Ford Extends Hope for Labor Contract

Recent Talks Show Promise of Settlement

Company Head Fails to Say Whether Strike Likely to Be Stopped

DETROIT (AP) — Henry Ford II, president of the Ford Motor Co., said today "events of the past few days encourage us to believe we can reach an agreement that will be economically sound and fair" with the walkout-threatening United Auto Workers Union.

Ford did not speculate whether settlement would come before Wednesday's 10 a.m. strike deadline.

He expressed himself as his company prepared to present later today a new contract offer it hoped would avert a UAW walkout that could idle an estimated 140,000 Ford employes.

The Detroit Times reported today it had learned Ford would offer a three-year contract carrying a wage increase of between 24 and 30 cents an hour over that period.

Without disclosing any source, the Times story added: "It will provide for continuation of the annual improvement factor, cost-of-living escalator clause, improvements in Supplemental Unemployment Benefits and pensions, and make some monetary concessions to skilled tradesmen."

John S. Bugas, a Ford vice president, told newsmen after an unusual Sunday negotiating session with the UAW that Ford was ready to get down to brass tacks.

Ford's contract situation, which was made against the backdrop of the UAW's strike threat, was a duplicate of 1955 bargaining in which Ford came up with a three-year contract offer a few hours after the scheduled start of a UAW strike.

In 1955—the last year of bargaining between the UAW and the automotive big three—Ford, Chrys-

Downtown Pontiac to Become Carnival

Plans are crystallizing for downtown Pontiac's gala five-day festival which will turn the business district into a carnival scene starting Thursday.

Amusement rides will be set up at two locations, Norman Pattison, president of the Downtown Merchants Assn., sponsors of the event, disclosed today.

At city parking lots, W. Lawrence and Wayne and E. Pike at Hill, a variety of rides will be in operation starting Thursday and continuing through Tuesday of next week when the festival ends.

OUTDOOR COOKING

At both locations, too, outdoor cooking facilities are planned so the public can enjoy barbecue, hot dogs, coffee and soft drinks at outdoor tables.

Merchants are giving out tickets with each $1 in purchases which entitle youngsters to take carnival rides at 10 cents each.

The stores are also busy at work on booths that will be placed outside their doors and will feature special values, entertainment, amusement games and costumed clerks.

Many special events are planned for the downtown area during the festival. Bands will play, contests will be held, sport celebrities will make appearances and a boating and outdoor sporting goods show is scheduled.

The merchants are also planning tremendous values on brand new seasonal merchandise. A special section in Wednesday's Pontiac Press will list these buys.

Stores will stay open every night until 9 except the last day, Tuesday, when they will close at 5:30 p.m.

A Davison man is being held today for investigation of manslaughter in a Drayton Plains traffic accident early Sunday which killed two area men.

Dead are Alfred R. Adkins, 21, of 163 Augusta Ave., and David J. Williams, 33, of 6831 Saline St., Waterford Township.

Being held is Alfred H. Thompson, 51. Police said the men were parked alongside U.S. 10 at Hatchery road changing a tire when the Thompson car struck them.

Thompson said he must have fallen asleep at the wheel. Police said there was no evidence he had been drinking. Both Adkins and Williams were killed instantly.

Adkins was thrown onto the highway where another car driven by Lowell R. Palmer, 45, of 45 E. Princeton St., struck him a second time.

Thompson is scheduled to make a statement at the Oakland County Prosecutor's Office today. The accident occurred shortly after midnight Saturday.

Coaches Plunge Into Newark Bay

DISASTER SCENE — A commuter train plunged through a raised drawbridge into Newark Bay this forenoon. One coach sticks out of the water. Two other coaches followed the two diesel locomotives and are submerged. Rescue boats converge on the scene. The picture shows two coaches remaining on the track. The Coast Guard at noon had recovered 15 bodies. More bodies may still be in the coaches under the water.

Commuter Flies Past Draw-Span in New Jersey

Engines, 2 Cars Fall 50 Feet Into Water in 10 A.M. Accident

FROM OUR WIRE SERVICES

ELIZABETH, N.J. — A Jersey Central Railroad commuter train plunged off a bridge and into Newark Bay today. The railroad said the Coast Guard had recovered 15 bodies.

They estimated at least 40 persons perished. Twenty-one others were reported injured.

Twin diesel locomotives and two of the five cars went through a raised drawbridge at 10 a.m. and fell 50 feet into the oily bay waters.

"I was in the third coach reading my paper when suddenly there were people tumbling all over me and water pouring in.

"The coach filled quickly with water to the halfway point. People broke windows to escape and others rushed up into the dry part of the car."

Barry said passengers generally did not panic.

The train had left Elizabethport, N.J., when it rolled through the open drawbridge about halfway across one 1500-foot span to Bayonne.

Railroad spokesmen said normally a train stops when a red light shows, indicating the bridge is open. This time, they said, the train didn't stop. There are derails intended to slow and stop the train before it can go through the open-

Representatives Meet in Poland to Discuss Far East Crisis

WARSAW, Poland (AP)— U. S. and Chinese Communist representatives sat down in a Polish palace today to begin talks on the Far Eastern crisis.

U. S. Ambassador Jacob Beam and Red Chinese Ambassador Wang Ping-nan braved a barrage of reporters and photographers as they arrived at Mysliwiecki Palace, 18th-century hunting lodge of the kings of Poland.

The negotiators said they would discuss the crisis in the Far East, as the world had assumed they would, but top sources were silent on details of any proposals to be put forward.

It is assumed in diplomatic circles here that if the talks show any sign of progress they will move to a higher level for the definitive stages.

The conference here was announced as a resumption of U.S.-Red China discussions held in Geneva for 2½ years, but broken off last Dec. 12.

OK $12-Million County Budget; Circuit Judge's Pay to Be Cut

Circuit judges of Oakland County will take a $1,000 pay cut next year, while present vacation and sick leave plans for county employes will stay intact, under the 1959 county budget of $12,285,723 approved today by supervisors.

Supervisors also decided to boost the drain commissioner's salary next year $1,200 more than the Salaries Committee's recommended 1959 salary of $11,250.

Approved along with the budget and a 1959 salaries schedule of $5,108,899 were recommended pay hikes for five top officials — treasurer, prosecutor, sheriff, secretary of the Board of Auditors, and a member of the Road Commission.

The salaries schedule put a freeze on wages for other county employes, who received increases last year while the officials did not.

Included in the new budget too were $5 per meeting raises for supervisors (from $10 to $15), and a $15 per meeting hike (from $10 to $25) for Delos Hamlin, chairman of the Board of Supervisors.

Supervisors this morning voted 48 to 26 against keeping the judges' salaries at the present 23,500 level, or one thousand dollars more than the maximum set by law.

Carl F. Ingraham, Birmingham supervisor and attorney, moved that the county continue paying its share of $11,000 a year, to be added to the state's share of $12,500.

"I've been assured by the State Auditor General's Office that they would not attempt to enforce the statutue setting the maximum," Ingraham said.

He said this was based on a 1954 ruling of the attorney general that the law was unconstitutional. The Salaries Committee had recommended obeying the law anyway, thereby slicing the judges' pay to $22,500 next year.

Because fellow supervisors refused to accept his motion, Ingraham, along with Duane Hursfall, of Independence Township, and Marshall E. Taylor, of Walled Lake, voted against the budget and salaries report. The final vote was 71-3.

Hursfall said he objected to the county getting a larger share of funds next year while municipalities and school districts in many cases took a cut. Taylor voiced opposition to the $76,365 appropriation for Camp Oakland.

"That's too much money for the benefit derived from the camp," Taylor said.

The 1959 budget compares to the 1958 plan which totaled $10,732,014. To be raised on a $5.62 county tax

Summerfield Will Speak at Post Office Dedication

Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield has accepted an invitation to act as main speaker at dedication ceremonies for Pontiac's new $850,000 post office.

The announcement was made jointly by Acting Postmaster Robert C. Miller and Stuart E. Whitfield, chairman of a Pontiac area Chamber of Commerce committee that has aided in program arrangements.

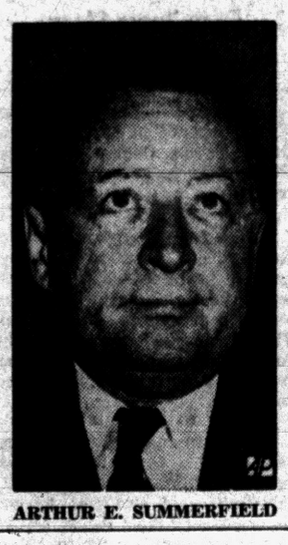

Summerfield tops a long list of dignitaries invited to attend the public program, scheduled for 2 p.m. Sept. 27 in the patron parking area of the W. Huron street building.

★ ★ ★

Many local, county, national and post office department officials are planning to be present, said Miller.

Cloudy and Cooler Outlook for Tuesday

Partly cloudy is the Pontiac area weather outlook for tonight and Tuesday. Tonight's low will be near 60 degrees.

Tuesday will be somewhat cooler, with the mercury expected to reach a high of 73. The evening low will be in the 53-degree range. The temperature soared to a pleasant 83 degrees Sunday afternoon.

In an extended weather outlook the U.S. Weather Bureau at Detroit has predicted temperatures will average three to six degrees below the normal 65 high and normal 46 low for the next five days. Showers and warmer temperatures are expected Friday. Saturday will be cooler.

In downtown Pontiac the lowest temperature recorded preceding 8 a.m. was 63. At 2 p.m. the thermometer registered 81.

Little Rock in 'Cold Fury'

Faubus Closes Four High Schools

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (UPI) — Gov. Orval E. Faubus said today that the sending of 150 U.S. deputy marshals to Little Rock on integration duty has whipped the people into "cold fury."

He has ordered State Police to help City Police put down any disorder.

All four of Little Rock's high schools closed today on Faubus' orders and 3,470 students stayed at home. Faubus said he feared integration would have provoked violence, if he had let the schools open.

★ ★ ★

He said today in a new conference that State Police are on "tentative alert" and may even help the U.S. marshals if they find themselves hard-pressed in a melee.

But he said State Police will not help either City Police or the U.S. marshals integrate Central or any other high school.

In fact, he said, the reason he acceded to a request to let State Police help City Police put down disorder is because city authorities made it "crystal clear" that they will not let City Police help with integration.

Neither Faubus, the NAACP, or the Justice Department made any effort to reopen the schools. Faubus said they may stay closed until a special election on the integration question Oct. 7.

The U.S. Supreme Court last Friday ordered integration to proceed immediately and Faubus ordered them closed as of 8 a.m. today.

"My conviction is that the feeling of the people is much stronger this year," he said.

He said that whereas they met troops last year with "amazement and surprise" the feeling now is "cold fury."

Asked how this "cold fury" will express itself, he said:

"That's what I am alarmed about and why I called the Legislature into special session and closed the schools."

★ ★ ★

"There is no sense in the Negro kids going in," Clarence A. Laws, southwest field secretary of the NAACP, said. "As far as I can determine, like Governor Faubus says, the next move is up to the federal government."

As for the possibility of the

WHAT NEXT? — A guard armed with a revolver keeps watch over Little Rock's Central High School which remained closed today by proclamation of Arkansas Governor Orval Faubus. Citizens are awaiting a plan to operate the school as a private institution and speculate on the next move by the federal government to enforce a Supreme Court order for integration at the school.

Nationalists Make 2nd Successful Run

Airdrop Supplies on Little Quemoy

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — Nationalist cargo planes flew the supply run to Little Quemoy again today. The Defense Ministry said the airdrop was successful.

The announcement gave no other details. Presumably the flight, like the successful one Sunday, was escorted by U. S. and Nationalist fighter squadrons.

Little Quemoy, two miles west of Quemoy, is within easy range of Red jet fighters and probably the antiaircraft guns bristling on Red China's mainland coast.

Whether the U. S. planes were flying in past the three-mile sea limit was not disclosed. U. S. 7th Fleet ships guarding Nationalist sea convoys have remained outside it.

As the Nationalist planes flew the new run, a convoy of Nationalist vessels was assembling in the Pescadores for another trip into the Red artillery curtain around the Nationalist offshore islands. The Pescadores are about midway between Formosa and Quemoy.

★ ★ ★

The supply problem for the outposts, however, was still obviously a big headache, despite the successes of the past two days. U.S. Rear Adm. Paul P. Blackburn, Formosa Strait patrol commander, told newsmen the supply situation "could be better —a helluva lot better."

"I don't guarantee anything except that we are going to try the best we can," he added.

Red shellfire in the past few days had dropped off. After remaining quiet all night, Communist shore batteries opened up this morning and in the next six hours dropped 103 shells on the Quemoy complex.

Newsmen were barred from visiting the Pescadores, Matsu and supply-short Quemoy.

This hint that some sort of major operation might be under way came as a new sea convoy was forming at the Pescadores island supply base 30 miles from Formosa and 70 miles from Quemoy.

Yesterday's successful convoy was directed by U.S. amphibious experts, who apparently showed the Nationalists some new techniques.

As usual, escort ships from the U.S. 7th Fleet stopped at the three mile limit and lay offshore. The American jets covering the operation were believed under similar orders.

The supply ship that got through was an old World War II LST (landing ship, tank), a much larger vessel than the LSM's (landing ship, medium), which failed on four convoys last week. The LST can carry about 1,300 tons of cargo compared with 350 for the LSM.

The LST slammed up to the beach and opened the huge doors in its bows shortly after noon. As the Communists started a 1,600-shell barrage,

Over Grim Weekend

Freakish Accidents Claim Fifteen Lives in Michigan

By United Press International

★ ★ ★

A United Press International survey showed 15 dead in traffic accidents, three drownings and one miscellaneous death.

The quirks of fate were illustrated when two Traverse City youngsters who were enjoying a ride in their father's dump truck fell from the rear of the vehicle late yesterday and smashed against a rural road.

They were eight-year-old Nancy Lamie and her five-year-old brother Frederick. Fred died instantly. Nancy was rushed to a Traverse City hospital where she died a few moments after being admitted.

A 16-months-old baby met death early this weekend when he drowned in a tub of water in his parents home. He was Charles Cromiller of Coldwater.

★ ★ ★

A fourth freakish death occurred in Detroit.

Ralph Miller, 58, was cleaning soot from his chimney. He fell from the roof of his home and was killed when he hit the concrete pavement below.

Sheriff's officers said today they hadn't completed an investigation of a three-fatality head-on crash just outside of Midland.

★ ★ ★

The preliminary report showed two cars cracked together on M30, killing the driver of the southbound car, 17-year-old Jack Dubois of Midland, and the driver of the northbound auto, Ruebes Rifley, 56, Wheeler. Also killed was a passenger in one of the vehicles, 30-year-old Dale Dougherty, Midland.

★ ★ ★

Another multiple-death accident started Saturday in Highland Township, Ottawa County.

Robert Rescorla, 31, of Grand Haven, died instantly in the two-car collision. Mrs. Wilma Nederhode, a 43-year-old Kalamazoo resident, died yesterday from injuries she received in the crash.

Death also was unorthodox with two tire-changers.

Alfred Roscoe Atkins, 21, Pontiac, and a companion, 33-year-old David James Williams, Clarkston, were changing a tire on Atkins' car on U.S. 10 in Waterford Township.

A car plowed into them, killing them as they worked.

Authorities counted four other deaths — highway fatalities:

—Oriville Meisner, 17, Sand Lake, who lost control of his car and struck a tree 15 miles north of Rockford in Montcalm County.

—Glenn Eash, a 13-year-old Mio boy who was riding a bike being towed by a motor scooter. He died when a car struck him from the rear on M33 in Comins Township, Oscoda County.

—Laylin Lloyd Jewett, 33, Mason, who lost control of his vehicle and had it slide sideways before turning over several times and killing him near Edmore.

—Donald Ray Roberts, 19, Negaunee, who died early Sunday in a car-pedestrian accident on Omer-Sterling road, Arenac County.

—Arthur F. Roemer, Tawas City, the state's first traffic fatality of the weekend, who died Friday evening in a crash which injured two others near Turner.

A Detroit youth drowned in St. Clair River near Marine City Saturday when he went under after jumping from his fishing boat and swimming more than 200 feet to shore and turned back. He was 18-year-old Leonard J. Pirrello.

Gerald Dickson, 16, Big Rapids, drowned in Turnbull Lake, Norwich Township, Saturday. His boat had capsized.

Gov. Faubus Closes Four High Schools

NAACP's asking for an injunction against Faubus, he said, "I don't think that's a wise idea, because the closing affects all the kids."

Central High, the crux of the Little Rock integration dispute and the scene of bitter rioting last fall, was quiet today.

So were the other schools: Hall and Little Rock Tech, both white, and Horace Mann, a Negro high school.

About 175 teachers were at their posts, since they are under contract and have been paid since Sept. 2, the day the schools were all supposed to open.

Their opening was put off two weeks to await the Supreme Court's integration ruling. If Faubus, who said he feared integration would bring on more violence, had not ordered them closed, they would have opened at 8:30 a. m. today.

Instead, he ordered them closed at 8 a.m.

About 40 white girls, in tight shorts and sweaters or blouses, reported to Central and were admitted by six or seven civilian guards. So did members of the school band.

"They are members of the pep squad," a school official said. "They are coming in to practice. They will not attend any classes. There are no classes."

He said the band members were checking out instruments.

There were only a few curious onlookers, in addition to about 20 reporters and photographers in front of Central. The guards refused to let them on the school grounds.

It was quiet at the other schools.

There are 3,470 students registered in the four high schools, most of whom are worried about their academic future. Many who would have been seniors have already applied to colleges for entrance next fall.

It is entirely possible that they will lose a whole year of school credits unless the schools are reopened soon. The government is believed to hope that Faubus will soon begin feeling internal pressure from parents.

The Justice Department is expected to go to court today with an action to counter the closing order. The first litigation probably will be a petition to perfect the government's status; that is, making it a direct party to the integration action.

So far, the legal dispute has been between the NAACP and the Little Rock school board. The government has taken the position of a friend of the court.

New Contract Offer Expected From Ford

ler and General Motors—it was Ford that broke the contract deadlock by offering the UAW additional pay for unemployed workers, in addition to that already provided them by the states.

The Ford settlement cost an estimated 20 cents an hour for each of Ford's 140,000 workers, with five cents of that amount going into the supplemental pay fund known as SUB. GM and Chrysler later made similar concessions to the UAW.

In the intervening three years, the balance in the SUB fund at Ford has risen to 31 million dollars, while at GM it is 91 million and at Chrysler, 19.8 million.

Reuther made this fund one of the principal targets in his bargaining strategy as he asked the companies to release part of it to help unemployed auto workers, those on short work weeks and those who lost their jobs because of movement of auto firms to other cities.

U.S. Jet Planes, Shock Troops Go to Formosa

Also newly arrived in Formosa is a composite U.S. air strike force—the recently created "small war deterrent" force capable of delivering nuclear weapons and the same type of unit that was sent to the Middle East last July.

★ ★ ★

The number of Starfighters arriving was not disclosed. The initial group is at a base in northern Formosa. Two of the supersonic jets, which hold world speed and altitude records, whizzed over this southern air base Monday afternoon.

★ ★ ★

The detachment probably came to Formosa from Hamilton Air Force Base in California, which announced recently that a unit of Starfighters had left for overseas duty.

The United States is the major supplier of cotton to the United Kingdom, having exported 588,000 bales in the period from last August to March.

Coming Down Rhine Cliff

Train Jumps Rail, 18 Killed

BONN, Germany (AP)—A cog train carrying sightseers to the picturesque Drachenfels Dragon's Rock above the Rhine suddenly slipped from its cog last night and plunged off the tracks, killing 18 persons and injuring 60 others.

The train was about an eighth of the way down its steep mile run from the top of the rock when it left the rails.

The steam engine crashed into a ditch. Two cars careened off the tracks and the third remained on the right of way, its side ripped open.

This was the first accident on the railway in the 75 years it has carried more than a million persons to visit the ruined fortress 1,050 feet above the Rhine.

Virgil Roland, an adjutant in the Belgian army medical corps who was on the train with his family, said he heard the noise of a cogwheel slipping out of the cogs." The train began to take on terrific speed," he said.

Roland said he heard a crash and was knocked out. When he came to he was under a pile of about a dozen people but soon was pulled out.

"I looked over and saw my wife," he said. "Both of her legs had been severed at the knees. I took off my necktie and tried to bind the stumps of her legs. The doctors arrived very quickly and gave us shots to relieve the pain."

Assassin's Bullets Miss Soustelle

Try to Slay Top De Gaulle Aide

PARIS (AP) — Algerian assassins tried to kill French information Minister Jacques Soustelle in the heart of Paris today, but missed him.

Soustelle, a former governor general of Algeria, was cut above the eyes and under his chin by glass shattered in bursts of gunfire at his car. One bullet whizzed through his coat as he dived to the floor.

In the blistering gunfight that followed, one Algerian was killed and another wounded. Stray bullets killed a French subway worker and wounded three more. The shooting occurred near the Arc de Triomph as American tourists and French passers-by raced for cover.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

Soustelle, at a news conference after the shooting, blamed the attack on the Algerian National Liberation Front (FLN). Police at first said the attackers were members of the Nationalist Algerian Movement (MNA), which rivals the FLN for leadership in the Algerian rebellion.

★ ★ ★

The attack came as Soustelle, with his usual police escort, pulled to a stop near his office. Sudden bursts of gunfire shattered the rear window of the car and peppered its sides.

Two American tourists, Jack McLeod and Elmer Johnson of Duluth, Minn., were in a nearby hotel and came running out when they heard the shooting. A French detective with a pointed gun stopped them from taking pictures.

★ ★ ★

Soustelle told reporters that after the terrorists had stopped firing at his car he got out to head into a building. Then another Algerian, standing nearby, pulled a weapon from under his raincoat and opened fire again.

★ ★ ★

"I threw myself to the ground," Soustelle said. Police and bodyguards seized this Algerian as he attempted to flee into a nearby subway station.

Soustelle long has been a De Gaulle supporter and an exponent of a hard French policy for Algeria.

It was Soustelle that diehard Frenchmen cheered loudest when De Gaulle made his first trip to Algeria to rewin the loyalty of the right-wingers who staged the May 13 revolt against the Paris government. Soustelle had fled to Algeria after being put under house arrest by the then government of Premier Pierre Pflimlin.

Soustelle was minister of information in De Gaulle's World War II Free French government in London. He is known for a personal determination which borders on truculence.

An indication of the long-range aspect of the buildup came with the disclosure by military sources that a large engineering firm already has sent representatives to Taipei with a crash program to build launching sites for U.S. ground-to-air Nike missiles.

Barrack areas also are being laid out, presumably to house a reported total of 5,000 American troops believed due here. Most would be specialists such as missile men.

The U.S. Embassy confirmed that a program has been set up to evacuate most of the 6,000 American women and children on Formosa. They are the dependents of the 3,000 U.S. advisers to Chiang's forces.

rate to meet 1959 needs will be $10,164,723.42. Estimated other receipts come to $2,121,000.

Before the 1959 budget was approved, Fred L. Yockey, Huntington Woods supervisor, led the fight to keep county employe vacations at two weeks a year for those employes with nine years or less seniority, and three weeks for those with more than nine years employment.

The Salaries Committee had recommended one day per month extra in the first instance, and 1½ days per month for those employes with the greater seniority.

"This proposed vacation plan is considerably better than the employes of the areas we represent," said Yockey in recommending retention of the present plan.

Also deleted from the salaries report was a recommendation that employes' sick leave allowances be cut from 13 days a year to 12.

Despite a written plea for an increase from Harriett Phillips, supervisor from Huntington Woods, supervisors refused to grant more than the budgeted $32,500 for the Oakland Child Guidance Clinic.

Supervisors however did react favorably to a request from their Drain Committee, headed by Clayton G. Lilly of Ferndale, that that drain commissioner's pay be boosted from the proposed $11,250 to $12,450. The 1958 salary for this position has been $9,750.

"The present drain commissioner has assumed an enormous responsibility far in excess of other elected officials," Lilly told the board this morning.

The only supervisor to speak out against this wage increase and the others was Sydney Frid of Northville.

New Jersey Train Hurtles Over Bridge

RUSH TO RESCUE

Police and Coast Guard launches, helicopters and skin divers were rushed to the area. Small private boats clotted the scene hampering first rescue operations.

Two and a half hours after the train plunged over, the third coach, which had been lying half in water, slipped completely below the surface.

The bridge is a vertical lift type with a section 120 to 150 feet long in the center of a 1,500-foot span which is raised when ship traffic passes.

The engineer of the lead locomotive was Floyd Weilburn, Red Bank, N.J. The train conductor was J. S. Kelly of Somerville.

Other crew members included Peter Andrew, Jersey City; Robert B. Kinlock, Point Pleasant; and Theodore B. Dayton, Bayonne.

The drawbridge is a wooden one on a mile-long trestle. It had been raised to permit a boat to pass through when the passenger train sped off the tracks and into the water.

The two locomotives were diesels.

Edward McCarthy, who owns the Elco Marina Boating Dock in Bayonne, was at dockside when he saw steam gushing from the water beneath the bridge.

McCarthy immediately put out in a small boat. In three trips, he brought back three bodies and nine survivors.

Small boats from throughout the busy New York harbor flocked to the scene. Four tugs of the Moran Company, usually engaged in towing ocean liners to piers, were on the scene.

Two New York City fireboats and three police department launches sped to the scene.

Every available ambulance in Bayonne and Jersey City was summoned.

A railroad spokesman said the tracks on the bridge are fitted with a precautionary device which is supposed to automatically halt trains when the drawbridge is open.

Shipping Foreign Fords to Port of Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Ford Motor Co. will use the port of Philadelphia for the first time to import English and German Fords to this country.

The Greater Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce said the first cars will arrive this week and the cars will move through this port city at the rate of 8,000 a year.

The Day in Birmingham

Police Apprehend Youth After Wild Auto Chase

BIRMINGHAM — An 18-year-old Bloomfield Hills youth was arrested shortly after 2 a.m. Saturday after leading Birmingham Police officers on a wild auto chase across the city and having the rear window of his car shattered by a police bullet.

Robert R. Ridley, of 340 Barden Lane, was released on bond of $100, posted by his father, J. C. Ridley. Young Ridley was charged with reckless driving.

Officers Edmund Long and Donald Graham said they had attempted to stop Ridley to question him about ownership of the car.

During the chase, which began near the Birmingham Country Club, Ridley drove across lawns and through shrubbery, officers said. The car was finally stopped near the Grand Trunk Railroad Station after they fired a bullet into the rear window. No one was injured.

The car belonged to the youth's father, police said.

Birmingham police are holding Samuel Tumminelo, 30, of 2025 Decker Rd., Walled Lake, for investigation of breaking and entering in the night.

He was arrested less than five minutes after Robert Brown, janitor at Alban's Store, 188 N. Hunter Blvd., reported at 5 a.m. yesterday that a cigarette machine in the store had been tampered with.

Police said Tumminelo had $26 in small change in his pocket and additional $73 was found under the front seat of his car, parked near the store.

Herbert Herzberg, city planner, suggested a side yard reduction of six inches for each lot-width foot under 50 feet.

The proposal was made by city planners to ease construction hardships on narrow lots.

Commissioners will award bids on the Cole avenue sewer and water main construction.

They also will discuss City Clerk Irene Hanley's proposal for additional registration hours prior to the Oct. 6 deadline for the Nov. 4 general election.

Forms concerning state laws, banning secret societies in public schools, are being distributed this week in Birmingham schools for signatures of students and their parents, according to Dr. Dwight D. Ireland, schools superintendent.

He said this is to remind school district residents of the ruling and to notify all students that school credits will be withheld from any who join such groups.

Each student is required to sign a second statement at the end of each semester, stating he has not been a member of any illegal organization.

Board members of the Federated Civic Assn. of Bloomfield Township will meet at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the conference room of Bloomfield Hills High School to hear reports of the group's various committees.

The reports will be consolidated for the FCA meeting scheduled for 8:30 p.m. Sept. 23 at the school.

Representatives of the township's 70 civic associations have been invited, as well as any other interested residents.

Mrs. Conrad died yesterday after a short illness.

The body will be taken to South Bend today from the Manley Bailey Funeral Home.

Lions Trade Back Karilivacz to Giants

Karilivacz became expendable when Terry Barr and Gary Lowe came through so well for the world champions last season.

Detroit coach George Wilson did not say what draft choice the Lions received in exchange for Karilivacz, who has been with the Lions since 1953.

Trucking Tieup Settlement Near

Nine Striking Teamster Locals OK Agreement to End 11-State Dispute

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The end appears near for a five-week tieup in long-haul Western trucking which involved 30,000 Teamsters Union members and 1,200 firms.

Nine striking Teamsters locals in California's central area and San Joaquin Valley, and units in Los Angeles and Denver, Colo., yesterday approved a master agreement aimed at ending the dispute. The vote count was not available.

★ ★ ★

Trucking operations in 11 Western states affected are expected to resume by Wednesday or Thursday.

Votes were to be counted today and tomorrow in Seattle, Albuquerque and Salt Lake City.

The tieup came when the nine valley locals walked out in an effort to win wage parity with San Francisco bay area Teamsters. The employers shut down, considering a strike against one Western trucker a strike against all.

The agreement reportedly gives long-line drivers three annual 10-cent hourly increases, plus fringe benefits.

The agreement gives the valley locals $2.47½ by Jan. 1, 1959, to achieve parity with San Francisco Teamsters.

Pay and fringe benefits for pickup and delivery drivers would increase to $2.47½ cents an hour by May 1, 1960.

Child's Balloon Shows Principle of Jet Engines

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Blow up a child's balloon but don't tie it. Release it—and it will fly as the air escapes. That is how a jet engine works.

The jet, or "turbo-jet" as the engineers prefer, merely applies Newton's 278-year-old law that every action produces a reaction equal in force and opposite in direction.

In the balloon, the stream of air escaping from the nozzle produces the action. The force that pushes against the front wall of the balloon is the "reaction"—or, in the jet engine, "thrust."

In the turbo-jet, a turbine sucks air into the engine. The air is compressed. Then a liquid fuel, usually refined kerosene, is mixed with the air. In the cockpit, the pi turns on a spark that ignites the mixture of air and fuel.

★ ★ ★

Empire State Building Shuts Beacon for Birds

The big light will stay off until Nov. 1 during the six-week period night-flying birds travel south for the winter. The National Audobon Society said a huge stationary beacon can confuse the birds and cause thousands to crash into buildings and be killed.

Science Shrinks Piles
New Way Without Surgery
Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all — this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne*) — the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called *Preparation H. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

Open Letter to the People CITY of PONTIAC

The Pontiac Police Officers Association

On Sept. 8th and 9th three separate letters appeared in the voice of the people, condemning the Pontiac Police Officers Association for its charges against Chief of Police Herbert Straley. These three articles praised Chief Straley and upheld his actions of late. None of the letter writers chose to give their names. It is our opinion that they could not give their names without revealing the fact that they are either close friends of Chief Straley, members or a small group of policemen who stand to benefit only if Chief Straley remains Chief of Police, or else Chief Straley himself. We find it difficult to believe that the average citizen is going to condemn any organization which is charging or attempting to expose any public official whom they feel is guilty of wrong-doing. Every police officer in the city of Pontiac including the Chief of Police is responsible to the citizens and taxpayers who make their jobs possible. These people have every right to expect full value for their tax dollars. When the actions of any individual in the service of the public is such that the public is deprived of the type of service they are entitled to, then it is the responsibility of any and all concerned to do everything within their power to remedy the situation.

Exposing an individual as powerful as a Police Chief can sometimes be very difficult. In all three of the afore-mentioned letters reference was made to the fact that the Police Officers Association, for several years now, has been at odds with Chief Straley. They say that we have placed charges against Chief Straley several different times in the past. These statements are all true. Not once have we ever attempted to hide our actions. On the contrary, we have made every effort to bring them to the public's attention. It is our opinion that until the public learns just what is taking place within the higher ranks of its Police Dept. and City Hall, then little or no remedial action will take place.

It is true that some of our charges and complaints with Chief Straley have been of the type which would occur in other types of employment and which concerned working conditions, and wage problems common in other fields. No one can deny any working man the right to fight for fair wages and working conditions. However many of the charges placed against Chief Straley were of a nature that seriously lowered the caliber of police service rendered the public. In every case the public was either directly or indirectly effected by the conditions that existed. Any time any municipal employee, regardless of position, is suspected, charged, accused, or even remotely connected with any criminal acts, wrong-doing or dereliction of duty, the public has a right to know about it and expect disciplinary action. Whether it is an officer, a civic group, or individual citizen, anyone has the right to voice objections and demand action from those so empowered to act in such matters.

The writers of the three letters in the voice of the people seem awfully anxious to "shut our association up," as one of the writers put it. If Chief Straley is so innocent of the charges we have preferred, then why hasn't the City Manager placed the matter before the Civil Service Commision so that he can be officially cleared.

In 1952 a patrolman was forced to resign or be fired for only recommending a lawyer to a prisoner on trial. One writer states that Chief Straley had every right to help Mr. Burke get a parole. The same writer then asks what business it is of the Association's. We will answer the first statement by pointing out that the man Straley helped get paroled was a known criminal with a long list of convictions, and a man who on release from prison immediately organized a gambling syndicate, which only recently was broken up — not by our department, under Chief Straley, but by the State Police investigators who had been called in secretly by members of the Dept.

Hasn't anyone stopped to wonder why the Chief of Police wasn't informed by the State Police of the investigation and the raids which followed? The question asked as to what business it is of ours, we will not answer, as the question itself is too ridiculous. It is not only our business, but the business of every citizen in Pontiac.

In two of the letters writers knock Civil Service and refer to it as "that thing we voted in." Civil Service is not to blame for the situation that exists now. Police Departments all over the country operate efficiently with civil service. Our own Fire Dept. has operated for many years without any trouble of any kind. But then our Fire dept. is not under Chief Straley's command.

One of the writers asked who was behind the uproar and wanted to know what they had to gain; implying that someone was misleadng the members of the association for personal gain. The officers and committee members of our association are elected to their jobs by a vote of the members once a year. The persons holding those positions seldom hold them two years in a row. The only thing that these men in office can ever expect to gain is retaliation from Chief Straley for representing the men in their grievances and problems. Such things as holding up of pay raises, refusal to make promotions after the wrong men passed the examinations he himself ordered, failure to furnish adequate uniforms as ordered by the City Commission, and a hundred other things which he as Chief has the power to control. Hardly any man who ever served as an officer in our association or on one of the committees hasn't been threatened by Chief Straley at one time or another. This is the gain they can expect.

57 police officers on this Dept. signed a resolution to City Manager Willman asking for charges against Chief Straley just recently. Not only patrolmen, but Lts. and Sgts. signed the resolution. The resolution was passed by secret ballot at an association meeting. No pressure was brought to bear by anyone. To think that a patrolman could pressure a Lt. or Sgt. is ridiculous to begin with. Had no endorsements been called for on the resolution, the facts would have still been the same.

Had any other officer on the Dept. been connected with a known criminal in the manner Chief Straley was, he would have been immediately stripped of his equipment and suspended from the Dept. pending further investigation. You cannot expect a dept. to operate correctly with two different sets of rules. What holds true for the majority should hold true for the Chief of Police and his associates.

We of the association realize that there are a few on the Dept. who would hate to see Chief Straley go. Many of the positions that they hold are the result of their friendship with the Chief. Such things as using city vehicles for their personal use, holding jobs on the dept. that rightly should be held by officers who passed examinations for them, and in general, receiving favored treatment by the Chief. Several of the positions these few men hold were considered unnecessary by the Public Administration Service report that the city just completed. This report even suggested that they be performed by departments other than the Police Dept. We can understand why these few officers would make every effort to protect Chief Straley, and thereby protect themselves. We cannot condone their actions, however, when the entire dept. as well as the city must suffer.

In Sept. of 1957 City Manager Walter K. Willman and the City Commissioners authorized the expenditures of $8,000.00 of the taxpayers' money to obtain a report on conditions within the Police Dept. This survey and subsequent report was made by the Public Administration Service of Chicago, Ill. Their investigators spent several months in Pontiac preparing this report which is public information and is available to every citizen requesting same at the City Clerk's Office. We strongly urge every interested citizen to make an appearance at the City Clerk's Office to read and study this report for we are confident that they will then be truly enlightened and educated as to the existing circumstances surrounding the present and proposed operation of their Police Dept. This report was highly critical of Chief Straley and his administration of the Dept. A suggested plan for improvement was outlined in detail by this same report which included a complete re-assigning of the department's personnel and equipment. Up to the present date only two of the survey reports recommendations have been placed into effect which include the hiring of a Director of Public Safety and the placing of the present violations bureau from the jurisdiction of the Police Dept. to the Municipal Court.

As a final thought, we would like to point out the fact that in Monday's paper a letter was printed from someone signing their letter "Observer." The very next day, a letter answering "Observer" was printed. How was the person signing the letter "Conscientious Objector" able to get his letter through the mail, to the press, and get it printed in one days time. One would almost think that the letters were both written at the same time, by the same person, and mailed one day apart so as to appear in the Press two days in succession.

In the past the Pontiac Press has declared that its policy involving letters criticizing individuals or organizations was that they would not be printed without also printing the writer's name. Why then were these three letters printed with fictitious names while other letters voicing different issues were not allowed to be printed?

We realize that the Press is a powerful means of controlling public opinion and that their support usually means success for an individual or a project. The Pontiac Press as well as the City Manager and the City Commission have backed Chief Straley in almost everything that has taken place. It is indeed unfortunate when one man can have such power over so many people. We are confident, however, that eventually the public will demand an accounting of the actions of those who have thwarted the efforts to remedy the matter. A "One Newspaper" town does not have the opportunity to receive more than one interpretation of facts and situations. They say that you can't beat "City Hall". They should add "Or the Press."

In conclusion, we pledge that our association will never stop trying to expose any and all acts of inefficiency or malfeasance in office of Chief Straley, or any other Police or City Employee or official any time we discover them. With or without the help of the Pontiac Press or the City Commission, we are confident that no one individual, guilty of wrong-doings, can avoid being exposed in due time.

Pontiac Police Officers' Association

South Bares Teeth in Defiance:

Forcing Integration Is Up to Eisenhower

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower is on the spot, put there by the Supreme Court and Southern states.

For years he tried to soft-talk the problem of school integration. It didn't work. Now he has to act.

The court, in ruling on Little Rock last Friday, did more than say mob violence and community opposition can't block its ban on public school segregation.

The nine ujstices, by their unflinching stand, said in effect to the Eisenhower administration; the next step—enforcing our order—is up to you.

Enforcement—or the lack of it—was a central theme in the court's hearings on the Little Rock school board's request for a 2½-year delay in integrating Central High.

Richard C. Butler, attorney for the board, criticized the Eisenhower administration for not prosecuting mob leaders in Little Rock. He also critized the city and state authorities for not preserving order.

Eisenhower, in the four years since the court's original ruling that segregation by race was unconstitutional, had given no indication his Justice Department had plans for coping with local or statewide defiance of the court.

Instead, he kept calling for patience, although in those four years hardly any integration had occurred in the South. It was as if he had set himself the policy of not irritating Southerners.

But while he talked patience and understanding, the Southern states were bitterly erecting massive barriers of defiance to the court with new laws of their own for blocking integration.

There had to be a showdown sometime. Now it's come in Arkansas and Virginia.

★ ★ ★

In both states the governors, acting under their new laws, have closed schools ordered integrated by federal judges.

But at least Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers seems better prepared to meet the days ahead than his predecessor in the Justice Department, former Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell.

Since Rogers has arranged for a number of extra U.S. marshals to work in Little Rock, he may be planning legal steps like court injunctions, to force compliance with the court order. Marshals could arrest violators.

★ ★ ★

This indicates more foresight than was shown by Brownell when he headed the Justice Department last September at the time the opposition of Arkansas Gov. Orval E. Faubus and mob violence suddenly blocked integration of Central High.

The Eisenhower-Brownell answer then was to send in troops—a move Eisenhower had previously indicated he never wanted to make—to back up the court.

That was an extreme step. It's one the administration may have to use again, but probably not before it has taken intermediate steps it didn't try before.

The administration's plans for Virginia are also still up in the air.

One Dies Aboard Junks Fired On by Red Patrol

HONG KONG (AP)—An official report said a Red Chinese patrol boat fired on a fleet of 40 Hong Kong fishing junks and killed one junk owner early today.

The report said that whether the junks were fishing inside or outside Hong Kong territorial waters was not known.

In recent months the Red Chinese have been trying to force Hong Kong's 2,000 junks to join mainland cooperatives or face capture.

The pinon was chosen as the official state tree of New Mexico in 1949 because it produces both fuel and food.

Begin Quizzing U.S. Airman

Japanese Police Say Charge of Negligence Likely in Shooting

URAWA, Japan (AP) — Japanese prosecutors began their questioning today of U.S. Airman Peter E. Longpre, who fatally shot a Japanese youth on a train at Johnson air base near here.

Police filed all documents with the prosecutor's office concerning the shooting. They said although the shooting was an accident they thought he should be indicted on a charge of gross negligence.

★ ★ ★

Longpre, 19, of Lakewood, Calif., fired his M1 carbine while assigned to guard duty Sept. 7 at the base, 38 miles northwst of Tokyo. The bullet pierced the window of a passing train, hitting 22-year-old Sachiyuki Miyamura, a music student.

Longpre said he hadn't realized the gun was loaded.

The U.S. Air Force ruled that the shooting did not occur in the performance of official duty, and turned Longpre over to Japanese jurisdiction. The Air Force said Longpre violated regulations concerning the use of weapons.

If indicted on the gross negligence charge, Longpre will face a maximum penalty of three years imprisonment or a 50,000 yen ($139) fine.

Back to School Means Look Out for Children

All auto drivers take note — the new school bus law has gone into effect. The new regulation requires that all vehicles stop at both front and rear of halted school buses, except on divided highways.

★ ★ ★

Careful observation of this law may save the life of some child.

Many of the children now in school are going for the first time and may become confused and excited and dash into the street. Others who have gone to school for only a year or two and are still young children may forget the safety lessons they have learned.

It is up to all drivers to be particularly cautious while driving in a school area. All traffic signs around schools should be obeyed.

Around our schools will be congregated the greatest number of children and this is where the danger will lie. Particularly in school zones, but any place where children are in groups, be prepared for one of them to dart into the path of your car.

Most children are completely unaware of danger. Even after instruction from parents and teachers they seem to have the feeling that they are always safe. In their minds they seem to figure that you will look out for them.

We must all take on this job. The youthful, not yet mature school children are our future citizens. Guarding them is insurance for the future.

In the past it is tragic that the children's return to school is sometimes marred by fatal or serious injury accidents.

Let's make this year a happy school opening by diligently observing two rules.

1. Pay attention to the new bus law by stopping at both front and rear of halted school buses.

2. Drive extraordinarily careful in and around school areas and be on the constant alert for children darting into the street.

Red China Unlikely to Get Nuclear Arms

As a matter of self-preservation there seems to be some doubt that Russia will go so far as to supply nuclear weapons to Red China.

Up to now the Russians have retained tight control of these weapons, rejecting requests of European satellites for atomic missiles. The United States has consistently refused to give nuclear weapons to its closest Allies although establishing nuclear stockpiles, under American control, in some Allied countries.

The theory is that the more nations there are with such weapons, the greater the peril of a firing, perhaps accidental, which would plunge the world into atomic holocaust. Experts feel that when only the U.S. and Russia have nuclear warheads, there is a balance of fear that deters use. But if more nations get the missiles, control is weakened and the possibilities of a firing through fear or accident are so enhanced that mankind will live in constant terror.

★ ★ ★

Russia's mere promise to give Red China nuclear weapons could explain the all-out attacks on Quemoy and Matsu. MAO TSE-TUNG may feel that he now can bargain from strength, through Russia in the U.N., to force the U.S. to recognize his rights in Formosa. "What more natural quid pro quo from Peiping's point of view," says The Nation, "than an acknowledgment of legitimate Western interests in the Middle East in return for an acknowledgement of of legitimate Chinese interests in Formosa."

★ ★ ★

Pointing out that Russia would have more to lose than Red China in case of reckless attack, EDWARD CRANKSHAW of the London Observer Foreign News Service writes that at the present time the Chinese are in the ruthless Stalinist stage of revolution; that while MAO TSE-TUNG may believe there would still be 300 million of the 600 million Chinese after a nuclear war, Mr. KHRUSHCHEV knows that with its present population of 200 million, there would not be 300 million Russians.

'Union Members Must Act to Prevent Dictatorships'

We all like to feel that our American people would rise up and destroy any individual or organization that threatens it. We all like to feel that our law makers, with their sacred trust, would die for it. How naive we are.

Our largest labor organizations are run not just by racketeers, but by cool, calculating potential dictators, minority groups that control millions of human souls and untold wealth, that by a simple whim control the economic wealth and even life and death itself.

They are not subjected to the same laws as you and I. Their power has enabled them to break every law and still come out unscathed. These things are set before us every day in your type. The average citizen must awake to the fact that these things are happening now to him and to his family, and now is the time.

By not taking an active part in his labor organization, he has allowed it to become a dictatorship, instead of a democracy within a democracy. He has allowed a minority group to destroy his individuality and self respect.

★ ★ ★

I suggest interviews with union statesmen as to their advertised methods of democratic procedures, such as voting and policy making, and then get the facts as to how it's actually done.

Flag Waver

'Don't Blame All for Just a Few'

Don't condemn the whole police department for the actions of a few. Maybe the rest don't like what's going on any more than you do. As far as Civil Service goes, some of them are just as surprised at the results as you are, have you do-gooders ever thought of that? Maybe they should have looked into it further before they voted it in, but on the other hand, so should you.

One Who Knows

'Now Is the Time to Do Something'

I wonder how many people noticed the following writing on last week's movie page: "Just because I undressed in front of him is no reason I have to marry him." How filthy can we get? Must the Press publish all the trash sent to them?

★ ★ ★

It's getting to the place where we parents feel we must censor the paper and magazines before the children see them. Just recently I had to tear out a continued story in one of my magazines before my daughter saw it.

★ ★ ★

It's a shame when business men will stop at nothing to make money. I would be afraid God would strike me dead. It's time people of Pontiac got busy and did something about the filth getting into Pontiac and ruining our young people.

Here's the Solution to the Whole Thing

Why not a three way school system—integrated schools for all who want them for their children; Negro schools for those Negroes who prefer them; white schools for those who prefer them? That would give freedom of choice and no force against either race.

'American Conquest Would Be Easy'

Russia won't need to worry about conquering this country with her millions of troops and terrible bombs. The Pentagon group that is making plans for our surrender, the union racketeers, the U. S. Supreme Court and the infiltrated Communists will deliver us to the Reds without a blow exchanged.

'How Can They Justify the Vote?'

The South tries to keep the Negroes from going to school with the whites and the South kept the Negroes from voting for years and years. They held the Negroes in slavery for decades and paid them starvation wages.

The South is the stronghold of the Democrats. The more solid a state is Democratic, the worse the life of the Negroes in that state. Why do any Negroes anywhere vote the Democratic ticket?

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

Love, it has been said, flows downward. The love of parents for their children has always been far more powerful than that of children for their parents; and who among the sons of men ever loved God with a thousandth part of the love which God has manifested to us?—J. C. Hare.

Will It Give Him a Lift?

David Lawrence Says:

No 'Defiance' in Integration Hassle

WASHINGTON — The state of Arkansas has not "defied" the Supreme Court of the United States by closing the high schools in Little Rock. Nor has the state of Virginia committed any act of "defiance" by closing schools.

LAWRENCE

The federal government has not "defied" the states of Arkansas and Virginia by supporting plans that seek through the courts a means of reopening the public schools.

Each is acting within its own constitutional orbit. The exercise of legal rights to contest the validity of state or federal action is not "defiance." The federal Constitution itself permits these legal procedures.

It is erroneously being preached that there is only a "moral question" involved and that the states of the South are disregarding it when they contest by legal means the orders of a federal court requiring "integration" in the public schools.

As for "moral questions," unfortunately the North has forgotten, but the South hasn't, that the very Fourteenth Amendment on which the present Supreme Court is basing its rulings was born in unmorality and "ratified" in unmorality.

Although Abraham Lincoln had always held that the southern states had never been out of the Union, Congress—after his death and three years after the war between the states was over—insisted that the southern states be excluded from representation in the House and Senate.

So when the Fourteenth Amendment was voted on, there was no representation in either house from many states in the Union.

Also, when the state legislatures in the South—subsequent to the war—ratified the Thirteenth Amendment abolishing slavery but rejected the Fourteenth Amendment, as they had a right to do, Congress caused new legislatures to be elected with most white voters excluded, and then, with federal military commanders sitting alongside the presiding officers in the legislative sessions of the state legislatures, "ratification" of the Fourteenth Amendment was compelled

In case after case the Supreme Court of the United States has always evaded the issue of whether the Fourteenth Amendment was constitutionally "ratified" and has said that this is a "political question" and not within its power to resolve.

Many people are saying that all this happened long ago and that it isn't feasible to turn the clock back now. The present Supreme Court, however, in its 1954 decision, did turn the clock back 58 years and nullified the "settled law" of the land on the question of "equal but separate" facilities which had been upheld by some of the most eminent men who ever sat on the high court, including its greatest liberals.

What is "settled law"? Abraham Lincoln defined it as something that has been initially decided by the Supreme Court when the issue was first raised, and then "affirmed and reaffirmed" in decisions for years afterwards.

Thus, it is "settled law" today that no state can be compelled to appropriate money or keep schools open or do any affirmative thing just because the federal government may want to see it done.

Dr. William Brady Says:

'Cure' for Painful Joints Can Be Very Dangerous

A Vermont invalid, aged 42, had her first baby 16 months ago. When the baby was five months old, the woman began to have stiff, painful joints. Her doctor prescribed one of the "miracle" medicines which purported to give phenomenal relief in "arthritis and allied disorders, thrombophlebitis" or what have you; and administered injections of vitamin B-12.

DR BRADY

The ethical nostrum vies with aspirin and acetanilid (phenylacetamide) or phenacetin (acetphenetidin) as a pain-killer, although it costs the victim a hundred times as much as these familiar analgesics and, in my opinion, is far more dangerous. The spiels say the nostrum "usually produces complete relief of pain in twenty-four hours or less, and early regression of local heat, tenderness and swelling. In the majority of cases there was complete resolution by the fourth day . . ."

In the medical sense of the term, resolution means termination of inflammation.

When the Vermont reader had had B-12 injections for three months, she asked the doctor if she couldn't take B-12 tablets by mouth, and the doctor, who perhaps had seen something about this in a certain newspaper health column, said well, yes, perhaps she could or for that matter if her diet was a good one, B-12 even by mouth wouldn't be necessary.

The Vermont reader does not say whether the doctor outlined a good diet or even a "well balanced" one. But she insists that "something" is necessary. She has always taken a quart of milk a day, plenty of raw vegetables and fruit, dairy products, and lately more proteins. Still she feels tired and weak. When her joints hurt her muscles seem lame, and she wakes in the morning wishing she were just going to bed.

For the last six years she has had a goitre which comes and goes, usually about the size of a hen's egg. Her doctor advised her under no condition to take iodin ration, but wouldn't explain why. She is sure there is no emotional factor, for she is very happy with her husband and her little girl, or as happy as a half-dead person can be.

When she is not too stiff and sore she can still stand on her head, walk on her hands, duck walk, etc. She desperately hopes I can help her. She remarks, in closing, that she never in her life felt better than during her pregnancy.

All I can say is that The Iodin Ration (free) and Chronic Joint Disability, both for 35 cents and 4-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope, can do no harm, goitre or no goitre.

One who follows the regimen outlined in the booklet on joint disability gets only the vitamins and minerals which every adult should get but only a few do get from everyday diet.

There is no competent evidence that vitamin B-12 by mouth, combined with its potentiator, folic acid, is less effective than expensive injections of B-12 into a vein, into muscle or under the skin.

The Vermont reader's description of her joint trouble somehow suggests something other than rheumatiz (physical degeneration of joint tissues) — a staphyloccus infection perhaps or brucellosis.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

The Man About Town

$300 Is the Prize

1958 Football Contest Gets Under Way: Ends Sept. 26

Opening today is the 1958 Man About About Town football contest. The prize is $300 in U.S. Saving Bonds.

It goes to the person who comes the nearest to predicting the winners in the 14 games below listed.

There is no entry charge, and every member of your family is eligible to compete. Each entry must be on a separate piece of paper, but all can be sent in one envelope.

You don't have to make a purchase, clip a coupon, write an essay, participate in a phony TV program, or do anything else but make your forecast.

It is not required that you be a football fan. Many of our past contests proved that the so called "experts" are not any better guessers than you.

If you wish, you can simply clip out the list of games and check the team which you predict will win. If you think the game will be a tie, do not check either team.

You can write out the list for other members of your family. Be sure a name and address is attached to each list. Only one entry is allowed for each person.

Employes of The Press and members of their immediate families are not eligible to compete. Here is the list of games.

Sept. 27—Ohio State vs. Southern Methodist.
Oct. 4—Michigan vs. Mich. State.
Oct. 11—Purdue vs. Wisconsin.
Oct. 18—California vs. Southern Calif.
Oct. 19—Detroit vs Baltimore (pro).
Oct. 25—Detroit vs. Arizona State.
Nov. 1—Notre Dame vs. Navy.
Nov. 8—Iowa vs. Minnesota.
Nov. 14—Pontiac Central vs. Flint Central.
Nov. 22—Yale vs. Harvard.
Nov. 27—Texas vs Texas A&M.
Nov. 29—Army vs. Navy.
Dec. 6—Holy Cross vs. Boston College.
Dec. 14—Detroit vs. Chicago (pro).

All entrants agree to abide by the findings of the judges, as this is an elimination contest. You're in the running only as long as you forecast correctly.

All entries will be divided into three piles before the first game: Those who predict Ohio State will win, those who favor Southern Methodist and whose who predict a tie game.

Those who predicted correctly on the first game will be divided the same way for the second game, the others being eliminated. This will be the rule on each succeeding game.

All entries must be received in The Pontiac Press office by Friday noon, Sept. 26.

Better check over the list of games RIGHT NOW, and send in your entries, and not let that $300 get away from you.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Warns of Psychotic Symptoms

Beware of cases like Lola's. She is in grave danger and needs psychiatric attention quickly. The best antidote for such conditions is psychological "vaccination" in childhood so she will never want to flee from external reality. People don't desire to run away from happiness, so teach children how to be successful in social relations.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE Z-319: Lola G., aged 17, has been a brilliant student.

★ ★ ★

"But, Dr. Crane," her worried father began, "she has begun to slip in her grades.

DR. CRANE

"Lola was an 'A' scholar till this past year. And she was always neat and well groomed.

"But during the past six months, she has begun to show little interest in her clothes or even her hair.

"And she now gets grades of 'C' without showing much concern. Why, that is so unlike Lola that we are alarmed.

"A year ago, she'd have been shocked and disconsolate if she even got a 'B' grade.

"Meanwhile, she moons around and stares, as if in a dreamy state. And it isn't because she is in love or has been jilted. What do you think is wrong?"

DANGEROUS SIGNS

Lola is in grave danger! And you parents should be doubly on guard when you find your children withdrawing from external reality as Lola is doing.

The most widespread type of insanity comes on during the teens and is called schizophrenia.

It often strikes brilliant boys and girls who have been topnotch students and who have been meticulous in their grooming.

They follow the pattern which Lola indicates. First, they grow inattentive to reality and show lack of normal emotional concern at low grades or uncombed hair or dirty clothes, etc.

★ ★ ★

They may try to hide away from people. Or, when they are in the family group, they may appear in a daze or daydream state. They finally grow so inattentive that they do not respond when spoken to.

They often appear to be listening to distant voices. Their faces may thus light up, as if they are in conversation with an invisible person.

Not all schizophrenics are teenagers but that is the favorite time for the development of this widespread form of mental collapse.

NEUROSIS VS. PSYCHOSIS

A psychosis, such as Lola is beginning to develop, means insanity.

A neurosis, however, is quite a different thing. In fact, we regard a neurosis as a form of insurance against psychosis.

In the neurosis, the patient may seesaw back and forth in a deep conflict between opposing motives. But the patient is meanwhile fighting toward some sort of solution or partial victory in his dilemma.

What is the solution to insanity? Well, one of the best antidotes is a vaccination during childhood.

But the "vaccine" is not the type which is injected by a hypodermic or scratched on the skin, as in smallpox.

No, it is psychological and consists of teaching the child to LIKE external reality so well that he does not want to flee from it.

Shy, unsociable people, who lack friends and are wallflowers, thus may regard the external world as a cold, cruel place, so they finally try to get away from it.

★ ★ ★

Escape may be of many forms, as of vagabondage (rolling stone addicts), or alcoholisms and drug addiction, insanity and even suicide.

Tomorrow I'll go into this problem more fully. Meanwhile, send for the booklet "How to Prevent Nervous Breakdowns," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Political Confab With Ike Today

GOP in Rhode Island Hope to Offset Dem Victories in Maine

NEWPORT, R. I. (AP)—President Eisenhower today holds his first formal political conference since the Republicans took a trouncing in the Maine elections a week ago.

The meeting is with Rhode Island Republican candidates for Congress and state offices, and other state party leaders.

★ ★ ★

Today's meeting gave Eisenhower an opportunity to tell something of his plans for participation in the fall campaign in an effort to stem the Maine tide.

There was no advance indication the conference would deal with the demands of many Republican candidates that Eisenhower get rid of Sherman Adams, his chief White House aide.

The demands are based on contentions that Adams, under intense new fire because of his relations with Boston industrialist Bernard Goldfine, has become a major political liability.

Eisenhower has remained silent about Adams since the party setback in Maine, where the Goldfine case was an undertone issue. In June the President said Adams had been imprudent but that nevertheless "I need him" to stay on in the White House.

★ ★ ★

There have been reports the last couple of days that Eisenhower may end sometime this week the work-vacation he started here Aug. 29. But whether he would go directly back to Washington is uncertain. There is talk of an in-between stay at his farm home at Gettysburg, Pa.

The President has tentatively scheduled at the Newport White House tomorrow a conference with Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers on school integration problems.

Eisenhower attended services yesterday at a Navy chapel. After the services he played golf at the Newport Country Club.

Man Really Swallowed Five Pounds of Metal

STOCKHOLM (UPI) — Reports that a Swedish mand had swallowed five pounds of metal rang false to skeptics until the newspaper Expressen yesterday printed a picture of the 2,300 items retrieved from him by an operation.

The items included fish hooks, tacks, pins, buttons, curtain rings, screws, keys, nails, brads, a number of Swedish coins and an emblem emblazoned with the word "peace."

Cite Likely Factors in Disease of Heart

ALBANY, N.Y. (UPI)—Obesity, high diastolic blood pressure and elevated cholesterol may be factors in coronary heart disease in middle-aged men, a team of Albany Medical College physicians said yesterday.

Alcohol consumption and smoking were not found to be contributing factors to the disease, according to the team, headed by Dr. Joseph T. Doyle, associate professor of medicine and director of the cardiovascular health center.

In their study of 1,900 middle-aged men, the team found that being "moderately" overweight does not certainly mean an individual will suffer from coronary heart disease but there is likelihood a person will get it if he is obese.

Suspends Skipper, Mate for Running Aground

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The Coast Guard has suspended the licenses of the skipper and navigator of the American President Lines ship President Hayes.

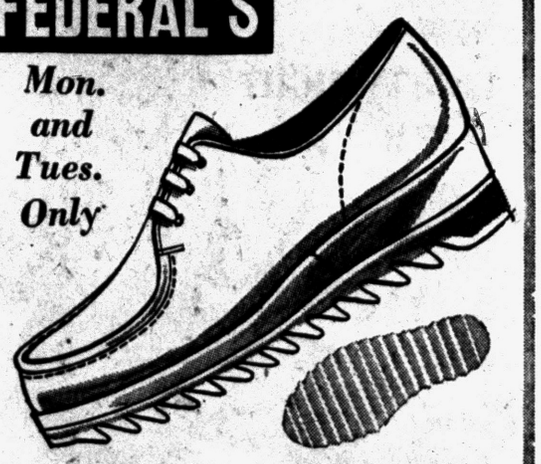

The Coast Guard said after hearings into the grounding of the ship May 13 on a coral reef 400 miles southeast of Hong Kong that the men had been negligent. There were 12 passengers and 59 crewmen aboard the vessel.

Suspended for two months was the license of Capt. Orion A. Larson and for three months, that of 2nd Mate Howard T. Hanson.

'Normal for Children to Hate Parents'

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK — Sam Levenson says do not be afraid or get panicky if your child says he hates you.

This is a normal abnormality, he says.

It shows that the child is thinking.

"Every kid hates his parents sometime, and when they say they wish you'd fall out a window, they really, sincerely want you to fall out a window—but is this anything to get worried about?"

★ ★ ★

Mr. Levenson, a philosopher first and a wit thereafter, says of course it isn't. Parent-hating is like the thumb-sucking stage and the eye-twitching stage, and the stammering stage, and with some love and patience from those who have been advised to keel over, the children come out of it.

★ ★ ★

"And when a kid says, 'I hate my teacher,' is this anything to get a mother disturbed? Give the kid a chance. Maybe he's right—maybe his teacher is a real louse. Anyway, why worry? If she's not a louse, maybe that means the kid is anti-social; so what's wrong with being anti-social? That way, he might grow up to be a non-conformist, like Einstein."

Levenson, the most famous ex-school teacher in show business, was just warming up. Parents worry too much, he said. They want their children to be well adjusted.

"Adjusted to what? How can you have a well-adjusted kid in a maladjusted society? What're you gonna adjust him to—war, maybe? Gangs?

"And another thing, why does every mother want her little boy to be a 'leader'? When a kid applies to go to college, the teacher fills in a form that asks, 'Is he a leader?', and the teacher always writes, 'yes.'

"One college shot back a letter and said, can you help us—we're looking for one good follower."

Levenson pointed to psychiatry as a cause for so much family dissension these days.

★ ★ ★

"Everybody's a psychiatrist now, particularly mother. She worries. She talks about 'sibling rivalries.' If her kid doesn't act just like all the other kids, he's a weirdie. Today a kid who shines his shoes is maladjusted. But the kid, like mine, who buys white bucks and messes 'em up before he goes out, he's okay. He's adjusted — for what? Sloppiness."

★ ★ ★

Mothers also worry about the physical health of their youngters. They hear a sneeze and call in a doctor. The doctor leaves a bill and some pills. Now the problem is, how to get the pills into the kids?

"So today," says Levenson, "they use persuasion. Take this pill, darling, and you can have a color television set.

"You know what my mother, who had eight of us, used to do? She didn't have time for persuasion, but she was smart. She threw our pills on the floor, knowing anything we found on the floor we'd eat.

Cracks Down on Race Riots

Judge Sentences Nine Youths to Four Years Each for Attacks

LONDON (AP)—A British judge today cracked down on racial rioting by sending nine youths to jail for four years each for attacks on Negroes.

The nine, all between 17 and 20, went through the Notting Hill area Aug. 24 armed with iron bars, table legs and a knife beating up Negroes. It was the beginning of London race riots.

Judge Cyril Salmon told the youths: "It was you men who started the whole of this violence in Notting Hill.

"You are a minute and insignificant section of the population, but you have brought shame upon the district in which you live and have filled the whole nation with horror, indignation and disgust."

★ ★ ★

The jail sentences were the first drastic action taken by British authorities to stop the racial violence.

The nine defendants were charged with wounding three Negroes and assaulting two others.

Home Fluoridation Is New in 'Do-It-Yourself'

NEW YORK (UPI)—The American Chemical Society reports that a new gadget may make possible "do - it - yourself" fluoridation of drinking water.

The device, developed in Canada, is a six-inch canister with its own supply of fluoride. This, says the ACS, can be attached to the water tap and adjusted to suit specific needs. Estimated cost of installation: $130.

About 60 per cent of American people have hospital and medical insurance.

Italy's Fountains Ruled Off Limits for Coin Hunters

ROME (AP) — Tourists may throw their money away when they toss coins in those fountains. But, says Italy's Supreme Court, it is a crime for anyone to try to fish them out.

An old tradition says a traveler pitching a coin in some of Italy's old fountains, such as Rome's famed Trevi Fountain, will return to the scene someday. The coins in the Trevi Fountain inspired a song and a movie.

Three years ago police in Genoa caught a man taking coins out of the fountain in Piazza de Ferrari. He was charged with theft.

A Genoa court acquitted him. It ruled that the money had been thrown away and belonged to no one.

Over the weekend Italy's highest tribunal reversed the acquittal. It said money tossed into pub-

OVERBEARING — A playful bruin stops traffic to say hello to a motorist at Tofte, Minn. The unbashful bear and his friends make their headquarters at the county dump and never hesitate to pay their respects to curious visitors. Authorities constantly campaign, however, against allowing the friendly — but strong — bears getting too close.

British Nations Ask More $$$

Seek Development of Industries, Shot in Arm for Sagging Prices

MONTREAL (AP) — Nations of the British Commonwealth called today for more capital to develop their industries and price agreements to bolster their falling commodity prices.

This theme went through speech after speech as members of the 11-nation economic partnership organized by Britain opened their first major trade and economic conference in 25 years against the background of a mounting Soviet trade offensive in the world's underdeveloped countries.

The speakers explained they were caught in a squeeze between materials they produce and skyrocketing prices for the machines they want to broaden their economies.

However, Canadian Finance Minister Donald Fleming, in taking over the chairmanship of the two-week meeting, told the 300 delegates that the Commonwealth's 660 million people possessed "a bountiful and varied share of the resources of the world."

"The mere fact of our meeting is in itself a matter of world significance," he said.

"We have come to Montreal inspired with a firm resolve to play our part eagerly and with enthusiasm," he said, urging that the conference keynote be "an expanding Commonwealth as a dynamic partnership in an expanding world community."

★ ★ ★

But there were many indications that Canada and Britain would have no easy time of it.

The two countries are among the Commonwealth's wealthiest members, and the underdeveloped members are looking to them for assurances and help beyond the traditional pattern of trade agreements and imperial preferences that has supported the Commonwealth since Britain began giving freedom to her former colonies.

Death Called Suicide

ANN ARBOR (AP)—The death of a man whose body was found in a car parked in a field near Ann Arbor has been ruled a suicide. He was Oscar Radke, 56, who had been missing for three months.

Only six cities in Turkey now have a population of more than 100,000 — Istanbul, Ankara, Izmir, Adana, Bursa and Eskisehir.

Negroes Trying to Break Barrier at U. of Florida

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Barriers to Negro students at the University of Florida may be breached for the first time today if a qualified applicant registers.

The university disclosed three weeks ago that a Negro had qualified to enter this fall but refused to identify him.

If the Negro registers, he will be enrolled under a Federal District Court order issued last June by Judge Dozier Devane who ruled Negroes could not be barred from the university graduate schools because of race.

Virgil Hawkins of Daytona Beach, who began an assault on the segregation barrier eight years ago, was one of two Negroes who took Aug. 2 qualification tests for the law college at the university. He said later he did not pass.

The other, Carl R. Osborne of Jacksonville, said he had been notified of his score but declined to give information about it. Osborne said, however, he had not applied for admission to the University of Florida.

The manufacturers, the Vacu-matic Carburetor Co., 7617-424-T State St., Wauwatosa, Wis., are offering a Vacumatic to anyone who will install it on his car to save gas and to help introduce it to others. They will gladly send full free particulars if you write them or send your name and address on a post card today.

Anti-Histamine for Dogs

WASHINGTON (UPI) — If your pet dog has been stung by a yellow jacket, an anti-histamine pill will relieve the pain. The American Humane Society so reports with the explanation that bee stings contain histamine and that is why anti-histamine is effective.

Couldn't You Have Tried?

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: My husband and I were invited to dinner at the house of one of his business associates. The main course was roast beef which was served very rare. (Evidently this is the way they like it). The host carved and put a large slice of beef on my plate. Much as I like roast beef I could not bring myself to eat it and left it untouched on my plate.

"My husband criticized me later and said that I should have forced myself to eat at least some of it. Was this bad manners on my part, and what should I have done in this situation?"

Answer: Most hosts who carve a roast at the table ask their guests if they prefer a well done or a rare piece and then try to give each a slice they will enjoy. In your case, as your husband says, it would have been better to cut off one or two small pieces and eaten them.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Does it matter on which side of himself a man seats a lady, when they are at such places as a cocktail lounge or the two of them alone at dinner in a restaurant? I mean just how important is it that he follow this rule?"

Answer: Although seating her on his right is correct, at a cocktail lounge this is not important at all, nor at dinner in a restaurant if the seat on his left is the more desirable. Moreover, seating on right is a foreign—rather than an American—exaction.

"Dear Mrs. Post: In the case of air travel, when the stewardess serves a meal aloft what is the customary procedure regarding tips? I will be taking my first airplane flight soon and want to be sure I do the right thing."

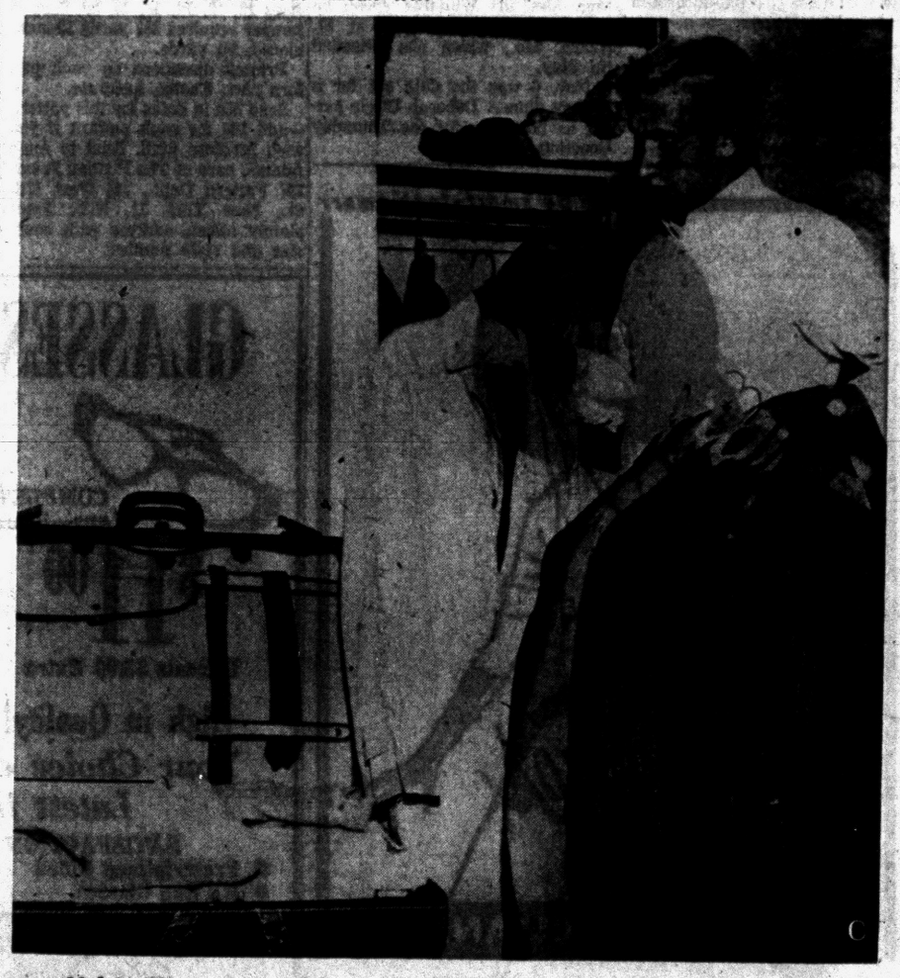

Answer: She is not given a tip. In fact, tipping is strictly forbidden by airline regulations.

Selecting records from her collection to take back to school is Leah Mae MacNutt of Neome drive. Leah will be a junior at U. of M. with plans for becoming a dental hygienist.

Polishing up his golf clubs, which he plans to continue using at U. of M., is Roger Anderson of West Iroquois road. Roger will be a sophomore this year. His special interests are the sciences.

Melvin White of Avondale street, a pre-dental student at U. of M., checks over his wardrobe as he prepares for going back to school. Melvin spent the summer as a lifeguard.

Success Can Spring From Some Failures

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Mrs. B. writes, "You say that kids are sometimes nagged out of their desire to study. Well, I nag my Tom because his teachers force it. They insisted that I 'help' him learn to count and read.

"He's now in the fifth grade—and if I withdraw my 'help' with his homework, the next day I get a note or phone call from his teacher. On school nights we can go nowhere, have nobody in. We have to keep our conversation dull so Tom won't get interested in it instead of doing his assignments . . . "

What's the effective threat behind those notes and phone calls, Mrs. B.? It's "If you don't make Tom produce, I'll fail him." Isn't it?

O.K. If this bright little boy so attracted to interesting conversation fails to get promoted, why can't he be trusted to use h's failure profitably?

Oh, I know that it's considered psychologically dangerous to expose a child to school failure. But parents whose failures have tapped new powers in themselves don't share this view. They know that children are scared by failure only when the adults they live with fear and despise it instead of trusting it.

DISCOVER OWN POWER

In response to the notes and phone calls, they say, "Perhaps, Miss Jones, what Tom needs this term is not promotion but the discovery of his own power to work."

In this world of pushers pushed, we just can't allow ourselves to be shoved without knowing where we're going. We have to shake them off and think, "Do I want what you're pushing me toward? Are you shoving me to do what I know is wrong?"

In the case of teachers who press us to make Tom produce, we have to say, "Hey, what are you up to? You seem to be suggesting that I ought to go on playing voodoo witch to Tom's zombie—that he has no initiative or vitality of his own and can only work if I pour mine into him.

"Well, I don't share your idea of my obligation. I think I'd better let him have an experience that may stimulate his own power instead of keeping him dependent on mine. Instead of getting pushed through the sixth grade, I think he'd better repeat the fifth one on his own steam."

We can't let anyone, including school authorities, define our views of "failure." We need values of our own that can see the seed of success in a failure.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell A. Gustavson of Hilltop drive are pictured on board a Swedish vessel just before sailing to Europe. The couple is en route for a three-week visit in Sweden, a trip to the Brussels World Fair, and a four week's stay in London.

Longfield-Arnold Nuptials Solemnized at Highland

★ ★ ★

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church parlors. The bride's mother wore a navy blue suit with pink carnations. The bridegroom's mother was dressed in a rose lace and linen dress and she wore a corsage of pink and white carnations.

The couple will live in East Lansing where the bridegroom is attending Michigan State University. They are honeymooning to northern Michigan.

Not if You Look in Right Places—Abby

Good Girl Hard to Find?

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

"DEAR ABBY: I know you aren't running a matrimonial bureau but maybe you can help me? I am 36 years old and want to marry a decent woman who wants a good, non-drinking husband who will take good care of her. I've never been married and everywhere I look I find women who want a meal-ticket and a drinking partner. Where are the respectable ones?

ABBY

"I am not a high-liver but I've saved my money and own my own car, don't owe a cent in the world and have a nice apartment with my own furniture. I can do up laundry and cook a meal as good as any woman, and I also love pets and children. How are my chances?" DANNY

DEAR DANNY: Are you for real? You'll find respectable women in respectable places. Churches are overflowing with them. Adult education classes attract fine people and so do volunteer organizations and clean sports such as bowling, tennis and golf. Let your friends know you are in the market and you'll meet so many sisters, cousins and aunts that you'll need a club to beat them off.

★ ★ ★

"DEAR ABBY: What do you think of neighbors who wake you up in the middle of the night to borrow syrup to put on their ice cream?" CURIOUS

DEAR CURIOUS: They would find no flavor with me?

"DEAR ABBY: I met a man where I recently became employed (he is my boss but if you print this don't use my name) and I think I could care a lot for him, but here is my problem: He says he is NOT married and the people where I work say he is NOT married, but he never takes me out in public unless he has another party along.

"The other party is one of his men friends. If he runs into anyone and has to introduce me, he makes it look like I am with the other man. If he's not married, why the other party, and why does he try to make it look like I am not with him?" STUMPED

DEAR STUMPED: He's hiding something. Marriage is not the only relationship that puts the "fear of being seen with a woman" in some men. Don't spend any more time on him until you find out where he's been all your life.

Fall Hairdos

The chemise is said to have inspired many of the new hairstyles. Most of them seem to be along the head-hugging styles of the twenties. It will be for your coif what the chemise does, or should do, for your figure. The idea is to provide slim, graceful lines that are touched with individuality. Emphasis is placed on height and bangs with the overall effect being one of softness.

Emphasis should always be placed on an attractive appearance. To create the right effect your hair must always look lovely and well-groomed. So why not make an appointment now for a new wave at Rowena's Beauty Salons, 4831 Dixie Highway, Drayton Plains. DR 3-3541. 14 S. Main, Clarkston. MA 5-1000. 1216 Baldwin, Pontiac. Fe 5-3735.

Age Will Show

Arms Need Exercise for Beauty

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

The firm, gentle roundness of a youthful arm and the tapering lines of a dainty wrist add much to feminine charm. Weight distribution varies in different individuals. Many women with matronly figures have small arms, while other comparatively slim women have an upper arm which is too large.

Exercise is the best remedy for either of these conditions. Stretching exercises will help in reduction of a large arm and other exercises will aid in building contour. Sometimes a very large arm may indicate a thyroid deficiency, although this does not necessarily follow.

We seldom hear the arm mentioned as a spot which gives age away. Yet it will do so unless a woman takes measures to prevent it. Even when the size of the upper arm is perfect, flabbiness will develop as the years pass, unless one does special exercises. This is always true unless a woman indulges in sports to an unusual degree.

The flabbiest part of the arm is the back underneath area. Today I want to give you an exercise which will help firm this spot. Stand with the left side toward a fairly high piece of furniture, such as a tall chair, a chest of drawers, or the headboard of a bed.

Place the fingertips of the left hand on the top of the piece of furniture, elbow straight. Keep the elbows straight as you pull down toward the floor with the arm, resisting with the fingers. Hold while you count to six slowly. Relax. Repeat until you feel tired and then turn the right side toward the furniture and do the same thing.

Another: Stand erect, the arms hanging at the sides, palms facing forward. Take a weight in each hand, bend the elbows and touch the fingertips to the upper arm. Return arms to sides and continue.

FOR FAT WRISTS

Many women who have wide, heavy wrists long for dainty slim ones. This is usually a question of bone structure. If so, nothing can be done to change it. However, if there is an accumulation of fat at the wrist, the following exercises will help:

Raise the left hand up in front of you, try to touch the fingertips to the wrist, slowly straighten the wrist, and pull the hand back toward you as far as possible. After a while, do the same thing with the right hand. It is also beneficial to make circles with the wrists, moving first in one direction and then another.

This exercise will help you fight upper arm flabbiness.

Soviets Renew U.S. Trade Bid

Proposal to Work Out Agreement Made by Mikoyan in TV

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet trade chief Anastas I. Mikoyan has renewed the Soviet Union's offer to work out a trade agreement with the United States —and even to sell this country some military equipment.

But Mikoyan said the two nations could never get together around the trade table unless American obstacles are removed.

★ ★ ★

He described these barriers as laws impeding trade wi the the Soviet Union and high tariffs hindering the export of Soviet goods to America.

Mikoyan spoke in a television interview filmed in Moscow July 26. The interview was shown yesterday.

The first deputy Soviet Minister said an expanded trade program between the United States and the Soviet Union would help ease cold war tensions.

"The things we want to buy are of no military significance," Mikoyan said. "Secondly, as for the production of arms, we have enough, and we do not need to buy any.

"If you like, we could sell you some. Naturally we will not sell intercontinental rockets as yet. That goes without saying."

Mikoyan said the Soviet Union would like to buy American materials to produce consumer goods. Asked if books could be included in any trade agreement, he answered with this qualification: "Books which do not tell the truth, and are abusive to our people—such books we naturally do not want to buy. Others we will buy with pleasure."

See New Strong Man in Italy's Red Party

ROME (AP) — Italy's Communist paper L'Unita today gave Luigi Longo top billing over Palmiro Togliatti, the man who has led Italian communism for years.

Longo, Togliatti's chief lieutenant, addressed a mass meeting in Bologna yesterday, Togliatti addressed one in Rome. The gatherings were intended to launch a fund raising campaign for L'Unita. The newspaper front-paged stories of the two meetings. But the headline went to Longo.

Women in UF to Visit Homes

A visit to every home, is the goal of the Women's Division Campaign leaders as they plan for the forthcoming Tenth Anniversary Pontiac Area United Fund drive.

Residential solicitations in Pontiac, Waterford Township and Lake Angelus will be conducted during an intensive 10-day campaign to be kicked off Oct. 21.

Recruitment of a sufficient number of volunteer workers to conduct the actual door-to-door soliciting is the first order of business for the division's area and district chairmen.

Mrs. Donald White, division chairman, and her three chief lieutenants, Mrs. Noel Buckner, Pontiac; Mrs. Robert Giroux, Waterford and Mrs. J. S. Tuttle, Lake Angelus, are heading the division this fall.

When the group was organized in 1952 it was named the Geographic Division. The name remained until this year's reorganization of the division which resulted in its new name.

During its first year, activities were restricted to an area encompassing six small districts in the center of Pontiac. Today, it has mushroomed to the extent that three separate co-chairmen and eight area chairmen are needed to supervise solicitations.

The division's expansion since last year's campaign has been equally remarkable. Where 22 district chairmen handled the Waterford solicitation in 1957, 53 are needed this year. Similarly, in Pontiac the number of districts has jumped from 18 to 43. Moreover, the total number of volunteer workers has almost doubled since last fall.

"Collecting more money by tapping areas which were previously missed by our workers of recent years is only a part of the thinking behind the reorganization of the division," stated Mrs. White. "The inherent educational values in our division's solicitations is the area in which its real worth can be measured."

"If the wives have an opportunity to learn something about the many services made available by the Fund's 55 health, welfare and recreational agencies, I'm sure they will be most anxious not only to make a pledge in their own name, but, in addition, urge their husbands to increase their pledges at work," Mrs. White added.

Buick Shows 3 New Series for '59 Cars This Week

FLINT—Buick's 1959 cars, with more glass, delta-wing rear fenders flaring outward and new overall styling, go on dealer display Friday.

Prices, to be announced with the dealer presentation, will give the first indication of the industry's general pricing trends for 1959.

The 1959 Buicks come in three series: LeSabre, the lowest-priced in the line; Invicta, the outstanding performer, and Electra, the luxury series.

LeSabre and Invicta are mounted on a 123-inch wheelbase and measure 217.4 inches in length. Electra is mounted on a 126.3-inch wheelbase and has an overall length of 220.6 inches. Companion models, Electra 225, also are mounted on a 126.3-inch wheelbase and measure 225.4 inches in length.

Hardtop models are under 55 inches in height, but headroom remains approximately the same as last year.

Electra and Invicta models are equipped with a completely new Wildcat V-8 engine with 401 cubic inch displacement and a four-barrel carburetor. The compression ratio is 10.5-to-1.

The Wildcat engine in LeSabre has a 364-cubic inch displacement and is equipped with a two-barrel carburetor. A four-barrel carburetor, which improves performance, is offered as an option. Compression ratio in LeSabre engines also is 10.5-to-1 when equipped with Dynaflow transmission.

★ ★ ★

The new four-door hardtop design features a flat roof line with a slender pillar behind each rear door. The area behind the rear door pillars is encased in a huge, curved "picture window" enclosing the rear passenger compartment.

In two-door hardtops the rear window curves up into the roof. The roof itself has been shortened to give rear seat passengers the illusion of sitting in the open.

Buick's redesigned twin turbine Dynaflow transmission is standard on all but LeSabre series. Triple turbine Dynaflow, with its improved performance, is optional on all series.

A new kind of air ride, a combination of air springs in the rear and coil springs in front, is optional on all models. Electric windshield wipers are standard on all models.

Aluminum front wheel brake drums, which Buick pioneered last year, also are standard on all models in 1959.

In addition, air-cooled brakes are offered for the first time on the rear. The new rear brake drums have 60 fins which increase air turbulence for better cooling.

Power steering, which is standard on Electra models and optional on all others, has been improved so that less than two and one-half pounds of effort is required to turn the wheel.

The new "magic mirror" exterior finish, which maintains its original luster for years, is standard on all 1959 Buicks and is offered in 13 colors.

FLAT ROOF LINE — Buick turns to the flat roof line on all four-door hardtop models. The model above, in the LeSabre series, features curved rear window that encompasses the entire rear passenger compartment. New Buick models will be on display Friday and will be shown here by Oliver Motor Sales, Orchard Lake at Williams street.

Fulfills Her Dream, Weds on Horseback

Pat, a lover of horses, said she dreamed of that sort of wedding since she was a small girl .

Symbolic Struggle in Virginia

Warren High Starkly Empty

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — The closed doors of Warren County High School symbolized today the intensity of Virginia's battle to prevent race mixing in the public schools.

★ ★ ★

Under the state's anti-integration laws, Gov. J. Lindsay Almond Jr. took control of the county's only high school, a white facility. And 1,045 students looked for ways to keep occupied until the crisis is resolved.

Other localities — chief among them Charlottesville and Arlington—face possible school closings this week.

At the same time, the broad outlines of a new round of litigation intended to put off integration are being sketched.

Residents of Warren County, in northwest Virginia, were silent and calm as they prepared for the impact of a closed high school. Precipitating the development was a Federal District Court order calling for the admission of 22 Negroes to the high school.

When school officials last week were unable to obtain a stay of this order pending an appeal, they suspended operation of the high school. Almond followed by taking control under a state law which automatically closes integrated schools.

Charlottesville, ordered by U. S. Dist. Judge John Paul to admit two Negroes to its only white school and 10 to one of its white elementary schools, tries tomorrow to get a stay of that ruling from Chief Judge Simon E. Sobeloff of the U. S. 4th Circuit Court in Baltimore.

★ ★ ★

The feeling is that if Sobeloff turns down the request, as he did in the Warren County case, Lane High School and Venable Elementary School in Charlottesville will close.

The opening date for these two schools twice has been put off and now is set for Sept. 22. Other Charlottesville schools open today.

Norfolk's school board, under pressure of a federal court order to desegregate public schools, has announced the intention to enroll 17 Negroes in white schools.

3 Youngsters Hit at Same Corner

Within two hours Saturday three youngsters were hit by cars while riding bikes in the intersection. None was seriously hurt.

★ ★ ★

At 11:30 a.m. Chester Shaw, 8, of 27 Fairgrove St., riding without brakes on his bicycle, police said, was hit by a car driven by Joseph P. Bowers, 65, of 190 W. Rundell.

Chester was treated at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital for a lacerated arm and released.

At 1:30 p.m., a bike ridden by Tommy Baker, 13, of 1270 Stanley St., and bearing as a passenger, Leonard Thompson, 9, of 69 Whitfield St., was hit by a car driven by Joseph Fleming, 72, of 155 Edison St.

★ ★ ★

Residents in Suburb Replace Train Noise

For years they were awakened by the 7 a.m. whistle of a train. The train was taken off. They suffered for a week and then arranged with a bus driver to blow his horn continuously while moving through the suburb.

Attorneys Will Meet Over Debbie, Eddie

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Attorneys for Eddie Fisher and Debbie Reynolds are due to get together this week to work out a divorce that will end the 1955 marriage of the film couple.

And with the lawyers entering the picture, the barrage of statements that marked the breakup of the marriage last week simmered to silence.

Fisher withdrew to an undisclosed hideaway to concentrate on his television show, which starts Sept. 30. Debbie spent a quiet day with her two children. Elizabeth Taylor, whose dates with Fisher apparently touched off the marital explosion, stayed out of sight at her agent's home.

★ ★ ★

A friend of Fisher's said the 30-year-old singer will not contest Debbie's divorce action so that a messy trial can be avoided. The friend said Fisher is anxious to spare both Debbie and Miss Taylor.

★ ★ ★

The quieting of the situation left one mystery still unsolved. The Chester (Pa.) Times published a column Friday under Fisher's byline in which he said he still loved Debbie and hoped their marriage could be saved. But Fisher denied writing it.

★ ★ ★

The newspaper's managing editor, Bud Magnin, said the article was accompanied by a note from Fisher, signed, "Eddie." Fisher has been writing a column for the paper since July.

★ ★ ★

But the singer, through a publicity man, said he didn't write it and that the article did not express his feelings. Both Fisher and the publicity man said they didn't know who could have written the column.

28 Polio Suspects Reported in Wayne

DETROIT (AP)—At least 28 cases of suspected polio were reported in Wayne County over the weekend, 20 of them in epidemic-stricken Detroit.

Dr. Joseph G. Molner, Detroit-Wayne County health commissioner, said they would boost the city's polio total for the year to 331 with 10 deaths. Total for the city and county combined is 429.

★ ★ ★

The new cases were reported as city health authorities urged anyone who has not had Salk vaccine to get inoculations promptly.

★ ★ ★

One Parent-Teachers Assn. unit sponsored a polio vaccination clinic at a northwest side school. It said a vigorous follow-up program is planned.

★ ★ ★

The chairman, Mrs. Irving S. Schaap, said a general criticism of polio clinics is that only a minority of those who get the first injection appear for the second and third.

Health experts say the city's present polio outbreak can be expected to continue two more months.

Exams Slated for West Point

Broomfield to Appoint Principal, 3 Alternates in 17-22 Age Group

Examinations for eligibility to enter West Point will be held for Oakland County candidates Monday, Nov. 17, Congressman William S. Broomfield announced today.

Candidates will also have to pass a preliminary physical examination, he said.

The four applicants who score highest on the civil service tests will be named as Broomfield's principal and three alternate appointees to the military academy.

All youths who are residents of Oakland County and between the ages of 17 and 22 can apply, if of good moral character, by contacting Broomfield at his offices, 2300 N. Woodward Ave., Royal Oak, or in Washington, Room 1422, New House Office Building, by Oct. 15.

The examinations will be held in Detroit, Flint and Pontiac at times and places to be announced later.

Health Research Eyes Dust Counts in Winds

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—Dust storms can be created with winds of only 15 miles an hour, two researchers report.

Frank E. Adley and Wallace E. Gill, of the General Electric Co. in Richland, Wash., said dust counts ranged from 400,000 particles per cubic foot of air at a 2 mile an hour wind to about 24 million particles in a 16 mile an hour wind.

Results of their tests were reported to a recent meeting of the industrial health conference.

To Prevent Cracking in New Junior High

Pierce School Breathes Like an Accordion

By REBA HEINTZELMAN

Huge expansion bars installed in the new John D. Pierce Junior High School in Waterford Township, permit the unique $2½-million building to "breathe without breaking."

Made of solid copper, the 5-inch accordion-type bars are literally wrapped around the five wings of the school and are clearly visible inside as well as outdoors.

They control the expansion and contraction of the structures, eliminating any possibility of walls cracking due to sudden changes in the weather.

This is only one of many new ideas incorporated in the construction of Waterford Township's newest school, which opened to some 1,300 pupils today.

Entrance to the school faces west and the 30-foot high walls on either side, are Chinese-red enameled brick — an idea taken from the ultra-modern General Motors Technical Center. The walls begin on the outside and extend through the plate glass doors into the main lobby.

★ ★ ★

Large expanses of clear glass reach from one end of the lobby-corridor to the other. The connecting wings are the only break in the panoramic view of the outside courts.

Instead of one big kitchen for preparing more than 1,000 lunches each day, there are two compact, efficiently arranged areas that open into two separate serving areas.

On either side of this "food-preparation center" are two separate dining rooms, approximately 40 by 60 feet, rather than one big room. Two completely equipped serving units accommodate pupils who may enter from the hall, be served and file into their respective dining rooms at opposite ends of the room.

★ ★ ★

Another idea improved upon and taken from now-occupied school buildings, is the ramp-type halls, rather than four or five steps up or down.

Not only is it cheaper to construct, but it is safer for walking and transporting equipment through the halls.

The walls throughout the building are sprayed cement block. The lower part has been enameled with a special process making them equal to ceramic tile in wearability.

Almost all of the larger rooms in the school have folding doors so that each may become a series of units when necessary.

In the choral department, three circular, raised tiers permit grouped arrangements, and an identically designed room for instrumental pupils is separated by the teachers offices.

One of the finest features of the new building is the directional-glass blocks that dominates all southern and eastern classrooms. These blocks deflect the bright rays of the sun—shooting the light toward the ceiling. Clear 2-foot adjustable windows at the base of the blocks, allow air to circulate.

Superintendent of Schools William Shunck said that many residents have asked about the covered loading area outside the school, being an "unnecessary expense."

He says not, as has been proven by pupils at the Isaac Crary School. The long covered walk connects all of the wings, and is used by the pupils as a corridor in getting from one unit to another. "It would be much more expensive to build another heated, lighted corridor," he added.

OPENING TODAY — The covered walks shown above will shield some 1,300 pupils beginning today, as the new John D. Pierce Junior High School opens in Waterford Township, at Crescent Lake and Hatchery roads. Cost of the building was $2,500,000.

Justice Bureau Raps Kennedy

Senate Rackets Prober Upbraided for Charges of Foot-Dragging

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Justice Department was embroiled in an angry row today with the chief counsel of the Senate Rackets Committee.

★ ★ ★

Simultaneously the rackets committee scheduled additional hearings on the controversial Teamsters Union this afternoon with Teamster president James R. Hoffa slated to appear for more quizzing.

The counsel, Robert F. Kennedy, touched off the dispute Saturday by charging the department with dragging its feet on prosecuting cases unearthed by the committee.

Last night Assistant Attorney General Malcolm Anderson angrily denied the charge and termed Kennedy's attack "destructive and mischievous."

He voiced particular surprise that the statement came "on the eve of the presentation of two such cases to the grand jury especially since on Friday, prior to your (Kennedy's) press conference, you were asked to be a witness in one of these cases and declined for personal reasons."

Kennedy, reached by United Press International, denied he had been asked to be a witness in any such case and stuck by his charge of foot-dragging.

Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark), chairman of the rackets group, said Kennedy was speaking for himself and not members of the committee. The senator said he had refrained from criticizing the Justice Department and had not authorized his counsel to issue a criticism.

Ypsilanti Boy Killed

Bob Considine Says:

Ike Must Prepare for Faubus' Next Move

LITTLE ROCK — Whither goest Faubus? What lies beyond for the man who has become a symbol—revered in many quarters—o fthe South's massive resistance to the desegregation of its public schools?

There is speculation now that he may in time run for the United States Senate aginast either McClellan or Fulbright, both of whom have been sympathetic to his defiance of the Supreme Court's integration order. Others feel that he might even try for a fourth term as governor, two years hence, having won so handsomely in his race for an almost unprecedented third term. There are others here who will tell you that he'd like to drop back to his old $5,00-a-year job as the state's road commissioner.

Right now, Faubus' future plans must be giving way, in his own mind, to those more immediate. His action in shutting down Little Rock high schools, in the wake of the Supreme Court's stern edict that the integration program at Central High proceed without delay, moves him to the very brink of contempt actIon.

There are a dozen Justice Department lawyers in town sifting the wording and intent of the injunction Federal Judge Davies slapped on Faubus a year ago, enjoining him against interfering with the integration order.

But the move against Faubus, if there is a move, probably won't come until he attempts to reopen the closed schools as segregated schools. TE e governor is the least predictable man in Arkansas, if not in the United States, so he may take any o fa dozen other tacks in an effort to sail clear of serious entanglement with Washington.

The obvious trap that confronts him, however, is the need in time to reopen the schools, and if he is to keep his pledge to the voters he must reopen them as segregated institutions.

When and if he so moves, the government men will no longer puzzle over their legal power to advance against him. Still, the Justice Department people here on the scene will do nothing on their own. They will wait for orders from Attorney General Rogers and Rogers, in turn, will wait on the pleasure of the White House.

This whole case has become a duel between Faubus and Eisenhower. Ike, as head of the executive end of the government, is charged with carrying out that with which the Founding Fathers saw fit not to entrust to the Supreme Court—the enforcement of a court order.

People down here figure the President will move with great caution. Even the pro-integrationists seem solidly of the opinion that his use of bare bayonets last year was a colossal blunder that set back peaceful integration for years.

The use this year of U.S. Marshals, with orders somewhat akin to those of cops inserting overtime parking tickets under windshield wipers, is evidence of the Administration' ssecond look at the scope of the problem and the nature of the people concerned with it.

What the President may want to avoid, even at the cost of further expanding on his own moderate interpretation of the high court's meaning of "delibarate speed," is any step that will increase Faubus's growing aura as a martyr.

All the fires that have smouldered since the age of the Carpetbaggers, al l the misgivings that have existed since the sovereign states first grudgingly yielded certain powers to the central g government, have been fanned and reactivated by the Little Rock case.

In the hurricane's eye stands Orval Faubus, knowing that whichever way he moves he'l l be knocked down. It it is the government which knocks him down, he'll be a greater Kingfish than Huey Long ever dreamed of becoming: If he yields to the law of the land, he won't wind up even with that job of road commissioner. Old Orval must be having some restless nights.

But then so is Washington.

At least 95 per cent of American families include some kind of canned goods in their regular diets.

Near Arc de Triomph

Watch Scene of Assassination Try

PARIS (UP) — Two Duluth, Minn., men touring Paris were at the scene of the attempted assassination of Information Minister Jacques Soustelle today.

They saw the minister coming out of his car with blood running down his face, and said they saw police drag one Algerian into a police wagon, pistol-whip him to his knees and kick him whn he was in the wagon.

★ ★ ★

The two are Jack McLeod and Elmer Johnson.

"We had just walked into our hotel and were about to register when someone came rushing in from the outside screaming something in French," said McLeod. "Everybody rushed for cover. The somebody yelled something about machine guns and in that instant we were standing alone in the middle of the hotel lobby. We heard the shooting almost at the same time.

★ ★ ★

"I stuck my head out of the door to see who was getting shot. Just a few yards up the street toward the square (he was referring to the big area around the Arc de Triomph) police were already dragging one Algerian along, handcuffed."

McLeod and Johnson said they ran up to the scene of the shooting. There they found the bullet punctured car, one of its rear windows shattered and the car perforated in several spots by bullets.

"A man came walking down the street with blood running down his face," continued McLeod, who did most of the talking, with Johnson joining in from time to time.

"We learned right away that he was the minister of information," said McLeod. "He was only cut by flying glass, so far as we could tell."

That proved to be true, as Soustelle himself reported later at a news conference.

"One man was lying on the sidewalk shivering," continued McLeod, who, with Johnson, had just arrived in Paris on a tour of Europe. "He was an innocent bystander. One man was comforting him and a policeman was standing by doing what he could. There were 10 or 12 police around by then, some with pistols and some with tommy guns. Everybody was looking around, but the place was almost deserted except for the police and one or two civilians who kept asking around 'Who got shot?' They seemed to be Americans.

"Then a policeman and a detective, he was in plain clothes, came out of the subway with an Algerian, handcuffed. The detective was pistol-whipping him — hitting him with a pistol — and several times he fell down but they jerked him up again.

"By then a number of people had come into the street and they joined in kicking and hitting the Algerian.

★ ★ ★

"I tried to take a picture of them," continued McLeod, who had a small movie camera loaded with color film. "The detective pointed the pistol at me and said 'Non, non, non!' They didn't take my camera but the camera of another man was taken away by the police.

"The Algerian was thrown into the back of a truck (evidently a police van) and there several of the police kicked him some more.

"A few minutes later a man was carried out of the subway station on a stretcher. He was dead. I used to work for a mortuary and I could tell.

"Then a lady came running to the police from around the corner. She yelled something at them in French and they followed her. Pretty soon they came back with six more Algerians. They had their hands straight in the air and the police had tommy guns pointed at them.

"Soon after that they came up with another. I just don t know where he came from."

More Marines to Quit Lebanon

2 Battalions Pulling Out With 9,600 GIs Left as Rearguard

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Two more U. S. Marine battalions are leaving Lebanon and are going home.

The U. S. Navy announced most of the 2,012 men of the 1st and 2nd battalions of the 8th Marine Regiment would go on shipboard today. Working parties began loading equipment yesterday.

Their departure will leave one Marine battalion of about 1,600 men and 8,000 Army men in Lebanon as the rearguard of a force that began landing here July 15.

One Marine battalion, withdrawn in August on the eve of an emergency U. N. General Assembly session on the Middle East, remained with the U. S. 6th Fleet in the Mediterranean.

But a Navy spokesman said the 1st and 2nd battalions will be sent back to the United States. They are being pulled out on the eve of the regular U. N. General Assembly session in New York.

Nearly 15,000 Marines and soldiers were ordered here at the request of President Camille Chamoun, who charged that the United Arab Republic was endangering Lebanon's independence.

The emergency U. N. session instructed Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold to make practical arrangements to facilitate withdrawal of the troops. He has announced no agreement by Arab countries on stationing a U. N. police force, observer force or representatives in the Middle East to watch out for infiltration and subversion.

Conditions have been gradually returning to normal since Chehab's election. Rebel leaders announced that starting today stores in the business section of Beirut could stay open until 1 p. m. without danger of being bombed for violating a rebel strike order. The rebels called the strike May 10, but eased up a week ago by allowing stores to open up until 11 a.m.

Red Observers Watch Every Move

Death Always Near on Big Quemoy

By CHARLES SMITH

BIG QUEMOY (UPI) — How does it feel to live under the muzzles of communist guns? Well, life goes on on Big Quemoy Island but it's an edgy kind of existence.

You drive a jeep down a modern concrete highway. You know the Reds must have it zeroed in. You can count about a hundred shell-hits on it as you ride.

You turn off the highway and head west, toward the shore facing the mainland. The roads are worse here. The jeep has to slow down and a queer uneasy feeling comes on you because you know you are under direct communist observation.

You look across the sunny expanse of ocean and the distance of a few miles seems to shrink to about a hundred yards. You feel as if a communist observer is counting the buttons on your shirt.

You drive north along the shore, still under direct observation. You look at the cloud of dust the jeep is leaving behind, and you still have the queasy feeling.

★ ★ ★

It increases a little when you begin to spot huge shell craters in the peanut and cabbage fields that abound in this area. The best farming land is in the western plain that slopes down from the rocky barren mountains to the sea.

★ ★ ★

You stop at a small farming village and photograph a group of old women with tanned, wrinkled faces and graying hair sitting in the shade, chatting and picking peanuts from the vines stacked around them.

They seem just like women anywhere discussing the village news. They smile and continue their chatting when you photograph them, as if they didn't know there was a war on.

You don't see many people as you approach these villages, seldom more than one or two but when you get to a village and walk through, people begin to pour out of the battered and weatherbeaten old houses to get a look at a foreigner — something they don't see up close too often.

In some villages the children rush to pose for pictures but in this one, they run or cry in fear if you point a camera at them.

You leave the village and go to nearby artillery positions. You see evidence of heavy shelling.

You are told by the commander of a fortified 105-mm. battery that the small area around a single gun position was hit by 600 red shells during a recent bombardment. He says his crew returned about one-third of that number.

He has his crew fire a round for you, aimed at a Red artillery position. The gun crew claims to have destroyed at least three enemy gun positions since Aug. 23.

The commander tells you he would like to fire more but it will bring return fire from the communists.

AF Again Launches Missile Successfully

Atlas, the most powerful war rocket in the free world at present, blasted away early yesterday on another 3,000-mile test of guidance and strength.

It was learned that the latest test was highly successful. That made the third straight time that the 100-ton Atlas sent its huge nose cone spinning in on target without a hitch.

The 85-foot missile thundered skyward from a huge ball of white flame shortly after midnight, and disappeared in a mass of storm clouds within a minute.

Three engines—twin booster rockets and a sustainer—were blazing as the Atlas rose ponderously aloft. More than 360,000 pounds of thrust is needed to push the rocket toward the 15,000 m.p.h. speeds necessary for space travel.

Coffee Break Lacking Without the Doughnuts

To Air Tax Appeals of Two Townships

Independence and Farmington township's appeals of their 1958 tax allocations will be aired Thursday before a member of the Michigan State Tax Commission sitting in Pontiac.

Independence appealed its 1.32 mills allocation in June, claiming the township would suffer a loss of more than $6,000 in taxes. Supervisor Duane Hursfall said the township requires an allocation of 2.74 mills to meet its proposed budget.

Following Independence in appealing its .86 of a mill allocation was Supervisor Frank J. Stephenson of Farmington Township. Stephenson said the allocation of the Oakland County Tax Allocation Board, handed down June 2, violated a law setting a minimum allocation to townships at one mill.

Oral arguments to support these claims are expected to be made Thursday during the joint hearings in the Supervisors Room of the County Office Building, 1 Lafayette St.

Gerald Barr, member of the Tax Commission, will conduct the hearings. The Commission must submit its findings as the result of the hearings within 15 days.

The Tax Allocation Board will present reasons at the hearing why they set the 1.32 and .86 rates.

Romeo Home for Retarded Must Correct Fire Hazard

ROMEO — A Romeo home for retarded children has been ordered to meet specific recommendations by the Michigan Mental Health Dept. before its license will be renewed.

Haven Farm, Inc., 273 Chandler St., was termed "a fire hazard" last weekend following inspections by State Police and Romeo law enforcement officers. The brick home formerly housed a girls' school.

The investigating team found sliding bolts on the doors of patients' rooms that authorities said, must be removed. They also asked that a leaking fuel tank in the basement be repaired.

Another recommendation was that patients who need retraining be placed in a fire-resistent building with adequate supervision.

PRAISE METHODS

Sgt. Wilbert Moilanen, commander of the Romeo State Police Post, said:

"The Parents Foundation for the Mentally Retarded, which operates the home, should be given credit for meetings the needs of the 21 patients. They appear clean, well fed and well nourished.

"It will be a small matter for the management of the home to make the required corrections and assure renewal of its license.

Most of the patients, ranging in age from 3 to 21, come from Wayne and Macomb counties.

"We found no evidence of cruelty or neglect of the children," said Detective Sgt. Ormel O'Farrel of Detroit, State Police fire marshal.

★ ★ ★

He added, however, that despite an automatic fire alarm system in the building, fire hazards still exist which must be corrected.

State Fair Seen as Unnecessary

Expense Is Unwarranted at Present Time, Says Agricultural Official

GRAND RAPIDS (UP) — A member of the Michigan Agricultural Commission has criticized the Michigan State Fair as no longer important to agriculture.

Arthur J. Hannah of Grand Rapids says elimination of the annual Detroit event could bring Michigan agriculture up to two or three million dollars a year without battling for state appropriations.

Hannah advanced his idea at a commission meeting with a group of southwestern Michigan growers who sought added funds for promotion of fruit and vegetables.

The appropriation through which the State Agricultural Department matches local promotion funds was cut this year to $75,000.

Hannah declared, however, that the state annually funnels from $750,000 to $1,500,000 for the state fair. He claims it is a losing battle.

While receipts from operation of the fair and rental of its buildings each season are returned to the state general fund, Hannah said, the deficit still runs to several hundred thousand dollars a year.

Meanwhile, he added, plans for rebuilding the state fair's exhibit halls show a program running high into the millions of dollars.

"Some time ago," Hannah observed, "the state fair was important as a place where farmers could compare their efforts and learn what was new. But with the system of mass communications available now, the fair no longer serves that purpose. It is only entertainment for Detroit."

He believes the 160-acre fairgrounds should be sold and interest from the sale price, plus state appropriations which now go toward the fair, channeled into Michigan agriculture promotion and research.

★ ★ ★

The state agricultural commission generally agrees that the fair no longer is serving Michigan agriculture, Hannah said.

If there still is a feeling among some growers that a state fair is needed, Hannah said, the Ionia County Fair could be designated as the state fair.

COMMERCE TOWNSHIP — Rosalie Hall, 18, of 5074 Virgie St., Orchard Lake, was crowned "Miss Outdoorama of 1958" Saturday at Multi-Lakes Conservation Association club grounds in Commerce Township.

The two-day Outdoorama attracted large crowds both Saturday and Sunday. Day Perry, general chairman of the event, estimated the two-day total attendance at 10,000.

Good Producers When Contented

Keeps Chickens Happy

By United Press International

So Tom Alway of Ludington has gone out of his way to make sure his chickens are contented at all times.

Alway has turned his "chicken palace" into a nearly all-automatic operation. He believes it is better for the chickens and better for himself.

Here are some of the automatic features of the palace:

The floor of each nest is covered with raised wire netting which "collects" the eggs as they are laid. The egg rolls down an incline, out of the nest and onto a belt which carries it to the packing house.

★ ★ ★

Alway also has an automatic fresh water system and a special mechanism that trips a rope and lowers perches at daybreak so the hens can use the nests. He doesn't allow the hens to nest at night.

About the only non-automatic phase of Alway's chicken operation is cleaning the hen house.

But he has simplified that matter too. He can swing up pen walls, open big doors at either end of the palace and clean the floor with a scraper attached to his tractor.

Negotiating for Advice-to-Lovelorn Program

Mae West May Air Views on Sex Over TV

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Miss Mae West, who invented sex and still holds the patent, soon may be airing her views on that fascinating subject over television.

The ageless "Come up and see me some time" siren is negotiating with a TV station to do an advice-to-the-lovelorn program.

★ ★ ★

"Offhand, honey," she said at her Santa Monica Beach home, "I can't think of anyone more qualified for the job. Besides, I call it educational TV."

Just to show she is still in rare form, she told how she would answer a sample question, to wit: What's the best way to hold a man?

Miss West—who is called Mae by close friends and "Peaches" by intimates—spoke from her classic stage and movie position: reclining on a white chaise lounge in her living room.

★ ★ ★

Her hair was just as platinum-colored, curly and long as ever. At the age of 66, she look half her age in a beige-and-white low-cut house gown and flimsy beige stole.

She still has a figure-eight figure. She still doesn't drink or smoke. And she still has that huge mirror on the ceiling over her bed.

"You've got to know the ground rules," she said. "For instance, love thy neighbor—but not thy neighbor's husband."

★ ★ ★

A.—She should tell him everything that someone else may tell him first.

Q.—What should a wife do if she finds that her husband is running

A.—Let me see the other woman first.

A.—I know it may sound funny coming from me—but mother always knows best.

"Frankly," she elaborated, "one of the reasons I've managed to keep on top is that the women like me as much as the men. I try to use psychology. In all of my pictures and plays, I always protected the other woman. I never took a man away from a woman.

★ ★ ★

"I must admit, though, that sometimes it's pretty tough. Some of our best men are married."

How should a women get a man?

One of the troubles with modern movie stars, she said, is that they don't play up their sex appeal as much as in the old days.

"They try to be too average — cooking, washing and all that," she said.

Can she cook?

"Nobody ever asked me to," she drawled.

Miss West said she spends a lot of her time reading — always in bed. She likes to read about "famous bad women who made good."

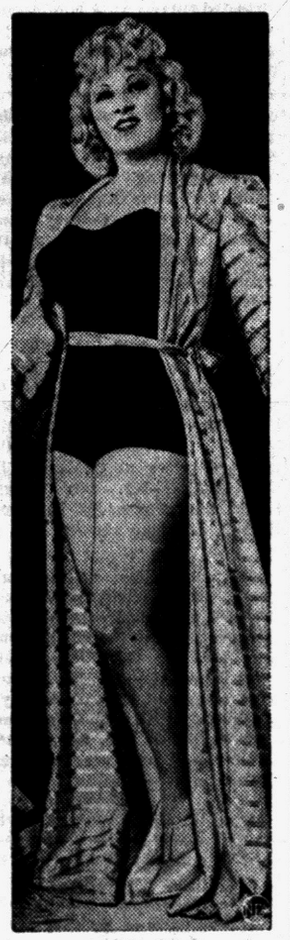

She said she feels she achieved a certain niche in posterity with such lines as, "It isn't the men you see me with that count. It's the men you don't see me with that you should worry about."

An optimist to the end, she remarked:

And, as a parting shot, she noted that she still likes to be called buxom in stories about her.

Rebuild Schoolhouse in Ten Days Time

FREEPORT, N. Y. (AP)—Students begin classes today in a brand new one-story schoolhouse where 10 days ago there were only ashes.

About 200 parishioners of Our Holy Redeemer Roman Catholic Church pitched in and built the school after the old one burned Aug. 28.

The temporary, six-classroom structure was blessed yesterday by Msgr. John J. Mahon.

He praised not only the enterprising parishioners but also Lou Bloom, a plumbing supply store proprietor who lent a boiler to the schoolhouse.

Overheated Book 'Lolita' Being Readied for Film

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

The reason the Yul Brynner cocktail party for Margaret Leighton and Francoise Rosay was called off was because an insect bit Yul on the eyelid.

HOLLYWOOD — That most controversial book "Lolita" by Vladimir Nabokov, has been bought by Stanley Kubrick and James Harris, and I must say they are brave young men.

This little book has been banned in Canada and in England, and is certainly nothing for children to read. Since Putnam published it Aug. 18, however, it has sold over 100,000 copies.

I don't know how much of a clean-up job these talented boys can do because the girl involved in the romance in the book is only a child, but I suppose they could make her older.

One hundred and fifty thousand dollars was paid for the film rights, plus 15 per cent of the gross, and if any young producers can handle this censorable book, Kubrick and Harris should qualify. They have made excellent pictures.

★ ★ ★

I am happy that Barbara Rush has landed the top feminine role in "The Philadelphian" opposite Paul Newman at Warner Bros. Barbara was very good in "The Young Lions," and is even better in "Harry Black and the Tiger."

She's such a good actress it's too bad that she put on weight, and while I haven't seen her since I returned from my trip, I feel sure she'll shed some of the poundage before she starts the picture.

If Phil Harris doesn't know it he ought to be told, that the little woman at home is in there pitching for him to get the lead in the motion picture of "The Music Man." Alice Faye Harris, who used to live next door to me and who is a friend of many years, wires:

"Dear Louella: An idea that came to me upon reading your column about Bing and Frankie for 'The Music Man.' How about my boy Phil? Don't you think he would be great? I am throwing his hat in the ring because he is so shy. Let's see if he gets a vote or two. Love ya."

Irene Dunne and Dr. Francis Griffin hosted a party of ten at the Cocoanut Grove to hear Ann Blyth. The supper honored Mr. and Mrs. Emory Bronte of Honolulu, friends of Gov. and Mrs. Quinn. In the party were the Jack Wrathers and Jack Benny.

Ann Warner is hopeful that she can move Jack to the villa in Cap D'Antibes next week. He'll recuperate there for five or six weeks before he returns to Hollywood.

Call on French and Germans to Work Together

COLOMBEY LES DEUX EGLISES, France, (AP) — "Frenchmen and Germans should live happily together and work side by side," French Premier de Gaulle and West German Chancellor Adenauer declared after a six-hour talk in this village yesterday.

Their joint communique said armed conflict between the two nations, who have fought each other in three great wars since 1870, "should be finished forever."

★ ★ ★

The 82-year-old Chancellor came here to De Gaulle's home for their first meeting. They had no formal agenda, but their talks were reported to have ranged over such problems of French-German relations as disarmament, German reunification, and the future of such European organizations as the Coal-Steel Pool and the Common Market.

The Middle East and Far East also were discussed, but their views on these questions were not disclosed.

★ ★ ★

Later they were joined by their foreign ministers, Maurice Couve de Murville of France and Heinrich von Brentano of West Germany.

Von Brentano said the meeting made it obvious that "the intentions of France and Germany are the same and their ideas as to the present and future are parallel."

Officer Slays Negro in Troubled Atlanta

ATLANTA (AP) — A Negro was shot and killed by a policeman, shots were fired at one trolley and another was stoned during a series of weekend disturbances in Atlanta's northwest section.

★ ★ ★

Police Chief Herbert Jenkins took personal direction of the probe last night and detectives were told to stay out of the Negro residential area except on necessary police business.

★ ★ ★

Shortly after the Saturday night disturbance, T. B. Woods said a crowd in the same general area threw rocks at his trolley, smashing several windows. Yesterday H. F. Todd said he heard three shots and that a bullet punctured the trolley windshield inches from his head.

In both instances the trolleys sped away from the scene. No passengers were reported injured.

Tigers Make Their Annual Fall Showing

Foytack's Three-Hitter Wins First, 6-1; Hoeft Takes Nightcap, 9-3

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Tigers are having their annual fall showing, and if they can keep up with their present style they can salvage third place out of a drab season.

Too late to do anything except stir up conversation about "wait 'til next year," the Tigers have swept into third place on the strength of a Sunday doubleheader victory over the Boston Red Sox.

The scores were 6-1 and 9-3, and Michigan fans, proving again that this is the greatest baseball town anywhere, turned out more than 27,000-strong to witness the battle for third place.

They saw the Red Sox' losing streak go to seven games and failed to see what many of them came to see when Boston is in town — Ted Williams did not get a home run.

Although the big guy put on quite a show in batting practice, he was hitless in four trips in the opener and failed to hit in a pinch hitting role in the nightcap. Leading the league in hitting at the start of the day's activities, Williams slipped to .315 in the race. Harvey Kuenn of Detroit fell off to .314.

Pete Runnels of Boston had three hits in seven trips and hiked his average to .319.

The Tigers, struggling back to the .500 mark with a 71-71 record, supplied Paul Foytack and Bill Hoeft with 11-hit attacks in each contest. The Tigers have batted out 38 base hits in their last three games.

Foytack pitched a three-hitter in the opener and would have had a shoutout except for Bill Klaus' first home run of the year, leading off the ninth inning.

Hoeft pitched seven innings in the nightcap for his first triumph since Aug. 3. Tom Morgan pitched the last two frames after manager Bill Norman figured Hoeft had tired.

Gail Harris, Coot Veal and Al Kaline collected four hits each during the afternoon. Harris hit his 19th home run and Charlie Maxwell socked his 13th in the nightcap, and Maxwell contributed a triple to the first-game assault on three Red Sox pitchers.

★ ★ ★

The Tigers never trailed during the day. They scored three times in the second inning of the opener as Maxwell, Frank Bolling and Foytack got extra-base hits. In the second game a five-run third inning settled the issue for all practical purposes.

Hoeft and Foytack struck out eight batters apiece and the Red Sox — suffering with one of their worst slumps in recent seasons — gathered only 11 hits in the two games.

To protect their one-game advantage over the fourth-place Sox, the Tigers must face the New York Yankees, who already have wrapped up the pennant.

The Yanks come in Tuesday to open a two-game series and Frank Lary, with a 6-1 record against the champions, will be Detroit's choice in the opener.

But Pirates Refuse to Walk Plank for Braves

Yanks Make It 'Official'

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

By The Associated Press

It's official now. The Yankees can start thinking about the Milwaukee Braves and the World Series.

But the Braves can't think about the Yankees until they get the Pittsburgh Pirates out of their hair. The Pirates simply refuse to walk the plank. Six down with only nine games to play, Pittsburgh will not concede to the Braves.

It took 143 games to find out what everybody knew all along. The Yankees are the best in the league. They finally nailed it down Sunday in Kansas City, winning the first game of a doubleheader 5-3. That did it mathematically.

Whitey Ford who has been out of action with elbow trouble had a five-inning tuneup in the second game but the Yanks had to come up with five runs in the 14th inning to win it 12-7, making Ralph Terry a double loser.

Almost everybody assumes a New York Yankee-Milwaukee rematch is a sure thing. They even talk about odds and pitching plans, but the Pirates insist on dying the hard way.

Bob Friend, top winner in the National League, posted his 21st victory yesterday in the second game against Chicago 6-2 after Ted Kluszewski's sacrifice fly had won the first game 5-4.

Milwaukee lost to Los Angeles 5-3 on a two-run homer by Don Demeter. As a result of the defeat and the Pirates' double success, the Braves' lead was cut to six games. They still need any combination of five victories or Pittsburgh defeats to nail down those series checks.

Joe Cunningham, filling in for Stan Musial at first base, hit two home runs against Philadelphia as St. Louis racked up a 6-3 decision for Sam Jones. The strikeout leader of the Majors fanned six, boosting his season total to 212 while winning his 13th.

Willie Mays came to life in the second game at Cincinnati with a double and three singles in San Francisco's second game victory 6-4. Bob Purkey won his 7th for Cincinnati in the opener 4-3.

Richie Ashburn of the Phils boosted his average to .342 with three hits in five trips against the Cards to widen his lead in the National League batting race. Stan Musial of St. Louis was idle remaining in second place at .338. Mays moved up to .335 while Hank Aaron of Milwaukee slipped one point on a hitless afternoon to .332.

Chicago celebrated the rehiring of Manager Al Lopez for another year by bumping off Washington twice 7-1 and 6-5. As the White Sox long have been largely concerned with saving second place this was an important development.

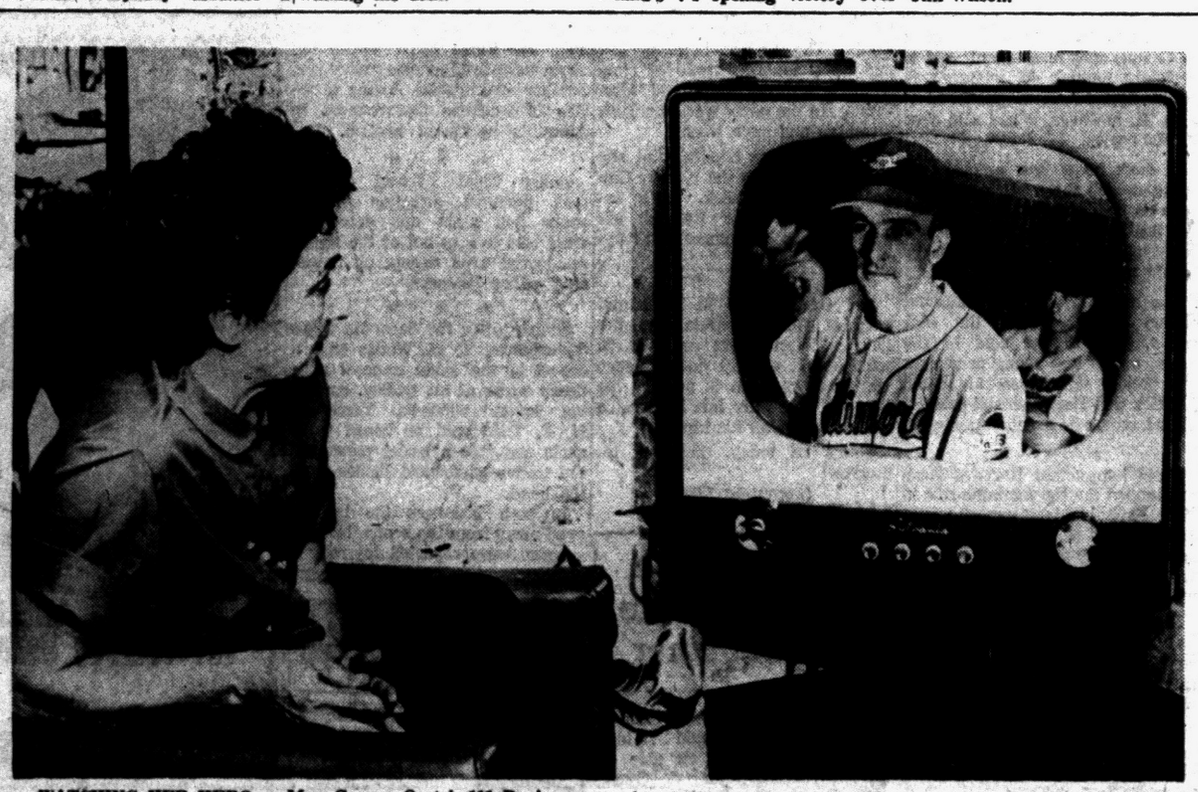

Rocky Colavito had two homers and Vic Power one in Cleveland's 7-4 opening victory over Baltimore. Arnold Portocarrero squared matters for Baltimore by winning the second game 4-2 and hitting his first homer.

Duke Maas won the clincher for the Yanks although he needed help from Ryne Duren and Art Ditmar in the ninth. It was the Yanks' 24th pennant and their fourth straight and their ninth in 10 years under manager Stengel.

Virgil Trucks was the second game winner for the Yanks with a fine six-inning relief job. Five hits, two stolen bases and two walks enabled the Yanks to score five in the 14th. Bob Cerv homered in each game, his 35th and 36th.

Billy Pierce gained his 17th victory for Chicago in the first game, losing his chance for a shutout when Roy Sievers hit his 38th homer. Earl Torgeson hit two homers in the second and rookie John Callison, Sherm Lollar and Bubba Phillips one each. Faye Throneberry hit a pair for Washington off Jim Wilson.

WATCHING HER HERO — Mrs. George Oertel, 111 Raeburn St., Pontiac, enjoyed one of the biggest thrills of her life Saturday afternoon when she saw her son Chuck belt his first Major League home run while watching the Tiger-Baltimore contest on television. He hit it off Jim Bunning.

Central Defeats Northern, 27-14

By The Associated Press

In the weekend's inaugural two games Central Michigan kept its unbeaten record against Northern Michigan 27-14 and Michigan Tech again lost its opener to Mankato State of Minnesota 26-16.

Central's win, in which halfback Jerry O'Neil ran 93 yards for one touchdown, was its 18th in 19 games with Northern. The other game was a tie. The teams met at Marquette.

Mankato State spoiled Michigan Tech's debut in the new Northern State college conference. It was the second straight year Tech lost its opener to Mankato. They played at Houghton.

All four teams played the "go for broke" style on the extra points. There were 12 touchdowns and only once was the kick (one point) tried. They tried runs and passes for the two points on the 11 other occasions. Some worked and some didn't.

21-Minute Ride on Kite Claimed as World Record

LAKE WALES, Fla. (AP) — A water skier hanging onto a large kite stayed aloft for 21 minutes yesterday and claimed the time as a world record. He said the old mark was just one minute.

Kenneth Tababo, 29, made the flight during a one hour and 11 minute ride behind a motor boat on Lake Wales. He also stayed up without touching water for several-minute-intervals other times during the ride.

He discarded his water skies a short time after the ride started, and skimmed over the water in his bare feet whenever he touched down.

Clinching 1958 AL Title Taken in Stride by Casey

Stengel and some of his old-timers ventured the opinion they can beat Milwaukee in the World Series provided they are able to go at or near full strength.

"I'm proud of my players because you can't win a pennant without players, you know, and I'm proud of our scouts who find these wonderful players for us, and I'm proud of the front office which pays me," Stengel told players, photographers and reporters crowded in the Yankee dressing room between games.

"It's a good thing we got off to a good start like we did, which we needed to win, or we would have been losing as of now," Casey continued in typical Stengelese

Asked if he felt the Yankees' chances of winning the World Series were good, Stengel said: "If we could get this fella Carey (injured third baseman Andy Carey) back in the line-up, and our pitchers get healthy again, we will give Milwaukee a run for their money."

Most of the between-games period was devoted to the customary quick snack of sandwiches by the players. Veterans Yogi Berra and Hank Bauer, only Yanks who have been on each of Stengel's nine championship teams, both said they felt the club would take Milwaukee.

Bauer described the present Yanks as "the best I've played with for the first 2½ months of the season, then not too good after we started getting injuries and slumped a bit."

Determined Mr. Coe Amateur Champion

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Determination born of a miserable round in last year's Masters tournament furnished lanky Charlie Coe that extra something needed to win the 1958 National Amateur golf title.

The payoff came Saturday over the tricky Olympic Country Club course when the 140-pound, 6-footer whipped husky University of Florida collegian Tommy Aaron 5 and 4 to collect his second national championship.

Later the U.S. Golf Assn. named a team of Coe, Billy Joe Patton, Dr. Frank Taylor and William Hyndman III to represent the United States in the World Championships at St. Andrews Scotland Oct. 8-11.

District Golfers Post 11-7 Win Over Publinx Team at Lansing CC

Despite the herculean efforts of State Publinx champion Mike Andonian and Royal Oak policeman Wally Smith, the Detroit District's 16-man golf team retained the Atlas Cup with an 11-7 victory over the Michigan Publinx golfers last weekend at Country Club of Lansing.

Andonian and Smith, both from Pontiac, scored impressive victories in Sunday's singles matches. Andonian fired a two-over-par 74 to defeat four-time State Amateur champ Glenn Johnson, 1 up, and Smith downed Dr. Robert Corley, 3-2. Smith was five under par when the match ended on the 16th hole.

Bill Schwope of the Publinx squad shot 31 on the back nine and had 70 for the round as he whipped Roy Burgin, 3-2, while the District's Jim Funston carded 71 to nose out Jay Law, 1 up.

Cincy Nine Favorite

BATTLE CREEK (UPI) — Cincinnati's undefeated entry in the National Amateur Baseball World Series was favored to take the AABC crown today.

Cincinnati pounded two Tacoma pitchers for 13 hits and an 11-6 defeat in the second round of the tourney yesterday. Earlier, Houston, Tex., edged past Wyandott,e Mich. 2-1, to eliminate the Michigan squad from the double-elimination series.

Wolverines, Spartans 'Sloppy' in Scrimmage

The Wolverine coach is laughing and confident one day, depressed and disappointed the next. His daily turnover reflects the performance of the Wolverines and probably what is in store for them once the season rolls around.

After two weeks of practice, Michigan has indicated it may be sharp in one game, clumsy and ragged the next.

"For the first time, I'm encouraged, we're passing well and moving the ball well and most of all —blocking well," Oosterbaan said after a mid-week scrimmage the other day.

"I was satisfied for only the first 15 minutes,' Oosterbaan said after Saturday's 2½-hour session in Michigan Stadium. "We were sloppy and ragged. It wasn't very encouraging. We're far behind where we should be at this stage."

Despite Oosterbaan's changing tune, Michigan showed solid ability to move the ball consistently for short yardage Saturday. The first stringers, scrimmaging the second stringers for the first time in Oosterbaan's reign, punched over six touchdowns on long marches. The second unit moved the ball well, but couldn't get beyond the varsity's 8-yard line. The varsity won 41-0.

He termed the play "sloppy" and said it was the poorest day since the start of practice.

"I know they are tired from the grind of two workouts a day," he added. "Perhaps they'll perk up when we cut back to one afternoon practice daily on Monday."

One will be held Wednesday. The second, closed to all except newsmen, again will be an afternoon affair in Spartan Stadium.

Fullback continues to be a problem. Daugherty said he thought neither Don Arend nor Bob Bercich, the two leading candidates, looked too impressive in the workouts.

An added complication was the loss of third string fullback Bob Ricucci, a junior from Chicago. Ricucci fractured his right collarbone in the hitting session and will be sidelined for the season.

Races Canceled Because of Dust

Too much dust from flying wheels on the Oakland County Sportsmen's Club sports car track wiped out the sports car category event for the OCSC group's weekend program. The race has been rescheduled for Sept. 28, when addition of more calcium chloride and additional work on the roadbed is expected to eliminate the trouble.

However, the sedan class was run off, with Jack Jenkins of Royal Oak (Grand Tourisimo Saab) set a new mark at 2:00.2 for the single lap, five seconds under the former record.

On Oct. 5 the club will be host to the Michigan Sports Car Club, and on Oct. 12, will conduct the final event of the Pioneer trials.

Jackie Pung Winner Following Record 32

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Long-hitting Jackie Pung won the $5,000 Jackson Ladies Open Golf Tournament Sunday after shooting a record 32 on the back nine in the final round.

Mrs. Pung, the veteran pro from Honolulu and San Francisco, finished with a 75-75-70 in the 54-hole event over the Colonial Country Club course, a 6,700-yard layout with a par of 74 for ladies.

Mrs. Pung's total of 220 was one stroke better than the score of Mickey Wright of Bonita, Calif. Miss Wright, runnerup to Betty Dodd of San Antonio, Tex., in 1957, took a 73 Sunday as she bogeyed No. 18 for a 221 total.

The leaders:

Jackie Pung $831.25

Lions Need Win to Square Record

DETROIT (AP)—Tagged with their third loss in five exhibition games, the world champion Detroit Lions were back home today and anxious to even the record.

On the strength of past performance, they'll probably succeed. They play the Cleveland Browns, whom they've beaten once, at Cleveland Saturday night. The game concludes the pre-season schedule.

The Lions lost it in the last 10 seconds when Norm Van Brocklin, former Los Angeles Rams quarterback, threw a four-yard pass to Pete Retzlaff for a touchdown. Just before, Retzlaff had run back an intercepted Bobby Layne pass for 61 yards as Layne was trying to move the Lions out of a 24-24 tie. Bobby had come back to action after Detroit lost a 24-21 lead when Bobby Walston kicked an 11-yard field goal.

Wilson said he was "not too disappointed."

"We accomplished what we set out to do, which was to get a look at the rookies," he said.

The Lions were to cut one more man from the squad today to get down to the required 38-man roster. Yesterday they released Ralph Pfeifer, former Kansas State halfback.

The loss to the Eagles might very well have been another "Layne Show" Lion victory.

Bobby passed two second-quarter touchdowns—one for four yards to John Henry Johnson and the other for five to Gene Gedman. That provided a 17-14 halftime lead because Jim Martin kicked a 32-yard field goal in the first period. On his return in the 24-24 tie score in the last quarter, Layne moved his team 60 yards only to have a pass intercepted. The Eagles failed to click and Layne tried again—but this time Retzlaff intercepted and made his long run to set up the Eagles' winning touchdown.

Tobin Rote and Jim Doran collaborated on a 64-yard scoring pass to give Detroit its brief last quarter lead. Billy Barnes and Clarence Peas, former Michigan State star, scored on plunges for Philadelphia in the second quarter. Barnes ran 46 yards for another in the third period.

'Flip' Sends Racer to Hospital

Kalbe Hurt at Regatta

Only serious mishap of the day, Sunday, in the season's final outboard races for the midwest area, at Sylvan Lake, sent Paul Kalbe of Monroe to a hospital. Kalbe, Michigan Class-B utility champion, was thrown against the controls of his boat, when it flipped during the 3rd lap of his class race. Choppy water, stirred by a stiff wind, and waves from a pleasure craft, upset the speeding utility.

Kalbe was treated at Pontiac General Hospital, where seven stitches were taken in his left side. He returned to Oakland County Boat club where the races were under way, but did not drive again.

A half dozen other spills occurred in the hydro division, but no one was injured and all boats were towed ashore. Some bloodied noses and assorted bruises were the extent of these personal mishaps.

Strikes and Spares

By Joe Wilman

Most bowling leagues are just getting under way now for the coming fall and winter. For those bowlers who have kept active during the summer months with open bowling or a summer league, the opening of the new season isn't much of a problem.

But if you haven't been bowling for, say, the past two or three months, let old Professor Wilman give you some good advice:

1. Before you begin your league season, try to get in at least two or three practice sessions as we illustrate. Don't begin your bowling year "cold," without a warm-up. It hurts your average and your team's success.

2. Concentrate on your armswing, footwork and timing when you practice. These three fundamentals are the key. Don't worry about scores.

3. If you begin to feel tired while you're practicing, sit down and relax. Don't overdo it the first few times out. Remember, you're using muscles and ligaments that may have been inactive for several months.

Baltimore Wins First Exhibition

Beats Giants, 27-21; Green Bay Loses to Washington 23-14

By The Associated Press

Who's gonna tame the big bad Bears?

That was the question today around the National Football League as the exhibition season made ready for its last fling with Chicago the only undefeated team.

Sunday, the Baltimore Colts won their first game by defeating the New York Giants 27-21. The Colts have lost three games. The Giants have a 1-4 mark.

Saturday, Washington moved to the top of the Eastern sector by downing Green Bay 23-14 to bring their mark to 3-2. Philadelphia (2-3) handed the defending champion Detroit Lions their second defeat in four games, 31-24.

The Colts had to break away for a pair of last quarter touchdowns—one on an interception by rookie Ray Brown—to beat the Giants. With the score tied 14-14 and the ball on the Giant 26 quarterback John Unitas hit Ray Berry with two passes to put the ball on the 4. L.G. Dupre took it across. Brown then intercepted a Charley Conerly pass and moved 66 yards for the clincher.

The rifle arm of Rudy Bukich and the talented toe of Sam Baker earned the Redskin victory. Bukich completed 11 of 19 passes for 200 yards, one a 24-yard TD pass to Tom Bratz. Baker kicked three field goals, 22, 28 and 41 yards.

Another Ace at Pine Lake

Vere Hodges of Pontiac accounted for Pine Lake Country Club's 7th hole-in-one of the year Sunday when he aced the 160-yard 12th hole with his 6-iron. Accompanying him were his wife Vera and Harry Hamilton of Pleasant Ridge.

Teeing Off

By BILL CORNWELL

You've heard it many times. "What a life those professional golfers have. Nothing to do except travel around and play golf every day. Wish I had a snap like that."

The person guilty of saying such words and meaning them seriously is either appallingly ignorant of the facts or else he's a frustrated golfer who wishes he could play just half as well as they do.

Or, more likely still, the critic doesn't even play golf, has no knowledge of the game at all and speaks through emotion alone without making any attempt to understand the problems of a touring pro.

Anyone who likes to play golf and appreciates its never-ending challenge is at least partially aware of the hazards of playing the game for a living. Friendly competition in the weekly summer league can provide some kind of an idea.

★ ★ ★

To get down to brass tacks, being a golf pro is a hard lot. In the August issue of the Southern Golfer magazine, professional Johnny Pott has an article that illustrates the point perfectly.

Pott, who hails from Shreveport, La., is one of the nation's most promising young pros. Yet he has had a "devil" of a time collecting a dollar for himself.

For example, in the Rubber City Open at Akron, Ohio., Pott fired a 72-hole score of 284, even par, and finished two strokes out of the money. In the Insurance Open at Wethersfield, Conn., he shot a two-under-par 282 and won the grand total of $20.

This is not an effort to arouse sympathy for the roving pros. They have never asked for pity and want none. They have made their bed and are happy to lie in it.

The traveling pro knows the risk involved but is willing to take the gamble because he enjoys the game and has confidence that he is skilled enough to keep cash in the billfold.

Pott played excellent golf in the Rubber City and Insurance tournaments, yet he didn't earn enough to pay the entry fees, let alone meet his other expenses. His case shows the fierceness of competition on the PGA tour.

Several of the nation's older pros are financially secure today, but most of them had rocky starts. In the long run, golf was good to them because of their skill and the rich rewards that accompany success on the tournament trail.

The young pro has a mighty tough row to hoe when he decides to join the tourney circuit. Dollars do not come easily. If you doubt it, just ask Johnny Pott.

KICK IT — Hugh Spencer of New Zealand was about to give the ball a boot past an onrushing Cranbrook player when Press photographer Tom Gerls caught this shot at the Crane-American Field Service soccer game at Cranbrook yesterday. Cranbrook won 3-0. Spencer, who attends Royal Oak Dondero, was one of 11 foreign boys to see action.

Hardesty Is Medalist in Outdoorama Contest

International fly-casting champion Ben Hardesty, resident of the Bloomfield Hills area, yesterday emerged as the big champion at Multi-Lakes Conservation Assn. Outdoorama, at Reed's Lake. Ben outpointed a fine field of contestants in the two-day "medalist" competition and was named Michigan's top sportsman for 1958. The title was based on all-around ability with casting rod, shotgun, archery and other skills.

Runnerup was Robert Handey of Detroit and Royal Oak's Fred Meinecke was third place winner.

In the women's division, Lillian Backman was medalist. She was followed by Judith Ramsey and Ruth Handey of Detroit, in order.

Junior medalists were Robert Fowler, Don Green and Bill Juergens.

The 3rd annual Outdoorama was a big success, say M-L officials, who estimated the attendance Sunday as around 8,000 to 10,000.

MEDALIST—Ben Hardesty, international bait and fly-casting champion added another title to his long list, Sunday, when he became the medalist in Multi-Lakes Cons. Assn., two-day Outdoorama. Ben, above, in action, didn't stay around to receive his fine trophy.

Almont Rated Tops in Southern Thumb

Imlay SCC Favorite

(This is another in a series of prep football roundups covering Oakland County and area leagues. Tuesday we feature the Eastern Michigan League.)

By CHUCK ABAIR

The opening of the 1958 high school football season is still four days away but predictors around the area already have Imlay City in the South Central League and Almont of the Southern Thumb headed towards titles for the third straight year.

And they are not getting much argument from the rival coaches in either case although Imlay skipper Lyle Powers has listed his Spartans for last place this term in true Frank Leahy form.

Ortonville's whipping of Imlay last fall kept the SCC tight a year ago as no team lost more than twice in league play.

The Spartans have five key men back among 12 lettermen. They are big quarterback Jim Ward, ends Gordy Hoeksema and Pete Brabb, and huge tackles Pat Emerick, 218, and John Lengemann, 198. The latter excels as a placekicker, also.

Second place should be a real scramble with North Branch given the slight edge due to its 15 returning letter-winners.

The Broncos have good size topped by experienced guard Bernie Wilson, who weighs 220. At least two other probable starters go over 212. Speedy halfback Dale Talcott and tackle Gordon Porrett rank among the best individuals in the league.

New coach Ron Johnson has his work cut out at Ortonville with the likes of Charlie Graves, Larry Follis, Gil Withey and Arnie Hungerford among the missing. Quarterback Pat McNulty and converted fullback Ted Follis could make the Blackhawks a contender with the help of vet end Earl Richardson and 195-pounders Al Giroux and Jim Frahm.

Oxford was 1-5-1 over all last fall and Dick Figg is pushing the Wildcats hard to come up with a winner. However, the loss of chief returnee Wes Douglas, a guard, due to an injury and end Jeff Brady's decision not to play has put a crimp in his plans.

"Things are far from rosy now," says Figg who has been experimenting with two backfields. A newcomer who may help is halfback Doug Stott, a transfer from Holt. Halfbacks Dick Duncan and Barry Harris, tackles Gerry Hight and Dave Skibowski, guard Frank Hardgrove and Jim Casey, an end, are his nucleus.

Millington has enough experienced hands still around to make life miserable for all opponents featuring ball carriers Bill Sawyer and Dick Kolaza and tackle Larry Reed.

No wonder. Fullback Frank Hartway and guard Dean Upleger were both All-State in 1957 while ends Jim Ostrander and Bob Taylor, halfback Larry Ostrander, linebacker Dick Howe and many others are proven standouts.

Armada and Brown City are expected to wage a battle for the No. 2 slot. Both are well set for at least strong starting units despite the loss of starters.

Brown City should have plenty of scoring punch with little seniors Bob Fisher, Ron Irish and Doug Graham back to carry the mail. Fisher and Irish combined for 90 points last fall.

Ward Young is the only new coach in the Thumb. He is lacking linemen at New Haven but should have a capable backfield led by Nate Petty and Tom Kamlay.

Memphis has nine lettermen from a team which divided six loop contests. Strongest position will be tackle with Al Hazelton and Jim Vermisch set there. Capac could move up in the standings with seven returning starters including All-Conference quarterback John Kersten.

Clark Burnett went winless in his debut at Dryden but should be able to better that with 15 players still in school who won letters in 1957. Four backs and two linemen have won at least two monograms.

1. Imlay City
2. North Branch
3. Ortonville
4. Oxford
5. Millington

Here is how the teams are picked in the Southern Thumb for 1958:
1. Almont
2. Brown City
3. Armada
4. New Haven
5. Capac
6. Dryden
7. Memphis

FOOTBALL FORECASTS!

Watch The Sports Pages This Week

For Forecasts of Saturday's Games

Dear Pontiac Press Readers:

Once more, good friends, I am the bearer of happy tidings. By popular---nay, by overwhelming — demand I am repeating this fall that famous autumn institution, the Hoople Football Forecasts.

My peerless pigskin prognostications will appear each week on the Sports Pages of The Pontiac Press. Match your own picks against mine. A most pleasant pastime, egad!

My fearless forecast will appear weekly and will appear well ahead of the games themselves. This year the first predictions will cover the games of Saturday, September 20. A new system I have worked out with Prof. Hugo Speamkofluptsch, the eminent statistician and inventor of the on-side kick, will assure sensational results.

The whole world is familiar with my record, of course. What other expert would even dare to prophesy the startling upsets that I do? And this year — Hak-kaff! — I fully expect to accomplish the impossible and outdo myself!

Confidently yours,

U.N. Delaying First Step Toward Mideast Solution

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) —The U. N. has not yet taken the first step in its plan to settle the troubles among the Arabs in the Middle East.

Three weeks have passed since the General Assembly in some urgency adopted a four-point resolution on the situation in Lebanon and Jordan.

★ ★ ★

Three of the four points gave jobs to Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold. He has not yet done them.

The fourth point was an agreement among Arab governments. That agreement shows signs of breaking down.

★ ★ ★

The Assembly met in emergency session Aug. 8 to consider Lebanese and Jordanian complaints of subversive attempts by the United Arab Republic. U. S. troops landed in Lebanon July 15 and British troops in Jordan July 17 at the request of the two governments.

In a resolution, sponsored by all 10 Arab countries, the Assembly:

1. Asked Hammarskjold "to make forthwith, in consultation with the governments concerned, such practical arrangements as would help in upholding" U. N. charter principles (such as peace) for Lebanon and Jordan "and thereby facilitate the early withdrawal of the foreign troops."

2. Invited Hammarskjold to continue current studies of the possibility of international help for an Arab development bank "and in this context to consult as appropriate with the Arab countries."

3. Instructed him to report back "as appropriate, the first such report to be made not later than" Sept. 30.

4. Welcomed the Arab countries' "renewed assurances," in line with the Arab League pact, that they would respect one another's governmental systems and not try to change them.

1. Hammarskjold has made a 20-day trip to the Middle East and back and consulted the governments in Beirut, Amman, Cairo and elsewhere. But he has made no "practical arrangements" that anybody can see, and foreign troops are still in Lebanon and Jordan.

★ ★ ★

2. Before he left on that trip, he told correspondents he wanted to be briefed on the Arab League's own plans on economic development. But he said that "belongs to a somewhat later stage than the one I am now planning."

★ ★ ★

3. Hammarskjold has not yet published his report. He is expected to do so about Sept. 25.

4. Before he left, he told newsmen the first result of the Arab pledge of noninterference might be some kind of radio truce. Yet only Saturday a dispatch from Amman, Jordan, said Egyptian and Syrian broadcasting stations again were calling on Jordan's people to overthrow King Hussein.

★ ★ ★

Lebanon's rebellion, which led her to complain against the U. A. R., has died down since Gen. Chehab was elected president July 23 to succeed Camille Chamoun.

There is considerable expectation that U. S. troops will be on their way out soon after Chehab takes office Sept. 24—by agreement between the U. S. and Lebanese governments.

One Marine battalion left Lebanon in August, and two more began loading up today to leave for home. But one battalion and about 8,000 Army men remain.

There is little expectation that British troops soon will be withdrawn from Jordan, whose King Hussein is estimated even by a friendly Western government to have the support of only 20 per cent of his people.

Missile, Space Experts Gathering in Detroit

DETROIT (AP)—Missile and space experts from all over the nation gathered in Detroit today for the four-day fall meeting of the American Rocket Society.

Civilian and military experts will take part in panel discussions and workshops on improving America's position in missile and rocket development.

Remove Wax First

Never try to paint over a surface that you know has wax on it. You can easily remove the wax with turpentine, mineral spirts or one of the other solvents available in all paint stores. Steel wool will help to remove the softened wax.

Gas Price Reduced by Standard Oil Co.

Standard Oil Co. cut its wholesale gasoline prices by 1.8 cents a gallon today in Pontiac and the Detroit metropolitan area.

Other major companies indicated they would follow Standard's lead and said the price cut would be passed on to consumers.

Standard said the cut applied to regular and premium grades. A. V. Fraser, Detroit regional manager, said the cut was made in order to permit dealers to meet competing prices.

Fraser said a survey showed a "substantial" number of major and independent dealers retailing gasoline at 29.9 cents a gallon.

If the cut is passed on to customers, Fraser said, most Standard dealers will charge 29.9 cents a gallon for regular and 33.9 cents for premium.

2 Trusties Walk Away From Prison Farm

Two trusties walked away from the Pontiac area Jackson Prison Farm located at White Lake and Teggerdine roads, in White Lake Township, early today according to State Troopers.

The two were identified as William J. Wiseman, 24, of Flint, serving 2½ to 5 years for armed robbery and Juan Delganillo, 36, of Detroit, serving 3 to 14 years for uttering and publishing.

Neither are believed to be armed, said troopers.

Grain Futures Turning Weak

CHICAGO (AP)—With the Far Eastern situation going into diplomatic talks, grain futures prices turned weak today in early dealings on the Board of Trade.

no immediate results are expected from the negotiations on the Chinese Communist-Nationalist situation there was some doubt that it would worsen so long as the talks continue.

A good deal of the selling was liquidation of positions that had been protected for the weekend in Friday's broad short-covering.

Trade was very low near the end of the first hour with wheat ⅛ to ⅜ cent a bushel lower, September $1.86¾; corn ⅜ to ⅞ lower, September $1.22; oats unchanged to ⅛ lower, September 60⅝; rye 1 to 1¼ lower, September $1.30¼; soybeans 1 to 1⅜ cents lower, September $2.18⅞; lard unchanged to 10 cents a hundred pounds higher, September $12.87.

200 Workers Picketing Ford Research Division

A spokesman for UAW Local 245 said it was not a strike but a demonstration to urge that a dispute over job classifications be settled in current negotiations for a new UAW contract covering all Ford plants.

A mass meeting of the local's 1,500 members was called to discuss what the spokesman said was the assignment of salaried workers to union work.

The walkout came in the wake of wildcat strikes that idled some 16,000 auto workers last week. However, most had returned to their jobs today after UAW leaders said the walkouts were hampering negotiations.

Stocks Advance in Active Trade

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market moved higher on average in fairly active early trading today.

Key stocks advanced from fractions to about a point. There were some losers in around the same range.

The market was higher in a brisk opening. Initial gains were pared a bit as trading slowed.

Business news over the weekend was favorable and the market remained very close to its record highs. The possibility of an auto strike at Ford and the negotiations between Red China and the United States were background factors tending to increase caution.

Rails were pretty active and moderately higher. Small gains appeared among steels, nonferrous metals and aircrafts, as well as some electronic and drug issues.

Food Machinery & Chemical skipped ahead about 4 points on news of its two-for-one stock split. Artloom was in demand and recouped about a point of its 10-point loss last week. Western Union opened at 27, up ¼ on a big opening block of 7,000 shares.

Kennecott and Baltimore & Ohio were ahead around a point each. Fractional gains were made by U.S. Steel, Republic Steel, Illinois Central, Southern Railway, Boeing, Philco, Schering, Allied Chemical and Johns-Manville.

Lorillard, Goodrich and Union Carbide were clipped for 1-point losses. Slightly lower were American Telephone, Du Pont and Pfizer.

Columbus' GM Workers End Five-Day Walkout

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — General Motors' Ternstedt Division plant here went back to full-scale production today, but the grievances which brought on a five day walkout are still being ironed out.

Between 1,500 and 2,000 production and maintenance employes, members of United Auto Workers Local 969, voted yesterday to return to work while two representatives from the union and two from the company negotiate further.

Price Stickers on New Cars

By DAVID J. WILKIE
AP Automotive Writer

DETROIT (AP)—The first 1959 automobiles will go on sale next Friday and with them will come the first price stickers the car industry has used in many years.

Introduction of the price stickers falls to Buick which chose Sept. 19 to present its newest models.

The stickers in themselves may add to the cost of the new models. Some car makers have estimated it will cost from 50 cents to $1 to handle the bookkeeping and administrative detail of each sticker.

★ ★ ★

The price-labeling law, or more formally the Automobile Information Disclosure Act, requires the car makers to affix a sticker with a wealth of detail not heretofore available to the car buyer.

To be printed on the stickers is the manufacturer's suggested retail price, including excise tax and factory-suggested preparation charge, freight charges, price of factory-installed accessories, point of production and name of retailer to whom the car was shipped.

To a large degree the law was designed to eliminate what has come to be known in the industry as price packing. This has sometimes been called the greatest evil of automobile merchandising.

In price packing the list price suggested by the manufacturer for the car and all its optional accessories was boosted at the point of retail sale before a discount was offered. In many instances the proffered discount was said to amount to little more than the amount by which the over-all price had been increased.

Another factor in passage of the price-labeling legislation probably was the fantastic merchandising of recent years. This saw offers of big price discounts and gifts of substantial value offered as premiums to buyers.

In approving the measure, a Senate committee reported: "No dealer, as some advertisements indicate, can actually give away fur coats, trips to Bermuda, or '$1,000 for anything you can drive in' without packing prices."

The law does not fix the retail price at which the car is to be sold. The retailer may sell the vehicle at any price he chooses, but the sticker with the manufacturer's suggested list price must be affixed to it and it may not be altered.

The labeling is not expected in itself to stimulate buying. Some dealers have said: "You can't expect a man to buy a car immediately just because he sees the full list price posted on the car he knows he can buy for a lot less than that."

Expect Protests on Open Ditch

Waterford Board Set to Hear Residents in Airport Road Area

A delegation of Waterford Township residents from the Airport road area are expected to be present at tonight's Waterford Township Board meeting, protesting the construction of an open ditch.

Residents living on the west side of Airport Rd., near M59, do not want developers of the Highland Heights Subdivision to build a proposed storm water drainage ditch of any kind.

The township has indicated that if a ditch must be built they want it covered and the developers are expected to meet with the group to work out a solution to the problem, according to clerk James Seeterlin.

However, the Oakland County Road Commission has asked the township to withhold payment until Weissman settles a $1,317 bill he owes the county.

The county's bill is for black-topping repair work and new ditching completed by the county on Voorheis Rd. Due to unforeseen circumstances it was necessary for the construction company to tear up the roads and the county later did the repair work.

Faces Trial in Holly on Charge of Arson

Robert Guth, 25, of Flint today faced trial on a charge of arson involving the Holly Township house fire which caused the death of his companion, William Mosley, 17.

After standing mute at arraignment this morning, Guth was ordered held over in lieu of $10,000 bond by Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty, who entered a plea of innocent for Guth and ordered him to stand trial.

State police said Guth admitted helping Mosley, also from Flint, pour gasoline over the floor of a vacant, eight-room frame home at 1370 Gage Rd. Aug. 30 because they were mad at the owner, Lawrence Hemboldt.

★ ★ ★

Burned over 75 per cent of his body when the gasoline exploded as it was ignited, Mosley died 17 hours later in Flint Hurley Hospital. Guth was burned less seriously dragging Mosley away from the flames.

Stops Constipation Due to "Aging Colon"

As you grow older, the internal muscles of your colon wall also age, lose the strength that propels waste from the body. Stagnant bowel contents become so dry and shrunken that they fail to stimulate the urge to purge.

Relief, doctors say, lies in a new laxative principle. Old-style bulks and moisteners may create gas, take 3 or 4 days for relief. Old-style salts and drugs cramp and gripe the entire system. Of all laxatives, only new COLONAID gives you its special 3-way relief that works only on the lower colon (area of constipation).

(1) COLONAID moisturizes dry, hardened waste for easy passage without pain or strain. (2) COLONAID'S unequalled rebulking action helps retone flabby colon muscles. (3) And COLONAID acts gently, on the nerve reflexes that stimulate the vital "mass movement" of your lower colon.

COLONAID relieves even chronic constipation overnight; is so gentle it was hospital proved safe even for expectant mothers. And COLONAID won't interfere with absorption of vitamins or other food nutrients. Get COLONAID today! Introductory size 43¢.

BEST FOOT FORWARD — Gene Barry portrays the cane-carrying, gun-toting Western hero, "Bat Masterson," in a new filmed series starting on the NBC-TV network, Wednesday, Oct. 8.

Bat Masterson Role Unusual

Actor Says Lawman Dressed for Burial in Case He Died

By RON BURTON

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — One of the new Westerns set for this fall's TV fare is about a lawman who usually dressed in clothes suitable for burial, because he never knew when he was going to die.

The series will star Gene Barry in the role of Bat Masterson. It debuts Wednesday, Oct. 8.

"The series is based on incidents in the life of Bat Masterson, a sidekick of Marshal Wyatt Earp," Barry said. "He was a product of the post-Civil War days.

"I think my costume as Masterson will be the most unusual on TV. It is a conservative, dark business suit. I have a derby and a cane, too. The point which Bat always made was that he figured he usually wasn't very far from an undertaker."

Barry, 6 feet 2 and a solid 180 pounds, said Masterson's real name was William Barkley Masterson. He acquired the name "Bat" from a defensive maneuver he used with those who didn't see eye to eye with him when he wanted to enforce a law.

"Once he was wounded, and it had a relatively minor permanent effect on him," Barry said. "The result was that he carried a cane and found it easier to bat law breakers with it than go through the routine of a formal fight. I guess he batted so many guys that the name stuck."

Barry, a full-time actor and part-time general contractor, stayed away from TV series because of a fear of being identified with one type of role or one role. He changed his mind when the Masterson series was proposed to him.

"Anything really good which appeals to an entire family will be accepted on TV," he said, "so I'm doing a Western series."

Barry, who has film and Broadway credits, said the contracting effort is an outgrowth of an episode which happened several years ago in New York.

"I'd done a little plumbing," he said. "My uncle came to a theater to see me in a Broadway play. Afterward he told me, 'I saw your show, and you should be a plumber.'

"I'm not laughing about it now. An actor has a peak, and when it's over he should have some other business all set. I'm studying general contracting now, and it's like going to school all over again. The first job I'm letting out to subcontractors is my own new house which we're building now in a canyon near here."

Marilyn Monroe Goes to Hospital—Is Tired

Her husband, playwright Arthur Miller, then drove her to Cedars of Lebanon Hospital here. Miller said his wife probably would be in the hospital four or five days for a complete checkup.

Big Three Seek No Intervention

Asking Gov. Williams to Keep Fingers Out of Auto Negotiations

DETROIT (AP) — Gov. Williams was asked by the big three auto firms today not to intervene in the current contract negotiations with the United Auto Workers because such action might delay progress toward a settlement.

Telegrams were sent to the governor by Henry Ford II, president of Ford Motor Co.; John F. Gordon, new General Motors Corp. president, and L. L. Colbert, Chrysler Corp. president, which asked that the auto firms be left alone.

The telegrams were in reply to wires the governor sent the three presidents Friday which said Williams had asked "three eminent experts in the field of industrial relations to advise me on what the staff should be doing, if anything, at this point (in the auto negotiations)."

Ford told the governor that "events of the past few days encourage us to believe we can reach an agreement that will be economically sound and fair to all concerned. Progress toward this goal can be achieved most rapidly . . . without outside intervention of any kind, however well-intentioned."

Gordon said "mediation" at this late date by outside parties not familiar with the complex nature of the current situation and problems could only cause damaging delays and could accomplish nothing."

Colbert said, "We are convinced that any mediation by a third party would tend only to detour attention and . . . delay the efforts to resolve our difference (with the union)."

If you want to learn a woman's bad points, praise her to another woman . . . Mark Twain said it many, many years ago: "Always do right. This will gratify some people and astonish the rest." — Earl Wilson.

'British' Warship Fails to Blast Fort

★ ★ ★

The first salvo of blanks from the shore batteries boomed across the darkness of the water. A hush came over the cowd. Nothing happened. Five minutes passed and still nothing happened.

"Would the British ship please start firing?"

Chorus Girls Divulge Man-Chasing Tactics

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Taffy Tuttle, the husband-hunter, is still hunting, hoping she'll be able to open the fall mating season, so I took her over to get some tips from the chorus girls.

"Every year seems to be getting to be leap year," Taffy said. "So many girls call up the guys for dates now."

WILSON

"We don't ask boys for dates where I came from down in Greenville, S. C.," spoke up Ann Shirley, 18, who's been in town three weeks. "If I did that here and the folks at home found out about it, they wouldn't let me some back to Greenville!"

Pretty Terry McDermott of Fairlawn, N. J., laughed and said, "American girls pursue up to a point.

"They then stop and let the man chase them. The man can't figure it out and it drives him crazy."

But—she confessed—a girl friend had pursued.

"We were at a dance. She said, "She that boy over there? I'm gonna have him.' She borrowed my eyebrow pencil and wrote her name and address and put it in his pocket.

GLORIA

"Three weeks later he called her and said, 'I seem to have your name and address.' They were married three months later. We laugh about it now and she says, 'Oh, wasn't that a terrible thing to do!'"

Chorus girl Gloria Curtis—whom the other gals call "Grammy" because she's all of 24—comes from Emporium, Pa., which during the war was referred to as "Girlstown."

At that time it had 20 girls to one man; it's still rated about six to one.

'Sure, you look over the fellows in the audience.

"If you see one you like, you glance at the girl you're working with and we know. One night my girl friend glanced at one and said 'I like his looks. I'd like to meet him.' He was engaged to the girl he was there with and it wasn't easy.

"But later when he stepped away from his table to gamble, my girl friend happened to bump into him—accidentally, of course!—on her way to the ladies' room.

"The next weekend he came to Las Vegas without his fiancee. Seven months later he and my girl friend were married.

"But I wouldn't want you to think that I believe in girls pursuing men," added "Grammy" Curtis.

"It's always somebody's girl friend that does it!" muttered Taffy Tuttle. "I think I might let my girl friends worry and try it for myself."

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Nelson Rockefeller's expecting to use Pat Weaver, former NBC Pres., as his Robert Montgomery in the TV portion of his N.Y. election campaign . . . Audrey Meadows is giving up her Washington home, will move to N.Y. and do more TV . . . Ethel Merman's show, "Gypsy" (Gypsy Rose Lee's bio), is stalled—sister June Havoc hasn't given her OK to be portrayed in it . . .

EARL'S PEARLS: Have you ever noticed that the adjective in "cheap politician" doesn't refer to what he cost the taxpayers?

Killed on Joyride When Plane Stalls

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A father who took his two children joyriding in a plane yesterday was killed when it stalled and crashed two blocks from their home.

Howard J. Smith, 43, died in a hospital less than three hours after the crash. The children, Douglas, 15, and Sharon, 12, suffered broken bones but were expected to recover.

Mrs. Smith said her husband often took weekend joyrides and usually flew over their home.

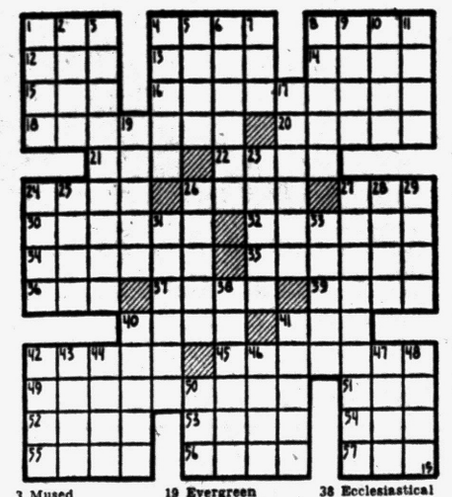

"Suddenly the wings dipped," Mrs. Smith said yesterday, "and oh, my God, I saw it spinning."

There are about 3,750 movie theaters in Japan.

Hal Boyle Says:

Psychiatrists Using Posture Chairs Now

★ ★ ★

That some psychiatrists here are switching patients from couches to posture chairs, while some dentists are switching theirs from chairs to couches. The head shrinkers believe patients reveal their fears quicker sitting up, the tooth tuggers find they submerge their fears better lying down.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

Genesis is the most popular book of the Bible in the Far East. Buddhism has no story of the creation, and its adherents are interested in how the world started.

New England has been settled over 300 years, but three-fourths of its area still is classified as forest land.

When ancient Rome started its decline, the city had 956 public baths, and free shows were given the populace on 175 days a year. That's the trouble with giveaway programs—they never last.

One in 14 American households now has two or more television sets.

In olden times the English marriage service read "till death do us depart." The word "depart" then meant "separate" or "divide."

It was George Meredith who predicted, "Woman will be the last thing civilized by man."

Japanese Teachers Walk Out in Protest

The strike was considered only partially successful by the Japan Teachers Union, which had hoped all its 500,000 members would awlk out.

The rating system, which takes effect today, calls for principals to regularly submit efficiency reports on their teachers to higher authorities.

The left-wing Teachers' Union says the move is designed to force teachers to play ball with the government and has authoritarian overtones that conflict with democratic education.
