210 DMZ Abuses Charged to Enemy

PONTIAC, MICHIGAN, SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 23, 1968

VOL. 126 — NO. 250 ★ ★ ★ ASSOCIATED PRESS UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL — 60 PAGES 10¢

From Our News Wires
SAIGON — The Communists have violated 210 times their agreement not to abuse Vietnam's Demilitarized Zone (DMZ) in exchange for a halt in the bombing of North Vietnam, U.S. headquarters said today.

Red Negotiator Charges U.S. Backing Down

PARIS (UPI) — Hanoi's top strategist at the Vietnam war talks flew in from Moscow today and accused the United States of backing down on an agreement to "let the Vietcong join expanded negotiations as a separate delegation."

The seventh-ranking member of North Vietnam's politburo said Washington originally agreed to four-party negotiations, with Saigon and the Vietcong's National Liberation Front (NLF) to have separate and equal voices.

Now, however, the United States is claiming it agreed only to two-sided talks in order "to suffocate the role of the NLF, which is the authentic representative of the South Vietnamese people," he said.

'FULL RESPONSIBILITY'
The top strategist in North Vietnam's talks braintrust, vowed the United States must bear "full responsibility" for the delay in beginning expanded negotiations scheduled for Nov. 6.

He went home to Hanoi Oct. 14 and spent one day in Peking reviewing strategy and planning for expanded talks.

Tall and bespectacled, his face was grim as he read a prepared statement. Xuan Thuy, Hanoi's chief negotiator, and Mrs. Nguyen Thi Binh, the Vietcong's top representative, were at his side.

The possibility of separate NLF representation at expanded negotiations is the reason for South Vietnam's refusal to join the Paris talks. The Saigon government claims to represent South Vietnam alone.

Diplomatic sources in Paris have said lately that Saigon would be willing to negotiate on an "our side-your side" basis seating Saigon representatives in the U.S. delegation and NLF representatives in the North Vietnamese delegation.

The announcement was the first time American spokesmen had released official figures on what they called "enemy activity" in the buffer zone since the air, sea and land bombardment of North Vietnam stopped 25 days ago.

Military spokesmen said 130 of the 210 violations have occurred on the South Vietnamese side of the official Ben Hai River border running down the middle of the zone.

Of the 210 violations, 22 were labeled "significant"—artillery and machine-gun sites seen firing on allied positions south of the DMZ or firing on U.S. planes patrolling over the buffer zone.

HIT ANTI-AIRCRAFT SITES
The remainder were classed "insignificant," the spokesman said, including sightings of small groups of enemy soldiers, vehicles, sampans and lights.

U.S. guns, for the third time in two days, hammered guerrilla anti-aircraft gunners in the North Vietnam half of the zone Thursday. The Communists fired first on a U.S. observation plane, spokesmen said. The plane was not hit.

Under the agreement announced by U.S. Secretary of State Clark M. Clifford, Hanoi said it would not "violate" the DMZ or shell South Vietnamese cities if the northern bombing stopped.

President Johnson, announcing the bombing halt on Oct. 31, said Communist "abuses" of the six-mile-wide border zone between the two Vietnams would not be tolerated.

In Paris, North Vietnamese diplomats repeatedly denied U.S. allegations their troops were using the zone as a military camp despite the bomb-halt agreement.

Unofficial South Vietnamese figures showed the Reds had sent 80 rocket or mortar barrages into cities during the same period, three of them yesterday.

Franc Devaluation Is Expected Today

PARIS (UPI) — President Charles de Gaulle met with his cabinet today for what most of the Western world expects to be an official announcement on the devaluation of the franc.

De Gaulle only 11 days ago said devaluation would be "the worst absurdity" but financial sources said the day was reported steadfastly set against devaluation. But it was the price he had to pay to get the Bonn meeting loan to restore confidence in the faltering franc.

The franc has been weakened by feverish currency speculation for more than a month.

In Bonn yesterday a French official was reported to have told newsmen that France had agreed to devaluation although the actual amount still had to be decided. Financial experts said it would be slight, perhaps as low as seven per cent.

LOSS OF FACE
Even a slight devaluation was a blow to de Gaulle, who has made his nation's monetary system a point of personal pride.

Most French newspapers had predicted the franc would be devalued by about 10 per cent. That would make the U.S. dollar worth about 5.5 francs.

Before all French money markets closed earlier this week, banks gave slightly less than five francs for a dollar.

Devaluation would thus make the franc cheaper for Americans and other foreign tourists, but French tourists in other countries will have to take more money out of France.

meeting would announce the 131st devaluation of the franc since 1928.

Most French newspapers used banner headlines to say devaluation has already taken place, and some predicted the franc's new international value.

In Bonn, the world's 10 richest non-Communist nations carefully left out of their final meeting communiqué yesterday any mention of the devaluation of the franc in return for aiding France with a $2-billion loan.

FRENCH ANNOUNCEMENT
Economic observers said they did so to show the French government to make the announcement.

ROAD HIGHER, WATER REMAINS — State Highway Dept. workmen have raised Dixie 1 1/2 feet at this long-time trouble spot south of Walton. However the ponded water indicates the problem will be the same the next time water flows in the area. The drain under the highway, leading west, has been plugged for years and in times of heavy rain or melting snow the road floods and hinders passing traffic as well as flooding adjacent property.

Dixie Repair Project Spawns Controversy

"They've only made it worse," a businessman in Waterford Township commented about a Dixie Highway repair job designed to reduce flooding at a long-time trouble spot.

The highway is plagued by flooding at a point just south of Walton.

The State Highway Dept. is now completing a $23,000 project at the low spot which raised the road level roughly 1 1/2 feet for about 500 feet. However, in the opinion of John Hladchuck, owner of Drayton Pool Supply at 4763 Dixie, the higher road will only mean deeper ponding.

Hladchuck said that the road raising had been completed without any improvement in the drainage system which goes under the highway near the front of his business.

DETERIORATING
The drain, subject of much controversy in the last year, was built in the 1920s. It is now in a badly deteriorated state. Hladchuck pointed out the drain is not only plugged at the highway crossing but throughout the property west of Dixie.

He and other area residents are seeking an injunction in county circuit court to halt issuance of any building permits in the area. Hladchuck said in his opinion the backed-up water on the surrounding property presents a health hazard. "You can no longer drink the well water around here," he said.

The trouble spot at the highway has been the subject of meetings between township officials, Oakland County Drain commissioners and highway department representatives.

Highway officials have pointed out it is up to township officials to call for formation of an assessment district. The drain improvement could also be assessed at large as a benefit to the entire township, it has been pointed out.

Owner of Store Is Killed by Car

A Waterford Township businessman was killed in front of his store when he was struck by a car while crossing the street yesterday, according to township police.

Dead is Ross A. Elliott, 59, of 210 Oneida, Pontiac, part-owner of Elliott Furniture Co., Inc., 5490 Dixie.

An employee at the firm said Elliott was coming back to work after eating across the street at Steak and Eggs Restaurant, 5395 Dixie, and he was killed directly in front of the furniture store.

Police said driver of the car which struck him was Thomas J. Miller, 35, of 6624 Roselawn, Independence Township. The accident is still under investigation today, police said.

Pontiac Div. Sales Set 10-Day Record

Pontiac dealers had the best mid-November sales period in their history, Thomas L. King, Pontiac Motor Division's general sales manager, announced today.

King said sales totaled 32,059 for the November 11-20 period.

This compares to the 25,448 new cars sold in the same period last year and represents a 15 per cent increase over the old record of 27,866 set during the middle of November in 1965.

Italian Reds Oppose a Coalition

ROME (AP) — Italian Communists today told President Giuseppe Saragat they would oppose any attempt to form a new center-left coalition government to end the nation's political crisis.

The announcement by Communist leader Pietro Ingrao, after he conferred with Saragat, came as Italian cities seethed with student unrest in the ninth day of protest against the education system.

Reestablishment of a center-left coalition, dissolved last summer when the Socialists pulled out, is considered the only way Italy can have a majority government. Premier Giovanni Leone, who headed a caretaker minority government of Christian Democrats, resigned Tuesday to force a return to such a coalition by his party and the Socialists.

Ingrao told newsmen his party expressed "firm and decisive opposition" to such an attempt.

"There are millions of workers and young people who are pressing for answers to urgent labor and educational problems," he said. "The center-left is an inefficient solution."

Check Shows Daylight Savings Time Loses

From Our News Wires
LANSING — Michigan apparently will be out of step with the rest of the nation next spring when it comes time to turn the clocks ahead for Daylight Saving Time.

A just-completed, county-by-county check of the Nov. 5 state election returns spells apparent defeat for Daylight Savings Time by only 412 votes.

The unofficial tally of the votes cast Nov. 5 showed the DST question approved by a margin of some 25,000 votes.

But the secretary of state's office yesterday revealed its almost official count shows the measure defeated, 1,402,414 to 1,402,002.

If the State Board of Canvassers approves the tally Monday — usually only a formality — and if the final outcome survives any recounts that might be demanded, Michigan will stay on Standard Time year around, an exception to the Federal Uniform Time Act which sets the day for the time switch for the nation.

The vote reversal apparently was caused by an error in the total from Jackson County which on election night showed the proposition passing 20,059 to 1,828.

The final official return from the county placed the vote at 24,104 yes and 22,854 no — meaning the "no" side picked up more than 20,000 votes, enough to make the difference.

"We're sure of our figures," added State Elections Director Bernard Apol, Secretary of State James Hare noted backers of daylight savings time could petition for a recount of the vote. The deadline is 48 hours after the returns are certified by the Board of State Canvassers.

Any citizen may petition for a recount, but must pay $5 for each precinct rechecked. Apol said. A statewide recount thus would cost more than $30,000. If the recount reversed the election outcome, the money would be refunded.

The time question in Michigan has a stormy history that dates from passage by Congress of the Federal Uniform Time Act of 1966.

The federal act decreed savings time for the entire nation from the last Sunday in April until the last Sunday in October, but provided that a state could exempt itself from fast time by using its legislative process.

Michigan — joined only by Hawaii among the states — exempted itself by legislative act in 1967, but backers of savings time circulated referendum petitions and put the issue on the ballot. Michigan has been on savings time for the past two summers.

Perfect Weekend Forecast for Area

A perfect weekend is in store for Pontiac area residents — not too hot, not too cold with little chance of rainfall.

The official day-by-day forecast by the U.S. Weather Bureau looks like this:
TODAY — Mostly cloudy and mild. High 53 to 58. Tonight partly cloudy and not much temperature change, low 36 to 40.

Winds southerly at 12 to 20 miles per hour increasing to five to 12 miles tonight.

TOMORROW — Sunny and pleasant. High 50 to 55.

MONDAY — Increasing cloudiness and mild.

Precipitation probabilities in per cent are: Today 10, tonight 10 and tomorrow 5.

A sunny 39 was the low in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. By 2 p.m. the thermometer reading was 57.

Death Claims Retired Dentist

Retired Pontiac dentist Dr. William A. Gordon, former president and charter member of the Oakland County Dental Association, died yesterday. He was 74.

Services will be 3 p.m. Monday at the Donelson-Jones Funeral Home with burial in Perry Mount Park Cemetery.

Surviving are his wife, Helen; three daughters, Mrs. Robert Boyce of Pontiac, Mrs. Jack Mills of Ann Arbor and Mrs. William Bowman of Indianapolis; two sons, William A. of Warren and Robert N. of Lansing; two brothers, Lee E. Gordon and Howard N. Gordon, both of E. Grand; and 12 grandchildren.

DR. C. G. DARLING JR.

Hospital Official Is Dead at 69

Dr. Cyrenus G. Darling Jr., 69, who served as chief of surgery and chief of staff at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, died last night of a heart attack.

A memorial service will be Tuesday in the Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co. of Birmingham.

Surviving are his wife, Aubrey; two sons, Cyrenus G. Darling III of Birmingham and David P. of San Francisco, Calif.; two grandsons; and a brother, Dr. D. B. Darling of Los Angeles, Calif.

Dr. Darling of 401 Lone Pine Court, Bloomfield Hills, was a graduate of the University of Michigan Medical School.

Dr. Darling served as president of the Oakland County Medical Society and was on the staff of Pontiac General and William Beaumont hospitals. He had also served as a medical director for General Motors Corporation.

A fellow of the American College of Surgeons, Dr. Darling was a member of Phi Kappa Psi and Nu Sigma Nu fraternities, Orchard Lake Country Club and the Old Club.

Memorial tributes may be made to the Surgical Education Fund or the Heart Fund at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Tons of Stone Used to Fight Mine Fire

MANNINGTON, W. Va. (AP) — Although termed a dangerous move, tons of big limestone chunks dropped down two air shafts today in another effort to fight the flames trapping 78 men in a coal mine.

The roaring fire has defied all efforts to bring it under control since a series of explosions ignited it before dawn Wednesday and trapped the men. The other 21 miners working the midnight shift managed to get to the surface or were pulled from air shafts.

There has been no word from the 78 since the first of the explosions which apparently shattered the internal communications of Mountaineer Coal Co. No. 9 mine. Mine officials hold little hope that the men are alive.

The decision to fill the two shafts with the limestone blocks came last night. John Roberts, a public relations official of Consolidation Coal Co. Mountaineer's parent firm, said the operation could take hours and would be an "extremely dangerous" task.

'GOING LIKE BULLETS'

"They'll be going out like bullets," Roberts said, if mine pressures blow out the big blocks.

Workers finished dumping the 1,000 tons of limestone down the air shafts at 3 a.m. today.

Five minutes before the last truckload of limestone was dumped another small explosion shot a puff of smoke and some fire into the air at the main portal where the original blast occurred.

Consolidation Coal's publicity director, James McCartney, said the "puff" was not large enough to cause alarm and not important enough to even wake company officials to tell them.

McCartney said he had not determined whether the latest explosion—the first since 4:30 a.m. Friday—was related to the dumping of limestone.

Consolidation officials said earlier they did not want to risk other lives in the rescue efforts as long as the fire raged or there was the possibility of more explosions.

A blast early yesterday sent tremors all the way to the company store, about four miles away, and shot flames streaking skyward.

Roberts explained that engineers want at least 12 hours, and preferably 24, free of explosions and stable fire and gas conditions before rescue squads will be permitted to enter the shafts.

Cabinet Choice in Doubt

NEW YORK (AP) — Richard M. Nixon's search for a secretary of state is described by an associate as "still wide open" but the president-elect is said to be thinking now in terms of naming a career diplomat to the most prestigious post in his Cabinet.

Sources said Nixon is not close to settling on a man for the assignment. But the president-elect was said to be seeking a candidate with a reputation in diplomacy and a big background in foreign service.

Nixon is soliciting advice now on men who might meet his specifications. He talked about it yesterday with former Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton, who once was rated a likely choice himself. Scranton said he had made it clear that he would not take a full-time government position but accepted some special assignments.

Robert D. Murphy, 74, now in a State Department liaison assignment for the president-elect, has been ruled out as a Cabinet selection because of his age. The names of the men under active consideration are known only to Nixon and his innermost circle of advisers.

Scranton said Nixon had asked, and he had agreed, to work with two of those

Japanese Plane 'Crashes' Safely Into Frisco Bay

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The 107 persons aboard a Japan Air Lines jet can thank the highest tide of the year and a cool pilot for their "one-in-a-million" survival of a crash-landing into San Francisco Bay.

They didn't even get their feet wet Friday when the DC-8, arriving from Tokyo, belled into the foggy shallows of the bay, a mile short of the runway at San Francisco International Airport.

A 10-man investigation team from the National Transportation Safety Board today began probing the crash.

At the point of impact, just off Coyote Point, 18 miles south of San Francisco there was a rising seven-foot tide—the highest of the year.

MISSED RUNWAY
The plane's pilot, Kobei Asoh, 47, of Yokohama, with the airline 14 years, said his plane cut through the fog at 11 feet and settled into the water at a speed of 177 miles per hour.

A spokesman for the National Transportation Safety Board here said the plane was guided to the runway by an electronic beam and the pilot has to make corrections if the craft makes a faulty approach.

But Asoh said the plane's mechanical system was functioning normally.

advisers, John N. Mitchell and Lt. Gov. Robert Finch of California, in seeking personnel for the State Department.

Scranton would name no one, saying only that they had discussed "lots of very good people."

In other developments: Scranton said he had agreed to take on special assignments for Nixon in a variety of fields, beginning with work on housing programs and the problems of the Appalachian region.

Finch was reported to be on the verge of accepting a major administration post, probably in the Cabinet, but was said to be delaying because of disagreement with Gov. Ronald Reagan over who would be chosen his successor as lieutenant governor.

Oxford Twp. GI Killed in Combat

An Oxford Township soldier was among the recent combat deaths in Vietnam.

Killed at Da Nang Nov. 20 was Pfc. Donald P. Evans, whose wife, Sharon, lives at 1375 Indian Lake.

Evans was an Oxford area resident and attended schools there. Both his parents are deceased.

SINCE SEPTEMBER

Evans had been in Vietnam since September serving with Co. D, 5th Battalion, 7th Cavalry Airborne.

His wife said she and Evans had been married one day before he left for induction. He had two leaves prior to shipment overseas, she said.

His body is to be brought back to the area for burial.

Recipient of Second Heart Dies

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The longest U.S. survivor of heart transplant surgery, Everett C. Thomas, 47, died today of problems which developed after he received a second donor heart.

"His condition deteriorated steadily Friday night, with bleeding problems and diminishing kidney function culminating in irreversible cardiac arrest at 4 a.m.," a St. Luke's Episcopal Hospital spokesman said.

Thomas, an accountant from Phoenix, Ariz., received his first transplanted heart May 3.

Only Dr. Philip Blalberg, 58, of Cape Town, South Africa, who received a new heart Jan. 2, has lived longer than Thomas following transplant surgery.

NORMAL ROUTINE

Thomas was discharged from St. Luke's last summer and worked as a trust consultant. His wife, who received a car and once flew home to Phoenix for a short visit. His wife and two of his sons came here to live with him in an apartment.

His second heart transplant followed by hours the first implant of a second donor heart into a person.

Physicians at Stanford University Medical Center said Darrell Hammarley, 56, underwent two heart transplant operations within six hours Wednesday. Hammarley was reported progressing satisfactorily.

Also making satisfactory progress is William Karkner, 48, of Stockton, Calif., who received Stanford's ninth heart transplant Friday.

REJECTED HEART

Thomas was dismissed from the hospital here in July and began working at a bank. He reentered the hospital Oct. 9 however, with signs of rejecting his first transplanted heart and physician said he failed to respond to antirejection drugs.

Suspended NY Official Speaks in City

Fight for School Site Urged

Some 250 Pontiac parents were told last night by a suspended board member of Brooklyn's Ocean Hill-Brownsville experimental school district to "stick together" in their fight for a high school downtown.

Most parents attending were Negroes.

Mrs. Elan Rooke talked on the monthlong New York City teachers strike which ended this week in the absence of Rhody McCoy, the district's unit administrator, who was scheduled to speak at Bethune School.

"I just wish I'd lived here for three months," commented Mrs. Rooke. "I'd get me 10 parents together and you can rest assured that school would be built where the blacks want it."

Ocean Hill-Brownsville, a Negro and Puerto Rican slum area of Brooklyn, is an experimental school district under community control. It was the focal point of three New York City strikes this school year and another last spring.

"Keep on fighting," Mrs. Rooke, advised. "If parents stick together, someday you'll get exactly what you want."

She explained that the Ocean Hill-Brownsville School District was started because parents were "sick and tired of the white power structure telling blacks what to do."

When the Pontiac Board of Education decided to put the super high school for 4,500 students adjacent to Pontiac State Hospital rather than in the Negro area around Orchard Lake Avenue and Bagley, threats were made of black control of schools.

STAYED BEHIND

McCoy, who was reinstated as unit administrator Wednesday, stayed behind to handle the continuing trouble, otherwise "all eight schools would go up in flames," according to Mrs. Rooke.

Community control of schools is coming because parents feel central control doesn't meet the special needs of their children, Reginald Wilson, associate dean of testing at Oakland Community College, said after Mrs. Rooke's talk. "The schools and school personnel are accountable for what happens and what is to be done for students," he said. "Boards of education are only answerable to themselves."

HIGH SCHOOL SITE — Surveyors for Arthur W. Gillespie Associates, consulting engineers, in Birmingham are preparing topography information for construction of the Pontiac school district's new super high school on the grounds of Pontiac State Hospital. The surveyors began at the site — Elizabeth Lake and State — Wednesday afternoon. The school board approved the site selection Monday.

New W. Maple School Set to Open Tuesday

BIRMINGHAM — The new West Maple Junior High School, Inkster and Maple roads, is scheduled to open Tuesday, pending final inspection of the building.

The principal is William Blackwell, and the assistant is Robert Olson.

West Maple students will not attend classes on Monday, while administrators and teachers make the necessary preparations for moving into the new school. Classes will resume Tuesday at 8:30 a.m.

All classroom areas and school offices will be ready except the gymnasium, cafeteria and swimming pool. These are expected to be completed about the first of the year.

$3-MILLION SCHOOL

The cost of West Maple is $3,160,000, including construction and equipment. The school, with a capacity of 825 students, was designed by O'Dell, Hewlett and Luckenbach, Inc., Architects and Engineers, Birmingham.

West Maple is a team-teaching, flexible scheduled school similar to Covington Junior High.

This fall West Maple students have been attending Covington Junior High on double session.

Students at Covington will resume regular school hours, 8:30 a.m.-3:40 p.m. on Monday.

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — A former area resident will return to this city Monday to speak at the opening of the Cranbrook segment of the 14th annual forum of the American Institute of Architects.

William R. Ewald Jr., a 1940 graduate of Bloomfield Hills High School and one-time member of the Detroit Planning Commission, will be the speaker for the program which begins at 9:30 a.m. at the Cranbrook Gallery of Arts Hall.

Topic for his presentation, which will include a multimedia, multi-speaker movie, is "A Future Full of Change."

Ewald, a design consultant with offices in Washington, D.C., has served as assistant commissioner of the Urban Renewal Administration, senior vice president of Doxidax Associates, Inc., and chief of development for the Arkansas Industrial Development Commission under Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller.

The forum, which opens today in Ann Arbor, will include representatives from student chapters of the AIA in 81 schools of architecture in the United States.

After the Cranbrook program, delegates will tour inner-city areas in Detroit, the General Motors Technical Center in Warren and the Ford Motor Co. plant in River Rouge before returning to Ann Arbor.

Jerusalem Is Quiet After Bombing

JERUSALEM (AP) — The Arab sector of the Holy City remained quiet under a tight curfew today while Israeli investigators probed yesterday's market blast that killed 12 persons and injured more than 50 including at least 17 seriously injured.

The curfew, imposed at 8 p.m. yesterday, was to remain in effect indefinitely.

Border troops and police patrolled the narrow streets in the old walled city and the wide thoroughfares of the new business sector. Others stood guard at the entrance to the Arab quarters, stopping all Arabs trying to return to East Jerusalem.

Traffic Survey Says Women Heed Law Best

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—Women drivers obey the laws better than men, a survey shows, with one exception: Women are more stubborn about yielding the right-of-way. The California Highway Patrol, after compiling statistics of 1967 traffic accidents involving death or injury, said 42 per cent of the state's drivers are females. But of all death or injury accidents involving women, more than 28 per cent involved failure to yield right-of-way.

Only 18.5 per cent of the men violated right-of-way rules.

From there on, however, the ladies had all the best of it.

Of men involved in such accidents, 23 per cent had been drinking—against 9.6 per cent for the women.

One-third of the men were driving too fast, one-fourth of the women.

Of 101 drivers involved in an accident while passing on a curve, 15 were women.

BICYCLE ACCIDENTS

Going further, the patrol looked into bicycle accidents.

Some 3,000 males were injured on bicycles in the state in 1967 and 34 were killed, compared with 662 females injured and 11 killed.

Pooches Get a Free Rein

LONDON (U)—The pooches of Britain have been given the freedom of the nation's pubs.

A high court judge made the ruling that a man popping into a pub for a pint need not be parted from his pooch at the portal.

The court reached its decision because, seven years ago, Elizabeth Carroll fell over a tubby boxer in a tavern called the Lord of Hay and broke a leg.

Mrs. Carroll, 54, sued the dog's owner and the pub's landlord for damages. After years of waiting, her case finally came before the high court Thursday.

CLAIM DISMISSED

The judge, Sir Gilbert James Paull, dismissed her claim and spoke up for customers who enjoy the company of their dogs while drinking.

"In my judgment," he said, "there is no general principle on which a licensee or his wife ought to forbid customers to bring in dogs, provided the dogs appear to be well behaved."

"Undoubtedly there are some people who would not go into a bar when out with a dog unless they could take the dog with them."

"I see no reason why people should be forbidden to do so as a general principle of law."

ALMOST IMPOSSIBLE

Nor should a dog owner have to keep "a constant eye" on his faithful friend even in a crowded tavern.

"This would render conversation at the bar almost impossible," the judge ruled.

Nor did he agree that pooches in pubs ought to be kept on a leash.

"Tripping over dog leashes is a cause of many accidents," said Sir Gilbert.

LOVE LICENSE — Mrs. Elsie Steeh, an employee of the State License Bureau, found license "Love-Me" when she opened a shipment of new plates at the Warren bureau. The shipment was from Southern Michigan Prison at Jackson. Prisoners make about nine million plates annually, and each year a few odd messages find their way to the outside world.

Gag Rule Lifted in Crash Investigations

WASHINGTON (AP) — The best informed—heretofore have been almost completely under wraps.

Under the old "part 311" of regulations of the Civil Aeronautics Board, they were allowed only to tell newsmen the name of the pilot, identify the plane as to type and say whether the accident was fatal.

DELATED INFORMATION — Beyond that they could only refer questions to CAB headquarters in Washington, a practice that could delay information on crashes for days.

The field men—those closest to the accident—have been briefed on the new procedures, and provided with a fact book on how to release information and the extent to which they may go.

In effect, instructions from safety Board Chairman Joseph J. O'Connell Jr. are to give the facts openly, freely and in an above-board manner, but not get involved in speculation as to what happened or as to the causes of an accident.

"Our business in investigating is the collection of useful information as to aircraft accidents," O'Connell told the field men. "This information is no good unless we disseminate it. The gag rule is inconsistent with the whole concept of accident prevention."

CALLED IRONIC

Field officers are instructed not to wait to be queried about an accident but to telephone news media immediately on such an occurrence.

O'Connell said it was ironic that the CAB for 25 years before the NTSB took over its investigative duties two years ago felt it had to play its cards so close to its vest, and to restrict the release of accident information tightly.

O'Connell, CAB chairman from 1948 to 1950, said accident investigators commonly became so preoccupied with finding the causes of accidents and with pinpointing blame that they overlooked the need to distribute the information to make it of any use.

He said the Federal Aviation

Administration, with the delegated authority to investigate nonfatal light-plane accidents—80 to 85 per cent of the total accidents—are in this category—all along has had a more liberal policy permitting field men to give out accident data.

Legendary Career Ends With Death of Alaska Pilot

SEATTLE (AP) — Near the most community, recalled on a Seattle visit Friday that his long-time friend was a "quiet" hero with steel nerves and the ability to fly into dangerous Arctic ice areas where few others dared venture.

For more than a decade, the 37-year-old bush pilot's daily routine often involved life and death. Thursday he died, along with six others, in the crash of his twin-engine plane near the frozen Barrow, Alaska, airstrip. He was almost an artist with where his many daring mercy missions made him a legend in the Great North.

Since Fischer first started flying in Alaska in the early 1950s, after moving from Governor's Employment Adv. Wilkes-Barre, Pa., he was in sorry Commission when his plane developed engine trouble and went down near where humorist Will Rogers and aviator Wiley Post died in a plane crash in 1935.

One of the men who knew Fischer best called him "one of the great Alaska pilots," a special breed among themselves. Max Brewer, director of the Arctic Research Laboratory at Barrow, Alaska's northernmost community, recalled on another man who lost an arm in an accident. For this Fischer was awarded the Distinguished Service Medal, the highest award the military can bestow upon a civilian.

In October the same year, Fischer was called to help in a rescue mission when a man was badly injured in an explosion on the Ice Island.

Fischer also flew risky missions in the 1950s into the Arctic Circle for government survey teams who were mapping what was to become the Dew Line early warning system to spot enemy aircraft.

In 1958 he became chief pilot for Arctic Research Laboratory—a position he held for 8½ years until forming his own firm, Barrow Air Taxi.

He also flew biologists into far reaches of the polar ice cap to study the behavior of polar bears.

Fischer is survived by his widow and six children who live at Barrow, just south of the polar cap.

Court Gives NY Killer Just Desserts

The PRESS has consistently expressed approval of the administration of stern though equitable justice for those convicted of criminal acts, and criticism of prescribed punishment that bore the stamp of undue leniency.

For a case in point, reference is made to a report datelined New York that appeared on Page One of yesterday's edition of this newspaper.

It relates to the sentence handed down by State Supreme Court Justice Francis Blountstein against a defendant convicted of dragging a middle-aged woman into his apartment, and subsequently raping, robbing and strangling her to death.

Convicted on two counts of first-degree murder and one of second-degree murder, the court passed sentence of life imprisonment each on the first two counts and 20 years to life on the third. Moreover, it was stipulated that the sentences were to be served concurrently, thus precluding eligibility of the prisoner for parole after serving 26 years on a single conviction of first-degree murder.

In America's continuous fight against its lawless and criminal elements, a severe, undeviating precept of punishment by the judiciary against the enemies of society is essential in effectively supporting the work of law enforcement agencies and providing maximum protection for the law-abiding citizenry.

We heartily commend Justice Blountstein on the sound and uncompromising punishment he imposed on the perpetrator of an atrocious crime, and point to it as exemplary dispensation of justice meriting the profound consideration of the Nation's judicial establishment.

Medical Science Swats Hong Kong Flu Bugs

Thanks to alert Medical scientists, the invasion by the Hong Kong flu bug has not—and probably will not—reach anything like the proportions of major influenza pandemics of the past.

A pandemic is a super epidemic. The wave of influenza that killed 550,000 Americans and about 21 million people around the world in 1918 was the worst pandemic in modern times.

Influenza pandemics seem to follow 10-year cycles. In 1967, it was Asian flu, this year it's Hong Kong flu. Both of them are much milder than the 1918 flu, but vaccines that were developed against the Asian and other types are ineffective against the Hong Kong variety.

The reason is that viruses have a nasty habit of mutating, of changing their basic genetic make-up. Periodically, the outer shell or "overcoat" of the influenza virus undergoes what is called an antigenic shift, which makes it immune to existing vaccines.

A major shift, as has occurred in the present case, corresponds to a major style change in the virus' overcoat. Then, like a woman with a new wardrobe, it's ready to travel.

That is how it is described by Dr. THOMAS FRANCIS JR., a University of Michigan professor of epidemiology, who is credited with sounding the first alarm in this country about the Hong Kong virus, and by Dr. FRED DAVENPORT of the U-M School of Public Health.

Fortunately, the antigenic shift was detected in time to allow commercial vaccine manufacturers to go into production with a new vaccine that penetrates the Hong Kong bug's overcoat. Forecasts indicate that millions of doses will have been made by the end of December, enough to significantly reduce the spread of the disease.

Nixon Weighs Cabinet Appointment

By EVERETT DIRKSEN

The great hunt-and-pick game is on in great force. Sometime within the next 60 days, President-elect Richard Nixon on must select members of his Cabinet, and in the meantime we can wonder who they will be. Perhaps the wondering DIRKSEN can be channelled into some practical conjectures if we remind ourselves which Cabinet posts must be filled.

One point is most important, however, Mr. Nixon keeps a close mouth. I don't think anybody but he can yet know who the Cabinet may be composed of.

In wondering, you tend to procrastinate your decision on the dramatically important positions like State and Defense. So your mind takes a chance on the post of secretary of the Interior. Tim Babcock, former governor of Montana, is a name to wonder about. So are the names of Sen. Gordon Allott of Colorado, Sen. Len Jordan of Idaho and Ernest Wilkinson, president of Brigham Young University, Provo, Utah.

For secretary of agriculture, the name of Albert Quie of Minnesota, who for many years has been a member of Congress, has been mentioned. So has Don Pearlberg, former assistant secretary of agriculture and presently on the faculty of Purdue University, who has been thought of ever since he began to be such an active Nixon supporter.

Some men with great practical experience have been suggested as possibly being in line for the Cabinet position of secretary of transportation—former president Adm. A. J. Burke, also retired, and who Fred Gurley, the former president of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railroad; C. R. Smith, former president of American Air Lines, and Charles Danielian, who has been prominent in the field of maritime commerce.

For secretary of commerce, the names of Gov. George Romney of Michigan, Gov. John Chafee of Rhode Island, Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller of Arkansas and Gov. Claude Kirk of Florida have all been put forward in various high-level conversations.

The important post of secretary of labor has had the names of two men mentioned—Boyd Leedom, former chairman of the National Labor Relations Board and a resident of South Dakota, and Rocco Siciliano, former assistant secretary of labor.

There appears to be tremendous interest in the Cabinet post of attorney general. Among those whose names have surfaced are Richard Kleindienst, of the Nixon staff and a close friend of Mr. Nixon; Charles Rhyne, former president of the American Bar Assn., who was active in the Nixon campaign; John Mitchell, partner in the Nixon law firm; Lewis Wyman, member of Congress, former Hampshire and former president of the National Assn. of Attorneys General.

Then comes the important post of secretary of defense. The man chosen will be the civilian head of the Department of defense which includes all of our national security forces. Some who have been mentioned for this vital position are: Thomas Gates, defense secretary in the Eisenhower Administration; Thomas E. Dewey, former governor of New York; retired Adm. Arthur Radford, who once was chief of naval operations; and Adm. Arleigh Burke, also retired, and who was also chief of naval operations.

For the post of secretary of the Treasury, the man who will direct our fiscal and financial affairs, there has been speculation with the names of Maurice Stans, director of the bureau of the budget under President Eisenhower; David Rockefeller, president of the Chase Manhattan Bank of New York; David Kennedy, chairman of the board of the First National Bank of Chicago; Douglas Dillon, former secretary of the Treasury.

Now we get to the post that probably is the most talked of in the government, after the Presidency, and that is the secretary of state. The man who holds that office will direct our diplomatic and foreign affairs, subject, of course, to the approval of the President. Many names have already been mentioned.

The list includes Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, who at one time served as assistant secretary of state; Henry Cabot Lodge, former senator and ambassador to Saigon and Bonn; Allan Dulles, brother of the late Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and former director of the Central Intelligence Agency; Thomas E. Dewey (also mentioned for defense secretary); Sen. Thurston Morton, who served in both the House and the Senate and as assistant secretary of state.

If you were President-elect Nixon, who would you choose for these highest level positions in our government? Which of the men named would you wish to be your intimate advisers on national problems in the Administration during the challenging years ahead? There are many others in our national life who would serve well in the Cabinet. The men named could be any of those listed above or someone we have not even thought of.

The POWER of FAITH

By WOOD EMMER

Another Thanksgiving Day is upon us. We have many things for which to give thanks, among them the heritage of the day, for it represents faith and hope.

As St. Peter was told by Jesus that "... upon this Rock I will build my church," so we find Plymouth Rock which the Pilgrims used to step ashore also a symbol of strength. The Pilgrims had undergone and still faced uncertainty and hardship, but they took time to give thanks for their blessings.

We today have had and still face great problems, but let us stop and give thanks for our blessings and pray for the strength, faith and tenacity of St. Peter, the "Rock" of the church and, the Pilgrim Fathers and their Plymouth Rock.

Confident Living:

Draw on Your Built-In Power

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

Everyone has more inner strength than he realizes. In fact, it is doubtful whether we use half, maybe even a quarter, of the strength we possess. Actually it is a pity how we settle for living on a trickle of power when there have been built into us reservoirs of strength that are almost incredible.

Sometimes these inner power sources emerge under crisis. Human beings perform amazing feats in crisis conditions — things they could not possibly do otherwise.

A truck overturned on a young boy, pinning him to the ground. A crowd gathered. Efforts were made to lift the truck off him, but to no avail.

Then along came a fair-sized man. He never said a word. He saw the situation and responded in depth. He put his shoulder under the truck and lifted it just enough to allow the boy to be pulled free.

Later when he tried to do the same thing apart from a crisis situation he could not budge it. Where was the strength? Outside of him? Of course not. It was deep inside and it was activated when need arose.

It could be that the greatest achievement in life is to know how to bring out of one's self the potential strength that is there. It can be believed out, or practiced out, some pray it out.

Amazing indeed the inherent strength people have. Why then do we go crawling through life on hands and knees, afraid of tough situations and hard problems, or tragic occurrences?

The newspapers carried a story about a pilot in a small plane in northwestern Ontario. The pilot set his little plane down on its pontoons in a lake in a remote area. He stepped out of the cockpit onto the pontoons. The propeller was still turning as he briefly attempted to remain there only briefly. On the wet pontoon he slipped. The propeller struck him a blow on the head, swirled him around and toppled him unconscious into the water.

Apparently the cold water revived him and he came to. He tried to climb out of the water back onto the pontoon when he discovered to his horror that the whirling propeller had cut off his right arm below the shoulder. He was bleeding profusely.

Far from civilization, in a lake, arm cut off, lifeblood pouring out... What a situation for exploring this inner strength idea we have been discussing. What would you do? Panic? Well, that would hardly help.

What did he do? He says, "I sent up a quick prayer and it was answered." Painfully he pulled himself up onto the pontoons. Praying he would not black out he struggled into the cockpit and after several tries fashioned a tourniquet with a piece of rope. He lifted the plane off the water and flew 15 miles to a point where another pilot flew him to a hospital. The life of the 28-year-old pilot was saved although his arm was gone.

The newspaper writer commented on the incredible power that the man demonstrated in the crisis he experienced. Built-in power was the answer.

That power is built into you too. Few persons ever face a situation such as this pilot's, but to some degree everyone will face crisis requiring more power than we feel capable of delivering. But you have that power within you.

Never say, "I can't handle it." For you can. Indeed you can handle whatever you must. Hold that thought that you are stronger than you think—that you have what it takes.

Draw on your built-in power. It is there waiting to be used.

'Swift Justice Necessary to Curb Increasing Crime'

It has been stated by noted criminologists that the most effective deterrent to crime is the certainty of a quick trial and sure punishment. Perhaps the cause of our ever-increasing crimes of violence is the lack of this certainty.

The suspected assassins of Robert Kennedy and Martin Luther King were promptly arrested and even though both appear open and shut cases, many months have gone by while clever attorneys and sympathetic judges continue to postpone trial by using the flimsy excuse that the prisoner wants a different attorney. The judge obligingly moves the trial date ahead several months so the new attorney can prepare his case. Suppose, as the new trial date nears the accused decides he wants still another change. Another postponement? And another?

After a year or more of delays the trial is on and it lasts additional months, at the end of which a clever lawyer convinces a tired jury that his client was insane when he pulled the trigger. Swift justice, my eye. The criminologists are right. And to our sorrow violent crimes will continue to plague our Nation.

'Faith in Road Commission Is Encouraging'

The lone appointment made at the Nov. 12 board of supervisors meeting was the unanimous reappointment of the road commissioner. It is encouraging to know that the supervisors have again found faith in the road commission. The public can now take complete comfort in this reaffirmed faith and look forward to the County using surplus money for getting our roads fixed.

Reader Views Problems of Education Costs

Local taxes for local schools means local control over what is taught in our schools. Building trades unions strike for more money, building costs rise and we pay. Teachers want more money but we don't listen. Building Trades strike again and we pay. Teachers say "please," but we don't listen. Building trades strike again and we scream for State aid to help with costs. State says "okay but you will be taxed more to meet demands of building trades." Teachers unionize. We didn't fight union demands of people with less education so why should we fight the teachers? Mothers carry signs for more State aid while school boards fight teachers.

Results: We pay more than we can afford while we are working. We must sell our homes when we retire because we can't afford the taxes. State and Federal governments pay the bills with our money and dictate what must be taught in schools. Our children come home from school at noon with their minds full of garbage on peaceful co-existence.

Citizens Discuss Decision on School Site

The unfortunate decision of the Pontiac Board of Education to place the new high school complex on the grounds of the State Hospital may prove to be the death knell for a great portion of our City. The school district had a unique opportunity to blend education with community activities and significantly decrease the problem of racial polarization that our City faces. We will not continue to divide education from society by isolating another large school from the mainstream of the community. Wisdom has once again been laid aside for expediency and the Pontiac Board of Education has demonstrated conclusively that it has a much greater capacity for following than leading.

JAMES S. BRIGHAM
A PONTIAC TEACHER

What is the procedure to impeach elected school board members? The four board members who voted against progress in Pontiac should and will be eliminated from office. Why have advisory committees, at considerable expense of time and money, if the recommendations are to be totally ignored. This is not a community to be run by a few white people without regard to the need or desire of the citizenry of Pontiac.

Question and Answer

When one talks of being prejudiced, to whom are they referring? I'm under the impression the police department is hiring only Negroes. If this is true, white people are being discriminated against.

JUST ASKING

REPLY

We talked with Mr. Santawan of City Personnel, who said the recent ruling by City Manager Warren says the department must hire any qualified Negro who meets qualifications, whether or not the police force quota is filled. It would be a matter for the Michigan Civil Rights Commission to decide whether such a policy is discriminatory, should the matter be taken before them.

Question and Answer

Why do we pay for a dog warden? You can never get to talk to him, and he won't return your call. Will you please use some influence of The Press and my tax money to at least get that dog warden to call my home in the morning at 332-8597?

FED UP

REPLY

We don't know if it was Press influence, your tax money or just that Don Sheridan at the Warden's office was a good guy, but he promised he would call you as soon as he finished talking to us. He also promised to call again if he couldn't reach you then. Hope you were nice to him—he was awfully nice about your request.

May Affect 40 Million People

Report Warns of SST 'Booms'

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Scientists weighing the sonic boom problem of supersonic transport planes of the future estimate that for up to 40 million Americans it would be like passing an oncoming truck on a super-highway as often as 50 times a day.

Twelve prominent scientists, in a report entitled "Noise and the Sonic Boom in Relation to Man," this week urged the government to limit supersonic flight over populated areas until experimental studies determine the effects on mankind of the boom.

The report said: "The number of supersonic transport planes expected sometime after 1975 would subject between 20 million and 40 million Americans under a path 12½ miles on either side of the expected flight tracks to five to 50 sonic booms per day."

A sonic boom is the shock wave produced by a plane flying faster than the speed of sound, about 640 m.p.h. at sea level, pushing air aside as it moves through the sky. The result is a sharp sound like a thunder-clap, sometimes forceful enough to break windows and crack plaster walls.

IMPACT FACTORS

The size of the plane and its weight, speed and altitude combine with weather conditions to determine the impact of the boom.

The report resulted from a study ordered by Interior Secretary Stewart L. Udall last Dec. 20 on the basis that the sonic boom was an environmental problem as well as a technical one.

The Federal Aviation Administration, commenting on the report, said:

"The secretary of transportation and the administrator of the Federal Aviation Administration have said publicly and repeatedly that commercial flights at supersonic speeds over the United States will not be permitted if the consequences of the sonic boom are judged to exceed public acceptance."

As of now, indications are the FAA will limit SST flights to overwater routes.

NOT UNTIL '72

The United States' SST is not scheduled to make its first flight until 1972 and the plane will not be delivered to airlines before 1976. But the British-French supersonic Concorde is undergoing test flights and is scheduled to be delivered to airlines in 1972.

The scientists' report said the booms created by the SST "would be perceived by its hearers as equivalent in annoyance to the noise from a large truck traveling at 60 miles an hour at a distance of about 30 feet."

The report said that an additional 36-45 million persons within 12.5 to 25 miles of the flight would be subjected to "one to 50 booms per day of somewhat lower intensity."

The boom is a cone-shaped wave of sound that trails the plane. Those closest to the flight path are subject to the loudest noise.

A Small Boy Enjoys A Romeo Rocket Ride

Historic Romeo traditionally celebrates a colorful end to summer with its highly heralded peach festival. Presented again over the four-day Labor Day weekend, this year's 35th annual festival attracted another record turnout.

Three parades, beauty queens, carnival games and an old-fashioned hymn sing combined with a host of other activities to make the celebration as festive as any in the community's history.

Enthusiasm for the event has grown with the community, and even the Labor Day rains failed to wash out the festive atmosphere. "Cars were lined up for over a mile to get into town," said one festival spokesman. "The State Police were forced to make them turn around and go home—there just wasn't any more room."

Miss Donna Jean Christenson of Flint was crowned Romeo Peach Queen for the coming year and reigned over the celebration. Her first maid of honor was Sharon Denise Kiehler of Lapeer and her second attendant was Cheryl Jan Rademacher of Port Huron.

Rio Woman May Be First to Beat Rabies

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP)—In a hospital here a 25-year-old woman may become a significant part of medical history. If Candida de Souza Barbosa lives, doctors say, she will be the first person on record to have survived rabies.

Over a month ago Candida, who makes her meager living by patching clothes, was bitten on the foot by a stray dog as she passed through a park. Such things are not out of the ordinary in a city where stray dogs abound, and she soon forgot about the incident.

Thirty days later she began to feel nervous and agitated, later developing pains and partial paralysis which made it impossible for her to get out of bed.

Doctors from Francisco de Castro Hospital, which specializes in rabies, found that the girl had contracted the disease. A team of surgeons headed by Dr. Rafael Aquiles Cali performed a unique brain operation in an attempt to save Candida's life. Making two small holes in her head, they inserted two plastic tubes and pumped in hyperimmune antirabies gamma globulin.

OUT OF DANGER
That was Nov. 9. Today, Candida shows every sign of recovery, and her doctors say she is probably out of danger.

One text says: "Rabies in man is uniformly fatal when associated with excitation of the nervous system and the hydrophobia symptom." Dr. Max Tarpin, who was responsible for much of the operation, said Candida had shown "a clinical history and all the clinical features of rabies," including the hydrophobia symptom. The latter results from the rabid person's fear of water, associated with inability to swallow.

Death ordinarily occurs in humans three to five days after the onset of symptoms. Rabies in domestic animals causes hundreds of deaths in Brazil each year. Exact statistics are unavailable, but medical sources here estimate that as many as 60 people have died from the disease in Rio alone this year.

Viet Legislators Hit for Bringing In Pinup Calendars

SAIGON (AP)—It was just this week that the National Assembly until the lady deputy blew the whistle on the nude pinups. She did feel, however, that her colleagues were making too much of a good thing out of their overseas junkies. The target was Tran Duy Tu, leader of the biggest political grouping in the assembly. Amid desk bashing, he shouted, "foul" and said the lady was attempting to undermine his political foundations.

It wasn't that Mrs. Kieu Mong had more ammunition. Along with a few other members of the assembly's anticorruption committee, she drove out to Tan Son Nhut airport to see the customs officials. Sure enough, they had impounded about 1,000 neatly rolled and lavishly illustrated calendars brought in a few days before by Deputy Tu. They also had two big suitcases, weighing about 200 pounds each, which they had not opened but were holding for "instructions."

Mrs. Tu noted to her fellow deputies that such a bundle of matter comes under the ban. Calendars would bring a tidy profit on Saigon's newsstands.

They are freely sold although they have been banned since the stringent reform decrees of President Ngo Dinh Diem some 15 years ago. All "lewd and lascivious" matter comes under the ban. This aspect of the matter did not concern Mrs. Tu. She was after the assemblymen who junket overseas—more than half the 137-member assembly has gone abroad this year, some on missions to South Africa and Latin America. Last year Americans bought more than 60 million goldfish for pets.

British Angry at Tax Hikes, Fear Franc Devaluation

LONDON (AP) — The British recoiled with shock and anger today from the latest tax increases, while financial experts predicted worse was in store if the French franc is devalued.

Some financial commentators said the 10 per cent sales tax slapped on consumer goods in Britain, a government move to save the pound sterling from a second devaluation in just over a year, would fail to solve the country's domestic difficulties.

And they said measures so far announced in Bonn would not save the French franc from devaluation, nor solve the world's monetary crisis.

Heavy devaluation of the franc, reported in Bonn, rumored in Paris but not confirmed by French President Charles de Gaulle, will mean more trouble for the pound sterling, said the experts.

SPENDING SPREE

The immediate effect of the British government's move to cut back consumer spending was a spending spree. People rushed to stock up for Christmas before the new tax measures reached the stores.

Chancellor of the Exchequer Roy Jenkins told the House of Commons Friday the pound will not be devalued. But as a defense of its international value, he announced a package of tax increases on drink, tobacco, gasoline, consumer durables, luxury items, food and clothing.

An innovation was an import deposit system, under which importers of goods other than food and raw materials will have to deposit 50 per cent of the value with the government. The deposit will be repaid six months later, Jenkins said.

The man-in-the-street reacted with criticism.

AID TO CONSERVATIVES?

"Diabolical," said Don Sagers, a London accountant. "Murder," said Bill Smithson, a printing executive. "I'll emigrate," said Maureen Norris, a telephone operator.

Harold Hutchinson, political correspondent for the pro-government Sun, forecast the squeeze will mean victory for Edward Heath's opposition Conservatives at the general election in October 1971.

Heath launched his attack on Prime Minister Harold Wilson's government in a speech at Derby today.

Conservative spokesmen charged the reason for the cuts lay not in international monetary discord but in mismanagement at home. A showdown is expected in the Commons Monday night, when the Conservatives reportedly will seek a vote of censure against the government.

OPTIMISM EXPRESSED

The impact of the new taxes was greater in light of recent statements by government leaders. Only last Sunday Jenkins expressed optimism about the economy's prospects. Employment Minister Barbara Castle two weeks ago said no squeeze was on the way, and Wilson had talked of an economic miracle in the making.

The Economic Miracle—All Prices Up," headlined the Daily Express.

"The Bonn conference solved nothing. Indeed, its patchwork papering over the real problems may only defer still more serious crises."

"The Times" said: "The events of the past week have shown that the finance ministers and central bankers of the world are not able to control their own system. The mere trappings of the event have shown a loss of control which must permanently damage confidence in currencies."

"The British have had one economic crisis after another. All have been traceable to some mismanagement, some failure in elementary foresight on the part of the government," said London's Daily Express.

"Once more the same old dreary story is told. But this time with a new excuse, this time it is the foreigners."

The pro-Labor Sun said: "We are not taking these steps for De Gaulle's benefit but to save ourselves. Britain has been allowed to indulge in a consumer spree for too long."

"It is dismal that taxes have to be increased at this stage, but our financial condition left no option."

Canadian officials in Ottawa voiced fears that the new British import restrictions will set back Canada's sales of manufactured products, the area where the nation has concentrated its export efforts.

Government officials calculated about one-fifth of Canada's exports to Britain, worth $240 million a year, will be hit.

The ancient Egyptians believed 13 was a lucky number. For them there were 12 steps to be climbed during a lifetime. The 13th, led to everlasting life.

Dec. 22 Wedding in New York Announced for Julie and David

NEW YORK (AP) — Julie Nixon and David Eisenhower will be married Dec. 22 at 4 p.m. at Marble Collegiate Church, in New York it was announced today by Mrs. Richard Nixon's press secretary, Gerry Van der Heuvel.

NEW YORK (AP) — Julie Nixon once said she and David Eisenhower did not want a White House wedding because it would turn into a state affair and so they decided to get married in a church.

The formal announcement of the wedding plans of President-elect Richard M. Nixon's 29-year-old daughter to the grandson of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower would be made this weekend, Mrs. Nixon's press secretary said Friday.

Women's Wear Daily said the wedding would be Dec. 21 at the Cathedral of St. John the Divine in Manhattan and would be managed by Priscilla of Boston, who also took care of arrangements for the wedding of President Johnson's daughter Luci to Patrick Nugent.

Gerry Van der Heuvel, named Friday as Mrs. Nixon's press secretary, scheduled a news conference today to announce the details.

During the recent presidential campaign Julie told newsmen she and David didn't want to get married in the White House.

"A White House wedding, if my father is elected, would turn into a state affair," she said. "And neither of us want that so we definitely decided to get married in a church."

David has also indicated some definite ideas about the wedding. He told reporters five weeks ago that he didn't want the ceremony turned into a television spectacular.

Eisenhower, 21, said the TV coverage of the marriage of President Johnson's daughter interfered with his (David's) desire to see a baseball game between the Cleveland Indians and Boston Red Sox.

He said he didn't want his marriage to interfere with anyone's desire to see a New York Ranger hockey game on television.

The friendship of David and Julie grew from their childhood acquaintance when, as he once put it, she "was playing dolls and I was playing soldiers" and they had nothing in common, to college dates and finally their engagement.

That took place in New York on Saturday, Nov. 25, 1967. The ring David gave Julie had belonged to his great-grandmother, Mrs. John S. Doud of Denver.

David's grandmother, Mamie Eisenhower, offered it to him when he told her of his plans to get engaged. At the time David was a sophomore in Amherst College and Julie a sophomore at Smith College.

'Girl Talk' Views Week's Events

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Some quotable quotes from women during the week:

"I've never known a First Lady yet who did not become more fashion conscious as time went on. As she is more in the public eye she will become even more aware of how clothes walk or sit down or photograph, or how the press reacts to them." — Designer Mollie Parnis in an interview commenting on the future fashion role of Mrs. Richard Nixon.

"The paradox is that this country is full of brilliant, experienced and knowledgeable women, capable of important government positions not just in the area of women's interest but in top decision-making levels of government. Yet aside from one senator and a few congresswomen, they remain largely unknown and unsought." — Marya Mannes, critic, writer and editor, in a television appearance.

"Everybody else gets married in the summer!" — Barbara Anne Eisenhower explaining why she chose November for her marriage to Fernando Echavarria-Urbe.

"When someone is spending millions on a film, I don't think it's too much to ask you to take your clothes off. It's not like asking you to change your religion or anything." — South African actress Genevieve Waite explaining the many nude scenes in her new movie.

"I love this country. I love this country. We have to feel real proud of this country." — Cuban exile Josephine Sosa on becoming a U.S. citizen upon the death of her husband in combat in Vietnam.

"For a professional woman, thinking about women is an occupational disease, like arthritis or housemaid's knee." — Prof. Carolyn G. Hellbrun of Columbia University in a review of a new book on women.

Mezzo-Soprano Slates Detroit Recital Sunday

Anne Ayer, Massachusetts born mezzo-soprano, will be heard in a recital of arias and art songs at the Lecture Hall of the Detroit Institute of Arts, Sunday afternoon at 2:30 p.m.

Her program will include groups by Mozart, Schubert, Rachmaninoff, Mussorgsky, French songs by Faure and will conclude with a group of musical selections by the American composers Rorem and Barber.

TRAINING

Miss Ayer began her formal vocal training at the Peabody Conservatory of Music in Baltimore. Currently, an area of major interest to Miss Ayer is the Russian repertoire, sung in the original language.

In this field, she has the opportunity to work with the great Russian soprano, Marie Kurenko. The Mussorgsky arias on her program reflect this interest.

The American mezzo-soprano has just returned from her second European tour, it was the ninth foreign tour she has made within the past few years. Indeed, Miss Ayer has toured more extensively and is far better known abroad than in her native country.

Miss Ayer has sung in the Netherlands, France, Finland and Greece, she has also toured South America and the Middle East.

Tickets are on sale at Hudson's and at Grinnell's.

Assuming You Are in No Rush-- Postpone Your Wedding Plans

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Three months ago, I was the maid of honor at my best friend's wedding. Shortly afterwards she announced she was expecting. (In fact she hurried the wedding a little because of her condition.)

Well, now I am getting married and I promised this friend that she could be my maid of honor. But Abby, she's in her ninth month! How will that look? She'll be terribly hurt if I don't ask her as we've been best friends since first grade and I'd rather die than hurt her feelings.

Should I ask her and hope she refuses? What if she accepts? Please help me as I am running out of time.

DESPERATE: If you don't want her because of her obvious condition, don't ask her. (She might accept.) But if you'd rather "die" than hurt her feelings, how about postponing your wedding until after she delivers? (I assume YOU'RE not in the same kind of rush?)

DEAR ABBY: Years ago, when my widowed mother came to live with me and my husband, she made our lives so miserable that I determined that I would never bring such misery to my children if I ever had to live with them. One day I sat down and wrote myself a letter. In it were some pertinent rules, and on the outside of the envelope I wrote, "To be opened on the day I go to live with my daughter, heaven forbid." I tucked it away in an old book and forgot about it.

I've been widowed and self-sufficient for six years, but now I was recently forced to give up my job and go to live with my oldest daughter. I've opened that letter and I think your older readers might benefit from it, as I intend to. Here are the rules:

- Give what you can toward your keep. Any budget will stretch just so far.
- Keep yourself clean and neat.
- Remember, it is THEIR home. Be

Alumni Visit Planned at Interlochen Campus

INTERLOCHEN — The Thanksgiving Day week-end brings an influx of visitors to the Interlochen Arts Academy campus, among them about 50 alumni and the remainder, parents of students.

A diversified program has been planned for alumni, who are to start arriving Wednesday evening. It is said by Robert Murphy, head of student affairs. They will attend — and Becky Goud, National Merit student in the class of 1968, is to speak at a chapel service at 11 Thursday morning; alumni will be guests at the holiday dinner, also at receptions at the home of President and Mrs. Karl Haas Thursday night and Director and Mrs. Charles R. Silber Friday night. An alumni dance is slated Saturday evening.

International fashion pace-setters, Princess Grace of Monaco, Sophia Loren and Audrey Hepburn were recently named to the first Best Coiffured 'Heads of Fame.' All three have been listed among the annual Ten Best Coiffured Women of the World at least twice.

Lady Bird Begins Farewell Journey

By CHRISTOPHER ROBERTS
Associated Press Writer

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Lady Bird Johnson continued her brisk farewell journey across the United States today with a planned stop at Cape Kennedy, Fla., and a visit with astronauts.

The 6,000-mile trip, sandwiched into a four-day span which will take her from the Atlantic to the Pacific, also includes stops at Denver, Colo., and Eureka, Calif.

Jamming against a rope barrier, the pupils waved small American flags as they thrust forward in hopes of shaking the hand of the First Lady.

One youngster held a sign with a cartoon of the Peanuts character Charlie Brown. It read: "Good grief, it's Lady Bird and Linda Bird."

Mrs. Johnson, who has made frequent trips throughout the country in support of beautification programs during her five years in the White House was greeted by New Orleans Mayor Victor Schiro and his wife who handed the First Lady a bouquet of roses as she stepped from the plane.

Later, a Cub Scout made a courtly bow at a high school ceremony and presented her 12 more roses.

Accompanied by 12 members of the National Council on the Arts, Mrs. Johnson along with her daughter and local historians strolled down the narrow, balcony-trimmed streets of the French Quarter just before dusk, finishing it a tour with a ride in a horse-drawn buggy.

The party attended the opening of George Bernard Shaw's "Arms and the Man" Friday night at the Repertory Theater, a theatrical program financed under the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965 and the National Endowment of the Arts.

Mrs. Johnson, wearing a white, jewel-embroidered alaskan gown, prefaced the curtain call with a brief talk in which she said such federal aid legislation "has made Uncle Sam an angel of the arts." She received a standing ovation.

'Elijah' Christmas Presentation by Detroit Symphony Orchestra

"Elijah," Mendelssohn's English-language oratorio, will be presented Nov. 30 at Ford Auditorium by the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, the Rackham Symphony Choir and soloists, all under the direction of Maynard Klein.

It will be the first such performance in 20 years.

Elijah, among others, prophesied the coming of Christ, which makes this work especially appropriate for the Christmas Advent season, which begins Dec. 1.

Soloists are Benita Valente, soprano; Joanna Simon, mezzo; Henry Nason, tenor; and Thomas Palmer, baritone.

PERFORMERS

All four have performed in opera and oratorio with leading ensembles in this country and in Europe and are making their first appearances with the Detroit Symphony.

Newlyweds Return From Grand Bahamas

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest C. Sibisky have set up residence on Hammond Lake following their return from a honeymoon trip in the Grand Bahamas.

For the wedding in First Baptist Church chapel, the former Mrs. Carmen E. Wallace was attended by Mrs. Ed McLario. Best man was Mr. McLario. A reception fete the newlyweds at Devon Gables.

Tickets are available from the Ford Auditorium box office, and at all Hudson's and Grinnell's stores, in popular price range.

An exhibit of color photographs of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra by Detroit photographer George Phillips will be an added attraction at the Nov. 30 Kresge Concert.

The photographs will be displayed in the lobby where they may be viewed by concertgoers before the program and during intermission.

The concert will begin at 8:30 p.m.

British Actress Weds Hubby Number Three

LONDON (AP) — Diana Dors, the 36-year-old actress who used to be called the Blonde Bombshell of British movies, married for the third time today. The groom was Alan Lake, 27, an English actor.

For the wedding at Caxton Hall register office, Miss Dors wore a white dress with a white lace cape. Lake wore a black velvet suit with lace frills.

Asked about the difference in their ages, the actor told newsmen: "I am definitely going to wear the trousers in this family."

Princess Anne, daughter of Queen Elizabeth II of England, looks like any miniskirted young lady as she strolls unnoticed along London's Duke Street toward a nearby store to do some shopping recently.

Future Is Uncertain for Greek Prisoner

ATHENS (AP) — Alexander Panagoulis, whose death sentence for sedition and deserting the army was postponed Friday but not lifted, might face a grim future of never knowing whether he will be shot.

The army-backed Greek regime called it off, apparently yielding to appeals from Pope Paul VI, U.N. Secretary General U Thant, the United States and other nations.

The condemned man, who told the court he wanted to die to justify his struggle against the regime, was transferred to a prison on Aegina Island, one hour by steamer from Athens. Reliable sources said he was under heavy guard to prevent a possible suicide attempt.

Sources close to the government said however, Panagoulis would not be shot but that the sentence imposed by a court martial Sunday would remain in effect, possibly as a warning to other antigovernment forces.

DETROIT (AP) — Nursing a broken left leg received in a boat accident in Hawaii, "soul" singer Aretha Franklin Friday was arrested by Detroit police officers said she will have to answer to charges of speeding, driving on the wrong side of the road and driving two speeding cars to the curb and driving her driving and having an expired 1969 Eldorado on a license that expired in March.

CLOCKED AT 50 M.P.H. Detroit Patrolman Robert Dean said he clocked her at 50 miles per hour in a 30 m.p.h. zone.

Miss Franklin was not available for comment. However, her brother, the Rev. Cecil Franklin, said she denied the charges.

Serves Salvation Army

Old Methodist Church in Use

The Salvation Army has remodelled the sanctuary to Brigadier John Grindle, 70, to preserve the original mode of work in the northern part of Oakland County, stressed the fact that all welfare and relief will be handled by the Pontiac Office. The program in Clarkston will be geared to the needs of the immediate area.

The Salvation Army has been working in the area, using the church and now has bought the building and the adjoining property.

Plans are underway to operate a Day Care Center for children of working mothers, to and a Golden Ageds program.

*When upon life's billows
You are tempest tossed,
When you are discouraged
Thinking all is lost, Count your many blessings
Name them one by one,
And it will surprise you
What the Lord hath done.*
—Rev. Johnson Gaitman Jr.

The strains of the old Gospel hymn "Count Your Blessings" will reach the rafters of many city and country churches throughout the nation as families gather to sing praises to God on Thanksgiving Day.

Everett A. Dell, minister of Pontiac Unity Church, believes "nothing will make you so thankful as an awareness of the many blessings which you have already received."

"If you will count your blessings a smile will cross your face, happiness will fill your soul, health will manifest in your body, and you will prosper in your affairs."

"No other single mental attitude will do, or can do, so much for you in a personal way as to sincerely 'Count your blessings' for this will bring all good things into your mind. And you will have a new appreciation for your friends, your family and your church," he said.

FOOD, CLOTHING

Ministers and priest are asking members of their congregations to bring food and clothing to services for the unfortunate of the world.

The 20th annual Catholic Bishop's Clothing Drive will begin in the Detroit Archdiocese tomorrow. Not only clothing but blankets, shoes and bed linens will be of use to Catholic relief services.

Items will be distributed in 70 countries without regard to race, religion or color.

The following churches are work in the northern part of Oakland County, stressed the fact that all welfare and relief will be handled by the Pontiac Office.

The Union Lake Baptist Church, 8390 Commerce, will hold its annual Thanksgiving Day service at 10 a.m. Thursday.

"Seven Nights in December" is the title given to a week of special meetings scheduled from Dec. 1 to Dec. 7.

Among the speakers will be Dr. Harry Love, the Rev. V. L. Martin and the Rev. Frank Mills.

Sunnyvale Chapel
Dr. Jim Mercer, well-known evangelist throughout the United States, will preach tomorrow in Sunnyvale Chapel, 5311 Pontiac Lake, Waterford Township. Services are scheduled for 9:45 and 11 a.m., and again at 6 and 7 p.m.

The congregation will gather for a Thanksgiving service Wednesday evening. Some 30 young people will attend an all-day youth conference in Southgate on Nov. 30.

Orchard Lake
Mrs. Jim Olson, past president of the Women's Association at Orchard Lake Community Church, Presbyterian will assist in the installation of new officers during morning worship tomorrow.

Named president for the coming year is Mrs. Milo McClintock. Mrs. Christian Koch will serve as vice president; Mrs. F. P. Schimmel, secretary; and Mrs. Robert Hadley, treasurer. Other leaders of the association to be installed include Mrs. Thomas Bertrand, Mrs. Gene Smaltz, Mrs. Carroll Apple, Mrs. Francis Dickie and Mrs. Wayne Helfrich.

All Saints Episcopal
There will be two services on Thanksgiving Day at All Saints Episcopal Church, Pike and Williams. A celebration of Holy Communion is scheduled for 8 a.m. and a family festival service at 10 a.m.

At the second worship hour

Elder M. J. Watkins to Be Honored

Women Lead at Service on Sunday

Thank Offering Sunday will be observed tomorrow in Auburn Heights United Presbyterian Church with women of the church leading the service.

Bringing the morning message will be Sue Althouse who spent 13 years as a Christian education missionary in Japan. Women participating in the service include Mrs. Frank Prets-now, Mrs. Clayton Woodward, Mrs. Milton Patrick, Mrs. Norman Winter and Mrs. Ken Davis.

The lay recruitment committee will meet at 3:30 p.m., Junior High Fellowship at 6 p.m., and Senior High Fellowship will meet at the same hour in the lounge for discussion.

Anyone wishing to donate to the Pontiac Area Council of Churches blood bank Monday may call Mrs. Jack Stephens or Mrs. Jody Burmeister for an appointment. Hours are 2 to 8 p.m. in Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church.

Anyone without an appointment may attend between the hours of 3 and 6 p.m. Monday.

Friends of the Family, an interdenominational women's group, will gather in the lounge for a time of fellowship from 10 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. Wednesday.

'Snow Flakes' Topic at Incarnate Word

Pastor Robert Franklin of Incarnate Word Lutheran Church, Bloomfield Township, will give a children's sermon entitled "Snow Flakes" at the Kolch, pastor of St. Alexander beginning of the 11 a.m. service and the Rev. W. Leslie Williams of Holy Communion tomorrow of the host church will conduct. Children will be invited to the altar rail to receive a special blessing.

The Incarnate Word Church will hold its annual Thanksgiving observance at 8 p.m. Wednesday. Parishioners are companion.

Other churches joining in the worship include St. Gerald, St. Clare First United Presbyterian and Nardin Park United Methodist.

Special stress this year is placed on the need for blankets and children's clothing.

Bring Gifts for Missions

Youth and adults of the Sunday School at First Baptist Church will present Christmas gifts for missionaries supported by the church at the 7 p.m. service tomorrow.

Guest speaker will be Dr. Olin Hendrix of Far Eastern Gospel Crusade. Pastor Robert Shelton will preach at the 10:45 morning service.

Building Fund Raised $9800 by Grants

Pastor Jack H. C. Clark and congregation of North Oakland Christian Church are walking on air this week. They just received word late Wednesday that a grant for $5,000 was awarded the church by the board of trustees of the United Christian Missionary Society in cooperation with the New Church Advance Committee of the United States.

The grant was given toward the building fund of the new church. Another grant of $4,800 will begin Jan. 1, 1969. The capital grant begins immediately along with an addition to the pastor's salary.

The congregation will gather tomorrow to give thanks for the many ways in which it has been blessed.

One Pin Looms Big for Pontiac Open 'Target' Score

One pin can mean the difference between qualifying or not qualifying and when it comes down to the finals it might mean the difference between $1,000 and $600 in the Pontiac Open Bowling Championship which gets under way at 10 sites tomorrow.

The bowlers stand to gain the extra pin on the basis of the 70 per cent handicap of 600 for three games. Scratch is 200 per game, however the percentage during the tournament will be based on three games. The target score for qualifying is "600" which includes the bowler's 3-game handicap and once this target score is reached, it's all a matter of sitting back and waiting for the big semifinals and finals to arrive.

Some of the local establishments are qualifying today because of the conflict of leagues at certain times on Sunday, however all 10 sites are qualifying tomorrow.

Participating establishments include Airway Lanes, Cooley Lanes, Huron Bowl, Howe's Lanes, Lakewood Lanes, North Hill Lanes, Sylvan Lanes, Savoy Lanes, 300 Bowl and West Side Lanes.

The squad times were listed in yesterday's Press, however bowlers can phone the sites to arrange their desired squad time.

The tournament features the largest guaranteed purse in history, starting with $1,000 and continuing down with $800, $400, $300 and $200, with another 200 prize positions expected to follow.

Any sanctioned bowlers of the ABC or WIBC regardless of average can enter the tournament and as has been the case in the past, winners have included bowlers with averages ranging from 209 down to 168.

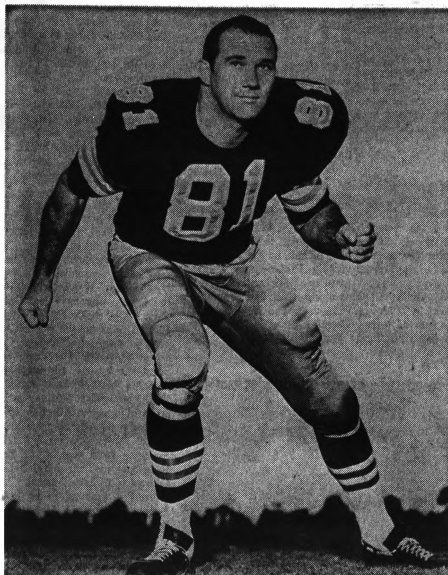

Without any extra entry fees, bowlers will also be able to win prizes in the Mix 'n Match doubles and Mix 'n Match team event.

The "doubles" must be a man and woman partner who must bowl on the same squad and same house, but not necessarily on the same lanes. They must indicate the name of their partner on the blank at the time of entry.

Failure to do this will void the "doubles" team.

The same holds true for a 5-bowler team; which can be made up of men or women. They must list their "team" members on the back of the blank at the time of entry and must bowl on the same squad in the same house.

The semifinals will be held Dec. 15 at Huron Bowl. The finals are scheduled Dec. 22 at Airway Lanes, with the Actual's Invitational slated the same day at 300 Bowl.

FAMILIAR FIGURE — One of the big thorns always in the paws of the Detroit Lions for more than 10 years of pro football has been Doug Atkins, one of the great defensive ends of the Chicago Bears who is now playing for the New Orleans Saints. Atkins will lead the Saints' front four against the Lions Sunday in Tiger Stadium.

Lions' Defense Can't Afford To Rest

Lack of Offense, 3-Day Break Applying Pressure

DETROIT (UPI) — Just because the jury is still out on Detroit's skinny mathematical chances for the National Football League's Central Division title, it doesn't mean the Lions' defense can rest.

In fact, the giddy defense of the Lions will have to work even harder as Detroit plays the New Orleans Saints Sunday and gets ready then for a Thanksgiving Day game with the Philadelphia Eagles.

HOLD OPPOSITION
Detroit, in last place in the Central Division by two and one-half games with four left on the schedule, has limited some tough opponents to just 13 points per game over its last six — but the last four in a row have been losses and the one before that was a tie.

Of course the Saints haven't exactly been enhancing their image as winners either. They've lost four in a row, too. New Orleans has recently suffered from the same malady which has infected Detroit, a disease which translates from the Anglo-Saxon into "poor offense."

Bill Munson, remembering perhaps a little too well that an injury cost him his job as quarterback of the Los Angeles Rams three seasons ago, drags his pained body into action again for the Lions.

His opposite member on New Orleans' side is a name once regarded around these parts as Detroit's great quarterbacking hope of the future — Karl Sweetan, who has been ailing himself with a twisted ankle.

"King Karl" directs an offense more disposed toward passing than running, understandable when you compare their runners with their receivers.

INJURED GENERAL

Bill Kilmer, the Saints regular field general until he suffered a hairline fracture of his ankle three weeks ago, may see action.

Don McCall is the Saints top rusher with 449 yards while the other names in the backfield are Tony Lorick, formerly with Baltimore, Randy Schultz, Tom Barrington and Ernie Wheelwright.

Their top receiver is flanker Dan Abramowitz, who has caught 36 passes for 561 yards and five touchdowns. The split end is Dave Parks, former San Francisco disc jockey, and the tight end is Monte Stickles, who also played with the Forty Niners and is best known in Detroit for his ability to get on linebacker Wayne Walker's nerves.

The Lions will be going with much the same sterling attack which has netted just one touchdown in its last 19 quarters of NFL play — admittedly against defenses which could be ranked a few times more powerful than that of the Saints.

New Orleans, 3-7 in the Century Division and safely out of contention for Detroit, which hopes to gobble up two anything, is a 12 point underdog to victories before Thanksgiving Day is over.

The Saints, plagued with punting problems, Friday signed Jim Fraser, retired from the American Football League, where he was the top punter for three years.

Fraser played with the Denver Broncos of the AFL from 1962 through 1964 and led each of those years in punting.

He was traded to the Kansas City Chiefs in 1965 and to the Boston Patriots in 1966.

The Saints have had punting problems since Tom McNeil was placed on the inactive list. Rookie Ronnie South punted in the last two games, averaging only 27.6 yards.

HOUGHTON (AP) — Michigan Tech got three goals in the final period to gain a 7-7 tie against Wisconsin in a non-conference hockey game, which the coaches decided to let continue in a 10-minute overtime that proved scoreless.

NHL Market Active

Complete Waiver(ing) Deal

MINNEAPOLIS-ST. PAUL (AP) — Montreal, Minnesota and Pittsburgh approved a three-way National Hockey League deal Friday to implement a trade nullified by NHL President Clarence Campbell.

It all started out last week when Minnesota dealt defenseman Larry Hillman to the Montreal Canadiens for left wing Brian Smith.

But Campbell ruled that Hillman first should have been put on waivers, and ruled him ineligible.

So, the North Stars put Hillman on waivers and the Pittsburgh Penguins paid the $30,000 waiver price to Minnesota. The North Stars then paid Montreal $30,000 to Smith, Minnesota officials disclosed.

Tigers' Expansion Schedule Is Listed

A total of 81 home games in 77 dates will be played by the World Champion Detroit Tigers during the 1969 baseball season.

On the home schedule are 45 night games, including one two-nighter and there are four doubleheaders, including two on Sundays and one on a holiday, July 4 with Baltimore.

In the new expansion schedule, which has the American East and American West divisions, the Tigers will play nine home games against each of the East division rivals and six against the West division teams.

OTHERS IN DIVISION

In the East with Detroit are Baltimore, Boston, Cleveland, New York and Washington.

In the West are Chicago, California, Kansas City, Minnesota, Oakland and Seattle.

Also planned for the 1969 season is an increase of 958 box seats which will put the seating capacity at $4,220, and an increase of reserved seat ticket prices from $2.50 to $2.75.

The box seats remain at $3.50 and general admission $1.50 and bleachers $1.00. Starting time for games will remain unchanged with night games getting under way at 8:00 p.m., two-nighters at 5:30 p.m., Saturday afternoon at 2:15 p.m. and other afternoon games at 1:30 p.m.

National Boat Show at Cobo Hall, Feb. 1-9

The 7th annual Michigan National Boat, Sports and Vacation Show will be held at Cobo Hall, Detroit, February 1-9, 1969.

The Michigan National Boat, Sports and Vacation Show is dominated by the traditional inboard cruisers, houseboats and sail yachts rather than by runabouts and other small units.

Dayton Drops PGA Meet

Cancel Contract for Aug. 14-17 Golf Tourney

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — The Professional Golfers Association's split with tournament players has resulted in cancellation of the 51st PGA championship here next summer.

The Executive Committee of the Dayton Area Chamber of Commerce decided Friday to cancel its contract to host the tournament next Aug. 14-17 because it could not be guaranteed that top-name pros would participate.

The cancellation was another setback for the PGA arising out of its recent split with the tournament players, who have formed their own association, the American Professional Golfers.

TAKE ACTION

Dayton chamber President William P. Balthrop said the committee took the action "because of our inability to obtain unequivocal guarantees of the participation by the leading tournament players."

The action came after chamber officials met separately this week with PGA and APG officials.

PGA President Leo Fraser, contacted by telephone in Atlantic City, said he was shocked to learn of the cancellation.

In a letter to Fraser the chamber said the breach existing between the PGA and APG prevented the sponsors from being assured of a representative field of golfers.

"We cannot and will not attempt to sell the project to our community as a star-studded tournament when we both know there is a very substantial possibility that the leading tournament players will not participate," the letter said.

Big Grid Menu for Gablers

TORONTO (AP) — If fate smiles on the Gabler household in Royal Oak this weekend, one son will throw passes in the Grey Cup here Nov. 30 and another may catch them in Pasadena, Calif., New Year's Day.

Quarterback Wally Gabler, 24, must first get the Toronto Argonauts past the Rough Riders in the second of the two-game, total-point Eastern Football Conference final at Ottawa Saturday, while his brother, flanker John Gabler, 20, is hoping to help get the University of Michigan past Ohio State on the same day and gain the trip to the Rose Bowl.

"My parents will come to the Grey Cup and I'm sure they will go to the Rose Bowl to see John if he makes it," Wally said.

The Argonauts, 6½-point underdogs in last Sunday's game after being outscored 100-33 in three regular-season meetings with Ottawa this year, took advantage of a muddy field and the cold for a 13-11 victory.

Red Wings Crush Farm Team, 9-2; Play Leafs Tonight

HAMILTON, Ont. (UPI) — The Detroit Red Wings defeated their Hamilton, Ont., farm club, 9-2, Friday night in an annual exhibition game.

Gary Bergman led the way with two goals and Pete Stelmowski collected five assists.

Other scores for the Red Wings were by Gary Unger, Nick Libett, Dean Prentice, Danny Lawson, Bruce MacGregor and the brothers Mahovich-Pete and Frank.

Detroit, which meets the Toronto Maple Leafs tonight, had goalies Roger Crozier and Terry Sawchuk split time in the nets.

The Red Wings roared out to a 9-0 lead before their amateur farm team could get the puck by Sawchuk.

Pro Baseball Swinging for Seats Against Football

Special Playoff Slated Because of New Teams

NEW YORK (AP)—Major league baseball, swinging its biggest bats at pro football, has sharpened the battle lines between the two sports with a tradition-breaking schedule that extends the season further into fall.

The schedule—first under the new 24-team format—encompasses the normal 162 regular season games, but stretches the season approximately another 10 days through a best-of-5 playoff series and the World Series. The Associated Press learned Friday.

That was confirmed by American League President Joe Cronin, who said in Boston the schedule had been "signed and sealed in August," although it apparently was not going to be announced until the annual meetings beginning in San Francisco Dec. 2.

But Cronin denied that baseball was making any attempt to move into football's season.

"We're not moving into their season," he said. "Hick they've moved into ours. They start their season in July now."

The schedule, however, points to the fact that baseball is employing its major weapon—World Series games on national television—at a time when pro football begins to reach a peak of interest.

The most important facets of the new schedule call for best-of-5 playoffs between the division winners in each league beginning on a Saturday and a Saturday World Series opener—a major deviation from tradition that is the big bat waved at pro football.

The Saturday World Series start will provide baseball with two Saturday and Sunday national television spots for its premier attraction, instead of the usual one, if the Series goes seven games as it did last season.

Sunday World Series games, which directly battle pro football for the attention of sports fans all over the country, consistently have been television attractions unmatched by any other sports programs.

Of the top rated all-time televised sports programs, seven of the 10 have been of World Series games. This past season, the Sunday game between Detroit and St. Louis was seen in an estimated 28,610,000 homes, making it the No. 1 sports attraction in television history.

Under the new schedules, the season will open Monday, April 7, with the Los Angeles Dodgers at Cincinnati and the New York Yankees at Washington. The regular season will end Thursday, Oct. 2, instead of on the previous weekend as in the past.

SET PLAYOFFS

The playoffs between the Eastern and Western division winners in each league will begin on Saturday, Oct. 4. The first two games will be played in one city, then the next three (if all are necessary) in the other city. The World Series will begin on Saturday, Oct. 11. There are two divisions in each league in baseball's new format and each team will meet teams in its own division 18 times and each team in the other division 12 times.

In the American League, the East consists of Baltimore, Boston, Cleveland, Detroit, New York and Washington, and the West consists of California, Chicago, Kansas City, Minnesota, Oakland and Seattle.

In the National League, the East consists of Chicago, Montreal, New York, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and St. Louis, and the West consists of Atlanta, Cincinnati, Houston, Los Angeles, San Diego and San Francisco.

The expansion teams are Kansas City and Seattle in the American and Montreal and San Diego in the National.

Celtics Gain Front Row

With Cincinnati sitting on the sidelines, the Boston Celtics and Baltimore Bullets continued their game of musical chairs with the Celtics back in their accustomed front row seat.

Boston, the defending National Basketball Association champions, retook first place in the Eastern Division with a 133-106 rout over Phoenix while the visiting Bullets were losing to Philadelphia 121-119 Friday night.

The victory put the Celtics a half game ahead of Baltimore and one game in front of ideal Cincinnati.

The New York Knicks pulled away from Chicago in the final minutes for a 114-107 victory in the opener of a doubleheader at Boston.

San Francisco squeezed past Los Angeles 100-98 and Elvin Hayes scored 45 points as San Francisco routed Seattle 126-111 in the night's other games.

In the lone American Basketball Association game, Los Angeles whipped New York 106-96.

Bailey Howell and Larry Siegfried played the tune for the Celtics with 15 and 11 points, respectively, in a first half blitz that put Boston ahead 63-45 at halftime. From then on it was a breeze to the Celtics' 13th victory in 17 games.

Howell finished with 28 points and John Havlicek 26. Siegfried had 18.

Philadelphia, behind Bill Cunningham and Hal Greer, pulled ahead 86-81 after three quarters and then broke it open with a lead that reached 16.

San Francisco squeezed past Los Angeles 100-98 and Elvin Hayes scored 45 points as San Francisco routed Seattle 126-111 in the night's other games.

Defense May Rule in Key NFL Games

By the Associated Press

Defense could be the name of the game in Baltimore, Chicago and Los Angeles Sunday when six National Football League contenders face formidable tests.

In Baltimore, the Colts, whose defense shackled St. Louis last week for its second shutout of the season, entertain Minnesota's fierce young Vikings in a meeting of Western Conference division leaders.

Minnesota, which has risen to the top of the Central Division behind a rapidly-maturing defensive unit, holds a one-game edge over Chicago. Baltimore, riding a four-game winning streak in which it has yielded just 20 points, leads Los Angeles by one-half game in the Coastal race.

The Bears met Dallas' Capitol run-runners in Chicago, with each club expected to rely heavily on defensive strength in the wake of injuries to key offensive players.

In Los Angeles, the Rams' Fearsome Threesome—Lamar Lundy is out for the season following knee surgery—takes on the New York Giants, whose defensive crew came off age in an upset victory over Dallas two weeks ago and a 7-4 squeaker most of the season with injuries, over winless Philadelphia last Sunday.

Capitol Scramble

New York trails the Cowboys by one game in the Capitol scramble.

Cleveland, leading St. Louis by 1½ games in the Century Division, puts its five-game winning streak on the line against visiting Philadelphia while Atlanta is at St. Louis, Green Bay at Washington, San Francisco at Pittsburgh and New Orleans at Detroit.

Baltimore's mammoth defense line—Orrell Brance, Fred Miller, Billy Ray Smith and Bubba Smith—has put tremendous pressure on opposing quarterbacks while helping the Colts win nine of 10 starts. Colt passer Earl Morrall, filling in brilliantly for ailing Johnny Unitas, leads the league with 20 touchdown passes.

But Morrall could be hard-pressed by the Vikings' front four. Jim Marshall, Alan Page, Gary Larsen and Carl Eller have dumped quarterbacks 38 times, 18 in the east three games, with a basic approach to the job.

MEET AT QB

"The best plan is for the four of us to meet at the quarterback," says Marshall.

Jack Concannon, sidelined most of the season with injuries, is set to start at quarterback for the Bears, who have lost Gale Sayers and rookie signal caller Virgil Carter for the rest of the year on successive Sundays.

Don Meredith, the Cowboys' quarterback, who tore a ligament in his left knee against Washington last Sunday, is a doubtful starter for the first Bears-Cowboys scrap since 1964.

The Rams, stalled by last Sunday's 20-20 standoff at San Francisco in their bid for the Coastal title, have been hurt by injuries to running backs Dick Bens and Tommy Mason, as well as the loss of Lundy.

Second-year Pro Greg Schumacher, however, has proved a capable stand-in for Lundy at defensive end alongside Roger Brown, Merlin Olsen and Deacon Jones.

New York has won all five games inside its division this year, but hasn't beaten a Western Conference foe since 1963. The Rams mauled the Giants 55-14 in 1966, the last time they met.

POTENT COMBO

The Browns send their potent pass-run combination of Bill Nelsen and Jerry Kelly against the hapless Eagles, who have dropped 10 in a row. Philadelphia reinstated rebellious receivers Mike Ditka and Gary Ballman after suspending the pair earlier in the week.

OBJECT OF PLANS — Earl Morrall, who has led Baltimore to the top spot of the Coastal Division, isn't really holding his head in the shower in anticipation of the tough defense of the Minnesota Vikings he must face Sunday.

The Vikings who have hit the quarterback more often than any team in the NFL also have plans for Morrall. "The front four plan to meet at quarterback," said Viking end Jim Marshall.

The Browns send their potent pass-run combination of Bill Nelsen and Jerry Kelly against the hapless Eagles, who have dropped 10 in a row. Philadelphia reinstated rebellious receivers Mike Ditka and Gary Ballman after suspending the pair earlier in the week.

OBJECT OF PLANS — Earl Morrall, who has led Baltimore to the top spot of the Coastal Division, isn't really holding his head in the shower in anticipation of the tough defense of the Minnesota Vikings he must face Sunday.

The Vikings who have hit the quarterback more often than any team in the NFL also have plans for Morrall. "The front four plan to meet at quarterback," said Viking end Jim Marshall.

But then Hayes drilled in a 15-footer and Hambone Williams followed with a pair of layups to give the Rockets control.

Jim Barnett of San Diego scored 21 points and Len Williams had 25 and Rule 24 for the Sonics.

Answer Monday

By SYDNEY OMARR

[illegible]

For Monday

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Some who love to nagrate themselves, rise above their inferior motives. Know this and keep your head up. Soothe your nerves by doing something fulfilling. Keep on course. Message from the universe—keep going.

Taurus (April 20-May 20): You are a person of great ability. Your key acceptance of added responsibility is authority. Change your attitude toward the exercise of your promotion skills—take action.

Gemini (May 21-June 20): Spotlight on ability to learn, perceive. Being persistent will pay off. Before practice is really complete, you may have to wait.

Cancer (June 21-July 21): You are being asked to take on more responsibility, but don't become involved to the point of losing yourself. Be realistic about what you realize you must find all yourself.

Leo (July 22-August 22): You are given plenty of announcements. Set fine examples for others. Don't let people know how much you gain through display of patience. Consider the needs of people around you. Your sincerity will shine.

Virgo (Aug. 23-Sept. 21): Show appreciation for services. One who has been abused deserves pity. Give a hand-pinch reward to meet valuable discovery. Avoid deals with restrictions. Avoid criticism.

Libra (Sept. 22-Oct. 23): Creative decisions come to fore. You may break down restrictions. Express your personal magnetism talking with others. Try to give fascinating. Take a chance on your talents.

Scorpio (Oct. 24-Nov. 21): Accent on future security. Fine-tuning program of savings avoid waste. Gain understanding of future requirements. How facts decide, a definite aim is indicated.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Avoid getting caught in unnecessary quarrels. If you are not satisfied with first things at first. Then your forces are confirmed, the community will support you. Deal with relatives, neighbors. Display confidence.

Capricorn (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): You can do it. You only want you to want to see if you can. You are able to move forward. You have the ability especially to money. You are patient. You invest. You show if you are patient.

Aquarius (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): The picture shows you get initiative. Fine your direction. You are directed. High inspiration. Welcome challenges.

Pisces (Feb. 19-March 20): Finish your work. There is no time to waste.

Blast Rips W. Virginia Building

Disorders Close 3 Colleges

By the Associated Press
Racial disorders have closed three of the nation's colleges at least until after the Thanksgiving holidays.
Security forces guarded all approaches to Bluefield State College in West Virginia which was closed indefinitely after a bomb blast ripped part of the physical education building.

No one was allowed on campus without a police pass. Classes were canceled and the school's 1,400 students sent home following the Thursday night explosion, the latest in a series of incidents including death threats and vandalism.
Wendell Hardway, the first white president of the formerly all-Negro college, said damage from the blast was estimated at

DEMANDS RESIGNATIONS
Shortly before the violence increased, Edgar James, a former paratrooper who claims to speak for all the school's 450 Negroes, demanded Hardway's removal and presented a list of 35 grievances.

The president of Oshkosh
State University in Wisconsin has suspended more than 80 per cent of the school's 111 Negro students following a demonstration that ended with the wrecking of administration offices.

President Roger E. Guiles took the action Friday against 32 Negro and four white students as he ordered a premature start of the school's Thanksgiving recess. More than half those suspended were still in jail.

Guiles said "there are risks involved" in the action and students said "We have no desire to become an all-white university."
We have other colored students who were not involved."

ALTERNATIVES
The white president of the 11,000-member student body and the ranking Negro faculty member both recommended alternatives that might lessen the possibility that the school would be stripped of all but a few of its Negro students.

David Frank of Milwaukee, the student body president, said the violence indicated a gap exists between Negro students and the administration and added:
"By suspending the students, the question of closing the gap has in effect been suspended."
Since October the demonstra-

ing students and sought an administration pledge to expand offerings for Negro curriculum, allocate space for a Negro student center and recruit more Negro faculty members. The rampage in the offices began after Guiles rejected their demands.
Authorities at San Francisco State College halted regular classes again until Dec. 2 and planned a three-day convocation to discuss issues behind a student strike led by the Black Students Union.

POLICE DISTURBANCE
The campus had reopened
Wednesday after being closed six days following disturbances between police and students.
After more minor disruptions
Friday the faculty voted to hold the convocation instead of classes next week.

San Francisco Mayor Joseph Alioto offered the convocation plan saying, "there is admittedly educational value in the issues which are being pressed."

A main student demand which touched off the trouble is for reinstatement of Black Panther George Murray, a graduate student and part-time instructor, who was suspended after reports he urged Negro students to carry guns on campus.

U. of Colorado Regents Ban SDS From Campus

BOULDER, Colo. (UPI)—
The University of Colorado
Board of Regents voted 3-2 yesterday to dismiss the school's Students for a Democratic Society (SDS) chapter from the campus.

The vote denies SDS the use of any university facilities and terminates its official recognition.

The action came after the SDS held a national council at the Boulder campus Oct. 11-13.
At the stormy meeting, television news cameramen and tape recorders were barred by SDS in defiance of the regents ruling for unrestricted news coverage.

Regent Daniel Lynch of Boulder voted against passage of the "disaffiliation" motion, saying it was "stupid and insane" to outlaw the group because it would strengthen its support "tenfold." He said the move would gain sympathy for SDS from other students and draw charges of totalitarian tactics against the board.

FAVORING DISAFFILIATION
Voting for the measure were Regents Joseph Coors of Golden, who said SDS isn't "interested in academic freedom," and Robert Gilbert of Greeley and
Dr. Dale M. Atkins of Denver.

Two Say U.S. Errors Aided China N-Arms

The China Cloud
By William L. Ryan and Sam Summerlin

Little, Brown

By COHENNA ALDRICH
The cloud rose over the Takla Makan Desert in 1964—a giant mushroom announcing that Red China had detonated an A-bomb.
By 1967 China had the H-bomb. Many experts didn't expect such progress until the late 1970s.

Did U.S. blunders catalyze
China's nuclear development?
Authors of "The China Cloud" are convinced of it. They offer evidence that Communist "witch-hunting" drove U.S.-trained scientists out of the country and back to Red China, where their knowledge greatly accelerated the nuclear program.

Included are detailed stories of two Caltech alumni—one is China's leading rocket expert and the other director of China's Atomic Energy Institute. They were among 80 Chinese experts in nuclear physics, aerodynam-ics and metal research trained in U.S. universities, then, according to the authors, driven out of their jobs here by investi-
spiracy."

Crackling Fire Adds Cheery Warmth To Spacious Country Kitchen On Brisk Fall Days

Two-Story Ages Gracefully

By JODY HEADLEE
Home Editor, The Pontiac Press
"Sometimes, I don't think my husband really understands my enthusiasm for Early Americana," said Mrs. Frank J. Giordano with a smile, "but he's very tolerant."
The Giordanos live in a gray two-story in West Bloomfield Township, which was built in 1840.

"My mother instilled a love of antiques," said Mrs. Giordano, leading the way into the comfortable living room. "All of the wall prints," she continued, "are authentic and mainly of the 19th century."

PRINT SOFA

Queen Anne mahogany tea tables flank the room's sofa covered in a floral print of gold, green, brown and white on ivory. The cherry butler's table before the sofa features a silver tea service and Royal Copenhagen pieces.

Across the room, before the black painted brick fireplace, the two chairs, a wingback and a Victorian gentleman's chair, repeat the sofa fabric.

"The Staffordshire dogs on either side of my great-grandfather's painting are authentic antiques which belonged to my mother," she added.

"The painting was done by Benjamin Franklin Mason, a journeyman painter, in 1839. The man painted portraits of the whole family — the mother, father and 10 sons. This one is still in its original frame."

REAL BUY

"And that clock between the front windows was a real buy. My uncle bought it in a barber shop back in 1950 for 50 cents."

Hooked area rugs reveal the wide-planked pine floor, its honeyed finish polished to perfection through years of use and care.

Large Informal Area in Cape Cod Plan

Colonial-day homes had many things in common, most of them necessitated by the conditions in the New World at the time.

Most important of these was the large kitchen. It was always the most spacious room in the house — the gathering place of the entire family.

Each member would do as he pleased as an individual, but there was always a feeling of leading to a covered side porch togetherness, long before that word came into common usage.

The concept of a large informal family area has been space more height and reflect carried into this Cape Cod by the architect Samuel Paul.

All in all, the expense is into smaller sections to meet to bring together members of specific functions, but still the family far more than would maintain the feeling of one otherwise be the case.

Modern in every respect, the kitchen portion stresses efficiency and features an island counter-top range with decorative metal hood.

The dinette space is partially secluded into a windowed bay, which enhances the exterior as well as in the inside.

Exposed rafters give the formal family area has been space more height and reflect carried into this Cape Cod by the architect Samuel Paul.

to the family room is reached from the side porch. It contains a laundry, a lavatory and a large storage closet and is directly accessible from the two-car garage.

This entire complex is at the front of the house and to the left of the entrance foyer, which rises up from the slope of the roof.

There are two clothes closets in the foyer, a welcome relief to those families which never seem to have enough closet space when there is a house full of company.

U-shaped stairs which terminate at the second floor have a balcony overlooking the foyer.

As in most Cape Cod houses, there is a world of storage space on this floor.

Between the double-closeted master bedroom and another bedroom is a compartmentalized bathroom.

Upstairs — which can be left unfinished if there is no immediate need for the space — the plans call for three additional bedrooms and another compartmentalized bathroom.

As in most Cape Cod houses, there is a world of storage space on this floor.

Z-68 STATISTICS

Design Z-68 has a living room, dining room, kitchen, dinette, family room, foyer, two bedrooms and bathroom on the first floor, with a habitable area of 1380 square feet. Also on this floor is a laundry, lavatory, storage closet and two-car garage. For those desiring to utilize the upper floor, the plans call for three bedrooms and a bath, totaling 880 square feet. Also on this floor is a large amount of storage space. There is a full basement. Over-all dimensions, which include the garage, side porch and rear patio, are 62' by 56'2".

Closets Now Have Many New Forms

Closets aren't all the same! If you have been keeping tabs on the latest trends, you've noticed that even the traditional bedroom closet has taken on many new forms.

Now you have the large master bedroom closet — a "his 'n hers" variety — combination closet and vanity — plus many variations of these themes.

Architects and builders, reacting to the wishes of homeowners, are providing spacious closets that also can accommodate out-of-season garment and even bedding.

To make these closets safe from pesky moths, aromatic red cedar closet lining is used to finish the units. This material's natural fragrance, which is pleasant to humans, repels moths.

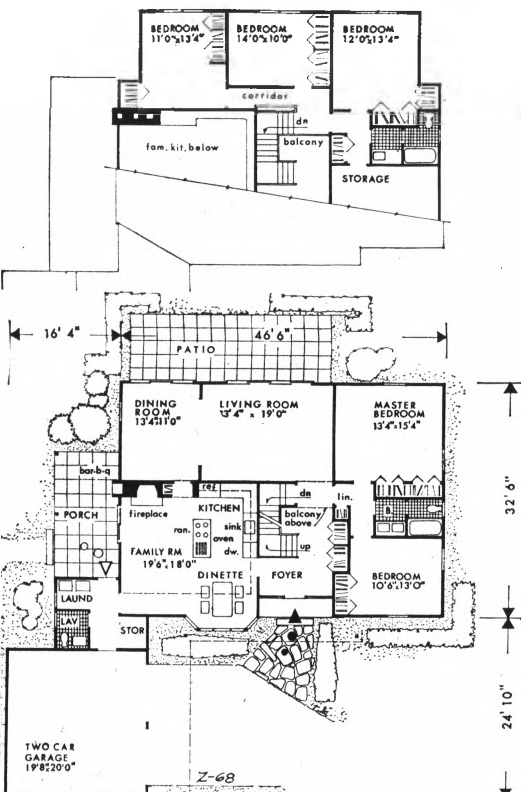

For years moths have been known as the foe of homemakers, since they like to "feast" on expensive furs, woolsens and blankets. These items can be stored safely in a cedar closet, however, if they are cleaned and packed properly.

If the cedar is not installed in the original closet, the home handyman can install it over a weekend.

This distinctive rose and white wood comes in tongue-and-grooved pieces. Prepackaged bundles are available at local lumber yards.

NEW ENGLAND CHARM is evident in this modern version of the traditional Cape Cod, with its wooden shakes on every side, multi-paned windows, fairly steep gabled roof and almost undefinable all-around feeling of warmth and hospitality.

FLOOR PLANS: Lower floor shows excellent layout for family requiring only two bedrooms, with informal and formal sections clearly delineated and with side and rear outdoor living areas. Large families can utilize all or part of second floor for extra bedrooms.

Switch Patio to the Front

When it comes to patios or terraces, most Americans usually think of a patio or terrace in back of the house.

But a patio in front of the house may make better use of available space, be more convenient and be just as private through careful fencing or screening. It may also have much better orientation to compass points and prevailing winds.

Some local ordinances may oppose the whole idea, but where it is possible this kind of "outdoor room" can enhance the overall appearance of the property as well as improve enjoyment of it.

Skillfully designed fences can blend perfectly with the landscaping and an earthen material like quarry tile used to pave patio, adjacent walkways and entries will complement other ground cover.

Shrubbery or gardens on both inside and outside the patio can add to its "naturalness."

Caulking Compound Best for Sealing Open Joints

Anyone finding a broken window pane or a hole in the wall would repair it quickly enough.

You may have enough open joints and cracks in your home right now that equal the area of a missing pane of glass or a hole in the siding.

The joints around door and window frames alone might equal an opening even larger than the ones mentioned.

The best and easiest way to seal those joints is with caulking compound. Use a good quality compound, one that will not run because it is too liquid and yet is pliable enough to fill joints no matter how irregular.

NO CRACKING
Caulking is putty-like material. When dry it has a plastic consistency. This is why it can expand and contract without cracking.

Properly applied it will prevent moisture from creeping in, block drafts and hold down fuel bills.

The easiest way to apply caulking compound is with a caulking gun. The gun has a barrel that is loaded with caulking.

Pressure on the trigger pushes the caulking out through a tip or nozzle that allows it to flow in a bead of the proper size and shape.

caulking to load in a caulking gun, even this slight chore has been made easier.

Caulking is available in cartridges. The cartridge provides its own barrel and nozzle all loaded with caulking and ready to go. With a cartridge you can use a simpler and cheaper gun. Instead of a full barrel the gun just provides a frame to hold the cartridge, plus a trigger and plunger mechanism.

When the cartridge is empty just throw it away. There is no cleaning up to do.

For smaller jobs you can also obtain caulking in tubes which you squeeze like toothpaste.

Caulking is generally available in white or grey. There also is a black caulking for sealing cracks around roofs.

TIME
Caulking can be done almost any time, except when the temperature drops below 40 degrees. Though you can caulk either before or after painting, it is preferable to do so before painting. This way you, can paint over it and the caulking won't show.

Do not, however, attempt to paint over black caulking. This contains asphalt and it will bleed through the paint.

Keep a steady pressure on the trigger. At the same time, move the gun along at a slow and even pace. The even pressure will assure a neat job without gaps and without piling up of the caulking.

Caulk around doors and window frames, above the window where the siding meets the window drip caps, between window sill and siding, at corners formed by siding, between siding and vertical corner boards, between dormers and roof shingles.

CORNERS
Any sort of inside corner needs it. Look for cracks and openings at the top of the foundation.

Acoustical Tile Reduces Sound

A low-cost way to reduce noise transmission between basement and first floor is to nail 1/4-inch plywood to the ceiling joists, then attach acoustical tile to the plywood.

The resilient plywood helps break up the sound path, and the tile helps absorb sound.

'Mud' Standards Revised, Published

Revised specifications covering the installation of ceramic tile with portland cement-mortar ("mud" in the trade) have recently been published.

Approved by the United States of America Standards Institute and published by the Tile Council of America, they are USAS A108.1-1967 for glazed wall tile, USAS A108.2-1967 for ceramic mosaic tile, and USAS A108.3-1967 for quarry tile and pavers.

Published in one booklet at $2 a copy, they are available from the Tile Council of America, Inc., 600 Second Avenue, New York, N.Y. 10017.

For Convenience

Plan Your Shelves

Few houses have enough shelves. Builders seldom provide the extra material and devote the time needed for 12-inch, long-playing record, adequate shelf space.

Enough shelves, well-planned, will provide plenty of convenience and will save valuable space. It's important, however, to plan. How can you get the most out of it? What will it hold? Will the items you store there be moved or will they remain there.

Even bookshelves vary in size. A depth of eight inches is minimum for a novel, but 12 inches is better. Some oversized books will need even larger shelves.

Easy to Get Hang of 'Hang It All'

Hang it all! You can do just that — on a woodgrained panel wall that's both functional and beautiful.

Suppose you need a place for books over a desk in a bedroom. Putting up a "Living Wall" is a good "starter" project for any handyman. He simply attaches turning strips to the existing wall with a cartridge-type adhesive and follows similarly with the panels.

Special, attractive brackets are available to fit into any of the numerous, inconspicuous slots in the existing grooves of the panels. Prefinished shelves go on the brackets. Simple, what?

For further information on a living wall, see your lumber dealer or write Masonite Corporation, Box B, Chicago, Ill. 60690.

DINING STORAGE — Superb storage duo for a formal dining room combines a built-in sideboard with full-height shelved closet. Marble-topped sideboard is backed by a screen of spaced western hemlock 1x1s which repeat color, texture of hemlock flush-joint wall paneling. Closet introduces color accent.

Houses Lack Quality in Storage Units

Storage is the biggest bug-a-boo in any house. But it's not quantity that lacks so much; it's quality. What everyone needs is the type that makes rooms work.

There's the dining room, for instance. Along with the kitchen, this is one room in which built-in storage is the only true problem-solver. Sure, grandmother's hutch looks great, but is it good for more than plate display? And if the buffet you bought for the last house doesn't fit into this dining room, welcome to the crowd.

One of the best possible dining room storage designs teams a closet with a built-in sideboard, or buffet. Built to counter height and topped with a slab of marble, the buffet makes a perfect server for all occasions.

Storage-wise, it's a dream, too. Drawers hold not only the carving set and flat silver but also the myriad small pieces that, on a shelf, usually are in an impossible jumble. Individual salt-and-peppers, small ash trays and the again-popular napkin rings are in this category.

LINENS

Linens are another item for the built-in sideboard. Whether you use tablecloths, mats, or runners, they're best stored on pull-out trays enclosed by doors. Each cloth and set of mats should have its separate tray.

With its 18-inch depth, the buffet can also stow the "impossibles": soup tureen, turkey platter, and silver wedding-present trays.

The closet is another thing entirely. It shouldn't be more than 13 inches deep, but adjusting from countertop to ceiling shelves from top to bottom gracefully handles dishes, glassware, the sauce boat, candlesticks and flower containers. Any need to stack is eliminated and contents remain wonderfully accessible and visible.

LEAVES

A special niche should be included for table leaves. To make built-ins look their best, coordinate them with the room's architectural elements and let the dining set and floor carry the decorating lead.

With today's need for flexibility and the universal popularity of colorful table settings, a wood like western hemlock is perfect for both built-ins and wall covering.

When finished clear, its muted but warm champagne coloring is a delightfully complementary favored furniture woods, but vertical grain flush-joint boards introduce no competing pattern, only texture. With metals and plastics, the wood provides needed contrast.

Both buffet and closet doors can be built of softwood lumber to match wall surfaces. Or closet doors could be painted one bold color to pick up a shade from rug or draperies, leaving walls and buffet to form a team.

If the buffet is designed as

Junior Editors Quiz on LAKES

QUESTION: Where does a lake come from?

ANSWER: Lakes are merely good-sized depressions in the land that have been filled with water. The depressions may have resulted from the shape of the countryside, or they may be in valleys cut by running streams, perhaps blocked by a man-made dam at the lower end.

Again, they may have been gouged out by the slowly moving rivers of ice called glaciers (upper left) which once covered much of North America.

Such glaciers pushed masses of rubble ahead of them, and when they ceased moving, the rubble often acted like a dam, holding back the water when the ice melted, thus forming a lake.

Lakes get water in other ways, too (upper right). Streams may run into them (1); the rain helps (2), as well as seepage from groundwater (3) and discharge from underground springs (4). Lakes lose water by evaporation from the surface (6), seepage out (5) and spillover outlets (7) which often act as the headwaters of streams and rivers. Lakes are extremely useful. They hold water back, enriching the soil; they give us wonderful swimming, fishing and boating. And what's so beautiful as the shimmering surface of a lake?

Justice Dept. Eying Late Expense Filers

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department says it is studying late filing of financial reports by 21 campaign committees, 20 of them Republican, but has not decided what action to take.

With a change of administrations less than two months away, that decision was expected to be left to Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark's successor.

The late reports were sent to Clark's department by House Clerk W. Pat Jennings who said the Federal Corrupt Practices Act — which requires reports 10 and again five days before the election — had been violated.

The maximum penalty for willful failure to report campaign fund sources on time is a

'Minutemen' Propaganda Is Aimed at Wrong Place

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Police said the leaflets were homemade mortar, aimed at crammed into a vegetable can the White House and launched from inside a car with anti-Communist leaflets. The police said the leaflets, which were carried this month, misfired and hit a toolshed.

The device exploded harmlessly Friday several hundred feet from the White House.

The leaflets were signed "Minutemen," an organization described by the FBI as "secrete, extremist and anti-Communist."

Liberty Trail Now Open in Pennsylvania

By National Geographic Society
WASHINGTON — A 160-mile trail known as the Liberty Trail has been opened in southeastern Pennsylvania.

The 160-mile trail winds through Philadelphia and four nearby counties. History and scenery blend along the highways and back roads that the route follows.

In Valley Forge, for instance, a 2,200-acre state park spreads over fields and forests where George Washington's army endured the bitter winter of 1777-78.

Another stop on the Liberty Trail, Washington's Crossing State Park, borders the Delaware River where the general led his flotilla across on Christmas night 1776.

BUILT IN 1683

Not all the attractions on the Liberty Trail date from the Revolutionary War. The Carey Pusey house near Chester, built in 1683, is the last remaining house in Pennsylvania that William Penn is known to have visited.

The most beautiful sight on the Liberty Trail is Longwood Gardens at Kennett Square. The gardens combine the natural beauty of the rolling countryside with traditional formal gardens and fountains and vast conservatory.

Historically, the trail begins and ends in Philadelphia, where visitors can see and touch the Liberty Bell.

Financial reports from committees supporting the Democratic ticket of Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, meanwhile, showed heavy contributions from business, political and show business families.

Single contributions to a committee are limited to $5,000 but contributions may be made to more than one committee and by more than one member of a family.

Heavy contributors listed by the Democrats included:

Grant Sawyer, Las Vegas, $25,000; Lester Ayvett, New York, $23,572; Lawrence Wien, New York, $15,000; Milton A. Gordon, New York, $15,000; Bernard Cornfield, Geneva, Switzerland, $15,000; Paul Lancaster and his wife, Malibu, Calif., $5,000 each; Harry Brandt and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brandt, New York, $10,000; Arthur B. Krim, New York, $10,000; H. A. Abramson, New York, $10,000; M. Woldeberg, New Orleans, $10,000, a d August A. Busch and other members of the Busch family of St. Louis, $7,500.

Man Gets Jail Term in Car Deaths Case

FRESNO, Calif. (AP) — Clifford Salmon, 61, accused of causing an auto accident that orphaned 10 children, was sentenced to one to five years in prison Friday after pleading guilty to felony manslaughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Morris were killed last July when their car collided with Salmon's. The Salmon car was going the wrong way on a high-speed freeway, police said.

The story of the Morris orphans prompted many offers from around the country to adopt them. A court eventually gave custody to a aunt.

THINK ABOUT IT!
ON STARVATION
The plight of starving people is not a pleasant sight. But it does exist. Poverty or food shortages cause malnutrition or starvation in more countries than most people imagine. Look at the known list —
Argentina, Austria, Belgium, Bolivia, Borneo, Brazil, Burma, Ceylon, Chile, China, Costa Rica, Cuba, Egypt, Greece, Haiti, Hong Kong, India, Indonesia, Iran, Jamaica, Jordan, Korea, Laos, Lebanon, Lebanon, Malaya, Mexico, Nigeria, North and Southern Rhodesia, Okinawa, Pakistan, Paraguay, Philippines, Portugal, Puerto Rico, South Africa, Spain, Swaziland, Syria, Taiwan, Thailand, Turkey, Uruguay — and believe it or not — segments of the Indian and Negro races in the United States.
In today's world of per capita income, either malnutrition or starvation of human beings is shameful and disgraceful. Doesn't it seem proper to ask when civilized nations will stop squandering billions in armaments and heed the prophet Isaiah, "... They shall beat their swords into plowshares ... neither they learn war any more" ...? HUNTON FURNAL HOME, 79 Oakland Ave., Pontiac. Member National Selected Morticians. Phone 332-0189.

Swift and Co. Found Guilty in Slander Suit

LANSING (UPI) — Swift and Co. Corp. was found guilty in a slander suit yesterday in Ingham County Circuit Court and was ordered to pay $15,000 in damages to a former employee.

Benjamin E. Swagman of Lansing, 53, formerly employed for 17 years as an ice cream manager for the company, filed the suit in 1964 after he was discharged from Swift. Swagman charged the company with defaming his business accounts, charging Swagman was crooked, dishonest and a thief. Swagman said the company prevented him from obtaining employment and defamed his reputation in the community.

The suit was originally tried in Circuit Court in 1966 when a verdict of no cause for action was handed down. An appeal to the State Supreme Court reversed the ruling and the case was ordered to be retried.

Police Officer Is Assaulted in Ortonville

An Ortonville police officer received nine stitches for a head cut inflicted by a man stopped for a traffic violation early today, according to Oakland County sheriff's deputies.

Deputies said Patrolman Alfred Berner of Brandon Township called for assistance about 1:30 a.m. after reportedly being assaulted by a man identified as James Vanderveld of an unreported Ortonville address.

Berner told investigators that he stopped Vanderveld and motioned him to the patrol car, then was struck by a hard object.

Vanderveld was booked at Oakland County Jail for assault and battery, deputies said.

It's Rum Idea

Put into a pewter mug a 2-inch strip of orange peel, 1 to 2 teaspoons brown sugar, and a finger dark rum. Set the rum flame and let it burn out. Add 1 jigger rum, 1 generous teaspoon sweet butter, a small piece of cinnamon stick, and 4 teaspoon each of powdered clove and allspice. Fill the mug with boiling hot cider and stir vigorously.

210 DMZ Abuses Charged to Enemy

From Our News Wires
SAIGON — The Communists have violated 210 times their agreement not to abuse Vietnam's Demilitarized Zone (DMZ) in exchange for a halt in the bombing of North Vietnam, U.S. headquarters said today.

Hanoi Position Encourages U.S.

From Our News Wires
PARIS — Hanoi's interest in restoring neutrality in the six-mile wide demilitarized zone that separates North and South Vietnam has made U.S. negotiators hopeful of more fruitful peace talks when the present impasse is resolved.

The North Vietnamese delegation spokesman, Nguyen Thanh Le, said yesterday that Hanoi wants to use the 1954 Geneva agreements as the basis for a new peace settlement.

Le mentioned the accords after criticizing the United States for "impudent acts of provocation" in allegedly shelling three villages in the North Vietnamese half of the DMZ.

"The United States must respect all aspects of the 1954 agreements," he said. INTERNATIONAL POLICING

Among other things, the accords provided for the DMZ to be policed by an Indian-Canadian-Polish International Control Commission.

An American source said Hanoi's new emphasis on restoring the DMZ and other parts of the Geneva agreements "was a very interesting development."

'UNTOUCHED ZONE'
"If we can join together on reestablishing the DMZ as a clear, untouchable zone, it would be tremendous progress," the source said.

Le Duc Tho, the key member of Hanoi's war negotiating team, returned to Paris today amid reports his arrival meant expanded peace negotiations may begin soon.

The arrived at Paris' Le Bourget Airport on a Soviet Aeroflot jet flight from Moscow. He had been in Moscow for the past six days holding discussions with Soviet officials en route back to Paris after six weeks of consultations in Hanoi and a one-day stop in Peking.

Perfect Weekend Forecast for Area

A perfect weekend is in store for Pontiac area residents — not too hot, not too cold with little chance of rainfall.

The official day-by-day forecast by the U.S. Weather Bureau looks like this:

TODAY — Mostly cloudy and mild. High 53 to 58. Tonight partly cloudy and not much temperature change, low 36 to 40.

Winds southerly at 12 to 20 miles per hour increasing to five to 12 miles tonight.

TOMORROW — Sunny and pleasant. High 50 to 55.

MONDAY — Increasing cloudiness and mild.

Precipitation probabilities in per cent are: Today 10, tonight 10 and tomorrow 5.

A sunny 39 was the low in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. By 12:30 p.m. the thermometer reading was 53.

Dirksen Tests Ending

LIVINGSTON, N.J. (UPI) — Senate Minority Leader Everett Dirksen will check out of St. Barnabas Medical Center Monday, ending a week-long stay for a checkup and tests.

The announcement was the first time American spokesmen had released official figures on what they called "enemy activity" in the buffer zone since the air, sea and land bombardment of North Vietnam stopped 23 days ago.

Military spokesmen said 139 of the 210 violations have occurred on the South Vietnamese side of the official Ben Hai River border running down the middle of the zone.

Of the 210 violations, 22 were labeled "significant"—artillery and machine-gun sites seen firing on allied positions south of the DMZ or firing on U.S. planes patrolling over the buffer zone.

HIT ANTI-AIRCRAFT SITES
The remainder were classed "insignificant," the spokesman said, including sightings of small groups of enemy soldiers, vehicles, sampans and lights.

Franc Devaluation Is Expected Today

PARIS (UPI) — President Charles de Gaulle today summoned his cabinet for the expected confirmation of what most Frenchmen had already accepted as an accomplished fact — devaluation of the franc.

De Gaulle only 11 days ago said devaluation would be "the worst absurdity" but financial sources said the meeting would announce the 13th devaluation of the franc since 1928.

Most French newspapers used banner headlines to say devaluation has already taken place, and some predicted the franc's new international value.

FRANCH ANNOUNCEMENT

Economic observers said they did so to allow the French government to make the announcement.

De Gaulle, in meetings with Premier Maurice Couve de Murville and Finance Minister Francois-Xavier Ortoli yesterday

U.S. guns for the third time in two days hammered guerrilla anti-aircraft gunners in the North Vietnam half of the zone Thursday. The Communists fired first on a U.S. observation plane, spokesmen said. The plane was not hit.

Under the agreement announced by U.S. Secretary of State Clark M. Clifford, Hanoi said it would not "violate" the DMZ or shell South Vietnamese cities if the northern bombing stopped.

President Johnson, announcing the bombing halt on Oct. 31, said Communist "abuses" of the six-mile-wide border zone between the two Vietnams would not be tolerated.

In Paris, North Vietnamese diplomats repeatedly denied U.S. allegations their troops were using the zone as a military camp despite the bomb-halt agreement. Unofficial South Vietnamese figures showed the Reds had sent 80 rocket or mortar barrages into cities during the same period, three of them yesterday.

day was reported steadfastly set against devaluation. But it was the price he had to pay to get the Bonn meeting loan to restore confidence in the faltering franc.

The franc has been weakened by feverish currency speculation for more than a month.

In Bonn yesterday a French official was reported to have told newsmen that France had agreed to devaluation although the actual amount still had to be decided. Financial experts said it would be slight, perhaps as low as seven per cent.

LOSS OF FACE

Even a slight devaluation was a blow to de Gaulle, who has made his nation's monetary system a point of personal pride.

Most French newspapers had predicted the franc would be devalued by about 10 per cent. That would make the U.S. dollar worth about 5.5 francs.

Before all French money markets closed earlier this week, banks gave slightly less than five francs for a dollar.

Devaluation would thus make franc chaper for Americans and other foreign tourists, but French tourists in other countries will have to take more money out.

ROAD HIGHER, WATER REMAINS — State Highway Dept. workers have raised Dixie 1½ feet at this long-time trouble spot south of Walton. However the ponded water indicates the problem will be the same next time water flows in the area. The drain under the highway, leading west, has been plugged for years and in times of heavy rain or melting snow the road floods and hinders passing traffic as well as flooding adjacent property.

Dixie Repair Project Spawns Controversy

Owner of Store Is Killed by Car

A Waterford Township businessman was killed in front of his store when he was struck by a car while crossing the

Dead is Ross A. Elliott, 59, of 210 Oneida, Pontiac, partner-owner of Elliott Furniture Co., Inc., 5400 Dixie.

An employee at the firm said Elliott was coming back to work after eating across the street at Steak and Eggs Restaurant, 5395 Dixie, and he was killed directly in front of the furniture store.

Police said driver of the car which struck him was Thomas J. Miller, 35, of 6624 Roseland, Independence Township. The accident is still under investigation today, police said.

Pontiac Div. Sales Set 10-Day Record

Pontiac dealers had the best mid-November sales period in their history, Thomas L. King, Pontiac Motor Division's general sales manager, announced today.

King said sales totaled 22,059 for the November 11-20 period.

This compares to the 25,448 new cars sold in the same period last year and represents a 15 per cent increase over the old record of 27,866 set during the middle of November in 1965.

Daryon Pool Supply at 4763 Dixie, the higher road will only mean deeper ponding.

Hladchuck said that the road raising had been completed without any improvement in the drainage system which goes under the highway near the front of his business.

The State Highway Dept. is now completing a $22,000 project at the low spot which raised the road level roughly 1½ feet for about 500 feet. However, in the opinion of John Hladchuck, owner of

"They've only made it worse," a businessman in Waterford Township commented about a Dixie Highway repair job designed to reduce flooding at a long-time trouble spot.

The highway is plagued by flooding at a point just south of Walton.

He and other area residents are seeking an injunction in county circuit court to halt issuance of any building permits in the area. Hladchuck said in his opinion the backed-up water on the surrounding property presents a health hazard. "You can no longer drink the well water around here," he said.

The trouble spot at the highway has been the subject of meetings between township officials, Oakland County Drain commissioners and highway department representatives.

Highway officials have pointed out it is up to township officials to call for formation of an assessment district. The drain improvement could also be assessed at large as a benefit to the entire township, it has been pointed out.

Colorado Flu Epidemic

DENVER (UPI) — Colorado is experiencing one of the most widespread flu epidemics in its history, a state health official said yesterday. More than 100,000 persons may eventually contract the influenza.

Dr. C. S. Mollison, of the state health department said the outbreak may equal the 1957 epidemic when 34,000 cases were reported and in which as many as 100,000 persons may have had the disease.

Check Shows Daylight Savings Time Loses

From Our News Wires
LANSING — Michigan apparently will be out of step with the rest of the nation next spring when it comes time to turn the clocks ahead for Daylight Saving Time.

A just-completed, county-by-county check of the Nov. 5 state election returns spells apparent defeat for Daylight Savings Time by only 143 votes.

The unofficial tally of the votes cast Nov. 5 showed the DST question approved by a margin of some 25,000 votes.

But the secretary of state's office yesterday revealed its almost official count shows the measure defeated, 1,402,414 to 1,402,002.

If the State Board of Canvassers ap a formality — and if the final outcome proves the tally Monday — usually only survives any recounts that might be demanded, Michigan will stay on Standard Time year around, an exception to the Federal Uniform Time Act which sets the day for the time switch for the nation.

caused by an error in the total from Jackson County which on election night showed the proposition passing 20,059 to 1,828.

The final official return from the county placed the vote at 21,014 yes and 22,854 no — meaning the "no" side picked up more than 20,000 votes, enough to make the difference.

"We're sure of our figures," added State Elections Director Bernard Apol. Secretary of State James Hare noted backers of daylight savings time could petition for a recount of the vote. The deadline is 48 hours after the returns are certified by the Board of State Canvassers.

Any citizen may petition for a recount, but must pay $5 for each precinct rechecked, Apol said. A statewide recount thus would cost more than $30,000. If the recount reversed the election outcome, the money would be refunded.

The time question in Michigan has a stormy history that dates from passage by Congress of the Federal Uniform Time Act of 1966.

The federal act decreed savings time for the entire nation from the last Sunday in April until the last Sunday in October, but provided that a state could exempt itself from last time by using its legislative process.

Michigan — joined only by Hawaii among the states — exempted itself by legislative act in 1967, but backers of savings time, circulated referendum petitions and put the issue on the ballot. Michigan has been on savings time for the past two summers.

Death Claims Leading Dentist

Retired Pontiac dentist Dr. William A. Gordon, former president and charter member of the Oakland County Dental Association, died yesterday. He was 74.

Service will be 3 p.m. Monday at the Donelson-Johns Funeral Home with burial in Perry Mount Park Cemetery.

Surviving are his wife, Helen; three daughters, Mrs. Robert Boyce of Pontiac, Mrs. Jack Mills of Ann Arbor and Mrs. William Bowman of Indianapolis; two sons, William A. of Warren and Robert N. of Lansing; two brothers, Lee E. Gordon and Howard N. Gordon, both of Fenton; and 12 grandchildren.

A practicing dentist in the city for 37 years, and a resident since 1926, he served as president of the Pontiac Exchange Club and the Twelve. He was instrumental in the formation of the Oakland County Dental Association.

A member of the First Congregational Church, he also was a life member of the BPOE and a member of Lodge No. 21, a member of the Child Guidance Clinic Board, a member of the Oakland County Historical and Pioneer Society and served on the Urban League Board and the Police Trial Board.

Hospital Official Is Dead at 69

Dr. Cyrenus G. Darling Jr., 69, who served as chief of surgery and chief of staff at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, died last night of a heart attack.

A memorial service will be Tuesday in the Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co. in Birmingham.

Surviving are his wife, Aubrey; two sons, Cyrenus G. Darling III of Birmingham and David P. of San Francisco, Calif.; two grandsons; and a brother, Dr. D. B. Darling of Los Angeles, Calif.

Dr. Darling of 401 Lone Pine Court, Bloomfield Hills, was a graduate of the University of Michigan Medical School.

Dr. Darling served as president of the Oakland County Medical Society and was on the staff of Pontiac General and William Beaumont hospitals. He had also served as a medical director for General Motors Corporation.

A fellow of the American College of Surgeons, Dr. Darling was a member of Phi Kappa Psi and Nu Sigma Nu fraternities, Orchard Lake Country Club and the Old Club.

Memorial tributes may be made to the Surgical Education Fund or the Heart Fund at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Tons of Stone Used to Fight Mine Fire

MANNINGTON, W. Va. (AP) — Although termed a dangerous move, tons of big limestone chunks dropped down two air shafts today in another effort to fight the flames trapping 78 men in a coal mine.

The roaring fire has defied all efforts to bring it under control since a series of explosions ignited it before dawn Wednesday and trapped the men. The other 21 miners working the midnight shift managed to get to the surface or were pulled from air shafts.

There has been no word from the 78 since the first of the explosions which apparently shattered the internal communications of Mountaineer Coal Co. No. 9 mine. Mine officials hold little hope that the men are alive.

The decision to fill the two shafts with the limestone blocks came last night, John Roberts, a public relations official of Consolidation Coal Co., Mountaineer's parent firm, said the operation could take hours and would be an "extremely dangerous" task.

GOING LIKE BULLETS

"They'll be going out like bullets," Roberts said, if mine pressures blow out the big blocks.

Workers finished dumping the 1,000 tons of limestone down the air shafts at 3 a.m. today.

Five minutes before the last truckload of limestone was dumped another small explosion shot a puff of smoke and some fire into the air at the main portal where the original blast occurred.

Consolidation Coal's publicity director, James McCartney, said the "puff" was not large enough to cause alarm and not important enough to even wake company officials to tell them.

McCartney said he had not determined whether the latest explosion—the first since 4:30 a.m. Friday—was related to the dumping of limestone.

Consolidation officials said earlier they did not want to risk other lives in the rescue efforts as long as the fire raged or there was the possibility of more explosions.

A blast early yesterday sent tremors all the way to the company store, about four miles away, and shot flames streaking skyward.

Roberts explained that engineers want at least 12 hours, and preferably 24, free of explosions and stable fire and gas conditions before rescue squads will be permitted to enter the shafts.

For Secretary of State

Cabinet Choice in Doubt

NEW YORK (AP) — Richard M. Nixon's search for a secretary of state is described by an associate as "still wide open" but the president-elect is said to be thinking now in terms of naming a career diplomat to the most prestigious post in his Cabinet.

Sources said Nixon is not close to settling on a man for the assignment. But the president-elect was said to be seeking a candidate with a reputation in diplomacy and a long background in foreign service.

Nixon is soliciting advice now on men who might meet his specifications. He talked about it yesterday with former Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton, who once was rated a likely choice himself. Scranton said he had made it clear that he would not take a full-time government position but accepted some special assignments.

Robert D. Murphy, 74, now in a State Department liaison assignment for the president-elect, has been ruled out as a Cabinet selection because of his age.

The names of the men under active consideration are known only to Nixon and his innermost circle of advisers.

Scranton said Nixon had asked, and he had agreed, to work with two of those

Japanese Plane 'Crashes' Safely Into Frisco Bay

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The 107 persons aboard a Japan Air Lines jet can thank the highest tide of the year and a cool pilot for their "one-in-a-million" survival of a crash-landing into San Francisco Bay.

"They didn't even get their feet wet Friday when the DC-8, arriving from Tokyo, belled into the foggy shallows of the bay, a mile short of the runway at San Francisco International Airport.

A 10-man investigation team from the National Transportation Safety Board today begins probing the crash.

At the point of impact, just off Coyote Point, 18 miles south of San Francisco there was a rising seven-foot tide—the highest of the year.

MISSED RUNWAY

The plane's pilot, Kohei Asoh, 47, of Yokohama, with the airline 14 years, said his plane cut through the fog at 11 feet and settled into the water at a speed of 177 miles per hour.

A spokesman for the National Transportation Safety Board here said the plane was guided to the runway by an electronic beam and the pilot has to make corrections if the craft makes a faulty approach.

But Asoh said the plane's mechanical system was functioning normally.

advisers. John N. Mitchell and Lt. Gov. Robert Finch of California, in seeking personnel for the State Department.

Scranton would name no one, saying only that they had discussed "lots of very good people."

In other developments: Scranton said he had agreed to take on special assignments for Nixon in a variety of fields, beginning with work on housing programs and the problems of the Appalachian region.

Finch was reported to be on the verge of accepting a major administration post, probably in the Cabinet, but was said to be delaying because of disagreement with Gov. Ronald Reagan over who would be chosen his successor as lieutenant governor.

Oxford Twp. GI Killed in Combat

An Oxford Township soldier was among the recent combat deaths in Vietnam.

Killed at Da Nang Nov. 20 was Pfc. Donald P. Evans, whose wife, Sharon, lives at 1375 Indian Lake.

Evans was an Oxford area resident and attended schools there. Both his parents are deceased.

SINCE SEPTEMBER

Evans had been in Vietnam since September serving with Co. D, 5th Battalion, 7th Cavalry Airborne.

His wife said she and Evans had been married one day before he left for induction. He had two leaves prior to shipment overseas, she said.

His body is to be brought back to the area for burial.

Recipient of Second Heart Dies

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The longest U.S. survivor of heart transplant surgery, Everett C. Thomas, 47, died today of problems which developed after he received a second donor heart.

"His condition deteriorated steadily Friday night, with bleeding problems and diminishing kidney function culminating in irreversible cardiac arrest at 4 a.m.," a St. Luke's Episcopal Hospital spokesman said.

Thomas, an accountant from Phoenix, Ariz., received his first transplanted heart May 3.

Only Dr. Philip Blaiberg, 58, of Cape Town, South Africa, who received a new heart Jan. 2, has lived longer than Thomas following transplant surgery.

NORMAL ROUTINE

Thomas was discharged from St. Luke's last summer and worked as a trust consultant. He was able to drive a car and once flew home to Phoenix for a short visit. His wife and two of his sons came here to live with him in an apartment.

His second heart transplant followed by hours the first implant of a second donor heart into a person.

Physicians at Stanford University Medical Center said Darrell Hammarley, 56, underwent two heart transplant operations within six hours Wednesday. Hammarley was reported progressing satisfactorily.

Also making satisfactory progress is William Karkker, 49, of Stockton, Calif., who received Stanford's ninth heart transplant Friday.

REJECTED HEART

Thomas was dismissed from the hospital here in July and began working at a bank. He reentered the hospital Oct. 9 however, with signs of rejecting his first transplanted heart and physicians said he failed to respond to antirejection drugs.

Suspended NY Official Speaks in City

Fight for School Site Urged

Some 250 Pontiac parents were told last night by a suspended board member of Brooklyn's Ocean Hill-Brownsville experimental school district to "stick together" in their fight for a high school downtown.

Most parents attending were Negroes.

Mrs. Elaine Rooke talked on the morningth New York City teachers strike which ended this week in the absence of Rhody McCoy, the district's unit administrator, who was scheduled to speak at Bethune School.

"I just wish I'd lived here for three months," commented Mrs. Rooke. "I'd get me 10 parents together and you can rest assured that school would be built where the blacks want it."

Ocean Hill-Brownsville, a Negro and Puerto Rican slum area of Brooklyn, is an experimental school district under community control. It was the local point of three New York City strikes this school year and another last spring.

"Keep on fighting," Mrs. Rooke, added. "If parents stick together, someday you'll get exactly what you want."

She explained that the Ocean Hill-Brownsville School District was started because parents were "sick and tired of the white power structure telling blacks what to do."

When the Pontiac Board of Education decided to put the super high school for 4,300 students adjacent to Pontiac State Hospital rather than in the Negro area around Orchard Lake Avenue and Bagley, threats were made of black control of schools.

STAYED BEHIND

McCoy, who was reinstated as unit administrator Wednesday, stayed behind to handle the continuing trouble. "Otherwise, all eight schools would go up in flames," according to Mrs. Rooke.

Community control of schools is coming because parents feel central control doesn't meet the special needs of their children. Reginald Wilson, associate dean of testing at Oakland Community is to be done for students," he said. "Boards of education are only answerable to themselves."

HIGH SCHOOL SITE: — Surveyors for Arthur W. Gillespie Associates, consulting engineers, in Birmingham are preparing topography information for construction of the Pontiac school district's new super high school on the grounds of Pontiac State Hospital. The surveyors began at the site — Elizabeth Lake and State — Wednesday afternoon. The school board approved the site selection Monday.

New W. Maple School Set to Open Tuesday

BIRMINGHAM — The new West Maple Junior High School, Inkster and Maple roads, is scheduled to open Tuesday, pending final inspection of the building.

The principal is William Blackwell, and the assistant is Robert Olson.

West Maple students will not attend classes on Monday, while administrators and teachers make the necessary preparations for moving into the new school. Classes will resume Tuesday at 8:30 a.m.

All classroom areas and school offices will be ready except the gymnasium, cafeteria and swimming pool. These are expected to be completed about the first of the year.

$3-MILLION SCHOOL

The cost of West Maple is $3,400,000, including construction and equipment. The school, with a capacity of 825 students, was designed by O'Dell, Hewlett and Luckenbach, Inc., Architects and Engineers, Birmingham.

West Maple is a team-teaching, flexible scheduled school similar to Covington Junior High.

This fall West Maple students have been attending Covington Junior High on double session.

Students at Covington will resume regular school hours, 8:30 a.m.-3:40 p.m. on Monday.

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — A former area resident will return to this city Monday to speak at the opening of the Cranbrook segment of the 14th annual forum of the American Institute of Architects.

William R. Ewald Jr., a 1940 graduate of Bloomfield Hills High School and one-time member of the Detroit Planning Commission, will be the speaker for the program which begins at 9:30 a.m. at the Cranbrook Gallery of Art Hall.

Topic for his presentation, which will include a multicamera, multispeaker movie, is "A Future Full of Change."

Ewald, a design consultant with offices in Washington, D.C., has served as assistant commissioner of the Urban Renewal Administration, senior vice president of Dixieland Associates, Inc., and chief of development for the Arkansas Industrial Development Commission under Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller.

The forum, which opens today in Ann Arbor, will include representatives from student chapters of the AIA in 91 schools of architecture in the United States.

After the Cranbrook program, delegates will tour inner-city areas in Detroit, the General Motors Technical Center in Warren and the Ford Motor Co. plant in River Rouge before returning to Ann Arbor.

Jerusalem Is Quiet After Bombing

JERUSALEM — The Arab sector of the Holy City remained quiet under a tight curfew today while Israeli investigators probed yesterday's market blast that killed 12 persons and injured more than 50, including at least 17 seriously injured.

The curfew, imposed at 8 p.m. yesterday, was to remain in effect indefinitely.

Border troops and police patrolled the narrow streets in the old walled city and the wide thoroughfares of the new business sector. Others stood guard at the entrance to the Arab quarters, stopping all Arabs trying to return to East Jerusalem.

LOVE LICENSE — Mrs. Elsie Steeh, an employee of the State License Bureau, found license "Love-Me" when she opened a shipment of new plates at the Warren bureau. The shipment was from Southern Michigan Prison at Jackson. Prisoners make about nine million plates annually, and each year a few odd messages find their way to the outside world.

Legendary Career Ends

SEATTLE (AP) — Near the most community, recalled on another man who lost an arm in top of the world, where the days Seattle visit Friday that his are dark and below-zero all winter, Robert J. Fischer lived—hero with steel nerves and the died—doing what he knew and loved best.

For more than a decade, the 37-year-old bush pilot's daily routine often involved life and death. Thursday he died, along with six others, in the crash of his twin-engine plane near the frozen Barrow, Alaska, airstrip where his many daring mercy missions made him a legend in the Great North.

He was headed out of Barrow with members of the Alaska Governor's Employment Advisory Commission when his plane developed engine trouble and went down near where humorist Will Rogers and aviator Wiley Post died in a plane crash in 1955.

Gag Rule Lifted in Crash Investigations

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Transportation Safety Board, charged with probing all fatal air crashes, has lifted a rule that sealed the lips of investigators for more than a quarter century.

The board confirmed Friday that an order put into effect without publicity Oct. 23 instructed its 11 field offices to make public promptly any factual information about aircraft accidents in their area.

The field men—those closest to the accident, and therefore the best informed—heretofore have been almost completely under wraps.

DELAYED INFORMATION
Beyond that they could only refer questioners to CAB headquarters in Washington, a process that could delay detailed information on crashes for days.

All field chiefs have been briefed on the new procedures, and provided with a fact book on how to release information. "This information is not to be disseminated to the public until it is reviewed by the NTSB," O'Connell said. "The gag rule is inconsistent with the concept of accident prevention."

In effect, instructions from safety Board Chairman Joseph J. O'Connell Jr. are to give the facts openly, freely and in an above-board manner, but not to get involved in speculation as to what happened or as to the causes of an accident.

"Our business in investigating the CAB for 25 years before He said the Federal Aviation Administration, with the delegated authority to investigate nonfatal light-plane accidents—80 to 85 per cent of the total accidents are in this category—along has had a more liberal policy permitting field men to give out accident data.

Sheriffs' Schools

EAST LANSING (AP) — Some 40 newly elected sheriffs and deputies are expected to attend the 15th in a series of "schools" held for them at Michigan State Police Headquarters in East Lansing. The session, planned for Dec. 24, is sponsored by the Michigan Sheriffs Association and the State Police.
