JFK Sends Solons $1.25 Wage Bill

A Break in the Quiz

AP Photofax

U.S. and Russia Strength Equal, Probers Find

Study Sees No Missile Gap, Agrees With Ike's Jan. 12 Message

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States and the Soviet Union have equal strength, the new top Pentagon command has concluded tentatively.

This finding—that there is no "missile gap" favoring the Soviet Union at present—is based on a swift but careful investigation ordered by President Kennedy.

He said Jan. 12 in his farewell State of the Union message, "The 'bomber gap' of several years ago was always a fiction, and the 'missile gap' shows every sign of being the same."

The new civilian chiefs at the Pentagon also are convinced that there is no "destruction gap" that would imperil U.S. security in the months ahead.

Apparently, there is not sufficient information at hand to conclude whether there would be a "missile gap" in the future.

ORDERED BY JFK

In his State of the Union message Jan. 30 Kennedy said he had ordered the reappraisal of military strategy to meet a coming "period of uncertain risk."

In his fourth debate with former Vice President Richard M. Nixon last Oct. 21, Kennedy said of the Soviets and their missile strength compared to that of the United States:

"They made a breakthrough in missiles, and by 1961-2-3 they will be outnumbering us in missiles. I'm not as confident as he (Nixon) is that we will be the strongest military power in 1963."

At present, the new Pentagon team appears to be convinced the Soviets do not have more nuclear-tipped missiles than the United States.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara is under order to have the military reassessment ready for the White House by the end of the month.

The odds appear strong that McNamara will recommend some changes, particularly to add muscle to American ability to wage limited wars in far off areas.

The new study also appears to give substance to another Eisenhower view — that the Soviets have not launched a crash program to manufacture missiles.

Expect Clouds and Light Snow —More Warmth

Fair to partly cloudy tonight with light snow beginning over the extreme south portion is the weatherman's forecast. The low will be near 16.

Mostly cloudy with light snow spreading over the southern third of the state is forecast for Wednesday.

The mercury is expected to rise again into the 30s. Skies will be partly cloudy Thursday. The high will be in the low 30s.

Morning southeasterly winds at 5 miles per hour will become northeasterly at 10 to 14 m.p.h. Wednesday.

Thirteen was the lowest recording in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. The temperature had climbed to 35 at 1 p.m.

Fights Tax Dole to State Schools

Rep. O'Brien Would End Mandatory Divvy of Sales Levy

LANSING (AP) — A Democratic legislator, bent on sweeping constitutional revision, today proposed to end required diversion of half of the four-cent sales tax to local school districts.

Rep. E. D. O'Brien, D-Detroit, also proposed boosting local government's half-cent share of the sales levy to a penny. The increase would be worth more than $50 million a year to cities and villages.

O'Brien, who has sponsored more bills and constitutional amendments this year than any other legislator, filed a bill to enable local governments to levy an income tax.

Before the legislature adjourns this spring, he said, he will propose about 30 amendments to the 53-year-old constitution.

"This will point up the many areas of the constitution that need revision and point up the need for a new one," he said.

Voters will decide at the April 3 election whether to call a convention to rewrite the state's basic charter.

Another O'Brien proposal would abolish the primary school interest fund, financed chiefly by taxes on railroads and utilities.

Sales tax and primary school interest revenues, now earmarked for schools, would be channeled into the state's general fund.

"This would give the legislature more control of the money the state spends," O'Brien said.

"It would help avoid situations like those in 1959 when there was money in the treasury but most of it was earmarked for special purposes, preventing the state from meeting more pressing obligations."

'OUTLIVED USEFULNESS'

GM Employe's Idea Works

SUGGESTION PAYS OFF — Pontiac Motor's first maximum suggestion award of 1961 was paid yesterday to Clifford J. Stasiuk, (center), a machine repairman for the Master Mechanics department. Making the $5,000 payment in U. S. Savings Bonds were B. E. Starr (left) works manager, and J. F. Blamy, manufacturing manager. Stasiuk, 112 Pioneer St., suggested a major improvement to a cylinder block machining operation. The award marks the sixth $5,000 payment to Pontiac employes since General Motors raised the maximum award to that figure in June 1959. Division employes took home more than $178,000 for their ideas in 1960.

Asks Coverage for 4.3 Million More Workers

Pay Increase Would Be Gradual to Soften Blow to Employers

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy today sent to Congress — with a plea for "prompt consideration — a bill to boost the $1 minimum wage to $1.25 and give 4.3 million more workers the protection of a wage floor.

The higher minimum, Kennedy said in a message to House Speaker Sam Rayburn, D-Tex., would be achieved by a series of annual rises "to which employers can readily adjust."

"Our nation can ill afford to tolerate the growth of an underprivileged and underpaid class," the letter said.

"Substandard wages lead necessarily to substandard living conditions, hardship and distress.

"Since the last increase in the minimum wage both living costs and productivity have increased to such an extent that the proposed bill merely reflects an adjustment to keep pace with these factors."

The draft bill to amend the Fair Labor Standards act spells out the minimum-wage proposals Kennedy recommended in his antirecession and economic policy message to Congress on Feb. 2.

3-YEAR PLAN

Employes now under the wage minimum would be stepped up to $1.15 in the first year, $1.20 in the second year and $1.25 thereafter. About 24 million workers are now covered by the law's provisions.

For the millions of new workers that would be embraced by the bill—mostly in the retail trades and services—an initial minimum wage of $1 an hour would be fixed.

This would be increased to $1.05 in the second year, $1.15 in the third and $1.25 thereafter.

The 40-hour week provisions of the wage law would not apply to the newly covered employes in the first year, so that their employers could make an adjustment to the new wage levels before being obliged to comply with overtime payment provisions.

Such employers would have two years to adjust to the 40-hour work week standard.

Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, D-N.Y., chairman of the House Labor Committee, said hearings on the administration proposals will begin Friday, Feb. 17.

Four days of hearings are planned, one day each for the administration, labor, management.

Kennedy Sends Note Vouching for Weaver

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy told the Senate Banking Committee today he has no doubts about the loyalty of Robert C. Weaver, his nominee for federal housing chief.

Kennedy rushed a letter to committee Chairman A. Willis Robertson, D-Va., with the unqualified endorsement after Robertson refused to start a hearing on the Weaver nomination without it.

After receiving the letter, which he read to a packed hearing, Robertson began hearings on the controversial appointment of the New York Negro. He had held up the hearings more than one and one half hours.

Kennedy wrote Robertson that, "As is customary in nominations of this importance," the FBI conducted an investigation.

"And it was fully reviewed and evaluated," Kennedy said. "If confirmed I am most confident Mr. Weaver will perform an outstanding service to our country as administrator of the housing and home finance agency."

Kennedy's letter, dated today, said:

"Dear Sen. Robertson:

"I have your recent letter concerning my nomination of Mr. Robert C. Weaver to be administrator of the Housing and Home Finance Agency.

"As is customary in nominations of this importance, a report on Mr. Weaver was submitted to me by the Federal Bureau of Investigation and this report was fully reviewed and evaluated.

"I am most confident that if confirmed, Mr. Weaver will perform an outstanding service for our country as administrator of the Housing and Home Finance Agency. I am pleased to give you my views in this instance and I appreciate your interest."

Robertson had announced at the start of the hearings that he had written Kennedy Jan. 30 asking him for assurances of Weaver's loyalty.

Mackie Offers Jobs for 8,000

Sends His Plan on State Road Work to Kennedy and Hodges

LANSING (AP)—State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie today proposed an emergency highway maintenance program that he said would put 8,000 jobless workers to work "almost immediately" in the state's critical areas of unemployment.

It will require a $10-million federal grant, he stated.

The commissioner, who is campaigning for re-election, said the proposal grew out of a meeting of state highway officials last night.

Some 8,000 of the state's 320,000 unemployed, he said, could be put to work for 90 days, repairing bridges, landscaping highways, trimming trees, painting guardrails, repairing drainage facilities and doing other maintenance work.

The Highway Department already has the facilities for administering the program, he said.

Mackie said unemployed men with families would rate highest priority in getting temporary jobs.

Antitrust Sentencing Ends

Fix Fines Hit $2 Million

JUDGE GANEY

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Fines against electrical manufacturing companies reached almost $2 million today as a federal judge completed two days of sentencing for antitrust violations.

The Kuhlmann Electric Co., 2565 E. Maple Road, Troy, Mich., was among those fined.

Chief Judge J. Cullen Ganey in U.S. District Court completed sentencing on 14 indictments in a little over two hours today, compared with Monday's day-long session on six indictments.

The difference was that Monday defense attorneys made lengthy talks. Today most of them said they stood on what they had said Monday.

Sentencing moved so fast today that at one point Ganey pronounced a $20,000 fine on Cornell-Dublier Electric Co., Plainfield, N.J., before asking the company attorney if he had anything to say.

The lawyer jumped to his feet. Ganey apologized saying:

"Oh, excuse me. I have these worked out so well that I did not notice."

The lawyer said he felt his company was innocent. After he completed his talk, Ganey repeated the $20,000 fine.

Kuhlmann Electric of Troy was fined $10,000. The firm's vice president, Joel Watkins of 1011 Puritan St., Birmingham, was fined $1,500.

Other fines were Allis-Chalmers, West Allis, Wis., $20,000; McGraw-Edison, Elgin, Ill., $25,000; Malony Electric Co., St. Louis, $15,000, and Wagner Electric Co., St. Louis, $15,000.

The 29 companies and 45 individuals involved were charged with price fixing and bid rigging in the sale of equipment that generates, transmits and distributes electric power. Fines totaled $1,924,000.

Twenty-two corporate defendants were fined a total of $964,500 today on 14 indictments.

Fourteen of their executives were fined a total of $28,500, and five of the 14 also received suspended 30-day jail terms.

Monday Judge Ganey sentenced seven executives to jail for 30 days, and gave 19 others 30-day suspended sentences.

Beard Police, Firemen in Their Yen for Growth

By MAX E. SIMON

Pontiac's police and firemen, used to close shaves in their daily duties, have had the law spelled out on their duty during the city's centennial festivities.

Orders for both groups are to continue taking close shaves. "Not against criminals," hastily explained Acting Police Chief Joseph Koren.

"Nor in fire fighting," added Fire Chief James R. White.

It's beards about which the two chiefs spoke.

They've trimmed any ideas police or firemen might have had about growing whiskers.

"I can't stand to look at myself in the mirror," said the police chief.

"We're a semimilitary organization," added the police chief.

"So are we," added the fire chief.

"Beards funny? Not to anyone being ticketed or arrested," Koren said.

TOUGH PROBLEM

He thought awhile.

"Maybe if we could all grow luxurious long ones, it'd be okay. We'd all look alike and be semimilitary . . ."

He waved aside the idea.

"I know I can't, and that's that," the police official explained.

Problems arise, he admitted.

Who'll throw beardless beings into the miniature pokeys if they're set up?

And, also, how to keep his officers out of the hoosegow?

"Beards sure grow into tough problems," he sighed.

Hannah to Stay On as Rights Chairman

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dr. John Hannah has reconsidered and will stay on as chairman of the Civil Rights Commission, the White House said today.

The announcement was made by press secretary Pierre Salinger after Hannah had conferred with President Kennedy.

Hannah, president of Michigan State University and a former assistant secretary of defense in the Eisenhower administration, had submitted his resignation from the Civil Rights Commission.

He has been a member of the commission since it was set up in 1957.

The White House had said earlier that Kennedy intended to ask Hannah to stay on as chairman.

Blue Cross, Shield Bids Defended

DETROIT (AP) — Blue Cross and Blue Shield contended at a public hearing today that both require rate increases because "more people want and need more services."

The hospital-medical insurance plans expressed belief subscribers would reject a reduction in benefits as an alternative to increased rates.

The hearing was before State Insurance Commissioner Frank Blackford in Detroit's Cobo Hall. It attracted an estimated 250 spectators.

The first protest against the proposed rate increase came from Sara Lovell, representing the Socialist Workers party. She described present rates as "outrageous" and said they should be reduced instead of increased.

Miss Lovell proposed that the state of Michigan organize its own health plan, modeled after Canada's, which she said cost a maximum of $4 a month per family.

Blue Cross, through which approximately 3.5 million persons in Michigan prepay hospitals, has asked Blackford for a 22 per cent rate increase. The doctor - operated Blue Shield plan is asking 13.5 per cent more.

Congo First Test for JFK Regime

From Our News Wires

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. —A peace plan for the troubled Congo will give the Kennedy administration its first real test in the cold war struggle with the Soviet Union, diplomatic sources said today.

U. S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson and Soviet Ambassador Valerian A. Zorin have been holding "quiet diplomatic" consultations in an effort to end strife in the new African nation.

Stevenson said Monday the United States has been conducting "an exploration around the world in an effort to find a consensus" on the Congo.

Asian and African nations, hopeful of support from the United States, pressed their campaign in the Security Council today for release from prison of deposed Congo Premier Patrice Lumumba.

Ceylon, the United Arab Republic and Liberia were preparing a resolution demanding release of Lumumba, disarming of the Congo army led by Maj. Gen. Joseph Mobutu and reconvening of the Congo Parliament.

In the Congo, Mobutu moved troops to the borders of Oriental Province to mount a new offensive against Lumumba supporters.

Mobutu won a victory at Bumba two weeks ago and cleared the area of Lumumba troops.

United Nations and Congolese officers met in the Kivu Province town of Kindu Monday in an effort to prevent further clashes between U.N. and Congolese troops.

At Shangugu, Ruanda, the breakdown in a big power plant abandoned by European technicians left a large area of the neighboring Congo and this Belgian trust territory without power and water for the third day.

Europeans who operated the Kima plant, near Bukavu in the Congo's Kivu Province, fled a month ago to Ruanda after harassment by Congolese soldiers and marauding bands. Kivu Province is dominated by forces loyal to Lumumba.

In 1959 Earnings Came to $4.36; Promotion Promised for 1961

NEW YORK (AP) — Studebaker-Packard Corp. has reported making a 1960 profit of $708,850 on sales of $323,226,663.

Sherwood H. Egbert, the firm's new president, said Monday that earnings amounted to 9 cents for each of the 7,117,410 common shares outstanding.

After giving full effects to conversion of the $5 convertible preferred stock to 5.5 million additional common shares after Jan. 1, 1961, the earnings were equal to 5 cents a share, he said.

Studebaker-Packard earnings in 1959 were $28,541,338 on sales of $387,272,375, equal to $4.36 each on shares then outstanding.

In the fourth quarter of 1960, sales totaled $81,829,086. Egbert said a fourth quarter operating loss was more than offset by favorable year-end adjustments.

At year's end, working capital stood at $87,346,976, including cash and marketable securities totaling $29,893,863, compared with $73,459,101 and $62,164,009 at the end of 1959.

Southwest Befogged in Snow, Rain

By The Associated Press

Snow, sleet, rain and fog besieged Texas while the Northeastern states labored today to eradicate the drifts of their multimillion-dollar weekend storm.

One to two inches of new snow fell in an area from North Central Texas through Eastern Oklahoma and into Eastrn Kansas.

The snow is spreading toward the Middle Mississippi and the Lower Ohio River Valley. Spared from the new snowfall was Texas' Eastern Panhandle, buried under previous amounts up to 12 inches.

Motorists drove with caution Visibility was reported cut to 40 feet in Macomb County.

There were no plane cancellations from either Detroit Metropolitan Airport or Willow Run, however.

Fidel Upbraids U.S. Guantanamo Fears

HAVANA (UPI) — Premier Fidel Castro's official radio said today government seizure of the water company supplying the U. S. naval base at Guantanamo was "designed to regulate rather than disturb" its operation.

The broadcast described U. S. fears that Castrolite authorities might cut off the base water supply were "hysterical."

Wayne State Psychologist Here Feb. 14

Dr. Fritz Redl, professor of behavioral sciences at the Wayne State University college of education, will be featured speaker at an open meeting of the Oakland Child Guidance Clinic next Tuesday, Feb. 14.

The meeting had previously been reported scheduled for tonight. However, it will take place a week from tonight.

The meeting, to begin at 7:45 p.m., is open to the general public. It will be held at the Community House Auditorium, 380 S. Bates St., Birmingham.

Dr. Redl will speak at 8:30, according to Dr. William Westmaas, president of the clinic. He will describe his investigation and treatment of difficult child behavioral problems.

"Before his remarks, the annual meeting of the Oakland Child Guidance Clinic will be held, and the public is invited to participate in this meeting," Dr. Westmaas continued.

"Our official business will include the clinic's annual report and election of officers," he said.

"Following Dr. Redl's presentation, the audience will be invited to stay for light refreshments. No reservation to attend either portion of the meeting is necessary," Dr. Westmaas added.

JFK Sends Solons Minimum Wage Bill

Powell said only brief new hearings are necessary because of long, detailed hearings last year.

The bill would extend the law's wage and hour provisions to the following enterprises:

1. Any company having one or more retail or service establishments if the annual sales volume is not less than $1 million.

2. Any enterprise having one or more establishments engaged in laundering, cleaning or clothes repairing, and having annual sales of at least $1 million.

3. Any local transit business.

4. Any establishment engaged in commerce not included in the first three categories if its sales volume is at least $250,000, or, in the case of construction, $350,000.

Out-of-State Narcotic Prescriptions Nixed

LANSING (AP) — Narcotics or hypnotic drugs cannot be issued in Michigan on prescriptions prepared by doctors not licensed to practice in the state, the attorney General's office has ruled.

The question was raised by the State Board of Pharmacy.

Atty. Gen. Paul L. Adams said that prescriptions written by out-of-state doctors for drugs other than narcotics or hypnotics may be honored by licensed pharmacists. He cited the uniform narcotic drug act to back up the ban on non-Michigan prescriptions.

PARIS (AP) — Gen. Pierre Jacquot of France today was appointed NATO commander in central Europe. He replaces Gen. Maurice Challe, who resigned from the French Air Force.

Santa Maria Passengers Glad to Be Back Home

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Thirty-eight passengers from the liner Santa Maria, which wrote modern-day history on the high seas, arrived home by plane today, calm but grateful.

"There were tears—you'll never know," said Mrs. Chester A. Churchill, Lima, Ohio and Asheville, N. C., as she walked from the Real Air Lines plane which flew them here from Brazil.

On their arrival here today, the passengers were treated to breakfast at the Miami International Airport hotel's restaurant after they were processed through customs.

GLAD TO BE HOME

One of the first passengers to clear customs was Lucille Gray, Chicago, who told newsmen "You don't know how glad I am to be home."

Mrs. Gray said the first thing she was going to do was place a long-distance telephone call to her brother, Dale Sturman of Berwyn, a Chicago suburb. Asked where she was going to stay, she said she didn't know, but "even sleeping in a park will be fine."

Mr. and Mrs. Churchill cleared next. Churchill, a retired Ohio contractor, said, "It takes a trip like this to make you realize the prestige of the United States and the freedom of this country. You don't have to have men with guns at the airport.

Mrs. Churchill emphasized, "We (Americans) have lots of friends in the world. I want to tell you." She said when the American plane first sighted the Santa Maria, every Portuguese in sight embraced an American he could find. "There were tears. You'll never know, Adm. Smith handled everyone with perfect confidence. He gave us no false promises. He told us we would have to wait."

City Police, Firemen Bearded in the Yen

The fire chief fears the chance of blazing beards.

"The city manager and I reached the decision," he said.

"Men at fires would have trouble slipping masks over the beards," he added.

For both police and firemen, orders are orders.

But, still, how do they feel about it?

"Frankly, I think my men will be secretly relieved," said the police chief.

However . . .

Police Sgt. Eugene Hendren was disappointed. "I think it'd be kind of nice," he said. "If we were arresting somebody, he wouldn't feel as badly as now. After all, we'd have our beards in common."

Other comments from police: Sgt. Ted Goines: "It's no whiskers off my beard. I couldn't grow one anyway."

Patrolman Raymond Dickinson: "I'm with the chief. On the side of the beardless that is."

Patrolman Freeman Stalions: "For this, I'd have had to start last January. I didn't. I won't. I don't really care."

'I'D BE CAREFUL'

Some comments:

Lt. Robert Sartell: "I'd be careful. After all, in a fire, I'd guard a prized possession like that."

Fire Fighter Carl Widdis: "I don't care what they do on beards, Me? I think they look dirty."

Engineer Don Thorpe: "They let firemen wear beards at other centennials. I don't wanna set my beard on fire, but who wants to be different?"

CHANCE LOST

Engineer Farrell Ashley: "Alas, the chance of 100 years! Lost, never to be had again."

"Everybody's beard would get tangled up sliding down the poles, and they'd miss the trucks," he declared.

"And besides, we'll have plenty of beard fires to dash to without worrying about ourselves on that score," he predicted.

Centennial headquarters was opened yesterday in the spacious basement meeting room of the new Pontiac Public Library building on East Pike Street in the Civic Center.

For Leo Spaeth, veteran manager of many a centennial observance and historic celebration, it was a welcome move.

"Most towns are hard put to find more than an old store for a headquarters, or some office space nobody else wants," said Spaeth as he slid behind his new desk.

"This is the newest centennial headquarters I've ever worked in and one of the most convenient."

A field manager for the John B. Rogers Producing Co., Pontiac's centennial consultants, Spaeth will be on the job full time through the official centennial celebration, June 17-24, coordinating increasingly complex planning.

His services are included in the contract the centennial commission has with the Fostoria, Ohio, consulting firm.

WE THANK YOU

Ralph T. Norvell, chairman of the headquarters committee, and Stuart E. Whitfield, general chairman of the centennial, tipped their hats to City Hall and to Phyllis Pope, city librarian, for the rent-free office space.

They pointed out its advantages —municipal parking for the public across the street; proximity to City Hall and the offices of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce in the Waldron Hotel; historical material in the library proper upstairs.

The headquarters has space for meetings of up to 70 persons, plus work areas for voluminous mimeographing and mailing operations during the coming months.

Office equipment is being loaned by Pontiac industry and business. Seven desks already have been moved in.

Norvell expected there would be a full-time staff of four eventually. "Plus lots of volunteers."

First person to join Spaeth's staff is Mrs. Marie Schwach, 3911 Covert Road, Waterford Township, centennial secretary who has been working with Whitfield on the celebration full-time since December.

The license of Joseph Piurkowsky, 45, of Johnstown, was suspended by Pennsylvania's secretary of revenue following a ruling that all state employes must take a physical examination for a driver's license. Piurkowsky is a bridge foreman for the State Highways Department.

Cambria County Court said Monday the secretary had abused his discretion in suspending the license without investigating the individual problem.

Testimony disclosed that Piurkowsky had driven motor vehicles for 23 years without an accident or traffic violation. He uses no special equipment in the vehicles he drives.

Mull 2 Dorm Facilities for Western Michigan

LANSING (UPI) — Two dormitory facilities, costing an estimated $2.15 million, will be constructed at Western Michigan University if the State Senate goes along with a resolution passed Monday night by the House.

The House approved a resolution allowing the State Board of Education to let contracts for the dormitories and food service facilities at the Kalamazoo institution.

The dorms, self-liquidating projects, will house 1,500 students.

The Day in Birmingham

Two Alley Improvements Fall to Hail of Objections

BIRMINGHAM — Two proposed alley improvements were tabled indefinitely last night after City commissioners heard a number of objections to a portion of the project.

The total $85,700 improvement program included paving and necessary drainage work on the alley on the west side of Woodward Avenue from Lincoln to Bird and the east side of Woodward from Ruffner to Sheffield.

Opposition to the project at this time came only from the merchants on the west side of Woodward. The cost of this part of the program would be $47,700, and would be assessed against businesses benefiting from the improvement as would the east side development.

The commission's decision was based primarily on the request of Harry D. Wesch, owner of Wesch Cleaners, 1456 S. Woodward Ave., who summed up the feeling of the protestors in a letter to the city officials.

Wesch wrote that he has been in favor of the improvement and still considers it a good idea. "However, I feel this is not the time to consider such a move."

"In the past two years our city and county taxes have risen, as have MESC, Social Security and other taxes, as well as labor and supplies, making it increasingly difficult to defray additional expenses," added Wesch.

"The present picture in this area is not encouraging and I feel it would be a very real hardship on any business to assume the cost of paving at this time."

The Hickory Grove Elementary School Parent-Teacher Association will meet Thursday at 8 p.m. at the school, 2800 Lahser Road.

The featured speaker will be Dr. Leonard Cohen, director of measurement and guidance for the Oakland County Board of Education. His topic will be "Standardized Tests, What Good Are They?"

New officers of the PTA will be elected at the meeting.

Dr. Val H. Wilson, president of Skidmore College in Saratoga Springs, N.Y., will be guest speaker tomorrow at 7 p.m. at a kick-off dinner for the Skidmore College Development Campaign at the Women's City Club in Detroit.

Michigan chairman for the drive which will begin Thursday is Mrs. George W. McCormick Jr. of 1633 Quarton Road. Mrs. Harry O. Hoyt of 781 N. Glenhurst Road is the local chairman.

According to Mrs. Francis C. McMath of 3249 Bradway St., president of the Skidmore Alumnae Club of Greater Detroit, the purpose of the drive is to raise funds necessary to enlarge the college library, construct a new science building and build a new dormitory for 300 women students.

Sees 'Need' for Colonies in Space

DETROIT (AP)—Rocket Expert Dr. Wernher Von Braun said Monday night the colonization of the moon and the near planets may be a necessity within the next 500 years.

Von Braun told a Society of Automotive Engineers meeting here that if man keeps up his present rates of lengthening life and reproduction there will be "standing room only" on earth in 500 years, making expansion into space imperative.

The colonization of other planets will be made possible by man's ability to create artificial environments, Von Braun said.

He said the first manned lunar landings may require refueling in space, even with the still hypothetical four-state C2 Saturn rocket.

Charge 5 Steal Naval Secrets

British Spy Case Stirs Fears Reds May Know Allied Defense Setup

LONDON (UPI) — Britain charged at the start of its most sensational espionage trial in a decade today that a five-member spy ring stole key Allied naval secrets and sent them to Moscow by short wave radio.

The disclosure stirred fears that Russia now knows full details of how the United States and NATO plan to defend themselves against the Soviet Union's fleet of 500 submarines.

Atty. Gen. Sir Reginald Manningham-Buller never mentioned Russia specifically during his two-hour opening statement in Bow Street Criminal Court.

But he said if 55-year-old British member of the spy ring was recruited for his espionage work by a Russian posing as a U.S. Naval officer, and he left no doubt that the "foreign power" involved was the Soviet Union.

Manningham-Buller said that Henry Houghton, 55, a Briton who had served 20 years in the Royal Navy, told police he got into the espionage business through a ruse.

The attorney general said Houghton, a civilian clerk at the naval research station at Portland Navy Yard, first agreed to pass on top secret information at the request of someone who identified himself as "Cmdr. Alexander Johnson, U. S. Navy."

Manningham-Buller said "Johnson" actually was "Gordon Lonsdale," one of the three men and two women charged with passing the top secret information to the "foreign power."

NATIONAL WEATHER — Most of the nation east of the Plains will have wet weather tonight except for New England and western New York. Snow is forecast for the area from Missouri to the mid-Atlantic states with rain and showers elsewhere as well as some snow in the Rocky Mountain area. Weather will remain wintry in the Gulf with a rise in temperature in the southern Plateau.

Bewitched Phone Nice but Suspicious

NEW YORK (AP)—A crazy, mixed-up pay telephone in the Criminals Courts Building gives forth with sweet music when you pick up the receiver.

It's better than a juke box—you don't have to put in a dime, and there's no rock 'n' roll.

If some one drops in a coin and makes a call, the conversation has a background of muted trumpets, soft saxophones, delicate violin notes and a gentle piano.

ARE YOU IN A BAR?

Imagine his embarrassment when he phone his office and his secretary—hearing the sweet accompaniment for the first time—asked: "Are you in a bar? I hear music."

The telephone booth is in the Criminals Courts Building press room, and it's making it hard for reporters to get off the hook when they phone their offices.

When their editors hear "Stay as Sweet as You Are" coming over the wire, they get a bit suspicious.

A telephone company spokesman said he did not know the source of the music.

"Through some induction beneath the cable," he said, "the phone may be picking up some radio music coming from a bar and grill or piped music being serviced to a restaurant."

Hawaii, the "big island" of the 50th state, is nearly twice as large as all the other Hawaiian Islands combined.

Factory Work Week Average at Low Point

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The length of the average factory work week fell to a postwar low of 38.5 hours in January.

Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg said Monday that this represented an "abnormal decline" of 18 minutes from the December figure of 38.8 hours and indicated the "gravity" of the business slump.

The work week is considered a key indicator of the health of the economy. It fell to 38.7 hours during the 1958 recession, the lowest previous level since the end of World War II.

Honoring St. Paul Year

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — The Roman Catholic Church has begun its celebration of the arrival in Rome 1,900 years ago of the apostle St. Paul. The anniversary year was opened Sunday by a pontifical mass in St. Paul's Basilica in Rome.

Auto Deaths Up, but Rate Is Best Yet

CHICAGO (UPI) — The nation's motorists drove a record 715 billion miles in 1960 and set a record low for the number of traffic deaths per miles driven, according to the National Safety Council.

Although the 1960 traffic toll of 38,200 deaths was the highest since 1957, the council said Monday, the ratio of 5.3 traffic fatalities per 100 million miles of motor vehicle travel was an all time low. The 1959 ratio was 5.4.

The council said the number of traffic deaths was up more than one per cent from the 1959 total of 37,910. The total number of disabling injuries caused by traffic accidents in 1960 was 1.4 million.

A slowdown in the number of traffic deaths during the dangerous wintry months helped establish a record for deaths per mile driven, December 1960 traffic fatalities totaled 3,520, down 5 per cent from the 3,708 persons who died in December 1959 traffic accidents.

The safety council listed an honor roll of states and cities which cut their death total during 1960. Heading the list was Rhode Island, with a 36 per cent reduction in fatalities, while Providence lead the cities with a dramatic 63 per cent drop in traffic deaths.

Chicago led the nation's largest cities with the least traffic accidents per 10,000 registered vehicles.

Among cities with populations above one million, the Chicago ratio was 2.7, followed by Los Angeles with 3 and Detroit with 3.2.

Defectors Mentioned

LONDON (UPI) — The names of American defectors William Martin and Bernon Mitchell were brought up in testimony today at the trial of three men and two women charged with passing secrets of one of Britain's largest naval bases to a "foreign power."

Fidel Tells Students to Hold Rally for Him

HAVANA (UPI) — Premier Fidel Castro's government called today for a schoolboy "demonstration of solidarity" to offset the anti-Castro student strike that hit private secondary schools here Monday.

Castroite students were summoned to a mass meeting outside the Cuban "White House" at 6 p.m. today. It was not immediately certain whether Castro would deliver a balcony speech to the students who turn out.

Heart Ailment Is Fatal for Sylvan Lake Woman

Mrs. Winifred Perrin, 59, of 1756 Beverly St., Sylvan Lake died yesterday of a heart ailment at Pontiac General Hospital after an illness of two years.

Cadillac

The same road...but what a difference!

This is the lane that leads home—and he has driven it more times than he can remember.

But there's something different about it today—for this is the first time it has rolled beneath the wheels of his new Cadillac car.

First of all, there's the way a 1961 Cadillac smooths out that familiar surface. By the time those bumps and irregularities have been absorbed in that marvelous new suspension system . . . and cushioned in those deep Cadillac seats . . . they are almost impossible to detect.

Then there is the car's extraordinary quiet. Cadillac's careful craftsmanship and precision engineering provide such silence of operation that you can speak in a whisper.

And what poise and balance the car has! It is wonderfully steady and sure-footed through every mile . . . and it has a feeling of solidity and substance that comes from no other motor car.

Of course, these are but a few of the myriad pleasures of driving the new "car of cars"—in addition to its great handling ease and its magnificent interior comfort and luxury.

May we suggest that you take a 1961 Cadillac out soon on some challenging stretch of highway—and see for yourself?

Your Cadillac dealer will be happy to let the car work its magic for you at any time.

No Stuffed Shirts . . . JFK and Nikita

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — The two K's—President Kennedy and Premier Khrushchev—have some things in common besides debating Richard M. Nixon.

Neither is a stuffed shirt. Both, to some extent, are unpredictable and give their bodyguards the creeps.

They're blunt, have humor, believe in action, and show an interest in individuals.

He would scoot away, buttonhole strangers, pop up in shirtsleeves on his hotel balcony in full sight of any crackpot with a gun.

GIVS 'EM FITS

He gave them fits at the inaugural ball by jumping boxes to shake hands with friends.

At 2 a.m. he dashed off to a party in a friend's house in Georgetown.

Kennedy, like Khrushchev, is a shirtsleeves man.

Reporters who were with him during and after the campaign still recall his sitting down with them, coat off, smoking a cigar, chewing the fat for hours.

One day he wandered into the White House office of his press secretary, Pierre Salinger, found a newsman there, sat down and talked with him for 15 minutes.

Kennedy has always been informal. Even on his inauguration day he did the unexpected a few minutes before going to the Capitol.

He took a plaque across the street to the home of a woman neighbor as a token of thanks for her kindness in giving hot coffee to newsmen who had been standing for days in freezing cold outside his house.

The day after his election he began arrangements to have his own physician, Dr. Janet G. Travell, treat a newsman who had covered his campaign with an acutely painful ailing back.

Kennedy later appointed her White House physician, the first woman in history in that job.

Stolid Stalin sat in the Kremlin, Khrushchev, a man of action, bounces around the world, makes speeches, gives interviews, and has turned Russian foreign policy into new, imaginative, and aggressive channels.

Kennedy promised action which began as soon as he entered the White House and shows no signs of letting up.

The Russian likes bluntness, as he showed when the demolished the 1960 summit conference and ridiculed Eisenhower.

Kennedy also is blunt — as he said, by preference in repeatedly picturing the American economy in bleak and somber color.

Khrushchev has humor. He's a bit of a ham.

Kennedy's humor pops through also. The night after his inauguration at a private dinner he defended his appointment of his brother, Robert, 34, as attorney general by saying it gave his brother a chance to get some legal experience before he started to practice law.

Route Laid Out for Fliers in Powder Puff Derby

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI)—The route for the 1961 all-women transcontinental Powder Puff Derby air race was announced Monday by Mrs. Betty Willes of Rancho Santa Fe, Calif., race board chairman, said the starting point will be San Diego and the finishing point Atlantic City, N.J. It will be held July 8-12.

Mrs. Willes said 12 official stops have been designated, with three of them, Dallas, Tex., Montgomery, Ala., and Hagerstown, Md., required landing and check points.

Will 1961 Be the Year That Changes the World?

A strange man in Los Angeles known as "The Voice of Two Worlds," is offering, free of charge to the public, an astounding 64 page booklet analyzing famous world prophecies covering these times. It shows that four of the greatest prophecies could not come true until the present time. But now they can, and the years that change the world are at hand. Great dangers but still greater opportunities, confront forward looking people in 1961.

"The Voice of Two Worlds," a well known explorer and geographer, tells of a remarkable system that often leads to almost unbelievable improvement in power of mind, achievement of brilliant business and professional success and new happiness. Others tell of increased bodily strength, magnetic personality, courage and poise.

These strange methods were found in far-off and mysterious Tibet, often called the land of miracles by the few travelers permitted to visit it. He discloses how he learned rare wisdom and long hidden practices, closely guarded for three thousand years by the sages, which enable many to perform amazing feats. He maintains that these immense powers are latent in all of us, and that methods for using them are now simplified so that they can be used by almost any person with ordinary intelligence.

The 64 page booklet he is now offering free to the public gives guidance for those who wish to prepare themselves for the momentous days ahead. It gives details of what to expect, and when. Its title is "Beware of These Days!"

The book formerly sold for a dollar, but as long as the present supply lasts, it is offered free to readers of this notice. This liberal offer is made because he expects that many readers will later become interested in the entire system of mind power he learned in the Far East and which is now ready to be disclosed to the Western World.

For your free copy of the astonishing prophecies covering these momentous times, as revealed in this 64-page book, address the Institute of Mentalphysics, 213 South Hobart Blvd., Dept. 220-A, Los Angeles 4, Calif. Send no money. Just your name and address on a postcard or in an envelope will do. No obligation. Readers are urged to write promptly, as only a limited number of the free books have been printed.

Only 1 Airline on Route Between Miami, Havana

Service between the two cities was suspended Monday by Cubana Air Lines, operated by the Cuban government. National Air Lines said it has no plans to resume flights which were suspended last week.

Pan American said it had no plans to change its present reduced schedule of one round trip a day.

Passenger traffic on the once-booming route has shrunk to a few persons per flight because of Cuban and U.S. government restrictions.

U. of M. Gets Funds to Study Jap Politics

ANN ARBOR (AP)—The Carnegie Corp., New York City, has given a $200,000 grant to the University of Michigan for a study of the "political modernization" of Japan.

The five-year study, with special emphasis on the Allied occupation of Japan after World War II, will be directed by Dr. John W. Hall, U. of M. history professor.

Others involved in the project are Dr. Richard K. Beardsley, anthropology professor, Robert E. Ward, professor of political science, and Robert M. Spaulding Jr., a graduate student.

West Germany Now Aids U.S.

Offers to Repay Part of $787-Million Loan to Help Dollar Balance

BONN (UPI) — West Germany Monday made public its $1-billion program of eight points to help relieve the American balance of payments deficit.

The offer, made last Thursday, was announced at a press conference by economics ministry official Hans Henkel, who said Bonn has not yet received "any official reaction" from Washington.

Main item is an offer to repay immediately $587 million of Germany's outstanding $787 million postwar debt to the United States.

Henkel said the remaining $200 million would be "held in reserve" until the question of Germany's confiscated assets in the United States is cleared up.

Germany received $5 billion in postwar aid from the U.S. of this, $4 billion was a gift.

Henkel said that if Washington accepts the offer, Bonn will also repay at once its 67 million pound ($187 million) debt to England and its $5 million debt to France.

Did Secret Part Cause Polaris Fire?

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — A top-secret piece of equipment getting its first test may be blamed for a failure which turned an advanced model Polaris missile into a 15-ton "roman candle" and damaged its launching pad yesterday.

The 31-foot rocket blew apart in the middle when its booster stage apparently ignited at both ends simultaneously. The second stage soared low over the Cape before crashing about 500 yards away.

The upper section plunged into a barren area of the testing center's 15,000-acre expanse, and there were no injuries to personnel.

The failure was the first in four firings of the advanced Polaris which carries more powerful fuels in greater quantity than earlier versions already on duty aboard the nuclear submarines U.S.S. George Washington and Patrick Henry.

Missile scientists faced a pair of problems today — to find out what caused the mishap and to determine how severely the pad was damaged.

The device eyed as the possible cause of the failure was identified only as a "new piece of experimental hardware being flown in the booster stage for the first time." It was not carried in the first three updated Polarises, all of which were full successes.

EYE DEVICE

Sources said the new device could have caused the misfire, and that it was "being investigated as a possibility."

High-speed movie film which recorded the Cape drama will be given close scrutiny. Also, pieces of wreckage retrieved by missilemen working late into the night yesterday were inspected for clues.

The Air Force said damage to the pad "could not be determined immediately." However, sources said the launching facility, tortured by nearly five minutes of intense heat generated by the wildly puffing solid fuel first stage engine, "certainly suffered to some degree."

The failure was one of the most spectacular ever seen at the Cape.

Waterford Board Works on Full-Pension Plans

The move was an outgrowth of the request from township firemen and police for a retirement plan.

LATEST APPOINTEE — Dr. Arturo Morales-Carrion has been selected by President Kennedy to be deputy assistant secretary of state for inter-American affairs. His job, a big one, will be to try to improve our relations with Latin American countries. Morales was born in Cuba.

Elmer Johnson, township supervisor, was asked to determine the cost of a plan tailored to the township's needs. Johnson said he would meet with actuaries experienced in pension programming.

In other business it was announced that the township treasurer's office will be open 9 a.m. to noon Saturday to accept payment of 1960 township, school and county taxes. After Feb. 14, a 4 per cent penalty will be charged.

James Seeterlin, township clerk, was asked to study specifications contained in bids by two companies to sell a new, two-way police radio to the township.

The board approved erection of a backstop at Drayton Ball Park in Drayton Plains at an estimated cost of $800.

2 Men Escape Royal Oak Jail

Gouge Hole in Wall—California Pair Said to Have Eaten in Home

Royal Oak police are looking for two men who escaped early Sunday morning from a cell block of the Royal Oak police station, it was revealed today.

Francis R. Parmerter, 31, and Robert E. Matteson, 32, both of California, were being held on felony warrants for passing bad checks.

They made their break sometime between midnight Saturday and 5 a.m. Sunday, according to Royal Oak police.

Officers said the pair removed a light bulb in the lavatory of the cell block, then scored through the plaster wall and got through to the stockroom next door.

Police received a phone call from a man last night saying that the two men called him early Sunday morning from Ferndale. They told him they had just arrived in town and that they had no money.

He then took them to Telegraph road where they were going to hitch a ride.

The men were extradited from Tacoma, Wash., and had been in the Royal Oak Jail since Friday. Police said it is not known where the men lived in Royal Oak last November when the bad checks were passed.

Bulldozers Ripping Up Trees East of Clarkston for Freeway

There were cries of "timber" east of Clarkston today as workmen began toppling trees and brush where the new Walter P. Chrysler freeway will be built.

Two bulldozers and about 10 laborers moved into a section just north of Waldon and west of Sashabaw roads in Independence Township to start the work Monday, according to J. O. Smith, project engineer with the State Highway Department.

A Lansing road construction firm has been awarded a $4,012,804 contract to build the seven-mile section of the four-lane limited access freeway from Baldwin road to the Oakland-Genesee County line. It is expected to be done in late 1962.

The 4.8-mile section from Baldwin Road to Walton Boulevard, just northeast of Pontiac, has been sidetracked by a lawsuit. A hearing will be held in Circuit Court March 7.

North of Pontiac, the new freeway, designated Interstate 75, closely parallels U.S. 10 (Dixie Highway). It is the portion in the county of the freeway which will eventually link Detroit with Sault Ste. Marie.

Bonn Offers Germans Shares in Volkswagen

With a view to encouraging free enterprise, the West German government is denationalizing the giant and profitable Volkswagen Company.

The Bonn government will retain 20 per cent of the stock and another 20 per cent will go to the State of Lower Saxony where the plant is located. The remaining 60 per cent goes on public sale.

In an attempt to give moderate income groups a chance to share in the nation's prosperity, the sale of stock has been restricted to families with annual incomes of no more than $3,810. An unmarried applicant's earnings must not be over $1,905.

All buyers are required to be permanent residents but not necessarily citizens. A share costs $83.30 and no individual can purchase more than five of the 3,600,000 shares to be offered. The minimum number of shareholders would be 720,000 but the demand for fewer than five shares is expected to increase the number to 1.5 million when disposal is completed in March.

Nazis founded the Volkswagen Company before World War II but it wasn't given much chance of succeeding afterward. However, in 1948 a General Motors trained executive, Heinz Nordoff, took over the management and the company is now the biggest automobile maker in Europe.

Bonn officials are concerned because only about 500,000 Germans—one per cent of the population—now own stock. In this country seven per cent of Americans are stockholders. Chancellor ADENAUER is said to feel that the sale of the "people's car" to the people will ensure a healthy democracy.

In next fall's election the chancellor and his Christian Democrats will be opposed by Berlin's Mayor Willy Brandt and his Socialista. While Adenauer may not need any help, denationalizing the Volkswagen Company won't do him any harm either.

Safety Council Releases Traffic Accident Figures

The National Safety Council has just issued its annual report on traffic for 1960 and again the figures they have compiled are shocking.

Records show that traffic accidents in 1960 took the lives of 38,200 persons and caused 1,400,000 injuries disabling beyond the day of the accident.

On the brighter side the Council reported that while the toll was rising one per cent from 1959, Americans in 1960 were setting a record low rate of 5.3 deaths for every 100 million miles of motor vehicle travel. The mileage death rate in 1959 was 5.4. A two per cent increase in travel in 1960 more than offset the one per cent rise in deaths, they pointed out.

Highway travel is definitely on the increase as can be seen by the record 715 billion miles in 1960, as compared with 700 billion miles in 1959.

Back to the debit side of the report and they disclose the costs for traffic accidents in 1960 at the staggering estimated sum of $6.4 billion. For the month of December alone, the Council said 3,520 persons died in traffic accidents.

Figures alone are meaningless unless the magnitude can be brought home. Just take, for example, if the 38,200 motor vehicle deaths had occurred in nearby Highland Park, the city would have been totally destroyed.

Another example, for some of our winter vacationing tourists, might be Daytona Beach, Fla. Had last year's total auto deaths happened there the entire resort would be wiped out.

Completely obliterating cities is an awesome thought. Let's all try and use greater caution on our streets and highways.

It Takes Patience, Waiting for the Plums

The Man About Town

Record Is Best

And It Should Be, If Our Experience Is Considered

Husband: A man who, if his wife dresses to please, she'd do it a lot faster.

Contrary to general belief, the traffic death rate in the United States has dropped to less than one-third of what it was 25 years ago. And here in the Pontiac area it has done even better than in the entire nation.

According to the most recent figures of the

it was 15 deaths per 100 million miles in 1935 in the nation, and less than five deaths for the same distance in 1960.

Actual figures garnered for Pontiac and vicinity show that our death rate in traffic is even below that of the national average. And there's a good and reliable explanation for that.

Here in the heart of the national auto making section, we have quite generally become more accustomed to driving than have people in other localities. It has grown to be an integral and vastly component part of our lives.

Heredity here also is an important factor. Most of our present drivers were born to parents who were among the nation's pioneer drivers. Driving to them is almost an instinct.

The whole is best summed up in the words of a Pontiac man who has been driving for over a half century with no major accident. He says, "The best driver is the one who doesn't have to take time to think what he should do when an accident impends. It comes to him by instinct."

Traffic signs at the approach of a hill or curve on Florida's main highway simply says, beneath a picture of a skull and crossbones.

"I'm Waiting,"

The prediction of the Old Farmer's Almanac for this week's weather says:

"Nankeens are out; storm clouds shout."

To settle this argument about just when is the middle of winter in the Pontiac area, of Waterford asserts that it is when his dog gets "scratch" from his new fur trying to push off the old coat.

Francis Rupic

In his combination office of County Clerk and Register of Deeds, is my idea of our top man to judge the progress being made.

Daniel T. Murphy Jr.,

Perhaps our young people should follow the advice given in a letter from who suggests that they avoid all of our lakes, and skate only on the flooded rinks.

Another mother revives a slightly twisted version of that old rhyme:

"Mother dear may I go skate?"
"Yes, my darling daughter:
Hang your skates on a hickory limb.
And don't go near the water."

Hiram Rizik

of Royal Oak points out the only way his city can continue its growth is up, in which he finds a resemblance to New York City.

David Lawrence Says:

Congress Damages U.S. 'Prestige'

WASHINGTON — Appointment of Edward R. Murrow as the director of the United States Information Agency will not of itself solve the public relations problems of this country in the world, able and experienced as the noted radio and television commentator happens to be.

LAWRENCE

For the new director of "propaganda" will find that he has little control over most of the impressions about the United States created abroad by press and radio, and that the only place any real help could be given him is in the Congress.

For many months now the U.S. Information Agency hasn't been able to compete with the derogatory statements about the United States made by Democrats of prominence in Congress.

One leader actually said in public that the President should have lied about the U2 incident, and he then proceeded to make an adverse report on the episode which was quickly accepted as authoritative and official by newspapers around the world.

This being a free country, there's no way to curb criticism, however partisan it may be, except by appeal to a sense of self-restraint.

There's really been no substantial change in American "prestige" in recent years except that which has come from the constant denunciation of Eisenhower policies—a barrage that was primarily carried on for political purposes.

MISSILE BATTLE

For many months, moreover, a political campaign was conducted to make it appear that America's defenses were weak because of the so-called "missile gap." The facts were rarely presented in perspective, though finally the Democrats did admit that America is not so badly off in that branch of defense.

Oddly enough, although the "prestige" of the United States in such countries as Britain, France and Italy is considered important here, Congress has been niggardly about supplying funds to the U.S. Information Agency to convey America's viewpoint to the people of those same countries.

In one breath it is argued that there is no need to publicize our policies in those countries because they are our allies anyhow, but, in another, it is charged that our "prestige" has fallen to "a new low." Certainly members of Congress can't have it both ways.

Then there are the shortwave broadcasts each day in which Moscow excels not only in number but in quality. For some strange reason, many of these American broadcasts lack simplicity. They are written for the eye rather than the ear.

Moscow puts across its shortwave broadcasts in many instances in more understandable English than does the Voice of America. This could easily be remedied.

The biggest single flaw in the whole information program is the lack of coordination of news. Days and sometimes weeks will go by while a damaging impression is created and nothing effective is done to offset the harm.

This requires not just the presence of Murrow in National Security Council meetings, but a system that makes better use of the public relations men in the White House and the other departments and agencies affected.

What is needed is to coordinate all these sources of information and to monitor the news 24 hours a day from an American standpoint so as to take proper measures to inform the world of the truth.

Some important decisions will have to be made, too—as, for instance, whether the U.S. Information Agency is going to be permitted to fight fire with fire. Moscow places no limitations on its broadcasts.

NO INTERPRETATION

America supposedly sticks to reports of news happenings, with not the slightest help given the listener to understand the American viewpoint except when officials or newspaper editorials are quoted.

America doesn't have to depart from the truth. But it does need to stand up and fight the misrepresentation and abuse that is poured out day and night by the Moscow broadcasters.

This will never happen till all the high officials of our government and the leaders of both parties in Congress begin to regard seriously the need for the appropriation of more money for the U.S. Information Agency.

Dr. William Brady Says:

One Way to Nurse Babies and That's the Natural Way

"In our country, babies are born usually at home where you feel safe and secure. We have a boy 6 months old; born here in the hospital, where everything is so strange and horrible. Our daughter, 5 years old, was born at home in———.

DR. BRADY

"In the hospital I was the only one that chose to breast feed. I received a lot of advice from the American women who had their babies there. They told me nursing the baby is too much of a bother and you can't go anyplace when you are nursing a baby. Also your figure is sure to be spoiled.

"I didn't take the advice. Just went ahead nursing my baby. He is 6 months old now, weighs 21 pounds and is a very healthy, happy baby, and has never had colic or spitting up. I think it is a great bother to clean the bottles every day and heat each bottle for feeding, and so simple to give him what nature provided for him.

"I await the arrival of your baby book, for which I sent you 35 cents and a stamped envelope bearing my address, to find out what solid foods to feed the baby and when to start. We thank you for all the good advice you give us." (Mrs. D. B.)

The advice the women gave Mrs. D. B. reflects an attitude towards infant feeding that is all too common in Yankeeland.

From the booklet "The Womanly Art of Breast Feeding," published by La Leche League, 3020 La Porte, Melrose Park, Ill. ($2), I quote the following quotations:

1. "The newborn baby has only three demands. They are warmth in the arms of its mother, food from her breast, and security in the knowledge of her presence. Breast feeding satisfies all three." (Dr. Grantly Dick Read).

2. "Breast fed babies followed for their first seven years of life had fewer emotional and behavioral difficulties than bottle fed babies." (Dr. Herman Meyer).

3. "Allergies, notably eczema, are as much as seven to ten times more common in artificially fed babies than in breast fed babies."

4. "In a study of 20,000 babies up to a year old there were twice as many infections in bottle fed babies as in breast fed babies and ten times as many deaths."

It is a pleasure to note that "The Womanly Art of Breast Feeding favors both natural childbirth and rooming-in. And in the issue of the La Leche League's News Letter, Vol. 1, No. 4, valuable suggestions are given for expectant parents who want to have their baby at home.

Now if you suspect I have anything to do with publication of these items or with another very helpful item, "The Family Book of Child Care," by Niles Newton, Ph.D., Harper & Brothers, you flatter me.

I contributed no more to them than I did to the Declaration of Independence or the Bill of Rights.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Christ Was Greatest Psychologist

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE H-402: Clark J., aged 24, is the theology student who asked why I cited Jesus as the world's foremost applied psychologist.

DR. CRANE

Jesus pioneered many superb innovations that we moderns have thought we originated in the past generation.

For example, Christ launched the first church picnic when he asked his Apostles to feed the crowd of 5,000 men, not to mention the women and children.

Yet in the late year of 1853 in Chicago, the Methodist Temple considered a church picnic and voted it down as too radical and new an idea for churches.

In 1854 it was proposed again and voted down. Same for 1855. Indeed, it wasn't till 1856 that a majority of the church board put an O.K. on a church picnic.

If they'd read their Bibles more attentively, they'd have seen that Jesus started the first church picnic with the lad's loaves and fishes.

CHRIST'S PSYCHOLOGY

Jesus also used the "narrative" or "parable" formula for his sermons.

And the reason a lot of clergymen put their parishioners to sleep is the fact they fail to follow Christ's simple speech recipe.

Jesus was also superb in conducting public forms. When the 5th columnists in the audience thought they had him hooked on one or the other horns of their classical dilemma, he neatly sidestepped their evil trap.

"Master, is it lawful to pay tribute to Caesar?" his enemies asked.

If Christ had answered "Yes," then the 5th columnist figured he would alienate the Jews, who comprised most of his audience.

A "No" would have been a treasonable utterance that would have caused the Roman soldiers to arrest Christ as an inciter of treason.

So Jesus, perceiving their evil intent, asked for a coin. Holding it aloft, he inquired, "Whose image and superscription are on this coin?"

That's what I have called the "reversible why" technique in handling a forum or the questions of children in school.

"Caesar's" the audience chanted back, whereupon Jesus tartly replied:

"Render, therefore, to Caesar the things that are Caesar's but to God the things that are God's."

Never in the entire history of this world has such a clever answer been developed for any dilemma.

And Jesus used the same "reversible why" strategy on his critics when they tried to trap him as to his divine origin (See Mark, Ch. 11).

Jesus was also a great exponent of "horse sense" in religion and abhorred petty religious ritual.

Thus, when his disciples were criticized for eating with unwashed hands, he said,

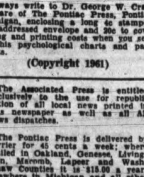

"Not that which goeth into the mouth defileth a man; but that which cometh out of the mouth."

When his critics objected, saying his Apostles violated the Sabbath by plucking the ripe heads of wheat on the Sabbath to eat them, Christ replied:

"The Sabbath was made for man; not man for the Sabbath."

Jesus also used polls of public opinion and consummate psychiatric techniques.

For further evidence, go to your library and read Ch. 18 in my college textbook "Psychology Applied" or send for the booklet on "Church Psychology," enclosing a stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Voice of the People:

Gives Favorable Opinion of Press Outdoor Page

I wish to take exception to a letter which appeared over the signature "Red" in the Voice of the People column last Friday.

Not only does The Pontiac Press outdoor page cover the general world of the outdoors but treats Oakland County outdoor news on a real person-to-person interest basis.

Throughout the years The Pontiac Press outdoor writers have led the State of Michigan in following the path of true conservation. In fact, one of the past Pontiac Press outdoor writers has been credited with the "one-buck" law in the state. A memorial to him and the fight he led rests on the grounds of the Multi-Lakes Conservation Club.

Each week on the outdoor page of The Press, interested conservationists, hunters and fishermen find outstanding articles on their favorite subjects. Pictures of outstanding catches and bags are frequent and well-presented.

By reading the outdoor page of The Press, Oakland County residents know where fish are biting, what bait to use and how thick the ice is. Surely, this is far more than a lot of papers do. You can't expect The Press outdoor writer to also setup a tip-up for each and every reader.

'Press Columnist Is Too Critical'

Mr. Lawrence has got the nerve writing sarcastic articles about John F. Kennedy. He says John F. Kennedy is going to be a failure.

If Mr. Lawrence thinks he knows so much and contradicts everything the president says and does, why didn't he run for president? All he does is complain and make smart remarks about our new president. All of us know he is a Republican. He reminds me of a little boy who has lost a battle and hates to admit defeat.

A 16-Year-Old

'Teachers Are Not Wanted as Sitters'

These so-called "teachers" that consider themselves the "best educated, overworked, underpaid, professional group of baby-sitters" shouldn't be teaching in the first place.

Few parents are sending their children to school to be "cared for." They want their children to get the proper education that is very important for this generation.

When teachers think they are nothing but baby-sitters they would be doing us a big favor to look over the help wanted ads and get a job as such. Highest praise should be given to our teachers who are teaching and not baby-sitting.

Quite Concerned

Two More Favor Centennial Beards

Hurray for Monroe M. Osmun and the Rev. J. Allen Parker for their support of letting teachers and students grow beards. A person only lives to celebrate one centennial, so why should he be deprived of part of the celebration? Many of the leaders of our city, including Mayor Rowston have a mustache, and a mustache and beard are of the same category.

God gave man the ability to grow a beard. What kind of a free country is this if people are prohibited from it?

F. A. W.

Now that the board and administrators have pontificated on the subject of beards, it would be well to remind them that the age of conformity is here. Not content to standardize the curriculum it now proceeds to fully automate the appearance of its personnel with the throttling of any vestige of individualism left in the schools. The last edict should be the ordering of strait jackets so that the organizational-type man can fully be implemented.

Unfortunately, the board has erred particularly at this proud time in the city's history; or shall we gentlemen wait for 100 years in hopes that astute men are no longer concerned about what patriots wear below their noses?

List Main Reasons for Tax Difficulties

How much of our present tax difficulty and racial conflict has been caused by unscrupulous political opportunists and adventurers and by muddle-brained, irresponsible sociologists who are determined to force their own peculiar theories upon all the rest of us?

'No Wonder Nations Are Suspicious'

Is there any wonder that our friends in other countries look at us with a suspicious eye? We are still fighting the Civil War.

There are those who want to shoot JFK for disagreeing with the minister. We have poked fun at Jacqueline's hats, and wanted to strangle teachers for asking for a raise.

We went to the polls and voted in an increase in taxes, and not one of us has even suggested to our local, state and federal officials it is time to economize in the operation of our different branches of government.

If the taxpayer could just see the waste that takes place with our tax dollar, the shot that was heard around the world would be just a whisper to the yell that would go up. Let's get together and serve notice on this fellow that wants more money from us for taxes.

Twelfth Chapter . . . Michigan's Role in the Civil War

State Relief Groups Gather Up Money, Articles for the Soldiers

(Editor's Note: This is the 12th of a 15-part series on Michigan's role in the Civil War.)

By PAUL PENTECOST
Wayne State University
Written for The AP

In future years Detroit and the State of Michigan would become known as the "arsenal of democracy" but during the Civil War the state's industrial power was still a thing of the future.

The rich ore deposits of the Upper Peninsula and the heavily timbered forests figured in the over-all war effort, but the state's major contribution was in fighting men and contributions for the support of its regiments.

In later wars it remained for the American Red Cross to take over many of the duties handled during the Civil War by organizations such as the Michigan Soldiers' Relief Association, the Christian Commission, Ladies Soldiers' Aid Society, and others.

The "Michigan Soldiers' Relief Association of Washington, D.C.," claimed to have been the first in action and the last to leave. It commenced its work in the fall of 1861 composed of Michigan citizens then living in and around Washington.

Judge James M. Edmunds was president. At first the only financial aid came from their own pockets, but the people of the state soon collected $24,902.24 to take over the financial burdens.

The association through Judge Edmunds was quick to point out after the first Battle of Bull Run that the U.S. government was totally unprepared "for any sudden emergency. Their attentions seemed constantly directed to the increase of the Army by new enlistments. The importance of providing for health was but slowly admitted, and hardly admitted at all until it became evident that the ranks could only be kept up by such provisions."

The association helped provide medical care for the wounded soldiers in the Washington area hospitals and also greeted the returning Michigan troops with foods, tobacco and other items.

When the association discontinued its operation it transmitted to the trustees of Detroit's Harper Hospital more than $1,000 to be used by them in the care of disabled Michigan soldiers.

The "Michigan Soldiers' Relief Association" organized in 1862 in Detroit gathered money and supplies throughout the state sending them to the front.

They included everything thought useful, such as socks, shirts, underwear, handkerchiefs, dried and canned fruits, pickles, spices, jellies, newspapers, books, needles, pins and thread, sheets, quilts, pillow cases, bed sacks, lint pads and other items. More than 330 boxes and 203 barrels were sent to the front filled with these materials.

A SPIRITUAL GROUP

The "Christian Commission" was designed to minister to the mental, spiritual and bodily wants of the Army. Organized in Michigan in 1863, it did not see action at Gettysburg, but did participate in most of the other battles.

All the delegates were ministers and laymen who worked for six-week periods without compensation.

They served as ministers, medical orderlies, provided religious newspapers, read burial services and handled many other chores assisting the Army's chaplains.

Some of the 57 who participated included the Rev. Seth Reed of Ypsilanti, Rev. L. Slater of Kalamazoo, Rev. E. H. Pilcher of Ann Arbor, Rev. F. R. Ballaher of Hillsdale, Rev. Daniel Brown of Flint, Rev. H. N. Bissell of Mt. Clemens, H. B. Denham of Dowagiac, Prof. O. M. Currier of Olivet and the Rev. S. L. Ramsdell of Northville.

The Ladies' Soldiers' Aid Society of Kalamazoo earned more than $9,500 for their cause by holding a "state sanitary fair" in Kalamazoo in September 1864.

GROUP HOLDS FAIR

The fair was held at the Kalamazoo Fair Grounds Sept. 20 to Sept. 23, 1864, with James B. Cripen of Coldwater delivering the opening address. Gov. Austin Blair was on hand and spoke for almost one hour. The major attraction proved to be the exhibit of the torn and battle-scarred Michigan regimental battle flags.

The Ladies' Aid Society of Detroit was one of the first state organizations to take up the cause of the soldier. Organized in November 1861, Mrs. Cyril Smith, wife of the assistant surgeon of the Ninth Infantry Regiment, was one of the prime movers.

It was her publication of a letter from her husband pointing out the need for quilts, night caps and other materials, that moved many Detroit residents to aid in the movement.

Dr. Smith reported that the wounded and sick often had only one blanket and nothing under that but hay or straw. The interested women asked the Detroit clergy to read letters from their pulpits for an organizational meeting.

The organizational circular pointed out that "none but hospital stores, or such articles as the sanitary commission may think necessary for the prevention of sickness, can be forwarded by us. We are not indifferent to the comfort of those who are in health, but to take charge of all that might be desired for half a million men or even for our own tens of thousands, is evidently beyond our power."

The list of articles requested ranged from bed clothes, medical supplies and hospital clothing to farina, arrowroot and tapioca.

The society had monthly meetings for group sewing and to make individual home assignments. The income for the group was augmented by both donations and collections.

Regiments leaving for action were served refreshments at the railroad stations, bringing to mind the action of the American Red Cross in World Wars I and II.

There were many individuals who undertook activities on their own. Mrs. Laura S. Haviland of Adrian was one of these.

She received a commission from Gov. Blair in 1863 and traveled with supplies for Michigan soldiers to Columbus, Ky., Island No. 10, Mo., and Memphis, Tenn.

She returned to Michigan and later with replenished supplies visited Vicksburg, Miss. She also visited Ship Island, La., where about 3,000 Union military prisoners were confined for various offenses, and distributed tracts and books.

She also visited the Southwest making distributions at Ft. Leavenworth, Kan., and other points. Her last visit after the war had ended was to Washington, D.C., to obtain surplus military clothing for the destitute freed men of Virginia and also to secure the release of 300 military prisoners at Ship Island and Dry Tortugas.

Local groups helped in the welcome home ceremonies and were instrumental in establishing soldiers' homes for the seriously wounded who would need months and years to recuperate from their wounds. Citizens served on special commissions to establish military cemeteries and others to build local monuments to honor the dead.

Uncertainty Worst in Liner Hijacking

MRS. JOHN DIETZ

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (AP)—The first Americans home from their extended cruise aboard the ocean liner Santa Maria have mixed emotions about the experience.

The Portuguese rebels who took over the ship were pleasant, but it was disconcerting to be sunbathing and see a machine gun and pistol pointing at you from the deck above, said Mrs. John Dietz.

She and her husband, a retired University of Florida professor, returned Monday. Other Americans who were aboard the Santa Maria were due today at Miami.

Mr. and Mrs. Dietz were flown from Recife, Brazil, to Jacksonville on a Navy plane. Mrs. Dietz said her husband had a recurrence of a back ailment and needed a berth, which was available on the Navy plane.

DOUBT HUNG HEAVY

Uncertainty was one of the things that kept the passengers stirred up, Mrs. Dietz said. She vowed never to go on a ship again without a compass.

Dietz said the food was superb before the rebels took over the ship; then it deteriorated and water was rationed.

Laundry was a problem to Mrs. Dietz. She said she wore the same dress so long it became like a uniform.

At first, she said, rebel leader Henrique Galvao told passengers there was a revolution in Spain or Portugal. When they learned through radio broadcasts there was no such revolution, Mrs. Dietz said many passengers were more worried.

* * *

They wished for some assurances in the broadcasts by the Voice of America and British Broadcasting Co. that something was being done for the Santa Maria's passengers.

"We kept wanting Uncle Sam to reach his hand across and shake ours," Mrs. Dietz said.

U.S. Would Entice Visitors

British Offer Wry Ideas for Tourists

LONDON (UPI) — Reports of hearings before the U.S. Senate Commerce Committee on how to attract European tourists to the United States are proving to be fascinating reading to the British.

The newspapers here, in a spirit of international amity, have come forward with many helpful suggestions, including: "The Americans should teach hotel bell boys to shine shoes left outside of doors instead of swiping them."

Other ideas:

—Central heating should be removed from all homes, offices, taxicabs, buses and railroad stations.

—Maps should be printed "to convince the guileless Europeans that California is just around the corner from New England."

—Steps should be taken to prevent the recurrence of an incident in which an elderly British spinster was subjected to cross examination at an American consulate as to whether she was going to the United States for immoral purposes.

They cannot afford the prices charged in the United States and they look for bargains in Italy, Britain, Scandinavia, the provinces of France and even the Iron Curtain nations.

The Senate hearings are part of President Kennedy's campaign to reverse the flow of gold from the United States. He is dealing with a sizable piece of money on tourists.

Tourist traffic into Britain alone shot up in 1959 to $423,200,000 and a big part of it came from the United States.

This year it is expected to be well above $500,000,000.

The British have been working at attracting tourists for so long that they have become experts. Everything is geared to make the visitor comfortable including instructions to the police to be polite. The most common remark of American tourists: "I think the bobbies are cute."

Boat-Firm Shutdown to Idle 120 in Manistee

MANISTEE (AP)—A heavy inventory and slack sales were cited by company officials for the first complete shutdown since 1951 of Century Boat Co. plants at Manistee.

The move idles about 120 persons employed in the three plants, according to Vice President and General Manager Leonard Holmes. Century, among leaders in the field of small pleasure craft and luxurious speedboats, still has approximately 20 salaried persons not affected by the closings.

Holmes expected the layoffs, announced over the weekend, to be in force about two months.

The Wever School's PTA will hold a mother-and-daughter banquet at 6 Thursday in the school gymnasium.

Mrs. Byford Laur will preside as mistress of ceremonies. Entertainment will be provided by daughters. Participants will be Jody and Nancy Schmuker, cello and piano; Nancy and Susan Norberg, flute and clarinet; Carol and Nancy Taylor, piano and accordion; and Joyce Skrine, accordion.

Mrs. Yernis Whitehead is in charge of prizes, and Arthur Bell, of the program. Fathers Club members will handle serving and clean-up duties.

Guests will be Mrs. Arthur Bell and daughter Althea; Mrs. Keith Pawley with Maria and Susan; Mrs. Philip Somers and Nancy; and Mrs. Laur and niece Kindra Whittington.

CORA BAILEY SCHOOL

Family Night will be the theme for Cora Bailey PTA's 7:30 p.m. meeting Thursday in the kindergarten room.

Oakland County Sheriff Department Sgt. Donald Kratt will show the safety movie, "Dangerous Strangers."

The scholarship policy will be explained by PTA scholarship recipient Judy Noren.

Refreshments will be served by Mrs. Charles Hobgood and Mrs. Robert Sutton, first-grade home room mothers.

LeBARON PTA

Youth leaders will be recognized at the LeBaron PTA's 7 p.m. meeting Thursday in the multipurpose room.

Joseph Zabelski, traffic safety education consultant from the Automobile Club of Michigan, will be guest speaker.

Nancy Wheeler, Sherrill Duffy, Julie Thornberry and Janet Fields from Mrs. Edward McKinney's Brownie Troop 512 will present the colors.

Refreshments will be served by mothers from the rooms of Margaret Wilmot and Amy Carlson.

EMERSON SCHOOL

The Emerson PTA will stage its annual founders day meeting and program at 7:30 Wednesday.

The evening's program will feature a skit, "Meet the PTA," from the National Parent-Teacher Magazine. Participating will be Mrs. Donald Smith, Lewis Sullivan, Mrs. Laura Wait, Mrs. Evelyn Woodworth, Louis Campbell, John Farrell and Lawrence Curtis. Mrs. L. D. McLauchlin and Mrs. Curtis will open the program with a singing commercial.

Past presidents of Emerson's PTA will be introduced and presented a gift by Mr. Sullivan, principal, and Mrs. Smith. Invitations have been accepted by past presidents Mrs. Thomas Smith, Mrs. Randolph Nelson, Mrs. Owen Armstrong, Mrs. Gordon Rice, Mrs. Carl Reynolds and Mrs. Clifford Christenson.

Others to be honored are Mrs. Stephen Kives, Mrs. Victor DeMino, Mrs. McLauchlin, Mrs. Thomas Johnson, Mrs. Anton Koenig, Mrs. Thomas McKeever and Mrs. Curtis.

Refreshments will be served by mothers from the classes of Mrs. Christenson, Mrs. Alexander Kirkpatrick and Marilyn Kevit.

McCARROLL SCHOOL

The McCarroll School's PTA will meet at 7 p.m. Wednesday for Dad's Night. Robert Everett, father vice president, will lead activities.

Mary Patricia Sweeney, policewoman, will be guest speaker.

Election of officers originally scheduled for March, will be conducted during the evening. The March meeting has been canceled.

Dads will serve refreshments.

Abby Says: Be Correct

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My father is my problem. Pop is 73 and insists on wearing his hat in the house, restaurants and everywhere else he goes. I say he should take his hat off when he's indoors.

He says all newspapermen wear their hats indoors and he used to be a newspaperman. Is this correct, and what should I tell him?

ABBY

AT ODDS WITH POP

DEAR AT ODDS: Newspapermen go by the same rules of etiquette as everyone else. Elderly people can become as spoiled as children, so handle him with firmness and affection and tell Pop to take his hat off indoors because he's beginning to talk through it.

DEAR ABBY. Just before Christmas our mother got a ticket for speeding. It cost her $25, which upset her terribly because it was her first offense in 32 years of driving. It also took a hunk out of her Christmas fund.

My brother and I wanted to cheer her up, so we typed a letter saying she had been overcharged by the Highway Department and we enclosed $20. We signed the letter "Captain Redrug" (which is our name spelled backwards).

We thought she'd catch on, but she didn't. Now she is showing the letter all over town believing it really came from the Highway Department.

Our problem is whether to let her believe this or to tell her the truth. We don't want her to find out later and feel foolish.

THE GUNDERS

DEAR GUNDERS: If you have a sense of honor, tell her—and hope she has a sense of humor. But no more forgeries, or you will all wind up in the "wogsooh" (which is "hoosgow" spelled backwards).

DEAR ABBY: I recently returned home from a TB sanatarium and was told my health was excellent and that I should lead a normal life.

My problem is how to convince my friends and neighbors. During the holidays people actually left Christmas gifts for the children at our door because they were afraid to come in. This hurt the children terribly, as they are old enough to understand the situation. I would rather they had not received those gifts at all.

Abby, are we living in the 20th century or the stone age? Are people so ignorant that they think former TB patients released from a sanatorium will contaminate them? Please, please print my letter. If you can educate just a few, it will save so much heartbrake for former TB patients and their families.

Just Treat Often as You Can

By The Emily Post Institute

Question: Friends of ours moved to Florida last winter. They have invited us to spend a week or two with them. My husband has 10 days vacation coming to him and we would like very much to accept their invitation. The husband is retired and money is not too plentiful and therefore I hesitate about going. I would feel a lot better if we could help with the food bill. Would this be proper and if so, is there some tactful way to go about this?

Answer: You couldn't possibly offer them board without deeply hurting their feelings. However, you can turn the tables and be hosts to them by taking them out as often as your finances will permit, to restaurants or to places of amusement while you are there.

Question: On occasion, I find it necessary to introduce myself to strangers and usually do so by saying, "I am Mary Brown." (I am married). I have been told that this is incorrect and that I should introduce myself as Mrs. John Brown. Will you please set me straight on this?

Answer: To call yourself Mary Brown would imply that you are Miss and therefore when you are married, it is best to say, "I am Mrs. John Brown."

Good Health Is Vital

Keeping Fit Worth Effort

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Monday I quoted from an article by President John F. Kennedy which appeared recently in the magazine, Sports Illustrated. In this he emphasized the importance of physical fitness to the security of a nation. Then he said:

"But physical fitness is as vital to the activities of peace as to those of war, especially when our success in those activities may well determine the future of freedom in years to come.

"Physical fitness is not only one of the most important keys to a healthy body; it is the basis of dynamic and creative intellectual activity. The relationship between the soundness of the body and the activities of the mind is subtle and complex."

The tremendous effect of the mind and the emotions on the body is accepted, yet even now we have probably just scratched the surface of this knowledge. There is no telling what far reaching and well-disguised influences our thoughts and feelings may have on us.

On the other hand, it seems to me that the effects of the body on our emotions, mental energy and outlook, have not been nearly so well publicized.

Self-pity, sensitiveness and discouragement, can come from a lowered state of health. Chronic fatigue and boredom may be due to low blood pressure.

Screaming nerves can make one irritable; and it is very difficult to be charming, or even reasonable in the throes of a headache or backache.

BIG DIFFERENCE

Many folks do not realize that there is as much difference between truly fine health and a lowered state of health as there is between illness and lack of it. It is the difference between finding daily life an adventure instead of a chore, between enjoying work and dreading it, between laughter and tears, between accomplishment and procrastination and between keen awareness and lack of perception.

There is no better investment we can make in our personal happiness or success than to build our physical store of energy, to work for vibrant health. The dividends are worth the effort!

Cummins-Rakas Nuptials Performed in Candlelight

A reception at Oakland Hills Country Club followed the Saturday evening nuptials of Linda Arleen Rakas and Harry B. Cummins of Lansing in Christ Church Cranbrook. The Rev. Lester L. Bobyns read the candlelight ceremony.

Parents of the newlyweds are Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas J. Rakas of Birmingham and Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Cummins of Lansing.

MRS. HARRY B. CUMMINS

The bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Neil D. Purdy of Oakland, Calif., attended the bride as honor matron and Jeanne Hargreaves was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Nancy Clark and Nancy McCortney, Anne Warner of Dayton, Ohio, and Mrs. Jerry Helmke of Bloomington, Ind.

Garnet rosebuds accented the honor matron's bouquet and pink rosebuds were added to the honor maid's cascade. Matching hats and shoes were worn.

Charles F. Cummins Jr. stood as best man for his twin brother. Guests were seated by Kent D. Rakas, Kempf Hogan, Peter Cummins, Jon Tomion of Port Huron, Clifford Galen of Battle Creek and Victor Mix of Stevensville.

Leaving for the honeymoon at Palm Beach, the bride was wearing an Italian import of willow green spagnoli knit and matching accessories. The couple will live at Ann Arbor.

Mrs. Rakas chose a gown of spiced-rum heavy satin with bodice of beaded champagne chiffon appliqued with satin buds. Her purse corsage was green cymbidium orchids.

Solo Flutist Gives Varied Program at Central High

By A. MICHAEL DEMPSEY

William Montgomery appeared in recital last night in the Pontiac Central High School Auditorium. Mr. Montgomery, solo flutist with the United States Marine Band, presented a varied program featuring works for the flute by Mozart, Handel, DeBussy and other composers.

The program opened with the "Hungarian Fantasy" by Doppler. This composition presented many challenges, all of which were ably handled by the recitalist.

The next selection on the program was the "Concerto in G Major" by Mozart. This concerto was played with care and sensitivity.

The gay first movement was clean and clear, the lyrical and soulful second movement was played with feeling, and the concluding minuet had the graceful quality so imperative in the performance of Mozart.

After a brief intermission the program continued with the "Sonata in A Minor" by Handel. The balance between flute and piano was especially notable in this sonata and the following number, "Concertino" by Chaminade.

In these two selections one had the feeling that the piano assumed a more equal role with the flute than it had in the previous selections. Martha Welton did an excellent job of accompanying throughout the evening.

The concert portion of the evening concluded with a sonata by the French composer Francois Poulenc.

In three movements this sonata typified many elements of modern music with startling rhythmic and harmonic innovations. The final movement marked Presto Giocoso was a rapid-fire, brilliant and highly syncopated conclusion to a very successful program.

It was a pleasure to hear Mr. Montgomery's recital last evening. The program was tasteful, his stage presence unassuming," and his intonation and interpretation were excellent.

Jeannette Brattain Weds

Cymbotium ferns and baskets of white gladioli, carnations and pompons graced the chancel of Central Methodist Church for Saturday evening vows of Jeannette D. Brattain and Seaman Archie G. Bell Jr.

Dr. Milton H. Bank performed the double-ring candlelight ceremony.

Greeting some 150 guests at the church reception were parents of the newlyweds, the Charles G. Brattains of South East Boulevard and the senior Archie G. Bells of Parkinson Drive, Waterford Township.

The bridal gown of white silk organza over taffeta featured an elongated bodice of Chantilly lace, long tapered sleeves and bouffant skirt. A wide Dior bow accented the back waistline. Fingertip veiling of French silk illusion bordered with Chantilly lace fell from a crown of iridescent sequins.

Honor matron Mrs. Robert C. Jenks and Carolyn Pifer of Waterford, bridesmaid, appeared in aqua chiffon over taffeta with lace bodices and Dior bow headpieces. They held cascades of pink carnations.

On the esquire side were Brian D. Murray, Lake Orion, best man and ushers Jerry Lee Bell, brother of the bridegroom and Robert C. Jenks.

The newlyweds will reside in San Diego, Calif., for the duration of the bridegroom's service with the U.S. Navy.

Speak About Love--- but Not All the Time

By RUTH MILLETT

In France husbands and wives have nothing besides love to talk about, says a Frenchman on a recent visit to this country.

"And when you talk only about love," he added with finality, "that's a perfect marriage."

It may be a perfect marriage for a Frenchman. But having nothing but love to talk about to his lifetime marriage partner would drive an American husband not only out of his home but out of his mind as well.

American men sometimes pretend that they like their women beautiful but dumb, but it's only a pretense that doesn't fool anybody but an awfully dumb woman.

HOW CAN SHE?

For how can an American wife be dumb and do all the things her husband expects her to be able to do?

Understand his business well enough, at least, not to put her foot in her mouth when she entertains his business associates, accompany him to conventions, or pass the inspection of the higher-ups and their wives if her husband is a corporation man?

Hold down a job to help out when her husband is getting a start or at any time during the marriage when the going gets rough?

Learn enough about his leisure interests to ge able to be a companion to him — whether he is interested in art, hunting, fishing, golf or whatever?

Run a home, bring up children and create a pleasant social life for the family?

Do her share of community work?

Keep up with her husband intellectually so that no matter how successful he becomes he need never be ashamed of her?

Nope, the American husband doesn't want a wife who can talk about nothing but love. After all, he's the fellow who invented the no-nonsense answer to woman's eternal question, "Do you still love me?" . . . "I MARRIED YOU, DIDN'T I?"

bringing up baby. hints

COLLECTED BY MRS. DAN GERBER, MOTHER OF 5

Timing is ever so important when you introduce new foods to baby. The morning is usually a good time because baby is in a pleasant frame of mind, refreshed from sleep. It should be when he's reasonably hungry, but not necessarily at the beginning of a meal. Little ones vary greatly in when they are most receptive to new foods, and it may take a bit of experimenting to find out which time your cherub prefers.

Introducing Gerber Strained Foods to baby is usually a cinch.

That's because the flavors are naturally good, the texture smooth and nice-to-the-tongue. Over 50 tempting varieties . . . all specially prepared to preserve the utmost in nutritional benefits for your baby. Point to remember: When you start one new food, give baby a chance to get used to it before you offer another.

New! Quick-Twist* caps for Gerber Baby Food jars. Just a quarter turn and baby's food is ready to spoon out. A quick twist and you recap jar to refrigerate remaining food. *T.M. APC.

A "baby's firsts" biography is an excellent way to keep an accurate record of his achievements. If you post immunization dates, baby's height and weight at intervals, you'll find it a mighty handy doctor reference. If you sprinkle it with baby's humorous antics and lots of snapshots, it will make a fine toddler's story book.

New and comfy, too. Gerber Baby Pants are just about the softest thing this side of a diaper. Made of silken-soft polyvinyl film that's waterproof, leak-proof, acid-proof. Won't stiffen, will stay soft for the life of the pants. Medium, large, extra-large. Gerber Products Co., Fremont, Michigan.

Cold January Hikes Heating Bills

Gas Sales Set Record in City

Cold last month? You betcha. Consumers Power Co. sold more natural gas in Pontiac in January than during any previous month.

Home-heating during subzero weather was the big factor in the increase, Brown concluded. Gas-heating homeowners can attest to this by the size of the January bills.

Brown said the 24-hour period from 9 a.m. Jan. 24 to 9 a.m. Jan. 25 saw the biggest daily sendout of gas in the company's history.

Throughout the state, the company sold 840,699,000 cubic feet of gas during the period, he said. The company's Southeastern Division, embracing Oakland, Wayne and Macomb counties, sold 359,600,000 cubic feet then.

Brown said there is no comparable figure for Pontiac sales Jan. 24-25, since the Pontiac office does not keep daily consumption records.

MSU Students on Exchange Plan With Nigeria

EAST LANSING (AP) — Michigan State University students will get an opportunity to live and work with African students this summer, says Homer Higbee, assistant dean of international programs.

The university is taking part in "Operation Crossroads Africa," Higbee said. The program is an interracial student pilgrimage, initiated and directed by Rev. James H. Robinson, minister of the Harlem Church of the Master in New York.

The program allows American students to work in Africa with African students on community projects, Higbee said. Ten MSU students went last year, the first year MSU took part.

Students this year will be assigned to Nigeria, where MSU is conducting a technical assistance project.

Expect Thousands at Utica Rhubarb Festival

REHEARSE FOR SHOW — Two members of the Wayne State University Children's Theater group rehearse a scene from their production of "The Seven League Boots" to be presented at 10:30 a. m. and 1:30 p. m. Friday at Avondale Senior High School, 1435 W. Auburn Road. The event is sponsored by the Avondale Parent-Teacher Association Council in cooperation with local school officials. The performances are open to the public, and preschool children are welcome if accompanied by a parent.

Smorgasbord, Judging, Cooking Schools Slated

UTICA — The sixth annual Michigan Hothouse Rhubarb Festival, to be held Saturday at Utica Community High School, is expected to draw thousands of area residents, Gordon W. Hoskins, chairman of the event, said today.

A full day of festivities will begin at 9 a.m. with registration of rhubarb, rhubarb dishes and centerpieces in the gymnasium. Registration for judging later in day will continue to 11 a.m.

A carousel and carnival theme will highlight this year's rhubarb smorgasbord to be served from 11 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. in the cafeteria. Featured will be all kinds of special dishes, including sundaes, sodas, salads, cakes, breads, pies and frozen desserts — all made with rhubarb.

Luncheon will be served at 12:30 p.m. to members of the sponsoring organizations, "visiting dignitaries" and Rhubarb Queen Carol Keeler, 17, Utica High School senior, and her court.

Sponsors of the annual celebration are the Michigan Hothouse Rhubarb Growers Association, Utica Rotary Club and the Michigan Cooperative Extension Service.

The official opening ceremony and ribbon cutting will take place at 1:15 p.m. at the entrance to the gymnasium.

Features of the afternoon program will be two cooking schools to be conducted at 1:30 and 3 p.m. by Berenice La Freniere and Mary Walquist, Macomb County home demonstration agents. They will be held in Room 215 of the high school.

Forty-five minute tours of area rhubarb houses are scheduled for 3 and 4 p.m. to be followed by a teen-age dance party, the "Rhubarb Hop" from 4 to 6 p.m.

BROWN WILL CROWN

Delegated by Gov. Swainson to act as his official representative at the coronation ceremony Saturday night is State Treasurer Sanford A. Brown. He will crown queen Carol during the Festival Dance at about 8:30 p.m.

The dance, which will start at 7:30, also will feature the crowning of a Rhubarb King and awarding of prizes to winners of the day's competition in rhubarb growing and food preparation.

Delay Decision on Condemning

Lake Orion Hotel Gets a Reprieve, but Tenants Must Move Out

LAKE ORION—A final decision on condemnation of the old Lake Orion Hotel will be delayed until Monday, but all lodgers will be ordered to move out of the building as soon as possible.

Frank Dunaskis, owner of the hotel, met with village officials before last night's council meeting and agreed to improve the building, according to Oscar Boyea of the Oakland County Health Department.

Boyea said Dunaskis will join village officials on an inspection tour of the hotel next Monday in order to learn the requirements for making it comply with the village building code.

However, Boyea said the tenants of the building are mostly elderly people and should vacate the hotel as soon as possible.

They already have been given notice to leave by the health inspector.

Village attorney Robert Parenti said he will seek a legal method by which the lodgers can be evicted.

The only tenant who has not been ordered out of the building is the operator of a bar on the main floor.

Council President Irvine J. Unger said legal papers should be served immediately on the tenants since village inspectors have decided that the building "constitutes a health and safety hazard."

Dunaskis was given a month in which to improve his building or have it condemned. The hotel owner had made improvements by the Jan. 20 deadline but still had not brought it up to the code specifications, according to Boyea.

After meeting with Dunaskis last night, Parenti said the hotel owner is planning to bring the building up to the standards set by the village.

Oak Park Man Slays a Bandit

Unidentified Youth Is Shot by Store Owner in Robbery Attempt

OAK PARK — An unidentified youth was shot and killed last night when he attempted to hold up the owner of a sports shop here.

William Harlin, 55, of 23851 Republic Road, owner of the Harlin Sports Shop at 8236 W. Nine Mile Road, told Oak Park police he was closing the store and had gone outside to the rear of the building to put a package in his car.

A man who had been crouching behind a rubbish can stood up, and pointing a shotgun at Harlin, ordered him back into the store.

Harlin drew a 32-caliber automatic from his coat pocket and shot the man in the stomach. A second shot struck the bandit in the head as he fled.

He was dead on arrival at William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak.

The bandit carried no identification, police said. He was believed to be between 18 and 20 years old.

Can't Afford It Yet

Filter Plant Out

By JIM LONG

SOUTH LYON — Any possibility that the city might begin construction this year of a water filter plant was squelched last night at the City Council meeting.

Councilmen learned that the total cost of the proposed plan, plus current debts, would be in exess of the city's bonding limitation as provided in its charter.

The cost of the filter plant that would remove the heavy iron content from the city water is estimated to be more than $200,000. This amount and $235,000 already bonded is more than the 10 per cent limitation on the city's $3-million assessed valuation.

Plans for the filter plant were first presented to the council in March 1959. At that time the cost estimate was $150,000.

Revised plans were presented to the council last night and the total cost of the project, plus additional land for a new well, had increased $50,000.

Homer J. Hayward of the Ann Arbor engineering firm of Ayres, Lewis, Norris and May said the additional costs were in line with the estimated capacity of 2½ million gallons a day.

"Basically the plan is the same as the one first submitted," Hayward said. "Only it has been changed to handle an additional half-million gallons a day."

While it is unlikely that anything can be done about the proposed filter plant in the near future, Mayor Ross Sinclair made it clear that a third water well in the city is imperative to meet the growing demands.

When the filter plant proposal first was submitted, the City Council authorized a study to locate a site especially suitable for a new well.

Findings showed that several areas just north of two present city wells might be the most likely sites. The properties, however, are not owned by the city.

"I don't know if we can do anything about the filter plant at this time," Sinclair said, "but we do need another water supply."

Madison Heights Voters to Face Tax Hike Again

MADISON HEIGHTS — School district voters here will be asked again for a seven mill tax increase for school maintenance March 20.

The same proposal was defeated in September.

Also on the ballot will be a proposal to change the Madison Heights School System from a fourth class to a third class district.

If the proposal is approved it will give the school board more authority in purchasing land for school construction without the necessity of getting voter approval, Supt. S. Foster Wilkinson said today.

Wilkinson stated that extra millage is needed right now for operating expenses. He added "I don't know what action the board will take if the March 20 request is defeated but something will have to be done to cut expenses."

2 Rezoning Hearings Set in Independence

INDEPENDENCE TOWNSHIP—Two hearings will be held at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow by the zoning board for consideration of rezoning two 40-acre plots from residential and part commercial to a manufacturing classification.

One parcel, 300 by 950 feet is on the west side of Dixie Highway south of White Lake Road. A request has been made to have it changed from residential and partial commercial to light manufacturing.

Rezoning also is sought for another 40-acre plot on the southeast corner of Waldon and Clintonville roads from suburban farms and commercial to heavy manufacturing.

The reason for considering the zoning changes has been to encourage light industry for the area, according to Supervisor Duane Hursfall.

Independence Board to Look at M15 Land

INDEPENDENCE TOWNSHIP —If the plats of 58 parcels of land on M15 at U.S. 10 have been completed, the Independence Township Board will consider accepting them as supervisor plats at the 7:30 p.m. board meeting tonight.

In the past the various parcels have not been properly recorded, and township engineers have been working on the project for some time, according to Supervisor Duane Hursfall.

In other business, the township board is expected to consider approval of five new liquor licenses, along with two renewals.

Highland Youth, 20, Gets 3-Year Probation, Fine

Bartolomeo Paladino, a 20-year-old Highland Township youth who admitted the theft of $12 from a township drive-in restaurant last month, received probation for three years and was admonished for "resenting parental care and discipline" by Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams.

Paladino, of 1810 Williams Lake Road, was also ordered to pay $100 in court costs. He pleaded guilty Jan. 23 to breaking and entering during the night time.

For Scholarship Work

Set Up MSUO Group

A committe of citizens in Macomb County has been organized to assist in raising scholarship funds for deserving Michigan State University Oakland students.

The group, to be called the MSUO Foundation Macomb County Scholarship Committee, will be headed by Mrs. Philip T. Mulliben of Mount Clemens.

The new organization will carry on the work of the larger MSUO Foundation Scholarship Committee in Macomb County.

The latter organization was organized during MSUO's first year after Chancellor D. B. Varner promised high school students that no one in the graduating class would be denied the opportunity to attend MSUO because of lack of funds.

The MSUO Foundation Scholarship Committee headed by Mrs. Ralph T. Norvell, 46 Wenonah Dr., Pontiac already has raised $40,000 in scholarship gift money, and has established a scholarship trust fund with an initial endowment of more than $22,000.

GROUPS CONTRIBUTE

Many other organizations, civic and private, as well as private individuals have contributed scholarship funds.

These gifts include the four-year Charles Evans Hughes Scholarship, established by Mrs. William T. Gossett of Bloomfield Hills in honor of her late father who served as chief justice of the United States Supreme Court.

The scholarship funds have made it possible for many students who lacked funds to begin a college education at MSUO, Varner said.

Other members of the Macomb County committee are Mrs. Leroy Howard of St. Clair Shores, vice chairman; Mrs. H. Rollin Allen of East Detroit, secretary; Mrs. George Kurz of Mount Clements, treasurer; Mrs. Robert TenEyck of Mount Clements, publicity chairman.

The next meeting of the group will be Feb. 28 at MSUO at which time Varner will address committee members.

Rosalie Young, Gordon Wofford Wed in Holly

HOLLY — The Holly Baptist Church was the setting recently for the wedding of Rosalie Elaine Young and Gordon M. Wofford. Officiating at the ceremony was the Rev. G. Phillip Nofsinger.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Young, 16522 Tucker Road. The parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Gordon M. Wofford of Detroit.

For her wedding the bride wore a white wool suit and carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid corsage.

Bridesmaid was Barbara Holmes of Allen Park. Alphonse Quiroz of Dearborn served as the best man.

An evening reception was held for more than 100 guests at Roma Hall in Detroit.

The couple is living in Detroit.

Founder's Day to Be Marked

PTA Planning Program at Clarkston Elementary Thursday at 7:30

CLARKSTON — Founder's Day will have a special meaning for members of the Clarkston Elementary School Parent-Teacher Association this week. It is celebrating 20 years of existence.

There have been 14 presidents in charge of meetings held during the last two decades, and 12 of these still live in the community.

Beginning at 7:30 p.m. Thursday at the school, PTA officer Mrs. Donald Johnson will present a brief talk on the origin of PTA tracing its evolution throughout the United States up to the present day.

Clarkston's organization was founded in 1941 with Mrs. Keith Leak and Mrs. Wade Dean presiding over the committees that were formed. Mrs. Leak became president the following year.

There was only one small elementary school 20 years ago, and at the present time there are three large modern schools in the system.

A panel of teachers from the kindergarten through the fifth grade will discuss teaching techniques employed in the Clarkston school district.

A get-acquainted hour will follow the evening's program, with refreshments served by home room mothers of first grade pupils.

The entire community has been invited to this celebration, according to Richard Funk, present PTA president.

In Alleged Drag Race

To Plead Not Guilty

A not-guilty plea was to be entered today for a 17-year-old Avon Township youth charged with leaving the scene of an injury accident in Bloomfield Hills Saturday.

Bloomfield Hills police captain Walter Sluiter said the attorney for Calvin Barr of 2825 Devondale St. has requested that the plea be entered in thgir absence and a March 9 examination date set.

Justice of the Peace Alva Richardson has already agreed to the arrangement, Sluiter said.

The accident, police said, was the result of a drag race on Woodward Avenue between Barr and John A. Hope, 17, of 321 Fisher Court, Clawson.

Officers stated that the car driven by Hope went out of control and smashed into a tree on the center island after the two vehicles bumped together.

Hope was taken to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital where he is in satisfactory condition with head injuries.

TV Back in Cadillac

CADILLAC (UPI)—A test pattern early today returned television station WWTV, Channel 13, Cadillac, to the air for the first time since Jan. 24 when fire ruined studios and equipment with losses placed at $325,000. The station serves 36 Northern and Central Michigan counties.

Southfield Appoints Building Inspector

SOUTHFIELD — Clayton O. Diebel, 38, of 23431 Majestic Road, was appointed building inspector by City Administrator Donald V. Smith at last night's council meeting here.

The appointment had the unanimous approval of the city council.

Diebel presently is chief inspector of buildings in Oak Park where he has been employed for the past eight years. He will take up his new duties in Southfield March 1 at a salary of $7,700 per year plus transportation allowance.

The new inspector is married and the father of three children. He succeeds B. Frank Gidley, who resigned because of ill health.

High school students and athletes take note.

The recent mid-term examinations which took place in most colleges around the country produced a sorry tale.

Dozens of fine athletes, basketball players, swimmers, wrestlers, trackmen, golfers, tennis players and many others received the sad notice from the various deans' offices that because of their grades they have been asked to withdraw from school.

The 25 point basketball average; the :50 mark in the freestyle, or the 9.6 time in the 100 yard dash doesn't mean a thing any more in the Literature, Psychology or Political Science classes.

High school athletes better get it through their heads that very few colleges today will take a chance on the star with the poor report card.

As one head football coach told us recently when we mentioned a name of a top-flight prospect: "He's too big of a risk. We can't afford to give him a scholarship and have him flunk out after a year. That's a loss of couple thousands of dollars which could go to another good football player who won't be a classroom burden."

As another football coach put it recently: "A boy doesn't start learning when he gets to college, he starts in first year of high school. Learning is like football. He learns the fundamentals in high school and he gets the plays in college."

So, take heed you all-star heroes now looking at college. First you better be prepared to show your report card and then your points per game average.

City Foes Meet Tonight at PCH; Rams, Mikes Out of Town

Chiefs, Huskies Renew Basketball War

By BILL CORNWELL

Four times the Pontiac Northern basketball team has taken the court against crosstown rival Pontiac Central and four times the Huskies have gone down to defeat.

The northsiders take their 5th crack at the Chiefs tonight on the PCH floor and, just like all the previous meetings between the two intracity foes, they're underdogs.

As was the case in their first meeting Dec. 20 at PNH, height is the principal reason for the Chiefs' favored position.

The Huskies, defending Inter-Lakes Conference kings, simply do not have the backboard strength to compete on even terms with 6-foot-3 George Fed, 6-4 Bradell Pritchett and 6-6 Otto Kennedy.

Fed set a new school record for rebounds in a single game by making 33 recoveries in the earlier PCH-PNH duel and the Chiefs completely controlled the boards in rolling to a 73-48 triumph.

Coach Dick Hall's Huskies haven't lost since then, but neither have they grown any taller and they'll be confronted with the same problems this evening that stared them in the face before.

Since their chances for gaining a fair share of rebounds are slim, they'll have to rely on excellent outside shooting because a missed shot is very apt to be a lost ball. The Chiefs took three shots to Northern's one in the December tussle.

The two teams met twice last season with Central winning by margins of 61-35 and 65-50. They met only once during the 1958-59 season, which was Northern's first year on the hardwoods, and PCH won by a 78-40 score.

To give an example of what PNH will be up against on the boards, Fed has grabbed 188 rebounds in the nine games he's played against some of the state's toughest opposition. That's an average of nearly 21 rebounds per game.

Art Van Ryzin, Central's veteran head coach, will probably start Fed and Pritchett at forwards, Kennedy at center and Roy Cosner and Clarence Douglas at guards. Douglas is the team's leading point maker with a 15.3 average.

Van Ryzin's defending Saginaw Valley champs enter the local contest with an over-all record of 7-4. Northern's over-all mark is 9-1. Tipoff time is 8 p.m.

The PCH-PNH struggle headlines tonight's prep basketball slate in the Oakland County area, but some other contests of great interest are also scheduled.

A full card is on the docket in the Eastern Michigan League, spotlighted by a battle for 1st place at Port Huron between the Big Reds and front-running Ferndale. Birmingham Seaholm meets East Detroit, the team that upset the Dales last Friday, in the latter's gym and Mt. Clemens is at Hazel Park to complete the EML program.

The Suburban Catholic League campaign, which ended unofficially last Friday when St. Frederick whipped St. Benedict to clinch its first title in 19 years, officially ends tonight.

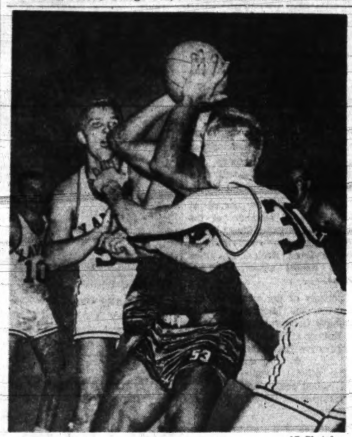

The champion Rams invade Ferndale to play St. James and the city's other parochial high school, St. Michael, also leaves town for a dogfight at Center Line St. Clement. Orchard Lake St. Mary entertains St. Rita and Royal Oak St. Mary visits St. Benedict.

Avondale finds itself an underdog tonight at Roseville where the Jackets face high-scoring Duane Soine and Company, the current Tri-County pacesetters. Clarkston and winless Oxford stage a rematch at Oxford with Clarkston a heavy favorite and RO Dondero is picked to take the measure of visiting Berkley.

Titans Overtime Losers at Xavier

CINCINNATI (UPI)—The University of Detroit's sagging basketball team faltered in the clutch again last night and dropped a 99-96 overtime decision to Xavier.

The Titans shot into the lead in the opening moments of the contest and stayed in front until the 13:30 mark of the second half.

Leo McDermott was the Xavier hero in the comeback. McDermott scored 15 of his 26 points in the second half and spurred the Musketeers into an 81-77 lead.

Then McDermott almost became the goat when he missed one of two free throws with six seconds remaining and fouled Detroit's Frank Chickowski at the final buzzer. Chickowski missed the first foul shot, but sank the second to send the game into overtime at 86-86.

Xavier continued to dominate in the extra session, however, taking a quick lead and nursing it.

It was the second loss in a row and seventh of the season for the fading Titans whose hopes for a bid to a post-season tournament have all but expired. The Titans' Dave Debusschere and Charley North led all scorers with 32 points apiece.

Detroit's troubles this season can be greatly attributed to an unrelenting road jinx. Six of Detroit's seven losses have been absorbed away from home. In contrast, the Titans have won 11 of 12 engagements at U-D Memorial where they will entertain Notre Dame Saturday night.

St. Bonaventure, which never seems to lose at home, won its 17th game in 18 outings this season 104-87 over a Tennessee A&I squad that stepped out of its class once too often.

Sophomore Fred Crawford tallied 36 points and Tom Stith collected 33 as the Bonnies whisked to an 18-4 lead and stretched the margin to 54-39 at halftime. The closest the losers came was a seven-point deficit at 88-81 with about five minutes remaining. But two baskets by Stith toppled the hopes of the visitors.

Fourth-ranked Bradley reeled to its third straight defeat, a setback that virtually knocked the Braves out of championship contention, as Drake gained an 86-76 verdict. Gus Guydon helped snap Bradley's home court winning streak of 46 in a row with his 35 points. Chet Walker had 30 for the Braves.

Memphis State, first team selected for the National Invitation Tournament, prepped for the postseason classic with a 104-73 triumph over Richmond. The victory was the 16th for the Tigers, who have lost only to West Virginia and Dayton. Lowery Kirk paced the winners with 20 points.

Kansas moved back into a first place tie with idle Kansas State in the Big Eight Conference by defeating Colorado 88-65. Wayne Hightower scored 23 points for Kansas while teammate Bill Bridges tallied 21 and nabbed 19 rebounds.

In other top games, Illinois stayed off a late Wisconsin rally to upend the Badgers 77-73, and Western Kentucky hit its high of the season with a 100-77 romp over Marshall.

Revenge Win Easy Sparked by Big Three

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Revenge is sweet.

And when the Ohio State Buckeyes take revenge for the one basketball defeat they suffered in 36 games, it makes Custer's battle at the Little Big Horn look like a game of tiddlywinks.

The nation's No. 1 crew at Ohio State left no doubt of that as they loosened up their trigger fingers and uncorked their own pre - Valentine's Day massacre. 100-65 over the Hoosiers.

It was at Bloomington last year that Indiana stopped short a 13-game Ohio State winning streak after the Buckeyes had already clinched the Big Ten crown.

The Bucks then went on to win 21 straight, taking the NCAA championship en route, and Monday night came Indiana's turn again on the OSU schedule.

Well, in the words of their coach, Fred Taylor, the Buckeyes were "mad."

There were some claims last year the Big Ten's best team did not represent the conference in the NCAA tourney, that Indiana was the best.

And still fresh in Taylor's own memory was the Big Ten record score (122-92) run up by coach Branch McCracken's Hoosiers over Fred's first Buckeye team here two years ago.

If the halftime score was any indication, the Buckeyes were hot-under-the-collar-fuming. They had doubled the Hoosiers' point output, 46-23. And with 10 minutes left in the game, the Indiana squad was rapidly "bleeding to death" and needing a 40-point transfusion to overcome a 79-39 Buckeye lead. Against most foes Taylor would have opened the gates of mercy at that point and removed his regulars. Not so last night.

It wasn't until John Havlicek's short jump shot made the score 100-63 that Taylor called his regulars back to the bench and let the reserves finish out the minute and 33 seconds remaining.

All-America Jerry Lucas, the Buckeyes' 6-foot-8 "hatchetman," had scored less than 20 points in each of his four previous games, but when he ambled benchward Monday night he had 34 under his belt. Breathing hard right behind him was Larry Siegfried with 27 and "Hondo" Havlicek with 22. The team had shot field goals at a .591 clip and outrebounded the Hoosiers at a 5 to 3 ratio.

Anderson Preps for Battle by Writing Letter

DETROIT (AP — Edwin J. Anderson's latest maneuver in the battle against a rebel bid for control of the Detroit Football Co. is a letter to stockholders painting a bright financial picture.

Anderson wrote that the club will show a profit of about $104,000, exceeding $100,000 for the ninth straight year since he took over as president 11 years ago. He also pointed out that the board of directors already has approved a dividend of $5 a share.

Holly Rated Top 'B' Cage Team in State

Holly is the No. 1 Class B high school team in the state according to the latest Associated Press basketball ratings.

The Broncos, who have a 10-0 record, moved from second to the lead after Ludington suffered its first setback of the season last week. Ludington is second and River Rouge third.

Ferndale dropped from fourth to fifth place in Class A after losing its first game. Pontiac Central tumbled from the top 10 and is 15th. Capac has moved into 11th place in Class C.

The 11th-ranked Jackson Vikings provided the upset of the week last week by beating defending state champion Lansing Sexton. The Lansing club, rated second behind Saginaw in last week's Associated Press poll, has lost only twice in 29 games — but the Jackson defeat knocked Sexton into third place this week behind both Saginaw and Detroit Catholic Central.

Wayland retained its Class C leadership but unbeaten Frankfort and Shepherd are providing stiff challenges.

Boys Club Hockey Final Set Thursday

The Dunlip All Stars and L.F.T.R.L. All Stars have reached the finals of the Pontiac Boys Club Indoor Hockey tourney to be held Thursday at 4 p.m. at the club.

Pat Cameron's hat trick paced Dunlip to a 7-2 win over the Mysteries. L.F.T.R.L. advanced on a bye 3-2 nod over the Sonahs after trailing 2-0. The Sonahs eliminated the Moe Shocks earlier in sudden-death overtime, 2-1.

Lounge Cagers Near 'A' Title

'300' Quintet Conquers Newman in Overtime to Take 3-Game Lead

The 300 Lounge virtually wrapped up the Class A City League basketball title Monday night with a 74-72 overtime conquest of runnerup Newman AME. The hard-fought victory gave the Lounge cagers a full three-game lead.

Lounge blew a 10-point lead in the fourth quarter and the score stood 68-68 at the end of regulation time. Individual scoring honors went to Newman's Jerry Williams, who fired 27 points, and Fred Davis added 22. Dave Diehm paced Lounge's well-balanced offense with 17.

In another overtime struggle, Perry Park chalked up an 81-76 Class B victory over Griff's Grill. The count was 71-71 after regulation distance. Bill Sekulich tallied 23 points for Perry Park and Griff's Ken Titherage netted 19.

John Bridgewater scored 16 points to lead the Pontiac Police to a 54-44 triumph over Felice Market in Class C.

Larnell Draper was held to 11 points but teammate McKinley Jones came through with 14 as the second-place Warriors defeated the All-Stars 57-50 in Class D. Jerry Patterson tallied 16 in a losing cause. In a "D" exhibition game, Westside Kiwanis trounced Northside 54-39.

Western Loses 12 Athletes Via Classroom

KALAMAZOO (UPI)—A dozen Western Michigan University athletes, including star basketball forward Ron Robinson, will become ineligible when second semester classes start Wednesday.

Robinson, of Muskegon Heights, ranked as one of the top scorers in the Mid-America Conference for first semester play with 353 points in 13 games and a 19.6 average.

The basketball squad got additional bad news when it was disclosed that Bob James of Battle Creek, who was ineligible the first semester, had failed to regain eligibility.

Junior Wings 'Ice' Border Cities Title

DETROIT (UPI) — The Detroit Junior Wings clinched first place in the Border Cities Hockey League race last night by trouncing the Leamington Flyers, 13-3.

It was the ninth straight win on home ice for the Detroit club and its 24th in 29 battles this season.

AP Poll Still Unanimous for Bucks

By The Associated Press

Ohio State shut out all opposition for the eighth straight week today in the weekly Associated Press poll to determine the No. 1 major college basketball team in the nation.

It was a 36-0 clean sweep of the sports writers and sportscasters voting from coast to coast. All voting was based on games through Saturday, Feb. 4.

Winner of 16 straight this year and 21 in a row over a two-year span, Ohio State polished off two more victims last week when it beat Wisconsin and Michigan.

St. Bonaventure almost had a clean sweep of the second place votes after knocking off the challenge of Bradley in a Thursday game at Madison Square Garden 75-61. The Bonnies drew 33 seconds. Two went to Duke and one to Mississippi State.

Duke, coming strong with a seven-game winning streak to match the Bonnies, took third place by a comfortable margin over Bradley, which was fourth despite defeats by both Cincinnati and St. Bonaventure.

Cincinnati, which has won 11 in a row after taking only five of its first eight, moved into fifth place with two important victories over Bradley and Iowa.

North Carolina's defeat by Duke 81-77, dropped the Tar Heels to sixth place and Kansas State, winner over Iowa State and Oklahoma, moved up from 10th to No. 7.

The top 10 with won-lost records through Saturday and first place votes in parentheses (points on 10-9-8 etc. basis):

None of the top 10 teams play any of the other teams in the top 10 this week.
1. Ohio State (36) (16-0)	360
2. St. Bonaventure (18-1)	312
3. Duke (16-1)	274
4. Bradley (14-3)	172
5. Cincinnati (15-5)	151
6. North Carolina (14-3)	146
7. Kansas State (14-3)	119
8. (Tie) California (15-3)	86
9. Iowa (12-5)	65
10. Louisville (17-2)	61

Crane Skaters Tumble

Cranbrook scored the first goal but after that it was all Detroit Catholic Central as the Cranes lost to the Shamrocks, 6-1, Monday at Cranbrook in an International Prep League hockey game. Tom Brown scored Cranbrook's lone goal. The Cranes' record now stands 5-4-2.

Lakers Whip Cincinnati

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP)—Elgin Baylor, playing before a capacity 12,500 hometown crowd, scored 35 points Monday to lead the Los Angeles Lakers to a 110-101 victory over the Cincinnati Royals in a National Basketball Association game.

Baylor, a Washington, D.C., native, scored on a jump shot with only seven minutes gone in the first quarter to put Los Angeles ahead 18-17 and the Lakers never lost the lead.

The Lakers led at halftime 60-41.

Cincinnati, powered by Oscar Robertson who was the game's high scorer with 37 points, rebounded in the third quarter to close the gap to 82-73.

The Royals moved to within seven points of Los Angeles in the fourth quarter on several occasions but were unable to stop Baylor.

Los Angeles coach Fred Schaus said Baylor, who was hampered by a bad ankle, played in the game only because he was playing before his hometown. Schaus said if this were not the case, Baylor would have been sidelined.

The game was played in the University of Maryland field house, located about seven miles from Washington, for the benefit of the M Club scholarship fund.

St. Fred Draws Roseville Five in Catholic Event

St. Frederick was matched with strong Roseville Sacred Heart last night in a drawing at Detroit to decide Sunday's opening round opponents for the annual Catholic League prep hoop tournament at the University of Detroit court.

The Rams, who clinched their 1st Suburban Catholic crown in 19 years recently, play a final tuneup tonight at Ferndale St. James concluding loop play. They have won eight straight and nine of ten all season.

The Roseville five is assured a share of the Macomb Parochial title and can take the honors outright by beating New Baltimore St. Mary tonight at Anchor Bay. Sacred Heart has won all nine of its league games.

State Upsets Irish

By United Press International

Perhaps that humiliating loss to Northern Michigan last Saturday was just what the doctor ordered for Michigan State's basketball team.

Something, at any rate, whipped the Spartans into an angry mood and last night they vented their wrath upon an unsuspecting Notre Dame team.

Coach Forddy Anderson's cagers, in their hottest effort of a dismal season, broke a home-court winning streak that had stretched over three seasons with an 89-74 drubbing of Notre Dame.

Michigan's promising second-half rally fizzled at Purdue and the Wolverines stumbled to their fifth straight Big Ten basketball defeat, 96-79.

The defeat was the first for the Irish on their own floor in 25 games. Butler was the last team to beat Notre Dame at home, squeezing out a 60-62 triumph on Jan. 6, 1959.

It was also only the fifth win of the campaign for the Spartans and snapped their four-game losing string, which included that 79-71 ambush at Northern Michigan.

The Spartans pushed ahead to stay late in the first half, 33-31, on Lamer's layup and they boosted it to 43-34 at intermission.

Michigan State, hitting on 23 of 24 free throws, continued to lay it on in the second half and at one time was ahead by 19 points, 73-54.

Anderson's charges' next start is against Ohio State on Saturday.

Purdue, in rolling to what eventually became an easy triumph, endured a few moments of anxiety when Michigan chopped a 16-point Boilermaker lead to four points, 64-60.

Four of Michigan's five starters fouled out in the ragged game in which 56 personal fouls were called.

Jerry Berkshire paced Purdue with 27 points while center Terry Dischinger, the Big Ten's leading scorer, threw in 22. Dischinger sat out about eight minutes of the second half when he committed four fouls.

Winless Olivet almost pulled one of the season's biggest upsets last night.

The Comets held fabulous John Bradley to only 19 points and Lawrence Tech was forced to come from behind before winning, 74-72. Bradley, the nation's leading small college scorer went into the game with a 32.9 average, but was hottled up by Olivet's collapsing defense.

It was a tough one to lose for the Comets whose winless streak was extended to 42, 14 of them this season. The Blue Devils' record is now 16-5

'Y' Leader Wins No. 8

Unbeaten Materials won its 8th decision Monday night in the Pontiac YMCA Industrial Basketball League by trouncing Tech Club, 46-30. The Bombers stayed one game behind the league leaders with a 24-21 victory over the Hawks. In other league games, Material Control defeated Coach, 38-17, and the Crazy Eights downed the Court Jesters, 24-17.

Scoring Story Is Unchanged

Chamberlain Continues to Lead Point-Making Derby in NBA

NEW YORK (AP) — Week to week the National Basketball Association's scoring story reads the same: Wilt Chamberlain.

Philadelphia's Stilt continues to lead the scoring parade with 2,108 points and a 37.6 point average. He also is the most accurate shooter from the field, with a .491 percentage, and is No. 1 in rebounds, with a 27.7 average, according to league statistics released today.

Chamberlain's closest competitor in the scoring race still is Elgin Baylor of Los Angeles, who has scored 1,931 points for a 35.1 average, while Oscar Robertson remains the closest to Wilt in all-around performance.

The scoring leaders:

Wren May Take Over

Point Duel Tight as Drum

The Oakland County prep basketball individual scoring lead could change hands tonight for the first time all season.

Jack "Lonesome Center" Wren has come from nowhere to within percentage points of Ferndale star Larry Tregoning. He could take over with another booming night at Howell as Tregoning and his mates try to bounce back from their initial loss against strong Port Huron.

Tregoning has 241 points in 10 outings for 24.10 per game to Wren's 24.07 on 337 in 14 outings. The latter has averaged 24.1 for his last eight contests after getting a total of 25 points in a four-game stretch.

Four other 20-pointers are also still very much in the running. Neil Kiernan of St. James is 21.1, Ron Morian of Holly 21, Bill Chilton 20.2 and Jerry McCulloch, Shrine, 20.

The past week was one of misery for several usually reliable scorers. Such totals as Clarence Douglas (PCH) 4, Mike Reed (St. Fred) 8, Kiernan 10, Bob Bliss (ROSM) 3, Bruce Billings and Art Tregenza (Hills) 16 combined, Bob Sias (W. Bloomfield) 5, Tim Burt (Avon) 11, Jerry Matteson (Madison) 3, and Phil Freer (Lamphere) 3 were surprises.

Douglas, Bliss and Freer dropped out of the top 20. New on the list this week are Avondale's Jim McDonald, Tom Reed, Lake Orion, hustling Ed Stigers of Waterford and Stan Tapp of South Lyon.

Duane Soine of Roseville pulled away from idle Lapeer buddies Dick Schwerin and Tom Connors with a 44-point game to boost his areal-leading average to 25.5. Julius Traub of Armada and East Dettroit star Bill Troeskin are others ranging from 18.2 up. The latter was held to only 9 last time out.

Fitness Meets Being Held

The Pontiac Recreation Department is conducting a Physical Fitness District Meet for 5th and 6th grade boys from 18 elementary schools in Pontiac this week.

After 10 weeks of physical fitness programs on an after-school basis at their respective schools, the boys will meet at four districts to take part in six different events. The results are based on endurance.

The boys are divided into two classifications. Class A for 11-12 year olds, making up the 6th grade, and Class B for 9 and 10 year olds making up the 5th grade.

Sylvan Boosts Lead at Huron

Huron Bowl Classic leader Sylvan Center continued to sail along with a comfortable lead as it won a match from fourth place Pfeiffer's Beer. Sylvan's balanced scoring was too much for even a 648 by the loop's top bowler, Arnie Reah.

Meanwhile, both second-place Auburn Lanes and third-place Calbi Music dropped matches. Montcalm Centre used the Sylvan formula of balanced scoring to take a pair from Auburn Lanes, despite a 602 from loser Tom Augello. Oakland Mill Supply captured a pair of wins from Calbi Music, although no one on either team hit 600.

Fifth-place Westside Mobil managed two from Mazza's Market, and Pasquale's Pizzeria took Collier Lanes twice. Mark Bowers and Paul Karas were high for Pasquale's with 617 and 605. Bill Smith was best for Collier's with a 645.

'Boom Boom' Boosts Lead

MONTREAL (AP)— Montreal's Bernie (Boom Boom) Geoffrion returned to National Hockey League action with a flourish last week and added to his lead in the race for the scoring title.

The Canadiens' right winger, who won the point scoring crown in 1954-55 when his teammate and rival Rocket Richard had to sit out a three-game suspension, had missed six games because of a knee injury. He came back to score three goals and an assist in three games for a total of 66 points.

Geoffrion's closest rival, Frank Mahovlich of Toronto, collected only three points for a 62 point total. Mahovlich's chances of beating Richard's record of 50 goals in one season dimmed as the big Toronto player managed only one goal for a total of 41.

Grant Kennedy Wide Authority

New Bill Gives JFK Power to Reorganize Government Branches

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Monday passed a bill to give President Kennedy wide authority to create new Cabinet level departments and to reorganize any branch of government.

The bill, approved by voice vote, was the first major legislation to get through the Senate this session.

It revives the Reorganization Act of 1949 until June 1, 1963. The authority expired June 1, 1959. It died at that time in a controversy between President Eisenhower and a Democratic-controlled Congress.

The legislation, under which either Senate or House may reject a presidential reorganization plan, would make it possible for Kennedy to create a new department of housing and urban affairs, which he advocated in his State of the Union message.

There has been speculation that Robert C. Weaver, Kennedy's nominee as administrator of the Housing and Home Finance Agency, might be picked to head the new department.

The chairman, Sen. A. Willis Robertson, D-Va., is opposed to the nomination. But there are indications it will win approval.

January Dog Tag Sales at 256; Price Up May 15

The city sold 256 dog tags during the first month of 1961 and expects to sell another 3,000 more by May 15, date the price of dog tags goes up $1.

City Clerk Ada R. Evans said the price, as usual, is $2 until May 15, then $3 afterward.

Wall Street Chatter

Fast Recovery Predicted

NEW YORK (UPI) — Spear & Staff, Inc., says there is a growing belief — which it shares — that the recession will end sooner than is generally anticipated.

Stronger than that, Spear feels, is the visibly rising confidence that, if it does not, President Kennedy will be able to do something about it.

Somewhere along here we should have a normal and moderate correction, Spear says, but it can't see this market topping out under present very bullish psychological conditions.

The trend still points upward and seems particularly strong in the group of fast-growth specialties.

The current buoyant price-volume in Texas Gulf Sulphur suggests that the uptrend will carry further, according to Thompson & McKinnon which looks for a probable price objective of 28-30.

Further price recovery and its sound technical structure on a longer-term basis presents a situation worthy of purchase, the brokerage house says.

J. W. Sparks & Co. reports that Kern County Land rates consideration for a trading purchase on the basis of both fundamental and technical reasons.

The firm feels that Kern County has one of the strongest technical patterns uncovered in some time.

Says Goldfine Faked Mental Weakness

BOSTON (UPI) — A psychiatrist today accused industrialist Bernard Goldfine of deliberately flunking a mental test which was to determine whether he was capable of standing trial for tax evasion.

"I thought Goldfine wanted to appear sicker than he was," Dr. Harry C. Solomon of Boston testified under questioning by U.S. attorney Elliot L. Richardson.

Solomon said Goldfine "seemed to have recovered extremely well" since the doctor examined him Dec. 20 and 21 in Washington. The psychiatrist said in his opinion Goldfine was "capable of handling business affairs."

Attorney E. Bennett Williams, counsel for the once influential textile manufacturer, said 18 psychiatrists had declared Goldfine mentally incompetent.

Faces Examination on Break-In Charge

William D. Shane of 484 Central St., Lake Orion, was arrested by sheriff's deputies Saturday while attempting to hide out in an ice-fishing shanty on Long Lake, not far from his home.

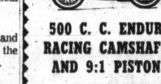

He and Joseph Hodges, 39, of 523 Belleville St., Lake Orion, have been accused of stealing $35 cash and 17 payroll checks from the gravel firm's safe last month.

Caught attempting to cash one of the checks in Birmingham Jan. 17, Hodges was to be arraigned in Circuit Court yesterday.

Shane demanded examination of the charge against him at his arraignment Saturday before Justice of the Peace Helmar G. Stanaback. Bond was set at $5,000 pending the examination.

MICHIGAN IS SKILLED LABOR

The success of Michigan industry and the rewards of working in Michigan have developed a great supply of skilled workers in our state.

Our workers are a highly diversified labor force, manning 365 different types of industry found in Michigan. Whatever the challenge from specialization to mass production, Michigan's skilled labor has the know-how to meet it.

Help carry Michigan's message to the nation. Clip this ad and mail it to someone in another state with your own comment. Let's talk up Michigan and its advantages for industry. Together, we can assure a greater future for all of us.

Got Athlete's Foot? Man, That's Status!

With Ike Out, New Symbols Are 'In'

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — As several hundred thousand social historians already have observed, it's a changing world we live in. Almost everywhere you look, the status is rapidly unquoing.

This is particvularly true in Washington, which has a somewhat rootless population and is more responsive than most cities to the shifting sands of time.

About a year ago, for instance, I compiled a research paper on status seeking in the U. S. capital. It told how federal employes at four levels of the government could be recognized by their status symbols.

I was looking over this list recently and I found that it already is out of date. The advent of the Kennedy administration has introduced a whole new set of status symbols that need to be identified and catalogued.

NEW CATALOGUE

I have decided that the best way to approach this task is to classify various symbols under generalized headings and then denote which ones are "in" and which are "out."

EDUCATION: Harvard degrees are "in." Johns Hopkins is "out," as are most state universities, particularly in the Midwest. West Point and other service academies are "way out."

ATHLETE'S FOOT 'IN'

MEDICINE: Male doctors are "out." Women doctors are "in." Back troubles are "in" but heart ailments are "out." Ulcers can be either "in" or "out" depending on what caused them. Athlete's foot is "in."

ART: Amateur painting is "out." Abstracts are "in" but landscapes and portraits are "out." So is Grandma Moses.

FAMILIES: Small families are "out," big families, "in." Grandchildren are "out."

VACATIONS: Palm Beach and Cape Cod are "in." Newport, Denver and Augusta are "out." Civil War battlefields, particularly in Pennsylvania, are "out."

CLOTHING: Hats are "in" if carried rather than worn. Homburgs either way, are "out." Tiewise, regimental stripes are "in." Open collars are "in" at the Justice Department. Bowties are "in" in the African Affairs office at the State Department.

FINANCES: Stocks are "out." Trust funds are "in." Bank accounts are "in" but pocket change is "out."

SWIMMING: Is "in" it it's done in an indoor pool. Quail-shooting is "out." Kneebends are "in." Touch football is so far "in" it's "out."

'Vital That State Grow in This Field'

Eyes Electronics Industry

EAST LANSING (UP)—A Michigan State University professor says that unless Michigan develops an electronics industry, it will lose more and more millions of auto industry dollars to other states.

Dr. Lawrence J. Giacoletto, MSU electrical engineering professor, said the industry is finding a growing number of uses for semiconductor devices on automobiles.

Giacoletto, former electronics manager for the Ford Motor Co. scientific laboratory, explained a semiconductor as one of several small electronic devices employing the conductive properties of silicon, germanium or similar materials to control current in certain specific ways. The transistor is a semiconductor.

He estimated that auto manufacturers spent $5.65 million on semi-conductors in 1960 and that the figure will jump to $14.8 million in 1961, to $46 million in 1962, and to at least $78 million by 1970.

He said:

"Most of this money is going to states on the East and West coasts. Manufacturers developed in those areas mainly because of outstanding university research programs in electronics."

The development of semiconductors could lead to electricity-driven cars, with power generated by gasoline engines, and even all-electric cars, he said.

Hastings' George Dean, Age 68, Dies in Hospital

He was 68 and had retired three years ago from a law practice he had served at Hastings since 1943.

3 Applications to Be Considered for Rec Board

At least three applicants for Waterford Township recreation director will be considered at the 7:30 p.m. recreation board meeting.

There will be a vacancy for the position March 1, when present Director Thomas Belton leaves for Austin, Minn., where he will be recreation director.

The budget committee will present a report for 1961-62. Paid for by the township and the board of education, the budget must first be approved by the recreation department board.

Belton will make a recommendation that the Fashion Your Figure Club receive more funds, and the new constitution for the Civic Chorus group will be presented for approval.

Irwin Greer of 5732 Southward St. will be presented with a Recreation Certificate of Merit from the National Recreation Association for 10 outstanding years of service on the recreation board.

Optimists to See Film

"Hunting in Alaska," a film, will be shown at the dinner meeting of Waterford Township's Lakeland Optimist Club tonight at 7:30 in the Old Mill Tavern.

New members have been urged to attend and be at the club meetings every Tuesday evening.

Lennox Is Chairman of Democratic Club

George E. Lennox, candidate for the 18th Congressional District Democratic nomination last August, has been named chairman of the Royal Oak Democratic Club.

Other officers elected for the coming year were: John E. Kronenberg, first vice chairman; Mrs. Jean Priebe, second vice president; Seymour Devereaux, recording secretary; Leonard A. Wilcox Jr., treasurer; Wesley Meyers, sergeant at arms; and Harry A. McAffee, trustee.

PET DOCTOR

By A. W. Meller, D.V.M.

Q. Our dog howls when he hears a musical instrument. does this indicate it is good or bad for him? Vivian Primozec, Willowwick, Ohio.

A. A dog's sense of hearing is more acute and covers a much wider range of sound than ours. Many high pitched sounds, inaudible to the human ear, can be picked up easily by dogs.

This is the principle behind the so called "silent" dog whistle. There is no doubt that many musical instruments, which sound beautiful to us, have a jarring effect on dogs.

It has been proven that cows and pigs, thoroughly enjoy the sound of good music, but dogs aren't known to get any lift out of a symphony. Although the musical instrument may be jarring, it won't hurt your dog.

Grain Market Takes Sharp Turn Down

CHICAGO (AP) — Heavy selling turned the grain futures market sharply downward today in early activity on the board of trade. Numerous grain contracts were off one cent a bushel or more and soybeans slipped well over three cents in spots on old crop months.

Brokers said the pressure apparently was mainly profit taking and was expected in some degree, at least, in view of the fairly broad general gains of the previous session.

Some of the liquidation in the soybean pit was linked again with the trend in soybean oil and soybean meal which opened steady to easier.

Reports that some opposition is shaping up in Congress to rushing through any farm legislation also was understood to have a little bearish influence in the trade.

2 Road Projects Being Surveyed

M59 Widening, Xway Work to Begin in 1963, Mackie Says

The State Highway Department has started making land surveys for two projects in Oakland County, State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie announced today.

The projects, Mackie said, will be built during the highway department's 1962-67 highway construction program.

Projects on which survey parties have started work include:

Widening of 5.6 miles of M59 from two to five lanes from Williams Lake Road to Elizabeth Lake Road in Waterford Township. Two survey parties are working on this project, which will be placed under construction in 1963.

M59 proposed freeway from Grand Trunk Railroad on Pontiac's east side to Squirrel Road east of Interstate 75 freeway. This project, to be placed under contract in 1963, is being surveyed now because it requires major interchange were 175 and M69, will intersect. A survey will be made later for the M59 freeway east to Utica in Macomb County.

Bill Seeks Registration of Mortgages on Autos

LANSING (AP)—A bill requiring car mortgages to be registered with the secretary of state's office has been introduced in the State Senate.

The measure, filed by Sens. Perry W. Greene, R-Grand Rapids, and Haskell L. Nichols, R-Jackson, requires registration within 10 days after a mortgage has been taken on autos.

Greene explained the bill seeks to prevent individuals from putting up their cars for collateral on loans and then selling the cars as if they had a free and clear title.

Sparton Given $3-Million Order for Electronics

JACKSON (AP)—A $3-million defense contract for electronics work has been awarded Sparton Corp., John J. Smith, president of the company, announced today.

The contract will result in the hiring of 150 more employes, a management spokesman said.

The big government order is for electronics equipment, including antisubmarine equipment and airborne instrument landing systems.

Sparton's electronics division is in Jackson.

The company announced a total of $4 million in new contracts. The additional $1 million was a commercial order for its Allied Steel Division in Detroit.

Gets Term in Jackson on Larceny Charge

Shirley Davis, a 46-year-old factory metal finisher from Pontiac, was sentenced to Jackson Prison for 2½ to 5 years after he pleaded guilty Jan. 23 to larceny by conversion.

Davis, of 535 N. Saginaw St., rented a 1960 automobile from the Yellow System, Inc., of Royal Oak on Dec. 16 and failed to return it. In the meantime, police said he passed 10 checks totaling $250 during one month.

Frank Thomas Lauded by Firm as 'Salesman'

Frank Thomas of 2652 West Walton Blvd., Pontiac, has been named "salesman of the year" for The Diversey Corp. East Central Division, according to Bland B. Button, vice president in charge of sales.

A Diversey representative since 1948, Thomas shares the honor with the top salesmen selected from each of the company's 10 divisions.

Philco to Provide Team as Mercury Monitors

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Philco Corp. will provide a 16-man task team to monitor electrical and mechanical systems in America's Project Mercury, designed to eventually send a space craft into orbit with an astronaut aboard.

The firm announced Monday that the National Aeronautics and Space Administration had awarded its Tech Rep Division here a contract to provide the 16 men.

Market Drifts; Correction Seen

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market continued to drift off in fairly active trading early this afternoon although a number of issues encountered speculative demand.

Losses of fractions to around a point among key stocks outweighed advances in the same range. Some wider moves either way were made among more speculative issues.

The market was down from the start as it continued its correction of the six-week advance. Analysts said the list was due for some consolidation. At the same time, the general economic news was uninspiring.

Steels, oils, motors, aircraft-missiles, building materials and electrical equipments declined. Drugs, airlines, nonferrous metals and chemicals were mostly higher.

American Machinery & Foundry and Brunswick, the latter involved in rumors about some new acquisition, continued to advance, both adding about a point.

Trading attention swung to some of the lower-priced issues. Avco, Electrical & Musical Industries, Ampex, and Kayser-Roth were active and fractionally higher.

Among sharper losses were: International Business Machines, off about 4, Corning Glass 3, and Texas Instruments more than 2. Raybestos, a huge gainer recently on published news of its new adhesive mortar, dropped more than a point on profit taking.

Michigan Construction Dollar Volume Rises

DETROIT (AP)—Dollar volume of construction contracts in Michigan last year was 4 per cent above 1959, F. W. Dodge Corp., construction and marketing analysts, reported today. Dodge said the total was more than $1.4 billion.

Compacts Dig Into Total Sales

Take Record 33.4 Pct. Out of 368,913 Units in January

DETROIT (AP)—Compact cars continued to take a larger slice of domestic auto sales as total January sales slipped to their lowest for the month since 1954, Ward's Automotive Reports said.

The statistical agency said total sales in January numbered some 368,913 units, compared with 453,275 in January of 1960 and 340,698 in January of 1954.

Compact cars took a record 33.4 per cent of all sales, Ward's said, up from 31.5 per cent in December and 30 per cent in November.

Adverse weather in the East was blamed for a sharp fall off in sales during the final week and a half of January. Sales in the last 10 days of the month were calculated at 14,499 per day — the lowest in the 1961 model year.

Ward's said new car inventories on Feb. 1 were estimated at 1,027,000 units, or about 69 days' supply at present selling rates. The all-time record of 1,062,800 new cars in inventory was set last Aug. 1.

6 Appointments at GMC Truck

Mosely, Moore, King, Surratt and 2 Others Get New Posts

The appointment of J. Branch Mosely as national fleet sales manager and Ralph O. Moore as eastern regional sales manager for GMC Truck & Coach Division was announced today by R. C. Woodhouse, general truck sales manager.

He also appointed Hugh M. Surratt to the newly created post of national manager of GMC Truck factory branches.

Other appointments were George W. Sheldon to zone manager at St. Louis; Robert A. Merz, zone manager at Portland, Ore.; and Arthur P. King, administrative assistant to the general sales manager.

Widely known throughout the trucking industry, Mosley brings more than 20 years of varied GMC sales experience to his new assignment.

He has served as Southern and eastern regional sales manager during the past five years. Before that he managed GMC's Kansas City and Atlanta zones.

MOORE JOINED IN '35

Moore joined the division in 1935 as administrative assistant to the general sales manager. His General Motors service dates back to 1857, but he left the corporation for two years to serve in the office of the secretary of Defense in Washington, D. C.

Former Portland zone manager, Surratt came to GMC Truck in 1947. He has had wide experience in zone sales activities, serving as manager of the San Antonio zone years ago.

Merz joined GMC in 1947 and has been associated with zone sales activities in St. Paul and Chicago for the past 11 years.

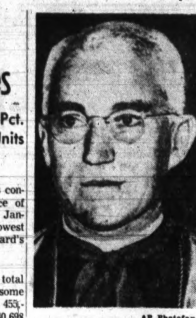

King has been business management manager for the division since 1954. He is a 25-year veteran of General Motors.

State Spending Exceeds Income by $60 Million

LANSING (AP)—State Treasurer Sanford A. Brown reports that the income into the State Treasury for the week of Jan. 30 totaled $19.3 million.

Expenditures for the week, he said, came to $79 million, with $24.6 going for highways, and $18.6 million for school aid.

Despite the heavy expenditures, the treasury has a balance of $18.9 million, Brown said.

SEC Complains Against Jessel, Investment Firm

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Securities and Exchange Commission objects to recorded advertisements for an investment firm in which it says comedian George Jessel promised to "send mama a check every month."

The government agency says the perennial master of ceremonies, adapting his famed telephone monologue in the radio commercials, suggested that "Aunt Gussie should invest Uncle Phil's life" insurance in the firm he was advertising.

The SEC named Jessel, Beverly Hills Security Investments and three of its officers as defendants in a six-count civil injunction complaint filed in federal court Monday.

Tax Cut Hopes Grow Dismal: Speaker Sam

WASHINGTON (UPI)—House Speaker Sam Rayburn said today that the outlook is "dismal" for a general tax cut now.

After a breakfast meeting with President Kennedy and other government leaders, Rayburn was asked if a tax cut was under consideration.

"It is by me," the Texas Democrat replied. But he added that "when revenues are down, wisdom would not suggest a tax cut unless in some areas it would encourage business to expand."

He apparently was referring to Kennedy's request to study methods of altering the tax structure to try to curb the flow of U.S. dollars abroad.

Three Plead Guilty Before City Judge

The TV sets were stolen from retail stores in Pontiac and Battle Creek, police said. Altogether there were 13 TV sets and two stereophonic record players missing in thefts.

Judge Maurice E. Finnegan will sentence the trio March 8.

State Legislature Asked to Okay D.C. Voting Rights

LANSING (AP)—Gov. Swainson has asked the legislature to approve an amendment to the U.S. Constitution granting the 800,000 residents of Washington, D.C., the right to vote for the president and vice president.

The residents of the district "are subject to all the laws of the land," Swainson said in a special message to the legislature, "but they are denied the right to vote in national elections."

The Constitution limits that right to residents of the states, he pointed out, and the district is not a state.

Ike Tells Vacation Plans —Golf and More Golf

9,688 in Clinton Valley Scouts Mark 51st Anniversary

Five million, one hundred thousand strong, American Boy Scouts this week are marking the 51st anniversary of the scouting movement in the United States.

Unit celebrations will be the rule locally, starting today and running through Feb. 13.

Working with the youths are 578 adult volunteers or "scouters."

SCOUTERS SUPERVISE

As 1961 began, there were 52 Scout units in the district, two more than the previous year.

Active in Clinton Valley Council activities (the four districts combined) are 9,688 boys and 3,266 scouters.

Traditional Boy Scout Sabbath and Boy Scout Sunday services will be held Friday night, Saturday, and Sunday at many churches and synagogues with Scouts taking part, and sermons built around Scout ideals and purposes.

The actual date of the founding of the Boy Scouts of America was on Feb. 8, 1910.

Many Scouts will be recognized for having earned the 50th anniversary achievement award, a permanent patch created especially for scouting's Golden Jubilee Year in 1960.

To earn this award, Scouts had to show personal achievement in rank, recruit a new member, render service to others and take part in last fall's Get-Out-the-Vote campaign.

Pontiac Boy Dies After Slip on Ice

A 6-year-old Pontiac boy, Joey Gwinn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bennie R. Gwinn of 603 Valencia St., died Monday at St. Joseph Hospital from injuries suffered Sunday when he slipped on ice and struck his head.

The boy had undergone surgery for head injuries. He fell while playing in a neighbor's yard.

Joey was a kindergartner at Mark Twain School. His father is an orthopedic technician at Becker Orthopedic Appliance Co., Birmingham, and his mother is a teacher in the Waterford Township School District.

Funeral arrangements are being handled by Voorhees-Siple Funeral Home. The boy was one of four sons of the Gwinns.

Service and burial will be Thursday at 1 p.m. in Rainelle, W. Va.

Spot Body and Plane on Great Lakes Ice

CHICAGO (AP)—The wreckage of a missing plane and the body of the pilot were found on the Lake Michigan ice today about four miles off Navy Pier.

The pilot, Peter Dekalaita, 26, of suburban Cicero, was the only person aboard the single-engine plane. Dekalaita was a copilot for Capital Airlines.

Marquette to Get 100 New Homes for AF Base

DETROIT (AP)—Ben Levinson, president of Franklin Mortgage Corp. of Detroit, said today he has arranged financing for a one-million-dollar housing development which will provide 100 new homes in Marquette.

Levinson said the project would be aimed primarily at providing housing for civilian employes at the K-I Sawyer Air Force Base near Marquette.

He said the houses will be built on several hundred acres in three separate subdivisions near the base, and will be available by late spring.

Set Tests to Develop Secret Blast Detector

LONDON (AP) — The British government announced today it will soon touch off a number of underground and underwater explosions to develop methods of exposing clandestine nuclear weapons tests.

The explosions will involve only nonnuclear material, the atomic energy authority said, but will be designed to show whether instruments measuring artificially induced earth tremors can detect secret nuclear blasts.

Of the 1,817,096 wells drilled in the U.S. up to the end of 1959, 1,159,166 were oil wells, 129,517 gas wells, 491,452 dry holes and 36,961 service wells.

Metamora Township Home Gutted by Fire

According to Lapeer County Undersheriff Carter Scramlin, the blaze started in the kitchen and spread through the house burning the kitchen wall and adjacent bedroom walls.

The rest of the six-room frame house was extensively damaged by smoke and fire, he said.

The Metamora and Hadley fire departments brought the blaze under control in less than an hour after being summoned by a passing motorist.

Pushes Program for GI Housing

Would Allow Private Pension Funds to Invest in VA Mortgages

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Chairman Olin E. Teague, D-Tex., of the House Veterans Committee today pushed a new housing plan which he said could pump hundreds of millions of dollars from pension funds into homes for ex-servicemen.

Teague made the proposal the first order of business for his committee when it organizes, probably next week. He hoped to shove it through the House promptly.

The Teague bill is designed to make it possible, for the first time, for pension funds operated by unions, management and public employe groups to invest heavily in home mortgages.

The Veterans Administration would guarantee 100 per cent repayment. Interest of 4½ per cent would be paid. And, to make the plan more palatable to the pension operators, the Veterans Administration would handle all paper work.

The agency would pass the money along to veteran home buyers at 5¼ per cent interest, with no down payment required and repayment stretched over 30 years. A one-point discount would be charged as insurance. The plan would operate wherever private GI financing was not available.

Two Sent to Jackson for Store Break-In Equal Jackson Prison sentences of 2 to 15 years were handed out yesterday to two Pontiac area men who admitted they broke into an Auburn Heights hardware store last month.

Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams sentenced Jerry W. Key, 18, of 3107 Caroline St., Auburn Heights, and James O. Vanderver, 22, of 820 St. Clair St.

The pair pleaded guilty to breaking and entering Jan. 23.

When police stopped their car, which they noticed with a faulty taillight, they found 12 guns, including eight revolvers, 30 boxes of ammunition, several hunting knives, flashlights, a watch, a dictaphone and several cartons of cigarettes.

Police said the pair admitted breaking into the Keego Harbor Hardware Store, 3320 Auburn Road, and the Avondale High School.

2 Years' Probation in Fatal Accident

Probation for two years and $200 court costs was the penalty imposed yesterday by Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland upon Indiana truck driver James F. Frankum, who pleaded guilty Jan. 19 to negligent homicide.

Frankum, 47, of Monroe City, was accused of running his truck through a red light at the intersection of Telegraph and Maple roads and colliding with a car driven by Mrs. Henry Koltys, 39, 960 Lone Pine Road, Bloomfield Hills. Mrs. Koltys died a week later.

Seven others were injured as the result of the four-vehicle accident last July 7 in Bloomfield Township.

Retarded Boy Shows Police Body of Girl

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP)—A boy who attends a school for the mentally retarded led police early today to the city dump where the bludgeoned body of a 5-year-old girl was found.

The victim, Linda Faye Worley, stepdaughter of an unemployed janitor, had been the object of an intensive search since she was reported missing Sunday.

Homicide detectives Pat Rowe and John Stargel Jr. said the youth, identified as Bobby Scales, 18, told them he hit the child in the head with a rock.

Stole Car, Wrecked It After Spree—Sentenced

For stealing a 1960 car from his boss' rental agency and wrecking it after a drinking spree during which he consumed 11 bottles of beer and a half pint of whiskey, Frederick T. McLane, 18, yesterday was placed on probation for two years. He also was assessed $100 court costs.

Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams also ordered McLane of 34 Bellevue St., to stop frequenting bars.

Eye Appointment of Review Board by Commission

The three-member Board of Review for the year 1961 is expected to be re-appointed tonight by the City Commission.

The 1960 members were James F. Spence, secretary-manager of the Pontiac Manufacturers Association; Cecil Mullinix, a Pontiac Motor Division employe; and John Q. Waddell, a Pontiac realtor.

The board is scheduled to meet early next month to begin hearings on real and personal property assessments. The final determination of the city's 1961 assessed valuation is to be reported in April, in time for the City Commission to set the 1961 municipal tax rate.

Sent to Prison for Killing Mate

Royal Oak Township Woman Sentenced to 10-20 Years

Mrs. James Cannon of Royal Oak Township yesterday was sentenced to the Detroit House of Correction for 10 to 20 years for murdering her husband last September following an argument.

Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams imposed the sentence on Mrs. Cannon, 39, of 20867 Bethlawn St.

She was convicted of second-degree murder Jan. 24 by a Circuit Court jury of 10 women and 2 men.

Cannon, a 56-year-old factory worker, was shot five times with a 25-caliber automatic Sept. 23 as the couple, married in 1943, sat quarreling in their car. She testified during her trial that her husband had been "running around" with other women.

Given 5 to 15 Years for Part in Burglary

Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams yesterday sentenced Chester J. Knickerbocker of Pontiac to 5 to 15 years in Jackson Prison for his part in the burglary of Felice's Market, 238 S. Telegraph Road, on Jan. 14.

Knickerbocker, 43, of 1000 Myrtle Ave., pleaded guilty Jan. 23 to breaking and entering during the nighttime. A man accused of being his accomplice stood mute to the charge in Circuit Court. He is awaiting trial.

The two men were apprehended by Bloomfield Township police shortly after the burglary. Officers found 50 bottles of liquor in the car, as well as several cartons of cigarettes.

Knickerbocker was carrying $103 he admitted taking from cash registers, police said.

Murder Case Taken to Lansing

RO Attorney Is Asking Leave to Appeal Ruling in Woman's Slaying

Royal Oak attorney James Renfrew was in Lansing today submitting his request to the State Supreme Court that he be granted leave to appeal a ruling in the case of Mrs. Sarah Sue Lawrence.

Renfrew is seeking to appeal Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams' denial of his motion to quash the first-degree murder charge against Mrs. Lawrence, accused of the 1959 fatal shooting of her former boy friend's wife, Mrs. Wyvona Crenshaw, 32, of Independence Township.

Renfrew claims Mrs. Lawrence, now confined to the county jail, was insane at the time of the killing and could not reason.

Mrs. Lawrence, of Berkley, faced the murder charge after she was released last December from Ionia State Hospital where she had spent 18 months following the killing.

Two Pontiac Suspects Arraigned in Theft

One man stood mute and another pleaded guilty when arraigned on a charge of breaking and entering during the nighttime in Circuit Court yesterday.

Pleading guilty to the burglary of Lou's Drugstore, 493 S. Sanford St., was Rufus Wilson Jr., 27, of 226 Prospect St. He will be sentenced Feb. 20.

Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams entered a plea of innocent for Eugene F. Douglas, 20, of 494 Bloomfield Ave. Douglas once escaped police when arrested as a suspect in the crime. He was nabbed later when he came to police headquarters to inquire about a friend.

Both men were returned to the county jail. Wilson to await sentencing and Douglas for his trial, which will probably be held next month.

Outdoor Rink at Miracle Mile Open to Public

An outdoor ice skating rink, opened at the southern end of the Miracle Mile Shopping Center, will be available for use by groups at night through arrangements with Gray Graham, business manager of the center, for night lighting.

Provided as a public service on the site of the Miracle Mile race track, the rink ordinarily will be available free for public skating during daylight hours, Graham said.

About Summit Meetings

I'm Open-Minded—Rusk

WASHINGTON (UPI)—After two weeks of trying, Secretary of State Dean Rusk finally has managed to explain fully his ideas on summit meetings with Russia.

He did not open or close the door to a summit conference between President Kennedy and Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev. He indicated the door would be opened or closed as conditions warranted.

Rusk told his first news conference Monday that the question of summitry had become "a little tangled" and he wanted to straighten it out.

Three days after he took office, Rusk issued a statement saying the Kennedy administration would "freely use" normal diplomatic channels of negotiations. The statement was given to reporters as a policy document that was interpreted as opposing summits.

Four days later, Rusk told newsmen he hadn't meant to rule out summitry or any other type of negotiation if the national interest warranted it. He complained Monday that this was hailed as a change of policy.

Rusk said his position all along had been right down the middle. "Could we not leave it that in these complex relationships among governments there is a variety of techniques and that these have to be considered in relation to the job to be done," he said.

"I don't believe that we ought to generalize or philosophize unduly about choices among techniques at this point. From time to time you will see an emphasis on one. From time to time, you will see the use of another."

He said he hoped "we would not find ourselves caught up in a policy with respect to methods, because the method is the handmaiden of policy and we should be prepared to do what has to be done or needs to be done in the national interest."

Rusk said part of the difficulty was that he had expressed himself on summits "before I became a public official."

Seek Jobless Help by March

JFK Aides Spurred by Fact That Many Will Be at End of Benefits Soon

They were spurred today by administration estimates that in the next five weeks the number of unemployed who have exhausted the benefits provided by present law will climb far above the present 500,000. Kennedy's proposal would revive weekly benefits for such persons, up to a maximum of 13 weeks.

The first part of the job is up to the House Ways and Means Committee, whose Democratic leaders hope to send the unemployment legislation to the House for action within a week after hearings begin Feb. 15.

Only the financing arrangements are expected to arouse much controversy at the hearings. Kennedy proposed that the federal government advance funds for the extra payments to all states which choose to participate. Then the base of the tax on employers' payrolls would be increased from $3,000 to $4,800 maximum per employe. The increase, according to administration figures, would enable the states to repay within five years at the estimated $950 million cost of the program.

The extension legislation was formally introduced in the House Monday by Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., chairman of the Ways and Means Committee. He also put in the companion Kennedy bill to extend to the children of the unemployed the benefits now available to orphans and abandoned children.

Waterford Woman Injured in Crash

A 32-year-old Waterford Township woman was critically injured yesterday afternoon when her car rammed a tree alongside Dixie Highway in Groveland Township.

Witnesses said the victim, Mrs. Raymond Heuer of 4001 Athens St., was forced off the road by another car.

She suffered internal and chest injuries, a possible head injury and cuts on her face and legs. Mrs. Heuer remained on the critical list today at Pontiac General Hospital.

According to witnesses an oncoming car was attempting to pass two other vehicles and forced Mrs. Heuer off the road, where she lost control of the wheel. The other car kept going north, witnesses said.

Sheriff's deputies were investigating the accident further today.

MSUO Professor to Begin Talk Series

The first of a series of three lectures on "The Communist Revolution in China—Its Background and Implications" will be given by Dr. Sheldon Appleton, assistant professor of area studies at Michigan State University Oakland, at tomorrow's noon meeting of the Lions Club at the Waldron Hotel.

Appleton's other two talks before the club will be on Feb. 22 and March 8.

Cosponsoring the series are the Center for Study of Liberal Education for Adults of the Ford Foundation and the MSUO Office of Continuing Education.

Retired Methodist Bishop Dies of Heart Attack

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A heart attack has proved fatal to retired Bishop William T. Watkins, 65, former leader of more than 300,000 Kentucky and Western Tennessee Methodists.

The bishop suffered a heart attack in his car Sunday and died at a hospital here Monday night.

One Big Deal, Predicts Hoffa

Teamster Head Tells Contract Plan but Says No Nationwide Strike

MIAMI BEACH (UPI) — Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa has predicted that all union truck drivers will be under one nationwide contract within three years, but he promised there would never be a nationwide truck drivers' strike.

"It (a nationwide strike) is just not good business for the union," Hoffa said Monday at the winter meeting of the Teamsters executive board.

Within the last 14 weeks, Hoffa said, standard regional contracts have been signed between the teamsters and 7,000 employers representing most of the nation's big haulers, laying the groundwork for a nationwide pact.

Negotiation of similar contracts for the West Coast, the Carolinas, Virginia and Pittsburgh will place the entire country on standard regional contracts, all set to expire Feb. 1, 1964.

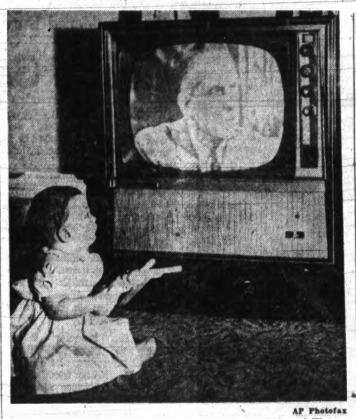

Negotiations for one nationwide contract will open 60 days before that date, the union leader said.

Hoffa and the union executives said they conferred at length about "piggy back, birdie back and fishy back" hauling of trailers on trains, planes and boats. Such practices, they said, were "dislocating many of our drivers."

The union said earnings of 15,000 to 20,000 union truck drivers had been diminished by the moving of 27,000 trailers a month by rail from the Midwest into the East.

Hoffa Claims News World Controlled by Big Business

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Teamsters' magazine said today America's "free press" is not free at all.

The International Teamster, a monthly magazine published by the Union headed by James R. Hoffa, told its readers:

"America's so-called 'free press' clings rightfully to its freedom—yet it isn't free. It is a 'controlled' press—controlled by special interest groups which edit or omit news dispatches to suit their purposes.

"Their chief purpose is to make more money; hence the publishers of America's daily newspapers and weekly magazines are wont to scratch their advertisers' backs.

"This means: play down news offensive to big business; play up news delightful to big business (such as news knocking labor or tending to weaken the labor movement.)"

The Teamster publication said this was why the press "gladly cooperated" with the Senate investigation headed by Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., "to distort the notion of labor racketeering out of all proportion."

McClellan's investigations subcommittee recently conducted a series of public hearings into alleged corruption involving the Teamsters Union. Hoffa was a key witness.

The Teamster magazine said the press played this up but would "ignore or 'bury' stories dealing with business corruption—which is far more widespread . . ."

It cited as a major example the story about many of the country's major electrical equipment manufacturers who pleaded guilty to charges of price fixing and bid rigging on billions of dollars worth of heavy electrical equipment.

"This story was 'buried' in most newspapers, if they carried it at all," the Teamster publication charged.

"Newsweek and U.S. News, which delight in kicking labor, didn't mention it. Yet it is the biggest corruption story of the year. If the Teamsters or other labor unions had been involved, it would have made screaming banner headlines."

Dann Asks Chrysler for Delay

DETROIT (UPI) — Attorney Sol A. Dann, self-appointed scourge of the Chrysler Corp., has requested a postponement of the auto firm's schedule April 18 stockholders' meeting.

Dann, leader of a faction seeking to oust Chrysler's current management, wrote the firm's board of directors Monday asking the months from the date he receives a list of the stockholders.

He said that he could not hope to wage a proxy fight for control of Chrysler without a list of the 90,000 shareholders. Dann has filed action in Superior Court in Wilmington, Del., to obtain such a list. The decision is still pending.

If and when such a list is made available, a second group, headed by millionaire industrialist James M. Robbins, 1051 Vinetta Road, Royal Oak, has indicated it too will wage a proxy fight for control of the giant auto firm.

Auto industry observers said Dann's chances of delaying the date of the meeting were slim.

Stands Mute in Court on Bad Check Count

Arraigned yesterday in Circuit Court for cashing a worthless $65 check, Joseph E. Hodges, 30, of 523 Belleville St., Lake Orion, stood mute.

Judge Clark J. Adams entered a plea of innocent for him and ordered him remanded to the custody of the sheriff unless he could make a reduced $2,500 bond.

Following a plea from his attorney, Ivan M. Forbes, the judge cut the original $5,000 bond in half, although Chief Asst. Prosecutor Robert D. Long said Hodges has a criminal record.

Birmingham police arrested Hodges last month. He is accused of cashing one of the 17 payroll checks stolen from an Oxford Township gravel company office on Jan. 8.

Hodges might stand trial next month, Long said.

Actress Reveals Talent As Baggy Pants Clown

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Tallulah Bankhead should be pleased that such a gifted comedian as Bert Wheeler said at Sardi's that she's revealed a new talent . . . "as a clown—a baggy pants clown."

WILSON

As for the show itself: Well, I asked Tallulah, maybe 10 years ago, why she took a part in a certain flop play.

"Look," she said, "the greatest actresses are lucky if they get two great shows in their entire careers. But you're an actress, you have to act to live. You take what you can get to keep working."

It almost makes you wonder whether you want to be an actor or actress!

X15 Inside Story Provides Breathtaking Moments

By FRED DANZIG

Crossfield is the 39-year-old chief test pilot for North American Aviation who recently completed a rugged series of tests in the X15, a temperamental, toothpick-slick, multimillion dollar experimental rocket ship.

The plane hitches a ride under a wing of a giant B52 bomber and is carried to a height of 38,000 feet, where it is sprung loose and flown, under its own rocket power, through some breathtaking tests at 2,000 m.p.h. and then settles down for a tricky deadstick landing. More fun.

This little exercise in guts and engineering genius was wrapped up in a tidy half-hour documentary, "x-pilot," shown last night on ABC-TV's "Close-Up" series.

Produced under the supervision of Robert Drew, the documentary showed preparations for the last test flight before the X-15 was turned over to its owner, the U.S. Air Force, and the flight itself.

By concentrating on Crossfield's comings and goings, his comments—"I'm no actor. I'm a pilot"—and the attitudes of his associates the program gave to the viewers an awesome human experience.

The film was candid. That is, it was filmed in a "catch-him-as-best - you - can - boys - because - he's-too-fast-for-us" fashion. In this case, when shoulders blocked our view, no harm was done. It all served to bring us into the cockpit, so to speak.

But I thought the script failed to keep up with events. It was sketchier than it should have been and let a number of questions—unrelated to security, I think—unanswered.

Crossfield, who probably wasn't as calm and cool as he appeared to be, played his role in the true Steve Canyon style. Lots of easy assurance and humble humor. As he completed his dangerous flight, he was heard to say, "I hope Kennedy's right about those unemployment benefits. We're out of business now."

There was one comment that jarred me. A ground control chief, talking about the X-15's next flight, suddenly stopped himself and said, ". . . let somebody else worry about it." Is that the old gung-ho spirit?

He Shouldered Burden Eight Years Ago

Cabbie Gets Help in Aiding 300 Children

MEXICO CITY (UPI) — A taxicab driver who "adopted" more than 300 children is now in the process of being "adopted" himself.

The American Society of Mexico has extended its welfare program to lend a hand to Porfirio (Poppi) Guerrero with the humanitarian job he undertook eight years ago singlehanded.

Working with affiliated groups, the society has formed "Pro-Poppi's Kids Committee" to help Poppi Guerrero finance a building where he can carry on the task he assumed.

The San Francisco Cultural Center which Poppi has kept going miraculously, was started by a parish priest who tried to bring rudiments of learning along with food and clothing to children of poor families and orphans.

The priest and Poppi got acquainted while the latter used to haul the padre on some of his charity errands.

Learning of the mission, Poppi soon found himself drawn into the endeavor, donated his services and soon was contributing cash. In addition, he spent all his spare time at the center, and that's when he came to be known as Poppi to the kids.

In 1952, the priest died, and it looked as if the center were doomed.

That's when Guerrero started thinking about building the center its own home.

Jose Martinez Cerrillo, editor of the American Society's monthly publication, The Bulletin, heard about Poppi and his brood. He wrote an article, with the result that the society's social service committee began making and sending hundreds of shirts, dresses and other articles of clothing to the children.

That was a big boost toward filling the daily needs which Poppi had been trying to provide by his own earnings and by soliciting from others.

The center is registered with education authorities as a day school for children from kindergarten to second grade. Theoretically the parents are supposed to pay a token fee of 40 cents per month for each child.

But fewer than half ever pay, so Poppi has to scrape together additional money to pay each of the five teachers the low fee of $8 a month they charge — but which they do not get most of the time. There also are quite a few orphans among the children of the center.

Eleven doctors now donate their services to watch over the health of Poppi and his charges. One is nearly always on duty. The tiny dispensary is filled with medical samples that the doctors donate.

Nearly 200 breakfasts are sent over each morning from a public school program's office. Sometimes Poppi gets leftovers from restaurants, sometimes private citizens or companies send money or boxes of food.

Contributions are coming in from all over Mexico, and from many residents of the United States who have heard of the work.

Men and Women Alike in Investment Reasoning

NEW YORK (UPI)—Men and women have different ideas on many different subjects but when it comes to investment objectives, they're closer than usual.

According to a National Association of Investment Companies poll, more than one out of three of both men and women indicated "future retirement income" as their favored investment goal.

"A better return on savings" was cited by one in four of both male and female shareholders.

GM Employe's Idea Works

Find No Missile Gap

Ike Viewpoint Upheld in Study Ordered by JFK

Probe Group Is Sure No Threat to Security Will Be Posed Soon

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States and the Soviet Union have equal strength, the new top Pentagon command has concluded tentatively.

This finding—that there is no "missile gap" favoring the Soviet Union at present—is based on a swift but careful investigation ordered by President Kennedy.

He said Jan. 12 in his farewell State of the Union message, "The 'bomber gap' of several years ago was always a fiction, and the 'missile gap' shows every sign of being the same."

The new civilian chiefs at the Pentagon also are convinced that there is no "destruction gap" that would imperil U.S. security in the months ahead.

Apparently, there is not sufficient information at hand to conclude whether there would be a "missile gap" in the future.

ORDERED BY JFK

In his State of the Union message Jan. 30 Kennedy said he had ordered the reappraisal of military strategy to meet a coming "period of uncertain risk."

In his fourth debate with former Vice President Richard M. Nixon last Oct. 21, Kennedy said of the Soviets and their missile strength compared to that of the United States:

"They made a breakthrough in missiles, and by 1961-2-3 they will be outnumbering us in missiles. I'm not as confident as he (Nixon) is that we will be the strongest military power in 1963."

At present, the new Pentagon team appears to be convinced the Soviets do not have more nuclear-tipped missiles than the United States.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara is under order to have the military reassessment ready for the White House by the end of the month.

The odds appear strong that McNamara will recommend some changes, particularly to add muscle to American ability to wage limited wars in far off areas.

The new study also appears to give substance to another Eisenhower view — that the Soviets have not launched a crash program to manufacture missiles.

Troy Firm to Pay $10,000

Fined $145,000 in Price Fixing

JUDGE GANEY

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Judge J. Cullen Ganey began the second day of sentencing antitrust law violators today by imposing fines totaling $145,000 on seven of the nation's biggest electrical manufacturing firms.

The Kuhlmann Electric Co., 2565 E. Maple Road, Troy, Mich., was among those fined.

Ganey, chief judge of U.S. District Court here, imposed $93,500 in fines Monday as he condemned the violations as a blot on American business. He also gave 30-day jail terms Monday to seven executives, effective next Monday.

The first sentencing today came for collusive sales of distribution transformers. General Electric and Westinghouse, the nation's biggest electrical firms, were fined $30,000 each.

Kuhlmann Electric of Troy was fined $10,000. The firm's vice president, Joel Watkins of 1011 Puritan St., Birmingham, was fined $1,500.

Others fines were Allis-Chalmers, West Alis, Wis., $20,000; McGraw-Edison, Elgin, Ill., $25,000; Malney Electric Co., St. Louis, $15,000, and Wagner Electric Co., St. Louis, $15,000.

All defendants are charged with price fixing and bid rigging in the sale of equipment that generates, transmits and distributes electric power.

For the 19, however, he imposed five years probation "where a watchful eye can be kept on their activities."

Of today's defendants, 14 companies and five individuals were among those who have pleaded for leniency.

All had previously entered pleas of guilty or no contest.

SOFTENS DEMANDS

Ganey rejected defense pleas against imposing jail sentences But he did soften the government's demands for even harsher penalties while labeling the case "a shocking indictment of a vast section of our economy."

The antitrust cases were prepared and prosecuted under the administration of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower and Justice Department recommendations for sentencing were delivered to Ganey before the Kennedy administration took office.

However, the new attorney general, Robert F. Kennedy, sent a message to Ganey which was read in court Monday saying that after reviewing the cases he favored even more severe sentences than previously recommended by Justice Department aides.

Only six of the 20 indictments handed up by four federal grand juries last year were disposed of Monday.

The 21 firms, including America's two biggest—General Electric Co. and Westinghouse Electric Corp.—were fined a total of $822,500.

The 36 executives, including those jailed, were ordered to pay fines totaling $109,000.

Senator Blocks Weaver Hearing

Asks JFK to Pledge in Writing That Housing Pick Can Be Trusted

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Chairman A. Willis Robertson of the Senate Banking Committee, refused today to start hearings on the nomination of Robert C. Weaver as federal housing administrator until President Kennedy vouches for the New York Negro's loyalty.

Robertson, a Virginia Democrat who has already announced his opposition to Weaver, called the committee into executive session and cleared the room.

He announced that he would be unable to start the hearing unless he should receive a letter from Kennedy giving assurances of Weaver's loyalty.

Robertson said "A representative of the President" provided him with information Saturday that the Federal Bureau of Investigation had given the White House but the Virginian said that he could not use it unless the information actually came directly from Kennedy.

Weaver came to the hearing flanked by New York's two Republican senators, Jacob K. Javits and Kenneth B. Keating. He was sitting at the witness table with Keating when Robertson made his statement.

Keating said later that he also had received "scurrilous mail" impugning Weaver's loyalty. But he said that he had thrown it away.

Did Secret Part Cause Polaris Fire?

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — A top-secret piece of equipment getting its first test may be blamed for a failure which turned an advanced model Polaris missile into a 15-ton "roman candle" and damaged its launching pad yesterday.

The 31-foot rocket blew apart in the middle when its booster stage apparently ignited at both ends simultaneously. The second stage soared low over the Cape before crashing about 500 yards away.

The upper section plunged into a barren area of the testing center's 15,000-acre expanse, and there were no injuries to personnel.

The failure was the first in four firings of the advanced Polaris which carries more powerful fuels in greater quantity than earlier versions already on duty aboard the nuclear submarines U.S.S. George Washington and Patrick Henry.

Missile scientists faced a pair of problems today — to find out what caused the mishap and to determine how severely the pad was damaged.

The device eyed as the possible cause of the failure was identified only as a "new piece of experimental hardware being flown in the booster stage for the first time." It was not carried in the first three updated Polarises, all of which were full successes.

EYE DEVICE

Sources said the new device could have caused the misfire, and that it was "being investigated as a possibility."

High-speed movie film which recorded the Cape drama will be given close scrutiny. Also, pieces of wreckage retrieved by missilemen working late into the night yesterday were inspected for clues.

The Air Force said damage to the pad "could not be determined immediately." However, sources said the launching facility, tortured by nearly five minutes of intense heat generated by the wildly puffing solid fuel first stage engine, "certainly suffered to some degree."

The failure was one of the most spectacular ever seen at the Cape.

JFK Preparing Ten Messages for Congress

First Will Spell Out Position on Medical Care for Aged

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy told his congressional leaders today he would send 10 special messages to Congress in the next few weeks, including one Thursday on medical care for the aged.

He also informed them that he would send a message next Tuesday on the administration's program of federal aid to education.

Kennedy and the Democratic chieftains met at the White House as the President prepared to send Congress details of his proposal to increase the $1-an-hour minimum wage to $1.25.

Speaker Sam Rayburn told reporters that they had discussed "a wide range of matters" that Kennedy intended to present to Congress in the near future.

Referring to House Democratic Leader John W. McCormack as his "writer down," Rayburn asked McCormack to list these subjects.

McCormack then reported there would be a message Thursday dealing with medical care for the aged, nursing homes and medical scholarships and another next Tuesday on federal aid for education.

Kennedy favors federal aid for education to permit help for teachers' salaries as well as school construction, but Rayburn wants the bill limited to construction.

McCormack said other messages to come, with no definite dates fixed yet, will deal with water resources, agriculture, budget and fiscal policy, budget figure recommendations, taxation, housing, foreign aid and defense.

Asked why two budget messages were proposed Rayburn said he supposed that Kennedy wanted to clear up some matters that were left a little in a fog.

Without referring directly to former President Eisenhower's balanced budget estimates for the current and next fiscal years, the speaker said "some former budgets found money that didn't exist." He added that it was doubtful that the Treasury would collect the revenue "anticipated by some people."

Asked about possible tax recommendations, Rayburn said that the budget outlook made it "a dismal prospect to talk about reducing taxes."

Solon Fights Sales-Tax Diversion

Raps Schools' Tax Bite

LANSING (AP) — A Democratic legislator, bent on sweeping constitutional revision, today proposed to end required diversion of half of the four-cent sales tax to local school districts.

Rep. E. D. O'Brien, D-Detroit, also proposed boosting local government's half-cent share of the sales levy to a penny. The increase would be worth more than $50 million a year to cities and villages.

O'Brien, who has sponsored more bills and constitutional amendments this year than any other legislator, filed a bill to enable local governments to levy an income tax.

Before the legislature adjourns this spring, he said, he will propose about 30 amendments to the 53-year-old constitution.

"This will point up the many areas of the constitution that need revision and point up the need for a new one," he said.

Voters will decide at the April 3 election whether to call a convention to rewrite the state's basic charter.

Another O'Brien proposal would abolish the primary school interest fund, financed chiefly by taxes on railroads and utilities.

Sales tax and primary school interest revenues, now earmarked for schools, would be channeled into the state's general fund.

"This would give the legislature more control of the money the state spends," O'Brien said.

"It would help avoid situations like those in 1959 when there was money in the treasury but most of it was earmarked for special purposes, preventing the state from meeting more pressing obligations."

'OUTLIVED USEFULNESS'

The Detroit Democrat asserted that the sales-tax diversion amendment "has outlived its usefulness."

"Every month for the past year, the legislature has had to provide supplementary revenues from the general fund to pay out the school aid formula," he said. "The two cents from the sales tax has not been enough."

State Controller Ira Polley was scheduled to tell senators today where Michigan's money goes.

Sen. Elmer R. Porter, R-Blissfield, chairman of the appropriations committee, called a meeting and said Polley would be on hand to "tell us what's in the budget and explain why it's there."

Gov. John B. Swainson asked for $462.2 million in general-fund spending this year, plus bonding authority for state construction.

Beard Police, Firemen in Their Yen for Growth

By MAX E. SIMON

Pontiac's police and firemen, used to close shaves in their daily duties, have had the law spelled out on their duty during the city's centennial festivities.

Orders for both groups are to continue taking close shaves. "Not against criminals," hastily explained Acting Police Chief Joseph Koren.

It's beards about which the two chiefs spoke.

They've trimmed any ideas police or firemen might have had about growing whiskers.

"I can't stand to look at myself in the mirror," said the police chief.

"Beards? The things are a fire hazard," was the word from the fire chief.

"We're a semimilitary organization," added the police chief.

"So are we," added the fire chief.

"Beards funny? Not to anyone being tickeled or arrested," Koren said.

TOUGH PROBLEM

He thought awhile.

"Maybe if we could all grow luxurious long ones, it'd be okay. We'd all look alike and be semimilitary . . ."

He waved aside the idea.

"I know I can't, and that's that," the police official explained.

Problems arise, he admitted.

Who'll throw beardless beings into the miniature pokeys if they're set up?

And, also, how to keep his officers out of the hoosegow?

"Beards sure grow into tough problems," he sighed.

Unlike Koren, who hasn't issued an order, the fire chief has.

"The city manager and I reached the decision," he said.

"Men at fires would have trouble slipping masks over the beards," he added.

For both police and firemen, orders are orders.

But, still, how do they feel about it?

"Frankly, I think my men will be secretly relieved," said the police chief.

And, of course, firemen are for safety.

However . . .

Police Sgt. Eugene Hendren was

Pontiac Boy Dies After Slip on Ice

A 6-year-old Pontiac boy, Joey Gwinn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bennie R. Gwinn of 603 Valencia St., died Monday at St. Joseph Hospital from injuries suffered Sunday when he slipped on ice and struck his head.

The boy had undergone surgery for head injuries. He fell while playing in a neighbor's yard.

Joey was a kindergartner at Mark Twain School. His father is an orthopedic technician at Becker Orthopedic Appliance Co., Birmingham, and his mother is a teacher in the Waterford Township School District.

Funeral arrangements are being handled by Voorhees-Siple Funeral Home. The boy was one of four sons of the Gwinns.

Service and burial will be Thursday at 1 p.m. in Rainelle, W. Va.

Thief of Bridge Given Span—in Jailhouse

Prosecutor R. A. Percy said there are "certain difficulties" in stealing a bridge, namely that they are generally "heavy, long and attached to stonework and girders."

"One could steal a cat or a dog, or a pearl necklace, and quite easily carry them away," said Percy.

"But Teasdale was cheeky enough to think that if he demolished the bridge openly and blatantly he would get away with it. So he used an acetylene torch to cut the girders off the bridge."

The judge sentenced him to nine months.

OPENING CENTENNIAL OFFICE — Mayor Philip E. Rowston snips the ribbon in traditional fashion Monday afternoon to open the Greater Pontiac Centennial Commission's headquarters in the new Pontiac Public Library building. From left are Stuart E. LANSING (AP) — State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie today proposed an emergency highway maintenance program that he said would put 8,000 jobless workers to work "almost immediately" in the state's critical areas of unemployment. It will require a $10-million federal grant.

Blue Cross, Shield Defend Bid for Hike

DETROIT (AP) — Spokesmen for Blue Cross and Blue Shield testified today that their requested rate increases are the minimum to return them to a sound financial position.

Their testimony opened a public hearing on the proposals of the hospital and medical insurance group plans.

Blue Cross Executive Vice President William S. McNary said his organization had to take some $1.7 million out of reserves in 1960. He said it is estimated the hospital insurance plan will lose some $16 million in 1961.

Congo First Test for JFK Regime

From Our News Wires

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. —A peace plan for the troubled Congo will give the Kennedy administration its first real test in the cold war struggle with the Soviet Union, diplomatic sources said today.

U. S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson and Soviet Ambassador Valerian A. Zorin have been holding "quiet diplomatic" consultations in an effort to end strife in the new African nation.

Stevenson said Monday the United States has been conducting "an exploration around the world in an effort to find a consensus" on the Congo.

Asian and African nations, hopeful of support from the United States, pressed their campaign in the Security Council today for release from prison of deposed Congo Premier Patrice Lumumba.

Ceylon, the United Arab Republic and Liberia were preparing a resolution demanding release of Lumumba, disarming of the Congo army led by Maj. Gen. Joseph Mobutu and reconvening of the Congo Parliament.

In the Congo, Mobutu moved troops to the borders of Oriental Province to mount a new offensive against Lumumba supporters.

Mobutu won a victory at Bumba two weeks ago and cleared the area of Lumumba troops.

United Nations and Congolese officers met in the Kivu Province town of Kindu Monday in an effort to prevent further clashes between U.N. and Congolese troops.

At Shangugu, Ruanda, the breakdown in a big power plant abandoned by European technicians left a large area of the neighboring Congo and this Belgian trust territory without power and water for the third day.

Europeans who operated the Kima plant, near Bukavu in the Congo's Kivu Province, fled a month ago to Ruanda after harassment by Congolese soldiers and marauding bands. Kivu Province is dominated by forces loyal to Lumumba.

In 1959 Earnings Came to $4.36; Promotion Promised for 1961

NEW YORK (AP) — Studebaker-Packard Corp. has reported making a 1960 profit of $708,850 on sales of $323,226,663.

Sherwood H. Egbert, the firm's new president, said Monday that earnings amounted to 9 cents for each of the 7,117,410 common shares outstanding.

After giving full effects to conversion of the $5 convertible preferred stock to 5.5 million additional common shares after Jan. 1, 1961, the earnings were equal to 5 cents a share, he said.

Studebaker-Packard earnings in 1959 were $28,544,338 on sales of $387,372,375, equal to $4.36 each on shares then outstanding.

In the fourth quarter of 1960, sales totaled $81,829,086. Egbert said a fourth quarter operating loss was more than offset by favorable year-end adjustments.

At year's end, working capital stood at $67,346,976, including cash and marketable securities totaling $29,893,863, compared with $73,639,101 and $62,164,009 at the end of 1959.

Southwest Befogged in Snow, Rain

By The Associated Press

Snow, sleet, rain and fog besieged Texas while the Northeastern states labored today to eradicate the drifts of their multimillion-dollar weekend storm.

One to two inches of new snow fell in an area from North Central Texas through Eastern Oklahoma and into Eastrn Kansas.

The snow is spreading toward the Middle Mississippi and the Lower Ohio River Valley. Spared from the new snowfall was Texas' Eastern Panhandle, buried under previous amounts up to 12 inches.

Motorists drove with caution Visibility was reported cut to 40 feet in Macomb County.

There were no plane cancellations from either Detroit Metropolitan Airport or Willow Run, however.

Clear skies brought relief to the Northeastern states, victims of the weekend storm that left snow as deep as 17.4 inches. The seven states hardest hit by the snow reported more than 35 storm deaths.

Fidel Upbraids U.S. Guantanamo Fears

Wayne State Psychologist Here Feb. 14

Dr. Fritz Redl, professor of behavioral sciences at the Wayne State University college of education, will be featured speaker at an open meeting of the Oakland County Child Guidance Clinic next Tuesday, Feb. 14.

The meeting had previously been reported scheduled for tonight. However, it will take place a week from tonight.

The meeting, to begin at 7:45 p.m., is open to the general public. It will be held at the Community House Auditorium, 380 S. Bates St., Birmingham.

Dr. Redl will speak at 8:30, according to Dr. William Westmaas, president of the clinic. He will describe his investigation and treatment of difficult child behavioral problems.

"Before his remarks, the annual meeting of the Oakland Child Guidance Clinic will be held, and the public is invited to participate in this meeting," Dr. Westmaas continued.

"Our official business will include the clinic's annual report and election of officers," he said.

"Following Dr. Redl's presentation, the audience will be invited to stay for light refreshments. No reservation to attend either portion of the meeting is necessary," Dr. Westmaas added.

Santa Maria Passengers Glad to Be Back Home

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Thirty-eight passengers from the liner Santa Maria, which wrote modern-day history on the high seas, arrived home by plane today, calm but grateful.

"There were tears—you'll never know," said Mrs. Chester A. Churchill, Lima, Ohio and Asheville, N. C., as she walked from the Real Air Lines plane which flew them here from Brazil.

On their arrival here today, the passengers were treated to breakfast at the Miami International Airport hotel's restaurant after they were processed through customs.

GLAD TO BE HOME

One of the first passengers to clear customs was Lucille Gray, Chicago, who told newsmen "You don't know how glad I am to be home."

Mrs. Gray said the first thing she was going to do was place a long-distance telephone call to her brother, Dale Sturman of Berwyn, a Chicago suburb. Asked where she was going to stay, she said she didn't know, but "even sleeping in a park will be fine."

Mr. and Mrs. Churchill cleared next. Churchill, a retired Ohio contractor, said, "It takes a trip like this to make you realize the prestige of the United States and the freedom of this country. You don't have to have men with guns at the airport.

Mrs. Churchill emphasized, "We (Americans) have lots of friends in the world. I want to tell you." She said when the American plane first sighted the Santa Maria, every Portuguese in sight embraced an American he could find. "There were tears. You'll never know. Adm. Smith handled everyone with perfect confidence. He gave us no false promises. He told us we would have to wait."

City Police, Firemen Bearded in the Yen

disappointed. "I think it'd be kind of nice," he said. "If we were arresting somebody, he wouldn't feel as badly as now. After all, we'd have our beards in common."

Other comments from police:

Sgt. Ted Goines: "It's no whiskers off my beard. I couldn't grow one anyway."

Patrolman Raymond Dickinson: "I'm with the chief. On the side of the beardless that is."

Patrolman Freeman Stallons: "For this, I'd have had to start last January. I didn't. I won't. I don't really care."

'I'D BE CAREFUL'

Some comments:

Lt. Robert Sartell: "I'd be careful. After all, in a fire, I'd guard a prized possession like that."

Fire Fighter Carl Widdis: "I don't care what they do on beards, Me? I think they look dirty."

Engineer Don Thorpe: "They let firemen wear beards at other centennials. I don't wanna set my beard on fire, but who wants to be different?"

CHANCE LOST

Engineer Farrell Ashley: "Alas, the chance of 100 years! Lost, never to be had again."

"Everybody's beard would get tangled up sliding down the poles, and they'd miss the trucks," he declared.

Work Starting on Interstate 75

Bulldozers Ripping Up Trees East of Clarkston for Freeway

There were cries of "timber" east of Clarkston today as workmen began toppling trees and brush where the new Walter P. Chrysler freeway will be built.

Two bulldozers and about 10 laborers moved into a section just north of Waldon and west of Sashabaw roads in Independence Township to start the work Monday, according to J. O. Smith, project engineer with the State Highway Department.

A Lansing road construction firm has been awarded a $4,612,804 contract to build the seven-mile section of the four-lane limited access freeway from Baldwin road to the Oakland-Genesee County line. It is expected to be done in late 1962.

The 4.8-mile section from Baldwin Road to Walton Boulevard, just northeast of Pontiac, has been sidetracked by a lawsuit. A hearing will be held in Circuit Court March 7.

North of Pontiac, the new freeway, designated Interstate 75, closely parallels U.S. 10 (Dixie Highway). It is the portion in the county of the freeway which will eventually link Detroit with Sault Ste. Marie.

Out-of-State Narcotic Prescriptions Nixed

LANSING (AP) — Narcotics or hypnotic drugs cannot be issued in Michigan on prescriptions prepared by doctors not licensed to practice in the state, the Attorney General's Office has ruled.

The question was raised by the State Board of Pharmacy.

Atty. Gen. Paul L. Adams said that prescriptions written by out-of-state doctors for drugs other than narcotics or hypnotics may be honored by licensed pharmacists. He cited the uniform narcotic drug act to back up the ban on non-Michigan prescriptions.

Offices Opened for Centennial

Centennial headquarters was opened yesterday in the spacious basement meeting room of the new Pontiac Public Library building on East Pike Street in the Civic Center.

For Leo Spaeth, veteran manager of many a centennial observance and historic celebration, it was a welcome move.

"Most towns are hard put to find more than an old store for a headquarters, or some office space nobody else wants," said Spaeth as he slid behind his new desk.

A field manager for the John B. Rogers Producing Co., Pontiac's centennial consultants, Spaeth will be on the job full time through the official centennial celebration, June 17-24, coordinating increasingly complex planning.

His services are included in the contract the centennial commission has with the Fostoria, Ohio, consulting firm.

WE THANK YOU

Ralph T. Norvell, chairman of the headquarters committee, and Stuart E. Whitfield, general chairman of the centennial, tipped their hats to City Hall and to Phyllis Pope, city librarian, for the rent-free office space.

They pointed out its advantages—municipal parking for the public across the street; proximity to City Hall and the offices of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce in the Waldron Hotel; historical material in the library proper upstairs.

The headquarters has space for meetings of up to 70 persons, plus work areas for voluminous mimeographing and mailing operations during the coming months.

Office equipment is being loaned by Pontiac industry and business. Seven desks already have been moved in.

First person to join Spaeth's staff is Mrs. Marie Schwach, 3911 Covert Road, Waterford Township, centennial secretary who has been working with Whitfield on the celebration full-time since December.

The license of Joseph Piurkowsky, 45, of Johnstown, was suspended by Pennsylvania's secretary of revenue following a ruling that all state employes must take a physical examination for a driver's license. Piurkowsky is a bridge foreman for the State Highways Department.

Cambria County Court said Monday the secretary had abused his discretion in suspending the license without investigating the individual problem.

Testimony disclosed that Piurkowsky had driven motor vehicles for 23 years without an accident or traffic violation. He uses no special equipment in the vehicles he drives.

Out of Auto Talks

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg said yesterday President Kennedy "does not want to take over or interfere with" the auto industry labor negotiations which start later this year.

The Day in Birmingham

Two Alley Improvements Fall to Hail of Objections

BIRMINGHAM — Two proposed alley improvements were tabled indefinitely last night after City commissioners heard a number of objections to a portion of the project.

The total $85,700 improvement program included paving and necessary drainage work on the alley on the west side of Woodward Avenue from Lincoln to Bird and the east side of Woodward from Ruffner to Sheffield.

Opposition to the project at this time came only from the merchants on the west side of Woodward. The cost of this part of the program would be $47,700, and would be assessed against businesses benefiting from the improvement as would the east side development.

The commission's decision was based primarily on the request of Harry D. Wesch, owner of Wesch Cleaners, 1456 S. Woodward Ave., who summed up the feeling of the protestors in a letter to the city officials.

Wesch wrote that he has been in favor of the improvement and still considers it a good idea. "However, I feel this is not the time to consider such a move."

"In the past two years our city and county taxes have risen, as have MESC, Social Security and other taxes, as well as labor and supplies, making it increasingly difficult to defray additional expenses," added Wesch.

"The present picture in this area is not encouraging and I feel it would be a very real hardship on any business to assume the cost of paving at this time."

The Hickory Grove Elementary School Parent-Teacher Association will meet Thursday at 8 p.m. at the school, 2800 Lahser Road.

The featured speaker will be Dr. Leonard Cohen, director of measurement and guidance for the Oakland County Board of Education.

His topic will be "Standardized Tests, What Good Are They?"

New officers of the PTA will be elected at the meeting.

Dr. Val H. Wilson, president of Skidmore College in Saratoga Springs, N.Y., will be guest speaker tomorrow at 7 p.m. at a kick-off dinner for the Skidmore College Development Campaign at the Women's City Club in Detroit.

Michigan chairman for the drive which will begin Thursday is Mrs. George W. McCormick Jr. of 1633 Quarton Road. Mrs. Harry O. Hoyt of 781 N. Glenhurst Road is the local chairman.

According to Mrs. Francis C. McMath of 2349 Bradway St., president of the Skidmore Alumnae Club of Greater Detroit, the purpose of the drive is to raise funds necessary to enlarge the college library, construct a new science building and build a new dormitory for 300 women students.

Sees 'Need' for Colonies in Space

DETROIT (AP)—Rocket Expert Dr. Wernher Von Braun said Monday night the colonization of the moon and the near planets may be a necessity within the next 500 years.

Von Braun told a Society of Automotive Engineers meeting here that if man keeps up his present rates of lengthening life and reproduction there will be "standing room only" on earth in 500 years, making expansion into space imperative.

The colonization of other planets will be made possible by man's ability to create artificial environments, Von Braun said.

He said the first manned lunar landings may require refueling in space, even with the still hypothetical four-state C2 Saturn rocket.

British Convene Trial of Spies

Claim Suburban House Held Transmitter for Naval Secrets

LONDON (AP) — The British government charged in court today that a small house in a quiet London suburb housed a high-powered radio station transmitting British naval secrets to Moscow.

Atty. Gen. Sir Reginald Manningham-Buller, opening the prosecution of five persons charged with stealing top submarine secrets from a naval research station, said government agents made tests in the house and heard signals coming from the Moscow headquarters of a spy ring.

The five defendants, who appeared today for a preliminary hearing, are Gordon A. Lonsdale, 37, a company director; Peter J. Kroger, 50, a bookseller; Kroger's wife, Helen, 47; Harry F. Houghton, 55, and Ethel E. Gee, 47.

Houghton and Miss Gee were employes of the top secret naval research station at Portland. The Krogers and Lonsdale carried Canadian passports and speak in North American accents. But Canadian authorities said after examining their fingerprints they were not Canadian citizens.

Manningham-Buller said Miss Gee, Houghton and Lonsdale were arrested after she handed Lonsdale a parcel containing naval secrets.

The attorney general said subsequently detectives found a radio transmitter buried in rubble under the Krogers' home.

NATIONAL WEATHER — Most of the nation east of the Plains will have wet weather tonight except for New England and western New York. Snow is forecast for the area from Missouri to the mid-Atlantic states with rain and showers elsewhere as well as some snow in the Rocky Mountain area. Weather will remain wintry in the Gulf with a rise in temperature in the southern Plateau.

Bewitched Phone Nice but Suspicious

It's better than a juke box—you don't have to put in a dime, and there's no rock 'n' roll.

If some one drops in a coin and makes a call, the conversation has a background of muted trumpets, soft saxophones, delicate violin notes and a gentle piano.

ARE YOU IN A BAR?

Imagine his embarrassment when he phone his office and his secretary—hearing the sweet accompaniment for the first time—asked: "Are you in a bar? I hear music."

The telephone booth is in the Criminals Courts Building press room, and it's making it hard for reporters to get off the hook when they phone their offices.

When their editors hear "Stay as Sweet as You Are" coming over the wire, they get a bit suspicious.

A telephone company spokesman said he did not know the source of the music.

"Through some induction beneath the cable," he said, "the phone may be picking up some radio music coming from a bar and grill or piped music being serviced to a restaurant."

Elephant tusks generally weigh 55 pounds, but there have been instances of tusks as heavy as 200 pounds.

Auto Deaths Up, but Rate Is Best Yet

CHICAGO (UPI) — The nation's motorists drove a record 715 billion miles in 1960 and set a record low for the number of traffic deaths per miles driven, according to the National Safety Council.

Although the 1960 traffic toll of 38,200 deaths was the highest since 1957, the council said Monday, the ratio of 5.3 traffic fatalities per 100 million miles of motor vehicle travel was an all-time low. The 1959 ratio was 5.4.

The council said the number of traffic deaths was up more than one per cent from the 1959 total of 37,910. The total number of disabling injuries caused by traffic accidents in 1960 was 1.4 million.

A slowdown in the number of traffic deaths during the dangerous wintry months helped establish a record for deaths per mile driven, December 1960 traffic fatalities totaled 3,320, down 5 per cent from the 3,708 persons who died in December 1959 traffic accidents.

The safety council listed an honor roll of states and cities which cut their death total during 1960. Heading the list was Rhode Island, with a 36 per cent reduction in fatalities, while Providence lead the cities with a dramatic 63 per cent drop in traffic deaths.

Chicago led the nation's largest cities with the least traffic accidents per 10,000 registered vehicles.

Defectors Mentioned

Factory Work Week Average at Low Point

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The length of the average factory work week fell to a postwar low of 38.5 hours in January.

Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg said Monday that this represented an "abnormal decline" of 18 minutes from the December figure of 38.8 hours and indicated the "gravity" of the business slump.

The work week is considered a key indicator of the health of the economy. It fell to 38.7 hours during the 1958 recession, the lowest previous level since the end of World War II.

Honoring St. Paul Year

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — The Roman Catholic Church has begun its celebration of the arrival in Rome 1,900 years ago of the apostle St. Paul. The anniversary year was opened Sunday by a pontifical mass in St. Paul's Basilica in Rome.

Hawaii, the "big island" of the 50th state, is nearly twice as large as all the other Hawaiian Islands combined.

Fidel Tells Students to Hold Rally for Him

FILIPINOS THINK —4-36

Castroite students were summoned to a mass meeting outside the Cuban "White House" at 6 p.m. today. It was not immediately certain whether Castro would deliver a balcony speech to the students who turn out.

Blue-uniformed members of the Castroite "Association of Young Rebels," who often carry arms, were scheduled to lead the demonstration.

Cadillac

The same road...but what a difference!
This is the lane that leads home—and he has driven it more times than he can remember.
But there's something different about it today—for this is the first time it has rolled beneath the wheels of his new Cadillac car.
And here, as he is now discovering, is motordom's truest miracle in motion.
First of all, there's the way a 1961 Cadillac smooths out that familiar surface. By the time those bumps and irregularities have been absorbed in that marvelous new suspension system . . . and cushioned in those deep Cadillac seats . . . they are almost impossible to detect.
Then there is the car's extraordinary quiet. Cadillac's careful craftsmanship and precision engineering provide such silence of operation that you can speak in a whisper.
And what poise and balance the car has! It is wonderfully steady and sure-footed through every mile . . . and it has a feeling of solidity and substance that comes from no other motor car.
Of course, these are but a few of the myriad pleasures of driving the new "car of cars"—in addition to its great handling ease and its magnificent interior comfort and luxury.
May we suggest that you take a 1961 Cadillac out soon on some challenging stretch of highway—and see for yourself?
Your Cadillac dealer will be happy to let the car work its magic for you at any time.

Unite for Promotion of Health Insurance

CHICAGO (UPI)—Four organizations representing doctors, hospitals and medical insurance have announced creation of a joint commission for the promotion of voluntary nonprofit prepayment health plans.

The commission includes representatives of the American Medical Association, the American Hospital Association, the National Association of Blue Shield Plans and the Blue Cross Association.

Filipinos Believe SEATO Is Dead

By JIM BECKER

KULA LUMPUR, Malaya (AP) — The Philippine government thinks SEATO has collapsed and is ready to write it off as an effective anti-Communist force in Asia.

Filipino leaders think the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization may not survive its March meeting.

This was learned as Foreign Secretary Felixberto Serrano and other Philippine officials arrived to prepare for a state visit Wednesday by President Carlos P. Garcia to this neighbor Southeast Asia nation.

It was learned Serrano bluntly told the U. S., British and French ambassadors in Manila that his government feels SEATO has failed to meet the Laotian crisis because it has not driven back the Communists there.

HITS BRITAIN, FRANCE

Serrano's government thinks Britain and France have paralyzed the organization and fear that the United States may be bowing to its NATO allies in Asia.

Philippine officials also fear some sort of "sellout" to the Communists in Asia on the issues of Laos, the Nationalist Chinese offshore islands of Quemoy and Matsu and the possible admission of Red China to the United Nations may be brewing in exchange for a settlement with the Reds in Europe.

Serrano, it is understood, is planning to go to Bangkok next month for the SEATO foreign ministers meeting prepared "to call a spade a spade."

He reportedly will urge the anti-Communist nations of Southeast Asia to replace SEATO with separate defense treaties with the United States, thereby bypassing Britain and France.

Serrano may even fly to Washington before the SEATO meeting to put these views before the leaders of the new Kennedy administration.

It is understood these views are shared by South Korea, South Viet Nam and Nationalist China, and possibly Thailand, which is one of the three Asian members of SEATO along with the Philippines and Pakistan.

No Increase on Truck License Fees

LANSING (UPI) — The secretary of state's office said Monday trucks do not face a higher licensing fee under bills introduced this year in the legislature.

Instead, fees will be juggled to simplify procedures but the actual cost to truckers will remain the same, the office said.

The bills, introduced by Sen. Haskell L. Nichols, R-Jackson, would also change the fee for registering a passenger car by putting all licenses under one of three categories.

The cost of registering a car under 3,000 pounds would be $10, for cars weighing from 3,000 to 4,000 pounds it would be $13, and for cars over 4,000 pounds it would be $16.

Officials said the total income to the state from registrations would remain about the same.

The bills, requested by Secretary of State James M. Hare, would cut down on the administrative work in connection with registration and would reduce the cost to the state, officials said.

Persons Past Sixty Will Get Acquainted

Another "drop in—get acquainted" meeting for people past 60 will be held from 1 to 4 p.m. Wednesday at the Waterford Township Community Center.

Dr. Arthur Sticker will present a short talk on heart diseases. Card playing and shuffleboard will follow.

Free refreshments will be served. Township area residents wishing further information can call the Community Center on Williams Lake Road.

Mull 2 Dorm Facilities for Western Michigan

LANSING (UPI) — Two dormitory facilities, costing an estimated $2.15 million, will be constructed at Western Michigan University if the State Senate goes along with a resolution passed Monday night by the House.

The House approved a resolution allowing the State Board of Education to let contracts for the dormitories and food service facilities at the Kalamazoo institution.

The dorms, self-liquidating projects, will house 1,500 students.

Easy Wear, Easy Care

(UPI)—The margin of comfort in men's clothes will be broadened even further in 1961 with new scientifically achieved blends of artificial and natural fibers woven in new ways to fit a lot of special needs.

There are fabrics that won't wrinkle, fabrics that press themselves and fabrics woven to adjust thermostatically to sudden temperature changes.

Bridge Is Played

The Pontiac Bonneville Duplicate Bridge Club met Saturday evening in the Hotel Waldron with five tables in play.

Winners were Melvin Smail and Richard Coddington; Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Richards; the Frank Kennedys; and Dr. and Mrs. Maurice Willis.

NY Snow Delays Trio's Trip Here

Because of the crippling snowfall in New York the New Amsterdam Trio, scheduled to present a concert at 8:15 this evening in John D. Pierce Junior High School, will not appear.

Margaret Beattie, president of Waterford Township Civic Music Association which was to sponsor the group's appearance, said that a date for the concert will be announced later.

PTAs in Action

The Daniel Whitfield School's Parent-Teacher Association will meet at 7:30 Wednesday.

Speakers will be Mrs. Janet Gauthier, head librarian of Pontiac elementary schools, and Margaret Scott, consultant on audio-visual aids. A question-and-answer session will follow.

Home room mothers of second graders in the classes of Faye Davis, Mrs. Lucille Young and Dolores Riddle will serve refreshments.

BAGLEY SCHOOL

Parents of Bagley School children have been urged to attend Thursday's PTA meeting at 7:30 in the gymnasium.

The program will feature only students, participating in a panel discussion, "What We as Children Think it Takes to Make PTA a Success." Refreshments will follow.

WHITTIER SCHOOL

Mrs. Agnes Saxton, representative of the Planned Parenthood Clinic, will speak at the Whittier Schools 7 p.m. Wednesday PTA meeting. She will show educational films and slides, discuss counseling service available for family problems and conduct a question-and-answer session. Oakland County's clinic is a member of the Detroit League of Planned Parenthood, Inc.

Teachers with the most parents present will receive Valentine hearts of candy from the association.

WEBSTER SCHOOL

J. William Maben, science coordinator for the Pontiac Board of Education, will speak at Thursday's meeting of the Webster School PTA.

Teachers will show science displays of the students' work and conduct a tour of the new science room.

Charters will be accepted from Cub Scout Packs No. 6 and 9 from their leaders Carl Seiser and William Brace, respectively.

Mrs. C. B. Robinett will arrange for refreshments.

Mrs. Paul Godoshian is chairman of the group's nominating committee, assisted by Mrs. Herbert Ketchum, Mrs. Marion Grove, Mrs. Jack Negoshian and Dr. Edith Roach Snyder.

The group will discuss continuation of family nights on Wednesdays and adult education programs Tuesday evenings, sponsored by Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department in cooperation with the PTA.

LONGFELLOW SCHOOL

Nominating committee members will be named at a business meeting of Longfellow School's PTA at 2 Thursday.

Following the city's centennial film, "The Pontiac Story of Progress and Promise," Mrs. William Cheal will present a musical program arranged to demonstrate how music appreciation is taught at the school.

WEVER SCHOOL

The Wever School's PTA will hold a mother-and-daughter banquet at 6 Thursday in the school gymnasium.

Mrs. Byford Laur will preside as mistress of ceremonies. Entertainment will be provided by daughters. Participants will be Jody and Nancy Schmuker, cello and piano; Nancy and Susan Norberg, flute and clarinet; Carol and Nancy Taylor, piano and accordion; and Joyce Skrine, accordion.

General chairmen are Mrs. Sam Ritchie and Mrs. Sherrill Grubbs. Others helping are Mrs. Carl Norberg, table setting; Mrs. Steve Couretas, table decorations; Mrs. Franklin Williams, food preparation; and Mrs. Clarence Miller, ticket chairman.

Mrs. Vernis Whitehead is in charge of prizes, and Arthur Bell, of the program. Fathers Club members will handle serving and clean-up duties.

Guests will be Mrs. Arthur Bell and daughter Althea; Mrs. Keith Pawley with Maria and Susan; Mrs. Philip Somers and Nancy; and Mrs. Laur and niece Kindra Whittington.

The McCarroll School's PTA will meet at 7 p.m. Wednesday for Dad's Night. Robert Everett, father vice president, will lead activities.

Mary Patricia Sweeney, policewoman, will be guest speaker.

Election of officers originally scheduled for March, will be conducted during the evening. The March meeting has been canceled.

Dads will serve refreshments.

Abby Says: Be Correct

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My father is my problem. Pop is 73 and insists on wearing his hat in the house, restaurants and everywhere else he goes. I say he should take his hat off when he's indoors.

He says all newspapermen wear their hats indoors and he used to be a newspaperman. Is this correct, and what should I tell him?

ABBY

AT ODDS WITH POP

DEAR AT ODDS: Newspapermen go by the same rules of etiquette as everyone else. Elderly people can become as spoiled as children, so handle him with firmness and affection and tell Pop to take his hat off indoors because he's beginning to talk through it.

DEAR ABBY: Just before Christmas our mother got a ticket for speeding. It cost her $25, which upset her terribly because it was her first offense in 32 years of driving. It also took a hunk out of her Christmas fund.

My brother and I wanted to cheer her up, so we typed a letter saying she had been overcharged by the Highway Department and we enclosed $30. We signed the letter "Captain Redmug" (which is our name spelled backwards).

We thought she'd catch on, but she didn't. Now she is showing the letter all over town believing it really came from the Highway Department.

Our problem is whether to let her believe this or to tell her the truth. We don't want her to find out later and feel foolish.

THE GUNDERS

DEAR GUNDERS: If you have a sense of honor, tell her—and hope she has a sense of humor. But no more forgeries, or you will all wind up in the "wogsooh" (which is "hoosgow" spelled backwards).

DEAR ABBY: I recently returned home from a TB sanatarium and was told my health was excellent and that I should lead a normal life.

My problem is how to convince my friends and neighbors. During the holidays people actually left Christmas gifts for the children at our door because they were afraid to come in. This hurt the children terribly, as they are old enough to understand the situation. I would rather they had not received those gifts at all.

Abby, are we living in the 20th century or the stone age? Are people so ignorant that they think former TB patients released from a sanatorium will contaminate them? Please, please print my letter. If you can educate just a few, it will save so much heartbrake for former TB patients and their families.

Just Treat Often as You Can

By The Emily Post Institute

Question: Friends of ours moved to Florida last winter. They have invited us to spend a week or two with them. My husband has 10 days vacation coming to him and we would like very much to accept their invitation. The husband is retired and money is not too plentiful and therefore I hesitate about going. I would feel a lot better if we could help with the food bill. Would this be proper and if so, is there some tactful way to go about it?

Answer: You couldn't possibly offer them board without deeply hurting their feelings. However, you can turn the tables and be hosts to them by taking them out as often as your finances will permit, to restaurants or to places of amusement while you are there.

Question: On occasion, I find it necessary to introduce myself to strangers and usually do so by saying, "I am Mary Brown." (I am married). I have been told that this is incorrect and that I should introduce myself as Mrs. John Brown. Will you please set me straight on this?

Answer: To call yourself Mary Brown would imply that you are Miss and therefore when you are married, it is best to say, "I am Mrs. John Brown."

6 Appointments at GMC Truck

Mosely, Moore, King, Surratt and 2 Others Get New Posts

The appointment of J. Branch Mosely as national fleet sales manager and Ralph O. Moore as eastern regional sales manager for GMC Truck & Coach Division was announced today by R. C. Woodhouse, general truck sales manager.

He also appointed Hugh M. Surratt to the newly created post of national manager of GMC Truck factory branches.

Other appointments were George W. Sheldon to zone manager at St. Louis; Robert A. Merz, zone manager at Portland, Ore.; and Arthur P. King, administrative assistant to the general sales manager.

Widely known throughout the trucking industry, Mosley brings more than 20 years of varied GMC sales experience to his new assignment.

He has served as Southern and eastern regional sales manager during the past five years. Before that he managed GMC's Kansas City and Atlanta zones.

MOORE JOINED IN '55

Moore joined the division in 1955 as administrative assistant to the general sales manager. His General Motors service dates back to 1937, but he left the corporation for two years to serve in the office of the secretary of Defense in Washington, D. C.

Former Portland zone manager, Surratt came to GMC Truck in 1947. He has had wide experience in zone sales activities, serving as manager of the San Antonio zone years ago.

Merz joined GMC in 1947 and has been associated with zone sales activities in St. Paul and Chicago for the past 11 years.

King has been business management manager for the division since 1954. He is a 25-year veteran of General Motors.

Stock Market Still in Decline

Most steels, motors, oils, utilities, aircrafts, electronics, nonferrous metals and electrical equipments were on the downside. Drugs and tobaccos were mixed, Rails showed very little change.

A reaction in February was generally expected after the sustained January rise. Slow auto sales, meager steel output, a drop in factory hirings and a rise in factory unemployment were in the background.

Air Reduction picked up a point or so. United Air Lines was fractionally higher.

The ticker tape lagged briefly at the start.

Sparton Given $3-Million Order for Electronics

JACKSON (AP)—A $3-million defense contract for electronics work has been awarded Sparton Corp., John J. Smith, president of the company, announced today.

The contract will result in the hiring of 150 more employes, a management spokesman said.

The big government order is for electronics equipment, including antisubmarine equipment and airborne instrument landing systems.

Sparton's electronics division is in Jackson.

The company announced a total of $4 million in new contracts. The additional $1 million was a commercial order for its Allied Steel Division in Detroit.

Gets Term in Jackson on Larceny Charge

Shirley Davis, a 46-year-old factory metal finisher from Pontiac, was sentenced to Jackson Prison for 2½ to 5 years after he pleaded guilty Jan. 23 to larceny by conversion.

Davis, of 355 N. Saginaw St., rented a 1960 automobile from the Yellow System, Inc., of Royal Oak on Dec. 16 and failed to return it. In the meantime, police said he passed 10 checks totaling $250 during one month.

* * *

Frank Thomas Lauded by Firm as 'Salesman'

Frank Thomas of 2652 West Walton Blvd., Pontiac, has been named "salesman of the year" for The Diversey Corp. East Central Division, according to Bland B. Button, vice president in charge of sales.

A Diversey representative since 1948, Thomas shares the honor with the top salesmen selected from each of the company's 10 divisions.

Michigan Construction Dollar Volume Rises

DETROIT (AP)—Dollar volume of construction contracts in Michigan last year was 4 per cent above 1959, F. W. Dodge Corp., construction and marketing analysts, reported today. Dodge said the total was more than $1.4 billion.

Compacts Dig Into Total Sales

Take Record 33.4 Pct. Out of 368,913 Units in January

DETROIT (AP)—Compact cars continued to take a larger slice of domestic auto sales as total January sales slipped to their lowest for the month since 1954, Ward's Automotive Reports said.

The statistical agency said total sales in January numbered some 368,913 units, compared with 455,275 in January of 1960 and 340,698 in January of 1954.

Compact cars took a record 33.4 per cent of all sales, Ward's said, up from 31.5 per cent in December and 30 per cent in November.

Adverse weather in the East was blamed for a sharp fall off in sales during the final week and a half of January. Sales in the last 10 days of the month were calculated at 14,499 per day — the lowest in the 1961 model year.

* * *

Ward's said new car inventories on Feb. 1 were estimated at 1,027,000 units, or about 69 days' supply at present selling rates. The all-time record of 1,062,800 new cars in inventory was set last Aug. 1.

Three Plead Guilty Before City Judge

August Klouse, 40, of 114 S. Castell St., Rochester; William M. Butler, 60, 509 Jessie St.; and Norman Van Kuren, 34, 3280 Rochaven St., Auburn Heights, admitted receiving five stolen television sets found in their possession.

The TV sets were stolen from retail stores in Pontiac and Battle Creek, police said. Altogether there were 13 TV sets and two stereophonic record players missing in thefts.

Judge Maurice E. Finnegan will sentence the trio March 8.

ILLEGAL PEDALER—Chemistry Prof. Malcolm Dole guides his bicycle through the Northwestern University campus at Evanston, Ill., after winning acquittal Monday on a charge of riding a bike on a street zoned exclusively for motor vehicles. The judge discovered that warning signs were absent. The legality of the ban was not an issue. The law will necessitate quite an adjustment in the life of the professor. He has pedaled the 2¼ miles from his home to classes on a bicycle for the last 27 years.

9,688 in Clinton Valley

Scouts Mark 51st Anniversary

Five million, one hundred thousand strong, American Boy Scouts this week are marking the 51st anniversary of the scouting movement in the United States.

Unit celebrations will be the rule locally, starting today and running through Feb. 13.

Working with the youths are 578 adult volunteers or "scouters."

SCOUTERS SUPERVISE

As 1961 began, there were 52 Scout units in the district, two more than the previous year.

Active in Clinton Valley Council activities (the four districts combined) are 9,688 boys and 3,266 scouters.

Traditional Boy Scout Sabbath and Boy Scout Sunday services will be held Friday night, Saturday, and Sunday at many churches and synagogues with Scouts taking part, and sermons built around Scout ideals and purposes.

The actual date of the founding of the Boy Scouts of America was on Feb. 8, 1910.

Many Scouts will be recognized for having earned the 50th anniversary achievement award, a permanent patch created especially for scouting's Golden Jubilee Year in 1960.

* * *

To earn this award, Scouts had to show personal achievement in rank, recruit a new member, render service to others and take part in last fall's Get-Out-the-Vote campaign.

* * *

Philco to Provide Team as Mercury Monitors

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Philco Corp. will provide a 16-man task team to monitor electrical and mechanical systems in America's Project Mercury, designed to eventually send a space craft into orbit with an astronaut aboard.

The firm announced Monday that the National Aeronautics and Space Administration had awarded its Tech Rep Division here a contract to provide the 16 men.

2 Men Escape Royal Oak Jail

Gouge Hole in Wall—California Pair Said to Have Eaten in Home

Royal Oak police are looking for two men who escaped early Sunday morning from a cell block of the Royal Oak police station, it was revealed today.

Francis R. Parmerter, 31, and Robert E. Matteson, 32, both of California, were being held on felony warrants for passing bad checks.

They made their break sometime between midnight Saturday and 5 a.m. Sunday, according to Royal Oak police.

Officers said the pair removed a light bulb in the lavatory of the cell block, then scored through the plaster wall and got through to the stockroom next door.

Police received a phone call from a man last night saying that the two men called him early Sunday morning from Ferndale. They told him they had just arrived in town and that they had no money.

He then took them to Telegraph road where they were going to hitch a ride.

* * *

The men were extradited from Tacoma, Wash., and had been in the Royal Oak Jail since Friday. Police said it is not known where the men lived in Royal Oak last November when the bad checks were passed.

Gold Trouble Remedies 'Good, but Not Enough'

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy's proposals Monday for curbing the overseas drain on U.S. gold were welcomed by both Democrats and Republicans but several in both parties questioned whether he went far enough.

Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois called the message "one of the most important to come to the Congress." But he said he was not prepared to estimate now how effective the recommendations would be.

* * *

Two Democrats who said more steps may be needed were Sens. A. Willis Robertson of Virginia and Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota.

Robertson, chairman of the banking committee — one of three Senate groups to study the message — called Kennedy's proposals helpful.

But he said they must be supplemented by curbs on foreign and other spending. He said foreign aid could be cut by $1 billion, "without hamstringing it."

Humphrey, the assistant Senate Democratic leader, commended the message, but said it should have hit harder on the outflow of U.S. dollars in investments in prosperous Western European countries.

Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., said "the positive tone" of the message was encouraging but added:

"To mean anything it will have to be backed up by vigorous and effective economic policies at home."

Chairman J. William Fulbright of the Senate Foreign Relations committee will consider the message told the Senate Kennedy's program "repudiates the talk that the balance of payments situation will prevent us from doing what is necessary in the foreign assistance program."

Chairman Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., of the Senate Commerce Committee, said the President's message gave the urgent gold problem "the attention it deserves."

FOREIGN VISITORS!

"I believe the program for establishing travel offices abroad and the new advertising campaign to entice foreign visitors here — once they get into full swing — can ease the current payments in balance picture by at least a half billion dollars annually," Magnuson said.

Humphrey said the administration will be well advised to take a good, hard look at why American capital is going into prosperous countries and "a good look at the tax laws of these countries which make such concessions to American investment."

Sen. Prescott Bush, R-Conn., said "I am gratified that the President's message has demonstrated a full comprehension of our balance of payments problem, and the steps necessary to meet it.

"It would have been unrealistic to have expected him to offer any new, and magic solutions," Bush added. "With few exceptions, he has proposed to continue and expand the necessary corrective actions initiated by President Eisenhower."

Waterford Board Works on Full-Pension Plans

Reviewing the request, the board envisioned the possibility of a broader program.

Elmer Johnson, township supervisor, was asked to determine the cost of a plan tailored to the township's needs. Johnson said he would meet with actuaries experienced in pension programming.

In other business it was announced that the township treasurer's office will be open 9 a.m. to noon Saturday to accept payment of 1960 township, school and county taxes. After Feb. 14, a 4 per cent penalty will be charged.

James Seeterlin, township clerk, was asked to study specifications contained in bids by two companies to sell a new, two-way police radio to the township.

The board approved erection of a backstop at Drayton Ball Park in Drayton Plains at an estimated cost of $800.

Following a public hearing on special assessments, the board approved installation of street lights on Meigs Street.

The board called for engineering plans for blacktopping of Tyrone Street, a two-block long road.

A license was issued to Mary Vance of Detroit to operate a pool hall on the north side of Cooley Lake Road near the entrance of the Oakland County Tuberculosis Sanatorium.

Metamora Township Home Gutted by Fire

According to Lapeer County Undersheriff Carter Scramlin, the blaze started in the kitchen and spread through the house burning the kitchen wall and adjacent bedroom walls.

The rest of the six-room frame house was extensively damaged by smoke and fire, he said.

The Metamora and Hadley fire departments brought the blaze under control in less than an hour after being summoned by a passing motorist.

No estimate of loss is available. Cause of the blaze also is undetermined.
