Power Struggle Inside Russia May Aid Peace

Dulles Says Tensions May Ease When New Leaders Develop

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles says a power struggle in Moscow eventually will produce Russian leaders with whom the United States can make "practical agreements" to ease world tensions.

He also says the Formosa crisis can be settled if Red China will renounce the use of force to capture Nationalist-held islands.

Diplomats noted that the secretary's speech last night to the Foreign Policy Assn. in New York was calm and peaceful in tone but firm against spread of communism in any important new areas of Asia.

Dulles apparently took this tone deliberately in contrast to recent warlike speeches by Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov and Red Chinese Foreign Minister Chou En-lai. Molotov denounced the United States. Chou threatened, as Dulles put it, to "use all the forces at his command" to capture Formosa.

As for the Formosa problem, Dulles said the United States "has no commitment and no purpose" to defend such islands as Quemoy and Matsu.

Rep. Bentley Comments

WASHINGTON (UP)—Rep. Alvin M. Bentley (R-Mich.), a member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, said today he assumes the administration has good strategic reasons for failing to state flatly its position on Quemoy and Matsu.

Bentley, commenting on Secretary of State John Foster Dulles' policy speech on Formosa last night, said he thinks nevertheless the islands undoubtedly will be defended if necessary.

"Apparently they want to keep the Communists guessing," he said.

may and the Matsus "as such." But he made clear that it might well fight over Quemoy and Matsu if any Communist attack on them was aimed at the conquest of Chiang Kai-shek's Formosa.

Dulles appealed to the Chinese Reds to reconsider a United Nations Security Council bid to discuss a Formosa cease-fire.

"It is hardly to be expected," he said, "that the Chinese Communists will renounce their ambitions. However, they might not renounce their efforts to realize their goals by force."

Discussing the Russian situation, he said a distinction must always be made between the Soviet Union and the Russian people.

Slaughter Reassures Critics

Says Turnpike Objectors 'Misled and Misinformed'

DETROIT (AP)—William E. Slaughter Jr., chairman of the Michigan Turnpike Authority, claims that communities fighting the proposed Rockwood-to-Saginaw toll expressway have been "misled" and "misinformed."

John J. Considine, general superintendent of parks and recreation in Detroit, voiced objections to the proposed route yesterday, contending it would ruin two city parks.

At the same time, the city of Dearborn asked Washtenaw Circuit Court for an injunction to prevent the routing of the toll road through the "heart" of the city.

Slaughter, however, said in a statement last night that "construction of the Michigan Turnpike will in no way impede or otherwise interfere with normal traffic flow on existing state, county and local highways."

"School, bus, mail and other similar service routes," he said, will remain unaltered by reason of the fact that turnpike overpasses and underpasses will permit such vehicles to follow their existing routes.

"There is no need for any community to fear that it will be divided by a 'Chinese Wall' as always seems to be the cry when any limited access express is proposed."

Slaughter declared that construction of the turnpike as presently under study "will not close any street or road in the city of Dearborn."

Slaughter said the authority would make a conscientious study of objections brought up by groups.

Candidate for Premier Scrambling Around for Replacements

PARIS (AP)—Christian Pineau completed a proposed government lineup early today but within a few hours 3 of his 36 nominees withdrew at their party's request. All were followers of Gen. Charles de Gaulle.

Their action sent Pineau scrambling for replacements. He had hoped to ask the National Assembly tomorrow to approve his Cabinet and confirm him as the nation's first Socialist premier since 1947.

Two Gaullists chose to stay in Pineau's government — Maurice Lemaire, minister for reconstruction, and Diemede Catreux, secretary of state for air. Both held the same positions in Pierre Mendès-France's government.

The withdrawals left the other 33 ministries divided this way among five parties: Socialists 4, Catholic Popular Republican Movement MRP 4, Radical Socialists 4, URAS 1, and the small leftist Union of Democratic and Socialist Resistance UDSR 2.

Reportedly Pineau will also be foreign minister and will have two deputy premiers, former Foreign Minister Robert Schuman of the MRP and Yvon Delbos of the Radical Socialists.

The U. S. Weather Bureau says it will be partly cloudy tonight and not so cold, low 28 to 32. Tomorrow will be mostly cloudy with rain or snow in the late afternoon or evening. Friday night will be colder, with rain changing to snow, and the low will be 20 to 24. Saturday will again bring snow flurries and lower temperatures.

Yesterday in downtown Pontiac, temperatures ranged from 27 to 35 degrees with partly sunny skies and only a trace of snow, not enough to be recorded.

Fear 6 Firemen Dead as Blaze Crumbles Wall

2 Bodies Found; Four Others Missing in Fire in Downtown Baltimore

BALTIMORE (AP)—A tumbling wall of a burning downtown clothing store trapped and apparently killed six firemen early today.

Two bodies were recovered. Four firemen were missing.

The men were trapped as they battled a fire last night in a building on East Baltimore street.

Rescuers tunneled from the west side and said part of a wall had to be removed from the east side before they could get to a pile of debris in which the missing firemen were believed buried.

Bodies of Battalion Chief Francis P. O'Brien and Lt. William Barnes were recovered.

Missing were firemen Joseph Hanley, Richard Malsen, Rudolph Machovec and Anthony Reinfelder.

The fire was in a three-story building housing the Tru-fit Clothes Co.

Sixty-nine pieces of fire apparatus were called out to fight the blaze.

At least 20 firemen were injured in the blaze, which burned out of control for more than three hours.

Cause of the blaze has not yet been determined. No damage estimate was available.

The store is located in "the Block," celebrated burlesque and night club section of downtown Baltimore.

Seven interns and nurses from Johns Hopkins Hospital administered to the injured at the scene.

Delsing, Two Pitchers Signed by Tiger Club

DETROIT (AP)—The Tigers announced today the signing of outfielder Jimmy Delsing and pitchers Dick Marlowe and Bob Schultz.

It brought to 37 those signed. Eight still are unsigned, including outfielder-catcher J. W. Porter, who the Tigers recently refused to sell for $100,000.

Delsing hit .248 with Detroit last season and Marlowe had a 5-4 record, mostly in relief. Schultz, a left-hander purchased from Pittsburgh, had an 18-11 record with New Orleans of the AA Southern Association.

Peaceful, Maker Says

LOS ANGELES (INS)—It may be propaganda, but Walter K. Lyon, president of the Cigar Institute of America, claimed today that no cigar smoker ever beats his wife.

Lyon said the reason is that there's something "peaceful" about smoking cigars, while cigarette smokers are more nervous.

Firemen Carry Companion From Blaze

TEAMWORK—Firemen in Baltimore hurry as they remove one of their men from the wreckage of a clothing store fire. Six firemen are feared dead after they were trapped when the roof collapsed during the blaze.

Rites for Six Blast Victims to Be Conducted Friday

Funeral arrangements for the six persons killed in a home explosion Tuesday near Milford have been completed.

Service for Robert L. Zeller, 28, his wife, Anita, 22, son Robert A., 20 months, and a daughter, Gloria Jean, will be held at 2 p. m. Friday at the Richardson-Bird Funeral Home, Milford, with burial in Easton Cemetery, Ionia County.

They lived at 350 Woodruff. Surviving Mr. Zeller are his mother, Mrs. Alice Zeller of Milford; two sisters, Mrs. Betty Fowler and Patricia Zeller of Milford; three brothers, Richard and David, both of Milford, and Darwin of Royal Oak.

Surviving Mrs. Zeller are her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hoxie of Ionia; two brothers, Allen (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4)

Pontiac Dealers Set New Mark

Sales for Past Month 10 Per Cent Higher Than Previous Peak

With delivery of 40,000 new cars last month, Pontiac dealers set a new January record. Retail sales of all General Motors autos continued at a record-breaking pace.

R. M. Critchfield, Pontiac Motor general manager, said: "Our sales for the first month of 1955 topped Pontiac's previous January high, set in 1951, by approximately 10 per cent."

Meanwhile, GM President Harlow H. Curtis said the corporation's retail sales for the first 10 days of February smashed a four-year record.

In the same period in 1950, GM sold 80,300 cars as compared with 90,754 this year. This adds up to 124.3 per cent of the previous high, Curtis stated.

New GM car sales for 1955 through Feb. 10 were 361,008, or 122 per cent of the previous record of 297,440 set in the corresponding period of 1951.

Britain Is 3rd Nation to Join H-Bomb Race

LONDON (UP)—Great Britain announced today that she will start developing and producing hydrogen bombs.

The disclosure that Britain will become the world's third H-bomb power was made in an official government white paper, giving Britain's defenses their most drastic overhaul in history, to keep them abreast of the atomic age.

In deciding to join the United States and Russia in producing the world's most deadly explosive, the government of Prime Minister Winston Churchill said the H-bomb's terrible power would—in its view—"act as a deterrent to war."

Britain already has produced and exploded its own atomic bombs. Britain thus made it a big three hydrogen bomb race, lagging 18 months behind Russia.

The U.S.S.R. blew off its first known hydrogen device Aug. 12, 1953, according to the findings and reports of United States atomic experts.

The United States exploded its first H-bomb May 8, 1951.

House Already Has Approved $10,000 Increase

Bill in Upper Chamber Would Boost Salaries $7,500 Per Year

WASHINGTON (AP)—Leaders predicted today the Senate will follow the House lead in voting a substantial pay boost for members of Congress and federal judges.

The House voted 283-118 yesterday to give the 96 senators and 435 representatives a $10,000 annual boost to $25,000.

Comparable raises are included for the vice president, the House speaker, all federal judges and U.S. attorneys.

Michigan representatives voted as follows:

Democrats against — Hayworth, Republicans against — Cederberg, Dondoro, Hoffman, Johansen and Thompson.

Republicans paired for — Wolcott. Absent or not voting — Mander.

Sen. Clements (D-Ky.), acting majority leader, said the Senate probably will take up its version of the pay raise next week.

The bill approved by a heavy majority in the Senate Judiciary Committee would give members of Congress a $7,500 increase to $32,500.

Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn.), who headed a subcommittee which conducted hearings on the question, told a reporter today he believes the Senate will pass its bill "by a substantial margin."

He said "at the moment" his plan is to stick to the Senate bill, "then work out our differences in conference."

Sen. George (D-Ga.), dean of the Senate and its president pro tem, and Sen. Bridges (R-NH), senior Republican member, support the raise to $32,500.

However, one senator who has backed a pay boost said in an interview today his mail is running heavily against it and that, while visiting in his state last week, he found people "bitter" about it. This senator, asking not to be named, indicated he may vote "no."

The pay bill sailed through the House with relatively light opposition.

Minority Leader Halleck (R-Ind.) said most federal employees have had four or five pay hikes since members of Congress last got one in 1948.

A move by Rep. Burdick (R-ND) to hold the raise to $5,000 lost on a standing vote.

Governor Protesting Division of Michigan

LANSING (AP)—Gov. Williams today said he had wired an objection to the Small Business Administration in Washington, D. C., against a reported proposal to separate Michigan into two areas for the purpose of administration.

The governor said he had learned that the agency, successor to many functions of the Reconstruction Finance Corp., proposes to administer the Lower Peninsula from its Detroit district office and the Upper Peninsula from Minneapolis.

Williams said the people of Michigan traditionally have tried to keep the two peninsulas together for all types of business and governmental programs.

Survival From H-Bomb Attack Not Hopeless

Federal Civil Defense Director Says Simple Measures Can Reduce Toll in Lives

By ROBERT B. TARR
Pontiac Press Managing Editor

BATTLE CREEK—Survival for millions in event of atomic bomb attacks may depend upon:

1. Their ability, because of advance planning, to leave target cities before bombs drop;

2. Proper protection in the wide areas which may be contaminated by falling radioactive dust particles.

This is the opinion of Val Peterson, director of the Federal Civil Defense Administration.

Despite the magnitude of these two necessary steps if an all-out attack is made on America, the situation is far from hopeless, Peterson said Wednesday afternoon.

Peterson addressed a meeting of newspapermen in Battle Creek who gathered as guests of the FCDA and the Battle Creek Enquirer and News to inspect the national FCDA headquarters.

"There is nothing hopeless about the situation," Peterson said in discussing H-bombs. "There is no reason for panic or hysteria. There are defenses available—simple defenses."

At the same time, he added soberly, the hydrogen bomb and its resulting radioactive fallout have vastly extended the range of the H-bomb's peril to human life.

"The significance of fallout," Peterson said, "is that an atomic attack is no longer the exclusive concern of large cities. It is now a life-or-death matter to farmers, ranchers and small-town residents who thought they were safe because they don't live in a primary target area."

However, he said, "there are mitigating factors in the behavior of such fallout."

One, he said, is that radioactive activity lasts only from a few hours to several days and wears off quickly. "It does not destroy the earth and all on it," he said.

Peterson said another factor is that such dust can be washed off easily, provided a person has not been heavily exposed.

Weather experts could help keep the death toll down, he said, by charting the course and velocity of prevailing winds so that residents in danger areas could be forewarned of approaching fallout.

Peterson said that bomb shelters such as used in World War II probably would give insufficient protection from the immense power of an H-bomb.

"Getting away from the primary target area is the best defense," he said, but added that if warning comes too late to evacuate cities, some underground protection in the next best, as earth is an insulation against radioactive particles.

For shelter away from the immediate area of a bomb drop, he recommended the old-fashioned underground cyclone cellars preferably about three feet underground. They should be equipped with water and food for three to five days, a sanitary facility and battery-operated radio.

Bombagi Trial in Second Day

Pontiac Man Charged With Fatal Stabbing on Last July 17

The first-degree murder trial of Antone Bombagi began yesterday in Oakland County Circuit Court. Bombagi is charged with stabbing a man following an alleged quarrel over the accused's wife.

Bombagi, 48, of 161 Pingree Ave., is charged with slaying George Spencer, 30, of Orion Township, last July 17.

The argument, sheriff's deputies said, was the climax of an earlier dispute between Bombagi and his wife, Lillie Mae, 31, when they left a Lake Orion tavern with Spencer.

When Mrs. Bombagi insisted on driving the family car, deputies stated, Bombagi stalked off, but followed them later in a taxi to the Oscar Murdock home at 1255 Baldwin where Spencer lived.

The scuffle occurred when Bombagi found his wife and Spencer together in the back yard, witnesses said.

Dr. John J. Marra, Pontiac General Hospital pathologist, yesterday testified as to cause of death and the murder weapon. Murdock's son, Eugene, 15, said he saw Bombagi with a knife similar to the one to be introduced as the murder weapon about a month before the killing.

Expected to testify today in Judge George B. Harrick's courtroom are four persons who were present when the slaying took place.

Chief Assistant Prosecutor George F. Taylor said he would call Mr. and Mrs. Murdock, Mrs. Margie Kowalski of Lake Orion and Clayton Van Horn, now of Camp Carson, Colo.

Broomfield Sees New School Plan Going to Voters

Senator William Broomfield (R-Royal Oak) told the Pontiac Press today that he was sure the senate would approve for the April 4 ballot the constitutional amendment he had proposed authorizing a state loan fund for school districts' building programs.

"However, it is being held over until Monday to make changes which will meet with bonding at attorney's approval. The proposal is for school building bonds (25 year minimum, 30 year maximum) with the state lending the district all monies required annually for principal and interest over 13 mills to be levied locally," said Sen. Broomfield.

The amendment, originally proposed by Broomfield has been modified to include proposals drafted by Louis Schimmel of Pontiac.

Rubinstein Plotter Quizzed on Holdups

NEW YORK (U-P) Police say trail, 50-year-old Herman Scholz, who reportedly has "fingered" the possible killers in the Serge Rubinstein case, is being questioned about two unsolved bank robberies.

Scholz, picked up Tuesday, told how his own plan to kidnap Rubinstein, 46, for ransom was carried out without him and resulted in a "bungled" job that resulted in the strange slaying of the playboy-finance.

The quiet, mild-mannered Scholz, not quite five feet tall, has been a limousine-for-hire driver living in an apparently sedate life in Whitestone, Queens, for the past 15 years. But, police said, he has an arrest record dating back to 1923, and authorities found a small arsenal in his home—assuredly cached against the day he hoped to become a big-time bank robber.

Scholz is being held in $25,000 bail as a witness in the Rubinstein murder—the high bail set to keep him in custody and protect him from possible harm by underworld mobsters.

Motorist Won't Be Prosecuted

Ziem Finds No Proof of Negligence in Death of Blind Man, Dog

No charge will be brought against the driver of a car which hit a 54-year-old blind man and his leader dog Feb. 8, killing them both, Oakland County Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem said today.

Ziem explained there are not sufficient facts to prove a case against the driver, James Farrell, 54, of 3438 Mount Elliott, Detroit, whose car struck Charles E. Sailer, of Mackinaw City, on Rochester road in front of the Leader Dogs for the Blind School.

"It was near dawn," the prosecutor stated, "and we cannot prove Farrell saw the man and dog or should have seen them."

"Farrell said he was traveling between 25 and 30 miles per hour and there are no skid marks or other indications to prove he was moving faster."

"The burden would be on us to prove negligence and, with no witnesses to the actual crash, we could not do it."

Sailer, who was taking a four-week training course with his dog, "Prince," is the first fatality in the school's history.

Authorities said he probably went astray while taking the dog on a routine morning trip to a relief area.

Ziem cited a little-known state law requiring motorists to come to a complete stop when they approach within 10 feet of a blind or partially blind person with a dog or white cane.

Drivers are required to stop and take precautions necessary to avoid accident or injury to the blind person before proceeding, he explained.

In Farrell's case, it could not be shown that he should have seen the victim, the prosecutor said.

Major Witness Expected Today in Phenix Trial

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (INS)—The last man to see Alabama attorney general nominee Albert Patterson alive—other than the killer—is expected to take the stand today in the murder trial of former Russell County deputy sheriff Albert Fuller.

The defendant is one of three ousted law enforcement officers facing separate trials in Birmingham for the back-alley assassination of Patterson, who campaigned to clean up vice and crime-infested Russell County.

The other two, former solicitor Arch Ferrell and former attorney general S. Garrett, will be tried later.

The state's first witness today is expected to be Leland Jones, advertising manager of a grocery store in Phenix City, once known as the "sin town of the south" and the scene of the murder.

Local Woman Dies; Leaves 66 Survivors

Mrs. Menno (Eleanor) Weber, 60, of 126 N. Marshall St., who died at her residence early this morning, is survived by 66 members of her immediate family.

Besides three brothers and two sisters, Mrs. Weber had 17 children, 35 grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren.

Born in Melvin Oct. 22, 1885, she was the daughter of Gideon and Sarah McElroy Beadle.

Mrs. Weber had lived in Pontiac 37 years, coming here from Brown City.

Surviving children are: Mrs. Florence Vosburg of Holly, Mrs. Avis Hitchcock of Ortonville, Mrs. Beatrice Johnson, Mrs. Annabelle Renshaw, Mrs. Norma Woodruff, Mrs. Elvetha Best, Mrs. Deloris Lewis, Mrs. Jane Pruett, Gail Weber, Mervyn Weber, Mrs. Alice Mason, Mrs. Lois Batten, Mrs. Leola Preston, George, Jack and Willard Weber, all of Pontiac and Dorothy Weber at home.

Surviving brothers and sisters are George of Holly, Frank of Freeland and Richard of Pontiac; Mrs. Jane Huffman of Detroit, Theresa Beadle of Pontiac.

Mrs. Weber is at the Pursey Funeral Home where service will be held Monday at 1 p.m. The Rev. Fred Peter of the First Open Bible Church will officiate. Burial will follow in Perry Mount Park Cemetery.

Elder Robert D. Davis

Elder Robert D. Davis, 63, of 14045 Woodward Ave., Highland Park, died suddenly at Highland Park General Hospital Tuesday.

Born Nov. 19, 1891, he was the son of James A. and Mollie Hastings Davis and was married to Hannah J. Jolly in S. Boardman 46 years ago.

Elder Davis, a minister, was a member of the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints and a former resident of Oxbow Lake.

Surviving besides his widow are two sons, Robert W. of Highland Park, James A. of Walled Lake; two daughters, Mrs. Marion Kelly, of Storm Lake, Iowa, and Nelda Davis, of Pontiac; two brothers, James B. and Harry A. Davis, both of Pontiac, also survive.

Mr. Davis is at Pursey Funeral Home where service will be held Saturday at 2 p.m. Elder Randall Hulsa, will officiate with burial in Oxbow Lake Cemetery.

See New School Ready by Nov. 1

Board of Education Says Linda Vista Contracts to Be Let May 3

Linda Vista School will be completed by Nov. 1, said Dr. Otto P. Hutziger, administrative assistant to the superintendent of Pontiac schools, Wednesday night before the regular meeting of the Pontiac Board of Education.

Located just off East boulevard (between Perry and Mount Clemens Sts.) the proposed elementary school was originally planned for a September opening.

This later starting date, stated the board, would mean that the 228 additional children anticipated in that area would be handled by:

- 1—Transporting them to other schools.
- 2—Increasing the class loads of nearby schools.
- 3—Obtaining temporary structures until the new building is ready.

Contractual bids will be let May 3 and construction will take from 6 to 8 months, he said.

Delay has been caused by bad weather holding up topographical surveys and by the initial difficulty encountered in obtaining the site, the board said.

Working drawings for the junior high school are more than half completed, said Dr. Hutziger. These are being drafted by the Boyer Associates of Detroit.

This same firm has drawn plans for the Whitfield addition and the new Lake Street School.

The new junior high school will be placed on the west side of Perry street south of the viaduct, it was announced. Contracts for the junior high school, which is planned for a Feb. 1, 1936 completion date, will be let on April 15, the board said.

Start Breakfast With Ice Cream, Dairymen Advise

GRAND RAPIDS (U)—Some members of the Michigan Allied Dairy Assn. will be disappointed if you didn't start your day with an ice cream sundae for breakfast.

The association's ice cream section figures it's a shame people don't consider the dish a breakfast staple just like bacon and eggs.

To prove their point they served a concoction called a cereal sundae at the MADA breakfast Tuesday.

It consisted of a big scoop of vanilla ice cream, fresh fruit sauce and was topped with corn flakes.

Robert F. Locke, president of the Michigan Association of Ice Cream Manufacturers, planned the meal.

He said breakfast ice cream should be served softer than at other times of the day but admitted it was a matter of choice.

"Remember, ice cream at breakfast is served first, not last," Locke said.

The ice cream manufacturers are among some 500 persons attending the annual convention of the Michigan Allied Dairy Assn. in Grand Rapids this week.

Birmingham Jaycees Plan Award Dinner

BIRMINGHAM—L. Gov. Philip A. Hart will speak on America's youth, when he is guest speaker at a banquet to be given by the Junior Chamber of Commerce at 8 p.m. Feb. 25, at Devon Gables.

At that time Jaycees will name the winner of their distinguished service award, given each year to a young man who has distinguished himself in community and business affairs.

Dale Bothke, former state president of the Oklahoma Chamber of Commerce, plus local dignitaries, also will be on hand.

The dinner and program is open to the public. Advance reservations may be made through Mrs. Claude Kidd, of Dorchester road. Last year's award winner was Edward E. Wilson.

Turnpike Head Says Objectors 'Misled'

in Detroit, Dearborn, and suburban Bloomfield Hills, Redford Township and Franklin Village.

He said the deadline for completion of the turnpike study, for that reason, has been moved up to April.

State Sen. Broomfield (R-Oakland County) several days ago introduced a bill in the legislature calling for repeal of the turnpike act and abandonment of its program, which has cost the state $500,000 so far.

Slaughter, in his statement, contended it would be unwise to drop the program. He declared:

"The legislature after considerable deliberation in 1933 passed the Turnpike Act for the good of all the people of Michigan and the Authority has studied the Rockwood-Saginaw route at a cost of between $400,000 and $500,000. The studies have proven that the project is feasible for financing as a revenue bond project under the present law."

"Under this program and barring legal delays the turnpike will be open to traffic within three years from now. No other plan being considered in either Lansing or Washington, D. C., will produce so much traffic relief for Michigan in so short a time."

The Day in Birmingham 27 Students Will Receive Awards for Best Posters

BIRMINGHAM—Some 115 Birmingham youngsters are in hot water. They're getting that soap-and-water-scrubbed look again after having spent the last few weeks delving into paste pots, paints and the like.

Fund drive workers for the annual Community House Roll Call are letting everyone know that local youngsters went all-out for the recent poster contest conducted in the schools.

Winners and those receiving honorable mention have just been announced, with a total of 27 young students scheduled to receive scrolls from the Community House in appreciation of their work.

Divided into age class, there were 12 first, second and third place winners, listed in that order below: Birmingham High School: Sandy Shukait, Connie Gordon, Charles Raach; Barnum Junior High School: Susan Lorimer, Sue Johnson, Roxie Rundle; elementary schools: Carol Cole, Jack Crain, Barbara Harling, and Holy Name School: Barbara Koch, Linda Camiller, Terry Sempuric.

All in all, 115 posters are being placed prominently in local business places and at the Community House this week. Roll call officials say this is the first time the house has relied so heavily on the younger element to aid in the annual fund drive.

Goal this year is $32,400 and must be reached by Feb. 28. Almost a third of the total has been collected to date, according to Mrs. Alvin Knorr, general chairman.

Officials also believe they have more than disproved the theory that it's only when children are bad that they're publicized. They're praising them to the skies.

Parents and teachers will provide the entertainment for the Pierce School PTA meeting at 8 tonight. A cast of 28 will appear in "Out of This World," an original play written by two PTA mothers, Mrs. Hugh Bailey and Mrs. John Lane.

William H. Saunders, 64, of Detroit, was treated for back injuries at William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak, yesterday, following a two-car collision on E. Maple at Adams. Police ticketed him for violation of a traffic signal.

His car, going west on Maple, collided with an auto going southbound on Adams road, driven by Edward J. Niezowski of Royal Oak.

A follow-up City Commission meeting tonight will revolve around results achieved at a session attended here earlier today by representatives of the proposed $2,740,000 Evergreen Interceptor Sewer project.

Officials from Birmingham, Bloomfield Hills, Troy, Bloomfield and Southfield Townships, and the City of Lathrup Village hoped to iron out differences over allocation of costs in the sanitary sewer project at this morning's meeting. Southfield and Lathrup say their shares are too high.

If constructed, the sewer would carry waste from these municipalities into the Detroit treatment system. Most of the areas involved have been cited by the Michigan Water Resources Commission for pollution of the Rouge River, and told to end this practice.

Also to attend the earlier meeting were officials of the Michigan State Department of Health, the Water Resources Commission, engineers for the plan, and financial and legal consultants.

A car driven by Mary E. MacDonald of 558 Bennaville, was one of seven involved in a traffic jam on Woodward at 12 Mile during yesterday afternoon's rush hour.

A series of rear end collisions were set off when the first car, driven by Nick Marek of Royal Oak, stopped for a traffic signal.

Berkley police said two tow trucks tried the autos apart. One driver suffered a slight knee injury and was treated by his own physician.

Miss Mary C. Hulbert Service for Miss Mary C. Hulbert, 81, of 680 Brown St., will be at 1 p.m. Saturday at St. Joseph's Episcopal Church, Detroit, with private burial to follow at Elmwood Cemetery. Her body is at Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co.

Miss Hulbert died today. She previously had been active in social work.

Surviving are three brothers: Henry S. of Detroit and Lawrence and Roberts, both of Birmingham; and two sisters, Mrs. David W. Thornberry of Birmingham, and Mrs. Helen H. Kraft of Jamestown, N. D.

Youth Models a 'Space Port'

16-Year-Old Based Idea for Detailed Exhibit on Scientific Data

GUTHRIE, Okla. (UP)—Many boys and their dads thrilled to new electric trains this Christmas, but the most elaborate railroad outfit probably would not have impressed 16-year-old Noel Noble.

Noel, son of Police Capt. Charles Noble, has his own space port, an amazing miniature conception of what some day may become a method of living in outer space.

Young Noble carefully assembled the finely detailed layout in his basement in eight months of painstaking spare-time work. He used such items as miniature salt carboys, 22 caliber shells and carbon dioxide cartridges in designing "gravity generators," a "mercury vapor power plant" and "interstellar ventilation units."

The 30x60 inch model is no haphazard attempt at a new toy. The young hobbyist based his miniature plant on research of space travel and related data gleaned from books on scientific authorities on the subject. Noble admits he also reads a good deal of science fiction.

All parts of the space port are worked out in minutest detail. Miniature washrooms contain tiny bars of soap in midjet lavatories, and there is even soapuds in the bathtub.

There are miniature telephones on the walls, one-half-inch coat hangers, darts on a dashboard and playing cards on the table in the game room.

Noble apparently does not believe space living will affect long-standing habits of human beings. Tiny labels on products in the kitchen cabinet blare forth the super-scientific praise of food and household goods. And Noble has even provided pin-ups in the bunk room.

Noble showed his belief that space-dwellers will not forget God by building a small chapel complete with crucifix, candles and pews.

He also diagrammed floor plans for many of the rooms, drew up a complete roster of 200 men and women to occupy the space port and worked out oxygen and water requirements by day, week and month.

As to his opinion when such long considerations, the youth said, "I think maybe in 50 years we can do it."

Child Prodigy to Study Music on Scholarship

KEARNY, N. J. (UP)—Karan Helen Zdanoff, 12, who was considered a child prodigy at four, has been awarded a scholarship to study piano at the Juillard School of Music, Mark Nevins of Maplewood, the teacher who tested her eight years ago, said.

"From the very beginning she had demonstrated the unique traits of a child prodigy. She had an ear for music, and could, at once, reproduce tunes. A youngster with such a flair for playing piano comes along once in a great many years."

YOUR CHILD MAY HAVE PIN-WORMS

1 OUT OF 3 DOES!
 Pinworms, non-biting and a tormenting round fish are often taken from children. They are so common that medical experts say almost one out of every three persons are infested. Experts estimate that 100 million Americans are infested with pinworms and not know it.

To get rid of Pin-Worms, these pills must not only be taken, but also in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's why only Jay's P-W tablets do... and have been shown to... Pin-Worms quickly and easily.

Don't take chances with this dangerous, highly contagious condition. Get positive Jay's P-W Vermifuge... quick, sure-action tablets... special diet for children and adults. Prescribed by Dr. D. Jay's & Son, specialists in worm remedies for 100 years.

Matusow Tells About Spy Job

Says He Was Asked to Check Up on Publisher for McCarthy

NEW YORK (AP)—Harvey Matusow, ex-Communist and onetime FBI informer, says he was asked to spy on Nevada publisher Hank Greenspun on behalf of Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis). Greenspun was a political opponent of McCarthy and the late Sen. McCarran (D-Nev.).

Matusow was a witness again yesterday in a hearing based on the plea by 13 second-string Communists that Matusow's testimony—which he now says was false—led to their conviction in 1952 on conspiracy charges. They are seeking a new trial.

Matusow, cross-examined by U.S. Atty. J. Edward Lumbard, testified that last October, the day after he signed a contract for publication of his book "False Witness," he told attorneys for the Justice Department he "would never take the witness stand again."

Lumbard read into the record a letter written by Matusow July 25, 1953, in Las Vegas, Nev., to Dick Omlia, an aide to Sen. McCarthy. The letter concerned Greenspun, publisher of the Las Vegas Sun and outspoken critic of McCarthy.

Matusow said in the letter he was trying to get information from Greenspun after telling the publisher he (Matusow) didn't like McCarthy or McCarran.

Matusow, asked if he had offered to "spy" on Greenspun, replied: "I was just following a suggestion by Omlia."

Last October Greenspun filed a one-million-dollar suit against McCarthy, contending the senator falsely accused him of being an ex-Communist.

Meanwhile, the government filed a charge accusing Greenspun of publishing an article tending to "incite murder or assassination" of McCarthy.

The case is still pending. Greenspun accused McCarthy, Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell and Postmaster General Arthur Sumner of conspiring to send him to prison.

U.S. Must Keep Up Peace Efforts—Lodge

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. said last night the United States must continue to press for a cease-fire for Chinese coastal islands, regardless of Red China's attitude, because the situation if not dealt with promptly "could lead to a big war."

Lodge, chief U.S. delegate to the U.N. told the St. Louis Chamber of Commerce the "importance of stopping the fighting is as great as it ever was" despite Red China's refusal to take part in cease-fire talks.

"We are continuing our close consultations with members of the Security Council in an effort to bring an end to the shooting," Lodge said. "Even if we should fail, at all events our debates in the Security Council will make much clearer to the whole world who it is that is disturbing and disrupting peace in the area of Formosa."

Acquit Welder in Kidnap Trial

Wife Swoons as Jury Finds Mate Innocent of Abduction Charge

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—A Superior Court jury has found Daniel J. Marsin, 41-year-old welder, innocent of kidnapping Mrs. Evelyn Anne Smith and holding her in the Superstition Mountains for $75,000 ransom.

The defendant, who walked from the courtroom with his unconscious wife in his arms after the verdict was returned yesterday, said he expected to be acquitted. He acknowledged, however, that he "was worried."

Marsin's tiny wife Lillian fainted in his arms as the verdict was announced. Marsin picked her up and carried her into an ante-room.

County Atty. William P. Mahoney Jr. told a newsmen after the trial: "We're through."

Mahoney said the case "has been examined and re-examined from every angle."

Marsin was accused of abducting the 24-year-old Mrs. Smith from in front of a Phoenix beauty salon last June 9 and of taking her to the Superstition Mountains, 50 miles east of here.

Mrs. Smith returned to her home unharmed on the evening of June 10. Her husband said he paid the $75,000 ransom. The money was recovered.

John Flynn, who defended Marsin, contended during the trial and in his closing argument that the state had failed to link important evidence to the defendant.

The state's evidence included a purported ransom note and a typewriter that an expert witness said was used to write the note.

Newspaper Story Gives Man Word of Lost Brothers

TRAVERSE CITY (AP)—A newspaper account of the reunion of twin brothers at Buffalo, N. Y., may lead to another family reunion of missing members of the same family.

Stanley S. Saunders of Traverse City said he is a brother of Paul L. Prince, 40, of Buffalo, and Jack L. Stoffel, 40, of Detroit, twins recently reunited.

The newspaper account of their reunion brought him the first word he has had in 40 years about these two members of his family, Saunders stated.

Saunders said he and five brothers and sisters were separated by the death of their mother.

Saunders said he was adopted by the William Saunders family of Traverse City, and three other children, Edward, Jean and Christine, were taken by relatives in the province of Manitoba, Canada.

Saunders, who is 42, said he is seeking more information about each of the six children in his family and hopes to arrange a general reunion as soon as possible.

He told of corresponding with his brother and sister in Manitoba but had never been able to trace Paul and Jack.

MEMBER OF AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATIONS

Credit Is Due Democrats for Aid to Trade Program

A heartening aspect of the outlook for the Eisenhower trade and tariff program is the fine support it has been getting from the Democrats.

This was highlighted by the 20 to 5 vote of the House Ways and Means Committee to report the measure to the floor. Incidentally, the committee under the chairmanship of JAMES COOPER, Tennessee Democrat, completed its work on the bill only five weeks after the session began.

In contrast, the Republican controlled committee last year held up the measure until near the end of the session. Then it forced the President to make concession after concession to the high protectionists and limited the Reciprocal Trade Act extension to one year.

As sent to the floor, this year's bill provides for a three year extension and tariff reductions of five per cent a year. In the case of tariffs now amounting to more than 80 per cent, it permits reduction to that level.

Much improved though it is over last year's version, the bill needs still further improvements. It has been pointed out by the Committee for Economic Development that the peril point and escape clauses of the existing legislation greatly reduce the effectiveness of the Reciprocal Trade program.

Moreover, the big fight on the floor will come when supporters try to prevent protectionists from wrecking the measure with crippling amendments. Already a group of right wing Republicans is gearing for the fight to block the President's measure again.

There is nothing radical about this program. It is both moderate and sensible. Our own country and the free world would benefit economically if Congress enacts the legislation President Eisenhower has asked.

$32,000,000 for Statistics

Anyone who doubts that the United States Government is a very big business could set his mind at rest by looking at its annual bill for statistics.

According to Rep. HENRY O. TALLE, an Iowa Republican, the Government will spend $32,000,000 this year gathering statistics of all kinds. That is an increase of $5,000,000 over this year and the year before.

Naturally enough the Department of Agriculture, rather than the Census Bureau, is the biggest spender in this field. All sorts of reports on crops, prices, etc. will cost Agriculture $12,500,000 this year. Except in years when the Census Bureau has special reports, it is in second place with annual expenditures of $7,500,000.

While there are no exact figures as to the value of these statistics, they are a very important part of the service Government renders business and industry.

War on Rabies Effective

A report by County Health Director JOHN MONROE indicates that Oakland's war on rabies has paid off in fewer cases of this dangerous disease.

In 1952 when the Board of Supervisors authorized the campaign against rabies, there were 74 cases in the county. Last year there were only 17, reflecting a reduction of 75 per cent in the area under Dr. Monroe's jurisdiction.

Credit for the success of the program is given by him to better control of stray and unwanted dogs and vaccination against rabies.

It seems likely that these results may revive interest in vaccination in Pontiac which doesn't require this safeguard.

Power Output Sets Record

In a highly industrialized society like ours it is important news when all time peak records for electric power output have been set in two successive weeks.

For both weeks total power generated topped 10 billion kilowatts. In the seven day period ending February 5 the all time high mark of 10.047 billion kilowatts was reached.

It may help the layman visualize such an enormous power production to say that it would be sufficient to light 100 billion 100 watt bulbs. Of course, this power wasn't used for light alone.

It kept the wheels turning in the Nation's countless manufacturing plants. It heated water, operated elevators, ran sewing machines, vacuum cleaners, dish washers, washing machines and dryers and all the other appliances which have made ours the world's highest standard of living.

The average hourly power consumption of this Nation of 163,000,000 is 60,000,000 kilowatts or roughly 80,000,000 horsepower. That figures out to slightly more than nine billion kilowatts a week.

The Man About Town

86 Years Young

Still Active in Handling Big County TB Sanatorium

Here: An animal that's getting scarier—also the people who work like one.

Without doubt the oldest person in an important position in conducting the public affairs of Oakland County also is one of the keenest on the job. He is George Scott, aged 86, and one of the three trustees entrusted with the operation of the Oakland County Tuberculosis Sanatorium, largest county sanatorium in Michigan.

From the time he peddled papers on the streets of Pontiac 70 odd years ago, George has been a farmer, painter, trolley car conductor, and now has his own finance business in Royal Oak. In his present county position, which he has held for several years, he is considered by his associates to be the watchdog on their expenditures which are approaching the million dollar mark annually, though never allowing anything to happen that would not keep the sanatorium record at the top among such institutions in the entire nation. Mr. Scott also is the only Oakland County man to serve on draft boards in both World Wars, and still is doing that duty.

Automobile engineers have about perfected a buzzer which will sound in a car when the driver gets so sleepy that his feet action on the accelerator is not normal.

According to word received after the recent Pontiac symphony concert,

Mrs. D. L. Tate of Birmingham, reports that many people were totally unprepared to find such professional musicians. And everyone was completely delighted with the program.

A suggestion in regard to donations to the Pontiac Foundation comes from Mrs. Harry S. Pearce of 111 Oneida Road. Make it an amount equal to your house number, putting the decimal point where your conscience dictates.

A letter received some time ago from my good friend,

Monty Oakman of Birmingham, suggests that our present day youngsters, with their high priced boggans and skis, are not having half the fun of the kids of 50 years ago, with the crude sleds which they made themselves, and called "double rippers," in which they belly flopped down our hills.

In looking over the keepsakes of her late mother,

Mrs. Martha Williamson of Detroit, formerly of Pontiac, found a copy of the Pontiac Weekly Gazette of 72 years ago, in which the Baptist church announces: "Complete chicken dinner and everything that goes with it; all you can eat; 10 cents."

One War to Which We Can All Subscribe!

James Marlow Says:

Dulles Purposely Vague About Defending Islands

WASHINGTON (AP)—He didn't say yes and he didn't say no. That sums up Secretary of State Dulles' reply to the important question: Will the Red Chinese be allowed to have Quemoy and Matsu Islands?

For months the Eisenhower administration's position on that question has been vague. It was still vague after Dulles finished talking about it in a New York speech last night.

Since he didn't make it off the cuff but had plenty of time to prepare it, his vagueness can be considered deliberate. Why? Either because the administration hasn't made up its mind, doesn't want to tell the Reds or wants elbow room for horse trading.

Dulles' words can be interpreted this way:

1. The United States may fight—Dulles didn't say it would—to defend those islands if the Red Chinese try to take them by force.

2. If the Reds play nice, stop talking about invading Formosa and agree to a cease-fire, they may be allowed to have Quemoy and Matsu.

Chiang Kai-shek, American ally, has his main forces on Formosa and the nearby Pescadore Islands, 100 miles across water from the Red Chinese mainland. He has other forces scattered among islands close to the mainland.

The United States is pledged to defend Formosa and the Pescadores under a Senate-approved treaty with Chiang. As Dulles said last night, this pledge does not extend to any other Chiang-held islands.

But Eisenhower could, if he thought them necessary to the defense of Formosa, defend the other islands. This power was given him in a special resolution approved by Congress.

He decided the Tachen Islands, 200 miles northwest of Formosa, were not necessary for the latter's defense. So last week Chiang withdrew his troops from the Tachens and left the Reds have them.

But what of Quemoy and Matsu? They're close to the mainland and on a direct line between big mainland ports and Formosa. In the hands of the Reds they could serve as stepping stones for a Formosa invasion.

Dulles said: "The United States has no commitment and no purpose to defend the coastal positions as such." Then, almost wistfully, he wondered whether the Reds "might not renounce their efforts to realize their goals by force." And he added he hoped the Reds' announced decision to take Formosa was "not irrevocable."

But he talked dimly of the idea of letting the Reds have Quemoy and Matsu merely for the asking. He said, "It is doubtful this would serve either the cause of peace or the cause of freedom." Nothing, in so many words, was final in what he said.

accustomed to sharing your attention with others.

Otherwise, he will learn to be a monopolist of your attention and this habit may become so entrenched that he cannot live a normal social life.

For a child can learn to receive an excessive amount of attention until ultimately he will crave it almost as desperately as a narcotic

Larry's case is duplicated thousands of times and it shows the great need of socializing a child long before he enters kindergarten. A child needs other youngsters for playmates, so be sure you follow the prescription below in dealing with "only" children.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case N-352: Larry Y., aged 3½ is an only child.

"Dr. Crane, Larry doesn't know how to play," his mother informed me.

"And there aren't any playmates in our neighborhood. Besides our hopes for another baby are very poor."

"So his Daddy and I try to play with him as much as possible, but we actually do most of the playing while he simply stands and watches us."

"Most of the day he wanders around the house, acting bored. Or he gets into mischief. What can I do to help him learn to play?"

Young babies soon learn to smile and coo at their mothers, but laughter as a social event must be learned through group activity.

Ideally, when parents start a family it would be better to have the children in pairs, spaced about two years apart, so the youngsters can then play together and socialize one another.

If you have an "only" child and can't have another, either by adoption or natural birth, then try to give him a living playmate in the form of a puppy or kitten.

For a puppy will permit you parents to split the family spotlight and then get your child

Opposes Statehood for Alaska and Hawaii; Commonwealth Better, Says T. O. Carlson

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

Giving statehood to Alaska or Hawaii seems to me simply folly. That will add "two stars to the flag" which has a nice patriotic ring and appeals to sentimentalists. But why statehood? Puerto Rico had a chance at statehood and rejected it; it preferred to become a self-governing Commonwealth. Why not the same for Alaska and Hawaii?

Would England make New Zealand a "state"? New Zealand, Canada and Australia and the rest would never accede to such an arrangement if London proposed it. Why should they when Commonwealth status is so much simpler, easier and more flexible.

The Commonwealths don't run England, and England doesn't run the Commonwealths; they share common citizenship, defense and foreign policy. We should notify our congressmen that we don't go along with this nonsense.

U. of M. Dental Student

Speaks for Fluoridation

Pontiac is about to make a big decision regarding its dental health. It can join many other progressive communities to cut down the number of cavities in the teeth by placing fluorine in the city water supply.

I am a dental student at the University of Michigan who has lived all my life in Pontiac. After graduation I hope to return here.

During the past few years I have become acquainted with much research on reducing dental decay. The American Dental Association does not attribute therapeutic properties to any dentifrice.

Much research has been done since 1900 by many competent investigators on the use of fluorine as a preventive measure against dental caries. In the amount prescribed by the U.S. Public Health Service, one part per million will reduce dental decay as much as 60 per cent.

Fluorine is said to be poisonous. I agree. However, it must be agreed also that chlorine, used by many water departments to kill bacteria, also is a poison. Many essential vitamins are also poisonous when used in excessive amounts. The amount of fluorine already in the Pontiac water is 5 parts per million. The additional 4 parts per million which would be added is an infinitesimal amount, not even approaching a toxic dosage.

Conrad Goode

203 Cherokee

We have Independence Day, when we celebrate our freedom and then aren't interested enough to vote. We have Memorial Day, when we honor dead soldiers and then forget them. We have Armistice Day to commemorate peace, yet there is no peace.

We have Father's Day, when we recognize the "Old Boy" as a human being, then for a year look upon him as a meal ticket.

We have Mother's Day, when we give the "Old Gal" a little present and tell her how wonderful she is and then for another year look upon her as just an "old bag" who is only in the way.

Well, he continued, then just say I drink when I want to feel better.

For that matter, everyone who doesn't feel just fine and dandy would like to feel better.

But it is not at all logical to imagine a drink or any number of drinks can make one who is tired, blue, discouraged, weak, and or unhappy feel better. Not really. Not any more than a hypodermic of morphine or heroin or a sniff of cocaine or a barbiturate tablet can.

To be sure, the cocktail or highball or straight liquor does not deprave or pervert character as quickly as these other "sedatives," sleeping pills or narcotics do. Still, we must remember, alcohol is a depressant, a narcotic, and in no circumstance a stimulant.

When the drinker takes a drink "because he wants to feel better" he or she really wants the narcotic because it is an intellectual depressant. A drink or two or three drinks—enough to make any one unable to drive a car—first depresses the highest cerebral centres (intellectual and then the lower cerebral centres (motor, emotional, animal).

When the highest cerebral centres are depressed, dulled or slightly stupefied the individual is less aware of his or her worries, anxieties, incompetence, deficiencies, and so, for an hour, more or less, the poor soul imagines he "feels better," when in fact his perception is for the time being in abeyance. When the narcotic effect of the alcohol wears off he or she will feel as bad or a little worse than before, and so...

For that matter, who doesn't feel the need of a stimulant occasionally? And who doesn't want to feel better?

That is not a rhetorical question. There's a good logical (physiological, psychological) answer, namely, the well nourished individual, I mean to say that one in A-1 or optimal nutritional condition doesn't feel the need of stimulant. He or she feels just fine and dandy and not only doesn't want to "feel better" but doesn't want to miss anything by dallying or dallying consciousness or sense of well being even for a little while or as company for the misery of those who urge him or her to have just one narcotic with them.

How does one keep feeling fine and dandy?

For most of us the answer is so simple that we refuse to take it seriously. But that is because most of us are thirty years behind the times. Physicians and laymen alike are impervious to the newer knowledge of nutrition. Nevertheless, if I can get in a word while the amateur and professional psychologists are drawing breath, let me say that malnutrition or, as we call it nowadays, nutritional deficiency, is the chief cause of drinking.

This applies, I believe, to occasional, social, moderate or habitual indulgence and to chronic drunkenness, alcoholism, dipsomania or whatever you prefer to call addiction to alcohol.

If my view of the drinking question or my attitude seems harsh, unsympathetic or fanatic, I'm sorry. I couldn't help drinking with all my heart and—oh, oh, maybe we had better leave it at that. At the same time, I hope you will understand, I weep for the victims of drink, especially for the children, the wives and other loved or ought-to-be-loved ones.

New listen. If you are interested in the drink problem you might send me 25c and stamped, self-addressed envelope for Little Lesson No. 12, "The 7 Keys to Vite," and the pamphlet "What to Eat." These will at least point the way to the optimal nutritional condition which keeps one feeling fine and dandy.

Send letters, not more than one page, to: Dr. George W. Crane, Pontiac, Michigan 48140. Letters will be returned only if accompanied by a stamped, self-addressed envelope. Do not send money orders or cash. Send to the Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Mich.

In asserting the right of the majority of our people to make any change they find necessary, Lincoln spoke the language of the Declaration of Independence. And it may well be said that Lincoln's views on these matters form a connecting link between the Declaration of Independence and the Socialist Labor Party's program for a peaceful but thoroughgoing change from capitalism to the Socialist Industrial Republic of Labor.

Baering Down

By ARTHUR "BUG" BAEH (International Worker Service)

Premier Nehru of upper India will mediate the Asiatic business if given thirty days furtive notice. Nehru is of the old Mahatma school. Which has been out some time.

It's okay with the tops it's okay with the bottoms. But, Jawahar, we want it settled for keeps. We don't want any reincarnation worked into the treaty.

We'll be liberal about the terms, too. Mio Mao Mio can make salt in the Pacific. When the tide is in.

Jawahar follows the Mahatma Ghandi line of passive resistance with reffills. The only way we can describe passive resistance is did you ever try to put the cat out on a cold February night?

The Mahatma never carried any weapon. His armament was limited to a one-tooth brush.

The old Mahatma was the easiest man to search in the world. When he sent his laundry out he stayed in.

Malnutrition Major Cause of Drinking in All Degrees

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

A periodic drinker solemnly declared that between binges he never touched liquor nor wanted it but that from time to time he just felt the need of a stimulant...

I assured him alcohol is not a stimulant...

Well, he continued, then just say I drink when I want to feel better.

For that matter, everyone who doesn't feel just fine and dandy would like to feel better.

But it is not at all logical to imagine a drink or any number of drinks can make one who is tired, blue, discouraged, weak, and or unhappy feel better. Not really. Not any more than a hypodermic of morphine or heroin or a sniff of cocaine or a barbiturate tablet can.

To be sure, the cocktail or highball or straight liquor does not deprave or pervert character as quickly as these other "sedatives," sleeping pills or narcotics do. Still, we must remember, alcohol is a depressant, a narcotic, and in no circumstance a stimulant.

When the drinker takes a drink "because he wants to feel better" he or she really wants the narcotic because it is an intellectual depressant. A drink or two or three drinks—enough to make any one unable to drive a car—first depresses the highest cerebral centres (intellectual and then the lower cerebral centres (motor, emotional, animal).

When the highest cerebral centres are depressed, dulled or slightly stupefied the individual is less aware of his or her worries, anxieties, incompetence, deficiencies, and so, for an hour, more or less, the poor soul imagines he "feels better," when in fact his perception is for the time being in abeyance. When the narcotic effect of the alcohol wears off he or she will feel as bad or a little worse than before, and so...

For that matter, who doesn't feel the need of a stimulant occasionally? And who doesn't want to feel better?

That is not a rhetorical question. There's a good logical (physiological, psychological) answer, namely, the well nourished individual, I mean to say that one in A-1 or optimal nutritional condition doesn't feel the need of stimulant. He or she feels just fine and dandy and not only doesn't want to "feel better" but doesn't want to miss anything by dallying or dallying consciousness or sense of well being even for a little while or as company for the misery of those who urge him or her to have just one narcotic with them.

How does one keep feeling fine and dandy?

Today's Dream Home Still Has Basement

CHICAGO (UP) — The American family's "dream home" is ranch type, one story with a basement, three bedrooms and one and a half baths, a magazine survey indicates.

Of 5,500 readers surveyed by a national magazine 79.5 per cent said they would like a basement, despite modern architects who insist the basement is a thing of the past.

Slightly more than 60 per cent of the persons surveyed specified they wanted three bedrooms in their "dream home."

Exactly 52 per cent said they would like to have 1½ baths.

In the survey, 57.4 per cent of the readers said they could pay between $10,000 and $15,000, not including the lot, for their home.

But the cost of materials for the home they want in the Chicago area would be about $9,000 and it would cost about $23,000 to have the home built by a contractor. The Chicago area is one of the most expensive in the nation for home building.

104-Year-Old Church Forced to Close Doors

MILWAUKEE (UP) — The Welsh Presbyterian Church, which served Milwaukee for 104 years, has closed its doors.

Present for final services were 138 persons, some of whom came from as far away as Tennessee. The service was conducted in Welsh and English and the singing in Welsh.

The local congregation had dwindled to 30 members, too small to continue operation of the church. The building has been purchased by the Milwaukee School of Engineering which will construct classrooms in the basement but reserve the church for special services such as weddings and funerals.

Sheriff's Deputies Learn Ins and Outs of Jail Life

BASTROP, La. (UP) — Deputies Sheriff Clifton Beasley and Doyle Hindmon know now what it's like to be on the inside, looking out.

They unlocked the padlock at the jail entrance and went in to pick up two prisoners being transferred to the Angola state penitentiary. While they were inside, a road employee came to get the prisoners going to work in the road gang. He dutifully locked all doors. That left the deputies locked in and the padlock could only be opened from the outside. Beasley and Hindmon finally attracted someone from the road crew, tossed their keys to him and persuaded him to let them out.

"It wasn't too bad," explained Beasley. "At least I know I would be free again in a few minutes."

Cows Have Automot

BURNIPS, Mich. (UP) — Gail and Kenneth Roberts have built a "walk-in" restaurant for their 100 head of yearling Hereford beef steers.

It's a silo, 90 feet tall and fringed by a concrete slab yard with feed bunks, tended automatically. Trees provide natural shelter and eliminate any need for buildings.

Expected to OK Tax Extensions

House Committee Will Act Upon Ike's Request Next Week

WASHINGTON (U) — Chairman Cooper (D-Tenn.) said today the House Ways and Means Committee will act next week on President Eisenhower's request to postpone about three billion dollars in scheduled tax cuts.

The committee is expected to approve by a big margin, possibly on Monday or Wednesday, Eisenhower's recommendation for a one-year postponement of these tax cuts now set automatically for April 1.

(1) From 52 to 47 per cent in the corporation income tax rate, amounting to about two billion dollars annually; and (2) about one billion dollars in excise tax rates on automobiles, cigarettes, liquor, gasoline, beer and wine.

Little opposition to the extension of present rates has been voiced either in the House or Senate.

Meanwhile, it was reliably reported, key Democrats planned a strategy huddle Saturday to consider two questions likely to be much more explosive:

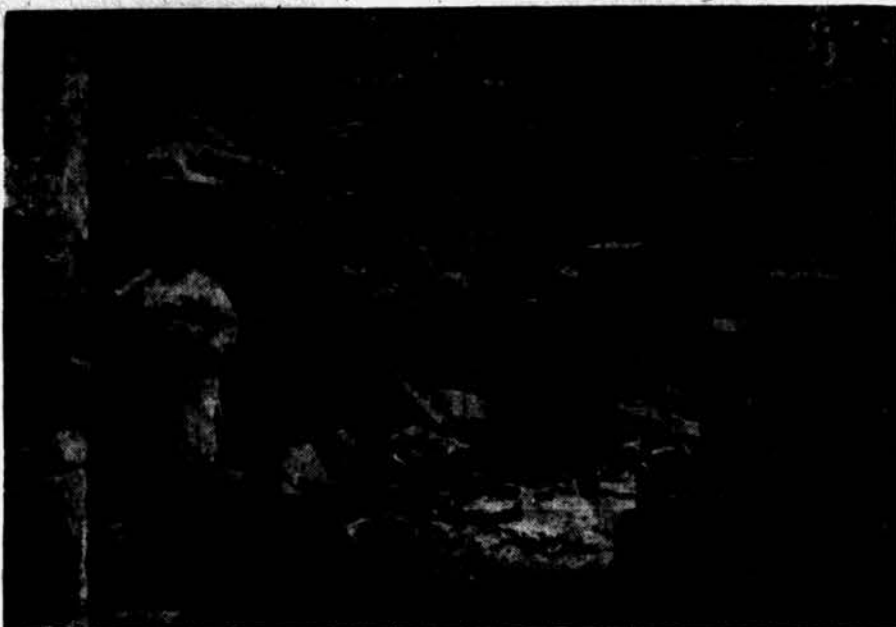

1. A proposal by some Ways and Means members for a drive now to cut individual income taxes for everybody.

2. A move by others to seek repeal of a controversial tax cut on income from dividends, included last year's Republican-sponsored general tax revision bill.

Some committee members have suggested one or both of these proposals might be tacked onto the tax extensions requested by Eisenhower. Either would be certain to provoke a hot fight with the administration.

However, several members said odds are that these two moves, if they develop at all this year, will come later and will not be tied to the tax extensions.

Ike Trade Plan Expected to Pass Despite Opposition by Traffic Signals

WASHINGTON (U) — Supporters of President Eisenhower's program to boost free world trade by cutting tariffs expressed confidence they held the upper hand today as the House called the measure up for debate.

Both Democratic and Republican floor leaders backed the proposal. But a sizable group of insurgents in both parties promised a last-ditch fight before final action, expected late tomorrow. The Senate has not acted.

Foes planned first to try today to upset scheduled procedure—they call it "gag rule"—which would limit the opposition to offering only one amendment. They have a long series of trade-restricting ideas they would like to offer.

Failing that, opponents plan to concentrate tomorrow on the single amendment allowed them. Both sides agreed the President's basic program would pass and the big question was whether it would be amended.

The bill would extend for three more years the President's power to negotiate reciprocal trade agreements, and to make further cuts in tariffs on foreign goods coming into the United States in exchange for trade benefits to American products abroad.

Stiff opposition limited action last year to a one-year extension of the law with no additional tariff-cutting powers.

With much of the tariff-cutting authority under the present law exhausted, the bill would permit the President to reduce all rates 5 per cent each year below the levels in effect next July 1. In some cases he could make bigger cuts.

Eisenhower has argued this would be a vital step to help U.S. allies sell more goods here, help Americans sell more products abroad, and thus bolster the economy of the entire anti-Communist alliance. It would also strengthen military power and political unity, he contends.

Opponents argue that increased imports of cheaper foreign goods will wreck many competing American industries, bringing economic distress and unemployment instead of boom.

Speakers Controlled by Traffic Signals

NEWARK, N. J. (U) — Traffic lights for speakers which say "go," "get ready to stop" and "halt" been developed by the Industrial Timer Corp. And for those who ignore the visual signs, the device has a buzzer which tells the speaker to sit down.

Larry Neidenberg, general manager of the company, says the gadget is planned for use in schools and legislative halls.

Says Neidenberg: "When the talk starts, the chairman pushes a button which lights a green light in front of the speaker. An amber light warns the speaker one minute before time runs out."

"When his time is finished a red light goes on. If the speaker ignores that, the chairman presses a 'gavel button' to set off a raucous buzzing."

Yugoslavs Sell Snakes Abroad

Poisonous Reptiles Are Hunted for Zoos and Laboratories

BELGRADE (U) — There are lots of poisonous snakes in the mountains of Yugoslavia — rattlesnakes and other kinds of vipers. In many sections of the country, the people keep bladders (a kind of harmless snake) as pets to control the poisonous varieties.

The fat, friendly bladders will make a meal off a big rattler if given the chance, but will drink out of the milk jug when natural food is not available.

The Yugoslavians also use their poisonous snakes as an export item. A factory in Croatia processes venom for use as a snake bite antidote. Hundreds of vials are sold to France and Germany. Many of the live snakes also are exported, often to zoos and laboratories.

Hunting the deadly snakes is a sport for many Yugoslavians, but it also is a business. Secrets of choice locations for finding snakes are handed down from father to son. And local snakebite remedies are guarded as trade secrets. The hunters get about 85 cents for each poisonous snake they catch. Both boys and girls train as hunters under close supervision of their parents.

SEGUIN, Tex. (U) — What was believed to be an explosion of natural gas that collected in a basement rocked two blocks of this south Texas city last night.

Big chunks of concrete were torn from the floor of the office building in which the blast occurred. The adjoining Seguin Bank & Trust Co. Building was heavily damaged, and three persons were injured, one critically.

Solons Renew Campaign to Call MSC 'University'

LANSING (UP) — A new fight to make Michigan State a "university" instead of a "college," by changing its name, is in the offing in the State Legislature.

A group of lawmakers, headed by Sen. Harry Hittie, are preparing to sponsor a bill to change the school's name to "Michigan State University of Agriculture and Applied Science."

"There'll be a few diehards from Michigan in the Legislature who will oppose the change for sentimental reasons, but I think we can get it through this year," Rep. Willard Bowerman (R-Lansing) said.

Bowerman, who has degrees from both UM and MSC, said the name change "would be an especially fitting tribute to mark the school's centennial year."

The institution celebrated its 100th birthday Saturday.

If the name is switched, it will be the fifth title in a century of name-juggling for the school.

Its first name was "The Agricultural College of the State of Michigan."

In 1861 the name was changed to "The State Agricultural College," and then to "Michigan Agricultural College."

If Baldness Is Inherited, Just Buy Yourself a Hat

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (UP) — If bald-headedness runs in your family, Dr. Thomas G. Jansen of the University of Michigan medical school advises that you "Just recognize the inevitable and adjust accordingly. There is little you can do except buy a hat."

Dr. Jansen, a skin specialist, says sudden baldness can be connected with emotional disturbances, but such baldness persists in only about one per cent of the cases.

cultural College" in 1909.

The present name of "Michigan State College of Agriculture and Applied Science" came in 1925.

The State Board of Agriculture, MSC's governing body, said it had "no desire or intention to borrow the prestige or reputation" of the University of Michigan when it sought the name change in the Legislature last year.

But on Feb. 14, 1954, the board withdrew its request because of "misunderstandings that existed."

Meanwhile, the move to change the name during the current session met with enthusiasm on the MSC campus.

"It's a welcome development," said James Denison, administrative assistant to President John A. Hannah.

William Hurst, president of the MSC student body, said students plan to "give the drive a big push so we can graduate from a 'university' instead of a 'college.'"

Hurst claimed the drive was "muddled" last year because students failed to "get organized to exert pressure." He hinted the students would organize an intense letter-writing campaign this year.

College officials claim the term "college" puts Michigan State at a "distinct disadvantage — especially in its efforts to attract high-caliber faculty members."

Saved by Twist of Fate

FLINT, Mich. (UP) — Gordon C. Hill changed his mind at the last minute; decided not to run over a cardboard box in the road. He swerved his car sharply, barely touching the box. Out climbed 10-year-old Danny Cousineau, with only a minor foot injury.

Spain May Plan Its Emigration

Government Wants to Ease Overpopulation 150,000 Annually

MADRID (UP) — Spain, like Italy, has an over-population problem, and Minister of Foreign Affairs Martin Artajo said the government wants to ease the situation with a controlled emigration scheme.

Artajo, speaking during Marian Year ceremonies at Zaragoza, said "each year 350,000 more people are born in Spain than die here."

He said that a part of the surplus is being absorbed in expanding Spanish industry, while others find work in agricultural areas where irrigation schemes were being developed.

"But," he added, "there are always about 150,000 Spaniards left over who need to leave the country in search of a future."

While recognizing this, he said the government would not permit emigration to follow the "anarchical" lines which it has followed for centuries.

"Modern times," he said, "call for a technically directed emigration."

Traditionally, Spaniards go to Central of South America, where there are millions of them today, many still keeping close cultural and family ties with Spain.

Last year alone, according to figures published here, Spanish emigrants to the Americas sent back to Spain 4,000,000,000 pesetas ($40,000,000).

The Music Teachers National Assn. estimates there are half a million full and part-time music teachers in the United States.

Comic Strip Helps Driver Out of Jam

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (UP) — When Peter J. Boyle was called to trial in traffic court on a charge of improper passing, he handed Peace Justice Clyde Kissinger a comic strip. It showed a motorist blowing his horn at an ancient vehicle chugging along slowly in the middle of a road, then finally passing only to crash into a tree.

"That's exactly what happened to me," Boyle said—except that he ran into the arms of the law instead of a tree.

The magistrate fined Boyle $15 but suspended it because of the comic strip. But when Boyle asked for his comic strip back Kissinger said it had been submitted in evidence and would remain part of the court record.

Nicaragua is about the size of Michigan.

Recent sample measurements indicate that 14-year-old American boys average 5.9 inches taller and 31.3 pounds heavier than 14-year-old boys in 1877.

Diet of Chlorophyll May Hurt Offspring

CHAMPAIGN-URBANA, Ill. (U-P)—Chlorophyll fed in large amounts to animals may effect their offspring. This is the opinion of Drs. E. F. Reber and D. A. Willigan of the College of Veterinary Medicine of the University of Illinois.

They reached the conclusion after recent tests in which they fed two groups of rats diets with and without chlorophyll. The rats fed chlorophyll showed no obvious effects and bore the usual number of young. But their hair coats were rough and developed a light green color and in many cases were weak, causing the rats to drag their legs. Only two of the six litters lived to weaning age.

Mother rats fed chlorophyll did not provide so much milk and growth rate was slower.

'Metera's Home'

Mom's Arrival Reunites Greek Clan After 8 Years

SALT LAKE CITY (U-P)—Metera—Mother—is home at last for the Katsanevas.

Mrs. Mike Katsanevas arrived at a Salt Lake City airport yesterday, alone and bewildered. For seven years she had waited to come from Greece to America and be with her husband.

But somehow word of her arrival failed to reach Mike and her children. She waited an hour and a half. Then suddenly her 66-year-old husband and three of her children hurried into the airport waiting room.

There were tearful embraces and happy exclamations. "Metera" was home.

The family still isn't complete. One son, James, is with the U.S. Air Force in Arizona. Another, George, is in the Greek army. But that will change in time. The family's as good as together now.

Japanese Labor Powerful Force

Unions Lean Toward Political Activity; Aim at Government Control

TOKYO (U-P)—Japan's labor movement, born nine years ago in the bitter aftermath of surrender, has grown into a tough young giant ready to exploit its strength.

With nearly six million members, it stands today as one of the most powerful—and perhaps controversial—factors in Japan's new democracy.

Its unions promote many shades of political thinking. They often are more concerned with political than economic goals. At least one leader has a labor government as his ultimate objective.

Many in Japan feel that organized labor is a major bulwark against a return to the military-Fascist type state that led Japan to disaster in World War II.

In addition, unions have forced wages upward and made dumping of cheap-labor Japanese goods on world markets less common. Japanese workers receive 47.7 per cent of the national income now compared with 39.3 per cent in 1938. Employers find it more difficult to impose the near-slave-labor conditions that often existed before World War II.

The union movement is in essence a brainchild of the U.S. occupation. Its cornerstone is the trade union law put into effect under U.S. prompting in March 1946. Labor-standard and labor-adjustment laws were passed in the same period.

From that beginning, the few workers who could remember Japan's earlier union movement, ruthlessly crushed by militarists in the early 1930s, drove rapidly ahead. Communists, many newly freed from prison by the occupation, worked feverishly to gain control. The occupation purged overt Reds from the movement in 1950 and the present four major organizations emerged.

By MARGARET LATROBE
It isn't just Wisconsin!

Those Michigan Congressmen are really on their toes. The senators from that state have not exactly lacked for words of late. And now it appears that the House of Representatives got a good talking-to the other day from the Hon. George A. Dondero, (R-Mich).

His speech concerned the bad manners of his fellow representatives while conducting the business of the United States. And I say he didn't speak out of turn or a minute too soon.

Our distinguished gentlemen of the House were wont to park their size 12 bunions on their desks while mulling over the day's law-making chores. They were, instead of lending an ear to the data, catching up on their favorite columnists' deathless prose in the daily newspaper.

They paraded in front of the podium without so much as a muttered, "Scuse me, buddy." Even blew cigar smoke in the windpipe of whatever unlucky representative was trying to explain how things were in his bailiwick, and what oughta be done about it.

The gentleman from Michigan objected also to his colleagues' habit of familiar address on the floor of the House. None of this—"Hey, Georgie" and "Knock it off, Jim, John or Jeremiah..." He opines that any man elected to represent the home folks in the halls of Congress is entitled to a bit of respect. Feel free to call me "the distinguished gentleman from Missouri"—not Tom, Dick or Harry.

The Hon. Mr. Donders was applauded at the end of his tardy etiquette message by the hitherto thoughtless lawmakers. Their hill-billy manners have certainly offended and disillusioned many a visitor to Washington who had rightfully expected some decorum and "representative" behavior from those elected to run the country's business.

Back in the good old days when we didn't have too much to worry about except how many fish Coolidge caught on the Brule River, we had such diversions as a cowboy congressman riding his horse up the Capitol steps.

If memory does not deceive, this gentleman was from my home-state, and his methods of distinguishing himself we found less than enchanting. But now that we are worrying for keeps, the august bodies of House and Senate control themselves better in public.

And it certainly isn't asking too much for them to extend the same courtesies to their conferrers that they demand from the press, the public and even the constituents back home.

Nice work, George—I mean, Sir, Your Honor, Your Excellency. As you say, good manners may be a small thing, but little things can be very important. Such trifles as preserving the dignity of the House of Representatives, for instance?

Stores to Feature Hams for Washington's Birthday

The nation's food stores, with an eye on George Washington's birthday next Tuesday, are planning specials on smoked hams this weekend. In several areas, turkeys also will be featured attractions.

In some stores, the lower weekend prices will hold good until Monday night because of the forthcoming holiday.

Turkeys will be available in all areas, and in some cases prices will be down around eight cents a pound from a week ago. Smoked hams will be available at a reduction of 10 cents a pound in a number of markets.

If you want to stay with the favorites, you'll find featured prices in many stores on ribs of beef, legs of lamb and a variety of steaks. Pork loins, lamb chops and various cuts of veal also will be offered at lower prices here and there.

Lamb prices generally will be about the same as a week ago, but retailers say that they should come down a bit during the coming week because of a decline at wholesale. One large chain is raising prices on pork chops this week in a number of its outlets by around six cents a pound.

The meat industry reports that retail prices of the 14 most popular meat cuts now average lower than at any time during the past year.

Once again, egg prices are moving higher. Increases of four to six cents a dozen are being posted by a major chain.

There will be plenty of seafood for the Lenten season. There are big supplies of frozen fish in storage, including large quantities of halibut and haddock fillets. Frozen shrimp also is plentiful. Prices will be moderate.

The list of good buys in vegetables is rather slim this week—potatoes, onions, turnips, new and old cabbage, carrots, escarole, Michigan hothouse rhubarb and greens. Blame it on the winter weather.

Spring may not be too far away: Asparagus from California reached New York markets this week by air, and the first cantaloupes have been shipped from Mexico.

Take It Easy on Curves

CHICAGO (U)—W. Dean Keeler, insurance company safety engineer, says that fatalities caused by cars running off the road at curves have increased more than 60 per cent since 1951. Curve deaths on rural roads have jumped 68 per cent.

Deaths caused by taking curves too fast averaged 8.95 per cent of the auto fatality total on all roads between 1941 and 1951. The average has increased to 14.35 per cent since then, he said.

Evidence Consumed

NATIONAL CITY, Calif. (UP)—A jury acquitted Mrs. Mary W. Kresky of a charge of petty theft when evidence the police had carefully locked up disappeared. The evidence—a piece of cheese allegedly stolen from a market—was eaten by mice in the police store-room.

It took six people on farms to support one person in a city 100 years ago in the United States while today there are about six city people for every person on the farm.

Then the Fog Lifted

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (UP)—Anthony R. Argento, 42, was arrested on a gaming charge after police said they found him writing baseball bets on a telephone booth window he had fogged with his breath.

BIG COAT FOR LITTLE EVACUEE—A boy leans forward to get into the picture as this little girl in man-sized coat interrupts munching on a cracker to pose for a cameraman. Youngsters were among thousands of Chinese civilians who were evacuated from the Tachens to Formosa under protection of the U. S. Seventh Fleet.

Bob Considine Says:

Bulganin No Figurehead, Former Associate Reveals

NEW YORK (INS)—The news of Marshal Nikolai Bulganin's rise to the premiership in Russia came as a surprise to President Eisenhower, the chief executive said when the announcement was made. But it didn't surprise Paul Schank, a stout, good-natured, Swiss-born American importer.

Schank saw a lot of Bulganin between 1929 and 1938, while selling Russia Swiss industrial products.

"Don't believe for an instant that Bulganin is a figurehead," Schank confided in the Memorial Press Center. "He is smart, has had great power for many years—people forget he once was mayor of Moscow—and he is a completely dedicated Communist."

I believe he alone ordered the death of Beria because he felt that Beria's own army of secret police was becoming a menace to Bulganin's own army—the Red Army itself."

Schank sees Bulganin as "hardly a Ridgway" but with sufficient military knowledge to head the world's largest army.

"He's an aggressive and very confident organizer," Schank said. "When I first met him he was managing director of a plant that employed 2,000. Then he was director of the state bank, a sort of secretary of treasury."

Stalin put him in charge of the defense of Moscow because of his administrative ability. He has been called a political general, but it is dangerous to think of him as a fool. He represents the post-Stalin period in the history of the Red revolution, just as Napoleon took control after the bloody excesses of the French Revolution."

Schank sees no World War III, "at least in our lifetimes." Pressed for a reason behind the positive assertion, he said:

"If Russia went to war today they'd have a revolution at home. Besides, they seem to get just about what they want without fighting. More than half the people of Russia remember better days. Hitler could have won them as he briefly won the people of the Ukraine, if he had not treated them more cruelly than their own masters."

"Russia is too weak to fight a major war. There is too much unrest at home over deplorable living conditions, and too little loyalty on the part of the satellites. It will take Russia 50 years to become strong enough to fight a big one."

Bulganin's power first dawned on Schank, he said, when Schank invited him to visit Switzerland. "I'll leave with you in the morning," Bulganin told him. "It was an unheard-of promise for a Russian to make," Schank explained. "He did not have to seek permission to leave the country."

"When our train burst out of the Alpine tunnel and we looked down a beautiful valley to a spotless Swiss city I said to Bulganin, 'You see what the capitalist world can produce'. But he was not interested. 'I came to see your factories,' he curtly told me."

"Another time, at his home in Moscow, where I sometimes stayed while doing business with him, he said, 'Tell me, why do you work for a capitalist organization when you could work for a Communist one?' I answered, 'Because no matter how much my boss hates me he can't put me in jail. This is not true under your communism.' He thought for a time and replied, in effect, that any worker who causes a boss to become angry should be regarded as an enemy and banished—as Bulganin banished many."

Schank recalled that Bulganin urged him not to learn Russian. "If you do," he quoted his friend, "You'll no longer be welcome in Russia. You will be followed much more extensively than you are today."

We asked Schank what he knew of other men in the Soviet Union's hierarchy.

"Molotov was Bulganin's hero when I knew him," he answered. "Bulganin used to say 'Molotov is the tower of communism.' As for Zhukov, he must be completely dedicated to Bulganin—who has brought him back to power. Ghrushchev?—a big-mouthed drunk. Bulganin is the boss because he has the biggest stick: The Red Army."

Mr. Schank had many more things to say about Bulganin. Some magazine should track him down.

Grandpa Gets in Political Dig on His 99th Birthday

JAMESTOWN, N. D. (AP)—His granddaughter Daphna wasn't present when Alfred Schollander, a loyal Republican, cut a cake on his 99th birthday and wished that "Mr. Eisenhower would be a candidate for re-election in 1956."

Rhode Island never ratified the Prohibition Amendment.

Today's Stock Market and You

Develop Habit of Regular Investment to Insure Future Financial Security

(Editor's Note—This is the second of three articles by a nationally-known economist, telling what the upward climb of the stock market may mean to you and your future. In this article the author gives expert, practical advice helping you to decide what, when and how to buy.)

By MERRYLE STANLEY RUKEYSER

NEW YORK (INS)—It's how you hit the ball in the pinches that counts in achieving success in life. In life, as in baseball, timing is of great importance.

Speculators and security analysts are forever studying when to buy as well as what to buy.

The stock market has been rising since September, 1953, and has added 70 per cent to the 1949 average stock prices, according to Standard and Poor's index of 480 stocks, so more and more investors are asking whether this is the time to enter the market.

Incidentally, "Standard and Poor's Outlook," gazing into the crystal ball, concluded:

"Our studies of 1955 prospects suggest that profits of leading corporations, as represented by the 50 stocks in our daily industrial price index, will be up about 10 per cent. An increase of this extent would carry earnings above the previous record set in 1950 and almost 140 per cent above the 1929 level.

An even larger proportionate gain (13 per cent) is forecast for dividend payments, which are projected at a new peak."

Some who would rather be conservative and wrong will try to save their own skin by giving negative counsel and preaching caution. But such intellectual fencing encourages the wishful thinking that amateurs will have the know-how to buy at or near the bottom and sell at or near the top of a boom.

The trouble with using such dreams as a financial blueprint is that they encourage delay in developing the self discipline needed to convert part of current income into capital, or savings.

The time to begin putting something into the cookie jar for old age and other contingencies is here and now, not at some future time when outstanding security bargains will be around.

I have found that getting the thrift habit is vastly more important in the building of a financial nest egg than bargain hunting.

Instead of trying to outsmart the other fellow, the professional investor — acting for the great life insurance companies, the mutual funds, and the pension trusts — tends to invest money regularly as it becomes available. Thus, through the years, they average out their purchases as prices rise or fall.

It is good for John Doe to copy such regularity once he has taken care of preliminary financial needs, such as insurance and cash reserves.

John Doe should develop his own financial blueprint, and follow it through making regular monthly deposits.

For more than a year the New York Stock Exchange has sponsored a plan for acquiring listed securities through small monthly deposits. Other similar schemes for systematic saving have been developed by investment companies, mutual funds, and other financial institutions.

Where the same dollar amount is deposited each month no matter how prices change, a good result occurs, assuming that the deposits are used for acquiring seasoned stocks of companies strong enough to survive temporary setbacks in the national economy.

This method of achieving financial independence is known as "dollar averaging." The deposit of precisely the same sum each month automatically provides for buying more shares when prices are low and fewer when prices are high. Accordingly, "dollar averaging" produces a satisfactory mean price—much better for the average fellow than trying to guess the course of the market.

The secret of "dollar averaging" is to stick to the plan with bulldog tenacity even in depressed times when current thinking is against the idea of buying shares.

Professionals know how to protect themselves in a rising market from being hurt by sudden setbacks.

One technique is the use of the stop-loss order, which is an instruction to the broker to sell the stock at the prevailing market price when and if the stock declines to a specified price.

Another way to limit losses in the event of a price decline is through the use of a technical device known as a "put." That is a privilege or option to sell a specific number of shares of a given stock within a time limit at a stipulated price below the current market. The buyer of the "put" pays a price for the privilege, which is a form of insurance against substantial losses from market declines.

But when and if stocks have risen to limits which in the judgment of an individual and his advisers seem unwarranted, the investor can elect to put his current savings in securities less sensitive to the ups and downs of prosperity.

Those include high grade bonds, or preferred shares, or so-called protective stocks, such as public utility shares.

A compromise is convertible bonds. They bear a promise of regular interest and a return of principal on the maturity date; there is also an option to convert the bonds into shares of stock when and if a future rise in stock prices makes it attractive to do so.

Thus, the holder of the option converts only when events make it profitable. If the price of shares declines and conversion is unattractive, the holder clings to his bonds, and gets interest in the meantime. Of course, there are fluctuations in the prices of such bonds depending on whether or not at the moment the conversion feature seems attractive.

And no matter how pessimistic the individual may be in any given situation as to the future of prices, such gloom is no reason to let up on the self discipline which causes him to transfer part of each week's income, or salary, into capital, or savings.

There is always the possibility of accumulating such savings as cash in the bank to await what the individual might regard as a more favorable time for acquiring stocks, shares or bonds.

My point is that it is never prudent to destroy the thrift habit in the neurotic thought that prevailing conditions may be unfavorable. The well-advised person can always find suitable ways to invest surplus money.

And bear in mind that the theorist, who is always worrying about the business cycle, loses sight of his own personal life financial cycle.

Time marches on, and each month the individual is using up his store of energy, is exhausting his allotted time for high productivity. Unless the individual recognizes these facts he is cheating an old man—and that old man is himself perhaps a few years or decades hence.

(Tomorrow: Buying stocks? You must blend caution and faith in deciding how, when, where and what to buy.)

Dog Devoted His Life to Tracking Criminals

CLOVERDALE, B. C. (U)—One of the best known tracking dogs of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police has died after devoting 9 of his 10 years to the service.

Bobby, part German shepherd and part Labrador retriever, took part in hundreds of hunts for criminals and missing persons. In his last job with the Mounties he found two persons fugitives after nine hours on the trail.

Crash in Absentia

PUEBLO, Colo. (U)—Antonio D. Trujillo, 17, admitted it was his car that smashed into the front of a downtown store, but claims he wasn't there at the time. Trujillo said he turned a corner and fell out of the vehicle, which continued on down the street. Finally, he said, it jumped the curb and hit the store.

Officials say Trujillo will be called into court to explain the incident more fully.

Charge Williams' Road Plan Political

Governor Wants Issue on Ballot

Republican Solons Say They Plan to Continue Study of Needs

LANSING (AP) — Republican leaders charged today that Gov. Williams has "at last" shown that his interest in a highway expansion program is only political.

This was the reply to Williams' special message to the Legislature yesterday in which he demanded the Legislature place some kind of a road program on the April 4 election ballot.

Williams said all political parties were pledged in the last campaign to submitting some kind of a proposal to the people and that to fail in that would "break faith" with the people.

The Republican floor leader in the Senate, Sen. Creighton F. Coleman of Battle Creek, replied that "Williams has finally shown his hand."

The governor, Coleman said, "has demonstrated that he is not so much interested in a solution of the highway program as he is in getting a bond issue on the ballot and that he can tie a road program to the Democratic ticket and campaign all over the state . . . to get out a big labor vote and put the state school system in the hands of the CIO."

This was a reference to the fact that the state superintendent of public instruction will be elected in April.

Coleman said there never had been any Republican promise to put a proposal on the ballot.

"If anyone is breaking faith with the people," Coleman said, "it is the governor. He campaigned on a promise to float a $50 million dollar bond issue to build roads in every corner of the state without any tax increase. Now he advocates a bond issue to build an arterial system in southern Michigan with a tax increase."

Coleman said "I cannot understand why the Upper Peninsula has not wakened up to the fact that it will get only 58 miles of new roads out of the governor's program."

Sen. Carlton H. Morris (R-Kalamazoo) said "we can tell the governor right now there will be no bond issue and there will be no proposal on the April ballot."

Morris predicted the legislature will enact a road program based on the so-called "senate plan" for a 1 1/2 cent increase in the gasoline tax and a 25 per cent increase in commercial vehicle license fees.

Senate Republicans will caucus again Tuesday on a portion of the plan which would give the state 75 per cent of the new money for trunklines and 25 per cent for local units—two-thirds of the 25 per cent going to counties and one-third to cities.

Sen. Haskell L. Nichols (R-Jackson), the Senate's leading good roads advocate, said it was impossible to "pinpoint" a program for submission to the voters because the legislature did not know what the upcoming federal aid program would involve.

Tots Now View Surgery as Jolly New Adventure

Not so very long ago, four months to be exact, tots entering St. Joseph Mercy Hospital for tonsilectomy were frightened, often reluctant to go to surgery for the operation.

But times have changed. Nowadays, children are eager to go. And while in the hospital, it is their favorite topic of conversation — all because of an idea formulated and carried out by Sister Mary Concetta, head of the surgery department.

In mid-October, Sister began to take all the tots due for surgery the following day upstairs where operations are performed. These expeditions of the pajama-and-robe clad kiddies turned out to be great fun.

Sister explains to them on the way up just how each will be taken, the next morning, get a prick in his finger. And upon arrival in surgery, she acts out just what takes place there.

She shows the anesthetic "masks" which they will wear and, with a bit of suggestion from her, all agree the masks look like Jimmy Durante noses or clown noses. The gauze goggles which protect the eyes from anesthetic stings, the children usually decide

Trade With Reds Needed—Eleanor

Mrs. Roosevelt Says U.S. Must Maintain Relations With Soviets

MOUNT PLEASANT (AP) — Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt says the United States should not cut off trade with Soviet Russia in accordance with the wishes of certain governmental leaders.

Exchange of goods between the two nations, she told a central Michigan College audience last night, "would help break down barriers between the two countries and the Russian people would get to know us better, and vice versa."

The wife of the late president, appearing on the college's artist series program, said she also rejects any proposal that the U. S. sever diplomatic relations with Russia "or any country."

"Diplomatic relations act as a bridge between these two countries," she said, "and we certainly need them today."

Discussing the "coming battle for power over control of the world," Mrs. Roosevelt said the outcome "will depend on who has the greatest conviction—The United States or Russia."

"The American people must have great conviction, courage and vision," she said. "We must believe in what we have, and make it better, then offer it to the world with conviction."

In her talks on "Is America Facing World Leadership," Mrs. Roosevelt, a former U. S. delegate to the United Nations, concluded that "America has world leadership whether it faces up to it or not." And she added:

"There appears to be no immediate danger of our losing our economic or military leadership, but we must develop the spiritual and moral aspects of leadership."

State Historian Doubts Pontiac Buried Nearby

There is little likelihood that Chief Pontiac is buried on Apple Island in Orchard Lake, a noted Michigan historian told the Lions Club here yesterday.

Dr. F. Clever Bald, University of Michigan history instructor and president of the Michigan Historical Society, in discussing the exploits of the noted Indian chief, said Pontiac is probably buried near St. Louis.

Dr. Bald, who is also assistant director of the U. of M. Historical Collections, recommended some of the important parts the state played in American history.

The expeditions which sought the Northwest Passage and the Mississippi River both started out from Michigan, he said.

27 City Employees Are Learning CD Rescue Techniques

(Editor's Note: This is the fourth in a series of articles about civil defense in the Pontiac area.)

By ARNOLD S. HIRSCH

How do you rescue a victim from the debris of a bomb-wrecked building safely and without injuring yourself?

Twenty-seven city employees are learning the important answer to this ticklish problem twice a week at a civil defense rescue school conducted at the city incinerator plant.

The 27 men, all Parks and Recreation Dept. workers, have been attending the CD session since December. The course ends April 1.

"Our aim is to be able to rescue people trapped under wreckage efficiently and properly so their lives may be saved," says Raymond C. Keller, parks supervisor and one of the two men heading the program.

Essential to this, Keller says, are a knowledge of first aid and the ability to remove the victim or victims quickly and with a minimum of hazard.

Late last month, the men finished a 30-hour first aid course and are now prepared to give emergency treatment under difficult conditions.

Currently, the trainees are learning the rudiments of actual rescue. For two hours on Tuesdays and Fridays, the men — split into three eight-man teams with three reserves — practice using the equipment on a specially fitted CD rescue truck.

The truck was loaned to Oakland County by the state chiefly as a training device, Keller says. It is regularly stored at the County Road Commission garage and is also used by other CD units in the county for practice. (It is tentatively proposed that the city purchase such a vehicle this year.)

Heavy-duty ropes, cutting and power tools, fire extinguishers, ladders, gas masks, jacks, crowbars and blocks and tackle are among the equipment the rescue men are becoming familiar with.

Pontiac School Employees Ask Board for Pay Hikes

Requests for wage increases were presented to the Pontiac Board of Education at the regular meeting last night by teachers, principals, crossing guards and non-teaching employees.

Teachers are asking the board for a $4,000 beginning salary. This is a $300 annual increase over the present $3,700.

Principals are requesting the adoption of a formula for a salary schedule which takes into consideration their experience, educational background and training, and their performance.

Crossing guards want a $12.50 per month increase to bring their present $62.50 up to $75.

Non-teaching employees want an annual $300 increase. The mechanics will make their request this week.

"Our next job is to start reconciling these requests with what we have to work with for the coming year," said Glenn Griffin, board president.

"We will be making some adjustments, but until we have had the opportunity to determine the exact extent of our expenditures for the year, we will not be able to arrive at the definite amount."

The teachers request was made by a joint committee of the Pontiac Education Assn. and the American Federation of Teachers. They stated that the requested $4,000 starting salary is the same amount recently recommended by the state superintendent of public instruction as desirable for the entire state.

Their request also embodies a $6,000 maximum for the four-year trained teacher; for the fifth year of training, a teacher would receive a $4,300 starting salary and a $6,300 maximum, they stated. Under the present salary plan, it takes 14 years to reach the maximum in the Pontiac school district. The teachers asked that the maximum be reached in 10 years and asked that increases be granted at a rate of $200 per year.

To encourage teachers to obtain advanced training, they also requested that a sixth and seventh-year training level be established in the new salary schedule.

Speaking for the Pontiac school principals, Philip J. Wargelin, Lincoln Junior High principal, said that their requested wage formula would upgrade their administration professionally.

The formula is determined from a base salary which is comparable to what a teacher would receive with similar training and experience.

From this they add percentages for responsibilities and leadership in curriculum, instruction and guidance, and community participation.

Advanced training comes in for an additional percentage, with the number of pupils handled by the principal also a factor. Administrative experience within the Pontiac schools would add more benefits.

Presenting a hypothetical case, the principals' request stated that the formula would increase today's salary for a junior high school principal from $7,300 to $9,314.80. In drafting the formula, Wargelin said that the principals had contacted 60 other cities comparable to Pontiac throughout the nation.

Robert Oliver, board trustee, said, "The thinking is fine, but we will have to have more time to work it out and find out where the money is coming from."

C. of C. Names C. R. Haskill Safety Committee Chief

Ralph T. Norvell, Pontiac Chamber of Commerce president today announced the reappointment of Cyle R. Haskill as chairman of the chamber's Safety Committee and creation of a separate group, the Traffic Committee.

Loren D. Anderson, former member of the Safety Committee, was chosen to head the Traffic Committee which will work in close cooperation with the city's new traffic engineer.

Haskill, according to Robert J. St. Clair, manager of the chamber, was reappointed following his successful handling of the recent S-D Day campaign in Pontiac and other activities which the committee has promoted in the past to improve Pontiac's traffic safety record.

The new committee, said Anderson, has the task of investigating traffic problems and making studies for recommending changes to the traffic engineer's office. The new committee which had been a sub-group of the Safety Committee was made independent, said St. Clair, to assist the traffic engineer.

"Haskill and Anderson both said they are planning campaigns to promote 'a positive attitude among motorists and in traffic slogans'."

Haskill said, "Too often we have the tendency to make a scapegoat of 'something wrong' whenever a mishap occurs. Should a collision take place because of icy pavement, the driver blames slippery roads and not the fact he was driving a little too fast."

Haskill added that it is hoped

CYLE R. HASKILL

This week, they lowered "casualties" in stretchers from the roof of the two-story incinerator to the ground by means of ropes. Later, they'll go on to more complicated assignments.

Completion of the course in April will not conclude training, according to Kenneth P. Anthony, Cemetery Dept. director and co-director of the rescue program.

"We plan to give the men additional rescue training each year and keep them active by performing simulated rescue operations periodically," he says.

At the yearly sessions, it is planned to increase the scope of the operation.

"We hope to enlarge by enlisting civic and industrial groups so we will not just have one squad but squads in all parts of the city," states William Aho, city forester and chief instructor of the rescue unit.

"One group of rescue workers couldn't possibly remove all the victims in a city this size," he says.

Should the fledgling rescue service be called to duty, either in peace or wartime emergency, Keller, Anthony and Aho would coordinate activities from the Parks and Recreation Dept. offices.

Believe Toy Pistol Used at Mount Clemens Bank

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP) — Police were "almost certain" today that Monday's bold daylight robbery of the First National Bank was pulled off with a toy pistol. A man who handed a teller a note and showed a gun got $2,170.

Mary King, 22, the teller, said a toy pistol found in an alley was almost identical with the gun held by the bank bandit.

In check of toy and variety shops, police found a salesgirl who recalled selling such a gun Monday to a man who tallied with the description of the robber.

Saving Phrases Is Man's Hobby

Joe Salzman of Dallas
Has Ton of Adjectives
and Descriptions Filed

DALLAS, Tex. (UP)—If you're at a loss for words sometime, see or write Joe Salzman. He has some 100,000 of them on file.

Salzman's collection consists of about a ton of file index cards in a Dallas warehouse. That's his hobby—picking up adjectives and descriptive phrases of just how good or bad a thing can be.

He's been doing it for 28 years, cutting the phrases out of books, magazines and newspapers. Even billboards. If he sees what he considers a good phrase or description on a billboard, he'll stop and note it down.

He just likes to save people the trouble of being at a loss for words, Salzman explained.

"It just occurred to me one day that if someone could write down all the descriptive phrases that have been thought up," Salzman said, "it would be a big favor to everyone. So I began."

An example is the word "life." Salzman has turned out a booklet on that one word. He begins with the favorite things that people have said about life. It includes a list of some 65 adjectives—including such words as "merry," "congenial," "joyous."

Salzman is a salesman by vocation, and thinks that Winston Churchill's speeches are absolute "guts" as a source of descriptive phrases. The late President Franklin D. Roosevelt wasn't bad, either, he reported.

Adlai Stevenson, the 1952 Democratic presidential candidate, "will be O.K., but he's still young," Salzman added.

NEW YORK (AP)—Machines that respond to the spoken word were forecast yesterday by Dr. E. W. Engstrom, executive vice president of Radio Corp. of America.

"We can look forward to a telephone system which will give us the party we desire because we speak the name or the number," he told a meeting of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers. We can look forward to a system which will type directly on paper the words we speak."

She wrote "In the Chapel of My Heart" for a school show, but the song was purchased by a music publisher. She uses Judy Martin as her nom de plume, because her two favorite saints are St. Jude and Blessed Martin.

Artificial Artery Made of Orlon

Medical, Textile Fields Join to Find Substitute for Aortas

RALEIGH, N. C. (AP)—The fields of medicine and textiles joined hands 18 months ago seeking a substitute for the human heart's principal artery. Yesterday it was announced that orlon tubing may soon take the place of defective aortas in the human body.

The tiny knitted tubing was developed here in the School of Textiles at North Carolina State College in cooperation with two Charlotte, N. C., heart specialists, Dr. Paul W. Sanger and Dr. Frederick H. Taylor.

Prof. W. E. Shinn, head of the college's Department of Knitting Technology, worked with a modified necktie knitting machine, and produced the orlon tubing in the exact dimensions of the human aorta and its accompanying aorta arch.

The tubing offers hope to older people afflicted with aneurism, a permanent abnormal dilation of a blood vessel.

Fashioned from a Du Pont "miracle fiber," the tubing will not dissolve in body chemicals and gives promise of pulsing the vital blood through the human body for an indefinite period.

Plastics were first tried by doctors as the artery substitute but proved unsatisfactory.

Artery replacements taken from deceased persons and stored in the nation's three artery banks have been used successfully but the supply is inadequate and because the arteries are not substantial and in some cases are subject to deterioration.

One state college scientist remarked that the orlon tubing "should last forever."

If the substitutes prove successful, they can be produced on an unlimited scale and stored without the use of preservatives.

First parochial free school was established July 31, 1909.

Dozen Others Injured as Flames Sweep Top of Apartment House

MONTREAL (AP)—Fire whipped through the top floors of a 75-year-old brick apartment house in the heart of snow-covered Montreal last night, killing 11 persons and injuring a dozen others.

Firemen combing the ruins early today said there was "only a very slim possibility" more bodies remained to be found.

Attempts to identify the dead were left until today. Some were suffocated as they fought through the halls or stairways with flame and smoke.

Others were so badly burned that even their sex could not be determined immediately.

As a heavy snow fell, firemen scrambled up ladders to rescue a score of frenzied men and women from wooden balconies and window ledges. Some 200 people lived in the building but many were out.

Two women who jumped from the fourth floor were in a serious condition with fractured spines. Of the 12 persons hospitalized, three were firemen who were cut and burned.

An investigation was started to determine the cause of the fire.

Nevada Cats Can Only Catch Birds Close Now

CARSON CITY, Nev. (AP)—Feline delinquency bothers Assemblywoman Hazel Denton of Las Vegas. She introduced a bill designed to stop cats from catching so many birds by making it unlawful for them to roam beyond the property of their owners.

Several of her colleagues twitted her with Adlai Stevenson's comment when, as governor of Illinois, he vetoed a similar measure. He suggested that it might lead to laws against birds catching worms and dogs chasing cats.

Lt. Andrew Summers Rowan carried the famous message to Garcia, Cuban revolutionist, during the Spanish-American War.

Boy, 11, Pledges Help in Letter to Army General

CAZENOVIA, N.Y. (AP)—If the Army runs into any trouble it can count on Tim White.

From his parents' farm near this central New York village, Tim wrote to Lt. Gen. Thomas W. Herben, commanding general of the 1st Army:

"I am only 11 years old . . . But I feel I must do something for the Army. If there anything I can do please write (sic) me so. Thank you."

Herben replied that Tim could help "by trying with all your might to follow the examples of our great leaders." The general invited Tim to visit Governor's Island whenever he was in New York.

But Tim's mother Mrs. William White said, "Oh no, we couldn't afford that."

Mother Attempting to Conceal the Birth From Her Husband

NEW YORK (AP)—A young woman hurled her newborn baby out of a seventh-floor window of the Hotel Capitol early today in an attempt to hide the birth from her husband, police said.

The infant, a boy, was found dead on a midtown street pavement between two parked cars at 1:30 a.m.

The mother, reported in "very poor" condition at a hospital, was quoted by police as saying: "The father of the baby is not my husband and I didn't want him to know it."

The woman was identified by police as Mrs. Irene Morvan, 22, of 125 Chestnut St., Garfield, N.J. She and her husband, Robert, 24—celebrating his discharge from the Army yesterday—checked into the hotel together.

The husband told police he had not known his wife was pregnant. Mrs. Morvan, apparently feeling birth was imminent, sent her husband out for sandwiches shortly after midnight, police said. He told police that when he returned he found his wife ill and summoned a doctor.

A passerby found the infant's body.

The doctor's call for an ambulance for Mrs. Morvan, coming after the finding of the body, led police to the hotel room.

Oil Worker Burned

Rubirosa Files Suit to Divorce Barbara

CIUDAD TRUJILLO, Dominican Republic (AP)—The Dominican Republic's cafe society diplomat, Porfirio Rubirosa, has begun divorce proceedings against Woolworth heiress Barbara Hutton on incompatibility grounds.

Rubirosa's attorney, Eneas Savinon, published notice of the action in the local press yesterday.

Miss Hutton was last reported staying in Honolulu. Savinon said if she does not reply, the case will come up for hearing on March 10.

Miss Hutton and Rubirosa were married in New York, Dec. 30, 1953, but separated three months later. It was his fourth marriage and her fifth. Rubirosa has recently been the constant companion of actress Zsa Zsa Gabor.

Death Justifies Superstition in Indian Dance

DURANGO, Colo. (AP)—Graves Kent had sung the Ute Indians' bear dance many times before, but this time he was unwilling. The 62-year-old rancher, son of a tribal subchief, had been reared in the superstitious belief that ill fortune would befall the Ute who performed before any but his own kind.

But friends urged him to chant the ritual at a dinner for officials, including non-Indians, working on the southern Ute tribe's 10-year rehabilitation program. Kent finally agreed.

He sang the traditional music for the last time. Minutes after his performance, he collapsed and died.

Doctors said he had suffered a stroke.

Dallas Man Leaps 11 Stories to Death

DALLAS (AP)—John Rogers Monroey, 55, prominent Dallas oilman and attorney, plunged to his death last night from a patio atop the 11-story Santa Fe Building annex.

A horrified radio station switchboard operator tried vainly to prevent his leap.

Justice of the Peace Glenn W. Byrd returned a verdict of suicide. The body hit the street in front of the building.

Monroey had been missing since Tuesday when he failed to keep an appointment with a tax consultant.

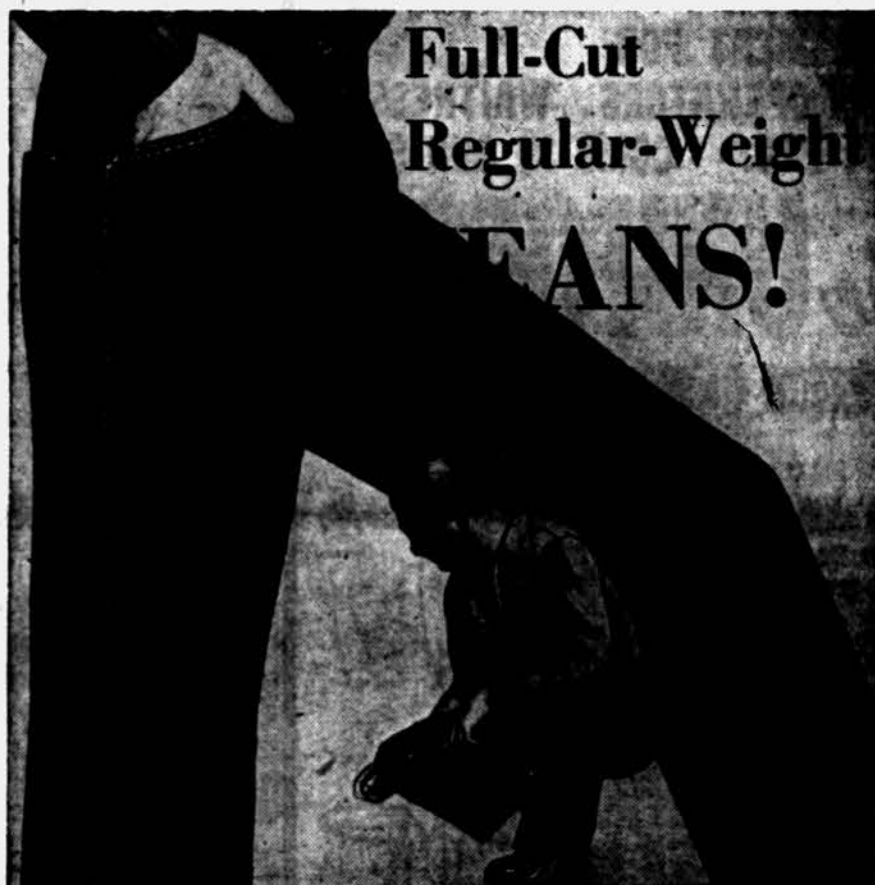

Mrs. T. F. Fry, switchboard operator for radio station WFFA, said she saw Monroey on the station's patio, walking toward the parapet. As she ran toward him and before she could say anything, she told officers, Monroey dove head first over the protective wall.

Admits Kidnap Story Is Fake

Jackson Woman Told Gunman Tale to Justify Detroit Trip to Husband

JACKSON (U)—Mrs. Buddie Giles, 27-year-old Jackson housewife, invented the story of a sailor who kidnapped her and forced her at gunpoint to drive to Detroit, she told police yesterday.

In a sobbing confession to an inspector of detectives Jack O'Connor, she said she dreamed up the wild story to explain a trip to Detroit to her husband.

"I just wanted to get away to have something to do," she said.

O'Connor said her story was broken by a filling station attendant who denied Mrs. Giles was carrying a passenger in her car when he serviced it Monday morning.

Mrs. Giles told Detroit police a man wearing a U.S. Navy uniform jumped into her car Monday and ordered her to drive him to Detroit. She said she had stopped at the service station to obtain gas while the sailor pressed a gun against her side.

But the attendant, Everett Risner, of Manchester, said he remembered cleaning the windshield of the car and that there was no one sitting beside Mrs. Giles.

Mrs. Giles said her husband, a tea salesman, worked long hours and left her at home with little to do. As a diversion, she said, she decided to drive to Detroit.

Police said they would not bring charges against her.

UAW 1954 Audit Shows Net Worth Over $20 Million

DETROIT (U)—Net worth of the United Auto Workers (CIO) rose $47,787 during 1954 although its strike fund dropped $363,397 during the same period, the UAW audit report has revealed.

The union's net worth now stands at $20,449,532.

Depletion of the strike fund to $7,254,987 apparently was the result of the costly 110-day Ford Motor Co. of Canada strike and the 16-month-old strike at the Kohler Co. in Wisconsin.

UAW leaders have indicated they will seek to raise the strike fund to $10 million dollars at the union convention in March by temporarily boosting membership dues by 5¢ to $7.50 a month.

The move is expected in anticipation of a possible strike in the auto industry this year over the union's demand for a guaranteed annual wage.

The audit report made public yesterday showed the union has invested nearly 12 million dollars in U.S. government bonds and $340,770 in Dominion of Canada bonds. Another $422,702 is invested in General Motors Acceptance Corp. bonds, the report indicated.

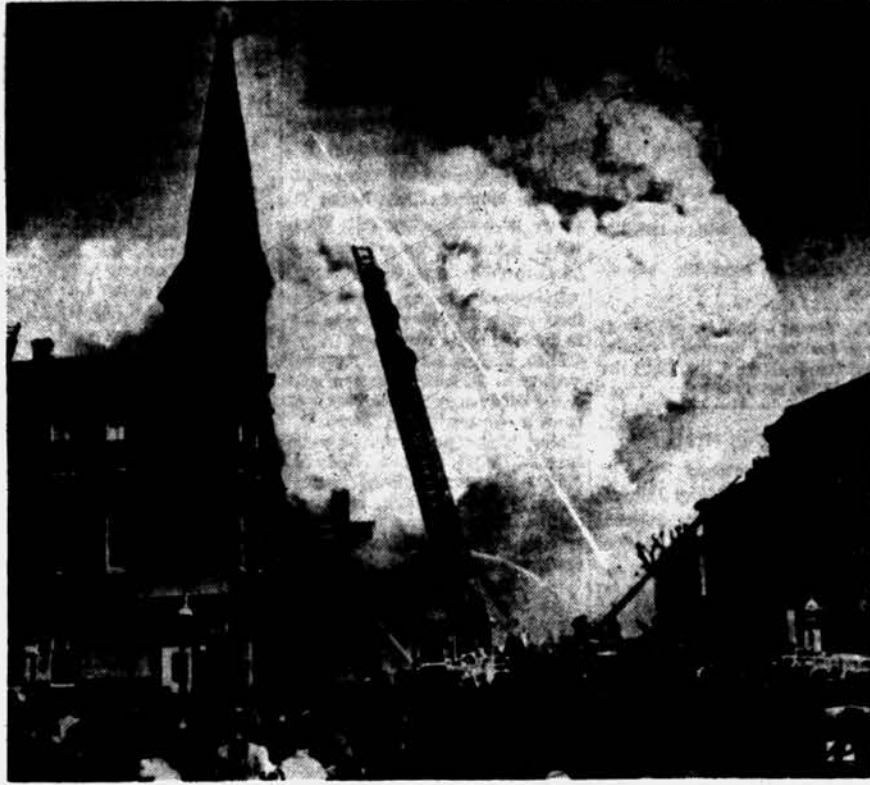

Judge Is Sympathetic Toward Postal Thief

DETROIT (U)—Federal Judge Theodore Levin voiced sympathy yesterday for Clem Hall, 49, a veteran post office clerk, who pleaded guilty to stealing $231 in postal funds.

Hall told the judge it was difficult to support his wife and five children on $84 a week.

"It's a shame a good man like you should be a victim of circumstances," Judge Levin said. "Something should be done about it."

Hall was released on personal bond pending sentencing.

Study of Law Fails to Pay Off for Bandit

CORUNNA (U)—The many hours he spent boning up on criminal law failed to pay off for Nyle H. Baker, 25, of Owosso.

A Shiawassee County Circuit Court jury yesterday convicted Baker for a second time on a charge of armed robbery in the 1949 holdup and beating of Julius Keblor, elderly Owosso banker and money lender.

Sentenced to 15 to 30 years at Marquette State Prison, Baker studied law and several weeks ago filed a petition contending he had been convicted without due process of law. He charged that former Circuit Judge Willis Lyon had ordered him to enter a plea before informing him that he was entitled to an attorney.

Circuit Judge Michael Carland upheld his claim and ordered a new trial. The jury yesterday found him guilty after 50 minutes deliberation. Baker will be re-sentenced Feb. 28.

Transport Chief Sees 'Sell Out'

Quill Raps Reuther for Agreeing to Merger of UAW-CIO

NEW YORK (U)—Michael J. Quill, president of the CIO Transport Workers Union, accuses CIO president Walter Reuther of a "sell-out" in agreeing to merge the CIO with the AFL.

Quill also says Reuther is trying to run the TWU convention here through remote control from Detroit.

To these and other charges, Reuther says "May the Lord forgive brother Quill, for he knows not what he doeth."

Reuther's comment was released at the convention by a CIO aide yesterday after Quill had tongue-lashed Reuther and the AFL. Reuther was not at the convention.

After an impassioned speech by Quill, the delegates representing 170,000 TWU members voted 392 to 18 against merger on the basis agreed upon in Miami Beach last week. The CIO has about five million members; the AFL 10 million.

Quill, a CIO vice president, told the convention that the labor unity plan was a "surrender." He said Reuther had presented one merger plan—containing the guarantees the TWU wants—to CIO vice presidents while agreeing to a weaker arrangement with the AFL.

At one point Quill declared: "The

Nudist Bill Hearing Barred From Floor

LANSING (U)—A House committee will hold a public hearing next Thursday on a bill to ban nudist colonies, but the supply of seats is limited.

The hearing will be held in a committee room, instead of the floor of the House as demanded by Rep. Peter J. Kelly (D-Detroit), author of the measure.

"We'll invite those people who are concerned with the bill," said Rep. Thomas J. Whinery (R-Grand Rapids), chairman of the House Judiciary Committee.

Whinery said he turned down Kelly's request for a bigger arena because he did not want to "transform the floor of the House into a circus."

If passed, Kelly's bill would impose penalties on nudists, nudist camp operators and publishers of nudist magazines.

Bride, 19, Dies in Crash; Husband Seriously Hurt

Hal Boyle Says:Make 'Antiques' at Home ... They'll Cost a Lot Less

NEW YORK (U)—The do-it-yourself craze has reached the point where you can now be your own Chippendale and create antique furniture at home.

The odds are that your home-made antiques will be as authentic as those your neighbor "discovered" in some antique store or farmer's barn and bought at a fancy price. And they will cost you a lot less.

"About 80 per cent of the antique furniture in America is a fake—at least so far as being old is concerned," said Gordon Obrig, one of America's pioneer home furnishings and industrial designers.

"Previous generations simply didn't leave behind them enough period furniture to fill the present demand for antiques."

To satisfy this market there arose the practice of what is known in the trade as "distressing a reproduction." It consists of taking a fine new piece of furniture designed on classic lines and deliberately beating it up to give it an antique look.

This artificial aging was already quite an art abroad, Obrig recalled, when he was apprenticed at the age of 13 to a London decorator.

"I used to be one of the best wormhole makers in all England," he said modestly.

Obrig abandoned wormhole making long ago. Today in the workroom of his 12-acre estate—he calls it "Poison Ivy Acres, Mortgage Lane, Deep-in-Dept. Conn." he designs everything from eggbeaters to Geiger counters. He also enjoys giving tips to young couples on how they can furnish their homes at small expense.

"Often they inherit a few fine pieces of antique furniture," he said. "But they can't afford to buy the additional pieces to fill out a room."

"However, there is no reason why any housewife who wants to live in the atmosphere of the past can't create her own background."

"A housewife actually can do a better job of distressing a reproduction than a professional furniture workman," he said, "she is willing to put more time and hand labor into the task."

So if you want to take a $40 table and make it look like a $400 antique, here is what you do:

"First file off the edges to make it look worn. Then take a ring of heavy old keys and slam them on the table top to give it a scratched up look."

"To give the apron of the table a worm-eaten appearance you burn it with hot copper wires. You can also put a few worm holes in the legs, but be careful not to overdo it. If you put in too many worm holes, your new antique may collapse while you're still making it."

"If the table is of oak, you can give it a worn, ridged look by washing it with potash and lye.

That'll eat out the soft grain of the fiber.

"Next, sandpaper the spots where normal usage over a long period of time would wear the table smooth."

"If you want a walnut finish, you can make a good antique walnut shells in alcohol."

"Then put on three coats of shellac, and finish it off with a coat of melted white beeswax mixed with gum turpentine. This gives the depth of finish you'd expect in a fine old table."

The wife can now call in her friends and brag about the "wonderful hand made antique table" she picked up at a bargain. And if she's done her work well, they'll never know whose hands made it antique.

Obrig has this cautionary advice to people who are genuinely interested in collecting real antiques:

"If the dealer isn't willing to put on the bill of sale the approximate age and source of an antique, you'd do well to go to another dealer."

As it is now, a lot of furniture worms are getting credit for holes they never made.

Youths Badger Water Nymphs to Get at Coins

RICHMOND, Va. (U)—Water nymphs—as anyone with a book on Greek mythology in hand should know—should be appeased—not badgered. Bother a water nymph and you may be in for some bad luck.

With these facts in mind, the Virginia Museum of Fine Arts decided to move its water nymph statue from the entrance and let it guard a lesser fountain inside the main building.

Adult art devotees, it seems, were regularly appeasing the nymph and courting good fortune by tossing coins in the fountain. But small boys were regularly risking her wrath by fishing out the coins before the museum could get around to it.

Champion Rodeo Rider Finds Job Monotonous, Despite Cheers of Fans

FORT WORTH, Tex. (INS) — Rodeo fans cheer and shriek, but to the world's champion cowboy riding a bucking horse or steer "it's a little monotonous."

The danger Buck Rutherford faces several times a day is just another job.

It's a job that paid the lanky, handsome 35-year-old Oldhaman more than $40,000 last year and won him the title of "All-Around Cowboy of 1954." He shrugs that off, saying:

"It gets a little monotonous, especially when you're making two rodeos at once."

A gleam and a shy grin appear in place of the nonchalance, however, when he explains that "Ever since I was a little kid I wanted to be a rodeo cowboy."

Rutherford was born on a small cattle ranch, near Lenape, Okla., northeast of Tulsa, and left it at 17 to work on ranches in Montana and New Mexico, following the summer rodeo circuit.

At 19 he joined the bigtime rodeo, traveling all over North America, jumping from stock show to fair, sometimes flying back and forth between cities to compete in two rodeos running simultaneously.

About the top earnings last year, he says:

"It was a lot of money, but I didn't get to keep much of it — just very little. It's expensive to travel and live in hotels and eat in restaurants."

He plans to "go back to ranching" on his parents' land near Lenape in "about five years," he said, explaining that not many rodeo cowboys can stand the grind after 30.

He's single, "because I haven't got time to get married."

His mother and father didn't approve of his rodeo ambitions but one of them at least had a change of heart when Rutherford started collecting honors, he explained.

"Mom was pretty tickled."

Bear Conducts Survey of Motor Vehicle Traffic

DURHAM, N. H. — Reports of a large black bear, which appears to be conducting an independent traffic survey, have reached the Fish and Game Department.

The bear was first reported recently sitting in the middle of a traffic circle in town carefully watching vehicles whizzing by. A later account placed what appeared to be the same bear about four miles west on Route 4, still gazing at traffic.

Hurrying to the scene, conservation officers spotted the animal heading north to his natural habitat.

Reds Rush New Moscow-Peiping Rail Line

By TOM WHITNEY
AP Foreign Staff Writer

News from behind the Iron Curtain indicates construction of two new short-cut trans-Asia rail links between Russia and Red China is being rushed at high speed from both ends.

The immediate and obvious effect of completion of these projects will be to improve greatly Peiping's position in the event of war with the United States. Communist China is still destined for some years to be dependent on Soviet industry for war material. The railways will multiply by several times the tonnage of supplies the Kremlin can deliver to the Chinese.

As shown on the accompanying map, one of the projects will shorten the trans-Siberian rail distance between Moscow and Peiping by something around 800 miles. The other will—for the first time in history—provide a fairly direct railway route between European Russia and central China, avoiding the long detour north through Manchuria and northern China.

The new railways will so improve the communications of the Eurasian Communist bloc that they may lead to a more aggressive attitude in Far Eastern affairs by the Kremlin and Peiping.

Behind their construction is the fact that in a one-front war involving only Red China with the United States, the Soviet Union could pour war supplies to its ally at a tremendous pace over three trunk lines. At the same time in a two-front war involving both the Soviet Union and Communist China the Communists would have from the railways the important advantage of inferior lines of communication.

One of the new rail links between Russia and China will be opened this year. It runs down from the trans-Siberian railway at Ulan Ude, just east of Lake Baikal, to Ulan Bator, the capital of Outer Mongolia, and thence along an ancient caravan trail across the Chinese border to Peiping.

This line is an accomplished fact from the trans-Siberian to Ulan Bator. The Chinese have completed their end from Peiping to the border between themselves and Outer Mongolia.

The Soviet press has made clear the completion of the last 200-mile section between Ulan Bator and the border has a top priority. There seems to be little doubt that the work is well advanced and will be completed shortly.

When finished, the shortcut will make it unnecessary for Moscow-Peiping shipments to follow the trans-Siberian out to northwest Manchuria and then drop south for the westward leg into Peiping. In its last stages this present line is not far from the sea and vulnerable to attack from U.S. airbases in the Far East. The new line will be much more easy to defend.

Strategic invulnerability is even more a characteristic of the other trans-Asia railway under construction. It will stretch east from the Russian railroad system ending at Alma Ata across Sinkiang province to the Chinese railroad at Lanchow.

The Chinese are building west from Lanchow and, according to

REDS EXPAND RAIL LINES—Two new rail connections that will bring Moscow and Peiping in closer contact—and provide strategic transport routes for war supplies, are outlined on map. Lines under the Soviet press, expect to reach Yumen by the end of this year. The Russians apparently have started their construction east from Alma Ata.

This is, of course, a tremendous project. Even as the crow flies it is nearly 1,500 miles from the point which this railway has now reached in western China and Alma Ata in the Soviet Union. The construction will be taking place at some points in quite difficult terrain at a great distance from supply points. No date has been announced for its completion. It might be judged, however, from the progress made to date that the last spikes will be driven in perhaps two to four years' time.

The domestic significance of these projects to China is quite as great as their international importance. They will alter substantially the geopolitics of the continent of Eurasia by opening to economic exploitation territories that now are mostly barren. It is at least possible they might undermine Soviet-Chinese "friendship" by causing competition for dominance in the buffer regions between the two powerful allies.

But whatever the long run prospects may be, the fact is their present importance is to better immediately the previously precarious logistics of the Soviet-Chinese alliance.

As relations between the United States and Peiping enter a most critical period these steel ribbons construction are far enough inland to escape heavy air attacks in the event of hostilities and also will offer Red China better internal communications.

rapidly creeping through the heart of Asia are destined to be an ever-more important factor in the political decisions which will decide the question of whether it is war or peace.

His explanation for carrying the gun: "A couple of those teachers were giving me a hard time."

New York City Sold 3,600 Cars During 1954

NEW YORK — The city government here is in the automobile selling business—mostly jalopies. It started 1955 with 434 abandoned cars to auction. A number are found on the streets at this time of year because the owners decide they are not worth re-registering. Last year the city sold 3,604 abandoned cars for a total of $48,912—or an average of less than $15 each.

Lady Docker in Her Gold-Decked Car Brightens Up Lives of Toiling Britons

LONDON (U) — A limousine trimmed in gold carries Lady Norah Docker through London's gray streets.

"Gold was decided upon as being the most practical," she says. It's true chromium was scarce when her car was built, but the statement seems to echo Marie Antoinette's "Let 'em eat cake."

You'd think, then, that Britain's toiling millions might resent the lady. Instead they love her. Her obvious enjoyment of the things money can buy appeals to Britons. "I always believe in having a go," she has explained.

She receives more newspaper space than the average Cabinet minister gets. Columnists quote her on every subject—so long as it's not serious.

Lady Docker says the rich have an obligation to live a life of some display, to cheer up the rest of the citizenry.

"The people in the street just love to see the show," she observes.

Her husband Sir Bernard Docker has many business connections, including one with an outfit that builds custom automobile bodies. Her gold-plated car was born there. She has had others since it was unveiled in 1951, but none exceeds the splendor of its 8,000 gold stars and gold-plated radiator bumper and wheel rims.

She and Docker married in 1949. Britain was a cold, dark place, caught in the grip of postwar austerity. Editors began to operate on the theory that nothing lifted the gloom like a story about Norah Docker's diamond-encrusted life. Times are better now, but the aura lingers on.

As Norah Turner, Lady Docker grew up in comfortable but not luxurious circumstances. Between the wars she worked in a department store selling lamps and women's hats. "There wasn't much difference in the goods in the two departments," she recalls.

"Despite the fact that I have married three well-to-do men, my friends are mostly ordinary but genuine people," she says.

She thinks coal miners are wonderful. Last year she went down in a mine near Wakefield. The miners cheered when she brought up two lumps of coal she had hacked out with her own manicured hands.

Thirty-three of those same miners were entertained later aboard the Dockers' yacht. For six hours they sipped pink champagne as the yacht cruised around the Isle of Wight. The miners gave the Dockers a large bouquet of carnations and roses with this card: "To two pals—from the boys."

Patrolman Delivers 14

BOSTON (U) — The stork and police patrolman Frederick J. Donnell, 58, are old friends.

Fourteen times during his 32-year police career he has been called upon to give the stork an emergency hand. That does not include the births of his own four children.

NOT YET, BOB—Robert Noreen, 7, of Chicago, Ill., wears his father's cut-down old Army uniform as he shows that he's prepared to make good on an offer to lend Uncle Sam a hand. "If you would let me wash dishes and sweep the floors, I can come on Saturdays—I think," wrote Bob to Fifth Army headquarters. HQ thanked him, said to re-apply in a few years.

Although most of Panama's people live in Colon or Panama City, the country has some primitive tribes that live much as they did before the first Spanish settlers landed.

Nationalists Applaud Statement by Dulles

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Nationalist Chinese sources today welcomed the statement in which U.S. Secretary of State Dulles rejected the idea of Chiang Kai-shek surrendering the offshore island outposts of Quemoy and Matsu to the Reds.

Sources with top-level connections said there was "no need to worry" because Dulles had not specifically stated that the United States would defend those islands.

One official said, "President Chiang Kai-shek asserted only the other day that the position was quite clear and, so far as we are concerned, it is."

The Nationalists apparently think there is no doubt of U.S. support if Quemoy and Matsu are invaded.

Takes No Chances, Shells Out $7,300

CHICAGO (AP)—Although she was behind a bulletproof glass and steel partition, a currency exchange cashier didn't take any chances during a $7,300 robbery yesterday.

Miss Ruth Lichter, 35, told police she shoved $600 under her cashier's window when two men, one of them armed, held up the Regal Exchange on the West Side.

Then, when the robbers apparently were ready to leave, one of them glanced back and Miss Lichter shelled out $3,300 more.

After that, they demanded "all of it."

So the cashier scooped another $3,400 from the safe for a grand total of $7,300. The robbers fled.

Panama Solons Indict Ex-Chief

Former President Will Stand Trial for Remon Murder March 21

PANAMA (AP)—Ex-President Jose Ramon Guizado must stand trial March 21 on homicide charges in connection with the machine-gun slaying of his predecessor in office, President Jose Antonio Remon.

The National Assembly voted 48-1 to indict Guizado during a four-hour session last night highlighted by an impassioned declaration of innocence from the accused. The Assembly is the only body which can try a president. If convicted, Guizado could be sentenced to a prison term of from 10 to 20 years.

Guizado's outburst came as special prosecutor Jose de la Vega told the lawmakers he would prove at the trial that the price for killing Remon was between $75,000 and $80,000, part of which was paid by Guizado.

Rising from his seat in the hall and gesturing with both hands, Guizado shouted into an Assembly microphone:

"What is being done to me is the greatest infamy in the world. It is an infamous plot. I am innocent. I swear it by God and before the graves of my parents."

Remon was machine-gunned Jan. 2 as he chatted with friends in a pavilion at the Juan Franco race-track, four miles from the city. Guizado, the first vice president, was sworn in as president six hours later.

The Assembly impeached Guizado and ordered his arrest Jan. 15 after Ruben Miro, an attorney, confessed the actual killing and said the plot was carried out with Guizado's full knowledge.

Thirteen other persons, including Miro, Guizado's son and two of his business partners, also have been arrested in connection with the slaying. They will be tried by the regular courts.

Bearskin Coat Is Comfy Only at Thirty Below

DEVILS LAKE, N.D. (AP)—The chamber of commerce received a letter from an Idahoan who wants to sell a full-length black bearskin coat.

J. R. Finn of Council, Idaho, wrote that he had heard Devils Lake is one of the coldest places in the country and might provide a buyer for the garment. Finn said the coat is worth $50 and he will sell it for $25. In Idaho, he added, it never gets cold enough for the coat to be needed.

"You can't even stand the thing until it gets down to 20 or 30 degrees below zero," Finn wrote.

Navy Will Investigate Unidentified U-Boat Off Florida Coast

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—The Navy plans an investigation to give "proper evaluation" to the reported sighting of an unidentified submarine near Fort Pierce, Fla., Wednesday morning.

Two Coast Guardsmen, sent out to investigate an "orange glow" at sea, reported they approached within "a quarter of a mile or less" of the object about 11 miles southeast of Fort Pierce before they lost sight of it in the early darkness.

At New London, Conn., Lt. Cmdr. Jack Parry, public information officer for Atlantic submarine fleet headquarters said, "It's not ours. We have no submarines operating in that area."

The location would put any unknown craft about 30 miles from the Air Force guided missile base at Cocoa, Fla.

Navy patrol planes were sent out from here but reported they failed to find the object.

Navy spokesmen said witnesses would be interviewed and "every effort made to make a proper evaluation" of the reported sighting.

Jap Tugs for Russia

TOKYO (AP)—Two Japanese ship-building firms soon will start construction on six tugboats for the Soviet Union under a 40-million-dollar Japan-Russia provisional trade agreement. In exchange for the tugs, worth one million dollars, Japan will receive 30,000 tons of Russian coal and platinum.

Jessel's Fiancee Died Accidentally

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP)—An accidental overdose of barbiturates was blamed for the death last Sunday of actress Abigail Adams, former fiancee of comedian George Jessel.

Dr. Alexander Griswold, assistant autopsy surgeon, said yesterday that tests showed the presence of alcohol, secobarbital and ethynyl in her body. Police Chief C. H. Anderson said the death will be listed as accidental.

Her body was taken to Charlotte, N. C., for funeral services tomorrow.

The Boy Scouts now have a merit badge for railroad, the qualifications including identification of different types of trains and locomotives.

Kitten Stalls Police for Three Hours

CHICAGO (AP)—A kitten stalled a police squad car for three hours last night.

The animal was trapped under the squad car's hood in an almost inaccessible recess under the right front fender. Policemen Joseph Cunningham and Kenneth Freyer tried to lure it out with catnip, but with no success.

Allen Glisch of the Animal Welfare League was called. Finally, it was necessary to remove the car's oil pan before he could rescue the animal.

Police said they had no idea how the kitten got under the hood.

Hemp, said to have been grown in China as early as 2800 B. C., is the oldest cultivated fiber plant.

Pilot Fished From Sea

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—A Coast Guard helicopter last night rescued a Navy pilot who had bailed out 17 miles off Point Loma and spent 25 minutes in the water. The pilot, Ensign F. Evans Wilson, 25, Jackson, Tenn., was unhurt. He said his Douglas Skyraider went into a spin at 6,000 feet.

REV. SOTERIOS D. GOUVELLAS

Pontiac Roundtable to Present Award

The brotherhood Award is to be presented to the Brother of 1954 today at 7 p.m. at Temple Beth Jacob, 79 Elizabeth Lake Rd. at the Second Annual Brotherhood Banquet of the Pontiac Roundtable of Christians and Jews.

William Coulacos, executive director of the Pontiac Boys' Club, will be toastmaster, and Lt. Governor Philip A. Hart of Birmingham is to be speaker of the evening. His subject will be "The Living Brother."

The Rev. Soterios D. Gouvellas, pastor of the St. George Greek Orthodox Church, states that from the names turned in, the committee will seek to choose the "Brother" who is most like the Good Samaritan, regardless of race, creed or nationality.

Police Catch Stork

FREDERICKSBURG, Va. (AP)—Patrolmen Donald Balderson and A. S. Kendall chased a speeding car and finally caught up with it in front of Mary Washington hospital. In it were Daniel William Culp and his wife, Ruth, and a brand new five-pound, five-ounce boy. The Culp got not ticket but the cops got cigars from the happy daddy.

Returns to Alma Mater

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Thirty years ago, James C. Short graduated from Texas A&M College as a civil engineer. Now he's back taking an agricultural course, after retiring as a colonel in the Army with 37 years' service. He plans to operate a ranch.

Former Resident Is Wed in Saturday Ceremony

The marriage of Barbara Sue Partenheimer and Gene A. Frick, both of Huntingburg, Ind., was solemnized Saturday in the Salem E and R Church of Huntingburg. The bride, recently of Pontiac, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Partenheimer of Huntingburg. He is the son of the Armin Fricks also of Huntingburg.

She wore a gown of Dupionne silk fashioned with lines of an 18th century court dress. The pointed basque, designed with traditional long sleeves and sculptured low neck was trimmed with silk braid and sprays of pearls and crystal in a flower motif.

Marlyn Pfing of Huntingburg was maid of honor and other attendants were Connie Pokela of Pontiac and Mrs. Richard Anderson of Lafayette, Ind.

The bride's nieces, Sarah Ann, Susan and Barbara Klein of Kirkwood, Mo., were junior bridesmaids and flower girl respectively. Richard Feldmeyer of Indianapolis was best man.

Seating the guests were John Partenheimer, the bride's brother from Indianapolis, Howard McLaughlin of Huntingburg and Carl Flynn of Clarksville, Ind.

Banquet Discussed by Spirit 6 Auxiliary

The Ladies Auxiliary to Metropolitan Club, Spirit Six, met Tuesday evening at Malta Temple on Perkins street. Hostesses were Mrs. Charles Hagyard, Mrs. Howard Fairman, and Mrs. Parke Nique. Mrs. Lester Snyder was a guest of the group. A mother and daughter banquet was discussed.

Unpressed pleats at either side formed extra fullness in the bouffant skirt that swept into a court train over petticoats of tulle. The bride's double tiered veil of fine illusion was worn with a cloche of shirred net and bands of iridescent sequins and pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of white phalaenopsis orchids and stephanotis.

General Richardson Chapter of DAR presents a flag each year to one of the Pontiac Schools. Donelson School was the recipient of this year's civic award. Receiving the flag for the school were representatives from each of the eight Girl Scout and Brownie troops of the school. Accepting the flag (left to right) are Sandra Herrmann of Woodbine drive, Nancy Sue Tynan of Chadwick drive, Donna Garver of Mansfield street and Grace Ann Donaldson of Preston drive. Mrs. Charlotte Osmun of Waldo street (center) along with Mrs. Allan Monroe and Mrs. Frank Gerls, made the presentation for DAR. The girls were instructed on the proper display of the flag.

Genius for Healing Can Put New Heart and Life Into the Despairing

There Was a Gray Lady Named Ruth

By MARY MARGARET McBRIDE

The plane was booming and swooping—not dangerously but too violently for me to read—and the young man in the next seat and I began to talk. Once started, the freedom of anonymity and the intimacy produced by close quarters and the storm outside encouraged us both to say more than if we had been introduced.

I asked him if he was married. "Not now," he answered without bitterness. "It was one of those wartime things. I was away for a long time, it was pretty dull and lonely for her and somebody else came along. Then I was wounded."

He shrugged. "There wasn't anybody or anything much that was important to me then. There didn't seem to be any particular reason to get well or to make an effort. I don't think I would have made it, either, if it hadn't been for Ruth."

"Ruth?" I echoed, imagining a pretty young nurse and quickly envisioning a hospital romance with all the trimmings. My neighbor went on, thinking out loud as we sat there strapped in our seats 7,000 feet up in the middle of the storm.

"I don't know what it was about Ruth. She didn't talk much and I didn't either. But just having her there made everything easier to bear, and pretty soon I had the feeling I wanted to get better because she expected me to."

"Was she pretty?" I ventured. "Pretty? No, she wasn't pretty—not a bit pretty. And she wasn't young. I don't know how old she was—around 50 or maybe even 60. And I'm sure she wore all the wrong clothes though I never noticed them much."

She worked and I think she didn't make much money, but she had volunteered to be a Gray Lady at the hospital in her spare time. I guess she'd had pretty hard going herself. Maybe that's why she understood about pain and loneliness.

He looked out the window for a while, then went on.

"When I left the hospital, I stayed at her place for awhile. Other released patients were there, too. She didn't have much room, but she put up cots and we all helped with the work. Then when we felt better, we went on back to wherever we came from."

I guess several of us would never have gotten out of that ward if it hadn't been for Ruth. She did something—I don't know what it was—to everybody who came in contact with her. Yet after we were completely well and on our feet, she seemed to sort of lose interest in us. But no one of us will ever forget her."

The plane landed—smoothly, too—we unstrapped our belts, climbed down the steps and said our good-byes. My companion, businesslike and remote the minute we touched ground, looked as if he wished he hadn't talked so much. And I started back to the city, still thinking about Ruth.

"I don't know what it was Ruth had," he said, but I think I know. Ruth shares with Florence Nightingale and Clara Barton that heaven-born genius for healing, for putting new heart and new life into the despairing and lonely. her.

THE FINISHING TOUCH—Beth Rose, Michigan's entrant in the National Cherry Pie contest, puts the finishing touch on a pie. The fifteen-year-old Waterford High School student won both county and state baking contests and flew to Chicago Wednesday for the final bake-off. Beth, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Rose, lives on N. Cass Lake road.

Beth Rose Flies to Chicago to Bake a Cherry Pie

Pontiac Press Food Editor
Oakland County's prize-winning cook took her first airplane ride yesterday afternoon. Beth Rose, fifteen-year-old Waterford High School sophomore, flew to Chicago to compete in the regional and national cherry pie bake-offs. Winner of the state cherry pie baking contest Feb. 11 in Grand Rapids, Beth now is reaching for higher honors. The winner in Chicago will go to Washington, D. C. where she will present her prize pie to the President.

We went out to the Rose house this week to see Beth again (we had met her at the county contest in January) and to hear about the Chicago trip.

There was a freshly baked cherry pie sitting on the stove. Beth took it to East Lansing with her when she went up for the final help and instructions from the school of Home Economics and 4-H leaders.

Since the county contest Beth has changed her crust recipe slightly—yes, we know some of you were disappointed when you tried her original recipe. When she was chosen for first place, she knew that she needed to work on and improve her crust. She has, and here it is:

Beth's Pie Crust
1 1/4 cups all purpose flour
1/2 cup vegetable shortening
1/2 cup water

Cut shortening into flour and salt. Add water and form into a ball. Roll out. This makes enough for one bottom crust and lattice work across the top of the cherries.

If new coiffure—

Softening waves in front, off the neck in back are good for more mature features. Leave to the young appearing the severe off-face style.

Miss N. C.—Slightly longer hair does with volume concentrated on top of the head at front, or massed at back but brushed off the nape of the neck, are typical of the new coiffures shown in Paris for spring.

Maybe the reason a committee keeps minutes is on account of the hours they waste.

Within two years Afghanistan will have virtually eliminated malaria from the entire country.

Check Spring, Mattress for Maximum Comfort

By ELIZABETH HILLIER

Next time the bedding's off the beds, test each one to see if it isn't doing duty beyond its time.

Lay a yardstick across the mattress. If the yardstick isn't supported evenly, if there are hollows below it, the mattress is too far past its prime.

Then think back. When was the mattress bought? How many years ago was it? More years, probably, than you had any idea. That may be why it's been so unusually hard to get up lately—the bed has gradually broken down and isn't providing the support needed for refreshing sleep.

Hotels, which are in the business of selling a good night's rest, replace mattresses and springs about every ten years. Springs, as well as mattresses. Don't count on a new mattress alone to put the bed to rights.

The spring is probably the same age as the mattress and sags as much. Even the best new mattress can't deliver the wonderful comfort it should if it isn't supported by an even and buoyant foundation.

Picture Pretty Fashion Idea Is Pinafore

NEW YORK (INS)—Pinafores are the latest idea for making American warm-weather styles pretty as a picture and practical, too.

Gay pinafore ensembles with the "little girl" look of "Alice in Wonderland" are being made for summer sales.

They actually are dress-and-pinafore combinations, the dress in white and the pinafore in color. The pinafore covers the entire skirt and front bodice of the dress, enabling a girl to wear the white dress to work and still keep it fresh for late dates.

With pinafore on, it looks as if you're wearing a gay cotton jumper type outfit over a white organdie dress with little puffed sleeves, tight waist, and full skirt.

Girl Feels Treatment Is Unfair

She Should Learn to Make the Best of Their Actions

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

Now and again you're convinced that you're getting a raw deal. Everybody's trampling all over your finest sensibilities and you want to rebel. Everybody around is falling far short of the high standards you've set for yourself and your friends. And you're disappointed.

You'd like to wave your arms in the breeze, make your point of view clear to everybody and, by sheer force of personality, get your own way. And make everybody else change theirs.

But you can't quite do that. You have to submit meekly to what you consider tactless trampling. And do it with good grace. You have to put up with your friends' shortcomings. And look for the good in them. You have to take what comes your way and make the best of it. Here are two entirely different cases in point.

"Dear Miss Woodward: I'm 12 years old now and when I was a baby I was pretty cute—at least to hear my parents talk anyway. I have a new baby sister now, and she looks just like I did when I was a baby.

Every time we have company—even my own friends—my mother drags out my baby pictures to show them. What would you do in my place, ignore it?"

That baby-picture deal embarrasses you to death, doesn't it? Everybody's supposed to grieve and gush over how cute you were (and my how you've changed!) and how adorable the new baby is. You dislike mightily being the center of that kind of attention, and you'd like to put your foot down hard and stop it.

Your mother doesn't mean to torture or tease you. She probably doesn't realize how she's treading on your dignity and modesty. Why not tell her?

Then try to convince yourself that those pictures of you taken 12 years ago have nothing to do with you now. They might very well be pictures of your baby sister. And you can look at pictures of her without a qualm, can't you?

This girl is afraid to help herself to friendships that are right under her nose. She has another idea of what she thinks she wants. But she'd be doing herself a favor to make the most of the available material.

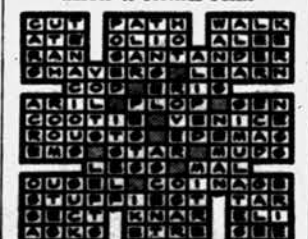

"Dear Miss Woodward: I have no social life where I live—not even one friend. I've gone to youth groups but everyone is in cliques and though I try to push my way in I haven't got what it takes. My classmates are not what I'm looking for either. So what can I do?"

Why reject your classmates so arbitrarily? They might turn out to be an unexpected treasure of friendship if you'd cultivate them. It's the material that's being dealt out to you at the moment. Try being a friend to one after another of the kids in your class and see if you don't find your social life richer and more fun.

Guests Ruin Visit With Card Game

Be Frank About It, Tell Them You'd Rather Not Play

By EMILY POST

A reader writes as follows: "Will you please tell me what I can say to friends of ours who, five minutes after their arrival at our house, suggest playing cards? They'd rather play cards than eat. I think."

While my husband and I do not mind playing occasionally, there are times when we are not in the mood for cards and would rather just sit and talk or watch television. Is it absolutely necessary that we comply with the wishes of our guests, or may we tell them quite frankly that we would rather not play cards this one time?"

I think the best thing to do is to be frank and say, "I really don't think I could concentrate on cards tonight. Would you mind terribly if we don't play?"

Dear Mrs. Post: I always telephone an acceptance, or regret, to all invitations that are not written in the third person. Am I wrong in doing this? A friend tells me that even replies to formal third person invitations may be telephoned on occasion and that it is not a case of how the invitation is worded, but of how well you know the hostess.

Your friend is right. We are much more inclined to write to a hostess we know slightly and to telephone someone who is an intimate friend. The principle rule is to answer promptly.

Dear Mrs. Post: I was criticized the other day for wearing my wrist watch on my right arm. This person told me that the only correct place for a wrist watch was on the left arm. True, most people do wear it there, but is this a definite rule?

There is no rule that I know of except the rule of safety (for the watch) since most people use their right arm so much more than their left.

PETUNIA!

My electric bills Are much too hearty. Could this thing be The guilty party?

Could be, Petunia! Its temperature shouldn't be higher than 50, but only the freezing compartment needs to be lower than 40. Check it with a reliable household thermometer.

Webster PTA Discusses Citizenship Wednesday

The second in a series of three workshop meetings centered around the general theme of "Citizenship" was held Wednesday evening as members of the PTA gathered at Webster School.

Pre-determined groups were formed by 165 parents and teachers to discuss various phases of citizenship education. A majority of parents entered groups interested in discipline and guidance.

Typical of the problems coming out of the group discussions to be considered by a panel of experts at next month's meeting were: Is there any remedy for impudence in a child?

Should we deliberately teach children how authority develops and that there are many sources of authority?

Dr. Arnold Meier of Wayne University, who is serving as consultant to the PTA stated that "Webster PTA is starting a pioneer effort in soliciting the opinions of hundreds of parents on the problems of rearing children."

Bake Special Washington Cake

Cherry, Mocha Are Featured

Birthday Treat Topped by Maraschino-Dotted White Frosting

George Washington, as the Father of Our Country, deserves a birthday cake celebration. And naturally, you'll need a cake with cherries in it.

Here's a recipe for a mocha and maraschino cherry cake that's delicious. Frost it with white icing and decorate it with bright red maraschino cherries, and you'll have a cake that's not only as good as the ones Mother used to make but, in his time, it would have delighted George, too.

Washington Birthday Cake

Ingredients:
 1/2 cup butter or margarine
 1 1/2 cups sugar
 4 eggs, separated
 8 tablespoons boiling water
 1 1/2 tablespoons instant coffee
 3 ounces unsweetened chocolate, melted
 1 1/2 cups sifted cake flour
 2 teaspoons baking powder
 1/4 teaspoon salt
 1/2 cup milk
 1 teaspoon vanilla
 1/2 cup chopped maraschino cherries, well drained (about 20 cherries)
 1 recipe boiled frosting
 Maraschino cherries

Directions:
 Cream butter or margarine. Gradually add sugar and cream until light and fluffy. Add egg yolks one at a time, beating well after each addition.

Combine water, coffee and chocolate. Mix well and add to creamed mixture.

Sift flour, baking powder and salt together. Add sifted ingredients alternately to creamed mixture with milk, beating well after each addition.

Beat egg whites until stiff. Fold egg whites, vanilla and cherries into chocolate mixture. Turn into two greased and floured 9-inch layer cake pans.

Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) 35 to 40 minutes, or until cake tests done. Cool. Frost and garnish with cherries, as desired.

Cherry Apple Cake Is Real Dutch Treat

Serve the family a festive treat by giving them this Dutch Cherry Apple Cake. It's bound to make a hit.

Dutch Cherry Apple Cake

Ingredients:
 3 cups sifted all-purpose flour
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1/2 cup sugar
 1/2 cup egg
 1/2 cup chopped maraschino cherries, well drained (about 10 cherries)
 1/2 cup well beaten
 1 cup milk
 1/2 cup melted shortening
 2 medium-sized cooking apples
 1/2 cup maraschino cherry halves, drained (about 10 cherries)
 1 teaspoon cinnamon
 1/2 teaspoon butter or margarine

Sift flour, baking powder and one-fourth cup sugar together. Add chopped cherries and mix well.

Beat egg and milk together; add melted shortening. Add liquid ingredients to dry ingredients all at once and stir quickly just until ingredients are blended.

Spread evenly in greased 8x12x1 1/2 inch pan. Core, peel and slice apples. Arrange apple slices and cherry halves over batter, pressing fruits lightly into batter.

Combine remaining one-fourth cup sugar and cinnamon; sprinkle over fruits. Dot with butter or margarine. Bake in hot oven (425 degrees) 25 minutes, or until golden brown. Serve warm.

Center Cake in Oven

When you are baking a cake, adjust the oven rack so the cake will be as near the center of the oven as possible. If you are baking a layer cake, arrange the two pans diagonally on the same shelf with equal amounts of space between each pan and the oven walls to allow the hot air to circulate freely.

WASHINGTON BIRTHDAY CAKE—Celebrate George Washington's birthday this year with a cake made in his honor and decorated with bright red maraschino cherries. It will be an interesting change from the usual cherry pie.

When Is Cake Called Pie? When It's Washington Pie

Pontiac Press Food Editor

When we were planning a byline for the week of Washington's birthday, we thought that Washington pie would be an appropriate subject. As we delved into the history of said pie we made the startling discovery that it had nothing at all to do with George Washington! Here's the story we found in a well-known cookbook.

"In Civil War days when Washington D. C. housewives could not get hard for pies, they made plain cakes, split and filled them with jelly from their cellars. Ever since they have been called Washington pies."

We might assume the above housewives got their idea from making Boston Cream pie. At any rate, their wartime production made a hit and is still used. It is an excellent, quick dessert.

A study of my various cookbooks brought to light the variety of ways in which Washington or Boston Cream pie may be made. The easiest method uses a package cake mix with filling made from vanilla pudding mix; that, of course, is for the cream version. Most recipes call for a simple one or two-egg cake recipe. Hot Water Spongecake may be used. The Pope Cooking School cookbook offers this cake recipe:

Butter Sponge Cake

Ingredients:
 3 egg yolks, beaten very light
 1 cup sifted granulated sugar
 1/2 cup boiling water
 1 teaspoon vanilla
 1 cup sifted cake flour
 2 teaspoons single action baking powder (1 1/2 teaspoons double acting)
 2 tablespoons warm melted butter
 3 egg whites, beaten until they cling to the bowl

Beat yolks very light. Add sugar, a little at a time and beat until well blended. Beat in boiling water, a little at a time. Add flavoring and half of the flour combined with the baking powder. Blend with spoon until smooth; add butter, blend well, then add the rest of the flour and mix until smooth. Fold beaten whites into batter.

Bake in a 9-10 inch ungreased, loose bottom pan (not a tube pan) about 30 minutes at 325 degrees. raise heat to 350 degrees and bake 15-20 minutes longer. Invert to cool. Split and fill with jelly or cream filling.

Cherry Sundae Has Festive Air

By JANET ODELL

Pontiac Press Food Editor

Cherry-vanilla ice cream enjoys its greatest use during February, moving into third place along with strawberry.

The cherry-bright ice cream was introduced many years ago especially as a tribute to Lincoln and Washington and for use on their birthday celebrations.

This ice cream can be enjoyed economically today because of the number of food and drug stores offering it already packaged.

The pint or half-gallon cartons can be kept on hand in low-temperature storage compartments in the refrigerator or in home freezers for one of February's special days.

Cherry-Vanilla Sundae

Ingredients:
 3 oz. (30 ounces) red pitted cherries
 1/2 cup sugar
 1/2 cup cornstarch
 2 teaspoons butter or margarine
 1/2 teaspoon almond flavoring
 2 pints pre-packaged cherry-vanilla ice cream

Drain cherries; measure liquid. Add enough water to make 1 1/2 cups. Mix together in saucepan, sugar, salt and cornstarch; blend in liquid gradually. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly until mixture comes to a boil.

Add cherries, butter and almond flavoring. Serve warm or cold over a slice of cherry-vanilla ice cream, or as a topping for a cherry-vanilla and cupcake dessert. Yield: six to eight servings.

Chill Cookie Dough

Dough for rolled cookies is easier to handle when it has been chilled thoroughly. Keep the dough you are not using in the refrigerator until you are ready to roll it.

Shrimp Sauce Tops Timbales

If you plan to have friends for lunch one day soon, you'll be happy to have this recipe for Macaroni Timbales with shrimp sauce.

The timbales are easy to make and attractive to serve. The sauce is superb—cheese and wine enrich the flavor, along with the shrimp and pimiento-stuffed olives.

For a party luncheon, serve the timbales in company with green beans or peas, an orange and grapefruit salad and well-chilled white table wine. (Use the rest of the bottle opened to make the sauce.)

During Lent, substitute an additional one-half cup of milk for the chicken stock. And replace the shrimp with crab or tuna, if you wish. It will still be delicious.

Macaroni Timbales with Shrimp Sauce

Ingredients:
 1 cup uncooked elbow macaroni
 2-3 cup (firmly packed) soft bread crumbs
 1/2 cup milk, scalded
 2 eggs, slightly beaten
 2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
 1/4 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
 Salt and pepper to taste

Cook macaroni in boiling salted water until tender; drain and chop coarsely. Mix bread crumbs and scalded milk; add macaroni, then eggs, butter and seasonings; mix well.

Turn into four well-greased custard cups; set in a shallow pan of hot water. Bake in a moderate oven (350) about 45 minutes, or until firm. Unmold and serve with shrimp sauce (below). Serves four.

Shrimp Sauce

Melt 3 tablespoons butter or margarine; blend in 3 tablespoons flour; add one-half cup milk and one-half cup chicken stock (canned or bouillon-cube broth may be used); cook, stirring, until mixture boils and thickens.

Add one-half cup grated process cheddar cheese and one-third cup California sauternes or other white table wine; stir over low heat until cheese melts. Season with salt and pepper.

Stir in 1 cup cooked or canned shrimp (whole if small, cut up if large) and one-half cup sliced pimiento-stuffed olives. Heat gently before serving.

Combine Peaches, Ham

Top squares of leftover ham loaf with slices of canned peaches; blend a little of the peach syrup with prepared yellow mustard and spoon over the garnished squares. Bake in a hot oven, basting a few times, until hot through.

Pineapple Juice Will Brighten Up Breakfast Menu

Winter breakfast variety can be found by browsing through the frozen food cabinet of your favorite store.

Among the frozen fruit juice concentrates you'll find fresh Hawaiian pineapple juice in the handy 6-ounce can.

This rich golden juice with its true tropical pineapple flavor is a pleasant addition to a breakfast menu and it's easy to prepare.

Just add 3 cans of cold water to the concentrated juice, shake briskly and you'll have 24 ounces of delicious pineapple juice ready to wake up a hungry family.

If you have a fruit juice and coffee family try this easy way to add nourishment to their hasty breakfast.

Royal Hawaiian Fix

For each serving:
 1/2 cup reconstituted frozen pineapple juice concentrate
 1 teaspoon lemon juice
 1 egg

Beat together briskly with whip or mixer, and pour into tall glasses.

Send your late-risers happily on their way with a nutritious start.

Try Hot Nutmeg Sauce for Pudding or Cake

Hot nutmeg sauce: Try this delicious sauce for a fruit pudding, hot gingerbread or unfrosted cake. Heat 3/4 cups pineapple juice to boiling. Mix together one-half cup sugar, 2 tablespoons cornstarch, dash of salt; add all at once to hot juice and cook, stirring briskly until clear and slightly thickened. Add 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, 2 tablespoons lemon juice and generous dash of nutmeg. Serve hot.

What could be better for that late evening snack than mugs of hot tomato juice, wedges of tangy cheese and crisp rye wafers?

Wayne Professor Scoffs at Superstitions on Food

Too many people today are still plagued with superstitious beliefs about food, according to Marqueta Huyck of Wayne University.

"These food fallacies stem from theories based on insufficient laboratory evidence, personal experience or distortion of fact for personal exploitation," the assistant professor of home economics said. Some of the "cherished beliefs" are:

Raw or rare meat is more nourishing than thoroughly cooked meat. False. Proteins in meat are not damaged by heat. Correct cooking makes the meat more palatable and easier to digest.

White eggs are more nutritious than brown. False. There is no difference, although some geographic locations have preferences.

Food shouldn't be left in open cans in the refrigerator. False. Open cans are as safe as other containers. Acid foods may change flavor, but will not spoil.

Fish is brain food. False. No one has yet discovered a food that specifically aids brain activity. There is no evidence that extra brainwork requires extra food energy.

Raw foods are best. False. Giving up cooked foods would probably shorten the life span. Cooking widens the range of food, kills germs and improves digestibility.

A raw steak draws the pain and discoloration from a black eye. The cooling effect will slow down the blood flow, but an ice pack is more effective.

Foods good to eat alone can be eaten together. Miss Huyck said. It's in the mind, not the stomach, where they don't mix.

Here's an easy, flavorful topping for your casserole — bite size shredded wheat biscuits that have been stirred into melted butter and sprinkled with salt.

CHICKEN SKILLET MEALS—Always fresh, frozen chicken breasts are succulent simmered in mushroom sauce with green peas and slices of lean ham. This is but one way of using these handy, delicious pieces of chicken.

Frozen Chicken Is Basis for World Famous Dishes

Chicken is famously good, fried, roasted and broiled. These savory chicken dishes below have won worldwide popularity with the flavor magic of added sour cream, paprika, white wine and onion. To try them means to like them.

Chicken Cacciatore
1 1-pound package frozen chicken thighs, breasts or drumsticks
4 cups
Salt and pepper to taste
1/2 cup margarine
1 large onion, chopped
1 8-ounce can tomato sauce
1 green pepper, chopped

Thaw chicken as directed on package. Dust parts with flour. Salt and pepper to taste. Heat fat in large skillet. Brown chicken parts and onion in hot fat. Add tomato sauce and green pepper. Cover and simmer 30 to 40 minutes or until tender. Add a little water during cooking if necessary.

Chicken Paprika
1 package frozen frying chicken
1/2 cup margarine
1 large onion, chopped
2 tablespoons paprika
1/2 cup broth from giblets
1 green pepper, sliced
Salt to taste
1/2 cup scalded commercial sour cream

Thaw chicken as directed on package. Place giblets in water to simmer until tender. Heat margarine in large skillet. Cook onion in margarine until tender. Add paprika and mix well. Add chicken and cook until brown on all sides. Add broth, green pepper and salt. Cover and simmer about 45 minutes or until tender.

Add more broth if necessary. Add sour cream to chicken gravy and stir until smooth and simmering.

Add more paprika if desired before serving. Serve on hot parsley rice.

Chicken Miami
1 1-pound package frozen chicken breasts, thighs or drumsticks
Seasoned flour
2 tablespoons margarine
1 clove garlic
1 8-ounce can sliced mushrooms and juice

3 slices lean ham
1 package frozen green peas, cooked
1/2 cup white wine
1/2 cup commercial sour cream
Thaw chicken as directed on package. Wipe off excess moisture. Roll in flour. Heat margarine in large skillet. Brown chicken parts. Add garlic, mushrooms, ham slices and green peas. Mix wine and sour cream. Pour over chicken parts.

Try Romano Cheese
Romano cheese, used widely in Italian dishes, may now be obtained in 6-ounce wedge-shaped portions. Grate only as much of the cheese as you are planning to serve at the time; cover the rest tightly with cellophane wrapping or aluminum foil and refrigerate until needed.

Body build is important in determining ideal weight, nutritionists say. It is necessary to take bone structure, as well as height, into consideration.

Ham and Veal Loaf Slices Beautifully

This loaf slices beautifully, tastes delicious.

Ham and Veal Loaf
2 eggs
1 cup milk
1 1/2 pounds uncooked smoked ham (ground)
1/2 pound veal shoulder (ground)
1/2 cup fine dry bread crumbs
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup syrup leftover from pineapple or other canned fruit

Beat eggs in large mixing bowl enough to blend yolks and whites; add milk and beat enough to combine. Thoroughly mix in ham, veal, fine dry bread crumbs, salt and pepper.

Shape into a loaf on shallow ungreased baking pan. Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven for 1 1/2 hours; baste every 20 minutes with the fruit syrup.

Remove to platter with two wide spatulas or pacato turners. If pineapple rings are served with the loaf, stud with cloves and heat in a skillet in a little butter or margarine and brown sugar; arrange hot rings around the loaf. Makes six to eight servings.

Apple Products Handy

Apples were plentiful this year, as everyone knows, and apple processors found good supplies of the best varieties to make superior ready-to-use applesauce, apple slices and apple juice. Just to use any one of these adds delightful flavor to even simple dishes. Having ready-to-use apple products on the shelves is both convenient and economical.

Eat Varied Foods for Good Nutrition

Nutrition really isn't such a technical or difficult idea, though it seems so to many people.

It's just a name that scientists give to the work your body does each day in changing the food you eat into parts of you.

"Good" nutrition comes from eating a variety of foods, not eating just one or two kinds.

We are fortunate that our country has abundant supplies of the various foods recommended for good nutrition.

Those recommended foods are: Fruits; vegetables; milk and other dairy products; enriched or whole grain bread, flour and cereals; and meats, poultry, fish and eggs.

Do Not Leave Bread in Pan After Baking

Remove bread and rolls from the baking pan as soon as they come from the oven. If you do this, moisture won't form, and the breads will have a nice crispy underneath crust and a light crumb.

To cool bread and rolls before storing them, place them on wire racks or across the edges of baking pans so that air may circulate around them. When thoroughly cooled, bread and rolls may be stored in bread boxes or large crocks.

Wrap individual loaves in waxed paper or foil to keep them fresh as long as possible.

Pop Up Leftover Cake

Here's a sauce that will turn leftover loaf cake into a delicious new dessert: Heat apple juice, thicken with cornstarch, sweeten to taste and add a shake or two of nutmeg. This sauce is also fine with puddings and baked custard.

Tangy Beef Dish Designed to Help You Shed Pounds

Cold winter winds often blow away those firm New Year's resolutions. Especially when it comes to dieting. Somehow or other we all seem inclined to eat a little more when winter arrives.

But if you really meant it when you promised to get slim, and you also like hearty hot meals, here's a dish for you, from a current magazine.

Beefed Beef Roll-Ups
A very thin slice beef round, about 1/4 inch square (about 1 pound); green pepper, finely chopped; onion, finely chopped; tomato catsup, finely chopped; 1/2 teaspoon ground mustard; 1/2 teaspoon liquid non-calorie sweetener.

Arrange meat on waxed paper; sprinkle lightly with salt and pepper. Combine green pepper, onion, catsup and poultry seasoning; mix lightly.

Brush each slice of meat with Barbecue Dressing; spread 1/2 to 1 tablespoon stuffing on each meat slice; roll up; fasten with wooden picks. Place roll-ups in shallow baking pan; and remaining stuffing, and one-fourth cup Barbecue Dressing.

Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees), basting often, about 1 1/2 hours, or until meat is tender when pierced with fork. Remove wooden picks; serve with remaining Barbecue Dressing. Makes four servings.

Barbecue Dressing
1/2 cup catsup
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
1/2 teaspoon liquid non-calorie sweetener
Dash of chili powder
Dash of bottled hot-pepper sauce
1 cup water
Mix catsup, salt, mustard, sweetener, chili powder and hot-pepper sauce in small bowl; gradually stir in water. Makes 1 1/2 cups.

Put Asparagus in Chicken Loaf

Chicken loaf is a much used part of any homemaker's recipe file. Like many an old favorite, it's a good idea to serve the stand-by dish in a little different way once in a while.

Canned California white asparagus, nutritious and flavorful, is a perfect complement for chicken. Arranged attractively as a garnish and used in the loaf, canned asparagus adds both eye and appetite appeal, making chicken loaf a brand new treat.

Keep a good supply of asparagus on the pantry shelf for use in many tasty dishes.

Asparagus Chicken Loaf

1 No. 30 can California white asparagus
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1/2 cup all-purpose flour
Milk
1 chicken bouillon cube
4 cups diced cooked chicken
2 eggs, well beaten
1/2 cup chopped onion
1/2 cup chopped seeded almonds
1 cup fine dry bread crumbs
1/2 teaspoon salt
Dash pepper
1 teaspoon curry powder

Drain asparagus and reserve liquid. Melt butter or margarine over low heat; add flour and blend. Add enough milk to asparagus liquid to make 1 cup and add to flour mixture with bouillon cube.

Cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens and bouillon cube is dissolved. Add remaining ingredients and mix well.

Turn into greased loaf - inch pan and bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) 1 1/2 hours, or until firm. Unmold and slice to serve. Garnish with additional asparagus spears, as desired.

Honey Grapefruit Is Fine Eye-Opener

Honey Grapefruit
2 grapefruit
1 cup orange juice
2 tablespoons honey
Cut peel away from grapefruit so no white membrane remains; cut sections away from dividing membranes. Do this over a bowl so as to have grapefruit juice.

Arrange grapefruit sections in sauce dishes; stir orange juice and honey into grapefruit juice until blended. Pour over grapefruit sections. Makes four servings.

Try Sparerib Sauce

Ever try baking spareribs with a mixture of soy sauce, honey, garlic and dry mustard? Wonderful flavor! Use a slow oven for the spareribs and give them ample time—2 to 2 1/2 hours.

ASPARAGUS CHICKEN LOAF—Try this inviting recipe you'll repeat many times. Individual casseroles of creamed potatoes and green beans are good with the loaf.

Stretch Hamburger With Crumbs and Milk

You can stretch that hamburger meat if you add soft bread crumbs and milk, along with your regular seasonings.

Make into patties and be sure to cook them slowly; these patties should be on the well-done side. Add a few tablespoons of water to the drippings in the skillet, after you have removed the cooked patties, bring to a boil and pour over the meat.

Tossed Salad Features Fruit, Apple Dressing

This is a refreshing salad with an unusual dressing. Try it for your next party.

Tossed Fresh Fruit with Fresh Apple Salad Dressing

1 head lettuce
1/2 head romaine
1 large fresh ripe pear
1 large fresh orange
1/2 cup fresh seedless grapes
1/2 cup fresh apple salad dressing
Wash lettuce and romaine and tear into pieces. Place in a salad bowl.

Cut peeled pear into one-half inch slices. Peel orange and tangerine, and divide into sections, being sure to remove the membrane. Cut grapes in half and remove seeds.

Arrange fruit attractively over the salad greens. Toss (at the table) with the fresh apple salad dressing. Makes 8-10 servings.

Fresh Apple Salad Dressing

1 large (1 1/2 pound) apple
3 tablespoons fresh lemon juice
1 teaspoon sugar
1/2 teaspoon powdered dry mustard
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon horseradish sauce
Shred apple into the fresh lemon juice. Add remaining ingredients. Mix well.

This dressing keeps from two to three weeks store in the refrigerator. Makes 1-2 cups.

Melted butter or margarine and lots of finely chopped parsley make a delicious sauce for pan-fried or broiled liver. Good with mashed potatoes!

Olives Add Zip to Sandwiches

Quick, nourishing lunches are the order of the day when the youngsters come in from school at lunchtime.

For a menu which is sure to make a hit with the children and one which is easily prepared, broiled open face green olive-cheese sandwiches served with chicken noodle soup are a good choice to remember.

Pimiento-stuffed green olives are delicious in a wide variety of sandwich fillings and spreads for tempting and nutritious lunches.

Green Olive Cheese Sandwiches

4 slices bread
1/2 cup chopped onion
1/2 cup crumbled cooked bacon
8 slices processed Cheddar cheese
2-3 cup sliced, pimiento-stuffed green olives

Toast bread on one side. Sprinkle onion and bacon on untoasted sides. Top with cheese. Sprinkle olives over cheese.

Broil 3 to 4 inches from source of heat about five minutes, or until cheese is browned. Makes six sandwiches.

Tomatoes Add Zip to Cheese Sauce

Ever add tomato to cheese sauce? It's good!

Cheese and Tomato Sauce

1 can (1 pound) tomatoes
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
3 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon sugar
2 teaspoons prepared Bahama-type mustard
1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1/2 cup milk
1/2 pound medium-sharp or sharp cheddar cheese
Crisp buttered toast

Turn tomatoes into strainer to drain; there will be about 1 cup tomatoes and 1 cup juice; refrigerate juice for use another time.

Melt butter in 1-quart saucepan over low heat; blend in flour, sugar, mustard and Worcestershire sauce. Add milk and drained tomatoes.

Cook and stir constantly over moderately low heat until bubbly and thickened. Add cheese; stir over low heat until melted.

Serve over buttered toast. Makes four servings.

Pineapple Meatballs

Pineapple meatballs: Drain pineapple tidbits and form the meat mixture into balls around each piece of juicy fruit. Brown in hot shortening, as usual, then add a can of undiluted bouillon or consommé and simmer for about 30 minutes longer. Thicken drippings left for gravy if desired and serve with noodles.

If you buy jumbo-size shrimp you'll get about 15 to the pound. After cooking, shelling and deveining, the shrimp may be cut in half lengthwise.

Look in Pantry for Soup Fixin's

No longer need you hesitate to make rich, creamy tomato soup at home. We have all become so accustomed to the canned variety that we forget there is any other kind.

If you keep the 4-ounce cans of powdered cream on hand as well as tomato juice, you can whip this hot beverage up in a hurry. Incidentally, powdered cream has fewer calories than liquid cream.

Cream Tomato Soup
4 tablespoons powdered cream
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon celery salt
Dash pepper
2 cups tomato juice
1 cup water
1/2 teaspoon butter or margarine
Mix powdered cream with flour and seasonings. Combine tomato juice and water. Bring to the boiling point.
Shake powdered cream mixture into hot juice, stirring. Add butter or margarine and heat a few minutes longer.
Makes four servings.

Add Extra Richness to Mushroom Sauce

Extra-rich mushroom sauce is quickly made if you add canned mushrooms to condensed cream of mushroom soup. Use about a quarter cup of the liquid from the mushrooms for diluting the soup and a little soy sauce for extra seasoning.

One excellent way to use the sauce for a lunch or supper dish is to pour it over halves of hard-cooked eggs, sprinkle with buttered crumbs and paprika and heat in a moderate oven until bubbly and topping is lightly browned.

CREAM TOMATO SOUP—You can prepare a rich, creamy tomato soup using powdered cream and tomato juice. Both are canned staple items to be kept on your kitchen shelves. Try this new, modern way of making an old favorite.

Climax Dinner With Cheese, Fruit and Wine

After the festive winter season and the rich food which has been the order of the day on most menus, a light dessert will be most welcome.

American hostesses may well take a leaf from the book of their French sisters and top off a meal with a really good cheese companioned by fruit and wine.

This trio seems to engender good conversation and you'll find your guests — or your family — lingering around the table to visit.

Apples and pears, both plentiful in the market now, seem to have a natural affinity for cheese. As for wine, there is a California chi-anti now available in a dripless bottle that will make the perfect companion for the fruit and cheese. This chianti has a nice bouquet, and the dripless bottle, in a gay straw container, will be a decorative addition to the table as well as removing worries about stains on your cloth or placemats.

As for the cheeses, try a good Italian provolone with the pears. The cheddar cheeses are good with apples. However, you might make a cheese board of several different varieties with a decorative tray of fruit including apples, pears and grapes.

Once you've tried the fruit, cheese and wine trio for dessert, you'll agree it's one of the happiest choices to climax a meal.

Ever try adding mincemeat and brandy or rum flavoring to vanilla fudge? Delicious and different!

Canned tomato soup becomes something special when you stir in a little finely cut onion and a dash of nutmeg as it heats. Party Tip: Spread red caviar on bread; top with minced parsley and onions come pickled in 4-ounce buttered rounds or squares of fresh and a tiny cocktail onion. The jars.

Try Fruit Crisp to Cheer Family

If you find that these dull, dreary winter days put your family in a melancholy mood, try cheering them up with something special for dinner.

Let that "something special" be a party-pretty dessert like Fruit Crisp—a juicy, crunchy, slightly spicy combination of canned fruit and bite-size cereal topping that you serve warm from the oven.

The family will declare you "chief glow-chaser" when they taste Fruit Crisp. And you'll be delighted, not only with their compliments, but also because this dessert is so easy to make.

Just arrange peach and pear halves in a shallow baking dish and pour in measured amounts of the fruit juices.

Then make the topping of crushed bite-size shredded rice biscuits, brown sugar, butter, nutmeg and lemon rind. Spoon this mixture over the fruit and let the oven do the rest.

After an hour of baking, Fruit Crisp is ready to serve. Hot and fragrant, it is wonderful "as is," or with cream.

Fruit Crisp Dessert

1 can (15-ounce) peach halves
1 can (15-ounce) pear halves
1 teaspoon lemon juice
2 cups "bite-size" shredded rice biscuits

3 tablespoons brown sugar
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
1/4 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons butter or margarine

Heat oven to moderate (350). Using tongs or slotted spoon, remove peach and pear halves, one at a time, from cans. Shake each piece gently to remove excess juice.

Put halves, alternating peach and pear, hollow sides down, into shallow 9-inch baking dish or pie plate. Measure one-fourth cup of the peach juice and one-fourth cup of the pear juice into a 1-cup measure. Stir in lemon juice. Pour over fruit.

Crush biscuits into coarse crumbs. Put into 3-cup bowl. Add brown sugar, lemon rind, nutmeg and salt. Mix well. Melt butter, pour over crumb mixture. Mix well.

Spoon evenly over fruit. Bake on center rack one hour or until topping is golden brown. Serve warm with or without cream or whipped cream, as desired.

Makes five average servings.

Heavy cream will whip better if it is at least one day old. Plan to buy it a day ahead. Have your bowl and beater thoroughly chilled as well as the cream.

TUNA, CORN, SOUP CASSEROLE—Here's a hurry. Serve it with a tossed green salad and crisp rolls. Keep this recipe on hand, too, for Lenten gatherings. It is a dish you can make in a

Corn, Soup Add Savor to Tuna

Food expert Gaynor Maddox says this dish is a tuna casserole with a college education. He got the recipe from a resident of a university town who uses it often for informal gatherings.

Tuna, Corn and Soup Casserole
1 1/2-ounce can condensed tomato soup
1/2 cup milk
1/2 teaspoon oregano
1 medium-sized onion, thinly sliced
4 slices crisp cooked bacon, crumbled
1 1/2-ounce can solid-pack tuna, drained
1 No. 303 can whole kernel corn, drained
Salt and pepper

Combine soup, milk, oregano and onion; bring to boiling point over medium heat. Add bacon.

Break tuna into large pieces with a fork and add to soup mixture. Turn into a lightly greased 1-quart casserole. Arrange corn in a border around tuna mixture.

Sprinkle with salt and pepper. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) 30 minutes.

For a refreshing and different breakfast, grate a spicy Winesap apple and heap into a fruit bowl. Dust lightly with cinnamon if desired.

Pudding Comes From Dixieland

From the South—the region that boasts of Scarlet O'Hara, plantations, gay Mardi Gras carnavals and traditional fine cooking—we get Lemon Meringue Pudding.

Upon first reading, it may sound a little like bread pudding, but when you try its smooth creamy texture you'll find your suspicions unfounded. This rich, sweet and sour pudding has a base of lemon juice and enriched yeast-raised bread crumbs and is snow capped with fluffy meringue.

This dessert is fine fare to serve the family or guests at your very own Mardi Gras party.

Lemon Meringue Pudding
1/2 cup water
Grated rind and juice of 1 1/2 lemons
1-2 cup meringue or butter
1 cup sugar
2 eggs, separated
3 cups coarse bread crumbs

Pour water over lemon rind. Let stand at least five minutes. Cream meringue or butter into three-fourths cup of the sugar. Beat egg yolks and add to creamed mixture.

Mix the lemon juice with the rind and water and add to the bread crumbs. Gradually add the cream mixture, beating after each addition.

Turn into greased baking dish and bake at 350 degrees (moderate oven) for 15 minutes. Remove from oven.

Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry, gradually beat in the remaining one-fourth cup sugar. Spoon this meringue on pudding. Return to oven and bake at 300 degrees (slow oven) for 12 minutes until meringue is lightly browned.

Insure Juicy Steak by 'Country Frying'

On a winter's day you'll please the family when you serve a platter of country-fried steak and onions.

Its named "country-fried" and goes in the frying pan, but actually the steak is cooked by a braising and frying combination. This produces juicy steak with a crisp coating.

To prepare country-fried steak, purchase either round or chuck steak cut about three-fourths inch thick, says Reba Staggs, home economist.

Divide the steak into individual serving pieces. Before cooking, dredge the steak with seasoned flour. This helps give it a golden brown coating.

Then brown the steak in lard or drippings. When well browned, cover closely, reduce the heat and let the steak cook slowly for about 45 minutes.

Next, remove the steaks from the pan. Stir into the drippings 2 tablespoons of flour and 2 cups of milk. Stir until smooth.

Return steaks to gravy, cover and simmer about 20 minutes or until tender.

Prepare onion rings by marinating them in French dressing.

Complete your menu with hash-browned potatoes, lima beans, a tossed salad, hot biscuits and cherry nut cake.

Canned Foods to Undergo Actual Atom-Blast Tests

safety of canned foods in both tin and glass containers, under the emergency situation of an atomic explosion, is soon to be officially and scientifically tested. It is announced today by Carlos Campbell, executive secretary of the National Canners Association.

Joint planning has been under way for several months by a committee consisting of representatives of food canners and the tin can and glass container organizations for a series of explosion-condition tests under sponsorship of the Federal Civil Defense Administration, to be carried out at the Nevada Test Site during the current series of continental nuclear tests.

In the pre-atomic World War II bombings of European cities canned foods frequently became the only source of food and drink for unevacuated populations whose public utilities (power and refrigeration) and distribution systems had been disrupted.

In recent years, laboratory findings have attested the protective values of canned foods and their containers under conditions of atomic, biological and chemical warfare, and civil defense literature recommends their use for emergency feeding.

The canned foods tests now

For Crumb Topping

Want to top that casserole dish with buttered bread crumbs. One way to prepare the crumbs is to melt about a third of a cup of butter or margarine in a skillet and then mix well with a cup of fine dry bread crumbs.

planned, however, will be the first ever conducted under an actual atomic explosion situation and may lead to findings not possible under laboratory conditions. The value of the experiments, said Campbell, will be to determine whether canned foods in tin and glass can be used safely under such extreme emergency.

Tests will be made of approximately 25,000 samples of about 60 different canned food items, selected on the basis of largest volume used by consumers and supplied by 153 canners.

The various-sized tin and glass packages of foods will be exposed under conditions representative of normal handling in storage and use in the home and in emergency shelters.

Exposures will be made at various distances from the blast. An extensive program of post-explosion testing of the effects on foods, including feeding tests, will be conducted to determine whether adverse changes are produced either immediately by the blasts, or in storage.

"The canning industry looks upon this project as a constructive opportunity to contribute to national defense," said Campbell.

Colgate's New Detergent with JUST-RIGHT SUDS will

OUTWASH ANY OTHER PRODUCT IN YOUR AUTOMATIC WASHER!

it's Colgate's

with JUST-RIGHT SUDS

guaranteed to wash clothes cleaner and whiter than any other product...

protect your machine-or your money back!

Here is the greatest detergent yet produced by science for automatic washing machines!

It's Colgate's amazing new detergent AD—with just-right suds. Cup-for-cup, AD's cleaning and whitening ingredients combine to outwash any other product in your automatic washer.

AD is guaranteed to wash clothes cleaner and whiter than any other detergent known. And it lets your machine work better and last longer, too!

Here's why: AD gives you just the right amount of suds. Not too few. Not too many. But just-right suds for your machine and for perfect washing results.

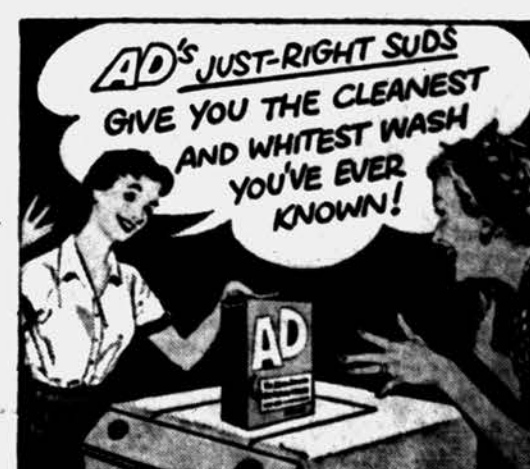

So add AD to your life today. It upsets all previous recommendations for automatic washers. And it's guaranteed to outwash any low-suds or regular detergent known. If you don't agree that AD outwashes any other detergent in any automatic machine, Colgate-Palmolive Co. will refund your money. Mail boxtop to: Colgate-Palmolive Co., Dept. APD, Jersey City 2, N. J.

Non-sudsing detergents fail to show proper amount of detergent to use. Insufficient suds may leave clothes looking gray and streaky, many housewives feel. AD, with just-right suds, gives you the cleanest and whitest wash you've ever known!

Regular detergents produce so many suds they may cause "suds lock"... clog your machine... strain its motor... run up extra power and repair bills for you. AD, with just-right suds, lets your machine work smoothly and properly.

AD—with just-right suds—gives you the cleanest wash possible and the whitest wash you've ever seen. And AD lets your machine work freely and easily... without stress or strain. For your wash and your washer, try AD. It's better—automatically!

Today try AD—automatically better in your automatic washer!

LIFE OF GEORGE WASHINGTON
The Later War Years—4

The victory at Trenton did not end the American Army's troubles. Battles were lost. The soldiers were underpaid and ragged. In the winter of 1777 and 1778, conditions became especially bad. Congress began to lose faith in Washington. The general and his men, camped for the winter at Valley Forge in Pennsylvania, were cold and hungry, many of them sick. It was a time of terrible suffering. But Washington never lost faith in his cause or in his men. Often at night, he would join some of them huddled over their campfires and talk to them, as shown here. They trusted and honored him. After eight long years, largely because of Washington's leadership, America won the war.

Truman Planning Bid for 2nd Term When He Hits 90

KANSAS CITY (AP)—After being out of office more than two years, Harry S. Truman and his former secretary of state Dean Acheson are still in agreement.

Acheson, visiting the Trumans this week, appeared at a press conference with the former President yesterday. Truman, who is 70, was asked about his future plans. He replied with a quip he's used before:

"I shall run for president the year I'm 90." Said Acheson: "If Mr. Truman is elected at 90, I shall be happy to serve with him."

Both feel Adlai Stevenson is the best choice for the 1956 Democratic presidential candidate.

Acheson told newsmen the foreign policies of the Truman and Eisenhower administrations are basically the same. But he said the present policy is not being pursued "as rigorously or effectively" as the former.

Wife Didn't Reveal 9 Other Marriages

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—Richard C. Burke, 21, a Navy man from Arlington, told a Probate Court judge yesterday that his wife was married nine times before without telling him.

He said he first became suspicious when he found several government allotment checks in their home after his marriage in West Virginia last year to Mariquita Campastrano, 25.

The court also was told the woman is serving three years in the West Virginia Women's Reformatory.

Judge John Leggat quickly annulled the marriage.

Bleeder Alive After Surgery

Woman Survives Long Operation for TB; Gets 12 Pints of Blood

DENVER (AP)—"Am I here? Thank God . . . He told me I would be."

Mrs. Doris Grayson was waking from a marathon 3 1/2-hour operation late yesterday. For seven months the Weatherford, Tex., mother had known of the impending surgery on her right lung. And she had feared it.

Doctors at National Jewish Hospital describe the 36-year-old woman as a "bleeder," female counterpart of the male hemophiliac. Once she is bruised or starts to bleed, it is difficult to halt the flow.

is type O negative, found in only 6 per cent of people.

She was admitted to the Denver Hospital last July for treatment of tuberculosis. Doctors found her condition caused her to bleed from the right lung. When other treatment failed, they decided on surgery.

Mindful that certain blood-like Mrs. Grayson's—loses its coagulant factor in 30 minutes after it is taken from the veins, they called for volunteer donors with type O negative.

Denver area Masonic lodges offered help, and those few with the corresponding blood type stood by as Mrs. Grayson went into surgery. Nine donors gave one pint of blood each during the operation. Three others were used later.

Doctors said Mrs. Grayson is "doing satisfactorily."

The name "Sahara" is derived from the Arabic "sahira," which is the plural form for deserts, wastes or wilds.

Goal of $10,000 Set in JA Drive

Businessmen Collecting Money From Firms to Finance Expansion

With a goal of $10,000 a team, Pontiac businessmen this week are soliciting funds from leading business firms to finance an expanded Junior Achievement program for 1955-56.

"Many applicants had to be turned down this year due to limited space and facilities at the Junior Achievement Center," said Robert W. Emerick, co-chairman of the fund drive with Milo J. Cross.

Money raised through the campaign will be used to pay rent at JA center, for purchasing manufacturing equipment and to finance other costs the JA members cannot pay out of the money they raise to buy raw materials.

Junior Achievement, a national movement, acquaints high school youngsters with the operation and management of business.

They issue stock, process and market a product and liquidate the business during a single school year.

There are now 12 JA firms operating in Pontiac. Emerick, Pontiac Motor Division public relations director, and Cross, Pontiac State Bank president, hope to increase the number of companies next year if the fund raising drive proves successful.

Earlier this week, members of PFM Enterprises, one of the Pontiac JA companies, attended a meeting of the five JA firms in Michigan sponsored by the Detroit Edison Co.

At the meeting, the sponsor and its proteges exchanged certificates of sponsorship and a JA charters.

Communists Sentence Pole to Death as Nazi

VIENNA, Austria (U)—A Communist Polish court at Lodz has sentenced to death a man alleged to have been a Nazi agent during World War II. Radio Warsaw disclosed yesterday. His trial lasted two days.

The broadcast said Hermann Altmann was found guilty on charges of having been responsible for the deaths of 30,000 Poles in the Piotrkow district during the German occupation of Poland.

The broadcast gave no details of his alleged crimes.

MAKES BEAUTIES RETURN—Mack Sennett, the man who "invented" the bathing beauty and the Keystone Kops, returns to the screen for one movie. He brings with him both the beauties and the "Kops." The film, a U-I production, is "Abbott and Costello Meet the Keystone Kops."

State Auto Dealer Free on Bond in Tax Fraud

DETROIT (U)—John F. Battle, Mt. Pleasant and Shepherd auto dealer, was free under $50,000 bond today while awaiting sentence for income tax fraud.

Battle pleaded guilty before Federal Judge Thomas P. Thornton yesterday to the $44,500 falsification of income tax returns for three years, 1946-48.

DETROIT (U)—A possible train derailment was averted Wednesday night when police flagged down two Grand Trunk freight trains before an abandoned truck could be removed from the tracks in outlying Warren Township. Later they removed the truck and traffic resumed on the tracks.

Nixon Kills Two Birds in Barber Chair Confab

SAN SALVADOR (INS)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon, who "can't waste any time" on his tour of the Caribbean, managed to kill two birds in the barber's chair yesterday.

He got his hair cut and discussed municipal problems of San Salvador. His barber, Ricardo Gonzales, also is a city alderman.

Joins Army on Leave From Coast Guard Duty

NORFOLK, Va. (UP)—Edward C. Huff of Louisville, Ky., came to Norfolk on his first weekend pass after joining the Coast Guard and joined the Army.

Huff landed in the Army stockade. He protested the Army could not rightfully hold him because he was a coastguardsman.

Military authorities straightened it out—Huff was transferred to the Coast Guard brig.

San Francisco Seen Sure of 1956 GOP Convention

WASHINGTON (U)—The Republican National Committee gathered today to act on a subcommittee recommendation that the party hold its 1956 nominating convention in San Francisco the week starting Aug. 20.

Approval was predicted by National Chairman Leonard W. Hall, who announced the site subcommittee's unanimous decision yesterday.

San Francisco won out in an 11th-hour bid over Chicago and Philadelphia. The Democrats have picked Chicago for their 1956 convention starting either July 23 or Aug. 13.

President Eisenhower arranged to deliver an off-the-record talk at a closed luncheon meeting of the GOP committee.

Hall, in a speech prepared for the session, heaped praise on Eisenhower as "the greatest leader of our times" and appealed to his fellow committeemen:

"Let's sell Republicanism as we never have before. And we can do it under the leadership of one of the greatest men any party ever had—Dwight D. Eisenhower—if we follow him."

Hall, who says he assumes Eisenhower will run for a second term, also hit at dissenter within the party who, he said, "haven't caught up with the facts of life."

Hall credited Mayor Elmer Robinson with spearheading the drive for selection of San Francisco. The city sent a representative here yesterday offering to match the $250,000 bids of the other cities and promising the GOP rent-free use of the city's Cow Palace, a huge structure built for cattle shows and other expositions and having a seating capacity of close to 17,000.

Cool weather and an option on 10,000 hotel rooms also were held out as inducements.

Thomas Kavanagh Jr. Seeks High Court Nod

Thomas Giles Kavanagh Jr., of Southfield Township, today announced he will seek nomination at the Democratic state convention Feb. 26 to run for state supreme court justice on the April 4 ballot.

"It is my fervent belief that if the people of Michigan were properly informed of the need, they would reconstruct and revitalize this court, thus restoring their lost confidence and regaining for their state its lost prestige," he said.

Son of a longtime collector of internal revenue in Detroit, Kavanagh has practiced law there since 1943.

PHS Meets Trojans on Court, in Pool

Pontiac High's basketball and swimming teams take on Saginaw High squads Friday night in a double-barreled Saginaw Valley Conference card.

Cock Art Van Ryn's quiet travels north to meet the Trojan engers, while Dea Boyce's swimmers enter Saginaw's swimmers in a 7:30 p.m. meet here.

Chiefs' five will be seeking its 2nd victory of the year over Saginaw, a feat Pontiac has accomplished only once in the past 22 years. PHS turned back the Trojans, 54-45, in their 1st meeting here last month.

Not since the 1933-34 season has a Pontiac team beaten the Trojans twice in one year. In the over-all series, Saginaw boasts a 27-16 victory margin. Chiefs have won four of the last six games, however.

Red Treals, who didn't see action against the Trojans in the January game, will be at the recently won starting forward spot for Pontiac. Saginaw will have sophomore Bob Blundin, who cut out the 1st semester after transferring from Saginaw St. Mary's at forward.

The newcomers have strengthened the front lines of both squads. Treals has averaged 14.5 points since earning a starting berth four games ago. Blundin has scored 34 points in his four games.

Otherwise, the lineups will probably be unchanged. Treals will team with John James at forwards, Dick Blacklaw will start at center and Walt Poe and Bob Johnston will be at the guards. Saginaw's top scorer, J. T. Landrum, will be at forward, Joe Scout at center and Chuck Lyon and Jerry Hamling at guards.

PHS tankers will also be out for a repeat victory over Saginaw, having won a 50-54 decision in the Trojans' pool. A victory for Pontiac will assure the Chiefs of 2nd place in the Valley championship race.

Arthur Hill for the only blemishes on a 10-meet slate.

Chiefs' wind-up their dual-meet slate next week, when Plymouth comes here for a non-conference test on Wednesday and they go to Bay City Central for the SVC finale on Friday. Valley Relays on March 4 and the state meet March 11-12 conclude Pontiac's schedule.

T-SHIRTED JUMPER—This is not advised as the best skiing attire for this particular climate, but the picture shows the form that brought Dave Freeman of Waterford top honors in the Class A division of the Kandahar Ski Club's jumping tournament at Pontiac Lake last Sunday. The picture was made during exhibition competition in California. Freeman, head football and baseball coach at Waterford High School, is a native of Iron Mountain and was an alternate member of the U. S. Winter Olympic team in 1932.

Wings, Canadiens Meet in First-Place Struggle

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

First place in the national Hockey League will be up for grabs tonight when the Detroit Red Wings, on top by one point, visit the rumormongers Canadiens.

Montreal had pulled away during the past few weeks while the Wings, aiming for their 7th straight title, slumped. But Detroit charged back with three victories to regain 1st place Tuesday. The Canadiens, meanwhile, have dropped two in a row, scoring but two goals.

In another game scheduled to night, the red-hot Boston Bruins play Chicago and a victory over the Black Hawks will put them only two points out of 3rd place.

Bruins tied the New York Rangers 2-2 last night to extend their unbeaten streak to nine games. This equals the season's high set by Toronto earlier in the season.

Virginia Star Darrell Floyd's Nearest Rival

NEW YORK (U-P)—If Darrell Floyd of Furman is to be sidetracked in his bid for individual scoring honors in major college basketball it looks like Virginia's Buzzy Wilkinson will have to do the job.

Floyd, taking up where Furman's All-American Frank Selvy left off last season, was shackled by the flu for two games last week, but before giving in he scored 40 points against Newberry to boost his top-ranked average to 35.5 points a game.

Wilkinson, meanwhile, pushed in to the runner-up position with 68 points in two games for a 32.1 average and took over the total-point lead with 675—one more than Floyd's sum—according to statistics compiled by the NCAA service bureau through last week's games.

Scouts Aided Conservation

Finished 4,400 Good Turn Projects Last Year in State

LANSING—Boy Scouts in Michigan completed 4400 conservation Good Turn projects in 1934.

About 52,000 scouts and leaders participated in the work.

Included were 1433 soil and water conservation projects completed. Erosion was checked on gulches and streams, grass was planted on open lands and soil conservation lectures and exhibits were presented.

In the forestry division, 1253 projects were completed. These included tree planting, woodlot improvement and fire prevention education work.

In fish and wildlife work, Good Turns included hedgerow planting, nesting box construction, brush piling and a variety of educational programs.

Other work included lessons in outdoor manners, aid to conservation officials and gun and boat safety campaigns.

St. Fred Five Edges Detroit Squad, 54-53

Lionel Bradley Scores 23 Points to Spark Rams to Win

St. Frederick won its 5th victory in 14 starts here last night, edging St. Rose of Detroit 54-53 in a non-league contest.

Lead changed hands several times throughout the game, but the Rams managed to pull into a slim advantage at the end of each period.

Pontiac parochials led 17-16 at the 1st quarter, 31-33 at halftime and 43-50 at the end of three quarters.

Capt. Lionel Bradley led the winners with 23 points, while team-mate Dick Doyon and St. Rose's Wolf had 15 apiece.

Rams wind up their regular season Sunday afternoon, when New Baltimore St. Mary comes here for another non-conference tilt.

NEWBURY, Eng. (U-P)—A win parlay on the six longshots who won every race on the Newbury hurdle and steeplechase program Wednesday would have paid 15,745,305 to 1.

The lowest priced winner paid 10 to 1, the highest 33 to 1.

The daily double paid 900 pounds ($1,652) for 10 shillings ($1.40).

At the end the customers struggled out of the track in a blinding snowstorm.

Milford Win Puts Pressure on Wolves

Milford's easy victory over Clarenceville Wednesday night put Wayne - Oakland League pressure back on Clarkson, but things still point to a showdown at Milford, Feb. 25.

Clarkson should have no trouble with Clarenceville Friday and a win for the Wolves will tie them with Milford at 10-1. Jack Minzey's Redskins laced the Trojans last night, 88-34.

Milford applied full-court pressure from the start and gave hapless Clarenceville no chance to stall as did Brighton and Northville. The Redskins had a 24-4 first quarter lead.

Subs came in with Milford leading, 55-20, midway in the 3rd period, but the eager reserves continued to add to the total. Tom Gould collected 18 points and Jim Davidson added 15 as 10 players scored. It was Milford's 10th straight win in a 13-1 record. Clarkson will be at home to Clarenceville Friday and in games with no title bearing, Brighton is at West Bloomfield and Holly at Northville.

The Inter-Lakes and Eastern Michigan League races, as well as the Wayne-Oakland, remain in an unsettled state, but four other conferences have pretty well determined their champions.

Roseville's remaining Oakland-B contests are with Fitzgerald (Friday) and Avondale and both are met on the Roseville court, but Troy still retains an outside chance. Colts play at Avondale Friday.

Imley City already has at least a tie assured in the South Central and can end it by beating North Branch Friday night. Unbeaten Utica also can wind up the Bi-County race with a victory over South Lake.

Chieftains, undefeated in 12 games, have a 2-game budge on South Lake. Almost (13-2) can assure itself of at least a tie in the Southern Thumb by beating Brown City.

Co-leaders Berkley and Southfield continue their Inter-Lakes title campaign against Waterford and Walled Lake, respectively. Berkley plays in the Skippers' gym, while Southfield enjoys the home floor advantage with the Vikings.

Birmingham, which is finding the road to the EML crown a rough one, is at home to 3rd place Port Huron. Despite a 11-1 record and a 9-game winning streak, the Maples still trail Mt. Clemens by a game.

John Petrakis' team must hurdle both the Big Reds and East Detroit, and still would get only a share of the title by beating Mt. Clemens March 4 unless the Bathers falter against Ferndale or Port Huron.

Non-league games have Orionville at Oxford and Lapeer at Lake Orion. Oxford has won 3 of its last four games, while the luckless Blackhawks have lost 12 in a row since an opening-game victory.

Lake Orion started the season strong, but has managed only one win in its last seven starts. Lapeer takes a 7-5 record to meet the hot and cold Dragons.

AAU Field in 2 Events Cut

NEW YORK (INS) — In an unprecedented action, the Amateur Athletic Union has reduced the field in two events—the mile and pole vault—of Saturday night's 67th National AAU championships at Madison Square Garden.

Secretary-treasurer Dan Ferris slashed the mile field from 14 to five, eliminating all those who have not previously run in 4:15 or better. Up to now, no more than ten milers ever turned out.

The five survivors were indoor mile world record holder Gunnar Nielsen of Denmark, Wes Santee of Kansas, Lawton Lamb of the U. of Chicago and armed forces stars Fred Dwyer and Bob McMullen.

A 23-man field in the pole vault was trimmed to 15, with all those scratched who haven't cleared 13 feet-6 or better.

Cranes Take Beating

Cranbrook absorbed a 78-55 beating from Patterson Collegiate Wednesday, despite a 26-point chore by Shaw Emmons. The Windsor team was never headed as it handed the Cranes their 5th defeat against six victories.

2 Hurlers, Fielder Signed for Bosox

BOSTON (AP) — The signing of pitchers Truman Clevenger and Al Curtis and outfielder Al van Alstyne was announced today by the Boston Red Sox.

Clevenger, a 22-year-old right-hander, had a 2-4 record with the Sox last year after making the jump from San Jose in the Class-C California League.

Curtis, a righthander, had only a 3-5 with Louisville in the American Assn. last season, but looked good in the playoffs.

LARAMIE, Wyo. (AP) — Japan's Olympic wrestling team will meet University of Wyoming wrestlers here Feb. 22. Wyoming defeated the Japanese, 9-6, on their last trip to this country in 1952.

Eastern Quints Try Out Pro Cage Rules

NEW YORK (AP) — College basketball gives the pro rules another workout Thursday night with Manhattan and New York University scheduled to operate under the offensive-styled NBA regulations at Madison Square Garden.

Coaches from the Atlantic Coast line states have been invited to watch.

Some form of the pro rules may very well be incorporated in the college game next season since the college rules committee already has shown interest. But a blanket adoption is considered unlikely.

Two Indians Signed

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cleveland Indians said Thursday that pitcher Marian Murzewski and infielder Stan Pawloski had signed contracts for the 1953 season. Terms were not made public.

Murzewski, 24, had a 10-10 record and a 3.14 earned-run average last year at Tulsa in the Texas League. He lives at Buffalo.

Pawloski batted .280 in 55 games with Indianapolis last year after being discharged from the Army. His home is Wanamie, Pa. So far, 25 Indians have signed contracts. Fifteen are still unsigned.

Babe Top Name in Serbin Test at Miami Beach

But $5,000 Tourney May Develop Into a Wide-Open Affair

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The 72-hole, $5,000 Serbin Women's Open golf tournament opened Thursday and defending champion Babe Zaharias of Tampa headed the list of competitors.

But the tournament may be wide open. The Babe won at Tampa, Louise Suggs at Los Angeles, Jackie Pung at Sea Island and Patty Berg at St. Petersburg in earlier tournaments.

The four, along with 16 other top veterans and four of the nation's newest professionals, will play at the 6,282-yard Bayshore Municipal course where women are given two extra strokes over the men's par of 36-36-72.

The new professionals included Vonnie Colby of Hollywood, Fla.; Joyce Ziske of Waterford, Wis.; Mary Lena Faulk of Thomasville, Ga.; and Mickey Wright of La Jolla, Calif.

Top amateurs in the event included Mrs. Maurice Glick of Baltimore, Greta Leone of Chicago and Grace DeMoss Smith of Miami.

OCSC Team Wins Over Wayne Club

Oakland County Sportsmen's Club gunners took a double-victory over Wayne County's team yesterday at the Detroit club's range. OCSC won on actual scores, 950-857, and on handicap scores, 1,012-987.

John Treeful and E. Teeley had 193's to win high actual honors. Stan Strobel of Wayne was top shooter in handicap scoring with a 209, while M. E. Guy had 207 for the winners.

Dolph Camilli Returns to Old Baseball Haunt

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Dolph Camilli, who wore his 1st Sacramento baseball uniform in 1929, will suit up for the Solons again this year—this time as a coach. General Manager Charles Graham signed the veteran ex-National Leaguer yesterday to work with young players.

New Team Takes Lead in Waterford Bow Loop

Team No. 1 Tuesday took over the lead in the Waterford Township Recreation League's archery league, posting 25½ points to runner-up Team No. 9's 25.

Free-style individual leaders are Jack Smith with 231 and Helen Orr with 144. In instinctive shooting, John Aidelan and Polly Babin lead with 209 and 174, respectively.

KC Signs 'Home' Talent

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The Kansas City Athletics Wednesday announced the signing of five players from this area and assigned four to the Class C Burlington, Vt. club and one to the Class D Seminole, Okla., club.

Army has defeated Michigan five straight in football.

Danger of Winter Kill Opens 3 More Lakes

LANSING (AP) — Three more lakes have been opened for the taking of any type or size of fish because of the danger of winter kill, the state conservation department said today.

The latest to be opened were Bonniecask Lake in Kalamazoo county and Fennessy Lake and Eastmanville Bayou in Ottawa county.

A. B. Cook, of the department's fish division, explained that when a thick ice and snow blanket covers shallow lakes all the fish are in danger of being killed by lack of oxygen.

Colorado Boy Dies in Wrestling Bout

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) — A 15-year-old boy died Wednesday in a wrestling match at South Junior High School.

He was Thurman Wunderly, who was wrestling with James Scott as part of a gym class exercise. Authorities said Thurman was pinned to the mat and when Scott got to his feet, Thurman remained on the floor.

During the 1954 season, 27 Texas colleges fielded varsity football teams.

Tenley Holds Key to U.S. Title Sweep

VIENNA (AP) — Tenley Albright, pretty 19-year-old American skating star, won the compulsory figures event of the world women's skating championship today and appeared assured of the 1935 crown.

The premedial student from Newton, Mass., who conquered infantile paralysis to win the 1933 world championship, gained a comfortable lead on points after finishing all six compulsory figures. She will win the title if she earns sufficient points in the free skating event tonight.

Behind her in 2nd and 3rd places were Austria's 1935 European champion, Hanna Eigel, and young Ingrid Mendt, Britain's Erica Batchelor was 4th.

Their unofficial scores were: Miss Albright 990.6 points, Miss Eigel, 946.7; Miss Mendt 935.5, and Miss Batchelor, 931.2.

The United States gained its most clearcut superiority in the men's championships Wednesday night as Hayes Alan Jenkins won his third straight title with a minimum of effort. Right behind him were Ronald Robertson of Los Angeles, who gave a magnificent exhibition in the free style skating, and David Jenkins, the champion's younger brother, who took third.

That young trio convinced the experts the United States would be supreme in the sport for years to come.

A sellout crowd of 6,500 spectators in the brilliantly lit open air stadium gave the 20-year-old champion from Colorado Springs, Colo., a standing ovation as he completed his free style exhibition. His was a dazzling performance—spinning through a series of leaps and whirled to the tune of Gershwin's "Rhapsody in Blue"—as he moved in pursuit of Dick Button's record of five world titles and two Olympic gold medals before turning pro in 1932.

But the real showpiece was yet to come. It remained for Robertson to capture the complete fancy of the fans.

With fantastic speed, Robertson barely stopped between triple jumps of astonishing height and worldwind pirouettes. The crowd didn't reserve its applause for the end of his show—they broke out in a thunderous roar that drowned out the accompanying music.

The highlight of Robertson's performance was a double axel jumped into a seat pirouette.

There was no doubting his mastery. He was the lone competitor to receive a No. 6 rating from the judges—highest award possible from the jury—in any phase of the championships to that point. Like Robertson, who moved from third after the compulsory event, the younger Jenkins also jumped in the standings with his free skating performance. He had been only fifth in the standings after the opening compulsory competition, but he came up with a free style performance almost as brilliant as Robertson's.

Hayes Jenkins built up his championship total, 203.7 points and place mark 11, in the compulsory figures, where a skater must follow a series of set patterns. It proved just enough. With his outstanding work in the free style, when a skater makes up his own routines and is judged on originality and perfection, Robertson finished with 201.12 points and place mark 26. Dave Jenkins had 23-196.69.

KEEPS COMING BACK—Ralph (Tiger) Jones of Yonkers, N. Y., retains his fighting pose as blood drips down from his eye in one of the late rounds of his non-title 10-rounder with Carl (Bobo) Olson of San Francisco Wednesday night in Chicago. Even though "Tiger" kept coming back, he lost a unanimous decision to the champion.

Marquette Wins 20th

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
This was supposed to be a long winter for Marquette in college basketball, but, man, spring is bustin' out all over for the Warriors.

They weren't expected to have much this season, and Coach John Nagle was pessimistic despite 10 returning lettermen. He figured they wouldn't be able to improve much on their 11-15 record of last season. That prospect seemed genuine when Marquette dropped its opener to Michigan State 91-72.

At that point, though, Nagle, in his second year with the Warriors, changed his style and gave his boys their head on the court. He's had a tiger by the tail ever since.

Marquette ripped through its 20th consecutive victory (tops in the nation) since losing the opener by pounding Bradley 93-63 last night. That gave the Warriors, No. 6 in this week's Associated Press poll, a 98-point average in three games since learning of their selection as the first of nine at-large teams for the NCAA Tournament. Bradley rattled the Warriors somewhat with a full-court press midway in the second half. But the Warriors, topped by Rube Schultz's 23 points, had a 25-point lead at that stage and were beyond reach.

San Francisco, No. 1 team in the nation, whipped St. Mary's (Calif.) 65-57 and extended its winning streak to 18. Big Bill Russell scored 24 points.

Third-ranked LaSalle, the NCAA champ, ho-hummed past Albright 89-69 with two-time All America Tom Gola scoring 27 points. Oklahoma A & M shook up the Missouri Valley Conference race by defeating Tulsa 62-52 in an intra family squabble between coaching brothers Hank and Clarence Iba.

The loss dropped Tulsa out of first place and substituted idle St. Louis.

In other league races, North

Carolina snapped a three-game losing string by outlasting Wake Forest 83-79 in an Atlantic Coast Conference contest despite Dick Hemric's 35 points. Virginia Tech dropped its 17th straight decision as Virginia Military neared a Southern Conference playoff berth 76-74 on Don Nyman's layup with 17 seconds left.

Penn closed in on its second Ivy League title in three seasons by rallying to beat Brown 67-61 while Princeton surprised second-place Columbia 53-52 with a great drive in the last seven minutes.

Dietzel Gets LSU Football Coaching Job

Ex-Army Assistant to Stress Enthusiasm in New Assignment

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—Young Paul Dietzel begins his first head coaching job today at Louisiana State, faced with the problem of injecting a losing team with winning enthusiasm for a murderous football schedule.

Dietzel, 30, signed to a three-year contract by LSU yesterday at $13,000 annually, told reporters, "I expect enthusiasm, one of the strongest points in a winning football team."

The former assistant to Army Coach Earl Blaik said, "I don't know how the material shapes up. I plan to pick the 11 boys who want to play the most for my starting lineup."

"Football ought to be fun—and I might add it is no fun losing," Dietzel, recommended highly by Blaik and Biff Jones, former Army athletic director and one-time LSU coach, said, "I feel confident of my professional ability. My job will be to sell LSU to the boys we're seeking to recruit."

LSU traditionally had first choice of material at most Louisiana high schools, but in the last year or two lost coveted boys to archrival Tulane and even out-of-state teams.

Dietzel inherits from ousted Gaynell Tinsley a team which won five and lost six games last year. This fall he faces Arkansas and Georgia Tech, the Cotton Bowl losers; Kentucky; rebuilding Texas A&M; Rice; Florida; Maryland; Mississippi State and Tulane. "I haven't seen a tougher schedule in the United States," he said.

Oliver Heads Jets

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Columbus Jets Wednesday picked as trainer James D. (Doc) Oliver, 40, of Lanett, Ala., who was trainer with the Columbus Cardinals of the Sally League last season.

The Jets—formed here by an International League franchise shift from Ottawa—replace the Columbus Red Birds on the city's baseball card.

His 20-year-old brother, Kennedy explained, recently won the county cross country run in Scotland. Schlade-man thinks if Kennedy continues to improve he could be as great as such MSC distance stars as Warren Druetzler, Bill Mack and Jack Dianetti.

Now he's shooting for the freshman half mile mark.

Say Linemen Morgan, Modzelewski 'Pirated' by Calgary Club

WASHINGTON (UP) — Washington Redskins planned to file a request for an injunction today against a Canadian football coach and two players he allegedly "pirated" from the National League team.

The legal move was aimed at Jack Hennelmer, coach of the Calgary Stampers, and two Washington linemen, Dick Modzelewski and Bob Morgan, who earlier this week "jumped" their Redskins contracts to sign with Calgary.

Redskins filed a $50,000 damage suit against Hennelmer yesterday for "interfering with players already under obligation to another club." Modzelewski is under option to the "Skins for 1935, while Morgan signed a two-year contract last season.

Orange Bowl Officials Plan to Add Cage Test

Stanfel, Two Rookies Sign Lions' Contracts

DETROIT (AP)—Veteran guard Dick Stanfel of the Detroit Lions was one of three players to sign 1935 contracts with the professional football club yesterday.

Rookie tackle Don Henderson of Utah, Detroit's 13th draft choice last month, and Arkansas half-back Richie Witt, mailed in contracts.

Stanfel, who missed several games last season with a knee and back injury, was to enter University Hospital at Ann Arbor today for minor surgery of his knee.

Scottish Freshman Looms as Future Distance Ace

EAST LANSING (AP)—A freshman flash at Michigan State College has track followers thinking the Spartans may come up with a great distance star within a few years. The young runner is Henry Kennedy, a native of Scotland now living in Toronto, Ontario.

Kennedy already has set new freshman records at MSC in the mile, two mile and three mile with times of 4:13.5 for the mile, 9:19.1 for the two mile and 14:07.1 for the three mile.

Now he's shooting for the freshman half mile mark.

Michigan Outdoors

Liberalization of Fish Laws May Be in Wind

By MORT NEFF

The Sports Fishing Institute—a national organization—has just released a comprehensive report on fish conservation highlights across the country. Michigan activities are typical of forward thinking along these lines, and are worthy of comment. The increased sale of fishing licenses in Michigan is proof again that another record high will be set by the state for 1954. An increase in the cost of non-resident licenses to the extent of $1.00 means additional revenue of about a quarter of a million.

But the big news is the continuing research into the field of current also limits, bag limits, and seasons governing our sports fishing. In the day coming when there'll be no closed season on bass and pike in Michigan lakes?

Such a condition already exists in some lakes in which populations of small fish are already too great. Closed seasons on bluegills, perch, crappies and rough fish have already been stricken from the books. Further liberalization is possible—but not in 1955, of course. During 1954 some 27 additional fishing sites were acquired, bringing the total in the state to 612. Of these, 420 are on lakes and 192 on streams.

Gleason Would Appear Opposite Gobel's Time

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — If NBC should move George Gobel into an 8-o'clock Saturday night spot next fall, to compete against the Jackie Gleason-produced "Stage Show" starring the Dorsey Brothers, CBS will urge Gleason to switch from 8:30 to 8 and clash head-on with Gobel. This would lead to television's first great "Battle of the Comedians."

Gleason, by the way, was asked yesterday during a discussion of education how long he went to high school.

"Ten minutes," he replied.

2nd Public Meeting on Incorporation Ordered at Rochester

4 Students to Vie for Trip Abroad

One From Huron Valley Will Be Selected to Go on Expense-Free Tour

MILFORD—Four students from the Huron Valley High School have been selected as candidates for the American Field Service summer program, to be sent to Europe in June.

Applicants were chosen by the student council and faculty members for their high degree of integrity and adaptability. They must have two years of foreign language to their credit, and each must be 16 years old and a junior or senior in high school.

Selected were Marilyn Bush, Carol Cardona, Allen McFarland and Tom Meagher.

One of the four candidates will be selected by the American Field Service organization in New York City, according to Carl Hanna, Milford PTA president and Michigan representative of the field service.

About $500 is needed by the student for expenses of passage over and back, plus the planned travel trips on the continent.

Milford organizations will be asked to participate in a community project to raise the necessary funds in sponsoring the candidates selected.

Last year, according to Hanna, 361 students from 31 states participated in the program, which has been in effect since 1947.

Announcement of the candidate selected will be known in about three weeks, according to Herschel Krebs, student council adviser.

VFW 5th District Rally to Be Held at Royal Oak Post

ROYAL OAK—Delegates from 35 Fifth District Veterans of Foreign Wars Posts of Oakland and Macomb counties will hold their annual winter district rally Sunday here. It has been announced by District Commander Fred K. McDaniel, of Roseville.

Host for the meetings will be the Acorn Post No. 1009 of Royal Oak. The rally will start at 1:30 p.m.

A school of instruction for officers and members will be held at 11:00 a.m. with post state VFW Commander Maurice Cole, of Ferndale, as the speaker.

Important business at the rally will center about membership, community service, and other state VFW programs.

Concurrent with the meeting of the parent organization, the auxiliary will also hold a rally session. Mrs. Elsie Kammeyer, of Royal Oak, is district auxiliary president.

Representatives of posts from Pontiac, St. Clair Shores, Ferndale, Royal Oak, Mt. Clemens, Romeo, Roseville, South Lyons, Birmingham, Keego Harbor, Van Dyke, Hazel Park, Oak Park, Rochester, Walled Lake, Farmington, Oxford, Clawson, Drayton Plains, Disco, Holly, Fraser, Centerline, East Detroit, New Baltimore, Ortonville, Berkley, Milford, Royal Oak Township, Highland and Southfield Township will attend the meeting.

Old Car Convention Set

LUDINGTON (UP)—The Veteran Motor Car Club of America will hold its annual convention here Aug. 1-6. The convention is expected to be one of the highlights of Ludington's centennial celebration.

HONORED FOR LIFESAVING—Three West Bloomfield Township women volunteer firemen who revived a three-year-old pulled unconscious from a Cass Lake canal Jan. 12 were honored last night for their work. Receiving a plaque from the West Bloomfield Township Kiwanis Club are Mrs. Bruce Knapp, Mrs. A. J. Stillwell and Mrs.

Keego Library Forced to Move

New Quarters Needed, but Tight Budget Allows No Funds for Rent

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP—Where to house Keego Harbor branch of the township library is a problem facing the township library board.

The group learned recently that its present quarters in the basement of a temporary building owned by the school district will soon be gone. With the completion of the high school, the school district has no need for the temporary structure.

The library board has decided to keep the library operating, for the present, but without allowing books to be loaned out until a more permanent solution is reached.

Records reveal that the Keego Library's book loans to the growing community more than doubled last year.

According to library officials, the limited budget under which the library operates precludes payment for either rent or utilities.

Mrs. John Peer, president of the West Bloomfield Township Library Board has pointed out that the number of people served by the library increases each year with a corresponding increase in expenditures, but that unless the township officials are convinced that the township as a whole wants an enlarged library service, they cannot increase the 0.3 mill tax levied for its operation.

Oil Well Driller Burned

CADILLAC (UP)—Robert Frye, 59, Big Rapids, suffered serious burns yesterday in an oil field fire near Marion. Heavy clothing that Frye, an oil well driller, was wearing was credited with saving his life. The explosion was believed to have been caused by a gas pocket in a casing which apparently was ignited by heat from a stove a few feet away.

Student Enrollments Up

MOUNT PLEASANT (UP)—Central Michigan College reported today 2,463 students have enrolled for campus courses this semester, a 13.6 per cent increase over last year.

100 Aged Women Perish in Fiery Agony in Japan

YOKOHAMA, Japan (U)—About 100 aged women died in flaming agony today when a flash fire roared through a Roman Catholic old ladies' home before dawn.

There were only 45 survivors, police said. Nearly all were burned or injured in jumps from the second floor of their two-story wooden dormitory, declared a fire hazard in 1953. Several were in critical condition.

"I could do nothing," a survivor cried. "I can hear their screams. 'Hot! Hot! Hot! Help! Help! Help!'"

The inmates were mainly pitiful old Japanese women without families. Their ages ranged from 60 to 98.

It was Japan's worst building fire since the Pacific war air raids. Sister Umeko Sugiyama, 62, a nun, died when she dashed back into the burning building to carry out another of her charges.

The home, a converted Japanese army barracks, was part of the convent of the Garden of Our Lady, belonging to the Franciscan Missionaries of Mary, an international Catholic order.

Yokohama police said the blaze apparently started with defective wiring at 4:30 a.m. Heat and sparks ignited a two-story chapel and two other buildings. They too burned to the ground.

The main convent housing 101 nuns and novices, mainly Japanese, was spared.

In the Yokohama National Hospital, the suffering survivors mingled Christian "Our Lady" and "Amen" with chants of "Namu amida butsu"—the Buddhist prayer of mercy for the dying.

Chiho Hamada, 86, told how the oldest resident, 96-year-old Mrs. Machi Okuni, died.

"We were awakened—only to see flames and smoke all around."

Gilliland Appeals to Top State Court

LANSING (U)—Clayton C. Gilliland appealed to the state Supreme Court today to upset his conviction for conspiring to start a riot during the eviction of a Lapeer County farm woman from her home in 1952.

Gilliland was convicted by a Lapeer County jury in December 1953, of partial responsibility for a riot in which neighbors manhandled sheriff's officers trying to evict Mrs. Elizabeth Stevens.

Her home had been forfeited because of failure to pay an assessment against shareholders of the defunct Lapeer Farmers Mutual Fire Insurance Association, whose affairs have been in the courts for two decades.

Gilliland contended that his conviction for conspiracy was inconsistent and illogical because three others accused as co-conspirators were acquitted by the jury.

Westacres Cubs Win Scout Week Window Contest

WESTACRES—David Elcher, cubmaster of Pack 36, has been informed that his pack has won the window decorating contest, one of the highlights of Boy Scout Week, in competition with other packs throughout the county.

"Okuni-san looked about her and said, 'I am old enough to die.'"

"Then she held up her bed quilt to keep the flames back and let the others escape."

Firemen spread mattresses and implored the old women to jump. Some did. Others were too feeble. Many were hard of hearing and woke only when flames approached them.

She is Mrs. Hisako Oyama, 85, widow of the late Tsunao Oyama, Japanese minister to Italy in 1899.

Puccini needed Japanese musical themes and melodies that he could elaborate to give the opera an authentic Japanese atmosphere.

He was introduced to Mrs. Oyama, an amateur musician who sang to him the songs of her native land. Mrs. Oyama wrote that she was startled to find that Puccini, not too familiar with Japanese music, had used an old drinking song as his inspiration for the suicide music.

1,025 Volunteer for Civil Defense

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP—Civil Defense plans continued to expand, with the report that 1,025 volunteers have been registered to date, with the entire township not yet covered.

Thirty-seven emergency shelters have been planned, to take care of some 3,000 residents in the event of disaster.

At a recent meeting, Harold Bird, Oakland County Civil Defense chief of communications stressed the importance of an auxiliary power supply in the form of gasoline driven generators, for radio operation and water supply.

Spring Gives Water for Milford Pair

MILFORD—Some 80 years ago, a Milford road farmer discovered a little spring of water on his "back forty."

There was nothing unusual about the spring, except that it was coming out of the side of a hill.

The hill was higher than the farmer's house and even his big barn, so, he reasoned, why not pipe the water down to the house and see if the pressure could supply his farm and family needs.

Charles Doolittle proceeded to build a stone underground supply cistern, and then piped the water downward.

When other farmers in the area were hauling water for their stock, farmer Doolittle sat back and watched the water run into the trough. When he had enough, he just turned it off. He was the envy of the entire area.

The present owners, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Hubbell, not only are supplied with water from the spring, but it is piped out to their Antique Shoppe, and until recently, the spring furnished an abundance of water for the Hubbells' apple and grape orchard business.

20 Draftees Leave for Army Induction

Twenty draftees left for Fort Wayne in Detroit, this morning, for processing into the Army.

They will probably head for Fort Knox, Ky., or Camp Chaffee, Ark., for basic training, local Selective Service officials said.

Edward G. Slaughter, 50 S. Edith, was chosen leader for the eight Pontiac inductees from local Draft Board 65. Besides Slaughter there were:

Arthur V. Sudras Jr., 1966 Jolyn; William J. Kinsley Jr., 123 Mount Clemens; Rex L. Bell, 23 Garner Ave.; Robert E. Miller, 49 Clove; Dennis E. Brando, 20 E. Princeton; Robert E. McDaniel, 730 Melrose; Richard Rose, 500 S. Anderson.

Leading the 10 men who reported at Draft Board 67, which serves most of Oakland County except Pontiac, was a Franklin man, William C. Kanold. Others were: Clement A. Neri, Birmingham; James J. Carter, Davidsburg; William T. Marshall, Lake Orion; Bruce H. Treweek, Farmington; John O. Graupner, Birmingham; Russell B. Milligan, Birmingham; John V. Boley, Birmingham; Willard D. Spear, Lake Orion; Albert D. Irwin, Oxford; Terrence H. Slaybaugh, South Lyon; Donald E. Wiles, Northville.

3-Week Course in Bible Teaching to Start at Drayton

DRAYTON PLAINS—A training course for beginning Bible School teachers is scheduled for three consecutive Mondays, in the senior high classroom of the Community United Presbyterian Church beginning Monday.

This course, given twice yearly, is not limited to those who have been appointed to the Bible School staff but is open to all in the community who might be interested in the subject.

There will be a two-hour session each evening covering such subjects as the history and purpose of the Bible School; how persons learn; and how to prepare and teach a lesson.

The course will be taught jointly by John Hazlett, general superintendent, and Pastor W. J. Teus-wissen Jr.

Slone to Arrange Time, Place

Bloc of Avon Residents Strongly Opposed to Annexation Plan

ROCHESTER—Village Manager Robert Slone has been instructed by the village council to arrange another public meeting on the controversial issue of incorporation of the village as a city, and the annexation of a portion of Avon Township.

At a meeting held last Thursday the plan came up for severe criticism from Avon Township residents opposing it.

As outlined by report of the village council, the solution to Rochester's fringe area problems is incorporation as a city, along with a portion of Avon Township which includes the National Twist Drill Co. and Detroit Broach Co.

No date has been set by Slone for the next meeting.

The village council has approved the water and sewer system for the North Hills home development. Two of the 217 homes to be built are under construction.

First readings were held on ordinances for the planting of trees and shrubs near public streets, and also spraying trees for Dutch Elm disease.

The Rochester Women's Relief Corps was given permission to hold a tag day June 10-11.

Helen and Julius Partner, owners of Rudy's Bar, formerly the Rochester Inn, have requested consideration for a liquor license when one is available in the village. The request was filed, since there are no licenses available at present.

Movie to Be Shown at Drayton Church

DRAYTON PLAINS—A colored sound film, "The Healing of Myrdon" will be shown at a joint meeting of the Kellersberger and Anderson Teenage Missionary Groups of the Community United Presbyterian Church at 7:30 p.m. today in the church parlor.

This picture is a production of the American Leprosy Mission, an interdenominational agency which coordinates denominational efforts in combatting leprosy.

Mrs. Vern Green and Mrs. John Bougine, cosponsors of the two church girls' organizations, have issued an invitation to the boys' groups to see the film.

Ionian Man Acquitted of Attempted Murder

IONIA (U)—A Circuit Court jury yesterday acquitted Robert Van Dyke, 46, of Ionia of attempted murder of Howard Clagg, also of Ionia.

Police and sheriff's officers arrested Van Dyke last month at Clagg's hardware store after Clagg went out a back door to summon help.

Police found a shotgun at the store and shell for it in Van Dyke's pocket.

Van Dyke told the jury he was angry at Clagg because Clagg had sued him for $75 claimed due on a washing machine, but he denied he intended to kill Clagg.

Next Year: A Tree

TULSA, Okla. (U)—This year the city is issuing dog license tags shaped like a fire hydrant.

Education Board Delays Action on School Budget

WALLED LAKE—No definite action has been taken on a proposed 1955-56 budget by the board of education, due to the possible changes that might be made in it by revisions in teachers salary schedules, local tax levies, and state legislation.

Board members learned that the committee appointed to consider sites for a new elementary school has several locations under study. No decision has been reached yet.

A special meeting was called for Monday to receive bids on a new high school gym and addition to elementary buildings in the district.

Funds for this construction were approved in a November balloting on a bond issue, the bonds have been sold.

Anti-Red Romanians Fighting Extradition

BERN, Switzerland (U)—The anti-Communist invaders of the Romanian legation battled for their lives today against a Red demand that they be extradited to Romania.

Three of the men gave up their arms and left the legation yesterday after holding it for nearly two days in the face of a show of force by Swiss police and troops. A fourth had been arrested early Tuesday when he tried to slip out. Police said they refused to give their names.

The surrender heightened the international dispute that has strained relations between Romania and this long-neutral nation. Some observers predicted a diplomatic break might result.

The four men face trial here for the death of a legation chauffeur, Aurel Sedu, fatally wounded late Monday night when the anti-Reds seized the legation at gunpoint and drove the staff out into the street.

Waterford Club to Hear Reviews of Two Books

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP—"A Stillness at Appomattox" by Bruce Catton and "Lady of Arlington" by Harnet F. Kane are the two books on the program of the Book Review Club for next Monday.

The group will meet at the home of Mrs. Francis Jennings, 5941 Dixie Hwy., at 1 p.m. Mrs. William L. Miller and Mrs. Henry Mehlberg will do the reviews and Mrs. F. W. Ratzke and Mrs. William Shunk will be cohostesses.

Strike Pay Dirt

DUDLEY, England (UP)—Hundreds of persons rushed into the street with buckets yesterday when workmen digging a roadside ditch hit coal.

Washington Likes Parties, Has Over 100 Each Night

By PHYLIS BATTELLE
WASHINGTON, D. C. (INS) — Washington, D.C., is a city of people dedicated to their work by day and relentless in their quest for companionship and libation by night.

Between 100 and 200 cocktail parties per p.m. are needed to ease the urge.

Every night is party night in Washington and everybody who is anybody, as the old mobbiism goes, has his pick of a half-dozen or so invitations to accept or regret. Oddly enough, considering the monotony of this social routine, nearly everyone up to (but excluding, thank heavens) the President, accepts as many as he can humanly handle.

Like businessmen too restless to throw off their immense responsibilities in sleep or a groggy game of Scrabble, Washingtonians pick their parties carefully—for protocol is bigger than all of us in the capital—and wend their diplomatic way through the greatest eat and drink and talkathon in the U.S.

What makes Washingtonians run to the cocktail parties, which are mere watering posts en route to the larger, more "distinguished" affairs: The dinners, the balls, the late-evening receptions?

I talked to a number of small-scale (two or three party-a-night) social arbiters on the question, and they all had ready answers, varying slightly. The consensus, however, was that there are three basic reasons why Washingtonians like parties.

First, the weighty nature of their work of guiding the country forbids their getting pleasure, at day's end, from small-talk at home or diversionary entertainment such as TV or nightclub frolics; they would rather slow down for sleep, conversing among others of their kind.

Second, there is a constant fluctuating in personnel among the diplomatic ranks and these new arrivals and departures must be met and toasted—for the sake not only of courtesy but of good management of the country.

The third reason for Washington partying is simple and basic. It's Habit. "It stands to reason, doesn't it," said one born 'n' bred Washingtonian, "that the most important city in the country would have the tradition of giving elegant, formal parties? It's just a shame," and he sighed, "that the old families don't have the money to entertain in a big way anymore. Death and taxes have changed the nature of our parties... but they haven't made us give 'em up!"

According to this expert on the matter, Washington parties ain't what they used to be because the most fabulous shindigs are now given by the merely rich (E. G. Perle Mesta and Gwen Capritz) rather than the capital's own true blue-bloods.

Roughly, the party-flinging strata can be broken into three active segments.

Washington's diplomatic corps—its 76 embassies, from Afghanistan to Yugoslavia—give the most parties from a sheer numbers standpoint. Each tosses a whinding to introduce new arrivals, to adieu parting ambassadors, to greet foreign visitors, to celebrate holidays. Also included in the diplomatic soirees are Senate, House, armed forces, and government agency parties.

The second segment are the wealthy ladies who keep their lavish homes and pocketbooks open, and vie for the dubious honor of being number-one residential hostesses of Washington. Whether their guests consider these ladies suckers or leeches, no one apparently cares. They provide the house, the food and the wine, and dignitaries gratefully accept the free load.

And the last group, exclusive and self-esteemed, are the "old families" who give parties, but behind iron gates. Only the top diplomatic layer is invited to these affairs, frequently balls or square dances given by such true-blues as Alice Roosevelt Longworth, Mrs. Joseph E. Davies and Mrs. Dwight Davis.

Because so many are excluded from their parties (and how Washingtonians freeze at the thought of being excluded!) these old families are commonly referred to as "the cave dwellers." Or, less formally, "old cement-heads."

Washington is a fascinating town. You don't need money to get along here.

Collapse of Bridge Adds Realism to Defense Test

BOISE, Idaho (AP)—An unscheduled touch of realism was added to a civil defense test.

The script said three Snake River bridges were out, wrecked by imaginary bombs. But on the day of the test, one of the bridges really was knocked out. There was nothing imaginary about the truck that broke through it.

How Close Can You Get

DES MOINES (AP)—There was a striking similarity when two cars collided at an intersection here. Thomas C. Raymond Jr., 20, had license number 77-28372, and James H. Kauten, 43, had 77-28373.

NANCY

It's Illegal in Nevada to Cheat Gamblers

CARSON CITY, Nev. (AP)—There are plenty of Nevada laws to keep the gamblers from cheating the public. But it seems no one ever thought to keep the public from cheating the gamblers.

Not that is, until the prosecution of two men who used Mexican coins in Nevada's legal slot machines had to be dropped because no law could be found prohibiting it.

Now the Legislature has sent to the governor a bill making it illegal for the public to cheat the gamblers.

Strictly for the Birds

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Billy Bacon, 24, halted his car when he saw the injured pigeon at an intersection. He hopped out to move the bird out of danger, and right into the path of another auto, which knocked him down, broke his leg and killed the pigeon.

Revolutionary New Automation Models

You've heard the word AUTOMATION echoed all over America. It's the sensationally new ROBOT chassis engineered by Admiral to give finer quality, superior performance, longer trouble-free operation. Instead of a complex maze of soldered wire connections, Admiral precision circuits are actually printed to remain unaffected by temperature changes that loosen hard-to-find connections which call for expensive repair bills.

Now SERTA again offers you the country's outstanding mattress value! It is designed and built with the healthful firmness doctors recommend, but at a terrific bargain price we dare not continue once this sale is over. Come in now! Compare these luxurious features with other button-tufted mattresses, yes, even with much higher price tags. Sale positively ends March 1, 1955. So buy now for the savings of a lifetime!

YOURS! All These Health and Quality Features:

1. Healthfully firm innerspring with hundreds of coils gives your back level support from head to foot, as doctors approve.
2. Thick insulator pads reinforced with wire mesh "Pura-A-Lator" prevent "sill foot", prolong mattress life.
3. Long-wearing coverings in handsome modern wave-rip design.
4. Luxuriously upholstered with many-layer heavy cotton felt for extra comfort.
5. Firmly button-tufted. Tailored with taped seams, 4 handles and 8 vents.
6. Matching Box Spring built with same number of coils as mattress gives identically-correct support and comfort.
