Bob Hope's Kin to Wed

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP) — A wedding date of Jan. 11 has been set for Bob Hope's daughter, Linda Theresa, and National Lande Miss Hope, a St. Louis University graduate, has acted and taught school.

The Pontiac Area United Fund has obtained $1,023,209 or 90.5 per cent of its $1,130,000 goal. The campaign ends Nov. 26 with a final luncheon.

Alger V. Conner, campaign chairman yesterday told volunteers at the weekly report luncheon at the Elks Club that "Every day of every week citizens of our community from all walks of life turn to us for assistance or guidance. Their needs are real and they deserve to be served. Each of us has a moral obligation to make sure these programs so important to our community are continued and allowed to expand as needed."

Conner also reminded volunteers and citizens "that in raising our $1,130,000 goal we are meeting only the minimum needs of our 55 agencies."

The GM division, led by Earl Maxwell, still heads the campaign with $728,345 or 78.6 per cent of its $748,000 goal collected.

DIVISIONS REPORT

The community division, under Mrs. Jack Ross, reported $1 per cent, or $13,104.2 of $26,476 collected. Manufacturing, led by Ted Pearson Jr., reported collecting $33,925 or 83.1 per cent of its $40,780 goal.

Advance gifts, led by Charles Woodhead, reported reaching 93 per cent or $10,072 of its $10,734 goal while the commercial division, under Ralph Norvell, has reached 82.8 per cent or $13,223.40 of its $17,802 goal.

In closing the meeting Conner said that the Nov. 26 victory luncheon would be at the Elks Lodge.

Board Picks Hospital Site for City Super High School

By DICK ROBINSON

Pontiac's super high school for 4,500 students will be built on Pontiac State Hospital land, the board of education decided last night amidst jeers and cries of racism from the audience.

In what was called its "most important decision," the board voted 4-3 for the hospital site despite recommendations of its two advisory bodies and its consultant that a center city location would be more beneficial to Pontiac.

For many people — particularly Negroes — who spoke out for the center site around Orchard Lake Avenue and Bagley — the outcome was seen as the continuation of the decay of Pontiac and a further division of the races.

Some irate members of an audience of more than 100 persons called the board "racist" and threatened black control of schools.

Many observers saw Monroe M. Osmun, board president, as casting the deciding vote. It had been known that three board members favored the center site and three the hospital site. Osmun had said he hadn't made up his mind.

Osmun, a member of the board for more than 22 years, recently said he would consider delaying the site selection but then voted for the hospital site along with William H. Anderson, Mrs. Lucille D. Marshall and Mrs. Elsie Nibbelk.

A prime factor in making up Osmun's mind were the reasons and recommendation of Schools Supt. Dr. Dana P. Whitmer to select the hospital location.

Numerous pleas from the audience — even including one from a high school student — were made to the board to delay action, which was the advice given by the Pontiac Area Planning Council (PAPC) Thursday.

The PAPC, an advisory body of community leaders turned to provide for comprehensive planning of the city, endorsed the center site and called for a few weeks' delay to enable the City Commission to decide if it would participate in a federal urban renewal program needed to build on the center location.

But Whitmer, by making his recommendation, apparently left the burden should not be placed on the City Commission.

Mrs. Marshall publicly expressed a lack of confidence in the City Commission to make such a decision.

Proponents of the hospital site explained their vote this way: "Pontiac Central High School is not adequate," Anderson said. "We've waited long enough." Mrs. Marshall promised to make the decision tonight.

MOTION TO DELAY LOST

A motion to delay the decision for two weeks was defeated by the same 4-to-3 factions.

Board members favoring the center site had this to say:

• Dr. Robert H. Turpin, a Negro who is board vice-president: "I think this is a hasty decision and a great mistake. We should wait and see if the City Commission is with us before we take a vote."

• Kenneth L. Brown: "We can't wait. We have to go forward. How many dreams of a hope and a prayer for Pontiac do we have to have? The school is more than a building. I wish my hands of building this (center) site."

• Christopher Brown, a Negro: "We should consider the impact for the downtown area. The urgency is not that."

Ky May Lead Delegates in Paris

Saigon Leaning Toward Talks

SAIGON (AP) — The South Vietnamese government appeared today to be moving slowly toward sending a delegation to the Paris peace talks.

South Vietnamese sources close to the government indicated the principle of sending a delegation had been decided.

There was a "50-50 chance" it would be led by Vice President Nguyen Can Ky, the sources said.

Suggesting there has been a softening in Saigon's boycott of the talks was a statement by Premier Tran Van Huong in Vung Tau yesterday.

Huong said "presently the Republic of Vietnam does not yet plan to send any delegation to attend peace talks in Paris."

This was milder than the previous refusal to join the talks unless the Vietnamese National Liberation Front attended only as part of North Vietnam's delegation and not a separate entity.

Xuan Thuy, chief negotiator for North Vietnam at the Paris talks warned yesterday there would not be any expanded talks unless the Vietnamese National Liberation Front is recognized as an independent equal partner.

Thuy countered a U.S. statement last week by the State Department which said a Hanoi-Washington agreement on expanded talks called merely for a "your side-or our side" arrangement.

'NO TWO-PARTY TALKS'

Thuy said, "Never have we agreed on a two-party conference, as recently declared by a number of Americans." South Vietnamese and American officials meanwhile tried to find a compromise.

NGUYEN CAO KY

Huong said the Communists have prepared a "winter-spring plan" for offensive which has three parts: 1. To force Souths to go into regular forces and men 32 to 50 into guerrilla forces. 2. To compel women to join combat and production units and to force each village to offer 10 children 10 to 13 years old for training in North Vietnam, and 3. To force the population to give half of their property in loans to the Communists to continue the war.

Death Penalty Ruled Lawful

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The California Supreme Court, in ruling yesterday that the death penalty is constitutional, apparently opened the door to new penalty trials for almost all the 85 men and one woman for whom the San Quentin gas chamber is waiting.

The state court banned further executions a year ago until it could decide the question of constitutionality.

The convictions stand. But the court also ruled that juries in two cases on appeal will have to decide, once again, whether death or life imprisonment should be imposed as punishment.

By extension, the principle applies to most of the other 81 cases, said Steve Raston, West Coast director of the legal defense fund of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, which filed the appeals more than a year ago.

"This is not the end of the road by any means," said Raston. "We will go to the U.S. Supreme Court. It is just a matter of how we will do it."

The State Supreme Court's 4-3 decision was written by Justice Louis H. Burke, who ruled that capital punishment has been employed throughout history and cannot be challenged as cruel or unusual under either federal or state constitutions.

At San Quentin, Associate Warden James W. L. Park said the decision did not seem unexpected to the 83 men on death row.

Park said one condemned man not on death row is before a court and a condemned woman is in the state women's prison at Corona. The 86th candidate for the gas chamber is due to be formally sentenced Friday.

91st Congress Likely to Cool Its Heels at Start

WASHINGTON (AP) — The 91st Congress, convening Jan. 3, is expected to get off to a slow start while waiting for Richard M. Nixon to take office and submit his legislative program.

One exception could be an attempt to obtain Senate ratification of a treaty designed to prevent the spread of nuclear weapons.

Democratic leaders also may try to win Senate confirmation of some recess appointments made by President Johnson.

At the start of a new Congress, especially when there is a change at the White House, the legislative processes move more slowly. Pending legislation does not carry over and members generally mark time until the new president submits specific proposals although they could introduce bills if they wanted to.

AN UNCERTAINTY

Just how quickly Nixon will be ready to submit specific proposals after his

Jan. 20 inauguration is uncertain, but House and Senate committees will have to conduct hearings on them before they could be brought up for floor action.

Since the Democrats will continue to have majorities in both branches—58-42 in the Senate, 243-192 in the House—organization of Congress will be less of a task than if there had been a change in party control.

There is a potential scrap, however, among Senate Republicans over leadership posts and there are rumblings in the House about attempting to unseat Speaker John W. McCormack of Massachusetts.

If past practice is followed, Johnson will send his farewell State of the Union message to Congress rather than deliver it in person. Then Nixon, soon after his inauguration, will appear before a joint session to submit a broad outline of his program.

Manned Soviet Moon Orbit Seen Possible Before Apollo 8 Shot

WASHINGTON (AP) — Space officials have said the possibility of the Russians still could send men around the moon and back before the United States takes its try at it around Christmas.

The officials base their conclusion on the fact that Russia succeeded in bringing its robot Zond 6 moon crawler back to earth on target after a previous failure by Zond 5.

One authority said this "means they have licked their reentry problem; they must be very happy."

The United States is scheduled to send three Apollo astronauts into orbit and the moon late next month and bring them back to a Pacific splash-down southwest of Hawaii.

RY NO MEANS CERTAIN

It is not possible, though by no means certain, that the Russians will return astronauts around the moon and back to earth before the U.S. launch.

Russia and Zond 6 demonstrated what the United States calls "brilliant" characteristics. Instead of diving back into the atmosphere like a missile, as expected, it skipped in and out before descending at reduced speed to a pre-arranged orbit in the USSR, as the Soviet news agency reported.

This technique, the Russians said, made possible a landing with greater precision and less severe braking force than Zond 3 apparently experienced.

Avon Is Warned of Fuel Oil Peril

Seven gallons of a dangerous mixture of gasoline and fuel oil mistakenly sold by an Avon Township service station yesterday were still unaccounted for this morning.

Oakland County sheriff's deputies, who described the mixture as a "huge Molotov cocktail," said that most of the 80 gallons sought since the error was discovered yesterday was recovered before midnight.

The gasoline was accidentally added to a large fuel oil tank at the Save U Station at 1700 Auburn and sold in one and five-gallon containers.

Deputies used their patrol car public address systems to warn area residents of the danger, and commercial radio broadcasts quickly spread the message.

RATIO IS UNKNOWN

Capt. Leo Hazen, chief of sheriff's detectives, said it is difficult to determine just how volatile the mixture is, since the ratio of gasoline and fuel oil is unknown.

"If more than half is gasoline, the mixture will explode with terrific force," he explained.

He warned that even a lesser ratio of gasoline makes the mixture extremely hazardous.

Flurries Expected Through Tonight

Occasional snow flurries are expected to continue through tonight in the Pontiac area, with temperatures dipping into the 20s.

The mercury is expected to plunge to 22 to 26 tonight, and register a high in the low 30s tomorrow. Partly sunny and not so cold is the forecast for Thursday.

Heavy snow warnings were issued today for the northern Lower Peninsula and eastern Upper Peninsula with an additional two to four inches forecast.

Snow fell heavily in both areas yesterday, making driving hazardous for a time.

Forecast probabilities in per cent for 24-hour total at Pontiac and 20 other locations:

Pontiac: 40 to 60 per cent temperature prediction at Pontiac: 29 to 31, wind: 10 to 15 mph.

MONEY TALKS—Currency brokers at the Frankfurt Stock Exchange in West Germany receive their orders by telephone yesterday while new money exchange rates are listed on a board in the rear. European money markets were quieter as speculators apparently held back in the expectation of international emergency action to prevent chaotic disruption of the world's major currencies. (See story, Page A-3.)

Alies Kill 181 Reds, Take 200 Prisoners

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. and South Vietnamese troops have killed 181 more Vietcong and North Vietnamese and taken more than 200 prisoners or suspects in two operations, 120 miles apart, military spokesmen reported today.

One battleground was south of Da Nang, where the Vietnamese area commander says the Communist command has started its winter offensive for South Vietnam's northern provinces. The other was 115 miles southwest of Saigon, where a big South Vietnamese force is trying to make a dent in a Vietcong stronghold near the Cambodian border.

In the air war, the U.S. Air Force lost its sixth B52 bomber of the war when one of the big eight-jet stratofortresses crashed and burned as it was taking off from Okinawa for a raid. All seven crewmen escaped from the burning plane, but two were injured seriously.

Twenty miles south of Da Nang, U.S. Marine scouts spotted groups of 60 and 75 khaki-uniformed soldiers on the move and called in Marine artillery. The U.S. Command said the batteries killed 48 of the enemy and set off eight secondary explosions, indicating ammunition was hit.

103 BODIES FOUND

Five miles closer to Da Nang, South Vietnamese infantrymen sweeping the area where they fought all day Sunday around the town of Dien Ban found another 103 North Vietnamese bodies, a spokesman said.

He said this raised to 395 the number of North Vietnamese troops killed by South Vietnamese infantrymen and a Marine aircraft and artillery in the fighting Sunday and early yesterday.

In the same general area, a U.S. Marine and Vietnamese joint action team fought off a small attack and killed five more North Vietnamese. Seven Marines were wounded; South Vietnamese casualties were described as light.

Five more U.S. Marines were killed and six wounded in an ambush Monday night just below the demilitarized zone, between the Marine bases at Dong Ha and Cam Lo.

DRIVES THROUGH FIRING

Firing from both sides of the road, enemy troops opened up with machine guns and rocket-propelled grenades on the truckload of Marines. The driver drove through the heavy fire, and jet bombers and artillery pounded the enemy position, but it was not known if any of the enemy were hit.

In the continuing South Vietnamese offensive 115 miles southwest of Saigon, the government force reported killing 25 more Vietcong yesterday and said 200 confirmed Vietcong soldiers and 200 suspects were rounded up. South Vietnamese casualties were termed light.

Ten miles to the north, government militiamen acting on a defector's tip uncovered five enemy munition caches that yielded 173 rifles.

3 Bodies Found in Ferry Tragedy

MANILA (AP) — Three bodies were recovered and more navy frogmen joined the search today for passengers of an inter-island boat which sank after colliding with a British freighter in Cebu harbor yesterday.

Navy officials said they did not know how many were on board the passenger ferry Iruna, but it was nowhere near the 200 first reported missing.

A spokesman said 27 crew members had been accounted for and a number of them suffered only minor injuries. The freighter was the 5,338-ton Eastern Moon, sailing out of Hong Kong.

The spokesman said the harbor pilot reported engine failure caused the collision. The pilot said he ordered the Eastern Moon to stop and back up, but the engine failed to respond.

The freighter hit the ferry as the latter was pulling away from the dock and the Iruna broke into pieces and sank within minutes.

important that we can't postpone the decision for two weeks.

Members favoring the center site agreed that the hospital site would have to be selected if the city didn't back the center location.

PROBLEMS CITED

Whitmer reasoned that at least a one-year delay at additional costs of $3.5 million and the absence of a comprehensive city plan to go with the school and solid interagency coordination are problems confronting the center site. Whitmer said some people had oversimplified the issue, saying it was a racial issue exclusively, or one of the past versus the future or redevelopment versus education of children.

He pointed out that the city could hardly be federal urban renewal funds at all other sites, although he indicated the center site would have more immediate effect on city redevelopment.

Kosygin Warns of Trying to Talk From Strength

MOSCOW (AP)—Premier Alexei N. Kosygin told two U.S. senators today that the United States and the Soviet Union would find it hard to achieve a relaxation of international tensions if either sought to negotiate from a position of strength, the senators reported.

U.S. President-elect Richard M. Nixon advocated a position of strength for the United States during the election campaign.

Sens. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., and Claiborne Pell, D-R.I., told a news conference today that in an hour-and-a-half-minute meeting with Kosygin the premier cautioned against either of the great powers seeking to become decisively stronger than the other.

The senators reported Kosygin urged that the United States and the Soviet Union push ahead on negotiations to limit antiballistic missile systems and the ratification of the treaty on the nonproliferation of nuclear weapons. Action on both has been delayed in the United States because of the Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia.

GORE TELLS PREMIER

Gore said he told the premier that it would be difficult to get the U.S. government to act favorably on either as long as Soviet troops remain in Czechoslovakia.

Kosygin replied that the Soviet troops were stationed in Czechoslovakia under a treaty signed by that country's government. The premier noted that U.S. troops were in West Germany, Okinawa, and Japan, among other places, on a similar basis, Gore added.

The senators' account of the Kremlin talk, which they described as warm and friendly, indicated that the Soviet government intends to keep its new military bases in Czechoslovakia despite U.S. and other opposition.

COMMUNITY REMINDER

He reminded listeners of "the harm to the community if the work of these agencies, such as Boy Scouts and Family Service of Oakland County, had to be reduced because of lack of money."

"When one turns their back, fails to give, they are failing to support agencies involved in important medical research, first aid and water safety, blood for patients, services to Armed Forces and a host of others that they, themselves, may need in the future," he added.

Probe Continues in Plane Crash

The investigation of the private plane crash near Oakland-Pontiac Airport Sunday which killed an Orchard Lake man and seriously injured his woman passenger is still in the preliminary stage, according to Oakland County sheriff's deputies.

Deputies said they have filed their report on the mishap with the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA), which is solely responsible for such investigations.

Still reported in critical condition in Pontiac General Hospital is the passenger, Carolyn Kimmel, 25, of 1944 Woodlee, Troy, who was found by searchers about two hours after the plane, owned and piloted by Hudson U. Beatty, 46, crashed in a wooded area near Gale and Teggeder roads in White Lake Township about 7 p.m.

Beatty, who lived at 2670 Pine Lake, Orchard Lake, apparently was killed instantly, deputies said.

Investigators said the aircraft, a twin-engine Cessna, was on an approach to the airport's northwest runway when radio contact with the control tower was lost. The plane was then about five miles from the landing strip.

Area residents reported hearing a crash and seeing a bright flash about the same time.

3 Engineers Get New Posts at Chevrolet

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — James G. Musser Jr., 6985 Woodhark, has been named chief design engineer in charge of the XP887, the new American-built small car to be introduced by Chevrolet in 1970.

The appointment and new assignments for two other area men were announced by Alex C. Mair, Chevrolet director of engineering.

Musser has served as Chevrolet's chief passenger car components and chassis engineer the past two years.

William D. Route, 1225 Robson, has been made chief passenger car components engineer.

MUSSER ROUTE

Charles D. Simmons, 211 E. Merrill, Birmingham, replaces Route as chief research and development engineer.

PENN STATE GRAD

A Pennsylvanian and 1957 graduate of Penn State University, Musser joined General Motors as a college graduate-in-training on the engineering staff.

He joined Chevrolet in 1960 as a research engineer, and advanced through assistant staff and staff engineer assignments to become chief research and development engineer in 1966, and assistant chief engineer later that year.

Route, who graduated from General Motors Institute and received a master's degree from Wayne State University, joined Cadillac engineering after serving with the Air Force in World War II.

He joined Chevrolet in 1953 and his assignments have been concentrated on passenger car chassis and power trains. Simmons is a graduate of Ann Arbor High School with a master's degree in engineering from the University of Michigan.

Beatty, who joined Chevrolet in 1956, he served with Packard. He has been a research engineer on future products and was made staff engineer for research and development in 1966.

Robert S. Marker, formerly of Bloomfield Township, has been elected president of McCann-Erickson, Inc. Announcement of the election was made yesterday by Paul Foley, 1311 Willow, Birmingham, chairman and chief executive officer of the corporation.

Until the McCann-Erickson board met yesterday, Foley held the title of president as well as chairman.

Marker, previously executive vice president, only recently moved to the New York office.

He joined McCann-Erickson in 1963 as Black Motor Division account supervisor and vice president. In 1964, he was elected senior vice president and manager of the Detroit office.

Born in Nashville, Tenn., he received a bachelor's degree from Emory University, Atlanta, Ga., and a master's degree from Vanderbilt University. He served with the Army Air Force in World War II.

Sirhan Trial TV Chaplain Wins for Press Is Eyed Medal of Honor

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Unless the defense or prosecution objects, closed-circuit television will be used to accommodate an overflow crowd of newsmen at the trial of Sirhan Bishara Sirhan on charges of slaying Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Judge Herbert V. Walker of Superior Court, who will preside at the trial, made the disclosure yesterday. He said he will hold a hearing, probably next week, to see if there are any objections.

The defense, at the same hearing, is expected to ask another postponement. The trial now is scheduled to start Dec. 9.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Roman Catholic priest identified as the first chaplain to win the Medal of Honor in Vietnam is among the five latest recipients of the decoration.

Capt. Angelo J. Lileky, who receives the nation's top military decoration today from President Johnson, was credited with carrying more than 20 wounded soldiers to an evacuation post Dec. 6 when the company he was with came under heavy fire near Phuoc Lac, Kon, Ky.

NECK AND FOOT WOUNDS

Lileky, 37, of Jacksonville, Fla., received neck and foot wounds.

He is only the second chaplain to win the medal.

The four other Army men receiving the medal were Spec. 4 Gary G. Wetzel, 21, of Oak Creek, Wis.; Spec. 5 Dwight L. Johnson, 21, of Detroit, Mich.; Sgt. Sammy L. Davis, 22, of Martinsville, Ind.; and Capt. James A. Taylor, 30, an Arcata, Calif., native stationed at Ft. Knox, Ky.

The awards brought to 61 the number of medals of Honor presented during the Vietnam war.

The Detroit recipient, Johnson, a tank crewman, fought with a pistol, submachine gun and a rifle butt to help a platoon under attack by a battalion-sized enemy force near Dak To Jan. 15.

Sirhan, under heavy guard since the assassination of Kennedy, was to be tried in a preliminary hearing in California's June Courtroom 17. This was chosen so Sirhan, 24, a Jordanian, can be taken from his 13th floor jail cell without being escorted through any public section of the building.

Workmen have installed steel plates over the windows. The courtroom seats only 75, and Judge Walker said there have been more than 100 requests from "responsible news media" for the 35 seats available for newsmen.

To Return $1,600 to AAA

3 Get Probation in Area Swindle

Three Waterford Township residents were placed on probation today for swindling the American Automobile Association (AAA).

In addition they were ordered to pay restitution for the fraud, which, according to the Oakland County Prosecutor's Office, amounted to $1,600.

Sentenced were Kenneth R. Davis, 37, of 4308 Sasabaw; James Sanders and his wife Alice of 7135 Locklin.

The probation period for Davis and Sanders is three years. Mrs. Sanders was placed on two years' probation.

TWO SIMILAR CHARGES

An Oakland County Circuit Court jury convicted them of conspiracy to obtain money under false pretenses and of obtaining money under false pretenses following a four-day trial in early October.

Davis, a former adjuster with AAA, was accused of submitting a fraudulent accident report to the company. Police said that while the accident never occurred, the cars allegedly involved were reported repaired at a garage owned by the Sanders in Waterford Township.

In imposing the sentence, Circuit Judge Philip Pratt said that he took into consideration the fact that none of three had prior criminal records.

They could have been sentenced to 10 years in prison on each count.

Students at Junior High Do Cafeteria Supervision

By MARY SUNDSTROM

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Students of West Hills Junior High in the Bloomfield Hills School District soon to enjoy their lunches more now that there are no teachers supervising the school lunchroom.

But there is still excellent supervision, said Principal Harry Smith.

A group of about 20 students takes charge of the cafeteria every day, in shifts of four or five during the 11 to 12-30 lunch period.

When the student council approached Smith early this fall, asking what it could do as a service, he readily came up with the student-supervisor proposal.

DISCIPLINE PROBLEMS

"Our lunchroom program has been a problem, as it is in many schools. We have always assigned teachers to supervise and still have had discipline problems," Smith said.

"I told the kids they could do away with all or any of the cafeteria rules and make up their own. They were given a free rein to run the lunchroom as they saw fit," he said.

"We offered these kids a real challenge and they are doing an excellent job," Smith said.

The cafeteria handles about 575 students per lunch period. The 17 class sections are released to the lunch line at four-minute intervals so there is no congestion. The students have 35 minutes for lunch and noon activities.

FOUR DIFFERENT GROUPS

There are four different groups of supervisors, headed by student superintendent Pat Martin, 14, of 4170 Newland.

Pat, a student council member, handpicked all of the student supervisors from the ninth grade class list.

Before beginning the student supervision of the lunchroom about six weeks ago, Pat's committee split up and addressed all of the homerooms, explaining what the new program would be and soliciting help in making it work.

The four groups, each headed by a captain, each spend about 20 minutes on lunchroom supervision, allowing happy noise and crowded tables but making sure the room is kept reasonably neat and orderly.

IN BETTER ORDER

Smith said the custodians have commented that the lunchroom is usually in better order now than when the teachers were supervising.

Trial Is Adjourned for S. Lyon Youths in Kidnaping Case

The Circuit Court trial of three South Lyon youths charged with kidnaping a Novi policeman was adjourned yesterday until Dec. 3.

Judge William J. Beer granted the postponement so defense attorneys could be furnished a transcript of proceedings at a lower court hearing.

Charged with kidnaping Patrolman Robert Starnes, July 30 are Gies K. Askins, 19, of 21939 Pontiac; Floyd Kirkendall, 17, of 392 Blake; and William J. Joke, 17, of 423 Denman.

In addition to the abduction, Askins is charged with assault with intent to murder, while the other two are charged with assault with intent to do great bodily harm.

Starnes was held captive in a garage of youths when he stopped their car to question them about a bottle-throwing incident.

Youth Is Killed Pushing Auto

A Walled Lake youth was killed last night in Livingston County when he was struck by an auto while pushing another car in a snow-drift.

Dennis Noland, 16, of 1122 E. Lake had been a passenger in his brother's car when it stalled near the intersection of M39 and Hartland, about three miles north of Brighton.

Noland and another passenger, Donald Walker, 34, of 1247 E. Lake, were pushing the car when they were hit by another auto driven by Leland Parker, 41, of Brighton.

Walker, injured, was taken to McPherson Community Health Center in Howell, where he was reported in fair condition this morning. Noland was dead at the scene, police said.

District in W. Bloomfield Thwarts Plans for Sewer

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Home owners in Hammond Lake Estates special assessment district (SAD) No. 6 succeeded in thwarting township plans for providing them with a sanitary sewer at last night's hearing of necessity for the project.

About 25 residents of the subdivision were present to hear the Township Board act after it was learned that some 80 per cent of area landowners would not sign the petition for improvement as it was presented to them. Estimated cost of the project was $87,000.

Originally about two-thirds of the area land owners signed the petition for improvement. They later claimed the intent of the petition was misrepresented to them.

Anthony Henderson, 7100 Middlebury, said the main area of misunderstanding was the cost figures presented to them. Residents spoke up, adding that some felt the sewer was to be paid for by commercial establishments in the area or that the sewer was to be provided directly by the commercial establishment.

GENERAL MISUNDERSTANDING

Timothy Maynard F. Blood said the original price of the petition in presenting the matter to the residents' district had been $100,000. There was a contractual arrangement to what the petition was presented to them.

A resolution made by Tim and John Warren to delete residential SAD No. 6 from the project and determine if SAD No. 6 was a commercial property. Some would have the necessity of providing sewage to install the sewer on the high.

Board approval was given and Jan. 15, 1968, was set as the date for a new public hearing for Hammond Lake Estates No. 5.

Supervisor John L. Doherty said evaluation costs are as low as they will ever be and delaying the residential section of the subdivision will benefit no one. There is an inevitable need for the sewer, he added.

OTHER ACTION

In other action, the board scheduled a Dec. 9, 7:30 p.m. hearing on the role of the Herndon's Walnut Lake Estates subdivision in the installation of a sanitary sewer. Total cost of the sewer is projected at $12 million, average cost per lot is estimated at $2,400.

The board rescinded all previous resolutions on the Bel Air subdivision sanitary sewer, SAD No. 36, because of high costs. The lowest bid received for the estimated $60,363 project was $89,550.

Doherty said a refund will be paid to all the residents who previously paid on past cost estimates.

The board will now return to Bel Air residents with a more realistic estimate of cost, he said.

GETS AUTHORIZATION

The board authorized Doherty to take the necessary steps to create a drainage district for the three subdivisions: Woodcrest, 1000 Farm and part of Franklin Valley.

Doherty said the hearing, if necessary, regarding the sanitary sewer for the interlaken subdivision was void because the estimates presented were not current. A new hearing was set for Dec. 10 at 7:00 p.m.

A resolution of appreciation was read to John F. Warren, who will leave his position on the board Nov. 29 when his term as trustee expires.

Rochester Schools Eye $8-Million Bond Issue

By JEAN SAILE

ROCHESTER — An $8-million bond issue to provide classrooms for 3,100 additional students expected within the next five years was outlined to the board of education last night.

The requested sum is expected to cost residents $2.20 per $1,000 of state equalized valuation.

While no date for the election has been set and it will take a special meeting of the board next Monday night to even get the wheels in motion for a vote, it appears likely that the issue will be brought to electors soon after the first of the year.

Last April a $2-million bond issue was defeated by voters, and in June a $1.6-million issue was turned down.

Both requests were "just to get us over the next two years," said Supt. of School Douglas Lund in his presentation to the board.

"We have 580 more students than we did last year — a number equivalent to the makeup of an elementary school," Lund noted. He said the percentage increase is shifting to the secondary level.

Projecting this year's 8,064 student enrollment to about 11,500 by 1973-74, Lund said two new elementary schools plus additions at Woodward, Hamlin and Baldwin are needed. He said a new 900-student junior high school will be necessary at the close of the five-year period and a 400-student addition at Rochester Adams Senior High School, due to open to 1,000 students next fall, will be necessary.

He pointed out the need for a maintenance — supply center and for the acquisition in 1974 of 114 acres to provide future senior and junior high and four elementary school sites.

SLIGHT OVER CROWDING

Said board President Robert E. Ludwig, "We are now 748 students over capacity in our present system. There's an average of 28.6 students per elementary classroom with slight overcrowding in some situations."

Treasurer Martin E. McMurray said, "We may find our five-year plan is a three-year plan. When sewers come in (and residential construction increases) we may find ourselves in a bind."

Ludwig added, "There are tracts of land up for development which we haven't even considered in our plans."

The township, figured at a present 25 per cent development, could conceivably contain 30,000 to 35,000 students at its ultimate development, Lund reported.

PRIORITY PROJECTS

He pegged the priority projects in the district as the acquisition of a University Hills site and the construction of additions to Baldwin and Rochester Adams High School.

Four parents present to protest lack of busing for their children were told the district had other priorities than to seek busing of all children.

The aim of the district, according to Asst. Supt. Richard Huerzga, is to continue efforts with the township to provide gravel pathways for pedestrians and to better identify crossing guards at busy intersections.

Only those students living 1.5 miles or more from school are eligible for transportation under state-aid formulas.

State Won't Fight Verdict, Guards Troy Man's Home

DETROIT (AP) — The state attorney general's office has decided not to appeal a federal judge's ruling that awarded a new fraud trial to a man whose wife has accused a reputed Mafia leader of extortion.

The defendant is Peter Lazaros of Troy, who reportedly has offered information about alleged bribery and political payoffs in Detroit and Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties.

In a copyrighted article published today, the Detroit Free Press reported State Police are maintaining a 24-hour guard on Lazaros' home. Presence of the guard was admitted by Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley, the article said.

The newspaper said Lazaros telephoned both the Free Press and the Detroit News, offering information "that will blow the lid off" about bribery and payoffs to officials.

Fraud Hearing Held for Agpaoa

DETROIT (AP) — A self-styled faith healer from the Philippines was arraigned yesterday on a charge of defrauding 111 Detroit-area people of $72,000 and taking the money from Detroit to Canada.

The faith healer, Antonio (Dr. Tony) Agpaoa, performed "surgery" on the sick people who chartered an airliner to fly to the Philippines with so-called bloodless incisions which he said healed instantly, and with "magnetic surgery" in which he waved his hands over the patient while invoking the aid of the Holy Spirit.

Agpaoa was arrested earlier this month in San Francisco after arriving from the Philippines "to renew his membership as an Independent Spiritualist."

Agpaoa was released on $25,000 bond yesterday. Meanwhile, his attorney contended that the faith healer did not take money for operating on the Detroit-area patients.

OES Instruction Tonight

HOLLY — Austin Chapter No. 396 and Elceta Chapter No. 180, Orders of Eastern Star, will conduct a school of instruction at 7:30 p.m. today at the Holly Masonic Temple. Mrs. Sarah F. Arnold, worthy grand conductress of the Grand Chapter of Michigan, will be in charge.

Haircut Prices Up in 3 Counties

DETROIT (AP) — A new contract that will increase the price of haircuts in Wayne, Macomb and Washtenaw counties, will take effect Dec. 1, an international union president told yesterday.

Joseph N. DePaola of Indianapolis, head of the Journeymen Barbers, Hairdressers, Cosmetologists and Proprietors International Union of America, made the ruling which headed off a barber strike.

Prices in the Pontiac area, however, will not be affected by the increase. Members of State Barber's Association Local 50, which is not affiliated with the union and which serves Pontiac and vicinity, voted down a price hike a week ago.

Members of the 20-member local will continue to charge $2.75 for a regular haircut, according to Arthur Blankenburg, secretary-treasurer.

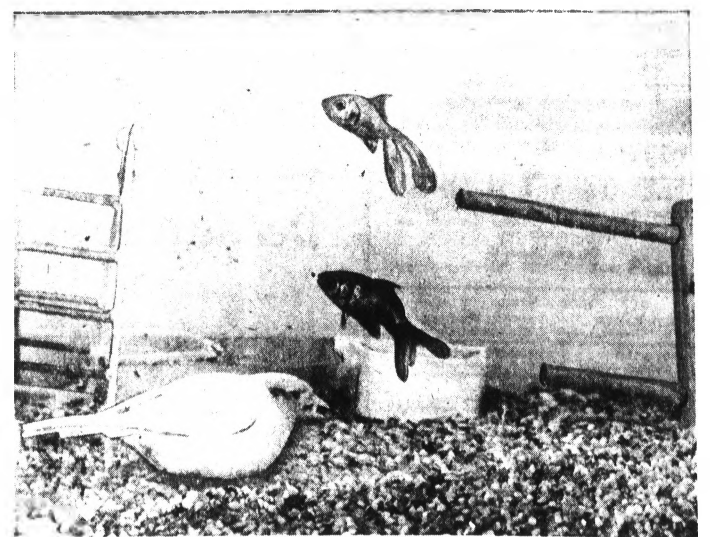

PROVISION ABANDONED

Paola said the shop owners, who are members of his union, had endorsed the contract because they abandoned a provision requiring two-thirds majority approval, when they agreed to state mediation.

The proprietors gave it only a passage margin of 176 to 107. The barber employees also approved it.

Haircuts will increase from $2.75 to $3 with a $2.25 hike on Saturdays and days preceding a holiday.

Children's haircuts will increase to $2.50 in Wayne county and $3 on Saturdays and before holidays. Prices generally are higher in the other two counties.

Christmas Clubbers Cut Huge Melon

Christmas comes early this year for a record 15,725,000 Christmas Club depositors as more than 10,000 banks and savings institutions pay out $2,113,624, also a record, to thrifty savers.

Locally, three institutions will distribute $1,606,100 to 15,988 savers, 6 per cent above last year's disbursement.

But by no means will the huge amount go entirely into purchase of Christmas gifts. Some 28 per cent of it will immediately be redeposited in regular interest-bearing savings accounts. Another 12 per cent will go to pay taxes, and a substantial amount will be used to finance college education, insurance premiums and winter vacations. About $900 million—less than half the sum saved—will be used for Holiday shopping.

Despite the fact that virtually none of the financial institutions pay interest on Christmas Club accounts, the "forced" savings that characterize them has proved a boon to a multitude of Americans. Self-discipline is not the commonest of human qualities, and the need to make systematic and relatively painless monthly deposits becomes a virtue toward the end of each year.

We congratulate the thrifty among us who have run the course this year and the banking establishments which have fostered it.

What A Sock!

Abandoned Cars Increase Cities' Junk Problem

American affluence would seem to have reached some sort of limit. The problem of litter is now not just one of people dumping rubbish out of cars but of dumping the cars themselves.

According to the Automobile Manufacturers Association, Americans junked six million cars and 85,000 trucks in 1966.

The vast majority wind up back in the blast furnace by way of the scrap dealer, but for increasing numbers of the worn-out vehicles, the police are being called upon to act as middleman.

Because of new steelmaking processes that require less scrap metal, prices for scrap have fallen from about $42 a ton to $10 a ton in the past 10 years. Since it can cost more to tow a car to the junkyard than the junk dealer will pay for it, some people are simply removing their plates and leaving the cars on the streets.

In New York, for example, junked cars are collected at the rate of 30,000 a year. It's 20,000 in Philadelphia and 16,000 in Detroit.

Apparently, it is easier and less expensive for authorities to haul a car away, impound it and auction it off than to try to trace its owner and bring him to book for littering.

Put it down as another public service we all have to pay for in this mechanized society.

Stone Head Symbol of Easter Island Mystery

Vanished civilizations are always fascinating to think about, possibly because we are not certain how long our own is going to last.

One whose history is still only sketchily known to archaeologists is that of remote Easter Island in the Pacific, where hundreds of strange stone heads dot the landscape.

One of the heads, a massive five-ton, eight-foot-high carving, the first of its kind ever to leave its home, has just been put on display on another famous island, Manhattan.

The monolith, one of the most mysterious works of man, is on exhibition on the plaza of Seagram Building in New York City.

Its appearance marked the beginning of a worldwide drive by the International Fund for Monuments to restore and preserve the cultural relics of Easter Island, which are being threatened by both nature, in the form of winds and waters, and by modern man, who is about to bulldoze airfields and roads through them.

Determination Is Nixon's Hallmark

By RAYMOND MOLEY

No doubt in the histories to be written in the years ahead there will be innumerable interpretations of the character of Richard Nixon.

In that respect he may share the fate of Woodrow Wilson — the jury in that case is still unable to reach a verdict. Indeed, a perceptive and sympathetic writer, Vermont booster of the Wall Street Journal, at ready has perceived a likeness to the World War I President.

Both men, he says, might be called "intellectual introverts." Another sympathetic analyst appeared in Earl Mazo's book, "Richard Nixon: A Personal and Political Portrait."

In 1959, this excellent book, revised, has been republished this year with Stephen Hess as the co-author.

ELEMENT OF FATALISM

Man discovered in his subject a strong element of fatalism. And in noting this in 1959, and also earlier this year, I suggested this from Shakespeare: "If it be not now, yet it will come: the readiness is all."

After something more than a casual acquaintance with Nixon over the 20 years since the Age of Hiss, I believe that both of these appraisals fall in exactness.

Historians' comparison with Woodrow Wilson must be based on the fact that the end of the world is not yet in sight.

Nixon's readiness has turned his unquestionable fame not only to repeated appraisals of policies but has relentlessly studied his own nature. What did I do that I should not have done?" "What did I leave undone that I should have done?"

LIKE A SPARTAN

Mazo's suggestion of fatalism is good so far as it goes. But in Nixon's case it never has been the fatalism of Oriental philosophers. For that is a passive acceptance of what comes.

Nixon, with Spartan determination, has been preparing himself for the Presidency ever since in 1952 Gen. Eisenhower chose him as a junior partner.

"Readiness" for the trial, the burden and, if possible, the triumph in the position he has now attained has been an abiding concern.

Those who fall back on the familiar excuse for lack of understanding and call Nixon complex will lose the clue.

To those who know him best and have been closest to him, he is not complex.

David Lawrence Says:

Children Are Losers in NY Rift

WASHINGTON — When more than one million public school students are denied classroom instruction for 39 days, and the government of the biggest city in the country is unable to handle the strike which caused it, the event may well be regarded as one of the most disgraceful happenings in history.

LAWRENCE

Now, in order to make up lost time, students are going to be deprived of their normal holidays. Under the schedule announced, the students must go to school on Nov. 29, December 26, 27, 30 and 31, Feb. 12, and for four days during the usual Easter week recess. They will also be compelled to attend classes for an extra 45 minutes each school day for the 14 weeks between Nov. 25 and March 7.

So the children are the ones who will pay the penalty for the failure of the city government and the teachers to resolve their dispute without a closing down of the public schools of the city.

Much blame will be placed upon the union, but there is every evidence that, if the seriousness of the problem had been recognized earlier, a compromise might have been reached which would have made unnecessary the closing of the schools.

RACIAL PROBLEMS

There are, of course, racial problems involved. The city had proposed a "desegregation" plan which would have left to local control the selection of teachers.

The labor union objected to this because, it is claimed, white teachers were being discriminated against, particularly those who were members of the union.

These questions are, of course, difficult to deal with satisfactorily, and there have been charges of racism and of threats and intimidation as well as some outbreaks of violence. But it does seem incredible that the city government or the state government was not able to prevent the loss of so many days of school for the pupils.

Even with the settlement of the strike, there are fears that many of the teachers may remain hostile and be unable to cooperate with each other as they should.

Some of the teachers and parents are said to be more militant in their views now than they were before the strike.

When such fundamental issues arise, the controversy is not just an ordinary strike but one which concerns the residents of the community, the members of labor unions, and city and state governments.

Bob Considine Says:

Reluctant Envoy to U.N. Finds LBJ Is Persuasive

NEW YORK — It's easy to appoint a new U.S. ambassador to U.N.

If you're the President of the United States, that is.

J. Russell Wiggins, long-time dean of editors of the Washington Post, had just sailed his boat into a friendly cove in Maine, to begin his vacation, when he was summoned to the phone.

"Who's calling?" he asked, surprised.

"The White House."

"The President came on the pipe," Wiggins said in his best, High Noon, manner. "You've been second-guessing me in the Post for 20 years."

"Now, podner, you're going to see how it feels to be second-guessed. I'm putting your name in for our ambassador to U.N. George Ball's going to quit to work for Hubert. I want to see you before I make the announcement. There will be an Air Force JetStar waiting for you at Dow Air Force Base at seven o'clock."

VAIN PROTEST

"But Mr. President," Wiggins protested, "I haven't even trimmed my sail. I'm just starting on a vacation. There must be much better-fitted men to choose from."

"I'm asking you to serve your country," LBJ said. "I happen to know that you're going to retire in three months. So I'm telling you to give those 90 days to your country. The JetStar will be there at seven." Then he hung up.

The ambassador has swiftly learned, as have his predecessors since Sen. Warren Austin first bumped at U.N. that the Russians send tough, knowledgeable representatives to the world body.

2) A lot of good things U.N. does goes unnoticed in the press and on the air.

3) There must come a day when the U.N. will be relieved of its unequal burden of paying the costs of U.N. operations.

4) The undeveloped nations send remarkably bright young men to U.N.

5) Ambassador Wiggins had to hurry back to work to make a speech before the political committee on the touchy Palestine refugee situation.

"Israel is absorbing small groups of them, based on hardship and broken families," he said. "But we've got a long way to go. There are still more than 300,000 of them."

We suggested that he take a look at a memorable speech Ambassador Austin made on the same subject, years ago. Austin said, "I think the Jews and the Arabs should settle their differences along the lines of good Christian principles." Wiggins long-time foe of the non-sequiter, said no.

'Vietnam Postage Rates Should Be Much Lower'

I think postage rates are terrible. I mailed Christmas packages to Vietnam and the price of giving our boys a little enjoyment and happiness is just about impossible.

To send a package S. A. M. it must be under five pounds. To send it P. A. L. it has to be 13 pounds or under. At any rate, you have to pay the regular rates and it usually ends up costing as much or more than the contents of the package.

Postage rates to our boys in Vietnam should be half rate — not that it would hurt the government one bit to let it go free.

In last Wednesday's edition your outdoor page mentioned antlered deer in more than one place which proved it wasn't a mistake in spelling. If a deer doesn't have horns it would be antlerless, not antlered. As a rule, the antlerless or female species are known as does or "doe" singularly. The male is known as the buck. So don't pass the buck.

Student Is in Favor of Lowering Voting Age

In this day and age 18-year-olds should be qualified enough to vote because they are more mature and better educated than in past generations. I see many adults who are legally qualified to vote but just don't care enough. I also see many teen-agers working for the betterment of their community.

If an 18-year-old is old enough to get married, raise a family, hold down a job, drive a car, and fight for his country, he's more than qualified to vote. The vote for the 18-year-old is overdue.

A PONTIAC CENTRAL STUDENT

Question and Answer

My husband worked for the Pere Marquette Railroad Company for about 20 years and the Ford Motor Company for about 20 years. He paid into retirement in both companies. He gets a pension from Ford. Can he draw one from Pere Marquette, too?

E. M.

REPLY

Pere Marquette is now part of Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, and Mr. E. M. Michie is Manager of Employee Benefits. You can write him at C & O Railroad, 200 W. Baltimore St., Baltimore, Md. He will need more information than you gave us concerning dates of employment, etc.

Question and Answer

I've tried to find material by which to make a cast of a child's hands, much on the order of the original "Praying Hands," all to no avail. Can you help me?

MRS. M. E.

REPLY

Mrs. Goodale, sculpture instructor at Pontiac Creative Arts Center, says she uses plain old Red Top molding plaster from the hardware store. However, if you aren't familiar with techniques for such a project, she suggests you consult the library for "Materials and Methods" by Rich. The book will help teach you how to go about it. You might also consider taking a sculpturing class at the Creative Arts Center on West Lawrence St. For information call 332-1824.

Two-Party Status Gains in South

By BRUCE BLOSSAT
WASHINGTON (NEA) — Incomplete special checks by southern sources indicate that probably two million black voters, some two-thirds of their record registration of 3,112,000, voted on Nov. 5 in the 11 old South states.

This record turnout, which eclipses the full black registration total in the 11 states four years ago, went over the whole thing for Democrat Vice President Hubert Humphrey, of course. But it appears to have been of crucial benefit to him only in Texas, where he nosed out Richard Nixon by one percentage point.

The two-thirds vote showing for blacks in the South surpasses their percentage out-polling in 1964 against Barry Goldwater, and compares with a 75 to 80 per cent performance nationally among blacks. The turnout was very heavy in many northern areas, but off in some.

Vote analysts in the South say it is too early to tell where and how the much-enlarged black vote may have affected the outcome of state and local races in these instances in solving real two-party competition.

A critical figure will be the percentage of the total Democratic vote cast by blacks in the various southern states. With heavy defections of habitual white Democrats to the banner of third-party candidate George Wallace, the black percentage can be presumed in many instances to be at unprecedented levels.

No one yet knows whether Wallace, having run up 9.7 million votes in the nation while capturing the electoral votes of five southern states, will try again in 1972.

But if Wallace simply fades, a fair proportion of his last-act Democratic southern supporters, having made the first enduring commitment to a non-Democrat, may thereafter decide to jump to the Republican party.

Such a move, some students of the South are saying, might reduce the once-dominant Democratic party to a minority coalition composed heavily of blacks and secondarily of modest numbers of southern white liberals.

The Republican party at that point would be well-placed to add still more states to its tattered southern base. Since 1952, the GOP presidential nominee has taken three to five Old South states in each election. Nixon nearly made it six this time, just missing in Texas.

This prospect seems to annoy some northerners. For years northern politicians and observers have moaned about the "one-party South." Slowly through the 1950s and 1960s, the region has moved toward genuine two-party status — especially at the presidential voting level.

Now, suddenly, any national politician who seeks to capitalize on this trend — as Nixon did in 1968 — is scorned in some quarters as having practiced a "southern strategy." The phrase inevitably is given an edgy turn as if it meant white racism.

In fact, however, the GOP's steadiest southern gains in presidential voting have come in the states of the so-called New South — Florida, Tennessee, North Carolina, Virginia and Texas, where moderation is an important ingredient and a new managerial middle class is drawing southerners closer to the national patterns.

If the goal is a viable two-party system, there can be nothing wrong with a "southern strategy" so long as it is not reactionary and is part of a national strategy.

U.S., S. Viet in 'Dialogue of the Deaf'

SAIGON (UPI) — "This is a misunderstanding between South Vietnam and the United States over Saigon's refusal to go to the Paris peace conference by a prominent South Vietnamese politician to the grave once table."

On the U.S. side, there is anger and frustration that a small, helpless ally could dare to jeopardize a chance for peace in the face of America's huge expense in the war in both lives and money.

On the South Vietnamese side, there is an almost panicky fear that the all-powerful United States, eager for peace and ignorant of the rules of the game as it is played in Asia, may unwittingly commit South Vietnam and its 17 million people to total, irretrievable disaster.

VC STATUS IS PROBLEM

The problem is the status to be accorded the Vietcong's National Liberation Front (NLF) at the full-scale peace conference which was to have followed the Nov. 1 halt in U.S. attacks on North Vietnam.

To South Vietnamese officials, the question has nothing to do with vanity and is the opposite of anything silly or petty.

In the traditional "winner takes all" concept of Asian politics, highest importance that could foreshadow either victory or defeat for South Vietnam.

The problem is Saigon is seen as a matter of left and death, possibly more important in itself than any settlement that

ASSURANCE WANTED

Saigon wants firm assurance from Hanoi that it will not try to sear the NLF as a separate entity.

"You must understand the psychological effect if we sit down with a Vietcong delegation," said one high-level South Vietnamese official. "If we agree to that concession, we've lost the war."

As far as South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu is concerned, Saigon cannot tolerate the seating of a rebel group on the same level with his constitutionally elected government. For Thieu, that would be the beginning of the end.

Saigon fears that once the Vietcong are given recognition at the conference table, pressures will build up throughout the world, particularly in the United States, to force South Vietnam to give the Vietcong representation in a coalition government as a solution to the war.

'NATIONAL SUICIDE'

Thieu has said this would mean "national suicide" for South Vietnam.

There are justifications for these fears. The NLF is the most tightly organized and disciplined political organization in South Vietnam, and it does not shrink from the use of terror to gain its goals.

The United States has proposed an "our side, your side" formula for peace talks. Under this arrangement, each side could organize itself as it wished, and Saigon could ignore the existence of the NLF on the Communist side of the bargaining table.

Some diplomats feel that United States might have persuaded Saigon to go along with this formula had not been for a gnawing mistrust of the Americans as negotiators for South Vietnamese.

LITTLE FAITH

The fact is that many South Vietnamese have little faith in American diplomacy in Asia. They cite the abortive U.S. attempt to create a coalition government in China in the 1940s, the concessions the United States made in the Korean talks in the 1940s and the more recent failure to establish a workable coalition government in Laos in 1962.

Suspensions over American policies in Vietnam reached a high point over President Johnson's motives for calling the bombing halt only six days before the presidential elections.

Nixon Quest for Unity Methodical, Not Dramatic

KEY BISCAYNE, Fla. (AP)—President-elect Richard M. Nixon, relaxing today in island solitude, intends to make unity his theme in a divided nation. A keynote address, he said, will be his first public act as president.

Nixon is expected to have more meetings in a unity-seeking pattern, he said, than any other president in the more philosophical speeches of his campaign. Now he is considering how best to attain it.

The most important single theme in this effort is summed up in one word: communication. Nixon stressed it constantly in the more philosophical speeches of his campaign. Now he is considering how best to attain it.

Nixon was resting today on a small, privately owned island in the Bahamas. He summed himself and read in privacy on Mermaid Beach in the Grand Cay Urban League group of the Bahama Islands.

Nixon flew there Monday by of that speech are taking shape. Coast Guard helicopter, with no Nixon and a handful of aides advance announcement, accompanying him, are, however, relaxing through the press, and the news media, has promised separately. Most of the aides rectly to the nation through tele- an open administration and one have not even seen their boss vision, as important elements in which policymakers will be since he arrived here Friday the unification effort.

He is pondering now the best manner in which to deal with phase of his planning.

The national unity effort also effort to make Cabinet choices is a factor in his consideration of selections to the Cabinet. It will, Nixon has pledged, include Democrats.

Nothing Left but Wrapping for This Pair

By SHIRLEY GRAY

Mr. and Mrs. Horatio (Peggy) Lewis II of Birmingham just got back Sunday from two weeks in London.

"Not a lick of business involved — 'It was a holiday, pure and simple,'" said Peggy. Lots of theater, ballet, sightseeing.

Plus shopping. The Lewises may have nailed down a first for this season—they have their Christmas shopping all finished—did it there.

The highlight of Saturday's elegant Hunt Ball at Bloomfield Open Hunt was the presentation of the club colors for distinguished service.

Presenting the awards was John Bodette, master of colors. Bodette, in his spare time, is executive director of Florists Trans-World Delivery (FTD).

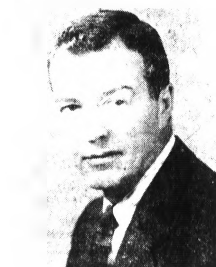

First recipient, Mrs. John R. (Sally) McNaughton Jr., was honored for her work in pioneering the club's tennis program, organizing decoupage classes and her successful efforts to get adult members to ride once a week.

Also honored was George Hildebrandt, "the guiding light behind the Detroit Horse Show for many years," said Bodette.

The new master of colors begins his tenure this week. His name is John B. Taylor of Birmingham.

Mrs. Garrett F. Scollard was chairman for the annual buffet dinner dance Friday evening of the Lane Pine Road Estates Association.

About 30 couples attended the event at Bloomfield Open Hunt. Before dinner they stopped at one of three cocktail parties — given by Mr. and Mrs. Don Hingsderf, the Walter Tennings and Mr. and Mrs. Rudy Oliver.

Clifford West Film to Be Shown

Clifford B. West, well-known Bloomfield Hills artist, will present his film on Norwegian painter, Edward Munch, Thursday at the Pontiac Creative Arts Center.

West has been producing films on artists and their works for the past several years, and in 1965 won the Golden Eagle award for his film on Harry Bertola's sculpture.

An accomplished artist in his own right, West has exhibited all over the United States. His works are in many private collections and in the Cranbrook Museum of Art, the Massillon Museum of Art at Massillon, Ohio, and at Iowa State Teachers College.

The Munch film is sponsored by the Guggenheim Museum, the Washington Print Club and the Smithsonian Institute. The public may attend the showing which is scheduled at 7:30 p.m. in the Center on Williams Street.

Just How Much Can a Handyman Accomplish in Only One Hour?

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: There is a woman in this neighborhood who is getting on all our nerves. She's a widow in her late fifties, and she is all the time asking our husbands to do things for her. She is well off enough to hire things done, but she seems to prefer calling husbands. It can be anything from starting her car to getting her cat off the roof.

My husband is 62, but he still has a roving eye, so yesterday when this widow called him to get her cat off her roof, he just about split himself getting his ladder and going down there. He must have been gone an hour.

When he came back, I asked him what took him so long and he said, "She invited me in for coffee." Abby, do you think they were drinking coffee all that time?

ABBY

SUSPICIOUS DEAR SUSPICIOUS: He's your husband, Lady. Could he get a cat off the roof, drink a cup of coffee, and justify your suspicions in one hour?

DEAR ABBY: I would be very grateful for any advice you or any of your readers could give me.

I have a wonderful husband and two lovely children. My problem is with my daughter, age 8.

She is now in the second grade and has always liked school, until the last month or so. Since then she has said that her friends didn't "like" her any more.

Every day it's the same story. She gets up complaining that she's "sick" and wants to stay home. Then when I make her ready for school she cries and says she doesn't want to go because nobody "likes" her.

Abby, it breaks my heart to send a child to school crying but what can I do? I try to reassure her, but it does no good. By the time she's out of sight I'm in tears, too.

Is there something I should do? Or should I let it go?

UPSET MOTHER

DEAR UPSET: Was a child suddenly and irretrievably disliked and unwanted at school? Have you asked the State your business to find out why? Spend as much time with your daughter as possible in order to make her feel comfortable with you, and without prying, give her every opportunity to confide in you. If she doesn't reveal her problem, consult with her teacher. Perhaps she will have a clue. If that fails, and your daughter continues to dread school, seek professional help. But don't let it go.

Mrs. Onassis Visits for Children's Birthdays

NEW YORK (AP) — Jacqueline Kennedy Onassis has returned to the United States for the first time since her wedding a month ago.

Smiling but uncommunicative, the modestly dressed former first lady arrived Monday by plane from London, where her husband, Aristotle Onassis, stayed behind for the time being before his honeymoon.

Flight to the United States and the announcement of President John F. Kennedy and First Lady Jacqueline Kennedy's arrival will be 10 years and Caroline Kennedy's 10th birthday is two days later.

The children attended the wedding Oct. 26 of their 18-year-old mother and the 8-year-old Onassis on the Greek shipping magnate's privately owned island of Skorpios. The children then returned to their private school in New York.

St. John Fisher Chapel was the setting Saturday for an exchange of vows uniting Andrea Jean Cooley and Lt. Terry Michael Smith, USMC. Their parents are the Ronald H. Cooleys of Tartan Drive, Avon Township and Mrs. Phyllis Smith of Royal Oak and Merton Smith of Houston, Texas.

Mrs. Mark Seese of Pittsburgh, Pa., was matron of honor with Jacqueline McKinney and Mrs. Roger Ward of Atlanta, Ga. as bridesmaids.

On the esquire side was Michael Mann of Clawson as best man, John Bloyer, Michael Weasley of Southfield, and Mark and Brad Cooley were ushers.

A reception at the Rochester Elks Club feled the newweds who then departed for a northern Michigan honeymoon.

Parents of the couple are the Ronald H. Cooleys of Tartan Drive, Avon Township and Mrs. Phyllis Smith of Royal Oak and Merton Smith of Houston, Texas.

Goodwill Women Slate Meeting at Detroit Site

Mrs. Ralph Fulz will be the speaker at the November meeting of the Women's Association to the Goodwill Industries of Greater Detroit. The meeting, postponed to Wednesday, November 20, because of the Junior Goodwill's Antiques Show and Sale, will take place in the Goodwill Building, on B. 15th at East Grand Boulevard.

Mrs. Fulz will demonstrate "flowers" from dried corn husks. A member of the Redford Township Garden Club, Mrs. Fulz spends many summer hours raising and arranging live flowers. But because they are more permanent she feels the time spent learning to use dried plant materials is a good investment.

Following the demonstration there will be an opportunity to see the arrangements more closely during the tea hour. Mrs. Nathaniel Banks, program chairman, will introduce the speaker.

Membership in the Women's Association and attendance at its meetings are open to any interested persons.

FAR Offers Yule Cards

Christmas cards are being offered for sale by Friends and Relatives of Retarded Children of Oakland County. The design is an original of artist Russ Blanchard.

Proceeds are used to maintain the Birmingham Training Center for Retardants, the only facility of its kind in this area.

Persons interested in purchasing the cards may contact FAR, 1609 West Maple Road, Birmingham, 48011. The price is fifteen cents per card. Imprinting may be ordered at additional cost.

FAR is a torch drive agency and member unit of the Michigan and National Associations for Retarded Children. Contributions are tax deductible.

Rubbing alcohol is good for cleaning records. Wipe it on with a piece of urethane foam to remove all dust, dirt and any fingerprints.

Membership in the Women's Association and attendance at its meetings are open to any interested persons.

UNICEF, the United Nations Children's Fund, is offering Christmas cards for sale in several locations this year. Representatives will be on hand at the Main Post Office on West Huron Street from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Friday and again on Dec. 2. Interested persons may also contact Mrs. Deans Regard of Cherokee Road. One of a selection of designs is shown here. Proceeds aid mothers and children in 117 countries.

Making Gifts Can Be Money-Saver

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant
In Money Management

One sure way to take the Merry out of Christmas is to knock yourself out financially trying to give more than you've got. There's so much gorgeous stuff around for holiday shoppers that — if you have the money — spending it is a lot of fun.

But what a pity to make out your gift list when your mind's on January bills you may or may not be able to pay. Even more depressing is striking one name after the other from the gift list because you know darn well you ought to cut down this year.

A comforting solution is to figure out how you can spread the Christmas funds you do have and can afford. One way or going south. Shower-sarongs contrasting color linen or cotton is to buy what you can and of terrycloth, which are napkins fringed round the make what you can't buy.

The sewing machine, the knitting needles and the crochet hook are miracle workers when it comes to holiday gifts. Fabrics, yarns, patterns and trimmings are certainly inexpensive enough, so what you need to go with them are imagination and ingenuity.

GIFT IDEAS

You might consider these gift ideas as a starter:

Pencos, which look so jaunty of sturdy corduroy cotton, with pants, and which young marrieds as well as teen-agers terrycloth in a set of rainbow have adopted. Make 'em of wool colors. Kitchen sets of dish or of some gay beach type of towel, quilted mat and hotpot material, depending on whether holder in wild patterns and col the recipients are staying north or. Corduroy place mats, with welcome items with college edges students, young bachelors, and tired old husbands who need some pampering.

Sandwich board jumpers for the young, with big initial appliques and crazy-gay drawstrings. Stuffed animals

The main thing is to plan your Christmas budget right now, so you can do your handiwork in peace and pleasure and not in a mad rush.

U-M Regents Affirm Findings of Panhellenic

ANN ARBOR — University of Michigan Regents affirmed Friday the U-M Panhellenic students and the employees of Association's finding that the system of binding or required Friday's action by the recommendations in sororities Regents specifically endorses is potentially discriminatory Panhellenic's finding that binding and therefore against University or required recommendations are potentially discriminatory.

The effect of backing the bylaw. Panhellenic action is to bar Panhellenic, which set up the Michigan chapters of sororities untable for abolishing both using binding or required kinds of recommendations, also recommendations from admitted rushing (member-mitting new members, if such solicitation) privileges to any policies are not removed by chapters which fail to comply. Their next national convention.

Several chapters and national sorority headquarters had in sorority parlance, a bind-challenged Panhellenic's right to recommendation is a letter to do this. The Regents' recommendation from an alumna requesting a letter, however, makes chapter not to pledge a certain Panhellenic's action in this case: a single such recommendation is enough to bar her and the National Panhellenic from membership.

A required recommendation American sororities, holds that is a favorable one which must any university policy takes is received before a girl can be precedence over any sorority admitted.

Although reasons need not be, Michigan sororities which stated in such recommendation to abolish the recommendations, Panhellenic investment-mendation system, but are gations determined that a girl's barred by their national charter race or creed may sometimes from doing so, will have be a factor.

For nine years the University change the charters or in ob has had a bylaw forbidding taining local waivers from discrimination "against a by charter provisions. person because of race, color. If they are unsuccessful, they person, creed, national origin, will be barred from pledging or ancestry." The bylaw also new members on the Michigan requires the University "to campus. A sorority chapter work for the elimination of unable to admit new members discrimination in private would ultimately have to go out organizations recognized by the of business.

MR. AND MRS. ORDE E. SHERRICK

64th Year Celebrated

An open house in their apartment home on North Cass Lake Road Sunday marked the 64th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Orde E. Sherrick. Their two surviving children are Everett B. Sherrick of Orchard Lake and Mrs. Mark (Helen) Stewart of Orange Grove Street. They have two grandsons.

The Sherricks were wed in Leipsic, Ohio, Nov. 17, 1904 and moved to Michigan in 1918. They resided at Orchard Lake for 48 years.

Artists Receive Blue Ribbons at PCAC Show

A trio of artists was recently awarded blue ribbons for their entries in the current exhibit of the Pontiac Creative Arts Center.

Named for awards were Mrs. William Vreeland of Union Lake, for her glass composition "Rain Forest"; Mrs. Maxwell Wright of Scotch Lake for a watercolor, entitled "Sug Harbor"; and Mrs. John Oslin of Novi for her oil, "Boy Painting."

Winners in the honorable mention category were Mesdames Abraham Davis, William Cutler, H. E. Anderson and Lewis Sorraioni.

The exhibit will be on display through Nov. 24. PCAC gallery hours are 14 p.m. Monday through Thursday, and 24 p.m. Saturday and Sunday.

Proves Polio No Handicap

HOUSTON, Tex. — Although she is paralyzed from the waist down as a result of polio that struck when she was 10, Charlotte Smith pilots a plane, drives a car, sails, bowls, rides horses and loves to travel.

In fact, she would like to travel to the moon, but since her handicap seems likely to prevent that, she has a part in the program by working in the lunar receiving laboratory at the Manned Spacecraft Center here.

She drives her specially modified car to work and has logged about 75 hours of air time after receiving her private pilot's license 18 months ago. She has a bachelor of science degree in zoology and a master's degree in sociology from the University of Illinois.

AP All-State Teams Begin in Press Today

The honors continue to mount for the Oakland County area prep athletes.

While the season has ended locally, college recruiters are active contacting the prospects high on their lists and the scribes are busy selecting their honor teams.

Today the Associated Press Class D All-State squad is announced on Page C-2. Classes C, B and A will be revealed during the next three days.

One local griddier is on today's AP All-State squad, and nine other area preps will be cited by the wire service.

For their identities, don't miss Wednesday, Thursday and Friday's Press sports pages.

Wolverine Coach Lauds No. 2 Ranked Ohio State

ANN ARBOR (U) — The weather has been none too good around Ann Arbor lately.

But the foul weather hasn't blocked the sun around the Michigan athletic department.

Wolverine coach Bump Elliott says the weather turned balmy at the end of Saturday's football game, when Michigan smashed Wisconsin, 34-9.

SLOPPY WEATHER

Although the game was played in some of the sloppiest weather imaginable, senior tailback Ron Johnson rushed for 246 yards and destroyed 11 Big Ten, NCAA, and team records.

"The sun shone brightly about 4:30," Elliott said Monday. "I wasn't sure what the elements were, but the weather was fine."

The record-breaking victory left only one cloud on the Wolverine horizon—Ohio State. The two teams currently are locked in a tie for first place in the Big Ten with 6-0 conference records.

The Wolverines have lost only a non-conference game to California and the Buckeyes are undefeated in eight games.

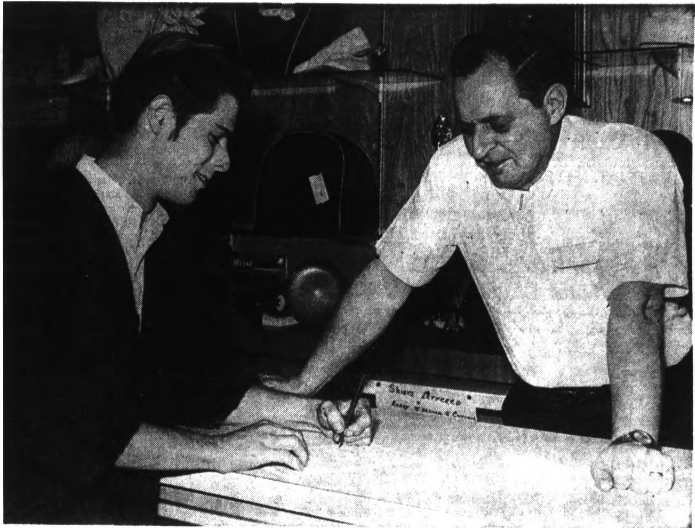

Ohio State is ranked second in the nation and Michigan is ranked fourth in the Associated Press poll.

RESPECTS OSU

Elliott is very respectful of the team Michigan will have to beat at Columbus Saturday, to earn its first Rose Bowl bid in four years.

"Ohio is a powerful team," he said. "There is no question about that. Their ranking is right."

The Wolverine coach had special praise for the OSU defense, which he described as "as active as any defense I've seen in some time. They are very quick with great pursuit."

The tournament begins next Sunday with qualifying at 10 arca bowling houses, and is open to all men and women bowlers of the area regardless of average. (See tournament entry blank page C-2.)

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Woody Hayes isn't talking much about Michigan these days. But everyone knows what the Ohio State football coach is thinking.

The Buckeyes and the Wolverines clash in Ohio Stadium Saturday in a showdown match that will decide the Big Ten championship and the opponent for Southern California in the Rose Bowl.

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. (U) — Michigan State, defending national co-champion, eliminated North Carolina from the NCAA soccer playoffs Monday 5-0 on a muddy, rain-swept field.

Forward Tony Keyes scored three goals for the Spartans as they won their ninth game of the season against one loss and one tie. He has scored 26 goals this season.

Tom Krefl scored the two other State goals in the third period. Keyes scored in the first, second and fourth quarters.

How would you like a check for $1,000 under your Christmas tree this year?

Or maybe a check for $600 or $400 or one of 200 other checks for the holidays?

much larger guaranteed prize list starting with $1,000. Last year the guaranteed top prize was $800, but the large number of entries brought the prize list up in all positions.

If the increase in entries continues there is a possibility that the top prize will include the $1,000 guarantee plus additional money in the breakdown.

includes handicap, to advance into the semifinal stage of the tournament.

Also among the features of the tournament are the Mix 'n' Match doubles and the Actual's Invitational, all sidegigs of the tournament which increase the possibilities of winning.

To participate in the Mix 'n' Match doubles, a man and woman bowler must indicate on his entry blank with whom he or she wants to have scores paired. They must bowl in the same house on the same squad but not on the same lanes.

The same holds true for Mix 'n' Team event. The five man or woman teams, or mixed teams, must indicate their "teams" on the back of their entries and they must bowl under the same rules of the doubles.

New Year's Day Warning Issued

By The Associated Press

A warning to all wives: If you're contemplating any activity that will force your football loving husband to leave the boob tube on New Year's Day, you might as well forget it now.

The sponsors of the annual first-of-the-year madness — the college bowl games — have lined up some highly palatable fare for a day-long football feast.

Under an NCAA rule, Monday was the first official day bowl sponsors could issue invitations — and berths for the Orange, Sugar, Cotton, Gator, Bluebonnet and Sun Bowls were filled in rapid-fire order. Unbeaten Penn State and once-beaten Kansas, both boasting lightning crumpling ground attacks, were paired in Miami's nighttime Orange Bowl, while the Cotton and Sugar bowls lined up matches between the top two powers in the Southeastern and Southwest conferences.

PROBABLES

The Cotton Bowl at Dallas picked eighth-ranked Tennessee to meet the undermanned champion of the Southwest Conference, either Texas or Arkansas.

The Sugar Bowl at New Orleans pulled a coup and lured Southeastern Conference champ Georgia from the Orange Bowl.

Officials said they wouldn't name a foe until after Thanksgiving Day, indicating they were awaiting the outcome of Texas' last game against Texas A&M, which will determine the final Southwest standings.

If Arkansas should beat Texas Tech this week and Texas stops the Aggies, then Texas would get the bid since the Longhorns whipped Arkansas during the regular season.

Probable Bowl Lineup

By The Associated Press

Rose Bowl—No. 1 Southern California 8-0, vs. Big Ten champ, to be determined this weekend in a game between Nov. 2 (Ohio State, 8-0, and No. 4 Michigan, 8-1). Game time 4 p.m., EST, NBC.

Orange Bowl—No. 3 Penn State, 8-0, vs. No. 7 Kansas, 8-1, 8 p.m., EST, NBC.

Cotton Bowl—No. 8 Tennessee, 4-1-1, vs. Southwest Conference winner, with Texas, 7-1-1, the favorite, 2 p.m., EST, ABC.

Sugar Bowl—No. 5 Georgia, 7-2-1, vs. Southwest Conference runner-up, probably either No. 8 Texas or No. 10 Arkansas, 8-1, 2 p.m., EST, ABC.

Gator Bowl—Dec. 26, Jacksonville, Fla., No. 10 Missouri, 7-2, vs. to be named. Alabama considered the likely choice, although Wyoming, Florida State, Arizona are under consideration, 1:45 p.m., EST, ABC.

Bluebonnet Bowl—No. 14 Oklahoma, 6-3, vs. unranked Southern Methodist, 6-3, in New Year's Eve match in the Houston Astrodome, 5:30 p.m., EST, Sports Net network.

Sun Bowl—Dec. 28, El Paso, Tex., No. 19 Auburn, 6-3, vs. an unranked team, under consideration are Nebraska, Air Force, Wyoming, Arizona and Arizona State.

Liberty Bowl—Dec. 14, Knoxville, Tenn., neither team selected. Louisiana State, 6-2, Mississippi State, 7-0, and Florida State, 6-2, are top candidates.

Tangerine Bowl—Dec. 27, Orlando, Fla., neither team selected yet, 8:30 p.m., EST, ABC.

Peach Bowl—Dec. 29, Atlanta, Ga., neither team picked yet, with Florida State, Mississippi and Louisiana State heading the list.

North-South Shrine Bowl—Dec. 25, Miami, 2 p.m., EST, ABC.

49ers Eye Greener Pasture

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The San Jose 49ers?

It's just barely possible, the National Football League's San Francisco club said Monday as it confirmed reports that it had commissioned a study of its serious stadium problems.

The 49ers now play in Kezar Stadium, which has poor seating, almost no parking and an overused field that is the joke of the NFL.

The city of San Francisco is presently studying the possibility of improving Candlestick Park for use by the 49ers as well as the baseball Giants and it is also looking into a new stadium site.

But the movement is too slow to satisfy the 49ers who are almost as desperate to get out of Kezar as they are to improve their low standing in the league.

"We're looking at everything from the Golden Gate on the North to San Jose on the south," president Lou Spadina said.

Male Jockeys Riled

Penny's Bid to Ride in Doubt

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI) — "I will not ride against her and neither will most of the women on a horse caused so much controversy."

Miss Penny Ann Early said she was determined to ride No Defiant, as listed today, despite continued threats from Churchill Downs jockeys to boycott any race with a woman rider.

She was scheduled for the ninth and last race on today's card, in a field of nine for a claiming race of $2,500 over six furlongs. It was the chance for Miss Early to realize her dream of becoming the first woman jockey at a major U.S. track.

MIND MADE UP
"I definitely am going through with it," said the pretty 25-year-old divorcee. "Sooner or later, they have to let me ride."

But the male jockeys were just as adamant in their refusal to compete with a woman. The major objection to competing with women, Manganello said, was that extra safety precautions would be foremost in the jockeys' minds during the race.

"I couldn't ride a normal race," he said.

Bob Gorham, track publicist, said if some jockeys refused to ride there might still be enough horses left to hold the race.

Coast Pair Launching Pro Track Tour

By The Associated Press

If two young law school graduates from California have their way, track stars will start running for money next year in track and field's first professional league.

Plans for a 30-meet, three-month season starting next June and including many U.S. Olympic stars and foreign athletes, who will compete for $4 million in prize money, were disclosed Monday night by league organizers Jerry Sherman and Mike Heaman, both of Sherman Oaks, Calif.

The two 28-year-old law men said they have interested numerous wealthy businessmen throughout the country in the proposed league, which they also hope will attract athletes from other sports.

"We hope to use the National Collegiate Athletic Association as our farm system," said Heaman. "And we're not out to kill the AAU or the Olympics. Athletes still can compete in the Olympics while in college."

LONG OVERDUE

"But this association will be set up for the benefit of the track athlete, and that's something that's been long overdue," said Sherman, one of the backers. "We think that professional track also may induce athletes like Wilt Chamberlain, Bob Hayes and Jimmy Hines to compete in addition to their regular sports."

"We already have option agreements from about 50 athletes," said Jerry Sherman, "and that includes about 15 members of the U.S. Olympic team." Some of them, he said, are half-milers Wade Bell and Tom Farrell, high jumper Ed Caruthers, long jumper Bob Beamon and Charlie Mays and sprinter Mel Pender.

They also mentioned Jesse Owens, U.S. star at the 1936 Olympics, as a possible commissioner of the league, to be called the National Track and Field Association.

Cities listed for possible franchises were New York, Boston, Philadelphia, St. Louis and Cleveland for an Eastern Division, and Los Angeles, San Francisco-Oakland, Portland, Dallas-Fort Worth and Houston for a Western Division.

Their plans call for athletes to be signed to one-year contracts at $10,000, with the opportunity to win as much as $90,000 in prize money.

TEN WEEKS
A 10-week season would run through August with an all-star meet during the season and a postseason title series between the two divisions.

They also expressed hope of negotiating a television contract, but said the league would not depend on one.

Sherman insisted the league would not interfere with amateur track, but admitted it would be competing with the AAU for athletes.

"We're certain that AAU people are going to raise a pro-athletes finally will have a test," he said, "but the greatest chance to air their gripes and thing that can happen to us is say why they're turning professional." Then maybe the signal."

Within the next 10 days they will be the season started. Heisman Memorial Trophy Simpson's closest competitor Committee of the Downtown A.C. will tell the engravers all he has had an off season about Orange Juice and then because of injuries. Keys still purchase two first class round is a great achievement.

However, by scoring five touchdowns and gaining 346 yards on 31 carries against Wisconsin, Michigan's Ron Orenthal has projected himself as a Heisman contender. Simpson, Southern into the Heisman picture California's remarkable Johnson will receive strong workhorse halfback, and Johnny support from the Midwest.

Some 1400 of the nation's sports writers and sports casters participate in the Heisman voting. They pick the three choices and the ballots are mailed to the Heisman Trust in New York by the end of the year.

Most of the voting probably has been completed. The results won't be known until the evening of Dec. 5 but it seems well established now that Heisman is the most outstanding college football player in the nation. His 18 touchdowns and 1,449 yards gained in eight games are amazing totals.

It's too bad the voting couldn't wait until after Saturday's showdown between Michigan and Ohio State. The Big Ten year Simpson finished second and a trip to the Rose Bowl against Simpson and UCLA's Gary Beban.

Simpson is a better football player this year because he is. We feel that Michigan's playing with a team of less ex-Johnson, the Big Ten's record breaking ground gainer, will put Trojans of 1967. He can't unseat Ohio State, to its through in many clutch situations.

Feud Won't Hinder PGA Championship Event

Two Factions Give Assurance

Dayton Will Be Site of '69 Tournament

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — The two warring factions representing professional golfers guaranteed Monday that they will not let their differences threaten the success of next summer's PGA championship tournament.

A spokesman for the American Professional Golfers in New York dismissed the possibility of a boycott of the tourney by APG members. "We never had open up a wide field of speculation in mind," he said.

The PGA championship will be played in 1969, said PGA President Leo Fraser following a meeting here with officials of the Dayton Area Chamber of Commerce, which is sponsor of the tournament, and the tournament committee.

APG representatives did not attend Monday's meeting, primarily because the organization is holding a routine meeting in New York.

REPEATS INVITATION

In the Dayton meeting, Fraser said, the PGA "reiterated to the Chamber of Commerce that we have publicly invited the disident tournament players to compete in our championship and it is not our intention to alter that position."

Chamber President William P. Rathbun said, "We now are seeking a meeting with the officers of the APG to determine the official position of that body with reference to the participation of its members."

In New York the spokesman for the APG assured, "We said before we would honor our commitments. Normally a week before a tournament each player decides individually if he will play in it, and the PGA always has a good field because it is a great event."

Fraser said the players have indicated publicly that they would be in the tournament because the contract for the event was effected before formation of the APG.

Virtually all the well-known touring pros are included in the APG membership.

The Dayton Chamber of Commerce had threatened to cancel the championship tourney — one of the big three on the U.S. tour — unless the APG and PGA would guarantee a top field of players here for the Aug. 14-17 event at the National Cash Register Country Club.

Guideline Near on Testimony in Hearing

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) —

The Kentucky Racing Commission promised to issue a set of guidelines today concerning testimony that can be considered at its current hearing on the disqualification of Dancer's Image.

At issue are a series of mysterious post-Derby incidents during which an attempt was made to "salt" the feed and saltings of Peter Fuller's colt.

The issue was raised by one of Fuller's attorneys, Arthur Graf, who said that if such testimony was submitted "it would open up a wide field of speculation."

Counsel for the racing commission contends these incidents are closely tied to the current proceedings.

The commission, which opened its hearing Monday, considered Fuller's appeal of a May 15 ruling by Churchill Downs stewards. They stripped Dancer's Image of his Derby victory on grounds of a urinary analysis taken after the Derby that showed traces of Phenylbutazone.

The medication is used to counter inflammation of joints the horse reacted violently, indicating it is discontinued long enough before a race so that its presence cannot be detected chemically.

Fuller, a wealthy Boston auto dealer, told the commission that day before the Derby he was his horse won the Derby on his own, that he believed an error had been made somewhere. He further testified that the Churchill drug had been administered twice to Dancer's Image — on the Sunday before the Derby and again in June when the colt was shipped to his farm in New Hampshire.

Fuller said on both occasions the horse reacted violently, indicating that he was allergic to the medicine.

Earlier, George Rabe, an assistant attorney general for the Commonwealth, contended that Dancer's Image had a history of dealer, told the commission that day before the Derby he was his horse won the Derby on his own, that he believed an error had been made somewhere. He further testified that the Churchill drug had been administered twice to Dancer's Image — on the Sunday before the Derby and again in June when the colt was shipped to his farm in New Hampshire.

Prep Front

By FLETCHER SPEARS

One of the area's most celebrated prep basketball players ran into a problem that many youngsters face in their first venture away from home.

The young man is Dan Fife of Clarkston, now a sophomore at University of Michigan and a member of the Wolverine varsity basketball squad.

What was the biggest adjustment he had to make? "It was missing mom's cooking," says Dan, a 6-3 performer who'll handle a guard post for the Wolverines this season.

Fife was an all-stater during his prep career at Clarkston and won the Oakland County scoring championship with an average of more than 30 points a game in his senior year.

Turning to football, honors are beginning to come in for area athletes who are members of football teams at state colleges and universities.

TWO HONORED

A couple of Oakland County stars have been named to the 1968 defensive team of the Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Association.

Gaining a linebacker spot is Rob Zins, Royal Oak's member of the unbeaten Alma eleven, and Rick Bensinger of Albion, a Birmingham product who gained a defensive back position.

CLINIC SET

Three of Michigan's top football and basketball coaches will visit the Utica Community Schools Friday to talk shop with junior and senior high coaches.

On hand will be Rollie Dotsch and Frank Novak, head football and offensive backfield coaches, respectively, at Northern Michigan University, and Ted Kijohede, head basketball coach at Central Michigan University.

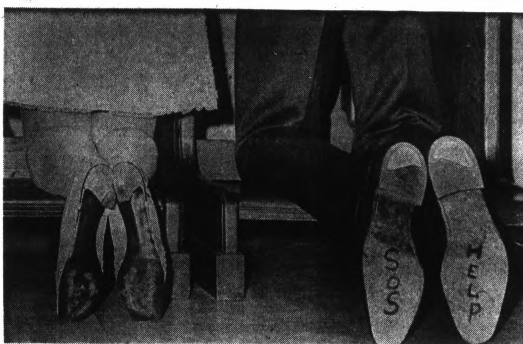

The coaches appearance in Utica is part of the school's in-service sports clinics designed to improve the know-how of the high school coaches.

With a first and two seconds in fall sports, Cranbrook's Cranes finished first in all-round trophy points this season. In the Interstate Preparatory School League.

Fullmer Okays British Referee

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP) — The manager of midweight boxer Don Fullmer says he wants a British referee for the Fullmer-Nino Benvenuti title bout in Italy Dec. 14.

Manager Angelo Curley said he sent a cablegram to the European Federation of Boxing Monday, saying a British referee would be acceptable.

TOO LATE—The sign says 'Help' but it was all in fun, just a practical joke team-mates cooked up for St. Louis Blues' goalie Ted Ouimet, 21, and his bride, Miss Daniels Heinen, 18. It came to light as the two knelt before the altar during their wedding yesterday in Kansas City. Ouimet's teammates wrote the message in ink before he put the shoes on. The bride and bridegroom are from Ontario, Canada.

Villanova Unit Again Champ; Spartans 4th

NEW YORK (AP) — Villanova's powerful cross-country team has repeated its title parade in the rain-swept ICA-A championships and the Wildcats are set to return to the same course next week in quest of a third straight NCAA crown.

Georgetown's Steve Stageberg captured the individual ICA-A title Monday with a 50-yard victory over defender Art Duiring of Holy Cross in the wind and rain at Van Cortlandt Park. But Richard Buerkle's third-place finish and a sixth-place by Tom Donnelly paced Villanova to team honors for the fourth time since 1962.

British Rider Returns to Form

TORONTO (AP) — Britain's David Broome, who injured his back last week when his horse, Mr. Softee, stumbled in a practice jump, returned to the Coliseum Monday night. He promptly showed a crowd of about 6,000 how to win the International Maple Leaf Stakes and $500 first prize at the Royal Winter Fair Horse Show.

Heavily taped around the waist and unable to sit back in the saddle for full control of Mr. Softee, Broome cleared nine obstacles in just over 36 seconds in the jump-off.

He cleared 13 obstacles, including the most difficult of the preliminary course, a spread of three jumps with only one pace between them, in 49.3 seconds, the best time of five riders qualifying for the final round.

Frank Chapot of the United States, riding San Lucas, a 12-year-old chestnut gelding, placed fourth with a time of 56.5 seconds and four faults for one knockdown. He cleared the first round in just over a minute.

The Maple Leaf Stakes was limited to four horses from each country. It was the second of three qualifying rounds for the Canadian championship to be held Friday night.

Other U.S. riders who competed were Mary Chapot on White Lightning, Neal Shapiro on Trick Track and Carol Hoffman on Salem. All were eliminated with knockdown faults in the first round.

Team standings after six international events: United States 52; Canada 35; Australia 22; Britain 20; Brazil 16.

Police Union Still Seeking Fact-Finding

The Waterford Township Police Officers Association (WTPOA) continues to seek fact-finding in its wage dispute with the township officials.

Carl Solden, head of the bargaining team, said today township officials have not yet accepted the concept of fact-finding although federal mediators have taken part in negotiations.

In fact-finding, a positive compromise proposal would be made to both sides. Neither side would be obliged to accept the proposal, but it could be a basis for future negotiations. Another alternative would be for the parties to seek binding arbitration, a step which has not been proposed.

The WTPOA is seeking to upgrade its pay level and increase its fringe benefits, which, according to Solden, are below area averages.

Solden gave the township's base pay for police as $8,184. He compared this with the recent agreement reached by the Oakland County sheriff's deputies which places their base pay at $10,000 yearly after July 1.

Township officials placed a 3 percent raise for the police in the 1969 budget, but have claimed the township's income limits pay increase possibilities.

NY Hospital Strike Forces Patient Shift

NEW YORK (AP) — Thousands of mental patients were being sent home or transferred today because of a strike by a New York City hospital workers' union.

Credent State Hospital in Queens, which normally houses 6,300 patients, was half empty, and only half of its staff of 1,500 was on duty.

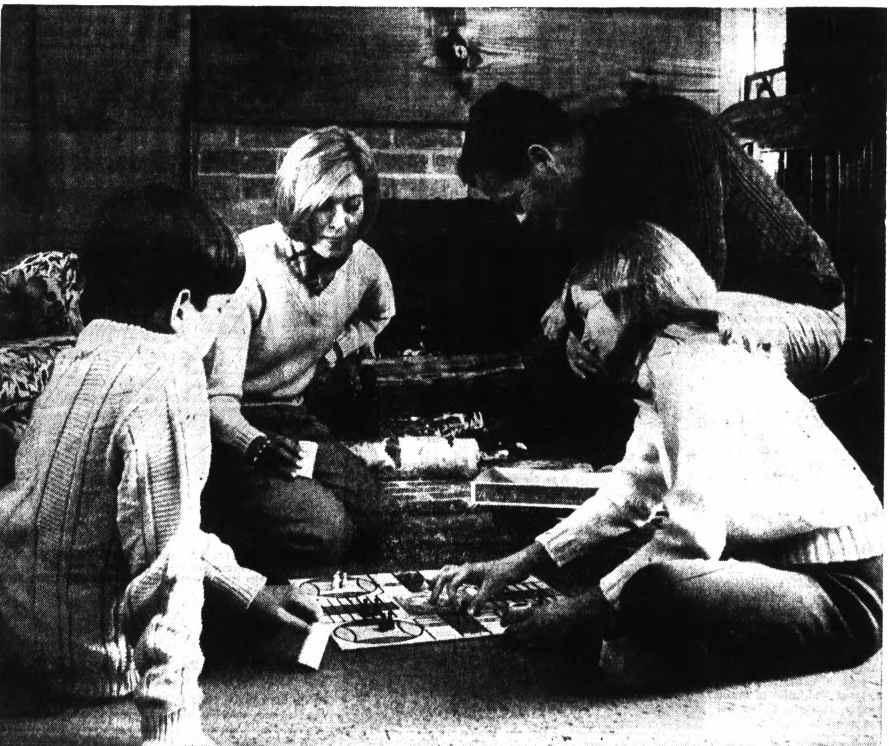

Other hospitals targeted for strikes by the end of the week, including Bronx State Hospital and Manhattan State Hospital, were being partially evacuated.

One report said the walkout might spread to Rockland State Hospital at Orangeburg.

The Creedmoor strike began Monday. Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller denounced it as a "union power play" that made sick people "the pawns."

The strike was called by Council 50 of the AFL-CIO American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees to protest Rockefeller's decision to negotiate wages and working conditions with a rival union, the Civil Service Employees Association.

The one thing no other life insurance company can offer your family is a Mass Mutual agent.

What can he offer you?

Himself. He's unusually good at his job. Four times as many Mass Mutual agents as the industry average hold the Chartered Life Underwriter designation, granted after up to five years of intensive study. Six times as many belong to the Million Dollar Round Table, recognition of superior performance. Four times as many have won the Industry's National Quality Award for continuing service to policyholders.

And his company. Mass Mutual agents are backed by an industry leader, one of the 10 largest life insurance companies. Nobody offers sounder yet more progressive coverage. Nobody consistently earns a higher yield on investments, which means lower cost to you.

We could go on. But we think you get the point. If your family is better than average — in your present living standard or in your goals and aspirations — you deserve a better-than-average insurance program. Designed by a Mass Mutual agent.

No Room for Doubt Here

He Has Key to Status Seeking

By HOWARD HELDENBRAND

Much is heard these days about status symbols. Unfortunately, your humble reporter's state of status—reading is zero minus. He doesn't have a solitary status symbol to his name; nothing like, say, his soap, a monogrammed gold toothpick may—Heldenbrand be, perhaps a sundial that chimes the hours or possibly a rare cigar-store Indian.

But a once-nebulous thought that has assumed solid proportions leads me to believe that I could be at the point of status breakthrough.

You see, when I was in London recently, I occupied for three days a room in the Strand Palace Hotel for which there was no key.

How 'bout that for status qualification?

What's that? . . . You don't dig me? You don't feel turned on? You don't get any sense of status from not having a key to a hotel room?

SOCIAL THRUST

Hhmmmm—a pity. I'm afraid you haven't done your homework on status symbolism. Just think of the millions—yes, trillions—of guests who've occupied hotel rooms WITH keys and how few have occupied hotel rooms WITHOUT keys.

Now you see the tremendous social thrust of the thing, right?

When I registered at the Strand, the clerk—uh, receptionist—smiled thinly and handed me a slip indicating that my room number was 4-XS. That's right—4-XS. Only the English would be capable of tagging a hotel room with such a number. It seems more appropriate for a submarine or a pharmaceutical formula.

Since the clerk—uh, receptionist—offered no key, I asked for one. He replied that, so sorry y'know, the hotel had no key for 4-XS.

It seemed that, in the remote past, a guest had carried it off, and the hotel, with traditional British deliberation, had not replaced it.

I matched his thin smile and said, "For goodness' sake (I think). I neglected to bring along my kit of burglar tools and, since my youthful yen to become a performing human fly came a cropper, I'm unable to scale the hotel wall and enter the room through a window. . . . How in the world (I think) do you suggest that I get into the room?"

APPRECIATIVE SNICKER

The clerk—uh, receptionist—snickered appreciatively. "Haw—rawther good. Rahly, there's no difficulty at all. Not a trace. When one gets to the propah floor, one summons the hall maid over the corridor phone, c—uh, receptionist—had, given and she will admit one with a me a KEY to a room without a passkey."

"In other words," I ventured, "the maid's the in to ingress. 'Rippin', that, rippin'" rejoined the clerk—uh, receptionist—"Dear me—you jolly Americans."

The status potential is breathtaking. Think of what a select and distinguished company might be brought together, probably by public appeal, of those who had occupied room 4-XS in the Strand Palace Hotel without a key.

KEY FIGURES

A society, one undoubtedly of international scope, would evolve—including key figures of government, industry and society. But unlike the physical key that symbolizes the prestigious Phi Beta Kappa, the 4XS fraternity would be symbolized by no key.

This, then, is the form of status that could well eclipse all others, with mythical key-dropping superseding a m o-dropping as one of its more blatant indulgences.

But since my bid for status rests on a hotel room without a key, I shudder to think how frail is its support. Suppose the maid over the corridor phone, c—uh, receptionist—had, given and she will admit one with a me a KEY to a room without a LOCK!

Junk-Car Law Up for Passage

Pontiac city commissioners are expected to give further consideration to a new junk-car ordinance at their meeting at 8 tonight in City Hall.

Commissioners gave preliminary approval to the ordinance several weeks ago but because of some objection to the stringent provisions changes have been requested by commissioners.

The revised ordinance will be presented for consideration.

Commissioners will also consider bids for construction of a new sanitary land-fill north of Collier Road and a transfer of a Class C (sale by the glass) liquor license from a defunct bar at 374 Franklin Road to a restaurant at 22 W. Montcalm.

Oil Well Gas Seepage Perilous Near Albion

ALBION (AP) — A newly drilled oil well, its gases escaping into underground water strata, is endangering homes and businesses within a three-mile radius some eight miles northwest of Albion.

Geysers caused by gas pressure within the water strata have developed a half-mile west of the well and a mile and half south. Gas also is forcing its way up well pipes and in some mucklands in the area. Some families have moved from the area into homes with relatives or into an Albion motel, fearing fire.

A fire developed Sunday in one plot of muckland a mile away. Sheriff's officers said a deer hunter apparently had dropped a lighted match or cigarette, setting what looked like "pilot lights" over an area 60 by 25 feet. These blazes were, to adjoining earth, but they estimate this will take another 36 to 48 hours.

The water strata in the area range from a depth of 25 feet to 175 feet. The gas was hit at 4,455 feet on the farm of Earl E. Mid-Perry Funk of Albion.

Water and clay being pumped into the well have reduced the pressure from 1,400 pounds per square inch 10 days was closed off for fear it would go to 400 pounds, but experts say there still is a danger of underground, and the little cross-fire at the geysers and at surrounding community of Baklund face leaks elsewhere.

Corners was evacuated.

Blocked Impaneling of Juries

State Court Corrects Error

LANSING (AP) — The State Supreme Court acted Monday to correct a legislative oversight which apparently would have made it impossible to empanel juries in Michigan's courts until next September.

The high court told trial judges across the state to ignore a law passed earlier this year and to continue selecting jurors under the methods previously used.

The new law, which the Supreme Court in effect suspended "in order that the judicial process may continue to function without interruption, and to void impending uncertainty and confusion," requires establishment of a jury commission in each of Michigan's 83 counties.

AN EXPLANATION

Kalamazoo County Circuit Judge Raymond W. Fox, one of a group of trial judges who discovered the legislative error, Monday gave this explanation of the problem:

The new law took effect last Friday and repealed existing laws which provide for selecting potential jurors.

However, machinery in the new law provides for the new jury commissions to meet each May and certify lists of persons eligible to serve on juries in the 12 months beginning the following September.

Thus, Fox said, there was no county clerk and the sheriff from names on either the tax rolls or voter registration lists.

Monday's Supreme Court order told courts to continue using that method. The only change would be that drawings would be witnessed by two township trustees instead of two justices of the peace, as the newly repealed law provides.

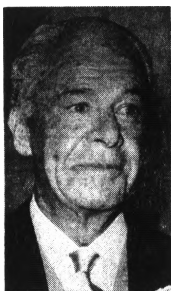

"That change is necessary since the office of justice of the peace is abolished next Jan. 1," Fox said.

The Legislature had good intentions, and I think the jury commission system is an excellent one," Judge Fox said. "But in their enthusiasm they repealed the old statutes before the new one took effect."

In most counties, jury lists currently are drawn by the county clerk and the sheriff from names on either the tax rolls or voter registration lists.

Monday's Supreme Court order told courts to continue using that method. The only change would be that drawings would be witnessed by two township trustees instead of two justices of the peace, as the newly repealed law provides.

"That change is necessary since the office of justice of the peace is abolished next Jan. 1," Fox said.

Equipment Is Shot, Cutting Off Power

JACKSON (AP) — Consumption of the arrest and conviction of the persons who destroyed the equipment.

Michigan customers lost service temporarily Saturday and Monday when guns were fired at 12 electric line insulators.

The more serious case took place 10 miles south of Tawas (City Monday, when service was lost in the communities of Sherman, Tawas and Alabaster.

The company said six insulators on four poles were destroyed Monday by the Kent County Board of Supervisors.

Robert Blandford requested the other interruption happened after police opened at Fenton, near Flint, discovered the alleged practice where six insulators on two by Raymond J. Matthews, the poles were damaged. The company dog warden and shelter pany has a standing $500 re-director.

Chevrolet's got a big surprise for the guy who'd buy a sports car if only it had more room. It's the 1969 Impala SS 427.

It's a full-sized family-sized Chevrolet. But it's also a lot more.

Like all Impalas, it comes with a 119-inch wheelbase, Astro Ventilation and full door-glass styling. Like all Chevy Sportsters, it comes with a beefedup suspension and grabby red-stripe wide oval tires.

Under the hood, it's more of the same. We tucked in a 427-cubic-inch 390-horsepower Turbo-Jet V8.

Backing that up, there's a heavy-duty clutch, stabilizer bar and a special 3-speed transmission.

What does all that mean? It means the SS 427 is the kind of car you can take for a workout even if you're just going to work.

There's excitement in these other packages too: Corvette Stingray, Chevelle SS 396, Camaro SS, Camaro Z/28 and Nova SS.

You'll find them all where the big noise is coming from. The Sports Shop at your Chevrolet dealer's.

East produces the queen. He finesesses and if either went left the queen holds. Sometimes an opponent is nice enough to try a second suit. As a matter of fact, East does lead his king of spades but this doesn't help South one bit because East's next play is a heart.

South is in with the ace of hearts and if he goes after the diamonds right away, South will wind up with only eight tricks since the best he can do will be to make six diamonds and two aces.

South must take the club finesse before attacking diamonds. He leads the queen of clubs. If West covers, South comes back to his hand with the jack; if West ducks, South is still in his hand. Now he can try the diamond finesse and, since that works also, he will have his nine tricks.

THE BETTER HALF

BERRY'S WORLD—By Jim Berry

Q—The bidding has been:

West North East South
1♠ Pass 1♠ Pass 3♣
Pass 2♦ Pass 4♦ Pass
You, South, hold:

♠ 10854 ♥ 10 ♦ 53 ♣ 7654

What do you do now?

A—Pass. Your partner has three spades over you hold the same ace and queen you started with.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Instead of jumping to four spades your partner bids three spades over your three clubs.

What do you do now?

Today is Monday, Nov. 25, the 330th day of 1968 with 36 to follow.

The moon is between its new phase and first quarter.

The morning stars are Mars and Jupiter.

The evening stars are Saturn and Venus.

On this day in history:

In 1783 more than 6,000 British troops evacuated New York City following the peace treaty ending the Revolutionary War.

In 1944 the American War Refugee Board charged Germany with mass murder during World War II.

In 1960 John Fitzgerald Kennedy Jr. was born.

United Front Greet's New Open-Housing Law

LANSING (AP) — State officials, realtors and home builders showed a united front against housing discrimination Monday as they lauded the new statewide open-housing law.

The law, which took effect Friday, outlaws discrimination in the sale or rental of housing.

Gov. George Romney, Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley, state party officials and representatives of labor and the real estate and home-building industries attended a celebration luncheon.

"One of the purposes of this meeting is to show anyone who still harbors any hopes of discriminating that they no longer have any place to go," said Gordon Hanna, information director for the State Department of Civil Rights.

ALL ARE UNITED
"We're all united on this score," he added.

As Romney and Kelley hailed the new law as a major move toward social justice, another state official challenged the real estate industry to "lead the way" against discrimination.

"We are telling these people that obedience (to the law) is not enough," said Lenton G. Sculthorpe, director of state licensing and regulation.

"Now is the time for the real estate and building industries to lead the way in breaking up unfairness and discrimination."

LOOKING FOR LEADERSHIP
"The public feels that it is the realtors and builders who make public policy in this area and the public is now looking to them for leadership," he said.

"Realtors of Michigan will continue to be lawabiding citizens," replied Ty Carter, a Kalamazoo city commissioner and vice president of the 8,500-member Michigan Real Estate Association.

They will "accord no deference or discrimination on the basis of race, color, religion or national origin," he said. They will adhere to their own code of ethics and maintain "complete neutrality in all transactions," he said.

Albert Wheeler, president of the Michigan NAACP branches, spoke as "a somewhat disillusioned... black person" only black people who can really avail themselves of the protection of the new law are those with an education and money."

ON THE OTHER FOOT
Wheeler said he favored the fair-housing law "because it would put the shoe on the other foot—meaning the black man can now seek his rights under the law."

Wheeler said he had opposed the law because such rights already are covered by the 1966 and occupancy of one of two civil rights laws, because there are exemptions in the open-housing law and "because the law because such rights already are covered by the 1966 and occupancy of one of two civil rights laws, because there

He urged elimination of exemptions in the law—which included rooms in private homes, two-unit apartment buildings already are covered by the 1966 and occupancy of one of two civil rights laws, because there

ROYAL CONVERSATION — England's Princess Anne spoke with the Supremes after the Royal Variety performance at the London

Palladium last night. Proceeds from the performance go to aid the Variety Artists Benevolent fund in England.

Supremes Urge Tolerance at Royal Show in London

LONDON (AP) — American pop star Diana Ross injected a plea for tolerance into the annual royal performance at the Palladium Monday night and got a big hand from the royal family. Several critics were less enthusiastic.

Diana, the Detroit girl who leads the Supremes, paused in an emotional performance of "There's a Place for Us" from "West Side Story" and spoke to the audience:

"A place for all of us—black and white, Jew and gentile, Catholic and Protestant. 'Such was the world of Martin Luther King and his ideal. 'If we keep this in mind, then we can carry on his work.'"

It's a 'Carnibazaarnival' for All Ages at Lahser High

By GRETCHEN HAAS
"Carnibazaarnival" of games, movies, ski information and goodies for people of all ages will be held Saturday from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. at Bloomfield Hills Lahser High School. The event is open to the public.

"The Frost, The 3rd Power, The Ludgate Circus and lights by Trans-love" will highlight the dance following the carnival from 8 p.m. to midnight.

A ski show and winter fair will run from 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. during the carnival. Featured in the ski show will be booths displaying ski fashions and equipment and advertising packaged ski excursions and local and northern resorts.

Those who attend the carnival will be given an opportunity to trade or sell ski equipment in the "Swap Shop."

MOVIES IN AUDITORIUM

Ski movies and instructional films will be shown in the Lahser auditorium. Ski club applications and information will be available.

Edwin Wichert, coordinator for the ski show and recreation director in the Bloomfield Hills School District, said, "we hope that the show will bring as much ski information as possible to the people in the district."

Movies and cartoon features will be presented in the auditorium during the day. Students in the Dixland Band will entertain between movie showings.

Over 20 booths are planned for people to try their luck in games such as the cake walk, pie-throwing, the fish pond, and baseball, football and basketball tosses.

ITEMS TO BE SOLD

Aprons, stuffed animals, paperweights, and other items made by Lahser students will be for sale in the "Knick Knack Booth."

Drawings sponsored by the senior class are being held each day this week.

Lahser's senior class is sponsoring Saturday's events.

Senior students responsible for carnival planning are Dale Zippler, Lynn Courtney, and Lynn Terry, senior class officers; Larry Andreasson and Beth Merrill, booth chairmen; Sean Elwood and Gildana Hegyan, advertising chairmen; Kathy Deeter, drawings; Chris Buzan, prizes; and Carol Carey, decorations.

Others are Linda Josilio and Tim Martin, refreshment chairmen; Mike Oviatt, cleanup committee; Dee Cook, appropriations; and Kathy Martlock, dance committee.

William Hyry, senior class sponsor, is the faculty adviser for the event.

Rochester High Debating Team Is Ready to Go

By MOLLY PETERSON

The debating team of Rochester High School, which has been quite successful in past years, is again striving for the coveted title of district champions.

Mrs. S. Montgomery is the sponsor of the team.

The team has held two practice debates against Waterford Kettering and Lake Orion high schools.

The official debating season begins in the early part of December. Tentatively, the first opponent will be Roseville Senior High School.

PROPOSITION FOR YEAR

Each year, a proposition is chosen for the entire season. Chosen for this year is "Resolved, that the United States should establish a system of compulsory service for all citizens."

Members of the team are Lawrie Whitaker, Betty Weymouth, affirmative; and Marty Sibert and Kurt Waltz, negative.

Wednesday, RHS will host A. A. Blatch, a teacher at Oakland Community College. He will discuss social problems, and general issues of American life. Many members of the regular faculty have been given the opportunity for a short rest this semester with the coming of the student teachers to RHS.

ON-THE-JOB TRAINING

Students of education at Oakland University, they are beginning their on-the-spot training.

At present there are eight student teachers at Rochester. They are Phillip Brown, who assists Marvin Miller; Robert Bruer, Mrs. M. Meyer; Roger Francis, D. Healy; Linda Harrell, Carl Pasberg; Carolyn Masters, Mrs. Robert Stevenson; Mrs. Julian Textley, Robert Rogers; Cheryl Zebede, Alan Barkeley; and Kim Weler, E. Macklem.

KIMONO YES? — Rick Newman and Mary Sies rehearse the Waterford Kettering Slagmasters' presentation of "Teahouse of the August Moon." The production will be shown Thursday and Friday at 8 p.m. Directing are Patty Looman and Duke Chaffee of the speech department. Sue Henderson is director assistant.

Kettering Presents 'Teahouse'

By DONNA FURLONG

A touch of Japan comes to Waterford Kettering High as the Slagmasters present "Teahouse of the August Moon."

"Teahouse," scheduled for Thursday and Friday at 8 p.m., is the story of mishaps that occur when the U.S. Army occupies Okinawa.

Capt. Fisby, played by Rick Newman, is given Geisha girl Lotus Blossom (Mary Sies). While trying to be helpful Fisby's friend Sakini (Gary Brady) gets him into more trouble.

Supporting leads are Terry Allen, Karen Belcher, Roger Burris, Mary Florio, Bert Furman, Vicki Hendry, Dave Hinson and Sue Hollis.

OTHER CAST MEMBERS

Paula Marsh, Rick Mastick, Judy McCaffery, Cathy Peery, Linda Postle, Gary Reinhart, Don Schlunt, Jim Shifflett and Steve Van Roekel are also cast members.

Concluding the list are Nannette Wade, Jeff Waldo, Kim White, Sandy Whitehead, Conni Willfang, Vernon Yates and Bruce Zollner.

Working on behind-the-scenes committees are Gail Sheriff, Mary Sies, Karen Belcher, George Smith, Debbie Beardsley and Gayle Miller publicity; Kathie Arkles, Jan Scarbrough, Barb Roosa, Maureen Crowley, Connie Mays and Connie Appelton, costumes; and Gail Sheriff, props.

Others are Jan Scarbrough, Kathleen Peery, Jill McClune, Vikio Gobler, Sue Hollis and Terry Allen, makeup; Roger Burris, Mike Aiken, Vernon Yates and Gary Reinhart, props; Debbie Beardsley ushers; Deb Daubner, tickets; and Rick Dale, lighting.

DIRECTORS, ASSISTANT

Speech teachers Patty Looman and Duke Chaffee are the directors. Student teacher Sue Henderson is assistant to the directors.

Kettering debaters are readying themselves for debate season.

Returning to the Varsity this year are Nancy Darke, Mike Forsland, Geri Klock, Sari Surre, Steve Van Roekel, Alice Voss and Mike Wiley. Others may qualify at a later date.

Sophomores Steve Clauser and Nancy Miller were honored today by Waterford's Optimists Club.

They were chosen on scholarship,

By PURVIS HUNT JR.

Girls, grab your beau and take him to Pontiac Central's Sadie Hawkins Dance this Friday from 8 p.m. until midnight, in the PCH cafeteria.

Following tradition, girls are required to pay for tickets ($1.50 per couple). "Marrying Sam" will be present at the dance to tie the bonds of matrimony — and girls must pay for the licenses too.

In contrast to the dance, where couples dressed in "Sunday Best" will be permitted, Friday's school day attire will be Sadie Hawkins' style.

Entertainment for the dance will be provided by the "Soul Searchers," a Waterford group.

FUTURE ACTIVITIES

This dance, which is the second of the school year, is sponsored by the Student Council, headed by President Mike Lee. Proceeds will be put into the Council treasury to be used for PCH future activities.

On Thanksgiving Day, many American families will be sitting down to a plentiful dinner. However, for many, November 28 will be just another day of hunger and cold.

Students can help remedy this. Pontiac Central High's Student Council is urging every student to donate either canned goods, or money to the annual "Thanksgiving Basket Drive."

The contributions will be collected

Central Girls to Foot Bills at Sadie Hawkins Dance

during bonerom Nov. 27. Total support on behalf of the student body, faculty and community, is needed to make this drive a success.

MARCHING BAND

Pontiac Central's Marching Band completed its activities during the 1968 football season last Friday.

However, on Thanksgiving Day the marching band will represent the city of Pontiac and PCH in the J. L. Hudson Co.'s parade, which will be televised live.

The 91-piece symphony band will present "Band-O-Rama," Monday, at 7:30 p.m. in the boys' gym. The annual free concert will feature Song Plate students and various junior high school bands.

Lee Rebenack was selected by the administration to represent PCH during Youth Appreciation Week.

ALL-ROUND STUDENT

In addition to his excellent academic standing, Lee has been in the choir for three years and active on and behind the stage in dramatics and other musical productions.

A letter of commendation, submitted by James Bowie stated: "Lee's most important contribution to Central has been the three years he has put in as an audio-visual assistant. His sufficient technical skills, have been put to good use, since he repairs all of the PCH visual equipment."

Last Thursday, Pontiac Central's championship debate team, continued its winning ways by taking first place in the third Saginaw Valley conference tournament held in Flint. The local orators won eight out of 12 debates for 11 points. Flint Northern finished in second place with 10 points.

With one conference tournament left, the Central debaters lead in the conference standing by five points over second place Flint Southwestern, and by 15 points over third place Saginaw.

TOP SPEAKERS

The winning local speakers were Marianne Newman, Carol Semper, Mike Lee, Chris Brewer, Gary Durfee, Bruce Crossman, Gary Parlove, Marshall Barefoot, Maureen Condr, Detria Goff, Margo Graves, Elizabeth Brown and Gary Wiley.

Pontiac Central debaters won the conference championship last year and are trying to retain their crown. The last tournament will be Dec. 15.

Central students Jackie Washington, and Peter Marinos, have been accepted to the Youth for Understanding Chorus for the second consecutive year.

Under the direction of Robert Pratt, the chorus group, which is sponsored by the Michigan Council of Churches, will travel to Denmark, Finland, Germany, Norway, Russia and Sweden next summer.

BUSINESS SCHOLARSHIP

The Michigan Business Schools Association announces a $600 scholarship, for students planning to attend a Michigan business school, that belongs to the association.

The 15 business schools belonging to the association provide for these scholarships. Four PCH students won these scholarships last year.

Students having questions, pertaining to this or any other scholarships, contact A. A. Adams, or any other counselor.

To compensate for this year's athletic department budget cut, Pontiac Central wrestlers are selling canned and plan apples everyday after school.

Their goal is to earn enough money to pay for the meals and towel fees after each meet. The wrestlers will donate extra money to the PCH athletic scholarship fund.

Cleanup Drive Is On at Brandon

By MARJORIE WIDEMAN

"Keep Brandon Beautiful" is the slogan that will echo through the Brandon High halls for the rest of the year. The Student Council started the campaign Nov. 11 as the senior class was picked to start the ball rolling with soap and water and elbow grease.

Every night after school, seniors stayed to clean halls and rooms. This week, the seniors took over. This will continue until all classes have a turn. Then it will start over with the seniors again.

Lapeer Ready for 'Psyche-Out'

By SUE DE ARMOND
"Psychedelic Psyche-Out" is the name of the dance sponsored by the Lapeer Senior High School Science Club Friday night.

Band X from Ludington will provide its specialty, psychedelic rock.

The theme of the dance is psychedelic, and the cafeteria, where it is to be held, will be decorated accordingly.

The dance will start at 8:30. It is open to Lapeer High students only.

INDUCTION CEREMONIES

Induction ceremonies for the National Honor Society are Thursday.

The faculty and parents of members are invited to attend the ceremonies, which will be held in the cafeteria at 8 p.m.

Tomorrow, the greatest mathematical brains of Lapeer High School will be competing in the Michigan Mathematics Prize Competition Test, which is to be taken in the school's multi-purpose room. Students who score highly on this test will be eligible for scholarships.

The Art Incorporated of Lapeer High visited the De Waters Art Center, Flint.

Festival Slated at Sacred Heart

By TERESA FIASCHETTI

This year's Fall Festival at the Academy of the Sacred Heart is scheduled for the last three days of the trimester, Nov. 25 through 27.

Entertainment as well as educational events have been planned for the high school by Marty Taylor, Student Council coordinator.

Field trips to the Toledo Museum, the Detroit House of Correction, local courts, and the Cranbrook Institute are proposed excursions for Nov. 25.

That night the Dramatics Club is presenting "Spoon River Anthology," by Edgar Lee Masters.

CAST MEMBERS

The cast consists of Chris Gerstenberg, Sandy Hall, Mary Chris Ott, Cathy Nofz, Sue Seitz, Pam Davis, Maryanne McKenzie, Sue Judge, Marty Shannon and Duffy Flynn. Tuesday will be occupied with a viewing of the film, "Richard III," including a critical discussion led by the film class.

The Festival will end Wednesday with a presentation of trimester awards and a Mass of unity offered by Father David Neagle of St. Basil's Center, Pontiac.

NFH Cast to Do 'Dark of the Moon'

By KATHI CAMPBELL

Howard Richardson and William Berney's "Dark of the Moon" will be presented at North Farmington High Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Performances are scheduled to begin at 8 p.m. Tickets are $1.50 and may be purchased at the school.

Michael Rasmussen, English instructor, and June Sulewski, speech teacher, will direct 22 NFH students selected to participate in this all-school play.

The students were chosen as they are acting ability; voice tone, quality, volume; and whether or not they were able to project themselves to an audience while performing on stage.

THEATER IN THE ROUND

A new concept at NFH, adopted by Richardson and Berney, will be introduced in this production. This play will be produced "in the round" with the stage set in the center of the gymnasium floor and the audience surrounding it. "Dark of the Moon" will be accented by guitars, singing and free ballet.

Based on the haunting ballad of "Barbara Allen," and employing a large cast in imaginative Smoky Mountain settings, the play recounts the story of an elfin witch boy who one day beheld the beautiful Barbara Allen and immediately fell in love with her.

A compact is made in which he will be able to woo and marry her, on the condition that she remains true to him.

CHILD BURNED

When Barbara gives birth to a witch baby, the midwives burn the child. In the frenzy of a religious fervor, Barbara is led to betray her husband to break the spell.

She dies and he returns to the world of mountain witches.

Members of the cast will include Linda Pulgini, Dark Witch; Debbie Newton, Fair Witch; Linda Acitelli, Barbara Allen; Cathy Miller, Mrs. Allen; Ann Davis, Conjure Woman; and Diane Petosky, Miss Melcail.

Others are Cindy Scaglione, Edna; Jill Barlo, Mrs. Summey; Cathy Kennedy, Mrs. Bergen; Betsy Schlesinger, Greeny; and Jill Daumler, Hattie.

PLAY PRAISED

Still others are Tim Harrower, John; Carl Segall, Conjure Man; Marc Frank, Floyd Allen; Jeff Fishman, Marvin Budgens; and George Doppe, Hank Gudge.

Completing the cast are Mike Kaplan, Preacher Haggler; Dave Shapiro, Mr. Summey; Mark Haron, Atkins; Joe Teeples, Mr. Bergen; Jerry Brown, Uncle Smelucue; and Mark Ziska, Mr. Allen.

"Well you've got a darn good play here," were the welcome words of Dr. Richard Burgwin, director of drama, at the University of Michigan, after observing "Dark of the Moon."

"We were all expecting some kind of monster that would tear us to shreds," said Jill Barlo, senior, who portrays Mrs. Summey in the play.

But when Burgwin arrived, with his warm smile and vast knowledge of the theater, everyone took an instant liking to him.

After he viewed the play, he made several comments and gave invaluable tips on improvement. He also gave the students a background of the play and a brief description of how each character should act.

BETRAYERAL — Barbara Allen (Linda Acitelli) is led to betray her husband by Marvin Budgens (Jeff Fishman) in the North Farmington High School production of "Dark of the Moon" which will be presented Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Directing the production are Michael Rasmussen, English instructor, and June Sulewski, speech instructor. Tickets are $1.50 and may be purchased at the school office.

SCHOOL NEWS ROUNDUP

Milford

By ROSE MAKI

Girls, don't pass up this opportunity. Milford High School's annual Sadie Hawkins dance is rapidly approaching. Featuring sippin' cider, square dancing and dancing to popular music, the event will be held on Friday from 7:30 to 10:30 p.m.

The junior class has set up the cafeteria. Students don't need a date to have a toasting time. Dedicating the scene will be idea's offered by Martha Simon, junior class president.

Mock marriage ceremonies will climax the night followed by special dances for the honeymooners.

Kingswood

By MARY STEWART

Social problems and involvement in the "outside world" caught the attention of Kingswood students who recently attended a conference at Franklin Settlement in Lake Orion. Hosted by the Birmingham Junior League, the weekend conference included representatives from area schools and speakers of varied professions and viewpoints.

Kingswood's participants were Sue Owens, Marti Pierce, Becky Gish, Liz Hilder and Chris Mulholland. "The conference was such a success," claimed Marti. "It related to us the importance of becoming involved in the world and its problems."

Twenty-five Kingswood students attended the Lake Erie Religious Conference in Cleveland, Ohio, this weekend.

Stevenson

By GAIL NELSON

Tonight is Stevenson High School's first basketball game. This game is off-the-record, though, because there will only be four players on each team and the players will ride donkeys.

The first game, starting at 7:30, will be a male-female faculty competition. The second game will be the juniors vs. the seniors.

The winner of each of the first two games will compete to determine the champions. Players can be disqualified for pulling the donkeys' ears or tail, or for kicking the animals. Each player must clean up after his donkey; special containers will be available at all times.

CHEM CLUB

Cost of the game is 75 cents for children under 14, $1 for students, and $1.25 for adults.

The Advanced Chemistry Club will sponsor a dance afterward from 9 to 10:30 p.m. Featured at the dance will be "The Bahng."

Mercy

By MARY ANNE MADDEN

The Drama Department and French Club of Our Lady of Mercy High School are combining to sponsor "The Ridiculous Young Ladies" and "Zoo Story."

The two plays, to be performed by the Players Company of the University of Detroit, will be presented Friday, at 1:30 p.m. in Mercy's auditorium.

"The Ridiculous Young Ladies" by Moliere is a satire on the excessive refinement and affectation of the French court of the 17th century. "Zoo Story" is a compelling drama by Edward Albee. The setting is Central Park during the 20th century.

DIRECTS BOTH PLAYS

Dominic Missili, former drama teacher at Mercy, will direct both plays. Tickets may be purchased in the cafeteria during lunch hours.

The Merciers, a group of 18 girls selected from the senior choral because of outstanding musical ability, will take part in a special Mass Friday.

Under the direction of Lawrence Teevens, Mercy choral instructor, the Merciers will join an orchestra from Chadey High School and a singing group from Murray High School.

Country Day

By JANET IVORY

Friday morning opened with a special class ring ceremony in Bloomfield Country Day's chapel. After a brief talk, Headmistress Marjorie Sallie, gave Lisa Solomon, senior class president, her class ring. Lisa distributed the remaining rings to her classmates.

The gold and black bear the school crest, the school name and motto: "The truth shall make you free."

At BCD, one doesn't receive a ring until the senior year. "This gives the ring special value and meaning. We appreciate them much more," explained student Janice Rotenberg.

Brother Rice

By MICHAEL MCGILL

Headed by Editor Dave Lawson, the Brother Rice Chieftain staff is offering a six-page paper including a pictorial page.

Three issues have been published and a fourth is in the paste-up stages. Dave hopes to get an edition out each month.

BEVY OF REPORTERS

Reporters are Denny Monicotti, Chip Chilton, Mike McGill, Joe Longo, Mike Cronin, Mike Biallas, John Mitchell and John Tracey.

The two boys from the photography department are Jim and Joe Monaghan. The business staff is headed by Cris Dean and Geoff Bell.

Adelphian

By PAT EDWARDS

"Ports of Call" was the title given to girl's reception, which was held last week at Adelphian Academy. An annual function, the reception is alternately planned by the girls' club (Kappa Delta) and the boys' club (Alpha Delta Nu).

This year it was the Kappa Delta's turn, meaning that the girls invited the boys as soon as the date of the reception was announced.

A huge, gift-wrapped jack-in-the-box set on the chapel stage was presented as a birthday present from the girls to Carl Ashlock, dean of men and director of the choir.

which will be enacted Friday and Saturday. Janet Soderberg of the English department is the director. The play will be staged in the Romeo Junior High School gymnasium.

Romeo Junior-Senior Play Set

By BERNADETTE GRABOWSKI

The Romeo Senior High School will present its annual junior-senior play Friday and Saturday.

The production, "Spoon River

Anthology," to be staged in the Romeo Junior High gymnasium, is under the direction of Janet Soderberg, English department.

There are about 60 characters in the play, but only 10 are needed for the actual speaking cast. Each actor or actress portrays about five or six characters.

Along with these 10, there will be five musicians who will play guitars and sing.

PLAYERS LISTED

The players are: seniors Debra Carter, Margaret Schultz, Robert Berridge, Norman Fay, and Leigh Gerhardt, and juniors Nancy Clark, Ann Jackman, Richard Fay, Lynn Grant, and Michael Hansen.

The musicians are senior guitarist Joan Stein and junior guitarist Susan O'Neil. Singers are senior Margaret Kelly and juniors Joy Horne and David Lothery.

"Spoon River Anthology" is the story of a small town, as told by its deceased members. Each person of the town of Spoon River relates the stories and scandals of his life while on earth.

The play points out that life is not all peaches and cream by simply obeying "Mother's laws," but instead is hardship and struggle.

Clarkston Quill-Scroll Elects

By TRUDY BEALL

The Clarkston High School chapter of Quill and Scroll, national honor society for journalism, has elected Gail Cowling as president. Other officers are Maud Elliot, vice president, and Claudia Gordon, secretary.

Other members of this organization include Steve Ashley, Mark Cowen, Eli Fellows, Mike Kaul, Dave LaPere, Connie Rush, Jolene Schultz and Marty Woodward.

Plans for the future include the publishing of a literary magazine composed of student writings.

Linda Munro is the sponsor of Quill and Scroll.

VOLLEYBALL STARTS

The Girls Athletic Association embarked on its volleyball season.

Tournaments will be held between GAA members.

Chosen as captains of the eight teams were: Sue Carlsen, Beth Cowen, Sue Griffiths, Mary Jean Head, Lynn Norberg, Pat Saile, Brenda Simpson and Debbie Wycoff.

Jody Hauck is chairman of this competition, with the aid of the GAA sponsor, Sonja Letcher.

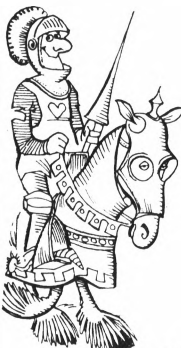

The Clarkston High School debate team split the first round of League Debate with Brandon-Ortonville through the winning efforts of Ann Latoza and Gary MacMillan, both seniors.

Ann and Gary, speaking for the affirmative, came out on top, as Dan Franklin and Ray Geck lost to West Bloomfield by a slim margin.

Allen Bartlett, speech teacher, is the debate team adviser.

our man helped The Citizens Man

Citizens Mutual Insurance Company was writing and receiving a lot of letters to keep in touch with its agents all over Michigan. They were looking for a better way... so they called in a Michigan Bell Communications Consultant.

Our man suggested Wide Area Telephone Service (WATS) to give the home office in Howell, Michigan, a special flat rate on calls anywhere in Michigan, and INWATS, which lets the agents call in on the same basis.

The result... the telephone setup cut out 1,000 to 1,500 letters a month. One call could often do the work of from four to six letters. What's more, the agents, able to get quick consultation with the home office, are writing more policies. And in Howell, people were reassigned from letter writing and filing to more productive jobs.

Our man worked closely with the Citizens Man. You can get this same professional help, too. That's our policy.

2 Strikes Are Posing a Threat in Area

By ED BLUNDEN

Two strikes with potential harm to the Pontiac area's economy were still in effect today. A third strike involving a small plant in Waterford Township also continued.

One of the three strikes originated in Oakland County.

Of most area significance is the work stoppage on construction of the $28.5-million Clinton-Oakland Interceptor Sewer. This is caused by a state-wide strike of the United Operating Engineers, Local 324. The Associated General Contractors of Michigan said the strike began Oct. 1 and will picket any store or business according to a County Department of Public Works official, fix a machine.

The project is now delayed by about a month and it may prove unfeasible to catch up.

CONNECTING LINES

Tied up with the sewer are connecting lines that will influence the development of a huge area around Pontiac, particularly populous Waterford Township. The new sewer line is also a key to halting water pollution in much of the area.

A union spokesman said today that agreement had been very close last Friday, but "fell apart" at the last moment. "We have broken off negotiations at this point," he said. Another meeting with federal mediators has been set for Thursday, he said.

2nd Man Tied to Slaying of Ex-City Man

(By The Associated Press)

DETROIT (UPI)—Federal Bureau of Investigation agents today arrested a second Detroit man yesterday in connection with a Milwaukee slaying last month.

John T. Sandoval, 31, was charged with unlawful flight from Wisconsin and with being a party to first-degree murder.

Last Thursday William L. Carey, 30, was arrested on a charge of murdering William J. McCauley Jr., formerly of Pontiac.

McCauley, an escaped Michigan convict who had been living in Milwaukee with his family under the alias of Arthur Bryan, was found dead in a Milwaukee hotel Oct. 24.

Later FBI agents arrested Carey on bank robbery charges stemming from the holdup of a Michigan bank Oct. 3.

McCauley was identified as the second man in the robbery.

Later authorities identified Carey as the man who rented the hotel room where McCauley's body was found.

Milwaukee authorities were expected to come here to arrange a Sandoval's extradition. Carey is being held here under $20,000 bond on the bank robbery charge.

'21' Packed by Secret Service When Nixon Was There

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — They were on the rooftops and in the wine cellar, they were in the men's room and ladies' room or at least at the door to it, they were in the phone booths . . .

The Secret Service and New York police are to be commended for the thoroughness of their protection of President-elect Nixon.

When he chose to have supper at 21, they came the day before to check everything, as they also did at the Palace where he went to see "George M." You couldn't count them. You couldn't even spot them all.

Maybe 40 or 50 including the men in the patrol cars, the police inspectors . . . Secret Service chaps seeming to be lounging in the lobby . . . one sitting at a nearby table in 21 as the Nixons had supper . . . four or five at the entrance to the dining room, looking everybody over.

The Nixon press relations were perfect. He stood and remained standing when I went over merely to congratulate him.

"Are you going to continue your walking around town?" (He's been a celebrated pedestrian.)

"I guess I'll have to give it up with these fellows around." He had chosen "George M." because his daughters wanted to see a musical "and I wanted something with a patriotic zing to it." He added: "I almost split when Joel Grey said 'I'd Rather Be Right Than President' — I'd forgotten all about that."

As to be expected, there was a dissenter against all the protection. There was the driver of a very small car who hollered at the police that their patrol cars and the limousines were blocking his constitutional right to proceed down the street. The cops smiled . . . patiently.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Joey Adams brought pretty Mme. Dewi Sukarno to the Latin 4 opening of Siller & Meara, a funny and inventive husband-and-wife comedy duo . . .

Julia (formerly of Darvas & Julia), who just won a court fight for a hefty cut of past earnings, also has a suit against an insurance company for $500,000 following an auto crash . . . When the King of Sweden wanted to see "Zorba the Greek" last week, tickets had to be obtained from producer Hal Prince. "Not unusual," someone said, "— a Prince doing something for a King."

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Davy Burns says he has no poor relatives that he knows of — and no rich relatives that know of him.

REMEMBERED QUOTE: "When a man is wrong and won't admit it, he always gets angry."

EARL'S PEARLS: One airline, plugging the safety of flight, wanted to use a slogan: "If it wasn't safe, would we offer a fly-now-pay-later plan?"

Comic London Lee told his audience he wanted to buy a $5,000 house, and the agent said, "I have just one — let's ride out and see if it's still standing." That's earl, brother.

Heat Is on Czechs to Heed Soviet Line

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent
With Moscow constantly applying the goad, Czechoslovakia's Communist command appears edging more and more toward the time when it must tell its people the promises of reforms and freedoms are now only fiction.

Moscow wants "normalization." It means that Czechoslovakia has no choice but to create the impression that it accepts Soviet commands and is obedient to them. This can bring anything from a complete shakeup of the present leadership to a determined crackdown on Czechoslovaks who still manifest angry resentment at the Soviet intervention.

MORE AUTHORITATIVE

An indication that the breath of Moscow's wrath, the restrictive policies of the necks has become uncomfortable to them. This can bring anything from a complete shakeup of the present leadership to a determined crackdown on Czechoslovaks who still manifest angry resentment at the Soviet intervention.

Husak on Nov. 13 made a speech—unpublished in the West—to the "people's militia" in Bratislava. The armed militia is an outgrowth of the action committees of 1968 which played a big role in seizing Czechoslovakia for the Communists. It has long been regarded as an arm of the conservative, Stalinist wing of the party.

"I want to state frankly," Husak said, "... that whenever in these days any demonstrations take place in our streets, we shall regard them as diversionist demonstrations aimed against this state and against our party, and all the state and other organs will proceed accordingly."

Husak, a rising power and a possible successor to Alexander Dubcek as first secretary, or boss, of the Czechoslovak party—aimed his remarks specifically at young people who still stage angry demonstrations against the intervention. The young people, by the tens of thousands, want retention of the policies inaugurated in January by Dubcek, looking toward reforms and freedoms. Husak claimed "a section of youth is being misled."

'APPLIES TO EVERYBODY'
"The young people must realize that the law in this state applies to everybody and that if somebody violates it he must expect the proper reaction," he said. "We will not permit the disintegration of our state and we will repel these attacks. If despite this, somebody wants to take the risk—well, let him go on. We will see who is the stronger one in this state and who will have the decisive word in the end."

These are strong words, but stronger ones were to come. Husak referred to what has been going on as creating "an atmosphere for an inner political struggle, that is, a struggle for political power." He added:

Explosion at Firm

DETROIT (AP) — An explosion Sunday at the Hollywood Television Sales and Service firm damaged the roof and blew a four-foot hole in the ceiling. Police said windows were blown out at an adjacent apartment, used from time to time by a motorcycle club.

News Analysis

"It is necessary to tell those forces who are unleashing this inside struggle in our country that they must come to their senses while there is still time, since this struggle can end only in the unconditional defeat of all anti-Socialist and reactionary forces in our society."

UMINOUS RING

This had an ominous ring for the reformers who are the targets of Moscow's wrath. The movement which began in January and which gathered steam after the ouster of party chief Antonin Novotny, had been aimed at eliminating "pre-January deformations," meaning the restrictive policies of the Stalinist Novotny. Now Husak, first secretary of the party, said there are also "post-January deformations." These appear in Slovakia, whose voice curbed, he said, after the door in Prague is becoming more and more authoritative. His statement suggests that "not gesturing a struggle for power."

Twice in the speech, Husak referred to Dubcek simply as "Dubcek." While he suggested no direct criticism, the omission of the word "comrade" was unusual.

Husak intimated that the "people's militia" might be turned against the resisters. Speaking of the militia, he had this to say:

"In all decisive moments since February"—he referred to February 1948—"it has played its role. We reckon with you now, also. Nobody intends to then turn the militia into policemen or something like that, but they must be conscientious representatives of the workers' class and the working people, who know what their duty is, who will support in these times the leadership of the party with Dubcek at its head."

Dems, Kosygin Confer

MOSCOW (AP) — Sens. Albert Gore, D-Tenn. and Claiborne Pell, D-R.I., met with Premier Alexei N. Kosygin today for talks on "questions of mutual interest."

The Pontiac Area United Fund has obtained $1,023,200 or 90.5 per cent of its $1,130,000 goal. The campaign ends Nov. 26 with a final luncheon.

Alger V. Conner, campaign chairman yesterday told volunteers at the weekly report luncheon at the Elks Club that "Every day of every week citizens of our community from all walks of life turn to our agency for assistance or guidance. Their needs are real and they deserve to be served. Each of us has a moral obligation to make sure these programs so important to our community are continued and allowed to expand as needed."

Conner also reminded volunteers and citizens "that in raising our $1,130,000 goal we are meeting only the minimum needs of our 55 agencies."

The GM division, led by Earl Maxwell, still heads the campaign with $728,345 or 64.4 per cent of its $745,800 goal collected.

DIVISIONS REPORT

The community division, under Mrs. Jack Ross, reported 61 per cent or $18,150.42 of $30,476 collected. Manufacturing, led by Ted Pearson Jr., reported collecting $33,325 or 33.1 per cent of its $100,780 goal.

Advance gifts, led by Charles Woodhead, reported reaching 93 per cent or $110,072 of its $118,324 goal while the commercial division, under Ralph Norvell, has reached 82.8 per cent or $143,223.40 of its $172,802 goal.

In closing the meeting Conner said that the Nov. 26 victory luncheon would be at the Elks Lodge.

Death Penalty Ruled Lawful

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The California Supreme Court, in ruling yesterday that the death penalty is constitutional, apparently opened the door to new penalty trials for almost all the 68 men and one woman for whom the San Quentin gas chamber is waiting.

The state court banned further executions a year ago until it could decide the question of constitutionality.

The convictions stand. But the court also ruled that juries in two cases on appeal will have to decide, once again, whether death or life imprisonment should be imposed as punishment.

By extension, the principle applies to most of the other 84 cases, said Steve Rastson, West Coast director of the legal defense fund of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, which filed the appeals more than a year ago.

Pontiac's super high school for 4,500 students will be built on Pontiac State Hospital land, the board of education decided last night amidst jeers and cries of racism from the audience.

In what was called its "most important decision," the board voted 4-3 for the hospital site despite recommendations of its two advisory bodies and its consultant that a center city location would be more beneficial to Pontiac.

For many people — particularly Negroes — who spoke out for the center site around Orchard Lake Avenue and Bagley — the outcome was seen as the continuation of the decay of Pontiac and a further division of the races.

Some late members of an audience of more than 100 persons called the board "racist" and threatened black control of schools.

Saigon Leaning Toward Talks

SAIGON (AP) — The South Vietnamese government appeared today to be moving slowly toward sending a delegation to the Paris peace talks.

South Vietnamese sources close to the government indicated the principle of sending a delegation had been decided.

Many observers saw Monroe M. Osmun, board president, as casting the deciding vote. It had been known that three board members favored the center site and three the hospital site. Osmun had said he hadn't made up his mind.

Osmun, a member of the board for more than 22 years, recently said he would consider delaying the site selection but then voted for the hospital site along with William H. Anderson, Mrs. Lucille D. Marshall and Mrs. Elsie Mihalek.

A prime factor in making up Osmun's mind were the reasons and recommendation of Schools Supt. Dr. Dana P. Whitmer to select the hospital location.

Numerous pleas from the audience — even including one from a high school student — were made to the board to delay action, which was the advice given by the Pontiac Area Planning Council (PAPC) Thursday.

The PAPC, an advisory body of community leaders formed to provide for comprehensive planning of the city, endorsed the center site and called for a few weeks' delay to enable the City Commission to decide if it would participate in a federal urban renewal program needed to build on the center location.

But Whitmer, by making his recommendation, apparently felt the burden should not be placed on the City Commission.

Mrs. Marshall publicly expressed a lack of confidence in the City Commission to act on such matters.

Proponents of the hospital site explained their vote this way: Osmun — "Pontiac Central High School is inadequate." Anderson — "We've waited long enough." Mrs. Marshall — "We promised to make the decision tonight."

MOTION TO DELAY LOSES

A motion to delay the decision for two weeks was defeated by the same 4-to-3 factions.

Board members favoring the center site had this to say:

• Dr. Robert R. Turpin, a Negro who is board vice president — "I think this is a hasty decision and a great mistake. We should wait and see if the City Commission is with us before we take a vote."

• Russell L. Brown — "Why can't we whites come halfway? How many dreams of a hope and prayer for Pontiac do we have to have? The school is more than a building. I wash my hands of bridging this (race) gap."

• Christopher Brown, a Negro — "We should consider the impact for the downtown area. The urgency is not that (Continued on Page A-2, Col. 3)

Avon Is Warned of Fuel Oil Peril

Seven gallons of a dangerous mixture of gasoline and fuel oil mistakenly sold by an Avon Township service station yesterday were still unaccounted for this morning.

Oakland County sheriff's deputies, who described the mixture as "a huge Molotov cocktail," said that most of the 80 gallons sought since the error was discovered yesterday was recovered before midnight.

The gasoline was accidentally added to a large fuel oil tank at the Save-U station at 17000 Auburn and sold in one and five-gallon containers.

Deputies used their patrol car public address systems to warn area residents of the danger, and commercial radio broadcasts quickly spread the message.

RATIO IS INKNOWN

Capt. Leo Hazen, chief of sheriff's deputies, said it is difficult to determine just how volatile the mixture is, since the ratio of gasoline and fuel oil is unknown.

"If more than half is gasoline, the mixture will explode with terrific force," he explained.

He warned that even a lesser ratio of gasoline makes the mixture extremely hazardous.

Flurries Possible Tonight, Tomorrow

There's a chance of occasional snow flurries late today and tonight in the Pontiac area, with temperatures dipping into the 20s.

The mercury is expected to plunge to 22 to 26 tonight, and register a high in the low 30s tomorrow. Partly sunny and not so cold is the forecast for Thursday.

Heavy snow warnings were issued today for the northern Lower Peninsula and eastern Upper Peninsula with an additional two to four inches forecast.

Snow fell heavily in both areas yesterday, making driving hazardous at a time.

Precipitation probabilities in per cent are: 30 today and tonight, and 20 tomorrow.

Twenty-eight was the low temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding at 8 a.m. today. The mercury recorded 33 at 12:30 p.m.

91st Congress Likely to Cool Its Heels at Start

WASHINGTON (AP) — The 91st Congress, convening Jan. 3, is expected to get off to a slow start while waiting for Richard M. Nixon to take office and submit his legislative program.

One exception could be an attempt to obtain Senate ratification of a treaty designed to prevent the spread of nuclear weapons.

Democratic leaders also may try to win Senate confirmation of some recess appointments made by President Johnson.

At the start of a new Congress, especially when there is a change at the White House, the legislative processes move more slowly. Pending legislation does not carry over and members generally mark time until the new president submits specific proposals although they could introduce bills if they wanted to.

AN UNCERTAINTY

Just how quickly Nixon will be ready to submit specific proposals after his

Jan. 20 inauguration is uncertain, but House and Senate committees will have to conduct hearings on them before they could be brought up for floor action.

Since the Democrats will continue to have majorities in both branches—58-42 in the Senate, 243-192 in the House—organization of Congress will be less of a task than if there had been a change in party control.

There is a potential scrap, however, among Senate Republicans over leadership posts and there are rumblings in the House about attempting to unseat Speaker John W. McCormack of Massachusetts.

If past practice is followed, Johnson will send his farewell State of the Union message to Congress rather than deliver it in person. Then Nixon, soon after his inauguration, will appear before a joint session to submit a broad outline of his program.

Bid to Seat Communist China Due for Defeat in U.N. Today

UNITED NATIONS (UPI) — Efforts to throw Nationalist China out of the United Nations in favor of Communist China headed for a thumping defeat in the General Assembly today.

The vote, expected late in the day, appeared certain to return a margin for Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's government at least as large as last year's 13-to-0 vote. The 1967 margin was the greatest since 1963 in the annual U.N. China debates.

Among the seven speakers scheduled in today's final debate were U.S. Ambassador J. R. Wiggins and Peking's champion, Albanian Deputy Foreign Minister Halim Budo.

Last year the vote was 58-45 for keeping Nationalist China in the General Assembly.

TAIWAN'S APPEAL

Nationalist China appealed yesterday to other Asian nations to close ranks against "Communist China subversion" and vote to defeat Red China's bid to oust the Taiwan regime.

Sixteen nations spoke yesterday in the debate that opened a week ago. Pakistan led those who denounced the Nationalist Chinese contention it is the only legitimate representative of all China's people.

MONEY TALKS—Currency brokers at the Frankfurt Stock Exchange in West Germany receive their orders by telephone yesterday while new money exchange rates are listed on a board in the rear. European money markets were quieter as speculators apparently held back in the expectation of international emergency action to prevent chaotic disruption of the world's major currencies. Allies Kill 18 Reds, Take 200 Prisoners

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. and South Vietnamese troops have killed 18 more Vietcong and North Vietnamese and taken more than 200 prisoners or suspects in two operations 450 miles apart, military spokesmen reported today.

One battleground was south of Da Nang, where the Vietnamese area commander says the Communist command has started its winter offensive for South Vietnam's northern provinces. The other was 115 miles southwest of Saigon, where a big South Vietnamese force is trying to make a dent in a Vietcong stronghold near the Cambodian border.

In the air war, the U.S. Air Force lost its sixth B52 bomber of the war when one of the big eight-jet Stratofortresses crashed and burned as it was taking off from Okinawa for a raid. All seven crewmen escaped from the burning plane, but two were injured seriously.

Twenty miles south of Da Nang, U.S. Marine scouts spotted groups of 80 and 75 khaki-uniformed soldiers on the move and called in Marine artillery. The U.S. Command said the barrage killed 46 of the enemy and set off eight secondary explosions, indicating ammunition was hit.

103 BODIES FOUND

Five miles closer to Da Nang, South Vietnamese infantrymen sweeping the area where they fought all day Sunday around the town of Dien Ban found another 103 North Vietnamese bodies, a spokesman said.

He said this raised to 305 the number of North Vietnamese troops killed by South Vietnamese infantrymen and of American aircraft and artillery in the fighting Sunday and early yesterday.

In the same general area, a U.S. Marine and Vietnamese civil action team fought off a small attack and killed five more North Vietnamese. Seven Marines and six wounded in an ambush Monday night just below the demilitarized zone, between the Marine bases at Dong Ha and Cam Lo.

DRIVES THROUGH FIRING

Firing from both sides of the road, enemy troops opened up with machine guns and rocket-propelled grenades on the truckload of Marines. The driver drove through the heavy fire, and jet bombers and artillery pounded the enemy position, but it was not known if any of the enemy were hit.

In the continuing South Vietnamese offensive 115 miles southwest of Saigon, the government force reported killing 25 more Vietcong yesterday and said 20 confirmed Vietcong soldiers and 200 suspects were rounded up. South Vietnamese casualties were termed light.

Ten miles to the north, government militiamen acting on a defector's tip uncovered five enemy munition caches that yielded 173 rifles.

3 Bodies Found in Ferry Tragedy

MANILA (AP) — Three bodies were recovered and more navy frogmen joined the search today for passengers of an inter-island boat which sank after colliding with a British freighter in Cebu harbor yesterday.

Navy officials said they did not know how many were on board the passenger ferry Iruna, but it was nowhere near the 200 first reported missing.

A spokesman said 27 crew members had been accounted for and a number of them suffered only minor injuries. The freighter was the 5,338-ton Eastern Moon, sailing out of Hong Kong.

The spokesman said the harbor pilot reported engine failure caused the collision. The pilot said he ordered the Eastern Moon to stop and back up, but the engine failed to respond.

The freighter hit the ferry as the latter was pulling away from the dock and the Iruna broke into pieces and sank within minutes.

important that we can't postpone the decision for two weeks."

PROBLEMS CITED

Whitmer reasoned that at least a one-year delay at additional costs of $3.5 million and the absence of a comprehensive city plan to go with the school and solid interagency coordination are problems confronting the center site. Whitmer said some people had oversimplified the issue, saying it was a racial issue exclusively, or one of the past versus the future or redevelopment versus education of children.

He pointed out that the city could qualify for federal urban renewal funds at either site, although he indicated the center site would have more immediate effect on city redevelopment. Plans for having one large high school on the west side and on the east for grades nine through 12 "hinge" on building the new high school as soon as possible and converting the present Cen-

NY Strike's End Puts 1.1 Million Back in Classes

NEW YORK (AP) — The city's 1.1 million public school children returned to their studies today after a prolonged and bitter teachers' strike that cost most youngsters seven weeks of classes.

There was a sense of relief yesterday after members of the AFL-CIO United Federation of Teachers approved settlement terms. Most city, state and union officials were gratified, parents were pleased and even the pupils were happy.

An 8-year-old boy attending a Greenwich Village elementary school threw his arms around his teacher and gave her a kiss.

It was the third time since the strike began Sept. 9 that the predominantly white, 55,000-member UFT had gone back to the classroom. Two earlier settlements broke down and the walkout was renewed.

TRUSTEE IN CHARGE

Upon word of the UFT ratification, a state trustee officially took over operation of the controversial Ocean Hill-Brownsville experimentally decentralized school district in Brooklyn.

It was the summary dismissal of 79 white teachers from the predominantly Negro and Puerto Rican Ocean Hill district that led to the strike. A state watchdog committee now has been set up to oversee their return.

The Ocean Hill trustee, Herbert F. Johnson, associate state education commissioner, said he was putting off their return until tomorrow to allow time to work out class assignments.

State Education Commissioner James E. Allen Jr., who helped engineer the broad outline of the peace pact, said Rody A. McCoy, Ocean Hill administrator had agreed to work with the Greenwich Village elementary school trustee to implement the settlement.

trial High School into a unique middle school for grades 6-8, according to Mr. Whitmer.

OTHER REASONS

Other reasons he cited against the center site included: the public would have to vote an additional bond issue, time-consuming relocation of people, relocation of extensive utilities under Bagley, performance of test borings and improvements to the Clinton River and drainage. Groups who endorsed the center site or recommended a delay at the meeting were: the school board's human relations committee, Pontiac Black Educators, Pontiac Northern High School student human relations committee and the NAACP chapter.

Voice of Oakland County Action League (VOCAL) recommended the vacant urban renewal land downtown. Groups who favored the hospital site were the school board's Finance Study Council (FSC) and the PTA Council. The FSC, headed by Francis Webster, originally proposed the hospital site before last March's millage-bond election. The question is whether the school board, which denied it had a definite site, let the council definitely pick one.

Birmingham Area 3 Engineers Get New Posts at Chevrolet

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — James G. Musser Jr., 6965 Woodbank, has been named chief design engineer in charge of the XF867, the new American-built small car to be introduced by Chevrolet in 1970.

The appointment and new assignments for two other area men were announced by Alex C. Mair, Chevrolet director of engineering.

Musser has served as Chevrolet's chief passenger car components and chassis engineer the past two years.

William D. Route, 1225 Robson, has been made chief passenger car components engineer.

MUSSER ROUTE Charles D. Simmons, 211 E. Merrill, Birmingham, replaces Route as chief research and development engineer.

PENN STATE GRAD

A Pennsylvanian and 1957 graduate of Penn State University, Musser joined General Motors as a college graduate-in-training on the engineering staff. He joined Chevrolet in 1960 as a research engineer, and advanced through assistant staff and staff engineer assignments to become chief research and development engineer in 1966, and assistant chief engineer later that year.

Route, who graduated from General Motors Institute and received a master's degree from Wayne State University, joined Cadillac engineering after serving with the Air Force in World War II.

He joined Chevrolet in 1953 and his assignments have been concentrated on passenger car and power train.

Simmons is a graduate of Ann Arbor High School with a master's degree in engineering from the University of Michigan.

Before joining Chevrolet in 1956, he served with Packard. He has been a research engineer on future products and was made staff engineer for research and development in 1966.

Robert S. Marker, formerly of Bloomfield Township, was elected president of McCann-Erickson, Inc.

Announcement of the election was made yesterday by Paul Foley, 1311 Willow, Birmingham, chairman and chief executive officer of the corporation.

Until the McCann-Erickson board met yesterday, Foley held the title of president as well as chairman.

Marker, previously executive vice president, only recently moved to the New York office.

He joined McCann-Erickson in 1963 as Buick Motor Division account supervisor and vice president. In 1964, he was elected senior vice president and manager of the Detroit office. He was born in Nashville, Tenn., received a bachelor's degree from Emory University, Atlanta, Ga., and a master's degree from Vanderbilt University. He served with the Army Air Force in World War II.

Sirhan Trial TV Chaplain Wins for Press Is Eyed Medal of Honor

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Unless the defense or prosecution officials, closed-circuit television will be used to accommodate an overflow crowd of newsmen at the trial of Sirhan Bishara Sirhan on charges of slaying Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Judge Herbert V. Walker of Superior Court, who will preside at the trial, made the disclosure yesterday. He said he will hold a hearing, probably next week, to see if there are any objections.

The defense, at the same hearing, is expected to ask another postponement. The trial now is scheduled to start Dec. 8.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Roman Catholic priest identified as the first chaplain to win the Medal of Honor in Vietnam is among the five latest recipients of the decoration.

Capt. Angelo J. Liteky, who receives the nation's top military decoration today from President Johnson, was credited with carrying more than 20 wounded soldiers to an evacuation spot Dec. 6 when the company he was with came under heavy fire near Phuoc Lac.

NECK AND FOOT WOUNDS

Liteky, 37, of Jacksonville, Fla., received neck and foot wounds. He is only the second chaplain to win the medal.

The four other Army men receiving the medal were Spec. 4 Gary G. Wetzel, 21, of Oak Creek, Wis.; Spec. 5 Dwight H. Johnson, 21, of Detroit, Mich.; Sgt. Sammy L. Davis, 22, of Martinsville, Ind., and Capt. James A. Taylor, 30, an Arcata, Calif., native stationed at Ft. Knox, Ky.

The awards brought to 61 the number of medals of Honor presented during the Vietnam war.

The Detroit recipient, Johnson, a tank crewman, fought with a pistol, submachine gun and a rifle butt to help a platoon under attack by a battalion-sized enemy force near Dak To Jan. 15.

Sirhan, under heavy guard since the assassination of Kennedy who had just proclaimed victory in California's June presidential primary, is to be tried in Courtroom 107. This was chosen so Sirhan, 24, a Jordanian, can be taken from his 13th floor jail cell without being escorted through any public section of the building.

Workmen have installed steel plates over the windows. The courtroom seats only 75, and Judge Walker said there have been more than 100 requests from "responsible news media" for the 35 seats available for newsmen.

The closed-circuit TV camera would be concealed in a fake airconditioning box.

3 Get Probation in Area Swindle

Three Waterford Township residents were placed on probation today for swindling the American Automobile Association (AAA).

In addition they were ordered to pay restitution for the fraud, which, according to the Oakland County Prosecutor's Office, amounted to $1,600.

Sentenced were Kenneth R. Davis, 37, 4206 Seaboard, James Sanders and his wife Alice of 7135 Locklin.

The probation period for Davis and Sanders is three years. Mrs. Sanders was placed on two years' probation.

TWO SIMILAR CHARGES

An Oakland County Circuit Court jury convicted them of conspiracy to obtain money under false pretenses and of obtaining money under false pretenses following a four-day trial in early October.

Davis, a former adjuster with AAA, was accused of submitting a fraudulent accident report to the company. Police said that while the accident never occurred, the cars allegedly involved were reported repaired at a garage owned by the Sanders in Waterford Township.

In imposing the sentence, Circuit Judge Philip Pratt said that he took into consideration the fact that none of three had prior criminal records.

They could have been sentenced up to 10 years in prison on each count.

One Cloud on 'M' Grid Horizon

AP All-State Teams Begin in Press Today

The honors continue to mount for the Oakland County area prep athletes.

While the season has ended locally, college recruiters are active contacting the prospects high on their lists and the scribes are busy selecting their honor teams.

Today the Associated Press Class D All-State squad is announced on Page C-2. Classes C, B and A will be revealed during the next three days.

One local griddler is on today's AP All-State squad, and nine other area preps will be cited by the wire service.

Wolverine Coach Lauds No. 2 Ranked Ohio State

ANN ARBOR (AP) — The weather has been none too good around Ann Arbor lately.

But the foul weather hasn't blocked the sun around the Michigan athletic department.

Wolverine coach Bump Elliott says the weather turned balmy at the end of Saturday's football game, when Michigan smashed Wisconsin, 34-9.

SLOPPY WEATHER

Although the game was played in some of the sloppiest weather imaginable, senior tailback Ron Johnson rushed for 346 yards and destroyed 11 Big Ten, NCAA, and team records.

"The sun shone brightly about 4:30," Elliott said Monday. "I wasn't sure what the elements were, but the weather was fine."

The record-breaking victory left only one cloud on the Wolverine horizon—Ohio State. The two teams currently are locked in a tie for first place in the Big Ten with 6-0 conference records.

The Wolverines have lost only a non-conference game to California, and the Buckeyes are undefeated in eight games.

RESPECTS OSU

Elliott is very respectful of the team Michigan will have to beat at Columbus Saturday, to earn its first Rose Bowl bid in four years.

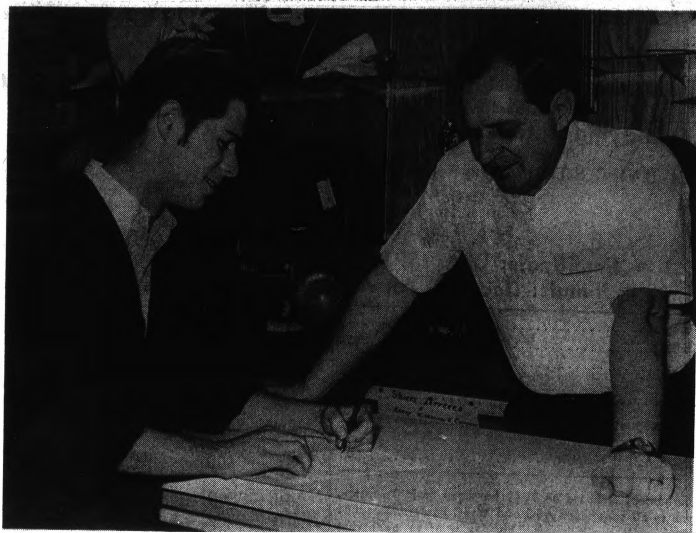

"Ohio is a powerful team," he said. "There is no question about that. Their ranking is right."

The Wolverine coach had special praise for the OSU defense, which he described as "as active as any defense I've seen in some time. They are very quick with great pursuit."

He said that while the Buckeyes have given up quite a few points, "The points scored on them were scored when they really didn't matter much."

For example, the Buckeyes beat Iowa 33-27 last week, but they let the Hawkeyes score after establishing a 33-13 lead at the end of three quarters.

Elliott reported that the Wolverines suffered no serious injuries in Saturday's match. He said there were a number of strains and bruises but nothing serious enough to keep anyone out of action for the big showdown in Columbus.

The tournament begins next Sunday with qualifying at 10 area bowling houses, and is open to all men and women bowlers of the area regardless of average. (See tournament entry blank page C-2.)

Qualifying Starts Sunday

It's Pontiac Open Keg Time

How would you like a check for $1,000 under your Christmas tree this year?

Or maybe a check for $600 or $400 or one of 200 other checks for the holidays?

Oakland University student Harold Marsh didn't think it was possible last year, considering himself just an average bowler.

But, when the 11th annual Pontiac Open Bowling Championship came to an end, Marsh found himself celebrating his victory in the tournament with $1,000 just a few days before Christmas.

The 12th annual tournament gets started next Sunday at 10 bowling establishments in the Pontiac area which are holding qualifying rounds.

LARGER PURSE
This tournament this year carries a much larger guaranteed prize list starting with $1,000. Last year the guaranteed top prize was $800, but the large number of entries brought the prize list up in all positions.

If the increase in entries continues there is a possibility that the top prize will include the $1,000 guarantee plus additional money in the breakdown.

All men and women bowlers regardless of average can enter the tournament, as it is sanctioned by the ABC and WIBC, and bowlers will enter on the basis of 70 per cent of scratch for handicap.

The big feature of the tournament which simplifies qualifying is the target score of "600."

EASY TO ADVANCE

includes handicap, to advance into the semifinals stage of the tournament.

Also among the features of the tournament are the Mix 'n' Match doubles and the Mix 'n' Match Team, along with the Actual's Invitational, all sidelights of the tournament which increase the possibilities of winning.

To participate in the Mix 'n' Match doubles, a man and woman bowler must indicate on his entry blank with whom he or she wants to have scores paired. They must bowl in the same house on the same squad but not on the same lanes.

The same holds true for Mix 'n' Team event. The five man or woman teams, of mixed teams, must indicate their "teams" on the back of their entries and they must bowl under the same rules of the doubles.

Scout Does Talking for Ohio State 11

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Woody Hayes isn't talking much about Michigan these days. But everyone knows what the Ohio State football coach is thinking.

The Buckeyes and the Wolverines clash in Ohio Stadium Saturday in a showdown match that will decide the Big Ten championship and the opponent for Southern California in the Rose Bowl.

The setting is similar to the 1964 wind-up when Michigan came into Columbus with a 5-1 league record and Ohio was 5-0. When the smoke cleared, the Wolves prevailed 10-0 in the winner-take-all duel.

Hayes knows who the opponent is Saturday but he didn't mention Michigan by name at his Monday luncheon.

"Sark (assistant coach Exco Sarkinen) can tell you more about our opponent this week than I can," he said.

EVERYONE READY

The dean of Big Ten coaches reported that all hands were expected to be ready Saturday.

"Ron Johnson has good size, speed, agility and balance," Sarkinen noted. "But his extraordinary physique gives him the ability to shake off tacklers. He cuts well and picks up his blockers impressively."

The Buckeye scout also singled out quarterback Dennis Brown, tight end Jim Mandich, safetyman Tom Curtis and defensive back George Hoey.

"Brown has the ability to make the big play. He runs well and is adept at passing. Curtis leads the secondary with nine league interceptions."

Mandich is Michigan's best receiver with 36 catches for 496 yards and three touchdowns. Hoey is an outstanding punt return specialist."

Stark said Michigan's well-balanced defense has made a lot of opportunities for the offense with 24 interceptions and 11 fumble recoveries.

Probable Bowl Lineup

New Year's Day Warning Issued

By The Associated Press

A warning to all wives: If you're contemplating any activity that will force your football-loving husband to leave the boob tube on New Year's Day, you might as well forget it now.

The sponsors of the annual first-of-the-year madness — the college bowl games — have lined up some highly palatable fare for a day-long football feast.

Under an NCAA rule, Monday was the first official day bowl sponsors could issue invitations — and berths for the Orange, Sugar, Cotton, Gator, Bluebonnet and Sun Bowls were filled in rapid-fire order. Unbeaten Penn State and once-beaten Kansas, both boasting crushing ground attacks, were paired in Miami's nighttime Orange Bowl, while the Cotton and Sugar bowls lined up matches between the top two powers in the Southeastern and Southwest conferences.

PROBABLES

The Cotton Bowl at Dallas picked eighth-ranked Tennessee to meet the underdog champion of the Southwest Conference, either Texas or Arkansas.

The Sugar Bowl at New Orleans pulled a coup and lured Southeastern Conference champ Georgia from the Orange Bowl.

Officials said they wouldn't name a foe until after Thanksgiving Day, indicating they were awaiting the outcome of Texas' last game against Texas A&M, which will determine the final Southwest standings.

If Arkansas should beat Texas Tech this week and Texas stops the Aggies, then Texas would get the bid since the Longhorns whipped Arkansas during the regular season.

49ers Eye Greener Pasture

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The San Jose 49ers?

It's just barely possible, the National Football League's San Francisco club said Monday as it confirmed reports that it had commissioned a study of its serious stadium problems.

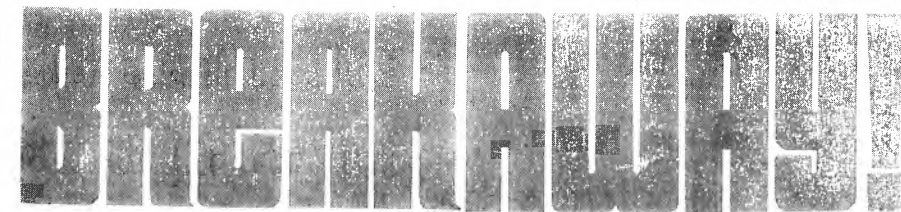

The 49ers now play in Kezar Stadium, which has poor seating, almost no parking and an overused field that is the joke of the NFL.

The city of San Francisco is presently studying the possibility of improving Candlestick Park for use by the 49ers as well as the baseball Giants and it is also looking into a new stadium site.

But the movement is too slow to satisfy the 49ers who are almost as desperate to get out of Kezar as they are to improve their low standing in the league.

"We're looking at everything from the Golden Gate on the North to San Jose on the south," president Lou Spadina said.
