Home Building in County to Hit $107 Million

By HAZEL A. TRUMBLE

Builders and developers in this area are poised to provide a "heap o' living" for 7,056 new home owners in 1955 at a cost of $107,425,000.

They have obtained and platted the land.

Plans for every type home from the $6,500 two-bedroom one story prefabricated model to the $75,000 split-level custom built modern mansion are off the draft boards of designers and architects.

In a survey made this week by the Pontiac Press, covering all of Oakland County except the southeast corner, major builders and developers in this area readily testify that they believe in Oakland County and its future.

"It's a natural. This county is no gamble. It is a sound and good investment," declared a veteran of 30 years in the developing business who has a $5,000,000 proposed program for 1955.

Their faith in Oakland County and its ability to attract the "moving people" from the nearby cities and far-off places has sent them prospecting for desirable land to develop.

And they have found it in the former apple orchards and pasture lands of Oakland County. They have spotted vacant and undeveloped property and surveyed it from every angle.

Their confidence has been reinforced by Washington whose barometer says we have moved into a state of healthy economy.

Rising incomes in this county (especially in the middle and lower income brackets) have carried a growing number of families into the financial position which qualify them for home ownership. Across the nation, one million more families per year, according to Washington statistics, are realizing that great American ambition—to own their own home.

Oakland County, boast the builders and developers, is right in the path of this mass migration movement and it has everything to offer for those seeking "a spot in the country."

Each reported that land costs are several hundred dollars less than in Wayne County.

Taxes are somewhat lower.

It is only an hour or so to business and industrial headquarters. For some it is a matter of minutes.

"The heart is truly where the home is," said one builder, "and when they come out to Oakland County they shift community pride to their homesite."

Although the largest single development of houses for 1955 will be built in the Joslyn and Walton Boulevard area and is planned to number 1,000 homes, Waterford Township is scheduled to get the preponderance of construction during this coming year.

Its 35 per cent of undeveloped land daily is being readied for new homes, especially around its lake areas.

Colwell Homes, Inc., is the developer of the one thousand house project. It is to cost about $9,000,000. Concentration, they claim, will be on the less than $10,000 model.

"This," said Harry J. Fournier of the corporation, "seems to be in the greatest demand."

Prefabricated homes assembled in Lafayette, Indiana, by the National Homes, Inc., the Colwell houses are completed in a three-week period from the time they move onto the site via truck. Everything is included in this packaged home from the kitchen sink to the bathtub.

Also located in Pontiac Township will be another large development, by Royal Park, in the amount of $1,708,000. This represents 234 homes and is on Walton Blvd., just east of Opdyke Rd.

The City of Pontiac may get a 300 unit federal housing project during 1955. By action of the city commission, negotiations with the federal housing officials have begun.

Waterford Township will see a total of 1,794 homes built by major developers this year. However, not included in this total are the hundreds of homes which will be built by individual buyers or builders.

The former King Farm at Williams Lake and Airport Rds. will provide sites for 300 homes in the $12,500 price bracket. This project is developed by the White Brothers, who are also handling 130 homes at Williams Lake for $11,800; 170 homes at Elizabeth Lake and M59 with the project to cost $2,031,500; 130 homes at Airport Rd. near Our Lady of the Lakes Church to cost $15,500 each and another 80 homes at Elizabeth Lake near Hospital Rd. in the $11,500 price bracket.

White Brothers are also developers of the scenic Waterford Hill which promises to give 250 spacious home sites. This project they estimate at $8,000,000.

U. N. Chief Wins Ike's Confidence on POW Release

President Urges Nation to Back Efforts to Free 11 Captive Airmen

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammerskjold was assured today of full U.S. support for his further efforts to obtain the release of 11 American airmen imprisoned in Red China.

The assurance came from President Eisenhower who said the "fundamental thing" is the safe return of the airmen, and added in a public statement: "We must support the U. N. in its efforts so long as those efforts hold out any promise of success."

The statement was issued yesterday in what was reported to be a move to forestall tough talk from members of Congress and others, lest this in some manner endanger the safety of the imprisoned men or their chances for freedom.

Administration officials are privately hopeful Hammarskjold's recent mission to Peiping will lead eventually to the release of the airmen and possibly other U.N. personnel held by the Chinese Reds.

Hammarskjold told a news conference in New York yesterday his mission had constituted a successful first step and the way for further negotiation was open. But he gave no details.

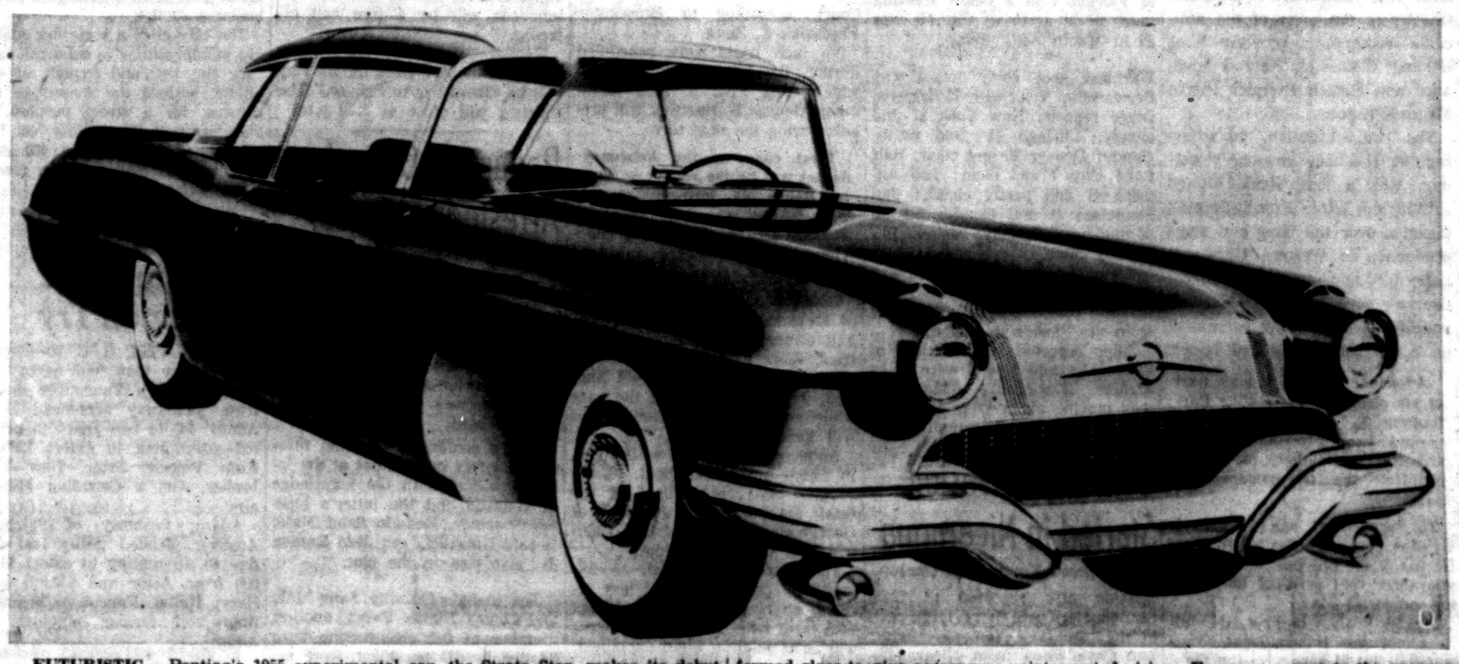

Hammarskjold reported, presumably in detail, to Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. at U.N. headquarters and yesterday Lodge reported to Secretary of State Dulles at Omaha, Neb., where both had gone for a briefing on the operations of the Strategic Air Command.

Dulles talked with Eisenhower by telephone and the presidential statement was released after that talk.

The President said first reaction to the failure to obtain immediate release of the airmen "quite naturally . . . is disappointing."

"All of us are rightly aroused," the President added, "that our airmen have not been long since released by their Communist captors in accordance with the clear terms of the Korean armistice."

Pontiac Motor Strato Star to Make Debut at Motorama

FUTURISTIC—Pontiac's 1955 experimental car, the Strato Star, makes its debut at the General Motors Motorama in New York City, Jan. 20. The futuristic show car, finished in silver lacquer with vermillion red interior is only 53 inches high. The top of the six-passenger coupe is supported by four slim airfoil sectioned pillars and specially formed glass to give passengers uninterrupted vision. For easy access to the passenger compartment, hinged panels in the roof of the Strato Star automatically raise when the doors of the car are opened.

Experimental Dream Car Looks Into Future

Radical Top and Body Design Featured in Pontiac's New Strato Star Coupe

The Pontiac Strato Star, a culmination of automotive stylists dreams come true, will be presented for the first time by Pontiac Motor Division at the General Motors Motorama opening Jan. 20 in New York.

The six passenger hardtop coupe is inspired by the dashing flair of the world's most exciting racing and sports cars.

Most startling feature of this truly dream car is the revolutionary new treatment of the roof and upper body. Designers and stylists have for years tried to reduce the size of the rear quarter roof support panels to attain obstruction-free rear vision while still maintaining firm body support. Until the introduction of the Strato Star they had been only partially successful.

However, the Strato Star introduces an almost unbelievably immense expanse of viewing area with its airfoil sectioned cantilevered pillars. These slim but sturdy pillars actually grow out of the streamlined fins of the rear deck, extend the length of the roof section, gradually tapering to join the windshield header bar.

A structural innovation of Pontiac engineers, these slim columns add a tremendously appropriate air of fleetness to the over-all feeling of the car. The Strato Star undisputably offers greater all-around vision than ever before seen in a hardtop automobile.

"In the Strato Star we believe we have designs many years ahead," R. M. Critchfield, vice president of General Motors and general manager of Pontiac, said. "While this car is not scheduled for production at this time, it may well influence the features and appearance of our cars in the future."

The Strato Star, although less than 4½ feet high, comfortably seats six passengers. The hardtop coupe's innate beauty is brilliantly reinforced with a highly metallic silver colored lacquer. The interior is done entirely in vermillion red and brushed aluminum.

An engineer's and stylist's dream come true is seen in the six inch "access panel" directly over the door. The hinged panel actually flips up when the door is opened, allowing exceptional headroom

Points Finger at Nicaragua

OAS Says Costa Rica Attacked From North; Government Blameless

WASHINGTON, (AP) — Without blaming the government of Nicaragua, the Organization of American States has put its finger on that Central American nation as the source of an invasion of neighboring Costa Rica.

While the OAS did not place responsibility for the invasion on the Nicaraguan government, it urged decisive action by Nicaragua to prevent war goods from moving across its border into Costa Rica.

Meanwhile, Costa Rican forces were reported closing in rapidly on La Cruz, in the northwest tip of the beleaguered country, where an enemy band has grabbed a small area.

Meeting late into the night, the OAS Council adopted a resolution in which it said its on-the-scene investigation commission had reported "a substantial part of the war material was introduced over the northern border" of Costa Rica.

MSC Student Figueres' Kin

Costa Rica President's Brother-in-Law Sees War as Family Affair

EAST LANSING (AP)—A freshman student at Michigan State College has a right to regard the present turbulent situation in Costa Rica as something of a family affair.

Richard H. Beck, of New York City, explained that Costa Rica President Jose Figueres is his brother-in-law.

Beck said his sister, the former Karen Olsen Beck, met Figueres while she was a student at Columbia University and the Costa Rican president was visiting New York. They were married last February in Costa Rica and the MSC student obtained a leave of absence from the army to attend the wedding.

Beck said implications that the Costa Rican government is undemocratic are not true.

"President Figueres led the revolution against the Communist regime in 1948," he said. He termed Figueres "a liberal whose primary purpose is to mould Costa Rica into a highly-developed Democratic nation."

Beck termed President Anastasio Somoza of Nicaragua, the country Costa Rica has charged instigated an invasion, "a dictator who personally owns much of the land in his country."

Beck said the present situation stems largely from a long-time personal feud between Figueres and Somoza.

Aides Claim Ike Planning Stag Dinners to Knit GOP

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower reportedly will continue with a series of White House stag dinners in an effort to knit closer personal ties with Republican organization members from all sections of the country who will be active in the 1956 campaign.

Political associates said the President plans to invite GOP state chairmen and national committee members to the dinners for an exchange of views on national and local problems.

These affairs have been going on several months with business men usually predominant among the guests.

Recently, however, they have taken on a political flavor in which the President has welded closer contacts with the men who will be influential in their states in helping select the party's nominee and in campaigning for him after the 1956 convention.

While some of those who attended apparently came away with the impression Eisenhower is giving more thought to the possibility of running again than he has in the past, direct reference to that subject seems to have been avoided at two dinners held this month.

Little Change Seen in Pontiac Weather

Not much change in weather conditions is forecast for Pontiac and vicinity, by the U. S. Weather Bureau.

Monday will be cloudy and warmer with snow flurries.

Skies will be partly cloudy tonight and tomorrow with a few snow flurries tonight and a low near 20. Sunday's high will be from 25 to 29 degrees. It will be partly cloudy tomorrow night and somewhat colder with a low of 14 to 18.

Yesterday in downtown Pontiac the temperatures ranged from a low of 20 to a high of 26 degrees. Today at 8 a.m. the mercury stood at 31 degrees, dropping to 28 by 2 p.m.

Bridegroom, 102, Building Addition to 1-Room House

J. D. Manues and his bride, Mrs. Willie Grisham, trekked to the altar Wednesday. It was Manues' fourth marriage—Mrs. Grisham's third.

The clerk's record at the county court house showed Manues was born at Manchester, Tenn., April 22, 1852. Mrs. Grisham was born April 22, 1892 near Dewitt.

Manues declared:

Triplets Born at St. Joseph

Three Girls Arrive in Less Than 4 Minutes This Morning

Although little Kenneth and Dennis Forster may have wished for a baby sister when their mommie told them the stork was going to visit the family, they probably never dreamed they would have three all at once.

The boys are rather young to get excited—they're 5½ and 3½—but their dad, Robert Forster, 26, is excited. So is mom, Marian, 26, who presented the family with triplet girls early this morning at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

As yet unnamed, the three youngest Forsters are sleeping healthily in incubators, hospital authorities said. Mother is doing well too.

The triplets, first born at the hospital since November 1953 weighed in at three pounds, 14 ounces; three pounds, 15 ounces; and four pounds, two ounces. They arrived at 5:44, 5:46 and 5:47 a.m.

"We weren't surprised because our doctor said X-rays indicated we might have triplets," the father said. "But were surprised when they arrived early. We thought we had at least six more weeks to prepare ourselves.

"Now that they're here, we're unprepared—in fact, we're downright short of those three-cornered necessities and other things like cribs, blankets and bottles."

Space for the new additions may present a slight problem too. Although the Forsters rent part of a large farmhouse at 3300 Dutton Rd., near Rochester, they have only two bedrooms. Forster said: "I don't know where we're going to put three basinets but we'll manage somehow."

Although Forster has a neighbor girl caring for the boys while he's working, he expects to be pretty busy for the next few days preparing the house, buying supplies, arranging for diaper service and "a hundred-and-one other things."

Interviewed at work this morning, Forster's last statement was: "Boy, could I use an automatic washer and dryer now."

Not Cultural—Just Filthy Lucre; You Interested?

ST. LOUIS (AP)—For 20 years Harry Land, employe of a brokerage firm, did extra favors for an elderly lady client and he always refused pay, jokingly saying "just remember me in your will."

Miss Henrietta Marbes, who died last month at 79, did just that. She willed Lang a 30 per cent share, and an inventory of the estate filed in probate court yesterday shows its value at $195,852.

LOUSIVILLE, Ky. (AP)—It's all a mystery but the Louisville & Nashville Railroad is richer by $1,000.

John E. Tilford, president of the railroad, yesterday opened a plain envelope addressed to him and inside was another plain cover, and a note. It said:

"Dear Sir:

"Enclosed is $1,000 which is due the Lousiville & Nashville Railroad Co. Will you please see it is delivered to the proper authorities."

It went to the treasurer.

No one knows of anything that should have produced the $1,000 bill inclosed in the letter postmarked Louisville.

TAPEH, Formosa (AP) — Five thousand men replied to this lonely hearts newspaper ad: "Attractive widow of 25, high school graduate, seeks husband. Send photo, personal history, and stamps for reply."

Chao Chun now has a new address—the city jail.

Panama Orders Guizado Arrest; Arias in Office

Miro Tells Sensational Story of Killing Ramon, Implicates Chief

PANAMA (AP)—The National Assembly today impeached President Jose Ramon Guizado and ordered his arrest and trial on a charge of plotting the assassination of his predecessor, Jose Antonio Remon.

Then, after almost four hours of a special session which started at 3:30 a.m., the lawmakers swore in 2nd vice President Ricardo Arias Espinosa as the third chief executive of this strategic central American republic in two weeks.

The Assembly was summoned to hear the sensational confession of Ruben Miro, a prominent lawyer, that he carried out the shooting of Remon at a race track here on Jan. 2 with Guizado's full knowledge. Guizado, as 1st vice president became President immediately after the killing.

Under house arrest since yesterday, he assailed Miro's story as "senseless."

Guizado had asked the Assembly for a leave of absence pending investigation of the charge against him.

But the lawmakers turned down the request after hearing a cham-

Schoolmen OK Hardship Plan

William Shunck Wants State Aid in Distressed Areas

The Metropolitan Superintendents' Association approved the principle of the plan for additional state aid funds for "hardship" school districts presented in Detroit Friday by William Shunck, superintendent of Waterford Township Schools.

The group, representing public school administrators from Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties, asked that the plan be reviewed at the state meeting in Grand Rapids next week of the Michigan Association of School Administrators.

As presented by Shunck, the plan calls for a special appropriation from the state aid fund to help those districts which have already done the most to help themselves.

Hardship districts, according to the proposal, would include 140 in the state and nine in Oakland County where valuations have not kept pace with pupil increase.

If approved by the MASA next week, the proposal may be sent to the state department of public instruction for legislative action.

Dr. Francis York Dies in Royal Oak

ROYAL OAK—Dr. Francis York, widely known Royal Oak composer, lecturer and writer, died Thursday night. He was 93.

Dr. York, who retired three years ago as dean of the Detroit Conservatory of Music, was an organist at the St. Louis Exposition in 1904.

A native of Ontonagon, Mich., he was graduated from the University of Michigan in 1882, and later taught at the University School of Music in Ann Arbor and Michigan State Normal College at Ypsilanti. He wrote the first course of music study used in Detroit public schools.

Funeral services will be held Monday at 2 p.m. in Royal Oak.

Rev. Richard Dixon Honored by Group

The World Baptist Alliance committee of the Trinity Baptist Church is honoring the Rev. Richard H. Dixon Jr., pastor of the church, Sunday evening at 7:30.

The choir will present a sacred concert under the direction of Mrs. Sarah Gary. Soloists for the program will be Jewell Reeves, Alice Yeargin, Gretchen Donaldson, Shaylor Harris, Larry Tucker and Cecil Reeves.

Mrs. Robert Burns will be at the organ and Eugene Rush will play the piano.

The Rev. Mr. Dixon will leave soon for a tour of Europe and the Holy Land. Mrs. Cora Black is chairman of the evening.

Two Persons Injured in Two-Car Accident

Reported in good condition at Pontiac General Hospital is Arlene Anderson, 15, of 821 Camden, Ferndale, who suffered a broken left arm. She was a passenger in an auto driven by Melvin Moore, 24, of 1635 E. Otis, Hazel Park.

Ronald C. Hartsock, 22, of 3700 Burdman Rd., Memphis, Mich., riding with Milton Ziolkowki, 48, of 8481 County Park, Goodsells, was treated at the hospital for head cuts.

Oakland County Sheriff's deputies were not able to determine immediately how the accident happened.

Widow of Muehlebach to Get Most of Fortune

LOS ANGELES (AP)—George E. Muehlebach, Kansas City brewery and hotel operator who died Jan. 11, left most of his California and Missouri fortune to his widow, Chloe. His will was filed for probate yesterday.

The petition was to dispose of California property worth $45,000 but lawyers said other property in the Midwest would enhance the estate considerably.

through the door. When the door is closed the amazing panel electrically and automatically returns to its normal position as part of the roof.

A unique drive line arrangement gives greater clearance and permits lowering of the floor tunnel. This innovation leads to the first introduction of full front and rear seats in a car as low as the Strato Star. Even here, Pontiac breaks the bonds of tradition, for the back rest of the front seat is divided into three sections. The center section is stationary, while the two smaller side sections tilt forward to allow easy entrance to the rear compartment without disturbing front seat passengers.

The Strato Star has an unprecedented low center of gravity made possible by its low height of 53 inches and its 120-inch wheelbase.

The Strato Star is powered with a 250 horsepower Strato-Streak V-8 engine equipped with a 4-barrel carburetor.

Emphasizing the Strato Star's thrilling look of fleetness, a rakish line outlining a concavity in the front fender eliminates the feeling of bulk and weight towards the front of the car. The fenders are an integral part of the expansive low broad hood. Two machined and polished Silver Streaks sweep across this area, unmistakably distinguishing it as a thoroughbred of the Pontiac line.

Out of the front fenders grow two headlamp nacelles which terminate at the cowl section. Connecting these two lines at the base of windshield is a fresh air intake for interior heating and defroster units. Over each headlamp is an aircraft type intake scoop which serves as a fresh air vent to the driver and passenger area.

The front bumpers and grille borrow ingeniously from the aeronautical designers. The bumpers are two gull wing sections of chrome, which wrap around the fenders and extend half way across the front where they join a center bar completing the bumper unit.

Parking lamps are housed in twin pods with one suspended below each front fender.

The brilliant deep draw sections of chrome on the wheels resemble turbine impeller wheels and aid in supplying a stream of air to cool the brakes.

The door trim panels of lacquered fiberglas and brushed aluminum in natural color, combined with the pleated seats, headlining, instrument panel and carpeting of vermillion red, produce an unmatched feeling of brilliance and luxury.

Curate at All Saints Has Accepted Call

The annual parish meeting of All Saints Episcopal Church was held Thursday at 6:30 p.m. in Stevens Hall.

After the dinner and hymn singing, the following four vestrymen were elected to serve a three year term: Gerald Guinan, Lee A. Matheson, Clarence K. Patterson and J. Standish Sibley.

Mrs. Arthur Young reported a gift of $800.00 to the vestry from Guild Two as a starter fund toward a pipe organ for the church.

Reports were given for the year and the Rev. C. George Widdifield announced that the Rev. Ward H. Clabuesch had accepted a call as rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church in Corunna.

The Rev. Mr. Clabuesch, curate at All Saints for the past year and a half, will take up his pastorate Feb. 15.

Bonn Officials Predict Ratification in Wake of French-German Talks

BADEN BADEN, Germany, (AP)—West German officials predicted today easy ratification of the Paris treaties in the wake of the amicable conference between West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and French Premier Pierre Mendes-France.

The two statesmen, in a far-ranging 11½-hour meeting yesterday, took a long stride toward settling the bitter French-German disputes over the Saar and arms production in Western Germany. Later they announced that French-German relations had been "favorably developed" by agreement on a number of disputed issues.

Adenauer fulfilled at least part of his pledge to his restive Parliament to clarify the controversial French-German accord, signed last October, to "Europeanize" the German-speaking Saar.

This agreement, one of the Paris treaties, is being assailed in West Germany on grounds it does not guarantee real political liberty in the industrial Saar.

Mendes-France agreed with Adenauer the International Commission should supervise the plebiscite by the Saar's 900,000 inhabitants on the "Europeanization" plan. They also clarified the functions of the neutral commissioner who would control the Saar under this accord.

Mendes-France kept alive his hope for a West European arms pool when Adenauer's economic minister, Ludwig Erhard, submitted proposals in yesterday's conference to modify the French plan. What these proposals contain was not immediately disclosed.

At that dinner, he brought in Key Republicans from the midlands, including Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, Illinois, Wisconsin and Iowa. On hand also were Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall, former Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York and Atty. Gen. Brownell, all experienced in national campaigns.

The decision to bring in Republican organization members apparently is regarded by Hall as a goodwill gesture likely to pay off in enthusiastic campaign support if the national chairman has his way and Eisenhower is a candidate again.

United Presbyterians Hold Annual Meeting

Following a cooperative dinner, the annual congregational meeting of the Oakland Ave. United Presbyterian Church was held with William Bray, chairman, conducting the business session.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Cold and windy weather was the outlook for wide areas from the Rockies to the Eastern Coast today. No heavy rain or snow was reported.

Although cold weather continued in most of the East, it was a little milder in parts of the Gulf States. However, it was chilly in sections of Florida with a below freezing mark of 31 at Cross City. It was 49 in Miami early today.

* * *

Warmest spot early today was Brownsville, Tex., with 75 degrees. Other reports: New York 27 and cloudy; Chicago 31 and partly cloudy; Denver 20 and clear; Salt Lake City 7 and clear; Los Angeles 47 and partly cloudy; San Francisco 41 and cloudy; Seattle 36 and partly cloudy; Moline, Ill., 30 and clear.

A monster of a winter storm was plowing along through the North Atlantic today, but heading away from the Florida mainland.

Ships reported steady winds of 65 m.p.h. and gusts were even higher. The entire disturbance was moving about 12 to 15 m.p.h. in a northeasterly direction.

mission also reported to OAS headquarters here that a large part of the "military elements" came into Costa Rica from Nicaragua.

The Council — representing the 21 American republics — formally condemned the attack on Costa Rica. It asked the Nicaraguan government to act more decisively to choke off war material going across its southern border.

The five-nation commission announced in San Jose it had accepted an invitation from the Nicaraguan government to visit that country today.

Grand Rapids Gas Leak Repaired in Pipe Elbow

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—A gas main leak in downtown Grand Rapids was repaired yesterday after police blocked off the Fountain St. and Division Ave. intersection to traffic and pedestrians.

The pipe was replaced and operations returned to normal by mid-afternoon.

Criminal Trials Begin on Feb. 8

Two Murder Hearings Are Scheduled First on Circuit Court Docket

Jury trials of persons accused of criminal offenses will begin again Feb. 8 in Oakland County Circuit Court, according to Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem.

No such trials were scheduled during the current court term which ends Feb. 6, said Ziem. Judge George B. Hartrick will preside during the next term.

First case on the February docket will be the retrial of Walter Banks, 45, formerly of 116 Wessen St., who has been in Jackson Prison since being convicted of first-degree murder here May 2, 1951.

Banks was tried for the slaying of Alexander Bell, 53, a local pool hall owner. The case will be retried, Ziem explained, because of an error in the first jury's findings. Ziem said he tried the case while an assistant prosecutor and will handle it again.

Another murder trial will follow, in which Antone Bombagi, 48, 161 Pingree Ave., is accused of the fatal stabbing last July 17 of George Spencer, 30, of 1255 Baldwin Rd., Orion Township.

The murder trials will be followed by cases involving less serious charges. Accused persons who have been in jail the longest will be tried first, Ziem explained.

Wyoming Organized

The nation's 41st state council of churches has been organized in Wyoming. The new council is successor to the annual ministers' convocation.

Serving as first president is the Rev. John P. McConnell, pastor of the Union Presbyterian Church in Laramie.

Truck to Pick Up Gifts

The Rev. Leroy W. Shafer urges anyone wishing to send food or clothing on the Relief Truck to bring his contribution by Jan. 22nd to the parsonage at 67 N. Shirley Ave. or to the First church of the Brethren, 46 N. Roselawn Dr.

Traverse Loses $31,130

TRAVERSE CITY (AP) — Grand Traverse County said Friday that fire losses totaled $31,130 in 1954. County fires caused $53,550 worth of damage in 1953.

Deaths in Pontiac Area

Mrs. Frank Blair

Mrs. Frank (Lucy Brandenburg) Blair, 64, died at her home at 444 E. Pike St. yesterday after a year and a half illness.

The daughter of John and Julia Lambert Sylvester, she was born in Sault Ste Marie April 5, 1890, and came to Pontiac from there 30 years ago.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. George Morris of Pontiac, Mrs. Robert Ford of Lansing, two sons, John Brandenburg of Pontiac and Joseph Brandenburg of Drayton Plains, eight grandchildren and nine great grandchildren.

Also surviving are three brothers, Alfred, Edward and Arthur Sylvester, all of Sault Ste. Marie.

Funeral arrangements will be announced later by Donelson-Johns Funeral Home.

Adam Budvesel

Adam Budvesel, 89, 2380 Watkins Lake Rd., died yesterday in Pontiac General Hospital after a week's illness.

Born in Czechoslovakia Dec. 24, 1865, he was a member of St. Michael Catholic Church and was last employed by the Detroit Street Railways. He has lived in this area for 26 years, and was a member of Holy Name Society. He was also a veteran of the Czech Army.

Surviving is a son, Louis, in Czechoslovakia.

Rosary will be recited at the Brace-Smith Funeral Home Sunday at 8 p.m. Funeral service will be from St. Michael Church, with burial in Our Lady of Sorrows cemetery, Oxford.

Elmer Jacob Doelle

Elmer Jacob Doelle, 59, a former Pontiac resident, died early yesterday morning at his home in Harrison after an illness of seven months.

Born in Pontiac Sept. 23, 1895, he was the son of Jacob and Alvina Miller Doelle and married Edith C. Boyd.

Mr. Doelle has lived most of his life in Oaknad County. He was last employed at the General Motors Truck & Coach Div.

Besides his widow and mother, he is survived by five children, Irene of Ferndale, Jack Boyd of Drayton Plains, Donald, Marilyn and Mrs. Ilene Borer, all of Pontiac. A sister, Mrs. Alfreda Miller also survives.

The funeral will be held Monday at 1:30 p.m. from the Huntoon Funeral Home with the Rev. Walter Teeuwissen of the United Presbyterian Church at Drayton Plains officiating. Burial will follow in Ottawa Park Cemetery.

Donald Roy Johnson

Prayer service will be held Monday at 10:30 a.m. from the Donelson-Johns Funeral Home for Donald Roy Johnson, 10-month-old son of David O. and Geraldine Seatt Johnson, 1210 Union Lake Rd. The Rev. Orville G. Robinson of the Apostolic Church of Christ, Redford, will officiate with burial in Commerce Cemetery.

The World Day of Prayer will be held Feb. 25 at All Saints Episcopal Church, 171 W. Pike St. The luncheon will be a free will offering.

Registration will be made at 10 a.m. and the emphasis for the day will be "Response to Prayer." The meeting will close at 2:30 p.m.

Panama's Guizado Arrested in Murder

ber clerk read the confession from Miro, who said he was the man who fired into a lighted enclosure at the race track, killing President Remon and two others.

Arias, who also is the foreign minister, was sworn into office at 7:16 a.m.

Miro's confession said the murder plot was carried out at the instigation and with the knowledge of Guizado and the latter's business partner, Rodolfo Saint Malo. It said Guizado's son Jose Ramon Jr. also was in the plot.

* * *

The younger Guizado, Saint Malo and Tomas Nieves Perez, another member of the construction firm headed by the president, were arrested yesterday.

* * *

Miro said he had been promised the government and justice ministry in the national Cabinet as his reward for the assassination of Remon. He said no money was involved.

According to the confession, made to authorities yesterday, Miro carried out the killing alone. He said he borrowed the machine-gun used in the shooting from a Panamanian who formerly attended a technical school in Guatemala.

Miro's confession said Guizado was fully aware of the plot. It told of several conferences with Guizado in the latter's office in the Foreign Ministry building. But Miro said the plan for the assassination was conceived by himself alone and that he did not tell either Guizado or Saint Malo of the details.

* * *

In a statement made to Dist. Atty. Francisco Alvarado, which was also read to the assembly, Saint Malo denied having discussed the assassination of Remon with Miro. He admitted, however, that Miro had told him in several meetings and conversations a coup was being planned.

* * *

Another statement read to the special session was made by Edgardo Tejada, the student from whom Miro said he obtained the machine gun. Tejada said he smuggled the weapon into Panama and sold it to Miro sometime between mid-September and early October for $150.

A lawyer in his early 40s, Miro is widely known as an "official defender"—a legal officer whose duty it is to defend persons too poor to afford counsel. There were no hints as to what he might have told the National Guard, which is both Panama's police and army.

Five steel helmeted policemen, armed with machineguns, stood guard around Guizado's home in the fashionable La Cresta section of this capital city. A source close to the investigation said the guard was set up to "protect the president against any popular reaction and for the purpose of avoiding new tragedies, the consequences of which would be incalculable."

Guizado, a former student at Vanderbilt University, Nashville, Tenn., served as first vice president and foreign minister under Remon. He stepped up automatically to the presidency after Remon's assassination.

Service Honors Pastor

The New Hope Baptist Church will honor the Rev. George Muskvelly on his 14th anniversary as supply pastor at the evening service tomorrow at 8 p.m.

Several local ministers will speak and the Rev. Jesse A. Long, assistant pastor, will preach the sermon.

From Our Birmingham Bureau

BIRMINGHAM—"Take a Full Measure and Stay Alive. Become a Member of the YMCA in '55," is the theme of this year's Y membership enrollment drive, getting under way today under the chairmanship of Arthur Blakeslee.

A goal of 2,000 new or renewal members will be sought until the campaign's close on Feb. 28.

A race, now traditionally part of the drive, will spur workers on in the form of a four-team mock boat race from Detroit to Chicago and back, scored under a point system.

While this year's goal is 233 more members than have ever before been enrolled at one time, the Y committee of management expressed the feeling that this is justified in view of expansion plans and current increased facilities and activities.

* * *

City Manager Donald C. Egbert will re-study plans for the T-shaped alley with entrance off Martin street, which he said might cost $60,000. Benefiting property owners would pay the major portion of costs.

Petitioners prefer an L-shaped alley, which would provide another entrance from Bates street, but would cut in two property the B. Siegel Co. holds options on for a branch store.

Mrs. Eileen Anne S. de Beaubien

Requiem Mass was said at Holy Name Church today for Mrs. Eileen Anne de Beaubien, 67, of 787 Hazelwood. Burial was in Greenwood Cemetery.

Housemother at Mary Mayo Hall, Michigan State College, Mrs. de Beaubien died yesterday at East Lansing.

She is survived by four sons, William J. and Philip F. of Birmingham, Richard G. of Metamora, Jules S. of Mill Valley, Calif. and two daughters, Mrs. George Scott of Birmingham and Mrs. James Jackson of Rochester.

Royal Oak Asks Condemnation

Seeks Block of Land for 200-Car Municipal Parking Lot

The city of Royal Oak yesterday stared condemnation preceedings aimed at obtaining a block bounded by Fifth, Sixth, Lafayette and West streets for a 200-car municipal parking lot.

It asked that a jury be assembled in Oakland County Circuit Court to hear the case and decide if the land should be condemned. If the jury approves condemnation, it will also set the land's price.

The Royal Oak City Commission authorized acquisition of the property last Dec. 20, terming it necessary to relieve downtown traffic congestion, the court record states.

The city cites a state law allowing municipalities to condemn land "for the use and benefit of the public, without the consent of the owners, for a street purpose."

At present, Royal Oak has two city-owned lots holding 400 cars plus another 52-car lot on leased land.

Draws 2-Year Term in Astor Blackmail Try

VANCOUVER, B. C. (AP)—Rejecting a plea that "no harm has been done," a Vancouver magistrate yesterday sentenced Heinz Adam, 44, to two years in prison for attempting to extort $200,000 from Vincent Astor, New York broker, and a Canadian Millionaire.

Adam, formerly of Salzburg, Austria, pleaded guilty last Friday to attempting to extort $150,000 from Astor and $50,000 from Harry Reifel, Vancouver businessman and former employer of Adam.

* * *

Brought before Magistrate Oscar Orr yesterday, Adam said, "I had to do it. I had no money and my wife was seriously ill in the hospital."

Adam, father of two small children, admitted writing letters to Reifel and Astor threatening to publicize "a black spot" in their pasts unless they paid the sums he demanded. The two men turned the letters over to authorities.

Devoted Pooch Trails Postman to a New Home

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Robbie, a tan cocker spaniel, gave the postman a lot of trouble—not in the usual way but with a display of devotion.

"He took up with me the first day I was on the route last June," said postman James Morris of suburban St. Ann, "and from then on trailed me all over the route and any other place I went. I couldn't get rid of him."

The owners, Mr. and Mrs. George Blammer, tried keeping the dog locked up in the back yard. But he put up such a howl every time Morris passed that the Blammers could find only one solution to the problem.

They gave the dog to the postman.

Stabs 2 Officers During Arrest

Detroit Man, 54, Killed; Condition of Policemen Reported Serious

DETROIT (INS)—A 54-year-old morals offender was shot to death at a Detroit theater last night by 1 of 2 vice squad officers he stabbed while they were attempting to take him into custody.

The officers, Victor Delavalla, 35, and Robert Campbell, 30, are in serious condition in Receiving Hospital. Delavalla was stabbed twice in the back, Campbell once in the left side.

Police said Campbell arrested Eugene Costner, a porter in a restaurant, in the washroom of the Times Square Theater in downtown Detroit on a charge of accosting and soliciting an officer.

Campbell brought Costner to the theater's lobby, where Delavalla was waiting. When they reached the lobby Costner attempted to break away and Campbell grappled with him.

During the struggle Costner stabbed the policeman in the stomach with a pocket knife and Delavalla rushed over. In the fight that followed Delavalla was stabbed twice and Costner ran out the theater's front door.

Campbell ordered him to stop, but instead Costner wheeled, and advanced on the policeman. The officer fired twice and Costner dropped. He died on an operating table at Receiving Hospital while surgeons were working on him.

Costner had a record of arrests for morals violations.

Mrs. DeBeaubien Dies

BIRMINGHAM (AP)—Mrs. Eileen Anne DeBeaubien, house mother at Michigan State College's Mary Mayor Hall for the last nine years, died yesterday at her home here. She was 67. Funeral services were held today at Holy Name Church.

Seek Closer Cooperation in Metropolitan Planning

Individual governmental units comprising the Detroit Metropolitan area of Oakland, Wayne, Macomb and Washtenaw Counties are increasingly aware of need to correlate their planning.

This awareness has resulted in recent years in a combined program of planning for Joint economic, cultural and social growth, according to Paul M. Reid, planning analyst for the Detroit Metropolitan Area Regional Planning Commission.

The regional commission's aims, he said, include working toward cooperation between local units on planning problems and analyzing growth in population, industry and other fields.

"Our basic job," he explained, "is to develop a land-use plan." Such a plan, Reid stated, designates certain area for residential use and others for commercial, industrial or recreational development. Future sewer and water mains plus highways are plotted, he added.

All 130 governmental units in the area are participating in making the plan, said Reid.

Pointing up the area's growth, he said 205 plants employing 100 or more persons were constructed between 1939 and 1954.

The Pontiac area, including Pontiac and Waterford Townships plus Sylvan Lake and Lake Angelus, was employing 117 per cent more workers in 1953 than in 1940, the planner stated.

Some 46,332 building permits have been issued in Oakland County since 1950, Reid said. Of these, 5,700 were in Pontiac and the major portion in South Oakland county.

Expansion north from Detroit and south from Pontiac are linking the two cities "closer and closer together economically."

A great boon to the area, the planner stated, would be introduction of new industries not related to vehicle manufacturing. "Then if auto production slowed down, the slack might be taken up by other industries.

"The St. Lawrence Seaway might cause new concerns to spring up of a type utilizing water transportation."

Marines Walk 25 Miles in Dime-a-Step March

ENCINITAS, Calif. (AP)—The four U.S. Marine sergeants marching for a dime a step from San Diego to Los Angeles started on their third day from here today, with 25 of the 150 miles behind them.

Sergeants Harry Orlish, Kenneth Womble, Warren Flournoy and Wayne Sands, veterans of Korea combat, are setting their steps to the rate of contributions toward the $120,000 goal.

Pays $5 Debt After 55 Years

Foreman of Cotton Mill Who Left Town in 1900 Settles Up

HENDERSON, Ky. (AP)—A cotton mill foreman who left town owing a $5 grocery bill can settle his 55-year-old debt now.

He knows the name of the grocer. It was supplied yesterday by County Judge Richard Staples.

* * *

Staples began checking after receiving a letter addressed to the "probate judge of Henderson County." The writer, identifying himself as W. C. McAbee of Simpsonville, S.C., explained he left here in 1900.

"I owed a man $4 or $5 and always wanted to pay it but kept neglecting it. I am ready to get it cleared up now but I've forgotten the name of the grocer."

* * *

McAbee said he had been a cotton mill foreman, had lived over a store near the mill, and asked the judge for help.

"So I am sending you a dollar to pay your way down to this place to locate someone who is entitled to $5," McAbee wrote.

Staples said he finally learned the grocery was operated by Mrs. Happie Williams and her late husband.

* * *

"I wrote McAbee immediately and told him I'd found the family to whom he is indebted," the judge said.

Attached to the judge's letter was McAbee's $1. "I didn't need it for cab fare."

First A-Sub Starts Sea Trials Monday

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Nautilus, world's first atomic submarine, will start her sea trials on Monday, about two months earlier than expected.

A second 3,000-ton atomic-powered submarine — The Sea Wolf — is under construction at the Groton yards. Two more atomic submarines have been authorized.

Four Stamps to Honor Dr. Albert Schweitzer

The world's smallest monarchy, the principality of Monaco, on the French Riviera, has announced it will issue four stamps honoring Dr. Albert Schweitzer, world famous missionary on his eightieth birthday, January 14.

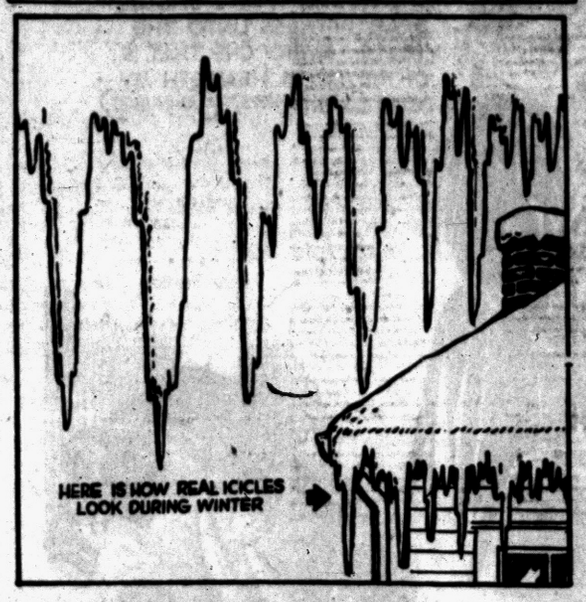

The stamps will be part of a series on great Christian leaders and will represent the first time a Protestant has been thus honored by the little country which is predominantly Catholic.

ICICLES FOR YOUR WINDOW

When winter comes in cold climates ice and snow comes with it. One of the familiar signs of winter is icicles hanging from the eaves and window sills of houses. Here are some icicles you can make to decorate the windows of your house.

1. Using today's picture as a pattern, cut out a series of icicles from a piece of silver wrapping paper. You can draw your own on the paper if you would rather have bigger—or smaller—icicles.

2. After you've cut out four or five rows of icicles, paste them together into a strip long enough to reach across your window.

3. Attach them to the window frame with transparent tape. You'll be surprised how real they look from outside your house.

Nothing Like a Good Cold to Make Children Happy

By SAUL PETT

NEW YORK (AP) — About 500 words. . . .

Home with a cold, wondering what to write about. So are the kids, home with colds. But they're relaxed, almost smug. Is there ever again anything so delicious in life as a cold which keeps a kid home from school and no questions asked?

. . . Now they've got a soap opera on. A woman who sounds like Lady Esther—they always sound like Lady Esther—says in rich, pear-shaped tones, "you'll have to tell John sooner or later."

. . . In another room upstairs, the vacuum cleaner is humming. That's the Lady Esther of this house . . .

Outside, it's been snowing since last night. The preschool kids on the block are out sleigh riding. Wonder if they saw the snow last night? Wonder if they slept? When I was a kid, I could never sleep when it started snowing. . . .

The vacuum cleaner has stopped and the local Lady Esther drops in to ask, "what are you writing about?" "About 500 words," you say, and oh, you ought to be ashamed. That's such an old, old joke. . . .

But still true. Well, just what is 500 words? It is an expensive telegram or a short sermon or a two-minute TV commercial or that white poster which usually hangs on the inside of hotel room doors detailing rates and management's responsibilities and what to do in case of fire. Still, that's somebody else's 500 words. Get your own, son. . . .

* * *

Uh, uh, now it starts. Here comes the local pressure group. One of our little Camillies has just looked out the window and grumbled, "heck, it's not snowing so hard now." The implication of her tone is obvious: Her parents have entered into a gigantic conspiracy with all the earth's natural forces to end the snowfall before her cold gets better. . . .

But about that 500 words. Well, here's an item from Managua. The President of Nicaragua challenges the President of Costa Rica to a personal duel with revolvers at the frontier to settle the fuss between their two countries.

Reminds me of when we were in college. Remember the late nights arguing how the next war should be avoided or fought? One theory: Let the chiefs of state fight it out in an Indian wrestling match. Another: Put a huge French Army of occupation in Germany and a huge German Army in France and make the French troops marry German girls and the Germans, French girls. . . . I don't know; it seemed kind of clever then, or did we steal the idea from "All Quiet on the Western Front"? . . .

Another news item. In Germany, it says, "lonely hearts" can meet other lonely hearts through a coin machine. Just insert two deutschmarks and you get all the necessary data on a card. A fellow ought to be able to get real cute with an item like that. He ought to, but the heck with it. . . .

Here comes the pressure bloc again, even better organized than before. The two Camilles have a prepared statement to make. Yes, what is it? "Well, we're feeling much better and it was only a little cold and it's still snowing and we haven't had a chance to go sledding and we thought, especially since the winters are getting milder all the time, we thought . . ."

No. And that's final. I'm telling you for the last time you can't go out. But if you do, you'd better wear. . . .

Now, about that 500 words. Well, that's about 500 words. Count 'em.

Lansing Man Named State UF Director

Michigan United Health and Welfare Fund, which received $30,000 from the Pontiac Area United Fund drive last fall, has named W. Earl Prosser of Lansing as executive director.

"The Michigan fund is a state-level federation of highly regarded state and national health and welfare agencies, including Leader Dogs for the Blind, the Sister Kenny Foundation for polio and 26 other organizations," explained Dwight D. Adams, Pontiac UF executive director.

"By inclusion in our UF drive, these worthy agencies can be adequately supported in one campaign, along with many well known local agencies," he stated.

Some scientists belive that changes in air pressure with the passing of storms sometimes trigger earthquakes.

Mrs. Farley Succumbs at 60

Wife of Ex-Postmaster Suffers Heart Attack in Waldorf Apartment

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. James A. Farley, 60, wife of the former postmaster general and former Democratic national chairman, died yesterday of a heart attack.

Farley was with her when she was stricken at about 7 a.m. in their Waldorf-Astoria Hotel apartment.

The family said she suffered a heart attack last May but generally had been feeling well since then.

She had been under a doctor's care.

The former Elizabeth Finnegan, she was born in Haverstraw, N.Y., July 13, 1894. She was a graduate of Haverstraw High School and Plattsburg Normal School, a teachers' college.

She and Farley were married April 21, 1920, in St. Peter's Church Haverstraw. They took up residence in New York City in 1929.

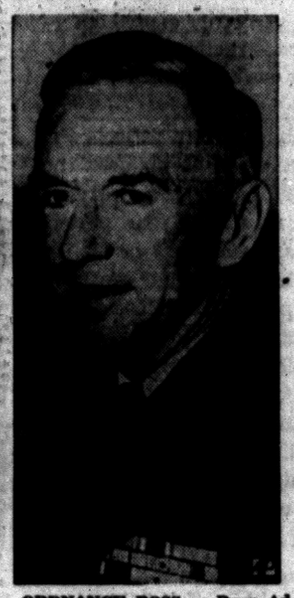

Three years later Farley played a key role in the election of Franklin D. Roosevelt as President. Farley and Roosevelt split after the latter decided to seek a precedent-shattering third term. He is now an executive of the Coca Cola Export Corp.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Farley is survived by three children and seven grandchildren. The children are Mrs. Glenn D. Montgomery, Scarsdale, N.Y.; Mrs. Edward J. Hickey, Grosse Point, Mich.; and James A. Farley Jr., New Rochelle, N.Y.

A funeral mass will be celebrated Monday at 11 a.m. in St. Patrick's Cathedral, New York. Burial will be in Gate of Heaven Cemetery, Valhalla, N.Y.

U. S. to Get 27 Warships Leased to Russia in War

TOKYO (AP)—Twenty-seven U.S. warships leased to Russia during World War II will be handed over in June at the Japanese port of Maizuru, en route to the United States, the Asahi Evening News said today. The paper quoted Rear Adm. Kunikko Ito, deputy chief of staff for the new Japanese navy, as denying the ships would be leased to Japan.

Hint Cooper Ready for India Envoy Job

WASHINGTON (AP)—Former Sen. John Sherman Cooper of Kentucky has agreed to take the post of ambassador to India, it was reported today.

The Republican ex-lawmaker was unseated by Alben Barkley, Democratic former vice president, in last November's election. Well placed informants said the important diplomatic assignment was offered to him just before Christmas and he decided to accept it early this month on the urging of President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles.

* * *

The White House declined comment on the report. Queries brought this stock reply from press secretary James C. Hagerty:

"When we have any appointments to announce we will announce them."

Cooper is a former U.S. delegate to the United Nations and a former member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

The chemical industry is the fastest growing industry in the United States.

These Precautions May Help You Avoid Fakers

1. Deal only with firms whose dependability can be established by intelligent inquiry.
2. Be sure the salesman represents the company he claims to represent.
3. Don't sign papers before you understand the terms and conditions of the sale.
4. Before you sign, be sure that the name and address of the firm is printed on the contract.
5. If promises are made verbally, be sure that they are presented in substance in the contract.
6. Retain a copy of the contract.
7. When you are satisfied that the job is completed, only then should you sign a completion certificate.
8. Pay your bill by check or money order made out to firm. Don't pay cash to a salesman unless you get a bonafide receipt bearing the name of the company he represents.
9. Compare price quotations with those of other firms.
10. Beware of inferences that because a loan is insured by a Government agency the agency guarantees material and workmanship.

Michigan Road Plans Hitting Snag Already

Michigan's proposed highway program isn't starting too auspiciously.

A Republican Legislature refuses to accept Governor Williams' program and the two are at logger heads before the campaign even gets under way.

★ ★ ★

This isn't a particularly new state of affairs in Lansing. The Governor and the Legislature disagree as a matter of form and slowly work towards each other. Sometimes the progress halts abruptly and sometime the two get together on a modified basis.

★ ★ ★

The Press believes this road program is too important to justify petty bickering. The Legislators point out that the Governor provides no specific way to raise the money.

They aren't opposing the program. They oppose the method.

We feel that the whole road question is one of the most important issues facing the country. The Federal Administration is keenly interested for defense reasons. This State is keenly interested in the road problem as it advances the cause of the automobile. The better the roads of the nation are, the better the GMC Truck and the Pontiac car will be. Michigan has a vital interest in improving the lot of the automobile. Anything that assists motor transportation is a boon, and a blessing to Pontiac and the entire Wolverine Commonwealth.

★ ★ ★

The Governor and the Legislature should start together immediately. This is no time for delay and "preliminary conferences."

Senate Bars Wilkowski

Basis of this action is the rule barring from membership persons convicted of infamous crimes. The Senate refused to seat Wilkowski in 1951 because he had served a prison term of 26 months in the 1930s after conviction on a charge of election recount fraud.

The Detroiter, however, had served two terms previously without challenge. Despite the blemish on his record Wilkowski was elected again last fall by a plurality of 85,000 in that city's second district.

Wilkowski fought hard against the resolution to bar him, making an emotional plea for upper chamber approval. He argued that he had paid his debt to society and hence should not be penalized further.

What he doesn't seem to realize, however, is that if the voters of his district had been properly indignant over his crime, he never could have been nominated again, much less elected.

The vote of 21 to 10 to declare his seat vacant was a victory for political morality and Senate integrity. It may not end the fight, however, as Wilkowski has served notice that he will take the issue to the courts.

Good School Financing

Pontiac's Board of Education can be proud of the excellent terms on which it has been able to finance a $2,100,000 building bond issue.

When the bids were opened, it was found that the district had been offered the lowest interest rate, 1.6118 per cent, quoted on any public construction work in Michigan for several months.

This unusually low rate reflects the fine credit standing built up over the years for the district by the Board of Education. As a result our yearly interest bill for the same amount of money will be $22,000 less than that of Dearborn, which is paying an interest rate of 1.789, the next lowest to Pontiac's.

The bonds will finance the new Lake Street school, for which ground has been broken, and an addition to the Whitfield school. They also will pay for a new junior high school and several sites for future elementary schools.

Pontiac long has been fortunate in the high caliber of its Board of Education members. Thanks to their sound advance planning and business experience, they have been able to keep the district's school plant abreast of ever growing needs and at a minimum cost for financing.

Roads for Nothing?

Williams $500 Million Plan Ignores Financing Problem

By JACK I. GREEN

LANSING — Gov. Williams' message to the Legislature Thursday might be considered one of the most amazing documents ever presented there.

This was the message in which Williams formally asked the Legislature to submit to the people in April a 500-million-dollar highway construction bond issue.

The amazing thing about this is that a chief executive of Michigan is telling the taxpayers of the state not to bother their little minds about how a half-billion dollar debt is going to be repaid.

"Let's cross that bridge when we come to it," Williams said.

Now this seems passing strange when you consider that every expert or interested person who has addressed the governor publicly on the matter has said flatly the state gasoline tax must be increased to finance the bonds.

This advice has come to the governor from every group he called in on the subject, from farmers, road builders, city and county engineers, state highway people, truckers, shippers, gasoline men and so on.

None of these groups are opposed to the bond issue. In fact, many of them positively drool at the thought of getting their hands on half a billion dollars.

But each of them faced the facts of life sufficiently to say that "We can't finance this bond issue without more taxes."

Some of them have said bluntly that Williams' unrealistic theory will only mean that the debt charges on the bond issue will siphon off present funds for state, county and city roads.

When you consider that the bond issue supposedly would only be spent on the major routes, it is no wonder that many groups don't want to see Michigan's day-to-day road program stifled for 20 years to keep the bonds afloat.

The explanation of Williams' strange position generally is considered to be this:

1—Williams has always presented himself as the friend of the little fellow and the enemy of consumer taxes. He once vetoed a gas tax increase, the one which is building what roads we are getting now.

2—Now, however, Williams wants a monster road program to give him national prestige in the 1956 election year. But he hesitates to present the people with the cold fact that it will cost them more money.

3—So he promises to rebuild the roads at no more cost than at present by borrowing the money. Possibly, he figures the Legislature will have to impose the tax anyway but he can not be held responsible. Or else he figures the deal will go through without a tax increase and that some future governor will have the unpleasant duty of imposing more taxes to pay off the bonds.

Capitol observers of long experience are more worried about Williams' reckless haste on this bond issue plan than they have been since the sales tax diversion days.

They recognize that it has great personal appeal and that many voters, trusting Williams, will accept the idea that they can get something for nothing.

They are concerned that Williams appears determined as he never has been before to ram the road bond issue through without answering the questions that taxpayers usually raise: "Why do you need 500 million dollars? Where are you going to spend it? How are you going to pay for it?"

He urged the Legislature "to set aside the controversial long-range questions which need not be answered now—and to consider this proposal as the simple matter it really is—a proposal to buy some of the roads we most acutely need, on the installment plan, out of future income from existing sources."

But any man who ever bought a piano on the installment plan knows the payments had to come out of money which otherwise would be used for something else. In this case, the something else is the present city, county and state road building and maintenance program.

Road men say that Williams is way off base when he promises that passage of the bond issue this spring will mean more road building next summer. Actually, they say, next summer's program will be the same whether the bond issue passes or not, you can't get new jobs ready that fast.

A New Police Station Is Needed in City; Let's Get It Started, Implores a Citizen

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

As one visits Pontiac, he cannot help but see the beautiful new store fronts, new store buildings, new schools and the beautiful new city hall which if just about completed.

It makes one feel proud to see a city like Pontiac stepping up to have finer things for its citizens. But I would like to ask, what about our police station?

Now, I have called at the station occasionally on business. While waiting to see my party I did a lot of looking around. I think it is about time we start talking about building a nice, new police station.

I believe I can honestly say that Pontiac has one of the worst. Just look inside and see what condition it is in. It's a disgrace to Pontiac and to those good, efficient men on the force.

We all look to those fine men for help in time of trouble, so why can't we do something about that new building and start bragging about our new police station.

What about our meter parking money? Let it pay for a new building. I am behind you all to get it started. Come on and wake up. Let's make our nickels pay for it.

Put Fluorides in Sewage, Suggests a Pontiacer

About fluoridation. Why do the colored race and Indians have better teeth than we have when they drink the same water? Also many of our ancestors retain their teeth to a ripe old age.

It seems to me that it would be best to put these fluorides in the sewage before it goes to the rivers. Would it kill the fish?

Hundreds of Attorneys Forget Money, Try to Talk Couples Out of Divorce

Meyer is just one of hundreds of attorneys who are cheating themselves out of divorce fees by talking to the feuding couples like a Dutch uncle and giving them the marriage test charts and sex booklets mentioned below. Lawyers thus deserve a lot of compliments for stabilizing marriages and stopping divorces.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case N-324: Meyer J., aged 47, is a prominent attorney in Colorado.

"Dr. Crane, one of my colleagues at Omaha recently showed me some of the marriage booklets that you release via your column," he began.

"I was especially impressed with some of those dealing with sexual difficulties.

"As a matter of fact, I have several clients that would be greatly benefited by the bulletin entitled 'How to Prevent Impotence', for they are jeopardizing the success of their marriages because of the conditions you describe therein.

"Would it be possible for me to have 50 sets of these various booklets for use with my clients?"

About a year ago I was invited to address a Tennessee lawyers convention in Knoxville, Tennessee.

And in that talk I mentioned the fact that modern American attorneys are rendering a great service to our homes by their fatherly counsel to feuding couples.

However, a series of newspaper articles was recently released by a feature writer who stated that lawyers don't help in their advice to such couples.

That is wrong. For I find literally hundreds of attorneys all over America who frequently see that divorce is absolutely unwise and who prefer to stop the unhappiness rather than handle the litigants in a divorce suit.

In fact, many Judges of Domestic Relations Courts and divorce lawyers are using these medico-psychological booklets with their clients, to give them a more detached or objective view of themselves.

One prominent attorney in a midwestern state recently told me:

"Dr. Crane, about six months ago I ordered 48 sets of the various marriage charts and sex bulletins mentioned via your newspaper column.

"Since then, I have had 31 clients who came to me to handle their contemplated divorce cases.

"And with every one of those 31 couples, I have sat down and given them a long talk. Then I have offered them several of your bulletins.

"I usually give them the 'Tests for Husbands and Wives', as well as the booklet on 'Sex Problems in Marriage', plus your 'Budget Chart'.

"If they have children, I also add the 'Tests for Fathers & Mothers'. Afterwards, I send them home and warn them to read these booklets carefully; then put into practice the advice contained therein.

"In fact, I often let the wife rate her husband right there in my office via your 'Husband's Test' and meanwhile I have the husband reciprocate with the 'Wife's Test'.

"As a scientist, Dr. Crane, you may be interested in knowing that thus far only two of those 31 couples have come back to press their original divorce action.

"Now I'll admit some of those 20 other couples MIGHT still return to do so, but thus far only two of the 31 have remained evidently maladjusted.

"I got wind of this strategy at our State Bar Association when a college classmate of mine said he was doing this same thing out west.

"We attorneys often realize that the litigants should not get a divorce for many of them are still basically in love.

"And we don't want you to think we are invading the province of the psychiatrist or marriage counsellors, but many of us attorneys can do a lot of good in checking divorces if we have objective tests like yours to hand to our clients.

How Does a Christian Fit Into Industrial Society?

By DR. HOWARD V. HARPER

One of the clearest and most important trends in modern American life is the growing concern about how to apply religious principles to men's daily business lives. Big corporations are providing chapels for employes in offices and factories. Prayer services are held daily in many shops.

People are buying more and more books about religion as it relates to the problem of making a living. It has become popular for men of one profession or trade to meet together to discuss the implications of their religious faith in their work: What, for example, does it mean to be a Christian lawyer, or carpenter, or manufacturer?

At Evanston, Illinois, last summer the World Council of Churches spent a great deal of time and issued a lengthy report on the problems the Christian layman faces in his office or factory or store.

What it all means is that Christians are worried about how to be Christians in an industrial society. Our culture is built frankly on principles of self-interest. Men are asking where Christian ethics fit into such a culture.

Every year in mid-January the National Council of Churches proclaims Church and Economic Life Week to promote discussion and study of this perplexing question.

This week, following the theme "Thy Will . . . On Earth" millions of laymen and women in the Council's 30 member churches will be concentrating in study groups, panel discussions, and church services on the place of Christian conscience in their own daily work.

Guides and other materials to help in this consideration will be supplied by the Council.

The point certainly is not any attempt to condemn the American system. The council is interested rather in helping the individual Christian to see his work as a daily opportunity to serve God and man.

Baering Down

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER

(International News Service)

These holiday traffic tolls are terrific and we repeat our New Year warning. Don't take one for the road. You may meet a driver who has taken one for the crossroads.

Going back to hoss-and-buggy days would be no improvement. Somebody would mix cocaine with the oats.

They're wrong when they say gasoline and alcohol don't go together. The trouble is they do.

Jim was a great judge of distance. He always lost his hat near a railroad station.

That's still a good idea if you are with a driver who thinks Ben Hur should have had two whips.

Now, you can follow Corbett's caper when you're with a souped-up charioteer. Like Jim you can beat 'em with the hat trick.

There are more service stations along the road than depots. Scram at a service station and wave your boy friend toodle-oo. The law of self-preservation has never been repealed.

Then you'll be reading the newspapers the next day instead of being a statistic.

St. Agnes, who lived early in the Third Century, became a martyr when she was only 13. She is, therefore, the patron saint of all young girls, and according to legend she has always taken a special interest in every girl's greatest problem: that of finding her husband.

For centuries many a girl believed that if she went without her supper on the night before St. Agnes Day, and if she said the right words and performed the right ritual (there were many and various formulas) before going to sleep, her good friend St. Agnes would show her in a dream the man she was to marry. This was one of the most persistent and widespread of all superstitions. It may be that there are still girls who try it.

There is an ancient and lovely custom connected with St. Agnes Day which comes from the fact that Agnes is the Latin word for "lamb." Each year in Rome two lambs are blessed on this day and then taken away to the convent by the nuns of St. Agnes. When shearing time comes the lambs wool is taken and woven into an article of apparel known as the pallium.

The pallium is a small band of white wool on which are embroidered four purple crosses. It is received by archbishops direct from the Pope and is worn by them on solemn occasions as the badge of their high office.

A Jewish rabbi is not a clergyman in the same way that a Christian priest or minister is a clergyman. The word rabbi mean "teacher", and a rabbi is literally an instructor rather than a pastor.

Among Orthodox Jews the rabbi most of the time does not even lead in the religious services. The Cantor conducts the worship, and a layman may rise from the congregation to lead the prayers.

In America, however, much modern Jewish practice has been influenced by the general church patterns of the country, and rabbis usually have pastoral duties much like those of Protestant ministers. They preach at the weekly services, preside over the worship, supervise religious education, counsel their people, and perform the ministerial ceremonies surrounding birth, marriage, and death. But originally the rabbi's function had to do only with instruction.

Woman 82 Years Young Feeling Fine, Wants to Avoid Wrinkling of Her Skin

THE MAIL BOX

HEY, HEY!

I am 82 years young and don't know what it is to feel pain, headache, rheumatis. I walk several blocks a day and am on my feet 15 hours a day, but do not get tired. I can out-distance most women 20 years younger. I dance. But I'm afraid my skin is beginning to wrinkle. I'll follow any diet that will prevent or retard that . . . (Miss C. F.)

Answer—Tell you what I'll do. Write me again and jot down the main factors of your youthfulness, in your best judgement, so I can let other girls in on the secret. In return I'll send you the pamphlet Young Folks And Old Folks (available to any one who provides stamped, self-addressed envelope) and Little Lesson No. 20 which includes a chapter about wrinkles. This is the booklet Cosmetic Blemishes. Little Lesson No. 9 deals with complexion troubles and skin diseases, Save Your Skin. For either booklet send 25 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope. Any reader who wants to have a good complexion but would rather not have any truck with a quack may well settle for a regular daily ration of not less than 1½ pints (three large glasses) of milk or a quart (four large glasses of skim milk, separator milk or buttermilk. If you want to have skin like a baby's you should consume a reasonable amount of the most nearly perfect food.

Wheat and Starvation

Farmers hereabouts get $2 a bushel for their wheat. Yet according to this news item families in . . . are starving. It seems a great pity that people don't know how cheap, how appetising and satisfying plain wheat is . . . your pamphlet might be of enormous benefit if it were widely distributed . . . (F. D. A.)

Answer — I'm not so sure people would read it if it were distributed free. But I, too, have often wondered why plain wheat is not mainstay to fight famine. Also why intelligent people don't use it in their everyday family diet. For the pamphlet Wheat to Eat, send stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Riboflavin

Skin- break in corner of mouth, wouldn't heal though I used various salves for many weeks. Saw your suggestion to use riboflavin for such trouble. Tried it, and in 4 days the break was healed. (Mrs. B. B. J.)

Answer — Does no harm to take daily four 5-milligram tablets of riboflavin for three weeks. Riboflavin was formerly called vitamin G and vitamin B2. Richest food sources of riboflavin are milk, skim milk, separator milk, buttermbilk, cheese, liver, eggs, nuts, greens, peanuts.

Yankee Stomach

Gas . . . bloating . . . heartburn . . . tried many kinds of medicine . . . (Mrs. L. T.)

Answer — First, have your teeth (or your dentist's) put in good functional condition. Digestion begins in the mouth, you know, and if you don't chew properly your stomach gets too much to do. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for pamphlet Yankee Stomach.

Dandruff

Your formula for dandruff is a near-miracle. In one week it brought relief after years of misery . . . (Mrs. G. R. C.)

Answer — Thank you. Detailed instructions for control of dandruff in Little Lesson 24, The Hair and Scalp, for which send 25 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Kumquats

Ben Told kumquats are rich in iodine, especially when one eats about ten a day. Are the other citrus fruits of the same value? (B. G.)

Answer — All citrus fruits are of the same value, but none contains enough iodin to fulfill the body's requirement. Send stamped self-addressed envelope and ask for pamphlet. The Iodin Ration, which tells how to insure the daily intake of the iodin which every man, woman, child, sheep, cow, pig, cat, dog, chicken, horse, sheep and canary must get to thrive well.

Signed letters not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. Brady if a stamped, self addressed envelope is enclosed, etc.

Private Trout Tests Stymied

State Turns Deaf Ear to Request for $4,500 by Fish Researcher

LANSING (AP) — Eddie Parker, manager of a private fish experiment station near Whittemore, may be forced to give up the work he has carried on for the past 17 years.

The Conservation Commission yesterday turned a deaf ear to Parker's pleas to continue his work, which he claims can make Michigan the "trout paradise of the country."

Parker asked the commission to give him $4,500 to continue until July his experiment in feeding fish heads and tails to rainbow trout.

"In two years time we can make Michigan the trout capitol of the world," Parker said.

Fish fed offal under his system, he claims, grow as fast as two inches a month. nNormal rate of growth for the species is about one inch.

Parker carries on his research in connection with a dam built by "More Trout Incorporated," a private sportsmen's group who fish in the Au Gres River.

Parker, himself an ex-employe of the Conservation Department, said Conservation Department employes stirred up local resentment against his project.

He said he lost $1,000 when his house was burned down last summer. State Police, checking on arson leads, have been unable to solve the case, he said.

Parker said he would try to continue his work on a part-time basis, but could not carry on full-time because of lack of funds.

"If Michigan doesn't want to make use of my research," he said, "there are plenty of other states that will."

Fred C. Westerman, chief of the department's fish division, said Parker's research needs more study before any large-scale artificial feeding project could be adopted.

Can't Believe Story of 'Friendly Sarge'

So—Pvt. John Holt, 21, was sentenced to 10 days in jail on a charge of breach of peace, amended from burglary.

* * *

Holt was arrested early Wednesday on a burglary charge when found asleep in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lindsey, who were away.

Holt told the court he was driven to the house by the "sarge," whom he met in a tavern. His new buddy said he lived there, Holt added.

But—Holt was inside the house and a window was broken, police said.

Runaways Fear Folks Will Think Them Delinquent

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—Fear that people will think them juvenile delinquents was the main concern today of one of three runaway New Jersey teenagers who came here looking for jobs.

The youngsters, two boys and a girl, are members of prominent Newark families. They were quite put out that police picked them up and thwarted their plans to go to work.

* * *

They are Joyce Grant, Robert C. Ballou and Alan Knight, all 17. They were picked up Thursday night.

They were vague about their reason for leaving home, but all agreed romance didn't enter the picture.

Knight said his main worry was what the public would think of them because of their caper.

"Ninety per cent of the time when kids like us get into trouble people think they're bad," he said. "I don't want them to think we're juvenile delinquents."

Lunch With Groucho a Must in Hollywood

By EARL WILSON

He ordered a sherry with the explanation, "That's all I'll have, because you can't be on television and drink."

"And that's a paradox," he added, "because you can't be on television and not drink."

★ ★ ★ ★

We were at Romanoff's, Groucho's favorite luncheon spot. But when the captain asked, "Would you care to see the menu?" Groucho tossed back, "No, I've eaten here, and I don't care if I never see another one of your menus."

★ ★ ★ ★

He ordered liver, so well done, so burned and charred "that I won't know it's liver I'm eating."

We talked of Groucho's son Arthur's book, "Life with Groucho," which Groucho wasn't particularly anxious to have done, but which Arthur sold in serial form to the Saturday Evening Post for $50,000.

"When I heard he got $50,000 for it, you could have knocked me over with my son," he said.

GROUCHO MARX

Turning serious for a moment about his thriftiness, which his son wrote about, Groucho said:

"In 1939, when we made 'A Day at the Races,' there were 12 women working as extras who had once earned $1,000 a week or more.

"I was so terrified of having to work as an extra some day that I took $25,000, all I had, and put it into an annuity which would pay me $80 a week when I reached 55."

★ ★ ★ ★

Groucho's great success on TV in "You Bet Your Life" has led to an offer of $100,000 to play two weeks in Las Vegas, and an offer of a small fortune to do a Max Liebman TV spectacular. He's spurned both. But there's a possibility that the life of the Marx Brothers and their mother might be made into a movie next year—without the Marx Brothers appearing in it.

"Who would play the Marx Brothers?" I asked.

"The Ink Spots," said Groucho. "Coolidge could play Harpo.

"We might be in it just to prove we're still alive—although I don't know whether that would be sufficient evidence."

★ ★ ★ ★

"Does Chico still gamble?" I inquired.

"No, he got smart. It only took him 50 years to find out you can't win. Some people are very bright and find it out in only 35 years."

As almost everybody knows, Groucho's program has a secret word device. If a contestant mentions the secret word, he gets a special prize.

Last summer while visiting Vatican City, Groucho lit a cigar as he was leaving famous St. Peter's Cathedral—and it fell from his mouth onto the concrete.

"Oh my God!" Groucho exclaimed, bending over to pick it up. Just then he noticed two priests behind him. One of them tapped him on the shoulder. Groucho suddenly felt embarrassed for what he'd said.

"Mr. Marx," said the priest, "you have just spoken the secret word." Reaching inside his robe, the priest brought out and handed Groucho two cigars.

"I thought they were Italians," said Groucho, "but they were two priests from Cleveland."

New York Dems Eye Washington

Harriman Says GOP Administration Is 'Timid and Hesitant'

NEW YORK (AP)—New York Democrats, while still celebrating their state election victory of last fall, have their eyes fixed on next year's presidential campaign.

"Our target is 1956," said Gov. Averell Harriman in a speech at a $100-a-plate Democratic victory dinner last night. He criticized President Eisenhower's administration, saying it is "timid and hesitant" and has set its sight "too low."

The governor, who has been in office but two weeks, said he hoped to show "the contrast between Democratic boldness here and Republican timidity in Washington."

* * *

The 1956 campaign also came up in speeches by State Democratic Chairman Richard H. Balch and Sen. Herbert H. Lehman. Both talked of possible candidates to head the Democratic ticket.

Balch said New York Democrats will have a major role in picking the party's presidential candidate. Then in an obvious reference to Harriman, he added, "and it's my hunch that that candidate may be sitting on this dais at this very moment."

* * *

Lehman praised Harriman, first Democratic governor since Lehman himself left that office 12 years ago, but said of 1956:

"We are fortunately rich in leaders who can take us to victory in '56, although my own preference has ben and remains that great and eloquent apostle and leader of liberal democracy—Adlai Stevenson."

Harriman refrained from mentioning any possible candidate. He has said in recent months that he favors Stevenson.

Philly Transit Strike Postponed for Week

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Less than two hours before a midnight deadline, transport workers postponed for a week a threatened strike of Philadelphia's far-flung transit system to consider a last minute company offer.

Philadelphians rode to work on their regular buses, trolleys and subways today after having prepared to hoof it or pool autos in the strike emergency.

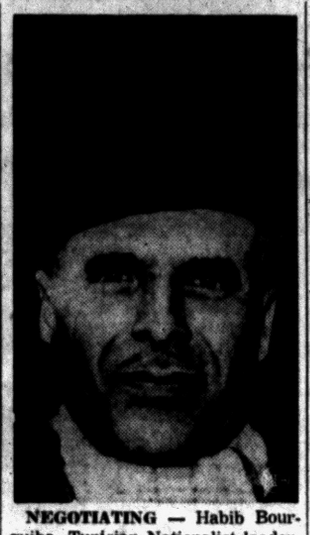

The postponement will give rank and file members of the CIO Transport Workers an opportunity to accept or reject a Philadelphia Transportation Co.'s offer, which included a 7-cent-an-hour wage increase on a two-year step-up plan. The company employs 8,900 operating and maintenance workers.

College Herb Garden Is Druggist's Delight

Every one of the more than 100 different plants produces some form of drug used in modern medication. It's the pharmaceutical garden where State College students in pharmacy get first-hand information about drugs.

Plants from many parts of the world as well as native varieties are grown here. Cotton and sugar cane from warmer climates, the acacia from Africa, horehound from Asia and castor beans from the tropics all thrive in the garden.

Daughters Seek to Break Will

Sue Judge Webster's Widow for Property Valued at $50,000

The three daughters of the late Pontiac Municipal Judge Charles P. Webster are attempting to win title to property valued at "$50,000 or more" which they allege should have been willed to them instead of their step-mother.

Suing the judge's widow, Mrs. Anne M. Webster, for the property involved are Mrs. Betty Paulin, of 2865 Lansdowne, Drayton Plains; Mrs. Mary Galbraith, of Santa Barbara, Calif. and Mrs. Jane Glatte, of Columbus, Ohio.

The three have started court action aimed at establishing right and title to a one-third interest in what they term "highly valuable frontage on the east side of Saginaw street, just south of the intersection of Huron . . ." where the Maling shoe store is located.

They claim Judge Webster, who died Dec. 3, 1953, willed the holding to his widow despite repeated promises to leave the property to them in payment of a debt which the daughters assert the judge owed them.

A hearing date on the matter will be scheduled in Oakland County Circuit Court.

Horse Haircuts Cost $8

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The price of haircuts, like many other things, has gone up in recent years. Race horses shipped to Florida have their winter coats clipped before they start the winter season. Horse barbers get $8 per customer.

Solon Sees Complications in September Convention

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Mundt (R-SD) said today Republicans might find themselves caught short on organization if they delay the party's 1956 presidential nominating until September.

Mundt, who headed the GOP Speakers Bureau in the 1952 election campaign, said he fears complications in arranging campaign schedules if the time between the convention and election day is shortened materially.

"It takes about three weeks to a month to line up campaign speakers and to work out their schedules," he said. "I know the candidates themselves would like to have a short campaign but if the convention is delayed until after mid-September the actual campaigning will be severely limited."

Sen. Watkins (R-Utah) said in a separate interview that if the party meeting is held in September, his home state of Utah might have to alter its primary date to avoid conflict.

GOP National Chairman Leonard W. Hall said over the weekend the party convention probably would be set for early September, and President Eisenhower told his news conference Wednesday he favors a shorter presidential campaign.

In 1952, 12 states held primaries between Sept. 2 and Sept. 24.

In recent years, both conventions have been held in July. Mundt said he thinks a date in either that month or August gives the presidential candidates time for a breathing spell before the active campaign opens while permitting necessary organization work.

Mundt also said he can't go along with some party leaders who are talking about abandoning "whistle stop" campaigning by train in favor of flying schedules for the major candidates.

"I think presidential train campaigning has a definite place in future plans," he said. "While the candidate can reach more people by traveling with plane, he wears himself and his staff out, without the chance to get some rest that is afforded by a train.

"Also, whistle stopping gives a better gauge on the strength of the local party organizations and their ability to turn out crowds and stir up interest. The flying trips make only the big cities but there are a lot of votes in the small towns and a lot of people there who want to see the presidential candidate."

BE THRIFTY

J. L. VOORHEES

To mark the anniversary of the birth of Benjamin Franklin, January 17th, we have a Thrift Week.

I doubt the veracity of this statement but it is claimed, "Franklin wouldn't dot an I, to save ink." The moral is obvious: "Few of us can save much but all of us can save a little."

M. E. SIPLE

Thrift extends beyond the horizon of the coin; we save a little by grinding corn with pestle and hollow stone; we save more by buying our flour in bags; we could use a washboard and tub, a machine does it quicker, better; keys, cogs and wheels add figures, wire carries messages, checks pay bills, sewing machines sew faster, oil propels our wagons, all of which saves time, money and great chunks of ourselves.

The thrifty person saves pennies, and words; he's prudent, alert, farseeing, some call him lucky; he's the one who has when others have-not.

Dance Floor Etiquette Explained

Girl's Partner Can't Find Two Escorts Simultaneously

By EMILY POST

A young girl writes me: "I would like to know if, when two girls are dancing together, and a boy cuts in on one of them, is it proper for the girl to dance with him, leaving her partner in the middle of the dance floor?

"I say that it is very rude to her partner and that she should not break unless there is another boy to dance with the other girl. We have been having quite a discussion about this and would like your opinion."

The fact that two girls are dancing together makes it evident that it is not a formal dance, and under such circumstances it would not be rude for her to leave her girl friend alone.

Dear Mrs. Post: My niece has been living with her mother and stepfather ever since her parents' divorce ten years ago. She has been seeing her father on and off throughout these years but there never has been any great love between them, and her stepfather has been very good to her.

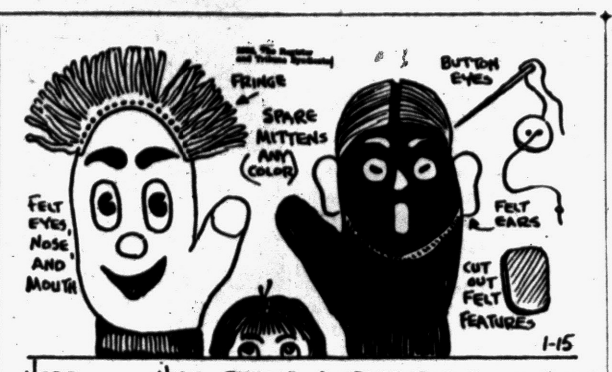

Now that she is to be married, she insists upon having her father give her away and also to have his name on the invitations along with her mother's, omitting her stepfather's name entirely. I think this is all wrong but before I say anything I would like to know from you if this is ever done.

She is entirely correct in having her father give her away, but his name cannot appear on the wedding invitations which are sent out in the names of her mother and stepfather.

Dear Mrs. Post: Since my husband's death several months ago, most of my mail from friends and relatives comes addressed to Mrs. Mary Jones. This distresses me very much as my husband and I were very happy together and it gives me some consolation to use his name.

Will you please tell me how I can get these people to address me by my husband's name without offending them?

You can perfectly well tell these friends and relatives frankly that you wish to be addressed by your husband's name which is correctly yours for life.

Try It

Glove Puppets Are Fun

It has been some time since we have had any puppets in Try It. Here are some which are really different.

These puppets are made from mittens. What about it? Do you have a good mitten left after you have worn out the other? Do not use a still wearable pair of mittens, but look around the house for an odd one. Look at the drawing. See how funny faces can be put on mittens with bits of felt. The first mitten is white so dark features have been cut out and glued in place.

The other mitten is a dark blue so light colored felt has been used. These features have been sewed in place. Use odd fringe for hair, then make button or felt eyes, nose, mouth and ears. Set a card table on its side for an easy-to-make stage.

You can also put a piece of material over the table to make it look more like the back drop of a stage.

Brigance Style Has Simple Beauty

Brigance, one of America's most versatile and regularly honored designers, is an exponent of the understated, simple look in clothes. These particular facets of his creative genius are wonderfully presented in today's coat dress jumper with detachable buttoned-in dickey.

Destined to become one of the most lived-in dresses in your closet, it is easy to make and offers endless opportunities for change about. The pattern gives directions to put in sleeves or not, so that you can wear the jumper over your own sweaters or shirts, adding buttons on a strip for the bodice buttonholes.

Originally in a sunny yellow linen with a yellow and white striped dickey, it is just as right in cottons (pique would be stunning), shantungs, foulards, dress weight wools or jersey. Use a contrasting texture or color for the bib.

| Bust | Waist | Hips | Sizes |
|---|---|---|---|
| 34 | 24 | 35 inches | 10 |
| 35 | 25 | 36 inches | 12 |
| 36½ | 26½ | 37½ inches | 14 |
| 38 | 28 | 39 inches | 16 |
| 40 | 30 | 41 inches | 18 |

Size 12 requires 4⅜ yards of 39 inch material for dress, ½ yard of 39 inch material for contrast and ¾ yard of 39 inch material for interfacing. To order Pattern 1208, address Spadea Syndicate Inc., Box 545, G.P.O., Dept. P-6, New York 1, N.Y. State size. Send $1.00. Aimail handling 25 cents extra. ## Hair Stylist Turns Back to Camera

NEW YORK (INS) — When it comes to home hair-styling, says an expert in the field, don't look at the birdie—turn your back to the camera instead.

Victor Vito, New York hair stylist who claims women can "do-it-themselves"—no matter how fancy the coiffure — has found that a series of photos of the back of the head can help a woman style her own hair.

He is running a Home Hair Stylist School, teaching the facts of styling, coloring, permanents, and even makeup to go with the new hairdo.

The complete "make-over" course includes 21 hours of individual and class instruction in five sessions. Candid camera shots are taken of each important step in the process of converting to the "new woman."

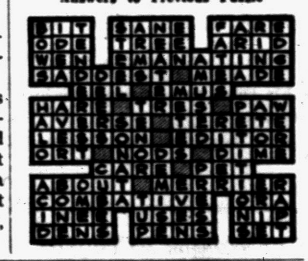

According to Vito, satisfied graduates say these snapshots of how their hair is set, front-back-and-sides, show them where to set each curl, how much hair should be in each curl and how the curls are made.

The subjects taught are: Hair setting, coloring, permanent waving, the art of shampooing and makeup and illusion.

Common hair problems, such as too thick, or too thin hair, split ends, cowlicks, etc., are covered, as well as how to look more than passable in glasses.

The "Do-It" school has even taken into consideration the problems of the working girl—there are night classes as well as day sessions.

Answers to Previous Puzzle

She Hates Confinement, Thus Seeks Outside Job

By ANNE HEYWOOD

"Are there any jobs where I could work on the outside and where my time is my own, other than a saleswoman's job?

"I am happy when I am with people outside, but I cannot stand the confinement of nine to five office work. I have taken the census, and loved it.

"Are there any other jobs of this sort, where I would get paid by the house, or by the individual? I cannot bring myself to selling—I have tried it."

Market research, it seems to me, would be this woman's best bet. It is not confined to an office, it involves contact with people, but it is not sales work.

Market researchers go around and interview people to find out things which a manufacturer wants to know about his products or services, such as what people think of the product, how they think it compres with competing products, what changes in the product or its package would be effective, and sometimes what people think of a contemplated new product.

To get such a job, you have to contact the research organizations who do such work, and who hire the workers throughout the country. Many of the firms are located in New York City, but most have branch offices throughout the country.

Get to your library and ask to see Bradford's Survey and Directory, Marketing Research Agencies in the United States. It is compiled by Prof. Ernest S. Bradford of Manhattan College.

Or get a copy of the Manhattan Classified Telephone Directory; sometimes your local telephone company will let you refer to it, if you do not live in New York. Look under Market Research and Analysis, and you will find a long listing of the firms.

Then write them, explaining your interst in that kind of work and giving the experience you've had before in dealing with people — census-taking, sales, or whatever. If you will cover enough of them by mail, you will probably find a taker.

Be sure to explain what territory you could cover, and what hours you could devote to the work.

Many times, the New York office will refer you to their local office near you, where the interview will take place. Market research demands many workers, and does not, as a rule, have an age limit. Any woman who likes people, but does not like to sell, should consider this field.

Good Humored Teasing Never Harmed Anyone

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

"Dear Miss Woodward: I seem to be fairly popular with boys, but they always seem to be teasing me. I don't know whether to tease them back or ignore them. Which should I do?"

Boys aren't likely to tease a girl they loathe. They want nothing to do with her. They've nothing to say to her — they leave her alone.

But it's fun to tease a lively, attractive girl. Their fast cracks whistle by her ears. It's more fun when she comes back with some quick ones of her own.

Why ignore a game that's fun to play? Keep up your own side of the teasing. Good teasers can take it.

"Dear Miss Woodward: This boy and I have liked each other for almost a year. We've a lot in common, and our mothers know each other well. Outside of school he smiles at me and visits; but in school he rarely ever speaks to me.

"I've often come to the conclusion that it's because so many people tease him about me. He doesn't date me or anyone else. So please tell me what to do."

Your boy friend is being teased by the idea of liking a girl, as so many other boys do when they begin to realize girls are attractive. He hasn't started to date yet — he hasn't even begun to do any of the things boys do when they like a girl. He's practically afraid to show that he even knows you around school.

That's often the way it is at the beginning. And what can you do but wait until your romance mellows a bit and ripens into real dating? Keep smiling and visiting with him when he's willing to respond. Keep being friendly. When an invitation comes along that he might like, give it to him. When he gets around to being really interested enough in a girl to date her, you'll be on the top of his list.

"Dear Miss Woodward: A very cute boy likes me but I don't think I like him. I just don't want to get serious about any one boy just yet. He has asked me to several dances but I turned him down each time and went with my girl friends.

"I thought if I went with him I wouldn't be able to dance with other boys. All of my girl friends think I should like him. Should I take a chance and go with him even if I don't care for him too much? Or should I go on playing the field?"

An invitation to go to a dance with a boy is, in my book, far more exciting than going with the girls. An escort makes the whole party more fun, even if you have to dance with him pretty steadily. Seems to me you're teasing yourself out of one perfectly good idea because you're convinced that a free-lancing scheme is better.

You say he's a very cute boy. What's the harm in having a date or two with him? It doesn't mean you have to go steady with him. You can still have other boys for friends, and go your gay, free-lancing way.

I'd say take a chance on an evening of fun with him. You might find you like him better than you think. And wouldn't that be a joke on somebody?

Viernes Dance Club Looks Ahead to Guest Night

Married this afternoon in Milwaukee were Joan Webb of West Huron street and Norman Earl Johnson of Milford. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley T. Webb of Milwaukee and he is the son of the Oliver Johnsons of Vero Beach, Fla.

MRS. NORMAN EARL JOHNSON

Joan Webb Speaks Vows With Norman E. Johnson

Plymouth Congregational Church of Milwaukee was the setting this afternoon for the marriage of Joan Webb of West Huron street to Norman Earl Johnson of Milford.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley T. Webb of Milwaukee and he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Johnson of Vero Beach, Fla.

A gown of pure silk dupionni over satin and tulle was worn by the bride. The gown was accented by alencon lace which formed the V neckline. A white satin cap edged with pearls secured her fingertip veil and she carried a cascade arrangement of phalaenopsis orchids and stephanotis.

Mrs. Haven Spencer of Ann Arbor attended her sister as matron of honor and other attendants were Mrs. Forest Melmer of Milford, sister of the bridegroom, and Mrs Jack Hafner of Bloomington, Ind.

They wore gowns of garnet crystallette fashioned with off-the-shoulder necklines and pleated bodices. Pink beaded bands secured their short veils and they carried nosegays of white carnations and pink garnett roses.

The bride's mother greeted her guests at a reception held at Tripoli Country Club wearing a dark blue gown of silk barathea with mauve accessories and an orchid corsage. A breakfast for out-of-town guests was held during the morning at Milwaukee Athletic Club.

For a wedding trip the new Mrs. Johnson changed to a mink brown jersey dress with satin trim and matching accessories. The couple will reside in Pontiac.

The bride is a graduate of Stephens College and Michigan State College. He is a graduate of Alma College where he was affiliated with Phi Phi Alpha fraternity.

Group Gathers on Anniversary

Christian Women's Fellowship of First Christian Church met Tuesday evening at the church, on the fifth anniversary of their adoption of this name and affiliation with the national fellowship.

This year's study subject is India and for the program Mrs. Janet Hoyt interviewed two "Indian women," portrayed by Mrs. Sarah Brown and Mrs. Delpha DuVall.

Mrs. A. T. Buckler led the dedication service for gift boxes which will be filled and turned in at the state convention in May. The money from these boxes will be used to further mission work and to bring students to the United States from foreign lands for more study.

Mrs. Buckler also led the devotional service.

Sarah McCarroll Hears Dr. Whitmer

Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, superintendent of Pontiac Public Schools spoke to Sarah McCarroll PTA Thursday evening on the subject of progressive educations. He compared the present system of teaching with that of pre-Revolutionary War days.

Mrs. Willard Deweese was in charge of the social hour assisted by Mrs. J. L. Slaybaugh, Mrs. Henry McPeake, Mrs. James Wiley and Mrs. George Hylla. Mrs. Deweese and Mrs. James Morse presided at the tea table.

White Shrine Plans Future Activities

Plans for the Michigan-Ontario Association meeting to be held Feb. 23 were announced when Pontiac White Shrine 22 met Wednesday evening in Roosevelt Temple.

It was announced that the annual memorial service will be held at the next meeting on Feb. 9. Before the meeting a drill team will serve a dinner.

On Feb. 5 the group will hold a party in the home of Mrs. Russell Marion. White Shrine officers' card party is scheduled for Jan. 26.

Newcomers Hold Bridge Luncheon

MSC Students Active, Mason Hall Plans Party

By DELORES WEST

Although the shiny newness has worn off the winter term at Michigan State College and collegians are once again becoming accustomed to the routine of classes, several Pontiac area students are taking time out from their studies this weekend to have fun.

"Winterlude" will be the theme for the term party being held Saturday evening by Mason Hall, one of the women's dormitories on the campus.

Among those dancing amid sparkling and imaginative winter decorations will be Betty McCully of West Iroquois Road and Kenneth Ferguson of North East boulevard; Janet Levely of Illinois avenue will attend the dance with a Pontiac guest and University of Michigan graduate, Ed Leland.

Dancers will also include Carolyn Lorenz of LeBaron street and Armen Googasian of East Iroquois road; Dorothy Bell of Hudson street being excorted by Wolf Mattes, a Detroit junior.

Elaine Kneale will spend her time entertaining her sister, Janet, who will be visiting her this weekend. They reside on Mark street.

Betty Wortman of Dwight Avenue will take time out from her studies on the MSC campus to attend the wedding of Patricia Short in Pontiac this evening. Betty is affiliated with Chi Omega sorority.

Also leaving East Lansing for the weekend is Jerry Breen of Berwick boulevard. Jerry will travel with the MSC Fencing Team to Iowa for a contest there. He is a member of Phi Kappa Tau fraternity.

Yomar Group Plans Event

Mrs. Emil Bruestle's Dover road home was the setting for the Thursday evening meeting of Yomar Group of First Presbyterian Church.

Assisting the hostess were Mrs. Howard White and Mrs. Harry Pattison. Mrs. Earl Bright was welcomed as a new member.

Mrs. Valus Gordon led the group in the study of India and Mrs. Neil Gray gave devotions.

Guests were Mrs. Henry Beard, Mrs. Earl Van Dyke and Mrs. Charles Edwards.

Plans were made for a Valentine party to be held on Feb. 12. Members' husbands will be invited to the party which will be held in the Avondale avenue home of Mrs. Howard Wideman.

Mrs. Virgil Smith and Mrs. James Sutton presided at the refreshment table.

Maria G. Butler Announces Date

Mr. and Mrs. Stahl Butler of Lansing announce the engagement of their daughter Maria Gould to Sgt. Robert B. Spence, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Spence of Birmingham.

Miss Butler was graduated from Michigan State College where her fiance also attended. He is now stationed at Arlington, Va. with the Army and will receive his discharge in June. An August wedding is planned.

Spring Fashion Ideas Giddy, Costly

NEW YORK (INS)—You can buy the cute, the giddy and the original in fashion ideas this spring—provided you've got enough ready cash.

Twenty-five dollars and up will fit you into a bathing suit right out of the Mack Sennett movies. Two hundred dollars and up will give you a rhinestone-studded lace coat to wow the neighbors. Another $200 will buy you a simple but dramatically chic coat with an impressive label.

All these things, and plenty more, were shown to fashion editors today by a trio of style names—Claire McCardell, Originala, and Monte-Sano and Pruzan.

It's Miss McCardell who thought up the bathing suit and playthings from silent film styles. They're delightfully wierd concoctions that come up to the collar bone and are striped loud enough to stop the keystone cops, but demand a figure that would look good in a flour sack.

This prize designer, however, is also offering some serious and wearable things. Her famous sack shape dresses come closer to shoulders and hips this year, but still provide their own separate belts to make the natural waistline. And Miss McCardell's fitted cottons look very 1955 in bright plaid and vivid color combinations, like pink and orange.

The Originala spring collection contributed the lace coats. They are made of Alencon lace over white fleece, with rhinestones and pearls added.

This collection emphasized the glittery and lavish coat. As an example, there was one full length coat with gold leaf embroidery and gold beading, a white fleece cape stole studded with rhinestones, pearls and gold, and a full-length coat yoked in pearls, gold and fake but shiny "gems."

The coats designed by Vincent Monte-Sano were not as eye-blasting, but are still worth looking at. This collection endorses the "long, slim, eased-waist" idea for spring, but makes it unusually soft and graceful — with original touches.

Monte-Sano puts volume even into slim coats with the addition of back pleats. He adds a subtly-bloused back to fitted reefers, and his long torso jacket suits are unusually graceful and soft in character because of ascot-tied collars, scarfed necklines or yoked and belted cut.

Joanna Kindley Is Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. William A. Kindley of Birmingham announce the engagement of their daughter Joanna to Pvt. Lowell O. Bird, son of Dr. and Mrs. Orson D. Bird of Grosse Pointe.

Joanna is a senior at the University of Michigan and a member of Collegiate Sorosis. Her fiance is a graduate of the University of Michigan and is now stationed at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo.

Amvets Groups Co-Sponsors for Feb. Dance

Jimmy Dey Post 12, Amvets, and the Post Auxiliary will hold their annual Midwinter Ball, a semi-formal dance, at Glen Oaks Country Club Feb. 19.

The affair will be open to all Amvet members and their friends, and will start at 10 p.m., according to co-chairmen Louis Haddon and Dan Murphy.

Among those invited are national and state Amvet officials. Past Commanders Richard I. Moore and Milton F. Cooney will serve as welcoming committee.

Auxiliaries Meet

Oakland County Council of VFW auxiliaries met Thursday evening in the VFW Hall on South Saginaw street. Mrs. Herman Mueth, department legislative chairman talked on veteran legislation.

Mary Theurer Sets Date

The engagement of Mary Kathryn Theurer to William H. Daeschner, son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Daeschner of Birmingham has been announced by her father Edwin L. Theurer.

Miss Turner was graduated from the Liggett school and the University of Michigan where she was a Delta Gamma. Her fiance was graduated from Purdue University where he was affiliated with Phi Gamma Delta fraternity. The couple plan a summer wedding.

Detroit Layman Speaks at Dinner

Men's Club Entertains at First 'Ladies' Night' Wednesday

Waldo H. Hostettler of Detroit, a layman with 30 years experience as Bible teacher, Church School superintendent, lecturer and illustrator, will be the guest of the Men's Club of the First Presbyterian Church at their first "Ladies Night" to be held at the Church Wednesday Jan. 19 at 6:30 p.m.

The dinner will be prepared by Bradley Scott, a club member.

Mr. Hoestettler has spoken and performed feats of magic before church and school groups throughout the United States and Canada.

Sunday evening the Tuxis Society of the First Presbyterian Church will begin a series of meetings on problems that confront young people.

"Differences in Protestant and Roman Catholic Beliefs," will be the subject to be discussed tomorrow by Jo Ann Hill, Karen Beam, Betsy Bradley, David Drury and Bill Hill. Refreshments will be served by Wayne Ostrander.

Future meetings will deal with such themes as: "Is Science Displacing Religion?" "Alcoholic Cats and People," and "If I Marry a Roman Catholic."

'Passion Play' Pictures Shown by Nazarenes

Churches of the Nazarene in Pontiac, will cooperate with the Church of the Nazarene, 280 E. Lincoln, Birmingham, at 7:30 p.m. Monday in a public showing of color slides of the "Passion Play," produced once each decade in Oberammergau, Germany.

Narrator will be the Rev. E. Drell Allen, U.S. Air Force chaplain from 1952 to 1954, who took the pictures last March while visiting the Bavarian village.

The Rev. E. W. Varian, pastor, said the play first originated in 1634 in the midst of the black plague and that when Oberammergau fell victim, the people pledged they would re-enact the passion of Christ every ten years, until the end of time, for the comfort of the suffering, the conversion of the presumptious and contrition of heart.

Christian Temple Class Holds Monthly Meeting

The monthly meeting of the Loyal Berean Class met in the church parlors of Christian Temple recently, with 50 members present. A cooperative dinner was served and a male quintet composed of James Maddox, Manford Plake, Gordon DuFrain, Howard Bertram, and Stanton Blackstone presented several selections. Devotions were given by Earl Vance. William Goodwin showed slides of his trip through Grand canyon, Boulder Dam and California.

Bifocals

By DON D. TULLIS

"I'll never forget last New Year's day," said a friend of mine, "for it was on that day the oculist condemned me to bifocals." He found fault with Franklin for inventing such contraptions and with the doctor for suggesting them.

As the equator divides the earth's surface into the northern and southern hemisphere, so each new year divides, for many people, the first of life from the last "for which the first was made." It is a point of no latitude, but a time for charting one's course anew, for determining whether to face the future foolishly, meanly or victoriously.

When ships cross the earth's equator and Neptune arises from his watery castle in Aegae bearing his trident, the passengers play all sorts of foolish pranks. Some people act in the same silly manner when they pass middle life. Women wear girlish gowns, making themselves "fair to no purpose and artful to no end." Men dress in tawdry tailorings and claim to be as young as they ever were. Bifocals are often worn by fools.

Meanness is also a mark of some aging folk. The matron of a Home for Aged Women, where I was to speak, told me their oldest inmate had died the night before. "But," she said, "please do not mention her, for she was so mean the other women hated her."

It is not often that a peevish old person will confess his meanness like Margaret Fishback's character who exclaimed, "The older I grow the meaner I get. Don't tell me, I know, the older I grow, like peanuts and snow, like gossip and debt, the older I grow the meaner I get."

Happily, the great majority of those who have crossed the equator of middle life face the future with a song. A ninety year old woman was told she was beautiful. She replied, "I should be for I have had all these years in which to put on my make-up." Goodness, kindness and faith in God and mankind are the ingredients of a make-up that does not fade, but grows more beautiful with the years.

They who are wise make this their purpose and prayer, "Let me grow lovely, growing old. So many fine things do. Laces and old ivory, gold and silks need not be new. There is beauty in old trees, old streets a glamor hold. May I, O Lord, grow lovely growing old."

Confident Living

'The Hammer Shatters Glass or Forges Steel'

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

Years ago, I had a great friend, Channing Pollock, the famous playwright. He was a wonderful human being. I remember a curious but wise statement that he once made. "Men and motor cars go forward by a series of explosions."

It's true, isn't it, that a motor car, however beautiful, cannot fulfill its true function, which is to transport people, until it has a series of internal explosions. Just so a human being may use his difficulties to forge ahead in life. They urge him forward with controlling power when rightly used.

No one can ever make much of himself until he creatively adjusts to the difficulties, hardships and suffering of living. These test what a person has within him. You can permit the "explosions" of difficulty to tear you to pieces, or they can become your motive force. The secret of successful living is the control and use of the power which difficulties release into our personalities.

PEALE

How do we achieve the ability to use difficulties in this way? One technique is described in the thirteenth verse of Ephesians: "Wherefore take unto you the whole armor of God, that ye may be able to withstand in the evil day, and having done all, to stand." This passage teaches a great truth relative to achieving power over difficulties, namely, to utilize "the whole armor of God;" in other words, full spiritual force.

I suppose that most of us have, at times, employed part of our potential spiritual force, and even a little faith gives us some power and defense against trouble. But when we go all out for God and really pray and wholeheartedly believe and serve humanity fully, we gain super-strength over difficulty. By such complete application of faith, we actually have power to spare.

I received a letter from one of our country's ambassadors abroad. This man was disappointed in the post to which he was assigned, it being located in a very hot and somewhat primitive country. On his way to his assignment, he lingered in Miami deferring his unpleasant mission as long as possible. While in Miami, he happened to read a column I had written about how the practice of the presence of God gives power to meet even the most difficult situations.

Although not a formally religious man, he was comforted by the idea that God would go with him to his new post. Indeed, he was facinated by the concept of practicing God's presence. So, arming himself with this spiritual idea which was quite new to him, he went confidently to his station. The result was a complete change in attitude, and he now is actually enjoying his work, as the following quotation from his letter indicates.

"Do you know why I am happy and find so much opportunity for service here?" he wrote. "It is because God is here and I am in His presence. When I made my first call on the ruler of this country I prayed while I was waiting to be received. I could feel the Presence beside me and my joy is great because I know that God is with me at all times.

"I go to work and He usually sits in a chair by my desk and at times seems to put His hand on my shoulder and I can feel His power flowing through me. This is usually when I have a difficult problem to solve or an important decision to make, and of course, I ask God's help. It is such a wonderful thing to be in partnership with God. I don't worry any more, and I am not unhappy because I know that God is with me, and the difficulties which troubled me have actually proved to be assets."

This American diplomat "took the whole armor of God." By an internal spiritual "explosion," namely a change of thought and attitude, he learned creatively to adapt difficulty in making a greater person of himself. I am sure he became a more adaquate representative of our country.

There is an old proverb which is full of wisdom: "The hammer shatters glass or forges steel."

Whether we break or become stronger under the blows of life depends upon what is in our nature. If we have saturated the mind with faith and spiritual understanding, life's difficulties only serve to make greater souls of us. They are "explosions" that propel us forward.

Dioceses Drive Against Indecent Literature

By Religious News Service

NEWARK, N. J.—All of northern New Jersey is being covered in parallel campaigns by two Roman Catholic dioceses against indecent literature.

The Diocese of Paterson launched its new drive at Vespers in the Cathedral of St. John the Baptist, Paterson. The Archdiocese of Newark will touch off its campaign Jan. 16 at a similar service in Sacred Heart Cathedral, Newark.

Decency committees have been set up in all parishes. In the Newark Archdiocese, these are organized under the leadership of an Archdiocesan Decency Committee, headed by the Rev. Aloysius S. Carney.

He predicted that non-Catholics would support the campaign, saying "this is a moral problem and its solution appeals to wholesome people of all religions."

Michigan Pastors Hold Conference at Ann Arbor

More than 500 Michigan ministers and their wives are expected at the 16th Annual Michigan Pastors' Confrerence to be held at the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, Monday through Wednesday January 17-19, 1955. The conference is jointly sponsored by the University of Michigan Extension Service and the Michigan Council of Churches.

Dr. Carl Martenson, Pastor of the First Park Congregational Church of Grand Rapids, is general chairman. A main event in connection with the conference will be the annual meeting of the Michigan Council of Churches to convene the first night.

The two featured out of town guest speakers will be Dr. John A. Mackay, distinguished president of Princeton Theological Seminar, and Dr. Benjamin E. Mays, widely renowned president of Morehouse College, Atlanta, Georgia.

Other features of the program will be a series of five discussion groups on vital issues, special events for ministers' wives, a dinner meeting on "Missions — a Lay Look," sponsored by the University's Extension Service, and a closing Ecumenical Communion Service at the invitation of the First Congregational Church of Ann Arbor.

The discussion groups will be on the following subjects: "Committee Organization and Operation"; "Problems of the Rural Church"; "Pastoral Counseling and Gerontology"; "The Devotional Life"; and "The Pastor's Wife."

Presiding at the Tuesday night dinner on "Missions—Lay Look" will be Dr. Everett J. Soop, director of the University's Extension Service. The moderator for that occasion will be Dr. Frank L. Huntley of the English Department of the University.

There will be a coffee hour for pastors' wives and United Church Women on Tuesday afternoon; a fellowship luncheon with President Harlan Hatcher of the University of Michigan as special guest on Tuesday noon and a book exhibit open throughout the conference in the east alcove of the assembly hall in the Rackham Building.

The Michigan Council of Churches will hold its annual meeting the first night of the Pastors' Conference at 6:00 p.m. in the Michigan League, Ann Arbor. Dr. Harold N. Skidmore will preside and present the presidential address on "The State of the Michigan Council of Churches."

There will be an audio-visual presentation of the Council's achievements for the past year. Dr. G. Merrill Lenox, executive director, will participate. Immediately following the dinner meeting, there will be an ecumenical worship hour in the same building. Presiding will be Dr. Kenneth G. Neigh, Presbyterian chief executive for the synod of Michigan.

The addresses will be given by Michigan's Methodist Bishop Marshall R. Reed and Bishop Richard S. Emrich of the Episcopal Diocese of Michigan. Attending this meeting will be the pastors and their wives present at the conference as well as a considerable body of laymen and lay women from throughout the state.

First Baptists Honoring Pastor and Wife Sunday

The First Baptist Church will have a farewell service Sunday evening at 7:00 for Dr. and Mrs. H. H. Savage who will be leaving Wednesday for South America. The trip is a gift from the church, commemorating their 30 years of service. The anniversary was celebrated in February 1954.

The Savages will be visiting their three children and their families. They will go first to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richare Broach (Helen Savage) and children, Rickie Lou and Paul Wesley of Pubio, Venezuela.

They will then stop with the Rev. and Mrs. Robert Savage and children, Steve, Carole, Jimmy and Judy in Quito, Ecuador. Their last visit will be with the Rev. and Mrs. James Savage and children, Joy and Jon of Sao Paulo, Brazil. The Rev. James Savage is in Brazil setting up the Seventh World Congress on Evangelism where Dr. Savage will be a speaker.

The Savages will also be visiting other missionaries in Montivideo, Uruguay and Lima, Peru and will return to Pontiac the last of April.

Following the evening service, a social hour will be enjoyed and refreshments served. The public is invited.

Three Arrests Follow New City Ordinance Against Pornography

Operators of three newsstands on Capitol Street, Jackson's main thoroughfare, were arrested after detectives visited their places and found what they considered objectionable magazines.

Mayor Allen Thompson has instructed the Chief of Detectives to decide which magazines fall into the objectionable category and "if protests are brought it will be left up to the court."

Since the ordinance was passed about two weeks ago, police have checked numerous retail outlets and have reported cooperation in the clean-up campaign.

The ordinance provides for a minimum fine of $50 and a maximum of $100 and 30 days in jail for each offense.

It defines objectonable literature as ". . . writings, sounds, or drawings, which show real or fictional characters, human or inhuman, natural or supernatural, and which account so pictorially depicted is reasonably calculated to terrify and produce lasting fears in the minds of children or which contain any obscene or indecent matter calculated to create in the minds of readers or hearers, disgusting, obscene, lewd, lascivious, filthy or indecent thoughts and conclusions in any manner associated with lust or crime."

Several Jackson clergymen have publicly denounced the sale of such literature. The Jackson Parent-Teachers Association was active in securing passage of the ordinance by the City Councill.

Detroit Institute Offers Course

'How to Do It' Classes Given for Adults Active in Church Work

Detroit Institute of Technology will offer a new course this spring dealing with the program needs of the churches. "The Christian Church" is designed for adults active in church organizations.

Dr. William H. Bos, assistant professor of religion and religious counselor at Detroit Tech, will conduct the two-hour course, which may be taken for credit if desired. Registration will take place from Jan. 31 through Feb. 4, and classes will be held in the Downtown YMCA Building, Grand Circus Park, from 8:15 to 10 p.m. Wednesday, starting Feb. 9.

According to Dr. Bos, it will be a practical "how to do it" course, wigh suggestions for programming the Christian education activities of the church, such as Sunday school, retreats, lectures and discussions.

Dr. Bos was ordained in 1942 and has had charges in Wisconsin, Kansas, Missouri, Illinois, Iowa and Michigan. He served as minister of Christian education in Hutchinson, Kansas, and as minister to students at U. of M. He preaches regularly at Sashabaw Presbyterian Church in Clarkston.

Heifer Project Reports Record

14 Countries Received Shipments of Livestock From United States

By Religious News Service

NEW WINDSOR, Md. — Heifer Project Inc., inter-creedal relief agency which ships livestock to war-devastated and agriculturally undeveloped overseas areas, set new records for 1954, officials reported at its headquarters here.

The total of 27 shipments during the year was a new high in the organization's 11-year history, and the 14 countries to which they were sent were six more than in any previous 12-month period. Countries that had never before received Heifer Project aid but got it in 1954 were Turkey, Iraq, Thailand, Lebanon, Afghanistan and Formosa.

Thurl Metzger, executive secretary, said that since 1944 Heifer Project has sent to 32 different countries a total of 7,539 cattle; 6,587 goats; 15 sheep; 47 horses; 910 pigs; 500 rabbits; 200 packages of honey bees; 251,710 chicks, and 3,000 turkey poults.

The agency's activities are guided and directed by the American Baptist Home Mission Society, the Brethren Service Commission, the Evangelical and Reformed Church, Koinonia Foundation, Mennonite Central Committee, The Methodist Church, and National Catholic Rural Life Conference, the Rural Life Association, and the department of social welfare of the United Christian (Disciples) Missionary Society.

Learn The Truth About THE CATHOLIC CHURCH By Mail...At No Cost!

You can easily investigate Catholic faith and worship in the privacy of your home.

Just send us your name and address and advise that you want to know what the Catholic Church really teaches . . . what Catholics really believe. We will send you an interesting course of instruction which is short, yet complete.

We will send you a book explaining Catholic faith and worship . . . written in an easy-to-understand form. There are six test sheets which you can mark and we will check and return to you. This will enable you to determine how well you understand the book. It will give you quick and authentic answers on any point you do not immediately understand.

There is no writing to do . . . and nobody calls on you unless you request it. Nobody knows, in fact, that you are inquiring into Catholic teaching. Thousands of people are taking the course, and learning for the first time wonderful truths about the Church established by Christ Himself.

We know that many people would like to learn all about the Catholic Church — but hesitate to make personal inquiries. This offer is made for the benefit and convenience of such people, so they may get authentic Catholic information and study it in the privacy of their own homes.

You will find in this course of instruction answers to the questions which confuse non-Catholics. You will discover that Catholic belief and practice are not what they are go often mistepresented to be.

And if it is true that the Catholic Church is Christ's Church . . . as we maintain . . . you owe it to yourself to get the facts. This you can readily do through this short course of instruction . . . without cost or obligation . . . and in the privacy of your own home.

As Catholic laymen, who treasure our Faith, we invite you to understand it and, we hope, to share it.

Free

Write today, giving your name and address and stating that you want the course of Catholic instruction by mail. The book and simple test sheets will be mailed to you immediately. Nobody will call on you or urge you to join the Catholic Church. If you wish . . . while taking the course . . . to ask any questions which puzzle you, we will answer them promptly without any cost or obligation to you. Send a postcard or letter now—TODAY! # Toll Road's Effect on County Previewed by Top Engineer

By WILMA GREENWAY

How is the proposed limited-access toll road through Oakland County going to affect me? What will happen if it cuts across my farm? Or by-passes my business? Or turns the street in front of my pleasant home into a major traffic artery?

Will the expressway from Detroit to Saginaw cut the value of my property, make my roadside motel a losing proposition, draw paying customers away from my town's business section?

These were the questions that people from Holly, Ortonville, Clarkston, Oxford, Lake Orion, Pontiac, Bloomfield Hills and other parts of the county put to E. Thomas Baker, chief engineer for the Michigan Turnpike Authority, at a meeting in Groveland Township Grange Hall last night.

"The 115-mile, $186,000,000 toll turnpike will bring to Michigan's motorists greater safety, ease of driving and a big saving in time at no expense to the taxpayer," Baker told county residents.

"The turnpike will not cost one cent of gasoline tax money; it will be paid for entirely from toll revenues.

"When it comes to constructing the road, some people will benefit, others will be hurt.

In buying up the rights of way, we will try to cause the least possible hardship to property owners," Baker said. "We'll pay for land at the current market value, and wherever crops have to be sacrificed, we'll pay for them.

"Condemnation proceedings will be used only as a last resort—but we do have the authority to use them."

Questioned by a group of Bloomfield area homeowners as to what would happen if the road were run through one of their exclusive residential sections, Baker admitted that it might cause adjacent property to drop in value, with a resultant loss to the owner.

He cited research studies of eight towns in Pennsylvania where a similar turnpike was constructed. Twleve years after the turnpike was built, towns were showing more business, although traffic was less.

Businessmen who had previously opposed the road project were enthusiastic about its effect on sales. Too much traffic keeps customers away, seemed to be the consensus of opinion.

As to safety, Baker stated that on the New Jersey turnpike, busiest in the world, traffic deaths for the first half of 1954 were less than half, on a mileage basis, than in Michigan for the same period.

Although the exact route will not be revealed until March, the road will begin at Rockwood and, roughly, extend north to Detroit, paralleling Telegraph road in Oakland County, then crossing Woodward north of Birmingham to skirt the east border of Pontiac, continuing to Flint and terminating at Bridgeport southeast of Saginaw.

The tollroad will have two 12-foot lanes in each direction, with surface shoulders and a grass center strip of possibly 40-foot width, narrowing to a smaller paved median in congested areas. There will be no left turns off the turnpike.

Grade separations will occur at all railroad and highway crossings and the right of way will be fenced to keep off stock and large game, as well as pedestrians.

Ten interchanges will give access to the superhighway. They will be located, if present plans work out, at the southern terminal, at River View, at the Industrial Expressway which leads to Willow Run, at Ford highway, Northwestern highway, southeast of Pontiac, northeast of Pontiac, south of Flint, at Mt. Morris and at Bridgeport. Another possible interchange would be at Grand River avenue.

Estimated toll for traveling the throughway would be 1.4 to 2.4 cents per mile for passenger cars, and more for trucks. Baker estimated the cost for the 115-mile trip at $1.95 for passenger cars and $5.20 for the largest truck.

It is hoped to sell $186,000,000 in 3½ per cent revenue bonds this year, to pay for $154,000,000 construction costs plus interest. Construction could then start in the winter of 1955-56, with completion by 1958.

"Limited access highways, whether toll or from tax money, accommodate 54 per cent more traffic," Baker said. "With car registrations increasing yearly, it's the only way I see to catch up with overloaded highways.

Vote to Appeal in Police Case

Hazel Park Will Ask Higher Court Decision on 3 Demotions

HAZEL PARK—The Hazel Park City Council voted at a special meeting last night to appeal a circuit court verdict which overruled the demotion of three police officers.

Oakland County Circuit Judge J. Russell Holland ruled Monday that the three must be returned to their old ranks because the council had acted in opposition to the Civil Service Commission which had rejected the demotions.

Lowered from the rank of captain to lieutenant was Harvey D. White. Harold J. Hill and Robert B. Law were demoted from captain to lieutenant status.

Opposed to the majority decision to appeal the case were councilmen Joseph Vrabel and Leonard C. Milligan. They said the demotions were an economy move that would have saved the city $600 in salaries, but had already cost $998 to fight it in court and would now cost more for a new appeal.

At a regular meeting this week, the Hazel Park council approved $800,000 toward a field survey for the $13 million dock South Branch of the Twelve-Town Drain. The proposed drain is expected to give direct relief to 900 acres of the city.

Westacres Club Holds Meeting to Organize Refugee Shelter

WESTACRES — A special meeting of the Westacres child Study Club will be held Monday at the home of Mrs. Robert Shores, president, for the purpose of organizing the Westacres clubhouse as a civil defense refugee center in case of disaster.

Members of the club had agreed to take on the job of organizing the center and providing personnel to staff it, at the request of John Warren, West Bloomfield defense director.

At their regular meeting on Jan. 3, Mrs. George Eberle, Milford defense leader, addressed the members of the club and outlined the duties and the size of the staff which would be needed.

Since membership in the club is limited to twenty, members will be calling on other residents of the community to fill many of the positions.

Mrs. Eberle pointed out, disaster, as in the case of the Milford tornado, strikes without warning. In that case an organized, trained staff, had the situation well under control in a very short time, she said.

Roof Bubbles, Low Cost Construction Featured in New Clarkston Addition

CLARKSTON — A rectangular shaped building with plastic roof bubbles and a central court lined with full-wall windows has been added to the Clarkston High School.

A "first" for this school district that has previously built strictly traditional designs, this new addition provides the maximum in space for student accommodation at a minimum of cost.

Costing less than $17,000 per classroom in an era when many schoolrooms are running as high as $40,000, this pre-assembled type steel and brick-faced cinder block building has a flat steel roof deck with tar and gravel build-up. Floors for corridors and classrooms are in asphalt tile.

An innovation in roof lighting, the new plastic bubbles give natural light at the interior wall side of the classroom, making it as bright as the window wall side.

The central court, accessible from two wings, will be landscaped by the students, said Supt. Leslie F. Greene.

Entering the new building from a covered porch where the buses will unload, the lobby connects the old high school with the new unit. A planter in one corner offers a decorative note.

The facilities provided in this new unit include seven classrooms, a large boiler room which heats the complete high school, cafeteria, study hall, two home economics rooms which are connected, and a principal's office. There is also a large band room. This is connected with a series of small practice rooms and a large instrument storage unit.

Artificial lighting in the building is incandescent ring-type fixtures, with the exception of the offices and cafeteria where fluorescent lights are used.

Supt. Greene pointed out that these buildings offer the ultimate in functional opportunities and are structurally sound.

"It is true that we have had to eliminate the beauty of finer appointments, but our district is in the position where it must get the most for its money," he said.

Other additions constructed for the Clarkston Community Schools during this year included four rooms at Andersonville, four at Sashabaw, seven at the Clarkston Elementary, and the new high school.

Architects for the high school addition were Leo J. Heenan of Pontiac and the Beyster Associates, Inc., of Detroit. The builder was the Schurrer Construction Co. of Pontiac.

Council to Hold Tuesday Meeting at Pontiac Lake

Oakland County Council of the Parent Teacher Association will hold its 8 p.m. Tuesday meeting in the Pontiac Lake School, located at the intersection of Williams Lake and Gale Rds., just off M59.

Program chairman, Mrs. John Warren, has announced that civil defense and how to develop strong local units will be the topic for discussion.

Farmington Set to Purchase Site

Funds Wait Decision on Location of Proposed Township Building

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP—Sufficient funds to purchase the site for a proposed new township office building have been collected from sales tax diversion money, township supervisor Ernest Blanchard told board members this week.

Two possible sites have been under construction by the township board. When a definite location is decided upon by board members, option papers will be drawn up, officials said.

A proposal to construct the new township building was expected to be put to the voters at the general election in April

The board also announced that a final date of Feb. 28 has been set for the receipt of winter taxes without penalty.

Board members are considering 11 applications for the position of office clerk, to fill a vacancy created by the resignation this week of Mrs. Betty Milburn. The eleven will be interviewed during the next regular board meeting, according to Harry McCracken, township clerk.

A plat for a new subdivision north of 10 Mile road and west of Floral avenue was denied by the board. Residents of Floral avenue had opposed the plan, on the grounds that the position of the houses backing onto the street would create an unsightly view.

Royal Oak Area to Vote Monday

'Madison Heights' Zone Incorporation as City Is Election Issue

ROYAL OAK TOWNSHIP—Residents of the eastern section of Royal Oak Township will go to the polls Monday to vote on whether their area shall be incorporated as a city.

Voters will also choose a 9-member charter commission, to take office only if incorporation is approved. This committee would then draft a city charter, to be presented to the voters at a later date for approval or rejection.

Leading the fight for incorporation of the 7½ square miles of territory, located east of Royal Oak city and north of 10 Mile road, is the Madison Heights Civic Assn. with a membership of over 400 residents in the area.

In campaigning for incorporation, the Madison Heights group cites figures to show that the West Eight Mile area is a tax burden on their own area.

"More for your tax dollar," "more paved roads," "more public services," and "honest, efficient government," are some of the benefits the Madison Heights group claims a yes vote on incorporation will bring to residents of their district.

Meanwhile township officials were split on the issue. Township supervisor George S. Horkey went on record as opposing the move at this time.

Horkey said the incorporation at this time would confuse the community's bonding powers, causing delay to a $700,000 water pipeline and reservoir program proposed for the area. Also he stated that the final settlement of the Hazel Park Non-partisan Taxpayers suit, involving payment of $216-000 to the township in special assessment debts, should be made before the area becomes a city.

Township zoning board member Theodore Krenn, however, speaking for the Madison Heights group, answered with the statement:

"The Hazel Park suit has been used to stall any advances in the township for the past 14 years."

Since the incorporation of the city of Royal Oak in 1921, the township's 36-quare-mile area has been steadily reduced by nine incorporations. If the Madison Heights area becomes a city, Royal Oak Township will consist of only two small segments west of Woodward.

Political Books to Be Reviewed at CAI Building

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP—Two timely political books, "We Were Born Free" and "How We Elect Our President," will be reviewed next Monday when the Book Review Club meets at 1 p.m. at the CAI Building.

The first, which was written by newsman and commentator Elmer Davis, will be reviewed by Mrs. William Vann. Mrs. Leland Bunyan will discuss the second, a book written by Will Rogers and edited by Donald Day.

All women of the community are invited to attend. A silver collection is taken at the meetings to support the township library.

Judges to Consider Bail for Dr. Sam

CLEVELAND (AP)—Three appellate judges will consider Monday whether to free Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard on bail until they dispose of his apeal from a life sentence.

Shepard is scheduled to begin serving a life term—with a chance at parole after 10 years—no later than next Wednesday. He gets no credit on his term for time spent in county jail.

Shepard was convicted Dec. 21 of second-degree murder in the July 4 bludgeoning of his pregnant wife, Marilyn. Judge Edward Blythin passed sentence the day of the verdict and has since denied a new trial on a defense motion which claimed there were 41 errors in the two-month trial.

Judge Blythin had allowed the 31-year-old osteopath to remain in county jail here, but yesterday he dissolved his stay of execution order, explaining:

"Now that the matter is to be taken up in a higher court, I have nothing further to do with it."

Education Board Set to Purchase 2 School Sites

SOUTHFIELD TOWNSHIP—Preliminary agreements for the purchase of two school sites totaling 25 acres at a cost of $102,500 have been made by the board of education.

The 13-acre site on Nine Mile road between Evergreen road and Northwestern Highway will house a building planned to relieve the congestion in the southeastern area the township, taking the overflow from Magnolia, McKinley and Brace schools. It is adjacent to a 5.5 acre site the board already owns.

Stevens Sees Boon in A-Food Process

CHICAGO (AP)—Secretary of the Army Stevens says the job of supplying the armed services throughout the world may soon become much easier through atomic sterilization of food.

In a speech before the Quartermaster Assn.'s winter meeting in Chicago yesterday, Stevens said the process "could substantially reduce" the fleets of ships and railroad cars required to service the armed forces around the world. For one thing, he said, it would materially reduce the necessity for cold storage and refrigeration.

"Eventually," Stevens added, "it may revolutionize accepted ideas and practices in the field of food processing, preservation, storage, and shipment."

Stevens did not go into detail about atomic sterilization methods being tried.

Historic Boston Hotel Is Being Torn Down

BOSTON (UP)—An old hotel that once was the home of John L. Sullivan and Sarah Bernhardt is being torn down in Boston.

After its erection in 1869, the Langham Hotel in the South End was pointed to with pride by residents of The Hub.

It was lavishly endowed with white marble and fine old paintings. Before the informality of the 1920's set in the Langham was a gathering for Boston's blue-bloods.

The elevated railroad in the South End marked the beginning of bad days for the Langham. Real estate prices declined and the clientele changed. Fashionable clothing stores and restaurants became bars and fly-specked hash-houses.

At last the once-proud Langham was condemned as unsafe and languished unwanted and forgotten. Now the wreckers are clearing the site, which is to become a parking lot.

Esther Williams Branches Out Into Business

By BOB THOMAS

In 1955, amphibious Esther enters the second half of her 10-year contract with MGM, and now comes the real payoff. A level-headed doll, she has planned her life to an amazing degree, including the matter of children.

"My first five years under the contract were devoted to making pictures and having babies," she explained in her studio dressing room. "It has worked out beautifully. I got just what I wanted—two boys and then a little girl.

"I've been lucky with pictures too. I've had a steady succession of top quality films, one after another. Every one of them has made money. That's a record to be grateful for.

* * *

"Now I begin what I call the 'freedom years.' The contract has been arranged so that in the next five years I am allowed more latitude for outside activities. During this time, I have thre six-month studio commitments. Ben and I have big plans."

She referred to Ben Gage, her big husband. He is the business brains behind the combo, said Esther, who scoffs at being called a "mermaid tycoon."

* * *

"Actually, I contribute no more than most wives do to a business," she said. "Ben does all the initial research and groundwork. Then at the dinner table we discuss what he is doing. Often he is too close to a situation, and I can give him a perspective. And I give him the woman's viewpoint, which is always important in business."

Ben and Esther's enterprises are largely in the dream stage, and what dreams! They are considering everything from a string of swimming schools to a build-it-yourself swimming pool.

* * *

"Manufacturers have been after me for years to lend my name to their products," Esther remarked. "Except for my bathing suit with Cole of California, I have held off. I wanted to wait until the last five years of my contract, when I would be able to give more time to developing these products.

"I've got a lot of ideas. For instance, I want to design a bathing cap that will really keep hair dry. And there are many other things we have developed during the pictures we have done."

The biggest project will be the Esther Williams swimming show. This will be a full-scale water spectacle, incorporating the numbers she has done in her movies.

A "rusty" Pontiac High basketball team, showing the effects of its 4-week layoff, outlasted Saginaw 54-45 in a raggedly-played Saginaw Valley Conference game here last night.

The victory, coupled with Arthur Hill's 58-53 win over Flint Northern, set the stage for an early-season showdown battle between the two teams next Tuesday at Saginaw.

Friday's contest was Pontiac's first competition since Dec. 17, and the 28 days of idleness left a mark on the Chiefs' usually-sharp shooting. In 77 shots from the floor, they connected only 21 times for a .272 percentage. Saginaw hit on 31 per cent of its 58 tries.

The final 9-point margin fails to give a true picture of the game. Pontiac poured in eight straight points in the final 72 seconds of play after the score had been tied on four occasions and the lead had changed hands seven times.

Trojans jumped into a 4-0 lead before guard Bob Johnston dunked a layup to end four minutes of scoreless play for Pontiac. Johnston added a free throw and another basket to spark the Chiefs to an 11-7 1st period lead.

Pontiac failed to follow up on frequent misses in the 2nd period, and Saginaw pulled to an 11-11 tie, then moved ahead 17-12 on close-in buckets by Chuck Lyon, J. T. Landrum and Jerry Hamling. Chiefs trailed until the last minute, when John James sank a tip-shot and Johnston dropped a 1-hander to knot the score at 24 points at halftime.

Coach Art Van Ryzin's crew took a brief 1-point lead in the 3rd period, but Saginaw's Lyon and Gene Bohn began hitting on long shots and the Trojans moved into their biggest lead of the game, 36-29, midway through the quarter. Chiefs whittled away at the margin through the first four minutes of the finale and finally tied the score again at 43-43 with 3:50 remaining on the clock.

Walt Poe popped in a layup a minute later to give Pontiac a lead it never again relinquished. Walter King added a free throw, but Hamling made good on two straight chances at the foul line to make it 46-45 with a minute 12 seconds left.

Chiefs then iced the game on two dog-shots and a pair of foul shots by Dick Blacklaw and a drive-in by Poe.

Blacklaw, Pontiac's No. 1 scorer, went to the bench late in the 2nd period with four fouls but returned with five minutes gone in the 3rd period to score 12 points in the Chiefs' winning drive.

Key factors in the victory were the rebounding of King and James and the hustle and all-around floor play of Poe.

Holly Upsets Keego 5, Clarkston Leads W-O

By JACK SAYLOR

An aroused band of Holly Broncos, losers of four straight games, provided one of the season's top upsets by dumping Keego Harbor, 51-44, to feature a big schedule on the Oakland County prep basketball scene Friday night.

Clarkston took sole possession of first place in the Wayne-Oakland League by whipping Brighton, 69-37, while Milford was trouncing co-leader Northville, 84-53.

Berkley kept its share of the Inter-Lakes lead by downing Waterford, 59-38, while Van Dyke remained in a first-place tie and knocked Farmington out, 40-39. Southfield defeated Walled Lake, 60-46, to push the Vikings out of the first place knot.

In the Oakland-B, the four-way tie for first was cut to three as Roseville edged Fitzgerald, 59-53. Madison and Troy kept stride by beating Clawson and Avondale respectively.

Birmingham retained 3rd place in the Eastern Michigan League back of co-leaders Port Huron and Mt. Clemens. The Maples out-lasted Hazel Park 47-41.

Oxford marked up its 4th straight victory by lacing Ortonville, 57-36, and Lake Orion bumped into a hot Lapeer quintet and bowed, 57-40. Cranbrook drubbed Romeo for the 2nd time this season, 72-48.

In other top games, Imlay City took a firm hold on the South Central leadership by clipping North Branch, 72-57. Undefeated Utica made it four in a row by handing Center Line its first defeat, 60-47. Almont is the Southern Thumb's top club after handling Capac easily, 45-23.

Underdog Holly out - hustled Keego to record its victory. Jack Felch and Norm Valek rebounded well against the taller Presidents and Wayne Freeman hit steadily with jump shots to take scoring honors with 15 points.

Frank Rogers of Keego, who took a 17-point scoring average into the game, accumulated four personals in the first quarter and fouled out in the 3rd period after making 10 points. Holly's Felch, Valek and Jerry Hunter all left in the same period via the foul route. Holly's Felch, Valek and Jerry Hunter all left in the same period via foul.

Milford's victory came easy with Jim Davison rolling in 29-points and John Sherwood adding 15. Clarkston plunked in 12 of 15 shots in the 3rd quarter to end any Brighton hopes.

A 14-point outburst by Southfield's Ken Moser in the 3rd period broke Walled Lake's back. A pint-sized guard, Moser collected 26 points in all. Viking ace Myrel Taulbee was effectively bottled up and held without a field goal as sophomore John Walker was high with 12.

Don Biggott's 15 points led Berkley in its win over Waterford. Jerry Kruskie had 11 for the Skippers.

Another team haunted by outside shooting was Avondale. The 'Jackets and Troy were tied at the half, 18-18, but Troy's Jim Murdock hit five straight long shots in the 3rd quarter. He ended up with 24 points in Troy's 57-37 decision.

Don Krupp's 13 points led Avon, which made only one free throw in 14 tries for the game. It was a rough affair with Avondale's Ray Boyl suffering an 8-stitch face cut.

Dick Sheldon's 15 points were high in Birmingham's victory, settled early in the 4th period Tommy Wilson tallied 21 points to provide the spark for Lapeer's triumph over Orion. He hed 17 points by halftime.

Oxford meshed 10 of 11 free throws and added 2 field goals early in the first period to take a 24-7 first quarter lead over Ortonville. It was easy thereafter as Larry Spencer's 19 points showed the way.

Dave Turner's 19 points were high in Cranbrook's rout of Romeo.

Crosby Pro-Am Moves Nearer Crucial Stage

Barber and Leonard Lead Procession Into 2nd-Round

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Bing Crosby's $15,000 Pro-Amateur golf tournament swings closer to the crucial stage today, with featherweight Jerry Barber of Los Angeles and Stan Leonard of Vancouver, B. C., leading the procession into the second round of the 54-hole show.

Tied at 66, 6 strokes under par, Barber and the veteran Canadian stylist were among the 26 professionals who managed to break par 72 in the first round.

* * *

The main attraction for the gallery was the scoring struggle between the professionals for the $2,500 first prize. But the pro-amateur best ball battle had its points.

* * *

The team of Fred Wampler of Indianapolis, the little pro who won the rich Los Angeles Open last year, and Julie Bescos of Long Beach, Calif., a one-time great athlete at the University of Southern California, led the pro-am race with a score of 61.

Grouped at 62 were Doug Ford and actor Randolph Scott, Jay Hebert and another actor, Dennis O'Keefe, Smiley Quick and Howard (Bow and Arrow) Hill and Bob Rusburg and Hank Mann.

Ford, the money player from Kiamesha Lake, N. Y., was just a shot back of Barber and Leonard, while two strokes off the pace were Ted Kroll, Gerald Kesselring of Toronto, Paul McGuire, Wichita, Kan., Jimmy Clark, Laguna Beach, Calif., and Dow Finsterwald, Athens, Ohio.

Gene Littler, the general pick to add the Crosby cash to the $5,000 he earned in winning the Los Angeles Open last Sunday, was within striking distance at 70. Tied with him were three former National Open kings, Byron Nelson, Lawson Little and Julius Boros.

Sparrow-Cerf Duel in UD-Drake Battle

DETROIT (INS)—University of Detroit Titans try to get back on the victory trail tonight when they meet Drake University at the U. of D. Memorial Building.

Game should prove to be a scoring duel between Detroit's Guy Sparrow, currently averaging 22 points a game, and Drake center Willie Cerf, who also is hitting the hoop at a 22-point-a-game clip. Cerf towers at 6 feet 6.

Kobs Honored

Veteran MSC Coach to Head P-A Entry

EAST LANSING (AP) — John Kobs, long-time Michigan State College baseball coach, has been named to coach the U.S. baseball entry in the Pan - American games at Mexico City in March.

Kobs said today he had received official notice of the appointment from the Pan - American games committee in New York. Kobs, in his 31st year at MSC, is the emmediate past president of the American Association of College Baseball Coaches.

A. J. Lewandowski, athletic business manager for the University of Nebraska, has been named business manager and assistant coach for the team.

Kobs said he will be allowed to take a 16-man squad to the competition, also popularly known as the Western Hemisphere Olympics. He said he expected to fly to Mexico City with the squad March 9 or 10.

The teams will compete March 13 through 23 with mornings, afternoon and evening games, he said.

"We haven't named anyone to the team, yet," Kobs said, "but we've got to get busy."

Kobs said he will try to pick the cream of the college and other amateur talent. In addition to collegians, he said, he will try to include players from the services, the American Legion teams, the American Baseball Congress and the National Baseball Federation.

Only amateurs can compete, so Kobs said any players who have signed a pro contract would be ineligible.

"There should be some stiff competition," Kobs said, "Most of the Central and South American countries are red hot on baseball."

Moore Carries His Case to NBA Officials

NEW YORK (AP)—Archie Moore isn't missing a bet in his campaign for a shot at heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano. The light heavyweight champ, who has been barraging boxing writers for weeks with wires and letters, has carried his case to the National Boxing Assn.

Moore pointed to his victory over Cuban Nino Valdes, the No. 1 contender, in a March 11, 1953 bout at St. Louis and told the NBA he was willing to do it all over again anytime.

The NBA Executive Committee, meeting in special session yesterday, referred Moore's request to the consideration of its rating committee, headed by Fred Saddy of Milwaukee.

Viking JV Hits 46

Walled Lake's varsity cagers were beaten, but the Viking reserves gave indication that happier days may be ahead. The Laker JV's thumped Southfield's junior Bluejays, 80-38, as sophomore Larry Hughes came up with what is probably the season's highest individual totals. Hughes bagged 46 points.

Buck Shaw's Western Team Slight Pro-Bowl Favorite

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Just why isn't evident, but the people who make odds on sports events still have Buck Shaw's West team a 3½-point favorite to whip the East Sunday in the Pro-Bowl football game in Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum.

* * *

Shaw selected his starting team the very first day of practice. He has stayed with it, making no changes or alterations of any kind. He has driven the players hard, there has been considerable contact work, and nobody has pulled up lame.

* * *

The West team is physically fit, it runs its plays smoothly, and with Y. A. Tittle of the San Francisco 49ers and Norman Van Brocklin of the Los Angeles Rams to quarterback the outfit, the West will not lack for adequate passers.

Jim Trimble, boss of the East, says he's well satisfied with the performance of his squad. Otto Graham, whom he regards as football's finest quarterback, missed the first six practice sessions and last week played in a Honolulu benefit game. Trimble plans to open with his own Philadelphia quarterback, Adrian Burk.

* * *

Trimble will run his squads through its final drill Saturday. He told newsmen that if he had this team at Philadelphia "even Cleveland couldn't beat us," but of course there are several outstanding Cleveland players in the East lineup—Lou Groza, Graham, Dante Lavelli, Abe Gibron, Len Ford among them.

* * *

Shaw will open up with three 49er backs—Tittle at quarter, Joe Perry at full and John Henry Johnson at one half. The other will be Detroit's Doak Walker.

* * *

The game starts at 1:30 p.m. (PST), 20 minutes after Wes Santee runs his one mile race in the Coliseum. The lanky Kansan will be opposed by Bob McMillen. McMillen says he is in good condition and expects to give Santee a good battle.

The game will not be televised.

Wichita Coach Named to Take Arkansas Post

Mitchell's Aide Moves Up to Head Football Job for Shockers

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—The Arkansas Razorbacks have hired Wichita University's Jack Mitchell as football coach, just one week to the day after Bowden Wyatt resigned.

Mitchell received a five - year appointment and his salary reportedly will be $12,500 a year.

Mitchell, 30-year-old former Oklahoma University star quarterback, broke a 10-year contract with Wichita after two seasons to take the Arkansas job. Wyatt broke a five-year Arkansas contract after two years to move to his alma mater, the University of Tennessee, as head football coach and assistant athletic director.

Mitchell reportedly will bring two assistants with him. Arkansas Athletic Publicity Director Bob Cheyne identified the assistants as George Bernhardt, former Illinois halfback, and Dick Monroe, who played with the University of Kansas.

The appointment of Mitchell probably means the Razorbacks will have to dust off their split-T techniques.

Switching from the split-T to Wyatt's single wing formation two years ago, the Razorbacks won the Southwest Conference football crown last season. They lost 14-6 to Georgia Tech in the Cotton Bowl.

The Detroit Red Wings, bidding for their seventh straight National Hockey League title, can move into a tie for first place with the Montreal Canadiens tonight. All they have to do is beat the Canadiens on Montreal ice.

Tonight's schedule also finds Boston at Toronto with the Bruins looking for a win and two points to match the points the New York Rangers picked up on them with a 6-2 triumph over the Chicago Black Hawks in Friday night's only game.

Four of the Rangers' goals were scored while Chicago was short handed with men in the penalty box. The New Yorkers came Ranger goaltender Lorne Worsley made an astounding total of 50 saves.

Lamson Sparks Chief Tankers

Double Victory Leads PHS to Swimming Win Over Saginaw

Lamson won his 6th consecutive victory in the 100 yard free style and added another 1st place in the 50-yard free style.

In all, Chiefs swept seven of nine 1st places. Other individual winners were Ken Scott, in the breast stroke; Dick Gavette, in the 200-yard free style; Tom Cross, in the back stroke; Bob Keavy, in the individual medley; and the medley relay team.

Summary:

200-yard free style—Gavette (P) 1st; Golomb (S) 2nd; Pulaski (S) 3rd. Time 2 minutes 17.5 seconds.

200-yard free style relay—Saginaw (Spica - Gugino - Bauman - Wyman) 1st; Pontiac (Howse-Bergstrom-Saigeon- Gavette) 2nd. Time 1 minute 47.4 seconds.

Personal Rivalries Give Zest to K-C Track Test

BOSTON (AP) — Intense personal rivalries are expected to give added zest to the 29th Knights of Columbus indoor track meet tonight at Boston Garden.

The event, first major invitational affair of the season, includes the pole vaulters who finished 1-2-3 in the 1952 Olympics; Harrison Dillard and Jack Davis, co-holders of the Olympic 110-meter hurdles record, and the fellow FBI sleuths who are perenniel two mile foes, Horace Ashenfelder and Fred Wilt.

* * *

In addition, dashmen Lindy Remigino and Andy Stanfield are entered in the 50-yard dash. Remigino won the 100-meter sprint in the '52 Olympics at Helsinki and Stanfield the 200.

* * *

And the armed forces are sending three representatives who have bested the meet high jump mark of 6 feet 8¼ inches. They are John (Papa) Hall (6-9¾), Herman Wyatt (6-9) and Charlie Holding (6-9).

The Rev. Bob Richards, defending Olympic vaulter and meet record-holder at 15-3, bumps into his Helsinki pursuers — ex-Illini Don Laz who came in second and third place winner Regnar Lundberg of Sweden.

Also on hand is Finland's Eeles Landstrom who beat Lundberg in the European championships at Berne last August.

Richards, who was partially crippled by an injury here a year ago and withdrew after failing to clear 14-6, now says he's in perfect shape and "am counting upon hitting 15 feet, 6 inches."

Loi Gets Nod Over Flanagan

European Champ Far From Impressive in American Debut

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Duilio Loi, European lightweight champion, came through his first American ring test in good shape last night, scoring a unanimous decision over the St. Paul toughie, Glen Flanagan.

* * *

The 24-year-old Italian was far from sensational, however, in his U.S. debut before a nationwide television audience. Except for Flanagan's roughhouse tactics, it was a dull fight. The 3,105 fans twice clapped for action.

* * *

Loi, beaten only once in his 64-fight career, jumped into the lead with a flashy attack in the first two rounds and built a commanding margin by capturing the last four rounds, but he lacked the punching power to do Flanagan any serious damage.

Referee Billy Regan gave Loi a 99-89 margin. Judges Stu Winston and Fred Aaronson each scored it 98-92. The Associated Press gave the European a 99-94 edge.

Scortichini Favored Over Miceli on TV

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—On the theor that a fair middleweight ought to beat an average welterweight, Italo Scortichini of Italy has been made a 7-5 favorite over Joe Miceli of New York in their nationally televised 10-round fight here tonight.

The fight will be televised by the American Broadcasting Co. from the Dinner Key Auditorium, starting at 9 p.m. (EST).

Hawks Make Strong Bid to Leave NBA's Cellar

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Milwaukee Hawks, gaining momentum as their prized rookies, All-Americas Frank Selvy and Bob Pettit, gain experience, are making a strong bid to get out of the cellar in the Western Division of the National Basketball Assn.

* * *

The Hawks, with Selvy getting 22 points and Pettit 19, chalked up their eighth victory in the last 11 starts Friday night with an 86-84 victory over the Philadelphia Warriors. The triumph moved the Hawks within two games of the Rochester Royals, who hold down the third and last qualifying place in the Western Division.

* * *

The Warriors' setback lost them ground in the Eastern Division since two of the three top teams came through with victories in a doubleheader at Boston. The pace-setting Celtics turned back the Minneapolis Lakers 100-95 as they hit the century mark for the 22nd time this season and New York thumped the Fort Wayne Pistons 97-83.

* * *

Five Boston players hit double figures before a crowd of 13,528—the largest home turnout in two years. Ed Macauley led the parade of point makers with 27, three more than the Lakers' Clyde Lovellette.

Fort Wayne's defeat by the Knicks was the third straight for the Western Division leaders.

Dartmouth Hands Pennsylvania a 54-42 Setback to Continue Bid for Supremacy in Ivy League

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

They may not be cleaning up the trophy case at Hanover, N. H., yet, but it's a good bet they're looking for the key and a dust rag what with Dartmouth pushing its bid for a return to Ivy League basketball supremacy for the first time in a decade or more.

Time was when the Indians practically retired the Ivy crown, winning seven straight titles from 1938 through 1944 in the days of Coach Ozzie Cowles (now at Minnesota) and twice taking the NCAA runner-up spot. Dartmouth came back for another Ivy title in 1946, but that was the last.

* * *

Then coach Alvin (Doggie) Julian came along to start a resurrection job five seasons ago. A big breath of life went into the Indians last night with a 54-52 success against Penn, previously unbeaten in the Ivy. That leaves Dartmouth with a 2-2 record and only hapless Yale ahead before a two-week midterm rest and the stretch run.

* * *

The Elis, with only one victory for the season, almost gave the league-leading Cornell the defending champ, past the final buzzer before losing 56-55.

Larry Freir hit a 15-foot jump shot over Penn's zone for the Dartmouth clincher with 11 seconds left. Dartmouth tied it at 52-all with four minutes remaining and controlled the ball the rest of the way.

Only three members of the top 10 in this week's Associated Press poll were in action last night.

San Francisco, ranked No. 5, bolstered its California Basketball Assn. lead with a 62-49 victory—10th straight for the Dons— over College of Pacific, while Utah, No. 9, clobbered Utah State 88-55 as Art Bunte set a Skyline Conference record with 43 points. Tenth-ranked UCLA moved into a share of the Pacific Coast Southern Division lead with Southern California, ranked 18th, by beating the Trojans 70-67.

Stanford beat California 59-57 on Ron Tomsic's 30-foot set shot in the last second in the other Southern Division game of the PCC. In the Northern Division, first-place Oregon State whipped Washington 66-38 and Oregon beat Idaho 82-59.

Shamrocks, Rams Tangle; Eaglets Trample Irish 5

St. Michael's once-beaten Shamrocks will seek to protect their share of 2nd place in the Suburban Catholic League tonight, when they take on cross-town rival St. Frederick in Pontiac High's gymnasium.

St. Benedict stayed atop SCL standings last night by winning its 4th consecutive league start, 56-38, over St. Clement of Center Line.

Orchard Lake St. Mary, led by Vince Pernicki's 17 points, dumped Royal Oak St. Mary 56-38 for its 3rd victory in four conference starts. Dick Kapelka, with 14 points, Pete Ziebron, with 12, and Pat Ryan, with 11, backed up Pernicki.

Coach Ken Hulslander, after his 3rd victory in five games, will start Dick Doyon and John Bradley at forwards, Lionel Bradley at center, Del Chavez and Jim Krause at guards tonight. Bob Minewea-ser's starters will be Bob Anderson and Marty Keller at forwards, Joe Wilhelm at center and Bud Schwartz and John Keller in the backcourt.

Tonight's game, set for 8 p.m., will be preceded by a reserve tilt at 7 o'clock.

Township which will give a total project cost of $1,078,000.

Paul Kern, Jr., is constructing custom homes, 20 at Drayton Woods and 20 more at Maceday Lake, which he puts at $600,000 for 1955.

The Northwood Construction Co., a major builder of last year and also for this year in the Orchard Lake and Middlebelt area, plans to construct 100 homes of the four bedroom and two bathroom type in the Drayton Plains area. These will cost about $15,000.

This company also plans to construct 100 more in Northridge, between Drayton Plains and Waterford, at a total cost of $8,250,000.

Rose-Hill Realty, handlers of the Carey Homes, in Holiday Farms in Waterford Township, has 155 more homes proposed for this development this year. Located back of the Waterford High School, these are in the $10,200 classification.

Another development by this company in the township is Sorrento Village, near Holiday Farms, and this group will contain 200 houses at a total cost of $2,240,000.

This same company handles 200 single homes known as East View on East Blvd. in the City of Pontiac. These are priced at $12,500.

Anchor Realty, developers of the 100 duplex grouping on East Blvd. and Mt. Clemens in Pontiac, is listing these units at $13,500.

Heltman and Tripp, developers and builders in scenic Westridge in Waterford Township, are planning 20 more custom homes for this year at a total price of $1,750,000. This is south of Waterford on the west side of Dixie Highway.

Sylvan Realty announces they will also develop 60 homes in Pine Lake Manor to cost $1,350,000 and 110 houses at Cass Lake in the amount of $1,200,000.

Bruce Kinzler, a Pontiac area custom builder, has 44 homes on his list for this year. He plans to construct 40 of the California contemporary type in Devon Brook, located north of Devon Hills on Telegraph Rd.

Ranging from $28,000 to $35,000, these homes will feature family kitchens. Also this year, Kinzler will complete two on Dow Ridge near Pontiac and two more in his Harbor Hills development.

August Johnson Realty will invest $2,500,000 in 105 homes this year if the present demand continues, he says. Ninety-five of these will be in Waterford Township north of the Jayno Adams School on Clintonville Rd.

These range from $14,500 to $25,000 in price and some of them front on Willow Lake. The other ten will be constructed in Franklin Knoll to be priced from $25,000 to $35,-

000. This is in the Franklin and Hickory Grove Rd. area.

Forestbrook Hills will get 28 homes priced from $35,000 up and to be constructed by the G. A. Duke Bldg. Co. Forty acres are available for this number of houses.

Franklin Hills is rapidly being built up and will have 100 homes known as Franklin Knolls. Built by the Franklin Construction Co., these homes will be priced in the $19,000 bracket. Featuring indoor-outdoor living, these homes have nine rooms.

The Johnson Construction Co., although they have not announced a definite location, plan to construct at least 175 homes in the area north of Pontiac.

Houseman-Spitzley are continuing their Hammond Lake project and will build another 100 colonial-ranch style homes in the $25,000 class. This location is near Middlebelt and Orchard Lake Roads.

This same development company has planned 25 homes for Upper Straits to cost $35,000 and 140 at South Upper Straits with a total project price of $2,800,000.

This company's first venture into the lower cost housing field will be taken this year. They plan several houses each with a $13,000 price tag in the Elizabeth Lake and Pleasant Lake areas.

Property within the city limits of Pontiac is rapidly being built up, but a number of projects are under way for the Fisher Body and Pontiac Motor area.

Hannan Real Estate Exchange has 27 close to the Fisher Body plant, 33 on Kettering St., and 53 in Perry Park on a scatter lot basis. These are priced at $9,000.

Dan-Rose will put up 64 homes on Rutgers at a cost of $10,250 per unit. If sales rate keeps pace with present demand, they say they will construct 200 more.

The Benjamin Rich Realty Co., has plans for 97 homes at Baldwin and Cornell. These are three bedroom models at $7,250 and $10,400 to be financed under both FHA and GI bills.

Cra-Min-Yan has a $1,520,000 for the year with 60 homes to be built near M-24 between Oxford and Lake Orion. Another 60 will be built north of Rochester on the Lake Orion Rd. and still another 50 on South Blvd. in Avon Township.

LESLIE SHARE DICK ROACH

Extending the vigorous building program they initiated last year, the Macksay Bros. of Ranch Homes have 255 houses on their 1955 schedule. Christian Hills, a 265 acre site recently purchased by them from the Alfred G. Wilson estate, will be the scene of 255 ranch style contemporary homes ranging from $17,950 to $30,000. They have planned a community center for the use of the entire development.

Christian Hills will have a valuation of about $8,000,000, they state and this year they will also make addition to Charnwood Hills, a subdivision on North Adams Rd. as well as complete Alta Loma subdivision near Farmington.

Rochester will experience another mass growth this year when the North Hill Center, Inc., builds the 219 houses planned for the northeast corner of the village. These will cost $14,500, or a total

Harry W. Wolfe of Farmington will continue with his program to build 125 houses. These range between $17,000 and $25,000, and will be located on Orchard Lake, just north of Farmington. This is a $2,625,000 program.

In Walled Lake, Dick Roach has 100 houses on his projected schedule to cost about $1,450,000. He is a resident developer of Walled Lake.

Reid-Patterson at Birmingham will do about 40 homes in the new Adams Village off Adams Rd. To cost about $640,000, the project will feature brick, ranch-style homes.

John J. Dyer & Sons has gone out into the Union Lake area with a 60 to 80 home program in a $8,000 to $11,000 price bracket.

South Bloomfield Highland Development will do 5 houses on Somerset in Birmingham and another 12 on Devonshire. These range from $20,000 to $25,000.

Style-Rite, developer of the country style Lone Pine Village, has 60 homes on its agenda at a total cost of $1,800,000.

Miller Homes, Inc., will do 80 homes in its Beverly Hills project near Greenfield in Birmingham. These will range between $20,000 and $30,000. Thirty are already started.

The Frankel Bros., developers of Woodlea and Franklin Woods, Birmingham and Franklin, respectively, will do 35 homes to cost $1,225,000.

There are many more builders in the area also planning home programs for 1955.

Snack Tables Hide in 1955

Informal Group Pops Out of Chests Hidden in Occasional Pieces

CHICAGO (INS) — Those little snack tables that come in so handy for informal entertaining have found a new hiding place.

They've been designed right into cocktail and other occasional tables introduced at the winter home furnishings show in Chicago and usually they're so well hidden you need to be told about them.

Nobody would guess, for instance, that the chest of a lamp table holds three other tables. The little ones pull out from the chest, which has a front of horizontal wood bars like a roll-top desk.

Many cocktail tables — particularly rectangular ones in walnut or mahogany — have suspended drawers that are really pull-out snack tables, too, the really long ones, which stretch up to seven feet, have four drawer-tables built-in.

Most of the tables-within-a-table are hidden by wood, but there are a few which rest right out in the open or a shelf under glass. These are round, ultra-modern affairs in which pie - shaped wedges (the snack tables) in black and white provide the design interest under a plain glass surface.

Other occasional tables which remain single of unit are doubling their service through other means. Both traditional and modern designs are shown with drop or folding leaves, the easier to place in a corner and yet provide more suface for snacks when the need arises.

Many firms are reviving the old drum table with swivel mechanisms so they revolve like lazy susan trams. One of these has the wood in the drum cut out to hold planters or books.

They're also being equipped with metal baskets—like on a bicycle—as well as shelves and drawers to carry more things in from the kitchen in fewer trips.

Feeling of Space Accomplished With Furniture

Space in many homes is at a premium these days. It has been after our American frontier days—and it became especially acute during the World War II. Then, old mansions were split through the center—making 4-family living units from what had been only one or two. Many home furnishing problems resulted from this situation. A primary one is that of getting more space in the household arrangement.

A feeling of space can actually be accomplished by furniture shapes. Furniture which is low and horizontal in movement creates a space-giving quality. The eye travels horizontally much more easily and readily than it does vertically. Furniture which is the same height creates a rhythmic flow of line which is easy for the eye to follow.

About three-fourths of the U.S. supply of linseed oil and linseed meals come from Minnesota mills.

Overhead Garage Door Practical and Trim

Overhead doors mark a garage as modern. Anyone who has battled with snow, piling up behind swinging garage doors, appreciates the ease of unlocking and lifting up doors from the inside.

Overhead types are easily installed with their running tracks, pulleys and balances. When properly hung, a child can lift them, but when locked no jimmie can open them, without tearing the garage apart.

Fasten Loose Paper Now

As soon as a section of wall paper becomes loose at a corner, paste it back with some library paste. If you don't, more of the paper will work loose and if you wait too long, it will become brittle and crack when it's pushed back into place.

Baseboard Convector Can Take the Bumps

Because their floor-line location makes them susceptible to bumps from furniture and playful children, the new baseboard convector heat distribution units are constructed with heavy gauge sheet metal enclosures which enable them to withstand plenty of wear and tear.

Before cutting glass, put a few drops of light oil on the wheel of the cutter. This will cut down the friction between the glass and the wheel and make for a better cut.

European Flair Goes to Lawn

Cafe Tables and Chairs Seek to Give Backyard Romantic Atmosphere

CHICAGO (INS) — You'll be entertaining on the lawn or patio this year with a European flair.

Adapations of little cafe tables and chairs promise to transplant the romantic atmosphere of outdoor restaurants from the continent to U. S. backyards.

Fashioned from new materials, they are lighter, and can be easily lifted about the lawn for impromptu gatherings around the barbecue pit.

The tiny round tables and chairs will be particularly useful at homes which have adpoted the increasing trend toward buffet-style parties in the open air.

He has used plastic tops in a mottled stone effect and legs of tubular metal finished in copper for the tables, with chairs to match that have comfortable seat and back cushions of brown or white corduroy.

Mirrors Once Treasures

Mirrors were a favorite Valentine's Day gift in early England, for they were as expensive as jewels and as much a tribute to beauty as the stockings, garters, gloves and cosmetics which were also popular as "sweetheart" favors.

Architectural Contest Spurs U.S. Students

A design contest open to architectural students throughout the United States has just been announced by the Tile Council of America, in cooperation with the Beaux-Arts Institute of Design, New York.

The competition requires planning the headquarters of a corporation in a suburb. In the industry concerned, clay tile is widely used for construction because of its sanitary features and its durability.

A first prize and six additional prizes will be awarded winning designs by the tile council, which is composed of 20 leading American manufacturers of clay floor and wall tile.

The contest closes May 1 and will be judged May 21. Detailed information can be obtained by writing to the Beaux-Arts Institute of Design, 115 East 40th Street, New York 16, N. Y.

Kitchen for Living, Dining

Wonderfully comfortable living, complete except for bedroom and bath facilities, is possible here. And it's living in style, with fine furniture in natural fruitwood to include a majestic breakfront on one wall and deep carpeting everywhere except for a startling red leather tile floor in the kitchen proper.

The handsome sofa and lounge chairs are covered with the latest of fabrics, the sylmer finished fabrics which are making big news. This finish, the first to defy soil and spilled liquids really effectively, encases the fabric in a silicone solution.

This idea-full living-dining-kitchen measures up on as many practical points as points of fashion. There's the sylmer finish on the upholstery fabrics and Fortisan for the curtains. Plenty of storage space includes a wall of natural wood cabinets with wood grain Formica tops in the living area, built-in book and magazine shelves on the dining wall which also house a swivel television set. Kitchen cabinets are a special pink metal with stainless steel counter tops.

The raised oven and the refrigerator and a barbecue unit are built into the cabinet lineup. The copper hood extends over the center dividing island on both the kitchen and the living area side.

Heavy Construction Off to 'Boom' Start

NEW YORK (AP)—Heavy construction contract awards reported in the week ended Monday totaled $364,734,000, engineering news-record and the construction daily said today.

The total, consisting of $249,096,000 in private construction and $115,638,000 in public construction, compared with $414,944,000 the preceding week and $195,848,000 for the like week a year ago.

This brought volume for the first two weeks of 1955 to an unprecedented $779,678,000, 85 per cent more than the same period of 1954 and substantially higher than the opening two weeks of any other year.

Major projects includes $20,000,000 for assembly plant, powerhouse and plant alterations at Detroit for Chrysler Corp. to J. A. Utley, Walter Crouse & Co. and Barton-Malow Co., all of Detroit.

To Give Pine Oil Finish

For those who want to give pine an oil finish, use one part linseed oil to two parts turpentine. While this is fine for interior stuff we don't recommend it for exterior use as it has a tendency to discolor and also to pick up dirt.

Kitchen Fan Efficiency

Kitchen exhaust fans should be given a good cleaning from time to time. There is a good deal of grease in the air in a kitchen and when enough collects on the fan it can decrease the efficiency of the fan.

Make Playroom in Basement

Basic Structure There, Hammer and Saw Will Do the Job

Unless it's tiny or badly cut up, your basement can be the best, and least expensive, area to remodel as an activities room.

The basic structure is already there. Much of the work can be done by anyone handy with a hammer and saw. And the noise of boisterous youngsters at play there won't carry through to the rest of the house.

First of course any damp condition must be corrected. That is a good policy in any case, for moisture will cause wood sills to rot. Cracks in masonry should be filled and walls waterproofed.

Study the floor plan carefully. Decide how you can partition off certain sections—for the furnace and the laundry room—so that maximum space will be left for the activities room.

Select your materials for floor and walls carefully. One of the most satisfactory for the floor is clay tile, since it has enough color that no rug or floor covering is needed with it. Children can roller skate on this floor without marring or damaging it.

Locate your cabinets and storage spaces in the basement so that they will close in such awkward features as meters and vertical pipes. Build in plenty of storage, so that you can keep bridge tables and play equipment out of sight when not in use.

Be sure the basement activities room is well lighted. You will want to have the whole area lighted brightly for parties, and you'll want small spots of light when the room is used for reading or for a hand of cards.

Tight Seam in Linoleum

Next time you put down linoleum, run the face of a hammer over the seam. This will force down the edges of the linoleum into the cement and help insure a good tight seam.

Linoleum Repair Secret

Small holes in linoleum can be filled by crushing a piece of linoleum of the same color and mixing it with spar varnish to form a paste. Put this into the hole and when it is dry, smooth out the surface with fine steel wool.

Or, Is It of 1914 Vintage?

How Is Your Driveway, as Up-to-Date as Car?

Your driveway is probably the most obsolete feature about your house. It is, if you have to back out of it, or back into it. People like to make fun of the narrow streets of downtown New York and other old cities. But if those streets were planned for horses and buggies, most of our driveways were planned for goat carts.

(Don't feel bad about those remarks (because this writer has a driveway planned by an Alpine ski fan who was narrow minded.)

When you pass a house where there is a driveway with a turnaround, it doesn't mean that a timid soul lives there, or a Sunday driver. It means it's the home of a life saver. You've read news items about someone backing over a child in a driveway.

Now that there are so many cars on the road, backing into a street is a definite traffic hazard. The automobile industry doesn't like to talk much about this, because you are not supposed to get frightened about adding a new car or two to the grand total. But a former test driver, who later became an engineer and then president of the Dodge Brothers Corp. — William C. Newberg—told us that he considers the average home driveway as something designed for a four-cylinder 1914 car.

"Joke if you will about the lady who is accused of running down shrubbery, toys and ramming the garage," he says. "The truth of the matter is, it isn't her fault. Driveways need new engineering and we in the automobile industry realize it."

* * *

Some brave souls have solved their driveway problems by devoting their entire front lawns to paved turn-arounds. This idea has three big advantages:

1. It provides a fine unloading place when you bring your great aunt to your front door.

2. It provides parking space when somebody gives you a surprise party — the neighborhood doesn't get cluttered up with cars that are newer and more expensive than yours.

3. It provides relaxation for you when the lawn mowing season begins.

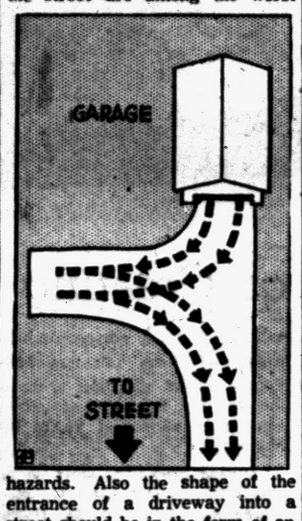

Sensible dimensions for driveways were discussed by Hubbard Cobb recently in the American Home magazine. "Drives," he said, "should be not less than nine and one-half feet wide to allow for 18 inches of clearance on each side." (This writer has a driveway 10 feet wide, and still people insist on cutting new routes over the lawn.)

For all turns, Cobb figures the inside radius should be about 20 feet and the outside radius about 30 feet to prevent wheels from running off the drive. These dimensions are from the center of an imaginary circle to each curb of the curving driveway.

* * *

The simplest kind of a turnaround is in the form of a T with the stem of the T either in front of the house, or off to one side if you have a wide lot. You back out of the garage and into the stem of the T, then drive out, headon, into the street.

After considerable research and experimenting, it was concluded that high fences and shrubs along the street are among the worst hazards. Also the shape of the entrance of a driveway into a street should be in the form of an inverted Y rather than an inverted T. This prevents sharp turns into traffic and affords better vision.

Speaking of hazards, the Institute of Boiler and Radiator Manufacturers says driveway snow shoveling is getting to be a leading killer of householders over 40. After one snowfall in Washington, D. C., five homeowners had fatal heart attacks while shoveling snow from their driveways.

So the IRB advocates laying grid of radiant heating pipes in driveway pavements to melt the snow as it falls. "Installation costs vary depending on the length of the driveway," the engineers report, "but the average is about $300. Operating costs may be as little as 5 cents an hour." They base these figures on a snow melting system installed at a research house at the University of Illinois.

Hot water from a house heating plant is circulated through such systems. Anti-freeze is added. A slab thickness of 2 inches above the pipes is considered adequate for the average automobile. Two to three inches of gravel are laid under the slab.

The distance between the heating pipes can be 10 to 12 inches, says the IBR. Serpentine coils of copper running back and forth across the driveway are the cheapest to install, but a grid system of pipes running lengthwise is considered the most efficient.

Ribbon Window Frees Wall Area for Furnishings

As many sash as are desired can be installed in this "ribbon" arrangement. Either sliding windows or awning windows are customarily used. The ponderosa pine window units are made in various stock sizes, fully assembled and ready to install.

The high position of the windows assures privacy. According to the University of Illinois Small Homes Council, high windows allow sunlight to penetrate more deeply into the room than low windows do. The long, horizontal lines of the strip of sash make the room look and feel larger than it is.

Driver Finds Charges Go From Bad to Worse

FALLS CITY, Neb. (AP) — When Theodore Bogan was brought to court on an intoxication charge, he pleaded innocent, and police made a further investigation. The result was a new charge of driving while intoxicated, to which Bogan pleaded guilty and drew a fine of $100 and $10 costs.

Bogan could have paid the customary $10 fine for intoxication but went to jail on default of the $110 on the stiffer count.

Take Off Waxy Film of Paint Remover

Take off the wax by wiping the wood with turpentine and then washing with a weak solution of washing soda and hot water. Rinse clean with fresh warm water and allow the surface to dry. After the wood has been sanded it's ready for the new finish.

Winter Sports Museum

LAKE PLACID, N. Y. (UP)—An International Museum of Winter Sports has been founded by the Chamber of Commerce here. The museum, a non-profit organization, will show authenic equipment used by famous sportsmen through the years in this winter resort mecca.

The coast guard cutter Lincoln was the first U.S. ship to enter Alaskan waters after the territory was purchased from the Russians.

Chain Stores Flock to Centers

A Study on 752 Chains Shows More Than Half to Locate Centrally

Shopping centers are attracting chain stores in considerable numbers and at an accelerating rate, a Chain Store Age study of 752 chains (with four stores or more) indicates. These chains, which operate a total of 26,711 stores, report that:

More than half their new stores planned for 1955 will be located in shopping centers. About 6 per cent of their units are now in centers making an estimated total of 10,000 chain stores in shopping centers throughout the nation.

About 40 per cent of the chain supermarkets planned for 1955 will be in centers, Chain Store Age reports. Slightly more than 5 per cent of the grocery-supermarket chains' units are already in centers.

Close to 60 per cent of the variety-general merchandise stores opened by the chains this year will be in centers. From 4 to 5 per cent of their stores are now set up in shopping centers, according to Chain Store Age's report.

The drug chains are taking shopping centers quite seriously, with about 14 per cent of all their units already located in centers and with shopping centers claiming about 8 per cent of their stores scheduled for 1955 opening.

The shoe chains, Chain Store Age says, are also going into centers with a vengeance. About 75 per cent of their new stores will be located in centers in 1955. Somewhat more than 4 per cent of their stores are now center-located.

Slightly less than 4 per cent of the chain restaurant units are now in centers, and about 30 per cent of the new units will be opened in shopping developments in 1955.

The apparel chains, highly selective in their choice of shopping-center locations, are planning to open at least 20 per cent of their new units in centers this year. About 4 per cent of their stores are already in centers, according to the trade magazine.

Chain Store Age reports that the auto supply and hardware chains now have about 6 per cent of their stores in centers, with a minimum of 20 per cent of their new stores scheduled for shopping-center sites in 1955.

Poor Man Derives Joy of Creating With Hands

By STEVE ELLINGSON

There isn't any doubt about it, it takes a pretty smart camel to go through the eye of a needle. Then, too, we are told a rich man has his problems when it comes to getting into heaven. But I don't think many people lose much sleep over this. In the first place, who cares if a camel goes through the eye of a needle. And in the second place, there aren't many rich men.

The immediate problem for most of us is that it's getting harder and harder for a poor man to remain on earth. With prices going up, we're still threatened with the danger that living may be priced right out of the market.

It's surprising though, how many things are worse than being poor. As a matter of fact, if a person has a sense of humor, being poor can be fun at times. A poor man doesn't have to worry about lots of material possessions. The really worth while things are pretty evenly divided among those with money and those without.

For example, the sun shines on the poor just as much as the wealthy. If a girl falls in love with a poor man, he can be reasonably certain that she's in love, but a rich man, maybe it's his money she's after. A poor man's pants might be patched, but he can still whistle and be cheerful, and for my money, being cheerful is worth a lot. A poor man can be hungry and any kind of food tastes good, but a rich man often has ulcers that come with his responsibilities so he doesn't enjoy his meals.

A rich man can buy the things he wants, but when he does, he misses the joy of creating something with his own hands. To create is to live, and whenever you find a man creating something, there you will find a happy person. And the beauty of it is, you can build things without spending a lot of money. Try it. Build something sometime and see if you're not happier.

Building the end table is easy when you use the full size pattern. All you need do is trace the pattern on wood, then saw it out and finally put it together. The pattern lists the required materials along with easy to understand step-by-step directions. Even the screw holes are located for you. No special skill or elaborate tools are needed. The pattern is designed for inexperienced amateurs.

To obtain the full size colonial end table pattern No. 75 send 50 cents in coin to Steve Ellingson, Pontiac Press, Van Nuys, California. (Be sure to send to the California address for prompt service.)

Hot and Cold Injures Trees

Horticulturists Certain Winter Injury Occurs on Unseasonable Days

Sometimes it's comparative warmth rather than extreme cold that causes winter injury to trees and shrubs.

This quirk of nature generally is not understood by week-end gardeners. Most people assume damage always is done when the thermometer drops way down.

This may be true with some kinds such as boxwood and other semi-hardy species. However, leading horticulturists are convinced much winter injury occurs on unseasonably warm days.

When temperatures build up into the middle 60's and even into the 70's, evergreens will transpire rapidly and dehydrate. Unless moisture is replenished quickly, leaves, twigs and branches are sure to suffer injury. Sometimes, deciduous trees, too, are victims of a kittenish winter. Prolonged warm winter sunshine may cause cells in the cambium layer of normally hardy trees to become active. Nighttime zero weather, following the sunshiny days, damages these cells and sometimes kills large bark areas.

With evergreens, protective mulches over root areas help minimize winter injury. For boxwoods and other valuable and delicate evergreens, burlap coverings to screen out the sun may be desirable.

Protect Heating Units

Don't expose hot water radiators, convectors, or baseboards in bedrooms to freezing temperatures by opening windows wide during extremely cold nights, the Plumbing and Heating Industries Bureau warns. If you must open the windows wide, try to protect the heat distributors from the direct effects of cold air by shielding them with blankets or other material with an insulating effect.

Pontiac Federal Savings Steel Work Going Up

Old Custom Asked Lot of Valentine Maker

Nineteenth century shopkeepers — the butcher, the baker, the Valentine maker — were accustomed to giving "good measure" to all their customers.

The butcher and baker had an easy time of it. One extra sliver of meat sufficed from the butcher; one extra bun made up the baker's dozen; but a dozen from the Valentine maker was 14—two more than necessary — because his "day" fell on the 14th of February.

Mild Scouring for Tile

New System for Home Gives Light Graduation

A new light control system has been developed for homes permitting gradations in light intensity from complete darkness to full brightness.

The usual on-and-off light switches are supplanted by rheostats, which operate on the dimmer principle used in theaters. They carry loads up to 360 watts. A movable brush contact rides on a resistance winding to enable a rotating knob to regulate the amount of light desired.

Upholstery Stain Spurs Inventor to New Heights

SYRACUSE (INS) — Even dirty upholstery can be the mother of invention—and in the case of Jack Hosid, his dirty furniture resulted in a do-it-yourself upholstery cleanser.

When Hosid's wife, a brunette named Beatrice, told her husband their stained upholstery was out of place in their new home, and named $400 as the price tag for new coverings, Hosid found inspiration.

A constructive type, once he stopped fuming over the $400, Hosid set about to invent a home upholstery cleaner—and the result is "Glamur," a do-it-yourself product that now has national distribution.

Hosid, previously in the soft water apparatus business, had picked up some information in the line of duty about cleansers and fabrics which he put to good use to arrive at an uncomplicated formula to meet his needs.

Although Mrs. Hosid had her doubts when her spouse wanted to try his brainchild out on their living room sofa, the results convinced her that both she and Hosid should spend their time — and a good part of their money—on their new product.

But Mrs. Hosid has given up her end of the business. A new baby, Ellen, came along and Beatrice gave up business for the steady job of mothering the baby and nine-year-old Steven, plus being a housewife and general "encourager."

Don't Destroy Plastic

Be very careful what you use to clean plastic items about the house for many solvent type cleaners will destroy the plastic or the finish. If you are in doubt as to what to use, stick to warm water and mild soap.

HOMES FOR AMERICANS

ECONOMICAL CONSTRUCTION—Sturdy, complete and low-cost, this two-bedroom house is planned for a small family. It covers only 959 square feet, which keeps it in the most economical construction bracket. Sketch shows how kitchen sink can be placed in corner window. Brick veneer and flush paneling are suggested for the exterior with a roof of asphalt shingles. This is plan H-301-P by the Homograf Co., 11711 East Eight Mile Road, East Detroit, Mich.

Color Clues on Who's Who

For example, if a red plaid blanket pops up in the master bedroom, chances are the lady of the house is just trying to please her husband. She'd really prefer either pink or yellow. According to a color survey concluded by a New York researcher, red plaid is a man's favorite for blankets. Solid blue was second choice.

The researcher, Don Lyons, conducted his test among 12,000 men and women in the eastern part of the U.S. He gave both sexes a chance to air their color choices for various rooms of the house.

In the bathroom, women preferred typically feminine colors like pink and lilac. Men chose either green or white.

When it came to voting for preferences in living room upholstery, both men and women were in general agreement.

Shellac Does Well as a Wood Sealer

'Suspect'--Chapter 35

By Hugh Lawrence Nelson

Mrs. Oswald went on calmly, "Angelica had been most sensible about giving up her good-for-nothing husband. She was ready to go through with the marriage we had planned for her as soon as the divorce was granted. If she wanted to find consolation with Gregory Stoneman, that was her affair. However, I suppose she was afraid her mother—I mean Mrs. Hilton—would find out."

"First of all," Jim said. "In spite of what you think, you can't buy off a man like Captain Steve Johnson of San Francisco. If his investigations proved to his satisfaction the death was accidental, it was accidental."

Mrs. Oswald said, "Huh," in disgust. "For a moment there I thought you might have something."

"Let's prove Mrs. Hilton's innocence. Mrs. Hilton, you were in Santa Barbara at the time?"

Philip Stoneman looked at his hands, but spoke up. "I'm not proud of the fact. But she was in Santa Barbara. She was with me."

Mrs. Kit went on quickly before she could interrupt further. "Was that the reason you decided your brother had been killed accidentally?"

"No," Philip said. "I decided that after I knew the Carlsons well enough to understand the reason for Greg's prints being on both used glasses. He was having himself a party by himself."

"Clearing me doesn't clear Mrs. Kit," Mrs. Hilton pointed out.

"No," Jim admitted. "But Mrs. Kit's firm belief that you killed Gregory clears her in my mind. She hired me to come up here, to get something on you, and for her protection. She was afraid of you physically."

Mrs. Hilton said easily, "Well, well, Mrs. Kit, so all this time I've been giving you credit you didn't deserve."

"Furthermore," Jim went on, "Mrs. Kit is in love with your son. She would have done nothing to jeopardize that relationship, regardless of what you thought."

Mrs. Oswald said, "You haven't dismissed Angelica."

Agnes Argyle made a strangled sound.

"What's this? What's this?" the old woman demanded. "Where did those trinkets come from?"

"Look at the money," Jim said. "Look at the letter to Angelica. Is that bracelet a trinket to you?"

There was a long moment of silence. All eyes were fixed on Mrs. Oswald, and everyone noticed the first tremor of her hands that held the letter. She let it fall into her lap at last.

Jim said, "Angelica tricked the lot of you. She only pretended to give up her husband. Her whole motive in returning to your—care was to get even, to amass enough money so she would be indepedent of you forever. I don't know how she did it—"

Mrs. Oswald waved that aside. "Enough trinkets lying around that wouldn't be missed. I have apparently underestimated Angelica." She looked at Agnes Argyle thoughtfully.

Agnes said huskily, "I sent Angelica that doll. For her 11th birthday. No one else knew."

"Don't be stupid, Aggie," Mrs. Hilton said. "Of course I knew who sent it. One good reason why I told Angelica to destroy it. I thought she had. Angelica always minded."

"Not always," Jim pointed out. "Sometimes Angelica only gave the appearance of minding. She didn't destroy it, but hid it carefully in her secret cache at The Spires.

"It lay there for years, until Angelica had need again for a secret place. This time to hide the proceeds of the sale of the 'little articles' she picked up. And someone missed those articles and started following Angelica."

Mrs. Oswald muttered half to herself. "Twenty thousand—when she could have had her share in millions."

"She chose her husband instead," Dunn remarked. "Circumstances rule out Mrs. Kit and Mrs. Geistrap in the death of Angelica. Since Gregory Stoneman's death was accidental, since both those women believed firmly in Mrs. Hilton's guilt in a nonexistent crime, their motive would be eliminated. Mrs. Kit would never have killed for such a sum as was hidden in Angelica's doll. She would not jeopardize her husband's and her share in the Carlson fortune for such an amount."

Mrs. Oswald muttered something under her breath. "Angelica Jones left the party here that night early. She went to Creek Junction to meet Miss Wister."

"I drove her there," Philip said. "I thought I could do it without being missed."

"But you were missed?"

"Oh, yes." Mrs. Oswald said grimly, "And I'm the one who gave him a piece of my mind for running off that way when our guests might want something. We all knew Angelica was meeting someone."

"One of you knew her hiding place was at The Spires, because one of you had followed her before. Followed her through via the creek through the cliff."

Says Workers Like Union, Boss Alike

ITHACA, N. Y. (UP) — Workers who like their unions usually like their bosses too, a Cornell researcher says.

After Dr. Lois R. Dean studied three New York factories, she suggested that most of the workers who support a union are satisfied—not dissatisfied—with their employers.

Dr. Dean made her report in an issue of Industrial and Labor Relations Review, published by Cornell.

She said that a worker's attitude toward his union and his management may depend on his "set of mind." Malcontents are usually displased with both.

She added that workers who appreciate good leadership will give loyalty to both sides.

Senate to Study Stock Market

Committee Head Says Group Is Not Planning Usual 'Investigation'

WASHINGTON (UP) — The Senate Banking Committee decided unanimously today to "study" the stock market. Chairman J. Williams Fulbright (D-Ark) said no "investigation" is planned, in the usual congressional sense of the word.

"I know of no specific frauds, manipulations, or wrong doings," said Fulbright, "nor am I even suspicious of any."

The committee hopes to start its hearings on the booming bull market about Feb. 21. Fulbright said it hopes to avoid influencing the market, and that he doesn't think it has so far. He said he sees mothing in the inquiry "to be scared of."

The committee is interested, Fulbright said, in the "very unusual, almost perpendicular" increases in stock prices which began about 15 months ago and have been intensified recently.

The chairman said he has discussed the hearing with G. Keith Funston, president of the New York Stock Exchange, and that Funston is "pleased to have the opportunity to educate the public as to the activities of the excahnge."

UAW Urges Limitations on Automatic Production

LOS ANGELES (UP)—To prevent workers from being scrapped as expendable, government and labor must control the advance of automatic production techniques, the United Auto Workers International Union contends.

The AFL union's executive board adopted a resolution to that effect yesterday, saying that technological advances must be tempered with planning for the welfare of everyone.

Ford, GM Unions Agree on Demands

DETROIT (UP) — Delegates to the CIO United Auto Workers' (UAW) collective bargaining conferences of Ford and General Motors workers have unaminously endorsed demands the union will make on the two auto companies in new contract negotiations this spring.

The union said in a statement 287 delegates from GM locals throughout the country and 127 from Ford plants approved UAW strategy to head the list of demands with the guaranteed annual wage.

Other demands approved at the conference include hourly wage increases, higher pensions, a union voice in pension fund investment and health and security improvements.

Final action on union strategy will be taken at the UAW Convention in Cleveland in March.

The union's contract with GM expires May 29 and the Ford pact ends June 1. The Chrysler contract does not run out until Aug. 31.

Snake Venom Used to Stop Polio in Monkeys

MIAMI, Fla. (UP)—A nonpoisonous preparation of certain cobra and rattlesnake venoms halts polio in monkeys but needs "detailed and wide-scaled future study" to determine whether it will work on humans, Dr. Murray Sanders of the University of Miami said last night.

He said more than 4,000 monkeys have been studied in the experiments, which showed the "basic concept is scientifically valid and that such forms (of snake venom) can truly halt experimental poliomyelitis in monkeys."

Dr. Sanders spoke at a meeting of the school's Sigma XI Club.

Dr. Sanders, working with Dr. M.G. Soret and Benjamin Akin, used nontoxic preparations of three types of cobra and the South American rattlesnake venom.

He said the manner in which the venom preparation halts experimental poliomyelitis is now known but that the results suggest a possible explanation "implicating the arrival of the nontoxic material to the affected motor cell."

"We recognize polio is a highly variable disease," he added. "Successfully to transpose dosage from a six-pound monkey to a 100-pound human being will require detailed and wide-scaled future study."

Soda Pop Stolen

William Spadafore of 621 Irwin St. reported to Pontiac Police today that an undetermined amount of soda pop was stolen from his beverage company at 922 Oakland Ave. last night. Police, who discovered the breakin of the building while on routine patrol, said thieves gained entry by breaking a rear window.

Vehicle Output at 2-Year High

Expect Highest Weekly Production Since Early in 1953

DETROIT (UP) — Motor vehicle production this week will hit the highest total since early 1953, Ward's Automotive Reports said today.

The agency put this week's U.S. production at 177,539 cars and trucks. Late in April 1953 182,594 units were assembled.

Ward's puts this week's output at 155,912 cars and 21,627 trucks. Last week 150,585 cars and 20,694 trucks were built. In the like week a year ago assemblies, included 144,388 cars and 24,953 trucks.

Canadian production this week is placed at 5,970 cars and 798 trucks. Last week dominion factories built 5,760 cars and 838 trucks, In the comparable 1954 week 8,843 cars and 1,657 trucks were built.

Ward's said the heavy production rate is creating supply problems for Chrysler and restricting overtime operations within the corporation.

It said GM will get 49 per cent of this week's output; Ford 27 per cent and Chrysler close to 20 per cent.

Packard Tells Cost of 2 New Models

DETROIT (UP)—Advertised delivered prices for Packard's 1955 line will range from $2,585.53 to $3,075.53 in the Clipper models and $4,040.32 to $4,080.32 in the Packard models.

The prices include federal excise taxes and delivery and handling charges and also take into account recent freight adjustments.

Although they are not strictly comparable with 1954 model prices, the new tags are lower in some instances and higher in others. The deluxe Clipper 4-door sedan, for example, had a 1954 price of $2,695 against this year's $2,585.53. The Packard Patrician, priced this year at $4,040.32 list last year at $3,890, but more special equipment has been made standard. This includes torsion bar suspension.

County Deaths

Raymond W. Pierson

WASHINGTON — Service for Raymond W. Pierson, 55, of 58761 Van Dyke, will be held at 2 p.m. Monday from Roth's Home for Funeral's, Romeo, with burial in the Prestonville Cemetery. He died Friday.

Surviving are his widow, Ruth; three daughters, Mrs. Marilyn Haldeman, Mrs. Ruth Ann Robb, both of Washington, and Mrs. Margaret Harned of Utica; one son, Robert of Washington; and three grandchildren.

John Ingram

LAKE ORION—Service for John Ingram, 91, of 137 N. Andrews Ave., will be held at 2 p.m. Monday from Allen's Funeral Home, with burial in Imlay Cemetery. He died Friday at his home.

Surviving are three sons, Harold V. of Lake Orion, Leon J. of Columbus, Ohio, Elton A. of Benton Harbor; two daughters, Nellie of Highland Park, Mrs. Maclay Gumm of Pontiac; one brother, Samuel of Yale; one sister, Mrs. John Bowen of Almont; and five grandchildren.

Vending Machine Robbed

Albert Armstrong of 3198 Auburn, co-owner of a filling station at 714 Baldwin Ave., told Pontiac Police today that thieves forced open a vending machine in the station and stole an undetermined amount of money last night. Entry was made by breaking a window, said police.

Britain Glazed With Ice

LONDON (UP)—Sharp cold spread a glaze of ice over Britian today, turning road travel into a motorist's nightmare and bringing other severe winter woes to millions.

Good Record Chalked Up by Jarmco JA Company

Now approaching the halfway mark of its existence, Jarmco, a Junior Achievement company, has already sold two-thirds of its production output.

Sales have gone so well, says Dixie Davis, Pontiac High School junior and firm president, that the company is contemplating production of a second line of products.

Remaining in stock are 100 of the mats, which come in three colors. An inlay of carpeting within the mat makes the product unique.

The company, like the 11 other JA firms in Pontiac, went into operation in October and will close its books forever in May.

JA firms are designed to give high school age youngsters an opportunity to gain practical experience in capitalistic economy. When a JA firm is formed, a product is picked to manufacture, stock is sold, and the company goes into business.

As a matter of fact, the rubber company goes a step further with Jarmco. Because the junior firm consisted of 16 girls when formed, the sponsors hit on a prefabricating plan.

Jarmco workers cut the mats to size, trim the edges, then package and sell the finished products door to door or to merchants in wholesale lots.

The mats, which come in blue, brown and green, sell for $3. Since production has halted on them, President Davis has met with fellow executives and they are thinking of making plain rubber mats to retail at $1.25.

Since the company was begun, two boys have joined the 16 girls and do the delivering. All 18 members are Pontiac High juniors.

Seaway Work to Begin in Fall

Contracts to Be Given in September; Project Completion Due in '58

WASHINGTON (UP) — Lewis G. Castle, administrator of the St. Lawrence Seaway Development Corp., says contracts for the waterway will be awarded by September.

Castle also said in a report to Congress yesterday that the project will be a financial success.

He said the corporation and the Canadian Seaway Authority hope to complete the project by the fall of 1958.

He added:

"Nearly every port of the Great Lakes and St. Lawrence River is actively planning for the future in the development of adequate facilities to meet the demands which will result from increased shipping and import and export trade.

"There are still some problems of design facilities and engineering recommendations to be considered by the Canadian Seaway Authority and the St. Lawrence Seaway Development Corp. However, we expect these discussions to result in ultimate approval in an atmosphere of mutual understanding.

"It is anticipated that the determination of toll rates and their application will be concluded long prior to the completion of a navigation project. Present projection of final cost of the United States portion of the seaway indicates that we will come well within our authorization of 105 million dollars.

"Cargo tonnage estimates give reasonable assurance that revenue from tolls will retire our debt to the Treasury Department well within the 50-year term specified."

Texas County, Oklahoma Accident Ends in Kansas

GUYMON, Okla. (UP)—An automobile accident that started in the Oklahoma Panhandle — in Texas County — ended up across the state line in Kansas.

Baffled officers couldn't decide what to do with records of the mishap. They finally ruled that Kansas would get them since more than 50 per cent of the skid marks were in that state.

Prankster Gives Town Veritable Deluge of Rain

LAWTON, Okla. (UP)—Martha Elrol, weather observer here, excitedly reported .95 of an inch of rain yesterday, a veritable deluge in parched southwestern Oklahoma. Then she recalled only a light shower had fallen.

"Some prankster must have put water in the raingauge," she said sheepishly.

263 Ohio Babies Eligible for Free Sohio Stock

CLEVELAND (UP)—Standard Oil Co. of Ohio's offer to give one share of stock to each Ohio baby born on Jan. 10—Sohio's 85th anniversary — so far has brought reports of 263 eligible babies.

The offer is worth $44.75, the price of Sohio stock on Jan. 10, to each child born in Ohio or to native Ohioans on that date. Sohio said applications will be accepted through Jan. 25.

Applications received so far include one from Lt. J. G. and Mrs. D. G. Russell, Ohioans whose child was born in Coronado, Calif., where Russell is stationed, and from Lt. and Mrs. Joseph Zistler, Cincinatians whose baby was born in an Army hospital in Germany.

Magnifies 15,000 Times

NEW YORK, (UP)—CBS, using color TV and a specially adapted microscope, has developed for scientific and medical use a technique which magnifies objects up to 15,000 times as shown on a six-foot screen. In a demonstration yesterday at CBS laboratories, red blood cells appeared as large as baseballs.

In Memoriam 2

Not just today but every day,
Sadly missed by his parents and family.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF Charles H. Crow who passed away Jan. 15, 1952.
Sadly missed each day
But will live forever in our hearts
His loving wife, son and family

IN LOVING MEMORY OF Arvilla Kent, who passed away Jan 15, 1953.
What is home without a mother?
All things this world may send
But when I lost my darling mother,
I lost my dearest friend.
Sadly missed by Jack Kent, Louise Kent, and family

IN MEMORY OF OUR HUSBAND and father Chriest T. Lange, who passed away Jan. 15, 1947.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF MY husband, Robert A. Terrill, who passed away January 15, 1953
A loving thought,
A sacred tear,
Keeps your loving memory
Forever near.

Arrest Woman on Fire Charge

New Jersey Mother Is Suspect in Series of 60 Mysterious Blazes

FAIR HAVEN, N.J., (AP) — A wealthy 46-year-old woman with a police record was identified by authorities yesterday as the "principal suspect" in a series of 60 mysterious fires which have plagued the area almost a year.

Mrs. Elizabeth Needle, wife of a prominent children's sportswear manufacturer, Joseph Needle, was arrested by a state trooper Thursday night three hours after she allegedly set fire to a chicken coop here.

* * *

Charged with "burning a building"—a less serious charge than arson because usually it concerns a building without occupants—Mrs. Needle was freed under a high $75,000 bail late last night after a Newark surety company posted the bond. As set by Monmouth County Judge John C. Giordano, the bail was about 20 times the normal amount for such cases.

Mrs. Needle, a mother of two daughters 11 and 13 years of age, denied outside court she had burned any building.

* * *

Monmouth County Prosecutor J. Victor Carton would not say if the woman had any connection with the recent series of fires in barns, tool sheds, playhouses and garages. All the fires, including four on the Needle property, were of suspicious origin and were within a five-mile radius of Mrs. Needle's home in adjacent Rumson.

Needle was unaware his wife had been arrested nine times on charges of larceny, embezzlement and auto theft, according to Carton. The manufacturer cooperated with police as they set up a three-week vigil to watch her movements.

* * *

Thursday night, Trooper John Maziekien said he saw Mrs. Needle leave her home, clad in the leopard skin coat in which she appeared at police headquarters yesterday. On the bitterly cold night, she drove to the chicken coop, the trooper said. He stomped out the flames as soon as the woman left, and then arrested Mrs. Needle at home.

Jerry Lester Comes Back; Vanderbilt on Television

NEW YORK (INS) — Gloria Vanderbilt and Franchot Tone have been signed for the Jan. 23 Comedy Hour. They'll do an Irwin Shaw "Romantic Sketch" . . .

This is what Arthur Godfrey said in a TV mag this week, verbatim: "I didn't fire La Rosa. (That's what he said) I played right into his hands by releasing him from a contract that he found odious" . . .

A whole generation of dullness concentrated in "The Great Gildersleeeve," plus its double TV flop, does not deter its management from trying again with a new cast (the play's the thing, boys) . . .

Didja know "Howdy Doody" is owned by a banking firm — Lehman Brothers, which bought it some seasons ago for $1,000,000 and now may sell to NBC for a tidy fortune after years of nice fat profits . . .

The decision of 20th Century-Fox to find studio room for TV films isn't a tiny a trade item as hinted: 20th's decision to go all-out into TV is a big one, and handing its reins to that studio's production boss Sid Rogell should be enough to tell the TV world 20th has splashed in its channels importantly . . .

Cy Howard's comedy concoction for NBC, "Just Plain Folks," will be some just plain folks who bask in Beverly Hills and are feelthy rich . . . .

Along with both free and $100,000 appearances, Bob Hope will emcee the approaching Academy Award telecast for a fee somewhere in between . . .

Noble Will Tell His Story

John Noble, Detroit man released Jan. 8 from nine and a half years in Russian slave labor camps, will be on TV's "Face the Nation" Sunday with his own account of his imprisonment.

Viewers in this area may see him on WJBK-TV Channel 2 from 2:30 to 3 p.m.

Mother Perishes in Blaze Despite Efforts of 2 Sons

DALLAS, Ga. (AP) — A young mother died in the flames of her uncompleted home near here yesterday despite frantic efforts by two small sons to save her.

Sheriff H. G. Willbanks of Paulding County said Mrs. Mary Florence Fisk, whose husband is overseas with the Air Force, was trapped in the rear bedroom of her home. She was sleeping in the concrete block basement while construction of the home was being completed.

* * *

Flames cut off the exit from her bedroom and her sons, 8-year-old Jerry and 12 - year - old Russell, fought desperately to get her out. They tried to reach their mother with a water hose, but it was frozen. Efforts to break through the wall with an ax also failed.

Mrs. Fisk's husband Warren R. Fisk Jr., is stationed in Tokyo.

Alvino Rey Band to Play at Local Club for Week

Recording Star Sings Now at Local Station

Chapman has been with Pontiac's new station WPON for the past two months, and can be heard each morning from 10:05 to 11 o'clock.

Insurance payments for damage in 1954's hurricanes Carol and Edna were about 138 million dollars, not including auto and marine losses.
