Military Chiefs Agree to Goulart as Figurehead

Plan Calls for Prime Minister to Be Named by Congress Till '63

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP) — Brazil's three military ministers today agreed to accept Joao Goulart as a figurehead president with a prime minister to be appointed by Congress until 1963, a government source said.

The decision by the three top military chiefs was reached here and a government source said it already has been transmitted to Brasilia, the inland capital.

If acceptable to Congress and government political leaders in Brasilia, it might end the serious crisis, which has been rocking the country since Janio Quadros resigned as president last Friday.

Previously the three military leaders had opposed having Goulart even as a figurehead president.

The formula proposed by the military chiefs considerably differed from the recommendations presented to the national Congress earlier today by a congressional committee.

WOULD SWITCH POWER

The prime minister would have the power to run the country—the same powers previous Brazilian presidents have held.

Under the formula proposed by the military chiefs—War Minister Marshal Odylio Denys, Navy Minister Adm. Silvio Heckel, and Air Minister Brig. Gran Mons—Goulart and a prime minister would serve until 1963, when an election would be held.

Goulart was en route to New York from Paris. It was not known here whether the leftist vice president and his ardent supporters would accept his being a mere figurehead.

ADJOURNED UNDECIDED

Congress debated the recommendation from its commission and adjourned without reaching a decision.

When one congressman was told about the military proposal, he exclaimed, "I do not believe it."

The deputy, Ulysses Guimaraes, a Social Democrat from Sao Paulo, explained: "The military chiefs Tuesday said they would not accept Goulart's return to Brazil under any conditions."

Mediator Answers Questions

TELLS OF PROPOSAL — William E. Simkin (right), director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service tells newsmen Tuesday of the proposal he made to the United Auto Workers Union and Big Three asking them to consent to a one-week extension of contract talks past the strike deadline. The union and auto firms later agreed to go along with the request extending the contract to Sept. 6. With Simkin are (from left) Dale A. Ricketts of the mediation service, assigned to GM-UAW and James MacPherson, regional director of the FMS.

Coalition Vetoes Federal Assist to Education

242-169 Tally Prevents Consideration of Aim of Administration

WASHINGTON (AP) — A coalition of Republicans and Southern Democrats today voted to prevent House consideration of the administration's federal aid to education bill.

The vote against consideration was 242-169.

The move, which came quickly after the House met at noon, apparently ended chances of getting through at this session the principle the administration badly wanted to establish—federal money for the construction of public school facilities.

Two other parts of the package, aid to schools overcrowded by children of federal workers, and extension of a student loan program, are likely to be salvaged and passed later. Many members, both Republican and Democratic, favor these programs while bitterly opposing public school construction.

Today's defeat for the administration came swiftly after the House began business.

Voting against considering the bill bill were 82 Democrats and 160 Republicans. Voting to consider it were 163 Democrats and 6 Republicans.

The tip came when the coalition of Republicans and conservative Democrats passed up a chance to delay the bill for another week. That indicated that they were sure of their strength and wanted to bury the bill.

The measure defeated today was only a remnant of the one the Kennedy administration originally wanted.

CALLED ALPHABETICALLY

Under the little-used Calendar Wednesday procedure, the roll of House committees was called alphabetically shortly after the House met at noon.

Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, D-N.Y., chairman of the Education Committee, was allowed to call up the bill when his turn on the list came. The bill's opponents could have delayed things a week by having other bills called up by a Southern Democratic chairman who came before Powell on the list. They didn't.

ENGINEER WORKING—High above an Alpine glacier an engineer works on cables atop cable car to allow it and its passengers to be lowered to safety following a freak accident near Chamonix, France, Tuesday. Above him is the severed end of the traction cable which was cut by a French jet plane.

Helicopters Rescue 81

Safe After 'Awful' Night

CHAMONIX, France (AP) — Rescuers today completed removal of 81 sightseers who spent hours of terror in tiny cable cars stalled high above an Alpine glacier by a freak accident that killed six others.

★ ★ ★

"We've had an awful time and we're glad it's over," was the comment of a Briton numbed by a night of little leg room and freezing cold on the slopes of Mont Blanc.

Some of them had spent nearly 20 hours suspended hundreds of feet in the air while workers slowly wound in the broken traction cable.

The cable was snapped at 1:10 p.m. Tuesday by a French air force jet combat plane flying low through the valley between Mont Blanc and Aiguille du Midi.

Most of the passengers seemed too fatigued by the experience to have much to say, other than that they were glad to get back alive.

A German family of four and an Italian man and his son were killed when their cabins fell hundreds of feet after the traction cable was snapped.

SIX ARE KILLED

They were the only casualties among the 87 persons on the cableway.

Raymond Jacquet, prefect of the Haute Savoie Department, said it was a miracle more people were not killed.

"This testifies to the effectiveness of the safety measures on this spectacular cable railway linking France with Italy across the highest Alpine range," he said.

The lift runs along a three-inch thick traction cable strung for more than three miles from the Aiguille du Midi to the French-Italian border.

About 30 four-seat cabins run simultaneously in each direction, pulled by a one-inch hauling cable which runs in one piece through all the cabins going up and down.

SNAPPED CABLE

The three cabins moving up toward the Aiguille du Midi between the Gros Rognon and the breaking point were flung backward as if by the snap of a whip.

Most of the sightseers were French, Italian or British, but there were a few Americans.

Hugh Putnam, 20, of Milton, Mass., and his cousin, Katherine Blodgett, 19, of Grand Rapids, Mich., were stranded for 15 hours. They got down via a rope and took their ordeal cheerfully.

"I was terrified at first," said Miss Blodgett, but then I quickly relaxed. We had an American newspaper with us and spent part of the time doing the crossword puzzle. I must confess that when darkness fell the puzzle was still incomplete."

Reuther to Race GM Strike Date

Pledges High-Gear Auto Talks

DETROIT (AP) — American Motors Corp. and the United Auto Workers Union today announced they have reached "complete agreement" on a new contract built around the pioneering profit-sharing plan.

He said GM was "the richest company in the world" but that there was a "tremendous gap" between its present offer to the union and the precedent shattering profit-sharing agreement reached last week with American Motors.

DETROIT (UPI) — Walter P. Reuther today pledged the United Auto Workers Union to an "intensive bargaining schedule" in efforts to reach a contract settlement with giant General Motors before a government-inspired strike truce runs out next Wednesday.

But Reuther said, "GM is going to have to part with some of its money bags" if an agreement is to be reached before the new strike deadline of 10 a.m. (Pontiac time) on Sept. 6.

Reuther arrived at General Motors headquarters this morning to resume personal command of contract talks at the company chosen Tuesday night as the union's strike target.

GM Vice President and chief bargainer Louis G. Seaton, who insists the GM offer is superior to the gains in the American Motors agreement, said the General Motors offer would put an extra $1,000 in the pay envelopes of employes over the three years of a new contract.

He also said it "doesn't matter too much to us" that the union had singled out GM for strike action if the talks fail.

'NOT INTERFERENCE'

Seaton said GM did not consider Tuesday's request by the Federal Mediation Service, which resulted in staving off a strike threatened for midnight Thursday as "interference" by the government. The company believed, along with the Mediation Service that the contract extension to Sept. 6 was necessary because there was not time to reach an agreement before the scheduled expiration of current contracts at midnight Thursday, Seaton said.

The union and the big three companies of GM, Ford and Chrysler Tuesday night agreed to go along with the Mediation Service request for a contract extension to Sept. 6.

Federal Mediation Chief William E. Simkin sent telegrams to the big three companies and the union late Tuesday urging the contract extension, just before the union met to choose a strike target.

The UAW Executive Board went ahead with pinpointing GM for a strike, but also voted to accede to the Simkin request.

Reuther even agreed to extend the Ford and Chrysler pacts beyond Sept. 6, but said of GM: "We will not extend their contract

The mercury will drop to about 67 tonight and rise to near 87 tomorrow.

The weatherman said Friday will be somewhat cooler but Saturday will again be warmer with not too much change thereafter.

Precipitation will total about 2 to 5 tenths inches from showers or thundershowers both Thursday and Saturday nights.

Morning southwesterly winds at 8 to 15 miles per hour will become 10 to 18 m.p.h. tomorrow.

The lowest recording in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 65 degrees. The thermometer reading at 2 p.m. was 87.

Merchants Plan Pontiac's Debut

The Downtown Merchants Association began planning its 1962 Pontiac Coming-Out Party Tuesday.

The Coming-Out Party is slated for Sept. 21-23. Plans thus far include amusement rides to be set up in the W. Lawrence Street municipal parking lots between Saginaw and Cass.

There will be free customer parking in all municipally owned lots and a free breakfast each morning in the old county courthouse parking lot.

Naturally, the "debutant" will be the 1962 Pontiac. Plans are being made for Pontiac Motor Division to display its 1962 models.

FALL FASHIONS

Merchants will go all-out to show the new fall lines in everything from fashions to appliances. Sidewalk selling, a colorful feature of the annual event, will again add to the festival spirit.

Outdoor style shows are also being planned by downtown merchants and promise to be a big attraction, according to Snee.

GOP-Con-Con Delegates Exchange Wit With UAW

A veteran UAW official last night took issue with the one-party political endorsements by the Oakland County AFL-CIO Council and assured Republicans they'd be considered too, in 1962.

In a witty exchange with seven GOP county con-con candidates at the Royal Oak YMCA, C. Patrick Quinn, a coordinator for the international union from Commerce Township, seemed to assume the election of George W. Romney, one of the seven.

"I know you're going to be up there (Lansing) regardless of how hard I work," Quinn said as 40 Republicans applauded and laughed with approval.

"I'm not so sure and that's why I'm here tonight," replied Romney, whose American Motors Corp. is working out the final details of a new contract with Quinn's union.

Quinn, 3296 Brookneal St., appeared at the last of two public forums, arranged by the county GOP to give its candidates an understanding of what special interest groups like the union want written into the new state constitution.

COULD NOT ATTEND

The county council, which has endorsed all Democratic County candidates in the Sept. 12 election, turned down an invitation to attend the first hearing held in Pontiac a week ago.

This prompted County GOP Chairman Arthur G. Elliott Jr., one of the seven unendorsed candidates, to fire a criticism at Fred V. Haggard, council president. Elliott said the union should have given the Republicans a hearing before making a a blanket Democratic endorsement.

A former Democratic state representative and president of the old Wayne County CIO Council, Quinn acknowledged that it "wasn't really right", that the local council had endorsed the Democratic con-con candidates without first giving consideration to Romney, Elliott and the others.

"You send a letter to Mr. Haggard in 1962 and if I'm around then I assure you you will get the same consideration as the others," Quinn said.

★ ★ ★

The Ireland-born unionist said the council was too busy with the present auto negotiations to have called the Republicans in before Democrats were given "a blanket endorsement" Aug. 9.

ICBM Blows Up at Canaveral

Minuteman Explosion Sends Flames, Debris Over Testing Base

★ ★ ★

The three-stage rocket exploded in a mass of flame a split-second after its massive booster engines ignited for a surge from the 90-foot launching silo.

★ ★ ★

The Air Force said there were no injuries to personnel.

However, it was not known how much damage was caused by the fiery blast that sent flame, smoke and debris soaring over the center section of this missile-testing base.

The 60-foot rocket apparently was partially in and partially out of the silo when it came apart at the seams.

FLAME BOILS UP

When the firing command was given at 1:30 p.m., red flame boiled from the depths of the hole.

A split-second later, the Minuteman complex became the heart of a display that looked like Fourth of July fireworks on a lake.

Flaming sparks and wreckage soared hundreds of feet into the air. Fire and smoke chugged from the silo itself as the solid fuel that propels the rocket burned itself out.

★ ★ ★

Within a half hour, the fire and smoke had died away, and Air Force crews moved in cautiously to try to find out the extent of the damage.

★ ★ ★

The Air Force hopes to install Minuteman rockets by the hundreds in underground silos in the Western United States starting next year—if the schedule does not fall seriously behind.

Rev. James B. Guinan

Planning Freedom Ride

A Farmington minister will be one of three Episcopal clergymen aboard a bus of freedom riders scheduled to leave New Orleans Sept. 11 for a trip to Dearborn.

★ ★ ★

Rev. James B. Guinan, rector of the Trinity Church in Farmington; Rev. Joseph Dickson, rector of St. Joseph Church, Detroit; and Rev. Malcolm Boyd, soon to take up duties as chaplain at Wayne State University, will make the journey.

The Rev. Mr. Guinan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Guinan of 140 State St., Pontiac, was ordained in 1949 and took over the ministerial duties at the Farmington church in 1952.

He attended Pontiac Public schools and graduated from Kenyon College in 1942. His first pastorate was in Belleville.

The Rt. Rev. Richards S. Emrich, bishop of the Episcopal diocese of Michigan, said Mr. Dickson and Mr. Guinan discussed the journey with him.

Mr. Guinan, vacationing with his family at Oscoda, could not be reached for comment about the trip. He lives at 23747 Ely Court, Farmington.

Bishop Emrich said, "I am not running an authorization agency. I have to respect the consciences of men in important social matters such as this.

"I do not inject myself unless a question of diocesan policy or a matter of faith and morals is involved."

The trip is to end in Dearborn Sept. 16—the day before the opening in Detroit of the 60th general convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church.

The tour, sponsored by the Episcopal Society for Cultural and Racial Unity, Atlanta, Ga., will visit six Episcopal colleges in the South.

Kennedy, Adenauer Stand Together

AP Photofax

EAST MEETS WEST—This is an aerial view of the Brandenburg Gate and the Eastern sector of Berlin. Once a bustling center of East-West activity, it now stands nearly deserted. West German President Heinrich Luebke paid Berlin a surprise visit today to inspect the barbed-wire and concrete barriers erected by the Communists.

Agree on Need to Counter Reds

Envoy Denies Further West Setbacks Will Weaken Germans

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy and West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer were reported in complete agreement today on the need for effective measures to counter any future Communist violations of East-West understandings on Berlin.

West German Ambassador Wilhelm Grewe delivered to Kennedy a letter from Adenauer. He had brought the message back from Bonn after 48 hours of conferences with Adenauer and other government officials.

After delivering the message to Kennedy at the White House, Grewe discounted any idea that further Western setbacks in the Berlin situation might put Western Germany in a neutralist mood. He told newsmen such reports "were considerably exaggerated."

★ ★ ★

The New York Times had reported in a Berlin dispatch that Adenauer had expressed such a fear.

GERMANS CONCERNED

Grewe said there is concern among West Germans about the situation and the possibility of future violations from East Germany.

He said he had "a long commentary" for himself and Adenauer to deliver with the letter to Kennedy.

"The main point was the possibility in the near future of further unilateral acts from the East German side and how to counteract such measures in an effective way," the ambassador said.

Grewe declined to make public any details in Adenauer's letter. But he said there was complete agreement between the contents of the letter and Kennedy's objectives.

The ambassador acknowledged that critical voices have been raised in West Germany against Adenauer's Western policies, asking whether they provided adequate protection for the people of West Berlin.

If he should choose to use it, Kennedy had a ready-made opportunity at a news conference later in the day to make a public response to Adenauer.

The Berlin situation and the forthcoming strategy meeting of the Western Big Four foreign ministers were certain to come up in questions.

Charter Issue to Be Discussed

Question in Waterford Overshadows Con-Con on Sept. 12 Ballot

Voting for a constitutional convention representative will be a secondary item on the Sept. 12 ballot in Waterford Township.

Township residents will be called on to decide if their community is to become a charter township. This question will be fully explored at a town hall meeting Sept. 5 at John D. Pierce Junior High School.

The meeting slated for 8 p.m. is sponsored by the Greater Waterford Community Council.

The change represents a step from rural government to incorporation into a city-type form of government.

A panel of four speakers will be at the meeting with Waterford Township School Supt. William A. Shunck as moderator.

Township Supervisor Elmer R. Johnson will compare costs of government and public improvements under the present and proposed forms.

Emphasizing the needs of the township will be Clair Johnson of Johnson & Anderson Engineers, Inc.

Dr. Louis Friedland, head of the political science department, Wayne State University, will explain the state charter act.

Advantages and disadvantages will be presented by Robert Robinson, supervisor of Meridian Township, which has had its charter for two years.

A question and answer period will follow. In addition, District 1 con-con candidates John Coleman and Richard Kuhn will speak briefly.

Assisting the council in meeting arrangements are the Lakeland Optimist Club, Waterford Junior Chamber of Commerce, Waterford-Drayton Rotary Club, Waterford Lions Club, Drayton-Waterford Kiwanis Club and the Waterford-Clarkston Business and Professional Women's Club.

Call U.N. Troops Into Congo Fray

Rush Reinforcements to Stanleyville, Scene of Mounting Tension

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (AP) — The United Nations rushed 350 Ethiopian reinforcements to Stanleyville today as tension between U.N. and Congolese troops mounted.

A Congolese soldier burst into the room at Gizenga's office and pointed a rifle at the chest of Englund, a Swede, and told him he was under arrest.

But the U.N. official's Ethiopian escort threatened to use force and the Congolese backed down.

FAMILIES EVACUATED

Seventeen families of U.N. officials in Stanleyville have been flown back to Leopoldville as a safety measure.

He returned amid reports that there has been a fresh break between the central Congolese government of Prime Minister Cyrille Adoula and the Stanleyville authorities. Word from Stanleyville was that Gizenga has formed a new political party violently anti-Western and anti-American.

CONSUL BEATEN

Cassilly was arrested and beaten by Congolese troops after firebrands haranguing a public rally had told the crowd America was behind the seizure of an Air Jordan plane bringing uniforms and food to the town from Cairo.

★ ★ ★

Cassilly was at the airport to insure the safety of two American members of the plane crew. He was arrested and beaten about the body with rifle butts. Later he was placed under joint U.N. and Congolese protection.

The Day in Birmingham

Bloomfield Twp. Okays Multiple Zoning Areas

The new ordinance, the first providing for multiple dwellings in the township, states that no more than 7 two-story housing units be built on an acre.

The areas zoned for multiple dwellings are parcels along both sides of Woodward Avenue, south of Square Lake Road to Hickory Grove Road; the southeast corner of Lahser and Maple roads; and the southeast and southwest corners of Telegraph and Maple roads.

The multiple dwellings will serve as a buffer zone between commercial and residential properties, according to a township spokesman.

The township also has awarded contracts for three paving projects to the A and A Asphalt Paving Co. of Birmingham for $118,380.

WILL BE PAVED

Scheduled for paving by Nov. 1 are streets in the Long Lake Shore and Bloomfield Heights subdivisions and Hammond Lake Drive.

The Birmingham firm was the lowest of four bidders.

Another contract was awarded to Hickson and Costigan of Detroit to construct a two-story brick garage on the township hall property for the storage of township vehicles and voting machines.

The firm, lowest of 11 bidders, received the contract for $57,940.

In another action the township board has taken the position that homeowners around a well site must agree 100 per cent before the township will allow the area to be used for winter recreational purposes.

Property owners in the area also must furnish a liability bond before the site can be used for ice skating.

The board also agreed that in the future the township will not take over the maintenance of a well site if its dedication contract contains a reverter clause that provides that the well site be returned to original owner if not used.

Sees Trouble for Taxpayers

State Solon Calls Hike in Michigan's Deficit Symptom of Disease

LANSING (UPI)—Serious trouble is ahead for the taxpayers of Michigan, Republican State Rep. Rollo G. Conlin of Tipton said today.

Conlin said he would hold a special meeting of the House Taxation Committee he chairs next month to compile "an analysis of why we are in continuing financial difficulty."

The Tipton Republican said the increase in the state's deficit to $71.5 million was a symptom of a deep-seated "disease . . . (which) goes to the heart of fiscal policy in Michigan."

"The situation cannot continue without very serious consequences for the people of our state," he said. "They must either accept very drastic cuts in expenditures or they must cut their way through the state financial jungle and make sense out of our tax system."

★ ★ ★

Conlin said reductions in expenditures would mean less state aid to schools, arbitrary and reduced limits on college enrollments and lower welfare and mental budgets.

★ ★ ★

"I for one am disgusted with budgets which are billed as 'balanced,' but turn out to be deficits," he said.

Warn Aggressors Will Be Wiped Out if War Starts Over Berlin

MOSCOW (AP)—Again blaming the United States and its allies for the current world tension, the Soviet government says it has stopped returning servicemen to civilian life and warned that aggressors will be wiped out "once and for all" if war starts.

★ ★ ★

A statement issued Tuesday night by the Communist party Central Committee and the Soviet Cabinet said Marshal Rodion Malinovsky, the Soviet defense minister, had been ordered to hold up demobilization of military personnel whose service would normally end this year "until the conclusion of a peace treaty with Germany."

★ ★ ★

The number of men involved was not announced, but Soviet Premier Khrushchev said July 8 that a military cutback of 1.2 million men which began last year was being halted because of the Western attitude on Berlin. How far the cutback had gone was never announced.

★ ★ ★

Khrushchev on Aug. 7 warned that Soviet troop strength might have to be boosted even further. He accused the West of pushing the world "to a dangerous brink" in the conflict over Berlin, which stems from Khrushchev's pledge to sign a peace treaty with East Germany's Communist regime by the end of the year. The communists contend a treaty would give East Germany control over Western access routes to West Berlin.

★ ★ ★

President Kennedy responded to the Soviet diplomatic offensive by offering to negotiate but stressing the West's intention to fight for Berlin if necessary. He called for the biggest U.S. troop buildup since the Korean war, including the right to hold military men in service.

Reds Free Car at Tanks' Threat

BERLIN (AP)—A U.S. Army sedan that had been halted under the guns of Communist police came out of East Berlin today after three American tanks and four armored personnel carriers rushed to the city's Iron Curtain border.

★ ★ ★

Col. Wayne Winder of Sheraton, Ill., signaled the American armor into position only 10 yards from the Friedrichstrasse crossing point after word of the car's plight was brought in by a Western bus driver. Tank guns were trained on green-uniformed Communist police guarding the barricades.

French officers reported that the American sedan had been held about 600 yards from the crossing point—under the guns of two Soviet-built armored cars manned by East German police.

The sedan was driven by a soldier in uniform and had three passengers, also in uniform. The senior occupant gave his name as Capt. Wirth. He declined to identify himself in more detail. He said he had to report to his commander.

The right front window of the car was cracked. Occupants said it "was hit by something, but not a bullet."

The incident came a few hours after another Communist shooting. An East German swam to freedom across the Teltow Canal under a hail of bullets from Red border guards. He climbed out on the West bank of the canal unhurt.

During the past week, Communist troops have killed two men trying to swim the 60 yards across the canal, which forms part of the border in the divided city. Berlin is now call it the "Death Canal."

Police reported that Communist guards elsewhere on the border flung tear gas grenades and fired water cannon Tuesday night at about 60 persons gathered at Alexandrienenstrasse, in Kreuzberg in the American sector. Shortly after midnight the Communists opened up again when a group of Western youths started catcalling.

About 5 a.m., a Communist water cannon at Treptowerstrasse suddenly let fly at a police patrol car on the Western side.

He added he would meet with GM negotiators today and "stay with them in an effort to arrive at an agreement" by the announced deadline.

The Federal Mediation Service's intervention in the contract talks was viewed as possibly the first open indication of concern by the Kennedy administration that the industry might be tied up by a strike right at the start of a new model year. But Simkin denied he was acting at the request of President Kennedy or Labor Secretary Arthur J. Goldberg.

His action, Simkin said, was "absolutely necessary to avoid a strike" and was a routine step.

Reuther also denied emphatically that he had encouraged the federal intervention.

Holding up a copy of the AFL-CIO News, Quinn said it wasn't true, as Elliott alleged, that only Democrats in the con-con election have been endorsed. He said the Lansing area union council had endorsed five Democrats and two Republicans.

Pontiac GOP con-con candidate Raymond L. King, an attorney, sought to find out from Quinn if the Oakland council had determined the position of his opponent, Leslie N. Hudson, on the crucial legislative apportionment issue before he was endorsed.

King has charged that Hudson, a former state representative and city hardware dealer, has expressed views on this controversial issue "that would curl the hair of Gus Scholle," Scholle is president of the Michigan AFL-CIO.

King said all he was seeking was "an opportunity to be heard" by the union "on an equal basis."

Expects U.S. to OK Plan Lending Boost to Detroit

WASHINGTON (AP)—Approval for an over-all economic development plan for Detroit is expected from the Area Redevelopment Administration, Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., says.

★ ★ ★

ARA approval, Hart said, while not automatically granting aid to Detroit, does make the city eligible to submit projects to the ARA. Loans and grants are available under the ARA for industrial and commercial projects as well as public facilities.

Senate Tosses Ash Tray

SANTIAGO, Chile (UPI)—Socialist Sen. Aniceto Rodriguez set off a series of fist fights in the Senate's gallery Tuesday when he tossed an ashtray at some hecklers, injuring one of them. Six persons were arrested.

GOP Leaders Urge Nixon to Run in California

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Republican congressional leaders today urged former Vice President Richard M. Nixon to run for governor of California next year.

Nixon and other party leaders also agreed that the GOP must build its strength in the 1962 elections "to put a brake on potentially disastrous" policies of the Kennedy administration.

Nixon, the 1960 Republican presidential nominee, gave no answer to those urging him to seek the California governorship next year. He reiterated that he would make a decision late in September.

Senate-House Conferees OK 5-Year Loan

Reach Accord on Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate-House conferees have approved a five-year $7.2-billion overseas loan program but eliminated its most controversial provision, authority to borrow from the Treasury. President Kennedy said the compromise was "wholly satisfactory."

He hailed it as "an important decision for the United States and the free world."

The conferees, who have been ironing out differences between Senate and House foreign aid bills, announced the loan program compromise Tuesday night.

PLAN WRAP-UP

With the major obstacles behind them, they meet again today to wrap up their work. The compromise then goes before the Senate and House.

Top-Rank Opposition Lines Up in GOP, Pg. 22

Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., predicted today that both the House and Senate will approve the compromise which he described as "the most reasonable that could be worked out."

"To a large degree this gives the President the long-range authority which he requested," Mansfield told newsmen.

"It's not a case of getting all you want but rather getting the most reasonable accommodation of different views."

Loans for this year, $1.2 billion, will be included in an over-all foreign aid program for fiscal 1962. It will be the biggest foreign aid authorization in years, $4,253,500,000.

For days it had been obvious that House conferees were convinced the House would insist on annual appropriations from Congress to finance the development loan program.

Kennedy originally asked $8.8 billion for a five-year program to be financed by borrowing from the Treasury. The Senate voted $8 billion for the program and approved the borrowing authority.

In the conferees' compromise, the Senate yielded the borrowing authority while the House agreed to a five-year program, instead of the one-year, $1.2 billion program the House had voted.

Reporting the compromise after a night session, Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., told reporters it was "not exactly what I wanted but a compromise."

He said he hoped to call the measure up in the Senate for a vote Thursday.

Under the agreement, Kennedy receives authorization for $1.2 billion in development loan funds this year and $1.5 billion for each of the next four years.

IS THAT AN EGG?—This hen at North Carolina State College at Raleigh registers surprise at an egg shaped like a child's building block. College scientists developed the cube-shaped eggs as a stunt to help advertise North Carolina as "the good egg state." A template with an eggless shell was placed with the hen, who obligingly deposited a shell around the template. But it was uncomfortable for Biddy, so the state will keep the standard shape.

Reds No Longer Interested

Separate N-Ban Pact Out

GENEVA (UPI) — Western negotiators said today the Soviet Union had served notice it is no longer interested in a nuclear test ban agreement separate from a general disarmament pact.

U.S. Ambassador Arthur H. Dean and British negotiator David Ormsby-Gore said the Soviets had brushed aside all the latest Western proposals and insisted a test ban agreement can be settled only within the framework of general disarmament.

Dean today presented two further Western proposals to the 338th session of the deadlocked nuclear conference. One of them was meant to make unnecessary the Soviet demand for a three-man "troika" administrative council to supervise control operations.

During the one hour-and-45 minute session, Ormsby-Gore pressed Soviet delegate Semyon K. Tsarapkin on whether the Soviet government had lost interest in the idea of an agreement to ban nuclear weapons tests under strict international control as a first step toward disarmament.

Ormsby-Gore told a news conference after the meeting that Tsarapkin did not answer the question directly. But the implication was clearer than ever before that the Soviet Union is now withdrawing its offer of an independent nuclear test ban treaty, observers said.

Berlin May Hurt Adenauer at Polls

BERLIN (UPI)—West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer guessed wrong on the Berlin crisis and the mistake may hurt his party's chances for victory in the Sept. 17 voting, diplomatic observers said today.

Adenauer's Christian Democrats hope to hold their absolute majority in the Federal Parliament, and the chances of doing that appear to be growing dimmer with each day of the Berlin crisis.

The Christian Democrats expect to be the largest party in Parliament, as they have been since 1949, but observers feel they will have less than the majority necessary to form a government on their own.

Adenauer's supporters blame this situation primarily on what they regard as the chancellor's faulty reaction to the Communist sealing of the East-West Berlin border the morning of Aug. 13, and his bitter personal attacks on West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt since then.

Two speeches Tuesday in which the chancellor contended that the Russians provoked the present Berlin crisis to help Brandt in next month's elections, were expected to exasperate the voters further.

"Since the mid-1930s, when the Nazis banned Adenauer from public office and he had to sell paintings in Berlin to support his family, the chancellor — himself a Cologne man — has disliked this city.

Adenauer stubbornly refused to come to Berlin to reassure the population after the Communists made their big move. Only on Aug. 15 did he call a cabinet meeting to discuss the Berlin crisis. He preached calmness, saying there was no reason for panic.

LET BRANDT BE HERO

Above all, Adenauer let Brandt become the hero of the hour by writing President Kennedy to suggest the immediate dispatch of additional American troops to West Berlin, an action that was ordered a few hours later.

Brandt leads the Socialist party, West Germany's principal opposition group.

Adenauer finally came to Berlin two days after U.S. Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson had been here. Even then, the chancellor remained for only eight hours.

Private public opinion polls ordered by the Christian Democrats in the last week indicate all this has hurt the party badly.

The reason is not that West Germans are radical supporters of a fighting stand in Berlin, or that a majority are inclined toward the Socialists.

Instead, say friends of Adenauer, the 85-year-old chancellor's reaction to the Berlin crisis has convinced many voters that he is too old to cope efficiently with the great problems of the day.

This impression was backed up by an opinion poll in Bielefeld, which showed that the governing Christian Democrats have continually lost supporters since June of this year, while the opposition Socialists are gaining in popularity.

Butte, Mont., is called "the richest hill on earth" because of its copper mines, which produce one-sixth of all the copper mined in the world.

Warns Japanese of Quakes to Come

TOKYO (UPI) — Japanese Transportation Minister Noboru Saito warned the people Tuesday to be prepared for the "possible occurrence of big earthquakes in the near future."

Saito made the warning in a cabinet meeting.

The recent quake in Central Honshu, Saito said, was of a magnitude of 7.2, compared with the magnitude 8 of the Tokyo-Yokohama earthquake of 1923. Two earthquakes in rapid succession in waters off Japan recently indicates "we should be fully prepared," Saito said.

FROM THE COMMUNIST SIDE—East Berlin soldier holds mirror in hand in attempt to cast reflection of sunlight in an attempt to irritate Western photographers in Berlin. At right the reflection is cast directly into lens of the photographer on west side of Friedrichstrasse crossing point. Communists had a man stationed on the East Berlin sector frontier. His job was to raise the mirror every time a photographer on the west side raised a camera, in an effort to fog negatives.

Mirror—New Weapon

Reds Fight With Sun

By THOMAS A. REEDY

BERLIN (AP) — The Communists stationed a man on the East Berlin sector frontier today with an unusual weapon, a mirror.

* * *

His job was to raise the mirror every time a photographer on the West side of the Friedrichstrasse crossing point leveled a camera and — by aligning the mirror to catch the sun's rays — try to fog the negative.

That's all he did from mid-morning through the afternoon. He even skipped lunch to stay on Friedrichstrasse, designed by the East Germans as the only street through which the Western Allies and other foreigners may cross now to East Berlin.

Photographers on the West side gave him a workout. They raised their cameras each time he tilted his mirror, so he had lots of lenses as targets.

* * *

The busy chap was about 40. He wore a gray suit with a white shirt and a necktie.

He stood on the pavement just inside the East sector.

That is a direct translation from the German.

* * *

What the sergeant meant was that the chap was not a policeman, he was a civilian. Certainly he had orders to be there, perhaps from the Communist party or the propaganda ministry.

Says U.S. Faces the Red Coats of Karl Marx

DETROIT (AP)—In "A New Revolution of 1776" the United States faces "The Red Coats of Karl Marx," a former Earlham College professor told an anti-Communist conference Tuesday.

"There can be no compromise," E. Merrill Root, a former professor of English at the Richmond, Ind., College told 728 persons at the "Counterattack" conference sponsored by Education for Freedom, Inc., at the University of Detroit.

Another speaker, Fred Schlafly Jr., a former member of the American Bar Association's special committee on Communist tactics, strategy and objectives, said Communists are planting dangerous slogans in a psychological warfare campaign.

* * *

The slogans, said Schlafly, an Alton, Ill., attorney, include "The Communist Party Is Just Another Political Party." "There Is No Such Thing as Guilt by Association" and "It Is All Right to Hire Communists."

Cuba Kills Commercials

HAVANA (UPI)—The government-controlled newspaper Prensa Libre announced Tuesday night that all commercials will be eliminated henceforth from television and radio programs in Cuba.

Gunman Kills Child in Omaha

Girl Slain Sitting on Porch; Teen, Dog Shot at; Police Nab Suspect

OMAHA, Neb. (UPI) — A motorized gunman killed a 9-year-old girl with a shotgun blast Tuesday night and fired at another girl and a dog during a shooting spree in Northwest Omaha.

* * *

Shortly after the series of shootings, Richard Lee Lawler, 26, of Omaha, was pulled from an overturned car and held as a suspect. A shotgun which had apparently been fired recently, four empty shells and a six-pack of beer were found in the wreckage.

* * *

Lawler suffered a bump on the head in the crash. He told authorities he could not remember firing the shotgun in the city.

Beverly Peterson, daughter of Arnold Peterson, farm director of stations WOW and WOW-TV, was struck in the face and fatally wounded by a blast from a shotgun fired from a car which had pulled in front of her family home while she sat on the porch with two sisters and a friend.

* * *

Mary Ann King, 16, suffered a slight wound when a shotgun pellet hit her in the thigh as she walked along a sidewalk in the same general neighborhood.

2 Drowned in Lake in Separate Mishaps

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—An Eastern Michigan man and an 8-year-old Grand Rapids girl drowned within 15 minutes of each other Tuesday night in separate mishaps at Lamar Lake in suburban Wyoming.

The victims were Edward W. Lindsay Jr., 25, of Port Huron, and Margaret Thues, daughter of Harry Thues.

Lindsay had been visiting at nearby Grandville and was at the lake on an outing when he went under. Wyoming police rescue squadmen ~~were~~ applying artificial respiration after he was brought ashore when Thues rushed up to report his daughter missing. A brief search led to the child in the lake.

GRAND RAPIDS (UPI)—Nearly eight miles of I96 was opened to traffic southeast of the city today, extending the route from suburban Cascade to the east edge of Grand Rapids.

Parochial School Aid May Snag Con-Con Workers

(Editor's Note: The convention to revise Michigan's 1908 Constitution meets in Lansing Oct. 3. This is the second in a series of articles dealing with possible changes in the state's basic law.)

By DON MYERS

One of them has the potential for reducing the constitutional convention which starts Oct. 3 to a religion-oriented free-for-fall, while the other will probably be corrected with only token objection.

In the second article of Michigan's Constitution, which contains many of the same guarantees of rights as the first 10 amendments—the Bill of Rights—in the Federal Constitution, there is a prohibition against spending money "for the benefit of any religious sect or society, theological or religious seminary."

A scaled-down version of the federal fight over aid to parochial schools could result in a con-con donnybrook for Michigan.

The other major problem in the "Bill of Rights" article is in a section which prohibits unreasonable search and seizure of citizen's property.

An amendment adopted by popular vote in 1936 removed this protection as it concerns "any firearm, rifle, pistol, revolver, automatic pistol, machine gun, bomb, bomb shell, explosive, blackjack, slingshot, billy, metallic knuckles, gas-ejecting device, or any other dangerous weapon or thing . . ."

★ ★ ★

Another amendment later added "any narcotic drug or drugs" to the list of things admissable as court evidence no matter how they were seized.

EASIER FOR POLICE

The United States Supreme Court this year nullified the Michigan provision making it easier for police to obtain evidence of the types enumerated in the Constitution.

The federal high court, in a decision involving an Ohio woman, said unreasonable search violates the federal Constitution.

Michigan's constitutional convention delegates can be expected to correct this item in the state's basic law, which is contrary to the rights guaranteed individuals under the federal Constitution.

While someone is sure to charge that a change would hamstring police, the federal directive appears clear.

On the issue of state money for parochial schools, however, there is no direction from the federal level. In fact, there are powerful opinions on the subject from several quarters—some saying aid should be granted, others saying the U.S. Constitution prohibits it.

Delegates to Michigan's con-con might choose to ignore the issue, leaving it to the federal government and the state legislature.

But if somebody suggests that permission for aid to parochial schools should be spelled out in the constitution, somebody else will probably insist that such aid ought to be specifically prohibited.

Language in the present constitution appears ambiguous enough to require judicial interpretation, if unchanged by the con-con.

Only certain transportation programs have been receiving aid under present law, but parochial students are counted—though the schools do not receive a share of the aid—when the state determines how money in the primary school interest fund should be distributed.

If efforts are made to get state aid for parochial schools, it could open the floodgate holding back all kinds of controversy over religion in education.

General problems — without the additional question of religion — will create headaches for school men at the con-con.

Car Mirrors Give You Eyes in Back of Head

Frequent and proper use of rear-view mirrors, both inside and outside, provides drivers with a margin of driving safety that greatly improves their ability to "Bring 'Em Back Alive!" the Automobile Club of Michigan advises.

Mirrors give you eyes in the back of your head, and allow you to always know what traffic conditions are like behind you. A check in your rear view mirror keeps you aware of what is going on, and helps you anticipate traffic problems before they arise.

It is essential to use your rear view mirrors when you slow down, stop, park, turn to the right or left, pass another car, change lanes, back up, or turn around.

If a car overtakes you by surprise, or appears out of nowhere when you are turning, it is probably because you haven't been using your rear view mirror to its best advantage.

One of the most essential safety devices on your car, it helps keep you fully informed, and in driving, as in other things, the most intelligent action is taken by the most fully informed persons.

China No Longer Gains; Population Now Static

. MAO TSE-TUNG and NIKITA KHRUSHCHEV create so many problems for the Western nations that it is encouraging to note that some of the changes now taking place in the world are wrinkling the brows of the Communist leaders.

The latest of these problems to be brought to light is the apparent halt in the growth of China's population. Listed at 650 million in 1957, a new census has been under way. Judging from the previous rate of increase, a total in the neighborhood of 700 million was anticipated. Instead, Peking has just announced 650 million as the new total, without any reference to the fact that if this figure is correct, China's population has stood still for the past three years.

★ ★ ★

It is easy to see why MAO didn't call attention to the fact that China's population has been standing still, or perhaps even slipping backward during the past three years. It would have been embarrassing to explain this switch in population trends after he had boasted in past years of steady gains in his nation's population.

Western observers suspect the reasons behind the new trend are not at all to Mao's liking. They believe the birth rate has declined because of malnutrition.

They believe the death rate has risen because of shortages of food, high incidence of disease, and possibly in some measure because of overwork as Communist bosses sought to force the Chinese people to produce more food through the abortive Commune organization which has proved such a failure.

If these estimates are correct, their effect may well prove cumulative. In his struggle to industrialize his nation and to built up its military power, Mao may find that his attempt to break up family life and make the state all-powerful has boomeranged.

Malnutrition will have a tendency not only to reduce the birth rate, but to weaken millions of underfed Chinese people and leave them more susceptible to disease. This is a potent threat in view of the severe cholera epidemic which has been reported recently in Kwangtung Province, and the near famine conditions which have haunted large areas in China for so many years.

China's lagging population does not speak well for Communist leadership. It does not make good propaganda. Like the fleeing of millions of East Germans from behind the Iron Curtain, it shows the world how little the Red leaders care for humanity. A man or a woman means nothing under communism. The individual is but a pawn who is expected to serve the state. If he dies, another will be put in his place.

This sounded like good sense to Mao so long as China's population kept on growing. But if it should begin to decline, as may already be true, then he will have to revise his program. He must either devote more of his nation's resources to food production or spend vastly greater sums than before on the importing of food. In either case, the money and other resources available for building up his war machine must inevitably be curtailed.

Test Stand Retires

A well-known test stand used for the static-firing of rocket engines was recently retired from duty at George C. Marshall Space Flight Center in Huntsville, Ala.

This would hardly be news except for the fact that the stand, built from salvaged scraps of metal in 1953, was originally meant for only one firing. It was actually used 361 times.

★ ★ ★

The rockets which put up this country's first satellite and boosted astronauts Shepard and Grissom into space were first proved out on this stand.

★ ★ ★

The now famous structure won't be torn down, however. Like many other veterans, it has joined the ready reserves on the chance it may be needed again.

The Man About Town

Fur Was First

In the Monetary Income of Pontiac's Pioneers

Vegetables: What we eat what we can and what we can't we can.

Recent discoveries show that it was not timber, farm products or industry that topped the list in the income of the first pioneers in the Pontiac area. It was trapping.

Palmer Francis

of Detroit, shows some interesting facts. It was found in the effects of his great-grandfather, a Pontiac resident in its early days.

Ebenezer Price,

That 1820 census was taken the year that Oakland County was organized, and it shows that the county had a population of 330.

The first white settlement in the county had been made at the present site of Rochester only three years before, and the first on the present site of Pontiac only two years before.

The census gives the county income for that year on farming as $3,218.56; on lumber $3,113.95, and no mention is made of other industry.

But the income of local trappers from furs was $11,332.50. This was for "furs caught within the county."

It also is interesting to note that the middleman already was on the job in a big way, as a notation following the figures on trapping says, "Worth at least five times that on the eastern market."

It is not generally known that 141 years later trapping is a sizeable industry in Oakland County. Although considerably restricted by law, local trappers of muskrat, mink, skunk and other animals realize an annual total of several times that of 1820.

The restrictions came too late on the beaver, once quite prevalent here, and whose fur brought a good price, but now extinct in this area.

This column's sunflower marathon again changes leaders, as

Mrs. Peter Faubus

Tuberous begonia blooms that measure nearly seven inches across are adding to the beauty of the garden of

of Birmingham, who also have an apple tree with ripe fruit and blossoms on the same limb.

Thanks to our many readers who have come forward with their annual assertion that a few tablespoons of oat meal in a gallon of water makes the best hot weather drink.

After an absence of several days, the heretofore talkative parakeet of

of Auburn Heights has returned home in a badly bedraggled condition—and isn't saying anything.

of Rochester, growing on a plant in her garden. When told that it was a castor bean plant, her 4-year-old son said, "Kill it."

They'll Come Abuzzing

David Lawrence Learns:

West Is Slow on Labor Relations

WASHINGTON—One of the biggest challenges in the current competition between the Soviet Union and the Western countries is to be found in the field of labor-management relations.

LAWRENCE

There is no equivalent on the Western side as yet for the discipline which the Soviets have achieved in handling their labor. The Western countries are being urged to find voluntary methods that will attain some semblance of order in the wage-price problem and permit economic progress without disastrous interruptions due to major strikes.

★ ★ ★

In the United States, the friction between the two economic forces has long been recognized as serious, but no solution has been achieved.

Nobody wants to see the government run the labor unions or direct the management of the employing companies. So the tendency thus far has been to rely on some form of government mediation. It has not always proved effective.

Europeans, on the other hand, have made some progress toward voluntary settlement of disputes which it would be desirable for America in particular to examine and see whether some of the same principles could not be successfully applied in this country.

★ ★ ★

On this writer's recent trip to Europe, he had an opportunity for a long talk, in Sweden, with Arne Geijer, who is not only chairman of the Swedish Federation of Labor Unions but also chairman of the International Confederation of Free Trade Unions. He has often visited the United States and is well known to its labor leaders.

★ ★ ★

He favors a policy of moderate wage demands rather than hit-or-miss settlements which hurt the economy. He says that wages must not get out of line with the development of industrial productivity. This is, of course, even more important to European countries, which must watch their competitive position closely in export markets.

SOCIAL WELFARE

The Swedish labor leader is also insistent that workers must moderate their wage demands with respect to social welfare measures. He sees a growing competition between labor and government in the field of social welfare.

He thinks that workers cannot have both—maximum wage increases and generous social welfare arrangements. He would prefer to see the government handle the whole welfare problem.

It has taken time for Geijer to convince local labor leaders of the long-range advantages of a moderate wage policy and better cooperation with management, but he is making substantial progress.

He said, incidentally, that the United States has a lot to learn about the settling of disputes with labor.

Geijer, in his capacity as chairman of the International Federation of Free Trade Unions, recently said:

"One is always faced with the problem of how to limit labor disputes, strikes and lockouts by democratic means, in order to benefit as much as possible from the rapid pace of development.

"In some countries these problems have been solved through legislation which, in many cases, covers quite extensive areas, and this is an infringement upon the freedom of the parties in the labor market to secure peaceful conditions.

"To my mind, the freedom of the parties in the labor market to negotiate agreements concerning wages and working conditions is an essential part of a democratic society. . . .

"However, we must not misuse this freedom. Otherwise the state can be forced to intervene or can make an excuse for doing so in order to ward off serious harm to the community. The freedom of the parties in the labor market to fix wages and working conditions without interference is therefore a freedom under responsibility. . . ."

NOT ALL HONEY

But all is not optimism about the future of labor relations in Sweden. There are fears of a major strike next year—the first in many years. Wages keep on going up, and so do prices. Profit margins are narrowing.

That's why so many of Sweden's industrialists pin their hopes on the European Common Market. They look for increased volume even at smaller profit margins to help them out of their wage dilemmas.

Dr. Harold Hyman Says:

Eye Impairment, Blindness Inflicted by Cataracts

Here are some facts about your eyesight that might be worth your serious consideration, especially if you are 40 or over:

An estimated million persons in the United States have serious eye ailments without noticing any trouble.

In every large survey of persons over 40, two out of every hundred have chronic glaucoma. In homes for the elderly, this figure rises to six in a hundred.

Every year about 4,000 of us go blind from glaucoma. In almost every instance, the vision might have been preserved and controlled by early discovery and faithful treatment.

★ ★ ★

While glaucoma accounts for 14 to 15 per cent of blindness in the United States, it is only second to cataract as a causative condition. Blindness from cataract also is amenable to treatment when discovered early and remedied by operative surgery.

INFLAMED NERVE

Further down on the list of causes for blindness is inflammation of the nerve for vision, usually a result of chemical injury (retrobulbar optic neuritis). This too is preventable if diagnosed early and treated faithfully.

With this information at hand, most of it prepared by the National Institute of Neurological Diseases and Blindness of the National Institute of Health in Bethesda, Md., perhaps you'd like to know something of these conditions and what you can do to preserve one of your most cherished and valuable possessions.

Glaucoma is the name given a condition that is characterized by increased pressure of the fluids that are normally present within the eyeball. This pressure (intra-ocular tension) is easily and painlessly measured by the eye specialist (ophthalmologist). After a drop of local anesthetic solution is placed in your eye, the reading is made by gently pressing a measuring instrument (tonometer) on the eyeball. That's all there is to it.

This simple measurement, made in a few seconds, may prove the means for saving your vision, often without the need for any surgery.

The Country Parson

"A lot of the troubles of the world would be solved if we could just learn to spend less than we earn."

'Soldiers No Longer Get Rough-Tough Treatment'

Having just returned from duty with the U.S. Army Reserve, I was both shocked and disgusted at the lack of discipline, disrespect for rank and the methods training our new recruits.

★ ★ ★

A sergeant can no longer exercise his authority for fear of losing his rank—all because mothers of these "little darlings" are writing to senators and congressmen that their "babies" are being mistreated.

★ ★ ★

I took my training five years ago. On the first day we were told we were men and would be trained as such. There was no such thing as talking back, and I never heard of anyone writing a letter to his mother telling her he was being mistreated because he had to do 20 push-ups, mop down the barracks, or that it was too hot or too cold to be training.

★ ★ ★

If our country has to depend on what we now have in training, God help us!

'Offer Would Please Retail Workers'

Being a retail worker I read, with justifiable envy, the new offer made UAW members by the big corporations. The fact that they are scorning the offer is a cause for deep concern.

The ire of the auto worker seems to be directed at office workers and executives.

Do they realize that the average office worker, too, has skills often acquired in schools of higher learning at great personal effort. Often years of service with gradual pay increases are invested before an office worker attains a salary comparable with the starting pay of unskilled workers. Who should resent whom? An office worker must produce consistently or he's out, which is the way it should be.

Instead of quoting executive's salary and bonus figures, would it not be wise to state that Joe Doakes of Blank Motor Co. received as a bonus $4,500 after taxes, the other $44,500 going to the government as income tax? Newspapers and periodicals should make these comparisons more often and in very plain English.

Let's confine our ire and hatred to the forces of communism and run no chance of ignorance and greed marking our downfall.

The big army of retail workers would surely think they'd arrived at an Utopian state if they were offered a setup as auto workers are now scorning.

'Important Reasons Behind Strike'

To husband of "Working Man's Wife," tell her she was so right that most men do not want a strike, but a greater per cent voted "yes" because they are willing to strike for better working conditions and a guaranteed higher standard of living.

★ ★ ★

Tell her Reuther is greatly concerned about present and future retirees by getting them higher pensions and paid insurance. The older union organizers had wives who had what it takes.

★ ★ ★

The union saves some of the $5 dues for a strike fund so we won't have to suffer as much as the old timers did.

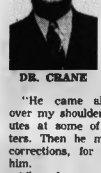
Case Records of a Psychologist:

Prize Contesting Is Zestful Tonic

BY DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE J-481: Andrea M., aged 41, is a jittery housewife for whom I suggested "Prize Contesting" as a hobby.

"Dr. Crane," she began about 9 months later, "I can't thank you enough for steering us into prize contesting.



DR. CRANE

"My husband was reluctant at first, so I decided to try it alone. One night I had our dining room table covered with contest material.

"He came along and looked over my shoulder for several minutes at some of my 25-word letters. Then he made a couple of corrections, for which I thanked him.

"Soon he was helping me write new letters. And we entered 3 in that first contest.

"Well, we just naturally kept on, for once you get well launched, it is like a contagious disease, for you can't quit.

"We also began to write limericks and submit names for a 'New Home' contest.

"Since our contests didn't have the winners announced for 3 or 4 months, our early enthusiasm had to subsist on hope.

"But it was great fun and we began to share this common hobby with such zest that we felt like newlyweds. It welded us back together again in a very instructive hobby.

"After 4 months, one day we received a strange letter in the mail. Apparently, we had beginners' luck, for the letter contained a check for $100 that we had won in the 3rd contest we had entered.

"The thrill of actually getting a prize was so intoxicating, we celebrated that night by going to a drive-in movie.

"Since then we have won 17 more prizes. Some were $5 and $10 checks, but others included an electric refrigerator, a set of encyclopedias, plus an all-expense trip to Mexico City.

"Dr. Crane, it wasn't just the cash value of our prizes that we liked the best, but the renewed zest in living, plus our being brought closer together in this fascinating hobby.

"If every married couple could become contest minded, it would snap them out of their stodgy living and give them a new outlook on life. Thank you for getting us infected with the contest bug."

CASH HOBBIES

A lot of Americans waste time and money gambling on the policy games or the horses and dice.

But prize contesting is a far superior outlet for mental energy and can bring you much greater returns in cash as well as happiness.

Instead of pouring over racing dope sheets and hocking your furniture to raise dough for a few more $2 pari-mutuel bets, get wise to facts.

You can improve your English, plus your advertising skill, and restore your marriage to a far happier, more zestful arrangement by entering prize contests.

Your children can also join you parents at this new game. And invalids or patients at the Vet Hospitals will likewise get a double thrill.

For when anybody at the hospital wins a prize, the news travels through all the wards almost instantly and perks up the morale of the entire hospital population.

Several monthly magazines are now being published to help contest fans and aspiring writers.

But if you wish a quick outline of the salient points, send for my booklet "How to Write

Mrs. Crane and I used to be contest addicts and won many prizes, including two of $1,000 in national contests, so we speak from experience.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4 cent stamped, self-addressed envelope and 25 cents to cover typing and mailing costs when you send for his psychological charts and booklet.

Twists Phrases to Sound Good

Nikita Slick in His 'Legality'

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

Not generally remarked upon in the mounting Berlin crisis is the fact that Nikita Khrushchev is demanding not merely two Germanys but three.

Berlin and its isolated 2.5 million people would be the third.

And in German eyes, a fourth could be added.

This would be what in Bonn, the capital of the German Federal Republic, is referred to as the Eastern territories, those lands beyond the Oder-Neisse sliced from East Germany by the Soviets and turned over to Poland.

Those lands, originally to be held in trust until conclusion of a formal German peace treaty, Khrushchev now would assign definitely and firmly to Poland.

The latest exposition of Khrushchev's views came in an interview with columnist Drew Pearson published this week. Since the English language version of Khrushchev's statement was prepared by Khrushchev's own interpreters, it provided an especially interesting document for students of semantics, defined by the dictionary as the science of meanings.

In it Khrushchev employed both his well-known histrionic abilities and that art form in the field of propaganda which permits the Communists to manufacture their own set of facts to fit any given situation.

Thus the Bonn government became "revanchard," which another trip to the dictionary discloses to mean revenge-seeking.

The East Germans, it is made known, "created" another state which "bore a peace-loving and democratic character." This, no doubt, came as a surprise to the East Germans who suffer the regime of Communist leader Walter Ulbricht only because of the close presence of 22 Soviet divisions.

NOT MENTIONED

Further, it is disclosed that the East Germans "repeatedly sought" to get the West Germans to the conference table to discuss reunification. Not once was it mentioned that all such attempts failed because the Communists specifically banned any move to permit the East Germans self-determination.

★ ★ ★

About the future of a "free" West Berlin, Khrushchev had this interesting proposal:

"We propose to include a clause in the treaty to the effect that no one shall have the right to interfere in the affairs of West Berlin or impose their order upon its people."

The language of the clause would seem to protect the rights of West Berliners.

But, remembering bitter Communist attacks upon Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's visit to West Berlin, it also could be used to prevent his return.

No matter how bald-faced their scheme, it is Soviet policy to cloak it in legality. Thus Khrushchev refers to a "sovereign" German democratic republic which is, in fact, no more sovereign than Hungary.

In coming weeks, efforts to find a successful formula for the German question will be intensified. Prime Minister Nehru of India is said to be drawing up a plan which will call on all powers to observe the "human aspect" of the problem.

There is no sign now that the humaanities have much bearing on Khrushchev's thinking.

High Court to Hear School Board Appeal

LANSING (UP) — The State Supreme Court today agreed to hear an appeal from the Lansing Board of Education protesting annexation to Lansing of an adjoining community school district.

Transfer of the district, between Lansing and East Lansing, was ordered last spring by the joint boards of education of Ingham, Clinton and, Eaton counties.

Residents of the district petitioned for the transfer, saying it lacked finances to meet school needs. Lansing school officials contend the action bypasses their policy calling for political annexations before school mergers.

Delivers Kennedy Note to Selassie of Ethiopia

The contents were not divulged but the message was believed to give the United States standpoint on the Berlin crisis.

Extradition Refused for Robbery Suspect

Strahan was wanted by California authorities for allegedly holding up a bar in Bellflower, Calif., last Jan. 21.

During an extradition hearing, Strahan testified that he had never been in the bar and that he was honeymooning in California at the time.

Robert Derengowski, legal advisor to Swainson, said a lie detector test indicated Strahan was telling the truth. He added that a comparision of Strahan's fingerprints with those of the bar bandit showed they did not match.

Employment Rose in August

Labor Chief Goldberg Notes Record Figure, Slight Dip in Jobless

WASHINGTON (AP)—Employment surged to a record high during August and there was some reduction in the number of long-term unemployed.

But Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg, releasing the August job figures Tuesday, said the unemployment rate remained at the same 6.9 per cent of the labor force.

Employment hit a total of 68,539,000, up 40,000 over July. This compared with 68,282,000 in August last year.

Unemployment was down 598,000 to 4,542,000, compared with 3,788,000 a year earlier.

STUDENTS QUIT TRYING

Despite the dip in unemployed, Goldberg said the percentage of the labor force out of jobs remained the same because the labor force total declined as many students, unable to find summer jobs, quit trying.

Goldberg said he was encouraged by some reduction in the number of long-term unemployed—those who have been out of jobs for so many months that their unemployment compensation payments have ended.

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—A federal judge says the hijacked Cuban freighter Bahia de Nipe is protected by the doctrine of sovereign immunity and should be returned to Cuba — but not until claimants against it have exhausted all their avenues of appeal.

★ ★ ★

The judicial branch of the federal government "should avoid any conflict with the executive in the field of international relations," Dist. Judge Walter E. Hoffman said Tuesday night in supporting the U.S. State Department's decision to return the 3,800-ton-vessel to the Castro government.

STAYED ORDER

But he stayed execution of his order to permit anticipated appeals to the U.S. 4th Circuit Court of Appeals on Sept. 5.

★

After that, the case could be taken to the U.S. Supreme Court by the persons and firms which have sought to have the sugar-laden ship sold to satisfy alleged indebtedness of more than $1,272,000.

★ ★ ★

The judge had said Saturday that, regardless of his decision, the ship must remain in Chesapeake Bay in possession of the Coast Guard while the issues are under appeal.

Ten days ago, Secretary of State Dean Rusk said "the prompt release of the vessel is necessary to secure the observance of the rights and obligations of the United States."

In his 25-page memorandum, Hoffman said "recognition and allowance of the claim of sovereign immunity by the State Department, when accompanied by a certification of its action presented to the court by the attorney general, is final and binding upon the court."

Explorer XIII Defies Plans, Drops From Orbit

WASHINGTON (AP) —Explorer XIII, a dust-hunting satellite expected to remain aloft for several years, has plunged back into the earth's atmosphere less than a week after it was fired into orbit.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

Orbital information examined 24 hours after the launching led to predictions it would remain circling about the earth for several years.

RECEIVED NO SIGNALS

But NASA said Tuesday no signals have been received from the new satellite since Sunday night and it was presumed to have returned to the atmosphere and burned.

2,500 Gallons of Cream Spills Into Waterway

ROCKFORD (AP) — Nearby Stegman Creek was fortified with 2,500 gallons of cream today after a traffic mishap which tied up motorists more than two hours on U.S. 131 just north of Rockford.

State police said truck driver Henry J. Kalman, 30, of Holland escaped injury when his tanker overturned after it was forced into an embankment by two autos swerving to avoid one disabled by a gear failure.

The tanker's load spilled into the creek. Loss was estimated at $5,500. The load was destined for a Holland ice cream plant.

Both Farm Boy, Horse Killed by Lightning Bolt

SELFRIDGE, N.D. (AP) — A farm boy and the horse he was riding to bring in the cows from pasture were killed Tuesday night when struck by a lightning bolt.

The victim's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Valentine Yochim, found the body of their son, Melvin, 15, and the carcass of the horse after the sudden electrical storm.

Suggests Pennsylvania Exploit Empty Mines

EAST LANSING (AP) — A geographer from Pennsylvania State University has suggested Pennsylvania should exploit its abandoned mines —as is done in Northern Michigan —as a tourist attraction.

Phyllis R. Griess, in a research paper delivered today at a meeting of the Association of American Geographers at Michigan State University, said promotion of the defunct anthracite mines as tourist attractions could help ease the financial pinch in Eastern Pennsylvania.

A Sparkling Brook, a Rod and Hook—Ah, Fishing

By MARY ANGLEMIER

What's more fun than fishing? The art of catching fish with hook and tackle from the earliest times has been regarded as not just a business but as one of the most alluring of sports.

Ancient mural paintings show it was practiced ages ago in Egypt. The Gospels of Matthew, Mark, Luke and John tell us fishermen were chosen by Christ as His first disciples.

An Egyptian tomb dating from 2,000 B.C. bears a drawing of an angler with hook, rod and line. Fishhooks made from wood, bone, shells, thorns and copper have been found in prehistoric mounds of the Americas.

The angler loves wading out into a rushing stream; he likes the fragrance and peace of the out-of-doors and testing his skill against that of the fish.

Although Oakland County has some 450 lakes, many men and women choose to fish in Northern Michigan and Canada where they can avoid water skiers and motor boat traffic. Here they sit all day in quietude on a small lake surrounded by firs and pines.

Former President Herbert C. Hoover, an avid fisherman, says "Fishing is a chance to wash one's soul with pure air, with the ripple of the stream and the shimmer of the sun on the blue waters. It brings meekness and inspiration from the glory and wonder of nature and charity towards tackle-makers. It brings mockery of profits, the quieting of hate and lift of the spirit."

Grasshoppers, worms and minnows are good bait in trout fishing, while crawfish, small frogs and minnows are best for bass.

Artificial flies used for trout and salmon are made of hairs, furs and wools of every variety, mingled with pieces of feathers and held together by wire and gold and silver thread.

Many fish show little concern about their eggs or young. Eggs are deposited on rocks, weeds or at the bottom of streams and left to hatch.

COD PROLIFIC

A cod produces about 10,000,000 eggs annually but does nothing to preserve them.

Bass and sunfish guard their eggs.

The salmon and the shad, which spend most of their lives in the sea, ascend rivers and creeks to deposit their eggs.

The eel returns to depths of the ocean to spawn.

Some male catfish carry the eggs in their mouths until they are hatched, and the young ones for some time after that.

The sticklebacks are noted for their nest building. The males construct nests of weeds, twigs and grass and spin a thread of mucus to bind them together. The sunfish's nest is nothing more than a shallow cup scooped out in the sand or earth.

The chub heaps up a pile of pebbles on which the eggs are laid; then more stones are piled on top.

The paradise fish, widely used as a pet fish, builds a nest of bubbles. He then picks up the eggs and blows them from his mouth into the nest. The bubbles harden and form a floating nest.

BIG BUSINESS

Next to agriculture, fisheries have been for centuries the most important source of human food. The catch by commercial fishermen of the United States annually amounts to more than 4.25 billion pounds valued at $93 million.

The natural oil in some canned fish, such as salmon and sardines, as it comes out of the can is equal in vitamin D to the average cod liver oil, unit for unit. Minerals found in fish include calcium, phosphorous, iron, copper, iodine, and sulphur.

In order to increase and preserve the stock of fish, hatcheries are maintained through the federal and state governments.

Fish oils are obtained from all parts of the fish, while fish liver oils are prepared from the livers only. Another byproduct is insulin which is prepared for medicinal use. Fish meal is a useful ingredient in fertilizer but in recent years, the meal has been widely used as an animal foodstuff.

Isinglass is prepared from the sounds or swim bladders of some species and is manufactured in nearly all parts of the world. Fish glue, manufactured from waste products of fish, is used in the production of halftone plates and photo engraving work.

A product known as pearl essence lacquer is made from the extracted substance which gives the pearly luster to fish scales. Shark skins are made into leather.

In his little book, 'The Compleat Angler," Isaak Walton writes "We may say of angling or fishing as Dr. Boteler said of strawberries: 'Doubtless God could have made a better strawberry, but doubtless God never did' and so, if I might be judge, God never did make a more calm, quiet, innocent recreation than angling."

Will Celebrate Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. L. V. Kline of Elizabeth Lake Road will celebrate their 25th wedding anniversary with an open house from 1 to 5 p.m. Sunday. The affair will be planned and given by the Klines' daughters Christine and Ethel.

Pouring will be Mrs. Ivan Wilcox of Old Orchard Drive, Mrs. Merelyn Marshall of Walters Lake, Clarkston; Mrs. Oliver Dunstan of Hillcliff Road, and Mrs. Edmund Windeler of Hatchery Road, Drayton Plains.

The first slice of anniversary cake will be cut by Mrs. Kline's father, Rev. D. H. Curry, 89, who was a minister in Birmingham for 30 years. He now resides in Philadelphia.

Casting in the Au Sable River while visiting at the O. Leo Beaudette cabin is Dr. Lucius A. Farnham of West Pike Street. "Practicing medicine and helping to build hospitals has been my vocation for many years. One of my avocations is fishing," said the Pontiac physician and surgeon.

Pontiac Press Photos

Just waiting for a bite in Upper Long Lake are (from left) Julius Dudas and grandsons John and Larry Dudas of Long Ridge Court. A retired tool and die employe of General Motors Corp., Detroit, Mr. Dudas now fishes every day bringing in mostly bass and bluegills. John will be a junior at Pontiac Central High School in September. Larry plans to attend Lawrence Institute of Technology. The boys' parents are Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph E. Dudas.

'U.S. Housewives Think Small'

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK — The American housewife gradually is changing — from the kind of woman who wants big, new, shiny things, to the kind of woman who wants small, elegant, personal belongings.

"Right after the war, Americans wanted a feeling of security. That was represented by a nice new house, lots of TV sets, chrome-covered cars and mink. These were the status symbols and presently everyone who could afford them had them.

"But the big material things have left a dissatisfaction — a feeling that a flashy show of money isn't enough.

"The American woman particularly has come to realize that in order to have a house, she has to be a lady and have personal taste.

RETURNING TO VALUES

"So she is returning to the values that her mother had, or her grandmother, before the war and before the depression. She is buying more fine china, crystal and linens — which are the outer clothes of a woman, and which, traditionally, have brought women through the ages a measure of almost spiritual satisfaction."

Rosenthal conceded that it is to his advantage to have this opinion. After all, fine china is his business. Selling women on the necessity for it is his life work.

"But I have facts to back up my opinion," he said, "In the last 10 years the sales of our finest china have climbed from $3 to $28 million. It is women who buy china. What more need I say? . . .

People are spending (speaking of big monies) more than a billion dollars a year on crash diets to lose weight.

If all this money—this cost of keeping fat people famished—were used to feed the hungry citizens of Africa, then Africans would have to start reducing too.

This analysis was made recently by a U.S. congressman (and revealed in Cosmopolitan Magazine), who made a study of some 48 million Americans who annually turn over plenty of cash for new chassis.

They go on whoppingly expensive reducing programs, rather than reducing by will power. They insist on their doctors' prescribing appetite-reducing pills, even though many of these drugs are either useless or have harmful side effects.

A great many doctors claim that they are literally forced to prescribe such drugs — or lose their patients to other medicos.

The American Medical Association has warned that no magical panaceas can reduce you; only intelligent and dedicated effort, plus a reasonable amount of will power, will do the slimming. They have set down rules for suspicion of any weight-reducing products which:

1. Claim use of that product alone will bring about a weight reduction. (Watch those terms, "no-diet reducing, lose ugly fat, yet eat all your want.")

2. Fail to state clearly in its advertising that the reducing agent must be taken in conjunction with a diet plan.

3. Emphasize the pitch that you can "eat all you want" or "eat what you like best."

4. Make exaggerated claims of specific weight losses within specific periods of time.

The crux of the matter is that neither drugs nor trick diets nor massage can reduce you either well or safely. When they do reduce you at all, it's only because of the diet that accompanies them — and which you might have used alone about as effectively, and certainly more economically.

The Guy's All Wrong . . . Abby

Your Father Is So Right!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am engaged to a Navy guy. He has been stationed in California, and will be for some time. He wants me to make a trip there to visit him.

I haven't seen him in over two years. He is willing to pay for my fare both ways, but my father won't permit it. Isn't it proper for a fiance to pay for his girl's transportation? I am 19 and he is 21.

"CALIFORNIA OR BUST"

ABBY

DEAR CALIFORNIA: Your "Navy guy" has had enough leave in two years to have visited you. And if he can pay your way to see him, he can pay his way to see you. I'm with your father.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I are at odds about my attitude toward the telephone. I say our telephone is for our convenience, not the convenience of others and, therefore, I will answer it when and if I feel like it.

He says I should answer it every time it rings because it might be an emergency. I say if it is an emergency they will call again.

I have been up to my neck in housework when a friend has phoned to "chat." I have gotten out of the tub, rushed to answer the phone, bumped my shin and cracked my toe, only to find that it was a wrong number.

Or some dance studio is calling to inform me that I have just "won" a free lesson. I have trained my husband to call at 12:15. I will answer the phone at that time no matter what I am doing.

I'd like your opinion, and the opinion of others on this subject.

MIND OF MY OWN

DEAR MIND: Although the telephone is unquestionably the number one time-saving miracle of the age, it can also be an annoying intrusion. If you are one of the few who can hear the bell toll, and care not a whit by whom it is tolled, then let it ring. It's your privilege.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I have heard that a red-headed woman is much harder to get along with than a blonde. Is this true?

SHOPPING AROUND

DEAR SHOPPING: No! I know a woman who has been both, and the color of hair didn't affect her disposition in the slightest.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I have been going with a boy I like very much, except for one little habit which drives me mad. Whenever we listen to his car radio (and it is always on), or when we are dancing, he constantly hums in a monotone. And I mean constantly! He sounds like an engine. I don't want to insult him, but how can I get him to stop it?

"EDGY"

DEAR "EDGY": When HE hums—YOU hum. Only hum on key. Unless he is tone-deaf, he will yield the right-of-way. If he keeps humming anyway, learn to like it. Hummingbirds make good lovebirds.

Then be on the lookout for the time in life when your job as a homemaker becomes easy, yet, your husband's job remains as hard as ever — perhaps, even harder than in his younger days because of increased responsibilities or because of diminishing physical strength.

The time when the man of the family is carrying a heavier load than his wife usually comes during the middle years, when all or most of the children are grown and gone from home.

That leaves the homemaker with an easy job and plenty of leisure time and the chance to do all that she can to make her husband's life easier.

She can do this in any number of ways. She can take over some of the extra jobs he assumed during the years when her work days were longer than his.

She can lighten her husband's financial load by taking a long hard look at their living expenses and figuring out ways to cut down on the monthly bills.

She can help her husband figure out a retirement plan so that he isn't nagged by worry about the time when he can no longer work.

★ ★ ★

She can cut the pattern of their social life to suit her husband, realizing that since he is carrying the heavier load he probably needs more rest than she does.

She can encourage her husband to find some relaxing hobbies, whether she shares his particular interests or not.

She can — with fewer demands upon her time — devote herself to making a home in which her husband's wishes come first, and his welfare her main concern.

Men, you too can help her with part of the load if you'll read "Happier Wives (hints for husbands)." Just send 25 cents to Ruth Millett Reader Service, c-o The Pontiac Press, P.O. Box 489, Dept. A, Radio City Station, New York 19, N.Y.

Children Must Learn People Can Be Mean

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Dear Mrs. Lawrence:

This week a woman who lives in the next street called my 6-year-old dirty names, chased her out of her back yard with a broom and yelled at her never to come back.

She accused her of creating bad feelings between her older girl and a younger sister. Don't you think I should tell her what I think of her? My girl says she's always pushing her and the older daughter to play with the younger one . . .

ANSWER: Peter Rabbit had to learn about Mr. McGregor. The young salmon has to learn about hungry seals; a young bird about the hawk drifting over the treetops; and a young human has to learn about people who hurt others as well as about sharp stones, speeding cars and bottles marked X in the medicine closet.

Why are we human parents always sad or shocked when an enemy threatens a child?

Animal parents aren't. A mother often is alerted, not saddened or shocked by the bay of a hound near her den under the river bank. Knowing about hounds, she grabs her chance to teach her pups about them too. She hisses: "Danger: lie low."

But we human parents seem to feel that any knowledge of enemies' existence is bad for children. When they encounter one, we feel sorrow or amazement, and sometimes even pretend the enemy doesn't exist by saying, "Aunt Flo didn't mean to hurt you dear. She loves you very much."

I'm sorry your little girl has lost a playmate. But, then, enemies are deprivers, aren't they? If they are human, they seek to deprive us of joy and if they are animals, like the otters' hound, they seek to deprive us of life.

Let the lady be. If she decides to extend good will again, dealing with it will be fine exercise in wariness for your child.

Every adult over 20 who has not acquired some knowledge of the darker side of human nature," writes psychiatrist Edmund Bergler, "is automatically suspected of cultivating naivete for the purpose of being disappointed."

* * *

So parents who get awfully upset by children's encounters with enemies can be suspected of cultivating a babyishness that enables them to complain of the other fellow instead of looking squarely at their own rosy, inaccurate judgment of him. They can be suspected of affection to accumulate grievances.

Have Wire Sent You to Leave

By the Emily Post Institute

Q: I have just started what I thought would be a very pleasant two-week vacation with friends who have a house in the country. Instead, it has turned into a nightmare and I am appealing to you to let me know how I can get out of staying.

Last night after I had fallen asleep I was awakened by something crawling over me. I jumped out of bed and put the light on and saw and behold—bed bugs! I was horrified and couldn't go back into the bed.

I spent the night trying to sleep on a chair. I simply can't endure this for two weeks, so please tell me what I can do.

A: Go out and telephone your family to send you a telegram asking you to come home. (Be very careful to examine your clothes as you pack them).

* * *

Q: My daughter is to be married soon and her fiance's family do not approve of anything strong to drink. Our friends and relatives, on the other hand, would think it very strange if we didn't serve at least one glass of champagne with which to toast the bride and groom.

Would it be proper to serve champagne knowing his family disapproves? If not, what do you suggest as a substitute?

A: Since you are giving the wedding and you are the host, you may serve whatever you please. You should, however, have sparkling gingerale or other nonalcoholic beverages for the "drys."

* * *

Q: Just what is a candlelight service? I so often read in the society column of our local newspaper that a bride was married at a candlelight service and I am curious to know what this is.

A: A wedding at dusk in a church at which candles are placed at the end of each pew down the whole length of the center aisle. No electricity is used.

* * *

Should the tissue papers be removed before mailing wedding invitations? The answer to this question as well as correct wedding forms will be found in the new Emily Post Institute booklet, "Wedding Invitations and Announcements." To obtain a copy, send ten cents in coin and a stamped, self-addressed envelope to The Emily Post Institute, care of The Pontiac Press.

MRS. DAVID A. DAVIDSON

A reception at the home of the Carl A. Freemans on Lakeview Drive followed the marriage of their daughter Cecilia Rose to David A. Davidson Saturday evening in the Lake Orion Methodist Church. Pink asters and white gladioli banked the altar where Rev. Albert B. Johns performed the ceremony.

* * *

The bridegroom is the son of the Harold W. Davidsons of North Josephine Avenue, Waterford Township.

Imported Chantilly lace touched with seed pearls accented the bridal gown of white silk organza styled with cathedral train and a rhinestone tiara held the butterfly veil of illusion. The bride carried feathered carnations surrounding an orchid.

Green-tipped white pompons complemented mint green chiffon for maid of honor Joan Davidson, sister of the bridegroom. Bridesmaids Edith Vernon of Lake Orion and Sandra Menzer of Waterford, wearing pink chiffon, carried baskets of pink-tipped pompons. Mary Lou Geliske of Waterford, in white chiffon, was flower girl.

* * *

The bridegroom had Joseph Kline for his best man. Ushers were Homer Preston of Lake Orion and Gary Gammage of Lake Orion.

Returning from a honeymoon at Niagara Falls, the couple will live in Lake Orion.

Raspberry accessories accented Mrs. Freeman's dress of beige silk taffeta and Mrs. Davidson was attired in green brocade. Both mothers wore white carnations.

'Kookie' Look Seen on College Scene

(UPI) — Cotton corduroys, suedes, poplin and knit interpret the kookie look for dormitory lounging or after-ski wear. Eye-catching, hip length tops, often collarless and loosely tied below the waist with a self belt, are worn over long slim pants or walking skirts.

Poncho style tops in poplin and cabin boy jackets in printed cotton quilt, as well as velveteen tube tops, are other favorites for at-home hours among the bookworms.

Underwear to Sub for Swimsuits?

(UPI) — What's new undercover is colorful girdles and bras splashed with turquoise and orange prints. The manufacturer reports the new unmentionables, silk-screened by hand, easily can be worn in the place of a sun suit when soaking up Old Sol's rays on the patio.

The underthings look so much like a swim suit that the manufacturer suggests they be worn on the beach in place of a swimsuit.

Don't Dunk Bulbs

Dunking dampens the cement holding the base to the glass, causing it to come apart. To clean, wipe bulb with damp, soapy cloth. Remove suds and dry well before turning it in the socket, experts suggest.

Touchstone Tranquilizer Latest Fad

By RICK DU BROW
UPI Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Looking for something for the man (or woman) who has absolutely everything?

Then try a "tranquilizing amulet."

Movie stars and others in this slap-happy film city have started a fad by dozens of them.

* * *

"Well," said a spokesman for Alfred Dunhill of Beverly Hills, which sells the amulets like hot-cakes, "It's simply a touchstone."

* * *

It comes in either white, green or brown onyx. It's about an inch wide and 2½ inches long. In short, it's a glorified little rock.

* * *

And what do you do with it?

You hold it in your hand and squeeze it. That's all. Just squeeze it.

"Sort of like Capt. Queeg did in 'The Caine Mutiny,'" said the Dunhill spokesman.

VERY RELAXING

"It's very relaxing," he added. "Apparently the Chinese used touchstones as tranquilizers for many years."

* * *

Price for this relaxation is $5 per amulet. Dunhill sells them in plush little boxes usually reserved for thousand-dollar rings.

"And I've never seen any tranquilizer like it," said the spokesman. "People are very serious about it. They feel the different touchstones to see which one fits their hand."

* * *

The idea when you get home with the stone is to sit back, think of nothing else and squeeze until all animosities and tensions are gone.

"They're very good for executives," said the spokesman.

But If It Helps, Go Ahead

Standing Up Is No Diet

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

I get volumes of mail and such interesting questions, that I like to pass some of them on to you.

1. I have a friend who swears that she lost 10 pounds simply by standing up for 10 minutes after each meal.

I wish it were as simple as that. Your friend is diet-minded, and evidently cut down more than she realized on her daily calorie intake. If it makes it seem easier to lose weight to stand up for 10 minutes after eating, I am all for it.

2. Does skim milk have the same nutritive values of whole milk?

Yes, except for a loss in vitamin A and D content. Vitamin A is widely distributed in the food world. Green and yellow vegetables are especially rich sources. Use skim milk which is fortified with vitamin A and D.

TENDENCY TO FAT

3. My mother tells me that fat runs in our family and I can't do anything about it. I am 35 years old and 40 pounds overweight. Am I really doomed?

Definitely not! You may have inherited a glandular system which leads to overweight, but more likely you inherited some fattening eating habits. In any case, you are not doomed.

If you have a mild tendency to overweight because of your glandular setup, you will just have to be more calorie conscious than others from middle age on. If you have a real problem, your doctor can help you with medication. All is not lost! Before you see a doctor — count your calories.

* * *

4. I am confused. I do not know whether or not the water-packed fruits have the same health value the regular ones have.

The bearer of bad news is never popular, but I am not trying to win a popularity contest so I must be honest. There is no difference in health value. The syrup-packed ones just taste better, BUT they have many more calories.

Believe me, if you are trying to lose weight, or hold the line, you will find that the water-packed fruits are more rewarding, and will even taste sweeter to you, when the scales give you the good news.

PLAIN OR TOASTED?

5. Is there any difference between the calorie count of plain bread and toast?

* *

No, not if you use the same kind of bread.

Ahh, the true listener—an all too rare bird. Josephine Lowman suggests that you really listen to others; listen with your heart and mind as well as your ears.

School-Go Cottons in Colors Flurry

(UPI) — Reading, 'riting and ready-for-school cottons are the three R's for the back-to-school young set. Cottons in a flurry of colors, shapes and textures again are the favored class and playmates for small fashionables, reports the National Cotton Council.

In silhouette, children's fashions follow adult lines with loose, but closer to the body shapes, flared skirts beneath long torsos and a relaxed, two-piece look for many day and dress-up designs. Many have grown-up tailoring with Paris - inspired side closings deep, inverted side pleats and lowered, gently shaped waistlines.

If you must store a bouffant petticoat, launder it, roll it inside a nylon stocking and hang it in your closet.

One Needs to Work at Beauty

(NEA)—A good many women are inclined to feel that if only they had unlimited funds, they, too, could be great beauties. What they don't realize is that women who can afford to spend a great deal on good looks invariably WORK at it.

BUSY ROUTEINE

Many of them work out an hour each day at a gym. (Exercise which can be duplicated by walking, swimming and in sitting-up exercises at home). All of them have first-rate hairdressers across the country. The basis of any smart hairdo is healthy hair plus an expert cut. Then do what many fashion models do: learn to set and handle your own hair).

* * *

Women with money use fine face creams. (But these are the same creams available to women with just a little money. For the very finest face creams in this country are not expensive).

* * *

Women with money naturally buy beautiful clothes as one means of looking lovely. (But you, on a clothes budget, can buy copies of chic designs and be equally well-dressed).

* * *

A great deal of money never turned any woman into a beauty. And a lack of it never kept a girl from being attractive if she really wanted to be.

Mrs. Romney to Entertain

Mrs. George Romney will open her East Valley Road home in Bloomfield Hills Sept. 11 to members and guests of the Bloomfield Hills Branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association. Dahlias from members' gardens will provide flower arrangements throughout the home.

*

Mrs. Richard T. Gerathy, guest speaker for the day, will discuss the growing and use of herbs in her talk "Sniff and Snip." An informal harvest sale of herbs, plants and produce, baked goods and jellies will mark the end of the garden season.

Children to Stride in Color This Fall

(UPI) — Color's the word for children's fall shoes. The colors range from nautical flag colors to sky blues, strong pastels, flamingo pinks, orange and new jet age colors.

* * *

SEW SIMPLE

By Eunice Farmer

"Please tell me why, when I sew the side seams of a garment on the machine, the material rides ahead of the presser foot and the top piece ends up longer than the under material.

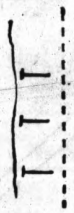
Mrs. E.B.

The pushing of the top layer of fabric is natural when you realize how a sewing machine is constructed. The teeth on the plate hold the under layer of fabric, and the presser foot has nothing on it to hold the fabric in place.

You can avoid this by "pinning" your seams together, instead of basting. The fabric cannot slip past a pin, but it will if it is basted.

Place your pins about 1½" apart, in a horizontal positions to a vertical seam. If your sewing machine will not sew over pins, remove them as you come to them. However, if you use silk pins for your sewing, most machines will sew over them.



Be sure to place your pins so that you will actually be sewing over your fabric instead of hitting the pins. Also, remember to always stitch the skirt seams from the bottom up.

"Dear Eunice,

"Should the hemline of a coat be dipped in back? In other words, should it be longer in back than sides and front? If so, how much longer?"

Mrs. C.C.

Dear Mrs. C. C.:

This is true with suit jackets more than long coats. A suit jacket is much more feminine and flattering if it dips about ½" at the center back. This should be a gradual dip from the side seams and will hardly be noticeable to the casual observer.

TOO WIDE, TOO LOW

"Dear Eunice,

"One of my problems in sewing is the neckline. They are all cut too wide at the shoulders for me and also too low. Can I change this and how do I change the facings?"

Mrs. A.J.P.

1. Add ⅝" to 1" to the entire neckline seam. You may add more than that at the shoulders if necessary.

2. Mark your ⅝" seam allowance, clip your seam and baste the seam allowance down. Now you will know exactly what size the neckline will be when finished.

3. As soon as the neckline is exactly the way you think it is most becoming, cut the interfacing and the facing from this actual muslin. Make your facings about 3" wide.

The nicest part about making this basic muslin is that you can always use this as a guide for anything you would make with this type of neckline.

SEWING GLOSSARY: Grading seams: This refers to trimming any faced edge. Trim both seams to half of their original width, now trim FACING seam in half again. This will avoid a ridge when edges are pressed.

Please send all questions and suggestions to Sew Simple, in care of The Pontiac Press.

MARILYN HISCOCK

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert T. Hiscock Jr., North Lake Drive, announce the engagement of their daughter Marilyn Jane to William G. Serrin Jr., son of the senior William G. Serrins, Saginaw. Miss Hiscock attends Central Michigan University of which her fiance is a graduate. A December wedding is planned.

SHARON LEE NICHOLS

February vows are planned by Sharon Lee Nichols, daughter of Mrs. Joseph M. Nichols of South Shirley Street and the late Mr. Nichols, to Charles W. Grinnell, son of the G. M. Grinnells of North Branch.

Jackie Prowls for White House Treasures

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mrs. John F. Kennedy says she doesn't plan to fill the White House with French furniture, or hang modern pictures all over it.

The First Lady also said she wanted to "put to rest the fears of people who think we might restore the building to its earliest period, leaving out all that came after."

"The White House belongs to our past and no one who cares about our past would treat it that way," Mrs. Kennedy was quoted by Life magazine this week.

Mrs. Kennedy, the magazine said, added, "every boy who comes here should see things that develop his sense of history. For the girls, the house should look beautiful and lived-in."

PROWLED CORNERS

Her first task, she said, was to prowl every corner of the 54-room mansion. She found many treasures of former presidents.

"I had a backache every day for three months. But now I know every corner of the White House. I poked into them all. It was exciting, a new mystery story every day," she said.

During her prowling, Mrs. Kennedy discovered:

A desk presented to President Rutherford B. Hayes by Queen Victoria—being used to hold equipment in the broadcast room but now in the President's office; a pier table purchased by President James Monroe; baled-up rugs specially woven for Theodore Roosevelt; gold and silver flatware ordered by Monroe from France in 1817; and a set of lavender-bordered Lincoln plates which, though slightly chipped, are now being used at White House dinner.

INSIDE LIKE OUTSIDE

She told the magazine she wants to give the historic building the same pure beauty and traditionalism inside as it now has outside.

Mrs. Kennedy said she first toured the White House at the age of 11.

"From the outside," she recalled, "I remember the feeling of the place. But inside, all I remember is shuffling through. There wasn't even a booklet you could buy."

Now, the First Lady is in the process of providing White House visitors with that booklet, She has the help of some of the nation's leading scholars on American furnishings, along with experts from the Smithsonian Institution.

"Everything in the White House must have a reason for being there," Mrs. Kennedy said. "It would be sacrilege merely to 'redecorate' it—a word I hate. It must be restored—and that has nothing to do with decoration. That is a question of scholarship."

SENSE OF URGENCY

Her feeling about the White House, the magazine said, is characterized by a sense of urgency.

"Like any president's wife, I'm here for only a brief time," she was quoted as saying, "and before everything slips away, before every link with the past is gone, I want to do this.

"I want to find all the people who are still here who know about the White House, were intimate with it—the nephews, the sons, the great-grandchildren, the people who are still living and remember things about the White House."

Wring in Woes

NEW YORK (UPI) — Automatic washing machines aside, a large number of children each year still suffer wringer injuries, the American Academy of Pediatrics reports.

In a five and one-half year period, the Boston City hospital treated 116 cases of wringer injuries. Eighty-eight of the victims were under the age of six. The youngsters were old enough to be inquisitive but too young to be aware of the hazard of getting hands caught in a wringer.

Good Cure for Problems

Greet the Morning Real Early

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD — Feeling hurried, harried and harassed? Dr. Rosalind Russell has the solution.

* * *

THOMAS

This prescription came out as I was trying to plumb the dynamo that is Russell. At an age when many women are content to rattle knitting needles, she maintains a bone-crushing schedule.

This year she is hurtling through three diverse and difficult film roles: in "Majority of One," "Five Finger Exercise" and "Gypsy." She plays a Jewish matron, a five-letter female and a voracious stage mother, respectively, and she'll have to dance and belt songs as the latter.

* * *

She still manages to maintain civic work, a writing career and a serene household for husband Freddie Brisson and their son Lance, 18.

* * *

How does she do it?

"By rising a half-hour before I normally would," she explained. "You'd be surprised what a difference that makes. The morning is a peaceful time, and you have a chance to think over your whole day. You can have a relaxed, and sizable breakfast, which is very important for getting you through the day.

SLEEP OVERRATED

"You don't miss that extra half-hour of sleep. Sleep is highly overrated. I used to worry because I would lie awake at night. I told my doctor and he said, 'Several million other people are lying awake at the same time.' He told me to get up and sort the linen or straighten out a drawer or do some other useful but dull task, then go back to bed. I tried it, and it works.

* * *

"Why do people sleep so much? They need the rest because they're tense. But if they got up a half-hour earlier and organized their day, they wouldn't be tense. And they'd get a lot more done."

* * *

Roz has another regimen to keep life in the proper proportion. That's a quiet hour at the end of the day. She and Freddie sit down for cocktails and conversation. There are no interruptions and no shop talk, even though he is her producer on her current "Five Finger Exercise."

"We don't talk movie business unless it is something funny," she said. "Mostly we talk about people."

Australia's estimated population is now about 10 million and some estimates are higher than that.

Sumatra has a population of within a narea of about 183,000 about 11 million persons contained square miles.

Jews Allowed Absentee Vote on New Year

LANSING (AP)—All persons of Jewish faith in Michigan will be entitled to vote by absentee ballot for the Sept. 12 constitutional convention election, according to Secretary of State James M. Hare.

* * *

The date of the election is in conflict with the Jewish new year, the observance of Rosh Hashana. Hare said the statutory ground will be:

New Chevrolet Revealed Today

'Middle-Sized' Chevy II Larger Than Compact, Has 4, 6 Cylinders

DETROIT (AP) — Chevrolet Division of General Motors unveiled its new middle-sized Chevy II—with its own line of economy four and six-cylinder engines—at a 1962 press preview today.

* * *

The new series fits between Chevrolet's compact Corvair and its standard model and gives the division "its most varied product lineup in history," said Edward N. Cole, general manager.

CONVENTIONAL ENGINE

It has a conventional front-mount engine.

New features on the Chevy II, Cole said, are integral frame and body construction with a bolt-on front end and tapered plate rear springs, which cut car weight and take less time to produce.

Rhodesia Says 'Sorry' to Soapy

Officials Apologize to Williams for His Punch From a Drunk

SALISBURY, Southern Rhodesia (AP) — Officials of the Rhodesian Federation and Northern Rhodesia apologized today for the punch in the face a white settler gave U.S. Assistant Secretary of State G. Mennen Williams at Lusaka airport.

Sir Roy Welensky, prime minister of the Rhodesian Federation, asked U.S. Consul John Emmerson to convey his "deep personal regret for this deplorable incident to Mr. Williams."

* * *

Similar regret was expressed to U.S. consular authorities in Lusaka, the capital of Northern Rhodesia, by Sir Evelyn Hone, the territorial governor, who witnessed the assault and helped subdue the assailant.

* * *

Lusaka Mayor Richard Sampson, who also witnessed the incident Monday night, termed it "disgraceful and the most shaming thing that could have happened in our city."

Sampson said the assailant was a "well known Lusaka resident and definitely seemed to be under the influence of drink."

* *

The mayor gave this account: "While I was standing with Mr. Williams and his party on the airport apron, the man came up to us, went straight to Mr. Williams grapped his lapel with one hand and shouting an offensive remark hit him straight on the jaw.

* *

"The man was tackled by Sir Evelyn Hone and his aide de camp who were standing next to Mr. Williams. The man was then handed over to the police."

TRUCK LIGHTS ON FOR Safety

FROM SEPTEMBER 1st to SEPTEMBER 5th

In order to make our highways safer over the long Labor Day weekend, more than thirty Pontiac firms, in conjunction with the American Trucking Association and the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce, are promoting a campaign to keep all truck lights on from 4:00 p.m. Friday, Sept. 1, until 8:00 a.m. Tuesday, Sept. 5th. This "TRUCK LIGHTS ON FOR SAFETY" program will be a constant reminder for all drivers to watch their speed and to drive carefully during this long Holiday period. Due to the all time high traffic fatalities over the 4th of July Holiday the trucking industry is sponsoring this nationwide campaign as a public service. LET'S ALL COOPERATE!

Release Group From N.C. Jail

Arrest NYC Man on Charges of Kidnaping Couple During Rioting

MONROE, N.C. (UPI)—A number of participants in racial violence here were released from jail under reduced bond Tuesday night but police continued to keep a close watch on the town.

A white man from New York City was arrested by state police Tuesday night on charges of kidnaping a Marshville, N.C., couple during last Sunday's rioting.

Police identified him as John C. Lowery and said he was one of the "freedom riders" who joined Negro integrationist Robert F. Williams in holding Mr. and Mrs. G. Bepee Stegall at Williams' stronghold against their will.

Williams, kicked out of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) two years ago for advocating violence in obtaining desegregation, is being sought by police and the FBI on kidnap charges.

The charges against Lowery were filed before about 50 whites and Negroes were released on a bond reduction from $1,000 to $25 each.

Earlier in the day, a Negro minister who traveled here as an "arbitrator" in the racial dispute was thrown down the courthouse steps by a group of white men.

The Rev. Wyatt Tee Walker of Atlanta and two companions were entering the courthouse when they were stopped and pushed back down the steps by a group of white men.

Preaching Congressman Has September Conflict

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Rep. Eugene Siler says there is good reason if his attendance record is low in this session of Congress.

The Williamsburg, Ky., Republican said he assumed Congress would adjourn by Labor Day and now is committed to address several Baptist meetings in September. Siler is a lay preacher and is much in demand at church gatherings.

Most dangerous day of the week to drive is Saturday.

Elliott Endorses Program of State GOP Moderates

Oakland County Republican Chairman Arthur G. Elliott Jr. today announced his "wholehearted support" of a 14-point legislative program drawn up by the so-called "moderate" bloc of GOP state senators.

* * *

It takes positions on mental health, education, taxation, labor, economic growth, teachers retirement, state and local government, metropolitan area problems, civil rights, crime and delinquency, economy in government, tourism, agriculture and safety.

Elliott called the program "a positive and progressive approach to critical state problems," and announced he would submit the moderates' recommendations to the county GOP executive committee for full organizational support in September.

The eight "moderate" senators include Farrell E. Roberts, R-Oakland County.

* * *

The group hammered out the proposals at a conference in Traverse City earlier this month.

* * *

Last week Elliott was one of 40 GOP leaders from throughout the state attending a briefing session on the moderates' position in Ann Arbor.

* * *

The moderates called for the state GOP to make "a critical appraisal of its programs and policies and apply new approaches and new thinking to restore its statewide influence."

Herr Gorczyza in Berlin Gets 'Mad' at the West

By HARRY FERGUSON

BERLIN (UPI)—Tuesday the Communists and the West fought a war of nerves at No. 28 Heidelberger Strasse from 12:28 to 3:56 p.m. The Communists won.

The loser was Hasso Gorczyza, who operates a saloon called the Heidelberger Krug. It is a small, clean place. The pretzels are fresh. The beer is impeccable.

A sign on the juke box offers a choice of "jazz, modern dance music, waltzes and marches." There are plenty of customers with money to spend.

But unless the West takes some action to protect Herr Gorczyza, he is going to say to hell with free enterprise and the democratic way of life.

His problem is that when you are inside his saloon you are in West Berlin but if you step out on the sidewalk you are in Communist Berlin.

When the Communists started building the concrete block wall that divides the city, they graciously allowed Gorczyza a thin strip of the sidewalk so his customers could come and go along Heidelberger Strasse.

* * *

They ran the wall up to within 31 inches of the front door of the cafe thereby making entry and egress a delicate problem for such well-fed journalists as Wellington Long, UPI news manager for Germany, who almost got stuck there during the war of nerves.

* * *

At the time the Communists gave Gorczyza the 31 inches of the sidewalk, they made it clear that it still was their territory. If too many people gathered on the sidewalk, it constituted "provocation."

Behind the wall is a high wire fence and behind that there are six Communist German police carrying tear-gas grenades, and rifles with fixed bayonets. They also are armed with a long, red fire hose hooked up to a hydrant.

THEY 'PROVOKED'

Tuesday morning several of the patrons carelessly stepped out onto the sidewalk in front of the Heidelberger Krug and quickly learned that the punishment for "provocation" is to be doused with water from a Communist hose.

Gorczyza said this had a tendency to shake his faith in free enterprise, but he decided to give it one more whirl and took two corrective steps:

(1) He placed a large piece of cloth at the door and announced anybody who provoked a hosing from the Communists would have to mop up the water (2) he announced every patron would have to pay the tab as soon as he was served.

At 12:58 your correspondent, slim and svelte as usual, breezed through the 31-inch passage, tugging Wellington Long after him.

* * *

There were a half-dozen patrons in the Heidelberger Krug and the proprietor had come from behind the bar to deliver a speech against "provocation." Also against the Western powers.

"On their side of the wall," he said, "the Communists have a big rubber hose. On this side of the wall there is only one West Berlin policeman. What are the Western people doing? Clipping coupons and counting their money. Do any of them want to change places with me? No.

"The damn police on our side don't protect us. They do not have a big hose. They do not have a gas grenade. All you have to do is lob one gas grenade at the Communist cops and show them you mean business.

"Turn me loose, give me the stuff and I'll do it. Last night they threw a gas grenade into my place here. People ran without paying me. This morning a water hose. Plenty people owe me money."

Your correspondent sought the proprietor's permission to step into Communist territory for a brief fling at provocation.

The proprietor assented and immediately was sorry. Soon there were three of us on the sidewalk and then six.

An elderly woman with her grandson yelled across the wall to the Communist police: "Why don't you come over, you dopes!"

* * *

A pretty blonde on the Communist side of the fence began talking the universal language to a young man on the West side. The war of nerves was on and the Communist police began testing the red rubber hose.

* * *

Gorczyza acted promptly. First, he collected all the money owed him by all the patrons.

Then he phoned the West Berlin police who arrived and ordered all of us provocateurs to stop our provocations. In fact, they ordered us to move on.

This was the last bitter pill for Herr Gorczyza. He had just committed the ultimate sin under the free enterprise system. He had ordered paying customers to leave his premises.

He promptly turned on the juke box, went behind the bar and busily began consuming his own merchandise.

Swainson Won't Visit Pontiac in Con-Con Push

Gov. John B. Swainson is out drumming up votes for Democratic con-con candidates, but time won't permit him to visit Pontiac and Northern Oakland County.

On Sept. 5, however, the governor will be in the southern part of Oakland County helping the candidates from the 4th, 5th and 6th legislative districts. He'll appear at coffee hours in several homes between 1-4 p.m.

"Time and distance just won't allow the governor to visit Pontiac or the balance of the county in the short three hours he can afford Oakland County," said Mrs. Faye Moskowitz, con-con coordinator for the county.

Swainson will visit the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bensman, 21621 Kenosha Ave., Oak Park, from 1-2 p.m. on Sept. 5 and the home of Dr. and Mrs. Sidney Hertz, 25133 Scotia St., Huntington Woods, from 2-3 p.m.

A meeting for the last hour has not been set as yet for the 6th District, Mrs. Moskowitz said.

Venezuela is a Spanish name meaning "Little Venice." Legend has it that the country got that name when explorer Alonso de Ojeda sailed into Lake Maracaibo in 1499 and found Indians living over the water in houses built on stilts.

Reds Admit Disease, Deny Cholera in China

TOKYO (UPI)—Red China confirmed today that there was a recent outbreak of disease in the southern province of Kwangtung, but denied that it was cholera.

The official Peiping radio said 284 cases of "paracholera," a similar but less serious disease, had been reported in rural areas of the province, causing 38 deaths. It said Canton and other major cities were not affected.

WELCOME HOME, HONEY—Goliath, the Philadelphia Zoo's 2,000-pound elephant seal, greets his new mate, Marian, with what seemed to be a kiss as the two met for the first time in the sea-lion pool at the zoo Tuesday. Marian, a 720-pound female elephant seal caught only two months ago in the Antarctic, was acquired by the zoo to replace Goliath's mate that died a year ago.

Patient Kills Doctor's Wife to Get Even Over 'Trouble'

NEW YORK (AP) — A pretty young school teacher, convinced that a psychiatrist was telling everyone of her irresistible urge to scratch her face, was charged today with shooting his attractive wife to death.

The victim, Paule A. LaVerne, 27, was shot twice Tuesday as she clutched her 2-year-old daughter in the lobby of a fashionable Fifth Avenue apartment house. Her two sons, aged 4 and 6, screamed while the family dog — a Great Dane—ran away in fear.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. LaVerne, who recently completed her internship as a physician, died a half-hour later at Mount Sinai Hospital, next door.

Miss Kiernan, of Mountain Lakes, N.J., until recently a high school teacher, had telephoned the victim's husband, Dr. Albert A. LaVerne, earlier in the day demanding an appointment. She had been his patient three years ago and at one time was in a class he taught at Fordham University.

BECAME ANGRY

The physician said he told her his heavy schedule made it impossible to see her immediately. He said she became so angry that he telephoned his wife and warned not to see the woman if she came to the apartment.

★ ★ ★

Police said Miss Kiernan went to the apartment house thinking that Dr. LaVerne's office was there. Told he was not in, she waited in the lobby.

About two hours later, Mrs. LaVerne returned from a walk with her children and the dog. An elevator operator pointed her out, and Miss Kiernan asked her to sit down beside her.

As the two talked, Miss Kiernan demanded that Mrs. LaVerne stop her husband from talking about her affliction, police said. Then she produced a 32-caliber pistol.

Mrs. LaVerne ran to her children and was just lifting her daughter from a stroller when the first shot struck her in the chest.

"I didn't have any intention of shooting the doctor's wife," Miss Kiernan said when she turned herself in to police. "I acted on impulse. I'm sorry."

★ ★ ★

GOP Lines Up Against Aid Bill

Fight Letting Treasury Borrow for Financing of Development Loans

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican leaders lined up in top-rank opposition today to Treasury borrowing to finance foreign aid development loans.

Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the party's 1960 presidential nominee, sent word to former Senate colleagues he favors a long-range program, financed through annual appropriations by Congress.

Nixon's views were made known in advance of a breakfast meeting with a group of GOP senators. He planned to confer with former President Dwight D. Eisenhower later in the day.

This put Nixon in line with Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York and Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., as opposed to the kind of financing by Treasury borrowing that President Kennedy had sought.

CONFIDENT OF IKE

Rockefeller already has said he is confident that Eisenhower, who once favored the borrowing method, now is against it.

A Senate-House conference committee, considering the foreign aid bill, swung to the Republican viewpoint Tuesday night with a compromise on a $7.2-billion five-year program, financed through yearly congressional appropriations. Kennedy originally asked $8.8 billion for a five-year program to be financed through Treasury borrowing.

★ ★ ★

The compromise still must go before the Senate and House, where demands could be made for further changes.

The top-rank GOP opposition to Treasury borrowing left 10 Republican senators hanging on a political limb on which they had climbed to support the Kennedy program.

The 10 voted against a Senate amendment by Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., to set up a five-year program with annual congressional appropriations.

'62 Sales to Run High, Says Ford President

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UPI) — Sales of 1962 model cars will top the 6.5-million mark, Ford Motor Co. President John Dykstra predicted Tuesday.

Dykstra was here to attend a district dealers meeting where 1962 models were previewed.

He said 1962 will be a good year, but not quite as booming as 1955 and 1957. He said the new intermediate size autos do not necessarily mean a trend toward larger compact models or still smaller standard-sized cars. He said the intermediates will fill a gap somewhere between the compacts and standards.

Diplomats Resume Slow Dance

Berlin Music Begins Again

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — If speed were a meal-ticket, the diplomats would starve to death. For three years both sides have been in a slow dance on Berlin, pausing to parley. Now the music begins again.

This time the tune is a little different, more somber, because Premier Khrushchev sounds more determined. But once again the foreign ministers are beginning to shuffle toward another parley.

Whether this means another full-blown and long-drawn out foreign ministers meeting or just a short one to be followed by another summit conference won't be known for a while.

But, as Khrushchev has kept on piling up the Berlin crisis, Secretary of State Dean Rusk has kept saying there'd be negotiations to settle the whole thing peacefully. Khrushchev has kept the door open for negotiations.

WANTS IT SLOWER

But slow as it all is French President de Gaulle wanted it still slower. He was against hurrying into a conference with the Soviets. So a kind of compromise was worked out.

In September the West's Big Four ministers — American, British, French, West German—are expected to meet in this country to decide how to handle Khrushchev. Then they'll contact his foreign minister, Andrei Gromyko.

The purpose: to see whether he thinks East-West talks would be worthwhile. It would be much simpler to send him a cable, asking that question, but apparently cables move too fast.

But one thing's for sure: if the foreign ministers—the Western ones by themselves or the Western ones with Gromyko—duplicate their performance of the past two years the answer will be a big, fat zero and maybe real trouble.

Khrushchev started the trouble in November 1958, when he called for the West to get out of Berlin. Between then and May 1959 both sides had time to figure out a settlement—if they wanted one. Apparently they didn't.

The American, British and French foreign ministers met with Gromyko from May to August 1959, but they not only couldn't agree, they wound up in confessed confusion.

'CONFUSION'

French Foreign Minister Couve de Murville said of Gromyko's tactics: "We are in complete confusion. We have reached a point at which neither side knows what the other is talkig about."

The Westerners proposed, among other things, that Khrushchev agree to unification of East and West Germany. It didn't need a magician to know that's the last thing to which Khrushchev would let Gromyko agree.

So Gromyko said the Western proposals were a "hopeless tangle of unrelated issues." The West also wanted a five-year extension of the present Berlin situation. Russia offered only 18 months, with no promise of what happened afterwards.

This was such a total mess that to calm down Khrushchev, President Eisenhower invited him to this country. After the two men met at Camp David they agreed to have a summit meeting in Paris May 16, 1960.

So, with more months in which to prepare for this, the Western foreign ministers by themselves met in April 1960. Their purpose, then as now, was to work out strategy for handling Khrushchev.

The result: no new ideas. What they decided, if summed up in two words, was: stand pat. This hardly set the stage for an amicable get-together with the Russians.

But an amicable get-together seemed to be all that De Gaulle and Eisenhower wanted. Both men in public statements played down the idea of solutions and talked of laying the groundwork for better East-West relations.

But then the shooting down of the American U2 spy plane threw Khrushchev into such a tizzy that he wrecked the summit conference as soon as it started. This was the speediest piece of diplomatic business in years.

But in 1958, 1959 and 1960 the West had better reason to think it could stall off Khrushchev than it has now. Then he was just talking big. Now he has shut off East Berlin and in effect tells the West it had better talk turkey in 1961.

Senators Hoping to Pass 2-Year Rights Extension

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate leaders hoped today to win a two-year extension of the Civil Rights Commission and then cut short any moves for passage of other civil rights measures.

★ ★ ★

Under an unanimous consent agreement reached Tuesday, the Senate is to vote in midafternoon on a motion to suspend its rules to permit the extension bill to be hooked to a $761-million appropriation measure for the State and Justice departments.

Suspension of the rule barring legislation in an appropriation bill takes a two-thirds majority of the senators present and voting.

The move, opposed by Southern foes of the commission, was jointly sponsored by Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana and Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois.

Mansfield served notice he would move to table and thus kill attempts to suspend the rules for consideration of other civil rights measures bitterly opposed by Southern senators.

The Kennedy administration has not asked Congress for civil rights legislation at this session other than an extension of the commission, which will expire Nov. 9.

The comission was created in 1957 to investigate violations of civil rights, particularly denials of voting rights, and was extended for two years in 1959 by a rider to an appropriation bill.

Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., said that he will seek an indefinite extension of the commission's life, as recommended by President Kennedy. Failing in that, he said he will propose six and four-year extensions.

Malayan Minister Working for Union of Small Nations

Two and a half years ago he conceived together with Philippine President Carlos Garcia a plan for a cooperative organization of eight free states of Southeast Asia.

The proposed association was to comprise Indonesia, Thailand, Burma, Cambodia, Laos, South Viet Nam, the Philippines and Malaya.

Although Rahman said the plan was to be strictly economic and cultural in nature, political implications and internal strife have kept five of the invited nations from joining.

At present, the newly launched Association of Southeast Asia (ASA) lists as members only the pro-Western nations of Thailand, the Philippines and Malaya.

JUST A START

However, Rahman looks upon this as a start and has hopes of expanding the association to include more nations, some possibly from outside the original group of eight.

No sooner had the details for the launching of ASA been worked out, than Rahman came up with another proposal.

This one called for the merger of Malaya, Singapore and the three British territories of North Borneo (Sarawak, Brunei and British North Borneo).

Rahman's proposal was predicated, he said, upon the fact that the five territories were really too small to go it alone. The five territories have much in common, including the straits dollar and a long history of British rule.

"Greater Malaysia" would have a land area of 127,000 square miles and a population of slightly more than 16 million. Malaya itself has a population of about seven million spread over 50,690 square miles. Singapore's fast increasing population is 1.6 million on an island only 217 square miles in size.

The three Borneo territories are sparsely populated with only about 1.4 million persons in an area comprising more than 80,000 square miles.

FROM WESTERN EYES

Seen from Western eyes, the merged nation would appear to be a real zone of strength against the expansion plans of the Chinese Communists, who in their more optimistic moments, like to think they will control almost all of Southeast Asia by 1970.

Rahman, a Cambridge graduate of law, has said Malaya will sink or swim with the West. Malaya, although not a member of SEATO, has a mutual defense pact with Great Britain.

In Singapore, the British maintain their largest Far East base, and they have various army, navy and air force units operating in the three British territories in Borneo as well as units permanently stationed in Malaya.

Rahman first made his proposal for merger in June of this year. Since then, politicians in all five areas have had a field day discussing the ramifications of the plan.

★ ★ ★

This week, representatives from the five territories were meeting in Jesselton, British North Borneo, to work out a possible course of action.

A great many problems and objections are going to have to be thrashed out before the five territories reach agreement. But the very positive Tengku Abdul Rahman seemingly could not be less concerned with the obstacles.

His whole attitude seems to be that this is a good idea and ought to be carried out and to blazes with all the reasons why it can't be done.

Detroit Institutions Take Steps

Banks Prepare for A-Attack

DETROIT (AP) — Nuclear attack, American cities — now within bombing and missile range of an atom-armed enemy — are taking steps to protect their economic well-being. Detroit is one of those cities.

Banks in Detroit — and throughout the United States — have been urged repeatedly to adopt an emergency preparedness program (E-P). But until recently, the banking industry was slow to act.

In Michigan, only 6 per cent of 278 banks have done anything in the way of emergency preparedness, a 1961 Michigan Bankers Association report indicated.

Now, however, after several years of inactivity E-P programs are gaining momentum in at least seven of this city's largest banks.

Indications are that this recent concern for the vulnerability of the nation's economy in the event of war is spreading to other parts of the country.

Here, is what is considered a "target area" for a nuclear attack, almost all of the Detroit banks have been taking steps to safeguard records of assets and liabilities. This practice has been in effect for the past decade.

Records have been microfilmed and delivered periodically to out-state storage centers. Most Detroit banks rent vault space in small-town banks in other cities and states.

FILM FUNCTIONS

Recently, around-the-clock microfilming programs have copied practically all banking functions, ranging from million-dollar transactions to $2 Christmas Club deposits. These records leave Detroit daily for outstate storage.

Otto A. Lill, chairman of the Michigan Bankers Association's E-P committee, and a vice president of Manufacturers National Bank, says most banks have adopted an E-P program.

"It can be accelerated or decelerated," Lill said, "depending on the international situation. But we've just scratched the surface of the E-P problem," he said.

Most Detroit banks store their duplicate records outside a 50-mile perimeter of the city. Detroit's federal reserve branch is the only bank to store emergency supplies of currency at classified sites. It keeps its records at a storage center in Indiana, which is shared by the Chicago branch.

The E-P program at the federal reserve branch here has reached the stage where the entire banking operation, including personnel, currency and papers, can be transferred into basement vaults seven minutes after an alarm.

In fact, the entire financial structures of most banks in Detroit could, through the industry's duplicate records program, be duplicated even if the main office and all key executives were wiped out in a nuclear blast.

Trans Caribbean Asks Detroit-Philly Route

In asking the Civil Aeronautics Board for several eastern routes, Trans Caribbean said it would carry passengers, cargo and non-subsidy-basis mail in a DC8B aircraft or in DC8 jets which it is buying.

The airline entered its filing in the CAB investigation — growing out of the merger of United and Capital airlines — into the need for air service between the two cities.

Wins Honor During 4-H Show at MSU

Avon Youth's Lamb Is Champ of Class

The individual grand champion of the show's market lamb division is owned by John Rose, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Edwin Rose, 670 N. Adams Road.

John is the oldest of three members of his family who are active in 4-H Club projects. His sisters, Karen, 12, and Bonny, 14, participated with him in the Oakland County 4-H Club Fair which was held earlier this month.

His winning entry was judged yesterday at Michigan State University's Spartan Stadium, which has been turned into a huge livestock show ring for the four-day event.

John won a second honor today when his Hampshire ram was named reserve grand champion of its breed.

Other members of the East Orion 4-H Club also won top honors in the statewide competition.

Douglas Norland, a member of the Bloomfield 4-H Club, was second in the automobile driving ability contest, an event held for the first time this year at the state show. He missed winning the automobile championship by only one point.

★ ★ ★

The state show continues until tomorrow night on the MSU campus. Scheduled today were beef, dairy cattle and sheep judging, a tractor operators' contest, softball playoffs, rifle matches and an evening dress revue.

3 OTHER WINNERS

Three other area 4-H Club members also were among the top winners in the first two days of competition.

Vicki won the trail course competition for girls aged 15 and under.

Jean had a top entry in the pony and saddle horse division as did Irene Engle, 15, of 55245 W. 8-Mile Road, Northville.

Mayor Vetoes Multiple Houses

Clarkson in Southfield Says 12 Mile Project Against Zoning

SOUTHFIELD — A compromise action taken by the City Council to permit the construction of multiple dwellings at 12-Mile Road in the River Rouge Basin area has been vetoed by Mayor S. James Clarkson.

Clarkson's rejection of the project came in a letter read to the council. The mayor is vacationing in Grand Rapids.

The council approved the construction of the multiple structures last week following an Oakland County Circuit Court decree that consented to the land fill of property owned by the Avison Development Co.

The Avison Co. had proposed several months ago to fill the entire valley and build single family residences but the council turned down the plans after hearing protests from area residents claiming the move would destroy the natural beauty of site.

Avison then took the matter into court and the suggestion was made that the developer and council come to some agreement.

Last Monday the council voted 5-2 in approving Avison's second proposal to fill the valley only partially and then build on the higher level. The structures would follow the contours of the land.

★ ★ ★

Clarkson, in his veto message, however, stated among other reasons that multiples are nonconforming use of property under the city's zoning ordinance and that the council "is being forced into its position on a false premise."

★ ★ ★

"We don't know that we are going to lose the case in circuit court," the mayor wrote.

The reference was made to Avison's suit which is still pending.

Clarkson's veto of a council action was his fifth since April.

Filter Sewage Facility Now Decided at Romeo

ROMEO — After months of consideration and study, the Romeo Village Council last night adopted a $244,000 plan for expansion of present sewer facilities.

★ ★ ★

It will permit use of the existing Imhoff tank as a digester and will cost $12,000 a year to operate.

A building will be required to house a laboratory, sludge pumps, miscellaneous equipment, valves and piping. According to the council, it had the lowest construction cost of the four plans.

LESS COMPLICATED

It also would not require as high a degree of skill to operate as an activated sludge-type plant, members said.

★ ★ ★

At the public hearing consulting engineer John Seeley of the Ann Arbor firm of McNamee, Porter and Seeley recommended this plan to handle village growth up to 5,000.

This was the population goal set by the council for 1980 based on statistics of growth over previous 10-year periods.

The 5,000 total was challenged at the hearing as indicating how shortsighted the council was being in planning for the future.

The village officials' rebuttal was that the territorial limits of the village would not allow for growth above that figure and that no annexation of adjacent properties was planned.

Along with approving the $244,000 plan, the council voted to apply for the total amount in federal aid, assuming that 30 per cent would be forthcoming.

The engineers also were instructed to draft final plans for the expanded sewer plant to submit for approval to the State Health Department.

Two years ago the health department told the village that immediate action must be taken to abate the pollution of the north branch of the Clinton River.

Shortly after that a $310,000 sewer plant improvement presented to the village electorate was turned down.

At last week's hearing Maurice Richmond, state sanitation engineer, said the pollution case against Romeo was "ready for filing."

Village Attorney Gary Corbin also has been instructed to contact the bonding attorneys to have them prepare information on methods of financing the newly-adopted sewer plan.

When the four proposals were first presented to the public, Wayne C. Black, village president, said it could be planned safely that the project would be paid for with revenue bonds rather than bonds on real estate.

Give Contract for Sewer Work

Troy Commission OKs Limiting Licenses for Dance Halls

TROY — A $15,933 contract for extension of the Evergreen sewer system here has been awarded to Gelfreas Brothers Excavating Co. of Mount Clemens.

★ ★ ★

The Evergreen sewer main will be extended approximately one-half mile north of its present terminus, City Clerk J. Lawson Lockhart said yesterday.

In other action, the City Commission approved a new dance-hall ordinance but turned down a proposed ordinance which would require the deposit of a cash bond for any construction work in the city which amounted to more than $750.

The commission also authorized the city clerk to advertise for bids on material for surfacing five streets in the Thornwood Subdivision.

Lockhart said the new dance-hall ordinance limits the licensing of such establishments in the city.

★ ★ ★

The building bond ordinance, designed to protect public property while work is being carried out on a construction job, would have caused a hardship to homeowners doing their own work, the commissioners decided.

Rochester Hires Ohio Firm to Drill New Well

ROCHESTER — An Ohio firm has been awarded a contract to drill a new well to increase the capacity of Rochester's municipally-owned water system.

The well drilling contract was awarded to the Dunbar Drilling Co. of Swanton, Ohio. The cost of the work will depend on the depth of the new well, according to Village Manager Paul York.

The Village Council, which is studying the possibility of including Rochester in the growing Detroit water system, was advised by the village's engineering firm that an extra well is necessary to serve the immediate needs of the local system.

The council approved advertising for bids on the new well at its July 24 meeting.

20th Labor Day Parade to Be Held in Clarkston

CLARKSTON — For the 20th consecutive year the Clarkston Rotary Club will sponsor a Labor Day parade, this one planned to be the most colorful in its history, according to Robert Jones, general chairman.

The parade will begin at 10 a.m. Monday with registration set for a half hour before at the corner of Dixie highway and M15.

The marchers and floats will move up M15 along a 2-mile stretch into Clarkston led by a color guard of the American Legion Campbell Richmond Post.

Floats, divided into three categories, have been entered from five area subdivisions, 15 business and industrial firms and eight organizations.

★ ★ ★

Also featured will be costumed children, a pet parade, Independence Township firefighters and the Clarkston High School band.

★ ★ ★

Prancing horses with fancy-dressed riders from many Oakland County saddle clubs will add variety and interest to the procession.

As a special feature, 15 restored antique automobiles will rumble down the highway. The occupants will be costumed in the period to match their car vintage.

All those participating in the parade will be served free refreshments by Rotarians at the conclusion of the parade.

Also on the holiday artists from Clarkston and surrounding areas will present a large exhibit on the blacktop area back of the Community Center beginning at 9 a.m. At 6 p.m. many of the paintings will be auctioned to the highest bidder.

Mrs. Henry Storer and Mrs. Henry Rankin are in charge of the exhibit which is sponsored by the Village Friends of Art.

New Students to Register in Avon District

Registration scheduled for tomorrow in the Avondale School District is necessary only for new students or for those who did not attend classes there last year, school officials said today.

Those enrolled in the district during the 1960-61 school year need not reapply for admission, according to the superintendent's office. Regular registration was held last spring.

Buses will be available for junior high school students and for elementary pupils attending Avondale schools for the first time this year. No bus service will be available for new senior high school students, who will be permitted to register at any hour tomorrow.

Registration times are 8:30 a.m. for junior high students tomorrow and 9 a.m. for elementary pupils.

State Road Department Paying $1 Million a Day

LANSING (AP) — The State Highway Department reports it currently is making payments to contractors of more than $1 million a day and will continue this rate for the next 60 days during the peak construction season.

The department estimated its program is providing employment for nearly 16,000 workers throughout the state.

Ex-Cross Employes Fined, on Probation

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP) — Two former Cross Co. employes were convicted of trying to spread nails at entrances to the Cross plant in Fraser during a strike in 1959 and were fined and placed on six months probation Tuesday.

The pair, Peter Bachman Jr., 25, of Roseville, and Edward G. Bupte, 38, of St. Clair Shores, were convicted in June 1960.

Circuit Judge James E. Spier fined Bachman $50 and $50 costs and Bupte $50 and $15 costs.

KEEGO HARBOR—Linda Joyce Myers, state vice president of the Future Homemakers of America, is attending a two-day executive council conference of FHA in Lansing.

The 16-year-old officer is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Myers of 2278 Hester Court.

Linda, along with other state officers and members of the FHA, will leave Lansing Friday morning to take part in a dress revue being staged at the Michigan State Fair in Detroit.

The garments to be modeled were made by the FHA members.

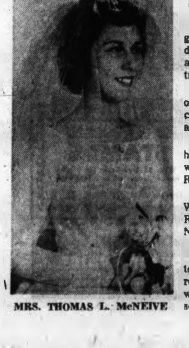
Georgia Sword Weds

Newlyweds in the East

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Vases of gladioli and roses graced the altar of Our Lady of the Lakes Catholic Church for the wedding Saturday of Georgia Anne Sword and Thomas Lee McNeive. Rev. Frederick Delaney performed the morning rites.



MRS. THOMAS L. McNEIVE

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. William G. Sword of 5351 Commer Road. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clement McNelve of 4850 Pinecrest Road, Independence Township.

The bride wore a floor length gown of silk organza over taffeta designed with long, pointed sleeves, a scoop neckline and a chapel train for her wedding.

Her floral headpiece held a veil of French hand-sewn illusion. She carried a cascade of white roses and stephanotis.

Serving as best man was Robert Ward. The guests were seated by Roger Clement and Lawrence McNeil.

Adventists Plan to Open School; Expect 106 Pupils

The Seventh-day Adventist Elementary School and Junior Academy of Pontiac, 81 E. Howard St., will open Sept. 5.

Expected enrollment at Pontiac's smallest educational unit will be 106 pupils, taught by four instructors, according to Ralph E. James, principal.

The school's curriculum will match that of public schools with the addition of courses of religious instruction and spiritual emphasis on other subjects where appropriate, James said.

Classes will be offered for grades 1-10. Extra-curricular instruction is available through the school's Pathfinder organization, in which youngsters may study crafts and nature subjects.

State Traffic Kills 981

EAST LANSING (AP)—There have been 981 persons killed in Michigan traffic accidents so far this year, provisional figures compiled by state police showed today. The total compares with 964 killed during the same period last year.

Focus on Health

Vaccines, Calcium, Thin Bones in News This Week

By The Associated Press

Vaccines in the Soviet Union, heart attacks in middle-aged smokers, and calcium in the diet of persons with thinning bones are subjects for focus on health:

SOVIET PUSH VACCINES

The Soviet Union is preparing a billion doses of live-virus, oral polio vaccine from seed viruses obtained from Dr. Albert Sabin. Some of these doses are to be offered to other countries, scientists report.

Most other Soviet vaccines reported also involve live viruses as opposed to killed virus vaccines used widely in the United States. Soviet researchers say they have a live-virus mumps vaccine which has been given to 50,000 children by injection with good response.

They have also used live-virus influenza vaccine which has some drawbacks, they told U.S. visitors.

THE HEAVY SMOKER

Why are death rates from heart attacks among middle-aged men up to 1½ times as high for heavy cigarette smokers as for non-smokers?

The American Heart Association's newsletter says a possible explanation may exist in a study by a Philadelphia research team. The team found that two cigarettes smoked within 10 minutes raised the level of some fats in the blood—and the effect lingered for at least 40 minutes.

Perhaps nicotine from smoking stimulates the nervous system and the adrenal glands to release a form of adrenalin that frees fats from storage areas in the body, researchers suggest.

It could explain why smokers have higher levels of cholesterol in their blood. Cholesterol is a blood fat which is suspected of contributing to heart disease by clogging and narrowing arteries.

BUILDING BONE

A new study indicates that abundant calcium in the diet during adult years may protect the skeleton, especially in persons suffering from a loss of calcium, and a thinning of bone.

Doctors have obtained good results by boosting the calcium in the diets of arthritis patients who are taking cortisone or related hormones. Cortisone apparently worsens calcium loss.

Almost a third of the women past menopause suffer from a thinning of bone, involving a loss of calcium, particularly from the spine. This bone thinning disease is even more common in older women with rheumatoid arthritis.

THIS WEEK, MUMPS

A valid way to protect adults against diseases such as mumps, chicken pox and German measles may be to expose them to these diseases in childhood, says a Scottish doctor.

When these diseases strike older persons they can be severe and spread through the entire system. Vaccination of children may only delay infection, leaving the adult vulnerable, says Dr. Thomas Anderson of the University of Glasgow.

GOOD FISH OR BAD?

During these hot summer days when the ardent fisherman in the family brings home his catch, you might ask for health's sake if he can tell a good fish from a spoiled one.

The Connecticut State Department of Health offers guides. Among them: Good fish have bright red gills, usually closed. Eyes are bright and full. Scales are adherent. Body is stiff and tail rigid. Flesh is firm. The fish sinks in water. Bad fish float, have dull, opaque eyes; pale gray or yellowish brown gills, a soft and limp feel.

Propaganda Battle for Survival Itself

DEARBORN (AP) — The stakes in the West's propaganda battle with the Communist bloc nations "are no less that survival itself," John N. Hutchinson, director of the U.S. Information Agency (USIA) press and publication service, said.

★ ★ ★

Hutchinson spoke Tuesday at the 11th annual convention of the Association for Education in Journalism (AEJ), hosted by the University of Michigan.

Hutchinson said Communism has millions of actual party members in non-Communist countries parroting home a single-minded ideological program day after day.

"The Communist bloc broadcasts some 3,000 hours weekly to the world by shortwave, nearly five times as much as our Voice of America," Hutchinson said.

Heavy Traffic Stretches Given

Labor Day Weekend to Bring 60 Pct. Rise in Statewide Travel

LANSING (AP) — Motorists traveling on Michigan highways were urged to plan their Labor Day holiday trips ahead to avoid unnecessary delays on state highways.

The Michigan Highway Department said the busiest hours during the weekend will be early Friday evening and late Monday afternoon. Statewide travel is expected to be some 60 per cent heavier than on an average weekend.

Experts said that on Labor day, southbound travelers will move in a wave, with traffic hitting a peak in the northern third of the Lower Peninsula between 10 a.m. and 1 p.m.

One exception is expected, however, in a belt along the west coast between Manistee and Traverse City, where the peak hours will be from 1 to 5 p.m.

The department said a 100-mile band across the Lower Peninsula from the Muskegon-Bay City line to I94 will get the traffic surge between 4 and 8 p.m.

The traffic peak between I94 and the Ohio and Indiana state lines is expected between 6 and 9 p.m., while the New Buffalo area—which gets the brunt of Chicago-bound traffic, will have its rush beginning at 2 p.m. and continue to at least 9 p.m.

The entire holiday period probably will see extremely heavy traffic at the intersection of U.S. 16 and U.S. 23 east of Brighton, the department said. It urged motorists to use alternate routes where possible.

Charles Falahee Made Jackson County Judge

LANSING (AP)—Charles J. Falahee, 37, a Michigan Center attorney, was appointed Jackson County Probate judge today by Gov. Swainson.

Falahee once served as Jackson County judge, filling the unexpired term of the late Judge Harry D. Boardman in 1939.

Flight of DPs Greatest Exodus Since Time of Moses

By JAMES F. KING
AP Staff Writer

The refugee is the man who flees his homeland—sometimes beckoned by hope but more often driven by fear — and can't go back again.

Since World War II more than 40 million persons have become refugees in the greatest exodus since Moses led the children of Israel to the Promised Land.

* * *

These barriers have checked the outward flow of those seeking freedom under democracy; yet they have failed to completely crush the will of hundreds to risk death daily to try escape.

Religious and racial squabbles have swelled the ranks of refugees since the war. But generally the plight of the unfortunate crosses creed and color bars.

Most of the refugees have found sanctuary. But millions are still living under pitiful conditions, keeping alive as much on hope as from charity.

UNIQUE FLIGHT

The dramatic flight of more than three million East Germans is unique in that they joined fellow countrymen in their own country and with the almost certainty of finding a job in a prosperous West Germany.

For millions of other uprooted from their homes the outlook and prospects have been — and still are — filled with uncertainty in a strange land.

Some are still pawns of war — like the million Arab refugees who are wards of the United Nations Relief Works Agency. For a decade they have huddled in camps in the Arab lands encircling Israel as virtual hostages. The Jews and Arabs are still technically at war, leaving resettlement of the Palestine refugees in the air.

The biggest and bloodiest migration since the war came ironically with the granting of freedom when British India was partitioned in 1947.

About nine million Hindus moved from Pakistan to India and more than eight million Moslems shifted from India to Pakistan amid violence that took several hundred thousand lives.

Communism has been the trigger for the mass flights of refugees in recent years in other areas as well as Germany.

HOME IN STREETS

More than 1.5 million Chinese have poured into Hong Kong since the Communist conquest of the China mainland a dozen years ago. Most rushed to the British colony before a Red clampdown in 1951. About 100 still sneak in daily—some escaping by swimming the Sham Chun River, others by hiding in cargo junks. For thousands their only home on arrival is the street, their bed the sidewalk. Smuggling of refugees is rife. The price for escape in the "snake express" — packed like a snake for the voyage on a junk — is $25-$30.

The Red Chinese have extended their border sentries to include Tibet since Lhasa uprising in March 1959. Upwards of 75,000 Tibetans have fled to India and Nepal but the number making their getaway has slumped from a total of 5,794 in the first seven months of 1960 to only 2,580 in the same period this year.

Some of the shifts in population have moved more smoothly. More than 900,000 North Vietnamese crossed over to South Viet Nam without much interference when the Communists cut the country in half.

Most of the 200,000 Hungarians who fled in the 1956 revolution have been assimilated around the world. A few thousand stateless persons remain in Western European DP camps but most have been taken care of. The Rev. Dominique Georges Pire, a Belgian priest, was awarded the Nobel Peace Prize in 1958 for establishing whole villages of refugee families, who live in their own houses and are now paying their own way.

The escapes from European satellite countries have been isolated — but some dramatic. A few years ago 38 Czechs, with the connivance of the locomotive engineer, hijacked a train and rode to safety in West Germany. Several Polish and Romanian fliers have fled to the West in Soviet-built MIG planes. Three Hungarians made their getaway to Austria by driving a tractor through a barbed wire barricade.

The United States has been the chief haven for European refugees — opening the door to nearly a half million since 1947. But since Fidel Castro seized power in Cuba nearly three years ago the United States has provided a sanctuary mainly for Cubans.

POUR INTO MIAMI

Cubans are rushing into Miami at the rate of more than 1,000 a week and up to 100,000 have left the Caribbean island republic since 1959. The Castro regime has given clearance to most but hundreds have made their getaways surreptitiously rather than wait in fear of being trapped or jailed.

Charges Laos Reds Want to Split Nation

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — The leader of the Laotian government delegation to the Ban Namone truce talks Tuesday accused the procommunist Pathet Lao group and Prince Souvanna Phouma's neutralists of wishing to divide the southeast Asian nation.

Gen. Sing Rattanasamay declared their intentions to split the country are obvious and said the political and military talks will be lengthy "because of the inflexible positions" of the other two groups.

He emphasized that the Royal Laotian government will seek a reconciliation rather than face another military outbreak.

Jackson Junior College Given 270 Acres of Land

JACKSON (AP) — J. Sterling Wickwire, retired Jackson industrialist, has donated a 270-acre suburban land tract for use as a new campus site by Jackson Junior College.

The gift, accepted Monday night by the college's board, includes the Wickwire residence on the land parcel located four miles south of downtown Jackson.

Value of the land, located in Summit Township, is estimated at some $500,000. The land is located near a 180-acre land tract already owned by the college.

Train Skips, 3 Killed

PARIS (AP) — Three persons were killed and 20 injured — seven seriously — when part of an express passenger train was derailed Tuesday. The accident occurred at Theil, 80 miles southwest of Paris.

Defense Secretary Cites Labor's Role

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara says the nation "can count on the American worker, as a production partner of the armed forces, to meet any challenge that faces us."

* * *

The Pentagon chief expressed that view in a Labor Day statement issued Tuesday. Later, said McNamara, "is playing a vital role in producing important, urgent military supplies and equipment, including weapons of unusual complexity."

There Goes Another Motto Down the Drain

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — After years of wading through every thing from blizzards to hailstones, the mailman has asked for a reprieve from heavy weather.

The State Association of Letter Carriers Tuesday adopted resolutions urging laws that would suspend mail delivery in weather emergencies and cut the mailman's day from eight to six hours when the temperature climbs above 80 or drops below 10.

Beginning to Believe Aug. 28 Is Their Day

DETROIT (AP)—Raymond and Flora Plasencia have no problem at all in remembering the birthdays of their four children.

Their first daughter, Florastella was born Monday night, Aug. 28.

All the boys—Ramon, 6; Jesus Benito, 5, and Ricardo, 3 also were born on Aug. 28.

Troops in Berlin Called 'Empty Gesture' by Nixon

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon Tuesday night called President Kennedy's ordering 1,500 extra troops to Berlin "an empty gesture."

* * *

"Any thought that moving a few ground troops into Berlin is going to have any effect on Mr. Khrushchev is a bunch of nonsense," Nixon said on a CBS radio program "The World Tonight."

HITS 'BEEFING UP'

Nixon said he thought the Soviet premier might interpret the "beefing up" of the U.S. garrison in Berlin as an indication of "weakness rather than strength."

Nixon said, however, that "I would not criticize" Kennedy's general handling of the Berlin situation "except for the fact that I think there has been too much loose talk about it."

Capital Folk Worry

Mr. Sam Feelin' Poorly

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON — Official Washington is frankly concerned about the health and well-being of speaker Sam Rayburn, the beloved "Mr. Sam" who has ruled Congress with a benign hand for longer than any man in history.

The speaker has lost too much weight. His belt fits several notches closer, his once trim suits are baggy, and he has no appetite.

Two complete physical examinations—the last one at Bethesda Naval Hospital — indicate no cause for alarm. For a man who will be 80 years old next January, he checks through in remarkably good condition.

Mr. Sam is in virtually constant pain these days with his back. President Kennedy, who has had such agonizing bouts that he chose for White House physician his favorite back specialist, generously lent Dr. Janet Travell to the speaker.

She is treating him, and prescribing "a new type of medicine," according to Rayburn's staff, but the stubborn pain persists. The old war horse who for nearly eight decades refused to take long daily siestas on the couch in his Capitol office.

"I don't want to be disturbed," he tells his loyal staffers, who ache for their boss.

Doctors have found little wrong with Mr. Sam except stomach acidity. This could be improved if he would eat—which he won't.

The other day he was persuaded to try a piece of watermelon and after making good headway with it remarked: "That's the first thing I've eaten in three weeks that had any taste to it."

If the speaker's health problems are largely attributable to overexhaustion, as some believe, then he should soon be due for an upswing.

The adjournment push during the summer dog days has taken its toll of many legislators in years past but that strain will be relieved in another couple of weeks.

Final Summer Holiday Includes Picnic

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

What sort of festivities are you planning for the long weekend ahead? Its the last chance to relax before school and all the fall activities begin.

Surely some company meal is in your program. Are you having breakfast guests as your Food Editor is? We specialize in outdoor breakfasts on summer holidays.

Guests enjoy cooking their own food. Have a bowl of eggs, some strips of bacon and pancake batter all ready beside the grill. Then stand back and watch. Everyone can have eggs cooked to his individual taste. Pancakes cooked out of doors have a special flavor.

Serve butter, jam, maple syrup or honey for the pancakes. But add also a dish of warm applesauce, made from new tart apples. Include a bowl of sliced sugared peaches for an elegant pancake topping. Be sure there is plenty of hot fragrant coffee for the adults and milk for the youngsters.

If your company comes later in the day, treat them to shish kebabs. You'll want to cube the meat and marinate it overnight in the refrigerator. Fresh green pepper squares and tomato wedges go along with the lamb. Fresh mushrooms are a nice addition. Again let everyone grill his own.

Lamb En Brochette

6 to 8 pound leg of lamb, cubed
1 cup Wine Vinegar
½ cup salad oil
1½ teaspoons salt
½ teaspoon pepper
½ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
2 medium onion, thinly sliced
1 bay leaf
18 whole cloves
Mushroom caps
Tomato wedges
Green pepper squares

Combine vinegar, salad oil, salt, pepper, Worcestershire sauce, onion, bay leaf, and cloves. Pour the marinade over cubes of lamb. Chill for at least 6 to 8 hours or overnight in the refrigerator. Remove lamb cubes from the marinade.

Thread cubes onto skewers leaving space for thorough cooking. The vegetables will be placed on the ends of the skewer later. Drop green pepper squares into boiling water for 2 minutes.

Grill 10 to 12 minutes, turning once. Thread the vegetables on the same skewers alternating the mushrooms, tomatoes and green peppers. Baste vegetables with the marinade. Grill 2 to 3 minutes.

★ ★ ★

For dessert serve squares of maple cake with a maple praline topping. The cake itself is made with a mix. The topping is the baked-on type.

Sugar Maple Cake

1 package sugar maple cake mix
1⅓ cups water
2 eggs, unbeaten
½ cup firmly packed brown sugar
2 tablespoons flour
½ cup chopped pecans
3 tablespoons butter, melted
½ cup maple-blended syrup

Empty cake mix into a bowl. Add water and eggs. Beat 3 minutes until batter is smooth and creamy. Pour into a greased and floured 13x9x2-inch pan. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 40 to 45 minutes.

Meanwhile, combine remaining ingredients, mixing thoroughly. Remove cake from oven. Spread topping over cake in pan. Place under broiler for 2 to 3 minutes, or until topping is bubbly. (Or return cake to the oven and bake 5 minutes longer.)

Note: If topping becomes too firm before spreading, place in a bowl of warm water.

MEAL-IN-ONE SALAD: — Macaroni salads are a summer favorite . . . this recipe features macaroni in a main course salad. Muffins and butter, along with a beverage and dessert of your choice, round out the menu.

Macaroni Is Good Base for Summer Dishes

Cooling salads are fine eating for warm weather menus, and the imaginative homemaker finds there is no end to the many ways they can be prepared to enhance meals. A basic and favorite salad ingredient is elbow macaroni . . . the bland flavor making it a flavor mate for a host of other foods. Meats, fish, poultry, fruits, vegetables, cheese are all delicious mixed with macaroni.

Team together macaroni, ham, chicken, tomatoes and lettuce . . . arrange in an attractive salad bowl and serve with French dressing. You will agree, as will the family, this is eating at its best, and especially appealing for summer.

Hot foods are a part of summer menu planning, too, and skillet dishes are a good selection. Elbow macaroni, chicken and vegetables are a tasty combination in a skillet recipe designed for homemakers who want to serve appealing meals, and keep kitchen time to a minimum.

Regardless of season, macaroni products are a staple item with wise homemakers. Whether it's hot or cold . . . if the thermometer registers zero or ninety . . . they depend upon elbow macaroni, spaghetti and egg noodles to use in dishes which are flavorful, economical and nutritious.

Meal-in-One Macaroni Salad

1 tablespoon salt
2 quarts boiling water
2 cups elbow macaroni (8 ounces)
2 cups diced cooked ham
2 cups diced cooked chicken
4 tomatoes, cut in quarters
Lettuce
Parsley
French dressing

Add 1 tablespoon salt to rapidly boiling water. Gradually add macaroni so that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender. Drain colander. Rinse with cold water. Drain.

Arrange macaroni, ham, chicken and tomatoes on lettuce. Garnish with parsley. Serve with French dressing. Makes 4-6 servings.

Chicken-Macaroni Skillet

1 tablespoon salt
2 quarts boiling water
2 cups elbow macaroni (8 ounces)
¼ cup butter or margarine
2 cups diced cooked chicken
1 large onion, sliced
1 medium-sized green pepper, chopped
1 cup sliced mushrooms
1 clove garlic, crushed
1 cup vegetable juice cocktail
¼ cup Parmesan cheese
2 teaspoons seasoned salt
1¼ teaspoons basil

Add 1 tablespoon salt to rapidly boiling water. Gradually add macaroni so that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender. Drain in colander.

★ ★ ★

Meanwhile, melt butter or margarine. Add chicken, onion, green pepper, mushrooms and garlic; mix well. Cook over medium heat, stirring frequently, 10 minutes. Add macaroni; mix well, combine remaining ingredients; mix well. Pour vegetable juice mixture over macaroni mixture; mix well. Heat to serving temperature, stirring occasionally. Makes 4-6 servings.

Marinate Stewing Beef for Kabobs

The Persian horsemen discovered it about twenty-five hundred years ago: chunks of lean meat stuck over the fire until seared to a crusty brown make tantalizingly good eating. But shish-kabobs have two other advantages: they are quick and easy to cook, and they can be inexpensive.

Of course, the choice, expensive cuts of meat are preferable, but for family fare, any meat that is lean can be used. Stewing beef, the kind sold in 1-and-2-pound packages in the supermarkets, can be tenderized for kabob-cooking, marinated in an olive oil mixture with the same seasonings used by the Persians of old.

This is excellent family food. Cover the chunks of stewing beef with the marinade in the morning, leave the bowl in the refrigerator until it's time to start the charcoal fire, then take the meat out to warm up to air temperature as the charcoal turns to white hot coals. Supper can be cooked in 15 minutes, served without fuss, and everyone will love it, including the cook.

To tenderize stewing beef sufficiently for broiling, the meat should be sprinkled with commercial meat tenderizer first, then covered with a blend of Spanish olive oil, lemon juice, onion juice, cinnamon and pepper (no salt). The combination of cinnamon and black pepper is one found frequently in Persian recipes; cinnamon is used frequently by the Spanish in meat dishes, too, probably a heritage of the days when Spain was ruled by the Moors, a part of the Arabic world.

The effect of cinnamon on broiled meat is surprising: the flavoring is subtle, not sharp or hot. It is important to add such seasoning to stewing beef because it usually has been cut from not only a less tender, but also a less flavorful portion of the steer. The meat when tenderized need only be cooked long enough for the outside to be well-browned. If it is still rare on the inside, so much the better. Rare meat is more tender.

When less-tender cuts of meat have been cooked beyond the rare stage the meat begins to toughen and then must be cooked with moisture (stewed, braised or pot-roasted) for a very long time to become tender again.

To make kabobs look more substantial, chunks of green pepper, onion, squash or mushroom caps may be inserted between the meat, but these are not essential. If you find these broiled vegetable bits left on the plate, omit them and broil the meat alone on skewers, put vegetables into the salad bowl instead, or serve them already cooked but cold, with an olive oil dressing.

Stewing Beef Kabobs

1 lb. stewing beef
1 teaspoon commercial meat tenderizer
½ cup Spanish olive oil
1 teaspoon lemon juice
1 teaspoon grated onion and juice
¼ teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon black pepper
Optional additions:
Chunks of green pepper
Mushroom caps
Thick slices zucchini or yellow squash

Beef should be cut into 1-to-1½-inch cubes. Sprinkle meat all over with commercial meat tenderizer, then separately combine olive oil, lemon and onion juice, cinnamon and pepper. Pour this over meat. Marinate until ready to broil, turning meat several times, if possible.

Spear on skewers alternately with vegetables, if desired. Place skewers over glowing hot charcoal, about 2 inches from heat. Turn until well-browned on all sides, 10 to 15 minutes. Makes 3 or 4 servings.

Recipes Should Explain Terms More Fully

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Ross reports that a recipe for browning meat elicited this inquiry: "When you say brown, do you mean maple, walnut or mahogany?"

Two Menu Suggestions for Cooperative Meal

Just a few more weeks of real summer. Unfortunately it involves cleaning and closing up the summer house.

Your neighbors are probably doing the same as you so why not have a pitch-in dinner and be together one more time.

Try our Smorgasbord Peas, which delight everyone because you can have your choice of toppings.

Smorgasboard Peas

1 can (1 pound, 1 ounce) medium-early peas
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
Crisp fried bacon
Onion rings
Cashew nuts

Heat peas in the liquid from the can. Drain slightly, season with butter or margarine. Serve with assorted toppings. Serves 4.

★

Applesauce Sundae

½ cup apple sauce
½ teaspoon nutmeg
½ teaspoon cinnamon
1 tablespoon sugar

Halve Cherries for Chiffon Pie

You'll gather a big bouquet of compliments when you serve this tempting pie that fairly bursts with luscious bing cherries. It can be made ahead and 'tis an "easy," too, when you use a package of pie crust mix — and the tender, flaky crust would please grandmother!

Bing Cherry Chiffon Pie

Pie shell:
½ package (1 cup) pie crust mix
2 tablespoons cold water
Filling:
1 cup pitted halved fresh or canned bing cherries, drained
1 3-ounce package orange flavored gelatin
½ cup hot water
½ cup orange juice
2 tablespoons cold water
½ cup whipping cream, whipped
Dash salt
2 egg whites
¼ cup sugar

Heat oven to hot (425 degrees F.). For pie shell, empty pie crust mix into bowl. Sprinkle cold water by tablespoons over mix; stir lightly with fork until just dampened. (If necessary to make dough hold together, add another tablespoon cold water.) Form into ball. Roll out on lightly floured board to form a 13-inch circle. Fit into pie plate. Trim; flute edges; prick well. Bake in preheated hot oven (425 degrees F.) 10 to 12 minutes. Cool.

★ ★ ★

Dissolve gelatin in hot water. Add orange juice and water. Chill until partially set. Beat vigorously with rotary beater or mixer until light and fluffy. Fold in cherries and whipped cream. Add salt to egg whites. Beat until soft peaks form; gradually add sugar, beating until stiff peaks form. Fold egg whites into gelatin mixture. Pour into cooled pie shell. Chill.

Shrimp Casserole a Smooth Dish

Some of the best news in many seasons for Midwestern homemakers is the summer's abundance of shrimp. These little seafood morsels are ready-made for tempting appetizers and cool salads. In addition, shrimp can become the basis for excitingly novel main dishes.

★ ★ ★

Your cooking repertoire isn't complete if you don't have an extra-special recipe for seafood. Here's a shrimp casserole that will make you the envy of your friends and the pride of your household.

Arrange the following in layers in a greased 1-½ quart casserole: 1 cup cleaned cooked shrimp, 2 sliced hard-cooked eggs and ½ cup sliced ripe olives. Repeat these layers using the same amount of ingredients.

Cook ¼ cup chopped onion in 2 pats of butter until soft. Add a can of mushroom soup, ½ cup each grated sharp cheese and light cream, and season with dry mustard. Blend until smooth. Pour over the layers. Top with buttered bread crumbs and chopped parsley. Bake 30 minutes in a 350 degree oven.

Right Care of Hamburger Is Essential

Ground beef may be such a regular on the shopping list that you forget to give it the attention it deserves, says Josephine Lawyer, Marketing Information Agent.

Ground beef is more perishable than solid cuts of beef. When it is put through the grinder the temperature is raised and it has many surfaces exposed to air and light.

Ground meat needs the best care at home to maintain top quality. Remove the store wrap and loosely re-wrap the meat with waxed paper. Then put it in the coldest part of the refrigerator immediately. For best eating, ground beef should be used within twenty-four hours after purchase.

If you want to keep ground meat longer than two days, it's best to freeze it. Frozen ground beef can be stored for two months in the home freezer at zero degrees. If the ground beef is shaped into patties before freezing, it can be cooked from the frozen state without thawing.

Hamburger may be one of your family's favorite meats. Don't forget to give it the care it deserves when it arrives in your house.

Coffee on the Road Made Easily With Travel Kit

A traveling coffee kit is handy for preparing hot drinks or soup, or even for boiling eggs away from home. Use any electric outlet to plug in the water heater — which may be a heat immersion rod or an actual coffee percolator.

Such kits come in small zippered cases complete with cups or mugs, spoons, and sometimes plastic jars with locking covers. To prevent stale food odors, these utensils must be washed in hot soap or detergent suds and rinses promptly after use.

Be Thorough

If you are using a low-fat pie dough recipe, blend the fat thoroughly with the flour before adding the liquid needed. If the fat is not well distributed, too much liquid may be used.

TV Commercialand Becoming Modern Day Hereafter

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Some people want to go to heaven when they leave this present vale of tears and terror.

* * *

I did, too, until I started noticing how the people live who are pictured in television commercials. Now, if I must depart this earthly scene, I want to be reborn as one of them.

BOYLE

They dwell, it seems to me, in the best of all possible worlds—better even than heaven because it is more exciting.

There are two fantasy worlds on television.

One is the world shown on TV programs. It is a world of conflict and violence inhabited by gangsters, Western bad men, juvenile delinquents, psychotics and neurotics. It is a ferocious world in which fists thud endlessly, flashing knives are buried in human flesh, and guns bark, roar or spit flaming death.

* * *

Life in this world is just one long heyday for the undertaker and the bandage salesman.

The second TV fantasy world is shown in the commercials.

This is the dream world into which any sensible person would love to retire right now and live happily forever.

What are its attractions? Well, there are so many it is hard to know just where to begin.

The world of the TV commercial is a world of solvable problems. Most everybody has a trouble, but it is a small trouble easily and quickly remedied.

EVERYBODY FRIENDLY

It is a world without cruelty or mayhem, inhabited by kindly people who help one another to live better by just a bit of friendly advice.

The repairman doesn't charge the harassed housewife $85.12 to fix her washing machine.

"What kind of soapsuds have you been using?" he asks with tolerant superiority. "Just switch to GRIME, and everything will be all right."

The housewife does—right there and then. Miracle of miracles, it works. If the repairman even bothers to give her a bill, he does it off camera.

* * *

In the world of the TV commercial no one worries about the hydrogen bomb, the Berlin crisis, or what to do about Cuba. No one is afflicted with cancer, heart disease, or a runaway ex-husband who refuses to meet his alimony payments.

There is no divorce problem in this world, and no really major illnesses.

It is true that a surprising number of its inhabitants suffer from clanking stomachs and hammers bonging against anvils in their heads—enough to give anyone tension. But they just pop a bubble pill in a glass of water, and right away they are relieved.

FUN, FUN, FUN

And they are generally such happy, happy people! They are always buying shiny new cars and riding off to rollicking beach parties, where the beer is always cold and foaming and plentiful and the cigarettes filter out everything but the flavor. Nobody gets a hangover or a cigarette cough.

Lonely girls or middle-aged women find new romance simply by switching to a new deodorant or gray-hair dye. Lonely men anoint their unruly locks with a special cream, and immediately are turned into irresistible Casanovas.

That's the wonderful thing about this best of all possible worlds—nothing is really complicated.

We'd have better relations abroad if we exported not our explosive TV programs but our cheery TV commercials.

They'd show the rest of mankind a world we could all aspire to live in together—a world where all problems have easy answers, and everything always turns out for the best.

Boy, 6, Dead in Sand 'Died of Suffocation'

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—A missing 6-year-old boy, whose body was found Tuesday buried in a pile of sand near his rural Cedar Springs home, died of suffocation, a medical examiner said.

* * *

The body of the boy, Bruce Heiss, was found about one foot beneath the surface of sand from a basement excavation. Some 100 police and volunteers searched for him after his overnight absence from home.

Regulate Fund Raisers

MINNEAPOLIS (UPI)—A new Minnesota law makes it illegal for a charity to solicit money in the state without registering first with the secretary of state. The registration also must include a financial statement.

An average gasoline service station in the United States is open for business about 100 hours per week.

Lesinski Eyes Congress Seat

Will Decide This Week Whether to Seek to Succeed Machrowicz

LANSING (AP) — Lt. Gov. T. John Lesinski may announce Thursday that he will run for Congress.

"I haven't quite decided yet, but I will make up my mind this week — probably Thursday," Lesinski told newsmen.

Machrowicz has been nominated by President Kennedy to succeed Federal Judge Frank A. Picard of Bay City.

The 36-year-old lieutenant governor, who has made no secret of the fact that he would like to go to Washington, discussed the problem with Gov. Swainson Tuesday.

"The governor had no objection to my running for Congress. He merely told me it was a decision I would have to make for myself," said Lesinski. "He had no strong feeling either way, just as long as it is a fair, clean election."

Twins' Ace Allows Only 4 Hits

Pascual Checks Bombers, 3-0

By The Associated Press

It's been a pretty tough season for the Minnesota Twins, but for Camilo Pascual, their right-handed ace, things have been good and tough, you might say.

The curve-balling Cuban has a 12-13 record with the eighth-place Twins, and he's been good in every one of those dozen victories although most of them have been tough to nail. In six of the 12, Pascual has pitched shutouts. Three of the other six have been by one run, another by two runs.

Pascual hung up that 12th victory and sixth shutout by knocking off the New York Yankees 3-0 Tuesday night, checking the slugging American League leaders on four hits, all singles.

It was only the third victory over New York in 16 games for the Twins—and all three have been shutouts, two by Pascual. He tied Baltimore's Steve Barber for the major league shutout lead with this one and replaced Yankee Whitey Ford as the AL strikeout leader by fanning nine, three times putting a called third strike past Mickey Mantle.

Despite the defeat, the Yanks retained a 1½-game edge over Detroit as the Chicago White Sox ended the second place Tigers' winning streak at five, 4-3. The Los Angeles Angels swept a pair of 6-5 decisions from Baltimore, taking the second in 11 innings. Cleveland defeated Washington 6-4 and Boston beat Kansas City 8-4.

Pascual, who became a first-time poppa earlier in the day, put away his fifth career shutout over the Yankees with a flourish. He struck out Bobby Richardson and Tony Kubek in the ninth, but Roger Maris was safe on a free base error. Pascual then fanned Mantle for the final out. That extended his shutout streak through 20 innings and gave him 179 strikeouts.

Mantle was 1-for-4 and his 46th home run total leaves him just one game ahead of Babe Ruth's record 60 pace in 1927. Maris, 0-for-3, is eight games ahead of Ruth with his 51.

Ralph Terry (11-2) was the loser, after winning six in a row. An unearned run in the third, on Lenny Green's single, and error and Billy Martin's sacrifice fly, ended Terry's shutout string at 24 1-3 innings. Earl Battey's two-run double wrapped it up in the sixth before a crowd of 40,118 that put the Twins over the million mark in their inaugural season.

Jim Gentile belted his 41st and 42nd home runs for the Orioles in the opener, but the Angels took it on a squeeze bunt by winner Ryne Duren (6-11) in the sixth inning. Home runs by Joe Koppe and Steve Bilko then brought the Angels from behind in the 11th inning of the second game and gave the victory to Eli Grba (8-11) in relief. Barber (15-10) and Billy Hoeft (4-4) were the losing pitchers.

The Indians came from behind at Washington with six runs in the seventh, five unearned. Bob Allen (3-0) was the winner and Mike Garcia (0-1) the loser, both in relief.

The Red Sox also won with a six-run rally, over-hauling the A's and beating Ed Rakow (2-6) on Frank Malzone's two-run single in the ninth. Chet Nichols (3-2) was the winner in relief.

Loss to Chisox on Error Hurts Bengal Advance

Scheffing Still Happy With 'Rut' Should It Continue That Way

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Tigers—victims of a game of give-away and flubbed opportunity—are in a rut. It's a wonderful rut as far as Manager Bob Scheffing is concerned.

And if the Tigers stay there it should mean the pennant.

Scheffing shattered the somber atmosphere of the Tiger clubhouse Tuesday night after his team blew an excellent chance to gain a game on the first-place New York Yankees. The Tigers lost 4-3 to the Chicago White Sox, losing the game on an unearned run. The Yankees lost 3-0 to Minnesota but retained their 1½ game lead in the American League.

★ ★ ★

"We won five in a row and lost one, then we won another five in a row and lost one," Scheffing philosophized, casting aside any gloom at losing.

Scheffing's point was clear and confident. Included in the Tiger's next five games are three with the Yankees.

The manager maintained that Sept. 5—a week from Tuesday—is the key date for the Tigers. By then the three-game Yankee series will be history.

A three-game series with third-place Baltimore also will be over.

"That's the date," said Scheffing. "If we're still this close on Sept. 5, we can win it. Then we'll have 23 games left and 19 are with second division teams and four with the Yankees.

"The way the schedule's set up we can go the rest of the way with just four pitchers. We have only two doubleheaders left and that's a help.

"Of course, later on I might have to pick another date."

The Tiger players sat around with their heads in their hands after two infield errors permitted the White Sox to end the last Tiger five-game winning streak.

Then one Tiger regular perked up and said:

"Still think the Yankees are going to win it? I don't. We are."

The player asked to remain anonymous.

Shortstop Chico Fernandez' error was critical as the White Sox scored their winning run with two outs in the seventh. Pitcher Ray Herbert had reached third base on first baseman Norm Cash's throwing error. He scored when Fernandez let Roy Sievers' routine grounder roll through his legs.

Scheffing defended Chico.

"The ball didn't come up the way Chico thought it would," he said. "We gave them one run. But let's not forget this—if it hadn't been for Chico we wouldn't even have been in the game. He knocked in two runs, didn't he?"

Fernandez had two singles and a triple in three at-bats. He drove in the Tigers' first run with a single in the fourth and Mike Roarke's following double put them ahead 2-0. Fernandez' triple scored Rocky Colavito in the sixth, when the Tigers tied it 3-3.

The White Sox will again play the Tigers here tonight. Jim Bunning (15-9) will pitch for Detroit against Juan Pizarro (10-5)

Johnson Retains NBA Title on Split Decision

SEATTLE (AP)—Harold Johnson, still the world light-heavyweight boxing champion after 15 bruising rounds against Eddie Cotton, started a two-month vacation today by visiting the naval base where he fought his first pro fight in 1943 while a sailor in the United States Navy.

Johnson, the Philadelphia boxing master, retained his NBA title Tuesday night by a split decision over Cotton, Seattle tool and die maker whose long reach troubled the champion throughout the bout.

Despite this, however, Johnson successfully defended a second time the crown he won earlier this year by knocking out Jesse Bowdry. It was his fourth fight in seven months and it brought him the greatest purse, a check for $20,000, in his 18 years of boxing.

Johnson's right brought an eggsized lump over Cotton's left eye in the eighth round and a cut on the lid of his right eye during the ninth. By the time the 13th came around, Cotton's left eye was closed but his sticking left jab kept him out of real danger.

There were no knockdowns in the bout that received neither radio nor television treatment and drew 4,004 spectators to the Seattle Pacific Coast League baseball park. Receipts were estimated at $32,000.

"He's one of the smartest boxers I've ever met," said Johnson of Cotton, who suddenly found himself rated No. 4 among contenders after whipping Johnny Halafihi and Mike Holt in New Zealand after 13 years of obscurity in the Seattle area.

"I'd like to meet Johnson again," murmured Cotton as his handlers held ice packs to his eyes in his dressing room. "It would be another good fight."

The bout was a virtual draw through the first 10 rounds. Then Johnson took charge although a Cotton flurry near the end of the 13th gave the partisan crowd reason for hope. At the end, Judge Norman Kunde and Referee James Rondeau had it 147-145 for Johnson while Judge Sam Heller voted for Cotton, 148-144. The AP card favored Johnson, 148-143.

Final Home Exhibition Friday Night

Cards May Give Lions Answers

Coach George Wilson hopes to solve a mystery Friday night when the Detroit Lions meet the St. Louis Cardinals in 4th exhibition game of the season at Tiger Stadium.

The questions to be answered are — Were the Lions as good as they showed in walloping the Browns, 35-14? Are they just a fair ball club as a bown by a good first half and poor second half in beating the Steelers, 17-14? Or. are they as bad as the Eagles made them look last week?

It may have been just an off-night for the Lions. Or it may have been that the Lions received too generous praise.

Wilson expects to learn the answer against the Cardinals — a team with plenty of problems of their own.

Pop Ivy, the St. Louis coach, tem. But the Lions' problem pretty much has been resolved by Earl Morrall, who has looked brilliant for the most part.

Ivy has Sam Etcheverry, a legend in Canada where he played nine seasons of pro ball but just a 31-year-old rookie in the tougher NFL.

Etcheverry had been counted on to lead the Cardinals from their long doormat status. But he came up with arm trouble and just now is getting over it.

The brunt of the Cards' quarterbacking has been done by a promising rookie, Charley Johnson, from New Mexico State. He'll start against the Lions, but Etcheverry is expected to see considerable action for the first time in the Cardinals' three games.

"He has perked up the team when he's in there," said Ivy.

The Cards' pre-season opener with a 36-7 triumph over the Toronto Argonauts, not a difficult test. St. Louis then lost its two games against NFL competition, 31-10 to Green Bay and 24-14 to Pittsburgh.

St. Louis' biggest blow so far has been the loss of John David Crow, who broke the club's rushing record last fall. Crown broke his leg in the Green Bay game and will miss six weeks or more of the season.

Joe Childress, a six-year veteran, is running in Crow's spot.

Game time is 8:00 p.m. Friday and there are seats available in all sections.

NFL CAMP NOTES

The four are Glenfield Knight, an end from Shaw U.; Dale Rems, tackle from Purdue; Allen Webb, halfback from Arnold, Conn.; and Francis Mariott, quarterback from Troy, Ala. State Teachers.

The Baltimore Colts cut three rookies and two veterans Tuesday to get down to the current National Football League limit of 43 players.

Sugar Ray Signs to Fight Greaves in Detroit Arena

The 10-round bout will be the third staged by the Detroit Boxing Club in the 12,000-seat riverfront arena.

Robinson, 41, will be returning to his native city to fight for the first time in several years. The old champion still is hopeful of getting one more crack at the crown he held five times in his professional career of nearly 20 years. Robinson has won 149 fights, 92 by knockouts.

Greaves is 25 and holds the Canadian middleweight title. He is a native of Edmonton, Alta., but currently fights out of Detroit.

300 Wins Now Seem Dim

DETROIT (AP)—Early Wynn, who had hoped to become one of baseball's illustrious 300-game winners this year, is through for the season and will leave for home today, the Chicago White Sox announced.

Wynn, 41, has had a sore arm for several weeks and rejoined the club Saturday after a two-week rest. But Dr. Anthony Guzauskis, club physician, advised Wynn to return to Venice, Fla., and rest his arm until next season.

Wynn has won 292 games in his major league career that started in 1939 and had an 8-2 record this season.

MVP to Be Player-Coach

VANCOUVER (AP) — Phil Maloney, Buffalo Bison center who was voted most valuable player in the American Hockey League last year, was hired Tuesday as playing coach of the Vancouver Canucks of the Western League.

Palmer now has placed fifth or better in 12 of the 21 tournaments in which he has participated this year. He has won five of them.

Player, who took first place in the Masters Championship and two other tournaments, has 10 finishes of fifth or better in 24 events.

Mrs. Rodgers, who won the WMGA's 54-hole medal play crown July 26 at Sunnybrook, advanced Tuesday with a 1-up victory over Miss Phyllis Chandler. Mrs. Cova defeated Miss Anne Salisbury, 4-3.

In yesterday's other quarter-final matches, Mrs. Menefee eliminated Mrs. Charles Larson, 5-4, and Mrs. Falco outed Mrs. Charles Fox, also by a 5-4 margin.

Best 3-Year Old Trotters Primed for Hambletonian

DUQUOIN, Ill. (AP)—Thirteen horses, the cream of the nation's 3-year-old trotters, were reported in prime condition for today's 36th performance of the Hambletonian.

The opening heat starts at 2 p.m. EST.

The crown, and first prize of $77,364, will go to the first trotter to win two mile heats on the one-mile oval at the Duquoin State Fairgrounds. Most drivers were prepared for more than two heats because of the speed already shown this year by the majority of the entrants.

The field of 13 starters announced Sunday is the smallest Hambletonian field since 1955.

Most of the trainer-drivers consider Caleb, Matastar and Duke Rodney the horses to beat.

Caleb drew the No. 1 starting position, next to the rail in the first tier of 10 horses. Caleb will be driven by John Simpson, who drove Hickory Smoke to a Hambletonian victory in 1957.

Matastar, driven by veteran Harry Pownall, also won a rail position, directly behind Caleb, in the second tier of three horses. Duke Rodney, driven by Eddie Wheeler, drew the eighth position in the front tier.

Spectator, piloted by Ralph Baldwin, and Harlan Dean, driven by Jimmy Arthur, also were regarded as strong challengers during calculations earlier this week.

Goegan in Wings' Fold

DETROIT (AP) — Defenseman Pete Goegan signed his contract Tuesday with the Detroit Red Wings for the National Hockey League season. Goegan, 27, a three-season veteran had his best year in the NHL last season with five goals and 29 assists.

Patriots Trim 5 Players

AMHERST, Mass. (AP) — The Boston Patriots of the American Football League trimmed five players from their roster Tuesday, including two of last year's regular starters.

Cornerman Chuck Shonta and end Oscar Lofton, first-stringers on the team that finished last in the Eastern Division, were cut along with Bob Soltis, a defensive back, rookie linebacker Dick Mueller of Kentucky and guard John Kompara, picked up as a free agent after spending last season with the Los Angeles AFL team. The Boston roster now is down to 38.

THE PALMER METHOD

by Arnold Palmer

USLTA Girls' Title to Victoria Palmer

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Victoria Palmer, a 16-year-old Phoenix, Ariz., lass, won the U.S. Girl's Lawn Tennis Singles Championship Tuesday, defeating top seeded Billie Jean Moffitt, 17, Long Beach, Calif., 5-7, 6-1, 6-4.

Miss Palmer carried the game with severe low shotmaking to offset the dramatic closing rush of Miss Moffitt who came from 1-5 to 4-5 in the deciding set on the strength of shock volleying and overhead play.

Miss Palmer, who had turned the tide of action by running 12 straight points from 2-1, 15-30, to 5-1, reached match point in the 10th game by drawing the Californian wide to the left.

Miss Moffitt saved the match point by forcing Miss Palmer to miss the sideline with a forehand drive. She banged an overhead shot against the net tape, then hit over the baseline to put Miss Palmer at match point for the second time and she didn't let it get away.

Rain delayed the match 31 minutes. Footing became slippery and both contestants put socks over their tennis shoes to provide better traction.

Kocsis Qualifying Leader but He May Bypass Event

ANN ARBOR — Peerless Chuck Kocsis of Royal Oak again has qualified for the U.S. Amateur Golf Championship, but the veteran links star may not file his entry.

Kocsis, six-time Michigan Amateur champion and winner of numerous other golfing accolades, claims he has lost his touch on the greens and may bypass the event.

The 45-year-old Red Run star rifled a one-under-par 71-72—143 here Tuesday at rolling Barton Hills Country Club to set the pace in 36-hole sectional qualifying rounds.

Three members of the youth corps and another Red Run veteran joined Kocsis to complete the five qualifying places allotted to this section.

* * *

The other veteran is building Tom Draper of Birmingham, who fired 71-74—145 to take runnerup honors in the trials. It marks the 10th time that the 48-year-old Draper has qualified for the USGA Amateur.

Pete Green of Orchard Lake, C. A. Smith III of Jackson and James Newmann of Lansing comprise the younger set.

Smith and Newmann qualified for the National Amateur for the first time. It's the second success for Green, former Birmingham Seaholm High School golfer who initially made the grade last year at Washtenaw.

Newmann, not too active in golfing circles, took 3rd place in the trials with 73-76—146. Smith, a varsity golfer at MSU, and Green tied at 147.

* * *

Smith, reigning Golf Association of Michigan champion and semi-finahat in the 1961 State Amateur, had a 73-74 scorecard. Green, finalist in the 1960 North and South Amateur, also posted 73-74.

Green lost his first match in last year's U.S. Amateur at St. Louis.

If Kocsis declines to enter the tournament, the 5th spot will go to Lansing's Dave (Bud) Reniger, who finished 6th with 74-75—149.

"If I had played two years ago the way I played today, I would have shot 68-67," Kocsis said. "I've lost my putting touch entirely. I know what I'm doing wrong, but I haven't been able to overcome it."

* * *

Kocsis went to the finals of the USGA Amateur five years ago and bowed to two-time champ Harvie Ward.

This year's National Amateur tourney is scheduled Sept. 11-16 at historic Pebble Beach Country Club in Del Monte, Calif.

Second Line Pitchers Help Tigers-Redlegs

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—First rate performances by second - line pitchers are smoothing the rocky road to major league pennants for the Cincinnati Reds and Detroit Tigers.

While Frank Lary, Jim Bunning and Don Mossi have been carrying the pitching burden for Detroit and Joey Jay, Bob Purkey and Jim O'Toole for the Reds the contenders are also being helped by important victories from unexpected sources.

Without Ken Johnson, whom they obtained from Toronto of the International League six weeks ago, the Reds would not be in such an enviable position in the National League race, 3½ games in front of second-place Los Angeles.

* * *

And without the recently effective showings of Paul Foytack and Ronnie Kline, the Tigers likely would be further than 1½ games behind the league-leading New York Yankees in the American League.

The acquisition of Johnson was a master stroke by Bill DeWitt, Cincinnati's general manager. The fast-hailing right-hander has won five games and lost only two. He's beaten Los Angeles, San Francisco, St. Louis, Milwaukee and Philadelphia in starting roles, pitching complete games against the Cards and Phillies.

Johnson's earned run average for 58 1-3 innings is a nifty 3.10 and he's fanned 29 while walking only 13. He produced his most important triumph last Sunday, beating the Dodgers 8-3 to hike the Reds' lead to its present 3½ games.

The odd feature of Johnson's previous big league record was that he was almost strictly a reliever. With Kansas City in 1960 he started only six games and came out of the bullpen 36 times. He had a 5-10 record and a 4.28 ERA.

With the A's the early part of this season, Johnson had only one start in six appearances and lost all four decisions. He was demoted to Toronto in May and compiled a 5-5 record for the Maple Leafs.

Foytack, twice a 15-game winner for the Tigers, had a sore arm most of last season and was on the disabled list for more than a month. He finished with a 2-13 mark. This season, he had only two complete games in his first 13 starts, winning seven and losing eight games.

However, in his last two starts Foytack went all the way in whipping Cleveland 8-1 on a five-hitter and Washington 10-1 in a seven-hit effort. In the two games, Foytack had a combined total of 12 strikeouts and only three bases on balls.

OVER AND OUT—Los Angeles Dodgers shortstop Maury Wills (30) flies over the top of Chicago Cubs' Al Heist as the latter attempted unsuccessfully to steal second in the eighth inning Tuesday at Chicago. The umpire is Augie Donatelli. The Dodgers won, 2-1.

Richards Offers to Finish Oriole Season

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Paul Richards, heading for a five-year term as general manager of the National League's new Houston club, said today he will go along with the Baltimore Orioles if and when they ask him to finish out the current season.

Richards, who took over the helm of the Orioles in 1954 after leaving the Chicago White Sox, announced his resignation as Orioles' field manager just before the club's doubleheader here with the Angels.

The announcement came as no surprise. It was rumored for several weeks he was considering an attractive offer from Houston, which begins play in an expanded National League next season. A month ago, The Associated Press disclosed that Richards would leave Baltimore to go to Houston.

Richards, announcing he was resigning, said the contract with Houston had not been finalized but that Houston officials had agreed to his general demands.

"I have asked that three additional conditions be included in the contract and as yet the Houston people haven't agreed to them," he said.

A spokesman for the new Texas team, however, seemed fairly certain Richards and the club could get together. "We should have an announcement within 48 hours if Richards is relieved from his contract at Baltimore," the spokesman said.

Contacted in New York, Joseph Iglehart, Orioles' board chairman, said he intended to ask Richards to remain with the Orioles until the season is completed.

"I'm sure he will," Iglehart said. Informed of this, Richards said he would stay with Baltimore if requested to do so.

In Baltimore, Oriole president and general manager, Lee MacPhail, said he had talked with Richards about his resignation earlier Tuesday and had asked him to wait until October before severing his ties with the Birds.

"We would like him to stay, and he has indicated he would do so if we request it," MacPhail said. "So it appears likely that he will stay."

MacPhail said a formal announcement probably would not be made until after he talks further with Richards Thursday when the team returns to Baltimore from a series against the Angels.

Richards has confirmed being offered a contract, under which he would serve as general manager. Among his initial duties would be the selection of Houston's first major league roster during a National League player draft in October, and hiring of a field manager and front office personnel.

The contract reportedly would run through 1966 and provide an annual salary of $80,000 or more. Richards' contract with the Orioles runs through the 1963 season and carries an annual salary of $50,000.

Union Ousted From Tourney

CIO Local 594, Pontiac's 1961 Class A City League champion, called it quits for another year today after bowing out of the district playoffs Tuesday night at Mansfield Park in Detroit.

The local union team absorbed a 16-8 shellacking from the Detroit Pepsi Cola club last night to lose two straight in the best-of-three tourney.

The Motor City outfit whipped the CIO last Saturday night at Jaycee Park, then rain delayed the two-team district event for two days.

Three CIO pitchers were rapped for 18 hits with two players getting three apiece and five others each making a pair.

Pepsi broke the game wide open in the sixth inning with a five-run spree after the CIO had rallied to trail by only one run, 7-6.

Herman Bishop, Andy Billesdon, Chuck Graves and Jim Ray batted for the Union squad with Bishop taking the loss. Nick Neira and Jerry Hill each made two hits for the losers.

Doug Ferguson, Wes Klewicki and Ron Rozman pitched for Pepsi with Rozman gaining the win. They allowed the CIO eight safeties.

Herrington Pitches Playoff No-Hitter

John Herrington hurled a no-hitter last night to lead Spencer Floor Covering to a 6-0 win over Five Spot and into the championship finals of Waterford softball's American League playoffs.

* * *

Five Spot and Spencer will clash next Wednesday for the crown.

Herrington Fanned 11 on the way to his no-hitter. He allowed one walk and the only other Five Spot player to reach base was aided by an error. Spencer put the game away with four runs in the first inning.

Earl Bruske's homer with two out in the last of the eighth and first extra inning gave Five Spot its upset triumph over Stroh's. Norm Jennings outpitched Andy James in a battle of five-hitters.

M-MSU Game on Television

Regional Viewers Also Will See Teams Battle Different Foes

DETROIT (AP) — The Michigan-Michigan State game, long a television hot potato that brought considerable legislative discussion, will be on national television this year.

★ ★ ★

The official announcement that the Oct. 14 football game at Ann Arbor will be televised as the American Broadcasting Co.'s NCAA game of the week will be made early next month, it was learned today.

Michigan's game with Ohio State Nov. 25 and Michigan State's game at Minnesota Nov. 4 will be seen on regional television, it was learned.

U.S. Davis Cup Tennis Player Is Suspended

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP)—Dennis Ralston, one of the main hopes to bring the elusive Davis Cup back to the United States, was back in the United States Lawn Tennis Association's doghouse today and there appeared to be a division of opinion on just how long he'll stay there.

The 19-year-old Bakersfield, Calif., ace, Tuesday was suspended by the USLTA for "bad conduct." The immediate result was that he became ineligible for the National Championships starting here on Friday.

George Barnes, president of the USLTA, issued a formal statement pinpointing Ralston's antics in the American Zone final against Mexico in Cleveland two weeks ago as the primary cause of the suspension. Ralston already had been placed on a year's probation for acting up in Australia last year.

Blooperball Finals Set Friday Eve at Pierce

If the weatherman cooperates, the finals of the Waterford Township Recreation Department's annual men's Blooperball League playoffs will be held Friday at Pierce Junior High School at 6 p.m.

Lakeland Pharmacy No. 2, regular season champion, is the only undefeated team remaining in the double elimination tourney. The champs are coached by Bob Holis.

Once-beaten teams still in contention are the Whiskers, Marty's-Elmer's, Lorraine Manor and VFW. Carl's Party Store, Vernor's Ginger Ale and Lakeland Pharmacy No. 1 have been eliminated.

Rochester 9 Eliminated

McNeil Insurance of Rochester lost a 3-2 decision to Owosso last night at Flint in the finals of the Class D regional softball tournament. Two great catches by Owosso outfielders hurt the Rochester cause in the late innings. The game, delayed by rain Monday night, was resumed from the 5th inning.

Redleg Hurling Big Surprise

By The Associated Press

There was no pennant fever among the Cincinnati Reds or their fans in early season, but things weren't so black that Manager Fred Hutchinson didn't hold out some hope.

"We could do all right," said Hutch, "if we could get some pitching. We need it, because we don't score many runs."

That will give you some idea of just how much of a surprise team the Reds are in that National League race. Not only are they second in run totals (with 610 to San Francisco's 627), but the pitching staff leads the league in shutouts.

With southpaw Jim O'Toole and reliever Jim Maloney combining for Cincinnati's 10th whitewash job of the season, the Reds knocked off Pittsburgh 3-0 Tuesday night and retained a 3½-game lead over second place Los Angeles. The Dodgers, after splitting a four-game series at Cincinnati, stayed close with a 2-1 victory at Chicago as Sandy Koufax limited the Cubs to a pair of singles.

Milwaukee replaced San Francisco in third place, seven games 7-6 in 13 innings on Ed Mathews' home run. St. Louis made it eight in a row with a 5-4 victory at Philadelphia in the opener of a twi-night pair, but the Phils took the nightcap 4-3.

The Reds won their third in a row with a sixth-inning run at Pittsburgh on singles by Vada Pinson, Jerry Lynch and Gordy Coleman off right-hander Bob Friend (12-17). Frank Robinson's single and an infield out by Lynch brought in the other two in the eighth against Bobby Shantz.

Maloney nailed it for O'Toole (14-9), who gave up all of the Bucs' six hits, by striking out pinch-hitter Rocky Nelson with the bases loaded in the ninth. The Pirates left 11 men on base while suffering their 13th shutout of the season. They were blanked only four times last year when they won the pennant.

Koufax (15-9), who leads NL pitchers in low-hit games with a pair of two-hitters and a couple of three-hit performances, held the Cubs hitless for 6 2-3 innings for the second time this season. Their first hit, a single by Dick Bertell, drove in George Altman, who had reached base on an error by Koufax leading off the seventh. Ron Santo singled for the other hit with two out in the ninth.

Sandy struck out 12, for a season total of 212, tops in the majors.

Mathews' 26th home run came with one out in the bottom of the 13th for the Braves—their only hit after Willie McCovey's two-run homer off Milwaukee starter Lew Burdette had tied it with one out in the ninth.

An error and Bill White's triple won the opener for St. Louis and Curt Simmons (8-9) in the ninth as the Cards tied their longest winning streak of the year. Chris Short (5-10) then shut them out on two hits in 7 2-3 innings of relief in the nightcap. Al Cicotte (2-5) lost it on a wild pitch and Ruben Amaro's single in the sixth. John Buzhardt (5-14) was the first game loser.

DETROIT (AP) — Carolyn Volo won by two lengths last night in the featured eighth race at Wolverine Harness Raceway. The victory paid $20.30.

Slight Edge Gained in Women's Sailing

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — Miss Timothea Schneider of the University of Michigan still is in the lead for the Adams Trophy, emblematic of the women's sailing championship of the United States.

But her edge over Miss Ruth Haskell of Newport Beach Yacht Club is only ¼ point. Miss Schneider fell in a flat weather hole in yesterday's first race and finished seventh. She bounced back to beat out Miss Haskell in the second race by two boat lengths. Miss Schneider, representing the Sesawnhaka Yacht Club of Long Island, blanketed her on a spinnaker run and captured the lead at the leeward mark.

As today's races started Miss Schneider had 25½ points, Miss Haskell 25¼.

Bert Rechichar Named Titans' Player-Coach

BEAR MOUNTAIN, N.Y. (AP) —Bert Rechichar, a veteran of the National Football League, was signed as player-coach of the New York Titans of the American Football League Tuesday.

Rechichar, 31, is a denefsive back and place kicking expert. He will help John Del Isola coach the defensive backs and safety men, giving Hugh (Bones) Taylor a chance to concentrate on the offensive ends.

The Titans asked waivers on scatback Leon Burton and safetyman Jesse Thomas. Burton had been the No. 1 left halfback until Dick Christy was obtained from the Oakland Raiders in a deal two weeks ago.

Mrs. Hume Bounces Back

Mrs. John Hume Jr. of Essex, frustrated last Friday at Orchard Lake in her bid to win her second straight Women's District Golf Association match play championship, bounced back yesterday at Birmingham Country Club to capture the weekly WDGA tourney.

Mrs. Hume shot 43-36—79 at Birmingham C.C. for a three-stroke victory margin over Mrs. H. G. Marquardt of Gowanie and Miss Nancy Smith from Beach Grove.

Check Used Rifles Before Purchasing

By DON VOGEL
Pontiac Press Outdoor Writer

Michigan's firearm season for deer doesn't open for another 10 weeks, but the stores and mail order houses already have started pushing used military rifles.

Rifles appearing this year, in order of numbers, are the Enfield (.303 British), Springfield (30-06), Mauser (8 mm.), Swedish (6 mm.) and Japanese Arisaka (6.5 mm.).

The majority of these rifles, particularly the Enfields, are not checked and graded for safety before going on the open market.

Retail outlets dealing in used rifles are carrying mostly the British weapons and Springfields. Mail order houses have these plus other foreign military rifles.

If these rifles have no indication of having been safety checked, the best thing to do is leave them alone. Some are all right, others will be passable, and the rest just plain unsafe. The average firearms buyer doesn't know enough about head space, barrel wear or actions to be certain whether the weapon under consideration is safe to take on the range or in the woods.

RIFLE SHOULD BE TEST FIRED

Before any rifle, new or used, is purchased, it should be fired. New guns are checked at the factory for safety and accuracy before being sent to the dealer. All the buyer need shoot them for is to test recoil and proper fit.

Any used weapon, whether it be military or factory made, should be safety checked and fired before it is purchased. Sometimes it is impossible to shoot a few test rounds. Following are some methods of checking out a rifle.

Many rifles are packed with grease if stored over long periods. This coating should be cleaned from the action and bore. If the seller doesn't want this done, forget about it. They are more interested in making a quick dollar than they are over the fact that the rifle might blow up in a shooter's face.

If the gun has a bolt action, wiggle the bolt and other parts of the receiver for looseness. Then close and lock the bolt and do this same thing. Loose actions are dangerous.

Cock the rifle and push as hard as possible on the cocking piece with the safety off. Then repeat the process with the safety on. The cocking piece should not move in either case.

Next, try the trigger. If it is loose or drags while being fired two things can be wrong. (1) The action is out of adjustment and can be corrected, or (2) the parts are worn out.

Test the trigger pull. If it is under three pounds, the rifle will fire too quickly. The best method of testing is to place the rifle on the floor with the action cocked, run a cord through the trigger guard and across the trigger and attach to a small container that has been weighed empty.

Then, slowly add sand or some other material until the trigger works. Weigh the can and subtract the weight of the empty can. This should give the correct trigger pull. It is better to repeat the process several times and strike an average.

METHOD FOR HEAD SPACE CHECK

Head space can be tested by taking the correct caliber shell, remove the bullet and powder, and slide into the chamber with the muzzle of the gun on the floor. Do not use a spent shell or one ready to fire.

Cut a piece of metal from a thin razor blade, the thin Gillette is a good one, and place it over the exposed end of the shell, making sure it is slightly smaller, and try to close the bolt. If the bolt doesn't close there is just about enough head space. If it closes, put another piece of thin metal on top the first one. If the bolt closes on two pieces there is too much head space. This can be very dangerous.

If there is difficulty closing the bolt on the shell without any metal there is not enough head space. This, too, can cause trouble. Check the ejection mechanism by kicking shells out.

Lever and slide action weapons can be checked in much the same manner, but it is more difficult to test the head space.

Used barrels can be in good or poor condition. Damage to the barrel and excessive rust deposits in the bore should be checked. A badly worn or damaged barrel will impair accuracy and might be dangerous.

Stocks on military rifles are usually poor and so are the sights. But these are handicaps that are not too important and can be corrected.

Many actions on military rifles can be rebarreled and made into nice looking sporters. But for the average once a year hunter, this would not be practical and far too expensive.

The actions mentioned earlier are all sound ones when new. Exceptions are Mausers made in Germany during the 1944-45 period and Springfields with serial numbers under 800,000.

★ ★ ★

The German Mausers constructed during the last two years of World War II are very poor and Springfields made with serial numbers up to 800,000 are on the weak side for today's ammunition.

Mannlicher-Schoenauer actions are good, but the Mannlicher-Carcano (Italian) and French Lebels are not recommended.

X-Ray Study on Deer

The Tennessee Game and Fish Commission has obtained a portable X-ray machine to be used for determining the loss of fawns before and immediately after birth. The objective is to count the embryos carried by each doe. Figures then will be compared to the number of fawns observed with each doe in the summer to determine losses.

Bear to Appear at Opening Session of Bow School

Grayling Archer Is Well Known Big Game Expert

Four Sessions Planned at OCSC Indoor Range; Starts Next Tuesday

Fred Bear will lead off The Pontiac Press bow hunting school next Tuesday at the Oakland County Sportsmen's Club in Waterford.

★ ★ ★

The archery equipment manufacturer from Grayling is nationally known for his ability when it comes to taking the largest of North American big game with a bow.

The school has been arranged in cooperation with the OCSC. Four sessions are scheduled — Sept. 5, 12, 19 and 27. It is open to those wishing to learn more about hunting with archery equipment.

A fee of $1 for each session will be charged for adults with a 50 cent fee for those under 15 years old. Boys and girls under 15 must be accompanied by an adult.

Each session will start at 7 p.m. and last about two hours. The school will take place in the indoor range building on the OCSC club grounds.

Although there will be no equipment available to practice with, Bear and area experts will supply test bows so that those who do not have archery equipment can learn what would be proper for them if they wish to purchase some.

All those attending he school are urged to bring equipment to each session.

Bear was originally scheduled to appear at the last session. But he has switched places with Herman Haedricke, district Conservation Department supervisor, who will speak on bow hunting regulations.

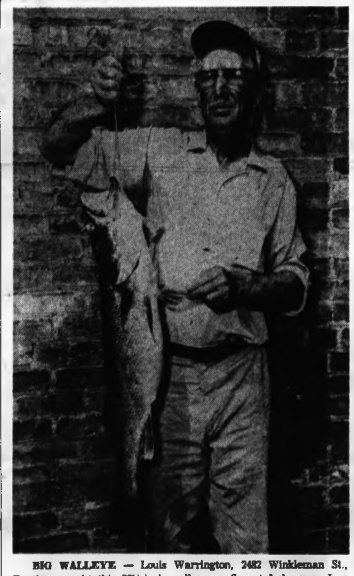
The other two sessions will have members of the Michigan Bow Hunters here for discussions and demonstrations and archery shooting by area experts.

Bear will display proper equipment and a selection of clothing for hunting. He also will go into methods of stalking, how to build good blinds and demonstrate the killing power of a bow.

In addition, he will show a film on big game hunting. The evening will be concluded with instruction and target practice.



BIG WALLEYE — Louis Warrington, 2482 Winkleman St., Pontiac, caught this 32½-inch walleye on Sunset Lake near Iron River. It weighed 10 pounds. Warrington hooked the fish, biggest walleye reported in that area of the Upper Peninsula in many years, while trolling with a nightcrawler harness. It took 15 minutes to land the fish.

Bluegills, Perch Hitting on Oakland County Lakes

Time is fast running our on the 1961 Pontiac Press Big Fish Contest.

The derby for the heaviest bluegill, rainbow trout, black bass and northern pike ends at 7 a.m. on Sept. 13. All entries must be brought to The Press sports department for weighing and certification by that time.

All fish must be caught in Oakland County by residents of the county.

William Fleming of Drayton Plains tried his luck on Lake Chemung in Ontario. Using a spinning rod and crawler harness, Fleming hosted a 17¼-pound muskie. The fish was 43 inches long.

Here in Oakland County bluegill fishing has picked up, some bass are being taken and the trout are still biting.

Eagle Lake on the north edge of Waterford has been the scene of some nice bulegill catches. So have Elizabeth and Union Lakes. Crickets are the best bait, fished deep.

Good catches of perch are reported at Pine Lake south of Pontiac. Many of the perch are running up to 10 inches and are being taken in good numbers.

Bass continue to hit on this lake. Just before dark is the best time, but the fish are on the small size. Best catch last week was a four-pound largemouth taken by a Detroit angler.

Night fishing for rainbows and calicos continues to pay off. These fish are often found in the same place, only the calicos will be just below the surface while the trout stay near the bottom.

Take Group Honors in Macomb Show

A golden retriever, Mickey, owned by Charles Barnes of Drayton Plains and handled by his 15-year-old granddaughter, Christine Griffin, was judged best of the sporting group.

Christine and the dog also placed second in graduate novice obedience with 198½ points.

Alan Seeler of Pontiac directed his beagle to first place in the hound group.

Mrs. Reginald (Barbara) Armstrong of Pontiac bested her husband in Open B obedience. Both handled German short haired pointers. Barbara was first with Heidi and her husband was third with Blaze.

Their children won first places in junior showmanship. Pat Armstrong bested Janet Griffin of Drayton Plains in the novice division. Both are nine years old.

Novice Pointing Dog Field Trial to Draw Over 200

Over 200 pointing dogs are expected to be entered in the Detroit Sportsmen's Congress Novice Field Trial on Sept. 16-17.

The trial will be held at the Ferry Seed Farm, John R and Auburn Roads. It is open to all pointing dogs that have never placed in a registered meet. The handlers must never have directed a dog to a placement in registered competition.

Dogs eligible for the trial are English, Irish and Gordon setters, Brittany spaniels, pointers, German short haired and wire haired pointers, Weimaraners, pointing griffons and Hungarian Vizlas.

Eliminations will be held on Sept. 16 with 16 dogs entering the finals the following days. Live pheasants will be used and blank cartridges. There will be special stakes handler stake on the second day.

Grouse, Woodcock Populations Increase

Pheasants Show Drop

Michigan's bird hunters can look for more action from ruffed grouse and woodcock this fall, but their pheasant shooting success may take a slight dip from last year.

★ ★ ★

Results of the Conservation Department's annual summer mail carrier survey show a 10 per cent decline in pheasant broods seen this year in Southern Michigan.

Department game men feel, however, that brood counts were partly toned down by extremely heavy cover during the July 24-of this year's wheat crop was still standing when the survey ended; in 1960, approximately 78 per cent had been harvested by that time.

Allowing for this, the department estimates hunters may take upwards of 950,000 pheasants this fall. Last year, the kill was about 975,000 birds.

Mail carrier counts indicate pheasant production was down some 20 per cent from last spring in the Thumb area and Southeastern Michigan. In Allegan and Ottawa Counties, it fell about 14 per cent. Carriers noted a 40 per cent increase in brood numbers in Southwestern Michigan. Their tallies for the central sector of the pheasant range were essentially the same as in 1960.

Ringneck production jumped nearly 100 per cent in the northern fringe area of the state's pheasant country — Gladwin, Oceana, Mecosta, Lake, and Newaygo Counties — according to limited observations made there.

Broods seen per 10-carrier days averaged 9.5 in the Thumb area; 6.5 in Southwestern Michigan; 6.0 in the central sector; 5.1 in Allegan and Ottawa Counties; 1.5 in the southwestern part of the state; and 0.95 in the five northern counties.

Although brood numbers in the Upper Peninsula do not measure up to those of 1959 as earlier indicated by June counts, they are slightly higher than last year. Hunters took 200,000 ruffed grouse above the Straits in 1959 and 131,000 in 1960.

In the northern Lower Peninsula, brood counts jumped about 35 per cent above last year when hunters bagged some 194,000 ruffed grouse in this part of the state.

Spring tallies indicate Michigan's woodcock population has advanced some eight per cent since 1960 when hunters killed 84,000 timber doodles, by far tops for the nation.

Governor's Crash Plan

Seeking New Easements in Wisconsin Program

By The Associated Press

It's been quite a while since the man who wanted a glass of milk thought he had to go out and buy a cow. But the man who wants to shoot a duck still thinks he ought to start out by buying Saskatchewan, and maybe North Dakota.

★ ★ ★

So it is with the upland hunter, the fisherman and the camper as well. And for decades it has been the thankless task of conservation officials to attempt the acquisition for recreational purposes alone of lands of vastly greater and ever increasing values in other uses.

But now comes a concept that may be the greatest boon to wildlife since invention of the game warden: if the recreational usage of land is all that's required, why not buy just that much?

This is the "recreational easement" idea developed during the past few months, appropriately enough, in Wisconsin, where Aldo Leopold gave wildlife management a name and a purpose.

★ ★ ★

Under this system, the state would buy specific easements from landowners, which under covenants running with the land would assure public rights in perpetuity. Except for the specific usage provided in the easement, the arrangement would not interfere with the use of the land, with its sale or transfer, or with its position of private ownership in the tax base.

★ ★ ★

These are all major drawbacks of large-scale state acquisition of recreational lands. In addition, of course, it would cost only a fraction of purchase.

The program, incorporated in Gov. Gaylord Nelson's 10-year crash program for resource development, proposes to acquire "scenic easements" along some 3,000 miles of state highways in the next decade, at a cost of only $2 million. That proposal turned out to be only the beginning.

Harold Jordahl of the State's Department of Resource Development found the new use for the old tool of easement, a legal device as ancient as the yearnings of improvident man to use land he couldn't afford to buy.

★ ★ ★

Jordahl found precedent in the scenic easements that accompanied the Blue Ridge Mountain Parkway, in a couple of park developments in California, and in the real father of the Wisconsin plan—the New York State "fishing rights" easement that has provided a public-access strip along some 900 miles of trout streams in that state.

County Dogs Win Two Field Events

★ ★ ★

Genie, owned and handled by Tom Higgins of Royal Oak, won the open all age. Earl Cardinell of Pontiac directed his dog, Sparky, to first place in the puppy stake. Banner, owned by Henry Holleyoak of Wayne, was first in the derby.

The Brittany Club has scheduled another fun trial Sept. 10. It will start at 9 a.m. in the Highland area at Teeple Lake and Ford Road.

Highways Helping Solve City Traffic Puzzle

(Editor's Note—One of the big problems in Michigan's highway traffic is the jamup in downtown areas. In this second of a series of five articles, by Homer Dowdy of the Flint Journal, he tells how state highway officials are trying to keep through traffic off the main streets of Michigan communities.)

By HOMER DOWDY
Flint Journal Staff Writer
Written for the AP

In the Lansing office of Robert Van Hoef, chief of the State Highway Department's planning division, unprecedented attention is being given these days to the plans that cities have for rebuilding their downtown areas and eliminating their slums.

This regard for local projects that are related only indirectly to state traffic reveals a rare attitude among the nation's highway agencies.

Building trafficways without giving serious consideration to other elements of a complex city, Van Hoef says, only makes them inefficient and an eventual disappointment.

"We are working with cities to help them get through traffic off main street," Van Hoef adds. Through the use of paired one-way streets and some construction, plans are being developed for looping the central areas of Coldwater, Mt. Clemens, Cheyboygan, Pontiac, Jackson, Port Huron and others.

Jackson, Pontiac and Saginaw are tying in state-assisted street plans with urban renewal projects.

While a start has been made on piercing city traffic congestion by moving vehicles along on better routes, the bulk of the urban program is still ahead.

MOST FOR URBAN AREAS

State Highway Commissioner John B. Mackie estimates that 80 per cent of state trunkline expenditures in the next five years will be devoted to the urban areas.

A north-south expressway has been under construction in Grand Rapids for some time, but an east-west route must complement it.

Muskegon has its new seaway drive that funnels traffic to west of downtown, but even a pair of wide one-way streets that take it from there leave the route incomplete. Some day, the route must be extended through the heart of town and rejoin the bypass highway north of Muskegon.

Saginaw has tried a state-sanctioned one-way loop around its business district and has converted its main artery into a long, slender area for angle-parking of cars. The plan has stirred up considerable controversy and probably will be junked for something else until an adequate connector route can be built between the inner city and the I75 bypass.

Midland has a stub penetrator from the new U.S. 10 freeway, over which many Dow employes travel each day from Bay City. From the end of the limited-access penetrator the route runs over existing streets to the Dow plant and downtown. A major project ahead is to set up an adequate route that will connect these areas of congestion with U.S. 10 north of the city.

Battle Creek has a start on an urban connector from I94, but before maximum benefit can be gotten from the limited-access penetrator, a new route will have to be built from the southside end of the penetrator to downtown.

CONNECTOR ROUTE

A connector route is in the planning stage that will whisk traffic of Lansing and East Lansing southward to I96.

A part of the "Kalamazoo — 1980" plan — much of which the city hopes to implement by 1970 — calls for a perimeter traffic route around its central business district.

It is Kalamazoo's theory, although not original with it, that the day is soon coming when the heart of a city will not be able to take care of the cars pouring into it via the new and improved routes of penetration. It is this thought that lies behind the building of the Kalamazoo downtown mall, the first in the nation on a permanent basis.

* * *

"If you can't take care of downtown auto traffic efficiently, keep it out," is the philosophy. "Make it easy for motorists to reach the area and provide convenient parking on the edge. But reserve the inner space for pedestrian traffic."

The goal of most cities is to make downtown easily accessible, regardless of their opinion on what to do with the traffic when it gets there. Unrivaled in Michigan in its scope is a study by local, state and federal officials that would give Flint an urban freeway that could change the city's complexion.

Corn Futures Slip to Seasonal Low

CHICAGO (AP) —Corn futures slipped to their lowest levels of the season today in early dealings on the board of trade as the market extended its general downward trend in to the third successive day.

★ ★ ★

Declines were limited mostly to small fractions of a cent but losses in rye ran to a cent or more in spots. Brokers said the pressure appeared to be a continuation of outright liquidation and that it showed no sign of a turning point.

★ ★ ★

Commercial demand was light or absent. One dealer said, though, that unless purchases are urgent consumers will be slow buyers while prices are in a decline.

Urges Subsidy for Railroad on East Coast

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Interstate Commerce Commission today recommended direct federal subsidies for the New York, New Haven & Hartford and other railroads to help them maintain essential passenger services.

The recommendation reversed the commission's position against federal grants in the transportation field.

The commission made its recommendation in connection with an investigation of the New Haven's financial plight.

In its report today, the ICC said it is "highly improbable that the New Haven can emerge from reorganization and continue to render essential transportation services in the absence of direct federal grants."

New Wage-Hour Rules Go Into Effect Sept. 3

Employers in Michigan were reminded today that the amendments to the Fair Labor Standards Act, generally known as the Federal Wage-Hour Law, becomes effective Sept. 3.

The reminder came from William S. Singley, regional director of the U.S. Department of Labor's wage and hour and public contracts divisions.

Singley said that employes who are now covered by provisions of the law will be entitled to a minimum wage of at least $1.15 an hour. The law continues to apply to employes engaged in interstate commerce or the production of goods for commerce, Singley stated. These newly covered employes, mostly in the retail and service trades, will be due a minimum wage of $1 an hour. Also covered are employes of some gasoline service stations, local or interurban transit systems and construction enterprises.

★ ★ ★

Singley noted that the act's overtime provisions will continue to apply to workers who are already covered. They require time and one half for all hours worked over 40 in a workweek. For employes who are newly covered, overtime pay will not be required until 1963.

★ ★ ★

Exemptions continue to apply to such establishments as hotels, motels, restaurants, hospitals, movies and a few other service establishments.

Singley added that the retail or service establishments exemption now in effect will continue to apply to establishments which are not in a $1-million enterprise, or if in such an enterprise, have less than $250,000 in annual gross sales.

Delay in Strike Aids Auto Stock

NEW YORK (AP) — Reprieved by postponement of the auto strike deadline, motor shares rebounded, pacing a stock market advance in quiet trading early this afternoon.

Gains of fractions to a point or more outnumbered losers among pivotal issues.

The industrials were supported sturdily by rails which were sparked by an Interstate Commerce Commission recommendation of direct federal subsidies for the carriers.

The rest of the advance was patchy. Many key stocks did little or nothing.

The approach of Labor Day weekend, traditional milestone for business and the stock market, tended to create caution.

Ford was up about 2 points while General Motors—picked as the strike target by the union, if a strike is called—and Chrysler recovered around a point each. American Motors and Studebaker-Packard showed slight change.

New York Central, up more than a point, was the outstanding gainer among leading rails. Pennsylvania Railroad was up nearly a point. Fractionally higher were Illinois Central, Southern Railway, Baltimore & Ohio and Chesapeake & Ohio.

Safeway Stores, rebounding from a loss Tuesday, advanced more than 2 points. First National Stores, a 3-point gainer Tuesday on news it has agreed to purchase Safeway's New York division, traded about unchanged.

Prices on the American Stock Exchange were mostly higher in moderate trading. National Co. rose about 2. Todd Shipyards and Aerojet-General gained about a point each. Fractional gains included Russeks Fifth Avenue, Universal American, Allied Paper and Royal American. Brazilian Traction was fractionally lower in active dealings.

RAILROADED — One of 50 GMC pickups equipped to ride Erie-Lackawanna railroad tracks like section cars is shown here. Each unit can operate either on the tracks or over regular roads. The special rail wheels position the truck on the track, then retract when it leaves the rails.

50 GMC Pickups to Ride Erie Railroad Tracks

Fifty 4-wheel-drive GMC pickups especially equipped to ride on top of railroad tracks like section cars have been put into service by the Erie-Lackawanna Railroad Co. of Cleveland.

The trucks are model K1500s built by GMC Truck & Coach Division. GMC furnished cabs and chassis, while other concerns enlarged the cabs to accommodate six persons and equipped the trucks with "hi-rail" devices.

★ ★ ★

The hi-rail installations enable the trucks to travel either on highways or tracks.

Each truck has two retractable rail wheels at each end. When lowered, they hold the truck on the track so it can proceed on its regular wheels.

Railroad officials said the trucks were obtained as an efficiency measure. With their on- and off-track versatility, they can work directly on the rails or operate over the highways and the many miles of service roads established by Erie-Lackawanna adjacent to main tracks.

Besides being used to carry maintenance crews and machinery, the trucks have also been equipped with snowplows to keep station platforms, driveways and road crossings clear in winter months.

★ ★ ★

Erie-Lackawanna officials said the trucks would increase the safety with which maintenance crews can perform their work, result in considerable savings due to their greater flexibility, and in general heighten the efficiency of maintenance operations.

Checking Bars on Hall Murder

Police Trying to Locate Anyone Who Talked to, or Saw Victim

State police early today checked bars on main roads leading to the scene where the bullet-riddled body of Norman L. Hall, 35, of Detroit, was found near Romeo Saturday —trying to uncover more clues in the murder case.

Detectives were attempting to locate anyone who may have seen the victim before he was shot four times and left on a rural road in Washington Township.

The investigation of bars near the scene of the murder has not produced further evidence as yet, according to Detective Paul Brabant of the Romeo State Police post.

However, Brabant, who is working on the case with Detective Harold Ernst of the Center Line post, said there are "loopholes" in the story given them by a suspect being held in Macomb County Jail in the slaying.

Police would not reveal the name of the suspect, but said that he was a 46-year-old painting contractor who was a client of Hall's, a painting estimator.

Police also discovered scribbling on Hall's shirt cuff Monday. It is being analyzed at the State Police crime laboratory in East Lansing.

Pontiac Boy, 9, Injured in Explosion of Shell

A 9-year-old Pontiac boy was injured Tuesday afternoon when a 22-caliber shell was exploded by a friend who dropped a hammer on it, Pontiac police said.

Ray Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Miller, 108 S. Roselawn Dr., was treated for chin cuts at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital and released.

Chrysler Chief 'Is No Stop-Gap'

Townsend's Presidency Justified by Chairman of New Executive Body

DETROIT (AP)—Chrysler Corp. has assured its stockholders that the elevation of Lynn A. Townsend to the presidency and the formation of an executive committee is not a stop-gap arrangement.

Townsend was named president a month ago and L. L. Colbert resigned as president, board chairman and chief executive officer.

No board chairman or chief executive officer was named to succeed him.

In a letter to shareholders, George H. Love of Pittsburgh, chairman of the newly formed executive committee, said: "With this kind of organization it was not thought necessary to designate a so-called chief executive officer or a chairman of the board."

Love reviewed the almost year-long search by a committee of directors to find a replacement for Colbert, who had come under increasing fire from dissident stockholders.

Practical Nurses Will Graduate at City Hospital

Eight student practical nurses who have completed their seven months of affiliation at Pontiac General Hospital, will graduate Thursday evening.

★ ★ ★

A tea was held at the hospital recently honoring the student nurses. It was sponsored by the Ann Arbor Practical Nurse Alumni, and gifts were presented to each student by the hospital.

Local Business Returning to Normal, Figures Show

Pontiac's business pace continued to climb back toward normalcy during July as economic activity on many levels was either higher than in June or equaling the 1960 pace.

Bank activity was about $3 million less than in June, but topper the 1960 mark by more than $2,000.

Building permits were ahead of June in number and more than $1 million ahead in amount with the beginning of work on Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital's new wing.

Bus patronage was down but an all-time high was reported by North Central Airlines at Pontiac Municipal Airport.

★ ★ ★

Figures indicating business trends in Pontiac during July were reported by Community National Bank, Pontiac State Bank, the post office, the city water and inspection departments, Consumers Power Co., Detroit Edison Co., Pontiac Transit Corp. and North Central Airlines.

Waterford Twp. Teen Saved by 2 Friends

Two Waterford Township teenagers were credited by police and firemen for saving the life of a companion while they were swimming in Elizabeth Lake at noon yesterday.

Gary Clement, 14, 5410 Sarvis St., suffered an attack of cramps in his arms and disappeared under water about 50 feet from shore.

Both Jeffery Janik, 11, of 759 Lyle St. and Eric Lutz, 17, of 751 McDougel St. noticed the Clement youth was missing and dived under the surface to find him.

★ ★ ★

The youth was dragged up on shore and his companions administered artificial respiration until firemen arrived with oxygen. He was later taken to Pontiac General Hospital, treated and released.

★ ★ ★

U.S. Drops Charges

Boxes of Writings by Hemingway Shipped to NY

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Ernest Hemingway's widow shipped several boxes of manuscripts by the famous author to New York today, but she said no decision had been made on whether any would ever be published.

★ ★ ★

Mary Hemingway conceded that she considers some of the unpublished works "truly great—among his very best writing."

"But I really have no right to make the decision," she said in an interview Tuesday at a Tampa hotel. "I am going to follow Ernest's instructions."

★ ★ ★

The attractive, graying woman told The Associated Press that she found written instructions from her husband on several matters. She said she planned to "go through the mountain of papers to see if he left word that certain things he wrote should never be published."

Ginn Raps GOP About Con-Con

Says Aspirants Should Stop 'Nonpartisanship,' Declare Themselves

Republican con-con candidates should stop their "nonpartisanship" and declare themselves so the people will know where they stand, County Democratic Chairman James M. Ginn said today.

"Unfortunately for Michigan citizenry," Ginn said, "issues which face the constitutional convention next October have become partisan issues."

"The matter of equal voting power for every citizen of the state has become a partisan issue, with Democrats generally favoring a vote for every citizen and Republicans evading the issue or opposing it."

Republican con-con candidates have adopted a so-called "going in" philosophy in which they claim "intellectual freedom" from dictates of their party or any other special interest group, Ginn said.

Ginn found fault with GOP senatorial candidate George W. Romney and his stand on apportionment.

"A prominent Republican candidate told his audience recently that it is his duty to 'protect the minorities from the unlimited rule of the majority,'" Ginn said.

"Democratic candidates contend that the right of a minority to be protected does not invest the minority with the right to rule over the majority." Not if we are to remain true to the Democracy we preach." He continued:

"William A. O'Brien (Romney's) opponent and the other six Democratic candidates are united in their determination to go to Lansing intent on returning the voting power of this state to all of its people. Is this the partisan approach leading Republican candidates criticizing?" Ginn asked. "Is this what they call 'party interference?'"

Aide Is Invited to Tell About Guevara Talk

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Latin-American Affairs subcommittee has invited a White House aide to tell the group Thursday about his conversation in Uruguay with Cuba's economic chief, Ernesto Guevara.

Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., the subcommittee chairman, said today he has asked Richard N. Goodwin, President Kennedy's assistant for Latin-American affairs, to appear at a closed hearing. The senator is awaiting a reply.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., first disclosed the subcommittee's interest Tuesday and Morse followed up with word of the firm bid to Goodwin.

The conversation took place in Montevideo Aug. 15. Argentine Foreign Minister Adolfo Mugica resigned Monday night in the uproar that followed his statement that the Goodwin-Guevara talk "demonstrated that Cuba's Fidel Castro regime seeks better relations with the United States."

Months of Preparation Pays Off

Atlanta Schools Quiet as Negroes Enter

ATLANTA (AP)—Nine Negroes entered four previously white schools under strong police protection and without incident today, ending a century of school segregation in this Deep South city.

There was no major disturbance at any of the four high schools involved. A dozen or more city policemen stationed at each school prevented crowds from forming.

Eight persons were taken into custody for failing to move on. Five of the eight were charged with disorderly conduct by interfering with the operation of a school.

One man, who identified himself as Bill Cody of Arlington, Va., and said he was a member of the American Nazi party, was sentenced to 30 days in jail after a city court hearing on the disorderly conduct charge.

* * *

Four high school students of the Atlanta area also were sentenced, two of them to 60 days and two to 30 days.

School officials reported attendance was normal or above at the four schools despite last minute efforts by a few race extremists to promote a boycott.

Two hours after the Negroes began classes, school spokesmen said there were no signs of hostility in any of the four schools toward the new pupils.

Compliance by Atlanta with a Federal Court order leaves traditional school segregation barriers in force now only in Alabama, Mississippi and South Carolina.

City and school officials were elated at the peaceful start toward integration. State leaders who have sought to prevent it remained silent for the most part.

Peter Zack Geer, executive secretary to Gov. Ernest Vandiver and an outspoken segregationist, said he had not expected major disorder in Atlanta. He added:

* * *

"I want to very firmly point up that integration is obnoxious to the people of Georgia and will produce harmful effects to both races." He predicted integration would prove to be a "a grotesque monster."

* * *

City and school leaders credited the quiet start on school integration to a months-long campaign for a peaceful transition and the firm police stand against disorder. Police officials had warned beforehand that interference of any kind would bring immediate arrest.

Area Couple Escapes From Burning Home

Gilbert Brown of 188 Barrington Road said he had time only to call the fire department and get his wife Geraldine out of the house before "the whole thing went up in flames."

Damage to the home and contents was estimated by Bloomfield Township Fire Chief Volly Yanuszeski at $25,000.

Brown said an expensive collection of 60 guns also was damaged. He could give no estimate of their value.

Yanuszeski said the blaze started in the basement from an explosion that ruptured a fuel oil tank. He has not determined what caused the explosion.

Rockefeller Names Welfare Study Unit

* * *

The action by Rockefeller was the latest in the series of developments stemming from a move by the city of Newburgh to cut its relief rolls by means that have become controversial.

The study will cover the role of work relief—the use of welfare recipients in various types of public employment in exchange for aid given them. That has been a prime issue as a result of the Newburgh plan. New York permits communities to establish such work programs.

$350,000 Loan OK'd for Schools in Waterford

A state aid loan of $350,000 for Waterford Township schools was approved today by the Michigan Department of Public Instruction.

The township aid was among more than $4 million in borrowings against anticipated 1961-62 state school aid approved by the department.

Waterford was the only Oakland County school district included in approvals Aug. 23-29.

The largest single borrowing approved was $750,000 for Battle Creek.

Van Dyke School District in Macomb County had a $300,000 loan approved. Wayne County borrowings approved included Inkster, $400,000; Dearborn Township and City, $350,000; Southgate, $300,000; and Melvindale-North Allen Park, $150,000.

Lansing Pilot, 33, Killed in Jet Crash at Kirtland

Lt. George F. Biehl, 39, of Lake Pine, N.J., also died in the crash.

Witnesses said they noticed flame around the engines of the AJ-1 Vigilante just as the craft was airborne. It banked sharply to the left and plunged into the ground.

This Cinderella Story Has Unusual Twist

By EARL WILSON

HOLLYWOOD — When I was young, the Broadway and Hollywood Cinderellas were all from Ohio or Texas. But now all the Cinderellas are from Chicago. Would you like to meet a Cinderella from Chicago?

WILSON

"Ann-Margaret" is her name, and I mean, all of her name.

("Why?" I asked her. She's already an RCA Victor record star and a pet of George Burns and Jack Benny.

"Because I don't want my parents to be involved in bad publicity."

"You're planning to have bad publicity already?" I asked her.

"It's very evident," Ann-Margaret said quite adultly "that when somebody's in the limelight, people are just going to wait for something to happen."

"Did you become Cinderella by winning a contest?"

"No! I was on the Ted Mack show when I was 16. But I lost. A leaf-player won."

"A leaf-player?"

"Yes, he played a leaf."

One reason that so many Chicago Cinderellas (from Carol Lawrence to Salome Jens to Brigit Baslen to Paula Prentiss to Nancy Dussault) are outnumbering our Ohio and Texas Cinderellas nowadays, is that Northwestern's so active.

Yep, Ann-Margaret went to Northwestern one year: '59-'60.

"I was afraid to go into the drama department. The other kids had so much experience, I was scared to go on stage with them."

Senate Race Probe Hits Wall of Silence

WASHINGTON (AP)— Senators tracing the twisting pattern of race wire services bumped into a wall of silence today trying to get information from accused Kentucky and Ohio operators.

All they got was a monotonous repetition of 5th Amendment pleas.

Robert C. Cullen, of Cincinnati, refused even to acknowledge that he knew his own son.

Stanley Schoemaker of Highland Heights, Ky., and Richard Basker of Cincinnati, described as gambling establishment partners, declined to acknowledge that signatures on government tax forms were theirs.

* * *

The exasperated senators scolded, cajoled and threatened, but the witnesses remained uncooperative.

Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., chairman of the Senate investigations subcommittee, lectured that they were "challenging your government" and taunting it.

Darkly, he suggested that he didn't think they were really bigger than the government.

There were suggestions too that Efkeman's paper would be barred from the mails.

* * *

McClellan, saying his committee should be given more respect, demanded that the witnesses say "I respectfully decline to answer" instead of "I refuse to answer."

The witnesses tried. But Busker's version was that he "respectably" declined to answer.

Union Must OK Early Pay Hike by Steel Firm

DALLAS, Tex. (UPI) — Lone Star Steel Co. wants to give its 3,300 workers a premature pay raise as a reward, but has to get union approval to do it.

The workers, members of the United Steelworkers of America, will vote Thursday on whether to accept the pay raise.

E. B. Germany, president of the company, offered the union men an average of eight cents an hour beginning Sept. 1. This is the increase due under a new contract which goes into effect Oct. 1.

However, Germany said Lone Star made the offer to put the pay raise into effect one month early as "a reward for very good relations with the employes."

Under labor law, however, any pay increase not called for in a contract must be approved by the recognized bargaining unit.

Brazil Crisis Appears Near to Showdown

Goulart Leaves Paris as Cracks Occur in Opposition to VP

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP) — Brazil's three military ministers today agreed to accept Joao Goulart as a figurehead president with a prime minister to be appointed by Congress until 1963, a government source said.

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP)—Brazil's presidential crisis appeared headed for a showdown today as the nation's three military chiefs vetoed efforts to install leftist Joao Goulart.

Vice President Goulart broke off a three-day wait in Paris and left by air for New York apparently en route to Brazil, where the military leaders rejected a congressional committee plan to set up Goulart as a powerless head of a parliamentary form of government.

The heads of the army, navy and air force were united in their opposition. But cracks appeared in lower echelons. Some were reflected in the Chamber of Deputies as it rushed debate on the plan vetoed by the military.

Acting President Rainieri Mazzilli issued a decree firing the army commander in southern Brazil who had pledged to support Goulart. The decree also sacked the commanders of an infantry division and a cavalry division.

The congressional committee openly took issue with the service chiefs who fear that the assuming of the presidency by Goulart would threaten the security of the big subtropical country.

URGENT TALKS

War Minister Odylio Denys went into urgent talks with his top officers. Denys returned here from Brasilia Tuesday night following reports that one army commander had thrown his support behind Goulart.

TELLS OF PROPOSAL — William E. Simkin (right), director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service tells newsmen Tuesday of the proposal he made to the United Auto Workers Union and Big Three asking them to consent to a one-week extension of contract talks past the strike deadline. The union and auto firms later agreed to go along with the request extending the contract to Sept. 6. With Simkin are (from left) Dale A. Ricketts of the mediation service, assigned to GM-UAW and James MacPherson, regional director of the FMS.

Returns to GM to Take Charge of Negotiations

Says Auto Firm Must Give to Gain Settlement by End of Strike Truce

DETROIT (UPI) — Walter P. Reuther today pledged the United Auto Workers Union to an "intensive bargaining schedule" in efforts to reach a contract settlement with giant General Motors before a government-inspired strike truce runs out next Wednesday.

But Reuther said, "GM is going to have to part with some of its money bags" if an agreement is to be reached before the new strike deadline of 10 a.m. (Pontiac time) on Sept. 6.

Reuther arrived at General Motors headquarters this morning to resume personal command of contract talks at the company chosen Tuesday night as the union's strike target.

He said GM was "the richest company in the world" but that there was a "tremendous gap" between its present offer to the union and the present shattering profit-sharing agreement reached last week with American Motors.

GM Vice President and chief bargainer Louis G. Seaton, who insists the GM offer is superior to the gains in the American Motors agreement, said the General Motors offer would put an extra "$1,000 in the pay envelopes of employes over the three years" of a new contract.

★ ★ ★

He also said it "doesn't matter too much to us" that the union had singled out GM for strike action if the talks fail.

'NOT INTERFERENCE'

Seaton said GM did not consider Tuesday's request by the Federal Mediation Service, which resulted in staving off a strike threatened for midnight Thursday as "interference" by the government. The company believes, along with the Mediation Service that the contract extension to Sept. 6 was necessary because there was not time to reach an agreement before the scheduled expiration of current contracts at midnight Thursday, Seaton said.

The union and the big three companies of GM, Ford and Chrysler Tuesday night agreed to go along with the Mediation Service request for a contract extension to Sept. 6.

Federal Mediation Chief William E. Simkin sent telegrams to the big three companies and the union late Tuesday urging the contract extension, just before the union met to choose a strike target.

The UAW Executive Board went ahead with pinpointing GM for a strike, but also voted to accede to the Simkin request.

Safe After 'Awful' Night

CHAMONIX, France (AP) — A freak accident that left a night of little leg room and freezing cold on the slopes of Mont Blanc.

Some of them had spent nearly 25 hours suspended hundreds of feet in the air while workers slowly wound in the broken traction cable.

The cable was snapped at 1:10 p.m. Tuesday by a French air force jet combat plane flying low through the valley between Mont Blanc and Aiguille du Midi.

Most of the passengers seemed too fatigued by the experience to have much to say, other than that they were glad to get back alive.

★ ★ ★

A German family of four and an Italian man and his son were killed when their cabins fell hundreds of feet after the traction cable was snapped.

SIX ARE KILLED

They were the only casualties among the 87 persons on the cableway.

Raymond Jacquet, prefect of the Haute Savoie Department, said it was a miracle more people were not killed.

"This testifies to the effectiveness of the safety measures on this spectacular cable railway linking France with Italy across the highest Alpine range," he said.

The lift runs along a three-inch thick traction cable strung for more than three miles from the Aiguille du Midi to the French-Italian border.

About 30 four-seat cabins run simultaneously in each direction, pulled by a one-inch hauling cable which runs in one piece through all the cabins going up and down. The weight of the descending cabins is used to pull mounting cabins up the slope.

SNAPPED CABLE

The three cabins moving up toward the Aiguille du Midi between the Gros Rognon and the breaking point were flung backward as if by the snap of a whip.

Most of the sightseers were French, Italian or British, but there were a few Americans.

Hugh Putnam, 29, of Milton, Mass., and his cousin, Katherine Blodgett, 19, of Grand Rapids, Mich., were stranded for 15 hours. They got down via a rope and took their ordeal cheerfully.

"I was terrified at first," said Miss Blodgett, but then I quickly relaxed. We had an American newspaper with us and spent part of the time doing the crossword puzzle. I must confess that when darkness fell the puzzle was still incomplete."

Quick Arrests Nip Protests

Four Atlanta Schools Integrated

ATLANTA (AP) — Nine Negro pupils strolled into classes in previously white Atlanta schools today, and watchful police, nipped quickly any hint of trouble.

Thus the traditional school segregation barriers — in force in Georgia and Atlanta for 100 years — tumbled, reluctantly perhaps, but quietly.

Total public school segregation now remains in only three Deep South states—Alabama, Mississippi and South Carolina.

At the first indication of any trouble at the four high schools being desegregated under federal court orders, police moved into action. They dispersed small knots of spectators and whisked to police headquarters several persons who gave them arguments.

An hour before classes began, police at Murphy High School confiscated two signs urging a boycott of the schools. A man posting a boycott sign in a yard nearby was ordered to remove it or be taken into custody. The sign came down.

★ ★ ★

City officials and police had made elaborate plans to prevent disorder and the opening day started quietly. A long campaign by civic groups, city officials, educators and religious leaders for a peaceful transition, paved the way for the change.

COUNTERS MIXED

School integration was the signal for merchants to desegregate downtown lunch counters under an agreement reached months ago.

Race extremists made last-minute efforts to arouse resistance to school integration with a few boycott signs. Their efforts had no effect on registration which was reported normal.

The Atlanta school system has 69,000 white pupils and 48,000 Negroes. Segregation remained in effect at 13 white high schools, five Negro high schools, 73 white elementary schools and 41 Negro elementary schools.

GOP Con-Con Delegates Exchange Wit With UAW

A veteran UAW official last night took issue with the one-party political endorsements by the Oakland County AFL-CIO Council and assured Republicans they'd be considered too, in 1962.

In a witty exchange with seven GOP county con-con candidates at the Royal Oak YMCA, C. Patrick Quinn, a coordinator for the international union from Commerce Township, seemed to assume the election of George W. Romney, one of the seven.

"I know you're going to be up there (Lansing) regardless of how hard I work," Quinn said as 40 Republicans applauded and laughed with approval.

"I'm not so sure and that's why I'm here tonight," replied Romney, whose American Motors Corp. is working out the final details of a new contract with Quinn's union.

Quinn, 3296 Brookneal St., appeared at the last of two public forums, arranged by the county GOP to give its candidates an understanding of what special interest groups like the union want written into the new state constitution.

COULD NOT ATTEND

The county council, which has endorsed all Democratic County candidates in the Sept. 12 election, turned down an invitation to attend the first hearing held in Pontiac a week ago.

This prompted County GOP Chairman Arthur G. Elliott Jr., one of the seven unendorsed candidates, to fire a criticism at Fred V. Haggard, council president. Elliott said (the union should have given the Republicans a hearing before making a blanket Democratic endorsement.

A former Democratic state representative and president of the old Wayne County CIO Council, Quinn acknowledged that it "wasn't really right" that the local council had endorsed the Democratic con-con candidates without first giving consideration to Romney, Elliott and the others.

"You send a letter to Mr. Haggard in 1962 and if I'm around then I assure you you will get the same consideration as the others," Quinn said.

News Flashes

WASHINGTON (AP)—A powerful coalition of Republicans and Southern Democrats today voted to prevent House consideration of the administration's federal aid to education bill.

NEW YORK (AP) — Passengers aboard a Cuban coastal ship, armed with pistols and sporting equipment, took over the vessel and forced its captain to put into Jamaica today, the National Broadcasting Co. reported.

Merchant's Plan Pontiac's Debut

Coming-Out Party Set for Sept. 21-23 Includes Rides, Free Breakfasts

The Downtown Merchants Association began planning its 1962 Pontiac Coming-Out Party Tuesday.

The Coming-Out Party is slated for Sept. 21-23. Plans thus far include amusement rides to be set up in the W. Lawrence Street municipal parking lots between Saginaw and Cass.

There will be free customer parking in all municipally owned lots and a free breakfast each morning in the old county courthouse parking lot.

Naturally, the "debutant" will be the 1962 Pontiac. Plans are being made for Pontiac Motor Division to display its 1962 models.

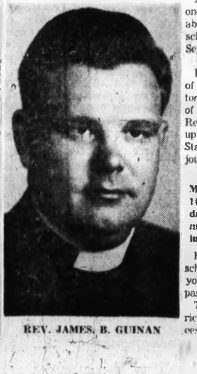
FALL FASHIONS

Merchants will go all-out to show the new fall lines in everything from fashions to appliances. Sidewalk selling, a colorful feature of the annual event, will again add to the festival spirit.

Outdoor style shows are also being planned by downtown merchants and promise to be a big attraction, according to Snee.

Rev. James B. Guinan

Planning Freedom Ride



REV. JAMES B. GUINAN

A Farmington minister will be one of three Episcopal clergymen aboard a bus of freedom riders scheduled to leave New Orleans Sept. 11 for a trip to Dearborn.

★ ★ ★

Rev. James B. Guinan, rector of the Trinity Church in Farmington, Rev. Joseph Dickson, rector of St. Joseph Church, Detroit; and Rev. Malcolm Boyd, soon to take up duties as chaplain at Wayne State University, will make the journey.

The Rev. Mr. Guinan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Guinan of 140 State St., Pontiac, was ordained in 1948 and took over the ministerial duties at the Farmington church in 1952.

He attended Pontiac Public schools and graduated from Kenyon College in 1942. His first pastorate was in Belleville.

The Rt. Rev. Richards S. Emrich, bishop of the Episcopal diocese of Michigan, said Mr. Dickson and Mr. Guinan discussed the journey with him.

Mr. Guinan, vacationing with his family at Oscoda, could not be reached for comment about the trip. He lives at 23747 Ely Court, Farmington.

Bishop Emrich said, "I am not running an authorization agency. I have to respect the consciences of men in important social matters such as this.

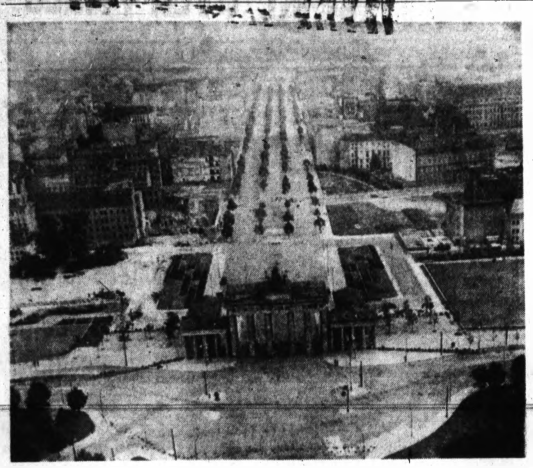
May Ask Soviets for Berlin Views



AP Photofax

EAST MEETS WEST—This is an aerial view of the Brandenburg Gate and the Eastern sector of Berlin. Once a bustling center of East-West activity, it now stands nearly deserted. West German President Heinrich Luebke paid Berlin a surprise visit today to inspect the barbed-wire and concrete barriers erected by the Communists.

Need Lowdown for West Parley

U. S. Ambassador to Return to Moscow This Weekend

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn E. Thompson may seek an appointment in Moscow early next week in an effort to learn Soviet views about Berlin negotiations, diplomatic sources said today.

The aim is to get the latest line on the Kremlin approach to East-West talks before the Western Big Four foreign ministers hold their final strategy session on Berlin.

President Kennedy arranged a noontime White House date for West German Ambassador Wilhelm Grewe. Grewe arrived from Bonn Tuesday night bearing a letter from Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

★ ★ ★

MAY SEE GROMYKO

Informants said a Thompson meeting with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko in Moscow soon is under active consideration as a means of providing the Western foreign ministers meeting with whatever information the Soviets wish to supply.

Tentative plans for a meeting of the foreign ministers of the United States, Britain, France and West Germany in advance of the Sept. 19 opening of the U.N. General Assembly fall session were announced at the State Department Tuesday.

The expected site of the parley is Washington and the expected date a few days before the United Nations convenes.

Call U.N. Troops Into Congo Fray

Rush Reinforcements to Stanleyville, Scene of Mounting Tension

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (AP) — The United Nations rushed 350 Ethiopian reinforcements to Stanleyville today as tension between U.N. and Congolese troops mounted.

A Congolese soldier burst into the room at Gizenga's office and pointed a rifle at the chest of England, a Swede, and told him he was under arrest.

But the U.N. official's Ethiopian escort threatened to use force and the Congolese backed down.

FAMILIES EVCUATED

He returned amid reports that there has been a fresh break between the central Congolese government of Prime Minister Cyrille Adoula and the Stanleyville authorities. Word from Stanleyville was that Gizenga has formed a new political party violently anti-Western and anti-American.

CONSUL BEATEN

Cassilly was arrested and beaten by Congolese troops after firebrands haranguing a public rally had told the crowd America was behind the seizure of an Air Jordan plane bringing uniforms and food to the town from Cairo.

Cassilly was at the airport to insure the safety of two American members of the plane crew. He was arrested and beaten about the body with rifle butts. Later he was placed under joint U.N. and Congolese protection.

Charter Issue to Be Discussed

Question in Waterford Overshadows Con-Con on Sept. 12 Ballot

Voting for a constitutional convention representative will be a secondary item on the Sept. 12 ballot in Waterford Township.

Township residents will be called on to decide if their community is to become a charter township. This question will be fully explained at a town hall meeting Sept. 5 at John D. Pierce Junior High School.

The meeting slated for 8 p.m. is sponsored by the Greater Waterford Community Council.

The change represents a step from rural government to incorporation into a city-type form of government.

Township Supervisor Elmer R. Johnson will compare costs of government and public improvements under the present and proposed forms.

Emphasizing the needs of the township will be Clair Johnson of Johnson & Anderson Engineers, Inc.

Dr. Louis Friedland, head of the political science department, Wayne State University, will explain the state charter act.

Advantages and disadvantages will be presented by Robert Robinaut, supervisor of Meridian Township, which has had its charter for two years.

A question and answer period will follow. In addition, District 1 con-con candidates John Coleman and Richard Kuhn will speak briefly.

Assisting the council in meeting arrangements are the Lakeland Optimist Club, Waterford Junior Chamber of Commerce, Waterford-Drayton Rotary Club, Waterford Lions Club, Drayton-Waterford Kiwanis Club and the Waterford-Clarkston Business and Professional Women's Club.

The Day in Birmingham

Bloomfield Twp. Okays Multiple Zoning Areas

The new ordinance, the first providing for multiple dwellings in the township, states that no more than 7 two-story housing units be built on an acre.

The areas zoned for multiple dwellings are parcels along both sides of Woodward Avenue, south of Square Lake Road to Hickory Grove Road; the southeast corner of Labser and Maple roads; and the southeast and southwest corners of Telegraph and Maple roads.

The multiple dwellings will serve as a buffer zone between commercial and residential properties, according to a township spokesman.

The township also has awarded contracts for three paving projects to the A and A Asphalt Paving Co. of Birmingham for $118,390.

WILL BE PAVED

Scheduled for paving by Nov. 1 are streets in the Long Lake Shore and Bloomfield Heights subdivisions and Hammond Lake Drive.

The Birmingham firm was the lowest of four bidders.

Another contract was awarded to Hickson and Costigan of Detroit to construct a two-story brick garage on the township hall property for the storage of township vehicles and voting machines.

The firm, lowest of 11 bidders, received the contract for $57,840.

In another action the township board has taken the position that homeowners around a well site must agree 100 per cent before the township will allow the area to be used for winter recreational purposes.

Property owners in the area also must furnish a liability bond before the site can be used for ice skating.

The board also agreed that in the future the township will not take over the maintenance of a well site if its dedication contract contains a reverter clause that provides that the well site be returned to original owner if not used.

Warn Aggressors Will Be Wiped Out if War Starts Over Berlin

MOSCOW (AP)—Again blaming the United States and its allies for the current world tension, the Soviet government says it has stopped returning servicemen to civilian life and warned that aggressors will be wiped out "once and for all" if war starts.

A statement issued Tuesday night by the Communist party Central Committee and the Soviet Cabinet said Marshal Rodion Malinovsky, the Soviet defense minister, had been ordered to hold up demobilization of military personnel whose service would normally end this year "until the conclusion of a peace treaty with Germany."

★ ★ ★

The number of men involved was not announced, but Soviet Premier Khrushchev said July 8 that a military cutback of 1.2 million men which began last year was being halted because of the Western attitude on Berlin. How far the cutback had gone was never announced.

★ ★ ★

Khrushchev on Aug. 7 warned that Soviet troop strength might have to be boosted even further. He accused the West of pushing the world "to a dangerous brink" in the conflict over Berlin, which stems from Khrushchev's pledge to sign a peace treaty with East Germany's Communist regime by the end of the year. The communists contend a treaty would give East Germany control over Western access routes to West Berlin.

★ ★ ★

President Kennedy responded to the Soviet diplomatic offensive by offering to negotiate but stressing the West's intention to fight for Berlin if necessary. He called for the biggest U.S. troop buildup since the Korean war, including the right to hold military men in service.

Swims Berlin's 'Canal of Death'

BERLIN (AP)—A U.S. Army sedan that had been halted under the guns of Communist police came out of East Berlin today after three American tanks and four armored personnel carriers rushed to the city's Iron Curtain border.

BERLIN (AP)—An East German swam to freedom today across the Teltow Canal under a hail of bullets from Communist border guards. He climbed out on the west bank of the canal unhurt.

During the past week, Communist troops have killed two men trying to swim the 60 yards across the canal, which forms part of the border in the divided city. Berliners now call it the "Death Canal."

Police reported that Communist guards elsewhere on the border flung tear gas grenades and fired water cannon Tuesday night at about 60 persons gathered at Alexandrinenstrasse, in Kreuzberg in the American sector. Shortly after midnight the Communists opened up again when a group of Western youths started catcalling.

★ ★ ★

About 5 a.m., a Communist water cannon at Treptowerstrasse suddenly let fly at a police patrol car on the Western side.

EASTERN BLAST

Luebke's visit was attacked by the East German official news agency ADN as "provocative activity." The commentary said West Berlin was "not within the competence of Bonn politicians."

He added he would meet with GM negotiators today and "stay with them in an effort to arrive at an agreement" by the announced deadline.

The Federal Mediation Service's intervention in the contract talks was viewed as possibly the first open indication of concern by the Kennedy administration that the industry might be tied up by a strike right at the start of a new model year. But Simkin denied he was acting at the request of President Kennedy or Labor Secretary Arthur J. Goldberg.

His actio, Simkin said, was "absolutely necessary to avoid a strike" and was a routine step.

Reuther also denied emphatically that he had encouraged the federal intervention.

Goulart, en route home from a visit to Communist China when President Janio Quadros resigned last Friday, flew to Paris Saturday and said he planned to stay there until the situation firmed up. He slipped out of his hotel under guise for the flight to New York.

The decree issued by Mazzilli removed Machado Lopes and named Gen. Osvaldo Cordeiro de Faria to succeed him. But in view of Machado Lopes' earlier defiance of Denys, it was questionable whether he and his associates would abide by the dismissal decree.

De Andrade told the Chamber of Deputies that Goulart would fly to Montevideo, Uruguay, then go to the south Brazilian state of Rio Grande do Sul, his home stronghold where Machado Lopez' army is based. Sees Trouble for Taxpayers

State Solon Calls Hike in Michigan's Deficit Symptom of Disease

LANSING (UPI)—Serious trouble is ahead for the taxpayers of Michigan, Republican State Rep. Rollo G. Conlin of Tipton said today.

Conlin said he would hold a special meeting of the House Taxation Committee he chairs next month to compile "an analysis of why we are in continuing financial difficulty."

The Tipton Republican said the increase in the state's deficit to $71.5 million was a symptom of a deep-seated "disease . . . (which) goes to the heart of fiscal policy in Michigan."

"The situation cannot continue without very serious consequences for the people of our state," he said. "They must either accept very drastic cuts in expenditures or they must cut their way through the state financial jungle and make sense out of our tax system."

Conlin said reductions in expenditures would mean less state aid to schools, arbitrary and reduced limits on college enrollments and lower welfare and mental budgets.

"I for one am disgusted with budgets which are billed as 'balanced, but turn out to be deficits,' he said.

GOP Delegates, UAW Meet, Exchange Wit

Saying "Haggagd delegated me to come and speak for him," Quinn criticized Elliott's organization for sending out press releases before Haggard receives copies of the letters.

Holding up a copy of the AFL-CIO News, Quinn said it wasn't true, as Elliott alleged, that only Democrats in the con-con election have been endorsed. He said the Lansing Area union council had endorsed five Democrats and two Republicans.

Pontiac GOP con-con candidate Raymond L. King, an attorney, sought to find out from Quinn if the Oakland council had determined the position of his opponent, Leslie H. Hudson, on the crucial legislative apportionment issue before he was endorsed.

King has charged that Hudson, a former state representative and city hardware dealer, has expressed views on this controversial issue "that would curl the hair of Gus Scholle." Scholle is president of the Michigan AFL-CIO.

King said all he was seeking was "an opportunity to be heard" by the union "on an equal basis."

Reds No Longer Interested

Separate N-Ban Pact Out

GENEVA (UPI) — Western negotiators said today the Soviet Union had served notice it is no longer interested in a nuclear test ban agreement separate from a general disarmament pact.

U.S. Ambassador Arthur H. Dean and British negotiator David Ormsby-Gore said the Soviets had brushed aside all the latest Western proposals and insisted a test ban agreement can be settled only within the framework of general disarmament.

Dean today presented two further Western proposals to the 338th session of the deadlocked nuclear conference. One of them was meant to make unnecessary the Soviet demand for a three-man "troika" administrative council to supervise control operations.

During the one hour-and-45 minute session, Ormsby-Gore pressed Soviet delegate Semyon K. Tsarapkin on whether the Soviet government had lost interest in the idea of an agreement to ban nuclear weapons tests under strict international control as a first step toward disarmament.

★ ★ ★

Ormsby-Gore told a news conference after the meeting that Tsarapkin did not answer the question directly. But the implication was clearer than ever before that the Soviet Union is now withdrawing its offer of an independent nuclear test ban treaty, observers said.

Expects U.S. to OK Plan Lending Boost to Detroit

WASHINGTON (AP)—Approval for an over-all economic development plan for Detroit is expected from the Area Redevelopment Administration, Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., says.

ARA approval, Hart said, while not automatically granting aid to Detroit, does make the city eligible to submit projects to the ARA. Loans and grants are available under the ARA for industrial and commercial projects as well as public facilities.

GOP Leaders Urge Nixon to Run in California

Nixon and other party leaders also agreed that the GOP must build its strength in the 1962 elections "to put a brake on potentially disastrous" policies of the Kennedy administration.

Nixon, the 1960 Republican presidential nominee, gave no answer to those urging him to seek the California governorship next year. He reiterated that he would make a decision late in September.

He was taken to police headquarters. Cody was wearing a brown shirt with black lapels.

Within minutes after two Negro girls entered Murphy High, police moved back small groups of young white men who approached the school from both sides.

Three who were reluctant to move back were taken to police headquarters when they refused to give their names.

At Brown High, two men were taken into custody by officers but were not detained. They told police they were just spectators. Police at Brown made another man carrying a camera move on because he did not have a press pass.

Officers at Northside High stopped two men for loitering but they turned out to be FBI agents.

Senate-House Conferees OK 5-Year Loan

Reach Accord on Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate-House conferees have approved a five-year $7.2-billion overseas loan program but eliminated its most controversial provision, authority to borrow from the Treasury. President Kennedy said the compromise was "wholly satisfactory."

He hailed it as "an important decision for the United States and the free world."

The conferees, who have been ironing out differences between Senate and House foreign aid bills, announced the loan program compromise Tuesday night.

PLAN WRAP-UP

With the major obstacles behind them, they meet again today to wrap up their work. The compromise then goes before the Senate and House.

Top-Rank Opposition Lines Up in GOP, Pg. 22

Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., predicted today that both the House and Senate will approve the compromise which he described as "the most reasonable that could be worked out."

"To a large degree this gives the President the long-range authority which he requested," Mansfield told newsmen.

"It's not a case of getting all you want but rather getting the most reasonable accommodation of different views."

Loans for this year, $1.2 billion, will be included in an over-all foreign aid program for fiscal 1962. It will be the biggest foreign aid authorization in years, $4,253,500,000.

For days it had been obvious that House conferees were convinced the House would insist on annual appropriations from Congress to finance the development loan program.

Kennedy originally asked $8.8 billion for a five-year program to be financed by borrowing from the Treasury. The Senate voted $8 billion for the program and approved the borrowing authority.

In the conferees' compromise, the Senate yielded the borrowing authority while the House agreed to a five-year program, instead of the one-year, $1.2 billion program the House had voted.

Reporting the compromise after a night session, Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., told reporters it was "not exactly what I wanted but a compromise."

He said he hoped to call the measure up in the Senate for a vote Thursday.

Under the agreement, Kennedy receives authorization for $1.2 billion in development loan funds this year and $1.5 billion for each of the next four years.

Touchstone Tranquilizer Latest Fad

By RICK DU BROW
UPI Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Looking for something for the man (or woman) who has absolutely everything?

Then try a "tranquilizing amulet."

Movie stars and others in this slap-happy film city have started a fad by dozens of them.

* * *

"Well," said a spokesman for Alfred Dunhill of Beverly Hills, which sells the amulets like hot-cakes, "It's simply a touchstone."

* * *

It comes in either white, green or brown onyx. It's about an inch wide and 2½ inches long. In short, it's a glorified little rock.

* * *

And what do you do with it?

You hold it in your hand and squeeze it. That's all. Just squeeze it.

"Sort of like Capt. Queeg did in 'The Caine Mutiny,'" said the Dunhill spokesman.

VERY RELAXING

"It's very relaxing," he added. "Apparently the Chinese used touchstones as tranquilizers for many years."

* * *

Price for this relaxation is $5 per amulet. Dunhill sells them in plush little boxes usually reserved for thousand-dollar rings.

"And I've never seen any tranquilizer like it," said the spokesman. "People are very serious about it. They feel the different touchstones to see which one fits their hand."

* * *

The idea when you get home with the stone is to sit back, think of nothing else and squeeze until all animosities and tensions are gone.

"They're very good for executives," said the spokesman.

But If It Helps, Go Ahead

Standing Up Is No Diet

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

I get volumes of mail and such interesting questions, that I like to pass some of them on to you.

1. I have a friend who swears that she lost 10 pounds simply by standing up for 10 minutes after each meal.

I wish it were as simple as that. Your friend is diet-minded, and evidently cut down more than she realized on her daily calorie intake. If it makes it seem easier to lose weight to stand up for 10 minutes after eating, I am all for it.

2. Does skim milk have the same nutritive values of whole milk?

Yes, except for a loss in vitamin A and D content. Vitamin A is widely distributed in the food world. Green and yellow vegetables are especially rich sources. Use skim milk which is fortified with vitamin A and D.

TENDENCY TO FAT

3. My mother tells me that fat runs in our family and I can't do anything about it. I am 35 years old and 40 pounds overweight. Am I really doomed?

Definitely not! You may have inherited a glandular system which leads to overweight, but more likely you inherited some fattening eating habits. In any case, you are not doomed.

If you have a mild tendency to overweight because of your glandular setup, you will just have to be more calorie conscious than others from middle age on. If you have a real problem, your doctor can help you with medication. All is not lost! Before you see a doctor — count your calories.

* * *

4. I am confused. I do not know whether or not the water-packed fruits have the same health value the regular ones have.

The bearer of bad news is never popular, but I am not trying to win a popularity contest as I must be honest. There is no difference in health value. The syrup-packed ones just taste better, BUT they have many more calories.

Believe me, if you are trying to lose weight, or hold the line, you will find that the water-packed fruits are more rewarding, and will even taste sweeter to you, when the scales give you the good news.

PLAIN OR TOASTED?

5. Is there any difference between the calorie count of plain bread and toast?

* * *

No, not if you use the same kind of bread.

Ahh, the true listener—an all too rare bird. Josephine Lowman suggests that you really listen to others; listen with your heart and mind as well as your ears.

School-Go Cottons in Colors Flurry

(UPI) — Reading, 'riting and ready-for-school cottons are the three R's for the back-to-school young set. Cottons in a flurry of colors, shapes and textures again are the favored class and playmates for small fashionables, reports the National Cotton Council.

In silhouette, children's fashions follow adult lines with loose, but closer to the body shapes, flared skirts beneath long torsos and a relaxed, two-piece look for many day and dress-up designs. Many have grown-up tailoring with Paris - inspired side closings deep, inverted side pleats and lowered, gently shaped waistlines.

If you must store a bouffant petticoat, launder it, roll it inside a nylon stocking and hang it in your closet.

One Needs to Work at Beauty

(NEA)—A good many women are inclined to feel that if only they had unlimited funds, they, too, could be great beauties. What they don't realize is that women who can afford to spend a great deal on good looks invariably WORK at it.

BUSY ROUTEINE

Many of them work out an hour each day at a gym. (Exercise which can be duplicated by walking, swimming and in sitting-up exercises at home). All of them have first-rate hairdressers across the country. The basis of any smart hairdo is healthy hair plus an expert cut. Then do what many fashion models do: learn to set and handle your own hair).

* * *

Women with money use fine face creams. (But these are the same creams available to women with just a little money. For the very finest face creams in this country are not expensive).

* * *

Women with money naturally buy beautiful clothes as one means of looking lovely. (But you, on a clothes budget, can buy copies of chick designs and be equally well-dressed).

* * *

A great deal of money never turned any woman into a beauty. And a lack of it never kept a girl from being attractive if she really wanted to be.

Focus on Health

Vaccines, Calcium, Thin Bones in News This Week

By The Associated Press

Vaccines in the Soviet Union, heart attacks in middle-aged smokers, and calcium in the diet of persons with thinning bones are subjects for focus on health:

SOVIET PUSH VACCINES

The Soviet Union is pushing development of various vaccines against influenza, mumps and respiratory infections, say U.S. doctors after a recent trip to the U.S.S.R.

The Soviet Union is preparing a billion doses of live-virus, oral polio vaccine from seed viruses obtained from Dr. Albert Sabin. Some of these doses are to be offered to other countries, scientists report.

Most other Soviet vaccines reported also involve live viruses as opposed to killed virus vaccines used widely in the United States. Soviet researchers say they have a live-virus mumps vaccine which has been given to 50,000 children by injection with good response.

They have also used live-virus influenza vaccine which has some drawbacks, they told U.S. visitors.

THE HEAVY SMOKER

Why are death rates from heart attacks among middle-aged men up to 1½ times as high for heavy cigarette smokers as for non-smokers?

The American Heart Association's newsletter says a possible explanation may exist in a study by a Philadelphia research team. The team found that two cigarettes smoked within 10 minutes raised the level of some fats in the blood—and the effect lingered for at least 40 minutes.

Perhaps nicotine from smoking stimulates the nervous system and the adrenal glands to release a form of adrenalin that frees fats from storage areas in the body, researchers suggest.

It could explain why smokers have higher levels of cholesterol in their blood. Cholesterol is a blood fat which is suspected of contributing to heart disease by clogging and narrowing arteries.

BUILDING BONE

A new study indicates that abundant calcium in the diet during adult years may protect the skeleton, especially in persons suffering from a loss of calcium and a thinning of bone.

Doctors have obtained good results by boosting the calcium in the diets of arthritis patients who are taking cortisone or related hormones. Cortisone apparently worsens calcium loss.

Almost a third of the women past menopause suffer from a thinning of bone, involving a loss of calcium, particularly from the spine. This bone thinning disease is even more common in older women with rheumatoid arthritis.

THIS WEEK, MUMPS

A valid way to protect adults against diseases such as mumps, chicken pox and German measles may be to expose them to these diseases in childhood, says a Scottish doctor.

When these diseases strike older persons they can be severe and spread through the entire system. Vaccination of children may only delay infection, leaving the adult vulnerable, says Dr. Thomas Anderson of the University of Glasgow.

GOOD FISH OR BAD?

During these hot summer days when the ardent fisherman in the family brings home his catch, you might ask for health's sake if he can tell a good fish from a spoiled one.

The Connecticut State Department of Health offers guides. Among them: Good fish have bright red gills, usually closed. Eyes are bright and full. Scales are adherent. Body is stiff and tail rigid. Flesh is firm. The fish sinks in water. Bad fish float, have dull, opaque eyes; pale gray or yellowish brown gills, a soft and limp feel.

Propaganda Battle for Survival Itself

DEARBORN (AP) — The stakes in the West's propaganda battle with the Communist bloc nations "are no less that survival itself," John N. Hutchinson, director of the U.S. Information Agency (USIA) press and publication service, said.

* * *

Hutchinson spoke Tuesday at the 11th annual convention of the Association for Education in Journalism (AEJ), hosted by the University of Michigan.

Hutchinson said Communism has millions of actual party members in non-Communist countries pounding home a single-minded ideological program day after day.

* * *

The Communist bloc broadcasts some 3,000 hours weekly to the world by shortwave, nearly five times as much as our Voice of America," Hutchinson said.

Heavy Traffic Stretches Given

Labor Day Weekend to Bring 60 Pct. Rise in Statewide Travel

LANSING (AP) — Motorists traveling on Michigan highways were urged to plan their Labor Day holiday trips ahead to avoid unnecessary delays on state highways.

The Michigan Highway Department said the busiest hours during the weekend will be early Friday evening and late Monday afternoon. Statewide travel is expected to be some 60 per cent heavier than on an average weekend.

Experts said that on labor day, southbound travelers will move in a wave, with traffic hitting a peak in the northern third of the Lower Peninsula between 10 a.m. and 1 p.m.

One exception is expected, however, in a belt along the west coast between Manistee and Traverse City, where the peak hours will be from 1 to 5 p.m.

The department said a 100-mile band across the Lower Peninsula from the Muskegon-Bay City line to I94 will get the traffic surge between 4 and 8 p.m.

The traffic peak between I94 and the Ohio and Indiana state lines is expected between 6 and 9 p.m., while the New Buffalo area—which gets the brunt of Chicago-bound traffic, will have its rush beginning at 2 p.m. and continue to at least 9 p.m.

The entire holiday period probably will see extremely heavy traffic at the intersection of U.S. 16 and U.S. 23 east of Brighton, the department said. It urged motorists to use alternate routes where possible.

Charles Falahee Made Jackson County Judge

LANSING (AP)—Charles J. Falahee, 37, a Michigan Center attorney, was appointed Jackson County Probate judge today by Gov. Swainson.

Falahee once served as Jackson County judge, filling the unexpired term of the late Judge Harry D. Boardman in 1938.

Corn Futures Slip to Seasonal Low

CHICAGO (AP) —Corn futures slipped to their lowest levels of the season today in early dealings on the board of trade as the market extended its general downward trend in to the third successive day.

★ ★ ★

Declines were limited mostly to small fractions of a cent but losses in rye ran to a cent or more in spots. Brokers said the pressure appeared to be a continuation of outright liquidation and that it showed no sign of a turning point.

★ ★ ★

Commercial demand was light or absent. One dealer said, though, that unless purchases are urgent consumers will be slow buyers while prices are in a decline.

New Wage-Hour Rules Go Into Effect Sept. 3

Employers in Michigan were reminded today that the amendments to the Fair Labor Standards Act, generally known as the Federal Wage-Hour Law, becomes effective Sept. 3.

The reminder came from William S. Singley, regional director of the U.S. Department of Labor's wage and hour and public contracts divisions.

Singley said that employes who are now covered by provisions of the law will be entitled to a minimum wage of at least $1.15 an hour. The law continues to apply to employes engaged in interstate commerce or the production of goods for interstate commerce, unless specifically exempt.

Coverage of the act has been extended to employes of large enterprises engaged in commerce or the production of goods for commerce, Singley stated. These newly covered employes, mostly in the retail and service trades, will be due a minimum wage of $1 an hour. Also covered are employes of some gasoline service stations, local or interurban transit systems and construction enterprises.

Singley noted that the act's overtime provisions will continue to apply to workers who are already covered. They require time and one half for all hours worked over 40 in a workweek. For employes who are newly covered, overtime pay will not be required until 1963.

★

Exemptions continue to apply to such establishments as hotels, motels, restaurants, hospitals, movies and a few other service establishments.

Singley added that the retail or service establishments exemption now in effect will continue to apply to establishments which are not in a $1-million enterprise, or if in such an enterprise, have less than $250,000 in annual gross sales.

Rails and Autos Rise on Market

NEW YORK (AP) — Rails and big three autos were up as the stock market rose in quiet trading early today.

★ ★ ★

Gains were fractional among most key stocks.

The top automakers seemed to get a new lease on life from the news that the danger of a strike has been postponed until next Wednesday.

★ ★ ★

General Motors, picked as the target of the possible strike, was steady. Ford spurted about 2 and Chrysler advanced more than a point. American Motors and Studebaker - Packard showed little change.

★ ★ ★

Rails were helped by the Interstate Commerce Commission recommendation of direct federal subsidies for the carriers. New York Central advanced close to a point. Pennsylvania Railroad rose ⅛ to 15 on 5,900 shares.

Small gains were posted by Baltimore & Ohio, Southern Pacific, Illinois Central and Chesapeake & Ohio.

Thiokol, Tuesday's most active gainer, dropped nearly a point on profit taking. Revlon continued its advance with a gain of about a point. Great AP was steady following news it is considering the food concession of a proposed discount store in Illinois.

50 GMC Pickups to Ride Erie Railroad Tracks

Fifty 4-wheel-drive GMC pickups especially equipped to ride on top of railroad tracks like section cars have been put into service by the Erie-Lackawanna Railroad Co. of Cleveland.

The trucks are model K1500s built by GMC Truck & Coach Division. GMC furnished cabs and chassis, while other concerns enlarged the cabs to accommodate six persons and equipped the trucks with "hi-rail" devices.

The hi-rail installations enable the trucks to travel either on highways or tracks.

Each truck has two retractable rail wheels at each end. When lowered, they hold the truck on the track so it can proceed on its regular wheels.

Railroad officials said the trucks were obtained as an efficiency measure. With their on- and off-track versatility, they can work directly on the rails or operate over the highways and the many miles of service roads established by Erie-Lackawanna adjacent to main tracks.

Besides being used to carry maintenance crews and machinery, the trucks have also been equipped with snow plows to keep station platforms, driveways and road crossings clear in winter months.

Erie-Lackawanna officials said the trucks would increase the safety with which maintenance crews can perform their work, result in considerable savings due to their greater flexibility, and in general heighten the efficiency of maintenance operations.

Checking Bars on Hall Murder

Police Trying to Locate Anyone Who Talked to, or Saw Victim

State police early today checked bars on main roads leading to the scene where the bullet-riddled body of Norman L. Hall, 35, of Detroit, was found near Romeo Saturday —trying to uncover more clues in the murder case.

Detectives were attempting to locate anyone who may have seen the victim before he was shot four times and left on a rural road in Washington Township.

The investigation of bars near the scene of the murder has not produced further evidence as yet, according to Detective Paul Brabant of the Romeo State Police post.

However, Brabant, who is working on the case with Detective Harold Ernst of the Center Line post, said there are "loopholes" in the story given them by a suspect being held in Macomb County Jail in the slaying.

Police would not reveal the name of the suspect, but said that he was a 46-year-old painting contractor who was a client of Hall's, a painting estimator.

Police also discovered scribbling on Hall's shirt cuff Monday. It is being analized at the State Police crime laboratory in East Lansing.

Pontiac Boy, 9, Injured in Explosion of Shell

A 9-year-old Pontiac boy was injured Tuesday afternoon when a 22-caliber shell was exploded by a friend who dropped a hammer on it, Pontiac police said.

Ray Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Miller, 108 S. Roselawn Dr., was treated for chin cuts at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital and released.

City Hall's Parking Lot Has More Area for Public

The City Hall parking lot had a new layout today, providing for more public parking nearer to the City Hall.

A new plan shifts the use of some 32 parking spaces in the second lane east of City Hall from employes to public vehicles, according to Asst. City Manager Robert A. Stierer.

A new parking layout had been under study a long time. Complaints were heard at the Aug. 15 City Commission meeting that employes' cars were filling spaces that should be devoted to public use.

In addition to the new public spaces, public and employe lanes are now more clearly marked, Stierer added.

The employes will relocate in parking areas on Parke Street. All City Hall parking problems should be solved by the end of the year, Stierer said.

The urban renewal clearance project, slated to begin next month, will include four houses on Chandler Street, opening more parking area to the east of the present lot.

Bloomfield Youth Mute at Arraignment

A 19-year-old Bloomfield Township youth, charged with negligent homicide in the July 23 traffic death of a young woman, stood mute when arraigned in Circuit Court Monday before Judge William J. Beer.

Judge Beer entered a plea of innocent for James W. Lynch of 401 S. Telegraph Road, and ordered his trial held in October. He was released on a $500 bond.

The charge stemmed from a traffic accident in Commerce Township July 14 that claimed the life of Barbara J. Abo, 18, of 4851 Auburn Road, Shelby Township.

Circuit Judge William J. Beer entered a plea of innocent for Spencer and ordered his trial for October.

'By Cracky, I'm Mad'

Thefts Hit His Purse

By DICK HANSON

When John Montgomery, 77, found the fan belt and other parts missing from his tractor in the barn last month, he didn't think much of it.

★ ★ ★

He no longer was using the tractor having placed all 80 acres of his Holly Township farm on Rattlesnake Lake.

Then, a few days later he discovered that his wheelbarrow also was missing from the barn. He reasoned that he didn't need it anymore either, being crippled by arthritis.

He got a little perturbed, however, when he found some 20 of his laying hens were gone later in the month.

But, then, considering the low price he was getting for eggs, Montgomery felt these chickens were no great loss, either.

But when someone stole Montgomery's mail box from the road, in front of his house Sunday night, he got mad—mad enough to finally report the loss to the sheriff's department yesterday.

After all, the government sends its soil bank checks by mail, Montgomery bought a new mail box the same day.

Union Must OK Early Pay Hike by Steel Firm

DALLAS, Tex. (UPI) — Lone Star Steel Co. wants to give its 3,300 workers a premature pay raise as a reward, but has to get union approval to do it.

The workers, members of the United Steelworkers of America, will vote Thursday on whether to accept the pay raise.

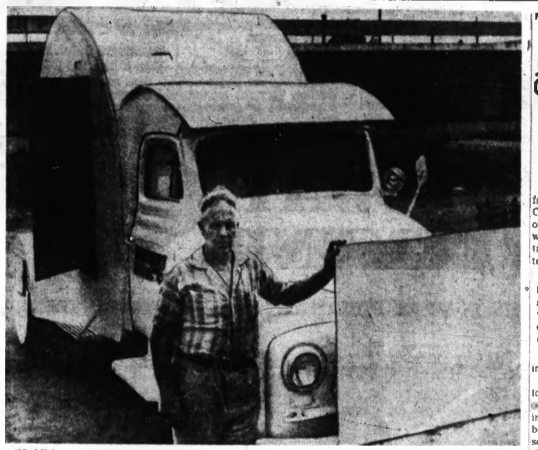
E. B. Germany, president of the company, offered the union men an average of eight cents an hour beginning Sept. 1. This is the increase due under a new contract which goes into effect Oct. 1.

★ ★ ★

However, Germany said Lone Star made the offer to put the pay raise into effect one month early as "a reward for very good relations with the employes."

★ ★ ★

Under labor law, however, any pay increase not called for in a contract must be approved by the recognized bargaining unit.



MOBILE BOMB SHELTER—Earl W. Reichert poses beside the armored car which he and his steel firm employes built to provide transportation—in event of an enemy attack—to the Reichert underground shelter in Battle Creek. Armor plate was constructed over the tranck's body and steel plates protect the wheels and motor. The door leads to the interior of the vehicle which can hold 20 persons.

Human Actors Getting Nervous

TV Going to Dogs, Horses, Chimps

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

HOLLYWOOD — TV Westerns became adult, it is now apparent, when the cowboy heroes started riding anonymous horses and turned "Old Paint," "Tony" and "Champ" into pasture. But the wheel turns and the lovable actor is back again, stronger than ever this season.

★ ★ ★

The fall schedules are so loaded with animals that this season may go into television history as "the year of the trained beast."

There are so many animals and their trainers around the studios that they make human actors nervous about their careers and employment prospects.

"Lassie," as usual, will be back saving lives and performing other good works. "National Velvet," with a horse in a major role, will also be among us for another season. Ed Sullivan, of course, would not think of producing a Sunday night show without at least one trained animal act.

MR. ED'S BIG 'SHOW'

Among the new network shows is CBS' "Mr. Ed," a horse and the first talking beast since Cleo, the chatty basset of "The People's Choice."

There is also "The Hathaways," an ABC series with the Marquis chimps co-starring with humans and based on an old show business adage that monkeys are funnier than people.

Incidental but important animals will be featured in two other new series—NBC's "International Show Time" which will bring outdoor shows of Europe into American living rooms and is bound to emphasize animals, and CBS' "Frontier Circus."

Last but not least is the freshest of animated cartoon series which will constitute a whole menagerie. NBC's Walt Disney Show will have his usual lovable animal characters plus a new one who will act as host. Prof. Ludwig von Drake. ABC's "Bugs Bunny" will be back, and there is a new one, "Calvin and the Colonel." Calvin is a bear and the colonel a fox. ABC's "Top Cat" is all animals, especially feline, except for one human character, a policeman. CBS' "Alvin Show" was originally called "Alvin and the Chipmunks" which provides a clue.

All this may be part of a concerted effort to increase the size of the home audience by attracting family pets to the set. I don't think it will work. All the cats and dogs of my acquaintance are already TV-watchers, but the people who live with them tell me they don't like anything but sports and news. They all hate trained animals—it's humiliating.

TV's Election Night Is Every Evening

BY DANIEL MELNICK

NEW YORK (UPI)—Those of us involved in developing network TV programs and putting them on the air will be awaiting the new season's premieres with special interest.

We'll be asking ourselves whether we've guessed right. Will the new shows be accepted by the public? Will the returning shows continue to hold up? Have we slotted them advantageously?

It won't take long for the answers to come in. Every night is election night in TV. The viewers and critics cast their ballots pretty quickly.

However, our primary concern right now is not the viewers' verdict on our 1961-62 offerings. Program decisions, for better or for worse, have been made for the season that begins in September. They are, for the time being, at least, irrevocable.

★ ★

The greater part of our concern and effort at the moment is what ABC-TV will put on the air for the 1962-63 season, and even the year after that. Network TV program planning is always done at least a year ahead.

LIVE PROGRAMS

The 1962-63 season on ABC-TV will be characterized by, for one thing, a resurgence of live programming. This is presaged this year by the return of Steve Allen to televising. The following season will see more live entertainment on ABC-TV—drama as well as comedy and musical variety.

Another program category that will boom larger on ABC-TV in '62-'63 is the anthology and quasi-anthology.

In the upcoming season, these two types are represented by "Alcoa Premiere," in which Fred Astaire will introduce a different type of story each week, and "Bus Stop," based on William Inge's award-winning play.

★ ★

The former will draw on such top-flight talents as Alfred Hitchcock, Alex Eggal and Eric Ambler. The locale in the latter series will serve as a continuing "character," as well as backdrop, for the different stories that arrive on the bus each week.

★

The basic fact of TV is change and that is why we continually seek new faces, fresh approaches. That is why our doos is always open to every possible professional source of entertainment—writers, performers, producers, packagers—all with talent or a new idea.

This Cinderella Story Has Unusual Twist

By EARL WILSON

HOLLYWOOD — When I was young, the Broadway and Hollywood Cinderellas were all from Ohio or Texas. But now all the Cinderellas are from Chicago. Would you like to meet a Cinderella from Chicago?

WILSON

"Ann-Margaret" is her name, and I mean all of her name.

"Why?" I asked her. She's already an RCA Victor record star and a pet of George Burns and Jack Benny.

"Because I don't want my parents to be involved in bad publicity."

"You're planning to have bad publicity already?" I asked her.

"It's very evident," Ann-Margaret said quite adultly "that when somebody's in the limelight, people are just going to wait for something to happen."

"Did you become Cinderella by winning a contest?"

"No! I was on the Ted Mack show when I was 16. But I lost. A leaf-player won."

"Yes, he played a leaf."

One reason that so many Chicago Cinderellas (from Carol Lawrence to Salome Jens to Brigit Bazlen to Paula Prentiss to Nancy Dussault) are outnumbering our Ohio and Texas Cinderellas nowadays, is that Northwestern's so active.

Yep, Ann-Margaret went to Northwestern one year: '59-'60.

"I was afraid to go into the drama department. The other kids had so much experience. I was scared to go on stage with them."

'Salesman' Mute at Arraignment

Charged With Bilking Oakland Township Man Out of $20,000

A plea of innocent was entered for Melvin Powers in Circuit Court Monday after the 21-year-old accused swindler stood mute when arraigned on a charge of taking money under false pretenses.

Powers, who told the judge he came from Atlanta, Ga., is accused of joining with five other "magazine salesmen" in swindling an elderly Oakland Township man out of at least $20,000.

Frank R. Cook, 89, of 1860 Dutton Road, told state police he paid out about $20,000 to five salesmen, including Powers, believing he was buying stock in a magazine subscription firm. He said he bought the magazines from the men to be sent to veterans hospitals and charitable institutions.

Another member of the alleged ring is in custody in California while police were headed for Abington, Va., hoping to bring back to Oakland County a third person. Two others are sought.
