Overflow Crowd Hears Taubman Tell of Plan

By L. GARY THORNE

A. Alfred Taubman and his proposal for a $40 million downtown Pontiac development were presented yesterday to an enthusiastic standing - room - only luncheon crowd of citizens and civic leaders.

Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. and Oak Park developer Taubman detailed the latter's plans for an enclosed mall - type shopping center for the southern end of the central business district. The center would extend from Lawrence south to the point where East and West Wide Track meet.

The luncheon presentation brought out that:

● Two major department stores, and possibly a third, are projected for the center, although no definite commitments were revealed.

● Up to 2,500 new jobs would be provided by the proposed shopping center.

● The city and the developer are sharing costs of a top-ranked traffic control firm to study the problem of traffic flow.

COULD GROW

He said the center could grow above ground as downtown growth dictated.

Tentatively planned for about 850,000 square feet, the shopping center could go to one million square feet.

Taubman said that it was his deep concern and interest that the project be a sound venture both for the benefit of the community and the commercial development itself.

STILL TENTATIVE

The developer, who emphasized that specific dimensions of his center are still tentative, said Pontiac represents an opportunity for urban development because of the farsighted thinking that had gone on before he came here a year ago.

He said the object would be to renew from the core up.

He added that the city's loop road gives the base for major development.

Taubman said that with the agreement now pending before the City Commission there could be a development here that would "sell."

NO BARRIERS

"There are no barriers so far as the city is concerned," he concluded.

Schimmel said there was no assurance that alternatives to the Taubman plan would cost less or do any more for downtown Pontiac.

Using several slides, Taylor outlined the obligations of the city and Taubman under terms of the proposed contract.

FORMAL HEARING

Yesterday's informational luncheon is to be followed by a formal public hearing on the contract Sept. 27, which is also the date of expected commission action.

Taylor said the contract would give Taubman six months (with an option for six more months upon request) in which to deliver letters of intent from two major tenants.

These tenants, slated to be full-line department stores, are to be of the quality of Sears, Montgomery Ward and J. C. Penney.

Once Taubman signs the tenants, he must tender a $250,000 "good faith" deposit, design a regional shopping center complex, buy the appropriate urban renewal land and build the buildings.

TOTAL VALUE

Taylor, who pointed out the land purchase must be made within 18 months from the signing of the contract, estimated the total value of the buildings and fixtures at $40 million.

The mayor said this would

Showers Are Forecast

Showers and thundershowers will arrive in the Pontiac area late today or tonight, the weatherman said.

★ ★ ★

Skies will be partly cloudy tomorrow with temperatures cooler, the low near 48 to 54 tonight, the high climbing into the 60s tomorrow.

Fair and cool is the outlook for Friday.

Morning south to southwesterly winds increasing to 10 to 22 miles per hour will shift to north to northeast at 12 to 25 miles tonight.

A low of 60 was the temperature at 6 a.m. today. By 2 p.m. the mercury had reached 75.

Astronauts Go 'on Top of World'

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)— Shouting "We're on top of the world," the Gemini 11 astronauts today soared higher and faster than man has ever flown, and then, amazingly, both catnapped as Richard F. Gordon Jr. hung halfway out of the space ship on a star photography assignment.

Gordon was standing in his seat, his head poked through an open hatch waiting for a night-time pass so he could see the stars, when command pilot Charles Conrad Jr. reported:

Mission control center in Houston, Tex., commented:

The astronauts had started the day by using the power of an Agena rocket to dash to a record altitude of 850 miles.

CAN'T BELIEVE

"I tell you, you can't believe it," Conrad exclaimed as they first reached the high outpost above eastern Australia. "Utterly fantastic . . . the world is round."

After zipping twice to the high point, the pilots again fired the Agena, to which Gemini 11 is attached, to return to their original path, ranging from 180 to 190 miles high.

At 7:49 a.m. (EST), as Gemini

Grand Prix Convertible, 3 Station Wagons New

By HARRY J. REED
Managing Editor, The Pontiac Press

Crisp new sculptured styling is the keynote for the 1967 Pontiac line previewed today by the nation's auto writers at General Motors Technical Center and Bloomfield Hills Country Club.

Offered for the first time is a Grand Prix convertible and three new station wagons, all with simulated wood exterior paneling.

"The '67 models represent a bold new approach in auto styling, combined with many new engineering features designed to increase the safety, comfort and convenience of driving," according to Pontiac general manager John Z. DeLorean.

CARS GO ON SALE SEPT. 29

Sweeping new roof lines on all two and four-door models, major design advancements in both front and rear ends, a Pontiac exclusive of recessed windshield wipers and exhaustive detail to safety mark the new line.

"By extensively following Pontiac's continuous policy of making safety our major objective in the design, manufacture and testing of our cars, Pontiac again this year meets the highest standards in the auto industry," DeLorean said.

"Confusion over the safety issue undoubtedly delayed some 1966 car purchases but this will be overcome when the 1967 models go on sale," he said.

"He added, "Credit has been tight but this should improve — just take a look at what's happening in the used car market where business has been good and financing has been available."

DeLorean predicted a sixth consecutive record year for Pontiac, and said Pontiac expects to top its 900,000 auto mark in calendar 1967.

He pointed out Pontiac's grip on third place in the industry was tightened in 1966, with a 200,000 unit margin over the fourth place seller. In 1961, when Pontiac took over third, it was only a 2,000 unit lead.

DeLorean also revealed that, for the first time Pontiac sales have topped 10 per cent of the auto market.

An energy-absorbing steering column, a dual braking system and an inside rear view nonglare tilting mirror are standard equipment on all 1967 Pontiacs.

V8 ENGINE

The standard Pontiac V8 engine has been increased from 389-cubic-inch displacement to 400 cubic inches, and the optional 421-inch engine now has 428-inch displacement.

Horsepower on the standard Catalina and Executive line is 265, and 333 on the Bonneville and Grand Prix. Optional Pontiac engines provide a range of 215 to 376 horsepower.

The overhead cam six-cylinder engine of 165 horsepower is standard on the Tempest, Tempest Custom, Tempest Safari and Pontiac LeMans models.

Dimensions on the new models remain unchanged from last year. The Catalina and Grand Prix wheelbase is 121 inches, while the Executive and Bonneville wheelbase is 124. All Tempest, Tempest Custom, Pontiac LeMans and Pontiac GTO models have a 115-inch wheelbase.

Over-all length is 215.6 inches on Catalina and Grand Prix models; 222.6 on Executive and Bonneville and 206.6 on all Tempest, Pontiac LeMans and Pontiac GTO models.

VC Blow Up 52 Trucks at Motor Pool

SAIGON (AP) — A Viet Cong demolition squad stormed into a motor pool six miles north of Saigon before dawn today, destroyed the administration building, blew up 52 trucks and escaped. There were conflicting reports of casualties.

The motor pool, owned by Vietnamese, was under military contract and under guard of Vietnamese militiamen. U.S. officials said one American civilian, an Australian civilian and a Vietnamese soldier were wounded. A Vietnamese spokesman said three civilian workers were missing, two truck drivers were killed and two Vietnamese soldiers were missing and possibly captured.

* * *

Initial reports from the scene had said that four Vietnamese militiamen were killed and an American soldier was captured.

U.S. officials estimated damage at $1 million. They said the Communist guerrillas escaped without losing a man.

NAB TROUPE

One of their first catches was a 13-member Communist entertainment troupe from Hanoi. They also captured three nurses at a Viet Cong hospital.

U.S. Army officers said the Viet Cong blasted a huge hole in the barbed wire fence surrounding the motor pool on the outskirts of Saigon and charged through with guns blazing. A platoon of Vietnamese militiamen on guard pulled out during the initial onslaught. Several militiamen were wounded.

Blast Cripples Ship, Hurts Man

SAULT STE. MARIE (UPI)— A boiler exploded aboard an ore freighter today, injuring at least one man and leaving the ship wallowing helplessly in choppy Lake Superior waters.

Coast Guard and Air Force planes and helicopters sped to the freighter Lehigh 38 miles northwest of here and the steamer Tom Girdler stood by the stricken ship.

Youngster Killed

BRIDGEPORT (AP) — A 5-year-old boy died Tuesday when he ran into the path of a moving car near his Birch Run Township home. He was Brian Hill. Driver of the car was not held, police said.

Merit System Vote Is Urged

County Unit Wants Issue on Fall Ballot

Oakland County officials today recommended that formal county adoption of a merit system, or civil service program, be put to the voters Nov. 8.

The recommendation by the personnel policies committee of the County Board of Supervisors will be considered by the full board Monday.

The board of supervisors authorized the merit system last April and it has been activated as an informal county program pending voter approval.

* * *

Members of the personnel polices committee decided that the Nov. 8 election was a better time to present the issue rather than waiting two years for the next regular election.

Purpose of the merit system is to assure that selections, remuneration and treatment of county employes is based on merit.

Russia Orders the Expulsion of U.S. Diplomat

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union today ordered the expulsion of Donald R. Lesh, 34, second secretary of the U.S. Embassy in Moscow, presumably in retaliation for the expulsion of a Russian diplomat from the United States on spy charges.

The announcement by the official Tass news agency said Lesh had been declared persona non grata for activities incompatible with his diplomatic status.

It said the charge came from the Soviet Foreign Ministry which demanded Lesh's expulsion.

Tass gave no details but on Sept. 2 the United States charged Russian Embassy Third Secretary Valentin A. Revin, the embassy's science officer, with espionage and ordered him out of the United States. Usually each country retaliates.

Mayor Is Cited by Commission

In a rare move, the City Commission last night passed a resolution commending one of its members for his election to a three-year term as trustee of the Michigan Municipal League.

Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. was cited in the resolution for his dedication and untiring efforts.

Gemini Crew Is Flying High

As he whirled around the world for more than two hours, through two night-time and one daylight pass, he was relaxed and in good humor, exchanging quips with ground stations.

REPORTED LATER

The report of the catnaps came after he had been outside nearly two hours. During the daylight period, his only assignment was to change the camera lenses.

* * *

The space stand activity was in deep contrast with yesterday's space walk in which Gordon had to scramble hurriedly back to the cabin when the work load became too much for him, causing him to breathe and sweat heavily.

* * *

Overflow Crowd Hears of Plan

give the city about $200,000 more tax revenue annually for the 10-mill general fund.

Taylor further pointed out that the shopping complex would have to meet with federal and city regulations.

He added that a meeting with urban renewal officials to have them scrutinize the proposed contract with Taubman was set for Friday.

CITY'S OBLIGATION

The city's obligations under the proposed contract would begin with obtaining federal approval for the whole plan, which is expected to require an urban renewal plan change, said Taylor.

The city would then finally accept the contract, organize a parking authority to acquire, construct and operate the required parking space, sell an estimated $8.9 million in revenue bonds for financing the city's share of the cost, and sell the urban renewal land to Taubman for the shopping center.

According to Taylor, the contract would provide that the city enter into a 40-year lease agreement with Taubman for the parking area, now set at 3,500 cars.

In addition, the city must clear, fill and grade the land and relocate utilities.

Taubman, under the contract, proposes to lease the parking for $450,000 per year. The monies are to go toward retiring the bonds.

The parking is to be free to the user.

Under the Taubman proposal, the city's annual debt payment would total an estimated $525,000. Taubman has offered $696,000 for the land he needs for his actual buildings.

* * *

Since the parking area would extend from a point on the south where the east and west legs of Wide Track meet northward to Lawrence, the parking authority will have to acquire additional nonurban renewal property.

ESTIMATED COST

The estimated cost of this purchase is $4.6 million. Retirement of existing parking bonds is figured at $50,000, building demolition is estimated at $200,000, parking lot construction at $1.2 million and grading and site preparation at $500,000.

Utility relocation costs are figured at $900,000, while debt capitalization costs (payments made on bonds before the lease payments begin) are set at $800,000, giving the estimated grand total of $8.98-million.

Relating the recent history that had brought the city to its present point of considering a contract with Taubman, Taylor said many redevelopment proposals have been considered.

He said that when the present City Commission took office 2½ years ago, general confusion reigned on the redevelopment question.

'QUITE CLEAR'

"It was quite clear that getting some brick and mortar going up was not particularly difficult, but it was also clear that the quality of that brick and mortar and the planning that went behind it that was really significant," explained Taylor.

He added that Taubman represented the "broad gauge, nationally known developer (necessary) to bring together all of the important elements for a major rejuvenation."

The mayor pointed out to the luncheon audience that Taubman was well-known through his projects in Grand Rapids, California, Ann Arbor and Roseville.

* * *

He said the proposed shopping center would create new land values so necessary to accomplish the goal of getting new businesses to locate downtown.

'PROVEN ABILITY'

Citing Taubman's "proven ability to deliver," Taylor said also that the developer has the funds to back up his intentions.

Stating he was "very impressed," Pontiac realtor Bruce J. Annett said the Taubman proposal right now represented the only real solution offered for downtown.

"The commission should be highly commended for taking the abuse that it has," added Annett. "They deserve credit for waiting for a good, sound proposal."

* * *

In reply to a question, Taubman said he could see no relation between his plan and another plan unveiled earlier this week by the University of Detroit's School of Architecture.

COMMERCIAL PLAN

The former Pontiac man said the specific task here was commercial development, while high-rise apartments fell under general development.

Taubman added that the U. of D. plan appeared concerned with the whole city.

At Mississippi Schools

300 Officers Protect Negroes

GRENADA, Miss. (AP) — More than 300 state officers in full riot gear and with orders to crack down hard on troublemakers, sealed off newly desegregated schools here today and 83 Negro pupils marched to class without challenge.

A two-block area around the two formerly all-white public schools was ringed with helmeted highway patrolmen and game and fish wardens. Only pupils, their parents and teachers were permitted through police lines.

The 83 Negro pupils, 37 of whom were elementary school age, marched one mile across town from the Bell Flower Church to the school complex. Highway patrol cars accompanied them.

They were met at the police barricades by 30 officers who escorted them the final two blocks.

The scene was in sharp contrast to the first two days of classes, when jeering white adults armed with ax handles and pieces of pipe attacked Negro boys and girls entering and leaving the schools.

U.S. District Judge Claude F. Clayton, a former Army general, hurried from his home in Tupelo to his courtroom in Oxford last night to sign an order directing officials here to protect the Negroes.

And at the state capitol in Jackson, Gov. Paul Johnson said the state intended to maintain law and order in this north Mississippi town of 8,000 persons — about half of them Negro.

Michigan Bishop Will Succeed Pike

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Episcopal Diocese of California elected a new bishop today — the Rt. Rev. C. Kilmer Myers of Michigan, who is credited with starting urban work within the church.

In hotly contested balloting, the Suffragan bishop was picked to succeed the controversial Rt. Rev. James A. Pike, who resigned to become theologian in residence at the Center for the Study of Democratic Institutions at Santa Barbara.

* * *

Bishop Myers, who studied with Bishop Pike at the General Theological Seminary in New York, started urban work in Jersey City, N. J., in the late 1940's and then did social-religious work in New York City.

Birmingham Area News

Commission Opposes Shopping Center Plans

BIRMINGHAM — The city Commission has gone on record as opposing a proposed shopping center at Adams and Big Beaver roads in Bloomfield Township.

Objections to the development were expressed in a letter prepared by the commission at its Monday meeting and sent to the Bloomfield Township Planning Commission.

The Planning Commission has scheduled a public hearing for Oct. 3 on the rezoning of the parcel from multiple family to business.

* * *

Immediately west of the site is Birmingham's Manor Park Nature Preserve, whose supporters say would be destroyed if the site is allowed to be developed for a shopping center.

RESIST ANNEXATION

In addition to opposing the rezoning, the commission has noted that it would resist any attempt by the developer to annex the property to the city should the rezoning fail to go through.

Two years ago the City of Birmingham won a court fight to keep property immediately east of the proposed development from being changed from a multiple to business classification.

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — The City Commission will hold a public hearing Oct. 11 on an amendment to the zoning ordinance and on a request to rezone property next to the city hall.

The amendment, if approved, would require offstreet loading and unloading in the commercial district to avoid undue interference with public use of the parking area or dedicated rights of way.

The commission is also being asked to approve rezoning of land next to the city hall from office to commercial. The request was recommended for approval yesterday by the planning commission.

In other action at last night's meeting the commission approved a request from Bloomfield Township to extend an existing eight-inch sanitary sewer on Parkman Drive to serve five lots in Bloomfield Hills Estates.

The township is to pay the entire cost of the extension.

Students Walk Out at Bloomfield Hills

About 60 Bloomfield Hills High School students walked out of class this morning in protest over a ruling against long hair and tight-fitting clothes.

* * *

Johnson said the administration feels the rules are reasonable and that they have the backing of the majority of parents.

He said that out of a student body of 1,600, 60 students were not a strong representation. He suggested they present their grievances to the board of education.

Introduced as a separate series this year is the Tempest Safari four-door station wagon, with the simulated wood siding.

SEVEN MODELS

Seven models make up the Catalina series; two and four-door sedans, a hardtop coupe, four-door hardtop, convertible and two-seat and three-seat station wagons.

Two new station wagons, a two-seat and a three-seat model, bring the Executive line to five, including the four-door sedan, four-door hardtop and hardtop coupe.

The Grand Prix is now available in a convertible and a hardtop coupe. The hidden taillights have reemerged in the Grand Prix for '67, but the headlights are concealed.

SECTION DOORS

Two eyelid-type grille section doors pivot back to reveal the headlights when they are turned on. Parking lights are behind three slots at the top of the fender.

Retained in the 1967 styling is the traditional Pontiac split grille. It appears narrower this year with a sheet metal change which halts the hood before it reaches the top of the grille.

The new Executive Safari station wagons are highlighted by a walnut wood grain applique extending from the rear of the front wheel opening to the rear bumper. The same wood treatment is applied to the lower portion of the tailgate.

SIMILAR STYLE

Four-door roof lines are styled similar to the two-door models, with roof lines sweeping continuously from the roof to the tip of the trunk.

The addition of improved insulation and sound deadener material on the floor, headlining and behind the rear seat is designed to give a quieter ride.

Among accessories offered for the first time will be a hood-mounted tachometer in easy view of the driver; stereo tape player; AM-FM stereo radio; disc front brakes; cornering lights; dual stage heavy duty air cleaner; automatic leveling system and a fire extinguisher.

Other new safety devices besides the nonglare mirror and dual braking system are free wheeling front door locks which prevent the accidental opening of the doors.

DOOR HANDLES

When the lock buttons are depressed, the door handles become inoperative, preventing the inadvertent opening of the doors. Free wheeling rear door locks had previously been introduced by Pontiac.

Locks on all folding seats in two-door models and station wagons having split second seats keep the seat backs securely in place while in the usual seating position.

In addition, torsional bars have been added to the seat back. The locks may be released to fold the seat backs forward for entry or exit. When the seats are returned to their normal positions, they automatically lock in place.

LANE CHANGER

A first in the industry is a lane changer signal. When the driver applies light pressure on the turn signal lever, it indicates a lane change by lighting direction signal lamps. When the driver releases the lever, it cancels the signal after changing lanes.

Cars will be in the following area showrooms on Sept. 29:

Salaried Workers Get Agent for Bargaining

City Affairs

City officials received notice last night that there will not be an election to determine the collective bargaining agent for the city's white-collar workers.

Two groups had sought to represent the salaried personnel, but in hearings before the State Labor Mediation Board, bargaining jurisdiction was given to the Pontiac Municipal Employes Association (PMEA).

The City Commission received formal notice from the State Labor Mediation Board canceling the election.

The election was canceled after Local 100, American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes, withdrew its petition after a hearing before the board.

Local 100 and the Pontiac Municipal Employes Association had both sought to represent some 300 clerical workers, excluding police, firemen and hospital employes.

SEEK BIDS

In other business last night the commission set Sept. 26 as the date to receive bids for the painting of two above-ground water storage tanks.

The estimated cost of the paint job is $18,000. The city is to commence a legal suit against the general contractor involved in the original painting of the tanks.

Notice was also received last night of a public hearing at 10 a.m. Sept. 28 at the County Drain Commissioner's office on the Hamlin Drain in the southeast corner of the city. The city engineer was directed to represent the city.

A recommendation was submitted to the City Commission last night from the city's Human Relations Commission, asking the commission to approve in principle the proposed Human Resources Center projected for the McConnell School area.

Consideration of the recommendation by the City Commission was set for next week.

PUBLIC HEARINGS

Public hearings were set for Oct. 18 on three vacations: Riverside north of Maines; the alley at the back of the northeast corner of Bagley and Fisher; and the alley parallel to Telegraph, Walton to the alley parallel to Walton.

Hearings were set for Sept. 27 on special assessments for construction of a water main on portions of Princeton, Highwood and in Jaycee Park; and a sanitary sewer in Princeton, Highwood to Jaycee Park.

A hearing was held last night on paving Lounsbury, Oakland to Lakeside.

In still other business, the commission set hearings for Oct. 4 on proposed rezonings for property along a portion of the east side of Stanley. Proposed rezoning for the northeast corner of Bagley and Fisher was also set for a public hearing Oct. 4.

Consideration of a proposed commercial rezoning for a nearly 7-acre parcel at the corner of Woodward and the projected East Boulevard extension was tabled for two more weeks.

★ ★ ★

A petition for commercial rezoning for 1,210 feet on Walton, between Highwood and Jaycee Park, for a storage warehouse was referred to the planning commission.

Small Boy Killed in Bus-Car Crash

SANFORD, Fla. (AP) — A collision between a church kindergarten bus and an automobile Tuesday night killed Bradley Spence, 4, and injured 17 other persons.

★ ★ ★

Admitted to Seminole Memorial Hospital in fair condition were the Rev. J. Blair McGarvey, 32, pastor of the Sanford Alliance church and driver of the bus; and five of his young passengers.

★ ★ ★

The other children were treated for cuts and bruises and sent home. The lone occupant of the car was not injured.

Hearing Tomorrow on Freeway Plans

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP—The Michigan State Highway Department will hold a public hearing at 8 p.m. tomorrow at Walled Lake High School to explain to interested citizens the location of the proposed new highway between I-696 and M59.

The new freeway, to be called M275, will be an extension of I-275 and will extend for 7¾ miles from I-96 east of Novi north to M59. Eventually it is to connect with I-75 east of Davisburg.

About halfway between I-696 and M59 it will merge with the proposed extension of Northwestern Highway. It is to be a six and eight-lane freeway.

The cost of the highway will be $21 million for the stretch between I-696 and M59 and is to be financed with 50 per cent matching funds from the federal government.

A spokesman for the State Highway Department said that after 1972, it is hoped that the federal government will approve the highway as a federal road, making the state eligible to receive 90 per cent of the cost from the federal government.

ORIGINAL PLANS

Original plans were to start construction in 1970 but, because of lack of funds, it will not be started until sometime after 1972. No definite date has been set.

The road runs roughly parallel to Haggerty then swings in a northwesterly direction at Oakley Park connecting with M59 just west of Bogie Lake Road.

He said that the area had been developed "into one of the most beautiful sites in Michigan" and that he believed that the people "would not like to see any of it taken away."

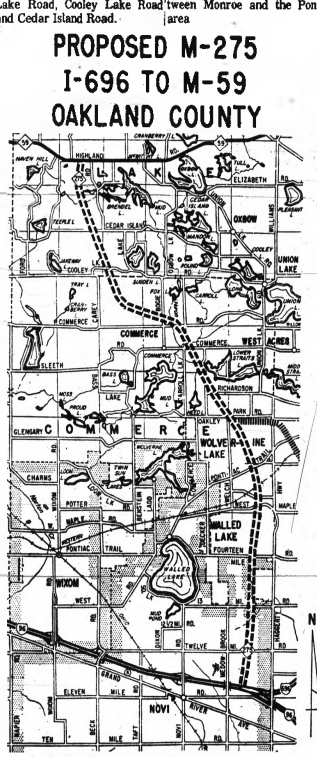
'WILL BENEFIT US'

"If this new route goes through, it will benefit us," said Cheyz. "The area will really start building up."

Interchanges along the new highway are proposed at 13 and 15 Mile roads, Commerce Road and M59.

Grade separations are planned for 12 and 14 Mile roads, Pontiac Trail, Oakley Park, Newton, Carroll Lake Road, Wise, Bogie Lake Road, Cooley Lake Road and Cedar Island Road.

When finished, it will serve as a freeway connection between Monroe and the Pontiac area



Holly School Budget OK'd at $1.4 Million

HOLLY — A $1,409,000 budget for 1966-67 has been adopted by the board of education.

Schools Supt. Russell D. Haddon said the new budget is about $200,000 more than last year's because of salary increases granted to teachers.

The budget is based on a total tax levy of 28.6 mills. The levy was increased when voters approved a 5-mill operating tax in July.

At the same time, the board dropped 3 mills from its debt retirement levy.

Funds allocated to the various departments include elementary instruction, $497,862; secondary instruction, $471,194; special education, $39,085; administration, $70,194; attendance, $500; health service, $1,350; transportation, $100,627; operation of plant, $158,957; maintenance, $121,600; fixed charges, $28,710; capital outlay, $19,082.

In other action, the board voted to pay $200 for a student to attend the cooperative house construction program in Genesee County.

ATTEND CLASS

Under this plan, the student will attend class for a half day and work on a construction project the rest of the day.

Haddon said at the end of the year, the house is sold and whatever money is left over after paying the building costs, is reimbursed to the school district.

The district is still looking for three teachers, a junior high school physical education teacher, an elementary vocal music teacher and a guidance and counseling teacher.

Haddon said that until he is able to find the teachers, the students are either put into study hall or scheduled into other classes.

Wixom C. of C. to Install Officers

WIXOM — The Wixom Chamber of Commerce will have its installation dinner at 7 tonight at Morey's Golf and Country Club on Union Lake Road, Commerce Township.

Prospective members are invited. Reservations may be obtained from chamber president Thomas McGee or from Evelyn McCall, chamber secretary.

Animals engage in games. Lambs and gibbons play "follow the leader," young otters and deer enjoy "hide and seek" and badgers prefer "king of the castle."

Building Unit Is Deeded Land

Marks First Use of Authority in Shelby

SHELBY TOWNSHIP — First use of the newly created Shelby Township Building Authority was made when the Township Board recently deeded property at 25 Mile and Shelby to the authority.

The land is the proposed site of the township's third fire hall.

Supervisor Lorin Evans reports the board was reluctant to turn over other township-owned parcels slated for future building.

A meeting between the authority and the board has been planned to create better understanding.

★ ★ ★

Now being taken care of is the problem of damming around excavations made in the Dequindre - Hamlin area for construction of the Detroit water system line to Flint.

WELLS GOING DRY

Home owners felt that drainage into the excavations was causing their wells to go dry.

In the same area, Great Lakes Sand and Gravel Co.'s application to remove sand has been referred back to the planning commission.

The township has decided to allow further sand stripping in the area only as an adjunct to an earth land-fill operation. A public hearing on the matter will be scheduled.

Claim Hazard in S. Lyon

Parents Hit Bus Routing

SOUTH LYON — Parents in two subdivisions within the school district are attempting to get school buses rerouted so their children won't have to be picked up on main roads.

About 30 of the parents tried to persuade the board of education Monday night to route the buses through their neighborhoods.

The board agreed to study the matter and make a report at a special meeting next Monday.

Asst. Schools Supt. Donald Burns said that the buses now pick up children from Four Lakes Subdivision on Nine Mile and those from Post Lane Subdivision on Eight Mile.

★ ★ ★

"The parents feel there is a traffic hazard here," he said, "and object to having their children wait out there in rain or bad weather."

CITE 'DISCRIMINATION'

He said they feel that because the buses go into three other subdivisions to pick up the children, that their children should receive the same service.

"There are also three other subdivisions that we don't go into," he said, "and if we send the buses into Four Lakes and Post Lane, we should do it for the other three."

He said the pickups for the two neighborhoods have been made on the main roads because studies have shown that a traffic hazard does not exist.

★ ★ ★

Within a 24-hour period, he said, about 600 cars pass the two pickup points, while on the other main roads, about 2,700 cars pass.

NO OBJECTION

Burns said there are 21 elementary children in Post Lane and 12 in Four Lakes. The elementary pupils, he said, are the main concern. He said the parents voiced no objections to the secondary pupils walking out to the main roads.

He said that those at the most distant point in the subdivisions have to walk about six-tenths of a mile to the pickup point.

Attendance Tops Estimate

ROCHESTER — A growth spurt, higher than estimated was reflected in initial attendance reports presented this week to the Rochester Board of Education.

Superintendent Douglas Lund reported an enrollment of 7,016 students to compare with 6,459 a year ago. He said the figures are close to 200 over anticipated enrollment.

Kindergarten figures showed an upward trend from 607 last year to 633 this week, Lund said school officials had thought kindergarten figures might decline as the area became older and better established.

Baldwin School seems to have been hit hardest in the enrollment jump. Lund said some aligning of classes is contemplated.

Lund said the board is looking forward to the opening of the new Long Meadow elementary school in the fall of 1967.

News of the Area

At Utica

School Sale Tabled

UTICA — Bids varied from $2,500 to $60,000 when Utica Schools attempted to sell the old two-room frame Maple Grove School, located at Utica Road and Kleino.

★ ★ ★

High bidder was the Marathon Oil Co., but board members Monday night tabled any action for a week.

The school had been used most recently as a special education building.

The board learned from architects that the new 20-room Morgan and Schwarzkoff Schools should be ready to open by Sept. 30.

This will mean that students at Switzer and Plumbrook Schools will be able to go back on full-day sessions as will those transferred to the new buildings.

COMPLETION DATE

Messmore School is expected to be completed by Nov. 30.

The board was told footings for the new Adlai Stevenson high school are half poured.

Supt. Philip E. Runkel said enrollment as of Monday stood at 14,999.

★ ★ ★

In Avondale

Board Describes Jobs, Names Chairmen

Personnel job descriptions and the naming of new department chairmen occupied the Avondale Board of Education at its meeting this week.

The contract with the district's custodians was ratified by the board, who anticipated that the custodians would ratify within a week.

Job descriptions for assistant superintendent in charge of instruction and personnel, and assistant superintendent for business affairs were adopted. The positions are filled by Charles Johnson and William Saville, respectively.

The position of maintenance employe, for which a job description was also adopted, has not been filled.

★ ★ ★

The board recommended employment of William F. Lightcap of Pontiac, who will graduate in January from Western Michigan College, as instructor of typing and business in the senior high school. The job is now filled by teachers during their conference periods.

CHAIRMEN NAMED

Department chairmen in the senior high school were named. Mrs. Thelma Anderson has charge of language arts; Miss Rose Bowman, science; and Leonard Passint, social studies.

★ ★ ★

At the junior high school, Mrs. Mary Clayton will head the science department and Don Geisler the social studies department.

The board expects to appoint department chairmen at the secondary level at the meeting Sept. 19.

District coordinators for kindergarten through grade 12 will be named in the areas of physical education and fine arts.

The board voted to continue severance pay for personnel who retire at the mandatory age of 65 at the rate of half their accumulated sick days. Members voted to continue paying special education teachers an additional $200 annually.

The last two items were not negotiated in the contract, according to Superintendent John W. Dickey, but were continued by the board because of established precedent.

Bids for the new fieldhouse, to be paid for by revenue from football and basketball games, will be opened at the Sept. 19 meeting. Dickey stressed that the construction is not a part of the $3.1 million building program approved by voters last spring.

He says the fieldhouse operation should be self-supporting.

Edward Turner and Jack Slotter Jr. will represent Avondale as delegate and alternate at the Michigan School Board Association annual meeting Nov. 1-3 in Grand Rapids.

IN THE SWIM — Many schools were closed yesterday when early morning rains, as much as 5 inches in some sections, flooded sections of Phoenix, Ariz. Using boats and inner tubes, children had fun in the 3-foot-deep pond created at this home on the north side of the Grand Canal.

Atlanta White Accused of Killing Negro Teen

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The Fulton County grand jury, which earlier indicted militant civil rights leader Stokely Carmichael on riot charges, now will consider a murder charge against a white man accused of slaying a Negro teen-ager in an incident which touched off racial violence.

★ ★ ★

William Haygood James, 42, was charged Tuesday night in the shooting death of Hulet Varner Jr., 16. Varner and a companion, Roy Wright, 16, were shot Saturday night from a car occupied by a white couple in a predominantly Negro area, police said.

★ ★ ★

Detective Supt. Clinton Chafin said James was bound over to the grand jury by Judge T.C. Little and held without bond. James' wife, Edna Ruth James, 34, was bound over to the grand jury as a material witness and held on a $2,000 bond, Chafin said.

The shootings led to three nights of violence, including shooting and tossed fire bombs. White and Negro leaders have been holding conferences in an effort to end the rioting, and the area remained quiet Tuesday night.

HOSPITALIZED

Wright was hospitalized after the shootings, but his injuries were not serious.

This violent incident came four nights after a riot in another predominantly Negro neighborhood. City officials blamed this riot on the militant Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee.

Three of its leaders, National Chairman Carmichael, Atlanta chapter head William Ware and worker Bobby V. Walton, were indicted on riot charges.

Carmichael, an advocate of "black power," had been bound over by a city judge on a charge of "incite to insurrect," a felony, but the grand jury reduced the charge to a misdemeanor. Carmichael's bond was lowered from $10,000 to $1,000 and the bonds of Ware and Walton were lowered from $5,000 to $1,000.

ARRESTED LATER

Carmichael was arrested two days after the riot in which 15 persons were injured and 72 arrested. Ware and Walton were arrested the day after the riot.

Maximum sentence under the misdemeanor charge is 12 days in jail or a $1,000 fine.

Candidates Due on Stand

LANSING (AP)—Fifteen candidates for major statewide office will be interviewed by law experts and businessmen Thursday in a day long Public Affairs Conference sponsored by the State Chamber of Commerce.

The conference opens tonight with a dinner meeting, to be addressed by Gov. George Romney. His Democratic opponent, Zolton Ferency, will speak Thursday.

Missing from the roster of candidates will be ex-Gov. G. Mennen Williams, Democratic candidate for U.S. Senate, who "has been ordered by his doctor not to attend the conference," said Donald Booth, director of the chamber's program.

Williams is recovering from surgery which he underwent last month.

QUESTIONING

Candidates for secretary of state, attorney general, the Michigan Supreme Court and the State Board of Education wil be asked to speak and be subjected to questioning.

The two supreme court incumbents — Chief Justice Thomas Kavanagh and Justice Otis Smith — and the Republican challengers —Thomas Brennan and Meyer Warshawsky — will be questioned by three law school deans.

The deans are Charles King of the Detroit College of Law, Arthur Neef of Wayne State University, and the Rev. Paul Harbrecht, SJ, of the University of Detroit.

Democratic Secretary of State James Hare and Democratic Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley will appear on the same program with Lawrence Lindemer, Republican attorney general candidate, and George Washington, Republican candidate for secretary of state.

STATE HEAD

Harry Hall, president of the State chamber, will conduct an informal interview of all four candidates.

U.S. Sen. Robert Griffin, R-Mich., will address the closing session and board of education candidates will deliver 10-min. speeches throughout the day. They include Democratic incumbents Dr. Leon Fill and Donald Thurber, and Republican challengers Dr. Leroy Augenstein and James O'Neil.

7 Charged With Driving School Fraud

DETROIT (AP)—The owner and six employes of the Safety Driving School in Detroit were arrested Tuesday and charged with conspiracy to defraud illiterate customers who sought driver's licenses.

Inspector James Bannon, chief of the Detroit police Criminal Invesigation Bureau, said the school charged its clients up to $750 and promised illiterate customers "special" courses.

"The sad fact is that all these people could have gotten licenses legally and easily by paying $4.50 to take a special oral examination at the secretary of state's office," Bannon said.

Warrants were issued against 13 persons, but only seven were arrested Tuesday. They were: Eugene Brown Jr., 38, owner of the school; Mrs. Rosie M. Packnet, 38, and her son, Emanuel Jr., 19; Luada Durham, 46, Bobby Jean Waters, 20; Lurene O'Neal, 25; and Bessie B. Stallworth, 34, all of Detroit. All pleaded innocent.

The conspiracy charge carries a maximum sentence of five years in prison.

It has been estimated that the cattle population of the United States is over 100 million head.

Toughs Unwanted Off the Gridiron

The Nation's temperature is rising sharply, and soon "Football Fever" will have most of the Country in its hot, bandaged hand.

★ ★ ★

One minor point may be overlooked in the clamor of "ready, hut! Go, Team, Go," the slap of padded shoulder against equally padded thigh and the waddle of knock-kneed behemoths reeling toward the bench.

Football is a game.

This means it is slightly less than a battle for survival. Complete annihilation of opponents is undesirable — after a while there is no one to bash. Temporary superiority is all that is necessary, really.

But football rivalry extends far from the playing field all too often. Despite the dominance of good clean sportsmanship among the players and coaches, sometimes the most dangerous plays are off the field. Football rivalry and excitement give way to vandalism, fights and acts of terrorism. Toughs and bullies who don't care a whit about football seize it as an excuse to seek out members of other schools and rough them up.

In some areas there has been enough of this kind of behavior to end night football, which deprives many fans of the chance to watch their children play. Adequate numbers of police and school officials at athletic events will help prevent some of this violence, but the true solution lies in the home training of the young people.

Managed News Shakes Public Confidence

A great tragedy of the war in Viet Nam is the widespread feeling among people in all walks of life that government news managers in Washington have resorted to trickery and deception in dealing with newspapers and the public.

Unreliable war news has shaken public confidence. However, even more tragic and more alarming is the fact that official evasion and suppression of news in connection with Viet Nam is merely typical of a long term trend to deny one of the most basic of our rights—the right to know.

The right to know is embodied in the first of the ten original amendments to the Constitution which states, "Congress shall make no law — abridging the freedom of the press."

While there has as yet been no overt attempt to abridge such freedom by law, some of the first steps have been taken in this direction—managed news, official gagging of government officials and employes, suppression of politically harmful news, coercion and retaliation for criticism of officialdom.

As a prominent business spokesman points out, "This matter of politicians and bureaucrats telling the public only what they want the public to know has been proceeding on a constantly increasing scale in Washington for a generation or more."

Would Stress Private Enterprise in Schools

There has been increasing criticism of our educational system for failure to teach in high schools and colleges down-to-earth economics — the everyday facts of business and government, which keep the wheels going around.

In a recent Newsweek article, HENRY HAZLITT discussed the perils of government ownership of business—not abstract theories leaving conclusions to the imagination.

They exist in business and government. He says: "When governments own railways, the railway fare must be subsidized. When governments own the power and light companies, power and light are subsidized. When governments own the airlines, the airlines are subsidized. Governments DO run the mail service, and the mail is carried at a huge loss."

The socialist argument begins by saying that fares and utility rates are too high because private industry is under necessity to make a profit. What is overlooked is that it is precisely the need to make a profit, or to avoid a loss, that leads to economy, efficiency and good service.

Government ownership removes the incentive to all three.

And there you have down-to-earth economics that can be checked in bread-and-butter results the world over — productivity, profits, taxes and jobs.

Congress Still in 'Creepy' Mood

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — This year, Congress had a creepy feeling, and it's still creeping.

It was different last year. That was the up-and-at-'em year.

MARLOW

The Democrats, fresh from their election triumphs in November 1964, ran the show in 1965 with their overwhelming majorities in both House and Senate. President Johnson called Congress' performance last year fabulous.

What it did was bound to change the social, economic and political life of the nation. It turned out legislation in a torrent, passing 86 major administration bills, including Medicare, voting rights, aid to education.

Johnson's Great Society programs were off to a stunning start. Last year's was probably the most productive single session of Congress in history.

After such a deluge, it was natural that Johnson this year wouldn't drown Congress in quite as big a flood of proposals as in 1965. And he hasn't.

But it would also seem natural that such a peppy Congress would still work with a rush, particularly since this is another election year with all 435 House seats and 35 Senate seats at stake. But it hasn't.

It has dawdled all year, so much so that there's a good chance now it will have to quit temporarily in mid-October, so members can go home and politick for the November elections, and then come back for a lame-duck session.

★ ★ ★

That session, since it would still be the present Congress, would include men defeated in November but none of the newly elected who can't take their seats until next year.

COULDN'T WAIT

But a lot of the members — starting perhaps last June—weren't waiting for mid-October to go home and try to round up votes. It's happening right now.

Monday, in the House on a roll-call vote, only 250 of the 435 members showed up. This concern about getting reelected, and the work it involves, explains in part the slow pace of the present Congress. But not all of it.

Johnson has lost much of his magic control over Congress, the kind he had in 1965 after his huge victory over Sen. Barry Goldwater in 1964 had carried a lot of Democrats to victory with him.

At a time when Johnson's own popularity with the public is slipping, according to the polls, it has slipped in Congress, too, at least to the extent that the members are no longer so eager to say "yes, sir," when Johnson speaks.

One veteran observer of the House remarked: "A lot of these guys this year are not so anxious to have their vote, yes or no, on a piece of legislation because that only means that much more explaining to the folks back home."

Today's Forgotten Man!

David Lawrence Says:

Anti-Inflation Plan Backfire Seen

WASHINGTON — President Johnson, of course, intended his recommendation for a suspension of the investment tax credit as a constructive move to help stop inflation. But many businessmen see it as a maneuver that actually will retard economic growth.

LAWRENCE

Perhaps the best argument against removal of the 7 per cent investment tax credit was made by Secretary of the Treasury Henry Fowler himself in hearings just a few months ago before the Senate Committee on Finance.

Here is what Fowler told the committee:

- The credit "provides incentives for expansion and modernization of productive capacity."
- It encourages "technological advance enabling the economy to increase productivity and thereby to deal with wage increases without price increases."
- In this way, as well as "by making investment here more attractive, the credit helps us to deal with our balance of payments."
- The credit isn't short-range; instead it becomes available when a project is completed, and, "as a matter of good faith and fairness, a suspension would have to provide exception for projects already contracted for prior to the effective date. The real impact of suspension of the credit might not hit us for a year or so following effective date of the suspension."
- Suspension of the credit "may hit the small plants hardest" because their investment programs usually are completed relatively fast.
- Uneconomic "repair and maintenance of outmoded equipment" would tend to return.
- Suspension would mean prompt curtailment of the very type of investment "which makes the most anti-inflationary contribution."

They believe that Secretary Fowler himself didn't favor the change but was overruled by the President.

Congress is bound to take a second look at the President's proposal, and pressure is likely to build up against making the suspension of credit retroactive.

But the real damage will be done in halting the expansion necessary to get new equipment so as to be able to produce goods at lower prices—which is in itself an effective means of combating inflation.

Bob Considine Says:

U.S. Is Puzzling Over What It Wants for Japan

CONSIDINE

We are proud of the role we played in getting the Japanese into the economic spiral that has seen them zoom to a point where they will soon shoot past West Germany as the world's third largest industrial power.

But we wish Japan would be a little less aggressive about doing business with Peking and Hanoi. Or with Russia, for that matter.

Americans here do their best, generally, not to arouse the loudly articulate Socialists and Communists in the Diet. But then we are faced with need to buy from the Japanese some of the things we need to wage war in Viet Nam: Metal runway mats for air bases, jungle boots, electronic equipment, barbed wire, trucks and clothing.

The bill came to just under $50 million during the first six months of 1966, and is skyrocketing in consonance with the escalation.

Japanese business firms felt no compunction about selling to our enemies at the same time.

William Stevenson, writing from Kuala Lumpur for the Afro-Asian News Service, recently quoted a Singapore critic's wrap-up of the odd situation:

"The pacifist element in Japan is, of course, the most useful when the government leaders wish to justify a policy that permits industrialists to have their cake and eat it too.

★ ★ ★

"The Japanese repair aircraft that back up the logistical system that supports the bombing of North Viet Nam, and the more damage the bombings achieve, the more the Japanese sell in replacements to North Viet Nam. They cannot lose."

Voice of the People:

'War Being Fought Only for Economic Reasons'

I am ashamed of people who don't protest the war in Viet Nam. I think those who condone and advocate it are the ones who "don't understand." It's easy to sit back and proclaim that we are fighting for freedom from Communism and the prevention of aggression. But we are forcing our democracy on Viet Nam as surely as we claim the Communists are trying to enforce their way of life.

★ ★ ★

I think a truer explanation of this war is that it is being fought solely for economic reasons.

★ ★ ★

It seems strange, if the majority are in favor of the Johnson regime and Viet Nam, that all of the people I know are against it. Must be that all the supporters are in Washington. I wonder what these supporters would say if civil war broke out here, and Russia or Red China decided to help the "poor, oppresssed minority?"

Union Officials' Conduct Termed 'Boorish'

The union officials certainly stood out in the Labor Day affair and a more boorish display would be difficult to find.

★ ★ ★

As a matter of protocol, if not courtesy, the Governor of any State should be included in the welcoming party for the President. Regardless of party affiliations, once a president is elected, he becomes the President of every American and as such is entitled to the respect due his office.

★ ★ ★

However, the unions have run things in a high-handed way for too long to recognize such things as courtesy and respect and their Labor Day actions were such as we have come to expect.

'Wage Escalation Only Paces Living Costs'

Inflation's chief cause is deficit financing by federal government which increases amount of paper circulating as money against a precarious gold reserve.

★ ★ ★

Workers selling their commodity, labor-power, under a long term contract take a cut in real wages when paid with this diluted currency. Also their standard of living is lowered for their aggregate wage now buys back less of the total wealth their labor produced.

★ ★ ★

Escalation clauses effective months after price rises are not inflationary and only attempt to maintain living standards. Today, it is moot whether the contracts labor is signing represent real gains or are just "catch-up" devices.

Question and Answer

My son served in the Signal Corps and cable construction in Viet Nam and would like training to become an electrician. Everyone we ask says the profession is a closed trade, handed down from father to son. Is this correct?

DOROTHEA L. VIOLETT

REPLY

William Wolf of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers says no. Anyone who meets the qualifications may apply for apprenticing. He must be 18-25 (up to 4 years active service time may be deducted from the age limit), a high school graduate and a resident of the area over which the apprentice committee has jurisdiction (that includes this area). He must apply in person, (1358 Abbot St., Detroit) and after application is made, aptitude and physical exams are given, high school grades are evaluated, followed by a personal interview. Applicants with the top qualifications are chosen for apprenticeship to fill the number needed for that year.

Experts' Errors

The Chicago Tribune

Professor Paul W. McCracken of the University of Michigan is right, when he says that today's economic problems are the result of "a major miscalculation of public policy which underestimated the strength of the expansion last year and early in 1966."

★ ★ ★

The fiscal and monetary policies pursued by the administration at that critical period, he said at a seminar sponsored by the University of Wisconsin, were inappropriate and "fueled an accelerating rise of business activity and set the stage for the difficult year ahead."

★ ★ ★

Mr. McCracken, who was a member of Mr. Eisenhower's council of economic advisers, said that public policy should have included a tax increase as well as monetary restraint, and that it would be helpful even at this late date.

★ ★ ★

There's nothing novel about what Mr. McCracken says. Critics of the administration have been demanding firmer anti-inflationary steps for some time. What is interesting, tho, is that among those who apparently agree with Mr. McCracken today are the two men whose job it has been to recommend public economic policy for the last six years.

★ ★ ★

Walter Heller, who was chairman of the council until a year and a half ago, could hardly see a cloud on the horizon while he was in office. He urged tax cuts. In a year or two, he said in late 1964, we would have the problem of another fiscal dividend to declare" in the form of more tax cuts or a "rebate" to the states. The so-called Heller plan was still very much alive as late as last fall. Dr. Heller has been having second thoughts since last spring, when the stock market began to show that investors in general were alarmed. Now he is calling from the sidelines for a tax increase.

★ ★ ★

His successor, Gardner Ackley, is reported by the magazine U.S. News & World Report to have "had the feeling all the while that a tax rise was needed." But the White House has muzzled him according to this report, for fear that it might be blamed if a recession should later develop.

★ ★ ★

So here we have one economic adviser who kept plugging for expansionary policies long after they should have been stopped and another who, if the reports are correct, has favored restraint all the while but has been afraid to open his mouth for fear the politicians would slap it shut. In short, government economists are as likely to be wrong in their forecasts and advice as anybody else, and even if they do see a storm approaching, the politicians are afraid to listen to them and to take necessary precautions. Can there by any more persuasive evidence that the so-called planned economy is a snare and a delusion?

Wage Bill Due for Final Action

GOP Senators Seek Coverage Changes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic leaders push for final congressional action today on legislation which would raise the minimum wage from $1.25 an hour to $1.60 and extend coverage to 8 million additional workers.

But Republican senators want their colleagues to reject the compromise measure and send it back to conference with the House for changes.

* * *

Democratic leader Mike Mansfield has arranged for three hours of debate on the measure before a vote. Its sponsors predict passage by a comfortable margin.

The House passed the compromise Wednesday, 259 to 89.

29.6 MILLION

The legislation would raise the wage floor for 29.6 million presently covered employes to $1.40 next Feb. 1 and $1.60 on Feb. 1, 1968.

It would bring under the Wages and Hours Act for the first time some farm workers, non-Civil Service federal workers, nonteaching grade and high school employes, and employes of hotels, motels, restaurants, laundries, transit systems, colleges and universities.

* * *

About 1.5 million additional employes of retail stores would be covered.

Sen. Winston L. Prouty, R-Vt., centered his objections on the deletion in conference of an amendment which would have eliminated coverage of 185,000 employes of relatively small business enterprises. He had won 41-38 Senate adoption of the amendment before the conference.

The bill would extend coverage next Feb. 1 to retail stores, hotels, restaurants and many other businesses doing $500,000 or more of annual business; and on Feb. 1, 1969, to firms doing $250,000 business a year.

The 380,000 farm workers who would be newly covered by the legislation would be entitled to a $1 minimum next Feb. 1, and then to two annual 15-cent steps, stopping with a $1.30 floor Feb. 1, 1969.

* * *

The approximately seven million others who would be covered for the first time also would start with $1 next year but go up in four annual 15-cent steps to $1.60 by 1971.

The farm workers affected by the bill would be only those on a farm using 500 or more man-days of employment in a three-month period to be covered.

His Pursuit of Safety Is Too Fast

LONDON (AP) — Sir Alfred Owen, one of Britain's top authorities on highway safety, has been convicted for speeding eight times.

Revealing this today, Sir Alfred, 57, said: "I'm doing a lot better now. I'm determined I'm going to restrict myself on my speed and be a law-abiding citizen."

Sir Alfred is chairman of the government's National Road Safety Advisory Council, an organization that makes recommendations on safety to the Transport Ministry.

Sir Alfred said that when he was appointed to the job last year he told former Transport Minister Tom Fraser about his speeding convictions.

Yank Describes Viet Escape

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — It was like this for the first American pilot to escape from North Vietnamese and Pathet Lao captors.

"They held a gun at my head and went 'click-click — ha, ha, American.' They beat me and hanged me upside down, putting ants on my face," said Lt. j.g. Dieter Dengler.

"We ate things that crawled through our hut. Once we caught a snake that had eaten two rats. We cut it open and ate the rats, too."

Dengler, a slender, handsome 28-year-old from Pacifica, Calif., spoke with a trace of an accent at a news conference. He was born in Germany and came to the United States in 1957.

DESCRIBES ORDEAL

Tanned, smiling and weighing 143 pounds, 45 more than when a helicopter snatched him from the jungle after five months in a Laotian prison camp run by North Vietnamese, he described his ordeal.

"In one village I was tied to a tree and used for target practice — the guards tried to see how close they could come to shooting me. Another time, one pulled a trigger with the rifle next to my left ear. It caused a deafness that lasted for several months.

* * *

"But the worst torture was being dragged by a water buffalo. My hands were tied so tightly the nerves were cut off."

Dengler said he told his captors nothing except his name, rank and serial number, as prescribed by the Geneva convention on prisoners of war.

DON'T KNOW

"Those people don't even know what the Geneva convention is," he said. "They don't know we exist. All they know is Laos, Cambodia and North Viet Nam."

He saw no prisoners sign proffered statements denouncing the United States, he said, though all were harassed.

Dengler hesitatingly told how he escaped with Air Force Lt. Duane Martin of Denver, Colo., then watched a villager hack Martin to death.

Dengler was flying a reconnaissance plane over North Viet Nam last Feb. 1 when ground fire brought it down. He landed across the border in Laos where he was captured a day later. He escaped once, for six days, then for good on June 29.

PLAN ESCAPE

Dengler said he and six other Americans confined in a thatched- roof hut decided to try to escape when they overheard guards planning to kill them.

"Lt. Martin and I decided it was better to die in the bush — as free men — rather than in the hands of Communists," he said.

* * *

Dengler said he had stolen four guns from the guards' hut. These, and some food, were divided among the group. They killed six guards in the escape. The Navy doesn't know what happened to the other Americans.

"We had no compass and didn't really know our position so we decided to find a river and follow it. We were weak and had to learn to walk again.

ALWAYS HUNTED

"The nights were the worst. Martin and I would lie together face to face to keep warm. We prayed together and we cried together. There was somebody hunting us all the time."

On the 19th day after the escape "we were crawling along a jungle path when this villager jumped out 20-feet in front of us. He yelled 'Americani, Americani' and started hacking Martin with his machete." Dengler said he escaped into a gully.

"I must have blacked out 20 or 30 times. The last four days were the worst after I lost my friend. But I was angry. I wanted to come home. I wanted to fly again."

Strike Situation Getting Worse in Zambia Mines

Another 2,000 men joined 7,000 African miners already on strike at the Roan Selection Trust's Mufulira mine and the Anglo American Corp. Rhokana plant. Though spokesmen for the companies would not comment, it was known they feared another paralyzing stoppage by the industry's 37,000 black labor force.

It was only a week since the majority of miners returned to work following an 11-day strike.

Rejected Governor, Foe of Kennedys Win Primary Victories

WASHINGTON (AP) — Minnesota Gov. Karl F. Rolvaag, rejected for renomination by his own Democratic-Farmer-Labor party, won the chance on his own Tuesday to seek a second term in the Nov. 8 general election.

In another of Tuesday's 11 primary elections, Edward J. McCormack, a long-time challenger to the Kennedy clan, captured the Democratic nomination for governor of Massachusetts. He defeated Kenneth P. O'Donnell, a top aide to President John F. Kennedy.

Former House Speaker Joseph W. Martin, 81, was beaten by a 35-year-old housewife and lawyer, Margaret M. Heckler, in his bid for Republican nomination to a 22nd term in another Massachusetts race.

Some other races indicated popular support of President Johnson's Viet Nam policies and an apparent white backlash to open housing, the most controversial section in the administration's civil rights bill. But national issues generally were scarce in the campaigns.

Besides Minnesota and Massachusetts, other primaries were held in Arizona, Colorado, Maryland, New Hampshire New Jersey, Rhode Island, Utah, Vermont and Wisconsin. Voters chose nominees for six governorships, nine Senate seats and 74 House seats.

HANDPICKED AIDE

Rolvaag, 53, stormed past his handpicked lieutenant governor, A. M. (Sandy) Keith, 37, who bucked Rolvaag in June to win the party's convention endorsement. The governor also seemed to be carrying his slate in three key races against Keith supporters.

* * *

* * *

Peabody will face in November Republican Atty. Gen. Edward W. Brooke, who was nominated without opposition. If victorious, Brooke will be the first Negro to sit in the Senate in 85 years.

Wisconsin Democrats gave Lt. Gov. Patrick J. Lucey their nomination for governor. Lucey, a staunch supporter of President Kennedy, will face Republican Gov. Warren P. Knowles, who was unopposed for renomination.

OTHER RACES

In other primaries Tuesday: Arizona — Former Phoenix Mayor Jack Williams won the GOP nomination for governor. Gov. Sam Goddard and Rep. George F. Senner Jr., Democrats, narrowly won renomination.

Colorado — J. Edgar Chenoweth, a House member for 22 years of the last 26 years, lost to David W. Enoch in a Republican bid for renomination to another term. Rep. Frank E. Evans, who defeated Chenoweth two years ago, won Democratic renomination. Sen. Gordon L. Allott and Gov. John A. Love won Republican renominations.

* * *

New Hampshire — Former Gov. Hugh Gregg won GOP nomination to challenge Democratic Gov. John W. King. Retired Brig. Gen. Harrison R. Thyng earned GOP bid to try unseating Sen. Thomas J. McIntyre, a Democrat. Rep. J. Oliva Huot, a freshman Democrat and supporter of President Johnson's Viet Nam policies, won renomination against William F. Horan Jr., who argued that only volunteers should be sent to Viet Nam. In another Democratic House race marked by the Viet Nam controversy, administration supporter William Barry Jr. downed Eugene S. Daniell Jr., a sharp foe of Johnson's war policies.

New Jersey — Warren W. Wilentz, a supporter of administration Viet Nam policies, captured the Democratic Senate nomination from David Frost, a vehement critic of the war. Wilentz will challenge Republican Sen. Clifford P. Case, unopposed in the primary.

* * *

Rhode Island — Lt. Col. Ruth M. Briggs, a retired WAC, defeated conservative Charles H. Eden in the GOP senatorial race and will oppose Democratic incumbent Clairborne Pell in November. Rep. Fernand J. St. Germain won a tight Democratic battle for renomination.

Hare Blames Legislators

Inaction on Driver Curbs Cited

LANSING (UPI) — Secretary of State James M. Hare yesterday had some harsh words for legislators — the majority of whom are fellow Democrats — for failing to enact tougher legislation for drivers who ignore moving violation tickets.

Hare blamed the pressure of the violation-point system for drivers avoiding or delaying their court appearances.

He said that in the last two years, 500,000 tickets have not been settled within the statutory time limit.

Hare has long pushed for the "Illinois system" under which a driver's license is lifted at the time of ticketing and not returned until his case has been settled in court. In the interim, he is given a temporary permit that expires on the court date.

* * *

"Unfortunately, some of the present critics of the point system took no interest in the plan during the legislative sessions of 1965 and 1966," Hare said.

'WORSE CASE'

He said the worst case of ticket-ducking involved a 26-year-old man who was issued 20 tickets between 1963-65 and who did not face the charges for periods of six months to two years.

"As a result, he was able to drive for almost two years after he should have been removed from the road," Hare said.

He said the man finally did have his license revoked for two years last March.

* * *

Hare said that "probably 100,000 drivers" in the last two years have avoided or delayed punishment under the point system by refusing to account for their tickets for periods ranging from six months to three years.

Holy Days for Jews to Start Today

NEW YORK (AP)—The ram's horn sounds around the world at sundown today, signaling the start of the Jewish High Holy Days and the Hebrew year 5727.

Services celebrating Rosh Hashanah, or the Jewish New Year, will be held in temples, synagogues and military installations from Jerusalem to Viet Nam.

* * *

Jewish personnel will attend services at Da Nang Air Force base, the Marine chapel at Chu Lai and at more than 600 other U.S. military installations throughout the world. Chaplains have been flown to the Azores, Bermuda, Labrador and Thailand to lead worshipers.

The advent of Rosh Hashanah marks a 10-day period of meditation which concludes Sept. 24 at the end of Yom Kippur, the Day of Atonement and the most solemn Jewish observance.

TRAGEDY STRIKES AGAIN — Mrs. Marylin Walchuk, widow of Harry Walchuk, one of the 16 victims of Charles Whitman, the deranged tower sniper of Aug. 1, shows her six children some of the books she will be using this fall. She is returning to the scene of the slaying — the University of Texas — to finish her master's degree in special education and learn how to deal with the emotionally disturbed. Mrs. Walchuk, after bringing her family to Texas from Michigan, received word that her father was critically injured in an auto mishap in South Dakota.

First Moon Travelers to Get Quarantine Treatment Upon Return

By RONALD THOMPSON

MANNED SPACE CENTER, Houston, Tex. (AP)—The first three Americans who take a round-trip voyage to the moon will be treated more like they had the plague than as heroes of the day—at least for a few weeks.

There'll be no tickertape parades, handshakes from the president or even hugs and kisses from their families until the U.S. Public Health Service makes sure the cosmic travelers didn't bring home some strange lunar varmints.

* * *

Some scientific circles have long expressed fears that men who explore the universe might unknowingly come in contact with harmful organisms that could thrive on our planet. With this possibility in mind, however remote, National Aeronautics and Space Administration plans take no chances.

* * *

The astronauts, their capsule and the 60 pounds of priceless moon rocks they are assigned to collect and bring back will be under strict quarantine for about three weeks. Only a few technicians and doctors will be permitted near them, then only after special precautions.

LUNA LAB

Designed for this purpose, an $8.1-million Lunar Receiving Laboratory, to include bunks for the spacemen and party, is now under construction at the Manned Spacecraft Center. It is due to be finished by late next year, in time to support optimistic hopes the first lunar voyage might be attempted in 1968.

Here, NASA, the Public Health Service and the Atomic Energy Commission will team to decide when an all-clear can be declared.

* * *

A 50-foot deep basement with 3-foot concrete walls has been built for the AEC radiation studies on men and machine.

This cautious association with the moon crew under any other circumstances might seem downright impolite, and begins the minute the spaceship hits the water, home from an eight-day journey.

ISOLATION SUITS

For instance, when frogmen leap into the ocean to help the astronauts and attach a flotation collar to keep the spacecraft from sinking, they first leave three protective isolation suits in a small raft beside the craft and swim away.

These rescuers normally chat freely with returning spacemen, and often are the first earthlings to touch them. Not this time. The rule of the moment will be: "Assist the flight crew (astronauts) only if needed; otherwise move some distance away until the crew dons the biological isolation suits."

* * *

Officials are not concerned that the outside surface of the Apollo moonship might be contaminated, figuring that the searing, 6,000-degree heat of reentry to earth's atmosphere would burn away any foreign particles, or organisms.

While the outside may be burned clean, the inside remained a comfortable temperature. Therefore, once plucked out of the water, no one goes inside the vehicle except one of the astronauts, who slips in to get the lunar samples and other selected items.

Although the lunar landing flight plan calls for only two members of the three-man crew to descend to the moon's surface in a small excursion vehicle, all three will face the rigid quarantine.

The astronauts head directly into isolation quarters with a doctor and technician aboard the recovery ship, which hurries to the nearest port.

* * *

Moon samples, recorded data from the trip and astronaut biological specimens are to be flown directly from the ship to Houston. The astronauts wait for a flight until reaching port, while the spaceship—its hatch tightly sealed—is either flown or transported by rail to the laboratory.

PLANNING STAGES

The exact schedule for the decontamination period is now only in the planning stages, but according to Joseph V. Piland, the laboratory's program manager, it will be devised with three primary purposes in mind:

* * *

"1. Quarantine and testing for possible harmful organisms in samples, the astronauts and the spacecraft.

"2. Perform scientific investigation time-critical (necessary immediately) that must be accomplished.

* * *

Equally important to the scientific community in terms of isolation is caution in handling the moon samples—to prevent the possibility that the rocks might be contaminated by earth atmosphere.

VACUUM CHAMBERS

Piland said it is doubtful the moon material will be touched by human hands until after the quarantine, and all work with it will be conducted in vacuum chambers closely simulating the moon's atmosphere.

One of the big questions, he said, is: "What is it?"

* * *

"We want to make sure its in its true state," Piland explained. "If we allow it to get contaminated, it might spoil the whole investigation. We want it as near the pure, virgin state as we can possibly get."

After preliminary tests, the samples will be divided into about 50 packages, then shipped to specially selected scientists around the country, and abroad, for in depth studies that could lead to better estimates about the moon's age and origin, Piland said.

DETERMINATION

What if a strange organism is detected, something never seen on earth, how will it be determined whether it is harmful?

"When you attempt to detect harmful organisms, methods have to be based on what you know. We know about earth organisms. What to do with something we don't know about is questionable, but we will bring to bear all our knowledge, and skills to do it," Piland explained.

"Say we did find something new, we'd just bring all our scientific knowledge together to determine if it is harmful. Germ-free animals, of the guinea pig type, will be used, of course, as well as plants."

5 Escapees Back in Jail in Saginaw

SAGINAW (UPI) — Five men who clubbed two guards and stabbed a deputy in a jailbreak early Sunday were back behind bars today following a roundup which climaxed in a Port Huron hotel.

Charles Chisholm, 35, Brown City, and Ira Patton were picked up in the downtown hotel yesterday. Police said they were not armed and offered no resistance.

Terry Meehleder, 18, was arrested Monday night in a Saginaw home and Frank Wander, 25, was picked up by State Police Monday as he walked along I-75 near Saginaw.

Ford Rips LBJ Over Inflation

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Rep. Gerald R. Ford, R-Mich., House minority leader, Tuesday described President Johnson's proposals to combat inflation as inadequate.

Ford, who spoke to the Mid-America Gasoline Dealers Association, said the chief of the President's proposals was for suspension of the 7 per cent investment tax credit.

* * *

"When the federal government consistently and persistently spends more money than it takes in, it helps accelerate inflation," he said.

Ford said the alternatives to federal belt-tightening are higher taxes or higher inflation. "I think American people expect the government to show a little frugality in times like this," he said.

DOWN BUT NOT OUT — Lewis Clark Jr., 22, of Fairmont, Minn., doesn't let a broken back keep him away from his saw sharpening business. Lewis, a polio victim, fell last July, breaking his back. He has been fitted with a 50-pound body cast under his clothing which will confine him to the hospital cart for about nine months.

Kelley School Aid Ruling Awaited

LANSING (AP)—State education and budget officials are waiting for Atty Gen. Frank Kelley to tell them just what the Legislature did when it passed a supplemental school aid bill earlier this month.

The bill was to increase state assistance to schools by $9.2 million this year—$4 million of it to help out financially distressed Detroit.

But some experts feel that because the bill will not take effect until the fiscal year is three - quarters completed (about April 1), assistance may be cut to about one-fourth those amounts.

School aid — at nearly $500 million, the largest single item in Michigan's nearly $1 billion general fund budget — becomes a major issue and a significant political tool in the Legislature at least once a year.

★ ★ ★

It amounts to a system of allowances by the state to school districts.

4 ALLOWANCES

There are four major allowances — the largest based directly on the size of school enrollment. The other three are for transportation, tuition and special education programs.

The enrollment or membership allowance is set at $280.50 per pupil, under terms of the bill passed this month.

In order to equalize state assistance somewhat between richer and poorer districts, another factor is worked into this basic formula: the deductible millage factor.

This means the State Department of Education totals the state equalized valuation of all taxable property within the school district, multiplies it by a certain number of mills (set by the Legislature each year) and subtracts it from the amount the district has coming from the state.

For particularly low-valuation districts there is a special formula: a per-pupil allowance of $407.50 with a deductible factor of 15 mills.

Schools also get about 75 per cent reimbursement for transportation and special education projects—such as programs for the mentally and physically handicapped, the emotionally disturbed, visiting teachers and diagnosticians.

Some $500,000 is set aside for tuition reimbursement.

MUST PAY

When a school district has to send some of its own students to schools in another district, it must pay tuition to the receiving district.

The state then helps defray the tuition cost of the sending district.

More than 2 million youngsters returned to public schools across the state last week, and school administrators soon will start counting noses—each one worth $280.50 or $407.50, less, of course, the deductible millage.

Interesting Thought

Yearly Marriage Licenses

By DICK WEST
United Press International

WASHINGTON — Let's hear it out there for Mrs. E. M. Barker of Wells, Tex.

You may be shocked by her suggestion, but I think you will agree that she deserves a round of applause for progressive thinking.

"As you know," Mrs. WEST Barker writes, "a lot of licenses have to be renewed each year. Dog, fishing, hunting, auto, liquor, chauffeur and so on probably into the hundreds.

"So what would happen if marriage licenses had to be renewed each year? Would there by any golden anniversaries? Or even silver ones?"

★ ★ ★

Since I don't know the lady personally, I am unable to say whether Mrs. Barker got this idea from licensing a dog or whether her husband did something to inspire it.

INTERESTING CONJECTURE

Either way, it lends itself to some rather interesting conjecture.

Mrs. Barker appears to believe that many married people are more fond of hunting than they are of wedlock and if marriages were operated on a year-to-year basis they would let their licenses expire.

I am convinced, however, that the opposite would be true.

Suppose that ducks were flying overhead all the time and that a person could at any given moment shoot as many as he cared to. Do you think that under these conditions anyone would give a hoot about duck hunting? Of course not.

★ ★ ★

Duck hunting owes its appeal to the fact that there are legal obstacles, bag limits, license requirements, seasonal bans, etc. between the duck and the hunter.

DIVORCE LAWS

By the same token, divorce laws make it difficult to dissolve a marriage. Ergo, divorces are highly popular. But there are no laws that make it difficult to stay married.

★ ★ ★

I'm not saying it isn't difficult. I'm just saying there is no governmental interference.

This month I have to take my car to a garage for its semiannual inspection. It occurred to me that a similar program could be adopted for marriages.

A couple would have to appear periodically before a marriage inspector. If he found the marriage was defective, he would give them a reject slip.

★ ★ ★

'Cong Viewed as Lesser Evil'

By Science Service

NEW YORK — The people of South Viet Nam, by all evidence, do not like communism.

Yet if they had to choose between their present military regime and the Viet Cong, they would probably take the Viet Cong, a national convention of psychologists was told here.

This analysis of South Vietnamese attitudes was made by Dr. Ralph K. White of George Washington University, who bases his conclusions on a study of publicly available evidence.

Dr. White told the American Psychological Association meeting here he has found good reason to believe the typical South Vietnamese villager is fully aware the Viet Cong is Communist controlled.

★ ★ ★

Moreover, the villager fears and dislikes the type of communism that has been established in the North, the Washington psychologist said.

SEVERAL REASONS

Nevertheless, this same villager seems to view the Viet Cong as a lesser evil for several reasons.

The people of South Viet Nam apparently hated the Diem regime, Dr. White said.

They see some change for the better in the government now. But the change has not been great enough.

Balloons May Save Space Boosters

By AL ROSSITER JR.
United Press International

SPACE CENTER, Houston — Balloons have been carrying men into the sky since 1783. Now scientists are thinking about using them to lower burned-out rockets back to earth.

* * *

The idea is to get the spent first stages of super rockets back in one piece so they can be refurbished and used again — at a considerable saving over the $40 million to $50 million cost, for example, of a new first stage for a Saturn 5 moon rocket.

As it stands today, the boosters for all the nation's space launchers are discarded about 2½ minutes after launch and left to plunge to a fiery death in the thick layer of atmosphere blanketing the earth.

Engineers have been looking at a number of ways to get the spent rockets back in one piece. Among the retrieval methods suggested have been the use of parachutes and gliding devices to ease the empty rocket casings back to the sea.

* * *

Two aerospace technologists at the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's Langley Research Center at Hampton, Va., suggested last week at a space conference in Houston that a large balloon might be able to do the job.

USE BALLOON

They reasoned that a balloon might first be able to slow the booster as it plowed back into the atmosphere, and then produce enough buoyancy to gently lower the rocket into the sea.

* * *

"The number of first-stage boosters required for flights anticipated during the next decade might be reduced appreciably if boosters can be recovered and reused," Stanley H. Scher and James C. Dunavant said in a paper presented at an aerodynamic deceleration systems conference.

Their study was based on a system that must be designed to recover the Saturn 5 first stage — a 138-foot long giant that is five times as powerful as the Saturn that will orbit the first manned Apollo spaceship in December.

To handle a rocket the size of the Saturn 5 booster, Scher and Dunavant estimated that a balloon about 300 feet in diameter—as wide as a football field is long—would be needed.

* * *

Since the device would be subjected to reentry temperatures up to 805 degrees as gravity pulled the rocket casing back toward earth, they suggested that the balloon be made of a glass fiber cloth. A metal fabric was also considered, but was discarded as too expensive.

CUT LOAD

According to their preliminary study, the balloon recovery system would weigh about 45,000 to 50,000 pounds. This would reduce the weight-lifting ability of the Saturn 5 by about 3.5 per cent, roughly cutting the Saturn's earth orbital payload from 250,000 pounds to 241,000 pounds.

* * *

The balloon would be mounted on the top of the first stage. After the booster separates from the Saturn's second stage, a rocket control system would turn it around so that it would dive back toward earth engine end — first.

As the 338,000-pound rocket coasted to a peak altitude of about 85 miles, the balloon would be unfounded. As it fell back into the atmosphere, air would rush in to inflate the balloon.

Because of its rapid dive into the upper layers of the atmosphere, the air inflating the balloon would be hot. As the balloon neared earth, its air would begin to cool, but still would remain warmer than the air outside. This, the engineers figured, would produce a significant buoyant effect.

* * *

With a 300-foot balloon, the lifting force of the hot air would not be enough to match the weight of the rocket, but would slow it enough so that it would fall into the ocean at about 60 miles per hour — slow enough to keep the booster intact.

FLOTATION SYSTEM

A flotation system would then keep the booster afloat until it could be recovered by ship.

* * *

The engineers said their preliminary study indicated that such a recovery system is "sufficiently promising to warrant further investigation."

Officers of extension study groups will meet Thursday for registration in the Drayton Plains United Presbyterian Church at 9:15 a.m. Mrs. Carol C. Kurth, area extension home economist in Oakland County, will head the meeting.

Council president, Mrs. Berle Dean will introduce guest speaker, Mrs. Loa Whitfield, assistant director of extension family living education, Michigan State University.

Topics will include "Yesterday, Today and Tomorrow" and "Officers and Leaders . . . How Important Are They?"

* * *

Following a schoolgirl luncheon, discussion groups will be held. Heading the discussions will be Mrs. Kurth, Mrs. Dean, Mrs. June Sears, Mrs. Mary A. Hardy and Mrs. Marcelene Tiberg.

Materials for officers will be available at this session.

Brigitte Hansel Is Bride-to-Be

Casualness Is Upsetting to Woman

By ELIZABETH L. POST

The following letter has been chosen as the prize-winning one for this week. A copy of Emily Post's "Etiquette" has been sent to the writer who asked that her name be withheld.

Dear Mrs. Post: In the past few years, the very casual manner that children have for adults, including calling their parents' close friends by their first name, has bothered me greatly.

I simply don't feel that a child of four or more should address an adult as Mary or Bob. How do you feel about this matter?

* * *

Also, I do not feel that most children respect the belongings of their hostesses. They come into our home and touch, pick up, or play with personal belongings without permission or consideration as to whether they will break.

I would appreciate your commenting on this in your column. —Mrs. X.

Dear Mrs. X.: I feel exactly as you do about children calling adults by their first names. This whole attitude of children and parents being "pals" is abnormal.

* * *

You can't change the fact that parents are older than their children and therefore have education and experience that children cannot have.

They are in the position of authority whether they like it or not and children must be taught to recognize and respect that fact.

* * *

The same sort of thinking which encourages the use of first names is the cause of your second complaint: unwillingness to accept authority.

The only reason children have no respect for others' possessions is that their parents have failed to instill it.

YWCA Nursery Opens Registrations on Sept. 19

The YWCA nursery formerly operated only for the convenience of Y members attending classes has expanded to accept other applicants.

Sixty children may be registered for the nursery sometime during the week of September 19.

The nursery will be open to youngsters two and a half to five years of age, beginning Oct. 10 in both morning and afternoon sessions.

* * *

Elizabeth Schadt, director of the nursery, is a resident of Birmingham and a graduate of Keble college in Mississippi. She previously operated a nursery of her own in Delhi, New York.

* * *

The program of the YWCA nursery is built on the principle of providing a variety of experience and activities which will aid the child in his development as an individual and increase his ability to participate as a member of the group.

* * *

A daily schedule of activities includes supervised free play, story period, games, art work, learning games, snack time and outdoor activities.

The morning session is 8:30-12:15 and the afternoon session 12:45-4:30 p.m.

* * *

Pair Betrothed

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Milne Hay of Grosse Pointe Park, announce the engagement of their daughter, Mary Sue, to Clarence Edward Bradley Jr., son of the senior Clarence E. Bradleys, also of Grosse Pointe Park.

JUDITH LEIGH ELY

January vows are planned by Michigan State University graduates, Judith Leigh Ely and James Ralph Dewling. Parents of the couple are the Winston T. Elys of Green Lake and the Richard W. Dewlings of Robin Drive, Commerce Township.

Sleeps Through Concerts

Mate Is Miffed by Music

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am a plain ordinary guy. I like golf and poker with the boys once in a while, read mystery stories, and my favorite TV shows are the shoot'em-up westerns. I tell you this just to give you an idea of what kind of person I am.

ABBY

My wife likes the social scene. She doesn't know any more about high class music than I do, but she gets tickets for operas, concerts, and the symphony, and I have to take her so she can show off her clothes.

Last night we went to a concert, and I fell asleep during the second half. I snored once, and she kicked me awake. I heard about it all last night and this morning. I told her to take someone who enjoys that stuff and let me stay home.

She says a woman should be escorted by her husband. How can I get her to let me skip it?

PLAIN GUY

DEAR PLAIN: Sorry, no help from here. You can't reason with a woman who thinks Chopin is Chinese food but goes to the concerts to show off her clothes. Your crime was snoring, not snoozing. So go and stay awake or put a silencer on the schnoz.

DEAR ABBY: Will you please tell us waitresses why a man will come into a dining room where there is just one table messed up, and he will sit there everytime?

A WAITRESS

DEAR WAITRESS: Maybe he's just a slob who feels more "at home" at a messed up table.

Fall Classes Will Start for Expectant Parents

The Oakland County Medical Society, Oakland County Department of Health, and various adult education departments are again sponsoring Expectant Parent Classes. Classes start next week.

The classes will be held in Royal Oak, Birmingham and the OC Health Department on North Telegraph Road.

Classes began at 7:30 p.m. and end at 9:30 p.m. There are eight classes in a series.

Films and other audio-visual aids will be used to highlight the programs.

The Pontiac classes will be on Mondays; Royal Oak on Wednesdays and Thursdays; and Birmingham on Mondays and Tuesdays.

Registrations will not be accepted after the first class.

Additional information may be obtained by contacting the Oakland County Health Department on North Telegraph Road.

Garden Unit Starts Year

A luncheon meeting on Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Burt Bouwkamp on Masefield Court launched the fall season for the Kern Lake branch, Woman's National Farm and Garden Association.

Mrs. Marvin L. Katke, president of the Michigan Division WNFGA, spoke of the background and purposes of the organization.

The hanging basket cover page designed by Mrs. Duane Miller, vice president, for this year's roster symbolized the group's first project since affiliating with WNFGA.

Miss King Takes Vows

The Thomas (Mich.) Methodist Church was the setting for the recent marriage of Nancy Lee King to Ronald J. Bojack. Both are of Detroit.

★ ★

★ ★

★ ★

Douglas Bojack of Chicago was his brother's best man. They are the sons of the Stephen Bojacks of Flat Rock. Ushers were Detroiters James Fitzpatrick and James Fox.

Steinhelpers in Cleveland After Vows

The Richard Alan Steinhelpers (Jo Ann Gail Legge) left for a trip to Cleveland after their recent marriage in St. Michael Catholic Church and reception in Devon Gables.

Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. Herald V. Legge of Midland Drive and the Leonard J. Steinhelpers of Spence Street.

A Zipper Problem

DEAR POLLY — I am 12 years old and am making my first dress. It needs a long zipper and my mom does not have a zipper foot to her sewing machine. Can anyone tell me how to put in a zipper without this attachment? — GAYLE

DEAR POLLY — My Pointer is for pregnant or obese ladies. Take a wire coat hanger, pull it out double so the hook remains on one end. This is most useful for picking up most anything that has fallen on the floor. This gadget is also useful for reaching thigs on closet shelves. I want to thank the reader who sent the solution for prespiration odor in clothes. I used the deodorant soap and it certainly does work. — ELIZABETH

DEAR POLLY — I want to tell A Constant Reader, who has trouble with the birds eating the cherries off her tree, that for many years we used tin cans to solve this problem.

We removed the paper label, punched a hole near the top of the side and used a fine wire to fasten cans to the upper branches of the tree. We usually put two or three on an average-sized tree. Leave the wire long and loose enough so the cans will blow in the breeze.

DEAR POLLY — When a friend or relative is in the hospital and you want to remember her with more than a card, yet not spend as much as you would for flowers or a gift, send a plain card with 10 dimes attached with cellophane tape and write the following verse on the card:

"When it is snack time or Coke Time,
Won't you please spend one of these dimes?"

One could send more or fewer dimes, all depending on what you want to spend. I have sent these to both elderly people and to children and it seemed to be equally appreciated by all. — JENNIE

DEAR POLLY — In Japan, they tie several large, furry pieces of material or old fur scraps in the higher branches of their cherry trees and the wind moves them so they look like cats and scare the birds away. It works real well here in Colorado. —NAOMI

Financial Know-How Learned From Club Activities

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

The wage earner with little money and even less financial know-how is catching onto the fact that he, too, can become An Investor. Tired of being warned that "unless you know something about the market, steer clear of it," he's looking for ways of learning something.

MARY FEELEY

Maybe he doesn't expect to make a killing in stocks — but on the other hand, maybe a few dollars can earn a few more, and what's wrong with that?

The growth of Investment Clubs around the country reflects this yen by both men and women in moderate circumstances to get in on the fascinating workings of the money world. And what is an Investment Club?

Generally it's a group of people living in the same area, with about the same amount of cash to play with, and the same desire to learn how you can own shares in American industry.

These groups come into being simply because somebody takes the initiative and rounds up other interested neighbors — somewhat like getting a poker game started or drumming up a foursome for bridge, although the aim here is knowledge rather than risky excitement.

Primarily, the Investment Club is an educational project. Gradually, with the advice and coaching of the club's chosen broker, plus study of pertinent publications and aids suggested and supplied through membership in the National Association of Investment Clubs, members learn by doing.

Some 40,000 of these clubs are now in existence, with each club having about 10 to 25 members. The usual amount of money each member puts into the club kitty is $10 a month.

While a club committee may present suggestions as to what stock to invest in each month, the final decision is made by majority vote of the members. Nobody expects to get rich, but everybody gets smarter as time goes on.

In addition to monthly club meetings, opportunities for learning are afforded by Regional Council meetings where club members can go and get help with club problems.

These Regional Councils, organized by the National Association of Investment Clubs, spring up wherever there are enough club members in an area to make a group program practical. The NAIC located at 1300 Washington Boulevard Building, Detroit 26, Michigan, declares itself a completely independent organization, not owned by any individual or affiliated with any brokerage firm, company or stock exchange.

A non-profit organization, all but one of its officers are volunteers. It publishes an Investment Manual, which gives information on many subjects, including How to Start an Investment Club; How to Learn How to Study a Stock; Where to Get Individual Assistance. And, of course, legal and tax angles.

The club movement began in the early 1940's. According to the New York Stock Exchange, about 600,000 people in this country are currently Investment Club members, with holdings estimated at more than $800 million.

Just to keep your feet on the ground, keep in mind that most clubs the first two years show losses or very small gains.

But as the membership becomes better informed and the money in the kitty grows, the records show that gains begin to materialize.

If there is no Investment Club operating in your community, and the idea of starting one appeals to you, talk it over with local brokers or get in touch with the NAIC.

* * *

Why Grow Old?

BY JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

This is my Group Therapy Period when I bring my overweight readers together through my column for inspiration and the discussion of some problems which occur when reducing. There is nothing more convincing than the voice of experience. The letter for today says:

"Dear Mrs. Lowman:

"I wouldn't have believed it, that I could ever look like I do, if I hadn't seen it with my own eyes! I had been overweight and had been unhappy about it for years and years.

"Sure, I dabbled with reducing a day or two here and a week or two there, but never stuck to it long enough. Your gentle nagging in our local newspaper and your Beauty Improvement Plan did it. Looking back I realize that what I needed all the time was encouraging nagging and a definite time limit. To know that I could lose so many pounds in so many weeks did it!

DEVELOPED TRICKS

"I also learned a lot about myself during the eight weeks and developed a few tricks of my own which might help other women to lose weight. For instance, when I had tried to reduce before, I ate very lightly at my three regular meals. Therefore, I couldn't understand why I didn't lose.

I wouldn't even eat much in between meals, at least it didn't seem like much—just a little nibble here and there. When I really began counting every single bit of anything I ate I found out. Believe me, I will never forget it!

* * *

"I also found that it helped to save a few calories for in between meals, not the kind of snacks I had been having, but a glass of skim milk, a glass of tomato juice, or an apple. However, these were all counted in on my daily allowable calorie intake."

In this letter two important tenets of reducing stand out like beacon lights to guide you to a successful loss of weight. First, a time limit does help. In fact, if you must lose many pounds it is essential. Otherwise you will be overwhelmed by even the idea of the project. Even if you have only 10 pounds to lose it helps.

SERIOUS NIBBLING

Second, or perhaps it should be first, nibbling. Many serious but uninformed reducers have been sabotaged by this. I hope that the following will give you, if not happy, at least rewarding nightmares.

Just as a sample — one 2-inch square Brownie, 145 calories; one chocolate almond bar, 200 calories; potato chips, 10 medium, 100 calories; 20 peanuts, 100 calories. I can't stand to write any more of this, but I am sure you get the idea

* * *

If any of you would like to lose from 15 to 20 pounds in the next eight weeks you may want my Beauty Improvement Plan. If so, send 25 cents, plus 15 cents for postage and handling and your printed name and address. Address Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Repel Bugs

Crawling insects can be warded away from the picnic table if you put a small piece of blotting paper, saturated with insect repellent, under each leg.

Spiced Tomatoes Are Fine as Meat Relish

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Homegrown tomatoes now appear in salads and show up in lunch bags. This is the season to enjoy them fresh and to put away as many as will be used this winter.

For years Mrs. John Wardell of Pontiac made Spiced Tomatoes for her family.

When her daughter, Mrs. Howard Brooks, finally got her mother's recipe on paper, she was surprised to see how small it is. Mrs. Wardell had always made four times the amount.

SPICED TOMATOES
By Mrs. John Wardell

4 pounds tomatoes
2 pounds sugar
1 tablespoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon cloves
1 teaspoon salt

Peel and slice tomatoes. Add rest of ingredients and simmer until thick. Add one pint cider vinegar and simmer again until thick. Pack in sterilized jars. Makes 3-4 pints.

Perpetual Claim

Starts to Feel Ownership

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE A-519: Mabel G., aged 38, presents an interesting problem.

"Dr. Crane," her boss began, "Mabel has occupied a desk in one corner of our office for 15 years.

"She has been a good stenographer too.

"But recently an efficiency expert rearranged our office layout and assigned a different girl to Mabel's former desk and typewriter. DR. CRANE

"Mabel is now indignant, for she claims that desk is hers!

"Actually, it belongs to the firm, for she was just hired to use it, and now she has another desk just as good as the old one.

"But Mabel feels irate and acts as if her former desk and typewriter have been stolen from her."

SQUATTER'S RIGHTS

Whenever we occupy any land or desk or office space very long, even though we never paid for such, we begin to feel "squatter's rights."

U. S. Senators and Representatives also show this very same attitude and grow indignant if their former office is allotted to another member of Congress.

That's one reason why our Founding Fathers set a 2-term limit to the Presidency.

For when a man holds a job too long, he begins to think he has perpetual claim to it.

Thus, kings were originally elected from the outstanding warriors in the tribe.

But the king soon decided he had a "divine right" to the top position and then laid claim to the throne for his children and grandchildren, to the end of time!

Workers today right here in America seem to feel that they "own" their jobs, though they are simply paid employees of the real owner or stockholder.

* *

Even if they are inferior in their output and a liability to the firm, they still feel they have a "divine right" to lifelong tenure.

This is an illogical position, but has been cultivated in the past few generations by politicians.

As a result, if workers quit their jobs and leave crops spoiling in the fields or factory contracts unfilled, the previous workers grow incensed if Mexican laborers are brought in to pick the fruit and vegetables.

Or, if management then hires new workers at the factory or store, the former workers charge the newcomers with taking "my job."

Actually, you have no true claim to any job unless you are paying yourself the wages or salary as an independent, self-employed worker!

But when everybody can vote, the politicians soon accede to illegal demands, for they want to win elections.

It would thus be wise if we limited the President to just one term of 6 years and set a maximum time for 12 years for any Representative or Senator to hold his seat in either House of Congress.

And the turmoil over a 4-year term for Representatives could be cleared up if half of the lower house were to come up for election every 2 years.

But the Representatives then could devote 3 full years out of their 4-year term to enacting sound laws, without running back home half their time to mend their political fences, as now is true with the 2-year terms.

Marine Corporal Claims Bride in Birmingham

Maceday Nursery Sets Start of Classes

The Maceday Cooperative Nursery at Lakeland United Presbyterian Church began its classes Monday. Classes will meet Monday, Wednesday and Friday from 9:30 to 11:30 p.m. until June.

★ ★ ★

Block building to stimulate imagination and develop coordination is only one fact in the education of three- and four-year-old children enrolled in the nursery.

The children are also instructed in music, woodworking and painting.

A special story time is allotted to help them develop a love and respect for books and teach them to sit still and pay attention.

The nursery is a non-profit cooperative organization. Mothers take turns in working with the teachers.

The object of the nursery is to provide the children with an exposure to social, emotional, mental and physical growth for the time when the child enters kindergarten.

Honor Parents on Anniversary

The couple, wed April 15, 1916 had six children. They are John Jr., Mrs. Donald Jostock, Louis, Amelia, Mrs. R. J. Pullen Jr. of Sylacauga, Ala. and another daughter, Mrs. Gerald Maas, deceased.

There are 11 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

The engagement of Helen Margaret Craven to Raymond D. Blair is announced by her parents, the George W. Cravens of Clement Road, Springfield Township. He is the son of the John Blairs of Grace Street, Avon Township.

SEW SIMPLE

By Eunice Farmer

Dear Eunice,

I have just seen some very expensive crepe dresses that had absolutely no pressing done on the hem. They had a small chain in the hem. Can we home-sewers do this too? How is the novice to know when to press and when not to press a hem.

Mrs. V. B.

Dear Mrs. V. B.:

Different fabrics make basic rules changeable, as I've said before, rules are made to be broken! Top designers for some time have eliminated the sharp pressing on hems of any kind, that is why the underlining principle became so popular. I have seen the dresses to which you are referring. The underlining must come down to the hem and be included in the width of the hem (a separate lining will not have the same effect).

Lightly tack the metal chain to the fold line of the hem on the lining itself. Then turn up the hem of the fabric and the underlining together, and lightly tack it to the underlining. This will give the hem a soft, folded appearance. Actually, it is a beautiful finish for any type of crepe fabric since crepe is so difficult to hem. Because of the give in it, the hem usually doesn't hang straight. Try it, it's fun to use these couture touches on your clothes.

Dear Eunice,

My friends are afraid to buy new clothes. I'm afraid to make any because of the uncertainty of the skirt length. What would you suggest?

Mrs. J. T.

Dear Mrs. J. T.:

Your apprehension is probably caused by the fact that Dior's collection showed a few mid-calf length skirts. Designers crave the publicity they get from the press, and because of this, they often go to way-out extremes just for the shock value. The last few seasons every designer has showed at least one longer length skirt, but the public just isn't ready to accept them yet.

It's for sure that there's only one way they could possible go, they couldn't get any shorter. But after seeing so many of the collections, I can assure you that the skirts won't change this year. We who sew are really the lucky ones. If you think the skirts will change radically, buy an extra yard of fabric to match a suit. You can always make another skirt, and that would be cheap insurance!

European designers influence the fashion world, but remember, any style changes are always very extreme which is important in order to show a trend on the runway. American designers modify these style changes to suit the average woman.

Regardless of what the models are wearing or what the designers are pushing, good fashion is always an individual thing. Always consider your age, your figure, and your business and social life when planning your clothing needs. I couldn't help but notice that the really well-dressed women throughout Europe were all dressed simply, and elegantly, with basic type clothes made from beautiful fabrics.

TAILOR TRIX WINNER

Mrs. L. Noel, Fort Worth, Texas, is this week's Tailor Trix winner for her following suggestion.

"First I must tell you how much I love my new foam plastic dress form. It makes sewing a real joy instead of a real chore! I find I get an even more perfect fitting every time if I put one of my own bras on the form. It molds the foam plastic into my exact shape and contour.

"I also find that if I put a girdle on my dress form, it also shapes the form to my exact contour, with the bulges in the right places. Try it, there is a difference! (If you have a full slip to spare, slip it over the muslin cover of your dress form, garments will slip on and off much easier.)"

Scrubbable Paint Play Faces

Now Junior can make his own mask of the Batman, the Munsters, or other favorite characters. A new disguise make-up kit provides coloring in dry form on convenient wooden applicator paddles.

When dipped in water, the coloring may be applied directly to the skin or hair and dries in minutes. Once playtime is over, the mask can be washed off with soap and water.

What Quality Beef Does A&P Sell?

That's a fair question. But not an easy one to answer because we have our own quality standards, different from any other meat merchant.

These standards don't fit exactly the familiar terms you know for grades of meat. As an example, did you know that some beef, graded U. S. Choice, just doesn't meet our "Super-Right" specifications? It's true! You see... we don't buy by grade. We use our own high standards to bring you the best values.

That doesn't mean we don't approve of such grading—not at all. It just means we're very fussy about the beef we label "Super-Right." It stands to reason we have to be or A&P wouldn't be America's number one meat merchant.

If you haven't learned the true meaning of "Super-Right" Quality—try it. Let the taste be the test. After all, it doesn't matter what the label or grade is. It's the EAT in the MEAT that counts.

The EAT in the MEAT is unconditionally guaranteed in "Super-Right" Beef. Either you agree that the "Super-Right" Beef you buy is as flavorful, as tender as you think it should be or you get your money back.

Court Backs No-Bias Burials

LANSING (AP) — Racial discrimination can no more be enforced in cemeteries than in other forms of property, the State Court of Appeals ruled yesterday.

Upholding a decision by Genesee County Circuit Judge Stewart Newblatt, the Appeals Court said the U.S. Constitution forbids enforcement by state action, including action of state courts, of written racial barriers.

Newblatt, whose opinion was quoted in full by the Appeals Court, wrote:

"It strikes me that the carrying of racial discrimination into the burial grounds is a particularly stupid form of human arrogance and intolerance. If life does not do so, the universal fellowship of death should teach humility."

★ ★ ★

Newblatt's ruling upheld the case of Merrill Spencer against the Flint Memorial Park Association, owner of a Flint cemetery. Spencer sued when he was refused permission to bury a Negro in the cemetery.

In handling down a total of 29 decisions yesterday, the Appeals Court also ruled:

● A convict sentenced to life imprisonment, then retried and given a lesser sentence, is not automatically entitled to have the time previously spent in prison applied against the newer, lesser sentence.

● The wife of a man living away from his employer's "home base of operations" is not entitled to workmen's compensation if her husband is killed on the way to work.

● A taxicab driver who loses his license for bad driving and thus loses his job is not eligible for unemployment compensation.

The widow was Stella McLemore, whose husband, James, was killed in a 1961 car-train smashup while driving from a temporary residence in Muskegon to a job site in Montague.

The appeals court upheld a ruling of the state workmen's compensation appeals board that McLemore's death did not "arise out of and in the course of employment."

The retried convict, Willie Moore, sought a legal order forcing the State Parole Board to subtract from his 25-40-year sentence for second-degree murder the 19 years he had served under his original conviction for murder in the first degree.

Quints to Mark Birthday Today

Friends say the quints are a very talkative group with Jimmy, the biggest, having the most to say. With their brother and five sisters, all under 11, joining in, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Fischer should have their hands full passing the ice cream and cake.

The party will be private, however, and the Fischers have decided not to disclose what gifts the youngsters are getting.

'Drivers Below 12-Point Level'

Hare Reports on Fatality Study

LANSING (AP)—Most of the 29 drivers involved in traffic fatalities in Michigan over the Labor Day weekend were well below the 12-point level, Secretary of State James Hare said Tuesday.

"In fact," Hare said after a meeting of the State Safety Commission, "only one of them was anywhere near the 12-point mark."

When a driver reaches the 12-point level within a two-year period he can be called in for re-examination and faces possible suspension of his license.

Hare's Labor Day weekend survey was in answer to a similar survey made over the July 4th weekend by the Automobile Club of Michigan. The auto club concluded from its statistics that the violation point system was not working "or not being enforced as it should be," and that some of the drivers involved should not have been on the road.

NOT YET COMPLETE

Edward Rockwell, legislative agent for the auto club, said its study of the holiday weekend fatalities was not yet complete.

Thirty - five persons were killed on Michigan roads over the Labor Day weekend, State Police reported.

Of the drivers involved, "the worst had 11 points on his record," said an aide to Hare, who is in the process of compiling the information. The report on the last driver came in Tuesday, he said.

Tigers Home Run Power Stops Twins

Area Coaches Join in Kick Off Banquet

Coaches of all sports, 260 strong from 55 Oakland County and area high schools, gathered last night at the Pontiac Elks Temple in the annual Pontiac area coaches banquet.

Football coaches and athletic directors representing all of the Oakland County high schools were in attendance at the event which has been a prelude to the opening of the gridiron season for the third time.

Among the guests were Hollie Lepley, director of athletics and physical education of Oakland University, and Pin Ryan, who holds the same position at Oakland Community College.

Tommy Myers, former Detroit Lions' quarterback now playing with the Pontiac Arrows, was also in attendance.

Introduced among the coaches were Paul Dellerba, PCH coach who won the 1965 Football Coach of the Year award in Oakland County, and Tom Carson of Birmnigham Groves, who received the similar award in basketball.

The featured speaker was Millard Kelley, head trainer of the Detroit Lions, who spoke on athletic injuries and supported the need for student trainers in high school to assist the team doctors and handle training room chores.

Kelley, rated by pro coaches as one of the top trainers in the NFL, said, "Coaches are too busy to be concerned with performing training room services. There is an urgent need for students to enter the athletic training field and the best place for the program to start is in high school.

"I certainly hope that a program for student trainers can be initiated in Oakland County and that eventually every school have students trained in this field."

Members of The Press sports department, Jere Craig, Fletcher Spears, assistant sports editor Don Vogel and sports editor Bruno Kearns were hosts for the event.

PREP-PRESS RELATIONS

Kearns spoke briefly on press-high school athletic relations and made several announcements pertaining to prep activities as handled on a statewide basis, involving polls, all-state balloting of teams and the handling of prep information on Associated Press wires in Michigan.

The coaches lauded the annual Football Kickoff section—published yesterday — and the comprehensive prep sports coverage offered in The Press during the school year.

Paul Smarks, long time head of the Michigan Coaches Association, said, "No newspaper in Michigan has contributed or done more for high school athletics than The Pontiac Press, and we of the Coaches' Association in the Oakland County area know how fortunate we are to have The Press in our area.

"There is a strong fraternal unity among the coaches of this area, and The Pontiac Press has done much to contribute to this well being," Smarks concluded.

Willie Horton, Bill Freehan Hit Long Ball

Bengals Back in 2nd Ahead of Minnesota After 6-5 Triumph

DETROIT (AP) — Willie Horton and Bill Freehan couldn't have picked a better time to start the Tigers back on the home run track.

Horton's three-run clout in the sixth inning and Freehan's solo shot in the seventh were key factors in the Tigers' 6-5 victory over Minnesota Tuesday night.

The triumph lifted the Tigers, who had gone four games without a homer after hitting at least one in 19 of 20 previous games, back into second place.

The two teams meet again tonight with Denny McLain (18-12) slated to face Jim Perry (9-5).

Mickey Lolich, determined to pitch a complete game, kept the fact that he had a blistered foot from Manager Frank Skaff until the ninth inning.

"I had to win one," Lolich said when asked why he hadn't reported the injury earlier. "It started to bother me in the sixth inning and was rather raw by the ninth."

"I didn't know anything was wrong until I went out there in the ninth and told him to throw harder," Skaff explained. "Then he told me about the foot. He was coming out no matter what (Zoilo) Versalles did."

HIT HOMER

Versalles hit a two-run homer but Larry Sherry came on and got credit for his 16th save when he got Richie Allen on a bouncer to second and struck out pinch-hitter Jimmie Hall.

★ ★ ★

"Things just haven't been going right for me the past two weeks and I wanted to stay in there as long as I had the lead," Lolich explained.

"That hit of (Earl) Battey's in the second—right down the right field line — is just one of a lot that they've been hitting off me," he added.

The Twins got three in the second after an error by shortstop Dick McAuliffe. Lolich walked Allen with the bases loaded to force in the first and Cesar Tovar's single scored the other two.

"I gave Tovar a slider in on the fists and he hits it," Lolich said. "Not much you can do in a case like that."

★ ★ ★

Don Wert's triple and an infield single by Jake Wood gave the Tigers a run in the first inning.

16 STRAIGHT

Jim Kaat, going for his 24th victory and ninth in a row, then retired 16 men in order before Wood singled in the sixth. Al Kaline walked after Norm Cash flied out and Horton picked on a Kaat curve ball and smashed his 25th homer.

★ ★ ★

The Tigers scored the eventual winning run in the eighth when Wood got his third single, went to third on a single by Cash and came home on Kaline's sacrifice fly.

3 Sets on Roster

Tech Has Grid Brothers

When Michigan Tech's football coach calls for three particular players this fall, six young men may answer.

"I know I've never found this on any of my previous rosters," Lucier says, "and I'm not sure many other football teams have come up with this combination."

Michigan Tech opens its 1966 schedule on the road against Alma College September 17 in a non-league contest. The Huskies are defending champions of the Northern Intercollegiate Conference.

Ready for action with the Michigan Tech Huskies this season are Bob and Dennis Bienkowski, Royal Oak; Dan and Scott O'Brien, Findlay, Ohio; and Dave and Dennis Sundberg, Ahmeek.

The Bienkowskis both starred at Shrine of the Little Flower High in Royal Oak. Dennis outranks brother Bob by one year with sophomore standing in 1966. Both will go at fullback since Dennis was switched from quarterback last year.

Junior guard Scott O'Brien will welcome brother Dan, a freshman fullback candidate. Scott has been moved from end and will also see action as a linebacker. Each starred at Findlay and in the tough Buckeye Conference.

First Game Statistics of NFL Are Misleading

The Chicago Bears are best on defense, according to the yardage tale, yielding only 208 yards in their opener. But they lost to Detroit 14-3.

San Francisco was the top performer on pass defense, allowing Minnesota only 72 yards. Still, the 49ers wound up in a 20-20 tie with the Vikings.

Look at the figures for team offense.

Los Angeles had the best over-all attack with 421 yards. They managed to sneak through against the new expansion team from Atlanta, 19-14, but they did it with four field goals.

SHOT DOWN

The Vikings, shot down in the air, were the leading rushers with 226 yards in their 20-20 tie with the 49ers.

Los Angeles also showed the way in passing offense with 275 yards, but Roman Gabriel's 21 of 35 produced only one touchdown in that 19-14 victory.

Individual offensive leaders for the first week were Bill Brown of Minnesota with 99 yards on 16 carries to top the rushers and Tommy McDonald of Los Angeles with nine catches for 114 yards and No. 1 place among the receivers.

Bill Nelsen of Pittsburgh was rated first among the passers in the complicated rating system used by the NFL.

Playoff Birdie

Jay Law and Claude Dwight took the Davisburg Invitational Best-Ball championship over the weekend in a sudden death playoff. The two carded a 65 to share first with two others and Law birdied the second hole of the playoff to end the tourney.

Second-Sacker Quitting Yanks

Richardson Retiring After 1966 Season

NEW YORK (AP) — Bobby Richardson, New York Yankee second baseman, officially announced his retirement at the end of this season in a special declaration Tuesday evening.

He said he would make a formal announcement this Saturday at Yankee Stadium when his team plays the Minnesota Twins.

Richardson said he will continue his work with the Fellowship of Christian Athletes out of his home in Sumter, S.C., next year and that he would also represent an insurance company in North and South Carolina.

Richardson had indicated on many occasions his intention of quitting at the end of the year but said he felt a declarative statement was fitting at this time.

A's Triumph on Homer in 15th

From Our News Wires

A two-run homer in the 15th inning carried the surging Kansas City Athletics to a 3-1 win over Cleveland last night.

It was the fifth straight win for the A's.

Elsewhere, Boston walloped the White Sox 10-1, Washington edged New York 3-2 and California at Baltimore was rained out.

Repoz also knocked in Kansas City's other run by scoring Ed Charles from third on a ground out. Jack Aker hurled three innings of one-hit ball to record his seventh triumph for the A's.

BY GEORGE

George Thomas and George Scott rifled two-run singles during Boston's five-run rally in the sixth inning. Scott also drove in a pair of runs with a double in the eighth.

Rico Petrocelli and Joe Foy each collected three hits to pace a 15-hit Boston attack on three Chicago hurlers.

Paul Casanova came home on Bob Saverine's two-run homer—his fifth—and scored on an error by Horace Clarke in the fifth for the Senators.

Phil Ortega limited the Yankees to six hits—half of them by Clarke — in boosting his record to 11-12. Fritz Peterson held Washington to four hits in six innings but lost his 11th game against as many triumphs.

MSU QB Performs Well in Rough Drill

EAST LANSING (AP) — Michigan State's No. 1 quarterback, Jimmy Raye, victim of a minor foot injury in scrimmage last week, ran and passed well enough Tuesday to indicate he probably will start Saturday.

It was an encouraging workout for Coach Duffy Daugherty, who expects a rough battle in Spartan Stadium in the season opener against North Carolina State, defending cochampion of the Atlantic Coast Conference.

* * *

OUT OF ACTION

Denfensive back Drake Garrett, who had leg problems, also was working out in Tuesday's signal drills. But definitely out of action this week are centers Ron Ranieri and Ted Bohn.

The Spartans worked just 90 minutes Tuesday, primarily polishing plays. The second unit, with senior John Mullen at quarterback, worked extensively as Daugherty tried to improve MSU's reserve strength.

Delvecchio First to Sign Contract

DETROIT (AP) — Capt. Alex Delvecchio, a veteran of 15 seasons with the Detroit Red Wings, Tuesday became the first team member to sign his 1966-67 contract with the National Hockey League club.

Red Wings manager-coach Sid Abel described the agreement as the 34-year-old center's "best contract ever," but terms were not disclosed.

Delvecchio scored 31 goals last season and accumulated only 16 minutes in penalties, winning his second Lady Byng Trophy for sportsmanship. He also won it in 1958-59.

Pair to Share Halfback Slot

'M' Coach Undecided on Starter

ANN ARBOR (AP) — University of Michigan Football Coach Bump Elliott has decided to give both veteran Jim Detwiler and Ernie Sharpe a share of the left halfback position in the opener with Oregon State Saturday.

Elliott is expected to decide Wednesday which of the two will start.

Tuesday's practice was mostly formation work and heavy conditioning drills. The Wolverines were to continue drills today and then are expected to taper off for the two days before the game.

NO DECISION

There still has been no decision on who will start in the tackle positions. The choices are Dave Porter and Dick Williamson or their backups Bob Mielke and Bill Hardy.

The Oregon State team will arrive in Ann Arbor about noon Friday and spend the afternoon practicing in Michigan Stadium.

Packer Happy as Linebacker

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — Loping Lee Roy Caffey has turned his back on the backfield. He's finding all the running room he needs as a member of the Green Bay Packers' linebacking corps.

Caffey, a fullback in his college days at Texas A&M, ran like one last Saturday night when he intercepted a John Unitas pass and raced 52 yards for a touchdown against the Baltimore Colts.

* * *

The touchdown sparked the Packers to a 24-3 win and earned Caffey The Associated Press award as National Football League defensive player of the week.

"I definitely miss the excitement of running with the ball," said Caffey.

"But I've gained a lot of weight since college," he said. "I was 220 as a fullback then. Now I'm up to about 240-245. I don't think I could over-play the backfield now."

HAVING FUN

Besides, Caffey is having too much fun playing in a crew that includes battle-wizened Ray Nitschke and the strong and swift Dave Robinson.

"I'm at home back there," said Caffey, who came to the Packers in a trade with the Philadelphia Eagles two years ago. "And I have the best in the business back there with me Ray Nitschke. He has helped me an awful lot. You can't help but learn with a guy like him."

Caffey agreed with Colts' Coach Don Shulta that he may have made the interception by "reading Unitas' eyes.

"In a way I did key to the way Unitas was looking. Sometimes you can tell that way the direction a quarterback is going to throw. That doesn't mean you can tell by reading the whites of his eyes."

* * *

Caffey said he wae guarding receiver John Mackey on the play.

"I had to release him to the safety man, and I turned back inside. Unitas was throwing to Ray Berry, who was curling back in. After that the blocks made the play. Willie Wood had a good one just as I took the ball, and Henry Jordan had a real fine block. So did Willie Davis and Nitschke."

* * *

The touchdown was Caffey's third with an interception since joining the NFL in 1964.

Lou Picks Up Two Homers; Pirates, SF Win to Keep Pace

By the Associated Press

It could be the World Series for the Los Angeles Dodgers and City Hall for Lou Johnson all over again this year.

The two seem to go together, and the Dodgers couldn't be more pleased.

They maintained their 1½-game lead in the torrid National League pennant race Tuesday night by crushing the New York Mets 8-3 behind Johnson's slugging.

The left fielder clouted two homers and drove in four runs, surpassing last year's marks that helped direct him to City Hall in Los Angeles where he received a special citation for his unexpected part in the Dodgers' successful fight for the pennant.

* * *

DID MORE

The Dodgers didn't really expect much from Johnson) but he did more than most of their hitters in driving them to the Series.

He batted only .259, but many of his hits were clutch hits and he drove in 58 runs and tied Jim Lefebvre for the team lead in homers with 12.

But this year Johnson is doing even better. His performance against the Mets raised his average to .269 and vaulted him ahead of his 1965 slugging totals. He now has socked 13 homers and driven in 61 runs.

* * *

He is second in both departments only to Lefebvre, who has belted 23 homers and knocked in 72 runs.

Los Angeles' two competitors also won Tuesday night, Pittsburgh remaining 1½ games back by walloping Houston 9-3 and San Francisco staying 2½ out with a 7-2 triumph over Philadelphia. In other games, St. Louis edged Cincinnati 3-2 and Atlanta trounced Chicago 10-2.

FIRST HOMER

Johnson's first homer, in the fourth inning, tied the Mets 2-2, and his second, a three-run blast, climaxed a five-run eruption in the fifth. Lefebvre's two-run single snapped the tie earlier in the inning. Claude Osteen, with relief help from Bob Miller, gained his 16th victory against 11 defeats.

The Pirates unloaded a 16-hit attack on Houston, with Willie Stargell driving in four runs with a sacrifice fly and his 30th homer. Gene Alley stroked four hits and Matty Alou three while Roberto Clemente drove in two runs with a single and a double.

* * *

San Francisco's Juan Marichal scattered seven hits for his 22nd victory against six defeats. Tito Fuentes lashed a key two-run double in the sixth inning, and Willie McCovey socked his 29th homer, a two-run shot, in the eighth.

* * *

Curt Flood's two-run, eighth-inning double boosted St. Louis past Cincinnati. The blow wiped out a 2-1 lead Cincinnati had taken on Deron Johnson's run-scoring double in the fourth and his homer in the seventh.

Hank Aaron drove in three runs with his 38th and 39th homers, leading an Atlanta attack against Chicago that also included homers by Rico Carty and Felipe Alou.

Ortiz Plans Title Defense

October Date Slated in Mexico City

Ramos, a Cuban who now lives in Mexico City, lost the featherweight crown to Mexican Vicente Saldivar in 1964. Ortiz is from Puerto Rico but makes his home in New York.

Ochoa has given Ortiz a $10,000 dollar deposit toward the purse and said he expects a gate of more than $160,000.

This will be the first lightweight title bout ever held in Mexico.

Ochoa said ticket prices will have a $40 top. The promotion, he said, will be the most expensive title fight ever held in Mexico with a cost of about $152,000. The open air bull ring seats about 25,000 persons for boxing. Ochoa said he expects a sellout.

Stolle Sparkles as Aussies Win Two of 3 Duels

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Fred Stolle reported for action with his game still scorching after winning the U.S. singles tennis championship and sparked Australia as it won two of three exhibition matches from American Davis Cup players Tuesday.

Marty Riessen of the United States defeated left-hander John Davidson 6-1, 6-3 in an afternoon match that gave the Americans their seventh victory in eight matches on the current tour before the Aussies won a pair of night contests.

* * *

Stolle was overpowering in disposing of Arthur Ashe 6-1, 8-6 although the American played well. Then Davidson and Bill Bowrey edged Ashe and Riessen 4-6, 6-4, 12-10 in doubles.

Ashe appeared to tire in the late doubles going after his hard effort against Stolle. He was making his debut as the partner of Riessen, whose usual cobort, Clark Graebner, has been cut from the squad prepping for the interzone Davis Cup finals against Brazil.

Pontiac Gelding in Biggest Double

The first win of the year in 30 starts by Scoot Away, an 11-year-old bay gelding owned and driven by Pontiac's Pat Bellows, worth $149.20 paved the way for the biggest daily double payoff of the current Hazel Park Harness Raceway meeting.

Scoot Away, a better than 73-1 choice, came in with the biggest since race payoff of the meet and combined with Printer's Ink (6.20) for a $703.80 daily double return.

Pontiac Golf Girls Elect 1967 Officers

Officers of the Pontiac Business Girls Golf Association were elected at the group's golf outing over the weekend at Holly Greens Golf Club.

In the golf competition Eve Miller and Hilda Hicks finished one-two in the championship flight. Shakey Godoshian and Mary Costello ran one-two in the first flight.

INDIANA — With everyone having virtually recovered from annoying injuries, the Hoosiers took it easy on contact work. Leg injuries, however, could keep tackle Tom Lahey and quarterback Mike Perry out of the Miami of Ohio game.

★ ★ ★

PURDUE—After putting the Boilermakers through 20 rugged practice sessions in 12 days, Coach Jack Mollenkopf eased up with hopes that his squad will respond to the lighter training with a victory over Ohio University Saturday.

★ ★ ★

IOWA — Drills will be cut down to polishing work Thursday in getting the Hawkeyes ready for Arizona. Iowa held a dummy scrimmage Tuesday and covered all phases of its attack.

★ ★ ★

WISCONSIN — So secret are Badger drills these days that uniformed policemen are on the job to keep away spies. Junior John Boyajian has been named the starting quarterback against Iowa State.

★ ★ ★

MINNESOTA — Tackle McKinley Boston will be ready to play against Missouri. Still doubtful are halfback Hubie Bryant, Fullback Mike Danielson and guard Dick Enderle.

OHIO STATE — Sophomore Gerry Ehrsam has grabbed the inside track towards the starting job while rookie Bill Long remains on the injured list. Ankle injuries sidelined ends Nick Roman and Joe Jenkins.

★ ★ ★

Amputee to Fight Prep Rule

The strapping 6-foot-2, 225-pound senior at North Chicago High School has played on his school's football team for the past three years. He wanted to play this year.

★ ★ ★

But David has an artificial leg, and this year a National Federation of State High School Athletic Associations rule banning amputees from prep football is in effect for the first time.

The youth lost his leg from the knee down in 1961 in a fire cracker accident.

That didn't stop him from being a high school athlete the past three years, however.

With his father, his football coach, an attorney and a letter from his doctor, David went to court Monday to fight the ruling on the grounds that it violated his constitutional rights.

SUIT DISMISSED

"I am well aware that David Barlett is participating in competitive athletics, both contact and noncontact," Dr. Robert Hamilton wrote in the letter.

"In fact, I have encouraged him to take part."

Judge William J. Lynch said, however, he could find no violation of constitutional rights in the new rule, and dismissed David's suit. Lynch said he took the action even though "the court's sympathy might be different."

Olympic Building Construction Set

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Construction on the sports palace for volleyball, basketball, gymnastics and boxing during the 1968 Olympics will start next month, the palace's architects said today.

The sports palace, to be finished by May of 1968, will seat 16,000 persons for most events and 25,000 for boxing.

Clay Meets 'Big Cat' on Contract

HOUSTON (AP) — Undefeated heavyweight champion Cassius Clay meets Cleveland Big Cat Williams Thursday in the Astrodome — scene of their upcoming fight — to sign a formal contract.

Clay, 24, will fight the 33-year-old Houston boxer in the domed stadium Nov. 14 or 15 for the world heavyweight championship, promoter Earl Gilliam of Texas Boxing Enterprises said Monday.

The two heavyweights already have signed binding agreements, but must sign a formal contract approved by the Texas Boxing Commission.

Gilliam said the fight would be sanctioned by the TBC, and that commission representatives will attend the 5 p.m. EDT, signing.

The bout will be the first ever held in the multi-purpose Astrodome and the second heavyweight title fight in Houston within six months.

Ernie Terrell, recognized as heavyweight king by the World Boxing Association, successfully defended his title with a unanimous 15-round decision over Doug Jones here June 28.

The WBA rated Clay the top heavyweight contender, although in most other circles he is considered the title holder.

Clay, back in Chicago from Frankfurt, Germany, where he stopped Karl Mildenberger in 12 rounds, assured Gilliam Tuesday his swollen right hand will be all right for the Williams fight.

"He told me it was just bruised," Gilliam said.

Williams, making a comeback since he was wounded by gunfire from a state highway patrolman, has won four straight matches.

He last fought former Texas heavyweight champion Tod Herring, whom he defeated with a technical knockout prior to the Terrell Jones fight here.

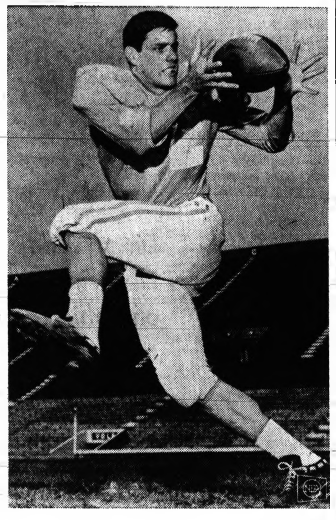
Called Big Cat by Houston fans, Williams has won 65 matches, 51 by knockouts. He has more knockouts to his credit than any other active heavyweight.

Gilliam said Clay would receive 50 per cent of both the gate and the ancillary rights, and Williams would get 20 per cent of both.



VOLUNTEER FOR DUTY—Richmond Flowers Jr., the hurdles star, has a good chance to be in the starting backfield for the University of Tennessee this fall. He is a wingback.

Cross-Country Win for Oxford

Bud Gerow covered the two-mile course in 11:13 yesterday to pace Oxford's cross-country team to a 25-30 victory over West Bloomfield.

★ ★ ★

Doug Bass finished third for the winners. Dave Maun came in second for West Bloomfield which now has a record of 1-1. It was Oxford's first meet.

Golfing Nicklaus a Lucky Angler

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Jack Nicklaus is hoping he will be as successful with a golf club this week as he has been with a fishing rod.

Nicklaus will start defending his title Thursday in the $50,000 Portland Open Golf Tournament, which continues through Sunday.

Nicklaus, who has won the tournament for three out of the past four years, returned Tuesday from a fly fishing trip on the Deschutes River in Central Oregon with a 22-pound steelhead.

Bob Boldt, an amateur from Lake Oswego, Ore., topped 71 qualifiers Monday with a 65, seven under par. About 40 golfers on the PGA tour were exempt from qualifying.

Franks Rehired

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Herman Franks has been rehired by the third - place San Francisco Giants of the National League for the 1967 season with a raise in pay.

We Proudly Present
Our Newest Addition:
KUPPENHEIMER!
Our new fall harvest of Kuppenheimers just arrived. But they won't be here long. They're the handsomest we've ever had. The excitement starts with the fabrics themselves —dozens of never-before colors and weaves.
And Kupp tailors have made them into suits that make the most of shoulders, make light of middles — makes the most of your good looks. The secret is in the XK's "you-shaped" shoulder.
You'll not only look your dashingest in a Kupp. You'll be more comfortable. Kupp's XK tailoring keeps your collar in place. Lets the jacket hang lightly, almost weightlessly. Gives you unbelievable ease in action.
Stop in soon — while we still have a complete selection of the new kind of Kuppenheimer.

Mosquitos, Butterflies Prevail on Teal Hunt

By DON VOGEL

"I'm hot already, and I haven't even started," said Fritz Stuewer of Lansing as he swung a wader suspender into place with one hand while reaching for his shotgun with the other.

"Last year I laughed when someone suggested going teal hunting early in September. Well, here I am. I have a feeling I'll wish I took my own advice of a year ago."

* * *

It was hot — pushing over 80 degrees — when the special season opened at noon Monday. Stuewer, technical and special services director for the Conservation Department's game division; Howard (Bing) Greene, district game biologist, and I, hunted on Harsens Island between the refuge and South Channel Road.

Fritz was right. We should have stayed home, or better yet, gone fishing. Greene, however, only had a couple of hours to hunt before getting down to his duties of checking teal brought in by hunters.

Bing and I were glad to slip into the cooling waters of a marsh pothole after walking a quarter of a mile along a dike wearing waders. Fritz moved another couple of hundred yards before entering the cat-tails.

After tossing out a half dozen decoys, Bing and I settled down in the marsh grass to wait for the shooting hour, 15 minutes away. The time was spent fending off mosquitos, dodging an inquisitive bumble bee and hoping the butterflies fluttering over the blocks would give our ambush a realistic setting.

FIRST GUNS OPEN FIRE

At 11:53 a.m. the first guns boomed across Little Muscamoot Bay. "Not bad," said Greene, "only seven minutes early for a change."

At high noon, three hunters came strolling the dike, lugging a bag of decoys and talking loudly.

"We don't have anything to worry about," one hunter's voice carried across the pothole, "I have a book with me that tells what ducks we can shoot."

"That figures," muttered Greene.

The teal dipped across the far side of the pothole, swung downwind, turned and headed for our blocks.

* * *

"You take him," I grunted. The blue-wing sailed over the blocks — a perfect No. 4 low house skeet shot — while Bing stayed hunkered over and I waited for him to straighten up and shoot.

"Nice looking drake," said Bing. "We're true conservationists," said I. "I thought you said 'I'll take him'," said Bing. "No, I said you take him," I allowed.

During the next two hours, Fritz walked back down the dike empty handed and muttering about hunters who appear at shooting time; Bing decided to go for a walk and succeeded in booting out several Mallards — October ducks as he called them; and I kept hopefully watching the few teal in the air never get closer than 400 yards.

By 1:45 p.m., Bing had been overcome by the boiling sun, mosquitos, lack of teal and a call to duty.

I stayed another hour, watching the swallows dart after mosquitos and the flocks of mallards and blacks climb higher over Little Muscamoot Bay when the skybusters opened up because a teal was in the flock.

It would have taken an antiaircraft gun to bring down the mallards, let alone the teal.

When I returned home empty-handed, as usual, my wife remarked with a slight hint of sarcasm:

Distaff Side Elbowing in on Fishing

MONTAUK POINT, N.Y. (AP) — Women, bless their little pink bait buckets and their cute cerise tackle boxes, have discovered fishing.

One of the last remaining bastions of masculine dominance apparently is crumbling before the gentle onslaught of American women, based on the most recent U.S. Department of Interior fishing survey.

Figures show that 27 per cent of the estimated 30 million anglers are women.

With no way of checking on the number of children below the age of 12 who can fish without a license, it means that possibly as many as 8 million of the total number of fishermen are not adult males. The previous figure was 6 million.

The schedule of Solunar Periods, as printed below, has been taken from John Alden Knight's SOLUNAR TABLES. Plan your days so that you will be fishing in good territory or hunting in good cover during these times, if you wish to find the best sport that each day has to offer.

The Oakland County Sportsmen's Club pistol team will begin its' winter season in the Southeastern Michigan Pistol League tonight at 7:30 against the Mult-Lakes pistol team at OCSC.

Special Grouse Hunt Outlined

Grouse hunters with a flair for rugged action under liberal shooting regulations can jump the gun on the regular "pat" season at Garden and High islands in northern Lake Michigan starting tomorrow.

The two islands, made up almost entirely of state-owned lands, will be open to unlimited grouse hunting through Nov. 10 as part of a research study to learn how much gun pressure the birds can safely stand.

* * *

This fall's experimental season, about two weeks ahead of the Oct. 1 grouse opener on Northern Michigan's mainland, will carry no bag limits under a plan to increase that pressure.

Birds taken on the two game research outposts will not be counted against the season limit for the state's regular grouse season.

Conservation department game men report that ruffed grouse numbers on both Garden and High islands are at least as high this year as they are in some of the better "pat" areas on the mainland.

However, hunters will have to work harder for their birds on the islands where thick cover and shintangle make the going tougher than it is in most mainland areas. Also, there are no lodging accommodations.

Department men will be on duty at both islands during most of the experimental season to provide emergency services and keep hunters in contact with Beaver Island, marshaling point for the special test hunt.

Before hunting grouse on Garden and High islands and upon returning from them, sportsmen will be checked through the Conservation Department's Beaver Island Field Office at St. James.

They will pick up free hunting permits and have their birds sealed at the field office. At the end of their hunts on Garden and High, sportsmen will also turn over their daily hunting logs to department personnel at Beaver Island.

High Price of Venison

He threw the buck over his shoulder and started up a hill. It was too steep, and Gross fell backwards.

Fish Division Chief Selected

Wayne H. Tody Takes Department Post

Wayne H. Tody, a 19-year veteran of fisheries work in Michigan, has been provisionally named Chief of the Conservation Department's Fish Division.

His appointment is subject to a civil Service promotional examination which will be held among top candidates for the high-level post.

Tody, 41, has been acting chief of the Fish Division since last July. He has been with the department since September, 1947, when he joined its staff of the Institute for Fisheries Research at Ann Arbor.

Tody worked there until 1950 when he was placed in charge of the Rifle River stream improvement project. One year later, he was transferred to the Department's Lansing office to supervise its statewide program of stream improvement projects.

Dog Training Set at Three Locations

Dog training demonstrations have been scheduled at three locations next week.

Arranged by the Southern Michigan Obedience Training Club, the programs will start at 8 p.m. on Sept. 19 at Bloomfield Hills; Sept. 21 at Waterford CAI; and Sept. 22 at Whitfield school.

Pheasants Aided by Wetlands

Wetlands and other marshy, noncultivated areas are the key to maintaining reasonable numbers of pheasants, according to report on Midwest pheasant programs published by the Wisconsin Department of Conservation.

The wetlands provide nesting cover.

* * *

Some of Wisconsin's best pheasant populations occur in counties having 20 per cent or more of the land in wetlands. Pheasants are generally less abundant in agricultural counties having under 5 per cent wetlands, the Wildlife Management Institute reports.

Pheasant facts of life are the subject of "Population Ecology and Management of Wisconsin Pheasants," Technical Bulletin No. 34, which is available from the department's office in Madison.

It explores the mechanisms and causes of population fluctuations, the environmental influences involved in determining pheasant abundance and management implications arising from this knowledge.

"Pheasant densities decline progressively when more or less than 55-70 per cent of the land is cultivated; where within the 55-70 per cent cultivation range progressively fewer wetland acreages occur; where progressively more landscape is wooded, where the topography becomes progressively less gentle, the soils are progressively less fertile and the growing season shorter.

* * *

Best Duck Crop in Years

WINNIPEG (AP) — The best duck crop in many years is preparing to move down the flyways across the prairies to the United States wintering grounds, Ducks Unlimited Canada said Monday in a monthly report on waterfowl.

Early broods, now strong in flight, are massing with adults on the larger marshes in preparation for the flight south. Large flocks of geese have already moved into Central Alberta, in the Hanna district, the report said.

High water levels in Northern Alberta and Saskatchewan this summer resulted in a smaller duck population, but good increases were indicated in southern areas where water conditions were described as excellent.

In the northern areas of the two provinces, surveys indicated lesser scaup populations have declined.

There were also fewer mallards but the report said these birds may still be distributed over a wide area.

In Manitoba, the population was up across the entire province with Saskeram Lake, near the Pas in Northern Manitoba, carrying an extremely heavy duck population.

Two Archery Films Will Be Shown

Two archery hunting films will be shown Friday at the Griswold sporting goods store in the Tel-Huron shopping center starting at 7 p.m.

The first will be Kodiak Country which runs 25 minutes and the second will be The American Sportsmen, a 15-minute production.

Nationally known bowmen and archery equipment manufacturer Fred Bear of Grayling was instrumental in the production of the films. The showings are open to the public.

Bomb Ticking Under Sukarno

By RICHARD L. STONE

JAKARTA (UPI) — Indonesia's powerful military leaders think they have got a time bomb ticking under the political structure that so far has kept them from dumping President Sukarno.

The bomb is a major change in the Indonesian electoral system that would shift parliament from a single national constituency to local constituencies.

Its effect would be to downgrade the power of national political parties in Indonesia's legislative bodies, while upgrading the power of individual legislators and the importance of local issues.

Sukarno has relied, throughout the 20 years he has ruled Indonesia, on his personal ability to sway the handful of top leaders of the nation's biggest political parties.

★ ★ ★

Because of the present electoral system they were able to deliver the necessary votes in congress and parliament to give him whatever he wanted—which in effect meant absolute dictatorship, until last October's Communist coup.

KNOWN BY PARTY

At present, all candidates are placed on party lists, and the lists are submitted to the national electorate at large.

With several hundred names on the ballot, it was natural that most voters chose by party affiliation.

Thus the Communists, who claimed a membership of 3 million nationwide and support of 10 million or so others, were able to create a solid base of parliamentary power at the last national elections in 1965, because of their ability to command massive bloc voting.

★ ★ ★

The same was true of the left wing Nationalist party (PNI), which even now opposes many of the reforms the government of Gen. Suharto wants to use to breathe life into Indonesi's moribund economy.

GOES TO PEOPLE

The proposal to revamp the electoral system before Suharto's government goes to the people for a mandate in 1968 was made at a recent seminar of military leaders in Bandung, capital of West Java.

★ ★ ★

The proposal has not been published so far, mainly because the military leaders want to assess Sukarno's reaction to the move.

★ ★ ★

No Ambulances

Murder Suspect Is Hospitalized After Collapsing in Court

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP) — Dr. Carl Coppolino, scheduled for trial Nov. 7 in the death of his first wife, was in a guarded hospital room today after collapsing in court.

★ ★ ★

Hospital officials said Coppolino's attorney had instructed that they withhold word on his condition but added he wasn't believed to be in great danger.

★ ★ ★

The 34-year-old author-doctor was rushed to the hospital after collapsing in Circuit Court Tuesday during a preliminary hearing to determine whether he should stand trial. Gasping and clutching his chest, he was carried to an ambulance. His second wife, Mary, was at his side.

★ ★ ★

Coppolino has said he has a heart condition. He was hospitalized the night of his arrest July 23rd after complaining of chest pains, and again last month for the same reason.

'TRAVELED TOGETHER'

His seizure came about 30 minutes after Marjorie Farber, testifying for the defense, told the court she and the slightly built doctor had been "intimate" and had taken several trips together in 1963, including one to Puerto Rico.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Farber, 52, is the widow of William Farber, a retired Army colonel Coppolino is accused of killing in 1963 when he and his first wife were neighbors of the Farbers in New Jersey.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Farber, an attractive woman with dark hair, also told the court she had heard Coppolino mention a drug which the state contends he used to kill his first wife, Dr. Carmela Coppolino, 32, at their Sarasota home in August 1965. The drug was once thought to be undetectable.

★ ★ ★

Wonderful Wrigley Very Truly Yours

St. Lawrence Traffic Tops Growth Expectations of Greatest Advocates

DETROIT (AP) — Growth of traffic on the St. Lawrence Seaway has topped all predictions—even those of its greatest advocates, J. H. McCann, U. S. administrator of the St. Lawrence Development Corp. said Tuesday.

* * *

"My best advice is, don't try to outguess the St. Lawrence Seaway," he said. "You can't beat it — so join it."

McCann predicted at least 48 million tons of cargo will move via the seaway this year, compared with 43.4 million tons last year, 39.3 million tons in 1965 and only 20.3 million tons in 1960.

SLOW PAYING

He conceded the seaway is about 89 million behind in scheduled repayments of costs, but said the seaway had paid the U. S. Treasury $20 million through 1965.

"We'll be at 50 million tons in the next year or so," he predicted, however, "then 70 million tons in the 1970s."

*

He said the United States shipped 8.1 million tons of agricultural products and Canada 9.5 million through the seaway last year.

This is the first year that all seaway ports have been dredged to a 27-foot depth.

GROWTH SECRET

Lewis Walter, of Sea-Land Service Inc., told the convention Tuesday that continued growth of the American shipping industry lies with the greater use of containers in shipping.

At one time during his playing days with the St. Louis Cardinals, Stan Musial hit five home runs in a doubleheader.

Tax in Ferndale?

FERNDALE (AP)—City Manager William J. Little has recommended that Ferndale enact a one per cent income tax, similar to those existing in neighboring Detroit, Hamtramck and Highland Park. Mayor Bruce D. Garbutt, expressing favor for such a levy, said public hearing would be conducted prior to a city commission vote.

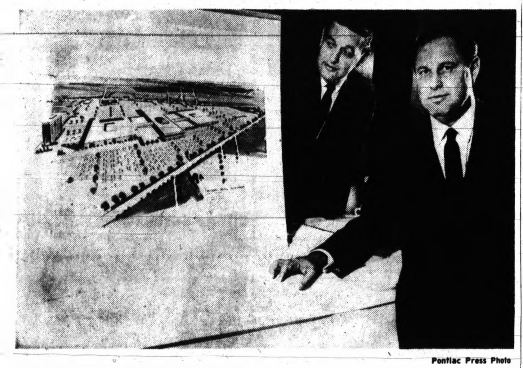
Tentative Site Plan Shows Taubman Shopping Center Proposal With Parking Areas



Pontiac Press Photo

Crime in U.S. Up 8 Pct. at Halfway Point in '66

WASHINGTON (AP) —Rape and grand larceny paced an 8 per cent increase in U.S. crime for the first six months of 1966, the FBI reported today.

Figures comparing the six months with the same period of 1965 showed that rape, up 12 per cent, made the sharpest increase among violent crimes.

* * *

Larceny involving $50 or more in value jumped 11 per cent and led the increase in property offenses.

Aggravated assault was up 11 per cent, robbery 6 per cent, and murder 3 per cent as violent crimes increased 9 per cent over-all.

AUTO THEFT

Property offenses were up 8 per cent as a group, including a 7 per cent jump for auto theft and a 5 per cent increase for burglary.

All city population categories had crime increases ranging from 3 per cent in cities of 50,000 to a million population, to 12 per cent in cities of fewer than 10,000.

* * *

Millions Lost in Viet Supplies

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pentagon officials estimated today millions of dollars in building supplies sent to Viet Nam have been stolen outright, damaged in hasty unloading operations or ruined by exposure due to lack of storage facilities.

"A few million dollars worth stolen? Hell, yes," declared a top officer connected with the Viet Nam construction program.

"Well, say below $10 million — maybe under $5 million," he added. "We really don't have a fix on it yet."

But a more definite idea of the loss may emerge in November, he said, when civilian contractors complete an inventory now under way at three major depots and 13 warehouses in Viet Nam.

This will be the first accounting of what materials the contractor has used and has in stock — eight months after a gargantuan stream of supplies began pouring into Southeast Asia for U.S. military facilities.

France Quits NATO Group

PARIS (UPI) — France announced today it is withdrawing from the NATO military committee in Washington Oct. 1.

It was another major step in President Charles de Gaulle's efforts to lessen France's dependence on the North Atlantic alliance and move it closer to the third force in European affairs.

The Military Committee is the senior military authority of NATO. It is composed of a chief of staff of all member countries except Iceland, which has no armed forces and is represented by a civilian.

The announcement was made to the NATO permanent council by Pierre de Leusse, France's representative. He said henceforth France would be represented on the Washington committee only by a liaison group.

NATO Secretary General Manlio Brosio, U.S. permanent representative Harlan Cleveland and Belgium's Andre de Staercken replied that France's 14 NATO partners would have to study the French announcement and decide whether France will be allowed to maintain a liaison committee.

Immediately afterwards the full council ratified a decision already approved yesterday by France's NATO partners to transfer Supreme Allied Headquarters (SHAPE) from Rocquencourt, 10 miles west of Paris, to Chievres — Casteau in southwestern Belgium.

An official announcement said "Every effort will be made to enable the headquarters at Casteau to operate as soon as possible."

Representatives of "The 14" decided yesterday to make a rush job of constructing the new headquarters which is expected to cost $16 million.

NATO sources said it was hoped to make it at least partly operational by April 1, 1967, the deadline set by de Gaulle for NATO's two military headquarters and all U.S. and other foreign troops and bases to get out of France.

ACCEPTED INVITATION

The council this morning also accepted an Italian government invitation to move the NATO Defense College from Paris to Rome. A NATO announcement said it is expected the college will be able to resume its academic work in Rome in January 1967.

Hunt Renewed for 2 Canadian Fliers in U. P.

HOUGHTON (AP) — Coast Guard helicopters and surface craft have renewed a search in Keweenaw Bay for two Canadian fliers missing since Sept. 5. Reports of fishermen having found wreckage spurred the new search.

* * *

Missing are Tom Albridge and Alex Brophie, both of Winnipeg, who disappeared en route from Thunder Bay, Ont., to Toronto. Their last reported radio check-in was over Houghton.

The renewed search is between Jacobsville, on the eastern shore of the Keweenaw Peninsula, and Point Abbaye across Keweenaw Bay. Water in the area is some 150 feet deep.

Assure Success

LANSING (AP) — A burglar alarm didn't bother thieves who broke into a grocery in Lansing Monday night and stole a quantity of beer. They stole the burglar alarm, too.

Weathers Mild Decline

Market Moving on Even Keel

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market weathered a mild decline and moved on an even keel early this afternoon. Trading was slack.

There was a moderate price decline in the morning and a considerable falling off in trading. Analysts said the market was taking a breather after its three-day recovery drive.

The profit taking on the rise, however, was already underway very sharply late yesterday among many of the glamor stocks even as the overall market posted its third straight gain. The result was that traders picked up a number of these office equipments, photographic, electronic issues and some of them fared pretty well.

For the general run of key stocks the market presented a scrambled appearance. Oils, drugs and building materials were higher.

Prices declined in moderate trading on the American Stock Exchange. Down a point or so were Williams Brothers, Bell Telephone of Canada, Conductron, Flying Tiger and Technicolor. Sel-Rex and Syntex gained about a point each.

Outlook Dim for Rights Bill

Senate Votes Today on End-Debate Move

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate votes today on a motion to shut off debate and bring up a controversial civil rights bill. Without the support of Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen there appeared virtually no chance the administration could muster the necessary two-thirds vote.

Dirksen made it plain he wasn't dropping his opposition to the measure: "I know of nobody under the canopy of bright blue sky who could say anything to me that would make me change my mind."

Dirksen said he plans to give the chief address against the measure in advance of the late afternoon vote.

On the speech, Dirksen said, "My attacks are polite. They are devastating but polite. I kill you but you don't feel it."

CLOTURE PETITION

Today's vote is on a cloture petition filed by Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield to end a shadow filibuster which began when sponsors presented a motion to take up the bill a week ago.

The filibuster never developed fully because absenteeism forced the Senate to adjourn several times when leaders could not muster a quorum.

Business Notes

William D. Innes, a vice president of Ford Motor Co., has been named to the board of trustees of Lawrence Institute of Technology, LIT president Wayne H. Buell announced recently.

Innes of 6839 White Pine, Bloomfield Township, vice president—engine, transmission, and parts group, received his bachelor of science degree in mechanical engineering from LIT in 1953.

R. B. Lapham, 6185 Thurber, Bloomfield Township, has been appointed director of industrial relations for Burroughs Corp.

LAPHAM

Lapham, formerly director of corporate marketing personnel, has been with the corporation since 1939.

News in Brief

Charles Hubbard, owner of C & C Service at 515 S. Saginaw, reported to Pontiac police yesterday the breaking of a large plate glass window valued at $200.

Stock Exec Quits While He's Ahead

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK — When an executive quits a top job in his mid-50s, his health good and his future plans indefinite, his action generates rumors that imply the real reason for his departure lies buried.

CUNNIFF

George Keith Funston generated those rumors this week. Funston, 55 years old, 6 feet 3, and in good health despite gray hair, made plans to quit as president of the New York Stock Exchange, giving as his reason:

"The demanding nature of the presidency precludes me from pursuing many other interests which I should like to enjoy more fully in the future."

Among these interests are gardening, travel, education and church work, and corporate directorships.

REAL REASON

So, in the privacy of his big mint-green office, where the ticking of a small clock made a quiet contrast to the boisterous trading floor below, Funston was asked the real reason.

"The possibility of a new contract not being extended to me was never a consideration in my plans to leave," he replied. "I knew it would be offered to me. I never was more in the saddle than now. The board was 100 per cent behind me."

Funston said he liked the job. "It's a whale of a good job," he said. "It's no burden."

And so why did he announce plans to leave the job on or before expiration of his present contract in September 1967?

"I've got so many other things to do. This is a night and day job, and I tend to get myself wrapped up in everything I do anyway. I think I deserve a rest.

"From the time I come in until I go home I'm with somebody. There's a lot of balls in the air all the time. Yes, I'm more tired now when I go home at night than I used to be. But now the control will be in me."

* * *

As president of the exchange, Funston is its voice, and though it has been a loud voice in bringing a bit of democracy into what has been called a private club, he has received criticism from many directions—fair and unfair—a natural hazard of the job.

This he discounted as a motivation. "I've found that those who are against you today will be with you tomorrow," he said. He restated his goal of doing now the things he always wanted to do.

GOOD JOB

Funston feels he had done a good job. Among other things he put the exchange on a sound financial footing. It had been losing money regularly. His biggest contribution, associates feel, was in broadening shareholders from 6.5 million when he took over to 21 million now.

"I wouldn't have dreamed we could have done it," he said. "But we showed how difficult it was for the little guy to buy stock. Then we developed the Monthly Investment Plan." The MIP, as it is called, permits stocks to be purchased in installments.

He can also look on the so-called stockholder's bill of rights, an exchange ruling that every listed company must make its common stock a voting stock.

He has helped establish a fund that now guards the public against fraud and mismanagement by member firms. And he feels he helped bring about a better understanding of the exchange. "All you need to do is watch the better attitude of the people in Washington," he said.

He has been criticized as having never really become immersed in the mechanics of the business and for putting too much effort into public relations and not enough into relations with the Securities and Exchange Commission in Washington.

Successful Investing

By ROGER E. SPEAR

(Q) "Where can I secure general information on what your column covers and legal information on taxes, stocks and bonds?" G. B.

(A) As you are writing me through a large metropolitan daily, yet residing in a small community many miles distant, I have few clues to guide me in giving you the best possible answer. You perhaps speak for many readers pondering these same problems in handling their personal finances.

A national directory of brokers shows that in your nearest city a dozen brokerage firms are located, several being member firms of the New York Stock Exchange. You could visit one of these and ask to see the latest statistical reports on the stocks I mention. These detailed reports readily show you where growth is present — or absent. In addition to your daily paper, you would find it worth your while to subscribe to Business Week, The Financial World and the Wall St. Journal. If your local banker is unable to give you the legal information you require, he should be able to direct you to a reliable tax accountant in your vicinity. It is prudent to seek a specialist when the need arises.

(Q) "Please tell me how to obtain stock and recommend something worthwhile for me. I am 15 years old and would like to invest what I have saved." D. J.

(A) If you are one of my regular readers, you must have noticed some recent worthwhile buys suggested to others in your age group. Further selections will come along as the market settles itself. You must choose a broker through whom to buy your stock and go to his office to do this. Your parents can help you and they must buy the shares for you in one or both of their names, holding these as custodian, until you are 21. Then you are legally able to take over the shares yourself.

Changes Made at Haupt Sales

Owner, Floor Space Added to Dealership

Haupt Pontiac Sales and Service, 7151 Ortonville Road, Independence Township, has a new co-owner and a new addition.

Dwight I. Pettingill, 6759 Transparent, Independence Township, has gone into partnership with owner Jack Haupt of 58 E. Washington, Clarkston.

A native of Pontiac, Pettingill spent the past five years as district manager for Pontiac Motor Division in Dallas, Texas.

The new 10,000 square foot addition has tripled showroom space, more than doubled the service department area and doubled the used car area.

Rain Forces Marcos' D.C. Fete Indoors

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A drenching rain washed out an outdoor White House reception and a welcoming parade for Philippine President Ferdinand E. Marcos today but he and President Johnson were set for a round of intensive talks.

The traditional greeting on the lawn of the White House was moved indoors and the 21-gun salute for the 49-year-old visiting leader and his wife, Imelda, was called off.

The scheduled parade through the downtown streets of the city was also canceled by the steady downpour.

In his arrival remarks at the East Room welcoming Marcos told Johnson: "To the questions that perplex America, we come to offer our intimate knowledge of Asia, we offer our study of its mind and heart."

* * *

Of the Viet Nam situation, the Philippine president recalled the seven decades of association shared by his countrymen and the United States.

"We are asked anew whether the principles of freedom, equality and human dignity have the strength to prevail and endure in the face of continuous assaults by inimical forces," he said.

Mailbag Flies Open:

Traffic Mishap Economic Loss in Billions

By HAL BOYLE

If America's $11-billion economic loss from traffic accidents in 1965 were spread equally, each U.S. family would get a bill for $208.

BOYLE

claims its babies are the largest in the world, so it follows that baby carriages there are 37 inches long, rather than the standard 35 inches.

We're not sure whether this is a proof of progress or not, but we now make roofing shingles from the same asphalt mixtures which the ancient Egyptians used to preserve mummies.

CAN'T BE DONE

Those who try to "talk down" to the American public are making a mistake. That public, after all, includes some 10 million college graduates and half of all the people in the world who have gone through high school.

Quotable notables: "We live in terror of doing the wrong thing instead of in hope of finding the right."—Harold J. Laski.

* * *

Summer has been defined as that time of year when you can't open the window you couldn't close all winter.

An English Court ruled that a citizen who has had too much to drink and decides to push his car home, rather than get behind the wheel, may still be found guilty of drunken driving.

BIRD TALK

The world is so mixed up that it is hard to be certain about anything anymore. But here's one thing you can be sure of: All birds have feathers. And there is no animal with feathers that is not a bird.

We complain of nuisance mail, but it's worse in Belgium. The average American gets only 90 pieces of mail a year—presumably not including magazines—the average Belgian 192 pieces.

Hint to people who still keep a cow in the back yard: Her milk will have a better flavor if you see that she gets plenty of vitamin E.

Notice in a parish bulletin: "Our annual bazaar was rather like heaven. Many we expected to see there were absent."

LEGAL RIGHT

Legally, a married woman has the right to hold a job outside the home and can do so even over her husband's objections. But where do you find a husband any more who objects?

Worth remembering: "A lot of people are smarter than they look—and they ought to be."

Folklore: The specks on your fingernails stand for the number of big lies you have told. People with green eyes tend to be violently jealous. Drop a dishrag and you'll have company or a quarrel soon. To make a child remember something, pull its ears. It'll remember even better if you pull them clear off.

If the dessert you like best is strawberry icebox pie, you and Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson have something in common.

It was George Eliot—Mary Ann Evans—, the lady novelist who observed, "There is nothing will kill a man so soon as having nobody to find fault with but himself."

Junior Editors Quiz on HUNGARY

QUESTION: Would you tell us about Hungary?

ANSWER: Hungary, now a small country of central Europe, was once powerful and important.

In A.D. 896, a proud people with an independent spirit, the Magyars, settled in the broad Danube River plain, where Hungary now lies.

The fertile, black earth tempted other nations. Fierce wars were fought, especially with the Tartars in the 1200's. In the 1400's, a powerful king, Matthias Corvinus, unified the country and made it prosperous.

But with his death, the Ottoman Turks invaded Hungary and then the Austrians. In 1867, Hungary joined Austria in a monarchial government.

But in World War I, Austria-Hungary was defeated along with Germany, which led to the establishment of a dictatorship.

This was overthrown, leading to a regency. In 1929, Hungary's neighbors took most of her land, mineral resources and forests.

When Hitler rose to power, he promised to return Hungary's lost provinces. But after his defeat, Russian troops invaded the country, and the people still live under a one-party Communist government, which allows no opposition.

By nature, Hungarians cling to their own customs. They love bright designs, music and dancing and spiced food. Goulash, spiced with paprika, is a national dish.

In Waterford Program

Noncredit Courses for Adults Varied

Name a subject, any subject, and they're apt to have it this fall in the Waterford Township School District's adult education noncredit program, slated to begin the week of Sept. 25.

For the dog lover, there's poodle grooming. For the housewife, there's diet cooking and a course entitled candy making and party foods. Another selection is a women's lecture series, featuring talks on cheeses, Oriental foods and buying hose.

In the recreation category, there's women's self defense, women's sports knowledge, basic seamanship and small boat handling and fly and lure fishing.

Offered for the first time, in addition to some of the aforementioned classes, are millinery, gift wrapping, holiday decorations, outboard motor repair, welding, clarinet, great-books, handwriting analysis, spelling, slide rule, public speaking and operating a small business.

Classes will last from four to 10 weeks for fees ranging from $4 to $10.

Interested persons can register from 7 to 8:30 p.m. next Monday through Thursday at Waterford Township High School, 1415 Crescent Lake.

30 Subjects Offer High School Credit

More than 30 high school credit courses are being offered this fall in the Waterford Township School District's adult education program, it was announced today.

Interested persons can register from 7 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. next Monday through Thursday at Waterford Township High School, 1415 Crescent Lake.

Classes will begin the week of Sept. 26 and continue through Dec. 1. All classes will be held twice weekly, either on Monday and Wednesday or Tuesday and Thursday, at Waterford Township High School.

New courses offered this year are industrial trigonometry, beginning machine shop, general mathematics, data processing (introduction to punched card equipment) and auto mechanics.

COURSES OFFERED

Also offered are speech, advanced typing and office machines, beginning typing, welding, world geography, world history and drawing, sketching and painting.

Prosecutor Is Recalling All Badges

Oakland County Prosecutor S. Jerome Bronson said today that he is recalling all the "special investigator" badges he distributed in the past year.

"My intentions have been completely misinterpreted and misunderstood," explained Bronson, "and rather than carry the controversy any further I've asked that the badges be returned."

Critics recently claimed that Bronson was in violation of the law which prohibits the use of the Great Seal of Michigan.

The metal badges are embossed with the State Coat of Arms, rather than the Great Seal which is similar, and therefore not unlawful, according to a ruling made by State Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley.

In all, 35 of the metal badges were passed out by Bronson to persons who have assisted his office with technical advice and alerted him to special law enforcement problems in their areas.

NO AUTHORITY

The badges were honorary tokens of "gratitude," said Bronson, and carried no official authority.

Bronson said that since receiving the publicity about the badges he has received numerous requests from persons wanting the badges.

County Unit OK

School Center Clears Hurdle

Schematic plans for the proposed $2.5-million Oakland Schools' educational center were approved yesterday by the building and grounds committee of the County Board of Supervisors.

The school system has entered a lease agreement with the county for 20 acres of service center land where the building will be constructed.

Financing of the structure will be accomplished through a property tax of .25 mills to be levied next year by the intermediate school system.

Four School Officials to Join Program

Three Oakland Schools employes and an Oakland Community College faculty member have been named to participate in the Michigan Cooperative Curriculum Program.

Dr. Myles Platt, Oakland Schools director of social studies, and Robert Payne, social studies consultant, will be members of the committee on education and citizenship.

Oakland Schools' director of transportation, Erwin J. Hendershott, will serve on the committee on safety education.

James H. Dotseth, OCC director of technical studies, has been appointed to the vocational-technical education committee.

The curriculum program is designed to coordinate the efforts of citizens, local school systems, institutions of higher education, voluntary educational associations and the State Department of Education.

Boating Class Is Set to Begin

Safe boating classes sponsored by the U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary Flotilla 12-18 of Pontiac will begin tomorrow night at 7 p.m. at the Naval Training Center, 469 S. East Blvd.

Included in the eight-week course meeting every Tuesday night will be instruction in seamanship, chart work, water-accident prevention, and navigational aids.

Those successful completing the course are awarded "Small Boat Seamanship" certificates by the auxiliary. A nominal fee will be charged to cover cost of books and other materials used in the course.

Mishap Injures Bike Rider, 7

Listed in satisfactory condition in Pontiac General Hospital is Kelvin W. Lewis, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Lewis of 3385 Frembes, Waterford Township.

She told State Police the boy was riding his bicycle down a service drive at a grocery store. She said she slowed down and swerved to the left, but the bicycle still struck the car.

The boy was thrown about 25 feet by the impact, according to State Police.

Pontiac Airport Open House Is Called Success

The two-day open house at Pontiac Municipal Airport was labeled a success last night by Acting Airport Manager J. David VanderVeen.

The airfield handled a record number of flights, exceeding the field's best day by 30 per cent. There were 1,211 aircraft movements on Sunday, second day of the open house.

VanderVeen said $1,893 was raised during the two days. Operators at the airport have agreed to put this money in a fund toward the purchase of strobe lights for the end of runways.

Plans Big Mall

ADRAIN (AP) — A realtor, Raynor Snyder, has announced plans for a 50-acre mall-type shopping center near the southern edge of the city. Snyder said construction will start either late this fall or early in the spring.

Sticker Votes Rejected

Candidate Not on Short-Term Ballot

A nominee for an Oakland County Circuit judge post will not have his name appear on the November ballot for an additional six-week term on the bench.

The Michigan State Board of Canvassers apparently has rejected the six sticker votes received in the August primary by Royal Oak attorney John N. O'Brien for the short term.

O'Brien, one of the six candidates for three six-year Circuit Court positions in the Nov. 8 election, had waged a sticker campaign for the Nov. 9 to Jan. 1 term created as a result of the death last year of Judge Stanton G. Dondero.

While refusing to credit O'Brien with the six votes in its list of certified candidates, the Board of Canvassers noted, however, that the six-week term will appear on the ballot but without names.

County Clerk John D. Murphy said today that this opens the race for the short term to any qualified person in the county.

HIGHEST WINS

"The attorney who receives the highest number of write-in or sticker votes would win," said Murphy.

The short term did not appear on the primary ballot since no one filed nominating petitions for it.

Man Robbed on City Street

Fred Torres, 28, of 136 State said he was walking on Orchard Lake near the Grand Trunk Western Railroad tracks when assaulted by the youths about 6:30 p.m.

Torres said he was knocked down and robbed of his wallet containing the money. The youths then fled.

Substitute Patrolmen Arrest 3 City Men

Held in the Oakland County Jail on bond of $10,000 following arraignment in Municipal Court are Herbert Jones, 27, of 240 Hughes; Willie L. Duncan, 26, of 374 Osmun; and Willie Jackson, 30, of 213 Harrison.

Jones, Duncan and Jackson were stopped in their car at the corner of Wilson and South Saginaw after deputies had obtained from witnesses a description of four men and an automobile involved in the theft.

★ ★ ★

FREE ON BOND

Armstrong, Stout and two other deputies were assigned to Pontiac for a one-hour period yesterday during funeral service for Detective William Gracey.

Man Held in Jail on Gun Theft Count

McCallum set the hearing for Sept. 20 and remanded Douglas to the Oakland County Jail when bond was not furnished.

Teacher Pact Signing Slated

Formal signing of the approved 1966-67 teachers' contract with the Waterford Education Association is slated for tomorrow night's 7:30 meeting of the Waterford Township Board of Education.

Agreement was reached last week by negotiating teams representing both sides. The contract subsequently was ratified by the teachers and school board.

In other business tomorrow night, the board will act on a recommendation of Supt. of Schools Dr. Don O. Tatroe, proposing a pay hike for substitute teachers.

Dr. Burton K. Thorn, director of vocational education, is slated to present a curriculum report on a recent vocational education evaluation project.

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — The great 1966-'67 saloon season has now opened. There's an itch in my typewriter finger telling me this year everybody'll be throwing money away at night, not being able to guess whether there'll be a tomorrow morning.

WILSON

"Frank Sinatra had to change his sleeping—he now has to watch 'Captain Kangaroo,' " Joe E. said.

"But give Mayor Lindsay credit. He took a city that was tired and run down and converted it into a disaster area. I worked in Las Vegas with Pat Boone. He represented everything that was clean and good and I represented the other side."

Joe E.'s favorite airline was LSD and he had a song about not being able to recognize today's boys from girls which he should have titled "My Gal Hal."

"Champagne?" the captains greeted me, and I naturally said "Sure."

At Perle's insistence, they served, besides anything else you wanted, a bubbling nonalcoholic grape juice bottled in Silverton, Ohio, which may be the savior of people.

Edie Adams and Marty Mills flew from a White House reception to the Mel Thorme-Woody Herman-John Byner opening at Basin St. Edie said Lady Bird spoke to her at the reception about an impersonation of Lady Bird which Edie does. (Edie's line mimicing Lady Bird is "Since Mr. Johnson and I became President . . ."

Lady Bird nodded and said, "It's true. I used to say 'When we were in the Senate.' "

★ ★ ★

Today's Secret Stuff: A big Broadwayite in theatricals with multitudinous influential connections is rumored secretly indicted for bribing an official . . . Some of the Metropolitan Opera toppers are scared stiff about a musicians' union labor problem threatening the fabulous opening schedule.

★ ★ ★

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Hy and Maurice Uchitel say the tab for redecorating El Morocco (opening Sept. 22) will be 350Gs. Afro-Asians Hit Rhodesia Plan

Commonwealth Pact on Issue Is Unlikely

LONDON (UPI) — Intensified Afro-Asian opposition to British Prime Minister Harold Wilson's compromise plan today virtually destroyed hopes for Commonwealth agreement on a way to end the 10-month-old Rhodesian rebellion.

Caucusing to consolidate their opposition, Afro-Asian and Caribbean leaders delayed the start of today's morning session of the commonwealth prime ministers conference by more than an hour.

Only Australia, New Zealand, Malawi and Malta appeared to support Wilson's complex proposal which calls for eventual African rule.

NO ACTION

★ ★ ★

The leading African delegate said the Afro-Asian bloc was determined Wilson should include in his plan the steps — military force or mandatory United Nations sanctions — he has firmly rejected as too severe.

Negro Named School Official

DETROIT (AP) — Arthur L. Johnson, deputy director of the Michigan Civil Rights Commission Tuesday became the first Negro to serve as an assistant superintendent in the Detroit school system.

Johnson was appointed to the post of assistant superintendent for community relations to succeed Dr. Norman Drachler, who was named acting superintendent on Aug. 31.

Water Research Needs Imagination, Caution

By Science Service

MONTREAL, Canada — The human race needs bold, imaginative thinking where water supply is concerned. It also needs caution in investigating the consequences of how scientists are modifying our earth and weather.

More attention should be given to possible disastrous side effects of huge projects such as redistribution of water throughout North America, or the breaking up of hurricanes, Dr. Raymond L. Nace, research hydrologist with the U.S. Geological Survey said.

Before we congratulate ourselves on our progress in controlling water and weather, we had better take a deeper look, "lest our big thoughts turn out to be unthinkable monsters," he said before the International Water Quality Symposium here.

Dr. Nace pointed out possible drawbacks inherent in plans for increasing the water supply. He cited the proposed $100 billion plan of North American Water and Power Alliance (NAWAPA) — "one of the biggest water thoughts yet generated."

'Full-Time' Set for Meat Probe

Grand Juror Named After 5 Men Charged

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Grand juror Stuart Hoffius, named by four other Kent County Circuit judges to investigate alleged illegal meat processing in the county, says he plans to devote full time to the investigation.

"I don't know how much time I will devote weekly to the investigation, but tentative plans are that I will give up all my judicial duties," Hoffius said Tuesday.

* * *

He said he expects the full inquiry to take from 30 to 40 days.

Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley requested the grand jury Monday after five men were arrested on charges of conspiracy to violate state agriculture laws by selling illegally prepared meat for human consumption.

FBI INVESTIGATES

Hoffius, 51, was graduated from Colgate University in 1935 and the University of Michigan Law School in 1938.

He served as an FBI investigator from 1942 until 1945 when he returned to private law practice in Grand Rapids.

* * *

Hoffius was named Kent County prosecutor in 1954 and was reelected to the post twice.

He was elected easily to the Circuit Court bench in 1959 and is completing his first term. Last month he announced his candidacy for a 10-year term and will be unopposed in the November election.

3 Arrested After Monroe Jewel Theft

MONROE (AP) — It took police in Monroe about 10 minutes to nab a trio of suspected jewel thieves Tuesday afternoon and about an hour to recover an estimated $5,000 worth of diamond rings.

Monroe County sheriff's deputies said two women entered the Keidan's Jewelry Store in the Monroe Shopping Center and asked to see some expensive watches.

* * *

After examining several, including some which a clerk brought from a back room in the store, the women left without buying. Immediately after the women had left, the clerk discovered a case containing 48 rings, at least one of which was worth about $850, was missing.

A barber next door to the store said two women got into a car with a man and sped away. Ten minutes later, a city detective spotted the car on I-75 in Monroe County.

ARRESTED THREE

A truck driver later discovered a purse on I-75 which contained 19 diamond rings.

N. Carolina Psychologist Feels Minds Can Leave Bodies and Drift Away

By ROB WOOD

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — A North Carolina State University psychologist is convinced the minds of many individuals can leave their bodies and drift away, uninhibited by physical barriers or distance.

The phenomenon is called astral (out-of-body) projection. Dr. E.E. Bernard, who is doing research on the phenomenon, said it is "like lying on a sofa, getting up and seeing your body still lying on the couch."

* * *

The mind, he said in an interview, may remain in the same room or be projected thousands of miles. Separation of mind and body may last from a few seconds to a few hours.

"These experiences definitely are not hallucinations," he said.

AT DESK

Dr. Bernard, 36, said he had uncovered one case where an individual experienced astral projection while sitting at a desk. The mind was projected to a distant city the person had never visited, he said. After the experience, the individual described in detail a street, an office building and the persons he saw.

Dr. Bernard said he investigated and found the street, the building and the people.

Dr. Bernard said his research is not aimed at proving or disproving astral projection because, "I am convinced it is a legitimate phenomenon. In fact I have experienced astral projection."

* * *

His first step is to collect data from persons who claim to have experienced out-of-body projection. Dr. Bernard claims he has uncovered several cases of individuals who have experienced astral projection once or twice and others he called "old pros" who "can turn this on and off and control the destination of their minds."

Those who experience out-of-body projection once or twice, Dr. Bernard said, "are afraid and worried."

* * *

"One individual thought death had called and this person was watching what he thought to be his own dead body. It was not.

Rosh Hashanah Dishes Are Delicious

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Dinner — a very special dinner — marks the beginning of Rosh Hashanah, the two-day holiday at the start of Jewish New Year celebrations.

Wine and Challah, which is Sabbath bread, are placed on the table. Present also is honey as a symbol of the wish for sweetness in the New Year.

Chicken is often the main course at this festive meal. A new recipe for a chicken casserole comes from Denver just in time for those who are planning Thursday's menu.

She had first tasted it in Jerusalem several years ago. Not expensive, it should please the taste of diners of any religious bent.

With it serve an apple and sweet potato scallop and a rice ring. Dessert can be pound cake and strawberries.

CHICKEN-OLIVE CASSEROLE

1 4½-5 lb. hen
1 clove garlic
1 small onion, minced
1 can mushrooms
1 can pitted, ripe olives
2 small cans tomato sauce
1 can okra (optional)

Cut up hen. Place in a roaster or casserole covered with the rest of ingredients. Bake until tender at moderate temperature. About 30 minutes before done add okra, if desired. Serves five.

SWEET POTATO-APPLE SCALLOP

2 cups cold, boiled sweet potatoes cut slant-wise into thick slices
½ cup brown sugar
3 tablespoons honey
1½ cups tart apples
4 teaspoons butter
1 teaspoon salt

Put one-half the potatoes in a buttered dish and cover with one-half the apples. Sprinkle with one-half the sugar, dot with one-half the butter, and sprinkle with one-half the salt. Repeat.

Another dessert that will be welcome whatever the season is Trifle made with kosher margarine.

TRIFLE

Lemon Filling
7 tablespoons cornstarch
1½ cups water
1¼ cups sugar
3 egg yolks
Grated rind of one lemon
Juice of one lemon
1 tablespoon kosher-pareve margarine

Mix ½ cup water with cornstarch to a thin paste. In top of a double boiler put 1½ cups water and sugar and bring to a boil over direct heat.

Beat egg yolks slightly. Pour hot mixture over them a little at a time, and stir well after each addition. Return to double boiler and cook 1 minute.

Strawberry jam
2 wine glasses sweet white wine or sherry
1 recipe — lemon filling
3 egg whites
6 tablespoons sugar
Blanched almonds
Maraschino cherries

Break sponge cake into pieces. Make a layer of cake in the bottom of a deep glass dish (1 quart size). Sprinkle cake with sherry, spread a layer of jam and a layer of lemon filling. Repeat, ending with the lemon filling.

Beat egg whites until stiff, gradually beating in sugar — one tablespoon at a time until the mixture is glossy. Drop spoonfuls of meringue around edge of trifle. Trim meringue with almonds and maraschino cherries. Chill several hours before serving to blend flavors. Serves four to six.

CHICKEN-OLIVE CASSEROLE

Homemade Salad Dressings Are Superb and Simple

Smell the salty air and tingle on the skin from the spray as you head into the wind on your favorite boat. Well, almost!

If a trip isn't on the horizon right this moment, use your imagination for the surroundings as you settle down to this combination of western salad greens and sweet, delicate, pink fresh shrimp. The familiar oil and vinegar dressing will make it a smooth sailing salad for family and guests.

Western Style Seafood Salad

1 head iceberg lettuce
½ bunch romaine
½ pound cooked shrimp or crab legs

Prepare salad greens ahead so they are cold and crisp. Tear into bite-size pieces. Add seafood when ready to prepare. Toss with enough dressing to coat greens.

Seafood Oil and Vinegar Dressing

1 cup salad oil
⅓ cup tarragon vinegar
½ teaspoon salt, crushed with 1 clove garlic
1 teaspoon dry mustard
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
Fresh ground pepper

Combine all ingredients in covered container or blender. Shake well before using. Flavor improves if it is made before serving and allowed to chill. Makes about 1¼ cups dressing.

Western Thousand Island Dressing

1 cup mayonnaise
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
Dash cayenne
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 tablespoon ketchup
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
2 tablespoons chopped sweet pickles or pickle relish
2 teaspoons chopped parsley
½ cup finely-chopped celery
1½ tablespoons chopped pimiento
1 tablespoon finely-chopped onion

Combine all ingredients; mix and chill, allowing favors to blend. Makes 1½ cups dressing.

Q. What is the name of this cut of meat?

A. Veal sirloin roast.

Q. Where does it come from? How is it identified?

A. It comes from the loin-leg section of the calf, which corresponds to the sirloin section of beef. This cut weighs from four to six pounds and contains portions of hip and back bone. The lean is light pink in color and there is no marbling. Texture of the lean is very fine and fairly firm, almost velvety in appearance. The bones are porous and soft, some with a reddish tinge.

Q. How is it prepared?

A. By roasting. Veal has very little fat, and it should be covered with bacon strips if the fat covering is at a minimum. To roast, place on a rack, with fat or bacon-covered side on top, in a shallow, open roasting pan. Do not add water. Do not cover. Roast in a slow oven (325 degrees F.) until roast meat thermometer registers 170 degrees F. Allow 30 to 35 minutes per pound for cooking time.

Zippy Tuna Dip May Be Spread for Sandwich

Dip or sandwich spread — this tuna combination will suit many of your snack needs, but, more important, your taste buds.

The ingredients are all favorites — tuna, cream cheese, sour cream, pizza catsup, lemon and garlic.

Spread "Tasty Tuna Dip" between slices of wheat or Italian bread for a substantial sandwich snack or serve in a bowl accompanied with potato or corn chips.

The exciting, but understated, new flavor in this tuna dip-spread is pizza catsup, a tomato catsup nicely accented with Italian herbs and spices.

Tasty Tuna Dip

1 (6-oz.) can chunk-style tuna, drained
1 (3-oz.) pkg. cream cheese
¼ cup sour cream or mayonnaise
¼ cup pizza flavor catsup
1 tablespoon lemon or lime juice
½ teaspoon garlic salt
Dash pepper

Combine ingredients and chill. Garnish with parsley sprigs. Serve with potato or corn chips. Makes 2 cups.

French Food

The French sometimes couple tomato and pineapple in a poultry dish. Borrow the idea and grill halved tomatoes and sliced pineapple to serve with broiled chicken. Nice indoors or out!

HARVEST OF PEANUT TREATS — August is the month when red-skinned Spanish peanuts are harvested. Use some of the new crop to dip ice cream cones. Fill other flat-bottomed ice cream cones with salted Spanish peanuts and raisins; you can eat the cup. For banana splits with a nutty difference, cut a peeled banana into halves lengthwise, brush them with honey and sprinkle with salted Spanish peanuts. Top with scoops of vanilla ice cream, chocolate sauce and more Spanish peanuts.

BARBECUE MEAT BUNWICHES—Round-up your family for tangy Barbecue Meat Bunwiches — served hot and steaming from the oven. Add crisp relishes and frosty iced tea or milk and you have the "fixings" for a patio party—on a moments notice.

Tuna-Macaroni Salad Is Unusual

The actual packing of lunches usually presents less of a problem than the planning of what to pack. And the conscientious homemaker racks her brain to think of something different, knowing how easily bored the lunch-toters in her family can be, if they are given the same old thing every day.

★ ★ ★

Tuna fish salad is a favorite, especially with women, and so this recipe combines tuna with elbow macaroni. Canned pineapple tidbits are a delicious addition. And bits of green pepper add color and crispness.

The salad can be made up the night before . . . and it's a good idea anyway because the salad should be thoroughly chilled before packing in a wide-mouth vacuum bottle. Add a few springs of crisp salad greens if you like.

Macaroni Tuna Lunch Box Salad

1 tablespoon salt
3 quarts boiling water
2 cups elbow macaroni (8 ounces)
2 cans (6½ or 7 ounces each) tuna, drained
½ cup slivered green pepper
1 can (8¾ ounces) pineapple tidbits, drained
½ cup mayonnaise
¼ cup toasted slivered almonds
¼ teaspoon each: salt, onion salt, chervil
⅛ teaspoon white pepper
3 tablespoons lemon juice

★ ★ ★

Add 1 tablespoon salt to rapidly boiling water. Gradually add macaroni so that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender. Drain in colander. Rinse with cold water; drain again.

★ ★ ★

Combine remaining ingredients with macaroni in large bowl; toss and chill. For lunch box, pack in wide-mouth vacuum bottle. Makes 4 servings.

MACARONI TUNA LUNCH BOX SALAD—Off the pantry shelf . . . elbow macaroni, canned tuna, canned pineapple tidbits . . . and into the lunch box. These are the three main ingredients in a totable, enjoyable salad for lunch.

Homemakers Will Love Freezer Sandwiches

Barbecue Meat Bunwiches are freezer sandwiches, devised for active homemakers and busy summer schedules. Fill hot dog buns with the delicious filling up to two weeks ahead, and wrap in aluminum foil.

For easy identification, label with name and date and store in the freezer. To serve, remove from freezer and heat thoroughly in oven or on barbecue grill.

For real convenience, make two recipes, serve one and freeze one. The barbecue filling combines luncheon meat, eggs, pickle relish and onion powder. It will soon become a family favorite.

Sandwiches offer valuable nutrients, an important consideration in summertime meal planning. Enriched and whole grain bread contributes three B-vitamins, thiamine, niacin and riboflavin, plus the mineral, iron.

Barbecued Meat Bunwiches

1 can (12 oz.) luncheon meat, chopped
2 hard-cooked eggs, chopped
¼ cup drained pickle relish
½ teaspoon onion powder
½ cup prepared barbecue sauce
6 enriched hot dog buns, split
Butter or margarine, softened

Thoroughly mix together meat, eggs, pickle relish and onion powder. Stir in barbecue sauce. Spread top and bottom halves of buns with butter or margarine. Cover bottom halves with meat mixture and close sandwiches.

To serve immediately, wrap in aluminum foil and place in preheated 350 degree oven 10 minutes, or until thoroughly heated.

To freeze: wrap in aluminum foil, fasten with freezer tape and label filling and date. Freeze up to 2 weeks.

To heat, remove sandwiches from freezer and place in preheated 350 degree oven 25 to 30 minutes, or until thoroughly heated. Makes 6 sandwiches.

If you are adding garlic or onion salt to that ground beef you plan to use for hamburgers, go slow in adding other salt.

Bacon in Soup Adds to Taste

Use a bit of bacon to give new-flavor gusto to vegetable soup. Serve to hungry youngsters with tuna salad sandwiches and milk. In saucepan, cook 2 slices bacon until crisp; remove and crumble. Pour off drippings.

Add 1 can (10¾ ounces) condensed vegetable soup, 1 soup can water, and ⅛ teaspoon dried dill leaves. Heat; stir now and then. Garnish with bacon. Makes 2 to 3 servings.

YOU MAY HAVE PIN-WORMS
AND NOT KNOW IT

Fidgeting, nose-picking, a tormenting rectal itch are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms...ugly parasites that medical experts say infest 1 out of every 3 persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.

To get rid of Pin-Worms, they must be killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do . . . and here's how they do it:

First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then — Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.

Chase & Sanborn COFFEE

This is the "inside story" of Quality. Kroger uses fruit fresh from trees like these, concentrates and freezes the juice, then wraps it in our shiny new label!

New Kroger Frozen Orange Juice: guaranteed fine as the best and costs you less

There's a lot of sun-inspired flavor squeezed into a glass of Kroger Frozen Orange Juice. For one thing, it's pure orange juice—without a drop of added coloring. So you get Nature at her flavorsome best! Kroger uses tree-ripened oranges, warm with the Florida sun and loaded with sweetness. They're juiced gently, then concentrated—without high heat (or even simmering). There's no scorched taste, ever! This liquid gold is flash-frozen in minutes, packed in foil-lined, insulated cans that don't let flavor thaw out easy. See why Kroger orange juice is always government Grade A and then some? Now see how you save on Kroger's handy 6-pack. Golden way to greet a sunrise!

Opening lead—♠K

By Oswald & James Jacoby
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Oswald reminisces about a bridge game in Hawaii during World War II. He says, "When you get to Hawaii with your cruise group next month be sure to look up my old friend Howard Babbit. Howie is certainly an ingenious dummy player.

JACOBY

I remember one beautiful play he made at the Pacific Club. Since I was dummy, I was able to appreciate the play fully. Look at the hand."

Jim: "Ordinary defense will set declarer one trick at his four heart contract. Assuming West leads out three rounds of spades East can ruff the third lead with a low trump, whereupon South will have to lose two trump tricks. You don't mean to say that Mr. Babbit persuaded West to shift suit?"

Oswald: "No, he didn't. East played the ten on the first spade lead and West continued with the ace. Howie reached over to play from dummy and somehow or other managed to pull out the queen. West smiled happily. Looked at Howie as if he had suddenly qualified for dotage and continued with the jack."

Jim: "What a nice play. I assume that East did not bother to ruff his partner's trick. In this case it would be a simple matter for Howie to ruff small, enter dummy with a club, lead a trump and let it ride to West's king, go back to dummy with a club later on, finesse successfully against East's queen of trumps and make the game contract."

Oswald: "Of course. The amazing thing about the performance was that East and West did not know what had happened to them."

CARD Sense

Q—The bidding has been:

West	North	East	South
	1♦	Dble	2♣
3♥	3♣	4♥	?

You, South, hold:
♠Q3 ♥976 ♦Q932 ♣854
What do you do?

A—Bid four spades. You may even make it and you have no defense against hearts.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Gallows for Sale; Beware of Buyer

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—While demolishing the Parish Courthouse in Lafayette, La., the I. Olshan Demolishing Co. acquired a gallows that has never been used. It was installed in 1927 shortly before the state of Louisiana abolished hanging as a form of execution.

★ ★ ★

The gallows comes complete with the traditional 13 steps leading to a sturdy platform, an overhead arm with fastener for rope, and a trap door, all accoutrements of a gallows.

It's for sale.

Time Ran Out

ALAMOGORDO, N. M. (AP)—The burglar who broke a window at a local jewelry store and stole a number of watches was in for a disappointment when he examined his loot. The items taken were all false watches made of plastic and used merely for display.

Thieves They Are

LARAMIE, Wyo. (AP) — Three Laramie youths were fined $29 each and sentenced to 15 days in jail after conviction of the theft of floodlights for their rock and roll band.

The name of the group: "Ali Baba and the Thieves."

Astrological Forecast

By SYDNEY OMARR
For Thursday

ARIES (Mar. 21 - Apr. 19): Accent now on cooperation, public relations. You can make friends rather than enemies. Cement partnership ties. Realize you may require legal advice. Get it!

TAURUS (Apr. 20 - May 20): Emphasize service. Make others aware of your worth. Express appreciation to one who aided in past. Study ARIES message. Important to maintain balance. Avoid extremes.

GEMINI (May 21 - June 20): Favorable lunar position accents love, romance, exciting changes. Stress creative endeavors. Shake off emotional rut. Be true to inner desires. Then you collect just rewards!

CANCER (June 21 - July 22): Your kind of day! You are able to please loved ones. Your sense of security is heightened. There are beneficial changes, opportunities. More like!

LEO (July 23 - Aug. 22): Key is VERSATILITY. You have numerous choices today. Some are revealed through calls, messages. But you must be discriminating. Choose the best . . . take time to be wise.

VIRGO (Aug. 23 - Sept. 22): Study LEO message. Be perceptive. Applies especially where money, possessions are concerned, goals or partner needs encouragement. Give it — then air is permeated with optimism.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 - Oct. 22): Cycle high. Stress on achievement, responsibility. Many seek your opinion, guidance. Be generous. What you give today . . . is returned with interest. Don't spin wheels in rut of mediocrity.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 - Nov. 21): No time to fall prey to reports based on Speculation. Wait for facts before making decision. If you show consideration for one is incapacitated . . . you will be well repaid. Know this.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 - Dec. 21): Emphasize good will among friends. Wonderful for planning ahead . . . especially for social occasion. Be with congenial persons. Avoid those who argue for sake of argument.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 - Jan. 19): You can now elevate standing at work, home, and in community. You do this by display of cooperative attitude. Be receptive . . . be especially kind to older woman.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 - Feb. 18): Good lunar aspect points to journeys of the mind. Means you expand, explore, enlarge horizons. Add to knowledge. Gain indicated through written word. Think!

PISCES (Feb. 19 - Mar. 20): Money affecting mate, partner is spotlighted. Means agreement should be reached. Further delay could prove costly. Arrive at intelligent understanding . . . and you feel better.
