Time Not Ripe to Meet JFK, Nikita Decides

Soviet Premier Sending Gromyko and Sobolev to U.N. Tuesday

From Our News Wires
MOSCOW — Against a background of mounting Soviet hostility toward the Kennedy administration, Premier Khrushchev has decided to stay away from the start of U.N. General Assembly session next Tuesday.

He will send Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko to head the Soviet delegation.

Moscow radio announced the makeup of the delegation Tuesday night. Khrushchev was not on the list.

This dotted speculation that Khrushchev would go to U.N. headquarters for the meeting as a prelude to talks with President Kennedy.

Diplomats felt that Khrushchev decided not to attend the assembly—at least at the start—because the time is not yet right for a meeting with the new President, who is still working out his foreign policies.

SOBOLEV ON LIST

In addition to Gromyko, Deputy Foreign Minister Arkady Sobolev, former chief Soviet U. N. delegate, will be in the delegation.

Khrushchev had indicated for several weeks that he might lead the delegation, particularly if there was a chance for his first meeting with Kennedy since the new administration took over in Washington.

Observers said Khrushchev apparently has decided that Kennedy is opposed to a meeting for the time being.

They pointed out also that the premier is busy with internal affairs right now. He currently is in Sverdlovsk for the beginning of an extensive tour of the Soviet Union to visit agricultural areas and spur farm output.

Kennedy called this appropriate because of Eisenhower's outstanding military record and his long public service to the country in peace and war.

Ailing Jackie Makes Sudden Flight to Florida

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Mrs. John F. Kennedy flew to Palm Beach, Fla., today where, the White House said, she hopes to clear up a case of bronchitis.

Glowing in an outfit of pink, the First Lady left Washington aboard a commercial airliner on the unannounced trip. She was alone, her two children, 3-year-old Caroline and John Jr., remaining in the care of their nurses at the White House.

Patricia Turner, Mrs. Kennedy's press secretary, was questioned at the White House and said that Mrs. Kennedy was headed for the Palm Beach home of Mrs. Charles W. Wigglesworth, an old-family friend.

The press aide said Mrs. Kennedy expected to remain there about a week in hopes of clearing up what she described as a case of bronchitis which has developed as the aftermath of a cold.

FBI Reveals Check Scheme Hit $1 Million

Former Director and Accountant Arraigned on Charges

LANSING (AP) — A former director of a bank his family founded and an accountant were arrested today on charges of misapplying more than $375,000 in a check kiting operation which the FBI said involved at its peak more than $1 million.

James A. Dart, 49, a former director of the Dart National Bank at nearby Mason, and Paul P. Chien, 35, of East Lansing, a former lieutenant colonel in the Chinese National Army, were arraigned on the charges before U.S. Commissioner James Davis here.

They were released on $5,000 bond each pending appearance in U.S. District Court at Grand Rapids.

Chien, a native of Hong Kong, who has been in the United States since 1948, is author of a book entitled "Financial Jungle — U.S.A." He is a former controller of Dart's plumbing, heating and air conditioning firm.

A grand jury indictment said Dart and Chien misapplied bank funds in a check kiting scheme involving the Dart National Bank at Mason, the Michigan National Bank of Lansing, and the Bank of Lansing.

LOSSES RECOVERED

At Grand Rapids, U.S. District Attorney Robert J. Danhof said all losses had been recovered by the Dart National Bank and there was no impairment of its financial structure. He said there was no loss to the two banks in Lansing.

The FBI said restitution was made by the Dart family to the Dart National Bank. It has federal deposit insurance.

Checks involved in the kiting, the FBI said, were drawn on accounts of companies owned or controlled by Dart. One was the J. A. Dart Co., which has made plumbing installations at Michigan schools.

Check kiting is the manipulation of funds in checking accounts in different banks. Checks are written against accounts on which other checks are outstanding.

The FBI said the manipulations of Dart and Chien were discovered by bank officials last September when checks totaling more than $1 million were involved. The FBI said an officer of the Michigan

Plane Engine a Molten Mass

THE END — A twisted mass of molten steel (top) is all that remains of one of the four engines of the prop-driven Air Force tanker plane that crashed early last night near Mount Clemens. All five crewmen perished. A house on the west side of Gratiot Avenue near 22-Mile Road was leveled as the flaming plane finally nosed into the ground. Luckily, no one was home. The building next door (bottom), which formerly was a real estate office, was gutted by fire from the flaming wreckage that spewed hundreds of yards in all directions. The Family Tavern farther on up the road was scared. Across Gratiot, flames charred the side of the windmill at Kabe's Little Holland Nursery.

More Conventional Arms Asked by Defense Dept.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy said today the Defense Department has recommended an increase in conventional weapons strength.

The President also told a news conference that the administration has reached no decision on whether there should be any step-up in nuclear weapons capability.

As to the Pentagon recommendation for an increase in conventional weapons power, Kennedy said he will take about two weeks before making any judgment on it.

At the start of the conference, Kennedy made these announcements before opening the session to questions:

1. For the first time since last July, there was no net outflow of gold from the United States this week.

Kennedy commented that this signifies that "confidence in the dollar throughout the world is being restored."

2. West Germany's Chancellor Konrad Adenauer will visit Washington April 12-13 at Kennedy's invitation. The President said he is looking forward to meeting Adenauer and having an exchange of views.

3. The President announced he is urging Congress to restore to former President Dwight D. Eisenhower the rank of five-star general.

Kennedy called this appropriate because of Eisenhower's outstanding military record and his long public service to the country in peace and war.

Eisenhower resigned from the office of President on Feb. 2, Col. 5.

He made it clear that he was talking about all those who felt they were Africans, whatever their color might be, whatever their race might be. I do not know who else Africans should be for.

March Arrives Like a Lamb; to Stay Gentle

March gambled in this morning dole as a lamb with the sun shining and breezes blowing at only 5 miles per hour.

The weatherman says skies will be partly cloudy and the low temperature about 32 tonight.

For the next five days temperatures will average 4 to 6 degrees above the normal high of 33 and normal low of 23. Only minor day-to-day temperature changes are expected for the period.

Precipitation will total less than five-tenths of an inch in rain or showers, mainly over the weekend.

Thirty was the lowest reading in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. The mercury had climbed to 42 at 2 p.m.

To Shift PO Emphasis

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Kennedy administration plans to shift emphasis in research by the Post Office Department from long-range development to projects which promise faster mail delivery in the near future. This shift may mean that the $4-million facsimile mail experiment will be dropped.

'When Do We Get Safety Gates Here?'

INSPECT RAILROAD CROSSING — Clyde Christian, (right), superintendent of the city's Department of Public Works, points out a detail for state and local officials during an inspection yesterday at the South Saginaw Street grade crossing of the Grand Trunk & Western Railroad. The city has asked the Public Service Commission for protective gates at the crossing. In the party (from left) are Palmer Slack, representative of the State Highway Department; Roy Hetherington, superintendent of the city's electrical department; and two representatives of the Public Service Commission, Donald W. Probe Crash Site in Mount Clemens

By WHITEY SAWYER

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP) — Air Force officials questioned witnesses and examined wreckage today in an effort to determine what caused a loaded tanker plane to crash late Tuesday, killing all five crew members.

The pilot had just veered his stricken ship, loaded with 6,000 gallons of jet fuel and 3,500 gallons of his own fuel, away from a crowded housing project.

The pilot, 1st Lt. John C. Bible, 24, Urbana, Ill., and the four other airmen aboard lost their lives. No one on the ground was killed.

A housewife, Mrs. Ruth King, 32, said the four-engine prop-driven KC-119 from nearby Selfridge Air Force Base struck "in a great big billow of flame and smoke."

The big pot-bellied ship, crushing moments after take-off, left a wake of burning wreckage. Pieces hung from overhead power lines and also clogged commuter lanes under I-75, leading from Detroit.

The ship smashed one house but the woman who lived there was away. Her dog was killed.

Sprouting flames burned out a vacant real estate office. The barn, a tool shed and a windmill of the tulip farm were damaged by flames and flying wreckage. The ship skidded within yards of the tavern and the tulip farm.

POWER FAILURE

An Air Force spokesman said the ship was on a routine refueling mission when it apparently suffered a power failure on take-off. The ship veered away from a Selfridge base housing project of 380 units and staggered along at treetop level as Lt. Bible sought an empty place to pull it down. It climbed 1,000 feet and part of the tail was knocked off.

Killed with Lt. Bible were Capt. Lydell M. Haygood, 29, Hawthorne, Calif.; aircraft commander, T. Sgt. Robert E. Derby, 38, Tacoma, Wash.; flight engineer, S. Sgt. Ernest J. Lemoine III, 29, Houston, Texas; and 1st Lt. Robert L. Lewis, 24, Manchester, Conn., navigator.

Harry Wilson of New Baltimore said he was driving down nearby Sugarbush Road when the plane flew across in front of him.

"When I first saw it, it was so low I knew it must be in trouble. Then I saw part of the tail portion had already been knocked off. It must have already hit something. It went on across in front of me. I heard a crash and I could see the smoke rise," Wilson said.

IN FRONT OF CAR

The plane bounced across a field in Barnes, stopping just across I-75. It passed just in front of an auto, which drove through the flames.

James Brazelton, 23, of Mount Clemens, was driving across I-75 when the plane crashed in front of him.

News Flashes

WASHINGTON (AP)—Michigan's 11 Republican members of the House united today in a request for speedy repeal of the 10 percent federal tax on automobiles.

Repeal of the tax, imposed in the Korean War, would stimulate the automobile industry and revive other businesses in turn, they said.

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI)—The Navy today fired an advanced model Polaris missile for the first time from a ship at sea.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The two RB-47 fliers returned to the United States by Russia in January will be available to report for interviews Friday at Tokyo, Kan., the Defense Department said today.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate Agriculture Committee today approved, 12-2, a sharply amended version of the administration's emergency bill to cut 1961 production of surplus corn and other feed grains.

LONDON (UPI) — Radio Moscow announced today that Premier Nikita Khrushchev now claims Russia invented the hydrogen bomb.

I retreated hastily, deciding to take "shots" back further where the buildings were alive or seared by the flames. And maybe there'd be a portion of the fuselage nearer the horizon that would make a dramatic picture.

Then another officer said, "All clear now. You can go closer."

Up I went again and watched as the fifth body was removed — dented, methodically, and with extreme care and respect.

"No pictures of this," I was warned again.

"Back I went. The house, that formerly was a real estate office, had caught fire again. Firemen made short work of bringing it under control."

One onlooker marveled, "I can't understand why more weren't killed," as he looked at the homes and businesses in close proximity to the accident.

Anti-Lumumba Men Join in Shaky Alliance

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

Bitter enemies have joined in a shaky alliance. Unfortunately, the alliance itself raises important new questions and leaves both the future of the Congo and the United Nations effort there as cloudy as ever.

In theory the agreement announced Tuesday by leaders of the Central Congo, Katanga and South Kasai Province should align the strongest political forces against the Communist-supported forces led by Antoine Gizenga, self-appointed heir to the murdered Patrice Lumumba.

Joseph Kasavubu, recognized by the West as president of the Congo, controls an estimated army of 5,000 men. Some estimates place it at more than double that figure.

Albert Kalonji, president of the secessionist South Kasai, has a private army estimated at 1,000 men.

Moise Tshombe, president of secessionist Katanga Province, has a force of 5,000 Belgian-officered men.

ONLY 1,000 MEN
Against this force of at least

13,500 men, Gizenga's forces have been estimated at 7,000.

Thus the balance of power would seem to be with the new alliance.

But the fact that Kasavubu's central government found it necessary to enter into such an alliance means that Kasavubu and his Premier Joseph Ileo are admitting that central control no longer exists and in effect are recognizing the independent nature of both the Kasai and Katanga governments.

In effect, it gives legal status to both, a situation bound to plague later efforts to unify the country. Potentially, it also poses great problems for the reduced U.N. forces, now numbering only about 14,000 men to police an area one-third the size of the United States.

As the military situation now stands, Gizenga forces control nearly half the Congo, including Oriental Province, Kivu and parts of Kasai and Katanga provinces. Anti-Gizenga forces hold most of Equatorial Province, all of Leopoldville and the remaining portions of Katanga and Kasai.

Standing as a thin line between the two forces, with authority to shoot if necessary to avoid a civil war, are the troops of the United Nations.

Unfortunately for the new alliance, Congo agreements have a way of evaporating depending on the whims of the various leaders. And the terror that spread through Leopoldville with reports that the Gizenga-Lumumba forces were advancing on the capital proves that Lumumba dead is nearly as potent a force as Lumumba alive.

The United Nations command hopes fervently it will not be necessary to fire on Congolese but that day may be approaching. How the Gizenga forces are being paid or how they are receiving their arms remains an unanswered question. But reports of Soviet air drops and some aid reportedly has come from the United Arab Republic. Unfortunately, too, if any of the Congo forces can be said to be disciplined, most of that discipline seems to rest with Gizenga.

How Manhunt Netted Murderer of Little Goochie

End of Slayer's Slimy Trail

By MENRIETTA LEITH
NEW YORK (AP) — It was Washington's Birthday. In Brooklyn, widowed Edith Kleicour decided to spend the holiday with her brother, over the river in Manhattan. She was taking along her mother and her little girl, also named Edith but called Goochie.

(From New Jersey Tuesday night, police made a trip over another river to Manhattan, but it was no holiday outing. They were bringing back a 38-year-old handyman, run to earth on a New Jersey chicken-farm after one of New York City's greatest manhunts. They said he was the man who raped little Edith and beat her to death against a wall — on Washington's Birthday.)

TRIP OPENED WELL

Little Edith's journey to Manhattan was uneventful. Her mother dressed her in a green dress and purple snowsuit. The gay, pretty 4-year-old was wearing tiny gold rings in her old-country style pierced ears. She sat her mother and grandmother Frances Duglet took the long subway ride. They arrived at the home of Uncle Manuel Duglet, on Eighth Avenue near 18th Street, in the tenement near Chelsea neighborhood.

(Just five days before, a slight, seedy but well-spoken man applied for the vacancy at a rooming house at 307 West 25th Street, less than three blocks from Uncle Manuel's home. The landlady was away, and her friend, a barmaid, showed him the room. It was small and plain, with just a bed, dresser and chair. The man, who said he was Fred Thompson, paid the barmaid $8 for a week's rent.)

LEFT UNATTENDED

In the afternoon little Edith put on her purple snowsuit and went out to play in front of Uncle Manuel's home while her mother and grandmother talked family talk inside. Uncle Manuel was outside, keeping an eye on her but he needed a pack of cigarettes and walked around the corner.

(The smiling man came up to the little girl and spoke to her kindly: "I have a little girl like you, but she's sick at home. Would you like to come and visit her?" The friendly child walked off with the nice man.)

Google wasn't in sight when Uncle Manuel came back a few minutes later. He looked around the room but couldn't find her. Worried, he told the women inside, and everyone began looking. The longer they looked, the more worried they got.

Finally they told the police, who combed the neighborhood and questioned everyone who had been around when Google disappeared. That night, after hours had gone by with no trace of her, police announced that a little girl was missing.

HE WAS WILD-EYED

(About that time, a wild-eyed man was looking the door of a second-floor room a few blocks away. He had the only key that would unlock that door, for the duplicate he had given to all the first police thought someone

Killer Thompson May Escape Electric Chair

NEW YORK (UPI)—What will happen to Fred Jackson Thompson, the aimless drifter who confessed the sex-killing of 4-year-old Edith Kleicour?

Premeditated murder in New York calls for death by electrocution, and Thompson has confessed in detail to the crime. With public feeling as it is now, the district attorney is expected to prosecute for the death sentence.

But it may prove very difficult to send Thompson to the electric chair.

One New York attorney pointed out Thompson has laid the groundwork for being ruled incompetent or not within his own control when the crime was committed.

SAYS HE DID IT — These are three studies of Fred Thompson, 38, who admitted during Edith Kleicour to his Manhattan tenement room, attacking her and beating her to death against a wall. He has been booked on a homicide charge.

might have taken the little girl home with them for a meal or a night. The Hudson River was lost or not properly cared for. But the printed and broadcast appeals for her return brought no results, and by Thursday police abandoned this idea.

THE SEARCH WENT ON

HE WAS THE MAN

(Two miles away on the opposite side of Manhattan, there were many men with haunted eyes huddled in cheap Bowery rooming houses, trying to drive away their private ghosts with wine or beer. There was one who was more suddenly drunk and whose eyes were more haunted than the others.)

HE WANTED TO LEAVE

(On the Bowery, the men with the red-rimmed sad eyes were sleeping it off, or starting all over again. One of them began to try to sober up. He had to get sober enough to get out of town.)

Sunday morning police began making another round of neighborhood rooms. It seemed hopeless, but something had to be done to keep the search alive. They were on their way to a rooming house on 20th Street, where one looked door had both eyes. At that house, a roomer decided there was something wrong in a silent second-floor room and told the landlady. They were trying to open the door when the cops came. They crashed in and found a little girl's bruised body on the bed, and they found a purple snowsuit.

GRANNY SCREAMED

At the police station only half a block away, Edith Kleicour was talking to police for what seemed like the hundredth time, trying to think of something that would be a clue. They brought her mother to the police station and, in another room, told the grandmother the news. They couldn't stop her screaming, and nobody could keep Mrs. Kleicour from making those screams. She knew before they told her.

(Fred Thompson had had many jobs since he walked away from his family 15 years ago, but in 1953 he worked as a nightclub doorman, so he had to have a police cabaret card, with a photograph and fingerprints. Later he gravitated toward the summer resorts in the Catskill Mountains, working at any odd job until he would get too drunk to work and would get fired.)

Back on 20th Street, police were getting fingerprints from the pile of beer cans that had shared the room with little Edith's body for four days. A police artist was making a sketch of the man who had rented the room, from descriptions of those who had seen him.

DOZENS OF MIDDLE-AGED MEN

Dozens of middle-aged men with no teeth, and the slightest resemblance to the descriptions of the roomer, were picked up and questioned.

ON MONDAY THE DETECTIVES

On Monday the detectives had found the doorman's cabaret card and matched its fingerprints with those on the beer cans.

NOW THEY HAD A PHOTOGRAPH

Now they had a photograph instead of an artist's conception, and began preparing a vast distribution.

(The chicken farmer hired John Andrews and told him to go to work Tuesday. Later the farmer, Max Pesko, saw the artist's sketch of the hunted man and thought it looked something like Andrews. When he read that Thompson, like Andrews had a British accent, he became more suspicious.)

TUESDAY ANDREWS REPORTED

Tuesday Andrews reported for work. By then, Pesko had seen in another newspaper the cabaret card photograph of Thompson and he was sure. He called the state police.

IN BROOKLYN, MRS. KLEICOUR

In Brooklyn, Mrs. Kleicour was preparing for a Mass of the Angels for little Edith at St. Rose Alma Roman Catholic church.

WHEN THE WORD OF CAPTURE

When the word of capture came from Tom's River, N.J., it spread quickly. Within a couple of hours there were hundreds of angry people outside the police station. A relative of little Edith and another woman carried signs demanding the electric chair for Thompson. In the crowd was Uncle

Manuel. "I feel better now," he said.

HORRIFIED BY SELF

(In New Jersey someone else was telling police that Thompson should go to the electric chair—or at least to prison for life. That said police, was the verdict of Fred Thompson, alias John Andrews, when he finally admitted what he had done to little Edith.)

ON THE DRIVE BACK TO MANHATTAN

On the drive back to Manhattan his eyes not so haunted now—he told a police inspector, thoughtfully: "It was the worst crime I have ever known. And I mean a crime, much less committed it."

Conrad Flies to Wake on Round-World Trip

HONOLULU (UPI)—Max Conrad flew toward Wake Island today on the third leg of his attempt to set a new round-the-world speed record for a piston plane.

The 38-year-old pilot stopped only two and one-half hours in Honolulu Tuesday, after a 2,500-mile hop from Long Beach, Calif. He began the flight Monday at Miami, Fla.

After a brief stop for refueling at Wake, Conrad plans to make his longest hop, a 3,028-mile flight to Manila. He is scheduled to receive a rousing welcome from Filipino airmen when he arrives Thursday.

Conrad hopes to make the round-the-world flight in nine days, after flying 25,457 miles.

House, Senators May Throw JFK Curve on Roads

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Kennedy faced a congressional road of deep ruts and sharp curves today in his proposed tax program to speed construction of interstate highways.

Even key Democrats saw little chance for passage of the measure in its present form. Kennedy asked Congress to cancel a scheduled one-cent cut in the gasoline tax and boost taxes on trucks, diesel fuel, tires and other highway used items.

Democrats and Republicans alike agreed the proposal would have "considerable difficulty" even getting through the House Ways and Means Committee, much less Congress.

Alateens Search for Guideposts to Life With Alcoholic Parents

It was the regular Wednesday night meeting of our 'Alateen' group. The 14-year-old girl, talking, was attending for her third time, asking pretty much the things we had all asked, everything the feelings we had all felt.

"I guess you know it already," Mary was saying, "or I wouldn't be here." She took a deep breath and said: "My mother's an alcoholic."

There was silence in the room. We all knew she felt. The first time you say those words, you think the floor will open and swallow you up. After years of trying to hide it, the truth gets hard to say.

Clare looked defensively at the dozen teenagers in the church social room. But in our eyes there was no shock, no pity, just a deep recognition. When she spoke again it was with more confidence.

ACTING FUNNY
"For a long time I didn't know what the trouble was, I'd come home from school and Mom would be acting funny. It scared me. I couldn't understand. When I did, I was so embarrassed. I wanted to die. Now it's gone on so long, I don't even think I like her any more."

"Why does she have to snoop everything?"

There it was, the $54 question we had all asked. Why? Why did a drunken parent have to "snoop everything" for us, for a whole family? And what could we do about it?

We tried to answer Clare's "why" with the information doctors have given us: today trained specialists know that the alcoholic is not a "bad" person, only a sick one.

A RELIEF
"And that helps," one of the boys

told her. "Boy, it was a relief to look at my father and know he wasn't a bum, just a guy who's sick."

Clare shook her head. "Sick people don't hit you with a lamp. They stay in bed and take medicine. What kind of a disease makes you scream and hit people?"

Just a disease, we said, that's extra hard to treat. But once you know, there are things you can do to help.

"Like what?" asked Clare.

"Get out of the house when she's not herself," we answered. Don't argue. "Don't bring it all up again the next day." One by one we told the things that had worked for us.

WILL SHE STOP?
Then Clare asked the second question we all ask. "You say these things help. You mean if I do them, Mom will quit drinking?"

No. Probably not. All we know is that these things make it easier to live with an alcoholic, and easier for him to live with us.

We haven't come together chiefly to help others, but to help ourselves. And believe us, we need it. We children of alcoholics!

Reich May Face Hike in Taxes

Rise in Election Year Would Help to Finance Foreign Aid Defenses

BONN (UPI)—West Germans may be in for a tax increase this year.

Although 1961 is an election year, Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's government is seriously considering raising taxes.

The government has promised large increases in foreign aid, and has to find the money somewhere.

Defense costs also are rocketing with costly jets and missiles on the Bundeswehr shopping list.

Germany also has agreed to pay more toward the costs of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

It being an election year, Finance Ministry officials refuse to confirm or deny that tax increases are in the air.

But Finance Minister Franz Eitel has indicated that such increases may be forthcoming.

"We know," Eitel said, "that a row of national membership lies awaits us. I am thinking in particular of greater defense efforts and higher contributions to development aid."

There can be no state expenditure, Eitel meaningly pointed out, without state income.

"An effort in one direction," he said, "must necessarily be a burden in another."

Just who will have to bear the biggest burden of a tax increase is unclear.

55 PCT. LIMIT
The limit on income tax is presently 55 per cent. It is unlikely that this ceiling will be pushed higher. There is a greater movement to bring it down to 50 per cent.

West Germany, unlike many other countries, knows of no super tax whereby a person with a "super" income may have to pay up to 90 per cent or more in income tax.

Undoubtedly there will be a tightening on expense allowances. The government already has taken steps in this direction.

Why Not Use County Lot for Downtown Shoppers?

Since public parking spaces are at a premium, particularly close in to the downtown area we would like to offer a suggestion that might bear some study.

The county owned parking lot on the corner of West Huron and Wayne Street might possibly be leased on some sort of temporary arrangement by the City of Pontiac from Oakland County.

We would not intend that employees parking there now be frozen out completely. Perhaps the city could arrange to allocate the same number of spaces in a city-owned lot not quite so adjacent to the downtown area. A short walk of a few blocks should not be considered a hardship for free all-day parking.

The whole arrangement would have to be temporary, since final disposition of the property in question is not known at this time.

Who would stand to gain? Area citizens by some 35 parking spaces in the heart of the shopping area. We feel sure that if an amicable arrangement could be worked out it would be a definite community benefit.

What do you think?

Soapy's Causing Unrest in African Affairs

One cannot help but notice the reception our former governor is receiving on his 13 nation fact-finding tour of Africa. G. MENKENS (Soapy) WILLIAMS was barely started and the howls of protest began.

Britain's Parliament protested and even suggested President Kennedy recall the new Assistant Secretary of State for African Affairs. At least on the surface it would appear that Soapy on the loose is not adding much statesmanship to this unwholesome mess.

We wonder if the new Assistant Secretary realizes that his presence in Africa is causing more consternation than good. It seems that every time he opens his mouth he puts both feet in.

A few days ago he told the people of Kenya that Mr. Kennedy's "Africa for Africans" policy meant liberation as fast as Africans want it; further, that the Negro men of Africa should stop making the women do all the work.

With Soapy speaking officially for KENNEDY this sounds dangerous since other Congo-like upheavals are possible.

It would seem reasonable to believe that our spokesman in Africa should be seeking peace rather than unbraiding more tempers.

Economists to Examine Foreign Trade Problem

The Economic Institute meeting in Washington under the auspices of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce will discuss our balance of payments position and the possibility of increasing exports.

Manufacturers and labor leaders alike have expressed concern over the continuing rise of imports from Europe and Asia. Last year Under Secretary DILLON warned that "either we (all nations) move ahead to get rid of outmoded trade restrictions or we can expect a resurgence of protectionism and restrictive action."

Foreign competition has become increasingly sharp. Some American made goods have been priced out of world and domestic markets. However, more restrictive import quotas and higher tariffs would bring retaliation and things would probably get worse. Many still remember the results of the Smoot-Hawley tariff act when our foreign markets collapsed overnight.

In an effort to improve our trade position the KENNEDY Administration announced its intention to modify tax laws to provide additional incentives for investment in U.S. plants and equipment. President KENNEDY is preparing to ask Congress for a change in tax laws on foreign subsidiaries' profits which are untaxed until brought back into this country.

Naturally, this had tended to expand the foreign plants with U.S. tax free profits. Such a strong incentive had encouraged U.S. expansion abroad which now totals $30 billion. Any discussion of foreign competition must recognize that much of it is created by American owned plants.

Some agreement should be reached to assure economic growth and raise standards of living in industrialized and less developed nations alike. A liberal policy is necessary to an effective world trading system.

"Get Ready — Get Set — Wait"

David Lawrence Says:

High Court Must Allow Probes

WASHINGTON—It seems incredible that, with a cold war going on and with billions of dollars being spent by the Soviet government to infiltrate every Democratic country in the world, there should be issued by four members of the Supreme Court of the United States—Chief Justice Warren, Justices Black, Douglas and Brennan—an opinion which appears to brush aside the Communist menace in its realistic form.

Fortunately, five other members of the court—Justices Stewart, Clark, Frankfurter, Harlan and Whitaker—see the Communist menace in its realistic form.

By their latest decision, they make it clear that the empty claim to protection of "free speech" will not save suspected Communists in the United States from investigation by an authorized congressional committee.

The four dissenting justices insist that witnesses, when asked by a congressional committee whether they are Communists, need not even take the Fifth Amendment, but can refuse to answer on the ground that their rights of free speech under the First Amendment are being transgressed.

The argument solemnly proclaimed by the four dissenting justices is that no agency of the federal government, be it legislative, executive or judicial, may "harass or punish people for their beliefs, or for their speech about, or public criticism of, laws and public officials."

This doctrine would make it possible for any citizen to decline to tell an investigating committee about racketeers, monopolies, payola or any irregularities in human behavior on which it might be desirable to pass remedial laws.

The witness could merely claim that the congressional committee was "harassing" him for his criticisms of the committee and was trying to punish him for his "beliefs."

Congressional efforts to get information on which to base legislative laws could thus be frustrated.

In the latest opinion—the case of Frank Wilkinson, who refused to give up his place of residence to the House Committee on Un-American Activities—the majority of the justices repeated a statement from a previous decision which said:

"MUSTN'T BLIND SELF"

"To suggest that because the Communist party may also sponsor possible political reforms the constitutional issue before us should now be judged as if that party were just an ordinary political party from the standpoint of national security is to ask this court to blind itself to world affairs which have determined the whole life of the nation."

"I wish every alcoholic would read your column, and have the will, as I did, to turn himself or herself in for medical care. To be sure, one dreads telling the medical staff 'I am an alcoholic and I need help.' But if you care for life, family or associates you will swallow this pride and ask for the help you need. Don't list as I did, to turn himself or herself in for medical care. To be sure, one dreads telling the medical staff 'I am an alcoholic and I need help.' But if you care for life, family or associates you will swallow this pride and ask for the help you need. Don't list as I did, to turn himself or herself in for medical care."

She does not mention Alcoholics Anonymous. A drinker who seeks help from Alcoholics Anonymous must acknowledge, "as all members do,"

"I AM AN ALCOHOLIC. There, even if he or she, with the help of the other members, goes for a month, a year or 10 years without a drink, he or she must still acknowledge, 'I AM AN ALCOHOLIC. Recognizing that, he or she will never run the dread-fest risk of having just a little taste."

Mary Jane is indeed a lucky woman. Of course she hasn't been exposed to cocktails, yam-balls or quick ones for the three months she was in the hospital. But it takes greater strength of character than most drinkers have to

Supreme Court cannot rule on the case of a man who may be serving or helping a hostile government—an enemy—is to deprive the nation of any power of self-preservation.

The purpose of these congressional investigations is to expose the espionage and subversive activities of the whole Communist apparatus in the United States. Loyal American citizens are expected to cooperate with their own government in all its branches.

The Communists have stolen atomic secrets. They have at times infiltrated the departments in Washington.

Dr. William Brady Advises:

Say: I'm an Alcoholic, Then Go to AA for Aid

From Pennsylvania, Mary Jane (we'll call her) writes:

"Dear Dr. Brady: In January I was 33. A year ago I was classified as an alcoholic. I was depressed, lost my position, started hanging with a loose crowd and became a bad drinker—drank with anyone and whatever the chance."

"At first a drink would fix everything, but later on even the strongest drink didn't help the shakes or anything. I was in pure misery and getting steadily fight the narcotic habit alone—alcohol is a narcotic. That's where Alcoholics Anonymous helps so much. Somehow drinkers who are fighting the habit themselves or who have won the fight can inspire the new member when all the preaching and pleas of non-drinkers fail."

Look in the telephone book for the address of an AA group in your vicinity. Find out when they meet, then attend the meeting. You'll find the men and women there friendly and courteous. Attending your first meeting may prove to be the turning point in your life."

Signed letters not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to medical, dental, and other diseases, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Hobbies Are Splendid Mental Tonic

BY GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE H-42: Andrea M., aged 41, is a jittery housewife.

"Dr. Crane," she began, "I have too much time on my hands so I am becoming a nervous wreck."

"Can you suggest any outlet for your energy?" I asked. "I prefer something that would help me and my husband, for I feel we are drifting apart."

"Many men and women pass the age of 40, they should be sure to read the sex booklets offered via this column."

For Andrea, like most women, is jittery in part because she vaguely fears the dreaded age of 45 when she thinks she will lose her feminine charm.

So I urged her to cultivate two hobbies that are very helpful and mentally stimulating.

First, I suggested she make a scrapbook of those daily columns on clinical psychology. For I cover a dozen college courses in the contents of this newspaper feature.

Many physicians, dentists, druggists and other professional men have their secretaries maintain a continuing scrapbook and index them under the various subjects we cover each week, such as clinical psychology, love and marriage problems, psychosomatic medicine, personality development, and business or professional psychology.

'Stations Overcharge for Road Service'

Why do gas stations take advantage of road service insurance? I had a flat tire perhaps 75 feet from a gas station in a small town north of Pontiac on M24. The attendant took my car and changed my tire. It took perhaps ten minutes and he charged me $2.50. When he saw I was surprised he said, "Road service will take care of it."

Will Shave Off Beard Before Celebration

Since the City of Pontiac refuses to let the firemen and policemen participate in the centennial in the way they want (beards) on June 1, just at the beginning of the celebration, I will shave off five months' growth from my tender little cheeks and have nothing to do with the city I have lived in all my life. And I wage all "Brothers of the Brush" to do likewise.

Labor Heads in Trouble: Unions Need Members

By NORMAN WALKER
Associated Press Labor Writer
MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The AFL-CIO is tapping its members for an extra $2.2 million to counter a deficit caused by a combination of bad luck and bad work.

The bad luck is the unemployment situation. In five years the AFL-CIO has lost a million members, many of them made jobs in the 1958 recession and the current one with consequent dues payment loss.

The bad work comes from a lack of successful organizing. The federation's unions have lost either their technique or zeal of both in enlisting new members.

These are the reasons behind a decision made Monday by the Council, high command of the labor union federation, to levy a special assessment on the organization's 12.5 million members.

The special dues payment will be three cents a month per member on top of the regular five cents a month dues payment. This makes a total of eight cents a month payable by each affiliated union on each of its members.

This is a temporary expedient to meet a financial crisis. AFL-CIO leaders said privately that when they meet in December they expect to propose, and get, a permanent two-cent hike in monthly per capita dues.

All this underlines the fact clearly shown in the 10-day winter meeting of AFL-CIO chiefs, now nearing a close, that union labor's main organization is currently wobbling both in word and deed.

Pronouncements from the AFL-

CIO leaders have largely dealt with the broad and baffling wage and job security matters that worry the average worker.

This is partly due to the changing American scene—the fact that the era of manual labor is fast disappearing and that the day has dawned for the clerical workers more highly skilled and less susceptible to becoming union members.

The labor leaders are aware of this change but as yet haven't decided on a successful formula to handle it.

The AFL-CIO leaders were due to wind up their winter sessions today. They had a renewed hassle scheduled, however, on the matter of civil rights.

One wing of the executive council group is impatient over continuing racial barriers in some unions against Negroes. But the majority, led by AFL-CIO President George Meany, contend that federation unions are making steady progress toward eliminating racial segregation.

For Foreign Cars, Too

Roberts Would Require Brackets for Safety Belts

Sen. Farrell E. Roberts, R-Oakland County, said he will introduce a bill which would require all cars sold in Michigan after Jan. 1, 1962, to have brackets for safety belts.

Roberts stressed that this would also mean foreign cars sold in the state after that date.

The legislator's announcement follows one by the auto industry that starting with the 1962 models all major domestic manufacturers will install attachments in the front seats of all passenger cars.

The proposed bill would be similar to one offered in New York by State Sen. Edward J. Speno last week visited Detroit automakers along with a delegation from his state. Speno heads a legislative committee on motor safety in New York.

While he was a state representative, Roberts introduced a bill in June 1959 designed to make it mandatory for all automobile manufacturers in Michigan after Jan. 1 of this year to build the brackets. It passed the House but failed in the Senate.

With the cooperation of the auto industry guaranteed, Roberts sees more hope for the new bill.

Actual installation of the belts would be up to the car owner. Like Speno, Roberts believes in the statistics which show that deaths can be reduced 50 per cent and serious injuries 60 per cent by using the seat belts.

State May Store Atomic Waste

MSU Prof Considers Possibility of Putting It in Salt Beds

EAST LANSING (UPI)—Michigan sits atop of what might some day be huge storage tanks for radioactive wastes.

Dr. Shovel Sereda, assistant professor of civil engineering at Michigan State University, is experimenting to determine the feasibility of using Michigan's huge salt bed storage of radioactive wastes.

Michigan is a logical place because the entire Lower Peninsula has 35,000 square miles of salt under it, the largest reserve of any state in the Union, Sereda said.

"Different methods of treating high-level radioactive waste have been tested, and storage in underground salt formations appears to be the most promising solution," he said.

The MSU Japanese professor said using Michigan's salt is still an idea in the experimental stage, not yet a fact.

He said combination of positive results from both laboratory and field experiments would be needed to determine whether the state would be used for storing the wastes.

Reception Planned for Congress

WASHINGTON (U)—There were several social notes from the White House today, headed by announcement of a two-evening reception for members of the 87th Congress on Tuesday, April 18.

The President and Mrs. Kennedy have invited all the senators and representatives and their wives to a 10 p.m. to midnight reception at the White House.

The time is later than usual and the Kennedys also are rescheduling receptions which had been dropped from the social calendar by the Eisenhowers in the last part of their administration.

In past years, formal White House receptions have started at 5 p.m.

White House Press Secretary Pierre Salinger said invitations will go out from the White House social office in the next few weeks to all members of both houses.

Vice President and Mrs. Lyndon Johnson are expected to receive the guests with the Kennedys, he said.

The President also has accepted an invitation to a dinner of the White House News Photographers Association on May 19.

Needn't Prove Injuries Against Each

Can Sue All Drivers in Chain Collision

LANSING (U)—Victims of multiple-car accidents will henceforth have an easier time recovering damages, thanks to a precedent-setting decision by the State Supreme Court.

Though splitting sharply, the court ruled Tuesday that an accident victim may sue any or all the drivers who contribute to his injuries in a multiple-vehicle collision.

Previously, they were required to prove specific injuries against each driver.

"This brings Michigan up to date with expressway conditions where multiple accidents frequently occur," said a court spokesman.

The suit began after Mr. and Mrs. Fred Maddux of Dearborn and their daughter Cheryl Lee were injured in a three-car crash on U.S. 112 in Lenawee County July 15, 1955.

An approaching car driven by William Donaldson skidded into their path. The Maddux pickup truck also was struck in the rear by a car operated by Paul Bryie.

DISMISSED AT FIRST
The Madduxes withdrew their suits against Donaldson, but asked $25,000 damages from Bryie.

Circuit Judge William J. Beer of Oakland County dismissed Maddux's suit, finding him guilty of contributory negligence, and those of his wife and daughter on the ground that Bryie's share of the responsibility could not be fixed.

Justice Talbot Smith, writing the majority opinion in the 5-3 decision, said there is obvious injustice when "the blameless victim of traffic chain collision is denied any recovery whatsoever."

The other drivers, he said, should not escape liability because of the complexity of the accident and the injuries.

Dissenting Justice Leland W. Carr held that Bryie's constitutional rights would be violated by holding him liable for all damages presumable caused by both Donaldson and himself.

In another decision, the court unanimously affirmed an Inoway County Circuit Court decision upholding the county's priority over the state in claiming property owned by a welfare recipient who died.

Mrs. Rhoda Ann Goodwin was hospitalized at the expense of the county and received state welfare assistance as well. The county and

Disposing of Bodies

PETERSBURG, Va. (AP)—Virginia State Police said today, titterant carnival worker Kenneth E. Dudley has admitted disposing of the bodies of his four missing children.

Police said Dudley, 47, and his wife Irene, 44, have told "conflicting stories" as to where the bodies of the four children were disposed.

The Dudley's are being held on charges of causing the death of a daughter, Carol Ann, 7, by malnutrition, exposure and neglect in Virginia. Her body was found Feb. 3 in woods in southern Virginia, wrapped in a tattered blanket.

The Petersburg Progress-Index said today a grave of an unidentified little girl in Prescott, Ariz., may lead investigators to the first of the four missing children.

5,600-Mile Airlift Fails to Save Medical Worker

TOKYO (UPI)—Lola Boyce, a 32-year-old American medical worker who was stricken by a brain tumor while she was serving needy Indonesians, died here today despite emergency surgery following a 5,600-mile airlift.

Miss Boyce, who left her friends in Ames, Iowa, and Berkeley, Calif., to work aboard the American mercy ship SS Hope in isolated Eastern Indonesia, was stricken aboard the vessel last Thursday.

state both made claim to real estate she owned.

The court remanded for further proceedings the suit brought by Arietta T. Grist against the Uppahon Co. of Kalamazoo and four of its employees. She sued them for $50,000 after she was fired in 1957, accusing the employees of "destroying her good name."

The high court reversed an order dismissing Uppahon as a defendant.

Kennedy Wants Stars Restored to Eisenhower

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Kennedy announced today he has recommended that Congress restore the rank of five-star general to former President Eisenhower.

This would give Eisenhower the same military rank he resigned before running for the presidency in 1952.

Kennedy told his news conference he has sent a letter to Chairman Carl Vinson, D-Ga., of the House Armed Services Committee and Chairman Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., of the Senate Armed Services Committee recommending restoration of the rank.

SOUTHFIELD — A Bloomfield Hills man is in critical condition in William Beaumont Hospital with multiple fractures received when his car went out of control and hit a tree on Lahser Road just south of 15-Mile Road.

Norman A. Rowe, 40, of 1045 Kimberlake Drive, has been unable to make a statement. Southfield police say they believe he was on his way home when the accident occurred shortly before midnight.

Rowe was going north on Lahser when his car went out of control, crossed the road and smashed into the tree.

Oakland's GOP
Backs Con-Con,
Starts Program

The policy-making body of the Republican Committee of Oakland County last night went on record "strongly urging" an affirmative vote in the spring election on a constitutional convention.

A convention is "fundamental to the future progress of the state," a resolution approved unanimously by some 30 members of the executive committee read.

It directed County Chairman Arthur G. Elliott Jr. to take steps toward the education of prospective county delegates to the convention, and urged State GOP Chairman George M. Van Pelt to do likewise on a state level.

Set All-Time Fund Record

Slump's the Bunk, Says JA

BY DICK SAUNDERS
Who says business is bad?
Not Pontiac area Junior Achievement.

The Junior Achievement Division in Pontiac has just set an all-time record for funds collected in the recent annual JA fund drive.

The Pontiac Division accounted for donations totaling $12,610—highest for any of the 24 divisions in Southeastern Michigan.

It was also the highest mark in JA history in Pontiac since the local unit was established in 1952.

In addition, the Pontiac division collected 188 per cent of its original quota of $6,700.

No other division in Southeastern Michigan topped its quota by that much.

LOCAL CHAIRMAN
M. F. Rummel, director of purchasing, Pontiac Motor Division, was chairman of the local division.

The drive is broken up into four units of six divisions each in Southeastern Michigan. Pontiac is a member of Unit 1, which includes Birmingham and four Detroit area units.

Rummel has been praised by Philip J. Monaghan, vice president, manufacturing staff, General Motors Corp., who was unit chairman.

The Pontiac division also drew praise from general campaign chairman Wilfred D. MacDonnell, president of Great Lakes Steel Corp.

All the money collected here will be used to further the Pontiac JA Business Center.

There are currently 260 teen-age members running 16 JA companies in the Pontiac area. They are guided by 49 volunteer adult advisors.

There was $261,040 raised by the drive in Southeastern Michigan—109 per cent of the goal of $240,000.

"It was the most successful fund drive in the nation," according to MacDonnell.

The Birmingham division under Milton F. Coulson Jr., vice president, MacManus, John & Adams, said to be worth denying.

Inc. raised $6,532, or 118 per cent of its quota of $5,500. Pontiac fund raisers didn't let words like "recession" and "poor conditions" worry them. They just worked a little harder.

Their extra effort paid off in enough working capital for expansion after the current JA year ends in May.

Regardless of how many pessimistic "reports" or "outlooks" are popping up nowadays, business is booming at the Pontiac JA Business Center.

Ike Emerges From Seclusion for Photo Session

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (UPI)—Former President Eisenhower emerged briefly Tuesday from his semiseclusion to pose for pictures with local Red Cross officials.

It was the first time the former chief executive posed for photographers since arriving here Feb. 8 on an extended vacation.

When one of the newsmen pulled out a notebook instead of a camera, he was politely told to ask no questions. Eisenhower has made it plain he wants privacy during his vacation here.

Won't Attack Cuba

LIMA, Peru (UPI)—Foreign Minister Luis Alvarado Garrido said today Cuban charges that Peru might attack Cuba are "too absurd to be worth denying."

U.S. Crime Up by 12 Per Cent

Hoover Calls '60 Rise a 'Shocking Situation'

All Major Types Climb

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Crime in the United States leaped by 12 per cent in 1960, according to the Justice Department. FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said it was a "shocking situation."

Not one major category of crime showed a decrease. Robberies increased 18 per cent over 1959, burglaries 15 per cent, major larcenies 11 per cent and auto theft 7 per cent. Murder and rape was up 4 per cent and aggravated assault 3 per cent.

"The FBI compiled the report from records submitted by police in cities of more than 25,000 persons. It was made public Tuesday.

The smallest increase, for cities of more than a million population, was 9 per cent. Cities from 25,000 to 500,000 population went up by 14 per cent, and those between 500,000 and a million persons reported an 11 per cent rise.

Hoover said large cities had a 7 per cent increase in juvenile crime, and rural areas and small cities showed an increase of 5 per cent.

Juvenile arrests rose by 6 per cent, and adult arrests increased 2 per cent.

The Navy Department was created April 30, 1798. President John Adams named Benjamin Stoddert of Maryland the first secretary.

Adopt Plan to Sell Michigan

DETROIT (UPI)—A program aimed at discouraging firms from leaving Michigan and at attracting new industry to the state was adopted Tuesday by the Michigan Economic Development Commission.

The program specifically calls for a wide range of publicity, research and industrial development activities designed to promote Michigan's economic development.

The commission also will conduct a nationwide campaign "to present Michigan in its true perspective both within and outside our state."

Proposed research projects include studies of what industries are best suited to Michigan, the state's water transport and port potentials, and a system of reporting industrial relocations.

The publicity phase of the program calls for periodic reports to the governor on the progress of Michigan economy and a national information service for news media.

Local industrial development projects include coordination and assistance to local community efforts.

BALEBOA, C. Z. (UPI)—More than 3,000 troops and 150 aircraft from the United States and Latin America today began war games designed to prevent the capture of the Panama Canal "by Communist-inspired aggressor forces."

Carole Talks Today at Murder Trial

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Carole Tregoff, 24, attractive red-haired former model and co-defendant with Dr. R. Bernard Finch in their murder trial, was expected to testify in her own behalf late today or Thursday.

Carole, Finch's admitted mistress, testified in the couple's first two trials she was hiding in bushes at the Finch home when Mrs. Barbara Finch was shot to death July 18, 1959 while struggling with her husband on the lawn.

The two earlier trials both ended in hung juries.

on the Dollar

We took inventory and dug up so many odds 'n ends we decided to mark the prices way down to move 'em out. Here's a few examples in this ad.

Did you ever move? Surprised, weren't you, how much you had that you had forgotten . . . We found a 3-year-old wrapped brand new 2-piece Living Room Suite with rubber cushions . . . we don't want it, come and get it for $58 . . . We discovered 25 room-size roll-ends of Broadloom Carpet from 9x12 to 12x15—out they go, regardless, for $48 . . . Some odd bedroom pieces proved to be 3-piece Matched Suites—you can steal 'em for $58 . . . We uncovered new 1958 Dinettes, price no object—$25-$34, or what you can afford . . . There was a 5-piece Sectional Living Room about a year old, just a little dirty—you take it for $148.80—others $168 and $188 . . . The roof leaked on one corner of a 2-piece Sofa Bed Suite—doesn't show much—first one gets it for $84. All this plus 100 partially distressed Lamps, Chests, Dressers, Wardrobes, Kitchen Cabinets . . . and just 6 of our $24.00 Mattresses, a bit dirty for $13.99!

Read on for more surprises . . . we dusted off an unopened crate and found a sparkling, new Portable TV Set inside—you can have it for $89 if you come and pick it up . . . And what do you think was staring out of a dark corner—2 new 23-inch movie-size Console TVs, take 'em away for $174 . . . oh, yes, they're crafted in beautiful mahogany wood, too! . . . (Speaking of TV, how would you like to buy a 21" reconditioned TV for only $48?) . . . Do you want a last year's model refrigerator? . . . Well, you're going to save as much as $170.00 on a Philco, Frigidaire or Admiral! . . . We found 2 new 13 cu. ft. double-door Admiral Refrigerators! . . . we'll deliver 'em for $238!—and they're automatic, too! . . . Think of this—3 Columbus Gas Ranges, 30-inches wide, compact and slightly marred for $68! . . . if you'd rather have electric—we've got 2 for $98 . . . if we told you it's real value, you'd hardly believe it! We're ashamed to tell you how many Speed Queen and Maytag Washers and Dryers we have left over . . . some are mis-mates, or bruised from floor traffic—but you can cart 'em away for as little as half price! . . . How would you like a new Automatic Washer for only $118 . . . or a new Wringer Washer for only $63 . . . a mis-mate Dryer for $118? . . . they're yours for the asking!

(Oh, yes, we've got famous-brand reconditioned Washers for $38 . . . they're young, tender washers and work like new . . . guaranteed? Yes!)

Treasures from our Jewelry Department . . . way back in the cupboards we found 13 Decorated Melmac Dinnerware Sets—45-pieces, service for 8!—you can have 'em for $17.88 a set—and we will even dust them off for you! . . . If you like to take home movies you can have a 1960 model Keystone Movie Outfit for only $68.00 . . . projector, camera, screen and accessories . . . We're giving away 8 Elgin Watches we found under the showcase for $24.88 . . . they're 17-jewel masterpieces—ladies' and gents' and self-winding, too! . . . This one will kill us—4 Remington Portable Typewriters, complete with carrying cases, left over from Christmas, will go at $52.88 . . . and 7 GE Steam and Dry Irons will go at $8.88! Remember, don't worry about money . . . we'll make the terms exactly the way you want them!

Royal Oak's Plans for Mall Get Boost

LANSING (AP)—Royal Oak's ambitious plans for quick modernization of its downtown area moved forward today with State Supreme Court approval.

A 6-2 decision by the High Court Tuesday cleared away a major barrier to sale of $2.6 million in revenue bonds to finance construction of free parking areas and a landscaped mall.

Before the bonds can be sold, however, the city must set up a new schedule of assessments on business firms which will pay for the project. The court ruled that they must be assessed only on the basis of benefits they will receive.

Presently, the assessment plan spreads half of the cost according to the value of each piece of property, as it was assessed in 1954, and half according to benefits the owner stands to receive when the project is completed.

Rep. William Hayward, R-Royal Oak, who doubled as Royal Oak mayor, said the ruling will delay by two or three months plans to start construction by June 1.

The project, he said, will make Royal Oak the first city in the nation to completely modernize its downtown area in a single operation.

The development will cover 20 square blocks and will provide 19 square blocks of free parking (Advertisement) for about 5,000 cars. Parking meters throughout the area will be removed, Hayward said.

Plans call for a landscaped mall and shrubbery, trees, fountains, shelters and benches throughout the area.

Ingo Eyes Rule as Tax Escape

May Claim 'Liberal Profession' Status to Avoid Paying $600,000

NEW YORK (AP)—Is ex-world heavyweight champion Tiger Ingo Johnson engaged in a "liberal profession?"

Johnson apparently thinks so and indications today were that he might use the rule to avoid paying the United States more than a half-million dollars in income taxes.

The government disagrees, and Tuesday took action to tie up Ingo's purse in his third title fight with Floyd Patterson in Miami Beach on March 13.

Johnson's argument is that he is a resident of Switzerland and is employed as a business agent for a Swiss corporation called Sennart, S. A.

TAX EXEMPT?

He says neither he nor Sennart owes taxes because of a compact between the United States and Switzerland which provides tax exemption for income-producing activities not involving permanent trade or business.

The Internal Revenue Service claims Johnson owes the government $508,161.92 in personal income tax for his two title fights with Patterson here in 1959 and 1960.

In twin court suits Tuesday here and in Miami, the government obtained orders from two federal judges restraining Johnson from transferring any money outside the country. Hearings are scheduled for March 2 in Miami and March 7 here.

Dramatic Role Will Be Tried by Dinah Shore

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Dinah Shore will go dramatic for her March 26 NBC-TV show.

Instead of her usual singing and dancing, Dinah and Ralph Bellamy will enact Noel Coward's "Brief Encounter" for the full hour.

Dinah, who has no English accent, said she would change the locale of the story from suburban London to suburban Boston.

Red Cross Course Will Start Monday

A Red Cross first aid course will start Monday at 7 p.m. at the Red Cross Chapter House, 118 Franklin Blvd. The course will run for six weeks and will cover standard and advanced first aid.

Following this course, there will be a Red Cross first aid instructor-training class from April 17 to 21.

More information can be obtained by calling the first aid department at the chapter house.

Vice Admiral Is Dead

NATCHEZ, Miss. (AP)—Vice Adm. Aaron S. Merrill, 70, head of Jefferson Military College since 1947, died Tuesday after several months illness with cancer. He was a 1912 graduate of Annapolis and won the Navy Cross for his part as task force commander in the battle of Bougainville.

BAA BAA, YOURSELF—Kay Lynn Hessler, shouting back in her own way to a couple of men, one of whom is Edgar Lang at the "Food for Life" exhibit in Chicago.

Eleanor Powell Return Draws Ovation in Vegas

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Eleanor Powell, 48, once rated the queen of American tap and rhythm dancers, received a standing ovation Tuesday night when she returned to show business after an absence of 14 years.

On hand to applaud her return at the Sahara Hotel were visiting newsmen and scores of the local friends.

Miss Powell, backed up by four male dancers, tapped out waltzes, numbers, fox trots, a flamenco, marches and even a matador sequence. She made five costume changes from a wardrobe that a spokesman said would cost $75,000 to replace.

Seek Deaddeys Vets

The 96th Infantry (Deaddeys) Division Association is planning to hold its fourth reunion, and is seeking members of the division who served during World War II. Former members are asked to contact Richard Klassen, Route 5, Kankakee, Ill.

A fire claimed the life of a person in the United States every 46 minutes during 1959.

GOP Denies Slowdown but Would Amend Bills

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Styles Bridges, R-N.H., said today Republicans are trying to amend—but not stall—President Kennedy's New Frontier legislative program.

Bridges, who heads the Senate Republican Policy Committee, denied that in demanding additional witnesses and in engaging in lengthy questioning GOP members are using delaying tactics against key Kennedy proposals.

"All we are trying to do is correct some basic weaknesses in the legislation the President has proposed," he said in an interview.

Bridges denied specifically the suggestion by Sen. Paul M. Douglas, D-Ill., that by long questioning of witnesses on the administration's depressed areas bill and by demanding that additional persons testify on minimum wage legislation the Republicans were trying to slow down congressional action.

Instead, Bridges said, the Republicans are working to get a satisfactory "anti-pirating"

Reported Eying Troop Increase

Say JFK Will Request Hike in U.S. Forces for Small-Scale War

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Kennedy administration is reported considering recommending to Congress a substantial increase in U.S. military forces capable of meeting limited aggression by Communist forces anywhere in the world.

Final decisions on this and other possible new defense proposals are to be made by President Kennedy.

BELIEF KNOWN
Kennedy's general belief that the United States needs greater capacity for limited war is already well known, however, as a result of previous statements by him. Indications of the main line of administration thinking on the defense problem have now come also from Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

Rusk said in a statement late Tuesday that "we are determined in co-operation with our allies, to enhance the common defense to assure the security of the free world."

"I have long felt," Rusk continued, "that this will require a strengthening of the non-nuclear aspects of that defense, as well as the maintenance of its nuclear aspects. Our commitments to the common defense are known, as is our determination to back them."

From 1940 to 1960, the number of United States teen-agers increased about four million to 28,866,000.

Ford Average Weekly Pay in '60 at $126 Plus

DETROIT (AP) — The Ford Motor Co. said Tuesday that average weekly earnings of its hourly rated employees reached a record $126 last year.

This was in addition to fringe benefits of more than $24 a week per employee, said Kenneth D. Cassidy, vice president for personnel.

Cassidy said average gross hourly earnings were $3.15 plus fringe benefits of another 39 cents for a total of $3.54 — 15 cents more than in 1959.

The company said its total nationwide payroll in 1960 was $191 billion. This was $42 million higher than in 1959 and second only to the record $195 billion paid in 1957.

Sturgeon are rare fish except in some Russian waters.

Russian Men Henpecked but They Don't Know It

LONDON (UPI) — Two British women just back from the Soviet Union say Russian men are henpecked but seem to like it.

Miss Lesley Souter and Miss Rosina Winslade, both research executives with engineering companies, said Monday Soviet career women lack the "hard aggressive-ness" that is supposed to characterize their Western sisters, but they give the orders just the same.

The two women based their claims on observations made during a tour of Moscow, Leningrad and Kharlov.

Arbitrate Fishing War

LONDON (AP) — A compromise has brought an end to the fishing war between Britain and Ireland. Britain agreed to accept the 12-mile fishing limit around the island nation but British trawlers will be allowed to fish six miles offshore for the next three years.

Took His Gold Badge

CHATTANOOGA (AP) — During funeral services for veteran humane officer John Henry, who spent most of his adult life helping neglected or abused children, burglars looted his home-taking the gold badge he wore for 34 years with the Humane Educational Society.

Farmer Wanted at Detroit House of Correction

Farming is not one of the activities usually thought of in connection with municipal government, but the city of Detroit is currently expending considerable effort to hire a farmer, an orchard farmer to be exact.

This unusual recruiting campaign arises from the need to find an orchard supervisor for the farm at the Detroit House of Correction.

The farm, located near Northville, includes 30 acres of cherry, peach, pear and apple orchards. House of Correction inmates work the orchards under the direction of the orchard supervisor, the position Detroit's personnel recruiters are now trying to fill.

They are looking for someone at least 35 years of age with the equivalent of a high school education and adequate experience in orchard operation.

Applicants must pass a written and oral examination, and the man who is hired will receive an annual salary ranging from $333 to $368 plus the City's regular fringe benefits.

Orchard men can obtain further information from the Detroit Civil Service Commission, 612 City County Building, Detroit 26.

There are about 80,000 motels in the United States.

Tired of New TV, People Turn to Art

NEW YORK (UPI)—The nation is having a boom in art which one gallery owner described as "like a wave which hit us."

Business is so good, quipped Martha Jackson, "that we sometimes find we've sold a painting twice."

Mrs. Jackson cited three major reasons for the collection fever infecting a cross section of the country from the young marrieds to the wealthy business executive.

"Popular publications are

"And, there comes a time when we must satisfy our aesthetic needs . . . People have been able to buy the cars and television sets, but find they need to be interested in something beyond the mechanical and material. The novelty has worn off the new dishwasher."

All of which is a healthy trend, Mrs. Jackson finds. "Shopping for art trains your taste in all walks of life," she said in an interview. "You will buy better looking clothes . . . select an architect for a more beautiful home."

FOR THE CHILDREN

"I think every home should have some original work or works for the children's sake," she continued. "Children brought up on art turn out to be better people."

Her advice to the beginning

collector: "Don't select a painting strictly because you like it. It may be a pretty scene, and still not be worth anything as art," she said.

Do comb the reliable galleries, whose experts already have weeded out the bad. And don't worry about whether the painting fits the living room decor. "The true collector pays no attention to where the picture will be hung," she said. "I once saw a Gauguin hanging in a bathroom."

Degenerates Here, There, Everywhere

Warn Your Child, Cries the FBI

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK (UPI)—"It seems unbelievable," said a neighbor of a 4-year-old Edith (Googie) Kierke, "that on a day when nobody was working he could have walked down the street and in there with her and nobody notice."

Police on Sunday found the battered, sexually assaulted body of the blonde tot in a rooming house on Manhattan's West Side. She had disappeared on Washington's Birthday from "the sidewalk in front of her home."

Such crimes seem, at the neighbor, Mrs. Beatrice Bicke, had said, "unbelievable."

Yet they happen—and the black headlines tell the grim story of the children who are what New York's Police Commissioner Michael J. Murphy calls victims of the "vicious degenerate."

J. Edgar Hoover, director of the FBI, calls these criminals "human vultures." And their threat "hangs over every community in our land," says Hoover, in a recent publication called "The Menace of the Child Molesters."

At what rate they commit their heinous acts, federal authorities can only guess, for police departments use varying labels to book these criminals.

Police authorities believe this type of crime will be reduced or wiped out only as parents and school authorities educate their children sufficiently to the dangers of association with strangers.

The FBI began one such campaign four years ago with coloring books, distributed through elementary schools. The sketches taught the lesson of turning down rides by strangers, of refusing gifts such as candy, of the need to be home after dark unless with some member of the family. The FBI said more than three million of the books had been distributed.

New York City's Police Department has a section on child safety in its "Pamphlet for Women," a publication of the public information office.

Called "Children Need Protection," its message cannot be repeated too often to parents nor drilled too thoroughly into children.

"Remember, these things can happen to anyone," said Sgt. John Collins of the police department. Collins, who has three youngsters ages 16, 11 and 8, said "safety begins at home."

The publication's message: —Know the length of time it takes your child to walk to and from school and check if there is any delay in his or her arrival or return.

—Know the safest route to school, show it to the child, and instruct him to use it.

—If a child is to arrive home after dark, arrange to meet him.

—Know your child's playmates.

—Instruct the child to report suspicious persons or attempts of unknown persons to approach him or to get acquainted.

—Don't let the child accept rides or gifts unless you know the adult who offers.

—Train your child to report to you anywhere he is going.

—Visit the school and become acquainted with the teachers and other school officials, and report to them if you see, or your child sees, any suspicious character hanging around.

Gets Irked by Paper at Table

By The Emily Post Institute
Q: Isn't it bad manners to read a newspaper at table, especially when dining out in a restaurant? My husband does this quite frequently and thinks it is perfectly all right so long as there are no guests present.

I think he is being very discourteous to me. Will you please settle this question?

A: If he were alone at the table he could read his newspaper to his heart's content, but certainly not when you or anyone else is with him.

Q: I have been invited to a silver wedding anniversary party and intend to send a present.

I would like to know if it is necessary to send something that both can use, or would it be proper to send something for the wife's own personal use?

A: It is preferable to give them something for their house that both can use, but it is not improper to send something for the wife's own use.

Q: When a man telephones a young woman at her house and she is not at home, is it proper to leave a message for her to call him when she comes in, or should he call her again?

A: He can leave a message for her to call him if he needs a definite answer to something right away; otherwise he should say that he will call her again and ask when she is expected.

Q: Because of my husband's job we moved into a completely strange town about five months ago. Since that time, not even one neighbor has been over to visit us. I am terribly lonesome as we are several hundred miles from home and I don't know a soul here.

Would it be permissible for me to take the initiative and go and visit some of the neighbors, or might they consider me forward?

A: It will really will not be proper for you to visit some neighbors until they have called on you, or asked you to come to see them. You might get to know them by joining a church, working for charities or by taking part in other activities in which they are interested.

Let 'Em Be, Says Abby:

His Need Is HER Need

By ANNEGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a son, age 24, who is still bumming a living off his mother, who is 92?

This poor old woman gets a little income from a rooming house. She has worked hard all her life. Her 74-year-old "baby" hasn't done a lick of work in 40 years, but he is her only child and can do no wrong in her eyes.

We are trying to get her to put a little something away in case she gets too old to work, but she can't do it with a lazy son living off her. How can we get her to throw him out?

SHIRTTAIL RELATIVE

DEAR SHIRTTAIL: You can't, so don't try. True, he is a lazy, shiftless, free-loading lout, but he needs someone to work for him, and apparently his mother needs someone to work for. Maybe that's the reason she's still going strong at 92!

DEAR ABBY: A buddy of mine asked me to take out his sister. So I did. She is a very plain girl who is built straight up and down and is nothing to look at. She has a very quiet personality—until you get her alone.

To make a long story short, she is the fastest thing I've ever dated. She made all sorts of advances to me and asked me to kiss her. She even told some jokes I would be ashamed to repeat.

My buddy (and he is a very nice guy) keeps hinting to me how much his sister liked me. I feel like a heel because I don't intend to take her out again. Does a guy tell his buddy the truth about his sister or does he keep his mouth shut?

"FEELS LIKE A HEEL"

DEAR "FEELS": He keeps his mouth shut. Just because a girl is built straight and narrow doesn't mean she behaves that way, but in this instance it's not your problem.

DEAR ABBY: My husband thinks that when a person says, "Come over sometime," it is a real invitation and he is all set to go. I say when someone calls up and asks you for a certain day and time, THAT is an invitation. Who is right?

It CAN Be Done

Pull Yourself Out of Trap

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN
I am giving a few days this week to men. God Bless them! Most of them work under pressure. The pace in business and many of the professions is not leisurely, and the competition is great.

About one-third of all of the prescriptions written are for tranquilizers. Men use them much more than women do.

Of course it is easier said than done—following the advice which the experts hand out to us.

BUT it is possible to change an attitude which destroys. This can be done if a person really wants to change or must do so in order to survive.

When a man has had a serious illness such as a heart attack or is coping with some condition which has serious potentialities, he conducts his life in such a way as to survive. The sad fact is that if he had done so before he was scared into it, his present trouble might never have occurred.

Men are under terrific pressure because of their feeling of responsibility for the welfare of their families.

They do not feel that they can indulge in the safety valve of tears and they do not have anyone to lean on because everyone else in the family is leaning on them. They must at all times be very much a man.

Once you know that you cannot afford to indulge in temper or worry, that you must learn to take things as they come and slough off what you cannot change, a whole new world of vibrant living opens up, and you will last a lot longer.

DEVELOP HOBBY

You are advised strongly to develop at least one hobby which is interesting and stimulating to you and which has nothing to do with your business.

You are advised to develop a sense of humor. You are not a candidate for a crackup if you have a sense of humor.

You are advised to adjust your dreams, activities and your ambitions to your physical and emotional capabilities. If a game of golf teases you up of that "trap."

If you are in a highly speculative career and do not have the temperament to make a change.

If overweight is endangering your life, why not lose those extra pounds? If you would like to have my Tubby Hubby Reducing Diet which gives you a loss of from seven to 12 pounds in 12 days' time, send 10 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for it to me in care of this newspaper.

Treat Spots Swiftly

(UPI) — Remove spots on walls as they appear. For pencil marks and light smudges on paper walls, use art gum. Crayon marks can be sponged lightly with cleaning fluid on a soft cloth.

Don't be "trapped" by the game of golf. If you get as tensed up as this character, find another interest. Once you know that you cannot afford to indulge in temper, a whole new world of living opens up, and you will last a lot longer.

Dull, Unhappy Son
Bred by Mismatch

By RUTH MILLETT

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Most interesting letter in this week's mailbag:
"My father is a rip-roaring, brilliant business executive who is crushing me because I am unable to follow his royal footsteps through his tough college major and into his business world, which is rough even for an old salt like him."

"He was a successful young person who married a 'pretty bit of stuff' because her childlike glee relaxed and entertained him. Her innocent, little girl chatter appealed to his pascuninity. They have gotten along without arguments because she can't best him in an argument and so always 'yeses' him."

"What my brilliant father apparently never dreamed of was that his son might get his brains from his mother instead of his father—which is exactly what happened."

But if I dared remind him of this he would floor all six feet of me for being disrespectful to my mother.

"I wouldn't be writing this to you if it were just my problem (being the disappointing son of an intelligent, successful father), but I can look around me and see that the same kind of thing is going to happen over and over."

IT'S FLATTERING

The most intelligent of my classmates at the university I am about to flunk out of date the dumbest girls because the chatter of these beautiful but dumb dolls makes them feel like intellectuals. When I point out what life would be like with a dumb wife they say:

Plan Ball to Benefit Children

Members of the Women's Division of the Greater Detroit Chapter of the Michigan Association for Emotionally Disturbed Children met yesterday to hear a panel discussion on mentally ill children, and announce plans for a fund-raising invitational ball.

Mrs. Roy A. Frushauf of Middle Belt Road, West Bloomfield Township, president, introduced the panel which was made up of Dr. William C. Morse, professor of Educational Psychology at the University of Michigan; Dr. Ralph Rabinovitch, Director of Hawthorn Center, at Northville; Dr. Stewart Finch, director of Children's Psychiatric Hospital, University of Michigan; and Dr. Douglas A. Sargent, psychiatric director, Clinic for Child Study, Wayne County Juvenile Court.

Members of the women's division will raise funds by selling ads in a program for the Carousel Ball to be held June 3 at the Sheraton Cadillac Hotel. To be featured are Guy Lombardo, his band, Sam Levenson and Allan Jones.

William J. Scripps of Begonia Drive, Bloomfield Hills, is chairman of the project evaluation committee.

Rushing spring, these Waterford-Clarkston Business and Professional Women wear tissue posies to lacy branches. Preparing the decorations for Monday's benefit style show and card party are (from left) finance chairman Mrs. Basil Thompson of Thirza Court, arrangements chairman Mrs. E. J. Lally of Balmoral Terrace, president Mrs. Edmund Windeler of Hatchery Road and treasurer Mrs. Lottie Hamm of Clarkston.

Models Will Parade Fresh Spring Finery

"June" will be literally "bustling out all over" as more than 80 models parade in spring finery at the Waterford-Clarkston Business and Professional Women's club's annual fashion show-card party Monday at the Waterford Community Center.

At 7:30 p.m., a dessert will be served with coffee, tea or milk. The club plans an accommodating more than 400 people, whose contributions to the affair will be added to the BPW's scholarship fund.

The "Introduction to Spring" parade will begin at 8 p.m. as men, women and children display the latest, most elegant and practical attire. The models will move quickly around the tables for close viewing by the guests.

Full-skirted morning, afternoon and evening dresses will be worn over crisp crinolines; petticoats; complete ensembles from top to toe in various colors will be seen weaving through the audience, and "big people's" clothes will be modeled by the tiny tots.

Hair styles, conventional and high-style, will be modeled by some of the prettiest matrons in Waterford Township. Eleven beauticians in the township have cre-

St. Patrick's Day Fashion Show Set

Mrs. Gordon Cox of Mark Avenue was hostess for the February meeting of the Marbach Group of First Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. George Beauchamp and Mrs. Dale Waters were cohostesses. Mrs. Donald McCandless gave the Bible study.

The Marbach and November Groups will present the annual St. Patrick's Day fashion show of the church.

Mrs. Craper Partridge, chairman of the Marbach committee, has appointed her assistants: Mrs. Robert Irwin, models; Mrs. William Belaney, tickets; Mrs. John McGrath, refreshments; and Mrs. Edwin Ojay, kitchen.

The March meeting will be with Mrs. Richard Kieft of Wenonah Drive.

Books Are Topic

"Wisdom Through Books" was the program topic for Chapter CL of the FEO Sisterhood at a meeting Monday in the Chipewa Road home of Mrs. Victor M. Lindquist. Mrs. Carmi J. Odell and Mrs. George H. Putnam participated in the discussion.

Mrs. John F. Williams assisted the hostess.

Mrs. Maynard Easley was a guest of the group.

Alpha Sigma Nu Sorority members met Tuesday at the Garland Avenue home of Mrs. Albert E. Kohn.

Guest for the evening was Lorna Mackellar, librarian at Eastern Junior High School, who reviewed Marguerite Coleman's "Ninety Dozen Glasses," relating the author's experiences and observations while in Brussels as wife of the United States commissioner during the last World's Fair.

Following the review, Clara-belle Amidon, president, read a letter of appreciation from Mrs. Elizabeth Kirby, executive secretary of Oakland County Society for Crippled Children, for a "tiny tot" wheel chair recently donated by the sorority.

Mrs. Frank Jagunich, welcomed as a new member, was presented a corsage of violets and pink Sweetheart roses.

Elena Bajart was entertainment committee chairman, assisted by Mrs. Ivan Senters, Mrs. Georgia Kennedy, Mrs. T. P. Robertson and Mrs. H. L. MacLaughlin. Mrs. Elra Amidon served refreshments.

Workshop Planned for Extension Club

A workshop on "Family" for members of the Interlakes Extension Club is slated for Wednesday at the home of Mrs. George Quine on Merry Road, Waterford Township.

Mrs. William Hurlburt gave the market report and lesson on wardrobe planning at last week's workshop. Mrs. Charles F. Allen of Watkins Lake Road was hostess.

New member Mrs. George Rupert was welcomed. Mrs. Francis Lohff and Mrs. Marie Hart were guests.

Waterford Twp. PTAs Will Meet

STRINGHAM

Two foreign exchange students, Heidrun Vogelburg, Waterford Township High School student from Germany, and Hedy Knipten, a Netherlands student at Avondale High School, will be guests at the Stringham School PTA meeting at 8 p.m. Thursday.

Refreshments will be furnished by the kindergarten mothers with Mrs. Gordon Low and Mrs. David Bickerstaff as hostesses.

DELLA LUTES

Beginning at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, members of the Della Lutes PTA will hear a musical program presented by the Waterford Township Boys Chorus directed by Mary Phipps.

Following the program, there will be an election of officers. Refreshments will be served by home room mothers of second graders.

WILLIAMS LAKE

Travelogue slides and narration will be presented by Mrs. Melvin Taig, a McVittie School teacher, when the Williams Lake PTA meets at 7:30 p.m. Thursday.

Mrs. Taig, who has taken two trips to Alaska, will show slides of our 49th state.

There also will be a bake sale. The nominating committee will present the slate for next month's election and refreshments will be served by home room mothers of second graders.

U. of M. Women Hear Foreign Students Talk

Mrs. Robert Heitsch of West Troquois Road was hostess to the Pontiac University of Michigan Alumnae Club Tuesday evening.

Two American Field Service students, Russi Maki of Indonesia and Graziella Massi of Rome, spoke of their homelands and gave their impressions of life in America.

Mrs. Norris Host of Birmingham, chairman of the University of Michigan Alumnae Council at Ann Arbor, also was present. She summarized a project that would contact 58,000 alumnae of the university.

Hostesses were Mrs. Charles Harrison, Mrs. Francis Larkin, Mrs. Harry Richards, Dr. Caryl Kulsavage and Julia Datzell.

Elks Is Scene of Bridge Play

The Pontiac Duplicate Bridge Club's monthly masterpiece game was at Elks Temple Monday evening.

Among the winners were Dr. Charles Patrick and Richard McCarius, Al Wallace and Joseph Nouse, Allen Rososky and Donald Stephenson and Mrs. Jerome Fanner and Judith Lauritzen.

Others were Mr. and Mrs. Ericson Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. William Coddington, Mrs. Harrison Specht and Earl Waterman, Mrs. Ernest Guy and Stanley Conn, Melvin Small and Henry Georgia.

WINTER DRY SKIN

Steam heat, raw winds and frequent temperature changes all take their toll on our skin in winter.

Constant care is a must. Use cold cream for removing make-up more frequently than soap and water. Add bath oil to your daily bath and an over-all rub-down with pleasant scented body lotion when you step out of the tub or shower. Head-to-toe protection is essential, with extra attention to hands and face.

Members of the Maple Leaf Club attended a luncheon meeting Friday at the Hotel Waldron, with Mrs. Harold McDowell, Mrs. Dale Moats and Mrs. Lawrence Terrien serving as hostesses.

New member Mrs. H. N. Wellhoff of Drayton Woods and Mrs. William Hooper, a guest, were welcomed.

The Pontiac Centennial film will be shown following the March 31 luncheon at the Hotel Waldron. Mrs. Erwin Rogge will be guest day chairman assisted by Mrs. Everett Harris and Mrs. Lawrence Taylor.

Most important agricultural products of India are rice, corn, millet, barley, tea, coffee, cane sugar, cotton, linseed and some rubber goods.

Sisters Present Check to Temple

The Past Chiefs of Mizpah Temple No. 7, Pythian Sisters, were guests of Mrs. Carl Erickson on Lakewood Drive, Drayton Plains, Thursday evening.

The club presented a check to the temple for the purchase of new carpets for officers.

Work was resumed on the new roster to be presented to the sisterhood.

Square Dancers Set Gathering

The Wagon Wheeler Square Dance Club will meet Thursday from 8 to 1:45 p.m. at the Waterford Community Center on Williams Lake Road.

The Clifford Godfrey will be hosts for the evening. Mel Sheffer will call the numbers and Mrs. Sheffer will assist in teaching new numbers.

450 at Reception, Buffet-Dance

Karren Cummings Wed

White satin bows marked family pews in Christ Lutheran Church, Waterford, for the Saturday vows of Karren E. Cummings to Gerald D. McCallum.

The Rev. Arvid Anderson performed the candlelight ceremony before the altar banked with white chrysanthemums, gladioli and carnations.

Mr. and Mrs. Rex E. Cummings of Fiddle Street, Waterford Township, parents of the bride, were hosts at a reception and buffet supper dance for 450 guests at Waterford Community Center.

Fashioned of all-over embroidered nylon lace, the bride's gown featured a hooded-dout skirt of pleated nylon ruffles beneath a lace overskirt and chapel train.

The pointed bodice styled with wrist-puff sleeves was embroidered with seed pearls and iridescent sequins.

Finger-tip silk illusion veiling was caught by a crown of sequins and pearls. A white orchid centered the cascade bouquet of white roses.

The bride's cousins Sandra Cummings of Royal Oak and Dorothy Mann of Lansing served as bridesmaids with Sharon Fauble and Helen Dichel.

Candy pink velveteen jackets, cummerbunds and gauntlets complemented their dresses of frosty pink silk organza. They wore caplets of pearls and candy pink illusion and carried circular bouquets of white carnations centered with pink roses.

Kathleen D. Cummings, her sister's honor attendant, wore a white velveteen jacket and frosty pink organza dress. Her circular bouquet of pink carnations was centered with white carnations.

The bride's cousin Laurie Larsen of Northbrook, Ill., wearing floor-length white chiffon with hoop skirt embroidered with pink lace roses, had white gauntlets and a wreath of pink roses. She carried rose petals in a pink ribbon basket. Michael Doyle of Crescent Lake was ring bearer.

MRS. GERALD D. McCALLUM

Robert McCallum stood as best man for his brother. They are the sons of the Howard McCallums of Lyford Street, Waterford Township. Seating guests were Gary Cummings, Robert Ham and Duane Willett.

After a brief honeymoon, the couple will live on Hickory Lane, Crescent Lake.

Church Unit Hears Review of Book

Guest speaker at Monday's meeting of the Sylvan Lake Lutheran Church Women was Mrs. Russell Curtis who reviewed Dr. Peter Marshall's book "The First Easter."

Mrs. Elmer McLennan offered devotions. Hostesses were Mrs. Terry Fraser, Mrs. Clinton Nicholl and Mrs. Howard Clayton.

Members completed plans for a muffin and daughter's banquet April 24. Committee chairmen for the event are Mrs. Paul Kilar, tickets; Mrs. Ralph McAvoy, programs; and Mrs. Max Shane, table decorations.

Symphony Honors Local Talent

By A. MICHAEL DEMSEY

The Pontiac Symphony Orchestra presented the fourth concert of the current season Tuesday evening in the Pontiac Northern High School auditorium.

In programming this concert, conductor Francisco Di Biasi made use of local talent in solo roles and the audience was rewarded with several fine performances. The opening number, the stirring "Trumpet Voluntary" by the 17th century English composer Henry Purcell, was played with vigor and a full, ringing tone by the orchestra's first trumpet player Jack Coleman.

The program continued with the playing of the "Suite in A Minor for Flute and String Orchestra" by the 18th century composer G. F. Teleman.

The soloist was the Pontiac Symphony's solo flutist, A. Roger Welton. Mr. Welton played with flawless technique, a rich resonant tone, and above all, excellent musicianship.

Concluding the first half of the concert was the Tchaikovsky "Serenade for Strings." The melodies poured forth in best romantic fashion as associate conductor Celia Merrill Turner asked for and received a most mature and vibrant tone from the string section.

The most interesting selection of the evening orchestra was the "Firebird Suite" by Stravinsky. The orchestra captured the mood of this composition in every respect.

The dramatic, hypnotic repetition and weird woodland melodies of the "Berceuse," which were played with perfect intonation, gave way smoothly to the sheer brilliance and power of the "Finale." The "Firebird Suite" was, in the opinion of many observers, one of the highlights of the current season.

To close the program, Lake Orion pianist Jerry Exline and the orchestra played "Rhapsody in Blue" by George Gershwin.

President Accepts for Stunt Dinner

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy has accepted an invitation to attend the Women's National Press Club annual dinner and stunt party on June 3.

White House Press Secretary Pierre J. Salinger said he did not know whether Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy would accompany the President.

Entertains 16

Mrs. Mary Sutherland recently entertained 16 members of the Pontiac Mother Singers in her home on Cleary Road, Drayton Plains. Mrs. Milton Reddeman was cohostess.

Committees were appointed for the proposed group outing in May.

The group will have co-operative dinner March 21 at the home of Mrs. Wayne Maguire of Megis Street, Drayton Plains.

Couple Wed Before 300

The Apostolic Church of The Lord Jesus Christ was the setting for the Saturday marriage of Deleane A. Fields to Bennie L. Vincent. The Rev. William Parent performed the candlelight ceremony before an arch of white gladioli in the presence of some 300 guests.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Fields of Oxford Road. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Elma Vincent of Judson Street and Bennie L. Vincent of Graham, Ky.

A full-length veil of silk illusion held by a crown of pearls and emeralds, complemented the bridal gown of white Chantilly lace over satin. The bouffant bell-shaped skirt was styled of ruffled tiers. Red roses centered the bride's cascade bouquet of white roses.

Mrs. Charles Fandale of Rochester attended her sister as matron of honor, wearing floor-length lime nylon silk organza over Kelly green tulle.

Wearing identical gowns were bridesmaids Ruth Ann Hills, Sharon Ring of Royal Oak, Geraldine Fields, sister of the bride, and Freda Porter of Lincoln Park. Bennie Hills was flower girl. All attendants carried cascades of yellow carnations, centered with a white carnation corsage.

On the escort side were Bruce Narrin, best man and ushers: Max Justice, Gary Barrett, James Stott, and Leonard Gay of Clawson. Charles Fandale Jr. carried the rings.

After a honeymoon in Kentucky, the couple will be at home on Russell Street.

MRS. BENNIE L. VINCENT

For her daughter's wedding and church reception, Mrs. Fields chose Chanel blue Chantilly lace over tulle, matching hat and white accessories. The mother of the bridegroom was attired in beige Chantilly lace over tulle. Both mothers wore red roses.

Clubs Join for a Tea

Pontiac Republican Women's Club joined the Republican Women of Waterford Township for a joint meeting at Adah Shelly Library Monday.

Charles R. Bedwell, Republican candidate for Michigan State highway commissioner, spoke to the group about Michigan's highway conditions. Mrs. Charles Campbell of the Waterford group presented the guest speaker whose talk was followed by a question and answer session.

The Waterford women were informed of their unit's annual card party March 21 at 7:30 p.m. in Waterford's Community Activities Building. Mrs. Byron Cole is ticket chairman.

Tea was served by Mrs. J.L. Slaybaugh, Mrs. Harry Brown, Mrs. Lulu Luby, Mrs. C. M. Pelican and Mrs. Nelson Hunter.

Topic: Expressway

"Expressway Driving Problem" will be the topic of Joseph Zabelski, Automobile Club of Michigan safety consultant, when he addresses the Pontiac Women's Club Thursday. Members will meet at noon in Hotel Waldron.

Mr. Zabelski will show a film "Freeway Driving is Different."

Consider Re-Establishing Unemployment Arbitrators

Re-establishment of the 1958 unemployment arbitration committee was being considered by the City Commission today.

The move was proposed at the commission meeting last night by Harold A. Grant, former president.

No Recovery in Sight Yet

Kennedy Says There Isn't Evidence Now of Economic Upturn

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy said today there is not sufficient evidence at hand to indicate an upturn has taken place in the economy.

A reporter said Kennedy, at his news conference that some economists have voiced the opinion that "perhaps the recession has reached a rock bottom and that perhaps the economy is on an upturn."

The President replied that he hopes an upturn does take place. But he said the Department of Commerce is releasing statistics "that do not indicate that an upturn is taking place as yet."

Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges recently predicted a rise in the economy within the next 60 days.

Kennedy said there still are many hundreds of thousands of Americans dependent upon unemployment compensation and several millions who can't find work.

"Members of Congress and others with whom I have talked report from various sections of the country that they still face a most serious situation," Kennedy said.

"I think it would be premature to make a judgment that our economy is on the rise, and, therefore, that there is no necessity for action. I don't take that view at all."

In view of this situation, Kennedy said, he thinks all of the antirecession programs he has recommended to Congress are needed.

Pontiac Girl Involved in Vandalism at MSU

A 20-year-old student from Pontiac is one of two Michigan State University coeds charged today with malicious destruction of property for defacing a wall and doing other damage in the lobby of a women's dormitory on the East Lansing campus.

The city's public safety director, Richard O. Bennett, identified the coeds as Mary Alice Williams, of 18 Esther St. and Arlene B. Bradford of Grambling, La., also 20 years old.

Bennett said they did about $300 damage in the lobby of Phillips Hall by scribbling with ink on the walls, plaster, paneling and lamp shades and pouring ink on a rug. They will be arraigned on the charge, a felony, today in Lansing Township Court. A third girl is being sought, Bennett said.

Orchard Lake Ave. Fire Causes $400 Damage

Fire at the home of Marjorie Muckler, 63 Orchard Lake Ave., yesterday afternoon caused damage estimated by firemen at $400.

Troy Approves Consolidated Rubbish Pickup

BY DON FERMOYLE

TROY — An agreement which would provide 12 South Oakland County communities with rubbish disposal facilities for the next 30 years has been approved by a close vote of the Troy City Commission.

Troy is the first city to sign the 35-year contract with the Southeastern Oakland County Garbage and Rubbish Authority.

However, Troy's new contract will not become effective until all of its 11 neighboring municipalities agree to the same pact. All but one of the communities involved — Madison Heights — have approved articles of incorporation for the new authority.

The decision for Troy to enter the agreement came after much discussion by members of its City Commission. It was finally approved by a 4-3 vote.

Favoring the move were Mayor Robert J. Huber and Commissioners Roy L. Duncan, Wallace B. Hudson and Vincent J. McAvoy. Voting against it were Commissioners Stanley Smith, Louis Yanich and Clifford Sutermeister Jr.

Sutermeister and Yanich argued that rubbish disposal could be handled at less cost by contractors, who would be allowed to pick up garbage and trash and dispose of it through land fill methods.

Under the new contract, rubbish picked up in municipalities belonging to the authority could be disposed of only at its incinerator in Madison Heights.

However, their opponents on the commission stated that landfill methods of disposal would be impractical in years to come when contractors would be forced to go further to dispose of the refuse in this manner.

MORE PRACTICAL

City Manager David E. Firestone said disposing of the rubbish at the authority's incinerator would be more practical for Troy when the city's population expanded.

If all potential members agree to the new contract, the authority plans to expand its incinerator to meet future population needs of the area.

Members of the authority as it is now set include Birmingham, City of Oak Park, Ferndale, Berkley, Clawson, Lathrup Village, Huntington Woods, 1866 Park, Pleasant Ridge, Royal Oak Township, Madison Heights and Troy.

In another move aimed at improving rubbish disposal service, Troy commissioners voted to advertise bids for a single contractor to pick up garbage and trash throughout the entire city.

Rubbish now is picked up by six different contractors.

Panel to Discuss Halting Problems of Juveniles

WALLED LAKE — The prevention of juvenile problems will be the theme of a panel discussion tomorrow at the 8 p.m. public meeting of the Wallied Lake Junior High School Parent-Teacher Association.

Making up the four-member panel will be James W. Hunt, director of the Oakland County Juvenile Court; James VanLaugan, assistant director; Gene Schlegel, Wallied Lake Justice of the Peace; and Donald Mulligan, attendance officer of the Wallied Lake School system.

The men also will report on the services available in the area to assist preventing juvenile delinquency.

The program is being presented in conjunction with the Wallied Lake Area Youth Protection Committee, and in co-operation with the Wallied Lake PTA Council.

Prior to the panel discussion, new officers for the 1961-62 school year will be elected.

Sisters Engaged

DEANNA GRZEGOREK

GERALDINE GRZEGOREK

Mr. and Mrs. Zemer S. Grzegorek of 1020 Elizabeth Lake Road, White Lake Township, announce the engagements of their daughter, Deanna and Geraldine.

Deanna is betrothed to Robert Brunsink, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Brunsink of Detroit. No wedding date has been set.

Geraldine's fiancé is Russell F. Hynes III, son of Mr. Russell F. Hynes Jr. of 180 Tower Road, White Lake Township. An April 15 wedding is planned.

School Board to Meet Building Review Set

The Huron Valley Board of Education and the Citizens' Advisory Committee will meet jointly Saturday to review recommendations and plans for the proposed school building program.

The meeting will be held in the Millard High School cafeteria from 2 to 5 p.m.

The school board has called the meeting to study the proposals made by the citizens' group, develop preliminary specifications, incorporate additional recommendations and approve the program for presentation to the voters in the district.

The citizens' committee last month presented a building program to the school board for the next 10 years.

It was estimated at that time the entire program would total $8 million, including operation cost. The Business Unit Plans Election of Officers

UNION LAKE — All business and professional people in the area will be invited to a meeting here March 9 for election of officers of the Union Lake Business Men's Association.

The meeting will be held at 8 p.m. at Eastern Cleaners, 935 Cooley Lake Road.

James McKibben, acting chairman of the reorganizing group, said that at the last meeting a nominating committee comprised of past presidents presented a slate of four officers and five board members.

Written nominations may be submitted at the election, the chairman said.

Smart Junior PTA Plans Open Meeting

WALLED LAKE — A film illustrating artificial respiration by the mouth-to-mouth breathing method will be shown tomorrow at an 8 p.m. public meeting of the Smart Junior High School Parent-Teacher Association.

PTA officers for the year also will be elected at the meeting. A three-member nominating committee will present a slate of officers to be voted on, together with any nominations from the floor.

The meeting will be opened with a prayer by the Rev. L. A. Kline of St. Matthew Lutheran Church. The invocation will be followed by a musical program presented by the Boy's Chorus of the school.

Request Brings Recount in Royal Oak Twp. Race

ROYAL OAK TOWNSHIP — Votes cast in the race for Royal Oak Township clerk in the Feb. 20 primary election were scheduled to be recounted here today.

The recount was requested by Mrs. Mattie L. Baker, who charges that there were errors in identification of voters and in the totals taken from the township's voting machines.

Earlier results of the primary election gave incumbent Township Clerk Mrs. Artie Gray a total of 380 votes to 360 for Mrs. Baker. Both were running on the Democratic ticket.

Curriculum to Be Topic

TROY — A question-and-answer discussion concerning the school program and curriculum will be held at the 8 p.m. meeting of the Colerain Parent-Teacher Association-March 8 in the multipurpose room of the school, 490 John R. Road.

Music Units to Vie for District Ratings

Thirty-three musical groups from area junior and senior high schools will converge on Oak Park High School Saturday for the second phase of District Four's Band and Orchestra Festival.

Taking part in the competition for division ratings will be junior high bands and orchestras and high school orchestras.

Despite the inclement weather last Saturday, thirty-eight Class AA, A, B and C senior high bands, along with 19 Class B junior high bands, performed at Utica.

High school bands winning first division ratings at Utica were Troy, Milford, East Detroit, Ferndale, Royal Oak, Dondora, Birmingham, Southfield, Roseville, Northville, Clawson and South Lyon.

Junior high bands winning first division ratings at Utica were Class AA, A and C.

Others will be junior high bands in Class AA, A and C.

Section Three (Junior High Bands)

- 1:00 Class (Hawthorn)
- 1:15 Baker (Troy)
- 1:30 Lincoln (Ferndale)
- 1:45 South (Center Line)
- 2:00 Barron (Birmingham)

The money will pay for construction of a sanitary sewer and line throughout the city. Construction started last week.

The bond issue will cost residents about $1.50 for each $1,000 of assessed valuation. A $250,000 bond issue will be decided by voters April 3 for a storm sewer system and a clean-out program of the Evans Ditch.

When completed both programs will give Lathrup a separated sewer system which will meet with a court order now pending to have both sanitary and storm systems in operation by June 1, 1962.

Clarkston Women to Swing Into Spring

CLARKSTON — An air of springtime will prevail at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the ballroom floor of the Independence Township as the annual spring fashion show-card party gets underway.

Both men and women have been invited to the affair, sponsored by the Clarkston Women's Club, which will feature fashions from Peggy's Women's Apparel Shop at Miracle Mile.

Sports, early morning, afternoon and evening clothes will be modeled and many new travel styles will be shown according to Cochairmen Mrs. Alfred S. Hamilton and Mrs. R. W. Duncan.

After the fashion show, card tables will be set with a favor at each place, and groups may play the game of their choice.

All proceeds from the event will be contributed to the Michigan State University Oakland Scholarship Fund.

Auto-Buying Lag Keeps Sales Tax From Big Gain

LANSING (U-P) — Michigan's sales tax collections should have jumped one-third last month, but they didn't. A drop in auto sales is the main reason.

Sales and use tax revenue on business in January, the first month of collections at the 4 percent rate, jumped to $31,287,502. In January 1960, they totaled $28,294,051.

At the 4 percent rate, however, collections a year ago would have amounted to $35,045,890.

"In other words, we are $3,753,000 short of maintaining last year's level of business," said Clarence W. Lock, state revenue commissioner.

Lock estimated about $2,025,000 of the loss was represented by a drop in automotive sales. The drop amounted to about 10.7 percent, he said.

Rubber consumption in the U.S. amounts to about 30 pounds per person each year which is far more than the world average of about one pound per person each year.

Says Faulty Vehicles Cost Army Millions

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Faulty tanks and other military vehicles have wasted millions of dollars and impaired the Army's combat capability, according to Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo.

The former Air Force secretary said Tuesday that studies of about 15,000 tanks and other units revealed that the Army sent on buying the equipment even after defects were discovered.

He said the worst trouble was experienced with about $1.3 billion worth of M48 and M48A1 medium tanks.

"At one location, 64 such vehicles were examined," he said. "These 64 had 1,311 performance failures, although used only 56 miles per vehicle month."

No, No Thorndyke

CHICAGO (UPI)—Thorndyke, a 14-month-old German shepherd, flunked out of canine corps training at the house of friends Tuesday when he made friends with the prisoners and growled at the guards.

Mackie Backs JFK on Roads; But Keeps Mum

FLINT (U-P) — State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie agrees with President Kennedy on highway construction but is withholding comment on a proposed truck tax.

The Democratic official, who is running for re-election April 3, declared Tuesday:

"I support President Kennedy's position that the highway program should not be stretched out or slowed down. The impact of highways on our economic growth—state and national—is far too important to permit any lessening of the program at this time."

Mackie said he would reserve comment on the President's proposal to increase the diesel tax and certain truck license fees "until the impact of this proposal on Michigan's trucking industry can be fully assessed."

Fire prevention authorities declare that it is a matter of statistical record that at least 90 percent of all fires in the U.S. could be prevented.

Bill Would Request Extension of Loan

LANSING (U-P) — A resolution asking the federal government to extend repayment time on loans for temporary unemployment benefits has been filed for introduction in the House.

The resolution, sponsored by Walter H. Nill, D-Muskegon, asks for an extension of some $190 million owed by Michigan to the federal government.

Nill said only $200 million, remains in the state's unemployment compensation fund to repay the loan and an advance. He said money is still going out faster than it is coming in.

The resolution succeeds one proposed last week asking the federal government to forgive the debt.

Teachers to Entertain Doctors

Something new in promoting better public relations between medical doctors and educators is being projected in Waterford Township.

More than 100 local physicians, their wives and friends will be guests of the Waterford Township school system at a 6:30 p.m. "lunch" Monday at the Pierce Junior High School.

Purpose of the get-together is for doctors to have a better understanding of how a school is operated, financially as well as physically, and for educators particularly those interested in science to better understand some of the problems encountered by doctors.

Spearheaded by Pontiac's Dr. Everett Gustafson, director of public relations for the Oakland County Medical Society, the plan got under way last year at about this time. Waterford Township educators were the first to participate in the program on a "trial run" basis.

Those teachers interested in viewing specific departments at Pontiac General Hospital were taken on tours by doctors specializing in particular fields, such as the X-ray department, laboratory, and surgical areas.

Educators were enthusiastic in learning of the many beneficial careers open to students in hospitals in addition to doctoring. After the meeting, schools from all over Oakland County sent requests to join the exchange program.

Cochairmen William G. Aebler, assistant Pierce School Principal, and Donald E. Maxwell, the school's biology teacher, have arranged an evening filled with entertaining aspects of how a school district, the size of Waterford's is run. Fifteen other teachers, representing the entire teaching staff, will assist.

The guests will be served cafeteria style—the same menu that Pierce students will have at noon Monday. This was planned without the knowledge of top determine what kind of food is served daily. Menus are set up one week in advance. Later, Mrs. McCoy will present a short talk on school lunches.

After Maxwell welcomes the guests, Superintendent of Schools William A. Stenck will talk on how a school district is financed. The group will then go to the gymnasium to hear a 15-minute concert by the Pierce band.

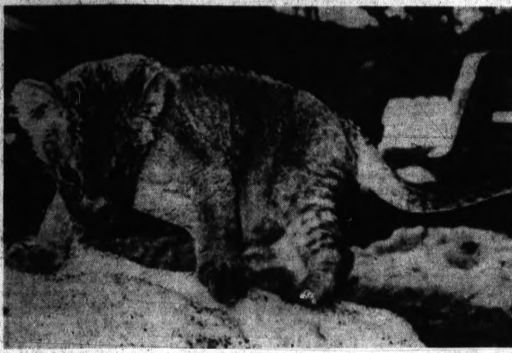

Following that, the assemblage will divide into six units. Each group will tour the building, hear talks on teaching foreign languages by John Makowski, on why schools are built the way they are by Aebler, on the modern concepts of teaching math by Robert Scriven, and on the scope of inservice training for teachers, by Dr. Chondos Reid.

At 9:30 p.m. there will be a coffee hour for those who wish to discuss the evening's activities.

Bendix Corp. President to Speak at MSU Today

EAST LANSING — The president of the Bendix Corp., Malcolm P. Ferguson, will be the eighth speaker in a series of addresses by business executives at Michigan State University today, spokesmen have announced.

Ferguson, who is also director of U.S. Rubber Co., Michigan Bell Telephone Co., the National Bank of Detroit and the Citizens Research Council of Michigan, will address students and faculty of the MSU graduate school of business administration.

FAKES ON BIG JOB — Six-week-old Jan, a lioness cub, has her hands full for such a little gal attempting to portray the spirit of March coming in as a lion in snowy St. Paul, Minn. But with dogged determination the tiny feline prepares to let out a roar at the Cume Park Zoo. Her "roar" will most likely turn out to his a squeaky note that no "winter-bounder" could object to.

State Committees Set for Tax Action

LANSING (UPI) — Progress on money matters in the State Legislature inched ahead today with taxation committees ready to tackle Gov. John B. Swainson's tax program and appropriations groups nearing the end of talks with state agency heads.

"We've got to sit down pretty soon and add up all the requests," said Senate Majority Leader Frank D. Beidle, R-St. Clair, a member of the appropriations committee in the upper chamber.

He said the numerous hearings, meetings and reports so far had dealt mostly with general familiarization with budget needs.

Health Commissioner Dr. Albert E. Heutis appeared before the committee Tuesday to ask for money to carry out programs aimed at better diagnosis of common ailments and modernization of records-keeping.

Helen Hayes Visits JFK and Is Quite Impressed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Actress Helen Hayes actively supported Richard M. Nixon for the presidency, but she's on President Kennedy's side now.

"We're eating our words with relief," the veteran stage and screen star said after visiting Kennedy at the White House Tuesday.

"I think he's doing a terribly good job," she said. "I don't spare ribs packed by Swift and think it will be as close an election next time."

TB Association Using the Mails

Sending Reminders to Those Who Gave in '60 in Effort to Hit Quota

The Tuberculosis Association of Oakland County is currently mailing reminders to some 21,500 county residents in an effort to reach its 75,000 quota in Christmas Seal sales.

As of today, sales have brought $69,465 to support this year's tuberculosis program in the county, some $5,335 short of the goal.

"This is quite a bit under the quota we had aimed for and $1,677 under the final total for last year's drive," said Ronald Clair, executive secretary.

The TB drive has one month to go. By March 31, 1960, Christmas Seal sales totaled $70,542.

"The reminders are mailed to persons who contributed last year but from whom we haven't heard so far this year," Clair explained.

The Christmas Seal sales are the sole support of the association's program in Oakland County. Donations go toward medical research and education. The association had hoped to intensify its program of X-ray and skin tests throughout the county this year.

Sues Over Spare Ribs

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UPI) — An Ohio woman, who claimed she developed epilepsy from eating spare ribs packed by Swift and Co., today filed suit against the firm, asking $250,000 damages.

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS:

This centennial year of 1961 marks the one hundredth anniversary of the founding of our city, which gala occasion will be duly observed in a grand celebration on June 17th through June 24th, and

WHEREAS:

Such outstanding festivity, which is now beginning, naturally invokes not only a profound spirit of historical commemoration, solemnity and general participation, but also an atmosphere of spontaneous jubilation and good fellowship, I hereby

PROCLAIM:

That, in memory of our forefathers and hardy pioneer forebears, our MALE CITIZENRY shall accordingly and in honoring emulation, grow facial adornment in the form of full beards, chin whiskers, moustaches, sideburns or any other such hairy appendages as the masculine fancy may suggest, to be effective (for those who have not already started) from this date forward until June twenty-four of this festive year and henceforth to hand themselves into the whisky confraternity to be known as

"Brothers Of The Brush"

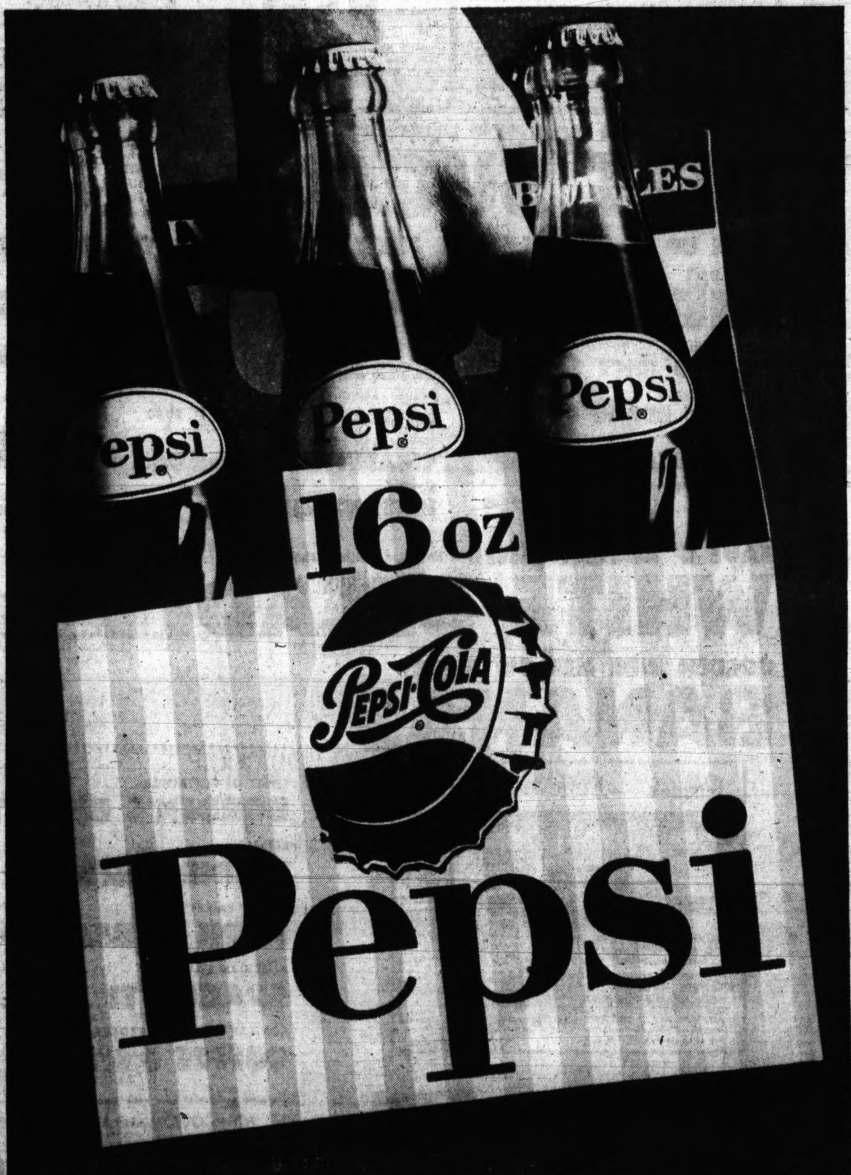

Members in good standing in this bearded brotherhood shall participate in such activities as will be organized to properly publicize our centennial celebration; by joining chapters of the "Brothers"; and by further promoting the fun by wearing the official headgear and regalia.

Such official membership certificates, "Brothers of the Brush" buttons, chapter charters, official centennial top hats, derbies and imprinted ties, along with complete information, are now available at centennial headquarters, new library building. Official hats and ties may also be secured through the agency of our most cooperative and civic-minded merchants who are aiding in the sale of this official merchandise on a purely volunteer basis without remuneration and whose names will appear elsewhere.

LET IT BE KNOWN, ALSO:

That those who, for perhaps various reasons, may desire to wear a bare face in public, there is now an official "Shaving Permit" button available at Centennial Headquarters at two dollars, which same will insure the wearer immunity from the punishment of "Ye Kan-garoo Court!" However, such button does not entitle the wearer to appear in public without his official Centennial hat or tie.

PHILIP E. ROWSTON,
Mayor of Pontiac

Two Fish Together Make Better Eating

You won't believe how much better fillet of sole tastes when rolled and stuffed with minced lobster, or how much more attractive baked cod becomes when topped with a row of tiny shrimps then brushed lavishly with fragrant Spanish olive oil. Or, fasten a fillet of flounder around a boned salmon steak and bake it in a savory olive oil-onion-and herb sauce.

The cost is only slightly more: one frozen lobster tail makes enough stuffing, combined with bread crumbs, for six fillets of sole. A quarter of a pound of shrimp added to cod changes a budget fish into a regal offering.

The use of olive oil in cooking fish makes a world of difference. In Spain, where most of the world's olive oil supply comes from, they sometimes simmer fish in olive oil instead of water. This is not the same as frying or sautéing, for the oil slowly "bubbles" and the fish cooks gently.

Another similar technique is to make a simple sauce of onions, olive oil and tomato and cook the fish in this—for, for a short cut, make the sauce by combining olive oil with canned tomato sauce and instant minced onion.

FILET LANGOSTA BOLLINO
(Lobster-Buttered Sole Fillets)
1 fillet of sole, fresh or frozen.
1 cup soft bread crumbs
1 egg white, beaten
1/2 cup minced Spanish olive oil
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup minced parsley
1/2 cup instant minced onion
Pinch of cayenne
Trim fillets evenly. Combine remaining ingredients, place spoonful over each fillet and roll up, placing in large sheet of heavy duty foil with overlapped side down.

Sauce
Sauté 1 small minced onion in 2 tablespoons Spanish olive oil, add 1 cup (1 or 2 can) tomato

Brush bottom of shallow casserole with half of olive oil. Lay minced potatoes and parley over bottom, place the cod on the minced vegetable. Arrange shelled shrimp over top of cod, sprinkle with salt. Brush remaining oil over top.

Combine remaining ingredients, pour over fish. Bake at 350 degrees for 30 minutes until fish flakes easily. Sprinkle minced fresh parsley over top just before serving. Makes 1 or 4 servings.

COD STEAK WITH SHRIMP SAUCE
1/2 lb. shelled small shrimp
1/2 lb. cod steak or fillet
1/2 cup Spanish olive oil
1/2 cup instant minced onion
1/2 cup dry white wine
Salt, cayenne pepper
1 tablespoon dried tarragon

Brush bottom of shallow casserole with half of olive oil. Lay minced potatoes and parley over bottom, place the cod on the minced vegetable. Arrange shelled shrimp over top of cod, sprinkle with salt. Brush remaining oil over top.

Combine remaining ingredients, pour over fish. Bake at 350 degrees for 30 minutes until fish flakes easily. Sprinkle minced fresh parsley over top just before serving. Makes 1 or 4 servings.

Salmon in Flounder Collars
Around each slice of fresh or frozen salmon, fasten a fillet of flounder, holding in place with poultry skewer, allowing one salmon slice per serving. Place in large sheet of heavy duty foil. Cover with following marinade (enough for 6 salmon steaks):

Blue Cheese Is Aid to Winter Fruit Salad
Juicy cling peach halves and blue cheese seem meant for each other. Ditto for peach halves and sour cream. Make a trio of the three, toss in some crushed pineapple, mayonnaise and maybe some mandarin oranges, and you've got a delicious fruit salad. "Regal Peach Salad" in fact. All ingredients, except the mandarin oranges, are blended, then mounded in peaches. Something special!

Regal Peach Salad
1 (1 lb. 12 oz.) case cling peach halves
1 cup commercial sour cream
1/2 cup mayonnaise
2 cups blue cheese, crumbled
(13-ounce) can crushed pineapple, well-drained

Nutmeg's the Spice
Ever add a pinch or two of nutmeg to mashed sweet potatoes? If you have a nutmeg grater or grinder, be sure to add the freshly-grated spice.

Youngsters love this: Rice pudding served with a cut-out of red jelly. If you have tiny cutters, small fry will get a thrill out of making the garnishes.

Social Workers to Attend Institute at Detroit Hotel

Sixteen members of the Social Service Department at Pontiac State Hospital will attend the 1961 Social Workers' Institute of the Michigan Department of Mental Health Thursday and Friday in Detroit.

The hospital staffers will be headed by Richard Arthaud, director of the social service department.

The institute is being held at the Hotel-Pick-Fort Shelby. Chairman of the 1961 Institute committee is Ethelbert Thomas Jr., director of social service at the Lapeere State Home and Training School.

Pontiac State Hospital staff employees attending will include William Graham, Mrs. Dorothy Gonsline, Douglas Everhart, Winona Chatterton, Mrs. Mildred Boyle and Mrs. Theima Bell.

Also among the local delegation are Berner Hansen, Leon Messinger, Grace Moore, Electa Schaefer, Mrs. Johanna Schetter, Leslie Stanny, John Taber, Lyle Webster and Edmund White.

Meany, Negro Argue Policy

Head of Sleeping Car Porters Says Integration in AFL Too Slow

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—A feud over racial bias in labor unions has flared again in the AFL-CIO high command.

The argument pitted George Meany, federation president, against A. Philip Randolph, Negro president of the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters.

The Meany-Randolph clash marked the concluding session Tuesday of the AFL-CIO Executive Council's winter meeting. The men have argued before on the same subject.

Meany maintained the AFL-CIO is making steady if slow progress toward eliminating union discrimination against Negroes. Randolph retorted that the AFL-CIO Negro members feel little is being accomplished and insist on drastic remedies.

Randolph, in effect, accused Meany himself of being too lackadaisical in efforts to end Negro job bias.

He remarked that Meany acted with more zeal in dealing with union corruption and in arranging the AFL-CIO merger.

There was one immediate effect, Charles Zimmerman resigns as director of the federation's Civil Rights Committee, which Randolph criticized as ineffective. Randolph demanded a Negro take over that post.

Randolph, only Negro member of the 29-man AFL-CIO council, proposed a series of sweeping steps to his colleagues. One called for expelling any AFL-CIO union that failed to abolish in six months all discriminations or segregation.

The Randolph proposals were put aside for study until the next council meeting in June. Instead, a new policy statement was adopted calling on all AFL-CIO unions to step up racial equality efforts and to establish civil rights units in each union.

Schools Getting Fourth Payment of State Aid

Oakland County's school districts are receiving state aid checks distributed last month by County Treasurer Charles A. Sparks.

The checks, totaling $2,799,414, represent the fourth payment of six in state aid for the 1960-61 school fiscal year, according to William J. Emerson, county school superintendent.

Because of the state's financial condition, the latest checks are for 75 per cent of the total payment, Emerson said.

For the county's special education program $10,381 was earmarked. The County Board of Education will receive $5,365.

A breakdown of the payment follows:

Birmingham $180,590; Berkley $145,311; Pontiac $120,631; West Park $125,850; Oak Park $115,000; Pontiac $294,861; Royal Oak $291,690; Southfield $199,312; Troy $453,812; Avon Township $4,131.

Clomfield Hills $44,330; Brandon $24,281; Clarkston $60,892; Clarkston $78,282; Clawson $40,891; Farmington $10,506; Holly $41,581; Huron Valley $77,312; Lake Orion $60,781; Lamphere $62,374; Lyon Township $45,342.

West $11,900; Oakridge $97,130; Rochester $61,640; Southfield $24,840; Westland $112,831; Waterford Township $40,000; West Bloomfield Township $12,000; White Lake Township $11,900; and Oakridge Township $10.

Eggs, Nuts and Beans Substitute for Meat

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

How are you doing with your Lenten meals? It's been only two weeks, so you shouldn't have exhausted your ideas for meat substitutes yet.

Fish fillets are plentiful and inexpensive right now as you probably have noticed. They're an excellent way of cutting the cost of the main part of a dinner.

By the way, I've still have some of those Fantasy of Foods cookbooks left over from the Cooking School. If you didn't get one, or need another one, stop in at the Press and ask for it. They contain some inexpensive meat recipes.

Today we're going to give you some special recipes for eggs, nuts and beans.

This first recipe calls for hard-cooked eggs. Please don't cook them too long, as you cook them. Start them in cold water to cover (add a teaspoon of salt to prevent any egg leaking out of a possible cracked shell) and bring rapidly to boiling point. Reduce heat and simmer for 10 minutes and cook 20 minutes. Transfer at once to cold water for cooling. Now prepare these bubbly hot stuffed eggs with melted cheese.

EGGS BECHAMEL

4 hard-cooked eggs
1/2 cup finely chopped onion
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1/2 cup flour
1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup grated cheese
1/2 cup shredded cheddar cheese

Shell eggs and cut into halves lengthwise. Remove yolks and mash. Cook onion in butter about 5 minutes. Stir in flour. Remove from heat and gradually add the milk. Add parsley and seasonings.

Q. What is the name of this cut of meat?

A. A pork smoked shoulder butt.

Q. Where does it come from and how is it identified?

A. It is the eye of the Boston butt from the pork shoulder. It is a cured and smoked boneless roll.

Q. How is it prepared?

A. By roasting or in liquid. For roasting, it is placed fat side up on a rack in an open roasting pan. A meat thermometer is inserted so the bulb reaches the center and does not rest in fat. Do not add water or cover the pan. Roast in a slow oven (300 degrees F.) until the thermometer registers 160 degrees. Allow 15 to 20 minutes per pound. To prepare in liquid, cover the meat with liquid and simmer for 1 1/2 to 2 hours.

Canned Peas Bolster Soup

You're probably familiar with eggs baked individually as a popular breakfast item. Baked eggs are more versatile though, putting in a handsome appearance at the supper hour with a Spanish touch.

This dish can be assembled quickly if you're caught with unexpected guests and is good to remember for the busiest days of the Lenten season, too. Eggs are an important part of a nutritious daily diet.

Eight to ten eggs can be baked together. The flavors and textures of onion, green peppers, bread crumbs and cheese impart interest. To keep the eggs moist and to add a subtle, sophisticated taste, beer is spooned over them before they go into the oven.

Baked Spanish Eggs

4 tablespoons onion, chopped
4 tablespoons green pepper, chopped
4 tablespoons butter or margarine
8 to 10 eggs
1/2 cup grated process American cheese
1/2 cup beer
1/2 cup bread crumbs

Saute onion and green pepper in butter until tender. Pour into shallow baking dish. Carefully break eggs into dish without breaking yolks. Mix bread crumbs with cheese and sprinkle over eggs. Spoon beer over eggs; sprinkle with paprika. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) until eggs are set as you like them, about 12 to 15 minutes. Yield: 4 to 5 servings.

Dipped Cake Cubes

For a quick dessert spoon cubes of angel food or sponge cake with a fork, dip into melted semi-sweet chocolate squares. Hold over the pan so that any extra chocolate can drop back, then roll cake in finely chopped nuts. Put cakes on tray or cookie sheet and chill until firm.

Cook gently, stirring as the sauce thickens.

Spread 1/2 cup of the sauce over the bottom of an 8x8-inch shallow baking dish. Combine 1/2 cup of the sauce with the mashed egg yolks and fill the egg whites with the mixture.

Place the stuffed eggs in the dish and cover with the remaining sauce. Sprinkle with cheese. Brown in a very hot oven (450 degrees) about 10 minutes. Serve hot on toasted buns, English muffins or toast. Serves 4.

Noodle Omelet

3 ounces noodles (about 2 1/2 cups broken)
4 eggs
Salt and pepper
Fat for frying

Cook noodles in boiling salted water. Drain and try in a small amount of fat until golden brown. Add 4 eggs lightly beaten and season with salt and pepper. Cook slowly until set and browned on bottom. Fold onto a hot platter. Serves 4.

Peas are high in food value and may be used in place of meat.

Here is an interesting peanut-recipe that just came in from the ring to serve with creamed dishes if you like. There's no reason, however, why you can't serve it as a three-layer main dish with a mushroom or a cheese sauce.

PEANUT RICE RING

4 cups hot cooked rice
2 cups minced peanuts, finely chopped
1 cup minced parsley or watercress
2 cups minced onion, coarsely chopped

Combine hot rice with finely chopped peanuts. Measure out 2 cups. To remaining rice mixture add minced parsley or watercress, stirring to blend thoroughly.

Pack half the green rice into a buttered ring mold or a deep pan. Add the 2 cups peanut-rice mixture. Fill pan with remaining green rice. Keep hot.

To serve, unmold onto a platter and fill with any desired creamed mixture. Or serve with a sauce. Decorate top of ring with hard-cooked egg slices, cut in half, and whole peanuts. Pass coarsely chopped peanuts as a sprinkling. Serves 8.

Legumes are peas, beans, lentils and peanuts. We're concerned only with the beans in this part of the article. Here are two brand new recipes that just came in from the Michigan Bean Shippers Association. Michigan is a big bean-producing state, you know.

COUNTRY BEAN LOAF

1 1/2 cups Michigan navy beans
1 medium onion
2 tablespoons fat, heated
1 cup soft bread crumbs
1 egg
Salt and pepper to taste

Simmer beans until tender in water to cover. Drain, reserving liquid. Mash beans slightly. Add all remaining ingredients and mix well, adding some of the bean liquid if necessary to moisten. Place in well greased casserole or loaf pan and bake in 350-degree oven about 30 minutes or until "set." Serve topped with tomato sauce. Approximately 6 servings.

KIDNEY BEAN TREAT

1/2 cup green pepper, chopped
2 tablespoons onion, minced
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1/2 cup kidney beans
1/2 cup tomato sauce
1/2 cup grated yellow cheese
Salt and pepper to taste

Saute pepper and onion in saucepan with butter or margarine until tender. Stir in all remaining ingredients. Heat thoroughly and serve on toast or sandwich buns. Approximately 6 servings.

Scallops Cacciatore Are Hearty Italian Dish

You don't have to be a magician in the kitchen to get interesting variety into Lenten meals. All it takes is a little imagination to pull some pretty exciting dishes out of the hat.

Take scallops, for instance, those deep-sea shellfish that give up their sweet shell muscles for the dinner table. Scallops can be adapted to practically any favorite family dish. If casseroles are popular in your house, scallops can be the foundation of a delicious one, combined with mushrooms and peas.

If low-calorie meals are in order, scallops broiled will come in for enthusiastic praise. Brush them with margarine or salad oil and a little lemon juice. Broil about 5 minutes.

If you've got lousy appetites to satisfy, or if tastes run to food with a Latin flavor, here's a classic Italian dish that takes on new glamour with the substitute of scallops.

Scallops Cacciatore

1 pound sea scallops, fresh or frozen
1/2 cup olive or salad oil
2 medium-size green peppers, sliced
2 small mushrooms, sliced
4 small onions, chopped
1/2 cup dry white wine
1 No. 3 can (1 1/2 cups) tomatoes
1/2 cup dry white wine

1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
Defrost scallops if frozen; cut in half crosswise; brown in frying pan in hot oil. Remove scallops. Add green peppers, mushrooms, onions and garlic to frying pan in which scallops were cooked; brown lightly; remove from frying pan, draining off any excess oil.
Heat tomatoes in large saucepan. Add vegetables, salt and pepper; bring to boil. Add scallops and wine. Thicken slightly, if desired, with a little flour or cornstarch blended with cold water. Serve over hot spaghetti. Makes 4 servings.

Sesame Seed and Dates Give Variety to Salad

Toast 1/4 cup sesame seeds in a moderate oven for 10 to 15 minutes or until lightly brown. Cool. Cut 1 cup pitted dates in half crosswise and toss with the sesame seeds. Combine with 1 (No. 2) can drained pineapple chunks. Serve on a bed of greens with mayonnaise thinned with a little of the syrup from the canned pineapple. Serves 6.

Dark Sweet Cherries Make Good Pies Too

"Who can bake a cherry pie, Billy Boy, Billy Boy?"
 "Who can bake a cherry pie, Charming Billy?"
 The words of that quaint little folk song come bubbling up through half-buried childhood memories this month when thoughts just naturally take a sentimental turn. Do you remember the answer?

Who can bake a cherry pie, Billy Boy? Billy Boy!
 Indeed she can — and you can too — with a new recipe for Filly Dark Cherry Pie! The main ingredients can all be modern convenience foods — a can of dark sweet cherries, already pitted; a package of gelatin; a prepared mix, if you wish, for the pie shell.

A pretty ruffle of whipped cream is fluffed around the edge, but prepared topping, applied right from the can, could be used instead.

A luscious variation of the traditional two-crust pie can be made with canned pitted dark sweet cherries flavored with lemon and cinnamon. In another new recipe, named pitted dark sweet cherries put glamour in top places; this is a creamy, creamy cheese pie.

Which one will you bake first?

1 9-inch baked pie shell
 1 1/2 cups (1 pound) pitted dark sweet cherries, drained
 1 cup sugar
 1 cup water
 1 cup heavy cream

Prepare gelatin according to package directions. Chill until slightly thickened. Pour half of gelatin into pie shell. Add cherries. Pour remaining gelatin over cherries. Chill until set. Whip cream; fold in sugar. Pipe whipped cream around edge of pie. Makes 1 9-inch pie.

*Save the syrup! Use it with grapefruit and orange sections for a breakfast-fruit-cup.

2 cups (1 pound each) pitted dark sweet cherries, drained
 1/2 cup sugar
 1/2 cup water
 1/2 cup heavy cream

Divide pastry in half. Press into ball. Roll out each ball to 1/4-inch thickness on lightly floured surface. Arrange one pastry circle in 9-inch pie plate.

Adjust second pastry circle over cherries. Trim and flute edges and out vents in center. Bake in hot oven (425 degrees) 35 minutes. Sprinkle pie with sugar. Reduce heat to 350 degrees and bake for 10 minutes. Makes 1 9-inch pie.

Dark Cherry Cheese Pie
 1/2 cup frozen milk
 1/2 cup frozen milk
 1/2 cup frozen milk
 1/2 cup frozen milk

Drain cherries; reserve syrup. Combine syrup and cornstarch. Cook, stirring constantly, until thickened. Arrange cherries on top of pie; pour glaze over cherries. Chill. Makes 1 10-inch pie.

Beans Will Stay Whole If Cooked Gently
 Rapid boiling and frequent stirring causes beans skins to break when cooking. To keep them whole while cooking, boil slowly and avoid stirring.

Make Own Brown n' Serve Rolls
 If your favorite yeast roll recipe makes more rolls than your family or guests can eat at one time, try freezing the "extras." Prepare and shape the rolls as usual.

Then partially bake them for about 8 to 10 minutes. Allow them to cool completely; then place in plastic bags or other airtight freezer containers, seal and place in the freezer.

Spicy Bean Casserole Has Capping of Cheese
 For an economical Saturday supper, serve this Chili Bean Cheese Casserole made by sautéing 1 large onion, chopped, in 2 tablespoons melted butter. Add 1 pound ground beef; when brown, stir in 1 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, 2 teaspoons chili powder and 1 3-ounce can tomato sauce; simmer 10-15 minutes. Add 2 cups canned kidney beans together with the can liquid and heat thoroughly.

Stir in 1 1/2 cups shredded sharp Cheddar cheese until melted. Sprinkle additional shredded Cheddar on top before serving. Makes 6 servings.

Creamy Date Filling Is Special Secret of Cake

Every woman who loves to cook loves to exchange recipes, and the eighteen women from all over the country who competed in the National Grange Bake-off last Fall were no exception. Six baked cakes, six baked breads and six baked cakes. It would take a mathematician to figure out the astronomical number of recipe exchanges possible in such circumstances. But one recipe for chocolate cake — first prize winner in its class — everyone wanted to take home.

The prize-winning recipe was for a three-layer fudge cake with a creamy date filling, and a rich chocolate cream frosting. It was the entry of Mrs. Hal Wells of Leicester, N.C., who share it with us here today.

Fudge Cake

3 cups sifted all-purpose flour
1/2 teaspoon soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup shortening
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
2 eggs, unbeaten
1 square unsweetened chocolate
1 cup date loaf sauce
Date Cream Filling
Chocolate Cream Frosting

Measure sifted flour, add soda and salt, and sift together. Cream sugar, shortening and vanilla together. Add eggs and beat until light and fluffy. Add melted chocolate. Alternately add flour and water to chocolate mixture, beating after each addition until batter is smooth.

Four into three greased 8-inch layer pans. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) 35 minutes. Cool. Spread Date Cream Filling between layers and Chocolate Cream Frosting over top and sides of cake.

Chocolate Cream Frosting
Grate 2 squares, unsweetened chocolate. Combine with 1 cup light cream and 2 cups sugar in a small heavy saucepan. Bring to a boil. Then boil 3 minutes, stirring occasionally. Remove from heat and set in a bowl of ice and water. Beat until frosting will hold its shape. Makes about 3 cups.

Date Cream Filling
Heat 1 cup milk and 1/2 pound chopped dates in the top of a double boiler. Combine 1/4 cup sliced vegetables or chicken for a garnish, 1 tablespoon flour, and 1 egg.

Pair Off Ham and Yams for Colorful Supper Dish

One safe guide in planning cold-weather menus is "Keep 'em hot and hearty!" This Supper on a Plank is a colorful array: a rosy-hued ham steak surrounded by the frills of golden mashed Louisiana yams, cheery red tomatoes, and bright green okra. It's a supper to satisfy the appetites whetted by coasting on the hill, or shoveling snow off the sidewalks, or facing blasts to and from the supermarket!

Not only does this supper menu have eye-appeal and appetite-appeal, it's also chock-full of nourishment. Whenever those brilliant yams appear on the table, the Plank is a colorful array: a rosy-hued ham steak surrounded by the frills of golden mashed Louisiana yams, cheery red tomatoes, and bright green okra. It's a supper to satisfy the appetites whetted by coasting on the hill, or shoveling snow off the sidewalks, or facing blasts to and from the supermarket!

cooked, parboiled and sliced 1/2 cup melted butter or margarine 1 large tomato

Place ham in lightly oiled shallow baking dish. Bake in slow oven (325 degrees) 25 minutes. Cook okra according to package directions. Drain if necessary. Mash yams with 2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine and molasses. Cut tomatoes into halves.

Place ham slice and tomato halves on plank. Force yam mixture through a pastry tube to form a border around ham and tomatoes. Brush tomatoes, ham and yams with remaining melted butter or margarine.

Many good cooks like to cover their ham steaks with a thin layer of tomato slices. If you do, let them stand in a covered container for 5 minutes or so before broiling.

GOP Pilot Project to Study the WHYS Behind Votes

BY DANIEL F. HANLEY JR.
GRAND RAPIDS (UPI)—An energetic young Republican from Michigan is using the city of St. Louis, Mo., as a laboratory where he hopes to find the secret to a GOP resurgence in the nation's big cities.

John R. Stiles of Grand Rapids has been assigned by the Republican National Committee to head up a pilot project aimed at discovering the key to cutting down the kind of huge Democratic margins in the big cities that contributed to Richard M. Nixon's defeat in last year's presidential election.

Stiles drew the assignment by virtue of the job he did last year as voter registration director for the Nixon-Lodge campaign.

Of his new assignment, Stiles said, "We can't expect to reverse the political trend in big cities on a broad base, but we can develop ways and means of getting enough movement to tilt the voting plurality our way."

"The pilot project will be carried out in connection with the April 4 city election in St. Louis and Stiles plans to make a microscopic political analysis of voter behavior in the city, including a detailed 'profile' of all registered voters."

Stiles, 44, gray-haired and given to beret, was a nonfiction literary award for an essay he wrote while a student at the University of Michigan in the same year that Arthur Miller, ex-husband of Marilyn Monroe, was a playwright award.

He is generally regarded as belonging to the liberal or modern element in the Michigan GOP.

He also is well enough fixed financially to be able to devote a lot of time to his fascination with politics.

There is no doubt in his mind that "it was the Democratic vote in the big cities which cost us the presidential election last year," Stiles said. "Then our work in St. Louis can be applied to the congressional campaigns of 1962, and the presidential race in 1964."

Between now and April 4, he said, workers on the pilot project will try to compile a "profile" of all registered voters in St. Louis to "find out who the Republicans are and who the Democrats are and why they vote the way they do."

Robert Raikes of Gloucester, England, founder of the modern Sunday school, opened his first school in 1781.

"If it works here, it should work elsewhere," Stiles said. "Then our work in St. Louis can be applied to the congressional campaigns of 1962, and the presidential race in 1964."

Between now and April 4, he said, workers on the pilot project will try to compile a "profile" of all registered voters in St. Louis to "find out who the Republicans are and who the Democrats are and why they vote the way they do."

Robert Raikes of Gloucester, England, founder of the modern Sunday school, opened his first school in 1781.

'Buck-a-Brick' Starts at Grand Valley College

GRAND RAPIDS (U)—Fund drives for the proposed Grand Valley College started today on a "buck-a-brick" level in eight major communities to be served by the school.

Earlier stages of drives still under way have raised about $700,000 toward a legislative requirement of $1 million in private funds before the school is chartered as a state institution. A campus site is the second major requirement.

They're Maya's Fiest

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—A batch of the Mayo Hotel's finest towels had this woven into them: "The Mayo, Tulsa."

State Troopers to Change Style of Uniforms

EAST LANSING (U)—Michigan State Police troopers soon will change their style of uniform for the first time since 1947, Police Commissioner Joseph A. Childs has announced.

The troopers' new shirts will be blue and dacton, worn with a light blue-grey necktie. They now wear light blue poplin shirts and navy blue ties.

Childs said the change is being made because of increased wearability of the shirts and in the interests of a more military appearance.

He added, however, that the poplin shirts will have to be dry cleaned.

Jackson Newspapman Retires from 'Citizen'

JACKSON (U)—Carl M. Sanders, one of Michigan's best known newspapermen, today announced his retirement as editor of the Jackson Citizen-Patriot.

At the same time, President John A. McDonald of Booth News, Inc., announced the appointment of Herbert W. Spindlove as successor to Sanders. Spindlove is city editor of the Saginaw News.

Sanders passed his 70th birthday last October. He started in the newspaper business in 1909 as a reporter for the old Grand Rapids News.

Spanish Style Lenten Casseroles Are New

Fine eating in Spain is an old tradition as her art and like a fine expression of the Spanish subtle taste. In the "fondas," the country inns around Seville, many excellent meatless dishes are served in the balcony overlooking the river. Bunches of grapes hang from the white-washed ceilings of the inn, preserved in this fashion throughout the winter, and outside, the lemon trees cast their shade over the flagstoned patios.

One of the best of the Spanish dishes is a savory mixture of fluffy golden egg noodles and chunks of delicate tuna, bound together with a rich cream sauce made happy with the Spanish pimiento-stuffed olives that grow in the surrounding hills.

The Seville casserole has been adapted to our American ways, without losing the authentic flavor of the original dish, by using ingredients that are always ready in an American kitchen, thanks to their utmost convenience and their low cost.

The egg noodles are there, to be cooked without fuss or waste; the innate goodness of the tuna is caught better, thanks to modern American canning methods; the evaporated milk makes the cheese sauce mildest and rich; and the green and red of the pimiento-stuffed olives give the lenten touch of Spain to this delightful casserole.

Try it soon—the combination of these four ingredients is such an excellent one that you will be serving it joyfully the year around.

Seville Tuna Casserole

1 tablespoon salt
2 quarts boiling water
8 ounces wide egg noodles (about 4 cups)
2 cans (1½ to 1 3/4 cups each) tuna
1 cup sliced pimiento-stuffed olives
1/2 cup sliced pimiento-stuffed olives
Add 1 tablespoon salt to rapidly boiling water. Gradually add noodles so that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender. Drain in colander.

Break tuna into pieces. Combine cheese sauce, tuna, and olives; mix well. Place half of noodles in buttered 3-quart shallow baking dish. Top with half of cheese sauce. Repeat layers. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) 30 minutes, or until thoroughly heated. Serves 4.

For 7½ cups 3-minute Cheese Sauce: Simmer 1 3/4 cups (large) can undiluted evaporated milk with ¼ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon rosemary and ¼ teaspoon oregano in saucepan over low heat to just below boiling (about 2 minutes). Add 2 cups (about 8 ounces) grated processed American cheese. Stir over low heat until cheese melts (about 1 minute longer).

Asparagus Lenten Casserole

1 tablespoon salt
2 quarts boiling water
8 ounces wide egg noodles (about 4 cups)
1/2 cup sliced pimiento-stuffed olives
1/2 cup sliced pimiento-stuffed olives
1/2 cup sliced pimiento-stuffed olives
1/2 cup sliced pimiento-stuffed olives
1/2 cup sliced pimiento-stuffed olives
1/2 cup sliced pimiento-stuffed olives

Add 1 tablespoon salt to rapidly boiling water. Gradually add spaghetti so that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender. Drain in colander.

Arrange layers of spaghetti mixture and asparagus in buttered 2 quart casserole. Top with olive slices. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) 30 minutes. Makes 4 servings.

Like garlic flavor with chicken? Crush a clove of it in some salad oil; rub over the bird before roasting.

Don't Be Scared to Cook Artichokes

Basic method of cooking an elegant vegetable.

First-Course Artichokes
1/2 lb. artichokes
1/2 cup salt
1/2 cup salt
Cut off 1 inch from artichoke tops straight across. If stems are long shorten by cutting to about 1 inch. With scissors, clip off tips of leaves. Place washed artichokes in large kettle with enough water to cover; add salt and oil.

Boil, covered, until a leaf can be pulled out easily and base can be easily pierced with a fork, in 20 minutes or longer. Drain; cut the insert.

Special Stuffed Potatoes
Prepare instant mashed potatoes according to directions, omitting the salt. Instead, add a teaspoon of barbecue salt. Make boats of aluminum foil and fill with the seasoned potatoes. Brown the potatoes lightly under the broiler. These go well with Wieners, hamburgers or other charcoal broiled meats.

A large kettle with a perforated insert is convenient for boiling spaghetti or macaroni. The pasta can be easily pierced with a fork, in 20 minutes or longer. Drain; cut the insert.

Joint Return Sometimes Costly

YOU CANNOT FILE A JOINT RETURN IF

You were not married on Dec. 31, 1960

Either you or your wife was a non-resident alien any time during the year

You were divorced or legally separated on Dec. 31, 1960

Both spouses do not sign the return

By RICHARD A. MULLEN -
The old saying, "Two can live as cheaply as one," has received cynical treatment from many husbands harassed by mounting household bills.

The income tax field, however, is one place where it can sometimes be said that "Two can live cheaper than one."

Take Mr. X's situation. He's a $30,000 a year bachelor who pops the marriage question to his fiancée in December and hints for a January first wedding date.

Although she has no income, the girl (like most girls) is smart. She knows that if they get married on Dec. 31, they can file a joint income tax return for the year, whereas if they wait until January 1, he will have to report $30,000 on a separate return.

A little figuring shows that a joint return will save them more than $6,000 in taxes for the year. Needless to say, they were happily married on Dec. 31.

You might think from the above story that couples with year-end wedding plans should get married before Jan. 1 so they can file a joint return and save taxes. Unfortunately, like in many areas of tax law, you can't take much for granted. If you do, you may end up like Mr. Y.

Mr. Y is a $10,000 a year bachelor and a friend of Mr. X. Knowing how well Mr. X made out, he decides to impress his gal with the idea of getting married on Dec. 31 and taking a honeymoon on the tax he thinks will be saved by filing a joint return.

His girl (like most girls) is smart. She knows that since she is also making $10,000 a year and since they don't have enough deductions to itemize, that they not only would not save any money by filing a joint return but that it would cost them about $300 in additional taxes to get married before Jan. 1.

How come?

The standard deduction for married couples cannot exceed $1,000 on a joint return or $500 on separate returns.

Unmarried persons, however, can claim up to a $1,000 standard deduction. By postponing the marriage until Jan. 1, each could use the full $1,000 standard deduction for the previous year.

For taxpayers who are already married, it will almost always be advisable to file a joint return. This is particularly true if one spouse has little or no income.

However, if both are working and earning approximately the same salaries, the tax should be computed both ways to make sure the cheaper method is used.

For example, suppose John Q. Public earns $2,400 and his wife earns $2,400. If they compute their tax by using the Tax Table (which they must use unless they itemize deductions) and have no other exemptions, separate returns would save them $5 in tax.

The reason is that the Tax Table figures the tax at the mid-point of the bracket. Any income above that point but below the next bracket escapes tax.

Remember that a joint return can be filed if the spouses were husband and wife on the last day of the tax year, or on the date one spouse died, provided the survivor died January 1 during the year. Spouses who were divorced or legally separated under a final court decree by the last day of the taxable year cannot file a joint return.

"AND THE WORLD THINKS IT'S IN BAD SHAPE!"

Q. I have a 6-year-old red dachshund who is getting too fat. How much should he eat a day and how much should he weigh? L. Middleton, San Bernardino, Calif.

A. Children call the dachshund (or Badger Dog) the "weiner" dog because of its long, slender shape. The average "weiner" should have only the equivalent of one can of dog food a day, lest he begin to resemble a frankfurter.

In his badger-hunting glory in 15th century Germany, 35 pounds was considered his fighting weight. The dachshund was about this size when brought here shortly before the Civil War. But, as he became less of a hunter and more of a house dog, the dachshund has been bred smaller and smaller until 18 to 22 pounds is considered a good weight for the average dog. Some people are now attempting to breed a miniature at eight pounds.

Calling All Landlubbers — Hoist the Sails and Go 75 M.P.H.

Ahoy Mates, This Is Your Ice Boat Captain

(This is the second in a series of feature articles in which Press Sports Editor Bruno L. Kearns offers himself as student, versus sports for the first time. Remember the summer series of 1960 featuring Jack, Boat Driving, Water Skiing and Polo, which won the William AP Award for best sports writing? This series started with skiing on Monday. Today we go ice boating. Next Wednesday the art of freestyle and the following week it's Archery.)

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Ahoy there, all you frost-bitten landlubbers, hoist the sails and come on out onto the frozen seas.

Shucks, if Columbus had seen these rigs with the oversized ice skate blades, he probably would have traded in his Nina and Pinta for a DN and crossed over the Siberian straits to discover America via Alaska in ice boats.

Just think, maybe if Chuck Cartwright with his ice boating mind had lived in those days he might have discovered the frozen half of the world in record time.

Having lived on Cass Lake

all his life, just the leisure of boating were too mild for him.

From the day he learned to pull the starter on his outboard he started racing them, and when the cold winds thickened the ice he kept on racing ice boats he and his dad built in their basement.

Now for a water-loving land sailor like myself, high speeds in any kind of man-made machine have been the least of my desires.

But there was a new thrill awaiting me, and besides I thought—how fast could these boats on skates go?

I found out in short order. "Just get it into the wind, give it a slight push, jump in, take hold of the tiller to steer it and you're on your own," said Chuck.

It didn't take long to find out what he meant about being on my own.

I gave it the push, but the problem was getting in. I found myself sprawled out on the ice and the mutinous boat went heading out on the frozen lake without its captain.

Chuck, his friend Bill Roualet and I finally caught up with the boat out in the middle of Cass Lake. It was then decided that for my first ride I should get in and they would give me a push for the trial run.

Well, I was on my own again. There I was heading straight for the backyard of one of the lake residents.

I tugged the rope which tightened or loosened the sail. This is called sheeting the sail. I turned the tiller and found myself zooming around the bend about 50 miles an hour on one blade. Suddenly I came to a quick one-point landing. (As can be seen in No. 2 picture.)

"That's what you call hiking," yelled Chuck.

"Hiking?" I questioned from the cold ice under the boat.

"Yes, you hike the boat on one side, and sail on two rudders," he explained.

It sure was a different kind of hiking I learned in my boy scout days.

Some more instructions and a few more trial runs and Chuck decided we were ready for our DN race.

A DN is the smallest of the ice boats. It is 12 feet long, weighs about 140 pounds and is made of sitka spruce because of its strength and lightness. The larger ice boat is the Skeeter class.

After I finally learned to make use of the runner plank for jumping into the boat after a slight push, our 3-boat race started on its course.

I guess I could have picked a better day to go ice boating. It was the coldest day of the winter. The temperature on Cass Lake at 3:00 p.m. in the afternoon hovered around 3-below.

"The spruce on the ice will slow us up," Chuck said, "we won't go any faster than 50 or 55 today. On clear ice we can hit 75 m.p.h."

This certainly didn't dampen my enthusiasm. At times I searched the entire bottom of the boat for a brake when it felt like I was going 150.

Chuck and Bill are both members of the Cass Lake Ice Yacht Club. Their experience in handling the DN's kept me from running them around.

We tore around the ice at a pretty even pace out to the middle of Cass Lake. I was making my first turn at the point from where we started then they were passing me up for the second time.

Apparently I must have made the wrong maneuver, because suddenly I found myself heading dead center for Bill's boat from his blind side.

A sudden crash and the race came to an end.

I'll probably lose my DN captain's license now for careless driving, unless Commodore Cartwright suspends the sentence.

Ice boating is fun, but don't pick a day to spend four hours on a lake in below-zero temperatures. It took an hour of steam in the YMCA athletic club to thaw out afterward.

Don't tell my boss, but I knew that if I complained of frozen fingers I suffered in the line of duty, he would suggest a few weeks in Florida with the Tiger baseball camp as sort of a de-frosting measure.

No. 4 — Why You -//X%& Driver!

About Cartwright CLYC Commodore

Chuck Cartwright, 23-years old, has been ice boating most of his life on Cass-Lake.

His father, the late Cliff Cartwright was a builder of ice boats and now Chuck also builds them.

Chuck competes in speedboat racing during the summer and ice boat races in the winter.

The cost of building an ice boat is around $300. They can be purchased from some marine dealers for about $500.

Cass-Lake Yacht Club Pioneers Ice Boating

Only organized club for ice boating in Oakland County is the Cass Lake Yacht Club at Ward's Point, the summer home of the Pontiac Yacht Club.

The club was organized in 1959 and has about 35 members and 15 boats.

Chuck Cartwright of 3354 Wards Point Drive, Orchard Lake, is Commodore of the club.

The club holds races each Saturday and Sunday throughout the winter season; sponsors an Invitational Regatta, and takes part in other regattas in the state and midwest.

No. 5 — Some Hike

No. 1 — Kearns finds himself flat on his lee as the DN leaves out of his grasp and heads out into the middle of Cass Lake.

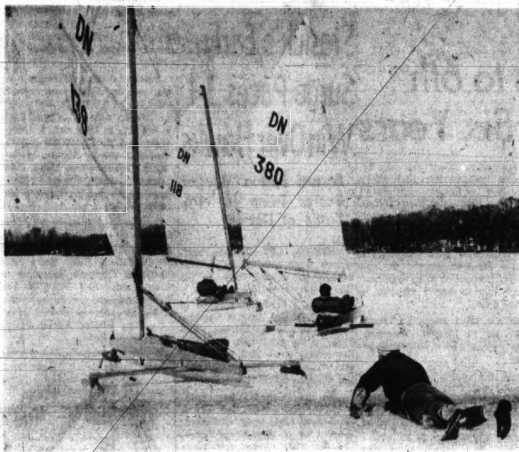

No. 2 — This may call for an investigation, of careless ice boat operation.

No. 3 — The race is on and you guessed right. Kearns is last.

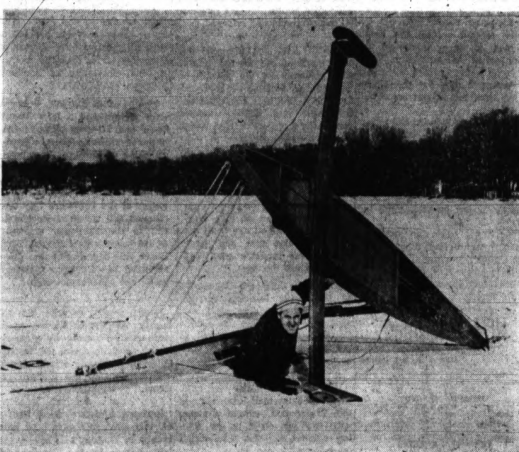

No. 4 — Oops, looks like Kearns goofed at the helm.

No. 5 — They call this hiking. No thanks, Kearns would rather stay close to the ice, on all three rudders.

Bloomfield Hills of the Wayne

Modest Round Sets PGA Course Record

DUNEDIN, Fla. 46—Sam Bernard came in with a modest two-under par 70 but still had enough edge to break the standing PGA National Golf Club course record and win the $10,000 club championship.

Bernard, of Winnetka, Ill., kept the pressure on all the way during the 72-hole match.

He fired rounds of 67-70-67-70 for a total of 274, four strokes under the previous record of 278 fired this month by Paul Runyan who won the PGA Seniors title.

The victory yesterday gave Bernard first prize money totaling $1,000.

'Fighter of Month'

NEW YORK (AP)—Gasper Ortega's non-title upset victory over lightweight champion Benny (Kid) Parot of Cuba last Saturday today earned the Mexican "Fighter of the Month" honors from Ring Magazine.

Oakland League lost to Oakland Emerson 14, and Terry Ignasiak 10 to champion Oak Park, 6-48 and Fitzgerald won over Center Line, 10-48.

Among the local parochial teams, St. Mike defeated St. Bernard 6-58 and Orchard Lake St. Mary fell to Wyandotte Mt. Carmel, 52-48.

In other games, Deckerfield defeated Ingle City, 50-76; Oriskany won over Goodfellow, 48-58; North Branch defeated Buena Vista, 60-55; Piquette Emmanuel won over Waterford Our Lady, 48-19; and Birmingham-Groves lost to St. Benedict, 36-54.

Oak Park's Dennis Pink sank a free throw with 21 seconds to play and pushed his team into a 47-46 lead. Bloomfield Hills then missed a free throw and got three shots at the basket on the rebound.

But the Barons failed to score and in the process Steve Drester was fouled and he dropped in the final two free throws for Oak Park with one second to play.

The Hillsman had three men in double figures led by Art Trezona with 14 and they outshot Oak Park from the floor.

Duane Pinarik had 14 and Mike Meekl 15 for Fitzgerald which led 25-29 at halftime. Clyde Barnhart had 17 for Center Line.

Inlay fell behind at intermission 53-27 and closed the gap but never took the lead in the second half.

Doag Perkins with 23, Roger Lo-back with 10, Dick Dault 14, Al Tun-15, Jim Heron 11 and Mike Kresling 11.

This finished the season at 43-38 for the Mikes.

Sophomore Russ Bitter collected 43 and Mike Bearden 15 for Groves but it wasn't enough to overcome St. Ben's 30-17 halftime margin.

"Zito had 19, Rozman 14 and Tom Gartelle 11 for St. Ben which shot 61 per cent for the night.

St. Mary's setback was its 15th in 17 starts and a poor third period was the big factor when the Eagles got only five points.

Glen Hans with 20 was St. Mary's lone double point player, and he got all five points in the third period.

Jim Hutchings had 19, Jerry Brown 15, and Bob Hickey 10 in Oriskany's victory. The winners came back in the second half after a 23-21 deficit at halftime.

Emmanuel got double figure scoring from Jim Dennis with 17, Tom Sutton 16 and Jim Pittman 11 in whipping Our Lady which managed only two points in the second period and only seven in the entire first half.

St. Mike pushed to a 30-25 halftime lead and got double figure scoring from five players, Art Robert with 19, Dick Dault 14, Al Tun-15, Jim Heron 11 and Mike Kresling 11.

1 BATTLE, 1 WATCH — This turned out to be a two-way battle between Mike Hood of Our Lady (43) and Jim Pittman of Emmanuel while Bill Elberger (11) and Tom Borys (15) of Our Lady and Jim Dennis of Emmanuel take spectator positions. Emmanuel won its 4th game in the season in defeating Our Lady, in its first season of athletics, 43-15.

All is in readiness at Detroit's Cobo Hall for the start Saturday of the 58th annual American Bowling Congress tournament.

Keplers from a record 47 states; District of Columbia, Canada and Puerto Rico will compete during the 79-day run. The prize fund of $462,032.50 is the second largest in meet history.

Host Michigan heads the states in team entries with 2,381 featuring 1,554 from the Detroit area, including Poplar, Ann Arbor has 79 teams, Lansing 60, Port Huron 48 and Flint 46.

The usual opening night program will be held Saturday with the introduction of "Joe Bowler" highlighted. The appearance of Mike Detroit and other celebrities plus an American Legion salute will be part of a big send-off program.

Bowling will actually begin in the afternoon to get things rolling. Some 31 different states will be represented on the covered early

Wings' Trade Looking Better

Tigers Listen to 6th Manager in Six Years

LAKELAND, Fla. — Bucky Harris would have commented "Well, at least we have some nice weather."

Jack Tighe would have said "Everybody in good shape and really raring to go."

Bill Norman would have said "I, but the players would have understood little of it."

Joe Gordon might not have said anything because he's so accustomed to having Frank Lane around — and Lane does enough talking for both of them.

But it was Bob Schofield the Detroit Tigers' sixth manager in six years, who opened the squads' 1961 spring training camp yesterday. He predicted nothing, offered no one and contributed little, anything, to the collection of "great club house speeches of the twentieth century."

What Schofield told 47 baseball players was, in short, "Take your time about getting into condition and don't get hurt."

He turned the players loose about one half hour behind the 10 a.m. schedule after he spoke less than five minutes with them. For the next two hours the players did not report and that became the club's only holdout. The 26-year-old outfielder who had 26 homers and batted .329 at Denver last season, wants major league money whether or not he makes the big club.

George Alusik was the only other member of the Tiger variety who did not report and that became the club's only holdout. The 26-year-old outfielder who had 26 homers and batted .329 at Denver last season, wants major league money whether or not he makes the big club.

"We're not very far apart on money," said Ferrer, "but I can't give a player any kind of a guarantee as to where he'll play."

Alusik has rejected three offers by the Tigers.

Spencers and Lakeland are tied for first place Class 'A' honors in the Waterford Recreation League.

Last night Spencer scored a 38-43 victory over Lakeland Pharmacy. Joe Duby was high man for Spencer with 37, and high for Lakeland was Vern Cook with 12.

In Class 'B' playoffs Steve Market downed Greys 7-51. Mike Haines scored 22 for Greys. Greg Pantel and Harry Sohad 17 and 15 respectively for the Merchants.

In Junior 'B' games Kuhn was a victor over RAR 76-64. High man for Kuhn was Frank Robinson with 33. Phil Felice scored 23 for RAR.

Diving appears to be well in the hands of Thurston's Red Bramble, who finished eighth in the state last year. Fitzgerald's Mike Reynolds, Southfield's Hal Kupp and Madison's Glynn Wood will battle for runner-up honors.

The preliminaries will start at 6:30 p.m. Friday in the 400 and diving.

Waterford A Loop Reaches Deadlock

Spencers and Lakeland are tied for first place Class 'A' honors in the Waterford Recreation League.

Last night Spencer scored a 38-43 victory over Lakeland Pharmacy. Joe Duby was high man for Spencer with 37, and high for Lakeland was Vern Cook with 12.

In Class 'B' playoffs Steve Market downed Greys 7-51. Mike Haines scored 22 for Greys. Greg Pantel and Harry Sohad 17 and 15 respectively for the Merchants.

In Junior 'B' games Kuhn was a victor over RAR 76-64. High man for Kuhn was Frank Robinson with 33. Phil Felice scored 23 for RAR.

Diving appears to be well in the hands of Thurston's Red Bramble, who finished eighth in the state last year. Fitzgerald's Mike Reynolds, Southfield's Hal Kupp and Madison's Glynn Wood will battle for runner-up honors.

The preliminaries will start at 6:30 p.m. Friday in the 400 and diving.

PNH Plays Host to 2nd Annual NSSL Swim Meet

This is the second of a three-part series featuring the league's annual meet taking place this weekend. Yesterday we summarized the Michigan Valley. Today we look at the Michigan Valley League and tomorrow the Eastern Michigan League.

By BRUNO L. KEARNS

Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Pontiac Northern will take one big honor in the North Suburban League swim meet this weekend.

That honor will be to play host to the six-team league in its second annual meet, because the Huskies best bid could only get them a fourth-place finish.

The battle for the crown should be between defending champion Thurston and the current dual meet champ of the league Southfield.

Last year Thurston edged Fitzgerald 55-44 for the most championship and the race with Southfield and Fitzgerald should again be close.

PNH finished fourth in dual standings and should figure about the same in the meet with Utica and Madison following behind.

Fitzgerald is expected to take the honors in the 50- and 100-yard freestyle events with Dick Larive and Keith Brockman, considered the two best sprinters in the league. Eric Machnick of Madison Jerry Carley of Southfield and Fred Kern of PNH are top sprint contenders.

In the butterfly, Thurston's Mike Zim and Southfield's Ray Gadowick should engage in the top dual with Fitzgerald's Jack Pashnik as a good contender.

Pontiac Northern's Chuck Greig could place high in the individual medley with Thurston's Tom Robinson and Pashnik the strong choices.

Diving appears to be well in the hands of Thurston's Red Bramble, who finished eighth in the state last year. Fitzgerald's Mike Reynolds, Southfield's Hal Kupp and Madison's Glynn Wood will battle for runner-up honors.

The preliminaries will start at 6:30 p.m. Friday in the 400 and diving.

Death Brushes Past With Fiery Breath

MOUNT CLEMENS — "The flames were unbelievable—They were all around us," Mrs. Gerald Kabei said Tuesday night after a giant Air Force tanker disintegrated as it crashed and roared past her home, spewing hot metal.

Mrs. Kabei was standing at her sink, looking out her kitchen window at 5:17 p.m. Her husband, Gerald, 38, was in his office in the Kabei barn. Her son Bob, 12, was behind the barn, playing.

Suddenly, Mrs. Kabei said, she saw the plane falling into the field of nursery stock trees. It hit the ground behind the barn, bounded into the air and fell back in flames, crashing and scattering past the Kabei barn and filling the air with fire and debris.

Kabei said, "I didn't hear a thing until the windows blew out of my office and it burst into flame. I don't know how I got out. I don't remember."

Bob looked up to see a flaming piece of engine cowl. It few inches over his head and crashed into a tool shed, which immediately burst into flame.

The three Kabeis met in their back yard, strewn with flaming debris.

Their barn, the tool shed and their car were ablaze and a wall of fire marking the path of the "aircraft bused yards from their home on three sides. Kabei was bleeding from a cut on the head from flying glass.

Bobby yelled, "Mother, come on!" snapping the Kabeis into a run for the relative safety of the front opposite the burning plane's path. There they shakily watched flames shoot up some 300 feet into the air from the burning fuel of the plane, sending a clou

Doctor to Participate in Postgraduate Training

Dwight C. Ensign, M.D. of Franklin, will take an active part in the postgraduate training program of the Michigan Clinical Institute in Detroit, March 8-10. Dr. Ensign will appear on Wednesday's closed circuit color television scientific program.

The three days will be devoted to postgraduate study and lectures on the year's developments in medical science which can be used by the practicing doctors of medicine. The Institute is co-sponsored by the Michigan State Medical Society and 10 other medical and health organizations.

Revise City's CD Program

Changes Aim to Unify Plan With Statewide Survival Outline

The city's civil defense plan is being revised to tie in with the new state survival plan.

Robert A. Stierer, assistant city manager, and David S. Teel, administrative aide, began tackling the job after a recent conference with representatives of the Michigan Office of Civil Defense.

The small frame home of the waitress, Miss Margaret Coulon, 32, was struck head-on by the plane and completely leveled. Only a rectangle of cement blocks marked the dimensions of the home.

Mrs. Coulon was a mile away at 5:17 p.m., working at a home where she was employed as a housekeeper.

Rep. Meader Critical of Controversial Africa Tour by Ex-Governor

WASHINGTON — Republican Rep. George Meader of Michigan said Tuesday assistant secretary of state for African affairs G. Mennen Williams took "12 years to wreck Michigan—it only took him one week to wreck our African relations."

Meader said the former Michigan governor has "earned the right to retirement."

"I don't believe (Williams) intended to intervene and dictate to Africans, black or white, how their destiny should be worked out," Meader said. "He just had an unfortunate lapse—he thought he was still campaigning in Michigan."

To Sentence Fenton Man for Displaying Photo

Circuit Court Judge Clark J. Adams will sentence Harry L. Pierce, of Fenton, on March 20 for showing an obscene photograph to a young West Bloomfield Township girl last Oct. 12.

Pierce, 14401 Apple Tree Drive, yesterday appeared before Judge Adams and pleaded guilty to a second count of showing pornographic literature. On Nov. 21 he stood mute to an original charge of accosting and soliciting a child for immoral purposes.

He is out on $2,000 bond awaiting sentence.

February Death Toll on Highways Hits 84

EAST LANSING — The highway death toll for Michigan in February was 84, eight more than in the same month last year, state police reported today.

The death count so far this year is 190, still 23 less than during the first two months of last year. There were 166 deaths in January.

It was the fifth year in a row that the February count has been under 100. The high for a February was 126 deaths in 1956 and the low for the recorded period was 51 in 1953.

Police Station Robbery Leads to Prison Term

A 22-year-old Walled Lake man who fearlessly picked the Walled Lake police station to rob, today was sentenced by Circuit Court Judge William J. Beer to 1 to 5 years in Jackson prison as a probation violator.

Joseph Walker, 4630 Pontiac Trail, broke the terms of his two-year probation for car theft, meted out in December 1959 by Judge Beer, by stealing a woman's purse, a cigarette lighter and pry bar from the station's property room last month.

He pleaded guilty Feb. 7 to simple larceny before Walled Lake

Justice of the Peace Gene Schmelz. Walker and a friend had been taken to the station for investigation of loitering. Released, they didn't leave immediately. A patrolman later found Walker with the articles under his coat.

Time Not Ripe to Meet JFK, Nikita Decides

Soviet Premier Sending Gromyko and Sobolev to U.N. Tuesday

From Our News Wires
MOSCOW — Against a background of mounting Soviet hostility toward the Kennedy administration, Premier Khrushchev has decided to stay away from the start of U.N. General Assembly session next Tuesday.

He will send Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko to head the Soviet delegation.

Moscow radio announced the makeup of the delegation Tuesday night. Khrushchev was not on the list.

This doused speculation that Khrushchev would go to U.N. headquarters for the meeting as a prelude to talks with President Kennedy.

Diplomats felt that Khrushchev decided not to attend the assembly—at least at the start—because the time is not yet right for a meeting with the new President, who is still working out his foreign policies.

SOBOLEV ON LIST
In addition to Gromyko, Deputy Foreign Minister Arkady Sobolev, former chief Soviet U.N. delegate, will be in the delegation.

Khrushchev had indicated for several weeks that he might lead the delegation, particularly if there was a chance for his first meeting with Kennedy since the new administration took over in Washington.

Observers said Khrushchev apparently has decided that Kennedy is opposed to a meeting for the time being.

They pointed out also that the premier is busy with internal affairs right now. He currently is in Sverdlovsk for the beginning of an extensive tour of the Soviet Union to visit agricultural areas and spur farm output.

MOSCOW DISPLEASED
An article in the government newspaper Izvestia indicated that as the Kennedy administration comes up with its own policies, they are not to Moscow's liking. Izvestia said it had sensed hints of a "thorough cleaning" of Gen. Eisenhower's August stables with the coming of a new boss to the White House.

"Now, toward the end of February," Izvestia went on, "the impression is that Washington has got used to the stink of the unchanged stables."

Plane Engine a Molten Mass After Tragedy Fatal to 5 Airmen

THE END — A twisted mass of molten steel (left) is all that remains of the four engines of the prop-driven Air Force tanker plane that crashed early last night near Mount Clemens. All five crewmen perished. A house on the west side of Gratiot Avenue near 22-Mile Road was leveled as the flaming plane finally nosed into the ground. Luckily, no one was home. The building next door (right), which formerly was a real estate office, was gutted by fire from the flaming wreckage that sped hundreds of yards in all directions. The Family Tavern farther on up the road was scared and windows were broken from the intense heat. Across Gratiot, flames charred the side of the windmill at Kabel's Little Holland Nursery. Traffic around the crash was immediately reoriented and was lined up bumper-to-bumper for at least two hours after the mishap. Air Force investigating teams were on the scene today to determine what caused the plane to plummet earthward shortly after take-off from nearby Selfridge Air Force Base.

Rush Still On for 1961 Tabs

Sales Before Deadline Off 14,000 From Last Year in Pontiac

Although the deadline for driving without 1961 license plate tabs was midnight, the secretary of state's office in Pontiac reported an early morning rush today by motorists who failed to get them under the wire.

Willis M. Brewer, branch manager, estimated sales of 1961 tabs at 40,000, approximately 14,000 less than at deadline time last year.

Brewer believed economic conditions responsible for this year's sales dropoff and also for the longest late rush in years.

The Pontiac office at 35 E. Huron St. was open until 9:30 p.m., and the Waterford office past 8 p.m.

Violation tickets will be handed out by state police, sheriff's deputies and Pontiac police to motorists driving without 1961 license plate tabs.

First Pontiac motorist to receive a citation for driving with old tabs was Willie Davis, 28, 131 Branch St. He was ticketed at 1:15 a.m. today on Wessen Street between Bagley and Walnut streets.

Crash Shakes Mt. Clemens

By WHITEY SAWYER

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP) — Air Force officials questioned witnesses and examined wreckage today in an effort to determine what caused a loaded tanker plane to crash late Tuesday, killing all five crew members.

The plane smashed in a flaming smear across a busy highway, destroying two buildings while narrowly missing a tavern and a tulip farm home near Mount Clemens.

The pilot had just veered his stricken ship, loaded with 6,000 gallons of jet fuel and 3,500 gallons of her own fuel, away from a crowded housing project.

The pilot, 1st Lt. John C. Bible, 24, Urbana, Ill., and the four other airmen aboard lost their lives. No one on the ground was killed.

DEBRIS CLOUGS U.S. 25
The big pot-bellied ship, crashing moments after take-off, left a wake of burning wreckage. Pieces hung from overhead power lines and also clogged commuter-laden U.S. 25, leading from Detroit.

The ship smashed on home but the woman who lived there was away. Her dog was killed. "Sprouting flames burned out a vacant real estate office. The barn, a tool shed and a windmill of the tulip farm were damaged by flames and flying wreckage. The ship skidded within yards of the tavern and the tulip farm home."

POWER FAILURE

An Air Force spokesman said the ship was on a routine refueling mission when it apparently suffered a power failure on take-off. The ship veered away from a Selfridge base housing project of 380 units and staggered along at treetop level as Lt. Bible sought an empty place to put it down. It climbed a tree, and part of the tail was knocked off.

Killed with Lt. Bible were Capt. Adell M. Haygood, 29, Hawthorne, Calif., aircraft commander; Sgt. Robert E. Derby, 38, Tacoma, Wash., flight engineer; Sgt. Ernest J. Lemone III, 29, Houston, boom operator; and 1st Lt. Robert L. Lewis, 24, Manchester, Conn., navigator.

Harry Wilson of New Baltimore said he was driving down nearby Sugarbush Road when the plane flew across in front of him.

"When I first saw it, it was so low that I knew it must be in trouble. Then I saw part of the tail portion had already been knocked off. It must have already hit something. It went on across in front of me. . . I heard it crash and I could see the smoke rise," Wilson said.

IN FRONT OF CAR

The plane bounced across a field in flames, stopped just across U.S. 25. It passed just in front of an auto, which drove through the flames.

James Brazzino, 33, of Mount Clemens, was visiting a home a few yards from the crash scene. He said he dashed out of the garage where he had been putting 1961 license tabs on his car when he heard "and felt" the plane crash.

He looked up and saw the car suddenly emerge from the wall of smoke and flaming debris that marked the route of the plane across the highway.

The driver, in his 30s, apparently was shaken. He drove up to Brazzino, stopped and got out of his car, leaned over a fence, and said "He almost got me." The man's wife stayed in the car, crying hysterically.

For some 15 minutes the man watched the flames and told Brazzino how close he had come to being a part of that inferno. Then he got in his car and drove away. He didn't leave his name.

$371,000 From Mason Bank

Arrest 2 Fraud Suspects

LANSING (UPI) — The FBI today arrested a former bank official and his business associate and charged them with defrauding the Dart National Bank at near by Mason of $371,681.

James H. Dart, 49, a member of the family that runs the bank and a former director of it, and Paul P. Chien, 35, an accountant, were arrested here before U.S. commissioner James R. Davis.

He said the fraud was in the form of a check kicking scheme which involved several other banks.

Those arrested were to be taken to nearby Lansing for arraignment today before a U.S. commissioner.

Defense Dept. Request to Get JFK's Attention

No Decision Reached on Action to Increase Nuclear Capacity

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy said today the Defense Department has recommended an increase in conventional weapons strength.

The President also told a news conference that the administration has reached no decision on whether there should be any step-up in nuclear weapons capability.

As to the Pentagon recommendation for an increase in conventional weapons power, Kennedy said he will take about two weeks before making any judgment on it.

At the start of the conference, Kennedy made these announcements before opening the session to questions:

1. For the first time since last July, there was no net outflow of gold from the United States this week.

Kennedy commented that this signifies that "confidence in the dollar throughout the world is being restored."

2. West Germany's Chancellor Konrad Adenauer will visit Washington April 12-13 at Kennedy's invitation. The President said he is looking forward to meeting Adenauer and having an exchange of views.

3. The President announced he is urging Congress to restore to former President Dwight D. Eisenhower the rank of five-star general.

Kennedy called this appropriate because Eisenhower's outstanding military record and his long public service in the country in peace and war.

Eisenhower resigned from the rank in order to run for president in 1952.

CREATES PEACE CORPS

4. Kennedy said he had today signed an executive order creating a Peace Corps of Young Americans who will serve abroad in providing aid to underdeveloped nations. The corps will operate at first on a pilot basis, Kennedy said, but he also is asking Congress to enact legislation which would make the corps a permanent operation.

In response to questions, Kennedy said he shortly hopes to issue an executive order designed to "strengthen employment opportunities in and out of government."

He made that announcement when asked how he feels about a recommendation by the Civil Rights Commission that federal funds be withdrawn from public colleges and universities that discriminate on grounds of race, religion or national origin.

Kennedy said the new administration's efforts in the civil rights field will be concentrated first in the field of employment. He indicated action may be taken later in the areas of education and housing.

This fifth Kennedy news conference drew 38 newsmen. The President—wearing a dark gray suit, white shirt and navy blue tie—was calmly matter-of-fact to the accident.

'I Was the Only Woman There'

Getting Wreck Pictures Proves Difficult — but It's Part of the Job

By LEE WINBORN

I was the only woman at the scene of tragedy yesterday.

There for only one reason—to take pictures of one of the starkest dramas of death to occur in our Mount Clemens in many months—the Air Force tanker plane crash that claimed five lives.

And being a woman with a camera and a job to do is not easy when you are met at every few steps by an armed Air Force guard challenging your right to be anywhere in the cordoned-off area.

Finally the word got around, she is a press photographer. Then how far can you go up near the wreckage?

Immediately, I went right up beside the foam-covered spot where bodies of crewmen were being pulled out of the wreckage.

"Don't go near there. No flash cameras. There's gas around here," an officer warned.

HASTY RETREAT

I retreated hastily, deciding to take "shots" back farther where the buildings were afire or seared by the flames. And maybe there'd be a portion of the fuselage nearer the highway that would make a dramatic picture.

Then another officer said, "All clear now. You can go closer."

Up I went again and watched as the fifth body was removed—detically, methodically, and with extreme care and respect.

"No pictures of this," I was warned again.

Back I went again. The house, that formerly was a real estate office, had caught fire again. Firemen made short work of bringing it under control.

One onlooker marveled, "I can't understand why more weren't killed," as he looked at the homes and businesses in close proximity to the accident.

Next Monday Is Deadline to Register

Monday is the last day to register for the April 3 election. The city clerk's office in City Hall will be open for registrations 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. through Friday and from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. Monday.

About two dozen new registrations have been recorded since the November election, according to Mrs. Olga Barkeley, deputy city clerk.

New voters to Pontiac and persons who have not voted since Jan. 1, 1957 must register. Pontiac residents who have moved within the city since they last voted must file a change of address.

Two More Jaws Outraged Crowd Threatens Slayer

From Our News Wires
NEW YORK — Police took special precautions today to protect confessed sex-killer Fred Thompson from the hands of an outraged public.

Thompson was captured Tuesday on the tip of an alert New Jersey chicken farmer and admitted the rape-murder of little Judith (Goochie) Kiecoris.

How Did It Happen?

No Fast Answer on Ambulances

Amid jeers from men and women on the street, Thompson was taken from a police station—some this morning for arraignment in the savage sex slaying.

Police surrounded Thompson on the departure from the Beach Street station and spectators, about 100 of whom had gathered, were kept behind barricades across the street.

Before Thompson could be put into a van, jeers arose from the spectators.

Police said Thompson had asked for no breakfast, and had been given none.

He was quoted as telling officers when they took away his shoes, belt and other belongings Tuesday night:

"Don't worry. I won't do anything. God will take care of me."

Police ruled out any re-enactment of the crime at the scene because of neighborhood feeling.

Warm Air Lumbers Over Plains

By United Press International
March came in like a lamb to day with a lion-sized cleanup job in the flooded Deep South.

Warm air lumbered northeast across the Great Plains and the Atlantic seaboard and the U. S. Weather Bureau predicted "considerable sunshine over most of the country" today.

Rainy patches marred the outlook in the Pacific Northwest and the Mississippi-Ohio river valleys.

Flood crests rolled south along Georgia's Chattahoochee and Flint Rivers, threatening millions in Southern Georgia and Northern Florida despite official assurance that the "worst appeared over."

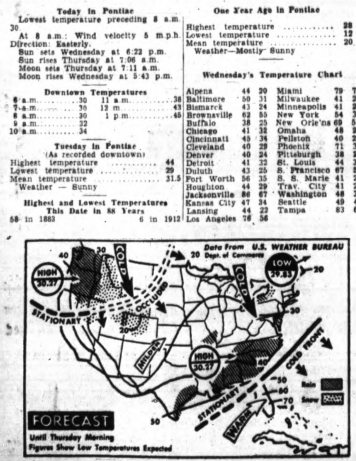

Key danger spots loomed at dam construction near Fort Gaines, Ga., and Columbia, Ala. West Point and Columbus, Ga., were declared disaster areas by the federal Small Business Administration with strikes counties in Alabama and Mississippi.

Snow let up in the Rockies but showers blanketed a triangle from Central Montana to Teton, Idaho, Wash., and south to California.

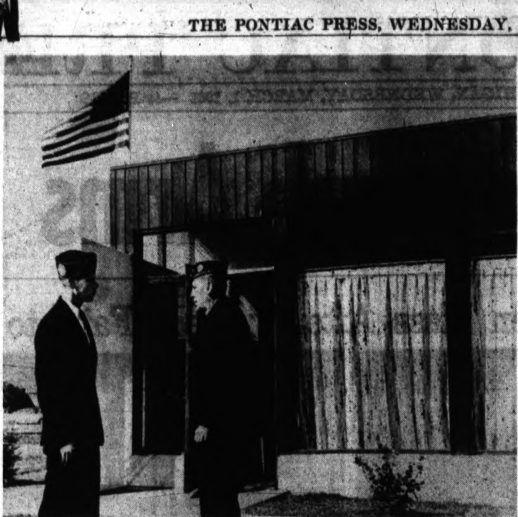

Warmer weather was indicated in the lower Great Lakes, middle Ohio and Mississippi valleys, most of the Southwest and the Northern Great Plains.

2 Groups Urge Won't Dismiss Judge in Lassiter Trial

Birmingham Body and County Teachers Plead — Commission Waits

Two Pontiac groups, working separately, voiced appeals for support of the Oakland Child Guidance Clinic Tuesday.

A citizens' committee, formed last week at a meeting in Birmingham, appealed to the Pontiac City Commission last night.

Earlier in the afternoon, the Oakland County Association of Visiting Teachers held a meeting to discuss the clinic's financial crisis which threatens to close its mid-Oakland office in Birmingham.

City Commissioners, asked last night to take a stand in favor of the guidance clinic, held off any order to the city's representatives on the board of supervisors until Mayor Philip E. Rowston receives a full report from David Levinson, chairman of the supervisors' Ways and Means Committee, on the history of relations between the county and the clinic.

Mrs. Lassiter's Naström of 502 E. Manchester Ave., a member of the citizens committee to save the Birmingham clinic, called on the city to back the move for financial support.

The committee earlier won support from the Troy City Council.

Mrs. Naström reported that the Pontiac area division of the committee had mailed out some 1,300 petitions to be signed by registered voters and forwarded to the Oakland County Board of Supervisors.

ASK $27,000 FOR YEAR

The petitions request that the supervisors supply $27,000 to keep the clinic operating and that supervisors "appropriate sufficient funds in future years to maintain and expand the services of the clinic."

"We started mailing only last weekend and already have 15 petitions back, signed by 300 people," she said.

The visiting teachers organization, meeting at the Community Service Building on 132 Franklin Blvd., drafted a letter to the supervisors urging support of the clinic.

The letter asserts, "We believe that curtailment of the current program will greatly affect the amount of service that can be offered."

"Furthermore, we respectfully submit that our own work with children will be handicapped by a curtailment of clinic services."

The visiting teachers also urged provisions for future expansion of the clinic's services.

"Much of our work deals with children who don't adjust normally to classroom life," said Herman Kurth, president.

"We make many referrals to the clinic," he explained.

The State Supreme Court today refused to disqualify Wayne County Circuit Court Judge Joseph G. Raskin from the murder trial of Mrs. Nellie Lassiter and Gordon Watson.

The attractive 38-year-old widow and Watson, 45, are accused in the April 6, 1959, slaying of Mrs. Lassiter's husband Parvin "Bill" Lassiter, wealthy Royal Oak car dealer.

The prosecution has charged that Mrs. Lassiter, a former model who lives at 1600 Beverly Road, Beverly Hills, and Watson, her husband's former business partner, plotted Lassiter's killing.

The prosecution called the case a "sex-and-greed" murder.

Mrs. Lassiter and Watson were ordered held for trial on charges of first-degree murder and conspiracy to murder following a sensational examination nearly a year ago in Dearborn Township Justice Court.

At that time, the prosecution read into the record a statement

Woman's Club to Hear Dr. Merker on Tuesday

BIRMINGHAM — Dr. Harvey Merker, retired director of scientific relations for Parke Davis & Co., will be the guest speaker Tuesday at a meeting of the Birmingham Woman's Club.

The meeting will be held at the YMCA building beginning with a 1 p.m. dessert luncheon.

"Adventures in Medicine From Witchcraft to World Health" is the topic title of Dr. Merker's talk.

Dr. Merker's name has long been associated with the Detroit Institute of Cancer Research, the Kresge Eye Institute and University of Michigan activities.

Recently he was named "First Citizen of Detroit" by the Detroit City Council for his many activities in welfare, religious, educational, business and scientific organizations.

Members of the modern living group of the club will be hostesses for the day. Mrs. John H. Olson is chairman.

Mrs. Robert A. Vander Pyl of 30851 Bristol Lane, Bloomfield Township, has been named one of the three daily winners for flower arrangement at the Detroit Home and Garden Show being held in Detroit.

She now becomes eligible to compete Friday with 15 other winners for a trip to London, England and the Chelsea Flower Show.

The award went to Mrs. Vander Pyl for her arrangement of daffodils, blue iris and pussy willow.

Mrs. Anthony Krause Service for Mrs. Anthony (Florence) Krause, 80, of 111 Bird St., will be 1 p.m. Friday at the Manley Bailey Funeral Home. Burial will be in Roseland Park Cemetery, Berkeley.

Mrs. Krause died yesterday following a long illness.

A Birmingham resident since 1939, she was a member of the United Brethren Church.

She is survived by one brother.

fact throughout the entire 30-minute session.

The questions and answers ranged over these additional areas:

WILLIAMS—Kennedy said in his opinion Asst. Secretary of State G. Mennen Williams has "done very well" on his current tour of African nations.

"I am wholly satisfied with his mission," Kennedy said.

A remark by Williams that he favors "Africa for Africans" has touched off criticism in allied capitals and in this country.

MADE IT CLEAR

Williams has said he was talking of all Africans, whatever their race.

Alluding to that, Kennedy said Williams "made it clear that he was talking of all those who felt that they were Africans whatever their color might be. I do not know their race might be, I do not know who else Africa should be for."

EDUCATION — Kennedy said the Constitution clearly prohibits distribution of federal aid for education to private and parochial schools, that Supreme Court decisions have made this very clear. He made that remark when asked why his administration's program does not provide for any aid to such schools.

BUDGET — Kennedy indicated that the still-to-be-made decisions regarding national defense spending will determine whether the budget can be balanced for the fiscal year starting July 1.

He declined to speculate when asked whether the budget might show a deficit of about $15 billion. The budget Kennedy inherited from the Eisenhower administration for the new fiscal year predicted a surplus.

Rep. Meader Critical of Controversial Africa Tour by Ex-Governor

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republican Rep. George Meader of Michigan said Tuesday assistant secretary of state for African affairs G. Mennen Williams took "12 years to wreck Michigan—it only took him one month to wreck our African relations."

Meader said the former Michigan governor has "earned the right to retirement."

Meanwhile, informed sources said, President Kennedy was ready to come to the defense of Williams if the matter of his controversial-marked Africa tour comes up at the White House news conference today.

"I don't believe (Williams) intended to intervene and dictate to Africans, black or white, how their destiny should be worked out," Meader said. "He just had an unfortunate lapse—he thought he was still campaigning in Michigan."

Changes Aim to Unify Plan With Statewide Survival Outline

The city's civil defense plan is being revised in line with the new state survival plan.

Robert A. Stierer, assistant city manager, and David S. Teel, administrative aide, began tackling the job after a recent conference with representatives of the Michigan Office of Civil Defense (MOCD), City Manager Walter K. Williams said.

The revisions are aimed at unification of action throughout the state, the manager explained.

"Much of our existing plan is being incorporated in the new plan," he said.

On completion, the revised plan will be submitted to both the MOCD and the City Commission for approval.

Williams also reported that the city has received 20 additional radiological dosimeters from the Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization, a federal agency. The instruments measure exposure to radioactive fallout.

February Death Toll on Highways Hits 84

EAST LANSING (AP)—The highway death toll for Michigan in February was 84, eight more than in the same month last year, state police reported today.

The death count so far this year is 190, still 23 less than during the first two months of last year. There were 196 deaths in January.

It was the fifth year in a row that the February count has been under 190. The high for February was 198 deaths in 1956 and the low for the recorded period was 81 in 1953.

Chevy Manager Sees Business Improving

DETROIT (UPI)—Edward N. Cole, general manager of the Chevrolet division of General Motors, said today automobile sales have begun to show encouraging improvement and that he believes the recession has "bottomed out."

Cole said overvalued car inventories have been reduced, that February Chevrolet car and truck sales should top January by 10 to 15 per cent, and that the coming of spring weather would further spur sales.

He criticized those who are "content to complain about the bad in our economy" and said "the most powerful tonic for our economic sluggishness would be a full restoration of public confidence."

End of Slayer's Slimy Trail

By HENRIETTA LEITH
NEW YORK (AP) — It was Washington's Birthday. In Brooklyn, widowed Edith Kleicorius decided to spend the holiday with her brother, over the river in Manhattan. She was taking along her mother and her little girl, also named Edith but called Google.

(From New Jersey Tuesday night, police made a trip over another river to Manhattan, but it was no holiday outing. They were bringing back a 28-year-old handyman, run to earth on a New Jersey chicken farm after one of New York City's greatest man-hunts. They said he was the man who raped little Edith and beat her to death against a wall — on Washington's Birthday.)

TRIP OPENED WELL

Little Edith's journey to Manhattan was uneventful. Her mother dressed her in a green dress and purple snowsuit. The girl, pretty 4-year-old was wearing tiny gold rings in her old-country-style pierced ears. She and her mother and grandmother Frances Duetet took the long subway ride. They arrived at the home of Uncle Manuel Duetet, on Eighth Avenue near 15th Street, in the deteriorating Chelsea neighborhood.

(Just five days before, a slight, seamy but well-spoken man applied for the vacancy at a rooming house at 307 West 20th Street, less than three blocks from Uncle Manuel's home. The landlady was away, and her friend, a barmaid, showed him the room. It was small and plain, with just a bed, dresser and chair. The man, who said he was Fred Thompson, paid the barmaid $3 for a week's rent.)

In the afternoon little Edith put on her purple snowsuit and went out to play in front of Uncle Manuel's home while her mother and grandmother talked family talk inside. Uncle Manuel was outside, keeping an eye on her, but he needed a pack of cigarettes and walked around the corner.

(The smiling man came up to the little girl and spoke to her kindly: "I have a little girl like you, but she's sick at home. Would you like to come and visit her?" The friendly child walked off with the nice man.)

Google wasn't in sight when Uncle Manuel came back a few minutes later. He looked all around but couldn't find her. Worried, he told the women inside, and everybody looked. The longer they looked, the more worried they got.

Finally they told the police, who combed the neighborhood and questioned everyone who had been around when Google disappeared. That night, after hours had gone by with no trace of her, police announced that a little girl was missing.

HE WAS WILD-EYED

(About that time, a wild-eyed man was locking the door of a second-floor room a few blocks away. He had the only key that would unlock that door, for the duplicate he had given to the landlady wasn't a duplicate at all. At first, police thought someone

Killer Thompson May Escape Electric Chair

NEW YORK (UPI)—What will happen to Fred Jackson Thompson, the aimless drifter who confessed the sex-killing of 4-year-old Edith Kleicorius?

Premeditated murder in New York calls for death by electrocution, and Thompson has confessed in detail to the crime. With public feeling as it is now, the district attorney is expected to prosecute for the death sentence.

But it may prove very difficult to send Thompson to the electric chair.

One New York attorney pointed out Thompson has laid the groundwork for being ruled incompetent, or not within his own control when the crime was committed.

AP Photos.

SAYS HE DID IT — These are three studies of Fred Thompson, 59, who admitted during Edith Kleicorius to his Manhattan tenement room, attacking her and beating her to death against a wall. He has been booked on a homicide charge.

might have taken the little girl home with them for a meal or a warm place to sleep thinking she was lost or not properly cared for. But the printed and broadcast appeals for her return brought no results, and by Thursday police abandoned this idea.

The search went on. Helicopters flew over for a close look at all the rooftops. The Hudson River was scoured. Collar by collar, backyard by backyard, room by room, police searched the neighborhood.

HE WAS THE MAN

(Two miles away on the opposite side of Manhattan, there were many men with haunted eyes huddled in cheap Bowery rooming houses, trying to drive away their private ghosts with wine or beer. There was one who was more soberly drunk and whose eyes were more haunted than the others.)

By Friday there were more than 400 police in the hunt, with pictures of the little girl stuck in their caps, and soundtracks were blaring all over a wide area on the West Side, describing the missing child.

Records were pored over for a clue—recent deaths of children about Google's age. The mother made public appeals: "Only a mother can understand the way I feel."

Over the weekend the search went on without a letup. Police still knocked on neighborhood doors. Some of them were still soaked tight, with silence behind them.

HE WANTED TO LEAVE

(On the Bowery, the men with the red-rimmed sad eyes were sleeping it off, or starting all over again. One of them began to try to sober up. He had to get so sober enough to get out of town.)

Monday morning, police began making another round of neighborhood rooms. It seemed hopeless, but something had to be done to keep the search alive. They were on their way to a rooming house on 20th Street, where one locked door had bothered them. At that house, a roomer decided there was something wrong in a silent second-floor room and told the landlady. They were trying to open the door when the cops came. They crashed in. They found a little girl's bruised body on the bed, and they found a purple snowsuit.

GRANNY SCREAMED

At the police station only half a block away, Edith Kleicorius was talking to police for what seemed like the hundredth time, trying to think of something that would be a clue. They brought her mother to the police station and, in another room, told the grandmother the news. They couldn't stop her screaming, and nobody could keep Mrs. Kleicorius from hearing those screams. She knew before they told her.

(Fred Thompson had had many jobs since he walked away from his family 15 years ago, but in 1953 he worked as a nightclub doorman, so he had to have a police cabaret card, with a photograph and fingerprints. Later he gravitated toward the summer resorts in the Catskill Mountains, where he got too drunk to work and would get fired.)

Back on 20th Street, police were getting fingerprints from the pile of beer cans that had shared the room with little Edith's body for four days. A police artist was making a sketch of the man who had rented the room, from descriptions of those who had seen him.

Dozens of middle-aged men with no teeth, and the slightest resemblance to the descriptions of the roomer, were picked up and questioned.

On Monday the detectives had found the doorman's cabaret card and matched its fingerprints with those on the beer cans.

Now they had a photograph instead of an artist's conception, and began preparing a vast distribution.

(The man in the Bowery room had sobered up. On Monday he went to a bus terminal and caught a bus to Philadelphia. He went to an employment agency. They steered him to a man on a chicken farm in Manchester Township, N.J., who wanted a handyman.

(The chicken farmer hired John Andrews and told him to go to work Tuesday. Later the farmer, Max Pesko, saw the artist's sketch of the hunted man and thought it looked something like Andrews. When he read that Thompson, like Andrews had a British accent, he became more suspicious.

Tuesday Andrews reported for work. By then, Pesko had seen in another newspaper the cabaret card photograph of Thompson and was sure. He called the state police.

In Brooklyn, Mrs. Kleicorius was preparing for a Mass of the Angels for little Edith at St. Rose Lima Roman Catholic church. When the word of capture came, she was quick. Within a couple of hours there were hundreds of angry people outside the police station. A relative of little Edith and another woman carried signs demanding the electric chair for Thompson. In the crowd was Uncle

HORRIFIED BY SELF

(In New Jersey someone else was telling police that Thompson should go to the electric chair—or at least of prison for life. That said police, was the verdict of Fred Thompson, alias John Andrews, when he finally admitted what he had done to little Edith.)

(On the drive back to Manhattan his eyes not so haunted now—he told a police inspector thoughtfully: "It was the worst crime I have ever known. And I'm committed to it.")

Conrad Flies to Wake on Round-World Trip

HONOLULU (UPI)—Max Conrad flew toward Wake Island today on the third leg of his attempt to set a new round-the-world speed record for a piston plane.

The 35-year-old pilot stopped only two and one-half hours in Honolulu Tuesday, after a 2,558-mile hop from Long Beach, Calif. He began the flight Monday at Miami, Fla.

After a brief stop for refueling at Wake, Conrad plans to make his longest hop, a 3,028-mile flight to Manila. He is scheduled to receive a routing welcome from Filipino airmen when he arrives Thursday.

Conrad hopes to make the round-the-world flight in nine days, after flying 23,451 miles.

House, Senators May Throw JFK Curve on Roads

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Kennedy faced a congressional road of deep ruts and sharp curves today in his proposed tax program to speed construction of interstate highways.

Even key Democrats saw little chance for passage of the measure in its present form. Kennedy asked Congress to cancel a scheduled one-cent cut in the gasoline tax and boost taxes on trucks, diesel fuel, tires and other highway used items.

Democrats and Republicans alike agreed the proposal would have "considerable difficulty" even getting through the House Ways and Means Committee, much less Congress.

Alateens Search for Guideposts to Life With Alcoholic Parents

It was the regular Wednesday night meeting of our Alateen group. The 14-year-old girl talking was attending for her third time, asking pretty much the things we had all asked, describing the feelings we had all felt.

"I guess you know it already," Clare was saying, "or I wouldn't be here." She took a deep breath and said it: "My mother's an alcoholic."

There was silence in the room. We all knew how she felt. The first time you say those words, you think the floor will open and swallow you up. After years of trying to hide it, the truth gets hard to do. Clare looked defensively at the dozen teen-agers in the church social room. But in our eyes there was no shock, no pity, just a deep recognition. When she spoke again it was with more confidence.

ACTING FUNNY

"For a long time I didn't know what the trouble was. I'd come home from school and Mom would be acting funny. It scared me. I couldn't understand. When I did, I was so embarrassed I wanted to die. Now it's gone on so long, I don't even think I like her any more."

"Why does she have to spoil everything?"

There it was, the 144 question we had all asked. Why? Why did a drunken parent have to "spoil everything" for us, for a whole family? And what could we do about it?

We tried to answer Clare's "why" with the information doctors have given us: today trained specialists know that the alcoholic is not a "bad" person, only a sick one.

A RELIEF

is that these things make it easier to live with an alcoholic, and easier for him to live with us.

We haven't come together chiefly to help others, but to help ourselves. And believe us, we need it, we children of alcoholics!

Reich May Face Hike in Taxes

Rise in Election Year Would Help to Finance Foreign Aid Defenses

BONN (UPI)—West Germans may be in for a tax increase this year.

Although 1961 is an election year, Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's government is seriously considering raising taxes.

In the first place, we need to be able to love and respect our parents—all kids need that. Most of us have grown up feeling pretty much the opposite. In Alateen we study alcoholism, we read about it and invite members of Alcoholics Anonymous (AAs) to speak at our meetings. Understanding the nature of the illness gives us back our parents as people we can love again.

Secondly we need help in solving some very practical problems. What do you do when you come home and find your mother passed out on the kitchen floor? Call the doctor? Call your Dad at the office? Try to get her into bed yourself? Leave and pretend you never saw her?

FEW FRIENDS

And what about inviting friends home? Friendships are pretty important in your teens. But most of us have been so afraid people would "find out" that we've grown up without close friends. It's these questions and others like them that we thrash out at our weekly meetings.

What do you do with problems of your own personality? The alcoholics in AA have found an answer: "Let go and let God." For us in Alateen, too, this can be the beginning of health.

Alateen is strictly a teen-ager affair, using the insights of Alcoholics Anonymous and its sister group Al-Anon but independent of both of them.

Like them, it has no officers, no dues, no formal membership, nothing to offer, in fact, but the friendship and joint discoveries of other young people caught on a dark road, but glimpsing a light at the other end.

Defence costs also are rocketing with costly jets and missiles on the Bundeswehr shopping list.

Germany also has agreed to pay more toward the costs of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

If being an election year, Finance Ministry officials refuse to confirm or deny that tax increases are in the air.

But Finance Minister Franz Eitel has indicated that such increases may be forthcoming.

"We know," Eitel said, "that a row of additional responsibilities awaits us. I am thinking in particular of greater defence efforts and higher contributions to development aid."

There can be no state expenditure, Eitel meaningly pointed out, without state income.

"An effort in one direction," he said, "must of necessity be a burden in another."

Just who will have to bear the biggest burden of a tax increase is unclear.

AS PCT. LIMIT

The limit on income tax is presently 55 per cent. It is unlikely that this ceiling will be pushed higher. There is a greater movement to bring it down to 50 per cent.

West Germany, unlike many other countries, knows of no super tax whereby a person with a "super" income may have to pay up to 90 per cent or more in income tax.

Undoubtedly there will be a tightening on expense allowances. The government already has taken steps in this direction.

Soapy's Causing Unrest in African Affairs

One cannot help but notice the reception on his 13th nation fact-finding tour of Africa, G. M. KENNEDY (Soapy) WILLIAMS was barely stirred and the howls of protest began.

Britain's Parliament protested and even suggested President Kennedy recall the new Assistant Secretary of State for African Affairs. At least on the surface it would appear that Soapy on the loose is not adding much statesmanship to this unholy mess.

We wonder if the new Assistant Secretary realizes that his presence in Africa is causing more consternation than good. It seems that every time he opens his mouth he puts both feet in.

A few days ago he told the people of Kenya that Mr. Kennedy's "Africa for Africans" policy meant liberation as fast as Africans want it; further, that the Negro men of Africa should stop making the women do all the work.

With Soapy speaking officially for KENNEDY this sounds dangerous since other Congo-like upheavals are possible.

It would seem reasonable to believe that our spokesman in Africa should be seeking peace rather than unbraiding more tempers.

Why Not Use County Lot for Downtown Shoppers?

Since public parking spaces are at a premium, particularly close in to the downtown area we would like to offer a suggestion that might bear some study.

The county owned parking lot on the corner of West Huron and Wayne Street might possibly be leased on some sort of temporary arrangement by the City of Pontiac from Oakland County.

We would not intend that employees parking there now be frozen out completely. Perhaps the city could arrange to allocate the same number of spaces in a city-owned lot not quite so adjacent to the downtown area. A short walk of a few blocks should not be considered a hardship for free all-day parking.

The whole arrangement would have to be temporary, since final disposition of the property in question is not known at this time.

Who would stand to gain? Area citizens by some 35 parking spaces in the heart of the shopping area. We feel sure that if an amicable arrangement could be worked out it would be a definite community benefit.

What do you think?

Economists to Examine Foreign Trade Problem

The Economic Institute meeting in Washington under the auspices of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce will discuss our balance of payments position and the possibility of increasing exports.

Manufacturers and labor leaders alike have expressed concern over the continuing rise of imports from Europe and Asia. Last year Under Secretary DILLON warned that "either we (all nations) move ahead to get rid of outmoded trade restrictions or we can expect a resurgence of protectionism and restrictive action."

Foreign competition has become increasingly sharp. Some American made goods have been priced out of world and domestic markets. However, more restrictive import quotas and higher tariffs iffs would bring retaliation and things would probably get worse. Many still remember the results of the Smoot-Hawley tariff act when our foreign markets collapsed overnight.

In an effort to improve our trade position the KENNEDY Administration announced its intention to modify tax laws to provide additional incentives for investment in U.S. plants and equipment. President KENNEDY is preparing to ask Congress for a change in tax laws on foreign subsidiaries' profits which are untaxed until brought back into this country.

Naturally, this had tended to expand the foreign plants with U.S. tax free profits. Such a strong incentive had encouraged U.S. expansion abroad which now totals $30 billion. Any discussion of foreign competition must recognize that much of it is created by American owned plants.

Some agreement should be reached to assure economic growth and raise standards of living in industrialized and less developed nations alike. A liberal policy is necessary to an effective world trading system.

High Court Must Allow Probes

WASHINGTON—It seems incredible that, with a cold war going on and with billions of dollars being spent by the Soviet government to infiltrate every Democratic country in the world, there should be issued by four members of the Supreme Court of the United States—Chief Justice Warren, Justices Black, Douglas and Brennan—an opinion which appears to brush aside the Communist menace in its realistic form.

Fortunately, five other members of the court—Justices Stewart, Clark, Frankfurter, Harlan and Whitaker—see the Communist menace in its realistic form. By their latest decision, they made it clear that the empty claim to protection of "free speech" will not save suspected Communists in the United States from investigation by an authorized congressional committee.

The four dissenting justices insist that witnesses, when asked by a congressional committee whether they are Communists, need not even take the Fifth Amendment but can refuse to answer on the ground that their rights of free speech under the First Amendment are being transgressed.

The argument solemnly proclaimed by the four dissenting justices is that no agency of the federal government, be it legislative, executive or judicial, may "harass or punish people for their beliefs, or for their speech about, or public criticism of, laws and public officials."

This doctrine would make it possible for any citizen to decline to tell an investigating committee about radicals, monopolies, payola or any irregularities in human behavior on which it might be desirable to pass remedial laws.

The witness could merely claim that the congressional committee was "harassing" him for his criticisms of the committee and was trying to punish him for his "beliefs."

Congressional efforts to get information on which to base regulatory laws could thus be frustrated.

In the latest opinion—the case of Frank Wilkinson, who refused to give even his place of residence to the House Committee on Un-American Activities—the majority of the justices repeated a statement from a previous decision which said:

MUSTN'T BE BLIND SELF "To suggest that because the Communist party may also sponsor peaceable political reforms the constitutional issues before us should now be judged as if that party were just an ordinary political party from the standpoint of national security is to ask this court to blind itself to world affairs which have determined the whole case."

(Signed) Mary Jane — Mary Jane does not say precisely what made her turn herself in and acknowledge that she is an alcoholic. Perhaps God answered her prayer for help.

She does not mention Alcoholics Anonymous. A drinker who seeks help from Alcoholics Anonymous must acknowledge, as all members do:

I AM AN ALCOHOLIC. Then, even if he or she, with the help of the other members, goes for a month, a year or 10 years without a drink, he or she must still acknowledge, I AM AN ALCOHOLIC. Recognizing that, he or she will never run the dreadful risk of having just a little drink.

Mary Jane is indeed a lucky woman. Of course she must not be exposed to cocktails, highballs or quick ones for the three months she was in the hospital. But it takes greater strength of character than most drinkers have to fight the narcotic habit alone—alcohol is a narcotic. That's where Alcoholics Anonymous helps so much. Somebody drinkers who are fighting the habit themselves or who have won the fight can inspire the new member when all the preaching and pleas of non-drinkers fail.

Look in the telephone book for the address of an AA group in your vicinity. Find out when they meet, then attend the meeting. You'll find the men and women there friendly and courteous. Attending your first meeting may prove to be the turning point in your life.

Praises Soapy Williams for Actions in Africa

In The Press edition of Feb. 25 headlines on protest of actions of the brave G. Mennen Williams in Africa stirring wrath of British conservatives. I praise Williams for "moving to the line and let the chips fall where they may."

It was not long ago the newspapers were telling the American public that natives of South Africa were being shot down in the streets and their own dooryards for refusing to work in the mines of the British owners.

Will Shave Off Beard Before Celebration

Since the City of Pontiac refuses to let the firemen and policemen participate in the centennial in the way they want (beards) on June 1, just at the beginning of the celebrations, I will shave off five months growth from my tender little cheeks and have nothing to do with the City I have lived in all my life. Adrian Tries Again to Save Area Plant

ADRIAN (U)—Adrian city officials will meet with the General Services Administration (GSA) in Washington Thursday in another attempt to save an abandoned Air Force surplus plant from an Indiana firm that wants to scrap it rather than put it back into operation.

Mayor Roy McPhail and City Administrator Clifford Miles will head the delegation to be joined in Washington by Michigan Sen. Philip A. Hart and Patrick V. McNamara.

The group plans to ask the GSA to reject the high bid of Strom Machinery Co. of Hammond, Ind., and to negotiate individually with Strom and the second highest bidder, Harvey Aluminum Co. of Torrance, Calif.

Harvey has indicated it will put the plant back in operation, eventually employing up to 2,500 people.

Brother Edward to Head Kennedy Memorial Fund

BOSTON (U)—Edward M. Kennedy, youngest brother of President Kennedy, has succeeded his older brother, Robert, as president of the Joseph P. Kennedy Jr. Memorial Foundation. It was announced today. Robert now is attorney general of the United States.

Edward, now an assistant district attorney in Suffolk County (Boston), heads the foundation set up by the Kennedy family as a memorial to the oldest Kennedy brother who was killed as a Navy flier in World War II.

The foundation established the laboratories for research on mental retardation under construction at Massachusetts General Hospital, and the Kennedy Memorial Hospital in Boston, a community center in New York, the School for Exceptional Children near Chicago, and child study centers in New York and Santa Monica, Calif.

Men in 2nd Childhood?

By PHYLLIS BATTLE
NEW YORK — Adult American men are playing twice as many indoor games as they played five years ago.

They also are buying a record number of kiddie toys. From model ship kits to miniature physicians' bags. And not for Sissy, but for self.

WHAT ABOUT COMICS?

In fact, the strong trend toward "kiddiness" is so big among men today that we are seriously wondering when, and if, the great American patriarch finds time for his traditional favorite diversion — reading the comic strips.

It would be shocking indeed to contemplate the nation's fathers foregoing jiggs and Steve Canyon for tidily-winks and go fish!

But this, apparently, is exactly what is happening to the Toy Manufacturers Association considers it not only peachy but perfectly proper.

After all, they quote, someone once said, "The better part of the man is the boy" — so if Daddy wants to better himself with parches and windup ocala bears, who is to say "bet your age?" Not the toy makers, certainly. To them, the more fathers who spend their leisure time in short pants-thinking, the better.

"Adults never lose their interest in the games they enjoyed when young," explained one toy salesman, "so why shouldn't they break down and show it? Does it make them any less men that they still find delight in fooling around with interesting toys?"

Now, there is a leading question that might catch up an unwary sentimentalist and cause him to reply, quickly, "Of course not."

PICTURE THE MOTHER

But hold on a moment! Picture the housewife-mother in the family, who is every bit as sentimental and childhood-oriented as her husband. Would she be considered any less a woman if she still found delight in playing with dolls?

I think so. I think she'd be considerably less a woman; considerably more a neurotic or idiot.

Yet father, whose "role" in family life has become so hazy in recent years, can play kid stuff and still be assumed to have all his marbles.

It just shows how far off intelligent target all this talk of "togetherness" and responsibility sharing can take the American family: First, it is decided that it's perfectly normal for father to enjoying playing little games with his children; now it's okay for him to enjoy playing little games even WITHOUT them.

I suppose the reversion toward childhood on the part of grown men to be looked upon with amusement for a time, and that even sociologists will agree with the smug toy manufacturers that it is quite wholesome, really, for men to be boys. At any rate, some sociologists (and most wives) will rationalize it is better for father to stay at home playing with electric trains than to stay out playing poker with the boys.

Perhaps, flushed with success, the toy people will convince the department stores to set up "adult fun shops" for the young at heart.

But the time will come when we'll all realize that there is basic difference between being young at heart and infantile of mind, and then the toys will be returned to the kids, and the men returned to the position of dignity in the American family.

Meantime, goodness knows what jollies lie in wait for daddy — what cute novelties will be advertised for "the man who is just a big kid." They are almost certain to turn the youngsters green with envy. —But they will be kindly, because children usually are tolerant of adults, and they'll explain to their friend that, "My dad's just going through second childhood."

And how will they know terms like that? Easy. Because, as their fathers take up erector sets, the kids'll take up reading.

With their innocent and inherent sense of order and balance, children know that SOMEONE must maintain the family sanity.

Degenerates Here, There, Everywhere

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK (UPI)—"It seems unbelievable," said a neighbor of 4-year-old Edith (Goochie) Kierco, "that on a day when nobody the blonde tot in a rooming house ventures." And their threat "hangs on Manhattan's West Side," says Hoover, in a recent Birthday from the sidewalk in publication called "The Menace of the Child Molesters."

Such crimes seem, as the neighbor, Mrs. Beatrice Bicke, had said, "unbelievable."

Yet they happen and the black headlines tell the grim story of the children who are what New York's Police Commissioner said in a recent birthday from the sidewalk in publication called "The Menace of the Child Molesters."

At what rate they commit their heinous acts, federal authorities can only guess, for police departments use varying labels to book these criminals.

Police authorities believe this type of crime will be reduced or wiped out only as parents and school authorities educate their children sufficiently to the dangers of association with strangers.

The FBI began one such campaign four years ago with coloring books, distributed through elementary schools. The sketches taught the lesson of turning down rides by strangers, of refusing gifts such as candy, of the need to be home after dark unless with some member of the family. The FBI said more than three million of the books had been distributed.

New York City's Police Department has a section on child safety in its "Pamphlet for Women," a publication of the public information office.

Called "Children Need Protection," its message cannot be repeated too often to parents nor drilled too thoroughly into children. "Remember, these things can happen to anyone," said Sgt. John Collins of the police department. Collins, who has three youngsters ages 16, 11 and 8, said "safety begins at home."

The publication's message: —Know the length of time it takes your child to walk to and from school and check, if there is any delay in his or her arrival or return. —Know the safest route to school, show it to the child, and instruct him to use it. —If a child is to arrive home after dark, arrange to meet him. —Know your child's playmates.

—Instruct the child to report suspicious persons or attempts of unknown persons to approach him or to get acquainted.

—Don't let the child accept rides or gifts unless you know the adult who offers.

—Train your child to report to you anywhere he is going.

—Visit the school and become acquainted with the teachers and other school officials, and report to them if you see, or your child sees, any suspicious character hanging around.

Gets Irked by Paper at Table

By The Emily Post Institute

Q Isn't it bad manners to read a newspaper at table, especially when dining out in a restaurant? My husband does this quite frequently and thinks it is perfectly all right so long as there are no guests present. I think he is being very discourteous to me. Will you please settle this question?

A: If he were alone at the table he could read his newspaper to his heart's content, but certainly not when you or anyone else is with him.

Q I have been invited to a silver wedding anniversary party and intend to send a present.

I would like to know if it is necessary to send something that both can use, or would it be proper to send something for the wife's own personal use?

A: It is preferable to give them something for their house that both can use, but it is not improper to send something for the wife's own use.

Q When a man telephones a young woman at her house and she is not at home, is it proper to leave a message for her to call him when she comes in, or should he call her again?

A: He can leave a message for her to call him if he needs a definite answer to something right away; otherwise he should say that he will call her again and ask when she is expected.

Q Because of my husband's job we moved into a completely strange town about five months ago. Since that time, not even one neighbor has been over to visit us. I am terribly lonesome as we are several hundred miles from home and I don't know a soul here.

Would it be permissible for me to take the initiative and go and visit some of the neighbors, or might they consider me forward?

A: It will really not be proper for you to visit these neighbors until they have called on you, or asked you to come to see them. You might get to know them by joining a church, working for charities or by taking part in other activities in which they are interested.

Let 'Em Be, Says Abby:

His Need Is HER Need

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a son, age 21, who is still bumming a living off his mother, who is 52?

This poor old woman gets a little income from a rooming house. She has worked hard all her life.

Her 14-year-old "baby" hasn't done a lick of work in 40 years, but he is her only child and can do no wrong in her eyes.

SHIRTTAIL RELATIVE

DEAR SHIRTTAIL: You can't so don't try. True, he is a lazy, shiftless, free-loading lout, but he needs someone to work for him, and apparently his mother needs someone to work for. Maybe that's the reason she's still going strong at 52!

DEAR ABBY: A buddy of mine asked me to take out his sister. So I did. She is a very plain girl who is built straight up and down and is nothing to look at. She has a very quiet personality—until you get her alone.

To make a long story short, she is the fastest thing I've ever dated. She made all sorts of advances to me and asked me to kiss her. She even told some jokes I could be ashamed to repeat.

My buddy (and he is a very nice guy) keeps hinting to me how much his sister liked me. I feel like a heel because I don't intend to take her out again. Does a guy tell his buddy the truth about his sister or does he keep his mouth shut?

"FEELS LIKE A HEEL"

DEAR "FEELS": He keeps his mouth shut. Just because a girl is built straight and narrow doesn't mean she behaves that way, but in this instance it's not your problem.

DEAR ABBY: My husband thinks that when a person says, "Come over sometime," it is a real invitation and he is all set to go. I say when someone calls up and asks you for a certain day and time, THAT is an invitation. Who is right?

A FAN

DEAR FAN: You are

Tired of New TV, People Turn to Art

NEW YORK (UPI)—The nation is having a boom in art which one gallery owner described as "like a wave which hit us."

Business is so good, quipped Martha Jackson, "that we sometimes find we've sold a painting twice."

Mrs. Jackson cited three major reasons for the collection fever infecting a cross section of the country from the young marrieds to the wealthy business executive.

"Popular publications are

"And, there comes a time when we must satisfy our aesthetic needs . . . People have been able to buy the cars and television sets, but find they need to be interested in something beyond the mechanical and material. The novelty has worn off the new dishwasher."

All of which is a healthy trend, Mrs. Jackson finds. "Shopping for art trains your taste in all walks of life," she said in an interview. "You will buy better looking clothes . . . select an architect for a more beautiful home."

FOR THE CHILDREN

"I think every home should have some original work or works for the children's sake," she continued. "Children brought up on art turn out to be better people."

Her advice to the beginning

collector: Don't select a painting strictly because you like it. "It may be a pretty scene, and still not be worth anything as art," she said.

Do comb the reliable galleries, whose experts already have weeded out the bad. And don't worry about whether the painting fits the living room decor. "The true collector pays no attention to where the picture will be hung," she said. "I once saw a Gauguin hanging in a bathroom."

Plan Ball to Benefit Children

Members of the Women's Division of the Greater Detroit Chapter of the Michigan Association for Emotionally Disturbed Children met yesterday to hear a panel discussion on mentally ill children, and announce plans for a fund-raising invitational ball.

Mrs. Roy A. Frueh, of Middle Belt Road, West Bloomfield Township, president, introduced the panel which was made up of Dr. William C. Morse, professor of Educational Psychology at the University of Michigan; Dr. Ralph Rubino, Director of Hawthorn Center, at Northville; Dr. Stewart Finch, director of Children's Psychiatric Hospital, University of Michigan; and Dr. Douglas A. Sargent, psychiatric director, Clinic for Child Study, Wayne County Juvenile Court.

Members of the women's division will raise funds by selling ads in a program for the Causal Ball to be held June 3 at the Sheraton Cadillac Hotel. To be featured are Guy Lombardo, his band, Sam Levenson and Allan Jones. William J. Scripps of Bennington Drive, Bloomfield Hills, is chairman of the project evaluation committee.

Models Will Parade Fresh Spring Finery

"June" will be literally "bustin' out all over" as more than 60 models parade in spring finery at the Waterford-Clarkston Business and Professional Women's club's annual fashion show-card party Monday at the Waterford Community Center.

At 7:30 p.m., a dessert will be served with coffee, tea or milk. The club plans on accommodating more than 400 people, whose contributions to the affair will be added to the BPW's scholarship fund.

The "Introduction to Spring" parade will begin at 8 p.m. as men, women and children display the latest, most elegant and practical attire. The models will move quickly around the tables for close viewing by the guests.

Full-skirted morning, afternoon and evening dresses will be worn over crisp, crinolined petticoats; complete ensembles from top to toe in various colors will be seen weaving through the audience, and "big people's" clothes will be modeled by the tiny tots.

Hair styles, conventional and high-style, will be modeled by some of the prettiest matrons in Waterford Township. Eleven beauticians in the township have cre-

Mrs. Gordon Cox of Mark Avenue was hostess for the February meeting of the March Group of First Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. George Beauchamp and Mrs. Dale Waters were cohostesses. Mrs. Donald McCandless gave the Bible study.

The March and November Groups will present the annual St. Patrick's Day fashion show at the church.

Mrs. Cramer Partridge, chairman of the March committee, has appointed her assistants: Mrs. Robert Irwin, models; Mrs. William Belaney, tickets; Mrs. John McGrath, refreshments; and Mrs. Edwin Ojaj, kitchen.

The March meeting will be with Mrs. Richard Kieft of Wrennah Drive.

Books Are Topic

"Wisdom Through Books" was the program topic for Chapter CL of the PEO Sisterhood at a meeting Monday in the Chippewa Road home of Mrs. Victor M. Lindquist. Mrs. Carmi J. Odell and Mrs. George H. Putnam participated in the discussion.

Mrs. John F. Williams assisted the hostess.

Mrs. Maynard Easley was a guest of the group.

Alpha Sigma Nu Sorority members met Tuesday at the Garland Avenue home of Mrs. Albert E. Kohn.

The club women are now busy selling last-minute tickets to the affair, which men as well as women of the community have been cordially invited to attend.

Guest for the evening was Lorna MacKellar, librarian at Eastern Junior High School, who reviewed Marguerite Colahan's "Sunset Dozen Glasses," relating the author's experiences and observations while in Brussels as wife of the United States commissioner during the last World's Fair.

Following the review Charlotte Amidon, president, read a letter of appreciation from Mrs. Elizabeth Kirkby, executive secretary of Oakland County Society for Crippled Children, for a "tiny tot" wheel chair recently donated by the sorority.

Mrs. Frank Jagunich, welcomed as a new member, was presented a corsage of violets and pink Sweetheart roses.

Elena Bajari was entertainment committee chairman, assisted by Mrs. Ivan Senters, Mrs. Georgia Kennedy, Mrs. T. P. Robertson and Mrs. H. L. MacLaughlin. Mrs. Elra Amidon served refreshments.

Workshop Planned for Extension Club

A workshop on "Family" for members of the Interlakes Extension Club is slated for Wednesday at the home of Mrs. George Quinne on Merry Road, Waterford Township.

Mrs. William Hurlburt gave the market report and lesson on wardrobe planning at last week's workshop. Mrs. Charles F. Allen of Watkins Lake Road was hostess.

New member Mrs. George Rupert was welcomed. Mrs. Francis Lohf and Mrs. Marie Hart were guests.

Elks Is Scene of Bridge Play

The Pontiac Duplicate Bridge Club's monthly masterpoint game was at Elks Temple Monday evening.

Among the winners were Dr. Charles Patrick and Richard McCarius, Al Wallace and Joseph Nouse, Allen Rososky and Donald Stephenson and Mrs. Jerome Fanger and Judith Lauritzen.

Others were Mr. and Mrs. Ericson Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. William Coddington, Mrs. Harrison Specht and Earl Waterman, Mrs. Ernest Guy and Stanley Conn, Melvin Small and Henry Georgia.

WINTER DRY SKIN

Steam heat, low winds and frequent temperature changes all take their toll on your skin in winter.

Constant care is a must. Use cold cream for removing make-up more frequently than soap and water. Add both oil to your daily bath and an over-oil rub-down with pleasant scented lotion when you step out of the tub or shower. Head-to-toe protection is essential with extra attention to hands and face.

Maple Leaf Club Centennial Film Will Be Shown

Members of the Maple Leaf Club attended a luncheon meeting Friday at the Hotel Waldron, with Mrs. Harold McDowell, Mrs. Dale Mouts and Mrs. Lawrence Terrien serving as hostesses.

New member Mrs. H. N. Wellhoff of Drayton Woods and Mrs. William Hooper, a guest, were welcomed.

The Pontiac Centennial film will be shown following the March 31 luncheon at the Hotel Waldron. Mrs. Erwin Rogge will be guest chairman assisted by Mrs. Everett Harris and Mrs. Lawrence Taylor.

Most important agricultural products of 1961 are rice, corn, millet, barley, tea, coffee, cane sugar, cotton, linseed and some rubber goods.

Sisters Present Check to Temple

The Past Chiefs of Mizpah Temple No. 7, Pythian Sisters, were guests of Mrs. Carl Erickson on Lakeside Drive, Drayton Plains, Thursday evening.

The club presented a check to the temple for the purchase of new cups for officers.

Work was resumed on the new temple to be presented to the sisterhood.

Square Dancers Set Gathering

The Wagon Wheeler Square Dance Club will meet Thursday from 8 to 1:45 p.m. at the Waterford Community Center on Williams Lake Road.

The Clifford Godfrey will be hosts for the evening. Mel Sheffer will call the numbers and Mrs. Sheffer will assist in teaching new numbers.

450 at Reception, Buffet-Dance

Karren Cummings Wed

White satin bows marked family pews in Christ Lutheran Church, Waterford, for the Saturday vows of Karren E. Cummings to Gerald D. McCallum.

The Rev. Arvid Anderson performed the candlelight ceremony before the altar banked with white chrysanthemums, gladioli and carnations.

Mr. and Mrs. Rex E. Cummings of Fiddle Street, Waterford Township, parents of the bride, were hosts at a reception and buffet supper dance for 450 guests at Waterford Community Center.

Fashioned of all-over embroidered nylon lace, the bride's gown featured a hooped-front skirt of pleated nylon ruffles beneath a lace overskirt and chapel train.

The pointed bodice, styled with wrist-point sleeves was embroidered with seed pearls and iridescent sequins.

Finger-tip silk illusion veiling was caught by a crown of sequins and pearls. A white orchid centered the cascade bouquet of white roses.

The bride's cousins Sandra Cummings of Royal Oak and Dorothy Mann of Lansing served as bridesmaids with Sharon Fauble and Helen Dickel.

Candy pink velveteen jackets, cummerbunds and gaudies complemented their dresses of frosty pink silk organza. They wore caplets of pearls and candy pink illusion and carried circular bouquets of white carnations centered with pink roses.

Kathleen D. Cummings, her sister's honor attendant, wore a white velveteen jacket and frosty pink organza dress. Her circular bouquet of pink carnations was centered with white carnations.

The bride's cousin Laurie Larsen of Northbrook, Ill., wearing floor-length white chiffon with hoop skirt embroidered with pink lace roses, had white gauntlets and a wreath of pink roses. She carried rose petals in a pink ribbon basket.

Michael Doyle of Crescent Lake was ring bearer.

MRS. GERALD D. MCCALLUM

Robert McCallum stood as best man for his brother. They are the sons of the Howard McCallums of Lyford Street, Waterford Township. Seating guests were Gary Cummings, Robert Ham and Duane Willett.

After a brief honeymoon, the couple will live on Hickory Lane, Crescent Lake.

Church Unit Hears Review of Book

Mrs. Elmer McLennan offered devotions. Hostesses were Mrs. Terry Frazor, Mrs. Clinton Nichol and Mrs. Howard Clayton.

Members completed plans for a mother and daughter banquet April 24. Committee chairmen for the event are Mrs. Paul Kilar, tickets; Mrs. Bob McVey, programs; and Mrs. Max Stone, table decorations.

Symphony Honors Local Talent

By A. MICHAEL DEMPSEY

The Pontiac Symphony Orchestra presented the fourth concert of the current season Tuesday evening in the Pontiac Northern High School auditorium.

In programming this concert, conductor Francisco Di Biasi made use of local talent in solo roles and the audience was rewarded with several fine performances.

The opening number, the stirring "Trumpet Voluntary" by the 17th century English composer Henry Purcell, was played with vigor and a full, ringing tone by the orchestra's first trumpet player Jack Coleman.

The program continued with the playing of the "Suite in A Minor for Flute and String Orchestra" by the 18th century composer G. P. Telemann.

The soloist was the Pontiac Symphony's solo flutist, A. Roger Wollman. Mr. Wollman played with flawless technique, a rich resonant tone, and above all, excellent musicianship.

Concluding the first half of the concert was the Tchaikovsky "Serenade for Strings." The melodies poured forth in best romantic fashion as associate conductor Celia Merrill Turner asked for and received a most mature and vibrant tone from the string section.

The most interesting selection of the evening orchestra was the "Fliebird Suite" by Stravinsky. The orchestra captured the mood of this composition in every respect.

The dreary, hypnotic repetition and weird woodwind melodies of the "Boreas," which were played with perfect intonation, gave way smoothly to the sheer brilliance and power of the "Finale." The "Fliebird Suite" was, in the opinion of many observers, one of the highlights of the current season.

To close the program, Lake Orion pianist Jerry Exline and the orchestra played "Rhapsody in Blue" by George Gershwin.

Supreme Court Pay Rejected

Bill Wanted Increase Effective With New Term to Be Paid Now

LANSING (AP)—An effort to give all State Supreme Court justices a $7,000 annual pay hike has gone down to defeat a second time in the House.

Rejection, by a 51-45 vote Tuesday, was along party lines with Republicans speaking against the measure and Democrats for it.

The proposed resolution would have put the issue on the April 3 election ballot. A similar Senate-approved measure was killed earlier by returning it to committee pigeonhole.

Justice Theodore Souris of Detroit, youngest member of the high court bench, is the only justice now receiving the $25,500 rate. The seven other justices draw $18,500.

The justices automatically receive the raise, voted last year as they start new terms. The two justices elected to eight-year terms this spring will be the next to receive the increase.

Rep. Allison Green of Kingston, House Republican leader, said he did not think the increase was justified during a "Kennedy recession."

The present high unemployment and increase in the relief rolls argue against the proposal, Green said.

"The cost of putting the proposal on the ballot would be more than the cost of the entire raise," Green said. "I think it would be rejected anyway."

Bagwell Can't Make Talk to MSU Group

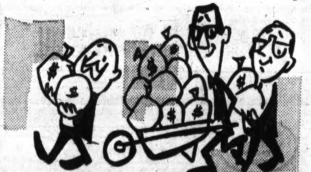

EAST LANSING (AP)—Former Republican candidate for governor and former Michigan State University faculty member Paul D. Bagwell will not make it back to the campus in time for a scheduled talk before the MSU Young Republicans Thursday, the group says.

Bagwell, still on a trip he started after losing a second gubernatorial campaign last November, wired the group from Denver, Colo., saying he "deeply regretted" missing the engagement.

"Will explain later," the telegram said.

Bagwell is expected to return to the MSU faculty April 1.

Creamy Date Filling Is Special Secret of Cake

Every woman who loves to cook loves to exchange recipes, and the prize-winning recipe was for a three-layer fudge cake with a creamy date filling and a rich chocolate cream frosting. It was the entry of Mrs. Hal Wells of Leicester, N.C., who share it with us here today.

Fudge Cake
3 cups sifted all-purpose flour
1 1/2 teaspoons soda
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup shortening
1 1/2 teaspoons vanilla
2 eggs, well beaten
3 squares unsweetened chocolate
1 1/2 cups hot water
Chocolate Cream Filling
Chocolate Cream Frosting

Measure sifted flour, add soda and salt, and sift together. Cream sugar, shortening and vanilla together. Add eggs and beat until light and fluffy. Add melted chocolate to chocolate mixture, beating after each addition until batter is smooth.

Chocolate Cream Frosting
Grate 2 squares unsweetened chocolate. Combine with 1 cup light cream and 2 cups sugar in a small heavy saucepan. Bring to a boil. Then boil 3 minutes, stirring occasionally. Remove from heat and set in a bowl of ice and water. Beat until frosting will hold its shape. Makes about 3 cups.

Date Cream Filling
Heat 1 cup milk and 1/2 pound chopped dates in the top of a double boiler. Combine 1/4 cup so-called vegetables or chicken for a gar, 1 tablespoon flour, and 1 egg, blending until smooth. Slowly stir into hot milk mixture. Cook and sugar, shortening and vanilla together. Add eggs and beat until light and fluffy. Add melted chocolate to chocolate mixture, beating after each addition until batter is smooth.

Pair Off Ham and Yams for Colorful Supper Dish

One safe guide in planning cold-weather menus is "Keep 'em hot and nourishment. Whenever those brilliant and hearty!" This Super on a ham yams appear on the table, the Plank is a colorful array; a rosy-basted ham steak surrounded by the frills of golden, mashed Louisiana yams, cherry red tomatoes, and bright green okra. It's a supper to satisfy the appetites whetted by the rest of the family will probably be interested in the wonderful snow of the sidewalks, or facing blasts to and from the super-market!

Yam and Ham Supper on a Plank
1 ham steak, about 1 1/2 inches thick
1 package (10-ounce) frozen whole okra
4 medium sized Louisiana yams
Cooked, peeled and sliced
1 cup melted butter or margarine
2 large tomatoes
Place ham in lightly oiled shallow baking dish. Bake in slow oven (325 degrees) 25 minutes. Cook okra according to package directions. Drain if necessary. Mash yams with 2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine and molasses. Cut tomatoes into halves. Place ham slices and tomato halves on plank. Force yam mixture through a pastry tube to form a border around ham and tomatoes. Brush tomatoes, ham and yams with remaining melted butter or margarine.

Louisiana Yam-Ham Bake
1 ham steak, about 1 1/2 inches thick
1 medium-sized Louisiana yam, cooked, peeled and sliced
1 cup molasses
1 tablespoon vinegar
4 teaspoon clove
Arrange ham in lightly oiled shallow baking dish. Top ham with yam slices and apple slices. Combine molasses, vinegar and apples. Pour over ham, yams and apples. Bake in slow oven (325 degrees) 30 minutes. Makes 4 servings.

Many good cooks like to cover frankfurters with boiling water and let them stand in a covered container for 5 minutes or so before broiling.

Woman to Face Trial for Slaying

State Supreme Court Rejects Plea on Case of Mrs. Lawrence

Mrs. Sarah Sue Lawrence, 35, of Pontiac, was sentenced to life in prison for the slaying of her husband, John Lawrence, 37, of Pontiac, on March 1, 1959.

The high court denied an application for leave to appeal from Mrs. Lawrence's attorney, James Renfrew. Renfrew was seeking to appeal Circuit Court Judge Charles J. Adams' decision of his motion to quash the indictment.

Mrs. Lawrence was discharged from the Iowa State Hospital last December to face a pending murder charge in April 1959.

Renfrew claimed Mrs. Lawrence was insane at the time of the slaying. She never stood trial because a sanity commission ruled she could not assist her attorney in her defense. She was committed to Iowa in May 1959.

Jessie K. Barry Jr., senior assistant prosecutor, said when informed of the high court's ruling that this "means we'll go to trial, maybe as one of the first cases during the March jury term."

An attractive mother of a young son, Mrs. Lawrence has been held in the county jail without benefit of bond.

A Bloomfield Hills man has been named Michigan Photographer of the Year, and three other county residents were awarded best of show trophies at the 29th annual convention of Professional Photographers in Detroit.

The coveted top award went to James Isley of 2805 Ashford Drive, who just recently moved to Bloomfield Hills from Mount Vernon, Ohio. He is with the General Motors photographic department.

Awarded the best of show trophies in their respective classes were Florence LaZaroff of 220 Oliver St., Pontiac, for his color photograph; Robert Thomas of 715 Livermore St., Ferndale, for children's portraits; and Morton Levine of 2700 Ridgely Road, Oak Park, for his direct color photograph.

Isley also won a best of show trophy for his direct color photograph. The exhibit pictures are displayed in the lobby of the Detroit Land Hotel.

Neighbors reported a break-in at a cottage at 833 River Drive in Highland Township yesterday to sheriff's deputies. Officers have been unable to locate the owner to determine what is missing.

Death Notice

ALLEN WANNER
IMLAY CITY — Service for former Imlay City resident Allen Wanner, 67, of Cass City, will be at 2 p.m. tomorrow at the Douglas Funeral Home in Cass City, followed by burial in Cass City Cemetery.

Mr. Wanner, a bishop of the United Methodist Church, died Monday after a long illness of two weeks at his residence.

Surviving are two sons, Ervin of Glenview and C. J. Wanner of Lapeer; a daughter, Mrs. Clair Tuckey of Cass City; nine grandchildren; and 23 great-grandchildren.

11-Mill Tax Approved in Ferndale District

FERDALE — School district voters have approved an 11-mill operating tax by a 240-1 margin in a special election yesterday.

There were 2,706 votes in favor of the proposal and 1,493 against.

Ten of the 11 mills are a continuation of a previously voted millage which expires this year. The additional increase over the present tax bill will be less than $1 per $1,000 of assessed valuation because the school district's debt will be reduced later this year, according to school officials.

Today's SYSTEM 'Is Killing

'By Appointment Only' Wears Our Nerves to Bits

By HAI BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—You know why civilization wears so many people out?

Their chronic fatigue doesn't come from doing things. It comes from the vacation and annoyance of trying to arrange to do something.

Nobody does anything offhand or on the spur of the moment. You have to set it up in advance. It has to be arranged.

The mat that once said "The new mat says, 'Welcome by appointment only.'"

You phone somebody in an office, and what happens? They don't connect you. An icy impersonal voice inquires, "Who's calling, please?"

BOYLE
You may be calling only to do him a big personal favor. It makes no difference.

The SYSTEM provides that you must give your name, rank and maybe your Social Security number, then hang fuming on the phone while you are invisibly announced and received or rejected.

YOU CAN, OF COURSE, FIGHT BACK. Whenever you get that maddening query, "Who's calling, please?" you can reply in a great hollow voice: "Tell him it is God returning his call—but too busy to wait."

YOU ARE BEATEN. Then slam the receiver hard.

But you can't really beat the SYSTEM today. It has you surrounded.

You phone your doctor and the secretary asks: "Do you have an appointment?"

"No, I have a sore throat."

"I can squeeze you in to see him three weeks from tomorrow at 4:15," she answers coolly. "But please be prompt. We don't like to keep the doctor waiting, do we?"

Try and get the television re-vogue—some of it necessary, but your teeth filled, or explain your last income tax return.

You even have to show up for an appointment with a judge before he'll sentence you to jail.

You don't have to die by appointment, but if your friends want to attend your funeral services they have to arrange to arrive at the appointed hour. If they get to the church 15 minutes late, you'll be gone—and the pastor may be performing a

A beatnik's only appointment is with utility. And this doesn't require phone calls or advance planning.

There is only one real way of escaping the SYSTEM.

Before a beatnik. As he doesn't plan to do anything much anyway, he doesn't have all the wear and tear of arranging things beforehand. His nerves are calm, untroubled.

A beatnik's only appointment is with utility. And this doesn't require phone calls or advance planning.

Commies Order Fire?

BOGOTA, Colombia (UPI)—Newspapers here expressed belief today that a $400,000 sabotage fire at the Colombia candy factory may mark the start of a "wave of terror" engineered by Communists from Cuba.

Distilled Education!

OKMULGEE, Okla. (AP)—Classes have long since ended in Mount Olive School but officers found other activities there. Operating in the school building was a 330-gallon whisky still, one of the largest ever found in the county.

State-Chartered Credit Unions Are Limited

LANSING (P)—A state-chartered credit union may not establish branch offices, additional offices or agencies, Atty. Gen. Paul L. Adams said today.

The opinion was sought by State Banking Commissioner Jerome J. Zielinski.

Adams said that absence of specific authority in the State Credit Union Act for credit unions to establish branches automatically prohibits them from doing so. Federal credit unions, on the other hand, are specifically authorized to establish branches, he said.

State-chartered credit unions are not prohibited from contracting with service organizations or other credit unions for such services as centralized bookkeeping and data processing, Adams said.

Doctor to Participate in Postgraduate Training

Dwight C. Ensign, M.D. of Franklin, will take an active part in the postgraduate training program of the Michigan Clinical Institute in Detroit, March 8-10. Dr. Ensign will appear on Wednesday's closed circuit color television scientific program.

The three days will be devoted to postgraduate study and lectures on the year's developments in medical science which can be used by the practicing doctors of medicine. The institute is co-sponsored by the Michigan State Medical Society and 10 other medical and health organizations.
