JFK Is Alert for Answer on Cease-Fire Note

Report Russia to Give Qualified Acceptance to Western Proposals

From Our News Wires

The Soviet Union shortly will announce qualified acceptance of Western proposals for a cease fire in Laos, informed diplomatic sources said today in Moscow.

The sources said the Russians would propose immediate convocation of the three-nation control commission on Indochina — India, Poland and Canada —to investigate the possibility of a cease fire and supervise carrying it out.

The Russians also would have the three nations work out conditions for guaranteeing Laotian neutrality, the sources said.

President Kennedy arrived in Palm Beach, Fla., today for a four-day Easter holiday, with the crisis of Laos still threatening.

His Air Force 707 jet plane landed at West Palm Beach International Airport following a flight from Andrews Air Force Base in Maryland.

The President joined his family for a brief vacation in the sun at the Kennedy ocean front home. He is scheduled to return to Washington on Monday.

Kennedy took extraordinary steps to keep in constant touch with the international situation.

TO RELAY NEWS

Kennedy arranged for an around-the-clock White House detail to relay to him instantly any urgent message.

Kennedy delayed his departure for at least a day in the hope he would receive the reply of the Soviet Union to a British note asking a cease fire in Laos and calling for negotiations to neutralize that Southeast Asian country.

It was reported the Soviet reply would ask for firm assurances that a cease fire would be followed by a meeting of 14 nations to discuss the future of Laos.

The sources said the Russians wanted the conference — which would include Communist China the Soviet Union and the United States—to have final responsibility for settling the status of Laos.

The sources were cautiously optimistic about the likelihood of a peaceful solution of the Laos crisis.

OFFICIALS CAUTIOUS

U.S. officials in Washington reacted cautiously to first reports of Russia's qualified acceptance to the cease-fire plan.

Will Sponsor Seder Dinner

Jews to Observe Passover With Temple, Home Services

By MARY ANGLEMIER

With its colorful ceremonies that mark the flight of the Israelites from ancient Egypt, as related in the Book of Exodus, Passover begins this year at sundown Friday evening.

★ ★ ★

Brief vesper services will be held at 6 p.m. in Temple Beth Jacob, 79 Elizabeth Lake Road. Traditional services will also be held in Congregation B'nai Israel, 143 Oneida Road at 7 p.m.

Passover morning service will be held at 10:30 a.m. Saturday at Temple Beth Jacob; and at 7:30 a.m. Saturday and 9 a.m. on Sunday at Congregation B'nai Israel.

The most singular feature of the Passover holiday, which is observed seven days by Reform Jews and eight days by Traditional Jews is the Seder, a home worship service.

RITE AT STATE HOSPITAL

The youth group of Temple Beth Jacob will sponsor a Seder at 12:30 p.m. Sunday at the temple for patients of Pontiac State Hospital. Young people will conduct the ritual service.

The Seder table, covered with fine linen, is set with foods and objects that symbolize the deliverance of the Jews from Egypt.

There is the matzoh, the unleavened bread, to recall the bread baked in haste as the Israelites took flight; the bitter herbs as reminders of the hardships undergone by the slaves under Pharaoh in the years of oppression.

★ ★ ★

There also is a sprig of parsley on the table to remind the group that Passover is also a festival of spring; and a roasted shank bone, an emblem of the paschal lamb.

The haroses, a mixture of apples, nuts, raisins, cinnamon and wine symbolizes the mortar from which the Israelites made bricks for the Egyptian pyramids.

It is traditional for the youngest child of each family to ask four questions about the holiday. The remainder of the service is devoted to a response by the family group out of the Haggadah, or narrative.

There are also traditional songs to delight and instruct children.

With minor variations in the forms of the service and food served, Passover is celebrated by Jews throughout the world, who in the spirit of the event, welcome strangers to the table and temper joy of the festival with thoughtful reflections on the theme of freedom so central to the occasion.

Auto Makers Are Optimistic

Spring Sales Upturn Seems a Reality, and Worst May Be Over

DETROIT (UPI) — The recession-troubled auto industry will end the first quarter of 1961 on an optimistic note.

Industry leaders say they see increasing signs that the market is having a spring upturn after a dreary winter of disappointing sales and a million car inventory.

Production figures for the first three months of the year show that output ran almost 41 per cent or 813,000 units below a year ago.

Automotive News estimated 1961 production thus far at 1,190,754 cars, against 2,003,000 last year.

Despite the poor production record, car makers point to steadily increasing sales over the past five weeks as an indication the worst of the business slump is over in the auto industry.

Edward D. Rollert, general manager of Buick and a vice president of General Motors Corp., says he is "very optimistic" over a spring upturn.

Speaking at a Flint preview of a new two-door Buick Special coupe, Rollert said Buick is "doing quite well" in March.

"There has been a definite turnaround in business this month," Rollert said. "We are doing 40 to 50 per cent more business than February."

Pontiac Motor to Close for Week

Pontiac Motor Division will join Buick and Oldsmobile in a new one-week shutdown the first week of April.

The three General Motors Corp. divisions will suspend production beginning April 3. The shutdown in Pontiac will idle some 12,000 Fisher Body and Pontiac production workers.

Buick, Olds and Pontiac were idle one week in both February and March.

House Is Full . . . 10 Children

Quads Normal, Healthy

HOLYOKE, Mass. (AP)—Four normal, healthy quadruplets had their first food today—glucose in water —23 hours after their births.

All four youngsters born Wednesday to Mrs. Raymond J. Feyre registered slight weight losses which are normal at the beginning of a new baby's life.

As is common in multiple births, they arrived prematurely — seven weeks ahead of time.

Providence Hospital authorities said the two boys and two girls took their first food well, that their condition is excellent, and that they will have more glucose and water before being given a formula.

Flowers, congratulations and gifts were arriving today for the petite 35-year-old mother, who already had six children. She said, "We love children but we didn't really expect so many at one time."

★ ★ ★

A wheel chair and elevator-ride to see her quadruplets were on the mother's program today.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Feyre beamed Wednesday night when told she had given birth to quadruplets, not triplets, as had been expected.

"I still can't believe it. I feel that when I wake up, I'll discover it was all a dream."

The father, Raymond J. Feyre, 38, an insurance salesman, chain-smoked cigarettes, repeating: "I'm thrilled. I'm thrilled. Just think, 10 children and everybody's healthy."

Despite the early births, however, doctors said the quads are in good health and foresaw no difficulties in bringing their weights to normal.

Doctors said the babies will remain in incubators until they reach five pounds, expected in about two months.

★ ★ ★

At the hospital Wednesday night Mrs. Feyre said that except for a little tiredness she felt wonderful. She weighs 114 pounds. Her husband said he weighs 146 and stands about 5-7.

Flashes

EDWARDS AFB, Calif. (AP) — An X15 rocket plane today soared an indicated 30 miles above the earth, man's highest reach yet toward the stars.

Test pilot Joe Walker was weightless for approximately 90 seconds of his long arc across the heavens — longest such period yet experienced by a human. He suffered no apparent ill effects.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States today announced new controls to prevent private American ships and planes from taking arms to the Congo.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department today reported additional information that a U.S. Army major survived a plane crash in Laos, and announced moves to obtain his release by pro-Communist rebels. (Picture on Page 21.)

Claims SEATO Forces 'Not Absolutely Necessary'

FROM OUR NEWS WIRES

VIENTIANE, Laos — Laotian Information Minister Bouava Norasing said today it is not yet "absolutely necessary" for this Communist-threatened kingdom to have military help from SEATO.

Bouavan called the situation "serious" but he added that it had been this way since last December when Communist Pathet Lao rebel forces occupied the Plain of Jars.

The eight-nation SEATO conference, which concluded Wednesday in Bangkok, capital of neighboring Thailand, has promised to take "appropriate" action if Russia rejects a peaceful settlement in Laos.

★ ★ ★

But the civil war was still grinding along.

The Laotian government today reported heavy fighting in Eastern Laos, contradicting previous reports that a virtual cease fire seemed to be in effect during the SEATO conference.

Norasing issued a report of a violent battle Tuesday near Kam Keut, about 130 miles east of Vientiane. The report claimed government troops killed 80 of the pro-Communist rebels.

★ ★ ★

Bouavan also said six Soviet Ilyushin transports were spotted today over the battle front near Tha Thom, 115 miles east of Vientiane. He gave no further details.

CONTINUE BUILD-UP

In the absence of a Soviet cease fire agreement for Laos, the United States is reportedly pressing ahead with its build-up as military power in and near Southeast Asia.

★ ★ ★

A reply from the Soviet government to a U.S.-backed British proposal for a cease fire and an international conference on Laos is expected soon, officials said today.

★ ★ ★

Pending disclosure of the Soviet reaction, they said, the United States has no assurance that a peaceful settlement can be achieved; it is therefore continuing the preparations for possible military action and the strengthening of Laotian government forces which were started last week.

HE'S VACATION BOUND — President Kennedy and his nephew Steven Smith Jr. walk toward an Air Force jetliner at Andrews Air Force Base today for a flight to Palm Beach, Fla., where the Chief Executive plans to spend a brief Easter vacation. Putters at 10 Paces?

Castro Tees Off

HAVANA (AP)—Prime Minister Fidel Castro who is, according to his propagandists, a fisherman, baseball player and marksman extraordinary, emerged today as a golfer, claiming, "I can beat Kennedy easily."

Castro boasted of his ability to beat the U.S. President, the semi-official newspaper Revolucion said, after an 18-hole match with Ernesto (Che) Guevara, economic czar, and Capt. Antonio Nunez Jimenez, Agrarian Reform Institute director.

The three Cuban leaders tramped over a suburban Villareal course dressed in army uniforms and combat boots.

Castro won the first hole and bragged he could beat Kennedy. Guevara took the second and chimed in, "Now I'm sure I could beat even Eisenhower."

Nunez Jimenez won the third hole and said he was ready to beat the president of the United States Fruit Co., one of the Castro regime's pet "imperialistic" enemies.

Guevara won the match. Scores were not announced.

Christ Exhibited Power, Not Frustration, on Cross

(Editor's Note — Christ's tormented cry from the cross, "Why hast thou forsaken me," appears to be one of the most confusing phrases ever spoken. But a prominent Episcopal bishop explains the words stem not from bitterness as might be supposed. This is the fourth of five articles on the last words of Christ.)

By THE RT. REV. JAMES A. PIKE
Written for Associated Press

The most puzzling word from the cross is the cry, Eloi, Eloi lama sabachthani?: "My God, my God, why hast Thou forsaken Me?"

★ ★ ★

Not puzzling if Jesus is seen as only a man; but puzzling indeed when he is conceived as God and man.

But there is an explanation — and a sound one both theologically and historically. More than that, it is an answer that can speak to each of us in our harrowing crises.

★ ★ ★

One of the most painful experiences with which man is faced is frustration. Many people think that limitation and frustration are the same thing. But if so we are all doomed to frustration, because we are all limited — each of us in different ways.

REV. PIKE

We are all "hemmed in" at times due to our own lack of capacity, due to the willful acts of others, or due to blind circumstance. Out of these same circumstances can come either bitter frustration or new and specially focused power.

What makes the difference? It is not the broad lazy river that creates electric power; it is the stream pressing through the narrow gorge — if (and the "if" is important) there is a turbine there. What is the turbine?

It was there with Jesus on the cross. Did ever a man have more basis for frustration? The hands which he used to heal men firmly nailed down, the feet which were wont to take him into haunts of need securely fastened.

★ ★ ★

And yet from his hours on the cross have come more healing and salvation than from any other moments in history.

HE MEANT MORE

Here we see that the circumstances do not determine either frustration or power — it was what was in Him. And this was eloquently displayed by the words from the cross which we are considering.

Words of sheer frustration you will say. Yes, if that is all he said — or meant. But He said or meant more.

Unlike the author and most of the readers, Jesus, as a well

Mrs. Jackson Lives Her Religion

Deaconess Just 'Passes It On'

MRS. TAFT JACKSON

"I always had a desire for a good education but had no money. A counselor through the YWCA advanced me the tuition saying, 'I am not in need of you paying me back but when you are in a position to repay, and see someone else in need, pass it on.' I find no greater outreach than the church in helping others," she said.

Chosen to represent her church as 'Mother of the Year' a few years ago, Mrs. Jackson boards children through the Michigan Children's Aid Society. Currently with her husband she cares for three youngsters.

THEY NEED LOVE

"I believe every child needs love, attention and guidance. Every child has the right to a bright and happy childhood in which he is assured a chance to develop into a useful citizen and be inspired to push on to help bring about God's kingdom," she said.

She has supplemented her education with an extension course given by the University of Michigan in education of exceptional children.

Mrs. Jackson works mostly with children although she is active in the nurses unit and is secretary of the expansion improvement fund of her church.

A past president of the Women's Mission Department of Macedonia Baptist, she serves her pastor, Rev. Lenworth R. Miner, as parttime office secretary and teaches in the Sunday School.

Mrs. Jackson is one of the leaders of Vacation Daily Bible School during summer months. Believing that music influences children, she has organized a children's choir for boys and girls, five through 12 years of age.

(Editor's Note: It seems appropriate during Holy Week to single out a few of the many lay persons who do honor to Christ by their devotion to the church of their choice. The Pontiac Press asked these persons, all successful in secular pursuits, why they voluntarily give countless hours each year to religious concerns. One woman's answer appears today, the fourth in a series of five.)

"My father died when I was a child. The church people helped my mother with gifts as well as financially. I told myself that when I grew up I would devote time to helping others through the church," said Mrs. Taft Jackson, deaconess at Macedonia Baptist Church.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Jackson said she believes God supplies our every need although it may not be what we want; that there is a great reward in, and an opportunity to "do unto others as you would that they do unto you."

The Day in Birmingham

Final Plans Announced for Conference at School

BIRMINGHAM—Final plans for the Birmingham school system's week-long planning conference which begins Monday were announced today by Supt. Otis M. Dickey.

More than 200 education leaders and area residents are expected to take part in the Monday through Friday programs that will be held at the Groves High School, Evergreen and 13-Mile roads.

"This planning conference has been organized as one means of encouraging and promoting such an exchange of ideas among the representatives of several groups having mutual interests and concern for the welfare of our public school system," explained Dickey.

The general theme of the conference will be "The Need and Challenge to Continue Educational Improvement."

The conference is planned to provide staff meetings during the day on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday with combined general sessions of all participants during the evening on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. However, all participants are invited to attend any session during the first four days.

The meeting Friday will be only for members of the administrative council.

DISCLOSE SCHEDULE

All staff sessions will begin at 9 a.m. The evening general sessions will start at 6:45 p.m. with dinner.

Presiding over the initial meeting Monday will be Mrs. Kathryn Loomis, president of the Birmingham Board of Education. The keynote address will be given by Maurice B. Mitchell, president of Encyclopedia Britannica Films.

Sessions Tuesday will follow the theme of improving curriculum development.

Wednesday's discussions will center around the Challenge to Improve Learning Opportunities" for students through newer patterns of school organization and teaching.

The improvement of the educational program through employment, in-service training and retention of superior staff personnel will be the topic of discussion Thursday.

The theme of Friday's program is "The Challenge to Action."

To Shut or Cut 52 Bases, Units

First Part of Program to Clear Out Deadwood at Home and Abroad

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department announced today the closing or curtailment of activities at 52 military bases and installations in the United States.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara said this was the first phase of the already announced White House plan to eliminate obsolete or surplus installations among the 6,700 bases, big and little, at home and abroad.

The estimated annual savings from today's action may eventually reach $220 million, although this amount would not be saved during the several years needed to carry out the cutback program.

The cutback will affect about 15,000 civilians and military personnel in the United States and about 19,000 overseas.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department said today the Grand Blanc, Mich., Army Storage Facility No. 1 would be declared excess and turned over to the General Services Administration for disposition.

Flood Damage at $60 Million

Iowa's Second Largest City Braces to Meet Rampaging River

WATERLOO, Iowa (AP)—The multimillion-dollar punch of the flooding Cedar River that staggered an industrial section of northeast Iowa left in its wake today property damage which authorities said will take weeks to clean up.

★ ★ ★

With damage estimates running in excess of $60 million, more was still to come as the flood-tide, at all-time record proportions, moved southeastward toward the Mississippi River.

★ ★ ★

It's next target was Iowa's second largest city—Cedar Rapids—where feverish preparations were being made to keep the river behind the dikes when the crest reaches there Friday.

★ ★ ★

"If anybody did it, it was the kids," said Carl Fagerlind, 57, Waterloo streets commissioner.

The youngsters worked around the clock filling sandbags when the river rose about five feet above flood stage at 21.86 feet.

Authorities said they were afraid to think of what would have resulted if the river had breached its course through the heart of the city.

Most of Waterloo was saved from flood damage by the combined effort of 2,700 teen-age boys and girls who joined 4,000 other volunteers.

trained Jew of his time, knew all of the psalms by heart. The psalms were referred to by the recitation of their first few words, in Hebrew (they are still today in the Roman Catholic, Anglican and Lutheran service books, in Latin).

As to the particular text, either the authors of the gospels referred to the recitation of the whole of Psalm 22 by a standard title (papyrus being then quite expensive), or our Lord being short of breath and strength simply expressed his whole thought by uttering the standard title.

And the whole of the psalm represents the turbine which brought power out of his fix instead of frustration, and can today bring power rather than frustration out of your limiting circumstances.

Read it:

"My God, my God, why hast Thou forsaken me?"

"My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me? Why art thou so far from helping me, and from the words of my roaring?

"Oh my God, I cry in the daytime, but thou hearest not; and in the night season, and am not silent.

"But thou art holy, O thou that inhabitest the praises of Israel.

"Our fathers trusted in thee: they trusted, and thou didst deliver them.

"They cried unto thee, and were delivered: they trusted in thee, and were not confounded.

"But I am a worm, and no man; a reproach of men, and despised of the people.

"All they that see me laugh me to scorn, they shoot out the lip, they shake the head, saying,

"He trusted on the Lord that he would deliver him: let him deliver him, seeing he delighted in him.

"But thou art he that took me out of the womb: thou didst make me hope when I was upon my mother's breasts.

"I was cast upon thee from the womb: thou art my God from my mother's belly.

"Be not far from me; for trouble is near; for there is none to help.

"Many bulls have compassed me: strong bulls of Bashan have beat me round.

"They gaped upon me with their mouths, as a ravening and a roaring lion.

"I am poured out like water, and all my bones are out of joint: my heart is like wax; it is melted in the midst of my bowels.

"My strength is dried up like a potsherd; and my tongue cleaveth to my jaw; and thou hast brought me into the dust of death.

"For dogs have compassed me: the assembly of the wicked have inclosed me: they pierce my hands and my feet.

"I may tell all my bones: they look and stare upon me.

"They part my garments among them, and cast lots upon my vesture.

"But be not thou far from me, O Lord: O my strength, haste thee to help me.

"Deliver my soul from the sword; my darling from the power of the dog.

"Save me from the lion's mouth: for thou hast heard me from the horns of the unicorns.

"I will declare thy name unto my brethren, in the midst of the congregation will I praise thee.

"Ye that fear the Lord, praise him: all ye the seed Jacob, glorify him; and fear him, all ye the seed of Israel.

"For he hath not despised nor abhorred the affliction of the afflicted; neither hath he hid his face from him; but when he cried unto him, he heard.

"My praise shall be of thee in the great congregation: I will pay my vows before them that fear him.

"The meek shall eat and be satisfied: they shall praise the Lord that seek him: your heart shall live for ever.

"All the ends of the world shall remember and turn unto the Lord: and all the kindreds of the nations shall worship before thee.

"For the kingdom is the Lord's: and he is the governor among the nations.

"All they that be fat upon earth shall eat and worship: all they that go down to the dust shall bow before him: and none can keep alive his own soul.

"A seed shall serve him: it shall be accounted to the Lord for a generation.

"They shall come, and shall declare his righteousness unto a people that shall be born, that he hath done this."

The spirit behind this is set forth in a prayer from the Anglican liturgy: "Here, O Lord, we offer and present unto Thee ourselves, our souls and bodies, to be a reasonable, holy and living sacrifice unto Thee."

In the limitations of life this is the difference between frustration and power. This is the turbine.

Next: "It is consummated!"

Say Reds to Take Peace Bids on Laos

1st China's ambassador to Washington was quoted as predicting Laos will be partitioned "because Britain and France are anxious for a truce in that country."

Ambassador George K. C. Yeh made the prediction at a secret meeting of the foreign affairs committee of the Yuan (parliament), lawmakers reported.

The Soviet press has been relatively restrained the past two days, although critical of the SEATO meeting in Bangkok.

There was some speculation that the Russians had not yet replied formally to the British proposals because they wanted to avoid the impression of acting under the SEATO meeting.

Soviet leaders have been meeting with their Warsaw Pact allies in the Kremlin since Monday and the crisis in Laos was reported to be a major subject.

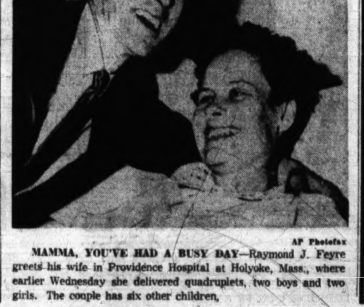

Nevertheless, there has been no evident tension over the situation in Moscow as has been reported in Western capitals.

It was reported that the meeting could be expected to end today with a communique being issued Friday.

MSU's Hannah Begs for $5 Million More

New Library Popular Place

Book Circulation During February 3,729 More Than Year Ago

The new Pontiac Public Library is a well-used library, according to a report from Phyllis Pope, city librarian.

She said that circulation in February totaled 14,427 books, almost exactly the same figure as January's 14,422.

In comparison, there were only 10,698 books circulated from the Old Main Library in February 1960, she said, and 9,760 in January of that year.

February's total makes it the peak month in library history, but this mark is expected to be topped repeatedly from now on, Miss Pope said.

Total book stock, she said, has now risen from 61,625 volumns in 1957 to 67,142 today, while the number of borrowers has risen from 31,733 to 36,540.

Since whole families often use the same library card, possibly 60,000 of Pontiac's 83,000 residents are using library facilities, Miss Pope estimated.

Old Cow Happy With Stainless Steel Dentures

LEBANON, Ind. (AP) — Ray Bottema's prize milker, Pontiac, is once again a very contented cow.

Pontiac is 15 years old —the equal of about 150 years for a human—and she had begun to lose weight.

Treatment: one set of stainless steel dentures.

Result: a happy Holstein.

No Depression in Kiddielands Despite U.S. Dip

NEW YORK (UPI)—The slowdown in the nation's business activity this past year did not keep Americans from enjoying themselves.

They continued to visit amusement parks, kiddielands, miniature golf courses, golf-driving ranges, drive-in theaters, skating rinks, commercial swimming areas, and other tourist attractions.

And they spent more money than ever before, some $2.1 billion, according to the publication Amusement Business.

The magazine's fourth annual market analysis showed that attendance at these permanently located funspots increased by 25 million last year to 2,077,000,000.

Will Dedicate Building at Wayne on April 20

April 20 is the date set for the dedication of the unusual concrete and glass structure recently completed on Wayne State University's campus to house the college of education.

Designed by Birmingham architect Minoru Yamasaki, the building has attracted wide interest, not only because of its striking design but because it centralizes college offices and classrooms for the first time.

Classrooms, air conditioned and windowless, are contained in an inner core of the building. Offices surround this inner block, protected by a glass outer wall.

Mail Is Delayed

MILTON, Fla. (UPI)—Residents of this small northwest Florida town wondered why they missed out on mail service one day and then learned postmaster Joel Lee Adams was serving a 24-hour jail sentence for failing to come to court on a speeding charge.

She Courts Disaster With Buttoned Bag

CHARLOTTE, N. C. (AP) — Just before the presidential election, a character witness was called to testify in Superior Court in a murder case.

★ ★ ★

The witness, a woman, walked to the stand with a large handbag. As she sat down, the courtroom saw a large "Kennedy-Johnson" sticker surrounded by Kennedy-for-President buttons adorning a side of the handbag she carried.

"Hey, turn that around," warned defense attorney Henry Fisher. "There might be a Republican on the jury."

News Office Open Friday, but for Why?

LONDON (AP) — Amid a crossfire of earnest questions on the Laotian crisis, Foreign Office spokesman John Price pitched a curve at his daily news conference today.

It came at top speed in this exchange.

Reporter: "Will there be an officer on duty in the press department on Good Friday?"

★ ★ ★

Price: "Like the windmill (a London theater specializing in girlie shows), we never close."

Reporter: "But your programs are different."

Price: "You don't think we reveal as much?"

Anxiety Aids Slump, Says Ad Firm Chief

CINCINNATI—The president of a national advertising agency Wednesday called for positive public attitudes in fighting the "psychosomatic aspects" of the recession which, he said, is caused "not so much by a decrease in discretionary income but by an increase in discretionary anxiety."

★ ★ ★

Speaking before members of the Cincinnati Advertisers' Club, Ernest A. Jones, president of MacManus, John & Adams, Inc., Bloomfield Hills, declared:

"Revitalization of public confidence in the economy appears to be the most pertinent task facing those in advertising and the communications industries.

"Discretionary anxiety appears to have supplanted discretionary income as our economic pace-setter. Between seven and eight per cent of the labor force is unemployed.

"Yet in 1933, in a much simpler economic environment, 24.9 per cent were unemployed; in 1938 there were 19 per cent.

"Since the end of World War II, even in the great production rush to fill civilian pipelines in the late forties, unemployment never has fallen much below three per cent.

"No one will condone or accept, let alone feel gratified, that unemployment has been held at that figure. Ideally there should be no unemployed.

"But we must accept the fact that there is—and while doing something about it—remember that while 8 per cent are unemployed 92 per cent are employed. That is nearly 65 million persons, second largest total in our history."

If every employed person had the confidence to purchase one substantial item he wanted but had postponed buying, the recession "would be history within a week" Jones speculated.

"The growth of savings is another indication that one of the potent pressures shaping the current recession is not a decrease in discretionary anxiety. Not a shrinkage in the public purchasing power but an expansion of the public's worry base," Jones added.

Grass Fires in County Keep Firemen Hopping

Grass fires have kept firemen throughout the county busy for the past week or two, and the situation is not improving.

★ ★ ★

Last weekend there were 22 grass fire calls in Waterford Township, and 33 in Pontiac. Many of these are caused when attempts to burn off undergrowth get out of hand. Others come from careless trash burners. The net result is the annual spring pain in the neck for area firemen.

★ ★ ★

Besides the traffic hazards created every time fire equipment rolls out of the stations, there is the expense involved, which is not a small sum. Waterford says it costs $100 for every fire run like this.

★ ★ ★

The careless souls who are responsible for these blazes should dip down and pay some stiff fines, so they'd learn how to watch their fires.

Henry Hogan Takes Well-Deserved Rest

HENRY M. HOGAN is retiring from General Motors.

Currently general counsel, this well-known Oakland County resident has been associated with the corporation 41 years. Now he steps aside with a fine record of achievement and one that has steadily embraced the tenets of decency, honor and equity.

HOGAN

★ ★ ★

When a corporation or business reaches the size of General Motors, the amount of legal work entailed challenges the credulity of the average man. Mr. HOGAN has more than two score attorneys on his staff and over the years he has distinguished himself as a capable and competent administrator as well as a lawyer.

★ ★ ★

Mr. Hogan is a fine companion and a man brimming with ideas. Certainly he has richly earned some years of leisure. Friends join in the warm applause that wishes him well. The legal profession has recognized his talents time and again and he holds honorary collegiate degrees that testify to his fitness and capabilities.

A splendid citizen rests on his oars.

French-Algerian Talks Bring Hopes of Peace

General DE GAULLE is confident that the end of the six-and-a-half-year-old war in Algeria is in sight.

The going has been rough for moderate Moslems, European settlers and the French Army. The general first had to neutralize the forces which brought him to power and which didn't want any compromise with Algeria. Then he had to persuade the Arab National Liberation Front (FLN) that France would agree to Algerian self-determination and bring the majority of the French people around to his way of thinking.

★ ★ ★

After secret talks in Rome and Geneva between French emissaries and leaders of the Algerian rebels, top representatives will meet in France near the Swiss border for preliminary peace negotiations.

The site was tactfully chosen so the Arabs could reside in neutral territory while carrying on daily negotiations on French soil. No one wanted a repetition of last year's meetings near Paris where riots and French police surveillance prevented serious negotiations.

The proposed talks will go beyond the question of peace. Discussions will be held on the conditions for self-determination of the Algerian population and related problems. The fate of the oil-rich French Sahara and France's Mediterranean base at Mers-el-Kebir will be decided.

Immediate independence demands have been dropped by the FLN and agreement has been reached to await the result of a plebiscite on self-determination. DE GAULLE has withdrawn his previous condition of a formal cease-fire before official talks begin.

President de Gaulle himself has said that "the Algerian affair is settled, finished." The free world devoutly hopes so.

MANY pundits and others are saying 1961 will be a "Year of Challenge." No doubt. And many of us have considerable misgivings about accepting the challenge.

There's no entry charge. Only one entry is allowed for each person, but every member of your family is eligible to compete. Each entry must be on a separate piece of paper, but all may be mailed in one envelope.

The $250 prize goes for the closest answer to this question:

What player, who has been at bat at least 25 times, will be leading the American League on the night of Thursday, May 11, and what will be his batting average?

Entrants are to give the name of the player whom they think will be leading the league, and estimate his batting average. Then sign, and mail to The Pontiac Press, with the conviction that your chance on the prize is as good as that of anybody else.

All entries must be received in The Pontiac Press office by noon Friday, April 7.

'I Am Hurrying'

David Lawrence Says:

Profit Problem Is Being Ignored

WASHINGTON—President Kennedy has sent to Congress a message on the budget that doesn't come to grips with the real problem of the country — how to increase profits so that there'll be more tax receipts for the Treasury.

LAWRENCE

Since the federal government is entitled to collect in taxes 52 per cent out of all profits, it would seem that any administration would be working hand these days to find ways to move profits upward.

But all the "task forces" hereabouts—composed mostly of some college professors who regard an impetus to profits as a forbidden, if not poisonous, subject—haven't come up with any plan to increase treasury receipts.

Plenty of words have been issued on how to pep up the economy by spending more money for "social welfare," but the true causes of unemployment—the failure to provide tax incentives in manufacturing industries—have been largely ignored.

Job creation is the most important subject before the country today and, while a Democratic Congress has been in session nearly three months, not a single bill has been reported to either House to encourage the normal processes of job-making.

Yet 29 per cent of the labor force is in manufacturing—the biggest single group. The unemployment figures show that 1.5 million of the unemployed have been laid off in manufacturing businesses.

While aid to "depressed areas" and extension of unemployment compensation are desirable, they are not a cure for the real ailment —the failure of manufacturing to grow in volume as it should. This is because tax laws that apply to replacement and modernization of plant and equipment are antiquated and ineffective.

ANOTHER SLUMP?

Unless the climate for business development improves generally, the prospect of getting more receipts from taxes for the treasury will grow worse, and, even if there is a recovery period in the next few months, it may be followed soon by another recession.

The trend of the times unfortunately is toward more and more government spending for "social welfare" without paying much attention to the need for developing an increasing revenue from the normal sources of taxation.

Business and the government are partners in the profit-making process. It might be thought that the federal government would be much concerned about increasing the receipts from its 52 per cent tax on corporations. This logically points to the desirability of providing promptly a stimulus for business growth.

It is surprising, therefore, that the Kennedy administration has neglected to do anything about stimulating the flow of profits in business.

Vague intimations have been given that tax-depreciation allowances are to be revised, but this topic doesn't appear to have any of the spectacular urge that the "Peace Corps" idea has behind it, though tax-depreciation laws can mean far more for America and for the foreign-aid program than any other single factor that could be cited.

Uncle Sam, as a more than 50-50 partner in American business, would appear to be rightfully concerned about how to increase profits, but so powerful are the demagogic influences against doing anything to help business that the subject is not getting the attention it deserves.

Even the new secretary of commerce—who is supposed to be as vigorous an advocate of business legislation as his colleague, the secretary of labor, is in pressing for measures wanted by the AFL-CIO—isn't making a fight for the tax-depreciation program.

Nobody in the White House or in Congress seems to be a champion of larger and larger tax receipts that can and should be derived from business profits, not only for the benefit of the U.S. Treasury but for the unemployed.

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

O Lord, how long shall I cry for help, and thou wilt not hear? Or cry to thee "Violence!" and thou wilt not save? — Habakkuk 1:2.

★ ★ ★

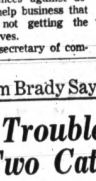

He who prays without confidence cannot hope that his prayers will be granted. — Francois Fenelon.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Sinus Trouble Divided Into Two Categories

It is not unlikely that a considerable number of people whose favorite indoor sport is trying one nostrum after another for "sinus trouble" have it.

There is nothing new about this common ailment except the name. Years ago, it was called catarrh and all the best-selling nostrums were practically guaranteed to cure it.

DR. BRADY

As television viewers know, even though they be stone-deaf, there are four pairs of sinuses in the skull—that is, air-spaces within the bone, which are lined with the same mucous membrane that lines the nasal passages.

Through small openings, they all communicate with the airway of the nose and throat and whatever mucus, which a sinus secretes, drains or discharges through these openings into the nose or throat.

That is why a person in a state of health is unaware of the empty spaces in his head—so far as he cares his skull is solid ivory.

I don't know what function or purpose the sinuses may have. Theoretically they lighten the skull and give the voice resonance.

★ ★ ★

The frontal sinuses are in the forehead behind the brows. The maxillary sinuses are in the upper jaw bones behind the cheeks. The sphenoidal sinuses are deeper in the base of the skull, close to the ethmoid air cells in the roof of the nasal cavity.

Acute sinusitis is a serious medical or surgical illness which does not come within the realm of a newspaper health column.

Chronic sinusitis, commonly called sinus trouble, is seldom if at all responsive to medical treatment. In fact most persons with chronic sinusitis, having found medical treatment unsatisfactory, resign themselves to "live with it."

DRESS LIGHTLY

One subject to sinus trouble should always wear the lightest clothing and keep household temperature at the lowest level consistent with comfort — physical comfort.

This is good hygiene for everybody, especially for persons with any kind of chronic rhinitis, pharyngitis, sinsitis, laryngitis or bronchitis.

Physical comfort means how one actually feels, not how much one worries about "lowered resistance" or "catching cold."

★ ★ ★

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

The Country Parson

"Some of us seem to drive temptation out of our way about like a caboose chases a train down the track."

Case Records of a Psychologist:

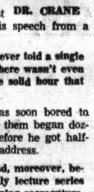

Follow Formula for Good Speech

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE H - 446: Fred T., aged 44, recently gave a lecture on labor relations. A large crowd of people filled the auditorium.

"But he was terribly dry and uninteresting," my secretary later informed me.

"Although he was a distinguished looking man, he actually put many of us to sleep.

DR. CRANE

"In the first place he read his speech from a manuscript!

"Besides, he never told a single story or joke. There wasn't even one laugh in the solid hour that he spoke.

"The crowd was soon bored to death. Several of them began dozing in my row before he got halfway through his address.

"It was too bad, moreover, because this weekly lecture series had been developing momentum.

"Now it has had a setback. It will be harder to get a crowd out for the speaker next week."

HUMAN INTEREST

Isn't it a tragedy that smart men or women with a wealth of interesting experience, still don't know how to "package" their ideas attractively?

Some of the best orators in the world are in the pulpits of America but, alas, some clergy still are very poor orators.

Despite 25 years of sermonizing, these clergymen still haven't learned the simple formula for interesting a crowd. But Jesus showed it to them repeatedly!

And others from business or professional fields, seem oblivious to these same psychological axioms for a good speech.

Every intelligent individual can soon learn to make an interesting talk. There is a definite formula for so doing.

And it isn't very difficult to follow the directions, except for the initial stage fright that all beginners will suffer.

STAGE SECRETS

That stage fright wears off considerably with practice, but not entirely. For every good speaker is always keyed up before an address, even if he is a professional.

Here is the surefire formula for making an interesting talk, sermon or address.

First, pick out a text to serve as your central motif. It is the major destination for your forensic journey and helps you keep on the main highway.

Second, dig up several relevant stories that will help advance your idea toward its logical conclusion.

★ ★ ★

By "stories," I refer not necessarily to humor or anecdotes, but to narrative episodes with a moral or logical point that fits into the theme of your address. Use cases from real life.

People always enjoy narration, so they will listen with rapt attention to a discussion of the Einstein theory or the composition of bricks, if you can do so via a chain of stories.

This technique is called the "anecdotal method." It is popular with the audience and easy on the speaker, for the latter doesn't have to memorize an "essay" type of talk. Christ used it routinely as in his parables.

GET STEAMED UP

It is helpful to be enthusiastic and fervent in your message. Remember, the hotter the fire, the quicker the kettle boils.

A fivewire, fervent speaker warms up the audience more quickly. It catches its enthusiasm from the speaker, or conversely grows cold and sleepy if he acts dull and sluggish.

Keep a few jokes in reserve to use in an explosive way to waken the crowd or bring it back to a polarized condition with yourself as the focal point.

★ ★ ★

Never read a speech, unless over the radio where that may be required. Use a few notes, partly to reassure yourself, though you may never look at them.

For further advice, send for my booklet "Public Platform Strategy," enclosing a stamped return envelope and 20 cents.

'Remember, it takes a livewire in the pulpit to electrify a congregation!

★ ★ ★

Always Write to Dr. George Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing long self-addressed envelope and 30 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

'Don't Let Beard Keep You From Attending Church'

I am sure that I speak for all clergymen of Pontiac when I say that you most certainly are welcome. You add distinction and decor.

Replies to Letter Attacking Sweden

Sonja Bloom's attack on Sweden calls for comment. After listing a few of the benefits, some of her figures correctly reflecting the situation, others not — she declares that "all this goody-goody" has damaged the human spirit.

She feels that social welfare benefits are responsible for an increase in crimes and suicides. She would be hard put to find one authority either in sociology or medicine to support her views.

How does she explain that the figures for alcoholism, juvenile delinquency and major crimes are much higher per capita in the United States?

Her statement that suicides have increased by 39 per cent is ridiculous. From 1911 to 1915 there were about 17 suicides per 100,000 inhabitants in Sweden, while the average for the last decade is roughly 18 per 100,000, despite the fact that the population has changed from over 70 per cent rural to 50 per cent urban.

In her words, "the government runs the show" even to telling the people where and when to go on vacation. This is false. Swedes elect their own government, and if they want to be their brothers' keepers, that is their privilege. And let's do away with the opinion that Sweden is a socialist country.

Private industry employs 91 per cent of the labor force; the cooperative factories 4 per cent; and publicly-owned plants 5 per cent.

The total burden in Sweden is around 29.5 per cent of the gross national product compared with 26.1 in the United States.

'Should Allow Bible Reading in Schools'

Trying to stop Bible reading in the public schools is uncalled for. If this keeps up everyone against reading the Bible in public schools will be completely against forming Bible clubs.

★ ★ ★

A lot of schools give the students an opportunity to read the Bible and have prayer. This is very good and schools are doing a lot of good. At one time the Bible was one of the lessons in school. We learn rules to live by, and to be better citizens. It also helps us to relax and relieve pressure. It helps with juvenile delinquency and helps solve problems of life that only the scripture will solve.

★ ★ ★

The schools that offer students the opportunity to read the Bible and have prayer before classes, are not forcing the students to take part. It is up to the student.

'Is America Free as It Should Be?

Five years ago I was issued a visa to the United States and soon I will apply for citizenship papers.

I have been studying American history and I read about our forefathers and how they fought so they could live in a country that was free. These great men finally decided on the laws and the rights the people would have. They were the first ten amendments to the Constitution. These rights were for all the people of the United States.

★ ★ ★

The very first right is the right to speak, the right to say what you believe. People have been called a lot of nasty names because they are just doing what every American has a right to do.

I am speaking of the wives of truck drivers. They believe that what is happening to their families, their homes and their jobs is unfair and they feel they have a right to tell about it.

If this is wrong, then America isn't as free as I have been taught.

QUESTION:

In 1960, I sold 100 shares of stock at a $1,200.00 loss. I notice on Schedule D that there is a limitation of $1,000.00 for losses. Does this mean I lose the extra $200.00 entirely?

ANSWER:

No. You should claim a $1,000.00 loss on your 1960 return and the remaining $200.00 loss can be carried over to your 1961 return as a capital loss carryover. The Internal Revenue laws provide that when a capital loss occurs in any one year it is deductible with certain limitations which are shown on Line 11 of the Schedule D. Any capital loss not used this year may be used with limitations, over the next five years.

JOSEPH CORBETT JR.

Found Guilty in Coors' Death

Corbett Given Life for Murder; Attorneys to Appeal Verdict

GOLDEN, Colo. (AP)—A jury convicted Joseph Corbett Jr. of first degree murder late Wednesday and his attorneys said promptly they would appeal the verdict and press for a new trial.

★ ★ ★

The conviction, if it stands, dooms Corbett, 32, to a life sentence in the Colorado Penitentiary.

It ended a trial of two weeks and three days in which the state contended that Corbett murdered wealthy Adolph Coors III as the climax to a half-million-dollar kidnap scheme Feb. 9, 1960.

NO EMOTION

The one-time premedical student blinked his eyes but otherwise showed not a flicker of emotion as the verdict was read.

★ ★ ★

Several of the eight men and four women jurors were in tears, obviously affected by the strain and emotional aspects of the trial. They deliberated 16 hours, after receiving the case Tuesday morning. The choice of acquittal was their only other option.

Separate Fires Claim 4 Boys

Two Sets of Brothers in Jackson, Detroit, Victims of Flames

By The Associated Press

Four young boys — two sets of brothers — died Wednesday as a result of home fires in Detroit and rural Jackson.

★ ★ ★

Dead are Leon Hackworth, 5, and his brother Donald, 17 months, of rural Jackson, and Richard, 2, and William Hargrave, 3, of Detroit.

Leon Hackworth died in flames that leveled his parents' home some 14 miles north of Jackson. Donald died in an Ann Arbor hospital shortly afterward of burns.

The boys' mother Mrs. Herman Hackworth, 44, and another child, Vickie, 4, were reported in good condition in a Jackson hospital.

★ ★ ★

Both Hargrave children died when fire swept their home in Detroit.

Their mother Mrs. Joan Hargrave, 24, saved two other sons, Steve, 5, and Ronny, 8 months, but was unable to reach the two others, who were trapped in a utility room.

30 Sound Films Are Available From Library

Over 30 new 16 mm films for use by adult groups in the North Oakland Library Project area have been received at the project headquarters in Pontiac, Miss Phyllis Pope, director of the Pontiac Public Library and associate director of NOLP made the announcement today.

On loan to the project area by the State Library, this group of films will be available through June she said.

★ ★ ★

Scheduling for use of the films is cleared through the project headquarters in the Adah Shelly Branch Library. Requests can be placed with headquarters or at any of the libraries which are participating in NOLP, such as Pontiac City Library and the local libraries serving the townships of Brandon, Highland, Holly, Independence, Milford and Oxford.

Included in the collection are films on science, travel, biography and human relations, all selected for their interest to adults.

Already an established form of service in many public libraries, films were introduced to the North Oakland area in October 1959 through the North Oakland Library Project.

★ ★ ★

Use of the films has been greatest in Pontiac, Miss Pope said, but all parts of the area are represented by the borrowers. Over 3,000 people have viewed the films during the past six months.

Hundreds of children will flock to the parks then to seek out the eggs, and prizes will be awarded to those finding the lucky color ones. Rapist-Robber Gets 60- to 100-Year Term

NEW YORK (AP) — A Bronx man has been sentenced to 60 to 100 years in prison after pleading guilty to raping and robbing 16 women in offices on Madison and Park avenues.

★ ★ ★

Pronouncing sentence Wednesday on Henry Iszard, 30, General Sessions Court Judge Charles Marks described him as "the lowest type of animal who ever appeared before me."

Asst. Dist. Atty. Maurice Nadjari, said Iszard generally picked the end of a business day to invade offices in the districts between 23rd and 33rd streets. At gunpoint, he would force the women to disrobe before attacking and robbing them.

The victims, all white, ranged in age from 17 to 31, and included three executives as well as secretaries.

Measure to Protect Bartenders Advances

LANSING (UPI)—A bill which opponents said would make bartenders and bar owners virtually immune to suits for contributory negligence passed the State Senate Wednesday by a 25 to 7 vote.

The bill can now become law with concurrence by the House or a minor Senate amendment and the gvernor's signature.

★ ★ ★

Proponents of the measure said the law, as it stands, makes bars liable for suit if a person later involved in an accident stopped in for even one drink during the day.

They said the cost of insurance against liability under the law was prohibitive.

BUNNY'S BUDDIES — Nestled between two pals at the home of a San Diego, Calif., resident, Mrs. Edgar L. Wilkerson, is rabbit. All three seem naively unaware that dogs are supposed to chase Jack rabbits through fields and meadows (but then what are dumb animals to do when they can't find any fields or meadows?). A veterinarian has told Mrs. Wilkerson that Jack rabbits don't thrive in captivity, but this thoroughly confused dumb bunny doesn't seem to know that either.

1929 Murder Charged Against Steelworker

ALLENTOWN, Pa. (AP) — Charles Kucsan, a steel plant millwright Wednesday night was charged with a murder which police said occurred in 1929.

* * *

Police accused Kucsan, 53, of Bath, R.D. 2, Pa., of running down Peter Fry with a roadster after an argument during which Kucsan allegedly had accused Fry of cheating at poker. Fry, of Allentown, who was 46 at the time, died the following day.

Police said Kucsan gave a statement admitting he hit Fry with the roadster but that he planned only to knock him down and scare him.

Old Settlers on Cross Roads Lost Among Newcomers

Birth of a City, Such as Livonia or Warren, Quite Simple

By HOMER DOWDY
Staff Writer, Flint Journal
Written for The AP

Under Michigan law, the birth of a city is quite simple.

Draw the boundary lines you wish, keeping in mind that ordinarily you must have at least 2,000 persons, averaging no less than 500 per square mile; petition the county board of supervisors for an election; achieve a majority yes vote of those residing within your proposed city; elect a charter commission; adopt the charter and elect the officers it designates—and you're in business.

★ ★ ★

Incorporating to get the tools to solve the problems of congested areas outside existing cities has been used nine times in one Detroit suburban township—Royal Oak Township. Nine independent cities elbow each other in the area that used to be the township.

Ten years ago the Detroit metropolitan area saw the birth of a new city that appears to have started a trend. It is Livonia, a former township that placed all its 36 square miles under the charter of a single new city.

Situated west of Detroit, it typifies the suburban communities that sprang up after World War II. The handful of old settlers, living in eight or 10 cross-road clusters, have just about become lost among the thousands of newcomers in the cornfield-to-carport transformation.

Until the State Health Department banned additional sewer connections because of overloads, Livonia was the fastest growing city in Michigan.

A similar community, Warren, which evolved from Warren Township, now claims the distinction. But Livonia is still growing, sometimes by as many as 20 new families a week. On the desk of Mayor William W. Brashear are plans for 50 new subdivisions, waiting for an okay to turn the sod.

Since 1950, when Livonia became a city, the population has grown from 18,000 to 70,000. Assessed valuation climbed from $15 million to $300 million.

Livonia is sometimes criticized for being a mere collection of subdivisions, neatly cut up by a road-every-mile grid pattern. "Nothing to distinguish it as a city, no character of its own, nothing to hold it together," they say.

Brashear is the first to admit the critics may have been right once, but says they won't be for long.

"When we started out, our city was divided among seven different post offices," he said. "Nobody knew how to mail a letter to Livonia residents. We now have our post office and are gaining civic cohesiveness."

Farther west, just on the edge of the Detroit metropolitan wave, is another new city.

Wixom was a cross roads when it was a township as late as 1956. It remained just a cross roads when it became a village in 1957.

It was incorporated as a fifth-class home-rule city in 1958 and with only 1,600 residents scattered over 9.5 square miles, the heart of the new city is still only a cross roads.

Sparking the incorporation of Wixom was construction of a Lincoln-Mercury plant by Ford in 1957. The plant is valued for tax purposes at $32 million. John Finlayson, who as assessor, oversees most of the city's day-to-day operations, wards off the sidelong comments that Wixom was incorporated only for a tax windfall.

"When the plant came, we knew serious problems were not far behind," he said. "We believed our township could never have met those problems. The village became too inadequate. So we formed a city and we are keeping up with our problems very well."

★ ★ ★

Across the state is another new city, large in area like Livonia and Wixom, but somewhat different. It is the city of Wyoming, once Wyoming Township, abutting Grand Rapids on the southwest.

Wyoming is different, if the Detroit area is so complex that Livonia and Wixom can be said to offer little more to that complexity; and if the Grand Rapids area is still simple enough that the city and its suburbs constitute one economic, social and cultural community.

If this is so, the incorporation of Wyoming added a new wrinkle to the Grand Rapids metropolitan situation. Wyoming is termed a satellite city, as is the new city of Swartz Creek near Flint.

Eventually, they can be expected to give birth to unorganized suburbs, like they once were, and these suburbs to incorporate as separate cities. Some day, unchecked incorporation around Flint and Grand Rapids could lead to ring upon ring of suburban cities—like Detroit, or Boston's 40-some communities—each with a mayor, city hall, police chief, fire department and the whole gamut of city officials and facilities.

FEDERAL FUNDS?

What will pull these so-called satellite communities together? Some predict it will take a system of state or federal hand-outs, with effective control of the areas passing to the governmental unit doling out the funds.

Michigan has a few twin-city communities in which neither twin dominates. St. Joseph and Benton Harbor form one pair. A few years ago there was talk that the two should be consolidated. A study by outside experts said they should continue as separate cities.

The two possessed widely differing characteristics, they said. Little would be gained by consolidation, but much by close cooperation.

Benton Harbor and St. Joseph work together in many ways today. Some heavy equipment is shared. Their emergency forces back each other up. They are partners in airport operation. There is one sewage plant between them and dog control and sanitary inspection are joint ventures.

"We've grown up with this dual situation, complicated in recent years by populous townships beyond both our borders," says Don C. Stewart, Benton Harbor city manager. "But despite all our cooperation, this division keeps us from reaching our full potential."

★ ★ ★

Muskegon and Muskegon Heights have waxed and waned on consolidation over the years. Muskegon generally favored it, the Heights opposed. Now, however, with the Heights caught in an economic vise, sentiment appears to be changing. If Heights residents decided they wanted to consolidate, according to one who keeps his fingers on the pulse, Muskegon people just might say no.

★ ★ ★

Where one city is the community's keystone—the other cities and townships being offspring of it—there is an urgent plea being heard today: Rally around the central city. Let it grow to natural size. Nothing else can unite the community and make it the dynamic force it should be.

Children-of-Divorce Costs Jump 14.6 Pct. in Year

There was $457,114 more paid for child support through the Oakland County Friend of the Court's Office last year than in 1959, an annual report shows.

For 1960 there was a total of $3,587,125 paid in child support receipts, said W. Cadman Prout, friend of the court, compared with $3,130,010 the previous year.

The payments were ordered by the five circuit judges for the support of minor children involved in divorce suits. The increase over the year was 14.6 per cent.

It represents the highest in collections and "reflects an increased case load as well as increased emphasis upon collections by the personnel employed in the enforcement division of this office," Prout said.

He said his office, charged by law to see that dependent minor children resulting from divorce suits are cared for, received an additional 1,652 new cases last year wherein 3,857 children were listed as technical wards of the Circuit Court.

This was a .08 decrease from the 1,797 new divorce cases with 3,905 children filed in 1959.

Of the 1960 count on children, a total of 137 children were involved in petitions for waiver of jurisdiction from circuit to juvenile court.

"The highest percentage of petitions for waiver were received in the category of parental neglect, and this has been the trend for the past several years," Prout said.

Over the past 10 years, he said 27,407 children in Oakland County have been made wards of the Circuit Court as children of divorce.

The circuit judges had to issue 631 new bench warrants ordering men to appear in court to answer to support orders. Jail terms were meted out to 196 for nonpayment.

There was a total of 2,144 court hearings conducted by Homer G. Gerue and Donald A. Tews, enforcement attorneys for the office.

S-P Reports Shareholders' Equity Is Up

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — Studebaker-Packard Corp. reports its shareholders' equity rose from $89,597,187 to $98,954,095 last year.

The annual report showed property value rose from $33,626,269 to $48,946,857.

Net income dropped from $28,544,338 in 1959 to $708,850 while sales dipped from $387,372,375 to $323,226,663.

However, the firm reported some bright spots: Sales of Mercedes-Benz imports and nonautomotive products were more than $100 million.

Mercedes-Benz sales rose from 15th among imported cars in 1959 to third in the last quarter of 1960. Fleet sales of Larks and Studebaker trucks increased 9.8 per cent over 1959. Car and truck exports rose 24 per cent.

State Governments' Need for Money Is a Taxing Problem

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Need cash in a hurry? If you don't you're better off than most of the nation's state governments.

The quest for money is the big springtime legislative worry of lawmakers trying to meet burgeoning financial demands.

An Associated Press survey showed at least 28 state budgets of record proportions are before legislatures, in the planning stage or already on the books.

Where will the money come from? In many states from a state income tax; in others a sales tax that covers nearly every item you can buy.

Tobacco users pay. So do buyers of alcoholic drinks. So do race tracks. Name it—and somewhere there's probably a tax on it. Even uranium has a sales tax in one state, and it's about to be increased.

The state income tax and the state tax on retail sales bring in the most money from most people; these are the ones most frequently looked to when financial pressure is on.

To meet a record $90.8-million budget for 1961-63, the New Mexico Legislature has approved a 50 per cent increase in state income tax. If signed into law, the increase could bring the state $4.5 million in new revenue.

Wisconsin Gov. Gaylor Nelson has proposed a one per cent increase in state income tax to balance a record biennial budget of $503 million for 1961-63. To sell the proposal, Nelson has offered to forgive all 1961 state income taxes on earnings of $10,000 or less. If this fails in the Wisconsin Legislature, an increase in the surtax—which already is 20 per cent added to the income tax—may be in the offing.

INSTITUTE TAX

Faced with a record $140.2-million budget for 1961-62, West Virginia lawmakers have instituted a new state income tax, expected to yield $15 million a year. Each person's state tax will be 6 per cent of his federal tax for the same year. Also adopted, a temporary one per cent increase in state sales tax for goods costing more than $1.

By changing to a withholding collection system, Missouri stands to increase its tax take $12 million every two years.

Advisers urge Gov. John A. Notte jr. of Rhode Island to seek an income tax system which could bring in $16 million to $19 million. Several present taxes would be repealed—but the 3 per cent sales tax would remain. The bite on the taxpayer would be 8 or 10 per cent of his federal income tax for the previous year.

Increases in state income tax have been proposed in Maine, Michigan, Alaska and Iowa. Against the tax boost trend, New York legislators have voted a 10 per cent rebate on 1960 taxes. But that's because New York reaped a $400-million tax increase last year. Repealed: Taxes on most tobacco products, which brought in $7.5 million annually.

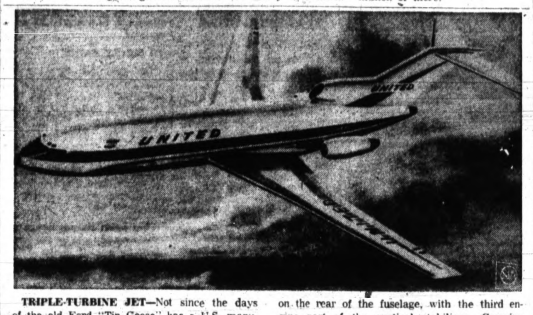

New Mexico and Maryland have adjusted their sales taxes for more money, without literally increasing rates. For Maryland, the adjustments may bring in $10 million. New Mexicans will pay about $1.5 million more in sales taxes. A sales tax boost on uranium is expected to add $1.4 million in revenue in New Mexico.

A proposed 1-cent sales tax increase would mean $60 million for Missouri. The governor of Maine has asked a one per cent boost. A ½ per cent increase would add $28.8 million in Connecticut. Increases are being considered in Nebraska, Vermont, Oklahoma and Utah.

Eight states have proposed or enacted new taxes on cigarettes and other tobacco products. West Virginia's 5-cent cigarette tax was scheduled to drop to 4 cents this year, but special legislation raised it to 6 cents, instead, for one year.

Missouri has pending a 50 per cent increase in tax on alcoholic beverages, which could add $7.5 million in revenue over the next two years. Proposed in Connecticut is a $1 increase in tax per gallon liquor, with an eye to $15.5 million in extra money. Several similar bills have been proposed in Vermont.

Texas, with its biggest general fund deficit in history—$100 million—and the biggest appropriations bill in history—$2.5 billion—is eyeing the whole tax gamut for ways to boost its tax take $200 million or more.

TRIPLE-TURBINE JET—Not since the days of the old Ford "Tin Goose" has a U.S. manufacturer brought out a three-engine airliner. But by 1963, Boeing Airplane Co.'s 727, shown in artist's drawing above, is expected to be in service. Departing from usual American custom, the sleek craft's engines are mounted on the rear of the fuselage, with the third engine part of the vertical stabilizer. Carrying from 70 to 114 passengers at speeds of 550-600 m.p.h., the 727 will provide short to medium-range service and operate out of 5,000-foot runways.

West Virginia, which is aiming to finance public works projects to relieve unemployment, passed a temporary increase from 5 to 6 per cent in its tax on parimutual race tracks. A similar bill is pending in Ohio.

New Jersey and Minnesota legislators are considering measures to tax telephone, gas, water and light bills. Montana became one of the first states to tax the income of cooperatives. Motor vehicle registration fees are slated to go up in a number of states.

Several states ended their legislative sessions holding the line against any new or increased taxes. But several of these have said it won't be long before something must be done to increase revenue.

New Firm to Provide 20 Jobs in Frankfort

FRANKFORT (AP) — Employment for 20 persons is planned with the April 1 opening of a new firm to manufacture golf carts and other equipment at Frankfort. The announcement was made by George Petritz of Benzonia, Don Parker of Frankfort and Joe Zarish of Deerfield, Ill. They purchased the former Chamberlain Metal Products Co. of Chicago and moved its operations to Frankfort.

Ex-Judge's Fate Left Up to Jury

To Begin Deliberations on Joseph A. Peel Jr. Verdict in Florida

FORT PIERCE, Fla. (AP)—A 12-man jury was scheduled to begin deliberations today on the fate of Joseph A. Peel Jr., former West Palm Beach attorney and city judge accused of masterminding the Chillingworth murders.

Circuit Court Judge D. C. Smith first had to deliver his instructions to the jurors.

ACCUSED IF SLAYINGS

Peel, 37, is accused of ordering Floyd Holzapfel and Bobby Lincoln to kill Circuit Court Judge C. E. Chillingworth to prevent the judge from exposing Peel as a racketeer.

★ ★ ★

Conviction with no recommendation of mercy would bring an automatic sentence of death in Florida's electric chair.

In closing arguments Wednesday, State Attorney Phil O'Connell said Holzapfel signed his own death warrant by testifying against Peel.

Economist Backs Swainson Tax Plan

ANN ARBOR (AP)—William Haber, University of Michigan economist, has endorsed Gov. Swainson's proposed tax reform program.

In a letter to State Sen. Clyde H. Geerling (R-Holland), Haber described Swainson's program, including both a personal and corporate income tax, as "sound, practicable and equitable."

"Barring an alternate proposal, equally effective, in reducing business taxes very soon," Haber said, "the state's economy is bound to suffer."

Man in Space

Project Mercury Only a Door to Greater Things

By JOSEPH L. MYLER

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Project Mercury is the kindergarten of the American man-in-space program.

★ ★ ★

Although it may cost up to half-a-billion dollars, and jeopardize the well being of seven healthy, intelligent and highly skilled young men, it is small potatoes compared to what the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) has in mind for other young men in the latter part of this decade.

Before another 10 years are over, NASA hopes to be launching men on missions which may take weeks or months to complete.

The first manned Mercury flight, expected very soon, will last about 16 minutes. It will take an astronaut, bedded down on a contour couch in a Mercury capsule on top of a Redstone rocket, to an altitude of about 115 miles and drop him into the sea about 290 miles down-range from Cape Canaveral, Fla. His top speed will be around 4,000 miles an hour.

TO CIRCLE EARTH

The next big item on the Mercury program will see an astronaut boosted into orbit around the earth by an Atlas. This could happen before the end of this year. Kicked into orbit aboard his capsule at a peak velocity of 17,400 miles an hour, the astronaut will whip around the earth three times and come down after a ride lasting 4½ hours.

For about six minutes in the Redstone hop and for the entire time he is aloft in the orbital ride, the astronaut will feel as though his weight were zero.

Man has always been "a one-G animal"—that is, from the beginning he has always felt the earth's gravitational tug on his bones, muscles and organs.

★ ★ ★

Will he be able to function in the absence of that constant pull when his speed of motion in space is such as to cancel the senation of weight?

SCIENCE UNCERTAIN

Scientists feel in their bones that men can endure this and other discomforts of space travel and still perform like men—intelligently, courageously, quickly, endurance. But they still are not sure.

The Russian dogs Belka, Strelka and Chernuska, all of whom survived orbital trips, and the American champanzee Ham, who dipped a toe in space aboard a Redstone-boosted Mercury capsule, proved that animals, at least, can stand weightlessness for brief periods.

The Mercury program may prove that men can endure weightlessness for several hours. But what about the long-term effects? This is a question that only experience can answer. It is the big unknown of manned space flight.

After Mercury, NASA has scheduled Apollo, a program to send men around the moon and back in 1969 and to land a man on the moon, and bring him home again.

Between Mercury and Apollo, however, there must be much additional research on the effects of weightlessness. NASA plans, starting perhaps before the Mercury program ends in 1962, to put chimps and monkeys into orbit for periods ranging from 7 to 14 days.

Then, before any Apollo missions are undertaken, human astronauts will be put through practice orbital flights of increasing duration.

★ ★ ★

Of course, it just possibly might turn out that even the brief Mercury rides will prove man incapable of longer sojourns in space. If that should be the case, scientists say, the sooner we find out the better.

Fun While Learning Lifts Piano's Appeal

CHICAGO (AP) — Everybody, it seems, is learning to play the piano.

The American Music Conference says there are more than 12 million pianos in the United States, an increase of about 60 per cent during the past 20 years.

Marion Egbert, an educational consultant, says new teaching methods that emphasize enjoyment while learning are attracting scores of youngsters to the piano.

AMC says some 300,000 piano instructors are engaged in teaching more than four million school-age youngsters.

Jackson for Con-Con

JACKSON (AP) — The Jackson City Commission voted 6-2 Tuesday night to go on record as favoring a constitutional convention. The commission action was believed to be the first such taken in the state by a municipal body.

Easy Winter Saves County $80,000

Spring creeping in gently like a lamb, and winter not roaring like the proverbial lion has meant a savings of around $80,000 in the repair of county roads.

★ ★ ★

Hiland M. Thatcher, chairman of the Oakland County Road Commission, disclosed the savings, which he said would "probably be used for improvement of some of the local roads," as crews weren't faced with the hours of "patching" chopped-up roads as they were last spring.

"That winter was the worst we've had since 1948 in repairs to roads," said Thatcher.

The usual spring breakup of gravel and blacktop roads was not extensive this year, he said, because the winter was not as cold, meaning a smaller frost line, and warmer spring temperatures have come gradually accompanied with some heavy rains to help thaw what frost there was in the roads.

The state reported the same.

A. L. Brown, assistant maintenance operations engineer at the state highway department, said spring breakup of gravel and black-top roads was not extensive this year.

"Open weather this spring has allowed frost to come out of the ground gradually," Brown said. "The frost was deep, but dry because of low rainfall last fall. The roads did not turn to soup."

Would You Like to Be a Tot, Teen or Twenty Again?

Let's All Turn Back the Clock . . . Further, Further

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Curbstone comments of a Pavement Plato:

What age in life is really best? If you could relive all or any part of life in any way you choose, where would you begin? What would you like to be?

BOYLE

These questions are sophomoric, of course, as no one yet has found a way to turn back the calendar — and wish-granting fairy godmothers are few and far between.

But probably no one alive hasn't at one time or another brooded over the possibility of going back to an earlier, ideal age in his existence and living a different kind of life. It is perhaps mankind's favorite daydream.

The subject came up recently at a cocktail party I attended. Most of those present were in the middle-age, or upper middle-age bracket. Some of their choices of how they'd change their lives, if offered a chance at a second go-around, were surprising.

NO YEN FOR YOUTH

Childhood is usually regarded as the golden time of life, but none of those present expressed a desire to begin again as an infant.

★ ★ ★

None wanted to be a teen-ager either. Not even the ladies wanted to be "sweet 16" again.

One woman, whose family is reared, said, she'd give anything to go back to the time when her children were young and dependent on me, her, and all were under one roof.

"Those seemed like hard and trying years then, but now I realize they were the most rewarding. I'll ever know," she said. "I'd like to be anywhere between 30 and 40. Those are the best years for a woman," a career woman said.

OLD, YOUNG ENOUGH

"She is old enough to have gained experience and confidence in her work, and she is still young enough to be attractive. And her worst wrinkles still lie ahead of her."

Most of the men, on the other hand, agreed that for them the ideal age was 25, a period when they recalled they were largely free of major debts, ulcers and paunches, still had most of their hair and felt strong enough to whip the world.

One harried executive-type wryly remarked he didn't care about being any particular age—just so he could be a bartender.

"A bartender has this big advantage—no matter what his own private worries may be, everybody he serves seems to have more troubles than he does. This can't help but make him feel more content with his lot. That's why bartenders are so smug," he said.

★ ★ ★

"I'd like to be a 25-year-old bachelor with $2 million," a mousy, long-married little man broke in eagerly.

LIFE BACKWARDS

"Life today runs backward for the average man. He starts poor and works hard until he is 65. When he retires, even if he has saved any money he is too worn out to enjoy it.

"With that two million bucks I could have a tax-free income of $50,000 a year. On that I could travel everywhere, do everything in life I haven't been able to—really live it up.

★ ★ ★

"Maybe at about 75 I'd get tired of being a playboy, so I'd settle down and marry a pretty young nurse and let her take care of me in my old age. But I'd still have that original two million bucks in the bank."

He looked coyly over at his middle-aged wife and asked, "What would you like to be, dear."

"Me?" said the wife grimly. "I'd like to be that pretty young nurse."

See Rough Going for State Grain Bill

LANSING (AP) — A proposal that state agencies be required to purchase Michigan made or grown products if their price is not more than 5 per cent above the cost of out-of-state products appeared today to be in for rough sledding in the Senate.

★ ★ ★

Action on the bill was postponed until Friday after some lawmakers pointed out that such a restriction might do the state more harm than good.

"This is a bad precedent we'd be setting," said Sen. Elmer R. Porter, R-Blissfield. "As soon as this got on the books we would have retaliation from the other states."

U.S. Gives U.N. Big Congo Fund

Taunts Russia to Pay Up at Least Her Minimum Share of Costs

From Our News Wires

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y.—The United States today pledged a "sizeable voluntary contribution" to the U.N. Congo operation over and above its normal assessed share of the $120-million budget.

★ ★ ★

U.S. Delegate Philip M. Klutznick made the pledge in the General Assembly's budgetary committee and taunted Russia, which has refused to pay anything, to provide its "minimum, if not its just" share of the Congo costs.

The U.N.'s financial crisis also was eased slightly as Britain paid in $3,768,000 and other payments were reported on the way.

★ ★ ★

The relief was temporary, however, since no formula has been found to fill the gap left by the refusal of the Soviet bloc, France and many other countries to pay any part of U.N. expenditures in the Congo.

★ ★ ★

One student remained behind bars. He was George T. Dalluge, 22, senior at Mankato State College, Mankato, Minn. He was sentenced to 70 days for inciting a riot and resisting arrest.

"I, as a citizen, am as much to blame as you are for a portion of this situation," the judge said. "We knew you were coming but I like the rest, did not do anything to prepare for it.

Vote to Decide Road, Court Races

JOHN C. MACKIE
Democrat

CHARLES E. BEDWELL
Republican

BY UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL

Michigan's voters decide Monday on who will guide the state's highway-building program the next four years.

Their ballots also will determine which two men among four candidates shall occupy the pair of State Supreme Court benches up for grabs.

A pair of engineer-politicians, both with impressive backgrounds, want to head up the highway program.

John C. Mackie, 40, is running for his second term in the job.

He is being challenged by Charles R. Bedwell, 47, Harper Woods, a Ford Motor Co. engineer. Mackie is a Democrat and Bedwell a Republican.

Mackie, a native of Toronto, Ont., was the youngest man ever to hold the office of highway commissioner when elected in 1957.

MICHIGAN BACKGROUND

He was educated in Detroit public schools, Lawrence Institute of Technology and Michigan State University. Mackie worked on airplane engine design for an aircraft company before entering the U.S. Air Force in World War II.

He worked on various public works projects as a consulting engineer for a Detroit firm, and established his own surveying and engineering company in Flint in 1952.

Mackie is married to the former Kathleen Flood of Toronto. He has three daughters, and the family lives on a farm near Holt.

Bedwell has 27 years experience as an engineer and is presently supervisor of plant engineering at the Ford Tractor and Implement Division.

A native of Midland, Bedwell is married and has two children.

The nonpartisan Supreme Court races involve two leading lights of the Republican party and a pair of Democratic comparative unknowns.

Nominated by Republicans were incumbents Chief Justice John R. Dethmers, who has been state GOP chairman, attorney general and chief of the high court since 1956, and Justice Harry Kelly, two-term Michigan governor, twice secretary of state and on the high court since 1953.

Wayne County Probate Court Judge Ernest C. Boehm and James H. McLaughlin, chairman of the workmen's compensation appeal board, were nominated by Democrats for the nonpartisan election.

Brief biographies on the candidates:

ERNEST C. BOEHM

A Wayne County probate court judge since 1957, Boehm has been a lawyer since 1930.

He has served as Detroit common pleas judge, assistant Wayne County prosecutor and on the domestic relations committee of the state bar.

A native of Detroit and a graduate of the Detroit College of Law, he is married and has one daughter.

JOHN R. DETHMERS

A member of the Supreme Court since 1946, Dethmers has been chairman of the national conference of chief justices.

He was city attorney of Zeeland, prosecuting attorney of Ottawa County and chief assistant attorney general before being elected attorney general.

He was appointed to the high court and elected to it twice. Born in Plessis, Ia., Dethmers attended Hope College and received his law degree from the University of Michigan.

HARRY F. KELLY

Governor from 1943 to 1946 and secretary of state in 1939-42, Kelly was elected to the high court in 1953.

Born in Ottawa, Ill., he practiced law in Michigan since 1924 after service in World War I where he lost a leg and was decorated with the Croix de Guerre and the Purple Heart.

Kelly received his law degree from the University of Notre Dame and served as state's attorney in La Salle County, Ill., before moving to Michigan.

JAMES H. McLAUGHLIN

A native of Kalamazoo County, McLaughlin served one year as assistant attorney general and practiced law in Grand Rapids before becoming a member of the Workmen's Compensation Commission in 1954.

He moved to the appeal board and became chairman in 1957. Active in the state bar, McLaughlin is married, has one daughter and lives in Grand Rapids.

He received his law degree from the University of Michigan.

To Fill Board of Education Seat and Choose a Superintendent

By United Press International

Education will be a big word in Monday's state election.

Ballots call for voters to choose a superintendent of public instruction and to fill a seat on the State Board of Education.

The man who will head the state's participation in education for the next two years will be—quite naturally—a teacher.

Dr. Lynn M. Bartlett, 56, a Democrat, is seeking a third term as superintendent of public instruction.

His Republican challenger is Hugh H. Holloway, 45, on leave from his post as superintendent of schools in Sault Ste. Marie. Holloway was unsuccessful in a bid for the post in 1959.

★ ★ ★

Bartlett started his teaching career at the age of 17 at a rural school in New York State.

He received bachelor's, master's and doctoral degrees from the University of Michigan, and has taken postgraduate work at Wayne State University and Columbia University.

Bartlett has been a counselor and teacher in the Detroit school system, at Wayne State, the University of Michigan and Eastern Michigan University.

He was in the Grosse Pointe school system for a number of years and was assistant superintendent there at the time of his election to the state post in 1957.

WIFE TEACHES

Bartlett's wife teaches at East Lansing, and he has a daughter in high school and a son at the University of Michigan.

Holloway attended Lansing schools and Michigan State University.

He has bachelor's and master's degrees, and has taught in high school and college and been a high school principal in addition to superintendent at Sault Ste. Marie.

Father of four daughters, Holloway is a well-known speaker and writer on educational subjects.

A veteran of World War II and a major in the Air Force Reserve, Holloway has based his campaign on proposed changes in the administration of the state's part in the over-all educational picture in Michigan.

The empty seat on the State Board of Education, which has broad powers over both higher education and public schools in Michigan, was created when Stephen S. Nisbet, Fremont, a Republican, decided to step down when his term ends June 30.

Charles A. Rogers, Dearborn industrial relations expert, was picked by the Republicans, and Frank Hartman, superintendent of Carman School District in Genesee County, was nominated by Democrats to seek the post.

The candidates:

FRANK HARTMAN
Democrat

A native of McMillan, Hartman, 42, is a graduate of Northern Michigan College and has a master's degree from the University of Michigan.

Hartman has been in the field of education since he finished college. He is married, has two children and lives in Flint.

CHARLES A. ROGERS
Republican

The Dearborn attorney has served in some capacity at all three of the major state universities.

Rogers graduated from the University of Michigan and has served there as a lecturer in management-union relations.

He also was assistant director of Wayne State University's Institute of Industrial Relations, and now is an associate director of Michigan State University's Industrial Relations Center.

To Guide 3 Universities

By United Press International

Men who will make decisions for the three major state-supported universities will be chosen Monday when Michigan voters go to the polls.

Candidates are seeking voters' favor for spots on the University of Michigan Board of Regents, Michigan State University Board of Trustees and Wayne State University Board of Governors.

New faces will join the U. of M. board as a result of the election.

The candidates:

PAUL E. GOEBEL
Republican

A former captain of the U. of M. football team (1922) and professional grid star, Goebel served three terms as mayor of Grand Rapids.

He was a lieutenant commander in the Navy and received the Bronze Star during World War II. Goebel is married and has a son and daughter, both U. of M. graduates.

THEODORE SACHS
Democrat

A youthful attorney with an impressive academic record, Sachs gained prominence by arguing a controversial reapportionment case before the State Supreme Court.

Sachs lives with his wife and two children in Oak Park and is a partner in the Detroit law firm of Rothe, Marston, Mazey, Sachs and O'Connell.

ALLEN SORENSON
Democrat

He was born in Manistee and graduated from the University of Michigan in 1948 with a degree in chemical engineering.

He has been active in Michigan alumni activities and served in the Army in World War II.

He is married and has two children.

JAMES C. ZEDER
Republican

During his tenure as a Chrysler executive, Zeder was active in research programs which led to the development of hydraulic brakes, power steering and all-steel bodies for automobiles.

Zeder is a vice president of Michigan State University Oakland and a trustee of the University of Detroit.

Incumbent Democrats on the MSU Board of Trustees are being challenged by Republicans who are prominent alumni of the institution.

The candidates:

FRED ENGLAND JR.
Republican

England graduated early in 1917 from MSU, then Michigan Agricultural College, in order to enlist in the Army. He saw service in France during World War I.

He is married and has one daughter and two grandchildren.

C. ALLAN HARLAN
Democrat

He was appointed to the MSU Board of Trustees by former Gov. G. Mennen Williams to fill a vacancy in 1957.

He attended the University of Tennessee and is a trustee of Bethany College, Fisk University, Hampton Institute and Burton Mercy Hospital, and is a fellow of Brandeis University.

Harlan is married and has five sons and two daughters.

JOHN S. PINGEL
Republican

An outstanding football halfback at MSU in the 30s, Pingel has advocated teamwork in management of MSU affairs as the keynote of his campaign for the board.

Pingel served in the Army for five years during World War II and has been active in numerous civic ventures.

CONNOR D. SMITH
Democrat

He was elected to the board in 1954 after serving four years on an appointment by Williams.

He graduated from the MSU veterinary school in 1930.

Smith is active in community affairs and is married and has two children.

The WSU Board of Governors, created as a constitutional body only two years ago, will have a pair of vacancies.

THOMAS R. ADAMS
Republican

A Wayne alumnus, Adams, 41, has been with Campbell-Ewald Advertising Co. for 16 years, and now serves as its president.

Adams was a decorated Navy flier in World War II, has been active in civic affairs, is married and has three daughters.

CHARLES E. BRAKE
Republican

Now superintendent of Wayne County schools, Brake has degrees from three universities and has been a teacher and school administrator for 43 years.

A native of Grand Rapids, Brake received a bachelor's degree from Kalamazoo College, a master's from the University of Michigan and a doctorate from Wayne State.

DR. DE WITT T. BURTON
Democrat

He was elected to a two-year term on the WSU board in 1959 after the institution assumed full state university status.

A member of numerous educational, medical and civic organizations, Burton is married and has three daughters.

RALPH E. RICHMAN
Democrat

A retired insurance executive, Richman has been president of the board of directors of Valparaiso University in Indiana and active in college affairs.

He is a member of the Holland Chamber of Commerce, has held various positions in the insurance industry and is married.

No Upheaval With Con-Con

Body's Actions Could Not Take Effect Until Approval by Voters

(Editor's Note: The proposal for a constitutional convention, which appears on the ballot Monday, has been covered at length previously in The Pontiac Press. The following story serves as a brief summary).

LANSING (UPI) — A constitutional convention, should one be called by voters, would not mean an immediate upheaval in state government.

Any action taken by the convention, which would meet early in October and probably stay in session until late spring of 1962, would have to be approved by voters—probably at the November 1962 election—before it could take effect.

Then, assuming the proposed changes were approved by voters, effects of the new basic law would take time to filter down to the everyday operations of government.

★ ★ ★ ★

A con-con would not be able to abolish or create many state departments or agencies.

Most of the departments, boards and commissions which handle the business of government are not even mentioned in the constitution.

What a convention could do is change the responsibilities for some of the chief administrative officers of the state, perhaps limiting some and expanding others.

Proponents of con-con say this would make state government more efficient and manageable.

Those against a convention to revise the 1908 constitution say many proposed changes would upset laws passed by the legislature which have been on the books many years.

Should State Have Right to Lend to Firms?

Program to Lure Industry an Issue

LANSING (UPI)—A plan to lure new industry to Michigan will get a test at the voting booths Monday.

It's a proposal to amend the state constitution so that the state can lend up to $5 million at a time to industrial and municipal development projects.

Approval at the spring election will clear the way for the state to enter the industrial financing field for the first time.

It's not a new idea. Pennsylvania has been running a state industrial credit program for some years. A number of other states are offering cash help to industry.

A state lending authority is the key section of Gov. Swainson's program to spur Michigan's economic growth.

The legislature has been toying with the idea for more than two years. For three years Rep. Harry A. Demaso, Battle Creek Republican, has called for creation of a state-run industrial credit authority as part of a broad industrial development program. Lawmakers have balked at the idea.

UP TO LEGISLATURE

If the ballot proposal carries, it will be up to the legislature to decide whether to put the Swainson-Demaso plan, or any other, into operation.

The governor's proposal, modeled after the Pennsylvania plan, is intended to help local governments and industrial development groups help themselves.

The Great Michigan Authority, an appointive group, would be empowered to lend up to 30 per cent of the cost of an industrial and municipal development project. Local governments and private capital would finance the rest.

Swainson wants the legislature to appropriate $1.5 million this year to get the program off the ground.

Practically everyone who speaks out on the subject, Democrat or Republican, industrialist or labor leader, acknowledges the need to attract new industry to Michigan.

MANY SKEPTICS

A good many, however, question the advisibility of a state lending agency.

Sen. Lynn O. Francis, R-Midland, attacked the plan as a potential step toward socialism.

"This is going a long way toward government control of industries and our whole way of life," he said in Senate debate.

Appearing at a Senate hearing, Nicholas J. Rini, manager of the taxation department in the Greater Detroit Board of Commerce, dismissed the idea as a gimmick.

"To pay out subsidies simply encourages inefficiently operated firms to produce a certain amount of goods which are not wanted," he said. "This is just another form of featherbedding."

He also protested that the authority, by offering lower interest rates to industries it assists, would discriminate against other industries.

Other skeptics asserted that financial assistance from governments is a minor factor in industrial plant location. Healthy, expanding industry does not require government help, they said.

SNUBBING SIGN?—Yes, but he didn't want to do it, the driver of this car told Waterford Township police yesterday. His auto was struck in the rear, went over the curb and into the building—a storage place for B & G Tile Outlet at 1075 W. Huron St. No one was injured and police agreed that the driver, Manuel Dean, 58, 75 S. Josephine Ave., was a victim of circumstances in this case.

Rusk and Nehru Close on Ways to Attack Problems

NEW DELHI, India (UPI) — U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk stopped off for talks with Prime Minister Nehru today on his way back to Washington and the Indian leader said they agreed "very largely" on approaches to the problems of Laos and the Congo.

Rusk and Nehru conferred for an hour and a half and then had lunch together before Rusk continued his journey home from the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization meeting in Bangkok, Thailand.

Asked by newsmen whether he expected peace in Laos, Nehru replied: "I can't say. We hope for the best."

In Washington, President Kennedy gave John Galbraith, new ambassador to India, a personal note for Nehru.

Galbraith declined to discuss contents of the Kennedy note to Nehru but said he and Kennedy had discussed economic development in India.

Nehru said he had received no fresh indications of the Soviet attitude toward the peace proposals put forward by the British on behalf of the eight-nation SEATO alliance.

But he added India had received "a very valuable hint some time ago." He did not elaborate.

Found Something Better

NEW YORK (UPI) — A joint study of the Engineering and Scientific Manpower Commissions of 88,000 female college graduates shows only 586 have jobs as chemists and 703 as mathematicians or statisticians.

Canada's first newspaper, the Halifax Gazette, was published early in 1751. It was circulated about 20 years.

Pumps for automobile windshield washers are being made of plastic. They are lighter, cheaper, and free from corrosion.

Donations for Needy Reach 3,200 Pounds

Operation Needy, sponsored by Pontiac Local 49 of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes (AFL-CIO) with cooperation of the Salvation Army, is under way in the Pontiac area.

The drive has netted some 3,200 pounds of clothing, appliances and furniture since starting about two weeks ago.

Fred G. Henry of 10 S. Shirley St., chairman of the drive, set 20,000 pounds of used items as a goal.

"Our whole purpose is to try to ease the unemployment problem in this area. We can't get people jobs, but we can make more usable goods available to destitute families at the lowest cost possible," said Henry.

In addition to the 3,200 pounds of donated items, the Salvation Army Men's Social Service Center has reported a sharp increase in calls from persons wishing to donate used or outgrown items.

All items are reconditioned and sold at the Salvation Army Red Shield Stores on W. Pike and W. Lawrence Streets near Cass Avenue.

"We have 12 trucks working for us now," Henry said today. "Some are Salvation Army pick-up trucks and some belong to union members.

"We would like to hear from any civic or fraternal organizations interested in helping. We will give them full credit for all the poundage they collect or donate," he explained.

Full details can be obtained from Operation Needy, Box 261, Pontiac, or from Henry at home.

Henry and cochairman Denzil L. C. Goodwin, local president, are psychiatric attendants at Pontiac State Hospital.

Behan Fighting Death After Drinking Spree

TORONTO (UPI) — Brendan Behan, Ireland's colorful playwright, was fighting the most serious battle of his life against the bottle today in a Toronto hospital.

The 38-year-old writer's latest drinking spree landed him in a private hospital early this week, and reports from his doctor, wife and friends indicate he is on the brink of death.

Five New Domestic Cars Will Make First Public Appearance

U.S. Flavor to Be Strong at International Auto Show

By BEN PHLEGAR
AP Automotive Writer

NEW YORK — An American flavor will predominate as never before at the Fifth International Auto Show which opens here Saturday.

Five of the six U.S. manufacturers will display their complete lines, giving five new American cars their first public showings.

Only Chrysler Corp. is refraining from full scale participation. Chrysler will display its new gas turbine dream car and the standard Chrysler car.

★ ★ ★

Studebaker - Packard, Checker Motors, American Motors, Ford and General Motors will show a complete range of models.

Nine other car-building nations, including Israel for the first time, will be represented among the 80 nameplates.

Of the foreign entries, 11 will show models new to this country. These include two new Jaguars with speeds up to 150 miles per hour. GSM Delta, Daimler and Humber, all from England; Renault and Peugeot from France; Sabra from Israel; NSU Prinz and Borgward from Germany; Lancia Flavia from Italy and Datsun from Japan.

★ ★ ★

The American cars are the dolled-up compacts from Ford and General Motors, none of which is yet available for sale—Falcon Futura, Comet S22; Pontiac LeMans, Buick Skylark and Oldsmobile Cutlass.

The added American accent comes at a time when foreign manufacturers are struggling to keep a foothold in the United States auto market.

Sales of imported cars have been slipping steadily in the past 12 months with only Volkswagen among the volume lines able to keep up the pace of record 1959 when 600,000 imports were sold here.

January registrations of imported cars fell 20 per cent from December, the biggest month-to-month drop ever recorded. Of the 25,594 registrations Volkswagen accounted for 13,425. This was the first time one make took more than 50 per cent of the total since VW did it in June, 1956.

Imports continue to represent a definite factor in the over-all automobile picture, however. There are slightly fewer than two million foreign cars in operation in this country and more than one million of these are three years old or less.

In a recent survey by Automotive News, imported car dealers declared the foreign models always will have a niche in the American market and that plenty of promise remains for a dealer who knows what he is doing.

The survey showed 12,870 dealers handling one or more imported car lines on Jan. 1. This compares with 14,667 a year ago; 11,409 three years ago and only 2,930 four years ago.

The successful dealers make one point which is emphasized by many of the new models to be shown here: Foreign cars are a specialty item and should be sold as such.

On the 11 new models, six are sports cars. The foreign manufacturers long have had the bulk of the sports-car market and show no signs of abdicating.

Pontiac 1 of 3 Districts Where 250 Jobless Have Been Assigned

LANSING — Pontiac is one of three districts where the State Highway Department has assigned some 250 unemployed workers to a special statewide cable guard rail rehabilitation project.

The $250,000 program, announced by Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie, began today in the department's Grand Rapids and Saginaw districts and will be extended to the Cadillac, Alpena, Newberry and Crystal Falls districts on April 17.

Commissioner Mackie said the project will do a great deal to relieve unemployment hardships for families of men being put to work. Nearly $176,000 of the total cost of the nine-week program will go toward salaries of the temporary employes.

The workers will put in new wooden posts to replace those which have become rotted and out of line during the past 10 to 15 years. Cables will also be restrung.

The special maintenance project is made possible through a savings in winter maintenance on state trunklines because of the comparatively mild winter, Mackie said.

The guard rail program is the second special project instituted by the State Highway Department Maintenance Division this year.

Sixty-five unemployed workers were hired recently for the division's special 90-day Dutch elm tree removal program.

PUTS HELL ON THE MAP — The State of Michigan has decided to put the village of Hell on the map. Mayor's Committee Postpones Meeting

Postponed yesterday because several members of the Mayor's Steering Committee on Downtown Redevelopment were unable to attend, the meeting to air proposals for a $40,000 Downtown Development Plan is to be rescheduled soon.

At the meeting, City Hall representatives will recommend that Geer Associates of Birmingham be retained to draw up plans for redevelopment of the business area within the circumstances of the proposed downtown loop highway.

Geer Associates, the city's planning consultants, last year made several presentations to the committee stressing the importance of such a plan.

Since then, downtown leaders have raised $20,000 to match $20,000 budgeted by the city this year to pay for the document.

Welcoming all North Oakland County to participate in the celebration of Pontiac's 100th anniversary as a city, the Greater Pontiac Centennial organization has been given a helping hand in Waterford and Auburn Heights.

Volunteer groups in both communities plan to work with centennial headquarters in promoting public participation in centennial activities leading up to the gala celebration June 17-24.

Chairmen are Robert Beattie Jr., Waterford Township automobile dealer, and Floyd E. Short, Auburn Heights merchant, both working under Jack Brannack, Pontiac insurance agent, who is area chairman for the Greater Pontiac Centennial Commission.

FLOYD E. SHORT

The accent will be on fun at first, with the men encouraged to wear beards and the women bonnets and sundresses.

★ ★ ★

Beard and shaving permits for the men, as well as centennial hats and string ties, are on sale at Community Activities, Inc., 5640 Williams Lake Road, in the township and Short's 5 to 1.00 Store, 3345 Auburn Road, Auburn Heights.

★ ★ ★

Women's regalia will be available at both places soon.

All proceeds from the sale of centennial paraphernalia go into the general fund to defray costs of the celebration.

Chapters of the Brothers of the Brush and Centennial Belles are planned in both Waterford Township and Auburn Heights.

★ ★ ★

Included in Beattie's committee are Robert Bauer, director of Community Activities, Inc.; Lee Kaines, former president of the CAI board; and Mrs. Mary McFarland, president of the Waterford Township Golden Age club.

Beattie said he expected to appoint several more committee members.

In the Auburn Heights committee are Neil B. Renshaw, 901 Nichols Drive; Roy Davis, 3996 Auburn Road; Dr. S. L. Slowik, 3346 Auburn Road; Harold Davis, 3530 Auburn Road; Milton L. Youth Obeys but Thinks Order Silly

CUSHING, Okla. (AP) — The Paul Johnson family is reunited after a trip to Michigan that went awry and a three-state search for 16-year-old George Ray Johnson.

The family was en route in two vehicles with the boy driving a truck and his parents in the family car. The father told George to drive to Springfield, meaning Springfield, Mo. But the boy misunderstood and drove to Springfield, Ill.

'Stop' Sign Looms Up

MUSKEGON (UP) — Nighttime speeders will know they've run afoul of Muskegon police radar when special lighted signs confront them suddenly from the darkness with the words: "Stop. Police."

Police Chief Fred Castenholz says the idea for the device was developed in his department and underwent its first test with success last Monday night.

It is aimed at assuring greater safety for officers manning radar cruisers at night or in inclement daytime weather. The radar unit alerts the officer that a speeder is entering his tracking zone. The officer flicks on the sign on the cruiser trunk and steps out to meet the offender.

Earlier measures using red flashlights and luminous portable signs proved unsatisfactory, Castenholz says.

Use Dogs, Clubs on Negro Crowd

100 Gathered Outside Courtroom Before Trial for Library Sit-In

By BEN McCARTHY

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—Mississippi's capital city faced an uneasy quiet today after club-wielding policemen accompanied by trained dogs waded into a crowd of 100 Negroes outside a courtroom Wednesday.

* * *

The police action preceded the trial of nine Negro college students charged with breach of the peace for a sit-in demonstration last Monday at a for-whites-only public library. They were convicted and drew $100 fines and 30-day suspended jail sentences.

The nine, all students at Tougaloo Southern Christian College on the northern outskirts of Jackson, staged the state's first mass of Max Perry, Utah State; Nate

A crowd of Negroes, many students or faculty members at three Negro colleges in the area—Jackson State and Campbell — gathered outside the city court building before the hearing.

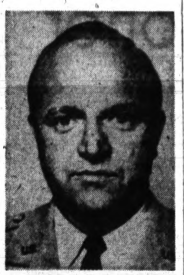

As the defendants started up the steps of the building, the spectators began clapping and singing.

* * *

An officer said: "That's it! Move 'em out! Get 'em!"

Police moved quickly into the Negro group, swinging their sticks and shoving. The German shepherd dogs lunged at the people.

The younger Negroes quickly scattered through a parking lot to safety, but some of the slower ones were clubbed on the head and back. The dogs bit and ripped the clothing of several persons.

REPORTED SAFE — The State Department reports that Army Maj. Lawrence R. Bailey parachuted safely from a U.S. plane missing in the Laos Area. Apparently the 37-year-old native of Waycross, Ga., was the only survivor among the eight persons aboard the twin-engine C47 transport missing since last Thursday. His wife and children live at Laurel, Md.

Muskegon in Bid for Planned College

LANSING (UP)—Muskegon put in a strong bid before legislators here Wednesday for selection as the site for the new Grand Valley State College.

* * *

The city offered a 720-acre tract near Muskegon Lake, which spokesmen valued at $1.5 million. It also offered to put in $1 million in street, sewer and other site improvements.

John E. Achterhoff, Muskegon realtor and spokesman for the group, said the city would make up any of the $1 million in private funds that has been pledged for the college.

* * *

"We understand that some of the pledges have strings attached — that the college must be near Grand Rapids," Achterhoff said. "We will make up any of the money that is short to assure the $1 million."

Mackie Reports on County Aid

Federal Funds Given to Oakland Came to $288,453 in 1960

LANSING — Oakland County spent $288,453 on federal aid roads last year, State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie reported.

* * *

At the same time, Mackie said Michigan's 83 counties will make a record $50 million worth of highway improvements during 1961.

Mackie said the estimate is based on program reports submitted to the Highway Department by the County Road Commissions under provisions of the Motor Vehicle Highway Law.

"This represents an increase of nearly 14 per cent over the estimated $44 million spent on road improvements by the counties during 1960," Mackie said.

Mackie said the big increase is the result of an advance by the highway department of federal-aid secondary road funds.

* * *

The counties will receive an estimated $7 million in federal-aid funds this year compared to about $3.5 million last year. Counties must match federal funds on a 50-50 basis.

Mackie said reports from the 83 counties show they modernized 304 miles of highway on the federal aid secondary system last year, built 23 bridges and installed five railroad crossing flashers.

Population of World Alarming

VANCOUVER, B. C. (UPI) — Sir Charles Darwin, grandson of the English naturalist, believes the world's population is a more dangerous threat to humanity than an atomic war.

Darwin, 73, said the world will double itself to more than five billion people in 40 years. In less than 1,000 years there will be no standing room left on earth, he said.

* * *

"Even an atomic war would not make a very great difference in population," Darwin said. "Even if (an atomic war) destroyed a whole continent of 300 million people, that number would be replaced in six years."

Flint Ups Teacher Pay

FLINT (UP)—A new salary schedule, approved by the Flint Board of Education, will provide increases of 2 to 4 per cent for most public school teachers here effective next fall.

Kent County Has Job for Health Educator

GRAND RAPIDS (UP)—A search is under way to find a replacement for city-county health educator Leonard Simon who has resigned to take a similar post with a Cincinnati, Ohio, voluntary health agency.

The Grand Rapids-Kent County post is filled by civil service examination.

Zonta to Honor 'Working Woman'

DR. MARY ANN CUSACK

JOSEPH H. SHIMMICK

ADAH SHELLY

Zonta Club today named three leading citizens as judges for their search for the Pontiac area's five outstanding working women.

Set to judge the nominating letters which are already pouring in are Adah Shelly, pioneer city librarian and second president of the local chapter of Zonta International; Dr. Mary Ann Cusack, dean of women at Michigan State University Oakland, first woman in the United States to receive a doctorate in radio and television; and Joseph H. Shimmick, director of personnel services at the Pontiac Motor Division.

★ ★ ★

The three will announce their choice April 10 which is to be proclaimed locally as "The Working Woman's Week." Their selections will be based on nominations made in the form of a letter of at least 200 words postmarked not later than April 5. Any woman who is employed in the city of Pontiac, Waterford, West Bloomfield or Pontiac Townships is eligible for nomination.

★ ★ ★

Choices will be based on the nominee's spirit of co-operation and sense of respect for her fellow workers, the inspiration she generates to those with whom she comes in contact and her ability to assume and use responsibilities with good judgment. She may be married with children, or be single.

Nominations should be addresesd to Adah Shelly, 152 Washington St., Pontiac. The name, occupation, address and phone number of the nominee must appear in the upper lefthand corner of the letter.

Winners will be feated at Zonta Club's annual breakfast April 16. According to co-ordinators Mrs. Ladeen Floyd and Mrs. Irene Albright, plaques will be presented to the five outstanding working women at that time.

Replies Unimportant, Says Abby

They Feel Better for Writing

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I attended a dinner party recently where the subject of your column was discussed. Those taking part were intelligent people and a few were professionals in mental health. Doubts were expressed by some that your brief answers to some extremely complicated problems were very helpful. Others disagreed. What do you accomplish within the limitations of your work?

JUST ASKING

ABBY

DEAR JUST: I regard the letters I receive as important as the answers I write. There is real therapy in confession. An astounding number of people tell me they feel better after telling me about their suspicions, their frustrations and their guilt.

If the thousands who continue to write to me feel better for it, who am I to worry about the limitations of popular journalism?

DEAR ABBY: Please tell me if my upbringing was wrong. My mother always told us girls to stay away from married men. "Do not smile, talk or look at them," she said. This went for neighbors and anywhere we worked. If we ever spoke to a married man, it was just, "Good morning."

We would not even look them in the eye because they were "took" and likely to be fathers and have responsibilities. You hear so much about girls getting mixed up with married men these days. How does this happen?

THIRTY, MARRIED AND SATISFIED

DEAR T. M. and S.: Girls who get "mixed up" with married men do more than "smile, talk to or look at them." One doesn't have to secede from the human race to avoid a union.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I am a woman who enjoys sleeping in the morning. I have no children to get off to school, and my husband prefers eating his breakfast downtown, so I don't have to apologize to anyone for sleeping late.

I have a friend who gets up with the birds. She has a habit of calling me in the morning at 9:45 or 10:00. She knows I dislike it because I have told her, but she says, "If I woke you up I am not sorry because it's time you were up anyway." How can I get her to quit calling me before noon?

LATE SLEEPER

DEAR LATE: Your friend not only gets up with the birds, she is for them. Apparently your admonitions have been far too gentle. Don't ASK her. TELL her, not to wall you before noon — and accentuate the NEGATIVE! If that fails hang up on her a few times and go back to sleep.

She Has a Prize Question

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: I belong to a bridge club of 12 members of which my sister is one. We play once a week and give first and second prizes. If my sister should win when I am the hostess, is she entitled, as a member, to keep the prize, or must she refuse it because I am her sister?

Each of the members takes turns entertaining the club and each furnishes the prizes for her party. I bring this question up because some of the members think it is not right for my sister to accept the prize when I am hostess.

I can't see this at all and think she has just as much right to accept the prize as any other member.

The prizes are not valuable but there is a principle involved and therefore we would like your opinion.

A: You are quite correct. To withhold the prize because she happens to be your sister would be very unfair — unless she lives with you and you are cohostesses.

Q: I invited a young woman to have lunch with me the other day. After lunch I went back to my office and she got into a cab and went on home. I would like to know if it was up to me to pay her cab fare?

A: There was no need for you to pay her cab fare, but if it was at night, you should have seen her safely home.

'Adults Love 'Em'

Lecturer Talks on Toys

By MARGARET BROWN

"Adults are generally more fascinated by toys than their children," says petite Mrs. Rea Barr Baker of Birmingham.

A former toy adviser, hobby show director and speaker for Detroit's J. L. Hudson Co., Mrs. Baker bases her observation on many years ("Too many," she jests) experience in the toy advisory field.

"I've watched professional men sit on the floor and play with toys," she said during an interview in her cozy white frame home on Ann Street. "And I know a Detroit lawyer who is entranced with his collection of toy soldiers."

Recognized throughout the country as a pioneer in her field, Mrs. Baker studied at Greenville College and the universities of Illinois, Michigan and Colorado. She has done research on play materials, crafts and art nationally and has published articles in toy magazines. She came to Michigan from Illinois as a Latin teacher.

★ ★ ★

However impressive her academic background, Mrs. Baker has a refreshingly homespun approach to life. Youthful in spirit, she has an insight into the child's world with which few of us are blessed.

★ ★ ★

"Be a child's friend," is her advice to the adult world. "Play with a youngster, and you'll learn to understand him."

A frequent lecturer in the area, Mrs. Baker covers several subjects in her informative talks, including "Building Family Relationships Through Play," "Toys on Parade" and "Individual Hobbies."

"By selecting toys that suit a child's nature and disposition it is possible to direct his tendencies when he's very young," she tells audiences in her family relationship lectures. "Don't buy a toy just for the sake of bringing home something new. I once saw a five-year-old whose gift of a butterfly net prompted an interest in lepidopterology that astounded me! Children are really awfully smart," she reflected fondly.

TEARS TO LAUGHTER

Mrs. Baker thinks that first and foremost children should learn to laugh at themselves. "With a sense of humor their tears from minor bumps and tumbles may be turned into laughter," she said.

A competitive spirit enters the play picture at about seven, "the game age," according to Mrs. Baker. "January and February (mumps and measles season) are the best game months," she added.

★ ★ ★

One of her most popular lectures deals with the history of toys. "We've learned a great deal about early civilization from toys," she said. Excavated pint-sized kitchen utensils, crockery and furniture have revealed much about the ancients' daily life. Even doll houses, corresponding to the architecture of their time, have been unearthed. "Musical toys also have been found by archeologists, and in Roman and Grecian sepulchers toys have been found buried with children."

★ ★ ★

"The most popular toys usually are modeled after a society's most advanced achievements or inventions," Mrs. Baker continued. In 1875, for example, microscopes and magic lanterns were the rage. Today's youngsters want small scale missiles, rocket ships and space outfits.

Another of this vivacious lady's pet projects is the stimulation of interests in individual hobbies among teen-agers and adults. "A hobby may be compared to a painting," she explained. "The tints, tones and mood of the artistic effort may delight some and leave others unmoved."

She likes to think, "A person does not find a hobby; the hobby finds a person."

"Many think a hobby involves collecting things or working with tools—something very constructive," she related, "but I know of one who found satisfaction in the simple act of baking tea cakes, and another who announced happily that his hobby was cleaning out the garage."

★ ★ ★

Retired from Hudson's, Mrs. Baker has another full-time job (her "hobby"). She has organized "Your World Speaker's Bureau," a service for men's and women's organizations that offers talks by professional lecturers.

"I'm kept busy every minute, but I do love my work," she said. At present she's booking speakers for functions as far off as June.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Baker will send clubs and organizations talented speakers whose wide range of subjects include horticulture, dieting, art, geology and conservation, flower arranging, light verse humor, music and travel.

A widow, Mrs. Baker said regretfully that she has no children. "But I've lots of nieces and nephews."

With a droll little smile she confided, "At one of my toy conventions I kiddingly told a manufacturer I had seven youngsters, and a few weeks later I received seven sets of blocks in the mail!"

Mrs. Rea Barr Baker of Birmingham, a former toy adviser and hobby show director, recently took on another full-time job when she established a speaker's bureau for this area. Here, she books an April lecture for an area club.

4 Area Gals in Baton Who's Who

National recognition for skill, leadership and achievements beyond the local scene has been given to four young area women in the 1961 edition of "Who's Who in Baton Twirling."

Listed in the 11th annual edition currently being distributed are Betti Brown, age 19, of James K Boulevard, student at Michigan State University, and Arlene, Sharon and Marilyn Dreyer, daughters of the Edwin R. Dreyers of Wards Point Drive, Cass Lake.

They were selected by officials of the National Baton Twirling Association, Janesville, Wis. in conjunction with the editors of Drum Major Magazine as among the 1,400 young men and women twirlers to be honored.

Baton twirling ranks as one of the nation's largest and most wholesome youth movements, with some 500,000 twirlers active in the United States and Canada today. Majorettes and twirlers play an important role in nearly every festival, parade, community activity and public event. Annual college scholarships are awarded to outstanding twirling exponents.

Height Creates Problems

Wrinkles Rankle Woman

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Here is a letter which proves that taller-than-average girls and women are often affected unhappily by their extra pounds. A reader writes:

"Dear Mrs. Lowman:

"I am only 33 but I have the most horrible set of wrinkles you ever hope to see. No matter how I try I still have them. I've used everything except hormone creams.

I do have a very thin skin and medium long neck. My neck has so many wrinkles, large and small, that I am ashamed. I try to always wear high-necked garments.

"All my life I have been told how tall I am. If I carry my head fairly high and my neck straight, I notice some of the wrinkles disappear.

As long as I hold my neck in a tall, stretched manner, these wrinkles are not so bad, but this makes me even taller. Please give me any advice you have."

MAKE MISTAKE

This is a mistake so many tall women make. They slump, with their heads forward, and walk with knees slightly bent, in order to look shorter. Actually, beautiful posture is more important to the tall person than to any other.

★ ★ ★

This letter highlights one of the reasons for wrinkles on the neck. Poor posture lines the neck and the lines deepen with age. Good posture is really the No. 1 preventative or corrective measure.

This does not mean that you should lift your chin or stick it forward. Your chin should be parallel to the floor while you push toward the ceiling with the Top of your head.

Dryness is another factor. Sometimes women who lubricate the fact faithfully every day fail to give the neck the same treatment. This is important.

Loss of tone and lax muscles also are culprits. Exercisw will help this condition. Try this one.

Stand or sit, assuming correct posture. Raise your head and look upward as far as you can to the left (as though you were looking at the stairs or an airplane). Lower head. Look up toward the right, over your right shoulder. Lower head to normal. Continue, alternating left and right.

★ ★ ★

If you would like to have my leaflet "Is Your Chinline a Pain in the Neck?" send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 10. Address Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Lois Eleanor Smith of Drayton Plains exchanged wedding vows and rings with Lloyd G. Hughes, Sunday afternoon at the South Side Evangelical United Brethren Church, Wabash, Ind.

The Rev. William A. Nangle performed the ceremony before an altar background of white snapdragons, gladioli and potted palms.

Parents of the couple are the Harlan C. Smiths of Wabash and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd M. Hughes of Northfield Avenue.

The bouffant bridal gown of white silk net and rose pointe pattern chantilly lace over taffeta was styled with tiered chapel-length train. Seed pearls accented the molded bodice designed with scalloped Sabrina neckline and wrist-point sleeves.

Fingertip veiling of French illusion was attached to a tiara of pearls and sequins. An orchid topped the bride's white Bible.

Honor maid, Anne Leland, wore street-length turquoise net over organdy and Mary Maynard, bridesmaid, was in yellow net.

They carried colonial bouquets of pink carnations.

The bridegroom had George Elliott for best man. Seating some 100 guests were Kenneth Burnworth and Reed Smith, both of Wabash.

Vendetta Leland, Frances Johnson and Helen McCallom, all of Drayton Plains, assisted at the church reception.

Leaving for a honeymoon in Kentucky, the new Mrs. Hughes was wearing a peach wool walking suit and beige accessories.

The couple will be at home in Drayton Plains after April first. Mrs. Hughes, a graduate of Taylor University, teaches in the Waterford Township schools. Her husband is a graduate of the Detroit College of Applied Science.

Secretaries to Have Their Day . . . Er Week

April 23-29 has been proclaimed Secretaries Week by the United States Secretary of Commerce Luther Hartwell Hodges and Mrs. Evelyn G. Day, president of the world's largest organization of women employed in a single profession.

Mrs. Kay Rector, president of Pontiouk Chapter, National Secretaries Association, International, has appointed Mrs. Russell Brackett local chairman of the observance. Mrs. Garland Woody is cochairman.

Sponsored jointly by NSA and the Office Equipment Manufacturers Institute, Secretaries Week focuses attention on the secretary's role in business and industry.

"Secretaries are not looking for bouquets or favors, nor is this week intended to glamorize the secretary; but it is the secretaries' way of telling the public how proud they are of the part they play in the drama of everyday business," reports a spokesman.

"Better Secretaries Mean Better Business" is the theme for the association whose aim is to bring professional status to secretarial work.

To accomplish this goal the NSA has established a Certified Professional Secretary program. The CPS certificate is now held by 1,996 secretaries throughout the United States.

The certificate is earned upon passing a two-day examination in all phases of secretarial work. Subjects covered are personal adjustment and human relations, business law, economics and business administration, secretarial accounting, stenography and general secretarial and office procedures.

Activities preceding Secretaries Week will include a workshop "Pursuit of Excellence," April 8 at Michigan State University Oakland, sponsored by the local chapter.

Speakers will be Fred Noyes, Dr. John Cambus and Dr. William E. Rhode. Doris Walker is workshop chairman, assisted by Mrs. William Robinson.

A local Secretary of the Year will be honored again this year at a dinner on Secretaries Day, April 26, in Ted's Restaurant.

Applications for ideal secretary candidates may be sent to Mrs. Russell Brackett not later than April 10. To be eligible for nomination the candidate must be an active secretary employed in Oakland County. Nominating questionnaires must be returned by employers.

Students Speak

Two exchange students who are seniors at Pontiac Central High School spoke before members of Soroptimist-International at a dinner meeting Monday in the Hotel Waldron.

Graziella Massi of Rome, Italy, and Rusli Maisa of West Sumatra, Indonesia, explained the American Field Service project and contrasted foreign curricula with the American educational system. Rusli sang native songs and played the guitar.

The club will participate in the City Federation of Women's Clubs annual card party April 6, at Madison Junior High School.

Mrs. Richard Paschke, president, and Mrs. Madeleine G. Doeren will present 25 small packages of edible gifts to Pontiac State Hospital women patients Thursday evening in behalf of the club.

Delegates to the Midwestern Conference, Soroptimist Federation of the Americas, April 21-23 at Rockford, Ill., will be Mrs. Karl Schultz and Mrs. Paschke.

Guests at the dinner social were Pontiac attorney Marguerite M. Buckley, Mrs. Gerald E. Killaire; Mrs. Dorothy Ferguson, Betty Lou DeGroot and Jean Hardy of the Birmingham club.

Aunts Honor Sue Ann Braid With Shower

Bride-elect Sue Ann Braid was honored by her aunts Mrs. Donald M. Bronson of Bloomfield Hills and Mrs. Carroll C. Braid at a luncheon and kitchen shower at the latter's home on Rosewood Drive.

Daughter of the John H. Braids of West Iroquois Road, the honoree will exchange vows with Ronald Vliet, son of Mrs. Stanley C. Vliet of Alma and the late Mr. Vliet, May 6 at Central Methodist Church.

★ ★ ★

Among the 23 guests were Mrs. Braid and Mrs. Vliet with Mrs. Albert Flynn and Mrs. Robert Schmidt, Birmingham; Mrs. Grant Chamberlin and Mrs. Florence Tincknell, Romeo; Mrs. James Braid, Mrs. Elizabeth Bronson, Mrs. Harold Miller and sisters Lulan and Ruth Miller, Detroit.

Others at the Saturday party were Mrs. Earl Zimmerman, Rochester; Mrs. Alva Braid and Mrs. Earl Zimmerman, Durand; Hildred Smith, Royal Oak, and Mrs. Fred Beardsley, Oxford.

If You Write Wrong, You Think Right

RUTH MILLETT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Are you ashamed of your poor handwriting? You can stop apologizing for your illegible scratchings.

A handwriting study made at one of our large universities has come up with the comforting discovery (comforting to all of us scribblers), that the smarter a person is, the worse his scrawl.

It's thinking faster than you can write that makes handwriting messy. The faster you think, naturally, the poorer your penmanship.

The handwriting experts who made the study claim that anybody can improve his handwriting if he really tries.

But who wants to, if an illegible scribble indicates a high I.Q.?

★

In case you doubt the findings, here's a clincher:

In the same edition of the newspaper in which I read about the handwriting study was a little story about a Southern mayor who received a letter on White House stationery—but couldn't make out the signature.

So he sent a photostat of the letter to Pierre Salinger, presidential press secretary, with the question: "Maybe I am a prize boob, but whose signature is this?"

Came back Salinger's one-line reply: "That happens to be the signature of John F. Kennedy."

So now, all of us who can't write a decent hand can quit apologizing. And all those who have been taking pride in their beautiful penmanship can just start forgetting to cross their T's, dot their I's and practice making O's look like U's.

★ ★ ★

However, it is only fair to admit that the handwriting study also reveals that the researchers estimate that a million dollars a week is lost by business and industry in scrambled orders, lost deliveries, clerical mistakes and other forms of inefficiency traceable to unreadable writing.

Maybe that's too high a price to pay for the ego satisfaction of letting our poor handwriting proclaim that we're quick thinkers.

Better than the handwriting on the wall—Ruth Millett's "Happier Wives (hints for husbands;" Just send 25 cents to Ruth Millet Reader Service, c-o The Pontiac Press, P. O. Box 489, Dept. A, Radio City Station, New York 19, N. Y.

Pontiac Dealer Uses the Personal Touch

The personal touch of a Pontiac car dealer in Philadelphia may not produce the same results obtained by King Midas, but it's been a big sales booster.

Dealer Robert Lee's policy of following up a sale through service has resulted in a high percentage of resales for his agency, Robert Lee Pontiac.

His business practices are reported in detail in Automotive News, weekly trade publication.

Lee sends letters to customers who haven't brought cars in over a 90-day period to ask if he can personally be of assistance. Customers are provided an enclosed return post card to send in their reasons for not bringing in their cars.

★ ★ ★

"We receive at least a 30 per cent return with these cards," Lee said. "Many of the reasons are legitimate, and few are not. We receive many complaints, and right or wrong, I personally follow through with the customer and the service department in an effort to adjust them."

Many customers who bemoaned service and workmanship are brought back by this follow-through, and five or six new sales a month can be traced to the public relations effort, he stated.

"Customers appreciate the interest," he said.

Another of his practices is to personally place phone calls to all new-car buyers and often used-car buyers 30 to 60 days after a car is purchased to see whether all is right with the car and whether he can help.

"While difficult to trace," he said, "we know these phone calls are appreciated because we can avoid additional troubles by listening to them before they are brought into the shop."

★ ★ ★

Any service problems are personally followed through by Lee to make sure they are taken care of immediately.

Meat for Easter Dinner—Turkey, Ham or Lamb?

What you buy is your decision, but you will find turkey, ham and lamb competing for your attention this Easter states the Marketing Information Agent, Mrs. Josephine Lawyer.

Checks in local markets show that turkey will average 19 to 37 cents per serving; ham 17 to 25 cents per serving; and leg of lamb 24 to 25 cents per serving.

Market reports tell us that the quantity of turkeys in cold storage, as of March 1, 1960, are 23 per cent larger than a year ago. And the size turkey in biggest supply at this time is the Tom Turkey weighing from 14 to 16 pounds to 20 pounds.

To figure the proper size turkey for your Easter dinner, allow one-half pound per serving from Toms weighing 18 to 20 pounds or over and three-fourths pound per serving from Toms weighing 14 or 16 pounds.

The lighter birds under twelve pounds are fine for smaller gatherings. Allow three-fourths to one pound per serving for this size, and don't forget to allow for second servings and hardy appetites.

Hams are available in several styles which sometimes makes it confusing for the shopper. These include hams with the bone in; skinless, shankless (only the shank removed and the meat skinned and trimmed of excess fat); semi-boneless; boneless; boneless-shankless (shaped into rolls); and canned hams which are also boneless and skinless.

The American Meat Institute advises that regardless of style, smoked hams can be divided into those which are fully cooked or those which need cooking-before-eating. They recommend roasting the cook-before-eating. They recommend 325 degree oven until the internal temperature is 160 degrees. Fully cooked hams may be reheated to an internal temperature of 125 to 130 degrees.

Leg of lamb is the traditional lamb dish for Easter. The whole leg roast will average around seven to eight pounds. If you wish less than fourteen to sixteen servings, purchase a half rather than whole leg of lamb. Or purchase a whole leg, but divide it into several meals.

SEVERAL MEALS

A leg of lamb can be three meals for a small family. Have the meat man cut two, three or four jucy sirloin steaks from the sirloin end. The balance of the leg makes a tempting main dish roast. For the third meal, make a stroganof of lamb or lamb loaf from the left-over roast.

Most families will use more eggs this week. If you color eggs, it's easy to prevent cracked shells by placing cold eggs in warm water first. Then simmer (not boil) for twenty minutes. When the eggs are done, cool promptly and thoroughly in cold water. This prevents a greenish film from coating the yolk.

The family's meat choices will guide the purchase of fruits and vegetables. Spring brings green to produce counters in the form of fresh asparagus, green beans, broccoli, and cabbage. Or select from the variety of canned and frozen green vegetables stores are featuring this week.

* * *

Fresh strawberries are scarce and prices correspondingly high . . . Frozen strawberries at about five cents per serving.

Fresh fruits in largest supply are grapefruit and Florida oranges. Two pounds of Northern Spy apples for a fresh 9-inch pie add up to about 25 cents.

Cornmeal Mix a Timesaver

Cornmeal mixes are time and energy savers. In this day of many commercial mixes, the homemaker can make her own Master Mix with this recipe developed by Purdue University, says the Marketing Information Agent, Mrs. Josephine Lawyer.

For 29 cups of mix use 5 pounds of all-purpose flour, ¾ cup double-acting baking powder, 3 tablespoons salt, 1 tablespoon cream of tartar, ½ cup of sugar and 2 pounds of shortening which does not require refrigeration.

Stir baking powder, salt, cream of tartar and sugar into flour. Sift together three times into a large mixing bowl. Cut in shortening until Mix is consistency of cornmeal. Store in covered containers at room temperature.

To measure the Master Mix, pile it lightly into cup and level off with a spatula. (If lard is the shortening, use 1 5/8 pounds rather than 2 pounds. If the lard needs refrigeration, store the Mix in the refrigerator.)

For twelve medium muffins use: 3 cups Mix, 2 tablespoons sugar, 1 cup milk, 1 egg.

For an 8x10 inch pan of cornbread use: 1½ cups Mix, ¾ cup cornmeal, ½ teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons sugar, 1 cup milk, 1 egg.

For a 6x8 inch pan of the family's favorite gingerbread use: 2 cups Mix, ¼ cup sugar, ½ teaspoon cinnamon, ½ teaspoon ginger, ⅛ teaspoon cloves, 1 egg, ½ cup molasses, ½ cup water.

For two 8-inch layers of yellow cake use: 3 cups mix, 1½ cups sugar, 1 cup milk, 2 eggs, 1 teaspoon vanilla.

Offers Bill to Make Travel Cost Deductible

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., has introduced a bill which, if passed, would allow a worker to deduct his travel expenses in moving to take a new job.

* * *

The bill would also permit a home owner to deduct a loss incurred in selling his house if the sale were made in connection with a move for employment reasons.

* * *

Griffin said his bill is intended to increase the mobility of the nation's work force.

Onion Cheese Loaf Is Tantalizingly Different

Accompany a luncheon casserole with a tasty quick loaf bread like Onion-Cheese Bread. Serve it generously spread with butter or margarine. You can also make a truly tempting sandwich with this unusual bread — try it with slices of boiled ham and a little mustard.

Onion-Cheese Bread

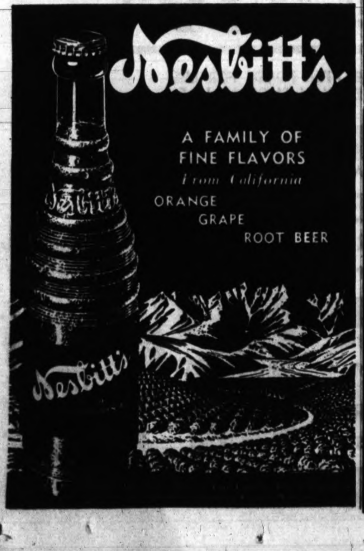

1½ cups milk
4 tablespoons instant minced onion
3 cups sifted enriched flour*
4 tablespoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon black pepper
¾ cup shredded sharp cheddar cheese
1 tablespoon finely-chopped pimiento
1 egg, beaten
3 tablespoons melted shortening or oil

Combine milk and onion. Let stand 15 minutes. Meanwhile, sift together flour, baking powder, salt and black pepper. Stir in cheese and pimiento. Combine egg, milk-onion mixture and shortening or oil. Add to dry ingredients, stirring only until flour is moistened.

Turn into well-greased 4½x8½ inch loaf pan. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees F.) 55 minutes, or until well-browned. (This bread is very moist. It will test done at about 40 minutes, but should be baked the full time.)

Cool 10 minutes before removing from pan. Serve warm. Makes one 4½ x 8½ inch loaf.

*If self-rising flour is used, omit baking powder and salt.

Crisp, refreshing, western-grown cabbage is a welcome note in many spring menus. It is a pretty, tasty, nutritious vegetable that is readily available at budget-minded prices for everyone to enjoy.

Cabbage belongs to one of the oldest and largest vegetable families, the mustard family, and it was introduced into America by the early explorers, moving westward with the settlers. The early Greeks ate cabbage before drinking to prevent drunkenness as they believed that there was a feud going on between the cabbage and the grape.

Today we know western-grown cabbage is one of nature's best sources of vitamin C. One-half cup of raw cabbage, shredded, provides about 1/3 of the daily requirement of vitamin C and yet it only contains 12 calories. Cabbage also is an excellent source of vitamin K, essential for the normal clotting of blood, and other essential nutrients.

* * *

There are so many tasty ways fresh cabbage can be served, from rich, hearty entrees such as stuffed cabbage leaves to the crisp, light cabbage slaws that add a fresh note to heavier meals. Grated cabbage is excellent in many molded gelatin salads, particularly the popular perfection salad, and also adds a crunchy note to several sandwich fillings.

* * *

Here is a delightfully crisp western-grown cabbage slaw with a new twist in the form of red kidney beans. A dressing with a sour cream flavor makes this an outstanding spring salad selection.

Cabbage Salad Santa Maria

1 medium head cabbage
¼ cup chopped green pepper
½ small onion, chopped
1 can (No. 303) red kidney beans, drained
4 teaspoons cider vinegar
1 cup mayonnaise

Wash and shred cabbage. Add green pepper and onion. Just before serving, add kidney beans and toss with dressing made by combining vinegar and mayonnaise. Makes 8 to 10 servings.

CABBAGE SALAD — Western-grown cabbage slaw, made with bright red kidney beans, green pepper and onion, and tossed in a mayonnaise dressing will become a springtime favorite once you've tried it.

Canada Likes U.S. President

Diefenbaker Won't Use 'Anti-American' Slogan in Political Campaigns

OTTAWA (UPI) — The personal popularity of President Kennedy may have dimmed anti-Americanism as a potent political issue in Canada, parliamentary observers said today.

They said the warm reception Kennedy has received from the Canadian public, plus his administration's special effort to cultivate Canadian friendship, has made it difficult for any political party to push anti-Americanism as a policy platform.

The present situation appears to represent some change from the atmosphere built up in the final months of the Eisenhower administration.

During that period, there were recurring reports that the conservative government of Prime Minister John Diefenbaker planned to fight the next election on a "Canada-first" platform with definite anti-American overtones.

MUSHROOM TREATS—Mushrooms add their distinctive flavor to a tuna Tetrazzini casserole and a grilled sandwich. The sandwich can be the main part of a lunch or just a snack. Canned mushrooms are used in both recipes.

Time to Serve Maple Syrup Treats

It is only in the northern parts of these United States that there are still traces of snow, but in every corner of our country this is the season for lagging appetites. More cheerfully, it is the time that "sugar bush" areas in the North and in Canada, are humming with activity . . . as maple trees are tapped to make wonderful syrups and sugars for the American breakfast table. Tops among these syrups is the old favorite—maple-blended syrup.

Winter, even in the South or the Southwest, or on the West Coast, is "different" from the warmer seasons; it seems to result in a slowing up—so, now, with Spring upon us, we are urged to consider "good breakfasts," and for this, we are ready with some ways to serve old favorite recipes.

For example, Pumpkin Pancakes—new twist for ever-popular griddle cakes. They're spicy and delicious, too. And be sure to try Scrambled French Toast . . . a way of combining a scrambled eggs and French toast in one simple step. Serve with crisp bacon on the side, or sprinkle crumbled cooked bacon or heated diced ham over each serving. It's a great way to use up stale bread!

Maple Egg Cuplets are versatile—good for breakfast, for supper, for lunch, and perfect for a Sunday brunch. For a simple variation, sprinkle a few bits of cooked ham or bacon into the bottom of the bread cuplets before adding the eggs. Try these new ideas—and pass the maple-blended syrup!

Maple Egg Cuplets

2 tablespoons maple-blended syrup
2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
6 slices white enriched bread
6 eggs
Salt
Pepper

Combine maple-blended syrup and butter. Meanwhile, remove crusts from slices of bread. Press slices down into buttered muffin pans.

Break an egg into each cuplet in muffin pan. Sprinkle with salt and pepper. Bake in a hot oven (400 degrees F.) 15 minutes, or until egg is set. Serve with additional maple-blended syrup. Makes 8 servings.

Scrambled French Toast

6 slices stale bakers' bread
3 eggs, well beaten
½ teaspoon salt
¾ cup milk
Bacon drippings or shortening
Butter or margarine
Maple-blended syrup
6 slices crisp cooked bacon (optional)

Cut bread into small cubes. (Do not remove crusts.) Combine egg, salt and milk. Pour over bread cubes and toss lightly. Add to hot fat in a large skillet and turn occasionally until well browned. Serve with butter and maple-blended syrup. Makes 4 servings.

Pumpkin Pancakes

1 cup pancake mix
2 tablespoons granulated sugar
½ teaspoon ground cinnamon
½ teaspoon ground ginger
⅛ teaspoon ground nutmeg
1 egg, well beaten
2 tablespoons shortening, melted
½ cup canned pumpkin
1¼ cups milk

To pancake mix, add sugar and spices; mix lightly. Combine egg, shortening, pumpkin, and milk. Add to pancake mixture, beating until smooth. Bake on hot lightly greased griddle, turning only once. Serve hot with maple-blended syrup. Makes about 2 dozen 4-inch pancakes.

Canned Mushrooms Go Far in Flavoring Food

Spare and meager are words that have long been associated with the fasting period of Lent but there's good food to be had even within the limits of proper for the period. We're giving you two ideas we're sure you will find interesting and flavorful enough to serve long after the Lenten Season has passed.

★ ★ ★

Both are hearty foods: One for a luncheon meal, the other for dinner, both using canned sliced mushrooms. The hot grilled sandwich is sure to be a filling replacement for the more usual meat sandwich served at lunch and is a perfect accompaniment to a steaming bowl of your favorite soup. But grilled and cut into quarters, they are delicate and tasty when served with tea or coffee for an afternoon snack.

The Tetrazzini is a casserole favorite with an Italian flavor that has made an important place for itself in our American way of life. And one of the reasons it has made such an important place is because it's easy, economical, good to eat and doubles for a family meal or a company main dish. Such versatility isn't easy to find even with all the new foods we have to choose from these days.

In both recipes, more than just a few mushrooms have been used because the feature of each recipe is its true mushroom flavor—a flavor which adds interest and heartiness and one that transforms just plain food into elegant food to delight even the most discriminating.

Tuna-Mushroom Tetrazzini

1 medium onion, chopped
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 cans (3 or 4 ozs. each) sliced mushrooms, drained
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1 can (10½ ozs.) condensed cream of mushroom soup
1½ cups milk
1 can (7 ozs.) tuna, drained and flaked
2 cups cooked egg noodles or spaghetti (half of 8-oz. package)
½ cup grated Parmesan cheese

Cook onion in butter or margarine until onion is tender. Add mushrooms and Worcestershire sauce; cook 2 minutes longer, stirring often. Add soup, milk and water; blend well. Add tuna; heat to boiling.

Arrange cooked noodles or spaghetti in shallow 1½-quart baking dish; top with tuna-mushroom mixture. Sprinkle with cheese. Bake 25 minutes, or until bubbling hot. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

★ ★ ★

Toasted Mushroom Sandwiches

1 package (3 ozs.) cream cheese
1 teaspoon cream
½ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
¼ teaspoon onion salt
1 can (3 or 4 ozs.) sliced mushrooms, drained and chopped
8 slices day-old bread
Butter or margarine

Combine cream cheese, cream, Worcestershire sauce and onion salt; beat until well blended. Stir in mushrooms. Spread cheese-mushroom mixture on 4 slices of bread; top with remaining bread slices. Cook sandwiches in butter or margarine in frying pan or on griddle until brown on both sides, turning once. Serve hot. Makes 4 sandwiches.

For Variety: Make sandwiches using cream cheese-mushroom mixture. Beat 1 egg slightly; add ½ cup milk. Dip sandwiches in milk-egg mixture, turning to coat both sides. Cook as above.

$5-Billion Deficit Is Seen in Budget

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy's budget director David E. Bell, has predicted budget deficits totaling $5 billion for the 1961 and 1962 fiscal years.

★ ★ ★

Under the spending proposals and revenue estimates submitted to Congress last January by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower a surplus of $1.5 billion was forecast for the two-year period. Bell submitted revised budget totals to the Senate-House Economic committee. The changes called for higher spending, and sharply reduced the Eisenhower administration's estimates of anticipated revenues.

It's History but a Dud

MEAT COOKERY Quiz

Q. What is the name of this cut of meat?
A. French-Style Leg of Lamb.
Q. Where does it come from and how is it identified?
A. It comes from the leg section of the lamb carcass. The shank bone is "frenched," that is, meat is removed to expose one inch or more of the lower end of the shank bone.
Q. How is it prepared?
A. By roasting. Do not have the fell (the thin paper-like covering) removed before roasting. Place the leg of lamb, cut side down, on a rack in an open roasting pan. Insert a meat thermometer so the bulb reaches the center of the thickest part, making sure it does not rest in fat or on bone. Do not add water or cover the pan.

Roast in a slow oven (300 degrees F.) until the thermometer registers 17 degrees F. for medium-done, 180 F for well-done. Allow 30 to 35 minutes per pound.

Sweet Mixtures Glaze Hams

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

This week the sale of ham rises to astronomical figures. Cooks have a wide choice of the kind of ham they can buy. We suggest you ask the butcher or read any printed directions carefully to see how long and at what temperature you should cook the type you buy.

Allow about half a pound per person with plenty left over for seconds and snacks the next day. And remember that even fully cooked hams need some time in the oven for the best taste. A ten pound fully cooked short shank ham takes about 2½ hours.

* * *

Here is a simple glaze using items you probably have on your kitchen shelf.

Easy Glaze For Ham

Combine ½ cup dark corn syrup, ¼ cup water and 1 teaspoon vinegar. Remove skin from hot cooked ham. Score fat and place whole clove in the center of each scored section. Pour corn syrup mixture carefully over ham. Bake either in a 325-degree oven 1 hour, or in a 400-degree oven 10 to 20 minutes.

* * *

Daffodil Honey Glaze puts one in mind of a perky Easter bonnet. It includes pineapple, a fruit often associated with ham.

Daffodil Honey Glaze for Ham

8 to 10 pounds fully cooked semi-boneless ham
1 pound 4 ounce can sliced pineapple
1 tablespoon cornstarch
¼ teaspoon ground cloves
3 tablespoons honey

Drain pineapple. Mix cornstarch and cloves in a saucepan. Gradually add pineapple juice to cornstarch and cloves. Cook and stir over medium heat until clear and thick, about 7 minutes. Add honey.

Spread glaze over hot or cold fully cooked ham. Color a few of the pineapple slices with green food coloring.

Cut in shapes to form leaves. Cut some of the yellow slices to form petals of a daffodil. Arrange on top of glazed ham. Use remaining pineapple slices as a garnish around the ham.

Canned cranberry sauce makes a gay looking glaze. What you don't need for the glaze can be heated and served as a sauce

Whole Cranberry Glaze

1 can (1 lb.) whole cranberry sauce
½ cup brown sugar

Combine whole cranberry sauce and brown sugar. Spoon over ham the last 30 minutes of baking. Glaze will stay on top.

* * *

Another red glaze can be made with Cherry-Plum Danish Dessert. This recipe also calls for pineapple.

Cherry-Plum Ham Glaze

Prepare a package of Cherry-Plum Danish Dessert according to package directions, reducing water to 1½ cups.

* * *

About 45 minutes before baking period is over, score top of ham. Cover top of ham with Danish Dessert Mixture. Decorate with pineapple slices. Place a red maraschino cherry in center of each. Baste from time to time during remainder of baking period.

* * *

For a very special sauce to serve with your Easter ham, make up this one flavored with domestic Champagne.

* * *

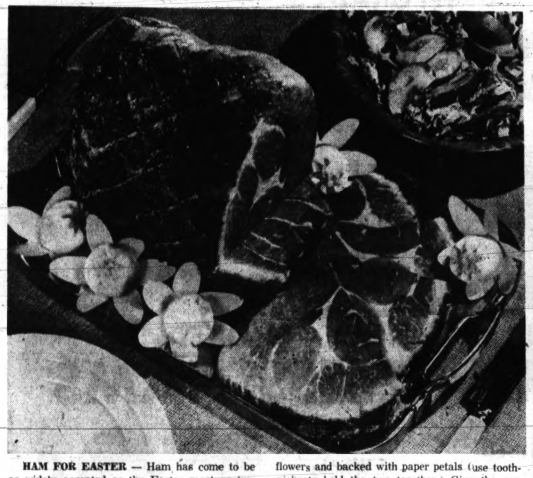

Champagne Sauce

1 (6-oz.) can frozen pineapple, orange or pineapple-grapefruit juice concentrate
1 (6-oz.) can water
2 tablespoons cornstarch
1 (small, 13 or 13 oz.) bottle California Champagne
½ cup thinly sliced preserved kumquats

* * *

Blend fruit juice concentrate, water and cornstarch together until smooth. Heat, stirring until thickened. Stir in Champagne; add kumquats and heat gently a few minutes longer. Serve over baked ham or roast chicken. Makes about 2 cups.

*Canned mandarin orange sections, pineapple chunks or Thompson seedless grapes may be used in place of kumquats, if desired.

HAM FOR EASTER — Ham has come to be as widely accepted as the Easter meat as turkey is for Thanksgiving. Glaze it with your favorite sweet mixture. Here the garnish is a simple one of hard cooked eggs cut to resemble flowers and backed with paper petals (use toothpicks to hold the two together.) Give the carver plenty of room. Letting the ham stand 15 to 30 minutes beforehand will make his job easier.

Ever Try Fresh Kale in Ham Cheese Casserole?

Tender young leaves of kale, collards and mustard greens are all delicious, stacked with iron and rich in vitamin A, the B-complex vitamin and ascorbic acid. Available all winter and budget-priced. Succulent eating either raw in salads or cooked.

Wash them well. (The packaged greens come washed and clipped.) Remove the tough stems, if any. To cook, simmer gently until just barely tender in a tightly covered pan. No need to add water. The drops that cling to the leaves after washing should be sufficient. Drain and chop if desired. Add a dab of butter or margarine, salt and ground black pepper.

Scalloped Fresh Kale and Ham Casserole

1½ pounds cooked kale
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon ground black pepper
1 cup minced ham or luncheon meat
1 beef bouillon cube
½ cup grated sharp cheddar cheese
¼ cup soft bread crumbs
1 tablespoon butter or margarine, melted

Drain kale and chop fine, saving cooking liquid for later use. Add salt and ground black pepper mixing well. Arrange alternate layers of kale and ham in a 1½-quart casserole. Measure the kale liquid, fill to 1 cup (using hot water if necessary) and add bouillon cube. Stir until dissolved and add to casserole.

Combine cheese, bread crumbs and butter or margarine and sprinkle over the top. Bake in a preheated moderate oven (360 degrees F.) until crumbs are brown, about 20 minutes. Serve at once. Serves 4-5.

Q. What is the name of this cut of meat?

A. Center Cut Pork Loin Roast.

* * *

Q. Where does it come from and how is it identified?

A. It is a roast from the loin section. It contains the tenderloin and back muscles as well as rib bones.

* * *

Q. How is it prepared?

A. By roasting. Have the market man loosen the chine bone from the ribs. After roasting, remove the backbone to make carving easier. The meat is placed fat side up on a rack in an open roasting pan. A meat thermometer is inserted so the bulb reaches the center of the thickest part. The roast is not covered and no water is added. It is roasted in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.), until the meat thermometer registers 185 degrees F. Allow about 35 to 40 minutes per pound.

Recognize a Food Quack by His False Claims

You don't need to be an agent of the United States Food and Drug Administration to spot a food quack. He'll give himself away by telling you that, (1) he's a "medical expert" but not a doctor, (2) he has a secret formula, (3) he can cure practically any disease with his "miracle" products, (4) he distrusts modern science, industry, and the medical profession, and (5) he berates modern surgery, x-rays, and drugs as "against natural law."

* * *

What do you do with the food quack? You don't let him in the front door. If you listen to him—he's an expert talker — and buy his so-called health food and magic products — you'll join the ten million Americans who threw away $500,000,000 last year.

Endive Recipes May Win Cash Prize

The Belgian Endive Association is pleased to announce that it will again sponsor a recipe contest as a result of last year's excellent response.

* * *

Cash prizes will be awarded for unusual recipes using Belgian Endive as a salad, cooked vegetable, appetizer, soup, entree or other adaptable method of preparation. Prize-winning recipes will be judged by a panel of food experts with a first prize of $100.00, a second prize of $50.00 and third prize of $25.00.

* * *

Recipes should be sent to Margaret Herbst, Belgian Endive Association, Room 607, 101 Park Avenue, New York 17, New York. All recipes submitted shall remain the property of the Association. The deadline for the Belgian Endive Contest will be June 1, 1961.

The Mexican yam is important to pharmaceutical firms. It is a source of diosgenin which yields cortisone as well as other hormones and steriods used in treating rheumatic diseases and some forms of cancer.

Ad Fight for Oscar Had Comic Touch

By VERNON SCOTT

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — The annual "war of the ads" ends this week with all Academy Awards ballots returned and locked up in a safe.

This year was the most expensive, brutally fought battle yet as stars, producers, directors and studios sought to impress academy members with the merits of their celluloid efforts.

Two local trade publications —Daily Variety and the Hollywood Reporter — were the battle grounds. They charge $250 a page and up for advertising. Hundreds of ads appeared in their pages in the past month.

Strongest campaigns were waged by "The Alamo," "Elmer Gantry," "Spartacus" and "The Apartment."

★ ★ ★

Each category, actors, musicians, directors and producers fight it out with peerless praise for themselves. A few, such as Spencer Tracy, rise above the whole bloody battleground.

COMEDY RELIEF

Competition for Oscars is deadly, but not without plenty of comedy relief, mostly involving Chill Wills who is up for best supporting actor.

Typical of his ads was a picture of Chill in his "Alamo" costume superimposed on a roster of academy members' names. In large print he says, "Win, lose or draw you're still my cousins and I love you all. The brain behind Chill's campaign is a man named Bow Wow Wojciechowicz. But he went too far last week.

In another full page ad he ran, "We of the Alamo cast are praying harder—than the real Texans prayed for their lives in the Alamo—for Chill Wills to win the Oscar as the best supporting actor—cousin Chill's acting was great." It was signed "Your Alamo cousins."

Next to this blatant bleat was an ad by Groucho Marx (an academy member) which read, "Dear Mr. Chill Wills, I am delighted to be your cousin, but I voted for Sal Mineo."

15-Month Extension Granted Sugar Act

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress has approved a 15-month extension of the Sugar Act after another sharp Senate-House skirmish ending in an administration victory on the legislation.

★ ★ ★

A last minute decision by President Kennedy nipped a row among three executive departments over the measure and saved his Latin-American "alliance for progress" program from a Senate setback.

CLEAR BILL

The controversial bill finally was cleared to the White House Wednesday night in time for many of the members of Congress to hurry out of town for an Easter vacation. Kennedy will have to sign the measure by Thursday, the expiration date of the Sugar Act.

★ ★ ★

The Sugar Act sets up the mechanism by which the U. S. sugar market is divided among domestic and foreign producers.

Rambler to Boost Output 46 Per Cent

DETROIT (UPI)—Rambler production in the second quarter will be boosted 46 per cent above the January-March period, American Motors Corp. announced Wednesday.

★ ★ ★

The increase is scheduled to begin in mid-April and will require about 4,000 additional employes at the firm's plants in Kenosha and Milwaukee, Wis.

American Motors President Geo. Romney said the increase is based on a sharp upturn in Rambler sales during the past few weeks, and bigger dealer orders.

3 Michigan Students Fined in Beach Riots

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP)—Three Michigan college students were fined $35 Wednesday in connection with beach riots here.

They were: Larry G. Mayfiles, 19, of Wayne, a student at Ferris Institute; Joseph A. Johnson, 24, Massilon, Ohio, a student at the University of Michigan, and Richard J. Carter, East Lansing, a student at Michigan State University.

Diamonds Worth $1 Million Taken in NY Robbery

NEW YORK (UPI)—Police and the FBI today sought the rush-hour thieves who stole more than $1 million in diamonds from a midtown gem dealer in what was described as probably New York's biggest jewel robbery.

It was the second diamond district holdup in two days. Police said the general build of the gunman in each robbery was similar, but Wednesday's jewel thief wore a grotesque full-face Halloween mask, and they could not say whether it was the same man.

The well-dressed gunman tricked diamond dealer David Amsel, 37, into letting him into the locked, 10th floor office Wednesday about 4:40 p.m.

He forced Amsel to open the safe, grabbed four white envelopes containing cut and uncut diamonds, and ran.

U.N. in Congo Cries No to Sale of Supplies

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (UPI) — Congolese authorities called off an announced sale of U.N. food supplies to the public today when the United Nations Command registered a vigorous protest.

★ ★ ★

The Otraco Transport Co., Congolese port and river authority, had announced that 10 tons of bacon threatened by spoilage would be removed from the warehouses in Matadi and sold to the public.

★ ★

The United Nations declared the Congolese had no right to sell the supplies shipped here for the U.N. Congo force.

U.N. stores have piled up in the warehouses since Congolese troops drove U.N. Sudanese forces out and seized control of the vital port city several weeks ago.

"HAPPY ENDING" — Former President Eisenhower listens to a group of 65 Japanese students as they apologize for the riots in Tokyo last June that forced Ike to cancel a visit there. Speaking outside the ex-president's Palm Springs, Calif., vacation home is Koichi Morita, chairman of the 120,000-member Japan International Student Conference and a leader in the June demonstrations. In uniform in the center is Yoshikazu Katakura, a member of the group which spearheaded the riots. Ike said he considered the development a "happy ending" to the riots and mentioned he may visit their country in the fall.

Execute 2 Estonians for Work With Nazis

MOSCOW (AP)— The Supreme Court of Estonia today announced the execution of two wartime Estonian police officers who helped run Nazi extermination camps that wiped out an estimated 125,000 persons.

The pair—Ralf Gerrets, 55, and Jan Vijk, 44 — were condemned March 11 to be shot after a six-day show trial apparently aimed at discrediting anti-Soviet Estonian refugee groups.

Easter Seal Donations Lag

Outlook Dim for Handicapped

Do you know a physically handicapped child or adult? Well, if you do, you should also know that things don't look too bright for them right now.

These handicapped people depend a lot on Easter Seals — and Easter Seals just aren't selling.

This is the word from the Oakland County Society for Crippled Children and Adults. The society is currently in the stretch drive of its annual Easter Seal appeal —and right now it's nearly $40,000 behind.

"Donations picked up somewhat last week and we usually get our biggest surge during the week before Easter," explained Mrs. Elizabeth Kirkby, executive secretary.

GOAL OUT OF REACH?

"But it seems that the 1961 goal is out of reach of even the expected increase in returns this week."

Some 177,000 envelopes containing Easter Seals, mailed to county residents early this month, have brought donations totaling about $22,000 so far.

The society's goal this year is $60,000.

According to Mrs. Kirkby, 9,980 envelopes have been returned, 8,982 containing donations.

Of these, about 1,420 were donations of $5 or more. As of this time last week, about $9,000 had been donated.

★ ★ ★

Society officials are urging area residents who have not returned their envelopes with contributions, no matter how small, to do so this week.

Each year crippling strikes, in some form, one family in every five. Approximately 80 per cent of the services offered crippled children comes from Easter Seal donations.

Trained personnel work throughout the year at the Crippled Children's Society, 1105 N. Telegraph Road, Waterford Township, to give these handicapped kids a chance in life.

★ ★ ★

They offer the care, treatment and therapy needed by youngsters and adults, to overcome their handicaps.

★ ★ ★

The Easter Seal appeal concludes activity this Sunday, although accounts are left open for a month or so after Easter to accept late donations.

Pontiac Division Tops Olds in Week's Output

Pontiac Motor Division production last week totaled 7,868 passenger cars — 5,406 Pontiacs and 2,462 Tempests, according to statistics released today by the Automobile Manufacturers Association (AMA).

Production activities were suspended the week ending March 18.

In the medium-priced field, Pontiac production topped its General Motors competitor, Oldsmobile Division.

The rival division turned out 7,209 cars — 5,752 Oldsmobiles and 1,457 F85s.

For the year through last week Pontiac has produced 79,822 cars — 52,635 Pontiacs and 27,187 Tempests. Through the same period last year, the division's output stood at 118,804 units, all Pontiacs.

GMC Truck & Coach Division's truck output last week totaled 1,439 units, 90 more than the week ending March 18. Cumulative output in 1961 through last week stood at 15,800 units, down from 30,084 trucks for the same period last year.

Total motor vehicle production last week, according to the AMA, reached 109,470 units — including 87,938 passenger cars and 21,532 trucks and motor coaches. In the previous week, total motor vehicle production stood at 92,681 units — 71,365 cars and 21,316 trucks and buses.

The Ottawa District covers 8½ townships. These are White Lake, West Bloomfield, Farmington, Novi and Lyon townships plus half of Waterford Township.

La Valle will succeed Willard H. Wells, who has been promoted to assistant scout executive of the council, Edward H. Leland, scout executive for the council announced.

La Valle graduated from Colorado A & M with a degree in animal husbandry. While working for the Colorado State Board in vocational education in agriculture, he became a volunteer scoutmaster in Idalia, Colo.

He attended Schiff, the national training center for professional scouters in Mendham, N. J., then moved to Rockford in a job similar to the one he is taking over here.

Says Cuba Is Topic of U.S. White Paper

DETROIT (UP) — The Detroit Free Press said in a copyright article today that the administration has prepared a white paper on the Cuban revolution.

The Free Press said the white paper details the "Communist takeover of Cuba" and that it is expected to be issued shortly by President Kennedy.

The Free Press said in part:

"The paper is expected to outline how the ideals of the Cuban revolution have been betrayed by dictator Fidel Castro.

"The apparent motive for the document, strengthened by its issuance from the White House, would be to mobilize world opinion against Castro and particularly to resolve any doubts in the minds of Latin American governments as to what is happening in Cuba."

Billboard Bill Has Fine Chance in State Senate

LANSING (UPI) — A reworked bill to regulate placing of billboards along interstate highways in Michigan had a good chance of passage in the State Senate today following a public hearing.

The Outdoor Advertising Association of Michigan, which handles billboard advertising, agreed to the measure after the Highway Department recommended changes to bring the proposal in line with federal highway standards.

Garden and outdoor clubs also supported the bill at the hearing.

"Adoption of this bill will in no way endanger the future of Michigan's outdoor advertising industry," said State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie in remarks presented by Deputy Commissioner Fred E. Tripp.

18 Townships Hold Annual Meetings Saturday

County's Other 7 to Miss Gatherings for 1st Time

By DON FERMOYLE

Annual township meetings — the subject of controversy both at the polls and in the courts during the past year—will be held in 18 of Oakland County's 25 townships Saturday.

The open meetings were abolished by popular vote in the county's seven other townships Aug. 2.

This year marks the first time that the traditional public sessions will not be held in Orion, West Bloomfield, Bloomfield, Farmington, Holly, Novi and Southfield townships.

Although voters in these communities approved abolishment of the annual meetings in the Aug. 2 election, the constitutionality of holding them was upheld in Circuit Court by Judge Frederick C. Ziem Jan. 6.

Judge Ziem's decision was in answer to a suit brought by Robert W. Hodge, an attorney with offices in Pontiac who lives in Pontiac Township.

Hodge charged that enactment of legislation is by voice vote of residents attending the meeting and that the authority of elected township officials was suspended during the session.

Hodge's legal arguments hinged on whether the townships' annual meetings were elections as defined in the Michigan Constitution, Judge Ziem stated they were not.

After receiving the Circuit Court decision, Hodge said he planned an appeal to the State Supreme Court.

JUDGE'S RULING

Herbert W. Gordon, the attorney for Pontiac Township who defended the case in Circuit Court, said in answer to Hodge's charges that to prohibit annual township meetings would deprive citizens "of one of their primary freedoms."

Despite the objections, many residents will show up at their township halls Saturday to decide issues brought forth by their neighbors at the annual meeting.

Any voter present in the township hall can propose legislation which can either be defeated or passed with a show of hands by their fellow citizens.

They will be following the same type of "grass-roots democracy" started hundreds of years ago by the early American settlers in New England.

The annual township meeting, which dates back to 1848 in Michigan, is an outgrowth of the New England town meeting.

Under state law, the annual meetings must be held the first Saturday in April. The sessions will be at 1 p.m. in most townships, including Avon, Commerce, Groveland, Highland, Independence, Pontiac, Royal Oak, Springfield, Waterford and White Lake.

The only evening meeting is scheduled for 6 p.m. at the Brandon Township Hall in Ortonville.

Oxford Township, where voters will decide on abolishing the annual meeting at the biennial spring election on Monday, will hold its session at 2 p.m.

Lyon Township voters also will congregate at 2 p.m. in their township hall in New Hudson. Another 2 o'clock meeting is scheduled at Rowland Hall in Leonard for Addison Township residents.

Other annual meetings are slated for 1:30 p.m. in Oakland Township, 2:15 p.m. in Milford Township and 2:30 p.m. in Rose Township.

U.S. High Court Has Drain Case

Madison Appeals Its Assessment in Hope of Forcing Compromise

MADISON HEIGHTS—City officials here have followed through on their threat to take the 12-Town Drain case to the U.S. Supreme Court if a compromise on the drain project is not reached.

A petition by Madison Heights to appeal its 12-Town Drain assessment has been filed with the U.S. Supreme Court to meet the deadline for continued litigation.

However, Madison Heights officials will drop their appeal if the 13 other Oakland County communities in the 12-Town project agree to the compromise proposed by Drain Commissioner Daniel W. Barry.

The compromise would take over 500 acres in Madison Heights out of the 12-Town area and also would reduce the city's assessment for the project from $2.5 million to $1.1 million.

This would accomplish the same purpose Madison Heights is attempting to achieve through litigation it first started in 1959 in Circuit Court.

The city lost its case in both the low court and the State Supreme Court. Another court case would further delay the 12-Town project.

However, the Madison Heights City Council has given the other communities involved in the huge drain plan until mid-May to agree on Barry's proposal.

Rather than delay construction any longer, five of the cities involved in the drain agreement have given tentative approval to the compromise.

Troy, Birmingham, Clawson, Oak Park and Ferndale have given conditional approval to the revised agreement. None of the 12-Town municipalities yet has refused the compromise.

Three Arrested Over Campaign

Madison Heights Men Charged on Circulating False Statement

MADISON HEIGHTS — Balloting for mayor here Monday warmed up today with the arrest of three men accused of distributing literature linking one candidate with a "hoodlumism" backing.

Municipal Judge Edward W. Lawrence yesterday signed a warrant charging Charles Lalton, 30830 Longfellow St., Elton Scott, 30350 Whittier St., Walter M. Savels, 30823 Whittier St., all of Madison Heights, with making, publishing and circulating a false election statement.

They were all released on $500 bonds and ordered to appear for trial April 26.

Bill S. Huffman, 36, of 615 W. Barrett St., said a piece of campaign literature was distributed in his neighborhood by a group which called itself the Committee of Royal Madison Neighborhood Association.

It urged the election of a five-member slate headed by Mayor Theodore Kronn, Huffman's opponent in Monday's nonpartisan city election.

It contained the statement: "Now without any attempt to cover up, the Huffman group is accepting their backing from a source which certainly contributes to hoodlumism."

"Savia admitted to me that he had written this as part of a group," said Assistant Prosecutor Robert Templin Jr., who issued the order for the warrant.

Tax Authority Vital, Supervisor Declares

By JIM LONG

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Rejection of a tax hike proposal by voters here Monday might result in drastic reductions in township services, Supervisor John C. Rehard said today.

"If the township board does not get the authorization to levy up to two mills for the next five years it is likely that vital services such as the fire and police departments and road improvements would be curtailed," he stated.

"The additional millage is necessary to meet our present contracts with the Oakland County Department of Public Works for payment of the Farmington Interceptor Sewer.

"It will maintain the present faith-and-credit record of the township on new financed projects and also provide a basis for payment of contracts for expansion of sewer facilities.

"Our obligations with the county take precedence over all others," the supervisor added. "Therefore, they must be met. If they are paid from the operating fund, the police, fire and road services would be hurt seriously."

The supervisor explained that the request for authority to collect two mills establishes a maximum only.

"It is the intent of the board to collect only as much of the additional levy as is required to keep the township solvent," said Rehard. "If other revenues rise sufficiently, no use of this tax will be necessary.

'NOT OUTRIGHT'

"The levy, whatever the board decides to collect, is not for the purpose of paying for the sewers outright," Rehard said.

"Instead, it will be used to keep up current payment requirements until the sewer assessment districts are self-supporting."

Depressed economic conditions and the accompanying lag in development, however, have resulted in the failure of these assessment districts to become self-supporting at present, Rehard said.

The township's financial obligation to the county is approximately $3.35 million, which is to be paid off in 28 years. The means by which the township meets this obligation is by collecting $250 from each property owner who taps into the sewer.

"Even if no increase is authorized by the board, the fact that it has been approved by voters will guarantee low interest rates on future bond issues."

Rehard said that he expects a minimum of one mill to be collected this year by the board, if the proposition is approved, since it was necessary to borrow $50,000 from the general fund to meet its first payment of $103,000 to the county.

The money collected then would be returned to the general fund.

Bartlett Seeks to Aid Oak Park Schools

LANSING (AP) — Legislation which would offer financial aid to the Oak Park School District was supported yesterday by Dr. Lynn M. Bartlett, state superintendent of public instruction.

Bartlett said the bills amending the State Aid Act would permit a payment of some $244,000 to the Oak Park School District, which absorbed the adjacent Royal Oak Township School District last November.

The amount, Bartlett said, would partially compensate for the annexation of the George Washington Carver School District.

Another $430,000 would be provided to the Oak Park District during the next four years under a second bill endorsed by Bartlett, who said such action would alleviate some of the more pressing problems confronting the Oak Park School District.

Atty. Gen. Paul Adams said Monday that the Oak Park School District is responsible for all legal debts of the absorbed district.

Medical Deductions Help With Older Dependents

(Editor's Note: There has been a major change this year in the income tax rules concerning deductions for those who foot the medical bills for dependents 65 or over. Perhaps this, the fourth of five articles, will help you save money in medical and other deductions claimed on your form.)

By FRANK CORMIER
AP Staff Writer

The biggest change in the income tax setup this year involves those who are 65 or older and claim medical deductions, and those who pay the medical bills of dependent parents in that age group.

For everyone in these categories the Internal Revenue Service has issued for the first time a supplemental tax form — No. 2948 — which is to be filed along with regular tax returns.

This decision was prompted by a 1960 law which gives a special tax break to those who pay the medical bills of dependent parents in the 65-or-older group. Form 2948 and the new law are explained below.

Deductions, of course, benefit all taxpayers. You are allowed to subtract from your income part of your medical bills, the interest you pay on your debts, your state and local taxes and many other items

10 PER CENT OF INCOME

Even if you had no such expenses, you still may claim a deduction. Every taxpayer is entitled to deduct 10 per cent of his adjusted gross income, within certain dollar limits, unless he prefers to itemize deductible expenses.

Your adjusted gross income is your total income less certain business expenses and sick pay which may qualify for exclusion from earnings.

If your standard 10 per cent deduction exceeds the amount you could claim by itemizing deductions, claim the standard amount. Otherwise itemize.

Remember, however, that the standard deduction can't exceed $1,000 if you file a joint return or are single. If husband and wife file separate returns, the limit for each is $500.

* * *

Deductible expenses include:

CONTRIBUTIONS. Gifts to religious, charitable, educational, scientific for literary groups but not including political organizations or labor unions. Contributions generally may not exceed 20 per cent of your adjusted gross income; 30 per cent if one-third went to churches and tax-exempt schools and hospitals.

INTEREST. Amounts paid on a home mortgage, bank loan or personal debt. On installment purchases involving carrying charges, figure out the average unpaid monthly balance during the tax year and deduct 6 per cent of that amount as interest, provided the charges were at least that much.

MEDICAL AND DENTAL EXPENSES. First, put down the cost of drugs and medicines exceeding 1 per cent of your adjusted gross income, then add the total amount paid to physicians, dentists and hospitals and the amount of any health insurance premiums you paid.

If this total exceeds 3 per cent of your adjusted gross income, you next list the excess as your deduction.

The 3 per cent rule does not apply to persons 65 or older, and if either husband or wife is in that age group the rule is waived for both.

Also, under the new law any taxpayer may ignore the 3 per cent rule with regard to those expenses incurred on behalf of a dependent parent 65 or older; the rule would not apply to his own expenses, however, unless he was himself in the older age group.

USE FORM 2948

All those who are able to ignore the 3 per cent rule for all or part of their medical expenses should use form 2948.

This is a single sheet, printed on both sides, and carries detailed instructions.

Note that the 1 per cent rule on drugs and medicines applies to all taxpayers, regardless of age. Also, there are dollar limits on deductible medical expenses, starting at $2,500.

TAXES. Most nonfederal taxes are deductible. In states which levy retail sales taxes, IRS will provide you with a table listing the amount you may deduct for these if you didn't keep an accurate record. Other deductible taxes include personal property and real estate taxes, state gasoline taxes and auto license fees.

Water and sewer taxes and dog license fees are not deductible.

CASUALTY LOSSES AND THEFTS. You may deduct any loss not covered by insurance if your property was damaged in an auto accident or by fire, storm, hurricane, flood or other natural force.

MISCELLANEOUS. This category includes union dues, fees to employment agencies, the cost of small tools and special uniforms required in your work and, in some cases and within strict limits, costs incurred by workers who must hire someone to take care of a young child in order to maintain their employment. Detailed rules on child care deductions are given in the IRS instruction booklets distributed with tax forms.

Next: Your income and job expenses.

Finds Traffic Violations in Most Road Fatalities

ALBANY, N.Y. (UPI) — Traffic violations were involved in all but 21 of the 2,088 traffic deaths in New York State last year.

* * *

That's the finding of a study released Tuesday by commissioner of motor vehicles, William S. Fults.

* * *

Fults said it confirms his belief that vehicle and traffic law violations, even so-called minor offenses, hold the key to the accident problem.

Red Wings Are Making No Predictions

Toronto Next Battleground for Detroiters

'We Play Pretty Well There' Is About All Abel Will Say

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Red Wings are making no predictions about their Stanley Cup semi-final series against the Toronto Maple Leafs despite a commanding lead.

Coach Sid Abel has yanked out the tired old "we play 'em one at a time" statement after each of the three Detroit victories since the Leafs captured the opener.

Abel's only other comment is that "we play pretty well on Toronto ice and I don't expect we'll fall on our face there this time."

"This time" is Saturday night when the two clubs meet in the fifth game of the best-of-seven series. The Wings can wrap it up, and barge into the finals for the first time in five years, by winning this one. A sixth game, if necessary, would be played in Detroit's Olympia Stadium. If a seventh game is required, it would be played in Toronto's Maple Leaf Gardens next Wednesday.

By defeating the Maple Leafs three times in the playoffs, the Wings have won more games against Toronto in four days than they were able to do in nearly six months of regular season play.

★ ★ ★

The two clubs met 14 times during the season. Toronto won seven and Detroit two. Five games ended in ties.

Abel pointed out that his club played better on Toronto ice than at home.

★ ★ ★

Abel said his club will be at near full-strength for what could be the showdown tussle. Vic Stasiuk, who set up Gordie Howe's winning goal in Detroit's 4-1 triumph Tuesday night, still is nursing a pulled tendon in his left leg but has been able to play with some special taping on his leg.

★ ★ ★

Defenseman Warren Godfrey was struck beneath the right eye by a flying puck in the third period of Tuesday night's game and suffered a five-stitch gash.

X-rays showed no broken bones and doctors said the eye would be closed for about 36 hours. Godfrey took his regular turn after some quick repair work, however, and Abel said he would be in good shape for Saturday night's game.

★ ★ ★

The Red Wings took the day off Wednesday, but scheduled a workout for Thursday morning.

'Yank Killers' on Bench in Tigers' 5-3 Setback

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — Perhaps Bob Scheffing is trying to lull the New York Yankees into a false sense of security.

Scheffing's Detroit Tigers met the American League champions for the first time this spring yesterday. The new Tiger pilot didn't let old-time Yankee killer Frank Lary anywhere near the mound. Nor was Yankee-killer No. 2, Don Mossi, permitted to pitch.

Instead, Scheffing started Paul Foytack in the Grapefruit League game at St. Petersburg and backed the sore-armed right hander with the Tigers' junior varsity.

The Yankees were the same old Yankees from the days of Casey Stengel — Mickey Mantle, Roger Maris, Yogi Berra, Bill Skowron, Tony Kubek, etc. And it was the usual result of a game which Lary or Mossi didn't pitch—Yankees 5, Tigers 3. The Yanks tamed the Tigers 14 times in 22 games last season.

The champs have been ailing in Florida's warmth, but one crack at the Tigers was enough to let them recover. It was the first time in nine games that the Yanks could win on their spring home grounds.

Scheffing kept Al Kaline, Rocky Colavito, and Norm Cash on the bench with Lary and Mossi. Cash pinch hit in the eighth and Kaline walked while batting for George Thomas in the ninth when the Tigers scored their three runs.

The only 1961 regulars Scheffing started were Steve Boros at third base and catcher Dick Brown.

The Tigers made only six hits and Bubba Morton had half of them.

★ ★ ★

Roland Sheldon, a rookie right hander from the University of Connecticut, and veteran Jim Coates stifled the Tigers on three singles until the ninth.

Then three more hits, a walk to Kaline and throwing errors by Mantle and Bobby Richardson led to Detroit's three runs.

Foytack pitched six innings and yielded all the Yanks' runs and 10 of their 11 hits. Skowron and Richardson caught Foytack pitches for home runs. Hank Aguirre and Terry Fox finished for the Tigers and each pitched well for an inning apiece.

Scheffing gave utility man Ozzie Virgil a chance to show his wares at shortstop. It was part of an experiment for the job Scheffing declared open when Chico Fernandez displeased him. Virgil showed he doesn't have the range and arm for shortstop.

★ ★ ★

Chuck Cottier tries out at shortstop today when the Yankees visit Lakeland. If Cottier shows he can't hit with any consistency, Scheffing said he'll have to restore Fernandez to the lineup.

With opening day just 12 days away, the rest of Scheffing's lineup is set. Mossi, who has four spring victories, is ahead in the sweepstakes to pitch the inaugural against the Cleveland Indians at Detroit.

SAFE YANKEE — New York Yankee Hector Lopez is reaching for home plate as Detroit Tiger catcher Dick Brown tries for the tag. Lopez was called safe as he scored all the way from first base on a hit by Yogi Berra to deep center field. The Tigers lost to the Yanks in St. Petersburg yesterday, 5-3.

Leading Jockeys to Duel Saturday at Miami Track

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The 25,000 or more racegoers at Gulfstream Park for Saturday's $100,000 Florida Derby probably will be as much interested in the jockeys as the horses.

Four of America's leading riders will be in the mile and a furlong feature, three of them on colts given a good chance to take down top money.

★ ★ ★

Johnny Sellers, leading rider in Florida this winter and winner of six stakes to tie the record set by Bill Hartack, will be on Dorchester Farm Stable's Carry Back, a slight choice in the early line at 5 to 2. Sellers rode Carry Back to victory in the Garden State, Everglades and Flamingo.

★ ★ ★

Eddie Arcaro has the mount on Calumet Farm's highly-regarded Beau Prince. Arcaro scored with Beau Prince in two races this winter, an allowance affair at Hialeah last month and the Fountain of Youth at Gulfstream last week.

Kefauver Favors Federal Ring Control

Senator Introduces 'Knockout' Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Estes Kefauver, D-Tenn., says he fears that if heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson should lose to No. 1 contender Sonny Liston the title would "revert to mob control."

And Kefauver Wednesday introduced a bill to place bigtime professional boxing under strict federal control for five years.

Patterson, in Chicago, said he thought it would be "a real good thing" to have a national boxing commissioner in the justice department with federal power to drive racketeers out of the sport.

"A lot of people will be scared just reading about the idea," the heavyweight champion said.

However, Patterson said he planned to defend his title again not later than September, "and I still say Sonny Liston deserves a shot. I want to fight the most logical contender and he seems to be the one if things can be worked out."

Kefauver told the Senate there is "compelling evidence . . . that Liston was controlled by three powerful racketeers" as recently as last December.

He said hearings by his Anti-trust and Monopoly Subcommittee had produced evidence that Liston was controlled by "Frank (Blinky) Palermo, John Vitale and Frank Carbo—operating through a front manager, Joseph (Pep) Barone," and hasn't gotten rid of them so far.

Carbo, already serving a term for acting as an undercover manager and matchmaker in New York, now is on trial with Palermo in a West Coast boxing case, accused of trying to muscle in on the earnings of former welterweight champion Don Jordan.

Kefauver has indicated he will call for testimony from former, and possibly present, champions, state boxing commissioners and others close to boxing when hearings begin on the bill. The bill probably will be referred to Kefauver's subcommittee.

The measure would create a federal boxing commissioner with power to license boxers, managers, promoters and matchmakers. He would rank as assistant attorney general and receive $20,000-a-year.

★ ★ ★

The boxing commissioner, under Kefauver's bill, would have broad powers to use the FBI and other Justice Department resources to root out underworld influence in boxing.

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy has indicated he doesn't approve of placing the commissioner in his department, but Kefauver says he still hopes to win administration support for the bill.

Kefauver's bill would give the Federal Government authority over matches which figure in interstate commerce, including all that are televised nationally.

The measure would require full disclosure of all who have an interest in a fighter, share in his earnings or have anything to do with promoting fights. Failure to disclose this information could result in a penalty of up to five years in prison and a $5,000 fine.

WINNING CAGERS — Winners in the Waterford Township Recreation basketball leagues had their trophy get together and the honors went to Ron's Sonoco, represented by Ron Cook (left) in class "B" upper bracket; Frostop with Cleland Charboneau accepting trophy in class "B" lower bracket; Charles Sayre, director of the league; and Gus Eichorn and Jerry Veeder, co-captains of the Lakeland team which lost yesterday in the state tournament playoffs in class A.

Pro-Amateur Today Begins Azalea Open

WILMINGTON, N.C. (AP)—A field of 135 amateurs and 45 professionals, playing in teams of four, was on hand today for a $2,500 pro-amateur prelude to the Azalea Open golf tournament which begins Friday at the Cape Fear Country Club course.

The open, a 54-hole affair which ends Sunday, formerly was a 72-hole test. To compensate for the shorter distance and smaller purse, the pro-amateur was added.

Tom Nieporte of Bronxville, N.Y., defends his Open crown. He won last year with a 277 total, 11 under par.

Beat Lakers, 114-113

Hawks Overtime Winner

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The St. Louis Hawks have won their "must" game from the Los Angeles Lakers and now are favored to capture another. Western Division title in the National Basketball Association.

The Hawks surprised the Lakers Wednesday night, 114-113, in an overtime game before 14,843 roaring fans in Sports Arena. It was the largest basketball crowd ever in the Arena.

★ ★ ★

The Hawks won the big one without their big center, Clyde Lovellette, hospitalized in St. Louis with a bad back sprain. He will not be able to play in the seventh and deciding game with the Lakers in St. Louis Saturday afternoon. The game will be televised nationally.

★ ★ ★

The teams finished regulation time in a 100-all tie. The Lakers, who started cold and staged a great fourth-quarter rally to pull into a tie, went ahead in the overtime. They had a three-point bulge, dropped behind, and then Jerry West put Los Angeles in front, 111-110, with 27 seconds left.

Bob Pettit then banked one off the board and Al Ferrari added two free throws with only six seconds to go. The Lakers' Elgin Baylor topped all scorers with 39, Pettit led the Hawks with 31.

★ ★ ★

In the dressing room, Laker Coach Fred Schaus let go with a bitter, verbal blast of the officiating. His opinion of Referee Jim Duffy: "incompetent."

★ ★ ★

"Imagine Jim Duffy working all six games of this important playoff series, when the fans of St. Louis held a 'Jim Duffy Night' and showered him with $1,000 worth of gifts," shouted Schaus. "Why it's ridiculous to let him work six games and then take him off the final one Saturday in St. Louis. Why wait for the seventh game?

★ ★ ★

"Did you notice that when tonight's game ended the St. Louis players walked off the court with their arms around Duffy? Sounding off like this is going to cost me plenty of money, but it's worth it.

★ ★ ★

"Don't count us out of the playoff. We're going to win that one in St. Louis Saturday and then it's on to Boston."

Duffy was not immediately available for comment.

★ ★ ★

St. Louis Coach Paul Seymour said after the game: "Whoever wins this series deserves it, although I think we could give Boston the better run for the NBA title."

Hawks Hope for Extra Aid Against Montreal

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Black Hawks hope to be bolstered by the return of two hefty forwards when they try to break their deadlock with the champion Canadiens in their Stanley Cup semifinal playoff at Montreal Saturday night.

★ ★ ★

The two are ailing Ab McDonald and Eric Nesterenko, both big and tough.

The Canadiens, seeking their sixth successive championship in the National Hockey League's post-season Cup series, left for home Tuesday night after a crisp 5-2 spanking of the Hawks in Chicago Stadium.

★ ★ ★

That squared the semifinal set at 2-2 and placed considerable pressure on the Hawks in Saturday night's return to the spacious Forum rink where the two teams last week split the first two games.

McDonald, 6-2, 190-pound left winger who has missed the playoffs so far because of reaction to antibiotic shots for an infected wrist, will accompany the Hawks to Montreal Friday.

So will Nesterenko, 6-1, 204-pound forward, sidelined Tuesday night with an injured left hand.

McDonald will participate in a light Hawk workout Thursday.

"We don't know how weak McDonald is after the layoff," said Hawk coach Rudy Pilous. "We certainly need him and Nesterenko to get our lines balanced again. We don't have the depth to improvise as well as Montreal, which didn't even miss Bernie Geoffrion Tuesday night."

★ ★ ★

"With the excitement of knowing we have a chance to knock out the champions is wearing us down," said Pilous. "This is old stuff to Montreal, but maybe we are feeling the pressure."

From The PRESS BOX

J. W. Jackson of Flint fought with the Chicago Golden Gloves team against the New York team last night. He lost on a decision to Genaro Soto in the 126 pound class.

★ ★ ★

Tom Maron of Bloomfield Hills received a basketball numeral for playing with the Colgate University frosh squad which finished the season with a 7-6 record.

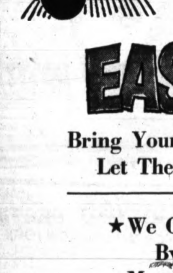

★ ★ ★

Joe Duby and Tom Goff won the sportsmanship awards in classes A and B of the Waterford Recreation League and Tony Whelan was the recipient of the "most improved player" award.

★ ★ ★

Cass Jawor, 26-year-old Detroit school teacher, joins his three brothers, Chet, Stan and Frank in the pro golf ranks. Cass will join the Rackham staff where Chet has his headquarters as head of the Detroit city golf program.

An added feature of this year's tournament will be three novice events for "basement" players, who do not normally participate in competitive table tennis. All novice players may enter the novice doubles event.

The age limits for the various classes are as follows:

Boys — under 16 years old as of Jan. 1, 1961; junior boys — under 18 as of Jan. 1, 1961; junior girls — under 18 as of Jan. 1, 1961; and senior men — over 40 as of Jan. 1, 1961.

National AAU Swim Meet Under Way

16 Events Will Cover 3 Days at New Haven

More Than 300 Tankers From 28 Countries Are Slated to Compete

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—The big splash starts today. It's the three-day, 16-event National AAU indoor swimming and diving championships.

Here to flex muscles and a possible shove toward the next Olympics are some 300-plus water whizzes from 20 states and seven foreign countries. Many of them are whiz kids, and future headliners.

* * *

A mixture of the present and the future here for the water circus starting this afternoon includes Australia's Murray Rose from Southern California, Indiana's Mike Troy, Al Somers, Frank McKinney and John Roethke, Rose's teammate Charley Bittick, Michigan's Dick Nelson, Stamford's George Harrison and Bill Mulliken of Ohio.

Defending titles they won last year are Somers, Bittick, Troy, Nelson, Mulliken and Harrison, who also was the high scorer of the meet with 17 points. Harrison and Rose are the big boys today as the latest assault on the record books starts in Yale's 50-meter practice tank, and the plush 25-yard pool.

They're the favorites in this afternoon's tests, Harrison to defend in the 400-yard individual medley, and Rose in the 1500-meter grind.

Judging by last week's performance, in which Rose was the sensation of the National Collegiate meet in Seattle, Wash., the blond from Australia is ready, able and willing.

Six events are scheduled Friday and the rest Saturday, with preliminaries after lunch and finals after dinner.

'M' Grid Drills Start April 11th

* * * * * * * * *

ANN ARBOR — Coach Bump Elliott and his football staff are busy preparing to greet 85 or more candidates for Michigan's spring practice session which opens on Ferry Field, Tuesday, April 11.

The sessions will continue five day a week through Saturday May 6, when a final intra-squad game will be held in the Michigan Stadium. The contest will be open to the pulic without charge. Friday's will be off days unless bad weather earlier in the week halts practice plans.

* * *

Major problems at this point appear to be replacement of line losses principally. Almost the entire interior section has been lost through graduation. Development of strong backfield reserve strength also will be one of the major objectives of the spring campaign, Elliott said.

Twenty of Michigan's 38 lettermen from 1960 will return in the fall, with most of them out for spring drills. A number, however, are out for other sports. Top end candidate Bill Freehan is with the baseball squad while another strong wing letterman, Scott Maentz is with the tennis team. Bennie McRae, starting left halfback, is on the track squad, and so is Bill Hornbeck, a backfield candidate.

* * *

Of the 18 lettermen who will not return, seven were listed among starters last season, all from the line. They included ends Bob Johnson and John Halstead; Tom Jobson and Bill Stine, tackles; guards Paul Poulos and Dick Syring, and Captain Jerry Smith at center.

Jon Schopf, one of the best tackles in the Big Ten last year, is the only regular interior lineman returning. In all other spots the Wolverines will be seeking definite replacements.

The Wolverines strong points appear to be at the ends and in the starting backfield. While Freehan and Maentz will miss spring drills, Captain-elect George Mans, a top defensive wingman, will be on hand both for the coming season and next fall.

Michigan will have its entire backfield of Dave Glinka at quarter; McRae and Davie Raimey at the halves and Ken Tureaud, fullback, returning, but development of reserve strength is a big problem.

Miami to Host Welter Title Bout Saturday

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Promoter Chris Dundee optimistically was predicting today a $30,000 gate for the 15-round welterweight title bout between champion Benny (Kid) Paret and Emile Griffith at Convention Hall Saturday night.

That would mean an attendance of about 5,000 at $15 tops, but arrangements are being made to seat 7,100 in the vast arena just in case.

Both fighters wound up their training Wednesday, with neither anticipating any trouble making the 147 pound limit.

Coach New York? No, Says Rocket

MONTREAL (AP) — Maurice (Rocket) Richard said Wednesday night he definitely is not interested in a coaching job with the New York Rangers of the National Hockey League.

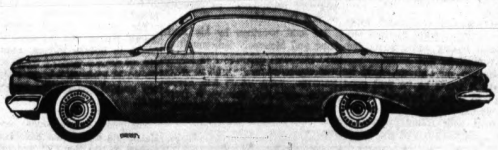

The Rocket said he has not been approached about such a job and doesn't think the Rangers' general manager, Muzz Patrick, was serious in mentioning him as a possibility for the job, open since Al Pike was fired.

* * *

"Of course I'm not interested in a job like that," the Rocket said. "Leave Montreal? Someone just started all these stories. My family and I would never leave Montreal."

Patrick said in New York he planned to talk to Richard to see if he was interested.

Jensen Looking Good in Return

By The Associated Press

September 28, 1960 may turn out to be a mighty important date in the 1960 baseball fortunes of the Boston Red Sox.

On that eventful day Ted Williams revealed he was calling it a career as an active player. And Jackie Jensen disclosed that he was returning to the Red Sox in 1961 after a year's retirement "for personal reasons."

Thus Boston lost Williams, the colorful veteran, but regained the slugging Jensen — making a "comeback" in the American League at the age of 34.

Jensen, whose favorite target is the close confines of Fenway Park's left field screen, has picked up this spring where he left off at the end of the 1959 campaign.

Jensen belted a three-run homer over the left field wall Wednesday in the bottom of the seventh and gave the Red Sox a 6-4 victory over the Cleveland Indians at Scottsdale, Ariz. Rain halted the game at the end of the seventh.

The distance-swinging outfielder accounted for four runs with a double besides his third homer of the spring. He increased his RBI output to 14.

In six years with the Red Sox, Jensen batted .285 and averaged 26 home runs and 111 runs batted in. In 1959 he slammed 28 homers and led the league in RBI with 112. The Red Sox finished fifth that season. While Jackie sat out the 1960 season, Boston slumped to seventh, the Sox' lowest finish since Tom Yawkey bought the club in 1933.

Bill Monbouquette, a 14-game winner in 1960, pitched the seven innings for the Red Sox, who posted their 10th victory in 16 exhibition starts. Walt Bond homered for the Indians.

★ ★ ★

Elsewhere, New York snapped an eight-game home base losing streak in downing Detroit 5-3, Milwaukee turned back Minnesota 6-2, Kansas City nipped St. Louis 3-2, Philadelphia whipped Pittsburgh 7-2, the Chicago White Sox licked the Los Angeles Dodgers 10-6 and San Francisco blanked the Chicago Cubs 8-0 in a game called after seven innings because of rain. Cincinnati split its squad for a day-night game. The Reds' B team bowed to Washington 5-4 in the afternoon and the "A" team lost at night to Baltimore in Miami, 9-8.

Hank Aaron, Joe Adcock and Frank Bolling homered for the winning Braves while Harmon Killebrew connected in a losing cause for the Twins.

Ray Herbert of the A's shut out the Cards with three hits in seven innings, the Red Birds scoring twice in the ninth off Ed Keegan. The Phils' Robin Roberts worked seven shutout frames in extending his scoreless string to 17 innings at the expense of the Pirates. The 34-year-old veteran spaced four hits in taming the world champions.

Jim Landis and Floyd Robinson collected three hits apiece as the White Sox combed four Dodger pitchers for 15 hits. Chicago's Minnie Minoso was struck on the left elbow by a pitch from Roger Craig but the injury was not serious. Jack Sanford blanked the Cubs on four hits while Willie Mays, Orlando Cepeda and Matty Alou homered for the Giants. Alou's was a grand-slammer off Glen Hobbie.

Chuck Hinton's three hits—including a homer, sparked the Senators' triumph over the Reds' B team. Charley Boak also homered for Washington and Mel Queen and Jim Pendleton had homers for the Reds.

★ ★ ★

Baltimore beat Cincinnati's "A" team on Walt Dropo's RBI single with two out in the ninth after the Orioles had blown an 8-3 lead. Dropo had three hits and drove in three runs to lead Baltimore's 14-hit attack. Jim Baumer and Jerry Lynch homered for Cincinnati.

Titans Select Dave Captain

DETROIT (UPI)—Dave DeBusschere, who has sparked the University of Detroit's basketball team to success the past two seasons, has been elected captain of the 1961-62 squad.

DeBusschere, a former high school star at Detroit Austin, led the Titans in both scoring and rebounding during his sophomore and junior years.

He averaged 25.6 points per game as a sophomore and was the nation's second leading rebounder. He scored an average of 22.1 a game last season.

The Titans also picked their all-opponent teams for the 1960-61 season.

All-Americans Jerry Lucas of Ohio State and Terry Dischinger of Purdue were unanimous first team selections. Jack Foley, the Holy Cross ace, Frank Burgess of Gonzago and Don Kojis of Marquette rounded out the first team.

Two Rasslers Against One

A handicap match pitting "Leaping Larry" Chene against "The Brute" Bernard and "Bulldog" Brower is featured in the weekly rassling matches at the Pontiac Armory Friday night.

Chene promises to beat both opponents or forfeit his purse. "Cry Baby" MacArthur meets "Mr. Michigan" Garza in another bout.

Spartans Post 6th Win on Baseball Road Trip

FT. LEE, Va. (UPI) — Michigan State pounded Ft. Lee, 7-2, for the Spartans sixth, spring road win against three losses yesterday.

Heavy hitting Tom Riley slammed his second homer in two days and collected two other hits to lead the Spartan attack.

The biggest local invasion of the ABC tournament this year comes up Saturday on Easter Eve with the Pontiac Motor Booster squad taking over the 40 alleys at Cobo Hall.

Rudy Shaltz and Sam Johnson of the Plant 14 Die Room got the group together. It will consist of 36 Pontiac teams, three from Clarkston and one from Ortonville.

The keglers have been talking up their booster event appearance since February and have been getting anxious in recent weeks according to Shaltz.

It should be quite a sight at the ABC when the area squad marches out to prepare to bowl. Many of the men will be sporting Centennial beards, badges, ties and hats or at least one of the indications of the coming celebration.

Chicago Hamms Take Classic Lead

DETROIT (AP)—Ed Kowolics has knocked down 52,959 pins in three decades of American Bowling Congress tournaments. Three pins Wednesday night were among the toughest of all.

The 53-year-old Chicagoan, who first stepped on an ABC tournament lane in 1929, cleared a 2-4-5 spare to give Hamm Brewers the Classic team division lead with 5,910.

A year ago Kawolics was Hamms' anchor-man as the club rolled a 3,095 series at Toledo only to miss out on the regular team title by a single pin. A. and A. Asphalt of Birmingham, Mich., won with 3,096.

Wednesday night the Hamms passed the previous leading 5903 bowled by Continental Plastics of Roseville, Mich., on March 16.

The new six-game Classic leaders had a 2934 series Tuesday before their 2976.

Another Classic team, the Brunswicks of Atlanta, Ga. settled for fuorth place on a 5857. The Southerners slipped to 2865 Wednesday night after opening with 2992, the best start of any Classic club.

The Hamms Earl Johnson moved into the Classic singles lead earlier with 733 on games of 255-256-222. Andy Rogoznicka took fourth in Classic all-events and Johnson tied for fifth with 1,881. Kowolics and Chuck Wagner bowled 1,277 to tie for fifth in Classic doubles. Marv Lowry of the Brunswicks tied for fifth in Classic all-events with 1,881.

Top regular division performance of the day was a 1,288 doubles by Paul Haugan and Wayne Larson of Minneapolis for second place.

Hi-Way Collision of Birmingham was the best of two Pontiac area teams competing last night with 2662. Bob Reinke led the way with 592 and Bill Knop had 568. They bowled today in individual events.

Rambler Dallas of Rochester ranked 16th on its squad at 2474 paced by the Pioch brothers. Jim rolled 535 and Jack 506.

Champ Sees Gloves Victory

Floyd's Brother Wins

CHICAGO (AP)—The brothers Patterson — heavyweight champion Floyd and his kid brother and amateur hopeful, Ray — teamed up to steal the limelight of the Golden Gloves bouts Wednesday night.

New York's team defeated Chicago, 9-7, and 18-year-old Ray scored the final victory to make the decisive edge.

At 185 pounds, he spotted some 25 to Al Jenkins, a hulking foundry worker at Green Bay, Wis., and hammered out a three-round decision—bobbing and weaving and using the peek-a-boo style of his famed brother.

Ray's victory averted an 8-8 deadlock and gave New York its 10th triumph against 16 losses and 8 draws in the series. Chicago won in Madison Square Garden last year, 12-4.

Floyd, who said he drove from New York in 14 hours, was for the championship some day?"

hounded by autograph hunters when he appeared late in Chicago Stadium. He was given a round of applause by the 8,026 fans. He sat in the ringside press row, watching his brother without expression and with his hands folded before his face.

"I think Ray should turn pro in about a year," Floyd said. "I do not think it's good for him to be one to be a front man but I'll be the real manager. I don't know why anyone wouldn't approve of a brother managing his own brother.

"I think Ray will be every bit as good as me, and possibly be-come the No. 1 challenger." Floyd continued. "Wouldn't that be something if the two of us fought

Most Key Stocks Rack Up Gains

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market rally rolled on in heavy trading early this afternoon.

★ ★ ★

Gains by key issues ranged from fractions to a point or so. Prices were a little under their best at midday. Small losses were sprinkled through the list.

The tape ran late — as much as seven minutes at one time — except for the opening 10 minutes of the morning session.

★ ★ ★

Steels, motors, utilities, oils and tobaccos moved up. Rubbers and aircrafts were off slightly. Rails were mixed.

American Telephone hit another new all-time high of 121¼ and then fell back fractionally.

★ ★ ★

Some brokers felt the market was trying to mount an assault on its all-time high, as measured by the Dow Jones industrial average, but doubted it would have the time to cover the ground on this final day of a short week. The market is closed tomorrow for Good Friday.

United Whelan which has jumped 2¾ on an opening block of 30,000 shares improved its gain to 3¼.

Names Commission for Honest Campaign

LANSING (UPI) — Gov. John B. Swainson has announced appointment of a Fair Campaign Practices Commission to make sure there is "honesty and fair play" in the spring election campaign.

★ ★ ★

The commission has functioned in the past under former Gov. G. Mennen Williams, and Swainson said this was basically the same group.

The Rt. Rev. Marshall R. Reed, Detroit, resident bishop for the Michigan area of the Methodist Church, replaced Bishop Richard S. Emrich of the Episcopal Diocese of Michigan as chairman of the commission.

Emrich has been named by Secretary of State James M. Hare as a member of another commission to watch for irregularities in the election itself — not just the campaign.

★ ★ ★

The Rt. Rev. Archie Crowley, 1986 Northlawn St., Birmingham, a suffragan bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Michigan, is among 13 other members appointed to the commission.

Church was arrested this time on complaint of Richard Lawson, township building inspector.

Grain Futures Hint at Slow Recovery

CHICAGO (AP) — Grain futures prices showed some tendency in early dealings today toward further recovery from the lows reached in Wednesday's broad selloff.

During the first several minutes nearly all contracts were well on the plus side of previous closes with the demand credited mainly to short covering for the long weekend. The board of trade will be closed tomorrow in observance of Good Friday.

Brokers said there appeared to be a fairly general opinion that the market may have been somewhat oversold during the steep setbacks yesterday.

Civic Groups Sponsor Adult Classes

MSUO Offers Foreign Policy Course

American foreign policy will come under review in a new course for adults during the spring term at Michigan State University Oakland.

Fourteen civic groups, including the Oakland County Republican and Democratic parties, the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce, and the Oakland County AFL-CIO Council, have joined with MSUO's continuing education department to provide the new study program.

The Foreign Policy Association is co-sponsoring the course.

The course is designed to give local citizens a "long, hard look at some of the critical issues facing the United States in 1961," said Dr. William Rhode, assistant director of continuing education and developer of the program.

"Only an informed populace can direct the government in its effort to protect the ideals and institutions of the free world," Rhode said in explaining the addition of the new course.

Class sessions will be held Wednesday evenings, beginning April 12 and running through June 14. Tuition fee is $10.

"If the concept of popular government is to remain the basic pillar of American democracy," said Rhode, "it is absolutely necessary that our citizens give attention and study to a review of American foreign policy, alternatives and raise their voices in support of the most desirable policies," Rhode said.

"In meeting the responsibility of citizenship, citizens deserve all the assistance that can be offered.

"In this regard, organizations specifically concerned about American foreign policy, community groups anxious to promote the health and vitality of a free society, and universities and colleges can perform a valuable service by 'joining hands' to provide an opportunity for citizens to come together for review, study and discussions of the great issues of foreign policy facing the nation today," Rhode said.

Five subjects to be dealt with in the course are "Soviet Challenge and World Leadership"; "Deadlock Over Germany"; U.N. in Explosive Africa"; Japan—Future of an Asian Ally"; and "The Americas in Jeopardy."

Each of these subjects will be discussed for two sessions. The first will be devoted to a lecture by a university professor, the second to small-group discussions.

LIST OF LECTURERS

Three members of the regular MSUO faculty will lecture. They are Dr. Sheldon Appleton, assistant professor of political science; Dr. Melvin Cherno, assistant professor of history; and Dr. Edward Huebel, associate professor of political science.

Dr. Howard Scarrow, assistant professor of political science at Michigan State University (East Lansing), will also participate as a lecturer.

Lectures will be complemented by a classroom study kit of readings and films. A radio program on Pontiac station WPON will precede each discussion meeting.

★ ★ ★

Other sponsoring organizations are the Leagues of Women Voters in Birmingham, Oak Park, Pontiac, Rochester, Royal Oak, Southfield, West Bloomfield Township, Ferndale and Pleasant Ridge and the Pontiac Manufacturers Association.

"Whether we like it or not, America has become a major leader of the 'free world' camp which stands as the bulwark of communism," Rhode said.

"This thrusts upon our nation the critical responsibility of providing effective leadership in the foreign policy field. Our leaders must concentrate upon fashioning national policies that are attuned to the complex conditions of the 'cold war'—and that will rally the resources, energies and consensus of the non-Communist community.

★ ★ ★

"And our people must make a special effort to understand problems and issues involved so that an informed and articulate public opinion will provide the vital support so necessary to really effective foreign policy."

★ ★ ★

Rhode said MSUO officials hope the university course will be able to assist citizens in the area of Oakland and Macomb counties to meet their obligations as citizens.

"I urge all who can to join in a pioneering and significant contribution to the vital quest for peace by taking this course," he stated.

Further information is available from MSUO's Continuing Education Office.

Advice From Experts Says Product No Good

HOLLY SPRINGS, Miss. (AP) — On its outside billboard a movie theater recently advised its patrons:

"Movie no good tonight. Save your money and come Saturday."

Mrs. Lawrence Takes Stand Testifies 'I Became Two Selves'

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL JR.

Hours before she was to enter a mental institution, Mrs. Sarah Sue Lawrence testified she was "two selves" when she went to return a gun and $500 to the wife of her former boyfriend.

The woman, Mrs. Wyvona DeJores Crenshaw, was murdered.

Mrs. Lawrence, 35, a former beauty operator from Berkley, took the stand this morning as her attorney James Renfrew sought to prove to a jury of 12 women that she was insane at the time Mrs. Crenshaw, of 6230 Snowapple Drive, Independence Township, was fatally shot nearly two years ago.

Mrs. Lawrence faces life in prison if convicted of first-degree murder.

Near tears, Mrs. Lawrence told the jury and a courtroom of 60 spectators how she had decided to return the money and the .25-caliber pistol, which she said Mrs. Crenshaw's husband had given her for protection from her husband. It was April 18, 1959, the day she said her husband Wayne, 35, was having her admitted to Mercywood Hospital in Ann Arbor.

She said she had drawn the money out of the bank after Crenshaw, whom she had been dating, asked for it to pay taxes on his Berkley gas station. Mrs. Lawrence said she got the money in cash after Crenshaw threatened harm to her 11-year-old son if he couldn't have the money in cash instead of a check.

Yesterday Crenshaw, 28, of 28 W. Colgate Ave. denied giving Mrs. Lawrence the gun or blackmailing her as testified to by a sheriff's detective the day before.

★ ★ ★

The accused took the stand in her own defense, the first witness to be called by Renfrew, and told how Crenshaw had given her the gun in case her husband used force or sleeping pills in his attempt to have her admitted.

"He said Wayne would try and put sleeping pills in my coffee and take me away when I was asleep," she testified.

"He told me that if Wayne comes upstairs and tries to harm me and I use the gun on him all they will do is put me away like he was doing anyway."

They were being divorced.

On the day of the shooting, Mrs. Lawrence testified she "felt like someone else was standing on the outside of my body" and that "she" kept arguing that she (Mrs. Lawrence) should call her husband, as she had promised, instead of going ahead with the delivery herself.

Mrs. Crenshaw grabbed for the gun, Mrs. Lawrence said, when she reached in her purse to take out the envelope with the money in it.

"I grabbed for it too," she said, "and all I know is that we were both on the floor." She said nothing about the gun going off.

Judge Clark J. Adams then recessed the jury at noon. Renfrew said Mrs. Lawrence would continue on the stand when the trial resumed at 1:30.

Crenshaw, the assistant manager of a local department store, said there was "a long range plan" to do away with his 32-year-old wife, and that Mrs. Lawrence "meant to kill her."

★

"The only possible explanation I can see," Crenshaw testified Wednesday "was that she (Mrs. Lawrence) told me once that if she couldn't have me, nobody could."

'WANTED TO BREAK OFF'

The bespectaled witness said he had told Mrs. Lawrence, whom he admitted he saw on "innumerable" occasions, months before the murder that he wanted to break off the relationship.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Lawrence later was judged insane and admitted to Ionia State Hospital, where she was hospitalized for nearly 1½ years before her release last December.

"The only time I ever took any money from her was when we went out together and I didn't have the money to take her where she wanted to go," said Crenshaw.

He also testified that Mrs. Lawrence gave him money for rental and for his education at a Detroit university.

★ ★ ★

Sheriff's Detective Marion Bauman testified Tuesday that Mrs. Lawrence told him the day of the shooting that Crenshaw was blackmailing her and that if she didn't pay he could "make things pretty miserable for her."

Police believe the shooting occurred during one of the alleged payoffs.

Things Are Looking Up in Paris – Mostly Prices

By EARL WILSON

PARIS AND LONDON — There will be more American tourists in Europe than ever this year — as things look now—and I might as well warn you that I have investigated and found that the Europeans are still our very dear friends—and that's the way they're going to remain . . . very dear.

WILSON

Bring MORE MONEY than ever before.

We looked over the room bill and thought that was pretty high. It was so chilly a couple of days over on the Champs Elysees that you had to go indoors to sip your apertif and keep your coat on even then. But the hotel was charging us already the "summer rate" — 10 per cent higher than the winter rate. Summer starts in March in the hotels in gay Paree!

Van Johnson and wife Evie told me in London that Liz Taylor's sense of humor survived gloriously. Liz told them concerning her tracheotomy (windpipe puncture) — I'll have my necklaces redesigned and brought a little higher to cover up the scars — sort of diamond and pearl bandaids" . . .

JULIETTE

Darryl Zanuck's long-time adored one, Juliette Greco, has a new beau, a French baronet, who's in public relations . . . The psychiatric set got after Marilyn Monroe and persuaded her to tell John Huston she doesn't want to appear in "Freud" because Freud's daughter Anna, now in London, disapproves of her father's life being filmed . . . Does this shock you? There are Americans in Europe who, when you mention Mickey Mantle, say, "Who's Mickey Mantle?"

Armed Forces Commend 'Y' on Centennial

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, have commended the YMCA on its centennial of service to the nation's armed forces and requested the nation's military units to cooperate in commemorating the anniversary.

Ted Sloson, executive secretary of the Pontiac YMCA, said letters were sent to the "Y" and to each active post, camp, base and station command in the United States and overseas.

The armed services work of the "Y" began in 1861 when a group of local YMCA associations formed the United States Christian Commission. The Commission sent 4,859 volunteers to battlefields, hospitals and camps to provide spiritual and physical assistance to Union and Confederate soldiers.

On Armed Forces Day, May 13, the National Council of the YMCA will commemorate the centennial.

State GOP Leader Asks End to Car Tax

LANSING (AP) — The problem of unemployment in Michigan "transcends politics," state Republican Chairman George M. Van Peursem has written President Kennedy.

★ ★ ★

Van Peursem asked the President to aid in the drive to repeal the federal excise tax on cars to help the Michigan economy.

A resolution against the tax was adopted without dissent by both the Michigan House and Senate, Van Peursem noted.

"Both political parties in Michigan recognize that stimulating production to get our people back to work is our most pressing need," the State GOP leader wrote.

★ ★ ★

"Repeal of this punitive tax would reduce the price of automobiles to stimulate sales. That would get production lines rolling again and the effect would be felt throughout the national economy."

Urges Adoption of Wage Law

Mazey Asks Michigan Legislature for Action Similar to 33 States

LANSING (AP) — A United Auto Workers official has urged the legislature to adopt a minimum wage and hours law similar to the laws in 33 other states.

Emil Mazey, secretary-treasurer of the UAW, appeared Wednesday before a special hearing of the House Labor Committee, which is considering a bill that would set a $1.25-an-hour minimum on Michigan wages.

Mazey said the bill would not help auto workers as they have a minimum wage of about $2.50 an hour.

★ ★ ★

"We support the law primarily because we are concerned with the great disparity in wages and living standards between organized and unorganized workers," Mazey testified.

Otis Cook, a lobbyist for the Michigan Retailers Association, took the opposite stand.

Cook said a minimum wage law would be "unworkable, unrealistic and unnecessary in the retail industry."

★ ★ ★

He said that twice as many married women as single women work in retail stores and the women usually are working to supplement their husbands' income or to enable themselves to buy luxuries.

Network Finally Levels With Viewers on Old West

By FRED DANZIG

NEW YORK (UPI) — Yup. TV owed us a show like "The Real West" for a long time.

After years of feeding so-called adult westerns into the coaxial cable and treating us to "authentic" stories that pit bright-eyed, square-jawed, clean-shaven heroes in silken vests, ruffled shirts and tailored jackets against evil, unshaven, sweaty, gimlet-eyed villains, NBC-TV finally leveled with us.

The West shown us by the "Project 20" unit's production last night was about as close to the TV western as Antoine Gisenga is to Barry Goldwater.

Narrated by Gary Cooper, the open-handed, refreshing and skillfully arranged hour skimmed smoothly over hundreds of fascinating old photographs and drawings.

We visited scores of frontier towns and trails. We met hundreds of resolute-looking, unwashed men and some of their hard-looking, hard-working female companions.

★ ★ ★

One palpably inspiring segment, devoted to wagon trains ("Many men signed with their real names," said Cooper), ticked off in gripping detail the hardships that these pioneers encountered.

We also met gold prospectors, allroad gangs, cow punchers railroad gangs, cow punchers ("Damn few money and a hell-va lot of beans," Cooper noted) and magnificent old Indian faces, all staring their challenges and their rugged stories at us.

Another straight-from-the-shoulder portion was devoted to recalling the careers of some Western badmen. Example: Cooper described "Billy the Kid" as a "homicidal moron from the streets of New York." On "The Tall Man" series, Billy is made to look like a combination Dobie Gillis and Peter Gunn.

★ ★ ★

At the close of the show, Cooper quoted an old sodbuster who said, "Wouldn't it be fun to tear it all down and start all over again?" I hope this was merely a momentary surrender to sentiment and not a seriously intended kicker for the program.

But then, if they were to start all over again, maybe they'd let Gene Barry draw up the plans.

While there weren't any attempts to relate "The Real West" directly to the current crop of TV westerns, the differences were obvious.

FLUFFY PAPER BUNNIES — Every kindergartner in Mrs. Peggy Stewart's room at Donelson school in Waterford Township has made a soft white bunny — complete with a satin bow — to take home for Easter. Shredded paper was obtained from a pottery company, and the children had fun shaping the rabbits with nothing but white thread. From left are Letta Lawrence, Sherry Foster and Steven Linn.

Wacky Wishes Keep Firm Busy

Clients' Request Both Confuse and Amuse Fast-Moving Company

NEW YORK (UPI)—The Allied Homeowners Association, which provides around-the-clock maintenance and repair services for thousands of members throughout the nation, also stands ready to help its clients with more personal problems.

★ ★ ★

Its 1959 list of strange and unusual requests included:

An Ohio member who gave no explanation for wanting to have his TV set installed in a new cabinet — upside down.

A lady in Connecticut who is not an insomniac but who has a dog who is. She wanted someone to walk her pet each day from 4 to 5 a.m.

A Pennsylvania member who wanted a "genuine French chef" to handle the culinary chores at backyard barbecue.

A suburban New York matron who ordered the installation of a plumbing system to enable her to select one of four favorite eaux de colognes for automatic mixing with her shower water each morning.

And a doting mother in the Midwest who had her children's rumpus room paneled entirely in foam rubber — even the ceiling.

Smoked glass or dark glasses cannot protect the eye from the direct rays of the sun. The glass only screens out glare, not the dangerous rays.

Wind Tunnel Being Designed for Space Tests

BUFFALO, N.Y. (UPI) — The world's first wind tunnel for long-duration testing of hypersonic missiles and space vehicles under actual atmospheric flight conditions is being designed and built by Cornell Aeronautical Laboratory.

The research center's new test installation, contracted for by the Air Force Research and Development Command, is termed a "wave superheater hypersonic tunnel."

It will generate airflows approximating 10,000 miles an hour and temperatures of 9,000 degrees F.

The tunnel will be capable of 15-second test durations, considerably longer than ever before possible at such extreme temperatures, air speeds and at pressures corresponding to actual flight altitudes. Present aerodynamic test devices producing hypersonic air flows and temperatures can be operated for only a few thousandths of a second.

Although man has been making glass for at least 5,000 years, its atomic structure still is known only in a general way.

70-Year-Old Church Destroyed by Fire

MENOMINEE (AP) — A 70-year-old landmark of this Upper Michigan city, the St. Adelbert Roman Catholic Church, was destroyed by fire Wednesday night.

★ ★ ★

The Rev. Victor Karch, the church pastor, estimated demage at between $150,000 and $200,000.

Firemen and volunteer workers were able to remove many of the statues, pews and paintings from the building before the roof caved in.

For the second straight time, Mayor Philip E. Rowston's first name is spelled incorrectly in the Michigan Bell Telephone Co. directory.

The April 1960 directory also mispelled the name.

To Combine Vacation With Canvass

Congressmen to Get the Word on JFK

WASHINGTON (AP) — Members of Congress take off today for an Easter vacation and a chance to find out at first hand what the folks at home think about President Kennedy's New Frontier program.

On the results of their personal canvass may depend the legislative fate of some hotly-contested presidential proposals such as the administration programs for federal aid to education and medical care for the elderly.

The Easter break after nearly three months of sessions found 13 of 16 top priority bills listed by the President in February still bouncing around in various stages of the legislative process.

ONLY 3 COMPLETED

Along with some other measures it passed, Congress had completed action on only three on the priority list—an extension of unemployment benefits, a feed grains control measure and Senate ratification of U. S. affiliation with the Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development.

While this represented only moderate progress, administration strategists professed to be confident that Kennedy will get most of his program through in time for an early summer adjournment of Congress.

They were heartened by House passage Wednesday of a $394 million program for depressed areas in substantially the form the President recommended. A compromise with the Senate's version is in order before the bill can be sent to the White House.

Reveals Plans in GM Case

Transit Expansion Is Explained as U.S. Tries to Prove Favoritism

DETROIT (AP)—General Manager Donald C. Hyde testified in U.S. District Court here Wednesday that the Cleveland (Ohio) Transit System plans to expand its rapid transit line to four or five directions. It now goes in only two.

★ ★ ★

Hyde disclosed his system's plans and forecasts as he spent a second day on the witness stand in the government's 5-year-old anti-trust suit against General Motors Corp. The government charges GM monopolized the sale and manufacture of city and intercity buses.

The case currently is before Judge Theodore Levin on the question of what buses shall be considered in determining the so-called relevant market and what percentage of that market GM controls.

After he rules, barring appeal, the case can go to trial on its merits. The action is civil. No criminal accusations are involved.

★

Cross-examining Hyde, the government attempted to show Wednesday that the Cleveland Transit System had drafted specifications to favor General Motors buses and otherwise had given GM advantages over any competitors.

It contends that GM now holds 90 per cent or more of the market for so-called city or intercity heavy buses.

Dice Game Too Noisy

LANSING (UPI) — Seven armed Lansing detectives arrested three men Wednesday night after they heard dice hitting the roof of a parking lot shanty and then found the men on their knees with dice and money in front of them.

Boxing Gloves Keep Patient From Digging

WILMINGTON, Del. (UPI)—One way to beat an allergy is to put on the gloves — boxing variety.

That's the advice of Dr. Elmer R. Gross, Wilmington dermatologist, offered in an article he wrote for the "Archives of Dermatology."

Dr. Gross does not suggest that the allergic patient step a fast six rounds with relatives or friends.

The boxing gloves are to be worn at night to keep the allergy sufferer from scratching his skin.

Say Soviet to Accept Laos Peace Bid

Report Russia to Qualify Agreement

Reds Want Confab on Country's Future; JFK Waits Reply on Note

From Our News Wires

The Soviet Union shortly will announce qualified acceptance of Western proposals for a cease fire in Laos, informed diplomatic sources said today in Moscow.

The sources said the Russians would propose immediate convocation of the three nation control commission on Indochina — India, Poland and Canada —to investigate the possibility of a cease fire and supervise carrying it out.

The Russians also would have the three nations work out conditions for guaranteeing Laotian neutrality, the sources said.

In Washington, President Kennedy flew to Florida for a brief Easter vacation but took extraordinary steps to keep in constant touch with the international situation.

He left the White House by helicopter for Andrews Air Force Base in nearby Maryland. There he boarded an Air Force jetliner and took off for Palm Beach.

TO RELAY NEWS

Kennedy arranged for an around-the-clock White House detail to relay to him instantly any urgent message.

★ ★ ★

Kennedy delayed his departure for at least a day in the hope he would receive the reply of the Soviet Union to a British note asking a cease fire in Laos and calling for negotiations to neutralize that Southeast Asian country.

Kennedy ordered his jet plane kept on a standby basis in Florida.

It was reported the Soviet reply would ask for firm assurances that a cease fire would be followed by a meeting of 14 nations to discuss the future of Laos.

The sources said the Russians wanted the conference — which would include Communist China, the Soviet Union and the United States — to have final responsibility for settling the status of Laos.

The sources were cautiously optimistic about the likelihood of a peaceful solution of the Laos crisis.

OFFICIALS CAUTIOUS

U.S. officials in Washington reacted cautiously to first reports of Russia's qualified acceptance of the cease-fire plan.

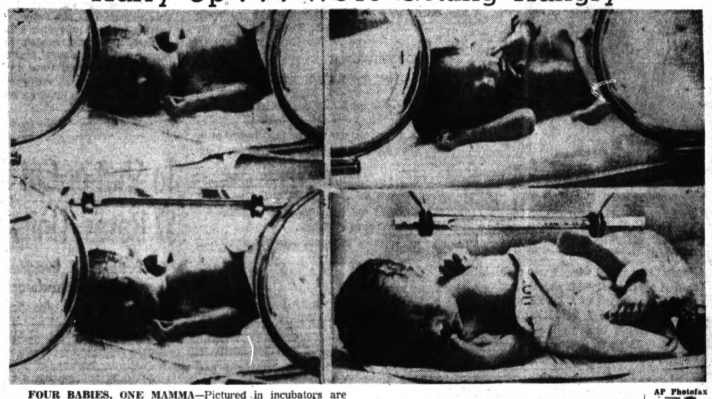

They said the Soviet proposal outlined by Moscow sources might be a real solution, but they would not commit themselves until the West receives an official reply and has time to study it.

The White House declined comment.

The Soviet press has been relatively restrained the past two

Full House With 10 Children

Mother, Quads All Well

By JAMES CALOGERO

HOLYOKE, Mass. (AP)—Four normal, healthy babies — quadruplets born to a couple who already had six children — lay in incubators sucking on their knuckles and fingers awaiting their first feeding today.

In a simple, semi-private room across from the nursery in Providence Hospital their mother, Mary Feyre, 35, beamed:

"I still can't believe it. I feel that when I wake up, I'll discover it was all a dream."

The father, Raymond J. Feyre, 38, an insurance salesman, chain-smoked cigarettes, repeating: "I'm thrilled. I'm thrilled. Just think, 10 children and everybody's healthy."

The two girls and two boys were born Wednesday seven weeks prematurely.

IN GOOD HEALTH

Despite the early births, however, doctors said the quads are in good health and foresaw no difficulties in bringing their weights to normal.

Doctors said the babies will remain in incubators until they reach five pounds, expected in about two months.

Their first feedings, beginning today, were to be small doses of glucose and water. Eventually, they'll get a heavier formula.

At the hospital Wednesday night Mrs. Feyre said that except for a little tiredness she felt wonderful. She weighs 114 pounds. Her husband said he weighs 146 and stands about 5-7.

The mother of the new quads shares her hospital room with Mrs. Donald Giroux of Holyoke, who gave birth to her third child March 25.

The room is painted in quiet green and the only wall decoration is a crucifix. The hospital is operated by the Catholic Sisters of Providence.

On a night table beside her bed are seven potted plants—and an 18-inch-high trophy of brass and maple similar to those awarded champions.

At the top of the trophy is a winged figurine. Along the base are inscribed names of each of the quads. A friend had it made up last evening.

Recalling how he was besieged by reporters and photographers throughout the day, Feyre said: "I had a busy day."

"Me, too," quipped Mrs. Feyre.

Her husband jokingly reminded her that his grandmother, Mary Leary, had 13 children.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Feyre smiled benignly.

Feyre said he plans to take the day off from work, "But I've got to get back Friday. After all, there are now 12 persons to feed, including my wife and me."

Jews to Observe Passover With Temple, Home Services

By MARY ANGLEMIER

With its colorful ceremonies that mark the flight of the Israelites from ancient Egypt, as related in the Book of Exodus, Passover begins this year at sundown Friday evening.

Brief vesper services will be held at 6 p.m. in Temple Beth Jacob, 79 Elizabeth Lake Road. Traditional services will also be held in Congregation B'nai Israel, 163 Oneida Road at 7 p.m.

Passover morning service will be held at 10:30 a.m. Saturday at Temple Beth Jacob; and at 7:30 a.m. Saturday and 9 a.m. on Sunday at Congregation B'nai Israel.

The most singular feature of the Passover holiday, which is observed seven days by Reform Jews and eight days by Traditional Jews is the Seder, a home worship service.

RITE AT STATE HOSPITAL

The youth group of Temple Beth Jacob will sponsor a Seder at 12:30 p.m. Sunday at the temple for patients of Pontiac State Hospital. Young people will conduct the ritual service.

The Seder table, covered with fine linen, is set with foods and objects that symbolize the deliverance of the Jews from Egypt.

There is the matzoh, the unleavened bread, to recall the bread baked in haste as the Israelites took flight; the bitter herbs as reminders of the hardships undergone by the slaves under Pharaoh in the years of oppression.

★ ★ ★

There also is a sprig of parsley on the table to remind the group that Passover is also a festival of spring; and a roasted shank bone, an emblem of the paschal lamb.

The haroses, a mixture of apples, nuts, raisins, cinnamon and wine symbolizes the mortar from which the Israelites made bricks for the Egyptian pyramids.

It is traditional for the youngest child of each family to ask four questions about the holiday. The remainder of the service is devoted to a response by the family group out of the Haggadah, or narrative.

There are also traditional songs to delight and instruct children.

★ ★ ★

With minor variations in the forms of the service and food served, Passover is celebrated by Jews throughout the world, who in the spirit of the event, welcome strangers to the table and temper joy of the festival with thoughtful reflections on the theme of freedom so central to the occasion.

Christ Exhibited Power, Not Frustration, on Cross

(Editor's Note—Christ's tormented cry from the cross, "Why hast thou forsaken me," appears to be one of the most confusing phrases ever spoken. But a prominent Episcopal bishop explains the words stem not from bitterness as might be supposed. This is the fourth of five articles on the last words of Christ.)

By THE RT. REV. JAMES A. PIKE

Written for Associated Press

The most puzzling word from the cross is the cry, Eloi, Eloi lama sabachthani?: "My God, my God, why hast Thou forsaken Me?"

Not puzzling it Jesus is seen as only a man; but puzzling indeed when he is conceived as God and man.

But there is an explanation — and a sound one both theologically and historically. More than that, it is an answer that can speak to each of us in our harrowing crises.

REV. PIKE

One of the most painful experiences with which man is faced is frustration. Many people think that limitation and frustration are the same thing. But if so we are all doomed to frustration, because we are all limited — each of us in different ways.

We are all "hemmed in" at times due to our own lack of capacity, due to the willful acts of others, or due to blind circumstance. Out of these same circumstances can come either bitter frustration or new and specially focused power.

What makes the difference? It is not the broad lazy river that creates electric power; it is the stream pressing through the narrow gorge — it (and the "if" is important) there is a turbine there. What is the turbine?

It was there with Jesus on the cross. Did ever a man have more basis for frustration? The hands which he used to heal men firmly nailed down, the feet which were wont to take him into haunts of need securely fastened.

And yet from his hours on the cross have come more healing and salvation than from any other moments in history.

HE MEANT MORE

Here we see that the circumstances do not determine either frustration or power — it was what was in Him. And this was eloquently displayed by the words from the cross which we are considering.

Words of sheer frustration you will say. Yes, if that is all he said — or meant. But He said or meant more.

Unlike the author and most of the readers, Jesus, as a well

Heavy Fighting Contradicts Report of Laos Cease Fire

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—The Laotian government today reported heavy fighting in eastern Laos, contradicting previous reports that a virtual cease fire seemed to be in effect during the SEATO conference.

Information Minister Bouavan Norasing issued a report of a violent battle Tuesday near Kam Keut, about 130 miles east of Vientiane. The report claimed government troops killed 80 of the pro-Communist rebels.

★ ★ ★

Bouavan also said six Soviet Ilyushin transports were spotted today over the battle front near Tha Thom, 115 miles east of Vientiane. He gave no further details.

Previously both Laotian and Western sources said the military situation in Laos had been quiet except for minor local flareups since last weekend.

It was believed both the rebel and government forces were awaiting the outcome of the SEATO conference in Bangkok, which ended Wednesday.

CONTINUE BUILD-UP

In the absence of a Soviet cease-fire agreement for Laos, the United States is reportedly pressing ahead with its build-up as military power in and near Southeast Asia.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk is said to have made clear to U.S. allies at a Southeast Asia Treaty Organization meeting this week that the Kennedy administration is determined to use force to the extent it may be compelled to do so to prevent a Communist takeover in the Southeast Asian kingdom.

A reply from the Soviet government to a U.S.-backed British proposal for a cease fire and an international conference on Laos is expected soon, officials said today.

★ ★

Pending disclosure of the Soviet reaction, they said, the United States has no assurance that a peaceful settlement can be achieved; it is therefore continuing the preparations for possible military action and the strengthening of Laotian government forces which were started last week.

Rusk and Nehru Close on Ways to Attack Problems

VIENTIANE, Laos (UPI) — Laotian Information Minister Bouavan Norasing said today it is not yet "absolutely necessary" for this Communist-threatened kingdom to have military help from SEATO.

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk stopped off for talks with Prime Minister Nehru today on his way back to Washington and the Indian leader said they agreed "very largely" on approaches to the problems of Laos and the Congo.

Rusk and Nehru conferred for an hour and a half and then had lunch together before Rusk continued his journey home from the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization meeting in Bangkok, Thailand.

Asked by newsmen whether he expected peace in Laos, Nehru replied: "I can't say. We hope for the best."

★ ★ ★

He said he had received no fresh indications of the Soviet attitude toward the peace proposals put forward by the British on behalf of the eight-nation SEATO alliance.

'VALUABLE HINT'

But he added India had received "a very valuable hint some time ago." He did not elaborate.

Rusk said they did not discuss the communique issued by the SEATO ministers in Bangkok.

That declaration warned Moscow that members of the alliance were prepared to take "appropriate action" unless the Communists quit military intervention in Laos.

But it did not spell out what action would be taken and held out a hand for negotiations to end the strife in the jungle Asian kingdom.

Auto Makers Are Optimistic

Spring Sales Upturn Seems a Reality, and Worst May Be Over

DETROIT (UPI) — The recession-troubled auto industry will end the first quarter of 1961 on an optimistic note.

Industry leaders say they see increasing signs that the market is having a spring upturn after a dreary winter of disappointing sales and a million car inventory.

Production figures for the first three months of the year are expected to show that output ran 45 per cent or more than 800,000 units below a year ago. That would mean 1961 production of about 1,130,000 cars, against some 2 million last year.

Despite the poor production record, car makers point to steadily increasing sales over the past five weeks as an indication the worst of the business slump is over in the auto industry.

★ ★ ★

Edward D. Rollert, general manager of Buick and a vice president of General Motors Corp., says he is "very optimistic" over a spring upturn.

Speaking at a Flint preview of a new two-door Buick Special coupe, Rollert said Buick is "doing quite well" in March.

"There has been a definite turnaround in business this month," Rollert said. "We are doing 40 to 50 per cent more business than February."

★ ★ ★

At American Motors Corp., President George Romney said there had been a "sharp upturn in Rambler sales in the past few weeks."

As a result, Romney said, he will increase production 46 per cent next month.

Chilly Friday, Maybe Some Snow Saturday

Friday's forecast is partly cloudy and not much change in temperature. The weatherman predicts a low of 35 tonight and a high of 47 tomorrow.

★ ★ ★

Variable cloudiness and cold with scattered snow flurries is the outlook for Saturday in Southeast and Southwest Lower Michigan.

Morning west to southwest winds at 10 to 15 miles per hour will become southwest at 15 to 18 m.p.h. tonight shifting to northwest Friday.

Twenty-four was the lowest temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. The thermometer registered 40 at 1 p.m.

Pontiac Motors to Close for Week

Pontiac Motor Division will join Buick and Oldsmobile in a new one-week shutdown the first week of April.

The three General Motors Corp. divisions will suspend production beginning April 3. The shutdown in Pontiac will idle some 12,000 Fisher Body and Pontiac production workers.

Buick, Olds and Pontiac were idle one week in both February and March.

It Auto Be Elsewhere

SNUBBING SIGN?—Yes, but he didn't want to do it, the driver of this car told Waterford Township police yesterday. His auto was struck in the rear, went over the curb and into the building—a storage place for B & G Tile Outlet at 1075 W. Huron St. No one was injured and police agreed that the driver, Manuel Dean, 50, 75 S. Josephine Ave., was a victim of circumstances in this case.

Mrs. Jackson Lives Her Religion

MRS. TAFT JACKSON

(Editor's Note: It seems appropriate during Holy Week to single out a few of the many lay persons who do honor to Christ by their devotion to the church of their choice. The Pontiac Press asked these persons, all successful in secular pursuits, why they voluntarily give countless hours each year to religious concerns. One woman's answer appears today, the fourth in a series of five.)

"My father died when I was a child. The church people helped my mother with gifts as well as financially. I told myself that when I grew up I would devote time to helping others through the church," said Mrs. Taft Jackson, deaconess at Macedonia Baptist Church.

Mrs. Jackson said she believes God supplies our every need although it may not be what we want; that there is a great reward in, and an opportunity to "do unto others as you would that they do unto you."

"I always had a desire for a good education but had no money. A counselor through the YWCA advanced me the tuition saying, 'I am not in need of you paying me back but when you are in a position to repay, and see someone else in need, pass it on.' I find no greater outreach than the church in helping others," she said.

Chosen to represent her church as 'Mother of the Year' a few years ago, Mrs. Jackson boards children through the Michigan Children's Aid Society. Currently with her husband she cares for three youngsters.

THEY NEED LOVE

"I believe every child needs love, attention and guidance. Every child has the right to a bright and happy childhood in which he is assured a chance to develop into a useful citizen and be inspired to push on to help bring about God's kingdom," she said.

She has supplemented her education with an extension course given by the University of Michigan in education of exceptional children.

Mrs. Jackson works mostly with children although she is active in the nurses unit and is secretary of the expansion improvement fund of her church.

★ ★ ★

A past president of the Women's Mission Department of Macedonia Baptist, she serves her pastor, Rev. Lenworth R. Miner, as parttime office secretary and teaches in the Sunday School.

Mrs. Jackson is one of the leaders of Vacation Daily Bible School during summer months. Believing that music influences children, she has organized a children's choir for boys and girls, five through 12 years of age.

The Day in Birmingham

Final Plans Announced for Conference at School

BIRMINGHAM—Final plans for the Birmingham school system's week-long planning conference which begins Monday were announced today by Supt. Otis M. Dickey.

More than 200 education leaders and area residents are expected to take part in the Monday through Friday programs that will be held at the Groves High School, Evergreen and 13-Mile roads.

"This planning conference has been organized as one means of encouraging and promoting such an exchange of ideas among the representatives of several groups having mutual interests and concern for the welfare of our public school system," explained Dickey.

The general theme of the conference will be "The Need and Challenge to Continue Educational Improvement."

★ ★ ★

The conference is planned to provide staff meetings during the day on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday with combined general sessions of all participants during the evening on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. However, all participants are invited to attend any session during the first four days.

The meeting Friday will be only for members of the administrative council.

DISCLOSE SCHEDULE

All staff sessions will begin at 9 a.m. The evening general sessions will start at 6:45 p.m. with dinner.

Presiding over the initial meeting Monday will be Mrs. Kathryn Loomis, president of the Birmingham Board of Education. The keynote address will be given by Maurice B. Mitchell, president of Encyclopedia Britannica Films.

Sessions Tuesday will follow the theme of improving curriculum development.

Wednesday's discussions will center around the Challenge to Improve Learning Opportunities" for students through newer patterns of school organization and teaching.

★ ★ ★

The improvement of the educational program through employment in-service training and retention of superior staff personnel will be the topic of discussion Thursday.

The theme of Friday's program is "The Challenge to Action."

To Shut or Cut 52 Bases, Units

First Part of Program to Clear Out Deadwood at Home and Abroad

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department announced today the closing or curtailment of activities at 52 military bases and installations in the United States.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara said this was the first phase of the already announced White House plan to eliminate obsolete or surplus installations among the 6,700 bases, big and little, at home and abroad.

The estimated annual savings from today's action may eventually reach $220 million, although this amount would not be saved during the several years needed to carry out the cutback program.

The cutback will affect about 15,000 civilians and military personnel in the United States and about 19,000 overseas.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department said today the Grand Blanc, Mich., Army Storage Facility No. 1 would be declared excess and turned over to the General Services Administration for disposition.

Former General Motors official Paul S. Procissi of 3275 Erie Drive, Orchard Lake, yesterday was elected president of the Bloomfield Hills Rotary Club.

The club's board of directors chose Procissi to succeed John A. Gilray Jr., Birmingham attorney.

Procissi was production manager of the manufacturing division of Chevrolet Motor in Flint from 1935 to 1945 when he was named manager of the Chevrolet export plant at Bloomfield, N. J. He retired in 1957.

Flood Damage at $60 Million

Iowa's Second Largest City Braces to Meet Rampaging River

WATERLOO, Iowa (AP)—The multimillion-dollar punch of the flooding Cedar River that staggered an industrial section of northeast Iowa left in its wake today property damage which authorities said will take weeks to clean up.

★ ★ ★

With damage estimates running in excess of $60 million, more was still to come as the floodtide, at all-time record proportions, moved southeastward toward the Mississippi River.

★ ★ ★

It's next target was Iowa's second largest city—Cedar Rapids—where feverish preparations were being made to keep the river behind the dikes when the crest reaches there Friday.

★ ★ ★

"If anybody did it, it was the kids," said Carl Fagerlind, 57, Waterloo streets commissioner.

The youngsters worked around the clock filling sandbags when the river rose about five feet above flood stage at 21.86 feet.

★ ★ ★

Authorities said they were afraid to think of what would have resulted if the river had breached its course through the heart of the city.

★ ★ ★

Most of Waterloo was saved from flood damage by the combined effort of 2,700 teen-age boys and girls who joined 4,000 other volunteers.

trained Jew of his time, knew all of the psalms by heart. The psalms were referred to by the recitation of their first few words, in Hebrew (they are still today in the Roman Catholic, Anglican and Lutheran service books, in Latin).

As to the particular text, either the authors of the gospels referred to the recitation of the whole of Psalm 22 by a standard title (papyrus being then quite expensive), or our Lord being short of breath and strength simply expressed his whole thought by uttering the standard title.

And the whole of the psalm represents the turbine which brought power out of his fix instead of frustration, and can today bring power rather than frustration out of your limiting circumstances.

Read it:

"My God, my God, why hast Thou forsaken me?"

"My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me? Why art thou so far from helping me, and from the words of my roaring?

"Oh my God, I cry in the daytime, but thou hearest not; and in the night season, and am not silent.

"But thou art holy, O thou that inhabitest the praises of Israel.

"Our fathers trusted in thee: they trusted, and thou didst deliver them.

★ ★ ★

"They cried unto thee, and were delivered: they trusted in thee, and were not confounded.

"But I am a worm, and no man; a reproach of men, and despised of the people.

"All they that see me laugh me to scorn, they shoot out the lip, they shake the head, saying,

"He trusted on the Lord that he would deliver him: let him deliver him, seeing he delighted in him.

"But thou art he that took me out of the womb: thou didst make me hope when I was upon my mother's breasts.

"I was cast upon thee from the womb: thou art my God from my mother's belly.

"Be not far from me; for trouble is near; for there is none to help.

"Many bulls have compassed me: strong bulls of Bashan have beat me round.

"They gaped upon me with their mouths, as a ravening and a roaring lion.

"I am poured out like water, and all my bones are out of joint: my heart is like wax; it is melted in the midst of my bowels.

"My strength is dried up like a potsherd; and my tongue cleaveth to my jaw; and thou hast brought me into the dust of death.

★ ★ ★

"For dogs have compassed me: the assembly of the wicked have inclosed me: they pierce my hands and my feet.

"I may tell all my bones: they look and stare upon me.

"They part my garments among them, and cast lots upon my vesture.

"But be not thou far from me, O Lord: O my strength, haste thee to help me.

★ ★ ★

"Deliver my soul from the sword: my darling from the power of the dog.

"Save me from the lion's mouth: for thou hast heard me from the horns of the unicorns.

"I will declare thy name unto my brethren: in the midst of the congregation will I praise thee.

"Ye that fear the Lord, praise him; all ye the seed Jacob, glorify him; and fear him, all ye the seed of Israel.

★ ★ ★

"For he hath not despised nor abhorred the affliction of the afflicted; neither hath he hid his face from him; but when he cried unto him, he heard.

"My praise shall be of thee in the great congregation: I will pay my vows before them that fear him.

"The meek shall eat and be satisfied: they shall praise the Lord that seek him: your heart shall live for ever.

★ ★ ★

"All the ends of the world shall remember and turn unto the Lord: and all the kindreds of the nations shall worship before thee.

"For the kingdom is the Lord's: and he is the governor among the nations.

"All they that be fat upon earth shall eat and worship: all they that go down to the dust shall bow before him: and none can keep alive his own soul.

"A seed shall serve him: it shall be accounted to the Lord for a generation.

"They shall come, and shall declare his righteousness unto a people that shall be born, that he hath done this."

The spirit behind this is set forth in a prayer from the Anglican liturgy: "Here, O Lord, we offer and present unto Thee ourselves, our souls and bodies, to be a reasonable, holy and living sacrifice unto Thee."

In the limitations of life this is the difference between frustration and power. This is the turbine.

Next: "It is consummated!"

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — U.N. diplomats were relieved today by reports the United States and the Soviet Union have agreed on a way to avert a disarmament debate in this session of the General Assembly.

days, although critical of the SEATO meeting in Bangkok.

There was some speculation that the Russians had not yet replied formally to the British proposals because they wanted to avoid the impression of acting under the SEATO meeting.

Soviet leaders have been meeting with their Warsaw Pact allies in the Kremlin since Monday and the crisis in Laos was reported to be a major subject.

Nevertheless, there has been no evident tension over the situation in Moscow as has been reported in Western capitals.

It was reported that the meeting could be expected to end today with a communique being issued Friday.

BUNNY'S BUDDIES — Nestled between two pals at the home of a San Diego, Calif., resident, Mrs. Edgar L. Wilkerson, is Harry the Jack rabbit. All three seem naively unaware that dogs are supposed to chase Jack rabbits through fields and meadows (but then what are dumb animals to do when they can't find any fields or meadows?). A veterinarian has told Mrs. Wilkerson that Jack rabbits don't thrive in captivity, but this thoroughly confused dumb bunny doesn't seem to know that either.

1929 Murder Charged Against Steelworker

ALLENTOWN, Pa. (AP) — Charles Kucsan, a steel plant millwright Wednesday night was charged with a murder which police said occurred in 1929.

* * *

Police accused Kucsan, 53, of Bath, R.D. 2, Pa., of running down Peter Fry with a roadster after an argument during which Kucsan, allegedly had accused Fry of cheating at poker. Fry, of Allentown, who was 46 at the time, died the following day.

Police said Kucsan gave a statement admitting he hit Fry with the roadster but that he planned only to knock him down and scare him.

Under Michigan law, the birth of a city is quite simple.

Draw the boundary lines you wish, keeping in mind that ordinarily you must have at least 2,000 persons, averaging no less than 500 per square mile; petition the county board of supervisors for an election; achieve a majority yes vote of those residing within your proposed city; elect a charter commission; adopt the charter and elect the officers it designates—and you're in business.

★ ★ ★

Incorporating to get the tools to solve the problems of congested areas outside existing cities has been used nine times in one Detroit suburban township—Royal Oak Township. Nine independent cities elbow each other in the area that used to be the township.

Ten years ago the Detroit metropolitan area saw the birth of a new city that appears to have started a trend. It is Livonia, a former township that placed all its 36 square miles under the charter of a single new city.

Situated west of Detroit, it typifies the suburban communities that sprang up after World War II. The handful of old settlers, living in eight or 10 cross-road clusters, have just about become lost among the thousands of newcomers in the cornfield-to-carport transformation.

Until the State Health Department banned additional sewer connections because of overloads, Livonia was the fastest growing city in Michigan.

A similar community, Warren, which evolved from Warren Township, now claims the distinction. But Livonia is still growing, sometimes by as many as 20 new families a week. On the desk of Mayor William W. Brashear are plans for 50 new subdivisions, waiting for an okay to turn the sod.

Since 1950, when Livonia became a city, the population has grown from 18,000 to 70,000. Assessed valuation climbed from $15 million to $300 million.

Livonia is sometimes criticized for being a mere collection of subdivisions, neatly cut up by a roll-every-mile grid pattern. "Nothing to distinguish it as a city, no character of its own, nothing to hold it together," they say.

Brashear is the first to admit the critics may have been right once, but says they won't be for long.

"When we started out, our city was divided among seven different post offices," he said. "Nobody knew how to mail a letter to Livonia residents. We now have our post office and are gaining civic cohesiveness."

Farther west, just on the edge of the Detroit metropolitan ways, is another new city.

Wixom was a cross roads when it was a township as late as 1956. It remained just a cross roads when it became a village in 1957.

It was incorporated as a fifth-class home-rule city in 1958 and with only 1,600 residents scattered over 9.5 square miles, the heart of the new city is still only a cross roads.

Sparking the incorporation of Wixom was construction of a Lincoln-Mercury plant by Ford in 1957. The plant is valued for tax purposes at $32 million. John Finlayson, who as assessor, oversees most of the city's day-to-day operations, wards off the sidelong comments that Wixom was incorporated only for a tax windfall.

"When the plant came, we knew serious problems were not far behind," he said. "We believed our township could never have met those problems. The village became too inadequate. So we formed a city and we are keeping up with our problems very well."

★ ★ ★

Across the state is another new city, large in area like Livonia and Wixom, but somewhat different. It is the city of Wyoming, once Wyoming Township, abutting Grand Rapids on the southwest.

Wyoming is different, if the Detroit area is so complex that Livonia and Wixom can be said to offer little more to that complexity; and if the Grand Rapids area is still simple enough that the city and its suburbs constitute one economic, social and cultural community.

If this is so, the incorporation of Wyoming added a new wrinkle to the Grand Rapids metropolitan situation. Wyoming is termed a satellite city, as is the new city of Swartz Creek near Flint.

Eventually, they can be expected to give birth to unorganized suburbs, like they once were, and these suburbs to incorporate as separate cities. Some day, unchecked incorporation around Flint and Grand Rapids could lead to ring upon ring of suburban cities —like Detroit, or Boston's 40-some communities—each with a mayor, city hall, police chief, fire department and the whole gamut of city officials and facilities.

FEDERAL FUNDS?

What will pull these so-called satellite communities together? Some predict it will take a system of state or federal hand-outs, with effective control of the areas passing to the governmental unit doling out the funds.

Michigan has a few twin-city communities in which neither twin dominates. St. Joseph and Benton Harbor form one pair. A few years ago there was talk that the two should be consolidated. A study by outside experts said they should continue as separate cities.

The two possessed widely differing characteristics, they said. Little would be gained by consolidation, but much by close cooperation.

Benton Harbor and St. Joseph work together in many ways today. Some heavy equipment is shared. Their emergency forces back each other up. They are partners in airport operation. There is one sewage plant between them and dog control and sanitary inspection are joint ventures.

"We've grown up with this dual situation, complicated in recent years by populous townships beyond both our borders," says Don C. Stewart, Benton Harbor city manager. "But despite all our cooperation, this division keeps us from reaching our full potential."

★ ★ ★

Muskegon and Muskegon Heights have waxed and waned on consolidation over the years. Muskegon generally favored it, the Heights opposed. Now, however, with the Heights caught in an economic vise, sentiment appears to be changing. If Heights residents decided they wanted to consolidate, according to one who keeps his fingers on the pulse, Muskegon people just might say no.

★ ★ ★

Where one city is the community's keystone—the other cities and townships being offspring of it—there is an urgent plea being heard today: Rally around the central city. Let it grow to natural size. Nothing else can unite the community and make it the dynamic force it should be.

Children-of-Divorce Costs Jump 14.6 Pct. in Year

There was $457,114 more paid for child support through the Oakland County Friend of the Court's Office last year than in 1959, an annual report shows.

For 1960 there was a total of $3,587,125 paid in child support receipts, said W. Cadman Prout, friend of the court, compared with $3,130,010 the previous year.

The payments were ordered by the five circuit judges for the support of minor children involved in divorce suits. The increase over the year was 14.6 per cent.

It represents the highest in collections and "reflects an increased case load as well as increased emphasis upon collections by the personnel employed in the enforcement division of this office," Prout said.

He said his office, charged by law to see that dependent minor children resulting from divorce suits are cared for, received an additional 1,652 new cases last year wherein 3,857 children were listed as technical wards of the Circuit Court.

This was a .08 decrease from the 1,797 new divorce cases with 3,905 children filed in 1959.

Of the 1960 count on children, a total of 137 children were involved in petitions for waiver of jurisdiction from circuit to juvenile court.

"The highest percentage of petitions for waiver were received in the category of parental neglect, and this has been the trend for the past several years," Prout said.

Over the past 10 years, he said 27,407 children in Oakland County have been made wards of the Circuit Court as children of divorce.

The circuit judges had to issue 631 new bench warrants ordering men to appear in court to answer to support orders. Jail terms were meted out to 196 for nonpayment.

There was a total of 2,144 court hearings conducted by Homer G. Gerue and Donald A. Tews, enforcement attorneys for the office.

S-P Reports Shareholders' Equity Is Up

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — Studebaker-Packard Corp. reports its shareholders' equity rose from $89,597,187 to $98,954,095 last year.

The annual report showed property value rose from $33,626,269 to $48,946,857.

Net income dropped from $28,544,338 in 1959 to $705,850 while sales dipped from $387,-372,375 to $323,226,663.

However, the firm reported some bright spots: Sales of Mercedes-Benz imports and nonautomotive products were more than $100 million.

Mercedes-Benz sales rose from 15th among imported cars in 1959 to third in the last quarter of 1960. Fleet sales of Larks and Studebaker trucks increased 9.8 per cent over 1959. Car and truck exports rose 24 per. cent.

Would You Like to Be a Tot, Teen or Twenty Again?

Let's All Turn Back the Clock . . . Further, Further

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Curbstone comments of a Pavement Plato:

What age in life is really best? If you could relive all or any part of life in any way you choose, where would you begin? What would you like to be?

BOYLE

These questions are sophomoric, of course, as no one yet has found a way to turn back the calendar — and wish-granting fairy godmothers are few and far between.

But probably no one alive hasn't at one time or another brooded over the possibility of going back to an earlier, ideal age in his existence and living a different kind of life. It is perhaps mankind's favorite daydream.

The subject came up recently at a cocktail party I attended. Most of those present were in the middle-age, or upper middle-age bracket. Some of their choices of how they'd change their lives, if offered a chance at a second go-around, were surprising.

NO YEN FOR YOUTH

Childhood is usually regarded as the golden time of life, but none of those present expressed a desire to begin again as an infant.

★ ★ ★

None wanted to be a teen-ager either. Not even the ladies wanted to be "sweet 16" again.

One woman, whose family is reared, said, she'd give anything to go back to the time when her children were young and dependent on me, her, and all were under one roof.

"Those seemed like hard and trying years then, but now I realize they were the most rewarding I'll ever know," she said. "I'd like to be anywhere between 30 and 40. Those are the best years for a woman," a career woman said.

OLD, YOUNG ENOUGH

"She is old enough to have gained experience and confidence in her work, and she is still young enough to be attractive. And her worst wrinkles still lie ahead of her."

Most of the men, on the other hand, agreed that for them the ideal age was 25, a period when they recalled they were largely free of major debts, ulcers and paunches, still had most of their hair and felt strong enough to whip the world.

One harried executive-type wryly remarked he didn't care about being any particular age—just so he could be a bartender.

"A bartender has this big advantage—no matter what his own private worries may be, everybody he serves seems to have more troubles than he does. This can't help but make him feel more content with his lot. That's why bartenders are so smug," he said.

★ ★ ★

"I'd like to be a 25-year-old bachelor with $2 million," a mousy, long-married little man broke in eagerly.

LIFE BACKWARDS

"Life today runs backward for the average man. He starts poor and works hard until he is 65. When he retires, even if he has saved any money he is too worn out to enjoy it.

"With that two million bucks I could have a tax-free income of $50,000 a year. On that I could travel everywhere, do everything in life I haven't been able to—really live it up.

★ ★ ★

"Maybe at about 75 I'd get tired of being a playboy, so I'd settle down and marry a pretty young nurse and let her take care of me in my old age. But I'd still have that original two million bucks in the bank."

He looked coyly over at his middle-aged wife and asked, "What would you like to be, dear."

"Me!" said the wife grimly. "I'd like to be that pretty young nurse."

See Rough Going for State Grain Bill

LANSING (AP) — A proposal that state agencies be required to purchase Michigan made or grown products if their price is not more than 5 per cent above the cost of out-of-state products appeared today to be in for rough sledding in the Senate.

★ ★ ★

Action on the bill was postponed until Friday after some lawmakers pointed out that such a restriction might do the state more harm than good.

"This is a bad precedent we'd be setting," said Sen. Elmer R. Porter, R-Blissfield. "As soon as this got on the books we would have retaliation from the other states."

Wants No Beatniks

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., said Wednesday he likes President Kennedy's peace corps if mature, solid people are the dominant participants. He said he hopes it won't become a "midsummer cruise for beatniks."

The Kurds, one of the oldest peoples in the world, speak an ancient language akin to Persian.

RUSHED RATIFICATION — These three key members of the Kansas house of representatives stopped legislators leaving the capitol building in Topeka at noon Wednesday to rush to the house chamber and ratify the amendment to the U. S. Constitution that gives District of Columbia residents the right to vote in presidential elections. Seated is William Mitchell, speaker of the Kansas house. Standing are Charles Arthur (left), house minority leader, and Dale Saffels, house majority leader. The Kansans rushed to become the 38th state to ratify the amendment enabling it to become law after learning New Hampshire became the 37th state in a morning session.

Amendment Okayed; D.C. Folk Can Vote

WASHINGTON (AP)—After 160 years, residents of the District of Columbia have the right to vote for their president. And President Kennedy has hailed it as "a major step in the right direction."

But Kennedy noted that the 23rd Amendment, approved by two-thirds of the state legislatures by no means gives district dwellers home rule—direct control over their own governing body.

* * *

Kennedy's statement said "I am hopeful that the Congress, spurred by the adoption of the 23rd Amendment, will act favorably on legislative proposals to be recommended by the administration providing the District of Columbia the right of home rule."

That note was struck by many of the comments on the ratification of the constitutional amendment Wednesday by New Hampshire and Kansas, making up the 38 states needed to make it official.

* * *

At present Washington is governed by a board of commissioners chosen by the President. Congress enacts its laws and in effect is its board of aldermen.

The final approval of the amendment was big news in Washington.

The Washington Star in a front page editorial exulted: "New Hampshire having broken the deadlock it is all over but the shouting! So let's begin to shout!" The paper added, "this becomes one of the brightest days in the history of this city."

The Washington Post's editorial today said "Yesterday was an historic occasion for the District of Columbia." It added, "However significant this restoration of the ballot box to the nation's capital may be, it is a beginning rather than an end."

Oldtime Film Actress Dies at Desert Home

LANCASTER, Calif. (AP) — Fritzi Ridgeway, who costarred in silent and talking pictures with the late Tom Mix and Harry Carey, died of a heart ailment at her desert home near Lancaster Tuesday. She was 65.

Miss Ridgeway, whose real name was Fredericke Berneice Simms, retired from pictures in the mid-30s.

She is survived by her husband Walter Simms.

It Was an Emergency

MILWAUKEE (UPI) — District Judge John Kreuger Wednesday dismissed a traffic ticket against Russel Meyer, 33, who explained he ran a red light because his wife was giving birth to a daughter at the time.

A shovel-nosed snake that burrows in the ground, previously unknown, has been found near Alice Springs, Australia.

Rail Investigator Dies

LIBERTYVILLE, Ill. (AP) — Lawrence Benson, 71, who as superintendent of the Milwaukee Railroad's police force in 1924, helped solve the $2-million mail train robbery at Rondout, Ill., died Wednesday of a heart attack.

An ancient burial ground just found at Crichel Dow, England, was used for 2,000 years — from about 1500 B.C. to A.D. 500.

UAW to Fight for More Fringe Benefits

DETROIT (UPI) — "We aren't interested in a wage increase this year," one United Auto Workers Union official said.

"We have got to attack the problem of increasing job security," another UAW official said.

The two UAW leaders thus indicated that instead of shooting for a fat pal raise they preferred to aim for more so-called fringe benefits in contract talks with the nation's carmakers this summer.

This feeling appears to be widespread in the 1,100,000 member union.

Some leaders of UAW locals are pushing for better pensions, others for a shorter work week. Most UAW officials, from President Walter P. Reuther on down, have called for a better medical-care program.

Reuther told a union meeting in Chicago last winter that the auto industry is going to have to dig down and pay out more for health insurance.

★ ★ ★

Under present contracts, auto companies are now paying half the cost of each employe's Blue Cross and Blue Shield prepaid hospital and medical care plans, with the worker paying the other half.

Reuther would like to follow the lead of the United Steelworkers Union last year and get the companies to assume the full cost of the health program.

The UAW president is known to be unhappy over the rising rates charged by the plans and says the health security matter is "one of the most stubborn and persistent problems that our nation . . . has had to face over many years."

★ ★

According to Reuther, the present plans do not go far enough because UAW members "are usually left, at the time of illness, with substantial bills for services they thought were covered. Insurance generally covers only about one-third of the average family's expenses for health services."

What is needed, Reuther said, are competitive health insurance programs in the form of group practice prepayment medical care plans. He said the UAW has sponsored one plan in the Detroit area, known as Community Health Association.

He said the plan is designed to "provide complete, medical care on a prepayment basis furnished by physicians working in groups and based in community hospitals."

The plan was just organized this year and only a few hundred workers now belong. According to reports, before the year is out the community health group hopes to have about 35,000 members, which would put it on a paying basis.

Dog's Owners Are Responsible, Says Penn Court

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Pennsylvania Supreme Court has ruled that the owner of a dog should be made to pay damages to any person the dog injures—no matter whether the injury was caused in a spirit of tail-wagging friendliness or sheer orneriness.

★ ★ ★

The court, by a 5-2 decision, restored a $17,000 damage verdict awarded to Bertha Groner, 76, in 1959 by a Chester County jury which had been revoked by trial Judge Samuel Lichtenfield.

Mrs. Groner, who is 5-2 and weighs 100 pounds, was hired as a housekeeper by Frank W. Herdrick of nearby West Chester. She also was to look after her employer's elderly mother-in-law and the family dog, a Great Dane, friendly but frisky. The dog romped and knocked her down one day. She suffered a broken hip and arm.

Mile-a-Day Paving Club Inducts 3 New Firms

LANSING (UPI) — The exclusive "mile-a-day" concrete paving club" has added three new members with the induction of highway construction firms.

★ ★ ★

Denton Construction Co., Grosse Pointe Woods; Pierson Construction Co., Saginaw and Sargeant Construction Co., also of Saginaw, were honored for having completed more than a mile of 24-foot concrete pavement in a single working day.

Canada's first newspaper, the Halifax Gazette, was published early in 1751. It was circulated about 20 years.

Pumps for automobile windshield washers are being made of plastic. They are lighter, cheaper, and free from corrosion.

'Adults Love 'Em'

Lecturer Talks on Toys

By MARGARET BROWN

"Adults are generally more fascinated by toys than their children," says petite Mrs. Rea Barr Baker of Birmingham.

A former toy adviser, hobby show director and speaker for Detroit's J. L. Hudson Co., Mrs. Baker bases her observation on many years ("Too many," she jests) experience in the toy advisory field.

"I've watched professional men sit on the floor and play with toys," she said during an interview in her cozy white frame home on Ann Street. "And I know a Detroit lawyer who is entranced with his collection of toy soldiers."

Recognized throughout the country as a pioneer in her field, Mrs. Baker studied at Greenville College and the universities of Illinois, Michigan and Colorado. She has done research on play materials, crafts and art nationally and has published articles in toy magazines. She came to Michigan from Illinois as a Latin teacher.

* * *

However impressive her academic background, Mrs. Baker has a refreshingly homespun approach to life. Youthful in spirit, she has an insight into the child's world with which few of us are blessed.

* * *

"Be a child's friend," is her advice to the adult world. "Play with a youngster, and you'll learn to understand him."

A frequent lecturer in the area, Mrs. Baker covers several subjects in her informative talks, including "Building Family Relationships Through Play," "Toys on Parade" and "Individual Hobbies."

"By selecting toys that suit a child's nature and disposition it is possible to direct his tendencies when he's very young," she tells audiences in her family relationship lectures. "Don't buy a toy just for the sake of bringing home something new. I once saw a five-year-old whose gift of a butterfly net prompted an interest in lepidopterology that astounded me! Children are really awfully smart," she reflected fondly.

TEARS TO LAUGHTER

Mrs. Baker thinks that first and foremost children should learn to laugh at themselves. "With a sense of humor their fears from minor bumps and tumbles may be turned into laughter," she said.

A competitive spirit enters the play picture at about seven. "The game age," according to Mrs. Baker. "January and February (mumps and measles season) are the best game months," she added.

* * *

One of her most popular lectures deals with the history of toys. "We've learned a great deal about early civilization from toys," she said. Excavated pint-sized kitchen utensils, crockery and furniture have revealed much about the ancients' daily life. Even doll houses, corresponding to the architecture of their time, have been unearthed. "Musical toys also have been found by archeologists, and in Roman and Grecian sepulchers toys have been found buried with children."

* * *

"The most popular toys usually are modeled after a society's most advanced achievements or inventions," Mrs. Baker continued. In 1875, for example, microscopes and magic lanterns were the rage. Today's youngsters want small scale missiles, rocket ships and space outfits.

Another of this vivacious lady's pet projects is the stimulation of interests in individual hobbies among teen-agers and adults. "A hobby may be compared to a painting," she explained. "The tints, tones and mood of the artistic effort may delight some and leave others unmoved."

* * *

She likes to think, "A person does not find a hobby; the hobby finds a person."

"Many think a hobby involves collecting things or working with tools—something very constructive," she related. "But I know of one who found satisfaction in the simple act of baking tea cakes, and another who announced happily that his hobby was cleaning out the garage."

* * *

Retired from Hudson's, Mrs. Baker has another full-time job (her "hobby"). She has organized "Your World Speakers Bureau," a service for men's and women's organizations that offers talks by professional lecturers.

"I'm kept busy every minute, but I do love my work," she said. At present she's booking speakers for functions as far off as June.

* * *

Mrs. Baker will send clubs and organizations talented speakers whose wide range of subjects include horticulture, dieting, art, geology and conservation, flower arranging, light verse humor, music and travel.

A widow, Mrs. Baker said regretfully that she has no children. "But I've lots of nieces and nephews."

With a droll little smile she confided, "At one of my toy conventions I kiddingly told a manufacturer I had seven youngsters, and a few weeks later I received seven sets of blocks in the mail!"

Mrs. Rea Barr Baker of Birmingham, a former toy adviser and hobby show director, recently took on another full-time job when she established a speaker's bureau for this area. Here she books an April lecture for an art club.

The biggest local invasion of the ABC tournament this year comes up Saturday on Easter Eve with the Pontiac Motor Booster squad taking over the 40 alleys at Cobo Hall.

Rudy Shaltz and Sam Johnson of the Plant 14 Die Room got the group together. It will consist of 36 Pontiac teams, three from Clarkston and one from Ortonville.

The keglers have been talking up their booster event appearance since February and have been getting anxious in recent weeks according to Shaltz.

It should be quite a sight at the ABC when the area squad marches out to prepare to bowl. Many of the men will be sporting Centennial beards, badges, ties and hats or at least one of the indications of the coming celebration.

Chicago Hamms Take Classic Lead

DETROIT (AP)—Ed Kowolics has knocked down 52,959 pins in three decades of American Bowling Congress tournaments. Three pins Wednesday night were among the toughest of all.

The 53-year-old Chicagoan, who first stepped on an ABC tournament lane in 1929, cleared a 2-4-5 spare to give Hamm Brewers the Classic team division lead with 5,910.

A year ago Kawolics was Hamms' anchor-man as the club rolled a 3,005 series at Toledo only to miss out on the regular team title by a single pin. A. and A. Asphalt of Birmingham, Mich., won with 3,006.

Wednesday night the Hamms passed the previous leading 5003 bowled by Continental Plastics of Roseville, Mich., on March 16.

The new six-game Classic leaders had a 2934 series Tuesday before their 2976.

Another Classic team, the Brunswicks of Atlanta, Ga. settled for fourth place on a 5857. The Southerners slipped to 2865 Wednesday night after opening with 2992, the best start of any Classic club.

The Hamms Earl Johnson moved into the Classic singles lead earlier with 733 on games of 255-256-222. Andy Rogoznicka took fourth in Classic all-events and Johnson tied for fifth with 1,881. Kowolics and Chuck Wagner bowled 1,277 to tie for fifth in Classic doubles. Marv Lowry of the Brunswicks tied for fifth in Classic all-events with 1,881.

Top regular division performance of the day was a 1,288 doubles by Paul Haugan and Wayne Larson of Minneapolis for second place.

Hi-Way Collision of Birmingham was the best of two Pontiac area teams competing last night with 2662. Bob Reinke led the way with 592 and Bill Knop had 568. They bowled today in individual events.

Rambler Dallas of Rochester ranked 16th on its squad at 2474 paced by the Pioch brothers. Jim rolled 535 and Jack 506.

Champ Sees Gloves Victory

Floyd's Brother Wins

CHICAGO (AP)—The brothers bounded by autograph hunters Patterson — heavyweight champion Floyd and his kid brother and amateur hopeful, Ray — teamed up to steal the limelight of the Golden Gloves bouts Wednesday night.

New York's team defeated Chicago, 9-7, and 18-year-old Ray scored the final victory to make the decisive edge.

At 185 pounds, he spotted some 25 to Al Jenkins, a hulking dry worker at Green Bay, Wis., and hammered out a three-round decision—bobbing and weaving and using the peek-a-bop style his famed brother.

* * *

Ray's victory averted an 8-8 deadlock and gave New York its 10th triumph against 16 losses and 8 draws in the series. Chicago won in Madison Square Garden last year, 12-4.

Floyd, who said he drove in from New York in 14 hours, was tied for the championship some day?"

"If anyone kicks about my not think it's good for him to be an amateur too long. I'll manage him.

* * *

"If anyone kicks about me being the manager, then I'll get some one to be a front man but I'll be the real manager. I don't know why anyone wouldn't approve of a brother managing his own brother.

"I think Ray will be every bit as good as me, and possibly become the No. 1 challenger," Floyd continued. "Wouldn't that be something if the two of us fought for the championship some day?"

Sue Lawrence Fights Murder Charge

To Testify in Own Defense

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL JR.

Former mental patient Mrs. Sue Lawrence will be called to testify in her own defense, her attorney said, as the prosecution yesterday closed its first-degree murder case against the Berkley mother.

★ ★ ★

Wednesday's testimony centered mostly around Mrs. Lawrence's onetime paramour, Donald Crenshaw, 28, who emphatically denied under oath that he owned the .25-caliber pistol with which his wife Delores was killed in 1959, and that he ever blackmailed Mrs. Lawrence, 34.

The assistant manager of a local department store said there was "a long range plan" to do away with his 32-year-old wife, and that Mrs. Lawrence "meant to kill her."

"The only possible explanation I can see," Crenshaw told defense attorney James Renfrew of Royal Oak, "was that she (Mrs. Lawrence) told me once that if she couldn't have me, nobody could."

WANTED TO 'BREAK OFF'

The bespectacled witness said he had told Mrs. Lawrence, whom he admitted he saw on "innumerable" occasions, months before the April 19, 1959 murder that he wanted to break off the relationship.

Mrs. Wyvona Delores Crenshaw was fixing her hair in her mother's home at 6230 Snow Apple Drive, Independence Township, on that Saturday morning when in barged Mrs. Lawrence.

There was a brief scuffle for the pistol, which the petite Berkley beauty operator carried in her purse along with an envelope containing $500, and Mrs. Crenshaw fell in her kitchen with five bullet wounds.

Mrs. Lawrence, the mother of a nine-year-old son, was also wounded in the leg. She later was judged insane and admitted to Ionia State Hospital, where she was hospitalized for nearly 1½ years before her release last December. "The only time I ever took any money from her was when we went out together and I didn't have the money to take her where she wanted to go," said Crenshaw, of 28 W. Colgate Ave.

He also testified that Mrs. Lawrence gave him money for rental and for his education at a Detroit university.

★ ★ ★

Sheriff's Detective Marion Bauman testified Tuesday that Mrs. Lawrence told him the day of the shooting that Crenshaw was blackmailing her and that if she didn't pay he could "make things pretty miserable for her."

Police believe the shooting occurred during one of the alleged payoffs.

"What explanation do you have for a Feb. 4, 1959 check for $6000?" inquired Renfrew of Crenshaw.

"This was part of a long-range plan to do away with my wife," he answered.

"Why would Sue Lawrence be part of this alleged scheme?" Renfrew then asked.

"Mainly because she was my wife and I was happy with her and wanted to be left alone. Anytime I associated with Mrs. Lawrence was under duress in that she would come out to Clarkston and cause quite a lot of rumpus because this was the only way she could get me to see her."

"I didn't feel like I was a whole man until this relationship stopped," Crenshaw said. "I wanted it to cease even before I met Delores."

The trial is before a jury composed of 12 women. Hearing it is Judge Clark J. Adams.

Civic Groups Sponsor Adult Classes

MSUO Offers Foreign Policy Course

American foreign policy will come under review in a new course for adults during the spring term at Michigan State University Oakland.

Fourteen civic groups, including the Oakland County Republican and Democratic parties, the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce, and the Oakland County AFL-CIO Council, have joined with MSUO's continuing education department to provide the new study program.

The Foreign Policy Association is co-sponsoring the course.

The course is designed to give local citizens a "long, hard look at some of the critical issues facing the United States in 1961," said Dr. William Rhode, assistant director of continuing education and developer of the program.

"Only an informed populace can direct the government in its effort to protect the ideals and institutions of the free world," Rhode said in explaining the addition of the new course.

Class sessions will be held Wednesday evenings, beginning April 12 and running through June 14. Tuition fee is $10.

"If the concept of popular government is to remain the basic pillar of American democracy," said Rhode, "it is absolutely necessary that our citizens give attention and study to a review of American foreign policy alternatives and raise their voices in support of the most desirable policies," Rhode said.

"In meeting the responsibility of citizenship, citizens deserve all the assistance that can be offered.

"In this regard, organizations specifically concerned about American foreign policy, community groups anxious to promote the health and vitality of a free society, and universities and colleges can perform a valuable service by 'joining hands' to provide an opportunity for citizens to come together for review, study and discussions of the great issues of foreign policy facing the nation today," Rhode said.

Five subjects to be dealt with in the course are "Soviet Challenge and World Leadership"; "Deadlock Over Germany"; U.N. in Explosive Africa"; Japan—Future of an Asian Ally"; and "The Americas in Jeopardy."

Each of these subjects will be discussed for two sessions. The first will be devoted to a lecture by a university professor, the second to small-group discussions.

LIST OF LECTURERS

Three members of the regular MSUO faculty will lecture. They are Dr. Sheldon Appleton, assistant professor of political science; Dr. Melvin Cherno, assistant professor of history; and Dr. Edward Huebel, associate professor of political science.

Dr. Howard Scarrow, assistant professor of political science at Michigan State University (East Lansing), will also participate as a lecturer.

Lectures will be complemented by a classroom study kit of readings and films. A radio program on Pontiac station WPON will precede each discussion meeting.

Other sponsoring organizations are the Leagues of Women Voters in Birmingham, Oak Park, Pontiac, Rochester, Royal Oak, Southfield, West Bloomfield Township, Ferndale and Pleasant Ridge and the Pontiac Manufacturers Association.

"Whether we like it or not, America has become a major leader of the 'free world' camp which stands as the bulwark of communism," Rhode said.

"This thrusts upon our nation the critical responsibility of providing effective leadership in the foreign policy field. Our leaders must concentrate upon fashioning national policies that are attuned to the complex conditions of the 'cold war'—and that will rally the resources, energies and consensus of the non-Communist community.

"And our people must make a special effort to understand problems and issues involved so that an informed and articulate public opinion will provide the vital support so necessary to really effective foreign policy."

Rhode said MSUO officials hope the university course will be able to assist citizens in the area of Oakland and Macomb counties to meet their obligations as citizens.

"I urge all who can to join in a pioneering and significant contribution to the vital quest for peace by taking this course," he stated.

Donations for Needy Reach 3,200 Pounds

Operation Needy, sponsored by Pontiac Local 49 of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes (AFL-CIO) with cooperation of the Salvation Army, is under way in the Pontiac area.

The drive has netted some 3,200 pounds of clothing, appliances and furniture since starting about two weeks ago.

Fred G. Henry of 10 S. Shirley St., chairman of the drive, set 30,000 pounds of used items as a goal.

"Our whole purpose is to try to ease the unemployment problem in this area. We can't get people jobs, but we can make more usable goods available to destitute families at the lowest cost possible," said Henry.

In addition to the 3,200 pounds of donated items, the Salvation Army Men's Social Service Center has reported a sharp increase in calls from persons wishing to donate used or outgrown items.

All items are reconditioned and sold at the Salvation Army Red Shield Stores on W. Pike and W. Lawrence Streets near Cass Avenue.

"We have 12 trucks working for us now," Henry said today. "Some are Salvation Army pick-up trucks and some belong to union members.

"We would like to hear from any civic or fraternal organizations interested in helping. We will give them full credit for all the poundage they collect or donate," he explained.

Full details can be obtained from Operation Needy, Box 261, Pontiac, or from Henry at home.

Henry and cochairman Denzil L. C. Goodwin, local president, are psychiatric attendants at Pontiac State Hospital.
