Michigan Reported Second as Nation's Death Toll Rises

Labor Day Last Long Weekend of Year

HEADING HOME — Industrial workers, as well as all others who labor, are enjoying their last long weekend holiday of the year, with Labor Day. Picture above was taken at Pontiac Motor Division, showing a portion of those who make Pontiac cars as they leave their jobs, heading for the parking lot, home and relaxation.

Oakland County Spared Holiday Traffic Deaths

Royal Oak Fire Victim Only Fatality Reported Thus Far

While the Labor Day accident toll across the state and nation mounted at a record pace, Oakland County authorities kept their fingers crossed as holiday death continued to by-pass the area.

Only one loss of life—and that not attributable to the holiday—marred the county record.

Joseph J. McMahon, 38, of Royal Oak, was found burned to death in his bed last night. Police said he apparently had been smoking. Fire destroyed the bedroom attic, and roof of the dwelling at 4706 Fernlee.

Only the usual number of minor traffic accidents were reported to State Police, the Oakland County Sheriff's Dept., and Pontiac Police, despite heavy traffic.

Five teen-agers were injured Saturday morning when their car, reportedly traveling at high speed, missed a curve in West Bloomfield Township, ran off the road and struck a tree.

Admitted to Pontiac General Hospital and reported in fair condition this morning were: Jack Denier, 17, of Berkley, with a possible skull fracture; Frank Turner, 17, of Bloomfield Township, possible skull fracture and fractured left knee and Richard Oswald, 17, of Berkley, with a fractured nose.

Treated for injuries were the driver, Clayton G. Meade, 17, of Birmingham, multiple bruises, and a passenger, Carl Eddens, 19, of Berkley, bruises.

Police ticketed Meade for reckless driving.

Two other persons were injured when the car in which they were riding also missed a curve, glanced off one tree and crashed into another head-on in Avon Township Sunday morning.

Treated at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital were Peter A. Schultz, 28, of Detroit, and George Ruge, 26, of 228 Atwater, Lake Orion.

The auto's driver, Harold G. Collins, 26, of 530 Parkview, Lake Orion, told Sheriff's deputies he lost control of the vehicle on a curve on Pinegrove road. He was not injured.

S. equestrian Olympic team, was snapped Sunday during his ride over the difficult "long course" at Metamora Hunt Club. Up on "Rikki," Duffy cleared the earth and rock obstacle (No. 14B) in a burst of speed. He was riding phase "D" of the test, a trial of speed and endurance for both horse and rider.

Report Record Pace Set With 301 Fatalities

19 Killed in State Count as Pleasant Weather Lures Motorists

(FROM OUR WIRE SERVICES)

CHICAGO — Holiday traffic deaths mounted at a record pace today with the worst still to come.

The alarming toll stood at 301 with nearly a full day of the four-day Labor Day weekend remaining, including the traditionally most dangerous period — the rush of hundreds of thousands of motorists returning home from brief vacations.

In addition to the highway slaughter, 96 persons were killed in other violent mishaps. Forty-seven drownings were reported and miscellaneous accidents claimed 49 others.

The National Safety Council estimate of 400 highway deaths undoubtedly will be surpassed and officials feared the all-time Labor Day record of 458, set in 1951, may be broken.

Safety Council President Ned H. Dearborn, disheartened by the grim reports, declared:

"This looks like the worst Labor Day weekend in history."

California led all states in holiday deaths with a total of 49—32 of them from traffic accidents. Michigan was close behind with 19 highway fatalities and 4 drownings. Next came North Carolina with 13 traffic deaths, Texas and Indiana with 12 each, Colorado—where President Eisenhower is vacationing—11, and Illinois, 10.

* * *

Paradoxically, the record death pace was blamed in part on generally pleasant weather across the nation which lured more travelers than usual.

An estimated 40 million autos will have been on the highways by the time the holiday period ends at midnight tonight.

Michigan's mounting Labor Day weekend traffic toll appeared likely to top the number killed a year ago.

On the Labor Day weekend a year ago 28 were killed in Michigan traffic accidents. Fatalities are counted starting from 6 p.m. (EST) Friday until midnight Monday.

A double fatality occurred in Benton Harbor last night. L. C.

Union Audience Hears Truman Blast GOP Administration's Fear of Labor

DETROIT (AP)—Harry S. Truman told a labor union audience today the Republican administration is "afraid of labor" because of what it will do in the elections next year.

He asked his audience to support the Democratic candidate for President next year, adding he will "not be the kind of man who gives you a big smile and some nice promises in the political campaign, and then turns you over to your enemies for the next four years."

The former President's speech, prepared for delivery before the Detroit and Wayne County Federation of Labor, was short and lacked some of the fire of his former speeches.

He singled out the "guaranteed annual wage" as a "notable achievement in the field of collective bargaining" and described it as "a stout blow against communism."

Turning to what he described as the Republican administration's fear of labor, Truman cited an indictment "against the CIO here in Michigan for an alleged violation of the Taft-Hartley provision which forbids unions to make political expenditures."

He said he understood this was "because of a union broadcast where Sen. McNamara (D-Mich) appeared on the program."

The Supreme Court, he said, had decided this provision could not constitutionally be used to suppress free speech.

"Just this spring," Truman continued, "a representative of the Republican administration testified before a Senate committee that the Supreme Court's decision made it almost impossible, certainly impractical, to prosecute under this provision. Nevertheless, they come along now and indict a union because it supported a Democratic candidate for the United States Senate.

"You can judge for yourself what caused this about-face. To me it seems that certain Republican politicians are getting ready to play rough."

Truman said the Taft-Hartley Act still has injustices and inequities which need to be cured.

"One evil which has grown out of the Taft-Hartley legislation is the so-called and miscalled 'right-to-work' laws. These laws have been passed by a number of States. They prohibit the union shop and other forms of union security. Their purpose is to destroy the unions."

He said Taft-Hartley expressly permits the states to pass these antiunion laws. That was one of the reasons I vetoed it."

It has become clear that unemployment insurance benefits never will be adequate until federal standards are provided, he said.

* * *

"The reason is that the states are in competition with each other in this matter, and it's just against human nature to expect them not to hedge on these benefits in an effort to attract industry. But is this so-called dynamic, slow moving, conservative Republican administration in favor of federal standards? Not that I have been able to discover."

Looking ahead, Truman noted that "science is opening up vast new sources of power and new means and methods of production. There is a bitter struggle going on to determine whether these new forces are to be controlled by monopoly for the benefit of the few or used for the benefit of all the people."

Government, Labor Salute the American Workman

WASHINGTON — Government and labor leaders saluted the workingman as millions of Americans today enjoyed their final Labor Day fling at summer vacationing.

President Eisenhower said Labor Day is set aside "to salute the men and women who with their heads, hands and hearts produce the wealth of the nation."

"In honoring the nation's workers today," the president said in a special message from his headquarters, "we reaffirm our devotion to the nation itself—which over the years and decades, American workmen have built."

Eisenhower's secretary of labor, James P. Mitchell, announced that the nation set an employment record again in August when some 65½ million Americans had jobs. August thus became the third straight month to register a new employment peak.

AFL President George Meany and CIO President Walter Reuther, in their statements for the three-day holiday, predicted that the scheduled merger this December of their giant labor unions will mean a step-up in union political activity.

Most Americans could count on fair weather as they closed out the summer, at beach or mountain resorts or simply relaxing at home.

Fair and Pleasant Is Weather Outlook

Today's partly cloudy skies are expected to clear tonight, ushering in another "fair and pleasant" forecast for Tuesday.

High temperatures for both today and tomorrow were predicted to range between 76-80 degrees. The low tonight will be in the mid-50s. At noon today, the reading was 74.

The mercury climbed to a peak of 85 degrees here Sunday, and dipped to a low of 61 last night.

Tropical Storm, Hurricane Rage

Gladys Nearing Mexico; Flora Prowls Atlantic, Threatens Shipping

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — The Tropical storm, Gladys, raging toward a point on the Mexican coast less than 100 miles south of Texas, posed a threat to the lush Lower Rio Grande Valley with the threat of heavy rains from moisture sucked up by her swirling center.

The storm, which had already driven thousands of vacationers from Padre Island and ruined the Labor Day holiday in the south Texas resort area, headed for Mexico with winds estimated at 50 miles an hour at the center.

At the same time, Hurricane Flora prowled the distant Atlantic, so far from land she threatens only shipping at the present.

The bureau warned that Gladys may pick up strength as she stays over open water.

The storm sent out a brood of heavy squalls along the Mexican and Texas Gulf Coast.

Discover Bones Believed to Be Those of Squaw

Oakland County Sheriff's detectives were thumbing through books on Indian lore today in an attempt to verify a misty elementary school memory that when braves and squaws died, they were buried in an upright position.

Cause of the sudden interest in things Indian was the discovery of a set of bones in Avon Township Saturday by a man digging the foundation for a new home.

The man, Rabe Pearce, called deputies after striking the bones. Shovel - Wielding officers soon scooped out the rest of the remains, believed to have once been a female.

The skull was about 18 inches below the surface and the rest lower, said Det. Mahlon France. France said other skeletons belonging to Indians have been found in the area.

Nixon, Ike Hold Secret Confab

May Take Up Problem of Israeli - Arab Clash in Near East

DENVER (AP)—President Eisenhower interrupts a holiday rest today for a top secret conference with Vice President Nixon on important national security problems—probably including the Israeli-Arab violence.

The Labor Day meeting at the summer White House was pictured by Nixon himself as one which would deal with important security matters.

But the vice president also told newsmen that his trip from Washington had no emergency aspect.

In reply to questions about the reason for today's conference, Nixon said on his arrival here last night that it would deal with the items on the agenda of a National Security Council meeting to be held in Washington on Thursday. Nixon will preside at that session in the President's absence.

The NSC is the government's top policy making unit on this nation's security program.

Soviets Release 3 U.S. Prisoners

2 Soldiers and Civilian Were Reported 'Lost' Since 1948

BERLIN (AP)—The Soviet Union today released three Americans who spent years in captivity. They were turned over to U.S. Military Police here.

* * *

The Army confirmed their identities as Wilfred C. Cumish, 39, of Amesbury, Mass., private reported missing in Vienna more than seven years ago; Murray Fields, 36, of Brooklyn, N.Y., who disappeared from a constabulary unit in West Germany in 1948; and Frederick Charles Hopkins, a civilian about whom the U.S. State Department says it has no information.

The three men were sent to the Army hospital here for checkups.

An Army spokesman said all appeared to be in good health, but that all three would be held incommunicado until it is decided what action to take against the two soldiers, both of whom are listed as deserters.

The Russians announced on Aug. 20 that they would release Cumish and Fields after the U.S. Embassy had determined from other returnees that they actually were in captivity. The Russians also said they would hand over Hopkins.

Hal Boyle Says:

Everyone, Well Almost Everyone, Enjoys Labor Day

(The following column came to us with the notation: "Reprinted by widespread demand." A careful check disclosed that the widespread demand came from Hal Boyle himself, who is lying on a beach right now, eating hot dogs and getting even more widespread.)

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)— This is Labor Day, a holiday for all those who do America's work.

* * *

And everybody is off having a wonderful time except—the cops on the beat, firemen, motion picture operators, telephone girls, utility plant workers, subway track walkers, bus drivers, and pickpockets.

Yes, everybody has a grand feeling of freedom except—bartenders, busboys, chambermaids, airplane pilots, bellhops, and mothers.

Oh sure, everybody is blissfully relaxing from the daily routine except—performing bears and other teevee stars, train crews, lifeguards, night club orchestras, waiters and watchmen, dairy cows, and the men who give them a hand.

What a gay day, indeed, it is for everybody except — druggists, ice cream cart entrepreneurs, delicatessen owners, Chinese restaurant keepers, hatcheck girls, panhandlers, street cleaners, and men who make a career of taking small dogs for an airing.

EVEN ESCALATORS

Even the escalators in the department stores have a full day off. Who doesn't except —

Wireless operators on ships at sea, agents of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, nurses, hospital internes, the man at the morgue waiting for careless holiday motorists, baseball players, racehorses, jockeys, weather forecasters, boys and girls trying to swim the English Channel, flagpole sitters, and me?

Yes, everybody else is celebrating Labor Day—barbers and floorwalkers, atom scientists and men who wind eight-day clocks, your boss and you.

The millions at leisure owe a debt of thanks to the hundreds of thousands who make this day of liberty possible by staying on the job themselves.

Why not repay them with the three-second period of silent gratitude? Let's not just talk about it. Let's do it. Right now!

Ready? Okay, tense your gratitude muscles. Here we go — one, two, three!

"Thank you, dear suckers who work on Labor Day, while the rest of us frolic in the sun. Thank you, thank you, thank you."

Okay, that's enough. Let's don't overdo it. Feeling grateful is hard work. Relax and —

Happy Labor Day, everybody!

Pontiac's Two Parochial High Schools Open Half-Day Sessions on Thursday

Pontiac's two parochial high schools will open for half-day classes Thursday and Friday, with full time sessions scheduled to begin Sept. 12.

St. Michael High School anticipates an enrollment of about 260, with another 440 registered for the elementary grades. High school enrollment at St. Frederick is 316, and grade school will be approximately 550.

Registrations are closed at both schools. Principals report waiting lists far in excess of the schools' capacities, with students being turned away daily.

At St. Frederick School Thursday, students of grades 9 to 12 will be in school from 8-11:30 a.m. Elementary pupils will assemble at 12:30 p.m., and be out by 3 p.m. Pictures for the office files will be taken of all students, and book lists and directions for the year given out.

Friday, St. Frederick elementary students will attend Mass at 8 a.m. and high school students' Mass will follow at 8:45 a.m. Pupils will follow their regular schedule with short-period classes to meet teachers and become oriented.

Changes in personnel include the hiring of Eugene Wright as high school coach and instructor in physics and algebra, and Miss Betty Spadafore as fifth grade teacher.

New courses are physics, Christian family living and crafts, the latter to be alternated each year with the art course.

An innovation this year will be a lunch period for all students in the school hall, followed by a social hour of dancing and recreation for high school students and organized games on the playground for elementary students.

Improvements include the partitioning of an assembly hall to provide two new rooms, installation of new equipment in the laboratory, and fencing of the athletic field.

At St. Michael School, curriculum will be approximately the same as last year. Mass at 8 a.m. Thursday will begin the school year. Classes and orientation sessions will be held from 8:30 a.m. to noon Thursday and Friday.

Sept. 12, full-swing operations will begin. Classes are scheduled from 8:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. A hot lunch will be served each Thursday by the women of the Altar Society.

Seven new nuns, three in the high school, will be teaching this year.

LA Area Looks for Break Today in Broiling Heat

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Weather Bureau looked for a break today in the heat wave which has broiled the area in 100-plus-degree temperatures the last five days, causing millions of dollars in crop damage and tripling the death rate.

The county coroner said yesterday that 27 heat prostration deaths were reported since Wednesday. In addition, he said heat was a factor in some 200 other deaths in the same five-day period, more than three times the deaths in the same period in 1954.

Poultry and rabbit losses have been set at three million dollars. Citrus and vegetable damage has not been determined.

The mercury hit 101 downtown yesterday.

A high of 96 downtown and 78 at the beaches was predicted for today.

New Seminary Site Purchased

Jesuit Order Acquires 340 Acres of Land in Springfield Township

Three hundred and forty acres of land in Springfield Township have been purchased by the Society of Jesus to build a training school for Jesuit priests.

The property is located half a mile south of Dixie Highway, north of the Andersonville road, fronting on Big Lake road. It is made up of farms owned by Floyd Kent and Paul Kern, Homer Lowrie, and Sarah Lock. Old-timers will know the property as the old Vincent farm.

Floyd Kent, who handled the transaction, says the acreage includes the highest hill in Oakland county.

The Rev. N. J. Preusser of Detroit says this will be a seminary that will give initial training to men in the order.

Shoot Slated Today by Pontiac Archers

Pontiac Archers will hold their 5th annual Tom Grove "fun shoot" today (Labor Day). Two 28-target ranges have been devised, with identical targets to speed up the shooting.

Not a single standard target is on the range for this, the largest shoot of its kind in the nation. There will also be a deer silhouette course of 14 targets. About $500 worth of merchandise will be awarded to winners.

Today's event concludes the top three tournaments held on the Pontiac range this year: Archers outdoor season ends with a broadhead shoot September 18.

GOC Seeks Area Women to Act as Sky Scanners

BIRMINGHAM — It can be a thankless task to sit on a rooftop scanning the skies for enemy planes which never come.

But should they slip undetected beneath the country's vast radar network, the efforts of the Ground Observer Corps would be repaid many times over the hundreds and hundreds of lives which would be saved.

Still a long way away from 24-hour coverage is the GOC post atop Baldwin School here, says G. S. Wiley, post supervisor, who would settle for complete daytime coverage.

This, he says, is where women can lend a helping hand, since he must rely almost entirely on their volunteer work to operate his daytime schedule. "Men in the area are active as spotters in the evening, but it's during daylight hours that we need help from the women," he said.

He explained the GOC job, operated jointly by the Air Force and Civil Defense branches of government:

"It's all for the purpose of observing and reporting plane flights which can be seen from the post. These are phoned in to the filter center in Grand Rapids and coordinated with other information," to determine each plane's right to the skyways.

ALEGT SELFRIDGE

"In the case of unscheduled aircraft, Selfridge Field is called immediately," he said. "Radar can't detect low-flying planes and it is hoped by the Air Corps that any such would be spotted by the ob-

"It's a peculiar job, in that you're looking for something you hope will never happen, but it's also a vital one," he said.

Two hours a day is all Wiley is asking of any woman over 18 years of age. He said, "Shifts start on the even hours and we use two spotters during each two-hour span."

Wiley said anyone interested in securing further information can contact him at his Willits street home or Robert Barton of Oakland avenue, who is chief observer.

Area committee chairmen for the 1955 Detroit Torch Drive have been named by Irving B. Babcock, general chairman of the campaign for Birmingham, Bloomfield and Franklin. Mrs. J. Hawley Otis is general residential chairman and others are:

Mrs. Joseph C. Dodge, Birmingham; residential; Mrs. C. H. Dixon, Franklin; Mrs. Donald W. Richards, Wing Lake; Mrs. R. John Heber, Foxcroft; Mrs. E. A. Schrimer and Mrs. Theodore O. Yntema, Bloomfield Hills, west cochairmen, and Mrs. Raymond G. Bower, Bloomfield Hills, east.

Others are: Mrs. Fred A. Henry, Bloomfield Village; Mrs. Haines P. Walmsley, Oakland Hills; Mrs. Charles I. Vogel, Beverly Hills, west and Mrs. Arthur P. Laffoon, Beverly Hills, east.

Frenchman Rules Roost —With a Bread Knife

MELUN, France (INS) — A French farm worker in Moisenay took one sip of his soup at dinner last night, leaped to his feet in rage and attacked his wife and mother-in-law with a bread knife.

The two women were slightly injured but refused to lodge a legal complaint.

His understanding wife explained:

He was merely angry that she had served pea soup instead of his favorite vermicelli.

Records show night traffic accidents are twice as likely to result in fatalities as those occurring during daylight.

Victims Helped by Mennonites

Flooded Pennsylvanians Rally With Volunteers in Digging Out Homes

EAST STROUDSBURG, Pa. (RNS) — This flood-battered community was invaded by an army of Mennonite volunteers, who are aiding residents in cleaning up mud-filled homes and streets.

* * *

These unassuming Christians —including lawyers, teachers, tradesmen and farmers — have balked at no task, no matter how menial of grueling.

Just as soon as the men get "the rough stuff" cleared away, Mennonite women come into town with mops and scrub pails.

John Hopkins, national Red Cross representative in East Stroudsburg, said the women wash everything from walls to dishes.

"When they leave," he said, "the house is immaculate."

Why are they doing it?

Norman G. Good, Mennonite coordinator of the program and a member of the disaster committee, put it this way;

"This type of work has been going on for some time, and is an outgrowth of our overseas relief work. Most of our large congregations have their own disaster groups.

More crimes, suicides and insanity occur during the summer months than any other period of

Cugat-Lane Marriage Is Three Years Happy

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—A lot of nasty people thought the Xavier Cugat-Abbe Lane marriage wouldn't last—and I was one of the nasty people.

But at the Waldorf Starlight Roof I found them soon to sail for Europe—and Coogie taking off weeks, or months, to be with his bouncy Bronx ball-of-fire while she does a movie, "Young Carmen," in Italy and Spain.

ABBE

"Coogie makes a lot of money with his band, and a man doesn't leave that if he doesn't love his wife!" Abbe proclaimed.

"Besides"—she flipped a wrist—"he bought me a fabulous bracelet . . ."

"Sssh!" I indicated my big-eared B. W. "I didn't get her a present yet for her birthday three weeks ago . . ."

"Oh!", said Abbe, "dummying up," as they say. "We got married 3 years ago. One columnist just wrote that I was belting the bottle. I don't even drink. Coogie and I suit each other."

"How come you're going to Italy?" I asked the beautiful wiggler whose hair is now a Rita red.

"All the Italian actors are here crowding the Americans out and over to Italy," Abbe laughed. "No . . . I have a chance to be a star there."

Coogie sawed at his mustache. "Abbe would like to show her personality more."

"Just let her show more of Abbe," I recommended.

"Here," Abbe said, "you do so many unimportant pictures, you're a has-been before you start. Always an Italian or something."

★ ★ ★ ★

"Won't Coogie get restless?" I asked.

"He'll keep Gina Lollobrigida's husband company," Abbe answered.

"We're going to do a television series—Abbe and me," Coogie said.

"I'm staying in Italy—till they want me back here!" Abbe declared.

"Will she make a good 'Carmen'?" I asked Coog.

"Not a regular Carmen—but this is a young Carmen, and Abbe photographs younger."

"This," asserted Abbe, "will be a 13-year-old Carmen. The Italian girls are well-developed at 13. They won't have me sing."

"A non-singing Carmen!" I exclaimed.

"Just a gypsy-type girl of the streets, begging, a vamp at an early age . . . which comes natural for me," she laughed.

Coogie looked very pleased with his healthy young bride. As Jackie Gleason recently said he used Cugat's band twice in his "America's Greatest Bands" TV program this summer—because he couldn't get all of Abbe on one program.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "Restaurants should provide either faster service or bigger ashtrays."—H. G. Hutcheson.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Thomas Edison claimed that four hours sleep should suffice for any man. Most babies are born knowing this.

"In the good old days the man who missed a stagecoach good-naturedly waited two days for the next one. Today, he squawks if he misses one section of a revolving door." That's earl, brother.

Say Hostile Viewer Reacts More Sharply to Violence

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Violence pictures in movies and television are likely to have a greater impression on the viewer if he is already in a hostile or aggressive frame of mind, a group of Harvard researchers have reported.

The experimenters found this out by playing a dirty trick on half of a group of 127 fifth and sixth graders and then showing them some rip-roaring scenes from a spy thriller. They reported the results to the American Psychological Assn.

The group was divided into two evenly matched teams, then pitted against each other in a spelling bee.

One group was deliberately given difficult words, of about the ninth grade level. The other was given easy words, below its current-class ratings.

The trick worked beautifully. The first group hollered unfair. The experimenters then gave them another chance but kept the words for the first group just about as difficult as before. By the end of the second spell-down the first group was good and mad.

Immediately all the children were shown the spy thriller. A week later the experimenters, Eleanor E. MacCoby, Harry Levin and Bruce M. Selya, tested the youngsters for their recollection of the film violence.

Members of the offended first group recalled significantly more details of violence. The other team did better in remembering neutral details in the picture.

The researchers said the findings indicate that violent scenes are likely to have a greater effect on people if they happen to be nursing a mood disposed to violence, or aggression.

Billy Sunday Film Rights Released to Charity Usage

CHICAGO (RNS) — "Ma" Sunday, 87, disclosed here that she has released motion picture rights for "The Billy Sunday Story."

The evangelist's widow, wearing a pink lace dress and white straw hat, said at a news conference she would give her share of the proceeds to charity.

Mrs. Sunday, the former Helen Thompson, authorized Great Commission Films of Hollywood, a religious film company, to make the movie on her famous husband's life.

She previously had turned down commercial film offers made since Billy Sunday died here Nov. 6, 1935.

Two of the charities that will benefit from the movie are the Pacific Garden Mission here where her ball-playing husband was converted in 1887, and the annual Bible conference held at Winona Lake, Ind., where Mrs. Sunday lives by herself in a nine-room bungalow.

Arsenic Is Used in Coloring Hair

Japanese Doctor Finds Dosage Restores Color in Nervousness

TOKYO (INS)—Arsenic is being used in Japan to restore grey hair to its natural color.

One of the best authorities on the subject in Japan is Dr. Seiic Omori, Chief Dermatologist of Tokyo's Keisatsu Hospital. He's also a well-known plastic surgeon and has spent time in post-graduate work at Harvard.

According to Dr. Omori, the arsenic formula so far has been found to work only on persons white by nervousness and other physical disorders, and not because of age.

He said he has successfully applied the formula to patients giving from three drops of arsenic every four days, gradually increasing the doses to a maximum of 30 drops daily.

"Within six to eight months their hair color was completely restored to its original black," he said.

But this is only part of the story. If, by chance you want your hair to turn green, copper is the metal that can do it.

"Cases have been found in Japan where workers in factories who continually come in contact with copper have had their hair become tinged with a greenish hue that washing won't eliminate," the doctor said.

HAIR TURNS RED

And there have been several cases where factory hands in dye plants have had their hair turn a reddish color because of their contact with Analin, a base for dye.

Over-exposure to Chrysarobin, used to treat fugus growth and psoriasis in humans, tends to make your tresses turn blond, Dr. Omori continued.

Fundamental in this new and fascinating field of research is the theory that hair coloring is determined largely by minerals and metals the body contains or comes in contact with.

* * *

From this follows the argument that hair coloring can be controlled by the artificial introduction of minerals and metals into the human body, through internal or external methods.

But the biggest stumbling block to further research, said Dr. Omori, is that no one has yet discovered the makeup of melanin, the pigment which, combined with other body substances, imparts color to the hair, skin and eyes.

The U.S. Bureau of Mines, among other functions, tests the efficiency of fuels to conserve public money.

Housing Administration Calls Parley to Discuss Flood Insurance Plans

WASHINGTON (INS) — Housing Administrator Albert M. Cole has called insurance representatives to a meeting Thursday to discuss the feasibility of government-backed flood insurance for home owners.

Members of the newly-appointed Flood Disaster Advisory Committee, composed of officials of private insurance firms, will meet with Cole in his Washington office.

Cole said "what we want is a system of flood insurance that the insurance companies will be able to offer persons in potential flood areas" at rates within their means.

The discussions are an outgrowth of government efforts to aid victims of recent floods which ravaged New England.

Cole noted that President Eisenhower had told governors of the flood-stricken states that he wanted to get some insurance through cooperation between private companies, states and local governments to prevent future losses.

The Housing Chief asserted: "One of the worst tragedies growing out of every serious flood, aside from the loss of lives, is the discovery by many home owners that their insurance policies did not cover loss or damage by floods.

NOT SOMETHING NEW

"This is not something new. It comes up every time there is a bad flood, but up to now nothing has come of it. Whenever the question was raised, the explanation was made that the risk against loss could not be spread over a wide enough base to make claim payments financially feasible. Therefore, flood insurance has not been available.

"This administration is not satisfied to let the matter drop there. We want to explore all possibilities, to see if something cannot be worked out to put an end to this seemingly needless type of flood tragedy."

Cole pointed out that Federal Housing Commissioner Norman P. Mason has directed a team of technical experts to work on the problem. They have reviewed the Government Crop Insurance and War Risk Insurance programs as a possible pattern for flood insurance.

These findings will be discussed at Thursday's meetings with the industry, he said. In addition, the representatives will be invited to submit their suggestions.

Attending the conference will be Ambrose Kelly, Associated Factory Muthal Fire Insurance Co., Providence, R.I.; Ray Berry, National Board of Fire Underwriters, New York City; Vestal Lemmon, National Association of Independent Insurers, Chicago; Newell Johnson, American Mutual Alliance, Chicago; Clayton Johnson, Royal Liverpool Group, New York City; and Victor Herd, American Fire Insurance Group, New York City.

British Spending More

Ready New Coal Carrier

A coal pipeline is to be constructed in Ohio beginning in 1955 to carry "black diamonds" 108 miles and open a new era of coal transportation. It is planned to deliver 1,200,000 tons of coal a year to an Ohio electric utility.

Gaza's Location Is Buffer Area

Ancient Philistine City Played Similar Role Throughout History

WASHINGTON — Sun-steeped Gaza, where Samson toppled a temple about the heads of his Philistine captors, relieves its ancient role as an embattled gate between Asia and Africa.

* * *

The city is nucleus of the so-called "Gaza Strip," a 7-by-25 mile zone created by the 1949 armistice between Egypt and Israel. The strip forms an isolated land peninsula administered by the Egyptian Army, choked with Arab refugees, buffeted by border skirmishes.

Gaza, southernmost of the Philistines' five city kingdoms, was the scene of Samson's spectacular revenge against his persecutors. Blinded and despairing, the Biblical strong man "took hold of the two middle pillars" and "bowed himself with all his might so that the house fell upon the lords and upon the people that were therein."

Near by David slew the Philistine giant Goliath.

STALLED ALEXANDER

Alexander the Great surged through the Holy Land in the third century B. C. Gaza held off the Egypt-bound conqueror for five months, but his overwhelming military might opened Philistine cities to Greek influence Gaza became a center of Greek culture with celebrated schools and temples rivaling those in Athens and Alexandria.

Gaza withstood another long siege before it was burned by Alexander Jannaeus, in 96 B.C. Rebuilt, the city was granted to Herod.

Despite its stormy career, however, Gaza has survived as a depot for barley and wheat. Swarthy Bedouins trade for pottery, weapons, food and cloth in the shadow of its minarets.

Britons Report Love Machine Tests Emotions

BRISTOL, England (AP) — British scientists say they have invented a love test machine which can tell right off whether you and your girl friend should get married.

* * *

The machine is called "Topsy and Annie." It is described technically as a topograph and analyser.

"Topsy and Annie" was shown and discussed here this week during the meeting of the British Assn. for the Advancement of Science.

* * *

It is a complex electronic affair which the scientists say can tell from the rhythm of brain waves whether a couple will get on well together.

The Topsy part enables a scientist to watch on 22 small television screens the workings of the human brain. Annie records the brain's reaction.

It can judge if a person has a reliable intellect, if he is emotionally stable, dull or enterprising.

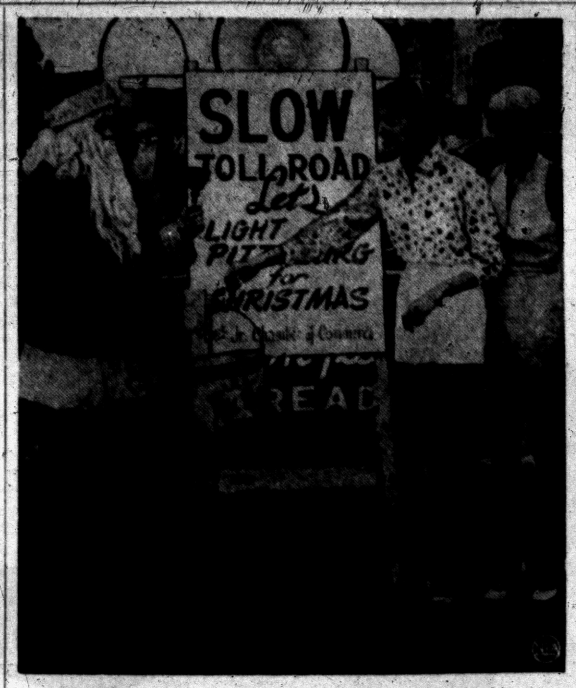

* * *

Dr. W. Grey Walter, British neurologist, has carried out many experiments with the equipment and detailed case histories and graphs have been compiled.

"If two graphs from Annie coincide it means the two people concerned will get on very well, without argument, reaching the same conclusions in the same time and by the same means of reasoning," Dr. Walter says.

* * *

Dr. Walter and his staff say thus far they have been too busy on basic research work to go around testing people who just want to know about themselves.

A HEAT MIRACLE?—Right in the middle of temperatures flirting with 100, residents of Pittsburg, Kans., had a visit from Santa Claus. Nation Pauses to Honor Its Record Labor Force

For the Nation's workers this probably is the most important Labor Day since that anniversary was given legal status.

The first Labor Day was celebrated in 1882 in New York City only. It was not until 12 years later that President Cleveland signed an act of Congress establishing the first Monday in each September as a day to be set aside as labor's holiday.

★ ★ ★

Today's celebration is important to organized workers for two vital reasons. On the first Labor Day 73 years ago total union membership was only two to three per cent of the entire working force. As of now union membership has multiplied many times until it represents 25 per cent of an all time record labor force of 65,000,000 workers.

★ ★ ★

Also, it is a strong sign to note that the country and its workers are enjoying the most prosperous year in our history this year.

This holiday is important, too, because it is the last Labor Day to be celebrated with union strength divided between the AFL and CIO. Before this time in 1956 these two great federations plan to complete the merger approved by both memberships several months ago.

That, of course, means greatly increased political and economic power for organized workers. It also means that on the leaders of the merged organizations will rest greatly increased responsibility.

Merger will bring to those leaders an unequaled opportunity to display real labor statesmanship. If they seize that opportunity, the leaders will demonstrate that they understand and accept labor's responsibilities to the whole of American society.

Red Flannels' Revival Spurred by Two Women

Things are going to be different in the Kent County Village of Cedar Springs come its annual November Red Flannel Festival.

By that time the two women owners of the weekly Clipper, to whom belongs credit for revival of the red flannel underwear industry, will have retired from the newspaper business. Succeeding them as proprietors will be Archard C. Gamm and Millard E. Engberg.

Back in the bitter cold Winter of 1936 a New York reporter bewailed in print the disappearance of old fashioned red flannel underwear. Press services spread the story far and wide.

★ ★ ★

This moved the Clipper's owners, Nina Babcock and Grace Hamilton, who had worked in New York before moving to Cedar Springs, to deny the disappearance of this cozy undergarb. More than that the "Clipper Girls" found plenty of red flannel underwear on the shelves of local stores and made the fact known.

★ ★ ★

Orders poured in. Old stocks vanished. A local dry goods merchant then induced an Eastern manufacturer to resume production.

Today Cedar Springs has a factory turning out red flannel underwear, nightshirts, nightgowns and even berets. The orders which keep it busy come from Singapore, Alaska, England and Scotland.

In full measure that factory is a profit making memorial to the enterprise of the "Clipper Girls."

State Trade Survey

Without fanfare but with bipartisan sponsorship, a survey of foreign trade in Michigan has been started by the Legislature Reference Service.

The idea of this study being conducted by an arm of the Library of Congress, originated with Michigan's Rep. Lesinski. It is jointly sponsored by him and Sens. Potter and McNamara and Reps. Dondero and Rabaut.

★ ★ ★

Lesinski said the idea came to him during Congressional debate on the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act. Complaints that certain features of that program hurt Michigan business prompted him to seek a factual study of the State's foreign trade.

According to the Detroit lawmaker, the Legislative Reference Service's aim is purely objective. In its report there will be no recommendations regarding any aspect of foreign trade.

What it hopes to produce in about nine months is a "comprehensive compilation of unbiased information." This will be available to everyone for his own use in considering the problems and effects of foreign trade upon the economy of Michigan.

These Legislators have shown wisdom and foresight in sponsoring the first study of its kind ever made in Michigan. The survey is especially timely in view of the St. Lawrence waterway development which cannot help but expand Michigan's overseas trade.

Humble Beginning

First Observance in Pontiac Was Participated in by Few

Holiday: What's supposed to be a day of rest, but most of us don't act that way.

Pontiac's first observance of Labor Day was around the turn of the century. What at first was a gathering of only a few, with little attention from most of the people, has grown into one of the big holiday observances of the year. Labor Day was first inaugurated in New York City by the Knights of Labor in 1882. In 1887 Colorado was the first state to make it a legal holiday, and most of the other states soon followed.

James Marlow Says:

U. S.-Soviet Disarmament Tacks Disclose Mutual Attitude of Watchful Distrust

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—With complete politeness in the first big test of their good intentions since the Geneva summit conference, the United States and Russia have now talked face to face almost a week about disarmament.

* * *

Net result: No solution yet. None in sight. But then, none was expected from this meeting in a subcommittee of the United Nations in New York. A little progress would be pretty good. They still have time to do something.

So far neither the United States nor Russia has bought — nor has either rejected — what the other offered. The closed meeting up to this point has been exploratory. Neither offered anything basically new.

Each was standing on a plan offered previously. This did not necessarily mean they might not agree on some proposals before they finish.

REDS LISTEN

Harold Stassen, President Eisenhower's special representative, explained in some detail what Eisenhower had in mind at Geneva when he offered his aerial inspection plan to the Russians. At that time Eisenhower spoke only in general terms.

Arkady A. Sobolev, Russia's chief delegate, listened for most of the week but yesterday he spoke his piece. He wanted to know what the United States had to say about the disarmament plan Russia offered last May.

* * *

Reporters got an impression from what he told them later that Russia's answer to the American proposals might depend on the American answer to Russia's plan.

Eisenhower had proposed that the United States and Russia exchange blueprints on their military forces and establishments. Then each would let the other fly over its territory to check its honesty and accuracy from the air.

These were some of the details Stassen gave the Russians for carrying out the President's idea:

PIECE BY PIECE

The two countries would exchange information piece by piece, not all at one crack. After each exchange the two sides would check each other. Then, finding they were both honest, they would give each other more information and check on it.

In American planes flying over Russia there would be Russian observers. There would be Americans observers in Russian planes flying over this country. Both countries could take photographs and use electronic equipment for checking.

* * *

In addition each side would let the other send ground observers into its territory. They would be stationed at key points. Their purpose: also to check on the information given and warn if they thought there might be a surprise attack.

Sobolev for his part wanted to know what the United States thought about the proposals made by Russia last May 10, since the United States hasn't given a final reply. The Russians proposed that:

The armed forces of the United States, Russia and Red China be reduced to no more than 1½ million men, those of Britain and France to no more than 650,000, and those of all other nations to a maximum of 200,000.

* * *

After an agreed-upon disarmament plan had been carried out 75 per cent, there should be a ban on the use of nuclear weapons except to resist aggression. When disarmament, according to the plan, was complete, all nuclear weapons should be banned completely.

Case Records of a Psychologist

Automotive Engineers and Designers Should Heed Advice From Consumers

Margaret has more "gumption" about designing modern automobiles than many engineers. Her case shows the value of consumer surveys, for the salesmen and the customers can offer many helpful ideas of braintruster engineers in their ivory towers.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case P-331: Margaret Ragsdale, aged about 40, is a very talented writer for the News Sentinel at Knoxville, Tenn.

When I was in Knoxville recently for some speeches, she came over to interview me during my breakfast.

* * *

Since I was to address the Sales Executive Club at noon, our talk veered around to consumer surveys.

"Dr. Crane, I wish manufacturers would pay more attention to the wishes of us consumers," Margaret began.

"If they'd produce more precisely what we want, it wouldn't place such a burden on the salesmen and advertisers."

Then she gave me a personal example. Her automobile had a curved metal housing for the speedometer which reflected light against the windshield directly in front of the driver.

* * *

So she politely wrote, a three-page letter to the automobile firm in Detroit suggesting that the engineers eliminate this curved spot on the panel and thus stop the needless eye strain on motorists.

Since her husband is an engineer and she is a very discerning woman, she mentioned several other minor flaws that could easily have been corrected.

OBSTINATE FIRMS

"Dr. Crane, do you suppose they thanked me for my unselfish advice by which they could have made their automobiles more appealing?"

* * *

"Instead, they brushed me off with a curt letter insisting their automobile was perfect and required no improvements.

"So I dropped them a reply saying my husband and I had traded our car on a rival brand of automobile."

Well, I can doubly appreciate what Margaret had in mind for the make of car which I now drive also has a similar curved metal piece which bounces the sun's reflection back against the inside of my windshield and gives me a headache within an hour or two.

* * *

If the designing engineers would use a little more "horse sense", and if they would take the consumer's viewpoint, they could easily remove such minor flaws in modern motor cars.

'BRAIN TRUSTERS'

We apparently have too many "brain trusters" who are sitting on their fannies concocting manufactured items that only partly fulfill the needs of us consumers.

* * *

If more applied psychologists who specialize in efficiency engineering were employed to OK or veto new models, there'd be less pressure on modern salesmen and advertisers to unload only partially perfect merchandise.

To be specific, it is idiotic that they still manufacture automobiles that depend on the right foot for the brake pedal.

Since this right foot is also required to operate the foot throttle, it is not in constant contact with the brake, but must waste precious time moving across from throttle to brake pedal.

"Horse sense" would have the brake pedal in constant contact with the driver's foot, thereby saving thousands of lives. The idle left foot should either operate the brake or else the throttle.

* * *

But no—lazy inertia keeps the antiquated system still in vogue in automobiles, just as it led to the loss of hundreds of lives of children until recent years because they refused to change the rear doors so the wind wouldn't whip them open.

PRACTICAL IDEAS

It is thus high time you salesmen were asked for your practical ideas concerning the designing of the goods you must later try to sell.

* * *

And the consumers, like Margaret Ragsdale, often have far more "horse sense" than the braintruster engineers in our factories who depend too much on drawing boards and textbooks, instead of practical experience.

Always write to Dr George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and a dime to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his psychological charts.

Contractor's Son Adds to School Board Question

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of these will not be published if the writer the writer must accompany letters but its nature

I would like to add to the question of the school board's decision to accept other than the lowest bidders. Being the son of the electrical contractor who submitted the low bid and was turned down, I feel qualified to submit some facts unknown to the taxpayer.

He is in his 60's and has spent his mature life with electricity. He was licensed in 1917 as an electrical contractor. He has installed electrical systems in too many schools to mention, most of them larger than the one in question. At present he has three schools nearing completion.

Now, taxpayers, I ask you truthfully, do you think the man is competent?

What's going on behind the scenes?

We bought property here in 1922 and have been taxpxayers since. I live here and have two children attending school. My father had intentions of opening an officer here, but with conditions such as this, it is discouraging. Who would pay the cost of estimating these jobs if they are given to a selected few, regardless of lower prices?

Taxpayers, this deal just cost us $1,300 on just the electrical work alone in a very small school. If it's allowed to contihue, who knows what it might amount to next? Think it over.

'Millions Wasted Yearly on U.S. Wheat Surplus'

The carry-over supply of old wheat on July 1st was offically reported to be one billion, 20 million bushels or 13 per cent more than the previous report which was given April 1.

We have nearly a two year supply of wheat on hand for the biggest surplus ever known. Now according to another newspaper's article, the government cannot sell nor give away the wheat.

The normal carry-over of wheat is 20 per cent as defined by law, or 185 million bushels. Yet we had on hand more than five times that in April and more has been added since.

The cost to the taxpayer for this wheat was two and a half billion dollars. The storage bill is over three million a week and does not include interest on the money nor depreciation on the wheat.

Now they say don't sell to the Russians, because it will help them. Suppose it did help them make one bomb. The U.S. would save enough to make two or three. By getting rid of this wheat the U.S. would get rid of the Frankenstein monster we created, costing money at the rate of $400 million a year.

Raise Bond on Builders for Digging Permits

What's happened in Perry Park this time? Looks like Consumers is doing fall plowing and giving some more of that out-of-this-world service.

The government - subsidized builders have already made the roads like logging trails and our city men are constantly back filling their work. The city inspectors either have a 12-month vacation or take eight hours a day for coffee.

I think the Commission should set a few rules, raise the bond for builders' digging permits and put a time study man on the inspectors so these jobs would be done as specified under the bonding permit.

Are Females Obligated for Husbands' Debts?

In the Constitution of the state of Michigan in 1850, article XVI says, "The real and personal estate of every female, acquired before marriage, and all property to which she may afterwards become entitled by gift, grant, inheritance, or devise, shall be and remain the estate and property of such female and shall not be liable for the debts, obligation, or engagements of her husband; and may be devised or bequeathed by her as if she were unmarried."

I'm wondering if this is in the present state constitution.

Modern Dentists Should Practice Saving Teeth

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

It was six or eight years ago, and I forget just how much it cost, but I'm sure it was at least $100, for a root canal filling.

I recall three things about it: (1) The dentist's skill in the use of local anesthetic, which made the whole procedure absolutely painless; (2) the dentist's admirable asepsis—surgical cleanliness; and (3) the dentist's technical skill in placing the fillings in the full length of the canals, one of which was curved or angled, so that there was no subsequent irritation.

That tooth is still functionally efficient, and worth to me many times what the dentist charged to save it.

Many dentists in practive today are not capable of filling root canals. I suppose we can't blame them for their incompetence.

It is the fault of dental education in America. Separate schools for dentists just do not inculcate the principles of asepsis.

STRAIN ON TEETH

This will put a strain on the teeth of the profession. Dental practitioners have been exposing their canine teeth and telling me vehemently, ever since I first deplored the anomaly, that their schools give students virtually the same fundamental instruction as regular medical schools do; that a person with the D.D.S. or D.M.D degree has the same right as has one with the M.D degree to call himself doctor.

The latter claim I have never questioned. Still, in any emergency the call for a doctor is clearly understood.

The claim that students in a dental school get virtually the same instruction as students in a medical school, in the first two or three years at any rate, may be, and in my judgement should be true.

If it is true, I ask why maintain separate dental schools?

In view of the rights, privileges, and responsibilities, a license to practice confers on the dentist—performance of operations, giving general or local anesthetics, prescribing whatever he or she thinks the pateint needs, regulating diet—it would seem only common sense that he, or she should be required to qualify first as a doctor of medicine; and then, if he or she wishes to specialize (limit practice to dentistry), have additional training in whatever postgraduate course his or her chosen specialty may require.

UP TO THE DENTISTS

It should be for the dentists themselves to decide what or how much additional training the newly graduated M.D. requires to qualify to limit practice to dentistry.

This is precisely the way all the other specialists in medicine and surgery do it.

The dentists have been sulking for well over a hundred years now, standing off from the parent profession, drawn in upon themselves, retarding scientific proggress in the prevention and cure of many diseases which begin in the mouth.

Isn't it about time to shut down the dinky, wasteful, outmoded separate schools and give students a square deal—the opportunity to practice on an even footing with any or all other doctors?

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to the Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Mich.

Eager Czech Bartenders Selling Drunks Liquor

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—A Prague newspaper complains that bartenders in Communist Czechoslovakia as so eager to "fulfill their quotas" that they are selling liquor to drunks.

A recent edition of Mlada Fronta also complained about the declining morals of Czech youths. It said drunken youngsters in southern Bohemia have been forcing girls to dance with them by threatening "vulgar scandals."

Railroads of the U. S. in 1954 had a net income of $673,600,000, the smallest since 1949.

Seal Horrified — but She Adjusts to New Situation

HONOLULU (AP)—It was almost more than a poor girl could stand, and Lucille took it pretty hard.

* * *

After all, how would you like to be chased around a swimming tank by a monstrous big seal?

Trouble was, Lucille didn't know she was a seal, too. Ever since she was a month-old baby she's known nothing but humans and fish.

That's why she took a real dim view of Waldo the seal when the U.S. Coast Guard brought him to the Waikiki Aquarium from French Frigate Shoal near Midway.

* * *

It was love at first sight for Waldo. He set out after Lucille a-flipping and a-flapping, barking sweet nothings all the while.

But it wasn't love at first sight for Lucille. All she wanted was out.

"The world came down around Lucille when she found out she wasn't a human," said Kenneth A. Wong, in charge of the aquarium.

* * *

But things are looking up now. Lucille has learned what Waldo knew all the time—she's a she seal and he's a he seal. And it seems they're going to live happily ever after.

There were about 1,076,000 families in the U. S. in 1954 which were disrupted by death or divorce.

Boone Country to Be Put Aside

Cumberland Gap Area Becomes National Park This Autumn

WASHINGTON — Cumberland Gap, the Appalachian mountain doorway that funneled untold thousands of pioneers into the promising American west, will be dedicated as a national park in October.

* * *

Creation of Cumberland Gap National Historical Park culminates a 35-year effort to preserve an area recalling Daniel Boone and other frontiersmen who plodded the Wilderness Train, the National Geographic Society says.

The National Park Service has tentatively set Oct. 8 as the date of dedication.

Three states contributed more than 20,000 acres of scenic mountain land to the park, situated where the sharp southwestern wedge of Virginia joins the Kentucky and Tennessee borders. From a 3,000-foot pinnacle in the park visitors on clear days can see Georgia, Alabama and North Carolina.

Cupped in the westernmost Appalachians, Cumberland Gap was known centuries ago to the Indians as a natural entrance to Kentucky's hunting grounds. It was discovered in 1750 by Dr. Thomas Walker, an alumnus of the College of William and Mary, during a search for settlement lands. Daniel Boone reached the Gap 19 years later. Just beyond, the lovely Kentucky countryside, which he "esteemed a second paradise," enthralled Boone. He determined to live there.

WILDLIFE PLENTIFUL

"We found everywhere abundance of wild beasts of all sorts, through this vast forest," Boone said. "The buffaloes were more frequent than I had seen cattle in the settlements, browzing on the leaves of the cane . . . fearless because ignorant of the violence of man. Sometimes we saw hundreds in a drove."

* * *

Soon land - hungry easterners swarmed the Gap — 20,000 in one season. A "traveling church" of 600 persons ambled along in 1781, carrying the communion service and Bible from their church back in Spotsylvania County, Virginia. Finally they established a wilderness seat of worship.

Besides everyday people, men who left their mark on history walked the Gap. George Rogers Clark used it en route to Williamsburg, Va., to seek 500 pounds of powder to win the Northwest. Once lingering along the Gap, Henry Clay explained: "I am listening to the tread of the coming millions." Viewing the Gap for the first time, General U. S. Grant remarked: "With two brigades of the Army of the Cumberland I could hold that pass against the army which Napoleon led to Moscow."

Scattered through the region are sturdy descendants of the pioneers whose "wagons broke down" at the Gap. Retiring and religious, they lead independent lives. Much in their houses is the work of their hands — simple furniture, patchwork quilts and rugs.

* * *

The rolling, green vistas seen from the Gap impressed the governors of Kentucky, Tennessee and Virginia when they met there in 1943 to plan the park. Virginia's governor then stood at a spot in his State nearer nine other State capitals than Richmond, his own capital. These are Charleston, W. Va., Columbus, O., Indianapolis, Ind., Frankfort, Ky., Nashville, Tenn., Montgomery, Ala., Atlanta, Ga., Columbia, S.C., and Raleigh, N.C. Cumberland Gap is farther west than Toledo, O.

Replace Two Cannons at Civil War Fortress

ROCK ISLAND, Ill. (AP) — Ft. Armstrong, which was established in 1816, again has two brass cannon mounted at the site overlooking the Mississippi River on Rock Island Arsenal Island.

They replace two Civil War iron cannons mounted on wooden carriages. Many repairs were required with the passing of time.

The design of the brass cannons is similar to the mounts used in 1816.

Doodles Way Into Jail

LANSING (AP) — A young burglar doodled his way into jail while ransacking a Lansing office. Among his loot was a fountain pen with which he doodled his name on an office scratch pad. Police ran down the name in the city directory. The boy confessed.

Parisian Motorists Bump Patrons From Sidewalks

PARIS (AP)—Sidewalk cafe sitters on the Champs Elysees have lost a round in their perennial battle with drivers who park their cars on the boulevard's wide sidewalks.

* * *

A new Seine Department ruling limits the depth of the table space to five meters—16.5 feet. The aim is to make more room for parking.

"So that Parisians can drive their cars, is it necessary to condemn them to die of thirst?" an afternoon newspaper asked.

Although the decree is not to go into effect until next January, cries of protest already are going up from the white-coated garcons, the president of the Restaurant Assn. of France, and fans of open-air drinking.

* * *

M. Francois, irate president of the restaurant association, fired his blast this way:

"To reduce the Champs Elysees cafe terraces by more than a third to make new parking space is like doing away with the canals of Venice to build pavements.

"This decision is regrettable from the aspect of tourism and even from the economic point of view. The city of Paris is going to lose tax money which runs as high as 12,000 francs—$34—per square meter."

At Fouquet's, a fashionable watering spot for generations of thirsty Parisians and tourists, the maitre d'hotel with traditional restraint said "They're going a little far."

"Our terrace," he added, "has contributed in making Paris the most beautiful city in the world."

* * *

A busy garcon on the vast and sunny Colisee terrace said "we can't even take care of all the tourist trade now in the summer. If the space is cut some of us may lose our jobs."

In addition to parking along the curbs of the broad Champs Elysees pavement, cars can enter an inner area and park between buildings and the rows of chestnut trees. This area in places becomes a tangle of moving automobiles, pedestrians, and cafe sitters.

* * *

Veterans of the automobile vs. sidewalk cafe battle have learned that the better part of valor is to take at least a second row table on the terrace.

Earth-Type Dam Is Widely Used

Builders Use Available Materials to Construct Massive Projects

WASHINGTON — A wall of dirt — a huge new earth-filled dam across the Durance River in southeastern France — soon will work an ecopomic transformation for an entire river basin.

Engineering requirements dictate the choice of the less graceful earth structures. Strong rock foundations are necessary to support most types of concrete dams. Earth dams may be built with materials immediately available. They can rest on poor rock and earth.

Earth dams must be watertight, stable, able to hold shape, safe from overtopping by flood water and free from erosion. The Anderson Ranch Dam is a prime example. Called the world's highest embankment, it stands 456 feet in a canyon of the South Fork of the Boise River 30 miles north of Mountain Home, Idaho.

Falcon Dam is symbolic of economic cooperation between the United States and Mexico along their common border. Located 75 miles below Laredo, Tex., Falcon is a 5-mile-long compacted earth and rock-fill structure. It is designated to impound Rio Grande waters in a lake 60 miles long and 11 miles wide. Power plants provide electric energy for both countries.

Marshall Ford Dam is a composite type, utilizing a concrete section across the river channel and earth embankments at both ends. A principal bulwark in the Colorado River project of Texas, 13 miles northwest of Austin, the dam provides flood control, irrigation and power.

* * *

Garrison Dam in North Dakota, another earthen type, is under construction for flood control and power purposes. Standing 203 feet above stream bed, the 12,000-feet-long structure is scheduled for completion by June, 1958.

U. N.'s Congress to Aid Inmates

Newly Adopted Charter for Penal Institutions Lists Minimum Rules

GENEVA (RNS) — A requirement that spiritual counseling and religious services be provided to inmates of penal institutions is included in a "prisoners' charter" adopted unanimously here by the first United Nations Congress on the Prevention of Crime and Treatment of Offenders.

* * *

The code of 95 standard minimum rules for the treatment of prisoners also covers such matters as accommodations, food, health, clothing, contacts with the outside world, discipline, and general principles for fitting prisoners to reenter society and for caring for them after their release.

* * *

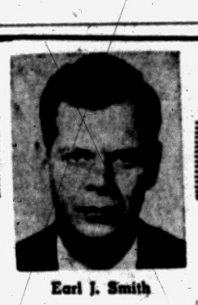

The congress laid down the basic principle that the rules should be applied "without discrimination on grounds of race, color, sex, language, religion, political or other opinion, national or social origin, property, birth or other status."

2 Senators Back Road Legislation

House May O. K. Bill to Help Highway Needs; Compromise Expected

WASHINGTON (INS) — Prospects appear excellent for passage of a compromise highway bill early next year to help meet the nation's 100 billion dollar road needs.

* * *

Two GOP senators who supported President Eisenhower's highway bill in the last session said they are willing to vote for a compromise.

They are Sens. Edward Martin (R-Pa), who as former chairman of the Public Works Committee was active in the highway fight of the last session, and Frank Carlson (R-Kans).

Lawmakers, returning to Washington after trips home, said they found voters insistent on action on highway construction. Without exception, they have put the road issue high on their list of "must" work for early in 1956.

The Senate passed a Democratic-sponsored road bill at the last session but the House killed both that measure and the Eisenhower Administration's bill. However, House leaders have indicated a willingness to make another try early in the next session. Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon Johnson of Texas is on record favoring quick passage of a highway program.

CARLSON WILLING

Carlson said he will be willing to support a compromise under which from 25 to 50 per cent of interstate roads could be financed by the bond-issue method recommended by Eisenhower for the total programm.

He said the balance could be put under the pay-as-you-go method. Carlson declared: "I think this proposal has real possibilities."

Martin said: "I support the President's bill but I am willing to vote for a compromise in order to get road action."

* * *

Sen. Albert Gore (D-Tenn), who sponsored the Democratic bill under which highway construction would be paid for by direct appropriations, said he will push in January "to get passage" of a road program.

Carlson declared that the "highway problem is something we must deal with and no detouring —with about 60 million autos on the roads and trucks increasing daily, it is just good business to build the highways we need."

U.S. History Books Need Revisions

BRUNSWICK, Germany (AP) — Many Americans and Germans alike failed to see the danger of Hitler's rise . . . Americans had an economic interest in an Allied victory before they entered World War I . . . The U. S. Senate's rejection of the Versailles Peace Treaty proved President Wilson's ineptness as a political manipulator.

* * *

These are "objective" views agreed upon by German and American historians in a week-long conference here. They recommended this week that these views be included in both countries' textbooks to give students a "clear" picture of history.

The conference, second of its kind, was organized and financed by the U. S. Embassy in Bonn. It was held under the auspices of the International Schoolbook Institute here. Similar meetings have been held by Germans with French and English historians.

Prof. Georg Eckert, director of the Institute, said it was "extremely fruitful."

"Many historical events which have been presented onesidedly and with a moralizing tendency in the past now have been neutralized because their causes have been newly identified," he explained.

TEXTS CHANGED

Eckert said many American textbooks had been revised to conform to the recommendations issued by the last conference in August, 1952. He did not say whether German books were also revised.

This year's conference produced three documents dealing with German-American relations in the 18th and 19th Centuries, between 1900 and 1941, and during the Nazi regime. All German grade schools are asked to teach American history in accordance with the views outlined.

* * *

The papers imply, at least indirectly, that the United States could have helped to avert Hitler's seizure of power in 1933. Describing the last years of the Weimar republic, they say:

"The United States was vastly busy with its own problems . . . and the threatening aspects of world politics, (the Manchurian conflict, disarmament question, etc.). Therefore, it was neither in the position nor ready to pay more attention to the German question, the whole seriousness of which was grasped as little by many Germans. While the German crisis of 1923 was overcome in part by the political and financial intervention of the United States, this was not the case in 1932-33."

SEVERE TREATY

On the Versailles Pact, the papers say the Germans, having built their hopes of the victors' generosity on President Wilson's 14 points, were "bitterly disappointed by the severity of the treaty."

* * *

"Although majority opinion in the United States apparently favored ratification of the treaty, the Senate rejected it. Personal and partisan opposition to the president played a part in the rejection. President Wilson proved in this instance to be inept as a political manipulator."

On American supplies to Britain before the United States joined World War I, the papers give this view:

"As a consequence of the superior effectiveness of the British blockage, Americans sold more to Britain than to Germany."

Fourteen German and four American historians took part in the conference. Prof. William B. Hesseltine of the University of Wisconsin, was chairman. Other Americans were Prof. Chester V. Easum, of the University of Wisconsin, now cultural attache at the U. S. embassy in Bonn, Prof. John Hope Franklin of Howard University, Washington, and Prof. Fred H. Harrington of the University of Wisconsin.

Coal production in the U. S. during 1954 averaged about 2.5 tons for every person in the country.

MONDAY
LABOR DAY

This is Labor Day, which most workers celebrate by not working. Held each year on the first Monday of September, it is a legal holiday.

Labor Day honors the working men and women of the nation. The labor unions were the first to ask for it. One of these was the Knights of Labor which, starting in 1882, paraded in New York City and asked the government to declare their day a holiday. The American Federation of Labor, founded in 1886, joined in the project. Oregon was the first state to make Labor Day a legal holiday. That was in 1887. Other states followed.

People celebrate Labor Day with picnics, parades, athletic events and other holiday activities. Afterwards, workers go back to work, and children go back to school.

Tomorrow: Fun in the Backyard.

Hearing all about "The Shy Little Kitten" is wide eyed Dewain Collan, three year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Collan of Pershing road. Play lady, Mrs. James St. Louis of Lakewood drive, Watkins Lake, is one of 35 playladies who devote their time to the children in Pediatrics at Pontiac General Hospital.

Concentration is a necessity for checker experts Robert Immell, son of the Robert Immells of Cadillac street, and play lady, Mrs. Charles Harmon of West Iroquois road. Robert, a patient at Pontiac General Hospital, seems quite dubious of the outcome of a move just made by Mrs. Harmon.

Auxiliary Division Offers Toys to Sick Youngsters

By JOAN RITTER

Sparkling eyes and the "hi's" of youngsters greet the play ladies of Pontiac General Hospital as they push their 'play train' through the Pediatrics department. Dressed in their light green smocks with hobby horse, clown and merry-go-round appliques, they are always welcome.

The play ladies, a division of the Auxiliary to the Pontiac General Hospital, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Harold A. Tripp, make daily trips to visit and play with the young patients.

The play train is loaded daily with Porky Pig comics, little Golden books, crayons and coloring books, chalk and slates. Inside the "engine compartment" dolls and games are ready for eager young hands anxious for some extra attention and the playmates they miss during their stay at the hospital.

Besides the 28 women who alternate in teams of two, one afternoon every two weeks, Mrs. Tripp has a substitute list from which she draws if a volunteer is unable to keep her appointment. In addition she has several women who make the dolls "the best dressed in Pontiac" by their assistance in making doll wardrobes.

CUPBOARDS FILLED

In the past, women who volunteered their time often had to assist financially to keep the toy and doll cupboards filled. Now the group receives monetary donations and gifts of toys from interested Pontiacers making this no longer necessary.

Mrs. Tripp and her volunteers are now anticipating putting into action a plan that has been long in the making. It consists of a team of two play ladies per evening becoming story tellers. They will read bedtime stories to the children between 8 and 9 in the evening. The many books on the shelves in the Auxiliary's room at the hospital will be at their disposal for this new activity which will begin officially Oct. 1. Mrs. Tripp feels that a repertoire of 12 stories per play lady will be sufficient considering the ever-changing patient population in the hospital.

* * *

The success of the play lady project seems to lie in the common bond, a love of children, which unites every member of the Play Lady division.

Absorbing attention is being given one of the many dolls Andrea Stockford has adopted during her stay at Pontiac General Hospital. Mrs. Harry Bell of Whittemore street is giving her the special attention characteristic of play ladies. Andrea is the 17-month-old daughter of the James Stockfords of Union Lake road.

Steven Michael Adams is all set to "chug along" on the play train being pushed by play lady Mrs. Harold A. Tripp of Dakota drive. Steven, a patient at Pontiac General Hospital, is the 10½ month old son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Adams of West Longfellow street. Play lady, Mrs. Abraham Avadenka of Chippewa road is giving Steven some moral support.

Parties Fete Elizabeth Palmer Ward

Three lovely parties honoring Elizabeth "Libby" Palmer Ward have kept the honoree busy this past week.

Elizabeth, daughter of Harold Lee Ward of Ottawa drive, and the late Mrs. Ward, will become the bride of Edmond Francis DeVine Sept. 17. His parents are the Frank B. DeVines of Ann Arbor.

Barbara Mercer gave an unusual kitchen shower for the bride-elect at Bloomfield Hills Country Club (just the day before she left for San Bernardino, Calif. to resume teaching).

The guests are still talking about the clever decorations done in yellow and white (the colors Libby will use in her kitchen.)

A beautifully decorated double boiler was used as the centerpiece and was filled with yellow and white flowers. Various kitchen utensils tied with yellow bows, also were used in the arrangement.

Another lovely affair was the party given by Mrs. Leo Beaudette of West Huron street and Mrs. Thomas H. Wilson of Clarkston. The party honoring Libby also was held at Bloomfield Hills Country Club.

Still another party at which the bride-elect was honored was a pantry shower given by Mrs. Kingsley Brown Jr. at her home in Birmingham.

Several other parties are planned for Libby for the next two weeks.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Harold C. Haskins of Walnut Lake road are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ingwald Wangberg of Birmingham at their cottage on Lake Avalon, near Hillman for the holiday.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex A. MacDiarmid Jr. are entertaining members of their families at a picnic dinner today. They will gather on the terrace of the MacDiarmids' new home on Shoreview drive for the affair.

* * *

A most enjoyable way of spending a vacation according to Mr. and Mrs. Russell Smith of Maitland, Fla. is to return to one's former home and renew acquaintances.

The Smiths are at the home of their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Philip L. Francis of Oxford road.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence L. Smith and daughter, Rosemary, of Windcroft drive are spending the Labor Day weekend at their cottage at Caseville.

Enjoying the weekend with them is their son-in-law, Joseph Swengros of Lyford street.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Danton and family have returned to their home on Ferry street after vacationing at Traverse City.

* * *

Spending the holiday weekend at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Rogers of Oliver street is their daughter, Jeanne, and Richard French of Oak Ridge, Tenn.

Wanda Jean Dodge, former resident of Pontiac and daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Dodge of Cass City, was married Aug. 20 to Richard A. Coolman. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Coolman of Northville.

The couple were married in a candlelight ceremony at First Presbyterian church of Northville. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. John O. Taxis.

After a honeymoon trip to northern Michigan, the couple will reside in Birmingham.

Love of Beauty Enriches Her Life

By ANNE HEYWOOD

People who look for beauty find it everywhere they go, even in the most unlikely places; and people blind to beauty will never find it, though it is pushed right under their noses.

* * *

Marion B. is a woman who sees beauty and it enriches her life more than you can believe.

AT THE SHORE

For instance, a year ago this past summer, Marion, her husband and three children spent the summer at the shore.

Mr. B. is a school teacher. But while they haven't much money, Marion's skill and cultivation of beauty has made their lives far more pleasant than many of their friends whose budgets are unlimited.

That summer Marion became fascinated with driftwood and collected it from all over the beach. The children helped, bringing in little pieces.

Marion experimented with different finishes for the pieces, learning how to bleach some, to polish others, to leave others with the natural raw look. The children helped and found it very interesting.

* * *

When they moved back to the city last fall, Marion had a carload of driftwood. She set it up in her workroom and really began working in earnest.

WONDERFUL SCULPTURE

Some of the pieces made wonderful modern sculpture. She mounted these on bases made of plastic or blocks of wood and gave them imaginative names.

Some of them decorate her own house and others were given to friends who were fond of modern art.

* * *

Whenever a birthday or an anniversary present came along, Marion gave one of her pieces of "sculpture."

For Christmas, she made mobiles. Certain pieces of driftwood were perfectly formed for mobiles, which, when hung from the ceiling, became a wonderful base for Christmas tree ornaments.

CONTINUED PROJECT

Again this summer Marion continued collecting driftwood and experimented with still new ways of finishing it.

Her quest led her to a great interest in other kinds of modern art and in modern furniture.

* * *

And now, with the children in school, Marion is going to study modern decorating. She has been getting books on it from the library, covering the museums and department store exhibits, clipping things from magazines.

She may never make money at her hobby, but it keeps her interested, keeps her growing intellectually, keeps her learning and developing her talents.

It also supplies the family with much amusement and, of course, saves a great deal of money that would be spent on less attractive gifts.

Next time your life seems gray and dull and poverty-stricken, try opening your eyes to the beauty around you. It may open up new horizons that will change your whole life!

DAR Group Enjoys Picnic

The Watkins Lake home of Mrs. George R. Eldred was the setting for the picnic meeting of the General Richardson Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution. Luncheon was served on the lawn with Agnes Hilton, Mrs. Lyle L. Echtinaw and Mrs. T. Edward Nelson assisting the hostess.

The first vice regent, Mrs. Lloyd Porter, presided at the meeting and introduced Mrs. Harry Going and Mrs. Calvin Dennison, United Fund Central Volunteer Service secretary, who were speakers. They spoke on "Our City, Its Past, Present and Future."

Mrs. Going, a pioneer of Oakland County and resident of Pontiac for many years, told of the early history of our city, its founding by Col. Stephen Mack and the Pontiac Co., Pontiac's early boundaries and incorporation as a village.

Mrs. Dennison, in presenting Pontiac of today and the future, showed a movie of the activities of the agencies supported by the United Fund.

Bring Mom and Would-Be Beau Together

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

I guess you think your mother is pretty stuffy sometimes. And it's too bad she wields so much authority when all she can say is "no."

* * *

That's the way it seems when you want to date a boy your mother has never met. And she insists on knowing him before you can have a date with him. The big problem, as it is to this girl, is how to get the boy over to the house so mother can meet him without making a date with him?

"Dear Miss Woodward: Several weeks ago I met a very nice boy at a fair. Since then he has called me several times to ask for a date. Each time I've had to refuse because my mother says I don't know him well enough.

"What I want to know is how can I get to know him well enough without having dates with him? A relative of ours who lives near him inquired around about him and found out that he is considered a very nice boy. But my mother isn't convinced yet.

"We don't go to the same school, so I can't get better acquainted with him that way. Have you any suggestions?"

Answer: When your mother says that you don't know him well enough to go out with him, what she means is that she doesn't know him well enough to trust him to take care of you. Your problem is to enlist your mother's help and cooperation in getting together with him.

First of all, tell her what he suggested you do in the way of a date. Is there anything particularly out of line about his plan? Would it be quite all right with a boy she knew?

If the date itself is reasonable enough—then the trick is to wangle a way to introduce him to your mother.

* * *

She might not object to your asking him over to spend the evening or to drop in on Sunday afternoon. After all his invitations to you, that sort of invitation from you would be completely reasonable. If he will come, it will give your mother a chance to size him up, to get acquainted with him herself.

If you feel that such a meeting would be a strain, ask another couple to drop in while he's there. Or maybe he'd like to bring along a friend of his and you could ask your girl friend.

He might find coming over to your house a very pleasant way to spend his time. And as your mother gets to know him (and it might take only one meeting) she'll get around to letting you go out with him.

Bride-to-Be Not in Favor of Showers

Friend Would Be Making Mistake to Give Party

By EMILY POST

Again a shower question is asked: "A very dear friend of mine is going to be married shortly and I would like to give a shower for her. However, she has told me on numerous occasions, even before she became engaged, that she is dead set against showers.

"Knowing how she feels, would it be improper for me to proceed with my plans and give her a shower? She herself has gone to many showers and I think it a shame not to give a party at which she will be on the receiving end for a change. Your opinion on this will be appreciated."

Answer: When you know that she really doesn't like showers, I think it would be a mistake to give her one.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I am going to be married shortly and have received many wedding presents from relatives of my fiance whom I have never met. In writing thank-you notes for these presents, what is the correct salutation to use.

"It seems rather strange to address someone I have never met as Dear Aunt Mary. On the other hand, Dear Mrs. Jones sounds very stiff and formal to a relative of my husband-to-be. Will you please advise me on this matter?"

Answer: It is much more flattering to call them what your husband does, or "Dear Aunt Mary soon-to-be" for example. On no account call them "Mrs."

"Dear Mrs. Post: I am going to spend the day with friends of a man I know well. I have never met the friends, but they have written me a very cordial invitation to come with him.

"Shall I take something to the hostess and shall I write her a thank-you note the next day? There probably will never be a way to return their hospitality."

Answer: Write her a note the next day. Do not take her a present.

Welcome Members Into DeMolay Club

Mrs. William R. McClure and Mrs. Irwin Mills became new members of the Pontiac DeMolay Mothers Club when it met for its first session after the summer recess Thursday evening.

Mrs. Fred Mittledorf presided at the meeting and chaplain, Mrs. Mat Shelton gave the prayer. Mrs. Arthur Thomas was named chairman of a money making project and it was announced that election of officers will take place at the October meeting.

The colors in a prominent picture in a room may be used to guide the color scheme for the room.

MRS. JOHN J. FRICKE II

All Saints Episcopal Church was the setting for the marriage of Ann Louise Brooks and John J. Fricke II. She is the daughter of Mrs. Edward A. Brooks of Hammond street and the late Mr. Brooks, and he is the son of the John J. Frickes of Benton Harbor.

Couple Exchanges Vows in Ontario This Afternoon

Before an altar banked with bouquets of white gladioli, Wanda May Jubenville became the bride of Charles Raymond Capling at St. Thomas Church, Dover Township, Ont., this afternoon.

* * *

The Rev. H. R. Hancox performed the ceremony at 3 o'clock in the presence of 200 guests.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Jubenville of Pain Court, Ont., and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Ralz Capling of North Cass avenue.

The bride's ballerina-length gown was of net over satin. Her fingertip veil was held in place by a tiny cap.

* * *

ATTENDS BRIDE

Mrs. Cyril Crevits of Chatham was matron of honor. Her gown was of pink net over taffeta with which she wore a picture hat. She carried a nosegay of white and blue flowers.

* * *

Pauline Jubenville, the bride's sister, was her other attendant. She wore a gown of yellow net over taffeta with matching picture hat. Her nosegay was of white and orchid flowers.

Singing the bridal recital was Mrs. Robert Bekarhart.

Bill Capling served his brother as best man, and seating the guests were George Hamilton and Robert Gorman.

A supper for the immediate family and the wedding party will be served at Hotel Central in Pain Court and an 8 o'clock reception will follow in Gagner's Hall.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Jubenville was wearing a gray taffeta dress with black accessories and a corsage of red roses.

WEARS BROWN

The bridegroom's mother wore a brown taffeta dress with aqua accessories, and her corsage was of Talisman roses.

* * *

Following a honeymoon in northern Ontairo, the newlyweds will make their home in Pontiac.

Rubber-backed scatter rugs should be unrolled to cool as soon as they are removed from the drier.

Child Psychiatry Plan Continued by Sorority

At the meeting of Beta Theta Chapter of Lambda Chi Omega Sorority held Thursday at the YWCA plans were made to continue the Child Psychiatry Educational program at Pontiac State Hospital.

* * *

Final preparations were also made for the Annual Harvest Moon Ball to be held Sept. 24 at Indianwood Country Club.

Mrs. George Knapp will be general chairman of the party and will be assisted by committees including Mrs. Charles Sanft, hall; Mrs. Robert Holloway and Mrs. Charles Kistner, orchestra; Mrs. William Roberts and Mrs. Theodore Klimek, tickets.

Handling decorations will be Mrs. A. J. Lowe and Mrs. Robert Campbell. Mrs. Harry Gemmel assisted by Mrs. Donald Wilson, Mrs. L. B. Callely and Mrs. James Ballard will be in charge of publicity.

Wash Rubber Gloves

If you wear protective household gloves for particularly "dirty" jobs, take proper care of them and they'll last longer. Those made of rubber should be washed after each wearing in warm soapsuds and clear hot rinses, and wiped dry.

Select a pair one or two sizes larger than your dress gloves, so they won't bind while you're working in them. If you like them to fit snugly, they'll slip on more easily if you dust inside with talcum powder.

Refrigerator Cookies Are Popular

Mrs. Peterson Likes Oatmeal Dough for Quick Baking

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

School bells ring in a day or two. Are you ready, Mother, with a jar full of cookies for lunches and after-school snacks? You might include some of Mrs. J. Thomas Peterson's Oatmeal Icebox Cookies. Make up a batch and bake them as needed.

Mrs. Peterson combines a happy family life with a number of outside activities. She does substitute teaching in the Waterford schools and enjoys teaching senior high school girls in Sunday school.

Her chief outside activity this year is serving as president of the American Association of University Women.

OATMEAL ICEBOX COOKIES
By Mrs. J. Thomas Peterson

½ cup shortening
½ cup brown sugar
½ cup white sugar
1 egg
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon soda
¾ cup sifted flour
1½ cups quick oatmeal

Cream shortening and sugars, add egg and vanilla and beat well. Sift dry ingredients and add to first mixture. Shape into 2 long rolls and place in refrigerator overnight.

Slice ¼-inch thick and bake in a 375-degree oven 10-12 minutes.

Kitchen Wax Better

The use of abrasive scouring powders on kitchen appliances should be avoided. It's better to use a creamy kitchen wax which not only cleans the enamel, but also leaves a shiny protective coating.

Soiled Accessories Are Unpardonable

Soiled accessories are even more unpardonable and unattractive than a soiled dress or suit — because they are even more conspicuous! The whole effect of your bag or belt or jewelry will be lost if soil shows.

Almost everything can be washed with soap and water provided you use the right method. Whether it's plastic, enamel, leather, straw, or what have you — keep it clean with thick "dry" soapsuds.

Day-Into-Evening Dress Stars Low Back Bodice

For the exciting, cosmopolitan Harvey Berin collections, Karen Stark designed this charming late day-into-evening dress.

In the latest fashion, shoulders are assumed but not seen as the wide neckline dips into a low square at the buttoned, bow-trimmed back bodice. Push-up sleeves are cut-in-one with the bodice and eased with gussets.

The flattering skirt is darted in front over the hips and box-pleated in back to form a graceful sweep of fullness.

Originally shown in peau de soie, it is also very lovely in plain or novelty cottons, any of the 40-inch silks with natural stiffness, or alpaca or silk wool mixtures.

This pattern is cut to designer measurements, not standard pattern measurements.

4 Costumes Suggested for Elegance

PARIS (INS) — Genevieve Fath says most women can look elegant next season with only four basic outfits.

The widow of couturier Jacques Fath, carrying on the Fath fashions, believes the secret is in picking simple — almost classic — natural-figured clothes.

Mme. Fath lists these four parts for the fall wardrobe:

1. A sports costume of tweed or plaid wool, with slightly enlarged shoulders and well nipped-in waistline. For the 1955 look, add a fur scarf worn choker fashion.

2. One simple little black dress, something typically Parisian — where everything is in the cut and nothing is in the trimming. This should have a sheath skirt, draped or accented waist and bust. Wear this with pearls for afternoon.

3. A cocktail dress with high draped bustline and decollete neckline. Mme. Fith likes her own new "column" dresses, which emphasize the top of the dress with large balloon sleeves, but keeps the skirt slim.

4. A kimono or tent-shape coat. This can be of brocade for after-dark wear and would be suitable for any dress-up occasion.

Egyptians Find Ban of Fez Impossible

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—Kemal Ataturk did it in Turkey several decades ago, but the Egyptian revolution is finding it virtually impossible to abolish the fez.

Powerful pashas have been thrown in jail by the dozen, titles have been abolished, but so far there has not even been a bill introduced to outaw the headpiece, called either a fez or a tarboosh.

An Egyptian wears his fez more often than his shoes. It is kept on in church, but shoes are not; it is considered quite proper to sit in restaurants with fez firmly settled and — for comfort — shoes slipped off. When he goes to a public pool, an Egyptian removes his clothes, slips into bathing trunks and — last of all — removes his fez.

THE BERRYS by Carl Grubert

Soviet Shepherd, 147, Credits Peasant Life

MOSCOW (AP)—They had a real oldtimer on exhibition at the U.S.S.R. agricultural exhibition the other day — a lively former shepherd who claimed to be 147 years old.

He was Makhmut Aivazov, who said he put in 270 workdays last year on a collective farm in Azerbaijan. He said he had more than 140 descendants and attributed his good health to "our clean air and healthy peasant work."

Ammonium nitrate, a leading source of agricultural nitrogen, is made by reacting ammonia with nitric acid, itself derived by chemical processing from ammonia.

2 Mental Patients Missing

IONIA (AP) — Two men walked away from the Ionia State Hospital for the criminal insane Friday. They are Alvin McBain, 46, Grand Rapids, and Arthur Robertoy, 36, Mt. Clemens. They walked away from trusty assignments outside the hospital walls. Neither is regarded as dangerous, officials said.

Cass City to Get Plant

CASS CITY (AP)—Cleary - Shevlin Manufacturing Co., of Van Dyke, announced plans to open a new $100,000 plant about Oct. 15 in Cass City. The plant will make stampings and assemblies for the auto industry.

Nine of the national parks are located in New Mexico.

Budget Book Shrinks to Vest Pocket Size

WASHINGTON (INS)—The volume containing federal budget is about as big as an unabridged dictionary, but the government has reduced it to vest pocket size.

The Budget Bureau published highlights of federal income and expenses in a 16-page white, gray and gold booklet four inches wide and 8½ inches long.

The simplified version of the 1956 fiscal year budget is designed to explain how the taxpayers' money is spent. It is available from The Government Printing Office at 10 cents a copy.

No Polio Cases Listed

BAD AXE (AP)—Not one case of polio has developed among 1,700 Huron County school children inoculated in May with Salk polio vaccine, health authorites report.

There have been four polio cases in the County, but none of those stricken had been inoculated.

Lake Trout Drought

GRAND HAVEN (AP) — Eight of Grand Haven's 12 fishing tugs stayed tied up this season, and two of those operating are fishing for chubs and whitefish, instead of lake trout. Fishermen say that sea lampreys, eel-like parasite fish, have all but eradicated trout in Lake Michigan.

Down With Birthdays for Gals of All Ages

By PHYLLIS BATTELE

NEW YORK (INS)—From the age of reason on, most women despise birthdays and attempt to slither through them with a minimum of dither.

* * *

Of course, this age of reason varies widely among females, coming as early as 5 for prodigies and as late as the fifth divorce action for perennial jeune filles. The average woman, however, reacts to birthday celebrations in the following pattern:

Age 1 to 3—The heck with birthdays, who cares?

Age 4 to 9—Favorable reaction, owing to cake involved.

Age 10 to 17—Self-conscious about incredible youth, bu. tearful if not in receipt of gifts.

Age 18 to 24—Proud of glamorous age attained.

Age 25 to 30—Quiet panic.

Age 31 to 50—Silence, or out-and-out lying.

Age 51 to 80—Coyness, mystery, expressed in terms like "how old would you say I am, now honestly?"

Age 81 on—The heck with birthdays, who cares?

* * *

These have been normal reaction of girls ever since Eve. (You think maybe her deceits stopped with the apple dodge?) And it's time someone did something constructive about abolishing birthdays, at least in the middle years.

DACHE ASKS HELP

Mme. Lilly Dache, a mad hatter on this subject, has come to me for help.

* * *

"I cannot write to my congressman," chirps Lilly, "because he eez a man. Some may say okay, they like a woman to refuse to take birthdays, but some other man say it's wrong. How can you know how well your congressman has been trained by eez wife?"

She shrugged her dainty shoulders. "So I come to you and present the problem . . ."

The problem, as she describes it, is this.

No woman should tell her age, except in confidence to the social securty people when she reeches 65; because if she brags about her age, even when she is 15, it will catch up to her some day.

"Some leetle louze from her high school will show up at a cocktail party when she is 40," she says grimly, "and under the influence of martinis or prodding or sometheeng, will give it away."

The woman, of course, will look like 28 if she's a day. But the whole world — well, at least the whole town — will thereafter and forever know her secret. She will have to start wearing matronly dresses and ready stodgy books and play better bridge.

20 YEARS YOUNGER

"Theez may be exaggerated," admits Lilly, "but bass-ically eet's true. With all our cosmetics and hair colors and vitamins, American women look 20 years younger than they really are. (Coincidentally, Mme. Dache puts out cosmetics and hairstuffs. Vitamins, she takes in.) "So why talk about age?"

Mme. Dache has lied about her own youth status for so long she doesn't remember what it is. She admits that this techcnique has come back to haunt 'er, since her hurband always assumes she is much younger than she says—and therefore in applying for passports and so on, he automatically ups her claims by a number of years.

"He now tells people I am about 70," she says. "Now that ees ridiculous!"

For women and female children who will miss the "celebration part" of birthdays, Dache suggests they find something else to celebrate, and set a special day for it. Like the anniversary of ladies suffrage or the invention of the automatic home laundr'.

"Very worthy days, zose," she says, "and so nice an' harmless."

Bicycles Import Rises

NEW YORK (AP) — The average monthly production of bicycles in the United States during the first five months of 1955 was 24 per cent lower than the average for the corresponding months of 1950-54. Imports of bicycles in the first five months of this year exceeded imports in the first five months of 1954 by nearly 74 per cent.

Gals Duds Shrink

NEW YORK (AP) — In the 1850's about 50 yards of cloth went into a woman's everyday wearing apparel. At present the average or less.

Polio Hits Summer Peak

LONDON (AP) — Polio appears to have hit its summer peak in Europe without reaching epidemic proportions anywhere. The number of cases for the year to date ranges from a low of 10 in Denmark to as high as 1,519 in England and Wales.

The nickel-sulfide ores of northern Ontario have become the largest sources of copper in the British empire and are probably the world's greatest single source of platinum metals.

GM Powerama Draws Throngs to Chicago Lakefront

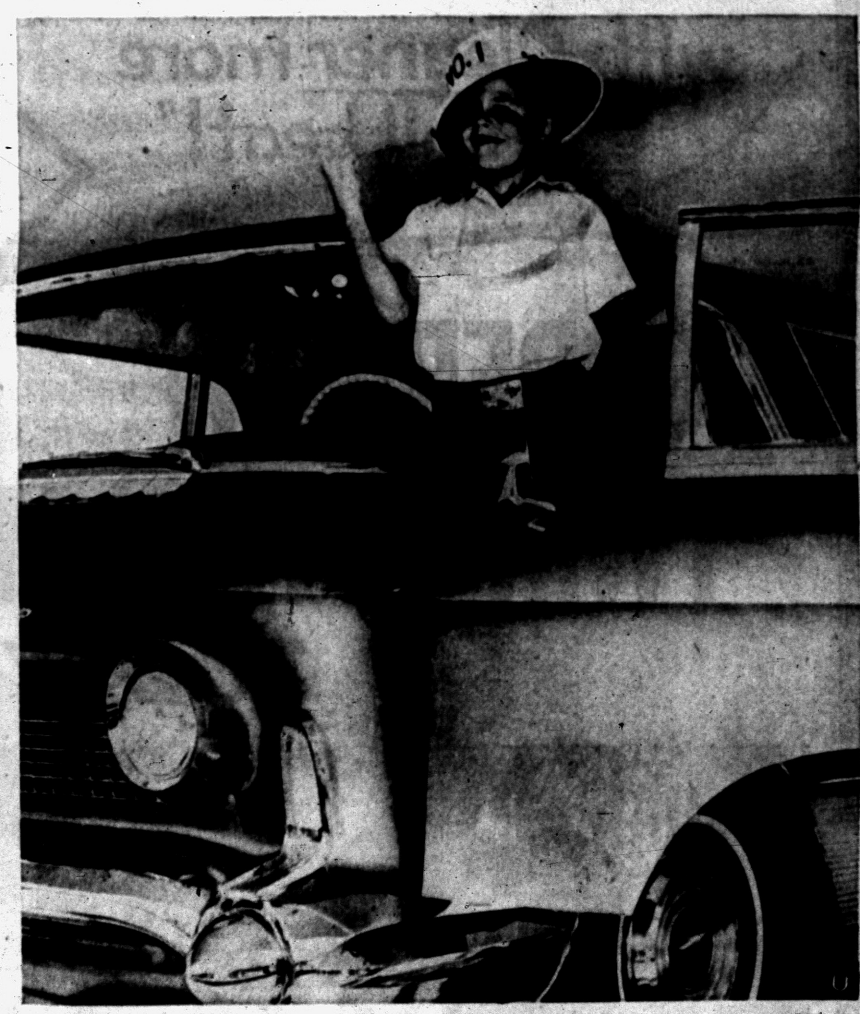

SERVICING RIG — This oil well servicing rig, displayed by GMC Truck and Coach Division at General Motors' Powerama in Chicago, shows visitors how oil well pipe is pulled from the ground and cleaned. The animated exhibit is displayed in conjunction with an operating oil pump.

THEME CENTER — A large number of exhibits, including air suspension displays, motion pictures and cutaway engines tell GMC's story of trucking progress at the "theme center" shown above.

SUSPENSION EXHIBIT — Philip J. Monaghan (left), vice president of General Motors and general manager of GM's Truck and Coach Division in Pontiac, shows Edwin A. Locke Jr. and Frank Baird-Smith (right) an exhibit that dramatizes the bump-smoothing qualities of air-ride suspension being used in GM coaches. Locke is president of the Union Tank Car Co. of Chicago and Baird-Smith heads Refiners Transport and Terminal Corp. Petroleum Haulers, Inc., of Detroit.

FIRST VISITOR — "Mr. No. 1," the first person to visit the Powerama when it was opened to the public last week was 9-year-old Alan Rowe of Chicago. Alan looks over the giant "world's fair of power" from the turntable holding GM's dream truck, L'Universelle, which is making its Chicago debut at the big show.

MOTORIZED FASHION SHOW — Loaded with fashion models, these trucks literally give spectators a fashion show on wheels. The sleek lines of the new "Blue Chip" trucks blend perfectly with the high-style creations modeled by the beauties in the colorful stage show on Chicago's lakefront.

DISPLAY EXPLAINED — A. S. McEvoy (right), general fleet division manager for Truck and Coach Division, explains the inner workings of a truck Diesel engine to three young Powerama visitors and their father. The exhibit was among the large number of displays shown by GMC at the huge power show.

Singer Clooney Sets Bridal Date

Betty Will Marry Campo in Catholic Church Rite This Wednesday

NEW YORK (INS)—Wedding bells will play a hit tune for songstress Betty Clooney and bandleader Pupi Campo who have set the day: Wednesday, and the place: St. Patrick's Cathedral.

* * *

Betty, who is Rosemary Clooney's sister, and Pupi, who was born 45 years ago as Jacinto Campillo, hit the headlines last April when they were both fired from the Jack Paar TV show.

Paar, who apparently was not an advocate of romance among his TV cast, wielded the ax after Betty and Pupi obviously had fallen in love.

But Paar came out with the comment that he'd fire both because neither of them had any talent.

"Q" DIFFERS

Despite her ex-boss's opinion, Betty went directly to work for Robert Q. Lewis' TV show and "The Q" said she had all the talent, as well as the looks, necessary. Pupi went to work for a night spot.

Campo recently was divorced from Diosa Costello, the Cuban bombshell, in Florida. Theirs was a romance as shaky as Diosa's dancing.

Pupi is permitted to marry in the Catholic Church since his marriage to Diosa was a civil one involving a Catholic and therefore not recognized as valid.

Rosemary Clooney and her actor-director husband, Jose Ferrer, will fly to New York from Spain for the ceremony.

Liz Taylor Gets Old Baggy Look

Screen Beauty Changed Into 'Aged 50' for Part in New Movie

By JAMES BACON

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The Warner Bros. makeup department has just completed the toughest job in its history—aging Elizabeth Taylor to 50.

* * *

But good as the job is, the girl most nominated as the screen's greatest beauty still gets wolf whistles with gray hair.

Makeup artist Gordon Bau is authority for the championship difficulty of the assignment.

"We couldn't make her look old. We just had to settle for making her look tired," said Bau.

The make-up is for Liz' role of Leslie, the Virginia socialite who marries into a Texas cattle empire in the movie "Giant."

* * *

The movie, the screening of the Edna Ferber best-seller, takes the 23-year-old Liz from a young bride to a mother of grown-up children.

"If she were going to be an old hag in the picture, the job would have been easy," said Bau. "But she plays the wife of a Texas millionaire—well-kept."

After the makeup department almost went berserk, director George Stevens and producer Henry Ginsberg came to an obvious conclusion:

Liz Taylor, when she does hit 50, is still going to be one whale-of-a-good looking woman.

Liz' eyes, best compared with the first violets of spring, gave the makeup people the most trouble. They just couldn't be aged.

First, they pasted little sponge rubber pads under her eyes, penciling lines on them. It gives them a tired, baggy look.

Set New Heights for Satellites

U.S. Scientists Reveal Missiles May Rise 800 Miles, Circle Earth

WASHINGTON (INS) — U.S. scientists have revealed that at least one of the satellites they hope to launch in 1957 or 1958 may actually soar 800 miles in space and circle the earth permanently.

* * *

They also revealed that as many as 600 rockets will blast off during the same period as part of the U.S. effort to probe the secrets of the upper atmosphere.

Both projects would be key parts of the international geophysical year, a period set aside for world-wide observations and scientific studies.

Previously, the committee which will supervise the construction and operation of the satellites said the "Bird" would not reach more than 200 or 300 miles.

While this accomplishment would open up new vistas of science, it would be limited by the force of friction at that height — the satellite could only stay up a few days or possibly weeks before it would disintegrate.

However, a routine summary of activities in connection with the geophysical year disclosed that more than one satellite will be built — and that scientists have their eyes on a "Bird" which could soar as high as 800 miles.

COULD CIRCLE EARTH

Some scientists have suggested that a satellite at this height could circle the earth permanently — a true man-made moon.

The report on activities for "The exploration of the upper atmosphere" gave these details on current planning:

1. The U.S. will launch "Aerobee-Hi" rockets from the earth to probe up to 200 miles in space.

2. This will be supplemented by specialized studies from a host of smaller rockets to be fired from balloons and airplanes. These units, known as "rockoons" and "rockairs" will collect data up to 60 miles.

3. "Earth satellites will gather scientific information between some 200 and 800 miles above the earth."

According to the report, these programs will enable scientists, for the first time, to "cover significant cross-sections of the atmosphere."

* * *

The scientists pointed out that up to now they have depended largely on balloon observations for information about the upper atmosphere.

They said that although weather balloons have gone as high as 100,000 feet and cosmic ray balloons have reached 80,000 feet, "most of our knowledge of the upper atmosphere depends on indirect observations from ground stations."

The rocket-satellite program, they explained, will use instruments aloft to send back radio information based on "direct observations which cannot be made from the ground."

Baby, It's Wet There

WASHINGTON—On the heights around Mt. Olympus in northwest Washington state, precipitation, mostly snow, attains the amazing annual total of from 200 to 250 inches, says the National Geographic Society. Moisture-laden winds from the Pacific are deflected upward by the massive Olympic peaks.

The resulting rainfall on the western slopes reaches 140 inches a year, creating the wettest region in continental United States. However, the northeastern side of the Olympic Peninsula is so dry that irrigation is necessary for farm crops.

Airfield Atop World

Alert, the Canadian-U.S. weather station on northern Ellesmere Island, possesses dry land's northermost airfield. A mere 518 miles from the North Pole, Alert houses the most northerly post office on earth and the northernmost land-based radio and weather station.

Modern Yemen Remains Aloof

Harbor Near Hodeida May Unlock Folkways of Arabic Country

WASHINGTON—Political turmoil inside Yemen that broke recently into newspaper headlines gave the outside world a peek into a little-known Red Sea kingdom.

South of Saudi Arabia and just north of Britain's Aden Protectorate, Yemen has been described as a garden surrounded by desert. Sometimes it has been called the "forbidden kingdom."

* * *

For years Yemen carefully cultivated its desire for seclusion. It was a rare foreigner who was allowed a glimpse inside this country that wanted to be alone. But today ties that draw the world into an ever-shrinking community are enmeshing Yemen.

Since World War II Yemen has joined the United Nations. Medical scientists from the United States have assisted Yemen in a battle against health menaces. American archeologists have excavated at Marib where the Biblical Queen of Sheba supposedly reigned.

One of the strongest ties with the outside world is now being projected—a modern harbor. In answer to an appeal, the United Nations has dispatched a port building expert to Yemen to expedite a $45,000,000 program. A harbor is to be constructed for ocean-going ships 10 miles north of Hodeida.

The camel caravan and the open market still play a leading role in the country's economy. The Ta'izz market offers a multiplicity of goods—from camels to dried locusts, a Yemeni delicacy.

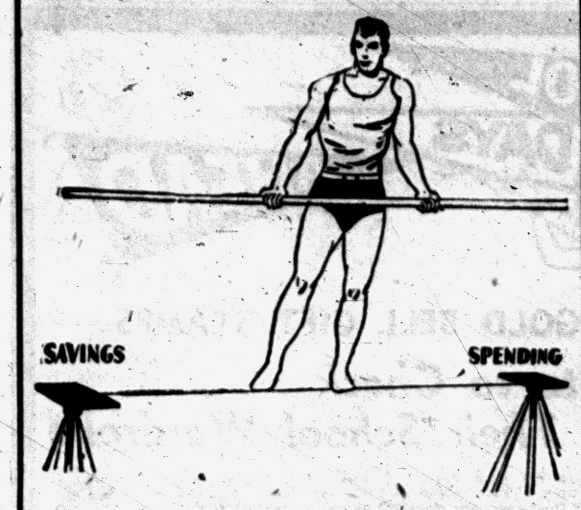

An occasional truck can be seen along the rugged roads, but for every motor vehicle, there are scores of goats, donkeys and camels. Few other modern devices are more evident than the motor car. Drinking water still must be boiled. Where there is electricity, it proves so erratic as to be a doubtful boon.

Even so, Yemen produces a growing list of commodities which it sells abroad—coffee, dates, hides, wool, rock salt and grain—mostly in exchange for oil, textiles and cotton.

Bob Considine Says:

Organization Calls Red Smile False

NEW YORK (INS)—One organization that is positive the new Russian smile is as phoney as a three dollar bill is the Political Research Project, a branch of the Committee to Combat Soviet Kidnapings.

The Reds, the organization's latest warning says, are out to "neutralize, infiltrate and engulf." The primary objective of the Soviet peaceful co-existence campaign is to neutralize the increasingly effective political counter offensive of the West. The report adds:

"This has the dual effect of demobilizing Western anti-Communist public opinion and discouraging the rising resistance of the enslaved peoples, who have looked to the West for moral support in their fight against Communist dictatorship and who constitute the most serious threat to world communism today. The peaceful co-existence policy further isolates Asia from Western influence and fosters the neutralist policy which makes possible Communist infiltration on a large scale."

Why are the Russians seemingly eager to please us all of a sudden? The report thinks there is panic in the Kremlin, "an increasingly explosive situation is developing within the Soviet Union, the chief causes of which are internal and psychological. These include instability and weakness of the present leadership.

"A continuous struggle for power is going on. The totalitarian pyramid built up for 25 years by Stalin concentrated power in one man so firmly that when he died there remained only an unwieldy system based on terror, near the top of which sat a group of yes-men trained in deceit and betrayal.

"For self-preservation, Stalin's closest collaborators established a collective leadership (officially called Council of Ministers but actually the central committee of the Communist Party and its presidium). The immediate struggle for power began with the alliance of Khrushchev and Malenkov against Beria who constituted a threat because of his secret police apparatus."

RESISTANCE TO RULE

The report goes into the question of resistance within Russia to Kremlin rule.

"Stalin's death activated latent resistance. It gained momentum after the spectacular fall of Beria and the purge of the MVD. The large scale revolts at Borkuta and other major slave labor camps in Siberia in August, 1953, initiated the new trend toward active organized resistance, which has been steadily growing throughout the Soviet Union.

"The demands of the prisoners confirmed the fact that this resistance is based less on economic causes than on the desire for individual freedom and respect for personal dignity.

"Communism is failing in Russia where it most hoped to succeed—with the new generation. Young people in the Soviet Union have learned by experience the contrast between Communist promises and performance. Young Russians today are turning away from communism, which they consider reactionary, and are seeking real Democratic freedom. Evidence of this is found in student organizations for liberation, including cells at the University of Moscow and the University of Kazan, and here's an astonishing statistic) the majority of the 15,000,000 inmates of slave labor camps are between the ages of 19 and 25."

The report notes that half the members of the crew of a Russian tanker captured last year by the Free Chinese have decided to remain on Formosa and the other half returned home only because their families were being persecuted.

* * *

As for the Red army, the Political Research Project states that it is so riddled with dissension that its troops refused to fire on rioting East Germans in the revolt of two summers ago and there are constant cases of desertion. The report recalls that 3,000,000 Soviet soldiers surrendered to the Germans in World War II, considering them liberators.

From the above one might say that the Russian smile is a smile all right, but a nervous one.

25 Travelers Hurt in Ohio Train Crash

BUCYRUS, Ohio (AP)—Twenty-five or more people were injured early this morning when the Manhattan Limited, Pennsylvania Railroad train traveling from New York to Chicago, collided with an eastbound freight four miles west of here.

Authorities at Bucyrus Hospital estimated the number of injured. None were believed in serious condition.

The state highway patrol said the accident occurred at 2:55 a.m. (EST), five minutes after the train left Bucyrus.

Route of the freight train was not immediately available.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Miss Elizabeth Manning, 75, was sexually assaulted and murdered in her four-room apartment, Coroner Henry W. Turkel said today.

Her body, found yesterday, had been dead about 18 hours.

Egypt Reports Israeli Attack

Cease-Fire Agreements Dissolve as Warfare Erupts at Gaza

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—New firing crackled across the Gaza Strip last night. Only a few hours before, Israel and Egypt had assured the U. N. Truce commission they would stand by their cease-fire agreements but would shoot back if attacked.

The Egyptians charged 20 Israeli troops invaded the Egyptian-held Gaza Strip at 7:30 p.m. and began firing at midnight at Egyptian troops in Tabet El Assra.

The Egyptians returned the fire killing four Israelis, Egypts communique said. It added there were no Egyptian casualties.

There was no immediate comment from Israel on the charge. But the Egyptian communique said after Egypt informed the truce commission of the Israeli penetration, the Israeli Foreign Office "denied it had information regarding the reported troops."

Egypt also charged that five Israeli tanks were reported on the Egyptian side of the frontier at Sheik Moran.

In Israel, meanwhile, an Israeli fighter plane forced down a U. S. Air Force transport yesterday with a warning machine-gun burst. The plane, en route from Cairo to Ankara, Turkey, with a U. S. military mission, was allowed to proceed after the 12 men aboard were questioned at Lydda Airport.

An Israeli Foreign Office official said the American pilots ignored radio orders to land at Lydda for a check.

Owl Clad in Bermudas Gives Jolt to Passersby

ALTADENA, Calif. (AP)—The little bird clad in Bermuda shorts didn't give a hoot, but he drew attention to himself anyway. After all, shorts aren't the usual attire for an owl.

Mode Frasure noticed the fashionable fellow strolling under a tree yesterday and caught him. Now the Pasadena Animal Shelter seeks the owner of the dressed bird.

Bengal Tiger Reaches From Cage, Claws Man

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A 500-pound Bengal tiger reached through the bars of his cage at the Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus yesterday and clawed a meat cutter for menagerie animals.

Suffering from a gashed arm, Charles (Red) Oswald, 47, of Sunbury, Pa., was taken to a hospital.

Indian Crime Booming, Solons Say

WASHINGTON (AP) — While the white man worries about wayward sons and daughters, so does the American Indian.

* * *

Juvenile delinquency on Indian reservations not only is increasing but on some reservations is growing faster than among non-Indians, says a Senate report.

Poverty, disease, "rural slums," broken homes, illegitimate children, child desertion, lack of law and order enforcement—all these ran through the report.

Through it all, too, was that old bugaboo of the Indian—firewater.

Of 76 convictions involving juveniles among the 4,000 Indians on the San Carlos Apache Reservation of Arizona in 1954, 59 of them were charges of "disorderly conduct, drunk."

* * *

The 239-page report was based on hearings held by the Senate subcommittee to investigate juvenile delinqueney, headed by Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn). The report was released by Sen. Langer (R-N.D.) in the absence of Kefauver, who is visiing Europe.

Hearings were held in North Dakota Indian reservations, and in Phoenix, Ariz.; Palm Springs, Calif., and Washington, D. C.

The report said:

"The subcommittee finds that the major contributing factors to delinquency among Indian children are poverty and poor living conditions; lack of effective law and order; disorganized, weak and broken family life; poor educational programs, and the difficulties in making the transition from an old to a new culture."

* * *

It also mentioned poor health conditions, inadequate welfare services and lack of local leadership and community action on reservations.

All of these troubles, it said, "seem to have been accentuated by the guardian-ward relationship and by the fumbling, inconsistent, inadequate federal policy on Indian affairs which, over the past 100 years, has completely reversed its course."

Long ago the government first tried to scatter the Indians and remove their cultural identity. In 1923 it sought to return them to reservations and their own culture.

In the 1930s, the government began encouraging tribes to build their own governments and also increase their understanding of the outside world.

Now more than 200 Indian tribes, totaling 430,000 Indians, live on 435 reservations in 26 states. Boys and girls from 6 to 18 years of age total 128,000.

* * *

"Our handling of Indian problems has been disgraceful," Langer said in releasing the report. "It's about time these 'wards' of the United States are raised from the status of second-class citizens."

REACHING ACROSS A DITCH — Visiting officers watch demonstration of mobile bridge reaching across ditch at the U. S. training area in Baumholder, Germany.

Nuclear Weapons Brighten Outlook for Stable Peace

PHILADELPHIA (INS) — Air Force Secretary Donald A. Quarles states that nuclear weapons have brought "the brightest prospect mankind has ever had for achieving . . . a stable and lasting world peace."

Speaking at the foreign air attaches dinner in conjunction with the National Aircraft Show, Quarles said "it must be abundantly clear that the weapons poised on either side are so powerful that it is suicide for any nation or group of nations to resort to force."

He added: "Mutual respect of each for the others' strength was surely in the background of the 'Summit' conferences at Geneva."

The air secretary, who assumed his post only last month after serving as Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson's top assistant for scientific development, said lasting peace can be achieved "over a period of time" by maintaining military strength.

He said "the longer we can maintain a peace through effective deterrents, the more inevitable it becomes that channels other than violence can and will be found for working out a just and lasting peace."

Addressing himself to the air attaches from other nations, he said: "If we will all conduct ourselves with a proper respect for the dangerous powers that science has given mankind, there will be no war."

Quarles said that Russia has made "astonishing strides . . . not only in the atomic field but also in the complementary fields of aeronautics and electronics."

He explained that Russia's ability to produce "medium and long-range jet bombers comparable to our own" is "adequate evidence of their aeronautical and electronic capabilities."

West, Southwest Dominate NSSA Finale

By H. GUY MOATS

It's all quiet and peaceful out around the Oakland County Sportsmen's Club today.

National Skeet Shooting Association's 1955 championships are now a matter of record. The 500 or more shotgun enthusiasts are making their varous ways homeward after a solid week of shooting.

And, among those home towns were some with interesting names, with probably the most hilarious and unusual, was Frogjoy—that's right! — FROGJOY, TEX. The shooter from that community was V. O. Roskey.

Last big championship was determined Sunday afternoon by young Robert V. Rath, Northwestern University student. Rath won the high-over-all event with a brilliant 540x550. Rath is a resident of Waterloo, Ia., but lives in the Chicago suburb, Winnetka. Rath has been among the leaders all week, but really hit his stride—and the targets in the 3-day-test.

KERR

One new world's record was hung up Sunday. It was the only new mark of the current championships, hampered earlier last week by high gusty winds.

A California state team set the new mark. The five - man combination broke 1241x1250 targets to erase a record set up in 1950 by a Texas team. New total is only one target over the old.

Incidentally the California and Southwestern shotgunners dominated the final day's shooting.

There was Alex Kerr, veteran Beverly Hills (41-year-old sporting goods dealer) marksman who won the National Open, was a member of the championship five-man team and with Andy Laird the soft-spoken Stockton, Calif., veteran won the two-man event. Kerr has been one of the winningest shooters in the association, veteran observers say.

Members of the five-man record team included, besides Kerr who shot 250; Laird with 247, Bill Rogers of Atherton, Calif., 247, George Young, Camp Pendleton, Calif., 248, and Jack Horner of San Francisco with 249 for 1241.

A very personable blonde Texan captured the women's high-over-all crown with 522x550. She was Mrs. Betty Bagland of Dallas, who also captured the husband and wife title with 442x500.

Kerr and Laird fired 497 for the two-man honors, edging two other teams at 496. They were Rogers and Horner, Young and Bob Joost of San Francisco.

In the National Open, Capt. R. W. Wilkerson of Wichita, Kan. and George Deyoe of Washington, D.C. lost to Kerr in the shootoff.

Women's all-gauge crown was won by Mrs. Carola Mandel, last year's outstanding femine shooter. Carola bagged 248x250, plus 25 more to defeat Mrs. C. B. Balch of Houston, Tex., in a shootoff.

Junior all-around title went to Nick D'Andreas of Joliet, Ill., with a 50 straight in the shootoff with young Eddie Harris of Galveston, Tex. The pair tied at 248x250.

Other championships, settled Sunday:

Professionals — Fred Missildone, Sea Island, Ga., 250 straight.

Father and son—Dr. Titus Harris and son, Titus Jr., 492x500.

All-around sub-seniors — Fred Alford, Dallas, 297x300.

All-around seniors—George Docherty, Holyoke, Mass., 244x250, edge Dr. Harris and Sen. Joe George, Scudlersville, Md., both at 243.

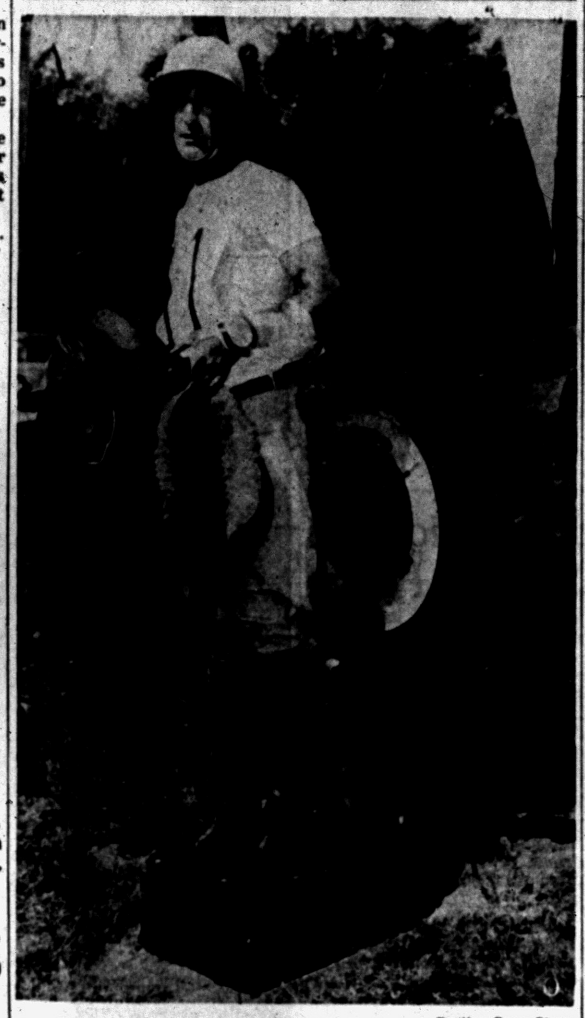

National collegiate—Jack Horner, San Francisco, 249.

Service teams—L. V. Hughes, 241, L. A. Lastrico, 244, R. R. Black, 239, Comdr. H. C. Smathers 249 and J. F. Thomeraon 245, for 1215.

WEIGH-IN — Chuck Grant, one of several Oakland County riders taking part in the national trials for the U. S. equestrian Olympic team, is shown weighing-in after the close of Sunday's long course tests. This is a requirement of the test. Final action in the 3-day-event occurs today at Metamora Hunt Club where all events have been held, starting Saturday.

Interference Claimed

Game Protest Slated, Birdie Tebbetts Vows

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Birdie Tebbetts, locquacious manager of the Cincinnati Redlegs, says he plans to carry his "interference" protest of yesterday's 5-2 Milwaukee victory right to Warren Giles.

* * *

A year ago, a similar Tebbetts' protest on an "interference" call that snuffed out a Redleg rally and gave the Braves a 3-1 win, landed on the desk of Giles, the National League president, and he upheld Birdie.

Yesterday's rhubarb erupted in the first inning when the Braves' Billy Bruton stumbled over shortstop Roy McMillan's foot at second as the latter tried to field a grounder for a force out. The ball skipped out of McMillan's glove and Umpire Augie Donatelli called Bruton safe.

* * *

Tebbetts, who raced out to second to question the call, claimed that Donatelli admitted that Bruton had interfered with McMillan, but called him safe in violation of the rules that say a runner is out if he interferes with a fielder trying to make a play on a batted ball.

Tebbetts played the game under protest from that point.

* * *

"He told me Bruton had interfered with McMillan," said the fiery Birdie, "and three of my players heard him say it. I said 'If there was interference then someone has got to be out. When he said there was interference he violated the rules not calling the runner out.

Donatelli denied using the word "interference" and contended that he had called Bruton safe at second before the two players came in contact.

Flint Northern Golf Coach Wins Publinx Crown

Jim Seltzer Sizzles to 220 Card to Edge Mike Andonian, Sam Kocsis

Jim Seltzer, 35-year-old Flint Northern High golf coach, won the state public tournament at Shoreacres Golf Course yesterday with a score of 72-75-73—220, three over par.

In becoming the First Flint player in the 26-year tournament history to win the championship, Seltzer defeated runnersup Mike Andonian, Pontiac, and Sam Kocsis, Detroit, by two strokes.

Andonian, University of Detroit player, shot 74-71-77—222. Sam Kocsis, current National Publinx champion, carded 72-77-73—222.

Detroiters Dick Preston and Jack Gregory were next in line at 224 followed by Detroiters Wally Smith and Carl Daniels and former state amateur champion Fred Turner of Flint with 225's.

Saturday, Turner, Seltzer and Flint Junior College professor Don Jarrard each shot 72's to go with teammates Van Vleech's 75, giving Flint Genesee Hills the team championship with a 291 score, three stroke better than Edgewood of Pontiac.

Snead Favored to Capture Title, Ryder Position

Three Sub-Par Rounds Has Sam Leading Pack in Insurance City Open

WETHERSFIELD, Conn. (AP) — With three sub-par rounds behind him, veteran Sam Snead was a big favorite to capture the 72-hole $20,000 Insurance City Open today and a place on the Ryder Cup team.

The Slammer from White Sulphur Springs, W.Va., has posted 66-68-66, 13 under par over the Wethersfield Country Club's 6,551-yard 71 par course, and his total of 200 was four strokes ahead of his nearest rival, young Gerry Kesselring of Toronto, Canada.

The pair had been tied at 134 going into the third round yesterday, but the Canadian registered a 70 for 204.

* * *

A record local crowd of 8,000 saw yesterday's competition, most of them following Snead, making his first appearance in this tourney.

After Snead and Kesselring were Mike Souchak, Grossingers, N.Y., and Fred Hawkins, St. Andrews, Ill., each with 207.

Ed Kringle of North Bergen, N.J., a threat who was third at the halfway mark Saturday, dropped out on the sixth yesterday after complaining of a bad headache. And another player who went to the sidelines was Bud Holscher of Apple Valley, Calif. He disqualified himself on a technicality.

* * *

Snead posted two eagles yesterday, his third and fourth of the tourney. He eagled the 498-yard, par 5 second with a 22-foot putt, and the 503-yard, par 5 14th with a 55-foot chip.

"I played pretty well," smiled Snead.

Down the list with 209 were Art Wall Jr., Pocono Manor, Pa., and Julius Boros of Fairfield, Conn., and Mid Pines, N.C. Boros shot his best round yesterday, a 67. One stroke below them were Tommy Bolt, Chattanooga, Tenn., last year's winner; Gene Littler, Palm Springs, Calif., and Dow Finsterwald, Bedford Heights, Ohio.

3 Tribe Hurlers Keeping Indians in Pennant Race

Wynn, Lemon, Garcia Collect Three Victories in Stretch Drive

CLEVELAND (AP)—With their Big Three pitchers—Early Wynn, Bob Lemon and Mike Garcia—winning three games in a row for the first time this season, the Cleveland Indians took over the American League lead from the Chicago White Sox, and appear headed for a strong stretch drive.

* * *

Wynn (15-9) beat the White Sox 6-1 Saturday, and Lemon (16-8) and Garcia (10-12) got credit for a doubleheader sweep yesterday, both by scores of 5-3. Only Wynn was able to finish, as both Lemon and Garcia needed help from Ray Narleski.

* * *

The up-and-down performances of the Big Three have prevented the Indians from putting together a long win streak so far this season. Only superlative relief pitching, mostly by Narleski and Don Mossi, have kept them on the pace.

But with Wynn, Lemon and Garcia back in form, the Indian pitching staff looks formidable for the home stretch.

* * *

Today they send Herb Score (14-10) and Bob Feller (4-4) against Kansas City. The last time those two teamed up for a doubleheader was on May 1 against Boston, when Feller pitched a one-hit, 2-0 shutout, and Score followed with a four-hit, 2-1 victory and fanned 16.

Roberts Favorite in Stock Car Race

DARLINGTON, S.C. (AP) — More than 35,000 fans gathered today to watch the sixth annual $35,000 Southern 500-mile stock car race pitting the nation's leading drivers.

Fireball Roberts of Daytona Beach, Fla., was an early favorite in a Buick. He held the pole position on the basis of a 110½ miles an hour qualifying time.

Olympic Equestrian Trials Reach Final Stages Today

Today is the finale for the national Olympic equestrian team trials, over the rugged Metamora Hunt Club course.

The important "3-day event" got under way Saturday, with the thrilling and colorful dressage events, in which horse and rider team up as a single entity, to receive and transmit commands without word, or use of hands or other manipulations. Only the pressure of legs against the horse's sides gives it the cue.

John E. B., (Jeb) Wofford of Junction City, Kan., placed 1st in this difficult test, with his brother Warren runnerup. Third place went to L. J. McGuinness of Mimico, Ontario.

In Sunday's "long course" riding, an arduous, tricky feat for both horses and riders, Walter Staley of Mexico, Mo., and Jeb Wofford tied for top spot with 30.6 totals. Bill Haggard of Nashville, Tenn., was 3rd with 16.8 points.

The "long course" involves endurance, speed and smartness for the teams of riders and horses. It was the 2nd phase of the 3-day event.

Trials are held in connection with the first annual competition for the Col. John W. Wofford Memorial Trophy.

Records Broken at Archery Tilt

Distance Mark Eclipsed by Detroiter on 1st Day of State Tournament

JACKSON (AP)—Three state records were established yesterday on the 1st day of action in the Michigan Archery Target tournament at Sharp Park.

George Waggoner of Detroit established a new mark in the flight (distance) competition for self-made bows as he sailed an arrow 528 yards, one foot, nine inches. The old mark was 495 yards.

Mr. Lorraine Windon of Saginaw broke the state record in women's national round firing with 518 points, erasing the old standard of 515.

Mrs. Marilynn Jackson of the host Jackson contingent set a new record of 602 points in the women's Columbia round competition.

Championships were determined in four divisions of clout shooting in which the archers attempt to place arrows as close to dead center as possible in a circle 48 feet in diameter. The winners:

Men—John Horvath, Lansing, 248 points.

Women—Beverly Goulding, Lansing, 229 ppoints.

Junior boys—Rocco Tenaglio, Detroit, 210 points.

Junior girls—Carrol McCloy, Lansing.

Firing continues through Monday with overall individual championships for men and women to be determined in American and junior American round firing.

Infielder Scariato, 19, Signs for Next Year

DETROIT (INS) — The Detroit Tigers have announced the signing of Bobby Scariato, much sought-after infielder from Hackensack, N.J., to a 1956 contract. Scariato will report to Detroit's Lakeland, Fla., training camp in March.

The 19-year-old Scariato, a left-handed hitter, batted .379 at Wagner College in New York last spring and was voted to the All-Metropolitan College Team.

Scariato is 5 feet 11 tall and weighs 180 pounds.

Antonelli Draws Suspension

NEW YORK (AP)—Johnny Antonelli, the New York Giants' ace left-hander, was under indefinite suspension without pay today following a run-in with Manager Leo Durocher in the middle of a game with Philadelphia last Saturday night.

Durocher today indicated the breach was a serious one. Asked whether Antonelli would be reinstated if he were to apologize for his actions, the Giant skipper said:

"I won't answer that. All I'll say right now is he'd better change his attitude. I've had enough of his nonsense."

Antonelli was suspended after he put on a display of temper on the mound when taken out of the game, then complained to Durocher about "being mishandled" and threatened to "go back home and stay there."

* * *

The 27-year-old pitcher, from Rochester, N.Y., a 21-game winner and World Series star last year, has been a big disappointment this season. He has an 11-16 record with 10 complete games in 31 starts and owns a sub-par 4.46 earned run average.

The trouble started when Coach Fred Fitzsimmons, on instructions from Durocher, strode out to the mound to take Antonelli out in the fifth inning of the game against the Phillies. The Giants were leading 3-2. Antonelli struck out Richie Ashburn, the first batter, but Bobby Morgan doubled and Granny Hamner walked.

* * *

When Fitz came out to tell Antonelli he had enough, Johnny stalked around the mound, threw down the resin bag several times and acted reluctant to relinquish the ball to the incoming Ramon Monzant.

When he reached the bench, Johnny grabbed his jacket in an angry motion and went down the steps leading to the clubhouse.

Durocher said it was the first time since 1939 that he had taken drastic measures against a player. He once fined Joe Medwick $200 when he managed the Brooklyn Dodgers but later returned the money.

P.S. Monzant pitched no-hit ball in relief to preserve the 3-2 lead.

Net Championships Revealing No Upsets

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP) — Only two rounds of the National Tennis Championships have been completed and, while there have been no upsets of note, America's court fathers have nothing to cheer about.

The U.S. Lawn Tennis Assn., in hopes of combatting some of the loose Australian rules regarding Davis Cup talent, has been working laboriously on a Junior Cup program of its own—but the results have been negligible.

Going into the third round of the nationals today, the only member of this year's Junior Cup team of eight players still in the running is Barry Mackay of Dayton, Ohio. All the others are taking their tennis strictly from the stands for the rest of the week.

Casey Thumbed for First Time This Season

NEW YORK (AP)—Casey Stengel, manager of the New York Yankees, is known as a man never lost for words but he managed until yesterday to stay in every ball game regardless of differences with the umpires.

But in the first inning of Sunday's game with the Washington Senators he got the heave-ho from Umpire John Flaherty.

When Bob Turley, the Yanks's starting pitcher, walked the first two Washington batters, Casey came steaming out of the dugout and headed for the mound. Then he detoured to the plate and proceeded to tell Flaherty what he thought of his calls. That was the end for Stengel. He was immediately thumbed out of the stadium.

Red Wings Announce Home Schedule, Afternoon Game Slated for January 8

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Red Wings have announced that, for the benefit of outstate hockey fans, they will play a Sunday afternoon game this season.

The daytime tilt is scheduled for Jan. 8 at Olympia Stadium, with the Boston Bruins supplying the opposition.

General manager Jack Adams said:

"The folks outstate asked us if we couldn't schedule an afternoon game for the benefit of their families. So we went ahead and did it."

Detroit has played two previous Sunday afternoon games at home. Both came during the 1940-41 season.

Adams made the announcement while releasing the Red Wings' entire home schedule. In all, the Wings will play three Saturday games, 15 on Sunday and 17 during the week.

The opening game is set for Thursday, Oct. 6, against the Chicago Black Hawks. Four days earlier, however, the Red Wings will debut in the annual all-star game at Olympia Oct. 2.

The schedule:

Duke, Maryland Predicted to Maintain Streak of Wins

The Associated Press

Duke and Maryland both have never lost an Atlantic Coast Conference football game and are favored to keep their strings intact as they prepare for the third season of play in the eight-member circuit.

Their chances appear good, inasmuch as they do not play each other and each meets only four conference rivals.

The reason for tabbing Duke and Maryland as the best in the conference is simple—too many good players for the other six teams to overcome.

* * *

Jim Tatum has assembled the largest squad in the conference at Maryland, 67 players, and Duke is right behind with 65.

North Carolina, although scored on oftener than any other ACC team in conference play last year, finished in third place with a 4-2 record. George Barclay would be happy to place that well this time, especially in view of rugged afternoons ahead against outside teams of the caliber of Oklahoma and Notre Dame.

Cincinnati Victorious

ST. PAUL (AP)—Southpaw sensation Ron Moeller hurled his third straight victory in a brilliant relief role Friday night to carry Cincinnati past Washington, D. C., 10-5, and force the American Legion Junior Baseball Tournament into a decisive game Saturday night.

Three Key Players Hurt in Giants, Phillies Series

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Injuries to three key players in the New York Giants-Philadelphia Phillies series that ended yesterday have hobbled both clubs in their stretch fight for third place in the National League.

* * *

The Phils yesterday lost slugging catcher Stan Lopata after third baseman Willie Jones was inactivated Friday night. The Giants lost the services of their captain, shortstop Alvin Dark for the remainder of the season when he suffered a shoulder separation in the Friday night game.

Lopata collapsed yesterday after belting a first-inning, three-run homer in the Phils 7-4 loss to the Giants. He circled the bases but staggered on his way back to the bench and eventually collapsed in the dugout.

Today, Temple University Hospital termed his condition "satisfactory" but declined to reveal the nature of his illness. A club spokesman said, however, that it was believed he was suffering a reaction from a beaning Friday night by Giants' pitcher John (Windy) McCall. Lopata's protective helmet was gashed by the pitch but he remained in the game and played again Saturday night. He's in the hospital for at least 24 hours observation and rest and its unknown when, or if, he'll get back in action this year.

Indians on Top, Boost Pitcher for Award

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Cleveland Indians, back in first place today, were booming Ray Narleski, their brilliant ace reliefer, for the American League's Most Valuable Player award and the records back them up.

Not since Jim Konstanty captured the National League's coveted award in 1950 has a relief pitcher earned such an honor. No American League fireman ever accomplished the feat.

Narleski enhanced his chances yesterday with a pair of excellent rescue jobs as the Indians swept a doubleheader from Chicago by the same 5-3 scores to burst into first place by a half-game over the New York Yankees. The twin defeats dropped the White Sox into third place, a game and a half behind the Indians.

The Yankees subdued Washington 8-3 to move ahead of Chicago and the fourth-place Boston Red Sox remained only four games off the pace with a 5-4 triumph over Baltimore. Detroit overpowered Kansas City 17-1 with a 20-hit attack.

* * *

Brooklyn's pennant-bound Dodgers made it three in a row over Pittsburgh with a 6-5 victory to retain their 14-game advantage over Milwaukee, a 5-2 victor over Cincinnati. The New York Giants moved past Philadelphia into third place by one percentage point with a 7-4 victory over the Phillies and Chicago downed St. Louis 4-3 to climb within a half-game of the fifth-place Redlegs.

Ralph Kiner and Al Rosen were the hitting stars for the Indians. Kiner drove in three runs in the opener, including the two winning runs in the sixth with a double. Rosen pounded a three-run homer off loser Dick Donovan in the third inning of the nightcap, his 19th of the year.

* * *

Mickey Mantle sparked the Yankees to their victory, slamming his 37th homer with two men aboard in the first to pave the way for Bob Turley's 14th triumph. Bill Skowron's bases-loaded single highlighted the Yankees' three-run rally in the fifth.

Sammy White pounded three singles and a double as the Red Sox banged 13 hits off three Baltimore hurlers to give rookie Frank Baumann his second major league triumph.

Shaws Continue in Softball Race

Play Ypsilanti Team in Tournament Round After 3 Victories

JACKSON (AP) — Pontiac Shaws play Ypsilanti Walkers today in the 5th round of the Michigan Major Softball Tournament.

Shaw's will be facing the Ypsilanti nine for the 2nd time in the double-elimination tourney, sponsored by the Michigan Softball Association. Hardware team trimmed Shaw's, 8-1, in the latter's tourney opener Saturday.

Shaw's bounced back with three straight wins to stay alive. The Jewelers edged Hudson, 5-4; blanked Allen Park, 3-0, and downed Midland, 6-2, to reach the semis and their return test with Ypsilanti.

Kaline Expected Back in Lineup Today

DETROIT (AP)—Al Kaline was expected to return to the Tiger lineup today for Detroit's doubleheader with the Chicago White Sox.

Kaline, American League's leading hitter, was out of Detroit's 17-1 rout over the Kansas City Athletes yesterday because of a rib injury. He was hit Saturday night by a pitched ball.

It 1st was feared the 20-year-old star might have suffered a rib fracture. X-ray, however, failed to reveal any break.

Kaline was hit by Mike Kume in the 3rd inning. He remained in action, however, until he was pulled for a pinch runner after he doubled in the 9th.

The Tigers scored eight runs in the 5th inning of that game, wrapping up an 11-6 victory.

Yesterday's win gave them two out of three for their final series of the season at Kansas City.

Detroit pounded four of the A's pitchers for 20 hit, including three home run, in posting the victory.

Ned Garver pitched a seven-hitter for Detroit. It was his 12th victory against 13 losses. He boosted the Tiger scoring margin with a home run.

Ray Boone drove in five runs with a homer, double and single raising his RBI total to 102 for the seaon. Frank House was the other Tiger to hit a homer.

Detroit's big inning was the 3rd. Seven runs came in on seven hits, two walks and a passed ball.

Vic Raschi, who started for Kansas City lost his 6th game. He has won four this season.

Billy Hoeft and Frank Lary were scheduled to start for Detroit against the White Sox. Hoeft has a 14-7 season record. Lary has 13 against 12.

Eagles, 49ers Look Tough After 4 Pre-Season Wins

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Philadelphia Eagles and the San Francisco 49ers, who made strong bids for divisional honors in the National Football League last year, are indicating they'll once more be worthy contenders for championship honors.

The Eagles, with their alternating quarterbacks, Bobby Thomason and Adrian Burke, tossing the pigskin with deadly accuracy have won all four of their exhibition games. The latest was a 24-10 decision over the Green Bay Packers at Charleston, W.Va. Saturday night.

The 49ers also whipped the Chicago Cardinals 43-7 yesterday on their home field for their fourth victory in five exhibitions.

In the only other game played over the weekend, the Chicago Bears chalked up their first victory with a 45-10 decision over the Washington Redskins, who now have an exhibition record of one win, a tie and three defeats.

Labor Day
Labor In America Is Beginning to "Own Its Own Tools"

Who owns America's biggest companies today? The answer may astonish you. Tens of thousands of different people . . . and, in each company, a tremendous number of shares is owned and voted by working men and women employed in the industry.

Today, as a "capitalist" the working man or woman has an enormous stake in the welfare of our free enterprise system. And this is a splendid omen for the future of America.

Hollywood Headlines

Singer Tony Martin Stars in Russ Columbo Movie

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Tony Martin is older than Russ Columbo was when he died—but man, oh man—what he'll do to those wonderful songs made world famous, "I surrender Dear," "Prisoner of Love" and all the others. Just heard it's definite now that Tony will star in the screen story based on the life of the singer who was the adored of the twenties fans and whose romance with Carole Lombard was an idyll of those days.

Producer Maurice Duke long ago closed for the rights to "The Story of Russ Columbo" with the remaining family of the singer, whose career was tragically halted at its peak when he was accidentally shot by a close friend. He once had Johnny Desmond penciled in and Russ' sister was strong for Johnny. Koch and Schenck will make it for United Artists.

The glowing reports about Anita Ekberg from Rome sound like they were written by a press agent. I hear both Audrey Hepburn and Mel Ferrer are crazy about her, she's so cooperative in "War and Peace" and so eager to please everyone.

"Anita," said my friend who wrote to me, "has more wolf whistles in Rome than she had even in Hollywood. The Italian men just stand in line to admire her."

Anita took Arlene Dahl's place in "War and Peace" when Arlene became too ill to fly to Rome for the picture.

Snaps: Stanford Whitmore, with the $80,000 recently earned for "Solo," which was sold to 20th Century-Fox, is marrying Sylvia Taper, of the MGM censorship department. They will take that money and go to Europe.

James Dean is all but set for the Rocky Graziano role. The Australian boy, Rod Taylor, was good, but MGM wants Dean.

Dmitri Tiomkin's new car was completely wrecked when another car ran through a red signal and crashed into Tiomkin, who was lucky enough to come off only badly shaken up.

Warners, I'm pretty certain, have definitely signed Patty McCormack, who plays the little monster in "The Bad Seed."

U.S. GIs 'Run Wild' in Japanese Village

TOKYO (AP) — The newspaper Asahi said today "seven or eight" American servicemen "ran wild" in Maebashi City, 30 miles north of Tokyo, and battled police and bystanders for an hour but were finally subdued with clubs.

The paper reported three were arrested and jailed immediately. The others fled, but one was apprehended by military police and placed in Japanese custody, the paper said.

Californian Lays Claim to Glider Distance Mark

VICTORVILLE, Calif. (AP)—An international glider record was claimed today by a Californian who completed a round trip of 305 miles.

Lyle Maxey, 38, of Downey, soared from El Mirage Field near here, to Independence, Calif., and back yesterday. This beats the old record of 260 miles for a flight to a predetermined goal and return held by Bill Coverdale of Tennessee.

Mennonites Help Tornado Ruined Area Rebuilding

BLACKWELL, Okla. (RNS) — Two teams of Mennonite young men are working in the Kansas-Oklahoma border area rebuilding fences and repairing form buildings damaged in the tornado that devastated the region early in June.

The tornado spread havoc along a 77-mile path from northern Oklahoma into southern Kansas with the greatest loss of life registered in Blackwell, Okla., and Udall, Kan., 40 miles to the north.

The young men are contributing their labor until about mid-September as members of the Mennonite Church Voluntary Service Program. The American Red Cross is providing their maintenance during this period as well as the tools and materials they use in the work.

A ton and one-half of coal is needed to make a ton of steel.

Gov. Williams Crowns Queen

3,500 Watch Ceremony Under Stars in 23rd Peach Festival

ROMEO — Youth and beauty marked the ceremony in which Gov. G. Mennen Williams officially crowned Nancy Kovack queen of the 23rd Annual Romeo Peach Festival last night.

The program, held under the stars in Romeo's Memorial stadium was witnessed by some 3,500 spectators. Over 80 local youngsters participated in a colorful presentation of the "Fantasy of Flowers."

After Gov. Williams performed his official duty in placing the crown on the lovely queen's head, she received the scepter from last year's Miss Romeo, Pat Poljan.

Four tiny "future" queens were then crowned by the governor, assisted by Lt. Gov. Philip Hart.

FEATURE DAWN PATROL

The early morning feature of Sunday's program, the arrival of the Dawn Patrol at Romeo Airport, attracted 69 outstate pilots.

Some 245 breakfasts were served by the Festival Assn. to the fliers and spectators who crowded into the hangar and onto the field.

Prizes awarded to 68-year-old Albert Jarosz of Detroit, who was the oldest pilot present, and to Max Friebel, 18, of Dearborn, the youngest. Walter Engle of Dowagiac was also honored for flying his plane the furthest distance to participate in the event.

Eleven-year-old Roger Wawrzyniak of Detroit guided his racing car to victory in the Boys' Coaster Race in the afternoon.

PLACES SECOND

Another Detroit youth, William Cottrell, also 11, placed second. They nosed out 34 other entrants in the hotly-contended race down the West St. Clair Street hill.

The three-day festival program closes with the Mummers Parade this evening. The Labor Day program opened with the Children's Parade in the morning and was highlighted by the giant Floral Parade in the afternoon.

Japanese Stone Two Marines

Near Riot Begins After Cab Brushes Guards Returning to Billet

TOKYO (AP)—Two American Marine guards at the U.S. Embassy were beaten in an off-duty fight by a crowd of rock-throwing Japanese, the embassy and Japanese police revealed today.

* * *

The Marines said the Japanese started it; the Japanese police said the Marines were at fault.

The incident, which happened Tuesday, was not revealed until news queries today.

* * *

The Marines were Cpl. William L. Flynn Jr. of Boston and Sgt. William C. Fedasko of New York.

An embassy spokesman said the Marines gave this version:

* * *

A speeding Japanese taxi brushed them as they were walking to their billet, about five miles from the embassy, in civilian clothing. The cab stopped and they argued with the driver. Other Japanese joined in and a fight started. The Marines ran for a nearby police box.

* * *

The crowd followed and began throwing stones. The police forced the Marines out. One was knocked down by a club-wielding policeman and was kicked by the crowd before police reinforcements arrived.

* * *

The spokesman said the Marines handcuffed, were put in a police car. They said the mob spat at them, swung through the windows and insulted them. They were taken to a police station where they were released to embassy custody 1½ hours later.

* * *

Fedasko had seven stitches taken in a facial cut. Flynn suffered a cracked elbow. Both have been returned to duty.

Earth Tremor Jolts California

Most Damage Occurs in San Jose; No One Reported Hurt

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP)—The San Andreas fault, an earthquake-devil that continually threatens northern California, stirred slightly last night.

* * *

Walls cracked and plaster fell in the Santa Clara County Jail here, canned food flew from the shelves of groceries, plates scooted from under forks of diners, plate glass windows shattered and a number of chimneys lost their stance.

Quake-conscious Californians remembered 1906 when the San Andreas quake and fire wrecked San Francisco. At least two women fainted, although no injury from this stirring was reported.

* * *

Most of the damage was in San Jose although the tremor was felt over a 100-mile area, from Mount Tamalpais north of San Francisco to Hollister and Watsonville south of San Jose.

Seismologist W. C. Marion at the University of California said the quake centered 50 miles south of here at Hollister at 7:01.12 p.m.

* * *

Marion and Father Weber at Santa Clara University gave the quake a Richter rating of 5.5 but Dr. Charles F. Richter, who developed the rating system, said at California Institute of Techonology at Pasadena that the intensity was more nearly 6.

Under the Richter system, the 1906 earthquake had an 8.25 rating.

The San Andreas fault is the world's longest known crack in the earth's crust, a line extending up most of the California coast. It slips when enough stress builds up. That's an earthquake.

* * *

Jailers here moved trusties and women prisoners from the second and third floors to the lobby. They also stationed men ready to unlock doors to other cells in case of another jolt. Sheriff's deputies, armed with shotguns, waited to herd the 165 prisoners to a nearby park.

Red Farm Group Miffed by Aloof Ottawa Attitude

OTTAWA (AP) — The bloom was definitely off the Soviet farm tour of Canada today. The 12 Russian experts called off a visit to Toronto and the Canadian National Exhibition there after getting reports officials of Canada's No. 2 city planned to ignore their presence.

* * *

Instead, the Russians took a bus yesterday from Niagara Falls to Ottawa, the last stop on their two-week tour of Canada.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF MORris Pringle who passed away Sept. 5, 1954.
The memories are Jewels
That no one can steal.
Death is a heartache
That nothing can heal
Some may forget you now that you're gone.
But we shall remember no matter how long.
Sadly missed by Wife Thelma, and Stepsons Lester and Dick Desotell.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF GERtrude Day, who passed away Sept. 6, 1954.
Only those who lose can tell
The grief we bear in silence,
For the one we loved so well.
Sadly missed by her children, Ethel and Robert and husband, Cass Day.

IN MEMORY OF BETTY JEAN Campbell, who died Sept. 5, 1951.
Darling you have left a beautiful memory, and a sorrow too great to be told;
But to us who have loved and lost you, your memory will never grow old.
No morning comes, no night returns, but what we think of you.
Her mother, Helen Omdahl and sisters, Delores Scribner and Hazel Lund.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF MORris Pringle who passed away Sept. 5, 1954.
Deep in our hearts lies a picture.
Of a loved one laid to rest,
In memory's frame we shall keep it
Because he was one of the best.
Sadly missed by Shirley and Jack Priebs and Grandson Jacky.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF MRS. Clista Campbell who left us 6 years ago today Sept. 1, 1949
She who suffered is at rest,
Gone to Heaven with the Blest.
Her loving Family.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF OUR dear mother, Nettie May Wever, who passed away Sept. 1, 1954.
No one knows the silent heartache,
Only those who lose can tell.
The grief we bear in silence,
For the one we loved so well.
Some day, some time, we shall see,
The face we keep in memory.
Sadly missed by Daughter and Son.

Carlson Given $2 Million Deal

Coward's 'Cavalcade' Will Launch Fox Hour on October 5

By JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK (INS) — Milton Berle signed Ann Sothern for his second (Oct. 18) fall show—still to be written by Gore Vidal. . . .

* * *

Noel Coward's "Cavalcade" will get the new "20th Century-Fox Hour" Wednesday, Oct. 5, off on the proper dramaturgical foot . . . Alistair Cooke of Omnibus will write portions of the script.

Richard Carlson will make a fortune, from "I Led Three Lives" and on top of that has signed a new TV contract guaranteeing him approximately $2,275,000 as star-director-writer—and not even on an exclusive basis. . .

Dennis Day is shooting another pilot film for NBC, which can't figure why his shows have flopped. . .

Lawrence Welk's TV contract was renewed.

Bonita Granville Wrather's three kiddies get brief roles in "The Lone Ranger," which hubby Jack Wrather just happens to own.

* * *

20th-Fox's TV series will star George Sanders and Dana Wyenter in the "Laura" roles originated by Clifton Webb and Gene Tierney.

The next original Davy Crockett episodes will be aired on ABC-TV Oct. 19 and Nov. 23.

FOR OZZIE, HARRIET

ABC Sept. 23 will heave a huge two-hour TV huzzah honoring the 12th anniversary of "The Adventures of Ozzie & Harriet".

George Sanders will star in "Yacht on the High Seas" for the 20th-Fox TV opus, too; opposite Joan Bennett.

* * *

Bing's old scripter Carroll Carroll is writing Judy Garland's Sept. 24 TV premiere.

Very tough ex-boxer Walter Cartier will play a gentle, shy, quiet, almost shrinking-violet role in the new Phil Silvers series starting Sept. 20.

Theater-TV of the Marciano-Moore fight may help that mayhem hit a million dollar gate; 100 theaters seem set; one drive-in will be able to hold 10,000 high-fee fight fans for the event.

Theater Network Television, Inc., is renting mobile TV units to theaters which don't have the gadgetry built in already.

* * *

Comic George O'Hanlon inherits the "Life of Riley" neighbor role abandoned by Tom d'Andrea when he thought his "Soldier" TV series would be a smash.

PINKY'S CIRCUS

Pinky Lee switches to a "circus" format for his Saturday morning casts . . . Hit Parade returns Sept. 10, same stars (oh you Gisele!)

* * *

Martin & Lewis no speakee yet . . . Polly Bergen stashed some of her TV salary into a Palm Springs hotel.

Humphrey Bogart will do another Fred Coecast . . . It almost killed Harry Belafonte to learn prior commitments wouldn't let him play Ralph Bunche in a Four-Star Playhouse production.

Alfred Hitchcock will direct only four of his TV film series, though all 39 will bear his name . . . Jack Benny won't retire from radio if a sponsor can be flushed who will pay for transcription of his old programs.

Unofficial temperatures of 137 degrees have been recorded within the Death Valley area of California.

Ancient Olmec Tools Unearthed

Archeological Search Finds Implements Made Mostly of Jade

WASHINGTON—New archeological exploration of the mysterious Olmec civilization at La Venta, Mexico, has just yielded a cache of 56 primitive implements, most made of jade.

These celts, together with another find, a stone monument representing a seated human figure, offer clues to the culture that flowered in southern Mexico about 1,500 years ago.

Particular interest is attached to five implements carved with Olmec designs of jaguar and bird monsters. The stone monument, slightly more than life size, was discovered on a terrace of limestone slabs flanking a buried mound. Despite its broken head and arms, the statue has great artistic merit.

Additional excavations will try to locate earlier construction. Diggers thus far have removed 800 cubic yards of earth and 100 tons of basalt columns that surrounded the bastion. The ceremonial court's eastern half has been cleared of a five-foot-deep layer of drift sand.

Archeologists hope to unearth charcoal remains that can be precisely dated by radiological methods. The people were America's earliest accomplished artists, but the period when La Venta flourished has not yet been pinpointed.

62,000 People Hear Billy Graham Speak

OCEAN GROVE, N.J., Sept. 5 (AP)—Evangelist Billy Graham drew 62,000 persons in four weekend appearances at the 86th annual Ocean Grove Campmeeting.

* * *

A crowd estimated at 16,500 heard the 36-year-old Baptist preacher say yesterday that "social problems facing the American home" cause a greater threat than communism.

As an antidote to juvenile delinquency he prescribed the discipline taught in the Scriptures plus "a little more old-fashioned prayer and an old-fashioned hickory."

Greatest immigration year in U. S. history was the year 1907 when a total of 1,285,000 foreign-born arrived to make their homes here.

3 Couples Mark Golden Weddings at Special Mass

ST. MARYS, Pa. (AP)—Three Italian immigrant couples marked their golden wedding anniversaries yesterday by renewing their marriage vows at a solemn anniversary Mass.

The ceremony was in St. Boniface Roman Catholic church at nearby Kersey where they were wed Sept. 5, 1905.

Mrs. Carlo Parmiciani of nearby Coal Hollow, who was married 50 years ago along with the others, was an honored guest at the ceremony. Her husband died four years ago.

All four couples promised on their wedding day that if alive in 1955 they would renew their vows.

The other couples are Mr. and Mrs. Louis Angelo of Weedville; Mr. and Mrs. Giacomo Caimi of Coal Hollow; and Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Garaveli, also of Coal Hollow.

Man Files Pennies Into Valuable Coins

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (AP) — A 62-year-old yardman was in jail today, awaiting a talk with a Secret Service man about some 1944 pennies that were changed into apparently rare 1914 coins worth $3.50 or more.

* * *

Oscar Nelson told officers he first started doctoring the pennies about a year ago. He insisted he had disposed of only a handful.

* * *

Paul D. Sullivan, a local coin shop operator, told police he bought two of the coppers marked 1914 from the man. The marking means the coins were issued at the Denver, Colo., mint in 1914.

* * *

But Sullivan sent the coins to a collector in California. He wrote back they had been altered by filing or cutting the extra points from the first figure four.

Cruel Husband Held for Chaining Spouse

ATHENS, Tenn. (AP)—Lee McDowell, 46, was charged wth assault and battery after his wife told officers he worked her in the fields all day and chained her to the bed at night.

* * *

Sheriff's Deputy W. R. Reynolds said he asked McDowell yesterday why he chained up his wife and that he replied, "I was afraid she'd get snake bit." He did not elaborate.

* * *

Mrs. McDowell, mother of seven children, was taken to a hospital here Saturday night by a neighbor to whom she turned for help after filing a link from her chain and escaping from her home. She said she found the file while working in a tobacco patch.

* * *

Reynolds said he cut a chain from around the woman's neck after she was brought to Athens. He said hospital authorities reported the woman has hand and rib fractures and multiple bruises.

Match your electric washer with an electric clothes dryer

Wash day becomes extra easy when you add a new electric clothes dryer to your electric washer. Here's why: There's no heavy wet wash to haul up the stairs and hang on the line. You have only to load the dryer and flip a switch. Out comes the laundry, fluffy-dry, sparkling clean. Old-fashioned line drying can't compare with the carefree, modern way to dry clothes—electrically!

Detroit to Gain in Air Service

Federal Group Endorses New Schedule Changes for Major Carriers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Greatly inncreased air service is assured Detroit as a result of Civil Aeronautics Board action in Washington.

Rulings Friday by the CAB gave Northwest airlines "turn-around" service in Detroit on flights to New York. Previously all service between Detroit and New York had to be on flights that originated or termined in Minneapolis or farther west.

Northwest also was given permission to operate flights from Chicago to New York with stops enroute at Detroit.

Capital airlines was authorized to provide unrestricted service between New York and Detroit, Pittsburgh, Chicago and Toledo.

Philadelphia also was added on two Capintal routes to provide a new competitive service between Philadelphia and Cleveland, Detroit and other Michigan cities.

TURN-AROUND

The CAB gave United Airline turn-around service between Philadelphia and Detroit and granted United permission to service Fort Wayne, Ind., on flights serving Detroit or Toledo.

Restrictions prohibiting Eastern air lines from carrying local traffic between Detroit, Akron and Pittsburgh were removed by the ruling.

Detroit was added to Transworld Airlines transcontinental route as an intermediate point between New York and Chicago, subject to long haul restrictions.

The board also ordered an investigation to determine whether TWA's Detroit-Cincinnati route should be transferred to another carrier.
