'. . Into Thy Hands . . My Spirit.'

And it was almost the sixth hour; and there was darkness over all the earth until the ninth hour.

And the sun was darkened, and the veil of the temple was rent in the midst.

And Jesus crying with a loud voice, said: Father, into thy hands I commend my spirit. And saying this, he gave up the ghost.

Police Lay Trap in Chicago, Kill 3 Burglars in Gunfight

Tip-Off Foils Safe Robbery in Loop Store

Detectives Cut Down Trio in Brief Exchange of Shooting

CHICAGO (AP) — Three burglars were slain early today in a brief but violent gunfight with police detectives in the credit department of a State Street department store.

The burglars walked into a police trap and were mowed down by machine-gun and shotgun bullets.

Seven detectives had been hiding in the 11th floor credit department for several hours, said Lt. James J. Lynch. Lynch said police had been tipped on the planned burglary.

He said the three men, carrying burglary tools, were about to attempt to open a safe when the detectives ordered them to surrender.

Lynch said the burglars opened fire. The police, armed with three machine guns and four shotguns, exchanged shots, killing all three. No policeman was hurt.

ENTRANCE UNKNOWN

It was not disclosed how the men gained entrance to the Mandel Brothers store, in the heart of the Loop.

Lynch identified two of the men as having been arrested previously. He said one of them, Jimmy Rentner, 30, had been released on bond recently on a robbery charge. He said James Wulf, 28, also had been arrested several times. The third man was identified as James Bertimio.

Bertimio reportedly was carrying a small portable radio which he had tuned to pick up police broadcasts.

There was no evidence of a forced entry to the store. Officers said the three men could have hidden there after yesterday's 8:30 p.m. closing.

When the three burglars entered the credit department — about 12:30 a.m. — they passed without noticing four detectives crouched in a dark corner.

They went directly to a safe behind the cashier's cage. Sgt. James O'Neill said he fired a warning blast above the burglars' heads. The spray of bullets knocked out the light over the wall safe.

The trapped men then, said O'Neill, returned fire after he had shouted "Police!"

"Hit the dirt," O'Neill commanded the other detectives.

The policemen kept up their firing at the cornered thieves. Walls, ceiling and furnishings were riddled with bullets.

Waterford Sets Special Meeting in Fund Crisis

Fate of Police Force May Rest on Results of Saturday Session

The fate of Waterford Township's police force may be decided tomorrow morning when the Waterford Township Board holds a special meeting to review finances.

According to Elmer Johnson, supervisor, there is only $54,000 left in the township treasury and the board must decide how to distribute it among the various operations.

The financial crisis is a result of a recent opinion by the state attorney general, which cost the township more than $100,000 in revenue.

★ ★ ★

He ruled court costs charged by justices of the peace could not be diverted to township use as was being done in Oakland County. Prosecutor Frederick Ziem backed up this opinion.

"Our board is hoping to find a way of doing out its remaining funds as economically as possible until the Legislature acts on a pending bill that would give us some relief," Johnson said.

He referred to a bill which would legalize the use by the township of court costs.

However, the bill contains a joker — it exempts money collected from tickets issued on state highways. This is where Waterford police have been writing the great majority of their tickets.

The possibility of a sharp cut in the 16-man police force has been eyed as likely, in order to reduce expenses.

However, citizens are reported to be circulating petitions to retain the present size force by levying a special millage assessment on the township to support it.

Religious Devotions Overshadow Conflicts

All's Quiet in Holy Land Today

JERUSALEM (AP)—Religious devotions of many different faiths overshadowed political crises in the Holy Land this Good Friday.

It was Easter season for both Western and Eastern Christians. But it also was a holy time for Moslems and Samaritans. Across the frontier in Israel, Jews were completing their Passover holidays.

Jordan Prime Minister Hussein Khalidi, installed this week after his nation's acute political crisis, went to his home in Jericho to observe the Moslem day of rest. The Arab country as a whole appeared momentarily more interested in religion than politics.

In Arab Jerusalem, where most of the holy places are located, hotels were jammed with visiting prilgrims. The tourist bureau estimated 4,000 visitors poured in, reminiscent of the busy days the city knew before last year's succession of crises and war.

FEW FROM ISRAEL

Only about 400 pilgrims crossed the Palestine armistice frontier from Israel, and few Westerners were among them. Most of the visitors in the Jordan sector were Arab Christians who had come by other routes from Egypt, Cyprus, and Syria.

Because of calendar differences, the Eastern and Western Easter usually fall on different dates. Once every four or five years, however, they fall together, and this year they coincide. The various Christian groups had to follow a strict schedule in the Church of the Holy Sepulchre to avoid conflicts.

Moslem visitors crowded into the city. This is Ramadan — a fasting month for Moslems—and the devout like to come to Jerusalem every Friday in Ramadan to pray in the Dome of the Rock, third most holy place in world to Moslems.

In an area where a Jewish temple once stood, a beautiful Moslem dome covers the rock from which the Prophet Mohammed is said to have risen into Heaven on his horse.

A few miles to the north on Mount Gerizim, near Nablus, the last 300 survivors of the Samaritan community gathered for their Saturday Passover feast, unchanged in any detail since the exodus from Egypt. Sheep ritually slain during prayers on the mountainside, were being baked in earth, to be eaten with bitter herbs and unleavened bread, according to the rules of Moses.

Booty Mounts to $400 Plateau in Pot-O-Gold

Money's mounting in old Pot-O-Gold again, with another $100 added this week after the judges failed to find a correct solution to last week's puzzle. You still have until midnight Tuesday to have a winning answer postmarked for this week's puzzle, making you eligible to walk away $400 richer.

2	4	5	7
10		12	14	15
17	20	22		23
25	27		30	31
	34	35	38	40

Pot-O-Gold is now much easier to solve. All you do is select one of two possible answers for each part of the puzzle, write the numbers in the corresponding squares and mail it in. If you have it on a postcard and postmarked by the deadline date, you're well on your way to winning. If you've selected the right numbers, the money is yours.

Answers and explanations for last week's puzzle appear on page 23 and this week's Pot-O-Gold is on page 12.

Legislation May Put End to County Drain Problems

Legislation seen as solutions to many Oakland County drain, sewer and water problems was favorably considered yesterday in Lansing.

The Senate passed one measure introduced by Sen. L. Harvey Lodge, of Drayton Plains and was ready to act on another.

Passed was a Drain Code amendment allowing boards of supervisors in counties of more than 180,000 population to pledge the full faith and credit of the county for sanitary drains.

The measure — described by Lodge as a boon to metropolitan area communities — now goes to the House for consideration.

Another bill, also affecting rapidly growing areas and perhaps of more far-reaching significance Lodge said, was passed favorably out of the Senate Municipalities Committee.

BOARD POWERS

Called the Public Works Bill, it would allow supervisors in counties of more than 75,000 population to establish departments of public works with broad powers over water and sewer projects.

Although the legislation could

Slaying Suspect Remains in Jail

Scott Unable to Make Bond of $100,000 Set by Judge in Detroit

DETROIT (AP) — Leonard Ewing Scott remained in jail here today, unable to make the $100,000 bond set by Federal District Judge Theodore Levin.

The judge ruled, however, that Scott, a dapper 60-year-old retired Los Angeles investment broker, could use for his defense. $1,500 which the state of California has accused him of stealing.

Scott is charged with mishandling his wealthy socialite wife's estate and murdering her. His wife, Mrs. Evelyn Thorsby Scott, 63, disappeared two years ago from her swanky home in Los Angeles. She has not been found.

In setting the unusually high bond, Judge Levin cited Scott's "bad record" of jumping $25,000 bond in California last year.

Scott jumped the bond and fled California last May. He was free 11 months, the object of a police search in the United States and Canada, until he was caught Monday night at the Canadian end of the tunnel that connects Detroit and Windsor, Ont.

He told newsmen Wednesday that he believes his wife is alive, either a prisoner for profit or a victim of amnesia.

Chiang Kai-shek Gives Good Friday Sermon

TAIPEI (AP) — President Chiang Kai-shek and his wife delivered Good Friday sermons today at their church in a Taipei suburb. He spoke in Chinese, she in English.

Nationalist China's first couple fasted, as did many other Chinese Christians. The Chiangs are Methodists. Her parents were Christians and Chiang was baptized in 1930, after his marriage. The service at their church was broadcast over a Formosa-wide hookup.

$81 Million Budget Cut Proposed by State GOP

LANSING (AP)—Republican legislators have come up with a series of appropriations bills that propose an "expenditure within revenue" program for operating state government in the 1957-58 fiscal year.

Supporting a "hold the line" policy on state taxes, the GOP lawmakers offer a $330,000,000 general fund budget, roughly the same as state spending for the current fiscal year.

NO NEW CONSTRUCTION

As Republicans agreed in a caucus last week, it proposed no new construction starts and appropriations considerably below the level recommended by Gov. Williams for higher education.

The Republican budget falls some 81 million dollars below spending recommendations made by the governor, who called for a record $411,000,000 budget.

As spelled out in appropriation bills, the budget plan would achieve its major reductions from Gov. Williams' recommendations in the areas of education and mental health.

Of the 81 million dollars difference, 34 million is accounted for by absence of provision for any general fund supplementation, either this year or next of the state aid fund for grade and high schools.

The Republican position has been that any extra school aid must come from revenues earmarked specifically for this purpose.

Nearly 30 million dollars more in reduction would be achieved by lower spending allotments for higher education institutions, both for operations and capital outlay.

The bulk of the remaining 17 million dollars represents lower figures for operations and new construction at state mental hospitals and related institutions.

Of the higher education institutions, Michigan State University would absorb the most reduction—nearly nine million dollars. The University of Michigan share would be about $5,750,000.

It is part of the Republican plan that the U. of M., MSU and their sister institutions should recapture

Accident Victim Dies of Sunday Injuries

Mrs. Vonda Lee Carroll, 21, of 35 East St., Oxford, died yesterday after three days on the critical list at Pontiac General Hospital due to injuries received in a head-on collision Sunday afternoon.

★ ★ ★

The Oxford woman was riding a motorcycle driven by her husband, William H. Carroll, south on M24 near Ray road when they crashed headon with a car driven by Park B. Driscoll, of 6214 Garden St., Oxford.

Carroll was dead upon arrival at the hospital.

But Sunbeams Seen for Easter

More Showers Predicted

Although showers or thundershowers are expected tonight and tomorrow, the weather man reports that the rain will end Sunday, allowing Pontiac residents to enjoy the Easter Parade minus drenched bonnets, stringy coiffures, and dripping suits.

After reaching a high near 70 today, the mercury is expected to dip to a low of 52 to 58 tonight.

The temperature will average 64 to 68 tomorrow, turning cooler in the early evening.

Downtown Pontiac's lowest temperature preceding 8 a. m. was 48. The mercury registered 70 at 2 p. m.

MEMO TO CAESAR

Aging Queen Writes a Letter

The emperor's mother Livia was a long time in replying to Claudia's appeal that her husband, Pilate, be transferred from the governorship of Judaea. When her letter finally arrived, after an interval of nearly 10 months, Claudia seized and read it eagerly. . . .

★ ★ ★

My Dearest Claudia:

The emperor is unwell and the physicians fear his illness is serious. I do not, therefore, trouble him with political matters any more than necessary.

That, however, is not the real reason I have not acted to see if a transfer could be arranged for your husband. Quite frankly, I am very angry with Pilate.

I gave him personal instructions to watch over the safety of the Nazarene, Jesus, whose horrible death you described to me so poignantly. Pilate failed me. He obviously let a point of law and political expediency come between my request and his actions. He let a just man be killed, even when he felt it was wrong.

This was not just a personal whim with me. Somehow, I felt that this obscure preacher might be of some use to the Roman empire.

Now he is gone. Or is he? Sometimes I have an uncanny feeling of his presence.

The thought of his teachings disturb me. I am made to wish I had lived a better life, even though it had cost me the royal prestige I enjoyed.

★ ★ ★

When one nears the end of the road, as I do now, it is unwise to look back and question values. I must cling to what I always believed in or I shall die a miserable old woman instead of a queen. Between us, dear Claudia, I have believed in power. Personal, earthly, positive power.

Now I am beginning to wonder. In so small a thing as the recall of your husband, which I could personally thwart up to now, I find new forces moving. You may not know it, but the people of Judaea are demanding his recall.

Their voices grow more and more insistent. So you may have your way in spite of me. I am too tired to be imperious any longer, and too worried about my son. . . .

There, the letter broke off abruptly.

Prosecutor Keeps His Poise on Moving Day

HAPPY OFFICIAL — As his office was moved yesterday from the crowded basement of the county courthouse, Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem willingly posed for this "gag shot." But the broad smile on his face also is for the spacious new quarters Ziem and his staff will have in the county's building next door, 15 W. Huron St. Not only is there lots of room there for Ziem's desk and chair (above), but also for his nine assistants and staff of court reporters and secretaries. The building once housed the county health department.

Hospital Back in 'Black' Again

More Patients in Annex Help Pontiac General Recoup Finances

Pontiac General Hospital's finances were in the "black" last month due mainly to having more patients in the hospital's new annex.

For January and February of this year, the hospital was in the "red" $14,392 because many patients were shunning the annex, the former Oakland County Contagious Hospital.

It was opened in January to help relieve the crowded conditions at the hospital during construction of the new wing.

Miss Lauretta Paul, director, said some 65 patients and a "fair" number of contagious patients at the annex in March were bolstering the finances.

BACK TO NORMAL

The new move to the annex has enabled, Miss Paul added, near-normal surgical procedures to be restored because of less crowded conditions at the main hospital.

"Even the number of beds in the halls has decreased," the director reported. "We had some beds empty for awhile, which permitted us to do some much-needed painting."

The Board of Trustees received the finance report last night. It was a direct result of a call for immediate action after the deficit was recorded.

★ ★ ★

Trustees emphasized that the "break even" was for the entire hospital operation, including the annex.

Senate Probers Explore Payoffs

Committee in Quandary Whether Giver or Taker Should Be Prosecuted

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate rackets probers said today they will explore more deeply into alleged payoffs to Teamsters Union officials in Scranton, Pa.

One question intriguing them is whether—if you can't jail them both—the giver or the taker of a payoff should be prosecuted.

★ ★ ★

The Justice Department has obtained federal indictments accusing three business agents of Scranton Teamsters Local 229 of receiving illegal payoffs from business firms. The Senate committee conducting the inquiry has ordered its staff to ask why no charges were brought against any of the companies or their officials.

★ ★ ★

"We are going to find out why they were not prosecuted," Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) told reporters. "It is something we ought to find out."

In reply to a question, he said, "It might be the subject of an investigation."

★ ★ ★

Meantime, replies to some of McClellan's questions came from outside the hearing.

A pragmatic explanation came from Oliver Dibble, the special federal prosecutor in charge of the Scranton case.

"If we indicted both men in such cases," he told newsmen in Scranton, "we wouldn't be able to make one testify against the other," and he added:

"The grand jury decides which one is, so to speak, the more guilty and returns the indictment against him. Then the other serves as a witness."

Oak taken from beams in Westminster Abbey during restoration work will be made into ash-trays. They will be sold to help pay for rebuilding.

Name Executive Director of Pontiac Boys' Club

Pontiac High School's Physical education director, Michael L. Fiorillo, will replace William V. Coulacos, as executive director of the Pontiac Boys' Club.

Addison K. Oakley, president of the club's board of directors, announced today the 27-year-old Fiorillo was the unanimous choice of the board which met following the resignation of Coulacos yesterday.

The new director will assume his duties on July 1st when the resignation of the present executive director, Coulacos, will take effect.

A graduate of Springfield College, Mass., Fiorillo was director of physical education at the club for three years before taking the position at the high school last fall. He also taught physical education in the elementary schools part-time from 1953 to 1956.

Fiorillo lives with his wife and three sons at 1890 Lakeland in Sylvan Village.

New Bills May Stop Area Drain Problem

affect a number of fast growing counties, none has pressed harder for it than Oakland County.

Generally, said Delos Hamlin, chairman of Oakland County supervisors, the measure would allow bigger counties powers over their water and sewer problems similar to powers enjoyed on a smaller scale by cities.

SET UP OFFICES

Supervisors, Hamlin said, could set up public works departments of from three to five members, allocate budgets, and hire a director and engineering staff.

The department could initiate and plan water and sewer projects involving two or more communities, with powers to set up financing and to force unwilling communities to participate.

No special authority would be needed, as in such involved projects as the Twelve-Town Drain. The measure could immediately affect such budding Oakland County projects as the proposed Farmington and Evergreen systems, Hamlin said.

Financing would be handled by the county, with reimbursement by communities involved.

By a three-fifths vote of the board of supervisors, the county could issue revenue or general obligation bonds, pledging its full faith and credit behind them.

Or, by the same vote, it could allocate funds on hand or issue bonds based on special community assessment of affected areas.

By the same three-fifths margin, supervisors could force a special assessment covering property involved within communities unwilling to participate in a project.

Communities would reimburse the county on the basis of their own full faith and credit.

"This is an excellent chance for the county to help communities to solve growing health and sanitation problems, as well as to develop lands to increase local and county tax bases," Hamlin said.

COULD FORCE FEE

"In a fast growing county like Oakland, it's the kind of step necessary to master our troubles. It'll clear the way for communities struggling to get major projects started."

Hamlin cited the huge Oakland County population increase — from 254,000 in 1940 to a conservatively estimated 550,000 today.

"This growth has made our water and sewer problems comparable to those of a big city, but the laws covering us were designed for rural areas.

"Although considerably amended and broadened, the present laws still are too cumbersome and require months and even years to complete projects that are needed as soon as possible," he concluded.

Twister Hits Homes at Texas Borderline

DALLAS (AP)—A tornado struck in Grayson County on the Oklahoma border yesterday, unroofing at least two homes, but no one was injured.

A severe squall line rumbled southward across the state, touching off hail and thunderstorms that continued today.

A heavy downpour virtually isolated Eagle Pass in south Texas for several hours early today. More than 5 inches of rain drenched the area in four hours, knocking out all power for more than an hour.

Streets and highways were flooded and three families were evacuated from low-lying sections. The rain began tapering off today.

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Workers set up heavy cranes in the Gulf of Mexico today to turn over a capsized barge and allow divers to explore the barge for the bodies of nine missing men.

Operations had been suspended yesterday until heavier equipment could be brought to the site.

Group to Handle Grievances of 6

Complaints of Doctors to Go Through Channels at City Hospital

A special committee of three city hospital trustees was assigned the task last night of seeing that grievances of six doctors were placed through proper channels toward a possible solution.

The committee was appointed Monday by William P. Babcock, chairman of the Board of Trustees, after a suit by the doctors against the hospital was ordered dismissed in circuit court.

The medical staff was assured by the board that the committee would not replace the regular grievance procedure.

Edward P. Barrett, trustee, criticised the staff in their handling of attempts to settle differences. "One of the reasons we've had a law suit has been the complacency of the staff and the credentials committee," he said.

FILED SUIT

The doctors filed suit last month against certain surgical regulations which they said prohibited the unrestricted use of their licenses.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Arnold Brown, chief of the medical staff, told the board that the doctors had never filed their grievances — step number one in the proper channels.

Babcock stressed that the committee, consisting of Barrett, Willis M. Brewer, and Harold S. Goldberg, would merely "expedite" the case, and not make any recommendations.

Ike Plays Golf in Spite of Rain

Hopes Sunny Weather Will Chase Away Cough While at Atlanta

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — President Eisenhower, encamped at his favorite golf course, hoped for clearing weather today and a tour of the links in warm sunshine.

The President flew here from Washington yesterday for about 12 days of rest mixed with work, only to find the afternoon marred by showers.

★ ★ ★

But despite an intermittent drizzle, he got in 18 holes at the Augusta National Golf Club, his headquarters on this Easter holiday. A half hour after stepping from his plane the President was out on the course.

★ ★ ★

The pattern was as usual here. Newsmen accompanied him from the airport to the entrance to the club grounds, but were not permitted beyond that point.

This is Eisenhower's 14th trip to Augusta as President and his 15th since he was elected in 1952. He plans to remain until about April 28.

★ ★ ★

Another usual feature about this Eisenhower visit to Augusta is the presence of the White House physician, Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder, who is especially hoping for good weather during this stay.

Since January the President has been fighting a stubborn cough and Snyder feels Eisenhower could get rid of it if he gets plenty of sun.

The President was accompanied by Mrs. Eisenhower and a small staff of White House aides.

Three new hotels are being erected in Jamaica, Kingston reports.

★ ★ ★

Despite the comparison between the figures in the Senate bills and those advocated by Williams, the bill for operating expenditures would provide a total of about $7,500,000 above actual 1956-57 appropriations.

CONTROVERSIAL ITEM

A feature of the Republican plan certain to arouse controversy is the proposal to tap highway monies, rather than the general fund, for $5,600,000 toward support of the state police.

A storm already is brewing over a pending proposal to change the pattern for divvying up road construction revenues derived from the state gasoline tax and motor vehicle fees among the state, cities and counties.

Sen. Elmer R. Porter (R-Blissfield) chairman of the Senate appropriations committee said the budget was based on "indications from citizens in all walks of life that there should be no new taxes this year."

The $330,000,000 program contemplates no new taxes. However additional revenue will be needed for the state's public school program this year.

A bill in legislative committee proposes new taxes on beer and liquor as one means of coming up with the needed $15,000,000 to $30,000,000.

The proposed "hold the line" economy budget has been termed "simply incredible" by Gov. Williams.

The presidents of the University of Michigan and Michigan State University, stung by deep slashes in their appropriations, joined in saying the funds proposed for them "wouldn't even meet minimum needs."

★ ★ ★

The Republicans recommended 80 million dollars for the state's colleges and universities, seven million dollars above the current fiscal year but 11 million dollars less than was recommended by the governor.

The university of Michigan asked for $35,539,508, saw $32,746,845 recommended by Williams and was earmarked for $29,761,000 under the budget.

Michigan State asked for $33,153,900, was cut to $29,380,680 by the government and is scheduled for $25,190,620 by the budget.

On a smaller scale, the measures introduced yesterday by the Senate appropriations committee dealt similarly with state colleges and universities at Kalamazoo, Marquette, Mt. Pleasant and Ypsilanti.

United Steelworkers Re-elect McDonald

PITTSBURGH (AP) — David J. McDonald has been re-elected president of the United Steelworkers, the union announced today.

Arsonist Alarms Block of City

Fire Marshal Metz Says Blazes on Huron Work of Firebug

Residents in the 300 block of West Huron street were alarmed yesterday after two of three garage fires were said to be the work of an arsonist, according to Fire Marshal Charles Metz.

Two of the fires were discovered and extinguished by Mrs. Eba Spence, 334 W. Huron St.

Firemen were called to 358 W. Huron St., about 1:15 p.m. to put out the first garage fire. A $300 building damage was estimated for the garage used for storage by Excelsior Cleaners.

Mrs. Spence told Metz she noticed two red warning flares lying in an alley while she was on the way to the store about 2:30 p.m. When she returned about five minutes later the flares were gone and smoke was coming from her garage.

★ ★ ★

After she put out the fire which started in a paste board box, she saw smoke coming from a garage owned by neighbor Mrs. Verna F. Purdoin, 350 W. Huron St. Here she threw the remains of another paste board container into a wash tub. Another five-minute red safety signal was found.

Pilgrims Flock to See Woman Suffer Agonies

KONNERSREUTH, Germany (AP)—Some 3,000 pilgrims gathered in pouring rain outside the little cottage of Therese Neumann today to file past the bed where she again appeared to suffer the agonies of Crucifixion.

The 59-year - old woman has been attracting crowds to this tiny Bavarian village on Good Friday ever since 1926, when she was first reported to have displayed the Crucifixion stigmata—marks on her body corresponding to the wounds of Christ.

Police reported the stigmatization as usual reached its peak shortly before noon, the hour the Bible says Christ was nailed to the Cross.

Last year the woman was too sick to have visitors troop through her home. This year pilgrims were again allowed inside and reported signs of bleeding on her hands, feet and head.

Miss Neumann claims to experience an "ecstasy" accompanied by holy visions.

Land Acquired for Dump Site

Pontiac Firm to Use 20 Acres in Waterford for Rubber Disposal

At a special meeting of the Waterford Township Board, held late yesterday afternoon, Owen Batzloff of the Baldwin Rubber Co., Pontiac, informed the board that his company had acquired 20 acres of land for dumping of scrap rubber in the township.

The site is on Lochaven road, one mile south of Elizabeth Lake road, and is zoned for manufacturing.

The firm presented a letter to the board stating there would be no burning of the scrap rubber and there would be a locked gate at the entrance to prevent any other type of dumping.

Board members had previously visited the site and found it to be swampy, with many knolls. With the dumping and monthly covering promised by the company, members felt it would improve the site, according to James Seeterlin, clerk.

Suicide Linked to Big Holdup

Suspect Slays FBI Man, Then Shoots Himself in Connecticut

SUFFIELD, Conn. (INS)— State and Suffield police continued a search today for the $66,500 believed to have been hidden by Francis Kolakowski before he killed himself Thursday, after slaying FBI agent Richard Horan, 34, with a wild shot.

The 42-year-old murderer is believed to be the bandit who staged the daring daylight holdup of the Hartford Machine-Screw Company plant payroll in Windsor, Conn., on April 11.

Police believe Kolakowski took the secret hiding place of the money to the grave with him, when he fired a .38 slug into his right temple.

Bloodhounds are being used to retrace Kolakowski's trail leading to the house.

Before ending his own life, Kolakowski, surrounded in the home of his sister, Mrs. Wanda Slater, fired a wild shot at two police officers edging up the cellar stairs to the main floor of the house. He shot Horan in the chest.

Kolakowski became the object of a police search after he shot his wife, Helen, in the presence of their 13-year-old daughter on March 29.

On April 11 a man answering Kolakowski's description staged a daring $66,500 payroll robbery.

Through a series of stolen cars the trail led to a thickly wooded area in northern Connecticut. Police, believing Kolakowski to be on foot stepped up the search to one of the largest in Connecticut history.

The Day in Birmingham

To Offer Driver Training During Summer Session

BIRMINGHAM — It was stated this week that driver training classes will be offered at Birmingham High School during the summer. The first group will run from June 24 through July 19 and the second from July 22 to August 16.

Morning and afternoon sessions will be offered for each group of behind-the-wheel instruction and class hours. To be eligible students must reside in the school district and be at least 15 years of age at the start of the session.

Preference will be given to those 15½ years or older. Those below this age bracket will be placed on a waiting list and assigned as space permits.

Students currently attending Birmingham High School are asked to register with their counsellors. All others will clear through the principal's office.

No student will be assigned to a class until registration is complete. This is to include signatures of both parents, student signature and birthdate verification. Sign-up must be for the complete session with no adjustments allowed for personal vacations.

George F. Pierrot, managing director of the World Adventure Series and noted traveler and author, will be the dinner speaker at the annual Chamber of Commerce meeting Tuesday night.

His topic, "Behind the Scenes with Famous People" will include his own personal observances of some of the world's greats.

Charles Mortensen, C. of C. secretary, said the business session would include the election of three new directors, reports of the past year and plans for the coming one. Dinner reservations must be made by tomorrow evening. Public may purchase tickets at Wilson's, Birmingham Federal, McBride's, Lake's, or Kay Bauma.

★ ★ ★

Wesley McDonald will head the Bloomfield Hills Lions Club for the coming year with vice presidents Sam Reeves, Anson Triehs and Homer Case. Other officers are Ralph Miniker, secretary; Frank Nonneman, treasurer; Robert Yerkes, lion tamer; Marvin Young, tail twister and William Love, Charles Galloway and Irving Mennuci, directors.

Robert Statler, retiring president will represent the club at the San Francisco conference in June.

CLARA L. WILKMANN

A resident of Bloomfield Hills for four months, Mrs. Wilkmann, 68, died Wednesday at her home, 150 Guelford Rd. She was the widow of the late Clemens A. Wilkmann, Detroit music teacher. She was a member of Zion Lutheran Church in Ferndale.

Survivors include three daughters Mrs. Clyde Trumbo of Detroit, Mrs. John Boers of Grosse Pointe Woods, Mrs. Richard Rapple of Bloomfield Hills, and two brothers.

Service will be at 3 p.m. tomorrow from Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co. with burial in White Chapel Cemetery.

FRED C. WESTON

A retired instructor of the Ford Trade School who had been associated with the Ford Co. since 1916, Mr. Weston, 83, of 16031 Buckingham died at his home Wednesday after a prolonged illness.

Prior to his association with Ford he owned and operated a hardware business in Oscoda. He was a member of the First Methodist Church of Birmingham.

His only survivor is a daughter, Grace L. of Birmingham.

Service will be at 1 p. m. Saturday from Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co. with entombment in Evergreen Cemetery. The Rev. Dr. Harry O. Martin of the Methodist Church will officiate.

Lawmakers Begin Holiday Vacation

WASHINGTON (INS) — Congress began today a 10-day Easter vacation which was brought on by tradition rather than overwork.

In 3½ months of labor, the first session of the 85th Congress sent to the White House only two major pieces of legislation: President Eisenhower's Middle East resolution and an extension of corporate and excise tax rates.

Piled up and awaiting the legislators' return on April 29 were all the regular appropriation bills for the new fiscal year which starts July 1, and action on such issues as foreign aid, civil rights and school construction.

Both houses patched up their differences over public assistance appropriations yesterday afternoon and agreed to take the full-fledged ten-day holiday. A fight over items in the 320 million dollar deficiency bill carrying funds for the aged and other needy persons had threatened to snarl the recess plans for several days.

Included in this temporary measure were 275 million dollars for federal payments to the needy, and 45 million dollars for operations of the Small Business Administration. This money is to run until July 1.

Traffic Jam Keeps Fans From Detroit Opener

DETROIT (INS) — A huge traffic jam prevented hundreds of baseball fans from seeing the first pitch of yesterday's Detroit opener between the Tigers and the Cleveland Indians.

Traffic on Michigan avenue was backed up for a half-hour, mostly because of taxicabs and chartered buses en route to Briggs Stadium.

One-Level Lots Will Be Crowded Out, Planner Tells Area Officials

Sees Ramp-Type Parking in City's Future

A Detroit municipal parking official predicted yesterday that cities in the future will build ramp and garage-type parking centers to replace present one-level lots like those in Pontiac.

"As property becomes more and more scarce, the only alternative will be to go up," John D. McGillis, director of the Detroit Municipal Parking Authority, said after addressing a gathering of Region 4 Michigan Municipal League officials here.

He said past experience has shown that the ramp and drive-it-yourself type garages are more economical than elevator type due to less personnel needed. He cited the example of a 600-unit Detroit lot which has a maximum of four attendants.

Speaking on "Off-Street Parking" before more than 100 representatives from Oakland, Macomb, and Genesee Counties, McGillis urged cities to fight a move to place municipal parking lots on tax rolls.

CITES TAX COST

"Our municipal lot taxes in Detroit would be $440,000 annually if this happened," he remarked.

Answering a question from the floor, McGillis, a member of the American Municipal Association Parking Committee, said shoppers "are going to outlying shopping centers not because they don't want to spend a nickel for parking, but because of the condition of downtown stores."

Following McGillis' talk, Herbert Hersberg, Birmingham planning director, Robert D. Heitsch, Mt. Clemens city manager, and Victor Smith, Fenton's director of public works, spoke on parking projects in their communities.

The first speaker yesterday was Prof. Charles Barr of Michigan State University's urban planning department.

He said the esthetic aspects of a community will become more and more important as density moves in." He added that proper municipal planning, zoning, and subdivision control would assure areas that such parks and recreational areas will be preserved.

★ ★ ★

"In the next 10 years, if we allow the farmer all the land needed, our land for urban living will be reduced 20 per cent," the professor commented.

He urged the establishment of "well qualified" planning boards. "Planning ahead has become more vital as land becomes scarcer," the speaker told the group.

This recommendation was backed by Robert A. Slone, Rochester village manager, who said:

"In a small grass roots community like ours, we can't have a planning staff, but we can still have planning."

Slone was one of three panel speakers who told of planning on the village, city, and county levels. Others were Gerald Childers, Flint city planner, and William G. Rowden, Macomb County planning commission director.

★ ★ ★

Following a dinner meeting at Devon Gables, Flint Mayor George Algoe was elected regional chairman for 1957-58, Arthur J. Miller, Warren mayor, vice chairman, and Elmer Kephart, Bloomfield Hills manager, secretary.

MUNICIPAL LEAGUE SPEAKER — Prof. Charles Barr (center), of the urban planning department of Michigan State University, was greeted yesterday by Pontiac Mayor William W. Donaldson (left) and City Manager Walter K. Willman. Prof. Barr spoke of the importance of planning, zoning, and subdivision control at a meeting of Region 4 (Oakland, Macomb, and Genesee Counties) of the Michigan Municipal League held in the City Hall.

Albert Dekker's Son Killed by Rifle Shot

HASTINGS-ON-HUDSON, N. Y. (AP)—Jan Dekker, 16-year-old son of actor Albert Dekker, was found dead of a rifle bullet wound at his home here and his death was pronounced accidental.

★ ★ ★

Young Dekker was found yesterday on the floor of his second-floor bedroom by his mother Mrs. Edith Dekker. He was lying on a .22-caliber rifle and he clutched a piece of cloth in his left hand. A bullet had pierced his right eye.

★ ★ ★

The father is in Palm Beach, Fla., appearing in an Agatha Christie play, "Witness for the Prosecution."

Dekker said his son had been experimenting about a year on constructing a rifle silencer.

A medical examiner, Dr. Victoria Braidesh, said the death was accidental.

Study Tax Bureau

OWASSO (AP) — The Shiawassee County board of supervisors is studying a proposal by Supervisor William Dennison for a county tax bureau to set uniform assessments. The board authorized its equalization committee to get information on duties and functions of such a bureau.

Kozaren to Head Relief

DETROIT (AP) — Former State Liquor Control Commissioner John J. Kozaren has been named chairman of the Michigan Committee of American Relief for Poland. A former Wayne County treasurer, Kozaren now is employed as a Detroit distillery representative.

Hal Boyle Says:

Hat Madness Hits Blanche Thebom

NEW YORK (AP)—The Easter hat madness has an unusual victim this year—Blanche Thebom, the only girl in grand opera who can stand on her own hair without bending her knees.

★ ★ ★

"I feel like I had dived into a lily pond, and had come up with a lily on my head," said the Metropolitan Opera star as she put on the first hat she had bought in 14 years.

★ ★ ★

The beautiful mezzo - soprano gave up hats about the time she started letting her hair grow long. Now it is over six feet in length and the singer, who is about 5 feet 7 inches tall, actually can let it down and step on it.

Miss Thebom, who usually gets along by sticking a flower or a jeweled ornament in her hair, went on a bonnet buying spree this season because she is going to England soon. It wouldn't do to bump unexpectedly into Queen Elizabeth with nothing but a vintage orchid in her tresses.

★ ★ ★

Blanche isn't a girl who goes in for half-way measures. She descended on the hat shop operated by Mr. John, the noted chapeau designer, with the enthusiasm of a pirate raider.

Her enthusiasm was matched by that of Mr. John, weary at the moment of decorating girls who affect short bobs or even crew cuts.

★ ★ ★

"For a long-haired woman, the hat simply must be in proportion. Hat design, after all, is basically architecture, which is basically proportion."

Mr. John, whom Napoleon is said to resemble, tosses off bon mots like this all day long.

He came in with half a dozen colorful wide-brimmed hats with such romantic titles as "Meeting in Mayfair," "Brunch With a Beefeater" and "Tea With a Total Stranger."

★ ★ ★

One hat which was two feet wide and named "Windsor Afternoon" caught Blanche's eye.

"This is a black palace portrait hat," murmered Mr. John, "made of layers of summer black taffeta with a black petticoat brim, caught with a single summer rose, also black."

Intoxicated either by Mr. John's haunting creations or his haunted descriptions, Miss Thebom wound up with about a dozen big-brimmed hats.

"If you're going to wear a hat," said Blanche stoutly, "you might as well wear a mad one, so that a man can look at it condescendingly."

As she left Miss Thebom was heard to mutter:

"I think I'll have a happy Easter—if I just don't have to go through too many revolving doors."

Doctors to Operate on Siamese Twins

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Surgery will be performed soon at Children's Hospital in an effort to separate Siamese twins Terry and Larry Powell.

Neurosurgeons said several operations may be necessary.

Doctors have said the twins will have only a slight chance of surviving surgery if they have common brain tissue. But Mr. and Mrs. Jack Powell, parents of the babies, have consented to the surgery.

A French tourist survey showed that Belgium supplies the highest contingent, with 833,000 in 12 months.

A fund started in Great Yarmouth, England, will provide TV sets for lightship crews off the Norfolk coast.

Discusses Many Phases of Pregnancy

Third Book on Kinsey Research Due

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (INS) — The third book in the series on sex research planned by the late Dr. Alfred C. Kinsey is to be published late this year or early in 1958.

This volume—the first to appear since the death of the famed scientist—will detail further information about pregnancy in relation to the age, marital status and educational level of American women.

The volume also will disclose what the mammoth research of nearly two decades has learned about the frequency of abortion and the ratio of live births to pregnancies.

Dr. Paul H. Gebhard, executive director of the Institute for Sex Research, disclosed also that a switch will be made in publishers for this third volume and also for a fourth book, from the medical publishing field to a general publishing house.

★ ★ ★

The fourth volume, expected to reach publication stage within three years, was assured today with announcement that the United States Public Health Service has granted $151,693 to the institute for a three-year study of the sex offender.

Dr. Gebhard said that most of this grant will be utilized in paying salaries of institute staff members to ake an analysis of data already collected. He explained:

INTERVIEWS DONE

"We still do a few interviews, but the bulk of the interviewing is done. We now have approximately 18,000 sex histories."

Included in these histories are interviews and other records relating to some 2,000 convicted sex offenders. Dr. Wardell B. Pomeroy, director of field research for the institute; Clyde E. Martin, research associate, and Drs. Kinsey and Gebhard conducted the interviews, mainly during the past five years. Many of the interviews were made in the prisons of California, New York and Indiana.

The executive director said that of the total sex histories, the records of some 6,000 males who have never been convicted of sex offenses will be used for comparative study.

"There will not be too much about the women in the study of convicted sex offenders. Prostitution is the only charge which nets a large number of females. And we didn't want the study to be limited to prostitution. We wanted to cover the whole field of sex laws, particularly those classified as felonies. In most states, prostitution is a misdemeanor."

But the book scheduled to precede the volume on sex offenders will be primarily concerned with women, which is a reversal of the subject order of the first two books, published prior to the death of Dr. Kinsey, Aug. 25, 1956. These were "Sexual Behavior in the Human Male" in 1948 and "Sexual Behavior in the Human Female" in 1953.

A tentative title for the third book is "Pregnancy and Its Outcome" although Dr. Gebhard said this may be changed. Publisher of the third and fourth books will be the firm of Harper and Brothers, a general publishing house. The first two volumes had been published by a firm specializing in medical and technical books.

Junior Company Feted at Dinner by Standard Oil

A Junior Achievement company, Pontiac's Scent-O-Lite, manufacturers of scented candles, was feted at a dinner Wednesday evening by its sponsor, Standard Oil Co. of Indiana.

Frank J. Swindell, division manager, presented the JA firm with its charter. The entire Standard Oil management was in attendance at the dinner-meeting.

★ ★ ★

Scent-O-Lite is a firm operated by Pontiac teenagers and was formed by the sale of stock to the public. It is part of Junior Achievement's program of giving youth direct business experience.

President Bob Skinner reported sales of candles were good, and Richard Mann, production manager said output was excellent after a slow start.

★ ★ ★

Other officers of Scent-O-Lite are: Pearl Neussendorfer, vice president; Sharron Foote, secretary; Joann Kitchen, treasurer; and Martha Mayes, sales manager.

Ship's Foghorn Develops Bad Case of Laryngitis

SARNIA, Ont. (AP) — An expert from Detroit is coming to Sarnia to cure a bad case of laryngitis on the Canadian lightship Huron, anchored 3½ miles out in Lake Huron.

Normally heard from 6 to 10 miles, the ship's foghorn has been reduced to a whisper in the past few days. Air diaphragm trouble is suspected, and the U. S. Coast Guard volunteered to send a technician to treat the case.

Guatemala's Progress Example for Others

Despite discouraging reports from some Caribbean countries, Guatemala continues to forge ahead under the liberal Armas regime.

Gold reserves are at an all time high and 22 oil companies, most of them foreign, expect to spend $15 million in Guatemala in 1957 on exploration, new machinery, equipment and salaries. The Ohio Oil Company is drilling near the Mexican border and is constructing roads into that almost inaccessible region.

Food processing plants now number 95 and capital investment in them tripled last year. In 1953 there were only three textile mills, now there are nine. Savings bank deposits more than doubled between 1955 and 1956 and currency circulation is at a record high.

★ ★ ★

Beginning this month the Guatemalan government announced that it would honor agrarian bonds issued by the previous Arbenz administration. Under it thousands of acres of land was expropriated for a Communist type reform program. When the present regime took over, it ousted the Communists and most of these lands were returned by the courts and bonds given owners for payment were canceled. The present government is honoring the remaining bonds.

★ ★ ★

President Castillo Armas has started an intensive campaign to cut down on disease. With almost two-thirds of the Guatemalan population going barefoot, there is a concerted effort to have the people wear shoes or sandals for protection from infection. More than 100,000 pairs of locally manufactured sandals are being distributed among the indigent.

Guatemala, of course, has a long way to go. But due to the enlightened policies of President Castillo Armas its progress in every field is indeed heartening.

A Reasonable Request

In his budget message last January President Eisenhower asked Congress to approve a limited program of Federal payments to local governments in lieu of taxes on U.S.-owned real estate.

This public property which once covered 1,442 million acres is now down to 409 million. Although 90 per cent of it is in 11 Western states, the Federal government owns land in every state. Holdings range from a high of 87.5 per cent of the area of Nevada to less than one per cent of Connecticut.

A large part of the once tax-free land has been added to tax rolls over the years through land grants to railroads and homesteaders. The remainder never brought in any local tax revenue. But it's a different matter with formerly taxed real estate purchased by the Federal Government.

Local governments felt the pinch when World War II defense needs led to acquisition of industrial and commercial properties. Less than three million acres are now used for industrial purposes but buildings and installations on this land cost $3.7 billion. In some instances Congress authorized payments in lieu of taxes but there is no overall plan.

The Supreme Court held 140 years ago that the Federal Government may not be taxed by lesser jurisdictions without its consent. However, state and local governments are not happy about the tax exemption enjoyed by Federal property within their limits.

Squeezed between rising costs and inadequate revenues, they think that the Federal Government, where it is a big property owner, should help them solve budget problems by making some kind of payment in lieu of taxes.

The difficulty of some communities is well illustrated in the town of Stratford, Conn. There the Air Force acquired a privately owned engine plant more valuable than all other property in the town together. It is now tax exempt, of course.

A 1956 Administration approved bill was re-introduced at the present session. It calls for contributions to local governments in lieu of taxes on property acquired by the Federal government since June 30, 1950, for industrial or commercial purposes. The amount would be determined by a special Federal board.

Some action along this line is called for. As a tax exempt land owner the Federal Government should not be the cause of financial embarrassment to local communities.

David Lawrence Says:

Canadians Can't Back Up Charges

WASHINGTON — Canadian government officials and those American editorial writers who have accused the Senate internal security subcommittee of "murder by slander" in connection with the death of E. Herbert Norman, Canadian ambassador to Cairo, may owe an apology to the members of the Senate committee and its staff.

LAWRENCE

For some mysterious reason the full text of the two notes left by Mr. Norman, who leaped to his death in Cairo two weeks ago, have not been made public until now.

They must have been in the possession of the Canadian government from the day the suicide occurred but only in the last two days have they become available and then only through the enterprise of news representatives of the New York Daily News.

These notes show plainly that the Canadian government did not have the slightest bit of evidence to back up its claim that the hearings held by the U. S. Senate internal security subcommittee prompted Mr. Norman to commit suicide, though this was the impression the Ottawa authorities endeavored to convey in their written protests to the Washington government.

NOT FACTOR

Indeed, the text of the two communications left by Mr. Norman indicates that the mere revelations at the hearings concerning his Communist associations could not have possibly been the controlling factor in his mind. Here is the full text of the two notes. The first, written to Mrs. Norman, reads as follows:

"Farewell to you, my beloved, and to my family. I wanted so much to tell you all about my troubles during these last few days of my life because I think of you as my spiritual partner, but I finally decided to bear them alone and not distress you, too.

"I also wanted to tell you before going out this morning of my intention to commit suicide, but I changed my mind at the last minute, feeling it would be better for you to learn of my death afterwards. I have no more hope in life, no more future. Please forgive me, my love, for ending my life like this. I feel I don't deserve even to kiss your feet.

"Farewell, my beloved. Best wishes to my family."

WHY HESITATE

Why, if it was the rehash of old charges before the Senate internal security subcommittee, would Mr. Norman hesitate to tell his wife what troubled him? He was assured of the unswerving support of his chief, Lester Pearson, the Canadian secretary of state for external affairs, and certainly the information that came out in the Senate hearings of March 12 and 21 this year was not any different from what was available in 1950 when Mr. Norman knew he was secretly "cleared" by a security check conducted under the auspices of Mr. Pearson.

What were the circumstances then that arose "during these last few days," as Mr. Norman phrased it? A portion of the first letter was revealed at the time of the suicide but not the full text, which now shows that something sensational happened "during these last few days."

Further evidence is furnished in the second letter left by Mr. Norman, which was written to Brynolf Eng, the Swedish minister to Cairo. No part of it became available to the press until now. It reads, in full text, as follows:

"I wanted to spend some time with you during these last few days of my life and tell you about what has been worrying me, but I am afraid that even in this letter I cannot bring myself to tell you the true reasons that impel me to commit suicide.

"I have decided to die near your home. I know this may cause you some trouble and I am sorry, but you are my best friend. Farewell."

What were those "true reasons?"

Whatever it was, the information brought out in the Senate hearings themselves last month could not in and of itself have been the motivating reason.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Large Doses of Digitalis Effective in Treating DTs

A Los Angeles pharmacist mistook the name of a medicine in a prescription for digitalis when in fact the medicine the prescription called for was dilantin. The latter is an anti-spasmodic sedative, used for epilepsy.

DR. BRADY

Unfortunately the pharmacist had not obtained the woman's address; so when he discovered the mistake, he notified the police. The newspapers soon printed warnings to the effect that, if the pills were taken as directed, the woman, according to the newspapers "would be dead within nine days."

NOT THAT DANGEROUS

Oh, come, now. Digitalis is not a drug to trifle with, but it is not as dangerous as all that. Had the woman taken half a dozen digitalis pills a day she might have experienced some nausea and vomiting in the course of a week or 10 days, but I'm sure there would have been no death in nine days.

★ ★ ★

Happily, the woman heard about the mistake. She telephoned police to explain that she hadn't taken the pills at all because they didn't look like the dilantin pills she had been taking.

Once, when I was in charge of the men's medical ward, a middleaged patient was admitted with all-out delirium tremens. Physicians at Bellevue had reported exceptionally good results from treatment of DT's with enormous doses of digitalis.

So, with a good deal of difficulty I persuaded the hospital pharmacist and the nurses that I really wanted to give the patient what any doctor would regard as enormous doses of tincture of digitalis every four hours.

MADE GOOD RECOVERY

The patient took several such enormous doses, then quieted down Finally, the patient made a good recovery and was discharged.

★ ★ ★

About a year later, when my junior had succeeded me, the same patient returned to the hospital, delirious, with the odor of alcohol on his breath. "DTs, of course," snapped Junior. "How much digitalis did you give him, Brady?"

I told him how much. Whew! He decided to give about one-fourth as much—which was still far above the orinary daily dose of digitalis.

The next day I heard, the patient had succumbed. Autopsy revealed the cause of death—pneumonia—which Junior, the snap diagnostician, had not discovered simply because he had not bothered to examine the patient on admission.

Not that the digitalis had done any harm—in fact some good physicians have endorsed digitalis treatment of pneumonia. This in spite of the fact that Bellevue physicians conclued from well-controlled observation that digitalis treatment of pneumonia is dangerous.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Woman Praises Driving of Teen Club Members

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

Two weeks ago our Sunday school paper carried a story about the Saf-Teen Club. I was very interested and, not having heard or read about it before, believed it did not exist in this area.

However, as we were driving into Pontiac Saturday night we saw a car bearing a Saf-Teen tag. In it were four young people, no doubt out for an evening of fun. We followed them quite a way. There was no speeding, quick take-offs from lights or so many of the other things supposedly typical of teenage drivers.

Having seen this example of what I believe teenagers are really like, I just though I'd write a few lines so the rest of you would know, too.

Mrs. G. D. S.

Will Carlotta Never Cease?

I've been following this column, and I'm especially interested in the letters to Carlotta. I am interested in detective work and I have been weighing the statements this person wrote in the letters. Did anyone stop to think it might be a fun-loving male who is sitting home laughing at all the replies? Certainly this is a subject that would stir up both men and women. If this is the reason, he certainly is succeeding. Who else could think up such fantastic measurements?

P. L. V.

Whoever you are, Carlotta, you seem to have made quite the disgusting impression on the people of Pontiac with your fantastic measurements. Who do you think you have that other girls haven't? Are you a freak, fake or just a good liar?

I measure 37½-25-36½ and that is a pretty good figure, but it doesn't make people break their necks or have wrecks to look twice, the way you seem to think yours does.

So come off the conceit. I'm sure the people of Pontiac are more disgusted than anything with your "record-breaking figure."

Nonjealous Jill

Carlotta, you must have a terrible cold. Otherwise you'd wear a coat while walking the streets. I haven't seen a coat that one could see through. Now that summer is approaching, try dressing as ladies do for shopping and thus a help us prevent accidents.

I'm sure you suffer from an inferiority complex, but your figure won't solve it. Try personality. A girl with that and a good figure is too busy to stroll city streets and spend lonely evenings telling the world of her figure. Men that now whistle will even call for dates, which is a lot more enjoyable than sitting home.

Too Busy

I had to laugh after reading all those Carlotta letters. Don't all these good people realize someone is pulling their leg? I think Carlotta is really a man and those are probably his measurements but in reverse. Chest-16, waist-40.

M. W.

Has The Pontiac Press lost its mind? To give space to such trivia as the insane Carlotta stuff as it has been doing makes one feel that our once worthy paper is about ready for the nut-house.

Unless it gets back to real issues, better change the heading "Voice of the People" to "Voice of the Nuts to the Nuts."

Suggests Lottery to Pay U.S. Debt

England has issued bonds that draw no interest, but which are part of a national lottery. Why doesn't our own government pay part of the debt by staging a big lottery with a first prize of a million dollars, and then hundreds of succeeding prizes? You could make all these prizes tax exempt, so the people would really be interested.

Some people may say they do not like the moral aspect. Well, those that feel that way don't need to buy. It wouldn't be compulsory. Those that wanted to take a chance on a gigantic prize could toss in a few bob. It would go like wild fire and would be an easy way to raise a big sum of money.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Develops Psychosomatic Ailment

Maureen's case merits the careful scrutiny of all parents. But widows and widowers with children should memorize it. For many symbolic ailments reach the physician's office which are exactly like the heart attack described below. Scrapbook this case under "Psychosomatic Medicine." And discuss it in your college classes in clinical psychology.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case U-359: Maureen O., aged 23, is a very beautiful girl.

CRANE

"Dr. Crane, Daddy and I have always been very close to each other," she confided.

"For Mother died when I was only nine years old. Daddy has served as both Mother and Daddy to me ever since.

"After I finished high school, we decided it would be better if I went to college in my own town, since then I could live at home.'

"While I was thus at the university I met several wonderful boys. And Daddy approved of my dating them. In fact, the more boys I dated, the better he seemed to like it.

"In my last year, however, I really fell in love and became engaged. Daddy objected that I was too young.

"Then he argued that my sweetheart couldn't support me in the style to which I was accustomed.

"But we wanted to get married in June, just a week after my graduation. But Daddy took sick with heart trouble, so I postponed the wedding till September.

"He got better during the summer but had another attack in late August. He insisted that I hold off the wedding till he got well, but I didn't.

"Dr. Crane, did I do right?"

FACE THE FACTS

Do you think Maureen's dad had a real heart attack or was he conveniently suffering from imaginary attacks to force her to delay the wedding?

In a case like this, it is obviously difficult to tell precisely without medical facts. So I called the heart specialist to find out the true state of affairs, since Maureen was tormented by worry and a feeling that maybe she had done her father an injustice.

To summarize the case briefly, her father had not suffered from any organic heart trouble.

★ ★ ★

There were no abnormalities in his electracardiogram. But he had felt "heartache" at the thought of losing his only child.

His heartache had been psychological. But he soon "converted"

it into a psychosomatic case of heart trouble.

Other patients will likewise soil themselves on the fact they are losing their minds by a similar use of synonyms.

"I must not be normal!" they think at the outset.

But "not normal" is easily translated into "abnormal." And then they go further and translate "abnormal" into "insane," after which they even try to develop the symptoms which they imagine psychotic people show.

SYMBOLIC AILMENTS

Maureen's father thus suffered from a symbolic ailment. He had invested doubly in her rearing and thus was doubly possessive.

★ ★ ★

Naturally, therefore, he would be doubly jealous at letting some younger male take over the dominant role in Maureen's life.

But he would not face the bald fact that it was double jealously, so he had rationalized at first by saying Maureen was too young.

When she answered that argument, he came out with the challenge that her fiance couldn't support her as she had been accustomed to living.

Well, few young husbands can match the earning power of fathers with 25 years head start, so that means little.

Finally, Maureen's dad slipped into a symbolic ailment. And he would have domineered her as long as he lived if she hadn't called his bluff.

★ ★ ★

Actually, he should have married again and thus now have a devoted second wife and possibly two or three additional children to cushion the loss of Maureen when she married.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Seattle Fleet Prepares to Brave the Fickle Winds

Halibut Fishermen Display Courage

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

SEATTLE (INS)—The "rugged ones" are making ready to go halibut-hunting again.

★ ★ ★

On more than 500 boats, most of them no bigger than the bunking area of a millionaire's yacht off Florida, the halibut fishermen are curling the long lines, tying the hooks, studying the maps and doing a reasonable amount of inconspicuous praying—for the time is almost at hand for the most hazardous fishing in the Northwest.

"You have all the elements against you," says Lors Jangaard a halibut man for 17 years and still intact."

"Nothing you respect more than weather, except God," says John Haram. "You pray for the one and to the other."

★ ★ ★

"Wait a minute — we've got radio, too." Loren Coolidge, older than the other two, looks tolerant. "A few boats disappear once in awhile, but radio is your great safeguard.

"Things get real bad, you can call the Coast Guard for help. In the old days, things got bad and everybody took it for granted you were lost."

MOST COURAGEOUS

The halibut men, pale after a damp winter of odd-jobbing on land or fishing for less challenging booty near shore, are renowned as the most courageous of fishermen. Because they have to be.

After May 1, they will take off for a series of three-to-four-week expeditions, 25 to 100 miles offshore where the weather change is fickle and sudden.

Their boats are so small.

"It's a challenge, all right," says Coolidge. "Greatest challenge a man can have—greater than a difficult woman.

"When you get 100 miles offshore and know there's not going to be any two minutes in succession when the winds are the same around you, you really feel freedom as never before. There are lots of different adjectives we use to describe wind—and they're all respectful."

The city of Seattle is equally respectful of its halibut fishermen, who haul in 3½ million dollars worth of the fish, often weighing upwards of 200 pounds each, every season, May 1 through September.

More than 900 fishermen recently attended the 28th annual Lutheran ceremony, to be blessed before the coming season.

HALIBUT QUEEN

The city also elected a "Halibut Queen" this year, to gladden the hearts of the men, and to give them a personal pin-up for their small galleys. Their attitude: "Very nice gesture, but this queen better not come aboard any boats."

★ ★ ★

As superstitious as they are religious, their top aversion is to women aboard fishing vessels. They also draw the line at whistling aboard boat ("if we were sailing," says Coolidge, "there'd be a point in whistling up a wind, but we're not, so watch it!"), and to departing from port on a Friday.

Anyone who comes aboard with a brown suitcase is also considered a hazard; "nobody knows why, but everyone knows enough not to."

It takes a particularly strong—or indifferent—wife to put up with the five-month period of freedom and challenge a fisherman must face. The "halibut wives," as they proudly call themselves, apparently are either up to it or used to it.

"Let's put it this way," says Coolidge. "There are no foreigners among us halibut fishermen—we're 99 per cent Norwegian. And Scandinavian wives know who's boss, and prefer it that way."

Met Singer Advocates Sending Artists Abroad

HONOLULU (AP) — Metropolitan Opera soprano Eleanor Steber says she is disturbed by reports that some congressmen advocate abolishing or curtailing the U.S. program of sending cultural artists abroad.

"It would be playing right into the hands of the Russians," she said last night as she paused en route to New York by plane after a four-month tour to 17 countries.

"We've got to send the best artists we have. That's what the Russians are doing."

Town Searches for Dynamite

100 Caps Scattered in Western Community, 85 Recovered

COLLINSVILLE, Okla. (AP) — Instead of a needle in a haystack, people in this tiny Oklahoma town were looking for dynamite caps.

And Police Chief Don Brinkley was finding them all over town last night—in the coat pocket of a little girl, at an old coal pit, by the hotel.

★ ★ ★

Luckily, none of the estimated 100 dynamite caps taken by a couple of young teen-agers "goofing around" the United Brick Co. had exploded.

★ ★ ★

"But somebody could get his head blown off," said Brinkley as he led the search. About 85 had been recovered so far.

The boys told the chief they took the caps and some dynamite sticks early Wednesday. Brinkley said apparently some of the caps had been handled by various children in school for two days.

★ ★ ★

It was not discovered until early last night that dynamite caps were scattered around this little community near Tulsa. Then, police were notified some children were playing with the explosives.

One cap turned up in the pocket of a little girl's coat.

Another boy said he'd tossed a couple in a waste basket at school and another said he'd thrown about 10 in a creek.

One of the boys who admitted taking the caps led police to an old coal pit where about 15 and the sticks of dynamite were recovered.

"We built a fire and threw in some to see what would happen, but nothing did," one of the boys told police.

Ordinarily, the caps are exploded with an electrical charge.

Fog-Bound Fowl Plays Real Role as Crazy Loon

PORT HURON (AP) — Fog was so thick in Michigan early today drivers could hardly see highways and pilots couldn't find runways. Everything was grounded — even a cousin of the ducks.

George E. Van Luven of Port Huron heard a great commotion outside at 2 a.m. He bounced out in pajamas to find a crazy, mixed up loon chasing his big boxer dog.

★ ★ ★

The loon, which had left skid ently mistook for the nearby St. ently mistook for the nezeby St. Clair River, turned on Van Luven and chased him back under his porch light with a sharp, pointed bill and a weird cry.

Van Luven grabbed the loon's long bobbing neck and hung on while his wife hurried with a clothes line. They tied up the bird; got him into a laundry bag and called police.

Curiosity got the better of station house policemen. They peeked into the bag, then wished they hadn't. Several got nipped.

The crazy loon, all 15 pounds of him, quickly was sacked again to await return of flying weather.

Waterford High Gets Principal

Board of Education Appoints James Fry to Replace Thad Carr

James Fry, present principal of the Isaac Crary Junior High School in Waterford Township, was appointed principal of the Waterford Township High School by the board of education last night.

He succeeds Thad Carr, who resigned to accept an appointment with the Ann Arbor school system. Fry will assume his new duties in July.

★ ★ ★

Paul O'Neil, now assistant principal at Isaac Crary, was appointed principal to succeed Fry, and George Madden, counselor at Crary, was named assistant to O'Neil.

Other business of the board included: Purchasing of seven new school buses, five for replacements and two for additional service.

Mrs. William Vann, a former president of the board of education, was appointed as a member to complete the unexpired term of Elmer Johnson, newly-elected township supervisor.

★ ★ ★

Her appointment was made effective as of April 11 when Johnson resigned.

Contracts for six new teachers for next year were approved, and there will be 17 additional teachers starting next fall to handle increased enrollment.

★ ★ ★

There are 385 teachers in the system this year, according to William Shunck, superintendent.

Shelve Revised Plan on Hospital Surtax

A revision in Pontiac General Hospital's 15 per cent surtax, which would exempt Pontiac employers from paying for out-of-city employes, was shelved last night by the Board of Trustees.

★ ★ ★

William P. Babcock, chairman of the board, appointed a three-man committee to contact local businesses and corporations as to whether they would go along with any change.

The action followed a report from Miss Lauretta Paul, hospital director, who said: "We have had refusals in every instance from local employers to pay the surtax for employes for which they are responsible."

She referred to compensation or injury cases, for which the firms usually pay the hospital bill. The 15 per cent surtax is an extra charge levied for out-of-city residents using the hospital.

★ ★ ★

The director told the trustees that a four-month study by the comptroller revealed that in 95 compensation cases local employers with outside-the-city employe patients, had refused to pay the tax.

Trustee Harold B. Euler submitted a motion last evening to exempt all businesses in Pontiac from paying the tax, regardless of where the employe for whom they were paying the compensation lived.

This met a strong protest from Mrs. B. B. Roush, who said she paid the tax for a sick aunt from outside the city.

★ ★ ★

Euler's proposal would change the present surtax regulation which says that only the residency of the patient determines whether it will be paid. This regulation was just instituted in March.

Before this, the rule stated that the location of the individual or company responsible for the patient, in the compensation cases, determined payments.

The board asked that the special committee bring in a report at next month's meeting.

FIRMS REFUSE TO PAY

★ ★ ★

The 15 per cent tax became effective in January. It was boosted from the previous 10 per cent in an attempt to make up financial deficits. In 1956, the tax brought in $142,660 to the hospital.

Group Given $25,000

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Mrs. Elsie Ahrens Lang isn't worried about the Louisville League of Women Voters using up her $25,000 donation all at once. Mrs. Lang, member of a prominent Louisville family and a long-time league member, gave no particular reason for the donation, but said she wasn't worried because "women are too frugal with money to spend all of it."

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Kenneth C. Bruce, 36, assistant chief engineer for television station KDKA, died yesterday. He was born in Peoria, Ill.

Offer Free Bus Rides to Holiday Churchgoers

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — A policy established in 1954 by Grand Rapids City Coach Lines, Inc., will afford free bus rides to and from services for Easter Sunday Churchgoers.

Ira W. Jackson, general manager of the lines, said the offer makes it possible "for many who otherwise might not go to church to ahve a ride." He said the offer, good until 1 p.m., is available to patrons who tell drivers "I am going to church," or "I am coming from church."

Business Notes

Henry Powers and Charles Vandenberg, of the Detroit Creamery branch, 408 Auburn Ave., participated in the annual Dairy Fieldman's conference this week at Michigan State University.

Major topic of the session was bulk tank milk procedures.

First British Ship Enters Suez Canal

PORT (INS) — A British ship entered the Suez Canal today for the first time since October.

Apparently ending the Western Big Three's informal boycott of the 3604-ton West Breeze flying Britain's red ensign steamednorthward in a seven ship convoy.

The ship's captain paid the equivalent of $3,705 in swiss francs in tolls to the Egyptian canal authority.

★ ★ ★

Also in the northbound convoy was the first oil-loaded American-owned tanker to transit the canal since its opening to international traffic March 8. But the Bulk Oceanic, owned by Universe Tank Ship Inc., flew the Liberian flag.

An empty American-owned tanker used the canal earlier this week.

A Christchurch, New Zealand, firm has developed a new-type stainless steel beer cask.

Burglary Suspect Falls Right Into Arms of Law

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A man arrested on a charge of suspicion of burglary literally dropped into the arms of two policemen.

Patrolmen George Rosemyer and Warren McGuire heard the Rosen's Drug Co.'s burglar alarm go off. They rushed to the scene just in time to catch Frederick Harrison, 21, who was climbing down a rain spout and let go when he neared the ground.

2 Latin American Countries Feud in New York City

NEW YORK (INS)—Guatemala and Mexico were embroiled in a territorial dispute today — right in the midst of New York City.

It started when a party led by Guatemalan Consul Augusto Mulet-Descamps visited the Mexican exhibit at the Coliseum's World Trade Fair the other day. To their amazement they found all of Guatemala plus some of British Honduras included in the map of Mexico.

The consul fired off a stinging letter to Guillermo Goerne, chief of Mexico's Department of Statistics and Public Relations.

Mulet - Descamps registered "the most energetic protests" and urged that "the expansionist artist correct this mistake." He called the map "an affront to Guatemala and a misrepresentation to foreigners."

Besides, he added, "some high government officials of Mexico have said that they would claim Belize (in Honduras) for their own when the guns of powerful Britain have been withdrawn and this territory is restored to Guatemala."

★ ★ ★

Goerne said the boundary line between Mexico and her southern neighbor was marked on the map. "But rather weakly," he admitted. "That's because it's a pictorial map rather than a real geographic map. It's the same with the United States to the north."

Goerne assured the Guatemalans that his "expansionist artist" would immediately make the boundary line heavier.

Grand Rapids Art Gallery Exhibits Localite's Work

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—The Grand Rapids Art Gallery has scheduled a reception Saturday to display the works of artist-sculptor Calvin Albert, a Grand Rapids native, and water color artist Mary Jane Bigler of Detroit.

Albert, now an assistant professor at Pratt Institute in Brooklyn, works in open form metal. He uses a special process called modalloy which requires the use of blow torch and soldering iron.

Albert's works have been displayed in 10 one-man shows in Grand Rapids, Chicago, San Francisco and New York.

Michigan Professor Gets Fulbright Grant

ANN ARBOR (INS)—Dr. William B. Willcox, history professor at the University of Michigan, has been awarded a Fulbright grant for the coming academic year at Oxford University in England.

Dr. Willcox will serve as Fulbright lecturer in military history and tutor in English history at Balliol College, Oxford.

During his stay in England, he will use a Rackham research grant from the U. of M. for research in London on military history of the American Revolution.

Argentina will buy 200 diesel locomotives.

Cancer Victim Gets Last Wish

Leonard Kerschke, 27, Buried as He Wanted It; Favorite Songs Sung

DETROIT (AP)—Leonard Kerschke, who attracted nationwide attention with his story of how it feels to be a 27-year-old cancer victim with six months to live, was buried yesterday the way he wanted it.

Funeral services were held at Bethesda Missionary Temple in Detroit. Burial was in White Chapel Memorial Cemetery north of Detroit. His favorite religious songs, "Love of God" and "Overshadowed by His Mighty Love," were sung.

★ ★ ★

Kerschke, who died Monday night, wrote his story for The Associated Press. It was published in newspapers March 31. He was at work on a second article when death overtook him.

Kerschke died 2½ months after doctors told him he had inoperable cancer and a life expectancy of six months.

The Rev. James L. Beall, associate minister of the Interdenominational Church, said in his funeral sermon that he talked with Kerschke shortly before his death and "he had a wonderful confidence in God that not many people have."

Kerschke was studying to be a college teacher. His survivors include his 26-year-old wife Athleyne and two daughters, 14-month-old Darleen and 2-month-old Valerie.

Avert Tragedy in Plane Crash

50 Passengers Pour From Flaming Liner at Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH (AP) — An airliner landed in flames at Greater Pittsburgh Airport yesterday but thanks to a quick-acting pilot, a calm stewardess and expert fire fighters a major tragedy was averted.

Fifty passengers poured out of the Capital Airlines DC4 seconds after it ground to a halt while firemen riding alongside in trucks poured flame-quenching foam on the plane.

Not a person was injured seriously. Nine were treated either for shock or bruises.

There was no indication of an emergency as the big airplane, piloted by R. L. Calhoun of Alexandria, Va., circled the airport and approached for a landing. But the plane landed "hard," an airport official said.

★ ★ ★

A Capital spokesman said instruments in the cockpit indicated the landing gear was not secured so Calhoun zoomed the big ship into the air. Seconds later the right inboard engine caught fire and flames raced along the fuselage.

As the passengers tensed, the airplane's public address system blared:

"Prepare for a crash landing."

Capt. Calhoun, who had alerted the airport, set the plane down in a few seconds.

The Capital spokesman said there was no indication of what caused the "hard" landing on the first attempt. He declared the Buffalo-to-Pittsburgh plane could have possibly been caught in a wind current.

The spokesman said the impact of the landing apparently caused a fuel line or tank to burst.

50 Boy Scouts Still Stranded

Await Better Weather Before Coming Down California Peak

WRIGHTWOOD, Calif. (AP) — Some 50 Boy Scouts waited a break in the weather today to trudge down from Mt. Baden-Powell in the San Gabriel Mountains where they have been marooned by snow, ice and fog.

The scouts are believed the last of more than 159 who were caught on the steep mountain hike by a weather front. More than five feet of new snow clogged the icebound trail.

★ ★ ★

The scouts and their leaders huddled in blankets and sleeping bags at 8,600 feet in icy fog last night, said sheriff's posse members who climbed the mountain to guide them out.

★ ★ ★

At least two boys were listed as frostbitten or injured. They were Dennis Swingle, 13, and David Letzinger, also 13, both of Lynwood, Calif. Three deputies who helped in rescue operations also were treated for frostbite. Other scout stretcher cases were reported.

★ ★ ★

The boys were marooned as an unhappy and unexpected climax to the annual Silver Moccasin scout hike over the mountain named for the founder of the scout movement. The 65-mile hike from Sierra Madre to Big Pines is for first-class scouts only. The boys started last Saturday and Sunday. The storm hit Wednesday night.

Almost Extinct Crane Lays Egg in Zoo

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—New hope for the almost extinct whooping crane population blossomed today as the Audubon Park's Josephine laid another egg.

★ ★ ★

Ordinarily, such bird eggs are routine things, but there are only 28 known of the long-legged birds in existence. The pair at the Audubon Park Zoo are the only twosome in captivity. A single whooper lives at a zoo in San Antonio, Tex.

★ • ★ ★

Zoo Director George Douglas said he is hopeful that Josephine will present her mate Crip with another egg in a day or two. Douglas called the event "the most important Easter egg in the world" and said all precautions are being taken.

KILLEEN, Tex. (AP) — Lawrence Satell, a book salesman, told police somebody stole 22 bibles worth $34.95 each from his auto.

Aid for All in Emergency

Blood Bank Really Means Life

Just what does a community blood bank mean to the Pontiac area? According to Mrs. A. H. Magnus, chairman of the bank, it is far more than statistics or the number of pints collected and dispensed.

Blood really means life, she said, and when you need it, or some one you know and love needs it, it becomes about the most important thing in the world.

She cited the case of a young man now at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital who is being kept alive with heavy transfusions running up to 10 pints a day.

The patient is suffering from hemophilia and he would long since have bled to death were it not for the blood bank, Mrs. Magnus added.

★ ★ ★

"Or take the case of the elderly man from Ortonville,' she went on, "he has undergone his second major operation and his friends are too old to donate blood."

"That family just doesn't have the money to pay for the many pints he needs, so the Community Blood Bank is supplying it free," she said.

A blue baby, a burned child, an auto accident victim, they all depend on blood for survival. And anyone of them could be our child, or that of a neighbor, Mrs. Mabnus continued.

Blood is in desperate need throughout Oakland County, she said. We are short 600 pints right now. Last month alone we supplied 836 pints to county hospitals.

★ ★ ★

An opportunity to contribute to the Pontiac Community Blood Bank is offered area residents Monday, from 2 to 8 p.m., at the Elks Temple.

No appointment is needed, but to insure prompt service, Mrs. Magnus advises donors to call her at MI 6-1313, or to call Mrs. Dorothy Blodgett, donor recruiting chairman, FE 8-3937 for an appointment.

Britons Continue to See Fewer Films

LONDON (AP)—One British movie house in 25 closed down last year as more and more people stayed home to watch television. Government figures show attendance dropped 7 per cent, continuing a decline started the previous year.

★ ★ ★

The government last week revised taxes to help theaters and movies in the struggle against television. It abolished the 33⅓ per cent tax on tickets for the live theater, and reduced it for cinemas.

At the same time it announced that Britons will have to pay $11.20 instead of $8.40 for their licenses to own radio and television sets.

Reward of Generosity

DES MOINES (AP) — Des Moines clothier Heck Ross dropped in a competitor's store, found only one clerk to handle three customers, so he sent a clerk from his own store to help out. The substitute sold a $40 suit.

Passer of Bad Checks Heading for Bad Time

DETROIT (AP)—A certain passer of bad checks in Detroit is heading for a bad time.

Two checks—for $24.70 and $25—bearing the name of Gerald K. O'Brien bounced because nobody by that name has an account at the bank on which they were written.

Wayne County Prosecuting Atty. Gerald K. O'Brien said he would take personal charge of the prosecution if the check passer is caught.

Boy Tells Politicians Peace Their Problem

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — An 11-year-old boy stood on a chair in the State Assembly yesterday and said world peace is up to the politicians.

He is Leonard Ross of Tujunga, Calif., who has grossed about $164,000 on two television shows by answering questions about the stock market.

Leonard said he would prefer to go into politics or government. People in that work are "the last hope we have for peace," he said.

Gunman Robs Detroit Store

Empties Safe, Cash Registers Under Noses of 100 Patrons

DETROIT (AP) — A bold gunman robbed a supermarket under the noses of 100 customers here last night, cleaning out the safe and four cash registers.

Police said the confident thief followed this plan of action:

He walked in and asked a cashier where he could find the manager. The cashier took him to Bobbie Adams, 21, the assistant manager.

Pulling a gun, the man forced Adams to put the contents of the store's safe in a canvas bag he was carrying.

Then he made Adams go to each of the store's four cash registers and empty the bills into the bag.

★ ★ ★

Adams said the man told him his partner was guarding the front door with a sawed off shotgun. He said he saw a man in a bulging raincoat outside the door.

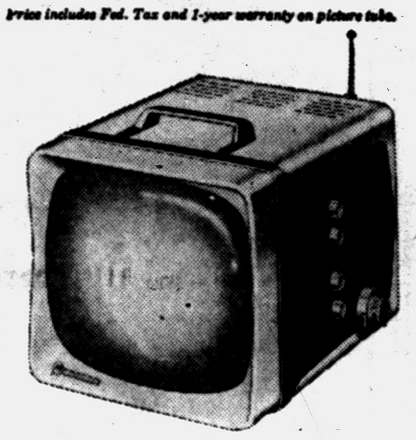

The two robbers escaped on foot.

Store officials were unable to say immediately how much money was taken.

Roads in Port Moresby, New Guinea, are being market with Red Triangles where traffic accidents have happened.

Right Numbers All You Need to Win $400

If your troubles are the type that would be helped by sudden acquisition of $400, here's your chance to improve your lot. Just pick out the right numbers, write them in the proper blanks, send them to us on a postcard in time to meet the deadline below, and your problems are solved.

The new puzzle contains a series of squares which are alphabetically lettered and a corresponding list of sentences with two clue words. Each of the words is numbered. The object is to select the word which you think best fits the clue sentence. You then place the number of that word in the square which has the same letter as the clue sentence.

In other words, you will read the clue labeled A and decide which of the two words makes the most sense in the sentence. You then write the number of that word in the puzzle square marked A.

Do the same with all other squares. Read all the clues carefully and be sure the right numbers are in the right squares.

OFFICIAL CONTEST RULES

1. Anyone is eligible to enter the POT-O-GOLD contest with the exception of Pontiac Press employes or their immediate families.

2. A contestant may submit as many entries as he or she wishes but they must be on official entry blanks printed in this newspaper.

3. To submit an entry the contestant must print his answers in the proper spaces, cut out the area enclosed by dotted lines and attach it securely to a 2-cent postcard. No entries will be accepted if they are in envelopes. Entries for Puzzle No. 46 must bear a Tuesday, April 23 postmark (or before). No entries received after that time whether mailed or delivered by hand, will be declared eligible. The Press is not responsible for entries lost or delayed in the mail.

4. Sorry, telephone calls or mail concerning details of the contest cannot be answered or acknowledged.

5. The Pontiac Press will award a cash prize of $100 a week to the winner of each weekly POT-O-GOLD contest. If more than one winning answer is received the prize will be divided equally among the winners. If any week or weeks should pass without any winners, the prize will be added weekly until a winning solution is submitted.

6 Winners will be awarded an extra cash bonus of $25 each if they are Pontiac Press subscribers of record on the day winners are announced. Only one such bonus can be awarded to each prize-winner no matter how many weekly prizes may accumulate.

7. Each week's puzzle will be published Monday Wednesday and Friday until the contest's end. Either or all will be considered as official entry blanks.

8. Winners and correct solutions will be announced each Friday of the week following individual contests. Official keeper of answers will be Frederick C. Ziem, prosecutor for Oakland County. Only the General Features Corp., originators of the puzzles, will know the solutions until after each contest is over. Answers will be delivered to the Press judges by Mr. Ziem after the final deadline

9 There is only one correct solution to the POT-O-GOLD puzzle and only that correct answer can win. The decision of the judges is final and all contestants agree to abide by the judges' decision. All entries becoming the property of The Pontiac Press and none can be returned

10. Completed puzzles must be addressed to POT-O-GOLD, POST OFFICE BOX 58, Pontiac, Michigan. Winners will be notified either by telephone or in the mails.

Bob Considine Says:

Children Are Fickle With Ambition

ALLENHURST, N.J. (INS) — Has any parent ever truly known what his child wanted to be? Indeed, what child has known? And, for that matter, what adult? Chaplin wanted to be Hamlet, then Khrushchev.

We've got a kid, raised in New York, who never saw a cow until he was 10 (by a gross oversight there is none of these rare monsters in the New York zoos) and yet he was determined through most of those years to become a farmer.

Then one summer he got a job as an indoor aviator on the America, running the elevator of that ship, and the rolling fields of his vision and ambition turned to wastes of waves and a yearning for the seaman's life.

Now—inscrutibly—he is taking a sales course; plans some day to write. ("Not your kind of stuff, Pop. Novels about life.")

★ ★ ★

There's another boy whose solitary ambition appears to be to survive his first year in a military school, take off his uniform, put on a pair of shorts, drop his little boat in Deal Lake, and let a willful world go to hell.

GREAT DECISIONS

Over the past three months the little girl has solemnly and successively announced her decision to become 1) a nun, 2) a nurse, 3) a ballet dancer, 4) a great actress, and 5) a mother of a large family. It is conceivable that other paths will beckon before she is nine.

★ ★ ★

The other boy speaks of unnerving things like space travel, and holds himself in position to move in any direction. Like certain stocks, he is fluid.

It seems modestly certain, however, that he inherited little of his mother's reportorial acumen. Either that, or he's a student of the new vogue for understatement.

Sample:

Fond parent (arriving home and noting progress in a small doodlebug car the boy has been building for weeks) — Hi, Denny.

Dennis — (busy) — Oh . . . hello there. (The name slipped him.)

F.P. — Where's Mrs. Haller? (longtime family friend)

Dennis — She's out.

F.P. — Yes, I see. Where out is she?

Dennis — Where? Oh, the hospital.

F.P. — The hospital! Who, what, where, how, why . . .?

Dennis — Why? Oh, on account of the wreck.

F.P. — Gurgle, sputter, where, when, who, why, what, how?

Dennis — She was on the way to the dentist's when this guy cut her off and she had to hit a parked car, kerplunk. They had to take some stitches in her forehead. Five stitches. Her car's all beat up.

TERRIBLE, TERRIBLE!

F.P. — This is terrible. Terrible. But how did you know all this if she hasn't returned from the hospital?

Dennis — How? The ambulance took me, too.

★ ★ ★

F.P. — Who, how, where, what, when, why . . .?

Dennis — I forgot to tell you. I was in the car, too.

F.P. — Gasp, grunt, snort, shudder . . .

Dennis — What're you getting so excited about? I told you the whole story. Besides, Dr. Winder says it isn't so much.

F.P. — (afraid to ask) — What, which, whatever, whichever . . .?

Dennis — My knee. Didn't I tell you? (He displayed a bandaged joint, then helped revive fond parent who had fainted more from frustration than fright.)

As for the doodlebug, which was built under tense security conditions right across the street from the Allenhurst Police Headquarters, somebody ratted.

★ ★ ★

Officer Jimmy Newman walked into the secret assembly plant the other day and caught the designer red-handed, the same color as he had painted the infernal machine and parts of the walls and floor of the garage.

A boy's dream of driving a machine of his own handiwork, at the modest pace permitted by a lawnmower's motor and baby carriage tires, collapsed in dust.

The officer took the wheel of the doodlebug, watched by a pair of large blue eyes that may have filmed, sat down on the contraption, started the motor, and drove it slowly down the garage runway and back.

"You did a good job," he said. "Now just keep it off the street, and I'll show you a good quiet place—uptown—where you can drive it to your heart's content."

Nobody can now ever say an unkind word about a cop in the presence of Dennis Joel Considine, boy doodlebugger.

Denmark claims to have vaccinated a greater percentage of its people—90 per cent between nine months and 40 years of age—against polio than any other country, Copenhagen reports.

Barbed Wire Separates Shrines of Holy Land

(Editor's Note: Tension between Jewish Israel and Arab Jordan make it impossible for Christian pilgrims to follow Christ's footsteps from the Last Supper to the Crucifixion. Here is a report on divided Jerusalem at Easter, 1957, last in a series on famous sites of the Holy Land.)

By WILTON WYNN

JERUSALEM (AP)—On the night of His crucifixion, Jesus and His apostles gathered in an upper room in Jerusalem for their last supper together. After the meal, Jesus walked outside the city to the lower slopes of the Mount of Olives and waited His inevitable betrayal and arrest.

Today barbed wire, guns, and a hundred yards of no-man's-land prevent anyone walking from that upper room to the Mount of Olives. The site of the last supper is on the Israeli side of Jerusalem, while the Mount of Olives is on the Arab side.

UNEASY TRUCE

On either side of the no-man's-land dividing the holy city are armed sentries, ready to blaze away at the slightest provocation. Jewish Israel and Arab Jordan have been a state of war since 1948, with only an uneasy armistice silencing the guns on either side.

This state of tension has made it almost impossible for pilgrims and travelers from the United States to visit the holy land.

At the time this was written, American travelers were still forbidden by the State Department to visit Israeli or Jordan because of the security problem.

Aside from the travel ban, the divided state of the city makes it difficult for pilgrims to retrace the footsteps of Christ during the events of the first Easter.

Before the 1948 Arab-Israeli war, a pilgrimage from the Latin convent inside the old city went to the Cenacle, site of the last supper, every year on Maundy Thursday. Because of the division of the city, this pilgrimage is no longer possible.

Events of the last supper still are commemorated, however, by Christian communities on the Arab side of the line.

The Greek Orthodox hold a spectacular service every Wednesday before Easter in the courtyard of the Church of the Holy Sepulchre.

On a raised platform in the courtyard sit 12 men representing the apostles. The Orthodox patriarch—acting as Christ's earthly representative—washes the feet of each man, re-enacting Jesus' washing of His apostles' feet at the last supper.

When Jesus walked from the upper room to the Mount of Olives, He had to walk almost the length of the city of Jerusalem and out through the Golden Gate on the east. He then had to pass over the Kidron Valley to reach the Garden of Gethsemane on the lower slopes of the Mount of Olives.

TREES STILL STANDING

Inside the Garden of Gethsemane today stand olive trees so old they must have formed part of the grove where Jesus prayed on the night of His betrayal. The "Church of All Nations" inside the garden covers an altar of natural rock. Tradition says this was the rock on which Jesus prayed "not My will but Thine be done."

On the evening of Maundy Thursday, Jesus' hour of agony is commemorated by an impressive service called "the hour of silence."

On Good Friday, pilgrims from around the world join to take up the tragic story in a procession following the way of the cross—the path Jesus walked from the time of His trial before Pilate until He was placed in the tomb. This sorrowful walk begins just inside St. Stephens Gate and winds through the narrow, flagstoned streets of Old Jerusalem to the Church of the Holy Sepulchre.

The procession stops at each of 14 "stations of the cross," where a sermon is preached in the language of the group. Each station marks a dramatic moment in the way of the cross, including the places where Jesus fell under the weight of the cross. During this procession some of the pilgrims usually carry heavy crosses like that on which Jesus was crucified.

HE WAS HERE — This is the famed "Via Dolorosa" in Jerusalem, where each Good Friday pilgrims retrace Christ's route to Calvary. This point is just beyond the spot where tradition says Simon of Cyrene took the cross from the exhausted Jesus.

The procession ends inside the Church of the Holy Sepulchre, an aged structure covering the traditional site of Calvary and the tomb.

The procession climbs a flight of stone stairs to the site of the crucifixion. Here a glass case covers a bit of the rock of the original hill of the execution. A huge crack in the stone is said to have been caused by the earthquake that rocked the earth as Jesus breathed His last.

On the evening of Good Friday a solemn burial service is held in this church. A statue of Jesus is taken from a cross on Calvary and placed on the stone of unction, a marble slab near the entrance of the church where traditions say Jesus' body was anointed for burial. Weeping women fall prostrate and kiss the stone as the body is lifted and taken inside a small chapel under the main dome of the church.

PILGRIM'S GOAL

Inside this little chapel, with massive candlesticks on either side of the entrance, is the Holy Sepulchre, the goal of Christian pilgrims since the Fourth Century. Little is left of the original sepulchre, because most of the rock has been chipped away over the centuries. A marble slab covers the area where Jesus' body is said to have lain.

After Jesus' body was placed in the grave and the rolling stone over the door sealed, His disciples must have suffered the depths of despair.

And even after they saw the empty tomb, there were still doubts; some wondered if the body had been stolen.

This period of despair is commemorated in a unique service on the roof of the church by a group of Ethiopian monks. Called "the search for the body of Christ," this service involves a mournful march around the rotunda of the church, with tom toms beating slowly under the Pascal moon.

HE IS RISEN

When the words are read from the Bible "He is not here, for He is risen," the group breaks into wild rejoicing.

The most spectacular Easter service is called "The Miracle of the Holy Fire," an age-old Easter ritual symbolizing the resurrection of Christ. Once actually considered a miracle, this ritual involves handing a flame from inside the Holy Sepulchre through a hole in the side. Waiting outside are thousands of pilgrims, most of them holding candles, tapers and lamps.

The holy fire, symbolizing the risen Christ, is passed from candle to candle and like a wave of flame spreads over the thousands who pack the church.

Many oriental Christians light little kerosene lamps with the holy fire and keep them burning throughout the coming year.

LIGHT IS SPREAD

Runners take lighted candles from the holy fire and carry them to churches in other parts of Palestine. In the centuries past, the fire was taken to churches as far away as Athens and Alexandria, symbolizing the spread of the gospel to the ends of the earth.

By special arrangement, runners take the flame across no-man's-land, to churches on the Israeli side of the line.

When this symbol of the resurrection arrives on the Israeli side, the Easter cycle has been completed—from the upper room on the Israeli side to events on the Arab side, and back.

The fact that even war cannot prevent the spread of the holy fire from one country to another perhaps has a deep significance to the simple people of the holy land today. Perhaps this means that there still is hope they may see the end of the conflict which has divided their land, that the day may yet come when their swords and spears will be beaten into plowshares and pruning-hooks and "when nation shall not rise up against nation, neither shall they know war any more."

Leads Court Attack on Scandal Articles

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — Atty. Jerry Giesler, courtroom representative of many of Hollywood's celebrated citizens, says he's got a new job—leading filmland's battle against scandal magazines.

Giesler disclosed that fellow lawyers have asked him to head a legal committee formed to protect Hollywood celebrities whose names appear in such publications.

Giesler has filed suits totaling 10 million dollars against Confidential magazine on behalf of Robert Mitchum, Lizabeth Scott, Doris Duke and other clients. He said the magazine apparently is immune to legal attack in California because it doesn't actually do business here.

The new committee will press for legislation permitting the prosecution of such magazines in California on libel complaints.

Jam Jammed Traffic

TERRE HAUTE, Ind. (AP)—Police needed a wash cloth instead of a first aid kit for this one. An excited truck driver telephoned when he saw a small boy beside U.S. 40 west of Terre Haute with his face covered with blood. Police found it was plum jam—not blood.

Coin Flip Settles Who Gets $2,000,000 Policy

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — A flip of a coin decided who got a 2.5 million dollar insurance policy on Dayton public schools after two firms submitted identical bids.

Richard Shaman of the Goldswig Brothers Agency called "heads" while Cyrus Watson of Dayton Insurance Service chose "tails." "Heads" won.

Drugs May Stop Heart Attacks

Show Ability to Prevent Artery Plugs, Causing Coronary Disease

CHICAGO (UP) — Drugs holding promise of preventing heart attacks now are in a second stage of testing, scientists reported today.

They have passed their first test on animals. The second step is trials on human tissues.

★ ★ ★

They are chemicals which in animals show ability to prevent or dissolve the artery plugs causing heart attacks. One class of these drugs is salts of vanadium, a heavy metal.

WORK DESCRIBED

The work was described to the Federation of American Societies of Experimental Biology by Doctors Daniel L. Azarnoff, George L. Curran and William P. Williamson of the University of Kansas Medical Center.

★ ★ ★

Heart attacks come because arteries supplying blood to the heart machine become narrowed or blocked by plugs of fatty material which you get in many foods, and which your body also makes.

Feeding vanadium salts to animals has depressed natural production of cholesterol, Dr. Curran and associates have reported. The vanadium drugs also apparently could dissolve away some plugs which already had formed.

★ ★ ★

A next question is whether they could reduce cholesterol in humans safely.

The Kansas researchers today told of making such tests on some types of human tissue which produce cholesterol.

Normal brain tissue doesn't manufacture cholesterol, they said. But they find some types of brain tumors do make it.

★ ★ ★

So bits of brain tumors removed during surgery are kept alive in test tubes. With this setup, various drugs can be added to learn how effective they are in stopping the manufacture of cholesterol.

Want Coffee Breaks Written Into Contract

PHILADELPHIA (UP) — Carenters in the Philadelphia area are now trying to make legal what lots of other workers have been doing for years. To wit — the coffee break.

Along with increased wages, they're asking contract language speciying 10 minutes for java at 10 a.m. every working day.

The Federal Mediation Service has stepped into the dispute in hopes of averting a strike which could tie up all nonhome building in a five-county area of southeastern Pennsylvania.

Youths Appreciate Deeds of Pastor

WARWICK, R.I. (UP)—More than 200 youthful residents of Warwick appreciate all the good deeds done for them by the Rev. William P. Gilooly, assistant pastor of St. Peter's Catholic Church.

The youngsters estimate the priest spent $6,000 on 120,000 ice cream cones in the last 12 years. The priest also directs baseball, basketball and bowling leagues and takes youngsters to the beach.

A petition bearing 207 youthful signatures was presented to the City Council last night to name a new street "Gillooly Avenue."

The council will act at the next meeting.

MIT Discloses Secret Invention

Scientists Able to Direct Craft or Missile to Spot Designated; Use Gyro

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (UP)—Scientists at Massachusetts Institute of Technology have unveiled a heretofore secret invention which they say can guide any craft or missile to any specified spot on earth, free from enemy interference.

The invention, called "Inertial Guidance," already has flown a B29 bomber from Boston to Los Angeles.

The MIT scientists said, in unveiling inertial guidance yesterday, that it operates without magnetic compass, radio or radar and without a glimpse of the earth, the sun or the stars. They said it needs no electronic signal or radar beam and therefore can't be jammed by enemy aparatus.

★ ★ ★

The developers explained that the heart of the system is a completely free - floating gyroscope sealed in a little four-inch cylinder about the size of a tomato can. They added that the extremely complicated mechanism always remains aimed in a fixed position in relation to the universe independent of the earth's motion. They said it can't be affected by other natural phenomena such as weather, sunspots and magnetic influences or polar flights.

★ ★ ★

The gyro wheel, spinning at 12,000 revolutions per minute, floats in a fluid and pivots on virtually frictionless sapphire bearings. The wheel is described as "a major breakthrough in the field of gyro technology." The scientists indicated it might be of very great importance in flight through outer space.

The system is being applied to flight and fire control as well as navigation. The MIT scientists have developed military applications for all three uses.

Legislators' Wives Visit U.S. Farm

Learn About Home and Garden Study in Beltsville, Md.

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON — Some 38 congressional wives left home before their husbands one day recently piled into a big orange bus, and were off on a junket of their own.

They were heading for the Agricultural Research Center at Beltsville, Md., 15 miles from the capital, to bone up on another government operation.

Like most of the lawmakers' wives, they take time out of their busy life as homemakers and hostesses to learn all they can about points of interest around the capital, not only to help their husbands, but also their consituents.

In the human nutrition and home economics research branch where studies are made of the usefulness and economy of food, fabric, and other goods and services from the consumer standpoint, they took home a wealth of ideas.

What intrigued them most was the energy-saving kitchen.

Though designed specifically to cut down reaching, walking and standing for the homemaker who must conserve energy because of chronic illness, or advancing age, the kitchen was something even the youngest and healthiest wanted in their own homes.

SIT TO WORK

"My husband should see this," more than one exclaimed, especially after observing the arrangements which make it possible for a woman to sit while she works — even while setting the table!

Equally interesting to the women were the things the test-tube boys were doing to produce better vegetables, fruits and flowers.

They saw how a new chemical makes plangs grow faster, bigger and produce more flowers; how different nutrients can produce different colors in hydrangeas, for instance; how new varieties of azaleas are propagated, including one that creeps on the ground; and how efforts are being made to control plant diseases.

The women also got a big fill-in from experts on the breeding and marketing of poultry.

After looking over specimens of the fine small white turkeys and new types of broilers they got hungry and called time out for lunch.

★ ★ ★

Before returning home many women collected reams of printed material on such things as housing, detergents, canning, electrical equipment. One woman said she'd save this "to read if my husband gets defeated next year."

Caused by Stretching of Skin

Time Will Dim Overweight Scars

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Q. "I have some little thin white scars from losing weight too fast. Is there anything I can do to remove them?"

A. The scars did not come from losing weight but from being overweight. The skin actually was stretched. I do not know of any way to get rid of these. Time will dim them.

Q. "Can you tell me if a rinse will help cover or blend gray hair with the rest of my brown hair? I would rather do that than permanently dye my hair. Is there a rinse made of vegetable color?"

A. Yes, there are several very good vegetable rinses and if you do not have too much grey hair, these cover and blend most satisfactorily.

Q. "I am 15 years old, 5 feet 4 inches tall and weigh 119 pounds. My bust measures 35½, waist 27, and hips 36 inches. My mother will not permit me to diet. Is there anything else I can do to lose weight? I think I am very fat."

A. Your mother is correct. You are exactly the right weight. You would not be nearly so good looking if you lost.

Q. "Please tell me if I am overweight. My mother cooks rich foods which I cannot resist. I am 5 feet 1 inch tall and weigh 108 pounds. My bust measures 34, waist 24, and hips 35 inches. Should I lose at the waist?"

A. You are not overweight and you do not need to lose at the waist. Your measurements are just about perfect.

Q. "I am 15 years old, 5 feet tall and weigh 97-98 pounds. Am I underweight? My mother thinks I am too young to worry about such things but I think that now is the time to prepare myself for being grown up, with good posture and so forth."

A. I agree with you. Now is the time to improve any defects you have. It is easier now than it will be later on. You are on the light side and should gain about 8 or 10 pounds.

Q. "I am 21 years old, 5 feet 6 inches tall and weigh 110 pounds. I have just had my second baby (five months ago). My bust measures 33, waist 26, and hips 35 inches. I simply cannot seem to get my waist back to normal. I gained quite a bit of weight myself during this pregnancy. Is this permanent? Would exercise help?"

A. You certainly are not overweight now. You should gain from 10 to 15 pounds. Your larger waist is temporary if you will get to work and snap those stretched muscles back into place with exercise. I suggest a few abdominal and waist exercises.

★ ★ ★

If you (or any reader) would like to have these exercises, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 2 "Abdominal Exercises" and leaflet No. 6 "Don't Go to Waist!" Address Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Tomorrow: "Offers Three Exercises to Relax, Soothe You."

This exercise will reduce the abdomen, also will help you develop a strong abdominal wall. Push the books up as high as you can; pull your stomach muscles in, lowering the books. Repeat, making the abdominal wall go up and down.

Well-Appreciated Wives Don't Seek Outside Jobs

Mates Should Let Homemakers Know They Are Doing Good Work

By RUTH MILLETT

Memo to men: Want to make sure your wife isn't bitten by the job-bug?

★ ★ ★

place is in the home, you can keep your wife happy being a full-time homemaker if you really want to. All you have to do is—

Show your pride in the job she is doing instead of taking her contributions for granted.

Make her a business partner. A lot of wives go to work just because they are tired of asking a man for money or hearing him complain every time a bill comes in.

★ ★ ★

Get her out of the house at least two evenings a week. She'll be far more content to stay at home during the day if she can look forward to a little social life at night.

WANTS TO HELP

Talk to her about your job. A woman doesn't need a career if she feels she is helping her husband get ahead.

★ ★ ★

Let her know you think she is a good mother. She isn't likely to run out on a job if she feels she is doing it better than anyone else could.

Take pride in your home and keeping it fixed up. If you want a woman to be happy staying at home, it is just common sense to help her make the home as attractive as possible.

It is hard to sell women in general on the importance of being full-time homemakers. But almost any man who wants to can sell his wife on the idea.

Travelers Return for Easter

Special Services Save Business

By ANNE HEYWOOD

In a competitive society full of overcrowded fields, you can either throw up your hands and toss away your ambition, or you can dream up a really unusual plus which will help you overcome all competition.

★ ★ ★

That's what a couple I know have done, and their post-retirement business is prospering.

Since they had no family, Hank and Isabel both worked for years.

Isabel was an executive secretary and Hank was an accountant. They both liked their jobs and planned, when they retired, to set up an office-services business.

Isabel would do the stenography and typing, and Hank would handle bookkeeping and tax work.

SCRAPED ALONG

They started that way and they scraped along, doing a little business but not much.

Then Isabel noticed that most of the letters she did for her customers were pretty dull.

The sales letters didn't sell and none of them really had much zip. She began suggesting improvements.

She was soon able to set up a special service, at a good fee, for creating sales letters. Her letters were so good and brought such results that she now does very nicely indeed.

At the same time, Hank was experimenting in his line. Too many of the bills he sent in behalf of his customers were long overdue.

He decided that the doctors and dentists and small businessmen he worked for deserved to have their bills paid faster. He tried sending a few slick collection letters, with good results, and now he is a specialist.

Both Hank and Isabel have figured out a way to beat the competition and have fun doing it.

They have three people working for them, now, two stenographers and a bookkeeper. Hank specializes in collection letters and Isabel in her sales letters.

"And," Hank told me, "Isabel sends out sales letters to get us new business, and I send out collection letters to bring in the money. We can't lose!"

Most of us spend a lot of time contemplating how green the grass is on the other side, when all the time there's a gold mine waiting to be discovered right in our own backyard!

Asks About Small Town Manners

Should Newcomer Give Refreshments to Callers?

By EMILY POST

A reader tells me: "In another month we will be moving to our new house which will be in a small town. I understand the people are very friendly and usually call to welcome a new neighbor.

"As I have always lived in a big city I would like to know what is expected of me when they come to call. Should I show them through our new house, do I serve refreshments? I would very much appreciate your help on this matter."

Answer: It is true that you will find every guest eager to see your new house and it would be entirely proper to take them through it if it is in sufficient order to do so. Unless you are used to serving tea every day it is not necessary to offer them any refreshments.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I would like to know if, as the father of the bride, it would be proper for me to wear a dark blue business suit to give my daughter away when the other men in the wedding party are wearing tuxedos. I just cannot see myself in a tuxedo."

Answer: A tuxedo is correct at an evening wedding, but if you are not accustomed to wearing evening clothes and will feel out of place in them, a plain dark blue business suit with a stiff white shirt and wing collar will be near enough not to clash with the clothes of the other men.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I have several friends who never come to visit me without bringing me a present. It is very nice of them to do this and I do appreciate their thoughtfulness, but it is becoming embarrassing and I do wish they wouldn't do it. Will you please tell me how I can tactfully discourage this practice?"

Answer: Simply say, "You are much too generous to give me such lovely presents, but please don't do it any more." Then if they continue to bring you presents, accept them with the pleasure they are intended to bring.

Fringe is everywhere on the new Paris fashions. It goes around collars and lapels and shows up on belts and cuffs, too.

Imagination and Courage Needed in Decorations

Truly American Home Furnishings Now Emerging

NEW YORK (INS) — A New York fabrics expert predicted today that the next few years will produce "the first truly American group of home furnishings."

Peggy Fuller, a fabric expert, said furniture designers of the future will be less influenced by the past and by the designs produced by other countries the world over.

In a speech before The Fashion Group, Inc., Miss Fuller declared:

"Looking ahead, I feel that the next 25 years will produce more skilled people in the design and decorating and allied fields—people who will have greater imaginations and the courage to launch a real American group of furniture."

The decorator said great strides have been made in home furnishings during the past 25 years and that opportunities for women have resulted in their general acceptance in the field.

"The opportunity for women in Furniture in the years to come," she added, "will be even greater thatn it has been in the past."

★ ★ ★

In tracing the strides made in the furniture field, Miss Fuller began with the late 1940's when all decorating was done either by professional decorators or the homeowner who had a very small primarily overly decorated bedroom and dining room 'suites' and three piece mohair sets for the living room."

'MODERN' STARTED COLD

She said 1931 was the time when coldness and lack of color predominated in the American home and there were references to the "modernistic manner."

"1932," she said, "brought slightly larger accessories, a little better scaling and much simpler line and detail. But the decor generally was still cold, severe and expensive."

Two years later marked the beginning of "tubular modern" and 1935 was the beginning of the one-room apartment displays along with light woods, severe furniture styles and fussy accessories.

In 1937 began a more gracious line in modern decor but the underscaled accessories and stiff arrangement of furniture were still present. By 1940 American homes were overflowing with big red roses, venetian blinds and red and white or green and white color schemes.

"In 1950," Miss Fuller declared, "we rapidly progressed to better scaling of lamps, pictures and mirrors. Much more attention was paid to details and color was more widely used. The decorator and the homeowner experimented with the blending of many different periods. This was the real beginning of a better understanding in the use of color, texture and scale.

★ ★ ★

"These 25 years," she concluded, "encompass the beginning of the real machine age when manufacturers thought all they had to do was mass produce and sell at inexpensive prices and the plastic age which is now at its peak and where things are molded in everything imaginable."

Preserve Beauty of Leather Surface

Accessories, Old or New, Need Careful Treatment

The following tips from the Luggage and Leather Goods Institute apply to conditioning of both old and new accessories:

Before using leather items: Lightly rub the entire surface with a dry cake of toilet soap, or work in a fine film of undiluted saddle soap; buff lightly.

Smooth leather (brown or tan): Saddle soap, thorough drying, paste wax or neutral shoe creme. Lighten travel-weary leather with the juice of half a lemon in a cup of water; darken to match up stains with several coats of lemon oil.

Colored leathers: Milk soap suds, gentle rubbing, paste wax when dry.

Alligator leather: Saddle soap and paste wax.

Rawhide leather: soap; fine steel wool for deep stains. Reseal leather with clear shellack, then wax.

Coated fabrics: Soap and water, 2 tablespoons of ammonia in a pint of water removes heavy soil. Liquid linoleum wax as a polish.

Plastic: Soap and water; liquid linoleum wax as a polish if desired.

Miscellaneus: Steel wool for scratches in fiberglas; special metal cleansers for aluminum and metal (see your hardware dealer).

Conbinations: Treat each material separately as outlined.

Hardware: Avoid oil; it may seep through to the lining. Steel wool for rust or scratches; reseal with lacquer or clear nail polish.

Tip on storage: Avoid extremes of temperature and humidity; allow air to circulate; dry wet items away from heat; clean each piece before putting it away.

Observers Save Many Lives, PTA Is Told

W. W. Oak of the U. S. Weather Bureau spoke of the work of the ground observers corps at the Thursday meeting of Wisner School PTA.

"The ground observers report the exact location of a funnel shaped thundercloud to the U. S. Weather Bureau, and the resulting warnings sent out by newscasts save thousands of lives during the tornado season," Mr. Oak stated.

Dr. Otto Hufziger, assistant superintendent of schools in charge of building and business, explained safety measures taken by the schools.

Mrs. Clifford Neville and Mrs. James R. Turnbull, assisted by Mrs. Edward Stafney and Mrs. Ephriam Wiley, arranged the social hour. Mrs. Arthur Clarkson and Mrs. Leslie Bell presided at the tea table.

May Lyon Unit Meets in Home

Mrs. Robert Boyce was hostess to members of May Lyon Group of First Congregational Church Wednesday evening in her home on Dwight avenue.

Welcomed as new members were Mrs. James Stelt and Mrs. Carl Bolton.

During the program portion of the meeting, Mrs. Robert Haskins presented an article on "How Early Does Discipline Begin?" Mrs. Robert Clift also participated on the program.

Paris shows blouses sewn to their own skirts. For instance: A flowered chiffon blouse is paired with a thick woolen skirt chez Pierre Cardin.

Garden Club Preparing May Show

Committee chairmen for the annual May Flower Show were named at the Wednesday meeting of the Better Home and Garden Club. The group met at the YWCA, with Mrs. George Alexander conducting the meeting.

Mrs. Irl Williams is exhibit chairman for the show, being held May 25 in Pontiac Federal Savings and Loan building. Mrs. Harry Armstrong is handling entries and Mrs. John Cowe is serving as clerk.

Publicity is under the direction of Mrs. Harry Stowell, and hospitality, Mrs. George Boulton. The guest book will be handled by Mrs. Lulu Luby.

Mrs. H. B. Dickie is chairman of the bazaar; Mrs. J. L. Slaybaugh has charge of the tea table, with Mina Shell handling properties.

Speaker at the Wednesday meeting was Wayne Siefert of the Oakland County Agricultural Extension group. He told of the various kinds of soils, describing them and telling of their uses and worth in the growth of plants.

Try Reducing Flabby Arms by Exercise

Diet is not the answer to a heavy, flabby upper arm. Exercise is.

Oddly enough, even very slim people and girls in their twenties tend to develop this upper arm. It's far from pretty in a sleeveless sheath or a bathing suit.

And it's a lifelong problem. Once you've exercised it back into trim lines, you must continue the exercise or the muscles will return to their former flabby state.

Here's a simple and effective exercise to tighten and firm the muscles of the upper arm: stand with arms lifted straight out in front of you at shoulder height. Place the palms against a wall and keep your feet about a foot away from the wall so that your body is on a slant.

Now let yourself lean slowly toward the wall by bending your elbows. Then straighten your arms slowly so that you return to your original position.

Do this 25 times a day at the start; then work up to 50.

Shadow plaid is a popular variation in spring and summer suits for men. This lightweight worsted model is in shades of brown.

If Kept Sparkling Clean

Gloves Give Sparkle to Spring Outfits

EAST LANSING — Gloves can give a spark to your new spring outfit — if they are kept sparkling clean.

Most leather gloves are handwashable, but be sure to check the label to make sure. If they can be washed, it tells that there is a right way to do it. This will insure their staying new looking.

First, use rich, lukewarm suds and wash the gloves on your hands. The exception to this rule of washing on your hands is for chamois and doeskin which should be washed off the hands.

Because leather is very fragile when it is wet, treat the gloves very gently. Rinse them in cool water and remove them from your hands by rolling them from the wrist to the fingers. Then knead out the excess moisture by rolling them in a Turkish towel, starting with the finger tips and rolling toward the wrist.

Next, unroll the gloves immediately and blow into them to puff them into shape. Work them into shape and lay them on a dry towel. For best results dry the leather gloves indoors and away from excessive heat. When they have dried, they will tend to be stiff. Don't let this worry you. Just massage them gently with your fingers and the softness of the leather will come back.

Follow this washing procedure and follow it as soon as your gloves become soiled. They'll stay new looking longer.

Mrs. Ray Valentine Hostess to Group

Mrs. Ray Valentine of South Tilden avenue entertained members of Lakeshores Extension Group Wednesday evening. Mrs. John Martin presided at the meeting, and plans were made to attend the Extension Achievement Day May 2 at Oakland County Sportsman's Club.

Mrs. Kenneth Jones and Mrs. Kenneth Gilboe, project leaders, presented the program on "Accessories and Basic Dress."

Willard WCTU Meets for Luncheon

A cooperative luncheon was served members of Francis C. Willard WCTU when the group met Wednesday at the Church of the Brethren. Mrs. Leroy Shafer was hostess for the day.

Mrs. Ruth Mason was program chairman. Others taking part in the program were Mrs. Esther Dorey, Mrs. Shafer, Claudia and Carolyn Hardenburg.

Growing Older Is Fun to Actress Mary Astor, 52

By LEE BELSER

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Mary Astor is one woman who's not afraid to admit her age. She's 52!

"It doesn't do a woman a bit of good to lie about her age," the actress pointed out, "because no matter what she admits to, all her female friends will add 10 years!" two-score-and-twelve, says it's

Mary, still vitally attractive at much more interesting to confess your maturity.

"Just think of all the things you can talk about," she grinned, "the Charleston and the Black Bottom, Woodrow Wilson and Anna Pavlowa!

"It's a terrible strain," she added, "to lie about age because you always have to be remembering to forget. When you tell the truth you can be completely relaxed and say, 'now, back in 1920 when I was 14!' "

★ ★ ★

Mary admits she remembers the Charleston very well—also the St. Louis hop.

'WAY BACK, WHEN'

"And I saw Eleanora Duse and I remember William Gillette, the first Sherlock Holmes. And I remember seeing Marilyn Miller in "Sunny" and Helen Hayes in "Dear Brutus" and the out-of-town production of "What Price Glory."

"I even remember Armistice Day in the First World War," she exclaimed, "I was sitting on the steps of the Chicago Public Library. And I remember President Wilson and how my daddy hated him because he (my daddy) was a German and for the Kaiser."

The actress, who is almost as busy in television today as she wa when she was emoting with such heart throbs as Milton Sills, Richard Barthelmess and Thomas Meighan in the old silents, recalls the original version of "The Man Who Played God."

RECALLS EARLY ROLE

"In fact, I was in it," she said. "I played the little girl's role. George Arliss was the star and it was produced 42 years ago. You can still see it in a museum—I'm practically a museum piece myself!"

★ ★ ★

On April 25, Mary will again do "The Man who Played God," this time for NBC-TV and opposite Boris Karloff.

Busy as she is, she is taking time out to write her autobiography which she has tentatively entitled, "Lucille" (her real name).

"It's the study of a human being," she explained, "And not the juicy expose that everyone expects. The juice will be in there, but it will be in proper perspective."

★ ★ ★

The actress admitted that women sometimes have a hard time adjusting to the creeping paralysis of age. The cure for this, she believes, is to catch up on some psychology.

"Growing older can be fun," she insisted, "it's ridiculous to put such a premium on youth!"

Newest petticoats (and among the prettiest) for teenagers are made of chiffon draped harem style. Dreamy on the dance floor.

Party Roll Filled With Cream

Mrs. Rath Combines Chocolate Cake With Orange Sauce

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

A jelly roll-like cake is today's recipe. Made with chocolate and filled with whipped cream, it is served with an orange sauce. This unusual party dessert can be made ahead of time.

Our recipe comes from Mrs. Donald Rath. She is the mother of two small boys, belongs to a child study group. Cooking, she says is her favorite occupation, with sewing and reading not far behind.

CHOCOLATE PARTY ROLL
By Mrs. Donald Rath

Chocolate Roll:

- 5 eggs, separated
- ½ teaspoon cream of tartar
- 1 cup sugar
- 4 tablespoons cocoa
- 4 tablespoons sifted flour
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon vanilla

Beat egg whites with cream of tartar until stiff. Gradually beat in ½ cup sugar. Add another half cup of sugar to egg yolks, beaten until thick and yellow. Sift dry ingredients together and add to yolks. Add vanilla. Carefully fold yolk mixture into egg white mixture.

Line shallow jelly roll pan with well-greased paper. Spread mixture, about ½ inch thick, and bake at 325 degrees for 20-25 minutes, or until surface springs back when touched lightly.

Quickly turn upside down on towel sprinkled with powdered sugar. Peel off paper gently and roll up. Cool in the towel.

Filling:

- 1 teaspoon unflavored gelatin
- 2 tablespoons cream or milk
- 1 pint whipping cream
- ½ cup sifted confectioners sugar
- 1½ teaspoons orange extract
- ½ teaspoon vanilla

Soften gelatin in cream or milk and dissolve over hot water. Beat cream stiff and beat in confectioner's sugar. Add gelatin and flavorings.

★ ★ ★

Unroll chocolate cake and fill. Roll up again carefully. Place on waxed paper and chill. Serve in slices with Orange Sauce.

Orange Sauce:

- 7 tablespoons cornstarch
- 2 cups sugar
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- ½ cup boiling water
- 1½ cups orange juice
- 4 tablespoons lemon juice
- 4 slightly beaten egg yolks
- 2 tablespoons rum or rum flavoring
- 2 tablespoons butter

Mix first three ingredients together. Add water and juices. Cook until thick. Remove from heat and slowly pour into egg yolks. Add flavoring and butter. Chill.

Accept Your Child's Imperfections

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Jimmy's mother called him upstairs.

When he came, she showed him streaks of tar on his bedspread. "Why did you put those skates on your bed?" she demanded. "How many times do you have to be told to leave them downstairs? Just how do you expect me to get that tar out of your bedspread?"

Jimmy said complainingly, "I didn't get it on the bedspread. I left my skates on the floor."

His mother felt a panicky sinking of the heart. Why couldn't Jimmy once take responsibility for making a mistake? What would be the end of this child if he didn't learn to acknowledge a fault—if he continued to evade all criticism by insisting he didn't deserve it?

The answer to these questions lies in her.

★ ★ ★

Jimmy can admit no mistake out of his conviction that she wants a perfect child. His evasion of any criticism is his effort to satisfy her wish—and assure her she's got one.

ONLY ONE WAY

If she wants him to learn to tolerate criticism, there's only one way to teach him. She must free him of his conviction that she wants a perfect child by showing him kindness when he behaves like an imperfect one.

To his attempt to present himself as a boy who could never dream of putting his skates on his bed, she must become able to say, "Ah, well—you'll be more careful hereafter. Now let's see if we can correct this mistake. I'll take the spread off the bed and you go downstairs and get out the cleaning fluid . . ."

Unfortunately parents of children who evade criticism find it almost impossible to treat their mistakes kindly.

This is because they are so impatient with their own.

When their child misbehaves, they think, "Oh, this is awful! I should have been able to make this child virtuous."

As they realize their obvious failure to produce the perfect child, they get madder and madder at him for reflecting discredit on them. Gradually, they can feel only resentment toward the child whose imperfect conduct exposes them to dreaded criticism.

★ ★ ★

If we are struggling with a child who resents criticism, the questions to ask ourselves are:

Why do I, too, fear criticism? Who gave me standards of accomplishment so relentless that I live in perpetual fear of failing them? Was it a person who loved me—or just someone who used me to reflect credit on him?

Beta Ball Chairmen Announced

Mrs. Bergemann Is General Chairman of May 17 Dance

Mrs. Ralph Bergemann is serving as general chairman of Beta Ball, being held May 17 at the Elks Temple.

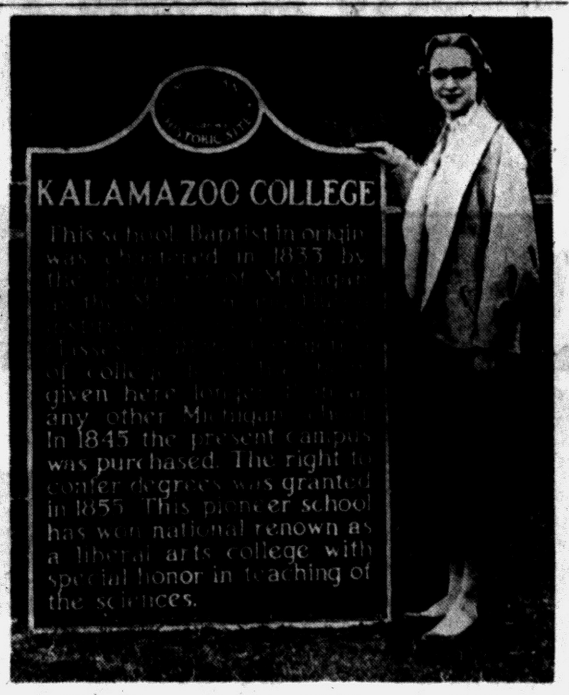

Other committee chairmen are Mrs. Donald Kaiser, tickets; Mrs. Ward Ross, publicity; Mrs. M. C. Worster, decorations; Mrs. Joseph Hiltz, music, and Mrs. Don White, music.

Announcement of plans for the ball was made at the Thursday meeting of Beta Chapter of Beta Theta Phi sorority. Mrs. Ward Cummings opened her home on Preston street for the evening meeting.

A ceiling projector, purchased with proceeds from the recent style show and card party sponsored by the chapter, will be presented to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Mrs. Duane Hamilton was appointed chairman of the annual banquet. Assisting with arrangements are Mrs. Robert Tedcastle and Mrs. Walter Terry.

Your hairstyle, while it must never "date" you, should flatter you. Same goes for your hat and you can wear both the fashionable bouffant hairdo and the larger hat if you remember to bring them forward to shield that large nose.

EASTER COLORING SERIES

5. The Easter Lily

The Friday before Easter Sunday is Good Friday, a solemn day observed in churches everywhere.

The lilies which will decorate the altars are already in place. While all the lovely spring flowers are used at Easter, the favorite symbol of the season is the beautiful lily with its bright crisp leaves and its pure shining flowers.

Here is an Easter lily in a church with a fine stained glass window. When you have colored the glass in rich, bright colors, the flower and its leaves will stand out clearly before the windows. Study the church windows in your home town. You will see that many pieces of multi-colored glass are put together with bands of lead to make a beautiful whole.

This picture should be colored and made a part of your Easter collection.

(Little Laura Fox, Kennewick, Washington, gets today's $10 award for this idea. Send yours in care of this newspaper. Violet Moore Higgins, AP Newsfeatures.)

Tomorrow: An Easter Surprise!

Ionia Jaycees Ask State School Aid

IONIA (AP) — The Ionia Junior Chamber of Commerce plans to shower Ionia County with 30,000 pamphlets from the air today urging that citizens "call, write or wire" legislators to support state school aid at the rate of $190 per pupil per year.

★ ★ ★

Sales tax collections have fallen below anticipation and state authorities have reported there will not be sufficient funds to meet a legislative-recommended rate of $190 per pupil per year.

★ ★ ★

A movement recently was inaugurated in the legislature to supplement sales tax funds so that state school aid would equal $185 per pupil, but the Ionia Jaycees contend this would be insufficient to prevent "drastic curtailment, especially in the fields of music and athletics."

A "bird flight route" linking West German and Danish railways by a high bridge over Fehmarn Sound is being advocated in Kiel.

Variety Show Entertains Best Pontiac High Fund-Raisers

By JACK HENDRICKSON

Pontiac Senior High School has finished the second week of its annual magazine campaign sponsored by the Student Council.

The campaign has stimulated an interest in who will dethrone "King" Beauchamp, if he is dethroned at all. Robert F. Beauchamp, chairman of the English Department, has emerged the victor in the past few campaigns.

One of the high points of interest to students in the all school project is the annual variety show. The 1957 Variety Show was given yesterday in the auditorium, with Garth Errington directing.

Errington is a senior at Michigan State University and is majoring in Speech Education.

★ ★ ★

Participating in the variety show were: Aaron Smith, Neil Smith, Tom Manning and James Edwards in a quartet called "The Montereys"; Phyllis Peters, "Pete Peters, the Cool Kat from Cadillac," gave a piano boogie-woogie routine; a duet by Diane Beach and Ruth Ann Tower; and Donna Chilvers with a pantomime of a popular record.

★ ★ ★

Judy Haroutian followed with a piano solo "Prelude in C Minor," by Rachmaninoff; a humorous monologue was done by Emmanuel Johnson; Eva McKee gave a pantomime; Sue Clark and Sherry Everett paced their tumbling act; and Shirley Hutchinson performed a Charleston ballet.

Singing "It All Depends on You" was Barbara Barnard; Kathy Fitzpatrick gave a pantomime; Patty Reese sang "I'll Take Romance;" and the "High Tones," which included George Mekras, Jack Hutchins, Ed Kent, Jerry Rigonan, and Bob Rgonan sang "Come and Go with Me."

Athletes of PHS were honored Tuesday evening at the 1956-57 Winter Sports Banquet. Winter sports include basketball, swmming and wrestling. Cheerleaders were also honored.

★ ★ ★

Art VanRyzin, varisty basketball coach, estimates over 140 were on hand to hear the guest speaker, Forest Anderson, basketball coach at Michigan State University.

Varsity and reserve awards were given by the coaches: Art VanRyzin, varsity basketball; Fred Zittel, junior varsity basketball; Ralph Grubb, sophomore basketball; Robert Boyce, swimming; and William Willson, wrestling. Julie O'Brien gave the Cheerleading awards.

"Say It With Music," the annual spring program of the PHS Vocal Dept. will be presented May 7, 9 and 10 in the high school auditorium. The vocal department organizations will be among the 700 vocalists.

A nautical backdrop will set the scene for the four different boys glee clubs, while they present songs and chanteys of the sea.

★ ★ ★

The boys' numbers will include "I Must Go Down to the Seas," "Roadways," "Sing Me a Chantey With a Yo-Heave-Ho," "The Sea," and "Roving."

"Stairway to the Stars," "Mountains," "Clouds," "Morning," and given by the eight girls' glee clubs. "Song of the Brook" will be Edward Banghart and Mrs. Doreen Voltmann will direct the combined glee clubs.

The A Capella Choir will use choral numbers by Antonio Lotti, Randall Thompson, and Healy Willan for their religious group. Broadway show tunes will be used for their secular portion of the program.

Mrs. Jean Smith and John Allshouse are supervising the production of prop scenery.

★ ★ ★

The PHS Band will present the 30th annual Spring Concert in the boys' gymn on April 29. Dale C. Harris, supervisor of instrumental music in the Pontiac Public Schools will start the concert at 8:15 p.m.

★ ★ ★

"His Honor," a march by Fillmore, will start the program, followed by the "North Sea Overture." A 1920 waltz from the operetta "High Jinks" will be contrasted with a 1950 waltz, taken from the "Suite of American Danes." The finale from "Death and Transfiguration" will be played.

★ ★ ★

A woodwind quintet, whose members are Donald Green, flute; Jim Shaw, oboe; Carolyn Beyer, clarinet; William Scribner, bassoon; and Gary Dalley, horn, will perform "The Sailor's Hornpipe" by Sowerly.

Also included on the program will be a Sousa march, "Manhattan Beach;" "Universal Judgment," a symphonic poem; the "Tontic Longo;" and "My Fair Lady."

On April 27, the band will enter the State Band Contest which will be held in Ann Arbor.

★ ★ ★

The PHS Band will play "Sounds of Peace" as a warm-up march. Next they will perform the required number for all AA class bands, "The North Sea Overture," by Ralph Herman.

★ ★ ★

For their selected number the band has chosen "The Finale of Death and Transfiguration."

Easter baskets were made at the recent Future Nurses Club. These baskets will be presented to various worthwhile organizations.

★ ★ ★

Numismatists of PHS will present a special program after school to students interested in either stamp or coin collecting. Mrs. Walter Ainsworth is adviser, with Melvin Sellers as president, and Jim Barton, vice president.

Easter Vacation Big News at Jr. Highs

Easter vacation were the magic words at area junior high schools this week. School activities slowed to a walk as students anticipated the holiday which begins today and continues until Wednesday.

Boys and girls at Eastern Junior High are happily anticipating a long Easter vacation holiday this weekend. Classes ceased yesterday not to resume again until next Wednesday. Teachers, however, will be back on the job Tuesday for "Professional Growth Day" training session.

On Thursday, the Music Dept., under the leadership of Margaret Snyder, Leonard Griffin and Mrs. Florine Tompkins presented a program of special Easter music. A special treat was a number by Joseph Davis, whose wife, Dawn, is one of Eastern's teachers. He sang "The Holy City."

Easterners are feeling justly proud of the showing made by their band at East Lansing last Saturday. The band received first division rating from all four judges at the state finals, Michigan School Band and Orchestra Assn.

On Monday, Eastern's guidance councelors met with sixth grade teachers of Longfellow, Central, Mark Twain, McConnell and Wilson Elementary Schools to discuss a testing program for sixth graders planning to enter Eastern next fall. A luncheon was served by Lois Walsh of the Homemaking Dept. assisted by six of her students.

Tornado instructions are being posted in all classrooms as requested by office of Civil Defense. In a recent tornado alert teachers and students were at their stations in a matter of minutes.

Members of the English Department are meeting with representatives of various book companies preliminary to adopting a new textbook for seventh, eighth, and ninth grades.

AT LINCOLN

The big news around Lincoln Junior High has been the Easter holiday which began Thursday after school and lasts until Wednesday, at 8:40 a.m. A lot of work has to be completed before June.

In keeping with the Easter theme, the members of Kitchen Kapers, a club sponsored by Bobbie Comparoni, has made Easter corsages for themselves and for their families and friends.

Jim Burke's amateur photographers have completed the pictures of the 9A home room students. The club members have taken portraits of each other and of their friends, and then retouch and develop their own films. Members have learned to use their own cameras well and have learned the intricate devices on many other cameras.

Leon and Bud Storm, father and son team, presented a most interesting assembly on one of Michigan's occupation, the raising and shearing of sheep. Jack Worthington, Oakland County 4H Club agent presented the demonstrators and explained the work of the 4-H Clubs. Bud Storm is one of the outstanding members of the East Orion 4-H Club.

Music, stage props, lights! Everyone makes way for the Spring concert for the public to be given on May 2, in the Lincoln auditorium.

Over 200 students will take part in this annual event featuring a newly organized seventh Grade Chorus. Sue Eckley, Julius Middledorf, and Jerry Smith are scheduling every spare moment to get ready for the big event.

The reading classes have been producing a weekly two-page paper called R-I-P, or Reading Improvement Press. Each week sees two new students getting experience as co-editors. This paper uses only original articles written by students. Pat Pennington and Gary Davis are editors for this week. Mildred Wiersema is the sponsor of the paper project.

AT WASHINGTON

Monday, the student body of Washington Junior High enjoyed tremendously the performance of the Ninth grade vocal group and the Boys' Glee Club.

The Ninth grade sang a variety of Easter and religious songs. Barbara Strang was the story teller, and Tassie Reigle and Carole Hughes each recited an Easter poem.

The students of Washington are looking forward to a three-day vacation from school on Good Friday, Monday and Tuesday. This rest is much appreciated as it is the only vacation between Christmas and summer vacation.

Thoughts Turn to Graduation

Easter Vacation Brings Term End to Fore in Students' Minds

As Easter vacation starts for area high school students, preparations for commencement, class trips and student elections were the main orders of business during the past week.

The Lake Orion High School is enjoying a short week with a spring vacation that started yesterday and includes today and Monday.

The annual Easter assembly was presented on Tuesday by the vocal department with spring and sacred songs being presented.

The Future Teachers Club is making final plans for the State FTA Convention at St. Mary's Lake in Battle Creek which they will attend April 26-28. Mrs. Donno Linbahm will accompany the members.

Plans continue for the Spring Band Concert on May 7 by the junior and senior bands.

The Sadie Hawkins Day booths are evidently planned as last minute surprises but May 11 is a red letter day at the school.

AT WALLED LAKE

Dennis McClelland and Kay Armstrong, Walled Lake High juniors, were elected president and vice president of the student council recently. They will take office next fall at which time a secretary and treasurer will be elected from the home room representatives.

AT WEST BLOOMFIELD

Honor students of the West Bloomfield High graduating class were announced this week by Donald Weed, prinripal.

The valedictorian of the class is Eleanor Arno, 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Arno, 5111 Commerce Rd., Orchard Lake Village.

Eleanor attended Royal Oak schools through junior high school. She attended St. Frederick of Pontiac for the 9th and 10th grades, entering West Bloomfield in the 11th grade.

She has followed an academic course with special interest in English. Eleanor expects to enter the University of Michigan in the fall. Her hobby is vocal music. She is a member of the National Honor Society, of the Girls Triple Trio, of the year book staff and is president of the student council. Her average is 3.81.

The salutatorian with a 3.79 average is Glen Paine, son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy R. Paine, 1851 Sylvan Glen, Keego Harbor. Glen started his schooling at the Roosevelt school in Keego Harbor.

He has followed the academic courses and will enter Michigan State University, having chosen engineering for his future education.

Glen was vice president of his 10th grade home room, president of the 11th grade class and is vice president of the senior group. His hobbies are fishing and bowling.

Other honor students are Patricia Dunaway, Leon Vlaeminck, Betty McPeek, Shirley Grank, Ruth Alix, Sandra Long and Steve Begle. They all have a B or better average.

AT CLARKSTON

David Kissner, a senior at Clarkston High School, has been awarded a certificate of merit for his high performance in the Merit Scholarship program.

This is a distinction won by about one-half of one per cent of the secondary school seniors of the United States.

If sufficient funds had been available David would have been awarded a merit scholarship. David will be presented his certificate at the senior assembly in June.

WTHS Slates Street Dance

School Parking Lot Chosen as Site for 'Blacktop Stomp'

By SANDY WHITE

Waterford Township High School plans its second all school project, a street dance called "Blacktop Stomp."

Friday, April 26, is the date scheduled for this novelty dance that will take place in the school parking lot at 8 p.m. In case of bad weather, the dance will be the following Saturday night.

Because this novelty dance is open to the public, there will be advance ticket sales, as well as a ticket sale at the door the night of the dance.

Chairman of the dance is Marlene Lazenby and those working with her as chairmen of committees are: Karen Anderson, Julia Hickman, Lenora Chack, Mary Lou Carr and Barbara Tibbals.

Easter vacation began today and will continue through Tuesday. To honor the Easter holiday, an assembly was given yesterday by the Varsity Club and A Capella Choir. Rev. Edward Auchard, of the Orchard Lake Church, delivered the Easter message.

Many evenings and afternoons are being spent in rehearsing for the coming play "Brigadoon." Dates for this production are May 3 and 4.

April 24, the French Club will travel by bus to Detroit to see Cinerama's "Seven Wonders of the World."

Y-Teens had a meeting Wednesday devoted to dyeing Easter eggs to be given to a children's ward at some hospital.

Also, a Waterford junior, Judy Cumberworth, has been chosen to attend a regional YWCA conference in Chicago on April 26, 27 and 28. She is a member of Y-Teens. Several states will send representatives to this meeting.

Twelve finalists will participate in the cheerleading try-outs on April 27. Present senior varsity members and sponsors will choose from these 12, six girls as regular cheerleaders and two girls as alternates.

The winners will make up next year's varsity cheerleading squad. Contributing factors as to the choice of these eight girls will be their voice, personality and the reception they can arouse from the student body while cheering.

This year's varsity cheerleaders are taking a trip to Washington D. C. over the Easter vacation. Members who will go are: Carol Soules, Bonnie Williams, Carol Moore, Carol Ponn and Mary Lou Winters.

READY TO STOMP — Waterford High School students Marlene Lazenby, Karen Anderson and Julie Hickman, from left, prepare to hang a decoration in the school parking lot, the scene of the school street dance, "Blacktop Stomp." The dance is set for 8 p. m. Friday, April 26.

Muskegon Veterans Agree to Tables in Park

MUSKEGON (AP) — The County Road Commission and the Muskegon United Veterans Council have agreed on a two-year trial period for picnic tables in a location termed "Michigan's Most Beautiful Mile."

★ ★ ★

The council has temporarily dropped its opposition to the tables proposed for Veterans Memorial Park, scenic background for the mile-long US31 causeway between Muskegon and North Muskegon.

At St. Frederick

Senior Class Casts Play

By MARGARET DRAKE

The Senior Class of St. Frederick High will present its senior play, "Quality Street," by James Barrie.

The lead parts will be taken by Marie Lewandowski, who plays Phoebe, and Mike Moloney, who plays Valentine.

Other members of the cast are: Susan, Mary Parle; Miss Willoughby, Carol Shell; Patty, Betty-Jo Fitzpatrick; Charlotte, Patti Smith; Harriet, Gerry Paddock; Henrietta, Pat Gulbord; Isabella, Donna Moody; Fanny, Margie McHugh.

Others include: Blades, Fred Sechanski; Spicer, John Bradley; Arthur, Bill Metz; Recruiting Sergeant, Wally Quarles.

Performances will be Saturday and Sunday evenings, April 27 and 28 at 8 p.m.

The senior class will sing the solemn ceremony of the Vigil of Easter Saturday evening, beginning at 10:45. They then will sing with the Men's Choir the Mass for Easter Sunday which begins at 12 a.m.

★ ★ ★

The high school is looking forward to the Easter vacation which extends all next week. Classes will resume Monday, April 29.

The Social Workers' Club gave most of their study periods to work on gaily wrapped Easter baskets for the underprivileged children of Oakland County.

School Page Schedule

Due to the Easter school vacation period, there will be no School Page Friday, April 26. The page will be resumed the following Friday, May 3.

Governor Names Member of Mortuary Board

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Williams has announced the appointment of Orlo Roberts of Belleville as a member of the State Board of Examiners in Mortuary Science.

★ ★ ★

Roberts succeeds John M. Santeiu of Dearborn for a term expiring June 30, 1961. The appointment, made on recommendation of the Michigan Funeral Directors Association, requires State confirmation.

Argentina has been importing record volumes of fuel oil, coal and coke recently. Buenos Aires reports. Poland supplies most of the coal.

Plan Rochester Changes

Discuss Parking Hours, Charges

Planners to Start Action on Commercial Progress Downtown

ROCHESTER — The Village Council here this week is planning hours and charges for the new parking lots, also considering changes of hours and charges on lots already in operation.

In another meeting, the Avon-Rochester Planning Commission discussed at length changes made in the general development plan for the downtown Rochester commercial section.

Members say action will begin in the near future, with Chairman L. R. Bebout presently arranging a meeting for the group with the Rochester Chamber of Commerce.

★ ★ ★

The Village Council will have on agenda at its next week's meeting an ordinance covering the parking meters. Charges for new lots and revisions of old meters will be specified.

★ ★ ★

The Planners, in their recent study, considered business and parking changes on Walnut Boulevard. They approved a revised plat of several lots in Eyster's Avon Gardens, referring it to the Avon Township Board.

The commissioners will consider, at their next meeting, a revised plat of a proposed 88-lot subdivision on Elizabeth street, presented by Leonard Hyman.

Outstanding in Nation

"Outstanding Young Farmers of 1956," the four men pictured, below, are the final winnowing from more than 10,000 young farmers originally nominated for recognition as "outstanding" in the 48 states, Alaska and Hawaii. Some 50 finalists, all in the 21-36 age group, gathered at Durham, N. C., to attend the awards presentation. Now in its third year, the annual program is under co-sponsorship of the U. S. Junior Chamber of Commerce, which has some 900 chapters, and the American Petroleum Institute Committee on Agriculture.

JOHN F. TUFTS

Despite six years of drought, this 31-year-old Texan from Dallas has built a herd from seven to 205 cows to out-produce every herd over 50 in the Lone Star state.

ALEX S. CURTIS

At 31, this graduate electrical engineer with a love for the soil has developed a model farm near Manila, Ark. Curtis built it up from rundown acreage he purchased in 1949.

TAKESHI KUDO

Kudo, 34, of Kona, Hawaii, brought to flower an "impossible dream," the seed of which was planted in 1953. He has utilized submarginal lava ground to develop new methods of growing coffee.

RUSSELL MAYER

Only 36, Mayer, of Milford, Utah, has made desert wasteland bloom. Through soil and water conservation planning, he has produced cash crops on more than 1,000 acres of once arid land.

Church Buys Site for Expansion

Walled Lake Methodist Plans Campaign for Building

WALLED LAKE — The Walled Lake Methodist Church has recently purchased the May John's property between the church and the house for the purpose of expansion.

The building committee is now in the process of interviewing architects regarding plans and costs.

June will see a fund raising campaign directed by the Rev. Grant Dunlap, Department of Field Services, National Board of Missions of the Methodist church. He has already met with those who will be conducting the local drive.

At the same meeting at which the congregation approved the property purchase, they also voted to extend an invitation to their pastor, the Rev. John Mulder, to serve them another year.

Holy Week services at the church include a communion service at 8 p.m. on Thursday; a service in cooperation with other churches at 1:30 p.m. on Friday; a sunrise service at 6:30 on Easter morning under the supervision of the senior MYF.

This will be followed by a breakfast and church services at 8:30, 9:45, and 11. Sunday school for all ages will be at 9:45.

Annual Banquet for Imlay Athletes to Be Tuesday

IMLAY CITY—The annual All-Sports Banquet sponsored by the Lions and Rotary Clubs, in cooperation with the Imlay City School, will be held on Tuesday evening in the gym.

Tickets for the 7 o'clock supper may be secured from any member of these clubs.

Highlighting the program will be the presenting of awards to 60 athletes in football, basketball, baseball and track by Coaches Lyle Powers, Carl Mortland and Y. W. Pelong.

Boys Club Benefit Dance to Be Saturday

AUBURN HEIGHTS — All arrangements for a benefit dance to be held for youth of Avon Township are completed, W. B. Neal, a Boys Club director said today. The teenage event will be held at 7:30 p.m. Saturday in the American Legion Hall on Churchill road.

An orchestra and entertainers have been provided and businessmen of the area have pledged amounts for tickets, which are to be distributed among area students.

Proceeds from the dance will go into the $150,000 fund which is being accumulated for a new Boys Club building.

Northwestern Honors Metamora Freshman

METAMORA — Julie VanDusen of Metamora has been elected to the "Wildcat Council" at Northwestern University. Purpose of the Council is to acquaint new and prospective students, as well as visitors, with the University. Miss VanDusen is one of 22 freshmen elected to the Council. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William D. VanDusen, 2716 Sutton Rd.

GATHER BOOKS — Preparing for the Rochester Junior Women's Club second annual Book Mart, May 23-25 are: (from left) President Mrs. George H. Goble, Mrs. Albert Lapshan, Mrs. Hudson Hill, Chairman Mrs. Kenneth Robbuck and Mrs. Bruce Todd. The women will sell used books, records and sheet music at Oberg Appliances, Rochester, during the three-day event. Proceeds will go to various charitable endeavors.

Orion Schools Face Big Loss

State Aid May Drop 8 Dollars Per Child in September

ORION TOWNSHIP — School officials here say the district faces a loss of about $22,000 if the recent announcement that State Aid this year may be $182 per child, in comparison to the expected $190 materializes.

★ ★ ★

The condition cannot be corrected this year as salaries were contracted about a year ago and operating costs cannot be retracted.

Next September the new high school building will be in use, requiring an estimated twelve more teachers. Due to this and the expanded programs in all schools, more funds will be needed.

★ ★ ★

This was expected and Lake Orion voted an additonal 3 mills for operating funds in 1955.

Salaries of Lake Orion teachers are $4,100 for beginning AB degree, increasing to $5,750 after twelve years and $4,200 with an MA degree, increasing to $6,150 in the same number of years. There is no provision for raises next year.

Considering all factors, $73,000 of additional funds will be needed to balance the 1957-58 budget of $820,000.

"This situation is not peculiar to Lake Orion but is statewide" according to Arlie Reed, school superintendent.

One solution, he said, is for the people of Michigan to insist the Legislature provide adequate funds for a good foundation program.

Brandon Township Asks for Six Mill Increase

ORTONVILLE — The Brandon Township Board of Education, in special meeting this week, decided to ask for a vote of 6 mills at an election to be held May 14. The increase would be used for general operating funds for a one year period only.

An election in February requesting 6 mills for a three year period was defeated. Since that time a number of meetings with citizens have been held in an effort to explain the urgent need for more money to forestall drastic cuts in the school program.

The Citizens School Improvement Assn. has been organized to encourage the study and discussion of educational problems so that the general public will be better informed on these subjects.

★ ★ ★

J. F. Slattery, president of the board of education, has expressed hearty approval of the willingness of the people to study the school situation and has urged them to support the one year tax program to relieve the school of its immediate difficulty.

Dublin Trustee Petitions Ready

Residency, Ownership Are Qualifications for Membership

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP — Nomination petitions are now available at the Dublin School office for anyone wishing to be a candidate for the position of trustee on the Board of Education, Dublin School District No. 7.

Voters will elect three trustees to the board at the annual school election to be held Monday, June 10. Two of the positions are for three-year terms, the other is for a two-year term.

The terms of Donald Fish and C. F. Coffey will terminate this year. A third trusteeship is open due to the resignation of C. F. McCullough.

Residency in the Dublin School District and property ownership are qualifications needed for membership on the Board of Education.

★ ★ ★

Nomination petitions must be filed with the board secretary by 4 p.m., May 21. Petitions must be signed by 25 qualified electors who do not have to be property owners.

An elector may sign petitions for one candidate for each of the three offices to be filled.

Discuss Needs of Police Force

Lathrup Officials Meet to Prepare Additions, Improve Conditions

LATHRUP — Proposed additions to the police force here will call for five part-time and one full-time policemen.

★ ★ ★

Administrator Leonard A. Watchowski and Chief of Police Kenneth Farnham met this week with the seven-man part-time police force to discuss needs and better law enforcement here.

★ ★ ★

Watchowski said the proposed safety budget of $43,300 will provide a new patrol car and the additional part-time policemen will enable the two full-time police to work in pairs at night.

Pickle 'Cukes,' $5,000,000 Worth, Bring Fast Pay

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Two major factors, a small cash outlay and a quick payoff after harvest, apparently contribute to Michigan's stature as national leader in growing cucumbers for pickles.

Agricultural records show pickle growing is a $5,000,000 industry for Michigan growers. Their 40,000 acres of pickling cucumbers produce about 30 per cent of the total United States crop.

Growers meeting recently at Eaton Rapids say machinery on the average farm will handle a pickle crop except for additional investment in a sprayer or duster.

Field hands are required at harvest time and growers usually pay half of the crop proceeds to harvesters.

Dr. Marra to Comment for Thursday Program

LAKE ORION — Dr. John J. Marra, director of Laboratories and Pathology for Pontiac General Hospital, will comment and answer questions at the 1:30 p.m. Thursday showing of the film, "146,000 Could Live," at Methodist Church.

★ ★ ★

The WSCS and all interested persons will be guests of the Lake Orion Women's Club at the program.

Rear End Collision Hospitalizes Driver

TROY—Fog contributed to the rear end collision on Stephenson Highway just north of 14 Mile road that sent Donald L. Blake, 36, of 309 Kenross, Clawson to William Beaumont Hospital about 10:30 last night, suffering head and chest injuries.

★ ★ ★

Blake says he did not see the lights on the truck ahead of him in time to avoid it. Willie M. Hodges, 36, of Detroit told police he had no knolwdege of the approaching car until it collided with the back of his truck.

Set Sunrise Service

SASHABAW PLAINS—Communion service will be held at 7:30 this evening in the Sashabaw Presbyterian Church. Sunrise service will be held at 7 a.m. Sunday with breakfast served afterward. The regular morning worship will be at 11 a.m.

Contest to Tell Final Winner of $40,000 Home

An Oak Park woman and a Redford Township woman, school teacher who are tied for a $40,000 prize in an idea home contest, will have to engage in a runoff contest to determine the winner.

Officials for the Builders Assn. of Metropolitan Detroit said today that either Mrs. Grace Feeney, 38 and Mrs. Veda Johnson, 51, would be the winner. There is no second prize they said.

Both Mrs. Feeney and Mrs. Johnson estimated that a plastic model of the idea home in Southfield Township contained a total of 77,757 nails. The correct total was 77,754, spokesmen said.

Danish ice-reinforced ships will carry ore concentrates from Greenland.

Schmidts to Mark Golden Wedding Day

The sons and daughters of Mr. and Mrs. George C. Schmidt of 7365 Orchard Lake Rd., West Bloomfield Township, are holding an open house for their parents Sunday afternoon, from 2 to 6, to mark the 50th anniversary of the couple's marriage.

At the open house, to be held at 1905 Davison Lake Rd., Oxford, Mr. and Mrs. Schmidt will receive their friends, seven children, 24 grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Easter Party Monday

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — The General Guild of Our Lady of The Lakes church, in Waterford Township will have its annual Easter Card party at 12 noon, on Monday at the Parish hall on Dixie highway. Mrs. Donald Dwire is general chairman of the affair and the public has been invited.

Slate April 27 Dance

MARLETTE—A benefit dance is scheduled to be held Saturday, Apr. 27, in the high schol gym here. Sponsors, the Thursday Night Jolly Square Dance group, have invited square dance groups in Marlette and surrounding towns to attend.

Romeo Youth Is Accepted at Interlochen

ROMEO — Sixteen-year-old Floyd Hart, Romeo High School junior, will leave June 23 for the National Music Camp at Interlochen for eight weeks of intensive musical training.

Floyd, son of the Rev. and Mrs. Ellis A. Hart of 128 Dickinson St., is the first local high school music student to be accepted for the entire summer term. He plays cornet in the concert band directed by E. C. Ojala.

Hart, who is featured as guest soloist at many community functions, received a two-week scholarship to the music camp last summer.

Fete William Doeblers on Golden Anniversary

ALMONT—Mr. and Mrs. William Doebler, Romeo, recently celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary with a family dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Doebler, Romeo. The Doeblers were married at Imlay City. They have one daughter, Mrs. Ernest Wallis of Lake Orion, and a son, Maurice Doebler, Romeo.

Mr. and Mrs. Doebler were former Almont residents.

Flower Dealer Ships 134,000 Plants

By REBA HEINTZELMAN

MILFORD — When Russell Thompson of Milford began his small truck garden business in a three-frame hot bed in his back yard, twenty years ago, he never dreamed that he would become one of the biggest wholesale florists in the country.

The 51-year-old businessman and his wife live on a farm next to his 16-unit greenhouse at 1525 Bogie Lake Rd.

From a meager start during the depression, has grown a business that is shipping more than 134,000 Easter plants and bulbs to approximately 700 Michigan and Ohio retail florists.

One order from a super-market was for 20,000 assorted Easter plants, and his 72 employes have been working day and night loading the delicate blooms on the seven two-ton trucks, for shipment. He also loads two big semi-trailers at Easter-time.

Oddly enough, Thompson says that lilies are not the favorite Easter plant, as far as sales go. This week he is shipping 50,000 tulip bulbs and 45,000 hyacinths as compared to the 5,000 lily bulbs.

Even the hydrangeas outrank the lilies in sales, with 7,000 plants on their way to dealers.

As far as the height of a lily is concerned, "some like 'em tall—some like 'em small," Thompson said, so they give some lots of water and light for upward growth, and put the others in a cool, dark place with no moisture.

There's a trick to having the plants all bloom for the Easter season. The bulbs are planted in November, kept cool, then lots of light and heat — then back to the "keeping cool" process.

This governs the growth, and "manager Godfrey Shaft has not missed an Easter bulk-production crop in 10 years," he said.

Thompson passes on a "trick of the trade" to lily plant owners. "Always remove the yellow, or pollen stem, in the heart of the lily as soon as the bud opens," he said. "The plant will last a week longer if this is done."

Thompson hires a crew that does nothing but remove the pollen stems before shipment — so — he says, "If you wonder where the yellow went — you'll know."

Are These the Numbers You Chose?

The following are the correct answers for Pot-O-Gold Puzzle No. 45 which appeared in last week's Pontiac Press.

A. (2) FOBWARD. Since a FORWARD child is precocious and somewhat bold, it takes a wise teacher to guide and manage him. A Froward, or disobedient and petulant child would best be handled by a strict or stern teacher. The FROWARD child is difficult to reason with.

B. (4) IMPRUDENCE. Teenagers as a group cannot be charged with Impudence. It is a characteristic only of a spoiled few. IMPRUDENCE, or lack of caution, is a definite trait of the young.

C. (5) ANONYMITY. Almost all people prefer Unanimity, since it is flattering to have others agree with one's ideas. Only "some" people prefer ANONYMITY—a few philanthropists or the shy and retiring types. Most prefer to have their deeds known and sanctioned.

D. (7) VERTEX. A Vertex, or whirlpool, is dangerous to anyone who might fall into it. It has no relation in particular to those prone to dizziness. However, a VERTEX or peak, is dangerous because great heights are likely to bring on dizziness.

E. (10) DEPRECIATION. To express Deprecation is a common thing among friends, since it implies an honest difference coupled with regret. DEPRECIATION is rare, since it includes belittling or disparagement—a rare trait among tactful people.

F. (12) NEEDLESSLY. A worker who does things Heedlessly would be promptly dismissed as irresponsible. He would not get a chance to do things "continually," But a very competent worker might do things NEEDLESSLY, like being too fussy, and would only be dismissed if he could not learn to adjust.

G. (14) RENDITION. The RENDITION of a song often determines its success or failure and would also concern the composer from an artistic standpoint. Vendition applies to selling in open market, or peddling. It does not include sale to a publisher for recording or publishing.

H. (15) COMMUTING. COMMUTING on the same route for a long time might very well become uninteresting. Since the clue implies that it was interesting in the first place, Computing is ruled out. COMPUTING carries with it no particular interest in the beginning. It is a necessary chore in some businesses.

I. (17) UTILITY. An inventor's labor is not finished because his invention has UTILITY. He must continue to perfect and simplify its operation. If the Futility, or uselessness, of his invention becomes apparent, he would not bother to perfect it.

J. (2) EMERGENCE. It is the EMERGENCE of communism that calls for counter measures. Emergency would imply a sudden crisis caused by the arousing of communism that has been dormant supposedly not the situation in the Middle East. It is rather the arising or EMERGENCE of communism where it has not been before that is the threat.

K. (22) BEAUTIFICATION. Beatification is blissful happiness. BEAUTIFICATION is the state that "brings" the happiness.

L. (23) VERY. VERY lights are colored flares used as signals at sea and might cause apprehension since they indicate trouble. Eery lights probably would be the result of some atmospheric condition, and would be of small concern to a schooner captain.

M. (25) CATCHALLS. By being clear and specific about the items he wanted to include in his bills, a legislator would avoid the attachments of CATCHALLS. These are additions to bills designed to tie up loose ends not covered by the provisions of the bills. Careful wording would not prevent Catcalls, since it is the meaning or intent of the bill that would determine approval or rejection.

N. (27) IMPERVIOUS. Imperious people cannot brook any criticism, barbed or not. It hurts their ego. However, a man may be uninfluenced by or IMPERVIOUS to ordinary criticism, but may react to the stinging kind.

O. (30) UNWILLINGLY. A deed that is done Unwittingly — or by a stroke of luck—might be praised if it is a success, but this would be an accident not apt to happen "often." A man who does a great thing UNWILLINGLY — despite fear or distaste—because he knows it has to be done often receives great praise for his deed.

P. (31) CYLINDER. A cook need not be good to employ a Colander. Any housewife makes use of that. A CYLINDER, or glass receptacle for accurate measuring of liquids, may be a tool of the good cook.

Q. (34) CONFIDING. Strangers are apt to be CONFIDING, knowing that there would be no chance of repercussions. If they found "each other's" conversation Confining, they mutually would try to find other topics suitable to both.

R. (35) CELEBRATING. The time spent in CELEBRATING is determined by the occasion. An afternoon tea, a birthday party, reception, etc. are certainly limited by circumstances. Cerebrating is thinking, conscious or not, and so goes on no matter what the circumstances.

S. (38) RESOUNDING. Gossip has a way of coming home to roost and Redounding to the discredit of the gossiper. But this is not "unfortunate." Rather, it is the gossiper's just deserts. Unfortunately, gossip has a way of being repeated quickly and widely, or RESOUNDING.

T. (40) COLLEGE. Anyone requires more than mere proficiency to be outstanding. However, since Collage (a kind of surrealist art) is a definite field, the phrase "in his field" is redundant and unnecessary. COLLEGE covers many fields, and so the phrase "in his field" better fits a COLLEGE student.

Puts in 8-Hour Day Alone at Gravel Firm

Velting's Job Is Picketing — on Duty Over 6 Years

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Clyde Velting's job is picketing.

It has been that ever since March 20, 1951, when he and other members of Teamsters Local 406 voted a strike against Devries & Sons gravel business. The strike vote was taken in a state-supervised secret election after a dispute over unionization.

Velting has continued alone on picket duty through court actions, changes in the DeVries business location and six Michigan winters.

"The first three months, you'd think you were going crazy—but you get used to it," he says.

Local 406 pays Velting his only income.

Patrick Mackey, secretary-treasurer of the local, said Velting draws strike relief from the local's fund at a rate equal to union scale for his job at the plant. Velting puts in less time on picket duty than he did, with overtime, at the gravel firm, Mackey said.

Union attorneys said the company was idled only briefly when the strike was called, but resumed operations after hiring other personnel, including some former members who relinquished union affiliation. Velting stayed on strike.

He says he'd rather work than picket, but has no part-time job because "it's tiring enough doing this all day." His duty is to make sure truck drivers intending to enter the struck property know of the Teamsters strike.

Velting puts in an eight-hour-day. Much of his time is spent in his parked car with an "on strike" sign on its door. He says his week day hours sometimes are longer "if I know there's a truck coming." Saturday is a four-hour day.

Velting worked four years for the DeVries firm before the strike. Now he divides his time carrying out his lone picket duties at its two locations.

He is married and the father of six sons. Velting says his wife doesn't complain "as long as I bring home the bacon."

Japan Ends Hostilities

TOKYO (AP) — Japan's upper house today voted final ratification to agreements officially ending World War II hostilities with Poland and Czechoslovakia. Formal reopening of diplomatic relations awaits exchange of ratification documents. Poland has not yet ratified the end-of-war agreement.

Hints for Home Owners

By WAYNE B. SIEFERT
County Agricultural Agent

A good cause for pride and interest among the pleasures of being a home owner is having attractive and vigorous blooms as foundation plants. Occasionally it required considerable knowledge and skill, but most often just interest and care transforms these owners into green thumbed gardeners.

One of the problems of justifiable concern is the presence of scale insects on these plants. The writer has observed scale insects causing the death of ornamental birch and mountain ash, the defoliation of many evergreens including yews, and poor growth and failure to bloom of Cotoneaster and Lilac.

Though there are many species of scale insects they appear as waxy blisterline attachments on stems, twigs or leaves. They are easily scraped off and have a white, often powdery underside.

HAVE LONG BEAKS

Scale insects have long beaks permitting them to be perennial leeches which greatly reduce the vigor of the affected plant.

Early spring treatments at this time using dormant oils easily penetrates their waxy shells and destroys them. As these oils damage the leaves they cannot be applied after growth starts.

Juniper scale, on many varieties of Juniper are circular, grayish - white shields with a yellow center and appear only on the foliage. A dormant lime-sulfur application will do the job, but many try for control of the crawling young in late June and early July. A scale on ornamental cedar can also be easily controlled in this way.

Enonymus scale, a pest which often nearly defoliates most varieties of enonymus is considered very difficult to control. It also attacks bittersweet and pachysandra.

For all summer programs against these pests, three applications are a must, at ten day intervals.

Many have observed that city foresters, and some nurserymen wrap all newly planted trees with heavy paper. No doubt it improves their appearance and prevents bruising, but the real reason is to prevent attacks by borer insects.

★ ★ ★

Though borers will occasionally attack trees in good health and growth, their first choice is weakened, and often wounded trees. The adults of these larva lay eggs on the bank in early summer.

If newly transplanted trees are covered with paper these insects cannot reach the bark and their efforts are unsuccessful. Such trees as Dogwood, Birch, Locust, Maple and Mountain Ash are often attacked. If round circular holes, or traces of sawdust appear on the large branches or the lower trunk, immediate action is necessary or the tree will die.

USE MOTH BALLS

Dissolving moth balls in light machine oil and squirting this oil into the holes when detected is very effective against the larva. The vapors from the moth balls is very poisonous to insects, and the oil has good penetrating abilities.

Painting these areas with roofing asphalt or tree wound paint after the oil treatment discourages further egg laying in that area.

Many of you have just completed transplanting of trees or shrubs, and are anxiously waiting for signs of growth. Trees that are heavily pruned at the time of planting have a much greater chance of survival than unpruned trees.

Very often a great deal of the roots have been cut off when the trees have been dug. If a proportionate amount of the branches have not been removed also, the few surviving roots are unable to support such large number of branches.

★ ★ ★

In the case of evergreens, cutting back the branches is beneficial. With hardwood trees, it is more advisable not to damage the basic shape of the tree by trimming back the tip. It is more advisable to thin the branches by at least one-third in each case making cuts flush with the trunk and painting the wounds to prevent rot and borer invasion. In the case of non-evergreens, always wrap the trees and mulch them heavily for at least the first two years.

Seedling Plants Growing Now

Use Shallow Boxes in South or East Windows

Seedling plants may be grown successfully in spring in shallow boxes or pots of soil placed in south of east windows. The preparation of the seed box is simple but it needs care.

Whether it is a cigar box or larger "flat," holes should be bored in the bottom—about six inches apart in large boxes anad about three inches apart in one of cigar box size.

Over the bottom of the box spread a layer of sphagnum or peat moss, or small pebbles, then coarser soil, and last of all finely sifted garden soil, or a mixture of builders' sand and fine soil.

★ ★ ★

Firm the soil and sow the seed thinly. The general rule for depth of planting is about four times the diameter of the seed. Thin sowing is economy. The tiny plants crowd each other when planted too thickly.

Cover the seed box with a damp cloth or paper and place a pane of glass over the top until germination starts.

Remove the paper or cloth as soon as the first sprouts break through the soil. Wipe off the glass when water collects on it from evaporation.

This will prevent moisture from dripping on the little plants and perhaps causing "damping off."

During the day prop up one edge of the glass covering for ventilation. Remove glass when plants are established. Keep the seed box uniformly moist but not wet or water-logged.

When seedlings are two or three inches high, sooner if possible, they are ready to be transplanted either to individual pots or out-of-doors.

Use of Shade Gets Results for Gardens

Many home owners whose yards or parts of them are in the shade have the impression that they cannot have a garden, or good landscaping.

This is a mistake, says the American Association of Nurserymen because "having a garden in the shade" is simply a matter of selecting the plants that will grow in the shade.

Such advice is available from any up-to-date nurseryman, and it is all that is needed to make the garden an outstanding success.

For every climate in the United States there is a long list of plants, some of which do even better in shade than sun. The list includes many evergreens, flowering shrubs and trees and colorful ornamental fruits.

Time to Water Lawn Is in the Evening

The best time to water lawns and flower beds is in the evening and the best way to water is thoroughly, until the soil is soaked, and then again only when the soil again becomes dry. Rose plants are an exception and should be watered in the morning.

NO DECORATIONS YET — On a farm near Ortonville, Christmas trees are being planted now. Here Mrs. Robert Kerley, of Birmingham and owner of the farm, admires one of the beautiful Scotch pines with Merrill Ray of Drayton Plains. Ray works with the Soil Conservation Service.

Two Insect Groups Attack Shade Trees

Insects attacking shade trees can be separated into two groups: those attacking weakened or dying limbs and those attacking healthy foliage and limbs, according to the National Arborist Assn. Pruning out dead limbs controls the former, while preventative sprays keep healthy branches and foliage in strong condition.

The home garden is an expression of love of nature, as well as the home gardener's personality, says the American Association of Nurserymen.

Petunias Bloom a Long Time

One of the attractive things about petunias is the fact that they bloom for such a very long period during the summer and fall. There's only one catch, and that is the need to give them about three months to develop to blooming stage.

So now is the time to get the plants under way, moving them to their garden location after they have developed three or four true leaves. Of course you can sow them directly in the garden after the soil and weather are reliably warm, but this does mean that the summer is past the halfway mark before they begin to bloom.

Petunias can be used in many ways. They make excellent window box material and satisfactory potted plants. They are often used as borders, particularly if the border is a fairly wide one, and of course they are top favorites as bedding plants.

First, window boxes. If you want to have a cascade effect of plants which trail over the side of the box and produce a mass of bloom over the entire top and side of the container, you may use any of the Balcony Petunias, and for fancier flowers with a similarly vigorous growth consider the newer and still more floriferous and uniform F-1 hybrid Grandiflora Petunias.

If you want to keep the plants only a foot tall and in neat, compact form in your window box there is one outstanding new variety, an F-1 hybrid Multiflora called Red Satin. Flowers of this variety are of a brilliant scarlet-red, covering the dwarf plants all season. Because of its compact habit this variety is also a fine pot subject.

For a neat border which does not sprawl, Red Satin is again the top choice, but if you have a bit more room you can use any of the varieties like Celestial Rose, Lipstick, Rosy Morn or Snowball Improved.

DENSE NEW HYBRID — Red Satin, here is an illustration of a single potted plant. There are 30 blooms in this foot-high specimen. This is to demonstrate the dense, compact and very dwarf habit of growth of the new petunia.

Avoid Bark Beetles With Regular Care

Many bark beetles attack weakened trees, working between the bark and the wood and the most obvious way to combat them is for regular care by a local tree expert to keep the tree in healthy condition by pruning, spraying and fertilizing, according to the National Arborist Association.

Moving Trees Is a Science

Show Many Factors in Relocating Roots to Preserve Life

Sidewalk superintendents always find the moving of a large tree interesting and people gather around whenever such a job is being performed, says the National Arborist Association.

"Will it live?" is the most common question of the watchers. Actually, the moving is an engineering feat.

To move a big tree from one location to another it is necessary first to dig a trench around it, far enough from the trunk so there is sufficient root growth to sustain life in the tree in its new location.

In order not to disturb the soil around the roots during transportation the large ball of earth around the roots is wrapped in burlap and secured with wire or ropes.

After being wrapped the big tree is lifted by a crane and transported to the new site, where it must be placed in the ground at the proper depth under the proper soil conditions, with the trunk straight.

It also must be protected from insects and sunscald until it becomes established and properly guyed.

Despite all the precautions that must be taken thousands of big trees are safely moved by tree experts and nurserymen every year.

While moving a big tree certainly costs more than planting it small and watching it grow, it has the advantage of providing full shade immediately, as well as increasing the resale value of the treeless property considerably.

When people are in middle age, they usually want to enjoy a tree full grown at the time of planting, and not wait until they are old before the tree reaches maturity.

Most tree experts have elaborate equipment for moving trees of various sizes.

Indians Beat Tigers in Parade of Pitchers, 8-3

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

From the Press Box

BY BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

The diehards got an early start in Briggs Stadium yesterday. They are the ones who boo every move made by the home team and after a while resort to throwing debris onto the field.

Most of the Tigers were given a few chords of the raspberries, but many of the boos were directed at Billy Tuttle and Frank House.

Apparently all the criticism and talk of trading the pair must have exerted some influence on the fans.

No one would like to see Tuttle regain his batting eye more than Tuttle himself, but what he needs is a boost in confidence and if he can't get it from the home fans then a change of scenery might do him good.

If Tuttle is traded, you can be sure he'll be back to haunt Briggs Stadium.

Many objects were thrown out of the stands in center and left fields, but the sorriest note came after the last out. As players and officials walked off the field, a liquor bottle was thrown from the second tier.

It hit American League's veteran umpire Bill Summers and stunned him to the ground. He was given first aid in the locker room. "Never thought it would happen in Detroit," said Summers.

RECORD STAFF OF WRITERS

The opener drew a record number of Michigan sportswriters to Briggs Stadium. Writers from 14 of the state's leading dailies including as far west as Hillsdale and Kalamazoo and as far north as the Soo gathered in the press box.

Incidentally, yours truly got a hand from the fans near the press box by making a snag of a foul ball which came zipping by.

Before the game the writers gathered to honor four fine football players from the state of Michigan who last season received AP All-America recognition. Ron Kramer of Michigan and John Matsko of Michigan State, along with little All-America players Nate Clark and Jim Podoley were presented with certificates.

DITTOS FROM THE PRESS BOX

It was heard that Jim Bates, assistant football coach to Dave Smith at Walled Lake, will soon assume similar duties at Jackson High School.

★ ★ ★

Hillsdale's Nate Clark may be offered a pro contract by the Los Angeles Rams, and another football rumor is that Bay City Central's Elmer Engle is still thinking about a higher salaried college job even though he was recently given a three year contract.

★ ★ ★

The Tigers are offering for the first time at a cost of 50 cents an official year book, complete with pictures, records and historical data. Mail requests can be made to the Tiger Public Relations department.

COLLISION AT HOME — Detroit Tiger catcher attempting to score on a grounder, collides with Cleveland Indian catcher Jim Hegan in yesterday's season opener at Briggs Stadium. It would have been the big run in the third inning, but Cleveland went on to win in 11 innings, 8-3.

Cleveland Gets to Starter Bill Hoeft Quickly

Rookie's 4-Run Homer in 11th Puts Game Out of Detroit Reach

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

DETROIT — The Easter parade started early at Briggs Stadium yesterday, and before the last of five Tiger pitchers ended their parade to and from the mound in 11 innings, the Cleveland Indians walked off with an 8-3 decision before 31,2227 dampened fans.

★ ★ ★

It was the 3rd straight defeat in as many games of the regular season for Detroit, but it was a different kind of loss. That is, it wasn't by one run.

★ ★ ★

For the American League's two rookie managers, Jack Tighe and Kerby Farrell, it was a battle of strategies.

As one manager substituted with a left or right handed pitcher the other countered with a hitter from the opposite side.

Tighe made the last move in the 11th inning when he removed Al Aber who had just given up a double to George Strickland.

★ ★ ★

Jack Crimian replaced Aber and after three straight batters walked, rookie outfielder Roger Maris, who struck out three times in the game, put the victory on ice with a grand slam homer.

The tie-breaker, however, scored a moment earlier when George Strickland who doubled came home on a sacrifice fly.

The Indians got to starter Billy Hoeft in a hurry. In one and two-thirds innings Hoeft gave up three runs and four hits. The big blow was Al Smith's 2nd inning homer with Strickland aboard.

★ ★ ★

Reliefers Jim Bunning and Paul Foytack then held Cleveland to three hits in the next eight innings while the Tigers collected three runs off Bob Lemon to knot the score.

Indian pitcher Don Mossi, who relieved Lemon, started off wildly in the 7th by walking Jim Finigan and giving up a single to Harvey Kuenn to start the inning.

★ ★ ★

The Tigers couldn't score however as Al Kaline, Charley Maxwell and Ray Boone went down in order. After the inning, Mossi went into the bullpen and continued warming up. It must have helped because for the next two innings the Tigers couldn't touch him.

★ ★ ★

Narleski proved to be just as effective in his three inning role and he got credit for the win. Aber was the loser.

★ ★ ★

Frank Lary, beaten by Kansas City in the opener, will face Cleveland Saturday afternoon. All Major League teams are idle today.

AP Wirephoto

GRAND SLAMMER — Rookie Roger Maris of Cleveland is greeted at home plate by Rocky Colavito (38) and Al Smith (16) after hitting the first grand slam homer of the American League yesterday in the 11th inning against the Detroit Tigers. Cleveland won at Briggs Stadium, 8-3. Maris had struck out three times earlier in the game.

Disgusted After 3rd Loss

Tighe Plans Lineup Changes

By DAVE DILES

DETROIT (AP) — Manager Jack Tighe was exaggerating a trifle when he remarked that the Detroit Tigers "had a million chances" to win their game against the Cleveland Indians.

The Tigers actually flubbed three or four chances, but it seemed closer to a million to the eager skipper who watched his club go down to an 8-3 defeat yesterday to the Cleveland Indians.

Openly disgusted with just about everything from lack of good hitting and pitching by his own players to the lack of cooperation on the part of the weatherman, the eager skipper planned at least some mild shakeups in the lineup.

★ ★ ★

Shortstop Harvey Kuenn will go back to the leadoff spot with Charles Maxwell moving from fifth to Kuenn's third spot in the lineup. Frank Bolling, who has been leading off, will be dropped to second. Ray Boone and Bill Tuttle have been batting sixth and seventh, but they'll each move up a notch as Tighe attempts to find the magic button that will release the big power that's supposed to be hiding in the Tiger bats.

"You gotta do something,' Tighe grumbled. "You just don't sit back and go with a losing combination.'

If Tighe wanted a victory in Kansas City so much he could taste it —as he said — he wanted the Detroit opener a lot more. There were 31,227 fans on hand amid the foggy gloom of Briggs Stadium, and the rhythmic, scattered chant of "Same Old Tigers' after the Indians' five-run splurge in the eleventh inning fell on the ears of an unhappy, but unbowed manager.

Dayton Bowlers Still in Front

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — McCook's No. 96 of Dayton today is in third place in Division No. 2 of the team event (650-750 averages) in the Women's International Bowling Congress tournament here. The team rolled 2,284 last night.

Geneva Recreation, also of Dayton, continues to lead the division with 2,322, followed by Happy-Go-Lucky, Gary, Ind., 2,299; McCook's 96; and Ray Kline Trucking, Dayton, and Harris Funeral Home, Rochester, N.Y., in a tie for fourth place with 2,282 each.

Hayes Jones Competes at Columbus Saturday

Former Pontiac High track star Hayes Jones gets back into action tomorrow after a two-week layoff as the Eastern Michigan thinclads compete in the Ohio Relays at Columbus.

★ ★ ★

Several of the top teams in the Midwest are entered in the meet with Jones among the many outstanding individuals to take part. He finished 2nd ahead of Olympic hurdle champ Milt Campbell his last time out in the Cleveland Relays.

Jim Reed Wins 1st Table Tennis Title

Miss Ellen Tiffany and veteran Perc Secord successfully defended their championships and Jim Reed seized the vacated men's singles crown to feature Thursday night's City Table Tennis Tournament at Bethany Baptist Church.

For the 2nd consecutive year Miss Tiffany turned back Miss Carol Ryan to win the women's singles title. Ellen triumphed in straight games, 21-13, 21-19, 21-18.

Secord repeated as senior men's champion by defeating Al Jenkie in two games, 21-16, 21-19.

Reed, who has been trying to win the men's singles championship since 1943, finally succeeded last night. He conquered Secord in the final round, 21-12, 17-21, 21-14, to take his 1st city crown.

Always an outstanding player but never a very lucky one, Reed won the hard way. He eliminated Dick Heyman and Howard Heckman along the route. Secord also struggled through the best, sidelining Jerry Kruskie on his march to the finals.

Kruskie didn't go home empty-handed, however. He downed Ron Beckman, 21-14, 22-20, 21-17, to annex the junior boys' singles title. Bill Wettlaufer won the boys' singles crown by dumping Jeff Nicholas, 22-20, 21-18, 21-18.

Men's doubles honors went to Beckman and Sid Dickstein, who ousted Reed and Kruskie in the final match, 21-14, 18-21, 16-21, 21-16, 21-14.

Miss Tiffany and Kruskie teamed up to win the mixed doubles crown. They defeated Ruth Saunders and Heyman, 21-19, 21-14, 21-17.

Pro Grid Teams Swap 8 Players

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — The Green Bay Packers, rich in quarterbacks but poor on defense, yesterday traded signal-caller Bobby Garrett and linebacker Roger Zatkoff to the Cleveland Browns for six players, five of them defensive specialists.

★ ★ ★

Coach Liz Blackbourn of the National Football League Packers, said he was "happy to get these boys because they will give me a lot of experience in the defensive unit."

★ ★ ★

Blackbourn indicated the Packers still have some dealing to do when he said "there will probably be more developments later."

In exchange for Garrett and Zatkoff the Packers received quarterback Babe Parilli, end Carlton Massey, halfbacks John Petitbon and Billy Kinard, tackle John Macerelli and center Sam Palumbo.

The way was cleared for the trade when the Packers yesterday signed veteran quarterback Tobin Rote for his eighth season. Rote, who had talked earlier of retirement, got about a $1,500 increase in pay to put his annual salary at $20,000. In addition to Rote the Packers also have second-year man Bart Starr and former Notre Dame great Paul Hornung available for quarterbacking duties.

It was anticipated that if the Packers swing any more trades, Parilli would probably figure in them.

The Babe is a former Packer, and was acquired by the Browns in 1954 in exchange for Garrett. Garrett has not seen any duty with the Packers because he's been in the service.

"Garrett is the key figure in the deal for us, due to our wide open quarterback situation," Cleveland Coach Paul Brown said. "We always did wonder what we could have done with Garrett, and now we will have a chance to find out. He is a smart young man and has a strong arm."

★ ★ ★

Cleveland's quarterback ranks were sliced even thinner last week when George Ratterman announced his retirement. The former Notre Dame star had been groomed as a replacement for Otto Graham, who retired after the 1955 season. Knee trouble forced Ratterman to quit.

Zatkoff was considered expendable by the Packers because he had talked of retirement and said he no longer cared to play in Green Bay.

★ ★ ★

In Massey, 6-4, 210 pounds, the Packers are getting a much needed defensive end. Palumbo, 6-2, 220, is a linebacker while Macerelli, 6-2, 230 pounds, is a good moving tackle. Petitbon, 5-11, 185, has played safety. Kinard, the Browns' second draft choice in 1956, is another defensive back who can operate on punt returns.

★ ★ ★

In 1956, the Packers finished in a tie for last place in the Western conference with a four won, eight lost record. Cleveland was fourth in the East with a 5-7 slate.

Spartans Roll Over Wayne Nine, 21-1

EAST LANSING (AP)—The Michigan State Spartans wasted no time taking a commanding lead and then rolled on to turn the game in a rout, beating Wayne State University 21-1 here yesterday.

★ ★ ★

The Spartans got seven runs in the first inning on six hits, two walks and a Wayne error.

Leading the hit-happy Spartans were Gary Warner with five hits in six times at bat and Dennis Mendyk with four for five.

Strong Wind Hampers Play

Furgol, Palmer Lead Field

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Properly chastised by the weather and the course in the first round, the field of 23 professional golfers tee away today in the second round of the $40,000 Tournament of Champions.

Leading the field were Ed Furgol of St. Andrews, Ill., the 1954 U.S. Open champion and 27-year-old Arnold Palmer of Latrobe, Pa., who reigned as king of the nation's amateurs in the same year before turning pro.

In these days of sub par scoring, their even par 72 for the Desert Inn Country Club course seemed unique.

But all hands hoped that one of the factors that sent scores high in the first round would be missing today. That would be the hard winds that swept the fairways yesterday, and coupled with cold and intermittent bursts of rain, made life most unhappy.

★ ★ ★

"Liked to have blown me off the course," said big Mike Souchak, whose 213-pound frame would stand some hard blowing. Mike had to settle for a 76.

Tied at 73, one shot back of the pacesetters, were four threats.

They were Gene Littler, 1955-56 jackpot winner here; Art Wall Jr., 1954 winner here; Jimmy Demaret, and young Fred Hawkins, El Paso, Tex.

The one-two pre-tournament Las Vegas betting choices, Cary Middlecoff and Dow Finsterwald, fared poorly. Each had a 75.

And two official protests were lodged against Middlecoff for his slow play. Complaining were Furgol and Bob Rosburg, playing behind Middlecoff, the 1956 National Open champion. Middlecoff, paired with Don January, finished 30 minutes behind the twosome ahead.

★ ★ ★

Probably the most frustrated of all, with good reason, was Jay Hebert of Sanford, Fla. Thanks to the gale, Hebert shot three balls from the tee out of bounds on the eighth hole and took a lusty, gusty 11, seven over par for the hole. He wound up with an 83, highest of the day — after shooting even par most of the way.

Furgol, his hands ice cold and his putting off, could have had a far better score. He actually missed seven putts from four feet or less from the pin.

Chief Golfers Whip Waterford by 15-0

The Pontiac golfers won their 2nd straight match by blanking Waterford 15-0 under gloomy skies at the Municipal Course yesterday.

Sam Coleman paced the Chiefs with a 40-36—76. Other victors were Dick Singleton, Dick Whitmer, Jerry Martin and Mike Samardcija. The PHS jayvees also won, 11-4.

Bolin New Jockey Ace Winning 5 of 9 Races

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Harrel Bolin, 17-year old apprentice jockey, is showing the skeptics he can win on the "big time" circuit just as he did at smaller Sunshine Park.

The talented Lanaster, Tex., youth, who led the jockeys at the recently completed meeting at the Oldsmar, Fla., track won with five of his nine mounts and placed second with another at Gulfstream Park yesterday.

★ ★ ★

After winning the first four races, Bolin completed his domination of the program by scoring with Stratmat in the 6-furlong feature. He sent Stratmat over the three-quarters of a mile in 1:11 2-5 to pay $8.70. Bolin is due to lose his apprentice allowance April 28.

★ ★ ★

He started off the day by taking the first with Mi Model at $7.20 and completed a $20.10 daily double by guiding Foxie Chance to victory in the second at $5.20. He also won the third with Poppa's Baby ($8.80) and the fourth with Le Page 2nd, who returned $5.00 for $2.

★ ★ ★

Veteran Willie Shoemaker, who snapped out of his riding slump by winning one-half of the $3,409.90 daily double at Jamaica Wednesday, also had a big day at the New York track.

"Silent Shoe' booted home three winners—Pioneeress ($4.70) in the fourth, Chubo ($15.50) in the fifth and Dover Doll ($16.90) in the eighth—but the honor of winning the feature race went to Sammy Boulmetis.

NY Lawyer Has Baseball Plan

Says Game Could Stay Within Law and Keep Reserve Clause

NEW YORK (AP) — Frederic A. Johnson today came forward with a proposal under which baseball could operate within the law and still keep its famous reserve clause.

★ ★ ★

Johnson, a New York constitutional lawyer whose arguments in the Gardella case in 1949 first dented baseball's legal shell, said he would like to see Congress pass a law under which:

1—The present baseball farm system would be abolished, perhaps over a period of several years.

★ ★ ★

2—A team could have only 40 players under contract, 25 of which would be its major league squad, and the other 15 would be in the minors.

3—All players under contract to a team would have pension rights, whether in the majors or minors. At present the pension applies only to the majors.

★ ★ ★

Ever since anti-trust actions involved professional football and the International Boxing Club there has been talk in Congress of passing a law bringing baseball under regulation. The Supreme Court in a recent decision hinted that such a law would be acceptable.

Prize Lists Arranged for 1st Bowlerama Finals

By CHUCK ABAIR

The long-awaited moment of decision comes up tomorrow for 51 area bowlers as the championship round of the Pontiac Press Bowlerama is held at the Huron Bowl beginning at 1 p.m.

A total of 39 men and 12 women will battle for the separate division crowns and one of the top prizes.

All contestants will bowl three games across six alleys in the race for county honors with scoring on a 70 per cent handicap 200 scratch basis.

There can be no favorite in such an event with the men and women with the greater handicap carrying a big advantage to start with over their more experienced rivals.

The majority of the better known keglers in both groups bowed out in the qualifying rounds leaving the field wide open.

Howard Compton, Lee Miller, Frank Pavlisac, Gerry Weber, Mrs. Karen Pargo, Lois Fletcher were the leading qualifying scorers but they like everyone else must start all over again in the finals. Qualifying scores have no bearing on the title round.

But no matter how things go Saturday all 51 participants are certain to finish in the money for performing well enough to reach the finals. All are sure of at least $5 with fine chances of taking home the top awards of $425 and $205 plus desk-sets.

The six top qualifiers have already clinched handsome Press high qualifier trophies plus the $5 giving them a good start.

A jam-packed crowd is expected to be on hand to watch these 51 finalists from a total of 494 entries battle it out.

All cash prizes and trophies will be presented at a post-tournament ceremony scheduled for 4:30 p.m. at the lounge stage of the 300 Club.

In the event of a tie for 1st place, a one-game roll-off will be held to determine the champion. Any persons tied for other places will share the total money of the places involved.

Each bowler taking part in the finals must report at Huron Bowl 30 minutes before bowling time and pay for his three championship games at that time.

There will be a total of $1,635 in prize money and the title trophies riding on every toss of a ball. It is expected to be grand climax to 1st Press Bowlerama.

Tebbetts Calls Burdette 'a Cheating Spitballer'

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Good Friday calm settled over Milwaukee's County Stadium today in the agitated wake of heated charges by Manager Birdie Tebbetts of Cincinnati that the Braves' Lew Burdette is "a cheating spitballer."

The next move, if any, is up to National League President Warren Giles. Redlegs General Manager Gabe Paul said he would forward a formal protest to Giles today, based on Tebbett's allegations.

Tebbetts, who many times in the past has accused Burdette of an illegal pitch, but never of actually throwing a spitball, did so yesterday after the fidgety righthander had shut out the Redlegs 1-0 in the Braves' home opener.

Told that the victory was Burdette's eighth in a row over the Redlegs in the last three seasons, Tebbetts' rosy complexion turned beet red and he roared:

"Yeah, but he's done it illegally. He's a cheating spitballer. Burdette is the only pitcher in the league who goes to his mouth before every pitch. Rule 8:02 says he's not supposed to do that, but the umpires say he can go to his mouth as long as he wipes off his hand before pitching."

Burdette's reaction to Tebbett's blast was, as usual, one of amusement. Said the controversial, 30-year-old pitcher:

"It's a perfect day, I've got Birdie chirping. It's the best pitch I've got and I don't throw it."

Many Observers Think Tiny Bird of Lark Family

But Identities Vary, From a Sparrow to a Killdeer

Publication of a photograph of a Pontiac youngster holding a tiny bird in his hands, coupled with a suggestion that readers might identify the "little what's his name,' has brought many replies.

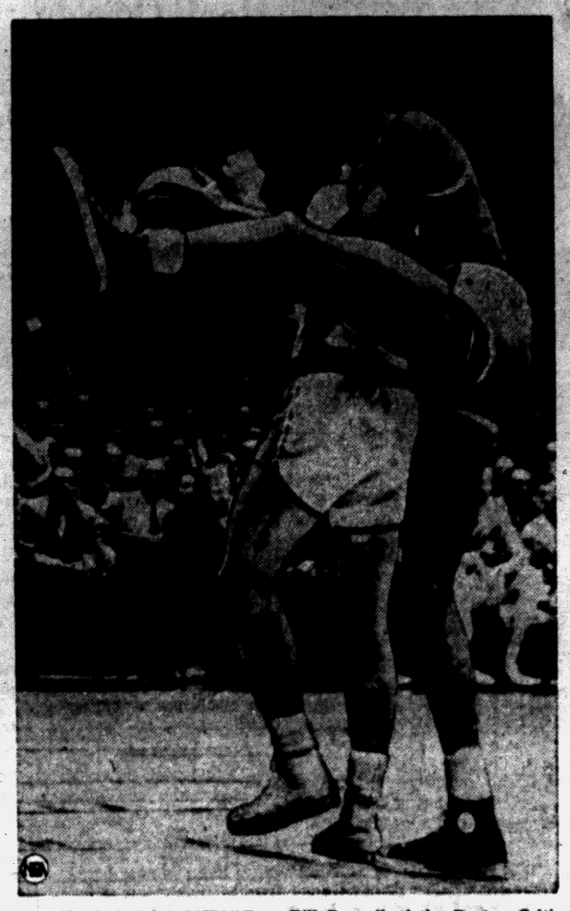

Those who called this department variously identified the little brown-gray flecked creature as a "pipit," one of several species of sparrows, a killdeer, and others of the finch or lark families.

Most, however, believed it is a young prairie or horned lark. That's what former Lincoln Junior High teacher, A. B. Madden says. "These birds nest very early in the spring," says Madden.

Mrs. E. J. Moran of Rochester, who has many birds about her home, thinks it might be a swamp sparrow, or young killdeer. She has been feeding wild birds four or five loaves of bread daily.

The "pipit" title was given by Mrs. O. R. Baker of Sylvan Lake, who said "these birds are around unusually early this year, but it's early for them to hatch. They stay around all year, belong to the lark family."

A description of the mother bird of another little one like "what's his name?" came from Mrs. Bertram Smith, Crescent Lake. "We saw it in our yard with a little bird," she reported. The mother was running about for food. She was almost exactly like the baby, but had a black band across the throat under a white area. Not any bigger than the young bird.'

THAT'S A LEG, MISTER — Bill Russell of the Boston Celtics gave a kick to keep his balance during a game — and showed the fans and camera a basketball player's idea of what a leg should be. Russell's leg spring helps make him the best rebounder in professional basketball.

Wolves Gain Split in Track, Baseball

The baseball and track teams at Clarkston divided closely-played contests yesterday afternoon.

The diamond performers blew a 4-2 lead with the help of eight errors to drop a 5-4 decision at Fenton, while the track forces of Mel Vaara eked out a verdict by the margin of 1/6 of a point over Ortonville—54 7/12 to 54 5/12.

The baseball team fell apart after Coach Gus Birtsas removed starter Dave Gaddis to get a look at some of his other chuckers. Second reliever Leroy Parks walked two and moved them around on wild pitches to lose the tilt in the 7th. Gaddis allowed one hit and fanned five in five frames and garnered three of Clarkston's six safeties.

John Holser pulled out the track triumph breaking a tie with his victory in the 880 and finished as the top individual scorer with 12½ points. Two Ortonville boys set school records. They were Sorallish in the pole vault and Wallerman in the shot put.

PHS Thinclads Head for Ohio

Pontiac High's thinclads, defending titlists for the 26th annual Mansfield O. Relays, left here at 10 a.m. today to compete in Saturday's field of more than 100 Ohio and Michigan prep track and field teams. Coaches Dean Wilson and Ray Lowry accompanied the squad of 13 making the trip.

Birmingham, Rochester and Berkley high schools will also be represented at the nationally-rated event.

Preliminaries begin at 10 Saturday morning, finals at 2 p.m.

Paula Myers Wins Springboard Title

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — Paula Jean Myers, a pretty University of Southern California senior, is America's new three-meter springboard champion.

She took the title last night as the National AAU Senior Women's Indoor Swimming and Diving Championships closed a three-day meet.

Solons Request New Boat Laws

House Committee Wants Motor Craft Registered With Coast Guard

WASHINGTON (INS)—The House Merchant Marine Committee urged Congress today to require millions of Americans to register their outboard motor boats with the Coast Guard.

The committee also proposed a number of other measures designed to bring safety and order to the fast-growing pleasure boating field.

Chairman Herbert C. Bonner (D-NC), said that the committee's study demonstrated the need for new legislation.

Among other things, the committee recommended:

1. Periodic registrations and numbering of over three million outboards under 16 feet, not now required to have numbers.

2. A requirement that all other power-driven craft, including auxiliary powered boats up to 65 feet to "re-number" every three years. At present only one registration is required.

Dodgers Offered City Land for New Dream Park

NEW YORK (AP)—Mayor Robert Wagner today readied a proposal to place before the Board of Estimates allotting 78 acres of city-owned property as a site for the dream ballpark which supposedly would keep the Brooklyn Dodgers in New York.

The plan to turn over the Flushing Meadows property in Queens for Dodger use was submitted yesterday by park commissioner Robert Moses. Wagner said the proposal would be presented to the Board of Estimate for "informal discussion" next Thursday.

Dodger President Walter O'Malley, considering a shift of the National League franchise to Los Angeles, toured the proposed Long Island site, some 12 miles from mid-town Manhattan, Monday and yesterday said he had "an open mind. I am willing to listen to more about it."

BETTERS WORLD RECORD — Carine Cone of Ridgwood, N. J., pushes off the pool's end on her way to a world record breaking 1:03.8 in last night's finals of the National AAU Women's Indoor 100-yard backstroke championships at Beverly Hills, Calif. The old record was 1:04.6 set by Holland's G. Wilma in 1950.

'Faded Shadow' Sparks Giants

NEW YORK (AP) — They laughed when the New York Giants signed 38-year-old Hank Sauer and called him a "faded shadow" of the man who was voted Most Valuable Player in the National League back in 1952.

"They're desperate, grabbing at straws," the critics charged. "They're trying to plug a hole with a name. They know he's finished."

The big man made them eat their words yesterday at the Polo Grounds as he made the old days come back for at least one soggy afternoon.

Many thought manager Bill Rigney would have done better to start Whitey Lockman, an old Giant favorite, in left field instead of the craggy-faced veteran who was making his fourth — and probably last — stop with a National League team. When his name boomed out over the public address system, there was only perfunctory applause.

But when it was over Sauer's single had tied the score at 1-1 in the fourth inning and his 250th home run off Curt Simmons with one on in the sixth had knocked out the Phillies' ace lefthander. Sauer's hitting plus a three-run homer by Gail Harris was more than enough for a 6-2 victory.

Although Sauer hit only five homers last season in 75 games with St. Louis, he is No. 6 among the active major leaguers with 250. Only Ted Williams, Stan Musial, Duke Snider, Gil Hodges and Del Ennis have more. Men like Yogi Berra, Mickey Mantle and Ted Kluszewski are behind him.

In other National League games the Dodgers, with Sal Maglie throwing a four-hitter, knocked off Pittsburgh 6-1. The Chicago Cubs cracked 15 hits to defeat the St. Louis Cardinals 10-2. And the New York Giants kept Philadelphia winless 6-2.

The New York Yankees again had to rally in the ninth, beating Boston 3-2. Chicago's White Sox handed Kansas City its first defeat, 6-2, behind Jack Harshman's four-hitter. And Washington finally became a winner with a 6-4 job on Baltimore.

The Yankees needed a pop-fly RBI triple by Gil McDougald and Elston Howard's single for two ninth-inning runs in edging the Red Sox and Frank Sullivan, who retired 19 in a row at one point. Bob Grim won in relief.

Harshman rode in on back-to-back honors by Minnie Minoso and Sherm Lollar, good for three seventh-inning runs and a solo shot of his own in the eighth. Loser Alex Kellner and Joe DeMaestri homered for the A's.

NBA Sessions Held in Quiet Fashion

ST. LOUIS (AP)—National Basketball Assn. players and owners met yesterday in an almost frictionless conference resulting in initial recognition of the Players' Association.

Both Maurice Podoloff, NBA president, and Ed Macauley, spokesman for the players group, described the closed meeting as harmonious.

The 66-year-old Podoloff said he saw an expansion of the league's franchises within a few years. Chicago, Cleveland and Pittsburgh were listed by Podoloff as cities where NBA teams may one day perform.

"The only bottleneck preventing expansion is the obtaining of good personnel," Podoloff said. "We must get good players who won't dilute the quality of the rest of the league."

★ ★ ★

Podoloff said he thought television had helped in "merchandising" the game and bringing in more fans.

★ ★ ★

Along with recognition of the Players Association and an agreement to meet annually with it, the NBA Board of Governors and the players' representatives introduced a method of arbitration.

Under it, a player who believes he has a grievance not covered in his contract may take it to Podoloff for settlement.

★ ★ ★

If he's denied, the player may then appeal to a three-man committee made up of members of the Board of Governors chosen by the player involved. A majority decides.

Macauley cited three NBA players as providing the spadework in former years leading to yesterday's recognition.

★ ★ ★

They were Bob Cousy of Boston, Dolph Schayes of Syracuse and Jim Pollard, formerly of the Minneapolis Lakers and one of the league's greatest all-time performers.

As usual, the Board of Governors decided not to touch the rules.

Four years ago was the last time a major rule change — the 24-second rule — was adopted.

Irish Setters Run in 2-Day Field Trials

Six events in two days have been arranged for the field trials, Saturday and Sunday, for the Irish Setter Club of Michigan. Trials will be under direction of Ed McIvor of Dearborn, assisted by Pontiac's Tom Moffat. Highland Recreation Area is the site.

Events include an open derby, open all-age, puppy stakes, novice stakes, amateur gun dog stakes (open to any pointing breed) and open gun dog stakes. All but the amateur event are restricted to Irish setters.

Draw takes place tonight at 8 o'clock at Sea Food Grotto on Seven Mile road.

THURSDAY'S HOME RUNS
Harris, Sauer, Giants; Hodges, Snider, Dodgers; Bauer, Yankees; Gernert, Red Sox; Aaron, Braves; Kellner, DeMaestri, Athletics; Minoso, Lollar, Harshman, White Sox; Smith, Maris, Indians; Sievers, Senators.

Detroit Sophomore Runs Well in U. of M. Scrimmage

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Fred Julian, a hard-running sophomore, looks more and more like Terry Barr's successor at right halfback on the Michigan football team.

The stocky 19-year-old from Detroit bit off yardage in large chunks as the Wolverines held their first spring practice scrimmage yesterday.

A constant ground-gainer during the drill, Julian scored two touchdowns. One came on a picturesque 35-yard gallop off left tackle. The other was on a 5-yard jaunt through the same position.

"Julian looks like he is going to be real good," coach Bennie Oosterbaan said before the scrimmage.

★ ★ ★

After it was over, Bennie beamed and repeated the observation.

Julian is a powerful runner who has been described as faster than he looks. Unlike Barr, his running style consists of rapid shoves. Barr's running was more fluid and graceful.

But despite the difference in style, the results have been the same so far this spring.

Oosterbaan has yet to unveil his single wing, Michigan's basic formation. In yesterday's scrimmage, the attack was all T. But emphasis was put on the winged T, the formation Iowa parlayed into Rose Bowl and Big Ten championships last fall.

Sticking with the T yesterday, Oosterbaan's first three teams tallied seven touchdowns in more than an hour of scrimmaging.

Scoring Slump Hits Tourney

Division Leaders Still Safe as ABC Bowlers Start Final 10 Days

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — A scoring slump marked the American Bowling Congress tournament yesterday.

★ ★ ★

None of the 64 booster teams came within striking distance of the division leaders as the ABC meet moved into its final 10 days of action.

★ ★ ★

I.C.T. Insurance Co. of Dallas topped the night's scoring with 2452. Odell Thomas led the squad with 508.

★ ★ ★

The Rea Cress team of Junction City, Kan., holds the booster division lead with a 2796 posted April 6.

Ken Johnson of Oak Ridge, Tenn., clicked off a 658 series yesterday for the best singles mark. He shot games of 215, 178 and 265.

There were no changes in the standings.

Library Gets Book Loaned 36 Years Ago

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (UP) — Omar Bacon, public librarian, says a copy of "Stoddard's Lectures" was returned after a "loan" of 36 years.

A friend of the person who borrowed it April 21, 1921, brought it back with the explanation:

"He was too ashamed to return it himself."

★ ★ ★

Bacon didn't ask for the $216 in overdue charges, but he began checking up on some of the library's other books and found a copy of "The Plays of Euripides" in a collection bequeathed to the library. It had been checked out of the Goucher College Library in Baltimore in 1928.

Bacon sent it back to Goucher.

Ike May Alter House Grounds

Idea for New Building by Executive Mansion Could Start Controversy

WASHINGTON (UP) — President Eisenhower favors expanding the White House grounds for construction of a new office building for future presidents.

Eisenhower's ideas along these lines may touch off controversy. One always seems to boil up whenever anyone suggests physical changes around the White House.

★ ★ ★

The President's thoughts on the matter were outlined yesterday by his press secretary, James C. Hagerty, who emphasized they still are tentative.

Hagerty said Eisenhower thinks it would be "a good idea" to enlarge the White House grounds to provide for construction of a modern office building with adequate room for presidential staff members.

★ ★ ★

The President's office is in what is known as the west executive wing, situated just west of the mansion proper and its living quarters. Despite several interior renovations over the years, the wing still is too small to house the President's entire staff.

The overflow is accommodated in the old State-War-Navy building, across the street. So is personnel of several other executive branch agencies.

★ ★ ★

The most recent controversies over alterations to the White House flared while President Truman was in office. He proposed additions to provide more office space, but they were blocked.

The most celebrated furor during Truman's regime flared, however, when Truman ignored a storm of protest and added a balcony on the south side of the White House.

Bear Good Barometer

MOUNT CLEMENS (UP) — Sheriff's detective Leon Kandt says he has a sure sign that spring is coming — his pet bear has finally come out of hibernation. And it's the longest the bear, named Billy, has slept in the 12 years Kandt has owned him. He went into hibernation on Nov. 15. "Now that he's awake, warm weather is assured," Kandt said. "Billy is a good barometer."

Convict Actor's Son of Drunk Driving

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (UP)—Edward G. Robinson Jr., son of the famous actor, has been convicted of misdemeanor drunk driving.

Robinson, 24, was charged with felony drunk driving in connection with a June 21, 1956, accident in which a companion lost an eye. However, a Superior Court jury yesterday found him guilty of the lesser offense.

★ ★ ★

The actor's son is free on $1,000 bond pending a probation and sentencing hearing May 13.

This was the second time Robinson had gone to trial on the drunk driving charge. The jury was unable to reach a decision after the first trial last October.

Negro Children Hit by Shot in Texas

DENISON, Tex. (UP)—A sniper in a passing car last night fired a shotgun blast at three young Negroes playing in front of a housing development here, spattering them with pellets.

Police identified the three wounded children as Arthur Gable, 14, Ruby Jo Ricks, 10, and Henry Sam Ricks, 13.

★ ★ ★

Officers said they were not seriously hurt, although each suffered "half a dozen or more pellet wounds" on the arms, legs and body. They were being treated at a hospital here.

★ ★ ★

The blast was the latest in a series of demonstrations in the Negro area of town since three Negro teen-agers were charged with raping a 17-year-old white girl April 7. The previous demonstrations were limited to rock throwing, however, and caused no injuries.

Hollywood Headlines

Stars of the Past Erred With Dashing Originality

By HUBBARD KEAVY

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Maybe I was more starry-eyed in those bygone days, but it seems to me that when the Errol Flynns and the John Barrymores strayed from the conventional paths, they did so with a great deal more derring-do than the Sinatras and Mitchums of this era.

★ ★ ★

When actors of an earlier day got into trouble, and they did so with alarming frequency as newspaper library files attest, they did so with more ingratiating qualities than their counterparts of today.

I was impressed, as were most newsmen, with the great Barrymore, John. There was a man who, whatever he accomplished, did it with brilliance. He loved every second of his eventful life. I found him haughty and aloof one time, roguish and picaresque the next. His conversation sparkled with well-turned phrases and Rabelaisian wit.

★ ★ ★

For no particular reason, John asked me to help him launch the Infanta, a $15,000 yacht. The party lasted long after the Infanta slid into the water. There were buckets of champagne. I wondered where John would take her on the first trip. "You know, there's a rare South American condor I'd like to have. I'm going down the West Coast and bag one. Crazy people think up crazy things to do. Want to go along?"

It wasn't the bubbly talking, after all. Barrymore went after the condor, bagged it and caged it on his estate in Beverly Hills. The bird was a horrific looking thing, with a penchant for kissing his master. His — or her — name was Murphy.

The three Barrymores, separated when young, were rather cool and formal toward each other. At a dinner party the hostess addressed Ethel, John and Lionel, "You folks have been introduced, haven't you?"

★ ★ ★

In Hollywood there always have been but two classes: first class and no class. "First class" was well illustrated when a famous producer — famous but broke — gave an elaborate dinner, served on gold plate rented for the occasion, to 50 persons he wanted to impress. The wine and the conversation were sparkling. Suddenly the butler whispered to the host. He excused himself, went to the front door and handed the keys to his new Cadillac to the man who was there to repossess it.

★ ★ ★

Tom Mix, suddenly catapulted into the millionaire class on his $11,000-a-week salary, went nowhere except in the longest white car—on whose hood was a large silver horse head — and wearing the inevitable white, well-tailored cowboy suit. With black piping. Every fence and newel post, every door, every gate on his acres was adorned with the TM brand. Tom's idea of first class may have been a mite repellent to less flamboyant people, but he was colorful. He helped make a little town—or rather a segment of sprawling Los Angeles — one of the best known datelines in the world.

Tomorrow: Clara Bow and other extroverts.

John N. Garner was the first vice president to leave the U. S. when the President was away. When Garner left in 1936, Cordell Hull acted as President until Roosevelt returned.

Navy Embarked on 'Operation Appendix'

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — An entire squadron of Navy destroyer escorts participated in making an emergency appendectomy in rough weather at sea a success.

Several contributed hospital corpsmen to assist. The USS Spangler sent two cans of ether. Other ships helped with equipment. All, including the men, were transferred by line to the USS Alvin C. Cockrell.

The surgery was performed by Lt. Demetreos Malikis, medical officer, sent by boat from the USS George.

William R. Brown, member of the Cockrell crew, was the patient. He and all others got a "well done" for success of the operation.

GOP Solons Ask Hike in Sales Tax

LANSING (AP)—A rise in the state sales tax from the present three to four cents on the dollar is the aim of four Republican senators.

★ ★ ★

Their proposal, involving an amendment to the state constitution, would funnel half of the extra revenue into the state school aid fund, starting in 1959.

The resolution was submitted in the Senate yesterday by Sens. Haskell L. Nichols of Jackson, Frank Andrews of Hillman, Lynn O. Francis of Midland and Lloyd A. Stephens of Scottville.

★ ★ ★

If it wins two thirds approval of both the Senate and House, the propositions would go in the November, 1958 general election ballot.

Coleman Praises Ike's Budget Cut but Wants More

WASHINGTON (AP) — President John S. Coleman of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce today praised President Eisenhower's proposal for cutting the federal budget but said it does not "go far enough."

★ ★ ★

Coleman referred to Eisenhower's letter to House Speaker Rayburn, which said fiscal 1958 appropriations could be cut by $1,858,000,000. He called the letter "courageous and statesmanlike."

The chamber has been urging reductions of almost 4½ billion dollars in the appropriation requests presented in the budget last January.

★ ★ ★

"A continuation of the searching self-analysis which has been conducted by the President and by his administrative leaders can produce even greater yields," Coleman said. "It should not stop with this first set of recommendations."

Views Divided on Red A-Tests

Legislators Don't Agree on Meaning of Blasts Set Off by Russia

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chairman Durham (D-NC) of the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee said today a series of five Russian nuclear test explosions this month indicates the Soviets have a substantial supply of atomic weapons.

But another member of the group, Rep. Van Zandt (R-Pa), said the closely spaced tests could mean the Russians are still trying to develop weapons worth stockpiling.

★ ★ ★

The Atomic Energy Commission said Russia on Tuesday detonated somewhere in Central Asia one of the largest of the five nuclear devices it has exploded since April 13.

"This series of explosions shows they have a good supply of finished weapons, not just nuclear material," Durham said in an interview. "You would not expect them to waste weapons if they were in short supply."

But in a separate interview, Van Zandt said the known total of Soviet tests, which he placed at about 20, is still less than a third the number already conducted by the United States.

★ ★ ★

"We were testing one weapon after another when we didn't have many in stock," Van Zandt said. "I think that's what the Soviets are doing now—testing for first one characteristic and then another. There's no point stockpiling weapons until you are sure you have something worth stockpiling."

Mackie Says Suit Won't Deter Him

LANSING (AP) — John C. Mackie, state highway commissioner-elect, says he will not be deterred by an impending challenge to his legal qualifications to serve in the office.

"The threat of a law suit by the Michigan Society of Professional Engineers will not alter my determination to serve in the office to which I have been elected, and to build a modern highway system which every Michigan citizen will view with pride," he said.

★ ★ ★

Mackie commented yesterday on an MSPE decision to go to court to question his eligibility for office on the ground that he is not a registered engineer.

Andrew Kucher Named Ford Vice President

DETROIT (AP) — Andrew A. Kucher yesterday was named vice president of Ford Motor Co., in charge of engineering and research. He succeeds Earle S. MacPherson who has become an advisor on engineering policy.

Kucher, widely known in scientific circles, will supervise all central product engineering, research, scientific laboratory and testing activities.

Interns to Bring U.N. Atmosphere to City Hospital

It will be like a United Nations roll call at Pontiac General Hospital after July 1 when seven foreign interns begin their internship here.

Most members of the Board of Trustees and Director Miss Lauretta Paul had some tongue-twisters last evening announcing the new names.

Here's why: Luis L. Bendezu, Peru; Selcuk Canakkalell, Turkey; Serge Rochemont, Haiti; Escolastico D. Deccampo, Philippines; Jose Ma. S. Griensen, Mexico; Rafael F. Rivas and Meridiano M. Faxas, both from Cuba.

Strangers in the group of interns will be David C. Packard, Baylor University; Robert B. Johnson, College of Medical Evangelists; and Ernest L. Burnell, University of Arkansas.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Arnold Brown, chief of staff, said the influx of foreign interns resulted when the hospital received only two out of its regular nine interns from a national rating system. But he praised the foreigners as coming from qualified schools.

Top Parts Managers Cited by Pontiac

Pontiac Motor Division was host this week to its 25 most outstanding parts managers from Pontiac dealerships around the nation. All were winners in the company's annual "Belt of Champions" contest. Representing each of the division's 25 sales zones, the men spent two days touring G. M. facilities and were awarded leather belts with silver and gold buckles set with diamonds.

★ ★ ★

The national winner in Pontiac's contest designed to stimulate sales activity in parts and accessories was James D. Miller of Memphis, Tennessee. He was awarded a special belt and buckle set with two diamonds.

In announcing the awards, A. L. Drury, national parts and accessories manager, said they were based on management ability, sales promotion, inventory control, display, neatness, efficiency and initiative.

NOTICE TO PUBLIC
(Sale of Buildings)

Located in the Village of Rochester, Oakland County, Michigan.

Sealed bids will be received until 10:00 A.M. on Tuesday, April 30, 1957, for the sale of the buildings owned by the Michigan State Highway Department, and described as:

BFL—Item No. 1—Parcel 10, 1½ story frame house located at 218 Diversion St. (Former, Cowan property.)

NB—Item No. 2—Parcel 10, frame garage with attached shed located at 218 Diversion St. (Former, Cowan property.)

These items listed are intended to include all accessory buildings, sheds, fences, etc. located on the immediate premises, unless otherwise indicated.

Each item must be bid separately.

Sealed bids should be plainly marked: "Bid 63-38 R, Sale No. 884" on the outside of the envelope and should be mailed or delivered to: Michigan State Highway Department, Right-of-Way Division, Room 537, Stevens T. Mason Building, Lansing, Michigan.

These items must be completely removed from the property within thirty (30) days from the date of Notification of Administrative Board approval.

Certified Check, Bank Draft or Money Order for FULL AMOUNT of bid, payable to the Michigan State Highway Department, must accompany each bid of less than $100.00. All bids of $100.00 or more must be accompanied by a certified check, bank draft or money order in the amount of 20 per cent of the bid, made payable to the Michigan State Highway Department. DO NOT SEND CASH OR PERSONAL CHECKS. Deposit will be promptly returned if bid is not accepted.

It will be necessary that the successful bidder deposit a certified check, money order or cashier's check in the amount of $100.00 for each item, guaranteeing that the buildings will be demolished to ground level and all combustible material, masonry and debris removed from site. Basements must be cleared in accordance with the following specifications which are indicated by code letters opposite each item:

BFL—Clean basement to floor level.
GL—Fill and grade to ground level.
NB—No Basement—No grading necessary.

This deposit will be returned promptly upon inspection and approval by the Michigan State Highway Department.

Successful bidder must be prepared to pay the balance in full upon notification of acceptance of bid, and to have the items completely removed from the property within the period of time indicated on the Item Sheet.

Buildings must be removed at the risk and expense of the successful bidder and in conformity with the ordinances, rules and regulations and zoning restrictions of the City or Township in which the buildings are located. The obtaining of all permits necessary is the responsibility of the bidder.

It is the responsibility of the bidder to inspect the buildings as the Michigan State Highway Department makes no warranties or representations as to the state or conditon of the buildings or their contents.

DEMOLITION BIDS

A deposit of $200.00 for each item bid must accompany all bids for salvage or demolition payment by the State. Successful bidders for demolition are considered Independent Contractors and will be required to agree to save harmless the State of Michigan and the Michigan State Highway Department from any damages resulting from demolition operations. Deposits will be returned with demolition payments when site is cleared to specifications recited in this Notice. Deposits will be promptly returned if bid is not accepted.

Right is reserved to reject any or all bids and to waive defects in the bidding.

Britain May Have Made So-Called Clean H-Bomb

By JOHN H. MARTIN
INS Foreign Director

British engineers may have succeeded in making a "clean" hydrogen bomb.

★ ★ ★

This belief comes from Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's statement that the danger of radioactivity in the coming H-bomb tests at Christmas Island in the Pacific will be "insignificant."

Japanese and other demands for global abolition of the nuclear tests are based on the mounting fear of the hazards to world health resulting from accumulating poisoning of the atmosphere in the increasing tests.

The so-called "clean" bomb is one in which the quantity of radioactive fission products released is smaller in proportion to the energy-yield of the explosion.

★ ★ ★

Bombs previously tested have depended on three separate parts. In the middle is a conventional atomic bomb. Around it is a layer of heavy hydrogen-containing substances which are touched off by the explosion of the atomic detonator. Around the hydrogen layer is an outer jacket of uranium.

The latter, as a result of the immense temperatures and speed of atomic particles set free in the first two stages, also undergoes explosive action.

THE DIRTY BOMB

Most of the explosive power of the bomb comes from this outer layer. This three-decker, or fission-fusion-fission bomb, as it is called, is the "dirty" bomb.

★ ★ ★

Actually, it is a huge uranium bomb and whenever uranium is exploded radioactive dust, including strontium-90, is produced.

Explosion of this outer, supposedly inert, jacket of uranium was said to have surprised American testers in 1954. The jacket originally was put around the hydrogen layer simply to hold it together while the explosion developed.

Fission of the outer uranium coat of the "dirty" bomb may produce 500 times more fission products than an atomic bomb; that is, testing of one "dirty" hydrogen bomb is equivalent to testing 500 A-bombs whereas a "clean" H-bomb produces no more fission products than one A-bomb.

WITHOUT JACKET

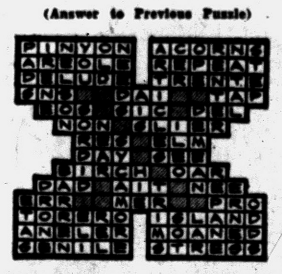

It is possible British scientists under Sir William Penny have found another way of holding part of the bomb together without using a uranium jacket. The latter, of course, always could be added in case a dirty bomb was wanted in wartime.

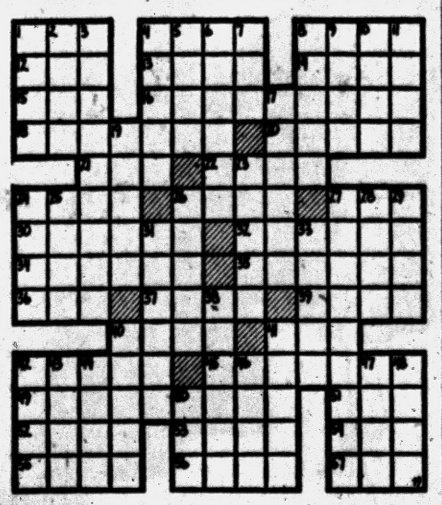

★ ★ ★

The demarcated danger area in the Pacific is nearly 1,000 miles across, indicating a plan to test a dirty bomb. Perhaps the original decision has been altered to test a "clean" device without, however, shrinking the announced danger belt.

Birds have a third eyelid which serves as a shade when they are flying into the sun or other strong light.

Bette to Hostess Film Program

Top Movie 'High Noon' Sold to Television for Home Screening

By JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK (INS) — Richard (Medic) Boone in "Have Gun, Will Travel" gets the Saturday Night time, having shot down "Hey, Jeannie" . . .

Although we think that CBS series has been a flop from every standpoint, we still insist Jeannie Carson has more talent than her TV travail has indicated . . .

Bette Davis will hostess a film series and star in a few, a la Joe Cotten's design for luxury . . .

"High Noon," one of the greatest movie Westerns, has been sold down the TV channels . . . It'd make a great one-shot spectacular . . . So would "Shane" . . .

Desi Arnaz told friends he has bought out CBS-TV's interest in "I Love Lucy" for $1,000,000 down . . . "Lucille and I now own it 100 per cent," he gloated . . .

VARIED VARIETY

Steve Allen's May 12 program runs the gamut: Evangelist Billy Graham and Pearl Bailey . . . Maybe Pearl will bring along her brother Bill, ex-tap dancer now a minister . . .

Jerry Lewis will air his June 8 NBC show from Hollywood, despite the nasty things he said about West Coast studio audiences . . .

June Havoc's role in the George M. Cohan spec will be as Trixie Friganza, a big star in Cohan's day.

CBS owns 26 Merle Oberon TV films ("Assignment: Foreign Legion") but is on tenterhooks trying to find out if Merle is marrying Bruno Paglia for sure and if she'll then bother to make any more . . .

U.S. Steel's Duke Ellington jazz drama May 8 ("Drum Is a Woman") will be that show's first colorcast . . . The duke composed the music and his band will perform same . . .

CAREER BLOSSOMS

Ed Wynn's dramatic career careens along luxuriously: Alcoa Hour's "Protege" May 19 stars Ed as a performer attempting a comeback under the wing of an adman he befriended as a youth . . .

The Mariners will try again. Atlantic City's Steel Pier wants them so they'll add a singer for the retread . . .

If Art Carney takes the huge NBC offer it will mean he can't be Gleason's top CBS banana . . .

Mabel Mix, widow of silent screen cowboy Tom Mix, was signed as technical adviser on the TV series, "The Adventures of Tom Mix," but one of the movie cowpoke's daughters claims her consent wasn't sought and wants to keep the series corraled until that little technicality is settled . . .

Alistair Cooke's been signed by 20th Century-Fox to introduce and narrate its "Three Faces of Eve" film . . .

Fair Commission Gets New President

Harry Garling, of 2220 Clarkston Rd., Lake Orion, who has served as president of the Michigan State Fair Commission for two years, has been succeeded by Harold Zorlen, a 53-year-old Capac dairy farmer.

Zorlen was elected president yesterday. Garling will continue as a commission member.

Frank Kinsora, of St. Clair Shores, past president of Detroit Local 199, Motion Picture Operators of America, was elected vice president.

Moscow Warns Spain Against Joining NATO

LONDON (AP) — Moscow radio warned the Spanish people last night against joining NATO.

"This entails terrible risks," said the Spanish-language broadcast, which came just a week after the U.S. Congress urged Spain's admission into the Atlantic Alliance.

★ ★ ★

The Kremlin station told the Spanish people in terms similar to recent warnings to NATO members and other U.S. allies that any soil used as a base for aggression would be subject to retaliation.

Bullfight Enthusiasm Leaves Wilson Cold

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—May I open the baseball season by throwing out the first bullfighter?

There seems to be a sudden growth in the legalized butchery called bullfighting. I'm amazed that such refined All-American Girls-Next-Door as Ava Gardner and Abbe Lane, the actresses, find it charming.

"I've got a bull's ear on the wall at home in Hollywood," beautiful Abbe gloated to me the other lunchtime.

★ ★ ★

"And I've got a bull's tail that somebody gave me!" bragged her husband, Xavier Cugat.

"So what do you do with your bull's ear?" I asked Abbe. In Spain and Mexico everybody important's got an ear or a tail, the gift of some matador. In Bronx where Abbe comes from, this hasn't caught on yet.

"I put it in salt and hang it on the wall in a plastic bag," she said.

For Coogie, who's Spanish, it's o.k., but for Abbe it seems like she ought to be digging up a chest protector and playing a little catch with the Yankees, instead.

$6,184 Donated to City Hospital

Contributions as Result of Actor's Appearance Amount to $822.92

Pontiac General Hospital Director Miss Lauretta Paul presented some pleasant news to the Board of Trustees last night when she reported that $6,184.22 had been donated to the hospital.

★ ★ ★

This included $822.99 from contributors as the result of the Pontiac appearance of movie actor Sal Mineo last December. Nancy Donaldson, daughter of mayor William W. Donaldson, chose Pontiac General as her favorite charity for proceeds of Mineo's appearance to go.

Another $500 was donated by Dr. Edward G. Bauer, $250 by the General Printing & Office Supply, $4,340.61 from the auxiliary's "High Fever Follies," and $271.62 from the February auto show.

Trustees instructed the funds be deposited in a general purpose fund for future hospital equipment.

Driver Rams Other Car When Sees Wife in It

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Edward English Boshers, 40, explained the automobile collision to police:

"The other man was driving with my wife in his car and I tried to break it up."

"Didn't you run into the same man's car several months ago for the same reason," asked Traffic Inspector Willard Jett.

"Sure did," said Boshers, who was charged with assault and battery and reckless driving.

Mother-in-Law, 102, Honeymoons With Couple, 77

LOS ANGELES (AP)—"I certainly never expected to take my mother-in-law on my honeymoon," observed bridegroom Jerry Linville as he hopped from a train at Union Station.

Linville, a retired salesman, is 77. His bride Rachel is 77 too. And his mother-in-law Mrs. Elizabeth Hiers is 102.

★ ★ ★

Jerry and Rachel were childhood friends in Harrison, Ohio. But Jerry left town, married and moved here. His wife died three years ago. He found Rachel again, living with her mother in Detroit, and they were married.

★ ★ ★

It was the first time for Rachel. Her mother was quoted by a newsman at the station as saying she had begun to fear Rachel "might turn out to be an old maid."

Youth Asks Information on Guided Missiles

WHITE SANDS PROVING GROUND, N. M. (AP)—Scientists here have a penciled letter from an 11-year-old in Jasper, Ala. It requests "any information and pictures you can send me on rockets and guided missiles." Then it explains: "I have asked my science teachers, but they don't know too much."

Officials said the boy's name was withheld for "reasons of security—his!"

DETROIT (INS) — United Auto Workers President Walter P. Reuther will appear on the nationally televised "Face the Nation" program Sunday, answering newsmens' questions about the Senate Labor Rackets Committee.

Frisco's Police Seek Hit-Runner

Manhunt Continues for Driver Who Brutally Dragged Man to Death

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — San Francisco police searched relentlessly into the fifth day today for the hit-run motorist who struck and brutally dragged a machinist to his death.

The huge hunt started Sunday when Lloyd V. Stephens, 62, was trapped under the right front fender of a car that hit him as he started across a Mission intersection. A zig-zag 1,200-foot stream of blood marked the car's path as it jerked forward, swerved and slowed before dislodging Stephens' mangled body.

★ ★ ★

Some fifty persons watched horrified from the streets. One man saw it from his third-story window. Two motorists chased the death car in vain.

Nobody got the license number but some witnesses said it was either a 1952 or 1953 Mercury.

San Francisco newspapers appealed for leads in the case and the Examiner offered a $1,000 reward to anyone who provided "any information that leads to the identification and conviction of the hit-run killer."

★ ★ ★

Capt. Daniel Kiely, accident investigation bureau director, estimated that 6,000 man-hours of police work already has gone into checking the hundreds of leads that have come in.

Every officer on the street is watching for a clue, he said.

Arrest City Woman in Check Forgery

A 43-year-old Pontiac woman was turned over to agents of the U. S. Treasury Department yesterday accused of forging government checks.

Jerry Biggs, 44 Harris St., was arrested by Pontiac Officers Lon Peters Jr. and Patrick F. Weaver at a local bar Wednesday.

★ ★ ★

Lt. William Nesbitt, head of the vice squad, said the woman was apprehended on request of Special Agent Joseph F. Malkowski, who had been looking for her for about nine months. He contacted Nesbitt Wednesday afternoon.

She was traced through the Oakland County Probation department and fingerprints from the Pontiac Police, according to Nesbitt.

Bank Tellers Relieved —Nickel Thief Caught

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Tellers at the Germantown branch of the Western Saving Fund Society won't be troubled with counting nickels deposited by John E. Anderon Jr. any more.

★ ★ ★

He was arrested by police and charged with robbing parking meters.

Anderson, 29, turned in $195 in nickels at the saving fund branch last month. He had 2,000 more in his room awaiting deposit.

Ex-Workers Center Planned by UAW

DETROIT (AP) — A retired workers' center in Detroit that will be a "part of the community" is in the plans of the United Auto Workers union.

Walter Reuther, president of the giant UAW, told a meeting of the National Committee on aging here yesterday that he envisions the proposed center as the scene for research that could be used in enlarging on the program nationally.

Discussing problems of the aged, he said his union is in favor of optional retirement, higher pensions, pre-retirement training so "workers can look forward to retirement with great expectation." and new, small houses and apartments designed especially for retired persons.

Grocer Lumps Easter Worries Into One Big Egg

WHITTIER, Calif. (AP)—Appalled at the prospect of dyeing scores of Easter eggs for the kiddies? Wanna do things up big? How about an ostrich egg?

Ralph Caylor, who operates the Model Markets here, has two ostrich eggs. He has cornered the market so to speak, because there are no known ostriches in this area, and furthermore, ostriches are moulting now and eggs are scarce.

But before you start, consider these statistics:

It takes 1½ hours to boil an ostrich egg, a hacksaw to open one, and the interior is equal to 3½ dozen chicken eggs. Price, about $20 an egg.

Movies Offer Contract to Former Pitching Great

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Dizzy Dean, who used to be a pitcher and now is a baseball announcer, may soon be a movie star.

C. V. Whitney, who heads a film producing company, said he has offered the onetime St. Louis Cardinals pitching ace a "four-week, five-figure" contract to appear in "The Missouri Traveler."

Ol' Diz, who reportedly favors the deal, would play the part of a small town storekeeper, Whitney said.

Flint Briar Enthusiast to Act as Judge

Pipe Smokers Aim at All-Time Record

LANSING (AP) — A pipe-smoking state representative from Flint has a date to breathe enough tobacco fumes into his nostrils to last any ordinary person for quite a while.

But Paul J. Parker, elected from Genesee County's first district last November, figures he'll take it in stride.

Parker, a briar enthusiast, is going to be chief judge of the Michigan regional pipe smoking championship to be held at Flint a week from Saturday.

Although there are no formal entries, he says the field of an expected 50 or 60 contestants is certain to include two former world pipe smoking champs.

* * *

Parker says they will be aiming to break the all-time record set by the late Max Igree, in whose honor the April 27 competition will be held.

Igree puffed on 3.3 grams of tobacco, or about one ninth of an ounce, for two hours, five minutes and seven seconds to post the mark that never has been equalled, Parker recalled.

ALL START EVEN

Parker said each contestant will be handed the same quantity of tobacco, all of it from the same container, along with two kitchen matches, in a cellophane bag.

When the chief timer gives the signal, entrants will be given 60 seconds to stoke up their briars and meerschaums.

Then, judges will go around and pick up burnt or unused matches, and the empty bags that held the tobacco. Thereafter it will be strictly between the man and his pipe . . .

The one who keeps the tobacco burning longest will win.

Parker said a true artist at this will light only a small portion to one side at the top of his pipe load, then puffing very gently, coax the fire down one side of the bowl to the bottom and up the other.

* * *

From time to time, he said, the process will be controlled with manipulations of a pipe tamper, a small spike of metal with a rounded, flattened head.

With this type of nursing, how can a judge tell when a contestant's pipe goes out, he was asked.

* * *

"He must emit smoke on the judge's orders," was the answer.

Parker is looking forward to the 0th annual world championship competition to be held next September at Lake Placid, N.Y., and hopes to be there—as a spectator.

Damascus Paper Says Hussein to Get Divorce

DAMASCUS, Syria (INS) — The Damascus newspaper Alfayha quoted a "highly reliable source" as saying Jordan's King Hussein soon will announce he is divorcing Queen Dina and marrying his cousin.

The bride-to-be was identified as a daughter of Hussein's uncle, Sherif Hamed Saadeddin, Jordan's ambassador to Syria.

On his return to India from America, Prime Minister Nehru made it plain that he had invited President Eisenhower to visit India, but had obtained no positive reply. The President said he would like to come.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug counter.

Waterford to File Petitions for Village

Petitions for incorporationg Waterford as a village are near completion and will be filed early next week, according to a spokesman for the group promoting incorporation.

Once the petitions are filed, there will be a series of open meetings for discussing the pros and cons of the movement, the spokesman said.

Various village residents and attorneys will be asked to speak on the subject, before any special election, which may be called after the petitions are filed, the spokesman said.

Bachelors Ball Goes On but Girls Won't Attend

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Bachelors Ball will be held as scheduled April 27 at the Sheraton-Palace Hotel but invitations to spinsters under 21 have been rescinded.

The bachelors acted regretfully because the ball was threatened with suspension if minor girls were allowed.

California law prohibits serving liquor to anyone under 21.

During the period it has been in the possession of the United States, the state of Montana has been a part of six national subdivisions.
