Sputnik II, Dog Make Flaming Death Plunge

Soviet Moon Last Seen Over West Indies After 6 Extra Orbits

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—Sputnik II fooled the professors by gliding around the world half a dozen times longer than expected but apparently broke apart last night and fell to earth.

Sections may have plunged into the jungles of Brazil.

A single sighting from Denver, Colo., indicated the heavy rocket motor may have completed one more orbit than the lighter fuel tanks and instrument section.

The dog rocket was seen glowing like a hot poker from air friction over New England at 8:47 p.m. the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory said.

Eight minutes later it was reported in flames over the West Indies. If it continued a minute more, it would have been lost in Brazilian jungles.

Moonwatch teams in Milford, Conn., Millbrook, N.Y., and Bryn Athyn, Pa., reported sighting the satellite last night. The Millbrook and Bryn Athyn teams said it appeared to be glowing with a luminous tail of sparks.

The Smithsonian said the satellite would normally have been invisible in the shadow of the earth on its passage over the Northeast.

SCENE OF DROWNING — Pontiac policeman Dallas J. Flesher points to spot on cement embankment where Gregory Hamilton, 7, of 61 Lull St., fell into the Dawson Mill Pond at Beaudette Park, Saturday. The boy's fishing reel and baseball glove were found floating in the water. It was Pontiac's first drowning of 1958.

Boy Drowns 2 Days Before 8th Birthday

Gregory Hamilton, who would have been eight years old today, became Pontiac's first drowning victim of the year Saturday afternoon.

He tripped and fell from a cement wall into the Dawson Mill Pond at Beaudette park while playing with his older brother Gordon, 9, and friends.

Gregory, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Zeal Hamilton of 61 Lull St., was one of five children. He was a second grade student at Bethune School.

Several onlookers tried to rescue the boy but all attempts failed. One of them, Mike Cervantes, 37, of 62 Sylvan Ct. was cleaning his car nearby when he heard a call for help.

"I used to swim in the pond as a kid," he said. "I immediately took my shoes and shirt off and jumped in to see if I could locate the boy, but the water was too cold and I had to get out after a few moments."

Pontiac police and firemen recovered the body about 45 minutes later and all attempts at reviving the boy failed.

Oakland County Sheriff's Deputies assisted in the search for the body.

Meeting at Noon Today Following Easter Vacation

To Act on Recession, Aid, Trade, Space Age After Home Confabs

By WILLIAM THEIS

WASHINGTON (INS) — Rested and perhaps wiser, Congress reconvenes at noon today to tackle a mountain of post-Easter legislation dealing with the recession, space-age security and foreign affairs.

Economic problems remained in the forefront for both Democrats and Republicans who sampled grassroot feeling on the issues of tax relief, foreign aid, foreign trade and others during their ten-day Easter recess.

Of immediate concern to the returning legislators, who passed three major anti-recession bills before the mid-term recess, was an urgent call by President Eisenhower to act "as swiftly as possible" on his proposal to extend unemployment benefits by 50 per cent.

The House Ways and Means Committee begins closed door hearings tomorrow but final action was not expected until late this week.

Senate action was set for this week on the pending Fulbright Bill to provide one billion dollars in

Auto Labor Talks Start Hitting on All Cylinders

DETROIT (AP) — The new auto labor contract negotiations here for more than 600,000 workers start hitting on all cylinders this week.

The schedule of talks, involving the controversial profit-sharing demand, brought General Motors together today with both the International Electrical Workers and the United Auto Workers.

Tomorrow American Motors, the smaller producer, sits down for the first time with the auto union. AMC's proposal to stand fast on terms of the present three-year contract already has been rejected by the UAW.

At about the same time tomorrow the UAW, working with separate teams of negotiators, will resume with Ford and Chrysler.

Seven Teamster Posts at Stake in First Vote Since Hoffa Took Over

Twenty-three candidates were nominated yesterday to run next month for the seven officer positions at Pontiac Teamsters Local 614.

The election, the first since James R. Hoffa took over the local as trustee in 1953, has been scheduled for May 17 and 18 at the local hall, 1410 Telegraph Rd.

★ ★ ★

At yesterday's nominating convention, held under the jurisdiction of the Detroit area Teamsters joint council, five of the present officers appointed by Hoffa were nominated.

Only one of them, Leaun Harrelson, president, is running for the office that he now holds. Nominated were:

President — Harrelson, Frank Bryant and John Goodsel.

Vice President — John Parris, Alvy Bush, Andy Prinko and Wilbur Wallis.

★ ★ ★

Secretary-treasurer — Floyd B. Harmon, Charles Featherlyn and Charles W. Woon.

Recording secretary — Donald Stone, Earl Aleman and Robert Fitzgerald.

Goodsel at present is secretary-treasurer, Bush a trustee, Weatherhead recording secretary, Paschal vice president and Harmon and Orsini are business agents.

'Slash Taxes by 5 Billion, Close Loopholes'—Truman

WASHINGTON (INS)—Ex-President Harry S. Truman today called for a five-billion-dollar tax cut and a long-range high spending program to bring the nation out of a "very serious" recession.

The former President told the House Banking Committee that what the public lacks is not confidence but income after taxes. He coupled his call for lower taxes with a proposal to close "glaring tax loopholes" which, he said, benefit "special privilege" taxpayers.

Describing himself as "a retired Missouri farmer," Truman warned that the nation's economy has grown only one-third as fast as Russia's during the past few years and declared: "It is almost impossible to overemphasize the great danger in this situation."

The peppery former chief executive proposed that the five billion dollar tax cut go to middle and low income tax payers, saying that there are "various detailed ways of doing this."

"However," Truman added, "the Congress should be careful not to pass out tax benefits to investors and well-to-do people who, if they are suffering at all, are suffering only because the average American families do not have enough purchasing power."

'CLOSE LOOPHOLES'

Closing tax loopholes, he said could bring in an additional two billion dollars in revenue to the government while another billion could be raised by "getting rid of some of the inequitable benefits to privileged groups" in the 1954 tax law.

This was apparent reference to tax deductions now given on part of stock dividends.

Truman also called for increased social security benefits, longer jobless pay benefits and approval of a two-billion-dollar loan program for local public works projects.

His long-range spending proposal included an additional five billion dollars a year in defense spending

Supervisors Will Study 1959 Budget

The recommended 1959 county budget, the proposed incorporation of Rochester, and election of officers will occupy much of Oakland County supervisors time tomorrow when they meet for their April session.

Meeting for the first time as a board since January, supervisors will be handed the proposed $12,762,280 budget to study. They are not expected to pass on it until April 21.

The 79 supervisors will learn from the Ways and Means Committee that it is $2,030,266 over the 1958 budget, the increase resulting mostly from a huge welfare case load.

A floor battle might develop when supervisors on the Boundaries Committee move for an Aug. 5 election to vote on incorporating the village of Rochester as a city.

The often-delayed election was made possible in March when the Supreme Court affirmed a lower court decision which now allows supervisors to set such an election.

Before supervisors tackle the budget and the incorporation, they will elect a board chairman and vice-chairman for 1958-59. Present chairman is Delos Hamlin, of Farmington, and Hiland M. Thatcher, of West Bloomfield Township, is vice-chairman.

An unprecedented move might be in the offing tomorrow to re-elect both to the same posts, it was reported today.

How the county will be run in case of enemy attack will be disclosed when Civil Defense Committee chairman Charles E. Cardon, of Oak Park, reports on a survival and continuity of government plan for the county. He will also report on the preservation of vital county records.

Consensus in Pontiac:

Vacations Apart Are for Birds!

By DICK SAUNDERS

How are you taking your vacation this year? Are you REALLY getting away from it all, including the spouse in your life?

The question of separate vacations for husbands and wives is a lively one, and was asked of six persons.

Let there be no doubts as to the outcome. "Togetherness" is a many splendored thing, according to the majority.

Peter Slabinski, of 111 Parkhurst St., was outspoken.

SLABINSKI

"Definitely together," he asserted.

"My wife and I have always vacationed together and that's the way it should be. It's much more enjoyable to have someone along instead of trying to enjoy a vacation alone."

★ ★ ★

Also in agreement for much the same reason was Israel Contreras, of 40 Tregent St.

CONTRERAS

"I think a man and wife should take their vacations together so both can enjoy it," he said.

After a moment he added, "It would certainly be cheaper to take one vacation than two."

★ ★ ★

With no hesitation we got a firm "together" from Mrs. Manuel Paramo, of 272 Raeburn St. "In our case it would be foolish to take separate vacations," she said.

MRS. PARAMO

"Both my husband and I work. We're not together enough as it is, and when we are it is usually on our days off working around the house."

"When we get a chance to have some time off for fun, we certainly enjoy it together."

★ ★ ★

Another idea was brought to view by Mrs. Lois Chatman, of 77 Jackson St., who agreed that "husbands and wives would find a vacation together more enjoyable."

MRS. CHATMAN

"While I think we should vacation together, I also think it's nice to get away from the kids for a few days. After all, most of a housewife's work is caring for her children."

"Until they are old enough to appreciate a vacation, I think it's

C. T. Fisher Jr., J. S. Coleman Dead

JOHN S. COLEMAN

CHARLES T. FISHER JR.

DETROIT (AP) — Two of Detroit's top civic and business leaders died last night.

Charles T. Fisher Jr., 51, president of the National Bank of Detroit, and John S. Coleman, 60, president of Burroughs Corp., succumbed within nine hours of each other.

Fisher died of lung cancer in a hospital at 6 a.m. Coleman died of a heart attack at his apartment at 9 p.m.

Fisher was a member of a family well known in banking and auto-making. His father, Charles Sr., is the eldest of the famous Fisher brothers who founded the Fisher Body Co. and built Detroit's Fisher Building.

★ ★ ★

Coleman was president of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce in 1956-57 and had been president of the business machine manufacturing firm since 1946. He was stricken last October. Despite his heart condition, Coleman had worked through last Friday.

Fisher was known as one of this country's foremost finance experts and served terms as a director of the Reconstruction Finance Corp. and as Michigan Banking Commissioner.

Born in Detroit Feb. 14, 1907, Fisher began his banking career in 1928 when he became an employe of the Guardian Bank of Detroit after graduation from Georgetown. He left the bank in 1931 to become secretary-treasurer of the Seventh Federal Reserve District's national Credit Assn. No. 2 in Detroit.

He became president and director of the National Bank of Detroit in January 1938, serving in that position until his death except for a leave of absence from 1942-45 when he returned to serve as a director with the RFC.

He was a director of General Motors Corp., American Airlines Inc., Briggs Manufacturing Co., Detroit Edison Co., Michigan Bell Telephone Co., National Steel Corp., Detroit Baseball Co., Detroit Football Co., American Broadcasting-Paramount Theaters Inc. and other firms.

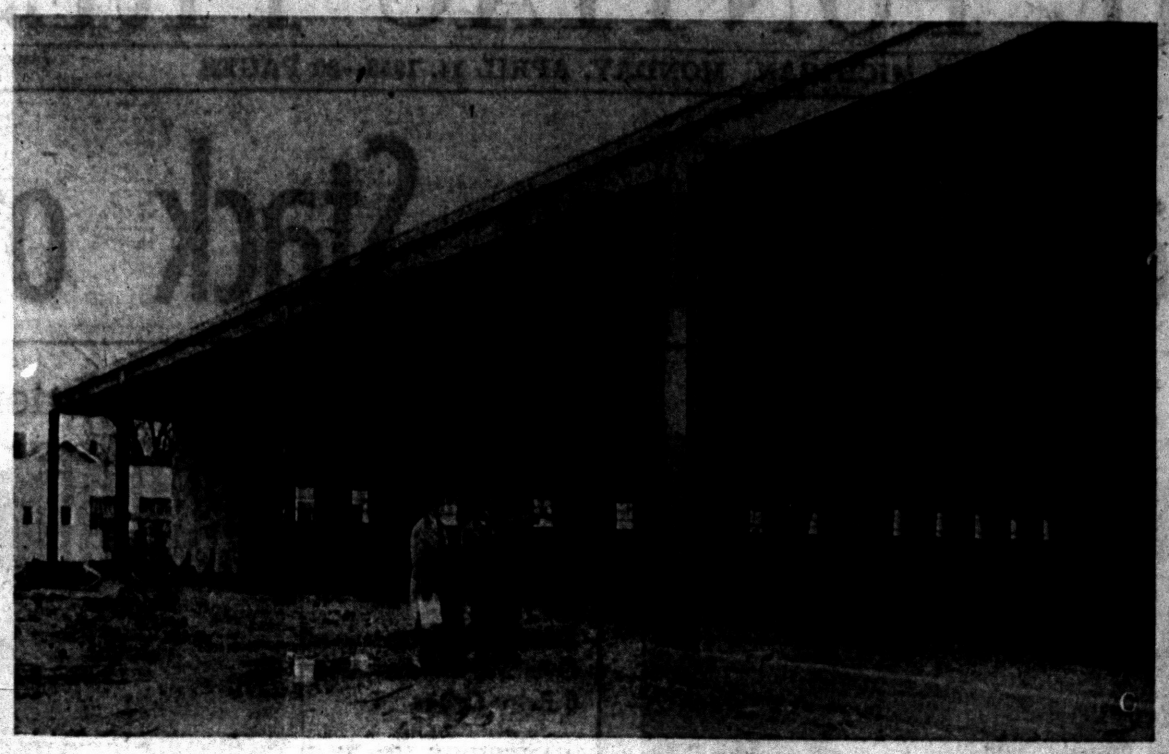

A resident of suburban Grosse Pointe, his main hobbies were boating and hunting.

★ ★ ★

Coleman was a native of Charles Town, W.Va., the son of a coal miner turned hardware merchant. In World War I he served in the Army Ordnance Corps.

Upon discharge from the Army he went to Georgetown University, from which he graduated in 1924.

It was while at Georgetown that Coleman joined Burroughs, beginning as part-time adding machine salesman.

Rested (Wiser?) Congress Returns

VETO LOOMS

Anti-recession interest was stirred also by persistent reports that President Eisenhower might veto the one billion 800 million dollar highway bill as well as the one billion 600 million dollar rivers and harbors works bill.

Eisenhower already has one veto message before Congress—on the bill it passed to freeze farm price supports and acreage allotments at no less than 1957 levels. Democrats have promised to try to override the farm veto, but are almost certain to fail to get the required two-thirds vote.

However, a Presidential veto of the highway bill might be overridden and would be regarded by many Republicans as a political mistake in an election year.

No immediate move on the tax cut issue is looked for. President Eisenhower is standing pat for the time being on his belief that no such "emergency" action is needed yet.

★ ★ ★

Democratic leaders have agreed to consult the administration, and vice versa, before launching any tax cut effort.

But some tax program must be decided upon before June 30. Unless extended, corporation and automobile excise tax rates drop automatically at that time.

Sen. Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn) called yesterday for "decisive action," including tax cuts for lower and middle income groups, extended unemployment compensation and public works, among them school and hospital construction.

REDUCTION THREATENED

The executive director of the Tax Foundation, Inc., a private research organization, declared meanwhile, that increased spending by Congress seriously threatens chances for future "prudent tax reduction."

Herbert J. Miller said in a statement that six appropriations measures already passed by the House show a potential increase of 1.4 billion dollars over budget estimates.

As a further index of recession interest, Sen. Norris Cotton (R-NH), came back to Washington with a proposal for a "thorough investigation" of the decline in the U. S. textile industry, both as to cause and cure. Urging the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee to act, Cotton warned:

"As a nation, we simply cannot afford to let this basic industry perish."

He cited the farm program which sells surplus cotton abroad at a cut rate, foreign trade and foreign aid programs as "major contributors to the disasters which have hit the U. S. textile industry."

Pontiac Resident Catches Intruder With No Pants

An intrepid householder, armed with a shotgun, held an intruder at bay Sunday morning until police arrived.

Charles Newsom, of 305 W. Hopkins St., told the officers he was awakened around 6 a.m. by a slamming door. Snatching up his shotgun he advanced into the living room to find Elwood F. St. Croix, 22, of 16394 Fish Lake Rd., Holly, standing there in his shorts.

While Newsom kept the man covered, his wife called the police. St. Croix, who had been drinking, told the officers he was attending a housewarming at his brother-in-law's home across the street.

He was unable to explain what he was doing wandering about without his pants. The officers arrested him for investigation of burglary.

Truman rejected the argument of some administration economists that high spending probably would lead to inflation by saying that this conclusion is "defeatism of the worst order."

The 73-year-old former president appears as lead-off witness before the committee. He will be followed during the next five weeks by 10 governors and labor and industry officials in the House unit's full-scale probe of unemployment.

Republican panel members already have taken up the cudgel on the jobless inquiry, Ranking GOP member Henry O. Talle, Iowa, accused Democratic leaders of loading the hearings with anti-administration witnesses.

Talle said the probe will turn into "a loudspeaker for Democratic political propaganda."

Committee Chairman Brent Spence (D-Ky) countered that the testimony of Truman, with his "great capacity for decision and leadership in time of crisis," will be "particularly helpful in view of the indecision being manifested by the present administration."

GOP opposition to the former president's views was stirred even before he took the witness stand. In the House, a dozen young Republicans reserved time on the floor Tuesday for speeches to answer Truman's testimony and attack Democratic economic programs in general.

Know the Weather

By E. H. SIMS

Why does high humidity in the spring and summer make us uncomfortable?

The relative humidity (percentage of moisture in the air) has a noticeable effect on us because the body perspires constantly, the amount varying on activity and other factors.

On days when a high pressure system is above us, with its usual dry, cool air, we feel good. The drier air causes rapid evaporation of perspiration, and clothes do not become wet or sticky.

In addition, low pressure (which often accompanies high humidity) acts on our blood vessels with what is sometimes a depressing effect. Thus physically and physiologically high humidity directly affects our comfort.

News Flash

NEW YORK (AP) — Federal Judge John M. Cashin today granted a government motion to postpone until April 28 the wiretap conspiracy trial of James R. Hoffa, president of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters. Trial of Hoffa and two others, Owen Bernard Brennan, president of Teamsters Local 337, and Bernard Spindel, professional wiretapper, had been scheduled to begin today. Last Friday Judge Cashin indicated he would postpone it because of hearings scheduled this week in Philadelphia by the Senate Rackets Committee.

Gaillard Will Face Trouble in Assembly

PARIS (AP) — Premier Felix Gaillard faces trouble from the Conservatives tomorrow when France's National Assembly debates his acceptance of a U.S.-British good offices plan to settle the Tunisian dispute.

Unless there is an outright right-wing revolt, however, Gaillard is expected to survive another of the Assembly storms he has weathered since he took office in November.

The rightists feel Gaillard yielded to U.S. pressure in accepting the plan after President Eisenhower indicated France could expect no American support if she brushed aside the good offices mission and went to the United Nations.

The dispute stems from France's Feb. 8 bombing of the Tunisian border village Sakiet Sidi Youssef on grounds it harbored Algerian rebels.

Can Only Wring Moisture From Clouds

Modern Rainmaker Is Skilled Scientist

BOSTON (INS) — Ever since some prehistoric thinker concluded that rain was a requisite to survival, man has been trying to create precipitation.

He has invented rain gods, danced, prayed, fired cannons into the air, clanged cymbals, waved wands and sent up clouds of smoke.

★ ★ ★

Now man is back to using smoke, rather than superstitiously.

Modern "rain maker" Dr. Wallace E. Howell of Lexington, Mass., utilizes smoke to waft silver iodide into moisture - laden clouds to induce rain.

Exactly how successful this method is is open to debate. It does appear he can help nature to some extent.

★ ★ ★

Back in 1950, Dr. Howell, "seeded" clouds over New York state with silver iodide. He also dropped dry ice from airplanes, a method he has since discarded as too expensive and not too productive.

It rained so hard in New York after several weeks of cloud-seeding that resort-owners howled in anguish. Reservoirs which had been dangerously low, were filled by the time Dr. Howell packed his gear and departed — in a driving rain storm.

"I have made it rain," Dr. Howell reported. He later amended this unqualified statement with the announcement that he had helped to make it rain "perhaps a little more than it would have."

The city of New York paid Dr. Howell $100 a day for the experiment.

The drought was eased by showers within a few days. Enough rain fell to enable Gov. Foster Furcolo to reopen woodlands which had been closed because of the fire hazard. Crops in some areas of the state were probably saved.

The 42-year-old meteorologist estimates cloud-seeding, on the average, produces a 25 per cent increase in rainfall over that which would have fallen without the seeding.

★ ★ ★

This appears to be the usual caution of a scientist who earned his Master's and Doctorate degrees in meteorology from Masschusetts Institute of Technology and who was a research fellow at Harvard University.

NO SECRET FORMULA

Dr. Howell makes no secret of his rain - making formula. He explained how rain takes place normally:

"Water vapor is always present in the atmosphere up to a maximum of about four per cent. The cloud bases that meet the eye represent the level where water vapor is condensing into minute droplets of water.

"When clouds cool to the point where ice crystals begin to form, the processes of rainfall begin to take place. Tiny dust particles or other impurities, when present in sufficient numbers, assist by acting as 'seeds' around which the crystals form . . .

★ ★ ★

"When the crystals become heavy enough to fall, they pass through warmer air masses, and melt to become raindrops."

Dr. Howell uses silver iodide to form "artificial seeds."

Ground generators get the silver iodide into the air. These generators are small steel boxes connected to a tank of propane gas. He explained:

"Within each box is a motor which moves a wick through the propane flame about the size of a small bowl torch. Each wick is impregnated with a solution of silver iodide. The burning wick releases a faint cloud of smoke. Within the smoke are many tiny particles of silver iodide which have been vaporized by the flame and later condensed into minute crystals.

★ ★ ★

"Normal updrafts of air carry the particles readily into the upper air where they form artificial 'seeds' for the formation of ice crystals, thus increasing the likelihood of rain if an adequate moisture supply is present."

Rain makers, he said, use batteries of these generators upon the presence of favorable cloud conditions.

Dr. Howell stresses that he can't make clouds, nor can he put moisture in clouds.

He can merely wring the moisture from the clouds.

Strikes Cost Little Time

STOCKHOLM — The number of man-days of work lost in Sweden in 1956 because of labor disputes was 4,448, lowest since the Swedish Labor Federation was founded in 1898. The time loss was about equal to one year's work of 15 employees.

Texas Pianist Wins in Russia

Reds More Excited by His Performance Than Own Artists' Work

MOSCOW (AP)— Van Cliburn, a 6-foot-4 Texan whose piano playing excited the Soviets even more than their own products, today was named the winner of a grueling international music contest that drew contestants from all over the Communist world.

The 23-year-old pianist from Kilgore, Tex., was one of two Americans who reached the finals of the Tchaikovsky international piano competition. Daniel Pollack of Los Angeles was rated last among nine finalists.

★ ★ ★

Even before Cliburn played in the finals Friday night, music-loving Muscovites had heard of his keyboard skill. They jammed the hall for his appearance and called him back for an encore despite contest rules against it.

Cliburn, who won 25,000 rubles (officially $6,250) as first prize and a short concert tour in the Soviet Union, said he was exhausted but happy when the news was leaked to him and the other winners late last night.

★ ★ ★

Cliburn began playing the piano at the age of 3. He won his first contest in Texas at 12 — playing the Tchaikovsky Concerto No. 1 that was one of the pieces in the Moscow competition.

Two other Americans entered but did not make the finals. They were Jerome Lowenthal and Norman Shelter, both of Philadelphia.

NEW YORK (INS) — "Sunrise at Campobello" and "The Music Man" copped nine of the 15 "Tony" awards given last night by the American Theater Wing for outstanding plays and performances.

The awards were distributed at the 12th annual dinner-dance, at which over 1,000 watched the televised handing out of "Tonys," so named in honor of the late Theater Wing President Antoinette Perry.

★ ★ ★

Friendship Toast Ends Red's Visit

CLEVELAND (AP) — Soviet Ambassador Mikhail A. Menshikov is off for New York today after preaching the gospel of good will and friendship during his weekend visit here.

The ambassador climaxed his visit to multimillionaire industrialist Cyrus S. Eaton with a toast to Soviet-American friendship.

"This represents the feelings of my country," Menshikov assured guests at a luncheon at Eaton's Acadia Farms, between here and Akron. Eaton entertained the ambassador and his wife, Evgenia at the estate where he raises registered shorthorn cattle.

The ambassador, who plumped for trade and other manner of exchange between the United States and the Soviet Union, said in an interview he thought Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev would come to this country to meet President Eisenhower if he were invited.

Good Bet Being Missed by Some Ball Club

PORTSMOUTH, Va. — M. S. "Tiny" Moynihan, a 24-year-old mail carrier, is quite a hero to folks around here, but he takes the incident as just one of those things which happen to a mailman.

Donna Kelly, 4, trying to retrieve some toys, slipped and neighbors watched in terror as she clung by one hand to the outside of a second - floor window sill. Moynihan, a former high school athlete and assistant to the athletic director of the recreation bureau, rushed up and persuaded the child to drop. He made a perfect catch.

City Modernization Under Way

Downtown Pontiac's far sighted planning completed the first step Thursday when consulting experts reported to an enthusiastic group at City Hall.

★ ★ ★

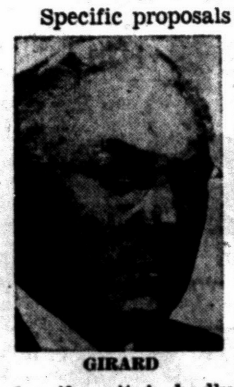

In addition to the merchants, there were City, County and State officials present to hear the proposals that have been months in preparation. Nationally known experts have been reviewing Pontiac's traffic problems within the city and in the surrounding area.

WILLMAN

★ ★ ★

Specific proposals have been made that start with a periphery highway around the city that will tie in scientifically with our inside problems. The total plan will cost around eight or ten million dollars and it will modernize the city's badly cramped street system and provide a more modern business center with adequate parking.

GIRARD

★ ★ ★

One of the interesting steps proposes a Grand Trunk grade separation for a big entrance to the city from the northwest. Another outlines the necessity of taking the sharp angle out of Orchard Lake and Auburn with a gradual curve that would require closing certain stores.

★ ★ ★

County and State officials were enthusiastic over the splendid work done by the planning group and expressed a desire to assist wherever the City plans dovetail into their own activities. The over-all pattern is workable, acceptable and shows great thought and study.

The money that Pontiac merchants invested in this survey has been very well spent. We need to modernize to maintain our position in the sun. Few cities have been as badly handicapped as Pontiac in the matter of cross town streets. Like Topsy, we "just growed up" and everything "headed downtown."

★ ★ ★

This was no handicap at the outset, but it's a heavy cross to bear today. The business district must have relief from the abnormal traffic volume that pours in with no justification. People driving from one side of the city to the other slow down all shopping activities by passing "through the center" of the city. And their own journey requires extra time. Most cities of this size are better off today than Pontiac. We should hasten to catch up.

★ ★ ★

A large part of the credit for the splendid work belongs to Alfred C. Girard and W. K. Willman. Mr. Girard served as the spark plug and really started the ball rolling. Without his personal foresight, energy and tireless activity, the plan would have never been started or carried to the point we now see.

City Manager Willman stepped forward promptly when the survey began and he has done yeoman service in coordinating all branches and tying the whole thing together. Again he has proved to be a very capable administrator.

The first presentation was received with enthusiasm and wide acceptance. Pontiac is on the way to becoming a really modern city again.

State Ownership Stirs Farmers in Russia

The pesky Reds are having farm troubles.

They've even been driven to the dire extremity of making concessions to the farmers. At the moment, nearly a third of all Russian farm land is "owned" by the state which merely "took it over for the good of the order." The former owners are paid a "salary." At least that's what the Russians tried to call it. The people that lived there, worked the soil and the products belonged to the Government.

★ ★ ★

Production has slumped so badly all over Russia, that the Government is now ready to grant certain rights to the farmers on these public domain acres.

They can keep some of their produce.

That is startling — in Russia.

Concessions have appeared before, for the Russian rulers have set up a program which aims at making Russian farms as productive per acre as those in the United States. This is a possibility, but it isn't very apt to happen under present controls.

The people do as little as possible. And wouldn't you?

★ ★ ★

Stalin practically wrecked the Russian farm system when he grabbed all the land from the peasants and boasted later that he "did away" with ten million people in the process. Perhaps he was bragging, but the fact remains he liquidated an unholy number. Then the production really started down hill. Old Joe fixed things up — but good.

★ ★ ★

KHRUSHCHEV is now waving the olive branch. He's on a hot seat and he knows it. You can't abuse millions and millions of peasants indefinitely in 1958.

One of Life's Little Mysteries

David Lawrence Says:

Wage, Price Control Only Solution

WASHINGTON — The real solution for America's economic difficulties is not to be found in tax cuts or in increased public spending but in wage and price control.

LAWRENCE

It takes courage for Congress to re-impose wage and price control in America. Yet almost everybody here privately agrees a sound growth cannot be fostered without some way to keep wages and prices down.

Wage and price control of the voluntary kind has been proposed again and again inside and outside Congress—by the President, influential legislators and economists. But always it's self-discipline that is urged.

Nobody really dares to go to the point where governmental action is openly recommended. This, however, now has become absolutely imperative if America is to be saved from a deep depression within the next three years. For wartime conditions still exist on the economic front. The "cold war" is worldwide. America is spending 40 billion dollars a year for armament, and there is no sign of a let-up.

A few days ago the best exposition of what's wrong with the national economy was given by Bernard M. Baruch, America's elder stateman, in testimony before the Senate Finance Committee. He deplored the evils of unrestrained price-wage spirals. He recommended a self-imposed restriction on wages and prices for one year by labor and management. He added:

"Nothing would be more effective in turning the tide than to halt the never-ending spiral of wages and prices. The best stimulant to our economy would come from price reductions. . . .

"If industry and labor continue to push up wage, price and profit levels, they will price themselves out of the market. Consumer resistance will grow, further depressing economic activity and adding to unemployment. . . .

"We must halt the wild, unmerry chase of prices, wages and profits. . . . If they (labor and industrial leaders) will not adjust voluntarily and in time to the law of supply and demand, the adjustment eventually forced on them will be much more painful."

What's coming is plain to see—a spurt or recovery from the present recession will be under way during the latter part of 1958 and through the year 1959. This will concurrently encourage labor to demand another round of wage increases. These will be extorted by strike threats and through "escalator" clauses already included in labor union contracts.

Because employers are unable to stand costly strikes, they have to yield to almost any extortion. Once the so-called "recovery" from the present "recession" is accomplished through the measures of "pump priming" that Congress now is pressing, the end result will be a violent inflation, followed by a buyers' strike on prices and then a real depression which will indeed be of the "hair curling" kind.

Will Congress move to prevent the next depression by action now? For more than 15 months, the President has eloquently urged self-restraint, but his words have gone unheeded.

Labor union leadership is today in the forefront of those demanding larger and larger government expenditures, knowing full well this will produce an artificial boom under the cover of which larger and larger wage increases will be demanded and doubtless will be granted by browbeaten employers.

The course open to the President is clear. He can propose a tax reduction of a gradual nature, spread over the next five years, but with a demand that government expenses also be reduced so as to keep the deficit at a minimum.

Congress, however, is not yet ready to accept this and will demand as an alternative a tax cut now and more spending, too. If so, the President should be ready to insist on coupling a tax cut with the enactment of a law providing a standby mechanism of wage and price control which could be imposed promptly to avoid inflation. Otherwise, the President would be justified in vetoing any bill to cut taxes.

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

And the king said unto Araunah, Nay; but I will surely buy it of thee at a price: neither will I offer burnt offerings unto the Lord my God of that which doth cost me nothing. So David bought the threshing-floor and the oxen for fifty shekels of silver.—II Samuel 24:24.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Thrived on Diet Outlined in 'Body, Mind and Sugar'

"In a course on Modern Psychology, we reviewed the book "Body, Mind and Sugar," by E.M. Abrahamson, M.D., and A. W. Pezet. Our instructor tried to get it into our heads, as being important to our welfare, not to drink coffee or strong tea the first thing in the morning.

DR. BRADY

"If I recall correctly coffee stimulates a person by raising the blood sugar level, but it as quickly lets you down . . . (D. C. R.)"

Now, see here! I have recommended the book to many readers.

The subject of hypoglycemia (low blood sugar) is full of booby traps. The more I study it, the more strongly I feel that even the experts don't know all about it; and as for you and me, ma'am, we had better be careful.

Some time ago I quoted here a letter from a lady who said:

"After 25 years of dragging around half dead (half her life) my sister read "Body, Mind and Sugar". . . she finally consulted a physician who prescribed virtually the diet described in the book. . . after he had made repeated blood sugar tests. . ."

The effect on the patient's well-being was amazing.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Abrahamson gives credit to Dr. Seale Harris who devised the diet for hyperinsulinism (hypoglycemia) given in the book.

For one thing it calls for seven or eight partakings of food or drink daily, instead of three meals.

The lady's sister found the diet not quite so easy as rolling off a log. Items you must absolutely avoid:

Sugar, candy, sweets such as cake, pie, pastries, custards, honey, jelly, jam, puddings, ice cream — here, cry on my shoulder if you wish — potatoes, rice, grapes, raisins, plums, figs, dates, bananas, spaghetti, macaroni, noodles, coffee, tea and other beverages containing caffeine, wines, cordials, cocktails, beer.

"Why, asked a Cambridge reader, "should a person having low blood sugar follow a diet that practically excludes sugar? Answer me that! (K. L. A.)"

Next time I come to Boston, ma'am, I may have a good solution to the puzzle, but meanwhile I must take evasive action — keep well under the covers and beware of drafts — I'll see you tomorrow.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Her Guilt Causes Health Obsession

Linda is a "Worry Wart" about her heart. But she also thinks she may be losing her mind. She is a good example of a person with a neurosis, so scrapbook this case. Despite excellent medical attention, she remained a psychological invalid till she confessed her secret sin. If you fear a nervous breakdown, send for the booklet below.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case X-379: Linda G., aged 27, is a good example of a neurotic wife.

★ ★ ★

"Dr. Crane, am I losing my mind?" she began fearfully.

"My heart pounds so much at night that I lie awake for hours, fearing I may die before morning.

DR. CRANE

"My family physician said my heart was O.K., and he finally sent me to a heart specialist, who made the same diagnosis.

"Three months ago I had a miscarriage and lost a lot of blood. That was when I first noticed this pounding of my heart.

★ ★ ★

"But now I am no longer anemic yet my heart bothers me worse than ever. So is it my imagination or am I going crazy?"

HEART NEUROSIS

Linda is now a chronic "Worry Wart" about her health.

Often such excessive concern may start with a legitimate medical condition.

And Linda cites her miscarriage as such a cause. But why should she continue with her obsession after her medical problem has cleared up?

Even when her family physician and a cardiologist have both told her nothing is wrong with her heart, she persists in believing she may die before morning.

★ ★ ★

Well, in such cases the patient often feels guilty of some secret sin that hasn't been revealed to her physician.

She believes she has offended God and that the Almighty will thus kill her in some dramatic way.

Please remember, in this connection, that the ailments which guilty people regard as evidences of God's punishment, are usually a sudden and dramatic attack, as a stroke of apoplexy, insanity, a heart attack, or a bolt of lightning.

Guilty people rarely think of tuberculosis or diphtheria or typhoid and typhus.

★ ★ ★

So what do you think underlies Linda's chronic fear? What kind of sin do you suppose she may have committed?

LINDA'S SECRET SIN

Linda mentioned that she had a miscarriage. But she later confessed to me that she had induced the miscarriage because she didn't want to have the baby.

She never told her husband or her physician that she helped start the abortion.

But ever since that event, she has felt that she was a murderess. Her vivid imagination has thus made her believe that God must soon afflict her with insanity or sudden death.

That's why she alternates between her worry over her pounding heart and also her dread that she may be losing her mind.

And as long as she kept her secret sin covered up, no organic medical treatment could cure her.

★ ★ ★

For when a patient firmly believes an idea, even though false, she will disregard the scientific assurances from a cardiologist and other medical experts.

So I suggested she atone for her sin by bearing a couple of babies, spaced about 18 months apart, and thus make up for her mistake by being a good mother henceforth.

Her confession, plus this positive psychological prescription, set her on the road to health and happiness. And delighted her husband, too, who wanted a family.

★ ★ ★

So send for my booklet, "How to Prevent Nervous Breakdowns," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents (non-profit).

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Letter From Johnny Doe Brings Readers' Denials

Sure it's easier to pay bills with blood of young men than "I Like Ike" buttons, Johnny Doe. If you have no dear ones to send, it's a wonderful way to keep factories humming. Go through our veterans hospitals, see the once-fine young men who weren't killed outright but live in misery, and I'm sure you'd rather tighten your belt and work your way out of a depression.

As for MacArthur being fired because he was sick of seeing our boys needlessly slaughtered, it was a good deal for him. He's too fine a man to have a blustering, swearing, incompetent politician as his superior.

Janie Doe

I wonder how shiftless people are getting when they say "you can't pay bills with 'I Like Ike' buttons." You have to do something about it. Jobs won't come to you. Help Wanted April 11 had plenty of jobs for men 18-55. Only seven of the 26 required experience or skill. The others asked only willingness to work and learn. When there's a long list of available jobs, I'm not in sympathy with unemployed.

As for capitalism losing loyalty, a lot of poverty would end if some people would stop thinking the world owed them a living. Many don't appreciate this system because it takes fortitude, ingenuity and hard work to succeed. Those who sell inferior merchandise or do inferior work don't fare as well. Let's quit griping and go to work.

'Criticism Easy in Private Life'

Funny how easy it is to criticize a fellow human when he fails. We sit back in our smug private lives, free from all publicity regardless of our mistakes. Many of us make mistakes that far surpass Miss Lana Turner's but since we're not in the public eye, they usually go unnoticed. I'm not defending her private life, only saying give credit where it's due.

Think of the many hours of enjoyment we've all enjoyed from her acting. Her mistakes she alone must pay for and she will. At a time like this let's look to Jesus, who said: "He that is without sin among you, let him first cast a stone at her." Who can be first?

How much of this juvenile trouble in school is the fault of "the system?" Progressive education seems to mean the ability to go to school steadily and learn as little of the three "R's" as possible. When I went to school we learned something. Or else. But we didn't have the ultra-modern schemers to contend with.

The Truth About Russia's Schools

Is Soviet Instruction in Science Really Outstanding?

(Just how good are Russian schools? Since the Soviets sent their first Sputnik into space there have been glowing reports about the Russian educational system. Now The Pontiac Press presents the first frank and authoritative analysis of those schools by a top American educator who has recently visited the Soviet Union. Prof. William W. Brickman is president of the Comparative Education Society and editor of the periodical "School and Society." This is the first of four articles.)

By WILLIAM W. BRICKMAN
Professor of Education
New York University
(Copyright, 1958, by INS)

One of the most interesting and perhaps most important new developments in Soviet education in recent years is the return of the boarding school to Russia for the first time since the revolution.

Boarding schools were opened in various parts of the Soviet Union in the fall of 1956 after Nikita Khrushchev made a strong plea for this form of education in his famous speech at the twentieth congress of the Communist Party.

WHAT GOES ON

Just what goes on in these schools? To get an idea I visited Boarding School No. 13, an old but neat four-story building near the outskirts of Moscow.

This school teaches and houses 180 boys and girls, beginning with seven-year-olds in first grade and ending at present with sixth grade. In due time, the school will have the full 10 grades of the more typical Russian schools.

The school day begins at 7:45 a.m., Monday through Saturday. Pupils in the first four grades have four periods of 45 minutes each, while the fifth and sixth graders may have as many as six periods a day. The children are required to spend about two hours each night doing their homework. They go home Saturday evening and return to the school Sunday night.

The discipline is perfect. A red flag marks the desk of the best pupil of the week. Similarly, a red flag decorates the doors of the classes which excell in cleanliness and order, and the pupils of these classes are rewarded with circus or theater tickets.

DISCIPLINE IN DORMS

The discipline applies as well to the dormitory rooms, somewhat crowded with 16 to a room. The children, supervised by nurses at night, do their own cleaning, serve themselves three meals and an afternoon snack.

English is taught in many Soviet schools beginning with fifth grade. I heard one girl read English quite well and her translation into Russian seemed quite accurate. However, most pupils I met in this school and elsewhere did not speak English despite several years of instruction.

Wherever I went—in the halls, classrooms or offices—I saw busts, portraits or photographs of Lenin and of most of the current Communist Party leaders. And it was a rare pupil who did not sport the bright red neckerchief of the Pioneer (child Communist) Organization.

PARENTS WORK

The principal told me that the boarding school is especially designed for children whose parents work, for sons and daughters of invalids, and for children of large families. For 30 to 40 rubles a month — a comparatively modest fee ($7.50 to $10 at the official exchange rate) — the children get tuition, board, medical care by a doctor and nurse, school uniforms and warm overcoats. Orphans are admitted without cost.

The principal also told me that the aims of the boarding school are to create a cultural individual who is well-bred and good at working with his hands and to make life easier for parents.

But my impression is that the boarding schools are more than mere conveniences for parents. Their connection with the Twentieth Congress of the party would seem to lend strength to the idea that they are designed as a means of strengthening the Communist Party loyalty of Soviet youth.

SCHOOL OF FUTURE

The boarding school seems to be the school of the future in Russia. Only in such a school, with the state replacing the home six full days a week, can the Soviet leaders really mold the minds of Soviet children.

The basic unit of Soviet education is now the 10-year school, which provides instruction to boys and girls from age seven to 17. Grades one to four may be considered primary, grades five to seven intermediate, and grades eight to 10 secondary. The Soviet government hopes to have all the children in 10-year schools by 1960.

I visited such a school in Moscow.

The course of study at school No. 330 includes geography, biology, physics from grade six on, chemistry from grade seven on, mathematics, history from grade five on, and English from grade five on. In the tenth-year course in history there are lectures on the history of the Communist Party.

STUDENTS APPLAUD

The only bit of informality in the classroom was the applause by the students when the principal introduced the American visitors, Prof. Gerald Read of Kent State University in Ohio, and myself.

"What are your major problems?" I asked the school's director. He mentioned "character training" and "polytechnical education." Character, to him, comprised also the correct attitude toward the government and the Communist Party. Polytechnical training is a Soviet term describing the work skills which enable young people to do various types of jobs.

Both types of training, it is easy to see, are essential to a totalitarian country which is trying to utilize, to the maximum extent, its manpower in industry and technology.

In the light of all the publicity given to the smallness of Soviet classes, it is worth noting that the classes I saw average 40 children per class.

TRIED TO SPEAK

In the assembly hall I met a group of ninth graders and I tried to speak English to these 16-year-olds. They are now in their fifth year of English study (three times a week), but have difficulty in understanding more than a few simple words. Their speaking ability covers "thank you," "goodbye," and similar expressions.

I asked a few to read rather easy English, but it was too much of an effort for them. We have heard so much about Soviet superiority in teaching foreign languages. I was terribly disappointed.

Also surprising to me was the tenth grade physics class. Here the teacher demonstrated to 27 pupils the telegraph apparatus and the electric bell. I recall learning this information in elementary physics in high school, and many American pupils study these things in general science in junior high school.

We have been told that the Russians are outstanding in teaching science and foreign languages, if not in their complete school system. What I have seen leads me to question whether there is any truth in such statements.

Czech Villages Stand Empty

Capital, Prague, Packed to Capacity; Citizens Fear Border Areas

PRAGUE (AP)—Thousands of houses stand empty in rural and small-town areas of Communist-ruled Czechoslovakia while the capital, Prague, is packed to capacity.

Referring to the "housing shortage," Premier Viliam Siroky last summer promised a 50 per cent increased in construction of state-owned apartment buildings.

★ ★ ★

At about the same time, Rude Pravo, Communist party mouthpiece, told its readers that hundreds of "fine little houses are waiting" for occupants outside of Prague.

Czech newspapers report that 120,000 Prague apartments are overcrowded and 11,000 people live in "emergency" quarters. And yet, between January and June, only 134 Prague citizens moved out of the capital into some of these "fine little houses."

Contradictory? "Frontier resettlement" is the keyword denoting the problem. It means the resettlement of the areas from which nearly two million Sudeten-Germans fled or were expelled after World War II.

Villages immediately adjacent to the border were razed to eliminate hideaways for refugees fleeing the country.

Other abandoned communities are slowly crumbling or form part of large military training areas. The government has denied published reports that Soviet rocket bases have been set up in these areas.

★ ★ ★

Why are people hesitating to move into the frontier areas? Most Czechs agreed with the answer of a former Nazi persecutee: "People don't feel safe there."

Remember Those Saturday Haircuts?

NEW YORK (AP)—Life wasn't always this way:

Remember when it was a sign of wealth if you got your hair cut any time except after work on Saturday?

Remember when a juvenile delinquent was a kid too lazy to hold a job and go to school at the same time?

Remember when the most common occupational disease was old age?

★ ★ ★

Remember when only pencils wrote under water?

Remember when there was so little traffic on the road you could go somewhere on Sunday and get back the same day?

Remember when, if a weapon was used in a classroom, it was wielded by the teacher?

Remember when April 15 was just a day in the middle of the month?

'Hydronics' New Term

CHICAGO—The new term adopted to describe the practice of heating and cooling with water is "hydronics."

Remember when automobile windshields opened out and cars had running boards?

Remember when a disappointing blind date was called a "flat tire"?

Remember when a child got a 25-cent weekly allowance the neighbors whispered he was sure to grow up spoiled?

Remember when the limit of outer space was the farthest town you could pick up on your new crystal radio set after midnight?

Remember when you had to go abroad to see a foreign car?

Remember when to get ahead in business you had to play a good game of mah-jongg?

Remember when spats were an article of male apparel, as well as a mild family quarrel?

Remember when the Wild West was in Montana instead of your living room?

Remember when you could get a good hotel room for two dollars?

Remember when children were strong enough to walk to school?

State Polio Vaccine All Distributed

LANSING (AP)—The last of state-purchased polio vaccine has been distributed and there are no funds to buy more, Dr. Albert E. Heustis, state health commissioner, said Saturday.

Protection against paralytic polio now becomes an obligation of parents or local governments, Dr. Heustis said.

★ ★ ★

There is no appropriation bill before the legislature to continue vaccine purchase.

Dr. Heustis said 5,759,148 doses of the Salk vaccine have been made available in Michigan since the state buying program began. Of the $3,661,855 spent, $2,112,802 came from the state, the rest from the federal government.

The health commissioner said the program has checked paralytic polio. However, it can start all over again, he warned.

★ ★ ★

Vaccine bought by the state, and other supplies, have given protection to 75 per cent of Michigan's residents between the ages of 1 and 17, plus about 100,000 expectant mothers, Dr. Heustis said.

Home Sweet Home Too Hot for Judge

DENVER (INS) — Take the advice of a tate supreme court judge, your furnace needs care and loving attention.

Justice Albert T. Frantz of the Colorado Supreme Court left his home in Denver for three days to attend a lawyers' convention.

★ ★ ★

While he was gone, the gas-fed hot air unit ran wide - open for the full three days. The house got to hot that even the thermostat thermometer blew up.

Total damage from heat ran mor than $1500. Apples left on the kitchen table by Mrs. Frantz were baked.

The family parakeet suffocated and house plants died. Furniture was badly scorched, candles melted over the dining room buffet, plaster walls cracked and even toilet bowls baked dry.

★ ★ ★

Furnace experts told him he was lucky the furnace unit did not explode.

Protect their precious future now

Like most young fathers, as soon as your children were born, you probably began to think more seriously about your family's future. You began to plan how you could make sure that they would have a secure home and an education, even if something should happen to you.

The time when children are young, however, is usually the time when the family income is far from ample . . . and the cost of the usual permanent insurance may look quite large. That is why Metropolitan has developed a special life insurance policy called the RPG-5.

This simply means that reduced premiums are guaranteed for the first five years. When the five years are up the premiums will increase to the level where they will remain for the life of the policy . . . but this increase may be offset by future dividends.

So here is an opportunity to get the full, permanent form of protection that your family needs . . . at a lower initial premium rate which may better fit your budget.

This is a perfect policy for the family man whose income hasn't quite caught up with his talents. It has all the cash and loan values that make permanent insurance such a wise investment.

Call your Metropolitan Representative today and ask him about the RPG-5. He will welcome the chance to explain this valuable policy . . . and to show that

Metropolitan service is as local as Main Street . . . as close as your phone

Bob Considine Says:

No Prouder Crew Than Aboard A-Sub

ABOARD U.S.S. SEAWOLF (INS)—There is no prouder crew on any U.S. Navy ship than the officers and men of this beloved black sheep of the atomic submarine fleet.

They have been together, with very few changes, for four or five years, learning how to operate this fantastic vessel from the time it was chiefly a huge stack of blueprints. Bad Luck, and the curse of being ahead of their age, has brought them close together.

It began when Seawolf's sister ship, Nautilus, turned out to be easier to build and simpler to operate. Nautilus was ringing up the first of many records, propelled by its water-cooled reactor, by the time Seawolf began to unlimber the muscles of its more complex liquid metal-cooled power plant.

To oversimplify matters, the uranium furnace in the Nautilus is kept from melting itself and all around it by water pressed through the apparatus under 2,000 pounds per square inch pressure. This creates the steam that is blasted against the turbines which, connected to reduction gears, turn the shafts and their two screws.

★ ★ ★

In the Seawolf, the cooling material is sodium, which is much more sensitive to the fires of the uranium fission than water. The sodium, after being heated, is intricately and delicately exposed to water, and the steam-to-turbine-to-reduction gear-to-drive shaft process then follows.

The designers of Seawolf's reactor built a super-heating device into the works. But leaks developed in the system and Seawolf spent wearying weeks in port while Nautilus leaped around the world like an iron porpoise.

The super-heating device was extracted, over the protests of some of the officers and men, and now the Seawolf operates on less power than was originally engineered into her.

★ ★ ★

Despite these setbacks, the boat (they don't call her a ship) has done close to 40,000 miles, 60 per cent of it submerged, and her original lump of uranium fuel is only half depleted. When the nuclear fire burns low this autumn, she will be pulled up and—to the sorrow of all hands—her reactor will be replaced by the Nautilus-type.

The job will take about one year. The Navy has not announced the cost, nor is the sodium-cooled atomic power concept being abandoned after what must be an investment of many hundreds of millions of dollars. "Standardization" is the given reason for the change.

Commander R. B. Laning, skipper of the Seawolf, tells us with a ring of pride in his voice that the metal-cooled reactor might well be chosen as the type to drive the first atomic plane.

★ ★ ★

A leak in any atomic furnace is a frightening prospect, especially with sodium involved. A water cooling reactor can accept 200,000 times the leak acceptable in the Seawolf's type.

Yet such was the determination, skill and know-how of the Seawolf's officers and men that no man on board—even during the worst of the boat's trials—received as much radiation as you do (from cosmic rays) whenever you leave your house.

So much for Seawolf's hard times. When she emerges from her yard sometime in 1959 with a new engine she will join a fleet which by that time could include three or four more of her type—one of them perhaps capable of hurling the 1,500-mile Polaris while lurking deep in the waters off an enemy country.

★ ★ ★

The men of the Seawolf will come back with their chins in the air. Nobody is going to kid them about their boat or about the power plant that had to be extracted by remote-control tongs. She was maybe a bit too advanced. And through the history of progress nobody or nothing can be faulted on such grounds.

Hollywood's Famous Attorney

Predicted Outcome of Inquest

By INTERNATIONAL NEWS

Dr. John McDonald, kneeling beside the body of John Stompanato on Lana Turner's pink-carpeted bedroom floor, turned to the glamorous, shock-benumbed actress and said:

"Lana, I can't get a heartbeat anymore."

Then he added:

"You'd better call Jerry Giesler."

Minutes later, Hollywood's most famous attorney arrived at Miss Turner's palatial home to answer the familiar summons of film folk in trouble.

Giesler took command of the situation immediately and, as he predicted on that terrible Good Friday, the slaying of the handsome underworld figure by Miss Cheryl, was ruled "justifiable homicide."

Hollywood's quiet, balding, conservatively dressed legal knight found himself in familiar surroundings when he led Miss Turner to the coroner's inquest yesterday.

The inquest was held in the same ancient courtroom where a young Giesler argued for and won the acquittal of one of his schoolboy idols, the great Clarence Darrow, who had been accused of attempting to bribe a jury.

When the physician asked the horrified Miss Turner to call Giesler into the case, he was merely repeating the words that have sent the quietly battling barrister into action in behalf of such clients as Charlie Chaplin, Errol Flynn, George Raft, Rudolph Valentino, Robert Mitchum, Walter Wanger, Busby Berkely and Alexander Pantages.

★ ★ ★

The attorney who was to gain virtually the same degree of fame and fortune as his well-publicized clients served his apprenticeship under the late Earl Rogers, once regarded as the greatest criminal attorney west of the Mississippi.

Giesler joined Rogers in 1911 following his graduation from the University of Southern California Law School.

One clue to Giesler's phenomenal success without the crutch of histrionics came when he defended Charlie Chaplin during his trial on Federal Mann act charges.

Giesler, who normally permits his clients to sit comfortingly near him at the counsel table, made Chaplin sit alone at the far end of the table on a chair so high that his feet dangled boyishly above the floor.

Chaplin came as close as possible to capturing the spirit of the wistful, maligned little character he portrayed in films — and won speedy acquittal.

★ ★ ★

Giesler's quiet flair for such touches, combined with a hard-headed, penetrating knowledge of the law, have put his name in the personal telephone books of virtually all of the illustrious of Hollywood, where those traits are admired—and often required.

Missile Warfare Catching Up on U.S.

Time for Retaliation Blow Shrinks

(Defense Secretary Neil H. McElroy has warned that reduction of "reaction time" to an enemy missile attack is a life-and-death matter for the U.S. Just how quickly could American defense forces react to meet an attack? How much warning would we have? Following is a report of the latest available information on this vital subject from International News Service correspondents in Washington, at the Colorado Springs headquarters of the North American Air Defense Command, and NATO headquarters in Paris.)

By INTERNATIONAL NEWS

America may have only 15 to 30 minutes warning that World War III has started — in the form of enemy missiles roaring toward us.

That is the consensus of top U.S. military leaders concerned with the problems of meeting any attack and mounting a massive retaliatory onslaught against the aggressor.

★ ★ ★

Top Pentagon, Air Force and Navy officials interviewed by International News Service agreed only a small part of their forces are now capable of reacting in those critical minutes — offensively and defensively.

The picture will brighten considerably by the end of the year, they said, when mass-produced intermediate range ballastic missiles will be rolling from American assembly lines.

The ushering in of the missile age has forced drastic reappraisals of military planning strategy.

★ ★ ★

In the past, the approach of manned bombers meant a two-to-three-hour warning for this country. Now, with the advent of missiles traveling at speeds of up to 16,000 miles per hour, this critical warning period has been drastically reduced.

Air Force and Pentagon spokesmen ridiculed a recent estimate by the North Atlantic Tready Organization that it will get "a few days" warning if the Soviets ever plan to strike.

American Air Defense Command, responsible for blunting any attack on the mainland, retorted:

"It would be a very hazardous and unsafe assumption to depend on having such a one or two-day advance notice. It would be a tranquilizer approach risking our national security.

"Our system at present is predicated on the threat of manned bombers. We have nothing in being capable of detecting or countering ballistic missiles.

"We would get considerably less warning than the three hours of a bomber attack, and might have only 15 minutes to counter a missile fired from a submarine.

In urging a streamlining of the military establishment on a "wartime basis," Defense Secretary Neil H. McElroy has warned:

"As we go into a period when a potential enemy may have operational long-range missiles in substantial quantities, our reaction time must be measured in minutes instead of hours."

This feeling of urgency is matched by the heads of all the military branches.

To deter a potential enemy until our retaliatory missiles are ready, the Strategic Air Command keeps several hundred of its 500 B52s and 1,700 B47s on a 15-minute alert status around the clock around the world.

MISSILE READIED,

The Pentagon said 1,500 mile Thor missiles will be mounted in Europe by the end of the year. In another year or so, it was estimated, some Atlas and other intercontinental ballastic missiles, now in the test stage, should be heady for combat firing.

An Air Force spokesman, commenting on the NATO belief of 24 to 48 hours warning, said:

"All our planning for the defense of the U.S. is based on the assumption that we would have at most thirty minutes warning."

While the present attack time for American jet bombers would add up to hours, the reaction time may already be in minutes for some 75 Matador guided missiles that the U.S. has mounted along the Communist frontier in Germany.

Gen. Curtis Lemay, former SAC commander, and now vice chife of the Air Force, voiced the Pentagon sentiment when he said:

"With the advent of hypersonic ballistic missiles, warning will be measured in minutes instead of hours."

Army Air Defense Command Chief Gen. Charles E. Hart recently expressed the belief Nike-Zeus missiles being rushed to guard key American cities will be able to shoot down intercontinental ballistic missiles.

Current Nike anti-aircraft missiles and fighter interceptors are in a state of readiness to counter missiles fired from subs.

Said an Air Force spokesman:

BIGGEST FACTOR TIME

"The biggest factor is time. In the launching of a missile from a sub, we might have 15 minutes to counter such a missile. Nike batteries can fire within seconds, and are fully operational with only a 15-minute warning. Our fighters can be airbourne in five minutes."

Overseas, NATO headquarters feels that the Russians have the means of launching a surprise attack, but Moscow couldn't exploit an assult without preparations that could be detected in advance.

An official NATO document on civil emergency planning said the Russians would not be able to conceal the evacuation of civilian populations from Key Russian cities before they fired the missiles that would start World War III.

Teachers Urged to Engage in Politics

LANSING (UP) — A Ferndale high school principal, president-elect of the Michigan Education Assn. (MEA), Saturday told teachers they should play an active role in politics at all levels.

Mrs. Charlotte Richard told representatives of Michigan's 50,000 teachers meeting at their annual delegate assembly they should descend on the city halls, county buildings and state capital."

"Teachers should either take an active role in politics or use their influence to bring public attention to education and its needs," she said.

Lynn M. Bartlett, state superintendent of public instruction, similarly told delegates some legislators know very little about problems confronting schools.

The MEA presented its highest award, the Distinguished Service Award, to Charles S. Mott of the Mott Foundation in Flint for his contributions to education.

John Strandburg of Detroit Mumford High was named president-elect to succeed Mrs. Richard, who will take office July 1.

Snow Avalanche Buries 18 Persons, All Saved

AALESUND, Norway (UP) — A snow avalanche buried 18 persons watching a ski jumping contest near this west Norwegian town yesterday but the snow was loosely packed and none were seriously injured.

Hundreds of rescuers dug for more than seven hours before all the missing were found. Some suffered from exposure and had to be hospitalized.

Lakes Cutter Eases Out of Binding Ice Jam

SUPERIOR, Wis. (UP) — A Coast Guard cutter caught in a binding ice jam near the western tip of Lake Superior pulled itself free yesterday but was making slow progress toward the harbor here.

★ ★ ★

By evening the Cutter Woodrush was two to three miles out and bucking windrows four to five feet high.

The Coast Guard reported the ship stuck about 20 miles east of here Saturday while cutting a channel for several fishing tugs. Ice in the region was one to three feet thick.

★ ★ ★

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery

Finds Healing Substance That Relieves Pain, Stops Itching as it Shrinks Hemorrhoids

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain—without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all — this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®) — the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H.® Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

Farm Students to Judge Soils

Oakland Pupils to Test Knowledge in Contest Here Tomorrow

Vocational agricultural students at Oakland County schools will test their knowledge of soils at the Geoffery Holmwood farm at 1 p.m. tomorrow at a land judging contest and study sponsored by the Oakland County Soil Conservation District.

★ ★ ★

Plaques will be awarded by the district to the high individual scorer and the high scoring team.

Knowledge of soils is recognized today as a vital part in the traning of future farmers, said Merrill Ray, district soil conservationist. On Tuesday these future farmers will be looking at the soils to determine if the land is best suited to growing trees, corn or grasses.

The slope of the land, amount of sand or clay, depth of soil and the amount of top soil lost are clues to best land use, Ray said.

★ ★ ★

Judges for the event will be Robert McCrory, vice chairman, Oakland Soil Conservation District, South Lyon; Leonard Braamse, extension soil conservationist, East Lansing; Robert Bryan, soil scientist, U. S. Soil Conservation Service, Pontiac; and Jay Poffenberger, assistant county agent, Cooperative Extension Service, Pontiac.

Budget Readied in Waterford

Tonight's Board Meet to Preclude Any Action on Funds at Present

The annual budget for Waterford Township will be presented at tonight's regular board meeting but it is expected there will be no action on the matter, according to Supervisor Elmer Johnson.

★ ★ ★

No information regarding this yearly report was available this morning and Johnson said that after board members examine the budget, there will be a special meeting sometime before the deadline date of April 21 for board action.

In other business, it is expected that a delegation from the Concrete Manufacturing Assn. will be present to protest a portable concrete plant which has been set up in the Coleman-Friedman subdivision at Chas Lake and Pontiac Lake roads. Lake roads.

The group has pointed out that the area is zoned residential and commercial activity is prohibited in that location.

The board plans to discuss the drainage problem created three years ago in the Doyon subdivision development at Lochaven and Elizabeth Lake roads.

Government Holding Mrs. Hitt in Murder

NAHA, Okinawa (AP) — The young Livonia, Mich., mother, held by the Air Force in the death of her 6-week-old son has been transferred to Federal jurisdiction to face a charge of murder.

Mrs. Madelyn Hitt was freed by the Air Force yesterday but was immediately rearrested on a murder warrant signed by U.S. District Commissioner James F. Splain of Washington, D.C.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Hitt was arrested last month after the body of her son, Brady Dean, was found buried behind the home occupied by her and her husband, Terrance, a civilian electronics expert at Kadena Air Force Base here.

An island-wide search was conducted for the boy after Mrs. Hitt reported him missing from his crib March 12. Four days later, she told air police investigators she smothered him and buried him in the yard.

The Federal warrant is based on a law giving the United States jurisdiction over fugitives in areas where the country has extra-territorial rights.

★ ★ ★

Transfer of the case came two days in advance of a scheduled hearing on a habeas corpus plea filed by Mrs. Hitt's attorney's who challenged the right of local courts to try her.

Speak Wedding Vows in Royal Oak

BERKLEY — Dorothy Elizabeth Hinske of Berkley and George N. Allard of Milford spoke their wedding vows in a Nuptial Mass Saturday at the Shrine of the Little Flower, Royal Oak. The Rev. Florence Hoste officiated at the noon ceremony.

Dorothy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred J. Hinske of 1811 Earlmont. George's parents are Mr. and Mrs. George Allard of 10310 Mary Lee Rd., Milford.

★ ★ ★

An ivory lustred bombazine gown with bell-shaped skirt was the bride's choice for her wedding. Pearls and pailettes frosted the delicate Alencon lace bodice, fashioned with portrait neckline and brief sleeves. A bowknot caught the front of the floor-length skirt, which flared in back into a chapel train.

A coronet of pearls secured the bride's tiered fingertip veil of silk illusion, and she carried a cascade bouquet of white roses and stephanotis.

Mrs. Alan Southard of Berkley, the bride's aunt, served as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs Donald Hinske of Ferndale, the bride's sister-in-law; and Anna Belle Vincent of Hazel Park.

MRS. GEORGE N. ALLARD

★ ★ ★

James Allard of Milford was best man for his brother. Ushers were Don Hinske of Ferndale and Arthur P. Hart of Pleasant Ridge, brother and brother-in-law of the bride.

Following the wedding, a reception was held at Elks Temple in Royal Oak.

The newlyweds will make their home in Berkley after a two-week trip to Washington.

Potter, NAM President Attack Activities of Labor

DETROIT (AP) — Sen. Potter (R-Mich) lashed out against the use of union funds for political purposes in a speech before 300 members of United Auto Workers Local 351 Sunday.

"If Mr. Curtice or Mr. Ford used their stockholders' funds (for political purposes) they'd put a stop to it tomorrow," Potter said.

★ ★ ★

Potter's appearance followed earlier controversy over whether or not he had been welcome in union halls.

The senator, a political opponent of UAW President Walter Reuther, drew applause at the beginning and end of his talk which came at the local's invitation.

Local President Paul Silver told the lawmaker: "The UAW is not Reuther. These people in this audience make up the CIO and AFL." Potter's speech took place at the local's meeting hall.

★ ★ ★

Silver later remarked: "You're a swell guy, but what have you done for us?"

Potter replied that he had authored the minimum wage law and said he thought it should be increased to $1.25 an hour. He also said he was trying to get a bill through Democratic committee to study job opportunities for persons over 45.

Potter, who has not formally announced his candidacy for re-election this year reminded the local he once polished gears in Pontiac as an auto worker.

★ ★ ★

After the senator left the hall, August Scholle, president of the Michigan CIO Council, told the local:

"It suits Charley to stand here before you and disassociate himself from the Republican party. But have you ever heard him remonstrate against the expenses of the National Assn. of Manufacturers?"

Trouble Halts Airliner

KINGSTON, Jamaica (AP) — A Chilean airliner en route from Panama to Miami with 64 persons aboard was forced to land at Palisadoes Airfield here last night because of engine trouble. Another plane was to pick the passengers up today and take them on to Miami.

The National Congress of Parents and Teachers has existed for 61 years. It sponsored hot school lunches and traffic safety programs.

DETROIT (AP) — President Milton C. Lightner of the National Assn. of Manufacturers today accused organized labor of holding back recovery by "constantly" urging government intervention in business.

Lightner, in a speech prepared for the Economic Club of Detroit, said the effect of such action by what he called "politically minded labor unions" is to hold back economic growth and slow the creation of new jobs.

★ ★ ★

The NAM president, board chairman of the Singer Manufacturing Co., said another factor harmful to business is the progressive income tax rate. He said it discriminates against the "most productive elements of the nation's economy."

Lightner, appearing in this stronghold of labor, compared union publications in Detroit to propaganda of Soviet Russia and Nazi Germany and Joseph Goebbels "at his worst." He said this represents an effort to "dominate the political life of the nation."

He particularly attacked union policy toward the government.

Lightner said union publications he found circulating around Detroit showed a "ruthless determination of union leadership to dominate the political life of the nation."

★ ★ ★

"This shrill flood of propaganda, paid for by the dues money of those who are being propagandized, is reminiscent of Dr. Goebbels," he said, adding:

"This single-minded exaltation in a controlled press of one political party, and the denial of even the simplest virtues to the other, is an echo of what one finds in Pravda and Izvestia."

Lightner said if union politicians have their way "there will be little hope of bringing monopolistic unions under control. Continued wage-price inflation would make virtually certain an eventual major economic collapse, which in turn would lead to such a degree of government intervention in the economy as to threaten the very existence of the free enterprise system."

COVENTRY, R.I. (AP) — The Coventry Civil Defense Council put on a mock head-on automobile collision. Eight persons played their parts as the injured so realistically that several motorists, including a member of the Providence rescue squad, stopped to offer help.

Mother to Face Murder Charge

Ohio Woman Held in Slaying of 3 Children Described as Lovable

XENIA, Ohio (AP) — A Xenia mother described by a neighbor as "a lovable, church-going woman" will be charged today with the first-degree murder of her three children, police said.

Patrolman Jack Thomas said he will seek three warrants charging that Mrs. Kathleen King, 36, used a hammer to crush the skulls of her daughter, Charleen, 5, and her sons, Donald, 3, and Brian, 2.

★ ★ ★

The children's father, Charles, 34, found the bodies early yesterday in the family's modest five-room home. Greene County Coroner Dr. H. C. Schick said the children were killed 14 to 18 hours before King found their bodies.

Mrs. King, who police said tried to commit suicide, is in Greene Memorial Hospital in fair condition.

Police have been unable to to question her. She is unable to talk, apparently because her throat and mouth were burned by cleaning fluid she swallowed, they said.

Dr. Schick said she also attempted to cut her wrists, upper arms and throat. He termed the wounds superficial, however.

A neighbor, Mrs. Betty Marshall, who characterized Mrs. King as a lovable woman, also said she was a "doting mother, but a worrywart."

Dr. Schick said Mrs. King had a history of emotional instability and had been given shock treatment at a private institution about a year ago.

Her husband, a 34-year-old postal employe, is staying in Dayton with relatives. He told a reporter who contacted him that Xenia police had told him not to talk about the slayings, but police denied this.

★ ★ ★

He told police he had left for work about 6:15 a.m., Saturday even though his wife asked him to remain at home for the day and told him:

"I'll kill the children and myself if you leave."

He said he returned to the house shortly after midnight Saturday and made the discovery.

Tot Sets Fire in House; Father Suffers Burns

A father who fought a fire set by his two-year-old son rather than call the fire department, was treated for first degree burns of both hands.

★ ★ ★

Robert Terry, 25, of 274 S. Sanford St., fought the blaze in a bedroom. Window drapes and venitian blinds valued at $50 were destroyed.

The fire was set by his son who was playing with a cigarette lighter in the bedroom Saturday evening.

Four burglaries were reported to Pontiac police over the weekend, including an elementary school.

Malcolm School was entered last night and drawers ransacked. What is missing has not been determined as yet.

Dog Plays Hero, Rescues Family in Commerce

COMMERCE TOWNSHIP — A Commerce family has credited their Boxer dog with saving their lives last night.

Mrs. George LeGalle of 1535 Van Stone Dr. said the dog came into the bedroom about 1:30 a.m. and awoke her and her husband after the gas furnace had blown a pipe and filled the house with fumes.

The couple and their four children, including a 3-month-old girl, left the house in their night-clothes and spent the remainder of night at the home of a neighbor.

"The dog nudged me and barked," Mrs. Le Galle said. "I believe he saved our lives."

Must Wait 10 Days Before Hearing

Lana's Confined Daughter 'Homesick'

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Lana Turner's daughter is described as homesick with 10 more days to wait in Juvenile Hall for a hearing at which attorneys will seek to free her from official supervision.

Her father, restauranteur Steve Crane, second of the movie queen's four husbands, visited 14-year-old Cheryl Crane yesterday at the hall.

★ ★ ★

"Sure, she's homesick," he told newsmen afterward. "She's counting the days just like anyone else."

Lana visited the tall, shy teenager Saturday. Both parents said they had no discussion with Cheryl of the verdict of a coroner's jury Friday that her stabbing April 4 of Lana's boy friend Johnny Stompanato, 32, was justifiable homicide.

Crane took his daughter a gift-wrapped three-pound box of candy which he said was for all the girls in her unit.

Cheryl's fate will be decided April 24 by Superior Judge Allen T. Lynch at a court hearing in Santa Monica.

Atty. Arthur Crowley, who represents the girl and her father, said: "We will be fully prepared at the hearing to prove that there is no necessity to make Cheryl a ward of the Juvenile Court.

"We will prove this through witnesses who will testify that Cheryl is a healthy and normal girl and that the death of Mr. Stompanato was merely an unfortunate accident in her life."

Confirmation was lacking for speculation that Crane may have decided to go all out in seeking Cheryl's custody. He would say only that he is confident an equitable decision will be reached at the hearing.

"I'm very pleased with the conduct of juvenile authorities in this case," he said. "We are cooperating with them and we are hoping and praying for the 24th."

Crowley said he plans to meet sometime this week with Miss Turner's lawyer Jerry Giesler to discuss the hearing.

Crowley said he sees no reason why an amicable agreement cannot be worked out between the parents over Cheryl's custody.

Judge Lynch, upon whom the verdict of the coroner's jury is not binding, has several alternatives. At the private hearing he could grant custody of the girl to one of her parents or to her maternal grandmother Mrs. Mildred Turner. Or he could order her placed in a state or private institution or a foster home.

★ ★ ★

Considered unlikely is another alternative—that she be certified for trial in Superior Court as an adult.

Crane reported that Cheryl "looks good but has a slight cold, the sniffles."

Get in Shape for Those Sheer, Sleek Summer Styles

It's Time to Start on That Nine-Day Reducing Diet

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Fashions in spring tonics seem to change just as other styles do. Long ago it was molasses and sulphur. Today the thing which gives new zest to feminine life each spring is apt to be a short reducing diet.

* * *

Many women struggle along indefinitely with just 10 pounds too much. Ten pounds can make the difference between a fairly good figure and a truly lovely one, between that lithe, youthful feeling and one which is definitely middle-aged.

Even this small amount of overweight can give you a noticeable pad of fat over the abdomen, fatty deposits on the hips or thighs, or a little roll over the girdle so that certain styles are impossible to wear.

LOSE GRADUALLY

It is a mistake to lose a lot of weight too rapidly. Even though your diet includes the essentials for good nutrition, the loveliest results are obtained from slow, gradual reduction. This way your skin has time to adjust to your new proportions and you have time to firm up with exercise so that you need not fear flabbiness or lines.

* * *

Each spring, along with the flowers and the birds, comes this column's Nine-Day Reducing Diet. This will give you a loss of from five to 10 pounds in nine days time. How much you lose depends on your own individual metabolism, your glandular setup and physical activity.

If 5 or 10 pounds are keeping you from wearing new fashions, try the Nine-Day Diet.

Each day this week the menus for the following day will appear in this column. I am also going to give you an exercise a day which is corrective to figure faults.

* * *

This time of year our thoughts turn to vacations, sheer-materialed costumes, swimsuits, play clothes and the great outdoors.

SISTER THOUGHTS

Along with these thoughts come sister thoughts such as "How will I look in a bathing suit?" "How will I look without a girdle or in one of the lightweight summer variety?" "This year I want to swim" "I want to be comfortable in those attractive but revealing play clothes."

* * *

This column is here to help you get into them. Now is your chance to join thousands of other women in a short adventure. Don't let 5 to 10 pounds spoil your fun when you can lose them in just nine days!

As you have already guessed I am starting my Nine-Day Reducing Diet. The menus in today's column are for tomorrow. Do your shopping today and begin losing those unwanted pounds tomorrow.

MENUS FOR TUESDAY

Breakfast

Half grapefruit
One thin dry piece of whole wheat toast
Black coffee

Mid Morning

Glass of tomato juice

Luncheon

Green salad with lemon or reducing dressing
One slice lamb roast (don't eat the fat)
One glass skimmed milk

Mid Afternoon

Glass of tomato juice

Dinner

One piece of lean meat, steak or roast (5 or 6 ounces)
One-half cup squash (yellow preferable)
One-half cup string beans
One glass skimmed milk
One apple

* * *

Each day I am going to give you an exercise which I have found to be beautifying to the figure. Stand with your left side toward the wall. Place your left hand on the wall. Swing your right leg forward and backward. Keep your trunk erect, then reach as far in each direction as you can.

After a while turn your right side toward the wall, place your right hand on the wall and swing your left leg forward and backward. Keep both knees straight.

If you would like to have my Nine-Day Reducing Diet in booklet form, send 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for it to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press. You can lose from 5 to 10 pounds on the diet.

Tomorrow: "Regain Girlish Figure on Nine-Day Reducing Diet."

Fresh Towel Does Best Job

Carole Stupell, a famous designer of table decor, points out that a fresh, clean dishtowel is necessary to get the best results in wiping delicate crystal.

Furthermore, clean dishtowels are necessary for all tableware, delicate or otherwise.

There's nothing more important, sanitarily speaking, than observing the cleanliness rules for all items touching food.

Dear Abby . . . .

Just Ask the Folks Who Are Waiting

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: What's all this baloney you've been handing out about the ADOPTED child being able to brag because she was wanted TWICE?

You practically say that people who have their OWN children have to take what they get and like it — but the ADOPTED children are privileged characters because they KNOW for sure they were wanted.

ABBY

This is the first time I ever heard of anybody trying to build up second-hand, tossed-out merchandise.

CAPABLE OF HAVING MY OWN

DEAR CAPABLE: (And you are also capable of making yourself look pretty foolish): If you think that an adopted child is "second-hand, tossed-out merchandise"—just ask the people who are waiting to get one!

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I am a medical student who hopes to go into psychiatry and I'm beginning to think I could use some myself. I fell in love with a girl who comes from rich people. I have nothing and everybody knows I have nothing.

We can't get married yet but she wants to get engaged. Her folks insist on making a big thing out of it. The problem is, I can't buy her a ring, but her mother has a diamond she wants to have reset to give to me to give to her daughter.

I think this is a lot of flash and phony baloney. Should I accept it just to make my girl happy or should I stick to my principles?

NO DOUGH

DEAR NO: It isn't necessary to put the "ice" on the finger to put the engagement on ice. Stick to your principles!

* * *

DEAR ABBY: Last night my husband got all dressed up and said he was going out with his best friend, Paul. He got home very late and he said it was a swell party.

I know he lied to me because his best friend Paul always comes over here when my husband goes out because Paul is also my best friend or however you want to put it. Should I question my husband further?

THE LITTLE WOMAN

DEAR LITTLE: Not unless YOU want to be questioned further.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I am 24 years old and have been married for five years. I have a good husband and two little girls. My problem is that I am very fond of little miniature animals and I can't resist buying them when I am in the 5 and 10-cent store.

I have a nice collection, but my mother-in-law tells me to give it up and grow up because she says it is childish. Tell me, do you think it is childish?

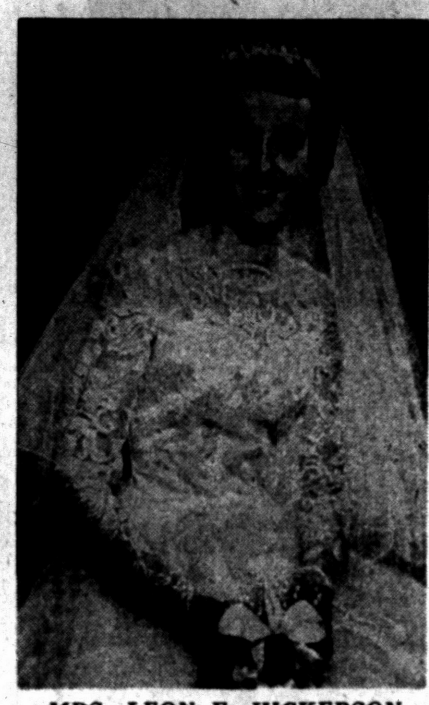

ANIMAL COLLECTOR

DEAR COLLECTOR: Many grownups collect miniature toys as a hobby. Your mother-in-law is mistaken.

MRS. LEON E. HICKERSON

Barbara Mae Driscoll Weds Leon E. Hickerson

Barbara Mae Driscoll and Leon Eugene Hickerson exchanged wedding vows in Central Christian Church Saturday evening. The Rev. G. W. Gibson performed the ceremony before 200 guests.

Parents of the bride are the John F. Driscolls of Lincolnshire drive, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Hickerson of Clarkston.

IN LACE AND TULLE

The bride wore a lace and nylon tulle gown featuring a ruffled tulle underskirt and Sabrina neckline. The skirt was designed with appliques, and the bodice with pearls and sequins.

A crown of seed pearls held her fingertip veil of nylon tulle in place, and she carried a white Testament topped with a white orchid and stephanotis.

Mrs. James Shelly of Rochester acted as her cousin's honor attendant and Marjorie Willard was the bridesmaid. Both wore aqua crystalette ballerina-length gowns and carried white umbrellas with spring flowers.

* * *

Ralph Hickerson of Clarkston, brother of the bridegroom, was best man, and Donald Hefner of Clarkston, James Shelly of Rochester and E. J. Hefner seated the guests.

RECEPTION HELD

For a reception in Friendship Hall of the church Mrs. Driscoll wore a powder blue sheath dress of silk organza with a satin applique on the skirt. Her accessories were powder blue and black and she wore a white orchid corsage.

The bridegroom's mother chose a navy ensemble with white and black accessories and a white orchid corsage.

* * *

Before leaving on a trip to Florida, the new Mrs. Hickerson changed to a cocoa tweed sheath dress with brown accessories and the orchid from her bridal bouquet. The couple will live on Murphy street.

The bride attended Alma College and Bowling Green State University.

JANE ROMNEY

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Romney of Bloomfield Hills announce the engagement of their daughter, Jane, to Bruce Robinson. The son of Dr. and Mrs. O. Preston Robinson of Salt Lake City, Bruce will be graduated from the University of Utah in June. Signs Point to Drastic Change for Fall

Chemise About to Get Sack?

NEW YORK (NEA)—This is the mystery of the missing chemise.

For, although everyone is talking about it, who's actually wearing it?

In its extreme form, mighty few women; it is too drastic. In its modified form, when it's the first cousin to the sheath, there are many versions being worn.

★ ★ ★

Will it last? All signs point to another drastic change for fall. This time, it will be full, wide skirts coupled with the directoire waistline. It will be, in fact, the exact opposite of the chemise.

But the point right now is, which is chemise and which is sheath? Unless it hang from the shoulders and is waistless, it isn't a true chemise. And it's the true chemise that the girls have not squeezed into thus far.

NOT 'FUNCTIONAL'

The sack dress, as it's often called, came from Paris, of course. And at least one French designer who's had a hand in it told the press that he was not interested in designing clothes for a woman's body. He was, he said, much more interested in designing fashions around abstract art.

★ ★ ★

It may have been this which moved Raymond Barbas, president of Jean Patou and of the Chambre Syndicale in Paris, to say that he thought it was high time that clothes for women were designed by women.

★ ★ ★

At a meeting of the fashion press held in Dallas this spring, Lawrence Marcus of Nieman-Marcus said:

"When the better dress houses turn out chemises and offer them to the public in versions to suit a variety of figures, we'll be abe to judge this fashion better."

He also asked the women present who were wearing the chemise to stand. In a gathering of about 150 women, all of them working in the field of fashion, exactly six women stood up.

MUST BE FLATTERING

Actually, there is everything to be said for the concept of something really new in the field of fashion. But to prove successful, it has to be something flattering.

★ ★ ★

Christian Dior succeeded, at the beginning of his career, in turning fashion upside - down with his New Look. But the fashion climate was different then. The wartime restrictive order on fabric, L85, had limited fashion so that women were almost wearing uniforms. They were ready for a change and when the New Look burst upon them, they went for it.

Meanwhile, who's wearing the chemise?

Well, it's the darling of some slim young things who would look good in a potato sack anyway. It is not the darling of chic women past 40 no matter how slim they may be.

It does not turn up in strength at the chic Colony Restaurant in New York. It is not seen at the theater or at cocktail parties or in other smart gatherings with exception of one or two cases. And these always draw sufficient attention to set everyone whispering.

Judge May Declare Hung Jury in Ecorse Graft Case Today

DETROIT (UP) — The jury trying former Ecorse Mayor William Voisine and 11 co-defendants on graft conspiracy charges resumed deliberations today after a fruitless effort on Sunday to reach a verdict.

An unusual Sunday session, lasting four hours, failed to bring any agreement and raised the possibility of a hung jury. The jury got the case four days ago.

★ ★ ★

Circuit Judge Thomas J. Murphy announced he would declare a hung jury if there were no verdict after the deliberations of the eight women and four men today.

Upon the resumption of their consideration of the evidence today the jury had spent 17 hours in a vain attempt to agree.

A reported, unexplained telephone call to one of the jurors at the jurors' hotel Saturday night caused momentary excitement.

★ ★ ★

As the jurors reassembled for their Sabbath deliberations, Judge Murphy questioned each one whether a "certain incident" had influenced them.

★ ★ ★

All said "No," and Judge Murphy indicated the matter was to be ignored. He said it would not be mentioned in open court "unless there is further objection."

Former Mayor Voisine and his co-defendants all are accused of graft conspiracy in Ecorse, a downriver industrial city.

Ready Direct Dial System for Pontiac, Area Phones

Seven area communities as well as Pontiac will have telephone system facilities to dial direct to nearly 40 million other telephones coast to coast beginning at 2:01 a.m. April 20, according to Ray H. Storm, Michigan Bell district manager.

U. S. CODE NUMBERS — When nationwide toll dialing goes into effect April 20 in the Pontiac area, these code numbers will come in handy. After dialing 112, residents will dial the correct code number as shown above, and then the regular telephone number they wish to call.

Those communities and the exchanges which will make the change the same day as Pontiac-FEderal are: Clarkston, MAple; Commerce, EMpire; Drayton Plains, ORlando; Lake Orion, MYrtle; Oxford, OAkland; Rochester, OLive; and Walled Lake, MArket.

Two communities under the General Telephone Company system, Ortonville and Milford, will also have this service. Ortonville residents will be able to dial direct beginning April 20 while Milford will join the system later.

★ ★ ★

The present fifth floor of the Pontiac Michigan Bell Telephone Central Office Building at 54 E. Huron St., was specially built last year to house direct distance dialing equipment. The addition cost $1,450,000.

"Although this service requires the addition of tons of intricate equipment here in Pontiac, even this would be completely useless without other complex long distance centers," he said.

He explained that the direct distance dialing functions like one big machine stretching across the country with the controls at every telephone in Pontiac.

SIZE ENORMOUS

Although its size is enormous, operating this machine will be no more difficult than dialing a call to a nearby community by dialing 112 first, according to Storm.

The present method of calling other cities in southeastern Michigan from here by first dialing 112 and then the telephone number will not be changed.

To dial calls to other sections of the country, residents will first dial 112, then an "area code" and then the two letters and five numerals of the telephone number one is calling.

The area code which is three numerals is the only extra dialing step necessary to make a long distance call.

★ ★ ★

Following these three steps, the operator will ask the caller for the number of the phone he is calling from for billing purposes.

NATIONWIDE KEY

The key to the system is a nationwide telephone numbering plan. The nation is divided into approximately 100 areas. There is no duplication of individual telephone numbers within an area. Each area has its own three numerals called an area code.

This three - numeral code directs a long distance call to the proper geographic area. For instance, code "212" directs that call to the New York area, code "415" to San Francisco.

As soon as the above three steps are taken, the call automatically will be identified as a long distance call.

★ ★ ★

More automatic equipment will record information including the calling number, the called number, the place called, the time the call began and ended and the date. This information, recorded by punched holes on paper tape, will be used to prepare monthly phone bills.

★ ★ ★

If you happen to wind up with a wrong number, don't panic. "Just call the operator, tell her the place you did reach and what happened. She'll make the proper notes to prevent you from being charged for the call," Storm assured.

MAGICAL SWITCHBOARD — While Western Electric Company technicians (background) complete new switchboards, Pontiac chief telephone operator Betty Johnson (left), 6015 Rowley St., Drayton Plains, shows operators Lucille Robak (foreground), 159 Chamberlain St., and Janet Fenlon, 229 Edison St. how they will record telephone numbers of callers making direct distance dial calls.

Waterford CD Police Choose Uniform

Waterford Township Civil Defense auxiliary police have selected a new uniform to help identify personnel while on duty during major fires and "special occasion" traffic control, and in the event of disaster.

★ ★ ★

Each man has agreed to purchase his own washable uniform consisting of gray shirt and trousers, black shoes and belt, with a blue tie and arm identification.

There are 35 men now fully trained as auxiliary police to give first aid and traffic direction should disaster strike, according to assistant director Lloyd Gidley.

The Waterford Township Board has authorized $174 for caps, shoulder patches and flashlights to complete the uniforms.

★ ★ ★

A new class will be organized in the near future to be conducted during the morning for benefit of those applicants who work nights, Gidley added.

and advanced classes in Civilian Defense work will also be organized later, Gidley added.

Pontiac Press Photo

NEW CD UNIFORMS — Waterford Township Civil Defense sergeant Harvey Gilchrist straightens the tie of Chief Charles Griffin. They are two of the first CD members to wear the new uniforms, selected by the organization. Thirty-five other members will have the same attire, for identification purposes.

Singer Margaret Whiting Weds Third Husband

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Singer Margaret Whiting and movie equipment manufacturer John Richard Moore were married yesterday in a two-minute ceremony in the home of Dr. and Mrs. Martin Covel.

★ ★ ★

It was the first marriage for the 32-year-old Moore, the third for Miss Whiting, 33. She was married previously to CBS Vice President Hubbell Robinson and pianist Lou Busch. She has a 7-year-old daughter, Deborah Louise, by Busch.

Soviet Nuclear Test Called 'Dirtiest' Yet

WASHINGTON (AP) — The recent Soviet nuclear tests were "the dirtiest radioactive debris tests the world has ever known."

That's the view of Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn), who said yesterday there probably is a great deal of evidence to back a Danish report that a catastrophic accident caused a halt in the Soviet test series.

★ ★ ★

The report said the mishap caused radioactive fallout to increase to the danger point over the Soviet Union and many neighboring states.

A State Department spokesman said, "We have no basis on which to substantiate the story." There was no immediate comment from the Atomic Energy commission.

Denmark's biggest newspaper, Berlingske Tidende, said in Copenhagen the accident was probably the real reason for the Soviet unilateral decision to stop testing nuclear weapons, saying the Soviets could not risk continuing tests of arms with serious defects.

★ ★ ★

The paper did not specify the nature of the reported accident, ut said it was caused by an erroneous estimate of meteorological factors.

The newspaper quoted information it said came through diplomatic channels from Moscow.

Humphrey, chairman of a Senate Disarmament subcommittee, told a TV panel that heavy fallout from the Soviet tests fell on parts of the United States as well as on Scandinavia, northern Europe and Japan.

The Danish report came a day after Humphrey said the Soviets had touched off an underground blast March 25, and that this explosion was detected by seismic stations up to 5,650 miles away.

Although Humphrey did not say so, the implication was that the test involved a nuclear device. He said data from seismic stations indicated the blast was in the northern Urals.

The March 25 date mentioned by Humphrey was three days after the most recent AEC announcement of a Soviet nuclear test. However, AEC has said it does not announce all test blasts it detects.

★ ★ ★

Many scientists and political leaders differ on whether all major nuclear tests can be detected from long range. The question of reliabiljty of ways to detect possible cheating is a key one in connection with proposals for agreements suspending such tests.

Preparing for Summer

Owners Register Boats

Despite sporadic returns of wintry weather, thousands of Oakland County boat owners are preparing for summer water activities, and getting their boats registered under the new state law.

★ ★ ★

Approximately 1,600 of the registration forms have been handed out by the Secretary of State branch office at 53 N. Parke St., and the Oakland County Sheriff's Department reports another 6,000 have been picked up there.

The law was designed to curb reckless boat operation by making identification of boats easier. All boats registered will have to place the registration number on the bow of their craft in three inch high numerals.

The only boats exempt from the state registration are those solely propelled by muscular power, government boats, and those under 16 feet in length which are not permanently or temporarily equipped with a motor.

All others must comply, or the owner is subject to arrest. An amendment to the new law would exempt boats on the Great Lakes and connecting waters from registration.

★ ★ ★

This has passed both the House and the Senate, and is awaiting the signature of the governor as are other amendments exempting all boats now registered with the U. S. Coast Guard, and easing the registration process for out-of-state boat owners.

★ ★ ★

Biggest gripe heard from boat owners seeking the $2 license is the requirement of having their registration form notarized.

★ ★ ★

The forms, which must be mailed to the Secretary of State's Office in Lansing, requires information on the mooring location of the boat, its manufacturer, length, type of craft, and manner of propulsion.

MAKING THE CHANGE — Taking off his "Xmas 1957" boat number to make way for the official one he secured from the state is Oakland County Sheriff Frank Irons. Thousands of boat owners all over the state are affected by the new state law requiring boat registration.

Cars Crash by Remote Control

For car-to-car crash testing, General Motors Proving Grounds engineers at Milford have developed a remote control so a driver can guide an automobile toward a smashup several hundred feet away.

★ ★ ★

His only connection with the crash-bound vehicle is an electrical cable by which he can steer, brake or cut the ignition, just as he would if he were actually in the driver's seat. Only the throttle of the doomed vehicle is fixed.

Louis C. Lundstrom, GM Proving Grounds Director, said the control system was assembled from standard electrical and automotive parts by GM engineers on a do-it-yourself basis. It has been used in various crash research programs that would expose an actual driver to unpredictable risks.

For instance, in addition to car-to-car crashes from various angles, the system has been used in crash research studies to steer cars deliberately off Proving Grounds roads or crash them into roadside trees, guard rails or other obstructions.

The "driver" sits at a control console which, in effect, is a duplicate of the controls of the car he is dispatching to a crash. It has a brake pedal, steering wheel and ignition switch. Any movement of the steering wheel is duplicated exactly on the steering wheel of the guided crash car.

The crash car's steering is controlled by selsyn motors which duplicate the rotational position of the remote steering gear by electrical impulses through the cable connecting the car with the control console.

3-Lb. Baby Boy Born After Mother Dies

DURBAN, South Africa (AP) — Doctors successfully delivered a 3 pound 9 ounce son yesterday several minutes after the mother died from a pistol shot in the mouth.

The 35-year-old woman, wife of a post office worker and the mother of three other children, was believed to have committed suicide at her home. She died on the operating table.

British Jet Airliners to Fly From Detroit

LONDON (AP) — British Overseas Airways Corp. (BOAC) is putting its new Britannia prop-jet airliners on the London-Detroit-Chicago run starting Thursday.

The Britannia, which replaces the American-built DC7C, will also land at Glasgow and Montreal.

BOAC's new Britannias have been operating only between London and New York so far.

2,000-Mile Cruise Completed by 2 Bay City Men

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Two grandfathers who said they wanted to get away from everything and relax were in St. Petersburg today after a 2,000-mile sailboat cruise from Bay City, Mich.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Max McKay, 69, an optometrist, and Fred Newman, 73, an insurance agent, started the trip in October aboard the Escape, a 40-foot auxiliary sailboat.

They came to Florida by way of the Ohio and Mississippi rivers, some canals and the Gulf of Mexico.

★ ★ ★

McKay and Newman plan to sail homeward in about a week. They plan to go via the intracoastal waterway to New York, up the Hudson River to the Erie Canal, and back to Bay City via Lake Erie, St. Clair and Saginaw, Mich.

★ ★ ★

They want to be home for the 50th reunion of the Bay City High School class of 1908. ... ...

4 Attempting to Cross Pacific on Wooden Raft

LIMA, Peru (AP) — A 67-year-old French scientist and explorer headed across the broad Pacific today with his four-man crew aboard a balsa wood raft. They are sailing for Tahiti.

★ ★ ★

Eric de Bisschop almost completed the voyage in the other direction last May, but his raft was wrecked in a storm 400 miles off the South American coast.

★ ★ ★

He had a new raft built at Constitucion, Chile, and sailed it up the coast to Callao, Lima's port. There De Bisschop added several more balsa trunks, repaired his radio and set out yesterday to find the current he hopes will carry his Tahiti Nui II 5,000 miles to the South Seas.

Copters Turn Women Into Amelia Earharts

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS) — I do not want to sound like a flighty sort, as I am well past the age of giggling, but I should like to be a "whirly-girl."

Do not be misled, readers and husband. A "whirly-girl" is one of an almost exclusive set in America, bright enough, quick enough, brave enough and rich enough to devote her leisure hours to driving "whirly birds." Or, as the technical jargon goes, helicopters.

This particular form of transportation is considered the most lady-like among all modes of travel. It was a woman (name of Fraulein Hanna Reitsch) who demonstrated the first workable helicopter 21 years ago, before a gaping crowd at Berlin's famous indoor Sportspalast.

The fraulein was bigger than Hitler that day—at least among the sporty set—and she made it look so easy that the whirlybird was quickly dubbed the female flying machine.

One of the big selling points for the girls was that here, at last, was a conveyance to pamper not only woman's curiosity, but her vanity.

"Can you imagine?" gasped one lady, after her debut flight, "you just step right in and take off . . . and it never even musses your hair?" Open cockpit planes and autos could not compare.

And, "Whirlybirds are like driving a car," said another, "only they're more exhilarating and maneuverable, and you don't run into so much traffic. And, if you see anything you want to look at again 'on the the road,' you just back up."

According to "The National Businesswoman," a magazine for ladies of the same title, women are the most active of helicopter pioneers. There are more Amelia Earharts in this business than in all other forms of transportation combined.

★ ★ ★

A woman, named Mlle. Valerie Andre, a famed brain surgeon, for example, was a captain in Indochina during the war. But she found rescue operations almost impossible in the mountainous territory. She learned to whirlybird it through Communist Vietminh gunfire, landing on limestone hills, in rice paddies, on jungle airstrips. Thus, she flew 120 helicopter missions and evacuated more than 165 wounded.

Elynor Budnick of Bakersfield, Calif., operates a fleet of helicopters. And they do crop-dusting, prospect for oil, perform stunts jobs for movies and hire out to the FBI for track-down jobs in the desert.

Some women may be a bit leery about helicopters. It is said they're more difficult to pilot than older, more matured aircraft. But I have no compunctions whatever.

★ ★ ★

I figure now that helicopters have reached 21—you can't consider those young blades!

THE BERRYS

By Carl Grubert

Buffalo Roam in Wyoming's Nature Lab

LARAMIE, Wyo. (INS) — Wyoming game officials have created a unique wildlife study unit where they can watch the "buffalo roam and antelope play" under nearly natural conditions.

The wildlife station is the Sybille Experiment Unit, located in a canyon between Laramie and Wheatland.

The spacious pastures are enclosed by high wire fences. The animals have plenty of room to roam, yet are available for observation and studies on nutrition, disease, breeding habits and other information on animal wildlife which will help the development and management of the West's hunting and fishing resources.

Besides buffaloes and antelopes, small numbers of deer, Rocky Mountain goats, big horn sheep, wild turkey, coyotes, and partridges are kept in the "laboratory."

The Sybille unit works in cooperation with the Wyoming game and fish department research laboratory at Laramie. Biologists there study samples taken from animals at the experimental unit.

★ ★ ★

The Sybille unit is not a preserve, and certain areas are open to hunters and fishermen in season.

Young John Rockefeller Notes:

'Eventually, People Stop Staring at Me'

TOKYO (INS) — Young John Rockefeller has a philosophy about being born into a very, very wealthy family:

Once they see I have two hands like anybody else and don't ride around in a chauffeur-driven Cadillac, people stop staring."

Actually John Rockefeller pedals around on a bicycle from his rooming house to classes at Tokyo's International Christian University, gets by on $27 a month and lives a virtual hermit's life on the cloistered campus.

The youth, who left Harvard last August to indulge his fascination for the Orient by studying in Japan, will assume the name of John D. Rockefeller IV in June.

★ ★ ★

"Yeh," laughed the rawboned millionaire's son, who stands six feet six, "When I turn 21 I'll add the 'D' and the 'Fourth' to my name — It's awful, isn't it?"

As if anticipating the next question, the sandy-haired student, dressed in tieless shirt, sport coat and sneakers, said firmly — the smile fading into lantern jawed determination:

"The age of great personal fortunes went out the window with the twenties and the depression. Nowadays family fortunes are all tied up in businesses, foundations and trusts like ours is."

How did the Rockefeller scion intend to carry on the great name established by his great grandfather, oil baron John D. Rockefeller?

"I don't intend to make my whole career out of philanthropy, giving away money like my grandfather (John D. Rockefeller Jr.) and great-grandfather did. "I have a lot more interests. I can't say exactly what, but public service would be pretty important to me."

★ ★ ★

But John said he had "eight years to decide — I figure at 28 is time enough." At the moment Japan comes first.

"I came here," he said in an interview, "to learn about the people — by living with and liking them."

Since coming to Japan in August, John said he had learned one basic thing:

"Humility. I don't mean to say I didn't have it being a Rockefeller. I mean being an American I didn't have it.

"I visited a Japanese recently in northern Honshu. His house was 500 years old and he was the 39th generation to live in it. I felt truly humble, forgetting about all the frills and opportunities I've had."

★ ★ ★

The young Rockefeller said flatly: "I've learned 500 per cent more since being in Japan than I did at Harvard."

Having finished three years at Harvard, John plans to study the Japanese language — his only subject at ICU — and life until August, 1959, thereby completing two years in Nippon.

"Then I'll finish at Harvard in Far Eastern history and go to Yen Ching Institute there for a master's degree."

Rough, Roaring Mining Camp Thing of Past

Wyatt Earp's Tombstone Now Both Quiet, Peaceful

(A rough and roaring mining camp in frontier days, Tombstone now is as quiet and peaceful as its name suggests. But its colorful past—which gets more colorful every year as the legends grow—is present everywhere: In famed Boothill Cemetery, in the Crystal Palace Saloon and in an elderly widow who remembers Wyatt Earp. And speaking of Wyatt Earp . . .

By JOE LEWIS

TOMBSTONE, Ariz. (AP) — If you ask hereabouts what happened to Wyatt Earp's Tombstone, the silence is as deafening as it is in famed Old Boothill Cemetery.

It may be logical for some folks to assume that the granite marker, stolen recently from a cemetery at Colma, Calif., just south of San Francisco, was destined for Tombstone.

But you won't get anyone around here to admit as much. In fact, says Editor Clayton Smith of the Tombstone Epitaph:

"Earp's ghost probably would clobber anybody who tried to return him or his marker to Tombstone."

Adds Smith, who is balding, untanned and does not wear Western clothes:

"Why should he want to return here? He was a bitter man when he left.

BROTHER KILLED

"One of his brothers had been killed and another bushwhacked. Earp himself had been indicted for murder, of the man accused of killing his brother."

Mayor Sid Wilson, who recently returned from a Lions Club Convention in San Francisco, laughs off the idea anyone would bring the Earp marker here.

★ ★ ★

A search of Boothill Cemetery, where many a gunman was taken after being a mite slow on the draw, reveals no sign of the missing marker?

DROPPED PLANS

The epitaph notes that Tombstone Restoration, Inc., a citizens group seeking to preserve this famous frontier town's relics, recently dropped plans to transfer Earp's remains to the town where his gun once was the only law.

Since the 1880s the weekly Epitaph has been telling the story of Tombstone. In those days when the population was nearly 10,000—compared with today's 1,800—the boast was first heard that the town was "too tough to die."

Earp was a deputy U.S. marshal and it took a hard man to keep the peace when droves of miners, cowboys and gunmen—thirsty for booze and blondes—came to town for some fun. Everyone agrees Earp was a hard man.

SHOT IN GUNFIGHT

Near Boothill Cemetery's entrance stands Tombstone's most famous relic: A large stone monument over the graves of Tom and Frank McLowery and Billy Clanton. They were shot down in the famed gunfight at the OK Corral Oct. 26, 1881, by Earp, his brothers Morgan and Virgil and the gun-toting dentist, Doc Holliday.

To this day, descendants of the McLowerys and Clanton claim their forebearers were ambushed and killed because they knew too much of Earp's allegedly illegal activities.

★ ★ ★

But, says Editor Smith, who has the only authentic newspaper files of the day, "if there was a bad egg on Earp's side, it was Doc Holliday. He came from a good southern family, but all he ever did was drink and look for fights. By the way, he never practiced dentistry in Tombstone.

HUNG AROUND

"Sure, Earp hung around with Holliday, because Holliday knew everybody in the red-light district and had information that Earp needed."

"But Smith sadly admits no one will ever be sure of the rights or wrongs of the famed gunfight.

To the delight of tourists, the cemetery abounds in colorful epitaphs, including:

"Marguerita. Stabbed in the gold dollar."

"George Johnson. Hanged by mistake."

"Here lies Lester Moore, four slugs from a .44, no less, no more."

Several headstones bear the notation: "Hanged legally." In those days, a "legal hanging" was a sign of civic stability.

Boothill, incidentally, got its name from a frontier superstition: No self-respecting gunslinger wanted to meet his maker with his dusty, old boots on. If he was shot down, he or his friends would make a frantic effort to pull off the boots before he died. Sometimes, the efforts were a bit late; hence, the name Boothill.

Most Easterners, says Epitaph Editor Smith, think death with boots on was an honor, but actually it was a disgrace because it indicated the deceased was outdrawn.

In downtown Tombstone the old buildings evoke memories of the days when the Bird Cage Theater, the Crystal Palace Saloon and A. Cohn's Cigar store flourished. In fact, all except the cigar store are still doing business—nestled alongside a bustling grocery, a laundry and modern store.

It was here that gunman Roger King shot and killed Johnny Wilson—to prove the straight draw was faster than the cross draw.

There Frank Leslie once stood his wife against a wall and used a .45 to shoot a silhouette around her.

And in a nearby bar, Johnny Ringo shot down Louis Hancock after an argument over the merits of beer and whisky.

★ ★ ★

Down Allen street one day in the 1880s, Waco Bill strode drunkenly, demanding to confront the marshal. He was shot down by a stranger in the middle of the street. As Waco Bill breathed his last, the stranger bent over him, courteously tipped his hat and said: "I, sir, am Marshal Duffield."

Junior Editors Quiz on PEARLS

QUESTION: Are pearls found at Pearl Harbor?

ANSWER: Pearl Harbor, which the Japanese attacked in 1941, is an American naval base in the Hawaiian Islands, about ten miles west of Honolulu. In the center of the harbor is Ford Island. It may be that the location of the island—like a pearl in a shell of an oyster—gave the harbor its name. But it is not a source of pearls.

The main pearl fisheries of the world are off the coast of Ceylon, India, in the Persian Gulf and among the Polynesian Islands of the Pacific. Pearls also are found in great numbers in the Sulu Archipelago, along the northern and western coasts of Australia and off the coast of Lower California.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: The diver in our picture is gathering oysters, in which pearls are found. If you can find an oyster shell, examine the pearly lining, and find in a dictionary or encyclopedia how pearls are formed.

Pontiac Racer Dies in Toledo Track Crash

KILLED — Rusty Kelly, one of Pontiac's outstanding hardtop racers died in a time trial race at the Toledo Raceway yesterday after his car went out of control on a banked curve.

Rusty Kelly Is Killed as Auto Crashes, Burns

Lack of Equipment Available at Track to Fight Fire

Rusty Kelly, 33, one of Pontiac's outstanding modified hardtop racers, died yesterday in a flaming crash at the Toledo Raceway.

★ ★ ★

Kelly was on the second lap of the time trials for the feature race when his modified 1958-model stock car went out of control heading into a banked curve.

Sheriff's deputy J. J. Becker of Toledo said Kelly's car sailed over the east embankment, flew 186 feet through the air, rolled another 100 feet and burned. Kelly was trapped in the wreckage.

Assistant Lucas County coroner Dr. Harry Mignerey said Kelly's neck was broken and he was badly burned.

★ ★ ★

There was no equipment available at the track to fight the fire, except a fire extinguisher and it was empty.

Kelly's death came just two and a half months after his marriage. He and his wife Jenny resided at 2101 Walnut Avenue.

The Toledo Raceway was one of his favorite tracks. Last year he was one of the top drivers and money winners at the half-mile track.

He had been driving a car for the Hertzog Service station until recently when the car was sold to a Detroit man, Nick Zernyke.

His pitman was Arthur Trimm of Pontiac who was with Kelly in Toledo. Trimm had not as yet returned to Pontiac and was not available for comment.

★ ★ ★

Just recently Kelly was awarded membership in the famous Daytona Beach Century Club for having been timed by NASCAR at better than 100 miles an hour through the measured mile on the famous beach track in Florida.

★ ★ ★

Two years ago, during the 1956 racing season, Kelly was the top point man at the Pontiac Speedway and last year he led the drivers at the Jackson Speedway.

Funeral arrangements are pending at the Voorheis-Siple funeral home on Perry street.

Play Ball! Ike Throws Out First Pitch

Major Leagues Launch Season in Washington

Senators Meet Red Sox With Capital Officials in Attendance

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower, an old ball player himself, goes out to Griffith Stadium this afternoon to make the pitch that launches another baseball season.

Following a custom established in the heyday of Mathewson and Cobb, Eisenhower will toss out the first ball and then watch several dozen Washington Senators and Boston Red Sox scramble for the prize.

Close to 28,000 fans are expected for the 1958 debut of Major League baseball. The game is the only one scheduled today. Other clubs in both leagues start tomorrow.

Plain fans will mingle at the park with the usual assemblage of congressmen, supreme court justices, military and government notables.

Eisenhower, who played semi-pro ball one summer as a youth, will be making his sixth pitch as a President. So far his deliveries have preceded two victories and three defeats for the home team.

★ ★ ★

After he performs, Washington's Pedro Ramos and Boston's Frank Sullivan will get down to the real business and pitching. Like Eisenhower, both are right-handers.

Managers Cookie Lavagetto of Washington and Mike Higgins of Boston chose their hurlers for obvious reasons. Ramos, with an 11-5 career against Boston, has been more effective opposing the Red Sox than against any other club. Sullivan, a 6-foot-7 giant, is 10-4 against Washington in five seasons.

Higgins pondered one big question — whether to start league batting champion Ted Williams. An ankle injury has slowed Williams down in spring training, but in five recent pinchhitting appearances he has socked two homers and a single, driven in four runs and walked twice.

Washington slugger Roy Sievers also has been troubled by a sore leg but will work left field.

Tomorrow They Start to Play for Real

Tigers Close Exhibition Play

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Memories of a disastrous exhibition season were shoved into the past today as the Detroit Tigers took a breather and prepared for tomorrow's opening of the 1958 baseball wars at Chicago.

The game with the highly rated White Sox, besides kicking off this year's American League campaign, also will give the Bengals a new slate to work on.

They wound up one of the worst pre-season efforts in club history yesterday when they fell before the world champion Milwaukee Braves 7-3, their 15th loss in the last 18 starts. It gave them a 7-19 mark.

Jim Bunning, a 20-game winner last season, will take the mound tomorrow in the first of a three-game series in the Windy City. Billy Pierce will start for the White Sox.

Lew Burdette, last year's World Series hero, was the winner in yesterday's contest, his third triumph in four spring game starts. Bunning took the loss.

★ ★ ★

Burdette helped his cause with a home run in the third off Billy Hoeft. Andy Pafko and Frank Torre also hit round-trippers for the Braves.

Besides Bunning and Hoeft, Paul Foytack and Frank Lary hurled for the Tigers as manager Jack Tighe wheeled out his four starters in an effort to end the training season on a triumphant note.

★ ★ ★

Detroit outhit Milwaukee 11-8 but suffered a relapse into an old 1958 training season fault—failure to bring runners home.

Valley Battle Opens Tuesday

PCH Thinclads at Flint Central; 3-Way Meets Mark Area Action

A determined Pontiac Central High track squad today was due for a stiff workout in preparation for its 1st 1958 Saginaw Valley dual test Tuesday afternoon at Flint Central. The PCH thinclads were eager to wipe out some of the sting of the less-than-a-point loss at Mt. Pleasant, to Flint Northern. Central was 3rd, seven points back.

Hottest battles were expected between Larry Beamer and Bill Milum, milers; (Milum's time edged Larry at CMC); PCH's Bob Manning and Ron Watkins in the 60-yard dash (Bob won at CMC); and the half-mile relay.

One of the biggest weeks of the spring track season is under way today in the area with three duals going at the same time on Fitzgerald's field. Oakland-B meets there include Fitzgerald vs. Lake Orion; (def. champ); Troy vs. Avondale and Madison against Clawson. Meet is a night affair.

There are also four triangulars, starting Tuesday; at Milford, with Brighton and Holly; at Cranbrook with Berkley and Troy; at OL St. Mary, with MC St. Mary and Oak Park, and Wednesday, at Fitzgerald, with Troy and Madison.

Other meets include Southfield at Redford Union; Waterford at RO Dondero; Bloomfield Hills at Keego Harbor, all Tuesday. On Wednesday Clarkston is at Oxford; Thursday—Mt. Clemens (EML) at Berkley; Waterford at Southfield; Farmington at Van Dyke. Friday—Walled Lake at Cranbrook; Milford at Howell; St. Michael at OL St. Mary; PCH at Mansfield. Saturday — PCH at Mansfield Ohio Relays.

Majors in Full Start Tuesday

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

With today's traditional Washington opener out of the way, major league baseball opens the 1958 season for real tomorrow.

The San Francisco Giants and the Los Angeles Dodgers, late of New York and Brooklyn, renew their long rivalry on rookie grounds in San Francisco as heroes of the National League's new West Coast outposts.

For the first time since 1950, neither the Giants nor the Dodgers will hoist a new National League pennant.

That honor belongs to Milwaukee, where the Braves will run up the NL bunting along with the world championship banner before taking on the Pittsburgh Pirates in County Stadium.

★ ★ ★

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Pittsburgh at Milwaukee (43,000) — Bob Friend (14-18) vs Warren Spahn (21-11).

Philadelphia at Cincinnati (30,000) — Robin Roberts (10-22) vs. Brooks Lawrence (16-13).

Los Angeles at San Francisco (22,000) Don Drysdale (17-9) vs. Ruben Gomez (15-13).

Chicago at St. Louis (Night) (19,000) — Jim Brosnan (5-5) vs. Wilmer Mizell (8-10).

AMERICAN LEAGUE

New York at Boston (25,000)—Don Larsen (10-4) vs. Willard Nixon (12-13).

Washington at Baltimore (27,000)—Chuck Stobbs (8-20) vs. Connie Johnson (14-11).

Detroit at Chicago (25,000) — Jim Bunning (20-8) vs. Billy Pierce (20-12).

Kansas City at Cleveland (35,000)—Ned Garver (6-13) vs. Herb Score (2-1).

National League President Warren Giles will attend the Dodgers-Giants game.

★ ★ ★

In Cleveland, Score starts the trip back from that terrible eye injury of last season—a dreadful accident that almost ended what may be the most promising career in baseball.

★ ★ ★

Score, the 24-year-old, fire-balling southpaw; new manager Bobby Bragan, the guy who joked his way out of the National League; and new general manager Frank Lane, the man who made contenders of the Chicago White Sox and St. Louis Cardinals, spearhead the Injuns' comeback bid in the AL. They finished sixth last year.

★ ★ ★

Spahn, the NL's only 20-game winner last season, will be going for his 225th victory, tops among active NL pitchers.

The New York Yankees are after their ninth American League pennant in the last 10 years.

Bone Bows Out at Greensboro

Snead Beaten in Finals

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — Professional golf's youth movement caught up with 45-year-old Sam Snead in the final round of the $15,000 Greater Greensboro Open Tournament.

Pontiac's Gene Bone finished out of the money after going into the 2nd round tied for the runner-up position with 68. He followed with rounds of 71, 78 and 71 for a 288 total.

Snead had set his sights on his seventh Greensboro victory (he won the 1938 inaugural) and seemed in great position to achieve his goal after moving into a two-stroke lead after Saturday's third round.

But when the payoff time came shortly before dusk unheralded Bob Goalby accepted the $2,000 winner's check, Snead was surrounded in a runnerup tie by four others whose total pro experience is some four years less than the 24 Sam has put in.

Western Champ Still in Race

Dr. Updegraff Wins 1st Match; Birmingham CC's Ben Smith Bows Out

DELRAY BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Two down and three to go, defending champion Dr. Edgar Updegraff of Tucson, Ariz., rallied to take the last three holes and defeat James Jackson of Kirkwood, Mo., one-up, Sunday in the 36-hole first round match of the Western Amateur golf championship.

★ ★ ★

Two of the eight first-round matches were decidedly one-sided. Jack Penrose of Miami had an easy time with Claude Wright of Denver, winning 9 and 8, and co-medalist James "Billy" Key of Columbus, Ga., shot his usual steady game for a 7 and 6 defeat of Howard Everitt of Northfield, N.H., who was handicapped by a bad foot which made him limp his way around the course.

★ ★ ★

Mason Rudolph of Ft. Chaffee, Ark., the 1956 Western champion, continued to rate as an outstanding title threat by being even par as he defeated Ben Smith of Birmingham, Mich., 6 and 5. Rudolph turned on the heat in the afternoon, going out in a 2-under-par 34 after the two had ended the morning round all square.

Bosox, Giants Pre-Season Champs

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Step up and meet the new champs — the champs of the Grapefruit-Cactus Leagues, that is.

★ ★ ★

The Boston Red Sox finished first among the American League teams with a 16-6 record, good for a .727 average. That's a fantastic gait, far better than the record compiled by most pennant winners.

★ ★ ★

In the National League, the San Francisco Giants wound up at the top of the heap with a 21-11 mark, for a .656 average. The Giants were the only team able to win 20 or more games, while the Red Sox were the only team which managed to lose less than 11.

The biggest disappointment of the exhibition season is not hard to spot. The Detroit Tigers' miserable 7-19 (.269) record, which placed the Bengals far down in last place, was the shocker of the spring.

The standings were compiled strictly against major league opposition.

In fact, the Richmond Virginians of the International League accomplished what most major league clubs couldn't when they licked the Red Sox 5-1 at Richmond yesterday, in the exhibition finale.

★ ★ ★

The world champion Milwaukee Braves polished off the hapless Tigers 7-3 at Milwaukee. The American League victors, the New York Yankees, clubbed the Philadelphia Phillies 10-5 in Philadelphia with catcher Yogi Berra showing no ill effects from a 13-day layoff caused by a split hand. He hit a two-run homer to help the cause.

There even was a doubleheader in Kansas City where the A's twice licked the St. Louis Cardinals 7-1 and 3-2. The second game went 14 innings.

★ ★ ★

In other games, the Washington Senators turned back the Chicago White Sox 9-5 at Indianapolis; the Cincinnati Redlegs defeated the Baltimore Orioles 3-2 at Baltimore; the Cleveland Indians beat the San Francisco Giants 8-5 at Omaha; the Los Angeles Dodgers halted the Chicago Cubs 4-1 at Las Vegas and the Pittsburgh Pirates bombarded the Columbus Jets of the International League 15-2 at Columbus.

Madison Wins City Mat Title

Scoring at least five points in every division, Madison won the Pontiac Junior High School wrestling tournament Saturday at Pontiac Central.

Madison compiled an impressive 104 points but was pushed hard by Lincoln with 82. Eastern ranked 3rd with 48, Jefferson had 22 and Washington 20.

Madison beat out Lincoln by picking up 11 points in the 120 and heavyweight classes while the runnersup were being blanked. Lemmert won the 120 and Fox the heavyweight title to clinch the verdict.

The winners were the only team to score in every division. The other individual champions were:

85-lb.—Stuk (M)	130-lb.—Abara (E)
95-lb.—Hubble (M)	135-lb.—Ewer (E)
105-lb.—Bills (L)	145-lb.—Miracle (M)

Doctoring Your Golf

By DR. CARY MIDDLECOFF

Patient's Complaint: "Slice-itis."

Diagnosis: Flying Right Elbow.

Treatment: Tuck the right elbow in close to the body and forward of the right hip. And see that it stays that way until the ball is hit.

The golf ball curves to the right in flight whenever the clubface is drawn across the ball from right to left. This, naturally, imparts a left-to-right spin to the ball. That brings up the question of why the player cuts across the ball as described above.

Mainly it's because he lets his right elbow go up and out from his body. This mistake throws the plane of the downswing outward. When that happens, the golfer must bring his clubface into the ball on an outside-in pattern — or across the ball.

Is there a way to avoid this cut-across? Certainly! Keep the right elbow close to the body — and forward of the right hip — all during the swing. It's as simple as that.

Montreal Beats Bruins 3-0 in Third Contest

'Rocket' Brothers Tally All Three Goals With Long Shots

BOSTON (AP)—The Montreal Canadiens held a game advantage over the Boston Bruins today on the bounce of three shots which hit the goal post in the third game of the battle for hockey's coveted Stanley Cup.

★ ★ ★

Fabulous Maurice "The Rocket" Richard and little brother Henri accounted for the goals last night as the Canadiens defeated the Bruins 3-0 to take a 2-1 lead in their best of seven series.

The 36-year-old Rocket connected on 25-foot drives for the first and third goals, while Henri Richard lifted a 50-footer for the second talley.

★ ★ ★

"All three went in off the post," said Boston goalie Don Simmons, a standout in the split of two games in Montreal.

"The Rocket's two hit the inside of the post on the low near corner," he added. "Henri's deflected off my glove, struck the far post and fell in. It's a tough way to be scored upon—three times."

★ ★ ★

Despite the victory, Coach Toe Blake and his Canadiens still looked forward to a rugged series against the Bruins, who finished fourth far behind front-running Montreal in the regular National Hockey League season.

Boston Coach Milt Schmidt said the heat and resulting poor ice was the chief cause of the Bruins downfall, but admitted the team did not play as well as in the first two games.

★ ★ ★

The two teams scheduled a light practice session for today in preparation for their fourth annual clash tomorrow night. The fifth game is scheduled for Montreal on Thursday.

Teeing Off

By BILL CORNWELL

Pontiac's Roy Iceberg is trapped again. His sand wedge won't do him any good, however, because it's not that kind of a trap.

Iceberg, a prominent figure in public links circles for several seasons, has been elected president of the Michigan Publinx Golf Association for the third consecutive year.

"I guess nobody else wants the cotton pickin' job," commented Roy after being returned to office. The MPGA seems to have him buried in a mile-high bunker when it comes to playing the election course.

All joking aside, it's a great honor for Roy to be named to the presidency another time. It's a Tribute to his standing in the MPGA.

★ ★ ★

Iceberg formerly starred for the University of Detroit golf team and one of his teammates was Pontiac's Mike Andonian. Last year he was Andonian's victim in the finals of the state tournament at Saginaw.

He'll have solid support for the work that lies ahead. Completing the list of Publinx officers for the 1958 season are Harold Rutledge, first vice president; Sal Pomante, secretary; Clyde Bates, treasurer; George Greenhaigh, handicap chairman, and Don Nelson, tourney chairman.

The MPGA will hold a board meeting tonight at Log Cabin Recreation in Detroit.

SHORT PUTTS

A pair of aces went into the record book over the weekend at two Oakland County courses. The lucky golfers were John Crosby and Arthur McClaren.

Crosby used a 5-iron to score a hole-in-one on the 185-yard 15th at Birmingham Country Club. McClaren posted his ace at Rackham Municipal with a 7-iron shot on the 140-yard 8th hole.

Tommy Watrous is starting his first full season as assistant pro at Oakland Hills. Tommy turned professional last summer after competing in the NCAA tournament at Colorado Springs and he made his "play for pay" debut in the Michigan Open tourney at Edgewood.

Al Watrous, Tommy's famous father and Oakland Hills' head man, also has Tom Cosmos on his professional staff for another year.

No-Hitter Produces Cranes' 2nd Victory

Although Cranbrook School, Bloomfield Hills, used two hurlers against Assumption preps of Windsor, Ont., Saturday, both came through without allowing a hit for the visitors, as Cranes won 3-2. Win was Cranbrook's 2nd in as many outings.

Victory was gained in the 6th when John Plew's infield hit, two infield plays and a "squeeze" produced the big 3rd run.

Andy Billesten started, went three frames and fanned three. Larry Demerick finished with four strikeouts for his 4-inning stint.

Norwegian Rescue Ship Trapped in Ice Pack

OSLO, Norway (AP)—The 579-ton Norwegian rescue ship Salvator radioed today she is trapped in an ice pack off Greenland with a sealer she went to help and fears the shifting floes will crush her hull.

The Salvator messaged the Fisheries Ministry she was listing badly and her crew would have to be taken off at once. It was thought the ice would push through her hull and flood the engine room.

The ministry told the Norwegian legation in Reykjavik to ask U.S. Air Force to help.

Press Groups Battle for Bill

Measure Would Knock Out Statute as Legal Prop to Withhold Data

WASHINGTON (AP) — A freedom of information bill actively sought by press groups comes up for House action this week with the American Society of Newspaper Editors looking on.

By more than coincidence, the bill by Rep. Moss (D-Calif) is tentatively listed for floor action Wednesday — the day before the April 17 opening of the three-day annual ASNE gathering.

★ ★ ★

Also on Wednesday, the Senate Constitutional Rights subcommittee plans a hearing on an identical bill by Chairman Hennings (D-Mo). The measure is backed by the ASNE and other newspaper groups.

The one-sentence bill seeks to knock out a 169-year-old statute from use by federal executive departments as a legal prop for keeping information secret.

★ ★ ★

The old law authorizes department heads to issue regulations for "the custody, use and preservation" of departmental records. The bill would amend this by saying the law "does not authorize withholding information from the public or limiting the availability of records to the public."

Executive departments have opposed Moss' bill on grounds it could upset established procedures for withholding information and for making it public.

Hollywood Headlines

Seeking Marlon Brando for 'Mountain Road' Role

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Although any deal for William Goetz to head Columbia Studio production is cold, Bill remains with the company for three more pictures on a multiple-picture contract just signed.

With "Sayonara" a whopping success at the box office, I'm not surprised that Goetz is again seeking Marlon Brando as the star in the second of his films, "The Mountain Road."

Marlon and Bill hit it off very well making the Japanese movie. In fact Goetz is one of the few people associated with the picture that Marlon didn't pan in a sensational interview he gave.

The first picture for Bill is "They Came to Cordura" and the third is the musical drama, "The Franz Liszt Story," based on the life of the great composer and his friendship with George Eliot and Chopin.

★ ★ ★

My very good friend, sixteen-year-old Sandra Dee, who has been homesick in Europe, comes home to a new job. She's been borrowed from U-I by Columbia to star in "The Gidgit," a story of teenagers.

Lew Rachmil, who is producing "The Gidgit," will bring the picture before the cameras the 1st of June when Miss Dee will be available and home from conquering the foreign scene.

I wasn't too impressed when I read the book, "The Gidgit," but the motion picture will be an entirely different thing. Many interesting changes have been made.

★ ★ ★

She's blonde, she sings, she's pretty, she's nineteen and she won out over 200 girls who tested for Jerry Lewis' leading lady in "Rock-A-Bye Baby." Her name is Connie Stevens, and she's just been taken over lock, stock and talent by Warner Bros.

Jack Warner bought Connie's Paramount contract which called for two pictures a year, and she's the very first recording star to sign for Warner's newly established record company headed by Jim Conkling. Several fans who saw Connie in the sneak of "Rock-A-Bye Baby" were very complimentary about her.

Rumors on the Lana Turner case are a dime a dozen, many of them untrue. There was one persistent one that Lana had tried to kill herself Wednesday night and that she was saved when her stomach was pumped. This is NOT true. Lana said, "If I ever needed courange and strength to help my daughter I need it now."

Tanker Turns Back After Wind Vanishes

WESTOVER AIR FORCE BASE, Mass. (AP)—Lack of tail winds has forced a huge jet tanker to abandon its attempt to set a nonstop record from Yokota, Japan, to Madrid, Spain.

The four-engine Stratojet tanker plane set down at Westover Yesterday after streaking 7,000 miles.

★ ★ ★

The plane carried enough fuel for a 10,000-mile flight, but favorable jet stream winds were needed to push it to 11,487 miles to Madrid.

At dawn yesterday, the jet with its crew of seven and a civilian streaked out over the Atlantic, but when it got 660 miles out the crew decided it would never make it to Madrid.

It reversed its course and landed at Westover 79 minutes later.

★ ★ ★

It was the second failure in five days by the Strategic Air Command to break the record.

5,000 MPH Plane Next?

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Planes may be flying 5,000 miles an hour when the next advance is made in aircraft power plants, President Donald Douglas of Douglas Aircraft Co. said at the 51st general conference of the Federation Aeronautique Internationale.

Native Rebuke Appears Failing

South African Coloreds Return to Jobs, Ending Election Protest

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—African workers streamed into Johannesburg almost as usual today and first indications were that a stay-at-home protest called by the African National Congress was not effective.

★ ★ ★

The Congress called the strike to begin today and extend through Wednesday, when white voters of South Africa will elect 156 members of Parliament's lower house.

The Congress, chief organization of South Africa's nonwhite population, is demanding a minimum daily wage of one pound ($2.80) for all workers, repeal of the Nationalist government's legislation segregating the races and a voice in the government.

★ ★ ★

Colored (mixed blood) voters in Cape Province elected four white representatives last week. Three more whites will be elected later to represent the nation's 10 million native Africans, but otherwise the colored races have no representation.

★ ★ ★

Despite the Congress strike call, Africans appeared to be reporting for work about as usual. The usual lines waited for buses and trains into the city. Police reported no disturbances but stood by at bus terminals in case of trouble.

The police staged prestrike raids on Congress offices and arrested five persons on charges of inciting native Africans to stay away from work.

Film Executive Blasts Selling of Movies to TV

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — Selling full-length motion pictures to television was a tragic mistake, says Spyros P. Skouras.

★ ★ ★

Skouras, president of 20th Century-Fox, said last night that the motion picture industry suffered irrevocably after releasing films to TV. He pleaded that pictures made after 1948 not be sold to the rival medium.

"It was a tragic mistake to sell films to television," he said, "and we must not make the same mistake again."

Skouras' remarks were made at a banquet honoring him as the 1958 recipient of the Milestone Award of the Screen Producers Guild, given in recognition of his efforts toward advancement o the movie industry.

Two to Face Court in Officer's Assault

Two men who allegedly fought with an unarmed off-duty Pontiac detective Thursday night have been bound over to Circuit Court charged with felonious assault.

★ ★ ★

James D. Stevens, 23, of 2607 Williams Dr., Waterford Township, and Robert L. Vallance, 19, of 3660 Alida St., Rochester, waived examination in Municipal Court, and $10,000 bonds were set by Judge Cecil B. McCallufn.

The pair will be arraigned in Circuit Court on April 21.

They are accused of attacking Detective Albert W. Foster Sr. of 275 S. Marshall St.

★ ★ ★

Foster found them in a neighbor's yard and tried to question them when the alleged assault occurred.

Corn Futures Resume Rise

CHICAGO (AP) — Corn futures prices resumed their advances on the board of trade today after only two small setbacks in the past two weeks.

Prices were up around a half-cent a bushel or more in all contracts during early dealings as cash corn receipts over the week-end amounted to less than 200 cars, small offerings for a Monday.

Rye also was firmed, but soybeans and other grains were about steady to weak in a light trade.

Near the end of the first hour, wheat was ⅜ cent a bushel higher to ¼ lower, May $2.20⅞; corn ⅜ to ¾ higher, May $1.25¾; oats unchanged to ¼ lower, May 66¼; rye ⅝ to ⅞ higher, May $1.32; soybeans unchanged to ¾ higher, May 2.32⅜; lard unchanged to 10 cents a hundred pounds lower. May $12.75.

Market Edges to Small Gains

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market rose a little in moderate trading early today.

★ ★ ★

Pivotal issues were ahead mainly by fractions. There was a scattering of losers.

Most major divisions showed a few minus signs along with the gainers. The nonferrous metals were pretty solidly on the plus side.

The weekend news was rather mixed. Reports were that the curtailed steel industry may face further cutbacks. New reports came of industrial layoffs but there were some rehirings.

Congress, reconvened after the Easter recess, was expected to battle over anti-recession measures

American Motors resumed its activity of last week, opening at 9⅜, up ¼ on 8,000 shares. Fairchild Engine was up ¼ at 10 on 7,600 shares.

Five Detroiters Hospitalized

Eight Servicemen Killed in Three Plane Crashes

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

In two Air Force crashes yesterday, 8 servicemen were killed. And five Detroiters were injured when their plane crashed a few miles north of Monroe.

★ ★ ★

In the Monroe crash, the pilot was Clarence Komorowski, 34, a General Motors styling engineer.

The passengers were Nicholas Michels, 33, his wife Joan, 34, and his sons; Thomas, 5, and Nicholas, 2. All were bruised and badly shaken up and are in fair condition in Monroe General Hospital.

Komorowski had taken the Michels for a ride and had landed at Marshall Field for a rest.

The pilot said the engine failed just after he took off from the field. The plane narrowly missed hitting two cars on Dixie Highway as Komorowski tired to swing back toward the field.

And in Georgetown, Del., four airmen were killed yesterday in a huge Air Force C133 cargo-transport which crashed shortly after takeoff from Dover Air Force Base.

It was the first crash involving the nation's largest airborne cargo carrier, put into service late last year.

The turbo-prop craft was on a routine training mission when it was seen circling over Allendale State Forest 25 miles south of the Air Force base about 10 minutes after takeoff. Witnesses said the plane started a slow descent and that the pilot gunned the engines apparently trying to raise the plane.

But it plummeted straight down, flipped on its back and burst into flames.

An Air Force spokesman identified the dead as the pilot, Capt. Raymond R. Bern, 37, whose home was Long Beach, Calif.; the co-pilot, Lt. Herbert T. Palisch, St. Louis, Mo.; T. Sgt. Marvin Aust, 29, Hays, Kan., and T. Sgt. Edward L. McKinley Jr., 33, Meridian, Miss. All had been living near the Dover base.

★ ★ ★

At McChord Air Force Base, Wash., three Air Force men two reserve captains and a non-commissioned officer — were killed when their C47 twin engine transport plane crashed on a practice landing, flipped over and burned here yesterday.

Dead are Capt. Wayne F. Reed Jr., 38, pilot, of nearby Tacoma; Capt. Cyril E. Walmsley, 36, co-pilot, Shelton, Wash.; and Sgt. Roy E. Craft, 28, crew engineer, Tacoma. Capt. Reed's father, Wayne Sr., lives in Hastings, Neb.

Mackinaw Leads Freighters Through

Huron Ice Breaking Up

PORT HURON (AP) — With outer edges of an ice field breaking up, the Coast Guard icebreaker Mackinaw today was busy convoying Lake freighters through 13 miles of 18-foot thick ice in lower Lake Huron.

Mackinaw Capt. Evor S. Kerr said favorable west to southwest winds, plus high temperatures, had broken up northern reaches of the ice for the final five miles.

★ ★ ★

The Mackinaw took two boats the Huron and Subert—through the field yesterday, the Crapo during the night and the Conneaut today. Then Kerr headed back to Port Huron to convoy six more waiting freighters.

"Conditions are still bad," he said, "but if we get a good, brisk southwest wind today it will blow the whole field out into the lake. At any rate, we expect to be here another four days before heading up to Whitefish Bay (off Lake Superior) to do the same thing all over again there."

Kerr said only the higher-powered Lake freighters have cracked the Huron ice field and until today he had kept three smaller Coast Guard icebreakers in the St. Clair River below the field.

The captain said the smaller icebreakers Caw, Objiba and Acacia were waiting in the river to break up any large ice floes that might break loose from the jam.

★ ★ ★

"Maybe later we'll let the lower-powered boats try and crack the field," he said.

Reports New Car Sales Higher but Still Lagging

By DAVID J. WILKIE
AP Automotive Editor

DETROIT (AP)—New car sales reportedly are improving but prospects for even a five-million unit year in 1958 are anything but bright.

In most instances sales are running far behind those of comparable 1957.

Most recent authoritative figures show 715,512 cars were sold during January-February this year. That was more than 160,000 behind the total in last year's like period.

Figures for last month have not been tabulated but even with an upturn reported late in the month the total will be far below March of 1957. The 572,917 deliveries recorded during that month last year provided a first-quarter total of 1,449,000 sales.

Industry analysts say it still is possible a substantial sales upsurge will develop during the current quarter.

Apparently unseasonable weather figured in the January-March sales picture. Deliveries moved up slightly during the latter part of February, but turned down again early in March. The downturn was attributed chiefly to blizzard conditions over much of the eastern section, the industry's major market.

The same unofficial surveys now show another modest upturn under way.

Traditionally sales upsurge develops late in March or early in April. It did not come in 1956 or 1957. Yet approximately six million new cars were sold in each of those years.

The industry is pushing hard to stimulate demand. Management teams continue to visit sales areas throughout the country to meet with dealers; extraordinary promotional efforts are being made with "Buy Now" campaigns; top executives are making optimistic long range forecasts in their efforts to stimulate confidence.

The "Buy Now" drives reportedly have met with considerable success. Some less optimistic analysts say the drives merely borrow from the market of months ahead. That reasoning, of course, could be applied to most sales drives. New car purchases obviously are being deferred by persons uncertain about future income.

Foreign Cars Gaining in U.S.

Response of Buyers at New York Show Hits Britain's Automakers

LONDON (INS) — Britain's automakers have been staggered at the reponse of American buyers of small foreign cars at the New York International Motor Show that closed a nine-day run today.

But shrewd businessmen jubilant at their success under present American economic conditions are now posing the question: How long will the "boomlet" last?

Eyes are cast anxiously at Detroit to see if American automen are showing any signs of manufacturing their own economy car.

Britain's automakers fear if sales of foreign cars continue at the present rate some attempt might be made to erect tariff barriers in an effort to stem imports.

In contrast to American manufacturers, the smaller British auto industry is working at full production. Spokesmen of the various manufacturers predict even if the American market dried up, exports could be channeled to other markets.

During January and February, Britain exported 25,630 cars to the U. S. — more than twice as many as in the first two months of 1957.

But more significant is the fact that Britain's share of the American imported car market has been rising. It was 5.1 per cent in January and rose to 6 per cent in February, when imported cars accounted for 20,075 out of the 333,580 new cars sold.

A poll of the top five automobile makers carried out by International News Service showed all are raising American sales targets for 1958 and planning increased shipments.

Few Wet Belts, but Elsewhere Spring Enjoyed

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

There were a couple of major wet belts but generally pleasant spring weather appeared in prospect for most of the nation today.

★ ★ ★

Heaviest rains hit the southern Plains during the night and the wet weather extended eastward across the lower Mississippi Valley. Several funnel clouds were reported in northern Oklahoma, but none touched the ground.

★ ★ ★

Thunderstorms rumbled through Texas, with heavy showers and hail in an area from Austin to San Marcos. The Weather Bureau reported one of the heaviest rainfalls ever recorded in a short period at the Austin airport. The downpour during an eight-minute period measured .86 inches.

The second wet belt was in the Pacific Northwest.

GI Equity Case Ruled Out Here

Injunction Withdrawn in Suit Charging Dupe on Home Foreclosure

Oakland County Circuit Judge George B. Hartrick this morning dissolved an injunction he granted earlier this month against an Oak Park man charged in an alleged GI home equity racket.

Judge Hartrick withdrew the temporary injunction against Milton Silverman, of 13241 Dartmouth St., when Silverman's Detroit attorney, Samuel H. Rubin, said the court had no jurisdiction in the case.

Rubin presented an affidavit reportedly signed by former Pontiac resident Billie M. Ward. In it Ward said he had never authorized Sol E. Goldberg, Detroit attorney for the plaintiffs in the suit filed April 1, to file suit in his name.

The suit charged Silverman with duping Ward and Raymond Schefsky, 29, of 15 N. East Blvd., out of their homes which were about to be foreclosed for defaults in mortgage payments.

Ward's affidavit this morning said he had "no complaint or grievance" against Silverman.

Bagwell Launches Bid to Be Governor

LANSING (AP) — Prof. Paul D. Bagwell, a pioneer Michigan booster of President Eisenhower, late Saturday formally stepped out as a candidate for governor under a banner of "responsible Republicanism."

"I expect to be nominated, and I expect to win," he said.

But he recognized "enormous but not impossible odds" against success in a probable general election contest this fall against Democratic Gov. G. Mennen Williams. Williams is regarded as a certain starter for a record sixth term.

To about 400 supporters assembled in the Lansing Civic Center, Bagwell pledged as Republican nominee he would challenge his Democratic opponent to a series of public debates on issues, and to lead "a fighting campaign."

Bagwell, 44, took a leave without pay last Monday as head of the department of communications skills at Michigan State University, where he has been a faculty member since 1939. He gave up a salary of about $17,000 a year.

Says Westerns on TV Boost Handgun Sales

DALLAS (AP)—Business is booming for at least one maufacturer of old-fashioned Western handguns, two executives of a Hartford, Conn., firm said yesterday.

★ ★ ★

Fred A. Roff Jr., vice president of the company (Colt), attributed a big jump in sales to popularity of Western programs on television.

Several weapons popular in frontier days are being revived and sell for up to $145.

"We hadn't made any for nearly 80 years," said Thomas J. Turner, another official of the firm. "Now we are constantly getting requests for them."

Let's All Get Married!

BUTTE, Mont. (AP) — Eric Warnstrom, 84, and Mrs. Kathryn Hill, 77, were married in church yesterday. Her son Richard Hill, 54, and his daughter Mrs. Bertha Kiemo, 50, were wed at the same time. The previous mates of all four are dead.

Find It Hardest to Spot Selves

Henry Morgan Guides Guessing Program on CBS Radio

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—Apparently the most difficult recorded voice to recognize is your own—or your wife's or husband's.

★ ★ ★

This is one of the conclusions drawn by William Cooper, executive producer of "Sez Who?" — which every Sunday evening defies a panel on CBS-Radio to identify a great variety of recorded voices.

For example, Joey Adams, a fairly regular panelist on the program moderated by Henry Morgan, failed to recognize himself singing opera. The recording was taken from a commercial he made years ago.

So did he and panelist Eloise McElhone fail to recognize the voices of their respective spouses in a love scene recorded especially for "Sez Who?".

★ ★ ★

On the other hand, the panelists have had little difficulty in tracing down such obscure voices as Dan Beard, one of the founders of the Boy Scout movement, talking about birds and bees; Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig doing a corny vaudeville routine; the voice of Santa Claus in a New York department store.

AMAZING RANGE

From a great variety of obscure places "Sez Who?" has drawn an amazing range of recorded voices. Here are some of them:

Amos and Andy as a harmonizing duet in the long ago when they called themselves Sam and Henry. Gayelord Hauser lovingly describing the virtues and versatility of bananas.

Thomas A. Edison telling what he obviously thought was a funny story. It wasn't. Rudolph Valentino singing "The Kashmiri Song." (After this Valentino wisely made only one more recording.)

The voice and bugle call of Bugler Lansbury, who sounded the notes that caused the Light Brigade to charge in the Crimea. Edison recorded it.

★ ★ ★

The program has discovered that collecting obscure recordings is quite the rage with numerous persons.

A favorite collector's item is the voices of various presidents of the United States, Cooper said. Nearly every collector seems to think he has the only collection of presidential voices—and nearly all have the same.

Sick Girl Dies After Reunion With Fugitive

WASHINGTON (AP) — "I'd get well if daddy came back," said little Paula Ann Backover one day last December.

Daddy had disappeared about the time a $2,300 shortage was found in the accounts of the bowling alley where he worked.

★ ★ ★

But newspaper accounts of his daughter's serious illness caught up with Robert Backover, 28, in Los Angeles. He wired home from Los Angeles Feb. 9: "Tell P.A. I'm coming."

Two days later Backover was tearfully reunited with his daughter. Afterward he went to the nearby Hyattsville, Md., police headquarters to surrender for a grand larceny charge, still pending.

★ ★ ★

The next few weeks were joyous ones for 6-year-old Paula Ann. And for her dad too.

But Paula Ann didn't get well. She lapsed into a coma Saturday and died of leukemia in a Washington hospital. Backover collapsed and was placed under a doctor's care at his home.

RELAXED PUZZLER — As moderator on CBS-Radio's "Sez Who?," comedian Henry Morgan likes to stump his voice-guessing panel with obscure recordings,occasionally one made by a panelist himself. In private life, Henry enjoys loafing under the Southern sun. "Sez Who?" is broadcast Sundays at 7:30 p.m.

Wilson Learns Facts About Artists' Models

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—I climbed the stairs to a skylight apartment in the West 60s the other day on a big adventure—to meet a painter and his nude model.

WILSON

But the beautiful model, Nona Von Tosh, was fully dressed—she's become more of an actress lately and has put nudity behind her.

"I'm a painter myself," the pretty blonde model said. "Most artists' models are serious about their work.

"They have to be, because they only get $2 an hour, whereas as a photographer's model I make 20 or 30 times that. It's just that I found a painter I respect."

Jan de Ruth, a Czech with a beard, who has painted some 300 nudes, nodded his thanks.

★ ★ ★

"I naturally think there's nothing wrong with nude modeling," he said. "I don't think anything a human being does is wrong—short of murder."

He mentioned that models aren't easy to get. "Good models, I mean. Even Raphael and Michelangelo used men as models—and then put bosoms on them."

ARTIST & MODEL

Nona, he said, "has a classic face," though most blondes don't. Her figure he considers superior to Brigitte Bardot's and Sophia Loren's.

"Sophia Loren!" he snorted. "That's not a figure. That's a caricature."

★ ★ ★

Countless women make offers to pose now. "But I can't use most of them—usually their figures are falling apart," he grumbled.

Some of his nudes of Nona are seen at the Little Gallery. She's been appearing in "Threepenny Opera" besides modeling and has sneaked peeks at herself occasionally.

"I sneaked into the opening, too, but nobody recognized me as the nude model because I was fully dressed, of course," she added, primly.

Says U.S. to Hike Satellite Launchings

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — Rep. Keating (R-NY) said today the United States will be sending satellites and accurate missles up in increasing numbers.

★ ★ ★

"They will have both military and scientific importance — neither is being overlooked in this great effort," Keating said in a speech prepared for the National Resources Conference conducted by the Industrial College of the Armed Forces.

'World Citizen' Heads for U.S. —He'll Stay Here

NAPLES, Italy (AP) — Garry Davis, who gave up his American citizenship 10 years ago to proclaim himself World Citizen No. 1, is heading back home. This time he says he'll stay there.

★ ★ ★

The 36-year-old bandleader's son, who began his campaign to tear down world boundaries after serving as a wartime bomber pilot, boarded the liner Constitution yesterday with a U.S. entry visa and 80 cents in his pocket.

Davis told newsmen he hopes to go back into show business but insisted his worldwide wanderings were not wasted. "I hope, in any case, that my example will be followed," he declared.

★ ★ ★

The U.S. consulate here loaned Davis his passage money and gave him a stateless person's passport. American officials said he would have to go through the standard naturalization process if he wants his U.S. citizenship back.

Recover Body in Creek

TOLEDO (AP) — Searchers found the body of Ricky Franklin, 8, Saturday in Swan Creek at the rear of his home here. He had been missing since March 15. Some 75 volunteer firemen from Monroe County, Mich., manned 17 boats in a mass dragging operation.

John Jay was the first chief justice of the U.S. Supreme Court.

He'll 'Grin and Bear It' as Women Pleat Cars

SALISBURY, Md. (AP)—A woman driver had smashed into the police car Sgt. Guy Wilson was driving. Newspaper reporter Kathryn Miller was sympathizing with him.

★ ★ ★

"When bad luck's on you, there's nothing to do but grin and bear it," said the sergeant, finishing his story.

"Yep, grin and bear it," Mrs. Miller said.

With that, she left City Hall, climbed into her automobile and backed into Sgt. Wilson's personal car.

Military Plan's Key Parts Opposed by Navy League

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy League has taken a stand against key parts of President Eisenhower's plan to strengthen authority of the secretary of defense and to bring closer unification of the armed services.

But American Veterans of World War II and Korea (Amvets) ranged itself on the opposite side of the question, giving full approval to the defense reorganization proposal.

★ ★ ★

The Navy League action was regarded as a roundabout expression of Navy opposition to the Eisenhower plan. The league, whose members include nonactive military men and civilians, calls itself the "civilian arm of the Navy."

★ ★ ★

In a series of resolutions adopted by the group's executive committee, the league aimed its heaviest objections at a proposal to downgrade the Navy, Army and Air Force departments and to increase correspondingly the overall authority of the Defense Department.

Resolutions opposed eliminating from present law a requirement that the military departments be administered separately.

★ ★ ★

The league also came out strengthen the Joint Staff, a military group working under the Joint Chiefs of Staff. The Navy organization said it is opposed to any measures that would lead to formation of a general staff.

★ ★ ★

On another phase of the issue, the League said it favored limiting to 5 per cent of total military appropriations the amount of funds the defense secretary could shift from one purpose to another in event of emergency. Secretary of Defense McElroy has said he would need authority to transfer somewhat less than 10 per cent of total defense appropriations.

★ ★ ★

The Amvets National Executive Committee adopted a resolution saying Eisenhower's proposal to give more authority to the secretary of defense and to streamlining the chain of command would "strengthen our armed forces and provide more manpower potential at the least cost."

To Study Mystery of Indian Burial Pit

ST. IGNACE (AP) — A researcher who helped unearth an Indian burial pit containing 52 skeletons plans to study the bones in hopes of solving some of the mystery of the ancient grave.

Orr Greenless, an expert on Indian lore and a member of the Michilimackinac Society, said the bodies, all uncovered over the weekend, were thrown haphazardly in a 10 by 15 foot grave there were no marks of violence 250 to 300 years ago. He said on the skulls and expressed belief that the Indians were the victims of an epidemic.

The grave was found by workmen excavating for gravel.

Greenless said he plans to confer with C. W. Ellison, president of the Michigan Historical Society, in an attempt to gain further information on the bones, beads and stone carvings uncovered.

Police Raid Cockfight; 24 Persons Arrested

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Onyx N. Large, 41, was held for investigation of operating a gambling place after 40 gamecocks were seized on his farm five miles north of here yesterday.

State Police said they raided the farm on a tip and found a cockfight in progress. Twenty-three spectators also were arrested.

Reports Disease Causes 'Strokes' in Crop Plants

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Just as blood clots cause heart attacks in humans, a vascular disease plugs the circulatory systems and causes strokes in tomatoes, cotton and other crop plants, a University of Wisconsin researcher reported today.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Mark A. Stahmann, biochemistry professor, told the American Chemical Society the same disease mechanism is believed to occur in oak wilt, killer of many trees in the Midwest; Dutch elm disease; and Panama disease of bananas, costly to the banana industry.

★ ★ ★

The discoveries on the nature of fusarium wilts by Dr. Stahmann and Prof. J. C. Walker, a Wisconsin colleague, are expected to lead to control of the diseases, a serious threat also to such vegetable crops as cabbages and peas.

Beer Strike Negotiations Reopen Today in Detroit

DETROIT (AP) — Negotiators attempting to settle a 13-day beer strike in the Detroit area met again today.

Stroh, Goebel, E & B, Pfeiffer and National Breweries have been closed since April 2, halting deliveries y distributors in Wayne and Macomb counties.

Three brewery workers union locals representing 4,500 brewers, bottlers, drivers and helpers are striking for wage increases and other benefits that are retroactive to April 1, the contract expiration date.

The breweries said they received so many demands three weeks prior to the strike they did not have time to study the union's proposals.

Time Descends on Court

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — The courthouse clock struck at 3:38. Not the hour, the courthouse. Ten metal discs, weighing nearly a ton, crashed from the Knox County courthouse tower into a room 45 feet below. Officials said a cable apparently broke. No one was hurt.

Ex-Wife of Shah of Iran Leaves Italy for U.S.

GENOA, Italy (AP) — Princess Soraya left for the United States aboard the liner Constitution today, just one month after the Shah of Iran divorced her for failing to bear an heir to the throne.

★ ★ ★

In contrast to the clamoring crowd that nearly mobbed the attractive princess when she arrived by train from Geneva yesterday, only a handful braved a drizzling rain to see her off.

★ ★ ★

Soraya wore the same red coat and brown hat she had on when she arrived. She was accompanied by her German-born mother, Mrs. Eva Esfandiary, and her younger brother Bijan, who may enroll at the University of Colorado.

Soraya, 25, plans to remain in the United States six weeks.
