GOV. OTTO KERNER

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, proclaiming this Sunday a national day of prayer for racial peace, has created an 11-member commission to search out causes of rioting — and to suggest ways to avoid it in the future.

★ ★ ★

Johnson, center of a political storm touched off by pillage, arson and murder in Detroit, gave his views on mounting racial violence in a television—radio address from his White House office last night.

Speaking deliberately and emphasizing his points, he said what happened in Detroit was not part of any civil rights protest.

He said: "This is crime — and crime must be dealt with forcefully, swiftly, certainly — under law . . . The criminals who committed these acts of violence must be stopped: quickly, finally and permanently."

Johnson announced that to bolster the nation's law enforcement for this effort, all National Guard units will be given intensified riot control training.

★ ★ ★

The chief executive, formally proclaiming Sunday a day of prayer, urged

"citizens in every town and in every city and in every home in the land to go into their churches — pray for order and reconciliation among men."

Johnson began his carefully rehearsed address by saying, "We have endured a week such as no nation should live through: a time of violence and tragedy."

Then he announced appointment of a special Advisory Commission on Civil Disorders to investigate origins of urban riots and recommend solutions to the White House, Congress, state governors and mayors.

★ ★ ★

Democratic Gov. Otto Kerner of Illinois will be chairman. Mayor John V. Lindsay of New York will be vice chairman.

The White House said Johnson will meet with the committee tomorrow morning.

★ ★ ★

Johnson, blamed for the riots by the Republican Coordinating Committee, hit back at GOP Congress members who have opposed his social legislation — legislation he said would help root out "the conditions that breed despair and violence."

Taylor Taking Steps

Negro Grievances Heard

By BOB WISLER

After meeting yesterday afternoon with 14 young Negroes, Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. indicated he is taking steps to determine if, and how, their grievances can be settled or alleviated.

In addition to discussing three points presented to him yesterday morning, Taylor was asked to go over a variety of other complaints.

Taylor said he will meet with the group again Thursday to further discuss the issues.

The meeting yesterday was arranged by Marie Johnson, a local bondswoman, and Albert Shaw, a Pontiac teacher, who are part of a group working to keep peace in troubled Negro neighborhoods.

★ ★ ★

THREE POINTS

The three points that Taylor was asked to discuss originally were:

- Release of all youths arrested (during the outbreak Monday night and Tuesday morning) on their personal recognizance.
- Some immediate prefabricated houses to relocate people in the Crystal Beach housing development.
- Removal of State Rep. Arthur J. Law's grocery store, 200 Earlmoor, from the neighborhood.

Taylor said that, by previous action and by coincidence, progress had been made on the latter two points.

He said that he could take no action to release any prisoners but will attempt to set up a meeting Monday between the Oakland County prosecutor's office, Municipal Judge Cecil McCallum, Director of Law Sherwin Birnkrant and Wallace LeLay, attorney representing the group.

"The government is divided into three branches, the executive, the legislative and the judicial, and one doesn't tell the other what to do," he said.

★ ★ ★

The mayor said he would attempt only to arrange the meeting.

TOUR CRYSTAL BEACH

Taylor said he will tour the Crystal Beach development Tuesday and will, if invited, inspect the inside of the homes there.

He said the city has long recognized the development as an undesirable area

Troops Withdrawn From Some Streets

Cyrus Vance, President Johnson's deputy in Detroit, said the troops would be held in reserve within the city. Vance also said that some units of the Michigan Air National Guard were being defederalized.

DETROIT (AP) — Optimism for racial peace spread through the rubbled streets of Detroit today despite isolated incidents, including one that brought Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh under fire.

The mayor, 39, escaped unhurt and apparently unperturbed from the only significant incident on the quietest night since racial terror erupted five days ago.

On a tour of the near west side, the mayor's car drove unsuspecting into an intersection where an armored personnel car and two squads of police were attacking an apartment house with rifles and tear gas.

The attack answered four or five shots from what appeared to be a 22-caliber rifle.

No more than a dozen shots were fired in all, and no one was injured. The sniper or snipers slipped away.

★ ★ ★

The incident followed orders for National Guardsmen and police to keep weapons unloaded unless fired upon, an order that went largely ignored in the still-tense main riot area of the west side, three miles from downtown.

It was one of but five incidents to disrupt the calmest night since sacking and burning by wild Negro mobs touched off the costliest riot in American history.

Thirty-nine have died, four more than perished in Los Angeles' Watts in 1965. A Negro wounded Tuesday when he reportedly tried to run a roadblock died today.

Gov. George Romney reimposed the 9 p.m. curfew after having withdrawn it for a few hours yesterday. One reason was to keep sightseers out of the stricken areas. Another, a city official said, was because of "community pressures" for protection.

Fire Chief Charles J. Quinlan toured the riot areas and estimated property damage by the 1,300 fires set since Sunday would exceed $250 million. The Detroit Chamber of Commerce estimated another $500 million lost in retail business sales and workers' wages.

City Will Remain on Curfew at Least Through Weekend

By MEL NEWMAN

Although Pontiac has passed its third consecutive peaceful night following the civil violence earlier in the week, the city will remain on curfew from 9 p.m. to 5:30 a.m. at least through the weekend, according to police officials.

★ ★ ★

Restrictions on the sale of gasoline and the ban on sales of alcoholic beverages will remain in effect, they said.

Arrests last night were primarily for violations of curfew — 22 — while two persons were taken into custody on charges of carrying concealed weapons.

City curfew violators who have pleaded guilty have received sentences of five days or a $50 fine.

★ ★ ★

Hearings are pending on others.

An aura of tension still prevails at police headquarters, command post for the eight law enforcement departments which faced vandals Monday night and early Tuesday.

Officials there reemphasized that they are maintaining a state of maximum preparedness and will do so until they are assured conditions have relaxed.

No manpower statistics were released by police, though one officer said "We're ready for anything."

★ ★ ★

Curfews Listed

Pontiac and surrounding area residents can expect the 9 p.m. to 5:30 a.m. curfews to remain in effect through the weekend, according to police officials. Most area communities are following curfew policies of Pontiac.

Gas-Leaking Tank Car Towed

LEESBURG, Fla. (UPI) — Trainmen wearing gas masks managed to tow away a railway tank car that was leaking deadly chlorine gas and had forced the evacuation of about 800 Leesburg residents early today.

The tank car, containing 30,000 pounds of gas, was parked on a railroad siding at Allied Chemical Co. when the leak was discovered.

There were no reports of anyone becoming ill from the gas, but officials evacuated 800 persons in the immediate vicinity, and other residents of the town of 16,000 were warned to be ready to move if the danger mounted.

A yellowish vapor hung over the tank car as the train engine, rushed here from nearby Wildwood, hooked on and began towing the tanker to an isolated siding.

The leak was around a valve, and civil defense authorities at Miami sent repair parts for the damaged valve by airplane. The repair job was to be handled by Don Napier, maintenance supervisor for the Leesburg Utility Department.

Even after the tank car was pulled away the gas hung in the air and the evacuated persons were kept out of the area because of the chance a change in wind direction or velocity might push the fumes into the area.

Showers Are Possible Through This Evening

There's a chance of thundershowers this afternoon and early evening with skies continuing partly cloudy through the night. Rainfall last night measured three-tenths of an inch.

Temperatures will fall into the low 60s tonight and rise to near 80 tomorrow.

Precipitation probabilities in per cent are: today 30, tonight 20, tomorrow 20.

The low in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. was 65. The 2 p.m. reading was 78.

'Spending Cuts Could Prevent More Taxes'

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Republican leader Gerald R. Ford says deep cuts in federal spending on space, public works and foreign aid would offset any need for a tax hike this year.

The cuts can be made in defense as well as nondefense spending, Ford said, in reiterating his opposition to the six per cent income tax surcharge proposed by President Johnson.

In response to questions from the Associated Press, Ford stated, "The Congress and the President, working together, can surely achieve whatever spending cutbacks are necessary to match the revenue which might be obtained through a tax increase.

"To date, the only definite surtax figure we have heard from the President is six per cent. The administration has estimated the revenue from imposition of a six per cent surtax on income taxes at $4.5 billion to $5 billion.

Ford continued, "I feel certain that federal spending can be cut sufficiently to offset the President's demand for additional revenue in that amount.

'Profit-Sharing Extra'

DETROIT (AP) — The United Auto Workers union today presented General Motors Corp. with a position paper making it clear that the UAW demand for profit-sharing is in addition to other contract improvements sought.

The union said profit sharing "is not even a demand, in the accepted sense. It could be considered as a substitute, say, for a wage increase, pension, insurance, or other fringe benefit of improvements."

The union paper said the "essence of equity sharing is simply the extension to workers of the same principles of compensation which determine the incomes of General Motors executives and stockholders."

Pontiac Div. Ends 2nd-Biggest Year

Pontiac Motor Division will end production of its 1967 models today with 817,826 cars being assembled during the model year. This marks the second biggest production year in Pontiac's history and the third model year in a row that production has exceeded 800,000 cars.

The 1967 total includes 434,197 Pontiacs, 301,069 Tempests and 82,560 Firebirds, which have just been in production since January.

The majority of Pontiac's 16,500 production employes will be laid off for a short period of inventory.

After completion of this inventory, production of parts for the 1968 model run will begin on a gradual basis.

Congress Applauds LBJ's Riot Group, Eyes Other Probes

WASHINGTON (AP) — While Congress applauded President Johnson's creation of a federal riot investigating committee, there were indications today its own initial legislative response to the nation's rash of disorders could come next week.

Johnson's anticrime bill was put in position for House consideration next week and could become the vehicle for amendments aimed at riot-causing conditions.

★ ★ ★

One senator who flew to the Detroit riot area Wednesday, Republican Robert P. Griffin of Michigan, said here Johnson's appointment does not eliminate the need for a congressional investigation.

Mansfield said the commission is "the best way to face up" to violence in America and "would be, I would hope, above suspicion of partisan politics in any way whatsoever."

Republican Senate leader Everett M. Dirksen said he hoped the commission would "move with real dispatch." He said Johnson "has picked pretty good people."

"I agree with his making clear first that lawlessness and violence cannot be tolerated or condoned in our society. I agree with his statement of his continuing conviction that despite the tragic riots we must move with urgency to make equality of opportunity real for all Americans," Harris said.

'MUST REVIEW LAWS'

House GOP leader Gerald R. Ford endorsed Johnson's objectives and said the commission "must review the impact of recent judicial decisions in handicapping law enforcement and the immediate need for legislative action to penalize professional agitators who have aroused a hoodlum element in many of these affected communities."

Chairman John L. McClellan, D-Ark., of the Senate permanent investigations subcommittee said that, except for creation of the commission, "It's the same old story — just spend more money."

The Senate and House planned to move forward with a batch of riot-connected plans ranging from relief measures for heavily damaged cities to probes of possibly subversive influences in the uprisings.

And Sen. Thruston B. Morton, R—Ky., criticized both the GOP and the President for what he said were attempts to turn the rioting to partisan political advantage.

Although the anticrime bill scheduled for debate Wednesday contains only $50 million to help beef up local police departments, a bipartisan group of 46 House members introduced legislation Thursday to provide $300 million to help local law enforcement agencies deal with riots.

The proposal may be offered as an amendment to the President's proposal, cleared Thursday for floor action.

FOOD FOR VICTIMS — Happy mothers and children gather around a panel truck to get free food on Detroit's east side yesterday. The sign on the side of the truck reads "Don't Pay High Prices — Free Emergency Food." The food was supplied to residents of the burned-out area, after rioting this week, by an organization known as The Crisis Council, one of many groups aiding the stricken residents.

Ex-'M' Star Tells of Part in Bribe Case

By the Associated Press

A former University of Michigan football star testified yesterday that he was the go-between in an alleged bribery and conspiracy case against two former Madison Heights councilmen.

The indictment brought by Oakland County grand juror James S. Thorburn, against Roman Nowicki and Ross M. Skinner, charges they accepted bribes from a land developer to vote for land rezoning in Oakland County.

The former athlete, Antonius (Tony) Branoff, is named as a coconspirator in the case.

Branoff, a former Madison Heights councilman, told Bloomfield Hills Justice of the Peace Jack B. Baldwin yesterday that he delivered two $500 payments to Nowicki for him and Skinner.

★ ★ ★

He also testified that he accepted a bribe to vote for the rezoning.

The alleged offenses took place in November or December 1964.

Senate Panel Trims Aid Bill

Cuts Tied to Fears for Domestic Programs

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Vietnam war and domestic rioting are cited in the Senate Foreign Relations Committee for its sharp cutback in President Johnson's foreign aid proposals.

Committee Chairman J. W. Fulbright said he and other members who voted to cut $736.8 million from the measure feared domestic programs, some aimed at quelling riot-inducing conditions, were suffering because of Vietnam and other U.S. commitments overseas.

The President asked $3.46 billion in foreign aid authorizations for the fiscal year which began July 1.

The 20 per cent committee reduction includes $205 million cut from the military aid section, which Johnson set at $596 million.

Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, who led the move to cut back the arms program, said the changes could lead to a cutoff of U.S. military aid programs in countries where "it ought not to have been started in the first place."

A parade of administration spokesmen, led by Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, appeared before the committee this week to plead for approval of the program as submitted by the President.

The committee completed action Thursday. Fulbright reported developments at a news conference. Actual appropriation of foreign aid money is considered after authorizations are set.

Fulbright, a persistent critic of administration foreign policy, said he would not manage the bill on the floor, an assignment ordinarily handled by a committee chairman, and added: "I think I'll vote against it."

Class Conclave Creates Cucumber Center Crisis

REDGRANITE, Wis. (AP)— The invasion has begun at Redgranite, whose familiarity with packing pickles may prove priceless in handling a weekend traffic pile-up.

A high school reunion originally planned for a comfortable 1,000 guests gets formally under way tonight as the village of 588 residents begins registering visitors who one homecoming organizer now predicts will number 15,000 by Sunday afternoon. Up-to-10,000 was a more frequently mentioned guess, but no less frightening to the village.

Even the scheduled arrival Saturday of 20 farm trucks carrying cucumbers has become something of a crisis. The human arrivals began earlier in the week with alumni from California, Oregon and Florida.

"I don't know where they are going to put 10,000 people or more, or their cars and trailers," Robert C. Schramek remarked with the expression of a man contemplating Armageddon. "The figures are kind of astronomical. Most of us feel it has reached unexpected proportions, to put it politely."

Schramek is manager of Redgranite's chief employer, a pickle packing plant where 500 employes from throughout the area are deep into their busiest period of the cucumber season.

Space on the hamlet's four and a half miles of newly paved streets will be at a premium. Schramek can afford to shut down operations for only one day—Sunday, "and I'm expecting a fleet of 20 cucumber trucks for unloading Saturday when I'm not sure I'll even be able to drive to work."

Team Effort Across States Saves Boy, 13

NEW YORK (AP) — A Navy helicopter pilot, policemen, stretcher bearers and sprinting doctors and nurses teamed up along a 225-mile route from Annapolis, Md., to Mount Sinai Hospital in an attempt to save the life of a 13-year-old boy. Apparently they did.

★ ★ ★

Doctors said today that Bruce Taylor, at first reported critically ill with spreading gangrene, was in "good condition."

The boy was brought to the hospital Thursday for oxygen therapy in the city's only hyperbaric chamber—a pressurized unit that artificially creates a high oxygen atmosphere in which gangrene cannot survive.

Taylor developed gangrene after stepping on a rusty nail Tuesday on a dock in the Severen River in Annapolis. The infection keeps oxygen-bearing blood from reaching vital tissue and, in some cases, can be fatal.

SITUATION HOPEFUL

"It's too early to make any long-range prediction, but at the present time we're hopeful," a hospital spokesman said.

When the infection failed to respond to treatment, Bruce's physician, Dr. John Hedeman, familiar with Mount Sinai's facilities, asked the Air-Sea Rescue Service at Andrews Air Force Base if it could provide emergency transport.

Within an hour the boy was being flown to New York where the helicopter landed on a white gauze cross placed on a Central Park baseball field.

Chamber Warns of Phony Solicitors

Reports of unauthorized solicitors asking for money for the Red Cross, or for funds to help Detroit families made homeless by riots, have been received by the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce.

Parents Accept Medal for Son

Posthumous award of the Bronze Star for Pfc. Michael Elmy who died in a helicopter crash at DaNang Bay, Vietnam, on May 9 was made yesterday.

★ ★ ★

Pfc. Elmy received the award for "distinguishing himself in ground operations against hostile forces in the Republic of Vietnam during the period of February to May 1967.

Pfc. Elmy, 20, entered the Army in September, 1966. He had worked at GMC Truck and Coach Division prior to joining and after attending Pontiac Central High School.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmy own the Beaute Raye Shop, 219 Auburn.

Dr. Milton H. Bank, pastor of the Central Methodist Church which Pfc. Elmy attended, and Kristyn Doughtery of 6562 Pear, Independence Township, also attended the award ceremony.

Penny Parking Meters OK'd

BIRMINGHAM — The City Commission held an abbreviated meeting last night and approved one-cent parking meters plus an increase in the parking meter rate.

★ ★ ★

The short session was necessitated by the curfew — imposed by the city leaders — —which began at 9 p.m.

Last night's meeting was a continuation of Monday's meeting which was cut short when the ban was first imposed due to disturbances in Pontiac and Detroit.

The parking meter change was explained as a move to provide more convenience for shoppers plus more revenue to provide extra future parking areas.

The one-cent meters will give six minutes of parking. However, the rate is increased in most meters to a minimum of a half-hour for five cents as opposed to the previous 5 cents per hour rate.

The city approved purchase of about 430 new meters at an approixmate cost of $23,000. Most of the present meters are about 20 years old and will not admit pennies.

The commission also heard a report from the Birming - Bloomfield Chamber of Commerce on the parking ban on Maple.

The Chamber is opposed to removing parking, an experiment which the city conducted last month. The city is allowing parking on Maple once again except during road construction in connection with the ring road.

★ ★ ★

The regular Monday meeting of the commission will not be held next week, but will be held the following Monday.

The Birmingham - Bloomfield Council of Human Relations has a collection point for donations to victims of current civil disorders at Holy Name School, 680 Herman.

The station will be open 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. today and tomorrow and 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Sunday.

The center has three large trucks donated by area firms, serving to haul donations from other centers in the area.

★ ★ ★

U.S. Sweeps DMZ for N. Viet Outposts

SAIGON (AP) — The U. S. Marines invaded the southern half of the demilitarized zone between North and South Vietnam today for the second time in the war. Their targets were the North Vietnamese mortar and artillery positions which have been shelling Leatherneck posts just south of the zone.

The U. S. Command also announced another dogfight over North Vietnam with a MIG21 probably shot down and six U. S. plane losses over the North which had not been revealed before.

Men of the 9th Marine Regiment moved into the demilitarized zone before dawn just north of Con Thien, the Leatherneck outpost 10 miles from the South China Sea where a Red barrage killed two Marines and wounded 12 Thursday night.

There was no immediate report that the Marines had encountered any enemy opposition.

EARLIER PENETRATION

It was the first American penetration into the three-mile-wide southern half of the zone since May 19, when the Marines and South Vietnamese troops invaded the southern sector for the first time to root out North Vietnamese gun posts. The allied force withdrew after a week.

U. S. Command said since then the Communists have again begun digging in artillery and mortars below the Ben Hai River which divides the zone.

The latest dogfight took place Thursday when a pair of MIG21s tried to jump an Air Force reconnaissance flight 37 miles north of Hanoi but were attacked by a pair of Air Force Phantoms flying escort.

The MIGs dived with the Phantoms in hot pursuit and one Phantom pilot fired off a sidewinder missile. The heat-seeking missile was right on the MIG's tail when the Red disappeared into a cloudbank, the pilots said. The Air Force scored it as the 11th probable kill of the war although no explosion was actually seen. U.S. forces claim 80 MIG kills and have lost 20 American planes in dogfights.

Racial News at a Glance

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON — President Johnson proclaimed Sunday a national day of prayer for racial peace and said "the violence must be stopped: quickly, finally and permanently."

DETROIT — The quietest night in four days of riot agony kept the city's death toll at 38.

PHILADELPHIA — Mayor James H. J. Tate placed the city under a limited state of emergency giving police authority to arrest persons in groups of 12 or more unless engaged in organized recreational activity.

LORAIN, Ohio — National Guardsmen were brought into the industrial city near Cleveland as a precautionary measure.

Outbreaks were reported in Albany, Poughkeepsie and Peekskill, N.Y., Waterbury, Conn., Sacramento, Calif., and Seattle, Wash. Guardsmen were on patrol in South Bend, Ind., and Cambridge, Md.

FAA Chief's Firing Asked

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A union representing 8,000 of the nation's 14,000 air-traffic controllers has called for the dismissal of Maj. Gen. William F. McKee, head of the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA).

The National Association of Government Employes said yesterday that the jetliner-light plane collision over Hendersonville, N.C., last week was more proof of a worsening problem in the nation's airways.

It urged Johnson to fire McKee and replace him with someone who knows more about air traffic control, namely the FAA's northeast region director, Oscar Bakke.

And it said Congress should "force-feed" the FAA sufficient amounts of money, "backbone, and honest concernt to act" before there is a repetition of the Hendersonville tragedy.

Concert Hours Rescheduled

Taylor said the curfew would remain in effect in Pontiac until he is certain there will be no threat to citizens or property.

Morris Davis, 19, of 444 Branch, who acted as a spokesman for the young Negroes, said he was satisfied that the meeting "got things on the way."

Describing himself as a student at Oakland Community College, he said young Negroes, 19 to 25, in Pontiac had met and decided to ask for the meeting with the mayor.

★ ★ ★

He declined to directly answer a question of how the trouble in Pontiac started, but said crowded conditions, inadequate housing and lack of recreation area "arouses and produces tension."

OTHER GRIEVANCES

Among other topics the group asked to discuss were high rent in substandard housing, inadequate housing or recreation areas, lack of jobs and city hiring practices.

Also mentioned was a demand that a complete coroner's inquest be made concerning the death of Alfred Taylor, who allegedly was shot by Rep. Law while attempting to break into the grocery store, and "the feeling that we are not properly represented on the City Commission."

Irving Ackerman, an attorney and one of the five Detroit owners of the housing project, "has indicated a willingness to work with the city," Taylor said.

★ ★ ★

The 72-unit development is being operated at a loss, the owners have stated. Ackerman has previously said it could be sold if a nonprofit organization wants to assume ownership.

WILLING TO SELL

The mayor said he coincidentally met Rep. Law in a barbership yesterday, and Law said he is willing to sell the grocery store for a fair market price.

Taylor said this will have to be discussed further without infringing on the rights of private ownership.

The mayor said the city is very interested in securing decent housing for those desiring it and remarked on the progress of a planned 475-unit apartment project to be constructed on Kennett adjacent to the Alcott Elementary School.

He said the federal government has authorized rent supplement payments for the first 200 units, and the only thing holding up beginning of construction is FHA authorization.

Injury, Capture and Rescue of Young Infantryman Told

Minutes earlier the slim, 19-year-old infantryman from the 4th Infantry Division was being carried into captivity by North Vietnamese soldiers who had overwhelmed his platoon in the rain forest along the border between Vietnam and Cambodia.

Both of York's legs had been shattered by a mortar round as he was firing his machine gun at the dozen brown-clad Vietnamese rushing at him through elephant grass. He fainted. When he came to, the roar of battle was stilled, his wrists were tied to his belt, and his Communist captors stood around him. Two of them grabbed his arms, two others his feet, and York—from the little town of Chelsea, Maine, married on May 5 to his childhood sweetheart and sent to Vietnam a week later—was on his way to captivity.

But the battle last Sunday was by no means over.

Circling overhead in a helicopter was the battalion commander, Lt. Col. Thomas P. Lynch of Spokane, Wash., who called for silence on the busy radio net so he could hear the last man on the platoon's radio set.

"Charger (the battalion commander's code name), everyone else is dead," the voice said. There were some mumbled words about home and mother. Then "Charger, I'm dying". The set went silent.

York, numb with pain, was being carried into the jungle as the first rounds came in. The two Vietnamese carrying his legs were killed in the first blast. The men at his shoulders dropped him to the ground.

'I WAS PRAYING'

"I realized they were our shells," York said later at a hospital. "I was sure the Communists would kill me then, what had they to lose? And if they didn't, then our artillery would get me. I thought I was dead for sure. All I could do was pray, and you better believe I was praying."

The barrage ended quickly. York was alone beside the two dead men who had been carrying his legs. He tugged painfully at his belt and pulled his wrists free so he could get his teeth to the ropes. Then he started chewing feverishly.

The North Vietnamese battalion that had overwhelmed the 30-man platoon-killing 18 of the Americans — had reached the company perimeter where another 30 Americans were lying in foxholes.

Commanded by Capt. William C. Pratt of Edinburg, Tex., they were soon under rocket and machine gun attack from the shadowy figures at the edge of the clearing.

LETHAL PELLETS

In a forward foxhole Spec 4 Robert Rohan, from Omro, Wis., fired a claymore mine, shattering a patch of jungle with the lethal pellets. Later, 11 dead Communists soldiers were found there with three rocket launchers and two machine guns beside them.

"It surprised me, all them people lying back there dead," said Rohan.

In another foxhole nearby, two soldiers drew straws to see who would go to the assistance of Sgt. Glen A. Funk, from Cerro Gordo, Ill., who did not respond to repeated calls after an enemy grenade landed near his foxhole.

Sgt. Richard Martin of Asbarokee, Mont., drew the short straw and headed across the bullet-whipped 30 yards between the foxholes. Halfway across Funk yelled, "Where the hell you goin', Martin?" and began firing to cover Martin's return.

SALVO OF SHELLS

The big American guns to the rear slammed shell after shell at the enemy, a total of 6,682 in three hours.

U.S. Air Force bombers roared in as the artillery lifted briefly, searing the jungle and grassy clearings with napalm and heavy bombs. Armed helicopters slashed at trails with their machine guns.

One of Capt. Pratt's platoons fought its way back to the company perimeter. Then Capt. Neill D. Buie of Wisner, La., burst across the clearing with 120 men.

From then on, it became "a mechanical process," Lynch said, "a complete destruction and neutralization of the area" with heavy gunfire.

ASKING MERCY

North Vietnamese came running from the jungle, their hands clasped in front of them asking mercy. Enemy bodies lay in bomb craters and in the jungle.

"We overkilled," Col. Lynch said. "We killed them three and four times."

A total of 170 Communists were killed; 19 Americans were dead.

Alive amid the destruction were Pfc. York and 10 others in his platoon, all wounded. York had managed to bite through his ropes, had dragged his mangled legs through the jungle to join up with some of his buddies, and gave a weak, painful cheer as the rescue troops arrived.

ORDEAL IS OVER—Pfc. Andrew York, 19, of Chelsea, Maine, rests in a hospital at Tuy Hoa, South Vietnam, after he was rescued from near the Cambodian border. York was captured after both his legs were shattered during a Vietcong attack. He bit through the ropes binding his hands and hid after two of his captors were killed by a U. S. artillery round.

Bill Offered on Financing of Seaway Lock Repair

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Nine Great Lakes congressmen introduced legislation today to prevent the government from using St. Lawrence Seaway revenues to finance the estimated $13.1 million cost of repairing the Eisenhower lock in upstate New York.

The bill would authorize the cost of the repairs to be paid from general revenues instead of from seaway tolls.

Rep. Henry S. Reuss, D-Wis., said $3.5 million of repair work would be done after the seaway closes in December. It would be financed by the issue of St. Lawrence Seaway bonds.

His bill would reimburse the expenditure and pay the additional costs of the five-year repair program.

The Eisenhower lock was found to be in urgent need of repairs because of a deterioration in the concrete used to construct it.

The bill was supported by the Department of Transportation.

White Family Threatened for Housing Riot Refugees

DETROIT (AP) — A white family of "good samaritans" who took a Negro family into their home after they were displaced by the Detroit riots has become the object of threatening phone calls.

★ ★ ★

"I never expected that," said a white housewife who told of the calls as she squinted into the brilliant late afternoon sun on the porch of her neat red brick house, looking over a well-trimmed green lawn.

★ ★ ★

The white family was one of many who had opened their doors to refugees of the costliest riot the United States had seen in recent history.

★ ★ ★

"It made me sad—very sad," said the woman. "I thought we could set an example."

★ ★ ★

"Rebuilding this city physically will be easier than rebuilding it socially," Gov. George Romney had said earlier Thursday.

4 CHILDREN

A Negro woman on welfare and her four children had arrived Wednesday—and decided to leave Thursday.

★ ★ ★

"She didn't leave because of the threats," the white woman said. "They didn't start coming until after the family had decided to leave."

★ ★ ★

The woman and her husband, who works as a plant manager for a large public utility and is acting chairman of his church's human relations committee, have five grown children of their own, two of whom still live in the house on a quiet, tree lined street on the far northwest side.

They asked to remain anonymous because of the threatening calls they have received.

ADOPTED GUESTS

"I still remember a few tricks in entertaining children," the woman had said while her family's adopted guests shared their house.

★ ★ ★

"After all, I raised four boys and a girl."

But Thursday, she frowned as she said: "What puzzles me is how anxious the children were to leave. How happy they were when their mother said she had to get back into the city.

★ ★ ★

"I guess they just weren't comfortable," she shrugged.

"Oh, I could understand the mother's point of view. She said she had to get back to the city soon or she would be last on the list to get any benefits which she so desperately needed.

Independence Police Force Is Goal of Millage Vote

By ED BLUNDEN

INDEPENDENCE TOWNSHIP — A millage election to provide the township with its own police force has been set for Sept. 18 by the Township Board.

Voters will be asked to provide 1 mill a year — $1 for $1,000 as assessed or about $10 per average home owner.

"This is a must," said Duane Hursfall, township supervisor. "We are growing rapidly and have reached the point where we need a police force," he said.

The area is currently being covered by the sheriff's departmet and state police.

These agencies will continue to augment the local law enforcement agencies just as they do in other communities.

$40,000 A YEAR

The one-mill levy would raise about $40,000 a year. It is planned to originally have a police chief and about three patrolmen.

★ ★ ★

Hursfall said several men have already applied for the positions.

What will happen to the part-time police force in the village of Clarkston is not certain.

★ ★ ★

If the millage is approved those inside the village would be paying for two separate police forces, it was pointed out.

"Perhaps the village will participate in a joint force," Hursfall said.

In the township budget $15,000 had been set aside in April for police protection. This amount is generally paid out in fees, but was not enough to establish a township department.

Population has grown from about 11,000 in 1960 to about 18,000 at present, according to estimates.

★ ★ ★

Discussion on having a police force "has been going on for the last couple of years," Hursfall said.

ADEQUATE IN PAST

He pointed out that while state and county police protection has been adequate in the past, there are times when their staffs are almost entirely committed to other areas.

Hursfall said township officials "will try to do a selling job," to convince residents on the need for a separate establishment.

In other township business, a hearing will be held 7 p.m. Monday at Clarkston High School, 6595 Middlelake, on the township-wide zoning ordinance.

★ ★ ★

Hearing Next Week on Proposed Budget

W. Bloomfield May Operate in the Red

AREA NEWS

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — This township's proposed budget carries a deficit of about $80,000.

Expenditures in the proposed budget amount to $590,236, and anticipated revenues $512,630.

A public hearing on the budget will be held Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. at the township hall. Citizens can examine the proposed budget in the township clerk's office. Copies are not available outside of the office.

Largest increases over last year are the salaries and benefits for police and fire departments.

Fire department salaries and benefits increased from $88,950 last year to $129,150 this year.

This increase for police and firemen represents a rise of about 10 per cent in their salaries, said a township spokesman. Also, the departments hired three policemen and two firemen.

In addition, all township employes are slated to get about a 10 per cent salary increase, if this proposed budget is approved. Fringe benefits for all employes may also go up with a rise in insurance protection from $3,000 to $6,000 this year according to the spokesman.

★ ★ ★

The proposed budget also gives the library an increase of $10,000 over last year's allotment of $45,000.

OTHER ITEMS

The building department's funds may decrease $17,324 over last year's allotment of $72,006.

Other items in the proposed budget include supervisor's office, $64,060; clerk's office, $28,482; elections, $3,840; treasurer's office, $33,907; general government operating expenses, $45,150; and town hall, $4,920.

A property tax of $212,000 is expected to bring in the largest portion of revenues. This represents a $51,000 increase over last year. Other significant anticipated revenues in the proposed budget include: sales tax, $132,000; licenses and permits, $71,000; fire protection contracts, $29,000; intangible tax, $16,900; and delinquent tax, $12,000.

Other revenue items are: liquor license fees, local ordinance fees, water department administration charges, expired building bonds, plat approvals, gas tax refund, board of appeals, interest on general fund, rezoning requests and library revenues.

The budget, expected to be approved in August, will cover a fiscal year which began April 1 and ends March 31, 1968.

FIRE DAMAGE — An abandoned clubhouse building on Perry Lake Road near Hoyt, Independence Township, is badly damaged in one end by a fire which broke out Wednesday night. The building is the former Glen Acres Hunt Club and has been empty for about one year. The property, which is on Crooked Lake, is being held by H and R Bloch Co. with offices at 20 E. Huron, Pontiac.

Muskegon Churns; Other Cities Quiet

By The Associated Press

Muskegon police waded into gunfire as a crowd of Negroes milled around a gasoline station set ablaze by a firebomb last night.

The flare-up, in which nobody was reported injured, came as most of eight other Michigan cities reported a calming in potentially explosive racial situations.

More than 40 officers from Muskegon police, the sheriff's department and suburban agencies quelled the outbreak by arresting 40 Negroes and returning the gunfire. One officer said a Negro stood beside a gasoline pump, shooting at police. Bullets ripped into at least one scout car.

Sporadic fire-bombings were reported on the heavily Negro near-East Side of the West Michigan City. Muskegon, 190 miles west of Detroit, has 46,500 residents.

★ ★ ★

6 YOUTHS NABBED

Muskegon police said they nabbed six Negro youths last night sneaking alongside a big discount store, carrying tools and chunks of concrete.

Meanwhile, city officials lifted a curfew at Grand Rapids, and police reported an "extremely quiet" night. Earlier the city of 202,000, the state's second largest, was troubled with gunfire, arson and rock-throwing. Grand Rapids is only 40 miles east of Muskegon.

Firemen fought at least 12 blazes, occasional gunfire pierced the air and police arrested 10 persons last night at Flint. Similar incidents have occurred the past couple of nights in the city of 197,000, third largest in Michigan. Flint is 60 miles northwest of Detroit.

★ ★ ★

Mount Clemens police arrested 15 persons, mostly for curfew violations. Otherwise they reported a quiet night as rain fell on the city of 21,000 about 20 miles north of Detroit.

PONTIAC ARRESTS

Police in Pontiac, scene several days ago of two gunshot deaths, arrested 20 persons for curfew violation.

Authorities reported a quiet night at other cities which faced disturbances earlier — Benton Harbor, Saginaw, Kalamazoo and Albion.

Former School Head Is Business Manager

LAKE ORION — The creation of a new position of business manager and the appointment of Alvin Norlin, Imlay City superintendent of schools to the job has been approved by the Lake Orion Community School Board.

Norlin, who served Imlay City Schools as superintendent for 18 years, will receive $12,000 a year in his new job.

The board continued last year's tax levy which amounts to a total of 24.46 mills in Orion Township and 24.28 mills in the other townships served by the district.

State Rehash Is Assured Over Water Fluoridation

LANSING (UPI) — Fluoridation of water supplies, long a hot issue in many local communities, is on the verge of becoming a state-ordered requirement.

But before it does, there is certain to be a rehash at the state level of arguments between those who recognize its value and those who don't want it forced upon them.

Dr. Albert E. Heustis, director of the Department of Public Health, has proposed ordering the addition of fluorides to local water supplies serving most Michigan cities beginning next year.

On his side legally is Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley; dentists back him professionally. The AFL-CIO also favors fluoridation.

★ ★ ★

On the other side are a host of persons opposed to "chemical contamination" of water and others such as Christian Scientists who find the proposal religiously objectionable.

DAY-LONG HEARING

Heustis said following the session that he wanted to review the transcript before handing down his final decision.

"I will try to make the right professional decision — one that will have the greatest benefit to the health of the people of the state," he said.

★ ★ ★

The proposed rule would require cities of more than 5,000 population to fluoridate their water by October 1968; those with population between 2,000 and 5,000 by 1969, and those from 1,000 to 2,000 a year later.

PRIVATE SYSTEMS

Private as well as public water systems would be included.

★ ★ ★

Fluoridation has been found to be an effective tool in preventing tooth decay.

★ ★ ★

Shelby Police Issue Warning on Fire-Bombs

SHELBY TOWNSHIP — A fire-bomb dumped last night in the intersection of Montgomery and Church Streets, a neighborhood of new $30,000 to $40,000 homes, has prompted police to issue strict warnings.

"We want young people to know — if they were responsible," said Sgt. Donald Dahmer of the Shelby Police Department, "that anyone found carrying such a bomb is liable to imprisonment of 2 to 5 years.

"If the intent to use is proven, the penalty is 15 years, and believe me, we'll go for the maximum," he added.

Dahmer said the bomb, a quart jar filled with fuel oil and provided with a wick, may have been intended for a vacant house in the subdivision.

★ ★ ★

"It apparently got too hot to handle and they dumped it in the street," he said.

NO WITNESSES

There were no witnesses to the 10:30 p.m. dumping.

Dahmer said people in the area are so edgy that anyone lighting a cigarette after dark on the street is apt to draw gunfire.

Utica Man Kidnaped by 3 Armed Men; Abductors Captured

JACKSON (UPI) — A Utica man Wednesday night told of being kidnaped by three man armed with five guns and three knives and being forced to drive them from Ypsilanti to Jackson.

Michael Bradley Hughes, 22, of 1195 Delvin told Jackson County deputies the three threw him unhurt from the car just west of Jackson and sped off.

Hughes said he stopped to pick up a hitchhiker and the man's two companions ran up to his car, police reported. The three, whose identity has not been revealed, were captured when officers forced the car off the road after a two-mile chase.

The men were described as carrying a rifle, four pistols and three switchblade knives.

They were being held in the Jackson County Jail, charged with kidnaping and armed robbery of Hughes' car, officials said.

Police could not immediately provide a reason for the incident. They reported the men had been heading for Chicago.

For Farmington Elks Club

Construction of Lodge Begins

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP — Exalted Ruler Harry O. Wenner turned the first shovel of dirt for the Farmington Elks' new $300,000 lodge.

The 9,000-square-foot building will be on Orchard Lake Road south of 10 Mile. It will house a spacious dining room and lounge area. The exterior will be of cut stone and smoked galss.

The three acres of land owned by the Elks was rezoned recently from residential to office by the Township Board.

★ ★ ★

The Board also rezoned an adjacent seven-acre parcel to multiple dwelling.

OCC Dean at Institute

COMMERCE TOWNSHIP—Ned Brodbeck, 4999 Wavewood, dean of students on the Highland Lakes campus of Oakland Community College, is among 46 student personnel workers participating in the 1967-1968 Counseling and Guidance Institute at Michigan State University.

In the four-week summer phase of the institute, held June 19 through July 14, guidance counselors and deans of students attended lectures, seminars and laboratories in administration, group work and counseling.

Miss Ortonville Contest Postponed Due to Civil Strife

ORTONVILLE — The future Miss Ortonville will have to wait awhile to assume her reign.

The annual Village Carnival Days, during which she was to be selected and crowned have been cancelled until later in the year, possibly the fall.

The Miss Ortonville pageant, with 11 candidates, was to be held tonight in conjunction with the annnual celebration sponsored by the Ortonville Jaycee Auxiliary.

Village officials explained that, due to recent civil disturbances, it was doubtful police would be available at this time to handle expected traffic and other problems.

Shelby Twp. Police Nab Two Runaways

SHELBY TOWNSHIP — Two juvenile runaways from Huntington, W. Va., were apprehended by township police at 1 a.m. today after having allegedly broken in and burglarized the Quic-Pic market, 51075 Mound.

★ ★ ★

The boys were reported near the market by two Shelby residents shortly before 1 a.m. When officers investigaged they found a window broken and apprehended the two youths outside the market. The two reportedly had quantities of liquor and food that they had taken from the store.

Police placed them in the Macomb County Youth Home and notified West Virginia State Police.

State Approves Sewer Line Bonds

Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley announced today approval of $2,020,000 of Oakland County sewage disposal bonds for the "Evergreen system, Bloomfield Township trunk arms, stage one."

★ ★ ★

Kelley, chairman of the Municipal Finance Commission, said, "The proceeds will be used to defray the cost of the Bloomfield Township arms in the Evergreen system.

"The bonds are to be issued in anticipation of the payment of the amounts to be paid to the county under an agreement of March 1, by which the township agrees to pay the county the cost of said system," he announced.

The Evergreen sewer line sends sewage down to the Detroit system for disposal. The line comes up through, and also serves, Birmingham and Bloomfield Hills.

★ ★ ★

When completed it will be available for most of the homes in the township in need of the system.

Troy Rotary to Meet

TROY — The Troy Rotary Club will host Eric Bentlage of Ferndale, governor of Rotary District 638, at their regular meeting Wednesday.

Airport Panel Meeting in Battle Creek Today

BATTLE CREEK (UPI) — The first meeting of a joint legislative committee to study prospects for an airport to serve both Battle Creek and Kalamazoo was scheduled to be held here today.

Representatives of the Chambers of Commerce were expected to appear.

Rep. Gustave J. Great Sr., R-Battle Creek, is committee chairman.

The committee will investigate present facilities at the W. K. Kellogg regional airfield at Battle Creek and the Kalamazoo municipal airport and recommend either expansion of one of the fields or development of a new one to serve both cities.

★ ★ ★

Members of the committee consist of the five other legislators from the area, all Republicans, and two Democratic senators from the Detroit area.

Detroit Property Toll: $200 Million

Insurers Brace for Riot Claims

NEW YORK (AP) — Insurance men are poking through blackened ruins and smashed store fronts in riot-scarred cities across the country to prepare for damage claims totaling millions of dollars.

"It's going to be high, there's no question on that," says a spokesman for the Insurance Information Institute in New York.

The General Adjustment Bureau, Inc., says it has sent additional insurance adjusters into the Detroit area but adds that "We anticipate it will be several days before our people will be allowed to enter and make surveys of the more seriously damaged areas."

PROCEDURAL SPEEDUP

The adjusters went to Newark, N.J., after that city was ripped by riots two weeks ago. The Newark riots caused an estimated $15 million in property damage.

★ ★ ★

No complete accounting has been made of the property damage in the current widespread racial violence and probably won't be for months. One estimate puts the nationwide total of homes destroyed or damaged at 428 and the number of businesses at nearly 4,000. That does not include buildings in riot-torn neighborhoods that officials have not yet entered.

A question arose after the riots in the Watts area of Los Angeles in 1965 as to whether insurance policies covered property damage inflicted during the battling.

'NOT RESPONSIBLE'

The City of Los Angeles, which is self-insured, has denied all property damage claims, of which nearly 1,000 have been filed, on grounds that it is not responsible for rioting. Some officials said the riots were an insurrection. The same description has been made by some in the Detroit and Newark troubles.

Most property insurance policies do not cover damages caused by war or insurrection, but do give financial protection against riots.

★ ★ ★

The Insurance Brokers Association of California held that the Watts riots fell within the insurance definition of civil commotion and thus were an insured peril.

"We paid $44 million as a result of the Watts riots," says the institute spokesman.

WOULD BE REQUIRED

William Shumake, a special assistant in New Jersey's State Department of Banking and Insurance, said this week that insurance companies would be required to pay for riot damage claims.

Shumake said that although the Newark trouble had been called a "criminal insurrection" this "is not being used as a defense by any company we know of nor will it be permitted to be used."

A question also arose as to whether the riots would lead to insurance policy cancellations and rate increases.

Horace J. Bryant, New Jersey's deputy commissioner of banking and insurance, said the state would not tolerate "wholesale terminations of insurance contracts and refusal to renew policies." Bryant added, "If a company terminates a policy, or refuses to renew, tell us. We have the power to act."

The Insurance Institute spokesman said that no wholesale cancellation of policies was contemplated and that fire insurance rates would not be affected immediately, although they could be in the future.

When asked to give an estimate of the insured property damage caused by the rioting, agent Ralph Klebba said, "Oh, gee, no. I wouldn't even hazard a guess. It's beyond my comprehension."

Klebba said his agency alone might pay about $200,000 in claims but emphasized "it's really too early to guess."

★ ★ ★

He said claims calls were coming in at about 10 a day with "most of them for commercial buildings."

GM, Chrysler Earnings Down

DETROIT (UPI) — General Motors and Chrysler Corp. yesterday reported dollar sales up, but earnings down for the second quarter of 1967.

Chrysler reported record dollar sales, but profits down by 12 per cent. Earnings were $48.8 million for the period ended June 30, on sales of $.596 billion. A year ago, in the same period, Chrysler had profits of $54.4 million on sales of $1.4 billion.

Citizens of Great Britain spend a daily total of $1.4 million on tobacco.

JFK Rites Aide Now Crippled

MEMPHIS, Tenn (AP) — In 1963 Army Lt. Samuel R. Bird commanded the eight-man military entourage that ushered President John F. Kennedy's casket to Arlington National Cemetery.

Today, Bird, now a captain, must be carried or wheeled wherever he goes through the long corridors of Kennedy Veterans Administration Hospital here.

Bird of Wichita, Kan., is a casualty of the war in Vietnam. An enemy sniper's bullet last Jan. 27 left him with crippling brain damage, and he is unable to use his legs.

Only a quick evacuation by helicopter saved his life, and there still is doubt of a complete recovery.

"With all the drive Sam's got, he'll make it," said Richard E. Bird, a retired Kansas lumberman and father of the wounded soldier.

"I had him brought here because this is known as the best rehabilitation center in the country," Bird said.

Among the younger Bird's mementos is a copy of William Manchester's "The Death of a President." Inside the front cover, the author wrote:

"From one who also bears the scars of combat and who, having known John Kennedy, knows how proud he would be of Sam Bird."

'Merger Hurts Smaller Paper'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The agreement that San Francisco's newspapers said had revived their fortunes is hurting one of their smaller neighbors, California publisher J. Hart Clinton testified today.

Clinton, who operates the San Mateo Times, appeared before the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee to oppose legislation that would give legal sanction to joint operating agreements of the type between the San Francisco Examiner and Chronicle.

The bill would give limited antitrust exemptions to the merger of printing, advertising and circulation functions of two papers while competing editorial policies are maintained.

The publishers of the San Francisco papers testified yesterday that only this kind of arrangement kept one of them from going under.

Also opposed to the bill was Michael G. Dworkin, publisher of the Detroit Daily Press, which came out for four months during the Detroit newspaper strike in 1964. He said the bill would "simply increase concentration and monopolization in the industry.

★ ★ ★

Support for the bill was given by Thurston Twigg-Smith, publisher of the Honolulu Advertiser. He said his paper was transformed from "a dying entity into an increasingly healthy one" after it entered a joint operating agreement with the Honolulu Star-Bulletin in 1962.

Proposed Canal Pact Penalizes U.S.

Subject to Senate ratification, a new treaty with the Red-tinted Panama government covering the operation of the Panama Canal is expected to be signed by President JOHNSON.

The proposed treaty makes significant concessions to the Central American country that could prove inimical to the economic and military interests of the United States.

Panamanian politicians, in their greed for more national revenue, would change the "self-sustaining" concept of the waterway to one promising lucrative returns.

Currently, Uncle Sam pays Panama $1.93 million annually for the canal's territorial rights. Under a transit-formula provision of the new treaty, Panama could theoretically receive $22 million a year — which is more than the present net revenue of canal operation.

But with the vast changes that have evolved in maritime shipping — greater speed of vessels complemented by tremendous increase in capacity — shippers might well bypass the canal with its hiked tolls for more favorable modes of shipping — thus cutting heavily into the volume and revenue of the canal.

The defense provisions of the treaty text present equally ominous implications. They prohibit the United States from initiating military defense of the canal route in the event of hostilities without the consent of the Panama government.

This, obviously, would put the U. S. at the mercy of the regime then in power and subject to its international coloration and sympathies.

Since the operation of the canal provides Panama with its principal source of income, it is clear that that country's need for the canal equals if not exceeds that of the United States. Under the circumstances, it is no time for Uncle Sam to sell short his East-West water route in Central America.

★ ★ ★

President JOHNSON will be ill-advised to sign the present draft of the Panama Canal treaty unless important revisions are made. If, however, he does sign it, the Senate will be well-advised to reject it.

Florida Cracks Down on 'Blue-Sky' Land Sales

Some of the lushest prose in American letters has been penned by Florida land developers. Every lot in the Sunshine State, to hear them tell it, abuts a body of water and abounds in palm trees.

The truth sometimes is painfully different, as certain out-of-state land buyers have discovered. The body of water may at times inundate the property, while the palm trees may turn out to be scrub palmetto.

★ ★ ★

The great majority of Florida land sales are honest transactions, satisfactory to both buyer and seller. Recently, however, the state Installment Land Sales Board accused Florida's largest land-development company of unethical sales practices and flagrant misrepresentation.

The company's alleged misconduct prompted Gov. CLAUDE R. KIRK JR. to push through the legislature the toughest land-sale law ever enacted in Florida. It takes effect Aug. 1.

★ ★ ★

KIRK really had no choice except to press for reform of Florida land-sale practices. Because of its tourist-oriented economy, Florida can ill afford to alienate vacationers and potential residents.

Here's the Long and Short of Telephone Booths

The average American male is still a growing boy. Currently, he's 5 feet 9½ inches tall and has 18-inch shoulders. Seated, his eye level is 48.5 inches from the floor; his knees, 22.7 inches.

Anyway, that's the size of the problem as seen by the Bell System engineers who design telephone booths. They report that their latest glass booth is the largest ever made for the system.

★ ★ ★

As yet, however, they haven't discovered what to do about short people who make long calls.

Getting Beyond That Stage!

David Lawrence Says:

'Peace Corps' Needed for Cities

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — The remedy for the epidemic of riots and disorders sweeping America today is not to be found only in the development of better living conditions for persons of all races residing in congested cities but in better means of communication between governmental authority and the people. A new kind of "peace corps" is needed.

LAWRENCE

Baseless rumors of alleged injustices and brutal treatment would never have been accepted as factual by masses of people if it had not been for the suspicions and bitter feelings aroused beforehand by demagogic speakers in street "demonstrations" and "marches."

Incitement to disorder as a result of these utterances has gone unpunished and even defended as "freedom of speech."

But there has been no effective countereffort — unquestionably permissible under "freedom of speech" — to spread truth so as to overcome false charges and to produce a better feeling between Negroes and whites in troubled communities.

Youths have been responsible for many of the crimes and much of the looting and hoodlumism. Lots of the young people don't read speeches or listen to radio, but they have been antagonized by the kind of things they hear in neighborhood gangs on street corners.

Whites who misbehave can be reached by other whites, and Negroes can be counseled by fellow Negroes. Then mixed groups can be chosen to carry further the process of promoting a better understanding between races.

Careful training of such a peace-making corps will be necessary. Benefits can be derived by everybody if the destructive influence of racial friction is superseded by the constructive consultations of groups striving to reason with each other.

There is a tendency inside the United States to regard racial controversies as solvable solely by the exercise of rigid discipline.

It is important, of course, to hold "teach-ins" to widen respect for law and order. But while disorders may be lessened this way to some extent, the roots of the trouble will not be eradicated just by threats of punishment.

Gangs hitherto have frequently terrorized neighborhoods in cities where racial friction has been unknown or insignificant. Bitterness is not always due to conflicts between persons of different color, though racial consciousness is sometimes emphasized to a degree that influences human behavior and causes outbursts of violence.

Only by utilizing the processes of person-to-person communication can peaceful living be achieved in the world today.

Bob Considine Says:

Yanks Miss Significance of Papal Visit to Istanbul

ROME — It is not easy for an American to grasp the colossal changes involved with the Pope's visit to Istanbul to meet with Patriarch Athenagoras.

CONSIDINE

So much of our thinking has roots which reach no deeper in the soil of time than, say, the Declaration of Independence, the Civil War, the world wars we have fought and the series of social reforms commenced by Franklin Roosevelt and his New Deal.

Pope Paul VI is the first pope to visit Istanbul since Pope Constantine dropped by there early in the 700s. That was 1,000 years and more before the birth of George Washington.

Relations between the Church of Rome and that of Byzantium had been strained before that over a host of theological matters, some of them almost as preposterous as how many angels could stand on the head of a pin, but others related to the divinity of Christ, priestly celibacy, beards, and other hauntingly familiar matters that have survived the eternal dialogue.

★ ★ ★

The schism was far from abrupt. The church of the West existed reasonably well with that of the East without any exchanges between pope and patriarch until 1054 when Pope Leo IX and Patriarch Cerularius of Constantinople blew their respective tops or tiaras and excommunicated each other.

POINT OF DISAGREEMENT

Chief point of their disagreement, 800 years before Abraham Lincoln became president, was one of organization. Cerularius believed that the church should be made up of a group of autonomous regional congregations. Leo demanded obedience to Rome, specifically to himself.

Even in the face of that drastic act of 1054, the divided churches cooperated. There was a particularly friendly period of six years, about 350 years before the birth of Shakespeare.

It was not until 1472 that Constantinople formally broke with Rome. Columbus was a midshipman at the time.

Now Athenagoras, a huge warm-hearted man of 80 with the beard of a prophet and a slightly Southern drawl (which he learned from Pullman porters during his years in America) has been paid a visit by the much less outgoing but still intensely human Paul VI.

England's Sunday Telegraph put it well, in commenting on the Pope's latest trip:

"This advance in ecumenism makes another papal visit practically certain — to Canterbury. The 'seamless robe' may be rent, but there is some interesting stitching going on."

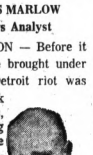
Detroit Riot Draws Political Cross Fire

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON — Before it could even be brought under control the Detroit riot was up to its neck in politics, looking straight at the 1968 presidential campaign.



MARLOW

It's a good guess we will be hearing about it until next year's elections.

Republican leaders, with former President Dwight D. Eisenhower approving, warned that anarchy is approaching and blamed President Johnson for failing to "recognize the problem."

This attack was made Monday while Johnson — at the request of Michigan Gov. George Romney, who may be Johnson's Republican rival in the 1968 race — was arranging to send U.S. troops into blazing Detroit.

★ ★ ★

The whole story of what happened Monday — and why Johnson took so long before permitting the troops to be used in the riot center — hasn't been told. It took many hours.

The New York Times reported that at first "some officials in Washington suspected that the governor was primarily seeking insurance against a political setback in the riots by quickly associating the President with his own law enforcement efforts."

But Johnson for his part, in his public explanation on the troop use to the nation around midnight Monday, repeatedly made it clear Romney couldn't control the riot and that the reason the troops were being sent was because Romney said he needed them and couldn't do without them.

Romney, who has spent a good deal of 1967 scouting around the country to sound out sentiment about his chances next year, seemed certain until this riot to try for the Republican nomination.

★ ★ ★

PAINS TOOK

All this will probably be used against him within his own party before nomination time comes. And if he gets the nomination, judging from the pains Johnson took to tell the country Romney couldn't make the grade with just one riot, the one in Detroit, the Democrats are a cinch to use it against him.

But the Republicans turned Detroit into a political football before Johnson had a chance to picture Romney as helpless. They issued their statement of condemnation against Johnson hours before he went on the air with his explanation.

In fact, they sought to blame the Democrats indirectly for the riots, saying "widespread rioting and violent civil disorder have grown to a national crisis since the present administration took office."

★ ★ ★

All this started a shouting match in Congress where Democrats called the Republicans "irresponsible and ridiculous," urged them to act on proposals Johnson has already made for combating crime, blamed some of them for voting against "every program of relief and rehabilitation for our cities," and even accused some of them of laughing at a rat-control bill.

So the American riots, which should require every bit of thought and energy of both sides, are drowned in politics before anyone suggests a solution.

Voice of the People:

Says 'Blame Legislature for Tax – Not Governor'

To Mr. Sam Cubba of Rochester and the many others who criticize Gov. Romney about the income tax:

Are you sure you are shooting your arrows at the right target? Who passed those unnecessary and very expensive bills that overstep the budget? Who else but our legislature?

The legislature did not do its duty, leaving it up to Gov. Romney to find the money for these bills. If you can figure out a better way, tell your representative about it. The State is not allowed to print money.

Ex-Gov. Williams was away from Lansing more than Gov. Romney.

Comments on Keego Harbor Park Situation

I appreciate Mr. Vogelsburg's admission that he is using his position as Chairman of the Board of Review to usurp the duties of the City Assessor to tax the non-profit corporation which owns the two Willow Beach addition parks.

These parks are available, under supervision, to the children of Keego Harbor through Youth Guidance five days a week. The gate is locked to prevent anyone using the parks as an escape route in case of a boat accident on the lake.

If his main motive is parks for the residents of Keego Harbor, why does he not form a dues-paying association to develop and maintain the several parks which are shown on the Sawyer subdivision map which the City of Keego Harbor does not have funds to develop.

Youth Wildness Is Blamed on Upbringing

Lately I have heard a great deal about the wildness of today's youth. Do you know what is the matter with kids today? The answer is: Adults, parents in particular. When we are children we learn to pray, to swear, to lie and cheat from our parents. No wonder young people protest and riot so often.

I am not anti-parents. My parents have given me much love, guidance and understanding. However, they sometimes do not seem to realize that I am human and individual, too.

The youth whose parents never realize this are the ones who make the headlines with their evil doings. Too little parental control and too much parental control are the problems. The schools cannot solve these problems. We become what we are by following the example of the adults with whom we live. It is time to stop blaming schools, society, television and radio.

Says 'God Is the Answer' to World Horror

I believe the horror that has intoxicated our state, country and world is a test by the Lord our God, which may decide the fate of all mankind.

God created all men equally. Whether black, white or yellow, we are all human beings. No one person is better than another.

I am only a junior in high school; but I believe that if people would treat one another with respect instead of hostility, our world would produce love instead of hate. God is the answer.

Wiretaps . . .

New York Daily News

You would expect the Attorney General of the United States to be zealous in fighting crime and criminals.

U.S. Attorney General Ramsey Clark has issued a long string of instructions to federal law-enforcement agencies on wiretaps and wizard electronic devices for catching conversations through walls or at considerable distances.

Crooks and criminals use more of these things each year, in their ceaseless preying on society.

★ ★ ★

Yet Clark now ordains that federal operatives may not use the devices at all, except in cases involving national security — and then, as a rule, only with advance written approval from Clark.

★ ★ ★

In all this, the Attorney General goes a little farther than the anti-wiretap and anti-bugging law wanted by the President himself and embodied in a bill now before Congress. Our normally hard-headed White House Texan has a blind spot on this subject; why, we don't know.

Suggestion: Congress should pass the President's bill virtually in reverse, so as to give all law-enforcement people at least an equal break electronicswise with criminals, and pass it over a veto if a veto is forthcoming. And if Clark squawks, as well he may, just let him squawk.

Firearms Laws

Des Moines Register

Time after time the federal government must step into the picture because state and local governments refuse to face up to their responsibilities.

The recent action of the Illinois legislature in enacting statewide gun control legislation is a welcome example of state refusal to pass the buck to Washington.

The new law makes it mandatory for persons possessing firearms or ammunition to obtain a state registration card.

Felons, mental incompetents, and narcotic addicts are barred and restrictions are imposed on gun ownership by minors. The law requires recording of gun transfers and provides penalties of a year in jail or $1,000 fine for violations.

The Illinois law is in line with the recommendation of the National Crime commission that certain classes of persons be barred by states from obtaining guns although the measure falls short of providing for the comprehensive gun registration the commission urged all states to adopt.

The only prohibition in the Iowa firearms law relates to the sale of pistols to minors. Anyone else, no matter how violent his background, is free to purchase any firearm.

We regret that, unlike the Illinois legislature, the Iowa legislature has allowed another session to go by without coming to grips with this gun control problem.

GI Benefits Available After 2 Years' Duty

By JERRY T. BAULCH
Associated Press Newsfeatures

WASHINGTON — Here are a few things you should know if you're in military service or thinking about entering:

GI Bill Benefits

You can take advantage of the home loan and educational benefits of the GI bill while you're still in service.

★ ★ ★

You're eligible if you have completed at least two years of active duty.

Saving Money

The armed forces have several ways to help you save money.

The most profitable is the Overseas Savings Program, which pays 10 per cent interest compounded quarterly. Deposits as small as $5, but not more than the serviceman's alloted pay, will be accepted. It's part of a program to cut down the dollar drain abroad.

Only those overseas may participate. And after a depositor returns to the United States or its possessions, interest and deposits can continued for only 90 days.

Another recommended method of savings is purchase of U. S. Savings Bonds, paying 4.5 per cent, on the payroll plan. Savings also may be made through the new freedom savings plan and through post or base credit unions. Or those in service may allot part of their pay to a bank or savings and loan association.

There have been lots of gripes about pressure by some commanders on bond sale drives to reach their quotas. Congress and Pentagon officials are making efforts to keep the purchases voluntary.

Physical Standards

The new policy of lower physical standards for enlisted men in the Armed Forces has recently been expanded.

★ ★ ★

It permits a man to stay in service when a minor physical defect is discovered during basic training, provided the recruit volunteers to have the condition corrected at government expense.

Household Shipments

Military families now receive greater protection on shipments of household goods. Movers assume a 60-cents-per-pound liability on interstate shipments of such goods. The old rate was only 30 cents.

Airmail Letters

A five-cent stamp will speed letters by air to U. S. servicemen in Vietnam. The letters must include the five-digit APO, the same as a zipcode. And now Congress is considering free mail for men overseas.

Army Community Service

Hundreds of wives are finding that the Army Community Service offers a friendly hand on daily problems—from schooling for handicapped children to locating housing for a family whose breadwinner is overseas.

The service, active for over a year now, helps Army families returning from overseas.

Its volunteer activities include day care for children, baby-sitting, local transportation, storage for household articles, orientation for new members of the Army community and special programs to bring into local Army activities those families separated from their servicemen.

Hudson's campus collage

Campus Collage comes to Pontiac

★★★★★

Pontiac, July 31—Hudson's College Shop introduces the Campus Collage to the Pontiac area. Published by a staff of roving reporters, Hudson's College Board of experts from colleges across the country, the College covers the campus scene for fashion news and candid views. For most complete coverage come to Hudson's first floor, Pontiac College Shop; also Downtown, Northland, Eastland and at Westland.

Uniform wraps up the news

The vest makes news with kilts, pants, culottes, suits. Makes more news in chrome yellow billiard cloth nylon/wool. Makes most news when finished with hardwareables: industrial zips and brassy rings. Sizes 5-13, $10.

The shirt stages a comeback. It's back! It's standard college gear this year on coeds everywhere. It's cotton with mini stripes in gold and ivy marking the start of a new shirt era. It's pure MAN in every detail. Sizes 10-16, $8.

'67 clan-plan is a culotte—or is it a kilt? It's both, and it's a new non-traditional idea in a traditional tartan pattern. (and tartans are more terrific than ever, too). It moves to class, to parties, to town. Chrome, ivy green and red wool/nylon, 5-13, $14.

The opaque leg: fashion moves up the leg in ivy panty hose. Today up to the culotte kilt. Tomorrow up to a chinchilla cloth coat, a knacky knit or bermuda suit. It's the wonderful, practical look of fall 1967. Yours for $3.

The shiny shoe: it's gleaming patent with a gleaming metal chain. It's in ivy to match the hose that match one of the tartan kilt colors that makes the complete look, $20.

It's Collage news. The art of gathering diverse fashion fragments together for one great total impression will be practiced to a high degree on campuses this fall. Like the name of this newspaper, college wardrobes will be a collage of new ideas and colors to be collected for their individual worth and mixed to whim and wit. Hudson's college staff uniform is just one example. For the full scoop come to Hudson's College Shop, Pontiac.

It's Just Her Boyfriend

Can't Men Be Just Friends to Girls?

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I was talking with my boyfriend and the subject of "men friends" came up. He said there was no such thing as "men friends." That they all had only one thing in mind, and there wasn't a man alive (married or single) who would care to be with a woman just for the sake of conversation and companionship.

ABBY

We got into quite a heated argument over this as I have quite a few male acquaintances whom I consider "friends" and nothing more. What is your opinion, Abby? I would also like the opinions of your men readers as I want to know if they think the way my boyfriend does.

DIANE

DEAR DIANE: Tell your boyfriend to speak for himself and not to implicate every other male in the world. Furthermore, if my "boyfriend" ever made such a statement, I wouldn't trust him out of my sight.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have been married a short while. Last month we went to visit his mother in another state. I found his mother to be very unclean about herself, and her house was filthy. She even talks dirty.

Abby, I don't mean to be unkind about his mother, but I have never experienced anything quite like it. My husband is a very clean person. He must take after his father who is dead.

When we got home I told my husband I would never go to his mother's again unless she cleaned up her house. It honestly wasn't fit for pigs. He admitted the house was a mess and so was his mother, but he thinks I am being unreasonable. Tell me your opinion of this, please.

NO PIG

DEAR NO PIG: Your husband could ask his mother to clean up her house, but if she is personally unclean, and talks dirty there is little he can do about that.

I think you are within your rights, however, to refuse to stay in a house that isn't "fit for pigs."

MRS. JOHN L. RICHARDSON

The bridegroom's brother, Rev. Robert Richardson of Pleasant Lake was one of the officiating clergy at the rite.

★ ★ ★

CASCADE BOUQUET

Linda Lu Collins of Morristown, N.J. was maid of honor sharing duties with matron of honor, Mrs. William R. Williams of Charleston, W. Va.

★ ★ ★

BROTHERS

Maj. James Richardson was his brother's best man. They are the sons of Mrs. Harry S. Richardson of Meinrad Street and the late Mr. Richardson.

★ ★ ★

A reception in the Fort McNair Officer's Club, Washington, D.C., followed the ceremony. Parents of the bride are Col. and Mrs. James W. Milner of Arlington.

The newlyweds will reside in Arlington, Va.

Madly 'Mod' Gala for Gal 'Swingers'

"Mod" attire set the theme for the Fairway Golf League's annual Guest Day Thursday.

Golf and luncheon at Pontiac Country Club were on the agenda for the day.

Chairman of the event was Mrs. John Condon with assistance from Mrs. Robert Meikle, Mrs. John Heitsch, Mrs. George Watters and Mrs. P. James Carolin.

Aug. 4 through 10 and 11 through 18 have been set for the League's tournaments.

Free Concert Is Today

ROCHESTER, Mich. — Students of the Meadow Brook Percussion Ensemble, under the direction of Detroit Symphony Orchestra percussionist Salvatore Rabbio, will present a free public concert this afternoon.

The concert is scheduled for 4 p.m. in the auditorium of Matilda R. Wilson Hall on the Oakland University campus.

Tenth Grader Brings Music to TB Sanatorium

Have you ever heard "Beer Barrel Polka" played on the organ? Neither had 14-year-old Fred Miller, but when a patient at the Oakland County Sanatorium requested it, Fred searched through his musical repertoire until he found the song.

Ever since he began playing the organ at this Pontiac hospital a month ago, Fred has been kept busy with eager requests from the over 100 patients able to enjoy his music.

VOLUNTEER

Volunteer work had never occurred to Fred. He is the son of the Sidney J. Miller's. He will be in the 10th grade at Our Lady of Lakes High School and like any teen-ager enjoys basketball, waterskiing and girl-watching.

But Fred also has studied the organ for two years, and when he heard of the need for an organist at a local hospital, he contacted the Oakland County Volunteer Bureau, located in Birmingham. The bureau is a division of United Community Services of Metropolitan Detroit and is the main channeling source for volunteer placements in health, welfare agencies and hospitals.

It just so happened that Fred was perfect for the job! He not only enjoys the opportunity to play the new Hammond organ, but he also has a real knack for catering to the tastes of the patients.

The instrument has rollers, allowing Fred to wheel it around to different areas of the building, bringing music to over 100 people. "The women like waltzes, and the older folks like the more sentimental kind," grins Fred, beginning a rendition of "I Left My Heart at the Stagedoor Canteen."

SISTER

Fred's 11-year-old sister Charlene comes with her brother and plays the organ, too. "We plan to stay about two hours each visit," smiled Fred, "but we always end up staying three." They come three days a week now, and when school starts Fred says he will come whenever he has the time to spare.

He maintains a B plus average in school, and gives organ lessons to children and adults.

"When Fred or his sister begin to play, the whole atmosphere of the hospital changes," said Mrs. Margaret Evans, patient and volunteer supervisor. "If the patients in one wing hear that Fred is playing in another wing they are just furious with him for not visiting them first!"

One elderly gentleman expressed his sentiments: "You can't just sit around all day watchin' the same old stuff on TV! Now, that there (the organ) is pretty listenin'!"

Pontiac Press Photo

Fred (14) and Charlene (11) Miller of Lincolnshire Road join the patients at the Oakland County Sanatorium in a songfest. Fred has been playing the organ at the hospital this summer during his spare hours as a member of the Oakland County Volunteer Bureau. They are the children of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney J. Miller.

Business Women More Centralized

Mrs. Mable McClanahan, who has worked her way to the top of the BPW in 21 years of membership, says she has come to a more centralized emphasis.

"We used to have a do-it-yourself program and no national guidance. In the last 10 years there has been a decided effort to bring it to centralized leadership.

★ ★ ★

"And in the last three or four years we're finally getting younger women into it. There was a time when the average age was 55, and when you attended a state convention you'd walk in on a sea of gray-haired women. Now the state conventions are full of fresh, young faces."

WHY THE CHANGE

"National emphasis," she replies, younger women — youth conferences, scholarships, career guidance."

One thing that especially bothers the Wisconsin business-woman is that so few women go into politics.

"This is a personal opinion," she says, "but I think part of it is the fact that women need to learn how to face competition. Many are not willing to face it to win an election."

★ ★ ★

Then, too, some women think getting into politics would be defeminizing, she suggests.

"But look at the women in Congress; most of them have retained their feminine qualities. And more women in politics would clean it up. If she is determined to accomplish something or change legislation, nobody can be as busy as a woman."

Attendants Get Invitations to the Wedding

By ELIZABETH POST

Dear Mrs. Post: I would like to know if invitations are sent to the ushers, minister, organist and bridesmaids in a wedding. — Louise

★ ★ ★

Dear Louise: Even though it hardly seems necessary, the ushers and bridesmaids often like to receive invitations as mementos. It is not necessary to send one to the minister or organist unless you wish to invite their wives or families.

RIGHT OR LEFT

Dear Mrs. Post: Please tell me from which side one approaches a chair when sitting down at a dinner table. Also, from which side does one get up when leaving the table? — Elsie.

★ ★ ★

Dear Elsie: There is no rule, but since the man seats the lady on his right, it is more convenient for all to seat themselves from the right side of their chairs.

On leaving the table, get up to the right also, unless the person on your right gets up to his left; in other words, avoid bumping into your neighbor.

SAD NEWS

Dear Mrs. Post: A girl friend and I went to Florida for a two-week vacation. On the third day, she received a telegram that her mother had died and she had to return home immediately.

I stayed on for the remainder of my vacation. I understand she is hurt because I did not leave too. Was I wrong not to accompany her home? — Lisa

Dear Lisa: If you were close friends so that your presence would have been a help and comfort to her in her grief, it was selfish of you not to go with her. If you were mere acquaintances, taking your vacations together as a matter of mutual convenience, I don't think she should have been hurt because you stayed behind.

Lynda Returns

WAHSINGTON (AP) — Lynda Bird Johnson, just back from a two-week London vacation, turned up in her father's office to watch him address the nation on civil disorders.

★ ★ ★

There had been no prior word that Lynda, 23, was back in the United States. So it came as a surprise when Lynda, in a bright orange dress, appeared Thursday night.

Designs Range From Delicate to Chain Mail in Fall Shows

By ALINE MOSBY

PARIS (UPI) — Delicate, lady-like long wool dresses with silk or velvet jackets was the idea of designer, Roberto Capucci, for the 1967 winter.

Just as the Dior Salon decided to keep skirts baring the knee, Italian designer Capucci joined the long skirt insurgents.

★ ★ ★

Except for a few ankle-length evening gowns, he showed his entire collection at two inches below the knee, a length that is even more of a shock to the eye than the mid-calf version at other salons.

HIGH-WAISTED

Capucci's girls walked out slowly in his long, gently sloping dresses with belts or seams high under the bosom — curiously much like the Lanvin collection.

These daytime outfits had tiny short jackets of heavy silk, moire taffeta or velvet — which signified, Capucci said, "A new conception of fashion and a return to a discreet and refined elegance from early morning right through to the cocktail hour."

★ ★ ★

MID-KNEE LENGTH

British designer, Edward Molyneux, displayed most of his clothes at mid-knee except for a full-skirted deep gray taffeta evening dress at mid - calf. He belted some dresses but still made some loose-waisted sheaths.

Many a critic laughed when designer Paco Rabanne made his dangling plastic earrings two years ago. But they wound up a world-wide fad and commercial success.

★ ★ ★

Thursday he presented silver chain mail mini dresses and head-hugging hoods that were right out of a Buck Rogers comic strip, but they may well end up as smash commercial successes among the ye ye crowd, too.

Rabanne's idea is to clamp together leather, metal and plastic in circles, squares, triangles and circles.

PATCHWORK

Combined in various colors and patterns, the materials form mini dresses, floor length evening gowns, coats and jackets.

For example, black astrakhan fur was attached to black leather triangles to form a coat. A floor length skirt of silver leather strips was topped by silver be-jeweled leather squares clamped together with little metal rings.

★ ★ ★

Rabanne's mannequins paraded to electonic music in an all-black room in other futuristic outfits including brown and black plastic stips festooned with gleaming silver lame flowers.

For a day at the office or shopping, he offered leather mini skirts and boots with jackets combining silver chain mail and leather circles or squares.

Topless Girls 'Too Young'

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP) — More than 100 curious men gathered at a service station here after it had advertised that two "topless young ladies" would self gasoline. The topless females showed up but the men left quickly.

The "girls" were Stockton's daughter and one of her friends — both 3 years of age.

In younger years, she acted in 40 motion pictures—the last at age 104. A Social Security official said she is the oldest woman on its rolls.

Shatter Myth of First Births

NEW YORK (UPI) — It's just a myth that first babies tend to arrive in early morning hours, a six-month study of 4,870 births shows.

★ ★ ★

Among 1,326 first babies in the study, 74 arrived between noon and 1 p.m., and the fewest — 25 — between 2 and 3 a.m. Mothers who already had one child were likely to have their next infants between 9 a.m. and noon, Dr. Carl Erhardt, of the New York City Health Department, reported in the New York State Journal of Medicine.

Families Want to Be In Style

Workers in anti-poverty programs have observed that improved personal appearance is a basic "want" of many low-income families.

According to a member of the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare, low-income families most often ask first for help with clothing — because it is a status symbol to be well dressed.

★ ★ ★

One responsibility of professional workers is to convince families that high style — on any economic level — depends upon immaculate cleanliness of body and clothing.

Patient Analysis Needed on New Raise

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

He comes home with a nice raise on payday. She starts singing in the kitchen. Then, a couple of months or so go by, and they're looking at each other in bewilderment, saying "What happened — where'd the money go?"

MARY FEELEY

No doubt about it, a pay raise can sneak away without leaving any tracks visible to the naked eye. It takes some patient analysis to find out why, all of a sudden, the family has more income and less money.

Dear Mary Feeley: My husband just received a $50 a week raise — and we're not doing any better! I try to keep up with where the money goes, but I can't seem to find out. We have two boys, 15 and 16, and a girl four. My husband's take-home pay is $523 every 1st and 15th of the month. In contrast, his take-home pay in 1964 was $368.

And we are living in the same house now as then — although our $183 mortgage payment recently went up $12 because of an increase in our homeowner's policy.

How could I make out on $368 every 15 days in 1964 when I can't seem to make ends meet now on $523?

I have no set amount for food shopping, and I know a great deal goes for snack foods to keep two hungry teen-age boys filled up between meals. I also know I keep on giving to every charity appeal that comes to the door. Another expense. When I promised my little girl last year that she could go to kindergarten, the $12 a month seemed so small I thought I could easily take it out of the house money.

Now I find that the house money is not stretching even to cover the things I've always spent it for.

We're saving only $12.50 through payroll bonds. At least, however, we now have some forced savings — another $27 a month is recently being deducted towards a supplemental savings and retirement plan.

* * *

My husband's company pays completely for life and accidental death insurance, and we pay only $3.25 for a major medical. Another help is that my husband has a company car, expenses paid.

When I estimate expenses coming up every two weeks, it all looks so good on paper — as if I'd be able to save $100 or maybe even $200 that month. But it's a wonder there's anything left for groceries as it turns out.

Our expenses seem to keep going up with each raise. Why?

Louisiana Reader

Dear L.R.: For a couple of good reasons: the cost of living has gone up about six per cent. And your family's growing.

You're also not taking into consideration that at the very time of your husband's peak income — now — the children have grown in size and appetite. Their clothing costs more, their allowances are larger than they were in 1964, their activities are more varied, and their school-related expenses are greater.

The cost level of feeding your little daughter can well have moved up a dollar or more a week, and the boys can logically be expected to consume an additional $5 a week, what with all those snacks.

Then consider: $12 more a month for homeowner's insurance; about $30 a month cost-of-living rise; $12 for kindergarten; $27 a month for retirement plan; probably $6 to $8 a month for the boys' allowances.

While there's always a place to put another dollar, you're not being realistic in merely estimating budget expenses in advance. Take off your rose-colored glasses and look at the record of your actual spending. Advance estimates are fine and dandy — provided they're based on your real spending pattern. To know what this is, you'll have to start keeping enough basic records to see what you did last month and the month before that. Otherwise the "savings" you estimate each two weeks or by the month will always be only on paper.

* * *

Start by getting the food dollar into line. It may help to guide you to know that the Department of Agriculture estimates that an average family of five — in your age ranges and in the southern region of the country — spends $104.40 for meals for a two-week period, using what is called a Liberal Plan.

Community Leaders Map Recovery Plans

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit's community leaders mapped plans today to rebuild riot-torn areas even as snipers continued their sporadic harrassment of police and soldiers patrolling the streets.

★ ★ ★

Some 500 representatives of industry, labor, Congress and small neighborhood organizations met Thursday, pledging support to mobilize community resources in a massive recovery program.

President Johnson sent a telegram to Gov. George Romney and Mayor Jerome Cavanagh offering federal aid in the form of food, drugs and hospital equipment.

Cabinet members had been directed, Johnson said, to meet disaster needs in Detroit "that cannot be met by state and local resources."

A White House spokesman said $2 million worth of surplus food stockpiled by the Agriculture Department in three Detroit - area warehouses would be turned over immediately to welfare agencies, the National Guard and the Red Cross for distribution to riot victims. Flour, dried milk, canned meat and other staples are included in the supply.

United Auto Workers President Walter Reuther told the meeting that organized labor was ready to furnish a vast task force to move in and "remove the ugly scars left by our hours of madness."

Reuther said workers would be asked to toil without pay on their days off and weekends to knock down gutted shells of buildings left by thousands of fires set during the rioting. He called upon industry to furnish the tools and equipment, such as bulldozers and trucks.

Romney said he thought Reuther and the city's other labor leaders were making an excellent contribution.

'VERY HELPFUL'

"At this stage of the game, it is very helpful," he said.

Cavanagh said it was the "kind of expression of support we need."

The mayor described the tragedy as not just of concern to Detroit.

The events of the past few days, he said, "point to a crisis which faces this entire country."

★ ★ ★

"We can plunge into the future with hope and with the eagerness which opportunity wakens in all men, or we can tumble backward into hate, fear and recrimination," Cavanagh said. "The decision is ours. There are strong forces that tug at us from all sides."

Reuther echoed the theme, declaring that what happened in Detroit could happen in any city in America any night of the week.

Reuther declared that there are no white solutions, no black solutions, no Democratic solutions and no Republican solutions.

"There are only American solutions," he said. "And this is no time for America to look for political scapegoats."

Text of LBJ Call for Prayer Day

★ ★ ★

From its earliest day, our nation has been dedicated to justice, to equality—and to order.

★ ★ ★

We are a people committed to the rule of law, believing that it holds the greatest hope for human progress and well-being. We must never abandon that commitment.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

It is right to pray that strife will not bring down what we have built, nor threaten all the things we hope to build.

★ ★ ★

Now therefore I, Lyndon B. Johnson, President of the United States of America, do hereby set aside Sunday, July 30, 1967, as a National Day of Prayer for Peace and Reconciliation.

ALL CITIZENS

I call on every governor, every mayor, every family in the land to join in this observance. I call on all our citizens to go into their churches on this Sunday, and to pray for peace in the land we love.

★ ★ ★

We deplore the few who rely upon words and works of terror.

We mourn the many who have suffered from violence in the cities.

We dedicate ourselves once more to the rule of law, in whose absence anarchy is loosed and tragedy is born.

★ ★ ★

We pray to almighty God, the author of our liberty, for hearts free from hate, so that our nation can be free from bitterness.

BUILD TOGETHER

We pray for strength to build together so that disorder may cease, progress steadily continue, and justice prosper.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand this twenty-seventh day of July, in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred and sixty-seven, and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and ninety-second.

Lyndon B. Johnson

PERPLEXITY IS . . . — If you think this short-legged dog is puzzled at finding a short fire hydrant, just think of the Hollywood, Fla., fire department when it has to answer a call in the neighborhood where there are a number of these newly buried hydrants. It seems there was not enough pipe sent to the job to set the hydrants at the proper height.

LBJ Waited Too Long, Most in Detroit Poll Say

NEW YORK (UPI) — The first poll of Detroiters concerning the race riots showed yesterday that 68.2 per cent of those interviewed thought President Johnson waited too long to send federal troops into the city.

Sindlinger & Co., independent market analysts, said the 550 persons interviewed Wednesday in the first of a series of daily polls indicated that 89.8 per cent of the Detroiters believe the riots could have been stopped if police had been given more authority when they started.

The poll reported that only 27.3 per cent thought Johnson acted at the right time, no one thought he acted too soon and 4.5 had no opinion. It showed that 71.6 per cent thought the police did a very good job and 88.7 per cent held the same opinion of firemen's efforts.

Only 12.5 per cent felt Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh had done a very good job, while 25 per cent thought he did a good job, 31.9 per cent thought it adequate and 29.5 thought he did a poor job.

Gov. George Romney was rated higher with 27.3 per cent saying he had done a very good job, 34.1 a good job, 21.6 adequate, and 15.9 poor.

OPINION OF RIOTERS

Twenty-one per cent of those interviewed said they or someone they knew had been personally affected by the riots. More than 63 per cent said they thought only 5 to 10 per cent of the nonwhite population of Detroit had participated and 55.5 per cent said they thought the rioting was planned.

Only 11.3 per cent thought it anything to do with civil rights protests.

Think Again, the President Urges Rioters

WASHINGTON (AP) — In his remarks most directly aimed at rioters and potential rioters, President Johnson said Thursday night:

★ ★ ★

To those who are tempted by violence, I say this: Think again. Who is really the loser when violence comes? Whose neighborhood is made a shambles? Whose life is threatened most?

★ ★ ★

If you choose to tear down what other hands have built,

- You will not succeed;
- You will suffer most from your own crimes;
- You will learn that there are no victors in the aftermath of violence.

★ ★ ★

State's 2 Senators Stay in Washington

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sens. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., and Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., sent word yesterday they can do more here for Detroit than by attending a meeting in the city.

★ ★ ★

In joint telegrams to Gov. Romney and Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh, they named their representatives to yesterday's conference of public officials and community leaders, and promised their prompt repsones to any recommendations which may be made.

"We are working here and want to do everything possible to provide all the federal cooperation that can be mustered," the senators said.

How does a hand tied wig feel when worn? Light — very, very light. Drayton wigs weigh only a few ounces; less than the average hat.
Will the hair fall out? Definitely not. However, a certain amount of "loose hair" is caught up during the manufacturing process and will brush out during the first 30 days of care. This is natural and a sign of quality.
The machine weft wig is hair sewn onto strips of netting and again machine sewn onto the wig base. The hair lengths are much longer on the hand tied wig.
How long will a Drayton wig last? Because Drayton wigs are made only of the finest 100% human hair, they will last many years with the proper care.
The bone located at the back of your head, slightly protrudes, thus giving a slight form for the back of the wig to rest on. Some persons heads are shaped so as not to permit the wig to be comfortable. Therefore the wig "rides up" in back, causing the wig to feel like it may fall off.

3 Canadians Get Rare Look at Soviets

MOSCOW (AP) — True or false? Most Soviet citizens would jump at the chance to turn out the Communist party or leave for greener pastures abroad.

True or false? Western technology is on the verge of being smothered by the Soviet Union's, whose millions of students work, beaver - like, on study courses that put the West's to shame.

If you answer "true" even "maybe" to either of those questions, you won't get a passing grade from three Canadians who have just spent nearly a year studying at Moscow University.

Maureen Sager, 30, is a daughter of high school teachers and came here to work on a master's thesis on Crimean author Sergei Tsensky. Norman Segalowitz, 21, plans to continue his studies in psychology at McGill University after looking over Soviet efforts in his field. Samuel Coran, 27, holds a master's degree in Slavic studies from Indiana University.

IN EXCHANGE PROGRAM

They were among seven Canadians who attended Moscow and Kiev universities in the last school year on scholarships arranged through their universities or student exchange programs.

"The students we saw don't work any harder than ours do at home," Miss Sager said. "The top ones work just as hard as our best pupils do, but the mediocre ones probably work less."

★ ★ ★

All three felt that the image of the Soviet student has been exaggerated in the West.

Similarly, there are plenty of myths about the relationship between Soviet citizens and their government.

SYSTEM SUPPORTED

"It's foolish to say that people here are against their system of government," Cioran said. "They see very real possibilities in the system and want to do something with their society—but using their own system.

"There's no real anticommunism. Many of them see a need for improvements, but they support the basic structure."

All three had a rare opportunity to see Soviet life at close quarters.

Foreign businessmen, diplomats and newspapermen are segregated in separate apartment houses for foreigners and have few normal contacts with Russians. The students lived at the university and ate and studied among both Russians and foreigners.

Each of them also spent more than a month traveling to many parts of the Soviet Union, often without the standard guide or other supervision. Each developed some facility in the Russian language.

"The students turned out to be of both kinds, those who were willing to discuss most topics and those who weren't," Segalowitz said.

"Quite a number were sort of constructively looking at their problems and at the future of their society rather than just taking some strict ideological line."

Cioran interjected: "You can talk politics quite easily with them, but on a friendly basis, the way we do at home."

FIRST AVOIDED

Miss Sager agreed: "At first you might avoid the topic—in the same way that it would be artificial to launch into a political discussion with strangers in Canada—but after a while there's no problem."

University students draw a salary from the government while they study. But the Canadians discovered that for many the salary is only 30 rubles a month —$33 at the official exchange rate—and five rubles of this goes toward rooming costs.

QUALITY OF STUDIES

As to the quality of studies, the three Canadians found the same pluses and minuses.

Said Segalowitz: "There's less choice of subject within a given course, less flexibility than we have. And there's more learning by rote."

Teaching quality, too, varied, Miss Sager found her instruction generally good. Her course adviser, for instance, "is so knowledgeable about contemporary Western literature that I'm almost ashamed to discuss it with him."

West's Inventiveness Finds Its Mark

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Item: The Senate Juvenile Delinquency subcommittee has been holding hearings this month on legislation to impose tighter controls on the sale of firearms.

WEST

Item: The Senate Consumer subcommittee will hold hearings next month on "steps which are being taken to develop a less dangerous cigarette."

I may be the only bloke in town who sees a relationship between these two items, but if you will hear me out or the subject, I think you will agree they are complementary.

One connection is obvious. Moves to place restrictions on gun sales and on cigarette advertising have drawn strong opposition.

In recently announcing the development of a new cigarette filter, Columbia University officials summarized the smoking situation thusly:

Warnings about smoking hazards are printed on cigarette packages and have otherwise been well publicized. Nevertheless, more cigarettes are being sold then ever.

★ ★ ★

It being evident that people are going to smoke regardless of the consequences, something should be done to make smoking safer.

GOODLY PERCENTAGE

Hence Columbia's sponsorship of the new filter, which is said to remove a goodly percentage of the harmful tars and nicotine.

Now if you can follow Columbia's line of reasoning you should be able to appreciate my suggestion that similar measures be applied to guns.

I mean, suppose opponents of gun control laws block the legislation. In that case, Congress could pass a law requiring that warning labels be printed on gun barrels. They would say: "Caution: Getting shot with a gun may be hazardous to your health."

★ ★ ★

"Then suppose it developed that, despite the warning, more people were shooting them than ever before. The next logical step would be to do something to make shooting safer.

TWO INVENTIONS

I have in mind two inventions, the rights to both of which I offer to Columbia University, retaining only a small percentage of the royalties for myself.

● Soft bullets. We devise a method of making bullets out of foam rubber. This would not completely eliminate the shooting hazard, but it would not hurt so much.

● A gun filter. We build into the gun barrels a filter made of activated charcoal and cellulose. It removes grease and other impurities from the bullets so that when you get shot you have a clean wound.

Computer May Fight Addiction

By Science Service

STOCKHOLM, Sweden — The Swedish Drug Addiction Control Committee is urging computerized medicinal bookeeping to control the prescription of drugs.

★ ★ ★

It wants registration and computer analysis of the 35 million prescriptions issued annually by Swedish doctors to the 7.6 million Swedes.

This would facilitate detection of the misuse of drugs, control over the issuing of prescriptions by doctors and charting of drug consumption.

Boyle Thinks Government Should Subsidize Diets

NEW YORK (AP) — Should the government pay fat people to lose weight?

Why not?

At first glance the proposal may sound ridiculous, but if all factors are considered, it makes at least as much sense as many other government support programs.

BOYLE

If Uncle Sam is willing to pay a farmer an allotment to reduce his acreage under cultivation, why shouldn't he be equally willing to hand a little cash to tubby city dwellers as an incentive to hold down their production of fat?

Let us first examine a typical fatty case today, Sam Slugg, a middle-aged breadwinner with a wife and two kids, a $12,000 annual income, and 40 pounds of excess body weight.

HEALTH DANGER

"Sam," his doctor warns him, "you've got to take off those 40 pounds or you're going to die 10 years early. It's as simple as that.'

"Okay," says Sam, whose conscience already has been bothering him because he knows that fat is unpatriotic and un-American. "I'll go on a diet."

* * *

He does go on a diet and begins to count his calories like a miser. He even joins a gym club to get more exercise. The first few pounds evaporate like morning dew under a hot sun.

Then Sam runs into a few hard facts that every dieter learns:

DIETING IS HARD

That losing weight is hard, lonely, grueling work.

That it can be very expensive. For some reason which a layman can never understand, diet foods from which salt and sugar have been removed cost more than ordinary foods to which salt and sugar have been added. And steak, of course, which is featured on many diets, costs more than spaghetti.

* * *

EARLY DEATH

Just as the doctor promised, Sam dies 10 years early, and soon his family is on government relief.

Ah, but what a different end to the story if an alert government, wise to the true financial situation, should enter the picture.

* * *

An agent from the U.S. Internal Revenue Service phones Sam:

"Sam, your doctor tells us you've got to drop 40 pounds or you'll be off our tax rolls 10 years early. We don't want that to happen because in 10 years we figure to collect maybe $30,000 from you.

GOVERNMENT DEAL

"So here's our deal. We'll give you a $1,000 cash bonus the day you can show us you've lost those 40 pounds, and we'll pay you $100 a month in cash for every month that you stay at that level."

Aid Readied for Quake Victims

ANKARA, Turkey (AP)—Turkey's army marshaled a fleet of helicopters today to fly supplies to sufferers from Turkey's second major earthquake in five days. The quake hit Wednesday night, and new tremors shuddered across the country late Thursday as the death toll mounted.

Officials said at least 110 persons were killed when the quake Wednesday wracked the desolate eastern district of Pulumur. But many of the district's 70 villages had not yet been heard from.

★ ★ ★

The quake was felt from the Black Sea on the north to the borders of Syria and Iraq on the south.

State Minister Sabit Tekin Muftouglu told Parliament: "We humbly ask Allah to protect us from further such disasters." Prime Minister Suleyman Demirel broke off a trip to Iran to fly to the stricken area.

ADAPAZARI QUAKE

Sparsely settled and sandwiched between two forbidding mountain ranges, Pulumur is about 480 miles from the western Turkish city of Adapazari, the hardest hit by a quake which killed nearly 100 persons Saturday.

Troops stationed nearby were sent into Pulumur, and army reconnaissance planes flew over to asess damage. The Turkish Red Crescent, counterpart of the Red Cross, sent doctors, blankets and food. Medical supplies were flown in from Ankara.

U. S. officials said American units stationed in Turkey were ready to contribute whatever aid the Turkish government requested.

A Turkish newsman who reached Pulumur said the worst-hit village so far was Karagol, where 32 persons were crushed to death when their mud, stone and timber houses collapsed.

HIT IN 1939

The second quake centered about 35 miles from the city of Erzincan, which was ravaged by an earthquake that killed an estimated 23,000 persons in 1939.

Reports from there said 16 movie-goers were injured in a panicky stampede for the exits after Wednesday's quake blew the lights out.

★ ★ ★

The areas hit in the last five days lie across what is called the Anatolian fault, a geological danger area running in a broad arc from Turkey's west coast to the mountainous east.

Eleven quakes along the fault in the last three decades have killed more than 32,000 persons.

Griffin to Tour

★ ★ ★

Griffin said he planned to meet with city and anti poverty directors in his first-hand look at Detroit, Pontiac, Saginaw and Grand Rapids.

Birthday Plans Starting Early

DETROIT (UPI) — The United States' 200th birthday falls in 1976 and at least one organization already is planning for the party.

The American Revolution Round Table meets bimonthly at historic Fraunces Tavern in New York City to discuss the war and the commemoration, according to the Encyclopedia of Associations, published by Gale Research Co. of Detroit.

Alley Cat Named '67 Glamour Kitty

The seven-month-old alley cat from Omaha, black as coal, was chosen Thursday night as greatest of all the kitties.

After a week of nibbling catnip and lapping milk airlifted to the four finalists by helicopter, the crown of All-American Glamour Kitty 1967 went to Pepper.

Also-purreds at the coronation were a calico cat named George owned by Mary Jane Richardsen of Statesville, N.C.; Rasputin, a Siamese owned by Dorothy Towle of Braintree, Mass., and Omar Khayyam, a Persian owned by Mrs. Harold Geary of North East, Pa.

We'd like your next water heater to be electric. So we'll pay installation costs.

We're so sure you'll like a new electric water heater, we'll pay for wiring and plumbing connections. And give you a year's money-back guarantee, besides.

Why so sure? Look. You get hotter hot water. 160°—good for automatic dishwashers and laundry. And it goes further when tempered with cold water.

You can put an electric water heater anywhere, close to hot water outlets. With short pipe runs, water loses less heat, so less water is used.

As for cost, a 50-gallon electric water heater, big enough for most families, operates for about $3.30 a month in normal use.

If this makes sense to you, visit a plumber, appliance dealer or Edison office. Just as long as your new, approved electric water heater is installed on Edison lines—in any residence up to and including a four-family flat—installation is free.

We make the same offer on new electric dryers (except venting), and on new electric ranges.

Edison lowers the cost of all-electric living

In Sequel to 'She'

Czech May Be New Sex Star

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

LONDON — The Cheekbones are high, the hair blonde and unruly, the shoulders wide, and the bust ample — 37 inches by the studio's claim, 36 by her own account.

★ ★ ★

She has all the attributes for being the season's sex symbol, and the European picture magazines are reacting accordingly. They have been featuring photographs of the erstwhile successor to Ursula Andress and Raquel Welch.

★ ★ ★

Olinka Berova is her name, and her official biography points out that Olinka means "Little Baby." The document adds: "The true test of a 'stunner' is the looks she gets in the street. Olinka stops the whole traffic!"

BORED BY BUILD-UP

Well, it's conceivable. But the real Olinka Berova is rather bored with the sex buildup and would like to skip it. That's not likely, not when she is starring as "She" in "The Vengeance of She."

Miss Berova is further evidence of the amazing vigor of the tiny film industry of Communist Czechoslovakia. The nation's films have been applauded by critics and film-festival judges in various parts of the world. This outburst of talent caught the attention of one of America's big agencies, G.A.C., which arranged to represent the Czechs in dealings with producers of the West.

★ ★ ★

A new star was sought for a sequel to "She." Miss Andress, who had played the title role, was by now too expensive. G.A.C. suggested Miss Berova because of her resemblance to Miss Andress. The producers, Hammer-Seven Arts, were in hearty agreement.

Olinka Berova is 21, miniskirted ("We wear them in Prague, too") and speaks English with an engaging accent. "When did you learn to speak English?" "I haven't!" She is an accidental actress.

"After I finish school, I was 18 and I do not know what to do," she related. "There was this director who saw me and wanted me to appear in his film. I did not want to. But he keeps after me for six months, and finally he says, 'Now you must say yes or no.' I say yes."

★ ★ ★

The first film was called "We Were Ten." It was followed by "Lemonade Joe," which won second prize at the San Sebastian Film Festival and brought Miss Berova international attention. She has appeared in 10 films, including the Germanmade "Gold Miners of Arkansas" and the Austrian "Count Bobby from the Wild West."

★ ★ ★

Miss Berova was born and educated in Prague, where her father works in the Ministry of Heavy Metals. She is earning $20,000 for "The Vengeance of She." A modest sum by Hollywood standards, but substantial for a Czech actress.

England-Ulster Fares Recalled

It Cost 5 Cents to Sail 160 Miles in 1820s

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — New York loves to tout its five-cent, 25-minute Staten Island Ferry as "the world's best bargain boat ride."

Today, maybe. But 140 years ago the British were selling almost 20 times the travel for the same price. And a free meal to boot.

That was during the good old days of hot competition between steam packet companies plying the 160-mile route from Liverpool in north England to Belfast, Ulster's capital.

According to Alfred Montgomery in "Ulster Commentary," the City of Dublin Steam Packet Co. and its competitor, Langtry's, waged such a price war that steerage passengers were going from port to port in the 1820s for threepence (about five cents then, 4 cents now).

★ ★ ★

This hurt the companies so much that they finally agreed to divide the trade — two-thirds for Langtry's and the rest for City of Dublin.

NEW FIRM FORMED

Both companies were absorbed by others in 1851.

A year later, a new firm was formed, the Belfast Steamship Co., which today provides the principal passenger sea route from England to Ulster — at a bit more than threepence.

Today's fare cost the equivalent of $9.10 first class and $6.72 tourist.

The new car ferries shuttle between Belfast and Liverpool each night for the nine-hour trip. Summer service on Sundays is provided. There are restaurants on board.

Government-owned British Rail provides other services, from Heysham, north of Liverpool, to Belfast, and from Stranraer, Scotland, to Larne, north of Belfast.

Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt Says:

Vitamin B12 Given by Pill and Injection

Q—I have heard that to be effective vitamin B12 must be given by injection. If that is so, why is it included in multivitamin pills?

BRANDSTADT

A — Vitamin B12 promotes normal growth in children. For this purpose, it may be given in tablets along with other vitamins if the child cannot get a balanced diet.

The vitamin is also a specific cure for pernicious anemia. For this purpose, injections into a muscle are most effective.

Once the disease is controlled a maintenance injection is needed only once every six or eight weeks.

If, for any reason, it must be given by mouth it must be taken daily.

Q—What symptoms would a vitamin deficiency cause? Could it cause soreness of the tongue, dryness of the mouth, pains in the fingers and toes or nosebleeds?

* * *

A — A deficiency of vitamin A may cause night blindness and dryness of the eyes; of vitamin B1 (thiamine) may cause nervous irritability, leg pains, wasting or atrophy of the muscles and water-logging; of vitamin B6 (pyridoxine) may cause nervous irritability, depression, severe dandruff with seborreic dermatitis and a sore tongue; of vitamin B2 (riboflavin) may cause cracking of the corners of the mouth, sore tongue; pain in the eyes on exposure to light and blurred vision; of vitamin B12 (cobalamin) may cause anemia; of niacin may cause mental aberration, diarrhea and a skin rash; of vitamin C (ascorbic acid) may cause bleeding gums, nosebleeds, brittle hair, dry skin, pain in the joints and slowness of healing of wounds; and of vitamin D may cause rickets in children or osteomalacia (softening of the bones) in adults.

No one of the vitamin deficiencies, however, would cause all of the symptoms you mentioned.

Q—How does vitamin D poisoning affect a person? What can be done to cure it?

* * *

A—Vitamin D poisoning may cause a loss of appetite, nausea, weakness, headache, incordinate thirst and a feeling of general peplessness.

* * *

The condition will clear up if you avoid cod liver oil, fortified milk, salmon, tuna fish, eggs, multivitamin tablets and exposure to direct sunlight or ultraviolet lamps.

Q—An X ray showed softening of my bones. Could that be a side effect of taking prednisolone? I have been taking it for six years for arthritis.

* * *

'Only Child Is Better Off'

LONDON (AP) — An only child is usually brighter and more likely to make passing grades than children in larger families, the British Medical Council reported today.

* * *

After studying 5,000 children since they were born in the first week of March, 1946, the BMC also decided that children from small families contracted less infections than others.

The report said that over the years there had been a trend for girls to reach puberty at an earlier age than boys, but children from large families reached puberty later.

Cypriot Violence

NICOSIA, CYPRUS (UPI) — Village police and Turkish Cypriots exchanged several hundred rounds of gunfire last night. Five persons have been killed in Greco-Turkish island violence this week.

LIGHTNING OUT OF ISRAEL

Before a single word was written for this basic account of the Arab-Israeli war and the humble and mighty people affected by it and the centuries of history that lay behind it, dozens of trained Associated Press reporters from Cairo to Damascus and Tel Aviv to the United Nations spent hundreds of hours spading up facts and experiences and pictures. Then a famous team of by-line writers took over to make it a memorable volume that no one with the slightest interest in this David and Goliath conflict would want to be without. Ex-PCH Gridder to Get Starting Opportunity

3rd Man Theme Not Tuned to Rush's Playing Scheme

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Playing the third man theme doesn't do much for Jerry Rush, former Pontiac Central and ex-Michigan State All-America lineman.

But with a pair of defensive tackles like Alex Karras and Roger Brown holding down the starting positions for the Detroit Lions Rush has no choice but to sit back and play the role of third man.

★ ★ ★

"Normally I don't like being an opportunist, but in pro ball you gotta take advantage of an opportunity once it comes," said Rush.

His big opportunity will come next Saturday, Aug. 5, when the Lions face the Denver Broncos in their opening pre-season game of 1967.

"Right now Jerry is our number three man at the position," said head coach Joe Schmidt, "but I plan on starting him against Denver."

Schmidt noted that one reason is because Brown has had a slight leg injury, but also because, "Jerry didn't play too much last season and we've got to give him some experience."

"He had some good plays for the little time he's played, I'd like to see him have some good games," said Schmidt.

Rush admitted he was excited about the opportunity. "I came into camp in better shape and more eager to get some playing time," he said, "and there are a lot reasons why I want to do a good job.

"My attitude last year wasn't too enthusiastic. When it was decided I was going to stay at defensive tackle, I guess I even was wishing I had signed with the Boston Patriots. When you're behind guys like Alex and Roger, two of the best, and being a rookie as well, there was little hope in my mind," he said.

"But, I really think I learned a lot just being associated with them and watching them. I've been trying to pick up some pointers, like Alex's quickness on the pass rush or Roger on the running plays."

"Coming into camp about 20 pounds lighter is some indication that Jerry is starting with a better attitude," said Schmidt, "and I think he's got the potential to do a real good job."

From the time he quit playing football at Michigan State in January of 1966 until he reported to Lions' camp as the number two draft choice, Rush's weight soared from 245 to 283.

LOSING WEIGHT

Last week he tipped the scales at 263 at weigh-in time. "I'm down to 260 and I think I'd like to try for 255," he said.

Rush and another ex-Spartan Ernie Clark went on a training program of their own for several weeks before camp opened.

"We worked out and ran every day, starting with a quarter-mile," he noted, "and the week before camp I ran two-miles on three occasions during the week.

"I feel real good, I think I've picked up speed and I did a lot of work on quickness, practicing Alex's tippie movements," he explained.

At Michigan State from his sophomore year he was a two-way player and he "enjoyed playing offensive tackle very much.

"I still think I could do the job on offense, but I don't care which side of the line it is, just so I can play," he said.

★ ★ ★

At defensive tackle, Rush wants to get a crack at offensive linemen like big Jim Parker of the Colts, John Thomas of the 49ers or Ken Gray of the Cardinals.

"They're real great offensive linemen, and I'd love to see what I could do against them," he said.

An easy going giant off the field with a smile for everyone, Rush is married to his college sweetheart. He and his wife Liliane have two boys, Todd and Scott.

When he played in the Oakland County all-star high school football game in 1960, the mighty "Fearsome Foursome" of the Lions had already been labeled.

"I never dreamed I'd someday be trying to be part of that front four. I know everyone scoffs at my chances behind two great tackles, but if I don't take this opportunity with a positive attitude, I might as well resign myself to the third man theme for most of my football days," he concluded.

J. D. SMITH RETIRES

With the cancellation of the Wisner Stadium scrimmage for Saturday, the Lions will continue their twice daily drills at Cranbrook until leaving for Denver next Friday.

★ ★ ★

The Lions lost a veteran lineman today when it was announced that J. D. Smith has decided to retire.

AFL Contest First Exhibition

By The Associated Press

The exhibition pro football season opens Saturday night in Akron, Ohio, which means the championship season in both the National and American Leagues isn't far off.

The Miami Dolphins and the Denver Broncos, two AFL clubs, are pitted against each other in a game that marks the return to the pro sport of Lou Saban.

The Broncos will work out tonight in Akron. Saban has announced his tentative starting backfield will be Mailon Kent at quarterback, Charlie Mitchell at half, Cookie Gilchrist at fullback and either Bob Scarpitto or Al Denson as the flanker.

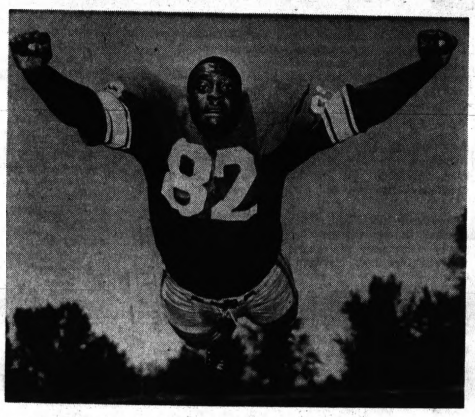
The NFL exhibition season opens next Wednesday with New Orleans playing Los Angeles at Anaheim.



RUSHING FOR A JOB — Former Pontiac Central and Michigan State football star, Jerry Rush, will be getting a starting assignment next week when the Detroit Lions open their pre-season schedule against the Denver Broncos in Denver. The 6-4 and 260 pounder will see action next to Alex Karras at a defensive tackle position.

All-Star, Bear Elevens Pass Practice Scrutiny

RENSSELAER, Ind. (AP) — The College All-Stars and the Chicago Bears paraded in a 1967 football preview Thursday and both teams passed their tests with top grades.

The All-Stars, who will meet the professional champion Green Bay Packers in football's midsummer classic Aug. 4 in Chicago's Soldier Field, proved themselves capable of the task.

The Bears found the scrimmage rewarding in that they won 23-22 on Bruce Alford's 30-yard field goal on the last play of the game.

Gale Sayers again was the Bears' big weapon as he scored Chicago's first touchdown on a four-yard sweep after making gains of 12 and 16 yards and grabbing a 31-yard pass from quarterback Rudy Bukich.

Rick Duncan booted field goals of 50 and 24 yards to give the Bears a 13-0 first quarter lead in the game which included no kickoffs or punts.

Each team was given a total of 36 offensive plays in three sets of 12 in each half.

Trailing 13-0 at the quarter, the All-Stars made it 13-12 at the half as Washington's great flanker, Dave Williams, snared touchdown passes of 85 yards from Florida's Steve Spurrier and 38 yards from Purdue's Bob Griese.

Don Cockroft of Adams State, having missed two extra point attempts in the first half, booted a 16-yard field goal to put the Stars ahead 15-13 in the second half.

But the Bears, again sparked by Sayers who also completed a 27-yard pass, took a 20-15 lead on a one-yard plunge by quarterback Jack Concannon.

McLain Responds With Shutout

Tigers Pick Up Ground in Win Over Baltimore

By The Associated Press

With apologies to the old Boston Braves, the Detroit Tigers may be basing their hopes for the American League pennant on soccer, rain and Denny McLain.

★ ★ ★

The Braves, who won the 1948 National League pennant with two outstanding pitchers, Warren Spahn and Johnny Sain, charged into the World Series with the battle cry: "Spahn and Sain and pray for rain."

★ ★ ★

The Tigers, with a strange combination of circumstances behind them, were allowed to pitch their ace, McLain, somewhat out of rotation Thursday night and he responded with a seven-hit, 4-0 victory over Baltimore, lifting the Tigers back into third place in the American League.

Washington took Kansas City 6-4 while Cleveland at league leading Chicago were rained out in the other Thursday night games. Boston edged California 6-5 in 10 innings and New York whipped Minnesota 6-2 in afternoon action.

The Tigers, forced out of Detroit because of race riots, had three days off in Baltimore because of a combination of rain, and a stadium commitment to a soccer game.

McLain, a 23-year-old righthander, took advantage of the rest, struck out four, walked none and kept the Orioles' hits well spread in gaining his 12th victory of the season.

★ ★ ★

It was Detroit's fifth victory in six games and lifted them into third place, 3½ games back of the leading White Sox. Baltimore's loss was its sixth in seven and sent the Orioles reeling into eighth place, one percentage point back of Cleveland.

U.S. Trackmen Planning to Emulate Swimmers

WINNIPEG, Canada (AP) — The sizzling Pan - American swimming pool, which cooked up five world records in two days, cooled of today in a comparative lull before the United States, already burdened by gold medals, sends its powerful track team into action Saturday.

The bristling U.S. swimming array which piled up nine of 11 possible gold medals in two days and fantastic 16-year-old Elaine Tanner of Canada, who accounted for two world women's backstroke marks, got a respite in the aquatic program which resumes Saturday.

★ ★ ★

That's also when Head Coach Dutch Warmerdam looses his late-assembling Yank track and field team for an expected near sweep of gold medals in a weeklong 24-event program.

Three world swim marks were set Thursday night and two Wednesday night.

As expected, the fifth Pan-Am Games have been no-contest for Uncle Sam's huge athletic squad which has accounted for 28 gold medals out of 34 since the 20-sport carnival began Monday.

Thursday, for instance, the United States won every one of 18 finals contested except the women's 100-meter backstroke which went to the incredible Miss Tanner in a world record time of 1:07.3 and the two-lap cycle spring won by Roger Gibbon of Trinidad-Tobago.

The big U.S. gold medal grab Thursday also included two world record swimming performances, a sweep of seven individual wrestling titles, team and individual rapid fire pistol shooting crowns, the men's individual sabre titles, and men's gymnastics team and individual all-around victories.

FIVE SECONDS

The world acquatic marks came as 14-year-old Debby Meyer of Sacramento, Calif., slashed more than five seconds off the former world women's 400 meter free style record with a 4:32.6, and Ken Walsh, ex-Michigan State star, posted a 52.6 clocking for 100 meters as leadoff man for the winning U.S. 400-meter free style relay team.

Other gold medals were won Thursday by Charlie Hickcox, Phoenix, Ariz., in the 100 meter backstroke and Doug Russell, Midland, Tex., in the 200 meter individual medley relay, both in Pan-Am record times.

Uncle Sam's prowl for track gold medals begins Saturday with world shotput champion Randy Matsen, 10,000-meter star Van Nelson and javelin thrower Frank Covelli favored to capture those three opening-day finals.

The U.S. basketball team maintained a 115-point average Thursday in crushing Panama 122-73 for a 3-0 record. Mexico, in another grouping, kept headed towards a possible title playoff with the Americans by edging Brazil 66-64, also for a 3-0 record.

World Champ Runner Leaves East Germany Into Western Sector

FRANKFURT, Germany (UPI)—World champion East German track star Juergen May has defected to West Germany, a West German track official said today.

Max Danz, president of the West German Track and Field Federation, said May telephoned him Thursday night following a flight from the Communist sector.

May is the current holder of the world record in the 1,000 meter run. He once held the world mile run record.

Danz said no details of May's escape were immediately available.

Danz said May told him he defected because the East German regime was "politically unreliable." May said he wanted to continue his track career somewhere in the west.

Public Not Able to Buy ND Ducat

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — The possibility of any public ticket sale to Notre Dame football games — at home or away — has been closed out, Irish ticket boss Bob Cahill said Thursday.

Cahill reported that a maximum season ticket sale and unprecedented demand from parents of students and the ever-increasing alumni body has created the situation.

"This is the first time in history we have not been able to offer tickets for either home and road games to the public," Cahill said. "The problem simply is this. Our alumni association has grown from a membership of 5,000 in 1929 to a current figure of 40,000 and our seating capacity has remained the same."

Boros Seeks 4th Title

3-Way Tie in Minnesota Classic

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — The sharply-honed veteran Julius Boros, with three tournament titles in the bag this year, eyed the Minnesota Golf Classic as another good possibility today after an opening round 70.

Boros tied with two lesser lights on the pro circuit in Thursday's first round over the tough Hazeltime golf course, which plays 7,220 yards with par 72.

They were Ray Floyd of St. Andrews, Ill., who won the Minnesota tournament two years ago and Dick Lotz, Hayward, Calif.

Only five others broke par in Thursday's opening round, and five others were even with it.

Missing from the tourney were such stars as Jack Nicklaus and Arnold Palmer. But the new PGA champion, Don January, checked in. He shot 73 and tied for 11th place with 12 others.

Defending champion Bobby Nichols, who shot a 76, concluded that his troubles were mostly with the greens.

★ ★ ★

"They are big, they are rolling and they are grainy," he said. "I knew this would be the case before I teed off, and there wasn't a darn thing I could do about it."

Floyd, playing his best round during a so-so season, recorded a 35-35 with 16 pars and two birdies. He figured the course played easy.

Boros, the former two-time National Open winner, knocked in birds on five putts ranging from six to 20 feet, but he three-putted twice.

Local 594 upset Ron's Roost, 3-1, last night in a city men's American League softball contest to avoid elimination from contention for the runner-up slot battle.

A National League tilt found Timberlanes-II nipping Huron Bowl, 6-5, with two runs in the top of the seventh to conclude the league's regular season.

Consecutive run-scoring doubles by Gene Land and Ed DeVault enabled Local 594 to snap a 1-1 tie in the last of the sixth inning and down pace-setting Ron's.

Should Local 594 triumph in that outing, then Ron's will play Town & Country (13-7) tomorrow night. If T&C loses, then a one-game playoff would be needed to decide second place.

The truth about Checking Accounts and how you can save $33 a year (or more)

The truth of the matter is that most people find a checking account indispensable. It saves a lot of time. It gives you a written record of every transaction you make. And, it serves as a legal receipt of payment (which is especially helpful at income tax time). The only question is—which type of checking account is best for you? Which can save you the most money? The choice is easy, between these two at Community National:

1. If you write just a few checks a month, Community offers a special Pay-by-Check account that costs just 10¢ a check plus 50¢ a month. No minimum balance is ever required. Checks and deposit tickets are imprinted with your name and account number. And all cancelled checks are mailed to you each month along with a statement.

2. If you write a lot of checks each month, Community's new CHECK III account is best for you. As long as you maintain a monthly balance of at least $300 (or an average balance of $500) you can write checks free.* There's no charge for checks, no monthly service charge. And you can take your pick of 18 stylish checkbook covers.

CHECK III, the prestige checking account that's free, can save you $33 a year or more. These savings are based on writing an average of 20 checks a month. (CHECK III does not apply to business checking accounts.)

One final point: Community National has more neighborhood branch offices than any other bank in Oakland County. They're open Saturday mornings too, so cashing checks or making deposits couldn't be easier.

One more personal service from the bank that cares...

TEEING OFF

By FLETCHER SPEARS

Rumor is that there's a waiting list of players who would like to tour the links with a couple of Waterford players.

"They'll have to pay us to play with them," laughs Roy (Ken) Bone, 51, who is one part of the popular twosome. The other half is Charlie Hadden, also 51.

The ultimate for the golfer is a hole-in-one and the players who get in a foursome with Hadden and Bone have experience and luck on their side.

Bone and Hadden have been golf partners on and off for 30 years, and the best part of this playing friendship came in the last four days.

Playing at Pine Knob Sunday, Roy scored an ace on the 185-yard fifth hole and went on to score a 78. Hadden, of course, was along.

Playing at Rochester Country Club yesterday, Hadden aced the 160-yard fourth hole and scored a 38 for the nine holes. Yes, Bone was on hand.

All of which must mean that whoever Bone and Hadden select to fill out their foursome will be in line for a hole-in-one.

BIRDIE STORY

A couple of foursomes came up with the unusual Sunday morning at Pontiac Country Club. All eight bagged a birdie without playing the hole.

* * *

At the tee on the 15th hole a young bird was sitting taking in all the happenings. On the tee were Floyd Post, Jim Greenway, Chuck Speck and Buzz Weaver.

When one stepped up to tee the ball, the bird would light on his shoulder. The distraction was too much so the golf game was temporarily halted. The four found a solution without irritating the bird. One member acted as a decoy and the bird took the bait. The others then teed off and the game proceeded.

The next foursome followed the same route. Playing in that one were Lynn Spees, Chet Reynolds, Chuck Burch and John Poljack.

TOTAL GROWS

A hole-in-one at Morey's this week brought the club's season total to three and to 52 since 1948.

* * *

An opportunity to see one of golf's best show — a one-man performance by Paul Hahn — comes Aug. 2. The show is slated for Carl's Golfland at 8:30 p.m. It's being sponsored by the Optimist Club.

STAY ALERT

Despite warnings from numerous sources, golfers continue to look for cover of trees during storms. It's dangerous.

Joseph Cook of Dearborn Heights and Chester Tereshinski of Hamtramck are now recuperating from injuries they suffered a week ago when they were struck by lightning after they sought shelter under a tree at Sylvan Golf Club.

The District 18 American Legion baseball race has been settled, and the players and coaches now are concentrating on tonight's invasion of Capac for an All-Star game.

The District 18 All-Stars play District 3's standouts at 7:30 p.m. today at Capac after the annual contest at Detroit's Tiger Stadium was cancelled.

Southfield won the league title and the right to represent District 18 in the state competition next week by beating Waterford, 4-1, in a make-up game early this week.

Coach Will Oliver now will direct the 24-player All-Star unit assisted by Don Watson, Farmington; Jerry Ostrom, Clarkston; and S. C. Burns, Waterford.

The roster:

OUTFIELDERS: Craig Georgeff, Southfield, Steve Goll, Waterford, Mark Giegler, Milford, Jerry Ostrom, Clarkston, Bill Welch and Greg Fogle, Walled Lake, Ron Parker, Berkley, Bill Norton, Farmington, Tom Drake, Troy.

THREE-BAGGER — Baltimore's Curt Blefary slides into third base with a triple in last night's game as Don Wert of the Detroit Tigers waits for the relay throw. Blefary was thrown out at home when he tried to score on a grounder. Detroit won, 4-0.

Morgan's Bat Perks

3rd Astro Gets in Act

By The Associated Press

Houston's dynamic duo, about the only thing that has kept the Astros from falling through the bottom of the National League this season, is showing signs of becoming a threesome.

* * *

Joe Morgan, now genuinely out of the hitting slump that plagued him through the early part of the season, won a game for the Astros with a run-scoring single in the bottom of the ninth for the second straight time as Houston trimmed Pittsburgh 5-4 Thursday night.

* * *

"Look at my roomie," Jim Wynn said when it was over, "taking all the glory."

"You don't want me in the act?" answered Morgan. "You and Rusty Staub have been taking all the glory all year. It's about time you leave a little room for me."

* * *

Staub, leading the league in hitting at .358—he went three-for-four Thursday—and Wynn, tops in runs batted in with 76, have been doing most of Houston's heavy hitting till Morgan's renaissance. But despite their best efforts the club is mired in the cellar, 18 games off the pace.

* * *

In other National League games, Atlanta beat Cincinnati 4-1, Philadelphia bounced San Francisco 8-3 and Los Angeles edged New York 7-6 in 11 innings.

HITTING STREAK

Morgan, batting as low as .063 at one point in the early going, is now pounding the ball at a .295 clip and is riding an 11-game hitting streak.

Wednesday against Philadelphia, he singled in the winning run in the ninth and Thursday, after Ron Davis tied the game with a run-scoring single, Morgan came up with the winner.

"I thought I hit the ball good four times up tonight," Morgan exulted in the Astros' dressing room, "just that it was caught three times. I'm glad I saved the one that wasn't caught for the ninth."

The Braves got all their runs in the first inning, with Hank Aaron and Felipe Alou hitting homers that drove Sammy Ellis from the mound before he could get anybody out. Ken Johnson, 10-4, was the winner.

* *

Billy Cowan and Bobby Wine hit homers in Philadelphia's five-run third inning and Richie Allen got his third homer in as many days in the first. John Boozer went the distance to win his third game.

Jack Fisher, the sixth Mets' pitcher wild pitched Nate Oliver in with the winning run after the Mets had tied the score with a run in the ninth. Both teams scored three times in the eighth inning of the 3-hour, 50-minute contest.

County Golfers Slated to Play in U. S. Meet

Five Oakland County golfers are among seven from the state who'll be in the field of 150 gunning for the U.S. Junior Amateur Championship Tuesday at Twin Hills Golf and Country Club in Oklahoma City, Okla.

The juniors will play 18 holes Tuesday and close it with 18 on Wednesday.

* * *

* * *

Track Federation Meets Set at OU

Oakland University has announced the sponsorship of two Sunday evening U.S. Track Federation - sanctioned meets in September on its rugged two-mile cross country course.

Details of the two meets will be released next month.

OU coach Dick Robinson, also, has announced that the cross country course is now open to anyone who wishes to run in preparation for the upcoming fall season.

CIO 9 Keeps Playoff Hopes Alive in 'A'

Goldsworthy Posts 6-0 Win Over Defending City Champs

C.I.O.-594 avenged an earlier defeat Thursday night and kept alive its post-season Class A playoff hopes with a 6-0 conquest of Teamsters-614 at Jaycee Park.

The game—advanced to a 6 p.m. start due to the emergency city curfew—featured the two-hit hurling of veteran right-C.I.O. who posted his second shutout of the campaign.

Goldsworthy, in upping his record to 5-3 and the winners' log to 10-8, gained revenge for a 1-0 loss to the defending city champion earlier this season.

Consecutive singles by Leo Placencia, Tom McGee and Goldsworthy, plus an error, accounted for the game's initial run in the second inning.

McGee tripled home the second marker in the fourth; and then two errors, three walks and Dave Fagerlie's two-run double climaxed the run-making.

* * *

The defeat was the third in a row for the Teamsters (8-8) and leaves fourth-place Cranbrook (10-6) needing three wins in its last four games to clinch the last playoff berth. C.I.O. remained in sixth place, .003 behind Pass Excavating (9-7-1).

No Foe for Bout

GOTEBORD, Sweden (UPI)—Boxing promotors Ingemar Johansson and Bertil Knutsson said Thursday former world heavyweight champion Sonny Liston will not be on their Aug. 20 card in Sweden. They said they could not find an opponent for Liston, who won his last four fights in Sweden.

HIGH DIVER — Bernie Wrightson of Denver performs in the three-meter high platform diving of the Pan-American games in Winnipeg yesterday. He took the lead in the preliminaries and will attempt to win the championship in Saturday's finals. Young swimmers continued their assault on world records in yesterday's competition.

Swim Record Recognized

Teen Excites Pan-Am Officials

It took red-coated officials of the International Swimming Federation more than an hour to reach a decision on the 1:07.3 world record—or was it?—of Canada's amazing Elaine Tanner Thursday night in women's 100-meter backstroke final of the Pan-American Games swimming competition.

★ ★ ★

Elaine, only 16, finally got it. But don't blame them. Blame it on science—modern clocking devices which can now clock swimmers and runners at one-hundredths—and even one-thousandths—instead of one-tenth of a second.

★ ★ ★

The Pan-Am Games are using an involved electronic system as official timer for the swim competition. In the past, as in the Olympics, they've relied on manhandled stop watches, clocking to tenth of a second.

★ ★ ★

1:07.32.

LISTED RECORD

The listed world record was 1:07.4, by Anne Fairlie of South Africa.

Did Elaine have the record.

The loudspeaker announced at first that she did. Newsmen, who had been told of the new timing formula, stuck with the theory she only tied it.

★ ★ ★

Later when Elaine was presented her gold medal, the loudspeaker said she had broken both the Pan-Am and World Records.

"I think I have the record," Elaine, a tomboyish lass, said.

Max Ritter, founder and former president of the international federation, said, "It's a record. We chop off all fractions and stick with the tenth. Even if it had been 1:07.39, it would have reverted to 1:07.3."

"It's not a record," said Dr. Harold Henning, current president of the federation. "Once the device trips past a tenth of a second it goes to the next tenth."

★ ★ ★

Chaos reigned. The spectators went home not knowing whether their swim darling, Miss Tanner, did or did not have a record.

Finally, Henning summoned a news conference and said he had ruled hastily.

"It is a record," he said. "Under rule 60-B, where electrical timing devices are used we must go to the nearest tenth."

Junior 9's Make Haste for City Playoff Spots

The leading individual efforts were by the younger players while the older boys were scrapping for playoff positions Thursday in the city's junior baseball program.

★ ★ ★

Rochester clinched the favorite's role in the Class D double-eliminations by scoring four runs in the last of the sixth for a 5-4 victory over Clawson. Les Littlejohn singled home the tying marker and scored the winner.

In "E" National activity, the streaking T-Birds blew their chance to tie for the final playoff slot among the upper teams by losing to St. Michael, 12-2 — only the second win for the Mikemen.

Two no-hitters were recorded and both were by Widget B hurlers. Dave Chism posted nine strikeouts in winning a 19-1 verdict for the Pirates, and Ron Grubbs had 12 whiffs while pacing the Dodgers' 7-0 triumph with two hits at the plate.

Pros Tee Off in Best-Ball

Yankee Tournament Starts Today

The nation's top women golfers tee off today near Grand Blanc in the $25,000 Yankee Open, including the leading money winner on the LPGA tour the past two years, Kathy Whitworth.

Also expected to be on hand for the 54-hole, best-ball tournament was Mickey Wright. Miss Wright is the LPGA's all time leading money winner.

Paired with Miss Whitworth was Jeanette Rector while Miss Wright's partner was veteran Louise Suggs.

The three-day tournament also featured defending champions Gloria Ehret and Judy Kimball.

This fourth annual affair started out as the only best-ball meet on the LPGA tour. It was switched this year to the nine-hole Willowood layout from Atlas Valley Country Club.

The second round Saturday will be topped off with a $10,000 hole-in-one contest.

No one likes to go down at a slam contract but what players really hate is to get to that never-never land between game and slam and then go down one trick. There is no extra bonus for bidding and making five in a major or four five no-trump.

JACOBY

North's bidding is an excellent example of how you can hang your partner for having a bad hand. South was never given a chance to play at four hearts.

Fortunately for North, South was able to work out a play to make the five-heart contract.

His problem was to work out ways to get back to his own hand. He started his campaign by leading a low club from dummy at trick two. West's king took his queen. To this point West could have upset South's apple cart in several ways but he decided to lead a second spade. South ruffed with dummy's six and led a club to his jack.

Then he proceeded to ruff his last spade with the ace of hearts lead dummy's jack of hearts and overtake with his queen after East ducked.

The ten of hearts continuation took care of East's king. East led the queen of diamonds in the hope that South would try to cash dummy's ace of clubs, but South was not very bad. He really held a

He led dummy's last low club, ruffed, played out his trumps and made the last two tricks with dummy's ace of diamonds and ace of clubs.

How bad was North's bidding? Not very bad. He really held a terrific hand and South could have had more than he did.

Astrological Forecast

By SYDNEY OMARR
For Saturday

ARIES (Mar. 21 - Apr. 19): Be conservative where money affairs are concerned. Go slow. Applies also to driving, business transactions. Overcome temptation to throw out caution. Carelessness proves costly.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 - May 20): Resolve conflict between personal desires and actual requirements. Means some concession is necessary. Seeking perfection could lead to disappointment. Play waiting game.

GEMINI (May 21 - June 20): Day to consolidate forces, gains. Obtain from TAURUS message. Greatest strength is exhibited through calm demeanor. Avoid brooding. Look to future rather than past.

CANCER (June 21 - July 22): Be active in pursuit of hobbies. Gain indicated through recreation. Means advancement shown through pleasure. Need to relax is evident. Don't press issues.

LEO (July 23 - Aug. 22): New starts, contacts favored. Shake off any tendency to be discouraged. Conflict shown between home and professional duties. These resolved if you explain feelings, views.

VIRGO (Aug. 23 - Sept. 22): Bring forth creative resources. Plans, ideas can take form today. Respond with enthusiasm. One at a distance could provide needed information. Keep communication lines open.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 - Oct. 22): Don't commit yourself to definite course. Realize there are alternatives. Some who try to persuade you don't know it all. Realize this—wait for confirmation.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 - Nov. 21): Argument could help clear air if you don't hold grudge. Permit male or female full avenue of expression. Make gesture toward understanding. Don't puncture pride of loved one.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 - Dec. 21): Remember resolutions concerning health. Avoid extremes. Moderation should be keynoted. Significant change could occur connected with work, associates.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 - Jan. 19): Concentrate on domestic issues. Good lunar aspect coincides with rediscovery of loved ones. Give sufficient attention to youngsters. Keep promises to family members.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 - Feb. 18): In any affair at home be positive of safety measures. Check steps, electricity, other possible hazards. One you trust may appear irritable. This is but a temporary situation.

PISCES (Feb. 19 - Mar. 20): Relief of restriction is shown through short journey. Don't scatter forces. New-found freedom should be constructively utilized. Avoid argument with relative.

★ ★ ★

IF TOMORROW IS YOUR BIRTHDAY you are intuitive, sympathetic to needs of underdog. Would make fine teacher, social worker. Current cycle indicates dynamic changes—including marriage if you are single.

★ ★ ★

Priest Sentenced

TRAPANI, Sicily (UPI) — A court yesterday sentenced a Roman Catholic priest and four boatmen to prison for up to five years for negligence in the drowning of 17 of 100 boys they took on an outing. The boat they were riding in capsized.

White House Gets Jackie's Touches

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Some unfinished business from the Kennedy era is being accomplished this week at the White House.

New yellow silk damask drapes in a floral brocade design are being hung in the state dining room and the 35 gilded dining room chairs are being covered with yellow velvet. The work represents the finishing touches of a restoration project begun by Mrs. John F. Kennedy.

The White House Historical Association is financing the work through sales of its three guidebooks.

Stokely Barred

LONDON (UPI)—Britain will not allow American black power agitator Stokely Carmichael to visit this country again, Home Secretary Roy Jenkins said in the House of Commons yesterday. Carmichael visited here last week and advocated Negro violence and, said Jenkins, his presence "is not conducive to the public good."

Student Returns as Togo's Envoy

WASHINGTON (UPI)—In 1961, a young West African student left the United States after nine years of schooling to return to his native Togo and begin practice as a surgeon.

A Tale of Two Fishes

By JODY HEADLEE
Pontiac Press Garden Editor

Almost every fisherman has his vacation story about the "one who got away" but this is the tale of two who were caught.

"We got two," triumphantly heralded my three fishermen (one husband and two daughters) poking their sun-grilled noses in the back door.

"Dad says they're bullheads, "chimed Miss Twelve. Are they any good to eat? Will two be enough for all of us? Should we go back and get more? How can we keep them alive?"

WHOA

"Hold it," I said to our junior angler, displaying her first "keeper."

"Yes, they're good. No, two won't be enough. Yes, you better plan on another fishing trip. And, there's a bucket in the basement you can keep these two alive in."

Down went the fishing gear as she skidded on her enthusiasm toward the stairway, returning in a flash lugging an old washtub.

* * *

"Fine. Tuck the edge up under the faucet and let a trickle of water run in to keep up the oxygen supply or your fish will suffocate."

"I'm going to call them George and Sally," she said.

* * *

"I really don't care what you call them," I answered. "Just keep the tub bailed so that the water doesn't run over into the window well and basement."

LIFE SERENE

Two days passed with no incident marring George and Sally's "visit" — the water level in their galvanized guesthouse remaining constant thanks to the efforts of the tyro angler.

No two bullheads ever had a more attentive amah.

* * *

It was about 1 a.m., just as he snapped off the light and crawled into bed that I remembered.

"Jim."

"Yeh," he muttered sleepily.

* * *

"What about George and Salley?"

WHO?

"George and Sally?" he repeated, giving the blankets a tug as he settled into the mattress.

"Yes, George and Sally — our visiting bullheads — remember?"

"What about them?"

* * *

"You've got to bail them tonight or you'll be bailing the basement tomorrow morning."

From the explosion that followed I have an inkling how reporters felt at the nuclear spectacular on Bikini Atoll.

It was only when the angry sounds of dashed water punctuated the still night that I relaxed. Mission accomplished. Water level lowered.

* * *

"Tomorrow," I heard him mutter on the recoil. "You just wait until tomorrow."

THREATS FORGOTTEN

Tomorrow came and with Miss Twelve resuming her bailing duties, father forgot his threats.

In fact, no mention was made of our piscatorial playmates until just before suppertime.

"Mom. May I talk to you a minute?" came an earnest petition from our youngest.

* * *

"Sure, honey. What about?"

"George and Sally." I cringed remembering the previous night's spectacular.

"Well," she said, "I've been thinking . . . you know naming them and all . . . I don't think I could stand to have anyone kill them. She shuddered.

* * *

"And I know I couldn't eat them. Why, every forkful, I'd wonder, is this Sally or is it George?

PLEA

"Honest, Mom, I just couldn't do it. Do you suppose Dad would mind too much if I let them go?" Her lower lip hinted at a quiver and her eyes telegraphed shower warnings.

"I'm sure he wouldn't mind," I said, giving our pony-tailed fisherman a hug.

* * *

In no time, she was on the dock, bailing bucket and bullheads in hand. A quick splash, a wave to her freed charges and she turned shoreward.

"Hey, Dad," I heard her call, "Want to go fishing in the morning?"

"Have fun," I said to myself, "but this time you don't name them."

Summer Vacation for House Plants

No matter whether your house plants are plunged indoors in window box or planter soil or outdoors in garden soil, their roots need constant oxygen to keep growth healthy.

This life-giving air supply is provided by porous pots. That's one reason why professional growers of quality plants supply florists and garden centers with plants grown from the start in red clay pots.

* * *

Their porosity also safeguards against overwatering, common cause of house plant failure in other types of containers. U.S. Department of Agriculture experts advise clay for all plunged plants.

Mowing Perils to Be Avoided

Safe mowing is no accident. Clean your lawn of all foreign objects before mowing. Small sticks and stones can cause serious damage when picked up by the mower's blades.

Free Garden Film for Club Programs

With enthusiasm in home gardening gaining fresh impetus as each season rolls around, a lively and informative 15-minute, 16mm color motion picture called "A Green Thumb for Macauley" has been produced to tell how to plan and maintain a garden with a minimum of effort and a maximum of satisfaction.

The film is designed to save home owners a lot of time, disappointments and backaches and give them a full measure of gratification in landscaping beauty and garden production.

It gives advice on topics many gardeners may not have considered.

Dr. John Rebhan, noted landscape architect and horticulturist, was technical advisor on location and script which was also approved by leading garden clubs and horticulture societies.

★ ★ ★

The film is available free on a loan basis to women's clubs, garden clubs, PTA's and other educational, social and cultural froups from the American Society of Interior Design, 331 Madison Avenue, New York, N.Y. 10017.

Fine Fescue Favors Shade

Yes, lawn lovers, there are grasses tougher than crabgrass. And they're called fine fescues.

"Anyone looking for a rough, tough, enduring companion to Kentucky bluegrass for the really tough spots of shade and poor soil should consider these fescues," reports C. M. Harrison, Michigan State University crop scientist. "Not even crabgrass can hold up as well.

"Crabgrass likes good soil and has to have sun. Fertilizer meant for the lawn is just the addition to make crabgrass grow faster.

"But with the fine fescues — varieties such as Chewings, Creeping Red, Illahee and Pennlawn — poor soil, drought and shade are taken in stride."

★ ★ ★

Harrison explains that fine fescue is probably the one component of a lawn seed blend that really takes hold under the trees where there is not much moisture and the tree gets first crack at fertilizer.

COMBINATION

"The better lawn seed mixtures combine fine fescues and bluegrasses for a winning combination that eliminates all the niches in a lawn," says Harrison. "The fine fescues are especially important for the so-called 'shade mixtures.' "

Recent research has shown that fine fescues sprout fast, have seedling vigor, make a stand quickly and thrive in low fertilized areas.

"But they are not at their best where summers turn really hot, especially if they are mowed close," reminds Harrison.

"But for the northern half of the country, it's hard to find a better companion for Kentucky bluegrass than fine fescue."

Investigate Roots of New Plants

Roots of a mature plant in good condition will be vigorous and concentrated around the sides of the clay pot.

★ ★ ★

This means they are seeking water and air, which the porous pot permits to enter.

It won't hurt the plants generally, if you tap out the entire soil ball intact to look at the roots. But get permission first.

Crabgrass Is Sprouting

Any summer rain brings new, bright green plants of crabgrass to view in the lawn that was not treated with preemergence killer.

These plants grow from late-sprouting seeds and can be killed by using a postemergence killer.

Refuel Mower

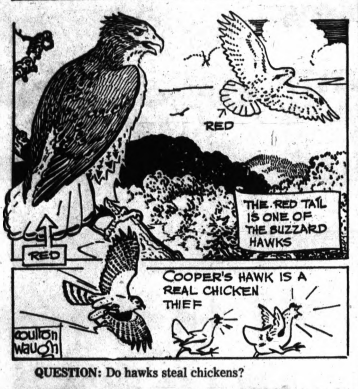
Junior Editors Quiz on HAWKS



QUESTION: Do hawks steal chickens?

ANSWER: It is often thought that all hawks are so destructive to poultry that they should be shot on sight. This is not true. There are two main groups of hawks — the buzzard hawks and the bird, or chicken hawks.

The red-tailed hawk belongs to the first group. A large, powerful bird, with a conspicuous red tail, it often soars in the sky and is easily seen by the farmer, who may imagine it is after his chickens.

But the food of this bird, like other buzzard hawks such as the red-shouldered, and rough-legged, consists largely of mice, reptiles and insects. They will only go after chickens if there is no other food to be found.

The chicken hawks are the ones that really do damage to the chickenyard. The sharp-shinned is the smallest of this group, which includes the middle-sized Cooper's hawk and the larger goshawk.

The chicken hawks fly low and are less conspicuous than the soaring buzzard hawks. So, while it is the chicken hawk who usually gets the chicken, it is the buzzard hawk who usually gets the blame.

Negroes Help Pittsburgh Avert Race Strife

But conversations ended in midsentence, and heads turned. A crowd was forming down the street.

Surrounded by the swelling crowd, two white patrolmen had arrested a Negro youth. They were waiting for a wagon, but it was slow in coming.

"What are you doing with him?" shouted the boy's father. "He ain't done nothing. Dirty cops!"

HELD BACK

There was a flurry of pushing and shoving. But neighbors held their friends back. The wagon arrived, and the youth was whisked away.

"The only thing that saved us was the cool heads in the crowd who brought the situation under control," Public Safety Director David Craig said later.

★ ★ ★

For although mobs have rampaged through nearly every major city in the country, the Steel City has been spared.

Why?

A Negro population splintered into three neighborhoods and separated by hills and rivers? Public officials who say they are trying to do something about civil rights? A police force that shattered the street gangs and hasn't let them come back? Just dumb luck?

Moving through the Hill District—a throbbing conglomeration of aging row houses, narrow cobblestone streets and abandoned store fronts overlooking the downtown business center—you can't get away from the quiet, steady job being done by the Negroes themselves, just as they stopped the north side fracas before it blew into a riot.

"I know plenty of kids who would love to have a riot so they could say, 'Yeah, we had a big riot in Pittsburgh. We're as hip as the young kids in Philly and Harlem.' "

★ ★ ★

That's Ken Garrison, 28, a YMCA employe talking. He's a slender, street worker who preaches "Black Dignity," one of the group working hard with members of their own race to eliminate the frustration, disappointment and squalor that spawn riots.

His day starts at the Center Avenue YMCA in his office, which has just a desk and a bare light bulb overhead. The phone rests on the floor.

After calling parents to set up appointments for the evening, he meets a group of teen-agers. They want to block off a street so younger children will have some place to play. He explains how.

"Then I just stroll the streets, observing, seeing who's going where," he says.

"About noon the teen-agers appear. I just watch the groups, not approaching them, just watching. I try to spot who the leaders are.

"I know off for awhile and then go back out in the evening. And this is when things get tough.

"I'm competing with the pushers. I'm competing with the pimps. I'm even competing with the junkies.

"I use these guys. I take a pimp into the back of a pool-room with the kids and have him tell what his life is like.

NEGATIVE ATTITUDE

"You can see the change in these kids. They see how this guy lives and take a negative attitude. Of course, it doesn't work with all of them."

"We place emphasis on education and employment," he says. "And we also place a great deal of emphasis on pride.

"We constantly preach blackness is beautiful to the kids. We place a lot of emphasis on their black heritage.

"When I lived there, it was a slum," he observes. "Now it's a ghetto."

Recently he worked up a plan which got the commission a $48,000 federal grant to train policemen to deal with community tensions.

"Most of the riots we've had in the United States have been precipitated by action by the police," he says. "We are trying to help them be more understanding, to treat people as individuals."

★ ★ ★

Byrd Brown, a lawyer who's president of the local National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, says he doesn't know whether there are any object lessons here for other cities.

★ ★ ★

"We have no problems meeting with the power structure," he says. "They react to crisis situations instead of their necks getting stiff and red. In some places they won't even sit down with you."

HARD TO PROD

He says Pittsburgh Negroes can be difficult to prod into action.

"For one thing, we have percentage-wise a lower Negro population than most other urban centers.

"And we haven't had much immigration from the South. When people have been in the same place for a long time they form an attachment for it and tend to accept things.

"I can only keep up enthusiasm in one area at a time. For the past few years the critical area was employment. Now it's housing and education."

Brown says there is another factor damping Negro militancy in Pittsburgh.

"We've had some Negroes—usually the more aggressive, intelligent ones—who have made a place for themselves. So there's some hope.

Japanese Solidify Plans for Large N-Accelerator

By Science Service

WASHINGTON — The Japanese have shifted into high gear in the high-energy physics race.

Along with the United States, Russia and a European consortium, the Japanese have solidified plans for a new accelerator larger than any now in use.

At a power of 40-billion electron volts, it will be overshadowed eventually by the 70-bev machine the Russians expect to unveil this fall, the 200-bev accelerator planned by the U.S. and a proposed 300-bev machine to be built under the auspices of a multinational group like CERN, the European Council for Nuclear Research.

The Japanese, to insure that their physicists have a stake in the accelerator-based race to the heart of matter, have included a start on a 40-bev machine in their current budget.

Nuclear accelerators are the costly machines — $2 per thousand electron volts of energy — with which physicists learn about the particles and forces at work within an atom's nucleus.

Japan, so far, has set aside $1.4 million for design and engineering on the 40-bev machine, which will take between four and six years to build, and cost some $80 million. Each year, it will require another $14 million to operate.

So far, the biggest accelerator in the world is the 33-bev machine at Brookhaven, N.Y., followed closely by the 28-bev accelerator run in Geneva by CERN.

The massive American 200-bev machine, expected to cost $400 million, is scheduled to be built at Weston, Ill.

★ ★ ★

10 LOCATIONS VYING

The Japanese accelerator will be a quarter mile in diameter, compared to one mile for the 200-bev and 1.4 miles for the 300-bev.

A site selection problem facing Japanese scientists is the high population density in Japan, ruling out many sites, and the fact that so much Japanese geology is affected by the earthquake belt around the Pacific Ocean, in which Japan lies.

WESTMORELAND of VIETNAM

The "Howitzer" yearbook of West Point carries a phrase about the first captain and regimental commander of the 1936 class—". . . his determination (just glance at that chin) has well suited him for the position as leader . . ."

This early judgment of William Childs Westmoreland has held true. Four-star General Westmoreland has achieved an enviable reputation as top American military man in Vietnam.

The ruggedly handsome 53-year-old general, born in Spartansburg, S.C., on March 26, 1914, attended Citadel College before his appointment to West Point. Commissioned a second lieutenant in field artillery, he was assigned to a regiment of horse-drawn 75 mm. guns at Fort Sill, Okla. Prior to World War II, he spent a stint with the artillery in Hawaii and Fort Bragg, N.C.

During the war he commanded artillery units in North Africa, the invasion of France, across Belgium and finally into Germany. His 34th Artillery Battalion was awarded the Presidential Unit Citation for combat in the Tunisian campaign.

Following war's end, Westmoreland's career added wings when he earned his parachute and glider badges with the 82nd Airborne Division. He was chief of staff with this celebrated unit for three years, then became an instructor at the Army War College, Fort Leavenworth, Kansas and Carlisle Barracks, Pa.

Korean action as commander of the 187th Airborne Regimental Combat Team brought Westmoreland his first star, at the age of 38, as well as the Distinguished Unit Citation from the Republic of Korea. It was also in 1953 that he was awarded the Master Parachute Badge. The next ten years the general saw duty in the Pentagon, became the youngest major general at 42 years old, headed up the famous "Screaming Eagles" 101st Airborne Division, was appointed superintendent of the U.S. Military Academy and then commanding general of the Army's XVIII Airborne Corps.

In January, 1964, Westmoreland became deputy commander of the U.S. Military Assistance Command in Vietnam. Eight months later, he took over as commander. His last three years in Vietnam, as well as those since his West Point graduation, are strong testimony to the square-jawed determination of General William Childs Westmoreland.

Despite Profit Taking

Mart Maintains Modest Gain

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market maintained a modest advance early Friday afternoon despite preweekend profit taking.

Newspaper surveys showing the decline in second quarter and first half earnings from a year ago brought no big surprise. The fact that businessmen indicated they expect a continued decline in the third quarter, however, tended to dampen enthusiasm.

Steels, motors and nonferrous metals were mostly higher.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 1.0 at 339.0 with industrials up 2.1, rails up .1 and utilities up .5.

Sperry Rand, up a fraction, continued to pace the list on volume. It has declared its first cash dividend since 1960.

Olin Mathieson spurted 4 points. Olin said it would spin off its drug subsidiary, E.R. Squibb, and merge it with Beech-Nut.

First Western Financial dived more than a point—a big loss percentagewise for this low-priced stock. The New York Exchange said it had moved to suspend trading in the issue effective Aug. 7.

★ ★ ★

Prices were mostly higher on the American Stock Exchange. Sperry Rand warrants were fractionally higher as the continued active, mirroring the performance of the Sperry common on the Big Board.

★ ★ ★

Legislators Eye State Riot Aid

Leaders Willing to Dip Into Budget Surplus

LANSING (AP) — Legislative leaders are willing to dip into Michigan's meager anticipated budget surplus to help the state's battered cities repair their riot damages.

House Speaker Robert Waldron, R - Grosse Pointe, said he and Senate Majority Leader Emil Lockwood, R - St. Louis, will introduce next week a resolution allowing state agencies to extend needed aid to violence-ripped communities.

★ ★ ★

The Legislature could later pass supplemental appropriations to the agencies to cover the unexpected cost, Waldron noted.

House Democratic Leader William Ryan, whose home town of Detroit suffered an estimated $500 million damages in four days of vandalism and arson, said Democrats would support the relief measures.

ANTIRIOT LAWS

Waldron also said new antiriot laws are needed in Michigan, but added they should not be passed hastily.

"It would be a mistake to enter into panic legislation," the legislation," the speaker said. "We'll begin a study of possible law changes now for possible action later this year."

Needed, Waldron said, are new laws covering gun controls and housing shortages, and possibly others providing criminal penalties for rioters.

★ ★ ★

"This is not civil rights but civil disobedience, close to civil insurrection," he said. "New criminal statutes are needed to deal with it."

Rebels Seek to Ransom British Exec

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP) — A British oil chief was held under armed guard in the Biafran capital of Enugu today with a $10-million price on his head.

That is the amount in oil royalties that Biafran leader Col. Odumegwu Ojukwu wants from Shell-BP for the safe delivery of their managing director, Stanley Gray, 51. He is being held under house arrest at Enugu's Presidential Hotel.

★ ★ ★

According to reports reaching Lagos, Ojukwu sent word to Gray to go to Enugu for talks.

HOTEL SURROUNDED

With federal forces closing in on Enugu, the Nigerian radio said Thursday that Ojukwu was planning to flee the country.

★ ★ ★

Federal troops also were reported advancing toward Port Harcourt after seizing the Island of Bonny on the south coast.

Jim Parker, deputy British high commissioner in Enugu, has been instructed to make strong representations to Ojukwu about Gray's detention.

INCREASED ANXIETY

His seizure has increased anxiety here for 600 Britons believed to be still in Biafra.

A good many Britons, however, have been getting out over the last few days. It is estimated that there are about 300 remaining in the Ibo area of central Biafra which is most dangerous for whites.

There are an estimated 200 Americans still in Biafra along with 600 Irish and 300 British commonwealth citizens. Whites have been getting out by crossing the River Niger in canoes at Asaba, 300 miles east of Lagos.

Oil companies also are reported to be using their helicopters and boats to get their people away. The remaining whites have turned down opportunities to leave Biafra, defying advice from their embassies.

Triggered Protests Last Year

Food Prices Stir Gripes

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK — The rise in food prices now under way is taking on some of the characteristics that stirred up last year housewife protests against the nation's food stores.

CUNNIFF

Leading all price increases last month was the price of food. Fruits and vegetables were 3 per cent higher than in May, and poultry and fish prices showed increases of just slightly less.

★ ★ ★

As if this wasn't bad news enough, rising wholesale prices bar any optimistic hopes that the increase will level off next month.

ROUTINE INCREASES

Almost all consumers seem able to tolerate with a frustrated grumble the routine increases in the cost of living. To many people, higher prices seem almost inevitable.

★ ★ ★

"It is when the high costs are most pronounced in the food sector, the area of greatest consumer spending, that the ineffective grumbling becomes active protest.

Unlike clothing, which may be purchased for a season, food usually is purchased in small quantities. It is a repetitive activity, and so price increases have multiple exposure.

But there is more to it than that. The great consuming public once was a disorganized mass. Now it is threaded together by various consumer groups and has found a sympathetic ear and even leadership in Washington.

LESS PREDITABLE

Other factors are at work also. The food consumer is constantly changing his habits as the variety of choices grows. He is, perhaps, less predictable. At least you may judge so by the number of studies now being conducted.

Columbia University, for instance, is in the midst of what it claims is the largest basic study of consumer behavior ever undertaken in the United States, with information being gathered on the habits of 7,000 housewives.

The University of Michigan, which regularly surveys consumer confidence, also is studying the role of the consumer in the economy through a $200,000 Ford Foundation grant.

This week the National Industrial Conference Board—nonprofit, largely business supported—completed a study on how familes spend. It discovered a hint of why some housewives are more activist than before. A third of consumer buying, it said, is now represented by families with a working wife.

HOMEMAKER DISTRESS

As in the past, much of this homemaker distress over rising food prices might lead to the usual reactions: more shopping for bargains, buying of lower-priced meats, enunciations of shopping games and trading stamps.

A good deal of the resentment will be reflected at the retail outlet, the contact point between the purchaser and the food industry, although rising costs often are not the retailer's fault.

In response, you may expect the retailers to countercharge that the American family today spends a smaller percentage of his income on food than ever.

There can be no quibbling with this percentage. In 1966, only 24.5 per cent of personal consumption spending was for food, beverages and tobacco. A century ago the percentage was well over 50. It has fallen steadily.

Are the food producers, processors and retailers justified in taking credit for this decline? The answer is that, to some extent, they may have taken a bit too much credit.

The real explanation is found in the nation's rising productivity. Take-home pay today is larger almost every year. The food percentage has dropped, not just because food might be a bargain, but because incomes are rising.

Women Plan War on Laws

Old Job Legislation Called Anachronistic

NEW YORK (AP) — Determined business and professional women are declaring war on what they call outmoded state laws that once perhaps protected the frail working girl, but now actually stand between her and getting ahead in her job.

★ ★ ★

The 5,000 members and delegates who attended the annual convention of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, Inc., which ends today with a national board of directors meeting, are returning home armed with strategy and ammunition.

★ ★ ★

The women plan a state by state mop-up operation on laws that limit the number of hours a woman can work, require special rest and meal periods for her, prohibit her working in specified fields, such as bartending or around mines, or limit the amount of weight she may lift on the job.

PROTECT WOMEN

Such statutes originally was enacted to protect women from exploitation and industrial hazard. Today, however, the business women contend, the conditions which gave rise to the laws are no longer in existence.

★ ★ ★

Now all the laws do is bar a woman from a wide variety of jobs or preclude her from supervisory positions which may require nightwork or overtime work occasionally.

★ ★ ★

"Every state but Delaware today has on its statute books some form of legislation that limits the ability of women to compete equally for jobs," said outgoing BPW President Sarah Jane Cunningham. "This is anachronistic in today's society and these laws must be overturned."

British Steel Industry Is Nationalized

LONDON (AP) — Britain's major steel companies came under government ownership today facing hard times at home and fierce competition abroad.

Nationalization of 14 companies producing 90 per cent of Britain's steel was completed without fanfare or celebration after a political argument between Conservative and Labor parties that dragged through two election campaigns. Parliament passed the nationalization bill last winter after one of the longest committee debates on record.

The new organization, to be called the British Steel Corporation, is one of the world's largest industrial groups. Its plants are valued at $3.92 billion and its annual sales at more than $2.8 billion. It has more than 270,000 employes.

This is the second time British steel has been nationalized. The first postwar Labor government took over all 92 iron and steel companies in 1951, giving stockholders total compensation of 213 million pounds—$596.4 million. The Conservatives turned them back to private hands.

TOTAL COST

This time compensation is estimated at 500 million pounds —$1.4 billion—in government bonds.

★ ★ ★

The big nationalized companies have not all been moneymakers. Some are too far from deepwater harbors to take advantage of large ore tankers. Their total profits after taxes last year were only about 9 million pounds—$25.2 million.

Successful Investing

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q) "In six or eight years, our two children should be entering college. We own our home and have ample insurance and savings and $5,000 to invest. This we need to increase considerably. We have been advised to buy Ramada Inns and are also considering airlines. Which of the latter appears to have the best growth prospects?" T. Y.

A) In few areas has the impact of inflation been so strongly felt as in the cost of education. You have selected two growing sectors of the economy to enhance your capital and I will suggest a third.

Ramada Inns, as now constituted, has a good though relatively short record of growth. I like the stock, but in some respects I prefer Holiday Inns which is more broadly based and appears to have a stronger outlook. I suggest that you buy a few shares of each.

My sole recommendation in the airline group is Pacific Southwest. This company operates entirely within the state of California and is not subject to federal regulation. Finally, I would take a long look at Becton, Dickinson, showing a powerful growth trend in disposable medical equipment.

Q) "Would you suggest an annuity for a widow of my age—71? I would be willing to invest 10 to 15 thousand dollars. I have other income which I want to increase." M. C.

A) If you are not concerned with leaving an estate, I strongly recommend a straight life annuity. Monthly guaranteed income at your age would be higher from this source than from any other safe form of investment. I believe that some of your other income should be derived from good common stocks which would give you a measure of inflation protection. You should also retain a savings reserve sufficient to tide you over all emergencies.

Two Burglars Are Sentenced

Arrests 2 Years Ago Set Off Legal Fight

Two years after they were arrested fleeing from a burglary of a Huntington Woods home, two men were sentenced yesterday in Oakland County Circuitt Court by Judge James S. Thorburn.

* * *

The case had received widespread publicity because of accusations that the case had been delayed in getting to trial.

Then last month, after long legal hassles that went all the way to the Michigan Supreme Court, the men, Harvey (Raffles of Hollywood) Allen, 40, of Oak Park and Charles Fields, 41, of Detroit pleaded guilty to a reduced count of larceny from a building.

Allen was sentenced to 2 to 4 years in the state prison at Jackson for his part in the burglary, and Fields was placed on five years probation and ordered to serve the first 30 days in the Oakland County Jail.

* * *

Fields also was ordered to pay court costs of $500.

IMPROPER DRAFT

Last September Thorburn declared a mistrial during their jury trial after it was brought to his attention that the information defining the charges was improperly drafted.

* * *

The mistrial set off a feud between Thorburn and Oakland County Prosecutor S. Jerome Bronson who had been accused publicly that he had delayed getting the case to trial.

* * *

Bronson attempted to have Thorburn disqualified from hearing the case, saying the judge was prejudiced toward his office in the matter, but all his appeals were rejected.

Land Issue Is Settled for 2 School Districts

By DICK ROBINSON

Residents of a portion of southeastern White Lake Township never give up. Their protests yesterday reversed an election decision on where their children will go to school.

Developed residential property south of Elizabeth Lake Road and west of Williams Lake Road is being returned to the Waterford Township School District.

That was the decision reached yesterday by the oakland Schools intermediate school district at a public hearing.

Waterford Township's Board of Education had petitioned Oakland Schools to return some 400 acres of land to their district.

* * *

LAND TRANSFERRED

The property in question was transferred from Waterford Township to Walled Lake along with the Dublin district in a plan submitted to the voters last October by the County School District Reorganization Committee.

* * *

CHILDREN RETURN

Dr. Don O. Tatroe stated these reasons for wanting to keep the land in a two-year squabble:

- The people want to stay with Waterford.
- Space is still available in Waterford schools.
- Waterford schools are nearer.

* * *

- Waterford buses must continue to serve the area.
- Waterford does not want to lose the valuation.
- The homes in the area can be served as part of Waterford's long-range school development plan.

* * *

- Questionable legal practices were observed.
- School boundary adjustments should be made on an objective basis. The residents of this area feel they became "pawns" in the game of combining Dublin with Walled Lake.
- The property is contiguous to the Waterford district.

* * *

Walled Lake Supt. George G. Gaver said the request for transfer should be denied for the following reasons:

- "The Waterford Board of Education when not faced with concerted opposition by the people in question actually supported (the merger).

* * *

- The issue was resolved by the "ultimate authority in any democracy" — an election.

* * *

- "Any attempt to piecemeal the decision as made by the voters will, in fact, change the intent and direction already established by the Michigan Legislature."

* * *

Tatroe accused Walled Lake of just wanting "the money" involved in an equalized tax evaluation of $4.2 million on the land.

License Plate Revenue Is Up

LANSING (AP)—Secretary of State James Hare reports license plate revenue for the first seven months of the year is $474,000 above the same period last year. The Department of State collected $76.4 million during the period this year compared to $75.9 million at the same time last year.

Cyclist Killed

MONROE (AP) — A 16-year-old Monroe youth was killed Thursday night when he was struck from the rear by a car while riding his motorcycle on U.S. 25 two miles north of Monroe. Monroe County Sheriff's deputies said the victim, John W. Hoffman Jr., had no tail light on his cycle.

By 1965 there will be some 65 million air travelers, it is estimated.

County School Delegate to COG Unit Set

Herbert P. Sillman, vice president of the Oakland County Board of Education and a member of the Oak Park School Board, last night was selected as Oakland County's school representative on the executive committee of the Southeastern Michigan Council of Governments (COG).

Sillman, the senior partner in the Ferndale accounting firm of Sillman, Kleinman and Thal, was named at a meeting of school officials at the County Board of Education office.

His appointment rounds out the county's six-member delegation on the 33-member executive committee of COG.

The general council presently has representation from 153 governmental units in the six counties of Wayne, Oakland, Macomb, St. Clair, Washtenaw and Monroe.

* * *

Two alternates to Sillman also were named. The first is C. Henry Haberkorn III, treasurer of the Bloomfield Hills Board of Education. The other is Leland G. Clifford, a member of the Farmington Board of Education.

The five other county representatives are Delos Hamlin, David Levinson, L. Curtis Potter, Joseph Forbes and William L. Mainland.

Italians Reject German's Plea

FIVIZZANO, Italy (AP) — Two more Italian villages have voted not to forgive or free German Maj. Walter Reder whose troops slaughtered nearly 1,800 civilians in reprisal killings during World War II.

The inhabitants of Vinca and San Terenza Monti, in Northwest Italy, voted unanimously Thursday to reject Reder's plea. He asked for a pardon from his life sentence so that he could be with his aged mother, and the Interior Ministry asked for the public sentiment in the towns affected by his actions.

More than 300 residents of Vinca and San Terenzo were among the 1,800 Italians slaughtered by Reder's troops in 1944 in reprisal for partisan activities.

Another 300 were killed in the north central town of Marzabotto, whose residents voted July 16 to reject Reder's plea.

Ex-HUK Chief Asks Amnesty

MANILA (AP) — The former head of the communist HUK movement in the Philippines believes its present leaders can be won over under an amnesty plan proposed by President Ferdinand Marcos.

Luis Taruc said in an interview with the Manila Times he was certain at least 60 per cent of the HUK members "are loyal to me and I can win them over" under the amnesty.

Taruc, 54, who led the HUKs at the height of an armed rebellion in the late 1940's and early 1950's, surrendered to the late President Ramon Magsaysay in 1954. He is serving a prison sentence of 12 to 20 years.

Philippine Prison Bans Miniskirts

MANILA (UPI) — Wardens of the Philippine National Penitentiary announced today that wives and sweethearts visiting inmates will not be permitted to wear miniskirts.

A notice reporting the ban said women wearing the short skirts and "other provocative outfits" had caused disciplinary problems among prisoners.

Crash Kills Pair

GRAND FORKS, N.D. (AP)—A Michigan couple was killed in a traffic accident on U.S. 2 near here Thursday. Police say Ervin H. Eldred, 71, of Flint and his wife, Wilma, 66, died when their car collided with an earth mover.

LBJ Rebroadcast

SAIGON (AP) — President Johnson's address on racial violence in the United States was rebroadcast today for American servicemen in Vietnam over the armed forces radio network.

To Serve South Oakland County

New Health Center to Open

The $1-million facility, located on Greenfield between Catalpa and San Quentin, replaces the health centers in Royal Oak and Birmingham.

The two-story structure, containing 30,000 square feet of space, provides complete clinical facilities and office space for about 100 staff members.

The Royal Oak office had less than 8,000 square feet of usable space to house 64 full-time and 20 part-time employes.

The population of the area to be served by the new health center by 1970 has been estimated at 500,000.

NEW AREAS

New areas will also be added to those served in the past by the Royal Oak-Birmingham offices.

These will include the Northville, Novi and South Lyons areas as well as Bloomfield Township and Bloomfield Hills.

Dr. Frank J. Condon, assistant county health director, will be in charge of the new South Oakland Health Center.

* * *

Dr. Bernard D. Berman, county health director, said the date for the formal dedication of the center will be announced later.

Panel to Study Postage Hike

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Post Office Committee is due to consider next week legislation that would hike postage rates on first class letters and postcards to six cents an ounce.

The measure, approved by a House Post Office subcommittee Thursday, also would increase airmail letter and airmail postcard rates to 10 cents.

* * *

Present rate for first class letters is five cents an ounce, for postcards four cents, airmail letters eight cents and airmail postcards six cents.

The subcommittee also approved hikes in rates of second, third and fourth class postage, although not by the amount sought by President Johnson. It estimated the increases would add $25 million in Post Office Department revenues.

The measure would not require standard shapes and sizes of letters, as the administration had proposed.

2 UAW Locals in City Postpone Annual Picnic

The annual picnics planned by the labor unions at Pontiac Motor Division for Sunday and General Motors Truck and Coach Divisin for Aug. 5 have been postponed.

* * *

The civil disorder is blamed for both postponements.

* * *

Wayne Anable, president of Local 653 at Pontiac Motor, said that the picnic will be held at a future date to be announced later.

Indonesian Red Sentenced to Die

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Indonesia's top surviving Communist, Sudisman, was sentenced to death by a military tribunal Thursday night for involvement in the attempted Communist coup in October 1965.

Frail and bespectacled, Sudisman had been No. 5 man in the Indonesian Communist party—PKI. He rose to the top as other leaders were caught or killed.

* * *

He testified that the coup was supported by the PKI only after it had been conceived by dissident young army officers. Sudisman acknowledged that he was to head a Red underground and said calmly, "I know I will be found guilty and executed."

U.S. Condemns the Use of Poison Gas in Yemen

By the Associated Press

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has condemned the reported use of poison gas in Yemen as "inhuman and entirely contrary to the laws of nations."

* * *

State Department press officer Robert J. McCloskey also said Thursday the United States would support any international action dealing with the problem.

* * *

But he declined to confirm that the United States is satisfied with charges that Egyptian troops used the poisonous gas in supporting the Yemeni Republican regime in the five-year-old civil war.

"We continue to be deeply disturbed by Yemeni reports on the use of poisonous gas against civilians in the Yemen war, reports that hundreds had been killed and many others gravely affected," McCloskey told a news conference.

He added that the United States has no reason to doubt a June 2 announcement by the International Committee of the Red Cross saying a Red Cross medical team had found "various indications pointing to the use of poison gas bombs" in the Yemen war.

ACCUSED OF KILLINGS — William Dale Archerd, 55, a hospital attendant, was arrested near Los Angeles yesterday on suspicion of murdering two of his seven wives and a 15-year-old boy. A Grand Jury triple indictment accused him of injecting overdoses of insulin.

Nature Center Schedules Open House

The Drayton Plains Nature Center will hold an open house for the public from 6 to 8 p.m. Thursday.

The nature center is located at 2125 Denby near Hatchery Road in Waterford Township.

Slides donated by Perry J. Reynolds of Detroit will be shown and refreshments will be served at the open house.

Herley Moore, director of the summer program at the educational facility, and art instructor Mrs. Dee Lommerson will be on hand to meet the public.

* * *

Among recent acquisitions at the center are new glass display cases, animals, birds, and equipment, power tools and flytying vises purchased by Waterford Township police for $500.

Commons Okays Forces Pullout

LONDON (AP) — Despite abstentions by dissident Laborites, the House of Commons Thursday night endorsed the Labor government's long-range plan to pull British forces out of Southeast Asia in the next decade.

The new defense policy will cut all British forces by one-fifth, halve forces in Singapore and Malaysia by the early 1970s and close down Southeast Asia bases by the mid-1970s. It was approved 297-230, short of Labor's full-strength 96-vote margin.

Riot Victim Aid

The articles will be distributed through the Republican Community Center in Detroit.

Death Claims Store Owner

Maurice H. Liptzer, owner and operator of Highland Department Store, Waterford Township, and Shelby Variety Store, Utica, died yesterday. He was 52.

* * *

Service will be 11 a.m. tomorrow at the A.H. Peters Funeral Home, Detroit, with burial there in Forest Lawn Cemetery.

Liptzer, of Detroit, is a member of the Lutheran Church and the Kiwanis and Lions clubs.

Bomb Shelter Important in Architecture

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (UPI) —While most of the public has lost its interest in fallout shelter the later still play a major part in the designing of public buildings, according to the Department of Architectural Engineer-University.

★ ★ ★

The Department's Shelter Research and Study Program continues to be active with sponsorship from the Office of Civil Defense.

★ ★ ★

Staff members meet with such potential clients as school board church groups, and civic leaders throughout the commonwealth.

★ ★ ★

The department feels that if the over-all design of a new building is "slanted" in the earliest planning stages, fallout protection can be provided with no strain on the construction budget.

House to Probe Radiation in TVs

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A House Health and Welfare subcommittee is planning an investigation of alleged radiation exposure from color television sets.

★ ★ ★

Rep. John Jarman, D-Okla., chairman of the panel, told the House yesterday that the recent recall of 9,000 color TV sets because they were emitting excessive X rays "brought to light the need for a searching inquiry."

It is estimated that the population of the Philippines will reach the 100 million mark by the turn of the century.

Onetime Copa Chorine Falls for the Thrills of Skydiving

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — A beautiful girl approached me in the shortest mini-skirt I'd seen so far — or that far — and said, "I've turned skydiver . . . I love it . . . It's like a bird lying on the clouds . . . I'd pawn my jewerly to pay for my jumps."

WILSON

"Who pays you to do this?" I asked Linda.

"Who pays ME?" Linda was stunned at my stupidity. "Listen, I'm hooked on this. My equipment cost me $600, the first jump was $35. That's why I'm broke. Do you know anybody who wants to finance my jumping?" I was afraid I didn't.

She had been riding jumping horses. Somebody said that was childish. If she wanted to risk her neck, why not really risk it?

"I did it as a dare the first time" — out at Lakewood, N. J. "Now I just have to have it to live."

"Here's my jump book." She handed me a log of her leaps. "You see, I'm hung up on it."

She explained some amusing terminology. "Most women have a weak exit." ("They're not strong enough to push off from the plane with their chute on.") "Once I fell on my reserve" (Her reserve chute.)

★ ★ ★

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Lynda Bird Johnson, George Hamilton and her 3 U.S. "security men" and U.S. chauffeur, helped her have fun in London at a party Sammy Davis gave at London's hot spot, La Terraza, and later at the Mayfair Hotel where he shows pictures . . . Sammy's co-hero Peter Lawford in "Salt & Pepper" will remain in London to film "Bueno Sera, Mrs. Campbell" . . . Gene Cavallero Jr. reopened the Colony here, the really chic hors d'oeuvre was chilled haricots de Lima — Lima beans!

Hugh O'Brian's modestly rehearsing for the national company of "Cactus Flower" following his return from "Guys & Dolls" in Vietnam . . . Elaine Malbin, the opera star, is marrying George Emanuel, the electronist.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: A movie producer said it. "I hate outdoor grills. I wouldn't have one in my house."

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Nowadays some girls are long on looks, and short on skirts.

REMEMBERED QUOTE: "Money lent to a friend must be recovered from an enemy."

EARL'S PEARLS: "Is it permissible," Art Paul asked a waiter, "for me to order the Businessman's Special lunch, now that I'm retired?"

LBJ Creates Panel to Probe Riots

Taylor Taking Steps on Negro Grievances

By BOB WISLER

After meeting yesterday afternoon with 14 young Negroes, Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. indicated he is taking steps to determine if, and how, their grievances can be settled or alleviated.

In addition to discussing three points presented to him yesterday morning, Taylor was asked to go over a variety of other complaints.

Taylor said he will meet with the group again Aug. 3 to further discuss the issues.

The meeting yesterday was arranged by Marie Johnson, a local bondswoman, and Albert Shaw, a Pontiac teacher, who are part of a group working to keep peace in troubled Negro neighborhoods.

THREE POINTS

The three points that Taylor was asked to discuss originally were:

- Release of all youths arrested (during the outbreak Monday night and Tuesday morning) on their personal recognizance.
- Some immediate prefabricated houses to relocate people in the Crystal Beach housing development.

- Removal of State Rep. Arthur J. Law's grocery store, 200 Earlmoor, from the neighborhood.

Taylor said that, by previous action and by coincidence, progress had been made on the latter two points.

He said that he could take no action to release any prisoners but will attempt to set up a meeting Monday between the Oakland County prosecutor's office, Municipal Judge Cecil McCallum, Director of Law Sherwin Birnkrant and Wallace LeLay, attorney representing the group.

"The government is divided into three branches, the executive, the legislative and the judicial, and one doesn't tell the other what to do," he said.

The mayor said he would attempt only to arrange the meeting.

TOUR CRYSTAL BEACH

Taylor said he will tour the Crystal Beach development Tuesday and will, if invited, inspect the inside of the homes there.

He said the city has long recognized the development as an undesirable area

Johnson Urges U.S. to Pray for Harmony

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, proclaiming this Sunday a national day of prayer for racial peace, has created an 11-member commission to search out causes of rioting — and to suggest ways to avoid it in the future.

Johnson, center of a political storm touched off by pillage, arson and murder in Detroit, gave his views on mounting racial violence in a television—radio address from his White House office last night.

Speaking deliberately and emphasizing his points, he said what happened in Detroit was not part of any civil rights protest.

He said: "This is crime — and crime must be dealt with forcefully, swiftly, certainly — under law . . . The criminals who committed these acts of violence must be stopped: quickly, finally and permanently."

See Stories, Page B-4

Johnson announced that to bolster the nation's law enforcement for this effort, all National Guard units will be given intensified riot control training.

The chief executive, formally proclaiming Sunday a day of prayer, urged "citizens in every town and in every city and in every home in the land to go into their churches — pray for order and reconciliation among men."

Johnson began his carefully rehearsed address by saying, "We have endured a week such as no nation should live through: a time of violence and tragedy."

GOV. OTTO KERNER

Then he announced appointment of a special Advisory Commission on Civil Disorders to investigate origins of urban riots and recommend solutions to the White House, Congress, state governors and mayors.

Democratic Gov. Otto Kerner of Illinois will be chairman. Mayor John V. Lindsay of New Yrok will be vice chairman.

Johnson, blamed for the riots by the Republican Coordinating Committee, hit back at GOP Congress members who have opposed his social legislation — legislation he said would help root out "the conditions that breed despair and violence."

700 in Florida Flee Gas Fumes

LEESBURG, Fla. (UPI) — About 700 persons fled their homes today when a railroad tank car began leaking deadly chlorine gas fumes.

Sound trucks drove through this central Florida city of 16,000, warning all residents to be prepared to evacuate in case of a wind shift, but only families near the railroad car were immediately evacuated.

Leesburg Fire Chief Bunny Stevens said there was "no immediate danger. We're trying to lessen the danger to all citizens."

★ ★ ★

Stevens said a Seaboard Coast Line Railroad crew from Wildwood, Fla., was sent to the scene with an engine to move the tank car out of the area.

"The only trouble is," Stevens said, "Where in the hell do you move it to?"

Spending Cuts Could Offset Need for Tax Boost -- Ford

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Republican leader Gerald R. Ford says deep cuts in federal spending on space, public works and foreign aid would offset any need for a tax hike this year.

★ ★ ★

The cuts can be made in defense as well as nondefense spending, Ford said, in reiterating his oppostion to the six per cent income tax surcharge proposed by President Johnson.

In response to questions from the Associated Press, Ford stated, "The Congress and the President, working together, can surely achieve whatever spending cutbacks are necessary to match the revenue which might be obtained through a tax increase.

"To date, the only definite surtax figure we have heard from the President is six per cent. The administration has estimated the revenue from imposition of a six per cent surtax on income taxes at $4.5 billion to $5 billion.

Ford continued, "I feel certain that federal spending can be cut sufficiently to offset the President's demand for additional revenue in that amount.

- "The House has already cut presidential appropriation requests by $3.47 billion. Additional cuts will be made in the remaining appropriation bills. If the Senate will act accordingly," Ford said, "the Congress can reach the $4.5 billion to $5 billion goal I cited.

"I believe the space, public works, foreign aid and military construction programs and non-Vietnam defense items can stand substantial cuts. There is nothing sacred about the man-to-the-moon timetable, and many public works projects could be deferred at least a year without harm."

Cavanagh Unhurt

Mayor Near Shots

DETROIT (AP) — Optimism for racial peace spread through the rubbled streets of Detroit today despite isolated incidents, including one that brought Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh under fire.

The mayor, 39, escaped unhurt and apparently unperturbed from the only significant incident on the quietest night since racial terror erupted five days ago.

On a tour of the near west side, the mayor's car drove unsuspecting into an intersection where an armored personnel car and two squads of police were attacking an apartment house with rifles and tear gas.

The attack answered four or five shots from what appeared to be a 22-caliber rifle.

No more than a dozen shots were fired in all, and no one was injured. The sniper or snipers slipped away.

★ ★ ★

The incident followed orders for National Guardsmen and police to keep weapons unloaded unless fired upon, an order that went largely ignored in the still-tense main riot area of the west side, three miles from downtown.

It was one of but five incidents to disrupt the calmest night since sacking and burning by wild Negro mobs touched off the costliest riot in American history.

Thirty-nine have died, four more than perished in Los Angeles' Watts in 1965. A Negro wounded Tuesday when he reportedly tried to run a roadblock died today.

Gov. George Romney reimposed the 9 p.m. curfew after having withdrawn it for a few hours yesterday. One reason was to keep sightseers out of the stricken areas. Another, a city official said, was because of "community pressures" for protection.

★ ★ ★

Fire Chief Charles J. Quinlan toured the riot areas and estimated property damage by the 1,300 fires set since Sunday would exceed $250 million. The Detroit Chamber of Commerce estimated another $500 million lost in retail business sales and workers' wages.

Pontiac Div. Ends 2nd-Biggest Year

Pontiac Motor Division will end production of its 1967 models today with 817,826 cars being assembled during the model year. This marks the second biggest production year in Pontiac's history and the third model year in a row that production has exceeded 800,000 cars.

The 1967 total includes 434,197 Pontiacs, 301,069 Tempests and 82,560 Firebirds, which have just been in production since January.

The majority of Pontiac's 16,500 production employes will be laid off for a short period of inventory.

After completion of this inventory, production of parts for the 1968 model run will begin on a gradual basis.

At Least Through Weekend

City Keeps Curfew

By MEL NEWMAN

Although Pontiac has passed its third consecutive peaceful night following the civil violence earlier in the week, the city will remain on curfew from 9 p.m. to 5:30 a.m. at least through the weekend, according to police officials.

Restrictions on the sale of gasoline and the ban on sales of alcoholic beverages will remain in effect, they said.

Arrests last night were primarily for violations of curfew — 22 — while two persons were taken into custody on charges of carrying concealed weapons.

City curfew violators who have pled guilty have received sentences of five days or a $50 fine.

Hearings are pending on others.

An aura of tension still prevails at police headquarters, command post for the eight law enforcement departments which faced vandals Monday night and early Tuesday.

Officials there reemphasized that they are maintaining a state of maximum preparedness and will do so until they are assured conditions have relaxed.

No manpower statistics were released by police, though one officer said "We're ready for anything."

Curfews Likely to Stay Through the Weekend

Pontiac and surrounding area residents can expect the 9 p.m. to 5:30 a.m. curfews to remain in effect through the weekend, according to police officials. Most area communities are following curfew policies of Pontiac.

Ship Activation Eyed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Pentagon officials are indicating a just-completed study will recommend that the mothballed battleship New Jersey be returned to service for duty in Vietnam.

This will leave the decision on recommissioning the ship up to Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara, who is expected to make his ruling soon.

Showers Are Possible Through This Evening

There's a chance of thundershowers this afternoon and early evening with skies continuing partly cloudy through the night. Rainfall last night measured three-tenths of an inch.

Temperatures will all into the low 60s tonight and rise to near 80 tomorrow.

Precipitation probabilities in per cent are: today 30, tonight 20, tomorrow 20.

The low in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. was 65. The 1 p.m. reading was 76.

Congress Applauds LBJ's Riot Group, Eyes Other Probes

WASHINGTON (AP) — While Congress applauded President Johnson's creation of a federal riot investigating committee, there were indications today its own initial legislative response to the nation's rash of disorders could come next week.

Johnson's anticrime bill was put in position for House consideration next week and could become the vehicle for amendments aimed at riot-causing conditions.

★ ★ ★

Though praising the blue-ribbon riot commission, Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield said he didn't think it would end pressures on Capitol Hill for a separate congressional probe of big city riots.

One senator who flew to the Detroit riot area Wednesday, Republican Robert P. Griffin of Michigan, said here Johnson's appointment does not eliminate the need for a congressional investigation.

Mansfield said the commission is "the best way to face up" to violence in America and "would be, I would hope, above suspicion of partisan politics in any way whatsoever."

Republican Senate leader Everett M. Dirksen said he hoped the commission would "move with real dispatch." He said Johnson "has picked pretty good people."

"I agree with his making clear first that lawlessness and violence cannot be tolerated or condoned in our society. I agree with his statement of his continuing conviction that despite the tragic riots we must move with urgency to make equality of opportunity real for all Americans," Harris said.

'MUST REVIEW LAWS'

House GOP leader Gerald R. Ford endorsed Johnson's objectives and said the commission "must review the impact of recent judicial decisions in handicapping law enforcement and the immediate need for legislative action to penalize professional agitators who have aroused a hoodlum element in many of these affected communities."

Chairman John L. McClellan, D-Ark., of the Senate permanent investigations subcommittee said that, except for creation of the commission, "It's the same old story — just spend more money."

The Senate and House planned to move forward with a batch of riot-connected plans ranging from relief measures for heavily damaged cities to probes of possibly subversive influences in the uprisings.

And Sen. Thruston B. Morton, R—Ky., criticized both the GOP and the President for what he said were attempts to turn the rioting to partisan political advantage.

Although the anticrime bill scheduled for debate Wednesday contains only $50 million to help beef up local police departments, a bipartisan group of 46 House members introduced legislation Thursday to provide $300 million to help local law enforcement agencies deal with riots.

The proposal may be offered as an amendment to the President's proposal, cleared Thursday for floor action.

FOOD FOR VICTIMS — Happy mothers and children gather around a panel truck to get free food on Detroit's east side yesterday. The sign on the side of the truck reads "Don't Pay High Prices — Free Emergency Food." The food was supplied to residents of the burned-out area, after rioting this week, by an organization known as The Crisis Council, one of many groups aiding the stricken residents.

Penny Parking Meters OK'd

BIRMINGHAM — The City Commission held an abbreviated meeting last night and approved one-cent parking meters plus an increase in the parking meter rate.

★ ★ ★

The short session was necessitated by the curfew — imposed by the city leaders — which began at 9 p.m.

Last night's meeting was a continuation of Monday's meeting which was cut short when the ban was first imposed due to disturbances in Pontiac and Detroit.

The parking meter change was explained as a move to provide more convenience for shoppers plus more revenue to provide extra future parking areas.

The one-cent meters will give six minutes of parking. However, the rate is increased in most meters to a minimum of a half-hour for five cents as opposed to the previous 5 cents per hour rate.

The city approved purchase of about 430 new meters at an approixmate cost of $23,000. Most of the present meters are about 20 years old and will not admit pennies.

The commission also heard a report from the Birmingham - Bloomfield Chamber of Commerce on the parking ban on Maple.

The Chamber is opposed to removing parking, an experiment which the city conducted last month. The city is allowing parking on Maple once again except during road construction in connection with the ring road.

★ ★ ★

The regular Monday meeting of the commission will not be held next week, but will be held the following Monday.

The Birmingham - Bloomfield Council of Human Relations has a collection point for donations to victims of current civil disorders at Holy Name School, 680 Herman.

The station will be open 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. today and tomorrow and 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Sunday.

The center has three large trucks donated by area firms, serving to haul donations from other centers in the area.

★ ★ ★

U.S. Sweeps DMZ for N. Viet Outposts

SAIGON (AP) — The U. S. Marines invaded the southern half of the demilitarized zone between North and South Vietnam today for the second time in the war. Their targets were the North Vietnamese mortar and artillery positions which have been shelling Leatherneck posts just south of the zone.

The U. S. Command also announced another dogfight over North Vietnam with a MIG21 probably shot down and six U. S. plane losses over the North which had not been revealed before.

★ ★ ★

Men of the 9th Marine Regiment moved into the demilitarized zone before dawn just north of Con Thien, the Leatherneck outpost 10 miles from the South China Sea where a Red barrage killed two Marines and wounded 12 Thursday night.

There was no immediate report that the Marines had encountered any enemy opposition.

EARLIER PENETRATION

It was the first American penetration into the three-mile-wide southern half of the zone since May 19, when the Marines and South Vietnamese troops invaded the southern sector for the first time to root out North Vietnamese gun posts. The allied force withdrew after a week.

U. S. Command said since then the Communists have again begun digging in artillery and mortars below the Ben Hai River which divides the zone.

The latest dogfight took place Thursday when a pair of MIG21s tried to jump an Air Force reconnaissance flight 37 miles north of Hanoi but were attacked by a pair of Air Force Phantoms flying escort.

The MIGs dived with the Phantoms in hot pursuit and one Phantom pilot fired off a sidewinder missile. The heat-seeking missile was right on the MIG's tail when the Red disappeared into a cloudbank, the pilots said. The Air Force scored it as the 11th probable kill of the war although no explosion was actually seen. U.S. forces claim 80 MIG kills and have lost 20 American planes in dogfights.

Racial News at a Glance

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON — President Johnson proclaimed Sunday a national day of prayer for racial peace and said "the violence must be stopped: quickly, finally and permanently."

DETROIT — The quietest night in four days of riot agony kept the city's death toll at 38.

PHILADELPHIA — Mayor James H. J. Tate placed the city under a limited state of emergency giving police authority to arrest persons in groups of 12 or more unless engaged in organized recreational activity.

LORAIN, Ohio — National Guardsmen were brought into the industrial city near Cleveland as a precautionary measure.

Outbreaks were reported in Albany, Poughkeepsie and Peekskill, N.Y., Waterbury, Conn., Sacramento, Calif., and Seattle, Wash. Guardsmen were on patrol in South Bend, Ind., and Cambridge, Md.

FAA Chief's Firing Asked

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A union representing 8,000 of the nation's 14,000 air-traffic controllers has called for the dismissal of Maj. Gen. William F. McKee, head of the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA).

The National Association of Government Employes said yesterday that the jetliner-light plane collision over Hendersonville, N.C., last week was more proof of a worsening problem in the nation's airways.

It urged Johnson to fire McKee and replace him with someone who knows more about air traffic control, namely the FAA's northeast region director, Oscar Bakke.

And it said Congress should "force-feed" the FAA sufficient amounts of money, "backbone, and honest concernt to act" before there is a repetition of the Hendersonville tragedy.

De Gaulle, Premier Hold Talks Today

PARIS (AP) — President Charles de Gaulle called in Premier Georges Pompidou today and presumably the main topic was de Gaulle's interrupted trip to Canada. But the furor seemed to be dissipating.

French officials said de Gaulle probably would make a statement to his Cabinet at a regular session Monday and that portions of the statement would be made public. Then de Gaulle will consider the incident closed, the informants said.

★ ★ ★

Newspapers continued to discuss de Gaulle's call for a "free Quebec," and deplored the fact that France's image in the world apparently was tarnished. But politicians who hope to make capital of the situation apparently were reserving their biggest guns for the end of the vacation season, in September or October.

★ ★ ★

De Gaulle returned Thursday from Canada, a day earlier than scheduled, after the Canadian government termed "unacceptable" his remarks which were taken as an encouragement for French Canadian separatism.

Senate Panel Trims Aid Bill

Cuts Tied to Fears for Domestic Programs

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Vietnam war and domestic rioting are cited in the Senate Foreign Relations Committee for its sharp cutback in President Johnson's foreign aid proposals.

Committee Chairman J. W. Fulbright said he and other members who voted to cut $736.8 million from the measure feared domestic programs, some aimed at quelling riot-inducing conditions, were suffering because of Vietnam and other U.S. commitments overseas.

The President asked $3.46 billion in foreign aid authorizations for the fiscal year which began July 1.

The 20 per cent committee reduction includes $205 million cut from the military aid section, which Johnson set at $596 million.

Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, who led the move to cut back the arms program, said the changes could lead to a cutoff of U.S. military aid programs in countries where "it ought not to have been started in the first place."

A parade of administration spokesmen, led by Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, appeared before the committee this week to plead for approval of the program as submitted by the President.

The committee completed action Thursday. Fulbright reported developments at a news conference. Actual appropriation of foreign aid money is considered after authorizations are set.

Fulbright, a persistent critic of administration foreign policy, said he would not manage the bill on the floor, an assignment ordinarily handled by a committee chairman, and added: "I think I'll vote against it."

Class Conclave Creates Cucumber Center Crisis

REDGRANITE, Wis. (AP)— The invasion has begun at Redgranite, whose familiarity with packing pickles may prove priceless in handling a weekend traffic pile-up.

A high school reunion originally planned for a comfortable 1,000 guests gets formally under way tonight as the village of 588 residents begins registering visitors who one homecoming organizer now predicts will number 15,000 by Sunday afternoon. Up-to-10,000 was a more frequently mentioned guess, but no less frightening to the village.

★ ★ ★

Even the scheduled arrival Saturday of 20 farm trucks carrying cucumbers has become something of a crisis. The human arrivals began earlier in the week with alumni from California, Oregon and Florida.

'ASTRONOMICAL'

"I don't know where they are going to put 10,000 people or more, or their cars and trailers," Robert C. Schramek remarked with the expression of a man contemplating Armageddon. "The figures are kind of astronomical. Most of us feel it has reached unexpected proportions, to put it politely."

Schramek is manager of Redgranite's chief employer, a pickle packing plant where 500 employes from throughout the area are deep into their busiest period of the cucumber season.

★ ★ ★

Space on the hamlet's four and a half miles of newly paved streets will be at a premium. Schramek can afford to shut down operations for only one day—Sunday, "and I'm expecting a fleet of 20 cucumber trucks for unloading Saturday when I'm not sure I'll even be able to drive to work."

★ ★ ★

The homecoming's organizers, who began their planning in 1964 on a suggestion by alumnus Richard Anderson of Glendale, Calif., mailed invitations to about 1,400 alumni of Redgranite High School, converted to an elementary school in 1948.

INVITE ANY BODY

"I figured 3,000 or 4,000 people," Anderson said. "Then they decided to invite anybody who had ever lived here or who knew of the town. We got 700 replies alone from alumni who live outside the area."

Team Effort Across States Saves Boy, 13

NEW YORK (AP) — A Navy helicopter pilot, policemen, stretcher bearers and sprinting doctors and nurses teamed up along a 225-mile route from Annapolis, Md., to Mount Sinai Hospital in an attempt to save the life of a 13-year-old boy. Apparently they did.

★ ★ ★

Doctors said today that Bruce Taylor, at first reported critically ill with spreading gangrene, was in "good condition."

The boy was brought to the hospital Thursday for oxygen therapy in the city's only hyperbaric chamber—a pressurized unit that artificially creates a high oxygen atmosphere in which gangrene cannot survive.

Taylor developed gangrene after stepping on a rusty nail Tuesday on a dock in the Severen River in Annapolis. The infection keeps oxygen-bearing blood from reaching vital tissue and, in some cases, can be fatal.

SITUATION HOPEFUL

"It's too early to make any long-range prediction, but at the present time we're hopeful," a hospital spokesman said.

When the infection failed to respond to treatment, Bruce's physician, Dr. John Hedeman, familiar with Mount Sinai's facilities, asked the Air-Sea Rescue Service at Andrews Air Force Base if it could provide emergency transport.

Within an hour the boy was being flown to New York where the helicopter landed on a white gauze cross placed on a Central Park baseball field.

Parents Accept Medal for Son

Posthumous award of The Bronze Star for Pfc. Michael Elmy who died in a helicopter crash at DaNang Bay, Vietnam, on May 9 was made yesterday.

★ ★ ★

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Elmy of 77 S. Paddock, received the award from Maj. Gen. William W. Lapsley at the U.S. Army Tank-Automotive Command, Warren.

Pfc. Elmy received the award for "distinguishing himself in ground operations against hostile forces in the Republic of Vietnam during the period of February to May 1967.

Pfc. Elmy, 20, entered the Army in September, 1966. He had worked at GMC Truck and Coach Division prior to joining and after attending Pontiac Central High School.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmy own the Beaute Raye Shop, 219 Auburn.

Dr. Milton H. Bank, pastor of the Central Methodist Church which Pfc. Elmy attended, and Kristyn Doughtery of 6562 Pear, Independence Township, also attended the award ceremony.

Irving Ackerman, an attorney and one of the five Detroit owners of the housing project, "has indicated a willingness to work with the city," Taylor said.

★ ★ ★

The 72-unit development is being operated at a loss, the owners have stated. Ackerman has previously said it could be sold if a nonprofit organization wants to assume ownership.

WILLING TO SELL

The mayor said he coincidentally met Rep. Law in a barbership yesterday, and Law said he is willing to sell the grocery store for a fair market price.

Taylor said this will have to be discussed further without infringing on the rights of private ownership.

The mayor said the city is very interested in securing decent housing for those desiring it and remarked on the progress of a planned 475-unit apartment project to be constructed on Kennett adjacent to the Alcott Elementary School.

He said the federal government has authorized rent supplement payments for the first 200 units, and the only thing holding up beginning of construction is FHA authorization.

Taylor said the curfew would remain in effect in Pontiac until he is certain there will be no threat to citizens or property.

Morris Davis, 19, of 444 Branch, who acted as a spokesman for the young Negroes, said he was satisfied that the meeting "got things on the way."

Describing himself as a student at Oakland Community College, he said young Negroes, 19 to 25, in Pontiac had met and decided to ask for the meeting with the mayor.

★ ★ ★

He declined to directly answer a question of how the trouble in Pontiac started, but said crowded conditions, inadequate housing and lack of recreation area "arouses and produces tension."

OTHER GRIEVANCES

Among other topics the group asked to discuss were high rent in substandard housing, inadequate housing or recreation areas, lack of jobs and city hiring practices.

Also mentioned was a demand that a complete coroner's inquest be made concerning the death of Alfred Taylor, who allegedly was shot by Rep. Law while attempting to break into the grocery store, and "the feeling that we are not properly represented on the City Commission."

U.S., Thai Officials Confer

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor and Clark Clifford, President Johnson's special two-man mission to Asia, conferred with Premier Thanom Kittikachorn for 2½ hours today on developments in the Vietnam war.

The presidential envoys, wrapping up their two-day visit to Thailand, are going to Australia next. They planned to leave for Canberra by special Air Force jet late tonight.

★ ★ ★

Taylor, a former U.S. ambassador to South Vietnam, and Clifford, chairman of the federal Intelligence Advisory Board, reportedly discussed a planned summit meeting of the Vietnam war allies and an increase in allied troop strength.

Foreign Minister Thanat Khoman, in a brief session with newsmen, predicted concrete action would result from the visit, but declined to go into detail.

NO URGENCY

A decision as to troops, "must wait until exhaustive studies have been made," he said. As to another summit conference, he said: "It will come, but it is not a matter of urgency."

The site of such a meeting is "secondary," he said.

There were indications that the presence of the two Americans might have proved an embarrassment to Marcos at a time when he is fighting to maintain the Philippines' 2,000-man commitment to the war.

★ ★ ★

Manila newspapers suggested the government had not been happy about the scheduled visit. The Daily Mirror said "the visitors would only have made it more difficult for the president to comply with the U.S. request for more troops if he was disposed to grant it in the first place."

Sales figures are unofficial.

Unless otherwise noted, rates of dividends in the foregoing table are annual disbursements based on the last quarterly or semi-annual declaration. Special or extra dividends or payments not designated as regular are identified in the following footnotes.

a—Also extra or extras. b—Annual rate plus stock dividend. c—Liquidating dividend. d—Declared or paid in 1967 plus stock dividend. e—Paid last year. f — Payable in stock during 1967, estimated cash value on ex-dividend or ex-distribution date. g—Declared or paid so far this year. h—Declared or paid after stock dividend or split up. k—Declared or paid this year, an accumulative issue with dividends in arrears. n—New issue. p—Paid this year, dividend omitted, deferred or no action taken at last dividend meeting. r—Declared or paid in 1966 plus stock dividend. t—Paid in stock during 1966, estimated cash value on ex-dividend or ex-distribution date.

cld—Called. x—Ex dividend. y—Ex dividend and sales in full. x-dis—Ex distribution. xr—Ex rights. xw—Without warrants. ww—With warrants. wd—When distributed. wi—When issued. nd—Next day delivery.

vj—In bankruptcy or receivership or being reorganized under the Bankruptcy Act, or securities assumed by such companies. fn—Foreign issue subject to interest equalization tax.

Legislators Eye State Riot Aid

Leaders Willing to Dip Into Budget Surplus

LANSING (AP) — Legislative leaders are willing to dip into Michigan's meager anticipated budget surplus to help the state's battered cities repair their riot damages.

House Speaker Robert Waldron, R - Grosse Pointe, said he and Senate Majority Leader Emil Lockwood, R - St. Louis, will introduce next week a resolution allowing state agencies to extend needed aid to violence-ripped communities.

★ ★ ★

The Legislature could later pass supplemental appropriations to the agencies to cover the unexpected cost, Waldron noted.

House Democratic Leader William Ryan, whose home town of Detroit suffered an estimated $500 million damages in four days of vandalism and arson, said Democrats would support the relief measures.

ANTIRIOT LAWS

Waldron also said new antiriot laws are needed in Michigan, but added they should not be passed hastily.

"It would be a mistake to enter into panic legislation," the legislation," the speaker said. "We'll begin a study of possible law changes now for possible action later this year."

Needed, Waldron said, are new laws covering gun controls and housing shortages, and possibly others providing criminal penalties for rioters.

★ ★ ★

"This is not civil rights but civil disobedience, close to civil insurrection," he said. "New criminal statutes are needed to deal with it."

Rebels Seek to Ransom British Exec

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP) — A British oil chief was held under armed guard in the Biafran capital of Enugu today with a $10-million price on his head.

That is the amount in oil royalties that Biafran leader Col. Odumegwu Ojukwu wants from Shell-BP for the safe delivery of their managing director, Stanley Gray, 51. He is being held under house arrest at Enugu's Presidential Hotel.

★ ★ ★

According to reports reaching Lagos, Ojukwu sent word to Gray to go to Enugu for talks.

HOTEL SURROUNDED

With federal forces closing in on Enugu, the Nigerian radio said Thursday that Ojukwu was planning to flee the country.

★ ★ ★

Federal troops also were reported advancing toward Port Harcourt after seizing the Island of Bonny on the south coast.

Jim Parker, deputy British high commissioner in Enugu, has been instructed to make strong representations to Ojukwu about Gray's detention.

INCREASED ANXIETY

His seizure has increased anxiety here for 600 Britons believed to be still in Biafra.

A good many Britons, however, have been getting out over the last few days. It is estimated that there are about 300 remaining in the Ibo area of central Biafra which is most dangerous for whites.

There are an estimated 200 Americans still in Biafra along with 600 Irish and 300 British commonwealth citizens. Whites have been getting out by crossing the River Niger in canoes at Asaba, 300 miles east of Lagos.

Oil companies also are reported to be using their helicopters and boats to get their people away. The remaining whites have turned down opportunities to leave Biafra, defying advice from their embassies.

Triggered Protests Last Year

Food Prices Stir Gripes

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK — The rise in food prices now under way is taking on some of the characteristics that stirred up last year housewife protests against the nation's food stores.

CUNNIFF

Leading all price increases last month was the price of food. Fruits and vegetables were 3 per cent higher than in May, and poultry and fish prices showed increases of just slightly less.

★ ★ ★

As if this wasn't bad news enough, rising wholesale prices bar any optimistic hopes that the increase will level off next month.

ROUTINE INCREASES

Almost all consumers seem able to tolerate with a frustrated grumble the routine increases in the cost of living. To many people, higher prices seem almost inevitable.

★ ★ ★

It is when the high costs are most pronounced in the food sector, the area of greatest consumer spending, that the ineffective grumbling becomes active protest.

Unlike clothing, which may be purchased for a season, food usually is purchased in small quantities. It is a repetitive activity, and so price increases have multiple exposure.

But there is more to it than that. The great consuming public once was a disorganized mass. Now it is threaded together by various consumer groups and has found a sympathetic ear and even leadership in Washington.

LESS PREDITABLE

Other factors are at work also. The food consumer is constantly changing his habits as the variety of choices grows. He is, perhaps, less predictable. At least you may judge so by the number of studies now being conducted.

Columbia University, for instance, is in the midst of what it claims is the largest basic study of consumer behavior ever undertaken in the United States, with information being gathered on the habits of 7,000 housewives.

The University of Michigan, which regularly surveys consumer confidence, also is studying the role of the consumer in the economy through a $200,000 Ford Foundation grant.

This week the National Industrial Conference Board—nonprofit, largely business supported—completed a study on how familes spend. It discovered a hint of why some housewives are more activist than before. A third of consumer buying, it said, is now represented by families with a working wife.

HOMEMAKER DISTRESS

As in the past, much of this homemaker distress over rising food prices might lead to the usual reactions: more shopping for bargains, buying of lower-priced meats, enunciations of shopping games and trading stamps.

A good deal of the resentment will be reflected at the retail outlet, the contact point between the purchaser and the food industry, although rising costs often are not the retailer's fault.

In response, you may expect the retailers to countercharge that the American family today spends a smaller percentage of his income on food than ever.

There can be no quibbling with this percentage. In 1966, only 24.5 per cent of personal consumption spending was for food, beverages and tobacco. A century ago the percentage was well over 50. It has fallen steadily.

Are the food producers, processors and retailers justified in taking credit for this decline? The answer is that, to some extent, they may have taken a bit too much credit.

The real explanation is found in the nation's rising productivity. Take-home pay today is larger almost every year. The food percentage has dropped, not just because food might be a bargain, but because incomes are rising.

Women Plan War on Laws

Old Job Legislation Called Anachronistic

NEW YORK (AP) — Determined business and professional women are declaring war on what they call outmoded state laws that once perhaps protected the frail working girl, but now actually stand between her and getting ahead in her job.

★ ★ ★

The 5,000 members and delegates who attended the annual convention of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, Inc., which ends today with a national board of directors meeting, are returning home armed with strategy and ammunition.

★ ★ ★

The women plan a state by state mop-up operation on laws that limit the number of hours a woman can work, require special rest and meal periods for her, prohibit her working in specified fields, such as bartending or around mines, or limit the amount of weight she may lift on the job.

PROTECT WOMEN

Such statutes originally was enacted to protect women from exploitation and industrial hazard. Today, however, the business women contend, the conditions which gave rise to the laws are no longer in existence.

★ ★ ★

Now all the laws do is bar a woman from a wide variety of jobs or preclude her from supervisory positions which may require nightwork or overtime work occasionally.

★ ★ ★

"Every state but Delaware today has on its statute books some form of legislation that limits the ability of women to compete equally for jobs," said outgoing BPW President Sarah Jane Cunningham. "This is anachronistic in today's society and these laws must be overturned."

British Steel Industry Is Nationalized

Nationalization of 14 companies producing 90 per cent of Britain's steel was completed without fanfare or celebration after a political argument between Conservative and Labor parties that dragged through two election campaigns. Parliament passed the nationalization bill last winter after one of the longest committee debates on record.

The new organization, to be called the British Steel Corporation, is one of the world's largest industrial groups. Its plants are valued at $3.92 billion and its annual sales at more than $2.8 billion. It has more than 270,000 employes.

This is the second time British steel has been nationalized. The first postwar Labor government took over all 92 iron and steel companies in 1951, giving stockholders total compensation of 213 million pounds—$596.4 million. The Conservatives turned them back to private hands.

TOTAL COST

This time compensation is estimated at 500 million pounds —$1.4 billion—in government bonds.

The big nationalized companies have not all been moneymakers. Some are too far from deepwater harbors to take advantage of large ore tankers, Their total profits after taxes last year were only about 9 million pounds—$25.2 million.

Successful Investing

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q) "In six or eight years, our two children should be entering college. We own our home and have ample insurance and savings and $5,000 to invest. This we need to increase considerably. We have been advised to buy Ramada Inns and are also considering airlines. Which of the latter appears to have the best growth prospects?" T. Y.

A) In few areas has the impact of inflation been so strongly felt as in the cost of education. You have selected two growing sectors of the economy to enhance your capital and I will suggest a third.

Ramada Inns, as now constituted, has a good though relatively short record of growth. I like the stock, but in some respects I prefer Holiday Inns which is more broadly based and appears to have a stronger outlook. I suggest that you buy a few shares of each.

My sole recommendation in the airline group is Pacific Southwest. This company operates entirely within the state of California and is not subject to federal regulation. Finally, I would take a long look at Becton, Dickinson, showing a powerful growth trend in disposable medical equipment.

Q) "Would you suggest an annuity for a widow of my age—71? I would be willing to invest 10 to 15 thousand dollars. I have other income which I want to increase."
M. C.

A) If you are not concerned with leaving an estate, I strongly recommend a straight life annuity. Monthly guaranteed income at your age would be higher from this source than from any other safe form of investment. I believe that some of your other income should be derived from good common stocks which would give you a measure of inflation protection. You should also retain a savings reserve sufficient to tide you over all emergencies.
