HACKENSACK, N.J. (UPI)—Two northern New Jersey prosecutors report they have uncovered a multimillion-dollar nationwide racket in bootleg records.

Nab 2 Suspects in Fenton Theft

Area Men Traced by License Plates Seen at Robbery Site

Two ex-convicts from the Pontiac area were arrested at their homes early this morning for questioning in connection with a safe robbery at a Fenton department store last night.

Pontiac police working with state police, Waterford Township police and sheriff's deputies, arrested Charles W. Wood, 37, of 50 LaBerta Ct., Waterford Township, and Robert H. Hills, 36, of 278 Oakland Ave.

Both men were arrested at their homes about 5 a.m. A third suspect is also being sought, police said.

Fenton state police said three men were reported to have tied the owner of Pellet's Department Store and put him in the basement while they cracked a safe shortly before midnight.

About $2,000 reportedly was taken from the safe. The two local men were traced by the license plates of a car seen near the store last night.

Both men have served terms at Jackson Prison for armed robbery convictions, deputies said.

delivering nuclear weapons—rockets or aircraft.

U.S. officials said privately the need for the Soviet arsenal could be in the West's retaliatory power before proper controls have been agreed on to make sure the U.S.S.R. followed suit on the arms race.

But they noted two apparently encouraging aspects of the Soviet plan:

1. An apparent recognition by the Soviets of the need for an arms race, which the West says is necessary.

2. Satisfying Soviet recognition that modern weapons delivery systems are a central problem must be dealt with under any realistic arms control measures.

This view has been advocated by France, and Khrushchev seemed to be agreeing with it.

The Western position, which the U.S. now referred to, was President Eisenhower's plan to turn over high flying reconnaissance planes to United Nations, which would conduct aerial inspections in all countries to prevent any war buildup.

Hunt Dog That Bit Six-Year-Old Girl

A six-year-old girl will have to undergo a series of rabies shots if the dog that bit her is not found.

Shelley Dunigan, 6½, Voorhees Rd., received four bleeding punctures on her chest when bitten by a medium sized, long-haired, black dog with a rusty colored ear as she was walking to the Webster School.

The dog was seen on Chipman street between Manlius and Melrose streets.

Her doctor says she will have to take at least 21 shots, beginning Monday, if the dog is not found. Anyone who should find the dog is urged to call the Pontiac or Waterford Township police departments.

Bergen Prosecutor Guy W. Calne said Friday that he and Essex Prosecutor Brendan T. Byrne were working to stamp out the coast-to-coast operation.

He said raids had been made Wednesday on two record distributors in Newark and Fort Lee.

Byrne said bogus records sold under counterfeit labels probably have captured half of the retail record 'n' roll market.

Byrne said he confiscated about 3,000 counterfeit records originally made by various performers while Calise seized another 6,000, all originally recorded by Bobby Roydel for the Cameo Record label.

Calise said the Fort Lee distributor of the bootleg records told authorities he acted up to $1,000 a day.

The prosecutors said the recordings were pressed in California and shipped east for distribution.

They refused to identify the distributors, but said no charges had been filed pending audits of the books.

Byrne said the bogus recordings were reproduced from legitimate popular records shipped to a distributor for a fraction of their cost and sold to retailers at standard prices.

Byrne said in most cases the retailer doesn't know he has been defrauded.

The distributor gets a 50-cent record for 50 cents and pockets the difference.

The recording company is cheated in the transaction, as is the performer. They lose the ordinary royalty rights.

Byrne said he and Calise had received complaints from record companies that had seen the popularity of the records soar while sales failed to keep pace.

Byrne said the records were so cleverly counterfeited it was difficult to tell them from the real thing.

Ike Squeezes Class Reunion Into Schedule

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower flew to his old alma mater at West Point this afternoon for a three-day round of ceremonies with his 1915 classmates.

The President will interrupt his stay at the U. S. Military Academy in West Point to make the commencement address and receive an honorary degree at the University of Notre Dame, South Bend.

He will return to West Point Sunday evening and take part in further 45th anniversary activities of his class before heading back to Washington late Monday.

Mr. Eisenhower will not be able to accompany the president. She is receiving treatment at Walter Reed Hospital for acute asthma bronchitis.

N. Carolina Electors Leaning to Johnson

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP)—Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson can count on at least 16 of North Carolina's 37 electors for the state's 74 delegates to a presidential nominee at the Los Angeles Democratic convention this summer.

The Texas senator was the first ballot choice of the state's 74 delegates, each with one-half vote, in a poll of the delegation.

Four delegates said they were loyal to the state's first ballot choice is Adlai E. Stevenson, four chose Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri and two were partial to Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts.

The remaining 30 members of the delegation said they are undecided on a first ballot presidential choice.

The delegation chairman, Gov. Luther H. Hodges, and the state's two U.S. senators, Sam J. Ervin Jr. and B. Everett Jordan, say their first ballot choice is Johnson.

Moscow Heaps Wild Ovation on Van Cliburn

MOSCOW (AP)—Pianist Van Cliburn came back to Moscow Friday night amid a thunderous ovation from fans who cheered his first major success three years ago.

It was here he had triumphed over the Tchaikovsky competition, Cliburn said it was like coming back to "my second musical home."

About 3,000 persons crowded around the conservatory, inside every seat and the aisles were jammed. After the concert the crowd refused to leave and Cliburn was forced to return from his dressing room to sign autographs for persons who stormed the stage.

Moscow's critics were lukewarm in rating his performance of Prokofiev's 1st concerto, but the crowd, mostly teen-agers, loved it.

Cliburn has a month's tour scheduled, climaxed by a concert in the Lenin Sports Palace.

DON'T WANT IKE—Overworking the latest parlor pun, Japanese leftists make it plain that President Eisenhower will be an unwelcome guest to many when he visits the nation whose aggression was rammed back down its throat 15 years ago.

Here some 15,000 demonstrators paraded past the U. S. Embassy, protesting the U. S.-Japanese military pact that will become final June 19, the day is slated to arrive. (See story on Page 1.)

26 Local UAW Delegates Depart for Grand Rapids

Twenty-six delegates from Pontiac's three UAW local unions and the Oakland County AFL-CIO Council depart today for Grand Rapids to attend the AFL-CIO state convention Monday through Wednesday in Grand Rapids.

The area envoys will do their part to improve labor's position as a whole, but will carry no specific issues, with one exception.

Henson said that the 11 delegates from the Pontiac Motor union are "opposed to any raise in the Blue shield at this time."

"We don't feel the raise will help us any more," said Henson. "We will stand against it."

In general, delegates will seek resolutions supporting better legislation for workmen's compensation, unemployment compensation and aid for retirees.

"The resolutions are a method of mandating our lobbyists to go out and try to improve our situation through the legislature," said Fred V. Haggard, president of the Oakland County AFL-CIO Council.

"Each year with the new model cars, more and more men are laid off. They will have to be subsidized, or how else can they buy the product? There is not a machine that has been put in a factory that has bought a new automobile."

Haggard said aims are to have a subsidy bill for retirees "comparable to, if not better than, the Ford bill."

The four delegates to the convention from UAW Local 596 (Fishery Body) are Charles Beck, Frederick Kline, Harold Grant and Carroll Gates.

The nine delegates who will represent UAW Local 594 (GMC Truck and Coach) are Donald Mapley, Clyde Miles, Stephen Bone, Robert Alderman, Emmett Donahue, David Mallory, Samuel Walker, William Lindsey and Andrew Wilson.

UAW Local 653 (Pontiac Motor) is sending John Kent, Howard M. Arnold, William B. Lindsey, Francis O'Rourke, William Ward, Charles Beach, James Taylor, Bert E. Henson, Benjamin Gales, Kenneth Young and Wayne Ansel.

The two county Council delegates are Fred Haggard and Andrew Montgomery.

Japan Leftists Riled at Ike's Slated Visit

great success in marshaling new pressure on Kishi to dissolve Parliament and submit to new elections, Tokyo leaders announced plans for similar work shutdowns on June 17-18.

The train, bus and streetcar stop in Tokyo, Osaka and several other major cities affected about two million persons.

But it was so well publicized in advance and at such an early hour—down to 8 a.m.—that it produced little confusion except for highway traffic jams.

There was little violence except for scuffles between unionists and railway officials over control of the cars or crews of more than 20 canceled trains.

Drinkers Face Loss of License

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The California director of motor vehicles, with the State Supreme Court behind him, has renewed his campaign to make pedestrians of drunken drivers.

"It is my intention," Robert L. McCarthy told a news conference Friday, "to make California an unhealthy place for intoxicated drivers." Effective Friday night was this order:

Any motorist arrested and convicted of drunken driving in the state will automatically have his license suspended for six months, or revoked for a full year or more.

The high court sanctioned McCarthy's program earlier, this week upheld, by a 4-3 vote, the department's right to suspend licenses of convicted drunken drivers, regardless of recommendations of the trial judge.

After hearing his story, detectives told her she'd been "taken" by two fast-talking confidence women.

"It's the oldest game in the world," said Detective John Williams.

Ms. Gehring, 60, of 1025 Voorhees Rd., told her it happened.

Her new "friend," after the commitment, told her another woman had found a package containing $500 and gambling tickets.

"NO MARKED," she said. "The package was marked."

"She works for a finance company and she's gone to ask her boss what to do with it," Ms. Gehring was told.

Her boss had found three $1,000 bills more in the box.

He'd told her the money belonged to them.

"Them," the two women told Ms. Gehring, included her.

Each would get $1,500.

The boss, it seemed, had told his "employee" that whoever the money was split with should produce a cash "to show faith" in the others.

One of the women went back to tell the boss who would get the money.

The other accompanied Mrs. Gehring to her home where Mrs. Gehring picked up her bank book.

In downtown Pontiac, she withdrew $800.

She had wanted to tell her husband of their good fortune, but 14-hour wait for a husband told her "it wasn't a good idea."

The trio rendezvoused on a street corner.

Ms. Gehring gave the money to one of the women, who said she was "going to show the boss."

The other also excused herself. Ms. Gehring waited for their return. The wait was fruitless.

She finally walked to the finance company where the "share" of good fortune worked.

No one matching that description worked there.

Realizing what had happened, Mrs. Gehring called police.

"A familiar story," Williams said.

"It's the running conversation they carry on—they just don't give you time to think."

The Waterford Township Girl Scout Leader's Assn. will have its final meeting of the year at a potluck luncheon at 12:30 p.m. Monday at the home of Mrs. Jay Bendall, 1215 Malcolm St., Union Lake Village.

Officers to be installed by outgoing President Mrs. William Crommett include President Mrs. Roy Lewis, Vice President Mrs. Donald Vander Veen, Secretary Mrs. Richard M. Bell, and Treasurer Mrs. Gilbert Johnson.

All Girl Scout leaders and registered adult members in the Waterford Township district have been invited.

It was the second time in five weeks the girl had disappeared from the El Retiro School for Girls in nearby San Fernando.

Police said they got an anonymous tip from a female caller, who said she had seen Cheryl and the other runaways—Martha Johnson, 15, of San Valley, and Sheila Copeland, 14, of Bell, in an alley behind the house of Cheryl's grandmother, Mildred Turner.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Actress Lana Turner's 16-year-old problem daughter Cheryl Crane ran away from a girl's institution Friday night. Police said they found her and two other runaways hiding in a restroom in a park in Beverly Hills early today.

It Seems to Me . . .

Approaching Conventions Fire Political Pot to a Rapid Boil

With the two big conventions drawing much closer, the political pot continues to boil at a merry pace.

The Russian situation occupies a pressing and dominant position and Nixon has an edge here in the estimate of those that regard this as serious. If you hold KENNEDY and Nixon as the outstanding candidates of their respective parties, certainly the current Vice President has a distinct and quite obvious advantage.

Kennedy has had no world experience of this type, and while he may be completely qualified and capable when he has been "through the mill," it happens that the opportunity has not presented itself. Nixon, of course, has been associated with the President in Russian matters from the beginning. No one in the country is as well qualified as he is to continue the Eisenhower policies.

Speculation intensifies as the big days approach, and there is a growing tendency in many quarters to believe that the Democratic slate will be STEVENSON and KENNEDY. Certainly ADLAI is acting very much "like a candidate" in spite of the fact he openly attempts to play coy.

But he can "be had."

There's no doofness in the fact he has made several strategic speeches in the past weeks. And when the spy plane incident arose, Mr. Stevenson leaped into battle with both feet and with all the force of a very real and a red hot candidate. Adlai "viewed with alarm" and declaimed all over the place.

There are many conservative people throughout the nation who would like to see LYNDON JOHNSON become the standard bearer, as they feel he is the most responsible individual that the Democrats offer. They believe that the nation would be in safer hands, both internally and in international affairs.

Although he disclaimed any interest in the G.O.P. vice presidency, the name of Governor Rockefeller will not disappear from the national scene. Both KENNEDY and the New Yorker indicated they had no interest in the second place, but the people at large and the politicians in particular refuse to accept either of these pronouncements as official or final. I've insisted before and will again: that no man is big enough to turn down the second job in the top nation on earth.

From listening and reading, I would pronounce KENNEDY as the most popular of the Democratic candidates with people at large. He seems to possess more "crowd appeal" and his public appearances are greeted with greater enthusiasm than is bestowed upon the others. STEVENSON is comparatively cold and even stuffed shirt type that never recommends itself to the average. Aside from HUMPHREY, he is the most liberal of all the Democratic aspirants. In fact, STEVENSON is too liberal for his own good — or that of the country.

Whether those astute old Democratic wheel horses will ever send this man to the starting gate after his two sound drubbings is a moot question. "Two strikes aren't out," protest the Stevenson hackers, and they're probably right. But it's a whale of a handicap.

STUART SYMINGTON isn't out of the picture. He and JOHNSON let KENNEDY (and even HUMPHREY) wheel around the track time after time in all these primaries, but they have been patiently biding their time and pitching political woo with the various state delegations.

There could be a veritable landslide on the second or third ballot in the convention if one of these men shows unexpected strength or leaps far out in front. Everyone wants to climb on the bandwagon at the earliest possible moment when a winner is assured and yell, "see what we did for you." The idea is to gain the maximum patronage and prestige with the man that's "in."

Powerful forces are in conflict. It's a titanic struggle. Watch it daily through the columns of this great public print (cold blooded commercial) which follows all the candidates in detail.

Williams Makes Deal . . .

It now appears that WILLIAMS has made a deal with KENNEDY.

The Michigan Governor has been shopping around among the candidates and apparently his Massachusetts cohort came up with the best offer — presumably a post in the cabinet. And that's just a guess. But it figures.

KENNEDY has been wooing REUTHER for a long time and with HUMPHREY out, WALTER may have settled upon KENNEDY as his next best bet. WILLIAMS has no absolute control over the Michigan delegates, but they've never run an inch counter to his wishes in the past and they won't in the coming convention.

And In Conclusion . . .

Jottings from the well thumbed notebook of your peripatetic reporter:

Musical Memories: Forty years ago, we'd lost two boys in flying accidents at a Texas training camp and when the day officially ended, the bugler started playing "Taps" in the stillness of the night. Three notes from the end he broke down . . . and the greatest hush I've ever heard settled over 1,500 blanketed men in the darkness as a silent and overwhelming tribute to two great pals that were gone forever . . .

Doctors' offices in New York are experiencing a run of break-ins from dope addicts . . . There are 3,400 radio stations in the country and a 5,000 watt affair in Bismark, N.D., has the widest range of intelligible signals in America.

In the departure of Corena Aldrich, The Pontiac Press has lost one of the finest grammarians in this area and certainly one of the very prettiest anywhere. She has a date with Sir Stork . . . The door-to-door salesman launched into his final pitch: "Your husband's eggs will be done perfectly with this electric timer." The bride smiled sweetly. "They are already."

The POWER of FAITH by Howard Bradie

The double door on Jones Street in San Francisco looks like a garage entrance. It has no sign; no street number. There is nothing to identify it as "The Miracle of Jones Street."

Inside is the St. Anthony Dining Room, a testimony to man's faith and charity which has witnessed the passage of five million hungry men and women in the past 10 years.

The dining room was established by the Franciscan Fathers for persons of all creeds, colors and races who need a meal "here and now" and to assist those who are unable to obtain lodging and work.

It was constructed on faith — trade union members donated their time and services and refuse to be known as beneficiaries.

It operates on faith — some 300 helpers, housewives and office workers, serve the wholesome meals. The cook refuses a salary.

"I have inner peace," he told me.

Apostles Received Instructions

By DR. HOWARD V. HARPER

It had not even dimly occurred to the Apostles that their Lord was going to turn over to them the task He had begun. He had said so in so many words in St. John, chapter 20, verse 21 — "As my Father hath sent me even so send I you," and had indicated it by such clear signs as the training session in which He sent out seventy workers (St. Luke, chapter 10). But the idea failed to sink in.

I watch the traffic light and give them three greens and two reds. . . . During the early days of Khrushchev's vaudeville show, travel requests to Russia spurted. Now they're diminishing appreciably . . .

If you want to know how far away some of the planets are, here's a tip. A rocket that could reach the moon in one minute would require three days to reach Saturn. . . . And all of a sudden it hit them. It hit them, St. Luke says, with an impact like that of a cyclone. See Acts, chapter 2, verses 1 to 4. There was a sound as of "a rushing mighty wind," and tongues of flame danced in the air over their heads. (Both wind and fire have always been symbols of the Holy Spirit.)

And in that tremendous instant the Apostles understood that they, with the Spirit of God at work within them and among them, were to take up where Jesus in His physical presence had left off. In other words, in that instant the Christian Church began. From then on this little handful of ordinary men became an irreplaceable band of apostles and proceeded to turn the world upside down.

Readers' Digest: Two kinds of drinks were served at the wedding reception: champagne and non-alcoholic. A younger guest came up for a refill. "One regular," said she solemnly, "and one high test." . . . House trailers are one of our fastest growing businesses. About 4 million Americans live in trailers . . . Over 500 little fellers die every year from drinking and eating poisons in their own homes. Beware of detergents, waxes, polishes, bleaches, paints and cleaning fluids. They're very attractively packaged these days . . .

Destruction of Flowers Greatly Disturbs Reader

I, too, want to congratulate The Press on the lovely display of buckets of flowers in front of the building.

But how long do things stay like that? Today on my way to work I saw 6 or 10 plants lying on the sidewalk and discovered they had been torn out of the window boxes at Wiggs.

Does Pontiac have more books than other cities? What makes people want to tear up something that's beautiful and gives others pleasure? Such people must be sick, sick, sick.

'Both Sides Should Declare a Stand'

With Khrushchev on the war path, it's high time both parties declared their intentions towards communism in future dealings.

Eisenhower did a real good job in making it plain what he would do, but Kennedy has been a softy towards the Reds for the past several years. If he is going to be an appeaser, we should buy him an umbrella and keep him in Massachusetts.

And how about Symington and Johnson? They should all issue statements. We know now where Nixon stands and he stands with Eisenhower.

'Central Students Are Bad Hazard'

Some time ago a writer in the Voice of the People said the Central high school students were very careless about Huron street traffic.

Well, it's worse than the writer said and if I ever hear about a student struck by a car on the south side of Huron near the parked automobiles, I will know it is not the driver's fault. The boys and girls are just begging for a bad accident and especially the boys.

The hospital is fairly close and even so it may be too far.

Condemns Eisenhower Policy on the U2

I considered Eisenhower a man of peace until the U2 flight, when he said this would continue. Sneak flights over the Soviet are more of a threat to world peace than imaginary Russian surprise attacks on the U.S.

My first responsibility as an American is not to a bi-partisan foreign policy but to promote a policy which will preserve world peace. Our nation cannot survive an atomic war.

Smiles

Watch your step when you cross the street or you're likely to get that run-down feeling.

When a gal wants to learn to swim she has to get out of her smart dress to teach her.

Parade bands are the ones that always start playing about five minutes after they have passed us.

Heads are much too scarce, kids, to use them for diving into strange swimming places.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Help Husband Avoid 'Menopause'

Wives, vaccinate your husbands against this disease of the male menopause. The best remedy is prophylactic. For when a man gets into the muddled state of Alfred today, you can seldom influence him by logic. He is emotionally imbalanced and headstrong! So if your husbands are past 40 years of age, you votes had better send for the bulletin described below.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
CASE E - Mr. Alfred H., aged 37, is a prominent Chicago business man.

"Dr. Crane, we have been happily married for 35 years, I'm smartly dressed . . . but last week he told me he is in love with a gras widow only 25 years of age."

"He doesn't want a divorce or even a separation, but feels I should bear with him as I have with his other 'affairs' all throughout the past 10 years. He is frequently seen dining and dancing with this woman, for he has taken little if any pleasure to be discreet."

"I've learned that another man sees her on week-ends, but he is out of town Monday thru Friday. If he and my husband ever find out about each other, there will be a terrible scene."

"He feels she is simply interested in a career, and not a gold digger. Indeed, he seems all confused in his mind and unable to think clearly, for he says he does not want a divorce."

PONCE DE LEON COMPLEX

This domestic tragedy is repeated so many times in every community that it is one of the commonest pitfalls besetting married people past 35 or 40 years of age.

It is the Ponce de Leon Complex, wherein the aging male is terrified lest gray hair and especially impotence be attacking him.

Notice his wife's comment to the effect that Alfred is all confused and unable to think clearly. That is just one of the usual symptoms.

Such men act as foolish as if they really had syphilis of the brain, which is sometimes true of them, but in most cases there is no syphilis, even at advanced age. This case of the male in the menopause.

His trouble is chiefly psychological and based on fear. In his terror, he acts like other panicky creatures.

He loses his sense of social perspective. He cannot even be discreet in his misconduct, but flaunts it before his family and friends.

Briarbank Society Sifts Beachcomber Party June 14

The Briarbank Society of Bloomfield Hills, whose purpose is raising money for the needy aged, is deep in plans for a gala beachcomber party at Kingsley Inn.

Proceeds of the June 14 affair will provide a recreational therapy room for the men and women of St. Elizabeth

Home for the Aged in Bloomfield Hills.

Set for 7 p.m., the affair will feature a gourmet dinner served in the manner of the islands.

Casual dress will be the order of the evening. A sandy beach will be provided at the Inn's entrance and guests in the "barefoot mood" may check their shoes.

Calypto singers and dancers, natives of Jamaica, will provide entertainment.

Briarbank Society members working on the affair include party chairmen Mrs. E. E. Fisher, Mrs. John J. Ellwood and Mrs. John S. Mahony.

Mrs. J. G. Shannon Jr. is in charge of publicity with Mrs. Alfred D. Fortier and Mrs. Frank Noble working on ticket sales.

Other workers include society president Mrs. Charles P. Kleinsmith, Mrs. John Hammond, Mrs. Ralph L. Polk, Mrs. Theodore F. MacManus and Mrs. James Q. Coudie.

A sunny day at the poolside and an intriguing benefit project brought committee members to a Briarbank Society planning meeting at the Bloomfield Hills home of Mrs. Charles Kleinsmith, center. Examining decorations for the June 14 Beachcomber Party to benefit St. Elizabeth Home are Mrs. Everell Fisher of Lone Pine road, left, and Mrs. Alfred D. Fortier of Birmingham.

Mrs. Frank Noble of Birmingham enjoys a dip in the Kleinsmith pool at Friday's planning session for the gala benefit party at Kingsley Inn. Mrs. Joseph Kleinsmith, left, seems to find her lei sufficient inspiration, but she helps create a splash from a safe distance. Both are members of a large committee working out details for the party.

Abby Hears Moving Story

If You Like a Skunk, Feed Him

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I've been married to Red for 11 years. We have moved 89 times. He gets himself a job and pretty soon he is restless and wants to move again. I had a daughter by a previous marriage and when she was 16 she married just to get out of all this moving around. It didn't work out so now she is back with me and I am going to be a grandpa.

I divorced Red last year and remarried him five days after the divorce became final.

Now I am suing him for divorce again. My lawyer said I had no grounds. He didn't know which one to use.

Abby, maybe I am crazy, but with all Red's faults I think

I just love the skunk. Maybe it isn't love, but I am so used to him, I am miserable without him. Should I try to live without him or take him back?

LOVE THE SKUNK

DEAR LOVE: I think you two miserable people need each other. You know you want me to tell you to take him back. So take him back—if you think it's nice to have a skunk around the house.

DEAR ABBY: I have been engaged for nearly a year and plan to be married in the fall. I have reason to believe that my fiancé is using narcotics. I am afraid if this is so, our marriage has failed before it has started. Please tell me where I can go for help?

NO NAME, PLEASE

DEAR NO NAME: First, ask your fiancé whether your suspicions are correct. If they are, it is HE who needs help. Addiction to narcotics CAN be cured. There are two federal hospitals for drug addicts; one in Lexington, Ky., and the other in Fort Worth, Texas. Patients who want to enter voluntarily are welcome.

DEAR ABBY: What is your opinion of a 44-year-old man who always holds his wife's 17-year-old niece on his lap? I am sending you his picture. Please send it back. Thank you.

WOLF'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: I am returning your husband's picture. Now if you send me one of the 17-year-old niece, I could probably give you a better answer.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "NEEDS TO KNOW": You have been misinformed. There is no law which compels unmarried mothers to give up their babies for adoption. See your Family Service Association.

More Jobs Coming

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — Thirty million women will have jobs in 1970, Undersecretary of Labor James T. O'Connell said today.

He also said:

— Two of every five women from babies to great-grandmothers — will be in the labor force in 10 more years.

— American women will comprise more than one-third of the working population at the end of this decade.

— In a prepared speech to a conference celebrating the 40th anniversary of the Women's Bureau, O'Connell said the nation will be faced with a "womanpower" challenge in the coming years.

— A 25 per cent increase in the number of working women will be necessary by 1970 to keep up with demands for adult workers, he said.

For Rainy Day

(NEA)—Don't go out dressed any old way on a rainy day. The weather itself will be depressing enough. You can cheer up your friends and yourself by wearing a trim, colorful rain outfit and carrying a gay umbrella.

Alpha Deltas Attend Buffet

Mrs. Royal Edline opened her home on Indianwood road to Zeta Chapter of Alpha Delta Kappa Sorority Thursday. Twenty-five members and guests attended the buffet supper served by the hostess.

President Mrs. John Borsvold appointed committees for the coming year during the business meeting. Serving are Donald McLean, publicity; Mrs. Mary Wagner and Mrs. Elizabeth Halsey, Mrs. Eugene Carey, Mrs. Sam Hale and Shirley Friedly, program; Mrs. Alton Madden, Helen Voss, June Turnbull and Gail Hallinger, ways and means; Mrs. George Robbins, Mrs. Frances Sauter, Lillian Pall and Ruth Wright, special services.

Mrs. Elmer Thorpe will serve as parliamentarian. Other committee members are Mrs. Edline, Mrs. Sam Hale and Shirley Friedly, program; Mrs. Alton Madden, Helen Voss, June Turnbull and Gail Hallinger, ways and means; Mrs. George Robbins, Mrs. Frances Sauter, Lillian Pall and Ruth Wright, special services.

Margaret McKenzie of East City, national field representative, was a guest at the meeting.

Reservations for the state convention slated Sept. 24 in Kalamazoo were made by Miss Halsey, Mrs. Sauer, Mrs. Wagner, Mrs. O'Neil, Mrs. Hale, Mrs. Madden, Miss Friedly, Mrs. Carey and Mrs. Borsvold.

Piety Hill Hostesses

70 Attend DAR Picnic

Seventy members of Oakland County Daughters of the American Revolution attended the annual picnic Thursday at the home of Mrs. Frederick C. Pew on Kirkway drive, Bloomfield Township.

Chapters represented were Ears Parkers, Royal Oak; Three Flags, Lathrup Village; John Crawford, Oxford and Lake Orion; and General Richardson, Pontiac, with Piety Hill chapter of Birmingham, the hostess group.

Michigan State Regent, Mrs. Roy V. Barnes of Royal Oak, spoke on various state projects, particularly scholarships and other aid for students at St. Mary's School for Indiana. Michigan DAR sponsors an Indian girl student from the state at the school.

Mrs. Walter Kleintert, state chairman for approved schools, reported progress on the dormitory for young boys being built and furnished by Michigan DAR for the DAR school at Tawassee, S. C.

Guests for the afternoon were Mrs. C. W. Myers, Mrs. Walter Birmingham and Mrs. Robert Schumacher.

General Richardson chapter will be hostess for the annual county picnic next year.

Just Keep Declining Invitations

By EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please tell me what I can do about a neighbor of ours, who every time she has a party asks my husband and me. We have gone to one or two of her parties but find we have nothing in common with either our hosts or their friends.

The last two parties she invited us to we declined saying that we had previous engagements. She is having another party shortly in which we have been invited. Evidently our past refusals have not discouraged her, and it is becoming very embarrassing.

Will you please tell me what I can do, without being rude, to get out of these invitations?

Answer: There is nothing possible for you, in-do-essence continue to have previous engagements, and by and by she will stop asking you.

Dear Mrs. Post: My oldest son is to be married soon, and the son is going to be best man at the wedding. The best man has been going with a young girl for the past eight months. They are not, however, engaged.

We would like to know where she should be seated at the wedding reception? My son (the best man) thinks she should be seated either at the bridal table with him or at the family table.

I do not think she should be seated at either of these tables, and that she should be seated with other younger friends. Will you please settle this?

Answer: You are right. As she is not engaged to your son, she should be seated with the other guests.

Nuptial Feted at Submarine Base

Reception in the Officers' Club at the submarine base in Groton, Conn., followed the wedding vows of Carol Ann Pilon and Lt. (jg.) Thomas M. Bader.

The Rev. Edward Bader of Toronto, Ont., officiated at his brother's nuptials this morning in the U.S. Coast Guard Chapel, New London, Conn.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Stuart Pilon of Southfield road, Birmingham, are parents of the bride.

The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. John E. Nolan of Los Angeles, Calif., and the late Edward Bader.

FLAT BOWS ACCENT FRONT

Applied motifs of Alencon lace enhanced the moded bodice and bouffant skirt of the ballerina-length bridal gown of white peau de soie.

Tiny flat bows accented the front of the crushed cummerbund.

The elbow-length veil of French silk illusion was secured by a quaint wreath of simulated orange blossoms.

White orchids, stephanotis and lilacs-of-the-valley were arranged in a hand cascade.

Evelyn May Pilon was her sister's only attendant.

William Bader of Princeton, N.J., stood as best man for his brother.

The bride is a graduate of the University of Michigan and her husband of Pomona College, Claremont, Calif.

The couple will be at home in New London, Conn., June 20, after a honeymoon at Bar Harbor, Maine.

Catholic Women Assemble Monday

The monthly meeting of the League of Catholic Women is slated 7:30 p.m. Monday at the league home on South Park street.

President Mrs. Delmo Chapdelaine will introduce a past State League of Catholic Women president, Mrs. Charles Reichling of Grosse Ile, who will show color slides of her trip around the world.

The first meeting of the newly formed Detroit North Suburban Alumnae Club of Alpha Gamma Delta Sorority at Rotunda Inn Thursday was highlighted by a buffet dinner and installation of officers. Arriving early to arrange tulip centerpieces were, from left, membership chairman Mrs. Donald Knapp of Neafie street, Eloise Bradley of Hatchery road, Drayton Plains, Mrs. Tom T. Reese of Warwick street, Sylvan Lake and new president Mrs. Carl Bleij of Birmingham.

Local Girl to Sing at EMU Sunday

Personal Glimpses of Pontiac Area People

Eleanor Hassenzahl, Eastern Michigan University Junior and music education major, will sing this Sunday in the sacred concert by the choral union for buccal laudation.

Daughter of the Earl Hassenzahl of Richmond Avenue, she has completed her spring recital requirements by two appearances in Pease Auditorium. At one recital, she played "How Down from Rodeo" a two-piano duet by Aaron Copland.

At the other recital, she played a piano solo, Scherzino Caravati de Vienne, opus 26, by Schumann.

She also presented a vocal solo in the departmental recital, "Green Pastures" by Sanders.

Miss Hassenzahl is president of her chapter of Mu Phi Epsilon National Music Society of Professional Musicians. On June 15 she will fly to Santa Monica, Calif. where she will represent her sorority at the national convention.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl C. Morrow (Barbara Arnesen) of Staten Island, N.Y., announce the birth of a daughter, Tracy Lee, May 28. Grandparents are the Harry Arnesen.

Women Go All-Out for Change in Style

By RUTH MILLETT
A party and feel conspicuously dowdy because everyone but us is right in style, we are more than ready for any new look. We just can't bear to be different.

And then, too, being feminine we love change. One style may be more becoming to us than any other, but we tire of it quickly anyway.

This is why we do our best to look sweet and girlish one season, sophisticated the next, and boyish the season after that.

We get as much of a kick out of trying to change our personalities by changing the style of our clothes and our hair as we do by pushing furniture around the living room for the simple reason that we are tired of looking at it, as it is.

And fortunately our men don't seem to mind. Oh, they set up a howl now and then when a fashion is too hideous (like the sack dress) but most of the time our quick changes seem to amuse them and they like to have us dressed in the latest fashion.

Maybe they don't want us to be "sensible" any more than we want to be sensible. So there's probably no reason for us to worry about not being sophisticated, mature women who have sense enough to find a becoming fashion and stick with it.

Change is much dearer to the feminine heart — and a lot more fun, too.

White Peonies brighten Crandall-Causbie Rite

White Peonies brighten the altar of Memorial Baptist Church for candlelight vows of Betty Jean Causbie and Darrell Ray Crandall, pledged to the Rev. Gerald Rapelle Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Causbie of Nelson street were hosts at their daughter's reception on the church lawn following the double service.

The Jack Crandalls of East Beverly Avenue, parents of the bridegroom, received with them. The bouffant bridal gown of white Chantilly lace featured a round neckline and basque waistline trimmed with scalloped lace.

WHITE PINK ROSES
The fingertip veil of silk illusion was caught by a clasp of seed pearls.

White and pink roses rested on the white testament held by the bride.

Blue-stemmed carnations complemented the cream and blue printed nylon dress for Nancy McKown, the bride's only attendant.

MISSIONARIES' CHILDREN — Mrs. T. Edward McCully of Pontiac, whose husband was a missionary to the Aucas Indians in the jungles of Ecuador, has established a home in Quito, Ecuador where she cares for children of missionaries. The boys and girls attend the school operated by the Christian and Missionary Alliance Church. Thirteen of the 18 cared for last year are shown in front of the home. Parents of the children are off in the jungle territory making friendly contact with the Indians, teaching them to read and write as well as telling of the Christian religion. The youngsters represent mission groups, Southern Baptist, Inter-American Indian, Church of the Brethren, Missionary Church Association and Plymouth Brethren.

Three Paintings Added to Group

Friends, Members of Kirk in the Hills Present Works of Great Artists

Three paintings were added to the fine collection of art works at the Kirk in the Hills this week, according to the Rev. Dr. Harold C. DeWitt, minister.

The largest of the paintings, "The Supper at Emmaus," impressively portrays Christ sharing an evening meal with three men in a home in the village of Emmaus after His Resurrection.

It was at this meal, when Jesus took bread and blessed it and gave it to them, that the men recognized Him.

Afterwards, they returned to Jerusalem, to tell the disciples that they had seen the Risen Christ. Donated by a deaconess of the Kirk and hanging in the Fireside Room of the Kirk House, this large canvas was painted by Jean Valentin (Jean de Boulogne), who is considered one of the great French painters of the early 17th century.

The two other paintings are smaller in size and hang on the north wall of the Kirk House foyer. "The Baptism of Christ," was painted by Jan Swart, one of the greatest painters of the early Dutch and Flemish painters.

This picture, painted on mahogany and presented to the Kirk by one of its parishioners, has been authenticated by Dr. Max Friedlander, the recognized authority on early Dutch and Flemish paintings.

"The Nativity," is also painted on wood and portrays Mary and Joseph and the Babe in the stable at Bethlehem.

This famed portrait of the Holy Family was painted by an artist of the School of Pietro Vannucci, or Il Perugino, as he is called because of the city in Italy where he spent most of his life.

Raphael was a member of this noted company of Italian painters whose works were chiefly religious. This canvas is the gift of a former trustee of the Kirk.

The City Wide Choir Union will present its chorus of 100 voices in a spring concert at 4 p.m. Sunday in Macedonia Baptist Church, 512 Pearl St.

Under the direction of Levi Edwards the program will include "Great and Marvelous," by Farmer, "Battle Hymn of the Republic," arranged by Fred Waring, and "How Great Thou Art," a favorite gospel song of the Rev. Billy Graham.

Other classical and spiritual numbers will also be sung. Mrs. Pecola Burnes will play the organ and Mrs. Mary Manning, the piano.

Churches represented in the chorus will be Trinity Baptist, Newman A.M., New Bethel Baptist, New Hope Baptist, St. James Missionary Baptist and Bray Temple.

Others are Providence Missionary Baptist, Liberty Baptist, St. John Methodist, Messiah Baptist, Antioch and Macedonia.

MEASURING SONS FOR NEW CLOTHES — Mike, 5, Matthew, 4, and Steve, 8, (shown from left) are being measured by their mother, Mrs. T. Edward McCully for clothing for a three-year supply. Mrs. McCully and the boys are in Pontiac visiting her parents, the Harold F. Hobolts of 362 N. Johnson Ave. Mrs. McCully is in charge of a home in Quito, Ecuador for children whose parents are missionaries in jungle territory. During the school year they attend classes. Through vacation months the boys and girls are with their mothers and fathers.

HOME IN QUITO — Supervised by Mrs. T. Edward McCully of Pontiac, the home in Quito, Ecuador for children of missionaries was built two years ago. The stucco house with its 21 rooms and many closets is just a block from the school provided by the Christian and Missionary Alliance Church. An Indian couple assists Mrs. McCully with meals and housework.

Missionary Visits Family

Back in Pontiac visiting family and friends from Quito, Ecuador lives with her husband and small son in New York.

Mrs. T. Edward McCully Jr. and sons, Mike, Matthews and Steve.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold F. Hobolts of 362 N. Johnson Ave., Mrs. McCully is in charge of a home in Quito where she cares for children while parents carry on mission work in Ecuadorian jungles.

Mrs. McCully is also the organist over HCB on programs shortwaved to all parts of the world.

She is presently purchasing clothing for her family for the next three years.

The former Marlow Hobolts, she is the wife of the late Rev. T. Edward McCully Jr., one of the five missionaries slain by Aucas Indians in the jungles of Ecuador in January 1956.

Back with the Aucas Indians are Elizabeth Elliot and her five-year-old daughter, Valeria. With her sister-in-law Rachel, she preaches and teaches the people who were responsible for her husband's death. Betty is a member of the Christian Missions in Many Lands.

Working with Betty and Rachel is Dayuma, the Aucas girl who lost her father long before her people killed the missionaries.

It was Dayuma who helped Betty and Rachel learn the Aucas language. She is now in the jungle with her new friends giving the message of the Bible to her people in an understanding way.

Oliver Flemming, wife of the late Rev. Peter Flemming who was one of the five missionaries, is back in the States. She is married and has a son in New York.

Silent Caper Comes Off

Sacco-Vanzetti Slanted but Worthy TV Treatise

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Ever searching for new material, television came up Friday night with a treatment of the Sacco-Vanzetti case, which still can raise tempers after 40 years.

NBC presented the first half of "The Sacco-Vanzetti story," a full-scale effort set to employ the largest cast of a live TV show, 170. The mission was a worthy one—presenting a social treatise to the vast audience. Unfortunately, it was merely that, a treatise. And a slanted one, at that. From the very start, author Reginald Rose left no doubts where his passions lay. After a double killing in a shoe factory holdup, a man presents police with a crystal ball machine he said indicated that the crime was done by "furriners."

"Except for this meeting," explained narrator Ben Grauer, "there may have been no Sacco-Vanzetti case."

OVERDID IT

Grauer, like the sepulchral voice of the old March of Time, was always there to underscore each misdeed of justice against the anarchist immigrant pair. No doubt the record shows evidence of railroad, but the TV show poured point on point.

The issue of personal liberty is always with us, but heavy-handed treatment made the Sacco-Vanzetti case seem as remote as the Salem witch trial. The script and direction were too jump to preserve continuity. It's fine to have crowd scenes and fast cuts and clever angles, but the production itself is worthless if the audience is dealt a tract instead of a human story.

For those less interested in social consciousness, ABC was offering an interesting experiment in TV technique on "Ti Sunset Strip." It was a talkless woodcut called "The Silent Caper."

Actually, there was never any doubt about woodcut. The question was: How can he do it? Meaning, how can Roger Smith capture a full-hour's adventure without a single line of dialogue? Folks who asked that may not recall that for 25 years movie makers managed some pretty lively entertainment without the aid of sound.

Indeed, author-star Smith made full use of silent film technique, borrowing some tricks from the serials of Ruth Roland and Rin-Tin-Tin. But it was an absorbing hour that was well worth the experiment.

There are about 35,000 plants in the United States for the manufacturing and processing of various dairy products.

PET DOCTOR

By A. W. Miller, D.V.M.

Question: I understand that colic is a common ailment of horses. How do we recognize and treat it?

Answer: Colic does indeed occur frequently in horses. It can be as distressing to the owner and his horse as it is to the mother and her new baby.

Should the animal suddenly start to sweat, kick at his flank, groan and roll on his back, you are probably witnessing an attack of colic.

Although most cases are simple and respond to treatment, your veterinarian should be called, as the symptoms could indicate a deeper trouble such as a twisted intestine, thrombosis of the mesenteric artery or a urinary disturbance.

While you wait, walk the horse to prevent him from injuring himself. If professional aid is unavailable, try one of the following old-fashioned, but time-tested remedies: Two to five ounces of whiskey in approximately one half pint of water, one or two ounces of ground ginger in a little syrup, or one half to one ounce of medicinal turpentine in one to two quarts of mineral oil.

Small Fry Had Answer That Made Good Sense
MALESTER, Okla. (UPI) — A poll was conducted here among grade school students who were asked to rank the 10 most intelligent animals. The order was chimpanzee, orangutan, gorilla, monkey, dog, cat, raccoon, elephant, pig, and horse.

When asked why the pig before the horse, one small fry said: "You never see pigs having to carry people on their backs."

Reflections

BE ALERT FOR CHILDREN

Children are on their own without restrictions of school yard and school authority. Children are full of GO; we can turn that "go" to "good"—be alert. Watch! Anticipate and slow down.

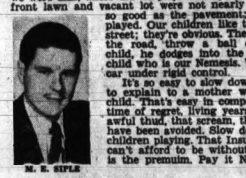

Our law says roads and streets are for vehicles but children don't believe it. When we were kids, where did we play? Back yard, front lawn and vacant lot were not nearly so good as the pavement; that's where we played. Our children like to scramble in the street; they're obvious. The kids playing near the road, throw a ball or chase another child, he dodges into the street. It is that child who is our Nemesis. We must keep our car under rigid control.

It's so easy to slow down and so difficult to explain to a mother why we struck her child. That's easy in comparison—to a lifetime of regret, living years listening to that awful thud, that scream, that could so easily have been avoided. Slow down when you see children playing. That insurance is free. You can't afford to be without it. Being careful is the premium. Pay it NOW.

Hitler's Sister Died Unknown

The Tales She Could Tell...

BERCHTESGADEN, Germany (UPI) — Frau Paula Wolf lived out her years quietly in a ramshackle house not far from Adolf Hitler's "eagle's nest."

The currents of postwar German life passed her by. Germans denounced their Fuehrer, and tried his aides for war crimes. Frau Wolf ignored their opinions and clung to the pride she had felt for Hitler since girlhood.

Tourists and American soldiers climbed over the site of Hitler's mountain retreat and talked about the Nazi Party meetings, the showdown talks with war-threatened nations, and the lavish banquets that took place there.

Frau Wolf could have given them first-hand impressions of the life in the nest. She was there. But no one bothered to visit her house near the Berchtesgaden railway station.

FEW KNEW

Only the townspeople and a few friends knew that the frail, grey-haired spinster was Hitler's sister. These friends planned a quiet funeral for Paula Wolf, who died Wednesday at the age of 64 after a long fight with stomach cancer.

It was a characteristically unobtrusive end for a woman who lived in seclusion while her brother rose to power.

She shunned publicity during and after the Nazi era. At Hitler's urging, she adopted the name Wolf. She attended functions with her brother at times, but always remained in the background.

At a time when Hitler ruled most of Europe and the treasures from looted countries poured into Berlin, she lived in a simple two-room apartment in Vienna. She had moved across town and out of a single room at his insistence.

Pay Hike Bill Heads for Floor

House Measure Would Give Federal Workers 9 Per Cent Rise

WASHINGTON (AP) — Enough signatures of a House members have been collected to bring the federal pay increase bill to the floor for action this session.

The measure, which won't get to the floor before June 13, calls for a 9 per cent across-the-board increase for 500,000 postal workers and 1,200,000 federal employees.

If the measure should win congressional approval, it faces a certain veto from President Eisenhower. He has said repeatedly no federal pay increases are justified this year.

The House leadership Friday won a campaign to get the 219 signatures needed to take the bill away from the deadlocked Rules Committee.

Let the Wife Do It

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — Gov. Robert B. Meyner, asked what he plans to do when his governorship ends in January 1962, said Friday: "I want to disclose that I'm thinking of having Mrs. Meyner run for governor while I devote myself to entertaining the tourists at the governor's mansion."

India, Yugoslavia, Viet Nam Get Loans

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States Friday granted loans totaling $52,700,000 to India, Viet Nam and Yugoslavia for development projects.

The biggest loan was $21 million to be used for construction of a plastics and chemicals plant near Zagreb in Yugoslavia.

Another $6 million was loaned to India for electric power development and $9,700,000 to Viet Nam for railroad improvements.

The State Department said that of the Yugoslavia loan $5 million will be spent in Great Britain for equipment available only there, and the remainder will go for American equipment and services. Chemicals are urgently needed by

It said plastics and synthetic rubber are government to help increase emphasis on other industries particularly those which raise levels of consumption.

Selfridge F102 Jets Grounded for Check

MOUNT CLEMENS (UPI) — All F102 Delta Daggers at Selfridge AFB near here have been grounded after two of the jets crashed landed in nearby cornfields within a month.

The 20 jets of the 71st Fighter Interceptor Group will be inspected by teams from the Air Force and from Convair Division of General Dynamics, the manufacturer.

Air force officials at the base said there was no suspicion of sabotage. Neither pilot was hurt in the crash landings.

During the inspection period a squadron of F106 Dagger Darts will maintain the air defense of the Detroit area.

Jane Had No Elevator in the Elevator Shaft

NEW YORK — Jane Morgan, the abundant blonde who has beautified Ed Sullivan's TV show 40 times, will be waking up this summer asking herself, "What country am I in?"

"Let me see," Jane could inquire of Jane. "Am I in London, Paris, or Berlin — or at Kamehameha, Me., or at the Iowa State Fair — or the Indiana State Fair?"

Her husband, Larry Smith, conceivably could say that it's sure nice to be back home in New Bern, N.C. "In the very house," he could add, "that the Yankee general, Burnside, had as his headquarters in 1862."

Jane is an outstanding illustration of today's non-stop glamour girl singers whose ubiquity makes you marvel. After doing her delightful show the other night at the Plaza Perian Room, where not one Perian was to be seen, Jane spoke of the Paris she knew when she couldn't get started in America.

"My mother and I were living on the Rue du Rouleau, which literally means gutter," Jane said.

"There was a beautiful elevator shaft in the apartment building, but no elevator in it."

"Since we lived several flights up, this made an impression on us. After several months of no elevator, I found the concierge one day down in the bar where he'd had about 40 aperitifs."

"When are we going to get that elevator in the elevator shaft?" I asked him.

"He said, 'Never! You think I'm crazy? I couldn't afford an elevator—and elevator shaft, too!'"

Jane spluttered, "But why do you have an elevator shaft?" He replied, "To impress people who might want to rent an apartment because they thought they were going to have an elevator."

Jane, a Bostonian, originally tossed over some very wealthy suitors to marry Larry Smith who was working in her act when they got serious in Montreal, and at El Morocco last summer. Larry's a gifted, good-looking young dancer and musician. They went home to Bern, N.C., to get married and Jane subsequently made plans to get confirmed in his church there, the Episcopal.

A few weeks ago they were on a plane en route there for the confirmation.

The plane was depressurized and Jane got ill and they had to deplane in Philadelphia.

Thus the confirmation may be part of this summer's schedule.

Ed Sullivan's recuperation after surgery will include an ocean voyage to Europe. . . Broadway and Hollywood veteran Hester McElshon explains why he finally made a TV western: "I wanted my kids to see what I do for a living—and that's all they watch!"

Weather Slows Up State Road Building

LANSING (AP) — Rain and wet soil conditions have dealt a set-back to Michigan's ambitious road building program this spring, the State Highway Department said.

Commissioner John C. Mackie commented that whereas contractors' giant earthmoving equipment normally can work six out of eight weeks in April and May the statewide average for the past two months was only two weeks.

The program was bogged down by mud the rest of the time.

Instead of the planned six million cubic yards of earth, about one third that volume has been moved in connection with road construction.

Mackie said that when a good stretch of dry weather comes some contractors will be expected to push ahead on a 24-hour round-the-clock schedule. Otherwise, major grading operations will not be completed in time to avoid delay in opening of some major construction projects.

Board Interprets Picket Ban Law

NLRB Rules Workers Must Decide on Union Before Negotiation

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Labor Relations Board held unanimously that any picketing to force an employer to initiate dealings with a union is illegal.

The ruling is an important interpretation of the ban against organizing picketing contained in the new labor law enacted by Congress last year. The ban is intended to prevent an employer from being forced to deal with a union until his employees decide they want the union.

Teamsters Union Local 229, Long Beach, N.Y., argued that such picketing by a previously unrecognized union is illegal only if the picketing is accompanied by force such as violent or mass picketing.

But the NLRB held that even peaceful picketing is illegal when its object is to compel the employer to select the union as their bargaining representative.

The NLRB ordered the Teamsters local to cease such tactics against Stan-Jay Auto Parts & Accessories Corp. at Long Beach. The firm is a distributor of auto parts, and employs five persons.

Because the local had notified the company's suppliers of the picketing, no deliveries or pickups were made at the Stan-Jay firm during the picketing. The NLRB held this violated another part of the new law.

Ike Is Presented Sheet of Stamps Honoring Women

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower Friday received an album containing a sheet of the new "American Woman" commemorative four-cent stamps.

Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield made the presentation at a ceremony in the President's office attended by Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell, Mrs. Alice K. Leopold, assistant to Mitchell, and Miss Mary Anderson, who was first director of the Women's Bureau in the Labor Department.

There will be 100 million stamps in the special issue marking the 40th anniversary of the creation of the Women's Bureau.

Summerfield said this unusually large printing was prompted by heavy advance demand. It included requests from U. S. Information Agency offices around the world.

Miss Anderson was appointed in 1920 during the Harding administration and headed the bureau in three Republican and two Democratic administrations until her retirement in 1945.

Star Gives Reasons for Top Rating

Bond's Wagon Train Rolls Right Along

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — If the rating systems are accurate, the most popular TV series of the 1959-60 season is Wagon Train.

Why? Its principal star, Ward Bond, has been appearing in horse operas since 1929—more than 100 in all—and is in a position to know what makes an old-fashioned horse opera, especially Wagon Train.

Bond, as gruff and outspoken as the Major Adams character he portrays on the series, says the program's success is due to its format.

"The show never stands still," he said. "The wagon train keeps moving from place to place. That way it can contact any kind of character or group—Indians, rustlers, the Army, settlers, and outlaws. It travels through towns, plains, mountains and desert."

"With a format like that we can come up with a variety of shows that other programs just can't match."

Bond probably knows as much about westerns as any star in the business.

He played heavies and sidekicks with such 30-gallon heroes of the past as Buck Jones, Tim McCoy, George O'Brien, Ken Maynard and Monty Gibson. He's probably drawn more guns than the Dalton boys.

TELLS OF PEOPLE "Another reason why our show stays up there is that it tells about people instead of things," he went on.

"You can keep the public interested in what happens to other people, and that's what we've done for the past three years. Looks like that's what we'll be doing next."

New Jersey Population Rises by 24.7 Per Cent

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — New Jersey has a population of 6,031,821, an increase of 24.7 per cent over 1950, U. S. Census Bureau figures showed today.

The state's population in 1950 was 4,835,329.

rating, too. The program has been violence. I hear complaints if we renewed for the 1960-61 season."

"I have too much violence, and we get kicks if there's too little action. So we try to keep everything in balance."

Bond has an explanation for the success of Wagon Train too. "That show stays in one place, and has the same characters every week, which makes it absolutely different from ours."

"They have high ratings because there always is some new element coming into town. Instead of moving around like we do, the problems come to them. The difference is we go out looking for our adventure."

"We also take it easy on the horses."

Castro's Land Reform in Trouble

HAVANA (AP) — Some well-placed Cubans say Fidel Castro's agrarian reform program—laying out of his social and economic revolution—is faltering, and that the Prime Minister may soon give his whole attention to trying to save it.

The National Institute of Agrarian Reform, which is running the vast program of land redistribution and economic development, appears to be suffering from lack of organization and proper direction, these sources report.

Some officials of the Castro regime say the institute has reached a state of virtual bankruptcy through waste and inefficiency, pouring millions of dollars into projects which may never pay off.

"INRA," as Cubans call the institute, has developed into an economic superstate. Created to take land away from the big owners and give it to the landless peasants, it now operates large-scale order shipping boxes.

industrial, import, export and commercial activities.

Capt. Antonio Nunez Jimenez, the left-wing director of the institute, is now on a commercial mission to the Soviet bloc. The trip is considered by some a convenient way of easing him out of the picture.

A bumper tomato crop was produced and could have been sold in the United States at top prices last winter. But the institute report that someone forgot to

The institute took over the marketing of all eggs in Cuba, only to let an estimated 350,000 spoil in warehouses while seeking better prices.

An even bigger blunder may be in the making. As fast as the 1960 sugar crop was harvested, INRA began seizing thousands of acres of canefields and incorporating them into state cooperatives. But in most areas officials made no move to start the usual cropland cleanup, fertilization and replanting.

INRA has other troubles. Food shortages have been frequent in various parts of the island nation. Quality has dropped in places.

Don't Let Nikita Split America

Johnson Says Nation Should Back Like Now, Elect Dem in January

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) says Americans should unite behind President Eisenhower until January—and then unite behind a Democratic party president.

The Senate majority leader claimed Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's aim "is to divide America and to scare America... and to divide America from her allies."

Johnson, who is in the running but so far not the race for the Democratic presidential nomination, gave his views Friday at a news conference and reception where he met New Jersey's delegates to the Democratic National Convention.

He said the actions of a president should be subject to study but felt that an attack on the President by any American was "doing Khrushchev's job."

"I won't do Khrushchev's job for him," the senator said. Johnson also said the Soviet Premier was greatly mistaken if he felt a new president would accept his ideas at a summit conference.

The senator said he himself was "not a summit man," and believed a summit conference should be attended by the United States only under very unusual circumstances.

3 Hillsdale Girls Try a Venetian Water Treatment

HILLSDALE (UPI) — Three young Hillsdale girls, annoyed because the boys weren't giving them enough attention, armed themselves with water guns, climbed in their car and squirted all passing male motorists who didn't look at them, police said Friday.

Authorities said the girls were apprehended after they had received numerous complaints but no charges were placed against them.

"We just explained that a sweet smile will attract more lasting attention than vinegar—or water," one officer said.

Russian Leaders Afraid of Big Greeting for Ike?

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's invitation to visit the Soviet Union may have been withdrawn because many Soviet leaders did not want to see their people giving him a great welcome, says W. Averell Harriman.

Harriman, former ambassador to Moscow, expressed that view Thursday in testimony to a Senate subcommittee on government operations. The group is studying possible revision of government policy-making machinery to meet cold war demands.

Harriman said Eisenhower would have received a tremendous reception. He said the cancellation of the visit "is a permanent loss."

He added that the Russian people are eager for friendship with the United States.

Harriman said Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's "wings may have been clipped a bit" because of the breakdown of the Paris summit conference.

Keller Suggests Industrial Swap

Ex-Chrysler President's Plan for Executives Is Michigan Week Aim

DETROIT (U-P. T. Keller, former president and chairman of Chrysler Corp., has suggested that the state's industrial executives swap jobs for a day in the 1961 Michigan Week.

Keller's suggestion came at a meeting of the Michigan Week Public Relations Board.

The swap would be patterned after that now engaged in by mayors of the state's various cities during Michigan Week.

The proposal now will go to the Michigan Week Executive Board for action.

WOULD SHARE PROBLEMS
"I believe it would be a good thing," Keller said, "if we could get at least a hundred top executives of industry to exchange positions with industrial leaders in other communities in future Michigan Weeks."

"The auto manufacturer in Detroit would become acquainted with the problems of a cement plant at Potosky or a furniture making operation in Grand Rapids."

Michigan Week, dedicated to advertising the Water Wonderland state and its assets, is scheduled to be observed May 21-27 in 1961.

Indians Take Larry's Scalp, 6-2; Now Go After Frank

Tigers Manage Only Two Hits at Cleveland

Ex-Bengals Fraconca, Kuenn Help Against Detroit

CLEVELAND (UPI)—Paul Foytack, a disappointment so far this season, got the job today of trying to pitch the Detroit Tigers back into the win column.

The Cleveland Indians joined the Tigers and Frank Lary 6-2 last night in the opening game of their series here and the Bengals managed to collect only two singles.

The Tigers did all of their scoring in the seventh on two singles and three walks off Indian starter Jim Perry who gained his fifth victory.

Lou Berberet walked, then re-buffed hurler Bob Bruce and Eddie Yost singled, Yost driving in the first tally. Perry then issued passes to pinch hitter Sandy Amoros and Charley Maxwell forcing in Bruce.

At that point Johnny Klippstein came on and stifled the Tigers the rest of the way.

The Indians scored four runs in the third on singles by Wendell Bell, Perry, Jim Fennell and Ken Aspromonte. Harvey Kuenn's infield out and another single by Tito Francona.

They added two more in the fifth on a home by Aspromonte with Perry on base.

Lary suffered his fifth defeat against four victories.

Rocky Colavito, who had connected for two hits Thursday night, went back into his slump and failed to hit in four trips.

Foytack, who has been knocked out in the second inning in two of his last three starts, will oppose Barry Latman today.

Hogan's Back in Old Groove

Veteran Pro in Tie for Lead at Memphis With 132

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Ben Hogan, his game back in its old groove, was rated the pro to beat in the $30,000 Memphis Open Golf Tournament today.

Two consistent 66s gave Hogan a shot of the lead. With him at 132 were happy-go-lucky J. C. Goslee of Knoxville, Tenn., and Bob Rosburg of Palo Alto, Calif.

The famed Hogan, from Fort Worth, ruled as the favorite on the basis of a reputation so impressive it amounts to psychological warfare.

Hogan polished off the 6,500-yard, 34-36-70 Colonial Country Club course in 33-53 Friday.

Goslee cut his first round 67 back to a slick 34-31-65 in his surge from the ranks. The wisecracking Tennessee gave full credit to a 50-year-old, mallet-headed "lucky" putter.

Rosburg snuffed a chance to move to the head of the pack. The paunchy PGA champion, 33-34-67, finished a bogey on 17 and a frustrating three-putt 18th.

Bracketed at 135 were San Francisco's Ken Venturi and Bill Collins, the powerful Baltimore baller.

Record Holders Face Tough Foes in Marine Meet

QUANTICO, Va. (U-P) — Two world record holders try to fend off a couple of pre-tenders to their crown today as the 1960 All-Marine track and field championships come to a close.

Pole vaulter Bob Gutowski and javelin thrower Al Cantello were the men.

Cantello, who holds the world vaulting record of 15 feet, 8 1/2 inches outdoors, was challenged by his Quantico teammate, Mel Schwartz. Three times already this year Schwartz has topped 15 feet.

Cantello's big opposition figured to come from 20-year-old Jan Siskorsky of Camp Pendleton, Calif., who has a toss of 257 feet, 4 inches to his credit. Cantello holds the world mark of 282 feet, 3 1/2 inches.

Ex-Tiger Pitcher Stops Orioles, 4-1

By The Associated Press

Left-hander Hal Woodeshick hadn't pitched a complete game in nine tries since 1956. Washington hadn't won in a row this season. So who do Woodeshick and the Senators break through against?

It figures. They do it against Baltimore's American League leading Orioles, ending the Birds' winning string at three.

Woodeshick, never a loser against Baltimore in his brief career, allowed just five singles for a 4-1 victory over Detroit Friday night. The loser was Milt Pappas, who had won six straight from the Senators since '58.

It was only the third defeat in 13 games for the Birds, but chopped their lead to 1 1/2 games. Second-place Cleveland closed in with a 6-2 victory over Detroit. Kansas City knocked off Chicago's third-place White Sox 7-2 as Bud Daley became the first to win seven in the AL. New York beat Boston 4-3.

Bob Allison made it a breeze for the Senators, driving in a first inning run with a triple and then hitting a two-run homer as Washington scored three in the fourth against Pappas (5-5). Woodeshick, whose only two decisions are victories over Baltimore and Cleveland, struck out six and now is 3-0 lifetime against the Birds. He lost a shutout in the third inning when he gave up two of his five walks and a single by Jackie Brandt.

The A's, winning six out of seven, handed Early Wynn (2-4), a third straight defeat. Ken Hamlin's two-out, two-run single gave Kansas City a 2-1 lead in the second, and after Dick Brown's homer tied it in the same inning.

Law Wins No. 8, Bucs Hold Edge

Vern Law picked up where Bob Friend left off and the Pittsburgh Pirates still have a two-game lead in the National League thanks to the best "two-man" staff in the majors.

And after Friend (6-2) closed out a home stand with a three-hit shutout over Cincinnati, Law Friday night became the first to win eight in the majors, pitching an eight-hit shutout at Philadelphia as the Pirates gained their sixth straight victory, 3-0.

Second place San Francisco defeated St. Louis 12-2 on the six-hit pitching of Mike McCormick and Joe Amalfitano's first major league home run. Milwaukee slugged four home runs and beat Cincinnati 6-4. The Chicago Cubs defeated Los Angeles 6-5 in 10 innings.

Law made it four in a row since his only defeat, striking out four and walking just one for his seventh complete game and fourth decision over the Phils. He gave up three singles that loaded the bases in the seventh, but saved his season by striking out pinch hitter Wally Pate.

John Bushardt (1-4) was the loser as the Pirates scored three in the third. A two-run single by Roberto Clemente capped it after Rocky Nelson's bases-loaded fly fell for a single when left fielder Tony Curry and shortstop Joe Koppe collided. Curry was knocked out. Koppe suffered a sprained wrist.

While the Pirates opened a 11-game road trip, the Giants evened their current home stand record at 3-3 when Amalfitano's first major league home run off Ernie Broglio (5-2) broke a 1-1 tie in the third inning. The Cards scored their other run in the fifth. Hal Smith singled and came in on rookie Julian Javier's triple, but Javier then was out at the plate when he tried to score on Joe Cunningham's grounder to first.

Javier had half of the Cards' hits and swatted a second triple with two out in the seventh. McCormick (7-3), who walked one and struck out three for his eighth complete game, got out of that jam when Cunningham popped. All four Milwaukee home runs were solo shots—by Hank Aaron, Billy Bruton, Del Crandall and Johnny Logan — off Jay Hook (4-1). Crandall's and Bruton's came in a clinching four-run third inning and an error. Carl Willey, 0-5 against the rest of the league, beat the Reds a third time. He had given up just three hits, one Frank Robinson's second inning homer, until the ninth, then needed Don McMahon's two-out relief after Ed Bailey hit a three-run homer.

The two right-handers have put away 14 of the Pirates' 29 victories. They've pitched the Bucs five shutouts. They have all 11 complete games hung up by the staff.

TIMBER TOPPER — The state's best prep high hurdles runner tonight tries for another gold medal to add to a fine collection made this spring. Leon Prentiss, rated No. 1, off his 147 record, leads a fast field in today's All-County Open Track Championships at Southfield H.S. Prentiss, PCH's ace, was snatched during a recent dual meet here. Andy Terry is the chief just behind Leon.

Preps End Track Season With County Test Today

Southfield High School's athletic field today was the Mecca for some 20 or more schoolboy athletes, in what is probably the final big track and field meet this spring for area tracksters.

Some 20 schools from Oakland county were represented in the first annual All-County Open High School Championships. In the field are some of the state's finest schoolboy performers, headed by Pontiac Central's Michigan high school champion.

There are also four state champions, in individual events, led by record-setting Eredell (Bill) Pritchett, who could better his own national (junior) shot mark today. There's ace hurdler Leon Prentiss, broad-jumper Steve Jackson (Seaholm and Hazel Park's) Bob Fulcher (880) all current champions, among the entries.

"There should be a lot of interest in this meet," said PCH grad, Jack Habel, who will be among the spectators, with his two sons for today's events. "There appear to be an exceptionally fine lot of boys from this area, this year," says Jack, "and this meet should produce some real thrilling events."

Preliminaries got under way at 2 o'clock, and finals will start at 5 o'clock.

KALAMAZOO — Only two Pontiac area tennis players have survived the hot pace of the annual MHSAA title tourney on Kalamazoo College courts here today.

Birmingham Seaborn's doubles team of Sisson-Smith this morning reached the semifinals against Kalamazoo's High pair, Hodgman-Betty. The Maples pair previously defeated Nash-Harkman (Owosso) 6-4, 6-3, and won over Olin-Bowers (Hamtramck) 7-5, 6-3 in a resounding upset.

In other matches Hunt (PCH) lost to Wiersma (Holland) 6-1, 6-2; (Class B) — Coghlin (Cranbrook) lost to Windemulder (Hol. Christian) 6-1, 6-1; Steed (Cranbrook) lost to Walters (HC) 4-6, 6-4; (B doubles) — Cranbrook's Rogers-Lang, def. Woods-Nichols (BC L'kview) 6-2, 7-5, lost to Kelly-Jacobs (Sturgis) 6-4, 6-4; Berkley (A), Houghton defeated Mead (GRCC) 6-4, 6-3, lost to Chapin (B.C. City) 6-3, 6-2.

Woman Golfer Fires Ace

A Sylvan Lake housewife has accounted for the first repeated hole-in-one by a woman golfer in the Pontiac area this year. Mrs. Paige Cavalier, 1644 Rosedale, posted her ace yesterday at Silver Lake Golf Club. Playing with Mrs. Rose Smith, Mrs. Charlene Smith and Mrs. Marge Marshall, Mrs. Cavalier ended the 189-yard 8th hole with a 9-iron.

Woman Golfer Fires Ace

The heralded shot competition was won by Parry O'Brien with a total of 62 birdies in 122.2. It was the 13th sub-4-minute mile for the record holder at 3:54.5. Grell, ex-Oregon star and the 1959 NCAA champion, ran his best ever — 4:01.

Woman Golfer Fires Ace

Elliot, completing his American tour, showed his great finishing kick to whip runner-up Jim Grell by 10 yards in 3:52.2. It was the 13th sub-4-minute mile for the record holder at 3:54.5. Grell, ex-Oregon star and the 1959 NCAA champion, ran his best ever — 4:01.

Woman Golfer Fires Ace

Dave Davis, the "run-away," reappeared after a hitchhiking trip to Pennsylvania. His best was 1:21.3. Dallas, long slated to appear, didn't.

Woman Golfer Fires Ace

The 20-year-old Styrons were a busy pair. Don won the 220-yard low-hurdles in 22.2, the 400-meter hurdles in 1:31.5, and placed third to Lee Calhoun in the 110-meter high, Dave won the 100-

Clarkston Junior Ball Program Needs Leaders

Anyone for managing a junior baseball team this summer? A program being set up in Clarkston is badly in need of leaders for several hundred youngsters wanting to play ball.

All interested persons should contact Mr. J. Edgar White, Jr., director of the Clarkston Junior Ball Program, who will lead the program. The same holds true for any teams still wanting to register for play.

Competition in three leagues will start June 20 and continue through Aug. 28. The Widget loop is for boys 8 and 9 years of age. Midgits are 10 through 12 and Class V is for those 13 and 14.

Fight Fans Go Crazy at St. Nicholas Bout

NEW YORK (AP)—Hot-headed fans threw chairs into the ring and created an ugly, wild scene in St. Nicholas Arena Friday after New York's Emile Griffith was awarded a split decision over Argentinean Jorge Fernandez over a bruising 10-round television fight. The stocky, hard-hitting South American finished strong and when the verdict went against him many of the 1,261 fans left in a roar of protest. They were some of the more volatile fans in the hot, sticky small club, tossed five chairs and other objects from the long balcony into the ring.

Some of the customers splintered chairs by smashing them against the facade of the balcony. Three persons, including ring announcer Johnny Adame, were hit by the chairs but none of them was hurt enough to require medical attention.

The booing, screaming, and pounding went on for about 15 minutes before special police were able to quell the disorders. Two prelate fighters, who were to have fought after the main event, were ordered out of the ring by Deputy Commissioner Jack Duberstein. They never did get to fight.

Gen. Melvin Krulwich, chairman of the New York State Athletic Commission, said early today he would look into this. "He referred both to the rioting and the decision. The general had left his ringside seat before the decision was announced and was leaving the arena when the fight was still flying.

Charles Johnson, American manager of Fernandez, said he was going to protest the decision to the commission on Monday.

Sno-Bol 9 Still Hot in Softball

Keith Outpitches Hall for Eight-Inning 4-1 Win Over Stadium

Sno-Bol continues to be the hottest team in the American division of the City Softball League. Last night the Sno-Bol club went eight innings to gain a 4-1 victory over Stadium Inn at Northside Park. Harlan (Pat) Keith of Sno-Bol and Stadium's Doug Hall waged a bitter mound war for seven innings, then Sno-Bol broke the game wide open in the top of the 8th with three runs on two hits as eight men batted.

Cecil Hodges, who had two hits for the game, and Tony Studdt delivered key blows in Sno-Bol's big inning. Keith allowed four hits while Hall was touched for five.

Dale Badger of Dave's Beef, bled slumped an inside-the-park homer with two runners aboard in the 7th stanza, but he wasn't enough to prevent Elks No. 610 from pounding out a 10-7 triumph in an American division action on the Northside diamond.

Two infield errors and a stonk by Jim Glynn in the bottom of the 7th brought O'Neill Realty a 7-4 decision over Phillip's Sporting Goods in a National League contest at Beaudette Park.

In an international loop game minutes before midnight, Rogers Electric collected 10 hits and Don Plumb hurled three-hit ball in a 12-1 rout of the Northland Rockets.

Wall, Casper Listed for 3rd Buick Open

FLINT (UPI)—Art Wall, Jr., and Billy Casper, winners of the first two Buick Opens, today submitted their entries for the third annual event to be played July 14 at Warwick Hills Golf and Country Club.

Wall pocketed the $3,000 first prize last year and Casper won in 1958.

Sam Sneed's entry in the tournament was announced yesterday.

'Can Do Anything' but Find Right Girl'

Run Down 9-Time Bigamist

FRANK GRATTO

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A Bible-quoting painter, with great talent for getting married but none for getting divorced, was arrested Friday on nine counts of bigamy.

Frank Gratto, 38, told police he was just trying to find "the right woman so I could settle down."

Gratto was arrested on a Portland, Ore., warrant charging seven counts of bigamy after a wild chase which ended when police flushed him out of a crab apple tree with three warning shots.

The short, slender suspect, with almost as many aliases as wives, told police his skills included portrait painting, house painting and aircraft mechanical work.

"I can do anything but find the right girl," he said.

Gratto, also known as William Danney, Frank Edward Curtis and William Edward Yates, quoted liberally from the epistles of St. Paul in telling police a rambling narrative of many marriages and no divorces.

The warrant on which he was arrested named him as William Danney and was signed by Claire Dorothy Danney and dated Aug. 21, 1957.

Gratto admitted marrying Claire and going on to other unions without bothering with a divorce.

He brushed over the six other alleged wives in Oregon and said only that his first wife "had it in for me."

BACKTRACKING

Gratto married a Berkeley, Calif., woman now known as Mrs. Gerald Cassidy in 1954, but the marriage was annulled after six months, police said.

In 1957 he married Isabelle Bentley, Berkeley, in Reno and left her after three weeks, he told police. He also said he lived with a woman in Sacramento, Calif., and one in Philadelphia.

The case recalled the adventures of Francis H. Van Wye, the "Ding Dong Daddy of the Car Line," who was placed on probation in 1948 after marrying 18 wives without shedding them legally.

Gratto said he had "finally found the right girl." This was his present wife, Mercedes Yates, 33, who came here from Guatemala 14 years ago. They met 20 months ago, got married and have a 9-months-old daughter, Cheri.

"This kind of trouble knocks me flat on my back," Gratto said. "I'm 39 and it's hard to get another start. But I will."

Both Berkeley, Calif., women described Gratto as "attractive, well dressed and big spender," especially with their money.

IMPRESSIVE BOY

Mrs. Bentley said he allotted her two dollars a week from their joint bank account and Mrs. Cassidy said he gave her five dollars from theirs.

"He was a very impressive boy—he certainly had me fooled," said Mrs. Bentley. She added Gratto never knew about their two-year-old daughter.

Donna, since he left her not knowing she was pregnant.

Gratto's capture was a comic opera affair which began when detectives went to his home to question him about the Oregon warrant. He indignantly denied the charges and excused himself to go to the bathroom.

From there he went out a third story window.

With six cartloads of police on his trail Gratto raced through the neighborhood. Police sighted him several times, but he evaded them until they treed him in a crab apple tree in a yard across the street from his home.

Reports Futile Try to Murder Guevara

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—An attempt to assassinate Ernesto Guevara, a top leader in the Cuban revolutionary regime, failed Thursday night, the Miami News reports today.

Instead, members of an organization called La Cruz (The Cross) shot and may have killed Capt. Acosta Cordero, an assistant to Guevara.

British Papers Don't Like Nik

Scorch Soviet Leader's Criticism of Ike but Ask Disarmament Survey

LONDON (AP)—British newspapers today criticized Nikita Khrushchev for rocket-rattling and abuse of President Eisenhower, but said the Soviet disarmament proposals should be considered seriously.

The liberal Manchester Guardian said Khrushchev "descended to new depths of personal abuse, unequalled in relations between great powers since the days of the Nuremberg rallies" of the Nazis.

"All the same," said the liberal News Chronicle, "the weary work of examining the disarmament proposals must be carried out with the aim of finding a way to agreement."

'VICIOUS, CHILDISH'

The Laborite Daily Herald said that Khrushchev's "blustering threats and a vicious, childish, futile personal attack on President Eisenhower" made it seem as if he has gotten under the Soviet leader's skin.

"But," the paper added, "this isn't a personal tussle between man and man. This is millions of Russians. Millions of Americans. Millions of others whose fate will be determined by America and Russia. The stake is not even peace or war. It is the possible destruction of mankind."

Grand Rapids Barbers Join Price Hike Parade

GRAND RAPIDS (UPI)—Falling in line with other Michigan communities, the Grand Rapids Barber Assn. will raise the price of a haircut from $1.50 to $1.75 next Monday.

"We raised the price because the cost of living is going up, and choose this time to do it to coincide with similar raises in surrounding cities such as Lansing, Battle Creek, Kalamazoo, Muskegon and Spring Lake," an association spokesman said.

IN CHRISTIAN HILLS—Mr. and Mrs. John Jackson live in this colonial home on Kingsmere Circle. The exterior is red brick with white trim. Their lot is a 175-foot square. This is the summer the Jacksons are tackling the landscaping of the back yard. "We are the original do-it-yourselfers," says Mrs. Jackson. Ranch Homes, Inc. built the house.

CONVERSATION CORNER—Talking or listening to music are the activities for which this corner of the living room is furnished. In the corner is a pecan wood hi-fi set. The large coffee table is cherry. The Jacksons did the professional looking upholstery job on those wing chairs. That chair at the right—a Tomlinson "Sophisticate"—set the color scheme of the room. At the rear is the family room; to the right the kitchen.

BOSS OF THE HOUSE—Don't let this picture fool you. That Siamese cat rules the Jackson household, including the German short haired pointer, Wilhelmina. Jerry, the cat, is twelve years old. He and his mistress pose on one of the two blue ottomans by the fireplace. Behind is a triangular dropleaf cherry table.

Your Neighbor's House

John Jacksons Choose Early American Theme

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

It won't if our forefathers knew that the furniture they fashioned would continue as a style down through the years. It is a style that spells "home" and lends to each room it graces a warmth and charm.

This the John Jacksons of Kingsmere Circle in Christian Hills felt when they chose the furnishings for their new Colonial home.

This house has a true entrance hall, not a tiny vestibule. The living room is at the left as you enter, the kitchen and family room straight ahead. At the right are the stairs with their white-washed iron railing. Blue and white wallpaper is used in this area.

The living room has white walls and pale beige carpeting. Floor length draperies are semi-sheer white material. The simple fireplace is set in white marble and framed with a wide wooden frame. The mirror—beach is Above this fireplace is a gold color mirror with the Federal eagle on top. (This eagle is all over the place) Flanking this on each side are brass candelabra holding white candles. A pair of large blue ottomans provide fireplace seats.

The wing sofa is upholstered in blue and white. A chair made of pecan wood with a cane back and blue leather seat is the piece that set the color scheme of this room. Jack Jackson fell in love with it the minute he saw it.

The Jacksons reupholstered a pair of wing chairs in beige shepherd's check. Arms and legs are wood. A fourth chair in the room is a gold wing chair.

On the hi-fi cabinet made of pecan wood there is a tall brass lamp. Just below the white shade an eagle is perched on the shaft. The coffee table in front of the sofa holds a beautiful blue and white tile.

In the corner of the room nearest the front hall a small Hitchcock desk fits well. On the EATING AREA—This is one corner of the family room, the spot where the Jacksons can eat and watch the bird feeder outside. The floor is corkstone tile with a brown braided rug in the center. Walls are cream color while the soffit and cathedral ceiling are papered in yellow. Curtains are natural color burlap. Table and chairs are maple.

wall opposite is a cherry harvest table.

An unusual feature of the Jackson home is the placement of the kitchen. Located in the center of the house, it has no outside windows, but is far from being dark. A wide shuttered opening to the family room lets all the morning sun flood into the kitchen.

Cupboards have an antique maple finish on them. Walls are cream color. Plastic counter tops have a pebble look in browns and tans. Accessories are copper.

On one wall a low breakfast counter is mounted. Two cushioned chairs are used here. The floor is corkstone tile with a brown braided rug on it. Accessories are copper.

In the family room the light fixture looks like something out of the past. Made of dull brass, it has four drop globe lamps. Over the kitchen pass-through is another eagle.

In this room the ceiling is cathedral style. Ceiling and soffit are papered in yellow. Walls below are cream. Natural color burlap is used for the draperies.

There's a rust sofa and a gold chair. The round lazy susan table is surrounded with maple captain's chairs.

The stairs and upper hall as well as the three bedrooms are carpeted in sandalwood. The first bedroom has yellow walls and yellow, white and brown curtains. Furniture is maple.

In the pink bathroom Mrs. Jackson finished the little cupboard doors below the vanity in the same antique maple as the kitchen cupboards. The walls are papered in pink with a tiny gray design.

Bedroom number two has robin's egg blue walls and lined oak furniture. The curtains have a rose acorn design.

There is cherry furniture in the third room which is the master bedroom. Walls here are beige. The bedspread is aqua. The attached bathroom is sandalwood.

The Jacksons moved to Christian Hills from Birmingham in February of '59.

'Thirteen' is a significant number in building, report statisticians of Allied Chemical's Barrett Building Materials Division. In the 13 years following World War II, Americans spent $130 billion to build 13 million homes.

Louver Shutters Are Nice

Louver shutters are very fashionable and can serve many uses. They are ideal as closet doors for they modernize the appearance and provide good ventilation. Whatever purpose they may serve, your louvers will match with any decor—simply give them a coat of paint.

SPACE SAVERS — Small bedrooms are made much larger with ingeniously designed storage walls which combine as a headboard for the bed. This desk and headboard, built of champagne colored west coast hemlock, takes up little space, but adds beauty and charm to the room.

Bargain Paint Costs More in Long Run

Would you expect your butcher to sell two prime steaks for the price of one? Or your plumber to fix two faucets and charge for one? Or your babysitter to provide two hour's service for one hour's fee? Or your employer to demand two week's work for one week's wages? Certainly not.

Remember this the next time you buy paint. When you see offers day-in and day-out, of two gallons of paint for the price of one gallon of a quality product, you are sure to get two gallons of paint that is worth only what you pay. Therefore, if you pay $6, then you get paint worth $3 a gallon.

The only bargain in paint is quality. Quality paint will cost more but it is more economical in the long run as you can be assured of complete satisfaction and non-fading colors and a long-wearing paint job.

A coat of bright enamel on the interiors of closets will aid visibility, order and clearness, in addition to providing an extra touch of color for the decor of the rooms.

Request Some Species of Maple for Floors

Your hardwood floor should wear evenly. Ask your architect to state in the specifications for your new home, that the floors shall be of one species only—not a mixture of species. Some flooring mills, for instance, mix soft maple with hard maple. With this combination, your floors will not wear evenly. Northern Hard Maple Flooring manufacturers use only one species of maple (Acer saccharum). This species ranks number one for hardness in all tests of hardwoods popularly used for flooring.

New Exterior Latex Paint Lives Up to Promises

The new latex emulsion exterior house paints have been introduced by reputable companies only after many years of testing. Therefore, before applying these new type paints, it is necessary that the users read and follow carefully all instructions on the label and accompanying literature if they want excellent results.

Manufacturers of the new latex emulsion exterior paints recommend the proper primer to be used when an undercoat is necessary before the latex emulsion topcoat is applied to exterior surfaces. All stress that proper preparation of the surface, especially if previously painted surfaces are to be recoated, must be done to get the best job.

These exterior latex emulsion paints are formulated for use over wood, masonry, stucco, cement block, concrete, brick, asbestos siding and shingles as well as properly prepared metal surfaces.

The products of various manufacturers will naturally differ slightly as all paints generally do. However, they all have the following characteristics. They are:

—easy to apply with brush, roller or spray, and are spread easily.

—quick drying, usually in one-half to one and one-half hours, thus minimizing dirt and bug collection. A second coat can be applied in two hours or less, as directed.

—able to be applied over damp surfaces. This does not apply, of course, to solvent-thinned primers which may be needed.

—less likely to blister because of excess interior moisture since the latex paint film over properly prepared surfaces is permeable to moisture vapor.

—generally show superior tint retention to oil or alkyd paints with equal durability.

In addition, brushes, rollers and spray guns can be cleaned with water and spills may be wiped up with a damp cloth.

General Joseph F. Battley, president of the 73-year-old National Paint, Varnish and Lacquer Association, points out that these new exterior latex emulsion paints are made only from the highest priced raw materials and that they require very tight chemical production control every step of the manufacturing process in order to assure a quality product.

One other important thing to remember is to purchase only the products of reputable manufacturers sold by long-established dealers in whom you have confidence. Obviously, paints of this high quality cannot be sold by the type of merchandising that employs "free deals," "another gallon for one cent," "two-for-one" offers, on their every day of the year so-called special sales.

CREATED WITH PAINT — Roy Alderson, who lives in the quiet, residential vicinity of Smith Terrace, Chelsea, England, used the magic of his paintbrush to create this unusual effect on the front of his early Victorian home. Mr. Alderson's decorative skill transformed his house front into something reminiscent of the ornate style of the Romans. Even the Corinthian columns were achieved with paint. "It is very colorful," he admits, "but if you think the front of the house has been beautified with paint, you should see the inside!"

Here's the Answer

QUESTION: I'm installing a new set of door locks in our house. The last time I did work of this type I recall having trouble when doing the drilling. The drill nearly always split the wood when it came through the other side. How can this be prevented?

ANSWER: The trick is to stop drilling the second the end of the bit comes through the other side. Then take the drill and complete the drilling from the other side.

QUESTION: Have always had trouble with doors warping after two or three years. Planning on hanging two new doors and believe I will get plywood this time. Understand that it won't warp. Is this so?

ANSWER: Plywood is more warp-resistant than other materials. But the ordinary plywood door might warp under severe moisture conditions and failure to prepare it properly. This preparation consists of several coats of finish on paint — with extra special attention to the ends and edges. The ends and edges should be sealed thoroughly before the finishing coats are put on. Also, remember that a lot depends on how carefully a door is hung. A poor job will make the door more liable to warp.

QUESTION: In my house, which is old, I want to improve the appearance of the hall by painting the walls, which now have paper on them. I notice, through a broken place in the paper, that the wall has never been given what we used to call "a hard white finish." Instead, it has a kind of brown plaster which has a porous look. Will it be necessary to remove all the paper and then apply a finish coat of plaster in order to make a smooth job of painting?

ANSWER: If you can glue back the paper where it is broken — and if the rest of the paper is tightly attached to the wall — you can paint right over it and expect a good result. If the paper is in bad condition, it will be necessary to remove all of it. Your best solution then would be to apply a coat of shellac and finish with one of the textured paints.

QUESTION: We plan to have a house built to specifications. Our plumbing contractor says that the building code specifies cast iron for the main soil stack but that cheaper materials can be used for vent stacks, branch lines, etc., thus cutting down the overall cost. Is he right?

ANSWER: I am not sure I understand what you mean by your question. Do you mean: is he telling the truth? If so, the answer is yes, cast iron must be used for the main soil stack and yes, there are cheaper materials than cast iron.

It is up to you to decide whether the extra cost (it should not be too much) is worth the time-tested value of cast iron. It does not corrode, has high structural strength and is generally considered "permanent." The fountains at the Palace of Versailles, built in 1664, are still operating with their original cast iron pipes.

Sol Soda Does It

An easy way to get rid of an old coat of wax on a linoleum floor is by mopping it down with a solution of three tablespoons of sol soda concentrated per bucket of hot water. Rinse immediately. Let dry completely before applying fresh wax.

Private Pool Is Wonderful

Suddenly it's summer — and time for swimming.

A family with its own swimming pool won't have to fight weekend traffic and crowded beaches. Nor will they have to put up with overcrowded club or public pool facilities.

There are all kinds of swimming pools on the market, ranging from the diminutive child's pool which you can fill with a garden hose to the estate type pool, with its cabana, elaborate heating and filtering apparatus and other accessory items. In between these are pools for families of moderate means.

One of the most durable and satisfactory of pools is the poured or sprayed concrete type. Firms specializing in this construction use steel-reinforced concrete to prevent cracks. Colorful and waterproof ceramic tile is often installed for the facing material.

Your local ceramic tile contractor is prepared to advise you on tile costs and design. This can be of mosaics or other slip-proof tile around swimming pools.

Ceramic tile is the standard surfacing material for most college and club pools. The reason for this is that, in addition to being attractive, waterproof and sanitary, its unglazed or matt surface (as well as the tile joints) present a non-slip footing underneath. Quarry tile and paver tile are especially suitable for walkways and poolside patios.

Plan Pool House at Summer Cottage

People with permanent summer cottages may be interested in building a garden and tool house while vacationing. This can be done with common building materials, using an easy-to-follow plan.

The house, eight feet square, may be devoted to tool storage and workshop, a playhouse, or even a guest house. Directions show how to build a bigger house, if desired.

Durability and efficiency are features of the plan, which suggests the use of Masonite Panelgroove, an extremely durable exterior siding. The dense paneling takes a handsome paint job that lasts longer than on wood. Inside, Peg-Board panels are included to permit easy organization of tools for storage.

A plan with full details may be obtained by sending 50 cents in coin to the Home Service Bureau, Suite 207, 111 W. Washington St., Chicago 2, Ill., and requesting Plan No. 51.

Here's How to Look for Extra Room

STAMFORD, Conn. (UPI)—Are you enlarging your home? Before you move or build an addition, check your house for wasted space.

So advises Lester Smith, an architect, of Sherwood, Mills and Smith, who has solved countless space problems in schools, business offices, churches, hospitals and homes.

First, put a room to more use than one, Smith said. Perhaps that upstairs hall connecting the bedrooms could be widened and a window included to make it a playroom for use at other mealtime. The enlargement of a window can turn a room into a solarium-greenhouse.

Or the dining room could be equipped with convenient and attractive lighting, bookshelves, cabinets, and perhaps music equipment for use at other mealtime. The enlargement of a window can turn a room into a solarium-greenhouse.

Check for dead space—room taken up by large chests and overstuffed chairs. Analyze chests and storage space. The contents of most chests probably could be stored better in a closet.

Older houses usually have too many partitions, Smith said. For example, a small hallway next to a kitchen could be eliminated to add more kitchen space.

Finish off attic or basement space. Modern insulation materials and attractive wall boards are inexpensive and far cheaper than adding a new wing.

Large, dark storage rooms or closets could become bathrooms or dressing rooms or could be added to adjacent rooms.

If you've considered all the recommendations, but find no actual increase in space is available, you can psychologically increase the size of your house, the architect said. Replace faded partitions with room dividers, translucent partitions, or other arrangements which make space seem to extend into other spaces.

Rooms also can grow or shrink by means of moveable partitions—sliding, swinging or folding. Some also combine display and storage features. Portions can be translucent or transparent to give a house new adaptability.

If traffic patterns take up needed space, change them, Smith said.

'INSTANT' VACATION HOUSE—This summer home is designed to utilize a house trailer as the service core during the first stage of development, making it possible for a family to start living on the vacation site immediately. Eventually, "trailer port" is enclosed and made into conventional kitchen, bath and bedroom space.

TYPICAL TRAILER IN POSITION

FIRST STAGE FLOOR PLAN—With a typical trailer shown in position in the trailer port, this plan shows how mobile unit provides kitchen and bath facilities for the two bedrooms and living room in permanent part of house.

SECOND STAGE FLOOR PLAN—When the time comes, trailer can be disposed of and trailer port area made an integral part of the completed summer home, adding conventional kitchen, bath and bedroom.

Instant Vacation Home Possible With a Trailer

By DAVID L. BOWEN

How would you like to be living in your own summer home by the Fourth of July?

Impossible you say? Well, it could easily be done if you already own vacation property and it just might be done even if you start from scratch.

The remarkable feature of the vacation home designed by Architect Lester Cohen as B-15 in the House of the Week series is that you can start living on the site before ground is broken.

You can do this because the B-15 summer home is engineered for construction in stages with a house trailer as its service core.

At the end of the first stage, the structure offers a big, dramatic living room with open much of its money out after owning one for several years.

Trailers also may be rented for all or part of a summer in many parts of the country. To avoid the investment, a unit could be rented for as many summers as necessary to reach the final stage in development of the summer home.

B-15 is designed with a port that will easily accommodate a trailer with typical dimensions of 8 by 24 feet. A longer unit would simply extend a little farther at each end. The two doors of the trailer are aligned with the doors of the permanent house and simple platforms are used to bridge the 6 inches or so of space between house and trailer.

Enclosed area of the first stage, not counting the trailer, is 788 sq. ft. This increases to 1,152 sq. ft. with conversion of the trailer port to permanent space.

ADDITIONAL DETAILS

The 23 by 21 foot living room in the first stage has a sloping ceiling that starts at 10 feet and rises to 14 at its highest point, providing a picturesque cathedral effect.

The optional prefab fireplace and chimney shown in the plan is available in most areas from supply houses. Big windows at the front combine low plate glass sections with clear fixed glass above—perfect for privacy, ventilation and views wherever you build.

Housewives will note that the second-stage kitchen is as large as many year 'round home kitchens. With an L-shaped arrangement of counters and appliances, it's every bit as convenient. Sandy or muddy feet can be wiped at the back landing before the troops come in. The attractive raised open deck at the front serves the same purpose in protecting the living room.

In its final form, B-15 has three comfortable bedrooms, two of them with double exposures. Because of its generous size, the living room could always provide additional sleeping space when overnight guests become numerous.

Look Through the Attic

Is there a decorative towel hanger in your attic? There is, if you happen to have an old-fashioned hat rack stashed away. Just apply a coat of gleaming metal, and you will have an attractive and useful accessory for your bathroom.

Importance in Home

Stenciling once brought to mind apples on the kitchen walls and a fish decor in the bathroom. However, with the resurgence of painted and hand-decorated furniture, stenciling is becoming an established art.

Walls of family rooms receive original murals as stenciling moves into larger areas and the painting of patterned "rugs" on floors gains in popularity.

Stencils are available at art supply stores, or draw your own designs free-hand and cut them out. Use will, of course, have to leave connecting ties where necessary, to make the stencil hang together.

Use architect's translucent tracing paper to trace designs from pictures or fabrics. Then transfer them to heavy brown paper using carbon behind the tracing paper.

Attach the stencil firmly to the furniture, wall, door or floor with tape. Apply paint to the area of the cut-out pattern. The aerosol spray can is an ideal applicator for a stenciler working with just one color, as you can, with practice, spray lightly. Protect the area surrounding the stencil with newspapers.

TAKE IT EASY

When using a stencil brush, load it sparingly and touch the cut-out surface lightly. Take care that excess paint does not run down behind the stencil. Special stenciling colors in oils are thick. When removing your stencil to repeat the pattern, examine underneath to make sure no paint

Make Air Conditioning a Long-Term Project

By adding a room unit each year, you can have your entire house air conditioned in from three to six years, depending on its size, without upsetting the family budget. Air conditioning experts point out that in early stages of such a home improvement program, many times a single unit not only will cool one room but provide relief from heat in a second. By opening a window just a crack in the adjoining room and using a conventional fan to circulate air, the cooling effect is carried from one area to another.

Old Fashioned Attic Becomes Pentroom

Going, going, almost gone is the old-fashioned attic with its conglomeration of old clothes, souvenirs, discarded toys and just plain junk.

In its place is appearing a "pentroom" - an attic area that has been transformed into a family room, spare bedroom or den, according to Bill Herbert, a housing authority.

He says that an attic can be made into a pentroom in about a week by the average handyman, and that the investment of his time will be rewarded with additional comfortable living space in his home.

The specialist recommends this step-by-step procedure for simple conversion:

1. Determine the area to be converted and make certain there will be plenty of window space to admit light and fresh air. The ceiling of a pentroom should be no higher than the bottom of attic vents or louvers to insure sufficient ventilation in the space above the room.
2. Rock wool insulation batts should be nailed between the side-wall studs and also between the ceiling's rafters to keep the pentroom comfortable in summer and winter. Proper insulation can cut heating costs and also keep out some of summer's oppressive heat.
3. If the roof slopes quite steeply, so that only the center area can be used for a pentroom, it's a relatively easy matter to erect 2"x4" wall studs to receive wallboard or planks.
4. Use the rafters as the base for 1"x3" furring strips spaced 12 inches apart. These furring strips will provide a nailing or stapling surface to which 12"x12" decorative ceiling tiles can easily be applied.
5. Gypsum wallboard can be nailed to wall studs to finish the building construction.
6. Any additional work will depend upon what use you plan for your pentroom. Bookshelves, toy chests, work tables and other furnishings can solve your particular needs.

Triangular windows framed by diagonally placed wood siding give a striking appearance to home exteriors, the Southern Pine Association says.

PRACTICAL HOME BUILDERS, INC.

13440 WEST 7 MILE ROAD UNIVERSITY 4-8272

IN LAKE ORION — This is the split-level model of the Townsend Swift homes now open at 2810 Lapeer road, five miles north of Pontiac. Buyers get pre-cut parts to erect the house, then buy kits for various finishing details. Erection is done in the conventional manner. Prices range from $1,990 to $5,510 on your lot. The models are open Sundays from 1 to 8 and weekdays from 10 to 4.

Precision Cut Homes Are Available in Lake Orion

Townsend Swift Homes will open three models Sunday, May 29, at 2810 Lapeer Road in Lake Orion. On display will be a two-bedroom home with carport, a three-bedroom home with breezeway and garage and a split-level home. These represent the small, medium and large homes. More than 80 models are available with one to five bedrooms.

Townsend Swift Homes are pre-engineered and processed by modern manufacturing methods. All parts are cut, banded, clearly marked and delivered to the home-owners lot, together with complete plans and instructions for erection of the home. Erection at the home-site is done in the conventional manner.

Approximately half the owners of these homes have done the work themselves. Kits for all finishing jobs are available.

On Sundays the models will be open from 1 to 8. Weekdays the hours are 10 to 4. These homes are priced from $1,990 to $5,510 on your lot. This includes all exterior details and the interior partitions.

Catch-All Halls Saves Mom's Time, Temper

You don't expect playful puppies to wipe their feet thoroughly after a romp in the rain or mud. Fathers and tots often forget. An effective way to stop those muddy footprints from soiling your rugs and freshly-mopped floors is to convert your entryway or ante room into a "Catch-All Hall."

A roll of paper towels hung on a holder convenient to all will serve as a reminder to wipe off the dirt and water from shoes and paws. Hooks for umbrellas and dripping rainwear also will help save countless hours of cleaning.

CABINET SPACE SAVERS
PATTERN 413

ORGANIZED SPACE is a few cubboards often proves more efficient than having more shelves. Pattern 413, which not only gives cutting guides for making space-savers but shows how to arrange utensils to save steps, is 35 cents. This pattern also is one of four in the Kitchen Planner and Step-Saver Packet No. 51 which has proven useful to thousands of homemakers. Price $1. The Pontiac Press Pattern Dept., Bedford Hills, New York.

Architects Earn Every Penny

Drawing plans is a minor role of the architect. His real purpose is to the architect. His real purpose is to save you money, time and anguish in traversing the perilous path from your family's dream home to the actual structure.

The first step the architect takes in squeezing 100 cents out of each of your building dollars is to analyze your family's living habits and requirements and match them with your financial resources. Another essential function is assistance in choosing a building site. Professional advice in this matter is growing in importance every day as the little remaining suitable land disappears under six-lane strips of asphalt and concrete.

The architect also specifies every item that will go into construction. The value of skill in preparing the specifications makes an impression when you remember that anything not covered is considered an extra by the contractors and charged accordingly.

In addition to materials the specifications describe the work to be done by listing all operations under major classifications. This may save time (hence, money) in the event that plasterers and ceramic tile setters, for example, disagree over preparation of walls on which ceramic tile will be installed.

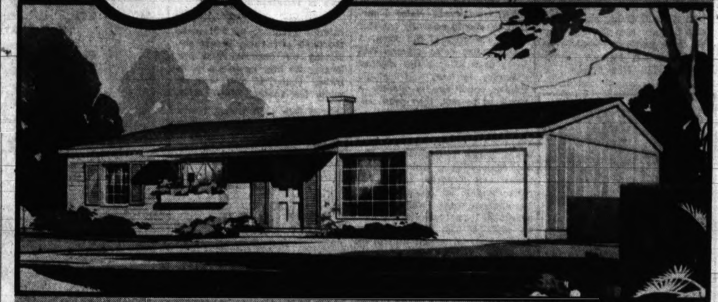

Architects also contribute to home building efficiency by selecting contractors who offer reliability as well as modest bids. If you follow the usual procedure from this point, the architect will supervise construction to see that every step adheres strictly to specification. Resulting savings will far exceed the slight additional supervision charge.

To Store Boots

Keep your home shipshape in wet weather by building a boot and overshoe storage unit near the kitchen door. The lower shelf of a cabinet might easily convert into an overshoe drying shelf. Replace the lower shelf in the cabinet with a metal grille to let air in and let the water drip into a flat pan under the shelf.

Paint the fenders of your child more visible at night and help drive's bicycles with fluorescent paint prevent cars from running the paint which will make the bikes children down. Alkyd resins are synthetic resins base for oil-based paints, enamels and varnishes and are the most widely used base today.

Practical Color Enters Kitchen

A homemaker's individuality usually is expressed in her kitchen's color scheme, according to leading color consultants.

She may choose an "advancing" color such as red or orange, warmth, or a "receding" color such as blue or green to establish a cooling effect.

Many homemakers effectively use white as a background for a classical decor. Just a slight dash of color and distinctive accessories make a white kitchen an extremely bright and gay place to work.

In choosing a kitchen decor, color consultants state, homemakers should carefully consider the practicality of the room. A good-looking color scheme that looks drab after a few months' exposure to heat and high-humidity conditions is merely a waste of money, they point out.

One of the most popular materials used for new and remodeled kitchens is plastic-surfaced hardboard, which is available at lumber dealers in a wide range of colors and patterns. Large 4'x8' panels and 16'x8' planks are used on kitchen walls, while easy-to-handle 18' square blocks are ideal for ceilings. The blocks also are effective as an accent wall in the food preparation area or dining nook.

Highly-resistant to heat and moisture, this hardboard can be damp-wiped clean in a jiffy. Even grease, fruit juice stains and other causes of deterioration will not mar plastic-surfaced hardboard.

Two Story House Can Expand on Both Levels

A two-story house can be expanded on either level, depending upon the family's needs. If the kitchen is too small or a recreation room is needed, additional space can be added to the downstairs portion of the home.

By expanding an upstairs dormer, a full-size bedroom with three-colored design washable, easy to install, about $32 for an average 10' x 14' room.

Picnic Table Seating Eight Shows in Plan

A picnic table that seats eight persons comfortably is fastened together with bolts and nuts for easy dismantling and storage.

All members are 2x4 lumber excepting the attached benches, which are 2x10 planks, the frame-work of 1x4s under the top and the surface panel of Massena 1/2" Tempered Preswound. Carriage bolts are used to hold the various parts together.

Dimensions of this picnic table are 7' wide, 5' long and 7 1/2" high. The table is sturdy enough for many years' service. Since the hardwood is splinter-free, its use on both the table and bench surfaces is recommended.

A primer and two coats of exterior grade paint will make the table attractive, besides preserving the material and protecting its life, or use a penetrating sealer if you want to retain the natural brown color.

For a free plan telling how to build this serviceable picnic table and benches, send a postal to the Home Service Bureau, Suite 3037, 311 W. Washington St., Chicago 2, Ill., and request plan No. AE-378.

Know Terms to Work Better

Sometimes even the most efficient home craftsmen are perplexed by project plans and manufacturers' directions because workshop nomenclature may be difficult to understand.

For instance, when directions require a rabbit cut, they are not referring to a hare, and plumb does not mean a succulent kind of fruit.

Here are definitions for a few of the more common workshop terms:

Rabbit — A groove cut out of the edge or face of a board to receive another board or panel.

Plumb — This usually refers to making materials or objects, such as posts, shingles, etc., perpendicular to the floor or other horizontal plane.

Miter — A diagonal cut commonly made across a board to form square corners, as in picture-frame making.

Bowl — An angular cut made along the edge or end of a board.

Gable — A notch or recessed area made in doorway molding to insert a hinge or latch.

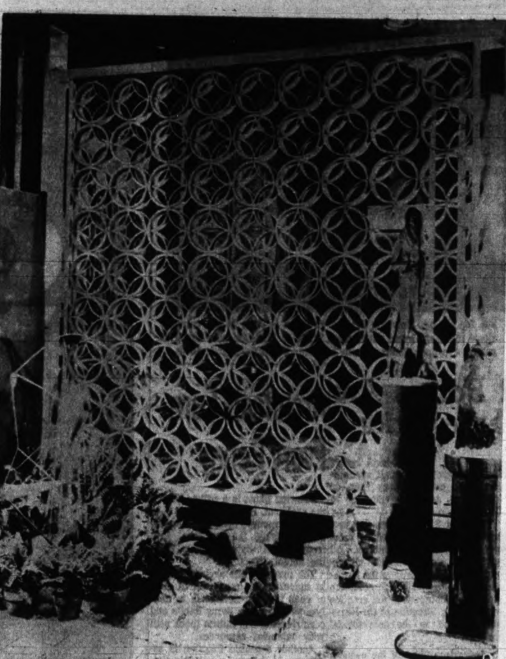

Tenon — A projecting piece of wood left in cutting away the wood around it; used for making tight joints by inserting the tenon in a mortise or groove in another piece of wood.

Sawed Cut — A sawed area within the edges of a board or panel.

Grooving — A narrow cut with the grain of the wood.

Free-hill — To anchor one board to another by driving nails from one into another on an angle because there is no direct approach.

To take away that "howling alley" look from long narrow rooms, paint the ends with dark warm colors and use lighter colors on the side walls.

PARTITION — Trompe l'oeil effect of interlocking rings is ingeniously achieved in this indoor-outdoor screen of Al-Shade, a new product from Aluminum Corporation of America. Each unit, easily assembled with machine screws and nuts, is the "Pin-wheel," one foot in diameter and two inches deep and combined here in pairs to make a see-through divider four inches deep. Single units may be assembled on opaque backgrounds, if desired. Two coats of baked enamel make the screen weather-resistant for exterior use. Al-Shade is available in eleven standard colors or may be custom-colored as is the dark mustard screen shown here.

Take A Lesson in Color Terminology

Color in a can is not the technical definition of paint, but it is the mental image most of us have whenever we bring out the brushes and rollers. Color and paint are practically synonymous. Since spring and summer are the popular times for painting spaces around the home, color is a timely topic. When you know the various color terms and meanings, you can take advantage of your color knowledge to achieve better painting results.

THE PRIMARIES — or first colors — are red, yellow and blue. They are so called because the three colors derive from these three. The SECONDARY colors are green, orange and purple. The INTERMEDIATE colors, as their name implies, are the ones in between. They are red-orange, yellow-orange, yellow-green, blue-green, blue-purple and red-purple.

A TINT of color is produced by adding white, making it lighter. Light colors reflect more light, and make areas seem larger. A SHADE of a color is produced by adding black, making it darker. These darker colors absorb more light, making areas seem smaller.

A TONAL color is produced by adding both black and white — which is gray — making the color appear more subtle or muted. Pink is a tint of red. Maroon is a shade of red. Rose is a tone of red.

How is often used as another name for color. However, blue really means a color family. Pink is a red hue. Lavender is a hue of purple. When you speak of the value of a color, you mean its lightness or darkness, its degree of depth or intensity. When you refer to the chroma of a color, you mean the amount of grayness — whether it is pure or muted.

Colors are also classified as warm or cool. The WARM COLORS — reds, oranges and yellows — seem to advance toward you. They convey a feeling of warmth and are emotionally stimulating. Warm colors are recommended for rooms that have northern exposures or are windowless. Deeper shades of warm colors will give intimacy to very large rooms.

COOL COLORS — the blues, blue-greens, blue-grays and violets — seem to retreat from you. They are cooling and relaxing. Cool colors are suggested for rooms with southern exposures. Light tints of cool colors will further the illusion of size for small rooms.

A color wheel is an invaluable aid when selecting color schemes. You probably remember the wheel from school days, and will recall that it resembles a clock with colors in place of numbers. Yellow is at 12 o'clock. Then moving clockwise, there are yellow-green, green, blue-green, blue, blue-purple, purple, red-purple, red, red-orange, orange, yellow-orange, and back again to yellow.

Like us, colors have relatives. The related color is the neighboring one on the color wheel. Yellow and yellow-green are related colors. Blue and blue-purple are related colors. Colors also have complements. The complementary color is on the opposite side of the wheel. Purple is the complement of yellow. Blue is the complement of orange.

There are four basic color patterns or color schemes. They are as follows:

MONOCHROMATIC — which is based on tints, shades and shades of one color. An example of a monochromatic scheme would be a room decorated in pink, rose and red.

ANALOGOUS OR RELATED — is a color scheme using related colors, such as blue, blue-green and green.

COMPLEMENTARY — A scheme using colors that complement each other. An example of a complementary color scheme would be a room decorated in blue and orange.

NEUTRAL — This fourth basic color scheme employs neutral colors — the beiges, tans and grays.

A typically new 1960 home will have approximately 1,100 square feet of floor space; six rooms, more than one bathroom; a roof made of asphalt shingles, frame construction and will cost about $15,000.

Lower down payments on FHA-insured homes in the moderate price range, as authorized by the Housing Act of 1959, were put into effect April 29 by Federal Housing Commissioner Julian H. Zimmerman.

This means that FHA-insured homes priced above $15,000 can now be purchased with a lower down payment than before.

Examples of the new minimum down payment schedule, compared with the old schedule, are as follows:

FHA Value	New Down Payment	Old Down Payment
$13,500	$ 500	$ 650
14,000	500	500
15,000	600	650
16,000	700	800
17,000	800	1,100
18,000	900	1,400
19,000	1,200	1,700
20,000	1,300	2,000
21,000	1,400	2,300
22,000	2,100	2,600
23,000	2,400	2,900
24,000	2,700	3,200
25,000	3,000	3,500

The Commissioner said that he was taking the action at this time because mortgage money has become increasingly available.

"We are confident that this step will broaden the opportunities of home ownership for more American families," the Commissioner added.

Hearth-Bench Brightens Up the Fireplace

Home is where the hearth is, and today's hearth is moving up in the world.

No longer is the hearth simply an apron for keeping sparks and ashes off the floor. It has become a prominent feature in the contemporary house, doubling as a handy seat and built-in coffee table. As a long, low, horizontal slab, it is also favored as a design feature, acting as a counterpoint to the upward-thrusting fireplace.

The projecting or cantilevered variety of hearth-bench has yet another advantage — it permits wall-to-wall carpeting and easy carpet-cleaning.

Keeping the hearth-bench itself clean is a simple matter when it is surfaced with colorful ceramic tile. All tile requires is a quick wipe with a damp cloth, and housewives need have no qualms about serving luncheon or entire barbeque dinners on a tile surface.

Where the fireplace is used as a room divider, two hearth-benches may be required. Incidentally, the fireplace may be faced with ceramic tile, which is completely fireproof and color permanent. If you really want your guests to gather round the fireplace even without a fire in it — a hearth-bench is the answer. It's a warm invitation to good living.

Avoid Fatigue

The best way to hold a paint brush for maximum control and minimum fatigue is to grip the handle lightly with your finger tips. The handle rests between thumb and forefinger. But when painting overhead, it's best to grip the brush firmly by wrapping your hand around the handle, placing thumb firmly on the inside curve where it enters the metal.

Chamois Skin Is Miracle Cleaner

A chamois is to spring cleaning what the lamp was to Aladdin. Just a little rub and you can do anything with it.

A genuine chamois leather skin is something of a miracle of nature. It is simply a piece of sheepskin, specially tanned with the natural oils permanently "locked in" so that it can be used not only for washing just about any kind of surface but for drying and polishing as well.

The chamois is your best bet for cleaning and polishing windows, glassware, mirrors and marble. Its nonabrasive surface of millions of tiny sundered fibers cannot scratch the delicate finish of your fine furniture.

Use a dry chamois to put a bright shine on all household metalware, on chrome, brass and copper fixtures and utensils.

To keep a chamois at its best, rinse it in clear warm water, stretch it to its proper shape and spread it to dry. Don't dry it over direct heat or under a strong sun.

Double Duty Carpet

Thrill-minded homemakers will appreciate a new floor covering that can be used as a padding under a conventional carpet after it has served its primary purpose. Secret of the product, which comes in pinstripe and broadstripe fabrics, is a long-wearing backing of man-made foam rubber.

Scholle Hints Kennedy Nod

700,000-Member State AFL-CIO May Grant Backing Next Week

GRAND RAPIDS (UPI)—Michigan AFL-CIO President August Scholle has said the 700,000-member labor organization he heads may endorse Sen. John F. Kennedy for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Scholle said such a move was possible last night after he announced the federation's executive board had delayed a decision on whether to endorse one or more of six seekers of the Democratic nomination for lieutenant governor.

The executive board interviewed the six hopefuls during a meeting here Monday afternoon on the question of endorsing a candidate for lieutenant governor until after an appeal said meeting tomorrow night.

Scholle said only about 40 of some 60 board members were present and the board decided to delay a decision until members who were not there had a chance to voice their opinions.

The board was holding a series of meetings during the weekend in preparation for the annual state AFL-CIO convention here Monday through Thursday.

You Going Prospecting? Might Try It In Maine

GRANTED VISA — Oliver Powers has received word from the Soviet Union that he will be granted a visa to visit his son Francis Powers. The young Powers is held on espionage charges as the pilot of the U2 plane that uncocked an international jungle and was the wedge Nikita Khrushchev used to split the U.S. hopes for summit talks. Here the father works in his Norton, Va., shop repair shop waiting for all arrangements to be made. The State Department has indicated he would have no difficulty obtaining a passport.

Houston Is Voting on Segregation
19 Courses to Be Offered for Oakland Residents

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Residents of the vast Houston independent school district will vote today on whether they want integrated or segregated schools.

But there is doubt their votes will have much influence on segregating the nation's largest segregated school system.

U. S. Dist. Judge Ben C. Conally has ruled the school district must integrate.

MSU credit courses in education, English, history, psychology and sociology will be open to qualified students.

The first of the courses will begin on June 28, with the last class slated to start July 25. Morning, afternoon and evening classes will be offered.

Interested students can enroll now at the regional MSU continuing education office on the MSU campus. Enrollments will also be accepted at the first class sessions.

MUSEUM WORKSHOP
A workshop in using museum resources in teaching will be offered at the Cranbrook Institute from June 20-July 1.

Three courses are scheduled at Camp Oakland—problems in education, guidance, guidance work, and mental hygiene of school children. All will run from June 30 to Aug. 29.

Classes at MSU include: special methods and materials of teaching music, June 30-July 1; diagnosis of reading difficulties, reading workshop, June 30-July 15; and educational administration in the United States, July 15-Aug. 5.

All other classes at MSU will meet from June 20-July 22. These include group procedures in guidance, supervision of instruction, business administration of schools, mental hygiene of school children, learning theory in the classroom, and principles of curriculum theory improvement.

Here's Look at Key Bills in Congress

WASHINGTON (AP)—Here is the status of some of the top bills now pending in Congress:

SCHOOL AID — The Senate Thursday voted — and later rescinded the action — to send it to education bill to conference with the House. Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) said the bill because he had promised Sen. Richard R. Russell (D-Ga.) the action would not be taken without notifying him. Johnson said he would give ample notice of a new vote later.

INTERNATIONAL — The Senate Thursday night passed a bill authorizing U.S. membership in a proposed billion-dollar International Development Assn. to help undeveloped nations. Similar legislation was approved earlier by the House Banking Committee.

CANCER — The House Commerce Committee Thursday recommended a bill to ban for human use any food, cosmetic or drug color that can produce cancer in test animals. This ban, opposed by the color industry, already applies to all other kinds of food additives.

Red Cross Not Seeking Funds but Will Forward All Contributions

The Oakland County Chapter of the American Red Cross today announced it is accepting cash contributions for Chilean earthquake relief.

Mrs. Mildred Bennett, director of the local chapter, said the Red Cross is not campaigning for funds but that "We will gladly accept any cash contributions that are volunteered for the relief fund."

"We do not need clothing or other material goods at this time," she explained. "Other organizations are handling that phase of the relief program."

All contributions are sent immediately to National Red Cross headquarters and then directly to Chilean disaster areas. Officials estimate it will take years to rebuild the damage by the recent earthquakes.

The local Red Cross Chapter, a United Fund agency, at 113 Franklin Blvd.

News in Brief

Burglars broke into Jim Tyrells Golf Service, 39 Auburn Ave., and took a cloth bag containing $50, it was reported to Pontiac police.

Anna Buckler, 505 Luther St., reported to Pontiac police yesterday that a dress valued at $15 had been stolen from her home.

Someone stole 500 pounds of copper from the Pontiac Waste Material Co., 135 Branch St. It was reported to Pontiac police yesterday.

The theft of a briefcase from his car was reported to Pontiac police yesterday by Gerald B. Hargraves, 551 S. Telegraph Rd. The car was parked in front of 15 Front St.

Eaton Tells All Top Reds: 'Visit Me'

BERLIN (UPI)—American industrialist Cyrus S. Eaton said Friday he had invited all the top Communist leaders of East Germany, Hungary, Poland and Czechoslovakia to visit the United States as his guests.

He told American newsmen he thought a visit by the Communist leaders and their wives would be beneficial to East-West relations as was the visit to the United States by Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev last fall.

Eaton, who arrived in East Germany from Poland, met Western newsmen in an East Berlin hotel after a busy day with the East German leaders who told him they were overjoyed at his presence in East Germany.

He said he had told the Communist leaders in the Soviet satellite countries, "If the United States government would not invite them officially I would be happy to be their host."

He added he did not know if the United States would grant them visas.

Death Notices

CROMWELL, JUNE 3, 1960, SADIE
Sadie (Mable) Cromwell, 72, of Sunbright, Tenn., died unexpectedly yesterday while visiting at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Marvill Priest, 2305 Newberry Rd., Waterford Township.

She was a member of the Mt. Zion Baptist Church in Glenmary, Tenn.

Surviving are four sons, Lonnie of Pomoytown, Ky., Clarence of Lake Orion, Jasper and Melvin, both of Sunbright; two daughters, Mrs. Herman Chancy of Sunbright and Mrs. Priest; 16 grandchildren; three great-grandchildren, and three sisters.

Mrs. Cromwell's body will be at the Purvey Funeral Home until 7 tonight, when it will be taken to the Shubert Funeral Home in Warburg, Tenn., for service Tuesday. Burial will be in the Mt. Zion Cemetery, Morgan County, Tenn.

IN MEMORIAM
In loving memory of CHARLES J. LOVING, who died June 3, 1960, at the age of 72. You have left a beautiful memory and a sorrow too great to be told. Those who loved you and lost you will never grow old. Sadly missed by wife Margaret and relatives.

2 Bell Projects to Better Area Telephone Service

Michigan Bell Telephone Co. construction crews are working on two projects, totaling $422,684, to provide additional telephone facilities for subscribers in the northern and northeast sections of Pontiac.

Raymond H. Storm, district manager for the company, said the projects also will provide more telephone circuits between Pontiac and Rochester, Drayton Plains, and Clarkston.

One project calls for nearly eight miles of underground and central cable to be placed along Perry and Rochester central offices on Burton street to the junction of M-24 and Walton boulevard.

"This project was largely necessitated by the development of new houses in the areas of Michigan State University Oakland and construction of the U.S. 10 (Chrysler Expressway) Highway which will provide easy access to this section of Oakland County from the Detroit metropolitan area," said Storm.

The project also will provide additional facilities between the Pontiac and Rochester central offices. It is scheduled for completion in November.

In another project, more than 12 miles of underground and aerial cable will be placed along Oakland avenue and U. S. 10 from Pontiac into Drayton Plains, Waterford and Clarkston.

The project also will provide additional facilities between the Pontiac and Rochester central offices. It is scheduled for completion in November.

Ike to Attend Cobo Ceremony

Will Highlight October Dedication of Holland National Auto Show

DETROIT (U.P.)—Formal dedication of Cobo Hall in Detroit's new riverfront civic center in October will be highlighted by a visit by President Eisenhower.

The President has accepted an invitation to visit Detroit Oct. 17 and speak at a banquet at the 3rd National Automobile Show.

He will be the first president to visit the auto show since Herbert Hoover appeared at the exhibit in New York in 1931.

The auto show Oct. 15-23 will be the first national automotive exhibit ever held in Detroit. All others have been held in New York.

It was announced earlier Vice President Nixon will speak in Cobo Hall on Aug. 24 before the first annual convention of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

The Democratic presidential candidate, who will have been chosen by that time, is expected to speak at the same hall at the similar meeting the day before Nixon.

Cobo Hall was named for the late Albert Cobo, one-time mayor of Detroit.

Cuba Visit Boost for Castro

K's Arms Plan interests U.S.

Wants Mr. K's Boat for Water Patrol

When James W. Stuart of 2611 Lansdowne St., Waterford Township, gets home from work each day, the first thing he asks his wife Marilyn is: "Did I get a letter from the President today?"

This is not unusual in the Stuart household, for Stuart, 43, an Oakland County Water Patrol deputy, has recently written to President Eisenhower about a very special boat.

The jet-powered Turbocraft, a new kind of boat with no propeller or rudder, was to be the President's gift to Nikita Khrushchev on his proposed trip to Russia.

When Stuart read of the summit rift between Ike and Mr. K and that it was undecided what to do with the craft, he figured Oakland County could make good use of it.

So he wrote to the President describing the unique approach to water safety being practiced here under Sheriff Frank W. Irons.

"Our objective is to prevent loss of life in and around our lakes. This boat would be an ideal gift to the Oakland County Sheriff's Water Patrol," Stuart wrote.

Stuart, a supervisor in the materials department, Pontiac Motor Division, will keep asking each day if that "letter from the President" has arrived—and one day, he hopes, the answer will be "yes."

Predict Failure in Drive Aimed at Latin America

Hostile Greeting Looms From Those Fearing Communist Infiltration

WASHINGTON (AP)—Diplomatic officials today viewed Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's proposed visit to Cuba as a bold move to push Prime Minister Fidel Castro's brand of democracy into other Latin American countries.

They predicted the Soviet-led project would fail in this ambitious project. Authorities foresaw the prospect that Khrushchev might run into a cool, even hostile reception from many Cubans who are worried about the extent of Communist infiltration in their country.

Roman Catholic prelates in Cuba, it was noted, have been speaking out with increasing vigor and frequency about the perils of communism in the past few weeks.

Khrushchev undoubtedly will seek to extend his visit into a half-fledged tour of Latin America—if other South and Central American governments invite him.

Moscow's move in keeping the date for the Cuban trip open was regarded as a hint he would be happy to consider other offers.

In Cuba, Khrushchev can be expected to keep up the torrent of anti-Eisenhower abuse which he has poured forth since the collapse of the Paris summit meeting.

Many authorities looked upon Khrushchev's decision to go to Cuba, virtually on the doorstep of the United States, as a defiant gesture.

Cuban authorities kept secret the fact that Khrushchev had been invited, although such a visit had seemed possible since Deputy Premier Anastas Mikoyan's similar trip six months ago.

One of the repercussions certain to follow, authorities said, would be a new wave of demonstrations of Castro for living hospitality to an avowed foe of Eisenhower.

Khrushchev in his present mood might seek to stir up Cuban hatred of the United States for maintaining a naval base at Guantanamo.

Southwest morning winds at eight m. p. h. will register 8 to 15 tonight.

Lowest temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 5 a.m. was 63 degrees. At 1 p.m. it was 66.

Pontiac Sales Best Since '55

Hefty Figure Reached in 1st 5 Months of 1960 as Leadership Holds

Pontiac retail sales for the first five months of 1960 are the highest of any year since 1955, Senon E. Knudsen, general manager of Pontiac Motor Division, announced today.

Retail sales through May total 181,719, Knudsen reported.

Pontiac continued its leadership in the medium price field with May sales of 32,386.

Chevrolet today reported record sales for May and the first five months of any year.

Chevrolet passenger car sales, including 16,400 compact cars, totaled 172,325 in May, breaking its own one-month industry record of 172,363 set in June of 1959.

Chevrolet said its five-month sales totaled 725,882, compared to 724,325 in 1959.

The GM division also said its combined car and truck sales of 206,771 for May set a record for the month.

2 New Points Called Possible Steps Forward

Red Boss Challenged to Give West's Ideas Similar Close Study

WASHINGTON (AP)—United States officials say privately that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's revised disarmament plan contains two new points that might be regarded as forward steps.

In an official statement, the State Department Friday promised to give Khrushchev's plan close study. At the same time it challenged Moscow to do likewise with the "realistic Western proposals of May 16."

It seemed likely that the moderate U.S. statement was prepared before Khrushchev's latest personal outburst against President Eisenhower, in which he said the President was so weak and ineffectual that it was dangerous to have him running the United States.

However, the U.S. statement was issued late Friday, hours after Khrushchev's vituperative attack on Eisenhower.

"It is our hope," the American statement said, "that when the (disarmament) conference resumes its deliberations (next week), substantial progress will be made toward general and complete disarmament under effective international control—a goal we seek."

Khrushchev's proposal puts priority on eliminating the means of delivering nuclear weapons—rockets or aircraft.

U.S. officials said privately the net effect of the Soviet plan could be to eliminate the West's nuclear arsenal.

RECEIVES FUNDS — Seventeen-year-old Richard M. Bradshaw (right), receives a check from Earl Treadwell, circulation manager of The Pontiac Press, after being named winner of the second $2,000 Pontiac Press MSUO Carrier Scholarship. He will begin classes at the university next September. Richard has had his newspaper route for four years.

Carrier Wins Press Scholarship

His Route Leads to MSUO

Four years ago Richard M. Bradshaw, then 13, became a Pontiac Press carrier.

Now a senior at Pontiac Northern High School, Richard this morning learned that the newspaper route he's traveled those four years has led to Michigan State University, Oakland.

He has been awarded the second Pontiac Press Carrier Scholarship.

Richard, 17, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bradshaw, 621 Second St.

NEARLY SPEECHLESS "I don't know what to say—I'm so thrilled," said the happy, near-speechless youth upon being told he would be an MSUO scholarship student.

"I'd hoped to go there. I've already sent in my application," he said.

A B student in high school, he ranks 38th in a graduating class of 253.

Richard was chosen recipient of the four-year scholarship on the basis of his school principal's recommendation, the report of the Press district circulation manager and other general characteristics.

He will take the liberal arts course at MSUO and plans a career in advertising.

He has been a member of the Pontiac Northern Student Union, a service group, and was a junior assistant scoutmaster for Troop 66 of the Joslyn Avenue United Presbyterian Church.

Next year he plans to become an assistant scoutmaster.

Among his hobbies are swimming, basketball and camping.

He will receive $500 a year from the Press for four years, provided his academic work meets university standards.

Fourteen carriers are graduating high school. Six of them were eligible for the scholarship, having taken college preparatory courses.

Back Rocky for Future — Nixon Now

By The Associated Press
New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller "will make a darn fine president—some day."

That's the word from Republican leaders in North Dakota where Rockefeller is making a two-day tour in behalf of Gov. John E. Davis, Republican candidate for the U.S. Senate.

He got a warm welcome Friday, but state GOP leaders said they are backing Vice President Richard M. Nixon for the party's presidential nomination.

So did candidate Davis, though he said he welcomed Rockefeller's support in his tight senatorial campaign.

NIXON HAS ENOUGH Rockefeller last week said he would accept a draft at the Republican convention, but expected Nixon to be the candidate. Nixon already has enough committed votes to win on the first ballot.

Democratic campaign news centered on Sens. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts and Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas.

Kennedy hoped from Denver to Salt Lake City to Santa Fe, N.M., trying to corral more pledges from delegates to the party's Los Angeles convention. He was in good spirits because of the backing he collected this week from Michigan Gov. G. Mennen Williams, head of a 51-vote delegation.

Johnson, in Newark, N.J., reiterated his view that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's aim is to "divide and seize America, but we need have no worries on either score."

He said all Americans "resent Premier Khrushchev's rude remarks to the President. This is no hour for America to be divided."

Anchor Rope Saves Girl, 6, From Scott Lake Drowning

A cute little freckle-faced six-year-old Waterford Township girl—"hung on for dear life" yesterday afternoon and prevented what police feared would be the summer's first drowning.

Pretty red-haired Elona Smades, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smades of 3139 McDowell St., drifted precariously over deep waters on Scott Lake, suspended only by an anchor rope hanging from a rowboat.

These 15 minutes were filled with more fear and anxiety for the girl's mother than she had ever known.

Elona had been playing near the family boat. She got into it and the boat began drifting.

It drifted out over deep waters and suddenly Elona fell overboard. Her horror-stricken mother saw Elona and screamed to her, "Hold on to the rope, hold on to the rope."

Elona grabbed the rope. Mrs. Smades, who can't swim, followed the drifting craft downshore.

She kept shouting to Elona, encouraging her, trying to put strength in those little arms.

Elona held tight. Then she suddenly tried to pull herself into the boat. Her grasp slipped and she disappeared below the surface.

She didn't resurface. Her mother ran to the house and phoned Pontiac police.

"My baby is drowning in Scott Lake," she screamed. "I can't get to her, I can't help her." Then she hung up.

Police told sheriff's deputies and Waterford Township police. The call was traced.

But Elona did resurface and grabbed the rope again. Her mother crawled through underbrush and cutting weeds in a nearby swamp. About 400 yards away, Elona drifted into shallow water. Her mother waded wildly out and the rescue was successful.

The county's first summer drowning had been averted when a mother held her daughter to her breast, sobbing with joy, and walked, cut and bleeding, toward home.

The noisy but orderly parade, lasting nearly three hours, was aimed mainly at Eisenhower's scheduled visit June 15-22.

It produced more "Yankee, go home," and "We don't come" chants and placards than heretofore seen or heard in the prolonged left-wing struggle against the new U.S.-Japan security treaty.

The mass demonstration followed nationwide work stoppages by Solyo, the 24-million member leftist labor federation, which brought public transportation and postal services to a near standstill this morning.

Two ex-convicts from the Pontiac area were arrested at their homes early this morning for questioning in connection with a safe robbery at a Fenton department store last night.

Police said the two men, who were traced by license plates seen at the robbery site, were arrested at their homes about 5 a.m. A third suspect is also being sought, police said.

Flint state police said three men were reported to have tied the owner of Pellet's Department Store and put him in the basement where they cracked a safe shortly before midnight.

About $2,000 reportedly was taken from the safe. The two local men were traced by license plates of a car seen near the store last night.

Both men have served terms at Jackson Prison for armed robbery convictions, deputies said.

1. An apparent recognition by the Soviets of the need for an international peace force, which the U.S. says is necessary.
2. Seemingly Soviet recognition that modern weapons delivery systems are a central problem that must be dealt with under any realistic arms control measures.

This view has been advocated by France, and Khrushchev seemed to be agreeing with it.

A six-year-old girl will have to undergo a series of rabies shots if the dog that bit her is not found.

Shelley Dunigan, 7, of Voorhees Rd., received four bleeding punctures on her chest when bitten by a medium sized, long-haired, black dog with a rusty colored ear, she was walking to the Westview School at 8:45 yesterday morning on Chipmunk street between Manito and Mengemine streets.

Her doctor says she will have to take at least 21 shots, beginning Monday, if the dog is not found. Anyone who should find the dog is urged to call the Pontiac or Waterford Township police departments.

Tax Proposal Favors Industry

U. of M. Prof's Plan Would Up Individual's Share $364 Million

ANN ARBOR (AP)—A new tax proposal that would reduce the annual tax burden on business up to 130 million dollars and raise the load on individual taxpayers up to 364 million will be offered here today as a solution to Michigan's tax problems.

Prof. Harvey E. Bruzer, University of Michigan economist and co-author of a recently published study of the state's economic situation will present the proposal to a tax study committee of Citizens of Michigan, the nonpartisan group formed by industrialist George Romney.

Bruzer's seven-point plan calls for a flat 3 per cent state income tax on all income in Michigan, with a 1 per cent "piggy-back" income tax if they choose.

It also would levy a 3 per cent corporate income tax and permit local governments to tack on another 1 per cent.

The tax study group is composed of leading business, industrial and labor leaders who say they hope to work out an ideal taxing scheme for the state before fall.

An optional 1-cent hike in the state's 3-cent sales tax for the benefit of counties and schools is also included in Bruzer's proposal. His plan is only tentative and major changes are possible before citizens for Michigan agree on a final version.

The Michigan economist said his plan would end the "most objectionable" taxes on business and remove a "chronic source of complaints" highly justified complaints by Michigan businessmen.

Parents of the children are off in the jungle territory making friendly contact with the Indians, teaching them to read and write as well as telling of the Christian religion. The youngsters represent mission groups, Southern Baptist, Inter-American Indian, Church of the Brethren, Missionary Church Association and Plymouth Brethren.

Three Paintings Added to Group

Friends, Members of Kirk in the Hills Present Works of Great Artists

Three paintings were added to the fine collection of art works at the Kirk in the Hills this week, according to the Rev. Dr. Harold C. DeWitt, minister.

The largest of the paintings, "The Supper at Emmaus," impressively portrays Christ sharing an evening meal with three men in a home in the village of Emmaus after His Resurrection.

It was at this meal, when Jesus took bread and blessed it and gave it to them, that the men recognized Him.

Afterwards, they returned to Jerusalem to tell the disciples that they had seen the Risen Christ. Donated by a deaconess of the Kirk and hanging in the Fireside Room of the Kirk House, this large canvas was painted by Jean Valentin (Jean de Boulogne), who is considered one of the great French painters of the early 17th century.

The two other paintings are smaller in size and hang on the north wall of the Kirk House foyer. "The Baptism of Christ" was painted by Jan Swart, one of the greatest painters of the early Dutch School and a pupil of the famous Jan Scovel.

This picture, painted on mahogany and presented to the Kirk by one of its parishioners, has been authenticated by Dr. Max Friedlander, the recognized authority on early Dutch and Flemish paintings. "THE NATIVITY"

The third painting, "The Nativity," is also painted on wood and portrays Mary and Joseph and the Babe in the stable at Bethlehem.

This famed portrait of the Holy Family was painted by an artist of the School of Pietro Vannucci, or Perugino, as he is called because of the city in Italy where he spent most of his life.

Raphael was a member of this noted company of Italian painters whose works were chiefly religious. This canvas is the gift of a former trustee of the Kirk.

The City Wide Choir Union will present its chorus of 100 voices in a spring concert at 4 p.m. Sunday in Macedonia Baptist Church, 512 Pearsall St.

Under the direction of Levi E. Graham, the program will include "Great and Marvelous," by Farmer; "Battle Hymn of the Republic," arranged by Fred Waring, and "How Great Thou Art," a favorite gospel song of the Rev. Billy Graham.

Other classical and spiritual numbers will also be sung. Mrs. Feola Barnes will play the organ and Mrs. Marie Manning, the piano.

Churches represented in the chorus will be Trinity Baptist, Newman AME, New Bethel Baptist, New Hope Baptist, St. James Missionary Baptist and First Temple.

Others are Providence Missionary Baptist, Liberty Baptist, St. John, Methodist, Messiah Baptist, Antioch and Macedonia.

MEASURING SONS FOR NEW CLOTHES — Mike, 5, Matthew, 4, and Steve, 4 (shown from left) are being measured by their mother, Mrs. T. Edward McCully for clothing for a three-year supply. Mrs. McCully and the boys are in Pontiac visiting her parents, the Harold F. Holboiths of 362 N. Johnson Ave. Mrs. McCully is in charge of a home in Quito, Ecuador for children whose parents are missionaries in jungle territory. During the school year they attend classes. Through vacation months the boys and girls are with their mothers and fathers.

HOME IN QUITO — Supervised by Mrs. T. Edward McCully of Pontiac, the home in Quito, Ecuador for children of missionaries was built two years ago. The stucco house with its 21 rooms and many closets is just a block from the school provided by the Christian and Missionary Alliance Church. An Indian couple assists Mrs. McCully with meals and housework.

Missionary Visits Family

Back in Pontiac visiting family and friends from Quito, Ecuador are Mrs. T. Edward McCully Jr. and sons, Mike, Matthews and Steve.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold F. Holboith of 362 N. Johnson Ave., Mrs. McCully is in charge of a home in Quito where she cares for children while parents carry on mission work in Ecuadorian jungles.

Mrs. McCully is also the organist at the HCBG mission radio station community in Quito with her three children, Kathy, 11, Steve, nine and Philip, five. She is raising her family in Christian customs.

After breakfast, she reads them a Bible story and stresses the memorizing of a Bible verse every day. There are prayers at the table and at bedtime.

Mary has regular hours as an employee at the radio office and runs the guest house for missionaries coming to the area and those from jungle stations.

"Quito is known as the city of perpetual spring," said Mrs. McCully. "One of the oldest cities of South America, it is one of the most beautiful in all the world."

"It nestles in a ravine on the east side of the volcano Pichincha, over a mile and three-quarters above the level of the sea."

Working with Betty and Rachel is Dayana, the Aucas girl who fed her tribe long before her people killed the missionaries.

It was Dayana who helped Betty and Rachel learn the Aucas language. She is now in the jungle with her new friends giving the message of the Bible to her people in an understanding way.

Oliver Flemming, wife of the late Rev. Peter Flemming who was one of the five missionaries, is back in the States. She is married and lives with her husband and small son in New York.

Barbara Yoder and her two fatherless children are in Ecuador where Barbara works with the Jivaro Indians under the Gospel Missionary Union.

narrow, steep and somewhat hazardous to climb.

The population which is chiefly Spanish and Indian, is estimated at 150,000. Quito is famous for the needlework and lace made by its women; also for religious painting and carvings of wood ivory, gold and silver.

Other industries of the ancient city are leather-tanning, woolen and cotton cloths, and the drying of bird skins. There are flour mills, foundries, ice factories, and sugar mills.

Ecuador supplies one fifth of the world's chocolate and is one of the largest producers of vegetable ivory. This substitute for elephant's tusks is used chiefly for making buttons.

Panama hats and an excellent grade of coffee are also exported in great quantities, in addition to gold, silver, quinine and hides.

New Minister Going to Lansing

St. Andrew's Announces Robert H. Richardson 1st Pastor From Parish

The Rev. Robert H. Richardson of 3444 Meirand Dr., Waterford Township, has received word that he has been appointed and accepted as assistant pastor at St. Paul Episcopal Church in Lansing.

Working under the Rev. William S. Hill, his duties will begin on July 1.

A graduate of Waterford Township High School and Michigan State University, he completed his ministerial training in May at Virginia Theological Seminary with special recognition in Hebrew.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Richardson, he is the first young man to enter the ministry from St. Andrew Episcopal Church.

Tomorrow will be known as Loyalty Sunday at St. Andrew Church. The very three-month appeal will be made for subscription for time and talent. An appeal for pledges is brought to the congregation semi-annually.

An informal reception will be held on the church lawn following both the 9:30 and 11:15 morning services.

As a special feature of the services, members and friends are asked by the Rev. Waldo R. Hunt, rector, to bring a birthday offering to World Wide Church for one of several projects.

Scholle Hints Kennedy Nod

700,000-Member State AFL-CIO May Grant Backing Next Week

GRAND RAPIDS (UPI)—Michigan AFL-CIO President August Scholle has said the 700,000-member labor organization he heads may endorse Sen. John F. Kennedy for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Scholle said such a move was possible last night after he announced the federation's executive board had delayed a decision on whether to endorse one or more of six seekers of the Democratic nomination for lieutenant governor.

The executive board interviewed the six hopefuls during the week ending yesterday but postponed action on the question of endorsing a candidate for lieutenant governor until after another special meeting tomorrow night.

Scholle said only about 40 of some 60 board members were present and the board decided to delay a decision until members who were not there had a chance to voice their opinions.

The board was holding a series of meetings during the week in preparation for the annual state AFL-CIO convention here Monday through Tuesday.

You Going Prospecting? Might Try It In Moine

AUGUSTA, Maine (AP)—Maine isn't exactly expecting a gold rush, but the state regards the quest for gold and semi-precious gems as important enough to justify a publication on the subject.

Here the father works in his Norton, Va., auto repair shop waiting for all arrangements to be made. The State Department has indicated he would have no difficulty obtaining a passport.

Here's Look at Key Bills in Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — Here is the status of some of the top bills now pending in Congress:

SCHOOL AID — The Senate Thursday night passed a bill authorizing the U.S. membership in a proposed billion-dollar International Development Assn. to help underdeveloped nations. Similar legislation was approved earlier by the House Banking Committee.

CANCER — The House Commerce Committee Thursday recommended a bill to ban for drug colors that can produce cancer in test animals. This ban, approved by the committee already applies to all other kinds of food additives.

Red Cross Not Seeking Funds but Will Forward All Contributions

The Oakland County Chapter of the American Red Cross today announced it is accepting cash contributions for Chilean earthquake relief.

Mrs. Mildred Bennett, director of the local chapter, said the Red Cross is not campaigning for funds but that "We will gladly accept any cash contributions that are volunteered for the relief fund."

"We do not need clothing or other material goods at this time," she said. "Other organizations are handling that phase of the relief program."

All contributions are sent immediately to National Red Cross headquarters and then directly to Chilean disaster areas. Officials estimate it will take years to rebuild the damage by the recent earthquakes.

2 BANNED OVER PAGES Are Telephone Service

Michigan Bell Telephone Co. construction crews are working on two projects, totaling $412,684, to provide additional telephone service for subscribers in the north and northeast sections of Pontiac.

Raymond H. Storm, district manager for the company, said the projects also will provide more telephone circuits between Pontiac and Rochester, Drayton Plains and Clarkston.

One project calls for nearly eight miles of underground and aerial cable to be placed along Perry street from the Pontiac central office on Huron street to the junction of M-34 and Walton boulevard.

This project was largely necessitated by the development of new homes in the areas of Michigan State University Oakland and construction of the U.S. 10 (Chrysler Expressway) Highway which will provide easy access to this section of Oakland County from the Detroit metropolitan area," said Storm.

The project also will provide additional facilities between the Pontiac and Rochester central offices in November.

In another project, more than 12 miles of underground and aerial cable will be placed along Oakland avenue and U.S. 10 from Pontiac into Drayton Plains, Waterford and Clarkston.

Will Highlight October Dedication of Holland National Auto Show

DETROIT (U-P) Formal dedication of Cobo Hall in Detroit's new riverfront civic center in October will be highlighted by a visit by President Eisenhower.

The President has accepted an invitation to visit Detroit Oct. 17 and speak at a banquet at the 33rd National Automobile Show. He will be the first president to visit the auto show since Herbert Hoover appeared at the exhibit in New York in 1931.

The auto show Oct. 15-23 will be the first national automotive exhibit ever held in Detroit. All others have been held in New York.

It was announced earlier Vice President Nixon will speak in Cobo Hall on Oct. 24 before the 61st annual convention of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

The Democratic presidential candidate, who will have been chosen by that time, is expected to speak in the same hall at a similar meeting the day before Nixon.

Cobo Hall was named for the late Albert Cobo, one-time mayor of Detroit.

The commencement will mark the 10th anniversary of the 76-year-old school's becoming a state college.

Maddy to Open Interlochen School

TRAVERSE CITY (UPI)—Dr. Joseph Maddy, founder and director of the Interlochen National Music Camp, has announced he will open Interlochen Arts Academy in September of 1961.

This will enable the company to fill new orders for service for subscribers along the route of the new cable installation and ensure for better grades of service, Storm said. The project also will provide more circuits between the telephone central offices.

Storm said this project is scheduled for completion in December.

An enrollment of 50 is expected initially, with a maximum of 500 in several years, Maddy said.

Maddy, who has been a professor of music at the University of

Northern Lights Paint Skies About Midwest

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Skies sparkled with flashing pyrotechnics over the Midwest early today—an eerie combination of lightning and the northern lights.

Reports of the glowing, shifting northern lights—aurora borealis—came from Iowa, Wisconsin, Michigan, Ohio and Nebraska.

At Grand Rapids, Mich., the aurora was described as beautiful, at Okauchee, Wis., vivid, A' Madison, Wis., where it appeared as a backdrop to a small thunder-
