to Anne Adams, care of 137 Pontiac Press Pattern Dept., 243 West 17th St., New York 11, N.Y. Print plainly name, address with zone, size and style number.

Little boys carrying flags will represent the nations of the world in the procession which will end with the "presentation of roses."

A "living rosary" by candlelight will be led by the Rev. B. F. Jarzembowski, pastor of St. Joseph Church.

Will-O-Way Play Spotlights Bigamy

By JANET ODELL

What would you do if you suddenly discovered that your husband of 20 years standing had a wife and nine children in another city?

On such a predicament rests the plot of the current offering at Will-O-Way, "The Remarkable Mr. Pennypacker" by Liam O'Brien.

Pa Pennypacker spends alternate months in Philadelphia and Wilmington. We see his Wilmington family which numbers eight children, each one quite as remarkable as father. There is also Ma Pennypacker, Grampa and Aunt Jane (she has a tendency to faint at times of crisis.)

Two newcomers this season play the roles of Pa and Ma Pennypacker. Bob Dale, also known professionally as Graydon Goss, has a long and varied list of successes on stage, television and radio.

In looks he reminds one of the Duke of Windsor in his younger days. He's very convincing as the devoted father of seventeen children!

BLUSTERY GRANDPA

Joe Van Donick plays the part of the bullying, domineering grandfather. His blustering could be slapstick; it isn't. He's not a lovable character, but he's believable.

There are five delightful children in the play. All members of the Merrill-Sikorski clan, they're getting their stage experience early. For young Marcee Merrill Tuesday was a double celebration; she opened in a play on her eleventh birthday.

Billy Merrill has a heavy part as one of the Philadelphia children. Horace Pennypacker III. He does a fine job as the rather bewildered young man who's not sure whether he has made a serious blunder or not. This is Billy's second stage appearance this summer. Earlier he played a part at Melody Circus.

Among the familiar faces in the cast are Lillian Hicks as the maiden aunt; Bobby Bryson as the Episcopal rector; Jim Wright as the determined bridegroom-to-be; Maggie O'Hara as the starry-eyed bride; and Michael Keith and Gerald M. Harrington.

You'll like the play. You'll be curious to find out how Pa Pennypacker manages to extricate himself from his question ble position. You'll laugh and you'll be misty-eyed at times. It's good entertainment. The play runs through Aug. 28.

Mosiac Work Often Satisfying

As most entranced amateurs have discovered for themselves, you don't have to be a skilled performer with pencil or paint brush to enjoy the satisfactions of mosaic work.

There are basic techniques, of course, but once they are learned, an amateur is as free as an expert to take liberties with them. As long as what he does works, his product is acceptable.

Traditionally, mosaics are made of pieces of glass and ceramic. Their brilliant jewel colors and mirrored golds and silvers are enough to bring out the artist in any amateur.

Eventually, as they assume a harmony of pattern and color that is pleasing to you, your design takes shape, you set it in cement, and there it is—your work of art.

Gas Range Robot Makes Life Easier

Your new gas range is practically buzzing with robots to make it completely automatic. Now you can light the oven and broiler, as well as the top burners, merely by turning knobs. No more matches!

There's an automatic timer to control oven cooking, and invisible little men turn the gas on and off, according to the clock setting.

Another modern feature is not exactly new, but every homemaker knows the value of automatic heat control, so that she can regulate the flow of gas and be certain of steady, even heat.

Clip Tots' Towels

If youngsters throw towels on the floor when they've finished washing, try clipping their towels with snap clothespins that have been tied to the towel rack.

Then towels will be easy for small fry to reach, and they won't be dropped. Use a different color clothespin to identify each child's towel.

A diamond engagement ring can have the same sparkle as it did originally if it's scrubbed often with a toothbrush, hot water, soap, and a drop of ammonia.

IN THE DAYS OF DAVY CROCKETT

Told by an Old Scout

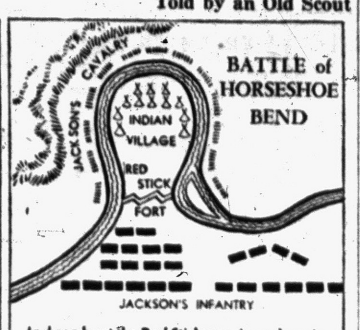

Andy Jackson became a lawyer. Quicker than a mule can wag its ears, he got into a fuss with another lawyer. They had a duel but nobody got hurt, both shooting into the air. Later, Andy fought other duels--one of them nearly cost him his life.

Like Davy Crockett, Jackson was a born fighting man. So nobody was surprised when he was named major general of militia in the new state of Tennessee. He was tough and strong like a hickory tree--that's why his soldiers called him "Old Hickory."

When the War of 1812 with England broke out, the Creek Indians attacked white settlements. They were led by a mixed-breed, Chief Red Eagle, whose white man's name was William Weatherford. He organized the warriors into a band known as the Red Sticks.

Jackson beat the Red Sticks again and again. At last he drove them into their village of Tohopeka which stood within a horseshoe-shaped bend of the Tallapoosa river. The map (above) shows how Jackson's men surrounded the Indian fort.

Research men estimate the steel industry averages 10 years between a research idea and a saleable product.

Starches and sugars are close relatives in the chemical family, and starch can be converted into sugar in industrial processes.

Most of India Back to Normal

General Strikes Flare in Calcutta but Violence Not Apparent

NEW DELHI, (AP)—Most of India returned to normal today but a general strike continued in Calcutta, the nation's largest city, in protest against the killing of Indians who marched into Portuguese India Monday.

First reports from Calcutta, home of two million Indians at the country's eastern edge, made no mention of any violence today. Demonstrators there yesterday sacked the Portuguese consulate and halted all but essential services.

New Delhi, Bombay, Nagpur, Hyderabad and other large cities were reported quiet again today after anti-Portuguese riots and strikes in which nearly 100 persons were injured. The worst violence was in Bombay, a headquarters for the Indian "peaceful invasion" Monday of the three small Portuguese territories on the west coast.

Prime Minister Nehru offered his "deep regrets and apoligies" today to the foreign missions attacked in the rioting. In addition to the Portuguese consulates in Bombay and Calcutta, the office of the deputy British high commissioner in Bombay was attacked because its staff refused to lower its flag in mourning for those killed by the Portuguese.

Air-Conditioned Remedy Lands Husband in Court

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — Benjamin Wassell waited two hours in Newark traffic court last night to explain extenuating circumstances of a $2 overtime parking violation.

"Why didn't you pay it instead of waiting all this time?" asked Magistrate William Hodes.

Wassel said he wanted to explain that his wife became ill because of the heat.

"And so you parked overtime while you took her to a doctor?", the magistrate queried.

"No, your honor,' said Wassell. "I took her to an air conditioned movie."

Nab Asylum Inmate Via Television Show

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — Officials at the state mental hospital were watching television. The local program was "Sidewalk Superintendents." which is broadcast from the street.

"Say," said one of the hospital men, "That looks like one of the patients."

"Yes it is," another said. "Somebody better go get him."

And they did.

PIN-WORMS MAY BE A FAMILY AFFAIR

Fidgeting, nose-picking and a tormenting rectal itch are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms . . . ugly parasites that medical experts say infest one out of every three persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.

To get rid of Pin-Worms, these pests must not only be killed, but killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do . . . and here's how they do it:

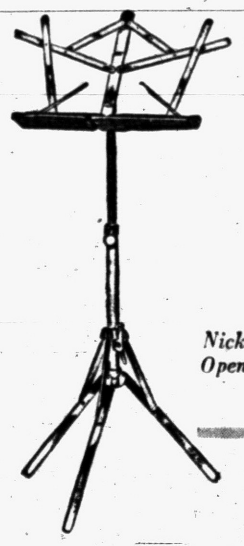

First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.

Don't take chances with this dangerous, highly contagious condition. At the first sign of Pin-Worms, ask your druggist for genuine Jayne's P-W Vermifuge . . . the small, easy-to-take tablets perfected by famous Dr. D. Jayne & Son, specialists in worm remedies for over 100 years.

AT THE BEACH—3

Making a Boat

When you go to the beach you are sure to see boats on the water. The boats are all sizes and shapes. Some have sails, some motors.

Would you like to make your own boat? Well, today we will make the hull for it. Sailors call the front end of a hull the bow and the back end the stern.

First paste this picture down on stiff heavy paper. Color it inside and out. The life preservers are white.

Cut out the boat and fold up the sides along the dotted lines. Fold flap B and paste it under the other side at edge A. Cut lines E and F to the dotted lines, then overlap and paste the sides. Fold the stern on the heavy line and paste it inside the boat. Cut along the black lines at C and D and paste flaps C and D under the sides of the boat.

Tie a string through the center of each life preserver and hang it inside the boat, putting the string over the small knobs on each side of the stern.

Tomorrow we will make the sails.

Mr. Jos. Craddock
7244 Farnum St., Inkster

"I'm glad to tell the readers of your paper about O-JIB-WA BITTERS. I was handicapped with rheumatism and arthritis for 10 years, but never too seriously, until about six years ago. Then, my left hip, both shoulders and arms ached terribly, and sometimes the pains spread down into my fingers. I used to shove my shoulder against the wall to try to ease the pain. Cramps in my legs kept me awake nights, and in the morning, it would take two or three efforts for me to get out of bed. I'm retired now, but used to work on a large machine for the Ford Motor Co. Even pushing buttons to operate it caused severe pain in my finger and arms. My wife was taking O-JIB-WA BITTERS at the time, and it helped her rheumatism, and calmed her nerves, so she thought it would help me too. Well, I started taking it, and by the time the first large bottle was finished, the pains were gone, but I took it longer just for good measure. Now, I'm not bothered with rheumatism or arthritis, my nerves are steady, and I sleep well. The cramps in my legs have left too, and I just feel good all over. My friends have asked me how in the world I regained my good health, and I'm always happy to tell them, its easy. Just get yourself a big bottle of O-JIB-WA BITTERS, follow the directions, and let this wonderful medicine do the rest."

When It Rains . . .

DAKOTA CITY, Neb. (AP)—Paul G. Cromwell, San Bernardino, Calif., had a flat tire near here yesterday. He got out and prepared to go to work. Just then two men drove up and said they would be glad to help. One pulled a gun and the two helped themselves to $72 in Cromwell's wallet, a suitcase full of clothes—and the car's spare tire.

Composer Backs U. S.-Russian Music Exchange

LONDON (AP)—Soviet composer Aram Khachaturian added his voice today to those suggesting musical exchanges between the United States and Russia.

In a message to the United States read over Moscow radio, the front-rank Soviet musician applauded American violinist Yehudi Menuhin's current efforts to arrange a visit to Russia in return for an American tour by master Soviet fiddler David Oistrakh.

"American symphony orchestras are said to be wonderful," Khachaturian's message said. "I should very much like to hear one of them in Moscow, say the one which Toscanini conducted (the Symphony of the Air, which recently toured the Far East).

"I would also like to have the American public hear our symphony orchestras," the composer said. "Discussions with American musicians might help us and they might prove beneficial to our American colleagues as well."

Two Men Parachute From Disabled Plane

THE PAS, Man., (AP)—Two oil company employes who parachuted from a disabled plane over northern Saskatchewan were treated in a hospital here today for shock and malnutrition.

Four other Imperial Oil Co. employes aboard the plane died when it crashed Saturday near the Manitoba-Saskatchewan border.

A search plane yesterday picked up G. H. Kendall, 25, and Owen Smith, 24, both of Regina, Sask. One of the men was spotted nine miles from the crash scene by a search plane. A pontoon-equipped plane was summoned and the second man was found after the rescuers landed.

You'll Travel to Moon in Comfort in 'Lunar Shuttle'

(Following is the third installment of a four-part condensation of the book "Going into Space" by Arthur Charles Clarke, former chairman of the British Interplanetary Society.)

By ARTHUR C. CLARKE

It's four minutes to take-off, and you're trying to tell yourself that you aren't really afraid.

The pilot has finished checking his instruments, and from time to time a voice from the control tower comes through a loudspeaker. Otherwise it is quiet — almost too quiet.

Suddenly, an electric motor starts to whir close at hand. Then things begin to happen all over the place: Switches click, powerful pumps begin to whine, and valves start to snap open down in the heart of the great rocket in whose streamlined nose you are sitting. With each new noise you think, "this is it!" — but still you don't move.

When the voyage finally begins, you aren't prepared for it.

A long way off, it seems, there's a noise like a thousand waterfalls, or a thunderstorm in which the crashes follow each other so quickly that there's no moment of silence between them. The rocket motors have started, but are not yet delivering enough power to lift the ship. Quickly the roar mounts, the cabin begins to vibrate, and the spaceship rises from the face of the desert.

Something seems to be pushing you down, quite gently, into the thick padding of your couch. It isn't at all uncomfortable, but the pressure mounts until your limbs seem to be made of lead and it takes a deliberate effort to keep breathing.

WEIGHT DECREASES

There's a sudden fall in the thunder of the rockets, the sensation of immense weight ebbs away, and you can breathe more easily. Power is being reduced. A minute later silence comes flooding back as the motors cut out completely, and all feeling of weight vanishes.

For a few minutes the pilot checks his instruments; then he turns round and smiles.

"Nicely on course: We'll make our rendezvous in forty minutes. You can get up if you want to."

Passengers, however, must return to their seats while the pilot "homes" on the spaceship that is circling above waiting for you to go aboard.

It's an ugly-looking machine, nothing like the sleek, streamlined torpedo that carried you up from earth. In fact, it's a stubby cylinder, rounded at one end and with a shock-absorbing undercarriage at the other.

This is the lunar shuttle, built up here in space in exactly the same way as the space-stations were constructed. Its job is to circle the earth and take aboard passengers and supplies for the colony on the moon.

OUT OF THIS WORLD

Moving in its orbit above the atmosphere at 18,000 miles an hour, it can then build up the extra 7,000 miles an hour that will let it escape from the earth. Its rocket motors are far too weak to enable it to land on earth or take off again, but they are powerful enough to fight the moon's much weaker gravity.

* * *

Since the journey is going to last several days, there are little bunks in which you can sleep, and there's a tiny lounge in which you can sit and read or look at the stars.

At last everything is ready. The pilot waits for the carefully calculated instant and starts the motors.

This time, the force urging you down into your couch is very gentle — hardly enough, in fact, to give you your normal weight. The shuttle is taking its time to build up speed, to add the extra 7,000 miles an hour that will tear it away from earth.

Since, of course, there is no sensation of motion whatsoever, only logic tells you when you are approaching the moon. The nose of the ship isn't pointing anywhere in particular. In fact, as it travels along, the shuttle very slowly turns end over end. Not until it is time to land will the pilot bother to check the ship's spin.

That time has come at last. For some hours, the gravity field of the moon has been increasing — and so has the ship's speed. But you can't feel this, since you are still weightless as the ship is in free fall.

The moon is now only a few hundred miles away, and so enormous that it seems to fill the sky. Indeed, it's no longer a globe hanging in space but a jagged landscape spread out far below.

You can see countless mountains and craters, many of whose names you've learned from the maps in the past few days. They're beginning to look much too close for comfort.

You have strapped yourself in your couch when the pilot begins the landing maneuvers. The stars sweep around you as the ship turns in space. Nothing has happened to its speed yet, but the low-powered steering jets have swung the shuttle around into the right position for landing.

AUTOMATIC LANDING

The pilot is watching his instruments intently — but he is not touching the controls, for the final landing is quite automatic. It is controlled by a radar set in the ship, which measures the distance to the ground and passes this information on to the automatic pilot controlling the jets.

With a roar that seems doubly impressive after the long hours of silence, the motors thunder into life.

The spaceship is dropping towards the heart of a great ring of mountains. Presently, when the roar of the rocket ceases, some of the taller peaks already seem to be towering above the ship. For a few seconds you are falling free once more, and for a horrible moment you wonder if power has failed and you are about to crash.

Then rockets flare out again, and the scene below vanishes in fire and clouds of dust blasted up by the jet. A moment later there's the gentlest of impacts, then utter silence.

You are on the moon.

Parcel Adjoins Present Camp

Purchase of 6.81 Acres to Clear Way for Fifth Lake in Area

MILFORD—The sale to the City of Dearborn of a 6.81-acre strip along the east boundary of Camp Dearborn, near Milford, has been approved by the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority, according to director, Kenneth L. Hallenback. The price for the tract was set at $250 an acre.

Addition of the 200-foot strip will open the way for construction of the camp's planned fifth lake between Lake 2 and the pony ride site, according to Mayor Orville Hubbard. He said that construction would get underway this fall and the new lake would cover about 30 acres.

In preparation now is the camp's fourth lake, which will cover about 10 acres, east of the camp entrance along General Motors road. Three other lakes —one for swimming and boating, another for pedal boats, and another for fishing, have been in use for several years.

The two new lakes, like the others, will be stocked with fish, the mayor added.

Hold Patrolman in Theft Charge

LAPEER (UP) — A Lapeer patrolman, father of two small children and a member of the force since 1953, was charged yesterday with a grand larceny in the theft of $930 in tax money from the City Hall.

Lawrence McCartney, 24, was held under $2,000 bond for circuit court arraignment Aug. 22 after he waived examination Monday before Justice Elmer Holman.

Police Chief Matt Dougherty said that McCartney admitted he took the money from a walk-in vault at City Hall after working hours July 29. The theft was discovered the following morning.

Dougherty, terming McCartney a trusted member of his eight-man police force, said the patrolman came under suspicion when he refused to take a lie detector test after 24 other city hall employes volunteered to undergo polygraph questioning.

"I can hardly believe it," the chief said. He said McCartney gave no reason for the theft.

McCartney had been on the force since September 1953, following his discharge from the armed service where he was in the Air Police from 1948 to 1953.

New Drug Aims at Eliminating Terrific Hog Loss

MINNEAPOLIS (INS)—Farmers were offered today a new drug aimed at fighting roundworm parasites which cause a 75 million dollar loss in hogs each year.

The drug is called parvex. It was introduced to the 92nd annual convention of the American Veterinary Medical Association in Minneapolis.

Dr. A. C. Todd, parasitologist of the University of Wisconsin, told the group that the drug is the first which cleanses hogs after a single dose and can be used routinely without harmful effects.

One Auto Parts License Approved, Another Denied

The City Commission last night stood firm on one used auto parts license rejection but approved the issuance of another permit previously turned down.

Rejected for the second time was the application of M. E. Gorman for a license to continue operation of a used auto parts establishment at 543 S. Saginaw St.

Louis Shaar, operator of a similar business at 986 Oakland Ave., was given a license after stating he would do business only at that address and not on adjacent property.

Both license renewals were refused several weeks ago because the firms were being operated in violation of city zoning laws.

TENTATIVE OK GIVEN

In other action, the Commission tentatively approved an expansion of the Elks Lodge building, 114 Orchard Lake Ave., for liquor license purposes.

An agreement for initial work on a new runway at Pontiac Municipal Airport was given approval, as was a proposal to vacate an alley paralleling Perry street between Arlene and Madison.

Referred to next week's informal Commission meeting was a resolution from the Pontiac General Hospital Board of Trustees concerning plans for a $3,000,000 addition.

A request from the co-owner of a Class C liquor license that he be permitted to keep his interest in the license while moving beyond the city limits was also referred to the informal session.

An emergency plat ordinance was passed, designed for use in connection with the new Herrington Hills subdivision on the east side. Introduced was an ordinance to rezone to residential 1 classification a portion of a proposed subdivision near Stanley and Ypsilanti now zoned for manufacturing use.

LT. GILPIN HONORED

Resolutions of public necessity were passed for curb, gutter, drainage and blacktop on Sylvan court from Orchard Lake to 50 feet west of Myra street, and curb repairs or replacement, drainage and blacktop on James street from Florence to Johnson.

Referred to City Manager Walter K. Willman was communication from a subdivision builder asking the city to assess from property owners the cost of sidewalks installed adjacent to subdivision property.

Engineer's cost estimate was presented for curb, gutter, drainage and widening work on East boulevard from the existing widened pavement north of Mt. Clemens and south of Perry. A public hearing was set for Aug. 23.

Public hearings were held on intention to construct the following:

Eight-inch reinforced concrete widening strips, curb and gutter, bituminous recap of existing pavement on Mt. Clemens street from Paddock to East boulevard.

Curb, gutter and drainage on Elm street from Marshall to 128 feet west of Going.

Resolutions to receive special assessment rolls for the following were adopted

Confirmed were special assessment rolls for curb, gutter and drainage on Gerdon street from Oakland to Corwin, and sanitary sewer on Nebraska avenue from trunk sewer east of Motor to Franklin road.

BEVERLY HILLS—Pinky Lee dropped in at the new Beverly Hilton to lithp hello to me and made the first big purchase at one of the hotel shops—two red bar chairs for his new home, "The House That Pinky Built." He paid in cash, and the price for two was $352, or $176 each.

George Gobel told us how actress Jeff Donnell, who plays his wife on TV, was asked for an autograph by a timid fan.

First she signed "Jeff Donnell," and then, discreetly, underneath in smaller letters, she wrote, "Mrs. Aldo Ray."

The timid fan timidly asked:

"And would you also sign it 'Mrs. George Gobel?'"

Holdup Man Frightened at Spanish Translation

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "This is a holdup . . . Move fast," a man simulating a gun in his pocket barked at Miss Jane Silva, cashier at a Pacific Finance Loan Co. office.

Miss Silva turned and told clerk Al Cota, in Spanish, what was going on. When the gunman heard the foreign language he backed toward a door and fled — empty-handed.

Predict Truman for Presidency

Folsom Sees Comeback of Former Executive in Next Election

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—Gov. James E. Folsom, one of the few who predicted Harry Truman's election in 1948, is forecasting a Democratic victory again in 1956 with the former president once more at the head of the ticket.

Folsom has made the prediction several times in recent weeks. He repeated it at his news conference this morning.

"I just figure Mr. Truman is a candidate," the governor explained "and if he's a candidate he'll be nominated, and if he's nominated he'll be elected."

Folsom didn't elaborate except to say "if I was a candidate for any office I'd be doing just what Mr. Truman is doing. I just think he'll be elected, that's all."

For the vice presidential nominee, the governor who sought the Democratic presidential nomination himself seven years ago, said the Democrats should pick "some young fellow" in 1956—"someone like Soapsuds Williams (Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan) or Clement (Gov. Frank Clement of Tennessee.)"

Gordon MacRae Shopping for Broadway Musical

By DOROTHY MANNERS
For Louella O. Parsons

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Gordon MacRae, long hankering for a Broadway musical, has promised William Gaxton, via long distance, that he will fly to New York to read "If I Were Queen" and if it is as good as it sounds—he'll star in it this season.

Gaxton, himself a musical comedy star, is serving only as the producer on this show for which Ogden Nash is writing the lyrics and J. Fred Coots the music. The plot is one of those mythical things about life in this country as a monarchy and ruled by a queen.

Gordon is currently in San Francisco appearing at the Bal Tabarin and plans to go east in two weeks.

Yanks Slam Bosox, Add Full Game to AL Lead

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Is the bubble busted in Boston? The once-hot Red Sox, stepping on the heels of the leaders barely three weeks ago, now have tumbled to six defeats in their last 11 games, slipping 4½ games behind in the American League pennant race.

* * *

Through July, Manager Pinky Higgins' guys lost only eight games. But now, not even halfway through August, the Bosox already have lost seven.

Things haven't been this tough in Beantown since before Ted Williams got back in harness late in May.

The Red Sox took a real pasting last night, crumbling before the New York Yankees 13-6 as the Bombers won their seventh straight to snatch a 1½-game lead in the mad pennant scramble. The Yanks added a full game to their margin as Detroit knocked off the Cleveland Indians 7-0 behind Billy Hoeft's two-hitter and Chicago replaced the Tribe in second place by finally subduing the Kansas City Athletics 5-4 in 11 innings.

The White Sox, who have played five fewer games than the Yanks but have lost only one less than New York, now have a four-percentage point edge on Cleveland.

A seven-run third inning, their most productive frame of the season, got the job done for the Yankees. Mickey Mantle clubbed a two-run homer, his 30th, and winning pitcher Don Larsen walloped a three-run homer as New York scoffed at Boston ace Frank Sullivan in the big inning.

Larsen won his fourth since returning from Denver, but wasn't around at the end. Tom Morgan mopped up after Jackie Jensen's 20th home run in the eighth inning belted Larsen from the mound. Earlier, Larsen had given up homers to relief pitcher Dick Brodowski and Williams.

Kansas City scored just one run on a double and three singles to tie Chicago in the eighth, then made it 4-3 on Gus Zernial's pinch single in the 11th. The White Sox came right back against Tom Gorman, Art Ceccarelli and Bill Harrington, loading the bases on two walks and Jim Rivera's bunt. Jim Busby's sacrifice fly tied it and Bob Kennedy's single won it.

Baltimore smacked 16 hits, including Cal Abrams' two-run homer, to beat Washington 7-2.

In the National, New York beat Brooklyn 5-3, St. Louis edged Milwaukee 3-2, Cincinnati whipped Chicago 11-2 and Philadelphia trounced Pittsburgh 12-3.

Willie Mays got the Giants home safe with his 37th homer, a two-run blow, for a 5-0 lead in the fifth before Roy Campanella finally solved Ruben Gomez for a three run shot, his 26th, in the sixth.

The Cardinals dumped the Braves to a one-game edge over third place New York on Bill Sarni's run-scoring triple in the eighth. Stan Musial smacked his 26th homer with one on in the first as Harv Haddix won his 10th.

'Power-Plus' Hurling Pays Off for Yanks

Seven-Run 3rd Frame Against Bosox Biggest of Year for N. Y.

BOSTON (AP) — The New York Yankees hold a game and a half lead in the American League today on their rediscovered "Power Plus Pitching" formula which has produced seven straight wins.

The New Yorkers shelled fourth place Boston 13-6 last night in the first of a three-game series with four home runs and 14 other assorted hits.

"Our hittin' sure has picked up," beamed Yankee Manager Casey Stengel in the locker room following the contest. "The boys started to find the range in the last Red Sox game in New York. The pitchin' has been much better too."

A statistician tossed in the remark that in the 17 games of the last home stand, New York scored 44 runs. Then, over the weekend, the team scored 44 in four games at Baltimore.

Ol' Case nodded but his face clouded when he was asked if a Yankee sweep of the current series would mean that Boston was out of the pennant race (the Red Sox now are 4½ games behind).

"This is just another series between the ball clubs," said Stengel. "The Red Sox have ability and they are playing good ball. I expect them to win a lot of games from the other first division clubs. They're not out of it by any means."

The Yankees brought their traditional power to bear with a seven-run third inning, their biggest of the year.

Mickey Mantle, the Commerce, Okla., strong boy, stretched his league leading home run production to 30 with a two-run blast in the third. Winning pitcher Don Larsen hit a three-run homer in the same inning. Hank Bauer and Bill Skowron also hit for the distance.

Switch-hitting Mantle, batting left, got a single and double in addition to his homer, walked and drove in two runs. Bauer had three RBI's with a homer, two singles and a walk.

Pontiac 'C' Softball Entry Bows Out of District Play

Louie's Tavern dropped two decisions Tuesday night at Beaudette Park to bow out of the men's Class C district softball playoffs. Drayton Drug administered the 1st setback, 5-0, as Bill Goulet twirled a four-hit shutout. Southfield applied the final blow with a 5-4 win in eight innings.

A single and two walks loaded the sacks for Southfield in the bottom of the 1st overtime frame and Gordon's sharp single broke up the festivities. Del Wheeler was the victim of the 8th-inning uprising. Goulet did not walk a batter and struck out five for the Drug nine in the opener.

Pinckney of Howell stayed alive in the tourney by whitewashing Highland Park, 6-0, in the nightcap at North Side after falling to Roseville, 7-1. Southwell hurled a no-hit dazzler as Pinckney eliminated the Parkers. Southwell fanned eight and walked three. While the Parkers were going hitless, they were also committing 11 errors.

Tonight's district "C" lists three contests. Drayton Drug meets Roseville at 7 p.m. at North Side, with the loser facing the Howell-Southfield winner in a 9 o'clock encounter at Beaudette. Howell plays Southfield in the Beaudette opener at 7 p.m.

Girls' league playoffs resume tonight with GMC meeting Avondale in an 8:30 tiff at North Side.

Terry Thomas Paces Hitters in City League

GMC Fielder Compiles Terrific .517 Average for 1955 Season

Terry Thomas, General Motors' star outfielder, captured the 1955 Class A City Baseball League batting championship with a lusty .517. Winner of the hitting derby was based on 30 times at bat.

Thomas, one of the many reasons why GMC won the loop crown this season, collected 18 hits in 35 trips, including six doubles and three triples. He scored 13 runs and tied the Jets' Tony Lothery for leadership in runs batted in with 11.

Three of the top four hitters represent General Motors. Following Thomas is GMC's Les Stone at .460. The Jets' Eugene Cox posted an even .400 and the Coachers' Al Barkeley hung up a .333 average.

Stone led the league in runs scored with 17 and in total hits with 23. Thomas topped the circuit in doubles and triples, while homeruns in the select list of 10 were evenly divided among Stone, Cox, Barkeley and GMC's Ernie Zubalik.

AMERICAN LEGION BASEBALL
18th District League

Birmingham	5	2	Rochester	2	5
Waterford	3	3	Clawson	2	5

Huron Valley Boys Club and Birmingham collide tonight at Birmingham to decide the 2nd-half championship in the American Legion's 18th District Baseball League. Game time is 5:30 p.m.

Rain, which has interrupted the 10-game schedule frequently during the 2nd-half title chase, has created an interesting situation for the season's concluding battle at Birmingham.

Birmingham, with a 5-2 record, trails league-leading Boys Club by a half game. Boys Club, boasting a 5-1 mark, has played one less contest than its rival and would lose the race by dropping tonight's meeting.

Sunday's entire slate was washed out, including a pair of doubleheaders, and none has been rescheduled. Postponed games cannot be played after tonight's action, according to Al Voss, district chairman.

Birmingham - Boys Club clash grabs the spotlight, but four other squads will also square off tonight as the 1955 American Legion baseball season ends. Waterford, 1st-half champion, plays host to Rochester, while Clawson winds up at Berkley.

Area Boys Jam Trials

The Kansas City Athletics' major league baseball tryout camp entered its 3rd and concluding session today at Pontiac's Wisner Field.

Camp is under the direction of Joe O'Rourke, Kansas City scout, with an assist from Herb Strunk of Berkley, area scout for the A's. Jake Flowers, who was slated to be the camp's co-head with O'Rourke, took ill and did not make the trip to Pontiac.

A total of 110 boys enrolled for a fling at the "big time" on Monday's opening day and an additional 25 youngsters reported Tuesday. More boys are expected today. Camp is designed for boys from 16 through 23 years of age.

Pontiac area youths dominated the roster, followed closely by Detroit and Wayne County hopefuls. Other would-be major leaguers reported from Flint, Lansing, Muskegon Heights, Stockbridge, and Marion in Michigan's lower peninsula in addition to Hammond, Indiana and London, Ontario.

Most eager prospects journeyed here from the far reaches of Michigan's upper peninsula. Gerald Patrick of Copper City and Fred Berry of Ahmeek, who live only a mile apart, traveled over 600 miles to take part in the three-day camp.

Monday's workouts were devoted to pitchers, catchers and outfielders, mostly due to necessity. An extremely muddy infield prevented the infielders from getting any practice and delayed their workouts until Tuesday morning.

An intra-squad game was held yesterday under O'Rourke's observing eyes, with players entering and leaving the lengthy session at his discretion. Another intra-squad contest is in progress today, conducted for the express purpose of letting every boy at camp see action.

Los Angeles Exhibition Marks Debut of Gillman as Head Coach

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A crowd of 70,000 or more is expected tonight for the pro exhibition football game in Memorial Coliseum between the Washington Redskins and the Los Angeles Rams. It is an annual, played for Los Angeles Times Charities, Inc. The Rams have won six and the Redskins three of these exhibitions.

Tonight's contest marks the Los Angeles debut in the coliseum of the Rams' new coach, Sid Gollman, formerly of the University of Cincinnati, who replaced Hampton Pool after last season's dissension-ridden season.

Christy Paid $90 Monthly During Hitch in Minors

COOPERSTOWN, N.Y. (AP) — Christy Mathewson has been gone 30 years but baseball's Hall of Fame continues collecting memorabilia that once belonged to the great pitcher.

The latest item to find its way into the museum is Mathewson's only minor league contract which he signed in 1899 with the Norfolk Club in the Virginia League for $90 (mispelled ninty) a month. The contract was printed for the Atlantic League. The word Atlantic was crossed out.

Even then Christopher Mathewson signed his name Christy Mathewson. The contract called for payment the first and 15th of each month, beginning May 1, 1899 and ending Sept. 7, 1899. The Norfolk Club folded Oct. 4, 1899 and the following year Matty began his 16-year major league career with the New York Giants.

Matty won all but one of his 373 games for the Giants. He won his final game as manager of Cincinnati in 1916. He also piloted the Red Stockings in 1917-18.

Matty's Hall of Fame bronze plaque bears the inscription "Matty was master of them all." It tells that he pitched three shutouts in the 1905 World Series and that he won 30 games three years in succession. He won 37 games in 1908 for a Giant team that tied Pittsburgh for second place.

The 1899 contract, which is in fairly good shape, was presented by a Norfolk fan to Frank D. Lawrence, owner of the Portsmouth, Va., Merrimacs. Lawrence mailed the contract to Shirley Povich, president of the Baseball Writers' Assn. of America. He in turn gave it to Paul Kerr, vice president and treasurer of the Hall of Fame.

Matty, born in Aug. 12, 1880 at Factoryville, Pa., died on Oct. 7, 1925.

CHICAGO (AP)—Willie Shoemaker, America's top jockey the last two years, pounded across six winners yesterday at Washington Park but it was an old story to "Shoe" who "did it before."

Trabert, Seixas Center of Interest at Brookline

The No. 1 seeded domestic pair, seeking their second straight National Men's title, advanced by default to the third round yesterday and then were put through a lengthy practice session by U. S. Davis Cup captain, Billy Talbert.

Word soon spread that Trabert and Seixas were working with professionals Jack Kramer and Don Budge. Fans just about deserted other matches on Longwood courts and flocked to watch the practice session of America's top amateurs who combined to win the Davis Cup from Australia last year. Trabert and Seixas practiced for some 3½ hours yesterday.

Meanwhile, Rex Hartwig and Neal Fraser, southpaw standouts on Australia's Davis Cup team, breezed through their initial test in the national competition with an easy 6-1, 6-1, 6-0 victory over Sam Schoonmaker and Ed Bennet of Pine Orchard, Conn., in a first round match.

Lew Hoad and Ken Rosewall, the other Aussie Davis Cup members, were forced to default because of the windup of inter-zone finals against Italy in Philadelphia.

Roman Pitches, Bats Realtors to 6-1 Victory

Blasts 3-Run Homer in 6th Inning to Nail Win, Eliminate Auburn

Realty nine's Albie Roman pitched a three-hitter last night and employed his bat profitably as well. Roman blasted a three-run homer in the bottom of the 6th inning to wrap up the win. The clout actually proved unnecessary, since the game was called at the end of the 6th because of darkness.

An error and singles by Tom James and Lee Swindell scored an unearned run for the Merchants in the 1st frame. Singles by Dave Zittel, Jack Cole and John Wert, plus a pair of walks, scored two runs for the winners in their 1st stanza and drove starter Rod Beckett from the mound. Hud Johnson finished for Auburn and yielded another run in the 3rd before Roman teed off.

League champion General Motors, top-heavy favorite in the post-season tournament, meets the L. C. Anderson Jets tonight at Wisner at 5:30 p.m. Loser faces Don Nicholie on Thursday.

National Loop Passes 1,000 Home Run Mark

NEW YORK (AP) — The National League was past the 1,000 home run mark today.

Home runs by Willie Mays of the Giants, Roy Campanella of the Dodgers, Stan Musial of the Cards and Smokey Burgess of the Redlegs last night brought the Senior circuit's homer total to 1,002.

The major league mark is 1,197 set by the National Leauge in 1953.

Heavies on TV Card

CHICAGO, (AP)—A couple of hard-hitting heavyweights, Nino Valdes of Cuba and Bob Satterfield of Chicago, meet tonight at Chicago Stadium in a 10-round nationally televised bout (ABC-9 p.m. EST).

Americans Get Full Check on Aussie Cuppers

But Hopman Complains His Players Don't Have Line on U. S. Team

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — American spies have been working full time on the Australian Davis Cup team, figuring ways and means of whipping the Aussies in the Challenge Round.

But, complained Aussie Captain Harry Hopman Wednesday, he doesn't have a line on the Americans, and the big test is less than two weeks away at Forest Hills, Aug. 26-28.

"I haven't seen Tony Trabert or Vic Seixas play in months," he said. "All I know about them is hearsay and you know how reliable that can be. Sure, I'd like to get a look at them, but I've been having my own troubles."

Trabert and Seixas, along with Ham Richardson of Baton Rouge, La., and Gil Shea of Los Angeles, were named to the U.S. team by the Davis Cup selection committee in New York Tuesday night. But, just as they did a year ago in winning back the trophy, Trabert and Seixas are expected to do all of the playing.

Hopman's touchdown twins, Ken Rosewall and Lew Hoad, completed a 5-0 sweep of Italy at the Germantown Cricket Club Tuesday by winning the last two singles matches even though they already had qualified for the Challenge Round by running up a 3-0 lead on the first two days.

Rosewall defeated Orlando Sirola, 6-4, 4-6, 6-1, 6-4, while Hoad sailed past Pietrangeli, 9-7, 6-2, 6-3—and there wasn't a United States operative in the stands. Capt. Bill Talbert and Tony Trabert were on hand the first day, but they pulled right out for the National Doubles in Brookline.

"It would be foolish of me to try to make a prediction as to the outcome of the Challenge Round," said Hopman, "I will say that I was pleased with the performances of Hoad and Rosewall.

"They certainly aren't in top form yet, but that's why we're heading for Forest Hills to practice. Hoad will require more work than Rosewall, but then he usually does.

"I'm definitely going with Hartwig and Hoad in the doubles. I won't even have Hoad and Rosewall practice doubles while Hartwig and Neal Fraser are playing in the National Doubles."

Nearly 200 Top Pros in Canadian Open

WESTON, Ont. (AP) — Practice rounds and predictions out of the way, field of nearly 200 big league pros, top-flight amateurs, and a few ordinary golfers, today get down to the serious business of winning the Canadian Open championship.

They've got a long haul ahead with 18 holes carded each day until Saturday's windup. Any one of 10 or 12 shotmakers can take the big payoff in the $15,000 open and almost certainly an American will top the list.

Jack's Get Title Share

Jack's Service trounced Waterford Village, 10-3, in a Waterford Little League softball game Tuesday night. Paul Proksch hurled a three-hitter for Jack's and Stan Austin collected four straight singles. Victory clinched at least a tie for the title.

District Roundup

'B' Softball Tourney Opens 5-Day Stand Thursday at Drayton Plains Diamond

Men's Class B district softball tournament will get under way Thursday night at the Drayton Plains ball park. Playoffs will run for five days with the finals slated Aug. 22.

Six teams are scheduled to compete in the Waterford tourney, representing Pontiac, Waterford, Mt. Clemens, Roseville, Highland Park and Southfield. Pontiac's hope is General Motors, winner of the city Class B title, while Waterford will ride with the Lions Club, Waterford League champion.

Thursday night's 1st-round action in the double elimination tournament pits the Lions against Roseville at 7:30 and GMC-Mt. Clemens at 9 p.m. Highland Park and Southfield drew byes.

Two games are on tap each night until Sunday, when three are listed. Title final goes on Monday, with time allotted for a 2nd tilt if necessary. Starting times each day are 7:30 p.m. except Sunday's triple-header, which begins at 2 p.m.

District tournament winners will go on to regional competition. Classes A, B and C will vie for honors in Coldwater while the women's "C" regional will take place in Pontiac. Women's A and B teams proceed directly to the state finals, since there is no regional. Regional dates are Aug. 26-27.

Stadium Inn, Pontiac Class A titlist, starts its district tourney action Thursday night at Highland Park, meeting Roseville at 7:15. Dick & Wes Sporting Goods, Waterford League representative, faces Mt. Clemens at 9 p.m. in the same playoff. Class C district tourney is now in progress in Pontiac, winding up tomorrow night.

Regional champions enter the state finals, scheduled Sept. 1-5. Men's "A" and women's "B" are slated at Battle Creeks Fort Custer, men's "B" and womens "A" at Coldwater, and men's and women's "C" divisions at Petoskey. Men's major softball tournament, which does not involve preliminary playoffs, will be held at Jackson. Pontiac's representative will be Shaw's Jewelers, city champions.

Michigan Softball Association is the sole sponsoring organization of the state softball tournaments, with an assist from the Michigan Recreation Association. This area, District No. 6, is comprised of Oakland, Wayne, Macomb and Livingston counties. Tom Belton of Waterford is district commissioner.

Brooks Move to Jersey for 7 Games in '56; Decision Unprecedented in Major Loop Circles

BROOKLYN (AP) — The National League leading Brooklyn Dodgers, growing restless in light of sagging attendance and ready to junk Ebbets Field, will try Roosevelt Stadium in Jersey City, N.J., for size next season, playing seven of their regularly scheduled games there.

In an action unprecedented in modern baseball, club President Walter O'Malley announced the Jersey City plan yesterday. He said the Brooks also would play one exhibition game there against an American League club.

The seven other National League clubs have consented to the arrangement, O'Malley said. The Jersey City ball park was the site of International League baseball games until five years ago. Since then it has been used for stock car racing.

The move was interpreted today by baseball people as a psychological move to stir up Flatbush fandom as well as the city fathers.

It is no secret that O'Malley is keenly disappointed over (1) the comparatively poor attendance figures at Ebbets Field this season, (2) the inadequate seating capacity of this outmoded park, (3) his inability to find a suitable site for a new park and (4) the refusal of Brooklyn's city fathers to propose a resolution for a municipally supported stadium.

It is felt in some quarters that O'Malley's drastic action may cause some concern on the part of Brooklyn officials. The next move might be moving all games out of Ebbets Field away from Brooklyn.

A Dodger spokesman, who asked to remain unidentified, said he would not be surprised if O'Malley sought permission from Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick to switch Brooklyn's home games in the World Series this fall to Yankee Stadium, with twice the seating capacity of Ebbets Field. That is, assuming the Dodgers win the pennant, as appears almost certain.

The attendance phase actually doesn't figure much in the switch of the seven 1956 games to Jersey City since Roosevelt Stadium seats only 30,000, some 3,500 less than Ebbets Field.

Making it plain he was anxious to move his club out of Ebbets Field, but not out of Brooklyn, at the earliest possible moment, O'Malley said he was preparing for the day when the 43-year-old ball park would be sold. He indicated that would take at least two years.

2 Pontiac 9's in State Finals

Three city diamonds — The north and south fields at Columbia-Joslyn and Washington Junior High—were the scene of 11 games yesterday involving an original field of 16 teams in the single elimination tourneys.

Griff's, boasting a flawless record for the season, waded through two opponents to reach the finals against Port Huron. The city "D" kings shut out Grand Rapids in the 1st round, 2-0, behind the three-hit pitching of Jim Jones; then clubbed Roseville in the 2nd game, 9-3, as Ted Wharry tossed a four-hitter.

Griff's will clash with Port Huron Thursday at south Columbia-Joslyn for the state title. Game time is 1:30 p.m. Port Huron advanced to the title contest with victories over Dearborn and Saginaw.

Boys Club, one of three by that name to win city crowns this summer, reached its lofty position with a 3-2 decision over Ann Arbor and a 5-1 triumph over Jackson. Boys Club meets Livonia in the crucial contest Thursday at north Columbia-Joslyn, also at 1:30 p.m. Livonia advanced to the finals with a forfeit win over Coldwater and a 6-2 victory over Battle Creek.

Jerry Orr hurled a two-hitter in Boys Club's verdict over Ann Arbor to best Dick Tomshack, who yielded four safeties. Denny Evans set down Jackson on three blows, one a home run by Neil Otto to tally the losers' lone run. Evans aided his own cause with two hits in three trips to the plate.

Remaining Class D teams that bowed out yesterday were Wayne and Battle Creek, while Saginaw and Ecorse were the other "E" squads falling by the wayside. State Junior tournaments are sponsored by the Michigan Recreation Association.

Pontiac's two remaining Junior League champions, Boys Club nines in Class F and Knothole, did not fare too well in their state tests at Jackson. The "F" club was edged by Allen Park in the 1st round, 3-2. Midgets lost out to Saginaw in the semi-finals, 4-3, after smashing Ecorse, 17-0, in their 1st attempt. Teams from Saginaw and Battle Creek are the finalists in both divisions.

Let the Government Run Boxing, Jim Norris Says

DETROIT (AP) — National Boxing Assn.'s plea for congressional help in cleaning up big-time boxing has drawn the challenge of New York fight promoter Jim Norris to "let the federal government run it."

That, the president of the powerful International Boxing club said yesterday, would be "okay" with him.

"If the commissions can't run boxing," he said, "if they're too impotent to do the job, then let the federal government run it. It may be the best solution."

The NBA asked for federal intervention as it wound up its annual convention. Sen. Potter (R-Mich) promised he would recommend a congressional probe.

The plea was sent as George A. Barton of Minneapolis, former NBA president, reported an investigation he was making of professional fighting ran into a blank wall when witnesses refused to sign affidavits.

Barton quoted them as saying they didn't want to "get knocked off."

The government currently has an antitrust suit against Norris' IBC, and the fight promoter, whose intertwined family interests include control of the Detroit Red Wing Hockey team and Detroit's Olympia Stadium, said he was "fed up with investigations."

"Let them investigate anything they want," Norris said, "we've got nothing to hide."

Meanwhile, the NBA named a 10-man committee to meet with Gov. George M. Leader of Pennsylvania in Harrisburg Sept. 19 to discuss his proposal for a uniform boxing code to regulate professional fighting across the nation. Leader made the proposal in a convention address.

PHS Distance Runners Try Out Their Legs

Looking ahead to the fall cross-country competition, and with a desire to get themselves in good condition for those grueling events, several Pontiac High School runners are doing a bit of informal conditioning at Beaudette Park.

Says Bill Douglas, ace half miler, one of the lads with some definite aims at state prep schools, "we just do a bit of running around the park, maybe about three miles each day. It's a lot of run, too."

Some of the lads getting in on the impromptu running, from time to time, are Archie Brooks, Perry Williams, Rod Treais and Gene Cretal.

"Everywhere we received reports of tremendous official efforts being put forth by the Russian government to assure top performances in Melbourne," says Charles McCaffree, veteran Michigan State swimming coach. "Reports indicate clearly that the Russians have made almost unbelievable progress since the 1952 Olympics and especially in swimming."

Few Brookies Run Big in Restricted Waters

By JACK PATTERSON

We have been watching with considerable interest, the last few years, the development of trout fishing in "10-inch - fly - only" waters. Principally applied to certain sections of the Au Sable system, restrictions have been in force long enough in some instances to test the validity of the thinking behind those restrictions.

PATTERSON

Basic theory, of course, is to determine if trout—brook trout particularly—can reproduce naturally to the extent that they provide good fishing without calling for reinforcements via restocking.

Under the fly only rule, many undersized fish are safely released after being caught because they are usually lip hooked. Bait caught fish, small ones particularly, are very apt to be deeply hooked. Mortality upon release is very high. Brook trout under these conditions seem able to more than hold their own.

The 10 inch minimum limit, while it contributes to the success of the experiment in that it saves many seven and eight inch breeders, is something of a thorn in the side of fishermen.

Brook trout can, and do grow to sizes of 10 or more pounds in some waters, but in the Au Sable stretches under observation average maximum size runs just about 10 inches.

Hence the average fisherman can catch a lot of fish without coming up with a legal one. Saving grace, of course, in these waters is the prevalence of many, many brown trout in the 14 to 20 inch, or bigger, bracket.

We talked over some of these matters with the conservation officer at Lovells the other day. In passing, he mentioned that it would be safe to say that every spot of cover in the restricted area of the North Branch as at least one legal brown in it.

This was not guesswork but a result of observation of periodic shocking "counts" along the stream.

Somehow got on the subject of flies and learned that probably 90 per cent of North Branch fish are caught on either an Adams or a Coachman. This ties in with our own thinking. We use those two patterns almost to the exclusion of any other.

Well, the weather had been hot, fishing very, very slow. Looked like a good time to jump in the stream and see what we could stir up.

The river was as low as we've ever seen it and very clear. Con- that trout can be taken under tough circumstances by doing everything right. We know they can. What we did want to try to find out was how sloppy one could be and still take fish when the going was rough—a closer approximation to the average fisherman's approach.

Fished steadily for four hours and brought to net 11 fish of which three were over 10 inches. All brooks. Lost one good brown to a stump. Certainly not fast and furious action by any means, but we proved what we set out to do. The average fisherman can go out when the fishing is very slow and still get activity. Which, after all, is about all the fisherman asks.

OCSC's Coss Is Named for Field Referee

New Policy Provides for General Manager; Deyoe Given Job

President Chester Crites of the National Skeet Shooting Assn. today announced official referees for this year's national shoot, scheduled for Aug. 29 through Sept. 4, at Oakland County Sportsmen's Club, Waterford.

Pike P. Meade of Palm City, Calif., long one of skeet's top officials, will be the chief referee. Assistant chief referees include Earl H. Gardner of Lamesa, Calif., Raymond Williams, Chicago, Ill., Gordon Bullard, Encinita, Calif., and James W. Adkisson of Dallas, Tex.

The 16 field referees are Homer Coss, Pontiac; Thomas McGinnis, Crumpton, Md.; W. B. Strickler, Norfolk, Va.; Pike P. Meade III, Palm City, Calif.; H. P. Vanderweide, San Diego, Calif.; Byron E. Heidt, Chicago; Alan A. Sydow, Chicago; Daniel Searcy, Chicago; Robert Mason, Anaheim, Calif.; J. Howard Kidd Jr., Webster, N.Y.; Hugo Litwiler, Chula Vista, Calif.; Alford Manker, Palm City, Calif.; Bobby L. Haithcock, Chicago; Ernest Starmer, Chicago; Robert E. St. Amour, Chicago, and E. I. Anderson, Long Beach, Calif.

Inaugurating a new policy, this year's event will have George Deyoe, Washington, D.C., as general manager. Deyoe, long a respected arbiter in national skeet shooting circles, will supervise all field activities.

With reservations coming in daily from all sectors of the North American continent, it is expected that the 1955 shoot will surpass that of last year when some 500 top-flight shooters participated. Large delegations of shooters from California, Texas, and Illinois, three hotbeds of skeet, are expected.

Antlers Only!

One Deer Law Change; See Big Pheasant Crop

By MORT NEFF

From all reports at this writing there will be little or no change in Michigan's fall hunting seasons and regulations this year as compared to last, with the single and important exception of confining deer hunters to shooting of antlered deer only. (Bow hunters, however, will continue to have their choice of antlered or antlerless deer.)

NEFF

Despite a cyclic drop in grouse populations in almost every part of the state the season and bag limits remain the same—because, according to game biologists, gun pressure has little or no effect on the numbers of this upland game birds anyway.

And, while partridge appear to be in short supply the pheasant families have been producing at a terrific rate.

While the records show Michigan hunters killed approximately 1,100,000 cock pheasants in 1954, it's a pretty good bet that this year's bag will be even larger!

There is only a slight possibility—and that may be erased before this goes to print—that there will be any change in waterfowl regulations, save for an extension of the jacksnipe season.

Many Features Are Listed for Western Horse Show

Michigan Rangers Saddle Club will present its 9th annual western horse show Sunday at headquarters on Davisburg road (2 miles west of Davisburg).

Schedule of events for the program, starting at 10:30 a.m. include some very interesting and unusual features. From fine handling tests such as the musical chairs, musical stalls, for youngsters, the card moves through fast action in other features. There are 15 events on the schedule.

A colorful grand entry has also been arranged, to be led by the Michigan Rangers drill team.

In case of heavy rain Sunday, the show will be postponed one week to Aug. 28, at the same place, same time, same events.

Coast Guard Vet Lands Big Fish in Unusual Way

Cordrey, working at the Naval Air Station, said he saw the big fish in shallow water and threw rocks at him. The fish swam into deeper water. With the help of two sailors he went out in a boat. The fish continued to swim on the surface. Cordrey caught him in the gills with his hands and, backed by the sailors, got him into the boat. The fish, a black drum, weighed 93 pounds.

Cordrey believes the fish was stunned by blasting operations on the Norfolk-Newport News tunnel under Hampton Roads.

Farmers and Hunters Hold Social Meeting

Several hundred farmers and hunters are expected to assemble at the Vernor Estate in Lapeer County on Sunday, Aug. 28. Meeting is a social affair designed to cement good relations between farmers and hunters prior to fall hunting seasons.

Social gathering is sponsored by the Lapeer County Farm Bureau in cooperation with sportsmen's clubs, the FFA, National Grange, and the state conservation department. Invitations have been extended to the Thumb area, Port Huron, Saginaw, Flint, Pontiac and Detroit, requesting representatives for the day-long meeting.

Stiff License Penalty

CONCORD, N.H. — New Hampshire passed a law providing that any person throwing refuse into public waters or land bordering the waters may lose his or her fishing and hunting license.

Hoeft's 2-Hitter Shoves Tribe Into 3rd Place

DETROIT (AP)—Everyone was in complete agreement—it was Billy Hoeft's greatest game.

"It was the best I've ever pitched," beamed the slender 21-year-old southpaw after dealing a 7-0 jolt to the Cleveland Indians last night.

Hoeft permitted only two singles—in the 1st and 2nd innings—and retired 21 batters in a row as he posted his 5th shutout and ran his record to 12-6 for the season.

"I'll bet I didn't throw 10 curves all night," Hoeft said. "My fast ball was alive—it was hopping across the plate. Zip! Zip! Zip! So I kept using it. Why not?"

"It was the best I've ever seen you pitch," offered Harvey Kuenn, Hoeft's roommate.

Manager Bucky Harris of the Tigers said Hoeft's success stemmed from his ability to stay ahead of the hitters.

"Before the game I told him not to walk anybody if he could help it. I told him to just keep pouring the ball in there. It's easy to say—but Billy did it," Harris explained.

"He followed orders as though I was using a whip."

Hoeft gave up a 1st-inning single to Bobby Avila and another to Larry Doby in the 2nd. That was all of Cleveland's batting attack.

Hoeft then mowed down the Indians' big lineup in order before giving up his only walk of the game to Al Smith with two out in the 9th inning.

It was a costly loss for the Indians, dropping them to 3rd place, a game and a half behind the roaring New York Yankees.

At the plate, Hoeft was supported by Frank House and Bill Tuttle, who drove in all of the Tigers' runs before a crowd of 47,553.

Using a new open batting stance, House hit his 10th home run and a pair of doubles to knock in three runs. Tuttle collected his 11th home run and a two-run single.

Detroit had lost six straight to the Tribe before last night.

SETS HOME RUN PACE — Ted Kluszewski, Cincinnati first baseman, is at bat in recent game with Cardinals when he hit his 40th homer of the season to take over the lead in that department in the National league. At left he waits for ball to cross plate. The muscles on his arms bulge as he swings at a pitch in the center photo. At right he watches ball sail out of Busch stadium as he completes his swing. He hit another out of the park in the 8th inning of game to bring his total to 41.

Marciano-Moore Telecast Slated in 100 Theaters

NEW YORK—The largest closed circuit telecast in history will be assembled for the Rocky Marciano-Archie Moore fight at Yankee Stadium, Sept. 20.

More than 100 theaters across the nation are expected to join the hookup, according to Nathan L. Halpern, Theater Network Television president. The previous high was 83 for the Marciano-Don Cockell bout in San Francisco, May 16. That one had a seating potential of 250,000.

Popular Tarpon Spots

Recent issue of a national magazine says that the six most popular tarpon fishing grounds are: Panuco River, Tampico, Mexico; Chagres River, Canal Zone; Boca Grande Pass, Fla.; Ten Thousand Islands, Fla.; Aransas Pass, Texas; and Vera Cruz, Mexico. Cuba, also, has some fine tarpon fishing.

Bada Faces Strong Field in Defense of City Title

Twenty-eight city golfers, including defending champion Paul Bada, will tee off Saturday and Sunday in the 36-hole finals of the men's medal play golf championship at Pontiac's Municipal Golf Course. Starting time each day is 12:30 p.m.

Twenty linksmen who met the qualifying rounds will be joined by Bada, other previous titleholders, and the low five scorers a year ago to complete the starting field of 28. Schedule calls for 18 holes each day.

Bada will face stiff competition. More prominent among the threats are Glen Harding and Cliff Inman, former city champs, and Stan Savage, Joe Burgdorf, Ed Wasik, Butler Cooper, Max Richardson, Ron Rothbarth, George Hammett, and Bill Stolloff, qualifying medalist.

One notable danger to Bada's successful defense—Mike Andonian—will be missing. Andonian, who did not need to qualify, will not comete this year.

Two coveted trophies will be awarded the 1955 winner—the Pontiac Press traveling trophy and the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department trophy. Another trophy will go to the runner-up and shooters placing 3rd, 4th, 5th, and 6th will get merchandise.

Parings and starting times follows:

12:30—Paul Bada, Bill Stolloff, and Cecil Reeves;
12:38—Glen Harding, A. Burton, and Jerry Lampson;
12:46—Bob Martin, Bob Gaines, and Babe O'Connell;
12:54—Cliff Inman, Joe Burgdorf, and Ron Rothbarth;
1:02—Jim Stephens, Henry Janczarek, and Emmanuel Gorams;
1:10—Ed Wasik, Tom Balliet, and Bill Pembroke;
1:18—Butler Cooper, Nick Berson, and George Hammett;
1:34—Stan Savage, Paul Barnum, George Chakroff, and Andy Lindsay.

Sam Snead's Golf Clinic

Oh, I see! This bunker jumper is swinging with a long iron—about a No. 2. The ball is positioned slightly forward of center, perhaps an inch. The club should take the ball just after the bottom of the arc of the swing.

The more lofted the iron, the shorter the club shaft, so you should stand nearer the ball. The shorter the shaft the more upright the swing. And the shorter the club—the shorter the backswing. If the highly lofted irons Nos. 6, 7, 8, 9 are correctly swung you inevitably take some divot because the ball is played a bit back of center, nearer the right heel. So the clubhead does not reach the low point in the arc of the swing until just after clubhead meets the ball. Then a divot has to happen. And, oh yes, replace the divot. I might be in the foursome behind you.

Parris Great Prospect for Brooklyn Dodgers

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Don't be surprised if Clyde Parris turns up at third base for the Brooklyn Dodgers in the not too distant future.

Neil Watlington, Richmond catcher who has been around the International League for seven seasons, sizes Parris up as "the best I've ever seen in the league." Parris plays for Montreal, a Dodger farm.

BOO—The Plague of the Sporting World

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS) — The grand old practice of Booing is becoming increasingly popular in the baseball and race parks of this land. In fact, it has gotten to a point where one scarcely can visit a sporting event without feeling, eerily, that he has somehow wandered into a hostile pasture of lowing bulls.

Piles — Get Relief Now

Millions of sufferers in the last 40 years have found a way to fast relief from itching smarting piles. They use a delightful cooling soothing astringent formula — Peterson's Ointment. No wonder one sufferer writes, "The itching and smarting were relieved, and I slept all night. Peterson's Ointment is marvelous." 50c & 75c, all druggists. Be delighted or money back.

I do not mean to imply that the honest, well-spotted "Boo" should be abolished. After all, it is against the law to throw beer cans at blind umpires, and therefore the Boo is the only defense a fan has against such infirmities on the field of sport.

However, I object strenuously to the "Boo-for-Boos-sake" type of Booing which is cropping up everywhere. As the pennant race gets hotter, and as jockeys appear to be missing on a number of 4-to-5 horses, the craze has gotten out of hand.

It seems like people are overtense and pretty broke and they are beginning more and more just to Boo for instance. Or to hear themselves Boo. Or, as the psychiatrists would probably tell you, to let off steam in these insecure days of world anxiety.

It is annoying to non-Booers. It is also, I would say, a sign of mass poor sportsmanship.

AIN'T SPORTS

And I will go out on a limb far enough to say that the men, women and toddlers who shout in derisive basso at the finest performers in the sport they are watching—the Mickey Mantles, Ted Williamses, Eddie Arcaros—are not sports fans at all. They are people who are imposing their presence on the sport at hand in order to kill time, make money, unleash inhibitions or generally express their disgust for the world and the people therein.

I am told that people have Booed things that are good and successful from the beginning of time, so envy must be mixed in with time-killing, money-making and disgust. Babe Ruth was Booed when he struck out. Mantle is Booed before he reaches the plate. Ted Williams is Booed by people sitting at home watching his admirable form on television.

Jockey Arcaro is Booed even when he wins, in honor of the times when the Booers placed their financial confidence in him and he did not look like a Horatio Alger.

LEARNED EARLY

I learned to detest the ignoble art of mass booing when, still in the thumb-sucking years, I was trotted to Crosley Field, Cincinnati, to see the Reds. I was in love with Ernie Lombardi, the Big Schnoz, the greatest catcher in the land for my hotdog money, and I used to weep when he was booed for not hitting a home run. Why did they do it?.

"They're just silly," said my Dad, a kind and tolerant man. Now, as the Booing gets louder and longer at every game you see, it seems not only silly but unnecessarily cruel.

Most ballplayers, they tell me, are almost immune to it. And Jockeys don't take the roars of disapproval any more seriously than the big, dumb horses they ride. If that is true, then it's only us Boo-despisers who are affected —like the wonderful small boy I sat next to at Yankee Stadium a few weeks ago.

Valiantly, through several innings, he tried to out-cheer the Booers when Mickey Mantle came to the plate. Mickey came through for him too. Then, finally, a crushing blow came. Mickey struck out.

The kid sat tensely back in his seat while his ballplayer scuffed back to the dugout, listening to the babble of Boos. Then he turned with glistening eyes and said:

"Gee, ain't he great? Strikes out and he's still smilin'!"

AEC Requests Bids for Atom Reactors

WASHINGTON (INS)—The Atomic Energy Commission has asked industrial firms interested in designing and fabricating a small nuclear reactor to submit construction proposals.

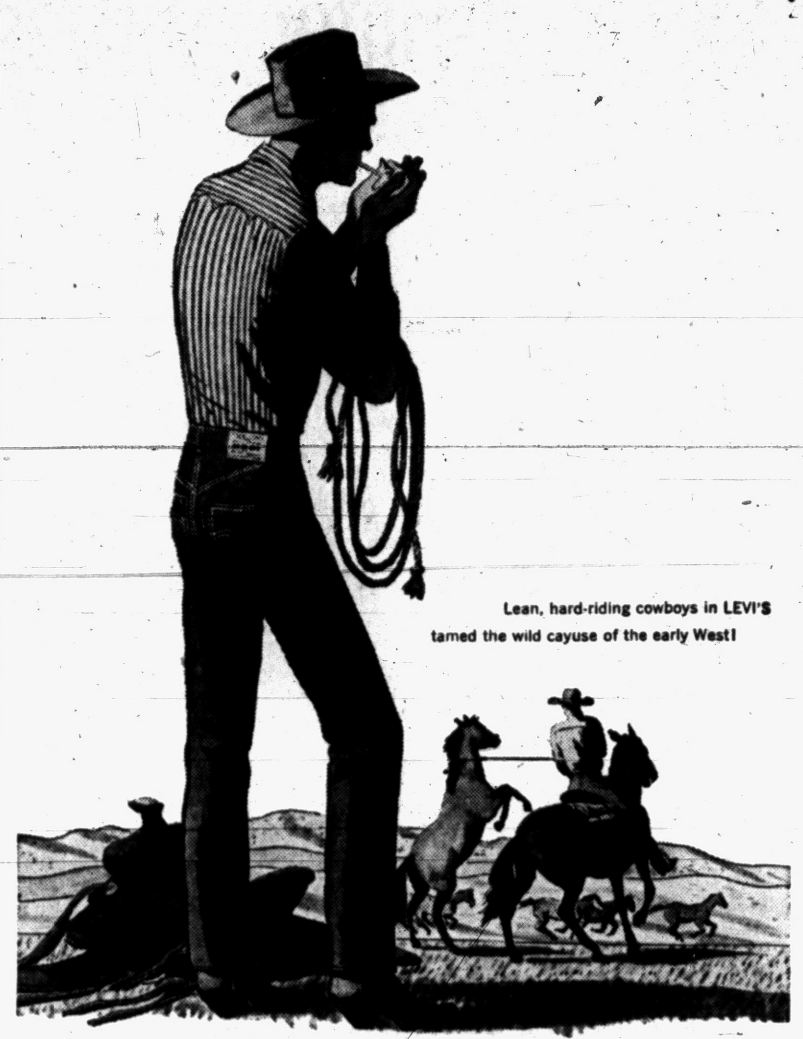

The reactor, for testing reactor cores, is to be built at the national reactor testing station in Idaho. The AEC said it will be a high pressure water-moderated and water-cooled type.

Estimated cost of the reactor will be between $250,000 and $500,000.

The AEC said firms interested in the project will be given an opportunity to submit proposals late next month. Delivery of the completed reactor will be scheduled for mid-1956.

Area Boy Scouts Return From Long Canoe Journey

Recently returned from a 150-mile canoe trek and a mass march through the small town of Mesick were 36 Boy Scouts and four adult leaders from Troop 244, Pontiac and Detroit.

According to Dr. Jack Bell, Pontiac troop scoutmaster, 27 local boys took part in the eight-day journey, which included canoe races, songfests, fishing, swimming and campfires.

It was estimated the scouts put in about 30 hours actual paddling time, making four stops along the way, after starting from Grayling Aug. 8.

One unusual feature of the trip was a march through Mesick, about 20 miles northwest of Cadillac. The scouts marched down the main street three abreast, singing loudly while townspeople lined the streets.

Mrs. Bell, the only woman to make the trip, said the group was well received there, and the boys saw a free movie while in town.

The scouts constructed racks fo rtheir canoes, which served a dual purpose. The storage racks could be converted into tables and benches.

Besides Mr. and Mrs. Bell, the two adult leaders from Detroit Troop 244 were Bill Weitschat and Robert Sniatkowski. Scouts Leslie Marhoff of Detroit and Raymond Smith of Pontiac served as junior leaders.

U. S. Soldier Shoots Two Korean Marines

SEOUL, (AP)—An unidentified U.S. soldier shot and killed two South Korean Marines Sunday in an argument over Korean girls, an Army source reported today.

Two other Korean Marines and a civilian were wounded.

The source said the U.S. soldier went to a tent in a battalion area of the ROK 1st Marine Division and asked if there were any girls in the tent.

The Koreans told him there were none, but he tried to enter the tent. An ROK Marine rushed at him and told him to go back to his own unit.

ROK police reported the U.S. soldiers had been walking with two Korean prostitutes.

Police said the girls disappeared and the soldiers may have suspected the Marines were hiding them.

Various Types of Pencils Will Please Your Tot

When mothers feel small fry tugging at their sleeves during a back-to-school shopping trip, it often is a youngster pleading for that "dandy pencil case" on a nearby counter.

Whether Mom buys the case or a zippered pouch, she will stuff them with a half-dozen pencils of the right type for the child's age and interests.

There are now some 350 different kinds of pencils to choose from. Many of these have been created especially for school children.

General purpose pencils we're all familiar with for office and home use are now made in six degrees of lead hardness, but youngsters prefer the softest — number 1 or 2.

Colored leads also are more generally used.

Actors Refuse to Talk in Probe

Bernard Baruch Was Spectator at Congress' Red Investigation

NEW YORK (AP)—The second day of a congressional probe into alleged Red influence in show business, like the first day, brought up no witness willing to answer questions about communism.

All four persons called before the House Un-American Activities Committee yesterday declined to reply when the committee asked about Red affiliations. When the hearings opened on the previous day, seven witnesses refused to answer similar questions.

Three of yesterday's witnesses cited the Fifth Amendment of the Constitution, which protects a person from being forced to give self-incriminating testimony. They were Lee Hays, a stout singer of folk songs; Mrs. Irma Jurist, a composer; and Mrs. Susan d'Usseau, artist and wife of playright Arnaud d'Usseau.

Mrs. d'Usseau told the committee she had nothing to do with the theater and thought she had been called by mistake in this probe. Committee Chairman Francis E. Walter (D-Pa) said she was to be questioned anyway.

A spectator at the hearings, which are scheduled to continue until Friday, was financier Bernard Baruch. He shook hands with Walter, who said, "To have you here encouraging me means a great deal."

When asked by reporters what he thought of witnesses who refused to answer the committee's questions, Baruch replied:

"Any person who has nothing to fear can answer anything. In this great country of ours, the only thing you have to fear is guilt."

Bartender Thugs Serve the Crowd —Take Cash

BUFFALO, (AP)—The regulars at Emil A. Singer's tavern in suburban Cheektowaga were delighted to find the place open yesterday.

The tavern is normally closed Tuesday, but yesterday two cheerful young men tended bar and served meals to customers for nearly six hours.

Then, with the place crowded and business thriving, the bartenders suddenly vanished.

When Singer and his wife returned from a shopping trip and a movie he was informed that his "new" bartenders had walked off their jobs.

Singer told police the "bartenders" had forced open his front door and finally fled with $40 in cash plus about another $65 from over-the-bar trade.

STEAM-DRIVEN THRASHER—An old-time steam engine furnishes the power to drive this tractor on the farm of Orla Benjamin of 1175 Ladd Rd., Walled Lake. Operating the machine is William Mairs of Novi and his 7-year-old son George who got quite a bang out of the chugging engine. Benjamin bought the steam engine at a thrasher reunion last year, finds it does a good job on his 100-acre farm. He has an affection for the puffing old engines, and owns two others. One of them, though, he admits "just won't run." He had it as a young man when he went all over the country with his thrasher and crew. Now he keeps it on his farm as a showpiece.

New Travel Bureau Open in Birmingham

BIRMINGHAM — A new travel service, the Elkin Hotel and Travel Bureau has been opened here at 293 N. Hunter Blvd., by Mrs. Delphine Finn Michaels. She will be assisted by Lee Williamson. The new bureau plans a complete service in rail, air and steamship travel plans and in resort accommodations.

Mrs. Michaels put her foot in the travel door while still in high school, when she went to work at her uncle's agency.

"It's like a disease," she says. "I even derive vicarious pleasure out of planning someone else's trip."

Mrs. Michaels isn't a "stay-at-home"—she has made six European crossings, visited Mexico, Honolulu, South America and the West Indies.

In contrast to Mrs. Michaels' world-travels, Miss Williamson, who has worked with an airline for the past five years, has visited almost all of the 48 states.

DETROIT (AP)—Murray Corp. of America has announced sale of its automotive chassis frame division to Dana Corp. of Toledo for an undisclosed amount.

The switch goes into effect Sept. 1.

A Murray spokesman said the sale, announced yesterday, is in line with company plans to diversify and expand operations outside the automotive industry.

Last month Murray acquired the Easy Washing Machine Co. of Syracuse, N.Y. It also owns a plumbing ware plant and has a contract to make automatic bowling pin setters for Brunswick-Balke-Collender Co.

47-Day Copper Walkouts Over

11,000 Mine Workers Expected Back on Job at Kennecott Plants

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Employes of the Kennecott Copper Corp. started back to work today in four states, ending a costly 47-day-old strike.

A joint union council last night instructed the men to return after agreement was reached with the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter workers at Ray, Ariz.

Kennecott spokesmen said full-scale production would resume as soon as maintenance work neglected during the strike had been polished off. They said all the 11,000 employes in Utah, Nevada, New Mexico and Arizona are expected back by the end of the week.

Utah workers agreed on settlement terms including a 15½ cent-an-hour wage and pension package, last Friday. New Mexico and Nevada workers later accepted the same offer.

Agreement in Arizona was blocked by a bargaining dispute between the independent Mine-Mill union and the CIO United Steelworkers. The steelworkers have asked the National Labor Relations Board for a collective bargaining election. The board's decision has not been announced.

Union members in Utah, Nevada and New Mexico had refused to return to work until an agreement was reached in Arizona.

Woman Ordered Evicted for Wearing 'Shortie'

She said yesterday the bed jacket and bloomers are "a hideous looking outfit, I admit, but it's not indecent. When I was told about it, I never wore it again. You ought to see some of these women in shorts and halters."

* * *

Officials of the Allegheny Housing Authority refused to say whether their eviction order was based entirely on Mrs. Williams' attire. But they did say noise from her apartment annoyed other tenants. They set a Saturday deadline.

Mrs. Williams occupies the apartment with her 9-year-old son.

Calumet Future Operations Rest on Strike Vote

HOUGHTON (AP) — Striking CIO Steelworkers will vote tomorrow on a new offer from Calumet & Hecla Inc. to end a three-month walkout at the company's Calumet division.

The company said yesterday the decision of the 2,200 employes will determine whether Calumet & Hecla proceeds with plans to liquidate its Upper Peninsula copper mines and smelter.

Plans to liquidate were announced last week after the union rejected the company offer of a 15-cent hourly pay increase this year and four cents an hour more next year with increased fringe benefits.

The union said a company demand conditioning the re-employment of striking employes on a physical examination helped defeat ratification.

At a meeting with the steelworkers in New York Monday the company agreed to modify its offer.

Workers were called on strike May 2 in a wage dispute on a new contract. The company said varying job classifications ruled out attempts to arrive at an average hourly wage.

Eighty-five per cent of the funds of the nation's savings and loan associations is channeled into home financing.

Wage and Property Petitions to Continue

LANSING (AP) — A Detroit group seeking to tighten laws on garnishment of wages and seizure of property paid for on time today said it will go ahead with circulating its petitions seeking an amendment to the Constitution.

The citizens for Better Government Group in Detroit planned to circulate the petitions, mainly through labor unions, although the form of the petitions have not been approved by the state board of canvassers.

The group, headed by Gregory M. Pillon, Detroit attorney, said the board of canvassers was not able to call a special meeting to pass on the form of the petitions.

Under the proposed changes, property could not be seized without a court judgement, garnishment of wages would be limited to 10 per cent instead of 30 per cent and employes fired because their wages were attached would be given separation pay of $500.

Parents Offer Example by Own Good TV Habits

EVANSTON, ILL. (AP) — Are you looking for the answer to the problem in the mirror. You may find it there.

In other words: It's up to you to set a good example.

That's a distillation of the advice of Dr. Paul Witty, professor of education at Northwestern University. He has made five surveys, one each year starting in 1950, on TV in relation to school work. The inquiries covered, in all, 10,000 pupils, teachers and parents.

He found that some parents and teachers believe that "excessive" interest in television hampers youngsters in their school work and cuts too deeply into their free-time reading and play.

"Parents can help greatly by setting a good model for children to emulate in their own behavior," Dr. Witty suggests. "If they turn frequently to books for information and pleasure, their children will probably conclude that reading is worth while, and will themselves be more inclined to read.

"If parents plan a family schedule of recreation that includes reading and other activities, as well as television, many children will be led to assimilate TV in well-balanced programs of leisure activity."

SPECIFIC LIST

Here are some specific things that can be done by —

Children: Draw up a schedule of programs to be watched in the week ahead. And limit watching to those programs.

Parents: Take the kids to sports events, museums and the zoo, and squire the whole family to picnics or the beach. Buy the youngsters pets, tools, game equipment. Encourage them to develop hobbies, join clubs or scout troops.

Teachers can give special aid to pupils who don't read much because they read poorly. Parents can foster a desire to read by reading aloud to toddlers and by buying reading material that jibes with the interests of older children.

Dr. Witty's statistics on TV in relation to school work seem to put the finger of concern only on "excessive" watching. He reports:

Tests showed, for example, that the average time devoted to TV by pupils in the lower one fourth of a class was 26 hours a week. The televiewing time of pupils in the upper one fourth of the class was 20 hours a week.

SURVEY DATA

Dr. Witty's surveys provide interesting data on the average number of hours per week viewers spend in front of their sets.

The first year, 1950, the elementary school pupils—grades 2 through 6—devoted 21 hours per week to TV. The time thus spent reached a peak of 23 in 1952. At the latest annual checkup it was down to 21.5.

For high schools the average started at 14 hours, rose to 17 in 1953, and then dropped back to 14.

The parents gave 24 hours a week to video the first year, but the average eased off gradually to 16.3 in the fifth year.

The averages, incidentally, covered watching "most of the year." TV time slumped in the summer, when folks like to get outside while the getting is good.

The surveys also disclosed a trend toward more reading by many children at a time when TV probably had ceased to be a novelty for them.

Dr. Witty concludes:

"Although television does not, on the whole, appear to influence educational attainment adversely, there are individual cases of undesirable effects.

* * *

"On the other hand, there have been children who have been stimulated to do better work in school through interests engendered by television."

Cairo Getting New Face-Lift Treatment

CAIRO, Egypt, (AP)—Wing Cmdr. Abdel Latif Boghdady, Egyptian minister of municipal and rural affairs, has changed the face of Cairo in three years.

With a speed reckoned to be impossible in this part of the world, buildings have been torn down, streets paved and public gardens created. A street project under the reign of pudgy King Farouk was still in its initial stages after a year's work. When the revolution took over, Boghdady finished it in a month. Recently an underground passage connecting Cairo with residential Heliopolis was finished six months ahead of schedule.

Undisputed King of Wee Hours

Non-Seltzer-Squirting Comic Has Yen to Write Musical Comedy

By DICK KLEINER
First of Two Dispatches

NEW YORK (NEA)—A veteran, stand-up-and-tell-jokes comic surveyed the current crop of TV comedians in one disgruntled sentence: "They're a bunch of lightweights."

Steve Allen, a heavyweight among lightweights, typifies this group. While not exclusively a comedian, he is the perfect example of television's new brand of lightweight comedy. TV has outgrown the pratfall and the seltzer squirter; TV doesn't smile on performers who simply tell jokes; TV likes low pressure.

And Steve Allen, a non-joke-telling, non-seltzer-squirter, low pressure comic, came along at just the right time. He's become the undisputed king of the wee hours, and his popularity is such that he's currently filming the starring role in a movie about Benny Goodman.

What with his movie, his TV work, his records and his many other operations, Steve Allen will gross upwards of $250,000 this year. And that's a pretty high figure for low pressure.

If Allen had come along ten years ago, chances are he wouldn't have made much of a name for himself. He had long exposure on radio, with only moderate success.

Students of comedy say he would have been "a bomb" (dud) in vaudeville. But his style is perfectly suited to the new TV type of comedy, a type which admittedly he did much to form.

Actually, Steve Allen is one of the least-likely-to-be-a-comedian of anybody you could meet. He is shy and introverted off-screen, almost to the point of this being a problem. When you meet him and talk to him, his eyes rarely meet yours. At lunch he keeps his head down, plays with the food on his plate. He answers questions in a faint voice, politely and sincerely, but never volunteering information.

IMMEDIATE CHANGE

Yet, stick a microphone in his hand and point a camera at him, and he changes immediately. He becomes the Steve Allen of TV—a remarkably witty ad libber, a guy who'll do any zany stunt that comes along, a man who'll look you straight in the screen and talk in a firm voice on any subject he deems worthwhile.

In show business, such a complete transformation is unusual. There are many performers who change slightly, but most are pretty much the same person on screen or off. But Steve Allen is two distinct persons, two diametrically opposed personalities.

One explanation for this phenomenon is that Allen, the performer, is a phony. The real Steve Allen is a man who likes to write, likes to sleep, enjoys reading good books.

This Steve Allen decided, for some unknown reason, that he wanted to be a big star, and so he set about to create a new Steve Allen. And, after a few years, he succeeded.

So Steve Allen, the man with the quick ad lib, is strickly a product of deliberate planning.

The raw material was there — Allen has a good native comic sense, comes from a show business family, is a naturally-talented musician.

To these he's added the facility that comes with years of experience, the ability to select and stick by talented associates, and a few tricks that can only come with practice.

He's been wise enough to capitalize on his assets and not attempt a straight, old-fashioned comedy show. His greatest talents — ad libs, an easy manner in interviewing people, off-the-cuff comedy — fit the late night hours.

And there are those who doubt whether Steve Allen would have been as successful earlier in the evening, when tradition dictates a more formal approach.

"The important thing in TV is to be tolerated," Steve has said. He feels that his personality will wear well in a medium that has killed off top comics quickly and cruelly.

Steve was born in New York, but brought up by relatives in Chicago while his vaudevillian mother trouped. Perhaps a psychologist would point to these years, when he lived in many homes and attended many schools, as the root of his introversion.

But it is equally possible to attribute his easy-going ability to get along with people to the same source.

ARMY FLING

After college and a brief fling in the Army — he was medically discharged — he got into radio and began the career that has brought him fame, high salaries and a marriage with the lovely actress, Jayne Meadows.

Now there seems no stopping Allen. The only problem would appear to be which way does he want to go. He obviously can continue as a TV comedian and personality.

Little Schoolgirl Clicks Off Those 'Biggest' Words

NEW YORK, (AP)—A 12-year-old schoolgirl spelled her way into $8,000 last night by clicking off "antidisestablishmentarianism" on the CBS television show "The $64,000 Question.

Gloria Lockerman's grandmother will decide whether the junior high school student tries the $16,000 question next Tuesday or settles for the $8,000.

If she tries for the $16,000 and fails, she will receive a $4,000 college education trust fund as a consolation prize. The regular consolation prize is an expensive automobile, but the rule was altered in view of Gloria's age.

Gloria, a Negro, who finished 34th out of 62 finalists in the Nationalist Spelling Bee at Washington, D.C., last May, smiled as she picked spelling as her category on the TV show last night.

Gloria, a ninth-grade student at Booker T. Washington Junior High School, Baltimore, was accompanied on the program by her grandmother Mrs. Bertha Key, with whom she lives.

Gloria spelled coyote, dinosaur, chinchilla and hippopotamus to win an assured $512. She then moved up through $1,000 by spelling plenipotentiary, $2,000 with gingham and taffeta, and $4,000 with minuet, waltz and mazurka.

Screen Actors Guild Ends TV-Film Strike

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The Screen Actors Guild has accepted a new contract for actors in television entertainment films, ending a 12-day strike. The actors voted 735 to 307 last night to end the strike.

Spokesmen for both the Guild and TV film producers said the agreement will give actors residual pay for second runs of filmed programs, a key issue in the dispute. Under the old contract the actors got a percentage of the original pay for third through sixth runs. The new contract, to run through March 31, 1960, provides for payment for second through sixth runs.

Distributions of Gas Tax Receipts Set by State

LANSING (AP)—The State Highway Department said today it will distribute some $31 million in gas and weight tax receipts for the second quarter of this year to cities, counties and villages.

Net receipts for the second quarter of this year total $31,444,347, the department said. This compares with $28,720,727 for the same quarter of last year.

Under a 1951 act, state gas and weight taxes are distributed to local units on the following formula: 44 per cent to the state for state trunklines, 37 per cent to counties and 19 per cent to cities and incorporated villages.

Dems Criticize Ike's Golf Play

GOP Says President Performs Job Perfectly Even When Relaxing

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Sen. Capehart (R-Ind), denouncing Democratic criticism of President Eisenhower's golf and vacations, said today the President "can run his office as well from Gettysburg or Denver as from the White House."

He said Eisenhower has "such an unexcelled grasp" of the presidency that he "could spend most of his time in Gettysburg and no criticism would be justified."

Sen. Murray (D-Mont) brought up the subject of the Gettysburg farm yesterday in criticizing Eisenhower's veto Sunday of a bill which would have continued stockpiling of some domestic minerals. The President said the minerals are no longer needed.

Murray contended the veto was unjustified and said it resulted from "bad advice and a lack of personal understanding on the part of the chief executive made inevitable by his isolation from the work-a-day world."

Murray said it is "unfortunate" that Eisenhower "has found it necessary to devote so much time to his golf game and his Gettysburg farm."

Capehart said Murray's criticism was "neither warranted nor factual," and added in an interview:

"President Eisenhower knows more about what's going on in the nation and in the world than any other president ever has. He has excellent advisers. The American people ought to be delighted that we have a president who has learned to handle the job without ruining his health."

Sen. Neuberger (D-Ore) said in a separate interview Eisenhower probably would carry the Western states if a presidential contest were held today.

Sub Stays Put

CHICAGO (AP) — The submarine that goes nowhere, the U.S.S. Silversides, has a new skipper. Lt. Keith K. Nicolls, 33, commands the sub which is used to simulate crash dives, maneuvers and torpedo attacks but never moves an inch from her berth at the Naval Armory.

Color Goes to the Sole

AKRON, Ohio, (INS) — Men buy an average of 1.1 pairs of shoes a year, compared to an average of more than three pairs for women. But all that may change, now that the color trend in men's fashions has extended, literally, from head to toe. Even the soles of men's shoes will be in pastels in 1956, according to Fred A. Lang, general manager of shoe products for the B. F. Goodrich Co.

Plan Small Craft Haven

PORT AUSTIN, Mich. (AP) — The third of 15 small craft havens planned for Michigan's long and dangerous shoreline will be constructed at Port Austin at a cost of $1,210,000. The Michigan Waterways Commission says construction will start next spring at the top of the state's thumb jutting up between Saginaw Bay and Lake Huron. Other refuge harbors have been built at Port Sanilac on Lake Huron and on Grand Traverse Bay off Lake Michigan.

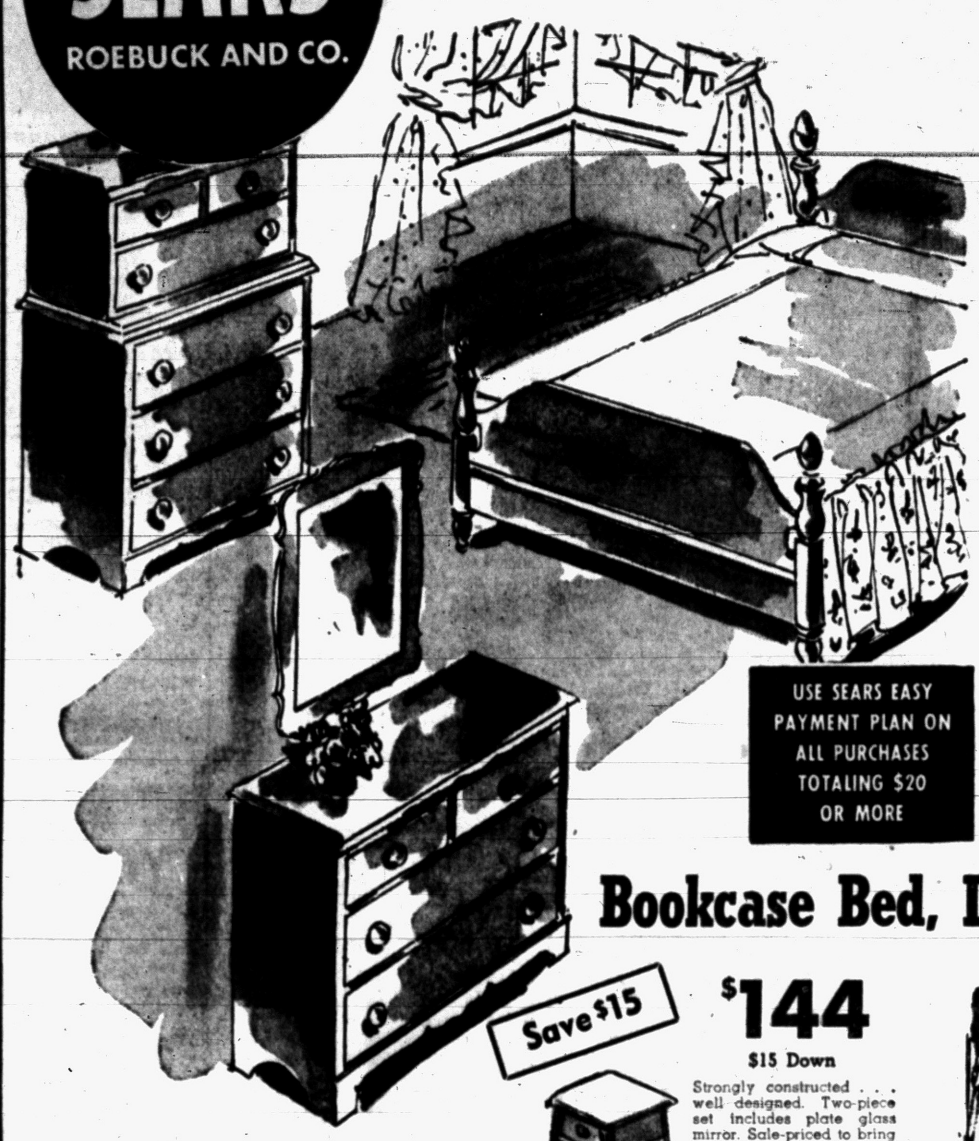

Rename Mountains

NEW DELHI (AP) — The mountains which separate Afghanistan from Soviet Russia have been renamed by the Afghan government, according to a report reaching here. The mountains, known as the Hindukush, should be called the Hindkoh, the report says. In Persian, Hindukush means killer of Hindus, and Hindkoh means Hindu Mountains.
