Link 26 Smashups to Fog, Icy Roads

15 Persons Hurt as Cars Slow to Snail's Pace

Road Conditions Force Traffic to Move at Snail's Pace

Thick fog which blanketed Oakland County and slippery roads today were blamed for one of the hignest weekend county traffic accident tolls of 1958.

Twenty - six smashups were reported to the Oakland County Sheriff's Department from 8 a.m. Saturday through mid-morning today.

Fifteen persons were hurt in 12 injury accidents reported to sheriff's deputies. The other 14 mishaps were property damage accidents.

At one point late Sunday afternoon, eight accidents were reported during a span of about 2½ hours, three of them involving injured persons.

Within an hour and 40 minutes Sunday morning, two accidents were reported, with eight persons injured.

Most of the mishaps were caused by fog and slippery roads.

State Police at the Pontiac Post reported more than a dozen wrecks over the weekend, half of them involving injuries.

The Redford State Police Post reported 15 property damage and five injury accidents since midnight Saturday.

"There were more accidents reported during holiday period over the past few days than in any other similar period I can remember," Sheriff Frank W. Irons said.

Irons expressed a feeling of relief this morning as Oakland County escaped the holiday weekend's hazardous weather conditions with only one traffic fatality.

The only weekend traffic fatality in the county was an eight-year-old Troy youth, James C. Hanke, 4820 Rochester Rd., who died Friday evening when struck by a car.

"Most of the accidents were due to a heavy unseasonal fog which

1st '59 Baby in Pontiac to Be Welcomed Royally

Little Miss or Mr. New Year will get a royal welcome in Pontiac.

Local businesses are making plans to shower gifts on the first Pontiac area baby of 1959.

More than 25 merchants are lining up a couple dozen presents, ranging from baby food and clothes to a new permanent for the proud mother.

This will be the first year the merchants have gone all out to honor the first-born of the year.

Parents can enter their baby in the contest through their doctor, following these contest rules:

Have the family doctor send a statement to the Pontiac area Chamber of Commerce listing the exact time and date of birth; sex, weight and name of the baby and name and address of the parents.

The entries must be delivered by noon Jan. 5 to the "First Baby Contest," in care of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce, 34 E. Pike St.

Parents who live in Oakland County north of 14 Mile road are eligible to enter the contest.

Contest results will be announced during the second week of January.

Police said they caught Richard Dawson, 37, St. Louis, Mo. with one of the missing trains under his shirt and five others stuffed in a paper bag.

The trains — the miniature variety — were taken from a display.

Pontiac Doctor Rekindles Touchy Medical Subject

By PETE LOCHBILER

Jack Kevorkian is an enthusiastic Pontiac physician who has dared to rekindle one of the touchiest subjects in the medical world.

The 30-year-old researcher has advocated that condemned prisoners be allowed to volunteer for painless medical experiment under anesthesia before they are put to death.

"I believe it was the first time in 2,000 years that this proposal was seriously brought up," said Dr. Kevorkian of his address before the Criminology Section of the American Association for the advancement of Science in Washington, D.C., Saturday.

DR. JACK KEVORKIAN

Back in Pontiac, where he lives with his parents at 294 Cherokee Rd., the young doctor conceded that his idea is a startling one.

"I've not experienced any public reaction as yet," he said, "but the professional people with whom I've talked generally have taken the idea under serious consideration."

Kevorkian felt that the strongest objections to his proposal would come from those quarters that oppose capital punishment itself, not medical experimentation.

"I have my own feelings about capital punishment, too," said the

Traffic Toll 23 in State; None Killed Sunday

National Total of 595 May Be 2nd Worst Yule Holiday on Record

From Our News Wires

Michigan wound up the long holiday weekend with a miraculous deathless Sunday on the highways, although 23 persons lost their lives in traffic earlier during the Christmas weekend.

A heavy fog covering southern and central Michigan slowed traffic and may have been a factor in the perfect Sunday. But the fog caused a large number of minor accidents involving considerable property damage.

State Police said it was the first time since Jan. 12 for Michigan to go through a Sunday without a traffic fatality. There was only one Sunday in 1957—Sept. 8—without a fatality.

The highway toll, coupled with five fire deaths, three shooting fatalities and one person who died in a plane crash, gave the state an over-all count of 31 dead in accidents over the holiday.

Highway deaths were far lower this year than "the black record of about 50 deaths over the Christmas weekend two years ago," according to Orin M. Lucas, State Police traffic analyst.

Across the nation, homeward-bound motorists, apparently shocked by the early rate of traffic deaths, slowed down during the weekend to save the nation from posting a record Christmas holiday highway fatality toll.

The National Safety Council said the four-day toll, which appeared headed for an all-time high at the start, slacked off in the final two days. The council said the count probably would wind up somewhat above its pre-holiday estimate of 620 traffic deaths.

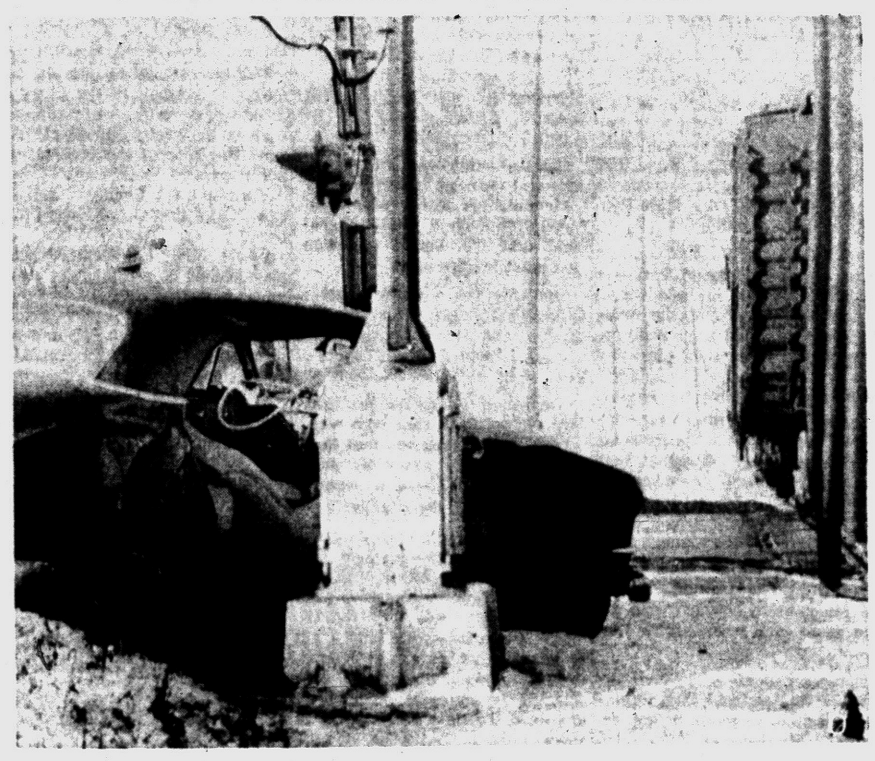

Safety officials said the improvement in the traffic death rate stemmed from the "shock" of the early fatality pace.

California counted about one-tenth of the nation's highway fatalities with 59. Texas had 46, Illinois 38, New York 34, Ohio 27, Pennsylvania and North Carolina 25 each, Michigan 23, Florida and Virginia 18 each and Indiana 17.

Fierce Battles Rage

Cuban Struggle Nears Climax

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

HAVANA (AP)—A climax in Cuba's two-year-old civil war appeared to be drawing near today. Fidel Castro's rebels smashed at government forces in Eastern Cuba, and President Fulgencio Batista's army waged a fierce offensive against insurgents in the central part of the island.

In Oriente province, at the eastern end of the island, the rebel radio said four of Castro's columns were marching toward Oriente's capital, Santiago de Cuba, after hitting army forces elsewhere in the province.

The rebels said their goal was to set up an insurgent government in Oriente shortly.

In the central province of Las Villas, Batista's forces apparently had started a large-scale offensive to counter a string of rebel victories which threatened the provincial capital of Santa Clara. The government was sending in heavy artillery, tanks and bombers.

The rebels reported government planes bombed Santa Clara and the rebel-held town of Jatibonico, in Camaguey province near the Las Villas border. Camaguey lies between Las Villas and Oriente.

Other reports from Las Villas said Batista's planes and artillery heavily bombed and shelled rebel concentrations around Santa Clara. One aim of the government offensive appeared to be to remove a rebel threat to the main highway between Las Villas and Oriente.

Despite rebel attempts to have populated places declared open cities, the government warned that it would make all-out counterattacks on towns held or threatened by the rebels.

A rebel exile organization in Miami said the planes bombed and strafed cities although the Army knew the rebels were camped outside the cities.

In New York, another group of exiles reported Castro had broadcast an accusation that the Dominican Republic is "preparing an attack on Cuba" and 30 warplanes with Cuban markings are "ready

Candidates for positions in Oakland County's 24 townships must file their petitions with their respective township clerks. Positions at stake include supervisor, clerk, treasurer, trustee or trustees, justice of the peace, board of review member, and constable.

At last count, 13 candidates had filed for the seven positions on the Circuit Court.

Undoubtedly there will be a primary Feb. 16 to taper the number down to two for each position.

The general election throughout the county and the rest of the state will be held April 6.

Plane Crash Fatal to City Pilot

A 22-year-old Pontiac man was killed Sunday afternoon when his rented plane narrowly missed a house and crashed in a fog-enshrouded peach orchard in Washington Township seven miles southwest of Romeo.

William R. Quye, of 968 Kenilworth St., was dead when Harry W. Bell, 41, and his daughter, Valerie, 15, arrived at the scene moments later.

Romeo State Police said Quye, a student pilot, suffered a fractured skull when his head hit the plane's instrument panel.

Bell said he and his family were watching television shortly after 4 p.m. when they heard a "thud and a swish."

"We thought it was a car at first. Then when we went outside we saw limbs from our big oak tree strewn all over the front yard, Bell said.

A piece of the plane's right wingtip and glass also were found on the ground.

The plane, a Cessna 140A, hit the top of the tree, spun out of control above the house and crashed just 50 yards short of an open field. Visibility was about 15 yards, state police said.

The pilot, who had about 45 hours flying time to his credit, had left Pontiac Municipal Airport at 2:15 p.m. on a flight to Lapeer and Port Huron. He had been out about two hours, having stopped at Lapeer and Port Huron airports after leaving Pontiac, according to Romeo State Police Corp. Henry DeLooff.

He said Quye had put 11½ gallons of gas in the plane before he left Pontiac Airport, but that state troopers found no gas in the tank.

Civil Aeronautics Administration inspectors were to investigate the wreckage this morning.

The plane is owned by J. R. Greenhalgh, of 75 Ottawa Dr., Pontiac, who owns and operates the Northern Flying Service at Pontiac Municipal Airport.

A neighbor of the Bells, Paul Kyle, 26, who was home with his wife, and three children, said he heard the plane flying low, "right over our roof."

"We thought it was going to hit our house, and then we heard a crash. It sounded like an explosion," Kyle said.

He was the second man on the scene.

In the Bell home when the crash occurred were Bell, his wife, their three daughters and a son.

A neighbor's child and Bell's father also were in the house.

VISIBILITY WAS 15 YARDS — His Cessna 140A plane apparently out of gas, William R. Quye of 968 Kenilworth St., a 22-year-old student pilot, died when the craft plunged to the earth in a fog-covered peach orchard near Romeo. Romeo State Police said visibility was only about 15 yards. Quye was flying alone in the rented plane.

Mother's Car in Collision on Baldwin Ave.

3 Survivors Injured; Son Says She Didn't See Flashing Lights

A four-year-old Pontiac girl was killed this morning in a train-car collision on Baldwin avenue near Walton boulevard.

Dead on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital at 10:50 a.m. was Ann Louise Chapman, 4, of 1919 Opdyke Rd.

★ ★ ★

She was riding in a car driven by her mother, Mrs. Norma L. Chapman, 42, same address. Also in the death car were Mrs. Chapman's son, Robert, 20, and Larry McGinnis, 15, of 245 W. Brooklyn Ave.

Oakland Highway Toll in '58 93

The three surviving occupants of the car were taken to Pontiac General Hospital for treatment. None was reported seriously injured.

Robert told Pontiac police officers that his mother, driving south on Baldwin, apparently failed to see the lights flashing at the crossing.

There was no warning sounded at the crossing, he told police.

The Chapman car was moving at about 20 m.p.h. when it reached the tracks.

The train, a 12-car Grand Trunk freight train, was moving in an easterly direction along the tracks at 15 m.p.h., headed for Caseville.

Engineer William Cameron, 58, of 55 Chamberlain St., said he caught a glimpse of the car just before the collision, but was unable to stop in time.

The train bumped the car off the tracks. The auto skidded approximately 15 feet off the road, police said.

Another Boy Reported Injured; Chief Denies Abuse at Home

DETROIT (AP)—A second instance of injury to a boy inmate of Coldwater State Home and Training School was under investigation today by legislative probers.

As in the first instance, inquiry followed a Christmas holiday visit home by the inmate.

For a second time, too, Dr. E. J. Rennell, superintendent of the Coldwater institution, denied the injury was the result of mistreatment by attendants.

Dr. Rennell, accusing house investigators of "persecution and harassment," said he anticipated still further complaints "because of all this publicity."

Myrl H. Webb, Detroit taxicab driver, complained yesterday to the Phillips special house investigating committee that his son, Robert, 14, came home on a Christmas visit with bruises on his head and blackened eyes.

★ ★ ★

State Rep. T. John Lesinski (D-Detroit), member of the committee, said there were signs of corporal punishment of Robert.

Dr. Rennell said the Webb boy bruised his head in a fall and purposely blackened both his eyes.

In the previous instance, that of 12-year-old Gerald Nowak of St. Clair Shores, Dr. Rennell said injury was the apparent result of a scuffle with another boy.

Police Break Up Riot in Tijuana

Forced to Use Tear Gas, Bullets After Political Melee in Streets

TIJUANA, Mexico (UPI) — Police used live ammunition and tear gas to break up a wild riot which erupted among an estimated 1,000 persons attending a political meeting.

Some 35 persons sought medical help after the melee in which more than 30 automobiles were damaged.

Luis H. Alvarez, National Action Party (PAN) presidential candidate defeated in last July's elections, said "We, the PAN, will keep on fighting until we have finished the regime."

Alvarez, who was speaker at the large outdoor gathering four blocks from Main street late Saturday when the riot exploded, yesterday addressed a meeting of 800 persons at Mexicali, about 100 miles east of here.

Police said yesterday's two-hour meeting was peaceful.

Deputy Police Chief Francisco Vlas Novoa said Saturday's riot was the worst in Tijuana's history.

The outbreak apparently was touched off by protestations against a show of strength by the government which earlier had warned Alvarez that the meeting would be disbanded if a federal law prohibiting anti-government demonstrations was broken.

Armed police officers were stationed at rooftops overlooking the meeting place and fire trucks were drawn up around the gathering when Alvarez began his talk.

300 Red Missiles in 18 Months Seen

WASHINGTON (AP) — An estimate that the Soviet Union will have 300 intercontinental ballistic missiles within 18 months and that at least half of them will work has been given to the Eisenhower administration.

Cold Air Heads South From Canada Border

By The Associated Press

The brief mild winter weather appeared ended in Northern sections of the country today.

Cold air spread from Canada into the north central region and headed into Southern and Eastern sections. It also was on the chilly side in New England and parts of the Rockies and Plateau region.

But fairly mild weather continued in most other sections of the country after Sunday's record temperature marks for the date in some areas.

The icy air in the north central region extended through the Dakotas and Nebraska and dropped temperatures some 20 degrees lower than 24 hours earlier. They were near zero in North Dakota, about 10 degrees in South Dakota and in the 20s in Nebraska.

The cold air was expected to advance through the Great Lakes region and Ohio Valley southward into Arkansas and northern Texas.

Penalty Law Change Urged by Waterford

Waterford Township will push for a change in the state law which requires Oakland and other county taxpayers to pay a four per cent penalty if they have not paid their taxes by Jan. 21.

Mrs. Dorothy Olson, township treasurer, said she has talked with State Sen. L. Harvey Lodge and State Rep. Lloyd L. Anderson about a bill which would extend the time to pay taxes without penalty to Feb. 28.

Controversy has brewed for some years because some municipalities levy the penalty after Jan. 20, while others waive it in order to cut down on taxpayers' complaints.

★ ★ ★

The latter practice is strictly against the state law, says County Treasurer Charle A. Sparks.

Besides, townships and cities are depriving themselves of additional revenues if they do not levy the penalty, Sparks said.

Sparks' office has sent to all city and township treasurers regular bulletins listing four opinions of the state attorney general that the unpaid collection fee must be assessed.

"But for years many continue to ignore the law," Sparks said. "Local township boards have waived it without one ounce of legal right to do so."

Opponents of the fee say they are flooded each year with complaints from taxpayers that they can't pay their taxes by Jan. 20, much less afford a penalty for not making the deadline.

So to ease these complaints, areas take the situation in their own hands by doing away with the penalty, the county treasurer said.

Mrs. Olson has urged that a bill be passed giving township boards, in townships having a full-time salaried treasurer, the authority to extend the time for payment of taxes without penalty up to and including Feb. 28.

Rekindles Touchy Medical Subject

doctor, "but I'm trying to be scientific."

Before making his proposal public, Kevorkian said he sounded it out on two condemned prisoners in the death house at Ohio State Penitentiary in Columbus.

One of the condemned men — a convicted killer in his mid-20's — favored the idea. "Maybe what the scientists would learn from the experiment on me might some day help my three-year-old daughter," Kevorkian quoted him as saying.

Later the same man wrote the doctor, saying that if he gave his life for research, "it would help me to think that I didn't succeed in making a total mess of my life, that I may have helped someone, somewhere, sometime."

"If I must die, I must," the man wrote. "But your way would be much more humane, and at the same time beneficial to others."

The other prisoner favored the idea, Kevorkian said, but wanted to think it over more before announcing his decision.

★ ★ ★

The interviews with the prisoners were academic, since a change in state laws would be necessary before medical men would be permitted to experiment.

Dr. Kevorkian said he made four points in explaining his proposal to the condemned men:

"I can't help you," he said, "but you could help me."

★ ★ ★

"You would only feel the prick of a hypodermic needle while laying on an operating table in a research center."

"You'd never wake up."

"The first anesthesia would not be administered until the moment when the executioner would otherwise throw the switch on the electric chair."

Death would be brought about at the end of the experiment by an overdose of the anesthetic, according to Kevorkian's plan.

★ ★ ★

Kevorkian, who is unmarried, graduated from University of Michigan Medical School in 1952, interned at Henry Ford Hospital for a year, served two years as an Army doctor in Korea and took postgraduate courses in pathology in Ann Arbor for two years.

While studying pathology, he came across a textbook reference that indicated experimentation on condemned prisoners was practiced in the ancient world three hundred years or so before the birth of Christ.

"I thought, if the idea was good then, it's still a good idea. The more I thought about it, the better the idea sounded."

At present, the physician has no official endorsement of his proposal by any agency. He plans to carry on his one-man campaign, however, while engaged in his own private research on medical problems that interest him.

Kevorkian envisions that the experimentation, if legalized, would be supervised by the United Nations, available to "the medical geniuses around the world."

"A single experiment by a man of genius could erase errors we now think are truth and would push the medical world ahead a decade," he said.

He said studies of the living human body would produce information that cannot be obtained through autopsies after death, or from other living animals.

"I shouldn't care to be a condemned prisoner, but if I were I would definitely prefer to volunteer for an experiment, rather than completely waste my life by dying in the gas chamber or electric chair."

Grieving Father Meets Duncan

Arrange Funeral for Murdered Bride in Bizarre Slaying

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The grief-stricken father of Olga Duncan, murdered Santa Barbara nurse, met his son-in-law for the first time Sunday.

Friends said Frank Duncan, the dead woman's husband, sobbed as he and Elias Kupczyk, her father, discussed tentative arrangements for her funeral at a meeting in Duncan's Hollywood apartment.

The funeral will be private, followed by cremation—the latter in accordance with an expressed wish of the pretty 30-year-old victim. The date of the funeral was not fixed.

Ventura County authorities charge that Olga Duncan died because her mother-in-law, 54-year-old Mrs. Elizabeth Duncan, was jealous of the younger woman.

At a grand jury session Friday two men, Luis Moya, 22, and Augustine Baldonado, 25, repeated confessions investigators said they had given earlier, in which they told how the elder Mrs. Duncan offered them $6,000 to kill Olga, who was five months pregnant.

The body was found Dec. 21 in a shallow grave near Casitas dam in Ventura County.

Kupczyk arrived by rail from Benito, Man., in northern Canada. He was accompanied by his son William, 32.

"We were extremely fortunate that the death count was held to one in the face of highway conditions and the number of accidents reported."

From noon Saturday through mid-morning today, 11 accidents were reported in the city of Pontiac.

Three of the accidents involved injuries.

Patrolman David H. Slater of the Pontiac Police Department Traffic Bureau said the city's weekend accident total was one of the highest of the year.

The fog was dissipating slowly this morning, but drivers were warned by authorities that some roads are still slippery and snow flurries are expected tonight.

Irons warned drivers on county roads to be "extremely cautious" during periods of the day or night when fog prevails. The visibility is near zero and the pavement is treacherous when slippery.

"The best thing is just not to do any driving unless it is absolutely necessary and, if you must drive, keep your speed down," Irons advised.

That's What Voters Want

'Chop California in Two'

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Public sentiment favors splitting California into two states, the San Francisco Chronicle said today.

The newspaper, releasing results of a poll, said a majority of participants believe the north and south have little in common. They wanted the issue settled by referendum, the paper added.

More than a third of the voters indicated that the question as put to them was unrealistic, if not impossible.

Almost half expressed the belief that such a division would benefit both the northern and southern sections of the state and a majority of the ballots favored a partition of California at the Tehachapi Mountains — the traditional boundary between north and south.

The issues which received most votes:

Dissimilarities between interests, the cultures and general points of view in the north and south make partition desirable — 55.7 per cent.

Constant shift toward Southern California political domination of the state is a threat to the north which can best be met by separation—49.8 per cent.

The Chronicle concluded that the ratio of participants favoring partition may in reality outnumber those who oppose it by three to two.

The newspaper did not release figures of the number of persons participating in the poll.

marring Christmas 1958 with a record highway slaughter, the holiday could end up as the second worst in history.

The most tragic holiday on record was the black Christmas of 1956 when 712 persons died in traffic. The second worst Christmas on the highways occurred in 1955 when 621 persons were killed during a three-day Christmas holiday.

Thus, if late highway fatality reports boost this year's toll only slightly above the council's prediction of 620 deaths, the holiday would go down as the nation's second worst.

The Day in Birmingham

Space Expert to Speak at Town Hall Lecture

BIRMINGHAM — Birmingham Town Hall, under the auspices of St. Anne's Guild of St. James Episcopal Church, will open the second half of its current series Jan. 8, 9. The first speaker will be Arthur C. Clark, noted author and authority on space travel.

The second program will be of special interest to style-conscious women as Oleg Cassini, fashion designer, discusses his profession Feb. 5 and 6.

Concluding speaker for the 1958-59 series will be Stewart Alsop, well-known newspaper columnist, who will come here March 5 and 6.

All programs are held at the Birmingham Theater at 11 a.m. A "meet the celebrities" luncheon follows at the Birmingham Country Club.

Police Chief Ralph W. Moxley tonight will ask city commissioners for the permanent appointment of Wesley J. Skowron as warrant officer for the city of Birmingham. Skowron was given the office six months ago on a trial basis and according to Moxley has been "very satisfactory."

Something new in the annals of "crime" has come to the attention of Birmingham police. Someone stole Santa Claus over the weekend. The six-foot, plywood figure was a part of the outdoor display at the home of Dr. John N. Wakevainen, 507 Linden Rd.

Tickets for the annual Allied Youth dance on New Year's Eve are available now at the Birmingham YMCA. To be held at the Masonic Temple in Detroit, the dance features three bands in the three main ballrooms.

DeVere T. Corey

Service for Devere T. Corey, 58, of 193 Hazel St., will be held at 1 p.m. Wednesday in the Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co. Burial will follow in White Chapel Cemetery.

Mr. Corey, a truck driver for the Alcoa Co., Detroit for 35 years, was a charter member of the Oakland County Sheriff's posse.

He is survived by his wife Gladys B. and a daughter, Mrs. Harold Guegy of Royal Oak, two grandchildren and a sister, Mrs. Larry Dirrim of Adrian.

Critics Choose Alec Guinness and Liz Taylor

NEW YORK (AP)—Motion picture critics polled by Film Daily have selected Elizabeth Taylor and Alec Guinness as the actress and actor who gave the best star performance in 1958.

The results of the poll were announced Sunday.

Miss Taylor was chosen for her performance in "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof."

Guinness was named for his acting in "Bridge on the River Kwai." The British actor won an Oscar for the same performance.

★ ★ ★

Film Daily, a newspaper of the movie industry, solicited votes from press and magazine critics and reviewers and from movie commentators of television and radio.

Faces Drunk Driving Charge

Dan Dailey Battles Police

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Actor Dan Dailey, 45, had a ground-rolling tussle with two policemen that ended with the lanky hoofer being handcuffed, officers said today.

He was due in nearby Van Nuys Municipal Court later today for arraignment on a drunk driving charge.

Dailey and his wife, Gwen, 31, the former wife of actor Donald O'Connor, had a few drinks with bandleader Louis Prima and his wife, Keely Smith, shortly before Dailey's car smashed into the rear of another car in a thick fog early yesterday, he told officers.

Mrs. Dailey was "loud, boisterous, profane and abusive," officers said.

'WAS WARNED'

"She was warned to hold her voice down," they reported. "We were aware she also had been drinking and we advised her not to try to make things worse than they were."

She was not held.

"I was on my way home when the fog caused me to hit that car ahead of me which was stopped for the red light," Dailey told arresting officers William Hayhoe and Harold E. Skidmore.

"I'm not going to kid you," officers quoted him as saying. "I'm crocked because I've had plenty to drink. I won't blow up your balloon because that would prove I'm stoned."

The officers said Dailey also refused to walk a white line when they asked him to take a field sobriety test.

"I can't do that either," he said.

"I am a good friend of the police. I've done lots of benefits for them. The honest cops take me home when I've been drinking," the officers quoted Dailey as saying.

Officers said Dailey admitted drinking beer early in the evening, having several drinks with dinner and then several more drinks with Prima and Miss Smith at a nightclub.

'CAME OUT SWINGING'

The ground-rolling scuffle broke out when officers attempted to put the six-foot actor in their car, Skidmore said.

Dailey opened the door of his auto and "came out swinging and fighting" according to Skidmore.

Both officers and Dailey rolled on the ground until the two policemen finally succeeded in handcuffing him, they reported.

Dailey emerged with a cut lip and had to be treated at Valley Receiving Hospital — but no one seemed certain if he got the cut lip in the scuffle or the minor traffic accident.

Dailey was booked on suspicion of drunk driving at the West Valley Police Division and released a short time later on $263 bail, the usual amount for misdemeanor drunk driving.

Federal Worth Is 262 Billions

Hope Diamond Doesn't Count; Valuation Said 'Unrealistic'

WASHINGTON (AP)—The fabulous Hope diamond, variously valued at up to two million dollars, counts for zero in official totals as to what the federal government is worth.

That's because it was donated without cost to the government.

But despite that and numerous other unrealistic valuations, the value of federal assets was fixed in a new annual report at 262 billion dollars as of mid-1958.

The actual value is much greater, but most of the items are carried at their original cost to the government many years ago.

The 262 billions included 67 billion dollars for the 770 million acres of real estate the government owns—equal to all the land east of the Mississippi plus California, Oregon and Arizona.

The other 195 billion dollars came under the heading of personal property. This covered items other than land and buildings, ranging from $82,634.12 for recording studio equipment for congressmen to 21½ billions for the 25,164 planes of the Air Force.

The House Government Operations Committee, which published the report, called the figures unbelievable. It rapped what it called mis-leading and antiquated evaluations supplied by government departments for the report. It asked for eventual listings according to true present day value rather than original cost.

Black Glove Only Clue to Lost Family

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — A black cloth glove provided police with their lone lead as the search for a Portland family of five entered its fourth week today.

The glove was found Sunday on a highway shoulder near the site of an abandoned car about 45 miles east of here.

Police showed the glove to relatives, and one said it might have belonged to Mrs. Ken Martin, 48. Police planned to show it to more of the family's friends today.

Mrs. Martin, her husband, 54, and their three daughters vanished Dec. 7 after setting out in their car to find a Christmas tree. The girls are Barbara, 14; Virginia, 13; and Sue, 11.

In New York, the Martins' only son, Donald, 28, said he was convinced his parents and sisters were dead.

Save Mental Patients in Hospital Blaze

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP)—About 260 patients of the Topeka State Mental Hospital were removed without injury Sunday after fire broke out in a 70-year-old wing of the building.

The fire, controlled quickly, apparently started in a clothing room on the first floor. The cause was not known.

Dr. Alfred P. Bay, superintendent, estimated the loss at $15,000 to $20,000.

The displaced patients will be housed temporarily in other sections of the hospital.

State Mediation Board Names Negro Secretary

DETROIT (AP)— A Negro, Samuel J. Simmons, 31, of Detroit is new executive secretary of the Michigan Labor Mediation Board. He is the first man of his race to hold the post.

Simmons, regional director of the Flint-Kalamazoo area for the State Fair Employment Practices Commission (FEPC), is taking a leave of absence from that position to serve on the labor board.

On the labor board he succeeds Charles Coykendall, who resigned in October.

Safety Belts Could Save 19,000 Lives

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Safety belts in automobiles could save at least 19,000 lives in the country each year and reduce injuries by 50 per cent, a Cornell University research group estimates.

Hurricanes Feminine, 'Hisicanes' Masculine

NEW CASTLE, N. H. (UPI) — The pupils in the third grade of an elementary school here were discussing the names given hurricanes.

'It's a good thing they don't name hurricanes for boys," observed eight-year-old Susan Magowan.

When the teacher asked why, Susan replied, "Because they'd have to call 'em 'hisicanes.' "

About 10 million cars built in the U.S. during World War II are still in use.

Congress Coming Back on Job

Old Timers Have Power Jobs

By ARTHUR EDSON
AP Newsfeatures Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—This must be the saddest time of the year for any youngster who yearns to be a politician.

For Congress is coming back on the job. And though both parties make a great to-do over young people getting into politics, anyone who watches our statesmen can see that nowhere is seniority so lovingly cherished.

Peculiarly, Congress seems to be getting worse for or better, depending on your viewpoint.

A local historian, Svend Petersen, has worked up a list of those who have served longest in Congress. Each of the top 10 put in an imposing 41 years or more on Capitol Hill. Three of these 10 are still there.

The seemingly overlasting three:

Sen. Carl Trumbull Hayden (D), pride of Hayden's Ferry (now Tempe), Ariz. At 81, Hayden remains a most untalkative senator, preferring to get in his effective licks behind scenes. He has represented Arizona, first in the House and then in the Senate, ever since it became a State. No other man has served in Congress so long, 47 years on Feb. 19.

★ ★ ★

You'll get some idea of Hayden's astounding feat from this:

To tie Hayden's present record—and there's no telling how many more years he will extend it—the new Alaska senators would have to serve until 2006. At that time, E. L. Bartlett would be 101 years old and Ernest Guening 118.

Rep. Sam Taliaferro Rayburn (D) of Bonham, Tex., a speaker of the House for longer than anybody. Mr. Sam first showed up in Congress on March 4, 1913, a day of excitement here because a new Democrat, Woodrow Wilson was moving in as President.

Well, Wilson has been gone from the scene so long he seems to belong to another age. Yet here is Rayburn. On Jan. 6 he will be 77; the next day he will rap for order, and the new Congress will be in business.

Rep. Carl Vinson (D) of Milledgeville, Ga., chairman of the House Armed Services Committee. Now 75, he has been a congressman for 44 years. Only four other men ever served as long as has Vinson.

★ ★ ★

Although these three represent the extreme in longevity, any place the youngster may look he will find the value of seniority in Congress.

To the victor belongs the spoils. To the victor who wins again and again belongs the important committee chairmanships.

Of course, there are interesting exceptions.

Vice President Nixon probably is the most glamorous illustration of how one can scamper quickly up the political ladder. And some of the younger senators show no signs of timidity in the presence of their elders.

But to the young man or woman in a hurry the political picture isn't bright, either here or abroad: Germany's Adenauer going strong at 82 . . . a real youth movement in France, with de Gaulle, 68, replacing Coty, who is 76.

And, to complete the picture at this season of the year, there's always Santa Claus, gay, sprightly as ever and showing no indication at all of looking forward to retirement.

Marine on Trial for Beating Men

Parris Island Sergeant Accused; Manhandling, Taking Payoff Money

PARRIS ISLAND, S.C. (AP) — A Marine training instructor, Sgt. Ralph A. J. Grant of Racine, Wis., goes on military trial today on charges of beating recruits and accepting payoff money from them.

Sgt. Grant and Sgt. Willard B. Poss of Augusta, Ga., another drill instructor at this Marine recruit training center, are charged with accepting money from 69 members of an Ohio recruit platoon. Each recruit allegedly chipped in $10 into a $690 pot for sergeants.

The two are also accused of assault and battery in the alleged manhandling of boot or rookie Marines. A third drill instructor, Sgt. Ronald J. Heller of Milwaukee, Wis., is charged only with assault and battery.

★ ★ ★

The general courts-martial of Poss and Heller will follow that of Sgt. Grant.

The charges grew out of statements made by six members of Ohio's Steel Valley Platoon when home on leave last September after completing basic training at Parris Island.

They told their parents of alleged mistreatment and the payoff which they said all members of the platoon made.

Man Crashes Dressing Room Through Ceiling

DALLAS (AP)—Bouncers at a burlesque house thought they had caught a burglar when a man crashed through the ceiling of the dressing room, narrowly missing three strippers.

But the man insisted he had not come to rob a safe on the second floor. He said he was just a patron who had climbed up to the attic to peep into the dressing room.

While squinting through the peephole, he said, he lost his balance and fell through.

Possible in 10 Years

Space Lab Would Hold 10 Men Up for Six Months

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new plan for a gigantic wheel in space —intended as a laboratory 500 miles above the earth—was proposed today.

Scientists from the Lockheed Missile Systems Division of Sunnyvale, Calif., predicted that the space art will be advanced enough to do the job in about 10 years. It would cost more than two billion dollars, they estimated.

★ ★ ★

The wheel with five spokes would be assembled in space, with ready-made units fired up to a construction crew.

In operation it would support a scientific crew of 10 men for six months completely independent of earth supply. It would have a nuclear power supply as it orbited around the earth.

The basic rocket which would boost the space station compartments into orbit would be a three-stage giant, according to the Lockheed proposal.

The first stage would develop a million pounds of thrust and is to be designed to be recoverable. The second stage would add 300,000 pounds of thrust, or something less than the total power of the largest U.S. missile to date, the Atlas. The third stage would lift the payload into orbit.

As soon as four of the sealed self-sufficient compartments were blasted into orbit, the crew would move in with a rocket designed for assembly work and another designed to return to earth.

The assembly rocket is dubbed by Lockheed scientists the Astrotug. Its job would be to capture all of the space laboratory compartments as they are fired aloft, and fit them together into the wheel-shaped space laboratory.

The Lockheed proposal was presented by Saunders B. Kramer and Richard A. Byers before the fifth annual meeting of the American Astronautical Society of the American Assn. for Advancement of Science.

The Astrotug would have to locate, identify and capture the 23 space station compartments as they were needed. Some 15 compartments would go into the rim of the wheel alone.

Crewmen would be able to return to earth in a special re-entry vehicle which would glide gradually into the earth's atmosphere and drop below the speed of sound some 25,000 feet above the earth.

At this stage the return vehicle would turn on a turbojet engine and fly as a normal airplane until it was captured piggy-back style by a mother airplane and brought in for a landing.

State Inaugural Takes 17 Hours

Williams Sixth Straight Term Without Precedent in History of Nation

LANSING (AP) — Democratic Gov. Williams' sixth straight inaugural — without precedent in the history of the nation — is going to consume the better part of New Year's Day.

Thursday's inauguration, including the formal program and side activities, will take up 17½ hours.

On a packed schedule of events will be the swearing-in ceremonies on the east porch of the State Capitol, a luncheon talk by Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler and Williams' own inaugural speech.

Mrs. Nancy Williams, the Governor's wife, will be forced to pass up some of the day-long activity. She is recovering from a recent illness.

She expects to be present at the grand march of the inaugural ball, however. She and her husband plan to lead the grand march at the Civic Center as they have done in his past inaugurals. The ball caps the day's events.

Official Held in West Berlin

BERLIN (AP) — A top official of a private West Berlin intelligence agency has been arrested on suspicion of being a Communist spy.

West Berlin police said the man is Dr. Kurt Werner, 59, head of an economic section of the League of Free Jurists.

★ ★ ★

The Free Jurists — an organization which has received moral and financial support from prominent lawyers in the Western world —gathers evidence of legal injustice in Communist East Germany. It has widespread underground contacts in the East.

★ ★ ★

Werner knew the names of some of these underground contacts, and police suspect him of having given the East German secret police information on them. A spokesman for the Free Jurists said three contacts have been arrested as a result of Werner. Five others fled to West Berlin.

Explains Why Jap Fleet Ran From Leyte in '44

LOS ANGELES (AP) A Japanese admiral has told a U.S. schoolboy his fear of a trap led him to withdraw his fleet when the Americans invaded the Philippines in World War II.

The 2,000-word letter of Vice Adm. Kiyohide Shima to 16-year-old Bill Frazer of Pacoima, Calif., broke the admiral's long silence on a mystery which has puzzled war historians.

★ ★ ★

Frazer had asked Shima why he pulled his forces out of the crucial battle of Leyte Gulf in October 1944. The youth will use the information in a history term paper in junior high school.

Expressing gratitude for the admiral's response, young Frazer added: "I hope I get an A on the paper."

While U.S. forces were fighting for a foothold on Leyte Island, Shima withdrew the ships of his 2nd Division from a running sea battle in Surigao Strait.

★ ★ ★

The admiral wrote Frazer that the Japanese 1st Division of Vice Adm. Nishimura was destroyed by the Americans. His own flagship, the heavy cruiser Nachi, was crippled by a collision with another Japanese cruiser and was limited to a top speed of 20 knots.

All factors made him decide the Americans were waiting for him in force.

"It was quite clear that we should only fall into a ready trap," Shima said. "I considered all such things — events, circumstances, possibilities. Then I came to my decision that it would be better to retreat from the strait and wait a chance to know how everything went."

★ ★ ★

The Los Angeles Examiner, which published the copyrighted letter, said it is "certain to become one of the great historical documents of the war in the Pacific."

Inflation Called Endless Chain

U. of M. Economist Says Links Include Upward Wage, Price Pressure

CHICAGO (AP) — A University of Michigan economist today described inflation as an endless chain.

★ ★ ★

In a speech prepared for an American Economic Assn. meeting, Prof. Gardner Ackley, chairman of the University of Michigan department of economics, said the links include upward pressures on wage rates and prices and gradual long-term increases in price levels for food and raw materials.

The economist said both administered prices and administered wages cause inflation.

The word administered is used by economists to describe prices that normally do not go up and down as the market changes.

"The money wage is, of all prices," Ackley said, "one of the most clearly 'administered.' Money wage rates do not fall appreciably when an excess supply of labor exists."

Jap Prime Minister Faces Party Threat

TOKYO (AP) — Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi is facing his most serious political threat in 19 months in office following his failure to persuade three Cabinet members not to resign.

The three are members of Kishi's Liberal Democratic party. They are part of a group of dissidents who want a bigger share of top party jobs and Cabinet posts.

The crisis was touched off when Kishi tried to get a bill through Parliament giving police greater powers to crack down on leftist demonstrations. The Socialists forced him to back down.

The split is based largely on personality clashes and does not involve Kishi's firm pro-Western stand or his domestic policies.

Highway Route to North Continues to Progress

Sometime U.S. 23 will be a four lane, divided highway reaching from Toledo northward to the Michigan Soo. Completion of that ambitious program still is some years away, but progress is being made.

This year the thirty-four mile Fenton-Clio expressway was opened. It is a beautiful, limited access highway. Contracts are to be let late next year for completing the fifteen mile section from the northern end of this expressway to the present intersection of U.S. 23 and M81, east of Saginaw.

★ ★ ★

From M 81 north to Kawkawlin, construction already is under way. This stretch will take U.S. 23 across the Saginaw River over a new bridge. The new, divided highway will pass east of Saginaw and west of Bay City. Completion of this section is scheduled within two years.

★ ★ ★

The highway already is four lanes wide from Kawkawlin northward to Standish, where U.S. 23 swings eastward to skirt the Lake Huron shore. So, if all goes well, the next two years may see this highway completed from Fenton to Standish. Within five years four laning is scheduled all the way southward to the Ohio line.

Long before the highway is completed through the Southern Peninsula of Michigan, the comparatively short stretch will be finished from the Mackinac bridge to the Soo. Work is now under way on this section, and a portion, northeast from St. Ignace, already is open to traffic. Still another short section in the Southern Peninsula, between Ann Arbor and Whitmore Lake, also is now in use.

U.S. 23 is one of the interstate highways which comes under the federal highway construction program. This makes its financing simpler from the State's standpoint.

★ ★ ★

When the highway is completed, motorists will be able to drive from Toledo northward to the Soo with almost no interruption. This is a stretch of more than three hundred and fifty miles.

It skirts Southeastern Michigan's rich industrial area on the west, then up along the beautiful Lake Huron shore, crosses Big Mac over the Straits of Mackinac and sweeps on through the rapidly developing resort country of Northern Michigan to the Soo.

★ ★ ★

Automobile Club officials estimate that the new highway will cut driving time in half, largely through the by-passing of cities and the elimination of many grade crossings. It will help to lure increasing numbers of tourists into Michigan. It will also help residents of Southern Michigan to travel up into the north country with far greater ease than they can today.

★ ★ ★

By the time it is completed, the new route of U.S. 10 probably will be constructed from Pontiac to Flint, connecting with U.S. 23 near the southwesterly limits of the latter city. This fact gives the residents of our area a direct interest in the whole interstate highway program, and, more particularly, in the U.S. 23 and U.S. 10 projects.

Russian Propagandists Didn't Count on This

The Russians get a lot of credit for artful propaganda but sometimes it is anything but that.

At the international film festival in Mexico, many American and Russian films were shown. When the first U.S. picture was thrown on the screen a group of demonstrators outside the theater staged an anti-American riot. But the next night when a Russian film was shown the same gang was there to cheer and clap for Soviet Ambassador BAZIKIN.

★ ★ ★

The Mexican police then took a hand in things and rounded up some 38 of the demonstrators, members of the railroad and miners' unions. Under questioning they confessed they had received $4 each for every demonstration and they had been promised double that amount if they would heckle the American ambassador when he appeared for the second U. S. film. The Mexican police say the money came from the Soviet Embassy.

★ ★ ★

The people of Mexico were incensed over this interference by Russia and Ambassador BAZIKIN appeared at no more film showings nor did the noisy demonstrators.

What looked like effective and inexpensive Communist propaganda backfired badly to the benefit of the United States.

The day before Christmas the children of

The Patient's Feeling Much Better

David Lawrence Says:

Goldfine Being Given Raw Deal

WASHINGTON — There's something pathetic and tragic about the raw deal Bernard Goldfine is getting. If he were a Communist or Communist sympathizer, he would have plenty of defenders, including various "civil liberty" organizations which would be crying out loudly that here is a man being denied his constitutional rights.

LAWRENCE

This correspondent has never met Mr. Goldfine nor had any relations with him or his businesses, but feels that he is entitled to a fair deal in the courts.

It is cruel to "lynch" him and fasten upon him a stigma for life when he has not been given a trial by jury as guaranteed him by the Constitution. Nor has he been tried in an atmosphere free from prejudice or prejudgment, as the rules of court procedure require.

Fedral Judge Wyzanski, in effect, conceded this in open court last week when, in pronouncing sentence, he said:

"I am not unmindful that when persons of political consequence get into difficulty the whole community holds a sadistic spirit."

The judge also said he wouldn't make the sentence as long as one year, because this would require presidential action to get a pardon and could drag the matter further into the realm of politics.

What are the real issues in the Goldfine case? The press has already reported that he has been sentenced to jail, but what has not been reported is the legal background which makes it doubtful whether such a sentence will ever be upheld in the higher courts. Mr. Goldfine got into legal trouble in three different situations, as follows:

First, the New England textile manufacturer refused to answer certain questions asked by a congressional committee. Four eminent lawyers advised him these were irrelevant questions and that the committee had no constitutional right to compel answers.

★ ★ ★

Second, the Securities and Exchange Commission ordered certain data to be filed immediately by Mr. Goldfine, and he complied two weeks after the order was issued. For a technical delay, he was made the subject of a court suit.

★ ★ ★

Third, Mr. Goldfine was ordered by the Internal Revenue Service to deliver his accounts for several years back in five of his companies. He delivered the papers and then asked for six months in which to work over those same papers in order to prepare his tax returns.

To delay payment on income tax returns is not in itself a crime, but does involve a fine and accumulated interest if the delay cannot be justified.

Mr. Goldfine was given 60 days by the court to work on his papers. He then produced nearly a ton of papers, but withheld seven books needed for current operations. The judge ordered him to surrender them to the Internal Revenue Service.

Instead, Mr. Goldfine's lawyers produced them in court and argued that they had a right to retain the originals while submitting photographic copies to the Internal Revenue Service. The judge disagreed and, instead of imposing a fine as is customary in such cases, sentenced Mr. Goldfine to jail.

Incidentally, there has been some criticism expressed by members of the bar in Boston because the judge who sat in the case had a personal controversy with Mr. Goldfine earlier this year which was widely publicized and because judges under such circumstances are expected to disqualify themselves.

This points up the importance of jury trials in criminal contempt cases. The Constitution says that "in all criminal prosecutions" a citizen is entitled to a trial by "an impartial jury." No exceptions are mentioned. Otherwise, the judge in criminal contempt cases becomes the accuser as well as the prosecutor and the jury."

Dr. William Brady Says:

Be Smart About Driving If You Want to Be Healthy

The American Association of Motor Vehicle Administrators, the state officials who issue drivers' licenses and can take them away, gives the following prescription for holiday safe driving:

DR. BRADY

1. Adjust your speed to suit traffic, weather and road conditions. During the 1957 yearend holidays, excessive speed was a factor in 70 per cent of highway fatalities.

2. Don't drive after too much celebrating. Drinking drivers are involved in more than half of all fatal holiday auto accidents.

3. Don't try to drive too long or too far. Break up long motor trips by stopping periodically for coffee; and have a cup or two of coffee before driving home from that holiday party.

4. Do as little night driving as possible. And be especially careful at dusk — the most dangerous driving time of the day.

5. Remember: the difference between reckless and wreckless is alertness. Stay alert and stay alive!

HOW'S YOUR JUDGMENT?

The average drinker will use his or her own judgment as to whether he or she has celebrated too much before driving. Judgment is the first faculty of the mind to be impaired or lost under the narcotic effect of alcohol. So just one or two drinks makes any one less capable than he or she should be to use good judgment.

After three or four drinks the average drinker is likely to insist that he or she can drive better than anybody else. Or for that matter sing, dance, perform, operate or fight better.

For a rabid teetotaler, which I am, I have exercised admirable restraint up to this point. But in my opinion, any one who thinks overindulgence in alcoholic beverage or liquor (every alcoholic drink is narcotic) is the way to celebrate, at Christmas, New Year's or any other joyful time, is rotten at the core. All such a person sees in the holiday is a plausible excuse for satisfying his or her craving for the narcotic alcohol.

It is because his or her judgment is in abeyance or not working, under the narcotic influence of alcohol, that the drinker cannot quite understand what is obvious to every sober person present, that he or she is unfit to drive an automobile.

The drinker knows this before he or she starts "celebrating." Therefore it is his or her moral duty to give his or her automobile key to a responsible person for safe keeping BEFORE the party so he or she can't attempt to drive home after the party.

Questions Rule of Boys' Club

I've always had the idea that United Fund organizations are for benefit of all. However, last Friday a companion and I, both college students, were refused admittance as visitors to Boys' Club. We were told they were no longer issuing visitors' passes. No one seemed to know why.

★ ★ ★

It seems people in town only a few times a year or visiting our community should be admitted without being members. Payment of a fee for guest passes should be all that's needed.

★ ★ ★

If not, the sign displayed at the Boys' Club, "An agency of the Pontiac Area United Fund," should be removed.

'It's Up to People to Force the Issue'

I'm glad the City Commission is about to draft a new city ordinance prohibiting sale of all but essentials on Sunday. I agree it's up to the people of Pontiac to force this issue, and it could be done in the April election.

Let citizens make sure the first places to close are the beer gardens. It would be a good thing to close them from midnight Saturday until Monday morning. And why are pool tables allowed to run full blast on Sunday? Don't we have a law that forbids this?

'Unions Battle One Another'

One of the problems of the day is the warfare between unions and members of other unions. An example is the recent milk strike. Thousands of union members buy milk at store prices to keep ends meeting, yet milk delivery men were doing everything to raise the cost to these other people.

And think of the news delivery boys deprived of Christmas money by the strike of the newspaper union. Many of these boys have parents who are union members. Each working man is in turn the victim of union greed.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Explains Thumb Sucking and Cure

Teddy is afflicted with a common bad habit. Indeed, many children in late grammar school are still its slaves. And it subjects its victims to a lot of teasing in school until many of them develop shy, introvertive personalities. Learn how to free your child from this nuisance habit.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE A. — 413: Teddy G., aged 18 months, has a common problem.

★ ★ ★

"Dr. Crane, he simply will not go to sleep at night unless he has a piece of woolen blanket to hold against his face," his worried mother began.

DR. CRANE

"And he also sucks his thumb as a part of his pre-sleep ritual. We have coated his thumb with bitter substances, and they help, but not for long.

"So what else can we do? And why should a child want to suck its thumb after it is old enough to walk?"

THUMB SUCKING

Thumb sucking usually begins in early infancy, often as an evidence of stomach pain.

★ ★ ★

This may be due to hunger or pyrosis (heartburn). So the baby soon learns to get its thumb in its mouth.

The act of sucking then generates more saliva, which dilutes the stomach acid and thus relieves its heartburn.

And it also offers some liquid to help fill the stomach and reduce the hunger cramps.

Many young mothers are urged to try to nurse their babies at all costs. Actually, they may not have 25 per cent enough milk, so the infant gets tired at such ineffectual nursing.

★ ★ ★

But it is still hungry and tense, so it ultimately cries and feels frustrated. Finally, it uses its thumb, much as daddy employs a cigarette, to relieve its nervousness.

Evaporated milk is now so pure and nourishing that it is a simple matter to feed most infants by bottle. Such youngsters probably fare far better than the babies whose mothers grow neurotic over their inability to furnish enough maternal milk to make an adequate feeding.

FUZZ AND BOTTLES

To hold the bottle on the baby's chest, however, most mothers wrap it in a piece of flannel or wool.

★ ★ ★

Thus, the baby soon associates the feel of soft cloth with his happy state of eating and then drifts off into slumber.

Even after the youngster has been weaned, he may still demand something woolly against his face to reinstate his former happy mood and relaxed pre-sleep condition.

That, too, is why many a baby, even after it has been taken off the breast and is adequately fed by bottle, will still nurse its thumb.

★ ★ ★

It is no longer goaded into doing so by hunger cramps or an upset stomach. No, the habit of sucking the thumb is now what forces it to continue.

For whenever we form any strong habit, the habit itself may demand continuation, even though its original cause has long since been removed.

To break a child of "habit" thumb sucking, you can adopt two simple home remedies. First, make a cardboard cylinder and insert the baby's arm into it.

★ ★ ★

Then pin the cardboard to its pajama sleeves so the arm can't bend but slightly at the elbow. Thus, the infant can't reach its mouth.

A second method is to cut a piece of rubber from an old inner tube, much like the rubber strips boys use for sling shots.

Pin one end to the cuff of the in one end to the cuff o fthe baby's sleeve. Stretch the rubber slightly and pin the other end to the side of the mattress down near the child's foot.

Then, when it puts its thumb in its mouth, its arm will be under some tension from the stretched rubber strip, and soon the rubber will fatigue the arm muscles till the thumb is jerked out of its mouth.

Washington Forecast Is for Steadily Rising Activity but No Boom

By STERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON (AP)—Washington's business forecast for 1959:

High and steadily rising activity. No boom.

National output somewhere between 460 and 470 billion dollars—a record, but not spectacularly above the 1958 year-end rate of around 450 billion.

Cost of living quite stable until midyear. Then resuming its rise to new peaks.

Employment improving month by month from 1958 levels. But not reaching "full employment" before 1960.

That appraisal is a consensus of the views of administration and congressional economists given in private interviews as the country closed the books on an 18-month cycle of recession and recovery.

Some officials are more bullish. A few believe production will exceed a 470 billion dollar annual rate by midyear and push on to 490 billions a year from now.

That could happen, all agree—especially if inflationary forces break loose again. But a majority of Washington's experts look for—and hope for—a more gradual advance. A pell-mell rush into another boom, they hold, would hasten the next bust.

Looking back, they are gratified to note that the recession, meaning the downswing phase, was one of the shortest of the past century. It started in August, 1957, and hit bottom in April.

The recovery since then has been steady and widely shared. Its pace has been satisfactory though slower in several respects than the comeback from the two earlier postwar recessions.

The 1957-58 slump therefore gave reassuring evidence of the resiliency of the American economy. In that connection, two aspects of the downturn drew special comment here:

First, nobody panicked. Consumers kept right on buying. Their spending rate at the bottom of the recession was less than 1 per cent below that of the 1957 summer peak. By February retail trade was on the upgrade, even though unemployment was over 5 million and still rising.

Second, the economy's built-in stabilizers worked admirably. While physical output was dropping 6 per cent the personal income of Americans slipped only 1 per cent. Total income, like retail sales, was on the rise before business generally stopped going down.

Comparatively few of the laid-off workers were entirely without income. Unemployment compensation took over when paychecks stopped. Relief payments rose. Income taxes automatically declined as earnings fell. Some laid-off workers simply retired and asserted their pension rights.

Also, the government acted. President Eisenhower's ceiling on military outlays was lifted and contract-letting was speeded up. This was as much in response to Russia's Sputniks as to the domestic emergency, but the infusion of dollars helped bolster the whole industrial complex.

Though the administration fended off tax cuts and big public works proposals, it speeded some existing works programs, eased credit, hastened tax refunds and liberalized home purchase terms.

Congress pledged a billion federal dollars to bolster the home mortgage market, provided for an extension of jobless pay, and passed tax relief bills for small business and the ailing railroads.

In the end, federal outlays climbed faster than the administration wanted them to, and the full impact of deficit spending has not yet been felt. The budget for this government year, which started July 1, was boosted by 5 billion dollars while revenues fell.

The resulting peacetime record spending schedule of $79,200,000,000 probably would be inflationary even if the budget were balanced. With a prospective 12 billion dollar deficit it is even more dangerous, for the bills must be paid by treasury borrowing — which creates new money.

Well aware of the problem and its own share of responsibility, the administration has accepted as its No. 1 economic goal the halting of the price rise which has taken an 8-cent chunk out of the buying power of the consumer's dollar since 1955.

The drive is aimed as much at the expectation of continuing inflation—called by some here the "inflation psychosis"—as at the price climb itself.

Officials point to the 1955-7 boom as evidence of how fear of inflation breeds more inflation. Savings tend to be diverted into stock speculation, as a hedge against dollar depreciation. Wage demands are boosted as a hedge against higher living costs. Corporations invest in ambitious expansion projects before the costs go higher.

The time, inflation fears have been reinforced by the fact that prices kept right on advancing through the recession. Once upon a time prices fell when business slumped. Not any more—not, at least, if the recession is brief.

To minimize the government's share in forcing prices up, Eisenhower this fall issued hold-down orders to government agencies drafting their fiscal 1960 budget requests. The Federal Reserve clamped down on credit even before the recovery was complete.

The Treasury tried to divert its borrowings from commercial banks into less inflationary channels.

And for general effect, the speeches of administration bigwigs have been loaded for weeks with assurances that inflation can be stopped.

This effort coincides, happily, with seasonal and other factors which may in fact stem the price surge for a time.

The other sore spot of the recovery is unemployment. After a recession industry never rehires laid-off workers as rapidly as it steps up production schedules.

This time the rehiring has seemed a bit slower than in the earlier postwar recessions. Some auto plants, for instance, are breaking records for overtime pay but not rebuilding their work force to pre-recession strength.

So joblessness in January is expected to be close to 5 million, half a million higher than a year ago, even if the recovery continues. It may remain about as high in February, with outdoor activity still restricted.

With spring the totals should diminish, and from then on officials expect a gradual improvement lasting through the year.

★ ★ ★

But the goal of "maximum employment" is not foreseen before 1960. Economists differ on what maximum employment is; in this case, it would mean the level of 1955 and 1956, when about 4 per cent of the civilian labor force was unemployed. That compares with a recent rate of around 7 per cent.

In most other respects 1959 shapes up as the best-ever year.

One official summed up the 1959 outlook in a sentence:

"It may not be a boom year, but it will be a little better than any we've had."

"Synchronized smear camera for satellite surveillance and detection."

State Highway Program Sets Record; More Coming

LANSING (UPI)—The Highway Department today happily cast an eye backward over 1958 but while predicting greater things to come for 1959.

The department's new construction hit an all-time high of $190 million of work under contract compared to $164 million last year. There were 200 projects placed under contract and about 150 miles of new, dual highways and 500 miles of other type roads opened during the year.

More than 100 projects let during the year were ahead of schedule, the department said, when paving operations shut down for the winter.

Here's a brief rundown on 1958 work completed.

—101 miles of expressway.

—274 miles aggregate base in preparation for bituminous surfacing.

—594 miles bituminous concrete surfacing.

—46 bridges and 101 highway grade separations.

—flasher installations at six old railroad crossings and 13 new crossings on road locations.

Commissioner John C. Mackie looks for about $280 million in work to be under construction during next year and for the 1959-60 fiscal year, the building program is expected to reach $309 million.

After that, the program will cut back to about $245 million, Mackie said, for the 1960-61 and 1961-62 fiscal years.

Studies during the year indicated accidents dropped on about 80 miles of new controlled access highways compared with the road they replaced.

The department will receive about $123,183,700 from the federal government during the 1958-59 fiscal year to be used on primary, secondary, urban and interstate systems and about $128,087,000 from the federal government during the 1959-60 fiscal year.

Revenue from state gas and weight taxes will be about $95 million for the 1958-59 fiscal year and $99 million for the 1959-60 year.

"Rapid progress" was reported on the future 330-mile expressway from the Ohio line south of Dundee through Bay City and to the Mackinac Straits.

The 318-mile expressway from Detroit to Sault Ste. Marie "is taking shape," the department said with the largest single project to be let on the expressway being 17 miles near Saginaw at a cost of $12,365,800.

★ ★ ★

The last contract required for completion of the 225-mile Michigan section of the Detroit-Chicago expressway will be let next year. So far 80 miles of the expressway are completed with 33 more miles under construction . . . more than a third of the 165-mile Detroit-Muskegon Expressway following U.S. 16 is open to traffic with 14 miles scheduled for opening next year.

Westerners Stage Horseback Wedding

TIMBER LAKE, S. D. (UPI)—All members of the wedding party were on horseback when Faye Nordvald married Delbert Longbrake.

Thebride and her father rode side by side before the Rev. James Rice of St. Philip's Episcopal Church, who also was mounted. She wore a light gray riding suit with a matching cowboy hat.

The bridegroom and his attendant, Jess Knight, rode between two lines of horsemen to the side of Father Rice.

Following the ceremony, the couple, their attendants and other riders dismounted and knelt to recite "The Lord's Prayer."

Mirror Aids Painting

MADRID—A famous Velasquez painting, Las Meninas, has a wall to itself in Madrid's Prado Museum, but visitors always look the other way. The huge canvas depicts the artist painting Philip IV and his family. Since the artist used a mirror to achieve his effect, the museum has placed a mirror opposite the painting. Visitors find that when they look into the mirror the picture seems to gain in light and depth.

Load Cookies With Richness

Tutti-Frutti Nut Cookies, a Christmas feature developed in a famous test kitchen, are a treasure of a cookie, laden with delicious fruits and crisp nuts.

Wrapped in colorful foil and packed in jars of gay Christmas boxes, they make ideal gifts for shut-ins and holiday party hostesses.

Tutti-Frutti Nut Cookies

¾ cup shortening
1 cup sugar
1 egg, unbeaten
¾ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon cinnamon
1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
½ teaspoon soda
3 tablespoons fruit juice or water
½ cup filberts, coarsely cut
½ cup Brazil nuts, coarsely cut
1 cup walnuts, coarsely cut
1 pound dates, cut in pieces (2½ cups)
3 ounces candied cherries, chopped
3 ounces candied pineapple, chopped

Combine shortening, sugar, egg, salt and cinnamon and beat thoroughly. Sift flour and soda together and add to first mixture; then add fruit juice and blend. Add nuts and fruits and mix well. Measure out level tablespoons of dough onto greased baking sheets. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) 15-20 min. Makes 5 dozen cookies.

New England Fare Served on Friday

Delicious combination of food for a main dish.

Creamed Finnan Haddie

2 tablespoons butter or margarine
4 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon salt
Pepper
2 tablespoons minced celery
1 tablespoon minced green pepper
2½ cups milk
1 tablespoon minced pimiento
1½ pounds finnan haddie (cooked and boned and flaked)
Hot cornbread squares
2 hard-cooked eggs (sliced)

Melt butter in a medium-sized saucepan over low heat; stir in flour, salt and a dash of pepper. Add celery, green pepper and milk; cook and stir constantly until thickened and bubbly. Add pimiento and finnan haddie; reheat, stirring gently occasionally. Serve over split cornbread squares and garnish with sliced egg. Makes 6 servings.

Let It Warm Up

The next time Gouda wedges are being served for nibbling . . . remove the Gouda from the refrigerator 30 minutes to an hour before serving time to allow it to mellow. The mild nut-like flavor and fine texture of Gouda is enhanced when at room temperature.

Lacy Oatmeal Wafers Stay Crisp a While

Light the logs in the fireplace and relax with a cup of tea!

Oatmeal Wafers

½ cup butter or margarine
1 cup firmly-packed light brown sugar
2½ cups regular-style uncooked rolled oats
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 large egg
1 teaspoon vanilla

Melt butter over low heat; mix well with brown sugar, rolled oats and baking powder. With rotary beater, hand or electric, beat egg until thick and pale colored; beat in vanilla. Mix well with rolled oats mixture.

Drop teaspoonfuls of the mixture, several inches apart, onto a greased baking sheet. Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven until edges are medium brown — 8 to 10 minutes.

Let cookies stand about 1 minute before removing with wide spatula or pancake turner to wire rack. Cool; store in tightly covered containers and these lacy wafers will stay crisp. Makes 6 dozen..

Note: You may add a dash of salt to this recipe if you like, although usually the butter or margarine used adds enough of this seasoning.

New Food Law Helps Protect Your Health

Have you wondered about additives such as preservatives, emulsifiers, colorings and flavors that are sometimes added to food? Then you will be interested in knowing that a new federal food law will be in effect after January 1, 1959 to further protect you relates the Marketing Information Agent.

This new law will require the promoter of a food additive to prove that the substance is safe for its intended use before it is marketed. The promoters of a new food additive will have to test it for safety and submit the test results to the Federal Food and Drug Administration for approval.

In the past, our laws have prohibited the use of harmful substances in food, but it has been up to the Federal Food and Drug Administration to perform the tests necessary to prove a product unsafe before it could be taken off the market. Such tests usually require two years, during which time harmful additives could continue to be sold.

Cut tomatoes in half and bake in a hot oven; arrange on buttered hot toast and top with cheese sauce and crisp bacon.

Sliced Olives Add Color to Planned-Over Turkey

Turkey leftovers can be transformed into meals as tempting as the feast when the gobbler made his first appearance if you have some unusual recipes on hand. Rated tops in eye and appetitite appeal is turkey in a well seasoned curry sauce bordered by a ring of pimiento-stuffed green olives and rice. Chopped and sliced Spanish olives enhance poultry dishes with both a flavor and color accent.

Try the combination sandwich-style by arranging turkey slices on buttered toast . . . top the turkey with a tangy Spanish olive barbecue sauce.

Olive Turkey Curry

3 tablespoons butter or margarine
3 tablespoons all-purpose flour
1½ teaspoons curry powder
1½ cups milk
2 cups diced cooked turkey
Salt and pepper to taste
4 cups cooked rice
¼ cup melted butter or margarine
½ cup sliced pimiento-stuffed green olives
¼ cup chopped chives

Melt 3 tablespoons butter or margarine; add flour and curry powder and blend. Gradually add milk and cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until thickened. Add turkey and salt and pepper. Cook over low heat 5 minutes, stirring occasionally.

Meanwhile, combine remaining ingredients; mix well. Press into greased 8-inch ring mold. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees) 5 minutes. Unmold. Fill with curried turkey. Makes 4-6 servings.

* * *

¼ cup sugar
Salt and pepper to taste
Dash Tabasco
Sliced cooked turkey

Dip Combinations Are New

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Americans have gone dippy. We don't mean they're candidates for a mental hospital, only that they like and serve dips on all occasions. What this habit must be doing for the potato chip, cracker and pretzel industry is astronomical.

* * *

Have you run out of ideas for something different to serve on New Year's Eve? We've lined up a few new dip recipes which we hope will appeal to you.

The first one is for a hot dip. Keep over hot water or on a hot tray or other heating unit while your guests are eating it.

Cheese Dip Fiesta

1 can frozen shrimp soup
3 ounces (⅓ roll) onion cheese
4 ounces American process cheese
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1 tablespoon lemon juice

Place all ingredients in saucepan. Cover. Place over hot water and allow to heat for about 20 minutes. Stir mixture until thoroughly blended.

Swiss cheese is an ingredient used less often than other cheeses in spreads and dips. This is good to serve on crackers.

Olive Swiss Cheese Spread

½ pound Swiss cheese, graded
½ cup chopped chives
¼ cup sliced stuffed olives
½ cup mayonnaise
1 tablespoon milk

Combine all ingredients and mix well.

* * *

Your guests will never know what's in the following dip unless you tell them.

Yam Dip

½ medium yam cooked until tender
¼ cup unsweetened pineapple juice
⅛ teaspoon thyme
3 ounces cream cheese
2 tablespoons lemon juice
½ teaspoon onion salt

Put all ingredients together in a bowl and beat until creamy and light. Serve with corn chips or crackers.

Leftover Candied Fruit Good in Muffins

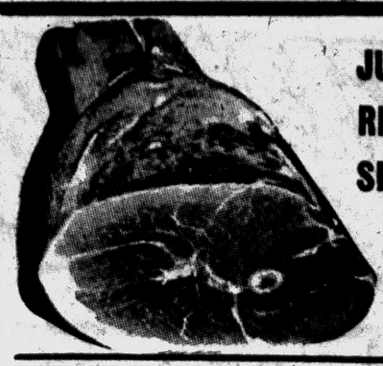

Wondering what to do with those extra bits of candied fruits left from Christmas baking? How about putting them to good use in muffins, asks the Marketing Information Agent.

For each cup of flour used to make muffins add one-fourth cup of candied fruit. The fruit can be added to the liquid mixture just before it is mixed with the flour mixture.

Another Poor Boy

Best-yet version of the poor boy sandwich! Split hard rolls and spread bottom half with mayonnaise, top with lettuce, tongue or corned beef, chicken, and a row of golden Gouda cheese wedges. Have mustard, pickle relish and catsup on hand to add if desired. Mighty good eating!

Add lots of minced parsley to a topping made of biscuit mix for a fish or meat pie.

Cranberry Colors Cold or Hot Punch

EAST LANSING — Hot or cold cranberry punch is especially colorful for holiday entertaining. Extension home economists at Michigan State University have these suggestions for making holiday punch for about 30 people.

A recipe for cold cranberry punch calls for two quarts of cooled tea (made double strength), one 6-ounce can of undiluted frozen lemonade, one quart of sweetened cranberry juice and one quart of pineapple juice. Add one quart of gingerale just before serving.

A spicy, hot punch comes from the same recipe by substituting orange juice or another quart of cranberry juice for the pineapple juice and omitting the gingerale. Heat the mixture with six or eight sticks of cinnamon bark, two tablespoons of whole cloves and two tablespoons of all-spice tied in a cheesecloth bag.

When you add dried herbs to salad dressings, let the mixture stand for half an hour or so at room temperature before using; this way flavors have a chance to develop and combine.

Can Buy Ham to Fit Needs of Any Family

How many sit down to dinner and your plans for the left-over meat will help you decide which ham to buy.

Do you want a regular ham with the skin around the shank? If you have no planned use for the bony shank, perhaps you will choose the skinless shankless ham.

If carving is dreaded at your house maybe you will spend more per pound for the semi-boneless ham. This has the hip and shank bones removed with only the long round bone left through the center of the ham.

If you want no bones at all, check the boneless rolled ham or the canned ham which serves 4 to 6 portions from each pound.

Pick the ham that fits your plans suggests the Marketing Information Agent.

Canned shrimp comes deveined in tiny, small, medium, large, jumbo and colossal sizes. Use the shrimp variety that best suits your recipe.

Put Leftover Fowl in Souffle Sandwich

Are you planning a special luncheon after Christmas? Win compliments with Turkey Souffle Sandwich.

Place 4 slices enriched bread in greased 8-inch square baking dish. Combine 1 cup diced cooked turkey, 2 tablespoons finely chopped pimiento and 2 tablespoons finely chopped green pepper. Spread turkey mixture over bread. Sprinkle ½ cup shredded process American Cheese (2 ounces) over all. Top with 4 more bread slices.

Stir 1½ cups milk and 1 teaspoon salt into 3 beaten eggs. Pour over bread. Bake in slow oven (325 degrees) 40 minutes. Makes 4 servings.

Cheese-Stuffed Celery

Add lots of finely-chopped green olive to cottage cheese (cream style) and use as a filling for celery stalks. Serve as a salad on a bed of crisp greens along with French dressing; or cut into small wedges and serve as finger food with a before-dinner beverage.

Base of Hash Holds Tomato and Onion

Main course from the broiler.

Corned Beef Hash Plus
1 can (1 pound) corned beef hash
2 medium-size tomatoes
4 onion slices
¼ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon peper
¼ teaspoon sugar
¼ teaspoon basil
2 tablespoons butter or margarine

Open can of corned beef hash at both ends to remove in one piece. Cut into four slices. Halve tomatoes.

Place corned beef hash patties, on baking sheet, place under broiler; broil until brown on top. Turn patties; top each with a tomato half. Sprinkle with half the salt, pepper, sugar and basil; dot with 1 tablespoon of the butter. Place onion slices on top; sprinkle with remaining seasonings and dot with remaining butter.

Broil about 10 minutes or until heated through and onions are flecked with brown. Makes 4 servings.

Thin an egg yolk with a very little water and use it to brush on cookies for a shiny glaze.

Ring in 1959 With Beef Recipe

Let's welcome 1959 with a late New Year's Eve breakfast or even a New Year's Day Brunch. Beef Bretonne is the perfect do-ahead entree that simply needs reheating in your handsome chafing dish. We suggest that you serve it over noodles, accent it with spiced cherries. Then there's the all-important coffee—piping hot, strong and lots of it!

Beef Bretonne

4 tablespoons butter or margarine
3 lbs. round steak cut in ¾-inch cubes
1 clove garlic, crushed
3 onions, sliced
4 tablespoons flour
½ cup Burgundy wine
½ cup water
2 teaspoons salt
½ teaspoon pepper
¼ teaspoon rosemary
¼ teaspoon oregano
1 cup strong black coffee

Melt butter or margarine in deep frying pan or chicken fryer; add cubed round steak, brown on all sides. Add garlic and onions; cook until onions are soft but not brown. Remove meat and onions from pan.

Blend flour with butter remaining in kettle. Add wine, water, seasonings and coffee. Stir until slightly thickened. Return meat and onions to kettle. Cover; bring to boil. Simmer 1½ hours, or until meat is tender. Makes 6 servings.

Another beef recipe that should make a hit at the same time as the one above is this broiled beef and cheese sandwich. You can have these all ready for broiling if you'll cover them with foil or plastic wrap and refrigerate them.

If using this suggestion, you can encorporate it into a hors d'oeuvres tray arrangement. Instead of using regular rye, spread the ground beef mixture over thinly sliced party rye and broil.

Beef-Rye Sandwich Specialty

1 pound ground beef
½ cup grated American cheese
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
3 tablespoons thinly sliced green onions
5 to 7 slices rye bread.

Mix ground beef, cheese, salt, pepper and onions. Toast rye bread slices on both sides. Spread meat mixture ¼ inch thick on rye bread, spreading well over the edges. Broil about 3 inches from heat until browned, about 5 to 7 minutes. Yield: 5 to 7 sandwiches.

BEEF BRETONNE — Serve this delicious beef dish on New Year's Day or any time during 1959. Besides herbs, two ingredients make the recipe different; both wine and black coffee are used to flavor the gravy. It's the kind of dish that's good made early and heated up at serving time.

Baked Bananas Coconut Topped

Comes a day in early January when you simply cannot face another wedge of fruit cake or plum pudding. Yet the occasion calls for swers the need for a dressy dessert a fastive dessert.

Snow-Capped Baked Bananas anthat is balm to holiday feasters. Easy on the busy hostess, too. When Cream Sherry, lime juice and bananas get together in an oven dish, it's all for the best.

Snow-Capped Baked Bananas

6 medium green-tipped bananas
3 tablespoons lime juice
⅓ cup honey
⅓ cup cream sherry
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
¼ cup tart red currant jelly
½ cup flaked coconut

Peel bananas, place in shallow baking dish; brush with lime juice. Blend honey and wine, pour over bananas; dot with butter or margarine.

Bake in hot oven, 400 degrees, about ½ hour or until bananas are tender and lightly browned, basting often with syrup in pan. Remove to serving dish, dot with jelly, sprinkle with coconut. Makes 6 servings.

Steel Sandpaper

Steel sandpaper is announced by Red Devil Tools, Union, N. J., as a completely new type of tool that combines the flexibility of sandpaper with the fast, clog-free characteristics of a wood scraper. Cutting action is said to be five times faster than conventional sandpaper and the finish is as smooth as that of medium grade sandpaper. The steel sand paper can be folded around wood sanding blocks or cut with ordinary scissors and used with any commercial sandpaper holder.

Baked Alaska Dessert Has Heart of Pink Rice

A heaven high meringue covers this delicious strawberry rice dessert. It is an Alaska-type dessert which won't melt if not served immediately. Now, you can have those fancy Alaskas easily!

In-the-Pink Alaska

¾ cup uncooked white rice
2½ cups water
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup milk
1 pkg. (10 oz.) frozen strawberries thawed and mashed
1 cup granulated sugar
4 egg whites

Put the rice, water and salt in a 2-quart saucepan. Bring to a vigorous boil. Turn the heat down. Cover. Simmer about 25 minutes or until water is absorbed but rice is still moist, not dry. Stir in the milk. Cover and cook slowly until the milk is absorbed, about 15 minutes, Do not boil. Stir occasionally.

Add the strawberries and ½ cup of the sugar. Cook slowly, uncovered, until very stiff, about 30 minutes. Stir frequently toward the end of the cooking. Cool. Pack into greased 6 ounce custard cups. When cold, cover well and store in the refrigerator.

At meal time, dip cups into hot water. Unmold onto a board. Beat egg whites until foamy. Add the vanilla and part of the remaining ½ cup sugar. Continue beating, gradually adding the rest of the sugar. Beat until stiff and sugar dissolves.

Completely cover rice molds with the meringue sealing at the bottom against the board. Place in a preheated 425 degree F. oven until meringue browns. This recipe makes 7-8 servings.

Stuff Mushroom Caps, Brown in Broiler

Need an idea for hors d'oeuvres with distinction? Stuffed mushrooms are a timely choice remarks the Marketing Information Agent. This is the season for fresh Michigan mushrooms. Most markets sell the pint size boxes.

Fresh mushrooms stuffed with a mixture of deviled ham, grated fresh onion, bread crumbs and spices become flavorful hors d'oeuvres when broiled on a baking sheet for 5 to 10 minutes until brown.

Paper Plates Are Fine for Open Sandwiches

NEW YORK (UPI) — To save time and dish-washing, serve the children open-face frankfurter sandwiches on paper plates at lunch-time. Combine 1 (5-ounce) jar sharp Cheddar cheese spread with 3 tablespoons softened butter or margarine and 1 tablespoon prepared mustard.

Blend well, spread half of cheese mixture on 4 slices white bread, top with 8 frankfurters cut in half lengthwise, and add remainder of cheese. Bake in 350 degree oven 15 minutes. Serves 4.

Make Up Your Own Really Hot Mustard

Good recipes for homemade mustard are hard to come by. This one is excellent but it is given in small quantity because it is really hot.

Canadian Hot Mustard

2 tablespoons dry mustard
3 teaspoons cider vinegar
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon sugar
1 tablespoon salad oil

Put the mustard into a very small container; stir in the vinegar, a teaspoon at a time, until smooth. With a fork beat in salt, sugar and oil until combined. Cover tightly and refrigerate.

First Course Beans

Marinate cooked small white dried beans in a tangy French dressing; spoon over sliced tomatoes, sprinkle with lots of minced parsley and serve as a first course.

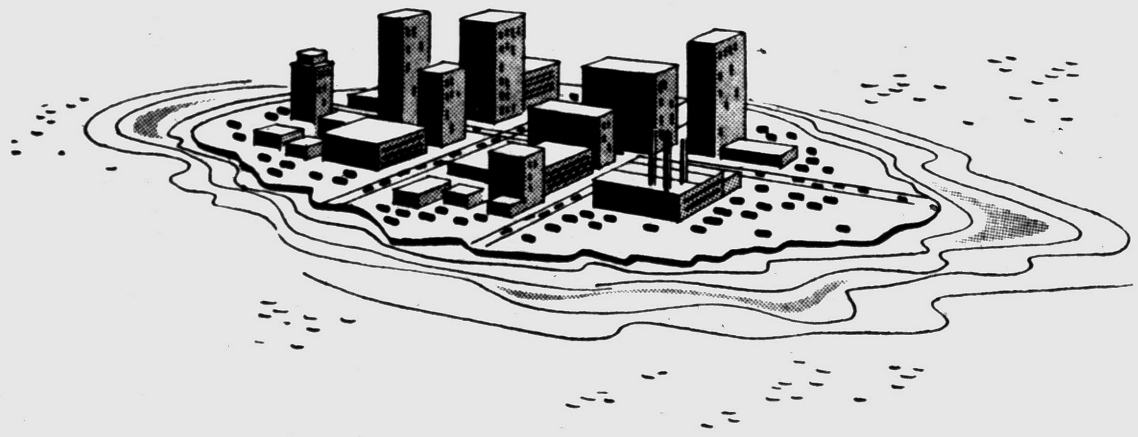

Whipped Cream Garnish

Gourmet Garnish for Soups: Add ¼ teaspoon of salt to one cup of heavy cream. Whip until stiff. Then top off each bowl of soup with a spoonful of this exciting new salty whipped cream. Recipe makes enough for 6 to 8 bowls of soup.

AN ANNUAL SPREAD — Friends of the Arthur Goyettes on West Rundell like to drop in on them on Christmas Eve. This year was no exception. Look at the spread she puts out on the table. That ham she's slicing is decorated with pineapple and red and green cherries. With it she serves hot rolls. There's a cake shaped like a Christmas tree on the cake stand. Guests may choose pumpkin or mince pie. Of course there's eggnog and fruit cake. No wonder Americans are overweight. But isn't it fun?

NO TOWN IS AN ISLAND

No town lives alone. It lives with its neighbors and must work with its neighbors. Its people should take an interest in the things that are good for the area and should take part in programs for development of the area.

The competition among areas for business and industry is hot and growing hotter. How well an area fares in this competition usually depends upon how well the towns of the area work and live together.

It is almost always true that as the area goes, so goes the town.

Cabbage Needs Care in Fixing

Cabbage is a very old vegetable. The seeds of the domesticated plant were brought to this country as early as 1560 by the French explorer, Cartier. Then, early settlers brought more seeds with them, until now it is one of our most used vegetables.

There are so many ways to use cabbage both raw and cooked, that it will fit easily into any part of your meal . . . and into many meals. It's green leaves provide color, too, as well as vitamins to your meals.

For that extra flavor, use cabbage fresh—the fresher the better. The secret of planning meals to include cabbage is to serve it in many different ways. Give it to your family in a variety of raw salads; serve it cooked in any number of ways and remember to use the dark green outer leaves too.

If it is necessary for you to do some advance preparation, wash cabbage thoroughly, drain, place in hydrator of refrigerator, or keep in a covered container in a cool place. Just before serving, cut or shred only enough for the meal, pour tart salad dressing over the crisp cabbage and toss together until well mixed.

If you happen to have a plastic knife, use it for cutting cabbage. It is preferable to a metal knife since metal oxidizes the vitamin C or ascorbic acid which cabbage contains.

Fried Chicken Goes Way Back to Early Days

Our traditional chicken cookery started with the English colonists of Jamestown. Mention of "fried chicken" can be found in writing as early as 1649. Later on, as the Virginia frontier expanded, taverns began to spring up. Most of them listed fried chicken as a specialty.

Maryland colonists refined the recipe to make "Chicken Maryland." An old recipe calls for half spring chicken, with directions to dip the chicken in beaten eggs, fry in "clarified" fat, finish in the oven, dress with cream sauce, and garnish with small corn fritters and slices of broiled bacon.

Georgia cooks grew famous for fried chicken. Traditionally Georgia chicken is fried in deep fat. Then a golden brown gravy is made from drippings, flour and cream, and poured over the chicken before serving.

But there are many ways to cook a chicken than by frying, even in Georgia. One early recipe for broiled chicken calls for cooking it "over the coals," and basting with butter—not so different from today's butter-basted broiled chicken except for the difference between yesterday's fireplace and the modern kitchen range.

Any way you cook it though, it's still chicken. And with generous supplies of broiler-fryer chickens available now, you can afford to indulge your taste for this favorite American food.

Trio of Tomatoes Go Into Spaghetti Sauce

Trio Tomato Sauce

Ingredients:

¼ cup olive or peanut oil
4 medium sized tomatoes (finely chopped)
½ or a medium-sized green pepper (finely chopped)
1 can (1 pound and 12 ounces) tomatoes
1 can (10½ ounces) condensed tomato soup
1 can (6 ounces) tomato paste
1 bouillon cube dissolved in ½ cup of boiling water
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
1 teaspoon dried crushed oregano
½ teaspoon powdered marjoram
Cayenne pepper
2 teaspoons salt
2 cloves garlic (minced)

Heat oil in a 12-inch skillet over low heat; add onion and green pepper; cook until wilted, stirring a few times. Force tomatoes through a sieve and add tomato juice and pulp to skillet with tomato soup, tomato paste, bouillon, Worcestershire, oregano, marjoram, a dash of cayenne, salt and minced garlic.

Simmer for 45 minutes. Add browned meat balls, if desired, 15 minutes before sauce is done.

Pineapple With Squash

Everyday fare becomes party fare with the right sauce. Here's a delicious hot fruit sauce combining pineapple and grapefruit juices to serve over squares of gingerbread or unfrosted cake: Combine 2 tablespoons cornstarch, dash of salt and ½ cup of sugar in a saucepan. Gradually stir in 1¼ cups of pineapple juice and 1 cup frozen grapefruit juice, diluted according to directions on can.

Cook, stirring constantly over moderate heat until thickened. Allow to cook for a few more minutes. Remove from heat and stir in butter. Makes 2½ cups of sauce. Serve hot over gingerbread or cake.

Fish Are Low in Fat

All fish are comparatively low in fat content. Well-marbled beef, for instance, is approximately 33 per cent fat; ham, 50 per cent; while many fish are under 5 per cent. Even "fat" fish average only 7 to 14 per cent.

Keeping Ideal Weight Key to Longer Life

If you have inherited a tendency to gain weight, there is news in a report of research devoted to your problems. Studies of genetically fat animals reveal that, when weight was controlled, these animals lived longer than those which could eat as they would without gaining.

Researchers suggest that the way to a longer life is a two-step process: First, the prone-to-be-heavy person must find the weight at which he performs best. Once this ideal weight is found he must hold to it, even though it may be greater than that of a thinner person who hasn't a weight worry in the world.

Hot applesauce is delightful with gingerbread warm from the oven; so is crushed pineapple that's been heated.

One for the Road

The custom of serving a cup of hot soup to departing guests is a new idea with growth potential. Reason enough, too. A drink of hot soup helps keep the party-goers warm and alert for the trip home, that's why hostesses "in the know" are beginning to offer late soup service as a measure of security — a safe beverage for the road.

A growing 3-year-old needs to eat three times his own weight in food every week, according to nutrition experts.

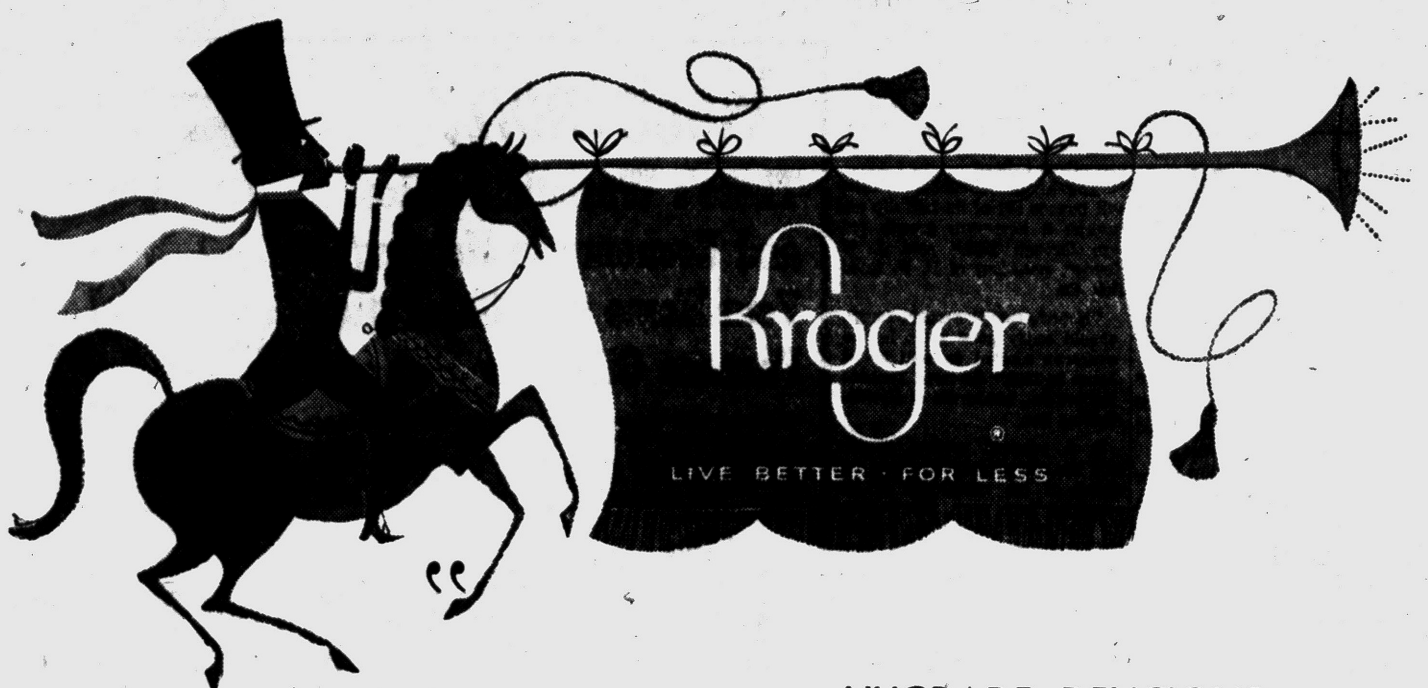

Butter Not Only Food

Butter is not new. For thousands of years mankind has thrived on butter. It has been eaten by itself as a spread on almost every other food and cooked with innumerable foods. It even has been used as medicine, a hair dressing, an oil and as a means of buying a wife.

Gustavus Franklin Swift, founder of the meat producing firm of Swift and Company, began his business at the age of 16 with $20 which he borrowed.

Wheat Germ Sundae

A quick and easy way to add nutritious wheat germ to the family diet is to spread a teaspoon of the cereal over ice cream. In addition to the nutritional boost, it adds a nut-like flavor.

4 Hurt as 15 Cars Pile Up During Fog

KALAMAZOO (UPI) — Four persons were hurt, none seriously, in a 15-car rear-end collision on foggy U.S. 131 yesterday.

The chain reaction accident started when a car driven by Mrs. Marsha Wheater crashed into a car driven by John R. Maters, both of Kalamazoo.

★ ★ ★

Within minutes, other cars began piling into the accident.

Injured were Mrs. Wheater and her husband, Paul, Howard Adams and Francis Kokernak.

Young Mother Dies of Leukemia

Didn't Make It Home

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—Mrs. June Walter, 22-year-old mother of two, learned three weeks ago she had leukemia. She had one wish, to die in her native land—England.

★ ★ ★

A trip was arranged by the Military Air Transport Service and when she heard of it she seemed to perk up.

But Saturday night she hemorrhaged and Sunday morning she died—one day before she was scheduled to leave.

French Begin Austerity Plan to Get Economy in Shape

By HARVEY HUDSON

PARIS (AP) — France today embarked on a new year's housecleaning of her economy.

It was bad news all along the line for most French people, but Premier Charles de Gaulle said it was the only way to get out of a dangerous situation.

In a nationwide radio and television address Sunday night, De Gaulle presented only the melancholy big picture. The sad details of the new austerity will be in the fine print of the official journal, which prints all government regulations, in the next few days.

These were the major hardship measures announced by the Premier:

Devaluation of the franc by 17.5 per cent, cutting prices of French products abroad but raising them and of imports for the home folks.

Partial convertibility of the franc, allowing foreigners to dip into France's small stock of gold and dollar exchange without comparable liberalization for Frenchmen wanting to buy, travel or invest abroad.

A budget of nearly 15 billion dollars, up more than two billion dollars from last year.

A variety of tax increases and cuts in subsidies the government has been paying to producers to keep prices of many things down. The government estimates this will keep the budget deficit to about $1,100,000,000, some 300 million less than it was last year. But the loss of subsidies will send prices on those items up.

More spending in Algeria, both for the military campaign against the nationalist rebellion and for the ambitious economic program De Gaulle wants to launch to better the lot of the Moslems.

The little he promised to brighten the dark picture included a raise in the lowest minimum wage levels, and increases in unemployment benefits to bring jobless pay to the minimum wage. There was also indication of improved hospitals, housing and schools.

De Gaulle said the revolt of the colonials and the army in Algeria last May, which brought him back to power, actually resulted "from the general conviction that the public powers were impotent against the wave of menaces, which comprised, naturally, those striking our economy."

Says Recovery Will Benefit Auto Industry

NEW YORK (AP)—A Ford Motor Co. economist says the auto industry will benefit next year from the recovery in general business.

However, it is too early to tell if 1959 production will reach six million cars, George P. Hitchings of Ford says in a panel report of nationally known economists.

Hitchings said the 1959 auto and auto parts sales volume should be close to the 17 billion dollar level of 1957.

The Ford expert's views were a part of a report that said business will keep on improving in 1959 but that inflation will make problems.

Predict Rubber Sales Up in '59

Goodrich Head Expects Industry to Show 10 Pct. Increase Over 1958

NEW YORK (AP) — The New Year should bring higher sales for both the tire and nontire segments of the rubber industry, two company executives believe.

"The American rubber industry will bounce out of its 1958 dip and resume a long-term growth pattern through 1959," said J. W. Keener, president of B. F. Goodrich Co.

"Nontire rubber manufacturers should enjoy good sales in the overseas market as well as at home in 1959," declared Thomas Robins Jr., chairman of Hewitt-Robins Inc.

In a yearend review, Keener said the rubber industry could run ahead of the remainder of the economy next year. His reasons for this prediction are the rebuilding of customer inventories, comparatively higher automobile production and continuing strength in replacement tire sales.

He estimated 1959 tire shipments at 113 millions or about 10 per cent above this year. More than one-half the total will be tubeless tires, he believes.

Keener said that rising consumption in the free world outside the United States and a sharp increase in natural rubber imports by the Soviet bloc largely offset the decline in USA new rubber requirements this year.

Although predicting higher sales for 1959 Robins deplored the profit picture in another review.

"Although the growth in our industry's sales has been most gratifying, the profit picture is disappointing," he said.

"The intense competition for the available business frequently drives selling prices down to a point where it is impossible to make a fair return on investment."

Detroit Chemical Firm Gutted in $8,000 Fire

DETROIT (UPI) — A quick fire gutted Dean-Carbox Chemical Co., a dry ice distributor, yesterday and caused an estimated $8,000 damage.

The only injury was received by a fireman who injured his hand fighting the blaze.

Secretaries Complain

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (UPI)—A survey of 1,200 secretaries showed that 37 per cent of their bosses never comment on their hair; only 17 per cent allow extra time at lunch for beauty parlor appointments, and only 23 per cent ever compliment their secretaries on a new dress.

Area Couple, Youth Die, 9 Hurt in Mishaps

Pauline Skarritt Married at Commerce Methodist

COMMERCE — Area newlyweds, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph M. Keller Jr., are now honeymooning in northern Michigan following their wedding in Commerce Methodist Church.

The new Mrs. Keller, formerly Pauline Eleanor Skarritt, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George R. Skarritt of 4750 Broadway St. Her husband is the son of Mr and Mrs. Ralph M. Keller Sr. of 1096 Island Dr.

★ ★ ★

For her wedding the bride wore a floor-length taffeta gown trimmed in lace and tulle. Her finger-tip length veil of silk illusion fell from a pearled cap. The bodice of her gown was made of lace and featured a Sabrina neckline and long, pointed sleeves.

The marriage was performed by the Rev. Perry A. Thomas in a setting of mums and gladioli.

Mrs. David Brown of Adrian served as matron of honor. The bride's attendants were her sister, Margaret Skarritt; Susan Keller, sister of the bridegroom, and Elizabeth Klinck, all of Commerce. Kyle Skarritt of Milford was the flower girl.

★ ★ ★

Duane Rinckey of Bellaire assisted the groom as best man. Ushers were the bride's brother, Donald of Commerce, Gene Webber of Owosso and Alex Klukack of Warren. Nephew of the bride, Mark Gofton of Highland was ringbearer.

A reception was held at the Masonic Temple following the ceremony.

For her going-away attire the newly-wed Mrs. Keller wore a royal blue wool sheath dress with winter-white accessories.

A student at Eastern Michigan College, where she is a member of Sigma Nu Phi Sorority, the bride will return to classes after the honeymoon. The bridegroom will return to duty with the Army at Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo. He is a graduate of Eastern Michigan College and was a member of Kappa Phi Alpha Fraternity.

Insecticide Explodes—Gets Rid of Termites!

GEORGETOWN, Ky. (AP) — An exterminating company either killed or scared the blazes out of the termites in the George Southworth's house.

A termite-hunter left a can of insecticide near a hot water heater, and it exploded. The house was heavily damaged by the fire which followed.

Friends Put Forecast on Wedding Caravan

BALTIMORE (AP) — As the wedding caravan careened noisily around the corner you could read the big sign on the back of the leading sedan:

"Just Married—Watch Baltimore Grow!"

Suggest Law to Stop Hoffa

Senate Subcommittee Says Transport Alliance Would Endanger Nation

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate subcommittee says Congress should consider enacting new laws, if necessary, to block James R. Hoffa's proposed alliance of transport industry labor unions.

Such a combination would be "a definite menace to our national security both economically and militarily," the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee said in a weekend report.

The proposed alliance might violate existing antitrust or anti-subversive laws, the subcommittee said, and suggested a federal grand jury investigation of the matter. But if present laws are not strong enough, it said, Congress should consider new statutes.

The report expressed fear that a combination of racketeers and Communists would run such a union alliance.

Hoffa, president of the teamsters union, has suggested a federation of labor unions in all transport fields—land, sea and air.

★ ★ ★

Unions representing railroad and aviation workers have shown no interest in Hoffa's proposal, but the national maritime union and the east and west coast longshoremen's unions have taken it up with varying degrees of enthusiasm.

Tito Gets Black Panther

Pair to Be Arraigned in Stolen Goods Case

DETROIT (AP)—Fireman John McFarland, 42, of Highland Park, and his wife, Mary, 39, were called for court arraignment today on charges of receiving stolen property from a teenage gang.

Police said property believed stolen was found in the McFarland's apartment and two teenagers declared the couple bought much of their loot from 63 burglaries.

The McFarlands denied any connection with burglaries. They said they bought some items from the boys but did not know they were stolen.

CLARKSTON — A New Year's Eve party will be held at the Community House for all youth of the town, sponsored by the Methodist Youth Fellowship.

The program will begin at 9 p.m., under the direction of Rev. and Mrs. William J. Richards, assisted by some of the parents of Clarkston young people.

Inmate Gets Time Out for Christmas Marriage

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (UPI)—All but one of the 48 prisoners let out of Belfast and Armagh prisons for Christmas have returned to their cells, and the truant has an excuse.

Prison officials said 23-year-old James Mahony, serving a seven-year term for manslaughter, is returning today. He was given five days off to get married.

Employes Report for Briefing Today

Community Hospital Set to Open

ALMONT — A full staff of 37 employes reported for duty today at the new Community Hospital to familiarize themselves with their jobs before the formal opening next Monday, Thomas K. Richards of Almont, Hospital Foundation president, announced today.

The new medical 31-bed facility is located on Van Dyke (M53) between Romeo and Almont. It will serve residents living in 12 communities in adjacent parts of Lapeer, St. Clair, Macomb and Oakland counties.

Included among those who were on the job today were three cooks, two aides, one relief worker in the kitchen, seven men and one woman in housekeeping full-time and one part-time, and one laboratory and X-ray technician.

Others are three members of the office staff, eight full-time registered nurses and two on part-time duty, four full-time and one working part-time practical nurses and seven full-time nurse's aides.

These employes are in addition to Hospital Director Miss Lauretta Paul, and the staff of 10 area physicians and surgeons, Richards said.

"The full-time staff represents less employes per patient than the national average," Richards explained, "but we feel we can make this facility operate efficiently with this number because of the care taken in design of the building and the capabilities of the people we have hired."

★ ★ ★

The hospital pharmacy will be run by area pharmacists serving on a rotating monthly basis, Richards said.

Beside learning their duties, the new employes will be given chest X-rays today which is a requirement of the new hospital for each member of the staff.

As the opening date looms closer, work continues on the 18-bed addition now under construction at the south end of the building. It will house two four-bed and five two-bed wards and a solarium.

A canopy is also being erected in the front on the hospital.

Dr. G. Clare Bishop of Almont is chief-of-staff of the new facility designed to offer complete, medical, surgical, obstetrical, pediatric and emergency service to people living within a 15-mile radius of the hospital.

DOORS OPEN MONDAY — A full staff of 37 employes reported for work today at the new Community Hospital to learn their duties before the doors open to the public next Monday. The medical facility, which was formally dedicated Oct. 24, is located on Van Dyke, M53, between Romeo and Almont. As plans for the opening are being completed, workmen are constructing the new 18-bed addition scheduled to open early next spring.

Narcotics Cure Linked to Age

Study Indicates Control of Addiction Is Lasting During Thirties

WASHINGTON (NEA)—The key to finding a successful cure for narcotis addiction may hinge on a small, vital statistic that governs a person's entire life—his age.

The possibility that there's a certain time in an addict's life when he can kick the drug habit for good is the intriguing theory of some U.S. Public Health Service doctors who are conducting a long range investigation of the narcotics problem.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Kenneth W. Chapman, PHS narcotics expert, says that many addicts who start taking drugs in their teens or early twenties actually quit when they grow older. This claim is backed by records of medical groups, police agencies and social workers.

It's also supported by a PHS report on the ages of addicts treated at Uncle Sam's narcotics' hospital at Lexington, Ky. It shows that most of them are in their twenties.

After leaving the hospital, these patients often start taking drugs again and have to return for further treatment. But Lexington records show a sharp drop in the number of addicts who come back when they reach their thirties.

★ ★ ★

"There are strong indications that many ex-patients stop using drugs," Dr. Chapman says. First, he explains that it's highly unlikely that they die because medical evidence indicates that the death rate among addicts is not much higher than that of other groups. He also believes it's improbable that they learn how to hide their addiction.

CRIME OF DRUGS

The PHS specialist explains that a young drug addict and a criminal usually have many of the same emotional characteristics. The main difference is that one turns to crime, the other to drugs.

"Drugs offer an easy solution to the problem of an unstable individual who does not know where to turn and who seeks the easy way out. They make him feel like a big shot and that all is well with the world. Like the convicts who eventually outgrow their criminal activities, many addicts start to mature and stop using drugs."

The PHS study calls for social workers to keep track of several hundred addicts in the New York area who have received treatment at Lexington. The project will last between 5 and 10 years.

The purpose will be to find out the number of narcotics patients who recovered compared to those who started using drugs again. From this information, Dr. Chapman explains that it may be possible for doctors to determine at what age an addict is most likely to respond to treatment and the type of therapy that works best.

Child Plays 'Wise Guy' in Christmas Pageant

Cookie Gets Her Blue Bear After All

Dr. Robert Lawrence and his family of Milford sincerely believe in Christmas miracles after their unusual experience this year.

Two weeks ago, their ten-year-old "Cookie" asked to have a big 4-foot stuffed bear for Christmas. So the dentist and his wife bought a big brown teddy bear — along with various toys for their four other young children.

Just before Christmas, Cookie spotted a big blue bear in a store in Milford, and talked continuously about the BLUE bear. The little girl insisted this was all she wanted for Christmas.

Dr. Lawrence and his wife intended to exchange the brown one for the blue bear. But with all of the hustle and bustle just before the big holiday, suddenly it was Christmas Eve — too late!

As they spread the presents under the tree for their sleeping children, the Doctor opened the box marked "Big Brown Bear" — and there lay a glistening BLUE bear.

★ ★ ★

And this is why the whole Lawrence family will forever believe that — at Christmas time, anything can happen. (Cookie wasn't surprised.)

Two Men Rob Station of $910

Were Waiting in Car for Attendant to Open Up This Morning

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP — A gas station operator here was held up and robbed of $910 when he arrived at work this morning, township police reported today.

Angel Jaime, 33, of 28252 Shiawasee Rd., drove up to his Standard Service Station at 3710 Grand River Ave. at 7:15 a.m. and was accosted by two men who had been waiting for him in their parked car.

One of the bandits said, "All right, hand it over," while the other held a gun on him from the car window, Jaime said. They then ordered him back into his own car and sped off, heading east on Grand River avenue toward Farmington, he added.

Jaime was bringing the cash to work with him to handle the day's business. Minutes after the holdup men left, he telephoned Farmington Police from his station. State Police were called and are working on the case.

The bandits' car was described by Jaime as a 1953 blue-green Ford station wagon with the paneling on the left side rusting away.

Both men were between 40 and 45, he said, dressed in soiled, workingmen's clothes, with dark blue jackets and caps. One of the men was over six feet tall according to Jaime.

Dr. Alvarez said prolonged illness can drain a family's financial resources. He also questioned whether it is right to keep a hopelessly ill person alive to "suffer the tortures of the damned."

Respirator Donated to Hospital

St. Joseph Mercy Hospital expects to save lives and eliminate pain with new equipment donated by its women's auxiliary.

Purchased was a Moerch Respirator, a device that will be used principally to pump air in and out of the lungs of patients who have suffered broken ribs or crushed chests in auto accidents.

Such injuries, usually caused in violent accidents where the driver is flung against the steering wheel, are extremely painful and often fatal.

★ ★ ★

"It is estimated that only one out of four chest injury accident cases of this type survive with conventional treatment," the hospital said. "Steering-wheel injuries account for 25 per cent of the fatalities from traffic accidents."

Crushed chests are hard to heal, and often are accompanied by such complications as collapsed lungs, liquid in the lungs and pneumonia.

"Excruciating pain accompanies this injury, making breathing, coughing and moving extremely painful."

In the past, the hospital has had to borrow Moerch Respirators from other southeastern Michigan hospitals when it had a patient with steering wheel injuries.

The respirators were not always immediately available, however, since they are relatively scarce.

It was this situation that prompted the auxiliary to donate one of the machines. It also contributed an electrocardiograph that can be used occasionally in conjunction with the respirator. The bill for the two apparatus was $2,369.

"It is a pleasure for us to be able to make such an important piece of equipment available to the patients of St. Joseph Mercy Hospital," said Mrs. Walter Williams, auxiliary president.

"It is estimated that the respirator will cut by two-thirds the death rate of patients with steering wheel injuries."

Named after its developer, the Moerch Respirator is a simple looking, table-top machine.

It pumps air in and out of the lungs through an opening in the trachea (windpipe), restoring a rhythmic cycle of pain-free respiration.

A recuiperating patient uses the machine for about two weeks, the hospital said, and during this time healing progresses and the patient experiences little or no pain.

Money Is Not Right to Give

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: I had a birthday last week and my boy friend handed me a birthday card in which was enclosed a ten-dollar bill. He said that he didn't know what to buy me and to please use the money for something I really wanted. It sounded very practical to me but when my mother heard of it she almost hit the ceiling and told me in no uncertain terms how wrong it was for a girl to accept money from a man.

"I can't see what all the fuss is about as he would in all probability have spent this amount on a present anyway and isn't it better to buy something I really need than to have him spend it on something useless? I would very much appreciate your opinion on this."

Answer: While your point is well taken, I have to agree with your mother. According to convention, a woman does not accept money from a man.

"Dear Mrs. Post: When an attendant in a dressing room or a theater or restaurant hands you a small towel on which to dry your hands, is it necessary to leave something on the plate which she has provided for tips? If so, how much does one leave? I have noticed that usually there are only quarters on the plate. Isn't this rather a lot for this small service?"

Answer: Ten cents would be sufficient for this limited service, unless you are in a very expensive restaurant or night club.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Was I wrong to answer a formal invitation on blue paper? I have been criticized for answering an invitation to a wedding on my light blue paper and was told that only white paper is correct for formal invitations and acceptances."

Answer: Answering on your own light blue note paper was perfectly correct.

Brilliant Pinks Have Replaced Orange, Coral

Color in resort and cruise collections could be called "Penetrating Pastels," because while they dazzle and glow, they are clear and have the thin, cool quality of a Japanese watercolor. Brilliant pinks are the very essence of this new season brilliance. All are cousins of violet, meaning they are blue-cast in contrast to last year's orange and coral-toned pinks.

The all-white look gets a big play in linen and cotton blends. White is used lavishly to space out hot pink and purplish mixtures diffused in warp prints that achieve a much lighter, more feminine look.

Cantaloupe and peach are new looking in the orange range; green is a dark horse but rapidly gaining momentum. Blue is not neglected but comes through in greened tones such as turquoise, Aegean blue and aquamarine.

Dear Abby . . .

If Solid Answer Won't Suffice, Show These Kids the Sidewalk!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

"DEAR ABBY: Please forgive me for not signing my name but how can I impress upon the friends of my 14-year-old daughter that they cannot stay in her bedroom with the door locked (even if they are "only dancing"). Boys and girls (ages 14 and 15) congregate in her bedroom for hours with the record player going and they bolt the door on me. My daughter says if I can't trust her friends it is just too bad! I would like something CONCRETE to show them." LOCKED OUT

ABBY

DEAR LOCKED: Tell them that they are not to be in any room of the house with the door locked. If this rule is not respected and you need something more CONCRETE to show them — how about the sidewalk?

"DEAR ABBY: I married this guy because I thought I had to but then it turned out that I didn't have to. We never did have a family. He's a painter and if you know anything about painters they are a bunch of drunks. When he's on a job I don't see him for days at a time and I never know where to find him.

"We've got our name in for adoption because I'm crazy about kids, but the way he's acting we could never measure up to what they expect parents to be. He says he drinks because we've got no family and it helps him forget. Is there any hope for us?"

SICK AT HEART

DEAR SICK: (and your husband is sicker): Tell your husband to get the lead out of his paints and visit a marriage counselor with you. He can be straightened out if he gets the proper help. Good luck. (P.S. ALL painters aren't drunks.)

★ ★ ★

"DEAR ABBY: My problem is that my husband is gaining so much weight that I am getting ashamed to be seen with him. I try to cook low-calorie meals but he eats out a lot on business and I can't watch him. He used to be a very good looking man but now he can't even bend down to tie his own shoes. How can I make him listen to reason?"

GIVE UP

DEAR GIVE: A man who is digging his grave with his teeth needs to listen to a few vital statistics. His doctor or insurance company can supply them. If this doesn't convince him, it might take a headshrinker to shrink the rest of him.

★ ★ ★

"DEAR ABBY: My mother starts picking on me the minute I walk in the door. It's "Don't slam the door! Pick up your feet! Hang up your things! Stand straight!" Is it just me or do other boys get ordered around like this? I am sick and tired of it. Don't tell me to talk to my father as he always sticks up for my mother." PICKED ON

DEAR PICKED: Other boys who slam doors, drag their feet, leave their clothes around and slouch get picked on, too. How about a little improvement in those departments? You'd be surprised how much your mother's disposition will improve, too.

★ ★ ★

Spotlight on Elbows in Spring

If you're going to look up to date in April, better take a look at your elbows now. They'll be showing night and day come spring, because top U. S. designers' collections feature suits with short cropped sleeves.

So, if your elbows resemble old walnut shells, try this routine: rub them with lemon juice, and follow with a light coat of petroleum jelly. Take care though; lemon's a fine bleach, but too drying to be used every day. Daily applications of mild soothing petroleum jelly are essential, however, to soften rough skin and keep it that way.

Though sleeves are going up, waistlines seem to be coming down to normal. The Empire look is still around, but the trend is toward accenting the lifted look with bands of fabric that hug the rib cage. The sack and chemise are out.

This spring, short hemlines will continue to make headlines. Many resort clothes have a Far Eastern look. In these, Empress Josephine's waistline bows to the obi. Bright colors continue, silk is a favorite fabric, and the new prints are more orderly than last year's.

Tired Eyes Are Sad Appearing, Says Authority

If your eyes look tired, says a world-famed Hollywood make-up authority, apply cotton pads dampened with astringent or skin freshener to your closed eyelids and relax for a few minutes.

Before applying make-up, erase any dark circles under eyes with a make-up stick. To avoid the red-rimmed look, outline your eyes with black or brown eyebrow pencil. Make the white of your eyes clearer by using blue or green eyeshadow.

In order to counteract the sad look that tired eyes have, arch your eyebrows higher and artistically with an eyebrow pencil. Apply mascara lavishly to your eyelashes, and wear a happy, brilliant clear red lipstick.

Old Fairy Tales Take on a New Dress

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

This column is about a just-published book for children.

It's a book to give as an after-Christmas present. It's one to wrap in your spangliest left-over paper and hide under the living room sofa where Dody or John can find it in one of those let-down, post-Christmas moments when missile-shooters and talking dolls have delivered up all their mysteries—and a gray eternity stretches between a child's just-lived Christmas and the one he has to wait for.

The book is an edition of Andersen's Fairy Tales illustrated by children—Swedish children, Uruguayan, Danish, French, American, Finnish, Swiss, Moroccan, Turkish, Mexican and Japanese children.

It's a book you need to acquaint Dody or John with Andersen's immortal stories.

Its child illustrators' ideas of Thumbelina, The Little Mermaid and The Steadfast Tin Soldier are not grownup ideas of them. They are beautiful, clumsy, vague; and so are just suggestive enough to fire the imaginations of Dody and John to start picturing their own ideas of The Little Mermaid's submarine experiences, the sadness of The Ugly Duckling's difference from his brothers.

It's a book to read with a child on your lap so that you can look at its pictures together and wonder together why a little Moroccan girl who has never seen snow paints it as star dust gently falling.

Child artists of 48 countries competed for the honor of illustrating the book in a contest sponsored by the International Union for Child Welfare.

If you read this column regularly you know how seldom I recommend children's books. I refrain because their stories and pictures, like modern toys, so often do all the imagining for Dody and John.

But these illustrations of Andersen's Fairy Tales are different. The children who painted them know that Storyland is only what you can imagine it to be—and give Dody and John a chance to furnish and people it for themselves.

Have You Tried This?

Nut Filled Crescents Take a Bit of Fussing

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Are you planning a brunch for New Year's Day? If so, you'll like to serve these delicious little Nut Rolls of Mrs. Bruno Kearns'. Better make the whole recipe for company as they'll disappear like magic. For the family, half may be enough.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Kearns is kept busy running after three small children. She loves to bake and enjoys sewing her own draperies.

PENNSYLVANIA NUT ROLLS
By Mrs. Bruno Kearns

1 pint sour cream
1 pound shortening
3 egg yolks
2 packages yeast
7½-8 cups sifted flour
½ teaspoon vanilla
½ teaspoon sugar
½ teaspoon salt

Mix cream, shortening and egg yolks. Sift flour, salt and the half teaspoon of sugar. Add yeast to this mixture (crumble it if cake yeast is used). Add dry ingredients to sour cream mixture. Add vanilla. Mix well.

Place dough in large enough bowl to allow it to rise and cover it with a damp cloth. Place in refrigerator overnight or at least four hours.

In the morning remove a small portion of the dough from refrigerator at a time and cut into pieces the size of a walnut. Roll out each ball and spread with nut filling (one heaping teaspoonful to each).

★ ★ ★

Roll up into crescent or horn shape and press ends to keep filling in. Bake at once on greased cookie sheet 20-30 minutes in 350-375 degree oven. Remove from oven and sift confectioners sugar over rolls. Makes 75-80 rolls.

Nut Filling

4 pounds walnuts, chopped fine
½ cup sugar
½ teaspoon vanilla
1 tablespoon melted butter

If desired, crushed graham crackers may be used for part of the nuts.

On Job Hunt

'Well-Heeled' Look Pays

There's probably no time when it's more important to be well-heeled than when you are looking for a job.

And that phrase, "well-heeled," should be taken literally. Not that most employers make a systematic check of your appearance from head to toe, but they do get an over-all impression.

★ ★ ★

The first rule for the well-shod job-hunter is: Don't wear shoes that are too dressy. Heels built like the stem of a champagne glass and a fashionable short skirt are a combination that is appealing to a man on many occasions, but it makes a prospective employer nervous.

On the other hand, of course, you wouldn't wear flats to an office. A one- to two-inch heel with a fashionable curve is your best choice. Out of order along with high heels are open toes, big bows, flowers and rhinestone trim. They're too frivolous.

As for what is right—well, don't try to skimp on the shoes you wear job-hunting. There is nothing that shows good taste more than the unobtrusive elegance of a really fine pair of leather pumps with slim leather soles. They are one of the best investments you can make for they will add distinction to your appearance not only while you are job hunting but after you are on the job.

Teeners Double U for Fad

Teen-agers have their own special way of doing things and this season have achieved a whole new jewelry look by simply sticking to their traditional favorites — but doubling the quantity.

The trick of "taking two" of any favorite pin is a growing one among the younger set, a fashion institute reports. It stems from the need for a stronger jewelry accent on the new clothes and from the teen-ager's refusal to give up her tried and true classic favorites, according to the institute.

This new, "double or nothing" trick takes several forms. Two circle pins — top favorites of the younger set — are worn with edges almost overlapping to give a stronger pin effect on the neckline of a favorite sweater.

Oversized gold safety pins travel in pairs, too, one beneath the other on a suit lapel. A pair of leaves, either the same size or graduated, are showing up on many a young coat collar.

A charming twosome is the combination of two entirely different types of pins — each of which is perhaps too small to stand alone in the current fashion scheme of things. A jeweled "bug" may be pinned perched on the edge of a simple bar pin. A delicate flower pin is worn side by side with a fragile butterfly. A pair of flower pins in contrasting colors is worn on a hair band.

The twosome habit is charming and distinctive good taste, and holds some important gift clues to anyone who has a teen-age darling.

Quotations Prove It

Most Men Dislike Women's Tears

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

This week I am bringing you some OLD thoughts for the NEW Year. I have been reading quotations about tears. You may wonder why I read about this supposedly dreary subject or bring you quotations about tears.

I will tell you why! Tears have always played an important part in every man and woman relationship and the release of tension through tears may sometimes be important in mental and emotional health. Today let us consider women's tears from the man's viewpoint.

TWO CONCLUSIONS

From my personal survey which has been going on for years, questioning men about how they feel about a woman's tears, I have drawn two conclusions. In the first place it often depends on who the woman is who is crying. However, there is much more to it than that!

Some men are simply annihilated by ANY woman's tears. They melt and become maudlin. In other men tears raise the very old devil because the man feels that the woman is taking an unfair advantage of him — that she is using a feminine weapon which is unjust.

The evidence seems conclusive that men are not supposed to cry and still feel manly, although there are some courageous souls who advocate this release for men, and even a few who admit that a real man is never ashamed of his tears.

Today I will give you a few quotations against tears, especially feminine tears.

"It is the wisdom of crocodiles, that they shed tears when they would devour."—Bacon's Essays.

"My tears must stop, for every drop hinders my needle and thread."—Thomas Hood.

"Do not be moved by women's tears; they have taught their eyes to weep."—Ovid.

"Oh, father, what a hell of witchcraft lies in the small orb of one particular tear."—Shakespeare.

"Crying is the refuge of plain women but the ruin of pretty ones."—Oscar Wilde.

Tomorrow I will give you some quotations which recommend tears highly. I would like to hear from the men who read this column. I would like to know how you feel about a woman's tears. If I quote you, I will not use your name!

The water in which rice has been boiled is excellent for making gravy since it thickens itself.

What do men think of women's tears? Some melt, but others feel they are taking an unfair advantage.

Worked to Become Kirk Douglas' Wife

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Mrs. Kirk Douglas is a girl who swore she never would fall for a movie star.

The former Anne Buydens was a hard-working career girl in Paris, when she met her famous husband.

★ ★ ★

"I was doing promotion on Anatole Litvak's first English-speaking picture, 'Moulin Rouge,' when one of the camera men said, 'May I have the pleasure of introducing you to the wolf of the company?' I looked up and there was Kirk.

LEADING QUESTION

"His first remark was, 'Are you any good at housekeeping?' I didn't know whether this was a proposal or what, but I said I knew the rudiments.

"He asked me if I would find him a cook, a maid and a cleaning woman for his apartment and tell them what to do. I said—I'll take the job.

"Now that I think back on it, I got terribly low pay."

"My next assignment was to do promotion for Ulysses, Kirk's picture that was filmed in Italy. Since I also spoke Italian, I did the same thing for him in Rome that I had done in Paris—hired his domestic staff, helped him with the language, gave his orders for him. And I was miserable.

"I said, 'I will not get involved with a movie star. He's the big glamor boy of Hollywood, and when this picture is over he'll just go back to America and forget me.'"

It took a couple of years of trans-Atlantic telephone calls and chance meetings, with Anne refusing to believe that a movie hero could ever be a husband, before either recognized that this was a three-star, grade-A romance.

BRIDGED DISTANCE

"One night I came back to my pension in Paris, and the concierge told me Kirk had been telephoning all evening. It took me 24 hours to get the call through again, but when I did, he said: 'How would you like to go to the United States'?

"I started packing right then, arrived 10 days later, and we were married May 29, 1954."

The Douglases now have two sons, Peter, 3, and Eric, 5 months. They have a home in Beverly Hills and another at Palm Springs, to which they escape whenever possible.

"I never thought I'd marry a movie star," says the blonde and shapely Anne, "but here I am, still amazed, but happier than I ever thought possible."

Even at Age 3 Children's Eyes May Be Tested

It is a widely held misconception that a child's eyes cannot be tested until he is old enough to read.

★ ★ ★

On the contrary, parents should have their children's eyes examined before they begin school. Even at the age of three most children will respond to a simple eye test.

★ ★ ★

Early detection and treatment is vitally important, for neglected eye troubles may lead to emotional problems and retarded educational development.

Committee Split on Probe Report

Some Members Don't Like the Omission of Adams-Goldfine Case

WASHINGTON (UPI) — House influence investigators headed today toward a possible angry split over whether their final report should include any comments on the sensational Adams-Goldfine case.

★ ★ ★

The secret report — disclosed last week — so far did not even mention former Presidential Assistant Sherman Adams and his relationship with gift-giving millionaire Bernard Goldfine.

But several members of the house influence-investigating subcommittee have made clear they would press for inclusion of at least some reference to the case.

Subcommittee members gathered for a closed two-day meeting called by chairman Oren Harris (D-Ark.) to give final approval to the report. They tentatively agreed on it earlier this month.

The tentative report — scheduled to be released in its final form next month — calls for:

—A series of stiff new laws aimed at wiping out backstage attempts to influence the six Federal regulatory agencies. The laws — providing jail sentences and civil sanctions — would be aimed at such efforts by anyone including Congressmen and executive department officials.

—A sweeping permanent extension of the influence investigation by a new subcommittee created by the House Commerce Committee. The present special subcommittee — also created by the Commerce Committee — officially goes out of business next month.

The report proposed that the new subcommittee undertake dozens of new studies including whether legislation is needed to improve the quality of TV broadcasts.

2nd Teamsters Vote Slated for Hudson's

DETROIT (AP) — A second Teamsters Union bargaining rights election will be held tomorrow at the J. L. Hudson Co.

Approximately 800 warehouse, service workers and inside delivery men are to decide whether to certify Local No. 299 as their bargaining agent.

The local won the first union election in history at Hudson last October when more than 300 truck drivers and helpers voted for Local 299.

Average of Jobless 406,000 a Month

DETROIT (AP) — For 1958, Michigan's unemployment will have averaged 406,000 monthly, or more than double that of 1957's 199,000.

The percentage of idle in the total labor force has been 13.9 as against 6.8 for 1957.

The Michigan Employment Security Commission announced the figures over the weekend in a year-end report.

Poor Emigrant Wins $185,000 in Lottery

PORTO, Portugal (UPI) — Carlos Lima Garcia, 25, a poor laborer, came home from Canada for Christmas and quickly became a rich man.

Garcia, who barely scraped enough money together to emigrate to Canada and considered himself lucky to save enough for a trip home, bought a state lottery ticket when he arrived. The ticket won and paid back his money. He reinvested the fund in the final draw of the year and won $185,000 during the weekend.

Negro Bands Excluded From Alabama Parade

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI) — Only white bands will march in the inaugural parade for Alabama's new governor next month.

Ed Azar, chairman of inaugural ceremonies, said yesterday Gov.-Elect John Patterson decided not to invite Negro bands because of his legal battles against the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Negro bands have participated in the past.

Newspapers in N. Y. Again as Strike Ends

NEW YORK (AP)—The costliest newspaper strike in the city's history is over.

Deliverers went back to work early today with a new two-year contract. It gave them a $5.30 wage increase and fringe benefits. They ratified it Sunday 2,091-537, ending the 20-day walkout.

The strike cost was estimated at 50 million dollars.

All four morning newspapers published. Editions began hitting the streets of this news-starved city about 2 a.m., four hours after the strike's end.

They were the first since Dec. 11, when the nine major daily newspapers halted operations.

Plants of the five afternoon papers buzzed again with activity as they resumed normal schedules.

Hundreds of newsstand dealers threw open their shutters. New Yorkers normally purchase 5½ million copies daily and 8½ million Sundays.

A back-to-work call went out to the independent Newspaper and Mail Deliverers Union's 4,400 members and to 15,000 nonstriking newspaper employes laid off when the plants shut down.

Terms of the agreement were settled by negotiators Friday night.

Asher Schwartz, union attorney, said the new contract would be in effect as of Dec. 7, when the old pact expired.

Only retroactivity in the contract provides payment for the time deliverers worked Dec. 8 and Dec. 9.

Sam Feldman, union president, said: "We are now ready to go back to work with the best wages and working conditions ever had by the members of our union."

Asked whether he thought the strike had been worthwhile, Feldman said only that he was happy it was over.

All maples yield a sweet sap but the sugar maples and black maples are important to syrup producers.

Strike Goes On in Grand Rapids

Tieup of 2 Newspapers Enters 6th Week After Clause Rejected

GRAND RAIDS (AP) — Newsstarved Grand Rapids today entered into a sixth week of doing without its two daily newspapers, the morning Herald and afternoon Press.

Efforts continued, however, to settle two union strikes and a new contract dispute with a non-striking third union.

Non-striking stereotypers sought new language on one clause after rejecting a management proposal yesterday, reportedly because of objection to the single clause.

Spokesman for stereotypers and electrotypers Local 101 said the clause bears on operations of two papers under the same ownership in the same city. Booth Newspapers, Inc., owns both the Herald and the Press.

Current printers' strikes at the Herald and Press are holdovers of the recently settled printers' strikes at seven other booth papers in seven Michigan cities.

The American newspaper Guild local at the Herald also is on strike.

A new Booth proposal to the printers is en route to International Typographical Union headquarters at Indianapolis. Local 39 at Grand Rapids says it cannot act until the international has examined the proposal.

Autopsy Due Today in Bathtub Death

DETROIT (UPI) — An autopsy was scheduled today in the death of Mrs. Marie Ryan, Taylor Township, who was found dead in an empty bathtub in her home yesterday.

Police questioned her husband, John, 30, in the woman's death. He said he found the half-clad body of his wife and two empty sedative bottles nearby.

Sheriff's Deputy Kenneth Grant said a note was also found accusing Ryan of mistreating his wife. Grant said Mrs. Ryan's body was covered with bruises.

Ryan denied beating his wife, the mother of four children.

Arraign Child Beater on Murder Charge

CADILAC (UPI)—David R. Wilson, 20, a construction worker, was scheduled to be arraigned today in Recorder's Court on a charge of second degree murder in the fatal beating of a 20-month-old child Christmas eve.

★ ★ ★

Prosecutor James C. Herrinton said Wilson admitted beating John Lenon, son of Mrs. Joan Lenon, 18, to make the child stop crying. He was held without bond in Wexford County Jail pending his court appearance.

Herrinton said Wilson has admitted he hit the child on the side and back of his head and then dropped him on the floor because he was crying after he had fallen off a couch.

The growth of the nation's 49th state, Alaska, is dramatized in this artist's sketch. When purchased from Russia in 1867, there were only a handful of trappers, Eskimos and traders. First population upsurge was prompted by the gold rush of the late 1890's, the number of settlers doubling by 1910. A World War II high of 233,000 fell off after the soldiers went home, but a substantial 99,000 were left in 1946. Since then, the northernmost state has grown to nearly 211,000 persons, with strong prospects for further increase now that its star will fly high.

2 Die in Plane Crash Between 2 Houses

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — A light plane crashed in a residential area Sunday, killing an Illinois couple. But it hit the ground in a 50-foot space between two houses and no one else was hurt.

Killed were the pilot, Halton H. Friend, 56, and his wife Jeannette, 44, Crystal Lake, Ill. They were en route home from a visit to Grand Junction, Colo.

A few minutes before the crash, Friend radioed that his engine was afire.

Harriman Plans to Write, Travel as Term Ends

NEW YORK (AP) — Gov. Averell Harriman says he plans to do some writing and traveling after he leaves office Jan. 1.

Harriman discussed his plans on a CBS television program.

After the program, he told newsmen he intended to go to the Soviet Union, perhaps in the spring.

Harriman, a Democrat, was defeated in his bid for re-election last month by Republican Nelson A. Rockefeller.

58's Top Religious News: Coronation of John 23rd

NEW YORK (AP)—If you look back over 1958, you will discover that religion made an unusual amount of news.

The top story was the death of Pope Pius XII and the election and coronation of Pope Pius XXIII, son of an Italian peasant.

Archbishop Richard J. Cushing of Boston and Archbishop Francis O'Hara of Philadelphia were among the new cardinals appointed by Pope John.

Other significant events, in random order, included:

1. The ouster of 13 theologians from Southern Baptist Theological Seminary in Louisville, Ky. — about a third of the entire faculty —who objected to the policies of the seminary administration. The firing occurred in June.

★ ★ ★

A few weeks ago the central accrediting organization for Protestant schools in the United States strongly criticized the administration and gave the seminary a year to correct what were called intolerable conditions, or face loss of accredited standing. Details of the controversy have not been made public.

★ ★ ★

2. Merger on May 28 of the United Presbyterian Church of North America and the Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. into a unified denomination, the United Presbyterian Church in America. The total membership is 3¼ million, fourth largest among United States Protestant denominations.

3. The increasing tendency of Southern clergymen to join in working for a moderate approach to racial problems in the South, including combined moves by pastors in Atlanta and Little Rock. The nondenominational monthly Pulpit Digest said a poll showed four out of five Protestant ministers in 17 Southern states are in favor of complying with the Supreme Court school integration order.

4. Mounting discussion of religious affiliations of political candidates, sparked by the possibility of Sen. John Kennedy (D-Mass), a Roman Catholic, becoming a presidential nominee.

5. Conviction and subsequent acquittal of the Most Rev. Pietro Fiordelli, Roman Catholic bishop of Prato, Italy, of slander charges. The case, which shook church-state relations in Italy, grew out of the bishop's calling an atheist and his wife "public sinners" for refusing to be married in a religious ceremony after their civil marriage.

6. Growing discussion over the status of Protestants in the South American republic of Colombia.

7. Battle over the New York City policy of prohibiting dissemination of birth control information to patients in city hospitals, resulting in a modification of the policy. Now birth control therapy will be permitted in city hospitals where medical needs dictate. Protestant and Jewish groups opposed the ban; Roman Catholics defended it.

About one million acres of land are converted each year in the U.S. to residential, commercial or industrial purposes, diminishing farm lands.

Baltimore Champs on Dramatic 23-17 Sudden Death Win

Ameche's Tally Decides First Overtime Game

Failure to Make 1st Downs Twice by Inches Ruin Giants

NEW YORK (AP)—If they play pro football for 100 years, they never can top Baltimore's first championship snatched dramatically in a sudden death playoff, 23-17, after New York refused to gamble.

The Giants coddled a 17-14 lead with 2½ minutes to play after an electrifying second half comeback. It was fourth down and inches to go on New York's 43. A first down probably would have permitted the Giants to run out the clock on four ground plays. A punt would give the Colts another chance.

★ ★ ★

Go for broke? Or play it safe?

Coach Jim Lee Howell elected to play it safe. The Giants punted, Baltimore struck back to within scoring range and tied the score 17-17 on Steve Myhra's 20-yard field goal.

In the unprecedented sudden death overtime, yesterday, Johnny Unitas' bulls-eye passing and Alan Ameche's inspired running produced the winning touchdown in 13 plays in 8:15.

The Baltimore band gaily paraded up and down the field in the December darkness, tooting the Colts' victory march. Some of the 15,000 fans who had journeyed from Baltimore for this moment of delirious joy attacked the goal posts. The rest of the Yankee Stadium crowd of 64,185 trudged toward the exits.

Through the long winter nights many will question Howell's strategy at that vital point in the fourth period. If he had gambled and not made the yardage, a Baltimore field goal was almost a sure thing. So he played it safe and lost anyhow.

"There never was any doubt in my mind about calling for Don Chandler to kick," he said in the clubhouse. "If we don't make the first down, then they are in a spot to move up for the tying field goal. Chandler is the best kicker in the league and he got off a good one too. Baltimore's Carl Taseff called for a fair catch on the Baltimore 14.

★ ★ ★

"But we couldn't contain them and they went all the way to tie it up. When you can't hold them, you can't win. They deserved it and we have no alibis."

Frank Gifford, who carried four yards on the play preceding the punt said he thought he had made a first down but the other Giants weren't arguing.

Perhaps the most gripping moment in the heart throb special came when Myhra, who had done double duty as a linebacker after Leo Sanford's first period injury, kicked his hurried field goal. The clock was running and only 10 seconds were left when he booted the ball high against the glare of the Stadium lights.

The Giants thought they got a break when they won the toss of the coin and chose to receive in the sudden death extra period, the first ever played in a regular championship game.

Once again they came to a 4th and 1 situation but this time they were deep in their own territory on the New York 29. A messed up gamble would have given the Colts a sure game-ending field goal. The punt was the obvious strategy and Chandler boomed a long one that Taseff returned a yard to the Colts' 20.

In 13 plays Baltimore's fine offense ground out a touchdown with Ameche crashing over right guard from the 1 through a gaping hole.

Unitas, who couldn't play when the Giants beat the Colts 24-21 in the regular season because of three damaged ribs, was simply tremendous. The former Louisville star, who was snatched from the sandlots by the Colts, completed 26 of 40 passes from 349 yards.

Time after time he hit Ray Berry, who caught 12 passes, on beautiful pass patterns that split the Giants' defense. If it wasn't Berry, it was Lenny Moore, the fleet halfback, Jim Mutscheller, L. G. Dupre or Ameche. When nobody was open, Unitas kept and ran the ball himself.

★ ★ ★

Gino Marchetti, who suffered a broken ankle and was carried off the field on a stretcher late in the game, rushed Giants' quarterback Charley Conerly all afternoon. The Colts' defensive line was superb giving Conerly little time to throw. the line backers covered in excellent style and the deep men did their job.

Baltimore	0	14	0	3	6—23

(Overtime)

Baltimore: TD, Ameche 2 (2 plunge, 1 plunge), Berry 15 (pass from Unitas). PAT, Myhra 2. FG, Myhra 20.

New York: TD, Triplett 1 plunge Gifford 19 pass from Conerly. PAT, Summerall 2. FG, Summerall 36.

Predicted He Would Win 5 Years Ago

Ewbank's Title Plan 8:15 Off

NEW YORK (AP) — Coach Weeb Ewbank's five-year plan to bring the Baltimore Colts the National Football League championship has succeeded.

But with a smile on his face and tongue in cheek, he apologized for Colts' 23-17 victory Sunday over the New York Giants at Yankee Stadium in an unprecedented sudden death playoff.

"I miscalculated," he told Colts' president Carroll Rosenbloom in the team's tumultuous dressing room. "I predicted it would take five years to build a champion. It took me an extra quarter."

Actually it toook the Colts only 8:15 extra to score the winning touchdown on the arrow-straight passing of Johnny Unitas and the one-yard touchdown smash of bulldozing Alan Ameche.

★ ★ ★

"We just had to win because this was the better ball club out there," said Ewbank, a one-time assistant to Paul Brown at Cleveland. "And we never give up, that's us. That's characteristic of a great team, to come from behind. And they have been doing it all season."

In that stirring 80-yard drive for the winner, Unitas, a pickup from the sandlots, clicked on four passes for 46 yards to put the Colts into scoring position. It looked like Johnny was playing Russian roulette but he pitched with icy calmness and deadly accuracy.

Was Ewbank worried?

"I had complete confidence in Johnny Unitas. He would throw it away so it couldn't be intercepted," said the coach.

Another of the many Baltimore stars was Steve Myhra, who kicked the 20-yard field goal that tied the score at 17-17 with ten seconds to go in regulation time.

This was a now or never moment.

"I had to hurry the kick," he said. "The Giants had blocked one attempt in the second quarter. I knew all the marbles were on the line. But I thought I just can't let a great bunch of guys like these down. It sure felt good when it went over."

There was no apology, kiddingly or otherwise from New York coach Jim Lee Howell for his crucial decisions to play safety-first twice in the key moments of the tense, thrilling title playoff.

★ ★ ★

Both plays were fourth down and one to go situations.

The most vital call was in the fourth quarter.

The injury-riddled Giants had fought from behind a 14-3 halftime deficit to go in front 17-14 in the final quarter.

There was just 2½ minutes to play after Frank Gifford, goat and hero in the Giants' up-and-down struggles, had ripped off four yards and failed by inches to make the payoff first down.

"I made it, I'm sure I made it," said the handsome Giants' back, "but the officials ruled it otherwise, so what can you do."

That short run made it fourth down and inches to go.

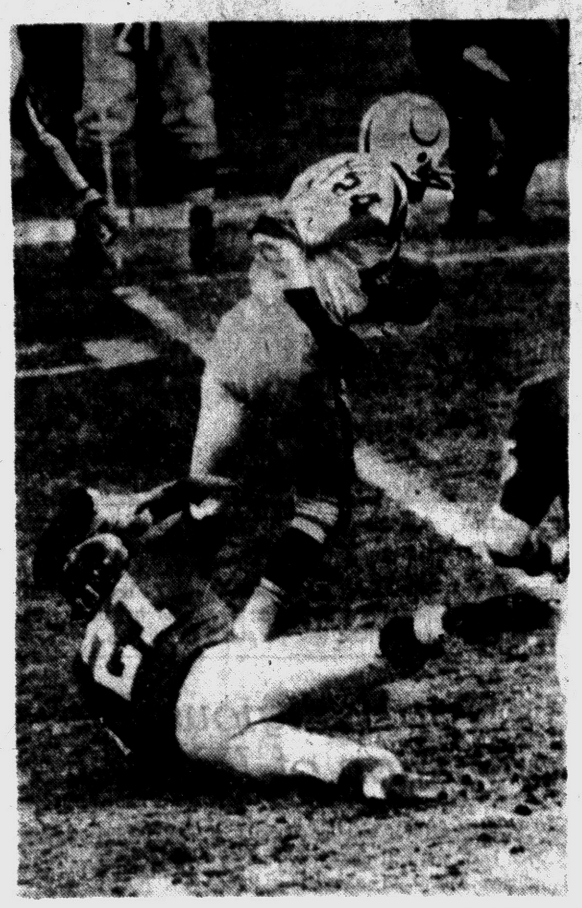

This put it up to Howell, who calls the fourth down plays. Should he shoot the works or play it safe with a punt. A first down would enable the Giants to keep the ball and four line plays almost certainly would have eaten up the remaining time.

"There never was any doubt in my mind about calling on Don Chandler to kick," said Howell.

"If we don't make the first down, then they are in a spot to move up for the tying field goal. Chandler is the best kicker in the league and he got off a good one, too. Baltimore's Carl Taseff called for a fair catch on the Baltimore 14.

"But we couldn't contain them and they went all the way to tie it up. When you can't hold them, you can't win. They deserved it and we have no alibis."

Wild Welcome Creates Near Panic

30,000 Colt Backers Jam Baltimore Airport

BALTIMORE (AP) — An unruly mob of victory-frenzied fans made a shambles of a welcome home celebration for the Baltimore Colts Sunday night and caused a near panic on a jammed runway of Friendship International Airport.

The crowd, estimated by airport police at more than 30,000 was so boisterous that the National Football League champions could not get out of a bus they were riding.

The plane carrying the team from New York, where Baltimore defeated the Giants 23-17 several hours earlier, was forced to land at a different part of the field than originally planned.

The players were then put aboard a bus and brought to the area where spectators had been waiting up to 3½ hours. The bus was surrounded immediately. About 25 men and boys climbed atop the roof to lead cheers.

Police and firemen tried unsuccessfully for about 15 minutes to disperse the crowd. One fire department car was rocked by the mob. Several fans jumped atop police vehicles.

★ ★ ★

It was when the bus started to inch away that panic almost developed.

As the bus turned, several hundred persons in a small area in front of television and lighting equipment were pressed even closer together — and with no place to go.

Children were lifted to safety by men standing above them. Women screamed. Several appeared faint. A truck and a small portable motor on wheels swayed in the crush. Shoes were lost in the melee.

About 15 of the men atop the bus stayed aboard as it moved into the darkness.

★ ★ ★

Capt. Carl Kunaniec, who estimated the crowd, said 14 of those on the bus were booked by Anne Arundel County Police after the bus stopped on a lonely road about a mile from the airport, but were released without being charged.

Most of the players continued into Baltimore on the bus. Others — with families waiting at the airport — were brought back to the terminal building in police cars.

Kunaniec said 6,000 parking places in the airport were filled and cars were parked two to three miles from the field. He said some persons were still walking toward the area as the team left.

ARRESTED — Don Jordan, recently crowned welterweight champion, was booked on suspicion of possession of narcotics by Los Angeles police yesterday. Jordan, who won the welter crown by beating Virgil Akins earlier this month, denied any knowledge of marijuana found in his car.

MSU Skaters in Finals of Boston Invitational

BOSTON (UPI) — Michigan State's resurging hockey team shoots for the title tonight against Boston University in the Boston Invitational tournament.

★ ★ ★

The Spartans, only non-Eastern team in the meet, blanked Boston college 6-0 Saturday to advance to the final round. Terry Moroney clicked twice for MSU and Fred Devuono, who scored twice in State's first round victory, got his third of the tournament.

Detroit Breaks Slump With 5-3 Rout of Bruins

4-Game Losing Streak Snapped as Redshirts Take 2nd in NHL

DETROIT (UPI) — Sid Abel could qualify as a magician today. After nearly nine periods of scoreless hockey in the Olympia, Abel reshuffled his attackers and it paid off in a five-goal explosion last night, the Detroit Red Wings' best outburst in 14 games.

The five markers, all by different players, gave the Wings a 5-3 victory over the Boston Bruins, undisputed possession of second place in the National Hockey League and it snapped a four-game losing streak.

Detroit spotted the Bruins a first period goal by Vic Stasiuk and then powered back to score twice within 14 seconds while shorthanded. The Wings added two more in the middle period and Claude Laforge got his first NHL goal before Flem Mackell and Leo Labine scored for Boston in the final four minutes.

Alex Delvecchio, who had been lagging lately, sparked the Wings with his goal and three assists. He took the puck at mid-ice from Real Chevrefils with Gordie Howe sitting out a penalty and went in alone on goalie Don Simmons, blasting a 10-footer into the cage.

★ ★ ★

Just after the faceoff Delvecchio got the puck again and went over the Bruin blue line. He lofted a high pass which Nick Mickoski batted down and lined into the net.

Howe, stopped a half dozen other times during the night by Simmons, triggered a bullet-like 40-footer at 1:59 of the second period on a breakaway and at 16:03 Charlie Burns scored the wierdest goal of the season at the Olympia.

Simmons skated 30 feet out to stop Burns on a breakaway and the puck rebounded toward the corner. Burns and defenseman Doug Mohns dashed after it and swung simultaneously. The rubber sailed 10 feet at an almost impossibl angle into the open cage as Simmons watched helplessly from afar.

Laforge capped a sharp three-on-one rush at 15:39 of the third period with a point-blank effort. Norm Ullman set the rookie up perfectly for the shot.

Mackell cut the margin to 5-2 on a power play, deflecting in Larry Hillman's long shot and Labine scored from a goal-mouth scramble, lifting the puck over the prone Terry Sawchuk into the cage with 46 seconds to play.

Abel had put Len Lunde on the production line with Howe and Delvecchio but midway through the first period put rookie Gene Achtymichuk on the top line. Achtymichuk, although he didn't score, looked good enough to win the job regularly.

"THE HORSE" SCORES — Alan Ameche, "The Horse," is on his back on the left after scoring Baltimore's first touchdown from the two-yard line against the Giants in the second quarter. He later scored the winning TD in an overtime period as the Colts defeated New York, 23-17. Jim Patton (20) pulled Ameche down but not before the Colt fullback got over the goal line.

LA, Lion Draft Picks Stars

By United Press International

The Los Angeles Rams and Detroit Lions of the National Football League appear today to have been the biggest winners in Saturday's post-season college football bowl extravaganzas.

The Rams, who finished in a tie for second place behind the world champion Baltimore Colts in the Western Division, may have found the additional passing strength they need in Buddy Humphrey who fired five touchdown passes in the South's 49-20 victory over the North at Miami, Fla.

And the Lions, who won only four of 12 games and finished fifth in the same division, were encouraged that they may have the runner they need in Nick Pietrosante who led the East to a 26-14 win over the West in the annual Shrine game at San Francisco.

Humphrey, 22-year-old ex-Baylor star, completed 14 of 19 passes for 232 yards while Pietrosante, 215-pound ex-Notre Dame fullback, banged out 95 yards in 20 tries for a 4.7 average. Each, of course, was selected as the most valuable player in his game.

In the other Saturday games which kicked off the week-long bowl spectaculars, Mississippi beat Florida in the Gator Bowl at Jacksonville, Fla., the Blue defeated the Gray, 16-0, at Montgomery, Ala., and East Texas State whipped Missouri Valley, 27-7, in the Tangerine Bowl at Orlando, Fla.

A crowd of 60,000 saw Pietrosante, Detroit's first draft choice, score on two three-yard plunges. Pietrosante was called "our first-down man—the man who got the yardage when we needed it"—by East coach Duffy Daugherty.

An 84-yard kickoff return by Pittsburgh's Dick Haley and an 80-yard run with an interception by Colorado's Eddie Dove helped to make it one of the most thrilling Shrine games ever played.

Mississippi, winner of two major bowl games in 1958, has an eye on even greater achievements in 1959, specifically the national championship.

No sooner had the Ole Miss squad tropped off the field after beating Florida 7-3 through a drizzling rain in the Gator Bowl football game Saturday than the drums began to beat.

Larry Grantham, a junior end, entered the dressing room shouting "We'll go all the way next year."

★ ★ ★

It was Grantham who caught a 15-yard pass from Bobby Franklin that put the ball on the Florida 1 and set up the winning touchdown.

His talk of a perfect season and national title in 1959 was quickly taken up by other players.

Their enthusiasm stems from the return of most of the stars of this Missisippi team that showed the season's best rushing offense in the Southeastern Conference.

Eight seniors are on the Gator Bowl squad in sharp contrast to the loss of nine starters and several other players from the 1957 team which opened this calendar year by whipping Texas 39-7 in the Sugar Bowl.

★ ★ ★

Next on the bowl menu is the Sun Bowl at El Paso, Tex., Dec. 31, which features Wyoming (7-3) against Hardin-Simmons (6-4). On New Year's Day there are the Rose Bowl with Iowa (7-1-1) vs. California (7-3); the Sugar Bowl with Louisiana State (10-0) vs Clemson (8-2); the Cotton Bowl with Texas Christian (8-2) vs. Air Force Academy (9-0-1); the Orange Bowl with Oklahoma (9-1) vs. Syracuse (8-1) and the Prairie View with Prairie View A&M (7-2) vs. Langston, Okla., (4-3).

★ ★ ★

The Senior Bowl game at Mobile, Ala., on Jan. 3 and the Pro Bowl game at Los Angeles, Jan. 11, complete the bowl schedule.

Hold Olympic Ice Tests

BAY CITY (UPI)—Terry McDermott and Gary Lewis of Bay City and Detroiter Tom Augustitus led the Michigan qualifying races yesterday for a spot in the U.S. Olympic team speed-skating trials.

Each won one of the three races with Augustitus finishing second in the two he didn't win. Six skaters qualified in each event—the 500-meter, 1,500-meter and 5,000-meter.

However, Ben Bagdade, Olympic team committee member, said some of the skaters may be dropped from the Feb. 2-6 trials at Minneapolis if their times don't measure up to those turned in around the rest of the nation.

★ ★ ★

McDermott won the 500-meter in :42.8 seconds, Lewis was clocked at 2:29.1 in the 1,500-meter and Augustitus at 9:37.6 in the 5,000-meter.

NEW YORK (AP) — Bert Bell Sunday denied reports that he was resigning as commissioner of the National Football League.

"Those reports come up regularly, especially at this time of the year," said Bell. "I feel fine and have given no thought to resigning."

Reports said that Bell planned to step down after Sunday's championship game between the Baltimore Colts and New York Giants.

Rangers Blast Montreal, 5-3

New York Skaters End Canadiens' Undefeated String at 13 Games

By The Associated Press

It is possible to beat the Montreal Canadiens. The New York Rangers proved that last night when it began to look as if the Canadiens would never be slowed down in the National Hockey League pennant race.

★ ★ ★

The Rangers snapped Montreal's unbeaten streak at 13 games, 5-3, and remained in the battle for second place. Until they bowed to the New Yorkers, the league leaders had won 11 and tied two since Nov. 26.

The New York victory gave them a tie for third place with the Boston Bruins who fell before the second place Detroit Red Wings 5-3 after losing to Montreal 6-1 Saturday. The Wings held to the runner-up spot by two points.

The Chicago Black Hawks defeated the Toronto Maple Leafs 4-3 after they had played a 2-2 tie in Toronto Saturday.

★ ★ ★

In chalking up their fourth victory in eight games with the Canadiens the Rangers stepped away in front on first period goals by Camille Henry and Larry Popein.

The Canadiens tied it 2-2 on goals by Jean Beliveau and Phil Goyette. The Rangers moved in front 3-2 in this free-scoring opening period on defenseman Lou Fontinato's 20-footer.

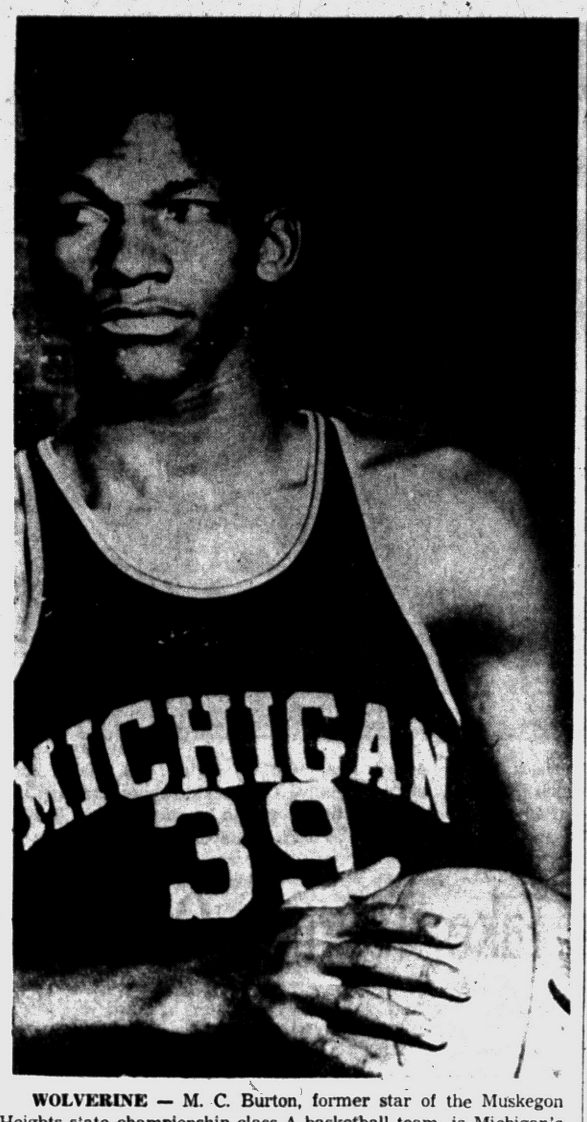

Debate Fixes Orange Bowl Boat Winner

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Ray Gassner, St. Petersburg, Fla. was declared winner on points after long debate and temporary naming of two other pilots in Saturday's Orange Bowl International Grand Prix powerboat race.

Gassner finished 2-5-1 in three heats for 827 points.

First decision was that George Byers, Columbus, Ohio, was grand prix winner on his wins in two heats. His boat conked out on the third heat and he failed to finish it. The rule says three heats must be finished.

Don Dunnington, Bethesda, Md., then was judged winner on a 2-2-2 record. But it was ruled that he jumped the gun in his first heat and was automatically disqualified for that and subsequent dashes.

WOLVERINE — M. C. Burton, former star of the Muskegon Heights state championship class A basketball team, is Michigan's top scorer and rebounder in five games to date. Burton is one reason why the Wolverines are favored in the 7th annual Motor City Cage Classic which opens tonight in Detroit.

Army, Michigan Favored in Classic

Annual Detroit Cage Tourney Opens Tonight

Wolverine Quint Top Choice to Win Motor City Meet

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Midwest basketball prestige gets tested by Eastern challengers tonight in the 7th annual Motor City Classic at the U. of D. Memorial building.

U. of D., a sophomore-laden darkhorse, meets a veteran Army team at 7:30 p.m. with the University of Michigan, tourney favorite, facing experienced Princeton in the second game about 9:15 p.m.

★ ★ ★

The favored Wolverines may have their hands full with the Ivy Leaguers who gave Ohio State a rough time at Columbus on a nationally televised game.

Princeton, coached by ex-Michigan player and coach Frank "Cappy" Cappon, held 12 point leads against the Buckeyes before falling, 75-66.

★ ★ ★

The Tigers will try to match Michigan's three-ply scoring and rebounding attack, made up of George Lee, M. C. Burton and John Tidwell, with 6-5 senior captain Carl Belz and a sparkling junior Jim Brangan.

Burton has hit 94 points in three games while Tidwell, a sophomore has totaled 91 points. Lee, former Highland Park High School ace, has hit 88 points to date.

Princeton has four seniors from the squad which won 20 and lost 6 last season and could give Michigan trouble with its experienced reserves.

★ ★ ★

Army and U. of D. are figured to be the weaker of the teams in the classic, but the Cadets rate the favorites' role over the Titans in the opener.

A classy sophomore, Lee Sager who has piled up 105 points in five games, is Army's key performer. As a plebe he was being touted as the best player to hit the court at West Point.

Standing 6-5, Sager entered the academy under the new rule which changed the height limit from 6-4.

Captain of the Army quintet is a Michigan boy—Chuck Darby of Sturgis. Darby was on the football team with Pete Dawkins in his sophomore year but he dropped the gridiron to stick with the basketball team.

★ ★ ★

U. of D. has shown improvement in the past couple games with big George Heger, a 6-4 junior, doing a sensational job rebounding as well as scoring. Walled Lake's Larry Hughes, 6-4 sophomore has also been impressive since taking over a starting forward spot in the last four games.

★ ★ ★

The Titans have the height and depth but not the polish. They could surprise the Cadets if hit from the floor as accurately as they did against Delaware and North Dakota State in their last two games.

The Motor City field is one of the best in its seven years. The four teams have compiled an overall record of 18 wins and six losses. Michigan is (4-1), Army (4-1), Princeton (4-2) and U. of D. (6-2).

Spartans Battle Duke Tonight in Dixie Classic

Cage Powers Invade Raleigh

By The Associated Press

The college basketball fan heard giving out with "I wish I were in Dixie" isn't whistling in the dark. He's in tune with the times, brother.

While more than a dozen holiday tournaments are on the schedule today, the majority of the big boys have converged on Raleigh, N.C., for the Dixie Classic.

★ ★ ★

Four of the nation's top ten teams entered the Dixie, and tomorrow night's semifinals could see them banging heads in a doubleheader, providing all survive today's opening round.

★ ★ ★

Cincinnati (No. 2) met Wake Forest, North Carolina (No. 3) faced Louisville, N.C. State (No. 6) was paired with Yale and Michigan State (No. 9) took on Duke.

Meanwhile, unbeaten Kentucky, idle for a week after winning its own invitational tournament, puts its No. 1 ranking on the line against Navy at Lexington. The Kentucky boys have won eight this season.

Championships will be decided tonight in the ECAC Holiday Festival at New York, the All-College tournament at Oklahoma City, the Far West Classic at Corvallis, Ore., the Queen City Invitational at Buffalo, N. Y., and the Southwest Conference tournament at Houston.

The Big Eight tourney reaches the semifinals with the championship tomorrow night.

The Motor City, Orange Bowl, Gator Bowl, Sugar Bowl and Richmond Invitational tournaments, all two-day, four-team affairs, get under way tonight, while the Carrousel tournament at Charlotte, N.C., an eight-team battle like the Dixie, opened with a twinbill this afternoon

The ECAC final matches St. Joseph's of Philadelphia and St. John's of New York, a pair of once-beaten, crowd-pleasing teams that look to the class of the East. St. Joseph's outscrambled Utah 79-65 and St. John's thrashed previously unbeaten Dayton 76-63 in Saturday's semifinals.

With pre-tourney favorite Xavier of Ohio, No. 10 nationally, on the sidelines, host Oklahoma City and Duquesne clash for the All-College title. Oklahoma City stopped Xavier 81-54 and Duquesne beat Bowling Green 69-65 to set up the championship pairing.

★ ★ ★

Favorite Texas Christian and darkhorse Texas A&M barely made it, 60-59 over Rice, while TCU rolled over Southern Methodist 74-64.

Host Oregon State tackles invading Iowa in the Far West showdown. Iowa eased through the first round of the four-team tourney, 82-74 over Wyoming while Oregon State was extended by Air Force 49-47.

Hometown Canisius and Dartmouth, the defending Ivy League champion, play the big one in the Queen City. Canisius crushed Seton Hall 72-45, while Dartmouth startled with an 88-75 victory over Brigham Young in the Saturday openers.

★ ★ ★

Fourth-ranked Kansas State lived up to its favorite tag with a 69-66 first round triumph over Missouri in the Big Eight's first round at Kansas City, but Oklahoma State, figured to give the K-State Wildcats the most competition, went under 55-48 to Nebraska. Colorado, 63-52 victor over Kansas, meets Nebraska in one semi tonight, while K-State plays Oklahoma, which whipped Iowa State 68-65.

U. S., Aussies Even in Cup Opener

Olmedo Is Winner, MacKay Bows

BRISBANE, Australia (AP) — Alex Olmedo crushed Mal Anderson, but Barry MacKay fell before the smooth strokes of Ashley Cooper today to give the United States and Australia one victory apiece in the opening singles of the Davis Cup challenge round.

The results also made Perry Jones, the controversial 70-year-old U.S. captain, look alternately like a slick old genius and a not-so-smart old-timer.

It was Jones who convinced U.S. brass that Olmedo, a Peruvian, should be put on the team. It also was Jones who bypassed Hamilton Richardson, the No. 1 player in the U.S. for MacKay over the former's violent protests.

Olmedo whipped Anderson 8-6, 2-6, 9-7, 8-6 in a magnificent uphill battle, while Cooper, after writhing under MacKay's bullet services for one set, came out on top, 4-6, 6-3, 6-2, 6-4.

So now it's a brand new match. The doubles are scheduled for tomorrow with Olmedo teaming with Richardson and Cooper pairing with left handed Neale Fraser for the Australians. It is in the doubles that the Americans were conceded their best chance in prematch forecasts.

The courts were soaked from a tropical storm the night before, and all four players donned spikes at one time or another. Despite the canvas covering, some rain seeped onto the turf of the Milton Tennis Stadium.

Whether the treacherous footing had anything to do with the results is debatable. Actually, all the players had the same problems with the slippery grass.

One thing is certain—there will be repercussions among the brass of the U.S. Lawn Tennis Assn. over Jones' use of MacKay. Had big Barry come through, Jones would have been hailed as a master strategist.

★ ★ ★

But MacKay gave an undistinguished performance, to say the least. He has one more chance in his second singles match. But He'll have to do a lot of improving if he hopes to make amends. Jones now, of course, is fair game for the second-guessers.

★ ★ ★

Olmedo, a 22-year-old Peruvian—and the first foreigner ever to play on a U.S. Davis Cup team—more than acquitted himself before the sellout crowd of 18,500.

He hauled himself off the deck a couple of times and slugged it out toe-to-toe with Anderson until the tide of battle changed.

Alex, the National Collegiate champion from Southern California, also had his troubles with the linesmen in the early stages of the match, but didn't permit the calls to trouble him.

In the first set, Olmedo slashed what appeared to be an ace past Anderson, but the linesman called it out. Anderson also thought it was good, but as it turned out, Olmedo's second service got the point for him.

Later in the first set, Anderson was ahead, 6-5, and ran up a 40-15 margin on Olmedo's service. But Alex forced Anderson into two errors, then grabbed two more quick points and it was tied at 6-6.

In the third set again, Anderson made a bid to chop down Olmedo. But Alex again wouldn't give. Anderson was ahead, 7-6, on Olmedo's service. No fewer than five times was the Aussie at set point, only to have Olmedo come storming back at him, and finally win the game.

Morrow, Davis Shine at Sugar Bowl

Top Stars Track Winners

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Olympians Bobby Morrow and Glenn Davis won easily Sunday in a Sugar Bowl track meet chilled by 50-degree temperatures.

Morrow, just back from a Latin American tour, finished the 100-yard run in 9.6, and Davis, who had been training in well-below freezing weather, did a 48.8 quarter-mile.

East Texas State's John West took second place in the 100 and Jimmy Weaver, unattached from Fort Worth Tex., was third.

Weaver had a badly pulled leg muscle at the finish. He said a leg pain hit him about 10 strides from the finish, but he held on to take third.

★ ★ ★

Morrow, who hit the tape some three strides ahead of West, cleared the pack early and stayed ahead. In an elimination heat, he had run second.

"They don't give out medals for the first heat," he said later. Davis was yards ahead of North Carolina's Dave Scurlock in winning the 440. He started slowly and moved into challenge position on the back turn.

Seven runners, including Eddie Southern, another 1956 Olympics team member slated to compete, were scratched. After replacements, eight men started the quarter-mile run.

Northeast Track Club produced the surprise of the meet by winning the mile relay in 3:19. Don Styron anchored the team, and his twin Dave Styron, Jim Mouser and Dick Hays completed the foursome.

East Texas AC won the 440 relay in 42.4, and Buddy McKee, East Texas State, won the 120 hurdles in 14.5, giving the Texas school an early lead in events.

NBA All-Star Game Jan. 23

Pettit, Sears Lead Balloting

NEW YORK (AP) — Bob Pettit, scoring ace of the St. Louis Hawks and Kenny Sears, New York Knickerbocker star, topped the voting for the National Basketball Assn. all-star game today.

The game, between hand-picked aces of the Western and Eastern divisions, will be played in Detroit Jan. 23. Writers and sportscasters selected 10 players announced by League President Maurice Podoloff. The remaining five players on each squad will be named by the coaches next week.

★ ★ ★

The lone newcomer to the squad is Elgin Baylor, former Seattle All-America now in his first year with the Minneapolis Lakers. The other nine have seen action in the annual all-star event with Bob Cousy of the Boston Celtics booked for his ninth successive game.

In addition to Sears and Cousy, the Eastern squad is composed of Bill Russell and Bill Sharman of Boston and Paul Arizin of the Philadelphia Warriors.

★ ★ ★

Members of the Western squad in addition to Pettit and Baylor are Cliff Hagan and Slater Martin of the Hawks and Gene Shue of Detroit.

Ed Macauley of St. Louis will coach the Western squad and Red Auerbach of Boston the Eastern team.

★ ★ ★

Ony one game was played in the league Sunday. The Cincinnati Royals handed the Minneapolis Lakers their fourth straight setback, 120-116.

Jack Twyman paced the Royals with 32 points, eight in the last quarter.

★ ★ ★

In Saturday night games, the Boston Celtics tightened their hold on first place in the Eastern division with a 112-94 decision over the Lakers. New York remained four games back by downing Syracuse 106-102 and the Philadelphia Warriors continued their drive to escape the Eastern Division cellar by turning back St. Louis 114-108 in overtime.

U. S. Nationals Drop 3 Players

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Three players have been cut from the U.S. National Hockey team, reducing the roster to 17.

Dropped yesterday were Jim Siebert, a center-wing from Detroit; Fred Wonoski, a wing from Lynn, Mass., and Marv Jorde, wing from Thief River Falls, Minn., and a former University of Minnesota star.

The team will add some important offensive punch today when Bill Cleary, one of the finest players to come out of Eastern coleges in recent years, joins the squad at Ann Arbor, Mich.

The Nationals play Michigan today in a final tuneup before they face the Russian team at Madison Square Garden Thursday and then in Minneapolis Saturday and Hibbing, Minn., next Sunday.

A 6-3 loss to Minnesota Saturday night was the U.S. team's first to a collegiate squad and its third against nine victories and a tie.

County Teams Take Tourney Openers

Southfield, Farmington and Holly were opening round victors while Milford bowed after putting up a stiff battle in Christmas tournament games at two sites Saturday.

Play continues today and Tuesday at both places to determine champions and consolation victors.

Host Southfield bombed Monroe 79-53 after Farmington had handed Detroit Thurston a 66-44 thrashing in the 2nd night of play in the Northwest suburban event.

Tom Ridley scored 21, Bob Filar 12, Cliff Solberg and Bob Sterling 10 apiece for Southfield to match the losers' overall total.

Harvey Chapman swished 18 and little Tom Grimshaw contributed 14 to pace the Farmington attack.

Southfield goes against high-powered Livonia Bentley starting semi-final play tonight at 7. Farmington meets unbeaten Redford Union at 8:30. Games in the losers' brackets were held this afternoon.

Holly gained the winners' bracket 2nd round at Fenton by walloping Flint Bendle 89-70 breaking a new school point record set earlier this year in the process. Fenton moved right into the finals by downing Milford 59-48 in a contest much closer than the score indicates.

Darrel Kinney and George Coggins rung 23 and 22 points, respectively, and George McDaniels added 16 to lead the Holly cause. The Broncos never had too much trouble after romping to a 28-14 1st period advantage despite an overall good shooting performance by Flint.

★ ★ ★

Milford gave Fenton a battle of it before finally faltering in the final four minutes of play. Terry Anderson sparked the Redskins with 18.

Holly goes against strong Brighton, which had a bye, in tonight's feature at 8:30. The winner will meet Fenton Tuesday for the crown. The Broncos lost to Brighton in a regular season contest.

The other game tonight will have Milford trying to stay in the running against Flint Bendle at 7.

Braves Boast 7-0 Record

Is Bradley Quintet Lucky?

PEORIA, Ill. (AP)—Is Bradley a lucky basketball team or one of the nation's real sleepers?

Coach Chuck Osborne, looking over his club's 7-0 record, says "We've been lucky so far."

Disagreeing with Orsborne's statement is Gonzaga Coach Hank Anderson whose Bulldogs dropped a 90-73 decision Saturday night to the Braves.

"Bradley's got it," was Anderson's comment.

One way or another, the Braves will find out in short order. They open their Missouri Valley Conference bid Saturday against Drake and two days later move against high-ranked Cincinnati and the great Oscar Robertson.

Lucky or not, Bradley has been one of the nation's real surprises. After losing such stalwarts as Barney Cable and Sheelie McMillion, the Braves were expected to have a so-so season.

But seniors Bobby Joe Mason, Gene Morse and Joe Billy McDade and juniors Dan Smith and Mike Owens have formed into a solid, balanced unit. And when Bradley runs into a good big man Orsborne calls on Dave Moran, a 6-8 junior, who has responded magnificently.

Two Shutouts in Hockey Play

Hat Trick, Overtime Win Also Highlights in Junior Loop

Two shutouts, an overtime victory and a three-goal hat trick featured weekend play in the Parks and Recreation Department's Junior Hockey League program at North Side Community ice rink.

★ ★ ★

Goalie Bart Bartlebaugh posted a shutout and Tim Gruno scored twice as the Rochester Royals defeated the Pontiac Northern "A" team, 4-0. Jim Gallivan and Harry Shamier each tallied once for the Royals.

Glenn Nichols recorded a shutout in the nets and Art Atkinson and Dick Nichols fired one goal apiece to lead the Fisher Hill Merchants to a 2-0 win over Pontiac Northern "B".

★ ★ ★

Ben Courtney's goal in the 5th minute of overtime gave the Sylvan Lake Alouettes a 2-1 triumph over Huron Valley Boys Club. Jerry Sonnenberg caged Sylvan's other goal while Bill Halberstodt clicked for Huron Valley.

Jim Dickson was the hat trick star, connecting three times as Spencer Floor Covering routed the Thunderbirds, 6-1. Jim Preston, Bob Brown and Bob Mellema completed Spencer's scoring and Gene Luppino made the loser's only goal.

★ ★ ★

Harry Repkey's goal in the 1st minute of the 3rd period brought Standard Forge a 2-1 conquest of Bulman's Hardware. Bulman's lone counter was tallied by Jon Shaw while Bill Dingel scored the other goal for the Forge skaters.

Ice conditions postponed the other scheduled game between Jim's Hardware and the Mountain View Rangers.

Strikes and Spares

How does your bowling average this year compare with your average of a year ago? And two years ago?

If your scoring hasn't improved over the past couple of years, it may be that you haven't bowled enough. If you bowl just one night a week in league play with no open or practice bowling, it's quite difficult to raise your average.

Even if you bowl in two leagues each week, open bowling will help you. That's the safe time to experiment on changes in your game.

If your ball isn't rolling into the pocket with enough stuff on it, your follow-through may be at fault. Perhaps you're not giving the ball enough of a lift with the fingers and arm when you release it. Follow the form in today's drawing. Bring the hand up in front of your face and reaching out toward your target.

Maybe tenseness in your stance troubles you. Try flexing the knees or leaning forward a bit from the waist. I find these two habits helpful in eliminating tenseness.

State Dem Compromise Offers Patronage to GOP

Historic 55-55 House Split Poses Problem

By DALE ARNOLD

LANSING (UPI) — Fate could change the situation but the way things stand right now, just how soon the State House of Representatives gets down to business will depend on its members.

Control of the House is in the middle of the historic 55-55 Democratic-Republican split of membership, another added attraction in what promises to be a legislative session full of political thrills and chills.

Republicans entered preliminary negotiations offering a half-and half deal, including speakers of both parties, evenly-divided committees and a 50-50 say in patronage of the house.

Democrats came in with what surprised many — a demand for authority to organize the House, that is pick all the committees, name the speaker and speaker pro tem and have the say-so as to patronage.

In the most recent move, Democrats "compromised" by offering Republicans the patronage but still demanding speakership and committee selection. Republicans stuck with the even-stephen deal. To do less would be to offer more than half control.

Maybe the Democrats' move wasn't a compromise at all.

Supposing they were given what they wanted, including the right to name their choices for jobs in the House such as committee clerks, stenographers, pages and the House Clerk and his immediate assistants — the important people in the hurried days of the session when speed and accuracy is essential in preparing the House Journal and making sure bills are in their right places.

If the Democrats replaced all these people next month — or even just the key ones — there would probably be some sort of chaos.

House Clerk Norm Philleo says "You don't learn these jobs from books, you heave to learn them from doing them."

This takes time, it's doubtful that if Democrats name, say half the key people, the work wouldn't be done on schedule in a session loaded with hot topics, including the problem of the state's predicted 100-million-dollar-plus deficit.

It's not likely. So, was it compromise when they offered Republicans the right to retain patronage?

Some say an even split in committees and the speakership wouldn't work because there would be stalemating all along the way. Some of these people are Republicans.

This will be a mighty fence-jumping session in the house. It's got to be because it takes 56 votes to pass bills and neighter party has only 55 votes at best.

A few Republican legislators say, "Let Democrats have control and responsibility for any new taxes that might be passed. They are always wanting to spend besides, it just takes one screwball Republican to vote with the Democrats and they wind up writing legislation."

One said, "They (the Democrats) clamor for leadership and their biggest fear is secretly that the voters might give it to them."

Others say no—let Republicans have power. They have had control and have not lost it by virtue of the split. Also, the Senate is heavily Republican, meaning the GOP will be held responsible for bills passed anyway.

One Republican lawmaker summed it up this way.

"The present system of having bills studied in committees is based on one party being in control. The committees are odd-numbered. If committees are split, it will mean a flood of bills will be hashed out on the floor of the House instead of in committee where they should be."

At any rate, no matter how many ideas are submitted, it will probably be decided Jan. 14 when lawmakers come back to session.

Each party is hoping the other won't have its full 55 members present and chances are that that's the way it will be.

Oil Well in India Shows Promise

Government Explores Area North of Bombay for Black Gold, Gas

NEW DELHI (AP)—A government drilling rig has brought the tantalizing smell of oil and gas from a shallow well 200 miles north of Bombay.

Oil men don't know whether the well will prove commercial. Another shallow well in the same area also showed oil and gas but pressure dropped quickly, indicating a tiny pocket.

The government entered the exploration field two years ago, with Russian and Romanian drilling crews and experts on the main jobs.

Two gas finds were made in the western Himalayan foothills. Two other wells showed oil and gas some 600 miles southward, near the Gulf of Cambay, an inlet of the Arabian Sea.

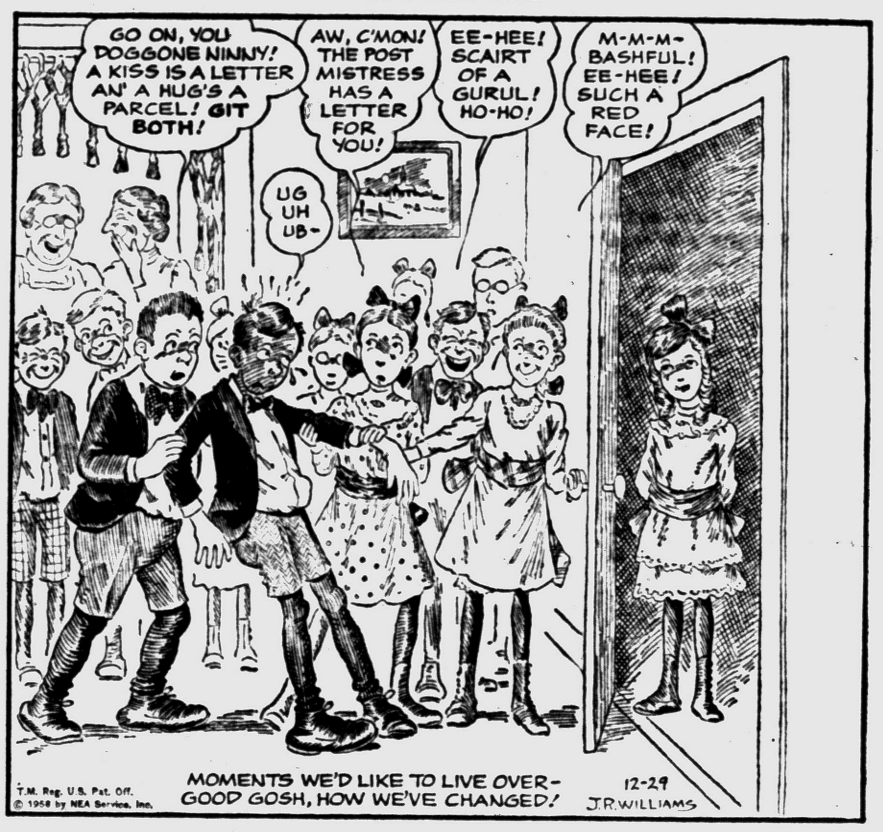

Nowhere have commercial quantities been proved by government crews to date.

India's present oil production in the northeastern state of Assam produces only six per cent of India's need. The country spends about 250 million dollars each year.

The Green Empress

(Copyright 1958) . . . by Elizabeth Cadell

THE STORY: Angus Graham, invalided out of the Navy, is amused at being hired by Sir Claud as a "liaison officer" for the simple job of courier on a superlative luxury bus tour in Europe. He's filling in for his friend Wax Sealing. The passenger list sounds impressive—Lord Lorrimer, father of a Navy friend, with his lovely daughter, Angela Clunes, and his secretary, Lionel Yule, obviously in love with Angela; Mr. Zoller, philanthropist, and his wife; Admiral Peterson and his psychic sister, Mrs. Denby-Warre; the irrepressible young Sir Maurice Tarrant; Stanton Holt, an American, who asks to meet Miss Seton, with the warm, humorous, intelligent eyes. The crossing to France is uneventful. Miss Seton confides to Angus she is half-sister to Rosamund Blake who has just completed a film in Italy and is sailing to South America. She plans to surprise Rosamund by meeting her boat in Lisbon. In the middle of the night Miss Seton receives a mysterious phone call, with bad news. Perdy Brewer, the driver, reports there were prowlers in the night, someone tried the garage bolts. Angus and Angela are in love, but Angus feels he should have something to offer her. Yule complains that Tarrant is a nuisance and believes he is annoying Miss Clunes. It's late when they arrive at Beynac, a two night stop. Though they had planned that Angus would speak to Lord Lorrimer at dinner, Angela has already told him of their plans.

CHAPTER XII

Angus said, "Angela, you haven't got a photograph of me."

"I have, don't you remember the rugger fifteen? As captain, you were in the middle, but it wasn't a very good likeness. It's been on my dressing table for years. Father said, of course, that he wished you had more. More money, he meant."

★ ★ ★

"Did he—"

"Did he what?"

"Did he mention Yule?"

"No. Why should he?"

"Because Yule's got a lot to offer, and he's obviously in love with you. I wondered if your father—"

"My father," she pointed out, "doesn't regard me as a pewter pot, to be handed to the one with the highest score. I like Lionel, but that's all." She glanced over Angus' shoulder. "Father's coming. Will you have any work to do after dinner?"

"Not much. I shall have to go along and see Ferdy."

"Can I come too?"

"Of course."

"Then I'll meet you in the garage."

NOT VERY ROMANTIC

"That," said Lord Lorrimer, joining them, "sounds rather less than romantic." He looked down at his daughter.

'Wouldn't it be as well," he asked, "if I had a word with this young man alone?"

"No. I can't risk it," she said. "He's still got a few pockets of resistance, and you might find them. He's keeping a lot of scruples in reserve. I don't trust either of you."

He smiled, and waved Angus to a chair.

"Let's sit down,' 'he said. "But first, let's order drinks."

When they were brought, he raised his glass with a rather weary smile.

★ ★ ★

"To headstrong women," he said. He put his glass down and studied the two young people. "It's been said before, but I'll say it again: Life plays strange tricks."

"This isn't a trick," said Angela. "This is a reward for single-mindedness. I waited for him, and I got him."

"I love Angela, and I'd like to marry her, sir," said Angus. "I've already told her that I've nothing much to offer her."

"And she, of course, gave up the whole idea at once?"

"She . . . " Angus sounded a little hoarse. "It might not sound much of a future for her, but she says she's prepared to risk it. I feel that she . . . that I . . . I feel—"

"That's what I feel, too," said Angela.

MEANS NEW LIFE

"There's only one thing I'm not quite certain about," went on Angus, "and that is whether she understands that if she marries me, she'll have to make an entirely new life in entirely new conditions."

"You might do very well in Canada," said Lord Lorrimer.

"I hope I shall."

"You're not, Angela tells me, too keen on leaving England?"

"I'm lucky to have a job to go out to, and I'm grateful."

"But you don't want to go?"

"No."

"Why not?"

Angus hesitated.

"I . . . It's nothing I can put into words, I'm afraid. My father loved Europe, and so do I. He saw a good deal of it, and so — on Naval leaves — did I."

"But I only saw a fraction of what I wanted to see. There's . . . there's so much more. I wanted to — I'd planned to write a minor sort of travel history-book; nothing ambitious, just an account of the old battles, the old campaigns, told with photographs of the sites as they are now."

"The threads of English history . . . you find them woven into so many parts of Europe."

★ ★ ★

"Tourists pass old battlegrounds, places where their own kings lived or died, and hardly ever know it. I wanted to . . . I told you it wasn't very easy to explain."

There was a long silence.

"I don't think," said Lord Lorrimer slowly at last, "that you're going to make a very good oil man."

"I can try."

"I could perhaps write and put you in touch with one or two people in England who might offer you something."

"It's kind of you sir, but I'm not easy to place. We could perhaps discuss it at the end of the journey."

"Why not now?" asked Angela.

"Because," answered her father, "he thinks that you're still pursuing romantic ideas about him."

'USING HIS HEAD'

"Is that what you think?" she asked Angus.

He smiled.

"No. No, I don't—but I'd like to be quite sure."

"I came down this evening," said Lord Lorrimer, after a pause, "to beg you to keep your heads. But Angus seems to me to be not only keeping his head, but also using it."

"That's what's wrong with him," complained Angela. "He uses it too much."

Lord Lorrimer did not seem to hear. He was staring out at the darkness beyond the terrace, and when he spoke, it was half to himself.

★ ★ ★

"You have to grasp happiness when it's offered," he said slowly. "It's . . . It's fugitive. You have to take it while you can. If you see a chance now—seize it, for God's sake, and don't let it go."

They sat in silence. There was a stir inside the house. The diners began to come out on to the terrace, but the three sarcely saw them, for they were busy with their thoughts.

Angus, with Angela's hand touching his own, realized that though she had seemed to travel too swiftly, she had had her own landmarks to guide her.

It was true that although he and she had seen little of one another, her interest in him had not been based solely on romantic dreams. She had had a grandstand view of his life.

What she had not seen, her brother had relayed to her. If there had been nothing of any special interest to report, there had at least been nothing lurid. She had traveled fast — but she had not traveled in ignorance.

EAT IN SILENCE

Dinner came, and they ate, but for the most part in silence. Lord Lorrimer's thoughts had gone far away. He seemed lost in sober dreams.

When dinner was over, he said good night to the others and went into the house. Mrs. Zollner came across to take his place and to talk to Angela, and Angus left them and went to the office to order the variety of breakfasts expected by the passengers.

When he went to say good night to Ferdy, he found that Angela had got there before him and was seated on a long bench in the courtyard, deep in conversation with the driver.

The yard was dark, except for the light streaming from the wide doors of the garage and from the room beside it in which Ferdy was to sleep.

"Any likelihood of more bolt-rattling tonight?" Angus asked him.

★ ★ ★

"Don't think so, sir. I think we've left the snoopers behind. We might get a few of the village lads looking in through the windows, but that's all."

They watched as he superintended the cleaning of the coach, then they said good night to him and wandered slowly across the courtyard, under the great archway and on to the dark, deserted road.

Neither spoke for some time, and when at last Angela broke the silence, her voice sounded quiet and brooding, like the night.

"One thing I can't understand," she said, "is why my father said he'd write to his friends about a job for you. Why write? Why not talk to them?"

"One reason is that he isn't in England."

"But he will be. We're not staying long in Lisbon. He could see people when he goes home, and talk to them about you."

"Perhaps he feels that my time in England is running short."

Area Accidents Hit '58 High

A dense fog and slippery roads, added to a rush of holiday drivers, resulted in one of Oakland County's worst traffic accident weekends of 1958, area police said today.

The Oakland County Sheriff's Department and State Police at the Pontiac and Redford posts investigated more than 100 traffic mishaps from the beginning of the holiday period at noon Wednesday through 8 a.m. today.

Most injury accidents were reported Saturday evening and Sunday, according to authorities.

★ ★ ★

Here's a rundown on the accidents:

Two men were injured in a three-car and bus pileup on Highland road near Cass Lake road in Waterford Township yesterday morning.

Taken to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital with head lacerations was Benjamin Jockwig, 25, of 315 S. Jessie St., Pontiac. He was reported in satisfactory condition this morning.

Also injured, treated and released from Pontiac General Hospital was Alex Deering, 41, of 362 Winding Dr., Waterford Township.

Waterford Township Police said pavement skid marks indicated that Jockwig, traveling south on Highland road, sideswiped a car driven by Glenn Herrington, 30, of 764 Irwindale Ct., Pontiac, while attempting to pass.

Jockwig's car forced another car driven by William Barker, 34, of Detroit, off the road and collided with a northbound bus driven by Deering, police said.

Three persons were injured Sunday evening in a two-car collision on U.S. 10 near Scott Lake road, Waterford Township.

Samuel Skeans, 24, of 229 E. Walton Blvd., one of the drivers, was treated at Pontiac General Hospital and released. A passenger in his auto, Marca Merenuk, 28, of 5574 Mary Sue St., Clarkston, was reported in satisfactory condition at the hospital today.

Thomas Corey, 6, son of the other driver, Donald Corey, 30, of Byron, was treated for minor cuts and bruises by his family doctor.

Roy Hutchinson, 21, of 53 Park Place, was slightly injured when his auto skidded on slippery pavement and struck another car driven by Ethel Carr, 52, of 183 Chandler St., Sunday, according to Pontiac State Police.

★ ★ ★

Hutchinson was treated at Pontiac General Hospital and released. Troopers said the auto, driven by Mrs. Carr, was stopped on U.S. 10 at Silver Lake road, Waterford Township, for a traffic light.

Two Pontiac women and an Independence Township housewife were slightly injured in separate accidents on county roads Sunday.

Deputies said Mrs. Martha B. Nicely, 53, of 7010 U.S. 10, was treated at Pontiac General for injuries received when the auto driven by her husband James, 54, was involved in a smashup on U.S. 10 at Tripp road, Groveland Township.

The other driver, Douglas Paul, 19, of Royal Oak, was uninjured, deputies said.

State Police said Emma Reynolds, 58, of 646 Howland St., and Dorothy Moses, 18, of 481 Alton St., were treated at Pontiac General yesterday and released.

They were riding in an auto driven by Edgar Bughbinder, 24, of 170 N. Opdyke road, which collided with an auto driven by Barbara Lape, 25, of 378 East Blvd. Neither driver was reported injured. The accident took place on Franklin road at Square Lake road, in Bloomfield Township.

★ ★ ★

Four persons were injured in a two-car collision at Lake Grove road and Navarra street, White Lake Township, Sunday morning.

Sheriff's deputies said the cars were driven by Floyd D. Stinchcombe, 27, of 4130 Navarra St., Davisburg, and Helen Leppala, 42, of 2956 Giddings road, Milford.

Treated at Pontiac General and released were Lottie Bieck, 50, of Davisburg, and Mrs. Leppala's daughter Diane, 18, both riding in the Leppala auto.

★ ★ ★

Treated by their family doctor were Santa Stinchcombe, 25, and Dale Stinchcombe, 2, occupants of the other auto.

Five persons were treated for minor injuries at Pontiac General and released Sunday morning after being involved in a four-car chain smashup on U. S. 10 at Waterford road, in Independence Township.

One of the four drivers, Larry E. Klien, 20, of Gladwin, was hurt.

Others injured were Robert Tasura, 10, Jack Buethiaume, 34, his wife Lois, 29, and mother, Jenny, 66, all of Pinconning.

They were passengers in a car driven by Francis O. Eicher, 42, of Bay City.

A two-car collision at Rochester and Auburn roads in Avon Township Sunday evening resulted in the hospitalization of a Lapeer woman, Mrs. Rose F. Trojanowski, 42.

She is reported in fair condition today with a possible concussion. Her auto collided with one driven by David A. Skidmore, 17, of 1287 Christian Hills Dr., Rochester. He was uninjured, sheriff's deputies said.

A Rochester man, George T. Graves, 27, 3416 Cone St., was listed in satisfactory condition today at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital with injuries suffered when he drove his auto off the end of a dead-end street early Sunday morning.

Graves told deputies he didn't know exactly how the accident took place.

Earl W. Rutenbar, 49, of 9267 Tan Bay St., Walled Lake, was reported in fair condition today at Pontiac General Hospital with injuries suffered when his auto went out of control on slippery pavement Saturday and struck a tree along Richardson road near Union Lake road, Commerce Township, according to deputies.

Marcella Thompson, 33, of 3052 Angelus St., is reported in satisfactory condition today at Pontiac General Hospital with knee and scalp injuries suffered when her auto skidded off icy pavement into a utility pole along Scott Lake road near U.S. 10 in Waterford Township, Saturday afternoon, according to State Police.

'Small World' Feared Down in Mid-Atlantic

NEW YORK (UPI) — The missing balloon "Small World" that left the Canary Islands Dec. 12 on a transatlantic aerial voyage today was believed to be down in the middle of the Atlantic Ocean.

★ ★ ★

The balloon, with a specially designed gondola that could be converted into a sailbort if forced down, was manned by a crew of three men and one woman on its attempted free flight across the Atlantic.

Peter Elstob, the promoter of the aerial voyage, said he believed the balloon was forced to land in the Atlantic during a heavy rainstorm.

★ ★ ★

"Judging by the balloon's speed up until the time of last radio contact on Dec. 18, I would estimate that it went down just about in the middle of the Atlantic Ocean," Elstob said today.

Crashing Jet Plows Into Village, 1 Dies

KESGRAVE, England (AP) — A crashing U.S. Air Force Super Sabre Jet fighter tore a 100-yard long trail of destruction through this little Suffolk village today.

The plane plowed into the ground only a minute after taking off. It killed a woman, wrecked a gas station and a house and damaged several others, and destroyed about 30 trailers parked in a sales yard.

The pilot, Lt. Charles L. Prescott of Santa Monica, Calif., escaped. He used his ejector seat and parachuted to safety, unhurt.

Several people were reported injured. Two of them were taken to a hospital.

She Leaves With Skunk

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Joseph M. Maring reported to police yesterday that a woman he met in a tavern walked off with his pet skunk when he wasn't looking.

Consumers OKs Expansion Plans

JACKSON (UPI) — Consumers Power Company has approved a budget providing $117,500,000 for expansion and improvement of gas and electric facilities in outstate Michigan during 1959, President Dan E. Karn announced today.

★ ★ ★

Karn said it was the largest one-year expansion and improvement budget in the company's history.

"It grows out of our need to make ready for a large additional gas supply, plus the increasing use of electricity and gas in homes, factories and commercial establishments," Karn said.

Of the total expansion and improvement budegt, $56,600,000 is for natural gas projects, and $55,900,000 for electric projects. Other items, including new office and service buildings, purchase of trucks, service cars and various equipment, account for another $5,000,000.

A hearing on the black-topping of Lansdowne street in Waterford Township will be held at the Waterford Township Board meeting at 8 tonight.

The hearing had been postponed from Dec. 8 for further study by Board members.

A discussion on using facilities of the Detroit Gas & Oil Examining Board prior to approving heating contractors' licenses will be held.

Some 20 heating contractors are wating to be examined for licenses. The newly-appointed Waterford Township Heating Commission has not been fully established for operation.

Owners of Club Tahoe, Joseph and Henry Polzin, have requested a transfer of their liquor license with a dance permit from 3412 to 4769 Dixie Hwy.

Warn Against Berlin 'Aggression'

Reds Issue War Threat

LONDON (AP) — The Soviet Union today rattled its intercontinental ballistic missile, and a hydrogen-bomb head for it, in defense of East Germany.

★ ★ ★

"Any provocation in West Berlin and attempted aggression" against East Germany "may start a major war," said the Soviet communist party newspaper Pravda. It was quoted by Moscow radio.

The same threat was made before in trying to pressure the West to accept Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's proposal that the Allies quit West Berlin and let it be turned into a disarmed free city.

The Soviets say they are going to turn over control of all traffic to and from West Berlin to the East German Communists, and that any attempt to defy their controls will constitute aggression against East Germany.

"The Soviet people and its valiant armed forces," Pravda said, "will give a crushing rebuff to those who dare encroach upon the state interests of the U.S.S.R. and unleash a war against it."

U. S. Will Find Tariff Walls Higher

French Program Steps Up Competition

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Americans doing business in Western Europe will find some of their money transactions a bit less complicated today. But they will find the French manufacturer a keener competitor in world trade.

★ ★ ★

And Thursday they will find that in France and five other Western European nations the tariff walls will be higher for Americans and other outsiders than for the six in the Common Market.

★ ★ ★

These are the results of France's newest devaluation of its franc, and the partial lowering by nine other nations of curbs on changing their money into dollars.

But the most troublesome trade barrier of all is still there. That is the import quotas which many lands impose on the goods of Americans and other outsiders. American businessmen still can't sell their goods or services in these lands if their governments want to save their supplies of dollars for other things.

★ ★ ★

France's cutting 17 per cent off the value of its franc in terms of American dollars (a worldwide measuring stick) is aimed at shoring up its finances—badly drained by the Algerian war—as it seeks to start on equal footing with the five other nations in the Common Market Jan. 1. They are West Germany, Italy, Holland, Belgium and Luxembourg.

Theoretically, at least, France is cutting the present price of French goods by 17 per cent in all markets.

★ ★ ★

Adjusting to the new Common Market is also one of the factors leading Britain, Denmark, Sweden, Norway and all the Common Market nations except France to announce limited currency convertibility.

★ ★ ★

This permits the exchange of foreign holdings of their currencies into dollars or any other form of cash, so that American businessmen can get dollars, at going exchange rates, for their goods—if permitted to sell them in the nine countries.

Thursday the Common Market nations take their first step by lowering the tariffs 10 per cent on goods shipped by each other within the market's limits, but maintaining the old barriers against goods of all other nations. They also will let more of each others' goods come in while keeping import quotas unchanged on goods made by outsiders.

Over the years the tariffs will be lowered further on Common Market goods and a common tariff wall set up by all six against outsiders.

★ ★ ★

From Jan. 1 on, for example, West German manufacturers can ship more goods to France and pay 10 per cent less duty on them than can their American competitors. France can do the same in shipping goods to West Germany and their cost should be 17 per cent less, giving them another trade advantage over Americans, already handicapped by higher production costs here than in Europe.

★ ★ ★

American businessmen, however, can hail the European fiscal moves as a first short step in freeing world trade, which has been under strict fiscal controls since the war. And they can applaud anything that will stabilize the franc, which in the last 10 years has lost nearly two thirds of its purchasing power (while the American dollar was losing almost one fourth of its).

If France succeeds in getting its fiscal house in order, and if further convertibility moves lead to better trade and generally healthier economic conditions in Europe (making it a better customer), Americans too could share in the long run in some of the betterment.

But for the present, the effects will be felt mainly in Europe itself, and will be part of the general jockeying for position as the six nations try to team up to offer a common trading front to the rest of the world.

Business and Finance

Grain Futures Weak Today

CHICAGO (AP) — Grain futures prices were decidedly weak today in early dealings on the Board of Trade as brokers considered the economic effect in Europe of devaluation of the franc.

★ ★ ★

It normally is a slow period for both domestic and export demand but some brokers thought the devaluation would enable France to sell all her low quality wheat abroad and that it may mean smaller imports of milling quality grain.

Some of the selling was believed to include a fair volume of hedging.

Wheat was 5/8 to 1 1/8 cents a bushel lower near the end of the first hour, March $1.94 1/8; corn 1/2 to 5/8 lower, March old type contract $1.12 3/4; oats 1/4 to 5/8 lower, March 64 3/8; rye unchanged to 1/4 higher, March $1.30 7/8; soybeans 3/4 to 1 1/8 lower, January $2.15 1/8.

Huron Cement Is Purchased by Nat'l. Gypsum

DETROIT (AP) — National Gypsum Co. today reached agreement to purchase Huron Portland Cement Co. of Detroit for about 60 million dollars.

★ ★ ★

Paul H. Townsend, president of Huron Portland, said directors of the two companies have agreed on a share exchange at the rate of one share of Huron Cement for seven-tenths of a share of National Gypsum.

He said 1,449,000 shares of Huron Cement would be exchanged for 1,014,300 shares of National Gypsum.

National Gypsum shares are listed on the New York Stock Exchange at about $59 per share. Huron Cement shares are not listed on any exchange.

★ ★ ★

The sale must still be approved by stockholders of the two companies.

Huron Cement would be the third company purchased by National Gypsum since August and the largest acquisition in the Buffalo, N. Y., company's 33-year history.

Nationalists, Reds Blast Each Other

TAIPEI (AP) — Nationalist defenders of the Quemoy Islands fought an artillery battle with the Chinese Reds today, the Defense Ministry reported.

The Reds initiated the action after having subjected the islands to only light fire earlier in the day.

The Communists drubbed the islands with 1,717 shells between noon and 6 p.m., the ministry said.

Check Mystery Ended by Good Housecleaning

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — A mystery as to what happened to $37,418 in checks made out to the State by 536 auto license applicants two years ago has been solved.

Some of the applicants complained that the checks had never cleared their banks. They were found stuffed in a cardboard box under a table in the accounting office of the license bureau.

Plans for Convention

SYACUSE, N. Y. (UPI)—The National University Extension Association will hold its 1959 convention April 26-29 at Syracuse University.

Market Rises in Early Trade

NEW YORK (AP) — The Stock Market advanced in heavy trading early today.

Key stocks rose fractions to a point or more. American Telephone jumped ahead about 3.

★ ★ ★

The ticker tape was late as heavy investment demand pushed many pivotal issues ahead for substantial gains. The advance looked to Wall Street like a typical yearend rally.

Steels, rails, utilities, coppers, and most chemicals did well. Airlines were easy. Oils and aircrafts were mixed.

Currency reforms in Europe were regarded in Wall Street as mainly encouraging to the market since they are expected to improve world trade.

The market was moving into new record ground after making a high in the Associated Press Average on the Christmas Eve session. Business and economic news was good.

Gains of more than a point were made by U.S. Steel, Republic Steel, General Dynamics, Anaconda, Du Pont and Thiokol.

★ ★ ★

Up about a point were American Motors, Raytheon, General Tire, Phelps Dodge, Bethlehem, Kennecott, Olin Mathieson and Westinghouse Electric.

Livonia Woman Accuses Officer

Charge Policeman With Assault, Battery After House Searched

DETROIT (UPI) — Assault and battery charges were made against a Detroit policeman by a 38-year-old Livonia mother as the outgrowth of a police search for the daughter of a minister.

According to Mrs. Harry LeCourt, two patrolmen, Edward Campbell, 29, and Melvin Savage, 24, appeared at her home last Saturday asking the whereabouts of Miss Megan Richards, 17, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Robert Richards, who had disappeared from her home.

Rev. Richards had told police she might be at the LeCourt home, and that she had been planning to marry Mrs. LeCourt's son, James, 17.

Mrs. LeCourt said she told the officers Megan was not at her home. Later, she said, they returned and demanded to search the house. Mrs. LeCourt said she refused unless they had a search warrant, and ordered them to leave.

Both Mrs. LeCourt and her husband charged that the two officers were abusive and refused to give their names. LeCourt said a police sergeant, Maurice Teepers, arrived at the scene and also refused to name the officers. Mrs. LeCourt said she threw a small figurine at one of the policemen.

Both officers denied the charges.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. LeCourt appeared at the office of John Mowatt, assistant Wayne County prosecutor, to sign an assault and battery complaint against Campbell, but Mowatt said he would defer action pending a full hearing at his office.

Ike Works on Message to Congress

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (UPI)—President Eisenhower worked in the seclusion of his farm home today on the messages which will outline his program to the new, heavily Democratic Congress.

After a weekend of bridge playing and rabbit hunting, the Chief Executive planned to devote the week to preparing the messages he will send to Congress next month.

He was primarily occupied with the phrasing of his State of the Union message stating the administration's legislative objectives. He brought a preliminary draft with him from Washington last Friday.

★ ★ ★

The document was expected to go through several more drafts as the result of presidential afterthoughts, plus conferences with members of his staff and administration leaders.

Donald S. Leonard Candidate for Judge

DETROIT (AP) — Donald S. Leonard, Republican nominee for governor in 1954 and a former state police commissioner, announced today he will be a candidate for Wayne County Recorder's (Criminal) Court Judge.

All 11 seats on the recorders's bench will be at stake in 1959 voting and all incumbents have filed for re-election.

A February primary will not be necessary unless more than 22 candidates file by today's 4 p.m. qualifying deadline. The election is scheduled for April.

Leonard, 55, also is a former Detroit police commissioner.

Girl and Grandfather Die in Fire; 3 Saved

SAUGATUCK (AP)—A young girl and her grandfather died in a home fire today but the girl's parents and her small brother escaped the flames.

The victims were Bonnie Moker, 8, and Paul Moker Sr., 75.

Allegan County sheriff's officers said both suffocated in the heavy smoke which filled the house. They said both bodies were badly burned but that burns were not the cause of death.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Moker Jr., parents of the dead girl, and their son, Paul Moker III, 4, escaped from the blazing house without injury.

New Airlines Strike Looms

National May Be Next as American, Eastern Remain Grounded

By The Associated Press

The threat of a strike next month against National Airlines loomed today as two other major airlines remained grounded by labor disputes.

★ ★ ★

The Air Line Ticket Agents Assn. said in Miami Sunday it was preparing to take a strike vote over discharge of a National employe in New York last year.

★ ★ ★

A union spokesman said if the vote favored the strike, it could begin early next month.

National said the possible walkout would be a wildcat strike since the issue is not recognized by the contract as a cause for striking.

★ ★ ★

One third of the nation's commercial airliners currently stand idle because of strikes at Eastern Air Lines and American Airlines.

The New York Times said the federal mediators plan to offer today a new proposed settlement of the dispute between Eastern and its flight engineers.

The engineers quit work Nov. 24, protesting a company demand that they qualify as jet pilots.

★ ★ ★

Machinists at Eastern went out the same day, both in support of the engineers and for an improved contract. They reached settlement with the company Dec. 14 and withdrew their pickets Sunday after official tabulation of a vote to accept the agreement.

But machinist union officials have indicated their members will not be asked to cross engineers' picket lines.

★ ★ ★

Striking pilots at American have asked for clarification of parts of a seven-point contract formula worked out by federal mediators and accepted by the company.

The pilots struck at midnight Dec. 20 over wages.

Sharp Upturn Seen in Steel Production

CLEVELAND (AP)—A sharp upturn in steel production after the holidays is predicted by Steel Magazine.

★ ★ ★

Consumers will start using steel at a faster rate as business activity improves, the metalworking weekly said. Since inventories are low, consumers will have to offset faster consumption with increased buyin, it was pointed out.

★ ★ ★

The publication said that although steel buyers still can obtain most products within three or four weeks, they face extended deliveries on cold-rolled sheets. Most mills require six weeks advance notice, and steel said at least one is sold out through February.

Teenager Recuperating From Gunshot Wound

ST. JOSEPH (UPI) — Artis Burton, a Three Oaks teenager who was accidentally shot in the back Wednesday, recuperated today in St. Joseph Memorial Hospital and a physician said he had a "good chance for complete recovery."

Burton was target shooting with his 14-year-old brother and had propped his .22 rifle against a building when it accidentally discharged.

Accidental Shot Fatal to Muskegon Man, 35

MUSKEGON (UPI) — A Muskegon man died yesterday after he was apparently shot while examining an automatic deer rifle.

Muskegon County Coroner Basil Young ruled the death of John Wozney, 35, accidental.

Wozney was wounded in the chest late Saturday and died early yesterday while undergoing surgery.

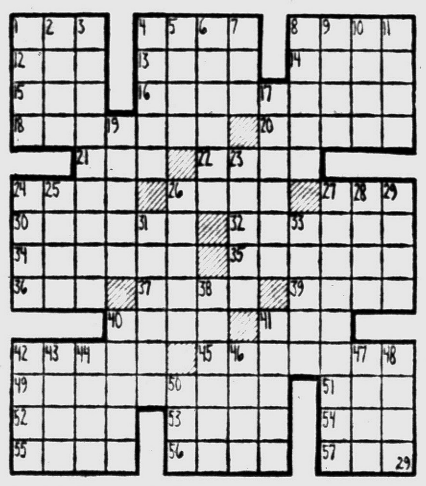

About one-third of America's protein diet is supplied by dairy products.

Westerns Stay, Quizzes Fading

Only New Factor Is Debut of Pay-TV in LA and Frisco

By FRED DANZIG

NEW YORK (UPI)—How did our TV garden grow in 1958?

Decaying quiz branches were snipped off the TV tree while westerns, perhaps because they contain a self-perpetuating fertilizer, maintained a verdant growth.

After emergency grafting, comedy set down some new roots and hardy perennials bloomed again. Filmed situation comedy flourished and the garden continued to blossom forth from time to time with colorful posies known as "specials."

The perfumes emanating from these bouquets seduced viewers into accepting the TV garden's weed-covered plots and marshy lots of mediocrity otherwise.

The future? The coming year should bear a close resemblance to the last, except for the lack of quizzes. The stuff that TV is made of—westerns, game shows, situation comedies, filmed adventure and dramatic shows, variety formats—are in no danger.

★ ★ ★

There is, however, one factor in the 1959 picture that may have repercussions on televiewing. In mid-April, Skiatron plans to bring pay-TV into Los Angeles and San Francisco. If this system succeeds, the TV networks will undergo some agonizing reappraisals.

As for the past year, here is how it struck one viewer:

Comedy: A special "Omnibus" show boosted Mike Nichols and Elaine May to comedy stardom. Other strong new additions: Wayne and Shuster, Peter Ustinov, Shelly Berman, Tom Poston; Louis Nye.

Among the "old pros," Gracie Allen retired and George Burns stayed on; Jack Benny celebrated his 40th birthday (24 years late); Victor Borge's zany "Comedy and Music" had two showings; Charlie Weaver, or Cliff Arquette, made it big on "The Jack Paar Show;" Jack Paar made it too; Sid Caesar came back with a half-hour show in January and faded in May; comic George Gobel shared a weekly variety format with singer Eddie Fisher.

Milton Berle played a straight dramatic part in February, enlivened the Emmy Awards' show with a 12-minute monolog in April and paid for his indiscretion by being put back on a weekly comedy show in October; Garry Moore gave up a successful daytime TV show to launch a still-shaky nighttime variety hour; Desilu (sometimes known as Lucille Ball and Desi Arnaz), signed an $11,000,000 contract with Westinghouse and began producing one-hour weekly filmed programs to replace "Studio One."

Ed Wynn got caught in the filmed situation comedy meat-grinder; Jerry Lewis, unable to develop a sure-fire TV format, developed an ulcer instead; Jackie Gleason launched a comedy show (with or without Buddy Hackett), appeared in an adaptation of "Time of Your Life," and dropped in for some informal chit-chat on Arthur Godfrey's morning and nighttime TV shows; Bob Hope brought some Muscovite mirthmakers to American TV screens; Academy Award winner Red "Sayonara" Buttons appeared in TV's "Hansel and Gretel."

Drama: "Matinee Theater" departed despite John and Ruth Conte, who collected $312,000 from loyal viewers in an effort to keep the show going. The money is being refunded.

Before departing, "The Seven Lively Arts" scored with "Blast in Centralia No. 5," starring Maureen Stapleton. The "DuPont Show of the Month" gave us "The Bridge of San Luis Rey," "Wuthering Heights," "Member of the Wedding," "Harvey," "Count of Monte Cristo" and "The Winslow Boy," among others.

"Climax!" bowed out, but not before it depicted the life and crimes of Albert Anastasia. The "Hallmark Hall of Fame" presented "Little Moon of Alban" and "Johnny Belinda," with Julie Harris and Christopher Plummer.

"The Kraft TV Theater" let David Susskind's Talent Associates produce some shows before its fadeout. Result: Some Tennessee Williams, Hemingway, Bret Harte and Robert Penn Warren came to TV.

"Playhouse 90" distinguished itself with "A Town Has Turned to Dust," "Days of Wine and Roses" and "The Old Man." Its September opener, "The Plot to Kill Stalin," had diplomatic repercussions.

The Graveyard: "See It Now," "Club Oasis," "Dotto," "Twenty-One," "$64,000 Question," "$64,000 Challenge," "Wingo," "E.S.P.," "The End of the Rainbow," the music shows headed by Polly Bergen, Frank Sinatra, Rosemary Clooney, Patrice Munsel and Gisele MacKenzie, "The Mike Wallace Interview," "Dick and the Duchess," "Sally," "The Eve Arden Show," "Shower of Stars," "Climax!," "Talent Scouts," "My Friend Flicka," "Kraft Theater," "Studio One," "Suspicion," "Wide, Wide World," "Telephone Time" and "Make Me Laugh," to name a few.

Item: In 1954, TV prime time (7:30-10:30 p.m.) had one western. In 1958, there were 23.

Something for the Boys: Gina Lollobrigida visited Pat Boone; Anita Ekberg visited Steve Allen; "Person to Person," visited Sophia Loren; Abbe Lane visited Steve Allen, Ed Sullivan and the no-longer-longhair "Voice of Firestone."

★ ★ ★

Item: TV, 1958, made it possible for us to play bingo at home.

★ ★ ★

Versatility: Carl Sandburg appeared on the "Wisdom" series in June and Milton Berle's show in November.

Miscellany: "The Shirley Temple Storybook" started off with a winner. "Beauty and the Beast." Dick Clark added a Saturday night show to his ABC schedule. Lowell Thomas visited Timbuktu, Tibet and Alaska for his "High Adventure series. Ginger Rogers turned up as a classy TV performer. "The Red Mill" became TV's first musical to be shown off on electronic tape.

Ed Sullivan gave his viewers the Moiseyev Dance Company, the Brussels World's Fair, Las Vegas and Sacha Distel in lieu of Brigitte Bardot. Steve Allen presented Van Cliburn. "Maverick" presented both Allen and Sullivan with headaches. "The Price is Right" became TV's hottest give-away show. An imitator, "Bid 'n' Buy," failed to last through the summer.

On July 7, Miss Elfrida von Nardroff finally missed an answer on "Twenty One" and went home with $220,500 (before taxes). Another "Twenty One" winner, Charles Van Doren, joined Dave Garroway's "Today" show.

Emmy Awards went to Polly Bergen, Peter Ustinov, Rod Serling, Dinah Shore and Jack Benny. Bing Crosby and ABC signed a five-year contract and "The Groaner" put on an October special with Mahalia Jackson, Dean Martin and Patti Page. "Your Hit Parade" switched from NBC to CBS, hired Johnny Desmond and rehired Dorothy Collins for the songs. Edward R. Murrow transformed an old radio format into an interesting TV show called "Small World."

★ ★ ★

Highlight: If nothing else, 1958 saw Fred Astaire give TV a whirl with his songs, dances and charm. Oct. 17 was the date and it was a long time a-coming.

About one-half of the farms in the U.S. now have telephne service.

RECORD BREAKER — Bess Myerson will break a record for women in television when she completes her seventh year of Monday through Friday appearances as hostess on "The Big Payoff" over CBS-TV. The daytime audience participation show celebrates its anniversary Dec. 31. Helping her break the record will be Bob Paige, emcee, who will observe his first anniversary on the program.

There's a Gentleman I'd Like You to Meet

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Kim Novak told me this story, so of course I know it's true.

She went shopping with an escort from Columbia Pictures and, while on an escalator, she noticed her escort talking to a young man on the escalator. Kim said to her escort, "He's an awfully attractive man — who is he?" Her escort replied, "Kim, may I introduce you to your husband?" That, so everybody swears, is how Kim met Lee Phillips, whose wife she plays in "Middle of the Night."

WILSON

Shelley Winters, who used to sing, is going to sing again when she auditions for the Marlene Dietrich role in "Destry rides Again" — and, by coincidence, John Ireland, who was her boy friend when she was a singer, is also going to audition for the Broadway version . . . Walter Slezak (whose "Gazebo" got good notices) says concerning the newspaper strike: "Our show is an anonymous hit."

★ ★ ★

George de Witt tells of the husband who came home and found his wife in the embrace of a strange man. "What are you doing?" he asked. The faithless wife turned to the stranger and said, "Didn't I tell you he was stupid?"

Forecast: Gwen Verdon will do one of the great dance routines of all time in "Redhead" (now in New Haven en route to B'way.) In a number called "Essie's Vision," she imagines she's a great dancer—for 25 minutes of music hall routines, one of the longest dances ever undertaken . . . A Broadwayite summed up Frank Sinatra this way: "He's not husband material" . . . A visitor at a Jewish home wondered why there wasn't a mezuzah over the doorway. "Oh," explained the head of the house, "we've got a master muzuzah on the roof."

EARL'S PEARLS: A boy friend told Taffy Tuttle he didn't go to college because he didn't have the entrance fee, and she said, "Oh, you mean you didn't have the intuition."

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "The trouble with antiques is that their prices are so modern."—English Digest.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Gents going to see all those Brigitte Bardot movies are evidently waiting to see her throw in the towel . . . That's earl, brother.

Weapon Traced in Coast Killing

Gun Used on Night Club Owner 'Stolen' From Parrot Smugglers

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Police say they've traced a pistol believed to have been used to kill night club owner Tony Mirabile to a pair of convicted parrot smugglers. One of the men said it had been stolen from him recently.

Mirabile, 64, a witness before the State Senate Rackets subcommittee earlier this year, was shot four times after a fight in his apartment early Saturday.

★ ★ ★

Filippo Acquaro, 22-year-old protege of Mirabile's from Italy, told police he saw a burly man and a knife-wielding blonde woman in the apartment just before the shooting.

Lt. Mort Geer of the homicide squad said a .38-caliber snub-nose revolver found in the dead man's quarters was bought in 1955 by Victor Buono, onetime San Diego policeman and ex-bail broker.

★ ★ ★

Buono, now of Perris, Calif., said he had loaned the weapon to Ernest Nelson Murray, who like Buono has been convicted of smuggling parrots. Murray told officers he discovered about two or three weeks ago that the pistol had been stolen from a desk in his home.

World's End Is Predicted in 10 Years

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Playwright Tennessee Williams gives the human race 10 years if it doesn't settle down in amity.

★ ★ ★

"People talk glibly about what kind of cars they will have in 1970 and how long it will take to get to the moon," Williams told a Sunday Herald interviewer.

"My opinion is that you and I, not to speak of the rest of the human race, won't be here by 1970. I think Armageddon is really at hand this time.

Grandmother Dies After Visit From Offspring

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Christmas wek this year was, for 100-year-old Mrs. Dora L. Richardson, "one of the most wonderful in my life."

During the week she received visits from her 2 daughters, 7 grandchildren, 13 great-grandchildren and 18 great-great-grandchildren.

Saturday night Mrs. Richardson retired to her room. She died an hour later.

Total Nuclear Conflict Thought Unlikely

U.N. Expects Bitter Cold War in 1959

By PIERRE J. HUSS

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y.—Crystal ball gazers at the U. N. predict that 1959 will be laced through with bitter cold war clashes between the Soviet Union and the Western powers but that there is little likelihood of the dreaded nuclear world war breaking out.

They foresee the worst of the cold war being fought specifically between the United States and Russia, with outer space missiles and bids for possession of the moon raising the international tension.

The crystal gazers see the military factor overshadowing the scientific in the great steps forward anticipated for 1959, when the intercontinental missile and orbiting satellites will move closer to the every day event.

Although an atomic war is not forecast, none of the seers say that 1959 will solve exisiting East-West deadlocks such as disarmament, the question of a split Germany and Korea or liquidation of recurring crisis problems like the Middle East or Formosa.

It is generally expected at the U. N. that 1959 will bring at least one dangerous showdown period in the Berlin situation, where Allied forces will have to stand their ground or virtually retreat from Europe in the face of Soviet-backed and manipulated threats by East Berlin troops to seize all of the city.

Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev undoubtedly will strive to foment such a tremendous international crisis over Berlin and all of Germany that the Western powers may have the consider granting him a summit conference to talk easing of the tension.

Communist strategy in 1959 will be to keep more than one area of the world in a state of crisis, adding a new one occasionally while causing steam to spurt in some old sorespot. All this is calculated to keep the Allies and free world on edge, and pin down their armed forces throughout the world.

★ ★ ★

One 1959 troublemaker is sure to be Egyptian dictator Gamal Abdel Nasser. He failed in 1958 to establish subservient regimes in Jordan, Lebanon, Iraq and the Sudan. Furthermore, his difficulties in absorbing Syria have almost gotten out of hand. The consequence is that Nasser will try again in 1959 to divert Arab minds from his weaknesses and consequent designs by stirring up new hostile acts against Israel. Thus it can be expected that the Israeli-Arab border warfare will flare up repeatedly to disturb the already shaky Middle East peace.

Soviet activities and policies in 1958 offered little encouragement to those in the free world still hoping to witness a change of heart in Moscow to make possible at least some compromise agreements with the West. On the contrary, the Moscow policy shifted toward an intensified cold war, with deliberate moves in all capitals abroad and in U. N. to establish deep deadlocks on issues which might lend themselves to solution.

Thus, the Soviets boycotted the U. N. Disarmament Commission and only reluctantly agreed to join what they themselves had proposed in U. N.—a 1959 disarmament commission of all 82 U. N. members, which from the practical standpoint makes it useless. The Russians know that.

On the other hand, the Russians have announced their intention to boycott the newly-created U. N. Committee for Outer Space Study. It means that the Russians intend to go-it-alone in sending missles and satellites to the moon and planets, leaving thereby a wide open field for cold war rivalry with other atomic powers, particularly the United States.

In Geneva, the Russians have shown little desire to reach wide agreement on the two great issues being discussed there separately—the suspension of nuclear tests and the prevention of surprise attacks. Their unblushing demand has been that any and all agreements must be on Moscow terms—something that the West cannot accept.

A precise examination of the whole record of the Soviet Union's policy in and out of the U. N. only too clearly corroborates the fact that the Kremlin has one policy: Keep on and on with the cold war and Communist propaganda until the policy of divide and conquer gives Moscow the world.

In 1959, more than in 1958, the free world will find itself bucking Soviet intrigue in another intensively important field. That is the world of "awakening" darkest Africa and the rapid march of backward lands toward independence. Soviet adroitness in taking these lands in tow with the guiles of Communism has lately given rise to second thoughts about rushing through to independent status some of these new states carved from former colonial territories.

★ ★ ★

Above all, the 1959 questions are: How can Russia be made to conform to international law and conduct? Or how long will Moscow get away with international defiance and lawlessness?

Car Death Claims Up

NEW YORK — In the first six months of 1958, 22,000 motor-vehicle death claims were presented to the nation's insurance companies, accounting for $55,000,000 in benefit payments. This was the same number as a year ago, but the amount was $1,000,000 higher.

Brain-Storming Plan Successful at Plant

SKOKIE, Ill. (UPI) — Almost every employe at the Rolled Steel Corp. here participates twice a month in a brain-storming session.

Vice President Ralph C. Herdrich said that more than 200 suggestions have come out of the last eight meetings and that more than 10 per cent of them were put into effect.

Company officials exclude themselves from the session so they can be as informal as possible. All suggestions are tape recorded and presented to management.

'Doughboy' at 14 Quits Army at Age of 55

WORCESTER, Mass. (UPI) — The youngest American doughboy to fight overseas in World War I is finally a civilian again.

Master Sgt. Ernest M. Sweeney, 55, was discharged from the Army recently after 22 years, 7 months and 24 days in uniform. He was only 14 years and 7 months old when he enlisted in the army in 1917 with the aid of a faked birth certificate.

Sweeney left the Army in 1926 but returned nearly two decades later. For the past four years he has served as ROTC supply chief at Worcester Polytechnic Institute.
