King Among 300 Arrested in Selma

SELMA, Ala. (AP)—Approximately 300 Negroes including Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., were arrested by city police today as they marched toward the Dallas County Courthouse in a continuing voter registration campaign.

The Negroes who were walking en masse from the church were taken into custody on orders from Selma's public safety director, Wilson Baker, on charges of parading without a permit.

Baker, his voice hoarse with laryngitis, stopped the procession half a block from the church where the Negroes had assembled. He told them, "This is a deliberate attempt to violate the city's parade ordinance. You will have to break up in small groups."

King, walking at the head of the group, told Baker, "We don't feel that we're disobeying any law. We feel that we have a constitutional right to walk down to the courthouse."

The city official warned them again that they would be violating the law if they continued as they were.

MARCH CONTINUED

He permitted them to proceed for two blocks before stopping them again and announcing, "Each and every one of you is under arrest for parading without a permit."

A small force of city police told the Negroes to form a more compact group and then marched them to the City Hall.

Baker instructed his men to refrain from using force in making the arrests. Another group of Negroes had gone to the courthouse earlier to get in line to seek registration as voters when the Dallas County Board of Registrars met again today for a one-day session.

LEFT CHURCH

King and the larger group left the church later. They said they planned to march to the courthouse and demonstrate their protest against what they called the slow pace of registration.

Before leaving the church, King read a prepared statement to his followers and to newsmen in which he promised that the civil rights campaign in Selma will not end "until there is a change in the voting process and the establishment of democracy."

Bobby Wins 1st Senate Test

N. Y. Counties Added to Appalachia Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate amended the $1.09-billion Appalachia aid bill to pave the way for a possible share in its benefits for 13 New York counties.

The amendment was a personal victory for Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., author of the amendment, in his first Senate floor test of strength.

He voiced an implied criticism of New York's Republican Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller for not having sought the action.

Approval was by voice vote, with Sen. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., the only senator to speak against it. Cooper contended it should have been handled as separate legislation.

The Johnson administration is trying to head off expansion of the measure to take in additional areas.

MODIFICATION

Kennedy offered the amendment, accepted a modification of it proposed by Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., and won its approval after Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana had offered direct assurances from President Johnson that other regional plans similar to Appalachia will get consideration this year.

Mansfield called the Senate into session two hours early and scheduled a mid-afternoon roll call vote on the $1.09-billion measure aimed at improving the economies of 11 states. Most of the money would be spent on building new roads.

Several amendments were to be voted on first but the bill's managers said they were confident of defeating all of those designed to reduce the scope of the legislation.

Sponsors had feared the biggest threat to the measure came from senators who wanted to add amendments to establish similar aid programs in their states.

A plan, embodied in a bill offered by Sen. Pat McNamara, D-Mich., would authorize the President to set up regional development commissions in any part of the country, at the request of two or more governors, if the area met the test of high unemployment and other economic distress.

The administration said it would look with favor on a measure of this sort.

About 15 million persons live in the Appalachia area which covers all of West Virginia and parts of Alabama, Georgia, Kentucky, Maryland, North Carolina, Ohio, Pennsylvania, South Carolina, Tennessee and Virginia.

Two Cabinet Members Sick

Respiratory Ailments Hit Rusk, McNamara

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two members of President Johnson's Cabinet have respiratory ailments—Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara has a moderate case of viral pneumonia, and Secretary of State Dean Rusk has a continuing cold.

Assist. Secretary of Defense Arthur Sylvester told newsmen that McNamara's pneumonia showed up in X rays over the weekend after the secretary was admitted Friday to the Army's Walter Reed Hospital.

At the time his illness was diagnosed as an upper respiratory infection or bad cold. Rusk was ordered by his doctors to remain at home.

Undersecretary of State George Ball took over Rusk's chores, appearing before the Senate Appropriations Committee to present the administration's case against a ban on U.S. aid to the United Arab Republic.

ORDERED TO BED

On Saturday, Rusk was unable to attend the funeral services for Sir Winston Churchill in London. Upon his return here with the U.S. delegation he was ordered to bed.

Doctors reported today Rusk had a fluctuating temperature and advised him to stay at home until the condition clears up.

A State Department spokesman said there was no reason to think Rusk would be away from his post for any extended period.

Sylvester said that McNamara's temperature today is normal and that his condition is good.

The defense secretary is in bed and his stay in the hospital is indefinite, Sylvester said.

X RAYS NEGATIVE

The first X rays taken after McNamara went to the hospital Friday morning were described then as negative—that is showing nothing unusual in the secretary's lungs.

Blizzard Hits Areas in West; Cold in Florida

Heavy Snow, Strong Winds Rip Portions of the Nation

By The Associated Press

A massive storm carrying heavy snow and powerful winds lashed portions of the Northwest and Midwest today while extreme cold stung portions of the South and Florida.

Blizzard conditions prevailed from Minnesota and South Dakota southward through Missouri and Kansas. Cold wave warnings were issued for northeastern New Mexico.

Heavy snow and hazardous driving warnings were posted for Illinois, Ohio, southern Wisconsin and lower Michigan where the U.S. Weather Bureau predicted 4 to 6-inch snow accumulations.

Four inches of snow fell in Denver, Colo., in a six-hour period and winds gusted up to 45 miles per hour, reducing visibility to zero.

Five inches fell in Minneapolis, three in Rochester and Alexandria, Minn., and Lone Rock, Wis.

STRONG WINDS

Some winds reached up to 60 m.p.h. in South Dakota and Nebraska. Broken bow in central Nebraska reported wind gusts up to 80 m.p.h.

A hard freeze struck northern Florida and frost and freezing temperatures prevailed in most of the southern sector.

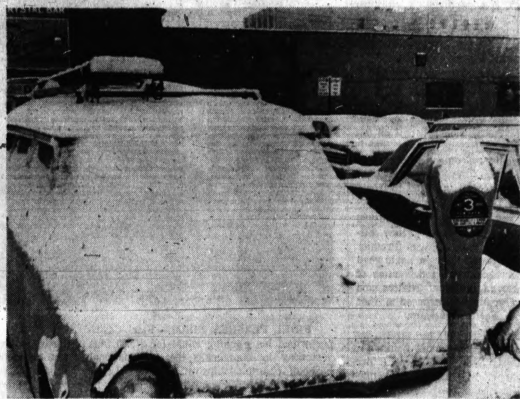

The storm began in Montana early yesterday and moved swiftly in a wide belt toward the Midwest. Rock slides in Idaho closed U.S. 12.

Gusting winds and heavy snow swept through Colorado, closing mountain passes.

MERCURY PLUNGES

Motorists were stalled on Denver streets. The temperature dropped 26 degrees in one hour after the storm hit the state. Eight hundred skiers evacuated from Lake Eldora in the Rocky Mountains during the morning were trapped by drifts up to 15 feet.

A drop of temperatures in Idaho eased the flood danger as the snowpack runoff was retarded. An estimated 200 (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

MYSTERIOUS METER — Parking meter readers had a little extra chore this morning before ticketing overtime parkers. They had to wipe the snow off the meter to check the reading. The city's uniformed meter wipers really faced a dilemma when they uncovered an expired meter: finding a dry spot for the parking ticket.

Orchard Lake Smashup Fatal to Birmingham Girl

A Birmingham girl was dead on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital late Saturday night of injuries sustained in an Orchard Lake car accident.

Mrs. Daniel D. Ricci, 17, of 620 Ruffner, Birmingham, was killed when the car she was riding in failed to negotiate a curve on Pontiac Trail and hit a tree.

Injured in the crash were Michael J. Boefema, 20, of 1421 34 Mile Road and Claudia Kannel, 17, of 1239 Smith, both of Birmingham.

Boefema, who police believe was the driver, was listed in a serious condition at Pontiac General, while the Kannel girl was in critical condition with internal injuries.

Police said that the car was going east on Pontiac Trail at about 10:55 p.m. Saturday when it left the road on an S-shaped curve.

The car traveled 178 feet across the roadway, struck a snow bank and traveled another 34 feet in the air before striking a tree about eight feet from the ground.

The victim's body is at Manley Bailey Funeral Home in Birmingham. Rosary will be recited there at 8 p.m. tomorrow.

Three companies of troops supported them.

Southern said today the government had everything in hand and that the chief of staff, Gen. Quane Rathkoun, remained in charge.

There have been recent rumblings of dissent among leaders of the Laotian armed forces and some criticism of the chief of staff.

For years Laos has been torn by strife between Communists, nationalists and rightist factions but it was not clear whether the rebel officers belonged to any of these groups. Sycosie, once lived in the United States.

Princess Grace Gives Birth to 2nd Daughter

MONTE CARLO, Monaco (AP)—Princess Grace of Monaco gave birth today to her second daughter, palace sources announced.

First news of the birth was given to this tiny principality by the traditional firing of a cannon at the sugarmill palace. The princess, former movie queen Grace Kelly, and her husband Prince Rainier, have two other children.

Romney Plans to Unveil State Budget Tomorrow

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney plans to present to the legislature tomorrow his 1965 state budget—a blueprint expected to call for approximately $800 million in state spending.

The budget will go to legislators with a note that Romney intends to retain part of this year's general fund surplus for a rainy day.

This surplus has been estimated at between $75 million and $125 million but the amount officially has not been disclosed.

State agencies requested $996.2 million for fiscal 1965-66.

The current appropriation is $694.3 million. Observers estimate Romney will cut this year's requests to somewhere between $75 million and $800 million.

The governor told the Michigan Press Association in East Lansing Saturday that increased taxes or deficit spending will result "if we attack our surplus by spending it all immediately—or by chopping away at it by means of piecemeal tax reduction."

But Romney said in order to provide services in the current proposed budget, it will be necessary to spend some of the surplus.

The Associated Press has learned Romney plans to save about $75 million of it.

The surplus almost makes the state "too fat and sassy for our own good right now," Romney said Saturday.

Snowstorm Is Severe in County

If Mr. Groundhog comes out of hibernation as scheduled tomorrow to make his annual weather prediction, he may have to stand on tiptoes to get his head above the snow, which is scheduled to accumulate an additional five inches in the area today.

The weatherman predicts that today's blowing snow will be replaced with falling temperatures by tonight. The low will register between 5 above and 5 below zero.

Tomorrow will continue cold and cloudy with a few snow flurries. The high is expected to fall in the 7 to 15 range.

Wednesday's outlook promises no change with clouds, snow flurries and low temperatures forecast.

The low thermometer recording prior to 8 a. m. in downtown Pontiac was 11. By 2 p.m., the mercury climbed to 21.

COUNTY TROUBLE

Salt trucks and snow plows have been at work in the county since 1:30 a. m. today, but road commission officials said they weren't making much progress because of the continued snowfall.

About 100 pieces of equipment and a full crew of men were on the job.

Michigan State Police reported that all roads in the area are snow-covered and slippery. They said that the bad weather has caused motorists to proceed more cautiously and few accidents have been reported.

A few accidents, however, reported a few minor accidents, one involving a school bus, but no serious injury accidents.

Pontiac's five salt trucks were ordered out at 2:30 this morning, according to Department of Public Works Superintendent Clyde Christian.

Shortly after 9 a.m., city DPW forces were also using four graders and three trucks with underbody plows in a further attempt to clear streets for motor traffic.

The Detroit weather bureau predicted wind-driven snow and hazardous driving warnings throughout the Lower Peninsula.

The snow was to change to flurries and gradually stop this evening, except near Lake Michigan.

The State Highway Department said nearly all of Michigan got some overnight snow, ranging from one or two inches in the Upper Peninsula to six to 12 inches along Lake Michigan.

Muskegon reported 12 inches by early today, bringing the city's total snow depth to 27 inches.

Sault Ste. Marie reported 30 inches on the ground, followed by Pellston with 28 and Houghton with 24.

GEN. LEMAY

Top Honors for Retiring AF General

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. Curtis E. LeMay received new honors and acclaim today from the President and from comrades on his first day in retirement from an Air Force he guided to new peaks of power.

In a White House ceremony, President Johnson awarded LeMay a fourth Distinguished Service Medal in the presence of generals, admirals, government executives, members of Congress and the LeMay family.

Speaking with no trace of hoarseness from his cold, Johnson said that under LeMay "America has built the mightiest air arm in the history of man."

He said the general has devoted his career "to helping teach us that the price of peace is preparedness even as the price of liberty shall always be eternal vigilance."

"General LeMay," Johnson said, "all free men are in your debt today and all your countrymen join with me in proudly and gratefully saluting you."

Substituting for Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, another victim of a cold, Deputy Secretary Cyrus Vance read the citation for the third oak leaf cluster to go with LeMay's original Distinguished Service Medal.

It said that as vice chief of staff, and as a member of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, LeMay manifested a high degree of dedication which combined outstanding professional knowledge with leadership of the highest caliber.

It said that "his accomplishments and leadership have contributed substantially to the security of the United States and the free world."

There was no mention in the White House East Room ceremony of the fact that LeMay has differed with others in the Defense Department in advocating a strong, continued role for manned bombers. Today everything was compliments.

U.S. Hails Soviet Reaction to Johnson Call for Visits

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—U.S. officials today welcomed the Soviet Union's favorable response to President Johnson's call for top-level visits and contacts between the two countries.

They were less certain, however, about what to make of the Soviet Union's unexpected diplomatic intervention in war-torn Southeast Asia except that it will probably raise new problems for both the United States and Red China.

The two apparently unrelated developments, announced in Moscow yesterday, led Washington authorities to conclude that the new regime in Moscow has now made some basic foreign policy decisions and is ready to initiate action.

The response to Johnson's initiative, which the President made in his State of the Union message a month ago, took the form of a commentary in the Communist party paper, Pravda, which U.S. leaders here saw as officially insured.

The comment declared that Johnson's proposal for visits and for increased contacts between U.S. and Soviet officials had "met with a positive response in the Soviet Union."

Informants here said there had been some advance word to the United States that a favorable, informal reply would be forthcoming. They called the Pravda commentary encouraging and speculated that diplomats of the two countries would soon begin exploratory talks about top-level visits.

RECIPROCAL INVITATION

Johnson had said he would like the new Kremlin leaders to come to this country and speak to the American people on television. He made clear that he would welcome a reciprocal invitation to visit the Soviet Union and appear on Soviet television.

A few hours before the Pravda article was published the Tass news agency disclosed that Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin would head a high-powered delegation of Soviet military, aviation and economic experts on a visit to North Viet Nam.

This seems to mean that Kosygin and Soviet Communist Party Secretary Leonid I. Brezhnev, who replaced Premier Khrushchev last October, have decided to abandon Khrushchev's hands-off policy in Southeast Asia and try to play a vigorous role in the politics of conflict in that part of the world.

Washington authorities doubted that the two separate announcements were merely coincidental.

NO STRAIN

They were inclined to think Soviet leaders were trying to indicate to Washington that any Russian move to intervene in Southeast Asia was not intended to strain relations between Washington and Moscow.

This view was based in part on a long-standing belief of policy-makers here that the Soviet Union does not stand to profit by expanding war between Russia and Communist Viet Nam or between North Viet Nam and Laos.

There was some expectation that Kosygin probably would undertake to make a strong agreement of aid and support for Communist North Viet Nam but that this agreement would be essentially defensive in nature and might even lead eventually to some break on North Vietnamese aggression in Laos and South Viet Nam.

One result of the new Soviet moves was considered here to be reasonably predictable: a deeper wedge between the Soviet Union and Red China.

CHINA INFLUENCE

In recent years, Red China's influence in North Viet Nam has been predominant.

FIDEL FLASHES FORM—Fidel Castro performed his pitching ritual for 27,000 fans yesterday to inaugurate the 1965 national baseball championships at Havana's Latin American Park. He was wildly cheered as he

Court Rules on Colorado Redistricting

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court affirmed today, insofar as federal questions are involved, a decision by a special U.S. District Court that portions of a Colorado reapportionment dealing with legislative apportionment are invalid.

The high tribunal, in an unsigned order, said that, insofar as the special court affirmed today a reapportionment ruling affecting New York State, that was issued last July 27 by a special three-judge federal district court in New York City. The special court directed, among other things, that the New York Legislature adopt a "valid" reapportionment law by next April 1.

As the special court at Denver decided other than federal questions, the federal court was sent back for further consideration, in the light of a "supervening decision" of the Colorado Supreme Court.

The order did not specify the federal questions to which it referred. Nor did it give any details as to the supervening decisions of the state court.

Isolated Skiers Are Evacuated Dragnet by Cadets Was 'Meshed' Up

Trapped Eight Days at Resorts in Utah

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) —

"It was kind of shocking, and my wife was really turned up, but we feel all right about it now."

F. Earl Swain described his experience of being picked up by a police squad investigating a "murder."

Swain, 71, former manager of the American Type Founders Co. for 37 years, his wife and their son, Wendell, 24, didn't know at the time:

"That 63 young officers were training for the elite metro squad."

FAKED MURDER

That police academy instructors had faked the murder of a fictitious blonde named Loraine, planting clues which led to many persons, all of whom were coached on what to say.

"That the class, ear-worms after a week of lectures, was turned loose to solve the case."

"Those boys were really hepped up," said Capt. Sterling Ford, an instructor.

One team checked out a car near the murder scene. They found the owner, Robert Torrance, filling station operator.

GAVE NAMES

Torrance followed his script

when questioned. He mentioned some names, including Swain's. Swain's name wasn't typed on the card we gave Torrance, Capt. Ford explained, "but someone had penciled it on the bottom. Don't know why."

The eager squad fanned out, checking all the names.

Swain, finishing his morning coffee, saw policemen all around his place. Six of them entered the house.

"You know anyone by the name of Loraine?" they asked Wendell Swain.

"Yes."

"Is she a blonde or brunette?"

"She's a blonde I met at the bowling alley."

Then the officers got serious.

"They searched Wendell's bed, closet, dresser — everything," Swain said. "They searched my car — found a quarter and a nickel behind the seat and gave them to me. Then they asked us to come with them."

The officers radioed ahead. "The case is made."

"The first hint I had that it wasn't a real case was when they took us to the Police Academy instead of headquarters," Swain said.

"Something has gone wrong," remarked an instructor when the Swains walked in.

MADE APOLOGY

Capt. Ford apologized. Swain and his son soon were chuckling.

Back at home, Mrs. Swain was simmering.

"We've lived here 20 years. What will the neighbors think?" Ford sat down and explained the training program. Mrs. Swain said she understood.

Would Ford flunk the officers?

"No," he said emphatically. "They were doing just what we have to do on every real case."

Would Swain flunk them?

"No," Swain said. "They were polite, intelligent, and acted like gentlemen. I think they will be fine officers."

The speakers pushed from their seats to the exits. At the same time, those impatiently waiting to reach seats for a second concert dashed through a corridor toward the fans leaving.

WOMAN FALLS

In the melee, a woman carrying a child was believed to have fallen to the ground first. Others stumbled and fell a few seconds later. Fist fights erupted.

When police restored order 19-crashed bodies were strewn on the pavement. Several hours later, none had been identified.

Ambulances carried the injured to the three main hospitals of Guadalajara, Mexico's second largest city.

Docks Remain Idle 22nd Day

Baltimore Stevedores Vote on Revised Pact

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson requested today that striking dock workers return to their jobs immediately in all ports where agreements have been reached between the International Longshoremen's Association and ship-plant companies. Secretary of labor W. Willard Wirtz told newsmen that he was making the back-to-work request, but that Johnson had authorized him to do so.

BALTIMORE (AP) — A revised contract went to rank and file Baltimore longshoremen today with the blessing of union leaders as docks from Maine to Texas stood idle for the 22nd day.

In three other ports dockworkers continued to bargain for new work agreements based on the so-called New York master contract approved more than a week ago.

Atlantic and Gulf Coast ports have been shut down since Jan. 10 when the AFL-CIO International Longshoremen's Association went on strike.

The ILA says no ships will be worked until all ports in its jurisdiction have settled.

BEGAN VOTING

Members of the six locals here began voting at 8 a.m. on a proposal that was rejected last weekend at bargaining sessions attended by Thomas W. Gleason, leader of the 60,000 striking docks.

Gleason, ILA president, described the new Baltimore agreement as "better than New York's," and put his weight behind it, as have the leaders of the six locals.

Officials of four of the locals have been voting at 8 a.m. on a proposal that was rejected last Wednesday 1,371 to 1,016.

Several changes, including the elimination of a controversial jurisdictional clause, have led Gleason and ILA Vice President William H. Hale to predict ratification today.

TERRIFIC PRESSURE

Gleason, before he left Baltimore Sunday, spoke of "terrific pressure" being applied by Washington to get the strikers back on the job.

The strike has cost the nation's economy an estimated $1 billion, Gleason said.

In Miami, where terms are set for ports in the South Atlantic district, shippers and union leaders met at 10 a.m. today after a standoff of more than a month.

In dispute there was the size of work gangs with ILA negotiator Judge Henderson insisting his men would not return to their jobs until they got a guarantee of a 16-man gang minimum.

Area Driver Ruled Dead Before Crash

A man who was thought to have been killed in an auto accident yesterday morning in Oxford, apparently died before the crash from a gastric hemorrhage.

Medical authorities said that Houston Clark, 48, 95 Brabb. Oxford Township, was dead about 2-40 a.m. yesterday on M-24.

Clark's car was across both southbound lanes of the highway when the accident occurred.

The driver of the other car, Harold Tins of 817 Coniston, Oxford Township, was not injured.

Birmingham Area News

To Urge Action by City on Parking Lot Financing

BIRMINGHAM — City Manager R. S. Kenning tonight will urge city commissioners to clear the way for financing of Birmingham's newest municipal parking lot.

The lot in the block south of Shain Park was temporarily developed last summer.

In a report to commissioners, Kenning noted that the estimated total cost of the facility is $550,000.

"To date, approximately $275,000 has been spent for the purchase of the property and temporary development," he said.

The property was condemned late in 1963 after necessity for the lot had been declared by the commission.

Purchase and temporary improvement of the lot was approved.

Kenning said that when the lot is spread the district can be reduced or the city assessor can be directed to change the formula.

CAN BE REDUCED

It has been assumed that the library, city hall and post office parking would be assessed on the same basis as private business, according to the city manager.

Doctor's Talk Angers Union

Relations at State Hospital at New Low

Statements made by Dr. Donald W. Martin, medical superintendent of Pontiac State Hospital, at a press conference Friday brought bitter reactions today from Michigan State Employees Union (MSEU) officials.

In a statement to The Press this morning, Robert C. Grosvenor, MSEU director, said "Labor-management relations at the hospital hit a new all-time low" as the result of the press conference.

Dr. Martin told newsmen that complaints about working conditions at the hospital were sent to the State Department of Mental Health without his knowledge.

The superintendent said he knew of no reason why the hospital management had been accused of racial discrimination and unfair practices, and that rumors of labor trouble at the hospital were unfounded.

"When Dr. Martin says there are any 'rumors' about labor trouble at the hospital, he apparently isn't very well informed," Grosvenor said today.

"EXPLOSIVE"

The MSEU director said the press conference had created an "explosive situation" at the hospital. Spokesmen for the institution said this morning, however, that they were aware of no such reaction among the employees.

Grosvenor said two bakery employees have filed a joint formal complaint with the Michigan Civil Rights Commission charging the hospital with racial discrimination.

Hospital officials said they have no knowledge of the complaint, which was made last June, according to the commission.

Union membership of 940 employees at the hospital is divided about equally between the MSEU and the Michigan State Employees Association.

There are no plans to picket the hospital, according to Mrs. Ruby McCormack, president of MSEU Local 49, who said Friday she believes the management is trying to improve working conditions.

DROPPING OUT

Grosvenor said employees at the local hospital are "dropping out" of MSEU in large numbers and joining the union.

There are no plans to picket the hospital, according to Mrs. Ruby McCormack, president of MSEU Local 49, who said Friday she believes the management is trying to improve working conditions.

However, he did not say flatly that if Communist China is admitted to the United Nations, she will reject the membership of the world organization.

Chou, according to Antara, appealed to friendly countries that are members of the world organization to reorganize the United Nations.

Otherwise "we must consider the establishment of a new world organization outside the present United Nations," Antara quoted Chou.

Communist China accused the United States today of campaigning against the spread of nuclear weapons to preserve a "rotting U.S. nuclear monopoly."

The United States produced "a large quantity of nuclear weapons . . . to frighten people everywhere" since it dropped its first atomic bomb over Hiroshima in 1945, contended the official newspaper Peiping People's Daily.

"But now that (Communist) China has exploded its first atomic bomb in the interest of defending world peace, U.S. imperialism is raising a hue and cry," the paper said.

Crowd Panics; 19 Are Killed

GUADALAJARA, Mexico (AP) — Nineteen persons were reported trampled to death or suffocated and more than 40 others injured last night when a crowd panicked at a popular music festival.

Police said some 7,000 fans leaving an arena usually used as a bull ring clashed head-on with 5,000 others, trying to enter.

Six children were among the dead.

The stampede occurred at the end of one performance and just before another was to begin.

The speakers pushed from their seats to the exits. At the same time, those impatiently waiting to reach seats for a second concert dashed through a corridor toward the fans leaving.

WOMAN FALLS

In the melee, a woman carrying a child was believed to have fallen to the ground first. Others stumbled and fell a few seconds later. Fist fights erupted.

With Confusing January

Mother Nature Had a Fling

Mother Nature succeeded in "confusing most of us in January with a wide range of temperatures, much to the delight of Mr. C. Cold (for common).

For instance, it wasn't much like January when the temperature went to a high of 58 degrees on Jan. 8.

It didn't feel like seven below zero when it went down to that on Jan. 29. It felt as though it was 20 below as a biting wind produced red cheeks, cars and noses.

On the 22nd, Mother Nature pulled rank, sleet, snow and sunshine out of her bag of tricks.

High temperature records show 13 days when temperature readings went above 32 degrees, 16 days under 32, and two right at the freezing mark.

Average mean temperature was 21.1 degrees compared with December's 27 and January's year ago with 27.8 degrees.

Precipitation was approximately four inches, nearly two inches more than average with a whole lot of it staying in the form of ice for the last week of the month. Last January's precipitation was three-tenths of an inch of rain and 1.5 inches of snow.

There were only 10 sunny days in January this year compared to 20 a year ago. We had snow on 10 days of the month and rain on six more.

However, only two snowy days were significant. The others were only brief flurries.

Senators Urge U.S. War on Quacks Cheating Aged

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate investigators urged today a federal war on quacks and schemers who profit on crooked pitches aimed mainly at the elderly.

A report to the Senate by its subcommittee on frauds and misrepresentations affecting the elderly charged that unscrupulous operators are milking millions of dollars every year from the skimpy retirement incomes of the aged.

The subcommittee said an accurate count is impossible, but added that $1 billion a year "was mentioned most often" by knowledgeable witnesses in its 1964 hearings.

The report said quacks sell the elderly everything from phony arthritis "cures" to devices "guaranteed" to restore youth and remove wrinkles.

MAJOR VICTIMS
"It is shameful that the elderly (are) clearly the major victims of the highly organized, high pressure techniques of the modern medicine man," the report said. "But this is clearly the case."

Sen. Harrison A. Williams Jr., D-N.J., the subcommittee chairman, said in an accompanying statement he would press recommendations for corrective action.

One proposal calls for creation of a new agency, to be named the Central Antiquackery Bureau, within the Food and Drug Administration.

Another calls for a new law requiring advance FDA testing and approval before purported therapeutic, diagnostic and prosthetic devices could be sold.

EDUCATIONAL PROGRAM
The committee also advocates an educational program to alert the elderly against crooked schemes.

While physical health and infirmities are the main field in which the crooks are cheating the elderly, the subcommittee said, there are many others. It said these include the mail-order sales of sites for retirement homes actually not worth much for any habitation, and slick health insurance schemes.

More Anti-Taylor Protests Likely

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

More "Taylor Go Home" signs are likely to be seen in Viet Nam. U.S. Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor was the subject of a successful propaganda spree by the Buddhists last week to help win their real objective, the ouster of American-backed Prime Minister Tran Van Huong.

The Buddhists canceled their anti-American drive when Huong fell, but their student allies in Hue already have announced they want Huong out of the country. Now that the Buddhists have seen how successful such tactics can be, they may try it again to achieve other objectives.

DITTO IN THE PHILIPPINES: Cries of "Yankee go home" and "Down with U.S. imperialism" also will continue to sound in the Philippines.

Leaders of recent protest rallies calling for an end to Philippine-American ties have announced they will continue their demonstrations in front of the U.S. Embassy until their demands are fully met.

Manila Mayor Antonio J. Villegas has stated through a spokesman that he will not block the "free and peaceful" expression of their feelings. Communists are known to have participated in the demonstrations which began as result of the deaths of Filipinos shot by U.S. sentries in restricted areas.

U.S. SAYS NO THANKS: The United States disapproves of Nationalist China's desire to send troops to South Viet Nam as the Republic of Korea is doing.

Informed sources said Washington quietly told President Chiang Kai-shek's government that Nationalist troops in Viet Nam would give Communist China a chance to intervene in the civil war.

Eleven Nationalist Chinese military advisers went to Viet Nam last year, and it is understood that some Nationalist military engineers are helping the Vietnamese build roads and air strips.

But no Chinese expeditionary force similar to the 2,000 South Korean troops being readied for Southeast Asia is planned.

UNDERGROUND TESTING: Expect British Prime Minister Harold Wilson to take up with President Johnson the possibility of extending the nuclear test-ban treaty to at least include the

U.S: China Is Set Back in Burundi

WASHINGTON (AP) — Burundi's ouster of Red Chinese diplomats was rated by U.S. officials today as a significant setback for Peking's campaign to expand its influence in Africa.

The staff of 22 Chinese at the centrally located embassy at Bujumbura is reported to have been supplying training money and arms to rebels in the neighboring Congo and to have been involved in widespread propaganda activities.

In ordering a break-off of relations with Communist China, King Mwambutsa apparently decided the Reds were promoting too much trouble inside Burundi, too.

Burundi is the first African state to suspend relations with Peking.

RIVAL BID
The Soviets have already taken on enemies in their rival bid for influence in Africa, one of the biggest being their expulsion from the Congo.

U.S. strategists figure that Peking's brand of militant revolution will become less appealing to the leaders of the new African countries as they discover that, now that they are the rulers, they might be the ones overthrown.

The Africans themselves have attributed some plots to the Chinese, and the Ivory Coast president recently accused Peking of training Africans in assassination techniques. Information reaching Washington has not linked the Chinese with last month's assassination of Burundi's anti-Chinese premier, Pierre Ngendandumwe, although some of those under arrest are known to be pro-Chinese.

while little can be done in the foreseeable future in the way of East-West accords, there may be just a chance of some advance in the field of nuclear "disarmament."

This involves the possible broadening of the test ban treaty and restrictions on the spread of nuclear knowhow and weapons.

NY Welfare Strike Is Over

Vote to Accept Plan of Mayor's Committee

NEW YORK (AP) — The city's welfare workers go back to their jobs today with a pledge from the city that mandatory penalties on the strikers will be suspended — the crux of the 28-day dispute.

The memberships of the two striking unions voted Sunday night with shouts of joy to accept a four-point proposal worked out by a mayoral committee over the weekend. Mayor Robert F. Wagner already had approved the peace plan.

The solution was greeted by labor officials as a union victory. Labor leaders eyed the outcome as a test of the state's Condon-Wadlin Act which bans public employee strikes.

LEADER'S MESSAGE

George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, told the strikers in a message Sunday night that the settlement demonstrated "that your militancy brought about a victory of importance to the entire labor movement."

The strikers' acceptance ended the longest walkout by public employees in the city's history, carried out in defiance of two court orders as well as the Condon-Wadlin Act.

The back-to-work proposal calls for the city and the unions to go together into court and seek:

— Release of 19 union leaders, jailed for 30-day terms for refusing to order a return to work, and — Suspension of Condon-Wadlin Act penalties, under which the strikers could be docked double pay for the duration of the strike, until the act's penalty clause is constitutionally tested.

PLAN REJECTED

The two unions rejected a peace plan two weeks ago because it did not contain such a suspension of penalties. The city also agreed to set up a five-member fact-finding board to investigate the unions' demands for higher pay and smaller case loads.

This was the strikers' demand when they walked out Jan. 4. The fourth point in the proposal calls on the city to show no vindictiveness toward the returned employees.

Wagner had refused to negotiate with the two unions while they were on strike.

NOTICE OF ADJOURNED HEARING TO REVIEW SPECIAL ASSESSMENTS

PONTIAC TOWNSHIP WATER SUPPLY SYSTEM

PLEASE TAKE NOTICE, that the hearing held on Monday, January 25, 1965, at 8:00 P.M., Eastern Standard Time, in the Pontiac Township Hall, has been adjourned to Wednesday, February 24, 1965, at 8:00 P.M., Eastern Standard Time, in the said Pontiac Township Hall, on Opdyke Road in said Township. At said adjourned hearing all of the special assessments on the nine special assessment rolls, which were reviewed at the said hearing on January 25, 1965, will be again reviewed before final action with respect to said special assessments is taken by the Township Board. By resolution of said Township Board the aggregate amount of the special assessment rolls has been reduced from $610,500 to an aggregate amount not exceeding $569,250 but the unit of special assessment for water benefit has been retained at $330.00 per unit, said reduction being due to a reduction in the gross number of units assigned to the nine special assessment districts.

YOU ARE FURTHER NOTIFIED, that any owner of or party in interest in property on any of said nine special assessment rolls, described in the notice of the January 25, 1965, hearing, is entitled to be heard and to make objections or to ask questions at the said adjourned hearing to be held on February 24, 1965.

It Seems to Me . . .

Rep. Law Sponsoring Bill for Modern Sport Stadium

Representative ARTHUR J. LAW has sponsored a bill in the House at Lansing proposing a modern sports stadium on the Michigan Fair Grounds. Representative LAW says that he finds considerable enthusiasm among fellow conferees.

When the idea was originally suggested, the concept embraced the entire Fair Grounds property with several additional business developments in conjunction with the stadium. The progenitors of the idea wanted to "put the entire acreage to work." As things stand today, the site is more or less a hollow mockery.

This great, gaunt spectre is idle the bulk of the year. One conception suggested a huge exposition hall where the great automobile companies might keep perpetual exhibits of various models and other developments they wished on public display. The grounds could have many other usages. This might conflict in a minor way with Cobo Hall, but the two are separated by several miles of solid traffic and each could effectually service its own requirements.

The Law proposal deserves careful study. Geographically, the spot is ideal. It lies approximately in the center of several million people. Michigan residents from large areas can take advantage of the new rapid transit through-ways, see big events and yet have dinner at home.

Definite agreements must be worked out with the Tigers and Lions and the financing must be studied by qualified men.

Tiger Stadium is outmoded from many angles. Originally, Bennett Park housed a capacity throng of 12,000 spectators. Navin Field emerged from this and then Briggs Stadium followed, and now Tiger Stadium. The location was satisfactory half a century ago for 12,000 fans. But the 57,000 that crowd in now find bumper-to-bumper turmoil both going and coming; and they have to park on Bill Jones' porch and almost in a corner of his living room.

Yes, Mr. JOHNSON, your Great Society moves onward, everywhere.

Comments on Churchill . . .

I have seen scores of publications commenting on the death of Sir WINSTON CHURCHILL. Several were of foreign origin. With just one exception, they have been extremely laudatory and complimentary. This is just and proper.

Sir Winston was one of the world's greatest and most beloved figures. He earned and richly deserved the encomiums that were heaped upon him. But there is ONE exception. You can guess it.

It was the Communist Daily Worker. Sir WINSTON was the object of base calumny, jeers and palpable hatred. How can humanity—even in Russia—sink to these abysmal depths in the sorrow of death?

Ante Up . . .

ADLAI STEVENSON has had many moments of fearful indecision and exasperating vacillation.

But the Illinois statesman seems to have a grip on himself in connection with paying U.N. dues. Last September he bowed before the Russians and said "a showdown might hurt elections." After election, when the showdown day came again, he agreed to postpone the "or else" period once more. I guess it was going to hurt the holiday trade—or something.

Now the deadline's here again.

This time he declares the Russians must ante up or lose their vote. Further procrastination on his part is an open avowal of weak-kneed uncertainty.

Mr. Stevenson, stand by your guns.

That's what the U. S. expects.

And in Conclusion . . .

Jottings from the well-thumbed notebook of your peripatetic reporter:

"Kiss Me, Stupid," the lascivious film calculated to be box office dynamite because of the ultra-sexy sections, is a financial disappointment up to here. . . . New York's World's Fair is having unglorious days. The first year left financial deficits that awe Gotham officials and the whole matter has become a financial squabble. . . .

ARLENE DAHL says a dress should be tight enough to let a man know there's a woman inside, but loose enough to let them also know that she's a lady. . . . You may think the Mississippi's the longest river in the U.S., but it isn't. It's the Missouri.

Scouts advise me that

CLAUDIA COOK deserves mention as one of the area's attractive young ladies. . . . They've just marketed a business man's airplane.

CLAUDIA that climbs to 40,000 feet, flies over 500 miles an hour and sells for only $595,000. I'm going to have one when the price drops to $59.50. Remember, I was a pilot in the first World War. . . . One cartoonist depicts the Congressional program as: "no poverty, no illiteracy, no unemployment, no prejudices and very, very few Republicans."

Well, the House awakened. It voted 204-177 to cut off the sale of surplus food to dictator G. A. NASSER who accepts our bounty with one hand and thumbs his nose at us with the other. The Washington legislators are hearing from you—and you—and you at home. . . . As the Late Lord BERKEENCAID said of his father: "he's a very simple man—he's always prepared to put up with the best of everything."

Dept. of Cheers and Jeers: the C's—The Richmond, Va. News Leader editorial as reproduced here today on the editorial page; the J's—Mickey Rooney and Shelly Berman on the Ed Sullivan show who are so stinko they even dragged the great Sullivan show to the depths.

"A DEPRESSION invariably follows an era of markedly short skirts," says a columnist. If so, it is hoped the depression that will follow the current era of short and shorter skirts will not be so deep as the hemlines of the skirts are high.

With Reservations!

David Lawrence Says:

LBJ Illness Kept Hubert Home

WASHINGTON — Why didn't President Johnson send Vice President Humphrey to attend the funeral of Winston Churchill?

This question has been asked by many people here in the last few days. But while official quarters have not supplied the answer, the decision on the part of Mr. Johnson was based on obvious circumstances.

The truth is LAWRENCE that, although Mr. Johnson came back from the hospital the middle of last week, he stayed in bed much of the time for several days thereafter.

The President was aware that throughout the country there was a nervousness about his illness — a fear that it might take a serious turn.

If, indeed, he had been well enough to resume his regular activities, there wouldn't have been so much concern. But because Mr. Johnson had not fully recovered from his illness, it was recognized that to send the vice president out of the country at such a time would cause some apprehension.

SOME APPREHENSION

Inasmuch as public opinion lately has been somewhat apprehensive during President Johnson's illness, sending the vice president abroad at this time might have compounded the worries of the nation.

The United States government did, of course, pay honor to the departed statesman by sending an official delegation.

It would have been regarded as a higher tribute if the President himself could have gone to London, but everybody in Britain as well as in this country realized that Mr. Johnson had been ill and that his physicians would not want to take any chances of a reinfection or of some other medical consequence which might result from a journey abroad.

There has been much talk here in Washington about why President Johnson didn't appoint some members of Congress to go along as a part of the American delegation to the Churchill funeral.

SEEMED APPROPRIATE

Inasmuch as Winston Churchill's political life was spent for the most part in the House of Commons, and since he has addressed the Congress of the United States on his visits here, it would have seemed appropriate to send the leaders from each house as a part of the official delegation.

Since Chief Justice Warren and Secretary of State Rusk represented the judicial and executive branches of the government, the delegation might logically have included prominent members of the legislative branch.

The vice president, as presiding officer of the Senate would, of course, have represented Congress as well as the presidency. But Mr. Johnson was unquestionably sensitive to public opinion when he decided not to complicate the problem further by sending the vice president out of the United States at this time.

There is, moreover, a nervousness these days about the whole question of presidential succession, and Mr. Johnson has sent a message to Congress recommending that something be done to clarify what happens when a president is disabled.

The very prominence given to this subject indicates that the country is not satisfied with the vague arrangements that have been made as between a president and a vice president, even though they informally agree what should be done in the event that the chief executive is temporarily too ill to serve.

Attempted Coup in Laos Shows Nation's Instability

By The Associated Press
VIENTIANE, Laos — An attempted coup by a group of young military officers has again shown the instability of this tiny but strategic kingdom in Southeast Asia.

Ever since it became independent in 1949, the country has known little except crisis, coup and civil conflict among nationalists, Communists and anti-Communists.

The Communist Pathet Lao, led by Prince Souvanna Phouma, control about two-thirds of Laos' 91,000 square miles but only one-third of its 1.8 million people.

Through Pathet Lao territory runs the Ho Chi Minh Trail, a supply route which Communist North Viet Nam has been using to beef up Viet Cong guerrillas in South Viet Nam and which U. S. jets have recently bombed.

At a Geneva conference in 1962, 14 nations, including the United States, the Soviet Union and Britain, agreed to guarantee the neutrality and independence of Laos.

FORMED COALITION

In the same year, the leaders of the three factions had formed a coalition government under the leadership of Premier Souvanna Phouma, a Neutralist.

The Communists have been increasingly une cooperative with the government, and the Rightists last April staged a coup which brought on a merger of Rightist and Neutralist armies. After a period of uncertainty, Souvanna Phouma agreed to remain as premier.

Leaders of the three factions held a meeting in Paris last September in an unsuccessful bid to end their differences.

Laos' troubles go back to the end of World War II when East and West started to struggle for control of what once was French Indochina.

SIGNED CEASE-FIRE

Soldiers of Communist North Viet Nam overran about half of Laos before the French signed a cease-fire in 1954.

The cease-fire was supposed to make Laos neutral and the North Viet-Namense pulled out most of their forces.

But armed conflict between the Pathet Lao and the Neutralists and Rightists persisted. It reached a new height in 1960 with the arrival of Soviet aid and North Vietnamese technicians.

For a time, the big powers of East and West were on the brink of getting directly involved. The Geneva Conference headed this off but peace and stability still evade Laos.

Voice of the People:

Republicans of County Put Fun in Fund-Raising

There is a great breakthrough in political strategy in Oakland County. I refer to the refreshing substitution of the theater party for the traditional fifty or hundred buck a plate dinner. The Oakland County Republicans are pioneers in putting some fun in fund-raising and taking the pain out of being a patron.

Under the cosponsorship of Ernie and Marian Jones, Oakland Republicans have taken over the Fisher Theater on March 10 for the world premiere of Frank Loesser's musical "Pleasures and Palaces." Losser authored such hits as "Guys and Dolls," "Where's Charley?", "Most Happy Fella," "How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying," etc. In fact, he's so successful that when he writes a check the bank sometimes bounces. His latest will deal with that period when our naval hero, John Paul Jones, goes to Russia as an envoy and meets Catherine the Great. Jim Garner of TV's Maverick may play Jones (John Paul, not Ernie).

Anyway, it sounds like another Loesser hit and the guests — including Governor and Mrs. Romney — will dine beforehand at The Regess Club. Republican or Democrat or Single Taxer should agree that this sounds like a lot more fun than the political fund-raising dinner with its rubber chicken, plastic peas, barrel gravy, and the speeches which go on and on while the eyes glaze, the ears turn tin and the cigar butts smolder in the coffee cups. This may be the greatest innovation in politics since the torch-light parade.

Bleak Message

The Richmond News Leader

It always is possible that somewhere in this broad land of ours, there exists in high public office a less inspiring speaker than Lyndon Baines Johnson, but the fates have been good to us: We have not heard him. For such small blessings, let one be duly thankful.

The President's inaugural address was so poor, in so many ways, that a decent respect for candor compels some cataloging of its faults.

Mr. Johnson, arising to speak, casts his face into what may be termed his benign look. This is an expression somewhere between lugubrious and doleful; one expected him to begin not by addressing his fellow countrymen, but by remarking upon those gathered to mourn the dear departed. At some point in the past year a helpful adviser must have suggested that the President would improve his delivery by an occasional smile; the President accepted this counsel so earnestly that he constantly works his mouth into a small uncomfortable grin. The trouble is that these manifestations of good cheer seldom mask anything the least bit light in his text.

The speech ran to little more than 1,300 words. It required 23 minutes for delivery. That figures out to an average of 57 words a minute, or slower than Sunday morning waffles. Mr. Johnson's measure out his speeches in solemn little teaspoons, like grandmother compounding a mineral tonic, and meanwhile the mind wanders.

This excessive deliberation is not helped by a houn'daw accent that converts propensities to "prosper," and forbears to "forebearers," and aptly to "ayants." Nor is one warmed by those inscrutable eyes, as the proprietor of the Last Ditch saloon coolly surveys the evening house.

One could forgive the sorrow-molasses if the President had anything to say. He did not. His entire speech was one long platitude. "For every generation, there is a destiny. . . . The world will not be the same for our children. . . . Ours is a time of change. . . . The striking novelty of these sentiments must leave every man impressed. Mr. Johnson's theme was justice, liberty, and union. These are grand themes, and in times past other orators have put them to inspiring use. But not President Johnson. His stupified audience interrupted with feeble applause at nine points only; the high moment came when he promised that "I will do the best I can." It seemed at the moment a prospect unannihilably bleak.

Watching the screen, one could not avoid reaching back to Mr. Kennedy's inauguration four years ago. We never shared in the rapturous praise for Mr. Kennedy's address, but we as us too artfully contrived — at least that snowy day was filled with high excitement. One remembers that inaugural in the beautiful face of Robert Frost. The time the image is Lucie Baines, dancing a la Watul.

Let us pray for patience. We are stuck with these lock-groom hodgepodes, delivered with the fudge sundae goodness of the One Great Scout, and the One Great Politician. As a politician, the President commands respectful admiration; as a philosopher, he succeeded in lifting the nation almost to boredom. In either circumstance, under politician or philosopher, it promises to be the longest four years since the firing on Sumter.

Auto Debris

The St. Louis Post-Dispatch

Elephants, it has been said, try to keep secret the location of their burial grounds. Unfortunately, such is not the case with automobiles. Heaps of wrecked and discarded autos, of no economic interest to anyone in the depressed market for steel scrap, blight the countryside along the nation's highways. Seldom is anything done to screen this junk, but a better solution may be developing.

The interior department's bureau of mines reports it has learned that rusty scrap, when mixed with inorganic tonalite ore and heated, creates a chemical reaction that makes the ore magnetic and usable in blast furnaces. And apparently the rust from old autos could itself be recovered for ironmaking after it had made tonalite marketable. Any such appeal to the pocketbook should be persuasive with junk dealers whose yards disfigure the face of America.

1st Plutonium Plant Dedicated

India Within Easy Reach of A-Bomb

BOMBAY, India (UPI) — Manufacture of an atomic bomb is now in easy reach of India, a nation that prides itself on being passive and peaceful.

Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri has just inaugurated the nation's first plutonium extraction plant at Trombay.

Atomic Energy Commission Chairman Dr. H. J. Bhabha said that, with commissioning of the plant, India could build its own atomic bomb quickly and at small expense.

He said that the bomb could be produced for less than $400,000.

Red China's A-bomb test last October triggered hot debate in India. Although the late Premier Jawaharlal Nehru and Shastri said they wouldn't build the bomb, members of the ruling Congress party have urged manufacture and stockpiling of nuclear weapons.

$7.5 MILLION COST
The new plutonium plant, named Project Phoenix, cost $7.5 million. It was designed and built entirely by the staff of the Indian AEC.

It puts India in the exclusive plutonium club — a membership shared by the United States, Russia, Britain, France and reportedly Communist China. The Trombay P-plant is hailed as one of the most sophisticated of its kind. It will treat the waste fuel elements of atomic reactors to recapture the highly radioactive fission products and extract plutonium.

Since the plant will deal with materials "hot" to the tune of a million curies of radioactivity, all its operations will be by remote control.

All the treatment takes place in equipment placed in eight separate cells protected by a wall thickness of five feet of high density concrete and lined with stainless steel.

The plant also was designed to be foolproof against another danger — accidental "cooking off" of highly fissionable plutonium.

GEOMETRICAL DESIGN
The Trombay P-plant was laid out on a geometrical design that insures that a critical concentration of plutonium can never occur even through faulty operation.

India at present has three nuclear reactors and plans to build more in the near future.

More than anything else, India seeks electrical power from the reactors, and it is toward that end that she is working.

But that big bomb is so close and so cheap now that it becomes a question of whether India can resist the temptation to become one of the atomic powers.

BOYLE taller and heavier. The average young American man is 5 feet 10 inches tall and weighs 165 pounds—the average young woman stands 5 feet 5, weighs 127.

The common cold is uncommonly complicated. Science has found at least 70 viruses that cause respiratory discomfort—and suspects there are perhaps 70 others that may be involved.

CONFUSED COMPUTER

Owners of a computer in Manhattan have fed into it 5,000 "trite and cliché" expressions. But now the machine itself is confused. It can't decide whether to become a politician or a columnist.

Half the people in America worry about getting an ulcer, but less than 10 per cent ever do. Having an ulcer no longer is even a status symbol. The ability to give them to others is what counts today.

Quotable notables: "For most men life is a search for the proper mania envelope 'in which to get themselves filled'" — Clifton Fadiman.

Do you sometimes get tired of skyscrapers? Well, that makes two of us. Let's shove off for Tahiti. A local law there says, "No building shall be higher than two-thirds the height of a coconut tree."

THIS FEBRUARY WASHER EVENT BEGAN LAST NOVEMBER...

But you're just in time... It's just that we started planning and working last November, December and January to bring you these special purchase automatic washers during the month of February. It's a fact... our buyers scoured the nation, they found and bought—not just ordinary washer buys at ordinary dealer prices—but very special purchases, manufacturer's clearances, distributor's close-outs, factory surpluses. We bought washers by the carload, the truckload... we bought at great savings to be sold at even greater savings. We specified delivery to our stores in February to give us a chance to clear the decks... Everything is ready—the washers are here—all top-brand, top-quality—and specially priced at even less than Highland's traditionally low discount prices. Come in today—you'll be just in time for the washer event that started 3 months ago.

Nab Suspect in D.C. Slaying

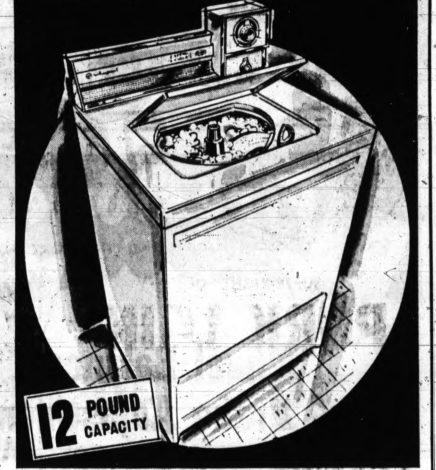

WASHINGTON (UPI) — FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover announced today that Walter Lee Parman, a suspected murderer on the bureau's "10 most wanted" list, was captured by agents yesterday in Los Angeles.

The 32-year-old Parman, wanted in connection with the mutilation slaying of a Washington, D.C., secretary, had a 25-caliber automatic pistol, together with a bank robbery "demand note" in a metal box, in his possession when he was caught.

Parman, an ex-serviceman with a long criminal record, was sought in the murder of 32-year-old Shirley Ann Cary. Her nude body was found in an alley in the capital on the early morning of Jan. 9. The woman had been savagely molested.

Elke Sommer Is Named Top Star of Tomorrow

HOLLYWOOD — Elke Sommer, shapely German blonde, was named yesterday in Hollywood as No. 1 star of tomorrow in the 24th annual poll conducted by Motion Picture Herald, a movie exhibitor trade magazine. Miss Sommer made her acting debut only five years ago in an Italian movie. Her Hollywood-produced films include "The Victors," "The Prize," and "A Shot in the Dark."

Some Doors Now Closed

Hubert Finds Frustration in VP Role

WASHINGTON (AP) — Hubert H. Humphrey is finding the beginning of life as a vice president full of ceremonial duties, hard work on executive matters, unaccustomed silence and political frustrations. Humphrey, who served as President Johnson's right arm in piloting controversial legislation such as the civil rights bill through the Senate last year, has found some doors closed to him as the nation's No. 2 elected official.

Among other things, he has been quietly excluded from meetings of the Senate Democratic Conference. The conference, of which all Democratic senators are members, has the final word on party strategy in the body.

The explanation for this exclusion is that the Democratic leadership was determined to avoid the kind of ruckus that erupted when Lyndon B. Johnson vacated the majority leadership to step into the vice presidency, in 1961.

PROPOSED ELECTION

At that time, Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield proposed the election of Johnson as presiding officer of the conference. Vice President Alben W. Barkley had established precedent for such procedure by presiding over conference meetings.

Mansfield's proposal touched off protests from Sens. Albert Gore of Tennessee, Joseph S. Clark of Pennsylvania, Wayne Morse of Oregon, Paul H. Douglas of Illinois and A. S. Mike Monroney of Oklahoma.

They contended that as a member of the executive branch, the vice president should not preside over legislative meetings. The conference elected Johnson but the 17 votes cast against this action caused the then-vice president subsequently to call the meetings to order and immediately turn the gavel over to Mansfield.

Johnson at least sat in on these meetings. Humphrey has been relegated to the corridors or calling around to his offices to buttonhole senators in behalf of Johnson proposals. He has been working recently to attempt to soften the House-passed ban on further shipment of food commodities to the United Arab Republic.

OFFICE SPACE

The fact that he is attached to the Senate as its presiding officer, but is not of it has been brought home to Humphrey by his inability to wangle what he regards as suitable office space in the Capitol. Johnson, who was in possession of it, kept a lavish office across a corridor from the Senate chamber, as well as a ceremonial room just off the Senate floor, quarters in the Senate Office Building and additional rooms in the basement of the Capitol.

The best Humphrey has been

Former Prof Expires

IOWA CITY, Iowa (AP) — Dr. Virgil M. Hancer, 68, who retired last June after serving as president of the University of Iowa for 24 years, died Saturday in New Delhi, India. He went to India last August as a consultant to the Ford Foundation.

WAS BYPASSED

Although he was bypassed in the selection of the American delegation to Sir Winston Churchill's funeral, Humphrey has found himself tapped for other ceremonial duties.

On his calendar today was a scheduled presentation of the annual Heart of the Year award to Birdie Tebbets, manager of the Cleveland Indians baseball team, and the receipt of a woolen coat woven by the A'omri Indians of Mexico's Yucatan Peninsula on a loom provided by CARE.

Humphrey hasn't spent much time in his constitutional job of presiding over the Senate. He has been too busy with overseeing the administration's civil rights and antipoverty program and boning up on his assignment as chairman of the Space Advisory Council.

Relief Position to Ex-Governor

Tennessean to Handle Emergency Planning

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has named former Tennessee Gov. Buford Ellington to head the Office of Emergency Planning which handles operations such as relief to disaster-struck areas.

If confirmed by the Senate, Ellington, 57, will succeed Edward A. McDermott in the $28,500-a-year post. It carries with it membership on the National Security Council.

McDermott resigned to join a Washington law firm. Johnson announced Ellington's appointment Sunday night. The President said that Deputy Director Franklin B. Dryden would act as head of the OEP pending Ellington's confirmation.

CLOSE FRIEND

Ellington, a close personal and political friend of Johnson, was vice chairman of the Citizens for Johnson National Committee during the President's unsuccessful bid for the 1960 presidential nomination. A frequent White House visitor in the past year, he has long been considered in line for a top federal appointment.

Ellington said he was accepting the job for Johnson's full four-year term and added: "I am honored that the President has asked me to serve in this capacity. My full time and ability will be devoted to my country and the President."

He said he would resign the post as vice president of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad which he has held since his term as governor ended in 1963. "While there is no greater honor than being governor of Tennessee," Ellington said, "President Johnson has given me probably my greatest challenge." He said he would retain his Tennessee residence but "won't be involved in local politics."

Until he ran for governor in 1958, Ellington had spent most of his life in farming.

Buddhist Control of Viet Could Make U.S. Position Intolerable

Signs indicate that militant Buddhist leaders in South Viet Nam are reaching for power. If they succeed, the Communists probably will view it as the beginning of the final phase of their war to envelop the country.

Should the leaders of the recent Buddhist strike take over, the pressure on Americans to leave the country may become close to intolerable.

What may have happened to the Americans in Indochina is a clash between an Oriental situation and the Western mind.

Americans are constantly baffled and frustrated by events in South Viet Nam.

Like other Orientals, Buddhist leaders in Viet Nam set much store by face. Having taken a stand or having made a demand, they would likely consider its satisfaction a matter of face.

POLITICAL CAMPAIGN

Buddhist demands, once based largely on religious complaints, have blossomed into a political campaign. Seeking more power, the militant leaders from the northern part of South Viet Nam attacked the existing regime in Saigon, and by so doing found themselves in opposition to the Americans, who thus became political antagonists.

Trich Tri Quang, one of the major leaders of the Buddhist strike which overflows Premier Tran Van Huong, says he is neither anti-American nor pro-Communist, but significantly adds that there is resentment because "America misunderstands the whole problem," and thus received a share of the hate directed against Premier Tran Van Huong.

Huong's fall is unlikely to break Buddhist demands. Lt. Gen. Nguyen Khanh, the resilient strongman, probably will feel the pressure again. The Buddhists seem out for power. Having judged the Americans as obstacles, the Buddhists should they succeed, might well consider it a matter of face to repudiate the United States.

The tone of Communist pronouncements from Hanoi in North Viet Nam indicates it seems opportunity and views the situation as vindication of its tactics. Those tactics were conceived 30 years ago by Mao Tse-tung: first, envelopment of the countryside, then pressure on the cities. Victory need not be wholly military.

MORE AID

The U.S. answer has been more and more military aid, but the more it flowed in, the worse things seemed to get. Indeed, the arrival of Americans by the thousands is considered by some to have contributed to unrest in Saigon.

American military methods would have been useful against an enemy who could be flushed out and hit by superior power. But the methods seemed inadequate against a foe who could become invisible in the jungle, sometimes only yards from his often reluctant South Vietnamese pursuers. The enemy has been highly mobile far from base, always elusive, always dangerous no matter how well or badly equipped.

The enemy could dart out, attack, then melt into the jungle. He could show up again in full view, an innocent tolling peasant by day, a dangerous guerrilla by night, expert in ambush and booby traps.

The enemy has spies and agents everywhere, including Saigon, often right under American noses. It is a highly effective intelligence system.

The Viet Cong now hold much of the South — possibly two-thirds of it. The Saigon government has the cities. But Mao's way is to invest the countryside first, then attack the towns with agitation, propaganda, sabotage and by using the ambitions of local politicians.

By Communist thinking, there can be a nonmilitary victory by attrition, something like the injection of a powerful paralyzing poison to deaden the will to resist.

Both Drivers Arrested: Failed to Yield Way

SOMERSET, Pa. (AP) — Motorists have been arrested for failing to yield the right of way. But what about two motorists involved in the same accident being arrested on that charge?

State police arrested John Mason, 66, of Hyndman and Lenn Lindenman, 25, of Meyersdale Sunday for failing to yield to each other after their cars collided head-on on a one-lane bridge near here. Neither was hurt.

Queen, Prince Fly to Ethiopia

First Visit to Nation by British Monarch

LONDON (AP) — Queen Elizabeth II and her husband, Prince Philip, flew to Ethiopia today on an eight-day state visit as guests of Emperor Haile Selassie.

The royal visit — the first ever to Ethiopia by a British monarch — will help focus attention on the ancient nation as a center for Africa's young emerging nations.

The emperor, dominant ruler for 43 years, has ordered Addis Ababa spruced up for the queen's visit. A new highway has been built from the airport and a new wing adorns the emperor's palace.

Queen Elizabeth will spend four days in the capital and then take a tour of selected spots in the rugged interior.

She is expected to spend a night in mountain ranges 10,000 feet high near the formal capital of Addis Ababa, source of the blue Nile.

FLY TO SUDAN

The royal couple will then fly to the Sudan, formerly part of the British empire.

The queen will return to Buckingham Palace Feb. 12 after a four-day visit, but Prince Philip will travel another 21,000 miles before he reaches London six weeks later.

He will spend a week in Australia, 10 days in India, four days in Pakistan and six days with British troops in Malaysia.

Some reservations had been expressed here about the visit to the Sudan, because of a coup d'etat last year and subsequent rioting.

But the queen herself was reported by friends to be assured she would receive a friendly welcome.

Women, Some Stifling Tears, Pause At Grave

Churchill Mourners

Thousands Visit Grave Site

BLADON, England (AP) — Sir Winston Churchill's grave, a small rectangular plot heaped with wreaths of flowers in a quiet, country churchyard, is attracting thousands of visitors.

Police estimated that more than 125,000 persons filed past the spot in Bladon Sunday where the great statesman was laid to rest Saturday.

Wrapped in coats, blankets and ski suits, the mourners paused at the graveside at St. Martin's church to read messages on the wreaths. Many wept.

"To my darling Winston — Clemmie," read one of the wreaths, from Lady Churchill, whom he often referred to as "my darling Clemmie."

"For our beloved grandpa, from his loving grandchildren, Nicholas, Emma, Jeremy, Charlotte and Rupert," said another.

Bladon, a hamlet of 413 persons in Oxfordshire, had been content to remain in obscurity for centuries. Sunday the crowds streamed into the tiny churchyard, their autos jamming the church's tiny parking lot.

Police officers directed the overflow to a field a half mile down the road.

"This sort of thing is going to happen; possibly not on the same scale, at weekends and holidays from now on," said a Bladon official.

In Melbourne, Australia, Prime Minister Robert Menzies announced plans to raise $2.24 million for a Churchill memorial.

UAW Eying Quiz if Money Unrecovered

DETROIT (AP) — A Congressional investigation may be sought if the United Auto Workers union does not recover the $3 million deposit it has in the insolvent San Francisco National Bank.

Emil Mazey, UAW secretary-treasurer, indicated the investigation would be asked but also expressed optimism that the money, or most of it, would be recovered.

"If we do have losses," Mazey said, "they probably will be very small."

U.S. Comptroller of the Currency James J. Saxton ordered the bank closed Jan. 22 after federal examiner said it was extended beyond its liquid assets.

FULL RECOVERY

Mazey, who said only $10,000 of the union's money was protected by federal insurance, said he expected full recovery because most of the bank's investments were in real estate and construction loans.

He said the union currently has about $33 million in its strike fund and the practice has been to invest this money around the country rather than concentrate it in one area.

at trust fund for scholarships.

"We think that there ought to be established, not only here but in other countries and in the United States, a system of Winston Churchill scholarships or fellowships," he said.

Once again many Long Distance rates are reduced

Low Evening Rates now apply to daytime calls on Saturday. Low Night Rates now in effect anytime on Sunday and one hour earlier on other nights.

Since the first coast-to-coast telephone call in January, 1915, improvements in technology have repeatedly led to better telephone service. These developments have been most effective in reducing the cost of calls over the longer distances.

The reduction in Long Distance telephone rates effective February 1st of this year is a good example of how these savings have been passed on to you.

Here's what it now costs you to make a 3-minute station call from Michigan:

	To Anywhere in Continental U.S. (except Alaska)	To Anywhere in Michigan
Mon.-Fri. 4:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. (Day Rates)	$2.10 or less	$1.00 or less
Saturday 4:30 a.m. to 8 p.m. Mon.-Fri. 6 p.m. to 8 p.m. (Evening Rates)	$1.40 or less	$.70 or less
Sunday anytime Mon.-Sat. 8 p.m. to 4:30 a.m. (Night Rates)	$1.00 or less	$.50 or less

The above rates apply only to station calls. They do not include the 10% Federal excise tax which applies to all calls, or the 4% State sales tax which applies only to calls within Michigan. Rates for "collect" station calls between points in Michigan are somewhat higher.

Designers' Spring Hats Are Attractive

Weave a summer spell over the man in your life in this jaunty fedora of fragile slivers of yellow crocheted chiffon, with a loose tie-type ribbon at the side. By John Frederics.

Pale creamy tones of Renoir's masterworks revived in this design from Lilly Dache's "Renoir Girl" Spring Collection 1965. Natural textured straw town hat has voluptuously curved brim faced in white silk surah. Wide sash and casual side bow also of white silk.

Early spring is not too soon to choose a lovely matching suit and hat such as this turquoise and blue wool tweed racer's cap with a subtly rippled crown and visor. By Emme.

Be Quiet in Request for Napkin

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: When invited to a dinner party in someone's house and one discovers that he is missing a napkin, is it proper to ask the hostess for one or is it best to let it go and manage without one?

A: If the hostess fails to notice that you do not have a napkin and you are seated close enough to her to quietly ask for one without embarrassing her before the other guests, you may do so.

Otherwise, it is best to manage without one.

SEATING COUPLES

Q: I am in charge of the dining room at a boy's boarding school. Once a month the students are permitted to ask their girl friend to dinner. The tables in the dining room are long and rather narrow and seat ten.

The question has come up as to whether the girls should be seated beside their own boy friends or opposite them at the table. Will you please tell us which is correct?

A: Each boy should seat his own girl friend next to him and on his right.

INTRODUCTIONS

Q: Will you please help me out with an introduction detail which always bothers me whenever I am confronted with it.

I am referring to the arrival of several guests at a party who are strangers to most of the others already there.

How are these new-comers introduced to everyone? To take them around the room and introduce them to everyone seems awkward and yet not to do so seems rude.

A: At a large party, it is not necessary to introduce strangers to each and every person there. You need do no more than introduce them to a few people who are standing nearby.

Billion Dollar Market

Little Notions Are Big Business

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

To the dictionary, a notion is "a knock-knack; any of various small useful articles."

To the notions industry, a notion is big business — to the tune of $1.5 billion in annual sales.

That figure, a record, is forecast for 1964 when all the statistics are in. And the industry expects 1965 to show another gain, to bring sales to $1.65 billion.

These totals come from David S. Colin, president of the National Notion Association, which is holding its semi-annual business show at the New York Trade Show Building this week.

Colin gave reasons for the increase. "The emergency of new and diversified products, designed to correlate with today's creative and fashion-conscious society."

MORE OUTLETS

This, he said, had "injected new vitality and growth into the industry." And he mentioned the expanded sales outlets, such as the supermarkets and the mail order houses.

Some 250 exhibitors are showing 50,000 items, including what the industry called the basic 10 product groups: sewing needs, closet accessories, household goods, girdles and bras, slippers-scoffs-ropes, personal goods, hair goods, cutlery, rainwear, beach wear, sunglasses, and miscellaneous including exercise equipment and novelties.

There is a whole batch of battery-powered items on the market.

Included at the show were a battery-powered fan for the traveler; "his" and "her" electric hair brushes which the maker said would do 100 brushings in two minutes; a manicure set with abrasive discs and cylinders; cuticle cream, buffing enamel, orange stick and spinning brush; a bath brush with contoured handle; and cordless upholstery shampooer and vacuum brush.

NEW OR IMPROVED

A look through the exhibits produced these new products of variations of older ones:

- A twin rest cushion in which either half can be inflated independently to preserve balance and prevent fatigue, recommended as an aid for smoother traveling.
- An antenna lantern for the car. The lantern acts as a distress warning, through its flashing red signals.
- For the woman traveler, a jewelry roll case that has large pockets to separate and protect necklaces, bracelets and other jewelry.
- A bar for rings and earrings is part of the case.
- Also for the traveler, an inflatable hanger for drip-dry clothing with rack for stockings included.
- For safety's sake, there's a heart-shaped case with a string attached.
- Pull the string and a buzzer goes off loud enough to signal

Pregnant Bride

Heartaches for Mother

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I have just learned that my daughter, who had a beautiful church wedding, was more than two months' pregnant at the time. What is the best thing to do?

- (1) Say the baby is premature?
- (2) Come out with the truth and return all the wedding gifts?
- (3) Urge my daughter and son-in-law to give the baby up for adoption?

(4) Brazen the whole thing out and pretend we see nothing wrong with it?

I can't eat or sleep and I'm afraid I will lose my mind. Answer in the paper, but please don't use my name.

NAMELESS

DEAR NAMELESS: DON'T say the baby is "premature." DON'T return the wedding gifts.

DON'T urge that they give the baby up for adoption. And DON'T pretend you see nothing wrong with it.

The truth will be apparent soon and you will feel no one. There is no reason for you to feel guilty or offer apologies. You didn't know of your daughter's condition at the time of her wedding.

And perhaps this is the time for me to impel brides who find themselves in this predicament to spare their parents the kind of heartache and humiliation this mother will have to endure.

FOR HOME SEWING

For the home seamstress, there is a whole range of new products including a magnetic seam guide that grips the sewing machine without use of screws and an automatic needle threader developed by the owner of a factory employing blind people.

A slot pocket maker is an attachment for the machine. There's a metal hair pin-shaped gadget, which will attach buttons without needle and thread.

Thread, color-coordinated to zippers, and belt buckles, the maker said, will not shrink, crush or pucker.

Impossible to Save on This Budget

By MARY FEELEY Consultant
in Money Management

DEAR Miss Feeley: How can I get my husband to accept the facts of life? The car insurance premium for 1965 just arrived.

"Why isn't there any money to pay it?" he asks — and we're off on another financial argument!

When I'm told I'm a bad manager because I can't save a dollar, I really get annoyed.

I don't want to have to say: "Well, you just don't give me enough money to run the house and save some, too."

He gives me $38 weekly for house money. I write a check for $45 out of this amount — $25 for groceries, $10 for our two teenagers' allowances, and $3 for church.

This leaves me $7 for "miscellaneous": dry cleaning, razor blades, reading matter, things like a new shower curtain, etc. Our son and daughter use their allowances for school lunches and toward their clothing.

The other house expenses which must come out of that $38 a week are the following monthly bills:

Mortgage, $69; lights, water, sewer, $20; house gas, $5; phone, $5; car gas, $25; husband's and children's insurance, $29.13; cemetery lots, $15; newspaper, $2.25. This totals $170.38. We have no charge accounts, and our furniture and cars are paid for.

I'm on the verge of blowing my top because I know what a lot of our friends spend to run their homes and I feel we get by mighty cheap.

I do our haircuts, never go to a beauty shop, and spend very little on clothes.

It's rather difficult to hold groceries to $25 a week, and usually I run over a few dollars.

This area is about the only opening for an argument, but if the meals appear skimpy, I hear about it, believe me!

HE HELPS

My husband saves money by doing car maintenance and home repairs, and for this he deserves credit.

But I feel he needs a new viewpoint on the cost of living — and he will not accept it from me. Maybe he will from you.

Mrs. J. B. Riverside, Calif.

Dear Mrs. B.: I've always felt the quickest way to find out how far money can go is to handle it oneself.

Sometimes the only way a wife can prove she's a good manager is to say to her husband: "Okay, here's the week's running money. Now you stretch it."

Of course, no man in his right mind is going to take up that challenge. It's too risky.

He has it figured this way: unless he keeps his wife on the defensive and busy apologizing, she might begin to ask why he isn't making more money in the first place.

As for your food costs, you're already averaging about $5 less than anybody has a right to expect. The estimated low-cost plan for a family your size and ages is $29.30 a week.

As the children have grown, the cost of feeding them has automatically grown, too. Maybe this hasn't occurred to your husband. So instead of aiming at $25 a week for groceries, set the mark at $30. And tell your husband I think you need a $5 raise.

In all fairness to him, though, he has made it possible for the family to own outright their cars and furniture, and you have no debts.

So let's not be too tough on him. It took good managing on both your parts.

He ought to cut out the carping and rejoice that he's really got a helpmate, not just a wife.

Dear Miss Feeley: I have been told that a veteran of the Korean War, is disabled, is now eligible for GI insurance coverage. This man is not covered under the regular $10,000 GI insurance, and his disability was actually not received while he was in the service.

No regular insurance company will take him. Is it really true that there is a way of his getting GI coverage at this late date? C. K., Buffalo, N. Y.

Dear C. K.: Yes — after May 1, 1965. The provision states that veterans of World War II or of the Korean War with a non-service-connected disability, so severe they cannot buy private life insurance at any price, may be eligible to buy GI insurance after May 1, 1965.

Soy Sauce and Pork Are Chinese Combo

By JANET ODELL,
Pontiac Press Food Editor

On snowy evenings a hearty meat dish is more than welcome.

Mr. John Benetti of Lake Orion suggests a sweet and pungent pork chop. She obtained the recipe from a Chinese neighbor.

There are three children in the Benetti family and mother is active in PTA work. Painting is her hobby.

CHINESE PORK CHOPS
By Mrs. John Benetti Put pork chops or spareribs in baking pan. Pour barbecue sauce over them and enough water to keep mixture moist so that it will not burn.

Bake one hour at 350 degrees until meat is almost black, but not burned. Remove fat from sauce and serve as gravy. Serve with rice.

Barbecue Sauce
1 large bottle soy sauce
2 tablespoons sugar
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 clove garlic, minced OR
1 teaspoon garlic powder
Mix and pour over meat.

Tips Keep Footwear in Fine Shape

With Jack Frost spreading slush and snow throughout the country, here are some common sense precautions to preserve both health and footwear for all the family during the wet-underfoot season.

Wear overshoes whenever possible. Snow, slush, soaking and salt snow — melting mixtures are extremely damaging to fine leather and other shoe fabrics.

If your shoes do become wet unavoidably, do not dry them with direct heat. Put them on shoe-trees and allow them to dry at room temperatures. If shoe-trees are unavailable, stuffing them with wadded newspaper is a good substitute.

Keep shoes shined — the oils and waxes in the polish keep leather supple — for long shoe life as well as for the sake of appearance. Do not wear the same pair of shoes two days in succession. Alternating among several pairs will prolong the life of all of them.

"Good Looks" Cream for Whole Family

A "good looks" cream for family skin problems! Called Esoterica, Invisible—fast acting, because it carries medication under the skin where these problems start. So effective, Esoterica is now featured by leading stores everywhere. And no wonder, for it is produced by a trustworthy 51-year-old laboratory. Results guaranteed if your problem is listed below:

ESOTERICA

3 month's supply $2*

7 oz. economy size $4* plus tax

Fades age spots* on hands

*Weathered brown spots on the hands and face tell the world you're getting old, perhaps before you really are. Fade them out with new Esoterica, the new medicated cream that breaks up masses of pigment under the skin to help make it look white, smooth, young again. Younger folks may use Esoterica to retard age signs indefinitely.

Helps enlarged pores

Often a man's first "old age mark." Open enlarged pores may cause your complexion to look rough and unclean. Regular use of Esoterica helps shrink the opening to smooth out recesses. Here's a tip for men: Use Esoterica daily. Leaves skin supple, clean and clear. Its delicate fragrance soon disappears, yet, the beneficial result is long-lasting because Esoterica works under the skin.

Blackheads—pimples*

Stubborn "outward surface" pimples and blackheads, caused by weather and neglect, respond fast. Esoterica clears up these skin troubles where other creams have failed. No longer need you suffer the embarrassment caused by these unsightly blemishes. Apply Esoterica at night—tomorrow, your mirror will start to reveal a clearer, brighter and smoother skin. It's not a cover-up. It penetrates deep to work from inside out.

FREE OFFER—limited time only!
Generous trial tube of MITCHUM CREAM ANTI-PERSPIRANT—new extra-strength anti-perspirant—designed to be a fluffy vanishing cream base. Never sticky! Smooths on "drop." For those who perspire heavily, 90-day supply $3.00 plus tax. FREE trial tube with each jar of Esoterica.

paper, for Valentine's Day party givers.

They come from Mrs. Gilbert, design studio director, one of the country's leading greeting card and gift wrap manufacturers.

PARTIES

For a teen-age party, when a favorite cola punch is to be served and the Christmas punch bowl is packed away, a gay Valentine gift wrap can dress up a large mixing bowl so that it can double as a punch bowl.

Mrs. Gilbert suggests using "Hearts and Roses" with its appropriate hearts and, you guessed it! roses design to make a pleated collar which sits around the bowl.

Mr. and Mrs. John E. Schatzley of Melrose Avenue announce the engagement of their daughter Judith Margaret, to Roland Edward Kerns, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Kerns of Paw Paw, W. Va.

Heart-shaped coasters are cut from the paper. A giant heart is cut out and pasted on a board to hang behind the table. "Hey, Valentine!" It says to guests as they come for their punch.

FAVORS

For a juvenile party a stapler and some more of the gift wrap are all that are needed for young misses to make party Valentine party aprons. Two packages of "Hearts and Roses" will make two aprons. Waistbands are adorned with real lace for a frothy finish.

For each apron, you'll need a 28" length of inexpensive white lace, a yard of red ribbon and some transparent tape.

Then tape 4 1/2" hem along one long side of paper. Tape half-inch hems along the short side.

Tape lace to unhemmed long side, then pleat apron so it measures 14" wide.

Add folded strip of wrap for waistband, stapling it to apron neatly. Staple length of ribbon either side of waistband for tie.

Valentine's Day is the perfect day for a shower or engagement party, and what's a more appropriate motif for a table setting than a centerpiece made from hearts.

Get the makings from your florist, using decorative leaves in place of flowers. Proceed as if you were making a floral arrangement, and where the flowers would be, just add hearts cut out from your Valentine wrapping.

Glue hearts together in pairs, leaving bottom point of each heart open, and stick on top of stems. If the table is under a chandelier, cut out several of the hearts and hang from fixture.

Perky aprons for the ice-cream set are fun to make for a Valentine's Day party. Used is "Hearts and Flowers" Valentine gift wrap from Norcross, which is pleated and adorned with frothy white lace for a gay party touch.

Turn a large mixing bowl or pot into a punch bowl for a teen-age Valentine's Day party, suggests this bright miss, by wrapping it with gay Valentine gift wrapping paper.

Messy Appearance

A Belgian restaurateur threatened to fire four waiters because of their sloppy appearance, advised them: "If you are bachelors, get married so that a woman will straighten you out."

"If you're already married, get divorced."

Advice for Woman Alone

A woman living alone is sometimes wise not to list her full name in the telephone directory. Instead, she should use initials.

For instance, if her name is Mary Jane Jones, she should not list it that way. This would make her a possible victim of "crank" phone calls.

A bouquet of hearts cut from Valentine gift wrapping paper makes a pretty and original Valentine's Day floral arrangement for a shower or engagement party.

Polly's Pointers

Sticks Fine for Labels

DEAR POLLY—Do save frozen sucker sticks to make name labels for rose cuttings. I put about two inches of white adhesive tape on the end of each of the sticks. On this I write the name of the rose with a ballpoint pen.

Over the label I put transparent gummed tape for protection.

I placed them in the ground next to the proper rose cuttings and when spring comes I will be able to tell which is which.

DEAR POLLY—To repair a snagged sweater, run a needle threaded with a contrasting thread through the snag from top to bottom and tie the end securely to the pulled yarn.

DEAR POLLY—To make old newspapers easier to handle when saving them for a paper drive, keep a paper bag of old nylon stockings near the papers.

I spread out one stocking, pile papers until there is quite a bundle and then tie the stocking around the bundle. Another stocking could also be tied in the opposite direction. When one bundle is removed another stocking is spread out for more papers.

DEAR POLLY—When attempting to clean discolored chrome tap faucets, use nail polish remover and a tiny swab of cotton for close places, a small cloth for larger ones.

The time spent on such a job is cut to the minimum and they look like new. Wipe off with a sudsy cloth and rub dry with another soft cloth.

Why Grow Old?

by JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

The other day in New York I dropped by the Eddie Senz Salon to get some new ideas from that master of makeup. Eddie has long been known as one of the greats in his field. As a matter of fact, he often works with psychiatrists to aid in the rehabilitation of their patients.

First I asked Eddie about bangs since they have been so popular recently. He feels that these can be most flattering if they are used properly and by the right women.

For instance, if you have an unattractive hairline and a fairly short face you will be flattered by bangs which extend just to your hairline.

Actually the bang starts back of the hairline and is lifted up. This adds height to the face but covers the hairline.

SOFTEN HIGH FOREHEAD
If you have a high forehead and a fairly long face, bangs not so high and a bit longer will become to you. They will soften the high forehead and make the face appear shorter. It often flatters this type face to swirl the bangs to the side.

I asked about the very straight bang which lies flat on the forehead. This is effective in covering a very high forehead, that is, if your face is long enough to stand it.

The longer the bang the shorter your face will look. Therefore bangs down to the brows would be disastrous to the woman who has a short face.

YOUNGER WOMEN ONLY

Eddie Senz feels that the straight bang is all right for younger women, but few older women can get away with this style. So if you want to try bangs, remember the following Senz advice.

The older woman should not have a distinct bang. It should not be a deliberate separate thing but a part of her coiffure, probably drawn from the side.

Also remember that the ends of the bang should not roll under.

The ends should be feathered so that they are not exactly even and the curve of the bang should be half a circle, not a full circle.

Jealousy of New Baby Is Not Inevitable

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

DEAR MRS. LAWRENCE: My boy, 8, is the child of my ex-husband. Within the past four years he has had to adjust to my divorce as well as my marriage to his stepfather.

I am expecting another child and am worried about his adjustment to this.

He will feel extremely jealous of the baby, I am sure, because of these other insecurities of his life and his uncertainty of his place in his home with stepfather and me.

ANSWER: You have a right to this coming baby. At least, it seems so to me. And your sympathy with your son's prospective jealousy is fine.

It would be even finer to make some room in yourself for your feelings of pleasure about this new baby. Otherwise, you may lose them in your sympathy for your son.

And you'll find yourself treating him so apologetically that you'll confirm his jealous conviction that you've done him great wrong by having another child.

Your excessive sympathy will only tell him, "You're entitled to feel badly used. I think you are badly used, too."

Jealousy is fear that we are a disappointment to another person. It becomes destructive in us or in children when this fear is confirmed by our experience.

Do Not Iron French Cuffs

Do not press the folds of French (turn-up) shirt cuffs. They'll look just as well when pressed with a soft roll, and soil will not be ground into the creases — as would be the case with pressing.

When you wash out fine wool hose, just a smidgeon of soap in the final rinse water will help keep them soft and resilient.

If, as time passes, your son discovers that you and his stepfather are as interested in him as you are in the baby, his fear that he is disappointing to you will begin to dissolve.

As the baby ceases to threaten him with painful comparisons between your interest in it and your interest in him, he may begin to like it.

He may emerge from his struggle with jealousy surer of his own worth than he was when he entered it.

The baby's arrival does not necessarily mean disaster for him. It can be the very opportunity he needs to outgrow these "insecurities" you speak of.

It can be the crisis that forces him to see the "bad" things which have happened with new eyes and new acceptance.

Learning that the baby has deprived him of nothing valuable may be exactly what he needs to realize that he has not been defeated by his other problems, either.

It will be your own unworried joy in this new baby that will insist that brotherhood is not going to be a cruel and unjust experience.

A Good Dye Job

Can tan shoes be dyed brown, and can brown ones be dyed black — to give them a newer look when they begin to show wear? A good dye job, whether it be a do-it-yourself job or done by an expert shoeshine parlor, will improve the appearance but they will not look like new.

Development Project in Rochester

Mill Pond Property Deal OK'd

ROCHESTER — Final approval of a contract to provide for the opening of some 22 acres of Mill Pond property in the heart of Rochester to development has been given by the Village Council.

Meeting in special session Friday night the council entered into an agreement with the Avon Development Co. on plans for the expansion project.

Codewriters Robert Smith of Rochester and Ted Obal of Southfield propose to erect some 288 apartments on the parcel plus develop a portion for commercial use.

The contract drawn up by Village Attorney Arthur Cox contains certain stipulations to protect the village even if the developers bow out at some future date.

Under terms of the agreement, the village agrees to construct a 48-foot-wide vehicular bridge across Paint Creek at the easterly end of East University.

It also agrees to pay for the railroad crossing with signals where the New York Central Railroad (NYCRR) tracks cross the property.

The final part the village will play in the project is that it will supply the engineering services for construction of the roadway.

Cost of the 48-foot bridge, the grade crossing and signals is not to exceed $75,000 in cost to the village.

This portion will be financed by roads and gasoline taxes.

DEVELOPERS AGREE

In their part of the contract the developers agreed to:

- Dedicate all necessary sanitary, storm and water easements to the village.
- Pay the cost of a 48-foot roadway about 1,200-feet long.
- Pay total cost of storm drain and 5-foot-wide sidewalk the length of the roadway and the 8-inch sewer line.

• Put in escrow 8 per cent of the estimated cost to cover the village's engineering costs.

Friday night's meeting followed by one week a conference between village officials and representatives of NYCRR and the Public Service Commission on the proposed grade crossing.

Although official approval from the PSC will actually take weeks to obtain, the go-ahead was given for the development at that time.

LATER DATE

The actual bonding for the two major projects will be worked out at a later date, according to Village President John O'Donnell.

The period could range from a minimum of five years to a maximum of 15 years.

The village presently receives an average of $41,000 per year in weight and measures tax revenue, and all of it is spent on road projects.

According to the council, which approved the contract by a unanimous vote, the development of the Mill Pond property will create better police, fire and other emergency protection in the eastern section of town.

It also will alleviate traffic congestion at the Main and University intersection and decrease traffic on Romeo and Parkdale streets.

PTA to Hear County Aide

COMMERCE TOWNSHIP — Dr. Donald Kern, administrative director of the Oakland County Child Guidance Clinic, will speak at today's 8 p.m. meeting of the Commerce Elementary School PTA.

Kern's topic, "Growing Up in Today's World," was selected after a survey last fall determined the kind of programs parents wanted at the PTA sessions.

Associated with the Michigan Child Guidance service for more than 12 years, Kern was appointed to head the Pontiac office in 1963.

Farm Efficiency Increase Noted by MSU Economist

A Michigan farmer — depending on what he produces — is 20 times more efficient today than he was 50 years ago, according to a Michigan State University agricultural economist.

C.R. (Ray) Hoglund was speaking about the half century of agricultural progress which will be highlighted at Farmers' Week that opens today on the MSU campus.

He cited improved technology, machinery and equipment as the main cause for the drastic reduction in labor requirements and production costs on Michigan farms.

"Fifty years ago, a farmer used 35 hours of his own time and 44 hours of horsepower to produce an acre of corn," he said today.

Today, a farmer making full use of minimum tillage and herbicides can grow an acre of corn with only five hours of his labor and four hours of tractor power.

72 BUSHELS

"And he produces an average of 72 bushels per acre today compared to only 27 bushels 50 years ago."

The MSU agricultural economist noted that a modern Michigan farmer can produce a bushel of corn in just four minutes — 1-20th of the time it took him a half century ago.

"If he hadn't become so efficient, it would cost $3.10 to produce that bushel using yesterday's practices. The best farmers today produce corn for 80 cents a bushel."

Hoglund noted equally impressive improvements in hay production efficiency. "Where it takes 15 minutes to grow and harvest a ton of hay today, it took eight times that long 50 years ago," he said.

TECHNOLOGICAL GAINS

"Without technological improvements, it would cost a farmer $51, instead of the present-day $20 cost to produce each ton."

Animal production efficiency has also been rapidly improving. "Hoggy produces milk more efficiently and at a lower cost today, thanks to research, herd testing and other improvements."

"During the past 50 years, milk production per cow has more than doubled, and the labor needed to produce 100 pounds of milk has been reduced by more than 70 per cent," Hoglund said.

"If dairymen were using practices of 50 years ago, it would cost $9 to produce 100 pounds of milk at today's prices. Costs today may range from $3.50 to $4.25 hundred weight."

MODERN HENS

Poultrymen have benefited by the technological change, too. Hoglund noted the modern hen lays 35 eggs annually compared to 18 a half century ago.

"It takes four minutes today — compared to 15 minutes yesterday — to produce one dozen eggs," he said.

State's Amish 'Refugees' Find 'Freedom' in Indiana

METZ, Ind. Feb. 1 (AP) — "Indiana welcomed us," says an Amish farmer who left neighboring Michigan to obtain educational freedom for his family.

Joel Schwartz, 34, says he brought his wife and 10 children to Indiana because Michigan law requires all schools to employ state-certified teachers. Ten Amish families, numbering about 100 persons, have moved from Camden, Mich., to Metz, 20 miles to the south, for this reason recently, he said.

In Indiana, state laws allow the religious sect to maintain its traditional way of life, he said. The Amish feel nothing more than an eighth-grade education by an Amish teacher is necessary or desirable.

Schwartz says there was to be done on the new home-lands. The farm buildings aren't up to Amish standards.

ONE-ROOM SCHOOL

Some 15 or 20 Amish families taught their children in a one-room Camden school with the aid of Ruth Graber, 18, an Amish girl who has an eighth-grade education.

Michigan education officials are considering forcing the Camden Amish to hire a certified teacher or put their children in public schools.

Schwartz and the other Amish left Michigan rather than comply with the state law. The Amish also said they could not afford a certified teacher.

"We had been to court once," said Schwartz. "And we knew it was coming again. We didn't want to get involved in it again."

COME TO INDIANA

Schwartz said, "We talked to Indiana school officials at Hamilton and they said, 'Come ahead. We'll loan you a school building for one term.'"

The building is near Schwartz' new farm. The teacher is Eileen Delagrang, 18, an Amish girl whose family also left Michigan.

"I hated to move," said Schwartz, whose 166-acre farm he said was to be auctioned off today. "Of any place I ever lived, it hurt me most to leave Camden."

Schwartz said Ohio and Pennsylvania have school laws similar to Michigan's, yet our schools are there."

Schwartz said he was not wor-

Women Voters Seeking Funds

Rochester League in Annual Campaign

ROCHESTER — Every time the Rochester League of Women Voters (LWV) meets these days you're liable to hear the din of typewriters and telephones over the murmur of calm discussion. The reason is the annual campaign for funds to support a number of LWV activities, both local and national.

With $1,500 as their goal this year, LWV volunteers are out, striving to collect funds from members and other interested individuals.

Last year's budget enabled the local LWV to compile and distribute thousands of "Voter's Guides." stage meet-the-candidate sessions and work to get voters to the polls.

The league also sponsors town meetings and UN Day activities and promotes its position favoring sound zoning practices in Rochester and Avon Township.

CURRENT PROJECTS

Current activities include a nationwide study of the development of human resources, in which LWV groups all over the country are participating, and statewide study of public welfare.

County home rule for Oakland County and the Rochester Community School District are also under LWV study.

The state LWV lobbies in Lansing for legislation in the area of children's services, the Michigan Fair Employment Practices Commission, fiscal reform and metropolitan area problems.

A lobby is also maintained in Washington, D.C., by the national LWV to promote the league's position on legislation.

W. Bloomfield Pupils Exhibit Art at Library

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — The work of young artists attending elementary schools in the township is being exhibited at the West Bloomfield Township Library.

Each of the three elementary schools in the West Bloomfield district will be represented for two weeks at the display.

Opening today, the show features the work of Scotch Elementary School pupils. Roosevelt Elementary School will be represented Feb. 15-17 and Green Elementary School March 1-13.

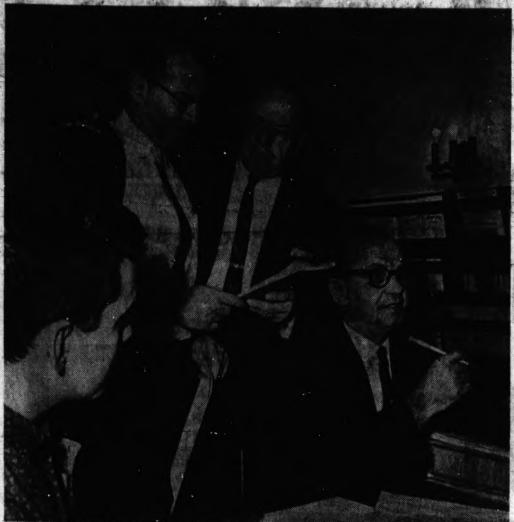

The exhibit is sponsored by the Friends of the West Bloomfield Library. It can be viewed during library hours, 10 a.m. Monday, Wednesday and Thursday; 10 a.m.-5 p.m. Tuesday; and 10 a.m.-5 p.m. Saturday.

Burglars Take Loot From Troy House

TROY — Two watches a portable television set and some $130 in cash were stolen from a residence here last night.

Troy police are investigating the break-in at the Donald St. Martin home, 1486 W. Maple.

They said entry was gained by breaking a window in the rear door of the house.

SERIOUS BUSINESS — Four officials prepare final plans for Oakland County's Radio Amateur Civil Emergency Service (RACES) to present for approval to the Federal Communications Commission. Heading the county group of "ham" operators is Robert W. Smiley, Oxford village manager, (standing, left). He is getting instructions here from veteran county communications officer Harold C. Bird of Pontiac. Also participating in the session were Richard Golden of Bloomfield Hills, alternate county radio officer, and Joseph Gardella, RACES radio operator for Area 2, comprising Wayne, Oakland, Monroe, Washtenaw, Macomb and St. Clair counties.

Icy State Roads Claim 12; 8 Teens in Weekend Toll

By The Associated Press — Eight teen-agers, including the twin, 16-year-old sons of a South Haven minister, were among the 12 persons killed on icy Michigan highways over the last weekend in January.

Roy and Troy Lute, sons of Rev. and Mrs. Glen Lute, and Carol McCullum, 17, of Hartford were fatally injured when their car struck a freight train in Hartford Saturday night.

Linda Delonch, 15, of Hartford, also in the car, was injured.

Police said the four youngsters had left the Delonch home on a double date just before the accident.

Detroiters to Support Dixie Party

DETROIT (UPI) — Rep. John Conyers, D-Mich., was scheduled to hold a press conference here today with a group of lawyers who plan to actively support the Mississippi Freedom Democratic party in its attempt to unseat Mississippi's five congressmen.

The conference will also launch a campaign by the newly formed Detroit Supporters of the Mississippi Freedom Democratic Party.

Miss Elizabeth Hirschfeld, coordinator of the Detroit group, said it planned to seek public support and to conduct an informational program on the real issues involved in the struggle.

The MFDP is seeking to remove Mississippi's congressmen from office on the claim that more than 400,000 Negroes were systematically excluded from the voting process last November.

The party, predominantly Negro, filed a formal challenge with the House of Representatives in December, and now has 40 days in which to get depositions in Mississippi to prove its charges.

After preparation of briefs in the case, the House subcommittee on elections will make final recommendations to be voted on by the entire house.

Michigan's Democratic delegation and two Republicans from the state were among 148 members of Congress who backed an unsuccessful resolution to bar the Mississippi congressmen from taking their seats until the legal challenge by the MFDP is resolved.

Death Takes Ex-AP Giant

Left Indelible Stamp on News Profession

NEW YORK (AP) — Kent Cooper, former chief of the Associated Press and a giant in world journalism whose name was a synonym for "true and unbiased news" and human interest news, is dead at 84.

Cooper's news career spanned more than 50 years — 41 of them with the Associated Press — and he left his indelible stamp on the news profession by fathering sweeping developments in producing and transmitting news in both word and picture form.

He died early Sunday in Good Samaritan Hospital, West Palm Beach, Fla. He was taken to the hospital Jan. 22, pneumonia developed and his condition worsened steadily.

Cooper's body arrives here by plane today. The funeral will be held in the Park Avenue Christian Church at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday. Burial will be in Sleepy Hollow Cemetery at Tarrytown, N.Y.

TWO HOMES

Cooper was general manager of the Associated Press from 1926 to 1948 and also was executive director of the worldwide news cooperative from 1948 to 1951. Since his retirement in 1951, he maintained homes in New York City and Boynton Beach, Fla.

The death of Cooper — known as "KC" to Associated Press employees and throngs of others in the news field — brought expressions of professional praise and personal sorrow from news executives and workers around the world.

Wes Gallagher, general manager of the AP, said Cooper's death was a loss to journalism and is felt deeply by every Associated Press man wherever he may be.

"As general manager of this news cooperative for a quarter century, KC initiated programs which changed journalism in the United States and abroad," Gallagher said. "He fought successfully to break up the news cartels in Europe and Asia after World War I... he began the first wirephoto network for electronic picture delivery... and broadened and personalized news coverage."

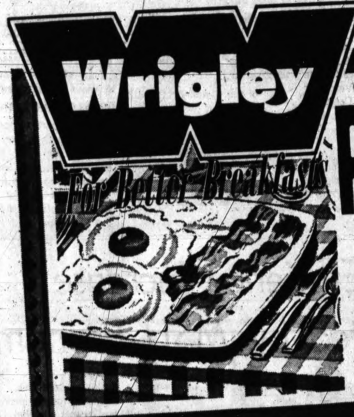

Mims Thomason, president of United Press International, called Cooper "a courageous leader in journalism and a champion in moves to broaden and advance it."

Fire Chief, 49, Dies

COLDWATER (AP) — Coldwater Fire Chief Charles W. Sherman collapsed Sunday while directing his men in fighting a fire at a nearby diner. Sherman, 49, was pronounced dead on his arrival at a hospital. Doctors said he suffered an apparent heart attack.

Captured Cong Papers Tell How to Down Aircraft

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON—A document captured from the Communists in South Viet Nam shows how guerrilla soldiers are taught to concentrate their fire on U.S. aircraft and exhorted to "take courage and fire fiercely" if caught in the open.

The document outlines simplified methods of shooting at American helicopters and fixed-wing planes for three-man "cells" or squads using rifles, automatic rifles or machine guns.

The paper, prepared by Viet Cong staff officers, was declassified recently and made available to the Associated Press. It was seized by government forces late last summer.

"The troops must be very calm to fire at a moving target accurately and simultaneously," says the Communist document.

RAISE SPIRITS

It says that in addition to training in firing techniques, "there is a need to raise the troops' fighting spirit."

The various kinds of planes and choppers used by American and South Vietnamese pilots are described. There's also a discussion of how these craft operate and their weak points.

The documents suggest how to "lead" the targets according to their speed and altitude, when to open fire, and where to aim.

"Quadrangular or triangular formations are preferably employed in firing at aircraft," the document said. "According to its numerical strength and weapons available, the unit will be deployed in such a way that it can concentrate its fire power. Do not fire separately and avoid overconcentration. It is best to fire one squad or one three-man cell at a time."

HOW TO AIM

At another point, the document says: "The troops will aim their weapons according to the fire command and open fire simultaneously....They will continue firing until their position is discovered....They will move to another position."

"If they find it impossible to move under enemy heavy fire, they must hide....They can fire again if they see no trouble."

"The troops must disperse and apply triangular or quadrangular formations, taking advantage of trees, dirt mounds, or brick walls when they are unexpectedly caught by aircraft."

"The squatting position with butts of weapons against trees, dirt mounds or the edge of a trench is desirable. With this position, they just shift the weapon's muzzle to lead the target."

The Communist paper declares if the Viet Cong "are caught by enemy aircraft in an open area, they must take courage and fire at them fiercely in order to cause them to soar up."

Highland Twp. Pair Picked Up in Area Break-In

Sheriff's deputies Sunday morning picked up two Highland Township youths in connection with a break-in Saturday night at the White Lake Laundromat.

The pair allegedly took more than $300 in change and a television set from the laundry.

Deputies followed foot tracks from the building more than two miles, to the youth's homes.

The two Milford High School students admitted the theft and said they wanted to use the money to help pay some bills for their parents.

Timothy Brown, 17, was arrested on a charge of breaking and entering and was released on bond. The 16-year-old youth was released to the custody of his parents.

Music, Grandstand

Eager for Own Funeral

SPRINGFIELD, OHIO (AP)—Gerald McKinney is looking forward to his funeral even though, he says, "some people look at me like I'm some kind of nut."

McKinney, 42-year-old Springfield factory worker, has arranged to have his funeral June 6, at the Scioto County Fairgrounds, near his home town of Minford in Southern Ohio.

"They've given us permission to use the grandstand," McKinney said. "We're going to have lots of music, all types. I want everyone to enjoy himself."

"The way I figure it, my friends and relatives can come to see me now while I can see them. If they don't come now, they can stay away when I'm dead."

The Rev. Ray Borders has agreed to officiate. He is pastor of the Springfield Interdenominational Church. "I didn't think he was serious at first. But later I found out he was," the pastor said, adding that he sees nothing sacrilegious in it "if the fellow wants it that way."

3 CHILDREN

McKinney has been married three times and is father of 3 children.

Dunes Plan Reintroduced

Only Minor Changes From '63 Version

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new bill to create a Sleeping Bear Dunes National Lakeshore in Western Michigan was offered today by Sen. Philip A. Hart and Patrick R. McNamara, Michigan Democrats.

Hart said the measure is nearly the same as one passed by the Senate just before Congress adjourned in 1963. The House took no action on the bill either in 1963 or in 1964.

This year, Hart said, it has been assigned high priority by Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall.

Rep. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., has not indicated whether he would introduce his version of the proposal, as he did in the past Congress.

WOULD STUDY— Griffin said he would study the Senate bill to see if it contained provisions which would bring it close to the bill he sponsored previously.

The Hart-McNamara bill would apply to about 51,000 acres in the dunes bordering Lake Michigan and would include the original Manitow Island. Hart's original proposal was for a 77,000-acre park.

MINOR CHANGES— The new bill makes only minor changes in the bill passed by the Senate Dec. 22, 1963.

One would eliminate a 420-acre strip of shoreline west of the town of Empire. This stretch, 14 miles long, was not included in Hart's original proposal, which called for a total of 32 miles of mainland shoreline. It was included, however, when it passed the Senate.

The effect of this is that it would divide the park into two sections, broken by the 14-mile strip. It is Hart's view that the area near Empire is more developed and it should not be in the park.

The other change makes a precise description of the route of the scenic highway along the highlands to the east of the proposed park. This highway was authorized in the Senate-passed bill but the right-of-way was not clearly defined.

Merry Chase for State Man— NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — A Fort Campbell, Ky., soldier led Nashville Police officers on a merry chase yesterday, dodging 14 patrol cars all over town at high speeds.

But police caught up with Roger Allen Duke, 21, of Ypsilanti — in the backyard of the home of Police Chief Hubert Kemp.

After 20 officers in patrol cars converged on Duke at a parking lot, Duke leaped into a creek and splashed his way up to the back yard of the police chief.

Kemp, aroused from his bed by gunfire, rushed into the back yard in time to witness the capture.

Woodrow Wilson served as governor of New Jersey from 1911-13 before becoming President.

He Put Heart Into Robbery

A young man walked into Adams Pharmacy in Birmingham last night, selected $4 worth of Valentine cards and paid for them.

Then he pulled out a 38-caliber revolver and robbed owner Walter Adams of more than $600.

The romantic robber was assisted by another man who had been reading magazines during the Valentine transaction, police said. Both carried revolvers.

Adams was ordered to open the safe, cash registers and cash drawer. He, pharmacist Edward Griesnick and clerk Lillian Sheppard were then bound with clothesline.

The two holdup men had entered the store, 1956 S. Woodward, shortly before its 10 p.m. closing time.

Adams and his two employees freed themselves and called police at 10:15 p.m., only minutes after the robbers had made their getaway out the back door with their loot and the Valentines.

Named to the executive board in the election were William K. Miller, Robert Lawson, Emil Sutt and Charles Landgren.

Following the annual election meeting, the members and their wives held a dinner-dance at the Pontiac Elks Temple.

3 Youngsters Are Linked to Break-Ins— A Waterford Township inn was broken into early Saturday and an estimated $250 worth of beer, liquor and other merchandise stolen.

Around noon Saturday, three juveniles were picked up by police at 1945 LaDue, Waterford Township.

Police said the youngsters apparently broke into the Pontiac Lake Inn, 7800 M59, Waterford Township, sometime after 3 a.m. Saturday and then staged a party, breaking into the home on LaDue.

An estimated $2,000 to $3,000 damage was done to the home, owned by James O'Brien of Detroit, according to police.

Township officers said a second summer home at 1825 LaDue, owned by James Horvath of Grosse Pointe, was also broken into. No damage was done, however.

Entry to the inn was made by breaking a rear window, police said. A vending machine was also busted open and rifled. An adult suspect is also being questioned, police said.

Had Neck Stuck Out on Road Regulations— INGLEWOOD, Calif. (UPI) — California highway patrolmen ticketed truck driver Eugene Goebel for carting a load over the legal height limit of 13 feet 6 inches on a freeway.

Goebel's truck was transporting two giraffes to a zoo.

January Dip in Road Toll— EAST LANSING (AP)—State police report Michigan is off to an encouraging start in the campaign to cut down on highway fatalities.

The 136 deaths in January were 34, or 20 per cent, less than the 170 the same month last year.

This was the third month in a row showing a reduction compared with the corresponding month a year earlier. There also was a decrease of 19 deaths in November and 12 in December.

The highest January death toll was 189 in 1937 and the low was 59 in 1942.

Michigan finished 1964 with a provisional death toll of 2,096 but delayed death reports now have raised the figure to 2,121.

Japanese Premier May Visit Russia— MOSCOW (AP) — Premier Eisaku Sato of Japan informed Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kossygin today that he would like to visit the Soviet Union if the proper occasion arises. Japanese embassy sources said.

A message from Sato was delivered to Kossygin during a 50-minute call by Japanese Ambassador Takeo Shimoda at the Kremlin. Kossygin had invited Sato to Moscow in December.

Sato told parliament in Tokyo last week that he would accept.

Officers Picked by Musicians— Wallace E. Earl, 2300 Anders, was elected to his third one-year term yesterday as president of Pontiac Local 784, American Federation of Musicians.

Other officers reelected were C. Neil Kimler of 5154 Elkton, Commerce Township, vice president, and Peter G. Flore, 341 Elizabeth Lake, secretary-treasurer.

Named to the executive board in the election were William K. Miller, Robert Lawson, Emil Sutt and Charles Landgren.

Won't Move TB Patients to Osteopathic Hospital

Oakland County's tuberculosis patients will not be moved to Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital, it was decided Friday by a special committee charged with the responsibility of relocating some 100 patients in the recently sold County TB Sanatorium.

Dr. Bernard D. Berman, county health director and a member of the committee, and Dr. William F. Fidler, medical superintendent of the sanatorium, said the expense of remodeling and staffing the three floors available at the hospital would be prohibitive.

Osteopathic hospital officials had offered the facilities to house the patients, who must be relocated by April 1 when the Oakland Community College takes over the sanatorium.

After considerable discussion of the problem, the committee decided the most desirable alternative at this time is the County Medical Care Facility.

Joseph Joachim, county engineer, was instructed to make a study of the infirmary to determine how much remodeling will have to be done to meet State Health Department requirement for TB patients.

100 PATIENTS— If it is used, about 100 patients in the Medical Care Facility will be transferred to nursing homes in the county to make room for the TB patients.

The move will also require appointment of a seven-member board of institutions, which will replace the county welfare board and the TB sanatorium board of trustees as the administrative body for all county hospital facilities.

Adequate facilities in two Wayne County TB hospitals have been offered, but local officials hope to keep the patients in Oakland County if possible.

Bank Robbers Men, or Women—or Both

CAMDEN (AP) — State police not only are interested in who it was but what it was that robbed the Camden branch of the Litchfield State Savings Bank of $31,000.

It might have been one man and two women or two men and one woman or three men who robbed the bank Saturday. The police really aren't sure because of conflicting reports by witnesses.

The three employees and nine customers in the bank at the time of the robbery told police they were certain of the gunman was a man. But they weren't sure about the other two.

Edmond Dodson, branch manager, said the two were dressed as women. He said they were heavily made up and wore high heels and sunglasses. Dodson said, "I saw one of them walk across the bank, and I am pretty certain she was a woman for she had slim ankles. I can tell a woman's legs."

HEADS COVERED

Police said the two had their heads covered and wore stretch pants.

One of those dressed as a woman may have been a man. Dodson said this one appeared a bit wavy on high heels and finally caught one in a floor heating register. "He or she was pretty awkward," Dodson said. He said the male bandit held a gun on him and ordered him to open the vault.

When it was open, the other two stuffed money into a wastebasket and the trio then fled in a stolen car. The car later was recovered just over the Indiana line from Camden. It had been stolen in Fayette, Ohio, Friday. Indiana and Ohio police joined Michigan authorities in a hunt for the robbers.

Big Rubble Pile

Blocks Train Route

PORT JERVIS, N.Y. (AP) — The Erie-Lackawanna Railroad's main line may be blocked for several days by the $1 million rubble of two freight trains that sidwheeled each other and derailed 53 cars.

Some 300 new automobiles carried as cargo were destroyed in the wreck and fire that followed.

The freight cars were strewn along a two-mile stretch. Many of them burned for several hours after the freak accident at dawn Sunday.

Cause of the accident was not determined immediately.

Bobby Kennedy Top 'Hitter'

NEW YORK (AP) — "I understand Yogi Berra is writing a book," said U.S. Senator Robert Kennedy with a boyish grin. "It's called 'Lucky To Be A Yankee'—as told to Mel Allen."

With that quip about the two fired members of the New York Yankee official family, Kennedy hit a grand slam homer at the awards dinner of the New York Chapter of the Baseball Writers Association of America after being introduced as "the only man on the dais with his own baseball team."

The show belonged to star players Brooks Robinson and Elston Howard, Hall of Famer Zach Wheat and veteran Umpire Jojo Conlan but Kennedy, batting in the clean-up spot among the speakers, stole the spotlight with a varied array of one-liners.

The Democratic Senator from New York, stepped to the speakers' rostrum after his introduction and said he first wanted to pay tribute to the writers, who sometimes are the subject of considerable abuse.

"I have difficulty believing," he said, "those things Ted Williams said about you."

Then he looked down the dais, and pointed to Johnny Keane, who managed the St. Louis Cardinals to a World Series victory, then quit and signed with the Yankees.

"Keane's new to New York," said Kennedy, "and he's asked me to be his guide."

He pointed out that no one had accused Keane of being a carpetbagger but said considering everything he preferred politics to sports because "I'm happier being a U.S. Senator than a Washington Senator. You stay around longer and the pay's better."

Kennedy's quips followed the presentation of awards. Robinson, Baltimore's third baseman, and the American League's Most Valuable Player, received the St. Marc's Memorial Award as Player of the Year. Howard, the Yankees' catcher, was given the Ben Epstein Good Guy Award.

Young Pro Moves Up With Lucky Open Win

ANGLING FOR BASKET—Pontiac Nationals' Dick Dzik (51) uses his body to protect successful layup attempt against Benton Harbor's Al Saunders (15) Saturday night at Northern High School. Dzik, 6-6 ex-University of Detroit star, had 23 points to rank second for the winners to Willie Merriweather (43), watching shot, who put in 25 markers.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Gangly George Archer, last year a little late and $18 short, found himself today in the exclusive circle of the professional golf elite.

Four birdies on his last five holes elevated his status. He won the $8,500 first prize in the $7,500 Lucky International Open Sunday on the second hole of a sudden death playoff against former British Open champion Bob Charles of New Zealand.

Archer finished his rookie year of 1964 as No. 51 on the money winning list of the Professional Golfers' Association with $14,007.85, never having won a tournament.

Guard Al Cech, a reserve, produced two key fourth quarter field goals and seven vital points in the extra session to spark the Nationals' triumph.

His layup tied the game in the closing two minutes after the winners had trailed by six with four and quarter minutes to play.

10 SECONDS — The Nationals actually held a two-point lead but Harold McPherson's field goal knotted the scoreboard at 120 with 10 seconds to play.

Dave Gunther, another National reserve player, also was very instrumental in the victory. His 16 rebounds led all players and several of them were key offensive retrieves that the 6-6 Royal Oak Kimball coach tipped back in for buckets.

Gunther finished with 12 points.

Willie Merriweather gave another excellent shooting exhibition, 9 of 15, for 25 points to put the Nationals, Henry Hughes hit 8 of 12 for 16 markers before fouling out.

The first half marksmanship of Charlie North (11) and Manny Jackson (14) kept Pontiac in the game since Benton Harbor spurted to a 62-54 halftime edge.

Player-coach Bob Bolton was rusty in his first NABL action since Jan. 1st, but he did a fine job directing the team from the bench.

Bob James of the Sailors took game scoring honors with 30 points on 13 of 36 from the floor. The visitors lost the game from the field, though, getting six less field goals than the Nationals.

Pontiac had an opportunity to take solid control of third place this week. It will journey to Holland Tuesday for a meeting with Chicago, the last place quietest, and then goes to Muskegon Saturday for a showdown with the Panthers.

Meanwhile, the club's backers will confer this week to decide if Pontiac's drawing area is capable of supporting the club next season.

Pontiac basketball fans were both inspired and inspiring Saturday night as the Pontiac Nationals pulled their first major upset in the North American Basketball League.

League-leading Benton Harbor lost its third game — all on the road — when the Nationals rallied in the second half and triumphed, 132-127, in overtime.

The victory enabled Pontiac to tie for third place with Muskegon (both 5-1) since the Panthers lost, 132-116, at Grand Rapids. The latter 8-4, now trails Benton Harbor, 8-3, by percentage points.

For the second time this season the Nationals gave their home fans an exciting display of pro basketball. They topped Chicago, 109-100 in November.

A disappointing 800-900 fans turned out to support the Nationals vociferously; and few of them were disappointed by what they saw on the playing floor.

Dean Chance: Changed Man

NEW YORK (UPI) — Dean Chance is a changed man. A lot of skeptics won't believe it until they see it, but he insists it's true.

"That's right," he says, "I'm through popping off. No one will ever hear me doing that again."

Almost as if to prove what he says is true, the good-looking, 25-year-old right-hander for the Los Angeles Angels singled out three men — Sandy Koufax,

Fred Haney and Bobby Knopf — for the type of praise that isn't usually heard from the average ball player.

GOAL BEST PITCHER — "My goal is to be the best pitcher in baseball," said Chance.

That statement was somewhat of a shocker in itself because Chance was voted the Cy Young Award as the outstanding major league pitcher for 1964.

"I'm not the best pitcher," declared the man who won 20 games last year, hurled 11 shut-outs and compiled a remarkable 1.65 earned run average.

"Koufax is. He may be the greatest pitcher who ever lived."

"Everyone knows he can't be beat when he's right. That's what you call a pitcher. I really admire him."

Chance's comments about Haney were all the more startling because he had never been especially charitable to the Angels' general manager before.

HAL OF FAME BOWLING TIPS

By JOE NORRIS
Written for NEA

The fierce, competitive drive of Johnny Crimmins often was misleading to his teammates and opponents, including myself. Before we learned better, we felt Johnny must not be concentrating on his game while he bounced around the lanes keeping up the chatter.

In his mellow mood, though, he was glad to explain that thinking through each delivery was a vital ingredient in his scoring success. And no body could quarrel with his success.

From victory in the first National All-Star Tournament in 1941, he went on to a string of major titles and election to the Hall of Fame in 1962.

He knew it and you should, too, that top-score bowling requires the successful combination of many body movements. A quick mental re-

Rambler Meet Top Quintets

Loyola Five in Cage Spotlight

By The Associated Press
Loyola of Chicago is back in the college basketball spotlight — glared at by Wichita, outshone by UCLA and aiming at St. John's and Indiana.

Loyola, NCA champion in 1963 and a member of the Top Ten last season, finds itself encountering those four nationally-ranked teams in one week after plodding through a schedule sprinkled with under-ranked teams such as Western Ontario, Southwest Missouri and Windsor.

The hectic week started for Loyola last Friday night with an upset 93-92 victory over fifth-ranked Wichita in overtime. The Ramblers gave UCLA, the nation's No. 1 team, a tough fight before bowing 85-72 Saturday night.

Now come seventh-ranked St. John's tonight and Indiana, No. 9, Thursday night.

UPSET VICTIM
St. John's, 12-3, will try and bounce back against Loyola following a surprising 78-50 loss to Marquette Saturday night. The Ramblers have played Marquette twice this season, winning at home 83-71 before losing 71-69 in overtime at Marquette.

The loss to UCLA dropped the Ramblers' record to 10-4, a good distance from the 29-2 and 22-6 marks they compiled the past two seasons.

Loyola sneaked to a 35-33 half-time margin and extended its lead to five points early in the second half before the Bruins struck.

In other NBA action Sunday, Philadelphia trimmed Cincinnati 121-102, Boston bombed New York 123-95 and Los Angeles beat San Francisco 96-94.

A third quarter spurt led by Wilt Chamberlain sparked the 76ers victory over the Royals. Chamberlain ended up with 36 points and Hal Greer added 26. Oscar Robertson topped Cincinnati with 26.

John Havlicek was high with 22 points for the Celtics.

Kenny Washington's field goal put UCLA ahead to stay 47-46, but it was a spree of 10 straight points by Gail Goodrich that clinched the Bruins' 14th victory in 16 games.

The Bruins now turn to Pacific Athletic Conference competition from which they are favored to emerge with a spot in the NCAA tournament for a defense of the title they won last year.

Loyola, meanwhile, turns to St. John's, which still may be spinning from its brutal defeat at Marquette. The loss was the first for the New Yorkers after eight straight victories.

Marquette led the entire way, holding St. John's to 20 points for the entire first half while dominating the boards.

Wichita rebounded from its loss to Loyola for a 96-76 triumph over Louisville. The game was the last for grading Dave Stallworth, an All-America who helped the Shockers to a 6-0 record in the Missouri Valley Conference.

Of the Top Ten teams, unbeaten Providence, No. 4; Indiana and 10th-ranked Duke did not play Saturday. Michigan, No. 2, whipped Purdue 98-81. Third-ranked St. Joseph's knocked off Xavier, Ohio, 93-78, sixth-ranked Davidson stopped Wake Forest 78-71, and San Francisco, No. 8, toppled Arizona State 91-75.

Northwestern's Late Basket Defeats Spartans, 77-75

By The Associated Press
Ron Kozick's layup with six seconds left gave Northwestern a 77-75 Big Ten victory over Michigan State Saturday.

The basketball victory was the second for the Wildcats over MSU in the final seconds this season. Last Saturday, Jim Cummins' basket with four seconds left gave Northwestern a 77-75 Big Ten victory over Michigan State Saturday.

MSU held an early 5-0 lead but the Wildcats erased it and twice led by 14 points in the first half. Trailing 42-28, the Spartans came back to cut the halftime lead to 42-40.

Northwestern ran up a 54-44 second half lead but Marcus Sanders, the game's top scorer with 28 points, lifted MSU into a 57-57 tie. From then on it was touch-and-go until Kozick's winning goal. Jim Pitts led Northwestern with 22 points.

The University of Detroit used its reserves freely as it whipped the University of Toledo 77-68. Paced by Lou Hyatt's 22 points, Detroit hit on 49 per cent of its field goal tries and on 17 of 18 from the foul line. Detroit is 11-4 and Toledo 6-7 this season.

EASY TRIUMPH
Gene Summers tossed in 27 points and grabbed 16 rebounds as he led Northern Michigan to a 106-86 victory over Calvin. Northern held a 40-20 lead midway in the first half and dominated play the rest of the way. Northern is 10-3 and Calvin is 5-9.

Kalamazoo had no trouble whipping Detroit Tech 103-68. Tom Nicolai dropped in 19 points for the victors although Jim Carra of DIT paced all scorers with 26. Kalamazoo is 4-10 and DIT is 2-16.

Albion edged the University of Chicago 64-63 in a tight contest that was won on Larry Downs' basket with three seconds left to play. Downs led all scorers with 18 points.

Hope had no trouble stopping Elmhurst of Illinois 92-75. Floyd

Brady and Clare Van Wieren powered Hope to the victory as Brady scored 23 points and Van Wieren got 22. The victory was Hope's eighth in 13 games.

Ferris State outlasted a stubborn Hillsdale College team and posted a 96-78 decision for its 18th consecutive victory on its home court. The lead changed hands six times in the opening minutes, but Ferris moved in front 27-25 and never was headed again.

Pistons Impress Hawks

By The Associated Press
The Detroit Pistons overcame an early 23-point deficit Sunday night to edge the St. Louis Hawks 110-107 for their second straight National Basketball Association victory in a row and their fifth in six games.

Detroit, which beat St. Louis 121-99 Saturday, trailed 42-20 early in the second quarter. But Joe Caldwell and Reggie Harding led a surge which knotted the score at 61-all in the third period.

Harding's basket with 21 seconds left led the victory. Caldwell led all scorers with 20 points, 11 in the final period. Harding had 20 and Terry Ditchinger 19. Bob Pettit led the Hawks with 25.

In other NBA action Sunday, Philadelphia trimmed Cincinnati 121-102, Boston bombed New York 123-95 and Los Angeles beat San Francisco 96-94.

GEN. LEMAY

Air Force Bids Farewell to Top General

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson and the Air Force salute and bid official farewell today to Gen. Curtis E. LeMay, 58.

The President, making his first official appearance since he was hospitalized with the cold nine days ago, presents the Distinguished Service Medal to LeMay in a White House ceremony.

Later, at nearby Andrews Air Force Base, Md., the Air Force musters men and aircraft for a ceremony marking retirement of the chief of staff and former head of the Strategic Air Command.

LeMay's associates on the Joint Chiefs of Staff were invited to the reviewing stand: Army Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, the JCS chairman; Army Gen. Harold K. Johnson; Adm. David L. McDonald; Air Force Gen. John P. McConnell, LeMay's successor; and the Marine commandant, Gen. Wallace M. Greene Jr.

Secretary of the Air Force Eugene M. Zuckert had invited Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara to the ceremony, but McNamara was hospitalized late last week with a cold and slight fever.

MARCH TO BAND
Units from the Air Force, Army, Navy and Marines were to march in the ceremony to the beat of a 50-man contingent of the U.S. Air Force band, a kilted bagpipe band.

Senate Votes Today on Appalachia Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate votes today on the Appalachia aid bill, and its backers predict approval by a wide margin.

Democratic leader Mike Mansfield called the Senate into session two hours early and scheduled a midafternoon roll-call vote on the $1.09-billion measure aimed at improving the economies of 11 states. Most of the money would be spent on building new roads.

Several amendments were to be voted on first but the bill's managers said they were confident of defeating all of those designed to reduce the scope of the legislation.

Sponsors had feared the biggest threat to the measure came from senators who wanted to add amendments to establish similar aid programs in their states.

But it appeared during the opening day of debate last Friday they had convinced all of the authors of such proposals to wait for general legislation which may be considered later.

HIGH UNEMPLOYMENT
This plan, embodied in a bill offered by Sen. Pat McNamara, D-Mich., would authorize the President to set up regional development commissions in any part of the country, at the request of two or more governors, if the area met the test of high unemployment and other economic distress.

Romney Ready to Offer Budget

LANSING (AP) — Gov. George Romney plans to present to the legislature tomorrow his 1965 state budget—a blueprint expected to call for approximately $800 million in state spending.

The budget will go to legislators with a note that Romney intends to retain part of this year's general fund surplus for a rainy day.

This surplus has been estimated at between $75 million and $125 million but the amount officially has not been disclosed.

State agencies requested $996.2 million for fiscal 1965-66.

The current appropriation is $994.3 million. Observers estimate Romney will cut this year's requests to somewhere between $775 million and $800 million.

The governor told the Michigan Press Association in East Lansing Saturday that increased taxes or deficit spending will result "if we attack our surplus by spending it all immediately—or by chopping away at it by means of piecemeal tax reduction."

But Romney said in order to provide services in the current proposed budget, it will be necessary to spend some of the surplus.

The Associated Press has learned Romney plans to save about $75 million of it.

The surplus almost makes the state "too fat and sassy for our own good right now," Romney said Saturday.

"We need to begin building immediately to insure that Michigan doesn't get caught in another of its historic cycles that will lead to difficulty and financial deficiency in the near future."

Shots by Red Guards Prevent Pair's Escape

BERLIN (AP) — East German border guards fired sub-machine guns today to prevent two young men from escaping across the wall into West Berlin.

Witnesses said Communist border guards captured the men near the French sector.

McNamara Hit by Pneumonia

Secretary Admitted to Hospital Friday

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara has a "moderate case of viral pneumonia," it was announced today.

Asst. Secretary of Defense Arthur Sylvester told newsmen that the condition showed up in X rays over the weekend after McNamara was admitted Friday to the Army's Walter Reed Hospital.

His illness at the time was diagnosed as an upper respiratory infection, or bad cold.

Sylvester said that McNamara's temperature today is normal and that his condition is good.

X RAYS NEGATIVE

The first X rays taken after McNamara went to the hospital Friday morning were described then as negative — that is showing nothing unusual in the secretary's lungs.

However, Sylvester said, subsequent X rays taken on Saturday when McNamara's temperature remained high, disclosed the viral condition in his right lung.

McNamara became ill on Wednesday and spent all of Thursday at home before his Air Force doctor ordered him to the hospital.

The comment declared that Johnson's proposal for visits and for increased contacts between U.S. and Soviet officials had "met with a positive response in the Soviet Union."

Informants here said there had been some advance word to the United States that a favorable would look with favor on a measure of this sort.

President Johnson, who has given top priority to the Appalachia bill, had made it clear he does not want extraneous amendments added to it.

The bill's sponsors said they were mostly concerned about an amendment of Sen. Roman L. Hruska, R-Neb.

$17-MILLION CUT
This would strike a $17-million land stabilization, conservation and erosion control section.

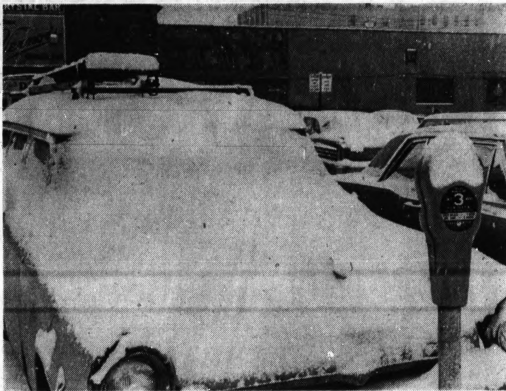

In the 1964 version of the measure, this was called a pasture improvement section.

It aroused the opposition of Western senators, who felt it might be used to encourage cattle production in the Appalachia area in competition with their livestock industry.

The bill's managers agreed to drop the provision before the legislation passed the Senate last year.

CHIEF SPONSOR
This time, Sen. Jennings Randolph, D-W.Va., the bill's chief sponsor, said he would fight to retain it.

He said the purpose had been changed so that the funds no longer would be used to introduce beef cattle into the region.

Hail Soviet Reaction Coup Attempt to LBJ Call for Visits Fails in Laos

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON — U.S. officials today welcomed the Soviet Union's favorable response to President Johnson's call for top-level visits and contacts between the two countries.

They were less certain, however, about what to make of the Soviet Union's unexpected diplomatic intervention in war-torn Southeast Asia except that it will probably raise new problems for both the United States and Red China.

The two apparently unrelated developments, announced in Moscow yesterday, led Washington authorities to conclude that the new regime in Moscow has now made some basic foreign policy decisions and is ready to initiate action.

The response to Johnson's initiative, which the President made in his State of the Union message a month ago, took the format of a commentary in the Communist party paper Pravda, which U.S. leaders were sure was officially inspired.

The comment declared that Johnson's proposal for visits and for increased contacts between U.S. and Soviet officials had "met with a positive response in the Soviet Union."

Informants here said there had been some advance word to the United States that a favorable

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—An attempted coup last night by a group of young army officers has failed to dislodge the present Laotian government.

The officers, headed by Col. Boulert Syossee, met for two hours with army generals and Premier Prince Souvanna Phouma.

The rebels seized the Vientiane radio station and issued a communique which said they wanted to reform the army high command, take control of the army out of the hands of cliques and insure justice.

Three companies of troops supported them.

Souvanna said today the government had everything in hand and that the chief of staff, Gen. Quane Rathukun, remained in charge.

Orchard Lake Crash Fatal to Teen-Age Girl

A Birmingham girl was dead on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital late Saturday night of injuries sustained in an Orchard Lake car accident.

Mrs. Daniel D. Ricci, 17, of 620 Ruffner, Birmingham, was killed when the car she was riding in failed to negotiate a curve on Pontiac Trail and hit a tree.

Injured in the crash were Michael J. Boerfema, 20, of 1421 14 Mile Road and Claudia Kannel, 17, of 1239 Smith, both of Birmingham.

Boerfema, who police believe was the driver, was listed in serious condition at Pontiac General, while the Kannel girl was in critical condition with internal injuries.

Police said that the car was going east on Pontiac Trail at about 10:55 p.m. Saturday when it left the road on an S-shaped curve.

The car traveled 178 feet across the roadway, struck a snow bank and traveled another 34 feet in the air before striking a tree about eight feet from the ground.

The victim's body is at Manly Bailey Funeral Home in Birmingham. Rosary will be recited there at 8 p.m. tomorrow.

Snowstorm Is Severe in County

If Mr. Groundhog comes out of hibernation as scheduled tomorrow to make his annual weather prediction, he may have to stand on tiptoes to get his head above the snow, which is scheduled to accumulate an additional five inches in the area today.

The weatherman predicts that today's blowing snow will be replaced with falling temperatures by tonight. The low will register between 5 above and 5 below zero.

Tomorrow will continue cold and cloudy with a few snow flurries. The high is expected to fall in the 7 to 15 range.

Wednesday's outlook promises no change with cloud snow flurries and low temperatures forecast.

The low thermometer recording prior to 8 a.m. in downtown Pontiac was 11. By 1 p.m., the mercury inched to 16.

COUNTY TROUBLE

Salt trucks and snow plows have been at work in the county since 1:30 a.m. today, but road commission officials said they weren't making much progress because of the continued snowfall.

About 100 pieces of equipment and a full crew of men were on the job.

Michigan State Police reported that all roads in the area are snow-covered and slippery.

They said that the bad weather has caused motorists to proceed more cautiously and few accidents have been reported.

Sheriff's deputies reported a few minor accidents, one involving a school bus, but no serious injury accidents.

Pontiac's five salt trucks were ordered out at 2:30 this morning, according to Department of Public Works Superintendent Clyde Christian.

Shortly after 9 a.m., city DPW forces were also using four graders and three trucks with underbody plows in a further attempt to clear streets for motor traffic.

The Detroit weather bureau predicted wind-driven snow and hazardous driving warnings throughout the Lower Peninsula.

The snow was to change to flurries and gradually stop this evening, except near Lake Michigan.

The State Highway Department said nearly all of Michigan got some overnight snow, ranging from one of two inches in the Upper Peninsula to six to 12 inches along Lake Michigan.

Muskegon reported 12 inches by early today, bringing the city's total snow depth to 27 inches.

Sault Ste. Marie reported 30 inches on the ground, followed by Pellston with 28 and Houghton with 24.

Some 35 resort employees and valley residents remained behind. They huddled in lodge basements and in homes outside the snowslide area. An avalanche expert said they were "pretty safe."

Two large, dangerous accumulations of rain-heavy snow hung on Flaggstaff Mountain and Cardiff Peak, more than 1,500 feet above the lodges.

Edward LaChapelle, Forest Service avalanche hazard forecaster, called Alta avalanche conditions "the worst in 50 years."

It took them an hour to make their way seven miles to safety over more than 100 snowslides — 20 of them described as very large.

Blizzard Hits Areas in West; Cold in Florida

Heavy Snow, Strong Winds Rip Portions of the Nation

By The Associated Press
A massive storm carrying heavy snow and powerful winds lashed portions of the Northwest and Midwest today while extreme cold stung portions of the South and Florida.

Blizzard conditions prevailed from Minnesota and South Dakota southward through Missouri and Kansas. Cold wave warnings were issued for north-eastern New Mexico.

Heavy snow and hazardous driving warnings were posted for Illinois, Ohio, southern Wisconsin and lower Michigan where the U.S. Weather Bureau predicted 4 to 6-inch snow accumulations.

Four inches of snow fell in Denver, Colo., in a six-hour period and winds gusted up to 45 miles per hour, reducing visibility to zero.

Five inches fell in Minneapolis, three in Rochester and Alexandria, Minn., and Lone Rock, Wis.

STRONG WINDS

Some winds reached up to 60 m.p.h. in South Dakota and Nebraska. Broken bow in central Nebraska reported wind gusts up to 80 m.p.h.

A hard freeze struck northern Florida and frost and freezing temperatures prevailed in most of the southern sector.

The storm began in Montana early yesterday and moved swiftly in a wide belt toward the Midwest. Road slides in Idaho closed U.S. 12.

Gusting winds and heavy snow swept through Colorado, closing mountain passes.

MERCURY PLUNGES

Motorists were stalled on Denver streets. The temperature dropped 26 degrees in one hour after the storm hit the state. Eight hundred skiers evacuated from Lake Eldora in the Rocky Mountains during the morning were trapped by drifts up to 15 feet.

A drop of temperatures in Idaho eased the flood danger as the snowpack runoff was retarded. An estimated 200 persons were still homeless by a week of flooding.

New Mexico highways were shrouded by dust whipped by 40-50 m.p.h. winds. High winds and blowing snow cut visibility in Nebraska.

Isolated Utah Skiers Evacuated

ALTA, Utah (AP) — More than 200 vacationing skiers have been evacuated from Alta Valley resorts after spending eight snowbound days in lodges threatened by tons of overhanging snow.

Some 35 resort employees and valley residents remained behind. They huddled in lodge basements and in homes outside the snowslide area. An avalanche expert said they were "pretty safe."

Two large, dangerous accumulations of rain-heavy snow hung on Flaggstaff Mountain and Cardiff Peak, more than 1,500 feet above the lodges.

Edward LaChapelle, Forest Service avalanche hazard forecaster, called Alta avalanche conditions "the worst in 50 years."

It took them an hour to make their way seven miles to safety over more than 100 snowslides — 20 of them described as very large.

AFTER ATTENDING RED MASS — President Johnson settled back in his limousine yesterday after attending Red Mass at St. Matthew's Cathedral. It was 18 degrees when the President and members of his family arrived for the Mass which is held annually to invoke God's blessing on the administration of law and justice. It was Johnson's first public appearance since he was hospitalized Jan. 23. (See Today in Washington, Page 36)

Not Proper to Join U.N. With Sukarno Out - Chou

JAKARTA (U) — Communist Chinese Premier Chou En-lai was quoted as saying today that it would not be appropriate for Communist China to enter the United Nations following Indonesia's withdrawal.

Chou made the statement to a reporter of the Indonesian official news agency Antara who accompanied Indonesian Foreign Minister Subandrio to Peking last week. Chou's interview was published by Antara today.

"Now that Indonesia has quit the United Nations, how could (Communist) China enter the United Nations," Chou was quoted.

However, he did not say flatly that if Communist China is admitted to the United Nations, she will reject the membership of the world organization.

Chou, according to Antara, appealed to friendly countries that are members of the world organization to reorganize the United Nations.

Otherwise "we must consider the establishment of a new world organization outside the present United Nations," Antara quoted Chou.

Communist China accused the United States today of campaigning against the spread of nuclear weapons to preserve a "fettering U.S. nuclear monopoly."

The United States produced "a large quantity of nuclear weapons... to frighten people everywhere" since it dropped its first atomic bomb over Hiroshima in 1945, contended the official newspaper Peking People's Daily.

"But now that (Communist) China has exploded its first atomic bomb in the interest of defending world peace, U.S. imperialism is raising a hue and cry," the paper said.

Chou, according to Antara, appealed to friendly countries that are members of the world organization to reorganize the United Nations.

Otherwise "we must consider the establishment of a new world organization outside the present United Nations," Antara quoted Chou.

Court Rules on Colorado Redistricting

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court affirmed today, insofar as federal questions are involved, a decision by a special U.S. District Court that portions of a Colorado constitutional amendment dealing with legislative apportionment are invalid.

The high tribunal, in an unsigned order, said that, insofar as federal questions are involved, the amendment is invalid.

WASHINGTON (U) — The Supreme Court affirmed today a reapportionment ruling affecting New York State, which was issued last July 27 by a special three-judge federal district court in New York City.

The special court directed, among other things, that the New York Legislature adopt a "valid" reapportionment law by next April 1.

As the special court at Denver decided other than federal questions, its ruling was vacated and the case was sent back for further consideration, in the light of a "supervening decision" of the Colorado Supreme Court.

The order did not specify the federal questions to which it referred. Nor did it give any details as to the supervening decisions of the state court.

3 JUDGES

The decision of the special three-judge U.S. District Court in Denver was appealed to the highest tribunal by Atty. Gen. Duke W. Dumbor of Colorado.

Blizzard Strikes Western Areas; Freeze in Florida

State police said the two passengers were killed.

Miami, Fla., registered 40 yesterday. Other Florida lows were 26 in Pensacola and 27 in Tallahassee.

At least five traffic deaths in North Carolina were attributed to the weather.

A mammoth early slide in a deep canyon dammed the Wilson River near Lake Tamm, Ore., yesterday and a lake four miles long built up behind the debris.

NATIONAL WEATHER — Snow is predicted from the Lakes area and the Tennessee Valley to the north Atlantic states tonight and showers in the south Atlantic states and eastern Gulf Coast. Cold air wave could bring the middle Atlantic coast, the eastern Gulf area, southern California and the Pacific Northwest.

FIDEL FLASHES FORM — Fidel Castro performed his pitching ritual for 27,000 fans yesterday to inaugurate the 1965 national baseball championships at Havana's Latin American Park. He was widely cheered as he threw to the first batter of a Havana team. The batter hit an easy pop-up on a 3-4 count. Castro has not missed an opening game since he took power in 1959.

Docks Remain Dragnet by Cadets Was 'Meshed' Up

Baltimore Stevedores

Vote on Revised Pact

BALTIMORE (AP) — A revised contract went to rank and file Baltimore longshoremen today with the blessings of union leaders as docks from Maine to Texas stood idle for the 22nd day.

In three other ports dockworkers continued to bargain for new work agreements based on the so-called New York master contract approved more than a week ago.

Atlantic and Gulf Coast ports have been shut down since Jan. 10 when the AFL-CIO International Longshoremen's Association went on strike.

The I.L.A. says no ships will be worked until all ports in its jurisdiction have settled.

BEGAN VOTING

Members of the six locals here began voting at 8 a.m. on a contract hammered out over the weekend at bargaining sessions attended by Thomas W. Gleason, leader of the 60,000 striking dockers.

Gleason, I.L.A. president, described the new Baltimore agreement as "better than New York's," and put his weight behind it, as have the leaders, of the six locals.

Officials of four of the locals had asked a negative vote on a proposal that was rejected last Wednesday 1,371 to 1,016.

Several changes, including the elimination of a controversial jurisdictional clause, have led Gleason and I.L.A. Vice President William Halle to predict ratification today.

TERRIFIC PRESSURE

Gleason, before he left Baltimore Sunday, spoke of "terrific pressure" being applied by Washington to get the strikers back on the job.

The strike has cost the nation's economy an estimated $1 billion.

In Miami, where terms are set for ports in the South Atlantic district, shippers and union leaders met at 10 a.m. today after a standoff of more than a month.

In dispute there was the size of work gangs with I.L.A. negotiator Judge Henderson insisting his men would not return to their jobs until they got a guarantee of a 16-man gang minimum.

WON'T YIELD

David Watts, spokesman for South Atlantic shippers, says the employers are not willing to yield. "We feel very adamant on minimum gangs," Watts said Sunday.

Assistant Secretary of Labor James Reynolds, who left stalled negotiations in Galveston, Tex., was on hand for the Miami talks.

Further discussions were set in Philadelphia, another unsettled port, for 2 p.m. today. Federal mediator John Murray said the central issues were the 1-600-hour work guarantee included in the master contract and management's request for greater flexibility of work rules.

Police said some 7,000 fans leaving an arena usually used as a bull ring clashed head-on with 5,000 others trying to enter.

Six children were among the dead.

The stampede occurred at the end of one performance and just before another was to begin.

The spectators rushed from their seats to the exits. At the same time those impatiently waiting to reach seats for a second concert dashed through a corridor toward the fans leaving.

WOMAN FALLS

In the melee, a woman carrying a child was believed to have fallen to the ground first. Others stumbled and fell a few seconds later. First-aiders rushed.

When police restored order 19 crushed bodies were strewn on the pavement. Several hours later, none had been identified.

Ambulances carried the injured to the three main hospitals of Guadalajara, Mexico's second largest city.

Crowd Panics; 19 Are Killed

GUADALAJARA, Mexico (U) — Nineteen persons were reported trampled to death or suffocated and more than 40 others injured last night when a crowd panicked at a popular music festival.

Negroes Rally for Big March

Selma Demonstrators Seek 'Right to Vote'

SELMA, Ala. (AP) — Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. summoned Negroes by the hundreds to march on the courthouse today in a rights-vote demonstration that could surpass any yet seen in Selma.

Other civil rights leaders organized a voter registration drive in neighboring Perry County, the only county in Alabama where a federal referee has been assigned to handle complaints of racial discrimination.

The federal court order still limited to 100 the number of Negroes who can apply for registration in any one day. But it was modified by U.S. Dist. Judge Daniel H. Thomas to specify that other Negroes can join the waiting line without interference of sheriff's deputies as long as they gather peacefully.

Thomas to specify that other Negroes can join the waiting line without interference of sheriff's deputies as long as they gather peacefully.

MANY JAILED

More than 50 prospective voters and civil rights workers — some from out-of-state — went to jail last week when they persisted in trying to get in line after the allotted 100 numbered places had been assigned.

The voter registration board in Selma met again today for a one-day term after a four-day recess which ended a prolonged session in January.

The Perry County board at Marion, 30 miles west of here, also opened its doors to prospective voters for one day under a state law which requires registrars in all counties to meet on the first and third Mondays in each month.

Although a federal referee was appointed in Perry County in the wake of a Justice Department suit filed two years ago, prospective new voters still must apply first to the county board.

DECIDE REJECTIONS

The referee chosen by Judge Thomas — whose jurisdiction includes both Dallas and Perry counties — is empowered to decide only the qualifications of voters who have been rejected by the local board.

Negroes outnumber white residents in both counties but have only a small fraction of the number of registered voters.

Registration officials tried to register at times in the past when the offices were open.

"The first time I had that it wasn't a real case was when they took us to the Police Academy instead of headquarters," Swain said.

"Something has gone wrong," remarked an instructor when the Swains walked in.

MADE APOLOGY

Capt. Ford apologized, Swain and his son soon were chuckling.

Back at home, Mrs. Swain was simmering.

"We've lived here 20 years. What will the neighbors think?" Ford sat down and explained the training program. Mrs. Swain said she understood.

Would Ford flunk the officers?

"No," he said emphatically. "They were doing just what we have to do on every real case."

Would Swain flunk them?

"No," Swain said. "They were polite, intelligent, and acted like gentlemen. I think they will be fine officers."

Area Driver Ruled Dead Before Crash

A man who was thought to have been killed in an auto accident yesterday morning in Oxford, apparently died before the crash from a gastric hemorrhage.

Medical authorities said that Huston Clark, 48, 56 Brabb, Oxford Township, was dead before his car was struck about 2:40 a.m. yesterday on M24.

Clark's car was across both southbound lanes of the highway when the accident occurred.

The driver of the other car, a 1964 Oldsmobile, was not injured.

With Confusing January

Mother Nature Had a Fling

Mother Nature succeeded in confusing most of us in January with a wide range of temperatures, much to the delight of Mr. C. Cold (C. for common).

For instance, it wasn't much like January when the temperature went to a high of 58 degrees on Jan. 8.

It didn't feel like seven below zero when it went down to that on Jan. 29. It felt as though it was 20 below as a biting wind produced red cheeks, ears and noses.

On the 22nd, Mother Nature pulled rain, sleet, snow and sunshine out of her bag of tricks.

High daytime records show 13 days when temperature readings went above 32 degrees,

Birmingham Area News To Urge Action by City on Parking Lot Financing

BIRMINGHAM — City Manager R. S. Kenning tonight will urge city commissioners to clear the way for financing Birmingham's newest municipal parking lot.

The lot in the block south of Shain Park was temporarily developed last summer.

In a report to commissioners, Kenning noted that the estimated total cost of the facility is $350,000.

"To date, approximately $275,000 has been spent for the purchase of the property and temporary development," he said.

The property was condemned late in 1963 after necessity for the lot had been declared by the commission.

OBJECTIONS

Purchase and temporary improvement of the lot was approved in the face of objections from property owners and the Atlanta Society, which had attempted to preserve one of three old homes there.

Plans call for 60 per cent of the cost to be paid by the parking lot authority and 40 per cent by benefited property owners.

Kenning said several property owners in the proposed special assessment district have indicated they do not think the financing should be handled that way.

Although it was not included in the first parking lot district, Kenning said he thinks Shain Park should be assessed for the new lot to reduce the assessment against the other benefited property owners.

The Community House, Kenning said, also could be assessed, although it is in a residential zone which normally does not contribute to parking lot assessments.

PARKING NEEDED

In being included, the Community House could utilize space in the new lot to meet off-street parking requirements for its proposed auditorium.

Kenning noted that a precedent has been set to charge St. James Church on the basis of one-third the normal assessment.

Breakdown of the total cost indicates the auto parking system would pay $210,000 and the city $55,949 from its general fund for its share of the assessment.

This would leave some $84,056 to be paid by private property owners.

shev's hands-off policy in Southeast Asia and try to play a vigorous role in the politics of conflict in that part of the world.

NO STRAIN

They were inclined to think Soviet leaders were trying to indicate to Washington that any Russian move to intervene in Southeast Asia was not intended to strain relations between Washington and Moscow.

This view was based in part on a long-standing belief of policy-makers here that the Soviet Union does not stand to profit by expanding war between North and South Viet Nam or between North Viet Nam and Laos.

There was some expectation that Kossygin probably would undertake to make a strong agreement of aid and support for Communist North Viet Nam but that this agreement would be essentially defensive in nature and might even lead eventually to some brake on North Vietnamese aggression in Laos and South Viet Nam.

Hail Reaction by Russia to Visits Idea

Dr. Martin told newsmen that complaints about working conditions at the hospital were sent to the State Department of Mental Health since his knowledge.

The superintendent said he knew of no reason why the hospital management had been accused of racial discrimination and unfair practices, and that rumors of labor trouble at the hospital were unfounded.

"When Dr. Martin says there are only 'rumors' about labor trouble at the hospital, he apparently isn't very well informed," Grosvenor said today.

"EXPLOSIVE"

The MSEU director said the press conference had created an "explosive situation" at the hospital. Spokesmen for the institution said this morning, however, that they were aware of no such reaction among the employees.

Grosvenor said two bakery employees have filed a joint formal complaint with the Michigan Civil Rights Commission charging the hospital with racial discrimination.

Hospital officials said they have no knowledge of the complaint, which was made last June, according to the commission.

Union membership of 940 employees at the hospital is divided about equally between the MSEU and the Michigan State Employees Association.

DROPPING OUT

Grosvenor said employees at the local hospital are "dropping out of MSEU in large numbers and joining the union."

There are no plans to picket the hospital, according to Mrs. Ruby McCormack, president of MSEU Local 48, who said Friday she believes the management is trying to improve working conditions.

Doctor's Talk Angers Union

'Relations at State Hospital at New Low'

Statements made by Dr. Donald W. Martin, medical superintendent of Pontiac State Hospital, at a press conference Friday brought bitter reactions today from Michigan State Employees Union (MSEU) officials.

In a statement to The Press this morning, Robert C. Grosvenor, MSEU director, said "Labor - management relations at the hospital hit a new all-time low" as the result of the press conference.

Dr. Martin told newsmen that complaints about working conditions at the hospital were sent to the State Department of Mental Health since his knowledge.

There was some expectation that Kossygin probably would undertake to make a strong agreement of aid and support for Communist North Viet Nam but that this agreement would be essentially defensive in nature and might even lead eventually to some brake on North Vietnamese aggression in Laos and South Viet Nam.

One result of the new Soviet moves was considered here to be reasonably predictable: a deeper wedge between the Soviet Union and Red China.

CHINA INFLUENCE

In recent years, Red China's influence in North Viet Nam has been predominant.

Moscow's announcements came only hours after the State Department had announced stepped-up cultural exchanges during 1965 between the United States and the Soviet Union.

Dunes Plan Reintroduced

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new bill to create a Sleeping Bear Dunes National Lakeshore in Western Michigan was offered today by Sens. Philip A. Hart and Patrick R. McNamara, Michigan Democrats.

Hart said the measure is nearly the same as one passed by the Senate just before Congress adjourned in 1963. The House took no action on the bill either in 1963 or in 1964.

This year, Hart said, it has been assigned high priority by Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall.

Rep. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., has not indicated whether he would introduce his version of the proposal, as he did in the past Congress.

WOULD STUDY

Griffin said he would study the Senate bill to see if it contained revisions which would bring it close to the bill he sponsored previously.

The Hart-McNamara bill would apply to about 51,000 acres in the dunes bordering Lake Michigan and would include South Manitou Island. Hart's original proposal was for a 77,000-acre park.

MINOR CHANGES

The new bill makes only two minor changes in the bill passed by the Senate Dec. 22, 1963.

One would eliminate a 420-acre strip of shoreline west of the town of Empire. This strip, 1 1/2 miles long, was not included in Hart's original proposal, which called for a total of 32 miles of mainland shoreline. It was included, however, when it passed the Senate.

The effect of this is that it would divide the park into two sections, broken by the 1 1/2 mile strip. It is Hart's view that the area near Empire is more developed and it should not be in the park.

The other change makes a precise description of the route of the scenic highway along the highlands to the east of the proposed park. This highway was authorized in the Senate-passed bill but the right-of-way was not clearly defined.

Merry Chase for State Man

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — A Fort Campbell, Ky., soldier led Nashville Police officers on a merry chase yesterday, dodging 14 patrol cars all over town at high speeds.

But police caught up with Roger Allen Duke, 21, of Ypsilanti — in the backyard of the home of Police Chief Hubert Kemp.

After 20 officers in patrol cars converged on Duke at a parking lot, Duke leaped into a creek and splashed his way up to the back yard of the police chief.

Kemp, aroused from his bed by gunfire, rushed into the back yard in time to witness the capture.

Woodrow Wilson served as governor of New Jersey from 1911-13 before becoming President.

WALLACE E. EARL

Officers Picked by Musicians

Wallace E. Earl, 3300 Anders, was reelected to his third one-year term yesterday as president of Pontiac Local 794, American Federation of Musicians. Officers reelected were C. Neil Kimler of 5154 Elkton Commerce Township, vice president, and Peter G. Flare, 341 Elizabeth Lake, secretary-treasurer.

Named to the executive board in the election were William A. Killian, Robert Lawson, Emil Sutt and Charles Lundgren.

3 Youngsters Are Linked to Break-Ins

A Waterford Township inn was broken into early Saturday, and an estimated $200 worth of beer, liquor and other merchandise stolen.

Around noon Saturday, three juveniles were picked up by police at 1845 LaDue, Waterford Township.

Police said the youngsters apparently broke into the Pontiac Lake Inn, 7850 M59, Waterford Township, sometime after 3 a.m. Saturday and then staged a party, breaking into the home on LaDue.

An estimated $200 to $300 damage was done to the home, owned by James O'Brien of Detroit, according to police.

Township officers said a second summer home at 1825 LaDue, owned by James Horvath of Grosse Pointe, was also broken into. No damage was done, however.

Entry to the inn was made by breaking a rear window, police said. A vending machine was also busted open and rifled.

An adult suspect is also being questioned, police said.

Had Neck Stuck Out on Road Regulations

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (UPI) — California highway patrolmen ticketed truck driver Eugene Goebel for carting a load over the legal height limit of 13 feet 6 inches on a freeway.

Goebel's truck was transporting two giraffes to a zoo.

Exec's Widow Dies

ROME (AP) — Mrs. Roy W. Howard, 81, widow of Roy Howard, former Scripps-Howard newspaper executive, died Saturday of a heart attack. She had been living in Rome since the death of her husband last November.

He Put Heart Into Robbery

A young man walked into Adams Pharmacy in Birmingham last night, selected $4 worth of Valentine cards and paid for them.

Then he pulled out a 38-caliber revolver and robbed owner Walter Adams of more than $600.

The romantic robber was assisted by another man who had been reading magazines during the Valentine transaction, police said. Both carried revolvers.

Adams was ordered to open the safe, cash registers and cash drawer. He, pharmacist Edward Gremick and clerk Lillian Sheppard were then bound with clothesline.

The two holdup men had entered the store, 1955 S. Woodward, shortly before its 10 p.m. closing time.

Adams and his two employees freed themselves and called police at 10:13 p.m., only minutes after the robbers had made their getaway out the back door with their loot and the Valentines.

Seidel told Bild Zeitung he found no evidence of claims that Hess is mentally ill.

MEMORY FINE

"His memory functions superbly," the lawyer said.

Hess is one of only three top ex-Nazis held in the fortress-like prison, guarded in rotation by U. S., British, French and Soviet troops. The others are Baldur von Schirach, 57, former Reich youth leader, and Albert Speer, 59, Nazi armaments chief. Their 30-year terms are up next year.

Seidel told the paper that he does not believe the four World War II Allies would keep him the only prisoner once the other two have been released.

January Dip in Road Toll

EAST LANSING (AP) — State police report Michigan is off to an encouraging start in the campaign to cut down on highway fatalities.

The 136 deaths in January were 34, or 20 per cent, less than the 170 the same month last year.

This was the third month in a row showing a reduction compared with the corresponding month a year earlier. There also was a decrease of 19 deaths in November and 12 in December.

The highest January death toll was 189 in 1937 and the low was 59 in 1942.

Michigan finished 1964 with a provisional death toll of 2,096 but delayed death reports now have raised the figure to 2,121.

Jailed Nazi Said Having Will Prepared

BERLIN (AP) — Rudolf Hess, now 70 and serving a life prison term, is having an attorney draw up a will, the paper Bild Zeitung reported today.

Attorney Alfred Seidel was Hess's first visitor since he was sentenced in 1946 by the Nuremberg war crimes tribunal. He was convicted of committing war crimes while serving as a deputy for Adolf Hitler. But Hess had fallen into disfavor with the Nazis when he flew to Britain in a fighter plane in 1941 saying he wanted to arrange a peace treaty.

Hess has refused to have visitors to the Spandau war crimes prison — even his own wife and son.

Won't Move TB Patients to Osteopathic Hospital

Oakland County's tuberculosis patients will not be moved to Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital, it was decided Friday by a special committee charged with the responsibility of relocating some 100 patients in the recently sold County TB Sanatorium.

Dr. Bernard D. Berman, county health director and a member of the committee, and Dr. William F. Fidler, medical superintendent of the sanatorium, said the expense of remodeling and staffing the three floors available at the hospital would be prohibitive.

Osteopathic hospital officials had offered the facilities to house the patients, who must be relocated by April 1 when the Oakland Community College takes over the sanatorium.

After considerable discussion of the problem, the sanatorium decided the most desirable alternative at this time is the County Medical Care Facility.

Joseph Joachim, county engineer, was instructed to make a study of the infirmary to determine how much remodeling will have to be done to meet State Health Department requirements for TB patients.

If it is used, about 100 patients in the Medical Care Facility will be transferred to nursing homes in the county to make room for the TB patients.

The move will also require appointment of a seven-member board of institutions, which will replace the county welfare board and the TB sanatorium board of trustees as the administrative body for all county hospital facilities.

Adequate facilities in two Wayne County TB hospitals have been offered, but local officials hope to keep the patients in Oakland County if possible.

Opening lead—A2.

By OSWALD JACOBY

Every East player in the 1965 World Championship team trials had to enter the bidding at the five level or take the coward's course and pass. Some South players opened with four spades; others had opened with three and then JACOBY raised to four by their partners.

Eight East players took a deep breath and bid five hearts. The other one passed and wound up losing a well deserved 13 International Match Points.

Each West player managed to raise his partner to six and four were allowed to play that nice laydown contract. One actually was doubled by North which shows that experts make just as bad doubles as anyone else.

The North-South players who let six hearts play gambled that they would defeat that contract which actually did depend on a club finesse.

The hardest luck was that of the East-West pair who first reached six hearts through fine bidding, then found perfect defense to beat six spades four tricks only to wind up losing six IMPs anyway. The defense wasn't too difficult but it is worthy of note that two East-West pairs failed to find it.

The defense starts with West opening the nine of clubs. East cashed two club tricks and shifted to his singleton diamond. West took his ace and gave his partner a ruff whereupon East led a third club and thereby insured a trump trick for his partner.

TODAY'S QUESTION
Your partner continues with a bid of three hearts. What do you do now?
