Kohler Probe 'Disgrace'—Reuther

Owner of Death Car Guilty of Manslaughter

Gave Keys to Friend Deemed Drunk When in Fatal Collision

The death of a Lake Orion man in a traffic accident Feb. 4 led to the manslaughter conviction yesterday of a River Rouge car owner in Wayne County Circuit Court.

Wayne County Prosecuter Samuel H. Olsen said the verdict in the court of Judge Horace W. Gilmore will have a "tremendous impact" throughout the country.

Convicted was William Marshall, 33, of 1065 Coolidge Rd., who was accused of handing his car keys to Neil McClary, 19, of 499 Joslyn Rd., Lake Orion, while the latter was under the influence of alcohol.

McClary rammed headon into a car driven by James Coldiron, 29, of Taylor Township. Both were killed.

Police said McClary was driving east in a westbound lane of the Willow Run Expressway.

Coldiron, father of three children, was killed on his eighth wedding anniversary.

Judge Gilmore set bond at $2,500 and referred Marshall to the probation department for a pre-sentencing report. Attorneys for Marshall said the case will be appealed.

Dearborn Police said Marshall and McClary were friends and had been drinking together at Marshall's residence. McClary was believed to have gone out to buy more beer.

Unionist Claims Inquiry Loaded With Politics

Admits UAW Violence but Asserts Company Provoked Battles

WASHINGTON (AP)—Walter Reuther, primed for a third day of verbal dueling with Senate rackets probers, said today the inquiry into the marathon Kohler strike is "really a disgrace."

Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) of the special Senate committee called an unusual Saturday session in an effort to conclude Reuther's testimony and wind up the month-long investigation of violence in the Kohler dispute.

Reuther is president of the United Auto Workers which nearly four years ago went on strike against the Kohler Co., a Wisconsin maker of plumbing fixtures.

He has conceded that some UAW members engaged in violence, but he said the violence was provoked by the company.

McClellan said he plans to let the sometimes angry sparring between Reuther and Sens. Goldwater (R-Ariz) and Curtis (R-Neb) run "to the end of the day or the end of the hearing, whichever comes first."

INQUIRY LOADED

Reuther said in advance of today's session that the whole inquiry, in his words, is loaded with politics.

"This is really a disgrace," he told newsmen.

Reuther said it is "a lot of nonsense" for senators to devote time to the Kohler case while Congress is trying to solve the problems of more than five million unemployed, the farm issue and "the Communist threat."

State Lands Army Order for $11 Million

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army Ordnance Corps has awarded contracts totaling $11,285,273 for defense work to be done in Michigan, Sen. Potter (R-Mich) reported yesterday.

Among the contracts is a $5,587,720 order from the Army for a revolutionary aluminum die-cast lightweight utility truck named the Mighty Mite.

It will be built by the American Motors Corp., which developed the vehicle almost specifically for use by the armed forces. The generous use of aluminum in the quarter-ton jeep-type vehicle was aimed at making it useable by airborne units.

Its engine has been described as rugged and serviceable, although it possesses only a 60-horsepower rating.

AMC developed the tiny engine shortly after the corporation was formed May 1, 1954, by merging the Hudson Motor Car Co. and Nash-Kelvinator Corp.

The vehicle definitely will be produced in the Detroit area, said Edward Cushman, AMC vice president in charge of industrial relations, but indicated that it would probably be at a site other than the Plymouth Road plant.

Only 100 trucks are called for in the first contract. Most of that money will probably be used tooling up, and it is understood that orders for large quantities of the Mighty Mite will follow.

The Mighty Mite, said an AMC spokesman, is the first aluminum die-cast engine developed in the U. S.

State Building Programs Lie at Death's Door

LANSING (AP)— Two big state building programs, one of them Gov. Williams' 114 million dollar plan, lie at death's door in the Senate Appropriations Committee today.

Sen. Frank D. Beadle (R-St. Clair), a committee member favoring action, said "it looks questionable... whether either will stir from committee.

If they die, it will leave only a $4,700,000 capital outlay bill as a vehicle to authorize state construction during 1958-59. It calls for no new projects.

In 1957, when a virtual moratorium on new buildings was decreed, the Legislature provided nearly 20 million dollars for capital outlay, mostly for project completions. The 1956 Legislature had voted 36 millions.

The two pending proposals each call for creation of state building authority with power to bond to finance new construction. The debt would be retired through annual legislative appropriations.

She Knew the Time

DETROIT (AP) — Mrs. Willie Rudder testified today that when her husband threw the alarm clock at her, she knew it was time for a divorce. Circuit Judge Joseph A. Sullivan agreed.

Crowds Throng Huron Street

Giant Car Sale a Success

Large crowds thronged Huron street all day today snapping up used car bargains at the kickoff of "You Auto Buy Week."

Sponsored by the Pontiac Automotive Trade Assn., the sale began at 8:30 a.m. with Huron roped off from Saginaw to Cass avenue.

The dealers participating had some 108 cars on display starting at 9 p.m. last night. Customers sitting in the cars at 8:30 today got first chance to buy them.

About half were sold by 10 a.m., some for as little as eight cents, according to Robert B. Oliver, association president.

Oliver was on the job himself at 7 a.m. He found half of his cars occupied and bought the potential customers coffee and donuts and a morning newspaper each.

The crowds began forming last night with considerable jockeying for position since the sale was on a first come first served basis.

'HUGE SUCCESS'

Oliver termed the event a "huge success" pointing out that if the morning pace continued more than 100 cars would be sold.

CAMPAIGN ALL WEEK

The campaign to move cars will continue the rest of the week at the dealers' lots and showrooms. Today, fresh supplies of cars were moved into the giant "lot" at 10 a.m. and the sale continued until 2 p.m.

The slogan of the drive is designed to point up the need for car sales to stimulate employment.

Each dealer initially contributed 12 cars to the sale today—one new auto, four "cheapies" and seven other used cars.

Mr. What Triumphs in Grand National

AINTREE, England (AP) — Mr. What won the 112th running of the Grand National Steeplechase today. Tiberetta was second and Green Drill third in the field of 31 starters.

The day was wet, and rain made the 4½-mile course muddy, cutting heavily into the crowd for the world's toughest steeplechase.

Mr. What was an 18-1 shot in the race over 30 obstacles.

The favorite, Wyndburgh, finished fourth, and Goosander was fifth.

The royal family didn't attend this year because of criticism from humane societies of the race in which horses often are hurt so badly they must be destroyed.

Tiberetta and Green Drill both were 28-1 in the betting.

Mr. What, Irish-trained and owned by D. J. Coughland, took the lead with only about 10 fences to go and never was headed. He made a bad jump on the 30th and final fence and for a time appeared as if he might go down.

Finds Judge Obliging

TOKYO (INS) — Mitsuo Kishi, 41, was tried for sneaking into a town and stealing food to go with the wild grass on which he had subsisted for 15 years. The judge asked Kishi why he insisted on living in a hillside cave and eating grass? Kishi said he would do anything rather than live in a crowded city. The judge considerately sentenced him to solitary confinement.

'Heaven Is for Everyone, With God Mapping Route'

(Editor's Note: This is the fifth in a series of articles on Heaven, written by local residents and compiled by Mary Anglemier, Pontiac Press church editor.)

By MRS. HOMER B. HARBAGE

From an early age, the thought of heaven has been of something beautiful and wonderful.

All through the Bible we hear of the heaven that awaits us, as "In my Father's house are many mansions, I go to prepare a place for you."

God made heaven for everyone and tells us how to get there.

He asks us to help one another; to pray, not for the death of a sinner, but that he might live and repent. Our lives are built by the deeds we do.

The illustrations of Dante's Paradise made quite an impression on me and I still visualize heaven with harps and angel choirs.

Heaven can be likened to a wrapped gift from a very dear friend. We are not sure what it is, but know we will like it.

Women Change Drink Habits... Why?

Make Mine 'on the Rocks'

NEW YORK (AP)—Several estimable gentlemen in these parts—all bartenders—report that there has been a marked change recently in women's drinking habits.

More are switching to male-type refreshments at the bar, they say.

The average bartender has a repertoire of about 85 different types of drinks.

Menfolk usually ask for only about five or six of these: Standard and tested old standbys like whisky and soda, water, on-the-rocks, etc.

It used to be that the drinking members of the fairer sex favored the other 44 or 45—such fancy cocktail fripperies as pink ladies, orange blossoms, whisky sours, etc.

Now they are asking for the same drinks as men.

Now comes the stinger. Why?

"Beats me," said one. "Maybe advertising," guessed another.

"Probably women just wanting to be more like men," opinioned a third.

At this point a nearby woman customer glanced over her drink and spoke up: "Less calories."

Tends to Veto Bill Before Ike

Farm Prices Up 4 Pct.

WASHINGTON (AP) — An upward leap of farm prices appeared likely today to assure a veto of legislation designed to prevent a drop in farm price supports.

The Agriculture Department reported yesterday that average prices of farm products jumped 4 per cent in the month ended March 15.

However, part of the gain was offset by a 1 per cent advance, to a new record, in prices paid by farmers for goods and services.

This was the third straight monthly rise for farm prices which for a long time were in the doldrums. It also was the sharpest increase for any month since February 1951.

And it brought farm prices to within 1 per cent of the level when the Eisenhower administration took over in 1953. At one stage, the level was down about 10 per cent.

The new farm price report came as farm leaders in Congress were pressuring President Eisenhower to sign a bill to freeze price props at not less than 1957 levels for a year.

The White House said yesterday that Eisenhower probably will not act on the bill before next week.

Legislation providing an additional 250 million dollars for the farm soil bank this year has been signed by President Eisenhower.

The added soil bank funds are contained in a $2,861,008,793 bill supplementing money for several federal agencies in the current fiscal year. This increases to 750 million dollars the amount available this year to farmers who retire land from production of crops in surplus supply.

Dearborn Man Confesses:

He Killed His Wife, Son

DETROIT (AP) — An unemployed auto worker was held by police today in the fatal shooting of his wife and son and the wounding of his father-in-law during a family argument.

Dearborn police detective James Henry said Nicholas Kishaw, 47, admitted shooting his wife, Clara, 42, their son, Nicholas Jr., 19, and Mrs. Kishaw's father, Joseph Tomaszewski, 82, in the family's suburban Dearborn home last night.

Mrs. Kishaw and her son were dead on arrival at Wayne County General Hospital. Her father was reported in fair condition.

Henry said the shootings followed a family argument over whether Mrs. Kishaw's father would leave the family's home.

Kishaw's daughter, Helen, 24, told Henry the argument started while the family was eating dinner. As the argument grew more heated, she said her father went to the basement and returned with a gun.

The daughter said her mother then asked "Who do you think you are, God?"

"I'm going to come as close as I can to being God," Helen quoted her father as saying.

She said her mother walked into the kitchen with Kishaw following. She said she and her brother heard a shot and her brother jumped out of his chair and shouted at his father. She said Kishaw came out of the kitchen and shot the youth, Henry said.

Tomaszewski was hit by a stray shot while Kishaw and his son struggled.

Kishaw was laid off at Ford Motor Co. last December.

Woman Admits Robbing Bank

Expectant Mother Says She Made Attempt to Cover Bad Check

ADDISON (AP)—A young expectant mother who told police she robbed a bank to cover a bad check was held for investigation of unarmed robbery, State Trooper Ben Benites said today.

Benites said Mrs. Dorothy Foley, 28, of nearby Cement City, told him she robbed the local branch of Adrian Commercial Savings Bank of $430 yesterday.

He said the woman told him the money was to be used to cover a bad check she had written.

Benites quoted Mrs. Foley as saying she had been given until 1 p.m. yesterday to get the money "or face the consequences."

The woman said she was on her way to make good the check when she was stopped at a road block 23 minutes after the robbery, Benites said.

The trooper said he did not know who had given Mrs. Foley the ultimatum on the check.

Dennis Castle, a teller, said a woman entered the bank wearing overalls and a man's hat. He said she produced a note demanding $6,000. Castle told police he handed over $430 in bills and the woman fled.

However, a witness got the license number of the car.

She offered no resistance when stopped by the blockade.

The overalls were stuffed in the trunk and the money was in her purse, Benites said.

Dynamite Artist Sought in Idaho

Believe Demented Man Might Have Caused 7 Mysterious Blasts

IDAHO FALLS, Idaho (AP)—Residents of this north-east Idaho city have joined police in night patrols against a dynamite artist police think may have caused seven mysterious explosions.

Volunteers turned out to help the police after a 24-year-old mother was injured Thursday night when a dynamite bomb exploded in her car.

Mrs. Roene Gasser suffered a fractured pelvis, burns on both legs and lacerations. Her 15-month-old son, Ralph, escaped injury. About the same time, another bomb blew the top off a car a few blocks away.

Police think the well-fused bombs may have been set by an insane but skillful bomb artist. Five other blasts rattled windows, chipped pavement, and damaged two other cars Wednesday night.

"Whoever planted the dynamite knew what they were doing," said Police Chief F. G. Perrin. "We have to assume that whoever is responsible is demented."

He said a Civil Defense explosives expert was coming here from Seattle, Wash., to study the debris.

Three FBI men are helping because one of the damaged cars was a government vehicle.

Citizens have posted nearly $1,000 in rewards for capture of the bomber.

Lloyd Gidley received second degree burns to the face. Firemen said the fire was caused by a defective coal stove in the garage.

On County GOP Ticket in Fall

3 More Seek Renomination

Oakland County Clerk Lynn D. Allen, Sheriff Frank W. Irons and Drain Commissioner Daniel W. Barry all announced today they would seek renomination to their posts on the Republican ticket this fall.

Thus four of the seven incumbent county officers, all Republicans, have decided to run in the August primary election. Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem has already tossed his hat in the ring.

Allen will be seeking his 14th consecutive two-year term as clerk. First elected in 1932, he shares with Treasurer Charles A. Sparks the distinction of holding the same county post for the past 25 years.

Irons is in his fourth year as sheriff. This fall he will be out for his third consecutive two-year term. Irons formerly was chief of police in Berkley.

Barry, a relative newcomer to Oakland County office, was first elected to the drain post in 1956.

Allen, 59 lives at 4025 South Shore Dr. on Watkins Lake. Irons, 58, is a former Berkley resident and now lives in the sheriff's suite at the county jail.

Barry, 35, lives at 7050 Elizabeth Lake Rd., Waterford Township. He was an auto salesman prior to his election and holds a degree in public administration from Michigan State University.

He is presently working on his master's degree in the same field.

Kohler Probe Called Disgrace by Reuther

yesterday when he accused Goldwater of attempting a "smear."

Goldwater had produced a picture purportedly showing Jess Ferrazza, administrative assistant to the UAW's secretary treasuere Emil Masey, and three others beating up a man during the 1941 Ford strike in Detroit.

Reuther denounced it as "an isolated picture." It didn't show UAW members were fighting "a defensive battle" against gangsters, he said, adding that this was harking back to an era when Harry Bennett, then head of the Ford plant police, was using "thousands of gangsters."

POLICE IN POCKET

"They beat us up," Reuther said. "The police wouldn't protect us . . . We had to defend ourselves. Sure that was wrong. But how did we get into that sort of thing?"

The answer, he continued, was that Bennett had the police "in his vest pocket" and that gangsters were beating and actually killing UAW members.

Reuther said he saw four workers beaten because they protested when a man was "killed in the Ford plant."

"You get a picture of Walter Reuther beating someone and I'll get a dozen of Walter Reuther being beaten," the UAW leader said.

Reuther added that Mrs. Edsel Ford and others in the Ford family got rid of Bennett. "Thank God" for that, he added.

After listening to Reuther, Goldwater cut in and said:

"I think you're right. Let's get up to date."

At another point, Reuther accused Curtis of "making excuses" for the Kohler firm. He told Curtis:

"You cover up whenever they get their foot in their mouth."

While questioning Reuther, Curtis cited charges he said Detroit newspapers have published that Michigan's Democratic Gov. G. Mennen Williams paid a political debt to the UAW by releasing UAW official Thomas J. Flynn from prison after a month and a day of an 18-24 month sentence for malicious destruction of property.

Reuther said Williams, who has had UAW backing in the five times he has run for governor, "owes us absolutely nothing except good government."

Reuther said yesterday he thinks former unionist John Gunaca should be returned to Wisconsin to stand trial on assault charges if there is assurance he will get a fair trial.

Reuther also expressed belief that Gov. Williams would be willing to defend before the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee his refusal thus far to extradite Gunaca to Wisconsin.

Gunaca is a former member of the United Auto Workers (UAW) union headed by Reuther. Wisconsin authorities have accused him of felonious assault in connection with the 1954 beating of William Bersch Sr., who died some 16 months later. Death was attributed by the attending physician to a heart ailment. Gunaca has denied responsibility.

Gunaca went from Detroit to Wisconsin to help in the UAW strike against the Kohler Co.

And in Lansing today, Williams says he will extradite John Gunaca to Wisconsin to face the assault charge if that state guarantees Gunaca a fair trail away from the Sheboygan area.

Know the Weather

By E. H. SIMS

Why is the Beaufort weather arrow a subject of controversy today?

The Beaufort arrow, which is the official arrow used on maps to denote wind direction and velocity, is said to be outdated by many of the modern-day weather students. Its velocity symbol is a barb, or several, on the rear of the arrow itself.

On the front of the arrow is a circle, which shows the amount of cloud. The arrow points in the direction of the source of the wind. Up to six barbs can be marked in on the tail of the arrow, and since they are measured in half barbs, there are twelve different wind velocities which can be denoted.

Some believe the Beaufort system, developed by an English admiral in the old sailing days, is obsolete and that a new system should be used. The small differences in velocity, so important to sailing ships, are not as important today.

Victory Predicted for Conservatives in Canada Vote

Almost all the newsmen who have traveled with the leading candidates predict the Conservatives will win a clear majority of the 265 seats in the house of Commons.

Public opinion surveys also report the Conservatives have gained strength since they barely ousted the Liberals last June and ended their 22-year rule.

Liberal leader Lester B. Pearson, however, maintains that his party will win. And Liberals point out that all the experts and polls were wrong in last summer's upset.

Pearson, Canada's former foreign secretary, has counted heavily on the recession to help swing the country back to the Liberals. He has accused the Conservatives of failing to meet the situation vigorously.

Post Office in Store to Be Discontinued

Beginning Monday, the postal service at Andrews Variety Store, 526 N. Perry St., will be discontinued, Robert C. Miller, acting postmaster, announced today.

Because the station, which has been operating in 1951, is "too costly to continue" and the owners of the store are moving their business to another location in the county, Miller said the service would be dropped.

The contract let to Maurice Liptzer, owner, was $1,800 per annum. This was "much over 10 per cent of the receipts from this station," he added.

He said ordinarily the post office would ask for bids to house a station in the same vicinity but the district postal office in Detroit has rejected the idea due to the small amount of business at this station.

Homemakers, Beware!

Don't Fall for the "Referred Lead" Gimmick

THIS IS THE WAY IT WORKS

Mrs. Jones wants a new sewing machine (or some other appliance) but cannot afford it. She is called by a salesman who tells her she can get her new machine WITHOUT COST TO HER. All she has to do is to give the salesman names of her friends who might be prospects and she will receive $20.00 (sometimes the amount is much higher) for each prospect who buys a machine.

SOUNDS TOO GOOD TO BE TRUE—AND IT IS

After signing the contract, she discovers that she is obligated to pay far more than the market price for her machine, and THE REFERRED LEADS JUST DO NOT PAY OFF.

Legitimate dealers may offer you money or credit for buyers that you refer to them — but they make this offer AFTER YOU HAVE MADE YOUR PURCHASE.

It Seems to Me...

Federal Lottery Gets Backing in Proposed Bill in Congress

Recently we carried an editorial suggesting that a national lottery might be considered to help make a few payments on the national debt.

I expected The Press would receive a few pointed broadsides from some of the dissident brothers, but surprisingly no one roared in with even a mild blast or beef. Several years ago, this idea would have been challenged, but apparently it isn't today. There are national lotteries conducted by several governments already.

Rep. PAUL A. FINO has a bill prepared to legalize a Federal lottery in the United States with handsome tickets prepared by the Bureau of Engraving, no less. And the sales would be made through the Post Offices of the country.

There's merchandising on a grandiose scale that makes you catch your breath.

Mr. Fino says that he would set the goal at ten billion dollars, which leaves me limp and lifeless. The Press suggested one billion and I thought that was a rather high figure, but it seems we were pikers, and completely neophytic in our calculations.

The New York Congressman says that if you believe in his stand to write your own Congressman or Senators and state your views.

Gambling that imperils the living and maintenance of wives and children deserves absolute condemnation. This is a sin, just as surely as stealing is a sin.

However, the average man in this country is on top of his own financial situation. The dark shadow of privation and want does not touch him. And if this reasonably thrifty and provident individual wants to risk a few bob on a National Lottery that will help pay his country's debts, can you conscientiously say it's wrong?

Until the State laws clamped down, church organizations were almost the largest instigators of bingo games. Apparently morality didn't figure very highly.

Oddly, the gambling instinct seems ingrained in most people. There seems to be an inherent and almost overwhelming desire to "get something for nothing." Most people seem to have been "born that way," for better or worse. Certainly the trend or desire isn't anything that originated recently.

Great Britain sells her lottery bonds for $2.80 and you buy them at Post Offices and banks. The winnings are not subject to income tax. Compared to two bucks on Blue Lightning to place in the fifth, this is a real deal.

The Mail Bag

To answer several queries: The clock that runs without a spring, a battery or electric current is operated by the constant change in barometric pressure. That keeps a balance wheel revolving forever. Could this be called perpetual motion?

A note on a Press page shows "Morgan's Point" misspelled four times in one short story. That happens occasionally when a piece of copy is railroaded. We feel worse than the readers.

"You gave KENNEDY top billing in your Mail Bag. Don't you think LYNDON JOHNSON is just as deserving and worthy?"

Answer—I certainly do.

"In your editorial on Lauren Bacall's philosophy, you didn't give her credit for staying married to one man in Hollywood. Isn't that a record?"

Answer — Could be. But any man who left that woman would classify as a mental case.

A letter asks the score on the Cheers and Jeers for the LEOPOLD editorial. I think the count would show about four in opposition (all of which we printed) and about 15 or 20 supporting. We printed four that approved.

And In Conclusion .....

Jottings from the well-thumbed notebook of your peripatetic reporter:

Two drunks rolled out of a bar near the Washington Monument. A bonfire was burning at the base. "It's no use," mumbled one. "They'll never get it off the ground." ..... Overheard in a Certain Downtown Office: Secretary speaking: "Yes, he's out to lunch but he won't be gone long. No one took him." ..... I guess I lied on my income tax. I said I was head of the house. ..... HARRY TRUMAN will endorse Governor A. HARRIMAN for the Presidential nomination in 1960 at a strategic moment.

Why do so many people misuse "consensus?" They insist on "a consensus of opinion indicates, etc." It should be "a consensus indicates, etc." ..... Nostradamus, French astronomer whose predictions have amazed for several hundred years, said the world will end in the year 7004 ..... Purely personal nomination for an especially attractive young woman: Roberta Cole Holcomb.

J. EDGAR HOOVER sent me an autographed copy of his book, "Masters of Deceit," in which he exposes the Communists again. It's a powerful tome. I've known HOOVER many years. Would the local boys like to hear him at a downtown luncheon later in the year if I can get him? ..... RCA-Victor aims at bringing NELSON EDDY and JEANETTE MACDONALD together again.

Rabbi Nathan Hershfield dropped in the other day. He's a fine addition to our community ..... The late William Randolph Hearst's fabulous palace at San Simeon becomes a state park. The owner is reputed to have lavished 50 million dollars on the whole establishment. The "main residence" has 40 guest rooms and there were many guest "cabins" in addition. This is the place Ring Lardner said: "I've been here three days and everything's lovely but they haven't given me any spending money yet."

—HAROLD A. FITZGERALD

THERE is an increasing number of people who need little or no excuse to haul off and kill one or more persons. Many consider this deplorable.

WHEN it is considered that our satellite weighs only 30.8 pounds, its psychological impact upon most of the world is surprisingly enormous, for which we are duly grateful.

The POWER of FAITH

By Howard Brodie

JERUSALEM — Time has erased the contours of Calvary here. Only the spot remains, covered by the Church of the Holy Sepulchre. Yet, there is another hill called Golgotha where Christ was crucified; its stark cliff with cavernous holes resembles a skull. I saw its crest silhouetted against blue-white lightning streaks. Thunder roared around it like a pounding surf. Rain hissed. Two birds fluttered, caught in down-drafts. The wind sighed and crazily twisted pine and cypress boughs. Wet streams seeped down the grey-buff cliff. Two dead red flowers drooped from the rocks. Dark smoky clouds scudded low across the sky, casting over the cliff a black veil, cut by milky sheets of rain . . . "and they crucified Him . . . there was darkness over all the land." Yet, nailed to that cross, He said: "Father forgive them; for they know not what they do."

Days of All Faiths

Meaning of Passover Explained

By Dr. HOWARD V. HARPER

This week is important in the calendars of both Jews and Christians. To Christians the entire week is Holy Week; to the Jews the end of the week is the beginning of their great elght-day Feast of Freedom, the Passover. It would be impossible to do justice to both in one column — so this time let's concentrate on Passover.

The immediate reason for this festival is the escape of the Jews from the land of Egypt, where they had been held in slavery for two centuries, but the story behind that slavery and that escape begins way back in the time of Abraham, which is about as far back as you can go in Jewish history.

In Genesis 15: 13-14, God tells Abraham his descendants will someday have a land of their own, but that day is 400 years off and in the meantime they will be strangers, living in affliction and servitude, "in a land not their's." Abraham's son Isaac was born soon after this announcement. His birthday, according to tradition, was the fifteenth day of the month of Nisan. Jewish tradition further states that it was 400 years to the day from Isaac's birth to the Nisan 15 on which the Israelites came out of Egypt.

The long and bitter sojourn in Egypt began in a seemingly harmless way. Every Sunday School pupil knows how Joseph, the favorite son of Jacob (and great-grandson of Abraham) was sold by his jealous brothers to a passing band of slave-traders (Genesis, thirty-seventh chapter) who took him to Egypt, where, through his extraordinary ability, he rose to be number two man in the country. And when a famine hit his family back home, Joseph was in a position to bring them all to Egypt and look after them.

BEGINNING OF SLAVERY

The trouble all came after Joseph and his brothers were dead. Over the next 200 years the handful of Jewish families living in Egypt grew into a section of the population numbering hundreds of thousands — practically a nation, within a nation, and certainly a threat economically to the Egyptians.

One king after another took desperate measures to curb the power of this growing group. Limitations were placed on their freedom, heavy taxes were laid upon them, they were forced into hard labor — but still they flourished.

Finally, out of the tribe of Levi (descendants of just one of Joseph's brothers) there arose a young man who was destined to rescue his people from their intolerable position.

As they observe Passover today the Jews are not merely commemorating an event in ancient history. Says one rabbi, "In every generation each Jew should see himself as though he personally had been liberated from Egypt." The message of Passover is always a timely one; it is the story of the special Divine Providence that determines the fate of the Jewish people.

Dr. William Brady's Mailbag:

Bowling Along in Spirit Won't Revitalize the Body

"We are grateful for your fine teachings, we love you for your scoldings and we are delighted to go along with you (in spirit) when you get fed up and head for the bowling green." (A. M.)

Answer — Can't imagine what you mean. On the other hand, unless you happen to be a bowler, you can't imagine what a tranquilizing influence the game has on life. The spirit is all right, but I wish a few million of you poor misguided characters who seek "relaxation" in alcohol or drugs would come along with me in person.

DR. BRADY

"Daughter likes to eat fish raw. Is there danger of getting any kind of tapeworm?" (S. H. E.)

Answer—Fish taken in the waters of Minnesota, Wisconsin and Michigan have been the source of tapeworm infestation — the broad tapeworm, known as Bothriocephalus latus (not Tinea saginata, beef tapeworm) when eaten raw. Infestation with the fish tapeworm is more likely to injure the host's health, as by anemia, than infestation with beef tapeworm. Thorough cooking is a good method of destroying any larvae of tapeworm in any food.

"Following suggestion in your column, I took three grains of terpine hydrate three times daily for about three weeks, for obstinate bronchial cough and obtained great relief. The cough and thick tenacious sputum were entirely eliminated. Mine is chronic bronchitis of years standing. I am grateful for the relief obtained from this fine remedy." (F. G.)

Answer—Thank you. It is best taken in capsule, after food. This and other suggestions for chronic winter cough, as well as acute respiratory infections in which cough is a symptom are given in the booklet "Call it Cri"—for copy send 35 cents and stamped envelope bearing your address.

"Kindly advise whether your ear drops can be used for acute earache or for just dull ache with running ear." (Mrs. N. W.)

Answer—Only for chronic running ear. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for instructions for preparing and using the drops.

"Following your suggestion I applied a sliver of lemon to a canker sore on two different occasions. It certainly reduces the smarting and pain, but I can't say the canker sores healed any faster." (S. C. A.)

Answer—In addition to the application of a slice of lemon every hour, take internally 100 MG (milligrams) of niacin three times a day for two days.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Pulpit Strategy Rescues Minister

Joel was a failure in the pulpit. So he had decided to quit the ministry and try high school teaching. But his wonderful wife salvaged him and put him on the road to glorious success. Bishop Raines and other great orators utilize the narrative formula mentioned below. So give it a try even if your professors haven't taught it to you.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case X-366: Joel J., aged 32, is a very successful clergyman.

"Dr. Crane, I am also indebted to our local newspaper," he began, "for it prevented me deserting the pulpit and going into high school teaching.

DR. CRANE

"After graduating from theological seminary, I married and took a small church.

"But despite my heavy preparation for my Sunday sermon, I seemed to be waging a losing battle. For the attendance kept getting smaller and smaller.

"That disturbed me, so I would study and read more exhaustively in preparation for next week's sermon. But the congregation would keep on dwindling.

"So I had planned to go into high school teaching and quit the ministry. But my wife finally got me on the right track. She cried and begged me to try a new plan for just three more months.

WIVES HELP HUSBANDS

"Then she showed me your booklet on 'Public Platform Strategy.' She said she had sent for it via our newspaper six weeks before but had hesitated to show it to me.

"What she meant but tactfully didn't say in so many words, was the fact I was an intellectual snob. For I figured my homiletics professor at seminary had taught me all I needed to know about the art of sermonizing.

"And I felt the usual college graduate's superiority complex about looking into the newspaper for educational aid.

"Besides, I was irritated at my wife's thinking any newspaper booklet could remedy my problem. But she pleaded and coaxed, so I finally agreed to make an honest try.

"And it was a tough job, at least the first two Sundays. For I had been trained to deliver an essay-type of address. After I read your booklet, I realized I was chiefly an expositional preacher instead of a narrative speaker.

"So I tried your anecdotal formula. I picked a few actual cases from my parish and used them to document my main text. I also inserted some mild humor and named three parishioners in my address.

"Well, sir, I got more compliments on that sermon than on all my previous speeches.

"And I must admit that I felt astonished at how simple the narrative method of public speaking could be.

"The next Sunday I followed the same pattern. And I found that there were 23 more people present than the week before, which was a great tonic to my morale.

"Again the parishioners patted me on the back and told me I had given them a great sermon. My wife beamed and I began to feel good, myself.

"After these three months, I have found that the attendance on Sunday is now 62 per cent greater than for the past year. My congregation has also asked me to come back and I am being given a salary boost, too."

FACTS ARE FACTS

Facts are facts, whether you derive them from this progressive newspaper or a musty scientific tome in a college library.

So never succumb to the common form of educational hypocrisy which makes you think newspapers can't alter your life by giving you new ideas.

Bishop Richard C. Raines, of the Methodist Church, invited me to Indiana on three different occasions to address all the clergy in his three big Methodist Conferences.

And Bishop Raines asked me to tell them how to make an interesting sermon, for the Bishop knew a poor orator empties a church.

So send for my booklet "Public Platform Strategy," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents.

It can quickly show you how to make an interesting speech.

Voice of the People

'Only Women Are Capable of Solving Social Problems'

Only women can solve the problem of juvenile delinquency, insufficient religious training and broken homes. At the heart of all social problems is the home and the heart of the home is the woman. She's the creative unit of society. What she makes of herself and within herself she makes of her home and her family.

Where there's love and truth, honesty and chastity within her, they are within the walls of her home. But these things, nourished by Divine Grace and cherished in human devotion, are not contained by walls.

Her children take them from here and with them out into the world. And so the woman who guards and guides the home sends forth men who alone are strong enough to guard all the worthy citadels of the nation and of civilization itself. Her spiritual inwardness creates all the outward triumphs of this world.

'Defeat Pension for Presidents'

I've just read that Rayburn and Martin are trying to pass the President's pension bill. If this passes, a man can serve four years as President and then get a pension of $25,000 a year (peanuts), free mailing privileges, office space in a Federal building and an allowance of about $70,000 to hire stenographers (a trifling sum).

What is the world coming to? Doesn't Congress know we have a recession on, and it may get worse? If Congress passes this what's to stop them from voting themselves a fat pension next?

If Congress really wants to help the working man, let it repeal some of the "temporary" taxes, such as the 20 per cent luxury tax and many others. Our state legislature could do the same. We should write our senators and representatives in Washington to fight this pension bill.

Ageless

'Let Us Ask God for Another F.D.R.'

Let us not overlook the fact we're faced with another man-made depression, brought about by greedy, profiting herd of elephants and their ringmaster who believe in such laws as two hard days work for the price of one day's pay and do the job no matter how tough or get out on a dry pasture and graze; standing against price control and the 45-year age limit, bringing us right back to 1932.

Millions are now unemployed, living in fear and want. Millions of dollars are wasted on rockets trying to reach the moon, which adds up to just a fairy tale but offers us nothing in our pursuit of happiness we once knew: the right to work and earn a decent living.

Let us bow our heads and pray, asking God to send us leadership, another of the likeness of the greatest—Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Compares Friends to New Shoes

Friends and shoes are something alike. New ones are nice. While they're new and attractive we are proud of them. We use them and admire them and if they don't fit perfectly, we accept the attitude that we will get used to them. We like them anyway.

When they become old and lose their attractiveness by adjusting to fit us more perfectly, or if we're fortunate to afford more expensive and attractive ones, they have no more attraction for us. So they're given away and although they're discarded, there's good in them for someone less fortunate. Thus the cycle begins again and such is the cycle of life.

Has Idea to End Foreclosures

Hundreds are being faced with foreclosures on their homes by banks and mortgage loan companies and many have already been notified they've lost their homes because they were unable to make house payments. I wrote Congressman Broomfield suggesting a moratorium be declared on all bank loans until employment returns to normal.

He assures me it's a good idea and has forwarded my letter to State Senator Lodge, because the place to start this proposal is in the State Legislature. If all Pontiac Press readers would get behind me in this and write to Senator Lodge, hundreds of taxpayers' homes will be saved from foreclosures.

If our State Legislature doesn't see fit to declare such a moratorium, it should be purged and an all new legislative body installed that will take an interest in the people.

'Which of These Counts More?'

This city is certainly worn down by the group of "independent city employes" who want to "even up their holidays." What has that got to do with it? If Christ's birthday doesn't "even up" in their little lives, let's celebrate Christmas in March. Which counts the most—the great events of history or "even holidays" for a little group of small minded people?

Confident Living

Spends Hour and Half With God Each Day

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

Last summer I was the guest of President and Madame Chiang Kai-shek on Formosa. I have known Madame Chiang for several years but this was my first meeting with the Generalissimo.

PEALE

Chiang is a Methodist and obviously a man of great Christian spirit. I was so impressed by his depth of character that I asked him how he had developed this inner peace.

He said: "I wasn't always this way. I did not always have inner peace — I was a restless, tense man. But I knew I had to conquer this and with God's help I learned how to do so. That was one of the supreme experiences of all my life."

"How did you do it," I wanted to know.

"I decided upon the practice of spending thirty minutes every morning in Bible reading, meditation and prayer. But that wasn't enough, so I added thirty minutes at noontime. Even that did not seem to be enough, so I added thirty minutes more in the evening."

He told me that he spends this hour and a half of Bible reading, meditation and prayer each day without interruption. He has given orders that, no matter how great the crisis, he is not to be disturbed when at his devotions. He and Madame Chiang pray together, sometimes in their room, or they may even do this while walking in the forest.

I wonder how many of my readers spend thirty minutes with God each day, let alone an hour and a half. How much time do we daily spend worrying? But, you say, I haven't time. I'm too busy to spare an hour and a half except maybe on Sunday.

Are you or I as busy as Chiang Kai-shek or the many other great men of our time who always find time to pray? No, of course we aren't. The real question is do you want to acquire the kind of inner peace that reflects itself in personal power and effectiveness? That comes only with a price—the price of time and effort.

If you want such effectiveness why not start today? Perhaps at the start you will not take an hour and a half, or an hour, or even half an hour. Fifteen minutes today, tomorrow, and the next day will do wonders for you.

You will feel something really different in your life and then you will want to take more time as you go on. There is no one reading my words who cannot do this and get the same results as Chiang Kai-shek does.

My old friend, Dr. Samuel M. Shoemaker, has just edited a wonderful book, "Faith at Work," which contains among many other fine things a suggestion to remember when taking time out to pray. Break up the word "Psalm" in this uniquely effective manner: P for praise, S for surrender, A for asking, L for listening and M for meditation. That is a good technique to use in stimulating the peace and power that comes from prayer.

Church Women Support Trade

Director Speaks Before House Ways and Means Group in Washington

The continuing support of U.S. church women for government measures to reduce trade barriers and increase the exchange of goods between nations was documented this month by Mrs. Esther W. Hymer, director of Christian World Relations of United Church Women.

Testifying before the House Ways and Means Committee in Washington, D. C., she declared: "Church women are deeply conscious of their responsibility to be constantly informed . . . and of making their concerns and convictions known to those responsible for formulating such decisions."

Pointing out that over a long period of years, the churches have urged the United States to support programs to expand world trade and extend aid "in an effort to secure justice for all peoples," Mrs. Hymer quoted several UCW statements to the Committee members.

This year, she said, the organization commended the President "for his leadership toward renewal of the Reciprical Trade Agreements Act for a five-year-period without crippling amendments."

United Church Women in the 34 cooperating denominations of the National Council of Churches are organized in 2,200 state and local councils in the 48 states, Washington, D. C., Hawaii and Alaska.

Alliance Church to Be Dedicated Sunday

Dedication service for the new Christian and Missionary Alliance Church, 220 N. Cass Lake Rd. at M59, in Waterford Township, will be held at 2:30 p.m. Sunday.

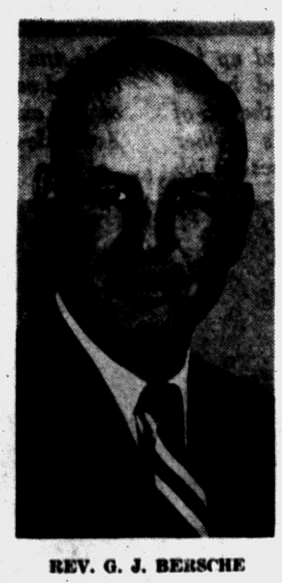
Guest speaker for the event and also for the Sunday morning worship service will be the Rev. H. E. Nelson of New York City, home secretary of the denomination.



REV. G. J. BERSCHE

A former pastor, the Rev. R. J. Smith, now pastor of the Bethel Church in Hamilton, Ohio, also will take part and preach at the 7:30 evening service.

The new T - shaped building stands on a five and one-half acre site extending from North Cass Lake road through to Hillcliff drive. It is approached by a circle drive leading to the marquee at the main entrance.

SEATS 450

Of buff brick exterior and interior, the 50 x 100 foot sanctuary will seat 450. The roof is supported by laminated wood arches.

The floor is tiled, with gold beige carpeting in the aisles and on the platform. Amber tinted glass windows are fitted with gold traverse drapes. Chandeliers and wall brackets are of Swedish iron.

The front wall of the sanctuary is paneled in birch and redwood. The baptistry, back of the front wall, is lined with ceramic tile with a glass panel across the front. Blond oak pews match the pulpit furniture.

The balcony and church office are over the foyer with smaller offices on either side of the sanctuary platform.

A nursery for infants opens off the foyer while two other nurseries in the educational unit accommodate children up to six.

ACCOMMODATES 500

The 46 x 154 foot educational unit at the back of the sanctuary will accommodate a Sunday School of 500. It is of steel and block construction with brick veneer. Ceilings are of white acoustical plaster.

Walls of the classrooms are painted in pastel colors with harmonizing tile flooring. Windows along one side of each room are provided with traverse drapes.

A gas-fired hot water heating system supplies the entire building.

The extensive grounds provide ample parking space.

The Christian and Missionary Alliance had its beginning in a prayer meeting held in a home in February 1929. In October of the same year a Sunday School was started.

A month later, the group held worship service in a store on Colorado avenue. In January 1930, the old Contagious Hospital on Franklin road became the place of meeting.

Then a lot was purchased on Arthur avenue and a cement-block building erected. The group moved into the new church in 1931, at which time it received a charter.

In 1933 the congregation rented the church building at 178 Green St., purchasing it in 1934.

The present pastor, the Rev. G. J. Bersche came to the church in 1948.

BEGAN TO BUILD

Building operations on Cass Lake road began in May 1956. When the Green street property was sold in January 1957, services were held for eight months in Isaac Crary Junior High School near the church site.

The Sunday School unit was finished in September 1957. Though the sanctuary was occupied one month later, it was not completed until now.

A general contractor was not employed. A building committee composed of Vincent Brill, Virgil Allen, William C. Bower, Joseph Bersche, James Bennett, James Dodd, Carl Walton and the Rev. Mr. Bersche engineered the construction.

Bikes, Balls Signify It's Truly Springtime

Pontiac Press Photos

Spring is here and it's time for little girls to play hopscotch and jump rope. Martha Dunlay does a bit of hopping as her sister, Barbara, awaits her turn. Brothers Michael (far left) and Peter would seem to prefer getting the girls interested in a good game of softball. They are the children of the Robert J. Dunlays of Illinois avenue.

Getting the bicycle cleaned up for spring after it's been stored in the garage for several months is the job of John Dunlap (left) and his brother David. Sister Susan supervises the job and Ann waits anxiously to try the cleaned vehicle out. They are children of Dr. and Mrs. Gregg L. Dunlap of Avondale avenue.

A fellow is never too young to learn to play softball, or so it would seem Kirk Lindquist (right) is telling his 2-year-old brother, Erik. Kristin also urges her little brother to develop his baseball skills. The three are children of the Victor Lindquists of Pirrin street.

Dear Abby....

Don't Build Up Molehill

DEAR ABBY: I am 53 and my old man is 71. We've been married almost 30 years but I'm ready to call it quits. He thinks he's a regular "Romeo" with the women lately.

ABBY

A young Italian couple moved into our building and he got the lady to teach him how to say "I love you" in Italian and he always giggles and says it to her.

He goes into her apartment and asks her to wash his hair. How can I get him down to earth or should I leave him? The whole building is talking.

JULIA

DEAR JULIA: Your "old man" is probably having a little innocent fun. If you want to make a mountain out of a molehill — just add a little dirt to it.

DEAR ABBY: I got married at the age of 15 because my parents were so strict they wouldn't let me go out of the house. I made a bad mistake because I married a man who was no good.

This was 24 years ago and I am paying for my parents' mistake but I want to tell you to tell all the other parents for me that being too strict is no good either. If I had had the chance to see a few other men I sure wouldn't have married this one.

SORRY NOW

DEAR SORRY: I will print your letter and add my two cents. Being too strict is no good — and being too loose can cook one's goose.

DEAR ABBY: My boy friend is very strong, but he gets too rough at times without meaning to. He kissed me so hard once my nose bled.

When he kids around with me I carry the black and blue marks for weeks. My father says if he doesn't change his ways I can't go around with him anymore. Have you any suggestions?

BLACK AND BLUE

DEAR B AND B: Tell "Muscles" to cut out the rough and tumble and try a little tenderness. It isn't necessary to bruise a girl in order to make an "impression."

DEAR ABBY: I am a man, 51 years old with good character and head full of hair (black and wavy) all my own. I'd like a woman not too tall and not too fat.

I don't want a lady who is divorced or one who has children. I am not interested in a woman who smokes and drinks either. I will not turn down a Jewess but I don't want a woman who was reared in a Catholic home.

I am A-1 at the bank and am sending you my banker's name to prove it. I'm powerful lonesome.

KARL

DEAR KARL: For a man who's "Powerful Lonesome," you are powerful particular.

For a personal reply, write to Abby in care of The Pontiac Press. Enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: The son of a friend of mine has just recently married for the second time. His first wife, to whom he was married for 20 years and of whom my friend was very fond, died several years ago.

"My friend is living with her son and new daughter - in-law, whom she likes very much, too. While paying her a visit the other day I noticed she had a picture of her first daughter in-law in her room.

"I was quite surprised at this and told her I thought it was wrong and very unfair to her present daughter - in - law. She disagreed with me and so we decided to write for your opinion."

Answer: There is no reason in the world why she should cease caring for someone she has loved for a long time and it certainly takes nothing away from the affection which she is now beginning to feel for her new daughter-in-law.

Of course, if she continuously extolled the virtues of the former one to the belittlement of the present one, that would be another story.

"Dear Mrs. Post: The son of very good friends of ours is in a seminary studying for the priesthood. He will finish his training soon and will celebrate his first Mass here. I have known this young man all of his life and have always called him Tom. Will you please tell me what to call him after he becomes a priest?"

Answer: It would be lacking in proper respect to call him Tom. But it would be quite proper for old friends to call him "Father Tom."

"Dear Mrs. Post: Is it necessary to tip the doorman at a hotel for getting a taxi? If so, how much should he be given?"

Answer: Not if he merely opens the door of a taxi already in front of the door, but if he has to go and find one for you, you must tip him. The amount you give him will depend on how hard taxis are to find at that time.

Child Culture Club Hears Talk by Flint Woman

Mrs. Gordon Dale of Flint spoke on "New Horizons in Sex Education for Children" when Child Culture Club met Thursday in the LaFay drive home of Mrs. William Thiede.

The speaker is on the staff of Clara Elizabeth Fund for Maternal Health.

The April 10 meeting, which is to be annual Dad's Night, will be held in St. Benedict Hall.

Check Hosiery for Ankle Fit

Good ankle fit in stockings is especially important with the low-heeled shoes which are worn with the popular shorter skirts.

This is another good reason for sudsing nylons after each wear—because stockings tend to "bag" a bit when worn but snug up again to fit smoothly after being sudsed, rinsed and dried.

Photographed while vacationing in Acapulco, Mexico, were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Rothberg of Lake Angelus. The Rothbergs spent two months at the Hotel Pierre Marques.

Troubled Emotions Often Cause Fatigue

Consider Body and Mind as Unit

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

It is a great mistake to think of the body and mind, or emotions, separately. We cannot separate indigestion from disposition any more than we can fatigue from a feeling of inferiority. There is an almost mystical connection between our spiritual and physical selves.

We know that a great fund of energy lies in a health-building routine and that fatigue does not always come from physical defects or illness. It is often due to worry or to the rumbling of our subconscious mind.

During recent years much has been learned about fatigue. Latest opinion is that there is no such thing as extreme fatigue or a nervous breakdown from overwork.

These conditions stem, rather, from boredom, worry, strains and stresses connected with the work we do. They are the result of fear or dissatisfaction with some condition or situation in which we live.

Some of the worries and resentments are in our conscious mind and some in our subconscious mind. We can at least do something about those we know about. Extreme emotional tensions actually have led to illness.

STUDY EMOTIONS

If you are tired most of the time, look into your emotional and mental setup. Boredom with housework has given women backaches, boredom with a husband has made invalids of them, and boredom with life generally has prematurely aged them.

If the situation which causes your unhappiness can be changed, then do so. If it cannot be changed, then ignore it as much as possible. It will not be the enemy it was once you recognize it for what it is. Do not concentrate on it. Try to adapt to it.

If your life has fallen into a rut, do something about it! Join a class in painting or literature or handcraft or short story writing or dancing—anything which interests you. Get out of the house more. Give some of your time to worthwhile causes. Break the routine with new interests and activities. You will discover a new zest for living.

If you would like to have my leaflet "Worry" send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 64. Address Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

If your life has fallen into a rut, do something about it. A class in painting, for instance, might be fun.

Nosegay...
by Fostoria

As its name suggests, Nosegay is a lighthearted floral pattern, as delightfully feminine as a bride's bouquet. It is a polished cutting on graceful handblown stemware. It was designed to complement floral patterns in china, but you'll find it goes equally well with many plain and geometric designs. Come see it in our open-stock Fostoria collection.

How to Remove Spots From Car Upholstery

CHICAGO (INS) — Here is a guide for removing spots from the upholstery of your car, supplied by the Chicago Motor Club:

Candy—Sponge with clear, warm water to dissolve the sugar. Apply carbon tetrachloride to remove residue. (Caution: Use carbon tetrachloride only when the car is well ventilated.)

Chewing gum—Rub with ice until gum hardens and rolls into a ball. In stubborn cases, use carbon tetrachloride.

Ice cream — Remove with cool water, followed by a sponging with warm soapsuds. For deep stains, use carbon tetrachloride.

Greas and oil—Use carbon tetrachloride.

Coffee and tea — Hot water, glycerin, then soap and water get the best results.

Fruit stains — For peach, pear, cherry or plum stains, use cool water and a soapless shampoo. If necessary, use a few drops of vinegar in the water. For other fruit stains, use hot water and a little lemon juice.

Good Furniture Needs Washing

Any piece of fine wood furniture needs a good washing at intervals. It's the only way, really, to cleanse it completely.

There's no need to soak wood, of course. Go over its surface carefully with thick soap or detergent suds on a damp cloth or sponge, then wipe with a cloth wrung out in clear water.

Polish dry with a fresh cloth, and then wax the surface if you like.

Spadea's american designer pattern

1246

by Brigance

A chemise or not—as you will! Brigance designed this straight line, tucked-front dress without a waistline and you can dart the back for a shaped fit if you prefer.

If you elect to throw away the belt, add one more button and button hole to the front band. But no matter how you wear it, you'll wear it within hours after you start it and wear it often.

The cool, clean, set-away collar is also very newsy this spring and has a tendency to slenderize and lengthen one's neck.

Choose chambray, thin silk, sharkskin, printed lawn, linen, novelty cotton, very sheer wool. From this chart select the one size best for you:

Sizes	Bust	Waist	Hips Inches	Length From Nape of Neck to Waist
12	35	25	36	16¾
14	36½	26½	37½	17
16	38	28	39	17¼
18	40	30	41	17½
20	42	32	43	17¾

Size 12 requires 3⅞ yards of 36-inch material for sleeveless dress. To order Pattern 1246, state size, send $1.

For 192-page giant-size combination Pattern booklet 12-13x, send $1. If paid by check, bank requires 4 cents handling charge.

Carefree Bride at 16, Desperate Wife at 19

By RUTH MILLETT

These are just the bare facts of her letter, but they tell a story that might be an eye-opener to some of my younger readers.

Married at 16.

Mother of son at 17.

Few months later husband out of work.

Young couple and baby move in with his parents.

In-law trouble.

Young wife takes baby and goes to live with her parents.

Her parents take care of baby while she works.

Young couple go back together to give marriage a second chance.

Marriage still unhappy and young wife desperate, not knowing where to turn next.

I don't know the answer to her present situation and I doubt that anyone else does. But there was a simple answer three years ago. Don't marry.

Wait until you grow up. Get as much education for living and earning a living as you can. Date more than one young man, so that you can make comparisons and be sure when you have found the "right man" that he is the right one.

It's a sad thing for a girl to feel like a failure at 19. But how is she going to help it if she bites off a bigger slice of life than she can chew?

Not all girls who marry at 16 regret the decision before they are 20. But many of them do. And their stories are depressingly alike.

They certainly aren't like the romantic notions teenage girls have about how wonderful it would be to quit school and marry.

Members of Group Sew Cancer Pads

Members of Esther Group of Covert Community Church met in the parsonage to sew cancer pads for the American Cancer Society, with Mrs. James Smith as hostess.

Guests at the Thursday gathering were Mrs. Clarence Snider and Mrs. Gene Miller. The Signet road home of Mrs. Hazel Taylor will be opened for the meeting on April 3.

Honored at Shower

Mrs. Donald Harlabakos was honored with a stork shower given in the Fourth avenue home of Judy Carline. Mrs. Robert Robinson assisted the hostess.

Maverick Star on Video Most Happy Fella Indeed

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — James Garner is indeed a maverick among TV series stars—he's a most happy fella.

Sound strange? Well, you'd be surprised how many TV stars rankle over their salary, scripts, billing, residuals, etc. Not Garner. When I visited him on the Maverick set, he was happily signing autographs for visitors and swapping jokes with set workers.

I asked him about a report he had been given a nice, new contract by Warner Brothers in honor of his gunning down Ed Sulluivan and Steve Allen.

"Ho ho!" he said. "How long you been around Hollywood?"

I told him longer than I would care to divulge.

"Then you know better than to believe everything you read. I haven't had a new contract since last April."

Doesn't this cause him to have ulcers and hate his bosses?

"Not at all. This is the last Maverick we've got to make for this season. I suppose in a few week's we'l sit down and discuss a new deal. Meanwhile, I'm eating regularly and having the time of my life.

"I can remember times when I wasn't so well off. Just 10 years ago, for example, I was in Odessa, Tex., and I didn't have a nickel to buy a cup of coffee."

Tunisians Sight Goals in Dispute

Feel They Have Won Major Points Although Tough Bargaining Due

TUNIS (AP)—Tunisians feel they already have won their major points in the current dispute with France, although tough negotiations still lie ahead.

With the French rightists who oppose compromise scattered across France for a month by the National Assembly's spring vacation, the U.S.-British good offices mission is given a good chance to patch up the quarrel. It erupted Feb. 8 when France bombed Sakiet Sidi Youssef, a Tunisian village on the Algerian border.

The French charged it sheltered Algerian rebels, including anti-aircraft gunners who took pot shots at French planes over nearby Algeria.

The mission of U.S. diplomat Robert Murphy and Harold Beeley of Britain is now bogged down on French demands that Tunisia agree to keep hands off the Algerian rebellion and agree to control of the Algerian frontier.

A high source in Tunis said the Tunisians believe they have achieved their three main goals: opening the Algerian rebellion up to international discussion, gaining American sympathy for the Tunisian position, and receiving a pledge "in principle" for the evacuation of French troops from Tunisia.

If the French refuse to compromise and Tunisian President Habib Bourguiba makes good his threat to return to the United Nations, diplomats sources here say France could only count for support from Portugal, Spain, South Africa and possibly Israel.

France Tests New Missiles in Africa

COLOMB BECHAR, French Sahara (AP)—Some 2,500 military and civilian experts are quietly at work in the vast Sahara Desert testing France's new missiles.

Reporters are kept several miles away from the main launching site. Rumors persist that something big is in the wind.

French atomic energy officials denied Washington reports that France might test an atomic device in the next few days.

The main base here has facilities for angled and vertical launchings of missiles.

There is no official indication France has developed an IRBM, but there is evidence her experts are busy on some new projects.

Expect Big Offense in Indonesia Shortly

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — The central government's big offensive against the headquarters of the Sumatran rebels will be launched very soon, spokesmen for Jakarta's military forces said today.

The spokesmen would not say just when the assault on the port of Padang and the mountain capital of Bukittinggi would begin, "but it will not be long," one said.

Rebel troops at Padang have been preparing for attack since shortly after the rival government of Indonesia was set up there Feb. 15.

They Make Mad Dash for Broadway Shows

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Edith Adams, the Beautiful Wife of Ernie Kovacs, and I recently had a most romantic adventure—we saw eight Broadway musical comedies in one night.

We ran . . . we trotted . . . we limousined.

The reason for our madness was that Edie's doing a satire on B'way musicals in Las Vegas shortly. What a way to see the shows!

I couldn't help remembering the first time I'd seen Edith—when she was almost an unknown bathing beauty from New Jersey and Pennsylvania on a Chicago TV show . . . she wasn't much better known when "Wonderful Town" came along . . . then she met Ernie . . . they flew to Mexico on a weekend and William O'Dwyer helped them get married in a hurry because she had to get back to the show.

EDITH

And now Edith was dragging me around. Everybody knew this beautiful doll with the legs and the smile and the talent.

We wound up at 11:04 P.M. I'd have kissed her a brotherly peck but having lost my glasses $ could hardly find her. I was, frankly, a little peeved at her for being so unsympathetic about me losing them.

Till I got home, I mean. When I found them.

I'd never had them all evening.

Edie is probably going to impersonate all the current B'way stars—and also Maria Callas, whom she never got to see.

"But that'll be easy to do," thought Edith. "Ernie will just come out and say, 'Miss Callas is ill and won't be able to appear tonight.'"

THE WEEKEND WINDUP . . .

Monte Proser gave Jayne Mansfield a $5,000 bonus (to 30Gs a week) for an extra two weeks of her show . . . Carl Reiner won't go to London with the Sid Caesar troupe, will stay here to write another book . . . Alan Freed's taking a tutor along on his rock 'n' roll tour, for his teenage stars.

WeeGee the photographer (who did sequences for the Cinemiracle film, "Windjammer") is advertising for an ass't: "Girl must have pony tail, small top and big bottom or vice versa, beer drinker, not eat too much, get checks from home" . . . The McGuire Sisters had to scrap 10,000 fan club buttons that had their photo reversed, showing the wrong gal on the left . . . Nat (King) Cole'll fly (in a plane called "Spirit of St. Louis Blues") to the ten premieres of his "St. Louis Blues" film.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: "My wife spends a lot of time in saloons," confesses Jack Herbert, "—looking for me." That's earl, brother.

Proposes Fund for War Claims

Administration Seeks $100 Million to Return Seized German Assets

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Eisenhower administration has dropped a hot potato in the lap of Congress—a proposal to use 100 million dollars in U.S. money to return some war-seized German assets.

The long-awaited administration formula for settling the controversy was sent to Capitol Hill yesterday. It was sure to stir more controversy there.

The administration argued its case on three major grounds: available money, a need for speed in concluding settlement of claims and a need to "strengthen our ties of friendship" with West Germany.

Leaving it to Congress to fill in details, the administration proposed a 183-million-dollar fund. It would be made up of a 100-million-dollar appropriation plus 83 millions in foreign assets already turned into cash. It would be distributed this way:

1. An estimated 100 million to all Americans with legitimate claims against Germany. These include mistreated war prisoners and Americans whose lives or property suffered at the hands of the Nazis.

2. About 50 millions in an "equitable monetary return" to individual former owners of German property up to $10,000 seized by the federal government in the United States during World War II.

3. The balance, 33 millions or more, spread out on a pro rata basis among other former owners of such property. These include big corporations as well as individuals with interests bigger than $10,000.

Negro Pastor Serving on New York Ed Board

NEW YORK (AP)—The Rev. Dr. Gardner C. Taylor, Negro pastor, was sworn in yesterday as a member of the nine-man New York City Board of Education.

Dr. Taylor, pastor of Brooklyn's Concord Baptist Church, last February was elected president of the Protestant Council of New York, the first Negro ever to hold that post.

Propose More Aid for Yugoslavia

WASHINGTON (AP)—Foreign aid officials say more U.S. economic help should be given to Yugoslavia because that Balkan country wields strong influence in Communist East Europe.

At the same time, the House Foreign Affairs Committee was told, arms aid has been halted at Yugoslav request and U.S. military advisers will be withdrawn before the end of April. Any future U.S. military hardware will have to be paid for by Yugoslavia, aid officials said.

This information, given to the committee in closed-door session March 12, was made public today. It was accompanied by estimates of proposed U.S. aid to Europe in the coming fiscal year starting July 1.

Radar Check Accurate

Ann Arbor (AP) — A University of Michigan law professor says radar speed checks now are accurate enough to justify their use in court trials. Prof. Charles W. Joiner said "courts are backward about new methods of proof because lawyers have not yet awakened to the full potential of modern scientific testing and discovery devices."

IN INDIAN VILLAGE — The Robert Flynn home is on Ogemaw road. The Flynns wanted a city home and found a narrow lot. Ward Cummings was able to put a stock plan house on it with room to spare on the north for a driveway. The exterior is red brick with metal trim on the front porch. Beside the front door glass blocks are set in to put light in the coat closet. The Flynns have lived in their new home since last June.

Your Neighbor's House

Flynn Home Fits Narrow City Lot

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

As any reader knows who has tried to purchase one, lots on the west side of Pontiac are rare. The few that are available are narrow and present a problem to the builder.

Robert and Ann Flynn were determined to live in Indian Village; they wanted to build their own house. Luckily they found a 40x120 foot lot on Ogemaw road and a stock plan that would fit the lot. The only changes they made were in the basement.

In a small house a basement is even more important than in a large one. Most families rely on the space for some of their living. In the case of the Flynns, they turned part of the basement area into a recreation room and a smaller part into Mr. Flynn's office and a half bath. Utilities are concentrated in one room that is closed off.

At the end of one wall in the recreation room the Flynns built a small red brick fireplace. They extended the brick around the corner, then paneled the rest of the wall in knotty pine. Other walls, the cement block ones, are painted pale yellow. The office is paneled in pine.

There's a fibre rug on the corktone tile floor. Furniture is rustic type. It's definitely a room for informal living and entertaining. Across the room a projection booth is built in with a small picture hiding the opening when it is not in use.

FIVE ROOMS UPSTAIRS

Upstairs there are five rooms and a bath. There's a small entry way with a coat closet inside the front door. This is one step below the level of the living room.

There are windows on three sides of the living room; the one at the front of the room is large. Floor length beige rayon draperies blend well with the light sandalwood walls. The coved ceiling is white.

The dining room furniture at the north end of the room is all birch. A drop leaf table fits neatly under the window. The chairs have deep green seats. Coffee and lamp tables in the other part of the room are also birch.

The sofa is slip covered in rust, while one chair and ottoman are green, another figured in brown and beige. The carpet is brown tweed.

Susie, the rocking horse, holds a prominent spot in the room. Twenty-two months old Robie (Roberta Ann) is an important member of the Flynn family so her possessions are important too. Her father's boyhood rocker stands near the sofa.

Although there is but one small window in the kitchen, the room is bright. Sunny yellow walls and soffit make it that way. The spatter print linoleum has pink, blue and yellow on a beige background. This linoleum is used also on the basement stairs.

CONTRAST IN TEXTURE

Formica in a linen weave pattern is used on counter tops and as splash boards and around the entire stove area. For contrast, striated plywood that has been antiqued is used as paneling around the eating corner. Over the window is a wooden valance board, made of birch to match the cupboards.

There are sliding doors to both living room and hall. The breakfast set is metal with a plastic top table. Table top and chairs are gray, black and white lined.

The first bedroom is the guest room. Like the rest of the bedrooms, this one has polished oak floors. Walls are pale yellow. Furniture is birch. Curtains and bedspreads match — they are brown with a woven border of coral, emerald and lemon. A pull-down lamp over the bed gives good illumination.

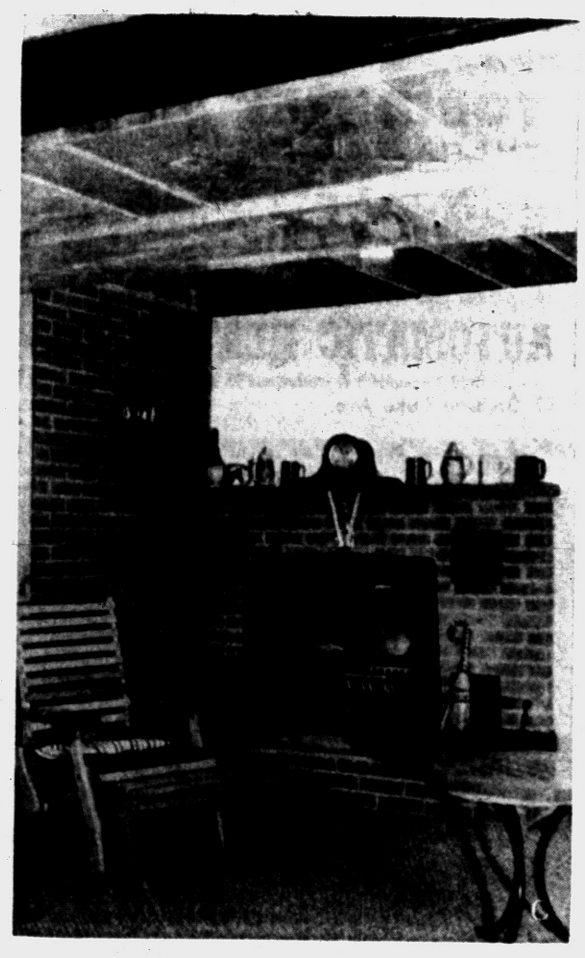
Robie's room is pink and white. Her curtains are splashed with rosebuds. The nursery furniture is white. Window sills throughout the house are marble.

In the bathroom pink and white is used again. Walls above the pink tile are white. Floor, vanity top and fixtures are pink, the shower is glassed in.

The master bedroom is pale blue. Furniture again is birch. Curtains and bedspread are white.

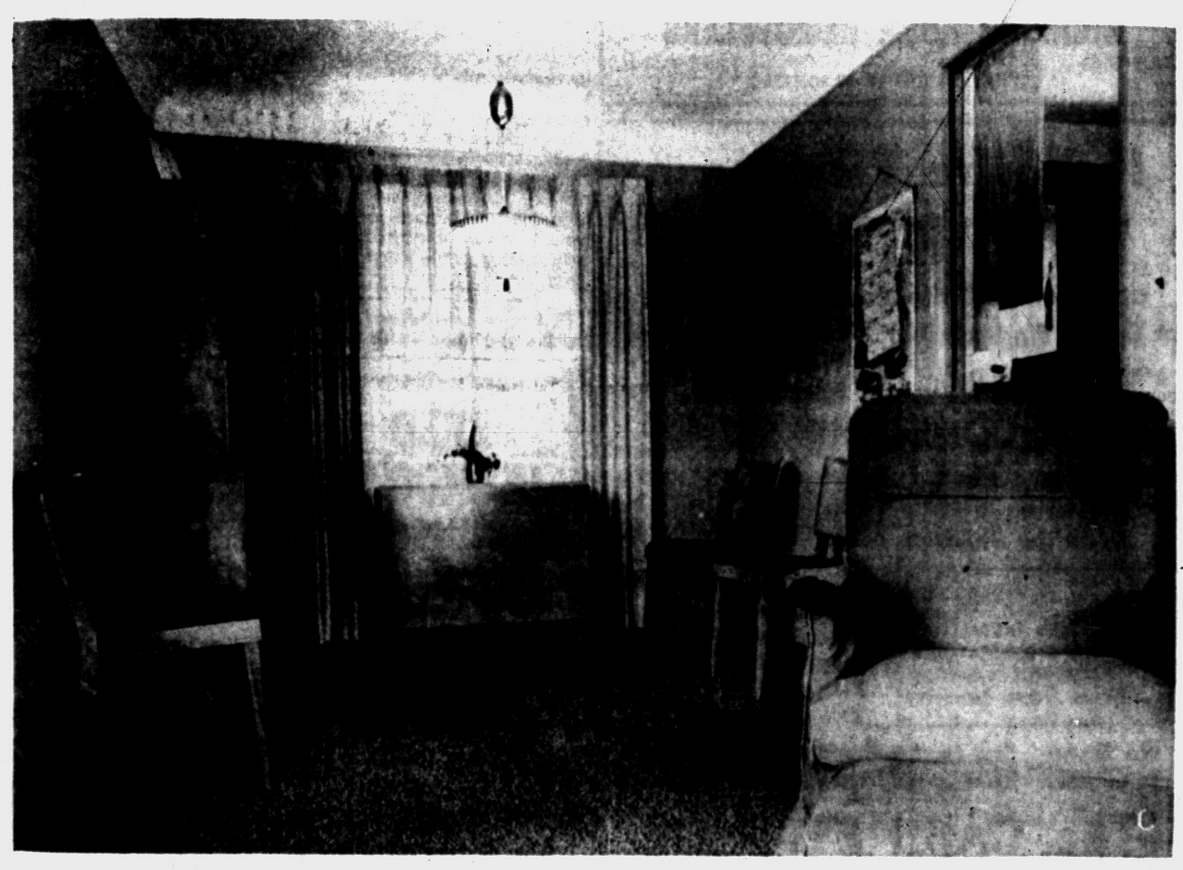
Ease of care; a house big enough for their family; and an address in Indian Village were requirements of the Flynns before they built. They have achieved all three. Ward Cummings was the builder.

RIDE A COCK HORSE — Little Roberta Ann Flynn holds her prancing steed still long enough for the camera to catch her picture. Behind her Mrs. Flynn keeps a watchful eye on the procedure. This living-dining room extends across the front of the house, has windows on three sides. Walls are light sandalwood; the coved ceiling is white. Furniture is slip covered, with rust for the sofa, green for one chair and an ottoman and a flowered cover for the other chair.



BASEMENT FIREPLACE — This fireplace in the basement recreation room is set at one end of the wall. Red brick surrounds the fire opening and continues around the corner. The floor down here is corktone tile with a fibre rug over it. Furniture is informal and rustic. In another part of the basement Mr. Flynn has a pine paneled office with an attached half bath.

background for LIVING



DINING END — Birch furniture blends well with the color scheme of this living-dining room. The dropleaf table folds up under the window. Chairs have deep green seats on them. Behind the lounge chair is the sliding door to the kitchen. The carpeting is brown tweed.

Be on Constant Guard for Signs of Termites

ELIZABETH, N. J.—It's coming up to spring and the annual, worrisome guessing game over whether that swarm of "flying ants" is just that—or termites.

Public consciousness of termites and the hundred-million-dollar bill they annually present to U.S. homeowners today led the National Pest Control Association to offer this advice on identifying the two springtime flying swarmers.

1. The flying ant is stylishly wasp-waisted, four-winged, but with rear wings shorter than front.

2. The termite is thick-bodied, has no waistline. Its four wings are all of equal length.

If you see a swarm in your neighborhood and identify them as termites, better check your premises, for there is a colony nearby.

Signs of danger are finding a swarm actually inside your house—they're leaving the home colony to set up a branch elsewhere—or discovery of mud-like tubes that cross non-wood substances from the ground to wood. Then there's always the classic cartoon method—having a heavy object like a new piano go through the weakened floor.

Termite infestation can be controlled, notes the Association, but it is a big job and one that can't be accomplished with a do-it-yourself squirt of some miracle bug-killer.

Control of a serious infestation involves heavy carpentry, cutting away infested structural members and replacing with new and seasoned wood. It involves trenching around the foundation or other soil trouble spots and drenching with large quantities of insecticide or chemical that will set up a barrier against future invaders as well as killing off present inhabitants.

Often-times new provision for ventilation and elimination of dampness must be built into cellar crawl space, steel or concrete posts installed in place of wooden ones.

In general control involves getting wood away from soil, curbing dampness (without which termites perish) and using modern chemicals for both immediate and future protection.

Other tips on termite infection listed by the National Pest Control Association include:

1. Sawdust found beneath beams seldom means termites. Sawdust probably means you're housing powder-post beetles.

2. A rasping or gnawing noise inside the beams doesn't mean termites are present. Might be carpenter ants, some beetle variety or even a mouse.

3. Termite tunnels are lined with a mud-like substance; tunnels of various other wood-eating insects are not.

4. Termite colonies take several years to become established, often as long as eight to ten years to do serious damage. Moral—keep a careful eye on your "new" house for several years.

5. The best termite protection is an annual inspection. A well-informed householder will keep soil away from house, maintain ventilation, and have annual inspection by a reliable professional pest control operator. These steps will eliminate situations attractive to termites and permit early detection of new colonies.

Multilevel House Suits Sharply Sloping Lot

Ground that slopes steeply from the front lot-line offers the opportunity for multi-level design, one of the most popular in current housing trends, with ground-level access at both the front and the rear.

One possibility with this type of lot is to turn the house around—have the living areas face the back lot-line, with the kitchen and utility room facing the street.

Please Selves in Decorating

Go about decorating your home in a systematic way; know what you're doing and you'll gain a big bonus in a well-decorated home.

The first rule to remember is that redecorating is no time to play copycat, says an article in a home magazine. Only you know what your family likes and what's right for your mode of living. Don't let others influence you.

Most families can't afford to discard everything and start anew. So check labor and material costs for necessary reupholstery or refinishing, then decide what you want to keep. A few old pieces lend character to a newly decorated room.

Free yourself from grade-school notions that certain colors can't be combined. As proof that it isn't true, witness the current popularity of blue and green and the clever combination of certain pinks and reds. Look at your samples in various lights to be sure you have the effect you want. Drape a piece of fabric over the sofa arm; pin up a length of wallpaper and live with it awhile.

Don't be afraid to ask for help, the magazine says. Talk with a decorator and discuss your finances frankly. Maybe he'll work on a consultation basis — you pay a nominal fee for advice and do your own shopping. Or, for free assistance, you might go to a store's home planning center.

Do your decorating with a furniture arrangement and color plan in mind, and don't forget a plan to pay for the decorating. And, consider doing as much of the refinishing, sewing, and painting yourself as possible.

April Showers and Mud Bow to Special Room

April showers may bring May flowers, but they also bring muddy shoes and rubbers. To avoid extra work during the sloppy season, set aside a special place for Dad and the youngsters to remove their muddy footwear. Often a breezeway between house and garage is a good place.

If the floor of your special "mud area" is surfaced with rugged, stainproof ceramic mosaics, the cleaning burden will be lightened even more. The hard surface of ceramic tile is waterproof and the easiest thing in the world to keep clean.

NEW CHURCH — Buff brick and two kinds of wood paneling are featured in the sanctuary of the new Christian and Missionary Alliance Church on North Cass Lake road. Both redwood and birch have been used. The chandeliers are of Swedish iron. Pews and pulpit furniture are blond oak. Men of the church made up a building committee and supervised the construction work.

Hobby Boards Serve as Guest Trays

Each year more Americans — young and old alike — adopt hobbies in their leisure time.

Most of the hobbies are simple and require little material. Cards, writing, painting and family games, however, require ample table space. Hobby boards of durable plastic-finished hardboard have solved many family disputes when no tables were available.

Each member of the family may have his own large hobby board. Since predecorated hardboard comes in 10 attractive colors, each hobbyist can identify his own board.

Additional hobby boards come in handy when guests arrive to participate in card games, stamp and coin hobbies and amusement games. The attractive boards may "double" as food trays for buffets and late evening snacks.

Roofs in Color Add to Beauty of Today's Home

If you are remodeling or buying a home you now have an opportunity to make its outside color scheme reflect your personality as much as inside colors do.

Asphalt roof shingles coated with slate, stone or ceramic granules now come in a choice of bright colors, blends and pastels. These can either harmonize or contrast with exterior wall colors, as you choose.

Here's some good decorating advice in selecting roof and exterior wall colors:

1. You can use roof colors to establish a mood. Greens, for instance, are cool, refreshing and soothing. Reds and browns are warm and hospitable.

2. Use subdued colors on roofs of tall houses. Bright colors tend to make the house look taller. On the other hand, the appearance of a low, squat house may be enhanced by bright, eye - catching shingles.

3. If you seek color harmony, pick out your main color first and decide on a secondary color that is a mixture of another primary color and your main color.

4. If you seek contrast, use two different primary colors or blends of each.

Termite Trap Laid in House Foundation

By International News Service

Termite carpets that poison the insects are being laid under 100 houses in tests by scientists at the University of California, Los Angeles.

UCLA entomologists make the mats by stirring insecticides into asphalt, then spraying a thin layer of the mixture over earth where foundations are to be laid.

The layer kills termites and provides a vapor barrier to prevent damage from moisture rising out of the ground.

Air Conditioning Cheaper Now

If you've been thinking seriously about installing central air conditioning in your home, chances are good you can save money by doing it now instead of waiting for summer.

Here's why:

Like most seasonal goods, air-conditioning prices are often lower off season. An air conditioning contractor will be more eager for your business now than he will be in July and probably will give you a lower bid.

You can save an even greater amount on equipment costs by making sure your house is insulated according to recommendations for air conditioning.

Recent studies have shown that in Southern parts of the U. S. home-owners can save up to 27 per cent on equipment if they have 6 inches of mineral wool in ceilings, a minimum of 3 inches in walls, and 2 inches in floors. The same formula saves as much as 20 per cent in most Northern states.

Mineral wool insulation can be blown into walls and ceilings of existing houses by insulation contractors with special pneumatic equipment.

Another advantage of having air conditioning installed in winter is the chance of getting a better job. This is because contractors aren't as rushed as they are in hot weather and are able to devote more time to inspection and check the system's operation.

You also can start enjoying air conditioning on summer's first warm day instead of suffering through weeks of hot weather waiting for a contractor to get around to your job.

More Home Loan Money

The nation's 6,000 savings and loan associations will have more than $12 billion available for home lending in 1958, the United States Savings and Loan League reports. The League said this would compare with $10.5 billion in 1957, and would represent an all-time high as far as savings associations are concerned.

Concrete Roof Covers Store

NEW YORK — A thin concrete shell covering nearly 15,000 square feet without a single interior support hovers at the base of a new seven-story department store in Denver, Colorado's, $35 million Court House Square development.

The shell is the roof of the store's specialty shop, and is reported to be one of the largest of its type ever constructed in the U. S.

According to the current issue of Architectural Record, a professional magazine for architects and engineers published by F. W. Dodge Corporation, the shell, called a hyperbolic paraboloid, spans an area approximately 112 ft. by 131 ft. without interior supports while rising to a center height of 32 feet.

The roof, roughly resembling a huge four-pointed leaf, consists of poured concrete ranging in thickness from a mere three inches for the skin proper to six inches at the edges.

The roof is supported by steel buttresses at four points, alternately 112 and 131 feet apart, and hinged to the shell with stainless steel pins. The steel bar and wire-reinforced shell was poured in place in a special formwork, then surfaced with a built-up roofing of fiberglas insulation.

The giant formwork was suspended on 290 jacks, each capable of being lowered four inches. Upon completion of the shell, the roof was "de-centered" (formwork removed) by lowering the individual jacks a single turn at a time.

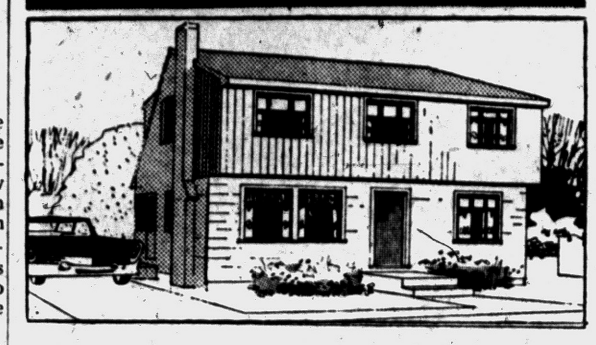
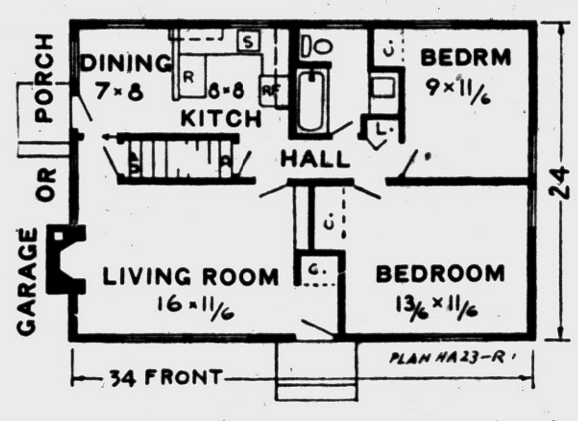
HOMES FOR AMERICANS





TWO STORY HOUSE — This compact, two-story home has four bedrooms and two baths plus dining room, living room and kitchen. All bedrooms, including the two on the second floor, have large closets. The 816 square foot house has a full basement. The plan, HA23-R is by Architect Jan Reiner, Box 12, Boston 17, Mass.

Renovate Table Top With Hardboard

An old card table, marred by long use, cigaret burns and beverage stains, can be refinished inexpensively with a plastic-finished hardboard top. This new surface will retain its original finish and resist moisture, heat, stains, abrasion and other hard wear.

The old material and all loose particles should be removed before the new top is fitted. A piece of predecorated hardboard should be cut to the exact table size to insure a neat job.

Fasten the panel by applying a rubber base mastic to both the card table top and the hardboard. The edges should be painted or stained to complete the project.

Lumber dealers stock this plastic-finished paneling that comes in plain colors, woodgrains and marble patterns.

Two Partitions Result in Room for Four

One of the simplest forms of fixture separation for privacy in the bathroom consists of a partition installed between bathtub-shower combination and water closet, when both fixtures are on the same wall. Since each fixture will then be surrounded by three walls, the enclosure can be made complete by fitting the two compartments with doors, the Plumbing-Heating-Cooling Information Bureau explains.

If space permits, it's a good idea to put twin lavatories in the area outside. Then four members of the family can share the bath at the same time.

More for Existing Homes

Roughly 35 per cent of the home loans closed by the nation's 6,000 savings and loan associations in 1957 were used to finance new homes, with the remainder going to finance existing houses, reports the United States Savings and Loan League.

The Nobel prizes (Swedish) for outstanding world contributions in physics, chemistry, physiology or medicine, literature and world peace annually amount to $40,000 each.

Create Smart Floor by Varying Color

A smart trend in interior decorating this year is the use of various shades of one color, or the creation of illusions of shades by the use of various textures all in one color.

Decorators are making extensive use of random tones in floor coverings, such as cork tile and the new solid vinyl corktone. Various browns ranging from light to dark are included in random tones of cork tile and are laid without any attempt at creating a regular pattern. The effect is a general softness simulating the depth of texture.

Ideal backgrounds are created by using random tones on a floor and one of the floor shades in monotone on the walls, and vice versa.

Similar schemes can be worked out in the wide variety of colors now available in random tones both in asphalt tile and vinyl asbestos tile.

Plan a room for easy maintenance. Eliminate bric-a-brac as a part of the room setting, excessive carving or anything else that makes cleaning difficult.

Don't Try Mixing Paints

In mixing or thinning paints, remember that oil and water will not mix. Oil-base paint can't be mixed with latex paint. For thinning oil-base paint, turpentine or mineral spirits are used. Rubber base paint (latex) takes water.

Apply Shellac First

Smoothing wood grain that has raised is sometimes difficult to do because wood fibers refuse to yield to the action of abrasive paper. The abrasive cuts better and faster, if you apply a wash coat of pure, thinned white shellac. Then, apply shellac to seal and protect the wood.

"BIG FAMILY" HOUSE — Perfect for a narrow lot, this small house with the big look has seven rooms and 1½ baths. It has three bedrooms and even a fourth if desired. Exterior is wood siding with stone chimney and stone trim.

Small House Deceiving in Looks, Fits Big Family

By JOHN O. B. WALLACE

Are you trying to keep a roof over the heads of a large family, on a "small family" income? Here is a house designed to help solve your problem:

It can be built on a town - sized lot. Yet it has three, or even four, bedrooms.

It has a 20 by 12 foot living room, an 11 by 8 foot dining room, a center hall plan, an 11 by 10 foot kitchen, an attached garage, a master bedroom suite and even an outdoor patio.

These are all "large house" features — yet the house can be built at moderate cost on a lot as narrow as 50 feet.

Architect Lester Cohen, who created this plan designated HW-98 in the House of The Week series, went to work on this difficult design assignment with some misgivings.

"To complicate an already difficult problem," he explains, "most people like the convenience of an attached garage." Cohen solved that problem, among others.

The garage makes the seven-room house appear larger than it is; the garage makes the patio possible and, best of all, the garage removes the "accordion" look so often found in narrow houses.

FOURTH BEDROOM OR DEN

The room that is really unexpected in a house of these dimensions is the fourth bedroom. It has all necessary details to serve as an extra sleeping room if your family needs it.

Or it is adaptable as a den, a study, a guest room, or a playroom. This room, separated by folding doors from the center hall, is the indoor counterpart of the patio on the other side of the house — it's secluded private and convenient.

The center hall plan, unusual in a narrow house, is a major interior feature. Because of it, no room becomes a corridor.

The living room is at the front, with a two-way, corner fireplace that can be shared by both the living and dining rooms. The living room has two full walls for high bookcases or other built - in furniture. The living and dining rooms form an L, with a 20 foot sweep across the front and the same sweep from front to back.

Sliding glass doors form a window wall for one side of the dining room and open onto the patio, which extends nearly 20 feet and is enclosed on one end by the garage and on the other by the master bedroom suite.

There is direct access to the patio from the master bedroom, the garage, the dining room and the kitchen. The service entrance to the kitchen is from the patio. The master bedroom lavatory is convenient for use as a guest washroom from the outdoor patio.

WELL PLANNED KITCHEN

The kitchen has corner doors, one to the dining room, one to the patio and one to the core of the house with ready access to the cellar stairs and the front door. The "L" arrangement of the kitchen leaves an area for a breakfast nook or a built-in snack bar.

The master bedroom, a suite in every sense of the word, is distinctive for a house of this size. The suite is noise - insulated from other rooms by a huge dressing alcove that includes a built-in vanity and a group of four, extra - large closets with sliding doors.

The children's bedrooms are of comfortable size. One has cross ventilation, and there are two large windows in the other. A bathroom with an alcove vanitory and a built-in tub serves all bedrooms other than the master bedroom and is handy to the center hall.

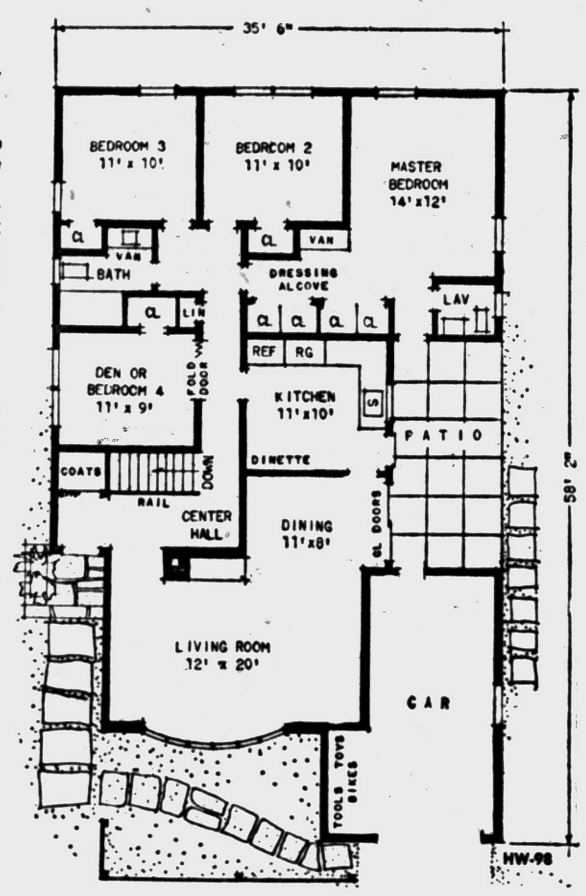
The exterior of the house is in wood siding with a stone chimney and stone trim at the front, a white pine plywood flush gable at the front and rear, an asphalt shingled roof, a bow picture window at the front of the living room, a wood fence, a lamp post and a decorative overhead garage door.

If you are interested in seeing a study plan of this house, send 35 cents in coin to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac 12, Michigan, and ask for House of the Week Plan HW-98. Please do not send stamps.

Statistics

The overall dimensions of House of The Week HW-98 are 35 feet 6 inches by 58 feet 2 inches, including the garage and the patio. The house has 1,395 square feet, excluding garage and patio. It will handily fit a 50 by 100 foot lot. A 50-foot lot is just about as narrow as present building permits allow, but even where there is no zoning or building requirements, this house is ideal for the smaller "forgotten" piece of property.



CENTER HALL PLAN — With the center hall, a major interior feature of this house, no room becomes a corridor. Note how the patio is sheltered by both the garage and the master bedroom. The corner fireplace in the living room serves both living and dining rooms.

Install Extra Tap for Super Hot Water

G By International News Service

The trend toward instant foods is adding something new to the kitchen sink — an extra tap for water that is always 200 degrees hot, or just below boiling.

The automatic unit, introduced at the recent International Home Furnishings Market in Chicago, is designed to provide 10 cups of hot water from the tap at a time and heats up to 80 cups per hour, electrically.

The water temperature is hot enough to be used for instant beverages and desserts and to heat baby's formula, according to the manufacturer. (Delta-T-Inc., Cedar Grove, N. J.)

It can be installed in any cabinet sink.

Spots on your stainless steel kitchen equipment can be removed by rubbing the spots with a cloth dampened in vinegar.

Take Care With Flooring

When composition flooring materials are removed from the concrete subfloor for replacement with hardwood block or patterned design flooring, be sure the task is performed thoroughly. Even minute fragments of asphalt tile, linoleum or similar material must not be allowed to remain on the concrete.

The next procedure is to examine the bare subfloor for unevenness and loose, moist wet spots. Also, holes or any other defect which might cause imperfect bonding of the new hardwood flooring.

The top surface of the existing concrete floor, properly leveled, should then receive a coating of asphalt primer and be allowed to dry 24 hours before damp-proofing or asphalt mastic is applied.

In the mastic application of the blocks, it is essential that the mastic shall have great adhesive and cohesive strength and shall remain elastic during the life of the floor.

There are many attractive patterns of hardwood flooring available including square, rectangle, herringbone and end-to-end patterns. The end-to-end pattern in the species of Northern hard maple is popular for such replacements in gymnasiums, multi - purpose rooms, family rooms, dens, bakeries and shops. In this particular pattern, each course is interlocked with sawtoothed steel splines driven into slotted ends.

Hardboard Panel on Door Back Has Many Uses

Many homemakers who have two children sharing one room often find it overcrowded, but now a plastic-finished paneling puts previously unused space on the back of a bedroom door to work.

Once the door's recesses are filled in with insulating board, apply a panel of hardboard with adhesive. Knead the panel to assure a strong bond.

A plain polar white panel can be used for a writing board since this material can be cleaned quickly with a damp cloth. Children may do their homework or write messages with crayons or grease pencil on the back of the door without marring the finish.

Hardboard is available in seven attractive woodgrains and six marble patterns that make a fine backing for a picture gallery of movie stars or athletic heroes. Use rubber cement to hang the pictures, which may be alternated or changed at any time because rubber cement can be rubbed off in a jiffy.

The home handyman can utilize this space for a bright toy box, shoe rack or coat rack by using a Peg-Board panel. More than 60 specially - designed fixtures are available to hang articles on these perforated panels.

Protect House With Caulking

Preparing the home buildings for winter weather is the chief concern of country dwellers at this time of year. The prudent homeowner will go over his buildings carefully with quality caulking compounds which will prevent the seepage of destructive moisture. Besides keeping out rain and snow —as well as dust and insects— caulking aids in conserving heat. In winter a properly caluked house will conserve heat by keeping out cold air, and thereby holding the heating expense to a reasonable level.

Many brands of quality caulking compounds are now available. Caulking compound is a uniform blend of pigments, oils and thinners. The result is a semi-solid that remains plastic to the touch and enables the compound to expand and contract with temperature changes.

Caulking must be accomplished correctly if expected to fulfill its mission. First prepare the surface. See that it is clean, dry, free of dust, moisture and grease. Masonry surfaces need to be dusted off with a stiff bristle brush. Metal and glass should be free of any oil or dirt. Non-porous surfaces require wiping with mineral spirits or similar thinners, but should be thoroughly dry when the compound is applied so that a good bond will result.

Whether a building is of frame, brick or masonry, the areas around the doors and windows should be carefully caulked. Other points where caulking should be used are the floor-wall junctions, parapet and roof joints and joints between masonry blocks.

Two different forms of caulking compounds are available. The first type is designed for application with a "gun." You merely pull the trigger which causes the compound to be forced from the nozzle in a uniform bead. The second type is packaged in tubes. From these, the compound is extruded by squeezing the tube from the bottom to force the compound from the nozzle.

The manufacturers exert great care in formulating caulking compounds. They should be used as receiver. Caulking should not be applied when the temperature is

Importance of Color

Color can be profitable in the factory and farm as well as in the home and office. Intelligent use of color on factory machines, for example, brings positive results for both employer and employes, such as better morale, greater safety, more efficiency, less waste, reduction of nervous tension and eye strain, better workmanship, high output, less absenteeism, fewer accidents and better labor-management relationships.

Germans Build 3 Luxury Trains for Red China

BERLIN (INS) — Three of the world's most luxurious trains are being made by Communist East Germany for use by the top officials of Red China.

The first of these trains, painted bright red, has just been finished at the people's owned car factory at Goerlitz and has been dispatched to China.

A Chinese Communist diplomat who inspected the first of these trains said the luxury liner had accommodations for five high officials and their staffs.

The upholstery is silk-covered, the interior woodwork is of teak and the floors are covered with handmade carpets.

While floating through China amidst this comfort, Mao Tse-tung's cohorts will never be short of hot water, or a telephone or the best in medical care.

The train has 15 cars, composed of five sleeping cars, five office cars, two diners, two recreation cars and a hospital car.

Each stateroom in the sleepers has radio, television and two phone lines.

The Chinese diplomat did not know how much the trains were costing.

Sells Business for $4

QUINCY, Ill. (AP) — The New China restaurant, operated by Sam Wong for 31 years, has new owners after an exchange of $4 cash.

Wong values the business at $50,000 but because he wants to live in San Francisco, he turned the establishment over to Harry Chin, Henry Jil, Tom Hom and George Wong, employes.

Trap Baited by Wife Ends 3-Month Flight

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — A trap baited by his wife ended the three-month flight of Paul E. Shade, wanted in the alleged $250,000 Youngstown, Ohio, insurance claims swindle.

The 31-year-old Shade, termed by police a key man in the alleged fraud ring in which 15 persons have been implicated, was captured at gunpoint at the Crossroads of America Motel in nearby Vandalia last night.

His wife's price for trapping him: a one-hour reunion along with the couple's two children.

"I wanted the kids to see him not behind bars," she said.

Taken to the Vandalia jail, Shade said he had intended to turn himself in anyway.

1957-58 Cage Highlights

Troy High School's basketball team, with Oakland County Coach-of-the-Year Peyton Goodwin at the helm, walked off with a lion's share of the honors in the county area this year.

The Colts, blessed with great balance and exceptional poise, chalked up a better overall record and went further in the state tourney than any other Oakland prep team during the 1957-58 season just concluded.

They were far superior to their opposition in the Oakland B League, winning 10 loop games in as many starts to run away with the title, and they finished the regular season schedule with a perfect 16-0 mark.

Troy tacked on two victories in the district tourney, won two more while taking the regional crown, then bowed by two points to Flint Tech in the state quarter-finals, 48-46, to end its year with an auspicious record of 20 triumphs against only one setback.

The Colts boasted the finest defensive mark in the county. Romeo holds the distinction of being the lone team to score 50 or more points against the Colts, a losing 53-point effort in the finals of the Class B district tourney.

Dick Booth, 6-foot-2 center named on today's All-County quintet, and Wayne Figley, a member of the "B" honor squad, were the key performers for Troy, which was magnificently coached by Goodwin.

Clarkston, Berkley, Ferndale and Pontiac Central also deserve many plaudits for their successes this past season.

The Clarkston Wolves won the Wayne-Oakland Conference title for the 2nd year in a row and, despite their misfortune in the district tournament, wound up with an outstanding 15-3 record.

Berkley captured the Inter-Lakes crown for the 3rd straight time and won 14 decisions in 17 games. Ferndale shared the Eastern Michigan throne room with East Detroit and posted an impressive 16-2 mark.

Pontiac, defending Saginaw Valley champion, overcame graduation losses for a commendable season. The Chiefs gained a 3rd place tie with Saginaw in the final Valley standings and had an overall record of 14 wins in 20 starts.

For sheer individual brilliance, no one could match the game-in and game-out performances of Clarkston's Leroy Parks and Earl McNeal of Ferndale. Both are repeaters on today's All-County team and each received all-state recognition.

Lake Orion's Nick Neira, another member of the All-County squad and his Dragon teammates seized the individual and team single game scoring records for the 1957-58 season.

Last February 14 Neira rattled the hoop for 50 points and the Dragons broke the century mark as Orion handed Madison a 102-37 drubbing while setting two new school records. Neira was the county scoring champion.

Southfield enjoyed its greatest fling of the season during the Christmas vacation by winning a holiday invitational tourney at Farmington.

Lakeside Royals Out of Tourney

Getting off to a slow start last night in the Michigan Recreation association basketball tourney at Ypsilanti, Pontiac's lone entry never caught up and was eliminated. Lakeside Royals bowed to Jackson, 56-45.

A first period count of 17-11 gave the Jackson club an edge it never relinquished, although Royals, Pontiac Recreation representative, came within three points at halftime, 28-25. Royals' Gerald Fudge led scoring with 13 points.

Results of other games and today's windup schedule:

Kalamazoo 99, Wyandotte 58; Flint 69, Highland Park 68; Ypsilanti 68, Grand Rapids 60. Kalamazoo vs. Ypsi; Jackson vs. Flint are set for this afternoon. Championship games at 8 p.m.

Iowa State and A&M Lead NCAA Matmen

LARAMIE, Wyo. (AP) — With six men each in the semi-finals, Iowa State and Oklahoma State appeared set for a down-to-the-line battle today for the 1958 wrestling championship.

Iowa State held the slim 19-17 advantage over the Iowans, while Oklahoma's 1957 champions were close behind with 13 points and three men in today's bouts.

Other team standings at the end of quarter-finals:

Michigan State 10; Iowa, Wyoming and Lehigh 8 each; Cornell 7; Oregon and Maryland 6 each; Illinois 5; Colorado State College, Iowa Teachers, Mankato, Nebraska, Oregon State, Pittsburgh, 4 each; Penn State, Colgate, Colorado, Kansas State, Lock Haven, Pa., and Minnesota 2 each; Colorado Mines, Southern Illinois, Springfield, Mass., Utah State and Western State, 2 each; Brigham Young, California Poly, Cornell, Dartmouth, Indiana, Kent State and San Jose State, 1 each.

Battle Goes to Wire in NCAA Swim Meet

OSU Leads 'M' by 1 Point in Last 6 Events

Final Important Races to Be Televised Today From Ann Arbor

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Ohio State was clinging to a one-point margin today in a National Collegiate Athletic Assn. swimming meet that has been notable for its surprises.

The top surprise was the Buckeyes' grip on first place over defending champion and favorite Michigan. Ohio State, which won 10 previous teamtitles, had scored 43 points to Michigan's 42 entering today's last six events.

These races will be televised nationally (CBS 3 p.m. EST).

Then too, it was surprising the Wolverines have yet to unleash their vaunted strength. They expected to take a commanding lead in last night's eight events.

But with the failure of Dick Hanley to win the 220-yard free style and Tony Tashnick to qualify for the 200-yard individual medley, Michigan lost crucial points.

Yale likewise was a bit off schedule in third with 30 points. The Elis' Tim Jecko had been counted on for a first in the medley after the favorite Tashnick didn't qualify. Instead Joe Hunsaker of Illinois took the event in 2:09.6. Defending champion Jecko finished third.

The Yale star also was dethroned in the 200-yard butterfly by Tashnick.

Tashnick swam the speediest 200-yard butterfly ever turned in by a collegian in winning the event in 2:04.2. It shattered Jecko's American collegiate mark of 2:08.6 and his NCAA meet record of 2:09.5. Jecko placed second.

Michigan suffered a disappointment when star freestyler Hanley was nipped at the tape in the 220 by Yale's Roger Anderson. In this thrilling race, Anderson was clocked at 2:03.7 and oddly, Hanley in one-tenth of a second less.

Frank Modine of Michigan State took the 100-yard breast stroke in 1:05.2. His 1:05.0 in the preliminary was considered a new collegiate record because the faster underwater stroke has been outlawed.

Gary Morris of Iowa won the 50-yard free style :22.4 with 1956 champion Robin Moore of Stanford coming in fifth.

Don Harper of Ohio State won the three-meter diving. It was his second gold medal of the meet.

Palmer Leading by One Stroke

Finsterwald Trails as Azalea Open Moves to Second Round

WILMINGTON, N.C. (AP) — Dow Finsterwald appears to be making a career of chasing Arnold Palmer.

Going into today's second round of the $15,000 Azalea Open Golf Tournament, Palmer held a one-stroke lead over Finsterwald.

That's exactly the way they stood last Sunday when Palmer came up with a last round 65 to nose out Finsterwald by one stroke for top money at St. Petersburg, Fla.

And a year ago this week Palmer, a Latrobe, Pa., pro who was National Amateur champion in 1954, finished one stroke ahead of Finsterwald, of Tequesta, Fla., in winning here.

Palmer sliced six strokes off par with a first round 66 on nine hole scores of 34-32. Finsterwald, Vardon Trophy winner last year when he averaged 70.3 strokes for 108 rounds, came in with 33-34.

Maples Will Defend Links Title

Press Prep Tourney May 26

By H. GUY MOATS

The Birmingham Maples will be back, shooting for their fifth championship, but the 1957 Pontiac Press Prep Golf Invitational kings may face a tough row come May 26. Seventh annual tourney, "produced" by this newspaper, and the only event of its kind, up to now, in the state, has been scheduled for Monday, May 26 at Pontiac Municipal Course.

Invitations have gone out to more than a score of area high schools, with deadline for entries on May 21. In case of inclement weather that would definitely prevent play (sustained downpour) tourney will be held Tuesday, May 27. Pairings and starting times will be published as soon as possible after the entries are determined.

There are no changes in the rules, which require all players to be eligible, as in all other sports, under MHSSA requirements.

Play will be over an 18-hole route with medal totals for five-man teams determining the standings.

Awards will include the big, rotating championship trophy, now held by Birmingham, a plaque for permanent possession by the winning school, plus gold medals to the title team, a gold medal for the tourney medalist, Class A and Class B-C medalist awards.

The champion Maples will have two of last year's team back as an important nucleus for another try at the title. Pete Green, one of the area's rising young players, and last year's medalist, with 71, and Warren Sumner, who had 79 with the Maples' winning total of 378 will lead Carl Lemle's team this season.

First five team finishers in the 1957 tourney will all be back, according to early indications, and there will probably be another tight battle for top honors. Pontiac Central High was the runnerup with 398. Royal Oak Dondero had 408, Bloomfield Hills was fourth (B winner), with 449 and RO Shrine had 450 for fifth. Pontiac St. Frederick was sixth with 451.

The 1957 tourney was highlighted by the only ace in the event's history. It was carded by a St. Frederick player. Dick Kast sunk his tee shot on No. 2 hole of the south course.

Foreign 9s May Play in Little League Tourney

CHICAGO (AP) — Little League baseball officials yesterday outlined plans for an eight-team tournament involving four foreign entries.

League officials hope this year's series will include representatives from Canada, Latin America, Europe and the Pacific in addition to four United States regional champions.

President Peter J. McGovern outlined plans for a continuing effort to establish a million dollar foundation which "would insure the security and integrity of the (Little League) program."

All-Star Prep Five Averages 6-7 Tall

NEW YORK (AP) — Five high school basketball players who average 6-7 in height were named today to a national scholastic team picked for Parade Magazine.

The second team was made up of Norman Grow, Foley, Minn.; Terry Bishinger, Garfield, Terre Haute, Ind.; Wayne Hightower, Overbrook, Philadelphia; Doug Mills, Galesburg, Ill., and Robert McLoughlin, West New York, N.J.

Former Major Star Succumbs

Chuck Klein Dies at 54

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Charles Herbert "Chuck" Klein, 54, who drove out 300 home runs and 2,076 hits in a 17-year major league baseball career, died in his brother-er's home yesterday.

The National League's most valuable player in 1932, he dropped out of baseball after the 1943 season as his health began to fail.

A cerebral hemorrhage caused his death in the bathroom at the home of his brother, Frank V. Klein. He had gone to wash after working in the yard, and water from a running tap had flooded the room by the time his sister-in-law returned home and found the body.

He had been unable to work in regular employment in the last 10 years because of his health.

Klein broke into the majors with the Philadelphia Phillies during the 1928 season and spent most of his career with that team, although he also played with the Chicago Cubs and Pittsburgh.

He led the league in homers four times and RBIs twice. He batted lefthanded and had a major league lifetime batting average of .320.

The funeral will be Tuesday at 10 a.m., EST in St. James Catholic Church here.

4-Man Area Archery Team 2nd in Tourney

Four members of the Giles Archery Service bow team, shooting in the recent 1st annual Big Rapids indoors championships, finished 2nd with a 2775 total. Winner was Mecosta County Archers, with 2976. Scoring was on the Chicago round at 20 yards. Seven teams took part.

The Giles team, and individual scores, included Tom Adams (736), Jack Borah (710), Bill Giles (669) and Jim Hargreaves (660). This quartet will engage in an extended summer archery campaign, covering Michigan, Central and Eastern United States tourneys.

Crawford Wins, Seeks Title Try

Saginaw Welter Takes TV Bout With Turner; Low Blows Costly

NEW YORK (AP)—It was a typical fight aftermath. The winner, young Mickey Crawford, hollered for a chance at the title. The loser, veteran Gil Turner, gave out with the usual "we wuz robbed" beef. And no subpoenas were handed out.

Crawford, 24, fast-rising prospect from Saginaw, Mich., proved he belonged with the welterweight elite, by nosing out Turner, 27, fourth-ranked contender from Philadelphia, in the television 10-rounder at Madison Square Garden last night.

If there was anyone to blame, Turner should have singled himself out for the rap. His low blows cost him the fight. He would have received a draw except for the fouls. Referee Al Berl warned him for low lefts in the first two rounds. When Gil strayed below the border again in the third, Berl took the round from him.

The officials' votes, all with Crawford ahead, went like this: Judge Sam Irom, 6-4, Referee Berl, 5-4-1, and Judge Artie Aidala 5-5 in rounds and 6-5 for Crawford in points.

Good News for Red Wings

Kelly May Return Sunday

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Red Wings, down 2-0 in their best-of-seven semi-final Stanley Cup playoff series with the Montreal Canadiens, had good news today as they prepared for Sunday night's game here.

Doctors at Detroit Osteopathic Hospital say the Wings' all-star defenseman, Red Kelly, probably will see action against the Canadiens Sunday night.

Kelly was treated at the hospital yesterday for a minor gastro-intestinal upset. The Red Wing captain was rushed by plane from Montreal Thursday night after he complained of abdominal pains. Dr Milton Kosley, team physician, feared it might be appendicitis.

Kelly's illness was revealed in the Detroit dressing room in the forum at Montreal after the Wings dropped a 5-1 decision to the Canadiens.

Tigers Need 19 Hits and 5 Hurlers to Win

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — So far this spring the hitting by Detroit Tiger batters has been little less than terrific while the pitching has been a little more than erratic.

Nearly all the Tiger regulars are hitting above the .300 mark — for that matter the team batting average is only a little less. But the pitchers have been the cause of no little worry to manager Jack Tighe.

The Tigers managed to pull that one out of the fire 12-11 in the ninth inning. But it took 19 hits, including two home runs by catcher Red Wilson and one by Al Kaline to offset the somewhat inept efforts of five Detroit pitchers.

The victory, which went to Harry Byrd, the last Tiger Hurler, was the sixth for the Tigers in 17 spring training games.

Billy Martin, who paced the Detroit attack with four safeties, scored the winning run. He singled in the Tiger half of the ninth, moved to third on a walk and hit batter, and scored on Gail Harris' infield grounder.

Kaline, Wilson, Frank Bolling and Harvey Kuenn got three hits apiece.

In addition, Kaline, playing right field for the first time in 10 days drove in four runs. He'd been sidelined with a sore arm.

But the pitching department sagged again.

Bunning started and did well enough until Felipe Montemayor slammed a two-run homer in the sixth. It was one of three Dodger homers.

The Dodgers sent Bunning to the showers in the next frame with a six-run outburst. He was followed to the mound by Bob Bruce, Hank Aguirre, Joe Presko and Byrd.

'Big Klu' Raps 2 Homers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Four big league pitchers were over another mound test today and only one—Robin Roberts—had any misgivings. The other hurlers are Frank Baumann of Boston, Bob Rush of Milwaukee and Jack Harshman of Baltimore.

Roberts, who has been the favorite target of National League batsmen since he came up to the Majors 10 years ago, continued to have the gopher ball blues yesterday.

The four-time 20 game winner, a 22-game loser in 1957, was pasted for five homers—four in one inning—by the Pittsburgh Pirates. Robin established the existing big league mark by permitting 46 home runs in 1956.

Ted Kluszewski walloped two of Pittsburgh's homers. Benny Daniels, Johnny Powers and Danny Kravitz got the others for the Pirates who won 8-7.

Baumann, a fastballing lefthander who has been bothered by a sore wing the past few seasons, turned in his best showing of the exhibition season as the Red Sox downed Cincinnati 8-5. The former bonus baby yielded only two runs and three hits in a five-inning stint. One of the blows was the fourth home run of the spring by the Redlegs' Frank Robinson.

Rush, who toiled for the lowly Chicago Cubs 10 years before being rescued by the Braves the past winter, showed his appreciation in Milwaukee's 11-2 victory over the Chicago White Sox. Rush went the distance and yielded only five hits. He retired the last 10 batters to face him.

Harshman, troubled by a back ailment while with the White Sox in 1957, was the winning pitcher as Baltimore whipped the Chicago Cubs 144-7. He pitched five innings and yielded five runs. But the former first basman hit the game's only homer, a three-run blast in the fourth.

In other games, Washington whipped the New York Yanks 6-4 in a game marred by an injury to Mickey Mantle; the St. Louis Cards beat Kansas City 4-2 and Cleveland nipped San Francisco 9-8.

Mantle sustained a charley horse in his left leg while grounding into a double play in the first inning. He retired in the third, but the injury is not believed serious.

Whitey Herzog was the Senators' big gun. He blasted a two-run homer in the ninth for the margin of victory. The circuit blow was hit off Bob Grim, who now has an earned run average of 8.19 for 11 innings.

722 Dogs Entered for April 6 Show

Oakland County Kennel Club's spring, all-breed, benched dog show, on April 6, will have an entry of 722, according to final check on the lists. Show will be held at the Detroit Artillery Armory, in Oak Park, starting at 9 a.m., concluding at 9 p.m.

No champions owned by OCKC members will be shown in competition, but class dogs of members will compete for championship points, best of breed, group, and coveted best in show awards. Members who have champions have entered them in the "exhibition only" class. These dogs will be benched for spectators to see.

A RARE OPPORTUNITY

To invest $20,000 or more, in a syndicate purchasing several different, choice, large revenue producing properties in Detroit, that are worth more than $2,000,000 today. Consisting of 5 stores, all leased to chain tenants, two hotels with a total of 700 rooms and a large apartment house with 120 units in an excellent renting location.

We were fortunate in securing these properties for sale and we will pay 10% per annum in dividends to you, distributed in quarterly installments, on the capital that you invest.

We have mortgage commitments on these properties and are allowed an especially large obsolescence and depreciation factor on income tax returns.

The properties will be managed by one of the largest and best management firms in Detroit and they will issue statements of the earnings and expenses when dividends are paid.

This is an opportunity seldom offered to the small investor and you are relieved of any management problems and will have an opportunity for capital growth as well as an attractive cash return on your investment as we intend to make some alterations and improvements on some of these properties that will increase the revenue considerably.

Not Rushing Program at Present

GM, Ford Aiming at '60 to Introduce Small Cars

By DAVID J. WILKIE
AP Automotive Editor

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors and Ford reportedly are now aiming at 1960 for introduction of their American-built small cars.

Earlier reports had it that GM was pressing for an early 1959 presentation and that Ford had instituted a "crash" program—an extremely costly project—to get a small unit on its assembly lines ahead of its major rival.

WORK ADVANCED

Both GM and Ford have their preliminary work well advanced and the newest plans could be altered. At present, however, it appears Ford had called off the "crash" program, following the change in GM's planning.

The planning for production of a small, lower-priced car by GM and Ford took shape when sales of similar foreign-built cars began to soar.

Percentagewise they continue to mount, but the overall car market this year is not likely to be as broad as it was in 1957. So total retail sales of imported vehicles may fall short of the predicted total of more than 300,000 units.

Imported units last year accounted for about 212,000 retail sales.

Production and merchandising of General Motors' small car will be by Chevrolet, unless there is a change in recent planning. Chevrolet was given a similar assignment about 10 years ago, but the plans were abandoned on the ground the operation would not be profitable.

At that time it was figured any sales volume attained with the small car would be largely at the expense of Chevrolet's regulation size models. Some engineering experts of other companies said that after cutting down on numerops features of their regular models the cost saving would amount to less than $100.

Apparently this viewpoint has been changed. Unless the bottom drops out of the small car market General Motors and Ford will eventually produce much shorter wheelbase units on their U. S. production lines. They will be tagged to sell at prices under $2,000, including taxes.

* * *

And, either with an imported unit or an American-built car, Chrysler also will be in the small car competition. It has been considering the advisability of a deal with a foreign car maker and also the production of a small vehicle on its own U. S. assembly lines.

There has been no indication of any early dicision by Chrysler.

Foreign-built cars, including those imported by General Motors, Ford, American Motors and Studebaker-Packard, took approximately 3½ per cent of the total U. S. market last year. The total moved sharply upward in December and January, pressing the five per cent point.

* * *

The stepped-up imports of GM and Ford undoubtedly figured in the December - January increase. Studebaker-Packard also reported a sharp upturn in deliveries of its Mercedes-Benz line.

Most of the foreign cars sold in the U. S. market were in the low price class—below $2,000. But any competition that takes up to five per cent of the market is deserving of serious consideration. American car makers are giving the foreign car invasion that kind of study.

The January volume of foreign car sales in this country topped the combined total of American Motors and Studebaker - Packard

Romeo Teachers Seeking Higher Increases in Pay

ROMEO — The salary committee of the Romeo Education Association (Teachers' Club) last night at a special meeting presented its views on the recent $100 base pay hike granted by the School Board.

One committeemen said the minimum $4,300 for teachers with a bachelor's degree is "not a living wage for a married teacher,"

A possible solution to the salary problem in the form of a one-mill tax levy was suggested. This would take the burden of additional wages off the board's shoulders and place it directly in the hands of the voters, the committee said.

Board President Allen Rush's reaction was "let's try to correct the situation rather than push the voters in bankruptcy." He was referring to possible additional sources of revenue other than taxable real estate.

No decision was reached and future joint meetings are planned.

The board adopted a new policy forbidding junior high school students from driving a motor vehicle to school.

A junior high athletic program which will include ninth grade football, baseball and basketball was approved.

The $3,450 bid of the local firm of Ebeling and Hicks to move the Orchard Sales Building from its present location in front of the new high school to the rear of the property was accepted.

Red-U. S. TV Exchange Faces Many Difficulties

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP) — The compromise agreement between the United States and the Soviet Union to widen a variety of exchanges—including television and radio programs — raises some substantial problems for the telecasting-broadcasting industry.

You probably will wait a long time before seeing or hearing any Soviet programs. Russians also apparently have a long wait.

Those spokesmen who will discuss the matter feel an exchange of programs is a fine idea, but they are vague as to exactly how it will be carried out.

John Daly, vice president in charge of news and public affairs for the American Broadcasting Co., expressing approval of the idea and a desire to cooperate in it, emphasized the basic problem when he said:

"In Russia broadcasting is a monopolistic industry. In this country it's a free industry. Thus exchanges between the two raise substantial problems."

The Soviets can accept — or reject — whatever American programs are offered and guarantee to present those they accept on a specific number of their state-run stations.

NO GUARANTEE

The United States can accept — or reject — Soviet programs. But because American stations are autonomous this country cannot guarantee that the programs will appear on a specified number of stations here.

Presumably this problem could be overcome by a committee which would poll individual stations and obtain some kind of guarantee to show a specific number of Soviet programs.
