Don't Snicker—Think of Added Tax Intake Licenses for Pedestrians?

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—The big problem in America today is—how can the government live off everybody when everybody is trying to live off the government?

Practically every government—federal, state or local—is running short of money. They also seem to be running out of ideas for new taxes.

What governments need is the courage to reach firmly into new and unplumbed areas of the public purse and pluck boldly therefrom the money needed.

Here are a few tentative suggestions:

Why not tax pedestrians? If drivers have to fork up money to get a license to use the city streets, why shouldn't pedestrians be made to pay for the privilege of wearing out the city sidewalks?

The issuance of $10 a year pedestrian licenses would not only add millions of dollars in revenue to most big municipalities, it would enable them to weed out reckless walkers unable to pass periodic inspection tests.

BABY BUGGIES TOO

Why not also sell baby buggy licenses? Why should an infant, at the very start of its existence, get the idea there are any free rides in life?

It might even be a good idea to put a $15 tax—split equally between local state and federal governments—on birth itself, payable at the hospital by the parents before they would be allowed to take their child home.

This way a baby would still be born free, and even after drawing its first breath it would still owe $15, which it could repay its parents on its 21st birthday.

A few other ideas:

Taxes on girl watching. (If this popular indoor and outdoor spectator sport ever paid its own way, all government deficits would be wiped out overnight.)

Taxes on park bench sitting. Philosophers such as Bernard Baruch might object to these, but those who use public services ought to pay at least part of the costs.

SPECIAL STAMPS

Special tax stamps to be affixed to letters written to Congress complaining about taxes.

Anyone who thinks he seen the end of new taxes just doesn't know what lies ahead! Such as maybe a burial tax stamp. If you tax a guy for the privilege of going underground, isn't that really an inducement to make him want to keep on living?

Michigan Cash Flow Trickles to Near-Halt

LANSING (AP)—A long-impending financial storm broke on Michigan today climaxing a bitter political feud between Republican state senators and Democratic Gov. G. Mennen Williams.

Payment was halted on payrolls and bills for fuel, food, telephones and travel in what the governor called an "artificial bankruptcy" brought on by GOP legislative stalling.

A last-minute decision averted holdup of $3,900,000 in state payments for the benefit of 200,000 persons on poor relief.

The drastic curbs were ordered late yesterday by the State Administrative Board in the face of a $116,900,000 deficit by May 15, and a plunge into financial chaos.

Republican lawmakers meanwhile sat on the key to 43 million dollars worth of veterans trust fund securities that would tide the state over another three months.

Williams called the sudden GOP refusal to move a "stab in the back of Michigan." A Republican senator had blamed the collapse on the governor's "incredible arrogance."

Williams, dazed and soured by recent events, has snapped back into a relaxed fighting mood. The burden of uncertainty lifted, he showed a certain relish for tackling the staggering problems ahead.

Long nurtured White House hopes and the possibly mortal blow they had been dealt seemed far out of mind yesterday.

Godfrey Has Lung Cancer

Surgery Is Performed
Today to Excise Tumor
Found Malignant

NEW YORK (AP)—An operation disclosed today that Arthur Godfrey's chest tumor is cancerous.

In a statement issued during the operation, the doctor said: "The lesion of Godfrey's left lung has been identified as being a malignant tumor. The section of the lung containing the tumor is being removed. His condition is excellent."

Three surgeons, one anesthesiologist and three nurses were in the operating room. There was no indication how long the surgery would take.

A hospital spokesman said just before the operation that "Godfrey slept well last night under sedation."

The 35-year-old radio and television star has been in the Harkness Pavilion of the Columbia Presbyterian Medical Center since Monday in preparation for the surgery.

FAVS WRITE

Godfrey's wife, Mary, visited him before he was wheeled to the operating room. She came here Wednesday night from their Virginia home and spent the night at Harkness Pavilion.

The mailroom reported it was swamped with thousands of letters and telegrams for Godfrey from all parts of the country.

Paris Meeting Draws to Early Surprise Close

Secretive Package for Geneva Talks Hold Some Concessions

PARIS (AP)—Western foreign ministers ended their pre-Geneva consultations today with an unexpectedly quick agreement on a common front for their talks with the Soviet Union on Berlin and other problems of central Europe.

The four-power meeting, which opened here Wednesday morning with tentative plans for a three-day stand, was adjourned shortly after noon.

The secret Western package proposal contains some Western concessions.

But a U.S. spokesman emphasized "We are not going to Geneva with the idea of falling back."

Drawn up by foreign ministers of the United States, Britain, France and West Germany, the package will be presented to the Soviet Union at a foreign ministers conference opening in Geneva May 11.

Spokesmen for all delegations at the Paris conference agreed that complete accord had been reached. A final communique in the same vein gave no details.

The American spokesman told newsmen: "We reached our common position without wrangling. There is nothing left up in the air. It's all down on paper."

The last snag was cleared away this morning when a British proposal for a central European security zone was watered down.

FEARED DISADVANTAGE

The United States, France and West Germany had objected to the original British proposal, fearing the West would not be put at a disadvantage militarily.

The ministers said they stood four-square behind the West's pledge to hold firm in Berlin and to refuse to abandon the 2 1/2 million residents of that city.

Though the communique did not say so, official sources reported, the ministers had agreed to negotiate a separate Berlin settlement if the Soviet Union rejects the over-all package deal on Berlin, German unity and European security they plan to propose at Geneva.

Quarterly GM Net Profit Close to 1955 Record

DETROIT (AP)—General Motors Corp., biggest of the world's auto makers, earned $23,482,419 or $1.03 a share in the first three months of 1939.

The figures give emphasis to the rising automobile market. They compare with net profit of $181,269,191 or 65 cents in the same 1938 period. Sales totaled $3,206,185,716 compared with $2,721,373,212 in the same 1938 period.

Industry analysts noted that this year's January-March profits for GM were not far below the $309,407,000 or $1.11 a share the corporation showed for the first quarter of record-smashing 1955. That was the year in which GM had a net profit of more than one billion dollars.

Earlier this month, Ford Motor Co. reported net income of $134,800,000 for the initial quarter, compared with $29,800,000 last year. Weekly earnings: American Motors had $12,463,993 net compared with $2,380,885; and Studebaker-Packard $7,574,991 compared with a net loss of $6,294,480.

Chrysler's report for this year's January-March quarter is scheduled to be issued today. President L. L. Colbert told Chrysler shareholders it would show an increase over the corporation's best 1938 quarter.

That would mean something in excess of the 11 1/2 million netted in the October-December period.

The General Motors report, issued by Chairman Frederic G. Donner and President John F. Gordon said:

"General Motors sales during the first three months of 1939 were maintained at a relatively constant level. During the three comparable months of last year sales declined steadily as the effects of the recession in the United States were felt."

They reported also that GM sold 914,705 cars and trucks produced in this country in the first quarter, compared with 780,941 last year. Total unit sales from all sources, including England, West Germany, Canada and Australia, numbered 1,131,480 units against 981,963 last year.

Jaycee Home Show Opens With Parade, 65 Displays

The Pontiac Armory will be near bursting with displays tonight during the opening hours of the sixth annual Home Improvement Show, sponsored by the Pontiac Area Junior Chamber of Commerce.

A kickoff parade this afternoon was scheduled to lead into the 4 p.m. opening of the show, which will run until 10 each night through Sunday.

The parade, featuring the Pontiac Northern High School Band, a beauty queen, and a giant key to the Home Improvement Show, was to begin about 3:45 p.m. at the Oakland County Courthouse, Huron and Saginaw Sts.

Scheduled to ride from the courthouse to the armory were Mayor Philip E. Rowston and Shirley Hutchison, Pontiac Jaycees' Michigan Junior Miss.

The show will open at 4 p.m. Friday, 10 a.m. Saturday and 1 p.m. Sunday.

SPECIAL ATTRACTIONS

Besides the many displays, there'll be special attractions such as movies and prizes every night. The show is the Jaycees' biggest venture of the year to build up funds for their many civic and youth projects.

Thirty-six area concerns have moved their displays into the Water Street armory, filling the 65 available display booths.

Stock full of advice and ideas for persons desirous of fixing up their homes, the show touches on just about every phase of home improvement, from building supplies to financing, gardens to pianos and real estate to plumbing.

Every night at 9:30, Jaycees will give away a valuable home appliance, ranging in price from $169 to $269. Many exhibitors will have smaller prizes for distribution.

Highlighting the movies, which will begin at 9 each night, will be the U.S. Steel Corp.'s well-known documentary on the building of the Mackinac Bridge.

FREE FILMS

Other free films will be on home decorating, colors, window-dressing, wood paneling and home construction.

Pontiac Convertibles Sell at Record Pace

A heavy demand for Pontiac convertibles has boosted convertible sales to a record 86 per cent of all current Pontiac deliveries, it was announced today by S. E. Knudsen, General Motors Corp. vice president and general manager of Pontiac Motor Division.

Sales have been increasing since last fall and are expected to reach an even higher peak during the warm weather buying season, said Knudsen.

Over a six-month period, 6.3 per cent of the 1939 Pontiac sales have been in convertibles, compared to 4.7 per cent for the same period last year, he said.

Pontiac produces convertibles in both the Bonneville and Catalina series.

Modernization at the Pontiac Fisher Body plant will make that plant capable of producing convertible and station wagon bodies, as well as the other Pontiac body styles, it was announced yesterday.

Jet Crashes in Field by Emmett

PORT HURON (AP)—Air Force guards today patrolled a 20-foot crater on a farm field where a supersonic jet fighter plane crashed yesterday with a live rocket and missile load.

Abandoned by the pilot because of trouble aloft, a Delta Dagger F102 smashed to pieces in the field and presumably buried her load of weapons if they did not disintegrate. Apparently none exploded.

First Lt. David W. Smith, 26, of Frederick, Md., flying in exercises in rainy weather with a score of planes from Selfridge Air Force Base, parachuted safely to the ground five miles away.

Smith bailed out at 4,500 feet. He said he did so when he heard what sounded like an explosion aboard the plane.

The crash, near the village of Emmett 20 miles west of Port Huron, attracted hundreds of spectators, mostly motorists traveling on Keegan and Rynn roads which run nearby.

State Police and St. Clair County Sheriff's men quickly encircled the area, keeping onlookers at a distance. A demolition unit came from Selfridge. An all-night guard was posted.

An Air Force spokesman said the plane carried at least one Falcon air-to-air missile. He said the demolition men would dig the rockets, or what remained of them, from the field.

Lt. Smith, who flies with the 71st Interceptor Fighter Squadron, landed on the farm of Albert Mackey, three miles north of Emmett. He called his base from the farm house.

Mystery shoppers began circulating this morning, handing out the first of 600 gift certificates that will be distributed to downtown shoppers during the three-day sale.

Tomorrow and Saturday, Oakland County farmers have been invited to set up stalls along downtown streets, displaying flowers, shrubs and other plants.

The event is sponsored by the Downtown Merchants Assn.

Don't forget to look for the mystery advertisement in today's Pontiac Press. If you can identify yourself as the shopper whose picture is in the paper, you'll win a $10 gift certificate.

A plan to have carnival rides downtown in connection with the sale has been called off because of lack of room.

More Than 200 Fete St. Joseph Surgeon

Dr. C. G. Darling Jr., chief of surgery at St. Joseph Mercy hospital, was honored at a testimonial dinner last night by more than 200 friends and acquaintances in the medical world.

Tributes came from fellow doctors and the Sisters of Mercy, sponsors of the banquet at McAuley School of Nursing, near the hospital.

A bronze plaque, citing the surgeon's long service to his hospital was presented by Mother Mary Nicholas, mother provincial of the Sisters of Mercy of the Detroit Province.

St. Joseph is one of several hospitals in southeastern Michigan which the international religious order runs.

SON OF FAMOUS FATHER

To the Sisters of Mercy, Dr. Darling is the famous son of a famous father.

On the engraved plaque, the Sisters noted that it was Dr. Darling's father—an Ann Arbor surgeon—who helped found the Sisters' order in Ann Arbor.

The testimonial came as a surprise to the 60-year-old doctor, who first joined St. Joseph's 32 years ago as the hospital's first resident physician.

One of the tributes came from Dr. A. C. Frustenberg, dean of the University of Michigan Medical School, from which Dr. Darling was graduated in 1925.

Another was in the form of a written tribute by Dr. Fred Collier, famed surgeon at U. of M., under whom Dr. Darling once trained. The tribute was read by Dr. William Regan, a classmate of Dr. Darling.

Dr. George P. Raynale spoke in behalf of the St. Joseph medical staff. Other tributes came from two fellow classmates, Dr. Nathan Foley of Toledo and Dr. Herbert Dumphy of Boston, Mass.

SLIDES COVER CAREER

An unusual feature of the testimonial was a movie slide presentation covering many moments in Dr. Darling's long career.

The presentation was put together from many snapshots and pictures of Dr. Darling collected without his knowledge by the Sisters of Mercy.

Others who participated in the program were Dr. Norman Gehring, St. Joseph chief of staff; Dr. Robert J. Mason, former chief of staff, and several surgeons whom Dr. Darling trained in the operating rooms at St. Joseph.

Dr. Darling has also been medical director at GMC Truck & Coach Division since the plant chaired by Williams, took drastic steps yesterday to stem the flow of cash from the state treasury's badly depleted general fund after learning it was down to $10,000,000.

State's Cash Flow Trickle to Near-Halt

With additional revenues in sight of only $11,900,000 by May 15, producing total resources of $22,500,000, the buildup of potential charges against the fund through the same date were figured at $13,400,000.

Basically, the board decided to husband available cash first to meet welfare needs and second to satisfy state aid obligations to 2,350 school districts.

The board in daily meetings hereafter will sift money demands within the excluded area, and undoubtedly approve payments as circumstances demand.

Members resolved to keep up payments for help to the blind, crippled, deserted, helpless, aged and destitute "as long as they humanly can."

While the Ad Board struggled with its perplexing task, majority Republican senators went calmly ahead with a substitute for the veterans trust fund bill they left high and dry on Tuesday, triggering the big blowup.

The state's financial difficulties have been blamed by Republicans on what they say are excessive spending policies of the Williams administration.

back position was disclosed before the U.S., British, French and West German foreign ministers began their closing discussion of Britain's project for a zone of limited, controlled arms and armies in central Europe.

Britain's Prime Minister Harold Macmillan has advocated establishment of such a zone as the first step in a cold war settlement with the Soviet Union.

A French spokesman said there is now no need for a further formal meeting among U.S., Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd, French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville and West German Foreign Minister Heinrich von Brentano.

The four are expected to gather informally in Geneva May 10 on the eve of the East-West talks.

The U.S. spokesman was asked whether the Westerners would hand the Soviets a take-it-or-leave-it proposition.

"No," he replied. "We are going to Geneva with the idea of negotiating a settlement."

Asked if the ministers did not discuss what alternative action they would take if—as seems possible—the Soviets reject the package, he said they did not discuss alternatives.

The Western position, he said, will remain secret in advance of the Geneva session.

Ahhh! Chartreuse Ad With Carnation Scent

Because of tremendous popular response to a recent perfumed advertisement in The Pontiac Press a week ago, the WKC Store at 108 N. Saginaw St. is running a second scented ad in today's paper.

The Teen Center will be closed tomorrow evening due to a dance being held by the Birmingham High School.

Since its opening at the beginning of the month, the Center reports increasingly good attendance at each of its Friday night programs.

Plans are under way for a Country Fair to be held May 15 and 16 at the new site of the Detroit Country Day School at 13-Mile and Lahser roads.

Proceeds will be used for a new science wing at the school.

The fair will include carnival rides, helicopter trips, bazaar booths, exhibits and movies.

Mrs. Alice M. Harris, 85, of 560 Watkins St. will be held at 11 a.m. Saturday from the Manley Bailey Funeral Home.

Burial will be in Greenwood Cemetery.

Mrs. Harris, a native of Southfield and lifelong resident of the area, died at her home yesterday.

She was a member of St. James Episcopal Church of Birmingham. Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Grant Capling, and a son, Charles L., both of Birmingham; three grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Eye Exams Are Important

By RAY HENRY

Notes for and about the older generation:

What are the basic needs of an older person?
Dr. Edward L. Bortz, specialist in aging and former American Medical Assn. president, lists these: (He's 63 himself.)

(1) A balanced diet (2) regular elimination (3) adequate rest (4) recreation (5) emotional control (6) pride in one's work (7) a sense of humor (8) companionship (9) active in community affairs (10) preserving an open mind.

Eye examinations at least once a year are in order after a person reaches 50.

Why? Because glaucoma—a disease which frequently causes blindness in older people, can usually be caught in the early stages by eye exams and further trouble can be prevented.

The Veterans Administration says about one in every 19 men over 50 is faced with possible blindness from glaucoma.

Eye exams can detect glaucoma before a person with the disease feels any discomfort since deterioration due to the disease is gradual.

A woman applying for social security offered this explanation for why her marriage license showed one age and her birth certificate another:

"When I got married, I was 19 years old. My father got the marriage license for me and put my age at 15 so he could send my husband to the penitentiary. He was not able to do so, however."

Of the 15 million Americans 65 or over—

—One-third have passed their 75th birthday and one in seven is at least 80.

—The ratio of women outnumbering the men nearly 120 to 100.

—Fifty-five per cent are widows.

—One out of every five has a paying job.

—Seventy per cent are eligible for social security.

The range in attitudes toward retirement is as broad as the rainbow and comes in many hues.

Take, for example, this letter received some years back from a man applying for social security:

"Well, the wheels have rolled around to three score and ten. I understand I shall receive a donation from our good old U.S.A. I have the enclosed number and am self employed. I have purchased me a rod and reel and a .22 to kill frogs for bait. I have retired."

Group to Hear Strauss Despite Some Protests

WASHINGTON (AP) — The American Physical Society says it intends to have Secretary of Commerce Lewis L. Strauss speak at its annual dinner Friday, despite protests by some of its members.

The worst thing about money is that you can only use it once. Nowadays the old nursery rhyme should go: "One for the money, two for the show, three to make Strauss, and his past policies by ready, four to go — and five backs the American Physical Society for the baby sitter." —Earl Wilson and the scientific community while his nomination as secretary is before the Senate. Some objections had been raised because of Strauss' actions while head of the Atomic Energy Commission.

Ike's News Conference Just Skims Over Crucial Question About Iraq

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—It was a pleasant, warm, sunny day outside as President Eisenhower answered questions at his news conference Wednesday. The question about Iraq was just one among others.

And the President's answer didn't take long. Yet the question and answer threw across the room a somber shadow hardly noticeable as the reporters pressed ahead with other questions of their own.

For in Iraq — and what may happen to it and the Middle East later — lies the possibility of one of America's greatest cold war defeats.

Just the day before, Allen Dulles, head of the Central Intelligence Agency, told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee: Com-the committee, said the situation is not hopeless if such a policy can be found.

But none is in sight now.

Two years ago Iraq was linked with the United States through its defense agreement with Iran, Turkey, Pakistan. That was when Eisenhower asked, and Congress approved, a declaration that the President could use U.S. troops to help any Mideast country against armed aggression from any country controlled by international communism.

One of the weak spots in that policy has always been this: What can the United States do if native Communists take over a country from within, and without obvious outside aggression?

Last summer when the Iraqi army overthrew the government — which had linked itself with this country — by killing the King, Eisenhower sent American troops into neighboring Lebanon.

Lebanon itself at the time was torn by civil war, Eisenhower said he acted then on the request of the Lebanese President, Camille Chamoun, to guard American lives and protect Lebanon against indirect aggression.

But could Eisenhower use these powers to send American troops into Iraq to prevent a Communist takeover from within? It seems unlikely.

For one thing, Iraq's premier Abdel Karim Kassem, who led the revolution against the King, has surrounded himself with Communists. If they took over, they'd be his boys, not outsiders.

And even if he tried to disown them at the last moment, he might be eliminated too fast to do what the Lebanese President did: ask for American help.

If the Reds take over in Iraq, which is completely shut off from border contact with the Soviet Union by its neighbors, the Soviets would have their first firm foothold in the Middle East. It would be a colossal disaster for the West. And we do follow it."

At his news conference the President was asked if there was any way to save Iraq from slipping behind the Iron Curtain. There was nothing concrete in the President's answer.

Most of what he said can be summed up in his last paragraph: "If there is anything we can do to promote better relations with this country without making other enemies in the same region, why that is a good policy to follow. And we do follow it."

Negro Boy Jailed in Georgia

Woman Names Rapist

QUITMAN, Ga. (AP)—"It was him."

With those words, a 25-year-old married white woman singled out a teenage Negro boy as the person who raped her on the bank of a fishing pond near her home.

Sheriff R. W. Jones of Brooks County said the victim identified the 16-year-old Negro immediately after facing him Wednesday.

Jones said the boy was being held in an undisclosed jail outside of Brooks County and that rape charges were being prepared.

Names of rape victims and juveniles charged with crimes are withheld by state law.

Earlier Wednesday, the woman exonerated Jesse G. Graham Jr., 21-year-old Negro who had been held in connection with the case. She had told officers her attacker said his name was Jesse G. Graham Jr.

Graham surrendered to Jones Tuesday night after learning he was being sought by a posse. Jones spirited him to the Thomasville jail, 29 miles west of Quitman, to avoid possible violence.

The woman viewed Graham in a lineup with three other Negroes

In the matter of the petition concerning Johnny Ray, Rose Marie and Judy Howard, minors. Cause No. 19643.

To John Howard, father of said children.

Petition having been filed in this Court alleging that the present whereabouts of the father of said minor children are unknown and said children are dependent upon the public for support, and that said children should be placed under the jurisdiction of this Court.

In the name of the people of the State of Michigan, you are hereby notified that the hearing on said petition will be held at the Oakland County Service Center, Court House Annex, 12600 West Blvd., in the City of Pontiac, Michigan, on the 15th day of May, A.D. 1959, at one o'clock in the afternoon, and you are hereby commanded to appear personally at said hearing.

It being impractical to make personal service hereof, this summons and notice shall be served by publication of a copy one week previous to said hearing in the Pontiac Free Press, a newspaper printed and circulated in said County.

Witness, the Honorable Arthur R. Moore, Judge of said Court, in the City of Pontiac in said County, this 27th day of April, A.D. 1959.

and said her attacker was not among them.

Graham gave the sheriff names of five Negroes he had been associating with and who had been in the area where the attack occurred Tuesday. The 16-year-old was among those named.

Jones reported the youth said he was at home at the time of the incident.

The sheriff said the boy told him he received scratches on his face and teeth marks on his chest from another girl last week.

U.S., Soviet Vets Mark War Meet at Elbe River

MOSCOW (AP)—U. S. and Soviet veterans Wednesday night celebrated the 14th anniversary of their World War II meeting at the Elbe River by exchanging hopes for good relations between the American and Soviet people.

Joseph Polowsky of Chicago, Ill., leader of the seven Americans here for the reunion, told the reunion meeting that the "plain people of both countries don't want war."

The reunions have been held since 1955, commemorating the joining of the American and Soviet armies on the Elbe in the drive that split Germany in two. Last year's meeting was in the United States.

The American veterans arrived Tuesday. They will be guests at the Soviet May Day parade in Moscow.

This Call Tow Shocking

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (UPI)—Police Lt. Fred King telephoned Desk Sgt. Louis Love with directions for sending a tow truck to pick up a parked car answering the description of one reported stolen. "Oh, no," Love told him, "Leave that there. That's my car."

Family Keeps Busy in Scouting Roles

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Scout work is almost a full-time project for the John J. Brumer Sr. family. Brumer is advisor to an Explorer post. His wife, Cecelia, is leader of a Brownie troop. Their son, John Jr., is an Explorer Scout. Michael is a member of a Boy Scout troop, and Beverly, Barbara and Beatrice are Girl Scouts.

The only non-scouting members of the family are six-year old Sharon and three-year old Lori.

Plant Smells Trouble

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y. (UPI) — The Hooker Chemical Co. is worried about keeping a promise to Grand Island residents that no unpleasant odors would emanate from its research lab. A family of five skunks has moved in under a section of the plant.

Ear of Police Chief Is Tuned for Trouble

DOERUN, Ga. (AP) — Police Chief C. L. Hall's ear for music helped catch a bank burglar. Hall heard a radio playing in the coat of a young man and asked him where he got it.

The youth said he took the radio as security for a $1.50 loan from a friend. The friend admitted to Hall that he had taken the radio from the bank when he was unable to break into the vault.

Sentence Killer of Olga Duncan

California Jury Decries Moya to Die for Part as Hired Slayer

VENTURA, Calif. (AP) — Luis Moya must die in the gas chamber for his part in the strangulation of nurse Olga Duncan.

A jury so decreed Wednesday night. Moya is the final member of a trio convicted of first-degree murder in the slaying of the 30-year-old pregnant nurse.

Moya, 20, pleaded guilty to first-degree murder but asked for mercy. His attorney said Moya had been converted to Christianity and, if spared, would help other prisoners acquire religious faith. The jury had only two alternatives—death or life imprisonment. Moya will be formally sentenced May 7.

Moya and Augustine Baldonado said they were hired to kill the Canadian-born nurse by Mrs. Elizabeth Duncan, the victim's intensely jealous mother-in-law. The two men kidnaped her from her Santa Barbara, Calif., apartment last Nov. 17, strangled her and dumped the body in a roadside grave.

Mrs. Duncan and Baldonado are awaiting automatic review of their death sentences.

Neither Moya nor members of his family in the courtroom showed any emotion when the verdict was announced.

About 72 per cent of the nation's labor force worked on farms in 1920, but the number had fallen to about 12 per cent in the 1950 census.

Moscow Glitters in Readiness for May Day Parade

MOSCOW (AP) — Perhaps more brightly than ever before, this drab-looking old city is being splashed with banners and bunting for the annual May Day parade of Soviet might.

The holiday atmosphere has already touched Moscow. Most Muscovites were looking forward to a three-day holiday beginning Friday.

Five-foot color pictures of the entire Soviet Presidium line the main building just off Red Square. Pictures of Lenin five times that size are mounted on buildings throughout Moscow. Oldtimers say they've never seen so much bunting and red decorations.

The celebration's major slogan is a call to support Soviet Premier Khrushchev's seven-year economic plan.

One huge placard on the Kremlin walls carries this jawbreaking slogan in red and white letters: "Be in the vanguard of the nationwide struggle for fulfillment of the decisions of the 21st congress of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union for the construction of communism in the U.S.S.R."

Lost 50 Years, Glasses Turn Up Unbroken

SIDNEY, Maine (UPI) — A pair of eyeglasses lost more than 50 years ago was found unbroken recently in a field that had been plowed at least five times in the interim.

The glasses, still in their case, were turned up by Ray E. Philbrick while he was digging potatoes. He remembered the day his grandfather lost them in the 1900s.

Gas Grenades Subdue Widow

She Holds Off Police With Shotgun to Make Point About Parking

PHILADELPHIA, Pa. (AP) — A widow with a shotgun barricaded herself in her apartment for three hours Wednesday and tossed back the tear gas grenades fired by police.

Mrs. Catherine Ranonis, about 50, held 30 policemen at bay by threatening to shoot at them if they stormed her third-floor apartment.

Two policemen tried to sneak up the back stairs and found out she wasn't bluffing. She fired at them, but the pellets lodged in the wall and the two backed off.

Finally, however, the tear gas got the better of Mrs. Ranonis and officers wearing gas masks entered the apartment and disarmed her.

Mrs. Ranonis has had a long feud with a neighborhood funeral home over parking of funeral cars in front of the apartment building where she lives. The dispute erupted again Wednesday, and police were called.

Mrs. Ranonis barricaded herself in the apartment and threatened to fire. Thirty tear gas grenades were hurled. She picked them up as they landed and threw them back.

Then police, wearing gas masks mounted the stairs, broke in and disarmed her.

She was taken to Philadelphia General Hospital for psychiatric examination.

More than 10,000 high schools in the U.S. now provide behind-the-wheel driving instruction. In some schools the course is compulsory.

Picked From 14 Candidates

Leads State Military at 48

LANSDOWN — A 48-year-old military man who rose through the ranks to brigadier general has been named Michigan's adjutant general.

He is Ronald D. McDonald of Okemos who was picked by Gov. Williams from 14 candidates for the top administrative post in the state's military establishment.

McDonald succeeds Maj. Gen. George S. Moran who retires today after 11 years in the post.

The new adjutant general is a native of Hibbing. He is married and has four children.

McDonald is the 25th adjutant general in the state's history.

His appointment comes, as the state's Army and Air National Guard complement of 12,208 men is being reorganized under the new pentomic concept.

As he takes over, his top problem is to ensure a smooth transition to the new concept which calls for a divisional set up of five battle groups with atomic capabilities. The pentomic concept, ordered into effect March 15, replaces the triangular divisional organization based on three infantry regiments.

McDonald is a veteran of 28 years in the National Guard service. He was graduated in 1933 from Michigan State University.

During World War II he spent 34 months in the Alaska area. He also was assigned to the southwestern Pacific area as a special representative on Gen. Douglas MacArthur's staff.

Before his latest appointment, he served as the state's quartermaster general.

McDonald is active in the Community Chest, Red Cross and civil defense.

He belongs to the Okemos lodge of the AF & AM, the Lansing

Claim Chinese Caught Snowman

LONDON (AP) — Chinese peasants captured an abominable snowman in Kansu province and even trained him to work, Moscow radio reported today. But then they killed him.

The broadcast gave no further details of this first claim to domesticating the snowman, or who supposedly walks upright over the high mountains of Asia but flees at the approach of man. The Russians admitted that they themselves were outwitted on a yeti-hunting expedition to the Pamir Mountains of Central Asia last summer.

The Pamir expedition was badly planned, Moscow said. It chose the wrong time of year when there was no snow. It also disregarded Western advice and hunted in large groups. They made a lot of noise and yeti beat it to the hills. Moscow radio said more expeditions will be organized.

Woman Can Replace Man With Politics

DENVER (UPI) — Marriage is not necessary for happiness, according to Dr. Allen Kraft, chief psychiatrist at the National Mental Health Center here.

He urged unmarried women to go into politics as one of several substitutes for the time-honored role of housewife. Teaching, he said, is another way for a single woman to fill the marital void in her life. "Singleness itself is not a good or bad state," Dr. Kraft said. "Singleness is not necessarily an indicator of a sick or neurotic mind. Single people can be happy or unhappy as individuals, just as married folk can be happy or unhappy as individuals."

Janitor Invents Device to Guard Patrolboys

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Mutual Burton, a junior high school janitor, has devised a machine by which a school safety patrolboy can extend his crosswalk safety flag four feet into the street without leaving the curb. Burton explained that he had a special reason for his invention. Five of his sons have been school patrol members and "I didn't like the idea of my boys having to stand in the street," he explains.

Herter Relives Boyhood in Visit to Paris School

PARIS (AP)—U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter made a sentimental journey today to a French school he attended more than half a century ago.

A band of youngsters gave him a rousing cheer as they marched in review in the same courtyard where young Chris Herter used to play.

Born of American parents living in Paris, Herter entered the famed Ecole Alsacienne in 1902, as a boy of 7. He studied there three years.

Now 64, Herter took time out today from the conference of Western foreign ministers to return to his old classroom. On the blackboard, in blue chalk and careful English, were the words "Welcome, Mr. Herter."

Georges Gallienne, president of the school's administrative council, led the visitor to the desk where he once sat. He showed him an old school registration book which mentioned him as a "tres bon eleve," a very good student. Gallienne gave Herter a history of the school and a commemorative medal.

Jeannie Auschman, director of elementary classes, gave him a duplicate of an old award certificate he earned in his school days. The secretary's eyes glistened with emotion as he walked about the school.

"All men have two countries, their own and Paris," Herter told pupils massed in the courtyard.

"I believe that this phrase, which has been repeated millions of times, represents my own feelings."

He spoke in perfect French and drew a big cheer.

"It was in Paris that I was born," said Herter, "two steps from the Luxembourg Gardens. Thus it is with understandable emotion that I find myself here today and remember my childhood in the capital."

Ecole Alsacienne is a private coeducational school founded after the 1870-71 war with Germany by refugees from German-occupied Alsace. It has always had a considerable attendance of foreign children living in Paris.

Asks Phone Punishment

LANSING (AP)—People who make threats or use abusive language over the telephone could be charged with disorderly conduct under a bill introduced by Rep. Joseph A. Gillis Jr. (D-Detroit). Present law, he said, makes charges possible only in extortion threats or in use of obscene language in interstate calls.

UP Tourist Business Holds Steady in '58

EAST LANSING (AP)—Tourist and resort business in the Upper Peninsula held steady last year, the first full year that the Mackinac Bridge was in operation.

The report comes from Robert W. McIntosh, a tourist and resort specialist at Michigan State University.

He says the steadiness was a notable achievement for Upper Peninsula operators in view of the general business recession in 1958.

McIntosh estimated tourist and resort business in the Upper Peninsula totaled $138,235,000 last year—about $36,000 less than in 1957.

He said gains by counties in 1958 included: Delta $3,366,000; Dickinson, $1,518,000; Chippewa, $1,018,000; Luce, $773,000; Schoolcraft, $608,000; Houghton $427,000, and Baraga, $38,000.

Decreases included: Gogebic, $3,469,000; Marquette, $2,096,000; Mackinac, $1,148,000; Iron, $569,000; Alger, $336,000; Ontonagon, $168,000, and Keweenaw, $79,000.

No report was made for Menominee County.

Wives Wanted, Must Be Able to Boil Water

MONROE (AP)—Speedy Combs, a Monroe hillbilly musician, put up a big sign in front of the home of two friends:

"Hurry! 2 wife's wanted, 18 to 80; any condition, must be able to boil water."

Speedy, 28 and single, thought it a good joke because the wives of Jess Gilbert, 27, and Rufus Shoffner, 42, had left them. They were doing their own cooking in a small house on a well-traveled road near Monroe.

At first, the sign in red paint wasn't a bit funny to Gilbert and Shoffner.

Then they got to liking the attention. "Must have had a million phone calls," said Gilbert.

Gilbert and Shoffner operate a small amusement firm in a garage near the house. They supply juke boxes and other equipment. "They got so many calls they had Speedy help them install a telephone answering device. The trouble is," said Gilbert, "not one of the gals has stopped by to show her face. They all said they could boil water."

Luce Episode Inspires Senator to Read Poem

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Text of the poem read to the Senate by Sen. Stephen M. Young (D-Ohio), after the Mrs. Luce episode:

THE WOMAN WITH THE SERPENT TONGUE

By William Watson

She is not old, she is not young.

The woman with the serpent's tongue.

The haggard cheek, the hungering eye.

The poisoned words that wildly fly.

The famished face, the fevered hand—

Who slights the worthiest in the land.

Sneers at the just, condemns the brave,

And blackens goodness in its grave.

In truthful numbers she she sang.

The woman with the serpent's tongue.

Ambitious from her natal hour.

And scheming all her life for power: With little left of seemly pride; With venomous tongue she cannot hide; Burnt up within by that strange soul.

She cannot slake or yet control; Malignant-lipped, unkind, unweet; Past all example indirect; Hectic, and always overlung—

The woman with the serpent's tongue.

To think that such as she can mar

Names that among the noblest are!

That hands like hers can touch the springs

That move who knows what men and things?

That on her will their fates have hung!

Move to Up Truck Speed

LANSING (AP)—A bill to boost the truck speed limit on Michigan highways from 45 to 50 miles an hour has headed toward the Senate after unanimous approval in the House. Rep. Albert R. Horrigan (D-Flint), the sponsor, said the measure would improve traffic safety by discouraging motorists from weaving around slow-moving trucks. Most trucks, he said, now drive 50 and 55 miles an hour.

Michigan Apple Growers Pleased

Controlled Storage Is Popular

By United Press International
Controlled atmosphere storage of apples is gaining popularity among Michigan growers.

By controlling the atmosphere of storage sheds, the growers are able to keep apples fresh for as long as two years.

Thus, they can reap the top price for their products by marketing them during the off-season.

The president of the Michigan Apple Commission, John Coffey of Grand Rapids, says 33 growers in the state already have constructed storage bins which have controlled atmosphere. They have a total capacity of about 500,000 bushels. Don Dewey, Michigan State University horticulturist, and Irving J. Pflug, Michigan State University agricultural engineer, worked out storage conditions for most varieties of apples grown in Michigan, including McIntosh, Jonathan, Northern Spy and Delicious.

Controlled atmosphere storage is accomplished in airtight compartments. The temperature in the compartments is kept at 21 to 33 degrees.

Dewey and Pflug explain that apples are alive and "breathe slowly"—taking in oxygen and giving out carbon dioxide.

In airtight compartments, the breathing process of the apples reduces oxygen content of the air from the normal 21 per cent to about 3 per cent. Carbon dioxide content increases to about 5 to 8 per cent.

Dewey and Pflug say the apples are in hibernation, much like a bear in the winter.

They said controlled atmosphere storage not only keeps the apples fresh for a much longer time than conventional storage, but it also helps the retailer.

Apples "live slow" after they have been stored in controlled atmosphere and keep much longer on grocers' shelves.

Coffey expects that controlled atmosphere storage capacity in the state will double within the next two years because of the higher price growers can get during the off-season.

Mrs. Betty Honkala, department director, and Marge Engel, instructor, won year-long subscriptions for articles they submitted in competition.

The articles on cheerleader activities were published in the magazine's recent issue.

House Dems Think They Can Override Ike's Veto

WASHINGTON — Conflicting claims came from both sides today as House Democrats tried to do what they haven't been able to accomplish in six years—override an Eisenhower veto.

If the move succeeds, Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson will be stripped of his power to veto loans for rural electric and telephone service. Not one of the 137 bills previously vetoed by President Eisenhower has become a law.

The Senate overrode the veto Tuesday 64-29, two more votes than the required two thirds.

It was a tossup how the House vote would go.

Republican leaders centered attention on 16 Republicans who voted for the bill when the House passed it originally April 15 by a vote of 254-131, three votes short of the two thirds needed to override.

They claimed privately they had reason to expect that at least eight of their members who voted for the bill two weeks ago would change their position and vote to uphold the President.

"We believe we have a couple of votes to spare," a top GOP leader said privately.

"We'll override by a margin of two to four votes," countered a Democrat.

Monteith School Parents Appeal for Sidewalks

Last night's Waterford Township Board meeting turned into a "discussion session," with no official action necessary on business presented.

Resident Leslie Powell, representing the Monteith School Parent-Teacher Association, requested walking facilities for school children from Fremble street to Airport road, on Hatchery road.

Supervisor Elmer Johnson plans to meet with the PTA group and try to work out something to help solve the problem.

Although Samuel Block had complained to board members about his water supply assessments on seven lots in Lorraine Manor Subdivision, he was not at the meeting to discuss the situation, as was expected.

Thomas Ballock of 1762 Solway St. requested the Township Board to contact the State Conservation and Oakland County Road Departments and help him get action to alleviate the heavy traffic flow down his street to the Drayton fishing site.

He said that his street is not a direct route to the site, and that the street is too narrow and dusty to carry the load. Clerk James Seerlin was authorized to write a letter to the Michigan State Conservation Department to see what can be done about the matter.

Parents Club Plans Fair at Washington

WASHINGTON — The Washington Schools Parents Club will stage its third annual Spring Fair from 5 to 9 p.m. Saturday at the new school.

A fish pond, movie, games and fortune telling booths, a beauty salon and teenage dance will be featured for the younger set.

Baked goods, plants, white elephants, handwork and home-made candies will be offered for sale to the adult members of the family.

Special door prizes will include an electric skillet, a steam iron and a hand-woven stole.

Proceeds from the project will be used to purchase needed school equipment as determined by the club.

Members of the fair committee are Mrs. Anthony Rapes, Mrs. Raymond Wilson and Mrs. Earl Jayroe.

Church Women Plan Musicales in Romeo Sunday

ROMEO — Group 5 of the Women's Fellowship of the First Congregational Church here will present a spring musicale at 4 p.m. Sunday in the church chapel.

Featured will be a women's vocal ensemble and a boys' hand bell chorus, both from Port Huron. A men's trio composed of tenors Kenneth Smith of Almont, Robert Hemstreet of Utica and C. Lynn Brown of Romeo also will sing.

Brown will reappear as a member of a piano duet with Miss Joanne West of Romeo.

Mrs. John Page is general chairman of the event. Serving on her committee are Mrs. Walter Parsons, refreshments; Mrs. George West, tables; and Mrs. Robert Tinknell, publicity.

Tickets may be purchased in advance from Mrs. Matthew Koth at the Home Improvement and Supply Store or from any member of the group.

Committee Now Will Seek Support of Two Townships

ROCHESTER — The newly organized Rochester Area Youth Guidance Committee, which has grown from a steering committee of four to an organization of 50 members, now has the official sanction of the Rochester Village Council.

An ordinance has been adopted recognizing the committee and its program designed to handle youth problems before they become matters for juvenile court concern.

The program encompasses the Rochester Community School District which covers 60 square miles.

The next move of the committee will be to get the approval of the Avon and Oakland Township Boards, according to co-chairmen Eugene V. Rounds and the Rev. Edgar A. Lucas.

Specifically, Rounds is chairman of the General Citizens Committee and the Rev. Mr. Lucas heads the Executive Case Work Committee of the parent organization.

Other officers are Mrs. Paul Christensen, recording secretary; Mrs. Murland Pearsall, corresponding secretary; and Arthur Cox, treasurer.

According to present plans, Thomas Pfeiffer, assistant director of Protective Services for the Oakland County Juvenile Court, will be in Rochester one day a week to work with the local case work committee.

Find Lady Bug in 'Who's Who'

South Lyon Man Works to Complete Exclusive Listing in Michigan

SOUTH LYON — An amateur scientist here has joined forces with another amateur and two university specialists in gathering data for a "who's who" of the Michigan insect world.

According to J. H. Newman of 9821 Peer St., work is well under way on the book and the final manuscript should be ready in January, 1962.

So far, records of about 17,000 insect species common to the state have been compiled.

The list will contain information about all insects, spiders and other land arthropods (jointed animals), according to general editor for the project, Robert R. Driesbach, in Midland. He is a retired research chemist for the Dow Chemical Co., Midland.

Working with Newman on gathering data are Research Associate Henry K. Townes of the University of Michigan Museum of Zoology, R. L. Fischer of the Michigan State University Department of Entomology and George Steyskal of Detroit.

Only three other states have complete insect lists. They are New York, North Carolina and New Jersey.

Based on the principle that "an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure," case workers will function closely with school and other public officials. They will be concerned primarily with children who have behavior problems or have committed some misdemeanor.

It will be the function of case workers to try to straighten miscreants out before they get into more serious trouble, Rounds said.

"We have the wholehearted support of Rochester school officials, Police Chief Samuel Howlett and many other civic and youth leaders in the area," he added.

Three cases already have been referred to the organization. The case workers' next step is to determine the cause of the unacceptable behavior and to see what measures should be taken to correct it, the chairman said.

Similar organizations have been formed in other communities throughout the state and are functioning favorably at the present time, officials reported.

Probate Judge Arthur F. Moore will be present at a public meeting of the committee on May 12 at Rochester Junior High School. He and committee officials will explain the guidance program to those in the area wishing to learn more about it.

10 Pigs Are Killed in Dryden Barn Fire

DRYDEN TOWNSHIP—Ten pigs were burned to death yesterday in a fire which destroyed a small barn on the Mar-Nest farm on Hosner road near Hough road in the southwest part of the township.

Dryden Fire Chief Robert Weingart said several more pigs were burned so badly they may have to be destroyed.

The Dryden firefighters were assisted by the Leonard Fire Department in battling the blaze. No estimate of loss has been determined, Weingart said.

The apparent cause of the fire was an overloaded electric circuit, the chief stated.

Denies Complaints Brought Resignation

MONROE (AP) — William F. Zorn has denied complaints about an untidy restroom resulted in his resignation Monday as manager at Custer Municipal Airport. The City Commission asked him to quit.

The complaints reportedly came from Mrs. Jane Hart, wife of Michigan's Sen. Philip A. Hart, and Mrs. Nancy Williams, wife of the governor.

"I don't believe it," said Zorn. "I remember Mrs. Hart landed here in March but all she used was the telephone. The toilet was out of order."

Zorn said he didn't recall seeing Mrs. Williams at the airport.

Zorn opened his own airport in 1946 and took over as manager when the city opened its field in 1960. He blamed his resignation on a feud with city officials.

TUNA KEBABS—The Turks whom we have to thank for the idea of kebab cookery never had canned tuna to use. Here is a brand new combination of foods to cook on a skewer. Experiment with it on your indoor grill, then try it again outside this summer.

Chunks of Tuna New in Kabobs

Although cooking on a "stick" dates back to pre-historic times, the art of skewer cookery is a comparatively modern way of preparing foods. Many varieties of dishes can be cooked in this manner to add new interest to family and party menus.

Usually large skewers are used for outdoor barbecues, but for indoor meals the metal cooking pins are more suitable for preparing this type of meal.

Here's an unusually tasty dish which uses chunks of prime tuna—that really good meat from the sea—in combination with tomatoes, pineapple, pickles and olives placed alternately on a skewer. Be sure that you prepare plenty BOW—MKT BSKT as everyone will come back for second helpings.

Star-Kist Tuna Kebabs

1 can family size tuna, chunk style
1/2 cup mayonnaise
1/2 cup packaged bread crumbs
1 egg
Tomato quarters
Pickles
Pineapple chunks
Melted butter

Combine tuna with mayonnaise, bread crumbs and egg. Shape into small balls; roll in bread crumbs. Place alternately on a stick with tomato quarters, stuffed olives, pineapple chunks and pickles. Brush with melted butter or oil and place under broiler to heat. Makes three kebabs.

Cheese Lovers Will Take to Deep Fried Sandwich

Mozzarella in Carrozza means "Mozzarella cheese in a carriage." Actually, it is a cheese sandwich dipped in a batter or beaten egg and shallow fried to a golden turn.

The Neapolitan way of serving Mozzarella is with an anchovy sauce, the recipe for which is given here. The sandwich would make a provocative luncheon or supper dish or a fine late-evening snack.

Mozzarella in Carrozza

8 slices bread
1/2 pound Mozzarella cheese
Flour for dusting
Batter for dipping
Corn oil for frying

Remove crusts from bread so that each slice forms a round. Place a slice of Mozzarella cheese about 1/2 inch thick between bread slices. Fasten with wooden picks or small skewers. Dust entire surface lightly but evenly with flour.

Dip in batter; drain. Fry in hot corn oil in heavy skillet or kettle at 375 degrees. Corn oil should be at least 1 inch deep but should not fill skillet or kettle more than 1/2 full.

Turn to brown both sides. Drain on absorbent paper. Remove picks

Pork Still a Good Buy Along With Produce

Weather conditions, seasonal changes, production yields and how shoppers react to current food supplies are all related to the cost of your "market basket" each week.

"Old man weather" is a bigger force than we often realize when it comes to controlling fresh food supplies that arrive in our markets states the MSU Marketing Agent. A current example is strawberries. Warm dry weather throughout the winter and spring in California has brought the earliest strawberry season there since that state became the major berry producer. Cold rainy weather damaged Louisiana's early strawberry crop and the late crop is just starting.

Variation in seasonal supplies as well as the cuts and amounts customers demand influence meat prices. Although wholesale pork prices are beginning a slight seasonal increase, liberal supplies are keeping this meat one of the best values from a price standpoint. Beef, veal and lamb remain at about the same price levels you have found during the past month.

Nature's smelt run is now bringing quantities of this tiny silvery fish at thrifty prices.

More eggs and poultry than last spring, without too great a change in customer demand, is related to lower prices than you found a year ago.

Dipping Batter

Stir 1/2 cup corn oil into 1 cup flour, mixing until smooth. Add 1 egg to 1/4 cups milk and add all at once to corn oil-flour mixture. Beat with rotary beater until smooth. Mixture will be consistency of heavy cream.

Anchovy Sauce

2 tablespoons corn oil
1 tablespoon corn starch
2 teaspoons sugar
1/2 cups water
1 chicken bouillon cube
1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1/2 (2 oz.) can anchovies, diced
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 tablespoon finely chopped parsley

Heat corn oil in saucepan; add corn starch and sugar, blend well. Gradually add 1 cup water, mixing until smooth. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens slightly and comes to a boil. Add bouillon cube, Worcestershire sauce, remaining 1/2 cup water, bring to a boil again, stirring constantly, until bouillon cube is dissolved.

Remove from heat; stir in anchovies, lemon juice and parsley.

LOOKING FOR MEAT—Overall, pork prices look much like those of a week ago. It will pay to check pork features before and as you shop. If your family could use a 4 to 6 pound picnic from the front shoulder or a ham from the back leg you might like to check these.

Rib-end loin roasts and center cut pork chops have special tags in some stores. Bacon and roll sausage are breakfast "musts" at current prices.

You may want to check all types of poultry. Generally, retailers say that fryer prices are slightly higher. If you can use a stewer, which takes long cooking at simmering temperature, you can find it for as little as 17 to 20 cents a serving. Plump fryer-roaster turkeys are 49 to 59 cents a pound. Young hens and tom turkeys are less.

Ground hamburger, round steak and liver are the economy beef choices. If you remember that most of the beef coming to market at this time is U. S. Choice grade, you can realize why beef prices seem to stay at a high level.

If you choose round steak of U. S. Choice grade, you can use the top portion for broiling. If you choose a lower grade round steak, then both the top and bottom should be braised in moist heat, with the lid on and with liquid added.

A pound of liver will serve 4 to 5 persons. Loosely wrap it and use within a day. Cook slowly to keep it tender.

FRESH PRODUCE—Head lettuce, carrots, Florida celery, radishes, grapefruit, pineapple, lemons, apples, bananas, oranges and avocados are on the "good supply" list. This much variety makes menu planning easy and more economical than it has been most of this year.

Limited supplies and adverse weather conditions are responsible for variable quality and prices you find on corn, peppers, green beans, cucumbers and squash.

You can expect lower asparagus prices after New Jersey starts shipping in volume quantities after this week.

Dry Texas onions are being artificially dried to improve their keeping qualities. Prices will decline when more are ready to market.

Layer Hot Muffins With Ice Cream

When children announce in mid-afternoon, "We're starving," mothers enjoy responding with an occasional treat that's different enough from the usual 3 o'clock menu to elicit cheers from the youngsters. Satisfying the after-school appetites can be special fun for both mom and the kids with delicious, easy-to-make blueberry muffin ice cream towers.

To make this new version of cake'n ice cream try a package of blueberry muffin mix which includes a set of paper baking cups and a can of wild blueberries. Mix and bake muffins according to the simple package directions.

Before the muffins cool, without removing them from the paper cups, slice off a thin layer from the top mound of each muffin, place a slice of ice cream on this base, and replace the muffin top. The warm muffin will start to melt the ice cream, so serve pronto. Let the youngsters remove their own paper cups as they eat their way down the towers.

Glamorize Pancakes for Dessert

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Modern pancakes are a far cry from the sordid variety beloved of the old time Alaskan pioneer. We thought you might like some new ideas for serving pancakes. They make wonderful outdoor food, you know, and can be an important part of your breakfast on the patio or the beach.

Although pancake mix is probably a staple on most cook's shelf, it is not at all difficult to make up your own. All the recipes we are about to give you are the mak-your-own kind.

Apple pancakes are a Dutch specialty. They may be eaten as dessert, or even as a main dish with coffee or tea. They are a hearty food.

Dutch Apple Pancakes
2 cups sifted enriched flour
1 cup light cream
1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup melted butter or margarine
1 large apple, peeled and thinly sliced
Combine all ingredients except the apple. Beat until fairly smooth. Melt about 2 teaspoons butter in an 8-inch skillet. When butter is hot, spoon in batter to a depth of about 1/4 inch.

Sprinkle with apple slices; spoon a little more batter over apples. When pancake is browned underneath, turn to brown on other side. Makes about 4 large pancakes. Serve with syrup.

Another delicious pancake dessert is this one which calls for buttermilk. Have you ever noticed how tender any food is that contains buttermilk?

Buttermilk Puff Pancakes
1 egg
1/2 cup buttermilk
1 cup prepared biscuit mix
1/2 teaspoon baking soda
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup melted butter
Beat egg, blend in buttermilk. Mix biscuit mix, soda, and sugar together. Add to buttermilk and mix just until thoroughly dampened. Stir in butter. Bake four extra-large pancakes, using 1/2 cup of batter for each one. Pour onto medium hot griddle. When puffed up and bubbles begin to break, turn and brown on other side.

Stack with drained, chilled canned fruit or partially thawed frozen fruit between each layer, or roll and fill with fruit. Top with whipped cream or fresh cultured sour cream and serve in pie-shaped wedges. Makes 4 servings.

The French take little pancakes, fold them and serve them in a flaming sauce — presto — crepe Suzettes. The Russians fill theirs with sour cream or jam and call them blintzes.

You can make delicate lemon flavored pancakes, fill them with crushed pineapple and have Hawaiian Pancake Roll-Ups. Serve them piping hot with a tart fruit sauce.

Hawaiian Pancake Roll-Ups
2 cups sifted flour
1/4 cup sugar

Scramble Eggs With Cottage Cheese

Even when you're lunching alone it's important to have a nutritious meal.

Pan-Scrambled Cottage Eggs
1 tablespoon butter
2 large eggs
Salt
1/2 cup cream-style cottage cheese (small curd)
Pepper
Slowly and thoroughly heat a small skillet — a 7-inch porcelain enameled ironware one is perfect. Add butter; when it is melted and very hot but not brown, drop in the eggs straight from their shells; add a dash of salt. Stir constantly with a fork, holding tines flat, to mix yolks and whites.

When almost congealed, add cottage cheese and stir in with fork. Allow eggs to set without stirring for a few seconds, then lift out with wide spatula or pancake turner. Grind a little fresh black pepper over the top. Makes 1 serving.

1 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup vegetable shortening
1/2 cup grated lemon rind
4 eggs, well beaten
2 cups milk
Sift flour, sugar, baking powder, and salt into mixing bowl. Cut in shortening fine. Add grated lemon rind. Combine beaten eggs and milk; add to dry ingredients, mixing until smooth.

For each pancake, pour 1/3 cup batter onto hot greased griddle. Turn when bubbles appear on surface and edges of pancakes are dry, and brown on other side. Spread sweetened crushed pineapple on top of each pancake and roll up quickly. Serve hot with Pineapple Sauce. Makes 16 pancakes.

Pineapple Sauce
Mix 1 cup brown sugar and 1 tablespoon cornstarch in saucepan. Add 1 cup unsweetened canned pineapple juice and 1 tablespoon butter and boil 3 minutes. Add 1 tablespoon lemon juice.

Here are two sauces to serve on any kind of pancakes, those made from a mix or the ones you beat up with your own two little hands.

Cream Cheese Sauce
1 package (3 oz.) softened cream cheese
1 cup confectioner's sugar
4 tablespoons milk
1/2 cup lemon juice
1/2 cup grated lemon rind
Beat softened cream cheese until fluffy. Add confectioner's sugar gradually, beating until fluffy after each addition. Stir in milk, lemon juice and rind, beat until smooth. Cover mixture and chill. Serves as a topping for pancakes. Yield: 1 cup.

Cherry Flavor Sauce
1/2 cup softened butter
1 cup confectioner's sugar, sifted
1/2 cup maraschino cherry juice

Cream butter, gradually add sugar. Beat together until fluffy and creamy. Stir in cherry juice. Beat until well-blended. Spoon over pancakes. Yield: 1 cup.

VARIATIONS: Orange, pineapple or grapefruit juice may be substituted for cherry juice.

Pimientos and Nuts Sealed in Hamburger

Interesting way with hamburger. Worth trying!

Canadian Hamburgers
1 pound ground beef
3 whole drained pimientos
Walnuts
Salt
Pepper
Make six large patties of the ground beef. Place a whole pimiento to on three of the patties. Tuck several walnut pieces in each pimiento. Place remaining three meat patties over the filling; seal edges thoroughly by working together with fingers. Brown rapidly on both sides in heavy greased skillet, then reduce heat to cook to desired doneness. Makes three servings.

Eggplant takes to company: Tomatoes, onions and green pepper.

Herb-Bread Nice With Spaghetti

Flatter an Italian spaghetti meal by the addition of a nippy herb bread. Melt 1/2 cup butter or margarine and add 2 tablespoons minced parsley, 1/4 teaspoon dried basil and 1/4 teaspoon sage.

Brush mixture over 12 slices of white bread. Stand bread in loaf pan and bake at 400 degrees F. for 5 to 10 minutes or until heated thoroughly.

DUTCH APPLE PANCAKES — Man-size pancakes filled with thin slices of apple make an unusual and interesting dessert. This is a recipe that came originally from the Netherlands. A New York hotel has these pancakes on their menu. Give your family a taste of glamorous eating.

U. of M. Alumnae Hear Talk by Foreign Students

Doris Haynes and Gertrude Overton were hostesses to some 30 members of the University of Michigan Alumnae Club of Pontiac Tuesday evening.

Mom Can Describe Gifts to Gal

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: The day after my daughter was married she had to leave for California. It was a quiet wedding with only the families present and announcements were sent out after to all others. Wedding presents are arriving every day from her many friends throughout the country. Since my daughter will be gone for at least six months, would it be proper for me to open the presents and thank the givers for her, or just how should this be handled?"

Answer: You should open the presents and send a description of each to your daughter, who could then write a brief but appreciative note of thanks from where she is, saying: "Mother has described the lovely (whatever it is) you sent me. I do thank you for it and am eagerly looking forward to seeing it when I get home."

"Dear Mrs. Post: Is it rude, or in bad taste, to leave a plastic covering on furniture, such as living room sofa and chairs, when entertaining guests — especially when they are expected and there would be time to remove them. This may seem a rather far-fetched point of etiquette, but it has caused much criticism and I would appreciate your opinion."

Answer: These protective coverings should certainly be removed when guests are expected.

American Field Service exchange student Jacqueline Baron of Rouens, France, and Renate Walterskirchen of Vienna, Austria, who attends Pontiac Central High School while living here with her grandparents, were introduced by Ima Hook.

The two students told of the friendliness of Pontiac students and discussed their struggle in adjusting to our language, agreeing that learning to think in English was their biggest hurdle.

This summer Miss Barron will leave for a tour with AFS students in this area. The group will visit Niagara Falls, New England, and Washington, D.C., where they will meet President Eisenhower. After a stay in New York City, she will board ship at Montreal to return to France, where she plans to attend a college specializing in languages for a career as an interpreter.

Officers elected for 1959-60 were Miss Haynes, president; Miss Overton, vice-president; Mrs. Harold Northon, secretary; Dorothy Cummings, treasurer; Mrs. R. Grant Graham, senior counselor; and Lillian Jacobs, junior counselor. Miss Jacobs, hospitality committee chairman, was assisted by Mrs. Katherine Quick, Mrs. Jay A. Wagner and Mrs. Richard Wells.

Club Hears Talk on Contact Lens

Dr. Lynn Allen spoke on "Contact Lens" at the meeting of Pontiac Business and Professional Women's Club held Tuesday evening in Hotel Waldron.

Richard Irving of Northland Playhouse outlined the summer program which starts June 8 and will continue for 12 weeks.

Guests were Myrtle Shore, a former member, and Mrs. Harry Loch.

What Young People Think

Who Are Teenagers' Heroes? Mom and Dad!

By EUGENE GILBERT

Has American youth run out of public heroes? Or are the nation's young people simply not hero-minded anymore?

One or the other must be true. Two years ago we asked a typical group of American teenagers, "Who would you like to be most like when you grow up?"

They had heroes then — President Eisenhower and Elvis Presley among the boys, Grace Kelly, Queen Elizabeth and Marilyn Monroe among the girls.

But this year when we asked the same question across the nation of 645 teenagers, we got this surprising answer: Mom and Dad.

One in every five boys said they wanted to be like their father while 39 per cent of the girls said mother was their ideal. Like made the list, but his popularity with the boys had slipped from 31 per cent in 1957 to only 7 per cent. Princess Grace, the ideal of 21 per cent of the girls two years ago, was favored this year by only 9 per cent.

The only others who made the heroes' list this year were Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt and Dr. Jonas Salk, though occasionally some other personality was mentioned by an individual youngster.

IMPERSONAL IDEALS

Instead of listing a specific person, many of the teenagers gave a profession they hope to enter: teaching, nursing, science and the like. Many of the youngsters — 7 per cent — said they just want to be themselves.

The reaction to the question this year could mean two things: either there isn't a public figure right now who attracts the teenagers' idolatry, or young people have a new set of values.

Perhaps the uncertainties of the last few years have led them to believe that a happy home is preferable to fame and fortune.

This seems evident from their answers.

Craig Hannum, 18, of Los Angeles, said he wanted to be like his father because "my Dad is successful, respected and happy."

"I believe my father's family life at present is happy, and his life in general is satisfying," said 17-year-old Robert Sudakow of Miami, who agreed with Craig. Raymond Flore, 18, of St. Louis, chose his father "because he is a cheerful and likable man."

With the girls who preferred mother, the answers were in the same vein.

"She does her best and makes the most of her life," said Barbara Pytho, 16, of Hoosick Falls, N. Y. "She rarely complains and seems happy with life on the whole."

The idea of being "a happy housewife . . . like my mother," also appealed to 15-year-old Margery Merkin of Washington. "She is content, secure, and leads an interesting life," Margery said.

Among the hero-minded boys, those who picked the President said he has "a nice manner," that he is "a great man," and that they think he gives people confidence.

Four per cent of the boys named Dr. Jonas Salk, who developed a serum for polio, as their ideal. "He made valuable contributions to society," said 14-year-old Martin LeWinter of Brooklyn, N. Y.

Eight per cent of the boys said they want to be doctors, 6 per cent biochemists, 4 per cent some other kind of scientist, and 2 per cent teachers.

Two per cent of the boys listed man, 14, of Coatesville, Ind., by uncles as their heroes. "He's in way of explanation. the Air Force," said Butch Well. Among the 9 per cent of the girls who named Princess Grace as their idol, Deldre Smith, 13, of Brooklyn, N. Y., gave a typical answer: "She is famous and she is a princess."

In Washington, 15-year-old Tom Wise had the same thought. "I don't want to be like anyone else," Tom said. "I want to think for myself."

Hollywood Headlines

'Where's That Sunshine?' Says Actor Dirk Bogarde

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Dirk Bogarde, Britain's top leading man, finally succumbed to the lure of Hollywood to seek some sunshine. So what happens?
He has been spending 10 hours a day in a stuffy rehearsal hall learning to play the piano.
The reason is that he is portraying Franz Liszt in Columbia's "The Magic Flame." Since Liszt was a whiz at the keyboard, Dirk has been forced into long practice so he can look convincing.
During a rare moment of relaxation at the Bel-Air Hotel,

Bogarde explained why he held out so long against the Hollywood offers.
"I was doing well in British films, so there didn't seem much reason to come over here, where I was little known. In England, I had approval of director and co-stars and story veto, which I probably couldn't get here."
He dangled head down from an airplane for almost 10 minutes Wednesday after he became fouled up in parachute paraphernalia at an altitude of 1,450 feet. He said he tripped over a 100-pound bag of equipment he was carrying as he made ready to leap through the door of the C-123 aircraft.
The next he knew he was suspended at the end of the 15-foot static line attached to a cable inside the plane to open the chute. The static line caught through his legs and left him dangling.
S. Sgt. Richard W. Collins of Memphis, Tenn., came to his aid after the plane had climbed to 2,500 feet. Kamradt, of East Jordan, Mich., resumed his descent earthward, this time using a reserve chute.
Then, about 10 miles from here, he landed in a tree—upside down again. He dangled 10 feet above ground until persons living nearby freed him.
Kamradt's next jump will be his 13th.

This Paratrooper Has Upside Down Life

FT. CAMPBELL, Ky. (AP)—If you want to know what it's like to look at the world upside down, ask Pfc. Frederick M. Kamradt, an 18-year-old paratrooper.
He dangled head down from an airplane for almost 10 minutes Wednesday after he became fouled up in parachute paraphernalia at an altitude of 1,450 feet. He said he tripped over a 100-pound bag of equipment he was carrying as he made ready to leap through the door of the C-123 aircraft.

1st Park Preview Slated Sunday at Walled Lake

Sunday will mark the first of this season's preview openings at Walled Lake, prior to the park's grand opening later this spring.
The spring and summer fun spot will be open with the entire park in operation Sunday, including thrill rides and the children's Kiddieland.
School picnics at the park's twin picnic gardens have shown an increase in bookings this year due to the new expressway system which puts Walled Lake within convenient range of Southeastern Michigan areas, a park spokesman said.

Trophy Awaits Pontiac's Top Hopscotcher

Some dexterous fifth or sixth-grade girl will one-foot her way into possession of a coveted Pontiac Press trophy Saturday.
The gleaming award will go to the winner of second annual hopscotch tournament, sponsored by the Pontiac Department of Parks & Recreation.
A list of 21 finalists for the contest was completed yesterday, said Leonard Buzz, Pontiac recreation director.
Finalists will begin hopping around the course at 9 a.m. Saturday at Oakland Park.
Playoffs took place earlier this month among fifth and sixth-grade girls at 21 Pontiac elementary schools.
The winner at each school qualified as a finalist and won a certificate of award from the Parks & Recreation Department, Buzz said.
The Pontiac Press donated the trophy to go to the city-wide hopscotch champion.

Anita Ekberg, Husband Confer on Reconciliation

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Swedish actress Anita Ekberg has conferred with her husband Anthony Steel on the possibility of a reconciliation.
Her lawyer, Simon Taub, said he arranged the discussion Wednesday.
Miss Ekberg arrived from Europe last Monday amid rumors that she would seek a divorce. She is 27, Steel is 41. They were married in 1956.

Poston's Breaking Up That Old Allen Gang

By EARL WILSON
NEW YORK — "Hollywood's not for me just now — I'm a Broadway cat," Tom Poston said. "I dig that legit stage."

And so Steve Allen's great TV comedy trio of Tom, Louis Nye and Don Knotts, comes unglued when Steve moves his whole show to California in about five weeks, lock, stock and wife.

"Steve and Jules Green (Steve's manager) asked me — but I think my field is here," added Tom, the zany from Boston and Columbus who can never remember his name on the show.

"What if Ed Sullivan made you an offer?" "Oh, I don't see how I could do that, out of loyalty!"
"You've got a deal with a Sullivan already!" snapped a feminine voice — that of his wife, busy TV commercialist Jean Sullivan.
