Fisher Employees Approve Back-to-Work Pact

UNION MEMBERS GATHER—Some 2,000 members of Fisher Body Local 596 UAW packed the Lincoln Junior High School auditorium yesterday afternoon to vote on a strike settlement agreement reached earlier in the day between management and union arbitrators. After hearing the terms of the agreement read by shop committeemen, a voice vote showed workers voted overwhelmingly to return to work after the eight-day strike that idled 11,900 workers at the Fisher and Pontiac Motor Division plants.

Group Will Study Pontiac, Oakland UF Cooperation

A three-man committee to study the future of the Pontiac Area United Fund and the Oakland County Townships United Fund was appointed by UF President William B. Hartman.

Appointment of this committee follows the resignation of Dwyer Sump, former executive of the Oakland County Townships United Fund. Sump was recently appointed executive director of the Community Chest of Greater Muskegon.

Members of the special United Fund Study Committee are Leonard Lewis, of Lewis Furniture Corp., Glenn Griffin of Sparks-Griffin Funeral Home, and Fred Haggard, president of the Oakland County CIO Council. They will study a possible merger with the Oakland County Townships United Fund.

CONSIDER 3 ALTERNATIVES
This committee will examine three alternatives involving the Oakland County Townships United Fund organization. Alternatives are:

1. That the Oakland County Townships United Fund would hire a new director.
2. That the Townships United Fund would merge with the Detroit United Fund.
3. That the Townships United Fund would merge with the Pontiac Area United Fund for purposes of fund-raising in the area.

The Oakland County Townships United Fund now raises money for health, welfare and recreation purposes in Groveland, Brandon, Oxford, Addison, Rose, Springfield, Independence, Highland, White, Milford, Commerce, Bloomfield, Lyon, Novi and Farmington townships.

Sump served as part-time professional director of the Townships United Fund. The remaining half of his time was devoted to working with the North Macomb United Fund. Since Sump's transfer to Muskegon, the North Macomb (Continued on Page 25, Col. 2)

Fine Keating $1,000 for Tax Evasion

Daniel J. Keating, former president and business agent of Pontiac Teamsters Local 614, was fined $1,000 and placed on probation for two years yesterday in Detroit Federal Court on a charge of evading $382 in income taxes.

Keating, 33, pleaded guilty Sept. 11 to one count of an indictment charging evasion of $7,976 in income taxes between 1949 and 1952, while he was a union official.

Charges were made by a Federal Grand Jury after Keating and other union officials were convicted in 1952 of accepting bribes from contractors.

Keating, of 2902 Oak Grove, may face a government suit to force payment of the back taxes. He said after the sentence he plans to become an Upper Peninsula motel keeper.

Full Production Expected Today at Two Plants

Lines Begin Moving After Vote Approves Terms of Peace

Assembly lines were rolling again today at the Fisher Body Division plant after an eight-day standstill, as some 2,000 members of Fisher Local 596 UAW yesterday ratified a strike settlement agreement.

Production at Pontiac Motor Division, which was forced to lay off 7,600 hourly employees because of the strike, was expected to resume fully at the 4 o'clock shift this afternoon. Some workers returned to the plant this morning.

Meeting in the Lincoln Junior High School auditorium yesterday afternoon, a one-hour session was climaxed by a voice vote approving the settlement agreement read by shop committeemen.

A few "nays" were voiced after several workers in the headliner department of the Fisher plant argued they were not getting a fair settlement. This section installs the inside trim on the top of Pontiac automobiles.

The settlement agreement was reached shortly before 9 a.m. yesterday, after management and union officials remained at the bargaining tables from 1:30 Tuesday afternoon. This was the second marathon session held in an attempt to settle the walkout of 4,300 workers which began Dec. 11.

SPARKS FOR UNION
Summarizing the union's feeling after the settlement vote, Leonard Woodcock, International UAW vice president, said:

"We got what we consider a satisfactory settlement reached after equitable bargaining sessions."

The same feeling was echoed by a GMC spokesman. "The strike was settled to the mutual satisfaction of both sides," he said.

The strike, which idled a total of 11,900 workers in both plants, was called because the union charged the company with production "speed-ups" and other production standard grievances.

Principal Knifed in Classroom

Boy, 15, Razor-Slashes Face of Superior in Ypsilanti School

YPSILANTI (AP)—A 15-year-old boy described as "belligerent" and "one who does not apply himself," was held today in Washtenaw County Juvenile Home in the razor-slashing of a junior high school principal.

The boy is Billy Woods. Harold A. Nielsen, county juvenile director, said Billy was cooperative and remorseful in court as he admitted the slashing several hours after it took place in a classroom of 30 pupils.

The principal is George W. Canfield, 42, who was slashed across the face. He was taken to a hospital, bleeding and in shock. Physicians described his condition as good, but said he would be hospitalized several days.

Nielsen said Probate Judge John W. Conlin could place the boy on probation or send him to a vocational school.

Canfield entered Woods' room yesterday to serve as a substitute mathematics teacher. Woods was late and reported without a book, which Canfield sent him to fetch.

REFUSED TO OBEY

When the boy returned, it is reported, he had a pencil in his mouth and refused to remove it. Then Det. Sgt. Ray H. Walton gave these details of what followed:

Canfield took the pencil and when Woods refused to take his seat the principal shoved him toward it. The boy raised his hand as if to strike Canfield, who said: "I'm not going to take that," and again pushed Woods.

A scuffle ensued. The boy hit the principal and ran for the door. Canfield chased him. Woods then took a straight-edged razor from his pocket and slashed it across Canfield's face.

In Austrian Refugee Town

Open Arms Greet Nixon

ANDAUF, Austria (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon visited this village only two miles from the Hungarian border today to view at first hand the condition of Hungarian refugees.

The village is one of the principal stations on the route used by nearly 140,000 Hungarians in their freedom flight from communism's iron suppression.

In a village dance hall he found hundreds of refugees—some getting their soup from a kitchen in the middle of the floor, others lying on straw around the edges. The dance hall is one of the first reception centers for refugees after they cross the border. The village has a population of about 1,500. Many of the villagers have put up refugees in their homes.

Nixon tasted the soup and said it was good. He spoke to and shook hands with dozens of Hungarians.

One of them was a young man of 20 with no legs and only one arm. He told the vice president he had to leave Budapest because he had distributed anti-Communist leaflets. The boy had dragged himself 12 miles to reach the border.

Nixon told him: "I have seen many examples of courage in the war, but nothing to equal yours."

A cheer greeted Nixon and some of the refugees shouted: "Long live American-Hungarian friendship."

In a short speech, the vice president conveyed to the refugees the greetings of the season. He promised that those who went to the United States would get a hearty welcome.

He had learned how to say "hello" and "Merry Christmas" in Hungarian and used the expressions often in speaking to children. He had his picture taken many times.

Leaving the dance hall, Nixon tramped through the muddy street shaking the hands of Hungarians and asking them what they wanted to do. He visited the village school where many rooms were crowded with refugee families with children.

He then drove to Eisenstadt, the point where refugees are collected for transport to the interior and other countries. He had lunch with the governor of Burgenland, Johann Wagner.

In a toast to the governor, Nixon said:

"It has been a memorable day for us... we have seen the selflessness of the Burgenlanders in aiding the oppressed."

The vice president's convoy of 13 cars was cheered by Austrians and Hungarians along the road.

'Meter Maids' May Pin Tickets on Detroit Autos

DETROIT (INS)—Parking violators in Detroit may be ticketed by a new task force of meter maids—girls hired expressly for writing parking tickets.

The idea was presented to Common Council today by Councilman Mary Beck. Council gave the plan tentative approval and is awaiting comments from Police Commissioner Edward S. Piggins.

Councilman Beck said the plan would relieve policemen of the task and permit them to devote their time to "heavy" police work.

She said Salt Lake City police use a force of meter maids who patrol both metered and unmetered zones passing out $8.000 tickets a month.

She noted that the girls would be unarmed, but other cities, such as Salt Lake City, found their ticket books pretty potent weapons.

The meter maids walk about eight to 10 miles a day and wear out a pair of shoes a month.

Council President Louis C. Miriani joked that in Palm Beach, Fla., where "maids" are used, "guys deliberately hang around just for a chance to talk to a good looking girl as she writes out tickets."

Their vows, in that day, were like unto a marriage, and the betrothed might be together and bear children properly, but they had not. Three months ago, she left Nazareth in haste to be with her cousin, Elizabeth.

On her return, he knew.

Walk slowly, oh Joseph. Think well. Bearth all things, hope all things, endureth all things. Bind mercy and love about you.

Police Attempt Shooting Probe

Eccentric Man, 40, Called 'Mental Case' After Gunning Spree

ANGOLA, Ind. (U.P.)—Police made another attempt today to question a 40-year-old eccentric blamed for sudden shootings at nearby Ray with a rifle and a revolver that left three persons dead and two wounded.

Two of the victims were not found until about 18 hours after they were shot. Police checking reports of neighborhood grudges found the bodies of Fred Petersen, 53, and his son Ronald, 24, in their home yesterday afternoon. They were killed with .45-caliber revolver bullets.

A 48-year-old farmhand, Mervin Forrester, had been found dead in the doorway of his home after the shooting spree Tuesday night. He had rifle bullets in the head and chest.

Merlin McNaughton, who never had caused serious trouble before, was held without charge in the Steuben County Jail here. State police said he had been crazed by an obsession that "everybody in Ray was out to get him."

McNaughton was described as an intelligent man who quoted Scripture.

He sat in his cell mumbling and would give no explanation of the shooting. Sheriff Harry Dirmm said, He called McNaughton a "mental case," although he never had received treatment.

The sheriff said there had been "unfriendly feeling" in the neighborhood.

Train Kills Woman Believed Mother, 19

LINCOLN PARK (INS)—A factory worker told police today he believes a young mother killed by a train in Lincoln Park is his 19-year-old wife.

Walter Weiss, 22, tentatively identified the woman as his wife, Arlene, after being told of a purse found on the Pennsylvania Railroad tracks near the body.

Weiss said his wife had been depressed because their son, James, born Dec. 7, was crying yesterday. He quoted her as saying:

"I am so blue and despondent over the baby I could kill myself."

6,425 Pontiac Residents May Lose Registration

For failing to vote during the last four years in Pontiac, 6,425 persons stand to lose their registration, according to City Clerk Ada R. Evans.

Notices to these persons will be in the mail Jan. 21 after clerks checked the rolls which showed they had not voted at least once during the last four years.

If these notices are not returned within 30 days, those persons will have their registrations terminated, Mrs. Evans said. If the cards are returned, the persons will be reinstated on the rolls.

"This gives them another chance instead of having to come in to re-register," the city official said. Under state law, legislative bodies may impose either a two- or four-year registration-elimination ruling. Pontiac operates under the four-year ruling.

Senior Captain Magnus A. Michalsen of the Salvation Army asks the cooperation of every individual, church group and organization in the giving of Christmas baskets.

Anyone furnishing a basket is requested to check the name with the Salvation Army so there will be no duplications and no family is overlooked.

"The Elks, Metropolitan Club and all Social Agencies are using our facilities for clearing names," stated Captain Michalsen, "and we still have a list of families needing baskets."

The Salvation Army is the clearing house for Christmas baskets for all of Oakland County north of 14 Mile road.

Machine Helps Surgeons Bypass Heart 8-Hour Operation Success

LOS ANGELES (U)—An invalid, butcher will go home to his wife and four children on Christmas Eve because, surgeons say, he successfully withstood an eight-hour operation to correct a heart ailment.

Cecil Badger, 51, sat up in his hospital bed yesterday while doctors told newsmen that the lengthy surgery was made possible by an elaborate heart-lung machine.

This, said the surgeons, enabled them to tie off and bypass Badger's heart for a critical 18 minutes while they entered the dry, bloodless organ and corrected the defect.

Badger suffered rheumatic fever in 1918, 1920 and again in 1949.

The result was a scarred, narrowed main artery in his heart. Five months ago the organ's reserve was so depleted and Badger's pain was so great that he could walk only a few steps, his physician said. In August he had to give up his job and stay at home. His physician said he might live 18 months.

The surgery to expand the narrowed artery and aortic valve was performed Saturday, doctors disclosed. Just before the operation Badger was given an anticoagulant, heparin, to minimize the possibility of clotting in the blood stream. This circumstance, (the danger of clotting), they said, was chiefly responsible for the lengthy period Badger spent in the operating room.

About 33 per cent of the total ore imports into the U.S. in 1935 came from India.

The word "fossil" an impression of an animal left from ancient times, means "dug up."

A plastic panel is now being fitted into some umbrellas so you can have a reasonably clear view.

Pope Pius Tells of St. Francis at Nativity

(Pope Pius XII, the spiritual leader of some 450 million Catholics around the world, in a tertiary Franciscan—a member of the third order of St. Francis—said for that reason his favorite Christmas story, International News Service is now able to reveal from Vatican officials, is an episode in the life of St. Francis of Assisi.)

"In the castle of Greccio, Rieti, near which the Minor (Friar) had a hermitage, there lived a very well-to-do citizen, Giovanni, deeply religious and completely dedicated to the Saint of Assisi."

"(One day) Francis sent for him and told him: 'If you want us to celebrate the next Feast of the Nativity at Greccio, then go and quickly and diligently prepare what I tell you. I want to reproduce the memory of the divine child, born in Bethlehem, and see with my own eyes, as far as I possibly can, the discomfort and suffering of his first hours: how he was placed in a manger, and how he lay on a fistful of straw between the cow and the donkey."

"Giovanni was happy to be the recipient of such orders and he rushed home and immediately set to work making preparations."

"This representation was such a new thing that Francis decided he had better inform the Pope and obtain his permission."

NEWS SPREAD

"Meanwhile the news spread far and wide and on the night of the Nativity peasants and townspeople crowded around the hermitage to remember, see the novelty of the Christmas crib."

"The place selected in the hermitage was small and it was made to look like a real stable, with a crib or manger, a live cow and donkey, both busy munching the hay which filled it."

"Between them, and atop a tiny bit of straw, was the likeness of a child, representing the child of Mary."

"The whole place was banked with burning candles and blazing torches; and the contrast between the brilliant illumination and the extreme poverty of the stable proper excited in all present in an extraordinary manner the religious sentiment for the solemnity being remembered."

"Nearby there was an altar for the celebration of the solemn mass. While the friars intoned the office of the solemnity, and the people present knelt around in silent prayer, Francis knelt also—in front of the Christmas crib—but he was so overwhelmed that he could not utter a single word."

"His were only sighs and mute but evident manifestations of deep affection. Words simply would not come, but his inflamed countenance showed to all those present what he felt in his heart."

"When the psalm-reading was over, the solemn mass began. Francis was the deacon. And when the time came to read the Gospel where it announces to the people of the world the birth of the Promised Redeemer, he rendered it with such feeling, such life and such sentimental enthusiasm, that all were awed by that voice."

"At the end of the mass Francis spoke to his friars and to the devout on the solemnity of the day they had celebrated . . . and as they departed, friars and devout alike vied with each other to take with them, as a keepsake and almost like a religious relic, a bit of the straw on that first Christmas crib."

Traffic Noise, Smog Banned

Exclusive Community Ends Danger to Tots by Closed Streets

LOS ANGELES — Ever hear of a community without public streets?

One whose residents drive in at gates where guards turn others away with "Sorry, these are private roads"? Or, at other gates which property owners open electronically by slipping a card into a slot?

Such a place is exclusive Rolling Hills on the Palos Verdes Peninsula south of here — four square miles of eucalyptus-shaded, ranch-type homes which soon may become the nation's first private city.

Many of its residents, seeing threats to their card-in-the-slot privacy, want to incorporate.

If incorporation wins in the election slated for next Jan. 8 they say the gates of the new municipality definitely will stay closed to all but residents. And, as now, there will be no stores or shops, no business. Even government will be minimized.

Rolling Hills' 1,200 well-heeled residents think their privacy is worth fighting for.

Their children play in relative safety along shady lanes. Sixty per cent of the families own horses. Riding trails thread the area, which overlooks the ocean and the metropolis, with its sea of night-time lights.

There is elbow room—most lots are an acre to several acres. Most of all there is freedom from smog and screeching, bumper-to-bumper traffic.

But there has been disturbing talk of being annexed by the neighboring industrial city of Torrance, or by some subdivision which might get incorporation fever.

The spearhead of incorporation, Atty. Owen F. Goodman, believes that incorporation would strengthen the community's legal position for maintaining its privacy.

Municipal services — police and fire protection, health services, tax collection, etc., would be contracted for with the county, which now provides them in return for taxes.

Gets Parcel 3 Years Late: Refuses Charges

CONSHOHOCKEN, Pa. — Christmas presents arrived at the home of Mrs. Nicholas D'Alessandro this week only they were for the wrong Christmas.

The package contained photographs Mrs. D'Alessandro had taken of her daughters in the holiday season of 1933. She thought the pictures would make nice presents. Despite numerous calls to the Camden, N.J. photographer the prints never came—until this week.

The postmark, Dec. 17, 1933, showed it wasn't the photographer's fault at all. However, Mrs. D'Alessandro refused the package and its $9 COD charges.

Japanese Back on Job

YOKOHAMA, Japan — About 800 Japanese stevedores reported for work today at the U.S. Army port in Yokohama and the Army said the end of a three-week strike "appears to be in sight." Some 1,100 American soldiers have been working cargo.

Television Camera Man Self-Appointed Censor

In BRUNO KEARNS' "The Press Box," our sports expert comments on the miserable failure of television to show all the highlights of the Sabbath brawls in the last football game.

He asked a TV camera man why they were omitted and the self-appointed censor replied:

"I think it was best the viewers did not see some of the things because they were so bad."

Right there is one of television's biggest faults.

When a television camera man decides what the American public should and should not see, we need better grounded camera men. This nation was founded on the fact that the people have a right to know. That wasn't true in Russia, Italy, Germany, Japan and other dark age nations.

Books are still being written on the right of the people to know in the United States. The presidents of all the television companies combined have no right to elect what the people shall and shall not see in news events. Certainly it's ludicrous for a sports camera man to presume to set himself upon so lofty a pedestal. A century and a half ago American newspaper publishers insisted upon giving the people all the facts they could gather. They printed the truth, irrespective of where the chips fell. This is the United States.

Camera work on television is the weakest part of current sports broadcasting. The announcing, the quality of the projected picture, the scheduling of events—everything pertaining to sports broadcasting—outstrips the work of pointing the cameras. They miss some of the most interesting points repeatedly. Very few camera handlers in television have learned that interest doesn't necessarily follow importance. In hockey, a quick bit of fisticuffs may be of much greater interest than the referee stolidly skating over to pick up a puck, but someone told the guy with the lens that the puck's the important thing, so he follows it blindly and without exercising any judgment.

In baseball, time and again good announcers like VAN PATRICK cover up miserable camera pointing. But until the naive confession quoted above, we didn't know the camera men of television were riding herd on right and wrong and presuming to dictate what a nation should and should not see in an athletic event. Their job is to report the facts and give the viewers the things that interest them most, unless the Russian code is introduced to America.

No Time for Dictators

The ousting of Maj. Gen. PAUL MAGLOIRE as president of the Republic of Haiti has restored constitutional authority to that Caribbean country.

MAGLOIRE, elected in 1950, was the first president in French speaking Haiti's long history to be named directly by the people. His term ended December 8, but he tried to stay in power by the dictator method although the constitution prohibits two consecutive terms for the presidency.

Haiti was a French colony from 1677 to 1804 when it attained independence. After five years of revolutions—1910 to 1915—and the massacre of 167 political prisoners in July, 1915, United States forces occupied the country and restored order.

American occupation ended August 14, 1934. However, a fiscal representative appointed by Haiti's president on recommendation of President ROOSEVELT, remained until 1941.

The National Assembly consists of a Senate of 21 members and a Chamber of Deputies of 37 members. Senators are elected for six years, as is the President, and Deputies for four. The President of the Supreme Court, JOSEPH NEMOURS PIERRE-LOUIS, has taken office as prescribed by the constitution, until a new president can be named in a national election.

Unfortunately, President Magloire had tried to continue in power as "chief of state" after his term had expired. But the people reacted with three days of sit-down strikes, their only weapon. He was forced into exile in Jamaica without bloodshed and democratic processes have been restored.

A good listener is popular, but he learns next to nothing, and ignorance is a terrible price to pay for popularity.

The Man About Town Real Cooperation Good Example Is Shown of City's Pull-Together Spirit

Dec. 20: When we've all decided what to give everybody—except.

Cooperation reaching the hundred percent mark has been found. When a representative of Fisher Body Local 598 sought a place for his men to meet to ratify the settlement of the strike, he contacted

Robert W. Emerick, Director of Public Relations at Pontiac Motor Division. Mr. Emerick at once got in touch with Dana P. Whitmer, Superintendent of Pontiac Schools, who immediately offered them the facilities of Lincoln Jr. High School.

Insisting that he saw a penguin on Pontiac Lake Wednesday morning, Ralph Menninger, who lives on its shore, wants to know if such birds ever come to Michigan. My encyclopedia says not. Ralph suggests that it might have escaped from the Detroit zoo—if they have any. But even that's a long walk for a penguin. Perhaps a goose is wandering around in a full dress suit.

That's a good sticker appearing on some cars around Pontiac:

"Thou shalt not kill."

The passing of the Caribou Inn at Clarkston brings recollections to thousands of Oakland County people. In its early days

The Barry Family were hosts for many years, and it was a Sunday dinner rendezvous for many from Pontiac and this entire area. In 1916 the writer and wife there partook of the first Sunday dinner in our lives for which we were handed a check. The earlier ones were at home or on our relatives or friends. 'Twas a wonderful dinner, and the check for both was $1.50.

We're absolutely in line with a letter from "A Worried Mother," who says skaters should always keep away from the vicinity where a stream enters or leaves a lake.

A live Christmas tree in the yard of the Abner Fosdick home in Birmingham was wrecked by a car which jumped the curb. The driver picked it up and drove away.

Stopped with a load of them on the Dixie Highway,

Nehru Tosses Bouquets, Forgets

WASHINGTON — The refrain in Kipling's famous "recessional" comes to mind again and again in these moments when Prime Minister Nehru of India occupies the world stage — those memorable words, "lest we forget, lest we forget."

For, as Nehru's speeches — with their equivocal phrases and verbal bouquets — are reported throughout the nation by means of radio and television broadcasts and lengthy news dispatches, what is omitted from the story serves to emphasize how conveniently short are the memories of some visiting statesmen.

Only yesterday Nehru was refusing in the United Nations to condemn Soviet aggression in Hungary. He excuses it lamely now with the argument that he had a differently worded resolution to offer as a substitute. In the final showdown, however, India was the only non-Communist government to refuse to support the cause of freedom and justice.

Only yesterday Nehru was engaged in a diplomatic conspiracy to secure the withdrawal of United Nations troops from North Korea and to leave the U.N. in a humiliating position in the Panmunjom armistice.

CONDEMN RED CHINA — Only yesterday the Free World was condemning Red China as an aggressor in Korea, where 33,629 American boys were killed and more than 100,000 wounded, along with hundreds of thousands of the brave soldiers of our allies. But Nehru has already forgotten what happened in Korea.

He is ready to extinguish the fires of liberty and freedom that still burn on Formosa as a symbol for all Chinese. He wants to reward the aggressor — Red China — even though no act of atonement or repentance has come as yet from the Peking government. Indeed, Red China still holds many Americans as prisoners of war notwithstanding the provisions of the armistice of 1953 that they must be given up.

But Nehru has come nevertheless to the White House this week to present some "complaints" from Chou En-lai, whose government in Peking ordered the murder of hundreds of American prisoners captured in Korea.

Nehru came here well coached. He handled his press conference and television broadcast with the mastery of a public relations expert. These techniques are studied in advance by foreign visitors of prominence because it's all a form of "brainwashing" that means getting across some effective propaganda. Thus, the usual advice given in advance is to "soften" Americans by extolling Jefferson and Lincoln and talking about the American revolution.

That's what Sukarno of Indonesia did on his trip here last spring. As soon as he got back home he resumed the policies of a ruthless dictatorship.

Nehru and Sukarno have visited the United States after being imported to do so by some meddling Americans and starry-eyed diplomats of the school of thought which believes a "give-away" of American money solves everything.

What does America get out of these visits? A gesture of friendliness, to be sure, to the Asian world and a manifestation of our policy of the open door — everybody is welcome to come and speak his views and these of his countrymen.

But there is really no common interest, geographically, commercially, or militarily, between the United States and India. Even sentimentally, relations between the United States and India are the same as those of America with many other nations in the world.

"Billions for allies — not one cent for neutrals" will be the battle cry of many Democrats as well as Republicans when the time comes to vote whether to grant some more millions of taxpayers' dollars to Nehru. For many members of Congress, mindful of the thousands of American dead in Korea, will hear again the Kipling refrain, "lest we forget, lest we forget."

Dr. William Brady Says:

Ca and D Ration Brings Limberness to Stiff Joints

"A little over a year ago we sent for your pamphlet 'Calcium and Rheumatism' (available on request if you provide stamped, self-addressed envelope) and have taken calcium since then. Last winter was the first in 15 years that I have not had stiff knees and pain in my arms.

"So far gone of the old stiffness and pain has returned this fall. For years I took medicine and shots for it, with little or no relief. My husband is now taking his Ca and D ration too. We thank you so much." (Mrs. E. A.)

This lady, I hope, took Ca & D as a nutritional supplement and not as medicine. If she did, she's an exception. No matter how much I emphasize this in the pamphlet, in this column or elsewhere, it seems that four out of five readers take it, if at all, as medicine.

Mrs. E. A. says she and her husband are continuing to take a daily Ca & D ration. If they continue it with anything like the regularity with which they take meat, potato, bread or milk, as they should, it's at least a 50-50 probability that Ben Told, Mrs. Summey, or Sairey Gamp will inform them of the danger of calcium deposits and bring their little struggle for better nutrition to a frightened halt.

When this happens, it is again a 50-50 probability that they'll tell me about it — not ask me. Then, I'm afraid, the poor creatures are lost. They drop back into line to await their turn for a shot of the very latest miracle medicine for "arthritis."

CITES CAUSE — Except in the fertile imagination of the charlatan who knows nothing of pathology, "calcium deposits" occur on as a consequence of injury, infection, inflammation or degeneration.

Months after I had fully recovered from bursitis with complete functional rehabilitation of the shoulder, I sustained a fracture of the opposite shoulder. The X-ray films of the shoulders made for comparison revealed calcification of the bursa. So far as I know or care the bursa may still be calcified. The shoulder is as good as ever.

Trick specialists and "clinic" racketeers who find subtle allusions to "calcium deposits" and "too much calcium" keep gullible customers in line are generally as ignorant of pathology as they are of nutrition.

They betray their ignorance of nutrition when they opine that the amount of calcium I recommend as a fair daily ration for any one who has the rheumatism is "excessive." Actually it is less than the amount of calcium one gets from a quart of milk.

If everyone consumed not less than three glasses of milk or skim milk (separator milk) or butter-milk daily and exposed enough of his skin to daylight to manufacture enough vitamin D to insure good metabolism or utilization of calcium, many common complaints would become uncommon.

Read all about it in Volumette 26 of the Pocket Encyclopedia of Health, titled The Calcium Shortage, for which send 35 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Time With Dad Best Yule Present

Dads, read Helene's challenge, for it is very true. And many of the best educated Dads are the worst offenders. Some of the shiftest Dads who take time to play with their kids and go with them to a movie or on a fishing trip, rate higher as successful fathers than many of us with bank accounts and professional success. Think it over!

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
 Case T-352; Helene D., aged 29, is a splendid teacher of the third grade.

"Dr. Crane, several of my children are very unhappy when they get to school," she began. "And they aren't just the poor urchins from the other side of the tracks. Indeed, I find that many of the shy, lonely best come from our supposedly best type of homes. Their mothers may be society leaders and their fathers may be quite successful in business or the professions."

"But they don't give their youngsters enough personal attention. They brush them off too readily with a 'Run along, Junior, Daddy's too busy now to talk to you.'"

"Don't you think parents should wake up to such critical matters?"

PARENTS, WAKE UP: Yes, Helene is quite right. Too many fathers focus their attention so resolutely on a future financial goal that they fail to be pals of their children today.

"When I hit the jackpot and make my pile of dough by 1960 or 1965, then I'll reward my children," such fathers think.

But children prefer Dads to England Suggests U. S. Cancel Interest Debt

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full names, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

England has the boldness and the bad taste to ask us to cancel $2 million dollars in interest just a few days after she made no bones about the fact her people are "getting sort of mad at us."

What's sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander.

Suppose, just suppose, we "get sort of mad" at England right now and tell them to pay their interest and keep their name and reputation decent and honorable. If the United States is going to forget England's interest on money we loaned her, let's forget the income tax I will owe the government in 1957. I practically never "get mad" at the U. S. and I don't sneer at the prosperity here.

Reader Suggests Tax Study by Employees

If income taxes are ever to be lowered, we will have to bring forcibly to the attention of every wage earner just what portion of his check has to be handed over to the government.

I suggest that for one month each year every employer give each employee the actual cash he earns in his pay-period. Then he should require each employee to return to him the actual dollars and cents he has been taking out to cover social security and withholding taxes.

It has long been my contention that too few people actually know how much of their livelihood these direct taxes are taking.

Souvenirs Dangerous When Used in Cars

The practice of hanging souvenirs such as baby shoes, dolls and trinkets from the sun visors of cars is very dangerous. These objects, swaying back and forth for an instant, can block the vision of a driver of a speeding car.

There should be legislation which prohibits people from hanging these invitations to death. All states should study this problem.

Dollar Emits Loud Holler in Fabulous Miami Beach

By HAL BOYLE

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Money talks everywhere in America today. But here the big dollar emits a mighty holler.

You have to be stone deaf not to hear it, or color blind not to see it in this platinum playground of Florida's Gold Coast.

WEALTH FLAUNTED

The "expense account rich" who prefer to live quietly in their own hometowns (so the neighbors won't get jealous) like to flaunt their wealth in public here.

But in a way it's hard to do. One man's Cadillac is about as long as another man's. A wife can wear only so many minks on her back without smothering. "The only way the rich can impress each other here," said one longtime student of the foibles of the well-to-do, "is at charitable functions. One big shot gets up and says, 'I'll contribute $5,000,' and another big shot puts him in his place by saying, 'put me down for 10 grand.'"

But the quickest way for a stranger to attract attention here is either to stroll down the street nude—or with a portrait of Salmon P. Chase plastered on his forehead.

ON $10,000 BILL

Who is Salmon P. Chase? Well, look in your wallet, and pull out the first $10,000 bill you come across. The guy portrayed on it is Salmon P. Chase, who was Abe Lincoln's secretary of the treasury.

Some 1,750,000 people visit Miami Beach every year, and millions more wonder what it is really like.

In all India there is but one Taj Mahal. In Miami Beach there is a Taj Mahal (or a reasonable facsimile) on nearly every corner.

CHRISTMAS CHALLENGE

A few years ago four business leaders here in Chicago were heading home on the commuter's train. They all had sons. Christmas was approaching.

"I'm giving Freddy a new bicycle," gloated one Dad.

"And I'm giving Tommy some skis and ice skates," bragged a second Dad.

"Ha, wait till you hear what I'm doing," exclaimed the third.

Complete Last Link on Road to Toledo

LANSING (AP) — The State Highway Department has announced that a 25-mile stretch of the Detroit-Toledo expressway from U.S. 24A near the Ohio line north through Monroe to Rockwood would open to traffic on Friday.

The opening previously was scheduled for Dec. 15 but was delayed by construction of a crossing of the Detroit, Toledo & Ironton railroad, the department said.

State public service commission approval of the crossing had to be obtained and the construction further delayed by installation of blinker lights, the department said. The 25-mile stretch of highway was built at a cost of 22 million dollars.

U.S. 24A will serve as a temporary connection from the expressway into Ohio. A permanent connection will be built next year.

The north end of the route will use the Fort St. connection. A permanent connection is under construction at Sibley Rd. to connect with U.S. 24.

Kent County Resignee

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Kent County supervisor Fred M. Pattison, 72, plans to retire in February because "there are too many complaints and not much money in the job." Pattison, first elected in 1935 as Bowne Township supervisor, said his salary was $400 a year when he first took the post. "This year I'll make less than $700. It isn't worth all the work."

Promote Circuit Judge

TRAVERSE CITY (AP) — Circuit Judge Charles L. Brown has been promoted to permanent rank of colonel in the Air Force Reserve. He currently commands the 15-county Air Force Reserve district with Traverse City as headquarters. He was elected circuit judge in 1947, a year after his release from active duty with the Air Force at Trinidad.

Cypriots Balk at British Offer

Greeks Reject Proposal for Limited Self-Rule for Island

NICOSIA, Cyprus (U)—Leaders of Cyprus' Greek majority and Turkish minority both have firmly rejected Britain's offer of a new constitution to give the rebellious east Mediterranean island limited self-rule.

The offer has, however, opened the way for a resumption of talks between Britain and Archbishop Makarios, exiled leader of the island's Greek Cypriots.

Cyprus' Greek-origin residents, about four fifths of the 500,000 population, insist that Makarios is the only person with whom Britain can negotiate.

Britain deported the high Greek Orthodox churchman to the Seychelle Islands in the Indian Ocean last March, charging him with directing the campaign of violence waged since 1954 the EOKA underground. Makarios was the leader of the Greek-Cypriot drive for independence of Cyprus and eventual union with Greece.

Two British representatives meet with the archbishop today to explain Britain's new proposal for a constitution.

Colonial Secretary Alan Lennox-Boyd, announcing the offer in the House of Commons in London, emphasized that the talks with Makarios were to be "consultations" and not "negotiations."

There was speculation that the new British proposals and the talks with Makarios might be opening a way for his release.

British leaders have said he can win his freedom by denouncing the use of force as a political instrument.

Recall Ground Parties but Planes Still Hunt Craft, 62 Passengers

VANCOUVER (AP)—Ground parties searching for a missing Trans-Canada Air Lines "North Star" in the British Columbia interior were recalled yesterday as 21 aircraft continued the search in the most favorable weather since the plane disappeared Dec. 9 with 62 aboard.

The ground parties were dispatched when poor weather kept search planes on the ground.

Some of the parties spent several days camped in the mountains, their efforts thwarted by deep snow and the danger of avalanches. One man said searchers sank waist deep in the snow in spite of snowshoes.

Meanwhile, the RCAF said, yesterday more than 11,000 square miles of mountains terrain have been covered in the 10 days of searching for the north star.

The search is concentrated in the rectangle 100 miles wide stretching roughly from Princeton west to Chilliwack in the Fraser Valley, 50 miles east of Vancouver.

Heard yesterday by the first break in nine days of harsh weather, 21 pilots flew over the area but turned up no clues on the plane's location.

Clouds and rain were forecast to return to the area today.

"But," said searchmaster Sqdn. Ldr. George Sheahan, "we'll keep going right through the Christmas season if necessary."

Search officials believe the hope area between Princeton and Chilliwack, encompassing several jagged peaks, holds the secret to the aircraft's disappearance.

Court Studies Records in Labor Controversy

DETROIT (U)—The International Typographical Union and Detroit Mailers Local No. 40 have been ordered by circuit Judge Robert M. Toms to turn over all the local's records to an accounting firm for an independent study for the court.

The records have been held in the local's office, but under court order ITU attorneys have had access to them.

Local 40 members recently voted to withdraw from the ITU and join the International Mailers Union. The ITU sued to regain control, claiming local officers had withheld dues money from the International and otherwise had illegally sabotaged it.

Necktie Strangles Boy

MIAMI, Fla. (U)—An old necktie caused the death yesterday of a 12-year-old boy. Howard Baker died of strangulation, with one end of the tie knotted around his neck and the other tied to a door latch. Investigators said the death apparently was an accident but they ordered an autopsy. The boy's parents are Mr. and Mrs.

Henry R. Baker. The death occurred while Mrs. Baker was away for a 10-minute visit.

Need Engineers for Atomic Age

Must Be Very Creative, Ingenious, Inventive; Especially Curious

EAST LANSING — The engineer of the future must be prepared for the age of atomic energy, rockets, jets and space exploration.

Dr. John D. Ryder, dean of engineering at Michigan State University, made this prediction to more than 60 electrical engineers attending a recent symposium on circuit theory at MSU.

Speaking on "Engineering Education for the Creative Age," Dr. Ryder advocated that tomorrow's engineer must be creative, curious, ingenious, inventive; the man with the vision and the initiative who understands and believes that if a device works it is already obsolete.

In tracing engineering education from the 18th century to the present time, Dr. Ryder discussed today's "trends to fundamental scientific fact." This trend, he contended, has been accelerated by a realization of the tremendous breadth of opportunity existing to graduating engineers of the modern scientific age.

No longer is it possible to narrowly prepare a graduate for a specific field of work, he stated. We must find the common denominators needed in the college education of all these young men; so they will be well prepared for any portion of the engineering field which they choose to enter.

Dr. Ryder surmised that industry should undertake more of the task of specific job training for engineers. There should actually be a partnership, he concluded, between the university and the engineering employers in the complete educational process of the engineer.

Locust Street Shop Located on Pine

HARRISBURG — Partners John Hilner and Clyde Patton have their own ideas about naming their barbershop and geography doesn't influence their choice one bit.

Ten years ago they opened the Locust Street barbershop on Locust Street.

They have since moved to Pine Street but they brought their weather-worn shingle along still reading "Locust Street Barbershop."

Fight to Save 'Enterprise'

BAYONNE, N.J. (NEA) — The old aircraft carrier Enterprise is riding out her last naval battle—a fight by those who served aboard her to save her from the scrap heap.

The gray hull looms over the U.S. Naval Supply Depot at Bayonne. A peeling battle record on her forward bulkheads notes the other engagements she has kept: The Marshalls, the Solomons, the Philippines, Gilbert, Wake, Midway, Guadalcanal, Leyte, Luzon, Okinawa—every Pacific strike except the Coral Sea.

Her record: 911 Japanese aircraft downed; 71 ships sunk; 192 ships damaged.

But time, as the late Navy Secretary James Forrestal once said, has accomplished what the enemy failed to do.

Today, her flight deck shelters pigeons. Her rusted hangar deck holds only a scrap of Japanese wing, a pile of dusty camp chairs, a small plaque with names like Hopping, Seld, Travis, Hunt, Smith—the first to die after Pearl Harbor.

To put her into cruising shape today would cost three million dollars. To put her into condition for jet aircraft and atomic warfare would cost 25 million. Besides, she is 26 years old and displaces only one-third the tonnage of a new carrier like the Saratoga.

It is cheaper, the U.S. Navy assesses, to sell her for scrap. And shortly the Navy will accept bids over one million dollars.

But the Enterprise will die hard—if she dies at all.

An independent group of 1,300 men who once served aboard her have formed the Enterprise Association. Their unanimous purpose: To keep the old carrier as a permanent memorial.

COST FACTOR
According to the association's secretary, Harrison Welton of Stamford, Conn., the cost of turning the "Big E" into a public museum runs close to $250,000.

This sum would pay for making her seaworthy enough to be towed to her site, hauled onto land and refurbished.

The association is already negotiating with the city of San Diego, Calif., for the site. The association has assigned a captain and crew to work the carrier on her last run. And the association has elaborate plans for maintaining her as a museum.

For example, visitors would have to pay. Retired Navy men would maintain her in return for living quarters aboard. A restaurant could be set up on the flight deck to bring extra revenue. Souvenirs would be sold.

The greatest obstacle of the project today, however, is the raising of the initial $250,000.

Welton answers it this way: "There are still about 8,700 men who have not yet joined the Enterprise Association. They would swell our number to 10,000—more than enough to collect the necessary funds."

With the money in hand, San Diego's agreement and a blueprint for her maintenance, Welton is sure of the Navy's cooperation. But time is running out on both the Enterprise and the association.

As one Navy informant said: "The call for bids could come any day. And while it's wonderful how the Enterprise has bred such loyalty among her men, maybe a beautiful painting of her would be a better way to memorialize her."

"After all," he said, "it's like a beautiful woman disarmed by age. How would you like to remember her?"

Tantrums Don't Pay

WINNIPEG — If your wife gets your goat, don't kick the furniture, advises a local husband. He kicked at a glass door of a cupboard during a dispute with his wife, and then was taken to a hospital to have a sliver of glass removed from his foot.

Fast-Traveling Thief Pulls Double Steal

OCALA, Fla. — Byron Craig, phosphate firm executive, reported both his cars stolen in different cities while he was off on a football weekend.

Craig said he left one car in Lake City and the other in the garage of his home here. Both were taken, as well as several valuables from his house.

Police figured whoever stole Craig's car at Lake City found his address and house key in it and came here to add to the loot.

Catch Carnival Spirit During Lent in Spain

MADRID — If you go to Spain in mid-March, you can still catch the spirit of carnival. The Spaniards temper the 40 solemn days of Lent with a round of frivolity in honor of St. Joseph. The most bombastic celebration occurs in Valencia just south of Barcelona.

Here, the fun begins as early as March 12, when each district of the city displays cardboard effigies of world-famous personalities. The lid comes off on March 19 — the cardboard giants are tossed on the bonfire, the bands play nonstop, and a string of fireworks, five miles long, explodes through the streets.

Bird Roars Like Lion, Mistaken for Monkey

PANAMA CITY — On Barro Colorado Island, the Smithsonian Institution's tropical preserve in Gatun Lake in the Canal Zone, there is a bird "that roars like a lion."

The roar, sometimes mistaken for the call of a howler monkey, is the male courtship song of the turkey-like curassow. The female is usually silent.

Under the federal homestead act signed by President Lincoln, about 276 million acres of land have been decided away to settlers.

South Africa Considers Coinage Change-Over

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa — A commission has been appointed in South Africa to look in to the practical aspects of a change-over to decimal coinage.

It will report on the best of the various systems and tell how the recommended one should be introduced so as to minimize the disruption of the economy during the transition from pounds and pence.

Realtor Chuckles, Laughs, Howls at Earthy Joke

MONTVALE, N.J. — What do you do with a piece of property measuring only five feet by two feet?

Thomas F. McGirr, real estate man, bought such a plot Thursday in Washington, N. J., when the State Highway Department was auctioning off 197 lots.

McGirr said, perhaps facetiously, that he may ask the Washington governing authorities to rezone the area for a shopping center. If this falls through, he said, he plans to give the property to Gov. Robert B. Meyner for a wedding gift. Meyner gets married next month to Miss Helen Stevenson.

"What's a more appropriate wedding present than to give a piece of the state itself to its chief executive?" said McGirr.

McGirr said it's one of his best investments because "I'm getting more fun out of it than a millionaire could get out of a 200-acre estate."

Why did he buy the property? "Because I love to gamble."

But it was a small gamble. He paid only $2 cash for the plot.

HIDES IDENTITY—A Hungarian refugee, masked and using the assumed name of "Max Joseph," tells Senate investigators that while still in his native country he received a letter containing the information: "We are being deported to Russia. Expect Ruling Soon on Caudle, Connelly

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A ruling is expected sometime next month on defense motions in the case of T. Lamar Caudle and Matthew J. Connelly, ex-government officials convicted of conspiring to defraud the government.

U. S. District Judge Gunnar H. Nordbye took the motions for a directed verdict of acquittal, mistrial or a new trial under advisement after a day-long hearing yesterday.

Caudle, former head of the Justice Department's tax division, and Connelly, White House appointments secretary under former President Truman, were convicted of conspiracy in a tax case. They have not been sentenced.

U. S. to Proclaim Everything From Dams to Yams

Every Day in 1957 Belongs to Some Cause

By PHYLIS BATTLE.
NEW YORK (INS)—The Chamber of Commerce of the United States, a hale and hearty outfit which has little trouble selling its product this side of the cold Red curtain, has come out with a diary of some 400 special days and weeks and months we must celebrate next year.

The American people, it seems, should proclaim everything from mama to drama, labor to neighbor, dams to yams, youth care to tooth care, in 1957.

In January, for instance, who would not pause in reverence during "Supermarket Month" to meditate the wonders of the self-service stores which bring us all so close — so perilously close — together?

Later let us all celebrate "Fur Care Week" by linking minis and shouting "Hail, hail, Hollander-ize!"

In April it's "Let's Play Ball

Week," followed shortly by "Let's Play Golf Week" and thereafter, in rapid succession, let us commemorate those glorious institutions:

"Doughnut - dunking," "One-dish cheese meals," "cats," "kids," "international raisin bread for health," "senior citizens," "American comedy" and "safe boating."

MANY, MANY MORE

There are more than 350 other memorial and birthdays which we haven't space to list here, but which we really should celebrate, the chamber says.

By the simple means of mathematics, you can see that — with 400 days, weeks and months to celebrate — we will be whooping it up for something or other on every day of the year.

On some days, we may be honoring a dozen or so at once, which is not only confusing but expensive, since most of our "special days" have a slight scent of commercialism about them.

(You just don't observe "Candy for Energy Day" without buying a bon-bon, and what kind of hypocritical fool would you feel celebrating "Fish for Brains Week" on a diet of liver for iron?)

The depressing part about the whole picture is that, in spite of the already busy schedule of events, which threaten to keep the U. S. citizen dizzy and fat and hysterical the year through, there are some rather important excuses for celebration which the Chamber of Commerce has not included.

SOME SUGGESTIONS

I feel, for example, that so long as there are "Mother's Days," "Father's Days" and "Children's Days," there should also be "Bachelor's" and "Spinster's Days."

And how do they get off having "Domestic Rabbit Week" without lauding the "bowl-bred turtle" and the "playful polliwig?"

It's all very well to cow-tow to "ice cream" (although why it deserves an entire month is beyond me), but why not then also observe tortoni, spumoni and no-cal water sherbet?

And how about this business of giving over six entire weeks to cheese — "Cheese Festival Week" in October, "One-Dish Cheese Meals Month" in March, "Cheese Shoppers Gift Time" in Novem-

SKI JUMP — They don't look it, but those skis on this Navy P2V-7 Neptune over Ontario, Calif., are 16 feet long and five feet wide — the largest ever installed on a jet-powered plane. For take-off and landing on dry land, the skis are retracted and wheels take over.

ber — and not so much as one paltry day to lox?

Well, that's how it goes. Now that everything we celebrate has been thoroughly commercialized, it's the industries, committees and cause that get their bids in first who get the choice of our days, weeks and months.

In case anyone wants to back spumoni, lox or the anniversary of his baby's first tooth, therefore, it would be wise to put your bid in today. It may not be too late for '58.

Britain Feels Her Way Through Blanket of Fog

LONDON (AP) — Fog blotted out wide areas of Britain today, displacing road and rail traffic and grounding airlines. Seven persons were killed on fogbound highways.

Thousands were late for work with trains and buses crawling through districts where visibility was down to five yards. A yellow blanket of fog lay over London's River Thames and shipping was at a standstill.

Ecuador takes its name from the equator which crosses through that country just to the north of Quito.

CHRISTMAS ORNAMENTS—4
A Cluster of Stars

On Christmas Eve, the skies are filled with bright winter stars. Here is a pattern of a star cluster you can make for your Christmas tree.

Each cluster is made from a sandwich of two sheets of different colored construction paper or from a pair of silver and gold foil papers.

Trace the star pattern on the top sheet of each pair and then fold each pair in the center on the dotted line.

Cut carefully along the outside edge of the stars but do not cut through where the tip of the star touches the others (shown by arrows).

Now attach the stars by putting pins or sewing thread through the top and bottom pair on the dotted center line.

plan to be up bright and early to see what that jolly old man left. Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. Newton Skillman Jr.

Everyone Everywhere Urges Men: 'Go Formal This New Year's Eve'

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

Breathed there a woman who hasn't dressed to the teeth on New Year's Eve only to have the man in her life show up in an old tweed suit?

This all too frequent tragedy should constitute grounds for divorce but most women figure even a man who looks like a refugee from a rummage sale is better than no man at all. So they swallow their chagrin, keep a stiff upper lip and go out with the brutes anyway.

This year, however, things may be different. The men's formal wear industry is going to bat in behalf of America's suffering womanhood, and is making sure Pop won't forget that only a "square" wears a business suit to a formal dance.

The boys are being reminded in various ways. For instance, starting today, any man who leaves a call to be wakened in any one of some 35 leading hotels throughout the country may be startled by a cheery voice saying:

"Good morning! It's 7:30. Remember, go formal New Year's Eve!"

Any man who stops in a flower shop anywhere in the country will be greeted by the message, "Go formal New Year's Eve and buy her a corsage."

If he takes a taxicab he's likely to see a sign reading, "Go formal New Year's Eve — and take a cab."

For the next week the message will be dinned into his ears by TV commentators, department store salesmen and—of course—the little woman.

As a matter of fact, the men have been waking up to the fact that clothes make the man for some time now, as witness the zooming sales of formal male attire.

In the past 10 years sales of dinner jackets, tails and other formal accoutrements have increased 10-fold. In 1946 the total sales of men's formal clothes totaled a mere 6½ million dollars. In 1956, industry spokesmen say they will surpass 66½ million.

The big push to the new popularity of dressing up of an evening has come from the younger set—the college men and junior executives. They were first to discover the comfort of the new lightweight evening clothes, and they also must have found that their popularity with the opposite sex rose in exact proportion to their correctness of dress.

PATRICIA ROSE SEARS

Mr. and Mrs. Francis C. Sears of Pine View drive announce the engagement of their daughter, Patricia Rose, to Richard A. Card, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elven J. Card of Dixie highway. The couple plans to be married Dec. 29 at Our Lady of Refuge Church. Richard attends Ferris Institute.

Study Club Has Yule Meeting

Rev. Auchard Tells Christmas Story to Group

The Rev. Edward Auchard of First Presbyterian Church was the guest speaker at the Tuesday afternoon meeting of Junior Child Study Club. Mrs. Grant Walt opened her Birmingham home for the Christmas meeting.

Speaking of "A Christmas Message" the Rev. Mr. Auchard said that "our children must live in a world of children of all the world, and they must learn to get along with them."

"Despite all the evil in the world, faith, hope and love still exist and there is still, 'Peace on Earth Good Will Toward Men,'" Mr. Auchard said.

Members joined in singing Christmas carols accompanied by Mrs. Neil Gray at the piano.

Mrs. Arthur Tyrell, Mrs. Donald Cabral, Mrs. Ralph Wigent, Mrs. Allen Campbell and Mrs. Earl Van Dyke, were welcomed as new members of the organization.

Cohostesses for the day were Mrs. Frank Niggeman, Mrs. Forest Wood, Mrs. Leslie Ware and Mrs. George Ross.

Officers Chosen by Mission Bells

The Mission Bells of St. John Lutheran Church met at the home of Mrs. Carl Nelson on Owego drive Tuesday evening. Devotions were given by Mrs. Theodore Fauble.

Elected for the coming year were Mrs. Freeman Thoe, president; Mrs. Fauble, vice president; Mrs. Fred Larson, secretary, and Mrs. Lillian Quayle, treasurer.

Mrs. Wesley Ryden gave a reading entitled "Christmas in Many Lands," and Christmas poems were read by Mrs. Philip Wargelin. Christmas carols were sung by the group and gifts were exchanged.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Nelson and Mrs. Gene Erickson. The group will meet in January at the home of Mrs. Oren Clauson of Spence street.

Students Present Christmas Program

Students of Emerson School presented a Christmas program for the PTA Wednesday evening at the school.

Youngsters participating were Sandra Huber, Karen Souden, Robert Clancy, Carol Waldbillig and Judy Schlitzley. They presented several different acts. Other students sang Christmas carols.

Refreshments were served, with Mrs. Clifford Christenson and Mrs. John Balch presiding at the tea table.

Patients Entertained

It's a rather special Christmas season for the Lawrence S. Martz family at Wing Lake. Their first grandchild, 9-month-old Jeff, will spend Christmas with them, and Jeff's great-great-grandmother, Mrs.

Howard Britton, has come from Florida to live in their home. Photographed with Mrs. Britton and Jeff is the youngster's mother, Mrs. Lawrence S. Martz Jr. of Stout street.

WTHS Holiday Dance Lends Festivity

Children of Walton boulevard school presented their Christmas program Wednesday evening. A choir of 40 children sang songs and each class participated with a special act of its own.

Singing solos or making recitations were Paul Miller, Brenda Lewis, Barbara Baldwin, Gary Howard, Lorraine McWethy, Robert Burich and Wayne Batters.

Five hundred parents and friends attended the program. Santa Claus was a guest and presented the youngsters with candy.

2 Classes Hold Christmas Party

Thirty-four members and friends of the Gleaners and Men's Classes of Central Christian Church met in Friendship Hall Tuesday evening for their annual Christmas party.

Mrs. J. H. Moon had charge of the devotional program and Mrs. D. J. Storm arranged music, with Mrs. Roberta Hoenstine at the piano.

Hostesses were Mrs. Leonard Carter and Mrs. Harold Hodges assisted by Mrs. Maggie Bailey and Mrs. Roy Riley. The Rev. and Mrs. G. W. Gibson attended.

BETHUNE SCHOOL

At Bethune School, 359 children from the kindergarten to the third grade took part in the Christmas program. Taking speaking parts were Richard Colman, Diana McColl, Robert Smith, Ann Bumpkins, Eliza Smith, Marice Threlkeld, Marice Johnson, Edward Moore, Irving Stephens, Prentice Hill, Bennie, Nance and Gregory Woods.

The program concluded with the audience joining in the singing of Christmas carols.

Final plans are being made by the PTA for the annual Christmas party being held Friday at 1:30 p.m. at the school. Mrs. James Threlkeld and her committee, and Mrs. John Turner, president, are making plans.

WILLIS SCHOOL

Willis School presented its Christmas program, "The Christmas Tree" at the Walton Boulevard School gymnasium. Children from each room participated with a choral group consisting of the fifth and sixth grades from LeBaron School. The chorus was accompanied by Mrs. Jean James at the piano and Marsha Galbraith at the organ.

A highlight of the program was a visit from Santa Claus.

Club Celebrates Holiday Season

Sylvan Shores Women's Club gathered at the Shoreview drive home of Mrs. Lyndon Salathiel Wednesday for the annual Christmas party.

Assisting the hostess were Mrs. Omer Lewis, Mrs. Carl Shank, Mrs. Clarence Denhoff, Mrs. James Hampton and Mrs. James Anthony.

Mrs. C. I. Humphries presented two readings, "The Pastboard Star" by Margaret Carpenter and "The Little Guest" by Marjorie Williams Blank. The group joined in singing Christmas carols.

Girl Scouts Aid Others at Yuletide

Two Girl Scout troops have planned to make Christmas a brighter season this year for many.

At Lincoln Junior High, Troop 31, under the leadership of Mrs. Lloyd Porter and Mrs. Frank Evans gave a special party for 21 children at Pontiac Area Day Nursery.

Barbara White and Christine Kline prepared cookies, and Mrs. Cleatus Garner assisted with preparations. Twenty-one stuffed dolls were presented to the youngsters.

The group also is filling a Christmas box for a missionary in Japan, and the girls will sing carols at a nursing home Saturday.

Pontiac High School Troop 23 sent 100 Christmas cards to patients at the Oakland County Convalescent Hospital and plans to sing carols there Sunday.

Beware of Married Wolf in the Gray Flannel Suit

Treat This Menace With Deference to Make Him Feel Much Older

By RUTH MILLETT

What can a single girl do when an older married wolf in her own office has his eye on her?

A 23-year-old secretary says she is embarrassed by the attentions of a 50-year-old executive who has a reputation for chasing every new girl who goes to work in the office.

She doesn't want to insult him or cause any unpleasantness but she would like to get the idea across that she isn't interested.

It may take a little time to convince a wolf who has been chasing girls for years that you aren't even slightly interested, but it can be done.

One of the most deflating tactics a young woman can use on an older man is to make him feel his age.

EXTREMELY POLITE

Be extremely polite to him in the deferential manner of a young person talking to an older person.

"Sir" him every chance you get. Don't make the mistake of calling him by his first name even if he has encouraged the other girls in the office to drop the "Mister."

Drop a few hints that give him the idea you have a young man you are interested in.

Don't let him take you out to lunch, buy you a drink, or do any favors for you.

If you keep up this routine for a few weeks, even a confirmed wolf ought to get the idea that you aren't going to be his latest Little Red Ridinghood.

Chances are he won't even resent your attitude. Wolves have thick skins. And besides a real wolf isn't going to waste too much time on one girl.

He'll probably just mark you up as a lost try and his eye will light on someone else.

You've got nothing to lose and a lot to gain by outwitting the married wolf in the gray flannel suit.

Parliamentary Club Holds Yule Party

Parliamentary Study Club held its Christmas party Wednesday afternoon at the Masonic Temple.

Mrs. Dale Moats presided at the brief meeting preceding the party.

Christmas stories were told by Laura Cobb, and Mrs. Russell Auten conducted a travel quiz.

Gifts were then exchanged and refreshments served, with Mrs. H. N. Watson presiding at the punch bowl.

Mrs. I. J. Gouin, Mrs. Russell French, Mrs. George Watters, Mrs. Watson, and Mrs. John McNeely were members of the Christmas party committee under the chairmanship of Mrs. Auten.

400 Gifts Collected

At the recent Christmas party held by the Oakland County Medical Assistants Society at Kingsley Inn, gifts were donated for distribution at the Oakland County Convalescent Home. Many of the 400 gifts collected were donated by county merchants.

William Spalding served as master of ceremonies at the Christmas party held recently by members of the SaShay Quadrille Club.

Quadrilles, novelty dances and mixers were called by John DePauw, Oscar Denham, Howard Upton, Bert Denham, William Spalding, William Schnell and William Moore.

The Santa Claus March was led by President Norman Underwood, followed by a gift exchange.

Guests attending were Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Whiting, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Redo, Mr. and Mrs. Gurney Braddock, Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Bradley, Mr. and Mrs. Monty VonDell and Edward Ault.

Concluding the evening program members joined in a candlelight ceremony during which a friendship circle was formed and everyone was reminded of the true significance of Christmas. Everyone joined in singing "Silent Night, Holy Night."

Chapter Initiates 2 at Christmas Party

Mrs. Homer Tinney and Mrs. Leon Reene were initiated into Alpha Chapter of Beta Theta Phi at the Christmas party held at the Russell Beam home on Avondale avenue. Mrs. L. Z. Monroe served as cohostess.

Mrs. Leslie Cross conducted the initiation ceremony assisted by Helen Turek, conductress.

There was an exchange of gifts and each member donated canned goods for a Christmas basket for a needy family. The group will donate money for clothing and toys. The chapter also plans to buy a record player stand for the girls' ward at Pontiac State Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Traicoff of Niagara avenue announce the engagement of their daughter, Olga, to Stanley Evanoff, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paskal Evanoff of Neome drive. No date has been set for the wedding.

OLGA TRAIKOFF

Nap Gives Warmth Rather Than Weight

A fabric with a napped surface, such as tweed or cheviot, will give its wearer slightly more protection than a fabric of the same weight which has a close-cropped finish—such as gabardine.

That's simply because the loft and nap of the woolen fabric enables it to entrap more air in relation to its weight. Thus, the thickness of a fabric is more a gauge of its insulating power than its weight.

Artists View Statue

Members of the Pontiac Society of Artists attended a reception and viewing of a statue sculptured by Beaver Edwards, a noted Detroit sculptor, Tuesday. The statue of St. Francis of Assisi was cast in bronze in Oslo, Norway, and was on display at the Scarab Club in Detroit. The group also viewed other works of art.

Adolph Menjou Compiles Own Best-Dressed List

HOLLYWOOD — Actor Adolph Menjou, a fairly standard fixture on lists of best dressed men, today came up with his own list.

Charles Thomas of Los Angeles, secretary of the Navy; Gary Cooper, actor; Robert Gross, Lockheed aviation executive; Jacques Bergerac, actor; Sidney Franklin, motion picture director; Fred Astaire, dancer; Robert E. Petersen, publisher; Clark Gable, actor; Leigh Batson, broker; and William Keck, Superior Oil Co. executive.

"Each of these men," Menjou commented, "stands out as an oasis in an otherwise bleak landscape of fading elegance on the part of the average American male."

Two Circles Attend Yuletide Gathering

Elizabeth and Dorcas Circles of First Christian Church held their Christmas party and gift exchange at the home of Mrs. Harding A. Ferguson on Osceola drive Wednesday. Mrs. Paul Beam assisted the hostess.

"Frontiers of Ministry" was the subject presented by Mrs. Allen Hersee. Mrs. Charles DuVall gave devotions.

An average human body is seven and one-half times the length of the head.

But...

But your Christmas list gets longer all the time, and you just can't lavish diamonds and furs on everyone. Well, start smiling. There isn't a gal in the world who won't feel pampered with a lovely, luxurious Maling handbag! It'll look like you did splurge—but the price tag reads only $2.99!

Santa Does Good Job of Filling Teenage Requests

By EUGENE GILBERT

President of the Gilbert Youth Research Co.

Remember the old round: "Christmas is coming; the goose is getting fat. Please to put a penny in the old man's hat..."

It's that time of year again and teenagers all over the country are wondering what the jolly little man with the gift-loaded sack will drop down their chimneys early Tuesday morning.

You'll be happy to know that except for a lump of coal here and there in an occasional stocking, Santa does a good job filling teenaged Christmas requests.

How do we know this? Well, we didn't have to go to the North Pole to get the answers. Flying conditions prohibited the trip.

Instead, we queried 625 teenaged boys and 750 teenaged girls last year on what they expected to find under the tree on Christmas morning.

RETURN VISIT
Then, a week after Christmas, we went back to the same group of young people to learn how they made out.

Thus by checking upon Santa's performance last year we can now give you the approximate odds on how you will make out with this year's requests.

If Santa doesn't mind, let's sort through some of his teenaged mail and see what the chances are of delivery by Christmas.

Girls, did you ask for a new or used car in your stocking? Not many did last year, only 2 per cent, but one out of four of these wound up behind the wheel on Christmas morning.

BETTER FOR BOYS
Boys did even better. Five per cent asked for cars and 4 out of 10 had their automotive dreams come true.

What's the most popular gift on Santa's list? Last year, for girls, it was pocket books, lingerie and sweaters; 35 per cent asked for them and 40 per cent received them.

Boys were a little more diversified in their requests, but the top items were radios and phonographs, with 21 per cent asking and 8 per cent receiving, and pen and pencil sets, with 20 per cent asking and 14 per cent receiving.

This means 4 out of 10 wound up with either a radio or phonograph, if they asked for it, and 7 out of 10 got their pen and pencil sets.

Or maybe, to avoid disappointment, you prefer to play it cozy and ask for the gift you have the best chance of receiving. If so, both boys and girls would do well to ask for clothing and books, when they ask for cosmetics and and although the percentage of requests is small, less than 20 per cent, girls have a sure winner when they ask for cosmetics and boys do equally well with wallets, tie clips and other jewelry items.

MONEY AND MUSIC
For reasons best known to Santa, boys do better than girls in receiving gifts of money and musical instruments, but girls do better on sporting equipment.

Last year, only 15 per cent of the boys asked for sports goods, but 6 out of 10 received gifts in that line.

Even more amazing, only 8 per cent of the girls wanted something in the sports line, but five out of six received it.

What about a typewriter? Well, based on last year's figures, chances are two out of five you'll be typing a "thank-you" note to Santa if you put in your request.

And both boys and girls have a better than 50-50 chance of getting a watch, bicycle or phonograph records.

With cameras, the odds drop slightly, 40 per cent chances for girls and 37 per cent for boys.

LUGGAGE LIKELY
Is traveling your dish? In one out of every two cases, Santa fills the bill with gift luggage for boys and girls who ask for it.

We don't have any figures on mink coats and private airplanes, but we think you'll agree that, all in all, Santa does a pretty good job filling the Christmas stockings of teenagers around the country.

And we hope that you'll do even better this year when we check up on his activities again the week after Christmas.

So to all young readers in towns and cities across the United States and Canada, we say, "Merry Christmas, and may this holiday season and the coming year bring you every happiness."

Eastern Concert Slated Tonight

The PTSA of Eastern Junior High School in conjunction with the Vocal Music Department will present the annual Christmas concert this evening at 7:30.

Christmas music will be presented by the Boys' Glee Club, the Girls' Treble Clef Club and the Seventh Grade Select Choir. An operetta, based on "The Christmas Carol," will be featured.

The program is under the direction of Leonard Griffin, Margaret Snyder and Mrs. Florine Tompkins. Parents and friends of Eastern Junior students are invited to attend.

Sorority Gathers at Christmas Party

Mrs. Cedric Davis opened her home on Kemp street for the Christmas party held by members of Epsilon Rho Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority Wednesday evening. Cohostesses for the party were Mrs. Thomas Reed and Mrs. Berton Bond.

The names of secret pals were revealed during the gift exchange. Refreshments were served from a table centered with a glittering violin centerpiece and Christmas candelabra.

Jo Anne Dayner became the bride of David M. Summers Saturday. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Harold Thomas Dayner of LeBaron avenue, and David is the son of Mrs. Kathleen Hendon of Norton avenue.

MR. and MRS. DAVID M. SUMMERS

Jo Anne Dayner Speaks Vows in Church Service

Married Saturday at Joslyn Avenue United Presbyterian Church were Jo Anne Dayner and David M. Summers. The Rev. Edmond I. Watkins officiated at the 7:30 o'clock service.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Thomas Dayner of LeBaron avenue and David is the son of Mrs. Kathleen Hendon of Norton avenue.

For her wedding, Jo Anne chose a gown of white satin with accents of lace on the bodice and a train of Chantilly lace. Her headpiece, trimmed with sequins and pearls, secured a fingertip veil. She carried a white Bible with red rosebuds.

Diane Fauss of Lake Orion was maid of honor wearing a shrimp-colored gown of crystalet. The other attendants, Carol Sapelak, Joan Richards, Mrs. Harry Dayner and Marilyn Tate, wore identical dresses in a turquoise color.

ATTEND BRIDEGROOM
Don Summers was best man. Seating the 200 guests were Harry Dayner, Don Dayner, Bill McKinley and George Wilson.

For the reception held in the church parlors Mrs. Dayner chose a pink lace dress with black accessories and a corsage of pink carnations and a camellia.

Mrs. Summers wore brown lace with brown accessories. Her flowers were pink carnations centered with a camellia.

The bride changed to a light blue

Junior Guild Holds Christmas Meeting

Members of the Junior Wesleyan Service Guild of Central Methodist Church traveled to the Rochester home of Mrs. Robert Hutton Wednesday for their Christmas meeting.

The story of the Nativity was presented in song and story by Robert Davis, Barbara DeWolfe and Mabel Smith. Elizabeth Rockefeller gave the Christmas prayer.

Guests for the evening were Mrs. Calvin C. Rice and Mrs. Milton H. Bank. The group is invited to meet with the Ella Nickerson Wesleyan Service Guild in January. Jean McLeod assisted the hostess during the social hour.

Naomi Circle Meets With Mrs. Brown

Naomi Circle of Christian Women's Fellowship of First Christian Church met at the home of Mrs. Harold Brown on Marquette street. Mrs. Arthur Smith presided, and devotions were given by Mrs. Charles Neal assisted by Mrs. Clare LaForm.

A reading entitled "The Greatest Gift" was given by Mrs. John Appleton. Following the singing of Christmas carols, gifts were exchanged and refreshments served.

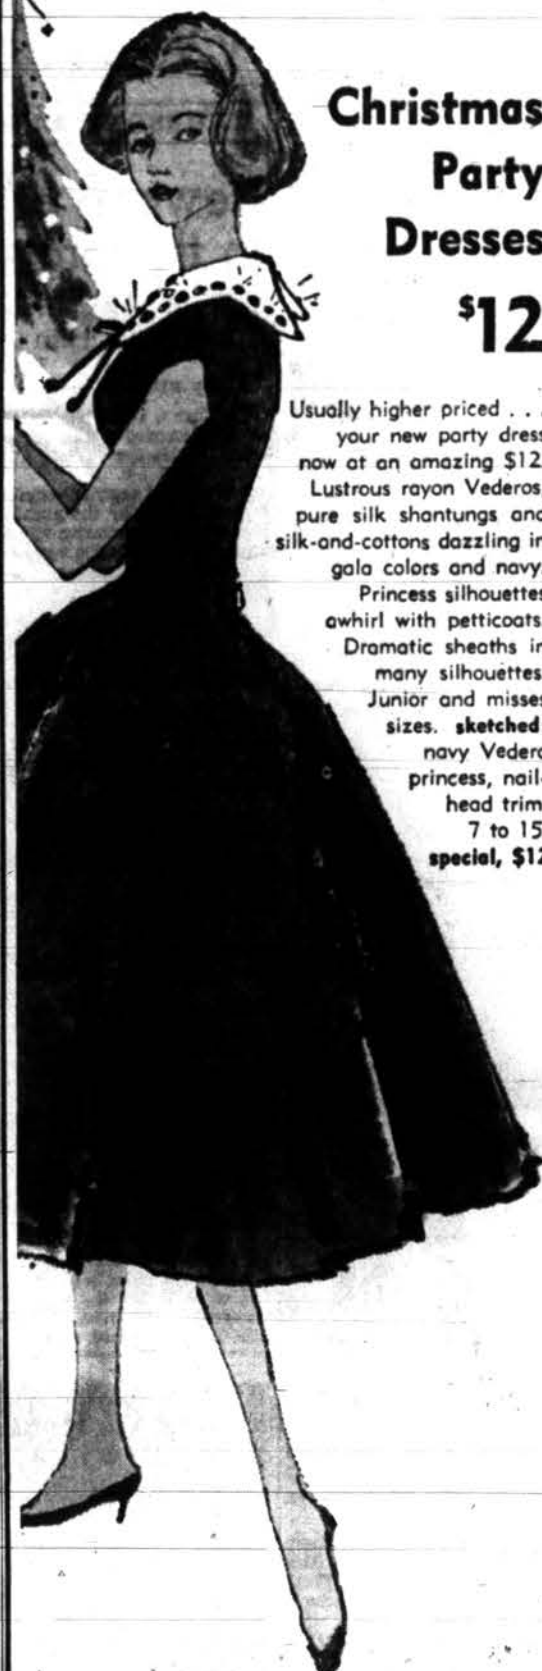

Fashion Hint

Separates really should team up. A frilly blouse is not good company for a tailored skirt and similarly, a plain wool jersey blouse won't mate with a wide and fancy velvet skirt or taffeta skirt.

Open nights to 9 p.m.

New Boss Tells Plans for Museum

National Gallery to Become Center of Art Education

By ANNETTE DAVIS

For Jane Eads
WASHINGTON — When John Walker was 13 he suffered an attack of infantile paralysis. To pass the time during his recuperation he used to wheel through the galleries of New York's Metropolitan Museum. By the time he was ready to return to school in his native Pittsburgh he knew that he wanted to be a museum man.

This tall and scholarly art historian, now 49, has helped to make the National Gallery one of the top museums in the world.

As chief curator since it opened in 1941, he has watched the collection grow from 542 works of art to more than 1,300 paintings and 328 sculptures.

When retiring director David E. Finley announced his successor last July, he said "John Walker has left the indelible imprint of his knowledge and taste on the collection."

Walker graduated from Harvard summa cum laude in 1930 and won a three-year scholarship to study under the renowned art expert, Bernard Berenson, in Italy.

Later he became fine arts director of the American Academy in Rome. There he hit the society pages when he married the daughter of the British ambassador to Rome, the late Earl of Perth.

In 1938 he was called home to help lay the groundwork for the National Gallery.

Now that 80 per cent of the gallery's space is filled, Walker hopes to shift its emphasis from collecting to developing a center for popular art education and at the same time for scholarly research.

He is peculiarly adept at both approaches. For the public he has written "Great Paintings of the National Gallery," a Book-of-the-Month Club dividend, and for scholars he has just completed "Bellini and Titian in Ferrara."

Since his return to this country Walker has become interested in American painting, a study he admits he neglected during his period with the works of the Italian masters.

For his first big show he plans an exhibition of American painter George Bellows.

He also plans to make moving pictures of the gallery's collection for distribution over the country.

He hopes, by doing this, to increase the 2½ million persons who visit the gallery annually to see the originals.

A gay young note on this designer cashmere is a striped tie that turns into a pert collar. The slipover has short sleeves with turned-back, ribbed cuffs. The front is closed with pearl buttons.

"Where Fit Comes First" FE 2-2492
87 N. SAGINAW

By ANNE HEYWOOD
The longer I live, the less I believe in luck.

I used to think that some people were lucky and other people were unlucky, and that was that. But now I know that luck is something which anyone can have, if he is willing to pay the price.

In short, there are laws behind it, not just chance. I don't pretend to know all the laws, but I've learned some of them, by simple observation of the "lucky" people I know.

One of the laws of luck is this: The people who have good things come to them are the people who give out good things.

Take Mrs. C. for example. Mrs. C. is in her early 60s, a widow with no children. She has a tiny house on a suburban street and just barely enough money to get by on.

She likes children and does occasional babysitting. It just brings in pennies, but every penny helps.

'LUCKY' BREAK

At least, that's how it was for several years. But last Christmas, Mrs. C. got a "lucky" break.

Because she loves children, Mrs. C. always welcomed the neighborhood youngsters who dropped in and kept the cookie jar full.

At Christmastime, they brought her cute homemade Christmas presents—you know the kind, pot holders they had made at school. She loved them, and decided to make a box of cookies for each child.

It was quite a project for Mrs. C., because she didn't have much money to buy the ingredients. But she went without other things and made fancy Christmas cookies by the dozen.

Three or four days before Christmas, she delivered her boxes of cookies. One of the children was quite sick, so Mrs. C. stayed to chat with him and take his mind off his troubles. She told him stories to cheer him.

HELPED MOTHER

She offered to stay for a couple of hours while the boy's mother did her shopping. This was wonderful, of course, because the mother had been house-bound taking care of the sick child and had millions of things to do.

While she was telling stories to the little boy, his wealthy grandmother dropped by.

The long and short of it is that the grandmother hired Mrs. C., at a huge salary, to accompany the boy to Florida for a three months convalescence, staying at a beautiful hotel and having a wonderful vacation.

Now Mrs. C. does it every year. She has three months in Florida with a child she loves and makes enough money to keep her in luxuries all year through!

Plastic Jumpers Keep Kids Clean, Even in Mud

Do your children look like mud-pies, after making same? You might investigate the cleanliness potential of some "breathing" plastic over-garments called "mud jumpers."

They literally cover a youngster from waistline to toe, with permanently attached leak-proof latex boots. The jumpers have a boxer waistline, with legs full enough to cover snowsuit pants.

Children will love the fact that you won't need to scold about mud and stains. You will love the fact that playtime dirt disappears when you wash the jumpers through soap or detergent suds. Then rinse and hang them to dry in no time flat.

Easy to Launder Stretchable Gloves

Stretchable gloves, made of wool flannel in wonderful colors, can be washed as often as necessary.

Use warm soap or detergent suds and rinses, handle gently, and they won't shrink, mat, or felt. One size fits everybody, so you can select these stretchable washables for your friends without having to know their glove sizes.

Use Lint Brush on Sewing Machine

The lint and litter which accumulates on your sewing machine can cause abrasive action, interfering with its smooth performance. Don't let this happen.

Instead, use a special new lint brush, with locked-in nylon bristles, to keep your machine lint-free.

But to sweep clean, this brush must be kept clean by washing often with hot soap or detergent suds and rinses.

PTA Activities

Weaver PTA will meet tonight at 7. The children will present the annual Christmas program.

Washable Surface Best for Ceiling

Either washable wallpaper or washable paint is practical for ceiling decor.

For it will need only soap or detergent suds to keep it fresh and clean, just as walls and woodwork do. A dingy ceiling can depress all the rest of the room, and it can dim natural or electric lighting.

Fashion Hint

This is the time to buy at least one head-hugging, snug little wool jersey cap against the wet, snowy and cold days in store. If you pick a dark color, choose a style that's sparked with rhinestone or golden trim for a cheery note on a dark day.

Children Scoop Mothers in Interviews With Mamie

WASHINGTON (INS) — Women reporters in Washington were scooped by their own children who yesterday obtained personal "interviews" with Mamie Eisenhower.

The First Lady had invited members of the Women's National Press Club to the White House to see its sparkling Christmas decorations. As a special treat, they were told they could bring their school-aged children but they could not "adopt" a child for the occasion.

Some 25 children dressed in their Sunday best turned out, along with more than 100 newswomen. The White House tour ended in the big East Room, where the reporters were herded behind a rope.

There they took an unaccustomed back seat to the children who were admitted to the open space around a floor-to-ceiling Christmas tree.

Mrs. Eisenhower then made a surprise appearance — to greet the children, not the newswomen.

The first child in line, 4-year-old Ann Metzger, who looked like a Christmas card with her blonde braids and blue velvet dress to accent her blue eyes, delighted the onlookers by curtseying to the First Lady.

STRAINED IN VAIN The newswomen, pencils and notebooks in hand, strained in vain to catch the conversation which was too low to carry behind the rope. Luckily for them, some of their children proved pretty good reporters.

Little Ann returned to her mother, who writes under her maiden name of Evelyn Petersen, to relate that the First Lady told her, "That was a very pretty curtsey."

Ann said Mrs. Eisenhower asked what she would do Christmas Day "and I told her we are going to Minneapolis."

Jennifer Woods, nursery-aged daughter of reporter Jane Woods, skipped back behind the rope to reveal a compliment. She said Mrs. Eisenhower asked "my name" and then said "Oh, what a pretty name!"

Mrs. Eisenhower, in a red print dress with holly at the shoulder, looked like the spirit of Christmas as she smilingly chatted with each child.

It was hard to say, when it was all over, who was the happiest — the children for having met the President's wife or their proud mothers.

Tame Bushy Brows With Pair of Shears

If your eyebrows have John L. Lewis tendencies, you have several choices in taming them. A cream can be used to soften them so they can be brushed into line.

Plucking is effective, of course, but is time-consuming and somewhat painful, especially with really bushy brows.

You can also rough them up with a brush, then cut them with shears. Since this tends to make them bristle, however, a cream should certainly be used in conjunction with this method.

New Holiday Hints

Holiday hostess hints from California have nothing to do with the way you decorate your mantel or table, but rather how well you decorate yourself!

Hostess styles this season are dazzling, as prescribed by designers such as Helen of California, who creates a slim black sheath of cotton Homan (in the new, almost-ankle length) and over it places a removable panel tunic of gray red and green. Shining holly berries are embroidered on a narrow front panel.

Giving Perfume Gift? Match It to Person

When selecting perfume for a Christmas gift be sure you take the personality of the recipient into consideration.

It wouldn't be a good idea to give your little old school teacher an exotic scent or your baby sister a powerful aroma. It's a good idea in questionable cases to choose light, floral odors.

About 10 million tourists visited Texas during 1955.

Holiday Suggestion: Versatile Separates

Separates are many splendored things—especially at holiday time of the year, when satins, laces and brocades make their appearance in skirts, to shine at parties and special occasions!

The question of topping these fancies with the perfect blouse need not be a puzzler. California fashion seers suggest a black or white wool jersey blouse with a switchabout neckline.

Wall Fabric Pretty, Easy to Maintain

You'll find it worth while to shop for a washable wall fabric that's easy to put up, and scrubbable forever after.

It comes in a wide selection of patterns and colors, many of them available with matching slipcover or drapery fabric. This covering is 24 inches wide and requires no special skills or tools to apply.

First official U. S. census taken in 1790, listed just 3,929,214 people.

Woman Has Disturbing Lint Phobia

She Always Picks Hair, Threads Off Others' Clothing

By EMILY POST

A letter tells me: "I have a friend who has a very annoying habit—at least it is annoying to me. She just can't stand to see a loose hair or a piece of lint on anyone's clothing without picking it off. It is a phobia with her."

"I suppose she thinks she is doing the person a good turn by doing this, but in my opinion, it is very bad manners and tends to make one feel less than well-groomed. Perhaps I am over-critical about this, but isn't this an improper thing to do?"

Answer: I do agree with you that this habit of your friend's can be very annoying. No one would mind, however, if a friend occasionally picked a thread off her clothing.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Is it necessary that the mother of the bride leave her wrap in the back of the church? I have a very lovely mink stole which I am going to wear to my daughter's wedding."

"I had planned to leave it on while walking up the aisle, but I have been told that the bride's mother does not wear a wrap over her dress in church. Will you please advise me on this matter?"

Answer: The bride's mother generally leaves her wrap in the back of the church, but there is no strict rule about this and if you prefer to wear your wrap you may do so.

"Dear Mrs. Post: My girl friend was supposed to be married this coming spring and was to have a large wedding. I had planned on giving her a shower before the wedding."

"However, two weeks ago she and her fiancé eloped and were married quietly in another town. I would like to know if it would be proper for me to give her a bridal shower at this time?"

Answer: Such a shower as you propose would not be improper nor even unusual.

U. S. Turkey Goes to German Kitchens

BONN, Germany (AP)—For the first time, German housewives can cook an American turkey instead of the traditional goose for Christmas dinner this year.

More than a million dollars worth of turkeys, chickens and ducks have been imported from the United States. Officials said it was the first time such imports have been made.

The trick, she said, is to "use something you already have and add a touch of glitter or trim to it." Kitchens and bathrooms should be brought into the holiday theme, she advised. A quick way is to hang tiny ornaments to fringe the window curtains.

For bedrooms, try a "treasure chest" motif. Take a jewel box, let it overflow with costume jewel-

Yule Shopping Strains Your Feet

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

The feeling of severe physical exhaustion can come from emotional strains. It is also a fact that you can feel tired all over if your eyes or your feet are tired.

Do you realize that the average woman walks 10 or more miles during a day of Christmas shopping? Foot doctors report that they get an unusual amount of business at this season of the year, and they blame most of the fatigue suffered by Christmas shoppers on their feet.

So, today I would like to give you a few suggestions about the care of your feet, especially at this time.

Suppose you are going for a day of holiday buying. Who isn't? The type shoe you wear will make all the difference imaginable. Wear leather shoes with medium heels. Be sure that your shoes fit snugly.

Many of you know from sad experience that shoes which are too loose will make blisters on your heels long before you have finished what you have started out to do. Likewise, if your shoes are too small or cramp your toes your feet will protest in short order.

FOOT BATHS

After a rushed day of shopping there is nothing more restful than alternate hot and cold foot baths. Follow these with leisurely foot massage. Use one of the body lotions or a cream.

"If you are troubled with roughened skin on the heels, wear a pair of the little heel mitts while you sleep, after massaging cream into the heels."

This foot treatment, plus an eye bath, will take away the strain of the day and prepare you for dreamless slumber. Use one of the well-known soothing eye solutions on the market, and then lie down for a few minutes with wet, cold cotton pads over your closed eyes.

Just 45 minutes or less given to these two procedures will make you feel like a new woman.

If you would like my leaflet, "Take Care of Your Feet," send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 14 to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

After shopping, follow your foot bath with a foot massage.

Spread Yule Cheer Everywhere

Make All Rooms Festive

CHICAGO (INS)—Hang the ornaments on the tree, but don't stop there. This season Christmas cheer—in other words, decorations—should be spread all over the house, not in only one or two rooms.

Jo Mead, one of the nation's top designers of room accessories, says that women will find it easy to follow the "all through the house" trend in holiday decorations.

The same idea can be adapted for cocktail tables or buffets in living-dining areas if you put the fancy ornaments, mixed with strands of beads and sprigs of greens, in silver or glass bowls.

Instead of having a tiny creche in its traditional place under the tree, "where it can get lost among the gift packages," Miss Mead suggests giving it a more prominent place—in a bookcase or an open room divider.

An open shelf unit can be brought into the Yuletide setting if it is given a backing of wide red or green ribbon, hung vertically.

Accent Strands of Gray Hair

NEW YORK — Make your prematurely gray hair your primary asset!

It's smart to play up those gray strands, according to a national magazine, which suggests these make-up and fashion tips for those with silver-dusted dark hair:

1. Wear a short up-swept hairdo to show off salt-and-pepper locks.
2. Choose a light, ivory toned or pink tinged, porcelain foundation and powder.
3. Make black and white the basis of your wardrobe. A soft gray is especially becoming too, as are tweeds.
4. Wear gray and white pearls; silver jewelry. Little black notes such as a fox muff or collar, veils and velvet headbands add accents.
5. Use bright touches of color as accessories to black, gray and white.

Do Not Let That Seam Bulge, Lady

As a woman grows older, she puts on weight naturally. Most authorities put the amount at 10 pounds every 10 years. This is not the day-to-day weight, but the average weight over a year.

In other words, if a woman weighs in the low 130's when she's 50, she may safely weigh in the low 140's when she's 60. This, of course, is with the exception of women whose doctors advise otherwise.

This isn't really a weight gain in the sense that a sudden spurt is a weight gain. It's part of the gradual body changes in adding years.

But, in order to keep this gradual change from being unbecoming, a woman should adjust to it as it comes, also gradually. She shouldn't wear clothes that are getting too tight, then suddenly jump a size. The too-tight clothes will make her look bulky and the sudden jump will call attention to the change.

This problem can be solved by careful clothes purchases. Straight skirts should be selected for depth of seams. Perhaps one will prefer to move from straight skirts to gored ones, which allow a weight gain without becoming too small. Clothes that are snug now will surely be uncomfortable soon. Avoid them.

The way rings fit is also important. Don't let them get too tight. A jeweler can extend them so they won't cut into the flesh.

A swab-off in time saves more than nine, where kitchen equipment is concerned. In practical terms it's wise to wash kitchen equipment with hot water and a sudsy sponge after each meal.

Child Guidance Clinic Plans for Annual Meet

The Board of Directors of the Oakland Child Guidance Clinic yesterday began plans for their annual meeting and election of directors scheduled Feb. 12 at Northwood Inn.

Mrs. Charles Cox of Walled Lake is in charge of plans for the meeting. Main speaker will be Dr. Ralph Rabinovitch, director of Hawthorne Center.

Mrs. David Hicks is chairman of nominations for directors and will present a slate at the January meeting of the board.

Reports on the developments of South Oakland branch were given to the board. Madeline Hall, director of the clinic, reported on a discussion held this week with the Department of Mental Health in Lansing concerning the proposed branch.

A report on operation of the Birmingham Branch office was given to the board by Director Mrs. William Thomas.

Club Sings Carols

Twenty members of the Michigan Bell Girls' Club visited several convalescent homes Tuesday evening and sang Christmas carols. They were later entertained at the home of Mrs. Clarence Hagerman of Williams Lake. A movie, "The Spirit of Christmas," was shown by Mrs. Richard Veazey and refreshments were served.

The mature woman should accent sophistication, not coquettishness (never a hot cascading flirtatiously over one eye).

Feathers, flirtatious flowers, laces and veils to tempt the holiday-goer are everywhere. "Don't overdo" is tactful guidance to finding the right hat, for too much trimming can be a grueling test to the face.

But Queen Elizabeth Cannot Answer Jibes

Barbed Criticism Wounds Royal Feelings

(This is the last of two articles by a veteran, London correspondent on the recent criticism by Britons of their royal family.)

By FRED DOERFLINGER
LONDON (INS) — Queen Elizabeth II and her family officially and regally ignore any and all criticism of themselves and the court but there is evidence that many of the slings and arrows of "outrageous" comment wound royal feelings.

Behind the scenes Buckingham Palace is seething with anger and frustration over what is considered unjustified, unfair and often vicious criticism based on sheer ignorance.

The Queen, of course, cannot engage in public argument with her critics. Nor can palace officials initiate an exchange of opinions every time an article is published criticizing a member of the royal family.

The Queen and the court simply have to take it without offering any public defense or explanation, which makes them sitting targets for the critics.

But privately those about the palace mince no words in bitterly blasting the repeated harping about the "royal circle."

OLD FUDDY-DUDDYS

For what all the criticism boils down to is that the Queen and her family are surrounded by useless or old-fashioned fuddy-duddys as friends and advisers that they cannot escape the Victorian past to become modern, forward-looking human beings.

To this the indignant behind the palace gates retort "absolute nonsense."

First, it is pointed out, why should the Queen, any more than any of her subjects, bar her home to her childhood friends and friends of her parents. The whole royal family is entitled to some private life and to personal friends.

Further, it is stressed, Queen Elizabeth II does far less social entertaining than in any reign in British history. There have been no court balls since she came to the throne.

Each year she gives one big evening party for the diplomatic corps. Then there are the spring "presentation parties" when debutantes make their curties.

And the only criterion for being presented is to find a sponsor—someone who has been presented before. No title or social standing of any kind is required.

MEET THE QUEEN

Commonwealth citizens and foreigners can meet the Queen by obtaining the approval of their respective diplomatic representatives in London.

The Queen's summer garden parties are by no means exclusive. Average attendance is 8,000 covering the widest possible cross-section of Britons, colonials, Commonwealth citizens and foreigners.

Since coming to the throne in 1952 Queen Elizabeth has given only two private parties at the palace.

The Queen and the Duke of Edinburgh, in the course of their duties at home and abroad, meet a broader cross-section of people than any of their subjects.

To criticism that the royal couple always meets the same sort of bigwigs and officials instead of the common people on these occasions, it is pointed out that it is the authorities on the spot who select the people to be presented and not the Queen or the palace.

In any case, it is claimed, the critics would be just as voluble if the Queen did not shake hands with local mayors and corporation officials.

NOT REPORTED

And why, palace sources ask, does not the press report such new departures as the Queen's regular luncheon parties for leaders in all walks of life. In recent months she has given three such luncheons and more are scheduled.

The Queen's personal friends do not influence her in the slightest in state affairs, according to those in a position to know. The Queen's chief advisers are not court officials at all but the government of the day, whether it be Conservative, Labor or Liberal.

As for charges that the Queen's courtiers are reactionary old fogies, it is pointed out that there have been more new faces about the palace in recent years than in many a business concern.

Queen Elizabeth II and her consort have laid down a number of principles governing what they should try to achieve.

Firstly to be seen; secondly to see the people; and thirdly to see what's representative of and most characteristic of the way of life in any area they visit either at home or abroad.

CAN'T BE INFORMAL

But the palace also considers that as sovereign and symbol Elizabeth cannot abandon all formality or so-called "starchiness" any more than she can as a constitutional monarch interfere in politics.

Criticism of the way the Queen is bringing up the royal children especially rankles. Critics insist that Charles, for example, should associate with ordinary boys and girls.

Yet, according to the palace, the moment the heir to the throne joins a gym class at an ordinary school some newspapers send photographers with telescopic lenses and print photographs of a mud-stained Charles playing football.

This draws attention to the school, starts a competition among newspapers to get better photographs and inevitably forces the Queen to reluctantly withdraw Charles from the classes.

Don't toss out worn-out bath and hand towels. Cut them into squares with your pinkie scissors and use them for cleaning rags. They're both soft and absorbent.

YULE LIGHTS BLAZE—A crowd gathers as tens of thousands of the lights that make up the Christmas display at Denver's Civic Center go on. The lights were turned on for the first time this year.

Stassen Agrees to Stay as 'Secretary for Peace'

WASHINGTON (INS) — Harold Stassen disclosed today that President Eisenhower has requested him to remain on in the new administration as "Secretary for Peace," and that he has agreed to do so.

The controversial Republican told this correspondent that he, in turn, is asking all eight of his "task force" chairmen to continue in office.

Dr. Ernest O. Lawrence, nuclear scientist on the board, has already accepted the invitation. The others are Gen. J. H. (Jimmy) Doolittle, Adm. Oswald S. Colclough, Gen. Walter Bedel (Beete) Smith, Dr. Harold R. Moulton, Dr. James B. Flak, Walker Ciesler and Benjamin Fairless.

This action, which has not yet been officially announced, ends speculation that Stassen, who spearheaded the "dump Nixon" drive at the Republican convention, might be dropped by the administration.

Stassen earned the enmity of powerful Republican leaders, particularly the more conservative wing, by his pre-convention efforts to supplant Vice President Richard

M. Nixon with retiring Massachusetts Gov. Christian Herter.

The movement reached its climax in San Francisco when the President himself asked Stassen to quash the drive. Herter, who had previously declined the have his name put into nomination for the No. 2 spot, made the nominating speech for Nixon. Herter comes to the capital shortly after the new year as deputy secretary of state, succeeding Herbert Hoover Jr.

Friends quote Stassen as having said privately that his political action, far from hurting him in the operation of his office, has actually helped.

"It used to take me a long time to get executive decisions," he reportedly grumbled, "but now I get them in a hurry."

Stassen, who holds unofficial cabinet rank, goes tomorrow to the United Nations for a brief session with the disarmament commission. It is expected, however, that extensive negotiations will not begin until early in February on all phases of disarmament, including the missile field.

A renewed effort will be made to reach agreement with Russia, Britain, France and Canada on a workable disarmament plan calling for some sort of international inspection.

A spokesman said Russia's recent and continuing bloodthirsty action in Hungary is delaying negotiations, but that the Soviets should agree to withdraw from that strife-torn country. The climate would be considered ripe for trying to reach firm disarmament agreements.

Approve Bond Issue

HOPKINS — Voters of Hopkins school district have approved a $325,000 bond issue proposal for construction of a new high school building. The vote Tuesday was 337 to 201. Six months ago, voters rejected a $500,000 bond issue for a new school by three votes.

American Investments Aid Oil Importation

NEW YORK—American investments in other countries are largely responsible for the importation of oil from abroad. It is estimated that 95 per cent of American imports of crude oil and 70 per cent of imports of refined oil are due to foreign investments of private American companies.

Trial Board Replaces Slate

Also Promises Meeting With Officers Group, Less 'Secrecy'

The Pontiac Police Trial Board yesterday announced a new slate of officers and decisions to:

Meet with the Police Officers Assn. to discuss "mutual problems;"

Lift the veil of semi-secrecy which has previously cloaked disciplinary actions.

The announcement was made by the board's newly elected secretary and spokesman, William L. Treanor, who was appointed to the board this month.

James F. Flannery, who had served on the board from October 1935 to last May and then was re-appointed with Treanor Dec. 12, was elected chairman.

The new vice-chairman, Cecil Mullinix, was named to the board in May as Flannery's replacement.

Flannery and Treanor now fill new positions added to the board when Pontiac voters last month approved a City Charter amendment increasing the membership from five to seven.

The action was taken at an organizational meeting Tuesday night, Treanor said.

If followed criticism from police officers, who have voted to seek replacement of the board with civil service in the April city election.

The board voted to meet Jan. 24 with a three-man committee from the officers association for an "informal discussion of mutual problems," Treanor said.

The police committee has sought the meeting several months to propose recommendations for rules of procedure and discipline which officers claim the board is lacking.

In respect to the trials, Treanor said charges brought against officers, the findings of the board at the trial, and the disposition and disciplinary action and will be made public from now on.

"This will show that the board is not unduly influenced by Police Chief Herbert W. Straley, as the policemen have claimed," Treanor said.

The board's previous policy was to announce only those disciplinary actions which it considered of public interest.

Trials are conducted at the board's regular meetings, the first Thursday of every month.

He is being held under $500 bond set by Municipal Judge Maurice E. Finnegan.

Joseph, a Carpenter Builds for All Time them, and she rode on the burro smiling at her Joseph.

NO ROOM AT INN

No, there was no room in the Bethlehem inn, but there was hay in the stone stable, the warmth of beasts, and bright stars looked in. So the Child was born.

When the Boy was 8 days old, he was circumcized, and given the name, "Yeshua," or Jesus, which means the "Salvation of God."

After 40 days, they took the Child the five miles to Jerusalem to offer him to the Lord at the temple, as was the law.

A devout old man, Simeon, being in the temple, had believed he would see Christ before he died, and he picked up the Child and said:

"Lord, now let thy servant depart in peace, for mine eyes have seen salvation."

There is witness in your eyes, Joseph, and Mary's, too. Then old Simeon said a strange thing:

"Behold, this Child is set for the fall and rising again. Yet, a sword shall pierce thy own soul also, that the thoughts of many hearts may be revealed."

But he was not troubled, Joseph. Sufficient now is this, thy beautiful Son, given of God, and this thy Mary, radiant beside you, cradling Him in her arms. All things in their fullness await the unfolding of the Lord.

So they returned to their house and the Child grew in their love, and within a year, three learned Eastern nobles came with gifts from Persia, from 1,500 miles or more, and adored the Child, saying their researches had convinced them a new, prominent star had signalled the birth of a sublime One.

Then Joseph learned of Herod's jealousy—his design to slay all children of Bethlehem.

In the night, with laden burro, they went, taking their Child. Out of Judea toward Egypt, more than 250 miles, mingling with wayfarers, tenting by night, resting under a sycamore tree.

For only a while, they remained in Egypt; then Herod the Great died, and they came back toward the high country of Jerusalem.

RETURN TO GALILEE

But when they learned that Archelaus, a lusty son of Herod, now ruled there for Rome, and 2,000 Jews had been crucified

3,000 slain in riots and 30,000 sold into slavery, they journeyed northward by another route back to their old home in the lowlands of Galilee.

In the newly disjoined kingdom another son of Herod, called Herod Antipas, ruled in Galilee, and they were safe.

So Joseph taught the Boy gently and well, the trade of his hands and the words of the Lord.

Oh Joseph, of the great heart wearing goodness and understanding. You are strong, Joseph, a man of hard toil, of gnarled hands and faith. For a short moment long ago, you hesitated before this Child, but then in great love, you battled for Him, and won.

You will endure, Joseph, for out of homeless nights and weary journeys and strength and sacrifice for a Child, you built no beams and stables but life.

Old carpenter, it is said you died at 110, but the structure that you raised lives on beyond the best of wood.

You did not know, Joseph. But that Boy was yours, nourished in your love, and is yours, and all mankind's who want Him.

The trio fled with his billfold, after throwing him to the pavement and kicking him, he told police. He was not seriously injured.

Train Near Detroit Kills Woman Lying on Tracks

DETROIT (AP) — An unidentified woman was killed when she was hit by the Pennsylvania Railroad's Red Arrow passenger train yesterday in Lincoln Park.

Engineer Paul F. Jensen of Toledo said the woman was lying across the tracks. Jensen said he applied the brakes but the woman was hit before the train could be brought to a halt.

Police listed the death as an apparent suicide.

Discuss Plans for Courthouse

Plans for the new Oakland County courthouse were discussed by Harold K. Schone at a meeting of the County Bar Assn. last night.

Schone, chairman of the Board of Supervisors' courthouse building committee, detailed the history of efforts to replace the present courthouse, built in 1904.

"We can all agree on the need for new facilities," Schone said, voicing a hope that "a better understanding of the problems we have to solve, and the easing of some conflicts."

He detailed seven reasons for the Supervisors' decision to build the new courthouse on the county service center site on Telegraph road.

Final building plans can be submitted in April, 1937, Schone said. Questions on the preliminary plans shown last night centered on the amount of floor space allocated to juvenile court, slated to occupy 1 1/2 floors of the building.

Circuit Court rooms will take up two floors of the building. Answering the questions, Schone said space was not allocated on a prestige basis, but on the basis of predictable need. He emphasized the plan is flexible, providing for expansion of any department.

Youngster Injures Hand on Belt of Water Pump

Vickie Peterson, 2 1/2, of 2770 DeLand Ct. was injured late yesterday afternoon in her home when she caught her hand between the belt and pulley of an electric water pump.

Waterford-Township Chief of Police Frank Van Atta took her to Pontiac General Hospital where she was treated and released.

Rash Faces Exam on Murder Charge

L. J. Rash, 52, of 313 Woodward Ave., Rochester, confessed slayer of his wife, Nina, 48, faces examination on a first degree murder charge by Avon Township Justice Luther C. Green tomorrow after a 10-day postponement.

The delay in the case, at the request of Rash's attorney, was made in order for Rash to have a medical checkup.

Rash told police that he used a shotgun to kill his wife when she returned to their Rochester home "with many friends after a drinking party in the middle of the night." The shooting occurred last Nov. 26.

And Join 'Friends' for Christmas Wants to Go 'Home' to Jail

DETROIT (AP) — Christmas in the Detroit House of Correction "for a reunion with the old friends."

That's the wish of Mrs. Yvonne E. Chauvin, a motherly 64-year-old charged with her seventh criminal offense since 1934 — bilking a Northville resident of nearly $5,000.

Assistant prosecutor John Mowatt said that the $5,000 may not be all involved — some $30,000 has been mentioned in Mrs. Chauvin's case.

Mrs. Chauvin pleaded guilty Tuesday before Dearborn Township Justice John L. Mokersky. She also waived examination in her preliminary arraignment and was bound over to Circuit Court.

Because Mrs. Chauvin cannot meet the $10,000 bond she is held in Wayne County jail, but she told reporters she hopes for a transfer to the House of Correction by Christmas. She's been there before, in fact, she just got out in April after serving a term for forgery.

In her jail cell, Mrs. Chauvin said she was glad she was caught. "Money can buy joy for a day," she said, "but not peace of mind."

Mrs. Hazel Jennings, a clerk in a Northville store, complains that Mrs. Chauvin obtained $2,500 from her with a bogus check and later borrowed another $2,300.

Mowatt said Mrs. Chauvin told him she would set up a victim by borrowing money from him and then repaying with a bonus. Then Mowatt said, Mrs. Chauvin would borrow more, and more with no repayment.

She fled to Parma, Ohio, where she was arrested last week.

Bells Ring for Refugees

PITTSBURGH — The bells of the Hungarian Reformed Church in the Hazelwood district pealed loud and long late last night but the residents didn't complain. The ringing signaled the arrival of the largest group of Hungarian refugees to this district. Forty-one

Pose New Tax Prospect to House Majority GOP's

LANSING (AP) — The prospect of voting new or higher taxes sufficient to boost state revenues by 40 to 80 million dollars a year has been posed to house majority Republicans.

That was the picture of need to keep the State Government on present operating levels as sketched by Reps. Rolio G. Conlin of Tipton, Taxation Committee Chairman, and Arnell Engstrom of Traverse City, Ways and Means Committee head.

Conlin, Engstrom and other committee chairmen presented the outlook for the 1957 legislative session in their respective fields at a closed Republican caucus in the Capitol Tuesday.

Afterwards, Rep. Allison Green of Kingston, Republican floor leader, summarized for newsmen.

Green said he had no ideas at all as to what sources might be tapped to produce the extra revenue, and said there was no discussion on this point.

In outlining the budget situation for the fiscal year ending June 30, Green said, Engstrom said it now appeared an eight to 10 million dollar "surplus" nominally in prospect likely would be more than wiped out by three developments.

The Civil Service Commission has jurisdiction over the pay scales for classified employees, and is expected any day now to order raises totaling several million dollars annually.

The Republican meeting failed to produce any significant change in the race for speaker, with Conlin and Rep. George Van Peursem of Zeeland, House Labor Committee chairman, apparently in the lead over Rep. Andrew Bolt (R-Grand Rapids), speaker pro tem.

Neither Conlin nor Van Peursem would estimate his strength. Both said they are attempting to obtain no vote commitments.

Green said the caucus heard from Van Peursem on labor legislation, from Rep. Adrian DeBoom of Owosso on rules matters and from Bolt on compulsory automobile insurance.

DeBoom opened the question whether under the rules house members should continue to have the privilege of demanding the vote on any issue of a reluctant legislator.

Green said the trend of thinking appeared to be that the rule had been abused and that there was sentiment for relaxing or abandoning it.

Republicans control the house 61 to 49 over Democrats, and have even stronger control in the senate where the margin is 23 to 11.

Green mentioned some high priority matters for legislation as he saw them.

He included mental health, talk of revising the formula for allocating road monies, parks and recreation, levels of state aid for schools and spending on higher education and junior colleges.

Green said he would support legislation to raise salaries of elected state officials, and said he didn't think "it was a good thing" when subordinates were paid higher than the elected officer.

However, he said he would not take the lead in this area.

Green said he was against a pay raise for legislators at the impending session but favored enactment of a "sound" pension plan.

The lawmakers now receive $4,000 a year, plus $1,000 for expenses. There is no provision for pensions.

Rule of Law or Sociology?

Dallas Integration Delay Challenges High Court

By ROBERT E. FORD

DALLAS (U) — They don't make judges like William Hawley Atwell any more.

And not many judges make legal decisions like Judge Atwell any more either. Not on school segregation questions, they don't, since the Supreme Court spoke.

The federal judge yesterday handed down a decision that probably set ears burning on the Supreme Court bench.

He said that in making the famous public school segregation ruling the justices didn't decide the case according to law. They decided it, he said, on the basis of what he called "modern psychological knowledge."

His thinking followed that of some Southern leaders who have contended all along that the Supreme Court, in declaring public school segregation unconstitutional based its decisions not on the law but on sociology.

In effect, he ruled that Dallas need not integrate its schools, at least not immediately. He said he did so "in order that the school board may have ample time, as it appears to be doing, to work out this problem."

Said the judge: "If there is such a thing as civil rights, there are civil wrongs. It would be unthinkable and unbearably wrong to make white students get out of Dallas schools so as to let in colored students."

Attorneys have long praised Judge Atwell for his strict insistence on the law.

Arrest Woman as Embezzler

Tells of Taking Cash From Colorado Firm in 10-Year Span

DENVER, Colo. (U) — Embezzlement of nearly $50,000 over six years from a loan company here was charged today to its woman cashier, Mrs. Cora Zidan, a mild-mannered matron of 50.

Mrs. Zidan, who authorities said signed a statement that she took the money, remarked afterward: "I don't know why I did it. I didn't want to do it, but I got started and couldn't quit."

She was employed by the Denver Discount Co. and Allied Credit Corp., a joint firm. She had worked for the company 10 years. Her salary was $240 a month.

After arraignment, she was released under $2,500 bond.

Ray Humphreys, an investigator for the district attorney's office, disclosed the following details:

Mrs. Zidan admitted taking $48,000 to $50,000 at the rate of $10,000 a year until last month, when a fellow employee questioned her records.

To inquiries concerning what she did with the money the cashier replied: "Mismanagement, I guess. I don't know where it went myself." She said she owes a $12,000 mortgage on her home others on two cars.

"Quite a bit of the money went toward caring for my husband, but not all of it," she said. "He's been in the hospital or sanitarium 11 times in the past three years."

Her husband John, 40, operates a west Denver gas station.

Mrs. Zidan told investigators she took money from the cash drawer and replaced it with checks received in the mail, as home mortgage payments. She said familiarity with the operations of auditors enabled her to adjust her accounts before the books were checked.

Milwaukee Braves Are 381 in Number

MILWAUKEE (U) — John E. Kalupa, assistant city comptroller who has earned somewhat of a reputation as an encyclopedia about Milwaukee, was stumped when asked:

"How many American Indians are there in the city?"

Kalupa did a little research and found out the answer is 381.

Northville Says 'Yes'

DETROIT (U) — Suburban Northville voters balloted overwhelmingly Tuesday in favor of a $3 million dollar loan to finance school improvements. The major issue in the bond proposal was the financing of a new $2½ million high school plant.

Utah's Watkins Drafts New Bill

Gore Also Would Give All Refugees Same Chance at Citizenship

WASHINGTON (INS) — Sen. Arthur V. Watkins (R-Utah) disclosed yesterday he is drafting a bill to give all Hungarian refugees arriving in this country a chance to become citizens.

Watkins, top Republican on the Senate immigration subcommittee, said he is being aided by administration officials in preparing the legislation.

He told an interviewer: "I hope to introduce the bill on the opening day of Congress. I have every reason to believe it will pass."

At the present time, there is a 21,500 ceiling on the number of Hungarian escapees from Communist tyranny to be admitted to this country—and Vice President Richard M. Nixon has indicated that this will be increased sharply.

Only 6,500 can come in under the Refugee Act of 1953, which gives them a chance to qualify for citizenship.

All the 15,000 others enter under the "parole" section of the Walter-McCarran Act, under which they cannot qualify to become naturalized Americans. Watkins said his legislation would correct this situation as well as revive parts of a bill killed in the House last July.

That bill, which passed the Senate in the closing days of Congress, would have relaxed immigration laws to permit 71,000 additional persons to enter this country.

Watkins indicated that President Eisenhower firmly supports his measure. Asked if he has conferred with the Chief Executive on the bill, he replied: "No, the President is far too busy for me to take up his time on this but I know his views and I am working with administration officials involved."

Democrats in Congress are expected to be sympathetic to any proposal for making life happier for the Hungarian escapees.

Sen. Albert Gore (D-Tenn) expressed a common viewpoint when he said in a separate interview: "I don't think there will be too much difficulty with any bill on this. The Hungarian refugees have demonstrated their devotion to the right of self-determination which we all hold dear."

Watkins said of the refugees coming in under the Walter-McCarran Act: "We can't send these people back. We should give them the chance to become citizens and they will have the chance to qualify for citizenship under the bill I am preparing."

He said the entire Hungarian refugee problem would have been easier had not the House killed the Senate-passed bill last July. He said he hoped for fast action to correct the situation.

Tree-Lot Santa Noisy

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (U) — When a costume-bedecked Santa Claus set up his Christmas tree stand replete with carols, bells and canes, neighbors objected. They found he was playing carols over a loud-speaker system while selling his trees. But police reported he could not be quieted down—the public address system was turned as low as it would go.

Find Bonds in Scrap

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill. (U) — Workmen at a metal firm discovered twenty-three $50 government bonds in the locked compartment of a battered old safe being prepared for shipment to a steel mill. The safe had arrived in a load of scrap metal. Police were trying to contact the owner of the bonds.

THE SMOKER — Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru of India was in a listening mood when he pulled out his cigarette holder and mingled with guests during a recent reception at the Indian

TOKYO (U) — Tanzan Ishibashi, 72-year-old new president of the Liberal - Democratic party, was elected prime minister of Japan today. He advocates continued cooperation with the United States and other Western countries, but more trade with Communist China.

Ishibashi succeeds Ichiro Hatoyama, who resigned with his Cabinet earlier today in preparation for the vote in the House of Representatives. The lower house of the Japanese Diet gave Ishibashi 291 votes to 130 for Mosaburo Suzuki, leader of the opposition Socialist party.

Hatoyama, 73, retired as Liberal-Democratic leader Dec. 14 because of bad health. He said his two years in office had achieved his two major goals: reopening diplomatic relations with Russia and the admission of Japan to the United Nations.

Twenty-six members of the Diet's 467-member lower house were absent when today's vote was taken. Among them was Foreign Minister Mamoru Shigemitsu, now in New York where he went to attend Japan's induction into the U.N. Tuesday.

Shigemitsu, a former prime minister, submitted his resignation along with the rest of Hatoyama's Cabinet. He is believed out of the running for the Foreign Ministry in the new government.

The makeup of the new government is not expected for a day or two.

Although the new Prime Minister wants to continue cooperation with Washington, he advocates some "adjustment" in relations with the United States. He also favors increased trade with Red China and Southeast Asia, easier

Publisher Promises to Pay Severance

NEW YORK (AP)—The Crowell-Collier Publishing Co. says it will work out a severance pay agreement with employees of the defunct Collier's and Woman's Home Companion.

By JANET ODELL,
Pontiac Press Home Editor

When one woman enthusiastically recommends another as a good cook, that is high praise. We asked around for the name of some one who does a good job of baking Christmas cookies. Mrs. Mary Hixson of the county Extension department told us about Mrs. Herman Trost.

Mrs. Trost has two children who delight in her cookies. They have already taken some to school for the Christmas tree there. At home, they enjoy their mother's cookie tree.

This tree is made of fourteen cookie stars put together in the form of a tree, with two round butter cookies between each layer. The stars are an oatmeal cookie. Each star is frosted with green and sprinkled with hundreds of tiny multi-colored candies. White frosting is piped around the edges to resemble snow.

Mrs. Trost is president of the local PTA and is an active member of the Troy Progressive Homemakers Extension Group. She is talented along lines other than cooking, having made all the plates used under the cookies. In addition to ceramics and metalwork, Mrs. Trost's hobbies include candle making.

Mrs. Trost graciously gave us two of her favorite holiday recipes for cookies.

REFRIGERATOR DATE WHIRLS
By Mrs. Herman Trost

1/2 cup butter or shortening
1/2 cup brown sugar
1/2 cup white sugar
1 egg
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
2 1/2 cups sifted flour

1/2 teaspoon baking soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon

Cream butter and sugars together until light and fluffy. Add egg and vanilla, beating well. Sift dry ingredients and blend in.

Divide dough into two parts and roll out 1/4-inch thick on a floured board. Spread date filling on dough and roll up like a jelly roll. Wrap in waxed paper and chill in refrigerator.

Slice in thin slices and bake on a greased cookie sheet for 8-10 minutes at 375 degrees.

Date Filling
1/4 cup chopped dates
1/2 cup water
1/2 cup sugar
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1/2 cup chopped nuts

Mix ingredients together in a sauce pan. Cook over low heat until thickened.

Christmas Almond Cookies
1/2 cup butter or shortening
1 cup sugar
1 teaspoon almond extract
2 cups sifted flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon soda
3 tablespoons milk
1 cup raw quick cooking oats

Cream butter and sugar, add almond extract and mix well. Sift dry ingredients and add. Add milk, then oatmeal. There is no egg in this recipe.

Chill about an hour. Roll out 1/4-inch thick on a floured board. Cut with floured cookie cutters. Bake on a greased cookie sheet 10-12 minutes at 375 degrees. Frost and decorate when cool.

Apple Bread Brings Sighs of Contentment

Favorite Apple Bread
2 cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon double-acting baking powder
1/2 teaspoon baking soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1/2 cup sugar
2 eggs
1 cup grated (medium-fine) unpeeled apple
1/2 cup broken pecans

Sift together the flour, baking powder, baking soda and salt. Cream butter and sugar. Beat eggs until thick and lemon-colored; beat into creamed mixture; stir in grated apple. Stir in dry ingredients just until combined; fold in pecans.

Bake in greased loaf pan (about 8 by 4 by 2 1/2 inches) in a moderate (350 degrees) oven 55 to 60 minutes or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean. Turn out on cake rack to cool. Store cold bread in tightly covered container overnight before slicing.

Compare Edible Meat With Price Per Pound

Smart shoppers will always think of both the price per pound and the amount of edible meat available from each cut of meat. Now that the pork supply is plentiful, consumers will find that shoulder cuts give a lot of pork per dollar.

The price per pound is usually lower than for other cuts and the amount of meat in relation to bone is high, says the Consumer Marketing Information Agent, Mrs. Josephine Lawryer.

Boston butt, fresh or smoked picnic shoulder, pork steaks, and smoked cottage butts come from the shoulder.

Turkey May Burst If It's Overstuffed

Be sure to use a light hand when you are adding a fluffy bread stuffing for your turkey because the dressing will expand during the roasting period.

If you pack stuffing in tightly, it will lose its fluffy texture and the bird may burst!

Test kitchens usually recommend that a cup of stuffing be allowed for every pound (ready-to-cook weight) of turkey.

A very large turkey will probably need no more stuffing than a medium sized bird because the difference in weight is due to the amount of meat on the carcass and not to the size of the bird's cavity.

Party Ham Is Glamorous Lima Beans Baked for Festive Holiday Buffet to Succulent Best

For family and guests alike, a holiday buffet supper can be festive and satisfying.

The meat dish is a boneless ham, stripped of its plastic wrapping, sliced and tied at the meat market and glazed with a honey spiced glaze.

Serve a colorful currant sauce in scored orange shells. Serve also a rainbow of edible color on skewers—kumquats, pineapple chunks, cherries and small seedless grapes.

A casserole of mashed sweet potatoes and hot rolls go in the oven with the precooked, fast-heating ham. Serve a cole slaw made of red and green cabbage.

Party Ham
A pound boneless, skinless cooked ham
1/2 cup honey
2 tablespoons kitchen bouquet
1/2 teaspoon ginger
Have thin transparent wrapper removed from ham. Have meat man slice ham in 1/4-inch slices and tie securely with string so that ham is in its original shape. Place ham on rack in a low pan and cover with aluminum foil.
Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) for 1 hour. Combine remaining ingredients and brush over surface of ham. Bake until glazed, about 15 minutes longer. Just before serving, run a long skewer through the center of the ham. Cut and remove string. Serve with currant sauce. Makes 30 portions.

Currant Sauce
1 cup red currant jelly

1/2 cup lemon juice
1/2 cup prepared mustard
1/2 cup powdered cloves
Combine ingredients and heat in a small saucepan. Stir to blend well. Serve with ham slices.

Frozen Dessert Also Delicious in Cold Weather

A frozen dessert is as refreshing in cold weather as it is when days are hot.

Pineapple Sherbet
1 can (8 ounces) crushed pineapple
1/2 teaspoon grated orange rind
1/2 cup lemon juice
1/2 cup sugar
1 cup milk
Turn pineapple (including syrup) into mixing bowl. Stir in grated orange rind and lemon juice.
Add sugar to milk and stir until dissolved; add to pineapple mixture; mix thoroughly. Turn into refrigerator tray. Freeze until mushy—1/2 to 3/4 hour.
Turn mixture into chilled bowl and whip with rotary beater (hand or electric) until fluffy. Turn back into tray and freeze until firm—about 2 hours with refrigerator control turned at lowest freezing point. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Make Apple Waffles

Ever-trying fresh apple waffles? To your usual waffle recipe add two cups diced red Delicious apples, 1 1/2 teaspoons cinnamon and 2 tablespoons sugar.

Beans like mother used to bake:

Yankee Baked Lima Beans
2 cups large dry limas
2 cups water
1/2 pound cubed salt pork
1/2 cup onion
1/2 cup finely diced onion
1/2 cup brown sugar
1/2 cup prepared mustard
1/2 cup Worcestershire sauce

Soak limas in water 5 to 6 hours or overnight. Bring slowly to boil. Add salt pork and boil gently until almost tender, 35 to 45 minutes. Taste and season with salt if needed. Put limas and 1 1/2 cups cooking liquid in casserole.

Mix remaining ingredients and stir into limas. Put part of the salt pork on top. Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven 1 1/2 hours. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Note: If unsoaked limas are used, stir them into 2 quarts rapidly boiling water; boil gently 1 1/2 hours.

Salad to Fit Season

Here's a colorful salad that makes the most of the seasonal crisp fresh red apples and cranberries. Combine 3 cups shredded cabbage, 1 cup chopped raw cranberries and 1 cup chopped red Delicious apple. Combine 1/2 cup mayonnaise, 1/4 cup sugar, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 2 teaspoons lemon juice in small bowl. Pour over apple-cranberry-cabbage mixture and toss lightly with two forks until well mixed. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

HOT SPICED SOUP — When unexpected visitors drop by, the nicest thing to do is feed them well, but not so elaborately they'll feel they're being a nuisance. Here's an idea: Hot Spiced Soup, which is simply steaming cream of celery soup, delicately flavored with tarragon, served in tall handsome mugs. With it doughnuts, possibly ones you've made yourself, to which you've added tart, colorful cranberries.

Mugs of Hot Spiced Soup Will Get Warm Reception

Unexpected company is always fun, but — well, what to serve them for a snack? Hostesses generally agree it should be something substantial — and different.

At the same time, it should be something that doesn't take a lot of time to prepare. An elaborate "board" is likely to make a visitor feel self-conscious and "too much trouble."

However, with soup at hand, you can prepare a "handsome" snack, replete to a "new beverage" idea, that takes only a few minutes to prepare. Serve steaming Cream of Celery soup in mugs. But not just plain soup as a beverage; rather, spice it too, with, for instance, nutmeg, tarragon, or onion powder (let your guests or family make their own choice of seasoning, if you wish).

For the hot spiced soup combine 2 cans of condensed cream of celery soup, 2 soup cans of water and 1 teaspoon dried tarragon. Heat and serve. Makes 5 to 6 servings in a cup, or approximately 4 in mugs.

Another time, serve cream of chicken flavored with dill, or black bean soup spiced with ground ginger.

While the soup is heating, open the doughnut crock. Plain doughnuts? They're always fun, but there are additions to the regular doughnut mixture worth noting.

For instance, next time you make doughnuts, try the following recipe, which includes fresh, tart, whole (and wholesome) cranberries:

Cranberry Doughnuts
shortening or salad oil for deep frying
1 cup fresh cranberries, chopped
1 cup sugar
2 tablespoons flour
2 cups sifted flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon baking soda
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon each cinnamon, mace and nutmeg
Dash cloves
2 eggs
2 tablespoons shortening, melted
1 cup buttermilk

Start heating fat to 370 degrees on a deep-fat frying thermometer. Thoroughly mix cranberries, sugar and flour, set aside. Sift ingredients together.

Beat eggs well. Beat in shortening and sugar. Continue beating until mixture is thick and creamy. Stir in buttermilk. Add flour mixture all at once and mix until just smooth. Stir in cranberry mixture. Refrigerate for 1/2 to 1 hour. Use a floured cloth or board and roll dough about 1/2" thick. Cut with a floured doughnut cutter. Fry doughnuts, two or three at a time, in the hot fat until an even golden brown, turning once with a long-handled fork. Drain on paper towels. Makes 1 1/2 to

Skillet Supper Easy, Delicious

We challenge you to find a quicker main dish with as good flavor as Ground Beef Skillet Supper.

What could be easier than browning ground beef, using onion soup mix to make the sauce, then adding noodles to cook in the sauce and absorb most of the liquid?

Ground Beef Skillet Supper
3 tablespoons fat or drippings
1/2 pound ground beef
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup chopped parsley
1 1/2-ounce package prepared onion soup mix
1 quart hot water
1 cup sliced carrots
2 ounces medium noodles

Melt fat in large skillet. Add ground beef and salt and brown lightly, stirring frequently. Mix in parsley, onion soup mix, water and carrots. Bring to boiling. Reduce heat and simmer 10 to 15 minutes, stirring occasionally. Add noodles, cover and cook until noodles are tender (5 to 8 minutes). Makes 4 servings.

Creeping cooked spinach? Add a little grated onion to pep up the flavor.

DIETERS BARBECUE SAUCE — Whether you're weight-cutting in preparation for holiday meals or whether you're just trying to hold that line, you'll like this Dieters Barbecue Sauce. Use it for basting hamburgers or steaks or roasts.

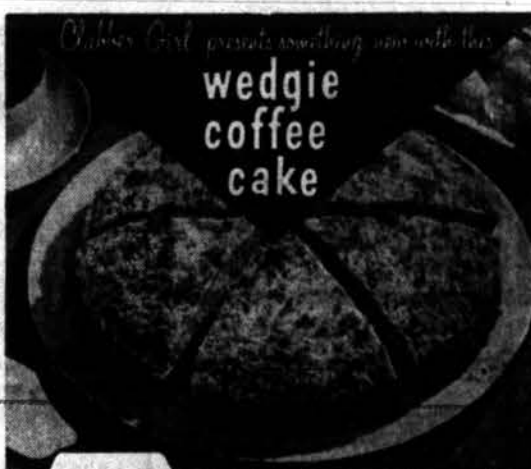

Barbecue Sauce Is Zesty, Has Low Calorie Count

For those who may be trying the cooking. Extra sauce may be stored in the refrigerator.

Low-Calorie Barbecue Sauce
1/2 cup chopped onion
1 cup tomato
1/2 cup water
1/2 cup lemon juice
2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce
2 tablespoons vinegar
1 1/2 teaspoons prepared mustard
1 teaspoon sugar solution or 1/2 tablet Dash of pepper and cayenne

Combine all ingredients in a small saucepan; simmer 20 minutes. Use to baste hamburgers or steaks during broiling. Makes 2 cups. 1/4 cup of sauce contains 43 calories; 0.9 grams protein; 0.2 grams fat; 10.7 grams carbohydrate. If made with sugar, 1/4 cup of sauce would contain 62 calories.

For oven-broiled hamburgers, baste meat with the sauce during

WEDGIE COFFEE CAKE

Yield: 1 9-inch round layer
1/4 cup finely packed brown sugar
2 1/2 cups all-purpose flour
1/2 cup shortening or margarine
2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
1/4 cup finely chopped nut meats
1 egg
1/4 cup milk
1/2 tsp. vanilla extract

Mix together thoroughly the brown sugar and the 2 tablespoons flour. Cut in 2 tablespoons butter or margarine until mixture is crumbly. Set aside for topping. Sift together 2 cups flour, Baking Powder, salt, sugar, and pumpkin pie spice. Cut in 1/2 cup butter or margarine until mixture is fine. Blend in nut meats. Beat together egg, milk, and vanilla and add to dry ingredients; blend only until dry ingredients are dampened. Turn batter into a greased and floured 9-inch round layer cake pan. Sprinkle with topping. Bake in a 400° F. (hot) oven about 30 minutes. Cut in wedges. Serve hot.

CLABBER GIRL

Here's Delicious Potato Scallop Made in Skillet

New way with potatoes.

Skillet Potato Scallop
2 cups thinly sliced potatoes (3 med. unpeeled)
1/2 cup minced onion
1 can (3 ounces) sliced broiled mushrooms
1/2 cup water
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 chicken bouillon cubes
2 tablespoons minced parsley

In 9-inch skillet, make a layer of 2 cups of the potatoes. Top with minced onions. Drain mushrooms and add; reserve mushroom liquid. Finish with layer of remaining potatoes.

Mix mushroom liquid, water and butter; bring to boil; add bouillon cubes and dissolve; pour over potatoes. Cover tightly and place over moderate heat. Bring to boil and cook over very low heat until potatoes are almost tender — about 20 minutes.

Remove cover and cook until liquid has almost evaporated — about 5 minutes. Sprinkle with parsley, cover, turn off heat and let stand a few minutes before serving. Makes 4 servings.

Post-Holiday Meals Call for Clever Cook

Post-holiday meals sometimes put a tax on cleverness. It's not easy to serve leftover food in an entirely different manner. Change this situation by serving your favorite curried turkey sauce on lemon-buttered noodles. Accompany this dish with such favorite companions to curries as chutney, sliced almonds and seived hard-boiled egg yolks. Complete the dinner with caraway rolls, tomato-aspic salads, chilled fruit cup and a beverage.

Let Candy Cane Spark Desserts

A holiday party for the kindergarten crowd, the bobby-soxers, or the older children home from school or college? Candy cane ice cream and cake will please them all for refreshments.

The same ice cream and cake combination will top off a guest dinner with distinction or prove a tempting substitute for heavier pies or puddings at the Christmas feast.

The best thing about this dessert, of course, is that it is so attractive to look at, so good to eat. Second best, it's easy to prepare.

Just place little peppermint candy canes—you can buy them two or three inches long at the dime store—around the edge of a frosted cake. Serve it with magically easy peppermint stick ice cream, made in your own refrigerator, with sweetened condensed milk. When you use sweetened condensed milk as a base you are sure of a velvety smooth ice cream with a real old-fashioned flavor and texture.

Peppermint Ice Cream
1/2 cup (1 1/2-ounce can) sweetened condensed milk
1 cup heavy cream
1 cup crushed peppermint stick candy
Set refrigerator control at cold point. Mix sweetened condensed milk and water. Chill. Whip cream to custard-like consistency. Fold into mixture. Freeze to a firm mush (about one hour). Turn into chilled bowl. Break up with fork and then beat with rotary egg beater until fluffy but not melted. Fold in crushed candy. Quickly return to tray. Cover tray with waxed paper. Return to freezing unit. Freeze until firm.

PEPPERMINT ICE CREAM — Candy cane cake for a Christmas party, with homemade candy cane ice cream, is as delicious as it is eye-appealing. Use sweetened condensed milk for an easy ice cream base, mixing crushed peppermint stick candy in for flavoring, and sprinkling it on cake and ice cream for garnish. Hook small candy canes around the edge of the cake.

Keep Pre-Stuffed Fowl Under Refrigeration

Wondering about the new pre-stuffed turkeys that are on the market now? According to Dr. Dena Cederquist, head of the foods and nutrition department at Michigan State University, they are safe up to the point they are sold and taken from the dealer.

Your handling of them determines their degree of safety so remember to keep them under refrigeration at all times to prevent growth of food poisoning bacteria.

Dr. Cederquist also advises to take regular turkeys out of the refrigerator only if they are frozen and need to be thawed.

Flavor Sweet Potatoes

Honey and lemon juice, plus grated lemon rind, give good flavor to mashed sweet potatoes.

A five-to-eight pound ready-to-cook weight turkey will need 3 1/2 to 4 hours roasting time if the oven temperature is low (325 degrees).

PLASTIC FOAM TREE — This easy-to-make Christmas decoration is made of styrofoam. It can be dismantled and stored flat after the holi-

Make Your Own Christmas Tree: It's Easy, Attractive and Fun, Too!

If you enjoy making your own holiday decorations, here's an idea for a "Make-It-Yourself" Christmas "tree" that the whole family can help create. This simple tree, cut from light-weight Styrofoam, was designed to serve as both an indoor and outdoor feature of your holiday decorating scheme.

Because this two-sided tree is made from an easy-to-cut polystyrene material which is available through most florists, it can be made in sections, dismantled and stored in a flat box after the holidays.

Also, when each side of the tree is decorated and lighted differently, it makes an ideal attraction for a large picture window, and a "space-saver" for small living rooms.

Indoors, the sparkling white tree provides a fairy-like effect when lighted with "Holiday Pink" C-7 1/2 Christmas bulbs. Tiny pleated foil reflectors and miniature ornaments complete the room-side decorations.

One of the most fascinating features of this lighted plastic foam tree is its colorful reflection in the window. After dark, the window serves as a mirror, making it possible to enjoy both the indoor and outdoor lighting effects at the same time.

To make a picture-window size tree 60 inches tall, you'll need eight pieces of two-inch Styrofoam, 36 inches long and 12 inches wide. This standard size is available in many florist and display shops.

As shown by the dotted lines on the pattern, six of these pieces are needed for tree and two for the circular base. Attach the pieces together with plastic foam bonding adhesive or long wire pins.

The pattern suggests a typical tree design, but you may do your own free hand, so long as you keep both sides uniform.

As indicated on the drawing, both the strings of Twinkle Lamps and Holiday Pink lights are inserted from the back of each completed tree panel. Wiring, which GE lighting specialists recommend be checked carefully, is concealed between the tree forms and held in place with insulated staples.

Use any small, sharp kitchen knife to cut the Styrofoam and insert the sockets so that they protrude just enough beyond the outside surface of the tree so that you can hold them while inserting the bulbs.

For a final touch of glamour, place the tree in front of a tin-set-framed window and spotlight from outside with a pink-color projector bulb.

Peppermint Stick Filling Packed Into Puff Shells

Try this for a Yuletide dessert treat.

Fill baked cream puff shells with cheery peppermint stick cream filling. Make the filling by whipping two cups whipping cream and gradually adding 1/4 cup powdered sugar, fold in 1/2 cup crushed peppermint stick candy. Spoon it into baked cream puff shells. This makes enough filling for 10 average size puffs.

Michigan State University home economists suggest you save last minute time by having the cream puffs made ahead of time and storing them in your freezer.

Vanilla pudding looks glamorous when it is topped with meringues garnished with blobs of red jelly and grated coconut.

Holiday Centerpiece Made With Apples

There is nothing quite so Christ-masy as big red juicy apples. Be generous with Michigan apples that are best for eating—Delicious, Northern Spy, McIntosh and Jonathan varieties.

For an appropriate centerpiece: Arrange apples, pears, oranges, tangerines and bananas on a wooden tray, using a pineapple in the center with sprigs of holly tucked around. For a real winter effect, frost the fruit by first dipping in slightly beaten egg whites and then rolling in granulated sugar. Chill in refrigerator.

A salad with a holiday look can be made with grapefruit sections and thin apple slices (with the peel left on). Arrange to resemble a poinsettia; center with a maraschino cherry.

Make a holiday wreath with a cranberry, orange and apple mixture jelled in a ring mold. Garnish with celery leaves and bright whole cranberries.

POPPY SEED CHRISTMAS BREADS — Blue poppy seed, that aromatic seed with the crispy texture and nutlike flavor, brings delicious flavor fillip and decorative appearance to your homemade holiday breads.

Poppy Seeds Bring Fillip to Fancy Holiday Breads

In central Europe, they bake a group of breads that give us some delightful ideas for the holiday season. They're breads that are flavored—in the dough or filling—with poppy seeds.

On the continent, poppy seeds are used as much for their nutlike flavor as for their texture and eye-catching appearance. While in this country we limit them pretty much to toppings for rolls and bread, abroad they use them throughout all sorts of breads, cakes and pastries.

Such out-of-oven treats as Poppy Seed Kringle, Poppy Seed Egg Bread with Poppy Seed Filling bring the holiday mood to the breakfast table.

They double in brass as fancy company for coffee when neighbors and friends drop in any time of day or evening. And, when packaged in gleaming transparent wrappings and highlighted with a sprig of holly or mistletoe, they are a Christmas gift that carries with it the "made-just-for-you" message.

The American Spice Trade Association suggests these ways in which you can use poppy seed both as toppings for breads and in the fillings of your holiday breads.

Poppy Seed Egg Bread
2 packages active dry yeast
1/2 cup warm water
1 1/2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup poppy seeds
1 egg (room temperature)
1/2 cup soft butter or margarine
1/2 cup cold water
1/2 cup poppy seeds

Sprinkle yeast over warm water and let stand a few minutes to dissolve. Blend the next three ingredients together and cool to lukewarm. Mix in half the flour, and the yeast mixture and beat until smooth. Add more flour with the 3 eggs and butter or margarine, adding a little at a time until dough cleans sides of bowl.

Turn out on lightly floured board and knead 3 to 5 minutes or until dough is smooth and little bubbles can be seen beneath the surface. Round up and place in greased bowl, turning dough over to grease top.

Cover with foil or dry cloth and let rise in a warm place about 45 minutes or until dough remains when finger is pressed deep into side of dough. Punch down dough and let rise 20 minutes longer. Punch down. Divide dough into two parts. Divide one half of dough into three pieces. Pat each third into a strip 3x12-inches.

Sprinkle 1 teaspoon poppy seeds down center of each strip. Roll up strip widthwise. Pinch dough into roll to seal. Smooth strips by rolling back and forth on the board. When all strips are ready, place side by side on board and beginning at the middle braid each end. Pinch ends.

Place braid in greased 9x5-4-inch loaf pan. Brush with remaining egg mixed with cold water and sprinkle with poppy seeds. Shape remaining dough. Let rise about 45 minutes or until dough comes to top of pan.

Bake in a preheated moderately hot oven (400 degrees) 25 to 35 minutes or until well browned. Cool on wire racks. Yield: two 9-inch braided loaves.

Poppy Seed Kringle
1/2 cup scalded milk
2 tablespoons sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup sifted all-purpose flour
1/2 cup shortening
1/2 cup warm water
1 egg, beaten
Poppy Seed Filling
Confectioner's sugar glaze
Candied fruits for decoration
Poppy seeds for decoration

Cool milk to lukewarm. Mix together next three ingredients. Cut in shortening with two knives or pastry blender until mixture resembles coarse meal. In large mixing bowl sprinkle yeast over warm water and stir until dissolved. Stir in milk.

Add egg; gradually stir in flour mixture. Blend well, about 2 minutes. Place in greased bowl, turning dough over to grease top. Cover with foil or clean cloth and let rise in warm place until almost doubled in bulk, about 2 hours. Punch down and roll out on lightly floured board to an 8x16-inch rectangle. Spread with poppy seed filling.

Starting at long end, roll up as for jelly roll. Place on a lightly greased cookie sheet. Turn ends in to form horseshoe or circle. Let rise until almost doubled in bulk, about 30 minutes. Bake in a preheated moderate (350 degrees) oven 25 minutes. Cool on wire rack. Frost with Confectioner's Sugar Glaze and decorate with candied fruits and poppy seeds.

Poppy Seed Filling
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup water
1/2 cup poppy seeds
1/2 teaspoon ground cinnamon
1/2 cup seedless raisins
2 tablespoons honey
Grated rind of 1 lemon

Cook sugar and water together over medium heat, stirring until all sugar is dissolved. Boil for 5 minutes. Add remaining ingredients. Bring to boil and boil 3 minutes longer, stirring constantly. Cool before using.

Confectioner's Sugar Glaze
Mix 1/2 cup sifted confectioner's sugar with 2 teaspoons water and 1/4 teaspoon pure vanilla extract. Spread thinly over top of kringle.

Peanut Butter Macaroons
2 egg whites
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon almond extract
2 cups popped rice cereal
1/2 cup peanut butter
Pinch of salt

Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry. Fold in sugar gradually and add flavoring. Fold in remaining ingredients. Drop by teaspoonfuls onto greased cookie sheet. Bake 20 minutes at 350 degrees. Cool. Freeze on the baking sheet and then package. Store in your freezer.

Pile Savory Stuffing Into Eggplant Shells

Hearty vegetable dish with seafood.

Stuffed Eggplant

Salt and pepper

Cut eggplant in half lengthwise and parboil until tender—about 5 minutes. Scoop out pulp, to within 1/2 inch of skin, and chop fine.

Cook onion in butter until soft and transparent. Drain mushrooms and mix mushroom liquid with egg; beat well. Place in a mixing bowl the onions, eggplant pulp, mushrooms, shrimp, parsley, cracker crumbs and egg mixture. Mix lightly until blended and add salt and pepper to taste.

Pile into eggplant shells. Bake in moderate (375 degrees) oven 30 minutes. Makes 4 servings.

Make Tasty Sandwiches With Vegetables, Fruit

A light but well balanced menu for Sunday night supper or luncheon is your favorite soup, served piping hot, and spicy sandwiches made with chopped fresh vegetables and crisp red Delicious apples.

For the sandwiches, combine 1/2 cups each shredded fresh carrots, shredded cabbage, 1-1/2 cup chopped raisins, and 1 cup chopped unpeeled Delicious apple. Add 1 1/2 tablespoons lemon juice and 2 tablespoons mayonnaise and blend together. Spread on lightly buttered rye bread, top with another slice—buttered bread. Makes 6 sandwiches.

Try Spicy Pancakes

A delightful, quick dessert to keep in mind for unexpected company is Spicy Pancakes. Make batter as usual with 2 cups blisquick, 1 egg and 1 1/2 cups milk. Beat with rotary beater until well blended. Add 1 tsp. cinnamon, 1/2 tsp. each allspice, cloves, and nutmeg. Form pancakes on heated griddle; turn when bubbles appear. Serve with cherry sauce flavored with a bit of cinnamon and lemon juice.

There's Still Time Left to Make Holiday Bread

Pontiac Press Home Editor

There is still time to make some special bread for Christmas. I've been at it for weeks (storing the finished loaves in the freezer); but I intend to make more this week-end.

I wish women wouldn't be afraid of using yeast. There is nothing mysterious about it; it is easy to use; and the resulting breads are worth any trouble you take. Follow directions on the package for dissolving the yeast, and you should be all right.

Yeast, you know, is a plant. It has to have certain conditions of temperature, food and moisture for its growth. It feeds upon sugar and starch. It grows best in a temperature of from 70-90 degrees (room temperature). This growth causes fermentation and the development of carbonic acid gas which causes the dough to rise. Baking the bread kills the yeast and stops further fermentation.

I like dry packaged yeast because it keeps perfectly without refrigeration. As a rule I use two packages for any recipe in order to speed the rising process. It is not too much yeast that causes a yeasty taste in breads, but having too hot a temperature when rising. School's out now; let's talk about specific recipes.

If starting from scratch with a yeast mixture scares you, why not use one of the hot roll mixes and make a traditional Norwegian holiday bread, Julekake?

Julekake looks like a fat pin-cushion, all glazed and golden brown. Inside the fluffy white bread is dotted with bright bits of candied fruit and plump raisins. The Norwegians serve it for breakfast Christmas morning and throughout the holidays whenever friends drop in for coffee.

NORWEGIAN HOLIDAY BREAD (Julekake)

1 package hot roll mix
1/2 cup raisins
1/2 cup candied citron or candied fruit
1 egg, slightly beaten

Soften yeast from hot roll mix in water* and add honey. Blend in the candied fruit, raisins and fruit with the dry mix; beat well. Let rise, covered, in warm place (85 degrees to 90 degrees F.) until doubled in size; 30 to 60 minutes.

Toss or knead lightly on floured board until dough is coated with flour and not sticky. Divide in half. Shape into two round loaves and place on greased baking sheet. Cover and let stand for 15 minutes.

Cut one inch deep into each loaf, about one inch up from baking sheet. Continue cutting all around base of each loaf to make one complete circle. Punch down the center of each loaf with hand. (This gives Julekake its typical shape.) Brush with slightly beaten egg. Cover.

Let rise until light and doubled in size, 30 to 60 minutes. Bake at 350 degrees 30 to 35 minutes. Makes two loaves.

*For a richer dough, decrease amount of water to 1/4 cup; dissolve yeast and blend in 1 egg. Add remaining ingredients and hot roll mix as directed above.

Christmas breakfast should be something special to suit the magic mood of the day. If you make Sugar Plum Buns on Monday, you can heat them in your oven or bun warmer on Christmas morning. By the way, you can also heat rolls of any kind in the top part of your double boiler. How about these buns for a Christmas Eve snack as well as for breakfast the next day?

SUGAR PLUM BUNS

1 package or 1 cake compressed or dry yeast

1/2 cup lukewarm water
1/2 cup scalded milk
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup shortening
2 eggs, slightly beaten
1 cup rolled oats (quick or old-fashioned, uncooked)

Filling
1/2 cup plum jam
1/2 cup raisins

Glass
1 1/2 cups sifted confectioners' sugar
2 tablespoons milk
1 tablespoon honey

Soften yeast in lukewarm water. (Use warm water for dry yeast.) Pour scalded milk over sugar, salt and shortening; stir occasionally until shortening melts. Cool to lukewarm. Stir in 1 cup flour and beaten eggs. Add softened yeast and oats. Stir in enough flour to make a soft dough. Turn out on lightly floured board or canvas and knead until satiny, about 10 minutes.

Roll dough into ball; place in greased bowl and brush lightly with melted shortening. Cover and let rise in a warm place until double in size, about 1 hour. Punch dough down. Turn out on lightly floured board or canvas. Cover and let rest 10 minutes.

Roll dough very thin (about 1/16-inch thickness). Cut circles of dough with a floured 3-inch cookie cutter. Place a teaspoon of filling (make by combining jam and raisins) in center of each circle; gather edges together and pinch. Place on greased cookie sheets (sealed side down). Cover and let rise in warm place until double in size, about 20 minutes.

Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees F.) 12 to 15 minutes or until golden brown. Brush tops of warm buns with honey glaze (made by combining all glaze ingredients). This last Christmas bread is a delicious spicy, egg-rich dough filled with raisins. Follow directions exactly, and you'll have a handsome Bohemian Christmas Twist.

Bohemian Christmas Twist

2 packages yeast, compressed or dry
1/2 cup water (lukewarm for compressed yeast, warm for dry)
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup salt
1/2 cup shortening
2 cups sifted enriched flour (about)
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
1 teaspoon mace
2 eggs, or 4 egg yolks
1/2 cup raisins
1/2 cup nuts
Confectioners' sugar icing
1/2 cup chopped nuts

Soften yeast in water. Scald milk. Add sugar, salt and shortening. Cool to lukewarm. Add flour to make a thick batter. Mix well. Add softened yeast, lemon rind, mace and eggs. Beat well. Add raisins and enough more flour to make a soft dough.

Turn out on lightly floured board and knead until smooth and satiny. Place in greased bowl. Cover and let rise in warm place until doubled (about 1 1/2 hours). When light, punch down. Let rest 10 minutes.

Divide dough into 4 large portions and 5 smaller ones. Roll each portion into a long roll (about 18 inches long). Braid the 4 larger rolls loosely and place on greased baking sheet. Braid 3 of the smaller portions and place on top of large braid. Twist last 2 portions together and place on top. Cover and let rise in warm place until doubled (about 1 hour). Brush with milk and bake in moderately hot oven (375 degrees F.) 45 minutes. When cool, brush with confectioners' sugar icing and sprinkle with chopped nuts. Makes 1 loaf or twist (12 inches long).

Spiced Oranges
Make Ham Better
Delightful fruit accompaniment for meat.

Boneless Smoked Shoulder Butt
Simmer butt as suggested in wrapper directions, but add 1 teaspoon whole cloves, 2 small bay leaves, 6 peppercorns and some celery leaves to the water.

Drain butt when cooked through and place on oven platter or in shallow baking dish; spread with honey and bake in hot (400 degrees) oven 15 to 20 minutes.

Spiced Oranges

4 oranges
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup elder vinegar
1/2 cup whole cloves
3 pieces stick cinnamon

Put whole unpeeled oranges in saucepan; add 1 quart water. Bring to a boil; boil 20 minutes. Drain and cut into eighths. Mix sugar, 1/4 cups water, vinegar, cloves and cinnamon; stir over low heat until sugar is dissolved.

Bring to a boil; add orange wedges and simmer about 20 minutes. Cool, cover tightly, and store in refrigerator for about 1 week before using.

Savory Stuffing for Poultry
Adds New Interest to Meal

Enjoyment of the stuffing is half the fun of eating roasted poultry. Here is justification for your eagerness.

According to the number to be served, gently and lightly fill the cavities of three or four fryers (one bird will serve two or three) with special Sausage-Apple-Rice Stuffing. Fit the little birds into a pan and roast according to your favorite method.

Using the "Plentiful Foods" list (printed in the food section of The Pontiac Press) make up a menu to go with this delectable entree.

A good starter might be halves of grapefruit flavored with strained honey and butter, broiled. Decorate with a bright red cherry and a sprig of any available edible green.

Serve Roasted Fryers, garnished with purple plums (canned) and parsley, with gilet gravy on the side. Fix creamed onions circled with buttered green peas (frozen or canned), candied sweet potatoes (use the frozen and place in oven with fryers at the proper time), and a server of celery, assorted olives and carrot sticks.

For dessert, serve orange sherbet topped with cranberries and whipped cream. Call it Orange-Cranberry Sundae.

Merry Christmas!!

HOLIDAY CITRUS PUDDING — This tangy dessert with its sparkling sauce will be the perfect finish to your holiday dinner. Instant vanilla pudding is dressed up with dates, nuts and oranges. Gelatin thickens fruit juices for an interesting sauce.

Pour a Sparkling Sauce on Tangy Citrus Pudding

Sure as Santa Claus is coming, a gal's time seems to shrink in proportion. This pudding is a real holiday timesaver.

Although it's made with instant pudding mix, it is full of holiday spirit. Stir in the extras, dates and nuts and rest of oranges. Pretty it up with a few whole dates and nuts and a slice of lemon in the gayest dish you have.

The sauce is made of low-calorie fresh citrus fruit juices and silvered bits of peel which lends a sharp, tangy flavor to contrast with the pudding. It's thickened with a little gelatin to give it just the right consistency.

Try it on other things too. It will keep for several weeks in the refrigerator and can be used to spruce up plain cakes or ice-cream.

Holiday Citrus Pudding

1 package instant vanilla pudding
1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup chopped nuts
1/2 cup chopped dates or raisins
1 tablespoon grated orange peel
Combine instant vanilla pudding and milk according to directions on package. Stir in nuts, dates or raisins and orange peel. Turn into a 1-quart size bowl and chill until firm. Serve with chilled Orange Sparkle Sauce. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Orange Sparkle Sauce

Peel from 2 oranges (1/2 cup)
2 teaspoons gelatin
1/2 cup orange juice
1/2 cup water
1/2 cup sugar
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
Remove albedo (the white) from orange peel and slice into very thin strips; cover with water and boil 5 minutes; drain. Soften gelatin in orange juice. Combine water with sugar in small saucepan, heat to boiling and boil 5 minutes. Blend with gelatin and orange juice; stir in orange strips, lemon juice and vanilla. Chill to thicken.

Creamy Fudge
Fine for Gifts

For gifts, turn batches of the fudge into Christmas-tree cake pans and decorate with candy. Then wrap the Christmas tree gudge in transparent film.

Or put the fudge in a box and wrap it in gift paper of Christmas tree design; or wrap the box with silver paper and make a Christmas tree design on the paper, using green star seals superimposed on round white seals.

Christmas Tree Fudge

2 1/2 cups sugar
1/2 cup undiluted evaporated milk
1/2 cup light corn syrup
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 packages (8 ounces each) semi-sweet chocolate pieces
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup chopped nuts
Put sugar, undiluted evaporated milk, corn syrup and butter in saucepan. Bring to a boil, stirring constantly. Cook over moderate heat for 5 minutes, stirring constantly.

Remove from heat. Add semi-sweet chocolate and vanilla; stir until smooth. Stir in nuts.

Turn into Christmas-tree cake pan or square cake pan (8 by 8 by 2 inches). Chill until firm.

Press decorations into fudge using thin strips of gum drops, candy corn, miniature and large marshmallows, jelly beans, gum drop halves. Or trim with butter frosting put through pastry tube and stud with red cinnamon candies. Makes 2 1/4 pounds.

MEATS—Although shoppers will find most turkeys a few cents per pound higher than at Thanksgiving, there are sizes to fit any family at reasonable costs. Large 20 to 24 pound turkeys average about 39 to 43 cents per pound, while the 10 to 14 pound hens are about 45 to 49 cents per pound.

If ham is the holiday preference, shoppers will find prices of smoked ham generally ranging between 49 to 59 cents a pound, depending upon whether a portion, half, or whole ham is chosen. Large 9 1/2 to 11 pound canned hams are specially priced at about 70 cents a pound in many stores.

Why not consult the grocer when buying ham? Whether it is country cured, partially cooked, or fully cooked, affect the time needed to prepare it. Read any labels found on the ham, then follow the suggestions for cooking.

To ease the budget and to get variation into next week's meals, beef blade chuck for a steaming pot roast is a thrifty selection. Ground beef is one of the best buys not only because it is so economical, but because it can be used in so many meat dishes. Round steak for swissing or sirloin for broiling will cost less this week than next. A slight raise in cost is expected after the holiday.

VEGETABLES — Fresh cabbage adds a crisp green touch. A cabbage salad combining thinly

Make Yule Goodies Now and Store in Home Freezer

On the night before Christmas...even in 1936...children are "tucked in their beds... while visions of sugar plums dance through their heads."

Children haven't changed appreciably since Clement Moore wrote his famous poem, "The Visit of St. Nick," but baking and storing methods have undergone vast revision.

Now the modern food freezer has taken the place of the old fashioned cookie jar.

No longer need the modern housewife spend the busy days before the holidays on a treadmill between oven and work table. Instead, advises Mrs. Sara E. Walls, director of home economics for a freezer company, she can do her Christmas baking months in advance and store the goodies in the family's home food freezer until the big day comes around.

It's easy, and good freezer management, to use large-quantity cookie recipes, Mrs. Walls says. She recommends making several kinds at one baking so that the freezer has a plentiful supply to meet all sorts of emergencies.

Most cookies freeze best when they are already baked. This means they're always ready to eat and as fresh as on baking day. As seasonal as turkey and cranberry sauce are mince-meat drop cookies. Here's how they're made:

1/2 cup shortening
1/2 cup sugar
2 eggs
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon soda
2 cups flour
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon cloves
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
1 cup mince-meat
1/2 cup sour milk
Cream shortening and sugar. Add eggs and beat well. Mix and sift flour with salt, soda and spices. Add alternately with sour milk. Add mince-meat. Drop by spoonfuls on greased cookie sheet. Bake at 350 degrees for about 12 minutes. Cool. Freeze, package and store in freezer.

Another recipe that has the Christmas ring is the Gumdrops. Goody.

2 cups brown sugar
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup cold water
1/2 cup flour
1/2 cup shortening
1/2 cup cream cheese, chopped
1 cup gumdrops, cut in small pieces (no licorice ones, please)

Beat brown sugar, eggs and water very thoroughly. Then fold in, slowly, the other ingredients. Mix thoroughly again and drop by spoonfuls on a greased cookie sheet. Bake 25 minutes at 350 degrees. Cool. Freeze on cookie sheet, package and store in freezer.

To put a new kind of ginger in the holiday menu, Mrs. Walls recommends this refrigerator cookie which can be freezer-stored uncooked against the day the home-baker would like to have home-baked cookies on a few minutes' notice.

Refrigerator Ginger Cookies

1 cup shortening
1 cup sugar
1 cup molasses
1 egg
3/4 cups flour
1/2 teaspoon soda
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 tablespoon ginger

Cream together thoroughly the shortening, sugar and molasses. Add egg and mix well. Sift flour with soda, baking powder and ginger; add to first mixture. Chill. Form into rolls, wrap in foil. (Or press into empty juice cans, shape lid from foil.) Slice frozen cookie dough 1/4" thick and bake 10-12 minutes at 400 degrees.

It's hard to find more tempting morsels than these filled three-in-one cookies that are so easy to make and freeze.

Filled 3-in-1 Cookies

1 cup shortening
1 cup sugar
4 eggs
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 teaspoon salt
2 cups flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 cup milk
1 square baking chocolate
1/2 cup shredded coconut
Pitted dates, walnut or pecan halves, candied cherries

Cream shortening and sugar. Add eggs and vanilla; beat until fluffy. Sift flour with baking powder and salt. Add flour to creamed mixture alternately with milk. Divide batter into three equal parts. To one part add melted chocolate; to another part add shredded coconut; leave third part plain.

Drop some dates, nuts and cherries into each batter and coat each thoroughly. Place on lightly greased baking sheet and bake 12-15 minutes at 375 degrees. Approximately 100 cookies to freeze, package and store in the freezer.

Offer Cranapple Ale With Curry, Chili

This cool drink tastes good after a hot chili or curry.

Cranapple Ale

1 quart chilled apple juice
2 cups chilled cranberry juice
2 cups chilled gingerale
Mix together the apple juice, cranberry juice and ginger ale. Pour over ice cubes in tall glasses. Makes 8 servings.

A dash of mustard is good to add to a cream sauce that is to be used with fish.

SKILLET CLUB FOR MEN

By Frank Kohler

Eugene Fodor of Paris, France, edits a series of excellent "Guides to Europe." He is just publishing a "Women's Guide," in which there are some highly interesting recipes, with meals from every European country. Mr. Fodor has sent these recipes on to us as his membership fee in the International Skillet Club, and we are grateful for the opportunity to share these treasures with you from time to time. The first is an English Christmas dinner at the Marine Court Hotel, Lee-on-Solent, Hampshire.

The menu begins with a dry sherry or Martini, followed by a clear soup, then crimped cod with shrimp sauce, then roast turkey with sausage stuffing, followed by a tossed green salad. After that, "gooseberry fool," and bringing up the rear, assorted cheeses, coffee and brandy. All of the following recipes serve 6.

CRIMPED COD WITH SHRIMP SAUCE. For this, you soak 1½ pounds cod in 1 quart water with 1 teaspoon salt and 1 teaspoon vinegar, for about 6 hours in the refrigerator. Drain it, then simmer about 10 minutes in a bouillon made with 2 cups water; 1 cup white wine; 1 onion, sliced; 1 bay leaf, 3 peppercorns; and 1 teaspoon salt.

Place cod on a very hot platter and serve garnished with parsley and covered with the following shrimp sauce. If you use dried salt cod, freshen as directed on the package, then proceed as above.

Cut up cooked or canned shrimp fine, to make 1 cupful. Melt ¼ cup butter, and stir into it ½ teaspoon anchovy paste. Stir in 1 teaspoon lemon juice, and combine with the shrimp. This is served very hot.

ROAST TURKEY WITH SAUSAGE STUFFING. Wash giblets and neck of a 10-pound turkey and cook until tender in 2 cups boiling water, with 1 bay leaf; 1 small stalk celery; and ½ teaspoon salt. Chop the giblets coarsely and save them, along with the liquid, for gravy.

Tear up white bread slices into sizable crumbs to make 6 cups. Mix the crumbs with 2 tablespoons minced parsley; 5 tablespoons melted butter; 3 tablespoons chopped onion; 1 teaspoon pepper; 1 teaspoon salt; 1 pound sausage meat; and 1 cup chopped celery. Moisten with a little of the giblet stock, and mix well.

Rub your turkey with salt and ½ cup butter that has been creamed with 2 tablespoons of flour stuff and truss the bird securely. Place bird breast side down on a rack over a dripping pan, add a little water so the drippings won't burn, and cook in a preheated oven at 350 degrees for 30 minutes.

Lower oven heat to 325 degrees and continue roasting for about 3 hours. We like to turn the bird right side up for the last 20 minutes or so, to brown the breast well. Remove turkey to a hot platter.

Stir 2 tablespoons of flour into the drippings, then add giblet stock slowly, stirring the while, and if necessary add a little hot water to bring the gravy to the desired consistency, and check the seasoning. Serve gravy alongside the turkey.

To be quite authentic, you should surround the bird with a string of well-groomed pork sausage links. In Old England, says Mr. Fodor, this was called an "Alderman In Chains."

GOOSEBERRY FOOL is exceedingly simple. If you haven't fresh gooseberries at hand, use canned ones. Cook 1 quart of gooseberries until tender in a syrup made of ½ cup sugar and 1 cup water. Put them through a sieve and let cool. Fold the gooseberries into 2 cups of rich cream, stiffly whipped. Serve chilled, in sherbet glasses.

Cheese completes this meal—we did it with Stilton, aged Cheddar and blue, served on a tray with plain waters. Black coffee, and Mr. Fodor also calls for brandy. We like a spot of tawny port, though. Cheerio! Pip! Pip! And a Merry Christmas to you all.

Oysteretti New Casserole Dish

Oyster fans will cheer for Oysteretti. Schedule this elegant-tasting casserole during the happy holiday weeks ahead. It's sure to win praise and requests for repeat performances.

Oysteretti
1 pint oysters and liquid
4 ounces spaghetti (or vermicelli)
¼ cup butter or margarine
¼ cup enriched flour
1 teaspoon paprika
½ teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper
Mix plus oyster liquid to make 1½ cups liquid
2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce
Buttered bread crumbs
Drain oysters and save liquid. Add 2 teaspoons salt and spaghetti to 3 cups boiling water. Boil rapidly, stirring constantly, for 2 minutes. Cover, remove from heat and let stand 10 minutes.

Meanwhile, melt butter or margarine in saucepan. Stir in flour, paprika, salt and pepper. Add liquid gradually and cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Blend in Worcestershire sauce.
Rinse spaghetti with warm water and drain well. Turn into greased 1½-quart casserole. Add oysters to sauce and pour over spaghetti. Mix thoroughly. Top with bread crumbs and bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) about 20 minutes. Makes 4 servings.

Simple Cheese Tray

For a simple cheese tray, use one or two units of baby Gouda cheese, one red-coated baby loaf of Edam cheese, a package of full-flavored Port Salut. Cut the cheese in wedges, cubes, fingers and triangles and spear them with party picks. Surround the cheese with whatever fresh fruit is in season and an assortment of crackers.

Navy's Second Atomic-Sub Headaches King-Size

GROTON, Conn. (NEA) — They're having trouble with the Sea Wolf, which was supposed to be America's second atomic sub. There is now serious doubt that it will ever be as successful as the Nautilus, the first atomic sub, which is performing beyond expectations.

It's possible that the sodium-type atomic reactor will have to be yanked from the Sea Wolf and replaced by the hot-water type of the Nautilus, if A-sub No. 2 is to be made an effective weapon.

dition to the cost of the Sea Wolf, already estimated to be $2,700,000 with its ailing power plant. The delay could run into years. It's still possible that the Sea Wolf's problems can be licked, however. Scientists and Navy experts are working on it frantically as it is tied to its dock here, getting finishing touches on its interior.

But at best the troubles will cause long delays before it can be given a sea trial. It is now 38 months since its keel was laid. The Nautilus made its first highly successful sea trial 30 months after its keel was laid by former President Truman on June 14, 1955.

Restrictions on revealing details of the design of the Sea Wolf's sodium reactor, and its extreme complexity, prevent a detailed technical explanation of the trouble. But it stems from chemical reactions caused by the use of sodium as a means of transferring the heat of the reactor into usable power.

In the Nautilus plain water transfers its atomic heat to a steam turbine. In the Sea Wolf sodium, a liquid metal, is supposed to do this and theoretically far more efficiently than water. That's why the sodium reactor was tried.

CHEMICAL REACTION
But the sodium creates chemical reactions in the system which have not yet been controlled. These reactions can result in cracking steam pipes, among other things.

No one has been injured because of this. But it's reliably reported that some Navy personnel received minor overdoses of radiation during an earlier phase of dockside testing. It was trouble not connected with the reactor.

The overdose was so minor it only required the men to be transferred to other jobs temporarily. It is reported. But it was just another Sea Wolf headache.

On Sept. 6, 1956, the Navy hinted at the big trouble in a release saying "leaks have developed in the steam superheating equipment."

It also stated:
"This equipment which is not a part of the reactor proper is installed for the purpose of obtaining higher steam efficiency. The work necessary to correct this situation will extend for several weeks. The difficulty with the superheating equipment did not involve any injury to personnel or other material damage nor did it involve any nuclear radiation. So far as can be determined at the present time all materials involved were found to be in accordance with specifications."

Budapest 'Bug' Fears - Watches - Wonders

(This is a letter written by INS correspondent Katharine Clark in her sheltered Budapest hotel room while Russian tanks entered a dawn-to-dusk curfew of the shattered city.)

By KATHARINE CLARK

BUDAPEST (INS) — I stop my car behind a tank. I can't get around.

It's all buttoned up but suddenly the turret swings round and round. Someone inside is watching me and watching the people he was sent to alarm. They are in front—I am behind—so the turret swings around.

I don't dare reach for a cigarette. I would have to open my purse. I don't want to excite that thing which is turning the turret. I can't be sure how much he can see—enough to know I won't harm him, or only my gesture of reaching?

How can I know what he has been told to do at that particular moment? These people around me also do not think in the big terms—the "occupation by brute force," the "iron fist to maintain a puppet." It's the little things they have each day.

She comes by with a string bag over her shoulder. The bag holds a big, strange loaf of bread. It bounces about kidney height as she walks along. She is only en route from the long bread line to her house. Someone is coming to see her, but she stops where she is to watch.

They all stop to watch—watch another person like themselves be chased by the bugs. What does she think? "barbaric invaders?" "conquerors?" stuff like that? I don't think so.

She studies with care what each actor before her is doing. Is he Hungarian? Russian? or foreign? Does the officer pull his pistol? Does the AVH shove her? If so, what does her tongue say? "Shame, you Hungarian, to touch me, to work for them."

Then she goes home and she tells her friends "this happened to me. This is what I saw." And then she leans forward: "But I heard—the people were saying—there are agitators here, men with guns under their coats, people who shoot so you think it is someone else."

Her view of the world is the view of her own world, her own 24 hours, her long walk, her tired feet, the delay about her friend's arrival, her mother being late. Her private war is to keep going each day, to push through the crowds, to speak her own mind, think her own thoughts.

But she has no facts other than her own experience. There is no paper she trusts, no report she can be sure of—no experience except her own.

Maybe all Budapest knows some things, but they are so isolated! That it rained today. That Hammarhjold will not come. That Nagy is gone, that you can't buy tea, and onions are scarce. But this is a people not fighting a war, not waging revolt but wiggling and wiggling. They became the bugs.

A heel stamps down and some are crushed—others wiggle out and run off. But they remember and have remembered the feel and the smell of the boot. All they want is for it to go away.

Some talk democracy. Some talk socialism—but they have no practice in these things. There is no writ of habeas corpus. And no one knows what I am talking about.

Only a few have heard there should be no arrests without a receipt—without knowing where the body goes and who has it and why. They hate the arrests and fear the arrests and demand they should stop. But the history of the age-long struggle of man to reach that special freedom is not known to most. And the ones that have heard of it are pretty mixed up.

Even with the Russians here the people are pretty free now. They know that the man next door is just as worried, annoyed and harassed as they are. He's not the agent they thought he was—at least, not in most cases.

They don't just listen to voice of America now. They listen in public! I don't think they want to listen to it very much but they want to sit with their fellow bugs and do it together.

It is the beginning of what Morris Ernst called the "confusion of democracy." They want the right to do it even if they don't really want to do it. The first stirrings, the first birthings of democracy.

And it will be a long birth. Like the elephant. How many years for gestation and birth? And what of the baby? Will it really come, or die in the womb, or die half-born, or in the burning? Or will it live—and if so, on what?

Sailors Donate Christmas Fund to Hungarians

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — Christmas presents have been passed up by the men on the carrier Coral Sea, now serving with the U.S. 6th Fleet in the Mediterranean, fleet headquarters said yesterday.

All hands aboard the big carrier usually vote themselves a gift from the ship's recreation fund. The gifts average about $3 each.

This year the men signed a petition asking their skipper, Capt. J. A. Jaap, to send the money usually spent on gifts to the President's Relief for Hungary Fund.

Capt. Jaap messaged that a check for $7,500 will be in the mail tomorrow.

Jaap said he would like to send the bulky petition along with the check, but it seemed impractical.

109 N. SAGINAW—OPPOSITE WKC

From the Press Box

BY BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Without big Bill Russell and K. C. Jones, the San Francisco Dons, national champions last year, are nothing.

And as is often the case in the weekly football and basketball polls, there are teams sitting among the top ten in the nation because of past years' reputations.

San Francisco is a good example. Because they beat Chico State, California, Loyola, San Francisco State and Seattle, the Dons were given the number two rating in the country for the past two weeks.

This is the fallacy of the ratings. It seems it's not who you play but how many you win.

OLYMPIANS LOOKED GREAT

During our recent trip to Chicago for "that" football game last weekend, we had the opportunity to watch the U. S. Olympic team play San Francisco as part of a doubleheader in Chicago Stadium.

The Olympic team was a smooth working outfit, called by some as the best amateur basketball team ever assembled.

No one expected San Francisco to beat the Olympians, but the Dons didn't look like a top-ranked college team. It was the poorest shooting quint we've seen this year.

The Olympians won, 83-52, with ease from the opening tipoff, and naturally it was Bill Russell who did all the show-boating against his former teammates. But the crowd loved it.

ONLY AN EXHIBITION

The loss to the Olympians however was only an exhibition and it preserved San Francisco's 60-game winning streak, that is, for one day, until Illinois broke it officially with a convincing 62-33 victory.

So the longest streak in basketball history has ended at 60.

It will go down in history as a "major college" record. Oddly, according to the NCAB, National Collegiate Athletic Bureau, a school is considered of "major college" status if it plays 50 per cent of its games against other "major colleges."

Amid San Francisco's 60-game streak, 36 games were played against Chico State, San Diego State, San Francisco State, West Texas State, Loyola of California, Santa Clara, Pepperdine, Fresno State, San Jose State, and St. Marys.

LOOK AT BUTLER'S SCHEDULE

Looking at basketball schedules, just glance at the "murderers row" list little Butler University of Indiana plays. The Bulldogs play Ohio State, Wisconsin, Illinois, Indiana, Michigan State, Purdue, UCLA, Denver, and Notre Dame in successive games this year.

They may not win 60 in a row, but no one can accuse the Bulldogs of padding their schedule.

Evashevski Remembers Close Game With OSC

LOS ANGELES (U)—The Big Ten holds a 9-to-1 edge over the Pacific Coast Conference since their Rose Bowl pact, was signed, but Coach Forest Evashevski of Iowa says he isn't underestimating Oregon State College.

OSC is the Hawkeyes' opponent in Pasadena Jan. 1. Earlier in the season Iowa beat the Beavers at Iowa City, 14-13, and had to come from behind to do it.

"Their halfback, Paul Lowe, ran farther against us than any other back, and Joe Francis' passes to Earnel Durden hurt us plenty," Evashevski said. "We expect plenty of opposition. Year in and out, PCC teams are just as good as those in the Big Ten, although I would say that our conference probably has better balance."

"Usually, however, UCLA, Southern California, Stanford and occasionally a northwest team can battle any Big Ten team on even terms."

The Iowa coach ventured the opinion after driving his squad through a workout at East Los Angeles Junior College stadium.

The only tickets to the Rose Bowl game for the general public were placed on sale yesterday in Pasadena. There were 3,500 of them and they were gone in about 75 minutes, with many persons turned away.

Russell Signs With Celtics

BOSTON (U)—All-America Bill Russell has signed a one-year contract for a reported $17,000 with the Boston Celtics, but the incomparable Bob Cousy still reigns as the highest-paid player on the National Basketball Assn. club.

Celtics owner Walter Brown declined to disclose the terms of Russell's contract after signing ceremonies yesterday, but said flatly the former University of San Francisco and Olympic star will not receive as much as Cousy.

"You don't think I'd give anybody as much as I'm giving Cousy, do you?" Brown asked writers. "I'd be crazy to do such a thing after the way Cousy has killed himself around here for seven years playing the style of ball he has."

Brennan is using a modified split T with flankers and spread ends, much as is the West. Brennan's first backfield has Milt Plum of Penn State at quarter, Abe Woodson of Illinois at left half, Terry Barry of Michigan at right half and Ray Alberigi of Penn State at full.

Paul Hornung, Brennan's quarterback at Notre Dame, starts practice today. His arrival was delayed by school work.

Kalamazoo Hex Ends

KALAMAZOO (U)—Bowling Green has broken an 11-year hex on its basketball teams in Kalamazoo.

The Falcons defeated Western Michigan's Broncos 91-72 in a Mid-American Conference game last night to post their first Kalamazoo win in 11 seasons.

Knocking Out QB Meant Jackpot Says Ex-Pro

LOS ANGELES (U)—Does professional football condone roughness against key players and is there a monetary reward for knocking them out of the game?

A former Los Angeles Ram star, who declines use of his name, says that from 1951 through 1953, every quarterback in the National Football League was a target "and the guy who got the quarterback out of the game got a jackpot that we all donated to."

"But that doesn't mean we wanted the quarterback out of there illegally," the player told Times football writer Jack Geyer. "It was just real good hard tackling to put him on his back. The coaches were aware of it."

Jumbo Joe Stydahar was coaching the Rams in 1951 but was succeeded by Hampton Pool. Pool still lives here but was unavailable for comment.

The player pools, the former Ram said, usually ran about $40.

Davis, Philgas Gain Victories

Winners Coast Home in Waterford League Action at Cray

Davis Machinery of Ortonville edged Poole Lumber, 64-63, and Philgas coasted to a 53-45 decision over Louie's Tavern in Waterford League basketball games last night at Isaac Cray Junior High.

The Ortonville team held a steady lead over Poole and it was only a last second bucket that narrowed the winner's margin to one point. Bob Mills paced the Davis quintet with 19 points. Poole's Gene Wright took scoring honors with 21.

Gerald O'Shaughnessy meshed 15 points to lead Philgas to its easy win. Mortyn Klesner tallied 10 points for Louie's squad.

Next week's action will be shifted from Cray to the Waterford High gym. Four games are scheduled Wednesday, Dec. 26, and two more Thursday, Dec. 27.

The schedule:
Wednesday, Dec. 26
7:15 p.m.—Louie's Tavern vs. Poole Lumber

8:30 p.m.—Davis Machinery vs. Drayton Drug

Ebben to Get Scoring Test in 'Graveyard'

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Detroit's Bill Ebben, well ahead in defense of the Missouri Valley all-games scoring title he won last season, faces his big test Saturday against Oklahoma A&M at Stillwater, graveyard of many scoring champs.

Before meeting Hank Iba's Aggies, Ebben runs into another strong defensive club tonight at Tulsa, coached by Hank's little brother, Clarence.

The senior jump-shot specialist of the Titans has a 26.8 point average for his first four games. Last year, his 23.8 average for the full season was best in the conference, but Houston's 7-foot Don Boldebeck now graduated, nosed him 23.9 to 21.9 in conference scoring.

Ebben's top game this season was a 33-point outburst in which he outscored Louisville's Charlie Tye by 11 points.

Writers Name Birdie 'Manager of the Year'

BOSTON (U)—Birdie Tebbetts, whose Cincinnati Redlegs just missed in a strong bid for the National League pennant, has been named "Manager of the Year" by the Boston chapter of the Baseball Writers' Assn. of America. Tebbetts, a former member of the Boston Red Sox now living in Nashua, N.H., will be honored at the writers' annual dinner Jan. 31.

Shrine 11s Take It Easy

SAN FRANCISCO (U)—Neither the East nor the West is going to play its best game in practice for the Dec. 29 Shrine football game.

Both coaches Terry Brennan of the East and Buck Shaw of the West emphasized today that there would be little if any scrimmage.

Brennan said "these guys are plenty eager and we want to save the best for the game."

Shaw said with only 24 players he dared not allow too much rough stuff. "Could be, we'll have a little pass protection blocking and possibly a little line scrimmage, although I doubt it," he added.

Both clubs will use T variations.

Brennan is using a modified with each player putting in a buck or so."

"I don't recall any player being knocked out of a game, but there were many instances of a lineman getting a small bonus every time he put the quarterback on his back."

Several players who were with the Rams in the early '50s denied the existence of such pools.

"In my eight years with the Rams there never has been any effort to hurt someone illegally," said star end Elroy (Crazylegs) Hirsch.

"I can say in all honesty that if a team has a key player such as Bobby Layne of Detroit, another club will put on an added effort to stop him."

Hirsch said he knew of no money rewards. Nearly all his service with the Rams has been with the offensive unit, however.

A Washington, D. C. newspaper has quoted Norm Hecker, once a defensive back with the Rams and now with the Washington Redskins, as saying the Rams organized a pool to stop Layne. Hecker said he didn't accuse the Rams of dirty football.

Layne was shaken up in the second quarter of the Detroit-Chicago Bears game for the Western Conference title last Sunday and didn't get back into the game. Ed Meadows, who made the tackle on him, was accused of dirty football by Layne referred to a similar incident last year involving Meadows, who was then with Pittsburgh. Layne was knocked out in that game, too.

"A lot of times," Layne continued, "defensive players tackle the quarterback after he has already pitched the ball out. It's natural instinct and sometimes they just can't stop."

"I do think this tackle could have been avoided, though. This was the second year in a row the same thing happened."

Layne carried from the field after the incident in the first quarter of the game. He suffered a mild brain concussion.

"Most of the Chicago papers played it up all week about how

Bobby Layne Relates Own Story

LUBBOCK, Tex. (U)—Bobby Layne, Detroit Lions quarterback, says he believes the tackle on which he was injured in last Sunday's game with the Chicago Bears could have been avoided.

"I don't know whether he hit me on purpose or not, but he knew I didn't have the ball," Layne said last night of the controversial tackle made by the Bears' Ed Meadows in a National Professional Football League game which the Bears won, 38-21, Sunday.

The player pools, the former Ram said, usually ran about $40.

"But that doesn't mean we wanted the quarterback out of there illegally," the player told Times football writer Jack Geyer. "It was just real good hard tackling to put him on his back. The coaches were aware of it."

Jumbo Joe Stydahar was coaching the Rams in 1951 but was succeeded by Hampton Pool. Pool still lives here but was unavailable for comment.

The Ortonville team held a steady lead over Poole and it was only a last second bucket that narrowed the winner's margin to one point. Bob Mills paced the Davis quintet with 19 points. Poole's Gene Wright took scoring honors with 21.

Gerald O'Shaughnessy meshed 15 points to lead Philgas to its easy win. Mortyn Klesner tallied 10 points for Louie's squad.

Next week's action will be shifted from Cray to the Waterford High gym. Four games are scheduled Wednesday, Dec. 26, and two more Thursday, Dec. 27.

Shrine 11s Take It Easy

SAN FRANCISCO (U)—Neither the East nor the West is going to play its best game in practice for the Dec. 29 Shrine football game.

Both coaches Terry Brennan of the East and Buck Shaw of the West emphasized today that there would be little if any scrimmage.

Brennan said "these guys are plenty eager and we want to save the best for the game."

Shaw said with only 24 players he dared not allow too much rough stuff. "Could be, we'll have a little pass protection blocking and possibly a little line scrimmage, although I doubt it," he added.

Panther-Tech Gator Battle Looms High

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (INS)—Folks in Jacksonville today were jubilantly looking forward to a pair of holidays—Christmas, of course—followed by what should be a football spectacular, the Dec. 29 Gator Bowl meeting between the Pittsburgh Panthers and Georgia Tech.

The majority of gridiron enthusiasts in this northeast Florida community do not have tickets for the battle. The Gator bowl seats only 36,000 and that many ducks were swallowed up in two days when the participants were announced. But, like countless thousands across the country, they'll be tuned in via television.

Somewhat ironically, an additional 6,000 seats scheduled for construction this year couldn't be completed in time for the game because of the lengthy steel strike last summer in the Panthers' home town.

Pittsburgh, tutored by Johnny Michelson, dropped decisions to California (14-0) and Minnesota (9-6) while breaking even with Penn State (7-7).

The Panthers were unranked. But on the final day of the season, Dec. 8, the inspired Panthers rose up and smacked previously unbeaten Miami, 14-7, before a stunned Orange Bowl and national TV audience.

The Pittsburgh and Georgia Tech squads currently are taking a Christmas break. The Panthers are due to arrive in Jacksonville Dec. 26 while the Engineers will make the much shorter trek from Atlanta the following day.

Last New Year's day, the Engineers eked out a disputed 7-0 triumph over the Panthers in the Sugar Bowl at New Orleans. It takes more than a year to forget these things in college football.

Pontiac After 4th Straight Win

By H. GUY MOATS

There was only one question Art Van Ryzin had in mind yesterday regarding his starters for Friday night's final basketball game of the year 1936. Chiefs will observe the Yule holiday period, then plunge full-depth into the rough Saginaw Valley Conference title campaign. They travel to Bay City Jan. 4 to test the Wolves' mettle.

This morning the PHS mentor decided to go with his "regulars." He wasn't sure yesterday whether he'd use long, husky "Rozie" Alexander or stocky Dick Whitmer in the front court posits against Dearborn Edsel Ford high school. So, the opening lineup will include a pair of speedsters and playmakers in Dave Diehm and Larry Peet, big Hudson Ray at center and Terry Zellhart at team with Alexander at forward.

So far this season, no Valley club has shown a better all-around combination than that of the Chiefs. Diehm has been hitting consistently, and Peet is due. Ray is by far odds the best-looking pivotman in the SVC circuit, and he has not yet hit his peak of scoring and effectiveness. Zellhart, Alexander and Whitmer have all shown scoring ability.

Chiefs play in the Edsel Ford gymnasium for the first time, Friday night. First game of the series between the schools was played last winter in the PHS gymnasium, with Chiefs the winners 67-47. Pontiac will be shooting for its 4th straight victory.

Following Friday's game the high-scoring Pontiac quintet (they have averaged 55½ points per game so far), will engage in easy workouts during the holiday school recess. But along the way during this time, Van Ryzin has arranged some good scrimmage sessions.

After the Bay City encounter on the Wolves' floor, Chiefs return home for what could be the determining tilt in the Valley race, against defending titlists Northern.

"While we'll let down a little after Friday night," Van Ryzin said today, "we're not going to relax our sharpness. There'll be no drills until next Wednesday, but we'll hold afternoon workouts after that. Rough part of our schedule comes in the early games of the new year."

Louisiana Coed
Confirms Offer of Scholarship

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP)—A Louisiana coed has confirmed NCAA charges that a North Carolina State College representative offered her a seven-year medical scholarship, the Raleigh News and Observer said today.

The scholarship allegedly was offered in efforts to recruit basketball star Jackie Moreland.

The morning paper said Miss Betty Clara Rhea, 17, in a telephone interview from her home in Minden, La., said the offer was made by "Mr. Willis Casey."

Casey, assistant athletic director at State, was mentioned in charges resulting in a four-year suspension by the NCAA. The Atlantic Coast Conference also has imposed stiff penalties.

Pledge of $250,000 Halts Reports Eagles Would Drop Game

NEWTON, Mass. (AP)—Reports that Boston College planned to drop intercollegiate football were ended today with an alumni pledge of a quarter of a million dollars to continue the athletic program.

The Very Rev. Joseph R. Maxwell, S. J., Boston College president, told a news conference yesterday alumni "very graciously" pledged the money at a meeting Tuesday night.

With the Eagles ousted from Fenway Park, site of major home games for many years, funds are needed to improve Alumni Field on the B. C. campus.

Father Maxwell said that the athletic program is an "important phase in American college and university life and we like to feel that we have the type of program of which one can be proud."

He said Alumni Field seats 12,000 to 14,000, and plans are to enlarge the capacity to 22,000. A new baseball diamond and practice football field will have to be constructed while such necessary features as locker room and shower rooms also must be installed.

Father Maxwell emphasized that Boston College did not seriously consider dropping football.

Deacons Claim
2nd Carrousel

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP)—Wake Forest's Deacons, following their pattern of a year ago, have rallied from a so-so start to win the Carrousel Basketball Classic for the 2nd time.

Their 58-48 final victory over Auburn last night recalled last year's performance when they entered the tournament with an unimpressive 1-3 record and swept three games. This week they began play with a 2-2 mark and went all the way. The loss of forward Jack Williams, No. 1 scorer and rebounder, with a knee injury for the last two games made their assignment more difficult.

'M' Skaters Lose, 7-5

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—Colorado College's Tigers overcame a 4-1 lead and went on to defeat Michigan, 7-5, in a Western intercollegiate Hockey League game which ended in a wild free-for-all here last night.

DeWalt Sparks Royal Win

Willie DeWalt, former Pontiac High ace, poured 24 points through the hoop last night to spark the Lakeside Royals to a 74-66 victory over Walled Lake Super Market in adult City League basketball action at Jefferson Junior High.

Three other Royal players joined DeWalt in double figures as the Lakeside quintet maintained a steady lead. Walled Lake's Jim Poteet piled up 28 points to take scoring honors in the American League contest.

The Pontiac Merchants forged into a 24-18 halftime advantage and went on to defeat the Calgon Kids 49-40 in National League play. Jim Honchell led the winners with 21 points while Mort Hetzmecker scored 14 for the Kids.

The Elks fought off a 4th quarter onslaught by the Doodiebugs to gain a 39-38 triumph in Class D National League activity at Lincoln Junior High. Sam Coleman of the Elks and Earl Neeb of the Doodiebugs each tallied 13 points.

The Coca Cola Hawks and Weldon's Celtics were easy winners in Class D International League games, also at Lincoln.

Splits of Gate

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Lions will split their second-place share of the gate at the National Football League's championship game 42 ways. A spokesman estimated it would be worth between $300 and $500 to the Lions cut in.

The Chicago Bears, who beat the Lions for the Western Division crown, will meet the New York Giants, Eastern champions, for the league title.

The Lions voted full shares yesterday to 33 players on the active list and halfback Jug Girard, who went on the inactive list late in the season: six coaches, trainer Millard Kelly and equipment manager Friday Macklem.

Dons Lose Again; Balance of Power Shifts

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Two years ago San Francisco's Dons came quietly out of the west and took college basketball by storm. Now this season's club, doomed from the start, is on the last leg of a dreary trip through the midwest. After adding five victories to the two-year streak built by the graduated Bill Russell & Co. for an all-time winning record of 60, the Dons now have lost three in a row, the last two in collegiate competition.

Western Kentucky, ranked 20th in this week's Associated Press poll with a 3-1 record, tumbled the second-ranked Dons 61-57 last night.

Illinois had put an official end to the winning record Monday with a 62-33 thumping, although the Dons also had been beaten Saturday at Chicago. That defeat, however, was an unofficial "exhibition" set-back by the U.S. Olympic champions—who included Russell and K. C. Jones, also an ex-Don.

Iowa State, and has a once-beaten darkhorse in Missouri.

Missouri made it four in a row last night with a 39-52 job on Oregon. The Tigers lost their opener to Purdue by two points. It was the first game of a twinbill. Rice nipped Oregon State 55-54 in the nightcap on Jerry Thomas' two free throws with only eight seconds left.

Missouri crushed a late Oregon rally with nine points in the last 2 minutes. Lionel Smith, again leading the Tigers with 25 points, canned two of three closing layups that bagged it.

Marquette, like Frisco suffering from graduating losses, was clipped 79-72 by little St. Francis (Pa.) with Jack O'Malley scoring 24 for the Frankies. Holy Cross, another fallen power, was beaten by Ed Bugnias' three-point play in the final 40 seconds of an overtime period that gave Fordham an 87-86 victory.

In conference play, Columbia won its 6th in a row by winning its Ivy League opener from Dartmouth 78-68. In another Ivy game, Harvard cut loose for 53 points in the second half to whip Brown 92-47.

Simonson Still Winning but PHS Drops 3rd Test

Disqualification of the Pontiac High School mealey relay team in yesterday afternoon's Valley swimming meet at PHS pool, cost Bob Boyce's squad its first league victory. Had the team not been disqualified Chiefs would have won, 50-46. As it turned out Bay City's tankers were declared the winners, 54-38. Loss was the 3rd in the loop. Pontiac has won one, against Ypsilanti.

But while his team was losing co-captain Dennis Simonson added his 4th straight victory in the individual medley. He defeated a very good boy in Miesel of Bay City, who pressed him all the way in the 150-yard event. Dennis trailed Pretzer of Bay City in the 200-yard freestyle, his first try at the event his year.

Chiefs won three events, Wolves six.

Summary:

40-yard freestyle—won by Cornforth (P); 2nd Doerr (P); 3rd Wuehrd (BC). Time 20.9.

100-yard breaststroke—won by Miesel (BC); 2nd Johnson (B); 3rd Fopones (P). Time 1:09.8.

200-yard freestyle—won by Pretzer (BC); 2nd Simonson (P); 3rd Requist (BC); 4th Tullerson (P). Time 2:12.9.

150-yard backstroke—won by Tullerson (P); 2nd Gibbs (P); 3rd Kent (BC). Time 1:59.4.

Houston Coach Pays Visit to SMU Campus

DALLAS (AP)—Bill Meek, University of Houston head football coach, was back in Houston today but no one seemed to know whether anything had been done about his moving to Southern Methodist University here.

Meek, 34, spent yesterday touring the campus and talking to Matty Bell, athletic director, athletes, members of the coaching staff, the faculty athletic committee and Willis Tate, SMU president.

Meek has been frequently named as a replacement for Coach Woody Woodard, who resigned.

Meek said he was happy at Houston. He produced a Missouri Valley Conference championship team this year, his second season of a five-year contract. He had a 6-4 record his first year and a 7-2-1 mark this year.

UNDEFEATED — PHS Swimming Chiefs' No. 1 performer, and a very good one, too, is co-captain Dennis Simonson, shown above as he climbed out of the Pontiac pool yesterday afternoon.

ILLINOIS COMMISSION

IN FAVOR OF TV TAX

CHICAGO (AP)—A five per cent state tax on television revenue earned by boxing and wrestling promoters has been recommended by the Illinois State Athletic Commission, whose annual report showed attendance of only 55,070 for 20 pro boxing shows in Chicago in 1956.

In the report yesterday to Gov. William G. Stratton, the commission said that the cost of supervising some shows exceeds the total tax on paid admissions, adding that this is due to the fact that all Illinois shows now are televised.

State revenue from 20 boxing shows through November was $46,000 while 195 wrestling shows produced $40,201. In the peak revenue year, 1947, the commission collected $186,000 from boxing and wrestling.

Buffaloes Rated High by Whizzer

DENVER (AP)—A man who should know says the University of Colorado football team this year is stronger than the 1957 squad that played in the Cotton Bowl.

But that's only because they're bigger and there's more of them," former All-American Byron (Whizzer) White added.

White, now a Denver lawyer, starred in Colorado's 28-14 loss to Rice in that game 20 years ago. This year's Buffalo squad will play Clemson in the Orange Bowl at Miami, Fla., Jan. 1.

PITTSBURGH (AP)—George Sisler, 63, member of baseball's Hall of Fame whose hitting feats have become a legend in his lifetime, has taken a full time job of trying to improve the hitting of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Plans for the Michigan Junior AAU weightlifting contest were discussed and officers were appointed at Wednesday night's meeting of the Pontiac YMCA.

Weightlifting Club in the home of Arthur Mann, Pontiac YMCA physical director.

A plan to let 15, 16 and 17-year-old 'Y' boys use the weightlifting facilities was discussed and passed during the two-hour session.

The Michigan Junior AAU weightlifting contest will be held Friday, Jan. 25, at the Pontiac YMCA. Plans for the contest are now in full swing, Mann said, and tickets are in the process of being printed.

Clarence Johnson, international vice-chairman of the AAU Weightlifting Committee and manager of the United States Olympic weightlifting team, will be the master of ceremonies. Johnson hails from Highland Park.

Vic Seipke, winner of numerous "physique" titles, will also be on hand to display posing routines.

Cal Rhodes, long-time 'Y' member and former proxy, was elected president. Bud Copeman, outstanding weightlifter, was elected vice-president and secretary.

Mondays and Wednesdays from 5:30 to 7 p.m. have been designated as workout periods for 15, 16 and 17-year-olds in the 'Y' weight room. Membership in the YMCA is required and the boys will be supervised by Rod Morrell and Dave Lawrence.

Maples Win EML Opener

Birmingham High School's defending Eastern Michigan League swimming champions last night got off to a good start in defense of their title with a resounding victory over the strong Hazel Park Bears.

Coach Jay Myers club compiled seven firsts, including two which set pool and school records. Meet was swum in the Bears' pool, and Maples won on a 56-39 count. They share the EML top spot with Mt. Clemens, which also won its opener.

Tom Bechtel set a pool and school mark for the 100-yard breaststroke, with 1:09.8, and the 100-yard freestyle relay team of Bill Buick, F. J. McGinnis, Bechtel and Pete Sintz hung up a 1:17.1 pool and school time.

Other Maple winners included Tom Hogan, 100-yard butterfly in 1:10.6; Dave Cook in the 200-yard individual medley, 1:19.9; Fred Wickham in the diving; 160-yard medley relay team, (Dave Smith, (backstroke), Dave Rider (breaststroke), Hogan (butterfly), John Overgard (freestyle). Time 1:33.5.

Bears won the 40-yard freestyle, Campbell, 19.8; 100-yard backstroke, Thompson, 1:07.6.

Pete Sintz (BHM) was disqualified in the 100-yard free-style after winning in 56.5 but would have set a pool and school mark, otherwise.

Bob Considine Says:

Rickshaw Ride Arouses Feelings of Guilt

HONG KONG (INS)—The very next time I go to confession I'm going to seek absolution for riding in a rickshaw. I doubt if I'll get it.

It seemed like a good idea at the time. From the Kowloon side of the Star Ferry it is about a half mile to the Peninsula Hotel, where there were some people impatiently waiting.

"By all means take a rickshaw," the Englishman had said. "It's an interesting experience, and, besides, the rickshaw boy needs what you'll overpay him."

So in we clambered, said "Peninsula Hotel" in our finest Cantonese, and then this poor little guy, barefooted on the cold rainy street, and shivering in his rags, stepped into position between the shafts, picked up the front of the lacquered sulky, and padded off.

The next few minutes were the most uncomfortable of my life. I kept expecting the poor soul who was dragging me to turn around and snarl, "You fat Fascist buzzard," or worse, and run me through with a ceremonial dirk. It was disappointing, in the end, that he did not.

I got out of the thing before it was fully to the door of the hotel, which is one of those almost incredible pleasure domes that dot the otherwise seamy trade routes of the Far East. The man seemed embarrassed by what we gave him.

All who come here are severely warned by the resident not to over-tip. "After all," he will say, "we've got to live here after you're gone, and we make so little." Incredibly, the rickshaw men would seem to agree.

But I'll never forget the rickshaw.

little gait like an Olympic walker, or the shocking sight of him—another human being—pulling a stool like me.

Hong Kong is becoming, for the first time, a center for the education of the overseas Chinese. This is important to the free world and the long-range fight against communism.

About 50,000 overseas Chinese have returned to China since 1945 to study. There is nothing left there to study that is not steeped in Communist propaganda. Many have been sent back to inoculate other Chinese in Southeast Asia. Just as John L. McCloy, certain American interests and the West Germans themselves established the Free University of Berlin, and enabled professors and students from East Germany to find an education.

New Asia College stresses traditional Chinese culture, hardly obtainable on the mainland under the Communists but still deeply desired by the overseas Chinese. The college's graduate department, the New Asia Research Institute, carries the work another step, with the admonition that the great refugee intellectuals soon will reach the age of retirement or "join the loveliest and the best," which is as fine an appeal to the younger generation to carry on as I've come upon.

Welfare Projects Add Up to Good Lot

PHILADELPHIA (UP)—The pupils of Beeber Junior High School today reckoned up their human welfare projects for the academic term ending this week:

They sent 236 CARE parcels to Hungary, Korea, Israel, Greece, Viet Nam, Italy, India and Pakistan, and have more still to go out. Donated $350 to the city's community chest campaign. Sent money to the Hungarian refugee camp at Feffernitz, Austria.

Adopted a Korean War orphan, for whose keep they pay $180 a year. Sent money to the foster-parents plan to buy clothing at Christmas-time for needy children around the world.

Mother of Five Prays for Son After Home Fire

DETROIT (UP)—A 29-year-old pregnant mother prayed today for the life of her two-year-old son after a fire destroyed her home and almost claimed the lives of her five children.

Mrs. Hope Byrnes, 29, braved the flames yesterday to rescue Thomas Jr., 6; Timothy, 4, and Patricia, 3. But the heat and smoke forced her back in repeated attempts to reach Terry, 2, and Mary Kay, one-year-old.

Fireman Louis Pruneau finally made it through to reach both children and carried them out. Mary Kay had been protected from the flames by a closed door. She was apparently unhurt.

But Terry was found laying on the floor. Doctors could detect no pulse. Revived with oxygen and adrenalin treatment, he was rushed to Wayne County Hospital in serious condition.

Firemen said apparently children started the fire with matches while Mrs. Byrnes was washing clothes in the basement of their one-story frame home. The house was gutted.

The average salt content of the Great Salt lake in Utah is said to be almost six times greater than that of any of the seas or oceans.

Make-Up Good or Bad in Women—Newspapers

PORT CLINTON, Ohio (UP)—Women are like newspapers, Mrs. Lee Hafkin Steele, Toledo Blade reporter, told the Junior Women's Club at nearby Oak Harbor.

"Some use good makeup; others bad. Some have bold faces, others do no." But, she advised, "Men should always have one of his own and not try to borrow his neighbor's."

Selects Christmas Gifts in Ambulance Stretcher

ASHEVILLE, N.C. (AP) — Mrs. Rodie Parks, a cancer victim who drew on her falling strength to Christmas shop for her loved ones from an ambulance stretcher.

The 33-year-old mother of four died in her sleep in her hospital room Tuesday.

Doctors had told her she probably would not live through the holidays.

A worn, dog-eared prayerbook was found beside her in the bed.

Mrs. Parks, whose youngsters range in age from 8 to 12, requested last Monday that she be carried to a downtown Asheville store so she could shop "once more for my children and those I love."

The store opened its doors and had all its clerks at work 30 minutes early.

She had expressed hope she would live until Christmas.

The story of her shopping trip stirred response from two continents. The cards and letters she received numbered more than 15,000.

Many were from children, who enclosed coins and asked her to buy something for her own youngsters.

Many contained prayerbooks, religious symbols and messages of cheer.

Mrs. Parks went to sleep about 9 o'clock last night and never regained consciousness.

A nun at St. Joseph's Hospital said Mrs. Parks' death was "most peaceful."

"She never thought of herself during her illness. She was one of the most selfless persons I have ever known," the nun said.

Mrs. Parks and her family had been aware for several weeks she was dying. She became ill about two years ago.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow.

POLAR SANTA — Marjorie Upham, of Scandinavian Airlines, makes a very charming "Santa" as she helps Air Express International kick off the first air freight flight from the U. Business Bad All Over

RUSSELL SPRINGS, Ky. (AP) — Sometimes it doesn't pay to be businesslike.

An account book found at the scene of a bottle whisky raid led to the issuing of 16 warrants against persons suspected of dealing in illegal whisky sales in dry Russell County.

Fish Cleaned Fast in Russian Machine

NEW YORK — Russia is now using high-speed machines to process fish, the publication, Food Engineering, reports.

It says a rotary unit successfully removes the head, tail, and fins, then scoops out everything in the body cavity and cleans the cavity. The magazine says the machine, operated by one man, can handle 40 to 60 five-pound salmon a minute.

SLEIGH FOR WHITE HOUSE—A mechanized sleigh laden with Christmas gifts for the families of President Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon stops in Waterloo, Ia., on its way to Washington.

Sponsored by the city's industries, the sleigh includes hams, cartons of meat and a midget tractor.

Piggins Won't Run

DETROIT (AP) — Police Commissioner Edward S. Piggins said Tuesday he will not run for Wayne County Circuit Judge in the spring election. At the same time, Piggins declined comment on his possible candidacy for Detroit mayor.

The time that elapses between the beats of the average human heart amounts to about six hours per day.

State Employees' Yule Gift: 8 Per Cent Boost in Pay

LANSING (AP) — The state gave its 29,000 employees a 10 million dollar Christmas present today in the form of an 8.8 per cent pay raise which will take effect July 1.

The Civil Service Commission approved the increase on a recommendation of its staff, which submitted a study of pay scales in government and industry.

The staff recommended increases averaging 7.8 per cent but the commission boosted the figure to 8.8 per cent.

The increase will range from five to 10 per cent with the larger pay boost going to the lower salary brackets.

The increase means that the legislature, already hard-pressed to balance the budget, will have to raise an additional $7,500,000 to the state's general fund for the fiscal year 1957-58.

The rest of the 10 million dollar increase will be paid out of restricted and federal funds.

C. J. Hess, deputy director, said most of the increase will go to 21,000 employees in the $2,700 to $5,000 pay bracket.

State employees got their last pay raise Feb. 5—an increase averaging seven per cent.

The commission agreed the increase should not take effect until the start of the new fiscal year in order to give the legislature more time to find the money.

Legislative fiscal experts say the state faces a general fund deficit of from 40 to 80 million dollars and that new taxes will have to be passed or existing taxes increased to fill the gap.

The commission gave special treatment to two groups of employees—400 state ferry employees who will lose their jobs when the Mackinac bridge is completed next fall and 180 special state teachers. The ferry employees will get their eight per cent increase starting Mar. 17.

The teachers will get the eight per cent increase and an additional $50 boost starting Sept. 1.

Help Yourself to Yule Safety

Avoid Tragic Mishaps That Mar Holiday Joy by Being Sensible

NEW YORK, N.Y. — "Fires across the nation have killed 23 persons, most of them children, on the eve of the Christmas holiday celebration.

"All but 10 of the fire victims were children eagerly awaiting the excitement and gifts of Christmas."

That was last year! Will it happen again this year?

And the saddest thing is that such tragedies often occur around the Christmas holiday—sometimes even around the Christmas tree itself—at the happiest time of the year.

The reason the tree burns so fiercely and so rapidly is because it's filled with pitch and resin—among the most combustible substances known.

What can you do about the tree?

First of all, the National Board of Fire Underwriters suggests that you select a small one. There will be 30,000,000 on the market. Some 4,000,000 Christmas trees reach retail outlets in New York State alone.

It's best to keep the tree outdoors until a few days before setting it up. During that time occasionally throw water over it. This will keep it moist, fresh.

When you bring the tree inside, cut the butt slantwise to open the pores, then stand it in a tub of water. Be wary of chemicals or other substances sold for "fireproofing" trees. In some cases this process is ineffective.

In placing the tree, the National Board advises that you avoid "hot spots" such as those near the fireplace, stove, television set, radiator, or electric bulbs.

Never, warns the National Board, use untreated paper ornaments or untreated cotton batting or gauze for decoration. Cotton and gauze can be made flame-resistant by dipping in a gallon of water mixed with nine ounces of borax and four ounces of boric acid.

Also, use only electric lights, never candles. Be sure, too, that wires are in good condition and bear the UL tag denoting Underwriters' Laboratories, Inc., which shows they have been tested for safety. Frayed electric cords, the National Board points out, are a fire hazard.

The switch for turning on the tree lights should be placed some distance from the tree. Never use an outlet or plug under the tree or run electric trains around the base.

Million Dollar Fire Rages in Chicago

CHICAGO (U) — A spectacular million-dollar fire destroyed a Northwest Side department store last night.

About 400 shoppers and employees fled the building. Five persons were treated for bruises and smoke inhalation.

The fire, of undetermined origin, raged through a one-story brick building owned by Goldblatt Bros., Inc., for several hours before it was brought under control.

Fire Marshal Albert H. Petersen, who estimated damage at a million dollars, said "the entire store went up" within 10 minutes after the fire was discovered.

School Principal Under Fire for Student Edict

MIAMI, Fla. (U)—A Negro school principal who told nine students they could not graduate because their parents did not attend a Sunday meeting is under investigation.

The Dade County School Board yesterday told the superintendent of education, W. R. Thomas, to make a study of the matter "and take disciplinary action if necessary."

Roby G. George, principal of Maya High School at nearby Goulds, said he had told the students that attendance by their parents was compulsory. He said he wanted them to become familiar with the expenses of graduation.

Later, however, George said he might not actually keep them from graduating, but he added, "We are going to make it rough for them." He has been principal of the school 19 years.

Refugee Sealift Starts Operation

Escapes From Reds, 1,750 Hungary People, on Journey to U.S.

BREMERHAVEN, Germany (U)—The U.S. transport Gen. Leroy Eltinge took aboard 1,750 Hungarians today to start a refugee sealift to the United States. But a dense fog closed in after the gangplank was lifted and delayed the departure.

The transport is to carry the refugees from this North Sea port to Bayonne, N.J.

Looking frightened on leaving trains from Vienna, the refugees had been converted into laughing, singing tourists. It was largely the doing of a score of American Red Cross workers that brought about the transformation.

William Mason, Red Cross representative in Bremerhaven, spotted a badly out-of-tune piano aboard ship and had it tuned. Immediately afterward, refugee Tony Radnoti plunked down at the piano and took off. Hundreds of Hungarian youths jammed around him and sang at the top of their lungs.

It was the third major movement of Hungarian refugees bound for the United States. U.S. military transports will sealift 5,500 by the end of the year. Nearly 10,000 others are being flown by U.S. military planes from Munich. The rest of 21,500 being admitted to the United States are going by commercial air.

The first trainload of 850 refugees arrived at docks in this North Sea port city before dawn. U.S. Army musicians greeted them. A second train carried 900.

In the big dining rooms aboard ship, elaborate breakfasts were served. It was an experience that brought tears to many Hungarian eyes. The menu included such items as fresh orange juice, as many eggs as they wanted, bacon, cereal, jam, sweet rolls and coffee and milk.

The Gen. Leroy Eltinge is due to dock at Bayonne Dec. 29.

Actor Lathrop Mitchell in Atlanta Hospital

ATLANTA (U)—Lathrop Mitchell, 49-year-old Broadway actor, was reported in "poor" condition today with what hospital attendants described as an infection of an undetermined nature.

Mitchell was taken from a plane here Saturday on his way from New York to Tallahassee, Fla., after the pilot had radioed a request to have a passenger removed.

Police booked the actor on a charge of intoxication, but later called a physician who sent Mitchell to Grady Hospital.

Voodoo Does Damage to Once Happy Pair

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (U)—Voodoo rites helped break up the marriage of the onetime "Singing Sweethearts of Radio," according to Mrs. Victoria M. Kelvin, 32.

She charged cruelty yesterday in her divorce action against John Kelvin, 50, and said that he stuck pins in dolls named after her relatives. She said he tried to induce their daughter Kathleen, now 6, to believe in voodoo by teaching her to stick pins in the dolls.

Wed in 1944, the couple separated in 1953. Kelvin gave up music and became an attorney in New York City.

He is contesting the divorce.

Burglar Steals Sermon

DALLAS (U)—When the Rev. Cecil A. Brockman, pastor of the New Bethel Baptist Church, and his family returned from services they found someone had entered their house through an unlocked door. Missing was a shotgun, a record player and some records, including a recorded sermon.

Misses Gleason's Plug While Watching Perry

By EARL WILSON

MIAMI BEACH—Sluggers' father finally learned to swim a few strokes—and Sluggers' father's pushing 50.

Ether Williams passed up a chance to teach this Ohio landlubber the breast stroke. But Alan Gordon, young Los Angeles tycoon, coached me.

When I dog-paddled maybe 15 feet in the Americana pool here, after a lifetime of trying, it was a delicious triumph, and I want to thank my water-rat son for encouragement. When he was 8, he said, "Go ahead, Daddy. Don't be afraid. I'll save you."

The gossips here were buzzing about Kitty Kallen (the singin' wife of Jan Murray's TV producer Bud Granoff). They said she's as pretty as Gina Lollobrigida.

How embarrassing! A Miami friend said to me, "Jackie Gleason had his best show yet—Incidentally he mentioned your name." I admitted not seeing it. "Why?" asked my friend. "I was at Perry Como's show," I confessed.

Yes, I was covering Perry's 30th NBC anniversary show, where Gina made lots of friends backstage. Groucho Marx leeringly asked low-cut Lollo, "Where's your husband?" She replied, "Oh, he's fine." Groucho smirked, then snapped, "I don't care HOW he is! I want to know WHERE he is."

Anybody agree with me that Groucho and brothers should do a big TV variety shows? . . . A columnist asked Groucho, "How many writers do you have?" Groucho flipped, "How many writers do YOU have?"

When a famous man who's bald saw Groucho in swimming trunks, and said, "You need some hair on your chest," Groucho flung back, "You need some chest on your hair."

He added: "The drummer's got to undergo a serious operation—he's going to have his socks chiseled off."

Cheese Basic Food of Ancient Greeks

CAIRO—The first written mention of cheese in the diet occurs about 1400 B. C.

The ancient Egyptians made cheese from sheep's milk. The Greeks used the milk of both sheep and goats.

The Greeks must have depended greatly on some primitive form of cheese, probably soft, because, apart from meat and cereals, cheese is the only common foodstuff mentioned in all the writings of Homer.

All the fats and oils used to make soap contain glycerine.

Australia 'Nabs' Phone Tapper

Maggie, Insect Named as Culprits Responsible for Mystery Calls

SYDNEY, Australia.—The mystery of Australia's "tapped" telephone lines has been solved with the discovery of the culprits—the magpie and an insect called a lerp.

The lerp is an ant-sized insect often found in gum trees and yellow box. It produces a secretion like coarse gray hair out of which it spins a web, which blows onto telephone lines and causes short circuits.

Independently of the lerp, the magpies began taking up residence on top of telegraph poles and building nests with small threads of wire picked from the telephone wires. This almost invariably rang a subscriber's number or set off the automatic switches which called the operator.

Recently the wiretapping problem became desperate. Large areas of New South Wales and Victoria were affected and hundreds of subscribers complained about receiving mysterious telephone calls when apparently no one was on the other end of the line.

Complete disruption of services was threatened in some areas when the mystery was solved by a naturalist among the postal engineers who remarked one day that the calls came only in the nesting season. Investigation revealed not only the birds, but also the lerp.

Authorities puzzled over the problem of the magpies, finally solved it by providing "alternative nesting accommodation."

Postal engineers designed a six inch square metal nest to be erected on top of the poles, with the result that magpie phone tapping has almost ceased.

As for the lerp, postal authorities are still scratching their heads over it. The Director of Posts and Telegraphs has said that there appears to be no ready solution to this problem.

Television Show Tonight Reunites Jeanette, Nelson

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (U)—This week marks the reunion of one of the most famous teams of movie history—Jeanette MacDonald and Nelson Eddy.

The duo sang their way through nine MGM pictures, from "Naughty Marietta" in 1935 to "I Married an Angel" in 1951. They brought the flowering of the film operetta with their tremendously popular pictures, still shown all over the world.

Since their last film together, they have sought other fields. Miss MacDonald has specialized in stage operettas in recent years and Eddy tours with a successful night club act. Tonight, Lux Video Theater will re-team them on NBC in their famed "Will You Remember?" duet from "Maytime."

"We've done some radio together since 'I Married an Angel,'" Eddy explained between rehearsals, "but we've never combined on TV. No particular reason, except that usually a show can afford one of us but not both."

He went on to say that he and Jeanette have always been on the best of terms and have seen each other socially.

"I'm always being asked about the MacDonald-Eddy feud," he said. "There never was a feud. Sure, we had differences on the set. Almost every day, in fact. But that's normal."

"I hear all kinds of stories. Like how Jeanette and I tried to out-sing each other. Ridiculous! We always recorded with separate microphones. It was up to the mixer which one of us sounded louder."

"Jeanette and I have entertained each other in our houses. We often would get around the piano and have some fun. It was out of such clowning that I developed the idea for my night club act."

At 55, Eddy is still smooth-faced and enthusiastic about his career.

"I like the night club business," he said. "Oh, occasionally you find a bad dressing room, a bad orchestra or bad audience, but most of the time it's lots of fun."

Gifts to Nun Will Brighten Children's Yule

PHILADELPHIA (U)—Sister Maria Virgo went shopping one day this week for toys to give to children of the poor in Our Lady of Mt. Carmel Parish. All too quickly, her money was spent, but she lingered over some dolls which seemed just right for a lot of girls she knew.

Touched by the nun's disappointment, a saleswoman at an outlying department store offered enough money to pay for at least a few of the dolls. One of the managerial staff said he would help too. Most of the clerks on the floor also contributed. Soon Sister Maria Virgo had money enough to buy all the dolls and many more toys in the bargain.

Medics, Medicine Men Team Up to Aid Indians

By KENNETH GILMORE

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Attention, pale faces: You can keep your fancy head shrinkers. As for the American Indian, he'll put his libido in the hands of a good, old medicine man. And why not?

Red men down on the reservation are getting their own brand of psychiatric treatment these days. Instead of a couch, most of them receive a "sing." It's a drawn-out rock-an-roll Indian ritual.

This approach may not stack up favorably with Freudian followers, but it's giving thousands of ill Indians the confidence to take the white man's modern medicine.

Today tribal medicine men are playing the unique role helping Uncle Sam's doctors and nurses restore health to Indians.

SPIRITUAL LEADERS

"Our medical officers who provide care for the Indians recognize the medicine man as a spiritual leader among his people," says Dr. James R. Shaw, Chief of the Division of Indian Health of the U.S. Public Health Service.

"For this reason they often work in close cooperation with tribal medicine men on the reservation."

Here's how another official puts it: "Because Indians have confidence in the medicine man, he's able to give them the psychological support they need to accept modern medicine and go to hospitals."

This assistance of the ancient medicine man will do much to assure the success of a stepped-up program by the federal government to bring the Indian back to health, say experts.

DEPARTMENT SWITCH

A year ago medical care for Indians was transferred from the Bureau of Indian Affairs at the Interior Department to the Public Health Service.

With an increase in funds approved by Congress, a full-scale effort is now under way to provide health service to 315,000 Indians living on about 250 reservations in 24 states.

In the last year 100 more physicians and dentists and 450 health workers have been assigned to treat Indians. And funds are now available to complete construction of four new Indian hospitals, two of which will replace old facilities.

At present, the Division of Indian Health operates 56 hospitals, including five large hospitals for general and tuberculosis patients, and four tuberculosis sanitariums.

Eight of the hospitals are in Alaska where the U.S. gives health services to 35,000 natives of that territory.

OTHER FACILITIES

Indians can also go to 20 health centers, 14 Indian boarding school infirmaries, nearly 100 field health stations and field clinics at more than 200 locations.

Indian health, however, is still deplorable. The average age at death is 37, compared to 62 for the non-Indian population. And the rate of tuberculosis is nine times greater than among white men.

One of the biggest jobs is educating the Indians to take advantage of modern medical facilities. That's where the medicine man has proved so valuable.

With a few exceptions, he has given his brothers the cue to take the white man's cure. This often happens when the medicine man himself goes to a hospital for treatment.

Bombers Sport Skis for Antarctic Duty

BURBANK, Cal. — The patrol bombers made by one of America's major aircraft companies are being equipped for duty in the antarctic with the largest skis ever ordered for jet-powered aircraft.

The skis, 5 feet wide and 16 feet long, are made of aluminum alloy and steel. They are attached to the two-wheel main landing gear. A smaller ski will be mounted on the airplane's nose landing gear.

Provisions are being made for the wheels to remain stationary while the skis move up or down, thereby permitting landings on either skis or wheels.

Buzzing Session Saved

ALTON, Ill. — Aldermen of the Town Board were spared when they assembled in the City Hall Council-Chamber. Only one buzzing was present at the meeting.

Groggy and harmless, it was the lone survivor of a vast insect carnage that occurred two hours earlier when the city clerk discovered the chamber was filled with a horde of wasps that entered via a lowered window.

Southfield Recount Finds No Errors in Charter Vote

'Now Official,' Waltham Says

Commission Meeting Tonight to Certify; Elect New Slate Next

SOUTHFIELD — No errors were found in the recount of votes here yesterday for the Dec. 3 city charter election.

A technicality, however, was recorded when a vote was entered in the poll books after absentee ballots were recorded.

Lee J. Waltham, chairman of the charter commission, summed up the recount with, "It is now official."

Southfield's second attempt to adopt a city charter lost by 43 votes. Eight thousand, two hundred

Russell H. Cullen, chairman of the Charter Commission, said two election workers told of seeing voters asking assistance and being given instructions on official machines instead of on practice machines and of several voters in one precinct not being given operating instructions. Cullen termed the irregularities "honest mistakes." But he said they "could void the election."

and fifty-three residents cast their votes, of which 533 persons apparently forgot to vote for the city charter itself.

The charter commission is no more and is acting now as an election commission whose last official act will be to meet and certify the recount of the election.

The meeting has been called for today at 3 p.m., in township hall.

Waltham said this morning it is now up to the township to elect a new charter commission.

Southfield has until June 6 to adopt a city charter, otherwise it will revert to township status.

Saved Pennies Buy Figurines for Holy Scene

LAKE ORION — Women of St. Joseph Parish here have saved throughout the year to buy figurines for the church lawn Christmas display.

Recently, realistic rubber figures of Joseph, Mary and the infant were placed in a wooden manger which was made by the custodian. They were set in a recessed area at the church, with two pine trees forming the background.

Colored lights spot and enhance the scene.

The project still is incomplete though, the women say, and in the coming year they will be saving pennies and quarters to perfect the gift.

Family of Seven Escapes Flames After Explosion

ROME — An oil stove exploded early this morning, setting fire to the home of Herbert R. Nesbitt, 20740 33 Mile Rd.

Budget Item Passage Major Business Point; Slate Hearing

WALLED LAKE — A $3,000 budget item, petition for blacktopping, public hearing date, and reports by City Manager George Shaw were the major points of business at the regular meeting of the city council here.

The members of the council decided on the budget item of $3,000 for the next fiscal year in order to replace 1,000 Lumen bulbs now used in street lights, with larger bulbs. It will also provide additional lighting for residential areas.

Residents of Decker road petitioned for blacktopping of the road from Pontiac Trail to West Maple but the council could take no action due to limited funds.

Jan. 2 a public hearing will take place at the City Hall discuss the proposed zoning ordinance for the Walled Lake area.

City Manager Shaw reported that E. T. Wilkins and Associates of Cleveland, preparing an assessment of the city, are still doing preliminary work and will undertake a field inspection soon.

Engineer Builds and Runs Tiny Town

By MYRENE TAYLOR Rochester Correspondent

ROCHESTER — Robert G. Cameron of 521 West Third St. is a hobbyist who has found that building trains, villages, airports and parks with flowing streams is just one hobby and goes on and on.

Cameron is an engineer at Meadowbrook Farms and each night after finishing his work there finds him hard at work in "Plasticville."

Plasticville, with its three 11-onet trains on their runs through electrified parks, hospital grounds, farms, is a work of art. The Camerons have traveled quite extensively and wherever they went, they have collected animals, miniature fowl, birds as small as one quarter inch high. From Tennessee, his collections included miniature blown glass houses, and chickens which have been hand painted for the farm yards.

Cameron has collected weeds from various states that he has painted and fashioned into elm trees for the little park and fish pond. Looking down over the park the waterfalls constantly run when all is electrified.

Every detail seems to be complete, even to the miniature nurses on the hospital grounds, making their trips to and from the village.

"Plasticville" and the present trains have been assembled in the past year, but Cameron has been building trains for a period over ten years. Always changing and modernizing the

Community Hospital/Township Joins Plans OK'd at Romeo 12-Area Hookup

Commerce Has Radio Base for Fire System at Main Hall

ROME — Latest architectural plans for the proposed 32-bed Community Hospital to be built two miles south of Almont received final approval last night at the hospital foundation board of directors meeting here.

Next step will be to get state and county approval of the drawings, directors said.

Last night's action climaxed a three week survey of medical personnel living in adjacent parts of four counties, to be served by the new facilities. Doctors and nurses living in Oakland, Macomb, St. Clair and Lapeer counties okayed the drawings which had already received approval of building committee and board of directors.

Hospital consultant George Fleigh conducted the survey. The Detroit architectural firm of Smith, Hinchman and Grylls developed a plan to serve all communities in 13 to 15 mile radius of the site, located on the southeast corner of M33 and Borden road. Four hundred thousand dollars has been raised in pledges to date.

The total figure represented a sharp increase over October when the estimated cost of new construction hit $156,000, which was $20,000 more than the September total.

The new homes are being constructed in two subdivisions, Payne Manor and Wolverine Lake Heights.

FOUR TOWNS — The Annual Christmas party of the Elizabeth Russell Guild, Four-Towns-Methodist Church, will be held tonight at 8.

Egypt, Crossroads of Many Nations, Owes Its Existence to Nile River

WASHINGTON—A crossroads of continents, Egypt has known the sound of war for centuries. Again embroiled in battle, the land of the Pharaohs ties Asia and Africa together at the southeast end of the Mediterranean Sea.

An almost square country, Egypt's surveyor-straight borders Libya to the west, and Sudan to the south. The Mediterranean and Red Seas form the northern and eastern boundaries.

Most of the country's 386,100 square miles are almost unpopulated desert, baking by day and cold at night. Aside from scattered oases and Bedouin camps, Egypt's population of more than 20,000,000 is crowded in to the Nile Valley and Delta and the Suez Canal zone.

Egypt is a creation of the Nile. The river brings fertility and moisture to the farms, depositing rich soil along its banks in flood.

Pyramids and sphinxes, world-recognized symbols of Egypt, are remnants of one of the oldest civilizations known. Enriched by the Nile's bounty, the Egyptians had reached a high state of culture before 3300 B. C., when the Upper and Lower Kingdoms were united under one crown. Arts and crafts flourished. In the dry sands of the deserts many of the relics of greatness have been preserved, and allowing production of as many as three crops a year.

This fertility, squeezed in a vise of desert about the size of Texas and New Mexico combined, is so distinct that a person can walk with one foot on farm land and the other in arid wastes. High-grade cotton, Egypt's chief export, is grown, along with wheat, barley, millet, beans, onions, and sugar cane.

With no workable coal seams, or forests to provide building materials and fuel, Egypt's industries are new and small. Along the coast of the Gulf of Suez, which connects the Canal with the Red Sea, moderate deposits of oil have been found and refineries have grown up. Manganese, phosphate rock, and soda are also produced.

Mexico is increasing its manufacture of copper products to gain foreign exchange. The products sell for more than bulk copper.
