Color Map Chronicles Sweep of Civil War

By PHILIP VAN DOREN STERN
NEA Writer

As the curtain rises on the centennial years, the battle map on Page 15 graphically shows the tremendous sweep and the scope of the American Civil War.

Hostilities began at 4:30 a.m., April 12, 1861, when Confederate batteries in Charleston Harbor fired at Fort Sumter. They ended, for all practical purposes, on April 9, 1865, at Appomattox when Lee surrendered to Grant.

During those four years more than 600,000 men died (more than in any other American war), and hundreds of thousands were crippled for life.

The direct cost to the Northern states was about $3,400,000,000, to which must be added $8,200,000,000 paid for pensions, making a total of $11,600,000,000.

What the Confederate states spent is unknown, but it must have been many millions, for their currency and bonds became worthless at the end of the war.

Countless other millions were lost when factories, public buildings, homes and ships were destroyed. It seems likely that the Civil War cost America at least $20,000,000,000 — an enormous sum for those days.

It freed nearly four million slaves at a cost of $5,000 per slave. Lincoln had wanted to buy their freedom peacefully by money from a long-term Federal loan. He thought $400 per slave was a fair price.

The major strategic land movements included the four-year struggle to take Richmond; Lee's two invasions of the North; the capture of the Mississippi River, which cut the Confederacy in half; and the drive to Atlanta and the sea, which cut the remaining half in quarters.

The ships on the map indicate the blockade that finally prevented the Confederacy from getting essential supplies from abroad.

Sharp Protests of Lawmakers Spur Prexies

Council Hopes to End Bickering Over Money for Higher Education

EAST LANSING (AP)—Despite sharp protests from legislative leaders, presidents of Michigan's nine state colleges and universities agreed today to hire a $25,000-a-year mediator and fact finder.

Creation of the post by the Council of State College Presidents was designed to end open bickering over money for higher education, and head off a move by some legislators to establish a chancellor or super governing body for the nine schools.

The appointment had been slated for today. In face of objections from lawmakers, however, Dr. Edgar L. Harden, council chairman and president of Northern Michigan College, said the announcement would be made "at the earliest possible date."

A pending house vote on a $109,031,138 bill to finance higher education in 1960-61 also likely figured in the decision to delay the appointment.

"The council regards this as an administrative procedure clearly and fully within the responsibility and the jurisdiction of the cooperating institutions," the group said in a prepared statement.

"A waste," snapped Sen. Elmer R. Porter (R-Blissfield), chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee.

"This man will end up being a lobbyist, too, I'm sure of that," he said. "And I'll give you four dollars to doughnuts if you ever get the nine state schools to agree on anything by themselves."

To head off appointment of a college coordinator, the Senate

'Ben-Hur' Wins Oscar Derby ---Captures Record 11 Awards

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The 15-million-dollar movie "Ben-Hur," most costly in Hollywood history, reaped 11 Oscars Monday night. It was the greatest Academy Award triumph ever scored.

Only for screenplay—material from another medium — did the classic tale of Biblical times fail to win the award for which it was nominated. The Screenplay Oscar went to the British-made "Room at the Top."

That movie also won the top actress award for the French actress, Simone Signoret.

"Ben-Hur" was not nominated for any actress awards.

Charlton Heston, who portrayed the title role Ben-Hur, won the award for best actor.

Hugh Griffith, a Welshman who played an Arab Sheik in "Ben-Hur," was named best supporting actor.

"Ben-Hur" also won the award for best picture and best director for William Wyler, practically wrapping up the top awards.

The picture, often called the screen's first intimate spectacular, also won awards for best costume design in color; best sound; best film editing; best art direction, which included best set direction by Hugh Hunt, who did the same job on the original silent "Ben-Hur" in 1924; best color cinematography, and best musical scoring.

Shelley Winters, nominated for the third time, was named best supporting actress for her work in "The Diary of Anne Frank."

Backstage, while talking to newsmen, she said: "Who else is winning? As if I care."

"Ben-Hur," by winning 11 Oscars, beat "Gigi," also produced by MGM as the alltime Oscar record holder. "Gigi" won nine Oscars last year—every category for which it was nominated.

The failure of Ben-Hur to win best screenplay was not a surprise. A controversy involving director William Wyler, the Screen Writers Guild and British writer Christopher Fry colored the voting.

Probably the most applauded award of the evening went to Bob Hope, perennial master of ceremonies for the Oscar show, who received the Jean Hersholt humanitarian award, a special Oscar.

Hope said, "I have no writers to cover a situation like this. I can only thank you very much."

Good Election Turnouts in Area Yesterday

Although no records were broken, voter turnout was considered good in almost all Oakland County area elections yesterday.

Voters in 11 cities and the village of Wolverine Lake went to the polls to fill posts in local government and, in several cases to decide special issues.

The biggest upset of the day was achieved at Walled Lake where political newcomer Gene Schnelz won the justice of the peace office over incumbent Herman A. Roth and Councilman Marshall E. Taylor by an overwhelming majority.

Continuation of an eight-mill school operating tax was approved by voters in the Brandon School District.

For details on these and all other area election results, see page 12.

City's Annual Report in Saturday's Press

For the second straight year, the City of Pontiac is publishing its annual report via The Pontiac Press.

This year's report will appear as a special supplement in Saturday's edition.

It will be bigger and better by far than last year's, promised John A. Riley, Press advertising director, and Robert A. Stierer, assistant city manager, who have coordinated preparation.

Dedicated this year to Fisher Body Division's Pontiac plant, the report contains many features in addition to a complete review of the city's facts and figures, Riley said.

Write-In Plan for $976,220 Is Crushed

Balloting on Education Bill Due Tomorrow; County Hopes Dead

By MAX E. SIMON

LANSING—Michigan legislators last night crushed a last-ditch attempt by Oakland County representatives to get more money for hard-pressed Michigan State University Oakland.

In a voice vote, the House beat down a proposal by Rep. Lloyd L. Anderson (R-Waterford Township) to write into the higher education appropriations bill a $976,220 budget for MSUO.

Although the bill will not be voted on until tomorrow, the county's lawmakers agreed that, for MSUO, it's all over but the shouting.

And, Anderson said, there won't even be much of that. "It's useless—it's apparent how the House will vote," he said.

The Legislature does not appropriate money for MSUO. The fledgling institution's budget is included in the legislative appropriation for Michigan State University.

The MSU Board of Trustees, governing body of both institutions, decides how to split the cash between the two schools.

Legislators estimate that MSUO will probably receive about $879,000 for next year's operations. The university had asked for $1,065,000.

Rep. S. James Clarkson (D-Southfield) voted against the attempt to hike the MSUO budget.

CLARKSON DISSENTS

"What's right is right," Clarkson said, as he split with the other five members of the Oakland group on MSUO's money problem.

"If MSUO needs more money, then it's within the province of the Claim Ann Arbor Tycoon Planned Death for Judge

ANN ARBOR (AP)—An Ann Arbor industrialist was arraigned today on an accusation of plotting to murder a circuit judge who granted his first wife a divorce and twice sent him to jail for failing to pay alimony.

Charles Baird, 51-year-old owner of the Ann Arbor Grinders Manufacturing Co., is alleged by state police to have paid a man now in prison "a very large sum of money" to have Judge James R. Breakey Jr. assasinated.

The wealthy manufacturer demanded examination at his arraignment. It was set for April 18 and bond at $15,000. Baird was arrested last night on a warrant charging "solicitation for murder."

State Police said Baird had just returned from Mexico City, where he had lived with his second wife since last November. They also said first information on the alleged plot came from FBI agents who had questioned the convict Baird allegedly tried to hire.

Baird was arrested last night following a two-month investigation by State Police, sheriff's deputies and Ann Arbor police. They said Baird paid a sum of

Mendoza Gets Prison Term

Orion Twp. Youth, 17, Sent to Jackson for Newton Holdup

A 17-year-old Orion Township youth will join his tutor in crime behind Jackson Prison bars after futile efforts by his attorney yesterday to spare him this fate.

Theodore A. Mendoza, of 3031 Indianwood Rd., was sentenced to 2½ to 10 years by Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland for armed robbery. He pleaded guilty Feb. 16.

His plea came on the opening day of the trial of his buddy, Victor L. Hood, 25, a Pontiac ex-convict, and Carroll L. Lay, 17, also of Orion Township, for the holdup shooting last Nov. 30 of a young Highland Township gas station attendant.

Hood was sentenced to 30 years to life because he pumped a bullet into Frankie Dale Newton's back. Lay, who claimed he was only an innocent bystander, was acquitted by a jury.

Record Ballot Possible

Voters Swamp Wisconsin Polls

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Unusually heavy voting marked the start of the Wisconsin primary today, pointing to a possible record ballot in one of the nation's most important elections.

In some cities, the balloting was more than twice as big as usual during the first hours after the polls opened at 7 a.m. (CST).

Meanwhile, telephone campaigns were launched in a last-minute effort to bring still more votes to the columns of both Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts and Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota, the Democratic opponents in the presidential primary.

Battalions of workers in their headquarters around the state combed the lists of voters and telephoned urging people to come to the polls.

Light snow, whipped by strong winds, swept through Milwaukee but the weather was relatively warm. Elsewhere in Wisconsin, clear skies and medium temperature set the stage for an ideal election day.

At the polling places, election officials expressed surprise at the long lines that formed.

In one ward of Wauwatosa, a suburb of Milwaukee, 90 persons voted in the first hour after the polls opened as compared to 15 in a primary last month for local offices. In a nearby ward, the comparable figures ran 70 to 10.

At Chippewa Falls, in the northwest, officials reported the vote in the first hours was running exactly twice as big as it was in the presidential primary in 1956.

Similar reports came from Madison, the state capital. In one ward there, about 600 votes were cast by 8 a.m. (SCT).

Waukesha County—scene of a hot battle between Humphrey and Kennedy for labor union votes—reported a massive vote, well ahead of figures in previous elections.

There was no indication as to which of the principals might be benefitting from the king-size figures piling up in the early hours.

Republicans were hopeful that it might indicate success in their efforts to get out a huge "loyalty vote" for Vice President Richard M. Nixon. He ran unopposed in the GOP primary and did not campaign in Wisconsin.

Kennedy and Humphrey both rose early and went to strategic points in Milwaukee to make final appearances before the voters. They went to factory gates to shake hands with workmen and sent automobile cavalcades through the city, honking horns and playing campaign songs on portable public address systems.

Kennedy says today's election is make-or-break for him. "If I am beaten, I'm out," he told reporters.

Humphrey does not place the same importance on the election so far as his drive for the nomination is concerned. He said he would battle it out with Kennedy in other primaries, regardless of what happens today.

Old Man Winter to Linger Here for Awhile

Old Man Winter will linger a little longer in the Pontiac area with snow flurries hitting the area through today and the temperature remaining a cool 30 tonight.

Wednesday will see temperatures rising to a high of 53 and skies fair, the weatherman reports.

Winds northwest at 10-20 miles an hour this morning will become variable to southerly Wednesday.

Twenty-nine was the lowest recording in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. At 2 p.m. the thermometer reading was 35.

She's Miss Boys Club

TO REIGN IN '60—Five-year-old Denise Dushane of 76 N. Edith St. is the queen of 1,700 Pontiac boys. Denise was named Miss Boys Club of 1960 last night as the Pontiac Boys Club kicked off its observance of National Boys Club Week. With the queen is Cressy B. Larson, club director. She was sponsored in the annual contest by her seven-year-old brother, Lee. (See story on Page 2.)

Pontiac's 'Miss Boys Club' Crowned Before 500 Persons

Five-year-old Denise Dushane planted a kiss on the cheek of little Cindy Lee Carr and whispered admiringly, "Am I really going to take your place? You're pretty!"

Blonde, blue-eyed Denise had just been crowned Miss Boys Club of 1960 by four-year-old Cindy, last year's winner of Pontiac's most exciting beauty contest.

Close to 500 persons filled the gymnasium of the Pontiac Boys Club last night for the annual attraction, staged with all the pomp and pageantry of a Miss America beauty contest.

The misses who walked across the stage were as lovely as any crossing the Atlantic City Boardwalk.

The only difference was that the girls in the local contest were a bit younger—between the ages of 2 and 6.

Each of the 54 young ladies in the contest was sponsored by a youthful relative who belongs to the Boys Club.

'SHE WON IT'

When seven-year-old Dushane heard the judges announce his sister the winner, he grabbed the leg of a club staff worker and shouted: "She won it! She won it! She won it!"

He held the right number for Denise, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Dushane, 76 N. Edith St.

She was contestant No. 1.

Not all the brothers were as pleased with the outcome of the contest.

"I lost my bet," murmured eight-year-old Steve Hewitt, 105 S. Edith St.

He'd told his sister, Brenda, 5, she didn't have a chance. Brenda, however, was one of four ladies-in-waiting.

The judges' decision cost Steve an ice cream bar.

Three-year-old Carol Ann MacLaren, of 3119 Schoolhouse Dr., Waterford Township, shattered the judges' composure with a sly wink as she minced by to the tune of "Five-Foot-Two, Eyes of Blue."

Sponsored by her 14-year-old cousin, Dave Houts, 60 S. Eastway Dr., she also was a member of the queen's court.

The other two ladies-in-waiting —both beauties in their own right —were six-year-old Rachel Smith, 172 Russell St., sponsored by her brother, Danny, 7, and four-year-old Jo Ann Gibson, 57 N. Edith St., sponsored by her brother, Larry, 11.

Besides reigning as queen at all Boys Club events, Denise received a bridal doll as a prize. Members of her court received gold lockets.

The contest was the first event in a week-long observance of National Boys Club week. Tonight will be "Family Night."

Mrs. Philip E. Rowston was mistress of ceremonies and wives of the club's board of directors were judges.

They agreed that they were judging the "loveliest girls in the world."

No Easter Togs: Negro War Cry

Say Millions of Dollars in Business Is Lost During Boycott

By The Associated Press

A new battlecry, "No fashions for Easter," has been sounded in the fight by Negroes for equal treatment in Southern business establishments.

Dr. Vivian Henderson, an economics professor at Fisk University, Nashville, Tenn., urged more than 500 Negroes at a meeting in Nashville to continue boycotting downtown business firms, even to the point of passing up Easter finery.

The boycotts were begun two weeks ago in support of efforts to end racial segregation at lunch counters. Henderson said, "Millions of dollars are being lost by the city of Nashville over a 25-cent hamburger."

In Memphis, Tenn., a two-week truce was broken when eight Negro students were arrested Monday at public libraries restricted to white persons.

Two Negro ministers and 10 students drew fines of $100 and 180 days in jail each after being convicted in Birmingham, Ala., Monday night on charges resulting from sit-in demonstrations.

All 12 of those convicted said they would appeal.

tacked an amendment on the higher education bill declaring the Legislature's intention that "no position of chancellor or coordinator of higher education be established."

The House changed it to read "... be created except by the Legislature." Last night it turned down a proposal by Rep. Charles A. Boyer (R-Manistee) to allow college presidents to name a coordinator.

"We should let them get the facts and figures they're looking for," said Boyer, chairman of a legislative study committee on higher education. "That's a whale of a lot better than coercing them."

Rep. James F. Warner (R-Ypsilanti) called for appointment of a research expert "employed by the Legislature and responsible only to the Legislature."

"He must be hired by an agency outside the colleges to be effective," he said.

If the Legislature continues to object, Harden said, the proposed $60,000 annual budget for the researcher and his staff might be drawn from private funds.

Land fighting, too, ranged beyond the area shown on the map.

There were battles in New Mexico, Arizona and California, an Indian uprising in Minnesota, an invasion of Vermont from Canada, and clashes at arms in all the Territories of the West. More than 10,000 engagements, major and minor, took place.

Men died not only in the big battles; 1,861 were killed, wounded or missing in the fight at Olustee, Fla.; 164 in the raid on Lawrence, Kan.; 142 at Glorietta, N.M.

No one knows how many perished in the bloody draft riots that swept New York City in July 1863. More than a thousand civilians and soldiers may have been killed then.

Union records and statistics are fairly good; Confederate are not because many of them were lost or destroyed. More than three million men took part in the war, and more were killed by disease than in battle.

The bullet was the most dangerous weapon, responsible for 94 per cent of all the wounds.

Only 5½ per cent were caused by cannon, grenades, or land mines. Surprisingly enough, cutting or stabbing weapons like bayonets, knives or swords inflicted only one-half of one per cent of the wounds.

When the war began, the regular U. S. Army of fewer than 16,000 men had 114 surgeons; of these, 16 left to join the Confederates. More surgeons came with the new volunteer regiments, North and South.

Antisepsis was still unheard of so a doctor would pass from one wounded man to another with bloody, unwashed hands, unknowingly spreading disease and death.

Field amputations were common, with ether or chloroform used as anesthetics—when available.

A wounded man had a better chance for survival if he was cared for in a private home or open-air tent hospital than if he was put into a hospital building where infection sometimes raged through the wards.

Yet despite all the horrors of such a war, the conflict went on year after year with neither side willing to quit.

But the common soldier—the man who had to do the actual fighting—seldom bore grudges and fraternizing with the enemy was widespread as tobacco, newspapers, and even food were passed between the lines.

At the beginning, it was felt shameful to take cover, so thousands died in picturesque but murderous open-field charges. The men—and their officers—gradually learned.

At the end of the war, during the long siege of Petersburg and Richmond, earthworks had become so extensive that the fighting settled down to a stalemate foreshadowing that of the even more heavily entrenched World War I.

The Civil War saw the use of such novelties as brass cartridges, successful repeating weapons—even including primitive machine guns—ironclad warships, crude submarines, underwater torpedoes (exploded electrically and by contact), aerial observation, field telegraphs and armored railroad cars.

In 1890, the Pension Office predicted that the last Union veteran would be dead by 1945.

This actuarial guess was wrong by 11 years, for Albert Woolson, the last Union survivor, did not die until 1956. And he was outlived by three Confederates.

When Walter Williams, the last of them, died in Houston, Tex., on Dec. 19, 1959, the Civil War was really over.

The President issued this formal statement:

"The chief actors in that great and tragic drama have all passed from the world stage. No longer are they the Blue and Gray. All rest together as Americans in honored glory."

To the men of those great and now vanished armies, at last reunited in Valhalla, a hero's toast: Skoal!

Drives Scooter Without License; Pays $100 Fine

A Pontiac man who lost his wife and five children in a Mount Clemens fire last summer, paid a $100 fine Monday for driving a motor scooter on a revoked license.

Robert F. Langlois, 28, of 101 Mechanic St., was convicted on the same charge three months ago and sentenced to 90 days in jail, but was then released two days later and placed on probation.

Langlois pleaded guilty to the charge Monday before Mount Clemens Municipal Court Judge Malcolm E. Trombley who fined him $100 or 15 days in Macomb County Jail.

He paid the fine late yesterday and was released.

Langlois and one daughter, Deborah, 8, were the only ones surviving the fire at their home last year.

He has since moved to Pontiac.

Farmington Man to Run for House

James M. Mc Neely, Dem Teacher, Seeks District 3 State Seat

Jumping into what probably will be the only incumbent-free legislative district race in Oakland County this year is James M. McNeely, a teacher in the Farmington public school system.

Mc Neely, 29, announced today he would seek the Democratic nomination in the Aug. 2 primary for the District 3 seat in the State House of Representatives.

Incumbent Rep. Farrell E. Roberts, Republican, threw the race wide open when he announced he wouldn't seek re-election.

TEACHER IN FARMINGTON

Born in Detroit, Mc Neely has spent six years teaching in Farmington. After five years in "two Farmington elementary schools, he is today teacher in a special program for boys.

He attended St. Norbert High School in West DePere, Wis., and received his bachelor's degree from St. Norbert College in 1955.

In June of this year, Mc Neely expects to earn his master's degree in psychology from Wayne State University.

He lives with his wife Marialyce and their three small children at 1066 Prince Rd., Milford.

Mc Neely's war career includes service as an infantry sergeant in Korea for a year.

His many affiliations include the American Federation of Teachers, Michigan Federation of Teachers and National Education Assn. He is a former regional executive secretary of the Michigan Education Assn., and is affiliated with the Farmington Education Assn.

Mc Neely said the most important issue in the coming campaign will be "the irresponsible conduct of the Republican Legislature and the need for expanded state concern for local units of government and local school districts."

Bond Hearing Again Postponed Until April 19

Pontiac's hearing before the Municipal Finance Commission on a $500,000 school bond issue was postponed for the second time today.

Originally scheduled for March 22, the hearing on the Commission's rejection of the bond issue was postponed until today and again until April 19.

Commission Executive Secretary Edward B. Mikrut said the issue would become a test case on which the Supreme Court would be asked to rule as to the limits school districts may legally borrow without voter approval.

The Board of Education seeks to establish whether school districts come under a constitutional provision that prohibits borrowing against anticipated taxes in excess of 15 mills on each dollar of assessed valuation without voter approval.

Minnie Won't Be There as Votes Are Recorded

Come Aug. 3 things just won't be the same when the Oakland County Board of Canvassers convenes.

Someone else will be picking up the fine-pointed pen to carefully inscribe—as Minnie did with such great pride—thousands of figures in the ledgers of the 1960 primary election held the day before.

Mrs. William Sherwood, affectionately known by her many friends as Minnie, won't be reporting in at the required 11 a.m. time.

She died Saturday night as the result of an auto accident in Pontiac.

It was death, too, that placed Minnie Sherwood on the three-member Board of Canvassers back in 1944. Former member David Dernberger died suddenly eight days before the general November election that year.

The Board of Supervisors had to act fast. Already scheduled to meet the day after Dernberger's death, supervisors looked to the Register of Deeds Office for a replacement.

They selected Mrs. Sherwood who had worked in that office for 19 years.

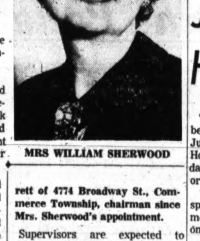
Mrs. Sherwood, 64, of 2165 Oxley Dr., Waterford Township, served as secretary on the Board up until her death. She was known for her exquisite penmanship.

"I feel a great grief about her loss," said Mrs. Sarah F. Garrett of 4774 Broadway St., Commerce Township, chairman since Mrs. Sherwood's appointment.



MRS WILLIAM SHERWOOD

Supervisors are expected to name a successor April 12.

The third member of the Board, Carlos G. Richardson, said, "a good citizen and a fine friend has left us."

Mrs. Mabel M. Child, county election clerk, said, "She kept her books so beautiful," she said "Minnie was such a wonderful person to work with . . . a grand person."

Mrs. Sherwood's body is at the Donelson-Johns Funeral Home.

Rights Measure Shaping Up; Ike Is Satisfied

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican congressional leaders said today President Eisenhower is satisfied with the civil rights bill passed by the House and the measure shaping up in the Senate.

The statement was made at a White House news conference by Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, the Senate GOP leader, and Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana, House Republican leader. They had just had their regular weekly meeting with Eisenhower.

"running into four figures" to Kenneth Stratton to murder Judge Breakey.

Stratton, 32, of Ypsilanti, is now in federal prison in Milan following his conviction on a charge of transporting forged securities across the state lines. Police said Baird made the offer to Stratton some time between August and November last year.

Baird, who was divorced from his wife, Joan, in 1953, has served two short sentences in county jail on contempt of court charges resulting from his failure to pay alimony.

Judge Breakey, who sentenced Baird on both occasions, had no comment concerning the alleged plot on his life.

Washtenaw County Prosecutor William F. Ager said the judge has been under police protection ever since the murder plot was uncovered about eight weeks ago.

French President in London to Visit Queen Elizabeth

LONDON (AP) — French President Charles de Gaulle arrived by jetliner today for a three-day state visit to Queen Elizabeth II.

Making his first visit to Britain since the island nation gave him haven in World War II, the soldier-president also will talk with Prime Minister Harold Macmillan about the economic split in Western Europe and issues that will be discussed at the East-West summit conference next month.

Nicaragua Plane Lands on Mountain

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (AP) — A Nicaragua airlines passenger plane made a forced landing on a mountain side today after an engine failed shortly after takeoff from the Siuna Airport.

All 18 passengers and 4 crew members aboard were reported alive. There was no report if any were injured.

Siuna is a mining center 150 miles northeast of Managua. The plane belongs to the Lanica Airlines.

BULLETIN

Troy City officials were red-faced today after belatedly discovering that the $125,000 bond issue for a new department of public works building failed to pass rather than carry in yesterday's election.

The vote was 1,258 to 979. This is a simple majority.

The officials found that under a home rule charter a three-fifths majority is needed to pass the issue.

This means that the proposal failed to gain voter approval by 85 votes.

The mistake was found by the Troy City manager, attorney and clerk.

Board of Trustees to grant it," he declared.

"Obviously the Board didn't see fit to give MSUO more money. Why else would the school be coming here—hat in hand?"

Clarkston said it was "wrong" that MSU didn't have to account for how it spent funds after receiving its appropriation from the Legislature.

"And it's wrong that MSUO has to do what it's doing. But two wrongs don't make a right," he asserted.

He was the only representative from the county who didn't argue MSUO's case last week before the House Ways and Means committee hearings.

MSUO Chancellor D. B. Varner said he was "not surprised" by the House action.

"We shall move forward with courage and conviction—but no dollars," he quipped.

With only $879,000, Varner said, MSUO will be able to hold only 700-800 of 1,200 qualified students.

The limited budget will also impair the planned expansion of MSUO's faculty, he added.

"But if that's the way it has to be, that's it," he said.

In his plea for more MSUO funds, Anderson admitted that the cost of educating students there was high.

"But go look at other universities when they started out," he told legislators. "Their costs were high, too."

Anderson pointed out that only four students at MSUO are from out of state, while at some universities one of four is not from Michigan.

He also said that the average cost of educating a student at the University of Michigan ($1,333) and MSU ($1,078) was higher than the cost at MSUO.

"Our $965 per student stands up favorably."

Anderson's argument was attacked by four Ways and Means Committee members.

"I just can't understand this pressure to increase the MSUO appropriations—and I'd like to know where it's coming from. That school is getting more than it needs," said Rep. James F. Warner (R-Ypsilanti).

Rep. Carroll S. Newton (R-Delton) said the comparison of per pupil costs at U. of M. and MSUO was "poor."

"Anderson is unrealistic," he charged.

Rep. Arnell Engstrom (R-Traverse City), chairman of the committee, said that the Legislature should not take the power to distribute funds from the MSU Board of Trustees.

"They (the trustees) govern the universities, and should decide how to split the money," he said. "If they want to give 10 million dollars to MSUO, it's okay with me."

The fourth Ways and Means Committee member, Rep. Harry J. Phillips (R-Port Huron) said he could "curl everyone's hair" as far as MSUO was concerned.

"But I won't do it," he added.

Anderson said that MSU President John A. Hannah couldn't ask the Board of Trustees to give MSUO a bigger share of the MSU allocation.

"Everyone here knows what a cry his faculty would put up," Anderson said.

The House vote was another in a series of setbacks for MSUO in the Legislature. The Senate voted almost unanimously against increasing funds for MSUO, despite a vigorous floor fight by Sen. L. Harvey Lodge (R-Waterford Township).

"I knew I was going to have my skin peeled," Anderson said, after the debate.

He will again seek to amend the bill before the House votes tomorrow, but it will only be "for the record."

"There's no use arguing — their minds are fixed," he said resignedly.

4 Incumbents Re-Elected to City Commission

BIRMINGHAM — Four incumbents were re-elected to the City Commission and four proposals were approved by voters here in yesterday's general election.

Also re-elected were two members of the Library Board and the constable. Another Library Board member was also named.

Only 19 per cent, or 2,418, of the 13,030 registered voters turned out at the polls.

Renamed to the City Commission for three-year terms were Mrs. Florence Willett, 1,797; William E. Roberts, 1,427; and William H. Burgum, 1,301.

Failing in their bids for the three-year terms were Robert B. Aikens, 931, and Ralph A. Mains, 1,164.

Incumbent Commissioner Lance Minor defeated Claude Kidd in his bid for the one-year Commission vacancy, 1,530 to 719.

Mrs. Katherine Smith and James Tobin were both re-elected to the Library Board for three-year terms.

Mrs. Smith polled 1,737 votes and Tobin, 1,311. Their opposition, Arthur J. Underwood, carried 1,071 votes.

Unopposed to fill a two year vacancy on the Library Board, Mrs. Carlyn Ashley Vogt received 2,041 votes.

Constable Jack Balsley, who was unopposed, polled 1,915 votes.

All four proposals won by a wide margin.

Proposition I seeking approval for the sale of city-owned land was approved 1,720 to 387.

The other three propositions were charter amendments.

The first amendment proposed that the position of constable be made appointive rather than elective. It was approved 1,632 to 528.

Approval was given 2,093 to 139 to the second charter change that will make all elective offices subject to a two-year residence requirement.

The third amendment carried 2,011 to 176. The amendment will make it clear that all appointments to fill vacancies on the Library Board will not be made by the City Commission.

In the Bloomfield Hills general election yesterday, only 72 voters turned out to rename two City Commissioners and a constable. There was no opposition for the three posts.

4-Year Period Out, Says West

Allies Reject Nikita's Disarmament Plan as Totally Unacceptable

GENEVA (AP)—The Western powers today rejected Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's plan for total world disarmament within a four-year period as unacceptable in any form and under any circumstances.

French delegate Jules Moch delivered the Western rejection at the 10-nation disarmament conference on behalf of the United States, Britain, France, Italy and Canada.

"We cannot accept as a basis for discussion the Soviet plan or any text resembling it," Moch told the deadlocked, three-week conference.

Th plan was first outlined to the U. N. General Assembly by Khrushchev last September.

Moch said the conference has lost too much time in "academic debates which can lead to nothing." The time has come to speak clearly about the Khrushchev plan so as to leave no possible doubt in the minds of the Soviet bloc delegations, he declared.

He listed seven reasons why the Soviet plan was completely unacceptable and called on Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian Zorin to abandon the "sterile debate" on the rival plans and instead discuss partial disarmament measures on which there was some chance of agreement.

Tigers Ax GM Title; Ferrell DeWitt's Aide

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—President Bill DeWitt took over the job of general manager of the Detroit Tigers today and named former General Manager Rick Ferrell his special assistant.

Ferrell, Tiger general manager since the opening of the 1959 season, will head the player personnel department.

DeWitt said the specific title of general manager will be dropped.

Since DeWitt took over as president of the club last fall, he has made all the major decisions and handled all player trade discussions. Ferrell handled the contract signings.

"Sometimes it gets a little embarrassing for Rick to have the title of general manager," DeWitt said. "The general manager usually is a fellow who has charge of the entire operation. Rick doesn't particularly care for office work and paper work.

"This will give him more time in the playing end of the business. The move is welcomed by Rick and will give us a broader operation at the executive level."

Ex-Union Agent Fined for Bribe

Morrie Sherman, 50, Posts Bond Pending Request for New Trial

A former boxing referee and union business agent was fined $500 and assessed $500 court costs by Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland for bribery yesterday.

Morrie Sherman, 50, of 17592 San Juan St., Detroit, didn't pay his fine or court costs. Instead, he posted $500 to increase a previous bond to $1,000 pending a request for a new trial.

This is only preliminary, however, to an appeal of his March 27 conviction to the State Supreme Court.

Judge Holland found Sherman guilty of accepting $50 from a former Oak Park restaurant owner last summer. He received the money, the prosecution claimed, promising the owner his place of business wouldn't be organized by the union.

Sherman, a former state welterweight champion, was agent for Local 705 of the Hotel and Restaurant Employes and Bartenders Union, AFL-CIO, in Detroit. An agent for five years, he was suspended upon his arrest.

He also lost his job as referee.

His attorney said prior to sentencing "this in itself is a form of punishment—and a severe form of punishment."

Business Off at Register of Deeds Office

Business in the Oakland County Register of Deeds Office fell off last month—to the tune of $2,040—as compared to the same time in 1959.

Register Daniel T. Murphy Jr. announced in a monthly summary that last month receipts totaling $17,620 came in from recording 12,573 papers. For the same period last year there were 13,639 papers with $19,660 receipts filed in the office, Murphy said.

The biggest contributor of receipts—deeds and mortgages—declined over the 12-month span causing the decline in total intake.

There were 2,513 deeds and 1,280 mortgages filed last year for 8,577, while last month but 2,289 deeds and 913 mortgages for $6,889 were recorded.

Chattel mortages, however, showed a slight increase. There were 6,733 such mortgages filed last month compared to 6,603 filed last year.

Murphy said there were five new plats recorded last month also.

Consumers Strike Settlement Nearer

JACKSON (AP)—The long Consumers Power Co. strike went into its 36th day today but there were signs of a possible settlement in the negotiations.

Company and striking Utility Workers Union officials were scheduled to meet today.

A mediator has reported the company and union are close together on all issues and optimism exists that a settlement is near.

City Cautious on State Law Threatening More Taxes

Pontiac city officials today had an unimpressed "wait and see" attitude towards a new tax bill headed for Gov. William's signature.

The bill, hardly publicized during its passage through the Legislature, has suddenly raised speculation in some quarters concerning its possible effect on the city taxpayer's pocketbook.

City Manager Walter K. Willman gave assurances, though, that the city administration plans to ask for no more in property tax collections this year than was approved by the City Commission in the annual appropriation ordinance adopted at budget time in January.

Of the new bill he said;

"It's a little academic, but we'll have to study it. It may require us to make some changes we hadn't planned. But I doubt that the changes would be more than academic — they probably would not have any effect on the taxpayer."

The bill was drawn up by Detroit bonding attorneys for the specific purpose of benefiting municipal interest rates.

It would have at least one effect, according to one interpretation: to increase the amount of actual cash a municipality can borrow through a reduction in the present debt ratios.

It would do this by specifying that municipal debt limitations are now based on state equalized valuations, not on the generally lower locally assessed valuations used as a basis for debt limitation in the past.

In Pontiac, for instance, the debt limitation is eight per cent of the assessed valuation, a figure presently between $22 and $23 million.

But the city is only in debt to the tune of $2,500,000 — for the hospital expansion — and could borrow a great deal more if it wanted to, even under the present limitation.

If the new law is adopted and lets the city borrow on the basis of its much higher state equalized valuation, naturally the amount of money it could borrow would rise considerably.

"But at the moment we're relatively free of debt and have a long ways to go before we have to worry about our capacity to borrow," said Willman.

The bill was urged by several Michigan cities that are not in Pontiac's enviable position as far as debt is concerned.

A cosponsor of the bill, Rep. George C. Steeh of Mt. Clemens said that East Detroit, for instance, needs help to raise its debt limitation in order to participate in a $25 million drainage project.

It is a side effect of the bill that has caused raised eyebrows, though.

NEW SYSTEM SEEN

According to several interpretations, municipal taxes would have to be levied from this time forward on state equalized values, not locally assessed values.

Three officials who reportedly share this opinion are Rep. Rollo G. Conlin of Tipton, House taxation chairman; Edward B. Mikrut, director of the Municipal Finance Commission; and Edward W. Kane, executive secretary of the State Tax Commission.

Willman said he was unaware of this interpretation and added that it has been his opinion up to now that the law would spell out only that cities have the option of levying on the higher state equalized values.

If, however, state equalized values are to be used by cities in spreading taxes from now on, it is generally agreed the door has been opened for much higher tax collections, unless cities elect to drop their tax rates.

The effect, if they didn't, would be a bigger burden on the individual taxpayer.

For instance, if Pontiac's tax rate remained at $13.27 for every $1,000 of valuation, the individual taxpayer would pay more if the valuation in question were the higher, state equalized valuation on his property than on the lower, city assessed valuation.

But this is "an academic" possibility, assured Willman.

"If we must use the higher valuation, then we'll lower the tax rate. We don't intend to bill the taxpayer for any more cash than we indicated in January."

The possibility was raised in Lansing that under the new law, officials in some Michigan cities, striking a pose of helplessness, might decide against a compensating cutback in the tax rate and blame the result—a steep increase in tax bills and an outcry from property owners—on "Lansing."

Not here, though, said Willman.

The manager pointed out that under a State Supreme Court opinion of 1954, the city could have been levying taxes on state equalized valuations for the past five years.

"But we haven't. We prefer to stick with our locally assessed values. And we object to state laws that restrict our local powers to determine our tax base."

It was pointed out that the bill would have no bearing at all on procedures followed by school districts and counties which now levy on state equalized valuations.

The Pontiac School District levies on state equalized valuations, and so does Oakland County, to all intents and purposes.

Wants to Stay on Wagon

'Dying' Behan to Hide

LONDON (AP) — Playwright Brendan Behan, the Irishman with a mighty thirst, is going to Paris to eat, write and drink Vichy water.

It's a move, said Behan as he padded round a ward in London's Middlesex Hospital, to get away from his hard-drinking friends.

"Sure it was too much drink that put me in here," he told a reporter. "But I feel fine now."

When he went into the hospital last week, the brilliant, rumbumptious Irishman was reportedly dying of drink and diabetes.

"Look at me," he bellowed. "I'm not dying. But I am on the wagon."

He dropped his voice to a confidential roar.

"My plan is to slip to a secret address in France. When they let me out next weekend, I'll go straight from here to a quiet suburb of Paris.

"Vichy water, that's what I'll drink. And I'll have lots of food. No one will know where I am, none of my drinking friends.

"I'll have peace and can finish the last two acts of my new play."

Easter Bunny Lateness Expected to Jump Sales

NEW YORK (AP)—Easter business is making a brisk comeback in most areas after being walloped by a seige of bad weather. In some areas, however, merchants find sales falling behind the 1959 season.

A warming spring brought buyers into stores at a rate which promises record volume.

However, in some cities storekeepers felt that the long-lasting winter had nipped the normal buying impulse and that sales would never reach last year's fine figures.

An Associated Press survey of 17 major cities indicated today that optimism is growing after a generally dismal outlook brought on by a plague of snow and ice.

One merchant in Detroit put it this way:

SAVED BY CALENDAR

Most business men said the calendar had rescued them from a debacle. With Easter falling on April 17, they had three later shopping weeks than last year.

Are buyers holding back because of recession fears or because of the stock market decline?

No, said most of the merchants surveyed. Weather was the villian.

In New York, Macy's reported sales spurted ahead of last year's record volume as spring weather arrived.

James F. O. Grady, manager of the 56-store Bergen Mall Shopping Center in Paramus, N. J., said:

"Most of our stores exceeded the 1959 Palm Saturday sales figure as early as March 19, a full three weeks before the date which is traditionally the top retail sales day of the Easter season."

A Cleveland department store executive predicted considerably better business than last year, adding:

"I'm starting to feel much more optimistic, especially when I can look out and see the sun melting a foot and a half of snow."

Chicago merchants are looking for a bigger volume than last year because of the late-falling Easter. "The first mild days, Easter business will pop with a big bang," said James O'Brien, manager of Carson Pirie Scott & Co.

In Atlanta, where early buying was knocked out by the worst ice storm in 74 years, merchants expressed confidence that sales may equal or slightly exceed 1959.

Denver stores found buyers ready to pay more for quality and prestige goods. As a result, they expect a record season.

An early lag in sales was encountered in Dallas but merchants now say they are optimistic.

Senator Byrd's New Plan Cuts Spending

HARRY F. BYRD, Democratic Senator from Virginia and one of the great American statesmen today, outlines his own beliefs on the nation's needs.

Senator Byrd has long stood as a champion of the American taxpayers in his unremitting battle against increasing costs and more Government expense. The free loaders and the free spenders of the nation are always conscious that the shadow of this great Virginian falls across their paths in their attempts to wheedle more out of the chap that foots the bills back home.

Senator BYRD favors these items:

1. Stopping expenditures in excess of income by eliminating non-essential spending;

2. Reducing the Federal debt; this would be a great deterrent to inflation for the present and lift some of the burden we are loading on generations of the future;

3. Watching and controlling Federal highway programs, to keep the interstate system from running wild at the expense of farm-to-market and other important State roads;

4. Conducting a constructive review of the Public Law 480 farm product export program; and

5. Curbing the excesses indulged in by labor leaders, without destroying the right of collective bargaining.

Senator Byrd pledged himself to pursuing this program "to the fullest extent of my capacity and energy."

Republicans and Democrats alike can cheer the Virginian.

Deep South Moderates Calling for Civil Rights

Thoughtful and important voices of the South are making themselves heard in the field of voting and other civil rights for Negroes.

GOV. LEROY COLLINS of Florida, who has made a record of moderation in racial matters, declared in a television interview that while a store owner may have the legal right to refuse to sell food to Negroes, "I still don't think he can square that right with moral, simple justice."

When Florida was arguing about desegregation in public schools, the Governor emphasized that the real issue was between public schools and no public schools. As a result that state managed to shun racial violence and extreme legislation. The State University now admits Negroes and a tentative start has been made in integration of a Miami school.

In a strong editorial the Florence (Ala.) Times tells its readers that it is useless for Southern politicians to appear in Washington against Federal action in civil rights "when they do nothing at home to correct the very abuses civil rights legislation is designed to correct."

The Federal Government, adds the Times, will do "whatever it wills to do to end these abuses regardless of the opposition offered by the deep South's handful of Senators . . . We are destroying ourselves by defending practices against which there is no defense in any decent democratic society."

It's a welcome sign of progress when voices such as these from the Deep South itself, are stirring the conscience of its people.

The Man About Town

Suburban Sprawl

Offered as a Solution to Unbridled Cities' Growth

TV: An abbreviation of "Tis Vicious."

is Director, cites Pontiac as a new town planned under single ownership.

It tells of the good start of the Pontiac Company in its original plat in 1818, which laid the foundation around which our city has grown. It called for a business center, surrounded by a ring of residential and garden plots "of less than ten acres."

But today Pontiac, like many other cities is faced with the almost total loss of rural land surrounding it. However, modern transportation facilities and good roads make the "suburban sprawl" quite feasible.

Without doubt the federal census now under way will show its largest growth in areas that only a few years ago were regarded as rural. In former years the country people moved to town. Now the trend is reversed, the town people are moving to the country.

The removal of the old Oak Grove Sanatarium buildings in connection with Flint's growth has a local echo. Its medical director for many years was the late who went there from Pontiac where he had been superintendent of Pontiac State Hospital.

"As a consistent reader of five daily newspapers," phories

Abraham Fellows

of Rochester, "I was not surprised when The Pontiac Press was cited as the one with the best out-state news coverage."

There's a Pontiac area angle to the narrow escape of two Seventh Day Adventist ministers in the Saginaw flood the other day. One of them, the

Rev. Charles J. Danforth,

of Owosso, is a former Holly resident.

One Finds Out After the Honeymoon

David Lawrence Says:

You Can't Hide Nuclear Secrets

WASHINGTON—The next step in the game of "nuclear blackmail" seems to be approaching. Evidently Red China has been secretly aided by the Soviet Union in preparing for admission to the "nuclear club." The big question soon will be what price the free world is to be asked to pay to try to persuade Red China to accept limitations on the testing and developing of atomic weapons.

LAWRENCE

President Eisenhower in his press conference last week revealed that, in trying to get a ban on nuclear tests, the "driving force" among the free nations is an effort to prevent the "nuclear club" of nations from growing. It has been widely assumed that a similar motive actuates the Soviet Union.

A London dispatch on Monday, however, by the United Press International, quotes The Daily Mail as saying that Red China plans to explode her first atomic bomb in June or July of this year and that sliding in the preparations is Professor Bruno Pontecorvo, a British scientist who defected to Russia in 1950.

On Jan. 11 last, in a dispatch from Hong Kong, Robert P. Martin, a regional correspondent of U. S. News & World Report who speaks Chinese fluently, gave first details concerning Red China's plan to become a nuclear power. He wrote that the Soviet Union, while at first reluctant, began giving help to the Red Chinese in 1955 with gifts of various ingredients necessary to make the A-bomb. The Soviets signed an agreement with the Red Chinese for scientific and technical cooperation and announced they would furnish some experimental reactors.

The dispatch added:

"The Soviet Union has been the key factor in getting China started in nuclear physics. But the Chinese Communists got an unexpected shot in the arm when a number of highly trained and skilled Chinese physicists returned to Peiping from the United States after the Korean truce was signed.

"These young scientists, graduates of topnotch schools such as California Institute of Technology, the University of Chicago and Massachusetts Institute of Technology, were joined by half a dozen other Chinese who had received graduate training in Britain and West Germany. Some were immediately given jobs teaching in Red China's universities.

"The Chinese Communists have their own rocket-research program, headed by Dr. Chien Hsueh-shen, chairman of the All-China Automation Society. Dr. Chien was a professor at Massachusetts Institute of Technology and headed an American delegation of scientists that examined the German rocket program after World War II. Chien returned to China in 1953 from the U.S. and has just become a full member of the Communist Party. . . .

"On the basis of the evidence, the Chinese Reds are more interested in the psychological impact than in producing a usuable military weapon. For that reason, the Hong Kong experts say that the Chinese probably will not even wait to engineer a bomb. An explosive device set off in China and monitored throughout the world would be just as effective.

"In effect, the Chinese are believed to be pushing headlong toward nuclear power as one way of 'shooting' their way into international acceptance as a political and military force. The theory is that disarmament schemes and systems to control and limit nuclear tests lose their validity if any country with an atomic-weapon potential is ignored. No Western power could afford to disarm and leave an armed Red China still in the field."

There is no way to limit the "nuclear club," therefore, except by international agreement. Nations may agree to refrain from testing or production only after they have exacted from other nations a price for their forbearance.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Tonsillectomy Horrible —and Seldom Necessary

"As a nurse of 12 years' experience," writes a New York R. N., "I can testify that your one man campaign against the horror of tonsillectomy is doing much good.

DR. BRADY

"If parents could see this operation performed — the choking on blood clots, asphyxia from a throat crammed with instruments, the blood loss, the dusky, almost epileptic appearance of the child — they'd have a realistic comprehension of the gravity of the operation. No operative procedure I have seen is quite so gruesome or so tragic or so shockingly fatal as tonsillectomy.

Instantaneous tonsillotomy serves every purpose the major operation can serve, without risk to the child's life.

Let me say that in my judgment the atrocity called tonsillectomy is rarely justifiable. It is based on ignorance of pathology and the crude assumption that lymphoid, adenoid or round cell tissue (of which the tonsils are composed) is in itself harmful and hence should be removed by deep dissection of the throat.

In most instances more or less tonsil tissue remains in the throat after the most radical tonsillectomy — but the credulous layman doesn't know this, so the ever-ready operator continues making a federal case out of what should be a minor operation (instantaneous tonsillotomy).

The purpose of operating for enlarged (hypertrophic) tonsils is to relieve obstruction, nothing else. Tonsillotomy removes the obstructing portion of tonsil with a quick snip.

THE BONES CRUNCHED

When I was a medical student at the general hospital, a block distant from the medical school, they had a new surgical amphitheater, finished entirely in white tile, with rounded edges and corners, so that the whole place could be easily washed out daily.

Certain doings down in the well produced remarkable effects on visitors or freshmen in the upper tiers. For example, a surgeon operating for bow legs didn't like the osteotome, or implement, preferred to break the bent bones as you would break a stick. The crack or crunch of the fracture, audible throughout the theater, would cause freshmen and visitors to faint, to be caught by physicians or seniors in the bottom or front rows and carried out.

I feel as those freshmen or visitors did, when I see a newspaper picture of a family of unfortunate children who are about to undergo or have just undergone wholesale tonsillectomy by a doctor who no doubt gives the dumb parents a cash discount for permitting him to use their children in his ad.

Signed letters not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

'What Is Caliber of Such Teacher?'

Teacher tenure was initiated in 1937 when, during the depression, many teachers were pushed out of their jobs for petty reasons. In these days of a widely publicized teacher shortage, one wonders what caliber of teacher would have to demand job security under teacher tenure.

'Is It Any Wonder Tigers Lose?'

There you go. The team that won the pennant kicks in with enough cash and players to get a star first baseman, while the Tigers stumble along with the three worst first baseman ever assembled on one club in baseball history. The will to win simply isn't in the Tiger ownership.

'Let's Keep Liberals Out of Our Offices'

After hearing all those sugar coated speeches by so-called liberal Democrats in Detroit recently, I'm more thoroughly convinced we need to keep them out of office. This "liberalism" in recent years has gotten us into more trouble than we can ever expect to get out of, both nationally and internationally.

Ike has done a good job considering the mess that was left him. Let's keep our Ship of State in good hands by electing another Republican. We need businessmen to run our country, not a bunch of Santa Clauses.

I'm glad there are Christian people who'd like to know others who live alone. I'd like to help get a club started and would offer my home to people if need be. These people can only be good Christians and decent—no nasty stories or general obnoxiousness.

'We Sometimes Must Put Up Fight'

My heart goes out to the Billy Perryman baby who's been without milk for two weeks. However, they shouldn't be too hard on the Welfare Department. It's their duty to taxpayers to throughly investigate all cases, as the welfare load is becoming alarmingly heavy. If they find work is available, they can't provide for the family.

That plant is on strike to some degree, but many men were courageous enough not to let the union intimidate nor coerce them into staying out. They survived the hammers, bricks, bottles, etc. thrown through windshields, and the cars tipped over, and now they're able to work and care for their own families, instead of staying out to satisfy some petty union officer trying to usurp a little power and authority at the expense of their followers.

Since there's no "right to work" law in Michigan, it's sometimes necessary to put up a good fight for a chance to get in to work. Sometimes it's apparent workers' best interests haven't been at heart at all times by representatives and they should be encouraged to act accordingly.

'We Ride Free on Television'

An article appeared in The Press saying Goebel losses in sales are $1.6 million. This happened after those baseball broadcasts used to say it was selling so fast that if your dealer is out, it's only temporary, so keep asking. The same goes for gasoline and cigars. I try never to buy stuff claimed on TV to be better than Brand X. We always buy Brand X; therefore, we ride free on TV and don't help pay for costly broadcasts.

Tax Tips

INTERNAL REVENUE SAYS:

The cost and maintenance of work clothes are tax deductions if,

1. The occupation requires special apparel or equipment, and
2. They are not adaptable for general usage.

You must, however, use the Form 1040 or 1040-W and itemize deductions to claim such expenses.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

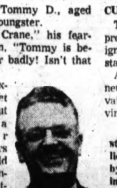
Stuttering Is Normal in Toddlers

Tommy has millions of toddlers in the same boat with him. Most of them will get over their stuttering, but thousands each year will simply "set" their normal toddler until it beomes a permanent bad habit. So study the antidotes below and send for that booklet. Mail it to all mothers of such youngsters.

By GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE E-426: Tommy D., aged 3, is an alert youngster.

"Oh, but Dr. Crane," his fearful mother began, "Tommy is beginning to stutter badly! Isn't that awful!



CRANE

"When he is excited, he can't get his words out right. I have a grown brother who still stutters terribly, so could Tommy have inherited his stuttering?

"And what can I do to help him? I scold him a lot and try to make him quit his stuttering for I can't bear to think of his suffering all the humiliation my brother has gone through."

STUTTER PSYCHOLOGY

Stuttering at the pre-school age is usually a natural phase. For such youngsters can understand far more words than they can utter.

When eager to give a quick account of some exciting episode, they thus can't find enough words available to keep up with their ideas.

This normal type of stuttering usually clears up of its own accord in a few years, for the child's speaking vocabulary expands rapidly by the time he reaches first grade.

But a neurotic mother who constantly yells, "No, no," or makes him stop and repeat the difficult word, may simply "set" that act of stuttering and thus make it a permanent thing.

Stuttering is NOT inherited, so his uncle's stuttering will not descend to the next generation.

However, the same neurotic home environment which started his uncle to stutter, may still persist and help cause Tommy to do likewise.

CURE STUTTERING

The best cure for stuttering is prevention. Vaccinate against it by ignoring this natural stuttering stage at the age of 3 to 5 years.

And don't maintain a tense, neurotic home atmosphere. Cultivate a happy, relaxed family environment.

Let laughter be common instead of fear and anxiety. Relieve your child's false notions by the practical data released in this column daily, plus the helpful booklets on sex problems of children.

Send for the non-profit booklets on "Personality Improvement," "How to Prevent Nervous Breakdowns," etc., and by all means maintain a constant "Compliment Club" in your own home.

Encourage your children to report on the three sincere compliments they have paid their neighbors or classmates each day. Daddy and Mother can do likewise.

Anxiety tends to vanish when you employ the "Compliment Club," so why don't more of you tense mothers take advantage of these surefire educational aids this newspaper offers you?

They are non-profit and it is far cheaper to spend 20c to vaccinate against mental ailments than to pay costly bills for sanitarium treatment!

STUTTER TRIANGLE

Stuttering is a very specific type of habit with these three points of the "stutter triangle."

(1) It starts while the victim is using conversational tones, with

(2) Human associates and

(3) Speaking in English here in the U.S.A.

Change any corner of that triangle and you help the stutterer free himself.

Let him vary (1) by pitching his voice higher or by singing or by imitating Charley McCarthy or by using dialect, and he will usually not stutter at all.

Vary (2), as by talking to dogs or horses or the waves (a la Demosthenes) or let him alter (3) and speak in Spanish or some other foreign tongue.

Send for my booklet on "How to Correct Stuttering," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents (non-profit).

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

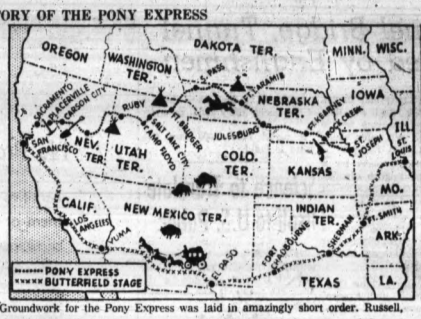
STORY OF THE PONY EXPRESS

By Don Oakley and Ralph Lane



Groundwork for the Pony Express was laid in amazingly short order. Russell, Majors and Waddell formed a new company with the ambitious name of Central Overland California and Pike's Peak Express. Its route was a long, dangerous 1,966 miles from St. Joseph to Sacramento — but still 800 miles shorter than Butterfield's southern route.

Russell gave his employes only 65 days to get ready. Existing stagecoach stations were utilized and new ones hastily built, to make a total of about 119 dotting the route. Every 75 to 100 miles was a "home station." Each rider was to cover the distance between two of these, changing horses every 10 to 15 miles at intermediate stations. Pay varied according to length and danger of the route.

Merely to establish the Pony Express required an outlay of $100,000 — for 500 of the best horses that could be bought, the hiring of 200 station tenders and 80 riders, and hay, grain and other materials for the stations.

A unique system for carrying the mail was devised. Over a small, light saddle a leather "mochila" was fitted. In each corner of the mochila was a padlocked "cantina," or box, for the mail. To change horses, a rider merely whipped off the mochila and threw it across a fresh mount. Thus one mochila made the entire trip.

Selecting riders was of the utmost importance. Not only had they to be superb horsemen, but fearless and able to endure severe hardship. The West was not lacking in them. The ideal age was set at 20, but boys much younger were later to ride. As a condition of employment, each took an oath against profanity, drink and cruelty to their animals. Each rider was given a Bible by Alexander Majors.

Kiwanis Working on Citizenship

Kiwanis Clubs in the Pontiac area are launching a new plan called "The CQ Program" designed to raise the community's citizenship level.

Local clubs plan to set up CQ committees to bring the "CQ story" to their fellow citizens.

The letters CQ stand for Citizenship Quotient, and Kiwanians throughout the nation are attempting to challenge each individual to appraise his personal CQ by means of a 20-question test.

"The program is not an effort by Kiwanis to rate either its members or its fellow citizens," according to Albert J. Tully, president Kiwanis International.

"Instead, it seeks to encourage them to rate themselves in keeping with the true concept of individual responsibility," he said.

HOW DO YOU RATE?

Local Kiwanians are circulating the "How doy you rate yourself?" CQ tests to their friends and fellow citizens.

The 20 questions are well chosen and honest answers to them prove very revealing in the individual's final score.

Each question is in the form of a statement for which there are three "reactions" given. You choose your own personal "reaction."

Several examples of the scope of the test are as follows:

My home is one of my prime concerns: 1. Yes. 2. Relatively so. 3. I am very busy with my job.

I let my representatives know my opinion on proposed legislation: 1. Yes. 2. Sometimes. 3. I have never contacted any representative.

I have voted at every election since I became eligible: 1. Yes. 2. Almost every one. 3. I vote when I can conveniently.

I understand what is meant by "free enterprise," and I can explain it to anyone uninformed: 1. Yes. 2. To some degree. 3. I am not very well informed.

How did you do?

Piggyback Refinery May Solve Problems

TULSA, Okla. (UPI) — A portable "Tom Thumb" refinery that can ride a truck piggyback may solve the problem of obtaining petroleum products for drilling operations in the jungle or desert the American Petroleum Institute says.

The miniature unit would process from 350 to 1,500 barrels of oil a day and require a crew of only two men per shift.

SAN FRANCISCO (UP) — Dr. Ross V. Taylor of Jackson, Mich., Sunday was named president-elect of the American Society of Internal Medicine.

In address to the society which is meeting here, Dr. Taylor predicted that medicine of the future would be practiced largely by groups of doctors representing the entire range of specialists. He said the volume of medical knowledge has become so great that segmentation is necessary. Group practice is a time saver and is something the public wants, Dr. Taylor said.

Cadillac

Where a Man is Never a Stranger!

Ever see this gentleman before?

We would guess that you haven't. And yet, we'll wager that you sense something familiar about him.

For the truth is—no man is ever wholly a stranger to those who behold him in the company of a new Cadillac car.

Dignified, impressive and substantial—it proclaims him a man of achievement. Beautiful and elegant—it announces him as a person of taste. Soundly built, economical, dependable—it indicates his practical wisdom.

To be sure, the honor which a Cadillac does its owner is the result of the honor which owners themselves have conferred on the car for almost six decades.

For those who choose Cadillac share these qualities to such a degree that they are expected of whomever sits at its wheel.

This unique reward of Cadillac ownership comes, of course, in addition to Cadillac's merits as a motor car—its brilliant performance and ride . . . its remarkable quietness in operation . . . and its miraculous comfort and ease of handling.

Why not visit your Cadillac dealer soon? He'll see to it that you're no longer a stranger to the 1960 "car of cars".

Boston Lawyer Named to ICC Post by Ike; Seconded Nixon Bid

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Ralph Yarborough (D-Tex) said today it's up to Timothy J. Murphy to prove he is a Democrat if he expects to fill a party vacancy on the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Murphy, a Boston lawyer and former national commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, was named to a Democratic vacancy on the ICC by President Eisenhower on March 14.

Since Murphy seconded the renomination of Vice President Richard M. Nixon at the Republican National Convention in 1956, some Democrats have raised a question whether he should represent their party on a bipartisan commission.

Murphy has contended he is a Democrat but he is reported to have voted Republican in 1956.

Yarborough, a member of the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee before which Murphy's nomination is pending, said he doesn't think "A man who votes for Republicans is a Democrat."

"These appointments of Eisenhower Democrats destroy the intent of the law that these commissions shall be bipartisan," Yarborough said.

MOVING ACCIDENT — This six-room house being moved down a hill in Vallejo, Calif., Sunday was just too heavy for a five-ton truck to bear. The house overran the truck, causing it to jackknife and upset. Driver Ronald Trost of Oakland was unhurt. The house tipped against a utility pole, severing telephone cables and power lines. Let's see, now. What provision of the insurance policy would cover an accident like this?

Channel Bridge, Tunnel Debated by Englishmen

LONDON (AP)—The insular British argued today over which way they would like most to cross the 20 miles of choppy salt water which separates them from Europe.

Over the weekend plans for a tunnel under the English Channel finally were sent to the government for some statement of policy.

Then another British-American-French group came out with a rival plan—for a 560-million-dollar bridge, the world's longest, highest and most expensive.

The tunnel experts claim they could link Britain and France for half as much as a bridge will cost.

The tunnel would have a two-way rail link with special rail cars to carry automobiles. No provision is made for autos to be driven through.

Promoters of the latest tunnel scheme are Richard Costain, representing British interests, Hyperion Constructors and Kaiser Engineers and Constructors, Inc., heading a list of U.S. concerns, and Enterprises Campenon Bernard, representing French contractors.

They claim the tunnel could be completed in about three years.

Sponsors of the bridge say it would have lanes for cycles, automobiles and trains, cross the channel at its narrowest point—a distance of 21 miles from near Dover to Sangatte, near Calais.

Behind the bridge project are the Compagnie Francaise d'Enterprises, Dorman Long of Britain and the American Merritt-Chapman and Scott Corp.

With approaches, the bridge would be 25 miles long. And with a height of 200 feet, ships the size of the Queen Mary could go under it.

It would take 5,000 men five years to build.

Science to Translate Itself to U.S. Public

NEW YORK (AP)—A major U.S. scientific organization is taking steps to translate science for the American public, it was announced Monday.

The American Assn. for the Advancement of Science is setting up an office "to move into all the modes of mass communication," said Dr. Warred Weaver, vice president of the Alfred P. Sloan foundation.

This office will "act as translator between scientists and the body of science in this country and the people," Dr. Weaver said.

He spoke at a new conference culminating a two day confab of scientists interested in bringing the facts about nuclear radiation before the U.S. public.

No longer, he said, could the scientists take an arrogant position of superiority with the public. Science, he said, is "a thing that belongs in all of life," and "Our social and intellectual and moral duty is to bring this information to the aid of society."

Gasoline itself, excluding taxes is about 4 cents cheaper a gallon than it was 40 years ago, according to the American Petroleum Institute.

Should Get Going Soon—One Way or the Other

Business Lolls in Grip of Spring Fever

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Business seems resting today on a plateau—perhaps the first victim of spring fever. That is a growing belief in financial and industrial circles.

It may stay there for a time while the economic forces pulling in opposite directions determine which will be the master.

One question mark will be settled in the coming two weeks. Easter merchandising will test the strength of consumer buying and especially of consumer confidence.

The excuses of the last few weeks will be missing. These are the lateness of Easter this year, the blizzards that delayed the arrival of spring and the floods in many areas that ushered it in. Aftermaths may be felt in hard-hit communities. But at least the merchants will know that the customers can get to the stores if they want to.

Auto dealers also will lose any alibi they may have had from the weather. The hoped-for spring surge in car buying either will or will not be evident in the next month or so. Along the same line will be farm buying. If farmers troop to dealers for machinery purchases that may have been deferred by bad weather, large areas of the nation will feel better.

Businessmen themselves will come to a firm decision along several lines. Presently they seem to be buying materials on a day-to-day basis. Inventory buildups have all but subsided. The steel industry has been the most publicized victim of this reversal.

Plans for expanding plants and modernizing present facilities are high—the government assures us cheerfully. Now, or very soon, these plans must take shape in definite corporate appropriations of needed funds and placing of material orders. As these occur the whole economy will be bolstered.

Decisions by both consumers and businessmen should have a quick reaction in stock and bond markets. Many observers think that both markets have by now pretty well finished their reactions to the first of the years signs and warnings that further inflation wasn't in the cards for the time being.

No Production Line—

Families calling us to assist them at the time of a death can expect sincere, honest and unhurried counseling in making final arrangements. We won't slight anything!

It Should Liven Him Up: Abby

Treat Husband Affectionately

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I gave my husband 10 children. I've been married 35 years and haven't been kissed in 25 years. I don't remember the last time my husband said, "I love you."

ABBY

I've had to beg for every cent he ever gave me. The only good thing I can say for him is he is a good earner and he doesn't chase. How do you get a husband to look at you once in a while when he's gotten out of the habit?

UNHAPPY WIFE

DEAR UNHAPPY: He's probably not "looking" at you because you aren't "looking" at him. Play up to him. Show him lots of affection. Dress up for him and make him feel that he is still young and attractive. Use a little come-on sense like you did a few years back. If this doesn't rouse him, cover him up. It's too late.

DEAR ABBY: What do you do with a guest who has had one too many and starts ruining the party by picking arguments with other guests? Two people I know (one man and one woman—not related) spoil every party they attend for this reason. We owe them invitations and I don't want them. My husband says everyone knows that certain people start an argument when they drink too much, and no one takes offense.

Should I just invite these people and let them insult my other guests and hope that those who are insulted "understand?" Don't tell me not to have anything to do with people like that because they are important business contacts for my husband.

TREMBLING HOSTESS

DEAR HOSTESS: The best solution is to invite them over (or out) to an "intimate" little dinner party with just you and them, and let them insult each other.

DEAR ABBY: Would you, or any of your readers, ever have the nerve to tell a couple, "You and your husband are welcome in our home — but don't bring your children until they grow up!"

That's what my husband told some friends of ours. This couple came over with their children (5, 7, and 9). Our own children are about the same ages as theirs, but they have been taught to obey us. The visiting children were told not to touch my sewing machine but they got into it anyway. They pulled every drawer out, turned the machine upside down and of course the machine was thrown out of order. That's when my husband laid down the law.

They all left in a huff and I feel terrible about it. Should I telephone and apologize?

MRS. D.

DEAR MRS. D.: Not unless you want Papa and Mama and the three little cyclones back again.

DEAR ABBY: What do you tell a child who was born six months after his parents were married, when he is old enough to start counting it up? Isn't there some little "white lie" that would sound convincing? I would like to hear from other parents who have had to face this problem. Has anyone come up with a foolproof solution?

JUMPED THE GUN

DEAR JUMPED: The most popular explanation is that the baby was "premature." Then, too, the parents can select a nice safe "wedding date" and celebrate it. Or they can predate their actual wedding date by one year and stick to it.

Bringing Up Baby

HINTS COLLECTED BY MRS. DAN GERBER, MOTHER OF 5

Expectant mothers are said to be the most beautiful ladies in the world. And why not? Pregnancy does inspire inner radiance but sometimes outer radiance needs a helping hand.

- Your complexion may take on a deeper coloring so make-up should be applied with a lighter touch.
- Hair may dry out. Faithful brushing and oil shampoos will help re-luster locks.

Once baby arrives, you'll be surprised at how soon your doctor will specify cereals. Gerber Cereal Quads are ideal for wee ones starting on solids. This handy, 4-in-1 package contains Rice Cereal, High Protein, Oatmeal and Mixed Cereal — in small-size boxes for pint-size appetites. Each one has its own bland but distinctive flavor — all four have a nice-on-the-tongue texture. (They stir to creamy-smooth perfection in seconds.) Nutritionally, all 4 are enriched with iron, B-vitamins and calcium.

If you've a toddler who's still on cereals you can get large-size packages for sharing.

Diaper do's. You'll save time if you fold a day's supply of diapers at one time. In a two-story house, you'll save steps if you keep a supply both upstairs and down.

Vitamin viewpoint. Vitamin C, so necessary for sound gums and body tissues, comes early on baby's dietary agenda. Gerber Strained Orange Juice, specially prepared for babies, provides more than enough of this vital vitamin in easy-to-digest form. Naturally, it's carefully pasteurized for baby's protection and finely strained for easy feeding via bottle, spoon or cup. Two other excellent starting juices: Gerber Strained Apple Juice and the new Orange-Apple — both enriched with vitamin C. Gerber Baby Foods, Fremont, Michigan.

Normal Care Sufficient

Wash Electric Blanket

AP Newsfeatures

Your electric blanket doesn't need pampering, but it requires the same careful handling as any fine blanket.

Don't be afraid to wash it. Like any good fabric, it'll last longer if kept clean.

Don't send it to a dry cleaner, advises a Chicago firm, for solvents may harm the insulating materials.

Send the blanket to a good commercial laundry or do it at home. In either case, detach the controls first.

FOLLOW DIRECTIONS

For an automatic washer, follow directions for any blanket washing. These usually call for warm water and a detergent.

In general, the blanket should be soaked 15 to 20 minutes before washing begins. Then put it through a short wash cycle of not more than a minute or two.

Two full rinses are recommended. Spin dry or squeeze out water by hand. These directions also apply for non-automatic washers.

If you wash the blanket by hand, use lukewarm water and plenty of mild suds. Slosh up and down for several minutes, never rubbing or twisting.

Rinse in lukewarm water at least three times. Never wring.

To dry, spread it over two parallel lines in the shade. Stretch to original size, squaring the corners while still damp. It will need no ironing.

PREHEAT DRYER

To machine dry, follow directions in the dryer booklet. These generally call for preheating the dryer at high temperatures with several turkish towels for 10 minutes.

Then the electric blanket is added and dried for no longer than 10 minutes. To complete drying, hang it over two lines.

You can restore the original finish by brushing up the nap with a soft brush.

Pay Own Room and Board Bill

By EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: A young man I have been dating steadily for six months has asked me if I would like to go away over the Memorial Day weekend to a dude ranch. There are five couples going.

He has already sent a deposit and the balance I presume would be paid when we arrive. He has told me the rates but said nothong of who will pay. Who does assume the expense of the entire weekend? The fates only include room and board.

There is an extra charge for the hiring of the horses. Who pays for this? Will you kindly advise me on how to handle this situation properly?

Answer: You should pay your own room and board which he seems to understand as he has told you how much this will amount to. You will avoid any possible embarrassment later if you discuss with him now how much money to take with you and just which, if any, of the extras you will be expected to pay for.

Dear Mrs. Post: Some months ago I went to a shower given for the daughter of a friend of mine. Since that time the engagement has been broken. I have been given to understand that she does not intend to return any of the presents she received. As I gave her quite a nice present, I should like to have it returned. Can you suggest some way I can accomplish this without hurting the feelings of my friend?

Answer: I am sorry, but there is nothing you can do if she herself hasn't the decency to return it. It just might be that she hasn't realized such presents should be returned, and in reading this, she will.

Dear Mrs. Post: To settle a serious argument, will you please tell me if it is considered dignified and in good taste for a woman who soon will have a baby, to appear at large social gatherings?

Answer: A woman who is obviously expecting a baby should avoid going to large social gatherings, unless there is some important reason for her to go to a special one.

Dear Mrs. Post: Several of the men and women with whom I work, are married. When addressing greeting cards to them is it proper to address them to Mr. or Mrs. alone as the case may be, or must they both be included, even though only one of them is known to me?

Answer: If sent to the office, they would be addressed only to the person you know. If sent to their houses, it would be more courteous to address the cards to Mr. and Mrs. even though one is a stranger to you.

Dear Mrs. Post: (1) Does an invitation to a cocktail party written on an "informal" require an answer even though no reply is requested? (2) Also, can such an invitation be answered by telephone when an answer is requested?

Answer: Unless R.s.v.p. is on the invitation it need not be answered. (2). Yes.

MRS. JOHN PAUL COMBS

Wed Saturday were Carol Ann Cooley, daughter of the Loyce William Cooleys of West Princeton avenue, and John Paul Combs, son of the Paul J. Combs of Drayton Plains.

Combs-Cooley Nuptials Solemnized Before 200

Reception at Knights of Pythias Hall followed Saturday nuptials of Carol Ann Cooley and John Paul Combs in Baldwin Avenue Methodist Church. The Rev. C. W. Wilson read the service in the presence of 200 guests.

White silk bombazine and chantilly lace fashioned the bouffant bridal gown which swirled into a chapel train. Alencon lace, re-embroidered with seed pearls and sequins, outlined the portrait neckline of the fitted bodice.

Attached to a bride's tiara of seed pearls and sequins was the fingertip veil of silk illusion. She held a semi-cascade of white carnations.

The Loyce William Cooleys of West Princeton avenue, parents of the bride, were hosts at the reception in Knights of Pythias Hall.

Sally Devar, maid of honor, appeared in a gold sheath dress with silk organza overskirt. She held a nosegay of talisman roses and white carnations.

Bridesmaids in emerald green sheaths with organza overskirts were Dolores Powell, Mrs. George Edward Stone, sister of the bride, and Mrs. Melkon Lektzian, all of Pontiac. They carried yellow roses and white carnations.

James Ronald Combs was best man for his brother and Richard Combs was an usher. They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Paul J. Combs of Drayton Plains. Also seating the guests were Thomas Ryan and George Edward Stone, brother-in-law of the bride.

A corsage of Talisman roses complemented Mrs. Cooley's dress of toast lace over beige satin. With her blue lace jacketed sheath, Mrs. Combs carried pink roses.

The newlyweds will live on West Hopkins street.

One smart skirt like this can be the making of a new summer wardrobe. Team it with tee-tops or casual shirts for a different look every day of the week. Choose linen, cotton, denim.

Members of the evening groups who served on the panel were Mrs. John Gibson, Mrs. Stephen Napier, Mrs. Allan Wagoner, Mrs. Raymond Bramwell, Mrs. George Beauchamp and Mrs. George Edwards. The theme was developed with audience participation.

Fashion Rules Announced

(UPI) — European ready-to-wear manufacturers have set some fashion rules for women who can't afford to shop at Dior's. The silhouette will be slightly elongated.

Skirt lengths will be 17 inches from the ground. The bustline will be fuller, and the waistline tighter. Tailored dresses will have simple, straight jackets and tight skirts; evening dresses will be short.

Mix Fun and Practice

Bored? Start a Music Club

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

It seems to me that so many folks pass up so many opportunities for fun because of lack of imagination, chronic fatigue, boredom, inertia and ruts they have dug for themselves.

A recent letter from a reader tells of a rewarding club which has been in existence for about 30 years. She writes:

"In your column I have just read of the woman who learned to play the chord organ at the age of 69 and joined a chord organ club. How nice of her husband to bear with her while learning! I used to be an excellent pianist 35 years ago. But when I sit down to play my husband almost always turns on the radio.

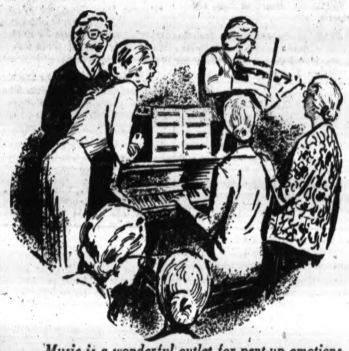
MUSIC CLUB

"But, I'm writing to ask you to tell your readers about a music club to which a friend of mine belongs. This friend lives in a different city.

It was organized by and for middle-aged women whose children were grown. These women had studied piano, organ, voice, violin or some musical instrument when they were younger but had never had enough instruction to use this as a source of income.

"All of them had quit their music in the process of rearing a family, and as no one asked them to play there was not much incentive to continue practice, so all had grown rusty. This club was started to provide these women with an incentive to renew their practice and play for each other. They studied various composers and their works.

"They have had many happy hours together and sometimes play for Rest Homes and similar places. Their ages now range from 45 years to 80 years."



Music is a wonderful outlet for pent-up emotions and for the strong urge toward self-expression we all have. Why not start a music club? It will afford wonderful companionship, too.

Schnelz Stages Upset at Walled Lake

Elections Click Smoothly in Most of Area

Voters went to the polls in good numbers yesterday to elect candidates for local government posts and decide several issues in 10 Oakland County cities, the City of Lapeer and Wolverine Lake Village.

Election officials reported voter turnout in most cases was excellent compared to previous years.

WALLED LAKE

The biggest upset of the day came at Walled Lake where political newcomer Gene Schnelz wrested the justice of the peace post from incumbent Herman A. Roth by a vote of 384 to 180.

A third candidate for the JP post, Councilman Marshall E. Taylor, garnered 113 votes.

The race for four Council posts was led by the three incumbents running. The results were;

ORTONVILLE— About 31 per cent of the registered voters in the Brandon School district turned out to favor continuation of the eight-mill tax levy for operation for three more years.

The deficit is expected to reach about $25,000 this year.

According to Glendening, the Board of Education wants to express its appreciation to the voters for their support at the polls in yesterday's election.

Resigns as Novi Chief of Police

BeGole Formally Quits to Stick With Job in Cheboygan

NOVI — Lee BeGole has formally resigned as head of the police department here. The Village Council accepted his resignation Sunday.

Reaffirming a statement made in Cheboygan early last month, where he has been chief of police while simultaneously holding the same post here, BeGole at a special meeting Sunday told the village Council he would not return to Novi.

BeGole has been in Cheboygan since Feb. 15 when he took over the department there after being given a leave of absence.

BeGole had taken the post in Cheboygan because of dissatisfaction with his job in Novi.

However, he withdrew his original resignation and said he would go temporarily to Cheboygan to fill the gap made when the police chief there resigned.

At that time he said he would be back. The Council decided to pay his salary while he was in Cheboygan.

On March 7 BeGole reported from Cheboygan that he would keep his appointment there, however, he had not officially informed officials in Novi.

Will Discuss Water Procedures

Troy Commission to Meet

TROY — Revision of water department procedures will highlight tonight's special meeting of the Troy City Commission.

Among the items to be considered are charges for use and service, changes in rates and establishment of a policy to govern the department.

The main point of discussion is expected to be on the establishment of rates equitable to both the users of the minimum amount of water per month and those who use larger quantities.

According to City Clerk J. L. Lockhart, city officials do not feel the present rates are justifiable.

"They are for the people who get the minimum water bills, but of those who use more are not paying their fair share," he said.

The proposed changes will affect factories and industrial users rather than the smaller home owners, he said.

The city manager, accountant and superintendent of the water department have prepared the propositions to be discussed.

Also proposed is changing the fiscal year of the water department to coincide with the city's which ends June 30.

Lockhart said he believes one discussion will cover the whole situation.

Ypsilanti Lauds James Bauchat, Ex-Pontiac Man

James Bauchat, formerly of Pontiac, was honored by Ypsilanti as he prepared to depart from the community he served devotedly, for a new challenge in New York.

Bauchat, a Pontiac Central High School graduate, officially ended his career last week with the Ford Motor Co. as manager of the Ypsilant plant.

He becomes vice president and controller of the New York Banking and Trust Co. on April 15.

A "James Bauchat Night" was held in tribute of his service with the Ypsilanti Community Chest, the Salvation Army Board and the American Red Cross.

A plaque for "outstanding community service" was presented Bauchat by Jack Shipman, chairman of the Washtenaw County Red Cross, and Fred Seyfried, president of the Ypsilanti Community Chest.

Jack Keller, a Ford Motor Co. supervisor, presented Bauchat a hi-fi set on behalf of the company.

Willman Wants to Buy Parcel

Eyes Extra Airport Land

The biggest property acquisition planned this year for Pontiac Municipal Airport will be put before the City Commission tonight for approval.

City Manager Walter K. Willman said he would ask permission to buy for $16,275 a parcel 239 feet long by 257 feet wide, fronting on Williams Lake road at the western end of the airport.

Included in the parcel is a home at 1810 Williams Lake road, just north of Highland road.

Willman said the land was needed primarily for clearance of the western approach of the main east-west runway. He said trees would be cleared from the land, first, and the home later.

Commissioners, in other action, will be asked to act finally on the long-delayed proposal to adopt the regulations of the State Plumbing Code by referendum. The proposal was discussed extensively by commissioners at an informal meeting Thursday.

First review will be made of construction bids submitted yesterday for the two big combined-sewer projects scheduled this year.

BIDS LITTLE HIGH

City Manager Walter K. Willman said the bids reportedly were "a little high," but believed the administration would recommend going ahead.

Involved are extensive repairs to an old, 120-foot section of trunkline on the south side of North Perry street between Gage and Paddock, and a new trunkline along Columbia avenue from Carlisle avenue extending 212 feet west of Cloverlawn drive.

The repairs are to be paid for completely by the city but special assessments are to be levied for the Columbia avenue project, which will be followed by laterals serving the northern portion of Assessors Plat 144—the Cloverlawn, Meadowlawn, Cherrylawn area.

Hearings are scheduled on assessment rolls prepared for seven blacktopping projects, including Colgate avenue, Baldwin to Carlisle; Carlisle avenue, Columbia to Ann Arbor; New York avenue, Baldwin to Walton; Jefferson avenue, Blaine to Summit; Harriette street, Baldwin to Adelaide; Dellwood avenue, Earlmoor to Howland; and Myra avenue, Voorheis to Sylvan.

Other hearings will be held on proposals to install curbs and gutters on Mansfield avenue, Fuller to Arlene, and on Arlene avenue, Second to Columbia, and a sanitary sewer on the south side of Montcalm street, from Lakeside to 700 feet of Sumit.

Bomb Remarks Are 'Not Funny'

Nation Will Prosecute; One Woman Pays Fine, Man Out on Bail

CHICAGO (UP) — Air-line passengers who still think it's funny to make some joking remark about a bomb in their bag face a legal blast.

Two such jokes encountered various stages of consequences yesterday after making similar remarks in Chicago which air lines personnel, the FBI, and federal prosecutors and judges consider not funny.

Mrs. Maurine Broom O'Neil, 55, of Seattle, paid a $50 fine after pleading guilty in U.S. District Court to a charge of making a false report of a bomb. She continued her trip to Youngstown, Ohio.

Mrs. O'Neil was arrested by FBI agents Sunday at the United Air Lines ticket counter in Midway Airport. Albert F. Manion, an assistant U.S. attorney, said an airline employe quoted Mrs. O'Neil as identifying her bag by saying, "Yes, that's the one which has the bomb in it."

Lyndon K. Mellinger, 34, a Chicago engineer, pleaded innocent today before U.S. District Judge Walter J. LaBuy to a charge of making a false bomb report on March 17. He was freed on $500 bond.

Mellinger said he was joking and thought the airlines clerk knew that he was.

An official government attitude toward bomb scares at airports was expressed yesterday in Washington by Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers who asked federal prosecutors to crack down on their perpetrators.

"The recent rash of false reports about bombs being concealed on airliners is a very serious matter," Rogers said.

"It is expensive to the airlines, disrupts schedules, and promotes fear and distrust—sometimes near panic—among the traveling public."

Psychodrama at Hospital Open to Public

"Reaching Patients Through Psychodrama," a community mental health program, will be presented 8 p.m. today at Pontiac State Hospital.

The program is sponsored by the hospital's Oakland County Citizens Committee.

"Psychodrama is one of the many therapies used in helping patients in the hospital," said Arthur Heaton, committee president.

"It is a spontaneous acting-out on a stage of a patient's inner conflicts and then the understanding by the patient of how these conflicts come about."

Trained therapists supervise the program under the direction of a medical coordinator. Tonight's psychodrama program will feature patients in treatment. It will be conducted by Ted A. Panaretos, community relations director.

The public is invited to attend the program without charge.

Fulbright Urges Red N-Ban Pact

Asserts Small Arms Moratorium May Work on Underground Tests

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Chairman J. William Fulbright (D-Ark) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee yesterday urged the western powers to "make an agreement with Russia" on a nuclear test ban—even though a disarmament pact cannot be reached yet with Red China.

Fulbright said if Russia showed "good faith," a moratorium on small underground tests might work. Britain and the United States have offered to hold off such tests if Russia would agree to a cheat-proof treaty banning larger nuclear explosions.

Senate Democratic whip Mike Mansfield (Mont) said he hoped President Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Macmillan will "give every possible consideration" to the Russian test ban proposal.

Mansfield, a member of the Foreign Relations Committee, warned that if this country refused to "face up to this problem," the Soviet Union would make the most of it as valuable propaganda.

But Mansfield agreed there should be the "highest degree of regulation and inspection."

Also in the atomic field, Chairman Clinton P. Anderson (D-NM) of the House-Senate Atomic Energy Committee and Rep. Chet Holifield (D-Calif), who heads the joint group's legislation subcommittee, complained that "short-sighted" budget bureau policies are blocking construction of nuclear power plants at remote military bases.

They said the bases could operate more cheaply on nuclear power than with conventional equipment.

Expects Negro Pope 'In God's Good Time'

NEW YORK (AP) — A Paulist priest says he believes the Roman Catholic Church will have a Negro Pope "in God's good time."

The Rev. John B. Sheerin, editor of the Catholic World, made the prediction Sunday at an observance of Interracial Justice Sunday at Fordham University.

"My white skin does not make me more a child of God than my dark-skinned brother," said Father Sheerin. "In short, our Catholic faith is totally color-blind."

Menninger Asks Psychiatrists for Industry

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — First aid stations for the treatment of emotional troubles might pay off for American industry and might help to check the increasing effects of stressful living, a noted psychiatrist said today.

There should be more laboratories for studying people, he added.

The ideas were advanced by Dr. William C. Menninger of Topeka, Kan., in a news conference and later in a panel discussion before the American College of Physicians.

Road to Faith . . . by Will Oursler

The Key: To Act, Not Just Think

By WILL OURSLER
Chapter Thirty

However high a level we may reach in our journey on the upward road to faith, it will avail us nothing without application in our personal daily lives.

This does not mean we should parade our faith before others; nor should we seek to force others to our beliefs.

It is rather, to live what we learn.

An Australian youth went to England with his regiment in the World War I. When lonely, thousands of miles from his homeland, he found the English people warm and hospitable.

During World War II this man and his wife found a chance to pay back his debt of gratitude.

They opened their home in Australia to American GIs stationed nearby, for a meal, a bath, a night's lodging, or a week's rest or two.

They asked no money for this. They and their daughters, one seventeen and the other much younger—their son was away in the Australian Air Force—wanted only to return the kindness the father himself had received, years before, in another war, thousands of miles from his home.

Nearly a hundred American boys stayed in this home in the course of the war in the Pacific. Many would come back on leave or furlough, for a few days or a week or two, from New Guinea or Biak or some other point "up north." The mother was "Mom" and the girls were "Sis" and the father "Dad."

Home, someone once wrote, is a place that when you get there, they can't send you away.

This Australian family made theirs that kind of home for the lonesome, homesick American GIs.

It would have been so easy for this family to be frightened. How could they know, on the Australian Red Cross volunteers who often sent the GIs along know, what the conduct of these soldiers would be away from discipline?.

In a war, all kinds of men are drawn into an army, and war brings out the good—and sometimes the worst—in man.

Much of the time, the mother and the two girls were alone in the house with their assortment of "guests." Yet nothing unpleasant or disturbing happened in all that time, with any of those boys who came into their home.

Once Noel, the oldest girl, was going home on a train when she saw three American Marines. They apparently were just coming back from the jungles. Noel, with almost alarming directness, asked them, "How would you Yanks like to have a bath?"

They looked at her in sober silence for an instant. Finally, one of them countered tentatively, "A real bath? With REAL hot water?"

Noel nodded.

They looked at each other again. The spokesman said, "We've got an overnight pass, that's all. We've got to be on our way back tomorrow. If we could get a good hot bath with hot water for a start—boy, that would be living."

Wordlessly, the three Marines followed the girl off the train at the next station and to her home.

The parents and several of their GI "family" were at dinner. Noel called out, "Hi, folks. I've brought home three Yanks. They want a bath."

The mother called out, "Fine. Be sure they have soap and towels."

The flabbergasted Marines went upstairs to bathe. They came downstairs a half hour later, washed and shining. By that time cake and coffee were ready for them.

They did not think of what they had done as any great act. They simply did it out of their desire to help repay a debt.

Faith is not faith unless we give it a definition in action, unless and until we translate abstract religious formalism into concrete meaning, and recognized debt into our conscious deed.

In doing is sincerity that goes beyond words. It does not ask praise, it does not demand recompense; it returns good for good as well as good for evil, without expectation.

What is our real purpose deep within ourselves? The good opinion of our fellow men? Or the integrity of our relationship to the Almighty, in the secret pact between Him and us?

That was the key to the lives of that man and woman, reaching out with warmth as stand-ins for mothers and fathers far away.

Only we—and God—can gauge the depth of our sincerity.

For faith to be effective in us, we must seek to believe with our whole being—mind, heart, body, spirit, the totality of Self.

To translate this seeking into action, we must reach out to God's universe, we must give as He gives to us, as he wants to give to us if we will but open the channels of faith.

This is the spiritual nucleus from which all else flows.

U.S. Woman Said Aiding Reds Built A-Bomb

LONDON (AP) — A British newspaper said Monday an American woman scientist is helping the Chinese Communists build their first atomic bomb, and they plan to explode it in June or July.

The Daily Mail, in a dispatch from Hong Kong, said the woman was Joan Chase Hinton and that she is working at an atomic research station in Inner Mongolia.

Mrs. Hinton, 39, is a former University of Chicago student who went to China as a welfare worker in 1948. Her mother operated the Putney School in Vermont.

The Atomic Energy Commission reported in 1952 that she once worked at the U.S. Atomic research center in Los Alamos, N.M., but said she held only a minor job.

Bauer Thinks Tigers Are Title Threat

SPORTS

Lopez Happy to Have Sievers

SARASOTA, Fla. (UPI)—The acquisition of Roy Sievers from the Washington Senators was hailed by White Sox manager Al Lopez today as a "good move which should make it that much easier for us to win the pennant."

Lopez, who predicted another Chicago flag prior to the Sievers deal, said Sievers would be invaluable as a pinch-hitter and as insurance just in case first baseman Ted Kluszewski or Minnie Minoso can't play the full season.

"We've strengthened ourselves all the way around," Lopez exclaimed. "Now, if Klu can't go the full season we have an outstanding replacement. Even if Klu goes all the way—and I'm convinced he can—then Sievers gives us that much more bench strength."

The deal, which sent Sievers to the Sox for catcher Earl Battey and rookie first baseman Don Mincher and $150,000, was the third major swap involving a power hitter that Chicago has made since the end of the 1959 World Series.

They acquired Gene Freese from the Philadelphia Phillies and Minoso from the Cleveland Indians in winter deals. Freese hit 23 homers last year. Minoso and Sievers each had 21, one less than Sherman Lollar who led the White Sox sluggers last season with 22.

Tony Cuccinello, Lopez' third base coach, hailed the deal, claiming "Sievers is still one of the best hitters in the American League.

"And he's a team player," Cuccinello emphasized. "We did ourselves a lot of good."

Said Nellie Fox, the league's most valuable player: "we got ourselves a good man."

The trade was hailed a lot less enthusiastically in Washington circles, although Senators owner Calvin Griffith defended the move by saying his team was "up against it for a catcher and just had to trade."

Griffith said the Senators' swap last week sending catcher Clint Courtney and infielder Ron Samford to Baltimore for second baseman Billy Gardner "solved our second base problem but left us with only two catchers, Steve Korcheck and Hal Naragon."

The Senators owners insisted that "money had nothing to do with getting rid of Sievers." He said the cash received "will go to stock our farm system."

Typical of the bitter Washington press reaction was a comment by columnist Morris Siegel of the Washington Evening News, who wrote that the deal "probably clinched two places in the American League—first for the White Sox and last for Washington."

Veteran Anxious to Start Well at Kansas City

'Rookie' Outfielder Says Yankees Don't Act Like Yanks of Old

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—It had to happen sooner or later—someone saying that the Detroit Tigers have a good chance to win the American League pennant.

"I can't help it," said old pro Hank Bauer. "Every spring they look like one of the tougher clubs to be. Then something seems to happen. This spring they look even better because they have a good bench—and that's something they haven't had for a few years."

Bauer calls himself "the league's oldest rookie." He's "breaking in" with the Kansas City Athletics after 11 seasons with the New York Yankees.

"I'm a pretty old rookie at 37," said Bauer, "but honestly, I feel better this year than I have in a long time. I'm really looking forward to playing in Kansas City.

"The trade wasn't as much of a shock as a lot of people think. I've been around long enough not to let little things like that upset me. Anyway, it'll give me a chance to help some club, and maybe help myself.

"I think I'll be able to hit more home runs in the smaller park. The left field fence in Yankee Stadium pulled away so sharply to 402 feet that hitting a lot of home runs was simply out of the question for me."

Bauer hit 10 or more home runs in 10 of his 11 Yankee campaigns. Nine times he drove in more than 50 runs although he was one of the victims of Casey Stengel's platoon magic practically every season.

What pleases Bauer most is the knowledge that Athletics manager Bob Elliott is counting on him.

"He's not letting an old man take it easy in spring training, either." Bauer said in loud enough tones for the new manager to hear it as the two stood around the batting cage. "Played me in straight innings the past two days. I felt it this morning, too."

Bauer is hitting better this spring than ever. The first time he faced his old Yankee mates he went 5-for-6.

"You know, it's a funny thing," said Bauer. "Not because I wasn't on that club anymore, but when I saw the Yanks they just didn't look like the Yankees. I think the other clubs around the league have that feeling now, too, and that'll make it a great race this year."

And where do the Athletics and the Tigers fit in?

"The Tigers will be tough, real tough," said Bauer. "As for us, we'll be better. All we need is for a couple of kids to come through for us."

Bauer, a young man at 37, is one of those "kids."

Hockey Finalists Drill for Thursday

Rose Bowl Bid Gets Approval

MSU Council Backs It for Big 10, Puts OK on Postseason Sports

EAST LANSING (AP) — The athletic council at Michigan State University voted yesterday in favor of retaining a Big Ten regulation which would allow individual schools to accept a Rose Bowl bid.

The council also voted against abolishing all other postseason sports activities. This was recommended by conference athletic directors and faculty representatives at a Chicago meeting last month in which future Big Ten Rose Bowl participation on a conference-wide basis was rejected.

The MSU council action serves as an instruction to faculty representative John A. Fuzack on how to vote if the issues come up again at the next conference meeting. This will be held at Michigan State May 19-21.

Unless some Big Ten schools reverse their field, the Rose Bowl matter is presumably dead.

But the resolution against other postseason sports competition was put through at the Chicago meeting only as a form of protest by the athletic directors at the dropping of the Rose Bowl game. The resolution is expected to be given renewed consideration at the May meeting.

Predicts More Improvement

Play of Young Wings Made Adams Happy

DETROIT (AP)—Jack Adams, the explosive general manager of the Detroit Red Wings, settled back comfortably in his Olympia Stadium office and a smile creased his face.

"We've had a lot of championships," said Mr. Hockey, pointing around the room to pictures of some of the Wings' great teams of the past. "But you know, I got a real big kick out of our team this year. We didn't win anything, but we turned a lot of boys into men.

"They wrote us off — a lot of them did, anyway. We went down the ladder—from first, to third and then to last. We took a lot of abuse—I did and the players did, too. I said when we hit bottom that we'd be back. I told them not to give up on us.

"I hope they haven't, because we're on our way. Yes sir, I'm proud of these kids this year. They gave 100 per cent. The road up ahead is quite a bit brighter."

Fourth place in a six-team league may not seem like much of an accomplishment, but it's quite an improvement over the 1958-59 campaign when the Red Wings finished dead last for first time since they got into the National Hockey League wars in 1926-27.

It was Adams who predicted a few seasons ago that the Montreal Canadiens would dominate the league for a while, just as the Wings had done for so long.

"Things are beginning to even themselves out now," said the controversial general manager. "The player draft helps — each club can protect only 18 players on its roster. We got some help last year in the draft and now New York and Boston should get some this year.

"The Montreal string is ending. Someone will catch those Canadiens before long. It might be us. We need a couple more good hockey players to do it."

Adams knows how to get them. If not by draft, he'll trade—quickly, and as often, as necessary.

Adams is not content with fourth place. He's never content, even with first place. "You don't make progress by standing still," he often has said. "You have to keep moving, doing things, even when you're on top."

DIAMOND HOPEFUL—Bruce Johnson, a former Birmingham High and Pontiac city league star, has been in spring training with the Dodgers. He holds a Minor League contract.

Canadien Coach Not Concerned Over Time Off

Toe Blake Makes No Prediction as Opener Nears

MONTREAL (AP)—Coach Toe Blake had his defending Stanley Cup champion Montreal Canadiens scheduled for another workout today as they prepare to open the Cup final Thursday against the Toronto Maple Leafs here.

Blake, who worked his troops for an hour Monday and has a brief "voluntary" drill set for Wednesday, said he wasn't afraid his team would become stale after a week's layoff.

The Canadiens, going after their fifth straight Cup, eliminated the Chicago Black Hawks last Thursday night to sweep the semifinal series 4-0.

The Toronto team also had a workout slated on their home ice. The Leafs play the first two games Thursday and Saturday nights, on Montreal ice, and the next two, next Tuesday and Thursday on their own ice.

Blake, who refused any prediction of the outcome of the best-of-7 series, would say only that his team has always been able to "come up" for the big games.

Last year, Montreal won the Cup in five games from the Leafs, with Blake still undecided whether to insert left winger Ab McDonald in the lineup. McDonald sat out the Chicago series since the Canadiens were at full strength then too.

Blake said there was nothing wrong with winger Marcel Bonin's ankle. He was struck by a shot in the final game of the Chicago series but x-rays showed only a severe bruise, not a fracture as feared.

HAGAN LAUNCHES ONE — Over the outstretched arms of former Kentucky teammate Frank Ramsey (23), Cliff Hagan of the St. Louis Hawks executes a hook shot. The action came in Sunday's 4th NBA playoff game at St. Louis. The Hawks defeated the Boston Celtics to square the series at two victories apiece. St. Louis and the Celtics resume their best-of-seven series tonight at Boston.

Odds Against Toronto Not Bothering Imlach

TORONTO (AP) — Coach Punch Imlach has too many worries these pre-Stanley Cup final days to waste any of his waking hours about gambling odds on the outcome of the best-of-seven series. The bookmakers here consider the Toronto Maple Leafs sitting ducks for the defending champion Montreal Canadians.

"That's pretty foolish," commented Imlach yesterday when told the bettors had established the Canadiens as favorites. "But if they want to be foolish, let 'em go ahead. Anyway, I don't pay any attention to the gambling end of hockey."

Punch, also, apparently has retired as the swami of the National Hockey League coaching ranks. Fans will recall that last year he called the Leafs to take the Canadiens in six games in the final and then watched coach Toe Blake's powerhouse squad carve up the Leafs in five.

"We'll be there," was the only prediction Imlach cared to make about the series starting Thursday night at Montreal Forum.

This was a most unusual turn of events. It may be attributed to the just-concluded semifinal with the Detroit Red Wings. Punch conceded the Wings took two and may have taken it all except for the sensational goaltending of Leaf Johnny Bower.

"The Canadiens are going to be tough," Imlach warned.

That could be the understatement of the year. Montreal rolled over the opposition in the 70-games schedule, allowed the Leafs only three victories in 14 Leaf-Canadien meetings and disposed of the Chicago Black Hawks in four straight in the semifinal.

The Leaf masterminds and the players are happy about the Thursday series opening. Ordinarily, the first game would be scheduled for tonight but Toronto, with the consent of the Canadiens and president Clarence Campbell, got the two-day delay.

"The four-day layoff is in our favor," Imlach said. "There's a natural letdown by the players after winning a series like the one we've just been through with Detroit. We'll be in better shape Thursday and that will make for a much better game."

Operation May Keep Mat Star Out of Olympics

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—Terry McCann, one of this country's best hopes for a wrestling gold medal in the 1960 Olympics, undergoes surgery today. He may not recover in time for the competition in Rome.

McCann, three-time National AAU titlist at 125 pounds, will have the operation on his right knee to repair a torn cartilage.

Coach Clay Roberts of the Tulsa YMCA said there is only a slight hope that McCann will recover in time to qualify for the U.S. Olympic team.

McCann was the only U.S. wrestler to win a match against the Russian team which toured this country last year.

Cousy May Be on Bench Against St. Louis Tonight

BOSTON (AP) — Bob Cousy, Boston's Mr. Basketball, may bench himself tonight if he doesn't snap out of the doldrums in the fifth game of the Celtics' National Basketball Assn. playoff with St. Louis.

"If things don't come back, I'm going to step out and have K. C. Jones or Sam Jones do the job," Cousy said. "I still want one more try. But I can't ruin this playoff for the boys by staying out there if I don't have it."

Cousy, one of the greatest stars in the history of the league, has been having one of the worst series of his 10-year career in the best-of-7 playoff, now tied at 2 games each.

He started off like the old Cooz, hitting 10 of 23 shots from the floor in the first game, in which Boston marked up a record victory. Since; then, however, he has been far off his form, and the Celtics won only one of three. In those three games he has been good on only six of 45 shots from the floor.

But it is as a playmaker, a clutch player and team leader that Cousy has made his mark. Even these characteristics have been missing in the last three games.

"I know how to help myself, but it just won't come," he said. "I'm playing flatfooted in this series. Both shooting and running. I'm thumping all over the place out there. But I can't seem to get up on my toes."

Cousy, speaking coldly and without emotion, said he will make a try tonight, but if he doesn't have it—he'll go to the bench.

"I've thought it over," he said. "I'm going to start. If I don't get off the mark, I'm going to tell Red (Auerbach, Boston coach) to take me out. They aren't going to win with me floundering around out there.

Tigers Finding Difficulty With Player Trading

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—There is just the possibility the Detroit Tigers need so much Bill DeWitt will have a hard time trading for it.

The Tiger president said Monday he had offered the Washington Senators five players for slugger Roy Sievers and a pitcher.

DeWitt said he still was waiting to hear from Washington President Calvin Griffith on the proposal when Sievers went to the Chicago White Sox for catcher Earl Battey, rookie first baseman Don Mincher and a lump of cash.

DeWitt didn't name the Tigers he was willing to trade.

Moffet Names Cuppers, Goes to Hospital With Serious Ailment

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—James B. Moffet, who announced the U.S. Davis Cup tennis squad Monday, underwent emergency surgery at St. Francis Hospital a few hours later. His condition was critical today.

Moffet, chairman of the Davis Cup Selection Committee of the U.S. Lawn Tennis Assn., complained of severe abdominal pains at his home here. Gerald Misner, USLTA vice president, took him to the hospital and surgery for a perforated intestine followed. Peritonitis set in.

Dr. Lawrence R. Custer described Moffet's condition as critical.

The 14-man U.S. Davis Cup squad announced by Moffet before he was stricken included Barry MacKay, Dayton, Ohio, and Earl Buchholz, St. Louis, members of the team that lost the cup to Australia last year.

First City League Softball Meet Slated Wednesday

Plans are now under way for the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department's 1960 men's City League softball program in classes A, B, C and D.

The first organizational meeting for the annual program is scheduled Wednesday night at 7:30 in the Conference Room of the Health Department on the ground floor of City Hall.

Entry in the men's City League softball program has increased every year. If too many teams enter the program this year, it may become necessary to restrict the entry to eight teams in each class and follow a priority system in order to determine the order of acceptance.

The following priority system may be used:

First priority—teams that participated in 1959 and whose sponsors are in the city of Pontiac.

Second priority—teams that did not participate in 1959, but whose sponsors are in the city of Pontiac.

Third priority — teams that participated in 1959, but whose sponsors are outside the city of Pontiac.

Fourth priority—teams that did not participate in 1959 and whose sponsors are outside the city of Pontiac.

There will be a $60 entry fee for teams with Pontiac sponsors and an $85 entry fee for teams with outside sponsors. Deadline for entry fees is Friday, April 29, at 5 p.m.

Items to be discussed at tomorrow night's first meeting include team entries, player eligibility, contract cards, practice facilities, rules and regulations, and other league organizational matters.

Managers or representatives of men's softball teams planning to enter the City League program this year should attend this meeting. To prevent crowding, the Parks and Recreation Department requests players not to accompany managers to the meeting.

Snead Feels He Can Win Masters

Expects Meet to Be Dominated by Long Hitters

Course at Augusta Will Be Slow Due to Heavy Rains

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—Drenching rains have turned the 24th Masters Golf Tournament, starting Thursday, into a prospective battle of muscle men and one of the most eminent of these, Sam Snead, says it could be his year.

"The way I'm playing, I just might do it," drawled the three-time winner from West Virginia today. "I don't know when I've hit the ball better.

"I'll tell you one thing—as heavy as this course is, no short knocker is going to win it."

One of the game's strongest players, Arnold Palmer, has been established as the advance favorite. Most of his competition is expected to come from such powerful hitters as Snead, Cary Middlecoff, ex-footballer Mike Souchak and perhaps even the husky U.S. Amateur champion, Jackie Nicklaus.

Nicklaus, a blond, 200-pound package of power from Columbus, Ohio, trudged around the Augusta National course in a driving rain Monday in 69, 3-under-par. It was the best score of those rash enough to buck the elements.

No amateur ever has won the Masters.

Snead played a full 18 holes and was even par although experimenting with his long irons. Ben Hogan gave up after eight holes and said, "I don't have a chance." Palmer, the year's leading money winner, didn't even come out.

A steady rain — sometimes reaching torrential proportions—peppered down on the sprawling, 6,980-yard layout throughout the day. It has rained here, off and on for almost a week, and the normally beautifully - manicured course is soggy and dull.

"There's no possibility that the course can dry out by the weekend," Snead said. "More rain is forecast for today. It's going to be very slow."

Snead, winner of the DeSoto tournament 10 days ago, said he has been averaging 66 strokes a round at his Boca Raton course in Florida all winter.

"I'm playing great," he added. "If I can get my long irons working a little better, I won't worry about anybody or anything."

Casper 'Marks Time' for Masters Test

Just Another Entry

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—Bill Casper, the almost-forgotten fat man who holds the U.S. Open golf title, is just another contestant in the 24th Masters tournament this week. And Billy isn't making any effort to change that status at this point.

Actually, there's no visible reason for not including him among the favorites — except that Casper hasn't won anything lately after finishing the 1959 season with a flourish.

Located in Augusta National's pro shop, where he was trying out a batch of putters to pass a rainy afternoon, Casper said:

"I really don't know how well I'm playing. I haven't done enough. I've been picking my spots. After the DeSoto Lakes tournament in Florida I took a week off to do a pilot film for television."

The record books show that he has started nine tournaments this year, has finished fourth in two of them and has collected about $7,000 in prize money. That's hardly enough to make him the choice over Arnold Palmer, who has four victories and over $25,000 to show for three months work.

But Casper is a superb short iron player and putter, and he's long enough off the tee to handle the 6,850-yard Augusta National course. He appears slimmer than last year, when he won the Open and three of the weekly tournaments on the pro circuit.

That's another point on which Bill is noncommittal.

"I don't know whether I've lost weight or not. I don't pay that much attenion to it," he said.

Champions don't stand out from the common folks at the Masters, a tournament in which nearly every player can display a title of some sort. But it wouldn't be a precedent if Casper should put the Open and Masters victories back to back.

Ben Hogan, admittedly an exceptional player then, won the 1951 Masters while he held the Open title and went on from his 1953 victory here to take the Open again.

Ralph Guldahl combined the 1939 Masters with his 1938 Open victory, and Sam Snead took two of his three Masters titles within a year of winning the PGA championship.

Watch Long Ball Hitters

AUGUSTA, Ga. (UPI) — "Look out, for the long ball hitters" was the watchword at the Masters today — in short, Arnold Palmer, Mike Souchak and Sammy Snead.

"I figure," said Jackie Burke, the 1956 Masters champion, "that the power hitters have a two-stroke advantage on every round. That gives them an eight stroke edge for four rounds and makes it mighty hard for the rest of us to make up. The only way you can beat them is with deadeye approaching and sensational putting."

He doesn't figure that anyone in the 90-man field for the 24th Masters golf tourney is going to come up with enough of that approaching and putting to beat out Palmer, Souchak and Snead.

"When they are using six, seven or eight irons for their approaches, the rest of us are using three or four irons," Burke explained. "It doesn't figure that those of us — the bulk of us — can get inside them on the green when we have to go for so much more distance on our approaches."

The Masters course is a long one — 6,980 yards. It's ideal for the power hitter.

"Even if you stray your drives, you can't get into too much trouble," observed Ben Hogan, a two-time winner of this golfing classic. "This definitely is a course for those fellows who can hit the ball a mile."

Bantam Ben isn't at all satisfied with his game. Neither is Burke, whose left wrist still gives him trouble — an injury which has plagued him for over a year.

Despite his brilliant showing thus far in 1960 — he has won some $26,000, more than double the amount of any other player in the P.G.A. dollar derby — Palmer isn't hitting the ball well either.

He's still having trouble with the par three 155-yard 12th hole. There is a pond in front of the green and Palmer lost his chance to win last year by putting his tee shot into the water. He's been doing the same thing in practice rounds.

"Maybe I'll start playing short and then pitching over the pond," he said.

Palmer Top Money-Maker

DUNEDIN, Fla. (AP) — Arnold Palmer, powerfully built Ligonier, Pa., professional, has averaged collecting better than $7.75 for each swat at a golf ball in competition this year.

His 1960 take, according to Professional Golf Assn. figures, come to a staggering $26,800—the most ever won on the tournament trail during the first three months of a year.

Palmer's earnings compare with $13,300 for Jack Fleck of Los Angeles, the runner-up, and $12,900 for Dow Finsterwald of Tequesta, Fla., in third place.

Palmer, top money winner of 1958, has played in all of the 12 tournaments on the winter tour. His next stop is a big one—this week's Masters championship at Augusta, Ga., which he won three years ago.

Behind the big three in current money winnings are Ken Venturi, Palo Alto, Calif., $12,800; Bob Goalby, Crystal River, Fla., $12,300; Fred Hawkins, El Paso, Tex. $11,300; Jerry Barber, Los Angeles, $10,000; Billy Maxwell, Odessa, Tex., $9,800; Jay Hebert, Sanford, Fla., $9,700; and Don January, Denver, Colo., $9,300.

Diamond Injuries 'Most Serious'

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. (UPI)—You may hear some folks joke about baseball players' "minor" injuries, but don't tell those gags to trainer Jack Fadden of the Boston Red Sox.

"An injury to a baseball player is more serious than one to a hockey or football player," insists Fadden, who also trains the Boston Bruins hockey team and the Harvard University football team, as well as pro basketball's Boston Celtics.

That's why, he says, a baseball player is sidelined by the same type of injury a football or hockey player shrugs off.

"I've seen many hockey players continue to play with broken wrists," said Fadden. "They just have a cast from the wrist to the shoulder and lay the stick in their hand. It doesn't affect their play. A knee injury also doesn't handicap a hockey player too much.

"But a wrist injury to a ball player is serious and keeps him out of action," said Fadden.

The Red Sox trainer also believes there isn't much chance for an injured ball player to coast along while nursing his wounds.

"Every player in professional baseball today has to put out to the utmost—or he's back in the minors," he said.

Fadden thinks modern-day major leaguers have it tougher than the old-timers in at least one important respect—their working hours.

"They play games at night and also during the daytime," he pointed out. "Their diets and hours of rest are completely fouled up. I definitely feel that players today have their careers cut a good number of years by the irregular hours and diets.

"Then, too," he added, "night baseball is harder on the eyes."

But Fadden thinks young fellows reaching the major leagues now have the "desire" needed to overcome injuries and irregular living in order to attain stardom.

Waving his arm at the players scattered across the field here at the Red Sox spring training camp, Fadden said, "Every one of those young men is a potential big leaguer. Some of them won't make it but it isn't because they haven't got the tools. The difference will be in desire."

When it comes to that department, Fadden thinks that aging Red Sox star Ted Williams is the perfect model for young players.

"He's been taking mental notes ever since he came into the league," said Fadden. "He knows all the idiosyncrasies of pitchers, young and old. He'll ask some youngster what pitch some rival pitcher threw to him.

"The kid may not know—but Williams can tell you pitches thrown a week before."

Exhibition at Toronto

TORONTO (AP) — Three Toronto businessmen said Monday night they have completed arrangements for an exhibition pro football game here Monday, Aug. 15 between the New York Giants and the Chicago Bears and have guaranteed each team $25,000 or 33 1/3 per cent of the gate.

AP Tabs Giants to Win National League Flag

NEW YORK (AP) — A pennant should fly over San Francisco's new Candlestick Park next October because of key moves the Giants made during the off season to bolster their pitching and tighten their infield.

The addition of Billy O'Dell and Billy Loes, a southpaw starter and a right-handed relief man, plus the acquisition of second baseman Don Blasingame figure to give the Giants what they lacked last year when they blew the pennant in the last 10 days.

Billy Rigney's five-man staff ran out of gas in the stretch with Sam Jones trying to start and relieve. The hitters stopped hitting. The club lost seven of its last eight, including a vital three-game series with Los Angeles.

Instead of worrying about the problems of playing a World Series in a ball park that was not completed, they settled for third place while Los Angeles and Milwaukee tangled in a pennant playoff.

Milwaukee is given the best chance of beating the Giants in this book with the Dodgers making it a three-way fight. Powerful Cincinnati with added pitching from Cal McLish and Bill Henry has an outside shot at the flag.

Pittsburgh, hoping for a solid comeback by Bob Friend, figures to fight it out with St. Louis for fifth, if Stan Musial can hold his spring training form for 100 games. Chicago's young pitching must continue to improve and Richie Ashburn and Frank Thomas must bounce back from bad years if the Cubs are to improve.

The Phillies appear headed for another term in the National League cellar despite a generous injection of new blood.

Here's the way it looks from here:

1. San Francisco
2. Milwaukee
3. Los Angeles
4. Cincinnati
5. Pittsburgh
6. St. Louis
7. Chicago

ABC Standings All Same

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Getting into the top ten standings of the American Bowling Congress tournament in its second month, which starts today, apparently is going to be a tough job for keglers.

There were new names nearly every night among the top tens on the ABC's big board until last Saturday. In the three full days of competition since Friday, however, a fourth-place singles series has been the lone change among the leaders.

Monday night's best open team score, a 2,872 by the Bowl-all Center of Cleveland, fell 115 pins shy of making even the 10th rung of the top ten.

With his 1,829 in all-events Monday, George Defler of Berwyn, Ill., was 87 pins short of ranking with the leaders. And Gene Smith and Harold Guard of Reading, Pa., were 47 pins short of the 10th-ranked doubles total, with 1,229.

A 674 singles series by Henry Schaffhauser of Rochelle Park, N.J., was the nearest thing to a top-ten change, but he needed another strike to do it.

The Bowling Writers Assn. of America holds its annual meeting here Wednesday and Thursday.

Faye Continues to Slam Ball in 3-2 Victory

NL Clubs Are Getting Lineups Set; Waivers Asked on O'Connell

By The Associated Press

Washington's fearsome foursome minus one, shopping around for a new partner to aid in the war against organized pitching, today began checking the credentials of Faye Throneberry.

Throneberry continued his torrid hitting along Major League baseball's exhibition trail yesterday, driving in the winning run with a seventh inning single as the Senators edged Kansas City 3-2 in the only game played.

With slugger Roy Sievers traded to Chicago's White Sox for catcher Earl Battey, first baseman Don Mincher and $150,000, Throneberry may be just the man to fill the depleted ranks.

A 28-year-old Tennessean who has knocked around the American League since he came up with Boston in 1952, Throneberry crashed the Washington lineup last season and compiled a .251 batting average in 117 games. The outfielder-first baseman hit 10 home runs and accounted for 42 runs batted in.

Now he's the sensation of the Senators' training camp with his .462 batting average, and has been outshining the fearsome foursomes' holdovers—Harmon Killebrew, Jim Lemon and Bob Allison.

Killebrew (42), Lemon (33), Allison (30) and Sievers (21) slugged 126 home runs during the 1959 campaign and a little more power from Throneberry could make up for the departure of the aging Sievers.

Meanwhile, Cincinnati manager Fred Hutchinson and Charlie Grimm, field boss of the Chicago Cubs, took advantage of the open date to get their starting lineups in shape for the National League's opening program a week from today.

Hutch said Billy Martin, acquired along with pitcher Cal McLish in the swap that sent Johnny Temple to Cleveland, will definitely open at second base for the Reds.

Grimm named rookies Sammy Drake and Lou Johnson to his probable starting lineup at third base and right field, respectively.

Drake batted .292 at Burlington, Iowa, and .303 at San Antonio last season. Johnson hit .316 at Lancaster and .327 for San Antonio during the 1959 campaign.

Other clubs continued paring their rosters to get down to the required limit. The only surprise came from the San Francisco camp where the Giants asked waivers on infielder Danny O'Connell, a 10-year Major League veteran.

For as little or as much as you wish to invest—you can have a stake in the growth of America's leading industries.

Market Higher but in Fractions

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market maintained a generally higher trend early today despite some profit taking among the faststepping electronics. Trading was moderately active.

Gains of fractions to about a point among key stocks slightly outweighed losers in the same range.

Texas Instruments, which soared 10 points yesterday, dropped more than 2. Motorola was down more than a point while Philco, yesterday's most active gainer, lost a fraction.

Radio Corp. and Sperry Rand continued to gain fractionally.

The averages were supported by gains of about 2 by Dupont and around a point by General Electric and Union Carbide. Fractional gains by U. S. Steel, New York Central, Westinghouse Electric and Goodyear also helped.

In a delayed opening, Bigelow-Sanford rose 1¼ to 19½ on a block of 6,000 shares. Buy orders accumulated on news that the company is negotiating to acquire Crestliner, Inc., a maker of outboard motor boats.

International Nickel lost about a point. Slightly lower were Merck, Jones & Laughlin, Caterpillar and General Motors.

The market was active and a bit higher at the opening. The ticker tape was late briefly.

Opening blocks included: Philco off ½ at 37¾ on 3,400 shares; Litton Industries up 1¼ at 79¾ on 2,200; and Raytheon up ¼ at 40¾ on 2,000.

GMC Sets Up New Program

A product reliability department, headed by Sheldon G. Little, has been established at staff level in the GMC Truck and Coach Division, it was announced today by Calvin J. Werner, vice president of General Motors and general manager of the division.

LITTLE

Little has been assistant chief engineer of the division for the past five years and before that held important positions in the General Motors styling section and Cadillac Motor Car Division.

"The organization of a product reliability department with plantwide and productwide responsibilities emphasizes our determination to design, manufacture and sell the best trucks and coaches in the business," Werner said.

Assisting Little in the new department will be C. C. Hursey, chief inspector, and Robert C. Kennedy, who has been product reliability engineer for the engineering department. Hursey and his inspection staff will continue the duties formerly carried out under supervision of the manufacturing department.

HURSEY

Kennedy will continue the coordination between the engineering, manufacturing and service departments in such important areas as quality control.

Little joined the engineering staff of the Cadillac Motor Division in 1929 as a GM Institute student and was graduated in 1933.

KENNEDY

Kennedy came to GMC Truck and Coach in 1956 as a production liaison engineer after several years as assistant staff engineer for the Cadillac Motor Car Division in its tank plant. He was graduated from the University of Illinois in 1932.

Hursey is a 40-year veteran of the division, having started as a chassis assembler in the Yellow Cab Manufacturing Plant in Chicago in 1920. He was transferred to Pontiac in 1928 as an inspector when Yellow Cab operations were moved here. After a term as general superintendent of inspection for the manufacturing department, he was appointed chief inspector in 1957.

Royal Oak Twp. to Keep Force

Changes Mind on Idea That County Deputies Police Area

Royal Oak Township has said a polite "No" to Sheriff Frank W. Irons.

Township Supervisor Elwood Dickens told county officials today that they no longer seek a crew of Irons' deputies to police their township.

Such help had been sought earlier after the township found itself besieged with a scandal involving the township police and fire forces and a dwindling treasury.

But Dickens called John C. Austin, vice chairman of the Board of Auditors, to say that at the Saturday annual township meeting some 100 residents approved cutting the 13-man force to six men "and going on our own."

This immediately canceled a meeting set for today in Pontiac when township officials were supposed to reveal what township funds would be available if the deputy system was invoked.

"Apparently we're out of it now," Austin said.

Bed Catches Fire, One Man Dies; 2 Suffer Burns

A former Drayton Plains man died early Saturday morning in the Detroit Receiving Hospital as a result of second and third degree burns suffered when his bed caught fire, according to Detroit firemen.

Before he died, Lyell B. Pedersen, 40, of 90 Davenport St., Detroit, was able to tell officials that his wife had apparently fallen asleep while smoking and the bed clothes caught fire. The blaze was confined to the apartment.

Also in critical condition at Receiving Hospital is Pedersen's wife, Zofia, and a guest, Harry Ward, 44, address unknown. All suffered second and third degree burns.

Pedersen was the son of Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Pedersen, of 4038 Lomley St., Drayton Plains. He is also survived by two sons, two brothers and a sister.

Funeral service will be held at 11 a.m. tomorrow at the Donelson-Johns Funeral Home and burial will be at Ottawa Park.

Bound Over for Trial in Rochester Theft

The two Pontiac youths arrested in connection with the break-in March 31 of Milton's Mobil service station in Rochester waived examination yesterday and were bound over to Circuit Court.

Michael Tucker, 18, of 55 Cloverse St., and Willie J. Jones, 19, of 464 Ditmar St., were arraigned before Rochester Justice of the Peace Luther B. Green.

They were remanded back to jail, unable to furnish $1,000 bond.

About $100 was taken from a steel filing cabinet in the station, 1031 N. Main St., during the break-in, Rochester police said.

Big Miss Taking a Breather

Missouri River on Loose

By The Associated Press

Flood danger eased temporarily along the Mississippi River in Illinois and Missouri today after extensive damaging overflows. But the big Missouri was on a rampage at several points along its winding route through the state.

The Mississippi, which battered through levees north of Quincy, Ill., Monday, inundating 30,000 acres of rich farm land, relieved some of the pressure downstream.

Army engineers warned the Mississippi probably would begin to rise again in a day or two. The big river, fed by swollen tributaries in parts of the eight-state Midwest flood belt, already has driven some 2,000 persons from their homes in Illinois and Missouri.

Volunteer workers patroled the entire 100-mile area from Niota, Ill., across the river from Fort Madison, Iowa, to Pike Station, opposite Louisiana, Mo.

On the Missouri side, the letup enabled volunteer workers to shore up, sandbag and do other emergency work on water-softened levees. Clear weather prevailed.

The spring floods in the Midwest, hitting hard at Nebraska and Iowa and also causing trouble in Wisconsin, Kansas, South Dakota and Michigan, have forced evacuation of 28,000 persons from their homes, the Red Cross estimated. A spokesman predicted the number would rise to 40,000 before the waters recede.

The Missouri, which Army engineers said already has inundated more than 500,000 acres of land, continued to rise. Army engineers, after an aerial inspection of the Missouri basin, estimated damage at about 5 million dollars.

Workers, ranging from Boy Scouts to convicts, were called to help strengthen the Missouri levees. National Guard units were on an alert status.

The flooding at St. Joseph, in northwest Missouri, was the second worst of the century, second only to the 1952 spring overflows, but damage was not heavy. Subsiding of the North Grand and Charlton rivers was expected to bring a slight drop in the Missouri at Boonville, in mid-Missouri.

Waterford May Ask Plan Unit

Township Attorney to Draw Up Proposition for August Vote

The Waterford Township Board last night authorized township attorney Paul Mandel to draw up a proposal for the August primary election ballot calling for the establishment of a township planning commission.

Another proposition to be placed on the same ballot will concern the abolition of annual township meetings in Waterford. This had been recommended by residents at Saturday's annual township meeting.

Recent legislation clears the way for townships the size of Waterford to establish a 7- or 9-member planning commission to make recommendations for final approval by the township board.

A protest from Mrs. Lorena Adams of 2691 Elisinore St., in the Huron Gardens subdivision, who said she paid the township more than $800 for a special assessment sewer hookup was discussed at length. Mrs. Adams said her sewer line is connected to a main line installed in 1940, which had been paid for. Members tabled the matter for further investigation.

Several township employes in administrative positions were granted slight pay raises, and the board raised township attorney Paul Mandel's annual salary from $2,400 to $3,000. The board also authorized the purchase of a $400 adding machine for the treasurer's office.

After the township board adjourned, the same group reconvened as the Heath Department and reappointed Dr. John Naz township health officer for a year.

S. African Police Beat Negroes Who Don't Work

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP)—Police with armored cars swept through the twin Negro townships of Nyanga East and West again today, beating up Africans found staying away from work.

Witnesses said the police, backed by troops, used whips and clubs on rebellious Negroes as they did Monday. One source said police gunfire had wounded at least one woman.

"There are other casualties," the source said, "but I am not certain how many or whether they were shot or just beaten up."

Col. V. Reay, acting deputy police commissioner for Cape Town, confirmed that the police had opened fire but said only warning shots were fired over the heads of Africans who gathered.

Reay said the police entered Nyanga to offer protection for Negroes who wanted to go to work and to round up "intimidators" preventing them.

DRAGGED OUT

Africans in the township claimed police smashed windows and doors of houses and ordered Negroes into the streets. If they refused, they were dragged out and beaten, they said.

"Even those who obeyed the order were beaten up," said one African witness.

Other reports from the township said Africans had decided to resist police and began gathering, armed with sticks and rocks. It appeared that when police saw Africans banding together, they charged in to scatter them.

Just before dawn helicopters dropped leaflets, telling laborers in the township to go to work before 8 a.m. and warning against forming groups. Helicopters flying low over Nyanga broadcast the message. A Military Cordon, clamped around Nyanga since Monday, was lifted at dawn but only a few Africans came out to go to work.

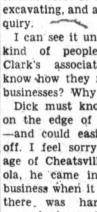
After the police moved in and began their raids, the cordon was closed again, and no more Negroes were allowed out.

Is Dick Clark Headed for Payola Probe Ax?

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—I happened to be reading a Bible that a lady in Akron, O., gave me about 30 years ago because she figured every newspaperman should have one — when I suddenly thought of Television's Dick Clark.



WILSON

"Judge not that ye be not judged," it says there in the Book.

The Washington and Broadway grapevine has it that Dick Clark "is going to get killed, he's going to get murdered" in the payola probe — and I consequently wonder if the rest of us aren't guilty of prejudging him.

Shall we not give him a chance to speak his own little oration?

Dick himself hasn't uttered one syllable in his defense. To me this has been a public relations goof.

"Keep your lip buttoned," his elders ordered him weeks ago when I, along with other newspapermen, asked to print his side.

"Powerful interests," influential people," thought if he kept quiet, it would go away. They also flattered themselves that with backstairs phenagling, they could save him from being subpoenaed.

Instead, they brought on a furious burst of investigatorial excavating, and a full-dress inquiry.

I can see it unfolding. What kind of people were Dick Clark's associates? Did he know how they ran his many businesses? Why not?

Dick must know that's he's on the edge of the precipice—and could easily be pushed off. I feel sorry that in this age of Cheatsville and Bribeola, he came into the music business when it was so rotten there was hardly anybody around who could or would tell him right from wrong.

CLARK

Please don't think I'm copping a plea for Dick. I happen to think he's in big, big trouble. I wonder how long his sponsors and his network will stick with him.

I'm just asking a fair shake for the boy in public opinion which I would like to get if I were on such a griddle. I wouldn't pay much attention to me, though, if I were you, because I felt Charles Van Doren could never tell a lie.

Ask Boulevard Planning Okay

County Auditors Seek Nod From City Tonight on Relocation Move

The Oakland County Board of Auditors has asked the City Commission to authorize final planning for the relocation of West boulevard eastward in a broad loop around the new county courthouse.

The request will go to the Commission for approval tonight.

The relocation in mind so far would curve West boulevard—a gravel road—about 900 feet eastward over property owned by the county as part of its Telegraph road service center.

Both the Board of Supervisors and the city must eventually approve the new route.

The city also is being asked to vacate to the county portions of the existing West boulevard.

Although the new courthouse tower is going up immediately east of West boulevard, the additions contemplated would sprawl westward across the present road.

The realignment, as presently planned, would not affect the point at which West boulevard connects with Telegraph at the southern end of the service center.

The county, however, has planned to loop a northern extension of West boulevard westward to Telegraph in the north of the service center, providing one big loop around the county service buildings.

Detroit Police Clear in Gambling Probe

DETROIT (UP)—The Wayne County prosecutor's office says a two-month investigation has failed to turn up any evidence connecting gambling in Detroit's so-called "Greektown" with city police.

Arthur J. Koscinski, chief assistant prosecutor, said the investigation which began Feb. 1 turned up evidence of bookie activity, but added "it's hard to prove." He said no arrests will be made or warrants issued.

The probe was torched off by a letter to high police officials from missing Detroit gambler Thomas Karamanos. All efforts to find Karamanos thus far have been unsuccessful. The letter charged there were gamblers in the area who paid police to leave them alone.

Mud Stymies Area Firemen

Damage Set at $40,000 as Repair Shop, Garage Burns in Oxford Twp.

Muddy roads prevented firemen from saving a repair shop and garage filled with vehicles, tools and equipment at Marnest Farms, 3385 Delano Rd., Oxford Township, early this morning.

Damage was estimated at $40,000.

The Oxford Fire Department tanker got stuck, the village police car had to be towed out of the mire and an Addison Township fire truck sideswiped a car after hitting a rut on Oxford road.

Cause of the blaze which destroyed the farm building and the three trucks, tractor and tools stored inside is not known.

Marnest Farms is owned by Ernest C. Putnam. The Putnams are on a world cruise.

Addison Township Fire Chief Edward Porter said his department's two trucks could not take the most direct route because of the muddy roads. The one truck hit a rut on a curve, sending the rear end into a halted vehicle, he said.

If the two fire departments could have traveled on the back county roads, the loss might not have been as great, Porter said.

K's Daughter Rada Calls French Fashions a Fright

PARIS (UPI) — Nikita Khrushchev's daughter Rada took a parting shot at French high fashion before flying back to Moscow with her parents.

Asked whether the French clothes were not practical enough for her, she replied, "It's not just that, I found them frightful."

Little Ben-Hurly-Burly

By FRED DANZIG

NEW YORK (UPI)—The motion picture people may be slow learners when it comes to the mysteries of television, but they're learning nicely.

Case in point, they went to the NBC-TV Academy Awards special that was 20-minutes too short to one that ran 20-minutes over.

But I'm not complaining. Last night's production — the long form — was a lot of fun. The hurly-burly (or should we call it the "Ben-Hurly-burly") was at a minimum.

The smoothness of the 110-minute show was ruffled most appealingly by examples of nervousness, caused by the campaign tensions and the bright lights. As a result, the dramatic moments, while of only passing importance in the big picture (world, not motion), still achieved a compelling rapport with this viewer.

To my surprise, I found myself caught up in the suspense, even though I've only been to a few movies in the past year. (I guess TV viewing has made me a movie fan.)

While last night's show was expansive, entertaining and interesting, it had some stuffy, overwound moments. Fortunately, such lulls were at a minimum.

The delicately balanced components of glamor, suspense and emotion were never knocked out of whack by phony histrionics or stunts. The humor, generally speaking, was apt.

Deserving of the highest praise for the show's crispness was emcee Bob Hope. He uncorked some sharply-pointed barbs, some retreads, too, but his insouciant approach to the festivities was delightful.

The numerous producers, directors and writers for the show did well to lace musical numbers through the proceedings and they also gave Ella Fitzgerald and Yves Montand some big chunks of time, as pacechangers.

The Oscar-nominees in the song department were, however, all prerecorded and I thought this was an error. If prerecording the tunes is so essential, then the entire number is worth staging in a TV studio and putting on tape, in order to take advantage of more suitable stage craft.

There are a few special awards I'd like to bestow before the night fades.

—Best demonstration of unsynchronized lip movements to a prerecorded song: Frankie Vaughan.

—Best foreign import: Ziva Rodann.

—Special Jack Paar award: Shelley Winters.

—Best hairdo: Tony Curtis.

—Best demonstration of unsynchronized lip-and-body movements in a pre-recorded show: the half-hour table-hopping exhibition that preceded the official Oscarcast on NBC-TV.

In it, Tony Randall and Betsy Palmer ran through a number of chaotic interviews. Words like "excited," "good luck" and "butterflies" filled the air. It was, I suppose, a pure sample of unrigged TV.

Pontiac Home Building Spurts Over '59 in March

Home building in Pontiac last month was considerably more active than a year ago.

During March, city permits were issued for construction of 38 new family dwellings, as compared with 28 permits for the same period during 1959.

Home permits last month totaled $371,500 in value, compared with $230,000 a year ago.

The spurt in new homes combined with school construction to push last month's totals to 84 permits for $724,057 worth of construction and alterations, reported Carl F. Alt, city building inspector.

Comparable figures for March 1959 were 83 permits for $399,809 worth of construction.

Included in last month's figures were plans for a multipurpose room and new classrooms at Mark Twain School, costing a total $224,306.

A permit filed for $65,000 in alterations at Central High School involves general construction in the $87,183 rehabilitation planned for the swimming pool.

Mohawk in Air but on Cut Basis

UTICA, N.Y. (AP)—Mohawk Airlines was flying today, but service was cut 23 per cent, the company said, "to recoup some of our losses" during a 16-day shutdown that followed a brief strike by stewardesses.

Mohawk resumed its service to seven states Sunday and a spokesman said flights were normal.

The airline had announced the reduction—elimination of five daily round trips—but said it probably would be temporary.

The stewardesses signed their first contract with Mohawk Thursday. The pact calls for the same 6 per cent wage boost put into effect by the airline March 3, plus improved working conditions.

The hostesses, members of the Air Line Employes Assn., have a base wage of $240 to $310 per month.

Excuse me-

who gets the bourbon?

One of the most remarkable things bartenders do is to remember, with a whole bar full of people, who gets which drink. You know how you yourself get mixed up at home, serving only a foursome.

In the interests of research, therefore, we asked Oscar, our favorite bartender, how he remembers. "Easy," he said. "I tag my customers when they order. Like I say to myself—'the pinstripe suit' gets the martini—the 'mustache' has the Scotch. And lately I've been adding a new one. 'The tipper gets the bourbon and 'branch'."

Lately more and more bourbon is being ordered. The trend to bourbon has become a phenomenon of our town. Why? Because bourbon tastes better! It has a kind of rectitude to it, an honesty that is the way whiskey should taste. One of the most refreshing ways to drink bourbon is with "branch"—the country word for fresh water.

A fine bourbon to try is Old Crow. A long time ago DANIEL WEBSTER called it "the finest in the world." A great many people still think so today, since more Old Crow is bought than any other bourbon. At a light, mild 86 proof it is perfect for modern tastes. Have your bartender tag you as a bourbonite—and an Old Crow man.

Color Map Chronicals Sweep of Civil War

By PHILIP VAN DOREN STERN
NEA Writer

As the curtain rises on the centennial years, the battle map on Page 15 graphically shows the tremendous sweep and the scope of the American Civil War.

Hostilities began at 4:30 a.m., April 12, 1861, when Confederate batteries in Charleston Harbor fired at Fort Sumter. They ended, for all practical purposes, on April 9, 1865, at Appomattox when Lee surrendered to Grant.

During those four years more than 600,000 men died (more than in any other American war), and hundreds of thousands were crippled for life.

The direct cost to the Northern states was about $3,400,000,000, to which must be added $8,200,000,000 paid for pensions, making a total of $11,600,000,000.

What the Confederate states spent is unknown, but it must have been many millions, for their currency and bonds became worthless at the end of the war.

Countless other millions were lost when factories, public buildings, homes and ships were destroyed. It seems likely that the Civil War cost America at least $20,000,000,000 — an enormous sum for those days.

It freed nearly four million slaves at a cost of $5,000 per slave. Lincoln had wanted to buy their freedom peacefully by money from a long-term Federal loan. He thought $400 per slave was a fair price.

The major strategic land movements included the four-year struggle to take Richmond; Lee's two invasions of the North; the capture of the Mississippi River, which cut the Confederacy in half; and the drive to Atlanta and the sea, which cut the remaining half in quarters.

The ships on the map indicate the blockade that finally prevented the Confederacy from getting essential supplies from abroad.

Naval warfare ranged around the globe. Confederate cruisers prowled the Atlantic, Indian, Pacific, and Arctic Oceans. One of them — the famous Alabama—was sunk on June 19, 1864, by the U.S.S. Kearsarge off the coast of France.

MSUO Money Plea Rejected by House

'Ben-Hnr' Gallops Off With 11-Oscar Record

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The 15-million-dollar movie "Ben-Hur," most costly in Hollywood history, reaped 11 Oscars Monday night. It was the greatest Academy Award triumph ever scored.

Only for screenplay—material from another medium — did the classic tale of Biblical times fail to win the award for which it was nominated. The Screenplay Oscar went to the British-made "Room at the Top."

That movie also won the top actress award for she French actress, Simone Signoret.

"Ben-Hur" was not nominated for any actress awards.

Charlton Heston, who portrayed the title role Ben-Hur, won the award for best actor.

Hugh Griffith, a Welshman who played an Arab Sheik in "Ben-Hur," was named best supporting actor.

"Ben-Hur" also won the award for best picture and best director for William Wyler, practically wrapping up the top awards.

The picture, often called the screen's first intimate spectacular, also won awards for best costume design in color; best sound; best film editing; best art direction, which included best set direction by Hugh Hunt, who did the same job on the original silent "Ben-Hur" in 1924; best color cinematography, and best musical scoring.

Shelley Winters, nominated for the third time, was named best supporting actress for her work in "The Diary of Anne Frank."

Backstage, while talking to newsmen, she said: "Who else is winning? As if I care."

"Ben-Hur," by winning 11 Oscars, beat "Gigi," also produced by MGM as the alltime Oscar record holder. "Gigi" won nine Oscars last year—every category for which it was nominated.

The failure of Ben-Hur to win best screenplay was not a surprise. A controversy involving director William Wyler, the Screen Writers Guild and British writer Christopher Fry colored the voting.

Probably the most applauded award of the evening went to Bob Hope, perennial master of ceremonies for the Oscar show, who received the Jean Hersholt humanitarian award, a special Oscar.

Hope said, "I have no writers to cover a situation like this. I can only thank you very much."

Dem Acid Test in Wisconsin Primary Today

Results Crucial to Race of Kennedy, Humphrey —Nixon Is Unopposed

MILWAUKEE (UPI) — The nation's first big presidential election opened today in Wisconsin, putting the hopes of three main contenders to the acid test of the ballot box.

The polls opened at 7 a.m. and the total ballot was expected to exceed the record of one million-plus cast in 1952.

The weatherman predicted fair skies and a warm day.

Election interest was at a fever pitch, stirred in large part by the appearance of a religious issue and the hard-fought campaigns of two Democratic candidates.

One of them, Sen. John Kennedy of Massachusetts said zero hour is at hand today. "If I am beaten," he said, "I'm out."

Kennedy is considered the leading candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination and the favorite to win the election in Wisconsin.

His opponent, Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota, says he won't quit the race, regardless of today's outcome.

NIXON UNOPPOSED

Vice President Richard M. Nixon is running unopposed on the Republican ballot. He did not campaign in Wisconsin. Nevertheless, his showing will be compared to that of the Democratic candidates and the votes cast for GOP aspirants in previous Wisconsin primaries.

A great deal will become clear after the polls close at 8 p.m.

Humphrey and Kennedy are battling for 30 Democratic delegate votes. They are allocated on the basis of 25 from the 10 congressional districts, plus five at-large delegate votes.

Old Man Winter to Linger Here for Awhile

Old Man Winter will linger a little longer in the Pontiac area with snow flurries hitting the area through today and the temperature remaining a cool 30 tonight.

Wednesday will see temperatures rising to a high of 53 and skies fair, the weatherman reports.

Winds northwest at 10-20 miles an hour this morning will become variable to southerly Wednesday.

Twenty-nine was the lowest recording in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. At 1 p.m. the thermometer reading was 35.

Mendoza Gets Prison Term

Orion Twp. Youth, 17, Sent to Jackson for Newton Holdup

A 17-year-old Orion Township youth will join his tutor in crime behind Jackson Prison bars after futile efforts by his attorney yesterday to spare him this fate.

Theodore A. Mendoza, of 3031 Indianwood Rd., was sentenced to 2½ to 10 years by Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland for armed robbery. He pleaded guilty Feb. 16.

His plea came on the opening day of the trial of his buddy, Victor L. Hood, 25, a Pontiac convict, and Carroll L. Lay, 17, also of Orion Township, for the holdup shooting last Nov. 30 of a young Highland Township gas station attendant.

Hood was sentenced to 30 years to life because he pumped a bullet into Frankie Dale Newton's back. Lay, who claimed he was only an innocent bystander, was acquitted by a jury.

Newton is expected never to walk again.

With Lay's acquittal in mind yesterday, Mendoza's attorney, Milton R. Henry, tried unsuccessfully to withdraw his client's plea.

Voice Vote Kills $976,220 Fund 'Write-In' Bid

Balloting on Education Bill Due Tomorrow; County Hopes Dead

By MAX E. SIMON

LANSING—Michigan legislators last night crushed a last-ditch attempt by Oakland County representatives to get more for hard-pressed Michigan State University Oakland.

In a voice vote, the House beat down a proposal by Rep. Lloyd L. Anderson (R-Waterford Township) to write into the higher education appropriations bill a $976,220 budget for MSUO.

Although the bill will not be voted on until tomorrow, the county's lawmakers agreed that, for MSUO, it's all over but the shouting.

And, Anderson said, there won't even be much of that. "It's useless—it's apparent how the House will vote," he said.

The Legislature does not appropriate money for MSUO. The fledgling institution's budget is included in the legislative appropriation for Michigan State University.

The MSU Board of Trustees, governing body of both institutions, decides how to split the cash between the two schools.

Legislators estimate that MSUO will probably receive about $870,000 for next year's operations. The university had asked for $1,065,000.

Rep. S. James Clarkson (D-Southfield) voted against the attempt to hike the MSUO budget.

CLARKSON DISSENTS

"What's right is right," Clarkson said, as he split with the other five members of the Oakland group on MSUO's money problem.

"If MSUO needs more money, then it's within the province of the Board of Trustees to grant it," he declared.

"Obviously the Board didn't see

City Cautious on State Law Threatening More Taxes

Pontiac city officials today had an unimpressed "wait and see" attitude towards a new tax bill headed for Gov. William's signature.

The bill, hardly publicized during its passage through the Legislature, has suddenly raised speculation in some quarters concerning its possible effect on the city taxpayer's pocketbook.

City Manager Walter K. Willman gave assurances, though, that the city administration plans to ask for no more in property tax collections this year than was approved by the City Commission in the annual appropriation ordinance adopted at budget time in January.

Of the new bill he said:

"It's a little academic, but we'll have to study it. It may require us to make some changed we hadn't planned. But I doubt that the changes would be more than academic — they probably would not have any effect on the taxpayer."

The bill was drawn up by Detroit bonding attorneys for the specific purpose of benefiting municipal interest rates.

It would have at least one effect, according to one interpretation: to increase the amount of actual cash a municipality can borrow through a reduction in the present debt ratios.

It would do this by specifying that municipal debt limitations are now based on state equalized valuations, not on the generally lower locally assessed valuations used as a basis for debt limitation in the past.

In Pontiac, for instance, the debt limitation is eight per cent of the

This year's report will appear as a special supplement in Saturday's edition.

It will be bigger and better by far than last year's, promised John A. Riley, Press advertising director, and Robert A. Stierer, assistant city manager, who have coordinated preparation.

Legislators Battling Plan

College Mediator Post Up in Air

EAST LANSING (UPI)—Sharp protests from legislative leaders today left presidents of Michigan's nine state colleges and universities up in the air on plans to hire a $25,000-a-year mediator and fact finder.

Creation of the top level post by the Council of State College Presidents had been slated for today in a move to end open bickering over money for higher education.

It also was aimed at discouraging a move by some legislators to establish a chancellor or super governing body for the nine schools.

Objections raised by House and Senate leaders last night might have thrown cold water on the proposal—at least for the time being.

Dr. Edgar L. Harden, council chairman and president of Northern Michigan College, said the group agreed more than six months ago to hire a research expert to dig up facts and figures on higher education in Michigan and referee money squabbles.

But with a record high $109,031,000 budget for higher education in 1960-61 yet to clear the Legislature, Harden said the college heads would "reappraise" their decision.

"A waste," snapped Sen. Elmer R. Porter (R-Blissfield), chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee.

"This man will end up being a lobbyist, too, I'm sure of that," he said. "And I'll give you four dollars to doughnuts if you ever get the nine state schools to agree on anything by themselves."

To head off appointment of a college coordinator, the Senate tacked an amendment on the higher education bill declaring the Legislature's intention that "no position of chancellor or coordinator of higher education be established."

The House changed it to read ". . . be created except by the Legislature." Last night it turned down a proposal by Rep. Charles A. Boyer (R-Manistee) to allow college presidents to name a coordinator.

"We should let them get the facts and figures they're looking for," said Boyer, chairman of a legislative study committee on higher education. "That's a whale of a lot better than coercing them."

Rep. James F. Warner (R-Ypsilanti) called for appointment of a research expert "employed by the Legislature and responsible only to the Legislature."

"He must be hired by an agency outside the colleges to be effective," he said.

If the Legislature continues to object, Harden said, the proposed $60,000 annual budget for the research and his staff might be drawn from private funds.

Ike Heaps Plaudits on 'His Boy', Nixon

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Abundant praise from President Eisenhower gave Vice President Richard M. Nixon a timely boost today in his bid for votes in the Wisconsin presidential primary.

Eisenhower, who had previously given an informal endorsement to Nixon at a news conference, did his best last night to remind the voters that Nixon is his candidate by pouring praise on the vice president.

The President spoke at a rally and box supper here attended by about 7,000 persons, including the 3,000 delegates to the annual National Conference of Republican Women.

Eisenhower said the 1952 GOP convention had picked "a highly talented man" for the vice presidential nomination.

"None of us has ever regretted that choice," he declared. "Dick Nixon has been a credit to the administration, to our party and to our country.

Since 1952 he has gained nearly eight years of added governmental experience at the highest level — a tour of seasoning unmatched in the nation's history.

"All of us know him as a man of integrity and deep faith — one who is intelligent, mature, and uniquely knowledgeable in the problems and personalities in the world scene. And along with this he has that priceless gift, a sense of humor — indispensable in politics."

The President was applauded five times during this brief segment of his speech.

Good Election Turnouts in Area Yesterday

Although no records were broken, voter turnout was considered good in almost all Oakland County area elections yesterday.

Voters in 11 cities and the village of Wolverine Lake went to the polls to fill posts in local government and, in several cases to decide special issues.

The biggest upset of the day was achieved at Walled Lake where political newcomer Gene Schoch won the justice of the peace office over incumbent Herman A. Roth and Councilman Marshall E. Taylor by an overwhelming majority.

Continuation of an eight-mill school operating tax was approved by voters in the Brandon School District.

For details on these and all other area election results, see page 12.

Mud Stymies Area Firemen

Damage Set at $40,000 as Repair Shop, Garage Burns in Oxford Twp.

Muddy roads prevented firemen from saving a repair shop and garage filled with vehicles, tools and equipment at Marnest Farms, 3385 Delano Rd., Oxford Township, early this morning.

Damage was estimated at $40,000.

The Oxford Fire Department tanker got stuck, the village police car had to be towed out of the mire and an Addison Township fire truck sideswiped a car after hitting a rut on Oxford road.

Cause of the blaze which destroyed the farm building and the three trucks, tractor and tools stored inside is not known.

Addison Township Fire Chief Edward Porter said his department's two trucks could not take the most direct route because of the muddy roads. The one truck hit a rut on a curve, sending the rear end into a halted vehicle, he said.

If the two fire departments could have traveled on the back county roads, the loss might not have been as great, Porter said.

Bed Catches Fire, One Man Dies; 2 Suffer Burns

A former Drayton Plains man died early Saturday morning in the Detroit Receiving Hospital as a result of second and third degree burns suffered when his bed caught fire, according to Detroit firemen.

Before he died, Lyell B. Pedersen, 40, of 90 Davenport St., Detroit, was able to tell officials that his wife had apparently fallen asleep while smoking and the bed clothes caught fire. The blaze was confined to the apartment.

Also in critical condition at Receiving Hospital is Pedersen's wife, Zofia, and a guest, Harry Ward, 44, address unknown. All suffered second and third degree burns.

Pedersen was the son of Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Pedersen, of 4038 Lomley St., Drayton Plains. He is also survived by two sons, two brothers and a sister.

Funeral service will be held 11 a.m. tomorrow at the Donelson-Johns Funeral Home and burial will be at Ottawa Park.

Bound Over for Trial in Rochester Theft

The two Pontiac youths arrested in connection with the break-in March 31 of Milton's Mobil service station in Rochester waived examination yesterday and were bound over to Circuit Court.

Michael Tucker, 18, of 55 Clovese St., and Willie J. Jones, 19, of 464 Ditmar St., were arraigned before Rochester Justice of the Peace Luther B. Green.

They were remanded back to jail, unable to furnish $1,000 bond.

About $100 was taken from a steel filing cabinet in the station, 1031 N. Main St., during the break-in, Rochester police said.

Ypsilanti Lauds James Bauchat, Ex-Pontiac Man

James Bauchat, formerly of Pontiac, was honored by Ypsilanti as he prepared to depart from the community he served devotedly, for a new challenge in New York.

Bauchat, a Pontiac Central High School graduate, officially ended his career last week with the Ford Motor Co. as manager of the Ypsilant plant.

He becomes vice president and controller of the New York Banking and Trust Co. on April 15.

A "James Bauchat Night" was held in tribute of his service with the Ypsilanti Community Chest, the Salvation Army Board and the American Red Cross.

A plaque for "outstanding community service" was presented Bauchat by Jack Shipman, chairman of the Washtenaw County Red Cross, and Fred Seyfried, president of the Ypsilanti Community Chest.

Jack Keller, a Ford Motor Co. supervisor, presented Bauchat a hi-fi set on behalf of the company.

County Auditors Seek Nod From City Tonight on Relocation Move

The Oakland County Board of Auditors has asked the City Commission to authorize final planning for the relocation of West boulevard eastward in a broad loop around the new county courthouse.

The request will go to the Commission for approval tonight.

The relocation in mind so far would curve West boulevard—a gravel road—about 900 feet eastward over property owned by the county as part of its Telegraph road service center.

Both the Board of Supervisors and the city must eventually approve the new route.

The city also is being asked to vacate to the county portions of the existing West boulevard.

Although the new courthouse tower is going up immediately east of West boulevard, the additions contemplated would sprawl westward across the present road.

The realignment, as presently planned, would not affect the point at which West boulevard connects with Telegraph at the southern end of the service center.

The county, however, has planned to loop a northern extension of West boulevard westward to Telegraph in the north of the service center, providing one big loop around the county service buildings.

Minnie Won't Be There as Votes Are Recorded

Come Aug. 3 things just won't be the same when the Oakland County Board of Canvassers convenes.

Someone else will be picking up the fine-pointed pen to carefully inscribe—as Minnie did with such great pride—thousands of figures in the ledgers of the 1960 primary election held the day before.

Mrs. William Sherwood, affectionately known by her many friends as Minnie, won't be reporting in at the required 11 a.m. time.

She died Saturday night as the result of an auto accident in Pontiac.

It was death, too, that placed Minnie Sherwood on the three-member Board of Canvassers back in 1944. Former member David Dernberger died suddenly eight days before the general November election that year.

The Board of Supervisors had to act fast. Already scheduled to meet the day after Dernberger's death, supervisors looked to the Register of Deeds Office for a replacement.

They selected Mrs. Sherwood who had worked in that office for 19 years.

Mrs. Sherwood, 64, of 2165 Oxley Dr., Waterford Township, served as secretary on the Board up until her death. She was known for her exquisite penmanship.

"I feel a great grief about her loss," said Mrs. Sarah F. Garrett of 4774 Broadway St., Commerce Township, chairman since Mrs. Sherwood's appointment.

Supervisors are expected to name a successor April 12.

The third member of the Board, Carlos G. Richardson, said "a good citizen and a fine friend has left us."

Mrs. Mabel M. Child, county election clerk, said, "She kept her books so beautiful," she said "Minnie was such a wonderful person to work with . . . a grand person."

Mrs. Sherwood's body is at the Donelson-Johns Funeral Home.

S. African Police Beat Negroes Who Don't Work

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP)—Police with armored cars swept through the twin Negro townships of Nyanga East and West again today, beating up Africans found staying away from work.

Witnesses said the police, backed by troops, used whips and clubs on rebellious Negroes as they did Monday. One source said police gunfire had wounded at least one woman.

"There are other casualties," the source said, "but I am not certain how many or whether they were shot or just beaten up."

Col. V. Reay, acting deputy police commissioner for Cape Town, confirmed that the police had opened fire but said only warning shots were fired over the heads of Africans who gathered.

Reay said the police entered Nyanga to offer protection for Negroes who wanted to go to work and to round up "intimidators" preventing them.

DRAGGED OUT

Africans in the township claimed police smashed windows and doors of houses and ordered Negroes into the streets. If they refused, they were dragged out and beaten, they said.

"Even those who obeyed the order were beaten up," said one African witness.

Other reports from the township said Africans had decided to resist police and began gathering, armed with sticks and rocks. It appeared that when police saw Africans banding together, they charged in to scatter them.

Just before dawn helicopters dropped leaflets, telling laborers in the township to go to work before 8 a.m. and warning against forming groups. Helicopters flying low over Nyanga broadcast the message. A Military Cordon, clamped around Nyanga since Monday, was lifted at dawn but only a few Africans came out to go to work.

After the police moved in and began their raids, the cordon was closed again, and no more Negroes were allowed out.

Land fighting, too, ranged beyond the area shown on the map.

There were battles in New Mexico, Arizona and California, an Indian uprising in Minnesota, an invasion of Vermont from Canada, and clashes at arms in all the Territories of the West. More than 10,000 engagements, major and minor, took place.

Men died not only in the big battles; 1,861 were killed, wounded or missing in the fight at Olustee, Fla.; 164 in the raid on Lawrence, Kan.; 142 at Glorietta, N.M.

No one knows how many perished in the bloody draft riots that swept New York City in July 1863. More than a thousand civilians and soldiers may have been killed then.

Union records and statistics are fairly good; Confederate are not because many of them were lost or destroyed. More than three million men took part in the war, and more were killed by disease than in battle.

The bullet was the most dangerous weapon, responsible for 94 per cent of all the wounds.

Only 5½ per cent were caused by cannon, grenades, or land mines. Surprisingly enough, cutting or stabbing weapons like bayonets, knives or swords inflicted only one-half of one per cent of the wounds.

When the war began, the regular U. S. Army of fewer than 16,000 men had 114 surgeons; of these, 16 left to join the Confederates. More surgeons came with the new volunteer regiments, North and South.

Antisepsis was still unheard of so a doctor would pass from one wounded man to another with bloody, unwashed hands, unknowingly spreading disease and death.

Field amputations were common, with ether or chloroform used as anesthetics—when available.

A wounded man had a better chance for survival if he was cared for in a private home or open-air tent hospital than if he was put into a hospital building where infection sometimes raged through the wards.

Yet despite all the horrors of such a war, the conflict went on year after year with neither side willing to quit.

But the common soldier — the man who had to do the actual fighting — seldom bore grudges and fraternizing with the enemy was widespread as tobacco, newspapers, and even food were passed between the lines.

At the beginning, it was felt shameful to take cover, so thousands died in picturesque but murderous open-field charges. The men—and their officers—gradually learned.

At the end of the war, during the long siege of Petersburg and Richmond, earthworks had become so extensive that the fighting settled down to a stalemate foreshadowing that of the even more heavily entrenched World War I.

The Civil War saw the use of such novelties as brass cartridges, successful repeating weapons — even including primitive machine guns—ironclad warships, crude submarines, underwater torpedoes (exploded electrically and by contact), aerial observation, field telegraphs and armored railroad cars.

In 1890, the Pension Office predicted that the last Union veteran would be dead by 1945.

This actuarial guess was wrong by 11 years, for Albert Woolson, the last Union survivor, did not die until 1956. And he was outlived by three Confederates.

When Walter Williams, the last of them, died in Houston, Tex., on Dec. 19, 1959, the Civil War was over.

The President issued this formal statement:

"The chief actors in that great and tragic drama have all passed from the world stage. No longer are they the Blue and Gray. All rest together as Americans in honored glory."

To the men of those great and now vanished armies, at last reunited in Valhalla, a hero's toast: Skoal!

Gilford Every Found Dead at His Home

A Clarkston man was found dead in the basement of his home Monday afternoon.

Pontiac state police said Gilford Every, 54, of 122 Holcomb St., suffered a self-inflicted bullet wound of the head. A pistol was found near his body.

Relatives told troopers that Every had been despondent for several months. He was president and manager of the Pontiac Sheet Metal and Roofing Co.

Big Miss Taking a Breather

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Flood danger eased temporarily along the Mississippi River in Illinois and Missouri today after extensive damaging overflows. But the big Missouri was on a rampage at several points along its winding route through the state.

The Mississippi, which battered through levees north of Quincy, Ill., Monday, inundating 30,000 acres of rich farm land, relieved some of the pressure downstream.

Army engineers warned the Mississippi probably would begin to rise again in a day or two. The big river, fed by swollen tributaries in parts of the eight-state Midwest flood belt, already has driven some 2,000 persons from their homes in Illinois and Missouri.

Volunteer workers patroled the entire 100-mile area from Niota, Ill., across the river from Fort Madison, Iowa, to Pike Station, opposite Louisiana, Mo.

On the Missouri side, the letup enabled volunteer workers to shore up, sandbag and do other emergency work on water-softened levees. Clear weather prevailed.

The spring floods in the Midwest, hitting hard at Nebraska and Iowa and also causing trouble in Wisconsin, Kansas, South Dakota and Michigan, have forced evacuation of 28,000 persons from their homes, the Red Cross estimated. A spokesman predicted the number would rise to 40,000 before the waters recede.

The Missouri, which Army engineers said already has inundated more than 500,000 acres of land, continued to rise. Army engineers, after an aerial inspection of the Missouri basin, estimated damage at about 5 million dollars.

Workers, ranging from Boy Scouts to convicts, were called to help strengthen the Missour levees. National Guard units were on an alert status.

The flooding at St. Joseph, in northwest Missouri, was the second worst of the century, second only to the 1952 spring overflows, but damage was not heavy. Subsiding of the North Grand and Chariton rivers was expected to bring a slight drop in the Missouri at Boonville, in mid-Missouri.

Auto Accident Account in Press Corrected

In an account of an auto accident in yesterday's Pontiac Press, it was stated that an injured party, Margie Ballard, 18, of 2243 Palmer Ave., Madison Heights, was riding with driver Robert J. Yeacker, 20, of 960 Lake view Dr., Waterford Township and Yeacker's wife at the time of the accident early Saturday on Telegraph road in the township.

Yeacker is not married. He and Miss Ballard were alone in the car. The Press regrets the error.

City Is Cautious on State Tax Law

But the city is only in debt to the tune of $2,500,000 — for the hospital expansion — and could borrow a great deal more if it wanted to, even under the present limitation.

If the new law is adopted and lets the city borrow on the basis of its much higher state equalized valuation, naturally the amount of money it could borrow would rise considerably.

"But at the moment we're relatively free of debt and have a long ways to go before we have to worry about our capacity to borrow," said Willman.

The bill was urged by several Michigan cities that are not in Pontiac's enviable position as far as debt is concerned.

A cosponsor of the bill, Rep. George C. Steeh of Mt. Clemens said that East Detroit, for instance, needs help to raise its debt limitation in order to participate in a $25 million drainage project.

It is a side effect of the bill that has caused raised eyebrows, though.

NEW SYSTEM SEEN

According to several interpretations, municipal taxes would have to be levied from this time forward on state equalized values, not locally assessed values.

Three officials who reportedly share this opinion are Rep. Rollo G. Conlin of Tipton, House taxation chairman; Edward B. Mikrut, director of the Municipal Finance Commission; and Edward W. Kane, executive secretary of the State Tax Commission.

Willman said he was unaware of this interpretation and added that it has been his opinion up to now that the law would spell out only that cities have the option of levying on the higher state equalized values.

If, however, state equalized values are to be used by cities in spreading taxes from now on, it is generally agreed the door has been opened for much higher tax collections, unless cities elect to drop their tax rates.

The effect, if they didn't, would be a bigger burden on the individual taxpayer.

For instance, if Pontiac's tax rate remained at $13.27 for every $1,000 of valuation, the individual taxpayer would pay more if the valuation in question were the higher, state equalized valuation on his property than on the lower, city assessed valuation.

But this is "an academic" possibility, assured Willman.

"If we must use the higher valuation, then we'll lower the tax rate. We don't intend to bill the taxpayer for any more cash than we indicated in January."

The possibility was raised in Lansing that under the new law, officials in other Michigan cities, striking a pose of helplessness, might decide against a compensating cutback in the tax rate and blame the result—a steep increase in tax bills and an outcry from property owners—on "Lansing."

Not here, though, said Willman.

The manager pointed out that under a State Supreme Court opinion of 1954, the city could have been levying taxes on state equalized valuations for the past five years.

"But we haven't. We prefer to stick with our locally assessed values. And we object to state laws that restrict our local powers to determine our tax base."

It was pointed out that the bill would have no bearing at all on procedures followed by school districts and counties which now levy on state equalized valuations.

The Pontiac School District levies on state equalized valuations, and so does Oakland County, to all intents and purposes.

Waterford May Ask Plan Unit

Township Attorney to Draw Up Proposition for August Vote

The Waterford Township Board last night authorized township attorney Paul Mandel to draw up a proposal for the August primary election ballot calling for the establishment of a township planning commission.

Another proposition to be placed on the same ballot will concern the abolition of annual township meetings in Waterford. This had been recommended by residents at Saturday's annual township meeting.

Recent legislation clears the way for townships the size of Waterford to establish a 7- or 9-member planning commission to make recommendations for final approval by the township board.

A protest from Mrs. Lorena Adams of 2691 Elsinore St., in the Huron Gardens subdivision, who said she paid the township more than $800 for a special assessment sewer hookup was discussed at length. Mrs. Adams said her sewer line is connected to a main line installed in 1940, which had been paid for. Members tabled the matter for further investigation.

Several township employes in administrative positions were granted slight pay raises, and the board raised township attorney Paul Mandel's annual salary from $2,400 to $3,000. The board also authorized the purchase of a $400 adding machine for the treasurer's office.

After the township board adjourned, the same group reconvened as the Heath Department and reappointed Dr. John Naz township health officer for a year.

real gains in the Senate, where the Democrats now hold an insurmountable margin.

He also cuffed the Democrats in defending the foreign, defense and domestic policies of his administration.

"Our nation is the most powerful in the world and only the ignorant and the blind insist it to be otherwise," he said.

The President said some Democrats apparently believed in a "myth" that all problems can be solved by subsidies from the federal treasury.

"Extravagance and statesmanship can never be happily wedded," he said.

Nixon introduced Eisenhower but made no political speech of his own. He said the President had given the GOP the best record any political party ever had to run on in an election year and described Eisenhower as a man who had brought honesty and integrity to the White House.

The Day in Birmingham

4 Incumbents Re-Elected; 4 Proposals Approved

BIRMINGHAM — Four incumbents were re-elected to the City Commission and four proposals were approved by voters here in yesterday's general election.

Also re-elected were two members of the Library Board and the constable. Another Library Board members was also named.

Only 19 per cent, or 2,418, of the 13,030 registered voters turned out at the polls.

Renamed to the City Commission for three-year terms were Mrs. Florence Willett, 1,797; William E. Roberts, 1,427; and William H. Burgum, 1,301.

Failing in their bids for the three-year terms were Robert B. Aikens, 931, and Ralph A. Mains, 1,164.

Incumbent Councilman Lance Minor defeated Claude Kidd in his bid for the one-year Commission vacancy, 1,520 to 719.

Mrs. Katherine Smith and James Tobin were both re-elected to the Library Board for three-year terms.

Mrs. Smith polled 1,737 votes and Tobin, 1,311. Their opposition, Arthur J. Underwood, carried 1,071 votes.

Unopposed to fill a two year vacancy on the Library Board, Mrs. Carlyn Ashley Vogt received 2,041 votes.

Constable Jack Baisley, who was unopposed, polled 1,315 votes.

All four proposals won by a wide margin.

Proposition I seeking approval for the sale of city-owned land was approved 1,720 to 387.

The other three propositions were charter amendments.

The first amendment proposed that the position of constable be made appointive rather than elective. It was approved 1,632 to 528.

Approval was given 2,093 to 139 to the second charter change that will make all elective offices subject to a two-year residence requirement.

The third amendment carried 2,011 to 176. The amendment will make it clear that all appointments to fill vacancies on the Library Board will not be made by the City Commission.

In the Bloomfield Hills general election yesterday, only 72 voters turned out to rename two City Commissioners and a constable. There was no opposition for the three posts.

Re-elected were Commissioners James A. Beresford and Henry L. Woolfenden and Constable Homer Murphy.

French President in London to Visit Queen Elizabeth

LONDON (AP) — French President Charles de Gaulle arrived by jetliner today for a three-day state visit to Queen Elizabeth II.

Making his first visit to Britain since the island nation gave him haven in World War II, the soldier-president also will talk with Prime Minister Harold Macmillan about the economic split in Western Europe and issues that will be discussed at the East-West summit conference next month.

fit to give MSUO more money. Why else would the school be coming here—hat in hand?"

Clarkston said it was "wrong" that MSU didn't have to account for how it spent funds after receiving its appropriation from the Legislature.

"And it's wrong that MSUO has to do what it's doing. But two wrongs don't make a right," he asserted.

He was the only representative from the county who didn't argue MSUO's case last week before the House Ways and Means committee hearings.

In his plea for more MSUO funds, Anderson admitted that the cost of educating students there was high.

"But go look at other universities when they started out," he told legislators. "Their costs were high, too."

Anderson pointed out that only four students at MSUO are from out of state, while at some universities one of four is not from Michigan.

He also said that the average cost of educating a student at the University of Michigan ($1,333) and MSU ($1,078) was higher than the cost at MSUO.

"Our $965 per student stands up favorably."

Anderson's argument was attacked by four Ways and Means Committee members.

"I just can't understand this pressure to increase the MSUO appropriations—and I'd like to know where it's coming from. That school is getting more than it needs," said Rep. James F. Warner (R-Ypsilanti).

Rep. Carroll S. Newton (R-Delton) said the comparison of per pupil costs at U. of M. and MSUO was "poor."

"Anderson is unrealistic," he charged.

Rep. Arnell Engstrom (R-Traverse City), chairman of the committee, said that the Legislature should not take the power to distribute funds from the MSU Board of Trustees.

"They (the trustees) govern the universities, and should decide how to split the money," he said. "If they want to give 10 million dollars to MSUO, it's okay with me."

The fourth Ways and Means Committee member, Rep. Harry J. Phillips (R-Port Huron) said he could "curl everyone's hair" as far as MSUO was concerned.

"But I won't do it," he added. Anderson said that MSU President John A. Hannah couldn't ask the Board of Trustees to give MSUO a bigger share of the MSU allocation.

"Everyone here knows what a cry his faculty would put up," Anderson said.

The House vote was another in a series of setbacks for MSUO in the Legislature. The Senate voted almost unanimously against increasing funds for MSUO, despite a vigorous floor fight by Sen. L. Harvey Lodge (R-Waterford Township).

"I knew I was going to have my skin peeled," Anderson said, after the debate.

He will again seek to amend the bill before the House votes tomorrow, but it will only be "for the record."

"There's no use arguing — their minds are fixed," he said resignedly.

Senatorial Election Gets Special Attention

GOP Out to Win in Key North Dakota

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans are preparing for an all-out effort in a special North Dakota senatorial election which could influence the whole presidential campaign.

Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, chairman of the Republican Senatorial Campaign Committee, said that so far as the June 28 North Dakota balloting is concerned "this is it."

"If we Republicans lose this special election in the Midwest just prior to the convention, it will influence the whole campaign this year," he said. "If we can't win in a key pivotal state like this, we may lose the presidential election."

Republicans have nominated Gov. John E. Davis to fill the remainder of more than four years of the term of the late Republican Sen. William Langer. Democrats are expected to nominate Rep. Quentin N. Burdick at their state convention Thursday.

URGES NIXON

Because the farm issue is likely to be paramount, Goldwater said he has been urging Vice President Richard M. Nixon to go into the state and make a farm speech.

Goldwater thinks this program may prove to be something of an antidote to the policies of Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson. Benson's ideas are under heavy attack from Democrats and many Middle Western Republicans are considerably less than charmed with them.

"We know that Nixon doesn't agree with Benson," Goldwater said in an interview, "but we don't know the extent to which he doesn't."

Thus far Nixon has said no to Goldwater's pleas for a North Dakota speech.

Arrangements have been made for New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller to make a two-day tour in North Dakota. Rockefeller has sent word to the senatorial committee to hold down on bookings for formal speeches.

The New York governor wants to try out his smile on North Dakotans. So he'll take to the streets, the supermarkets and the roadside farm stands to pass the Republican word.

Goldwater indicated the Republicans will try to hang a radical label on Burdick. He said Burdick will get help not only from the Democratic senatorial and national committees but from Americans for Democratic Action, the Farmers Union and the AFL-CIO's Committee on Political Action.

"If Burdick should win, I'm afraid it will influence both parties to go left," Goldwater said. "And if the Republicans get into a 'me too' position, we're going to lose the election."

Business Off at Register of Deeds Office

Business in the Oakland County Register of Deeds Office fell off last month—to the tune of $2,040—as compared to the same time in 1959.

Register Daniel T. Murphy Jr. announced in a monthly summary that last month receipts totaling $17,620 came in from recording 12,573 papers. For the same period last year there were 13,639 papers with $19,660 receipts filed in the office, Murphy said.

The biggest contributor of receipts—deeds and mortgages—declined over the 12-month span causing the decline in total intake.

There were 2,513 deeds and 1,280 mortgages filed last year for 8,577, while last month but 2,269 deeds and 913 mortgages for $6,889 were recorded.

Chattel mortages, however, showed a slight increase. There were 6,733 such mortgages filed last month compared to 6,603 filed last year.

Murphy said there were five new plats recorded last month also.

Toynbee Says Russia Should Fear China

NEW YORY (UPI)—British historian Arnold Toynbee says that Russians should be "more anxious" about Communist China than about any danger from the West.

"If I try and put myself in the place of a Russian now," Toynbee said in an appearance on television, "I think I should be more anxious about China than I should be about the Western countries."

Outline Positions in Cigarette Suit

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Counsel for a man who contends he contracted lung cancer from smoking cigarettes and for a tobacco company outlined their positions Monday to a federal court jury which will hear what may be a precedent setting case.

On trial is a leading cigarette produce (Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.). The action was brought by Otto Pritchard, 61, Pittsburgh carpenter, who contended he became a cancer victim because of the firm's "deceitful advertising" and negligence.

James P. Mc Ardle, attorney for the plaintiff, said commercials given on behalf of the company by leading television figures such as Arthur Godfrey, Perry Como and Bing Crosby indicated they "smoked as many as two packs a day."

Mc Ardle contended the company did nothing to alter the advertising after doctors warned of the effects of heavy cigarette smoking.

Attorney Earl Reed, appearing for the company, declared he would show that "a great majority of people in the medical profession believe it is not possible to establish cigarettes as the cause of cancer."

Port Huron Judge Takes U.S. Bench

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—Judge Clifford O'Sullivan of Port Huron was sworn in Monday as judge of the U.S. Court of Appeals, Sixth Circuit. The court covers Michigan, Ohio, Kentucky and Tennessee.

The brief but impressive ceremonies brought the court to its full strength of six members.

Judge O'Sullivan, who has been U.S. district judge at Detroit for the eastern district, was named to the post by President Eisenhower last Jan. 13 and succeeds the retired Judge Charles Simons.

With his hand on an open Bible, Judge O'Sullivan was sworn in by Chief Judge Thomas McAllister of Grand Rapids, a long time personal friend.

The new judge will serve with judges McAllister, Lester L. Cecil, John D. Martin, Shackelford Miller Jr. and Paul C. Weick.

Senator Byrd's New Plan Cuts Spending

HARRY F. BYRD, Democratic Senator from Virginia and one of the great American statesmen today, outlines his own beliefs on the nation's needs.

Senator Byrd has long stood as a champion of the American taxpayers in his unremitting battle against increasing costs and more Government expense. The free loaders and the free spenders of the nation are always conscious that the shadow of this great Virginian falls across their paths in their attempts to wheedle more out of the chap that foots the bills back home.

Senator BYRD favors these items:

1. Stopping expenditures in excess of income by eliminating non-essential spending;

2. Reducing the Federal debt; this would be a great deterrent to inflation for the present and lift some of the burden we are loading on generations of the future;

3. Watching and controlling Federal highway programs, to keep the interstate system from running wild at the expense of farm-to-market and other important State roads;

4. Conducting a constructive review of the Public Law 480 farm product export program; and

5. Curbing the excesses indulged in by labor leaders, without destroying the right of collective bargaining.

Senator Byrd pledged himself to pursuing this program "to the fullest extent of my capacity and energy."

Republicans and Democrats alike can cheer the Virginian.

Deep South Moderates Calling for Civil Rights

Thoughtful and important voices of the South are making themselves heard in the field of voting and other civil rights for Negroes.

Gov. LEROY COLLINS of Florida, who has made a record of moderation in racial matters, declared in a television interview that while a store owner may have the legal right to refuse to sell food to Negroes, "I still don't think he can square that right with moral, simple justice."

When Florida was arguing about desegregation in public schools, the Governor emphasized that the real issue was between public schools and no public schools. As a result that state managed to shun racial violence and extreme legislation. The State University now admits Negroes and a tentative start has been made in integration of a Miami school.

In a strong editorial the Florence (Ala.) Times tells its readers that it is useless for Southern politicians to appear in Washington against Federal action in civil rights "when they do nothing at home to correct the very abuses civil rights legislation is designed to correct."

The Federal Government, adds the Times, will do "whatever it wills to do to end these abuses regardless of the opposition offered by the deep South's handful of Senators . . . We are destroying ourselves by defending practices against which there is no defense in any decent democratic society."

It's a welcome sign of progress when voices such as these from the Deep South itself, are stirring the conscience of its people.

The Man About Town

Suburban Sprawl

Offered as a Solution to Unbridled Cities' Growth

TV: An abbreviation of "'Tis Vicious."

is Director, cites Pontiac as a new town planned under single ownership.

It tells of the good start of the Pontiac Company in its original plat in 1818, which laid the foundation around which our city has grown. It called for a business center, surrounded by a ring of residential and garden plots "of less than ten acres."

But today Pontiac, like many other cities is faced with the almost total loss of rural land surrounding it. However, modern transportation facilities and good roads make the "suburban sprawl" quite feasible.

Without doubt the federal census now under way will show its largest growth in areas that only a few years ago were regarded as rural. In former years the country people moved to town. Now the trend is reversed, the town people are moving to the country.

The removal of the old Oak Grove Sanatarium buildings in connection with Flint's growth has a local echo. Its medical director for many years was the late who went there from Pontiac where he had been superintendent of Pontiac State Hospital.

"As a consistent reader of five daily newspapers," phones

Abraham Fellows

of Rochester, "I was not surprised when The Pontiac Press was cited as the one with the best out-state news coverage."

There's a Pontiac area angle to the narrow escape of two Seventh Day Adventist ministers in the Saginaw flood the other day. One of them, the

Rev. Charles J. Danforth,

of Owosso, is a former Holly resident.

One Finds Out After the Honeymoon

David Lawrence Says:

You Can't Hide Nuclear Secrets

WASHINGTON—The next step in the game of "nuclear blackmail" seems to be approaching. Evidently Red China has been secretly aided by the Soviet Union in preparing for admission to the "nuclear club." The big question soon will be what price the free world is to be asked to pay to try to persuade Red China to accept limitations on the testing and developing of atomic weapons.

LAWRENCE

President Eisenhower in his press conference last week revealed that, in trying to get a ban on nuclear tests, the "driving force" among the free nations is an effort to prevent the "nuclear club" of nations from growing. It has been widely assumed that a similar motive actuates the Soviet Union.

A London dispatch on Monday, however, by the United Press International, quotes The Daily Mail as saying that Red China plans to explode her first atomic bomb in June or July of this year and that aiding in the preparations is Professor Bruno Pontecorvo, a British scientist who defected to Russia in 1950.

On Jan. 11 last, in a dispatch from Hong Kong, Robert P. Martin, a regional correspondent of U. S. News & World Report who speaks Chinese fluently, gave first details concerning Red China's plan to become a nuclear power. He wrote that the Soviet Union, while at first reluctant, began giving help to the Red Chinese in 1955 with gifts of various ingredients necessary to make the A-bomb. The Soviets signed an agreement with the Red Chinese for scientific and technical cooperation and announced they would furnish some experimental reactors.

The dispatch added:

"The Soviet Union has been the key factor in getting China started in nuclear physics. But the Chinese Communists got an unexpected shot in the arm when a number of highly trained and skilled Chinese physicists returned to Peiping from the United States after the Korean truce was signed.

"These young scientists, graduates of topnotch schools such as California Institute of Technology, the University of Chicago and Massachusetts Institute of Technology, were joined by half a dozen other Chinese who had received graduate training in Britain and West Germany. Some were immediately given jobs teaching in Red China's universities.

"The Chinese Communists have their own rocket-research program, headed by Dr. Chien Hsueh-shen, chairman of the All-China Automation Society. Dr. Chien was a professor at Massachusetts Institute of Technology and headed an American delegation of scientists that examined the German rocket program after World War II. Chien returned to China in 1953 from the U.S., and has just become a full member of the Communist Party. . . .

"On the basis of the evidence, the Chinese Reds are more interested in the psychological impact than in producing a usuable military weapon. For that reason, the Hong Kong experts say that the Chinese probably will not even wait to engineer a bomb. An explosive device set off in China and monitored throughout the world would be just as effective.

"In effect, the Chinese are believed to be pushing headlong toward nuclear power as one way of 'shooting' their way into international acceptance as a political and military force. The theory is that disarmament schemes and systems to control and limit nuclear tests lose their validity if any country with an atomic-weapon potential is ignored. No Western power could afford to disarm and leave an armed Red China still in the field."

There is no way to limit the "nuclear club," therefore, except by international agreement. Nations may agree to refrain from testing or production only after they have exacted from other nations a price for their forbearance.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Tonsillectomy Horrible —and Seldom Necessary

"As a nurse of 12 years' experience," writes a New York R. N., "I can testify that your one man campaign against the horror of tonsillectomy is doing much good.

DR. BRADY

"If parents could see this operation performed — the choking on blood clots, asphyxia from a throat crammed with instruments, the blood loss, the chunky, almost epileptic appearance of the child — they'd have a realistic comprehension of the gravity of the operation. No operative procedure I have seen is quite so gruesome or so tragic or so shockingly fatal as tonsillectomy.

Instantaneous tonsillotomy serves every purpose the major operation can serve, without risk to the child's life.

Let me say that in my judgment the atrocity called tonsillectomy is rarely justifiable. It is based on ignorance of pathology and the crude assumption that lymphoid, adenoid or round cell tissue (of which the tonsils are composed) is in itself harmful and hence should be removed by deep dissection of the throat.

In most instances more or less tonsil tissue remains in the throat after the most radical tonsillectomy — but the credulous layman doesn't know this, so the ever-ready operator continues making a federal case out of what should be a minor operation (instantaneous tonsillotomy).

The purpose of operating for enlarged (hypertrophic) tonsils is to relieve obstruction, nothing else. Tonsillotomy removes the obstructing portion of tonsil with a quick snip.

THE BONES CRUNCHED

When I was a medical student at the general hospital, a block distant from the medical school, they had a new surgical amphitheater, finished entirely in white tile, with rounded edges and corners, so that the whole place could be easily washed out daily.

Certain doings down in the well produced remarkable effects on visitors or freshmen in the upper tiers. For example, a surgeon operating for bow legs didn't like the osteoclast or implement, preferred to break the bent bones as you would break a stick. The crack or crunch of the fracture, audible throughout the theater, would cause freshmen and visitors to faint, to be caught by physicians or seniors in the bottom or front rows and carried out.

I feel as those freshmen or visitors did, when I see a newspaper picture of a family of unfortunate children who are about to undergo or have just undergone wholesale tonsillectomy by a doctor who no doubt gives the dumb parents a cash discount for permitting him to use their children in his ad.

Signed letters not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

After hearing all those sugar coated speeches by so-called liberal Democrats in Detroit recently, I'm more thoroughly convinced we need to keep them out of office. This "liberalism" in recent years has gotten us into more trouble than we can ever expect to get out of, both nationally and internationally.

'We Sometimes Must Put Up Fight'

My heart goes out to the Billy Perryman baby who's been without milk for two weeks. However, they shouldn't be too hard on the Welfare Department. It's their duty to taxpayers to throughly investigate all cases, as the welfare load is becoming alarmingly heavy. If they find work is available, they can't provide for the family.

That plant is on strike to some degree, but many men were courageous enough not to let the union intimidate nor coerce them into staying out. They survived the hammers, bricks, bottles, etc. thrown through windshields, and the cars tipped over, and now they're able to work and care for their own families, instead of staying out to satisfy some petty union officer trying to usurp a little power and authority at the expense of their followers.

Since there's no "right to work" law in Michigan, it's sometimes necessary to put up a good fight for a chance to get in to work. Sometimes it's apparent workers' best interests haven't been at heart at all times by representatives and they should be encouraged to act accordingly.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

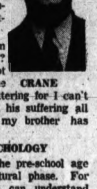
Stuttering Is Normal in Toddlers

Tommy has millions of toddlers in the same boat with him. Most of them will get over their stuttering, but thousands each year will simply "set" their normal toddler until it beomes a permanent bad habit. So study the antidotes below and send for that booklet. Mail it to all mothers of such youngsters.

By GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE E-426: Tommy D., aged 3, is an alert youngster.

"Oh, but Dr. Crane," his fearful mother began, "Tommy is beginning to stutter badly! Isn't that awful!



CRANE

"When he is excited, he can't get his words out right. I have a grown brother who still stutters terribly, so could Tommy have inherited his stuttering?

"And what can I do to help him? I scold him a lot and try to make him quit his stuttering for I can't bear to think of his suffering all the humiliation my brother has gone through."

STUTTER PSYCHOLOGY

Stuttering at the pre-school age is usually a natural phase. For such youngsters can understand far more words than they can utter.

When eager to give a quick account of some exciting episode, they thus can't find enough words available to keep up with their ideas.

This normal type of stuttering usually clears up of its own accord in a few years, for the child's speaking vocabulary expands rapidly by the time he reaches first grade.

But a neurotic mother who constantly yells, "No, no," or makes him stop and repeat the difficult word, may simply "set" that act of stuttering and thus make it a permanent thing.

Stuttering is NOT inherited, so his uncle's stuttering will not descend to the next generation.

However, the same neurotic home environment which started his uncle to stutter, may still persist and help cause Tommy to do likewise.

CURE STUTTERING

The best cure for stuttering is prevention. Vaccinate against it by ignoring this natural stuttering stage at the age of 3 to 5 years.

And don't maintain a tense, neurotic home atmosphere. Cultivate a happy, relaxed family environment.

Let laughter be common instead of fear and anxiety. Relieve your child's false notions by the practical data released in this column daily, plus the helpful booklets on sex problems of children.

Send for the non-profit booklets on "Personality Improvement," "How to Prevent Nervous Breakdowns," etc., and by all means maintain a constant "Compliment Club" in your own home.

Encourage your children to report on the three sincere compliments they have paid their neighbors or classmates each day. Daddy and Mother can do likewise.

Anxiety tends to vanish when you employ the "Compliment Club," so why don't more of you tense mothers take advantage of these surefire educational aids this newspaper offers you?

They are non-profit and it is far cheaper to spend 20c to vaccinate against mental ailments than to pay costly bills for sanitarium treatment!

STUTTER TRIANGLE

Stuttering is a very specific type of habit with these three points of the "stutter triangle."

(1) It starts while the victim is using conversational tones, with

(2) Human associates and

(3) Speaking in English here in the U.S.A.

Change any corner of that triangle and you help the stutterer free himself.

Let him vary (1) by pitching his voice higher or by singing or by imitating Charley McCarthy or by using dialect, and he will usually not stutter at all.

Vary (2), as by talking to dogs or horses or the waves (a la Demosthenes) or let him alter (3) and speak in Spanish or some other foreign tongue.

Send for my booklet on "How to Correct Stuttering," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents (non-profit).

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 6c stamped, self-addressed envlope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

It Should Liven Him Up: Abby

Treat Husband Affectionately

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I gave my husband 10 children. I've been married 35 years and haven't been kissed in 25 years. I don't remember the last time my husband said, "I love you."

I've had to beg for every cent he ever gave me. The only good thing I can say for him is he is a good earner and he doesn't chase. How do you get a husband to look at you once in a while when he's gotten out of the habit?

ABBY

DEAR UNHAPPY: He's probably not "looking" at you because you aren't "looking" at him. Play up to him. Show him lots of affection. Dress up for him and make him feel that he is still young and attractive. Use a little come-on sense like you did a few years back. If this doesn't rouse him, cover him up. It's too late.

DEAR ABBY: What do you do with a guest who has had one too many and starts ruining the party by picking arguments with other guests? Two people I know (one man and one woman—not related) spoil every party they attend for this reason. We owe them invitations and I don't want them. My husband says everyone knows that certain people start an argument when they drink too much, and no one takes offense.

Should I just invite these people and let them insult my other guests and hope that those who are insulted "understand?" Don't tell me not to have anything to do with people like that because they are important business contacts for my husband.

TREMBLING HOSTESS

DEAR HOSTESS: The best solution is to invite them over (or out) to an "intimate" little dinner party with just you and them, and let them insult each other.

DEAR ABBY: Would you, or any of your readers, ever have the nerve to tell a couple, "You and your husband are welcome in our home — but don't bring your children until they grow up!"

That's what my husband told some friends of ours. This couple came over with their children (5, 7, and 9). Our own children are about the same ages as theirs, but they have been taught to obey us. The visiting children were told not to touch my sewing machine but they got into it anyway. They pulled every drawer out, turned the machine upside down and of course the machine was thrown out of order. That's when my husband laid down the law.

They all left in a huff and I feel terrible about it. Should I telephone and apologize?

MRS. D.

DEAR MRS. D.: Not unless you want Papa and Mama and the three little cyclones back again.

DEAR ABBY: What do you tell a child who was born six months after his parents were married, when he is old enough to start counting it, up? Isn't there some little "white lie" that would sound convincing? I would like to hear from other parents who have had to face this problem. Has anyone come up with a foolproof solution?

JUMPED THE GUN

DEAR JUMPED: The most popular explanation is that the baby was "premature." Then, too, the parents can select a nice safe "wedding date" and celebrate it. Or they can predate their actual wedding date by one year and stick to it.

NORMA J. MOWERY

Planning a June wedding are Norma Jean Mowery, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Mowery of Newberry road, Waterford Township and Dale LaRue Brantley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Brantley of Vinewood avenue.

NOVI — Lee BeGole has formally resigned as head of the police department here. The Village Council accepted his resignation Sunday.

BeGole has been in Cheboygan since Feb. 15 when he took over the department there after being given a leave of absence.

BeGole had taken the post in Cheboygan because of dissatisfaction with his job in Novi.

At that time he said he would be back. The Council decided to pay his salary while he was in Cheboygan.

On March 7 BeGole reported from Cheboygan that he would keep his appointment there, however, he had not officially informed officials in Novi.

Will Discuss Water Procedures

Troy Commission to Meet

TROY — Revision of water department procedures will highlight tonight's special meeting of the Troy City Commission.

Among the items to be considered are charges for use and service, changes in rates and establishment of a policy to govern the department.

The main point of discussion is expected to be on the establishment of rates equitable to both the users of the minimum amount of water per month and those who use larger quantities.

According to City Clerk J. L. Lockhart, city officials do not feel the present rates are justifiable.

"They are for the people who get the minimum water bills, but those who use more are not paying their fair share," he said.

The proposed changes will affect factories and industrial users rather than the smaller home owners, he said.

The city manager, accountant and superintendent of the water department have prepared the propositions to be discussed.

Also proposed is changing the fiscal year of the water department to coincide with the city's which ends June 30.

Lockhart said he believes one discussion will cover the whole situation.

State Troops to Take Part at Bull Run

North, South to Rise Again

LANSING (UPI) — Blue-clad troops from Michigan will take part in a re-enactment of the first battle of Bull Run next year to commemorate the first major engagement of the war between the states.

Michigan soldiers shed blood in the original battle, which took place at Manassas Junction, Va., on July 21-22, 1861.

The re-enactment is not the only program planned by the Michigan Civil War Centennial Commission, but it's the most spectacular and the only statewide participation event on tap.

"Our chief interest is not pageants and celebrations," said Dr. Lewis Beeson, head of the State Historical Commission and chairman of the centennial group's executive committee.

Pamphlets on the war, a book and a traveling exhibition are among programs planned by the centennial commission.

Floyd L. Haight is chairman of the commission, which was established by the Legislature in 1959 and has adopted a 13-point program for centennial activity outside the battle.

But the re-enactment, coming early in the five-year centennial, is expected to bring the war home most vividly to Michigan residents.

In the original, four regiments of Michigan infantry took part. None of them saw action in the part of the first day's activity which will be re-played next year.

HEAVY LOSSES

One regiment suffered heavy losses later in the battle, two others covered the retreat after the Southerners routed the Union troops, and the fourth was stationed at a point where no southern troops tried to get through.

Over-all, the Union suffered 2,708 casualties out of 28,455 men ready for the battle. Some 18,-306 actually took part.

The South rallied behind Gen. Thomas J. (Stonewall) Jackson and forced a headlong retreat toward Washington, 30 miles away. There were 1,967 casualties among 18,000 Confederate troops taking part in the battle. A force of 32,-072 rebels was on hand.

Confederate Gen. B. E. Bee gave Stonewall Jackson his famous nickname at the height of the battle.

"Look," he shouted, "There is Jackson standing like a stone wall," and the Confederates overwhelmed the Union forces and ended northern hopes of an early drive to Richmond and victory.

Virginia Gov. J. Lindsay Almond Jr. started a move to re-create the battle during the centennial.

He invited all states having troops in the original battle to take part but left arrangements for each state's participation up to authorities there.

Parades and other events in Washington are planned in addition to the re-creation of the battle.

Michigan plans to send 400 Civil War buffs, veterans of later wars and national guardsmen to take part in the battle and many more people are expected to attend ceremonies connected with it.

Authentic uniforms and equipment are planned to lend a real Civil War flavor to the contingent.

Boycotts Okay, Says Top Court

T-H Law Allows Such Action by Minority and Majority Union Units

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court ruled Monday that customer and consumer boycotts by labor unions were permissible under the Taft-Hartley Labor Law of 1947.

The court acted in a brief order, which did not mention the effect of the new labor reform law passed last year. Labor lawyers appeared to feel, however, that the new law permits such activities.

The court ruled in a dispute between the O'Sullivan Rubber Corp., Winchester, Va., and the United Rubber Workers (AFL-CIO).

The suit also involved the legality under Taft-Hartley of recognitional picketing by a union not representing a worker majority.

The case was held up awaiting a test ruling on the latter point, which was handed down last Monday. The court held that picketing by groups representing less than a worker majority to obtain recognition from an employer is permissible under the 1947 statute and cannot be restricted by the National Labor Relations Board.

In addition to the picketing, the Union urged the public not to buy the company's products.

The fourth U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals had upheld a court order to stop the boycott and picketing, but the decision was reversed by the Supreme Court Monday.

A second case which included both the picketing and boycott issues was appealed by the International Assn. of Machinists (AFL-CIO), which had been in a dispute with the Alloy Manufacturing Co., Spokane, Wash.

The Ninth Circuit sustained the board in that case because of a technicality. Monday the Supreme Court denied the union's petition for review.

Older Workers Are Profitable, Doctors Report

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The American Medical Association (AMA) told Congress Monday that older workers are a good bet for employers.

In testimony before a Senate subcommittee looking into problems of the aged, the AMA said a study showed that:

—In over-all job performance, older workers are, in a majority of cases, as good as their younger counterparts.

—They are generally more patient, persistent and conscientious in doing a job.

—In most instances, they are more dependable, more loyal to the company, more safety conscious than younger workers, and they are less frequently absent from work.

—Half of those in large industries want to continue working past 65. And up to three-quarters of this group were capable of continuing on the job, in the opinion of their employers.

Walsh Won't Run

LANSING (UPI)—Thomas C. Walsh, Lansing attorney, said last night he will not seek the Democratic lieutenant governor nomination. Walsh has run unsuccessfully for the Legislature in recent campaigns.

Younger Drivers Die

LANSING (UPI)—Drivers under 26 were involved in 19 of the 33 fatalities of Michigan's rural trunklines in January, a Highway Department study shows.

The Department of Defense was established in 1947 as the National Military Establishment.

Asserts Small Arms Moratorium May Work on Underground Tests

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Chairman J. William Fulbright (D-Ark) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee yesterday urged the western powers to "make an agreement with Russia" on a nuclear test ban—even though a disarmament pact cannot be reached yet with Red China.

Fulbright said if Russia showed "good faith," a moratorium on small underground tests might work. Britain and the United States have offered to hold off such tests if Russia would agree to a cheat-proof treaty banning larger nuclear explosions.

Senate Democratic whip Mike Mansfield (Mont) said he hoped President Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Macmillan will "give every possible consideration" to the Russian test ban proposal.

Mansfield, a member of the Foreign Relations Committee, warned that if this country refused to "face up to this problem," the Soviet Union would make the most of it as valuable propaganda.

But Mansfield agreed there should be the "highest degree of regulation and inspection."

Also in the atomic field, Chairman Clinton P. Anderson (D-NM) of the House-Senate Atomic Energy Committee and Rep. Chet Holifield (D-Calif), who heads the joint group's legislation subcommittee, complained that "short-sighted" budget bureau policies are blocking construction of nuclear power plants at remote military bases.

They said the bases could operate more cheaply on nuclear power than with conventional equipment.

Expects Negro Pope 'In God's Good Time'

NEW YORK (AP) — A Paulist priest says he believes the Roman Catholic Church will have a Negro Pope "in God's good time."

The Rev. John B. Sheerin, editor of the Catholic World, made the prediction Sunday at an observance of Interracial Justice Sunday at Fordham University.

"My white skin does not make me more a child of God than my dark-skinned brother," said Father Sheerin. "In short, our Catholic faith is totally color-blind."

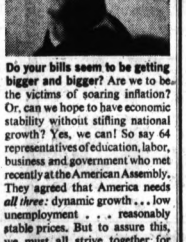
Menninger Asks Psychiatrists for Industry

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — First aid stations for the treatment of emotional troubles might pay off for American industry and might help to check the increasing effects of stressful living, a noted psychiatrist said today.

There should be more laboratories for studying people, he added.

The ideas were advanced by Dr. William C. Menninger of Topeka, Kan., in a news conference and later in a panel discussion before the American College of Physicians.

BILLS



Do your bills seem to be getting bigger and bigger? Are we to be the victims of soaring inflation? Or, can we hope to have economic stability without stifling national growth? Yes, we can! So say 64 representatives of education, labor, business and government who met recently at the American Assembly. They agreed that America needs all three: dynamic growth . . . low unemployment . . . reasonably stable prices. But to assure this, we must all strive together for these goals and must achieve a steady rise in productivity.

You'll want to know more about America's economic future. After all, it vitally affects your future, your savings, your pension. Write today for free booklet, "Prices, Growth and You", to: American Assembly, Columbia University, New York 27, N. Y.

Road to Faith . . . by Will Oursler

The Key: To Act, Not Just Think

By WILL OURSLER
Chapter Thirty

However high a level we may reach in our journey on the upward road to faith, it will avail us nothing without application in our personal daily lives.

This does not mean we should parade our faith before others; nor should we seek to force others to our beliefs.

It is rather, to live what we learn.

An Australian youth went to England with his regiment in the World War I. When lonely, thousands of miles from his homeland, he found the English people warm and hospitable.

During World War II this man and his wife found a chance to pay back his debt of gratitude.

They opened their home in Australia to American GIs stationed nearby, for a meal, a bath, a night's lodging, or a week's rest or two.

They asked no money for this. They and their daughters, one seventeen and the other much younger—their son was away in the Australian Air Force—wanted only to return the kindness the father himself had received, years before, in another war, thousands of miles from his home.

Nearly a hundred American boys stayed in this home in the course of the war in the Pacific. Many would come back on leave or furlough, for a few days or a week or two, from New Guinea or Biak or some other point "up north." The mother was "Mom" and the girls were "Sis" and the father "Dad."

Home, someone once wrote, is a place that when you get there, they can't send you away.

This Australian family made theirs that kind of home for the lonesome, homesick American GIs.

It would have been so easy for this family to be frightened. How could they know, or the Australian Red Cross volunteers who often sent the GIs along know, what the conduct of these soldiers would be away from discipline?

In a war, all kinds of men are drawn into an army, and war brings out the good—and sometimes the worst—in man.

Much of the time, the mother and the two girls were alone in the house with their assortment of "guests." Yet nothing unpleasant or disturbing happened in all that time, with any of those boys who came into their home.

Once Noel, the oldest girl, was going home on a train when she saw three American Marines. They apparently were just coming back from the jungles. Noel, with almost alarming directness, asked them, "How would you Yanks like to have a bath?"

They looked at her in sober silence for an instant. Finally, one of them countered tentatively, "A real bath? With REAL hot water?"

Noel nodded.

They looked at each other again. The spokesman said, "We've got an overnight pass, that's all. We've got to be on our way back tomorrow. If we could get a good hot bath with hot water for a start—boy, that would be living."

Wordlessly, the three Marines followed the girl off the train at the next station and to her home.

The parents and several of their GI "family" were at dinner. Noel called out, "Hi, folks. I've brought home three Yanks. They want a bath."

The mother called out, "Fine. Be sure they have soap and towels."

The flabbergasted Marines went upstairs to bathe. They came downstairs a half hour later, washed and shining. By that time cake and coffee were ready for them.

After the war, the parents made a trip to America and visited every city where their "boys" lived, stopping to call and say hello, and meet the wives and children and the mothers and fathers of their small army of foster sons, and reminisce about their Australian "home away from home."

They did not think of what they had done as any great act. They simply did it out of their desire to help repay a debt.

Faith is not faith, unless we give it a definition in action, unless and until we translate abstract religious formalism into concrete meaning, and recognized debt into our conscious deed.

In doing is sincerity that goes beyond words. It does not ask praise, it does not demand recompense; it returns good for good as well as good for evil, without expectation.

What is our real purpose deep within ourselves? The good opinion of our fellow men? Or the integrity of our relationship to the Almighty, in the secret pact between Him and us?

That was the key to the lives of that man and woman, reaching out with warmth as stand-ins for mothers and fathers far away.

Only we—and God—can gauge the depth of our sincerity.

"For faith to be effective in us, we must seek to believe with our whole being—mind, heart, body, spirit, the totality of Self.

To translate this seeking into action, we must reach out to God's universe, we must give as He gives to us, as he wants to give to us if we will but open the channels of faith.

This is the spiritual nucleus from which all else flows.

DETROIT (AP) — John Denman has been named manager of Ford Motor Co.'s state and local government relations department. Denman had been Ford's legislative representative at Lansing since 1955. U.S. Woman Said Aiding Reds Built A-Bomb

LONDON (AP) — A British newspaper said Monday an American woman scientist is helping the Chinese Communists build their first atomic bomb, and they plan to explode it in June or July.

The Daily Mail, in a dispatch from Hong Kong, said the woman was Joan Chase Hinton and that she is working at an atomic research station in Inner Mongolia.

Mrs. Hinton, 39, is a former University of Chicago student who went to China as a welfare worker in 1948. Her mother operated the Putney School in Vermont.

The Atomic Energy Commission reported in 1952 that she once worked at the U.S. Atomic research center in Los Alamos, N.M., but said she held only a minor job.

GMC Sets Up New Program

A product reliability department, headed by Sheldon G. Little, has been established at staff level in the GMC Truck and Coach Division, it was announced today by Calvin J. Werner, vice president of General Motors and general manager of the division.

LITTLE

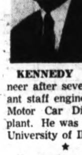
Little has been assistant chief engineer of the division for the past five years and before that held important positions in the General Motors styling section and Cadillac Motor Car Division.

"The organization of a product reliability department with plant-wide and productwide responsibilities emphasizes our determination to design, manufacture and sell the best trucks and coaches in the business," Werner said.

Assisting Little in the new department will be C. C. Hursey, chief inspector, and Robert C. Kennedy, who has been product reliability engineer for the engineering department. Hursey and his inspection staff will continue the duties formerly carried out under supervision of the manufacturing department.

HURSEY

Kennedy will continue the coordination between the engineering, manufacturing and service departments in such important areas as quality control.



KENNEDY

Little joined the engineering staff of the Cadillac Motor Division in 1929 as a GM Institute student and was graduated in 1933.

Kennedy came to GMC Truck and Coach in 1956 as a production liaison engineer after several years as assistant staff engineer for the Cadillac Motor Car Division in its tank plant. He was graduated from the University of Illinois in 1932.

Hursey is a 40-year veteran of the division, having started as a chassis assembler in the Yellow Cab Manufacturing Plant in Chicago in 1920. He was transferred to Pontiac in 1928 as an inspector when Yellow Cab operations were moved here. After a term as general superintendent of inspection for the manufacturing department, he was appointed chief inspector in 1957.

Pontiac Home Building Spurts Over '59 in March

Home building in Pontiac last month was considerably more active than a year ago.

During March, city permits were issued for construction of 38 new family dwellings, as compared with 28 permits for the same period during 1959.

Home permits last month totaled $371,200 in value, compared with $250,000 a year ago.

The spurt in new homes combined with school construction to push last month's totals to 84 permits for $724,057 worth of construction and alterations, reported Carl F. Alt, city building inspector.

Comparable figures for March 1959 were 83 permits for $399,809 worth of construction.

Included in last month's figures were plans for a multipurpose room and new classrooms at Mark Twain School, costing a total $224,306.

Missileman Shuffled

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. (AP)—Brig. Gen. J. A. Barclay has been relieved as commander of the Army Ballistic Missile Agency to devote full time to his job as deputy commander of the Army Ordnance Missile Command. Col. Thurston T. Paul was named interim commander, until Col. Richard M. Hurst arrives to take over. Hurst is being promoted to brigadier general.

Mark Twain rephrased it this way: "The lack of money is the root of all evil."

Mohawk in Air but on Cut Basis

UTICA, N.Y. (AP)—Mohawk Airlines was flying today, but service was cut 23 per cent, the company said, "to recoup some of our losses" during a 16-day shutdown that followed a brief strike by stewardesses.

Mohawk resumed its service to seven states Sunday and a spokesman said flights were normal.

The airline had announced the reduction—elimination of five daily round trips—but said it probably would be temporary.

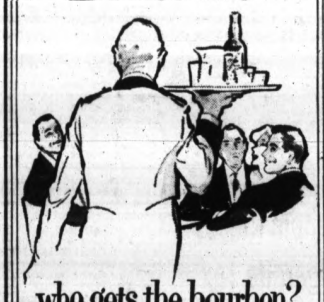
The stewardesses signed their first contract with Mohawk Thursday. The pact calls for the same 6 per cent wage boost put into effect by the airline March 3, plus improved working conditions.

The hostesses, members of the Air Line Emeployes Assn., have a base wage of $240 to $310 per month.

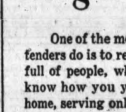
Excuse me-



who gets the bourbon?

One of the most remarkable things barfenders do is to remember, with a whole bar full of people, who gets which drink. You know how you yourself get mixed up at home, serving only a foursome.

In the interests of research, therefore, we asked Oscar, our favorite bartender, how he remembers. "Easy," he said. "I tag my customers when they order. Like I say to myself—'the pinstripe suit' gets the martini—the 'mustache' has the Scotch. And lately I've been adding a new one. 'The tipper gets the bourbon and 'branch'."



Lately more and more bourbon is being ordered. The trend to bourbon has become a phenomenon of our town. Why? Because bourbon tastes better! It has a kind of rectitude to it, an honesty that is the way whiskey should taste. One of the most refreshing ways to drink bourbon is with "branch"—the country word for fresh water.

A fine bourbon to try is Old Crow. A long time ago DANIEL WEBSTER called it "the finest in the world." A great many people still think so today, since more Old Crow is bought than any other bourbon. At a light, mild 86 proof it is perfect for modern tastes. Have your bartender tag you as a bourbonite—and an Old Crow man.

LIFE INSURANCE WEEK

APRIL 3 TO 9

Life Insurance means different things to many people . . . To the young man or woman it could mean a college education . . . To mother and Dad it could mean financial security after retirement . . . To the family of a man who has died, security and happiness and to the young business man or woman a background for the success of their business.

As we celebrate Life Insurance week in Michigan — April 3rd through April 9th — the companies and their representatives listed pledge themselves to give you continuance of their personal care in the selection of Life Insurance of utmost protection at minimum cost. You will recognize the companies as America's leading institutions and their representatives your neighbors and friends.

African Mali Gets Full Independence

PARIS (AP) — France Monday gave the African Mali Federation full independence. The new African state, a union of the French Sudan and Senegal, will remain in the French community.

Premier Michel Debre signed for France. Signing for Mali were Modibo Keita, chairman of the new federation and premier of Sudan, and Mamadou Dia, federation vice chairman and premier of Senegal.

A joint communique issued after the signature of the agreements said both parliaments would have to approve the documents before independence becomes effective. The communique said the parliaments would be asked to ratify them in June.

France made no objections to the Mali demand for independence.

The French Constitution says that a sovereign state cannot belong to the French community, but President Charles de Gaulle is said to plan an amendment to the constitution to avoid the gradual breakup of the community.

Ike Declares April 12 U.S. Vaccination Day

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower has called for observance of April 12 as a new kind of V-day—Vaccination day against polio.

In a statement, Eisenhower noted that April 12 will mark the fifth anniversary of announcement of the Salk vaccine against poliomyelitis.

"In the intervening years," Eisenhower said, "polio has been dealt a heavy blow but it has not been destroyed. The reason is clear: not enough Americans have had the full course of injections needed for the maximum protection afforded by the vaccine against polio."

Knight Murder Trial Is Resuming Today

HOWELL (AP)—The murder trial of accused cop-killer Alvin W. Knight was scheduled to resume today. It has been in recess.

The state is trying to prove Knight shot and killed State Trooper Albert W. Souden last September and then hid his body. The body was recovered after an intensive search.

Knight denies the first-degree murder charge against him.

Or So His Daughter Thinks

25-Year Man Gets Big Deal

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — A landmark in the history of American industry passed unnoticed by the public at large last week.

It wasn't a major landmark to anyone else, but it was to me.

I got my 25-year pin.

BOYLE

Anybody who can work a quarter of a century for the same organization without being found out deserves some sort of recognition. Most firms do have a ceremony for such an occasion.

In our outfit you get a letter of praise from the boss and a 25-year gold pin to wear in your lapel.

The pin was presented at a two-martini lunch last Friday — April Fool's Day by an odd coincidence. After it shone resplendent in my lapel, I sat ther ewaiting to be called on for my speech.

I had spent some two weeks preparing this speech, and it would have been a bumdinger I can tell you. I was prepared to summarize my 25 years of loyal devotion in a crisp three-hour address which would have made William Jennings Bryan's famous "Cross of Gold" oration seem like kindergarten prattle.

NEVER CALLED ON

Unfortunately, I was never called upon. Once I had been given my pin, my confrerees fell to talking about the weather and the baseball season.

My whole contribution to the occasion was a weak "Thank you."

Later I found out why. No one wants to listen to a mere 25-year man fueled with two martinis. He is still too strong. He can talk too long.

You don't get to make a speech until you get your 50-year pin. By then you're too weak to say much.

On the way home, I showed the subway man my gleaming new 25-year gold pin. "That's worth a free ride today, buddy. Never mind putting in a token. Just crawl under the turnstile. Nobody's looking," he said.

When I told my wife proudly I was now a member of the office 25-year club, she threw her arms around me and said, "Oh, you poor thing" — as if I had come down with a strange new virus.

'BIG DEAL, DADDY'

My young daughter critically inspected my lapel pin, and went back to her first-grade reader after remarking, "Big deal, Daddy."

Since then I have inquired into the special privileges that go with being a 25-year man in industry.

It seems that in most organizations they boil down to these:

They call you by your first name instead of saying, "Hey, you."

Because of your added seniority, you no longer have to take your vacations in November or February.

When you drop a letter into the suggestion box, you can sign your name to it without fear of immediate unemployment.

The stenographers give you a "get well" card instead of a kiss on your birthdays.

They can kid you all they want to, however.

You have survived the erosion of time in a hard century. You have given your firm some of your teeth, most of your hair, a great part of your heart, many of your dreams.

You have not fallen by the way. You have endured; and merely to endure in this world proves something.

You are no longer a cub, a beginner, an apprentice. You are an old-timer, entitled to the respect the experience of an old-timer deserves.

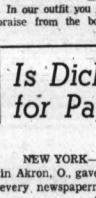
So you start making notes on the speech you intend to deliver when they give you your 50-year pin. The next time they won't get off so easy.

Is Dick Clark Headed for Payola Probe Ax?

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—I happened to be reading a Bible that a lady in Akron, O., gave me about 30 years ago because she figured every newspaperman should have one — when I suddenly thought of Television's Dick Clark.



WILSON

"Judge not that ye be not judged," it says there in the Book.

The Washington and Broadway grapevine has it that Dick Clark "is going to get killed, he's going to get murdered" in the payola probe — and I consequently wonder if the rest of us aren't guilty of prejudging him.

Shall we not give him a chance to speak his own little oration?

Dick himself hasn't uttered one syllable in his defense. To me this has been a public relations goof.

"Keep your lip buttoned," his elders ordered him weeks ago when I, along with other newspapermen, asked to print his side.

"Powerful interests," influential people," thought if he kept quiet, it would go away. They also flattered themselves that with backstairs phenagling, they could save him from being subpoenaed.

Instead, they brought on a furious burst of investigatorial excavating, and a full-dress inquiry.

I can see it unfolding. What kind of people were Dick Clark's associates? Did he know how they ran his many businesses? Why not?

Dick must know that's he's on the edge of the precipice—and could easily be pushed off. I feel sorry that in this age of Cheatsville and Bribeola, he came into the music business when it was so rotten there was hardly anybody around who could or would tell him right from wrong.

Please don't think I'm copping a plea for Dick. I happen to think he's in big, big trouble. I wonder how long his sponsors and his network will stick with him.

I'm just asking a fair shake for the boy in public opinion which I would like to get if I were on such a griddle. I wouldn't pay much attention to me, though, if I were you, because I felt Charles Van Doren could never tell a lie.

Sees 'Tragic' Link of X-Ray, Cancer

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (UPI)—A New York podiatrist says the relationship between X-ray therapy and cancer is "absolutely tragic."

Dr. Marvin Steinberg, chief of podiatry at the Jewish Memorial Hospital in New York, said Sunday the relationship between exposure to X-rays and the development of cancer is "exemplified by the finding that radiologists themselves have 11 times the incidence of leukemia as the average individual."

Dr. Steinberg said he believes the time will come when X-ray therapy will not be used for any simple or benign condition. He said its use "will be limited to the treatment of malignancy."

TV News and Reviews

Little Ben-Hurly-Burly

By FRED DANZIG

NEW YORK (UPI)—The motion picture people may be slow learners when it comes to the mysteries of television, but they're learning nicely.

In one short year, they went from an NBC-TV Academy Awards special that was 20-minutes too short to one that ran 20-minutes over.

But I'm not complaining. Last night's production — the long form, — was a lot of fun. The hurly-burly (or should we call it the "Ben-Hurly-burly") was at a minimum.

The smoothness of the 110-minute show was ruffled most appealingly by examples of nervousness, caused by the campaign tensions and the bright lights. As a result, the dramatic moments, while of only passing importance in the big picture (world, not motion), still achieved a compelling rapport with this viewer.

To my surprise, I found myself caught up in the suspense, even though I've only been to a few movies in the past year. (I guess TV viewing has made me a movie fan.)

While last night's show was expansive, entertaining and interesting, it had some stuffy, overwound moments. Fortunately, such lulls were at a minimum.

The delicately balanced components of glamor, suspense and emotion were never knocked out of whack by phony histrionics or stunts. The humor, generally speaking, was apt.

Deserving of the highest praise for the show's crispness was emcee Bob Hope. He unworked some sharply-pointed barbs, some retreads, too, but his insouciant approach to the festivities was delightful.

The numerous producers, directors and writers for the show did well to lace musical numbers through the proceedings and they also gave Ella Fitzgerald and Yves Montand some big chunks of time, as pacechangers.

The Oscar-nominees in the song department were, however, all prerecorded and I thought this was an error. If prerecording the tunes is so essential, then the entire number is worth staging in a TV studio and putting on tape, in order to take advantage of more suitable stage craft.

There are a few special awards I'd like to bestow before the night fades.

—Best demonstration of unsynchronized lip movements to a prerecorded song: Frankie Vaughan.

—Special Jack Paar award: Shelley Winters.

—Best hairdo: Tony Curtis.

—Best demonstration of unsynchronized lip-and-body movements in a pre-recorded show: the half-hour table-hopping exhibition that preceded the official Oscarcast on NBC-TV.

In it, Tony Randall and Betsy Palmer ran through a number of chaotic interviews. Words like "excited," "good luck" and "butterflies" filled the air. It was, I suppose, a pure sample of unrigged TV.

THE CHANNEL SWIM: When Peter Gunn returns for the 1960-61 season on NBC-TV its format will be different. Craig Stevens, as Gunn, will handle overseas assignments ("Have Gunn, Will Travel") and his girl, played by Lola Albright, will have her own night club. No more "Mother's."

A western series, The Tall Man, has been purchased by NBC-TV, for next season. The stars are Barry Sullivan and Clu Gulager.

Jack Benny's production company, J&M, has sold a 60-minute suspense show, Checkmate, to CBS-TV . . . Bob Cummings is producing four full-hour dramatic shows, starring himself, for possible sale to a network.

Illness caused Dean Martin to miss his scheduled appearance on The Frank Sinatra Show, which stars Frank, Elvis Presley, Sammy Davis Jr., Joey Bishop and Peter Lawford. Air time on ABC-TV is Thursday, May 12, but the show was taped at Miami Beach, Fla., last week.

ABC-TV's animated situation comedy series The Flintstones (formerly The Flagstones) is slotted for Fridays, 8:30 p.m. (EST) next season.

Factory Hirings Drop

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Labor Department reported that factory hirings fell off more than usual in February, mostly due to tapering off of the heavy rehiring of workers laid off as a result of the steel strike.

Britain Raises Cigarette Tax

Budget Concedes Only a Little Relief to Big-Spending Nation

LONDON (AP)—The British government slapped a higher tax on cigarettes and made only minor tax concessions elsewhere in a new national budget presented to Parliament Monday.

Derick Heathcoat Amory, chancellor of the exchequer, abolished the government tax on movie tickets and sharply slashed duties on imported wines.

But he upped the price of a pack of cigarettes two pence (1½ cents)—from 3 shillings 11 pence (55 cents) to 4 shillings 1 penny (57 cents)—and left unchanged the basic income tax rate of 38.75 per cent.

Amory said he was forced to keep taxes high to meet rising government costs and hold the line against inflation. He added that he may have to act soon to curb the rising tide of consumer borrowing.

He recommended that the income tax law be revised to close loopholes which he said have been costing the government large sums of money.

Amory said he expected taxes during the next 12 months to bring in 5,958,000,000 pounds ($16,582,400,000). This with actual revenue in the past fiscal year of 5,630,000,000 pounds ($15,764,000,000).
