Yank Pilot Feared Dead

'N. Viet Missile Downs Jet'

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—A U.S. Navy plane raiding North Viet Nam was reported shot down by a surface to air missile today.

An American military spokesman said the plane, one of four A4 Skyhawks, was downed about 50 miles south-southwest of Hanoi in an area outside the missile sites in North Viet Nam.

The spokesman would not elaborate, but it was believed this indicated the missile was fired from a mobile unit.

The other three planes on the flight returned safely, and the pilots reported the fourth plane was downed by a surface to air missile, the spokesman said.

He added that no enemy aircraft were sighted in the area and no other ground fire was reported except that which hit the plane. The weather was reported clear.

NO PARACHUTE

No parachute was seen, the spokesman said, and the missing pilot was presumed killed.

It was the second reported downing of an American plane over North Viet Nam by an antiaircraft missile.

A U. S. Air Force F4C Phantom jet was shot down about 40 miles west of Hanoi on July 25, and the Pentagon attributed this to a surface to air missile.

Later the Pentagon announced that Air Force jets had bombed the missile site from which the Phantom had been downed as well as another site.

ATTACKING PLANES

It said one site was destroyed, the other damaged and three of the attacking planes were shot down by convention ground fire.

U.S. reconnaissance planes have located five other missile sites encircling Hanoi, but military spokesmen have raised the possibility that North Viet Nam also has mobile launching units.

The missile launchers are assumed to have been installed by Soviet technicians and may be manned by Soviet personnel.

In the ground war, U.S. and Vietnamese troops lifted the 70-day-old siege of Duc Co today.

Powerful units launched operations to wipe Viet Cong from the jungles flanking 40 miles of highway on which that special forces camp is situated near Pleiku, the Cambodian frontier.

U.S. troops of the 173rd Airborne Brigade and the 2nd Brigade of the 1st Infantry Division backed up government battalions of a relief column that reached Duc Co last night.

The Americans had flown Tuesday and yesterday to Pleiku, 2nd Corps area headquarters in the central highlands, as the relief column neared its goal, 30 miles southwest of Pleiku.

A patrol of U.S. paratroopers made a brief contact with guerrillas today at the Montagnard tribal village of Plei Ya Ho. Shots were exchanged, but when the paratroopers charged in they found only frightened villagers. The 1st Division infantrymen guarded Pleiku's airport.

Police, Rioters Fight on Coast

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Stones, bottles and bricks battered squads of helmeted policemen as they charged into 1,500 rioters, mostly teen-agers, in a Negro suburb last night and today.

More than 100 officers were dispatched to the scene, a community named Watts.

Deputy Police Chief Roger E. Murrdoock said about 15 officers and many Negroes were injured by flying objects. Some required hospital treatment. Twenty-six rioters were arrested.

With quiet restored after about eight hours of fighting, frightened residents huddled in their homes, peeking through curtained windows at streets littered with shattered glass, rocks and other debris.

Bystanders had been attacked auto windows smashed, and a some stores looted.

'TERRIBLE'
"I don't know how we are going to live here," said one of them, Mrs. M. J. Ellis. "It was terrible. Somebody needs to do something with these teen-agers. Their parents can't do anything. The police can't do anything."

The hospital yesterday also reported the death of an 8-year-old boy struck by a car in Novi Monday night.

James Monger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Monger, 4021 11 Mile, Novi, sustained multiple head injuries when he while crossing Grand River after dark.

Police said the boy, wearing dark clothing, was struck by a car driven by 18-year-old Vicky Medley of Detroit.

Miss Medley was charged with speeding and having no operator's license in her possession.

Novi police said the cab of Morath's pickup truck was crushed when it hit the rear of the tanker driven by Ervin Bantis, 45, of Allen Park.

Rendezvous to Highlight Space Flight

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)

—Most of the excitement and suspense of next week's Gemini 5 flight may be packed into the first six hours when Air Force Lt. Col. L. Gordon Cooper Jr., and Navy Lt. Cmdr. Charles Conrad Jr., will attempt the world's first space rendezvous with a satellite they call the "Little Rascal."

In disclosing details of the flight plan today, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said the rendezvous maneuver would be conducted from the second to the fifth orbits. It will be a rehearsal for the Gemini 6 flight scheduled in October, during which Navy Cmdr. Walter M. Schirra Jr., and Air Force Maj. Thomas P. Stafford are to try to link up their spacecraft with another satellite.

The space agency said the flight was scheduled to start Thursday at 9 a.m. (SEET) from Cape Kennedy, with a Titan 2 rocket serving as the booster. Gemini 5 is to settle initially into an orbit ranging from 100 to 219 miles high—43 miles higher than any U.S. astronaut has flown, but short of the Soviet record of 307 miles.

The flight is to last 191 hours 53 minutes, just seven minutes shy of eight days and will end with a landing in the western Atlantic, about 500 miles south of Bermuda. Cooper and Conrad are to circle the globe 121 times.

The time would break the world record of 4 days, 23 hours, (Continued on Page 2, Col. 5)

'Or We'd Pull Out'

Viet Aid Wanted—LBJ

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson, witnessing the oath-taking of Henry Cabot Lodge as ambassador to South Viet Nam, said today the United States never would undertake sacrifices in that country "if its help were not wanted and requested."

Johnson thus added his voice to a round of official clarifications that have followed published reports that Lodge gave senators secret testimony that the United States would keep its forces in South Viet Nam even if their withdrawal was requested by the Saigon government.

Lodge added his voice to the chorus of clarification earlier in the day, telling a reporter, "I didn't say that, I'll tell you that."

The reports that Lodge had said American troops would stay in South Viet Nam even if unwanted had precipitated considerable discussion over the possible new shift in national policy.

"Our determination is built on their determination. The United States would never undertake the sacrifices these efforts require if its help were not wanted and requested."

State Tax Talks Begin Today

MACKINAC ISLAND (AP)—Gov.

George Romney tries to give tax reform another jolt forward today and tomorrow at a two-day meeting with legislators.

"It would take a political miracle to get fiscal reform this year," the governor has said often.

As the closed-door meetings begin, it appeared he was correct.

Perhaps two dozen of the 35 legislators invited to Mackinac Island were to be on hand.

Even if this bipartisan group reaches agreement, its tax plan

2 Dems Disavow 'Intimidations'

LANSING (AP)—A Democratic legislator and a Michigan judge say they had nothing to do with alleged intimidations of Margaret Peggy Allen, State Police spy in the Madison Heights Seven Club gambling case.

House Speaker Joseph Kowalski of Detroit, who figured in the discontinuance of Miss Allen as a stenographer for House Democrats earlier this year, and Chief Justice T. John Lesinski of the State Appeals Court voiced disclaimers yesterday.

Kowalski said he never spoke to Miss Allen about her testimony in the court case. Judge Lesinski, asked if he knew anything about the charges, answered, "Quite simply, no."

Lesinski also issued a prepared statement denying any involvement.

Miss Allen, 29, pretty brunette who was a State Police undercover agent in helping set up the October 1963, raid at the Seven Club, created a furor with charges that a group of unnamed House Democrats had tried to intimidate her as a court witness.

Senate Majority Leader Raymond D. Zenzel of Detroit, calling Miss Allen "a very courageous person," invited her to apply for a job with his legislative group. Miss Allen is a stenographer at a Ford Motor Co. office in Birmingham.

ACTED AS BACK-UP

The role of a second girl as an agent for the State Police, an employee in Lesinski's office—was disclosed when Lesinski, in his statement on Miss Allen's charges, said his secretary, Barbara Fowler, worked with Miss Allen.

He said Miss Fowler, a friend of Peggy, accompanied Miss Allen to Madison Heights to "act as a back-up of the raid." He gave no details.

Kowalski said Miss Allen was dropped as a stenographer for House Democrats for security reasons.

He said her presence in the House chamber while under threat of possible reprisals constituted a threat to the safety of House members.

'REPREHENSIBLE'

Gov. George Romney, defending Miss Allen, termed the alleged acts "reprehensible."

Democratic Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley is investigating them.

With Miss Allen as chief prosecution witness, the state secured a conviction of 20 men on gambling and gambling conspiracy charges in a trial at Manistee.

Miss Allen made her charges at the conclusion of the state's case Tuesday.

12-DAY TRIAL
A jury convicted the 20 defendants that night after a 12-day trial.

The litigation spanned a period of 22 months.

The case was transferred from Oakland County to Manistee County on defense claims that a fair trial was not possible in Oakland County.

Individual MD Can Refuse Medicare Patients---AMA

CHICAGO (UPI)—The American Medical Association (AMA) advised its more than 200,000 members yesterday that individual physicians can legally refuse to treat patients who receive federal Medicare benefits.

The AMA warned, however, that if "physicians acting in concert through medical organizations" refuse to participate in the Medicare program, they run the risk of violating antitrust laws.

The new AMA statement, issued from its Chicago headquarters, marked a departure from the stand of some other medical groups and from previous statements of AMA President Dr. James C. Appel.

The directors of the Association of American Physicians and Surgeons last week urged its 15,000 members to follow a stringent policy of nonparticipation in the Medicare program. Some local medical societies have also gone on record against participation in the plan.

The AMA has long opposed Medicare, which is financed through Social Security. Instead, it endorsed implementation of the Kerr-Mills Law, which provides medical benefits on a voluntary basis financed through federal funds allocated to individual states on a matching basis.

Expect U.S. to End Drive on Soviet Dues to U.N.

U.P. Indians Live Poorly — Senator

HOUGHTON (AP) — Widespread skin diseases, inadequate housing and "no evidence of ordinary sanitation" mark the living conditions of Indians in two Upper Peninsula communities, a state senator said Wednesday.

There also are indications of racial discrimination against the Indians at Watersmeet and L'Anse, said Sen. Charles N. Youngblood Jr., chairman of the Senate Welfare and Education Committee.

Youngblood said he will report to the Senate next fall on his investigation of the hamlets of some 400 Indians near L'Anse and some 140 Indians near Watersmeet.

"They actually reside in tarpaper shacks," the Detroit Democrat said.

NO EVIDENCE
"There is no evidence of ordinary sanitation," he said. "There are no indoor toilets and we saw no evidence of privies in any of the areas we visited."

Youngblood said "there is ample evidence of the great outpouring of funds for toilets." He said he saw an example of this involving "a small girl with rickets." Rickets is a children's disease which disrupts normal bone formation. It is caused by lack of sunshine or vitamin D.

Almost all Indian children at Watersmeet showed evidence of skin diseases, he said.

Youngblood said one teenage high school girl indicated discrimination Indians face when she said: "Whenever girls with strength are required for high school athletic events, we are asked to participate."

NOT INVITED
"When there are parties, however, we are never invited," he said. "The skill of Indians in 'handy work' exceeded that of the whites, Youngblood said, 'but when it came to a question of learning the three 'R's' they were far behind their white brethren.'"

Samuel Taylor, a representative of Indian tribes in southern Michigan, accompanied Youngblood in the investigation.

Youngblood used a house trailer for his living quarters in observing the living conditions.

tenced Sept. 16, face maximum penalties of five years in prison and $10,000 fines on the conspiracy charges and a year in prison and $500 fines for violating gambling laws.

DISCREPANCY

Statements of Miss Allen and of James Finn, chief trial lawyer in the gambling case, disclosed a discrepancy over whether a "judge" was one of her alleged intimidators.

Finn charged that about six state officials were involved, including "a highly respected judge."

Miss Allen, at the home of her parents in Battle Creek, said:

"I never mentioned a judge. In fact, all I ever said was that they were officials at the state level."

Miss Allen said she was told by a group of House Democrats, about the time of her public revelation in the case, that "if I talked to the press, I would lose my job."

OTHER THREATS

She also said she had received other anonymous threats.

For this reason, she said, she had gone to New York City as an escape.

She returned to testify at Manistee — as she had done in the original court examination in Oakland County.

Finn, aide to Oakland County Prosecutor S. Jerome Bronson, said he was "increased" when he learned of the alleged intimidation while preparing the case for trial.

NOTHING DONE

"But there was nothing I could do until the trial was over," he said. "We couldn't jeopardize this trial."

Finn and Bronson have refused to disclose the names of the alleged intimidators.

Kowalski was asked if he had any knowledge of the alleged intimidation in view of his Democratic leadership.

"The House speaker said Miss Allen 'did her duty as a citizen' and said he had 'no recriminations against her.'"

'VERY CASUALTY'

Judge Lesinski was lieutenant governor and president of the Senate at the time the alleged intimidations took place.

Lesinski said in his statement he knew Miss Allen "only very casually," and that because she was a friend of Miss Fowler. He said he never discussed the case with Miss Allen "nor did I attempt in any way to influence her."

He also said he was acquainted with any of the defendants in the case.

Trial Is Slated for 'Marriage Counselor'

A self-styled marriage counselor will stand trial in Oak Park Aug. 23 on a charge of misrepresenting himself as a qualified psychologist.

The Oakland County Prosecutor's Office brought the charge against Jay B. Zee yesterday.

Zee, who lives in Harper Woods and has offices in Oak Park, is accused of violating the psychologist's registration act.

Assistant Prosecutor Timothy Dinan, who has been assigned to the case, said he believes that this is the first time the state law has been used since it came effective in 1960.

Oak Park Municipal Judge Burton R. Shuman released Zee on $250 personal bond after he had stood mute to the charge and waived a preliminary court examination.

Zee, whose real name is Jack B. Zitzer, is misleading the public, according to the prosecutor's office, because his application for certification as a psychologist had been denied by the Michigan Department of Education.

UNQUALIFIED CHARLATANS

Prosecutor S. Jerome Bronson said, "People who seek the advice of those who hold themselves out to the public as marriage counselors and psychologists seek such advice because of need."

It is cruel when advice is given by analysts who are nothing but unqualified charlatans," Zee practices at 25211 Coolidge, two blocks north of 10 Mile Road.

FRONT WHEEL DRIVE—Thor, an 85-pound St. Bernard, is currently wearing castor-equipped casts on both front legs. Given a one-in-ten chance of living after being hit by a car, the Rochester, N.Y. dog is able to maneuver with the aid of the casters. Some comfort also comes from the kitten that joins Thor in the frame barn.

Suit Challenges New Vote Law

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — An attack on the constitutionality of the new federal voting rights law has been filed in federal court and the state's attorney general hints there may be a second test suit.

Gov. John J. McKeithen says he thinks the suit challenging the law — designed primarily to open registration rolls in the Deep South to Negroes — has a good chance.

Syria-Israeli Battle Halted

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP) — A three-hour tank and artillery battle across the Syria-Israeli border ended in mid-afternoon today after intervention by the U.N. truce supervision organization.

Syrian and Israeli planes flew over the battle area but did not make contact, a Syrian army spokesman said.

The spokesman claimed Syrian losses in the clash as four soldiers and two civilian workers wounded.

The spokesman claimed Syrian artillery inflicted "heavy losses" on enemy gun positions and tanks.

The battle began shortly after noon, when Israeli tanks and machine guns protecting two tractors in a demilitarized zone opened fire at Syrian positions across the border, the spokesman asserted.

The clash occurred at the site of Syrian operations to divert the headwaters of the Jordan River.

Two Missing Girls Located in France

BONN, Germany (AP) — Two teen-age American girls — one formerly from Michigan — missing since Aug. 2, have been found in Nice, France, a U.S. Embassy spokesman said today.

The father of one of them, John L. Hooven of the Ford Motor Co., notified the embassy that both are in good health and that he is bringing them back to the Bonn area.

The Hoovens live in a suburb of nearby Cologne and formerly lived in Dearborn, Mich.

Post-Mortem Indicates

Death Caused by Fall

A post-mortem has indicated that William Scott, 55, of 581 Clara died Monday night of injuries suffered in a fall earlier.

Pontiac police had probed the death after receiving a tip that the man may have been intentionally poisoned.

Crackdown on Speed to Begin

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP—As you approach Maple on Telegraph hereafter, slow down. Or start reaching for your driver's license.

Now that motorists have had two days to take note of the new signs, Bloomfield Township police are going to start issuing tickets to those who disregard the lowered speed limit in the vicinity of the hazardous intersection.

The police crackdown will begin tomorrow morning, according to Sgt. Richard Reuther, township traffic safety director.

Thus far officers simply have been stopping speeders and pointing out that the new limit is 45 miles per hour rather than 55.

The new limit is in effect for both north and southbound traffic on the two-mile stretch between East Quarten and Lincoln.

Life's a Pell-Mell Push to West Berliner Encircled by Danger

By HUBERT J. ERB

BERLIN (AP) — White vapor trails moved unwaveringly across the clear blue West Berlin sky, their heads pointed east, their tails puffing and disintegrating behind them in the west.

The trails were the kind U.S.-B52 bombers etch into the azure sky high above San Francisco, the kind bathed along 100 miles of New Jersey shore watch on soft summer afternoons.

But this was Berlin, and the jets overhead were Russian. Earlier in the day two other Russian jets had jolted the city awake with sonic booms.

To a newcomer here, the overflights were reminders of the precarious nature of the freedom that West Berlin so obviously relishes.

FIRST CLEAR DAY

It was the first clear day in Berlin in over a week and the passersby at the corner of the Kurfürstendamm and Fasanen

Street were out in force in the warm evening air.

Most of them didn't notice the passing Soviet jets. What stopped them in their tracks were two barefoot beatniks, a boy and a girl.

The girl squatted on the sidewalk — you had to look twice to make sure she was a girl, her hair was that short. They boy had his hair long. Both wore shirts and jeans. Both were dirty.

He stood with a guitar, playing and singing about a cannon and a soldier who "takes a drink of whiskey."

SKETCHING PEOPLE

"... A drink of whiskey," the girl joined in, all the while busily sketching the people who had stopped to gaze at her and her friend.

The scene typified much of what is a visitor's first impression of Berlin: The hard pace of living despite or because of danger; the apparent to-Hell-with-it attitude of much of the city's youth, and the preoccupation with "das unwichtige," the unimportant.

One thing is certain, however. Life here rushes at you in a rain or shine intensity that can be felt as well as seen. Its parade ground is the Kurfürstendamm, the "Kudamm," which, said one Berliner wryly, should be spelled with an H, "Kuhdamm," or cow path.

"All they do," he said, nodding to the passing stream of rich and poor, well-dressed and ragged, sound of limb and limping, "is walk up and down like cows grazing."

WHAT ELSE?

"But what else is there to do?" He is right. What else is there to do?

There is nowhere to go unless you have money and get an East German Communist visa to go to West Germany 110 autobahn miles away. The West Berliner cannot visit East Berlin without special passes the Reds sometimes issue.

This in itself is a tragedy in many ways. East Berlin was the best part of Berlin historically — the Brandenburg Tor — culturally — the opera — and educationally — Humboldt University.

"And," said a native Berliner old enough to have savored his city before World War II, "East Berlin was the most attractive part. At that time, West Berlin was known as der Neue Westen (the New West)."

So, today, the citizens of the New West move up and down the Kudamm, once the private riding path of the Prince Elector of Prussia.

The Berliner takes visitors there to show off its wonders. He also takes them to the Communist-built wall dividing the city, but otherwise stays as far away from it as possible. Out of sight, out of mind.

The Kudamm, however, is the heart of its style of living. He shops in its chic stores, drinks beer and wine in its cafes, has his picture taken in front of the Gedächtniskirche Memorial Church at one of the boulevard, and inhales whipped cream, cakes and ice cream as though they were going out of style.

REMINDER OF WAR

The Gedächtniskirche, a bombed out tower left standing as a reminder of war, is now flanked and dwarfed by the new Europa Center. Along it is a giant, revolving Mercedes-Benz star. Inside, a statue of Christ is crowned by a neon sign that shines through an open window. It reads: "Chic 46..." an advertisement for modish clothes.

Nor is the Gedächtniskirche the only ruin still standing in West Berlin. Look behind a used car lot, around the corner of a pastel-colored apartment house or in a square or park and you will find a wall, a building, a statue or a monument slashed and scarred by bomb or shell and scorched by fire.

They are reminders of the past amid the uncertainties of the future, serving perhaps to

BERLIN BEATNIK—A barefoot Berlin beatnik squats beside her chalk drawing on the sidewalk of Kurfürstendamm and sings to the accompaniment of her guitar. A further spur the Berliner in his pell-mell push for living.

By and large, the American presence in Berlin is not particularly noticed. The 6,000 GIs, their 3,500 dependents, and about 3,000 other Americans blend in pretty well with West Berlin's 2.2 million. Mostly they confine themselves to one area.

The Americans in effect are the main political force in West Berlin. A cab-driver observed:

"They saved us with the air-lift during the 1948-49 Russian blockade. They are welcome to stay as long as they want."

There is a tendency in the West to believe that what West Berlin is — as compared to the drabness of East Berlin — has been wrought by capitalism and democracy, a sort of, so many neon lights per block comparison.

There is no doubt something to this. But Berlin has an individuality, like New York, London, Tokyo or Paris.

"Berlin," the Berliner says, "is eine weltstadt" — a city of the world.

It often seems so even though it is rent asunder by a wall, cut off and adrift in a Red sea.

Junior Editors Quiz on SNAKES

QUESTION: How can you tell a poisonous snake when you see one?

ANSWER: There are many kinds of poisonous snakes in the world, and it would be impossible to give one rule to tell them from the harmless ones. In the U.S., however, there are only four main kinds of poisonous snakes.

We show these in the upper part of the picture. Rattlesnakes, copperheads and water moccasins all belong to a group called pit vipers because of a pit between the eye and nostril.

These are thick-bodied snakes with arrow-shaped heads, mostly with dark saddleshapes across the body. They have long fangs and are extremely dangerous.

The rattlesnake vibrates his tail when angry. His rattles make a buzzing sound. The smaller copperhead is pinkish in color, and the moccasin is dark with a white mouth.

The fourth poisonous snake, the coral, is different in shape, thin, with a small head. The fangs are small, but the poison is deadly. These snakes are found in the southern part of the U.S.

Below the poisonous snakes, we show three harmless snakes which might be confused with them. The milk snake has saddle markings something like the copperhead.

The water snake has a thick body and arrow-shaped head like that of the pit vipers. The scarlet king snake is banded in red, black and yellow, as is the coral snake.

FOR YOU TO DO: Study the differences in these snakes but don't get close to them or pick them up; you might be studying a poisonous one, thinking it harmless. There is only one safe rule—keep away from them all!

Waterford Student Attends Workshop

Michael McGinty of 516 Grixdale, a student at Waterford Township High School, recently attended a leadership training workshop at the Van Buren Youth Camp near Bloomingdale.

Sponsored by the University of Michigan, the workshop was attended by 80 student council leaders from throughout the state.

The purpose was to train student council leaders for various tasks and responsibilities.

'All Guilty' Verdict Ends Gambling Trial

The long, drawn out court drama concerning the Stieren Assembly Club is finally concluded with the jury finding all 20 defendants guilty.

We feel the jury acted wisely and it is to be commended for the decision. It is heartening to see the processes of justice carried out in an orderly fashion.

ZIEM

The trial was moved from Oakland County to Manistee, where it was conducted before Oakland County Circuit Judge Frederick C. Ziem. Even with all the delays and unusual circumstances, Judge Ziem upheld the dignity of the court at all times. Credit is due Judge Ziem for not allowing the official proceedings to turn into a donnybrook.

PEGGY ALLEN, the star witness for the prosecution acted in true American fashion by testifying even though there had been a lot of harassment to keep her quiet.

The defendants that were found guilty of breaking State gambling laws and conspiracy to break State Gambling laws will be sentenced September 10, in Oakland County.

We hope the sentencing will take place without delay.

Federal Lunch Plan Beefs Up School Kids

Little-heralded and yet a vital facet of a Federal government bureau's operation is the national school lunch program which provides a palatable, nourishing diet at minimum cost for 17 million school children.

Now in its 19th year, the program is embraced by 70,000 public and private schools. Even with costs figured at the wholesale level, more than $1 billion in foods moved through school lunchrooms during 1962-63, according to the Department of Agriculture, which administers the program.

One of the most significant results of the school lunch project is that children eat better. Surveys have established that the per capita consumption of foods and milk is higher than in those schools operating a lunch service outside the Federal system.

It must be gratifying to those who conceived the idea, and to those now carrying it out, that their work is appreciated on such a large scale and that criticism is almost nil of a program which has contributed greatly to the health and well-being of a whole generation of young Americans.

Industry, Thrift Drop Nation From U.S. Dole

Yes, Virginia, there is an end to Santa Claus—to Uncle Sam playing Santa Claus, that is.

Latest nation to go off the gift list is Nationalist China, which was declared solvent and self-supporting on June 30, the end of the 1964-65 fiscal year.

Since 1950, when CHIANG KAI-SHENG moved his government and army, plus two million refugees, from the mainland to the island of Taiwan, U.S. economic aid totaled $1.465 billion. In that period, industrial production increased four and a half times and agricultural production more than doubled, as did per capita income, making the island a showcase of prosperity in Asia.

Although this would not have been possible without the hard work and intelligent planning of the people and the government, the fact that Nationalist China is a compact island, sealed off from Communist infiltration and subversion, contributed not a little to this success story. To repeat it among the nations of Southeast Asia will be a much longer and more difficult process.

But Nationalist China will remain an example of what can be done, and proof that American aid can be more boon than doggie.

LBJ Surprises With Namings

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON—Whether he's in a bathrobe or rose garden, President Johnson loves to surprise when he names a man for a big job.

And secrecy about the announcements before Johnson makes it! That's become a byword at the White House.

It goes so far that even those closest to Johnson, like Bill D. Moyers, his very able press secretary, sometimes appear left in the dark about who's getting the prize.

While this technique saves an appointee the embarrassment of public speculation about his merits for a job before he gets it, it also assures Johnson the maximum publicity.

But, so far, the men Johnson has picked for the highest government posts have met with wide approval. And so have most of those he's named to jobs a notch or several notches lower.

JOHNSON'S ANSWER

Thus, Johnson is answering those who wondered what kind of people would be brought into government by a president whose whole life had been in politics.

Sometimes, Johnson may delay for months in making up his mind, which might indicate he has searched everywhere for surestions on the best possible man and then slowly winnowed the possibilities.

But there are times when he appears to decide in a hurry, which he seems to have done in the case of Abe Fortas, whom he appointed to the Supreme Court, although since Fortas was his friend and helper for 30 years, there was plenty of time to figure the right place for him.

Perhaps Johnson searched for advice before picking a successor to Adlai E. Stevenson, who died July 14, as U.S. ambassador to the United Nations. But, on July 20, he named Supreme Court Justice Arthur J. Goldberg.

DRAMA, SURPRISE

In doing so, Johnson combined drama and surprise for the greatest possible publicity mileage. There had been a multitude of guesses about the new ambassador, but nobody seemed to have thought of Goldberg.

The next question: Who'd get Goldberg's place on the court? Some of the guesses had the job going to a woman, to a Negro, to Fortas, and to others. Fortas was the one most often mentioned.

The day after Goldberg's appointment, Moyers was asked about Goldberg's successor. He said: "I have seen all the names quoted in the press and I don't think any of those are names that the President is giving consideration to."

Then Johnson chose his nationally televised news conference on July 22 to say he had picked Fortas.

All It Takes Is Money

David Lawrence Says:

Viet War Gets More Unpopular

WASHINGTON — The war in Viet Nam is getting more and more unpopular with the American people — and peace seems to be farther and farther away.

The enemy — namely, the Communist bloc in Asia — expects a long war, but is confident the United States will grow tired and find a way to wiggle out.

The real crisis at the moment is not on the battlefield at all, but in the realm of psychological warfare — what is being said by officials of the United States government.

The impression being given by American spokesmen is that the government is impatient to end the war and that, while expressing repeatedly a determination to continue fighting indefinitely, it is nevertheless pleading in desperation for some kind of peace conference to negotiate a settlement.

PEACE CAUSE

Thus far the United Nations has done nothing to advance the cause of peace — nor has the Peking or Moscow government or the Hanoi regime in North Viet Nam.

Doubtless they assume that, as the war grows more and more unpopular in the United States, the Washington government will find that for political reasons it will have to develop a graceful method of withdrawing from the combat.

President Johnson has tried hard to convince members of Congress that such dissenting views as have been expressed in this country give an impression of disunity and should be so-fed. But members of Congress are reflecting what they feel is the sentiment back home.

Politicians know that again and again in American history the people have voted against the party that was in power when wars were fought.

1918 ELECTION

Even in the November election of 1918 — just a few days before the armistice and while the war was going on intensively — President Wilson's appeal for a Democratic Congress was rejected. The country voted overwhelmingly for the Republican party in both houses.

Again, in 1946, just after the close of World War II, President Truman lost both houses of Congress to the Republicans.

In November 1952, although the armistice in Korea was being negotiated, resentment over the fact that American troops had gone to Korea was widespread, and Dwight Eisenhower was elected by a substantial majority of electoral votes.

Theoretically, during a war, the country is unified. But this does not mean that a spirit of discontent is not present. It's later on that the resentment is fully expressed.

The current change in American public opinion started two weeks ago when President Johnson announced that he would not call up the reserves right away but would increase the draft.

There are millions of young men of draft age. The draft call might be small at the present time, but in every home where there is a son aged 18 or older, there begins to be a feeling of apprehension as to whether he will be called.

If the Viet Nam war continues without any substantial change and drags out through the congressional campaign and the elections of November 1966, it would not be at all surprising to find the party in power decisively defeated, and a Republican majority elected in both houses.

Such landslide have occurred before, as the American people — when they don't understand clearly the issues in a war or when they think it is not being effectively fought — are likely to express at the polls their resentment against the party in power.

Top Talent Is Available for Lady Bird's 'Cabinet'

By RUTH MONTGOMERY
WASHINGTON—If Lady Bird Johnson ever decides to form a "kitchen cabinet" of advisers, as presidents do, she could find no more versatile collection of "women doers" than the wives of her husband's recent selections for high office. For instance:

Mrs. Abe Fortas, cigar-smoking spouse of the new appointee to the Supreme Court, is a top lawyer in her own right.

Under her maiden name of Carolyn Eugenia Agger she heads the tax division of Art Montgomery, Fortas and Porter, the legal firm which her husband is reluctantly forsaking.

Mrs. Fortas, who collects antique furniture and jewelry, usually smokes small cigars in public, but puts on the big fat ones in her home and office.

Mrs. Hubert H. Humphrey worked to help finance her husband's college education, but has been busily raising a family in the intervening years. She is now planning to write a book about their mentally retarded granddaughter, 4-year-old Vicki.

Mrs. Arthur Goldberg, wife of our new ambassador to the United Nations, is a gifted professional artist who had innumerable one-man-shows, before abandoning the palette when her husband joined the Supreme Court three years ago.

ILLUSTRATES BOOKS

Mrs. John W. Chancellor, wife of the NBC television commentator whom LBJ drafted to head the Voice of America, used to illustrate textbooks for children under her maiden name of Barbara Upsher. The Chancellor's 6-year-old daughter, Laura, proudly brought home her first grade primer when she started to public school. Sure enough, her mummy had designed it.

The First Lady plans to resume her "women readers" column in the fall. Since she customarily has some lady-of-accomplishment make a speech each time, it looks like the President has provided her with a rich lode of available talent right in the official family.

Burning of Homes Aids Viet Cong

EDITOR'S NOTE: Col. Ray Cromley served in guerrilla warfare during WW II and this phase of military methods has been his specialty during the 20 years of his military career.

By COL. RAY CROMLEY
WASHINGTON (NEA) — The Vietnamese hamlet chief we were visiting knew that a sizeable chunk of the 50 families in one housing cluster in his domain had relatives in the Viet Cong (VC).

His agents reported that members of the VC came to sleep some nights. These families wouldn't cooperate in hamlet agricultural, road or school building projects, in the self-defense corps or in women or youth groups. They sometimes hid snipers.

The chief's answer was not to blast or burn out these families. They weren't Communists. But they loved their sons, husbands and brothers in the Viet Cong.

What the chief did was to woo those people in that housing cluster who were not guerrilla-connected. He set them to night-watching the houses with VC relatives. He asked these neighbors to woo the VC-related families. One by one they began winning these people into cooperation with the hamlet government. Gradually these VC-connected families began to work on their relatives to get out of the Viet Cong.

U.S. Tactics in Viet Nam Questioned by Ex-Marine

It is becoming more difficult for me to accept the action of the United States and its policy in Viet Nam. I don't advocate the United States vacating Viet Nam until the job is finished. I am questioning, however, the tactics utilized by our forces over there.

The latest news from that jungle quagmire that is Viet Nam was rather difficult to digest—the burning the other day of an entire village by United States Marines. The newspapers say that a few snipers had been hampering the Marines who were attempting to search the village for Viet Cong, and the Marines were ordered to burn the village to the ground. One hundred fifty homes of how many citizens ruthlessly burned to the ground!

It seems that in a guerrilla conflict such as the Viet Cong carry out, their very survival depends on the support of these selfsame people who the United States has no doubt just turned toward the Communists.

It is hard for me as an American and ex-Marine to conceive of this actually happening and being condoned by my fellow Americans and their newspapers. Are we so caught up in the quest for victory and glory in Viet Nam that we forget the reason we are there? How can we convince the Vietnamese people that our way is right? Not by terror, that's for sure.

'We'll Be Victims of Unopposed Tyranny'

In reply to Mr. Reid's letter "Forcing freedom . . . will only end in our own destruction," obviously he recognizes tyranny, but how does he explain his willingness to accept it? Doesn't freedom always oppose tyranny? It is possible we will go broke sponsoring the opposition of tyranny, but if it goes unopposed, we will all be its victims.

B. LIEF ROCKWELL

'It's Better to Die Fighting Than Surrender'

How long will we stand by and let Americans be killed by North Viet Nam Communists, and Hanoi and the industrial part of North Viet Nam be sanctuaries from our bombs? We bomb suspected Cong areas—why not bomb areas where the Communists are?

The pulpit and college rostrum cry for peace. We will have peace only if we surrender. But it's better to die fighting than live the blurred, listless life of a Communist slave.

A MAN

Says Owners Could Advertise for Lost Dog

Why doesn't the family who had their dog stolen from their car run an ad in the "Lost" column? There has been a lost dog in our subdivision for over a week and no one has advertised for him. How simple it would be if he just had his license tag on.

Why do people take their dogs with them to be left in a hot car while they shop. Ever try sitting in a car with the windows up all but a crack and the sun beating down on the hot roof?

move into a hamlet or village, looking for guerrilla snipers, the combat team must include psychological warfare, civil affairs and active civilian men as well as fighting troops. The troops themselves must be trained in modern police methods.

American police are trained to move into the residential area of a city and capture dangerous criminals without burning homes or injuring innocent people. Soldiers can learn some of these same skills.

If women and children are nevertheless accidentally wounded or killed, the wounded must be given immediate aid and the killed given reverent funerals and formal regret expressed to the families. If homes are burned, soldiers should be assigned to help with rebuilding. Immediately, some small hamlet improvement should be started. The troops, say, could help repair a leaky school roof.

This may sound like a very difficult and dangerous way to fight a war. It is. It takes a tremendous amount of courage and self restraint. But history indicates that there's no other way to win.

The problem is usually not that a whole hamlet is Viet Cong. There are usually a few VC agents, guerrillas and officials and a large number of people who help the VC in order to protect relatives or because they are terrified of the VC or of the government troops.

When U.S. troops face Red Ho Chi Minh's mainline battalions or a fortified strong point or village, that is one thing. But when Americans

House Can Speed Military Pay Increase

WASHINGTON (AP) — American military personnel will get a total monthly pay increase of about $30 million as early as next month if the House agrees to set aside a pay measure it passed and accept a Senate-passed bill.

The Senate approved its measure Wednesday. Like the House bill, the $1-billion Senate measure contains more than twice as much as President Johnson asked. But sponsors expect the President to sign it.

The raises would go to active and reserve personnel in the Army, Air Force, Navy, Marine Corps, Coast Guard, Geodetic Survey and Public Health Service.

Chief differences in the versions passed by the two houses were in how the pay raises should apply to commissioned officers, warrant officers and enlisted personnel with more than two years service.

PROCESS SPEEDIED

Normally, such differences are worked out by a joint Senate-House Conference Committee. But House acceptance of the Senate bill would speed up the normal process.

The key man in the House is Rep. L. Mendel Rivers, D-S.C.

chairman of the House Armed Services Committee and chief sponsor of the House bill. Akdes said he was studying the Senate measure, passed unanimously by the 89 senators present.

The administration recommended that military pay be raised by $447,586,000 annually.

Daylight Savings Time was mandated by statute in 15 states last year.

'10 Days to Find Missile Blast Cause'

SEARCY, Ark. (AP) — The Air Force says it will probably be at least 10 days before it's known what caused an explosion and fire in a Titan II missile complex, killing 53 civilians.

A 30-man investigation team continued today its inspection of the blackened launch tube of America's mightiest ballistic missile — scene of the worst tragedy in the history of America's space and missile systems.

Secretary of the Air Force Eugene M. Zuckert and an Arkansas congressional delegation went into the underground complex Wednesday, but returned to Washington without revealing any findings.

Zuckert said it will probably be 10 days to two weeks before "we have the answers to the questions now being asked."

SOLONS ON TOUR

He toured the site with Sens. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., and John L. McClellan, D-Ark., Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., and Gov. Orval E. Faubus of Arkansas.

Only two of the 55 workmen who were modifying the silo's physical plant survived Monday's explosion and fire.

"There will be no progress report on the investigation," said Capt. Douglas Wood, public information officer for Little

Priest Planning to Wed Freed of Most Obligations

COLOMBO, Ceylon (U) — Noel Cruz, a former Roman Catholic priest who wants to marry a Ceylonese beauty queen, has been relieved of all obligations and duties of priesthood except celibacy, the acting vicar general of the Combo archdiocese said today.

The church official, Father Basil Wiratunge, said Cruz had been returned to lay status but remains bound to celibacy by solemn vow.

Cruz was not immediately available for comment.

He had applied for release from his vows so he could marry Manel de Silva. After he told newsmen of his application, he was expelled from his order, the Oblates of Mary Immaculate.

Rock Air Force Base. Until "they come up with a probable cause or a definite cause."

A board headed by Brig. Gen. C. B. Stewart from the office of the inspector general is handling the investigation because, Zuckert said, "this is in connection with the missile program which cuts across more than one command."

ANOTHER TEAM

Zuckert said there was a possibility of an "investigation board from the Strategic Air Command, but this has not been definitely decided."

The investigation is being held to determine what went wrong and to determine what added safety factors might be needed, he said, adding: "I will report our findings to the President."

The modification program on missile sites has been stopped by the Air Force, pending the investigation. The 54 Titan II sites are scattered in clusters of 18 around Little Rock, Ark., Tucson, Ariz., and Wichita, Kan. They were completed in 1963 at a cost of more than $400 million.

The 150-ton missile, capable of carrying a 24-megaton atomic warhead 18,000 miles an hour to targets 6,000 miles away, was in the launch tube Monday, but did not burn.

CHURCHES OPEN

Expressions of sorrow and sympathy for the families of the men came from the Washington officials. Churches are remaining open in this central Arkansas town of 8,000 for prayers for the victims.

Mills said the delegation did not see all of the complex, "but we saw enough to know that it was horrible." There are numerous safety devices in each Titan silo — temperature and humidity controls, electronic systems control, automatic sprinkler systems to fight fires, pressure control systems and others.

Board Member Dies

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP) — Leroy H. Dreher, 60, a member of the board of directors of Batten, Barton, Durstine and Osborn, Inc., New York advertising firm, died Tuesday, apparently of a heart attack.

complex. With the congressmen are two Little Rock Air Force Base officers, Col. Charles P. Cosgrove (left) and Brig. Gen. Murray A. Ewywater. Fifty-three were killed in Monday's blast.

Chileans' Thirst for Wine Ups Alcoholism

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — Chile is officially concerned about the number of citizens whose fondness for the grape has them in trouble.

The government paper La Nacion says every other adult male is an alcoholic or is on the way to becoming one.

The National Health Service is more conservative, but even so it says 250,000 people in this nation of eight million have serious drinking problems and that 750,000 others drink excessively.

"Excessively" is defined as getting drunk more than once a month. The service says 45 per cent of its hospital beds are occupied by persons suffering the effects of alcohol.

DEATH RATE

In the Santiago area, the service estimates, one death in 10 is caused by cirrhosis of the liver. The government is committed to helping increase wine production particularly with an eye toward boosting exports.

The government also has promised a massive social improvement program aimed at bringing the Chilean peasants up to somewhere near the educational, economic and social levels of middle-class urban dwellers. Controlling alcoholism among the laboring class is regarded as an important step.

Neither the government nor the private groups interested in the problem believe that the situation will change rapidly. Red and white wines are served with both lunch and dinner in every class of restaurant. The national drink is a clear grape brandy-called pisco.

Advertisements often show teen-agers drinking beer or wine. A common sight in a Chilean restaurant is a parent pouring wine for his children. For the younger children, wine usually is mixed with mineral water or occasionally with a soft drink.

Of the five extant manuscripts of the Gettysburg Address in Lincoln's handwriting, two are in the Library of Congress, one is in the White House, one at Cornell University, and one is owned by the State of Illinois.

ABOUT TO BE 'SPIRITED' AWAY?—Two families sit quietly at Municipal Air Terminal in Kansas City yesterday where they have been waiting since Monday, hoping for tickets to Madrid, Spain. Julius Victor (holding cat) said the tickets would come from somewhere because that fact had been revealed to his wife (seated next to him).

Queen Elizabeth II stepped aboard the frigate Dido and found herself surrounded by pirates.

It was no mutiny, just some fancy dress for a children's party while the ship was in the Firth of Clyde in London. The queen gave the pirates a regal smile and walked by.

Return Stalin Ring, Lady Churchill Urges

Sin Winston Churchill's widow has asked thieves to return a ring given her in 1945 by Soviet Premier Josef Stalin.

Lady Churchill said the ring has "great sentimental and historical value." The ring was among $4,200 worth of jewelry stolen Tuesday from a London apartment by two men posing as window cleaners.

Cuban Charged in Murder Kept Alone

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A Cuban exile charged with piracy of the coastal freighter Seven Seas and the murder of five fellow seamen has been placed in a cell alone "for his own protection."

At no time will the exile, Roberto Ramirez, 35, be allowed to mingle with other prisoners, said Sgt. Harold Adams of the county jail, "because of the circumstances of the case."

Ramirez, a muscular, dark-skinned Cuban national, was taken to the 8 by 10, windowless cell Wednesday night after the federal government decided it had jurisdiction over the slayings aboard the Seven Seas.

A U.S. commissioner signed the warrant and a hearing was set for today.

The violence aboard the Seven Seas started, Ramirez reportedly told federal authorities, when the captain and the crew threatened to report him for favoring Cuban dictator Fidel Castro. The captain was shot to death on the bridge and thrown overboard. Three crewmen were shot in their sleep, and a fourth was killed and thrown into the Atlantic Ocean off the Florida Keys.

The only crewman to survive was Elvin Burywise, 17, who was covered in a chain locker after he saw one shooting. He was rescued when the Coast Guard spotted the freighter drifting off the Gulf Stream Sunday afternoon.

A sixth crewman, the cook, apparently drowned when he jumped overboard to escape Ramirez.

TRIED TO SAIL

For two hours Ramirez tried to sail the Seven Seas, apparently south toward Cuba where his wife and three daughters still live. The Coast Guard believes he had to abandon ship when the main tanks ran out of fuel and he didn't know how to switch to the full auxiliary tanks.

Ramirez was picked up early Tuesday 50 miles south of Miami in a 14-foot skiff from the Seven Seas. He carried a loaded 38-caliber pistol believed to be the murder weapon and a baby food jar full of ammunition.

Trucks comprise 15 per cent of all the vehicles in the nation.

Priest Defends Secular Tide

'Should Be Regarded as Christianity's Goal'

KALAMAZOO (AP)—The emergence of creative secularism should be regarded by Christianity as the final goal of history and of Christianity itself, a priest-theologian contended today at the International Ecumenical Conference in Kalamazoo.

"The trouble is that we are confronted with an emerging secularism that finds the greatest difficulty itself in letting individuals and human lines emerge as autonomous and creative forces," said the Rev. William Lynch, a professor at both St. Peter's College and Georgetown University.

Father Lynch defined secularism as a spirit of mind which allows things to emerge on their own terms and as a state of reality in which this is going on. "This should be the ideal state of the secular," he said in remarks prepared for today's final session of the four-day conference sponsored by the Medieval Institute of Western Michigan University. Purpose of the conference is to foster closer ties between the major religions.

IDEA OF SECULAR

Father Lynch said the secular sometimes has been merely regarded as that which is not holy.

"I am suggesting that we shift our images and our vocabulary, that we conceive of the holy as the force—certainly one of the great forces—which will compel the secular to be itself," he said.

Theologians, Father Lynch said, should stop picturing themselves as being slowly pushed into an irrelevant corner, into less and less space, by an emerging giant that threatens to take over more and more of the landscape.

His remarks were in contrast to those of another speaker, Dean Samuel Miller of the Harvard Divinity School. Miller opened the conference Monday by warning that human society is threatened by a secular revolution that reduces man rather than enlarges him.

'OFFENSIVE FORCE'

"We must conceive of ourselves," Lynch declared, "as an offensive force that compels and teaches the secular to become itself and to become creative. It needs an outside force to make it become itself."

The theologian said he was against reducing either the secular order or the Christian order, that a reduction in one likely would cause a spirit of reduction in the other.

We've Won Key Physical Fitness Victory--Musial

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—Stan Musial, leader of the President's physical fitness program, says the march of American youth toward softness has been reversed.

"There's no question about it," said the former St. Louis Cardinal baseball star. "We've won an important victory with the physical fitness program."

Musial's remark came after release of a Pentagon report Wednesday which said that American boys are as healthy—or healthier—than those of 20 years ago. Despite stricter interpretation of medical requirements, the military service rejection rate for physical reasons now is 14.8 per cent compared with 15.1 per cent during World War II.

President Johnson recently increased the draft to help meet the military buildup in South Viet Nam.

Auto Misses Curve, Kills Woman in Garden

DEFIANCE, Ohio (AP)—Mrs. Joseph Janicek, 74, was working in her home garden Wednesday, repairing damage caused when a car missed a curve on a highway and ran onto her property Tuesday.

Suddenly another car missed the same curve, plowed into the garden and struck Mrs. Janicek. She died two hours later at a hospital.

"We're very pleased with the results of our physical fitness program," Musial said. "We're getting favorable reports from schools and colleges throughout the country, and I'll be reporting to the President in the next few weeks about the program and our plans for the future."

Musial has been director of the physical fitness program for two years. He travels extensively, conducting clinics and demonstrations, making talks and helping to develop fitness programs in schools. His employer, the St. Louis Cardinals, of which he is a vice president, gives Musial "all the time I need."

Of the Pentagon report, Musial said, "I don't know about 20 years ago, but of the last three years our youngsters have proved to be in much better shape than they were."

He noted that an increase in draft rejections for medical reasons was one of the main reasons the national fitness program was started in the Eisenhower administration.

STIFF REQUIREMENTS

The Pentagon said more youths are being rejected for military service because of stiffened mental requirements. The Army surgeon general's office said rejections for mental reasons are up more than 12 per cent over World War II figures.

Of the 12 per cent increase, seven per cent are due to trainability tests, added in 1958 to weed out trainees who meet minimum mental requirements but lack the aptitude to be trained in a specific military job. These tests were upgraded in 1963.

Dr. Bernard D. Karpinos of the surgeon general's office said many persons who were accepted during World War II would be turned down now.

Ex-Idaho Solon Dies

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP)—Gracie Plost, 39, Democratic representative in Congress from Idaho's 1st District from 1952 until 1962, died Wednesday. Mrs. Plost, who was special assistant for the elderly in the Federal Housing Administration, ran for the U.S. Senate in 1962 and was defeated by Len B. Jordan, a Boise Republican.

Is McNamara Losing Touch?

By HARRY KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress' long if not ardent honeymoon with Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara appears finally over.

His old mastery was missing as Congress put its foot down twice Wednesday going its own way on a military pay bill and turning a deaf ear to his strong arguments for a merger of the Army Reserves.

The Reserve plan, a particularly pet project, was killed at least for this year by a House Armed Services subcommittee headed by Rep. F. Edward Herbert, D-La.

Despite McNamara's arguments to the contrary, the subcommittee said the proposed merger would result in "an immediate and serious loss in combat readiness" and is "not in our national interest."

OTHER SIDE

On the other side of Capitol Hill, the Senate was giving an 89-0 approval of a $1-billion military pay bill, much the same as already passed by the House, but more than twice as much as McNamara wanted. The House appeared likely to give quick approval to the Senate version.

A Defense Department statement, not quoting McNamara, said Secretary of the Army Stanley R. Resor and Gen. Harold K. Johnson, chief of staff, both believe the subcommittee's rejection of the merger plan "will compel the Army to retain nonessential units" rather than use the manpower to build up more important forces required by war contingency plans.

Moreover, the statement said "failure to go forward with the realignment will necessarily result in more men being taken out of civilian life into the armed forces."

The statement noted the subcommittee's expressed willingness to consider future reorganizations and said the department "is prepared to continue discussions immediately."

McNamara is said still to have hopes of reviving the plan, or one similar to it, next year.

The proposal that was turned down was to streamline the Reserves by cutting out low priority units and consolidating the high priority ones within the National Guard. When McNamara announced the plan Dec. 12 he expressed belief he needed no other congressional authority than a simple change in the appropriations bill.

Old Pittsburgher Hotel to Close in September

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The 37-year-old Pittsburgher Hotel, a 400-room building in downtown Pittsburgh, will close Sept. 15.

Albert Harris, a Cincinnati, Ohio, real estate man, said Wednesday the hotel has been losing $100,000 a year since his firm bought it four years ago. The hotel has had only 30 per cent occupancy, he said.

SEARCH FOR VICTIMS—Members of the Portillo ski patrol and members of an Austrian ski team search an avalanche-crushed ski lodge for victims at Portillo, Chile, yesterday.

Tons of ice and snow thundered down the Andes slopes until dawn, crushing the ski lodge at the fashionable resort and killing five persons. Two others were injured.

Chilean Helicopter Dispatched to Remove Avalanche Victims

PORTILLO, Chile (AP)—A Chilean Air Force helicopter was to fly to this mountain resort today to remove the bodies of five persons killed when avalanches crushed a ski lodge. Two U.S. citizens were among the dead.

Six other occupants of the lodge survived the disaster early Wednesday, brought on by warm winds after a four-day blizzard which closed the railway into Portillo.

The thaw loosened snowdrifts on the mountains and sent two avalanches thundering down the slopes. Coming together, the slides buried the lodge beneath tons of snow and ice and collapsed its six-inch walls.

The dead were identified as Milton Olliott of Portland, Ore.; Ronald J. Hock of Binghamton, N.Y.; Michael Fogel of Mont Royal, Quebec; and Manfred Arnold and Jaime Cubizurire of Santiago, Chile.

TWO of the six survivors were North Americans — Jerry

Reese of New York City, and Richard Hawkins, who gave his address as c-o U.S. Consulate, Montreal.

Hawkins pushed through the snow in his pajamas to give the first word of the disaster.

Ski patrol members, aided by U.S. and Austrian ski teams, located the victims about an hour after the slide and dug them out. The five died during emergency treatment at the Hotel Portillo clinic about half a mile from the lodge.

The blizzard prevented skiers from eight nations from reaching Portillo, 85 miles northeast of Santiago, to compete in a weekend ski meet which was to be followed by a world championship tournament.

The avalanches, worst of a week-long series, smashed two sections of a ski lift installed for the tournament. Officials of the ski federation said that if the contestants are unable to reach Portillo by Saturday, the tourney will probably be delayed until the weather clears.

Officer Openings Are Available in Local Reserves

Openings exist in several officer pay billets at the Pontiac Reserves Training Center, according to Cmdr. John R. Tobin, commanding officer.

Openings for officers below the rank of commander are available in either the surface or the mobilization team division teams.

Qualified officers receive one day's pay for each drill attended and full pay and allowances are provided during the annual two weeks summer training period.

Interested officers should contact Tobin at the training center, 480 S. East Blvd.

Stuff Really Works

LONDON (UPI)—Workmen delivered one ton of quick-setting, semiliquid concrete to the Star Public House yesterday by pouring it through the cellar door. It was intended to be spread out as a new floor—but it dried too quickly. Today the work crew will try to cut through a one-ton block of cement which blocks the doorway.

Knifing Brings Prison Term

Teen Gets 5-10 Years for Postgame Incident

DETROIT (AP)—A five to 10-year prison term is 17-year-old Reginald Tinsley's penalty for stabbing another youth after a high school basketball game last March.

Recorder's Court Judge Joseph A. Gillis warned Tinsley in passing sentence Wednesday that he yet could be tried for murder if his victim dies.

James Lucas, 16, the stabbing victim, remains under medical care for a stab wound in the heart. Emergency surgery had kept him alive.

The stabbing was one of several injuries suffered in a fracas between youngsters and others after the Detroit Northwestern-Highland Park game March 8. Highland Park won, 70-40.

BAN NIGHT GAMES

The incident led to the banning of nighttime athletic contests at Detroit high schools. There had been trouble at other games as well.

Young Tinsley is a dropout from Northwestern High. Lucas was a swimming star at the other school.

Tinsley pleaded guilty to assault with intent to do great bodily harm.

Contrite at his sentencing, Tinsley told the court "I'm sorry for what I did and I wish I could undo it."

Eyes Curbs on Use of 5th Amendment

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — "Why let important witnesses duck behind a Fifth Amendment?" a Canadian jurist asked American lawyers today.

Hazen Hansard of Montreal, president of the Canadian Bar Association, said in a speech prepared for the American Bar Association that in Canada a witness must answer questions but can claim the protection of the court. This means his evidence cannot be used against him.

"I suggest that you consider the advisability of adopting some such rule as a means of removing at least one cause of friction between the police and the public," Hansard told the bar convention.

New Medical Centers Set to Study Burns

CHICAGO (AP) — The International Shrine organization says it is establishing centers for the study of burns at medical schools at Harvard University, the University of Texas and the University of Cincinnati.

Barney W. Collins of Mexico City, imperial potentate, said the Shrine will spend $10 million in research for treatment of burns suffered by children.

There are an estimated 150 million books in 15,000 libraries in the United States.

Singapore Split Likely to Step Up Sukarno Anti-Malaysia Drive

By JOHN CANTWELL

SINGAPORE (AP) — Indonesia is expected to step up its campaign to crush Malaysia now that Singapore has left the young federation.

President Sukarno is likely to view Singapore's separation Monday as a green light to step up military operations and an indication that Malaysia is on the rocks.

The "other war" in Southeast Asia probably will increase in gravity, with consequent increased demands on the British and Commonwealth forces who are Malaysia's chief protection. "Malaysia can expect an onslaught from Indonesia in the coming week," a military source said after the split in the federation was announced.

LIKELY TO SHIFT

The source said Indonesia now is likely to shift its sights away from this big Southeast Asian city.

"The Indonesians might be tempted to have a go at British bases here," the source said. "But if they think they can get Singapore on their side — and Singapore Prime Minister Lee Kuan Yew has said he wants to cooperate with Indonesia — they might call a temporary halt to their attacks on Singapore."

Other military sources consider Singapore's separation from Malaysia a psychological victory for Indonesia. "Sukarno must be having a great laugh," one source said. "But we can expect him to take the utmost advantage of the separation militarily."

PESSIMISTIC

Most military authorities in Singapore — Britain's biggest base east of Suez — were pessimistic about the effect Singapore's separation from Malaysia will have on the morale of these resisting Indonesian aggression.

"If they can't stick together internally, how are they going to fight an external enemy?" one source said.

"We can expect the Indonesians to take the utmost advantage of the split. They will now give confrontation everything they have got, because they believe they have smelled the first sniff of victory. "They have seen the first crack in Malaysia."

INDEPENDENCE DAY

Military authorities believe Aug. 17, Indonesia's independence day, probably will spark the biggest, most determined attack yet on Malaysia. Aug. 31, Malaysia's independence day, is another likely date for attack. On the two independence days last year Sukarno sent paratroopers and other forces into the Malaysian mainland. Both these incursions were crushed by security forces — Malaysians, British, Australians and New Zealanders.

Since then, Sukarno has sent numerous guerrilla teams into mainland Malaysia. In recent months he has been concentrating on this island state of 1.8 million people.

Bombings became commonplace. Two weeks ago an attempt was made to blow up the entrance to the U.S. consulate. Sukarno threatened to turn Singapore into a "sea of flames" if Britain stopped up aggression against Indonesia, as he put it. Indonesian Defense Minister Abdul Haris Nasution said Singapore must be destroyed before Malaysia could be crushed.

NEW TARGETS

Sukarno will probably now shift his sights from Singapore to the Malayan mainland and Malaysia's Borneo states of Sarawak and Sabah.

The Indonesians are expected to land regular troops and infiltrators in southern Malaya by boat. They may try to drop paratroopers into certain areas on the peninsula.

Some military observers believe they might use guided missiles against strategic military bases. A recent report said the Soviet Union has given Indonesia 12 gunboats armed with surface-to-surface missiles capable of carrying atomic warheads.

In Borneo, the Indonesians are expected to send more troops across the jungle border and to speed up their attempts to stir up internal trouble.

They have allies in Sarawak where some 25,000 Chinese are believed to be pro-Peking, anti-Malaysia and prepared for armed revolt.

Indonesia recently stepped up its training of Chinese from Sarawak on its side of the border in guerrilla warfare. Recently Indonesian regulars led a group of Chinese Communists in an attack on a police post. Nine people were killed, including the brother of Sarawak's chief minister.

Afghanistan has received foreign aid from the United States, Russia and West Germany the last several years. The assistance has been offered mainly to promote a five-year economic development program.

5 Win Awards in Beef Judging

Five 4-H Club members, including the new 4-H king, Jim Smith, received trophies in the beef judging contests at the Oakland County 4-H Fair yesterday.

Jim, son of the Philip Smiths of 28318 Dixboro, Lyon Township, won the senior showmanship trophy. He is a member of the Nu-Ly-Wix Club.

The junior showmanship trophy went to Russell Arnold, of the Ro-Hi Club. Russell is the son of Mrs. David E. Longfield, 342 Clyde, Highland Township.

The grand champion steer is owned by Lyle Barger, a member of the Northwest Oakland Club and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Barber, 12291 Fagan, Holly Township. Lyle also owns the reserve grand champion steer.

The champion hereford rosette went to Tim Walls of the Ro-Hi Club. Tim is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elynn Walls, 1067 Middle, Highland Township.

Sue Patnode, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Patnode, 850 Munger, Holly, and a member of the Ro-Hi Club, won the champion Angus heifer rosette.

Clear weather continued to favor fair-goers who flocked to the grounds to see beef showmanship contests, English halter competition, swine judging, clothing judging and vegetable judging contests.

Yesterday was Kiddies Day and the youngsters scrambled for a vantage spot during the evening program to see one of their television heroes, Poop-deck Paul.

They also joined eagerly in the pie-eating contest, and watched the senior beef showmanship demonstration. Results of yesterday's judging were as follows:

Plans for Enrollment Complete

FARMINGTON — With less than a month to go before the opening of school, Farmington educators have completed plans for enrollment of students.

A number of innovations have been made to speed their return to classes.

Tomorrow is registration day for elementary school children who have moved into the district this summer.

Parents new to the district who have children eligible for kindergarten through sixth grade are asked to register their youngsters at local schools.

Registration hours are 9 a.m. to noon and 1-4 p.m. If unable to enroll his child tomorrow, a parent should contact the school principal.

FOUR BOOKSTORES
The school system this year will operate four book stores in an effort to minimize congestion and long lines.

Beginning Wednesday and continuing through Sept. 3, books will be sold at O. E. Dunckel Junior High School, East Junior High School and the gymnasium of Farmington Junior High School, along with the main book store at Farmington Junior High School.

Records of students' credits will be on file at all locations.

Regular hours at all stores will be 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Extra hours have been scheduled for Aug. 20 and 27, when the facilities will be open from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m., and Aug. 21 and 28, when hours will be 9 a.m. to noon.

Elementary students will be in classes from 8:45 a.m. to 3 p.m., junior high from 8:15 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. and senior high from 7:45 a.m. to 2:30 p.m.

Registration for junior and senior high school students is Aug. 30 through Sept. 3.

Falls off Horse; Injuries Fatal

METAMORA—Charles Backus, 48, of 3785 Hough died yesterday of injuries received when he fell from a horse while fox hunting.

Companions on the fox hunt here said Backus was thrown by his horse when it balked at a wire fence. Backus was thrown over the fence and the horse fell into the wire and then onto Backus.

The victim died at Lapeer County General Hospital.

A self-employed architect, Backus was the son of the late Standish Backus, former president of Burroughs Corp. of Detroit.

Daily kids' contests at 10 a.m. will be held at the Michigan State Fair, which runs from Aug. 27 through Sept. 6.

Seek Park Development Funds

UTICA — The City Commission wants to turn 6½ acres of unused land into a park and hopes to obtain federal funds to do so.

Recently inquired about the possibility of getting federal funds to develop the land west of Van Dyke and east of the Clinton River.

The land was purchased from the city several years ago by the Huron Clinton Metropolitan Authority but was never developed.

City Clerk Mrs. Eunice Koppitz said the Metropolitan Authority has agreed to lease the land to Utica for 25 to 30 years for $1 per year if the city agrees to "definitely develop" the area.

Western Event Set for 3 Days

OXFORD — An "All-Western Weekend" featuring championship rodeo sports events will be held tomorrow through Sunday at the Rafter M Ranch, 270 N. Rochester.

The first event at 9 p.m. will be the statewide speed horse races featuring competitors and horses from several midwestern states and Canada.

Competition will be for prize money totaling more than $1,000, making this the highest paid speed horse show in Michigan this year.

National championship cattle cutting will be held at 10 a.m. Saturday and will feature horses from all over the United States and Canada.

The first performance of the professional championship rodeo will be held at 8 p.m. Saturday. Sanctioned by the Midwest Cowboy's Association, it will bring contenders from numerous states.

PRIZE MONEY
They will participate for prize money and points which will be credited toward the championship for 1965.

The rodeo will be the highest paid in Michigan for 1965.

The final performance of the championship rodeo will be at 2 p.m. Sunday. Both rodeo performances will be highlighted by a "wild horse race" and a specialty act.

The Sunday performance will also include the finals of the national cattle cutting. Refreshments, pony rides and

125 Girls to Model Clothes They Made

A dress review featuring 125 girls modeling clothes they made during the year will be one of the features at the Oakland County 4-H Fair tomorrow.

Today's program will feature dog obedience demonstrations and a livestock sale.

The third annual livestock sale, sponsored by the Oakland County 4-H leaders, will start at 9 p.m.

The fairgrounds at Perry and Walton will open at 9 a.m. tomorrow.

First of tomorrow's program will be a dairy judging contest followed by trail class riding competition.

MUSICAL INTERLUDE
The evening program will start at 6 p.m. with the dress review. This will be followed by a musical interlude at 7 p.m.

At 7:30 p.m., the senior dairy showmanship contest will begin. First place winner will receive $3.75; second place, $3; third place, $2.25; fourth place, $1.50; fifth place, 75 cents; and sixth place, ribbons.

Junior and senior showmanship winners will also receive trophies from the Oakland Farm Bureau.

An act from Sweet Adeline, Inc., will entertain during the evening program.

Youth Center Slates Dance

MILFORD—A discotheque dance with live music will be held by the Huron Valley Youth Center tomorrow night.

The Techniques will supply music for dancing from 8 p.m. until midnight in the Milford High School cafeteria. An added attraction will be the appearance of local "a go go" girls.

The youth center will hold an 8 p.m.-midnight street dance Monday during the downtown "midnight madness" sales.

4-Mill Operating Tax Renewal Faces Romeo District Voters

ROMEO—School district voters will be asked Oct. 11 to approve renewal of a four-mill operating tax for five years.

The four mills expire with this year's tax levy. Schools Supt. T. C. Philippa said next year's budget would probably have to be "seriously curtailed" if the four mills are not renewed.

The last vote on operating monies was held in 1963 when three mills were renewed for five years.

The present operating tax totals 19.68 mills—11 extra voted and 8.68 allocated.

In June, voters approved a $1.4 million bond issue for additions to the junior and senior high schools and construction of a new elementary school.

RAISED TAXES
It raised school taxes by 3.29 mills or $3.29 per $1,000 of state equalized valuation.

The board of education has also adopted a $1,381,000 budget for 1965-66 which includes salary increases for teachers.

ranges from $5,100 to $7,900 for a bachelor's degree and from $5,500 to $8,300 for a master's degree.

This is an increase in the maximum salary of $150 over raises granted last March. Teachers rejected the March increase, saying that the state programs were going to produce more monies and that they felt they were entitled to their share.

SALARY RANGE
The salary schedule before March ranged from $6,500 to $7,400 for a bachelor's degree and from $6,500 to $7,800 for a master's degree.

Philippa said the raises will cost the district about $57,000. This, added to about $55,000 allocated for eight or nine new teachers, accounts for most of the $145,000 increase in this year's budget over the previous one.

The new budget is based on a tax rate of 27.74 mills or 4.02 more than last year's rate. Philippa said the increase is due mainly to the bond issue.

Guerrillas, Civil Strife Plague India on 3 Fronts

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—India was plagued today by guerrilla fighting in the Himalayan state of Kashmir and civil disturbances in the eastern and southern parts of the vast sub-continent. Raiders the government claims infiltrated from Pakistan have ignited hit-and-run warfare in disputed Kashmir. About 50 clashes have been reported in the past six days.

On the eastern side of the map, battalions of troops were flown into Bihar State with orders to shoot on sight at rampaging mobs that have been attacking train stations, post offices and communication lines for three days.

Mobs in Bihar and neighboring West Bengal State looted state-controlled grain shops.

ATTACK HOMES

In the southern state of Andhra Pradesh, more than 1,000 students attacked officials' homes at Osmania University in Hyderabad. Police beat them off with clubs.

Reports reaching New Delhi today gave these details: The Kashmir fighting was scattered all along and far behind the cease-fire line established after the Indian-Pakistani war over the state in 1948.

India claimed 1,000 to 1,500 infiltrators had been sent across from the Pakistani sector of Kashmir. The government said 84 Pakistanis and 29 Indians had been killed since Aug. 5.

DENIES CHARGE

Pakistani Foreign Minister Z. A. Bhutto denied the infiltration charge. He said the Kashmiris, most of whom are Moslems, "have only intensified their liberation struggle."

About 50 clashes were reported in the past week, several 40 miles inside Indian territory and one in the outskirts of Srinagar, Kashmir's summer capital noted for its lakes and houseboats.

Civilians have been caught in the crossfire, and casualties among them were reported.

There were indications that Moslem Kashmiris, many of whom openly oppose control by Hindu India, might take to sniping and bomb throwing.

POLITICAL TEST

Coming just two and a half months after India and Pakistan nearly went to war over the Rann of Kutch territory, the Kashmir fighting put Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri under heavy political pressure. He was charged with surrendering to Pakistan in past quarrels and thus opening the way for the infiltration into Kashmir.

The violence in Bihar State started among discontented students protesting food costs. Then Communist and other leftist political parties plus right-wing groups joined the fray.

The Bihar State cabinet announced that saboteurs would be shot on sight.

450 European Teens End Summer in U.S.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first in a series about the Youth For Understanding project, in which a majority of 450 Europeans spent a year in Michigan. The youths now are en route home and their reactions and those of their hosts are reported herewith.)

By STUART GROSS
Written For
The Associated Press

ABOARD THE M.S. AURELIA—It's a slow boat that takes 450 teen-age exchange students back to their European homes after a year living in homes in Michigan and 18 other states in a project known as "Youth For Understanding."

It is planned that way. The nine days spent aboard between New York and Lefharve are used specifically to show these students that their individual experiences and conclusions are not necessarily typical of the entire United States.

Mrs. Rachel Andersen, director of YFU, says the boat trip is an integral part of the year's family-oriented living experience for these youngsters. That to send them home hurriedly by airplane would be robbing them of the opportunity to "get off their chests" many of the things that have troubled them during the year.

There also is a more subtle reason, she said. The boat trip allows the students an opportunity to readjust their emotions and get ready to return to the type of living they must follow in the years to come.

EMOTIONAL EXPERIENCE

The breaking of ties formed with American families is an emotional experience for many of these youngsters, who now consider themselves, in many respects, Americans.

Daily aboard ship there are discussions on such areas as American education, religion, family life, youth, civil rights, and politics and foreign policy.

The main presentation is made by men and women expert in their fields — attorneys, businessmen, ministers, and school principals. Then the group breaks up into smaller units for discussions.

It is in these discussions that such things as these come out: "Religion in America is a status thing. People go to church to be seen — but my American parents didn't. They went to church because they wanted to go."

"American youth has too much freedom. My American parents were too strict."

"American education is not as good as European education—but I learned how to study in America."

"American political campaigns are fun...European political campaigns are too serious."

GENERALIZATION

"Mrs. Anderson says the one broad lesson learned in this boat trip home is the danger of using a generalization as a specific example of life in America."

One youngster will get to his feet and assert that there is no family life in America. Immediately, two or three others will rise to dispute him.

This group of Europeans, it must be recognized, are not exactly typical of the European teen-agers. These youngsters are selected from those who have survived the academic tests that have put them in the high school program that leads to a college education. European education does not offer opportunity to all to gain higher education, as in America.

These YFU members are sharp, argumentative, opinionated, and delightful. And, says Mrs. Andersen, whether they realize it or not they will become the strongest defenders of America in their countries once they return.

"The opinions expressed by these youngsters on board," she says, "undergo a change when they get home. It takes time for this experience to be fully realized. But it is."

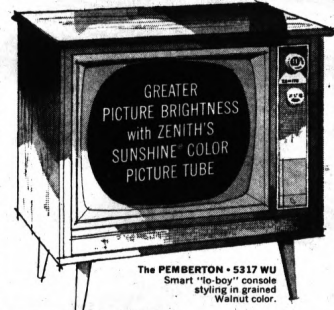

"Our experience shows that when someone in Sweden or Germany or Holland says such is so about America, these youngsters will stand up and refute. And they can. Because they have been here and know."

The defense of America starts to come out on ship. Let one person be too critical, and others will rush to America's side. There are some in the group, for example, who say the U.S. should get out of Viet Nam. But a show of hands revealed fully 95 per cent support the American foreign policy in Viet Nam.

POSTHUMOUS HONORS — The widow of Army Capt. Christopher J. O'Sullivan stands with her sons, Michael, 4, and Stephen, 3, as Lt. Gen. Thomas W. Dunn, First Army commanding general, presents six medals that her husband won. Capt. O'Sullivan was killed May 30 when the Viet Cong ambushed a South Viet Ranger battalion he was advising. The presentation ceremony took place at New York's Ft. Jay yesterday.

Ceremony Honors Officer Slain in Viet

NEW YORK (AP) — Before he died in Viet Nam, Capt. Christopher J. O'Sullivan wrote his two sons that "though we are thousands of miles apart, yet you are still before my eyes."

To his wife, Eleanor, he wrote: "I promised you that I would be overly cautious now that I am rotating so soon. I cannot keep that promise this time. . . . By the time you receive this letter it will be over one way or the other."

In memory of a father and husband who gave his life to save a friend two sons saluted and a widow clasped her hand to her heart Wednesday.

They were guests at a parade and ceremony on Governor's Island attended by the captain's parents, Francis Cardinal Spellman and Mrs. Stephen E. Smith, sister of the late President John F. Kennedy.

SECOND HIGHEST

Mrs. O'Sullivan accepted this nation's second highest military decoration, the Distinguished Service Cross, for her husband. Michael, 4 and Stephen, 3, were at her side.

Five other decorations were presented posthumously to Capt. O'Sullivan. His home was in Astoria, Queens.

Capt. O'Sullivan was killed in an ambush in Viet Nam May 30 as he led a party of Rangers in an attempt to rescue Lt. Donald Robinson of Tacoma, Wash. Seventy-five Vietnamese Rangers also died in the clash.

A hero dead in battle — yet to some it inspired derision. Mrs. O'Sullivan gained national attention last month because of venomous telephone calls.

"Your husband got what he deserved," said one anonymous caller. "It serves you right," said another, and, "He didn't belong in Viet Nam in the first place."

But wrote Lt. Robinson to the widow:

"I find it rather strange to say I love another man — but I did love Capt. O'Sullivan. . . . I don't suppose you can understand the mutual trust that goes to make an advisory team. . . . A trust that only comes when in your heart you know that the other team members will give their life for you. We had that."

Waterford Jaycees Set River Cleanup

The Waterford Township Jaycees will hold an all-day cleanup session Saturday on the Clinton River.

At least 30 members are expected to participate in the project. John Trull is chairman. Jaycee publicity chairman Richard Womack said the group will attempt to extract the major debris from the river.

There will be four collection points, Womack said, adding that the debris would be carried by truck to the dump.

'Stenographers' Out; Now All Secretaries

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Secretaries working for the City of Phoenix will now be called — secretaries.

City Council has decided to eliminate the word "stenographer" from four secretarial job classifications. Stenographer won't be required either since officials felt a transcribing machine does the job cheaper.

Romney Urges U.S. Give Tax Sources to States

MACKINAC ISLAND (AP) — Gov. George Romney suggested Wednesday the federal government relinquish some of its tax sources to the states.

Romney said he preferred this plan to a sometimes suggested program of no-strings-attached federal grants to states which, he conceded, would relieve some of our present problems, relatively painlessly.

On the eve of a tax reform meeting here with legislators, Romney discussed state finances in an address to the National Association of State Budget Officers.

He said every state and local government faces a financial dilemma and must solve it to strengthen "the constitutional division of governmental functions between the federal and state governments."

ADDITIONAL REVENUES

Having the federal government relinquish tax sources and letting the state on their own initiative pick up additional revenues to meet their needs "would be more likely to insure responsible state spending," he added.

"It would discourage an 'easy come, easy go' attitude among the states," the governor said.

"My experience," he added, "has been that if you have to work for something, and are responsible for it, you appreciate it more and value it more highly than if you get it handed to you on a platter."

Romney told of Michigan's climb from an $80 million deficit in July 1962, to an estimated surplus of $128 million this July 1.

TAX BURDEN

But, he said, the surplus will be gone in two years. And, he added, "we need to correct long-standing inequities in our tax structure, which puts a disproportionate share of the tax burden on those least able to pay: low income families, and struggling businesses."

Earlier Wednesday, Romney called for fiscal reform and sharing of agricultural know-how in a visit to the Ionia Free Fair.

He spoke before some 600 persons at the fair's annual Governor's Day Luncheon.

Romney said budget crisis is inevitable by 1967 unless fiscal reform is undertaken in the meantime.

BIG DEFICIT

"If we don't take any tax action in this two-year period, we'll face a whopping deficit in the following year," he said. The governor indicated Michigan's $128 million surplus would be replaced by a $200 million deficit without a tax reform program.

On agriculture, both at the state and national level, Romney said "If we don't take action or teach the world how to grow food and feed its people, Heaven help us." He said the shortage of food in the world would "increase by leaps and bounds unless the United States wakes up."

Romney said "China is tired of starving — that's why it's going into South Viet Nam."

3 Killed, 2 Hurt in Car Mishap by Mount Clemens

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP) — Three persons were killed and two 14-year-old girls badly hurt Wednesday night in a wrong-way collision on the I-94 expressway about three miles from Mount Clemens.

Sheriff's deputies said one automobile was traveling north in the expressway's southbound lane. It wasn't determined immediately why this had happened.

Killed were Gaspare Delia, 78, of Grosse Pointe Woods, who deputies said was the driver of the wrong-way car, and Edward Joseph Groth, 47, and his wife, Margo, 42, both of New Baltimore.

Flashing Red Light Indicated (Out) Law

EUGENE, Ore. (AP) — Gerald A. Lambert of Albany, Ore., said he pulled to the side of the road when a vehicle following him flashed a red light recently.

When the driver of the other car came over to Lambert's car he said, "Give me your money — this is a holdup," and took $270 from Lambert. Lambert couldn't describe the holdup man because a flashlight blinded him, he said.

Beatle Haircuts, Crime Linked?

STOCKHOLM (UPI) — The question of a possible link between Beatle haircuts and juvenile delinquency has been raised — but not answered — at the third United Nations Crime-Prevention Conference here.

E. Munch-Petersen, chairman of Denmark's National Directorate for Child and Juvenile Welfare, brought the mop-topped idols into yesterday's debate with a smile.

"I guess we cannot avoid it," he said. "We have to consider the case of the long-haired boys posted outside the concert hall here in Stockholm. Is this fashion entirely harmless or does it lead in any way to juvenile delinquency?"

He said Beatlemania is almost nonexistent in Denmark, "but you can be sure we'll soon have it there as in all other countries."

Most speakers in the debate stressed the importance of the family as a preventive factor against juvenile delinquency.

SOCIAL FORCES

At today's session, the conference was discussing the effectiveness of social forces in curbing crime and means of rehabilitating convicts.

The conference also was to hear a lecture by Lev N. Smirnov, chief justice of the Russian Republic, largest Soviet "state."

Smirnov will describe the operation of the so-called "comradeship courts" in the communist nations.

Igor Karpets, director of the Moscow Institute for Prevention of Crime, said earlier the Russians have reduced their crime rate 28 per cent in the last 30 years.

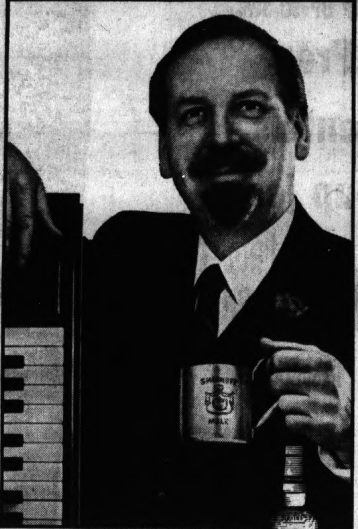

STEADILY INCREASING
U.S. officials would not comment on Karpets' claim except to point out that crime rates are steadily increasing in almost every other nation.

Outside the conference hall, antisegregationists were lobbying for a "black African" protest against alleged tortures in South African prisons.

African sources said these elements urged that the 13 "black Africans" nations represented here demand a debate on South African prison policy.

Russell: U.S. Faces Choices

Impact of Viet Buildup on Economy Is Eyed

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — The United States must spend more on armaments and begin preparing for a nuclear attack on Red China, the chairman of the House Armed Services Committee said Wednesday.

"Should we use our atomic power to wipe out Red China's atomic capability?" Rep. L. Mendel Rivers, D-S.C., asked in a speech before the national convention of Exchange Clubs.

"We must get ready to do this very thing if we want to stop Red China," he said. Rivers said the U.S. should go it alone, if necessary, in containing communism, relying on American military strength. "We can beat anyone," he said.

He's an Old Hand at Helping in Births

WALDORF, Md. (AP) — It was not exactly a new experience for police Cpl. John Sommers when he assisted in the delivery of a baby in a car outside the state police barracks here recently.

The 8-pound boy born to Joan Proctor, 21, was the third child Sommers had helped deliver in the last 10 years.

He said that allies can't be counted on and "the only people I trust are Americans."

"It makes no difference why we're in Viet Nam," Rivers said. "We're there. And I will insist on victory. Anything short of that would be treasonable."

Yet, even a quick and complete victory in Viet Nam would be only "buying time," he said, since a confrontation with China would be still to come.

Rivers criticized foreign aid programs, saying the U.S. has been "trying to buy friends — and we haven't bought one."

Russell quoted Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara as saying that despite the current buildup to 125,000 U.S. troops "more help will be needed in the months ahead and additional United States combat forces will be required to back up the hard-pressed army of South Viet Nam."

Russell said he himself feels that "only time and events will determine the ultimate number" of U.S. troops needed.

LONG HARD CONFLICT

McNamara meanwhile said the Viet Nam war is "going to be a long hard conflict." Talking with newsmen after a closed session with the House Foreign Affairs Committee, he balanced this assessment against a description of his own view as one of "cautious optimism." He said it is clear that increased U.S. air attacks and deployment of more U.S. troops has run up the toll of Viet Cong casualties. The Viet Cong, he said, lost about 7,500 men in May, June and July, against 3,000 to 3,100 lost by South Viet Nam and about 130 U.S. losses.

Russell said "if we are able to have both butter and guns, we will have accomplished the feat of having our cake and eating it too, which no government has heretofore been able to achieve."

Indians Held in Poverty Worker Rape

DENNEHOTSO, Ariz. (UPI) — Four Navajo Indians were being held today for arraignment on charges of raping a pretty anti-poverty worker from Massachusetts during a drunken orgy.

The four — Wilson Gray, 20; Wesley Gray, 18; James L. Frank, 22, and Tully Tsosie, 29, all of the Navajo reservation, waived a hearing and were ordered to face arraignment before a U. S. district judge at a later, undetermined date.

They were brought before U. S. Commissioner Wallace Crawford last night and were held in lieu of $5,000 bond each.

A 12-year-old boy also had been taken into custody, but was not brought before the commissioner.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) said the four men were suspected of attacking the blonde while she slept in a hut behind the Navajo meeting house here. Ft. Defiance Reservation police identified her as Linda Silverman, 19.

AT FRIENDS' HOME

Authorities said the volunteer worker in the Domestic Peace Corps was treated at a Seventh Day Adventist hospital on the reservation and then was taken to the home of friends at Window Rock.

Investigators said the rape of the girl followed a drinking party at Kayenta early yesterday. The girl had not been at the party, authorities said.

The victim was reported to have bitten one of her attackers on the lip and her nightgown was covered with blood.

Only a blanket covered the doorway to the girl's modest hut, authorities said. She was sleeping in a sleeping bag at the time, investigators reported. Navajo tribal chairman Raymond Nakai termed the incident "most unfortunate."

Canada's population is concentrated in the southeast where more than half of the people reside in an area bordering on the Great Lakes and St. Lawrence Seaway.

Wilson Still Wants Red China in U.N.

BY K. C. THALER

United Press International
LONDON (UPI) — Despite the Viet Nam war, Britain still thinks Red China should be in the United Nations.

Prime Minister Harold Wilson, himself one of the staunchest supporters of American South East Asia policy, told Parliament in a foreign affairs review that Communist China should be represented in the world organization "despite everything."

In stressing this view, the Labor government does not intend to embarrass the United States.

The British government view, and especially that of Wilson personally, is that things might have been better in Viet Nam if the Communists could have been contacted in the corridors of the U.N. or its major agencies in New York or Geneva.

Wilson, who has made it his business to push a Viet Nam peace campaign wherever possible — though with no discernible success to date — takes the line that the first thing to do is to establish some channel of communication with the Communists of Peking and (or) Hanoi.

His argument has been all along that while it may have been possible to establish, inconspicuously, some such contact had there been a pipeline in existence, it is a very different matter to get a formal

TV Watching Brings Fine to Woman Driver

DETROIT (AP) — Rose Mary Lucas, 25, of Detroit was fined $75 and ordered not to drive her car for a year Wednesday for watching television while driving.

Miss Lucas was penalized in Traffic Court under a new state law forbidding operation of a motor vehicle while watching TV. She pleaded guilty. The offense is a misdemeanor.

Police said Miss Lucas had a TV set with an eight-inch screen plugged into the car's cigarette lighter and resting beneath the dashboard.

Skilled craftsmen have been cleaning the time-stained interior of London's Westminster Abbey with soap and water. The walls now glisten anew, revealing the original white stone marble and bright gold leaf tracery.

conference going under the full glare of world publicity.

Peking and Hanoi have, in fact been saying they don't want to sit down at a conference table with the Americans.

This argument tends to overlook, however, one important point. Britain has diplomatic relations with Red China and has a charge d'affaires in Peking. Red China, in turn, has a diplomatic representative in London.

The fact is Britain has been unable to "reach" the Peking regime through this established channel because the Communists simply refuse to talk.

APPLIES TO FRANCE

The same seems to apply even to France. President Charles De Gaulle went out of his way to establish full-dress diplomatic relations with Red China, on full ambassadorial level.

But all the available evidence is the French got no further in Peking than the British.

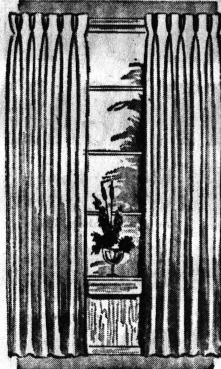

The fact is that the hard-line Communist leaders — and this certainly applies to the Peking rulers — follow their own rules. They talk when they want to and they remain unreachable when they don't.

Wilderness Beauty and Poverty Combine in Peaceful Ozarks

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The Ozarks are a land of wilderness and springs, lakes and caves, birds and flowers, and are also, alas, a land of beer cans and poverty, but the people are serene and genuine in "the most peaceful place in the world." The second in a series on America the Beautiful.)

By ARTHUR EDSON
AP Newsfeatures Writer
PRUITT, Ark. —As you meander down Highway 7 from the north, a drive many think is the most beautiful in the Ozarks, you see a sign that is a delightful understatement.

"This road crooked and steep for 11 miles," it says.

So you twist and turn, rise and fall for 10 or so lovely miles — and you reach a second sign — exactly like the first one.

The Ozarks are like that.

They stretch across southern Missouri, northern Arkansas and eastern Oklahoma, and although they are called mountains, they really are a plateau that is marvelously tousled on top.

RIDGES, VALLEYS

It's a land of sudden ridges and deep valleys, of springs that bubble tirelessly from deep caverns, of streams that are clear and merry, of vast woodlands that remain much as they were when first the white man came.

Only a stay-at-home could readily answer the question: What spot is the prettiest in the nation?

The experienced, practicing traveler would be awash with engaging and contending memories, from the sensuous, beguiling Everglades to the magnificent, formidable Rockies.

Not many votes would be cast for the Ozarks. Alas, this hilly region isn't well known, and not even the most loyal native, greedy for tourist cash, would claim that it inspires awe.

DANIEL WEBSTER

Yet, as Daniel Webster once said of Dartmouth, there are those who love her.

Here fishermen can seek out bass, channel cat and rainbow trout. Hunters can pursue deer, wild turkey and quail. Boatmen can roar around or laze upon a half dozen large man-made lakes.

And it is ideal for those who simply love the wilderness, who treasure the violet or the Sweet William, who listen for the dulcet wood thrush, or who find music in the shoals of a scurrying stream.

As a witness, I could be prejudiced. I grew up on the edge of these hills, with plenty of care-free time to explore and to observe and to wonder.

BEAUTY SPOTS

Since nothing can be more disillusioning than boyhood revelations, I was mildly apprehensive when the Ozarks were included in a project describing America's beauty spots.

It is a pleasure to report that the wild flowers bloom as abundantly, the birds sing as joyously, the brooks flow as exuberantly as they did 40 years ago.

In addition to their charm, the Ozarks point up a strange national problem. For if you take the hill roads from the east, through Virginia, West Virginia, Kentucky, Tennessee and on into the Ozarks, you will find people in dismal poverty while surrounded by glorious beauty.

No place illustrates this better than Pruitt, which is little more than a ramshackle post office in northeastern Arkansas.

Here Arkansas Highway 7 — if you are ever in this area don't miss driving it — dives down and crosses the Buffalo River. This is Newton County, possibly the prettiest and statistically the poorest in the state. Highway 7 is the county's only paved road.

Pearl Holland operates a sort of fishing camp here. A sign warns: "No hard drinks, smoking or unlawful acts allowed."

Mrs. Holland's grandfather settled here; her grandchildren are with her now, making five generations in this same pleasant spot. The living isn't easy. At 50, Mrs. Holland's face is well lined, and her cotton dress is held together by safety pins, but her eyes are steady and serene.

CLOSE TO GOD

"I love it here, sir," she says. "You are so close to God you can just see it all around you. The birds sing all the time, and you should hear the whippoorwill at night. It's the most peaceful place in the world."

All over the Ozarks you see signs advertising "floats." This is an invitation to float down the river, fishing or just gazing, while an enterprising native drives your car to meet you at a predetermined spot.

Mrs. Holland watches a canoe drift toward shore, the rendezvous point for a canoe party. There are 50 canoes altogether, and each is well stocked with nature lovers who have been floating down the Buffalo with time out for an overnight camp.

Husky Patrick Montgomery is a canoeist from Kansas City, 280 miles north, and if you think this is a far piece for an overnight float, then you underestimate nature lovers.

Passionately devoted to keeping the Ozarks tidy, Montgomery belongs to a club that each Labor Day laboriously collects trash from streams.

"We get everything from beer cans to tractor tires," Montgomery says. "You can use a magnet to pick up the ordinary can on the bottom, but they make aluminum ones now. You got to dive for 'em."

Now let's float the White River from Cotter, Ark.

It is a magnificent day, the hills are softly graced with dogwoods, the birds, especially those delectable mockers, sing so overwhelmingly there is never a second's silence.

WATER RELEASED

This is great fishing country. The water is released from the chilly bottom of Buss Shoals Lake so it is cold enough for rainbows.

Every bend brings new boats in view, and every boat has two or three fishermen or fishermen, each fishing and concentrating as if they were Einstein solving relatively. Only the guides seem to have fun.

River protocol demands that inquiries be made as to how the fish are responding. Our guide, a high school senior named Tooter Flippin, politely asks:

"You slayin' 'em?"

The other guide, shepherding a couple of novices who are unlikely to come up with anything but sunburn, shakes his head, winks and grins.

ONE FLAW

This idyllic scene has one flaw. Recently discarded beer and soft drink cans, some of aluminum, bob past, melancholy evidence of how the search for nature untouched is then stupidly despoiled.

Many large caves, and innumerable small ones, are under these hills.

A few are well known and nationally advertised, but the biggest and best may still be filled with the water that pours from countless springs.

The nation's largest spring is in southeastern Missouri: appropriately but unimaginatively, it is simply called Big Spring.

What a gigantic cavern must be under these old bluffs! Each day as many as 846 million gallons of water may surge out, forming an instant river. This spring is so tremendous that the daily erosion of limestone mounts up to 175 tons.

SWIFT RIVER

A few hundred yards away Big Spring joins the swiftly-running Current River, a fortunate stream that is constantly refreshed.

If you turn off famed U.S. 66 at Cuba, Mo., and head south, you'll find a succession of state parks, each with a large attractive spring that hurries to the Current.

When man tampers with nature, the results often are catastrophic, but the lakes here may be an exception. They range from the Lake of the Ozarks in central Missouri to Lake of the Cherokees in northeastern Oklahoma to Table Rock, Taneycomo, Bull Shoals and Norfolk Lakes on the Arkansas-Missouri border.

Damming a crooked river produces a most unlikely looking lake. But interlacing valleys mean a tremendous shoreline—the Lake of the Ozarks wanders so its shoreline is 1,350 miles—that offers fine sites for homes and recreational facilities.

BEER JOINTS

Although the words "recreational facilities" are often a coverup for honky-tonks and beer joints, unspoiled places remain. Land is still comparatively cheap in the Ozarks, and many a visitor returns to retire here.

When Cecil Rice quit as a hog buyer in Illinois, he and his wife built a home overlooking Bull Shoals. "This is the most beautiful place in the world," Mrs. Rice says, "and that's pretty good for a woman born in Texas."

Natives love their hills and valleys, but curiously their aesthetic sense does not extend to things they build for themselves.

Their towns, often constructed around a square, may be dreary blotches. But there are exceptions, of which Eureka Springs, Ark., is a picturesque example.

TREES, FLOWERS

It calls itself Little Switzerland land—it even has a Lake Lucerne—and it is built on 20 hills divided by 18 canyons. A statistical naturalist has counted 115 species of trees and 254 species of wild flowers to go with its 53 springs.

Yes even Eureka Springs, unusual and quaint as it is, is having its troubles. Modern tourists may marvel at it, but they're likely to travel its streets that writhe like a wounded snake, and go on without pausing to part with their money.

"The old town" is looking shabby," an elderly retired man told me. "I don't rightly know why. There's a lot a-fusin' and a-tumin'. I reckon a business can't operate any more only three months out of the year."

Oddly, these three months are those likely to be least attractive. Summers can be hot and dry, but spring and fall are delightful.

RURAL AMERICA

Much of rural America suffers these days, nowhere worse than in the hill country. The early settler found water, fish, wood, game and a patch of bottomland big enough for the meager crops he needed.

He never dreamed that the agricultural future belonged to the prairies where giant contraptions would cultivate and harvest vast acreages enriched, not by spring-flooding rivers, but by commercial fertilizers.

Arnold Jones, caretaker of the watermill at Alley Spring Park, Mo., remembers when the mill ground night and day.

But it has been stilled since 1917 and farming has become increasingly precarious in these hills.

"I can't recall nobody who is making their all off a farm," Jones says. "They either have a wife workin' or they're drawin' Social Security."

POPULATION FIGURES

What has happened is painfully revealed in the population figures. Here in Benton County the population has dropped from 10,861 in 1940 to 8,865 in 1950 to 5,963 in 1960.

The country may be beautiful, but, as the saying goes, "you can't eat the scenery," and the young flee.

But the memories cling indelibly, of redoubt on the hills, of chatty streams like the Illinois, Jack's Fork, Eleven Points and Roaring River.

HIGHLAND APPLIANCE CO.

This AUGUST There's a Method To Our Madness!..

It happens every August... The appliance business gets that "low-down blues feeling." Who needs winter entertainment appliances in August? Not much summer left to enjoy the comfort of air conditioning. Maybe the old refrigerator will hold out. Why worry about it now. Even if you can get a new air conditioner for a mad $79... or a new top-name brand refrigerator for $99 at Highland just because it's August! What other month of the year can you get an RCA Victor Color TV for less than $300 or a G.E. stereo Hi-Fi console for just $89... a Detroit Jewel gas range for $69... or a Hotpoint dishwasher for $109? There's a method to our madness. We've deliberately reduced everything to save you more dollars this August than ever before. That way you may decide to buy that refrigerator or TV RIGHT NOW! Maybe you'll even buy two appliances and save twice as much. Everything is marked down, including new 1966 models. Everything is top-quality and top-name brand. Floor models are priced accordingly. If price is your only reason for not buying at Highland during August—better get a new reason.

Clyde Beatty Gone...but Show Goes On

By ART SCHEIFLE

The big man, Clyde Beatty, died of cancer July 19 but the show goes on.

The Clyde Beatty-Cole Brothers Circus was in Niagara Falls, N.Y. when word came: Clyde Beatty was gone.

There was a one-minute observance just before the lion and tiger act went on that day.

Then, Joe Hartman, who first worked with Beatty in 1948, took over.

Hartman, 36, a blond, personable, had helped Beatty train the big cats in winter quarters for three or four years. The animals were no strangers to him.

An accomplished showman in his own right, Hartman has added several tricks of his own in handling the big cats, and presents an act of which even Beatty himself would be proud.

The danger of clawing is an ever-present hazard in such work.

Hartman displayed his left arm, healing in several places, just before the afternoon show yesterday at Pontiac Mall where the circus played two performances.

NICKED ON ARM

"He nicked me a bit, Caesar did," said Hartman—nodding toward a huge black-maned Nubian lion.

"It was nothing to get upset about. Just means I have to watch him more closely."

Hartman had a had one several years ago when he was clawed on his thigh from his knee almost to his waist.

That was in 1959 but it's a constant reminder to stay alert during the act.

Like Beatty, Hartman uses a chair, a whip, and a gun loaded with blanks. He recalls a day he loaded Beatty's gun seven times while Beatty worked with the big animals.

At that time, there were 23 cats. Today, there are only eight—five lions and three tigers.

It delays the act to have too many animal performers coming out of the chute, Hartman said. He expects delivery of eight more in the near future, however.

In a strange twist of fate, two lions have died of cancer since the disease claimed their master.

Since they've worked so much with Hartman, the big cats don't seem to miss Beatty. But the circus people do.

Japan, with an estimated population of 97 million, encompasses an area of about 147,000 square miles, somewhat less than the size of California.

Beatles Leave for U.S. Tour Tomorrow

LONDON (UPI) — The Beatles, honored by the queen, listed on the London Stock Exchange and booked to a full baseball stadium, leave tomorrow on another tour of the United States and Canada.

Their last tour a year ago earned them $3 million, and in the intervening months they have gained new respectability, and in one instance, a wife.

Ringo Starr, at 23 the oldest of the quartet, married former hairdresser Maureen Cox in February. They are expecting a baby by the end of the year.

Ringo and the other Beatles, John Lennon, 24, Paul McCartney, 23, and George Harrison, 23, will leave their wives and girlfriends behind on this trip, which will crowd in 10 cities in 19 days.

Now that they are members of the British Establishment, there is inevitably talk that they are slipping in popularity. "Utter bilge," a spokesman for the quartet says, pointing to the sold-out sign at New York's 55,600-seat Shea Stadium, where the group first appears Sunday night.

NUMBER ONE

Their record "Help!", from their new movie of the same name, has been No. 1 in England for three weeks and has sold a million copies in the United States.

Beatles stock has slipped a few pennies on the London

Exchange — from $1.00 a share to $1.05—but this is in line with a general slump on the market these days.

The stock actually is in the Northern Songs Co., with income dependent on the songs written by Lennon and McCartney, who own 30 per cent of the shares.

The honors bestowed by the queen created controversy, but the Beatles appear to have weathered it.

Firearms were used in about 26,000 aggravated assaults last year. In the last four years, 216 law enforcement officers in the nation were murdered by offenders using guns.

Reports MSU Researcher

Tiny Worm May Be Big Mosquito Killer

By PHIL BROWN
Associated Press Writer
EAST LANSING (AP) — If mosquitoes bug you, your best friend may be a worm.

A Michigan State University researcher has found that thread-size worms about an inch long, called nematodes, attach themselves to mosquitoes and either kill them or disrupt their reproductive cycle so they can't lay eggs.

The report from Robert F. W. Schroder was one of the few bright spots in this mosquito season.

At Cornell University in Ithaca, N. Y., a scientist reported that even in a drought, mosquitoes can find standing water for breeding.

SPRAYING PONDS

He suggested flushing bird-baths and animals' watering pans at least once a week and spraying fishponds with a petroleum oil solution.

Another Cornell scientist, Dr. Bernard Travis, said that for unexplained reasons, even a trusted insect repellent some-times won't work.

Travis said researchers still are trying to find a repellent that will work for all bugs, that won't have an objectional odor or texture and that will keep the bugs not only from biting but will keep them at a distance.

When all else fails for the camper, he advised, an old-fashioned smoke pot might work, preferably one in a bucket so it can be moved if the wind shifts.

WORK CONTINUES

At MSU, Robert Schroder is continuing his work with nematodes.

"Just think what this would mean if this type of biological control would work on yellow fever mosquitoes," he said. "We could drop the nematode eggs or adults from the air on mosquito hatching areas and virtually eliminate the carriers of a dreaded disease."

Schroder, a graduate research assistant, first became interested in mosquito problems when working on malaria control in India as a Peace Corps volunteer.

In southeastern Michigan areas which Schroder surveyed, he found that nematodes parasitize up to 50 per cent of male mosquitoes and more than 90 per cent of females.

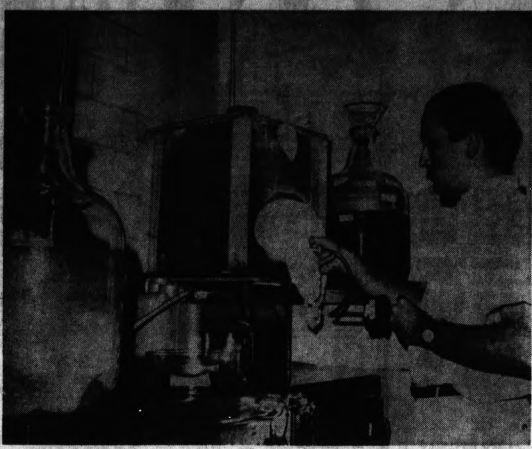

LARVA STAGE

The nematodes attach themselves to mosquitoes while the insect pests are in their larva stage.

Now Schroder and MSU's Roger Hoopingarner are collecting mosquitoes that are parasitized by nematodes. They will wait for the worms to kill the mosquitoes, then collect the nematodes and allow them to reproduce.

They want more information on the worms, such as whether they might also attack beneficial organisms. They also would need large numbers of nematodes to control mosquitoes under field conditions.

If the nematodes work, Schroder says this would save money, eliminate spraying and greatly reduce the time and effort needed to seek out mosquitoes and kill them with chemicals.

WAR ON MOSQUITOES—Robert Schroder, Michigan State University researcher, uses a device to suck mosquitoes from their cage to see if they have been parasitized by nematodes. Schroder hopes the nematodes—thread-size worms about an inch long—may be used to fight the war on the insect pests.

$23.5 Million Asked for NY Subway Cars

NEW YORK (AP) — The Transit Authority says it has asked the federal government for $23.5 million to purchase 200 new streamlined subway cars.

The authority said it would buy 400 new cars with the city paying the other half of the total estimated cost of more than $46.8 million. It's the first time the city has requested aid under the 1964 urban mass transportation law.

There are 1.1 million acres of water in Alabama.

Trucks in Bad Shape

LONDON (UPI) — More than half the 12,484 heavy trucks stopped for spot safety checks in June were defective, the Ministry of Transport said today. Of that number, 1,673 were ordered off the road immediately.

The DRC Story

LIPSTICK SMEARS and THE SUSPICIOUS WIFE

Confucius and Shakespeare were Horse Players.

But it doesn't take a Chinese philosopher or an English poet to spell out the dangers of the Husband who goes home from the race track with lipstick smears on his collar or cheek.

It is a tell-tale mark. The translation is easy for any Suspicious Wife. The explanation is very difficult for the Branded One.

If you find yourself in this predicament, I wouldn't suggest saying you were kissed by one of the horses running at the Detroit Race Course. But you might interest the Suspicious Wife in the lips of our thoroughbreds. There is something special about them.

The fields for our nine race program Monday-through-Friday and the big 10 race card on Saturdays are drawn from the 1,500 horses stabled on our grounds. Every one of these thoroughbreds has a LIP TATTOO.

It is far more meaningful than the Hearts-and-Daggers, the Slithering Snake or the Dancing Girl Tattoo on the arms or chest of the old time sailor or carnival character.

The Lip Tattoo is a safeguard taken for the Fan's protection, and to increase your racing pleasure at DRC. It is a means of quick and positive identification of every thoroughbred. It is as foolproof as fingerprinting among people.

The Lip Tattoo consists of a letter designating the year of the horse's birth and four digits of his Jockey Club registration number.

The tattoo is on the inside of the horse's upper lip.

The Lip Tattoo is one of the multiple steps taken by the 50 major tracks in the United States and Canada which are members of the Thoroughbred Racing Association and its Racing Protective Bureau, to safeguard the sport and guarantee its high level conduct.

The Detroit Race Course is the only Michigan track which belongs to the TRA.

Our constant and continuing aim at the DRC is to provide the finest in facilities and the best in racing for your entertainment and pleasure.

We have a new $3,000,000 clubhouse, which will open soon; excellent dining facilities in our Mile Terrace and Silk Room; a pleasant and relaxing atmosphere in our spacious bars; parking for 12,000 cars, with Valet service for those who desire it; a new paddock and Walking Ring that has the horses in view of the spectators at all times; Express Lines in our betting areas; and a new entrance off Inkster Road, which speeds the flow of traffic.

It adds up to A Package of Pleasure... and one of the real bargains in entertainment. Our General Admission is only $1.

Racing is finer and more fun at the DRC. Come out soon and visit us.

Car not running right on regular gasoline...and you hate that 4¢ price jump to premium?

Sunoco lets you move up to higher octane for just about a penny more! Ask for blend 210.

All 8 new, improved Sunoco gasolines are Custom-Blended to save 1¢ or 2¢ a gallon for four out of five car owners!

For the man who needs just a little more octane than most regular gasolines offer, Custom-Blend 210 is the perfect answer. You can even go a little higher in octane to Custom-Blend 220 and still be well below what you'd pay for premium at the typical two-gasoline station. And no matter what Custom-Blended gasoline is right for your car and your pocketbook, they all offer three great, new improvements: New Higher Octane • New Carburetor Cleaner • New Clean-Fuel Filter

For top performance at less cost, ask at Sunoco for the new Custom-Blended gasoline that's priced just under what you've been paying at another station.

Sandwich Makers Are Creative

BY JANET ODELL

Pontiac Press Food Editor

There's just one difficulty about writing an article on sandwiches — too much choice.

I get so many good sounding recipes for use during August, the sandwich month, that I have trouble deciding what to discard.

One of the most obvious choices this year is the grand prize winner in the 10th annual National Sandwich Idea Contest.

Terry Vince who is a food research technician for a Greyhound Food Management operation near Detroit won top honors with his Grilled Cheese Mexicana sandwich.

Vince combines two teenage favorites, cheese and ground beef for a triple decker grilled in butter.

Grilled Cheese Mexicana
16 ounces ground beef
½ cup finely chopped celery
½ cup finely chopped onion
4 tablespoons tomato paste
1½ teaspoons chili powder
¼ teaspoon sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
¼ teaspoon garlic powder
¼ cup water (about)
18 slices enriched white sandwich bread
Butter, softened
12 slices (1 oz. each) process cheese Mexicana sandwich.

¼ cup grapefruit and orange sections.

4 lettuce cups
In heavy saucepan over medium heat mix together beef, celery and onion. Cover and cook 15 minutes. Stir in tomato paste, chili powder, sugar, salt, pepper and garlic powder. Add enough water to moisten. Cover and continue cooking 15 minutes, stirring occasionally.

Meanwhile, spread 12 bread slices with butter. With 3-inch round cutter, cut out centers from remaining bread. Pre-heat grill or frypan.

To assemble sandwiches, on board place 6 buttered slices, buttered side down. Cover each with 1 cheese slice. Place bread slices with centers removed over cheese.

Spoon about ¼ cup beef mixture into center, spreading to fill opening. Cover with remaining cheese. Close sandwiches with remaining bread, buttered side up.

Grill on both sides until golden brown. Cut each diagonally in half. Serve hot, with ¼ cup grapefruit and orange sections in lettuce cup. Makes 6 sandwiches.

Another sandwich that will appeal to teen-agers is a hero. Dagwood might be credited with inventing this type of sandwich.

This particular recipe calls for a whole round loaf of Italian bread. After assembling, you cut it into wedge-shaped pieces for serving. To vary the taste, substitute rye bread.

Fresh Tomato Super Hero

1 large round Italian bread or several smaller ones
8 oz. whipped cream cheese
2 large tomatoes, sliced lengthwise
1 teaspoon basil leaves, crushed
½ cup cole slaw
3 large hard-cooked eggs, thinly sliced
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon ground black pepper
10 slices smoked salmon
½ cup thinly sliced cucumber
4 teaspoons snipped fresh dill
¼ cup thinly sliced radishes
½ cup thinly sliced red onions

Slice bread lengthwise 4 times to make even sized layers. Starting with the bottom layer, spread with half the whipped cream cheese, arrange tomatoes on top and sprinkle with basil leaves. Cover with second slice.

Top second slice with cole slaw, sliced hard-cooked eggs, salt and ground black pepper. Cover with next slice of bread. Place salmon on bread, arrange cucumber slices on top and sprinkle with snipped dill.

Cover with another slice of bread. Spread bread with remaining cream cheese, top with radishes and red onions.

Cover with top crust of bread. Serve in wedges. Yield: approximately 8 servings.

Both the preceding sandwiches have been hearty ones. This third one is for the ladies, although we'll wager men won't refuse a sample.

English muffin halves are topped with a chicken, orange, ripe olive mixture and paired with avocado and almonds on the remaining second halves.

California Open-Face

1 medium avocado
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 cup chopped cooked chicken
¼ cup diced orange (about 1 small orange)
¼ cup chopped ripe olives
3 tablespoons mayonnaise or salad dressing
¼ teaspoon salt
Dash poultry seasoning
Chicken mixture. On each top half arrange 4 avocado slices; sprinkle with almonds. Serve open-face or closed.

2 tablespoons sliced, blanched almonds, toasted

Cut avocado lengthwise in half, remove seed and peel. Cut each half crosswise into 12 slices. Sprinkle with lemon juice and let stand while preparing remaining ingredients.

Thoroughly mix together chicken, orange, olives, 3 tablespoons mayonnaise or salad dressing, salt and poultry seasoning. Spread both halves of English muffins with mayonnaise or salad dressing.

On bottom halves spread chicken mixture. On each top half arrange 4 avocado slices; sprinkle with almonds. Serve open-face or closed.

Salad Flavored With Sesame

An unusual salad is this one that can be served alone or with mild flavored meats.

Jade Tree Salad Dressing

1½ cup oil
¾ cup tarragon flavored vinegar
2 teaspoons salt
1 teaspoon mustard
¼ teaspoon garlic powder
¼ teaspoon black pepper, ground
¼ cup sugar
¼ cup toasted sesame seeds
¼ cup grated Parmesan cheese

3-5 green onions
Toast sesame seeds on ungreased cookie sheet stirring frequently till lightly browned. Set aside.

Combine all ingredients except seeds and cheese by shaking in a glass jar. Add sesame seeds and grated cheese and shake. Chill. Makes 2½ cups.

Combine iceberg lettuce, peeled water chestnuts and bits of cooked chicken. Shake dressing then toss with salad ingredients.

Garnish with jade trees by using the stem part of a green onion. Cut off bulb end and stalk. Using a sharp paring knife, make thin slits of the stem within an inch of one end.

Curl the slits downward with fingers and place in ice water. This makes dainty fan-type garnish.

New Look, Flavor for Cauliflower

French fried cauliflower gives a new look and new flavor to an old favorite.

Sift together ¼ cup each of corn meal and sifted all-purpose flour, and ¼ teaspoon of salt. Add 1 egg, slightly beaten, ½ cup of milk and 2 tablespoons of melted or liquid shortening. Beat until smooth.

Separate ¼ pound of fresh cauliflower into flowerets. Using tongs, dip flowerets into batter; drain and fry a few at a time about 5 minutes or until golden brown in deep fat preheated to 350-degrees.

Drain on absorbent paper. Serve hot. Makes 6 servings.

PARTY FARE — Need a party cake in a hurry? Here's one to make in minutes. Start with two store-bought cake layers. Spread one pint slightly softened Dutch Chocolate ice cream over one layer; top with second layer. Whip one pint heavy cream and flavor with one-half teaspoon almond extract. Spread over top and sides of cake. Place in freezer until serving time. Decorate, if you like, with flowers or a birthday greeting.

Michigan Carrots to Have Their Day

August 13 has been designated "Michigan Carrot Day" reports the District Extension Agent, Josephine La w yer. Michigan ranks third among states in carrot production with over 100 million pounds produced on 4,000 acres each year.

Carrots rank fourth in value of fresh vegetables grown in the state. In 1964 this amounted to $3.2 million.

Michigan carrots are close to market — freight costs are less than for carrots shipped from other states and consumers get fresher products.

Most of the Michigan carrot crop is sold fresh. About one-third of the crop is processed into baby foods, soups, etc.

The marketing and packaging of carrots has drastically changed within the last ten years. In 1951 it was estimated that only one per cent of the carrots retailed were prepackaged.

By 1956 it was estimated that 85 per cent of the carrots were topped and packed in consumer-size bags prior to retail sale. It is safe to assume that even more are now prepackaged.

This change has reduced shipping costs by reducing weight and has resulted in more nutritious carrots. Tops continue to live from the root once the carrot is removed from the soil.

Good quality carrots will be well-shaped, firm, crisp, smooth, clean and free from blemishes. The best are free from deep green shoulders which indicate bitter flavor.

Overripe carrots may have a hard or pithy core while under-ripe carrots are immature and have less Vitamin A value.

A pound of carrots will make five half-cup servings cooked or eight half-cup servings shredded raw. Young carrots usually don't need paring.

For an unusual finish to a meal, try this carrot cake:

Carrot Cake

1 cup sugar
½ cup salad oil
1½ cups flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon salt
1 cup grated raw carrots
2 eggs
½ cup nut meats

Mix sugar and oil, add sifted dry ingredients, add one egg at a time, beating well, add carrots, then nuts last and bake in medium sized loaf pan at 375 degrees F. for 55 minutes.

GRILLED CHEESE MEXICANA

Blend Crumb Mixture, Fruits for Summer Dessert Treat

Topped with ice cream this "triple toss" is a lovely warm weather dessert. Combine graham cracker crumbs with coconut, nuts, sugar and spices; toss with melted butter. Combine lemon and sugar; toss with strawberries, blueberries, grapes, and pineapple. Toss crumb and fruit mixtures.

Graham Tropicana
1 cup graham cracker crumbs
¼ cup flaked coconut
¼ cup coarsely chopped walnuts or pecans
1½ tablespoons sugar
¼ teaspoon ground cinnamon

¼ teaspoon ground mace
¼ cup butter or margarine, melted
1 cup sliced strawberries
1 cup blueberries
1 cup sliced seeded or seedless grapes
1 cup fresh or canned pineapple chunks
½ cup sugar
Grated rind and juice of 1 lemon
Vanilla ice cream

Place first six ingredients in a bowl. Add butter or margarine; toss lightly with a fork. Cover; set aside at room temperature. Place fruits in a second bowl.

Thoroughly blend sugar with lemon rind; add juice. Sprinkle over fruits; toss. Cover and chill. Just before serving, drain fruits thoroughly.

Combine with crumb mixture and toss lightly until fruits are coated with crumbs. Serve topped with ice cream. Makes 6 servings.

Put Mixture Onto Chips

Sometimes the simplest recipe ingredients make the best eating. "Olive Bologna Canapes" are a good example of this.

Olive Bologna Canapes
1 cup ripe olives
½ cup finely chopped or coarsely ground bologna
2 pimientos, chopped
3 tablespoons finely chopped sour pickle
Tabasco
Mayonnaise
Potato chips
Grated American cheese

Cut olives into small pieces; mix with bologna, pimiento, pickle, Tabasco to taste and enough mayonnaise to moisten. Spread on crisp potato chips. Sprinkle with cheese. Serve at once. Makes about 1½ cups spread.

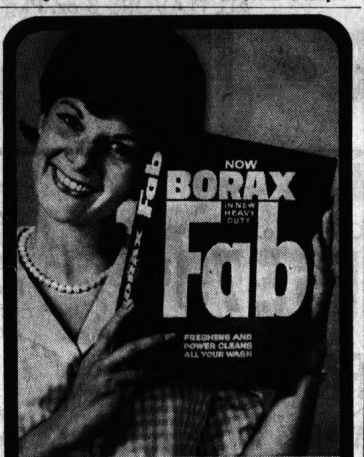

Start Fire Early

if You Plan Kabobs

A few points to remember for a successful skewer party: start the fires long enough ahead of time so the charcoal will be grayed and hot; precook and marinate long-cook vegetables like carrots, onions and potatoes so they'll brown in the time required for the meat.

Cut sirloin or tenderloin steak into 1 to 1½-inch cubes. Some like to marinate the beef; others prefer the flavor of beef "as is." Use some of both.

Base kabobs frequently during cooking.

Use Soda and Baking Powder in Cake

Both baking powder and baking soda are used in many chocolate cakes in this recipe.

The baking soda reacting with the buttermilk or sour milk acts as a part of the leavening but is used, principally, to give the cake a rich mahogany color.

The baking powder, as the principal leavening ingredient, helps make sure of fine texture, good volume, and attractive shape of the layers.

PICNIC NOODLE SALAD—This egg noodle salad contains ham and cheese to provide the main dish—in fact almost the complete meal—for a picnic.

Try Macaroni Salad With Egg Noodles as the Base

A macaroni salad always hits the spot at a picnic. For a variation, try a salad with egg noodles as the base.

Of the same family as macaroni, but with eggs added, noodles are satisfying fare. Add cubes of cooked ham and Swiss cheese to make a main dish. Celery adds crunch, and pimiento-stuffed olives add spice.

Picnic Noodle Salad is almost a full meal, making the packing of the picnic basket easy, and the serving of the picnic meal simple.

Just one word of advice: be sure the salad is thoroughly chilled and either carefully wrapped or packed in an ice chest to keep it cold until eating time.

Picnic Noodle Salad

- | | |
|--|---|
| 1 tablespoon salt | 1/4 teaspoon pepper |
| 3 quarts boiling water | 1 can (1 pound) boneless, cooked ham, cubed |
| 8 ounces medium egg noodles (about 4 cups) | 1/4 pound Swiss cheese cubed |
| 1/4 cup mayonnaise | 1/4 cup sliced pimiento-stuffed olives |
| 1 teaspoon caraway seed | 1/4 cup chopped celery |
| 1 teaspoon salt | Crisp chichory |

Add 1 tablespoon salt to rapidly boiling water. Gradually add noodles so that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally until tender. Drain in colander. Rinse with cold water; drain again.

Combine mayonnaise, caraway seed, 1 teaspoon salt and pepper. In large bowl toss dressing with cooked noodles, ham, cheese, olives and celery; chill. At serving time, garnish with

Quick Cocoa Velvet Cake

|---|
| 1 1/4 cups sifted enriched all-purpose flour |
| 1 teaspoon salt |
| 1 1/4 cups sugar |
| 6 tablespoons cocoa |
| 1/4 teaspoon baking soda |
| 1 1/4 teaspoons double-action baking powder or 1 1/4 teaspoons phosphate baking powder or 1 1/4 teaspoons tart-rate baking powder |
| 1/2 cup shortening |
| 1 cup buttermilk OR sour milk |
| 2 large eggs |

Sift the six dry ingredients together in a large mixing bowl. Add shortening and buttermilk. Beat vigorously by hand, or with mixer at medium speed, for 2 minutes. Scrape sides of mixing.

Add eggs. Continue beating for 2 more minutes, scraping sides of bowl frequently.

Divide batter evenly into 2 greased and floured 8-inch layer pans. Bake in 350 degree (moderate) oven for 30 to 35 minutes. Cool in pans for 10 minutes, then turn out onto cake racks.

Cool layers thoroughly, then frost with favorite chocolate frosting.

Cultured Now

Buttermilk was originally a by-product from churning butter. Today, most of the buttermilk sold is made by adding a pure lactic acid culture to pasteurized skim milk. It's low in calories and easy to digest, too.

Dips Give Chicken Interesting Taste

Chicken offers a high quantity of quality protein, making it an especially fine food for teens, states the National Broiler Council. Next time you have a party for youngsters, try barbecued chicken legs with a Zip Dip... Tomato Zip Dip:

Combine 1/2 cup chili sauce, 2 tablespoons horseradish, 1/4 cup finely chopped ripe olives, and 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce. Makes 1 cup.

Pungent Pickle Dip: Combine 1/4 cup pickle relish, 1/4 cup mayonnaise, 3 tablespoons prepared mustard, and 2 tablespoons chopped onion. Makes 1 cup.

Spoon Chilled Gelatin Onto Melon

Launch dinner with "Avocado Gelatin on Melon" when you want a refreshing, eye-catching first course. Velvety-smooth California avocado is mashed for this recipe.

On other occasions, begin a meal with avocado half-shells simply drizzled with oil and vinegar dressing and sprinkled with seasoned salt and seasoned pepper to taste.

Avocado Gelatin on Melon

|----------------------------------|
| 1 envelope plain gelatin |
| 2 tablespoons sugar |
| 1/4 teaspoon salt |
| 1 cup water |
| 1 avocado |
| 1/2 cup mayonnaise |
| 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind |
| 3 tablespoons lemon juice |
| 1 cup chopped cucumber or celery |

1 cantaloupe
Mix gelatin, sugar, salt and water in saucepan. Stir over low heat until gelatin dissolves. Remove from heat.

Cut avocado lengthwise into halves; remove seed and skin. Mash or sieve fruit. Beat avocado, mayonnaise and lemon rind and juice into gelatin mixture. Fold in cucumber. Chill until mixture mounds on spoon.

Meanwhile, cut 5 cantaloupe rings from cantaloupe; pare and remove seeds. (Save ends of cantaloupe for use in fruit cup another time). Place rings on individual plates; spoon gelatin into center of each.

Chill until serving time. Garnish with mint sprigs if you wish. Makes 5 servings.

No Dilution

For an extra tang in those tall cool summer drinks, freeze left-over coffee and tea in an ice tray. Then when you want iced coffee or tea, use these cubes. No dilution. Also works with fruit-ades.

Sailor Slowed by Calm Sea

FALMOUTH, England (UPI) — A mirror-still sea stretched westward to the horizon today, and authorities here said the windless weather may delay Cleveland newsman Robert Manry, who is nearing England in his 13½ foot sailboat Tinker-belle.

"There is very little wind, and the sea is as flat as a pancake," a Coast Guard spokesman said. "This could be the Tinker-belle."

Manry, who set sail 73 days ago from Falmouth, Mass., on a 3,200-mile solo trip to England, was only about 200 miles from his goal. When he began his odyssey, he estimated the journey would take around 90 days.

In an interview with Cleveland television newsman Bill Jorgensen Monday, Manry estimated he had another two weeks or so of sailing before him, depending on the weather.

The fog which blanketed the sea off southwestern England yesterday had lifted today, and the British Air Force sent out a spotter plane to try to locate Manry.

VISIBILITY GOOD
Visibility was good, and the Air Force anticipated no trouble in finding the Tinker-belle.

Manry's wife, Virginia, who flew in last week with their son Douglas, 11, and daughter, Robin, 13, said she was getting a little impatient to see her husband.

She last saw him in the American Falmouth, May 28, four days before he sent out on his voyage.

Mrs. Manry said earlier this week her husband "told me to phone the Coast Guard to look for him if he hadn't arrived by Aug. 15 and to write his insurance company in triplicate if he hadn't shown up by Aug. 22."

She said the newsman-sailor had insured his life for $50,000, "in case he didn't make it."

"But," she added, "he had to pay only about $224 in premiums to the insurance company, so they must have had confidence in him."

Many Other Skills

Blind Girl Climbs Peak

SALEM, Ore. (AP) — When Susan Malby reached the top of 9,165-foot Broken Top Mountain she signed her name in the summit book, then added two exclamations.

She wasn't the only one who was surprised. Susan, 17, has been blind since birth.

She has many other surprising skills. She skis, both on snow and water, likes sailing and knits a little. When she graduated from South Salem High School last spring she was chosen girl of the year.

Art Center Head Quits

KALAMAZOO (AP) — Alfred P. Maurice, 44, director of the Kalamazoo Art Center since 1959, has resigned to become a professor and chairman of the art department at the University of Illinois, Chicago. The resignation is effective Sept. 15.

But why mountain climbing?

'WANTED TO'

Susan said her family does some mountain climbing and "I've often wanted to because I wanted to do everything they could. And I didn't see any reason why I couldn't do it."

Broken Top Mountain is in the Oregon Cascades 120 miles southeast of Salem.

"It was a little steep and I got a little tired and a few blisters," Susan said. "But so did the other climbers."

She made the weekend ascent with the Chemeketa, a Salem climbing group. For one of the more dangerous sections she was tied close to her brother Peter, 20, and another climber. "The other climbers helped a lot," she said. "But they didn't coddle me. They helped me when I needed help."

Water Team Readies Plan for Northeast

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal water crisis team heads into the drought-stricken Northeast today to begin laying out a systematic program for solving an acute water shortage.

Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall and Lt. Gen. W. F. Cassidy, chief of the Army Engineers, head the team which has meetings scheduled at Philadelphia (1:30 p.m. EDT) and Camden, N.J. (4 p.m.) today and at Newark, N.J. (9 a.m.) and New York City (2 p.m.) Friday.

Follow-up teams of about a half dozen men each will be set up in each city to continue working with state and local officials on drought problems.

This was the machinery ordered Wednesday by President Johnson during a White House conference of governors, mayors, members of Congress and other officials from New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Delaware called to discuss the four years of drought.

'TIME FOR ACTION'

"This is a time for action — federal, state and local, public and private," Johnson said. He announced measures to mobilize federal aid for longer range projects including a $4-million water resources planning survey for the entire Northeast from Maine to Virginia and speedups in reservoir projects in Pennsylvania and New Jersey.

Johnson also signed a bill au-

5 Policemen Hurt as Pistol Goes Off

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — Five City policemen were accidentally wounded Wednesday night when a high powered pistol discharged sending bits of lead whistling about a meeting room.

Authorities said one of the officers was examining the weapon when his finger apparently slipped from the hammer discharging the weapon.

The bullet struck a wall and shattered. Pellets of lead bounced about.

thorizing a $185-million speedup in the program to convert salt and brackish water to fresh water.

Udall and Cassidy met for more than an hour following the White House meeting with dozens of state and local officials from the drought area to set up the machinery for implementing the President's plan.

'SYSTEMATIC PROGRAM'

"We want to lay out a systematic program," Udall said. "We presumably will come up with some hard decisions."

The first step for the task force, Udall said, will be to gather all the information possible on the water shortage, what's being done about it and the supplies which are available through next March 15 when the spring runoff normally begins.

Although more federal money probably will be needed, Udall said the cities and states also will play an expanded role in the solution to the problem to be recommended to the President.

Johnson asked his Water Resources Council which Udall heads to keep in daily touch with officials of the four states.

represented at the White House conference. He said he is prepared to take whatever additional steps the council deems necessary.

Automation Proving Man's Best Friend?

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UPI) — Automation—the working man's best friend? Take the case of the ironworker employed by the Cleveland board of education.

He returned a paycheck recently and asked for a new accounting. It seems the check was issued by a new data processing machine. The worker wouldn't figure how he had worked 800 hours in two weeks to earn the $6,000 check.

Women Fans Say 'Those Lions Are Tigers'

It was supposed to be a "Ladies' Football Clinic" that Lions' head coach, Harry Gilmer, was holding. But as readers can see, there must be a lot of men around who feel the need to bone up on some of the rules of play. If the turnout is any indication of loyalty for our fearless Lions, Tiger stadium should be filled to capacity.

Pontiac Press Photos by Phil Webb

Applauding the "bomb" play are these two avid fans who are season ticket holders. From the left is Mrs. Alvin Fishman of Birmingham and at her right Mrs. Milton Conway of Oak Park. Already more than just acquainted with the game, these ladies thought coach Gilmer's talk very informative.

Sometimes wearing a football helmet really puts a fellow in the mood for the upcoming play. If he stretches his imagination far enough, maybe he can even picture himself as the star halfback completing that winning touchdown against all odds.

By JEANNE NELSON

Were you among the first on your block to attend a football clinic for women?

If you were one of the many out at Cranbrook, the Detroit Lions Training Camp, Wednesday, coach Harry Gilmer was talking to you.

And aren't you glad you went? Now you know what all those football players say when they "buckle." But you have to watch those fellows every minute because right at the line of scrimmage, they change things.

The appearance of unusual hats was in evidence at the clinic. And although all sorts of really weird creations turned many a head, the players and their coach were too absorbed in the game to notice. (We call that a reassuring note).

The ladies showed up in all sorts of outfits for their instructions. Some coming from earlier luncheon dates were turned out in smart summer frocks complete with white gloves and picture hats.

Others came prepared to "do battle" in shorts, slacks and wrap-arounds with tops that merely covered to windbreakers that almost touched the bottom of their shorts.

Many of the gals brought along the kids and made a "fun day" of it with a picnic lunch. There were even a few dogs on the scene.

Following the clinic, visitors were invited to walk down to the practice field (another 1/2 mile) and watch the play down there. Incidentally, this separated the fans from the spectators. Especially the ones in high heels.

Sorority Plans Annual Benefit Party for Fall

A recent meeting at the home of Mrs. Harold Clifford of Josephine Street was held by Omega Mu Sigma Sorority. Lola Strom was co-hostess. Plans were made for the sorority's annual benefit card party to take place in November. Mrs. Clifford is chairman for the event.

A rummage sale to be held in October is also being planned by the sorority.

Mrs. Kuga Kojima will host the group's September 14 meeting.

Mrs. Selle to Be Feted

Mrs. Max Selle (Virginia Luther) will be honored at a post-nuptial shower this evening by Mrs. Howard Shaw and Mrs. Ralph Price at the latter's home on Hillendale Drive, Avon Township.

The bride's mother, Mrs. Howard Luther, and members of Xi Pi Chapter of Beta Sigma sorority were guests.

Rehearsal Dinner Is Gala Party

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: Will you please tell me who is supposed to give the rehearsal dinner and when it is given?

I would appreciate any information you can give me concerning this dinner.

A: The rehearsal dinner is given the night before the wedding for the bride party and the immediate families of the bride and groom.

It may be followed by the rehearsal, but more often the rehearsal is in the late afternoon followed by the dinner.

Although not obligatory, it has become an accepted custom for the parents of the groom to give this party.

If they do not, or cannot, give the rehearsal dinner, it is arranged by some member of the bride's family or by a close friend.

The party is usually a gala affair with many toasts to the bride and groom, the families and every other possible subject.

The bride and groom and their parents usually leave shortly after dinner so that they will get a good night's sleep, but the rest of the group may stay on especially if there is music and dancing.

FUNERAL REGISTER

Q: Will you please tell me if it is necessary to write thank-you notes to those who called at the funeral home and signed the register at the time of a death?

A: It is not necessary to write thank-you notes to all those who called at the funeral home, but if someone has made a special effort or if no one of the family was there to speak to him, it would be polite to do so.

FIANCEE'S PARENTS

Q: Is it proper, after a girl has become engaged, to call her fiancé's parents Mother and Dad, or does she continue to call them Mr. and Mrs. until after she is married?

A: She continues to call them Mr. and Mrs. until after she is married.

The clothes of the bride's and groom's parents as well as those of the wedding guests are described in the Emily Post Institute booklet entitled "Correct Clothes for a Wedding Reception."

To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin and a stamped, self-addressed envelope, to Emily Post Institute, in care of The Pontiac Press.

The Emily Post Institute cannot answer personal mail, but all questions of general interest are answered in this column.

"Funds and Fashions" will be the theme of the 1963 orientation luncheon for Pontiac Area United Fund Women's campaign chairmen at Kingsley Inn, Tuesday at 12:15 p.m.

Mrs. William G. Wright, women's campaign committee chairman, will instruct her chairmen prior to their obtaining some 1,300 residential workers needed for the fall drive.

Hair stylist, Peter, of Wigs 'N' Things, Bloomfield Hills will demonstrate wig fashions following the training.

Chairmen assisting Mrs. Wright are Mrs. Victor Suti, Mrs. John B. Wilson, Mrs. James Cowen and Mrs. Odes Case.

Girl for Kiteleys

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kiteley (Carolyn Davis) of Utica, announce the birth of a daughter, Lorraine Carol, on August 10.

Grandparents of the infant are the Frank Kiteleys of North Avery Road and Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Davis of Mohawk Road.

Mrs. William Crawford of Milford and Mrs. Frank Davis of Mohawk Road are great-grandmothers.

Art for Art's Sake Fine but Who the Heck Is Art?

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: The daughter of a friend of mine is 25 or 26 years old. She is very beautiful and a college graduate, so she can't be dumb.

Well, it's all over town that this girl took a job posing for an artist who specializes in painting girls with very little or nothing on.

Isn't there a law against indecent exposure and can't this girl be arrested? What can be done about it?

INTERESTED
DEAR INTERESTED: There is, indeed, a law against "indecent exposure," but I don't know how (or if) this would apply in your community.

The young lady is well past the age of consent, and if the artist is legitimate and she is his model, she has a right to make a bare living.

DEAR ABBY: I know there will be other grandmothers who will be overjoyed when the school bell rings in the fall.

Then their dear little grandchildren will go back home with their parents, where they belong. Maybe some grand-parents get longed for their grandchildren. Well, I don't.

If the parents would come with their kids and take care of them, I wouldn't mind. But no, they just pack up the little ones, put them on a bus, train, or plane and SHIP them to us.

Then the parents go off by themselves and vacation somewhere. I'm not blaming the kids. It's the parents who are at fault. Cooking, cleaning, washing and entertaining youngsters all summer is a big responsibility. And I'm not young any more.

My husband feels the same way about it, but he doesn't want hard feelings, but what do you do when you're stuck?

DEAR STUCK: Either speak up and tell your thoughtless, selfish children how you feel, or quietly accept the responsibility of looking after your grandchildren all summer.

Perhaps you indicated that the youngsters were perfectly welcome. If so, let this be a lesson to those who issue insincere invitations. The meek shall inherit their grandchildren.

DEAR ABBY: I have been going with this guy for three months. He asked me to go steady with him after the third date and I said yes.

I am 16 and he is 17. He is no longer satisfied with just a goodnight kiss (if you know what I mean) and I am having a hard time trying to hold him for this reason.

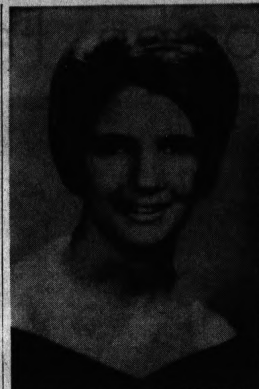

How much more should I give him?

SWEET SIXTEEN AND NEVER BEEN BAD

DEAR SWEET: Give him a "goodbye" kiss.

Troubled? Write to ABBY, care of The Pontiac Press. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

For Abby's booklet, "How To Have A Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to Abby, in care of The Pontiac Press.

CLAIRE SANFT PERLMAN

Spring vows in 1966 are planned by Claire Sanft Perlman, daughter of the Cyril S. Perlman of West Highland Drive and Richard Lyle Fosgett, son of the Lyle Fosgett of Midland. She is a senior at Central Michigan University.

Jean Louise Spezia Is Married to Jim Piefer

St. Andrew's Catholic Church, Rochester, was the setting for the recent marriage of Jean Louise Spezia to Jim Roland Piefer of North Perry Street.

Parents of the couple are the Robert Spezia, Rochester, Mrs. Lillian Koehler, Freeport, Ill., and Frank Piefer of Peachontas, Tenn.

ORGANZA SHEATH GOWN
The bride's sheath gown of white silk organza over taffeta featured a bouffant overskirt bordered in re-embroidered

Alencon lace. A cap of iridescent crystals held her illusion veil.

During the ceremony performed by Rev. Edward Baumgartner, she held a colonial bouquet of white roses and carnations.

Mrs. Armand Granata of Rochester was matron of honor and Lyle Piefer of Scott Lake Road assisted his brother as best man.

After the reception in St. Andrew's Hall, the couple left for a honeymoon in Tennessee.

Hand Soaps Are Elegant

Now, for the first time, you'll be able to buy glamorous toilet soap at the grocery store, thanks to special innovations by the Purex Corporation.

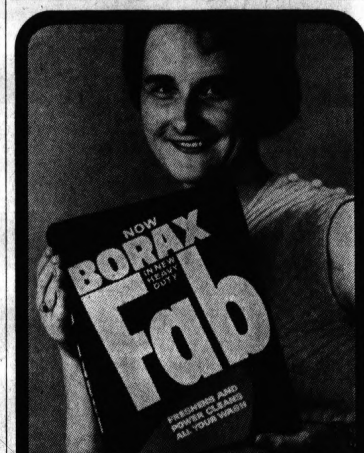

"Lilac," with the fragrance and color of an armful of lilacs, and "Lemon Creme," with the fresh essence of lemon and color to match, are the new elegant oval soaps being made available at grocery store prices.

These glamour bars are hand-milled, contain emollient Lecithin, have matching color and fragrance, and come in rich, colored foil packages.

Remove Spatters Before Laundering

The inevitable spills and spatters that occur at the dinner table should always be removed before laundering.

Grease stains, one of the more difficult stains to remove, should be covered with a layer of corn starch and the tablecloth rolled up until washed so the grease will be absorbed. Then launder as usual.

Queen Sees No Danger on Trapeze

By MARGARET BROWN

She's billed: "Queen of the Flying Trapeze — Danger Daringly Disregarded."

Aerialist Greta Frisk, who was here Wednesday with the Clyde Beatty-Cole Brothers Circus, upholds the florid title with soft-spoken dignity.

Performing without a net on the center high single trapeze, the intrepid Greta has sustained three falls since she began her aerial act.

FELL ON DRUM

During one performance in a Norway variety theater, she fell on a bass drum, fracturing her hand. "But the drum acted as a trampoline," preventing more serious injuries. "I was very fortunate," she said.

Confidence in her artistic skill was evident as she explained away dread of future falls. "There is no fear; I just love my work."

Uneasy at the mention of "star," she nonetheless is the leading artist in the circus' trapeze act, performing with several other aerialists from England, Italy, Germany and Scandinavian countries.

Born in Copenhagen, Denmark, Greta was "... always crazy about circus life," although there was no showmanship background in her family.

At 14 she studied to be an aerialist at dancing school, and a few years later contracted some circus people. "They were in need of an aerial act, and I was the lucky one," she said smiling.

ACROBATIC BICYCLE

Greta also appears with "The Six Frieles" in an acrobatic bicycle act which features her German-born husband Fritz. They met while appearing in the Ringling Brothers Circus.

The couple has a son who attends high school in Sarasota, Fla. where their permanent home is located. "He likes to be with the circus, and is with us now," said Greta, "but I feel his education is extremely important."

Although the boy rides a unicycle, his ambition is to be a pilot. "Something up in the air, you might know," his mother chuckles.

How does Fritz feel about his wife's daring profession? "He is used to it," she said. "Actually we feel there's as much danger traveling highways in our trailer as there is on the trapeze."

Fritz always assists Greta in her act. "He pulls me up and sees that I get down safely. I feel very secure knowing he's below watching."

PRACTICE DAILY

When she isn't working, the aerialist must practice daily, but on the road with two shows a day she finds it unnecessary.

"Would you like to see my callouses?" she laughed, extending her hands and revealing leather-like trapeze abrasions across her ankles and neck.

Her blonde hair a profusion of pink bouffant rollers in readiness for the 2 p.m. show, Greta talked above the thunderous din of nearby caged lions, "calling for their dinner," she explained.

Asked about the late Clyde Beatty, she recalled, "He was a wonderful performer and a very gentle man — A good friend to all people in the show."

GRETA FRISK

By one this morning the circus grounds were still and deserted.

The circus folk "pilgrims with no abiding city" once again swiftly had withdrawn their magic spell, "... folded their tents like the Arabs" and as silently stolen away.

Protect Carpeting in the Family Car

A colorful way to protect carpeting in the family car is with a translucent floor mat in your choice of jewel tones.

These one-piece plastic coverings — which fit front or rear of standard or compact cars — can be lifted out for washing with hot soap or detergent suds, followed by a hose rinse-off.

Curly heads are making a comeback this summer — and so are curling irons. One new version called "Curl-A-Wave," works on the same principle as an old-fashioned iron but the resemblance ends there. Modern design features include instant electric heating and an assortment of clip-on aluminum rollers in different sizes.

Newspaper Balls Make Dog's Bed

Roll crumpled newspapers into loose balls, cover with a worn bath mat and your dog will have a fine place to sleep. To freshen, remove the old newspapers and replace with new ones of the same. Launder the bath mat and replace when dry.

Pieces of leather from the tops of old shoes, glued to the bottoms of chair legs, will keep them from marring the floors.

Northern Honeymoon Trip

The Douglas Murray Howlets (Laura Lee Grogan) left for a northern honeymoon after their vows and reception in the Emmanuel Baptist Church.

Parents of the newlyweds are the Garner Grogans of West Huron Street, Mrs. Hedwig L. Howlett of Hempstead Road Avon Township, and the late Mr. Howlett.

Eleanor Malmstrom was honor attendant for the bride who chose a gown of white satin and lace, with tapered sleeves ending in chapel points. She carried white carnations and pink rosebuds.

EVENING RITE

Sharon Bragan was bridesmaid at the evening ceremony performed by Dr. Tom Malone.

William Meyer was best man for his brother-in-law. The bride's cousins Clarke and Aubrey Grogan seated the guests.

Save Some Paint, Cover Scratches

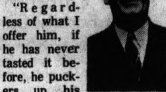

When painting furniture, always save a little of the paint. If a scratch occurs, it can be covered up by dipping a soft cloth in the paint and rubbing over the scratch. The cloth is less likely to leave touch up marks.

Happy Children Eat Better

Eating Relates to Moods

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
CASE W-463: Jamie J., aged 1½, is a table problem. "Dr. Crane," his worried mother began, "how can I get Jamie to like new foods."

DR. CRANE

less of what I offer him, if he has never tasted it before, he puckers up his mouth and may spit it out.

"Then that may make his daddy irate. Last night, Jamie splattered spinach all over his daddy's white shirt."

"So his daddy decided to MAKE him eat the spinach. But Jamie screamed and choked."

"Today he then made a scene even when I tried to put a little spinach on his plate. He hates it, now!"

"How can parents make their children like new foods?"

FOOD PSYCHOLOGY

At birth, babies have no innate or inborn fondness for ANY food, except sugar.

So all of our later appetites must indirectly be tied-in to that original inherited liking for sugar.

Here's how it occurs: the baby is usually fed by its own mother, either via the breast or from the bottle.

So the mother becomes linked with the sweet milk. Incidentally, cow's milk is not as sweet as human milk, which is why we add extra sugar to the infant's formula for bottle feeding.

It isn't very long till the baby links mamma with the sweet milk.

They become almost like Siamese twins in its eyes.

Soon, the very sight of its mother will make the infant smile and coo.

The mother is delighted, thinking the baby loves her.

Actually, the baby simply views her as a glorified sugar cube, for isn't she always the source of that sweet milk, either via breast or bottle?

Later, the infant also links its father as well as its mother with its delight in sugar.

Brothers and sisters also become included, but all of them are associated indirectly with the original sugar reaction from the sweet milk!

Finally, the baby is ready for new foods, including such items as pabulum, orange juice and later even spinach, hot dogs, fried chicken, etc.

Remember, children don't like any food unless it ties in with their inner feelings of delight, happiness, pleasure!

No new food will ever taste good until their inner delight zoops to the overflowing point and thus "spills over," as it were, on the strange menu item.

To get a child to enjoy spinach or other new foods, see that he is in a very happy mood, cooing or laughing.

Then slip him the first spoonful, meanwhile building up his ego with praise (Compliment Club technique).

Don't overdo this first contact! One or two bites are enough for first time.

But on future occasions, keep up the jolly mood and soon his inner happiness will spill over until the new food until it finally seems delicious.

Cub Scouts seldom care for T-bone steak or fried chicken at fancy restaurants. All they want are hot dogs or hamburgers. Why?

Because hot dogs have been glamorized via picnics, hikes, outdoor freedom from city apartment restraints, etc.

If a child is forcibly fed while angry, its ire will attach to the new food and maybe persist all its life! Beware!

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

Heirloom Crystal Rosary Entwined in Her Bouquet

In northern Michigan for their honeymoon are the Gerald Robarge Chappels (Julia Anne Federico) who were wed recently in St. Joseph's Catholic Church, Lake Orion.

The Very Rev. Msgr. Arthur M. Karey offered the nuptial high Mass for the couple whose parents are the Eugene E. Federico, West Draher Road, and the Stanley Chappels of Frederick Drive, all of Oxford Township.

Rosettes of white silk organza and white velvet petals accented the bride's chapel-length gown of white organza and held her veil of silk illusion.

Entwined in her bouquet of white gardenias and orange blossoms was an heirloom crystal rosary.

Mrs. Harold J. Anderson of Madison Heights was her sister's honor matron along with bridesmaids Bonnie Upthegrove and Elaine Magee, both of Lake Orion.

With best man Gary Pickard, Lake Orion were ushers Frederick Liestman of Leonard, and Jack Magee.

BREAKFAST FOLLOWS

The wedding breakfast was served in the Villa Inn and the Geringville Community Hall was the setting for the evening buffet supper and reception.

'Early College' for Nondazzling Pupils

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK — The student with the straight-A average in all subjects finds little trouble getting into college. It's the student with As in some courses, and just the so-so-Cs in others who's in trouble.

For these latter ones — gifted in some areas but "turned down because they're not virtuosos" — Elizabeth B. Hall, educator, is building a college.

FORMER HEADMISTRESS

Mrs. Hall, 55, former headmistress of the Concord, Mass. Academy, a girls' preparatory school, is the daughter of the late Thomas H. Blodgett, chairman of the board of the American Chicle Co. and director of several other firms.

Her "early college" is being built on what was formerly a family estate at great Barrington, Mass. It will be called Simon's Rock, named for a landmark on the 190-acre property and will be for girls 16 to 20.

What makes it rare, perhaps unique, is that it will combine in four years the last two years of high school and the first two years of regular college.

It will operate on Mrs. Hall's belief that college should not be denied a person just because he or she doesn't have "a ministry of talents to dazzle college admitting authorities."

"Do you know," said Mrs. Hall in an interview, "that Winston Churchill wouldn't have been able to get into our colleges today. He was inadequate in French and Mathematics."

She said with the current emphasis on EVERYBODY owning a liberal arts degree, the secondary schools have become "lock step credit-gathering machines where all the attention is on the credits" to gain college admission. "The value of the courses themselves has been lost."

Simon's Rock's curriculum will take into consideration today's early marriage rate. "If a girl marries in the middle of her regular senior college life," she said, "there's a big chunk of work left unfinished."

Graduates of Simon's Rock will receive an associate of arts degree and will depart with "a bloc of work completed. But I would consider us a failure if the girl could not go on to finish at a senior college if she wished."

The curriculum will accent the humanities but mathematics and the sciences will be taught, the latter on the assumption that "youngsters may not have shown ability yet in this area."

"We'll be looking for verbal ability," she said. "The ability to read rapidly, to handle ideas, to express oneself."

Construction already is underway on dormitory, classrooms and a library to house 30,000 volumes. Mrs. Hall said the first class of 42 girls, enrolled from all parts of the country, would register in September 1966.

Columnist Likes Love Italian Style

LONDON (AP) — A British read columnist today gave widely girls several hundred words of advice on how European men make love.

Writing in the London Daily Mirror, Marjorie Proops singled out Frenchmen, Spaniards, Italians and Germans.

On Italians, she said in part: "He is a great one for bodies — whatever their size or shape — even a big fat one. His well-known propensity for bottom-punching is all a part of his uninhibited delight in female flesh. Most women who have had an Italian lover cannot imagine reaching such heights with any other man."

URNS VERY FAT

"He usually gets very fat in middle age," she warned. "It's at that stage which is as irresistible to him as women."

On Germans: "He does not demonstrate. Deep and exciting sensuality is often repressed. To the German, a woman is a sort of pal."

"He can really be very funny at the same time he is being deadly earnest. He has a sense of gallantry. He does actually click his heels and bow. The German puts his woman on a pedestal which is the place where most women like to be."

FRENCHMEN

On Frenchmen: "When he makes love, his mind is on it more than his heart. He does not think a man must be faithful. A woman, however, must be faithful to him. You will not get him by flirting with someone else. He likes women to be fastidious while not being too fastidious himself. Some days, he doesn't bother to shave."

On Spaniards:

"The image of the Spaniard as a romantic guitar-playing lover is a false one. Spanish men are spoiled by their mothers and would expect the same treatment to be continued by their lovers. "Women are the victims of Spanish men—but oddly enough, they seem to like being victimized by these handsome, brooding passionate men. Some women are fools for punishment." Miss Proops didn't give any advice on British men.

LBJ Planning No Foreign Trip

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson plans no foreign travel this year, but hopes to schedule speaking tours to widely separated parts of the nation in the fall as part of a "report to the people" program.

Johnson's travel plans became the subject of renewed interest, said about Johnson's office Wednesday to a visiting delegation of travel industry executives that: "I hope before the year is out — when Congress gets out of here — I can do some traveling too."

White House officials, asked to elaborate on Johnson's plans, emphasized first that no trips to foreign countries were contemplated.

Bill D. Moyers, press secretary, said that about Johnson's off-the-cuff remark about travel hopes. He said the President wanted to "get out and see parts of the country and see people." He said that this hope has not reached the formal planning stage nor have any invitations been accepted.

TENTATIVE TALK

From other sources, it was learned White House aides are thinking in terms of a series of speaking engagements, geographically scattered, in which Johnson would report to the people following the adjournment of Congress. It was understood there also has been tentative talk at the White House about possible presidential conferences outside Washington with such groups as farmers, students, businessmen and, perhaps, labor union leaders.

So far as a presidential vacation was concerned, informants said nothing was in prospect for 1965 apart from visits to the LBJ Ranch near Johnson City, Tex.

Fire Put Out at Scrap Yard

Pontiac firemen were called to the Sam Allen and Son scrap yard at 22 Congress last night to extinguish a blaze in a building which housed the scrap crushing machine.

Fire officials believe the blaze started when a spark ignited gases in the building.

Damage is estimated at $500.

DeYoung is a former president of Atlas Steels Limited and Rio Algom Mines Limited.

'Real Cool' Driver Is Caller at Cottage

NARRAGANSETT, R.I. (UPI) — Leon F. Champin, 18, of Point Judith, couldn't have been cooler yesterday — even though his car went out of control and crashed through the wall of Mrs. Alice Langdon's summer cottage.

"He climbed out of the car window and asked for a dime to call police," said Mrs. Langdon.

Deaths in Pontiac, Neighboring Areas

LESTER P. HARDIMAN

Service for Lester P. Hardiman, 60, of 319 W. Wilson will be 1 p.m. Saturday at the Church of God, 206 W. South Blvd., with burial in Oak Hill Cemetery by the Frank Carruthers Funeral Home.

Mr. Hardiman, custodian at the Oakland County Health Department, died Tuesday after an illness of several weeks. He was a member of the Church of God, Success Lodge No. 10, Knights of Pythias, and Chamberlain Commander.

Surviving are his wife, Everette; two sons, Lester P. Jr. of Chicago, and James G. of Los Angeles, Calif.; a daughter, Mrs. Dalphine Cooperwood of Pontiac; and a stepson, Julius Charity of Pontiac.

Also surviving are two sisters, Mrs. Elizabeth Green of Pontac and Mrs. Bertha Lambert of Grand Rapids, and four brothers.

CLINTON D. REED

Service for Clinton D. Reed, 38, of 5964 Dvorak, Waterford Township, will be 1 p.m. Saturday at Coats Funeral Home with burial in Memorial Gardens, Cadillac.

Mr. Reed died Tuesday when he fell from a scaffold while erecting signs in Detroit.

Surviving are his mother, Mrs. Clinton Reed of Clarkston; a sister, Mrs. George Rott of Rochester; and a brother.

GEORGE CARHART

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — A memorial service for George Carhart, 40, Hadsell, former state secretary for the YMCA of Michigan and son of early settlers of Oakland County, will be 3 p.m. Sunday at his home, 40 Hadsell.

Mr. Carhart died of a heart attack July 2.

The family suggests that any memorials be made by sending CARE food packages to needy children overseas.

MRS. FREDERICK WILLIAMS

AVON TOWNSHIP — Mrs. Frederick (Lucille) Williams, 43, of 3325 Willett died today after a short illness. Her body is at the Harold R. Davis Funeral Home, Auburn Heights.

Surviving besides her husband are two daughters, Mrs. Vickie St. Louis of Auburn Heights and Nancy Williams at home; one son, Frederick Jr. at home; and her mother, Mrs. Eva Doolin of Pontiac.

Also surviving are four sisters, Mrs. Mary Dulas, Mrs. Virginia Stone and Mrs. Barbara Teague, all of Pontiac, and Mrs. Earline Hotchkiss of Waterford Township; and one brother, Roy Doolin of Waterford Township.

GEORGE R. BEAUCHAMP

Service for George R. Beauchamp, 39, of 427 Kuhn — was to be held at 4 p.m. today in First Presbyterian Church with cremation following at White Chapel Memorial Cemetery, Troy. Arrangements were by the Donelson-Johns Funeral Home.

Mr. Beauchamp, a graphic engineer at GMC Technical Center, Chevrolet Division, died Tuesday from injuries received Saturday in an auto accident on I-75 near Joslyn in Pontiac Township.

He was a member of First Presbyterian Church and the Troy-Clawson Elks Lodge No. 2189.

Surviving are his wife, Nancy A.; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Philip C. Beauchamp; two children, Margot and Nanette, both at home; and a brother.

Police Pick Up Man Wanted in City Holdup

Clairde T. Burnett, 31, of 309 Osmon, who was sought by Pontiac police in connection with an armed robbery, was arrested last night.

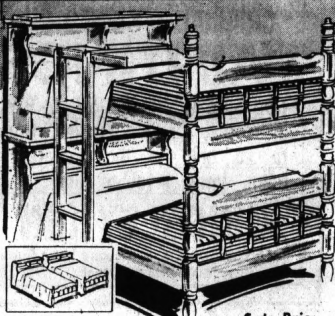

Burnett was picked up at a laundry at 371 Auburn after police had been tipped off that a group of "suspicious" men were loitering in the building.

When arrested Burnett was carrying a rubber hose with a piece of lead taped on the end, according to police.

He was sought in connection with a three-month-old robbery of a delivery man in the city, officers said.

Lt. Charles Gale, head of the detective division, said Burnett would be arraigned today on charges of armed robbery and carrying a concealed weapon.

Contests Won by Two Area Bridge Teams

Pontiac area bridge enthusiasts emerged victorious from championship events held yesterday in the American Contract Bridge League's Summer National Tournament in Chicago.

Donald R. Bowen, 2524 Liverpool, and Donald E. Stephenson, 2375 Fairbanks, both of Waterford Township, took top scores in the Joe Stedem Pairs, a one-session bridge game.

The two area men competed against a field of 1,368 players from all parts of the country.

Earning top scores in the McAdams Lairs match were Mrs. Zaven Melkonian, 671 Sunny Beach, White Lake Township, and Shaham Kavalian of Royal Oak.

A field of 1,164 players were entered in the one-session contest.

Gunman Holds Up City Dairy Queen

An armed bandit last night held up a Dairy Queen at 615 Orchard Lake and made off with about $70 in cash.

Charles Forsythe, 54, of 1961 Walton, Avon Township, told police the gunman came in the back door of the confectionery.

While holding Forsythe at bay, the bandit ordered Mrs. Forsythe to get the money for him from the cash register. The bandit fled on foot, Pontiac police said.

Heavier Call-Ups to Bring Deferment Review

Some Draft Boards to Get Tough With Students

NEW YORK (AP) — Some Selective Service boards say they will tighten rules deferring college students from the draft in the Viet Nam crisis.

Draft boards that have been liberal in giving students deferments in the past say they are going to get tough to meet heavy draft calls beginning next month.

A sampling by the Associated Press of 20 states showed 13 planning to review the status of deferred students. At least two others in the survey are considering such action.

"If we need men to draft, one place we'll look is the college classroom," said Lt. Col. Wayne Rhodes, deputy state director of the Indiana Selective Service System.

"We'll do it."

During his school year," he said, "but if the national welfare demands it, we'll do it."

The look to the campus came after President Johnson ordered the monthly draft jumped from 17,000 to 35,000 men by November.

The Pentagon said the September draft will be 27,400 and the October draft call will be 33,600. The Navy will get 4,600 of the October draftees — the first time in nine years enlistments have failed to produce enough new men.

The quotas are the highest since the Korean War, when 80,000 men were called some months.

WITH DEFERMENTS

Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, director of the Selective Service System, said there are between 1.2 million and 1.3 million college students with draft deferments.

Some state boards are going to require that students submit transcripts to show that they are not only carrying full loads, but are making good grades as well.

"We are going to look (at the status of the students) fairly closely and if a boy has been playing along in school and making poor grades there's a chance his local board might call him up," said Col. Harry O. Smith, Selective Service director for Georgia.

Not all states plan to look at student deferments. One such state is Virginia, where a spokesman for the state director said, "We have issued no directive to review student deferments and hadn't anticipated any such directive."

Don Schomburg, who heads the local board in Amarillo, Tex., said, "The policy of this board is that if the youth is trying to get an education, we are going to let him alone."

Schomburg said he disagreed with the policy of drafting students who are not in the top of the class scholastically. "A boy who is working his way through college may not get the opportunity to study as much as other students," he said.

The attitude in Pennsylvania is different.

"If we do take full-time students, I'd say that marks would have something to do with it," said Brig. Gen. Henry M. Gross, the state director. "If we need men, the poor student would be the one that would have to worry."

Said Col. Howard W. Davis of Connecticut: "We may have been liberal in some cases where we won't be in the future."

States in the survey planning to review deferments are Connecticut, Delaware, Florida, Georgia, Indiana, Kansas, Maryland, Michigan, North Carolina, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Washington and West Virginia.

Those not planning to are Illinois, Louisiana, Virginia, Wisconsin and Wyoming. Considering such action are California and Texas.

Micki 2nd in One-Meter Event

Pontiac Swimmer Is Challenging AAU Champions

Special to The Pontiac Press
TOLEDO, Ohio — A pair of diving champions were favored to add to their victory string in the National AAU swimming and diving championships; however, Pontiac's Micki King, a young contender in the women's division, was making a determined challenge.

Mrs. Joel O'Connell, 22 year old platinum blonde from Santa Clara, Calif., Swim Club, won her 7th AAU title in the women's competition by taking the one-meter event. Mrs. O'Connell, who missed an Olympic berth in 1960 and 1964, must contend with Miss King today in the three-meter event.

Micki called for fourth to second in Wednesday's one-meter final and only a magnificent back 1 1/2 dive on the last live preserved the victory for Mrs. O'Connell.

Mrs. O'Connell finished with 450.85 points while Miss King was second with 436.70 and two-time Olympian Patsy Willard third at 436.30.

Swimming for the Ann Arbor Swim Club, the 21-year-old former Pontiac Central student held fourth place with 307.15 points after the preliminaries behind Mrs. O'Connell, Miss Willard and Leslie Bush of Princeton, N.J.

Micki won her first national championship in April of this year when she took the platform title in AAU women's championships in California.

In the men's division, Bernie Wrightson, 22, gained his third championship with a solid first in the men's three-meter event.

Wrightson, a senior this fall at Arizona State University, is getting a challenge from Ken Stizberger, a 17 year old senior junior from Phoenix.

Today, the men go into the one-meter event and the swim card also lists the first swim event of the five-day meet as the women compete in the 1,500-meter freestyle race.

Russell never really threatened his older rival Wednesday but did perform the big feat of beating Olympic and NCAA champion Ken Stizberger.

Bernie had a total of 550.65 points for first while Russell was 533.65 and Stizberger was 537.75 for third place.

Both Wrightson and Russell are coached by Dick Smith of Phoenix, Ariz., the national AAU men's diving champion.

Smith has had Russell under his wing since the young star was just nine years old.

"He is a truly fine prospect," Smith said. "He's got such wonderful control of his body and great orientation in space so that he never gets lost.

"He knows where he is at all times."

The women's 1,500 freestyle will have 14-year-old Patti Carette of the City of Commerce, (Calif.) Swim Club defending the title she won last summer in world's record time of 18:30.5 against a tough field that includes Olympian Sharon Finnerson of the Santa Clara team.

Tigers' Trio 'Double Dips' A's

McAuliffe Hits 4-Run Homer to Take Opener

Horton's 3-Run Belt Plus Brown's Catch Save Nightcap Win

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Tigers took another step toward respectability again Wednesday night, thanks to some hefty hitting by Dick McAuliffe and Willie Horton and the all-around play of Gates Brown.

McAuliffe hit a grand slam home run in the first game, and Horton socked a three-run homer in the nightcap as the Tigers swept a two-night double-header over Kansas City, 6-2 and 5-4. The latter game went to innings.

"McAuliffe's back on the beam and Willie's waiting for strikes again," Manager Charley Dresen said in explaining the twin successes.

"As for Brown, it looks like I have to keep finding a place for him to play," Dresen continued.

THREE HITS

Brown had three hits in the twin ball and came up with a game-saving sliding catch after the A's had tied the score in the eighth inning of the nightcap.

Kansas City coaches said after the game that it looked to them like Brown trapped the liner off the bat of Rene Lachemann.

"Now I had it," Brown said. "Dresen said he has seen a lot of outfielders make catches in difficult situations and Brown made one of the best."

He's got a way of turning his body so that he doesn't let the ball out of his glove," Dresen said. "It's like an ice pick stuck in there."

Dresen revealed he planned to work Brown at first base in spring training and to use him to spell Norm Cash. "But that little heart attack changed my plans," Dresen said.

McAuliffe's homer capped a five-run Detroit third inning after Bert Campaneris threw the ball away on an apparent inning-ending double play ball to keep the Tigers alive.

BTH VICTORY

That was all Joe Sparna needed to win his eighth game in 13 decisions. Sparna scattered six hits, including solo homers by Mike Hersherberger and Bill Bryan.

Mickey Lolich was staked to a 4-0 lead in the nightcap, thanks to Horton's homer and a solo smash by Don Demaree. But Lachemann hit a three-run homer in the seventh to chase Lolich. The A's tied the score in the next inning when Santiago Rosario hit a pinch-hit single off ex-teammate Orlando Pena.

The Tigers loaded the bases in the eighth and ninth inning but failed to score.

Don Wert's single in the 10th capped Bill Freehan with the winning run. Freehan and pinch-hitter Jake Wood reached base when they were hit by pitches by loser Jack Aker.

Six batters, five of them Tigers, were hit in the game. Campaneris was hit in the head by Lolich's first pitch. He was taken to the hospital where x-rays were negative. He stayed in the hospital overnight.

Lions' Gibbs Missing

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Quarterback Sonny Gibbs, who was obtained in an emergency measure from the Dallas Cowboys last season, was missing from the Detroit practice this morning at Cranbrook.

Coach Harry Gilmer said he did not know of Gibbs' whereabouts, except that "I talked to him yesterday and told him we were trying to place him."

"We did not ask waivers on him and as far as I'm concerned he is still a member of this ball club and is just missing from practice."

Gilmer did not say where the Lions "were trying to place him," whether by trade or some other deal in the NFL or in another football league.

Gilmer added, "I guess he was discouraged and just did not show up this morning. I've got to find him to talk to him."

ALL-AMERICA

Gibbs, the 6-8 All-America from TCU, was the No. 1 draft choice of the Dallas Cowboys in 1963.

Last year, still under a Dallas contract, he played for Toledo in the United Football League.

When Earl Morrall broke his shoulder and Milt Plum was hampered by an injured arm, the Lions were without a No. 2 quarterback and, subsequently, by a special vote of NFL owners, they obtained him from Toledo by buying his contract from Dallas.

Tom Aaron Leads Field in Early PGA Scoring

LIGONIER, Pa. (AP)—Tommy Aaron led the charge while heavily favored Jack Nicklaus struggled and Gary Player stumbled in the early going of the fog-delayed 47th Professional Golfers' Association Championship today.

Aaron, the hefty Georgian just hitting his stride in his sixth year as a pro, fired a fantastic five birdies on the front nine and was four-under-par 32 at the turn. He bogeyed No. 7.

Nicklaus, the hot-shooting favorite, bogeyed, both the testing par 3s on the first nine of the rolling Laurel Valley course and turned one over.

Player was two over after his first nine after successive birdies on the 12th and 13th. The U.S. Open champion from South Africa began his round on the 10th tee, as did half the field of 167 pros.

Arnold Palmer, host pro at this plush 7,000-yard layout and overwhelming favorite of the fans, hit a heart-breaking snag on the first hole when what had been a par 4 turned into a double bogey 6 because of a two-stroke penalty.

His second shot went into the rough at the left of the green and the railing of a bridge over a small creek interfered with his swing. Someone removed part of the railing and Palmer went on to a par 4. However, it later was ruled improper for the obstruction to be moved without Weather is no longer a problem for the track team at Madison High School.

An all-weather rubber track was installed at the school's track yesterday that will eliminate the water puddles that often force cancellation of track meets in the spring.

The track has eight lanes, each 42 inches wide. Cost of rubberizing the track was estimated at $34,000.

EMU Shifts Grid Coaches

YPSILANTI (UPI)—Eastern Michigan University shifted veteran head football coach Fred Trosko to a teaching job today and promoted freshman coach Jerry Raymond to the head coaching slot.

The announcement was sudden. Dr. Harold Sponger, university president, said Trosko resigned the coaching job but there were indications the shift was not entirely Trosko's idea.

Miss Whitworth After St. Louis Golf Crown

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—Kathy Whitworth led the touring women golfers into town Wednesday for the $12,500 St. Louis Women's Open.

The 54-hole tournament at Norwood Hills Country Club begins Friday with the final 18 holes scheduled for Sunday.

Sub Bolsters U.S. Track Unit

AUGSBURG, Germany (AP)—A fellow named Shy, who came as an alternate, has added new spark to a United States track and field team which over-whelming victory tonight over West Germany.

Don Shy, nothing modest about his deeds, was the surprise leader after the first five decathlon events on the opening program Wednesday night.

The American team won eight of 10 events in the first day of the two-day track and field meet and led 63-42.

Impressive victories were scored by Tom Farrell of Forest Hills, N.Y., in the 800 meters; George Anderson of Baton Rouge, La., in the 100-meter dash; Ralph Boston of Nashville, Tenn., in the broad jump and the U.S. 400-meter relay team.

Shy, a 19-year-old comer from Pomona, Calif., piled up 4,022 points. Favored Bill Toomey of Laguna Beach, Calif., had 3,991 points in second place.

A well-built 5-foot-10 and 180-pounder, Shy is primarily a high hurdler. In the National AAU track meet that decided the team that would make the trip to Russia, Poland and Germany, he stumbled over too many hurdles—eight, in fact—and didn't finish.

Defending Titlist in Quarter-Finals of Golf Tourney

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—Barbara Faye White, the defending champion, will meet Judy Rand of Aurora, Ohio, in the quarter-finals of the Broadmoor Women's Invitational Golf Tournament today.

Miss White defeated three-time titlist Judy Bell of Colorado Springs 4 and 3 Wednesday.

Susan Lance, of Woodland Hills, Calif., opposes Jean Ashley of Colorado Springs; Harriet Glenville of Long Beach, Calif., faces the U.S. Amateur champion, Barbara McIntire, of Colorado Springs, and Nancy Roth of Hills of Long Beach, Fla., plays Sharon Miller of Battle Creek, Mich., the Trans-Mississippi champion, in other quarter-final matches.

No trip, he said to himself. But not one to give up easily, he entered the National Decathlon meet at Bakersfield, Calif., four days later, looking for a ticket.

He finished third behind Toomey and Russ Hodge of San Jose, Calif. He was picked to tag along as the extra decathlon man.

With Hodge nursing a muscle tear in the thigh and reduced to painful limping movement, Shy was named as a starter against the Germans.

He won the broad jump with 55 feet 11 inches, came in second in the 100 meters (10.9), the shot put (46-8 1/2), and the high jump (6-3 1/2). He was fourth in the 400 meters in 50.5.

Tonight he has his favorite high hurdles.

"If I can just stay even with Toomey in the discus, javelin, and pole vault, I can win it," he said Wednesday night during a rubdown.

State Players in Canadian Golf Duel Lions Leap Down 'Swivel-Hip Lane'

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
 Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

You've heard of the Turkey Trot and the Elephant Walk but at the Detroit Lions' training camp at Cranbrook there's a daily routine engendering the "Lions Leap Down Swivel-Hip Lane."

Without exception, whether backs or linemen, all the Lions have to go through a series of exercises in and out of a 40-foot stretch of checker-boarded tight ropes designed for leg conditioning.

In the past only the backs had to hop, skip and swivel-hip through the tight rope drills, but today's emphasis on quick and lateral moving linemen in football makes it a common sense to see a 300-pound Roger Brown skipping over the ropes.

"This is the first time I ever had to do this," said 272-pound rookie Jerry Rush, former Pontiac Central and Michigan State griddle.

"It really puts pressure on the legs. The first day I thought they were going to fall off," he added.

"We have three different exercises for the linemen," said assistant coach Aldo Forte, "designed for speed, coordination and balance."

"It really conditions the legs forcing the player to lift them over the ropes or fall flat on his face," he added.

After 10 days of training camp and a twice-daily jaunt through the ropes, many of big linemen like Brown, Alex Karras, Daris McCord, and Sam Williams are going all the way without tangling themselves in the ropes as many did the first few days.

One of the shiftest rope skippers now is linebacker Ernie Clark.

The Lions, especially among linemen, have been plagued with knee and leg injuries the past few seasons and coach Harry Gilmer's idea to put the entire squad through these knee lifting rope drills is that better conditioning less should not be as susceptible to injury.

A crowd estimated at 2,000 people watched the Lions go through their Wednesday afternoon drills which should hit their peak today in preparation for Sunday's exhibition opener against the Eagles in Philadelphia.

Milt Plum received the starting nod at quarterback with Joe Don Looney and Nick Pietrosante joining him in the backfield.

Any relief duties at quarterback Sunday will fall on the shoulders of rookie Tom Myers as Gilmer has indicated that Earl Morrill would get his starting chance Friday night, Aug. 20th, against the Baltimore Colts.

Not expected to play are linebacker Joe Schmidt, defensive end Sam Williams and center Bob Whitlow. All underwent surgery during the winter or spring; and Gilmer said he hoped to keep them out of early exhibition games.

The game Sunday will be 2 p.m. Michigan time.

Bears Meet Skins Tonight

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Washington Redskins, fresh from a 37-0 victory in their opener, meet the Chicago Bears tonight in a National Football League exhibition game here.

A capacity crowd of 45,142 is expected at D.C. Stadium to welcome the Redskins home after Saturday's one-sided victory against the Philadelphia Eagles.

The victory over Philadelphia was costly for Washington, which lost halfback Charley Taylor, the NFL's top rookie last year, for at least one month with a fractured ankle. Taylor will be replaced by Pervis Atkins.

Sonny Jurgensen will open at quarterback for Washington, but Coach Bill McPeak hopes to use either George Izo or Dick Shiner early in the contest.

Shiner, a second-year man from Maryland, starred in the game against the Eagles. The game will be the first for Washington fullback Rick Casares against his old teammates. Casares and Ed Jenkins were traded to the Redskins last winter for tackle Riley Matton and center Fred Hageman.

The Redskins released fullback J. W. Lockett and flanker back Ozzie Clay and rookies Bob Hinton, a defensive tackle from Colorado State, and Terry Fernandez, a linebacker-center from Southwest Louisiana.

HERSHEY, Pa. — Quarterback King Hill worked the entire drill as the Philadelphia Eagles went through a 30-minute passing scrimmage, without tackling, at their training camp Wednesday.

Hill is slated to start Sunday's exhibition against Detroit.

Linebacker Mike Morgan and defensive back Jim Nettles intercepted one pass each and for the offense ends Ron Goodwin and Ralph Smith made some impressive catches.

Sam Baker, kicking specialist, was kicking field goals from 45 yards away.

American Yacht Figaro Captures English Race

PLYMOUTH, England (AP)—Figaro, an American yawl, survived a harrowing voyage during which a deckhand was blown overboard during a heavy squall and appeared Wednesday to have won the Fastnet Rock yacht race by less than five minutes over Capar, an American sloop.

The Figaro, a 50-footer owned by William T. Smith of Westport, Conn., finished the 605-mile blue water sailing classic in four days, two hours, 59 minutes and 21 seconds. Capar, a 50-footer owned by H. Irving Pratt of Oyster Bay, N.Y., crossed the finish line here nine minutes later.

On the basis of corrected times, however, Figaro's time of 3:18:15.33 put her in first place by four minutes, 28 seconds over Capar's 3:18:20:01.

Draper Meets Passink Today

Amateur Tournament in Second Round

WINNEPEG — Two Michigan golfers, winners in the first round yesterday, will face each other in the second round of the Canadian Amateur Golf Championship today.

Tom Draper, veteran Birmingham golfer, scored a 3 and 2 victory over Clyde Martell of Edmonton, while Pete Passink of Battle Creek defeated Barry McKean of Winnipeg, 2 and 1.

Draper and Passink face each other today.

Another Michigan golfer, Tom Pendlebury of Ann Arbor was a 1-up loser to Ted Homenick of Winnipeg.

Defending champion Nick Weslock of Toronto led the entries in today's match play.

Weslock, seeking his third straight Canadian crown and fourth overall, eliminated Dick Haegele of Springfield, Ill., 3 and 2.

Texas Dave Eichelberger, member of the U.S. Walker Cup team from Oklahoma State University and Bunky Henry of Georgia were among the top American challengers.

Eichelberger ousted Pierre Rossignol of Bathurst, N.B., 3 and 2, and Henry went two extra holes to defeat Pierre Archambault of Montreal, 1-up.

EX-CHAMP FAELS

Bob Stimpson of Ottawa eliminated former champion Keith Alexander of Calgary, 2 and 1.

The 18-hole first round matches over the par 37-35-72 and 6,573-yard course at Pine Golf Club cut the field to 32.

Ice Team Tour Russia?

TOLEDO (AP) — The board of governors of the International Hockey League will consider an invitation Monday to send a team to Soviet Russia for exhibition games in the 1965-66 season, Commissioner Andy Mulligan announced Wednesday.

Golfer in 3rd WMGA Win

Phyllis Chandler of Hamtramck fired a 43-45 yesterday at Idyl Wyld in winning her third tournament this season in Women's Metropolitan Golf Association competition.

Two strokes behind Miss Chandler in the field of 73 was Mrs. Midge Cova (43-46-58) of Novi, recent winner of the WMGA medal play tournament.

It wasn't much of a round," commented Miss Chandler, who picked up three pars on the front side and three more on the back nine.

Mrs. Peter McAlpine of Southfield carded a 40-45-53 to lead the first flight; Mrs. Paul Harvey turned in a 49-54-102 to win the second flight title; and Dr. Wanda Ahlrichs of Dearborn carded a 50-56-106 to pace the third flight.

Net Upset Winner Returns to Action

SOUTHAMPTON, N.Y. (AP) — Jerry Cromwell, the man who beat Roy Emerson, goes to the firing line again in today's quarter-finals of the 76th Meadow Club Invitation Grass Court Tournament. This time he takes on young Mark Cox of Great Britain.

However, nothing to come could match the surprise produced by 21-year-old Cromwell when he beat Emerson, of Australia, the world's best amateur, 9-7, 6-4, in Wednesday's fourth rounders.

Namath May Hear Army's 'Hut-Hut'

NEW YORK (AP) — Will Joe Namath be barking "Hut, Hut" as a $400,000 quarterback awaiting the snap from center or marching to that cadence as a $78-a-month member of Uncle Sam's team?

That became a pressing question when Namath, locked in a three-way battle with holdovers Mike Taliaferro and Heisman Trophy winner John Huarte for the No. 1 quarterback position on the New York Jets, revealed Wednesday that he might be drafted into military service in the near future.

The 22-year-old former Alabama standout was scheduled to take his physical examination Tuesday at his home draft.

board in Beaver Falls, Pa., but his papers were transferred to Peekskill, N.Y., where the American Football League club is training.

"In football we've had cases like Namath's before," said coach Webb Ewbank. "Many of them, the Army doesn't want a man with a knee case like Namath's. I doubt very much whether he'll be drafted."

On Monday he was given a note that requested he play a Peekskill telephone number.

"I really didn't pay much attention," said Namath. "It wasn't until later that I realized it might have something to do with my draft status. So, I went to the draft board and they told me I'd be examined with their first group if I was still in Peekskill and that if the call came after we broke camp the exam would be shifted to Whitehall Street in New York."

Whether the shift in draft boards would affect his status was uncertain.

Otherwise, Namath's chances of staying out of service rest with his knee or any possible marriage plans he might have. His ability to move well in two exhibition games would indicate his knee is sound for football at least, and Namath said he has no marriage plans.

"I don't even have a steady girl friend," Namath told Dave Anderson of the New York Journal-American, the paper that broke the story of Namath's military problems. "I'd rather fight those Reds in Viet Nam than get married."

Namath, labeled "Can't Miss" by most expert observers, underwent an operation for the removal of cartilage from his right knee and was pronounced fit for football by the Jets' orthopedic surgeon. However, he still takes strengthening exercises for the knee and wears a protective, metal-lined elastic brace.

But Drysdale Wins, 1-0

Dodgers Imitate Met Routine

By The Associated Press
Playing against the New York Mets apparently can be as dangerous as playing for them.

The Mets began to rub off on the Los Angeles Dodgers in the eighth inning Wednesday night and Don Drysdale had to survive three errors and an I'll-take-it-you-get-it routine before subduing New York 1-0 for his first victory in 24 days.

Drysdale was working on a four-hitter and protecting a 1-0 lead for the National League leaders when the Dodgers started to fall into the Mets' pattern. John Stephenson led off the Mets' eighth with a grounder to first base but Wes Parker fumbled the ball for an error. Chuck Hiller, however, came through in Met style, bunting into a doubleplay. But it was only seconds before Drysdale was in trouble again.

This time, Ron Swoboda grounded one to second base but Jim Lefebvre let the ball roll through his legs for an error. Right fielder Ron Fairly, backing up on the play, raced in—and also fumbled the ball as Swoboda took second.

Drysdale got out of that revolving door by retiring Johnny Lewis on a pop fly but the fireballing Dodger right-hander went in for another go-round at the start of the ninth when outfielders Lou Johnson and Willie Davis played Ed Kranepool's pop up into a single.

Charlie Smith played Hiller's role this time, grounding into a doubleplay and Drysdale then got Gary Kolb on an easy fly to end it.

16TH VICTORY

The victory was Drysdale's first in his last six starts, lifted his record to 16-10 and increased the Dodgers' first-place edge to 1½ games over the second-place San Francisco Giants, who were rained out of their game against Pittsburgh. Milwaukee remained three games back by riding Hank Aaron's 24th and 25th homers to a 5-2 victory over St. Louis. Cincinnati fell three behind after a 7-2 loss to the Chicago Cubs and Philadelphia stayed six games off the pace with a 5-1 triumph over Houston.

Drysdale was locked in a scoreless duel with Larry Miller for five innings but Gordon Richardson came on to put down a Los Angeles threat in the sixth and was touched for the game's only run in the seventh when Maury Wills singled, took second on a passed ball by Chris Cannizzaro and scored on a single by Jim Gilliam.

The Braves jumped off to a 2-0 lead in the third inning on homers by Felipe Alou and Aaron, then broke a 2-2 tie in the fifth when pitcher Ken Johnson and Mack Jones singled before Aaron hit his second homer.

Bob Skinner's homer had pulled the Cardinals into a tie against Johnson, who won his 10th game since joining Milwaukee for an over-all 13-6 record.

The Cubs put it away against Jim O'Toole, who now is 1-9, in the fourth inning when Leo Cardenas let a grounder by Harvey Kuenn slip through his legs for a two-run error and Ron Santo singled home two more runs. Larry Jackson, tagged for a pair of solo homers by Frank Robinson, got the victory for an 11-14 record.

Ray Culp went the distance for the Phillies, scattering eight hits and bringing his record to 8-8. Culp got the only runs he needed in the first inning when the Phillies struck for a pair against Danny Combs on John Callison's single, a double by Richie Allen and Alex Johnson's single.

'Women Should Be Round'

Elke a Rarity: Eats Desserts

By JAMES BACON
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD — Elke Sommer, the curvy German actress, is a rarity: She eats desserts.

"I think a woman to be feminine should be round," she says.

"In Europe men prefer a woman they can put their arms around and feel something besides bones.

"Even American designers — and the French, too — make clothes for girls who should be sent to camps for undernourished children. I have yet to meet a man who wants a girl friend built like a boy."

NOT ALL BODY, FACE
Elke believes that femininity is not all body and face.

"You see a beautiful woman enter the room and you don't look. You see a less beautiful woman — and you look."

"And nine times out of ten, that less beautiful woman you see will be well-rounded."

Elke sometimes even has a second helping of dessert.

She is currently in "The Oscar," which she calls the best part she has had so far. She plays a dress designer.

BEAUTIFULLY DRESSED
"I have never been dressed so beautifully in a movie," says Elke.

Automation Spreading in Legal Profession

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Automation in the legal profession is spreading, says a law researcher.

Ellias C. Hoppentfield of New York City told the American Bar Association that 5,000 lawyers there use a computer for legal research. "The computer, programmed with a staggering library, tests the relevance of cases to a legal problem at the rate of 120,000 a minute," he said.

City Building Is Up in July

New construction in the city during July exceeded the June total, but fell far short of the same month last year.

There were 148 building permits issued last month for an estimated $799,811 in new construction and alterations, according to Carl F. Alt, city building inspector.

During June there were 222 permits issued for construction worth $774,866.

In July 1964, there were 188 permits issued for construction valued at $1,164,538.

For the first seven months of this year, building construction is down compared with the same period last year.

1,100 PERMITS
In 1964, the seven-month total was 1,100 permits with a value of $7,142,387, while this year there have been 873 permits for $3,839,167 worth of construction.

Eighteen of the permits were issued last month for new family dwellings — an estimated $145,000 worth of construction.

In June, 17 of the permits issued went for new family dwellings valued at $131,700.

Seven permits were issued in July for new commercial construction valued at $336,500. There were 60 permits granted for an estimated $51,231 worth of residential alterations and repairs.

RESIDENT GARAGES
Thirty-four permits were issued for resident garages. The construction was valued at $35,841.

Six permits for commercial alterations and repairs were valued at $43,500. Four permits totaling $14,000 were issued last month for moved houses, while two underground tank permits were issued for construction valued at $200.

In addition, two school additions valued at $100,000 and a church addition at $60,000 were listed.

When Elke first came to the United States to make "The Prize," an interviewer wrote:

"She sleeps in the nude, her left thumb in her mouth, her right arm cuddling a stuffed lamb. Asleep, she resembles a child. But awake and in fluid motion before the camera, she makes Bardot look like an awkward schoolgirl. There are critics who deride her talent but her movies have earned her a half-dozen fur coats and three homes. She says she has no time for love but the European press claims that two men have committed suicide over her. On screen she seems kitten soft; off screen she possesses an iron will, a soaring ambition and the mind of an electric computer."

What did she do about the guy who wrote that?

"I married him," says Mrs. Joe Hyams.

Area Pair's Lives Basis of TV Play

The "Dr. Kildare" show at 8:30 tonight on WJLW-TV (Channel 4) will feature a story based on the lives and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Dodge of 349 Fernbury, Waterford Township.

Originally run in January, the story deals with the RH blood factor.

The Hodges have lost five children due to problems with the RH factor.

Christiane Wins Her Man - With 'Two's a Party' Trick

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Christiane Schmittner, the new blonde German exploitation, told me how she got herself a guy in Hollywood—a single guy.

"I was living at the Chateau Marmont and everyday sitting around the pool with 18 or 20 men, Christiane said.

"This one man, Michel Thomas, a language teacher and editor, would come and sit away from us and not talk, and that intrigued me.

WILSON

"All he would say was 'Hello, yeah, no—how are you?'"

"Otto Preminger introduced us at a party, but still he was a man who didn't talk much. I tried different subjects, but he didn't talk."

"One day I said 'I'm having a very nice cocktail party tonight at 8 o'clock. Would you like to come up?'"

"At 8 o'clock I phoned to make sure he was coming."

"He was a little late. When he opened the door there was nobody there but me because I didn't invite anybody else!"

"They are engaged now. Michel is 43, she's 23. 'The trick worked,' she says, 'and now when I go to Europe, he keeps telegraphing me when do I come home?'"

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

In the Marilyn Monroe tribute at Westwood Cemetery, there were many flowers with merely initials—and also incidents where young people of the Marilyn cult bowed their heads prayerfully, obviously weeping . . . Bing Crosby and his beard are being photographed for a cover picture. Bing is one of those who feels it would be all right if Frank Sinatra married Mia Farrow because he did almost the same thing years ago. (Jack Carter thinks FS should get married too: "Then Sinatra's kids can say, 'Mama Mia!'")

Milton Berle is around wearing white hair at the temples—very distinguished looking—for his role as the agent in "The Oscar." He goes to a hairdresser repeatedly to get his hair greyed . . . Robert Horton, Liza Minnelli and the Tony Newleys were among those cheering Barbara Streisand's great concert at Forest Hills . . .

Bobby Cole and Walter Childs, who provide music at Jilly's, each became a father early last Sunday morning; Cole got a girl, Childs a boy—and each baby weighed 6 lbs., 7 oz. . . . Alain Delon, filming "The Centurions" in Spain, is getting the bouncing-ball treatment from hotel managers. They claim he draws noisy crowds.

Sophia Loren's said to be writing her memoirs . . . Ronnie Robertson, world skating champ, signed for his highest salary for "Holiday on Ice," opening Sept. 1 at Madison Sq. Garden. (The Hall Syndicate, Inc.)

Quick Cabinet Unit OK Seen

Johnson Hails Senate Action on Department

WASHINGTON (SP)—Sponsors of the bill creating a Cabinet Department of Housing and Urban Development predicted today the differences between the House and Senate versions will be settled quickly.

The Senate passed the high-priority administration measure Wednesday 75 to 33 and sent it back to the House which had cleared it 217 to 184 June 16.

Voting for it were 47 Democratic and 10 Republican senators. Opposed were 14 Democrats, including 12 Southerners, and 19 Republicans.

Hailing the Senate action, President Johnson said in a statement, "We will make sure that every family in America has access to a home of dignity and a neighborhood of pride." He said he was delighted with what he called the strong bipartisan support in the Senate for the new department.

AN ANTICLIMAX
Two days of low-key Senate debate on the bill came as an anticlimax after 10 years of congressional dispute over establishing a Cabinet department to deal with problems of cities.

Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen envisioned the debate at the end, however, with a speech explaining he was voting no in the hope of slowing "the growth of gargantuan government."

Supporters of the measure declared that the nation's metropolitan centers were being overwhelmed with problems of growth and decay. The new department, they argued, will make more effective the federal programs designed to help meet these problems.

House leaders said they would analyze the relatively minor Senate changes for a day or so before deciding whether to ask for a conference, or simply move to accept the amendments.

With establishment of the department virtually assured, speculation centered on possibilities for appointment as the 11th Cabinet member. Robert C. Weaver, head of the Housing and Home Finance Agency, is unofficially tabbed as the front-runner. Others mentioned were Mayor Robert F. Wagner of New York—who said he had not discussed the matter with anyone authorized to make an appointment—and former Rep. Albert Rains, D-Ala.

James Boys Botch Up Train Job

SONORA, Calif. (UPI)—The notorious James brothers, Jesse and Frank, botched up a train robbery yesterday. They were using the well-known technique in which the desperados uncouple the last car and switch it into a siding, while the rest of the train chugs on unknowingly.

However, an actor playing one of the James brothers in the filming of a television series near here threw a switch too soon yesterday.

The front wheels of the train's next-to-last car continued along the mainline—and the back wheels started down the spur.

A spokesman for 20th Century Fox, which is filming "The Legend of Jesse James," said a camera crew scrambled to safety, but its $16,000 camera was demolished.

Dems Disavow 'Red Missile Downs U.S. Jet'

LANSING (AP) — A Democratic legislator and a Michigan judge say they had nothing to do with alleged intimidations of Margaret Peggy Allen, State Police spy in the Madison Heights Sten Club gambling case.

House Speaker Joseph Kowalski of Detroit, who figured in the discontinuance of Miss Allen as a stenographer for House Democrats earlier this year, and Chief Justice T. John Lesinski of the State Appeals Court voiced disclaimers yesterday.

Kowalski said he never spoke to Miss Allen about her testimony in the court case. Judge Lesinski, asked if he knew anything about the charges, answered, "Quite simply, no."

Lesinski also issued a prepared statement denying any involvement.

Miss Allen, 29, pretty brunette who was a State Police undercover agent in helping set up the October 1963, raid at the Sten Club, created a furor with charges that a group of unnamed House Democrats had tried to intimidate her as a court witness.

Rendezvous to Highlight Space Flight

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Most of the excitement and suspense of next week's Gemini 5 flight may be packed into the first six hours when Air Force Lt. Col. L. Gordon Cooper Jr., and Navy Lt. Cmdr. Charles Conrad Jr., will attempt the world's first space rendezvous with a satellite they call the "Little Rascal."

In disclosing details of the flight plan today, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said the rendezvous maneuver would be conducted from the second to the fifth orbits. It will be a rehearsal for the Gemini 6 flight scheduled in October, during which Navy Cmdr. Walter M. Schirra Jr., and Air Force Maj. Thomas F. Stafford are to try to link up their spacecraft with another satellite.

The space agency said the flight was scheduled to start Thursday at 9 a.m. (SET) from Cape Kennedy, with a Titan 2 rocket serving as the booster. Gemini 5 is to settle initially into an orbit ranging from 100 to 219 miles high — 43 miles higher than any U.S. astronaut has flown, but short of the Soviet record of 307 miles.

The flight is to last 191 hours 53 minutes, just seven minutes shy of eight days and will end with a landing in the western Atlantic, about 500 miles west of Bermuda. Cooper and Conrad are to circle the globe 121 times.

The time would break the world record of 4 days, 22 hours, 6 minutes, held by Soviet cosmonaut Valery Bykovsky. (Continued on Page 2, Col. 6)

GOV. ROMNEY

State Tax Talks Begin Today

Romney, Legislators Meeting at Mackinac

SENATE MAJORITY LEADER Raymond Dzendzel of Detroit, calling Miss Allen "a very courageous person," invited her to apply for a job with his legislative group. Miss Allen now is a stenographer at a Ford Motor Co. office in Birmingham.

ACTED AS BACK-UP
The role of a second girl as an agent for the State Police — an employee in Lesinski's office — was disclosed when Lesinski, in his statement on Miss Allen's charges, said his secretary, Barbara Fowler, worked with Miss Allen.

He said Miss Fowler, a friend of Peggy, accompanied Miss Allen to Madison Heights to "act as a back-up of the raid." He gave no details.

Kowalski said Miss Allen was dropped as a stenographer for House Democrats for security reasons.

He said her presence in the House chamber while under threat of possible reprisals constituted a threat to the safety of House members.

'REPREHENSIBLE'
Gov. George Romney, defending Miss Allen, termed the alleged acts "reprehensible."

Democratic Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley is investigating them.

With Miss Allen as chief prosecution witness, the state secured a conviction of 20 men on gambling and gambling conspiracy charges in a trial at Manistee.

Miss Allen made her charges at the conclusion of the state's case Tuesday.

12-DAY TRIAL
A jury convicted the 20 defendants that night after a 12-day trial.

The litigation spanned a period of 22 months.

The case was transferred from Oakland County to Manistee County on defense claims that a fair trial was not possible in Oakland County.

The defendants, to be sentenced Sept. 10, face maximum penalties of five years in prison and $10,000 fines on the conviction. (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

Police Fight Rioters in California

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Stones, bottles and bricks battered squads of helmeted policemen as they charged into 1,500 rioters, mostly teen-agers, in a Negro suburb last night and today.

More than 100 officers were dispatched to the scene, a community named Watts.

Deputy Police Chief Roger E. Mardock said about 10 officers and many Negroes were injured by flying objects. Some required hospital treatment. Thirty-two rioters were arrested.

With quiet restored after about eight hours of fighting frightened residents huddled in their homes, pecking through curtained windows at streets littered with shattered glass, rocks and other debris.

Bystanders had been attacked auto windows smashed, and some stores looted.

'TERRIBLE'
"I don't know how we are going to live here," said one of them, Mrs. M. J. Ellis. "It was terrible. Somebody needs to do something with these teen-agers. Their parents can't do anything. The police can't do anything."

"I was scared to go into my house," said Mrs. Ellis, a missionary. "I came home from church and there were hundreds of teen-agers in the street. It was awful. Glass was all over the street. Those teen-agers throw rocks at everybody driving through the area."

A police sergeant who asked that his name be withheld said the sparks that ignited the riot were not smoldering a race hatred but defiance of authority.

"They picked on anyone who came by white, Negro or Mexican," he said. "Most of the defiance was aimed at police officers because they were the first persons of authority to respond."

WORKING PEOPLE
Watts is an area of working people whose homes are modest or substandard.

The riot scene is chiefly a residential district, with a scattering of neighborhood shops and markets. Some of its apartment buildings border on tenements. The area has no history of race or rioting police said.

As the riot increased in violence early today, a television station's 1965 station wagon mobile unit was overturned and burned. Police said rioters at (Continued on Page 2, Col. 6)

ON ROAD TO DUC CO—Vietnamese soldiers and trucks near besieged Duc Co yesterday as they move down Route 19 from Pleiku with reinforcements and supplies. Pickup, Gas Trucks Crash; Driver Killed

A Southfield man was killed last night when his pickup truck crashed into the rear of a gasoline tank truck in Novi.

Paul T. Morath, 26, of 518 Fifth was dead on arrival at Botsford General Hospital, Farmington Township, after the 8:27 p.m. accident.

The hospital yesterday reported the Tuesday night death of an 8-year-old boy struck by a car in Novi Monday night.

James Monger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Monger, 4321 11 Mile, Novi, sustained multiple head injuries when hit while crossing Grand River after dark.

DARK CLOTHING
Police said the boy, wearing dark clothing, was struck by a car driven by 18-year-old Vicky Medley of Detroit.

Miss Medley was charged with speeding and having no operator's license in her possession.

Novi police said the cab of Morath's pickup truck was crushed when it hit the rear of the tanker driven by Ervin Baugh, 45, of Allen Park.

Both trucks were going west on Grand River. Witnesses said Morath's vehicle was traveling at a high rate of speed when it ran into the tanker just east of Meadowbrook.

Individual MD Can Refuse Medicare Patients—AMA

CHICAGO (UPI)—The American Medical Association (AMA) advised its more than 200,000 members yesterday that individual physicians can legally refuse to treat patients who receive federal Medicare benefits.

The AMA warned, however, that if "physicians acting in concert through medical organizations" refuse to participate in the Medicare program, they run the risk of violating antitrust laws.

The new AMA statement, issued from its Chicago headquarters, marked a departure from the stand of some other medical groups and from previous statements of AMA President Dr. James Z. Appel.

The directors of the Association of American Physicians and Surgeons last week urged its 15,000 members to follow a stringent policy of nonparticipation in the Medicare program. Some local medical societies have also gone on record against participation in the plan.

The AMA has long opposed Medicare, which is financed through Social Security. Instead, it endorsed implementation of the Kerr-Mills Law, which provides medical benefits on a voluntary basis financed through federal funds allocated to individual states on a matching basis.

JUNE CONFAB
At its June convention in New York City, the AMA issued a statement saying it was "each physician's obligation" to decide for himself whether to participate in Medicare. At that time, Appel said that refusal to participate would be in violation of the law.

Yesterday's statement, the AMA's first since the passage of Medicare, said, "An individual physician acting independently and not in concert with others can lawfully refuse to accept any person as a patient who is a beneficiary under the program."

"If physicians acting in concert through medical organizations" refuse to participate, the statement said, "Such action would involve exposure to the application of the Sherman Antitrust Act."

"Meanwhile, the board urges all physicians, and especially leaders of state and county medical societies, to face the problems ahead with restraint, a clear mind, and unity."

The AMA trustees said a detailed report on Medicare would be presented to the organization's house of delegates when it convenes in Philadelphia in November.

1 of 4 Planes Hit on Attack Over N. Viet

Believe Rocket Fired by Mobile Launcher; Fear Pilot Is Dead

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A U.S. Navy plane raiding North Viet Nam was reported shot down by a surface to air missile today.

An American military spokesman said the plane, one of four A4 Skyhawks, was downed about 50 miles south-southwest of Hanoi in an area outside the missile sites in North Viet Nam.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, witnessing the oath-taking of Henry Cabot Lodge as ambassador to South Viet Nam, said today the United States never would undertake sacrifices in that country "if its help were not wanted and requested."

The spokesman would not elaborate, but it was believed this indicated the missile was fired from a mobile unit.

The other three planes on the flight returned safely, and the pilots reported the fourth plane was downed by a surface to air missile, the spokesman said.

He added that no enemy aircraft were sighted in the area and no other ground fire was reported except that which hit the plane. The weather was reported clear.

NO PARACHUTE
No parachute was seen, the spokesman said, and the missing pilot was presumed killed.

It was the second reported downing of an American plane over North Viet Nam by an antiaircraft missile.

A U. S. Air Force F4C Phantom jet was shot down today 40 miles west of Hanoi on July 25, and the Pentagon attributed this to a surface to air missile. Later the Pentagon announced that Air Force jets had bombed the missile site from which the Phantom had been downed as well as another site.

ATTACKING PLANES
It said one site was destroyed, the other damaged and three of the attacking planes were shot down by convention ground fire.

U.S. reconnaissance planes have located five other missile sites encircling Hanoi, but military spokesmen have raised the possibility that North Viet Nam also has mobile launching units.

The missile launchers are assumed to have been installed by Soviet technicians and may be manned by Soviet personnel. In the ground war, U.S. and Vietnamese troops lifted the 70-day-old siege of Duc Co today.

Powerful units launched operations to wipe Viet Cong from the jungles flanking 40 miles of highway on which that special forces camp is situated near the Cambodian frontier.

The Americans had flown Tuesday and yesterday to Pleiku, 2nd Corps area headquarters in the central highlands, as the relief column neared its goal, 30 miles southwest of Pleiku.

Missing Ex-State Girl Turns Up in France

BONN, West Germany (AP) — West German police, said today June K. Hoover, 18, a former Michigan girl missing since Aug. 2 has turned up in Nice, France.

It was assumed that Catherine White, 15, daughter of a lieutenant colonel with the military aid group attached to the U.S. Embassy, was with her older friend.

STAY AWAY FROM MAKE OVER PANS Poor housing, Diseases Plague Indians in U.P.

HOUGHTON (AP) — Wide-spread skin diseases, inadequate housing and "no evidence of ordinary sanitation" mark the living conditions of Indians in the Upper Peninsula communities, a state senator said Wednesday.

There also are indications of racial discrimination against the Indians at Watersmeet and L'Anse-au-Loup, said Sen. Charles N. Youngblood Jr., chairman of the Senate Welfare and Education Committee.

Youngblood said he will report to the Senate next fall on his investigation of the hamlets of some 400 Indians near L'Anse and some 140 Indians near Watersmeet.

"They actually reside in tar paper shacks," the Detroit Democrat said.

NO EVIDENCE

"There is no evidence of ordinary sanitation," he said. "There are no indoor toilets and we saw no evidence of privies in any of the areas we visited."

Halt Sea Hunt for Missing Navy Captain

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — Ships and planes abandoned a search today for a Navy captain lost overboard in heavy Atlantic seas north of Bermuda.

A spokesman said six ships and two planes had searched an area 350 to 400 miles north-northeast of Bermuda without finding any trace of Capt. Robert R. Carter, 47, of Newport, R.I.

Carter, commander of a destroyer squadron, apparently fell overboard from his flagship, the destroyer Newman K. Perry. He was last seen at 1 a.m. Wednesday and was reported missing four hours later.

The Coast Guard had aided in the search, but also called off its efforts.

SEAS HEAVY

A Navy spokesman here said an investigation is under way, but that no results were available yet. He noted that "seas were very heavy" with 10-foot waves and 23- to 29-mile winds when Carter was lost.

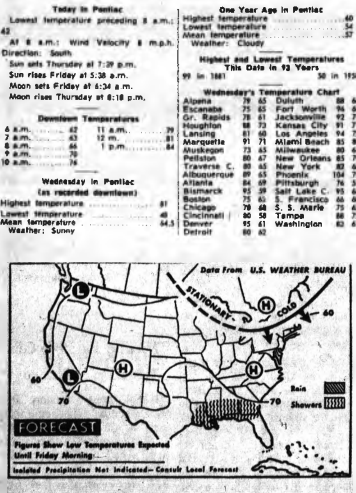

Carter had commanded Destroyer Squadron 20, based in Newport, for just eight days. A career destroyerman, he had headed the Naval Destroyer School in Newport before taking the command. He is a 1941 graduate of the Naval Academy.

He is married to the former Margaret Zabriskie of Newburyport, Mass. They have three daughters.

spiry charges and a year in prison and $500 fines for violating gambling laws.

DISCREPANCY

Statements of Miss Allen and of James Finn, chief trial lawyer in the gambling case, disclosed a discrepancy over whether a "judge" was one of her alleged intimidators.

Finn charged that about six state officials were involved, including "a highly respected judge."

Miss Allen, at the home of her parents in Battle Creek, said:

"I never mentioned a judge. In fact, all I ever said was that they were officials at the state level."

Miss Allen said she was told by a group of House Democrats, about the time of her public revelation in the case, that "if I talked to the press, I would lose my job."

OTHER THREATS

She also said she had received other anonymous threats.

For this reason, she said, she had gone to New York City as an escape.

She returned to testify at Manistee—as she had done in the original court examination in Oakland County.

Finn, aide to Oakland County Prosecutor S. Jerome Bronson, said he was "incensed" when he learned of the alleged intimidation while preparing the case for trial.

NOTHING DONE

"But there was nothing I could do until the trial was over," he said. "We couldn't jeopardize this trial."

Finn and Bronson have refused to disclose the names of the alleged intimidators.

Kowalski was asked if he had any knowledge of the alleged intimidation in view of his Democratic leadership.

The House speaker said Miss Allen "did her duty as a citizen" and said he had "no recriminations against her."

VERY CASUALTY

Justice Lesinski was lieutenant governor and president of the Senate at the time the alleged intimidations took place.

Lesinski said in his statement he knew Miss Allen "only very casually" and that because she was a friend of Miss Fowler, he said he never discussed the case with Miss Allen "nor did I attempt in any way to influence her."

He also said he was unacquainted with any of the defendants in the case.

Man Electrocuted at Mall Yesterday

A 35-year-old Detroit man was electrocuted yesterday when he touched high tension wires while at work at Pontiac Mall.

Gerald T. Wilhelm of 11394 Abington was painting the rear of the S. S. Kresge Co. building when the accident occurred.

According to eyewitnesses, Wilhelm touched the wires and fell 30 feet from a ladder.

An employee of the I. H. Hill Painting Co. of Detroit, he was dead on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital.

Post-Mortem Indicates Death Caused by Fall

A post-mortem has indicated that William Scott, 55, of 381 Clara died Monday night of injuries suffered in a fall earlier.

Pontiac police had probed the death after receiving a tip that the man may have been intentionally poisoned.

Trial Is Slated for 'Marriage Counselor'

A self-styled marriage counselor will stand trial in Oak Park Aug. 23 on a charge of misrepresenting himself as a qualified psychologist.

The Oakland County Prosecutor's Office brought the charge against Jay B. Zee yesterday.

Zee, who lives in Harper Woods and has offices in Oak Park, is accused of violating the psychologist's registration act.

Assistant Prosecutor Timothy Diman, who has been assigned to the case, said he believes that this is the first time the state law has been used since it became effective in 1960.

Oak Park Municipal Judge Burton R. Shiffman released Zee on $250 personal bond after he had stood mute to the charge and waived a preliminary court examination.

Zee, whose real name is Jack B. Zitzer, is misleading the public, according to the prosecutor's office, because his application for certification as a psychologist had been denied by the Michigan Department of Education.

UNQUALIFIED CHARLATANS

Prosecutor S. Jerome Bronson said, "People who seek the advice of those who hold themselves out to the public as marriage counselors and psychologists seek such advice because of need."

"It is cruel when advice is given by analysts who are nothing but unqualified charlatans," Zee practices at 25211 Coolidge, two blocks north of 10 Mile Road.

Crackdown on Speed to Begin

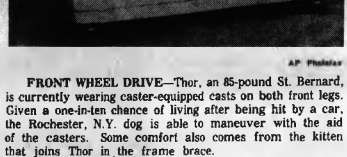

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP—As you approach Maple on Telegraph hereafter, slow down. Or start reaching for your driver's license.

Now that motorists have had two days to take note of the new signs, Bloomfield Township police are going to start issuing tickets to those who disregard the lowered speed limit in the vicinity of the hazardous intersection.

The police crackdown will begin tomorrow morning, according to Sgt. Richard Reuther, township traffic safety director.

Thus far officers simply have been stopping speeders and pointing out that the new limit is 45 miles per hour rather than 55.

The new limit is in effect for both north and southbound traffic on the two-mile stretch

Suit Challenges New Vote Law

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — An attack on the constitutionality of the new federal voting rights law has been filed in federal court and the state's attorney general hints there may be a second test suit.

Gov. John B. McKeithen says he thinks the suit challenging the law—designed primarily to open registration rolls in the Deep South to Negroes—has a good chance.

But McKeithen said Chief Justice Earl Warren has "obviously passed on its constitutionality."

Orleans Parish voter registrar A. P. Gallinhouse filed the test suit in U.S. District Court here Wednesday. He asked for an immediate injunction halting enforcement of the law, which President Johnson signed last Friday.

THREE-MAN PANEL

Because the suit deals with constitutional issues, a three-judge panel must hear it. No date has been set.

Any appeal would go directly to the U.S. Supreme Court.

State Atty. Gen. Jack P. Gremlion met with a number of the state's district attorneys to discuss the voting law after saying he planned two suits.

He left the meeting without further comment but a source indicated Gremlion would file "some type of suit aimed at the law."

Gallinhouse, an attorney, has the first suit challenging the entire law. The same day it was signed into law, a Brooklyn couple challenged provisions dealing with English language literacy in Washington, D.C.

FOLLOWED ORDER

Gallinhouse began following the federal law in his office after an order to do so from the State Board of Registration, of which McKeithen is a member. More than 200 Negroes, including 20 who couldn't read or write, were registered.

Orleans Parish was not assigned federal voting registrars. Three other Louisiana parishes were—along with six counties in Alabama and Mississippi.

The federal agents began enrolling Negro voters two days ago.

Gallinhouse's suit claims the law violates the 10th, 14th and 17th amendments. He also said the right of the states to prescribe qualifications for local and state elections were reaffirmed in the 24th Amendment, banning the poll tax in federal elections.

To Arraign Man in Car Death

An Independence Township man was scheduled to be arraigned today on a charge of negligent homicide in connection with the auto death of a Pontiac man.

Philip Stromberg, 40, of 5041 Clarkson was scheduled to appear before Pontiac Township Justice R. Grant Graham.

Stromberg is being charged in connection with the death of Charles Beauchamp, 39, of 427 Kuhn, who died Tuesday from injuries he received in a crash Saturday.

State police at the Pontiac Post said Beauchamp had stepped his car on the shoulder of I-75 in order to secure a rope which was holding a boat on the top of the vehicle.

Police said as the Pontiac man was standing in front of the car fixing the rope, a car driven by Stromberg smashed into the parked vehicle.

Five persons were hurt in the crash, in addition to Beauchamp.

Patrolman Injured Fighting Suspects

A Pontiac police officer was injured yesterday during a battle with two suspects he had apprehended in connection with a larceny.

Patrolman Gary Root, 24, of 110 E. Pike was treated for cuts and bruises at Pontiac General Hospital.

Maxwell J. Jones, 17, of 544 Goring and Thomas P. Jones, 17, of 523 S. Saginaw were both arrested and charged with assaulting a police officer.

The fight occurred at South Boulevard and Saginaw at about 4:30 p.m. Several Pontiac police officers were called to the scene to assist Root after the trouble broke out.

Kathy Reported as 'Holding Own' After Operation

Two-year-old Kathy Leach, who was operated on for a rare liver condition Tuesday night, remained in serious condition today but is reported to be holding her own.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Leach, 12 Indianapolis Lane, Orion, was admitted to the rare liver transplant only after another child died and Kathy was able to receive her liver.

The operation was performed at the University of Minnesota Hospital where Kathy has been since April awaiting the operation.

Crackdown on Speed to Begin

Reduction of the speed limit is one measure aimed at cutting the accident rate at the Maple-Telegraph intersection.

Police listed 97 traffic accidents there in 1964. The toll included five deaths within 1,000 feet of the corner.

"Our records show most of the accidents involve turning vehicles," Reuther said. "Cars are not given time to complete left turns."

"If he's going 45 miles per hour through the intersection, at least a guy's got a chance."

TOWNSHIP MEETINGS

The speed limit cut is the result of meetings township officials held in 1964 and early this year with representatives of the U.S. record, set in June by Air Force Lt. Col. James A. McDivitt and Edward H. White II, is just one minute short of four days.

SECOND ORBIT

Cooper, who made a 34-hour flight in the Mercury program and who seeks to be the first man to orbit twice, and Conrad will carry their rendezvous satellite with them, packing it in an equipment section at the base of the spacecraft. The satellite is called REP for Radar Evaluation Pod.

During orbit No. 2, 2 hours and 7 minutes after launch, Cooper will press a switch and explosive devices will kick the 76-pound REP into a separate orbit alongside Gemini 5.

Then command pilot Cooper will switch the Gemini 5 orbit so the craft gradually falls behind the satellite to a distance of about 52 miles. Then, using a radar system, an on-board computer and jet thrusters, a flight will begin chasing the REP across the skies. If there are no hitches, he should catch it during orbit No. 4 moving to within 20 feet of it.

Gemini 5 will circle the REP for nearly an hour so that Conrad can photograph it from various angles.

RADAR SYSTEM

The radar system, elements of which are in both the spacecraft and the REP, is identical to that which Schirra and Stafford will use for the Gemini 6 docking maneuver.

After completing the rendezvous, Cooper and Conrad will settle down to the long haul in space on a flight which equals the round trip time planned for the first team of moon-bound United States astronauts.

The four-day flight of McDivitt and White gave medical experts confidence that man can survive prolonged exposure to space weightlessness. But they say the only way to be certain is to put men in orbit for longer and longer periods and watch them closely. A 14-day Gemini mission is scheduled later this year.

tacked fire units at the scene, breaking windshields with rocks and bottles.

Murdoch said 40 squad cars with 100 officers were dispatched to the scene with orders to arrest persons "for any violation they see."

BREAKING WINDOWS

Residents of the suburban Watts neighborhood told police that many of the rioters were breaking store and apartment windows and some looting was reported.

Officers at the 77th Precinct Station displayed a two-pound chunk of rock that smashed through a window of a car driven by Deputy City Attorney Roland Ringwalt.

Several windows were broken in Ringwalt's car, but he was not injured.

MAKE OVER PAGES Is McNamara Losing Touch?

By HARRY KELLY
WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress' long if not ardent honeymoon with Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara appears finally over.

His old mastery was missing as Congress put its foot down twice Wednesday — going its own way on a military pay bill and turning a deaf ear to his strong arguments for a merger of the Army Reserves.

The Reserve plan, a particularly pet project, was killed at least for this year by a House Armed Services subcommittee headed by Rep. F. Edward Hebert, D-La.

Despite McNamara's arguments to the contrary, the subcommittee said the proposed merger would result in "an immediate and serious loss in combat readiness" and is "not in our national interest."

OTHER SIDE
On the other side of Capitol Hill, the Senate was giving an 89-0 approval of a $1-billion military pay bill, much the same as already passed by the House, but more than twice as much as McNamara wanted. The House appeared likely to give quick approval to the Senate version.

A Defense Department statement, not quoting McNamara, said Secretary of the Army Stanley R. Resor and Gen. Harold K. Johnson, chief of staff, both believe the subcommittee's rejection of the merger plan "will compel the Army to retain nonessential units" rather than use the manpower to build up more important forces required by war contingency plans.

Moreover, the statement said "failure to go forward with the realignment will necessarily result in more men being taken out of civilian life into the armed forces."

The statement noted the subcommittee's expressed willingness to consider future reorganizations and said the department "is prepared to continue discussions immediately."

McNamara is said still to have hopes of reviving the plan, or one similar to it, next year.

The proposal that was turned down was to streamline the Reserves by cutting out low priority units and consolidating the high priority ones within the National Guard. When McNamara announced the plan Dec. 12 he expressed belief he needed no other congressional authority than a simple change in the appropriations bill.

Knifing Brings Prison Term

Teen Gets 5-10 Years
for Postgame Incident

DETROIT (AP)—A five to 10-year prison term is 17-year-old Reginald Tinsley's penalty for stabbing another youth after a high school basketball game last March.

Recorder's Court Judge Joseph A. Gillis warned Tinsley in passing sentence Wednesday that he yet could be tried for murder if his victim dies.

James Lucas, 16, the stabbing victim, remains under medical care for a stab wound in the heart. Emergency surgery had kept him alive.

The stabbing was one of several injuries suffered in a fracas between youngsters and others after the Detroit Northwestern-Highland Park game March 8. Highland Park won, 70-69.

BAN NIGHT GAMES
The incident led to the banning of nighttime athletic contests at Detroit high schools. There had been trouble at other games as well.

Young Tinsley is a dropout from Northwestern High. Lucas was a swimming star at the other school.

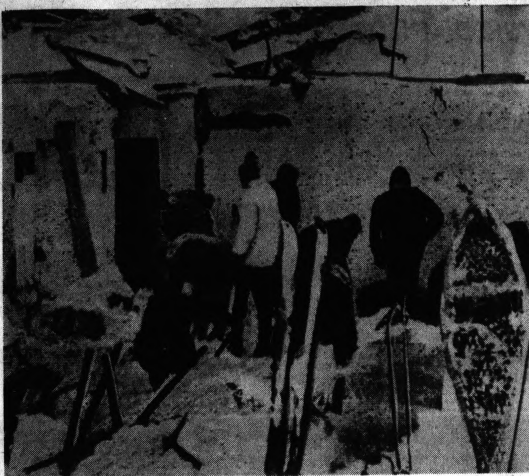

Tinsley pleaded guilty to assault with intent to do great bodily harm.

Contrite at his sentencing, Tinsley told the court "I'm sorry for what I did and I wish I could undo it."

Old Pittsburgher Hotel to Close in September

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The 37-year-old Pittsburgher Hotel, a 400-room building in downtown Pittsburgh, will close Sept. 15.

Albert Harris, a Cincinnati, Ohio, real estate man, said Wednesday the hotel has been losing $100,000 a year since his firm bought it four years ago. The hotel has had only 30 per cent occupancy, he said.

SEARCH FOR VICTIMS—Members of the Portillo ski patrol and members of an Austrian ski team search an avalanche-crushed ski lodge for victims at Portillo, Chile, yesterday. Tons of ice and snow thundered down the Andes slopes until dawn, crushing the ski lodge at the fashionable resort and killing five persons. Two others were injured.

Chilean Helicopter Dispatched to Remove Avalanche Victims

PORTILLO, Chile (AP) — A Chilean Air Force helicopter was to fly to this mountain resort today to remove the bodies of five persons killed when an avalanche crushed a ski lodge. Two U.S. citizens were among the dead.

Six other occupants of the lodge survived the disaster early Wednesday, brought on by warm winds after a four-day blizzard which closed the railway into Portillo.

The thaw loosened snowdrifts on the mountains and sent two avalanches thundering down the slopes. Coming together, the slides buried the lodge beneath tons of snow and ice and collapsed its six-inch walls.

The dead were identified as Milton Oliotti of Portland, Ore.; Ronald J. Hock of Binghamton, N.Y.; Michael Fogel of Mont Royal, Quebec, and Manfred Arnold and Jaime Cubiazurire of Santiago, Chile.

TWO of the six survivors were North Americans — Jerry

Officer Openings Are Available in Local Reserves

Openings exist in several officer pay billets at the Pontiac Reserve Training Center, according to Cmdr. John R. Tobin, commanding officer.

Openings for officers below the rank of commander are available in either the surface or the mobilization team division teams.

Qualified officers receive one day's pay for each drill attended and full pay and allowances are provided during the annual two weeks summer training period.

Interested officers should contact Tobin at the training center, 469 S. East Blvd.

Stuff Really Works

LONDON (UPI)—Workmen delivered one ton of quick-setting, semiliquid concrete to the Star Public House yesterday by pouring it through the cellar door. It was intended to be spread out as a new floor—but it dried too quickly. Today the work crew will try to cut through a one-ton block of cement which blocks the doorway.

MAKE OVER SINGAPORE

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — "Why let important witnesses duck behind a Fifth Amendment?" a Canadian jurist asked American lawyers today.

Hazen Hansard of Montreal, president of the Canadian Bar Association, said in a speech prepared for the American Bar Association that in Canada a witness must answer questions but can claim the protection of the court. This means his evidence cannot be used against him.

"I suggest that you consider the advisability of adopting some such rule as a means of removing at least one cause of friction between the police and the public," Hansard told the bar convention.

New Medical Centers

Set to Study Burns

CHICAGO (AP) — The international Shrine organization says it is establishing centers for the study of burns at medical schools at Harvard University, the University of Texas and the University of Cincinnati.

Barney W. Collins of Mexico City, imperial potentate, said the Shrine will spend $10 million in research for treatment of burns suffered by children.

There are an estimated 150 million books in 15,000 libraries in the United States.

By JOHN CANTWELL

SINGAPORE (AP) — Indonesia is expected to step up its campaign to crush Malaysia now that Singapore has left the young federation.

President Sukarno is likely to view Singapore's separation in light of military operations and an indication that Malaysia is on the rocks.

The "other war" in Southeast Asia probably will increase in gravity, with consequent increased demands on the British and Commonwealth forces who are Malaysia's chief protection.

"Malaysia can expect an onslaught from Indonesia in the coming week," a military source said after the split in the federation was announced.

LIKELY TO SHIFT

The source said Indonesia now is likely to shift its sights away from this big Southeast Asian city.

"The Indonesians might be tempted to have a go at British bases here," the source said. "But if they think they can get Singapore on their side — and Singapore Prime Minister Lee Kuan Yew has said he wants to cooperate with Indonesia — they might call a temporary halt to their attacks on Singapore."

Other military sources consider Singapore's separation from Malaysia a psychological victory for Indonesia.

"Sukarno must be having a

great laugh," one source said. "But we can expect him to take the utmost advantage of the separation militarily."

PESSIMISTIC

Most military authorities in Singapore — Britain's biggest base east of Suez — were pessimistic about the effect Singapore's separation from Malaysia will have on the morale of those resisting Indonesian aggression.

"If they can't stick together internally, how are they going to fight an external enemy?" one source said.

"We can expect the Indonesians to take the utmost advantage of the split. They will now give confrontation everything they have got, because they believe they have smelled the first sniff of victory."

"They have seen the first crack in Malaysia."

INDEPENDENCE DAY

Military authorities believe Aug. 17, Indonesia's independence day, probably will spark the biggest, most determined attack yet on Malaysia. Aug. 31, Malaysia's independence day, is another likely date for attack.

On the two independence days last year Sukarno sent paratroopers and other forces into the Malaysian mainland. Both these incursions were crushed by security forces — Malaysians, British, Australians and New Zealanders.

Since then, Sukarno has sent numerous guerrilla teams into mainland Malaysia. In recent months he has been concentrating on this island state of 1.8 million people.

Bombings became commonplace. Two weeks ago an attempt was made to blow up the entrance to the U.S. consulate. Sukarno threatened to turn Singapore into a "sea of flames" if Britain stepped up aggression against Indonesia, as he put it. Indonesian Defense Minister Abdul Haris Nasution said Singapore must be destroyed before Malaysia could be crushed.

NEW TARGETS

Sukarno will probably now shift his sights from Singapore to the Malayan mainland and Malaysia's Borneo states of Sarawak and Sabah.

The Indonesians are expected to land regular troops and infiltrators in southern Malaya by boat. They may try to drop paratroops into certain areas on the peninsula.

Some military observers believe they might use guided missiles against strategic military bases. A recent report said the Soviet Union has given Indonesia 12 gunboats armed with surface-to-surface missiles capable of carrying atomic warheads.

In Borneo, the Indonesians are expected to send more troops across the jungle border and to speed up their attempts to stir up internal trouble.

They have allies in Sarawak, where some 25,000 Chinese are believed to be pro-Peking, anti-Malaysia and prepared for armed revolt.

Indonesia recently stopped up its training of Chinese from Sarawak on its side of the border in guerrilla warfare. Recently Indonesian regulars led a group of Chinese Communists in an attack on a police post. Nine people were killed, including the brother of Sarawak's chief minister.

Afghanistan has received foreign aid from the United States, Russia and West Germany the last several years. The assistance has been offered mainly to promote a five-year economic development program.

Russell: U.S. Must Prepare for Nuclear Attack on China Faces Choices

Impact of Viet Buildup on Economy Is Eyed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Richard B. Russell says "Congress and the American people will be faced with some hard choices" between spending for military needs and domestic programs because of Viet Nam. The Georgia Democrat, who is chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee told the Senate Wednesday he cannot agree with "the optimistic view that has been expressed in high places that the continuing buildup in Viet Nam will have only a limited impact on the over-all national economy."

Russell quoted Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara as saying that despite the current buildup to 125,000 U.S. troops "more help will be needed in the months ahead and additional United States combat forces will be required to back up the hard-pressed army of South Viet Nam."

Russell said he himself feels that "only time and events will determine the ultimate number" of U.S. troops needed.

LONG HARD CONFLICT
McNamara meanwhile said the Viet Nam war is "going to be a long hard conflict." Talking with newsmen after a closed session with the House Foreign Affairs Committee, he balanced this assessment against a depiction of his own view as one of "cautious optimism." He said it is clear that increased U.S. air attacks and deployment of more U.S. troops has run up the toll of Viet Cong casualties. The Viet Cong, he said, lost about 7,500 men in May, June and July, against 3,000 to 3,100 lost by South Viet Nam and about 130 U.S. losses.

Russell said "if we are able to have both better and guns, we will have accomplished the feat of having our cake and eating it too, which no government has heretofore been able to achieve."

Indians Held in Poverty Worker Rape

DENNEHOTSO, Ariz. (UPI) — Four Navajo Indians were being held today for arraignment on charges of raping a pretty anti-poverty worker from Massachusetts during a drunken orgy.

The four — Wilson Gray, 20; Wesley Gray, 18; James L. Frank, 22, and Tully Tsoie, 20, all of the Navajo reservation, waived a hearing and were ordered to face arraignment before a U. S. district judge at a later, undetermined date.

They were brought before U. S. Commissioner Wallace Crawford last night and were held in lieu of $5,000 bond each.

A 12-year-old boy also had been taken into custody, but was not brought before the commissioner.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) said the four men were suspected of attacking the blonde while she slept in a hut behind the Navajo meeting house here. Ft. Defiance Reservation police identified her as Linda Silverman, 19.

AT FRIENDS' HOME
Authorities said the volunteer worker in the Domestic Peace Corps was treated at a Seventh Day Adventist hospital on the reservation and then was taken to the home of friends at Window Rock.

Investigators said the rape of the girl followed a drinking party at Kayenta early yesterday. The girl had not been at the party, authorities said.

The victim was reported to have bitten one of her attackers on the lip and her nightgown was covered with blood.

Only a blanket covered the doorway to the girl's modest hut, authorities said. She was sleeping in a sleeping bag at the time, investigators reported. Navajo tribal chairman Raymond Nakai termed the incident "most unfortunate."

Canada's population is concentrated in the southeast where more than half of the people reside in an area bordering on the Great Lakes and St. Lawrence Seaway.

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — The United States must spend more on armaments and begin preparing for a nuclear attack on Red China, the chairman of the House Armed Services Committee said Wednesday.

"Should we use our atomic power to wipe out Red China's atomic capability?" Rep. L. Mendel Rivers, D-S.C., asked in a speech before the national convention of Exchange Clubs.

"We must get ready to do this very thing if we want to stop Red China," he said. Rivers said the U.S. should go it alone, if necessary, in containing communism, relying on American military strength.

"We can beat anyone," he said.

He's an Old Hand at Helping in Births

WALDORF, Md. (AP) — It was not exactly a new experience for police Cpl. John Sommers when he assisted in the delivery of a baby in a car outside the state police barracks here recently.

The 6-pound boy born to Joan Proctor, 21, was the third child Sommers had helped deliver in the last 10 years.

He said that allies can't be counted on and "the only people I trust are Americans."

"It makes no difference why we're in Viet Nam," Rivers said. "We're there. And I will insist on victory. Anything short of that would be treasable."

Yet, even a quick and complete victory in Viet Nam would be only "buying time," he said, since a confrontation with China would be still to come.

Rivers criticized foreign aid programs, saying the U.S. has been "trying to buy friends — and we haven't bought one."

The annual defense budget will have to be increased, he said, "to make sure we get the greatest force we can."

"Our only choice, for the indefinite future, is to spend billions to keep you free," he said. He supports President Johnson's Viet Nam policy "100 per cent" but reserved the right to oppose the administration if it softens its stand.

"MOTLEY HUMANITY"
As for those who demonstrate against U.S. policy in Viet Nam — they are "bums," he said, "unwashed, unkempt, and unloyal; motley humanity you can smell a block away."

The demonstrators, he said, are "violating the dignity of the Congress and this country."

"I want to put those beatniks who want to burn their draft cards in jail," he said.

Columnist Likes Love Italian Style

LBJ Planning No Foreign Trip

LONDON (AP)—A widely read columnist today gave British girls several hundred words of advice on how European men make love.

Writing in the London Daily Mirror, Marjorie Proops singled out Frenchmen, Spaniards, Italians and Germans.

On Italians, she said in part: "He is a great one for bodies—whatever their size or shape—even a big fat one. His well-known propensity for bottom-punching is all a part of his uninhibited delight in female flesh. "Most women who have had an Italian lover cannot imagine reaching such heights with any other man."

URNS VERY FAT

"He usually gets very fat in middle age," she warned. "It's all that pasta which is as irresistible to him as women."

On Germans: "He does not demonstrate deep and exciting sensuality is often repressed. To the German, a woman is a sort of pal."

"He can really be very funny at the same time he is being deadly earnest. He has a sense of gallantry. He does actually click his heels and bow."

"The German puts his woman on a pedestal which is the place where most women like to be."

FRENCHMEN

On Frenchmen: "When he makes love, his mind is on it more than his heart. He does not think a man must be faithful. A woman, however, must be faithful to him. You will not get him by flirting with someone else. He likes women to be fastidious while not being too fastidious himself. Some days, he doesn't bother to shave."

On Spaniards: "The image of the Spaniard as a romantic guitar-playing lover is a false one."

"Spanish men are spoiled by their mothers and would expect the same treatment to be continued by their lovers."

"Women are the victims of Spanish men—but oddly enough, they seem to like being victimized by these handsome, brooding passionate men. Some women are fools for punishment."

Miss Proops didn't give any advice on British men.

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson plans no foreign travel this year but hopes to schedule speaking tours to widely separated parts of the nation in the fall as part of a "report to the people" program.

Johnson's travel plans became the subject of renewed interest after the President committed Wednesday to a visiting delegation of travel industry executives that: "I hope before the year is out — when Congress gets out of here — I can do some traveling too."

White House officials, asked to elaborate on Johnson's plans, emphasized first that no trips to foreign countries were contemplated.

Bill D. Moyers, press secretary, was asked about Johnson's off-the-cuff remark about travel hopes. He said the President wanted to "get out and see parts of the country and see people." He said that this hope has not reached the formal planning stage nor have any invitations been accepted.

TENTATIVE TALK

From other sources, it was learned, while House aides are thinking in terms of a series of speaking engagements, geographically scattered, in which Johnson would report to the people following the adjournment of Congress. It was understood there also has been very tentative talk at the White House about possible presidential conferences outside Washington with such groups as farmers, students, businessmen and, perhaps, labor union leaders.

So far as a presidential vacation was concerned, informants said nothing was in prospect for 1965 apart from visits to the LBJ Ranch near Johnson City, Tex.

Preparations have been made for extended ranch stays, though none has come to pass. A formal presidential office has been established in the federal building at Austin, the Texas capital only 65 miles from the ranch — 25 minutes by helicopter.

Late in 1964, Johnson let it be known he hoped to visit representative farmers at spring planting time this year. This idea was shelved because of foreign and domestic developments.

Police Pick Up Man Wanted in City Holdup

Claude T. Burnett, 21, of 305 Osmon, who was sought by Pontiac police in connection with an armed robbery, was arrested last night.

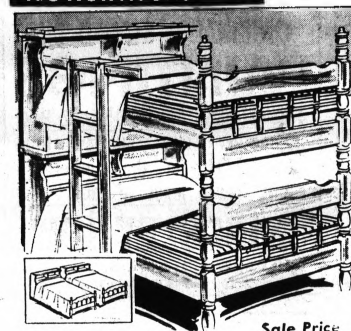

Burnett was picked up at a laundry at 371 Auburn after police had been tipped off that a group of "suspicious" men were loitering in the building.

When arrested Burnett was carrying a rubber hose with a piece of lead taped on the end, according to police.

He was sought in connection with a three-month-old robbery of a delivery man in the city, officers said.

LA. Charles Gale, head of the detective division, said Burnett would be arraigned today on charges of armed robbery and carrying a concealed weapon.

Contests Won by Two Area Bridge Teams

Pontiac area bridge enthusiasts emerged victorious from championship events held yesterday in the American Contract Bridge League's Summer National Tournament in Chicago.

Donald R. Bowen, 2524 Liverpool, and Donald E. Stephenson, 2375 Fairbanks, both of Waterford Township, took top scores in the Joe Stedem Pairs, a one-session bridge game.

The two area men competed against a field of 1,368 players from all parts of the country.

Earning top scores in the McDonalds Lairs match were Mrs. Zaven Melkonian, 671 Sunny Beach, White Lake Township, and Shahan Kavafian of Royal Oak.

A field of 1,164 players were entered in the one-session contest.

City Dairy Queen

An armed bandit last night held up a Dairy Queen at 615 Orchard Lake and made off with about $70 in cash.

Charles Forsythe, 54, of 1961 Walton, Avon Township, told police the gunman came in the back door of the confectionery.

Micki 2nd in One-Meter Event

Pontiac Swimmer Is Challenging AAU Champions

Special to The Pontiac Press
TOLEDO, Ohio—A pair of diving champions were favored to add to their victory string in the National AAU swimming and diving championships; however Pontiac's Micki King, a young contender in the women's division, was making a determined challenge.

Mrs. Joel O'Connell, 22 year old platinum blonde from Santa Clara, Calif., Swim Club, won her 7th AAU title in the women's competition by taking the one-meter event. Mrs. O'Connell, who missed an Olympic berth in 1960 and 1964, must contend with Miss King today in the three-meter event.

Micki rallied from fourth to second in Wednesday's one-meter finals and only a magnificent back 1½ dive on the last dive preserved the victory for Mrs. O'Connell.

Mrs. O'Connell finished with 450.95 points while Miss King was second with 436.70 and two-time Olympian Patsy Willard third at 436.30.

Swimming for the Ann Arbor Swim Club, the 21-year-old former Pontiac Central student held fourth place with 397.15 points after the preliminaries behind Mrs. O'Connell, Miss Willard and Leslie Bush of Princeton, N. J.

Micki won her first national championship in April of this year when she took the platform title in AAU women's championships in California.

In the men's division, Bernie Wrightson, 22, gained his third championship with a solid first in the men's three-meter event. Wrightson, a senior this fall at Arizona State University, is getting a challenge from Keith Russell, a 17 year old high school junior from Phoenix.

Today, the men go into the one-meter event and the swim card also lists the first swim event of the five-day meet as the women compete in the 1,500-meter freestyle race.

Russell never really threatened his older rival Wednesday but did perform the big feat of beating Olympic and NCAA champion Ken Stitzberger. Bernie had a total of 550.65 points for first while Russell was 533.65 and Stitzberger was 532.75 for third place.

Both Wrightson and Russell are coached by Dick Smith of Phoenix, Ariz., the national AAU men's diving chairman.

Smith has had Russell under his wing since the young star was just nine years old.

"He is a truly fine prospect," Smith said. "He's got such wonderful control of his body and great orientation in space so that he never gets lost.

"He knows where he is at all times."

The women's 1,500 freestyle will have 14-year-old Patti Carotto of the City of Commerce, (Calif.) Swim Club defending the title she won last summer in world's record time of 18:30.5 against a tough field that includes Olympian Sharon Finerman of the Santa Clara team.

Tigers' Trio 'Double Dips' A's

McAuliffe Hits 4-Run Homer to Take Opener

Horton's 3-Run Belt Plus Brown's Catch Save Nightcap Win

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Tigers took another step toward respectability again Wednesday night, thanks to some hefty hitting by Dick McAuliffe and Willie Horton and the all-around play of Gates Brown.

McAuliffe hit a grand slam home run in the first game, and Horton socked a three-run homer in the nightcap as the Tigers swept a two-night double-header over Kansas City, 6-2 and 5-4. The latter game went 10 innings.

"McAuliffe's back on the beam and Willie's waiting for strikes again," Manager Charley Dressen said in explaining the twin successes.

"As for Brown, it looks like he is going to find a place for him to play," Dressen continued.

THREE HITS
 Brown had three hits in the twin bill and came up with a game-saving sliding catch after the A's had tied the score in the eighth inning of the nightcap.

Kansas City coaches said after the game that it looked to them like Brown trapped the liner off the bat of Rene Lachemann.

"Now, I had it," Brown said. Dressen said he has seen a lot of outfielders make catches in difficult situations and Brown made one of the best.

He's got a way of turning his body so that he doesn't jar the ball out of his glove," Dressen said. "It's like an ice pick stuck in there."

Dressen revealed he planned to work Brown at first base in spring training and to use him to spell Norm Cash. "But that little heart attack changed my plans," Dressen said.

McAuliffe's homer capped a five-run Detroit third inning after Bert Campaneris threw the ball away on an apparent inning-ending double play ball to keep the Tigers alive.

8TH VICTORY
 That was all Joe Sparna needed to win his eighth game in 13 decisions. Sparna scattered 11 hits, including solo homers by Mike Hershberger and Bill Bryan.

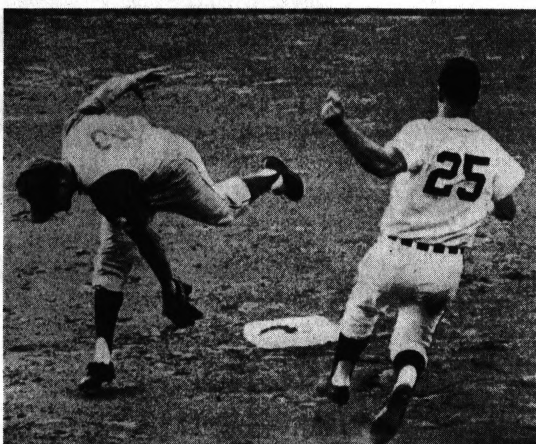

Mickey Lolich was staked to a 4-0 lead in the nightcap, thanks to Horton's homer and a solo smash by Don Demeter.

But Lachemann hit a three-run homer in the seventh to chase Lolich. The A's tied the score in the next inning when Santiago Rosario hit a pinch-hit single off ex-teammate Orlando Pena.

The Tigers loaded the bases in the eighth and ninth inning but failed to score.

Don Wert's single in the 10th scored Bill Freehan with the winning run. Freehan and pinch-hitter Jake Wood reached base when they were hit by pitches by loser Jack Aker.

Six batters, five of them Tigers, were hit in the game. Campaneris was hit in the head by Lolich's first pitch. He was taken to the hospital where x-rays were negative. He stayed in the hospital overnight.

CASHING IN ON ERROR—Detroit Tiger infielder Norm Cash pulls into 2nd base safely as Kansas City second baseman Wayne Causey dives for a bad throw from shortstop Dag Campaneris in the first game of the two-nighter in Detroit yesterday. The Tigers won the game, 6-2.

In 47th PGA Tournament

Hogan's Name Among Favorites

LIGONIER, Pa. (AP)—A legendary figure from the recent but dimming past is challenging the modern day idols for one of golf's most coveted prizes.

Ben Hogan, a little thick around the middle and with thinning hair but still hawk-eyed and purposeful of stride, was no more than a lesser member of the cast today as the elite field played the first round of the 47th Professional Golfers' Association Championship at Laurel Valley.

YOUNGER STARS

hitting Masters champion on a torrid triumphant streak; South Africa's Gary Player, U.S. Open champion with the dramatic touch; Bobby Nichols, handsome defender of the PGA crown; Arnold Palmer, overwhelming popular choice on his home grounds; carefree Tony Lema, and smooth-stroking Billy Casper.

"I'm a part-time player now, from March to August," Hogan, who'll be 53 Friday, said after his wind-up practice round Wednesday.

"And this is only my fourth competition this year. I made the Masters, the Colonial at home in Fort Worth and Philadelphia last week," he added.

The small, muscular-armed Texan, winner of two PGAs and other major title in golf, was pleased with his incoming nine after "a horrible front end."

"Over-all I haven't been playing well. And this is a tough course for me. It favors the long hitters," the precisionist commented, then added ruefully, "but I never saw one that didn't."

And the long-ball is Nicklaus' forte. The Ohio Strongboy has won $44,300 with victories in the Thunderbird and Philadelphia Classics the past two weeks for 1965 earnings of $114,000 and has been impressive over Laurel Valley's 7,000-yard, par 71 layout. His tee shots and long irons—always outstanding—have been even more so, and his short game is on target.

"I'm going well," Nicklaus said cautiously as he prepared to shoot for his second PGA Championship. "Hitting the ball well gives you confidence. All together, I'm as ready as I can be."

Laurel Valley's hilly course, par 36 out and 35 in, is drying out in the warm weather after a week of rain. Its length, wide fairways and easy rough give the long-range shooters the edge. However, its many traps, its tricky par 3 holes, and its rolling terrain make it reasonably demanding.

Twenty former PGA champions, including three-time winner Sam Snead in addition to Hogan, Nicklaus, Player and Nichols, are in the field of 167.

The 54-hour tournament at the 1965-66 season. Referee-in-chief Ian (Scotty) Morrison said today officials Frank Urdary, John Ashley, Vern Bueley, Art Skov and Bill Friday all have been reappointed.

The 54-hour tournament at the 1965-66 season. Referee-in-chief Ian (Scotty) Morrison said today officials Frank Urdary, John Ashley, Vern Bueley, Art Skov and Bill Friday all have been reappointed.

TITLE FORM—Bernie Wrightson of Phoenix, Ariz., successfully defended his 3-meter diving title at the National AAU championships in Toledo. This great form was part of his final dive, a reverse two and one-half somersault.

Sub Bolsters U.S. Track Unit

AUGSBURG, Germany (AP)—A fellow named Sky, who came as an amateur, has added new spark to a United States track and field team which appears, headed toward an overwhelming victory tonight over West Germany.

Don Sky, not much modest about his deeds, was the surprise leader after the first five decathlon events on the opening program Wednesday night.

The American team won eight of 10 events in the first day of the two-day track and field meet and led 63-42.

Ingressive victories were scored by Tom Farrell of Forest Hills, N.Y., in the 800 meters; George Anderson of Baton Rouge, La., in the 100-meter dash; Ralph Boston of Nashville, Tenn., in the broad jump, and the U.S. 400-meter relay team.

Sky, a 19-year-old comer from Pomona, Calif., piled up 4,022 points. Favored Bill Toomey of Laguna Beach, Calif., had 3,991 points in second place.

A well-built 5-foot-10 and 180-pounder, Sky is primarily a hurdler. In the National AAU track meet that decided the team that would make the trip to Russia, Poland and Germany, he stumbled over too many hurdles—eight, in fact—and didn't finish.

No trip, he said to himself. But not one to give up easy, he entered the National Decathlon meet at Bakersfield, Calif., four days later, looking for a ticket.

He finished third behind Toomey and Russ Hodge of San Jose, Calif. He was picked to tug along as the extra decathlon man.

With Hodge nursing a muscle tear in the thigh and reduced to painful, limping movement, Sky was named as a starter against the Germans.

He won the broad jump in 22 feet 11 inches, came in second in the 100 meters (10.9), the shot put (46-0 1/2), and the high jump (6-3 1/2). He was fourth in the 400 meters in 50.5.

Tonight he has his favorite high hurdles.

"If I can just stay even with Toomey in the discus, javelin, and pole vault, I can win it," he said Wednesday night during a breakdown.

NEED SANCTIONS
 Magnusson's statement didn't mention this, but Congress could, if it chose, provide for the federal chartering of a new group to bestow the needed sanctions for domestic amateur athletic events, including those which lead to the selection of U.S. Olympic teams.

Many on the sidelines believe the White House has given its blessing to the probe, concerned lest the present and longer the selection of the strongest team to represent the United States in Olympic competition.

The late President John F. Kennedy assigned Gen. Douglas MacArthur in 1963 to arbitrate the arguments between the NCAA and AAU, but the result—peace proved unending.

Through testimony by distance track star Gerry Lindgren, the scheduled opening witness, and other top athletes, news and other members of the media and university officials and, finally, from the NCAA and AAU, the committee plans to expose to public gaze the whole story of the row.

Lindgren is from Washington State University, in Magnusson's home state. The 18-year-old star defied possible reprisal from the NCAA by competing in an AAU sponsored meet and winning membership on the track squad after governing from overseas competition in which it led to Russia—the first such defeat in seven years—and defeated Poland.

The NCAA had refused to approve the AAU meet through which the team was selected. Some have questioned whether this led to sending abroad a less-than-the-best squad to take on the Russians because some athletes, fearing loss of valuable athletic scholarships or other career considerations, stayed out of the AAU competition.

Tragic Boxing Fight
 MEDELLIN, Colombia (AP)—Jairo de Jesus Gutierrez, a 19-year-old amateur boxer, died Wednesday. He had been knocked out in the fourth round of a fight Sunday.

The youth got up after the count, coughed and spit in his opponent's face, but collapsed in the dressing room. It was the first boxing fatality in Colombia history.

Senate Quiz Set to Hear Track Stars

WASHINGTON (AP)—Young athletic stars caught in the squeeze between the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) and the Amateur Athletic Union (AAU) speak their minds in a Senate investigation starting Monday.

Sen. Warren G. Magnusson, D-Wash., whose Senate Commerce Committee will conduct the two weeks probe, put some steel behind the velvet in a statement declaring the objective to find some peaceful settlement of the row over control of U.S. amateur athletics.

"It will be our task to see that athletes may freely compete without fear of sanction or retaliation," he said.

GOP Asking Advice to Boost Southern, Big City Negro Vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans are seeking the advice of Negroes from across the nation in an effort to enlist Negro voters in the South and in the big cities of the North.

Sen. Thurston B. Morton, R-Ky., said today his party will be "a bunch of suckers" if they don't do the job.

"We're not talking about taking over the Negro community and turning it into a Republican camp," another party strategist said. "We're not that impractical."

"We're trying to build a very stable, long-range base that we can grow from," he added. "We're not expecting miracles."

PLAN CONFERENCE

National Chairman Ray C. Bliss plans to confer before the month is out with a team of top Negro Republicans from all sections of the country, a party official said.

Bliss wants their ideas on how best to woo both the newly registered Negro voters of the Deep South, and the Democratic-minded minorities of the North.

"With these people," a Republican strategist said, "our problem isn't just in the South. It's everywhere."

It is compounded by the fact that the new voting rights law will open the way to the polls for thousands of Southern Negroes at a time when the memory of Barry Goldwater's GOP presidential campaign still is fresh.

SOUTHERN VOTE

Goldwater carried five Southern states that once were solidly

Democratic. But the former senator, who voted against civil rights legislation a month before he was nominated, faced almost total Negro opposition.

In Virginia, a state that had voted Republican in three straight presidential races, the party's share of the Negro vote dropped from more than 40 per cent to less than 1 per cent. "We suffered the most in 1964," said

Robert J. Corber, party chairman.

President Johnson carried Virginia. Goldwater's strongholds were Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Georgia and South Carolina. Like Virginia, those states are covered by the new voting rights measure. And by next year, civil rights leaders want at least a million new Negro voters ready to go to the polls there.
