Avoids Talk of Possible War in His Conference With Newsmen

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy today countered Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's latest saber rattling by renewing the U.S. pledge to use "every device available to us" to settle the Berlin crisis peacefully.

Deliberately avoiding all threats or references to possible war, the President told his news conference that the coming months would be devoted to finding ways "which will protect the rights of the people of West Berlin and our own rights."

"I can say that it is the strong

PARIS (AP)—U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk said today that there definitely will be negotiations with Soviet Premier Khrushchev on Berlin and Germany.

conviction of the United States government that every means should be employed, every diplomatic means, to see if a peaceful solution to this difficult matter can be achieved," the President said.

He declared that Khrushchev, in his latest speech on Berlin, made no new proposal but did "state his desire, as I have done before, to have negotiations on those matters which are in dispute."

The President did not say what form these negotiations would take. He added that he still believes no East-West summit would be useful "unless the groundwork has been laid beforehand and which will insure some success."

Kennedy said if a Western summit should prove important in coordinating Western policy, he thought it should be held and was prepared to go.

25,000 Slated for Sept. Draft

WASHINGTON (AP)—The draft quota for September was set today at 25,000 men, biggest since the end of the Korean War.

The Defense Department announcement for the September call reflected the first full-scale manpower impact of the military build-up, although a smaller increase had been made in the August call through revision of the initially announced quota.

As usual all draftees for September will be for the Army, now getting ready to build up three training divisions into combat units.

LARGEST SINCE 1953

The announcement said the Navy, Marine Corps and Air Force do not intend to place calls with Selective Service during September.

The September call is the largest since June 1953 when the quota was 32,000.

It will bring the total of men who have been drafted since September 1950, immediately after the outbreak of the Korean War, to 2,640,950.

The Pentagon said the September quota is calculated against the expected input of manpower from volunteer and re-enlistment sources.

President Kennedy in his speech to the nation last month said quotas might be doubled or tripled.

At that time the quota for August had been set at 9,000. Later it was revised to 13,000.

From January through the initially set quota for August, the average monthly quota worked out to about 3,300.

This was because of low quotas or no quotas during some months.

In April, the quota was only 1,300. In May and June there were no calls. The quota for July was 6,000.

Charges Filed in Plane Grab

FBI Accuses French Artist of Two Crimes on High Seas

MIAMI (UPI) — The FBI charged an itinerant French artist with crimes on the high seas today for hijacking a Pan American World Airways jetliner over Mexico and forcing it to fly to Havana.

The charges were filed in Federal Court against Albert Charles

Cadon, 27, the thin, dark and nervous gunman arrested in Havana before Fidel Castro sent back to this country the $6-million DC8 with its 72 other passengers and nine crew members.

The U. S. attorney's office recommended that bond for Cadon be set at $100,000 of he ever returns to this country and is apprehended.

In Washington, President Kennedy ordered border patrolmen to ride some U. S. airliners to thwart future hijackings and an angry Senate passed legislation making air piracy punishable by death.

Wednesday's hijacking was the fourth of an American plane since May 1.

GEN. WALTER B. SMITH

Bedell Smith Dies Suddenly

Soldier - Diplomat Is Victim of Heart Attack at Age of 65

WASHINGTON (AP) — Walter Bedell Smith, soldier, diplomat, jut-jawed genius of military planning, died Wednesday night of a heart attack. He was 65.

Death came to the general as an ambulance rushed him to Walter Reed Army Hospital. He had suffered the attack at his home here.

Smith served the government in various posts for 43 years. It honored him as few men in history have been honored — with four Distinguished Service medals.

As a soldier, Smith rose from a private in the Indiana National Guard to coordinator of the entire planning of the invasion of North Africa and Normandy in World War II. He was Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's chief of staff through most of the war, the team becoming known as "Ike and Beetle."

NICK NAME

Britain's Winston Churchill had another nickname for Smith—"Bulldog" because of his tenacity in handling problems.

Eisenhower once described him as "the general manager of the war." On behalf of Eisenhower, Smith signed the Italian surrender document in September 1943 and in May 1945 he headed the Allied group which accepted the unconditional surrender of Germany.

Later, when Eisenhower became President in 1953, the team was revived as Smith became undersecretary of state, second in command and sometime stand-in for Secretary John Foster Dulles.

Between the war and his appointment to be undersecretary, Smith, who described himself as without political leanings or inclinations, served under President Harry S. Truman as ambassador to Moscow. Later, Truman named Smith director of the Central Intelligence Agency.

Pilots Ordered to Lock Cabins, JFK Reveals

Keep Identity of Planes With Guards Secret; Number Also Unknown

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government today put border patrolmen on some commercial aircraft flights to guard against hijacking.

The decision to employ these counterparts of stage coach-day "shotgun riders" was announced by President Kennedy at a news conference.

The President said instructions are also going out that the door to the pilot's cabin is to be kept locked with the key inside.

The aim is to keep a hijacker from getting to the pilot if he takes over the passenger compartment.

After Kennedy's announcement, White House press secretary Pierre Salinger told newsmen in amplification that border patrolmen began flying today on some planes.

He said they would fly trips within the United States as well as on international flights, but refused to say how many patrolmen will be used, or on what flights.

The patrolmen will be in plain clothes but will be armed.

Salinger said Kennedy participated in consultations which led to the decision to put border patrolmen on passenger planes.

He said it was reached at just about the time of Wednesday's pirating of a Pan American jet out of Mexico City. The order had been discussed previously, Salinger noted.

Salinger was unable at the moment to say whether airlines would be permitted to refuse to allow patrolmen on their planes.

Kennedy also told a news conference that he hopes other governments will exercise all the means at their power to control what he called these "exercises in futility."

The President cautioned against premature howls of protest before it can be ascertained exactly who has hijacked an airplane and for what purpose.

His cautionary words were directed at members of Congress who have attacked Fidel Castro of Cuba as the instigator of two recent plane piracies when, as it developed, the aircraft were seized by men with no known connection with Cuba.

At the Justice Department, a spokesman for the Immigration Service said there will be no disclosure of the details of implementing the President's announced plan to put border patrolmen on airplanes.

"Little if anything will be given out," he said, adding there will be no information on how many border patrolmen are involved or on what flights they will be.

Two Armed Ionia Escapees Caught on Orchard Lake Rd.

By DICK SAUNDERS

Two escapees from a state hospital, who held an 18-year-old mother of two and her younger brother hostage for eight hours Wednesday, faced charges of kidnaping and rape here today.

James G. Styes, 33, of Clare, and John T. Auld, 42, formerly of Toledo, Ohio, appeared before Springfield Township Justice Emmett J. Leib shortly before 1 p.m.

Both waived examination on the kidnaping charges and demanded examination on the rape charge. Justice Leib set examinations on both counts for Aug. 17.

The two escapees were returned to the Oakland County Jail with bond set at $10,000 each.

The two escapees from Ionia State Hospital for the Criminally Insane, described as "armed and dangerous," were nabbed by Brighton State Police on Orchard Lake Road in West Bloomfield Township at 11:15 p.m. Wednesday.

Troopers Paul D. Palmer and Jacob W. Russell were returning to Brighton after delivering a prisoner to the Oakland County Jail. They spotted the car that fitted the description of the escapees' car and chased it.

Styes and Auld were stopped near Pine Lake Road and arrested without a struggle. The escapees had a loaded 22-caliber rifle with them.

In the car was badly frightened Mrs. James Thompson of Farwell, a small village near Clare, and Neil Clark, 15, of Clare.

HAD 'RECORDS'

It was not the first time Styes had held hostages. During the 1952 prison riot at Jackson, Styes was among the prisoners who kidnaped a guard and held him hostage.

Both ex-convicts, with a record of violence, had no difficulty in walking away from Ionia, they told Oakland County Prosecutor George F. Taylor.

Auld said he walked away from the state hospital last Saturday, stole a car, drove to Lansing, stole another car and drove to Flat Rock.

WAS MIXED UP

Auld said he then stole a third car for his return to Ionia where he was to pick up Styes at 8 a.m. today. He got mixed up and arrived at the designated time a day early, he said.

Styes merely walked away a day earlier than he'd planned, Taylor explained.

The two went to the Clark house in Clare where they stole the rifle. The Clark boy and Mrs. Thompson are Styes' nephew and niece.

Then the pair went to the Thompson home, where the boy was visiting, and stayed for four hours. Styes told the Thompsons he had been released two months ago, Taylor said.

TIED UP THOMPSON

Auld became impatient after several hours and got the gun from the car. They took $20 and a car from Thompson, an employe of the Clare Manufacturing Co., and tied him up.

They told Thompson they were taking his wife and Clark as hostages and that they "wouldn't be taken alive." Thompson waited two hours before calling police.

Their only stop was in a parking area behind Green Elementary School, 4300 Walnut Lake Road, West Bloomfield Township.

The slight, sandy haired mother told Taylor that while parked there she was criminally assaulted by Auld.

Both escapees had been at Ionia where they were trustees, for about two years. Styes was committed after arrest for a larceny.

Auld was committed after a spree of armed robberies in Detroit.

New Lighting at Stadium Called 'Must' by Leaders

Many leaders of the Pontiac area would like to see better field lighting at Wisner Stadium.

Solid support came today from civic-minded persons in various aspects of the community, including business, labor, government and commerce.

The consensus was that better lighting is a must; that better lighting could be easily accomplished once the need is recognized; that better lighting would enhance the stadium as a focal point of community life.

Alfred C. Girard, president of Community National Bank, said:

"The Detroit Lions' management, coaching staff and players were unanimous in their praise for the loyalty of the local football fans and the general setup at Wisner Stadium the other night.

"But they were equally unanimous in suggesting the lights were about the weakest they'd seen.

"Modern football calls for plenty of passing and kicking. You need bright lights to bring these to their highest levels.

"The Pontiac School Board planned well when the stadium was erected, but times move swiftly.

LAW NELSON

We should relight the field before the football season of 1962 begins.

"Community National Bank and the Pontiac Area Junior Chamber of Commerce are definitely interested in bringing the Lions back for another scrimmage in full dress, but we'd like to think the field was adequately lighted."

Fred V. Haggard, president of the Oakland County AFL-CIO Council, said:

"It seems that everyone nowadays wants to attend football and baseball games at night, instead of during the day.

TREND OF TIMES

"This is the trend of the times and if ever there was a time for progress at the stadium it's now."

State Rep. Arthur J. Law, former mayor of Pontiac, said:

"Better field lighting is a very constructive idea and I support it wholeheartedly.

"But I don't think revenue bonds

to finance the lights should be issued when this could be accomplished on a pay-as-you-go basis.

"I think the city and school board could get together and work out the financing without either one being hurt.

"Financing should not be left up to the charity of some group or public subscription. I believe that when there's a proven community need it is the duty of persons elected to public office to accomplish whatever's necessary. Governmental agencies should take the initiative — they should not wait for others to do their job for them."

Robert S. Nelson, vice president of Universal Oil Seal Co., said:

"Better lighting is a very good idea. We should get started immediately so that the lights will be there when the football season

Pilot, 2 Others Die in Hijacking

Castro Foes in Air Battle

HAVANA (AP)—Enemies of Fidel Castro attempted to hijack a Cuban airliner in flight Wednesday but a gun battle erupted and three persons were killed, including the pilot and one hijacker.

The copilot landed the plane in a sugarcane field 20 miles south of Havana and the other hijackers escaped. The incident was disclosed today by official Cuban sources. Havana radio reported one hijacker was a woman.

Six persons also were reported wounded.

Cuban sources promptly charged that the seizure was the work of counterrevolutionaries. The Communist party paper Hoy accused the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency of joining the plot to seize the government-owned plane.

At the time the aerial battle was under way, a Pan American World Airways jetliner was sailing at Havana Airport to be flown back to the United States after a young French extremist forced the pilot to bring it here from Mexico.

The Frenchman, Charles Cadon, who said he was angered at U.S. policies toward France in Algeria, is under arrest here.

CASTRO UNHAPPY

Prime Minister Castro was described as extremely unhappy about the situation, and Cadon's arrest was designed to erase any doubt that Castro's government had any part in the jetliner seizure.

The Cuban Foreign Ministry, in a note Aug. 4, urged the United States to join in working out measures to stop the growing number of hijackings. If also warned that American planes in Cuba would be treated just as Cuban planes have been treated in the United States, where several have been seized by court order to pay bills owed by the Cuban government.

Further evidence of counterrevolutionary agitaty in Cuba came this morning when a violent explosion rocked the nationalized Fin de Siglo department store in downtown Havana. Windows were shattered in an area of several blocks.

The twin-engine plane was heading for the Isle of Pines, off Cuba's south coast.

Five minutes after takeoff, the hijackers attempted to force their way into the pilot's cabin to take over the plane.

When the crew and two guards resisted, gunfire broke out. Authorities reported the hijackers fired first and one of the first shots killed the plane's captain, Luis Alvarez Regalo.

The other dead were one of the military guards and one of the hijackers.

HIJACKERS CAUSE CRASH—This is the Aerovias Q C47 airliner which crash-landed south of Havana Wednesday after three hijackers attempted to take it over. The pilot and two others, one a hijacker, were killed in a gun fight which took place in the air. The other two air pirates escaped after the plane came to earth. The craft's landing gear and propellers were smashed in the landing.

Cuba Proposes Hijack Pact

Agreement Would Stop Seizure of 1 Country's Plane, Ship by Another

PUNTA DEL ESTE, Uruguay (AP) — Cuba proposed to the hemispheric economic conference today an agreement prohibiting "seizure, attachment and confiscation of vessels and airplanes of any member country by another."

The Cuban resolution was presented to a working commission as the conference, exploring ways of getting a $20-billion economic program in motion, continued a series of closed-door sessions.

Cuba's resolution came against a background of disputes and airplane hijacking incidents involving the island nation and the United States.

The proposal, submitted by economic Czar Ernesto (Che) Guevara's delegation to the 21-nation conference, asked the adoption of measures to "guarantee the normal development of transportation as a condition precedent to Latin-American integration."

The resolution said:

"Respect for ships and airplanes engaged in the regular transportation of passengers and freight among the different countries is a recognized principle among civilized nations.

"The unilateral adoption of measures of seizure, confiscation and attachment of vessels and airplanes under indemnification proceedings or any other pretext is a flagrant violation of the principle set forth above, moreover it creates obstacles to international trade and navigation."

tended by a record 433 newsmen. Kennedy also said he is sending Arthur H. Dean back to Geneva on Aug. 24 for what may well be a final attempt to reach agreement with Russia on a nuclear test ban.

Kennedy said a report from a panel of scientists had convinced him that with present techniques it would be impossible to determine positively whether Russia is secretly testing atomic weapons.

Asked about the rash of plane hijackings, Kennedy said he hopes successful procedures can be worked out to prevent new incidents.

He went on to note that Wednesday's Pan American jet hijacking was the work of a Frenchman who said he had been treated earlier this year for mental aberrations.

The Continental Airlines jet piracy last week over Texas was perpetrated by a father and son, one of whom also has been treated for mental weakness, he said.

These episodes suggest that a "lunatic fringe" has taken to hijacking as a means of gaining publicity, Kennedy said.

An Eastern Air Lines Electra commandeered by an unidentified hijacker last month has been held in Havana by the Castro government.

Even with this in mind, Kennedy said he felt it important for Americans "to act with the prudence worthy of a great power."

Hijacker Drew Cuban Cheers

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A pistol-waving hijacker, described as a wild-haired and insane-looking, drew salutes and cheers from Cuban soldiers who arrested him, a passenger related.

Glenn E. White, a Bloomfield Township, Mich., auto executive, said "my first reaction was this guy was sick—awfully sick."

White, 35, of 3530 Crabtree Road, is a financial executive for Chrysler Corp. He was on a business trip to Panama when the airliner was hijacked.

"This fellow with the wild hair ran down the aisle . . . .

"I saw him stuck an awfully big gun up against the steward's heart" soon after the Mexico City take-off of the Pan American jetliner, White said.

"He jumped through into the cockpit and slammed the door. That was the last we saw of him until Cuban police escorted him from the jet at Havana.

"I and some others tried to figure out how to grab the plane ourselves. But we decided against it.

OPEN BAR

"Pan American opened the bar, and everybody had a drink and just relaxed.

"Right after we landed, this fellow was taken out of the plane and those soldiers on the ground saluted and cheered him as he walked toward the terminal."

Cuban authorities identified him as Alberto Charles Cadon, 25, a French Algerian, but the FBI said he was Paris-born and came to the United States in 1957.

Hector Vioni, 33, Richmond, Ind., attorney, said "A blue streak—the hijacker—shot down the aisle past me, backed the steward against a seat and . . . kicked open the cockpit door.

"I don't think you would say there was any panic, although I think most of us were pretty nervous."

Plane Capt. Carl Ballard of Houston, Tex., said Cadon threatened us several times. We were in great danger of being shot—not intentionally, but by accident. He said he'd kill us, and he said that when the problem came up we were not to land for fuel. He told us we'd crash first."

Colombian Foreign Minister Julio Cesar Turbay Ayala, one of the passengers, gave a terse account of the hijacking exploit.

CLOSES DOOR

"Five minutes after leaving Mexico City I saw a passenger rushing down the aisle from the back of the cabin. He had a pistol in his hand. He argued with a crewman. Then he pushed his foot in the door to the pilot's cabin and opened it. He closed it behind him with the two pilots inside."

* * *

Fidel Castro personally escorted Turbay from Havana airport to the plane for its trip to Miami. Turbay quoted the Cuban prime minister as expressing mortification over the hijacking.

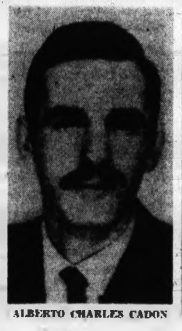

"'This should not happen again,'" Turbay said Castro told him.

"On Aug. 4 I sent a note to the United States government asking that steps be taken to prevent recurrence of mutual hijacking."

The hijacker himself injected political troubles from a different part of the world into the grab of the plane in skies often troubled during Cuban-American tension.

A crewman of the hijacked plane said Cadon said in the cockpit "I am not a Communist and not a Cuban. I do not like the way Washington interfered in the Algerian situation. I am taking this means to show my protest."

ALBERTO CHARLES CADON

Put Death Penalty Clause Into Plane Hijacking Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate today passed a bill to make the hijacking of airplanes subject to a possible death penalty and to provide stiff penalties for other crimes in the sky.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate today wrote a provision for the death penalty into a bill making airplane hijacking a federal crime.

An amendment adopted by voice vote would fix a minimum penalty of 20 years in prison and authorize life imprisonment or death.

Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., author of the amendment, said he felt a mandatory death penalty as some senators had proposed would be too drastic.

SETS OTHER CRIMES

The bill, which also would provide heavy penalties for other crimes in the skies, was brought up after the hijacking of a Pan American World Airways jetliner over Mexico Wednesday. The pilot was forced to travel to Cuba, but Prime Minister Fidel Castro's government promptly ordered release of the plane, its passengers and crew.

President Kennedy announced at his news conference today that border patrolmen will be assigned to a number of planes to guard against new hijacking incidents.

Despite return of the plane, senators demanded stern action against the Castro regime following a series of incidents.

Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, R-Calif., the assistant minority leader, said the time has come for an economic blockade of Cuba.

—assault with a dangerous weapon and assault with intent to commit a felony.

The first charge carries a maximum penalty of five years in prison and a $1,000 fine and the second invites a maximum penalty of 10 years and a $3,000 fine.

Cadon told crewmen of the hijacked plane as he stood behind them with a cocked 38-caliber pistol he commandeered the plane to protest Washington's "handling" of the Algerian situation. He said he was for Algerian independence.

The dark-haired Cadon, the FBI said, was born in France and had worked as a restaurant employe in New York, where his wife Charlotte lives.

Mrs. Cadon told federal investigators her husband had been committed to Bellevue Hospital for mental observation last fall. She said he left for Mexico last week after a quarrel.

Castro was described as "mortified" over seizure of the Pan American jet, perhaps because one of the passengers was a high Colombian diplomatic official.

Another passenger was an official of Pan American Airways, the only U. S. airline still serving Cuba.

HOLDS ELECTRA

The FBI said Cadon was born in Paris on Nov. 28, 1923 and attended school there until the age of 15. He was "considered a runaway," a spokesman said, and spent time in European reform schools. He was once arrested in Belgium on a vagrancy charge, the FBI said.

Seventy-two passengers and nine crewmen disembarked from the big jet when it landed at Miami International Airport Wednesday night after an eight-hour wait in Havana.

The passengers reported they were courteously treated by Castro's militiamen, who guarded them with guns but gave them the run of Jose Marti Airport. Castro sent flowers back with the passengers as a memento of their unexpected visit to the Cuban capital.

Cadon, a swarthy, dark-haired man, was listed on the passenger list as being from Paris and bound for Guatemala.

NATIONAL WEATHER — Cooler weather is expected Thursday night in the Plains, the upper and middle Mississippi Valley and the upper lakes area while warmer weather is forecast for the North Atlantic states. 'Definitely Needed' New Wisner Lights starts. That way we'd get the fullest use of the improvement.

"I think the obligation for better lights is a joint responsibility of the city and schools. The stadium was built primarily for the public schools, but parochial schools also use it and the city in general uses it.

"If the new lights go in, the city should try to use the present lights somewhere else where they can be useful."

Stuart E. Whitfield, vice president of Pontiac State Bank and general chairman of Pontiac's Centennial celebration, said:

"I feel we have arrived at the point where a modern lighting system at Wisner Stadium is no longer a luxury but a necessity.

SHOULD WRITE IN

"We are making great strides in our city with continual improvements such as a new city hall, library, central fire station, schools, paving, sewers, urban renewal and many other projects.

"It seems to me that the lighting problem is a definite responsibility of the school board.

"If enough of our citizens show an interest in getting the project under way by writing the board to this effect, I feel certain they will work out a solution at the earliest possible moment."

John W. Hirlinger, manager of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce, gave this personal viewpoint:

"The chamber worked very diligently in sponsoring Wisner Stadium to begin with. The whole community is very proud of the stadium now, particularly with the newer east stands.

"While the original west stands need some modernizing, the weakest factor is lighting.

"It was evident to me during the Centennial Spectacle when temporary spotlights brightened up the field that there is no alternative for us but to install better lighting permanently.

"We should get estimates now on the cost of adequate lighting, then organize to carry out this project.

"In a very real sense, Wisner Stadium is the center of Pontiac since there's no place else for any large, public activity.

"Both the schools and the city are operating on a modern, up-to-date basis now and the ancient lighting at the stadium is definitely out of place."

Flash Rainstorm Hits County, Floods Areas

Oakland County was the scene of a flash rainstorm Wednesday that flooded some areas and left others untouched.

Around 1:30 p.m., Pontiac was fairly dark but no rain fell downtown.

However, at the same moment, Birmingham was the scene of a small cloudburst that covered the landscape so fast sewers couldn't handle it for the moment.

Around St. Clair, 2¼ inches fell in a short period.

A few days ago, Detroit was inundated, forcing traffic off some of the freeways, but the Pontiac area went untouched.

Recreation Programs to End Saturday

BIRMINGHAM — All summer activities sponsored by the Birmingham Recreation Department will end Saturday with the exception of the outdoor square dancing at Eton Park.

More than 1,100 children were registered at the playground programs conducted at Adams, Eton, Pembroke, Pierce, Midvale and Quarton with a total attendance during the summer of about 12,000.

Another area of improvement could come in supervision techniques and better in-service training for the playground staff, according to Marola.

JFK Sets Up Plan Should He Get Sick

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy disclosed today he had made an agreement with Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson for operation of the presidency if he should become incapacitated.

Kennedy told his news conference that he had made the same kind of agreement with Johnson that former President Dwight D. Eisenhower set up with former Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Eisenhower and Nixon agreed that if the President became unable to continue his duties the vice president would take over as acting president. The President then would decide when he was able to resume the duties of office.

Celebrates 87th Birthday

Hoover Hopes for Berlin Accord

Herbert Hoover

By H. D. QUIGG

NEW YORK (UPI) — President Kennedy's Berlin speech had the force needed to get the message through to the Russians, Herbert Hoover believes, and if they're willing to negotiate there's hope for a solution to that problem.

Hoover celebrated his 87th birthday anniversary today with a few friends in his Waldorf Towers suite — the "monastery," as he calls it, in which he works a nine-hour day turning out books, helping run the Boys Clubs of America and writing speeches without benefit of ghost.

A mounted model of a Pontiac Bonneville convertible is one of the more unique birthday gifts former President Herbert Hoover will receive today.

The model car from members of the Pontiac Boys Club and its Board of Directors is scheduled to reach Hoover today in his New York City hotel suite, said Frank V. Cashman, assistant director of the Pontiac club.

In a meeting with the press prior to the anniversary, he had a flat "no" answer to the question of whether Americans are going soft. He said if you took the temper of the American suburban, village, and country home you would find "they're ready for any emergency on earth."

He added: "It's easy to misjudge the American people by what happens in the big cities."

A statement he prepared for the occasion said in part:

"President Kennedy's courageous statement as to Berlin should carry conviction to the Russians. As long as the Russians are willing to negotiate over this problem, there is hope for a solution.

"Hope arises from the backdrops of these discussions and from the fact that the safety curtain is that the Russians most likely do not want a nuclear war any more than we do . . ."

Calling More Talks Over Bus Strike

DETROIT (AP) — Another negotiations session was called today in an effort to end the strike against the Intertown Suburban Lines Corp.

State mediator Walter Quillico met Wednesday with representatives of the bus company and Local 1265 of the Amalgamated Association of Street, Electrical Railway and Motor Coach Employes and reported "some progress."

The strike was called Aug. 1, leaving some 30,000 commuters between Detroit and 10 Western Wayne County communities looking for other means of transportation.

for defense of the United States we should pursue that goal "with all our might" . . .

DEPLORES MORALS SLUMP

The slump in U. S. morals he said, has caused a steady crime increase which is "the most disastrous thing that is happening to us." He cited a 25 per cent increase in California reported crimes in the last year and a national major-crime increase of 14 per cent in 1960.

Hoover said the national figures for 1947 showed 1.8 million major known crimes, with fewer than 300,000 convictions. The trouble is in court restrictions and practices, not the police, he said.

The third volume of Hoover's four-volume "An American Epic" — a series about American charity's saving of more than a billion lives in the world — will be out Sept. 11. He's working on the final volume — plus two others about communism. He feels "about as good as a man can at 87 — but he has limitations."

Questioned about general tightening up of relief, in the light of the recent Newburgh, N. Y., case, he said he thought it desirable. Asked if he would be sorry if Babe Ruth's home run record were broken this year, he said: "I'm for anybody who can hit a home run — in baseball or anything else."

Cahokia Mound in the suburbs of East St. Louis, Ill., was built by prehistoric mounders of American Indians. It occupies more space than any of the pyramids at Giza, one of the Seven Wonders of the ancient world.

'Have You Heard About Titov?'

Parisians Kid U.S. Tourists

By HARRY FERGUSON

PARIS (UPI)—The last time I saw Paris her heart was warm and gay, but not any more. Since Soviet Major Gherman Titov landed his spaceship she has developed a mean streak.

No American citizen can escape it. On the Left Bank, the Right Bank, the boulevards and the bistros the city is swarming with people who love to go up to an American and say, "Have you heard the one about" . . .

Sample: The Americans and the Russians agreed to send up space men and have them pass each other over the Azores. The Russian spaceman took off, reached the rendezvous and sent this message:

"I am 125 miles over the Azores. Where are you?"

American reply: "Cape Canaveral."

The American Eagle and the Russian Bear were out on a picnic together.

Bear: "I am stronger than you are."

Bear: "Show me."

The Eagle disappears and returns in an hour.

Eagle: "I have flown around the world."

Bear (yawning): "Copycat."

Russian spaceman Titov: "Are you planning any more trips?"

American spaceman Grissom: "Yes, around the world. I hope we can discuss it when I return."

Titov: "Gladly. My grandchildren will want your autograph."

American landed on the moon, crawled out of his spaceship and saw a man in a white coat approaching him. The man handed the American a menu and said: "To start with, we have caviar or borscht."

There is an airplane leaving for London this afternoon. Most of the seats will be occupied by kindly American tourists.

Guess who else will be aboard?

SPREAD EAGLE, Wis. (UP) — Kenney Backlund, 6, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Backlund, Kingsford, Mich., drowned Wednesday evening while swimming with a group of friends in Railroad Lake near this Florence County community in Northeast Wisconsin. The body was recovered.

Williams, Nancy, Aides in Angola for 5 Days

LUANDA, Angola (UPI)—U.S. Assistant Secretary of State G. Mennen Williams, who arrived here Wednesday night, began his five-day official visit to Angola today by calling on Portuguese Governor General Venanico Deslandes.

Williams, his wife Nancy, and state department aides flew in from Libreville in the Gabon Republic.

Of the 7,083 islands that comprise the Philippines, only 462 are more than a square mile in area.

Soviets Charge U.S. Wants Ban Full of Loopholes

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union today accused the United States of wanting a nuclear test ban so full of loop holes that testing could actually continue.

The Russians also charged the Western powers want a test ban agreement which would permit them to collect intelligence data in the Soviet Union, and a control apparatus which would be a "pliant tool" in the hands of the United States and Britain.

The charges were made in a diplomatic note published today by the government newspaper Livestia and broadcast by Moscow radio. The note, which was delivered to the U.S. embassy Wednesday replies to an American note of July 15.

A local fellow says there's a great deal of truth in advertising today. For instance, he bought his kids a collapsible swimming pool —and sure enough, it did . . . Dag Calls Session to Take Up Bizerte

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold today called a special session of the U.N. General Assembly to meet Aug. 21 on the French-Tunisian dispute.

Hammarskjold acted after a majority of the 99 U.N. members had approved an Asian-African request for the extraordinary session.

Uruguay became the 50th member to signify approval of the session.

Hammarskjold immediately dispatched telegrams to all delegations announcing that the session would convene at 10:30 a.m. Aug. 21.

A new directory just published by the Commission on World Mission of the National Student Christian Federation is called "Careers in World Affairs" and lists job opportunities around the world in government, international agencies, business, education, and religious agencies, for both experienced and inexperienced workers.

Civil Defense Man Fired by New Chief

BATTLE CREEK (AP) — Joseph W. McConnell said today he has been fired as regional director of the Office of Civil Defense and Mobilization for what he termed apparently "political reasons."

McConnell, appointed to the post just a year ago, was notified of his dismissal in a letter from Frank B. Ellis, President Kennedy's newly appointed civil defense director.

The letter was dated July 23 and grave Aug. 25 as the date for termination of McConnell's duties.

McConnell said he later exchanged letters with Ellis in an attempt to keep his job but was refused. He said Ellis gave no suggestion that his performance had not been satisfactory, however.

McConnell, a Republican, is a former director of the Indiana civil defense program and is a major general in the Indiana National Guard.

Entomologists estimate that insects ruin at least one tenth of man's crops and destroy more timber each year than forest fires and fungus rots.

We Should Respect American Way of Life

In the midst of all the furor and complaints in regard to the "things that are wrong" with the United States and our form of Government, it is comforting to read something that spells out our current blessings.

In discussing what this Nation does possess and some of the magnificent accomplishments of our people, Life Lines centers attention on our achievements and advantages with these four questions:

"(1) What other people on earth have provided as many churches, schools, libraries, hospitals or recreational facilities as have the American people?

"(2) What other people have done so much toward the elimination of abusive child-labor practices, of back-breaking drudgery, and the blight of poverty as have the American people?

"(3) What other people have come anywhere near the Americans in pouring out their wealth all over the earth to relieve the sufferings of other peoples?

"(4) What other people on earth have equalled the Americans in contributing to the spread of literacy, health, longevity and general welfare?"

And then it adds this simple thought which is well worthy of study and adoption:

"If students and adults could be caused to answer these questions they would learn to respect and love our way of life, as they can in no other way. It is not enough to state the facts. All of us need to employ our God-given faculties to work out the answers for ourselves. We will be far more responsive and enthusiastic citizens for freedom."

World Loses Fine Leader in Dr. Frank Buchman

Moral Rearmament lost its founder and first leader and the world lost a statesman who had friends in many lands when Dr. FRANK BUCHMAN died in Germany a few days ago. He was 83 years old. He died with a plea that God be permitted to rule the world.

Dr. Buchman was educated for the Lutheran ministry. He was the son of Swiss parents who had come to this country and settled in Pennsylvania. But when he founded Moral Rearmament he detached himself from all religious denominations.

He had set up world headquarters for his movement in Caux, Switzerland. American headquarters was on Mackinac Island in Northern Michigan.

The movement which he founded sought to bring peace to mankind through the spiritual reconstruction of the individual. Brotherly love was his watchword and he used it in settling many disputes, both political and industrial, into which he was called as a mediator.

His final words were reported to be: "I want the world to be governed by God. Why not let God run the whole world?"

His movement attracted many world leaders. Many labor leaders also came to hear him expound the principles by which he believed industrial peace as well as world peace could be attained.

Moral Rearmament demonstrated that it had attraction even for some hard core Communists, and as soon as this had been noted Red leaders denounced it as "contaminating the minds of the masses."

It remains to be seen how seriously Dr. BUCHMAN'S passing may affect the movement he founded. The world can ill afford to lose any impetus which can be given to the principles he set up. While various groups may disagree as to the methods to be followed in carrying them out, all people of good will must approve his doctrine of peace and moral and spiritual unrightness.

ACCORDING to an unreliable report, a fellow townsman built a fall-out shelter in half of his basement and filled the other half with throwing-size rocks. When asked why the rocks, he pointed out that EINSTEIN said World War IV would be fought with rocks.

If We Could Only Shine Up His Armor . . .

David Lawrence Says:

Red Prestige at Stake in Germany

IN EUROPE — Nikita Khrushchev's real dilemma doesn't stand out clearly because no single event points it up, but it is real just the same. He is up against a problem in East Germany which will never be solved his way—by trying to make Communists out of the majority of the German people.

LAWRENCE

All the world fears a nuclear war, because one is, of course, possible. But it isn't probable. This is recognized by the foreign ministers who have been meeting in Paris and by the Communist spokesmen who have been broadcasting their propaganda threats from Moscow.

Khrushchev himself is somewhat dumbfounded by what he now calls the "war psychosis." For he knows the West wouldn't start a nuclear war, and he himself doesn't dare to do so, either.

He is well aware that his 20-year plan and the aspirations of communism to dominate the world cannot be realized on the debris of a devastated humanity.

What, then, is the international sparring match about? The Soviet premier is desperately trying to save East Germany from being absorbed some day by a prosperous and efficient West Germany. Communism is far from a success in East Germany, as evidenced by the steady flow of refugees to West Germany.

Also, Poland is restless. So is Czechoslovakia. So is Hungary. The fate of communism is at stake in East Germany, and Khrushchev will try in any way he can to get that separate peace treaty signed, even if it finally means letting West Berlin itself alone.

TENT IN STAGES

But the test will not come—as has been so often assumed—by a deliberate or major attempt to block the Allied routes of access to West Berlin.

It will come in gradual stages, and at a slow and exasperating pace, after a peace treaty with East Germany has been signed later this year.

Climaxes will arise one after another as East German customs guards or troops delay or block traffic here and there, only to remove the obstructions when a real fuss is made about it by the Allies.

Western troops will continue to be in readiness nearby, but the Soviets will never give them an opportunity to do any fighting. Also, on the Western side the futility of a military operation to stop interferences with Allied traffic will sooner or later become apparent. Instead, other measures, primarily in the economic field, may have to be undertaken.

TRADE EMBARGO?

It is significant that the State Department in Washington announced on Aug. 4 that for the time being a total trade embargo on the Communist bloc as a countermeasure to Soviet pressure on Berlin had been shelved. But the exact words of the announcement are worth noting:

"It is only natural that Soviet threats with respect to Berlin should have stimulated considerable speculation concerning countermeasures, including action in the economic field.

"Now it is possible that if the Soviet government continues its threatening attitude toward the vital interests of the United States and its allies, we will be obliged to reconsider all aspects of our relations, including economic, with the Soviet Union and the countries of the Soviet bloc."

These few words have more meaning to the Moscow government than all the talk of more military divisions in NATO or the calling up of reservists. For the economic weapon can be the most powerful of all in forcing the Kremlin to abandon its harassment of Allied routes to West Berlin.

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

The wage of the righteous leads to life, the gain of the wicked to sin.—Proverbs 10:16.

The tissues of the life to be
We weave with colors, all our own;
And in the field of Destiny
We reap as we have sown.
—Henry W. Longfellow.

Dr. William Brady Says:

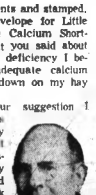

No Evidence Vitamin D Dangerous in Large Doses

"I have taken calcium capsules when I had trouble with my knees swelling, and it did help me, but isn't it too much vitamin D when you take six a day?

"I enclose 35 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope for Little Lesson 26, "The Calcium Shortage." From what you said about common calcium deficiency I believe that an adequate calcium intake may cut down on my hay fever. . . .

"Following your suggestion I cured a planter's wart on my daughter's foot by applying castor oil faithfully each morning and night. It took three months, but the wart disappeared." (Mrs. D. W. M.)

It isn't planter's wart. It is plantar wart — plantar pertains to the sole of the foot. Just as palmar wart is one on the palm of the hand. A wart in either situation is likely to be difficult to cure.

As for the Vitamin D in six calcium capsules (2,250 USP units), it is only enough to insure good assimilation and utilization of calcium, and not too much for child or adult.

There is no scientific evidence that even twice that much vitamin D daily throughout the year has ever done harm to child or adult. Anyone who implies it "can be dangerous," is taking advantage of popular credulity.

The idea that "too much" (no one says just how much is too much) vitamin D was derived, I believe, from two fatalities reported in medical journals years ago.

One was an infant whose mother, through misunderstanding of a doctor's instructions, fed one or two teaspoonfuls of a highly concentrated vitamin D preparation instead of one or two drops. At autopsy, the infant's lungs and other organs showed small areas of calcification, which may or may not have been due to the enormous overdoses of vitamin D.

The other was an immigrant doctor who tried to get a license to practice and failed. He took enormous quantities of viosterol, a vitamin D concentrate, and also quantities of drugs with suicidal intent.

The doctor respecting the incident was too eager, I thought, to record the first fatality from "too much vitamin D." Both cases have inspired irresponsible "science writers" to publish many warnings against "too much vitamin D."

It is a little odd, isn't it, that Mrs. D. W. M. applied to the wart on her daughter's sole something I recommended for warts, "faithfully each night and morning" for three months; yet she hesitates to eat something I recommend for aching knees and hay fever.

Not that aching knees and hay fever have anything in common, but I do believe calcium deficiency is a contributing cause of both.

"We don't have to pay inheritance tax on things that are worth passing on to our children."

Says U.S. Should Act Now Before It Is Too Late

Why doesn't the United States stop yacking and start acting? Actions speak louder than words, which Russia just proved.

While the U.S. is tacking the front door to hold a lot of conferences to decide "should we, or shouldn't we," the Russians are sneaking in the back door, which someone forgot to guard.

Cuba, which is only 90 miles from Miami, should be eliminated before Russia uses it for a missile base and no doubt they have already started building same.

'This Man Has the Right Idea'

Representative Edgar Hiestand, a California Republican, has the right idea about the hijacked plane in Cuba: "Offer Castro a chance to release it," says he, "and then send the Marines in with orders to bring it back, come what may. Let's quit playing patsy to this Cuban pipsqueak."

That's the kind of a man we should have for President.

'Russia Wants U.S. to Waste Money'

To "I," if you make suggestions to other people like you did me, you should be investigated by one of the committees that help waste millions of dollars. If you'd like to see Commie ranks swell, just pick up your clan and leave, I'm sure you'd never be missed. And Mr. Guilds, if you have money to throw around, that's fine, but I still say I'd like a vacation. And wasting millions of dollars is exactly what Russia wants. Perhaps you heard the boast of hers about talking America into bankruptcy. She's doing a swell job.

'How Can JFK Ask for Blank Check?'

In support of ex-Sergeant Murphy's letter, I would also like to know how Mr. Kennedy could ask for a signed blank check for foreign aid, with countries like Poland and Yugoslavia on the list which have voted against us every time in the U. N.? Maybe we should ask the parents of the 10 airmen who lost their lives in 1947 when a Yugoslav plane shot them down, what they think of foreign aid.

I see you in my dreams each night . . . Before I even go to sleep . . . And in the stillness of the dark . . . My heart will some times softly weep . . . I see you in my dreams each night . . . With silver strands among your hair . . . And find that after all it is . . . The stardust in the deep blue air . . . I see you in my dreams each night . . . With warm affection in your eyes . . . And find that they reflect the beams . . . Of glowing moonlight in the skies . . . I see you in my dreams each night . . . With shawl as delicate as lace . . . And find your pallid hand upon . . . A silken cloud beside your face . . . I see you in my dreams each night . . . With longing arms stretched out to me . . . And wonder when these golden dreams . . . Will turn into reality.

Merchant Likes Jackie's Spending

Why should we censor Jackie Kennedy for spending a lot of her own moola for a hairdo? She's a very wealthy young woman in her own right even ahead of the fact she married a man whose father is worth a couple of hundred million dollars.

I sell shoes and I'd cheer for hours if she showed up at my place and bought a hundred pair. And if she bought a thousand movie tickets and gave them away, I'd cheer for that, too. If all wealthy people suddenly started to spend as much as they could, unemployment would drop.

The editorial on Titov's space flight was just right. Much as we would have liked to do it first, we still have to give the Russians credit, and the editorial said it the way most of us feel.

The Almanac

Today is Thursday, Aug. 10th, the 222nd day of the year with 143 to follow.

The moon is approaching its new phase.

The morning stars are Venus and Jupiter.

The evening stars are Mars, Saturn and Jupiter.

On this day in history: In 1776, a committee made up of Benjamin Franklin, John Adams and Thomas Jefferson suggested "E pluribus unum" as the motto for the great seal of the United States.

In 1821, Missouri became the 24th state in the Union.

In 1833, Chicago, with population about 200, was incorporated as a village.

In 1874, the 31st President of the United States, Herbert Hoover, was born at West Branch, Iowa.

A thought for today: Herbert Hoover said, "Older men declare war. But it is youth that must fight and die. And it is youth who must inherit the tribulation, the sorrow and the triumphs that are the aftermath of war."

Case Records of a Psychologist:

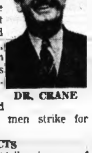

Gives Facts About Corporations

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE J-464: Tim T., aged 43, is a member of a labor union.

"Dr. Crane," he asked after I had addressed his PTA group, "don't you think it is true that corporations ' still gouge the working man?

DR. CRANE

"Look at all the money they admit earning at the end of the year. Why, one firm here in Ohio admitted its profits were $75,000,000.

"So why should not we working men strike for higher wages?"

FACE THE FACTS

The right to strike is one of the privileges enjoyed by citizens in our Republic, with its splendid "free enterprise" system.

Workers couldn't strike under a Hitler regime. Nor do you hear much about strikes in Russia even today.

But the right to strike can be abused, due to the widespread ignorance of our adult Americans.

Most people react only to the big figures, such as the $75,000,000 which Tim says his Ohio firm earned.

Uncle Sam takes 52 per cent of that immediately, so only $36,000,000 was left for the stockholders.

And those stockholders obtained only a 4½ per cent return on the money they had invested, so do you think they were given an excessive dividend?

Actually, it might be well for stockholders to strike for higher dividends, too, when the costs of living go up!

Remember, the average worker earns about $250,000 in his entire lifetime! When an investor thus puts $250,000 into a firm, he is furnishing the equivalent of ONE new worker on that same payroll.

And he is taking far more risk than the usual live worker, for if the latter is laid off, he gets unemployment wages, whereas the investor gets NOTHING if the factory closes down.

And if the factory goes bankrupt, the union workers quickly shift to other jobs.

But the investor loses his money, so his financial "worker" is "killed."

KILL THE GOOSE

You are familiar with the old fable about the goose that laid the daily golden egg.

That "goose" is our American eagle, which symbolizes "free enterprise."

It can stand only so much pressure and then socialism will take over.

After that, unions are meaningless for dictatorship will then set the wages and selling price, plus heavier taxes to make up deficits.

Following World War II, our adult Americans were surveyed as to whether they believed the workers or the corporations got the most money.

And the average citizen estimated that the corporations took SIX TIMES as much money out of the firm as was paid for all wages.

Yet the very reverse was the case, for wages were SIX TIMES as much as profits!

It is this mistaken notion that foments unnecessary labor feuds and work stoppages that hurt everybody — the worker, the corporation and you and me, who are consumers.

Psychology must thus go to the aid of basic American economics to present the facts and stop the needless class strife between labor and management.

Otherwise, we'll kill the goose that has been laying the wonderful golden eggs during the past 185 years of this Republic.

DC8 Pilot Had LaughOver 707

HOUSTON, Tex. (UPI) — One week ago today, Carl Ballard and his wife were talking about the El Paso jetliner hijacking and "got a laugh out of it."

* * *

Ballard is a jet pilot too. He told his wife not to worry, something like that could not happen to him.

But it did.

Ballard was at the controls of the Pan American DC8 jet that left Houston Wednesday and was seized shortly after it stopped at Mexico City.

"Just last week we were talking about plane hijacking," Mrs. Ballard said.

"Carl told me 'Don't worry, I'm going to lock my cockpit door.' Then we both laughed because we knew it would not do any good because a gunman could order somebody to open it.

"I think it's dreadful. I think we're living in a strange age, when, in a supposedly free country, the captain of an airship or the people who get on it are in complete jeopardy because of the possibility of being hijacked.

"I hope something can be worked out where people will have a reasonable assurance of safety when they board an aircraft."

Ballard, a veteran of 20 years with Pan American, and his wife, Huntsville, Tex., about 60 miles Houston. They have three children.

Baby Is Born With a Bang, Says Father

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — "This baby came in with a bang!"

This was Edward Basta's description of the birth of a son Wednesday during a vicious thunderstorm that set the Bastas' home on fire and sent Mrs. Basta to a maternity ward.

A neighbor who saw "two balls of fire roll down the roof of the Basta home" rushed Mrs. Basta to a hospital. En route the car stalled five times in a dousing rain.

Meanwhile, Basta, a chemist, rushed home to find his house on fire. Learning that his wife had gone to the hospital, Basta left the fire fighting chores to firemen, and hurried after her. He arrived just in time to welcome his new son, Ralph Edward.

Damage to his home was estimated at $17,000.

Faculty Salaries Big Problem

U. of M. Hopeful Despite Cash Gloom

(Editor's Note—In this final part of a three-part series on faculty raising, AP Ann Arbor correspondent Richard Pyle probes budget problems of a major university and how schools such as the University of Michigan rely on loyalty and tradition to keep faculty members from departing for jobs in industry and business.)

By RICHARD PYLE

ANN ARBOR (AP)—The men who plot the University of Michigan's strategy against raids by other schools and private industry on the faculty are somewhat like the men accused of a crime:

Anything they say may be used against them.

In arguing with the Michigan Legislature against an austerity budget that would limit operations, freeze salaries and sharply curtail expansion, U. of M. administrators are forced to paint a picture of gloom.

On the other hand, in discussing the university's future with new faculty prospects or academic veterans who may be giving thought to leaving, they don't dare communicate pessimism.

In the fact of stiffening competition for first-rate teachers and research men, this situation poses a real quandary for Marvin L. Niehuss, U. of M. vice president, and Roger Heyns, dean of the college of literature, science and the arts.

POSITION SHIFTS

"We have to explain to the legislature what an austerity budget will mean in terms of salaries and faculty promotions," said Niehuss.

"And when we talk to faculty men about the future, the same subjects come up. These are fundamental questions that they are all interested in."

In all such discussions, certain cold realities are present:

—Salaries for professors are increasing 5 to 7 per cent each year on the national average. At U. of M., they are frozen at current levels.

AVERAGE DROPS

(This year, in fact, the U. of M. salary average will drop from $9,064 to $8,808 because of retirements and other losses among top faculty people.)

—College appropriations on the national average are up 20 per cent (Iowa and Illinois each increased theirs 17 per cent this year) while U. of M. received an increase of $147,694 over the 1960-61 budget of $35.4 million.

—Schools in the thick of the competition for top academic people can offer strong financial inducement (Harvard's average salary is $16,000; Duke University's is $11,500).

"In this kind of competition," observed Heyns, "you have to be moving ahead all the time. Just holding your own is a loss."

To combat these realities, U. of M. administrators have turned—with some success—to less tangible weapons. Loyalty and tradition.

LOYALTY STRONG

"We find the University of Michigan commands strong loyalties," said Niehuss. "There is a healthy academic climate here—despite what other troubles we may be having — and our faculty doesn't forget that salary increases were given two years ago (through tuition hikes) at a time when appropriations were down."

Tradition also seems important to many U. of M. faculty men. It is mentioned often in letters telling administrators why they rejected a certain offer to move elsewhere.

"It's a good argument," said Heyns, "but you can only use it once. A bright young man doesn't want to hear it over and over."

To Niehuss, the struggle to retain U. of M.'s best-teaching and research personnel is "like putting out brush fires—you rush to patch up one problem situation and there's always another one to follow."

U. of M. concentrates on keeping its top men, because of a recent trend toward hiring "teams" instead of just one at a time.

"We have to work hard to convince them to stay," said Niehuss. "If one key man decides to leave, others may follow him—and it also means some new prospects come to live with in the last three years, and as Heyns summed it up:

"I am worried by the absence of certain person isn't there."

These problems are things that hopeful signs that the situation is U. of M. administrators have changing for the better."

Lakes Freighter Eyes Damages

Mackinac Islander Will Unload, Then Drydock; Greek Ship Sails On

MANISTIQUE (AP) — The lumber carrier Mackinac Islander was tied up here today for a survey of damages from her collision Wednesday in foggy Northern Lake Michigan with a Greek freighter five times her size.

A diver was to inspect the hull of the 96-foot Mackinac Islander, a passenger ferry rebuilt for cargo use. She was disabled in a collision with the 511-foot freighter Zermatt off Gull Island. No one was injured.

Capt. Richard Lyons of Charlevoix, skipper of the Mackinac Islander, said he hoped to be able to sail to her destination at Escanaba today to unload his cargo and then head for Sturgeon Bay, Wis., where the vessel will be dry docked for repairs.

After the collision the Zermatt continued on course, her crew apparently unaware that they had been in a collision.

Coast Guardsmen who later boarded the Zermatt reported the vessel, a converted World War II Liberty ship, sustained virtually no damage.

The Mackinac Islander suffered extensive hull damage. Both bow and stern were damaged and metal hull plates were buckled.

Hijacked Passenger Tells of Grim Bullet Souvenirs

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The swaggering hijacker of a Pan American World Airways jetliner gave each member of the crew a pistol cartridge as a grim souvenir of his exploit, a passenger said Wednesday night.

Hector Vioni, 53, Richmond, Ind., lawyer, said that when the plane landed in Havana after a flight at pistol point from Mexico "that idiot took the clips out of his gun."

HECTOR VIONI

ONE WAY OR OTHER

"He gave one bullet to each member of the crew and told them, 'I planned to give it to you one way or the other. This is a souvenir from me.'" Vioni said.

"The first thing I knew," Vioni said of the aerial kidnaping, "was when a blue streak, the hijacker, shot down the aisle past me. He pulled a pistol, backed the steward against a seat and kept jabbing the pistol in the steward's left ribs." Vioni said in an interview after arriving from Havana.

"He kicked open the door and burst into the cockpit. I don't think you would say there was any panic, although I think most of us were plenty nervous."

"It seemed like a long trip to Havana."

BUM SANDWICHES

Vioni expressed bitter criticism of the long layover in Havana.

"There was no reason for (Cuban Prime Minister Fidel) Castro and his dirty-maned pirates to detain us those eight and a half hours in Havana. The plane had fuel. The crew was ready and able to fly.

"But they put us all into a room—an air-conditioned room—and then once in a while they would bring us some bum sandwiches," Vioni said.

Ernesto Ravinet of San Francisco, a business associate of Vioni, said Rafael E. Vazquez, general manager of Cosmopolitan Tours of Mexico, Mexico City "stood up to one of the top Castro bigwigs at the airport and shouted at him.

"He told him, 'One of your pirates brought us here to hand us over to another pirate. You have no right to detain us. I am a free citizen of Mexico and I demand that we and this plane be released.'" Ravinet quoted Vazquez as saying.

Vioni, Ravinet and Ravinet's wife, Unabelle, were traveling to Panama on business.

Vioni said, "I want to tell you how lucky we were. We got to see the great Fidel. Castro came down to the airport just before we were to leave and talked to the Colombian foreign minister (Julio Cesar Turbay Ayala).

"Castro started talking to Capt. (Carl) Ballard and I suppose he was ready for one of those long speeches of his. We couldn't hear what he was saying, but he was wagging his head at the sound," Vioni said.

"Ballard cut him short."

Aid Gains Votes by Compromise

GOP May Support Bill for 5-Year Foreign Help With Timely Look-Sees

WASHINGTON (AP) — An administration-supported compromise proposal improved prospects today for additional Republican votes for President Kennedy's long-range foreign aid program.

TIME ELEMENT

Instead of depending on year-to-year congressional appropriations, Kennedy wants to finance his proposed five-year, $8.8 billion program of economic development loans abroad through Treasury borrowing. Most of the opposition to the program centers on this financing proposal.

The compromise offered by Sen. William J. Fulbright, D-Ark., would require a 30-day advance look by both Senate and House Foreign Relations and Appropriations committees at every proposed loan of $10 million or more before the administration can make it.

Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, advanced the suggestion in the Senate Wednesday in an effort to win greater bipartisan opposition to a pending amendment by Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va. Byrd's amendment would require annual appropriations from Congress to finance the loan program.

Fulbright told reporters his compromise plan was "acceptable to the administration."

Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., one of those still uncommitted on the borrowing authority proposal, told a reporter the Fulbright amendment was "a considerable step in the right direction."

Wife Calls Him Worrier, FBI Reports Record of Mental Disturbance

NEW YORK (AP)—The wife of plane hijacker Albert Charles Cadon today described him as a temperamental, nervous man who worried about many things.

But she said that, although he had often joked with friends recently about hijacking an airplane, she had no inkling he would actually do so.

Cadon, 27, Paris-born artist and restaurant employe, was reported by the FBI to have had a long record of mental disturbance.

He went to Bellevue Hospital last fall for a mental examination at the suggestion of a policeman after creating a disturbance in front of the apartment building at 339 E. 9th St. where he lived. He was released after three days but the result of the test was not disclosed.

Mrs. Cadon said she did not know of the Bellevue visit until FBI agents questioned her about it earlier today. She acknowledged, however, that he had drawn police attention again last winter.

Cadon became disturbed because the name "Cadon" was given to a nylon yarn, and he went around painting out the name on advertising signs.

Cadon's wife, Charlotte, 24, met her husband while studying in Paris in 1957.

Governor Calls Bendix Contract Guide to Future

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Swainson said today that the awarding of an $8-million Air Force contract to Bendix Systems of Ann Arbor points the way to a possible solution of the state's unemployment problem.

Swainson said that the Bendix contract emphasized the important role of Michigan research.

The governor said that greater activity in such government projects would permit the state industry to diversify.

Employment Reaches Record July High

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Labor Department reported today that 53,198,000 Americans had jobs on regular wage and salary payrolls in July, a record for any July. It said the prospect is for a continued slow gain.

This compares with 52,184,000 a year earlier and with a low point for the past year of 51,314,000 in February.

Seymour Wolfbein, deputy assistant secretary of labor, stressed however, that job recovery is spotty and fails to include the job expansion necessary to provide work for the expanding labor force.

There are 67 bridges that cross over water in New York City.

Not all men go through a dangerous age. Some of them never get out of it . . . Anybody who thinks rainmaking requires scientific knowledge never planned a picnic . . . A local fellow was disappointed when his wife had a baby girl. He'd been hoping for a boy, who'd help him with the dishes.

Pontiac Man, 81, Falls Prey to 'Smooth Talker'

An 81-year-old Pontiac man fell prey to a smooth-talking pickpocket who singled him out as a victim while the man sat on the porch of his home reading a newspaper.

George Kemper, 9 Elizabeth Lake Road, told Pontiac police that five minutes after the stranger came yesterday he left—with $327 of Kemper's money.

Kemper told officers the stranger, striking up a conversation, asked if he suffered "aches and pains." When he replied affirmatively, the man told him he was a "healer" and started talking of "cures."

He took the stranger into the house for a drink of water, with the healer "trying to cure" him by touching him, Kemper said.

A few minutes later the stranger left.

Checking his pocket, Kemper discovered the money—in ten and twenty-dollar bills mainly — had been stolen. He called police.

They searched the area but were unable to find any trace of the thief.

Plans New Bosses for Foreign Aid Job

WASHINGTON (AP — President Kennedy said today that if Congress passes his foreign aid bill operation of the program will be turned over to five new area administrators and from 45 to 50 new chiefs in individual countries.

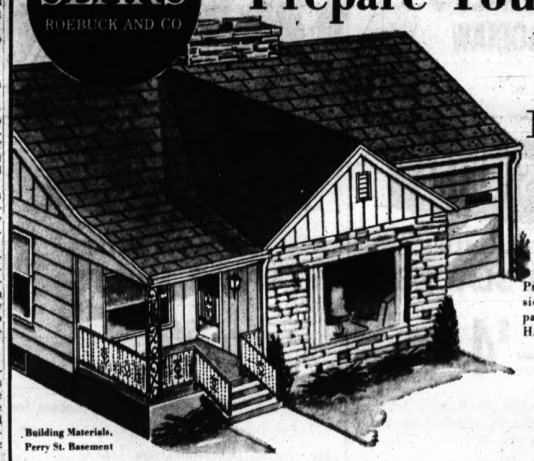

* * *

Kennedy was told in his news conference that several congressional committees had been critical of the handling of foreign aid in a number of nations.

4-H Marchers Strut Through Ominous Weather

BUSY DELIBERATING—The two judges who scored each float in yesterday's Oakland County 4-H fair in Pontiac check their sheets before making a final decision on the winners. They are Mrs. Virginia Stark, president of Tipacon Chapter, American Business Women's Association; and Gelston V. Poole, representing the Pontiac Kiwanis Club.

Banners, Colorful Floats Brighten Saginaw Street

Rain along with dark skies threatened to wash out the Oakland County 4-H parade for a few anxious minutes yesterday afternoon but it didn't make any difference to the young marchers.

They came through like rays of sunshine.

Moments before the parade got underway lightning and the ominous roar of thunder made it look like rain might dampen the spirits of the hundreds of marching 4-Hers.

It didn't, however, and the parade started on schedule.

And fortunately, for spectators and marchers alike, only a few drops of rain fell during the half-hour parade up Saginaw street in downtown Pontiac.

Marchers with banners and colorful floats proclaimed the activities of the 1,500 4-H members in Oakland County.

The annual parade is held in conjunction with the 4-H fair being held now through Saturday at the 4-H fair grounds on Perry Street, south of Walton Boulevard.

FIRST PLACE

First-place honors for the best float entered in the parade went to the Bloomfield 4-H Club. A $20 prize went along with the award.

The winning float showed a missile ready to soar with the slogan "4-H Is Progress" written across its side.

Judging the entries were Mrs. Virginia Stark, president of the Tipacon Chapter of Pontiac, American Business Women's Association and Gelston V. Poole, representing the Pontiac Kiwanis Club.

Selected as second and third-place winners among the dozen floats were those entered by the Hi-Lo and Milford 4-H clubs.

The theme of the Hi-Lo Club entry was "4-H Is A Rainbow Of Golden Opportunity" and depicted a large rainbow arching over the 4-H cloverleaf into a pot of gold.

The third prize of $10 was awarded to the Milford group for its metal cow, constructed of oil cans and tin products. Its theme was "It's All In The Bag."

Announcing each entry and marching group as it passed the reviewing stand at Saginaw and Huron streets was Erle Woodward, 15, of the Bloomfield 4-H Club.

Today the Ralph Braid Memorial Trophy is to be given by the East Orion Club to the county's junior beef judging champion. It is awarded on a yearly rotating basis.

This evening's events starting at 7:30 will include the senior sheep showmanship finals and the senior beef showmanship finals.

TALENT SHOW

Also tonight will be a 4-H talent show, the presentation of awards and a demonstration of a horse drill team.

The show will open 9 a.m. tomorrow with a dog show and the judging of swine.

The junior dairy showmanship event will be staged at 10 a.m. followed by the judging of dairy classes. At 2 p.m., horse halter classes will be judged.

The 7:30 p.m. events will include the senior dairy showmanship and trail class for horses.

Concluding the five-day show Saturday will be the judging of horses in the action class at 9 a.m. A contest for horses will be held at 8 p.m.

BEST FLOAT—Judged the best entry in the 4-H parade was this float belonging to the Bloomfield 4-H Club. The progress of the 4-H organization was depicted by the skyward missile. Waving the U.S. and 4-H flags are Bloomfield 4-H-ers Bridget Puhl and Tim Head. Slogans on the prize winning float read "Learn Scientific Approach" and "Build Leadership." A $20 award went to the best float entry.

Holly to Review Storm Sewer

Slates Hearing Aug. 29; Cost Divided Between Village, Lot Owners

HOLLY—A $52,000 major storm sewer and street improvement project proposed here will be reviewed at a public hearing in the Village Hall Aug. 29.

Cost of the program would be shared equally by the village and the property owners along the six streets being considered in the plan.

The streets where construction is proposed are Richards, Bevins, Janice, Hartner and Airport drives and a portion of Howard.

If no objections to the projects are raised at the 8 p.m. meeting and they are determined to be a necessity, installation and paving would begin this year with completion probably in mid-1962.

Village President Aram Krikorian estimated the project would cost home owners about $2.50 a front foot to the center of the street.

Assessments against those benefiting from the improvements would be made over a 5-year period or it could be paid in one lump sum.

In another move to improve the village, the council has awarded a contract for the demolition of four condemned buildings, including the old Exchange Hotel at 491 S. Broad St.

The contract went to Peter G. Great of Clarkston for $1,850.

The three other buildings to be torn down are vacant houses at 139, 141 and 141¼ N. Saginaw St.

The 2-story brick hotel has not been used for four years.

Another vacant house at 409 Thomas St. will be burned by village firemen for a practice drill in fighting fires.

Alick D. Hutchinson, 49, of 80 Maple Grove Road, was to be charged with negligent homicide and leaving the scene of a fatal auto accident, according to Lapeer County Prosecutor Michael Dionise.

Jackie R. McCoy, 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Adrin McCoy of 55 S. Bellevue Road, Lake Orion, died when he was thrown from his bicycle after being struck by a car.

William C. Toll, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Toll of 351 Pinegrove Road, Orion Township, was seriously injured in the mishap. He was reported in satisfactory condition today at Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital.

The two boys were on the last leg of a bicycle trip from Mackinaw City to Lake Orion when they were struck by an auto Tuesday night.

Hutchinson was arrested about a mile from the scene of the accident, which occurred on South Lapeer Road (M24) near Brocker Road in Metamora Township.

Lack of Proof Causes Judge to Drop Charge

SOUTHFIELD — A charge of negligent homicide against a 20-year-old Detroit youth resulting from an auto accident here June 29 was dismissed yesterday by Municipal Judge Alex C. Perinoff.

Asst. Oakland County Prosecutor James Roberts recommended that the case against Michael L. Patrick be dismissed because of a lack of evidence.

Patrick was charged with failing to yield the right of way to oncoming traffic while turning left onto Telegraph from 9-Mile Road at the time of the accident.

A northbound car driven by Donald L. Parka, 25, of 25480 Telegraph Road, struck Patrick's auto broadside. William N. Woosley, 17, of Detroit, died as a result of the collision.

Patrick and four other persons in his car were admitted to William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak, with injuries suffered in the accident.

Want Device to Detect Arms

Pilots Assn. Calls for Speed in Research on Instruments

CHICAGO (UPI)—The Air Line Pilots Association (ALPA) has called for expedited research on instruments to detect firearms and explosives in possession of plane passengers.

C. N. Sayen, ALPA president, said Wednesday the best way to put a stop to hijacking of airplanes is to prevent passengers from carrying weapons on board.

Roland K. Quinn, president of the air lines Stewards and Stewardesses Association, said in a telegram to the International Civil Aviation Organization in Montreal that "International police action is necessary to protect passengers and crews and save aircraft from the jackals of the sky."

The two statements came in the wake of Wednesday's forced flight to Cuba of a Pan American commercial jet passenger plane with 81 persons aboard. It was the third such hijacking in the last few months.

Optimists to Buy Top Steer

The Birmingham Optimist Club today announced plans to provide a scholarship to the Michigan State University School of Agriculture for a deserving Oakland County 4-H Club member.

The Optimist Club will purchase the prize Oakland County Black Angus Steer at the State Junior Livestock Show in December. The steer then will be resold by the club and proceeds will be used for a scholarship.

Advance showing of the steers in competition for the Oakland County championship was to be held today at the County 4-H Fair.

FAMILY AFFAIR — George Netchey, 10, of Walled Lake, proved what a good actor he was yesterday by portraying a mother in the 4-H parade for the Rip 'N Tear Club. His brother Ken, 12, was the father.

RUNNER-UP — Taking second place in the 4-H parade yesterday was this float entered by the Hi-Lo Club with the theme "4-H Is A Rainbow Of Golden Opportunity." The multicolored rainbow arching over a large cloverleaf, ended in a pot of gold with coins spilling out of it. Each coin had an opportunity written on it. The rainbow was made of tissue flowers, painted different shades.

IKE AND MIKE—Attention getters in the 4-H parade were these two ponies, Ike and Mike, who stayed close to the cart of the Junior Homemakers of Waterford. Driving the cart is Bud Williamson, 16. Both of the little animals carried green and white blankets with words from the 4-H motto "Head, Heart, Hand and Health." The blankets were made by Junior Homemakers.

Berlin Summit Meeting Looms Most Probable

By JOSEPH W. GRIGG

PARIS (UPI) — Betting among Western diplomats in Europe is that there will be an East-West summit conference before the year is out.

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev has made it clear he wants one.

The Western government heads are far from enthusiastic. But if Khrushchev keeps forcing the pace on Berlin, officials believe the West may find itself pushed into such a meeting as the only hope, perhaps the last hope, of heading off a shooting war which neither side wants.

Summit or no summit, the next three months are likely to be one of the busiest periods of diplomatic comings and goings in recent years.

U. S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk and the British, French and West German foreign ministers more or less agreed at their Berlin crisis talks here last weekend that they would meet again during the United Nations General Assembly in September for another review of the East-West situation.

According to present plans the West would make no move before that to invite the Russians to the conference table.

The next step, which is regarded by Western officials as a virtual certainty now, would be a meeting of President Kennedy, British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, French President Charles de Gaulle and probably West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer — if Adenauer is given another term in the Sept. 17 West German parliamentary general elections.

LEADERS TO DECIDE

The Western summit leaders would take the final decision whether — and, if so, how — to approach the Russians for talks on Berlin.

The French are particularly reluctant to make the first move, arguing that simply to offer talks means giving away one tactical point. The French — which means De Gaulle — also argue that negotiations can only weaken and certainly cannot improve the Western position in Berlin.

If East-West talks are unavoidable, the West wants careful advance preparation — first through diplomatic channels and then by an East-West foreign ministers' meeting before any summit gets together with Khrushchev.

* * *

But the question remains—will Khrushchev in his present hurry-up mood fall in with the West's more leisurely timetable?

He has made it clear that what he wants is not just a summit on Berlin but a summit on the whole Cold War situation — and he wants it soon.

Betting among Western officials in Europe is that, one way or another, he will get it.

Flint Firm Promoting Atomic Bomb Shelters

FLINT (AP)—A sales organization to promote atomic bomb shelters has been set up by the Anderson Tank Co. of Flint.

Sales are expected to make possible the hiring of 1,000 additional employes and a 50,000-square-foot expansion of the plant in Flint, said J. J. Fishler, secretary and general manager of Anderson Tank.

Anderson Tank has been manufacturing tornado shelters since the 1953 tornado that crashed through Flint, killing 116 persons and injuring more than 900.

'God Save the Queen' Sung by Soviet Chorus

VANCOUVER, B.C. (AP)—The Red Army chorus sang in English here Wednesday the Canadian national anthem and "God Save The Queen."

It was the first Vancouver rehearsal of the hundred uniformed Soviets who will make their North American debut here tonight.

The singers are accompanied by guitarists, accordionists, brass instrument players and dancers.

The troupe arrived from Moscow Wednesday aboard two Soviet airliners.

N.J. Governor Says Shelters Are No Answer

NEWARK, N.J. (UPI) — Gov. Robert B. Meyner has termed a "cruel deception" the contention that bomb shelters will have much effect in saving lives during a nuclear war.

Meyner told a television audience Wednesday night that although he is not opposed to fallout shelters, "I believe that to hold out the idea that much of our population could be saved by them is a cruel deception."

Meyner thus differed sharply with civil defense officials, who contend that 130 million Americans would survive a nuclear war with an adequate shelter program.

The governor suggested that the money which would go into large-scale shelter programs be spent instead in providing funds to improve economic conditions abroad. He said this might increase chances of peace.

The earth takes about one-thousandth of a second longer to rotate around its axis today than it did three years ago.

Record Clears Castro in Air Hijackings

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — Before your blood pressure goes up, thinking of Fidel Castro and hijacked American planes, look at the record. It's a dizzy, almost incredible story, compounded of confusion.

So far as the record shows Castro initiated none of the hijackings. There were four. Three of the four planes were forced to land in Cuba. Castro immediately released two, kept one. The fourth got detoured to El Paso.

None of the five hijackers involved was a Cuban citizen. Two were Americans from Arizona, one was a Frenchman, one a Puerto Rican, and one, a waiter, was born in Cuba but had become a naturalized American citizen.

Meanwhile Cubans fleeing Castro hijacked or flew 24 of his planes to this country. The United States returned 14 of them to him. The other 10 were seized under a court order to be sold for a debt owed by the Cuban government to a Miami businessman.

And if Castro had used his head he probably could have gotten the 10 back, too. How? A State Department spokesman said: If Castro had invoked Cuban sovereignty over the planes the American court most likely would have refused to let the planes be seized.

Why didn't he do that, since it sounds so simple? The State Department spokesman said this was the answer: He probably didn't know how he could do that, or he didn't think of it, or perhaps he couldn't find a lawyer to represent him here.

But that's only the beginning.

Wednesday a French gunman, over Mexico and, at gunpoint, forced the pilot of a Pan American World Airways plane with 81 persons aboard to fly him to Havana. After it was all over an official of the airline said the gunman was incoherent and had no connection with Cuba. Crew members described the hijacker as wild eyed and apparently mentally disturbed.

Before all this was known there were angry shouts in Congress. But Castro would not have had to send an agent to Mexico to capture a Pan American plane. Pan American is the only American airline still maintaining regular flights between Cuba and this country. So if Castro wanted to, he could have helped himself to some Pan American planes on the ground in Havana.

BAD TIME

But this would have been the worst possible time to hijack an American plane. All the American nations are meeting right now in Uruguay where the United States has offered $20 billion in Latin-American aid.

One of Castro's chief lieutenants, Ernesto Guevara, is there, trying to make the United States look like a villain. He made a speech to that effect. Castro would be the villain if he turned hijacker at this time.

The truly ludicrous touch came here:

Instead of trying to chastise Castro directly, the United States is anxious for the Latin-American countries to crack down on him. No one has been working harder to get just this crackdown on Castro than the Colombian foreign minister, Julio Cesar Turbay Ayala. And Castro knows it. By chance, the minister was on the plane hijacked Wednesday and forced down in Havana.

If Castro had tried to hold him there would have been a Latin-American explosion. Castro's government lost no time in announcing it was releasing the plane right away, "in deference to" the Colombian minister." Castro even went to the airport to see him. The diplomat quoted Castro as expressing mortification.

Planning to Abdicate

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — The South Korean military junta may make public Monday its plans for eventual turnover of power to a civil government.

Lt. Col. Kim Chong-pil, director of the junta's powerful Central Intelligence Bureau, told reporters today: "I think an important announcement will be made Aug. 14." He gave no details.

An average railroad car carries 60 tons of coal.

Cheaper Fares for Flights Near

CAB Clears Away All Objections to Lower Excursion Prices

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Civil Aeronautics Board cleared the way Wednesday for cheaper coast-to-coast air coach fares proposed by three airlines for "excursion" passengers.

The board dismissed objections to the excursion fares and made it possible for the service to begin.

Trans World Airlines has said it will start such service next Wednesday and charge $198 for cross-country round trips in jets and $178 for round-trips in piston-powered planes.

American and United Air Lines have announced they will offer the same fares beginning Aug. 18.

The three carriers will require that transcontinental "excursion" trips be made on weekdays with a return flight deferred from 14 to 30 days after the initial flight.

American and United said their proposals were defensive and asked the CAB to block the new plan.

The two airlines said that by diverting passengers from regular service at higher fares the new service would cost the carriers more revenue than it would generate. TWA denied this would occur.

"The proposed excursion fares appear to be a promising attempt to stimulate air travel at a time when traffic growth has fallen far behind the increase in seat capacity offered in transcontinental service," the CAB said.

Identify Body of Man

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — The body of a man found floating in the Grand River Tuesday has been identified as that of Robert Styles, 64, of Sparta. Officials said he drowned accidentally. A sister, Mrs. Margaret McCarty of Detroit, survives.

Railroad wheels under tests are run as fast as 140 miles per hour.

Illegal to Use Turn Indicators to Signal Trouble

LANSING (AP)—Truck drivers who use red flashing turn indicators as a warning that their trucks are disabled are breaking the law in Michigan.

Atty. Gen. Paul L. Adams said amber or yellow lights can be used in warning of a traffic hazard, but not red flashers.

In an opinion requested by State Police Commissioner Joseph A. Childs, Adams also said that regulations of the Interstate Commerce Commission prescribing that disabled vehicles flash simultaneously all front and rear turn indicators does not supersede Michigan's motor vehicle code.

The state law says that flashing, oscillating or rotating red lights may be used only by emergency vehicles, school buses or farm tractors, Adams said.

New FPC Man Clears Stock

L. J. O'Connor, Now OK'd by Senate, Avoids Interest Conflict

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Lawrence J. O'Connor, confirmed as a member of the Federal Power Commission, said Wednesday he has started disposing of stock Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., said may represent a conflict of interest.

"Just as I said in the committee hearing, I am disposing of such stock and before Monday I will have disposed of it all," O'Connor said.

"In fact that is the reason I am in Houston."

Proxmire held the Senate floor for over 32 hours in his fight against O'Connor's confirmation. He said it would "really be tragic" to appoint O'Connor to the power commission because of conflict of interest.

O'Connor did not say if he was selling the stock or giving it to his elderly mother, as Sen. Mike Monroney, D-Okla., said he was told O'Connor would do.

"I am very pleased with the confirmation," O'Connor said. "Now I just want to go to work."

He said he will return to Washington today.

Construction in State Shows 9 Pct. Drop

DETROIT (AP) — Construction contracts in Michigan totaled $127,068,000 during June, a 9 per cent decrease from June 1960, F. W. Dodge Corp. reported today.

The construction industry statistical agency said home-building contracts were 15 per cent above their year-ago level.

But the residential industry was offset by a 22 per cent drop in nonresidential construction contracts and a 27 per cent decrease in heavy engineering contracts.

Money figures for the month were residential, $64,148,000; nonresidential, $36,065,000, and heavy engineering, $26,875,000.

The total of construction contracts for the first six months of the year was $654,735,000, one per cent below the first half of 1960.

A new propellor blade for aircraft has an adjustable camber. It is claimed to increase the range of high speed planes by 30 per cent and increase the cargo capacity of verticle take-off craft by 50 per cent.

Activation Utmost in Guardsmen's Minds

(Editor's Note: (AP) — Lansing staffer Al Sandner is a member of the Michigan National Guard. Sandner recently completed two weeks of training with the 46th Division at Camp Grayling.

In the following story, he describes the initial reaction of state guardsmen to President Kennedy's plan to increase the nation's armed forces).

By AL SANDNER

LANSING (AP)—The news hit hard one Tuesday morning for some 9,500 Michigan National Guardsmen as they read headlines implying they might not get out of uniform at the end of their annual two-week tour of active duty.

The 10 and 12-year-old news boys running up and down company and battery streets at Camp Grayling said sales were the best they could remember; switchboards were jammed and the flood of mail the next day was one of the heaviest on record.

Reactions to the first official hint that reserve forces might be mobilized were varied. Most common reactions were:

"We knew this might happen when we first enlisted" and "Let's start worrying when there's something more substantial to go on."

Continuing international tensions, President Kennedy's plans to beef up the United States' military might and the Michigan Air National Guard this week have kept the issue very much alive.

"Mobilization," "priority," "combat readiness" and "authorized strength" are probably the most frequently used words in the National Guardsman's vocabulary today.

If two or more of the citizen-soldiers are together more than five minutes, the conversation almost invariably swings to activation of Michigan's 46th Division.

PRIORITY III UNIT

Most guardsmen learned during the recent summer encampment that the division was a priority III unit — a term they were hearing for the first time. To the man standing in the ranks this meant basically that somewhere ahead of the division on the Pentagon's list were priority I and II units.

They would go first; worrying could be postponed at least until the priority II units were alerted.

Maj. Gen. Cecil J. Kennedy, soon to retire as division commander, said later that Michigan troops were as well trained as could be expected but far from combat ready.

It would take at least eight weeks — longer under normal circumstances — of intensive training for the division to reach full combat strength and to be trained to function as a team, he added.

Michigan has several non-divisional, priority I units — ready to go on a "volunteer fireman basis," the state adjutant general's office said. They are:

Headquarters and headquarters battery of the 210th Artillery Group, and the 1st and 2nd missile battalions (Nike-Ajax) of the 177th Artillery — charged with the air defense perimeter around Detroit.

LATE EQUIPMENT

Their equipment is some of the Army's latest, and their strength varies from 71 to 84 per cent of full combat size.

Priority II groups, authorized to carry 71 per cent of their combat strength and less of the latest in defense machinery, include the 143Th Engineer Co. of Sault Ste. Marie and the 156th Signal Battalion of Detroit, with line companies in Monroe, Adrian and Kalamazoo.

Priority III units — including the bulk of state guardsmen— are allowed to maintain 60 per cent of their full strength in men and equipment. Most of the equipment in of World War II or Korean conflict vintage — though adequate for training.

The new M14 rifle, for example, will not find its way into the hands of state soldiers until the Army and the first two priority groups are armed with them, a 5th Army officer said.

Among the rumors that usually ripple in the wake of official pronouncements has been the speculation that because of Michigan's industrial might and the strategic importance of the civilian jobs of many guardsmen, the 46th largest priority III division in the country would be among the last to go.

"This is mostly speculation," Gen. Kennedy said. One look at the Michigan unemployment picture would tend to confute the argument, he pointed out.

"My personal opinion," he said, "is that priority ratings will depend almost entirely on the evaluation of the quality of training," he said. Most Michigan units scored near the top in the recent fortnight of field training.

Michigan guardsmen distinguished themselves in World War II as part of the famed 32nd "Red Arrow" Division which also included Wisconsin, and earned the nickname "les enfants terribles" — along with a great deal of respect — in France in World War I.

Michigan's military record goes back to 1830 — five years before the state was carved out of the Northwest Territory. Co. A of the 125th Infantry Regiment was formed in Detroit that year.

It still functions in Detroit — the big, tough, today, 1st Battle Group of the 225th Infantry.

All Lawns Need Proper Watering

The time of day for watering is not nearly so important as regularity. Keeping the soil always damp. For most people, morning and evening are convenient times, but the lawn will not suffer from scorch, as is sometimes said, if it is watered at mid-day. The important point is: use enough.

If the grass shows signs of withering or discoloring, water it immediately. This may mean using a hose with spray nozzle, so as to cover the whole area promptly. Later the sprinkler can be set to soak it thoroughly, section by section.

This plan of controlled watering applies to established lawns. The young grass of a new lawn, which is not yet well rooted, is better served by a fine spray from the hose than by the heavier fall from a set sprinkler, but with seedlings it is even more important to see that the soil never approaches drying. As well as the risk of uprooting the seedlings, or seed there is also a chance of puddling or crusting the soil.

Iron is the second most common metal in the earth's surface.

Couple to Live on Rundell

Sally McClellan Weds

Sally Ann McClellan chose a white taffeta gown featuring a lace bodice, basque waistline, lavalier neckline trimmed with iridescent sequins and pearls, and long tapered sleeves for her Saturday afternoon marriage to Richard R. Crozier.

A crown of Alencon lace with pearls and sequins secured the bride's veil of pure silk illusion. She carried a cascade of Yule Tide roses and red sweetheart roses.

Palms and white gladioli banked the altar of St. Benedict Catholic Church for the ceremony performed by Rev. B. J. Dommick with 250 guests present.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Wylie McClellan of Richmond Avenue and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Crozier of South Tilden Avenue.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Colleen Adams in a sheath gown of silk organza over taffeta with three quarter length sleeves and lace overskirt. She carried a bouquet of dark pink camellias and pink sweetheart roses.

MRS. RICHARD R. CROZIER

Gail the bride chose a light blue sheath with matching accessories and corsage of roses. The couple will live on West Rundell Street.

Gowned like the maid of honor were bridesmaids Connie Crozier, sister of the bridegroom, and Carolyn Radke who carried colonial bouquets of light pink camellias and pink sweetheart roses. Lisa Benson served as flower girl carrying sweetheart roses and petals, and Steve Kuehl was ringbearer.

James Stewart attended as best man with Bill French, Denny Smrcina, Bruce McClellan, the bride's brother, all of Pontiac, and Don Pulver of California as ushers.

A buffet dinner was held at the Elks Temple following the ceremony. The bride's mother's dress was of blue lace with matching accessories. Mrs. Crozier wore blue chiffon with matching accessories. Both mothers had pink garnet rose corsages.

For traveling to Northern Michigan the bride chose a light blue sheath with matching accessories and corsage of roses. The couple will live on West Rundell Street.

'Go Steady' Not Good for Girls

By the Emily Post Institute

Q: Do you approve of young girls and boys "going steady?" It seems to have become a widespread custom. I personally do not approve of my 16-year-old daughter devoting her time to one boy alone and seeing no others. I think it is very hampering to her social life.

I am sure there are many mothers with this same problem who would appreciate your opinion on this subject.

A: In my opinion, to let one boy monopolize a girl's time too much an extent that she sees no others is an unfortunate practice and by doing so she is limiting the development of her social personality.

Only by meeting many young people of varied backgrounds and interests can a girl or a boy broaden her or his own experience and gain enough insight to be capable of making a god choice of a lifetime partner when the time comes.

Q: Is it true that the maid of honor and best man at our wedding must be asked to be the godparents of our first child which I am expecting soon. I have been told this is customary and that they will feel slighted if not asked. I had intended to ask a cousin of mine to be the baby's godmother.

A: While the maid of honor and best man are often asked to be the first child's godparents, it is certainly not obligatory, and you may select the persons you think will be most interested in the child and who will be best able to see to its religious education in the event of your own death.

Q: Occasionally my boss will introduce me to a business acquaintance who comes into the office. Should I shake hands upon being introduced or do I just say "How do you do Mr. Smith?"

A: You simply say "How do you do, Mr. Smith?" with a smile. You of course should be ready to shake hands if he starts to extend his.

Couple Is Honeymooning at Mackinac Island

MRS. LAWRENCE J. LANDRY

Honeymooning at Mackinac Island are the former Sandra Lee DeVos and husband Lawrence Joseph Landry. The couple was wed Saturday morning at the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer, Birmingham, with 275 guests present. The Rev. Theodore Waggaze performed the ceremony.

The newlyweds' parents are George C. DeVos of Royal Oak, Mrs. Hazel Erdman DeVos of Rutherford Road and Mr. and Mrs. Rosario Landry of Square Lake Road.

A chapel length train accented the bride's gown of white silk organza and tiered veil. She held a colonial bouquet of miniature white roses.

Maid of honor Helen Lamont of Bloomfield Township wore a lavender sheath with overskirt, and matching Dior bow-hat and shoes. Bridesmaids Karlene DeVos, sister of the bride, Diane McNulty and Judy Rouse attended in dresses identical to the maid of honor's, only in pink taffeta. The attendants' bouquets were comprised of sweetheart roses and blue bachelor buttons.

Serving as best man was Bill Laughlin of Bloomfield Township. Ushers were the bride's brother George DeVos, Dennis Dreher, the bride's cousin of Detroit, and Michael Manore, cousin of the bridegroom, of Livonia.

A reception followed at the B.P.O. Elks Hall in Royal Oak for which the bride's mother wore a royal blue taffeta sheath with matching coat, shoes and purse. Mother of the bridegroom had a turquoise sheath of silk organza. Both wore white orchid corsages.

For traveling, the new Mrs. Landry chose a mustard gold sheath suit with half sleeves and short top with brown accessories, and a white orchid corsage.

Sarah Boales Is Engaged to Thomas Persing

Mr. and Mrs. William Gunn Boales of Edgemere Road, Grosse Pointe Farms, announce the engagement of their daughter Sarah to Thomas A. Persing of Pontiac and Oxford. The prospective bridegroom's parents are the Raymond P. Persings of Battle Creek.

The Perfect Gift

"Bath money" used to be a popular shower gift for prospective brides in Turkey — the country where the steam bath originated. Turkish brides considered cleanliness just as important as a bridal costume.

Teens All for Study-Now, Pay Later Plan

By EUGENE GILBERT
President, Gilbert Youth Research Co.

College is so important to you high school students that most of you would even dive into debt in order to attend.

For years it has been possible for some young people to study now and pay later by arranging loans from colleges or from affluent friends or family.

Now New York state has placed college within the economic reach of many more students by authorizing savings banks in the state to offer them loans. These are to be paid back after graduation.

Seventy-three per cent of a cross-country sampling of 951 young people loudly applauded the New York plan.

But, they hastened to add, teenagers do realize that for every debt there's a day of reckoning. They are not wild about ALL deferred payment programs. For example, fewer than half would like to have a credit card.

But a bank loan for something as important in today's world as college is another matter. Their young minds focus on the education and not on the debt.

READY TO SHOULDER DEBT

"The amount borrowed would be small compared to what it's giving you," in the opinion of Regina Ennis, 17, Macon, Ga.

But Ross Gibson, 18, La Vale, Md., demurs. "I don't think it is good because it means the boy or girl will be starting in life with a debt to pay."

Eighty-seven per cent of the teen-agers say they, personally, would be willing to borrow to go to college. Ronald Wolff, 18, Seattle, took the financial view. "This is an investment which pays the highest dividends."

Mike Saunders, 16, Lynchburg, Va., vowed: "I would go to college under almost any reasonable conditions."

One of our surveys showed that 73 per cent of the country's young people have to go to college and 69 per cent intend to pay part of the high cost of a higher education.

Now 87 per cent tell us they think teen-agers should share the costs — which may run as high as $2,000 or even $3,000 a year.

Matthew Shedd, 17, Norwalk, Conn., said, "The parents have had it hard enough supporting us for 18 years." And Wayne Gilbertson, 18, Austin, Minn., feels "A person who is given a free ride won't appreciate it as much as someone else." But Thomas Ferrebee, 17, Keyser, W. Va., believes college is hard enough for the student without adding financial worries.

NOT GOOD RISKS

A young person's loan financing college would be paid back after he became a full-time wage earner. But what about a credit card in the hands of a teen-ager?

Our 951 young people took a long look at themselves and decided they really don't constitute a very good credit risk.

Nevertheless, 51 per cent of the girls and 33 per cent of the boys said they'd like to have a credit card.

"Sometimes I see articles I like, but do not always have money with me," explains Ione Handeland, 18, Austin, Minn.

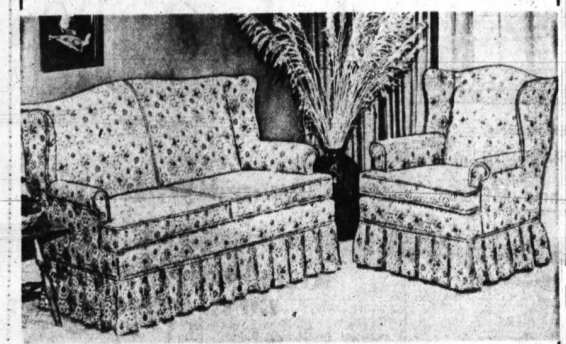

But Mike Hannontree says, "I'm afraid I would lose my head and go wild."

As Patty Greenwalt, 16, Annandale, Va., put it, "Without a credit card, if you don't have it, you can't spend it."

Molded Mint Cake Is Pink, Cool, Luscious

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Peppermint is such a cool flavor that it belongs to summer. This delicate refrigerator dessert should taste just right when the temperature soars.

Mrs. Orrie Adams is our cook today. A retired school teacher, she has been busy for most of the past year settling into a new home. Her hobbies are all kinds of embroidery and rug making.

PEPPERMINT REFRIGERATOR CAKE
By Mrs. Orrie Adams

½ pound peppermint stick candy
1½ cups whipping cream
⅓ cup milk
1½ teaspoons gelatine
1 tablespoon cold water
12 lady fingers or pieces of sponge cake

Crush candy and put in double boiler with milk. Let heat until candy dissolves. Soften gelatin in cold water and add to hot mixture. Chill until partially set, but not firm.

Whip cream and fold into peppermint mixture. Line a loaf pan with waxed paper and cover bottom with lady fingers or sponge cake.

Pour half of peppermint cream on top of cake. Add a second layer of cake and top with rest of gelatine. Chill until set. Loosen wax paper and slice to serve.

If desired, you may sprinkle chocolate shot on each layer of gelatine, or serve this cake with chocolate sauce. Serves 8.

Local Pair Repeats Vows in Grace Lutheran Rite

Honeymooning in New York and Northern Michigan are newly ls Mr. and Mrs. Willis Burton Sheffield Jr. who were wed Saturday afternoon at Grace Lutheran Church. Mums and gladioli decorated the altar where Rev. R. C. Stuckmeyer performed the marriage in the presence of 150 relatives and guests.

The new Mrs. Sheffield is the former Celia Murphy Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd D. Thompson of North Johnson Avenue. Parents of the bridegroom are the Senior Willis B. Sheffields of James Street.

The bride's gown was of embroidered nylon accented by a fitted bodice with a V neckline and short cap sleeves. The bouffant skirt featured many floor length tiers. A crown of pearlized flowers held her bouffant veil of pure silk illusion. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses and stephanotis centered with an orchid corsage.

ATTENDS SISTER

Martha Sue Thompson attended her sister as maid of honor and Audrey A. Thompson, the bride's sister-in-law of Columbus, Ohio, served as bridesmaid. Both attendants were gowned identically in aqua georgette. Their dresses featured soft draped bodices, V-necklines, and bouffant skirts with matching belts.

Attending the bridegroom were Joe Dabbs, as best man and John Sheffield, brother, as usher.

James Street was the scene for the lawn reception following the wedding. Mrs. Thompson was dressed in pale blue silk with white accessories and a red rose corsage. A navy blue dress of crepe with rasoberry colored accessories and a pink rose corsage was the bridegroom's mother's choice for the event.

The bride wore a two-piece black and white dress with white accessories and the orchid corsage from her bridal bouquet for traveling.

Check This, Coeds

"For busy school girls, washable garments are the most satisfactory choice for the greater portion of their wardrobes." So says Miss Belle Pollard, supervisor of home economics in the St. Louis public schools.

'Hair, Hair' Now

Just because your hair may be dry is no excuse for playing hooky from shampooing. Any hair—dry or oily—is exposed to atmospheric soil and needs to be shampooed once a week for cleanliness and beauty.

In case of dryness, lubricate your scalp with a pre-shampoo hot-oil treatment every week or two.

Skim Over Shoes

Many of the shoe-like summer slippers can go into the washer safely. If you're not sure about machine-washability, go over the shoe surface with very stiff "dry" soap or detergent suds, skimmed off the top so as to use a minimum of water. Then wipe with a clean damp cloth.

Special Guest Outlines Aims of the TBPA

T. H. Robey of Surbiton, Surrey, England, was a special guest at Tuesday's meeting of the Transatlantic Brides and Parents Association meeting in the Troy Township home of Mrs. Dennis Hewitt.

Mr. Robey, general secretary (overseas) of the association, told of his experiences in traveling to the United States and outlined the purposes and rulings of the TBPA.

Other guests were Brenda Branscombe of London, England, and Mrs. James Rogers of Royal Oak, Mr. Robey's daughter.

Following the meeting, refreshments were served by the hostess and Mrs. Dean Humphsire who made a cake decorated with stars and stripes and the Union Jack in honor of Mr. Robey's visit.

The group concluded by singing songs popular in the British Isles.

Abby Says: Don't Be Used

You're Playing Hanky-Panky

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: There is a woman who works where I work. She seems okay, but is sort of nervy. Almost every afternoon during our 2 o'clock break, she asks me to stand by the telephone while she dials a number, and then she has me ask for "Frank." Now I don't know what this is all about, and don't ask any questions because I figure it's none of my business.

It happened to mention it to my wife, and she said I should tell this woman to ask for Frank herself. I don't want to make an enemy, and it's no big deal to do this small favor for a co-worker. Do you see anything wrong with it?

JERRY

ABBY

DEAR JERRY: I see the same thing wrong with it your wife sees. You are being used. It looks like a case of hanky-panky with Frankie.

DEAR ABBY: I am 15 and my boy friend is 16. We are very much in love, Abby, I would do anything for him, but I don't want to get into trouble. Why don't parents let us teen-agers get married and help us get started so we won't get into trouble? It's not only bad girls who get into trouble. Sometimes a girl is really in love. Please help us.

DEEPLY IN LOVE

DEAR IN LOVE: You suggest that parents should "help" children by letting them marry as soon as they are biologically mature, so they may fulfill their physical urges freely. There is much more to marriage.

"Emotional" maturity is the first qualification. An emotionally mature person can handle life's problems and support himself. Don't mistake your first romantic impulses for a love that will endure a lifetime. Learn something about your "emotions" and how to control them before you consider marriage.

DEAR ABBY: I am a young woman in my early twenties, unmarried, and living with my parents. I have a job, but earn a very meager salary. I also pay my mother for my room and board.

My problem is that last year I received nine baby announcements from my girl friends. Many of them repeats from the year before. And many of them are expecting again this year.

I want to know if I am obliged to acknowledge each announcement with a gift. I enjoy buying gifts, but it cuts my finances so badly it hurts.

PUZZLED

DEAR PUZZLED: If you can't afford a gift, acknowledge the announcement with a card.

VEGETABLE VARIETY — These two dishes have been tested in a national test kitchen. At the top is Cauliflower Salad, Neapolitan Style; at the bottom is Zucchini in Skillet. Both are interesting ways of serving seasonal foods.

Keep Meals Interesting With Seasonal Foods

Vegetable variety is one of the hardest jobs a homemaker faces when planning family meals. All too often we just open a package of frozen vegetables, or a canned vegetable, or we cook fresh vegetables in boiling salted water and let it go at that.

With the good fresh vegetables available now, we suggest that you try a new vegetable dish. Two suggestions from a national test kitchen are given here. One is for a Neapolitan Salad made with cooked and marinated cauliflowerets; the other is for Zucchini in Skillet which consists of zucchini slices cooked in a savory tomato mixture.

Salad Neapolitan Style

1 medium cauliflower (2 to 3 lbs.)
2 tablespoons corn oil
1 tablespoon wine vinegar
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon white pepper
6 anchovy fillets, cut in 1-inch strips
1 tablespoon capers
12 black olives, cut up

Separate cauliflower into small flowerets to wash. Add to salted boiling water. Simmer 10 minutes. Drain. Rinse in cold water and place in salad bowl. Add oil, vinegar, salt and pepper. Marinate at least one hour in refrigerator. Add anchovies and capers and toss. Garnish with black olives. Makes 6 servings.

Zucchini in Skillet

4 medium zucchini (about 1 lb.)
1 small onion, sliced
2 tablespoons corn oil
2 fresh tomatoes, peeled and cut up
1 tablespoon chopped pimiento
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon pepper
1 bay leaf
½ teaspoon dried, crushed basil leaves

Wash zucchini and cut into 1-inch slices (makes about 4 cups). Heat corn oil in a medium skillet, add onion and cook until lightly browned. Add tomatoes and pimiento. Cover and cook 5 minutes. Add salt, pepper, and zucchini. Cover and simmer 20 minutes or until zucchini are tender. Add bay leaf and basil leaves and cook 5 minutes longer. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Serve Nectarine Dessert Warm

Juicy fresh nectarines sliced over dry cereal give a refreshing start to a summer's day. But for an evening dish, "Nectarine Crisp" puts the golden nectarines and crushed wheat flakes to work in much fancier fashion. The result is an unusual dessert further flavored with lemon, honey and nutmeg. Serve it warm with cream on top as a delightful dinner finale.

Nectarine Crisp

3 cups sliced fresh nectarines
2½ tablespoons honey
½ teaspoon grated lemon rind
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 cup slightly crushed wheat flakes
1 tablespoon sugar
½ teaspoon nutmeg
1 tablespoon melted butter or margarine
Whipped cream or dairy sour cream

Spoon nectarines into 8-inch pie plate. Drizzle with honey and sprinkle with lemon rind and juice. Blend wheat flakes, sugar, nutmeg, and melted butter. Spoon crumbs over fruit. Bake in moderately hot oven (357 degrees F.) for 15 to 20 minutes. Serve warm, with whipped cream or sour cream. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Team Up Well

For a different snack or appetizer, serve Deviled Spread on crackers. It's easy to make: simply mix ham; season with ½ teaspoon butter with a small can deviled ham; ½ cup smooth or crunchy peanut, celery salt.

HAMBURGER FANCY: — Shape ground beef sausage-style; dip in butter and fry. Call the result 'kromeskis' and serve in frankfurter buns with trimmings.

Hamburger in New Form French Fried for Rolls

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Even cooks who insist their families like nothing better than "just plain meat and potatoes" perk up their ears, we notice, when a new way of serving ground beef is mentioned.

So here, ladies, is something to try with hamburger meat.

The first thing that attracted us about the recipe was the name: kromeski. You can spell the word kromesky, if you like, and believe it or not it's in Webster. There a kromeski is defined as "a kind of croquette wrapped in bacon or cow's udder, dipped in batter, and fried." We wrap our kromeskis in bacon!

The friend who gave us this recipe tells us that her freezer always holds a small tray of kromeskis ready to be dipped and fried. Her youngsters consider them very partyish, and she serves them in frankfurter rolls, plain or toasted, with go-alongs of sliced tomato, onion rings, and bread-and-butter pickles.

Kromeskis

2 pounds ground chuck beef
2 eggs
2 slices thick-size slices bread (each ½-inch thick)
2 teaspoons salt
½ teaspoon pepper
2 tablespoons catsup
½ to 1 teaspoonful aromatic bitters
12 slices bacon
Batter

Mix the meat and eggs. Soak the bread (including the crusts) in water and squeeze out the moisture. Add the bread to the meat mixture along with the salt, pepper, catsup, and aromatic bitters. Mix lightly but thoroughly.

Form into 12 sausage-shaped patties. Wrap a slice of bacon around each. Heat ½ cup shortening (or more) in a heavy skillet on top of the range or in an electric skillet set at 375 degrees.

Dip the kromeskis in batter and fry in the hot fat about 8 minutes, turning to brown on all sides, or until the meat is cooked through. This can be done in two lots, adding more shortening as needed.

To Prepare Batter: Beat together 1 large egg, 6 tablespoons milk and 3 tablespoons flour until smooth.

Melon Added to Chicken Dish

Broiler-fryer chickens are highs on the list of plentiful foods. Also, cantaloupes from San Joaquin Valley in California are in good supply. So let's combine these two foods into a very special dish cooked in the California style:

Chicken San Joaquin
(6 Servings)

1 California cantaloupe
1 (2½-pound) frying chicken
Salt and Pepper
Flour
2 to 3 tablespoons oil
1 large white onion
1 green pepper
2 tablespoons cornstarch
½ cup soy sauce
3 tablespoons vinegar
½ teaspoon salt
1 to 2 teaspoons sugar
2 medium tomatoes
Cooked rice

Cut cantaloupe in half and remove seeds. Using a French ball cutter, make 3 cups of melon balls. Scrape out remaining pulp, press through sieve and add enough water to make 2 cups liquid.

Disjoint fryer. Season with salt and pepper; dredge with flour; brown in hot oil in large skillet. Cover, and cook over low heat until tender, about 30 to 45 minutes. Remove and keep hot.

Quarter onion and cut green pepper in strips. Add to skillet and cook until onion is transparent. Combine cornstarch with soy sauce, vinegar, salt and 2 cup reserved cantaloupe pulp and water. Add to the onion and green pepper. Cook, stirring until thickened and clear.

Add tomatoes, cut in wedges, and cantaloupe balls. Heat 3 minutes longer. Serve at once over chicken on bed of fluffy rice.

Tomato Holds Sauce.

Hollow an enormous Beefsteak tomato, then fill it with tartar sauce and surround it with mounds of French-fried shrimp. Arrange two round platters in this fashion and set one at each end of a buffet table on a fresh summer evening.

Tastes Wonderful on Green Salads

This salad dressing, given to us by a fine California cook, is widely acclaimed by her friends.

Sour Cream Dressing

1 cup commercial sour cream
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 teaspoon finely grated onion
2 tablespoons sugar
½ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
½ teaspoon each dry mustard and monosodium glutamate
¼ teaspoon whole dill seed
¼ teaspoon each garlic powder and pepper

Stir together the sour cream, lemon juice and onion. Mix remaining ingredients; stir into sour-cream mixture. Chill 30 minutes before serving to allow flavors to blend.

Slivers of green pepper will give that casserole of macaroni and cheese new and interesting flavor.

Parsley in Fried Potatoes Adds Color and Taste

Cut raw potatoes in thin cross-wise slices; slice an equal amount of onions, very thin. Fry in a generous amount of Spanish olive oil, chopping vegetables with a sharp knife as they cook. Sprinkle with paprika, salt and pepper. Cover. lower heat.

As vegetables get tender, add about 2 tablespoons of finely-minced parsley. A golden crust should form on bottom; fold this over omelet-like. Superb with hamburgers.

Needs Ventilation

Caution and good ventilation are needed when a charcoal grill is used indoors. Anita Dean, foods and nutrition specialist at Michigan State University, says a charcoal fire uses quite a bit of oxygen and asphyxiation could result.

Oldsters Eat Less but Need Protein

Despite the fact that many elderly persons tend to eat less food than they did in earlier years, most medical men and nutritionists point out that such persons need substantial amounts of protein daily.

Though the daily protein requirements of elderly patients vary from person to person — ranging from less to more than during earlier years of adult life — it is generally accepted fact that the optimal diet for many aged patients should provide at least 20% of its calories in the form of proteins.

Why is a high intake of protein so necessary? Because decreased activity tends to cause loss of body protein, and the preservation of protein-composed enzymes and hormones — essentials for maintaining the complex functioning of the body — requires adequate protein nutrition. And the aged person experiences no difficulty in digesting and utilizing protein food.

Its taste appeal and almost complete digestibility also make meat important in the nutrition of the senior citizen, the American Meat Institute points out.

Quick Supper Dish

For an easy-do supper, the working bride might serve Salmon Patties with creamed peas. Remove skin and bones from 1 7½-ounce can salmon; flake salmon in liquid. Add 12 soda crackers (crushed fine), 2 teaspoons instant minced onion, 1 egg and 1-3 cup evaporated milk. Mix well. Let stand 3-4 minutes. Shape into 4 balls. Melt 1¼ tablespoons butter over low heat in a skillet. Add salmon balls leaving space between as balls flatten into patties on cooking. Cook about 5 minutes on each side.

It's a Giveaway

Low calorie foods generally can be identified physically as thin, watery or dilute, bulky with fiber or coarseness, watery-crisp rather than greasy-crisp. Conversely, high calorie foods usually are thick, oily, greasy or slick, sticky, sweet and gooey.

PEARS AND TURNOVERS — This is a sweet ending to a pleasant meal — fresh whole Bartlett pears and little turnovers made with sharp cheese. Make up a batch of the turnovers, freeze some and you'll have them on hand for dessert any time. Bartlett pears will be in the stores from now until well into October.

Vienna has about one-fourth of Austria's population.

Cheese Pastries Go With Pears

Fresh Bartletts, ice-cold and juicy, are perfect with pastry . . . especially these little sugar-dusted turnovers filled with good sharp Cheddar. Pair pears with ice cream and frosty sherbet, with gingerbread and cake, with fruity sauces and sour cream. Or enjoy them in easygoing picnic lunches, in salads, in fruit cups . . . even in punch bowls. Treat your family often while these special Bartletts are in good supply.

Cheese-Stuffed Turnovers

2 sticks pie crust mix
1 cup sharp cheddar cheese
Powdered sugar

Follow package directions for making pastry; roll out thin and cut into 4-inch rounds. Mound cheese in center of each and moisten edges with cold water; fold over and seal edges with a fork. Bake at 425 degrees until turnovers are golden. Dust well with powdered sugar and serve warm or cold. Makes 6 turnovers.

Overloading Freezer Defeats Purpose

EAST LANSING — "A little at a time" is a guide for putting foods in the freezer, says Anita Dean, foods and nutrition specialist at Michigan State University. She suggests homemakers freeze only the number of packages which can be spread on the bottom of the freezer or against the walls.

There should be spaces between packages to allow circulation of air. If containers are packed tightly together in several layers, the center packages may freeze too slowly to keep food quality at its best.

Mrs. Dean adds that frozen foods should be stored at zero degrees, with as little change in temperature as possible.

Summer Pies Chilled Creations

Pontiac Press Home Editor

Fresh fruit pies are always a part of the summer scene—and rightly so, for they are as delicious a dessert as any cook could dream up. But there are other kinds of pie that are suitable for summer serving. Most of them call for chilling in the refrigerator. Some call for crusts made without baking. That's a nice cool idea.

Heavenly Chocolate is only for the skinny folk who don't have to count calories. You could cut the calories a little by substituting dessert topping mix for the whipped cream in the recipe. We know that's heresy, but we have to look out for all our readers (plus our own waistline). Any way you make it, you'll have a pie that's fit for the angels.

Heavenly Chocolate Pie

1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
¼ teaspoon salt, divided
½ cup shortening
2 or 4 tablespoons cold water
2 egg whites
½ teaspoon vinegar
½ teaspoon cinnamon, optional
½ cup sugar

Combine flour and ¼ teaspoon salt in mixing bowl. Cut in shortening until consistency of coarse meal. Sprinkle water, 1 tablespoon at a time, over mixture, tossing quickly and lightly with fork until dough is just moist enough to hold together.

Roll out pastry to fit a 9-inch pie plate. Fit pastry gently into plate. Prick generously with fork. Bake in a hot oven (450 degrees) 12 minutes, until golden brown.

Beat together egg whites, vinegar, cinnamon and remaining ¼ teaspoon salt until stiff but not dry. Gradually add sugar and beat until very stiff. Spread meringue over bottom and up sides of baked pastry shell. Bake in a slow oven (325 degrees) 15 to 18 minutes, until lightly browned. Cool. Fill with Chocolate Cream Filling.

Chocolate Cream Filling

1 6-ounce package (1 cup) semi-sweet chocolate morsels
2 egg yolks
¼ cup water
1 cup heavy cream
¼ cup sugar
½ teaspoon cinnamon

Melt semi-sweet chocolate morsels over hot (not boiling) water. Blend in egg yolks and water until smooth. Spread 3 tablespoons chocolate mixture over cooled meringue; chill remainder until it begins to thicken.

Beat together heavy cream, sugar and cinnamon until thick. Spread ½ whipped cream mixture over chocolate layer in pie shell. Fold chilled chocolate mixture into remaining whipped cream mixture. Spread over whipped cream in pie shell. Chill pie at least 4 hours before serving. Yield: One 9-inch pie.

Vanilla Coconut Chiffon Pie is a sumptuous airy creation that's full of good nutrition because it has a custard base made with eggs. Before serving, you top it with whipped cream and coconut toasted a delicate brown.

Vanilla Coconut Chiffon Pie

1 envelope unflavored gelatine
¼ cup cold water
4 eggs, separated
½ cup sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
1 cup angel flake coconut
2 teaspoons pure vanilla extract
Vanilla Whipped Cream
¼ teaspoon pure vanilla extract

Soften gelatine in cold water. Beat egg yolks in the top part of a double boiler. Gradually beat in ½ cup sugar. Cook over hot water (not boiling) until the consistency of honey. Stir in 2-3 cup of the coconut, softened gelatine and pure vanilla extract.

Beat egg whites until they stand in soft, stiff peaks into which beat the remaining ½ cup sugar. Fold into the egg yolk mixture. Pour into a cold baked pie shell or a 9-inch pie plate lined with vanilla wafers. Chill until firm and ready to serve. Top with Vanilla Whipped Cream.

Mix remaining ½ teaspoon vanilla with rest of coconut. Toast (350 degrees) 10 to 12 minutes or until browned. Sprinkle on top of pie. Yield: One 9-inch pie.

Ice Cream Basket Pie never sees the inside of an oven. You have to melt the chocolate morsels for the crust, but the rest of the preparation is done in the freezer. A nice feature of this summer pie is that you can vary the flavor of the ice cream filling every time you make it.

Ice Cream Basket Pie

1 6-ounce package (1 cup) semi-sweet chocolate morsels
2 tablespoons shortening
2 cups crisp rice cereal
½ cup chopped walnuts
1 quart ice cream

Fit a piece of aluminum foil inside a 9-inch pie plate, smoothing with fingers to make a liner. Trim off excess with scissors. Turn semi-sweet chocolate morsels into plate; add shortening. Heat in a moderate oven (350 degrees) 3 minutes.

Remove from oven; blend together morsels and shortening with back of teaspoon. Stir in crisp rice cereal and walnuts. Spread mixture over bottom and up sides of pie plate. Chill until set.

Invert pie plate and carefully peel foil from shell; slip into pie plate. Fill with scoops of ice cream. Cut into wedges and serve immediately. Yield: 1 9-inch pie.

Family Will Think It's a Carnival

Lure your family out to a backyard supper with a street fair sandwich stand. Set up a card table or a serving table under a big beach umbrella in the backyard, and you're ready to serve your family. To give the meal a real carnival air, serve ground beef, sauce between slices of crunchy French bread just as they do at the sidewalk concession stands.

Make your favorite ground beef spaghetti sauce and cook it to a thicker consistency than usual so it can be easily spooned on the bread, suggests the American Meat Institute. Slice long French bread almost all the way through, lengthwise. Spoon lots of ground beef sauce into the center, then cut the loaf into six-inch pieces to make "handful" sandwiches.

These street fair sandwiches are excellent to serve at a church or club bazaar, too. Make quantities of ground beef sauce in advance and keep it hot at the booth

Individual Trifles Made With Fruit and Wafers

Prepare instant pudding mix according to package directions. When pudding has set, spoon into individual sherbet or fruit dishes, making alternate layers with vanilla wafers and fruit. Many variations may be made by combining different flavors of pudding with any one or combinations of fresh or frozen fruit.

Try instant vanilla pudding with blueberries, peaches, strawberries or raspberries; instant coconut pudding with cherries, oranges or pineapple; or instant chocolate pudding with bananas or orange.

The teak tree belongs to the verbena plant family.

WHERE TWO DIED — Two men were killed and six injured when the wing of this instant coffee factory exploded in Granite City, Ill., Wednesday. More than 100 men worked for hours pulling away debris in an effort to reach those buried by the blast. The explosion wrecked about a fourth of the plant, located a few miles east of St. Louis, but a new larger portion was undamaged. Cause of the blast was not determined.

Coffee Factory Blast Kills 2

Rescue Crews Find Victims; 6 Injured as Wing Explodes

GRANITE CITY, Ill. (AP)—A wing of an instant coffee plant blew up Wednesday killing two men and injuring six.

Rescue crews uncovered the two victims early today.

Killed were Shelby Dotson, 22, and Victor Frisse, 57.

Only one of the injured men was in a serious condition.

The blast damaged a 2½-story brick building of the Nestle Co., Inc. Cause of the explosion hasn't been determined.

More than 100 men — many of them construction workers who were on strike — worked for hours clawing away debris to reach the buried men.

Large boiler-like percolators and drying equipment were housed in the damaged wing. The ground in the area was littered with coffee beans.

About a fourth of an old portion of the plant was wrecked. A new, larger portion was not damaged.

Normally only two men worked in the blast area, a plant spokesman said, but eight had been assigned there Wednesday.

New Jersey is the most densely populated state with 800.2 people a square mile. The lease dense, with one person to every 2½ square miles, is Alaska.

Ask Swainson to Save Detroiter From Prison

DETROIT (UP) — Some 3,000 persons in Detroit and Warren have signed petitions asking Gov. John B. Swainson to refuse to extradite a Mexican father of 10 to Texas to complete a 1924 prison term.

Ruben Sepulveda, 56, escaped from prison in Texas after serving six months for a morals violation. He came to Detroit, changed his original name of Lino Pedroza and married.

His past came to light last spring when he applied for U.S. citizenship and wrote for documents certifying his legal entry to the U.S. from Mexico.

Instead of receiving the documents, Supulveda was arrested on a Texas fugitive warrant. Friends began circulating the petitions asking the governor to refuse the extradition.

To Arraign Hijackers

EL PASO, Tex. (UPI) — Leon Bearden, 38, and his son Cody, 16, the father-son hijack team that tried to steal a $3-million jetliner to sell to Fidel Castro, were scheduled to be arraigned today in federal court.

Admits Setting Fires in Chicago Area

CHICAGO (UPI) — A 19-year-old college freshman today told police he set fire to a Baptist Church, a synagogue and a warehouse with "no malicious motive" and then volunteered to help firemen fight the blazes.

The fires, all near the youth's home in the past two weeks, caused at least $150,000 damage. Unofficial estimates run as high as $400,000.

Police Capt. John Kistner said Richard Friedman, son of a Chicago liquor dealer, admitted the fires after lie detector tests were inconclusive and the youth's father pleaded with him to "tell the truth and we'll stand by you."

Castro Has Only One of Four Hijacked Planes

By The Associated Press

The hijacking of a Pan American-World Airways jet Wednesday over Mexico was the fourth of a U.S. airliner since May 1, and the second this month. All the hijackers were bound for Cuba.

The list:

May 1: A National Airlines twin-engined Convair en route from Miami to Key West was hijacked and flown to Cuba. It carried 8 passengers, including the hijacker, and 3 crew members. The plane was allowed to return to the United States with all except the hijacker aboard.

July 24: An Eastern Air Lines Electra with 33 passengers including the hijacker, and 5 crew members, was hijacked on taking off from Miami for Tampa, New Orleans and Dallas, and was flown to Cuba. All passengers except the hijacker and all crewmen returned to the U.S. aboard another plane the next day. However, Cuba kept the Electra.

Aug. 3: A father-and-son team hijacked a Continental Airlines Boeing 707 jet bound from Los Angeles to Houston but they were captured at El Paso where the plane had landed for refueling. The plane carried 67 passengers, including the hijackers and a crew of 6. The father, Leon Beardon, 38, and his son, Cody 16, of Coolidge, Ariz., said they intended to take the plane to Cuba. They were held in $100,000 bail each on charges of kidnaping and transporting a stolen plane.

Aug. 9: A Pan American DC8 jet with 73 passengers and a crew of 9 was hijacked on a flight from Houston to Panama City and taken to Cuba—the first hijacked jet to land there. It was later returned to Miami with passengers and crew.

Convict 20, Free 10 in Mail Fraud Case

BISMARCK, N.D. (UP) — A federal district court jury convicted 20 men and acquitted 10 Wednesday in the 4½-month-old Lenders Service mail fraud case.

Those convicted included Peter J. Wangeberg, of Niles, Mich. Wangeberg, a salesman, was convicted on 28 counts.

The defendants were former officials, supervisory employes or field representatives of Lenders Service Co., Inc., of Little Rock, Ark.

Judge George S. Register set Sept. 26 for sentencing of the 20, all of whom are at liberty under bonds. The federal law involved provides a maximum penalty of up to five years imprisonment on each count upon conviction.

In all the 28-count convictions the jury recommended leniency.

The government accused the company and the individuals of using the mails in a scheme to defraud by misrepresenting the ability of Lenders Service to obtain loans for small businesses.

Sentenced in Assault

SAULT STE. MARIE (UP) — Leonard Earls, 21, of Sault Ste. Marie, Wednesday was sentenced to 1½-10 years in prison for assaulting a Canadian man, Martti Laurikainen, on July 10. Two youths charged, along with Earls, with assault with intent to rob, were placed on probation for two years.

Could Shows Be That Bad?

No Preseason TV Bragging

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

HOLLYWOOD — August is usually the month of the big promise in television — a time when producers, performers and press agents can hardly wait to uncork their winners for winter.

The TV writer generally winds up August with a notebook full of superlatives: predictions of sure-fire hit shows, great new stars, dynamic new concepts.

But for some reason—perhaps a combination of reasons—excitement about the approaching season is lacking this year. Press agents and producers are talking about their new products as reservedly as bankers discussing investments.

Last year at this time, young actor Clu Gulager was predicting self-confidently that his Billy the Kid role in "The Tall Man" would make him the nation's male sex symbol. This year when I asked various TV people to name future sex symbols, they looked at me with apprehension and tried to change the subject.

A year ago, new adventure series were described as "hard-hitting" and "action-packed." Their heroes were "straight-shooting" and "iron-fisted." This year's crop sound like public service and educational programs — to alert and inform the public about the evils of crime, organized and otherwise.

Scratch a producer these days and you'll find a man yearning to use TV drama for social commentary, and it's just a coincidence — this organized crime, racketeering and usury on the waterfront.

It may not be fair to judge until one has seen all the new shows but it is hard to believe that the forthcoming corp of new shows will be much of an improvement over last season's. In the first place, many of the action shows are faithfully following lines of successful series in other years, notably "Dragnet" and "The Untouchables."

A few comedy programs, however, sound promising, particularly the Gertrude Berg-Cedric Hardwicke series, the Dick Van Dyke show and Shirley Booth's "Hazel."

One thing for sure, constant criticism has banished the family comedy series in which daddy is a dope.

Cancer Society Collects Record $788,970 in State

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — A record total of $102,107 from Kent County raised the American Cancer Society's fund drive in Michigan to a record of $788,970, the society announced Wednesday.

Peter M. Wage (pronounced waygee) of Grand Rapids, president of the society's Michigan division, said the sum was collected by more than 35,000 volunteers in 80 counties.

Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties are in a separate division.

Given 5 Days in Jail for Hub Cap Theft

Two Pontiac men, who admitted stealing hub caps from a car in the Pontiac Motor Division parking lot the past month, were ordered to pay fines of $50 and serve 5 days each in the Oakland County Jail.

Municipal Judge Maurice E. Finnegan yesterday sentenced Richard H. Baden, 23, of 3304 Arcadia Park, Waterford Township, and Donald G. Tucker, 28, of 650 Second St.

Work has started on Europe's biggest birdhouse, a $525,000 addition to the Berlin Zoo that will accommodate 2,000 birds.

Soviet Subways to Be Shelters

Expert Believes Russia to Use Underground in Case of Attack

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A Russian-born defense expert said Wednesday there is evidence that Soviet officials have prepared the famous Moscow subways to shelter one to two million persons from nuclear attack.

Leon Goure, a senior staff member of the Rand Corp., testified before a House government operations subcommittee investigating civil defense. Officials of the Rand Corp., a private consulting firm that serves U.S. military agencies, have presented much of the information for the investigation.

Goure, who visited the Soviet Union last summer, said "the evidence leaves no doubt that Soviet Authorities are quite serious about civil defense."

"This is not a paper program, but it is far from complete," he said. Goure, a former Army counter-intelligence agent, said his information was from Soviet publications and similar sources.

Goure showed enlarged photographs of the ornate Moscow subways which he said showed evidence that doors already have been installed to seal off the tunnels as protection from outside radiation. He said the subways now extending about 45 miles, could shelter 20 to 40 per cent of the city's population and more if plans are carried out to build another 35 miles of underground rail facilities.

Goure said many shelters in public buildings and factories were stocked with food, but those built under apartment houses would have no food stocks.

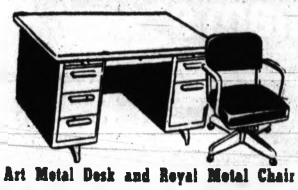

Dogs to Guard Schools

ATLANTA (UPI) — Police dogs will augment an around-the-clock guard of four Atlanta high schools to be integrated Aug. 30. Police Chief Herbert Jenkins said the trained dogs will be used at night as insurance against disorder of any kind.

Hint Walkout in 'Sympathy' Bid

Cuba May Leave Confab

PUNTA DEL ESTE, Uruguay (AP)—Cuba dropped a hint today it would walk out of the hemisphere economic conference, but it quickly took on the appearance of a maneuver to win Latin-American sympathy.

Ernesto (Che) Guevara, the Cuban economic boss, demanded to know whether Cuba would be given a role to play in the $20-billion alliance-for-progress program.

He demanded an answer at once but received none from the chairman of the commission which is studying a declaration to be adopted by this conference when it ends.

Guevara has captured much of the popular and headline attention during discussion of how to hold back threats of communism and Cuban Castroism in Latin America. He spent the morning hopping from one committee room to another. One delegate said, "He has been driving us crazy."

Guevara's words were taken as a veiled threat to stalk out of the conference. When he demanded to know if Cuba would be able to play a role, he snapped: "If it cannot, let it be said as of now."

Later Guevara was vague about his intentions.

Asked how he interpreted the lack of a reply from the commission chairman to his demand, he said, "I don't know, unless silence is interpreted as 'no'."

Traffic Mishaps for July in City at 184; Down 16

There were 184 traffic accidents in Pontiac during July, a drop from 200 the previous month, according to the Pontiac Police Department's month-end report.

One fatality in July boosted the city's traffic death toll to six persons. Five persons were killed in traffic accidents through July of 1960.

Thirty-five of the accidents involved injuries, while the other 149 involved only property damage.

The report showed 45 persons injured in traffic mishaps in July, down from 96 in June.

Through July, accidents this year totaled 1,433, down from 1,615 reported for the corresponding period of 1960.

GOP Moderates to Take Stock at Traverse City

State Sen. Farrell Roberts of Pontiac is one of a group of state Republican senators meeting in Traverse City next week.

Known as the "moderates," the senators will make an informal review of Michigan's political scene during their three-day meeting. The host will be Sen. William G. Milliken.

Others attending will be Sen. Stanley Thayer of Ann Arbor, Sen. Thomas Schweigert of Petoskey, Sen. Frederick Hilbert of Wayland, Sen. John Fitzgerald of Grand Ledge, Sen. Harry Litowich of Benton Harbor and Sen. John Stahlin of Bedding.

George Van Peursem, former speaker of the Michigan House and current Republican state chairman also will attend.

Dough-Like Substance Holds the House Down

A new substance holds many things in the household together. It's a kind of taffy that the manufacturer describes as "a tackless tack, a tapeless tape, a pasteless paste." You just knead the gripping dough and roll it into a small ball. Attach one side to any light object, the other to any clean, dry surface — wood, cement, tile, plastic, glass and the like.

It anchors scatter rugs, keeps loose glass table tops in place, seals out drafts from windows that won't completely close, keeps loose tiles in place, holds down bric-a-brac on shelves. (Eberhard Faber Pen and Pencil Co. Inc., Wilkes-Barre, Pa.).

Goldberg Faces Busy Schedule

Troubles at Met, Auto Wage Talks, Tour of Texas Share Attention

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Troubles of the Metropolitan Opera, prospects for an auto industry wage pact and a crowded Texas tour shared the attention of Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg today.

Goldberg intervened in a labor dispute which has led officials to cancel the Metropolitan Opera's 1961-62 season.

Before addressing the International Typographical Union in Dallas, the secretary held a news conference at which he predicted agreement this month on new United Auto Workers contracts without strikes.

He flew on to Austin for an afternoon visit with Texas Gov. Price Daniel and had a date to speak before the League of United Latin American Citizens tonight in San Antonio.

Goldberg said he was hopeful for new wage agreements in the auto industry.

"I'm not a prophet, but I'm reasonably confident they will make a peaceful settlement," he commented.

The secretary called for "a free, varied and widely owned press" in his speech at the ITU convention.

"We depend on a free press for the health of our society," he said. "One trouble has been the disappearance of many important newspapers which made such important contributions to our society."

Tigers Win but Get Very Little Help From Other AL Teams

Bengals Can't Gain as Yanks Keep Winning

Big 9th Inning Breaks Game Wide Open for Lary's 16th Win

CHICAGO (AP) — "It looks like we'll have to beat the Yankees ourselves," said Manager Bob Scheffing in expressing the frustration the Detroit Tigers feel after winning six of their last seven games.

The second-place Tigers bombed the Chicago White Sox 8-2 last night behind the five-hit pitching of Frank Lary and homers by Al Kaline and Rocky Colavito but it didn't gain them an inch on the league-leading Yanks. New York defeated Los Angeles 2-0.

Detroit remained three games off the pace in the pennant chase.

"This club isn't going to quit," Scheffing said after the game. "If the Yanks falter even a little, we'll give them a run for their money."

The Tigers face the tough task of staying close enough to the Yankees to force a pennant showdown when the two teams meet in seven games in September.

Last night's performance indicated they might do just that.

Kaline boomed a 420-foot home run into the centerfield bullpen to break an eighth inning tie.

Aided by six walks in the ninth the Tigers scored five more times to insure the triumph.

"If I can just keep from reaching into the bull pen, it's going to be a big help," said Scheffing.

"If the New York Yankees falter, we're going to be right there on their back — but everytime we win they win," he added. "I don't see much chance of them faltering."

The Tigers, who have won 11 of their last 18 starts, knew they had to keep the win-for-a-win chain going against the Sox.

The Tiger ninth was a White Sox debacle.

Don Larsen issued three walks in a row before being yanked. Turk Lown forced in a run with a walk and filled the bases with another; and Russ Kemmerer walked Lary before getting the side out.

Norm Cash, ex-Sox and leading the AL in batting with a .362 mark, singled in two runs off Lown and Mike Roarke did the same. It was Cash's only hit of the night, and he now has hit safely in 17 of his last 19 games.

Kaline raised his batting ante to 31 hits in a six-game streak with three blows, including his homer.

Colavito's was his 31st of the campaign.

However, the most heartening phase was Lary's pitching.

One of the five hits off him was a homer by Jim Landis. Lary exceeded his production of last year by hurling his 16th victory against six losses, making it 3-0 over the Sox and getting his fourth decision in his last five outings.

Series in September May Determine Race

By The Associated Press

The way things are going in that American League race, you can forget about it until Sept. 10. That's when the New York Yankees and Detroit Tigers next meet.

And if the Yankees keep going the way they are, Detroit can forget about it all.

The Yankees won their seventh in a row in an afternoon game by knocking off the Los Angeles Angels for the eighth time in eight tries at Yankee Stadium, 2-0 behind the four-hit pitching of Jim Coates.

You might say the Yankees are stumbling along successfully. There's been quite a bit of sweat in the streak. They've won five of the seven by no more than two runs. And four of the victories came in extra innings.

Among the also runs, Kansas City dropped third place Baltimore 12½ games behind New York by beating the Orioles 2-1, Cleveland defeated Washington 3-1 on Gary Bell's three-hitter and Boston beat Minnesota 5-4.

Ted Bowsfield (8-4) of the Angels held the Yankees hitless until Mickey Mantle led off the fifth inning with a single. The Mick came around on a single by Elston Howard and a sacrifice fly by Bill Skowron. Howard's hit gave him a tie with Cash for the AL batting lead at .362. Coates (8-3) gave up nothing but singles for his second consecutive four-hitter.

A single by Jim Rivera and Les Posada's double gave the A's the winning run in the seventh inning at Baltimore against Jack Fisher (5-11). Jerry Walker (5-8) checked his former mates on four singles, losing a shutout on an unearned run in the seventh in his first complete game of the season.

Bell (8-11) walked two and struck out eight while giving up a pair of singles and a first-inning home run by rookie Bud Zipfel. The Indians came from behind in the fourth, beating John Gabler (3-4) on Johnny Romano's two-run single.

Mike Fornieles saved it for the Red Sox, retiring Jose Valdivielso, Bill Tuttle and Ted Lepcio on five pitches in the ninth with two Twins on base and two in on Jim Lemon's homer. Gene Conley (6-10) won it, getting the edge on Frank Malzone's two-run double in the seventh. Jack Kralick (10-8) was the loser.

JFK Presents Regatta Cup to Thompson

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy presented a trophy yesterday to Charles Thompson Sr. of Detroit, winner of last year's President's Cup powerboat race.

"I have been interested all my life in boats, and it is therefore a great personal pleasure to award this cup to Mr. Thompson," Kennedy said as he handed over the gold cup.

The President's Cup Regatta is held on the Potomac River every September.

Edward R. Carr, president of the regatta association, gave the President a black and white yachtsman's cap with the regatta emblem on it. It was the emblem of a commodore.

"The rank is a little high," Kennedy quipped.

State Netters Faring Poorly

EAST LANSING (UPI) — Entries from the host state fared badly at the International Jaycees Tennis Tournament on the Michigan State University courts yesterday.

Only Sharon N. Prituls, 15, Detroit, was left in the running for the quarter-final matches today.

Tom Deur, Holland, entered in the boys (15 and under) bracket, lost a close match in third round play yesterday to William Shippey, Atlanta, Ga., 2-6, 6-3 and 9-7.

Miss Pritula won in the third round over Karen Mosier, Waterloo, Iowa, 6-1, 6-2.

Little Blonde Goes After Double Win in Swim Meet

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Carolyn House, a slight 15-year-old with strong ambitions, makes her first move for a prodigious double in the Women's National AAU Outdoor Swimming and Diving Championships today.

The 5-foot-4, 112-pound blonde from Los Angeles A.C. is favored to make good in the first half of the double but her chances are rated slim in the second half when she has to face peerless Chris Von Saltza.

Carolyn, who at first glance looks like she would need waterwings to help her across the pool, is the defender in the 1500 meter freestyle, only championship event of the opening day of the four-day program. Heats get under way at 4 p.m. (EST) and the event should wind up about 8 p.m. (EST). The winner is determined by fastest time in the 50 meter Kelly Pool.

The tireless schoolgirl won the 1500 meter crown by 24 seconds last year with an American record performance of 19:45.0, 49.8 seconds faster than the old mark. She'll probably better that mark today and most likely will have to in order to repel the challenges of Laurel Watson of the Santa Clara (Calif) S.C., Sharon Finneran of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., and Patsy Harrower of the Indianapolis Riviera Club, among others.

Carolyn's major test for glory comes up on Saturday when she opposes Miss Von Saltza in the 400 meter freestyle, one of the three individual freestyle titles Chris is defending.

It was in the 400 that Miss House earned her berth on the 1960 Olympic team. She finished second in the trials with a sparkling 4:55.1 as the stylish Chris set her world record of 4:44.5. Miss Von Saltza went on to win the Olympic gold medal while Carolyn just failed by a shade to qualify for the final at Rome.

But in the National Indoor AAU 500 yard final last April Carolyn made a race of it by taking second with a 5:38.0 to Chris' 5:34.5. Since then both have been piling up practice mileage for the current outdoor meet, which marks Miss Von Saltza's farewell to championship competition in the United States.

WEEKEND RACES — This will be the scene at the Waterford Hills Course at Oakland County Sportsmen's Club where the Midsummer sports car races will be held Saturday and Sunday of this week. A large field of entries from the Midwest and Canada will take part in the races. Most of the cars in this photo are MG's and Porsches. A couple new foreign make cars will make their debut in the races. Glen Baldwin of Birmingham will make a showing of the Lotus XVII and Bob Gubbins of Birmingham will race in the new GMS Deota an import from England.

KEEP TIGERS GOING — Detroit pitcher Frank Lary (left) and Al Kaline, who hit a tie-breaking home run, kept the Tigers from falling further behind the Yanks yesterday with an 8-2 victory over the Chicago White Sox. It was Lary's 16th victory.

State's Oldest Trot Scheduled Tonight

DETROIT (AP) — The Merchants and Manufacturers Trot, which dates back to before the turn of the century, will be run tonight with a field of 13 entries at Wolverine Harness Raceway.

Michigan's oldest and richest trotting stake, the M & M has a pot of $22,150.

The race first was run in the 1890s and lapsed in 1917. Wolverine reinstated the ancient race 11 years ago and it has been held ever since.

Tonight's M & M will be over the one-mile distance with two heats.

Webb Lone Lion Not in '61 Fold

Kenny Webb, a stubby ball carrier with bowl-'em-over running ability again is proving the toughest player for the Detroit Lions, front office to bring down.

General manager Edwin J. Anderson planned to tackle Webb once more today over the bargaining table. Webb is the lone Lion holdout one day before the club's National Football League exhibition debut.

Anderson finally managed to sign Sammy Williams, former Michigan State captain, yesterday. Now he's able to concentrate on bringing the tough-bargaining Webb into the fold.

Webb also was the last Lion to sign in 1960.

But at least this time Anderson has the advantage of meeting Webb face-to-face. The halfback reported to camp for opening day and has been working out — and sweating off his extra poundage — for two weeks.

Last year, when holdouts weren't permitted to practice, Webb stayed home at Atlanta and negotiated over the telephone.

Long distance wasn't very satisfactory and there were "I quit threats" coming from Georgia and "it's okay with us" replies coming from the training camp.

Webb finally arrived here and signed his contract. Anderson and Webb are confident they'll reach an agreement soon for this year.

On the practice field, coach George Wilson's squad has been concentrating on preparations for tomorrow night's pre-season game with the Cleveland Browns.

Wilson has been working his offense against Cleveland defensive patterns and sending the defense out to stop the Browns' attack.

The exhibition will be another in one of pro football's hottest feuds.

Last time the bitter rivals met was last January in the Playoff Bowl at Miami. The Lions won 17-16 when Night Train Lane blocked a last minute try for an extra point.

"We're going to throw the same plays at them that beat them last time," said Wilson. "Those are the ones we've been working on."

In yesterday's double drill, the Lions emphasized kickoffs and punt returns.

A crowd of 30,000 is expected to see the game in Tiger stadium. The Lions have won 78 and tied one of their 25 meetings with the Browns.

Twins' Manager Now Knows Why He Is Graying

BOSTON (AP) — A manager — any manager — hates losing. If there's one thing he hates worse, it's losing one-run games.

With that in mind, consider the plight of Sam Mele, freshman manager of the hapless Minnesota Twins. Gray-haired Sam is finding out why managers get gray.

His Twins have lost nine of their last 10 games. Seven count 'em — seven of those losses have been by one run. Still another was in extra innings.

"What do you say? A hit here, a hit there, a little better pitching in spots, we're going in good shape."

Midsummer Races at OCSC

Newest Foreign Cars to Debut This Weekend

Big Field of Drivers From Midwest, Canada Are Expected

The Midsummer Trophy Race, with one of its largest field of entries, will take place Saturday and Sunday at the Oakland County Sportsmen's Club.

Entries for the races on the Waterford Hills road course have been received from drivers in Michigan, Ohio and other Midwest states plus Quebec and Ontario.

The debut of two cars which never have been seen previously in this country will be made. The Lotus XVII, which belongs to Glen Baldwin of Birmingham and the GMS Deota owned by Bob Gubbins, also of Birmingham, will see action in their respective classes.

The Delta is an import from England. It incorporates many English Ford parts including the Anglia engine and features unit construction in steel and fiberglas.

The Lotus XVII was built especially for the factory team to race at LeMans, France. It is powered by a 750 CC Coventry Climax engine and weighs less than 700 pounds.

Racing club president Art Novak said, "We have drawn some of the best cars and drivers in the country for this race."

Among the local drivers entered are Bob Clift of Pontiac driving a Corvett, John Camp of Pontiac driving a Porsche and Dave Moothart of Pontiac driving an Austin-Healy.

Practice and time trials begin at 11:00 a.m. Racing starts at 1:00 p.m. Tickets can be purchased at the gate.

A total of 125 rookies made the rosters of 13 National Football League teams in 1960.

Hazel Park Course Has 2 Big Stables

Marion H. Van Berg, the most successful owner in the annals of the track, and colorful Vester R. (Tennessee) Wright, the national champion among trainers, are waging a spectacular duel for top honors in the current thoroughbred race meeting at the Hazel Park Race Course.

Post time at the friendly track, Dequindre and Ten Mile Roads, is 3:30 p.m. and 2 p.m. on Saturdays and holidays.

Van Berg, a 64-year-old Nebraska horseman, had a good season at the Detroit Race Course earlier this summer. Since that time, he has brought in approximately 20 head from Omaha to raise his stable to more than 50. This puts him on a level with Wright in the size of their stables, and the battle lines are sharply drawn.

Bye Bye Bird Says Bye Bye to Racing

CHICAGO (AP) — Six-year-old Bye Bye Bird, whose earnings of $54,257 since 1957 are an all time high for harness racing, has been retired to stud.

Since he started racing in 1957, Bye Bye Bird has been first 50 times, second 24 and third nine in 101 starts. He has won 19 races worth $40,000 or more.

Pontiac Track Ace Back From Europe

'Aloof Feeling Toward U.S.' Says Jones

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor Pontiac Press

The warm-heartedness which American track stars encountered during their trip to Europe in 1958 has diminished to a feeling of aloofness in 1961.

This is the reaction Pontiac track ace Hayes Jones got during the recent tour he made with the U.S. team for the competition held in Russia, Poland, Germany and Great Britain.

"Only in Stuttgart, West Germany, did we feel wanted. The people there showed great enthusiasm over the visit of the Americans," Jones said, "it definitely was the highlight of our tour."

"The one thing of which I feel certain, is that the Russians will never get West Germany on their side, the people there love freedom too much. The Russians would have to take it away from them by force," he added.

The warm-hearted attitude of which Jones made mention was primarily directed at Poland.

"In 1958 the people of Poland opened their hearts out to the American track team. This year one could feel the difference.

"It's not that they have become anti-American, it's because the Poles seem to have the fear that everyone is listening to what they say and that every conversation is being checked," he explained.

"In Russia, the space achievements definitely have had a bearing on the attitude of people in regard to beating the Americans in everything.

"You could see it on the Russian faces when their athletes got beat. If a Russian passed up an American in a track event, the people went crazy. If the American pulled by they got very quiet."

"In 1958 the Russian spoke more freely in regard to domestic life and financial problems. Today they seem to have gone backwards domestically, and have accepted, or have been brain washed, that their military power and their space accomplishments are the ultimate standards for success," Hayes continued.

"He made reference to a librarian he met in 1958 and had seen again on his recent visit. "She is making about 90 dollars a month, the same as she did three years ago and has become very hush-hush in respect to making an issue of this. She even implied that while the Russian's domestic life is going backward, the thoughts of success are in a military way."

The hero all over Europe is Yuri Gagarin, the first spaceman. "He's a god in Russia. The people of Poland laid down the red rug for him. Even in Great Britain he was received with a tremendous welcome," Jones pointed out.

Strangely, Jones felt that the Americans were most poorly received in Great Britain.

"There seemed to be such a superior attitude in London. They made great issue in big print if an Englishman defeated an American, especially if he was a Negro," Jones said.

"The attitude seemed to be—What's the matter Yank, are the Russians taking that superiority away from you?"

Jones said he would make the 1964 Olympic games his goal. "I'm not going to make any more such tours," he noted, "the strain and travel are too great. We were constantly pressured in regard to behavior and our activities."

Jones said that the American track team was badly disheartened with the news that Martin Lauer, world record holder in the low hurdles, faced the possibility of losing his leg.

"He is in a Munich hospital and an infection may cost him his leg. The team all signed a card and sent it to him. It would be terrible if this happened," he said.

In regard to his feats on the track, Jones won the hurdles in each of the four meets. His best time was 13.8 in Russia.

He also captained the U.S. 440-meter relay team which set the world record in a time of 44.3 seconds.

Hour Long Water Ski Show at Metro Beach

An hour long water ski show will be held at Metropolitan Beach Friday night starting at 8:30 p.m.

The show will feature trick and pyramid acts, barefoot skiing, slalom events, clown acts and a jump through flames on the water. There is no charge except the usual 50-cent parking fee.

While pitching for the New York Yankees, Charley Ruffing won 20 or more games in four straight seasons — 1936 through 1939.

Commerce Bill Approved

City Medal Play Tourney This Weekend

The annual Men's City Medal Play Golf Championship will be played over a 36-hole route this weekend at Pontiac Municipal golf course.

Eight past champions are among the 35 golfers who will step to the first tee at 12 o'clock noon on Saturday and Sunday in quest of the city's highest golfing honor.

Leading the parade of local talent is defending champion Mike Andonian, who is shooting for his third consecutive city championship and sixth overall.

Andonian will be seeking a record number of city titles. No one has won six crowns since the city series began in 1926.

Other former champs in the star-studded field include four-time winner Glenn Harding, Ron Rothbarth, Paul Bada, Faunce Fowler, Ed Wasik, Butler Cooper and three-time victor Cliff (Kip) Inman.

There will be plenty of excellent competition from some standout players who have never won the championship.

Among this group are Bob Hausman, twice qualifying medalist; Bob Gaines, the Pontiac Police sergeant who won the qualifying medal last Saturday; Bill (Buster) Pembroke, who has qualified for next week's Michigan Open tournament at Farmington, and Joe Burgdorf, to mention just a few.

Eighteen holes are scheduled each day. Saturday's first-round pairings will be announced tomorrow. New pairings and starting times are scheduled for Sunday's final round.

Par at the Municipal course is 34-35—69.

City Softball Playoffs Go to Double-Knockout Limit

The International and Continental City League softball playoffs were forced to the double-elimination limit last night when teams from the loser's bracket triumphed in all four divisions at Beaudette and Northside parks.

Jim Smith outpitched Norm Tick to feature Motorcar Transport's 2-1 victory over Dixie Bar in the finals of the International loop's upper bracket tournament.

Smith pitched five-hit ball and Tick allowed seven. A single by Chuck Cox in the bottom of the 7th inning delivered Curt Killaine from 2nd with the winning run after Killaine singled and stole 2nd base.

Auburn Bar collected 14 hits, featuring three apiece by Chet Kubiak and Dick Mayo, to defeat Boys Club, 8-4, in the International's lower bracket event.

Eugene Lund pitched a sparkling five-hit shutout as Big Bear Construction downed Sarko Investment, 7-0, in the Continental circuit's upper bracket tourney. Jerry Gatton made two of Big Bear's seven hits off Bill Pittman.

St. Paul Lutheran outscored Stadium Inn, 14-10, in a wild, free-wheeling playoff game in the Continental's lower bracket. St. Paul collected 10 safe blows and the losers chalked up 11. Stadium's Walt Poe led all batters with two doubles and a single.

Sarko and Big Bear collide for the Continental crown tonight at 7 o'clock on the Beaudette diamond, followed by the International title battle at 8:30 between Motorcar and Dixie.

Once-beaten Huron Bowl and undefeated 300 Lounge clash for the Class D title this evening at 7 at Northside. If a 2nd game is necessary, it will be played at 8:30.

The International and Continental loower bracket finals will be played next Monday night at Northside.

Jane Albert, the top-ranked 15-year-old junior miss in the International Jaycee Tennis Tournament at East Lansing, admits there is one person she hasn't been able to beat on the courts—her father, former football great Frankie Albert.

Drysdale's Revival Paces Dodgers to Top of Heap

By The Associated Press

It was little more than a month ago that the Los Angeles Dodgers were third in the National League race and one of their biggest flops was a guy named Don Drysdale. Now they're on top and one of the big men in the comeback is a guy named Don Drysdale.

On June 29 the tall right-hander, tabbed a 20-game winner almost every spring since he came up from the minors five years ago, had only a 5-5 record and the Dodgers were third, 2½ games behind Cincinnati.

In the past five weeks, Drysdale has won as many games as he did in the first 2½ months of the season—and the Dodgers have barged into a one-game lead over Cincinnati.

Drysdale looked like a young man in a hurry to get the job done Wednesday night, hitting his first major league grand slam, checking Milwaukee on four hits and striking out 11 for his 10th victory as the Dodgers walloped the Braves 5-3.

While Drysdale has won three in a row and five of his last six decisions, the Dodgers have won 17 of their last 20, and have rolled up an amazing 25-9 record since tumbling to third on June 29. In that same span, Cincinnati has a 23-16 record—which means the Reds have played seven games more than Los Angeles in that time, and have lost 'em all.

The Reds, after losing four of their last five, got back on the beam again against Philadelphia 5-0, for a 16-0 record against the Phils. That's one shy of the NL record for consecutive victories against one club in one season, set by Pittsburgh against the Reds in 1936.

San Francisco defeated the Chicago Cubs 6-5, on Matty Alou's ninth-inning homer, and St. Louis stopped Pittsburgh 4-0, on a grand slam by Julio Javier.

Drysdale (10-6) had trouble only from Joe Adcock, who drove in all of the Braves' runs with a pair of homers. The first tied it 1-all in the second inning, but Drysdale then broke it up with his bases-loaded shot—the 18th home run of his career and fourth of the year—off Don Nottebart (3-6). It was the first slam by a Dodger pitcher since Erv Palica connected for one back in 1950.

Duke Snider drove in two runs with a homer and a pair of singles for the Dodgers, running up a string of six consecutive hits before he popped up in the eighth. Right-hander Joey Jay (16-7) the NL's top winner, blanked the last place Phils on six hits for Philadelphia's 12th consecutive defeat, one short of the club record. Ello Chacon walked and scored the Reds' first run in the second inning off Don Ferrarese (2-9), and then belted his first major league homer in the fifth.

Playoffs Starting in Waterford Loop

Activity in the Waterford softball league is reaching a climax with Spencer's defeating Stroh's, 2-0, in the opening playoff game of the American League. In the other circuit, the National League, A&W plays its key game of the season tonight after knocking Lakeland out of the lead with a 6-5 victory last night.

Should A&W win, it will have clinched the title. A loss would force a tie with Lakeland. A single by Dick Kent and a triple by Bob Diamond decided yesterday's 8-inning contest.

A ground rule double by Harry Dearborn in the 6th inning accounted for Spencer's two runs while John Harrington pitching a 4-hitter.

B.F.Goodrich has the BIG EDGE in tires today!

More safe miles for your tire dollar

Other tires have narrow edges, as this diagram shows. Following tradition, the rubber is concentrated in the center ribs. But in today's driving, that's a "dead center," where tire action and tire wear are least. Look at your own tires, and you'll see the first signs of wear are on the outside edges.

BFG Silvertown has a radical new tread design—with up to twice as much rubber as other major-brand, first-line tires in the outside edges of the tread. That's where, B.F.Goodrich scientists discovered, today's tires work most, wear most. It's The Big Edge—and it means a big edge in safety and mileage for you!

Camera beneath amazing "glass highway" shows you close-up shot of tire in action. A highway paved with glass! B.F.Goodrich built one—to study tire action and wear under actual driving conditions! Thousands of pictures shot from beneath the highway show it's the outside edges of the tire that work most, wear most. (See above photo of turning tire. Note the severe distortion on outside edge, little action in center ribs.) That's why B.F.Goodrich put more rubber in the outside edges—The Big Edge—to bring you measurably more mileage than ever before!

SEE FOR YOURSELF WHY YOUR TIRE DOLLAR GOES FARTHER AT B.F.GOODRICH DEALERS!

Ask your B.F.Goodrich dealer to show you the revealing action photos filmed through the BFG glass highway. Find out how improved power and suspension systems in today's cars, and faster speeds on today's superhighways, now cause tires to wear fastest on the outside edges. Compare the BFG Silvertown Big Edge tread with any other tire at the same price. You'll see with your own eyes why the Silvertown gives you more safe miles for your hard-earned tire dollar. Don't buy any tire until you see the Big Edge demonstration at your B.F.Goodrich dealer's.

24-MONTH ROAD-HAZARD GUARANTEE.

Because of the high quality of workmanship and materials, new B.F.Goodrich passenger-car tires are guaranteed against blowouts, cuts, breaks caused by road hazards encountered in normal driving. If a tire is so damaged beyond repair, you get full allowance for remaining tread against the purchase of a replacement—at current retail list price. Your B.F.Goodrich dealer has complete details.

Post 5-4 Win Over Jets in City Baseball Showdown

Merchants Relax---Wait

The Pontiac Merchants will now sit back and relax for a few days while they wait for their final opponent to be determined in the annual battle for the City League baseball championship.

The Merchants grabbed a finals berth in the playoffs Wednesday night under the new lights at Jaycee Park when they scored a thrilling 5-4 triumph over the Jay Bee Jets to win the regular season crown.

An extra-inning struggle developed and the exciting contest came to an end in the bottom of the 9th inning when a collision in the outfield enabled the Merchants to tally the tie-breaking run.

But Thomason was perched on 2nd base with two men out after reaching first on an infield error and moving along on a sacrifice bunt.

Phil Rabaja hit a fly ball to left-center field. Outfielders Gene Cox and Louie Seay collided chasing the fly, the ball landed safely for a single and Thomason scampered home with the winning run.

Larry Demrick was the ill-fated losing pitcher. Demrick hurled the route for the Jets and gave up seven hits while striking out seven and walking five.

The winning pitcher was Terry Hoy, who relieved starter Jim Wagner in the 6th with runners on 1st and 2nd and nobody out. He retired the side without farther damage and hurled scoreless ball the rest of the way.

The Jets outhit the Merchants with Warren Stephens, Bob Green and John Long each socking two safeties to pace a 10-hit assault. Rabaja and Al Barkeley picked up two hits apiece for the Merchants.

The Jets jumped off to a 2-0 lead in the 1st stanza, but the Merchants retaliated with three runs in their half of the 1st. The Jets squared the count at 3-3 in the 2nd, fell into a 4-3 deficit in the 5th and evened the score again in the 6th to set the stage for the 8th-inning fireworks.

(3b) Local 804 and the Jets now meet in a best-of-three playoff with the winner fighting the three series for the city championship.

The Merchants and the Jets staged a nip-and-tuck race for the title during the regular season schedule and wound up in a tie for 1st place.

Yesterday's victory by the Merchants broke the deadlock and set up the playoff procedure.

Class E and Widgets

Auburn, Rockets in Finals

The Auburn Heights Boys Club in Class E and the Rockets in the Widget division advanced to the finals in their respective classes in the City Junior Baseball League playoffs yesterday.

Mike Ball collected three hits to lead an eight-hit attack as the Auburn Heights outfit defeated Moose Lodge, 8-4, to move into the title round.

Dean Rogden was the starting and losing pitcher. Denny Acker hurled the route for the winners and gave up eight safeties.

The Moose club faces Westside Kiwanis today with the winner going against Boys Club Sunday for the "E" crown.

A booming three-run homer by Harry Lawrence in the 6th inning was the margin of difference as the Kiwanis squad eliminated Dixie Dairy, 5-4. Chuck Owen was the winning hurler and Gene Morgan the loser.

The Rockets made it into the Widget finals with a hotly-contested 2-1 victory over the Tigers.

Chuck Johnson outpitched Don Hayward in a sparkling mound duel, Johnson was touched for only two hits while Hayward allowed four.

The Tigers meet Moose Lodge Friday with the winner qualifying to battle the Rockets Sunday for top honors.

A dazzling three-hit shutout by Chuck Williams and home runs by the Lee brothers featured the Moose team's 3-0 conquest of the Bears yesterday.

Jim Lee belted a two-run homer in the 1st inning and brother Barry whacked a solo homer in the 2nd to account for all Moose runs as the Bears were eliminated from the double-elimination event.

Salary Overdrawn $65,200

Willie Mays in Court Over Financial Muddle

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Willie Mays may be having a good year at the plate, but he's having a lousy year at the bank.

Mays' financial counselor said in court yesterday that the San Francisco Giants star was overdrawn $65,200 on his salary because of debts.

Edward F. Rosiny of New York, appearing at a financial hearing ordered in the separate maintenance suit filed by Mays' wife Marghuerite, said Mays has been drawing advances on his salary since 1957.

Rosiny said that Mays owes $8,042 in back taxes to the federal government and the states of California and New York, even though he made $105,582 last year.

None of the Mays family was in Superior Court Wednesday to hear the testimony. Rosiny testified over the objections of Philip Adams, a San Francisco attorney representing Mrs. Mays.

"I hoped to be his financial adviser," said Rosiny, "but it's turned out that I'm just a scorekeeper."

For several years, he testified, Mays has had to borrow on his following year's salary, and this year is no exception.

Rosiny said Mays retained him in 1957 when 10 suits were pending against him for indebtedness.

The New Yorker said that Mays' monthly salary this year has been shaved to $1,900 for the rest of this year because of advance loans on his salary.

Out of this he has been paying his wife $1,000 a month, Rosiny said, trying to maintain homes in San Francisco and New Rochelle, N.Y., and making payments on a Cadillac.

Judge Joseph Karesh continued the hearing to Aug. 18 and told Rosiny to prepare a complete account of Mays' current debts.

Bills Cut 3 Rookies

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — The Buffalo Bills of the American Football League cut three rookies from the squad Wednesday night.

Put on waivers were ends Ron Nietupski of Illinois and Bruno Raso of Slippery Rock, (Pa.) State Teachers College, and halfback Joe McCormick of Southern Illinois.

Grid Boycott Is Withdrawn

Colts - Steelers to Play in Roanoke for Charity Without Incident

ROANOKE, Va., (AP) — The segregated crowd at Saturday night's Baltimore Colt-Pittsburgh Steeler football game here will see Negro players in action, after all—because the game is a charity affair.

The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, concluding that the charitable aspect of the game outweighed other considerations, late Wednesday withdrew its request that 19 Negroes on the two National Football League teams boycott the contest.

Promptly thereafter, NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle gave the official go-ahead for the Negro players to compete, albeit reluctantly and with a warning that in the future he might not be so agreeable.

Both the NAACP and Rozelle obviously were influenced by the fact that charitable receipts of the game in Victory Stadium will be used to help both white and Negro sandlot teams in this area.

In a statement from New York, Rozelle said, however, that he hoped in "future seasons clubs of the National Football League will not play games to segregated audiences."

Rozelle's statement was made public by Don Kellett, executive vice president and general manager of the Colts, after a five-hour session here with members of the NAACP.

Labine in Wings' Fold

DETROIT (AP) Leo Labine, a Stanley Cup playoffs star, and Claude LaForge today signed their 1961-62 National Hockey League contracts with the Detroit Red Wings.

Roberts Is Due Back

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Philadelphia Phillies announced Wednesday night they would ask National League President Warren Giles for permission to remove right-hander Robin Roberts from the disabled list to the active player list, effective Friday.

To make room for Roberts, the Phillies will send pitcher Paul Brown to Buffalo of the International League on 24-hour option.

Boating

Don't Forget Cameras for Good Water Photos

Few recreational activities offer a greater variety of opportunities for camera fans than boating. The fascinating panorama of cloud and sky, water and wave, sleek boating rigs and a variety of activities all present unnumerable scenes to be captured on film.

Photography on the water poses problems that do not confront the camera fan ashore. Film and camera must be protected from water and spray and hot sunlight. Exposures must be altered to compensate for the greater reflection of light from the water.

Protection of camera equipment must come first when photographing on the water. It is best to use a camera that is easy to handle and load so it need not be opened unduly when on the water.

Spray will cause camera parts to corrode and if the spray is salt water, it can damage the lens. A leather carrying case provides some measure of protection, but it is also a good idea to wrap the entire camera in a plastic bag to keep it completely dry.

When taking pictures, use the leather carrying strap to keep your camera from falling in the water in case it should be dislodged from your hands.

Do not shoot into a stiff wind, as spray may get on the camera and even a drop of moisture on the lens can blur an otherwise good picture. You even get a bonus from a filter because it will protect the lens from water.

Camera and film should be kept in a cool, dry and shady place when not in use. Hot sun rays beating on the camera can cause the film to fog.

It is well to remember there is usually too much light rather than too little. Over-exposure is one of the most common difficulties in boating photography, for the water reflects and intensifies the sunlight.

If you don't use a light meter, you can compensate for the unusual brightness by closing the lens on stop more than you would under similar conditions on land.

On the water, the absence of light-absorbing surfaces leaves more ultra-violet in the light. To compensate for this it is best to use a cloud/filter (K-2) when taking black and white photos and a polarizing filter for color.

It will give more contrast between cloud and sky, sky and water and boats on the water. A filter used for color shots will help tone down the excess of blue that is common to color pictures taken on the water.

There is more to getting good boating pictures than exposure and filter, however. For one thing, you'll likely be shooting pictures of moving boats or from a moving boat. If you snap your photos from a moving boat stand free of the seats or sides of the boat with your feet spread and knees slightly flexed so you can "give" with the roll or motion of the boat.

Generally when taking pictures from a fast-moving boat you need a fairly fast lens, and shutter speed of 1/250th of a second is usually recommended for this kind of work.

Another important consideration is the background. All too often the amateur sees a beautiful picture in his view finder, but forgets that everything that shows up in the background will also show on the picture. Keep the background dramatic or uncluttered. If you shoot a picture of your boat, for instance, don't get it against a background of nurseries other boats or it won't stand out nearly so much as you'd like.

Then consider the horizon. Most boating pictures, whether taken from high or low angle, should show the horizon as level as possible so the picture won't make the boat look like it is running up or down hill.

Better effects may be obtained by shooting from a high or low vantage point rather than at the level of the boat you are photographing. High angles show occupants of the boat and its interior better, although the low angle pictures will produce more dramatic action of water and spray.

Following these simple suggestions will produce photographs which will be a joy to you and your family for years to come.

REGATTA CREW — The 45th annual Oakland County Boat Club Regatta takes at Sylvan Lake and Commodore (left) and his committee Homer and daughter have all the plans worked out for a successful regatta. Field Includes Local Entries for OCBC Event

Races to Be Held in 9 Classes for Runabouts and Hydros

The 45th annual Oakland County Boat Club Regatta, expecting one of the largest fields in several years, will be held Sunday at Sylvan Lake.

The large field will be supplemented by a host of local drivers who will enter the regatta which is sanctioned by the National Outboard Association.

The field of entries would even be larger than the expected 100 boats except for the fact that many of the drivers are preparing for the National Outboard races to be held the following weekend in Minnesota.

Races will be held in nine classes of two event. The Hydros will race in A, B, C, D and F and the Runabouts will race in A, B, C, and CI.

Trophies will go to winners in each class, with money prizes for heats.

The Regatta Ball will open the OCBC festivities Saturday night. Testing will begin at noon on Sunday with the races scheduled to start at 1:30 p.m.

Among the local drivers entered are Chuck Cartwright who will be racing in B, D and F hydro; Harry McCaphna of Lake Orion in A-hydro; Walt Schrieber of Lake Orion in B-runabout; Tim Butts of Orion in B-runabout and Mel Bowlick of Waterford in D-hydro.

Chairman for the 45th annual regatta is Homer Shingledecker.

Careful Check Good for Fuel Tank Life

Now would be a good time to check the inside of your fuel tank. Don't just give it a swishing motion and take a quick peek, but follow the Mercury outboard experts' advise and give it a careful inspection and cleaning.

If there are any traces of dirt or water in the tank, give it a good shaking to dislodge any clinging particles and dump it completely. Put in a pint or two of kerosene and flush it again. Then follow this by adding an ounce or two of commercial alcohol and sloshing it around the bottom. This will absorb any water which may have condensed in the tank.

After the cleaning, check the gasket on the tank's cap and go over the fuel line and priming bulb for signs of cracking or chafing. If they're worn, replace them rather than risk fuel failure.

Skiers at Oxford Lake

The Metropolitan Detroit Ski Council will turn to water skiing next Sunday afternoon. The council, primarily a snow skiing organization, will hold a water ski tournament for its members at Oxford Lake.

RARING TO GO — Chuck Cartwright of Pontiac is ready to tack his home-made souped-up motor on his F-hydro which he will race in the Oakland County Boat Club Regatta Sunday at Sylvan Lake. He will be trying out his new boat for the first time.

Annual 20-Mile Au Sable Race Set for Sunday

LUDINGTON (UPI)—The annual 20-mile Pere Marquette River canoe race, a prelude to the longer Au Sable race, will be held Sunday.

The entrants will be shooting for a first prize of $100.

In previous races the canoers have usually needed about two hours to navigate the tricky course along the winding Pere Marquette. The canoes will start from Scottville Park in nearby Scottville and finish at the Pere Marquette cross at the west end of Pere Marquette lake.

The Badlands area in South Dakota extends for about 5,200 square miles.

Enjoy More Boating Fun With Navigation Lights

Rigging an outboard with navigation lights for night operation can almost double the amount of use you get from it, Mercury outboard boating authorities say. And they stand behind their claim.

Here's why:

1. Lights will let you stay at the local fishing hotspot in the middle of the lake long after sunset, instead of hauling anchor and regretfully leaving for home in broad daylight, when the fish are biting fast.

2. Fish bite better at night! This proven fact, added to the bonus of no hot sun to broil the boater-angler, is enough to convince most anybody.

3. Water traffic slackens after sunset. If it's relaxation you want after a hectic day at the office, night boating is the answer. Have the wife make up a picnic supper, so you can pick up the family on the way home from work and eat supper aboard your boat. Follow that with a cruise in the cool of evening and all will agree, "This is the life!"

The key to night boating is knowledge of local waters, Mercury boaters advise. On daytime runs, note the size and general location of shoals and obstructions. Take sightings on highway bridges, large houses and other objects apt to be well lighted and readily spotted at night, and use them to steer clear of obstructions.

Memorize the location of unlighted obstructions, such as bathing floats and mooring buoys near channels. Some channel buoys are topped with reflectors while others are not. Observe which jetties and mooring entrances have identifying lights and which do not.

Then it won't be long until you find your way around on darkened waters like a veteran. Moderate speeds are best, however. Remember you are out to enjoy the cool and quiet of night boating. The thrills are better enjoyed in the daytime.

Boat Gas Consumption Checked by Auto Group

BY WM. TAYLOR McKEOWN
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. — Pleasure boating took one more step toward coming of age with a series of tests completed here.

Engine companies in the past have dropped pretty exuberant hints about how little gas their outboard or inboard power plants need. Now an end to some of these suspicious sea stories may be in sight.

Ten prominent makes of runabouts and small cruisers, each carrying standard equipment and a crew of two, performed before the intricate recording machines of the Marine Testing Division, National Association of Stock Car Racing.

The organization set up facilities to give impartial measurements of load and motor performance at its Daytona International Speedway.

Craft tested ranged from 17 to 22 feet in length and were built of smooth-planked or plywood or lapstrake wood, fiberglas or aluminum. Each was powered with one of the newly popular inboard-outboard Aquamatic drives and a stock 50 horsepower Volvo marine inboard engine. Boats varied in weight from 1,380 to 2,555.

"When the Daytona track was being built by NASCAR head Bill France, he had a hole scooped in the infield to supply fill for steep-banked turns. The excavation was made into a lake. The high turns around it help shelter the water.

A quarter-mile trap is surveyed off along the lake's surface and electric eyes installed to measure times to 1/100th of a second and speeds to 1/1000th of a mile per hour.

In an exclusive look at the first tests, we watched the boats being prepared and powered through their paces. Before certified runs took place, propeller expert Bud Graybill of the Michigan Wheel Company climbed aboard each craft, stop-watch in hand and clocked performance while test driver Jim Wynne ran the course several times.

Back to the pits for a prop change, and finally a propeller would be selected with pitch and diameter to give the best performance with that hull.

Mechanics installed a supersaccurate tachometer, gasoline temperature gauges and tapped an intricate fuel flow meter into the gasoline line. The tach was placed next to the driver and fuel flow meter and its gauges positioned so gas expert Wally Forest of Pure Oil laboratories could read consumption continuously.

With Wynne and Forest aboard and timers ready, each boat took north and south runs through the speed trap at 3,000, 3,500, 4,000 engine revolutions per minute, plus full throttle.

These showed the speed and gas mileage you would get at barely planing speed, easy cruise, fast cruise and all out.

A final run gave drag race acceleration through the quarter mile. A flag was dropped and the boat gunned up to full speed from a dead stop.

After each boat completed its runs, officials ran the timing figures through a calculating machine, recorded aid and water temperature and barometric pressure.

For all 16 boats, gas consumption at 3,000 rpm averaged only 2.14 gallons per hour and provided 18.9 miles per hour. At 3,500 rpm, they averaged 2.80 gph and 22.9 mph. The fast cruise 4,000 rpm was 3.49 gph and 27.4 mph, while full throttle clocked out at 5.25 gallons an hour and 31.6 miles.

An economy standard has been established.

Fries Wins at Watkins

After a short delay because of rain, the Watkins Lake Sailors had their Sunday races and Glen Fries scored a snipe victory with Fred Brede and Dave Green following in order.

Continuing under threatening weather, the thirties sailed and Don Zamoth took a big lead and held on to win ahead of Norm Ledwin and Karl Krietz.

Retired General Knows

Remembers Russians' Double-Dealing

By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK—Here . . . there . . . nowhere . . .

"My English colleague Gen. Sir Robert Hinde often told me in Berlin that the old days of diplomacy are dead, that diplomacy had been killed by the Russians," writes Gen. Frank L. Howley, ret., vice president of New York University and one-time commander of American forces in Berlin.

"We simply have to recognize that the whole concept of negotiation and dealing between nations has been changed.

"We simply have to stand by our principles, and negotiate in language which they understand. Sometimes it's better not to negotiate at all.

"I remember so well the almost constant negotiations among the British, French, Russians and Americans during my four and a half years in Berlin.

"We had many eye-opening experiences daily when confronted by Soviet double-dealing lies and machinations.

"In time we were driven to the conclusion that if we had to do business with these people we had to bear in mind constantly that they would break their agreements.

"The lesson holds true today. There's just no use making an agreement on the assumption that they'll stick by it. If we do, the chances are that we'll be stuck with it."

None of us will live to see a very thorough exploration of space.

Dr. Otto Struve, director of the National Radio Astronomy Observatory, remarked during a recent symposium sponsored by Joseph E. Seagram & Sons. "The number of stars in the observable part of the universe might be of the order of 10 to the power of 20 or possible 10 to the power of 22; which means a 1 with that number of zeroes attached to it.

"It is reasonable to say that the number of stars in the observable part of the universe approximates the number of grains of sand on all the beaches on the earth. . . .

"Very, very many stars in the Milky Way and in other galaxies must possess planets. . . . Now that the U.S. government is determined to advance the cause of science in America, I predict that within the next few years many planets associated with other stars will become known to us."

Ever hear of Kokura?

Except for a freakish change in the winds over Japan, just 16 years ago, it would have become a city the world would never forget.

Kokura was the primary target for the second atomic bomb.

One hour before its 150,000 people were destined to be devoured in atomic fire, blast and rays (the B29 had begun its preliminary bomb run) the wind changed and covered Kokura with the smoke from a nearby city the 20th Air Force had firebombed the night before.

The bomber droned over Kokura for 50 minutes, waiting for an opening in the smoke pall so that the bomb could be properly dropped.

Then it was discovered that 800 gallons of gas were trapped in a wing tank that could not be tapped. With misgivings the aircraft commander, Col. Sweeney, flew on to the secondary target—Nagasaki.

When the first U.S. Army troops went into surrendered Japan not many days later, they discovered that by sheer chance the Japanese had moved thousands of American POWs into Kokura in early August of 1945.

We would have killed them in the last minutes of the war, including the survivors of the Bataan Death March of three years before.

IUE Tiptoes Into Spotlight

Contract Ends Sept. 1; Union Claims Power to Shut GM in 30 Days

DETROIT (AP)—The United Auto Workers are in the spotlight, but a sister union bargaining with the auto industry also claims influence.

The International Electrical Workers Union, which represents 25,000 of the 325,000 hourly rated employes in General Motors plants, says it could close down GM auto assembly within 30 days by a strike.

Last week the IUE said it did not intend to continue working beyond Sept. 1 without a contract. Under a GM termination notice the current three-year pact ends then.

E. J. Kraft, chief of the IUE negotiating team, said Wednesday a walkout by his union "could close them down in 30 days." He noted the IUE represents employes in the Packard plant in Warren, Ohio, which makes all wire and electrical harness for GM, as well as workers in the Delco Division plant at Dayton, Ohio, which makes all GM shock absorbers.

Bargaining between the big three auto firms and the UAW was quiet.

Full-scale talks were to resume at Ford today after a one-day lull to allow union and company officials to go to St. Louis in an effort to end a two-week-old plant walkout.

They reported later that no progress had been made toward solving a production standards dispute.

Market Pattern Stays Irregular

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market's sideways progress through this week continued early this afternoon as prices alternately weakened, firmed, sagged and climbed.

Shortly thereafter, however, another one of the upswings set in, boosting prices a shade and leaving things pretty well mixed. The market opened higher but quickly lapsed into the irregular pattern which has prevailed over much of the week.

Key issues rose or fell fractions to about a point for the most part. Some of the glamour issues which soared this spring were back in the limelight after some fair-sized drops from April-May levels.

Analysts said many apparently had reached what are called "resistance" levels on their individual chart patterns.

Brunswick, for example, was up nearly 2 points. AMP rose over a point and Vendo around 2 points. Revlon added another 2 points or so to recent gains and Ronson was a fractional gainer.

Chrysler and Du Pont both rose around a point, but most blue chip issues moved only fractionally.

Steels maintained an upside edge, as did most motors, rubbers, mail order and retail firms, chemicals and drugs. Schering held a gain of well over a point and Merck rose nearly one in the last-named group despite news of a Federal Trade Commission investigation of industry pricing and advertising practices.

Litton spurted more than 2 in an otherwise quiet electronic section. United Aircraft cut an early loss among aircraft-missile stocks, while Boeing and Douglas were narrowly higher.

Grain Futures Trade Lags in Early Action

CHICAGO (AP) — Dealings in grain futures were draggy during the first several minutes of activity today on the board of trade and nearly all prices held within minimum fractions of previous closes.

Dealers said there was a fairly good mill demand for wheat, but that it was offset by hedge selling.

With the government's August crop report due to be released after the close of trading today, brokers said most of the trade probably would be toward evening up commitments against the possibility of any surprises in condition of the crops and probable yields.

Schoolboys Die in Plane Crash

34 British Youths, 5 Others Killed as Craft Goes Down in Norway

STAVANGER, Norway (AP) — Thirty-four British schoolboys en route to a holiday in Norway died Wednesday night in a chartered British airliner that crashed and burned on a Norwegian mountainside during a fierce coastal storm.

The others aboard the twin-engine Vickers Viking—two schoolmasters and three crewmen—died with them.

A helicopter pilot sighted the wreckage of the plane at dawn 15 miles from Stavanger, on a mountain in the rugged Ryfiyke Fiord area of Norway's southwest coast.

The plane hit about 30 feet below the top of the 1,870-foot mountain and apparently exploded on impact. One wing, virtually intact, was hurled 300 yards. The broken fuselage hung from the peak. Most of the bodies were scattered nearby, many of them badly mutilated.

PARENTS FRANTIC

The schoolboys, 13 to 16 years old, were all pupils at Lanfranc School in Croydon, a commuter town 12 miles south of London. Their frantic parents besieged London Airport Wednesday night, desperate for word of their children's fate. Their telephone numbers were taken and they were sent home.

Just after dawn a team of telephone operators began the calls that ended their vigil. Policemen also knocked at the doors of the homes, mostly of middle-class families, to tell what had happened.

The excited boys had crowded chattering aboard the Viking, owned by Cunard-Eagle Airlines Wednesday afternoon. Most had saved their pocket money for the week's holiday.

They were to stay in a youth hostel in Stavanger and then in a mountain chalet, hiking in the mountains, fishing for trout, playing badminton and swimming.

A bright idea for preventing war has just been proposed — merely convert the world to nudism . . . then there'd be no more fighting, because without uniforms, you couldn't tell who the enemy was . . . There was this sign on the back of one of those midget sports cars: "Don't Blow Your Horn. I'm Pedaling as Fast as I Can." — Earl Wilson.

'Peaceful' K Brandishes Threat of a 'Super' Bomb

By PRESTON GROVER

MOSCOW (AP) — Premier Khrushchev brandished the threat of a super-super-bomb five times more powerful than the average American hydrogen bomb Wednesday night but claimed once more he is a man of peace.

"We do not want war . . . only lunatics think of a war," the Soviet leader declared.

Khrushchev sounded his bomb warning in an impromptu speech at an otherwise gay reception for the Soviet Union's newest pinup boy—spaceman Gherman Titov.

"Scientists have suggested to the Soviet government that they can create a bomb equal to 100 million tons of TNT—only one bomb," Khrushchev declared.

Unless the prospects for peace improve, the premier continued, he will give the scientists the green light to build the bomb. He added that the Soviet Union could provide a rocket that would send such a big bomb aloft.

Khrushchev disclosed that he had given this warning to President Kennedy's chief disarmament negotiator, John J. McCloy, and to Italian Premier Amintore Fanfani in recent conferences.

(Western scientists said a bomb the size Khrushchev described would be easy enough to build but the military effect would not be worth the effort since existing hydrogen bombs are powerful enough to wipe out most cities at one strike.)

Khrushchev, who has boasted that his secret weapon is "my tongue," was alternately gay and grim at the gala Kremlin reception for the Soviet cosmonaut who circled the globe 17 times.

Poking fun at American spacemen, he commented, "nobody but the bolsheviks can reach the cosmos." With a wide grin, he added: "The Americans don't launch sputniks. They jump out and fall in the ocean. We are glad the American flier didn't drown."

The Soviet leader once more declared his determination to sign a peace treaty with East Germany that would give that Communist regime control over Western access to Berlin.

'NO THREATS'

"We believe there will be no war after this (treaty)," he said. "Only lunatics think of a war after a peace treaty. . . . We are not threatening anybody . . . if anyone attacks us we will consider it an act of suicide. We will destroy him by counterblows. We have spent money on rockets and bombs and they are not for cutting sausages."

He charged the West with making threatening moves against the Soviet Union and said, "Fools, what do you think you are doing?"

The reception for Titov got off to a breezy, informal start when the spaceman bulleted down a line of waiting diplomats, nodding right and left instead of shaking hands.

Khrushchev tried to overtake him but the 67-year-old premier was no match for the airman 41 years his junior. Khrushchev's wife made it to the end of the line in less than 30 seconds.

Khrushchev caught his star guest finally and led him back to the head of the line. Near the head they met Argentine Ambassador Cesar Barros Hurtado, who had been calling on Khrushchev when word came that Titov had landed after his space flight.

Khrushchev grabbed Hurtado and kissed him on each cheek. Titov, evidently thinking this was the custom, grabbed the ambassador and also kissed him.

For a moment it looked as if the whole line of diplomats was in for the cosmonaut's kisses, but Hurtado intervened with congratulations and the rest of the line got handshakes.

Eichmann Case Is Summed Up

Hausner Makes Plea for 'Just and Truthful' Verdict Against Nazi

JERUSALEM (AP) — Israeli Atty. Gen. Gideon Hausner ended the summation of his case against Adolf Eichmann today with a plea for a "just and truthful" verdict that the former Gestapo officer "acted willingly, lustfully and zestfully to the very end."

"Adolf Eichmann acted for the perpetration of these crimes with which he is charged in the most extreme and merciless way conceivable," Hausner told the three judges who will decide whether Eichmann bears major responsibility for the Nazi slaughter of six million Jews.

NO DEMAND

Hausner did not demand the death penalty—the maximum provided in Israeli law under which the Anglo-Saxon procedure operative in Israel's courts does not permit such a demand until the defendant is convicted.

Monday, Eichmann's West German defense counsel, Robert Servatius, will sum up his defense. He is expected to take only one day.

The court will then recess for the balance of the summer. It is expected to return its verdict in October.

Earlier today, Hausner had continued his review of the evidence against Eichmann and linked it with specific counts in the massive indictment.

Ike 'Excellent Driver,' Breezes Through Test

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower has passed his driver's test with flying colors.

"In my opinion he's an excellent driver," said State Police corporal Edward Gallagher who administered the tests to Eisenhower Wednesday.

Eisenhower passed both an oral examination and a road test at the State Police substation in Gettysburg to qualify for a Pennsylvania driver's license.

Gallagher said Eisenhower easily answered 10 questions relating to the state motor vehicle code and performed well behind the wheel.

Earlier, he passed a physical examination which is required of new driver applicants in Pennsylvania.

Durante's TV Show Big Disappointment

By FRED DANZIG

NEW YORK (UPI)—Weeks ago, I drew a big circle around Aug. 9 on my calendar. It marked the night that Jimmy Durante, Bob Hope and Garry Moore would surely bring some drought relief into TV's dry season.

Sad to say, my big circle turns out to signify a big nothing.

On paper, "The Jimmy Durante Show" had everything. The NBC-TV special had, besides the aforementioned stars, the wan beauty and crisp professionalism of Janice Rule.

It had a script fashioned by TV's cleverest writing crew, led by Goodman Ace and flanked by Selma Diamond. It had Norman Jewison as the producer-director. I associate him with some exceptionally stylish TV work, most notably "The Andy Williams Show" of two summers ago.

What went wrong? Just about everything, I think. Durante, Moore and Hope worked very hard, harder than I've ever seen them work before. They shook themselves up, danced, jumped, whirled and hopped around the stage. But the gags just laid there. I got the feeling that everyone assumed these three men could keep the laughs rolling merely by being together on stage. It didn't happen.

SCRIPT LACKING

As three supposedly average husbands headed for a weekend away from their wives, Durante, Hope and Moore filled time by laughing at each other's antics, tossing out ad libs that smacked of painstaking preparation, and going through a script that was lacking in bite, universality and freshness.

If this was a book show of sorts, the book reminded me of "The Rover Boys Go Swimming," or something equally bland.

The final moments of the hour, in which Durante danced with Miss Rule after some affectionate chit-chat, gave the show a quality of warmth and a gratifying sentimental Durante touch that, until then, was lacking.

Durante opened the show by saying it was "dedicated to uplifting the quality of television." Everyone threw in numerous references to Newton N. Minow, chairman of the FCC, who is concerned about the shortage of quality programming on TV.

Wednesday night's program proved again, I guess, that quality programing and star-studded specials aren't necessarily synonymous.

Name U.N. Day Heads

LANSING (UPI)—Mrs. Miriam A. Hewlett of Detroit and Dr. Samuel P. Hayes of Ann Arbor have been named cochairman of United Nations Day in Michigan Oct. 24. Mrs. Hewlett is with the Detroit Recorder's Court, and Dr. Hayes is a University of Michigan economics professor.

Gobel Has Confidence in Own Broadway Show

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — George Gobel's so confident of his first Broadway show, "Let It Ride," being a hit, that he and friends have invested $150,000 in it — and have regretfully returned checks from other would-be angels. George's now rehearsing his dances in the show at the Eugene O'Neill Theater. "Taking up dancing isn't exactly the shrewdest thing I've ever done," he confessed at the Harwyn at dinner. "I don't know whether I'm doing a cha-cha-cha, mambo or Dance of the Seven Veils."

WILSON

Groucho Marx was explaining, up in the Summit Hotel's Presidential Suite, his New York visit. "I was out in Brooklyn doing a TV show for NBC about the history of the automobile up to 1928," he said. "That includes the car I'm driving now."

Elsa Maxwell took a bad fall on the Lowell Guinness yacht at Monte Carlo and hit the deck with a loud thump. (The yacht is expected to recover) . . . Patty Clark, singer on the "Glenn Miller Time" TV show, doesn't speak like a New Yorker, as she comes from Fargo, N.D., and Chicago. She keeps telling people, "What I really want to be is a cow-girl." One man to whom she said this eagerly replied, "Oh, YEAH? Well, well, honey, what's your phone number?" Then she realized he thought she'd said "call" instead of "cow."

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Peggy Lee's been dating Jimmy Van Heusen in London . . . Paris headlines now confirm the item printed here that Jackie Kennedy's secret French coutourier is Guy Laroche. She's expected to wear Laroche creations very little in public now that the coutourier's name has been revealed.

Paul Anka's taking Johnny Carson with him to London to help tape a big TV show . . . Richard Rodgers is going to hide away in Maine for some song-writing.

EARL'S PEARLS: Carol Channing congratulated a merchant friend on the 25th anniversary of his going-out-of-business sale.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Jack Carter broke up an elevator by shouting: "Close that door and don't let anybody else in. This elevator doesn't stop until we get to Cuba." . . . That's earl, brother.

AYOLA

Columbia Envoy 'Uses' Hijack

Diplomat Urges Castro to Shake Red Ties in Surprise Trip to Cuba

MIAMI (UPI) — A Colombian diplomat used an unexpected trip to Havana aboard a hijacked airliner to urge Cuban Premier Fidel Castro to return his country "to its natural geographic and political orbit."

Dr. Julio Cesar Turbay Ayola, Colombian foreign minister, visited with Castro and Cuban Foreign Minister Raul Roa in Havana. Ayola was one of the passengers aboard a Pan American Airways jet hijacked Wednesday over Mexico and flown to Cuba.

"I told the prime minister that any time he and his regime would return to its natural geographic and political orbit, we would be ready to recognize its rights as a member of the Organization of American States," Ayola said.

Referring to Cuba's ties with Communist bloc nations, Ayola said he told Castro of Colombia's belief in "strengthening the faith of all American countries in the inter-American system. We oppose any extra-continental intervention."

There were about 115 million colds severe enough to require medical attention in the United States last year.

Will Put Guards on Planes

Castro Enemies Shoot, Kill 3, Hijacking Plane

HAVANA (AP)—Enemies of Fidel Castro attempted to hijack a Cuban airliner in flight Wednesday but a gun battle erupted and three persons were killed, including the pilot and one hijacker.

The copilot landed the plane in a sugarcane field 20 miles south of Havana and the other hijackers escaped. The incident was disclosed today by official Cuban sources. Havana radio reported one hijacker was a woman.

Six persons also were reported wounded.

Cuban sources promptly charged that the seizure was the work of counterrevolutionaries. The Communist party paper Hoy accused the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency of joining the plot to seize the government-owned plane.

At the time the aerial battle was under way, a Pan American World Airways jetliner was waiting at Havana Airport to be flown back to the United States after a young French extremist forced the pilot to bring it here from Mexico.

The Frenchman, Charles Cadon, who said he was angered at U.S. policies toward France in Algeria, is under arrest here.

CASTRO UNHAPPY

Prime Minister Castro was described as extremely unhappy about the situation, and Cadon's arrest was designed to erase any doubt that Castro's government had any part in the jetliner seizure.

The Cuban Foreign Ministry, in a note Aug. 4, urged the United States to join in working out measures to stop the growing number of hijackings. It also warned that American planes in Cuba would be treated just as Cuban planes have been treated in the United States, where several have been seized by court order to pay bills owed by the Cuban government.

Further evidence of counterrevolutionary activity in Cuba came this morning when a violent explosion rocked the nationalized Fin de Siglo department store in downtown Havana. Windows were shattered in an area of several blocks.

HIJACKERS FIRE

The twin-engine plane was heading for the Isle of Pines, off Cuba's south coast.

Five minutes after takeoff, the hijackers attempted to force their way into the pilot's cabin to take over the plane.

When the crew and two guards resisted, gunfire broke out. Authorities reported the hijackers fired first and one of the first shots killed the plane's captain, Luis Alvarez Regato.

The other dead were one of the military guards and one of the hijackers.

LANDED IN FIELD

Havana radio did not broadcast news of the incident until this morning.

While the gunfight went on in the main cabin and terrified passengers ducked for cover, the wounded copilot managed to land in a field. The landing gear and propellers were smashed.

As soon as the plane landed, the four or five remaining hijackers jumped out and escaped.

Four passengers were wounded.

The plane was making a regular flight.

Havana Holding Plane Hijacker

Albert Cadon, Was Protesting U.S. Handling of Algeria

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The federal government today filed a complaint charging airplane hijacker Albert Charles Cadon, 27, with crime on the high seas, assault with a dangerous weapon and assault with intent to commit a felony.

MIAMI (UPI) — The FBI said today it will charge a globetrotting graduate of European reform schools with crimes on the high seas for hijacking a Pan American World Airways jet plane and taking it to Cuban Premier Fidel Castro.

Castro, described as "mortified" over the seizure of the big DC8 on a flight over Mexico Wednesday, sent the plane and its 81 occupants back to the United States Wednesday night.

Left behind was the hijacker, Albert Charles Cadon, 27, an itinerant artist from Paris who said he hijacked the American passenger plane to protest Washington's "handling" of the Algerian crisis. He was placed under arrest at Havana by militiamen.

The FBI said Cadon, born in France, had worked as a restaurant employe in New York City recently. The agency said the man's wife Charlotte, told federal agents Cadon had been committed to Bellevue Hospital for mental observation last fall and later released. He had a quarrel with his wife in New York last week and told her he was going to Mexico on a bus, the FBI said.

Castro's quick return of the $6 million plane was believed due to the presence of a high Colombian diplomatic official among the passengers and because Pan American is the only U.S. airline still serving Cuba.

HOLDS ELECTRA

The Cuban premier still holds a 53.5 million Eastern Air Lines Electra hijacked on July 24 during a flight over Florida.

The FBI said Cadon was born in Paris on Nov. 28, 1933 and attended school there until the age of 15. He was "considered a runaway," a spokesman said, and spent time in European reform schools. He was once arrested in Belgium on a vagrancy charge, the FBI said.

President Kennedy was scheduled to talk about the problem of airborne hijackers at his news conference today and an angry Congress pushed toward passage of legislation that might threat-

GEN. WALTER B. SMITH

Bedell Smith Dies Suddenly

Soldier - Diplomat Is Victim of Heart Attack at Age of 65

WASHINGTON (AP) — Walter Bedell Smith, soldier, diplomat, jut-jawed genius of military planning, died Wednesday night of a heart attack. He was 65.

Death came to the general as an ambulance rushed him to Walter Reed Army Hospital. He had suffered the attack at his home here.

Smith served the government in various posts for 43 years. It honored him as few men in history have been honored — with four Distinguished Service medals.

As a soldier, Smith rose from a private in the Indiana National Guard to coordinator of the entire planning of the invasion of North Africa and Normandy in World War II. He was Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's chief of staff through most of the war, the team becoming known as "Ike and Beetle."

NICK NAME

Britain's Winston Churchill had another nickname for Smith—"Bulldog" because of his tenacity in handling problems.

Eisenhower once described him as "the general manager of the war." On behalf of Eisenhower, Smith signed the Italian surrender document in September 1943 and in May 1945 he headed the Allied group which accepted the unconditional surrender of Germany.

Later, when Eisenhower became President in 1953, the team was revived as Smith became undersecretary of state, second in command and sometime stand-in for Secretary John Foster Dulles.

Between the war and his appointment to be undersecretary, Smith, who described himself as without political leanings or inclinations, served under President Harry S. Truman as ambassador to Moscow. Later, Truman named Smith director of the Central Intelligence Agency.

Call for Peaceful Berlin Solution Issued by JFK

Sees No Change in Red Stand in Nikita's Speech to People

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy today renewed his call for use of every possible means to bring about a peaceful solution of the Berlin crisis.

The President told his news conference he did not consider Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's recent speech to the Russian people as any change in the stand the Red leader already had taken in their talk at Vienna.

He promised that in the coming months "we will use every device available to us" to settle the Berlin problem peacefully.

While he did not get into specifics, Kennedy said it is America's

K Threatens War, Talks of Peace, Page 46

"strong conviction . . . that every diplomatic measure should be employed."

As to whether there should be an East-West summit meeting, Kennedy said he still feels that none would be useful unless adequate groundwork were laid.

But he said that if a summit meeting of Western leaders should prove desirable, he would "be prepared" to join in one.

The President's statements on Berlin, in response to questions, bore none of the saber-rattling quality of Khrushchev's recent speech to the Soviet people and his statement Wednesday at a reception for Titov.

When a newsman asked if Kennedy thought a war over Berlin, if one broke out, could be limited to conventional fighting or would lead to the use of nuclear weapons, all Kennedy said was:

"Well, we are hopeful we would be able to reach peaceful solutions to the problem."

Kennedy was asked if his reading of Khrushchev's speech and statements had increased, reduced or left unchanged the chances for a peaceful settlement of the German problem.

He replied that he thought Khrushchev "restated the position which he took at Vienna and which he took in the Soviet aide memoir, and . . . there were no new proposals in that speech."

Dag Calls Session to Take Up Bizerte

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold today called a special session of the U.N. General Assembly to meet Aug. 21 on the French-Tunisian dispute.

Hammarskjold acted after a majority of the 99 U.N. members had approved an Asian-African request for the extraordinary session.

Uruguay became the 50th member to signify approval of the session.

Hammarskjold immediately dispatched telegrams to all delegations announcing that the session would convene at 10:30 a.m. Aug. 21.

END OF THE LINE — James G. Styes, 33, (left center) and John T. Auld, 42, chat at the Pontiac State Police Post before being booked at the Oakland County Jail early this morning. The two escapees from Ionia State Hospital held a young mother and her brother, both of Clare, hostage from about 4 p.m. until they were arrested late last night in West Bloomfield Township. Their captors are Troopers Paul D. Palmer (left) and Jacob W. Russell, of the Brighton State Police Post.

Two Armed Ionia Escapees Caught on Orchard Lake Rd.

By DICK SAUNDERS

Two escapees from Ionia State Hospital for the Criminally Insane, described as "armed and dangerous," were nabbed by Brighton State Police on Orchard Lake Road in West Bloomfield Township at 11:15 Wednesday night.

James G. Styes, 33, of Clare and John T. Auld, 42, formerly of Toledo, Ohio, with an 18-year-old mother of two and her younger brother held hostage for nearly eight hours were captured.

Troopers Paul D. Palmer and Jacob D. Russell were returning to Brighton after delivering a prisoner to the Oakland County Jail. They spotted the car that fitted the description of the escapees' car and chased it.

Styes and Auld were stopped near Pine Lake Road and arrested without a struggle. The escapees had a loaded 22-caliber rifle with them.

In the car was badly frightened Mrs. James Thompson of Farwell, a small village near Clare, and Neil Clark, 15, of Clare.

HAD 'RECORDS'

It was not the first time Styes had held hostages. During the 1952 prison riot at Jackson, Styes was among the prisoners who kidnaped a guard and held him hostage.

Both ex-convicts, with a record of violence, had no difficulty in walking away from Ionia, they told Oakland County Prosecutor George F. Taylor.

Auld said he walked away from the state hospital last Saturday, stole a car, drove to Lansing, stole another car and drove to Flat Rock.

WAS MIXED UP

Auld said he then stole a third car for his return to Ionia where he was to pick up Styes at 8 a.m. today. He got mixed up and arrived at the designated time a day early, he said.

Styes merely walked away a day earlier than he'd planned, Taylor explained.

The two went to the Clark house in Clare where they stole the rifle. The Clark boy and Mrs. Thompson are Styes' nephew and niece.

Then the pair went to the Thompson home, where the boy was visiting, and stayed for four hours. Styes told the Thompsons he had been released two months ago, Taylor said.

TIED UP THOMPSON

Auld became impatient after several hours and got the gun from the car. They took $20 and a car from Thompson, an employe of the Clare Manufacturing Co., and tied him up.

They told Thompson they were taking his wife and Clark as hostages and that they "wouldn't be taken alive." Thompson waited two hours before calling police.

Their only stop was in a parking area behind Green Elementary School, 4500 Walnut Lake Road, West Bloomfield Township.

Both escapees had been at Ionia, where they were trustees, for about two years. Styes was committed after arrest for a larceny.

Auld was committed after a spree of armed robberies in Detroit.

New Lighting at Stadium Called 'Must' by Leaders

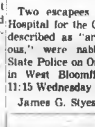

Many leaders of the Pontiac area would like to see better field lighting at Wisner Stadium.

Solid support came today from civic-minded persons in various aspects of the community, including business, labor, government and commerce.

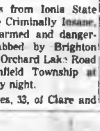

The consensus was that better lighting is a must, that better lighting could be easily accomplished once the need is recognized; that better lighting would enhance the stadium as a focal point of community life.

Alfred C. Girard, president of Community National Bank, said:

"The Detroit Lions' management, coaching staff and players were unanimous in their

HAGGARD

praise for the loyalty of the local football fans and the general setup at Wisner Stadium the other night.

"But they were equally unanimous in suggesting the lights were about the weakest they'd seen.

"Modern football calls for plenty of passing and kicking. You need bright lights to bring these to their highest levels.

"The Pontiac School Board planned well when the stadium was erected, but times move swiftly.

LAW

NELSON

We should relight the field before the football season of 1962 begins.

"Community National Bank and the Pontiac Area Junior Chamber of Commerce are definitely interested in bringing the Lions back for another scrimmage in full dress, but we'd like to thing the field was adequately lighted."

Fred V. Haggard, president of the Oakland County AFL-CIO Council, said:

"It seems that everyone nowadays wants to attend football and baseball games at night, instead of during the day.

"For people working during the day, night is the only time available to enjoy sports.

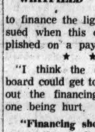

TREND OF TIMES

"This is the trend of the times and if ever there was a time for progress at the stadium it's now."

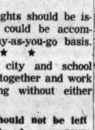

State Rep. Arthur J. Law, former mayor of Pontiac, said:

"Better field lighting is a very constructive idea and I support it wholeheartedly.

WHITFIELD

to finance the lights should be issued when this could be accomplished on a pay-as-you-go basis.

"I think the city and school board could get together and work out the financing without either one being hurt.

"Financing should not be left up to the charity of some group or public subscription, I believe that when there's a proven community need it is the duty of persons elected to public office to accomplish whatever's necessary. Governmental agencies should take the initiative — they should not wait for others to do their job for them."

Robert S. Nelson, vice president of Universal Oil Seal Co., said:

"Better light is a very good idea. We should get started immediately so that the lights will be there when the football season starts.

Kennedy Says Pilots' Cabins Will Be Locked

President Asks Caution in Fixing Blame for Airplane Hijacking

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy announced today that border patrolmen will be assigned to a number of airplanes to guard against new hijacking incidents.

As a further precaution, Kennedy said, doors to the pilot's cabin will be locked and the key held inside.

Kennedy also told a news conference that he hopes other governments will exercise all the means at their power to control what he called these "exercises in futility."

The President cautioned against premature howls of protest before it can be ascertained exactly who has hijacked an airplane and for what purpose.

His cautionary words were directed at members of Congress who have attacked Fidel Castro of Cuba as the instigator of two recent plane piracies when, as it developed, the aircraft were seized by men with no known connection with Cuba.

At the Justice Department, a spokesman for the Immigration Service said there will be no disclosure of the details of implementing the President's announced plan to put border patrolmen on airplanes.

"Little if anything will be given out," he said, adding there will be no information on how many border patrolmen are involved or on what flights they will be.

DEAN TO RETURN

At his 14th news conference, attended by a record 433 newsmen, Kennedy also said he is sending Arthur H. Dean back to Geneva on Aug. 24 for what may well be a final attempt to reach agreement with Russia on a nuclear test ban.

Kennedy said a report from a panel of scientists had convinced him that with present techniques it would be impossible to determine positively whether Russia is secretly testing atomic weapons.

Asked about the rash of plane hijackings, Kennedy said he hopes successful procedures can be worked out to prevent new incidents.

He went on to note that Wednesday's Pan American jet hijacking was the work of a Frenchman who said he had been treated earlier this year for mental aberrations.

The Continental Airlines jet piracy last week over Texas was perpetrated by a father and son, one of whom also has been treated for mental weakness, he said.

These episodes suggest that a "lunatic fringe" has taken to hijacking as a means of gaining publicity, Kennedy said.

An Eastern Air Lines Electra, commandeered by an unidentified hijacker last month has been held in Havana by the Castro government.

Even with this in mind, Kennedy said he felt it important for Americans "to act with the prudence worthy of a great power."

Cuba Proposes Hijack Pact

Agreement Would Stop Seizure of 1 Country's Plane, Ship by Another

PUNTA DEL ESTE, Uruguay (AP)—Cuba hinted today it might walk out of the hemisphere economic conference here unless it is given a role to play in its deliberations.

PUNTA DEL ESTE, Uruguay (AP) — Cuba proposed to the hemispheric economic conference today an agreement prohibiting "seizure, attachment and confiscation of vessels and airplanes of any member country by another."

The Cuban resolution was presented to a working commission as the conference, exploring ways of getting a $20-billion economic program in motion, continued a series of closed-door sessions.

Cuba's resolution came against a background of disputes and airplane hijacking incidents involving the island nation and the United States.

The proposal, submitted by economic Czar Ernesto (Che) Guevara's delegation to the 21-nation conference, asked the adoption of measures to "guarantee the normal development of transportation as a condition precedent to Latin-American integration."

The resolution said:

"Respect for ships and airplanes engaged in the regular transportation of passengers and freight among the different countries is a recognized principle among civilized nations.

"The unilateral adoption of measures of seizure, confiscation and attachment of vessels and airplanes under indemnification proceedings or any other pretext is a flagrant violation of the principle set forth above; moreover it creates obstacles to international trade and navigation."

The resolution asked establishment of a procedure "for bilateral negotiation, to arbitrate the disputes that have been the cause or may in the future be considered as the legal basis for executing acts of seizure, attachment or confiscation."

Passengers Tell of Ordeal

Hijacker Drew Cuban Cheers

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A pistol-waving hijacker, described as wild-haired and insane-looking, drew salutes and cheers from Cuban soldiers who arrested him, a passenger related.

Glenn E. White, a Bloomfield Township, Mich., auto executive, said "my first reaction was this guy was sick—awfully sick"

White, 35, of 5530 Crabtree Road, is a financial executive for Chrysler Corp. He was on a business trip to Panama when the airliner was hijacked.

"This fellow with the wild hair ran down the aisle.

"I saw him stick an awfully big gun up against the steward's heart" soon after the Mexico City take-off of the Pan American jetliner, White said.

"He jumped through into the cockpit and slammed the door. That was the last we saw of him until Cuban police escorted him from the jet at Havana.

"I and some others tried to figure out how to grab the plane ourselves. But we decided against it.

OPEN BAR

"Pan American opened the bar and everybody had a drink and just relaxed.

"Right after we landed, this fellow was taken out of the plane and those soldiers on the ground saluted and cheered him as he walked toward the terminal."

Cuban authorities identified him as Alberto Charles Cadon, 25, a French Algerian, but the FBI said he was Paris-born and came to the United States in 1957.

Hector Vioni, 53, Richmond, Ind., attorney, said "A blue streak—the hijacker — shot down the aisle past me, backed the steward against a seat and kicked open the cockpit door.

"I don't think you would say there was any panic, although I think most of us were plenty nervous."

Plane Capt. Carl Ballard of Houston, Tex., said Cadon threatened us several times. We were in great danger of being shot—not intentionally, but by accident. He said he'd kill us, and he said that when the problem came up we were not to land for fuel. He told us we'd crash first."

Colombian Foreign Minister Julio Cesar Turbay Ayala, one of the passengers, gave a terse account of the hijacking exploit.

CLOSES DOOR

"Five minutes after leaving Mexico City I saw a passenger rushing down the aisle from the back of the cabin. He had a pistol in his hand. He argued with a crewman. Then he pushed his foot in the door to the pilot's cabin and opened it. He closed it behind him with the two pilots inside."

Fidel Castro personally escorted Turbay from Havana airport to the plane for its trip to Miami. Turbay quoted the Cuban prime minister as expressing mortification over the hijacking.

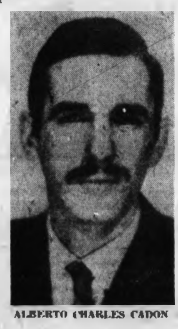

"'This should not happen again,'" Turbay said Castro told him.

"'On Aug. 4 I sent a note to the United States government asking that steps be taken to prevent recurrence of mutual hijacking.'"

The hijacker himself injected political troubles from a different part of the world into the grab of the plane in skies often troubled during Cuban-American tension.

A crewman of the hijacked plane said Cadon said in the cockpit "I am not a Communist, and not a Cuban. I do not like the way Washington interfered in the Algerian situation. I am taking this means to show my protest."

ALBERTO CHARLES CADON

Dirksen Wants Air Pirate Returned to United States

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate today wrote a provision for the death penalty into a bill making airplane hijacking a federal crime.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Cuba's prompt release of a hijacked U.S. airliner appeared today to have sidetracked demands by some senators for an American ultimatum to Fidel Castro.

But Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois said there still remains the question of whether Cuba will turn over to the United States for prosecution the hijacker of a Pan American Airlines jet forced to land in Havana Wednesday.

A spokesman for the airline identified the hijacker as a French Algerian and said there was no suggestion of any Cuban plot behind the seizure.

"I am glad they released the jet and that the passengers and crew are safe," Dirksen said.

NOT ENDED

"But that doesn't end the matter. We have an extradition treaty with Cuba and if they don't turn the hijackers over to us, it will certainly indicate that there is collusion involved."

Dirksen said he thinks there is sufficient law on the books to punish hijackers, even without enactment of a bill the Senate considers today to provide up to life imprisonment for air piracy.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said the release of the plane and passengers "puts a different outlook" on a whole crop of sensational demands for President Kennedy to tell Castro to release seized U.S. planes or expect American forces to go in and get them.

The Senate put off action on the hijacking penalties bill Wednesday after Sen. Thruston B. Morton, R-Ky., complained that the atmosphere was too emotional for consideration of such critical matters.

Havana Militiamen Hold Jet Hijacker

en any future hijackers with the death penalty.

Seventy-one passengers and nine crewmen disembarked from the big jet when it landed at Miami International Airport Wednesday night after an eight-hour halt in Havana.

The passengers reported they were courteously treated by Castro's militiamen, who guarded them with guns but gave them the run of Jose Marti Airport. Castro sent flowers back with the passengers as a memento of their unexpected visit to the Cuban capital.

Cadon, a swarthy, dark-haired man, was listed on the passenger list as being from Paris and bound for Guatemala.

He forced his way into the cockpit of the jet minutes after it took off from Mexico City and forced the pilot, Capt. Carl Ballard of Huntsville, Tex., to fly to Havana. The flight originated in Houston, Tex.

Ballard said the first he knew of the hijacking was when he heard the flight engineer say: "He's got a gun."

"We had just broken ground and started into our right turn toward our first checkpoint," Ballard said. "I looked and as I did I heard the door bang and I saw a .38 pistol that looked as big as a cannon. The man looked like a maniac and all he said was 'We go to Havana . . . Havana . . . Havana' — just like a broken record."

Ballard said the jet's first officer, Capt Samuel Enfield, "tried to persuade the man to point the gun away from us, but he wouldn't do it.

"I was worried about the pistol, but I was more worried about our fuel and was trying to work out a new course to Havana and determine our optimum altitude."

Ballard said the hijacker told him: "You won't land for fuel, either. We'll crash first. All of us will die, but we won't land for fuel."

Wife Calls Him Worrier, FBI Reports Record of Mental Disturbance

NEW YORK (AP)—The wife of plane hijacker Albert Charles Cadon today described him as a temperamental, nervous man who worried about many things.

But she said that, although he had often joked with friends recently about hijacking an airplane, she had no inkling he would actually do so.

Cadon, 27, Paris-born artist and restaurant employe, was reported by the FBI to have had a long record of mental disturbance.

He went to Bellevue Hospital last fall for a mental examination at the suggestion of a policeman after creating a disturbance in front of the apartment building at 339 E. 9th St. where he lived. He was released after three days the result of the test was not disclosed.

Mrs. Cadon said she did not know of the Bellevue visit until FBI agents questioned her about it earlier today. She acknowledged, however, that he had drawn police attention again last winter.

Cadon became disturbed because the name "Cadon" was given to a nylon yarn, and he went around painting out the name on advertising signs.

Cadon's wife, Charlotte, 24, met her husband while studying in Paris in 1957.

'Definitely Needed' New Wisner Lights

"I think the obligation for better lights is a joint responsibility of the city and schools. The stadium was built primarily for the public schools, but parochial schools also use it and the city in general uses it.

"If the new lights go in, the city should try to use the present lights somewhere else where they can be useful."

Stuart E. Whitfield, vice president of Pontiac State Bank and general chairman of Pontiac's Centennial celebration, said:

"I feel we have arrived at the point where a modern lighting system at Wisner Stadium is no longer a luxury but a necessity.

SHOULD WRITE IN

"We are making great strides in our city with continual improvements such as a new city hall, library, central fire station, schools, paving, sewers, urban renewal and many other projects.

"It seems to me that the lighting problem is a definite responsibility of the school board.

"If enough of our citizens show an interest in getting the project under way by writing the board to this effect, I feel certain they will work out a solution at the earliest possible moment."

John W. Hilringer, manager of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce, gave this personal viewpoint:

"The chamber worked very diligently in sponsoring Wisner Stadium to begin with. The whole community is very proud of the stadium now, particularly with the newer east stands.

"While the original west stands need some modernizing, the weakest factor is lighting.

"It was evident to me during the Centennial Spectacle when temporary spotlights brightened up the field that there is no alternative for us but to install better lighting permanently.

"We should get estimates now on the cost of adequate lighting, then organize to carry out this project.

"In a very real sense, Wisner Stadium is the center of Pontiac since there's no place else for any large, public activity.

"Both the schools and the city are operating on a modern, up-to-date basis now and the ancient lighting at the stadium is definitely out of place."

Flash Rainstorm Hits County, Floods Areas

Oakland County was the scene of a flash rainstorm Wednesday that flooded some areas and left others untouched.

Around 1:30 p.m., Pontiac was fairly dark but no rain fell downtown.

However, at the same moment, Birmingham was the scene of a small cloudburst that covered the landscape so fast sewers couldn't handle it for the moment.

Around St. Clair, 2½ inches fell in a short period.

A few days ago, Detroit was inundated, forcing traffic off some of the freeways, but the Pontiac area went untouched.

Freak rain storms have been recurring part of the summer season in Oakland County.

Recreation Programs to End Saturday

BIRMINGHAM — All summer activities sponsored by the Birmingham Recreation Department will end Saturday with the exception of the outdoor square dancing at Eton Park.

Don Martin, director, termed the activities a success although he said there are certain areas of the program that can be improved.

The crafts and sports projects were most popular and drew large crowds as a result of the specialists assigned to each phase, he said.

Other areas of programing, such as music, dramatics, dancing, story telling and community night, could be improved, however, by adding to the specialist staff.

He explained this could be done by decreasing the general playground staff to one leader especially during the afternoon when attendance is low.

Another change which is being contemplated, he said, is moving the playground location from Eton Park to Torry Elementary School.

TRAINING NEEDED

The increased conflict, with tennis, little league, golf and archery has made it difficult for the group leaders to have a good consistent playground program, the recreation director said.

Also the location of Torry School would better serve the population, he said.

Another area of improvement could come in supervision techniques and better in-service training for the playground staff, according to Martin.

More than 1,100 children were registered for the six playground programs, conducted at Adams, Eton, Pembroke, Pierce, Midvale and Quarton, with a total attendance during the summer of about 12,000.

Peace Lutheran Church of Birmingham will hold its vacation church summer school Aug. 14-25.

Daily sessions will be open to children from three to 12 years of age. Classes will be held from 9 to 11:30 a.m.

The theme for this year's program is "God's Holy Law."

A public hearing on the proposed extension of water mains to the southwestern portion of Beverly Hills will be held 8 p.m. Oct. 16 in the village hall.

Cost of the project has been estimated by the engineering firm of Johnson and Anderson at $447,000.

The water system would serve some 340 homes, according to the consulting firm.

JFK Sets Up Plan Should He Get Sick

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy disclosed today he had made an agreement with Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson for operation of the presidency if he should become incapacitated.

Kennedy told his news conference that he had made the same kind of agreement with Johnson that former President Dwight D. Eisenhower set up with former Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Eisenhower and Nixon agreed that if the President became unable to continue his duties the vice president should take over as acting president. The President then would decide when he was able to resume the duties of office.

Echo Schedule

That oft-punctured balloon satellite Echo still plies its way around the earth. If you're interested in observing this U.S. space accomplishment, keep your eyes peeled 65 degrees above the northern horizon tonight at 9:44 and you'll see it moving to the northeast. Again at 11:48 p.m. the big ball will be heading southeast 64 degrees over the northern horizon.

12 Million Trucks Rumble Through Nation Today

By BEN PHLEGAR

DETROIT — The number of trucks in the United States has doubled since the end of World War II and now stands at a fraction under 12 million.

Despite this tremendous increase the ratio of trucks to passenger cars on the nation's highways has decreased steadily since the peak year of 1948.

In that year trucks represented 18.4 per cent of all motor vehicles. By last year the percentage had slipped to 16.2.

These and a vast amount of other statistics on trucks are included in the 1961 edition of Motor Truck Facts, just issued by the Automobile Manufacturers Association.

The AMA says special taxes on the 11,967,688 trucks amounted to $2,967,434,000 in 1960, or roughly one-third of the total taxes paid on motor vehicles.

These taxes included $1,082,434,000 to the federal government in the form of excise levies and $1,885,000,000 to state and local governments for such things as registration fees, gas taxes, city and county licenses and bridge, tunnel, ferry and road tolls.

Truck production in the United States last year totaled 1,190,313 units, the industry's sixth best year. The all time record was 1,417,368 in 1951.

Operators are using trucks longer now than ever. The average age of all trucks on the road is 7.7 years against 5.6 years in 1941, had 2.2 million trucks. Additionally, in 1941 only 18.4 per cent of all trucks in use were 10 years old or older.

Last year a whopping 31.8 per cent of all trucks were at least 10 years old and 4.8 per cent were 18 years old or older.

Some 430,000 trucks still in use were built prior to World War II.

Figures from the U.S. Department of Agriculture show that 2.8 million trucks, or slightly more than one-fourth of the total, are on farms. Ten years ago farms had 2.2 million trucks.

Additionally, in 1941 only 18.4 per cent of all trucks in use were 10 years old or older.

Last year only 2.2 per cent of passenger car production was exported while 18.6 per cent, or one in every six trucks, was exported.

Total export volume for trucks last year was at an all-time high of 215,811 vehicles. The percentage of total production devoted to export was the highest in 1956, 22.7 per cent.

Brazil was the No. 1 customer for United States exporters, taking almost 50,000 trucks last year. South American countries took a total of 111,336 trucks from this country.

The United States is the world's largest truck producer with Japan second, Great Britain third and West Germany fourth.

Total world production outside the United States, however, was almost double the U.S. total in 1960.

Some 57,000 companies operate fleets of 10 or more trucks. The largest of these is the American Telephone & Telegraph Co. with 78,400 units.

Castroite Pushes Cause; Fights U.S. in Uruguay

AP Photofax

GUARD GUEVARA — Bodyguards form a shield around Cuba's Ernesto (Che) Guevara in Punta del Este, Uruguay, as he leaves after speaking to the economic integration committee of the Inter-American Economic and Social Conference. Fighting broke out after Guevara delivered a bitter attack against the United States during a regular conference session.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

PUNTA DEL ESTE, Uruguay (AP)—A hemisphere conference conceived to turn back the Communist drive in Latin America surrendered the spotlight Wednesday night to a leading spokesman for communism in the Western Hemisphere — and he made the most of it.

While supporters of President Kennedy's Alliance for Progress were attending a reception in a nearby hotel, Cuban economic boss Ernesto Guevara held court for the Latin-American press.

The representative of the little Caribbean island of six million people held the spotlight alone during this period of the Inter-American Economic Conference—whose chief aim is to offset Cuba's revolutionary influence on Latin America's 200 million people.

ONE WAS MISSING

The reception in the swanky San Rafael Hotel, given by U.S. Secretary of the Treasury, C. Douglas Dillon, would have been impressive in any European capital. Except for Guevara, anybody who was anybody at the conference was there.

But while the diplomats were socializing the bearded Cuban in his habitual army fatigues was holding forth for the newsmen, who obviously viewed Guevara as the only real source of news at the moment at this conference.

Guevara had nothing new to say. Most of it was a repetition of Cuban and Communist propaganda. He insisted that the United States is blind to the realities of Latin America, and that because of this the socialist—meaning Communist — revolution on the continent is just around the corner. He said revolution would come in Latin America as a protest against the past and present but that it would become "socialist" immediately as new governments are installed.

This is standard Marxist-Leninist "national liberation" propaganda, and the United States is doing little on the popular level to combat it.

There has been a considerable amount of enthusiasm generated here for the U.S. program, which envisions the investment of more than $20 billion by the United States and other foreign sources in Latin America in the next 10 years if these countries take steps at the polite upper crust of society.

Much hope appears to have been generated in Punta Del Este that a program has been conceived which has a real chance of stemming the pressures from the Communist-Castroite combination of the left.

But the push of Castroism is strong and heady. And nobody is more aware of this than the busy Cubans at this conference designed primarily to reduce their revolutionary impact.

necessary to develop their potentials and join the war against poverty, misery and illiteracy.

THOSE LOWER LEVELS

But the Alliance for Progress has yet to step down to the lower levels of the Latin-American population. Guevara and the Communists have not lost sight of those levels and their potential for revolution.

In essence, that seems to be the meaning and reason for the Cuban's appearance at a conference where otherwise he obviously does not belong. He is a revolutionary figure in the midst of representatives of a class searching for new ways to save itself from destruction in the fire of revolution.

The Cubans, for all their irrationality, are appealing to basic instincts and yearnings. The representatives of the United States still are carrying on their effort

1 Teen Killed, 2 Flee, 3 Nabbed in Break

DETROIT (AP)—Six boys, aged 15 and 16, overpowered a guard at the Wayne County Juvenile Home Wednesday and tried to escape.

Two made it. Three got trapped in a revolving door and were captured.

The sixth, Thomas Grier, 16, bolted through the door into the street and was killed by a truck.

Police said Grier had been held since July 1 for robbing a newsboy of $2.

Grier had been in the juvenile home eight previous times since March, 1958. He and the other five were being held in a sixth floor "trouble ward."

Brazil's Vice President Stops Off in Moscow

MOSCOW (AP)—Brazilian Vice President Joao Goulart arrived in Moscow Wednesday for a three-day visit before continuing on to Red China, Tass reported.

Goulart was met at the airport by Soviet Vice President I. S. Kozitsa and other officials of the Soviet ministries of foreign affairs and foreign trade.

Rayburn Pessimistic on Fate of Two Bills

WASHINGTON (AP)— Speaker Sam Rayburn, D-Tex., reported pessimistically today on the outlook for two of President Kennedy's high priority legislative proposals—school aid and interim tax reform.

He said work is still being done on bills for help to states in school construction "but the outlook is gloomy." School aid legislation is stymied in the House Rules Committee.

The speaker said he hopes the Ways and Means Committee will be able to bring out a bill "closing some tax loopholes" before the session ends, but it is an uphill task.

"Somebody objects to everything," he said.

Storms Devastate Poznan

WARSAW (AP) — A violent thunder and hail storm swept Western Poznan Province Monday and destroyed crops on 4,000 farms and damaged nearly 1,200 buildings, the newspaper Trybuna Ludu reported Wednesday. No casualties were reported.

Rep. Meader to Vote Against Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. George Meader, R-Mich., said Wednesday he will cast his second vote in 10 years against foreign aid if the administration's new proposals are not drastically revised.

The bill expected to come before the House next week would give the administration authority to borrow up to $8.8 million from the Treasury over a five-year period without the usual annual congressional review.

Meader, calling the bill "the most insolent insult bureaucrats have ever hurled at Congress," said he could not accept this restriction.

Nkrumah Off to China After European Tour

MOSCOW (UPI) — Ghanaian president Kwame Nkrumah flies to Communist China today for a week's visit, the Tass news agency reported.

N.J. Governor Says Shelters Are No Answer

NEWARK, N.J. (UPI) — Gov. Robert B. Meyner has termed a "cruel deception" the contention that bomb shelters will have much effect in saving lives during a nuclear war.

Meyner told a television audience Wednesday night that although he is not opposed to fall-out shelters, "I believe that to hold out the idea that much of our population could be saved by them is a cruel deception."

Meyner thus differed sharply with civil defense officials, who contend that 130 million Americans would survive a nuclear war with an adequate shelter program.

The governor suggested that the money which would go into large-scale shelter programs be spent instead in providing funds to improve economic conditions abroad. He said this might increase chances of peace.

Step by Step, Castro Grabbing More Power

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK — If you need any example of what happens when a totalitarian government takes over a country, Cuban Prime Minister Castro is up today with a fresh one.

A totalitarian government may be Fascist, Communist or what Castro calls Cuba's own brand of socialism. The one thing in common is that the state is dominant, not its citizens.

CONFISCATE PROPERTY

First, large private property holdings are confiscated in one form or another, with or without vague promises of compensation later. American firms suffered the loss of millions of dollars in assets and sales this way. One estimate is that American-owned property on the island was worth $861 million.

* * *

Next, cash holdings are gathered in by the simple device of declaring the old currency void and issuing a new currency—but only up to a small part of the total that any person above the lowest income brackets might have. The government keeps all but a minimum of the amount turned in.

How much of a loss this will be to Americans is unknown. Most U. S. corporations and individuals presumably have put their pesos into other currencies or investments long since.

But doubtless many Cuban refugees here will suffer. Cuban leaders estimate that 400 million of the old pesos are held outside the island, and thus became worthless over the weekend. Castro says most of this was taken to the United States by refugees.

IN CLASSIC PATTERN

The Cuban moves are in the classic pattern. They enable the Castro regime to get its hands on the property and cash of all but the poorest citizens.

They also help to halt, at least temporarily, the impending inflation caused by a growing shortage of some goods and foodstuffs on the island, which could command high prices on the black market if people had pesos with which to buy.

Persons who have managed to save more than a minimum of pesos are the chief sufferers. Unless they have put their savings into foreign assets—on which it will probably be harder and harder to draw—they will now see the bulk of their holdings disappear into the government-controlled banks, with only minor withdrawal privileges.

The peso officially has been carried as the equal of the Yankee dollar, and formerly was freely exchangeable on that basis. But most of them refugees now, are these are valued in Yankee dollars and not subject to the Cuban peso confiscation.

of late one foreign exchange dealer in New York has been willing to pay only 16 American cents for one Cuban peso. It says it has kept the peso on its list only because it wants to maintain its record of dealing in all foreign currencies.

ASSETS DISAPPEAR

Earlier American firms saw their $861 million of Cuban assets disappear little by little. Castro expropriated American sugar holdings and cattle ranches, oil installations and telephone lines and forced out the branches of U.S. banks. Talk of compensation has remained, for practical purposes, mostly talk.

Trade with Cuba has dwindled to a trickle. The United States cut off imports of Cuban sugar. We now import only tobacco, fruit and sugar molasses. And we send Cuba only food, medicine and medical supplies.

Trade both ways now runs at around $50 million a year. And hijacking of American planes has led to talk of cutting off even that.

The Cuban government has an estimated $3 million here in various assets. Individual Cubans, said to have about $58 million. But

Rusk, Adenauer Talk on Berlin

Secretary Leaves for U.S. Today to Report to President Kennedy

CADENABBIA, Italy (UPI) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk and West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer met today to review the world situation and particularly the Berlin crisis.

Rusk wound up a European trip by seeing the German leader before flying back to the United States.

There he will report to President Kennedy on the three-day foreign ministers conference in Paris, his talk to NATO and his discussion with Italian Premier Amintore Fanfani who has just returned from a conference with Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev.

Rusk's talks with Adenauer were held for two hours and 19 minutes in the park surrounding the German chancellor's vacation villa. There was no statement issued afterward.

The talk with Adenauer is Rusk's final European meeting before leaving today.

Big 9th Inning Breaks Game Wide Open for Lary's 16th Win

CHICAGO (AP) — "It looks like we'll have to beat the Yankees ourselves," said Manager Bob Scheffing in expressing the frustration the Detroit Tigers feel after winning six of their last seven games.

The second-place Tigers bumbed the Chicago White Sox 8-2 last night behind the five-hit pitching of Frank Lary and homers by Al Kaline and Rocky Colavito but it didn't gain them an inch on the league-leading Yanks. New York defeated Los Angeles 2-0.

Detroit remained three games off the pace in the pennant chase.

"This club isn't going to quit," Scheffing said after the game. "If the Yanks falter even a little, we'll give them a run for their money."

The Tigers face the tough task of staying close enough to the Yankees to force a pennant showdown when the two teams meet in seven games in September.

Last night's performance indicated they might do just that.

Kaline boomed a 420-foot home run into the centerfield bullpen to break an eighth inning tie.

Aided by six walks in the ninth, the Tigers scored five more times to insure the triumph.

"If I can just keep from reaching into the bull pen, it's going to be a big help," said Scheffing.

"If the New York Yankees falter, we're going to be right there on their back — but everytime we win they win," he added. "I don't see much chance of them faltering."

The Tigers, who have won 11 of their last 18 starts, knew they had to keep the win-for-a-win chain going against the Sox.

The Tiger ninth was a White Sox debacle.

Don Larsen issued three walks in a row before being yanked. Turk Lown forced in a run with a walk and filled the bases with another; and Russ Kemmerer walked Lary before getting the side out.

Norm Cash, ex-Sox and leading the AL in batting with a .362 mark, singled in two runs off Lown and Mike Roarke did the same. It was Cash's only hit of the night, and he now has hit safely in 17 of his last 19 games.

Kaline raised his batting ante to 71 hits in a six-game streak with three blows, including his homer.

Colavito's was his 31st of the campaign.

However, the most heartening phase was Lary's pitching.

One of the five hits off him was a homer by Jim Landis. Lary exceeded his production of last year by hurling his 16th victory against six losses, making it 3-0 over the Sox and getting his fourth decision in his last five outings.

Series in September May Determine Race

By The Associated Press

The way things are going in that American League race, you can forget about it until Sept. 10. That's when the New York Yankees and Detroit Tigers next meet.

And if the Yankees keep going the way they are, Detroit can forget about it all.

The Yankees won their seventh in a row in an afternoon game by knocking off the Los Angeles Angels for the eighth time in eight tries at Yankee Stadium, 2-0 behind the four-hit pitching of Jim Coates.

You might say the Yankees are stumbling along successfully. There's been quite a bit of sweat in the streak. They've won five of the seven by no more than two runs. And four of the victories came in extra innings.

Among the also rans, Kansas City dropped third place Baltimore 12½ games behind New York by beating the Orioles 2-1, Cleveland defeated Washington 3-1 on Gary Bell's three-hitter and Boston beat Minnesota 5-4.

Ted Bowsfield (8-4) of the Angels held the Yankees hitless until Mickey Mantle led off the fifth inning with a single. The Mick came around on a single by Elston Howard and a sacrifice fly by Bill Skowron. Howard's hit gave him a tie with Cash for the AL batting lead at .362. Coates (8-5) gave up nothing but singles for his second consecutive four-hitter.

A single by Jim Rivera and Les Posada's double gave the A's the winning run in the seventh inning at Baltimore against Jack Fisher (3-11). Jerry Walker (5-8) checked his former mates on four singles, losing a shutout on an unearned run in the seventh in his first complete game of the season.

Bell (8-11) walked two and struck out eight while giving up a pair of singles and a first-inning home run by rookie Bud Zipfel. The Indians came from behind in the fourth, beating John Gabler (3-4) on Johnny Romano's two-run single.

Mike Fornieles saved it for the Red Sox, retiring Jose Valdivielso, Bill Tuttle and Ted Lepcio on five pitches in the ninth with two Twins on base and two in on Jim Lemon's sumer. Gene Conley (6-10) was it, getting the edge on Frank Malzone's two-run double in the seventh. Jack Krallick (10-8) was the loser.

State's Oldest Trot Scheduled Tonight

DETROIT (AP) — The Merchants and Manufacturers Trot, which dates back to before the turn of the century, will be run tonight with a field of 13 entries at Wolverine Harness Raceway.

Michigan's oldest and richest trotting stake, the M & M has a pot of $22,150.

The race first was run in the 1800s and lapsed in 1917. Wolverine reinstated the ancient race 11 years ago and it has been held ever since.

Tonight's M & M will be over the one-mile distance with two heats.

Among the top choices are Justly Worthy, a mare from the Billy Houghton Stables of Yonkers, N.Y., and Behave of the Castleton Farm Stable.

JFK Presents Regatta Cup to Thompson

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy presented a trophy yesterday to Charles Thompson Sr. of Detroit, winner of last year's President's Cup powerboat race.

"I have been interested all my life in boats, and it is therefore a great personal pleasure to award this cup to Mr. Thompson," Kennedy said as he hagded over the gold cup.

The President's Cup Regatta is held on the Potomac River every September.

Edward R. Carr, president of the regatta association, gave the President a black and white yachtsman's cap with the regatta emblem on it. It was the emblem of a commodore.

"The rank is a little high," Kennedy quipped.

State Netters Faring Poorly

EAST LANSING (UPI) — Entries from the host state fared badly at the International Jaycees gan State University courts yesterday.

Only Sharon N. Pritula, 15, Detroit, was left in the running for the quarter-final matches today.

Tom Deur, Holland, entered in the boys (15 and under) bracket, lost a close match in third round play yesterday to William Shipley, Atlanta, Ga., 2-6, 6-3 and 9-7.

Miss Pritula won in the third round over Karen Mosier, Waterloo, Iowa, 6-1, 6-2.

Little Blonde Goes After Double Win in Swim Meet

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Carolyn House, a slight 15-year-old with strong ambitions, makes her first move for a prodigious double in the Women's National AAU Outdoor Swimming and Diving Championships today.

The 5-foot-4, 112-pound blonde from Los Angeles A.C. is favored to make good in the first half of the double but her chances are rated slim in the second half when she has to face peerless Chris Von Saltza.

Carolyn, who at first glance looks like she would need waterwings to help her across the pool, is the defender in the 1500 meter freestyle, only championship event of the opening day of the four-day program. Heats get under way at 4 p.m. (EST) and the event should wind up about 8 p.m. (EST). The winner is determined by fastest time in the 50 meter Kelly Pool.

The tireless schoolgirl won the 1500 meter crown by 24 seconds last year with an American record performance of 19:45.0, 49.6 seconds faster than the old mark. She'll probably better that mark today and most likely will have to in order to repel the challenges of Laurel Watson of the Santa Clara (Calif) S.C., Sharon Finneran of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., and Patsy Harrower of the Indianapolis' Riviera Club, among others.

Carolyn's major test for glory comes up on Saturday when she opposes Miss Von Saltza in the 400 meter freestyle, one of the three individual freestyle titles Chris is defending.

It was in the 400 that Miss House earned her berth on the 1960 Olympic team. She finished second in the trials with a sparkling 4:55.1 as the stylish Chris set her world record of 4:44.5. Miss Von Saltza went on to win the Olympic gold medal while Carolyn just failed by a shade to qualify for the final at Rome.

But in the National Indoor AAU 500 yard final last April Carolyn made a race of it by taking second with a 5:38.0 to Chris' 5:34.5.

Since then both have been piling up practice mileage for the current outdoor meet, which marks Miss Von Saltza's farewell to championship competition in the United States.

WEEKEND RACES — This will be the scene at the Waterford Hills Course at Oakland County Sportsmen's Club where the Midsummer sports car races will be held Saturday and Sunday of this week. A large field of entries from the Midwest and Canada will take part in the races. Most of the cars in this photo are MG's and Porsches. A couple new foreign make cars will make their debut in the races. Glen Baldwin of Birmingham will make a showing of the Lotus XVII and Bob Gubbins of Birmingham will race in the new GMS Deota an import from England.

KEEP TIGERS GOING — Detroit pitcher Frank Lary (left) and Al Kaline, who hit a tie-breaking home run, kept the Tigers from falling further behind the Yanks yesterday with an 8-2 victory over the Chicago White Sox. It was Lary's 16th victory.

Webb Lone Lion Not in '61 Fold

Kenny Webb, a stubby ball carrier with bowl-'em-over running ability again is proving the toughest player for the Detroit Lions, front office to bring down.

General manager Edwin J. Anderson planned to tackle Webb once more today over the bargaining table. Webb is the lone Lion holdout one day before the club's National Football League exhibition debut.

Anderson finally managed to sign Sammy Williams, former Michigan State captain, yesterday. Now he's able to concentrate on bringing the tough-bargaining Webb into the fold.

Webb also was the last Lion to sign in 1960.

But at least this time Anderson has the advantage of meeting Webb face-to-face. The halfback reported to camp for opening day and has been working out — and sweating off his extra poundage — for two weeks.

Last year, when holdouts weren't permitted to practice, Webb stayed home at Atlanta and negotiated over the telephone.

Long distance wasn't very satisfactory and there were "I quit threats" coming from Georgia and "it's okay with us" replies coming from the training camp.

Webb finally arrived here and signed his contract. Anderson and Webb are confident they'll reach an agreement soon for this year.

On the practice field, coach George Wilson's squad has been concentrating on preparations for tomorrow night's pre-season game with the Cleveland Browns.

Wilson has been working his offense against Cleveland defensive patterns and sending the defense out to stop the Browns' attack.

The exhibition will be another in one of pro football's hottest feuds.

Last time the bitter rivals met was last January in the Playoff Bowl at Miami. The Lions won 17-16 when Night Train Lane blocked a last minute try for an extra point.

"We're going to throw the same plays at them that beat them last time," said Wilson. "Those are the ones we've been working on."

In yesterday's double drill, the Lions emphasized kickoffs and punt returns.

A crowd of 30,000 is expected to see the game in Tiger stadium. The Lions have won 18 and tied one of their 25 meetings with the Browns.

A total of 125 rookies made the rosters of 13 National Football League teams in 1960.

5 Local Divers in New Orleans

A group of local skin divers, Al Corn, Tom Skarbo, Orion Schultz, Curtis Lather and Jerry Walker will go to New Orleans, Aug. 22-24 to participate in National Council of Skin Divers competition.

Schultz and Lather, both teachers in the Birmingham school system, are the supervisors of the Oakland School of Diving which is located at Union Lake.

The classes are held on the north shore of the lake, at 7539 Lockwood, with five two-hour sessions available for the beginner.

Schultz has been diving for nine years and is active in the Michigan Diving Council. Corn and Walker won the spear fishing contest held at Utica the past June while Schultz won the competitive state title at Higgins Lake last month.

Midsummer Races at OCSC

Newest Foreign Cars to Debut This Weekend

Big Field of Drivers From Midwest, Canada Are Expected

The Midsummer Trophy Race with one of its largest field of entries, will take place Saturday and Sunday at the Oakland County Sportsmen's Club.

Entries for the races on the Waterford Hills road course have been received from drivers in Michigan, Ohio and other Midwest states plus Quebec and Ontario.

The debut of two cars which never have been seen previously in this country will be made. The Lotus-XVII, which belongs to Glen Baldwin of Birmingham and the GMS Delta owned by Bob Gubbins, also of Birmingham, will see action in their respective classes.

The Delta is an import from England. It incorporates many English Ford parts including the Anglia engine and features unit construction in steel and fiberglas.

The Lotus XVII was built especially for the factory team to race at LeMans, France. It is powered by a 750 CC Coventry Climax engine and weighs less than 700 pounds.

Racing club president Art Novak said, "We have drawn some of the best cars and drivers in the country for this race."

Among the local drivers entered are Bob Clift of Pontiac driving a Corvett, John Camp of Pontiac driving a Porsche and Dave Moothart of Pontiac driving an Austin-Healy.

Practice and time trials begin at 11:00 a.m. Racing starts at 1:00 p.m. Tickets can be purchased at the gate.

Hazel Park Course Has 2 Big Stables

Marion H. Van Berg, the most successful owner in the annals of the track, and colorful Vester R. (Tennessee) Wright, the national champion among trainers, are waging a spectacular duel for top honors in the current thoroughbred race meeting at the Hazel Park Race Course.

Post time at the friendly track, Dequindre and Ten Mile Roads, is 3:30 p.m. and 2 p.m. on Saturdays and holidays.

Van Berg, a 64-year-old Nebraskan horseman, had a good season at the Detroit Race Course earlier this summer. Since that time, he has brought in approximately 20 head from Omaha to raise his stable to more than 50. This puts him on a level with Wright in the size of their stables, and the battle lines are sharply drawn.

Bye Bye to Racing

CHICAGO (AP) — Six-year-old Bye Bye Bird, whose earnings of $564,257 since 1957 are an all time high for harness racing, has been retired to stud.

Since he started racing in 1957, Bye Bye Bird has been first 50 times, second 24 and third nine in 101 starts. He has won 10 races worth $40,000 or more.

Pontiac Track Ace Back From Europe

'Aloof Feeling Toward U.S.' Says Jones

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor Pontiac Press

The warm-heartedness which American track stars encountered during their trip to Europe in 1958 has diminished to a feeling of aloofness in 1961.

This is the reaction Pontiac track ace Hayes Jones got during the recent tour he made with the U.S. team for the competition held in Russia, Poland, Germany and Great Britain.

"Only in Stuttgart, West Germany, did we feel wanted. The people there showed great enthusiasm over the visit of the Americans," Jones said, "it definitely was the highlight of our tour."

"The one thing of which I feel certain, is that the Russians will never get West Germany on their side, the people there love freedom too much. The Russians would have to take it away from them by force," he added.

The warm-hearted attitude of which Jones made mention was primarily directed at Poland.

"In 1958 the people of Poland opened their hearts out to the American track team. This year one could feel the difference.

"It's not that they have become anti-American, it's because the Poles seem to have the fear that everyone is listening to what they say and that every conversation is being checked," he explained.

"In Russia, the space achievements definitely have had a bearing on the attitude of people in regard to beating the Americans in everything.

"You could see it on the Russian faces when their athletes got beat. If a Russian passed up an American in a track event, him his leg. The team all signed a card and sent it to him. It the people went crazy. If the American pulled by they got would be terrible if this happened," he said.
very quiet."

"In 1958 the Russian spoke more freely in regard to domestic life and financial problems. Today they seem to have gone backwards domestically, and have accepted, or have been brain washed, that their military power and their space accomplishments are the ultimate standards for success," Hayes continued.

"He made reference to a librarian he met in 1958 and had seen again on his recent visit. "She is making about 90 dollars a month, the same as she did three years ago and has become very hush-hush in respect to making an issue of this. She even implied that while the Russian's domestic life is going backward, the thoughts of success are in a military way."

The hero all over Europe is Yuri Gagarin, the first spaceman. "He's a god in Russia. The people of Poland laid down the red rug for him. Even in Great Britain he was received with a tremendous welcome," Jones pointed out.

Strangely, Jones felt that the Americans were most poorly received in Great Britain.

"There seemed to be such a superior attitude in London. They made great issue in big print if an Englishman defeated an American, especially if he was a Negro," Jones said.

"The attitude seemed to be—What's the matter Yank, are the Russians taking that superiority away from you?"

Jones said he would make the 1964 Olympic games his goal. "I'm not going to make any more such tours," he noted, "the strain and travel are too great. We were constantly pressured in regard to behavior and our activities."

Jones said that the American track team was badly disheartened with the news that Martin Lauer, world record holder in the low hurdles, faced the possibilit yof losing

"He is in a Munich hospital and an infection may cost would be, terrible if this happened," he said.

In regard to his feats on the track, Jones won the hurdles in each of the four meets. His best time was 13.8 in Russia.

He also captained the U.S. 440-meter relay team which set the world record in a time of 44.3 seconds.

Market Drops to Mixed Status

NEW YORK (AP)—A growing number of minus signs turned the stock market into a mixed affair in early trading today.

Opening prices generally were higher, but the ratio of plus to minus signs on the ticker tape quickly evened out. Pending an unexpected reaction to President Kennedy's news conference, a continuation of this week's sideways market movement seemed in the cards.

Trading slowed to a moderate pace after an active start.

Most groups were well scrambled, although steels, mail order and retail firms, drugs and some metals and tobaccos worked higher. Utilities softened after an impressive string of gains. Rails were quiet and narrowly mixed.

Gains and losses were restricted to small fractions for the most part.

Revlon was an exception, rising more than a point in a continuation of recent strength attributed variously to its chart pattern and its new skin cream. MGM also showed further strength, rising about a point, while Schering rose well over a point despite news of a Federal Trade Commission investigation of drug industry pricing and advertising practices.

Litton spurted more than a point among electronics. Others in the group edged up and down.

AMEX MIXED

American Stock Exchange prices were narrowly mixed, although Fairchild Camera opened with a loss of 1⅝. Other losers included Hollinger, Insurance Co. of North America, Universal Controls and Imperial Oil. Slightly higher were Aerojet, Cubic, General Development, Molybdenum Corp., Syntex and Tampa Electric.

Grain Futures Trade Lags in Early Action

CHICAGO (AP) — Dealings in grain futures were dreary during the first several minutes of activity today on the board of trade and nearly all prices held within minimum fractions of previous closes.

Dealers said there was a fairly good mill demand for wheat, but that it was offset by hedge selling.

With the government's August crop report due to be released after the close of trading today, brokers said most of the trade probably would be toward evening up commitments against the possibility of any surprises in condition of the crops and probable yields.

Schoolboys Die in Plane Crash

34 British Youths, 5 Others Killed as Craft Goes Down in Norway

STAVANGER, Norway (AP) — Thirty-four British schoolboys en route to a holiday in Norway died Wednesday night in a chartered British airliner that crashed and burned on a Norwegian mountainside during a fierce coastal storm.

The others aboard the twin-engine Vickers Viking—two schoolmasters and three crewmen—died with them.

A helicopter pilot sighted the wreckage of the plane at dawn 15 miles from Stavanger, on a mountain in the rugged Ryfylke Fiord area of Norway's southwest coast.

The plane hit about 30 feet below the top of the 1,870-foot mountain and apparently exploded on impact. One wing, virtually intact, was hurled 300 yards. The broken fuselage hung from the peak. Most of the bodies were scattered nearby, many of them badly mutilated.

PARENTS FRANTIC

The schoolboys, 13 to 16 years old, were all pupils at Lanfranc School in Croydon, a commuter town 12 miles south of London. Their frantic parents besieged London Airport Wednesday night, desperate for word of their children's fate. Their telephone numbers were taken and they were sent home.

Just after dawn a team of telephone operators began the calls that ended their vigil. Policemen also knocked at the doors of the homes, mostly of middle-class families, to tell what had happened.

The excited boys had crowded chattering aboard the Viking, owned by Cunard-Eagle Airlines Wednesday afternoon. Most had saved their pocket money for the week's holiday.

They were to stay in a youth hostel in Stavanger and then in a mountain chalet, hiking in the mountains, fishing for trout, playing badminton and swimming.
