Pact With Japan Will Trade Food, War Supplies

$50 Million U.S. Surplus to Buy Arms, Expand Island's Defense

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States and Japan have agreed on a new expansion of Japanese defense forces with American weapons and equipment—but there were signs of some dissatisfaction on both sides.

Japanese officials contend the buildup can only take place too slowly to please American officials.

Apparently the Japanese would have been willing to go for a larger total if the United States had promised substantial economic assistance.

But the United States was unwilling to do this.

Instead, an official statement jointly issued late yesterday said the United States would sell Japan 50 million dollars worth of surplus food—probably rice and wheat—for Japanese yen.

The United States will use these yen to promote a defense industry in Japan by buying arms and military equipment there and by direct investment.

In four weeks of negotiations climaxed by the statement American representatives argued that Japan needs ground forces—aside from sea and air forces—totalling 325,000 to 350,000 men as soon as possible. The present Japanese national safety force, armed and equipped by the United States, totals only 110,000.

Hayato Ikeda, personal representative of Prime Minister, Shigeru Yoshida, reportedly told Asst. Secretary of State Walter S. Robertson that Japan would have to undertake a far more limited defense expansion.

The Japanese are understood to be thinking in terms of 180,000 men in ground forces over the next three to five years.

The joint statement reported agreement also on:

1. Maintenance of tight controls over trade with Communist China.
2. Need for stimulating foreign investment in Japan and for fighting inflation.
3. Holding a meeting in Tokyo soon to negotiate settlement of a two billion dollar aid bill run up during the occupation period. (A similar negotiation with Germany resulted in a write-off of about 62 per cent of the bill.)

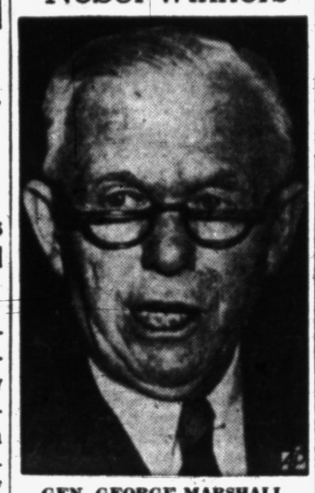

Well-Digger Ordered Not to Strike Oil

PITTSBURGH (UP) — John S. Weiss, who is digging a well in his yard, was under court order today not to strike oil. If he does the well must be sealed.

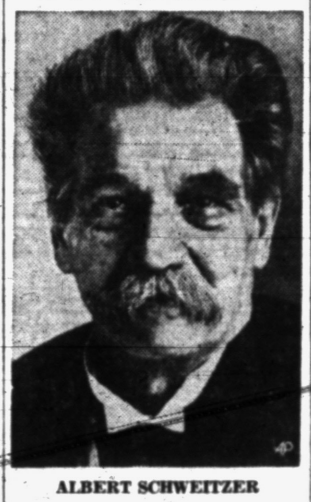

Township officials went to court when Weiss began digging a well for natural gas. They were afraid he would strike oil and begin transporting it. . . a violation of zoning ordinances.

Judge William H. McNaugher ruled that Weiss could go ahead with his plans, provided he strikes only natural gas and uses it all himself.

Marshall Gets Peace Prize

Nobel Institute Names General '53 Winner; '52 Recipient Is Schweitzer

OSLO (AP)—Gen. George C. Marshall, symbol of American generosity to a war-torn world, has been awarded the 1953 Nobel peace prize.

The 1952 prize—not given out last year — went at the same time to Albert Schweitzer, world-famous philosopher, musician and missionary.

The awards were announced last night by the Norwegian Nobel Institute. The five-member selection board, following tradition, assigned no reason for its choices.

The prizes were set up under the will of Alfred Nobel, Swedish inventor of dynamite. He specified that the peace award should go to the candidate "who has worked the most or the best for promoting brotherhood among people, and for the abolition or reduction of the standing armies, and for the establishment and spread of peace congresses."

Marshall, now 72, sprang into world fame as army chief of staff during World War II. As secretary of state he later was instrumental in organizing a 17 billion dollar aid campaign to restore the economies of Europe.

In a statement issued at his winter home in Pinehurst, N. C., where he is convalescing from a flu attack, Marshall said "This award is a great distinction and honor for which I am deeply grateful."

Schweitzer, who has been called the "greatest living missionary," has spent 36 years helping the negroes of Africa. For many years he has headed a hospital he established at Lambarene in French Equatorial Africa.

Suicide Attempt Told Newsmen by Gen. Dean

Grabbed Guard's Gun After Thinking Torture Might Break Him

From AP & UP Dispatches

WASHINGTON — Maj. Gen. William F. Dean grabbed a guard's gun and tried to commit suicide when he was a prisoner of the Reds because he was afraid he might "squeal" under torture.

Dean told the National Press Club about the incident Friday.

The repatriated commander of the 24th division in Korea said he made the attempt with a Russian submachine gun in September, 1950, shortly after his capture.

Dean said he was afraid he might reveal the Japanese defense plans when his Red captors started "driving those splinters under my fingernails and setting them afire, as they told me they were going to do."

"I said, 'Dean, you don't know whether you can take it or not — You might squeal. You'd better get out of here.'"

Dean said he slipped past his sleeping guard and had the machine gun in his hands when he was discovered, but the weapon jammed.

Dean said he made the attempt after four teams of interrogators questioned him.

After the last session a colonel Kim was really provoked. He said they were going to torture me in the morning, Dean said.

What they were aiming for was the defense plans of Japan. And the trouble was I knew them. That was a tough night. I decided I'd better kill myself."

After the gun jammed, Dean said, a man he had not know was in the room "rushed me, roaring."

"About that time the guard woke up and clipped me—then about 15 Korean guards were manhandling me," Dean recalled.

The physical torture never occurred.

It was revealed in Washington today that the Pentagon may call in Dr. Charles W. Mayo, noted

Six Teenagers Held in Assault

Detroit Police Probing Slugging of an Off-Duty Patrolman Last Night

DETROIT (AP) — Six teenagers were held today for investigation of slugging an off-duty patrolman during a fight last night.

The patrolman, James N. Folgarelli, 27, suffered a compound skull fracture when a hoodlum slugged him with a 10 pound washing machine agitator.

Folgarelli and a neighbor, Morris R. Zolerovitzz, 26, chased a dozen youths after one of them threw a bottle through the window of the patrolman's home.

The policeman and Zolerovitz caught two of the youths but were attacked by four olde members of the gang.

Zolerovitz said one of the youths ran around behind Folgarelli and hit him with the heavy metal agitator.

The gang fled when Zolerovitz released the boy he was holding to go to Folgerelli's aid.

Police said they had rounded up more than 30 youths for questioning in the attack.

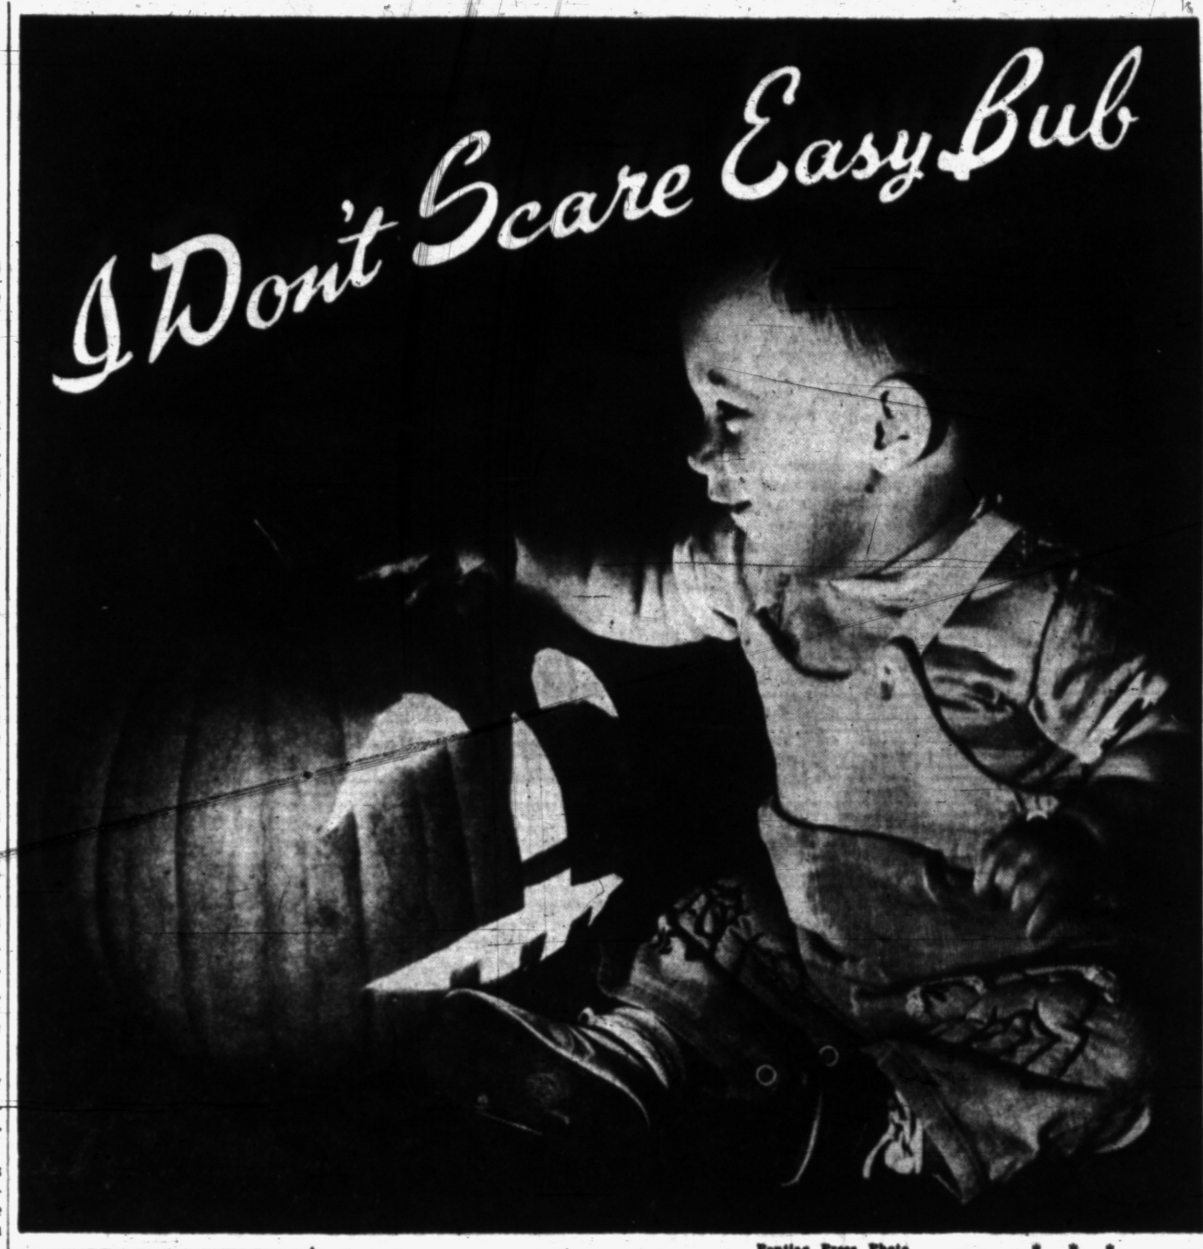

They held six, four of them juveniles.

Plane Shipment Proof Lacking

Team of Neutrals Finds No Evidence That Reds Violated Armistice

PANMUMJOM (AP)—A neutral nations inspection team said today it found "no evidence whatsoever" that the Communists had violated the armistice agreement by shipping crated combat planes from Manchuria to a North Korea air base at Uiju.

The report was signed by Czech, Polish, Swiss and Swedish members of the team which the Neutral Nations Supervisory Commission sent to Uiju to make an investigation.

The probe was ordered after the U. N. Command protested that the Communists were moving warplanes into North Korea in violation of truce terms which permit only the replacement of worn out combat craft.

The chief of South Korea's air force, Lt. Gen. Choi Yong Duk, said yesterday in Tokyo that the Reds have moved 400 fighter planes into North Korea in violation of the armistice. He said the planes are based at 30 newly-repaired airfields.

The report was made at a 2½-hour session of the military armistice commission today.

An Allied officer said that most of the day's meeting time was devoted to repetition of Communist charges that the Allies are "obstructing" operation of "explanations" to war prisoners.

The Reds also repeated protests against Allied refusal to extend the 90-day "explanation" period during which the Reds hoped to coax balky war prisoners back to communism.

Await Workers' Reports

Fund Close to 60 Per Cent as Drive Ends 2nd Week

Pontiac Area United Fund's 1953 campaign inched another $2,000 toward its goal as campaigners closed the second week of canvassing today.

With one week left to go in the annual drive, United Fund headquarters reported $288,750 raised—just under 60 per cent of the $487,200 goal.

"We urge all solicitors to bring in their kits as soon as possible," Dwight S. Adams, executive director of the United Fund, said today. "We've received almost no kits since our report meeting Wednesday. We cannot include pledges in our reports until the returns cross the desk at campaign headquarters."

Adams explained some figures listed today are a bit lower than reported at Wednesday's luncheon because some group chairmen reported receipts which they have in hand but still have not turned in for auditing at headquarters in Hotel Pontiac.

Part of the $288,750 total to date is $128,954.50 from industrial employes and $94,383 from corporations for a total of $223,337.50 in the industrial division.

Commercial division reported $50,314 from Pontiac stores, bus-

$3,500 Is Donated by Coach Builder for United Fund

Leslie Hutchinson, Waterford industrial chairman for Pontiac area United Fund's 1953 campaign, pointed the way for fellow industrialists this fall with a $3,500 donation on behalf of Pontiac Coach Co.

Reports from other Waterford industries are expected soon as the United Fund drive enters its final week.

Hutchinson's gift, the largest from Waterford to date, was one of the first from his area to cross the desk at United Fund headquarters in Hotel Pontiac. This is the first year that Waterford has been included in the Pontiac Area United Fund campaign.

Halloween Fun Mapped for City

Begging, Mystery Treat Contest, Parties Slated for Tonight

"Begging" from 6 to 7 p. m., a mystery treat contest, elementary school parties and teen-age dances are scheduled for tonight's Halloween fun in Pontiac.

Students whose names are selected by drawing and are found at home by a specified time, will be awarded prizes. Senior high school students must be home by 10:45 p. m., junior high youths by 10:30 p. m. and elementary school children by 9 p. m.

Parties for elementary school students are planned from 7 to 8:15 p. m. at Owen, Whittier, Bagley, Hawthorne, Lincoln Junior and Baldwin schools.

Teen-age dance parties are scheduled at Washington Junior High School and the Lakeside Homes Community Center from 8 to 10 p. m., at Jefferson and Lincoln Junior Highs from 8:30 to 10 p. m. and at Wever Junior High from 7:45 to 9:45 p. m.

Cloudy and Cooler Forecast for Sunday

The U. S. Weather Bureau promises partly cloudy skies coupled with cooler temperatures for the Pontiac area tonight and Sunday.

The mercury is expected to drop to a low of 35 to 39 degrees tonight and rise to a high of from 52 to 56 on Sunday.

Temperatures recorded here Friday ranged from a low of 35 to a high of 67 degrees.

At 8 a. m. today the mercury registered 44, but by 2 p. m. in downtown Pontiac the reading was 67 degrees.

Interviews Find Only 21 of 459 Care to Return

Anti-Reds Persuaded to Attend Explanations but Bedlam Follows

PANMUNJOM (AP)—Long-defiant anti-Communist Korean War prisoners marched from their compounds today and with shouts, kicks and screaming curses overwhelmingly told Communist explainers they will not go back to Red rule.

Only 21 of 459 North Koreans elected to go back to the Communists, the Indian command said.

This is less than 5 per cent, slightly more than the 2 or 3 per cent of 921 Chinese who said they would return at earlier interviews.

There will be no explanations tomorrow. The repatriation commission will take its usual Sunday holiday.

Peiping radio complained that "special agents" let only prisoners considered "reliable" attend Saturday's explanations.

The Koreans came out peacefully to meet Red persuaders after two weeks of negotiations with Lt. Gen. K. S. Thimaya, Indian chairman of the Neutral Nations Repatriation Commission.

But once before the explainers, most of the POWs were anything but peaceful.

As many as four Indian guards were assigned to each prisoner, but frequently this wasn't enough.

One enraged prisoner broke free and hurled a folding chair into the faces of three smartly-uniformed explainers. All were slightly injured.

In at least two instances prisoners kicked over field tables used by the Communists.

Almost all of them screamed, shouted and spat at the Communist agents. They writhed and struggled in the tight grasps of Indian soldiers.

"You sons of dogs," the prisoners screamed.

"You traitors!"

"You want to make us dogs of the Russians."

"You Chinese foreign gooks!"

"We will come back and kill you all!"

Indian guards forced prisoners to listen to the explanations as long as the Reds wanted to talk—or until it became obvious that the issue was decided.

Swiss, Swedish, Polish and Czech observers were present at all interviews.

At one point the U.N. Command protested because Indian guards were using strongarm methods to hold prisoners in the interview tents. The UNC said that while the repatriation commission authorized the use of force to protect the explainers, some prisoners were Marathon Session Ends Six-Day N.Y. Milk Tie-Up

NEW YORK (AP)—Marathon negotiations today settled a six-day milk strike in the New York-New Jersey metropolitan area, bringing employes higher wages and the region's 12 millions the prospect of higher prices.

Dealers said huge tank trucks already were heading from country farms toward the milk-starved area with the fresh fluid milk. They said it should start coming out of processing plants for distribution to stores and homes at about 1 p.m.

Samuel J. Cohen, attorney for the AFL International Brotherhood of Teamsters, said the 200 companies involved in the dispute had granted a package increase amounting to about $8.50 a week. The attorney said the actual wage increase is $6.

The two-year contract also contains fringe benefits and other improvements, negotiators said.

Irving R. Wisch, chairman of the industry negotiating committee, said he does not believe the retail and wholesale prices of milk will increase "as much as one cent a quart" as a resul. of the dispute.

He said he "would guess offhand, without studying it, the price increase will be one-half a cent per quart wholesale and retail."

The agreement ending the strike of 13,000 drivers and plant workers was hammered out in a 13-hour, all-night session in city hall.

Company officials warned that the area, which normally uses five million quarts of milk a day, was completely dry.

They said that it therefore would be at least 24 hours before the firms can be operating at sufficient capacity to meet all demands.

The agreement announcement came after about 20 New Jersey milk dealers assembled here on receiving word from the union that contracts were about to be signed. They waited through the night while the regular union and company negotiating teams were at city hall, were the settlement was announced.

La Rosa-McGuire Affair Bringing Husband Home

NEW YORK (AP)—Sgt. John H. Brown said in Korea today that his wife's happiness will decide what action he'll take concerning her romance with singer Julius La Rosa.

Last night Brown's wife, Dorothy McGuire, said she was "shocked and disturbed" upon learning her husband was planning to come back from Korea.

La Rosa had said Miss McGuire separated amicably from Brown and that they would be married after resolving legal and religious obstacles. La Rosa is a Roman Catholic and Miss McGuire is not.

Brown, 25, a former divinity student at Anderson (Ind.) theological Seminary, said he learned from a radio broadcast that his wife was divorcing him to marry La Rosa. Shortly after he said, he received a letter from her.

"I love my wife dearly," Brown said through Army officers at his post at Taegu, "and I am most concerned for her happiness. At this time I haven't decided what action to take.

"However, I am hoping for a leave and if granted, I will see Miss McGuire, talk to her and then decide what to do. Whatever I decide will be for the benefit of my wife's happiness."

The Army said in Seoul his leave request would be processed as soon as possible.

Brown went to Korea last August after being recalled to military service.

Miss McGuire said she has

$1,250 Per Acre Offered by Birmingham Schools for Adams Triangle Land

From Our Birmingham Bureau

BIRMINGHAM — The Birmingham Board of Education took the first step in acquiring land in the triangle bounded by Adams, Buckingham and the Grand Trunk Railroad last night.

School attorney John Martz made a formal offer of $1,250 per acre for approximately 18 acres of the land owned by developer Arthur Nechman.

According to Supt. of Schools Dr. Dwight B. Ireland, the school board wants to add to the present elementary site they hold on the southeast corner of Derby and Adams, and provide a playground for Adams Junior High School.

"We need the land," Ireland stated, "and making this offer is our first step toward getting it. If we have to condemn it, then we will.

"While contractors build up the city furiously, it's my job to look after the welfare of our children," the superintendent added.

Nechman received the offer, but made no comment on its acceptability.

In other action, the school board awarded construction contracts totaling $250,053 for the addition to Franklin School. Building will begin in a week.

Original bids on the Franklin addition were pared $40,000 without loss of classroom space to bring the cost to the present figure, still above the $195,000 original estimate.

The total figure includes ventilators in one classroom and the library, as requested by the local PTA. Low bidders in each division of the job received the contracts.

Sewer Finish Eyed in 1955

Interceptor Would Take Sewage of Four Areas to Detroit Plants

BIRMINGHAM — Estimates on the completion time for an interceptor sewer up the Rouge River ranged into the fall in 1955 yesterday as representatives of Birmingham, Bloomfield Hills, Southfield and Bloomfield townships met with the State Water Resources Commission.

Representatives of the four units asked the commission for a time extension to decide whether to work together or separately in ending the pollution of the Rouge.

A $2,500,000 interceptor carrying sewage into the Detroit treatment plants would be the contemplated joint action.

The four units would use the additional time to gain the advice of legal and financial experts on ways of creating an authority to build the interceptor.

Birmingham and Bloomfield Hills were commended by the commission for their anti-pollution work. Birmingham has diverted half of its sewage into the Southeastern Oakland County Sewage Disposal District, cutting Rouge pollution. Bloomfield Hills has refused building permits for homes which would tie into existing "illegal" drains, and required septic tanks.

Simple Funeral Held for Quad

Van Alstine Infant Lived Only 38 Hours; Three Others 'Doing Fine'

LANSING (AP) — Simple, private funeral services marked the end of the brief life of the last-born of the much publicized Van Alstine quadruplets yesterday.

The mother, Mrs. Glenn W. Van Alstine, 33, was still in the maternity ward of the Edward W. Sparrow Hospital and could not attend.

The infant, who lived only 38 hours, was named John David Van Alstine after his death.

The three surviving quads, Ronald Rae, Donald Dee, and Ruth Anne were "doing fine" in their hospital incubator. The father, Glenn, 34-year-old automobile mechanic, and a few close family friends, attended the small white coffin when it was lowered into the grave.

The Rev. L. J. Koeninger, who baptized the quads and who married Mr. and Mrs. Van Alstine at a bedside wedding ceremony Thursday, read the brief funeral service.

Van Alstine, who recently divorced his first wife, obtained a waiver of the last three days of a six-month waiting period to marry the mother of the quads. The mother had been divorced from her first husband in 1944.

"I've been in love with her for more than a year," he explained. "If we hadn't had a little misunderstanding, we would have been married long ago."

Lincoln Heights Kiddies to Attend Halloween Party

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP—Lincoln Heights Subdivision's fourth consecutive Halloween party is expected to entertain some 250 youngsters tonight with a torch light parade, prizes for costumes, refreshments and a movie.

Trick or treat time is set for 6 to 7 p.m., with the parade at 7 p. m., led by members of the Waterford High School Band. The movie is scheduled for 8 p.m.

Committee for the party includes Vance Powers, Lorne Swartz, Vergie Meyers and William Salton.

Two Persons Hurt in Auto Collision

Two persons were injured yesterday when the autos in which they were riding collided at Elizabeth Lake Rd. and Roslyn St. in Waterford Township.

Jake Kelley, 16, of 140 Marian Ave., suffered head and face cuts, and Mrs. Margaret Carter, 24, of 115 Calgary St., Pontiac Township, was treated for leg bruises. Both were taken to Pontiac General Hospital for treatment.

The collision occurred when a car driven by Clifford C. Wedge, 21, of 229 Marian Ave., pulled out in front of an auto driven by Mrs. Carter's husband, Clifford C., 21, said Oakland County sheriff's deputies. Kelley was a passenger in the Wedge auto.

Adams, Pontiac Area United Fund executive director, following the annual Halloween party at Pontiac Boys' Club last night. William V. Coulacos, (right), executive director, said about 400 boys attended the costume affair. The money turned over to the United Fund was taken in at the non-profit party.

Goes to Hospital After 2nd Crash

Woman Who Was Hurt in March Auto Collision Is Victim Again

A White Lake Township woman, on her way to the hospital to have casts removed from limbs broken in an accident last March, was involved in another collision yesterday at Walton Blvd. and Silver Lake Rd. in Waterford Township, according to Oakland County sheriff's deputies.

Mrs. Delores Kelly, 19, of 9293 Highland Rd., was admitted to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital for X-rays and observation following the crash. She is reported in good condition today.

Mrs. Kelly was involved in an accident March 12 in which both legs, an arm and shoulder were broken. The casts were to be removed yesterday, according to the hospital.

The car in which Mrs. Kelly was riding yesterday, was driven by her husband, Bobby W., 19.

Kelly told deputies that an auto driven by John J. Huffman, 69, of 4120 Mapleleaf Rd., Pontiac Township, pulled out in front of him. Huffman said he thought he had time to drive across Walton Boulevard.

surgeon and United Nations delegate, to help analyze Communist techniques for wringing "confessions" from captured American fighting men.

This far-flung examination is directed at all aspects of the cases of 10 American ex-prisoners who repudiated "confessions" they said were made to fiend off starvation and brutality, as well as of the cases of five airmen who defied Communist pressure.

The idea that leading medical experts, like Dr. Mayo, should be asked to help the Pentagon analyze Red interrogation techniques has not been finally approved. It is still in the suggestion and study stage.

A Pentagon official, discussing the whole issue of Red interrogation techniques, told a reporter today the Defense Department wants to know what happens and under what conditions a man finally breaks down and "confesses."

The official, who preferred that his name not be used, said the Pentagon is "just a babe in the woods" in tackling the problem.

In each individual study of the cases, he said the Pentagon will seek to learn the answers to such things as:

1. How long were you subjected to Red pressure?
2. What form did the pressure take?
3. At what point did they succeed in crushing your resistance and force you to say what they ordered you to say?

Identity Cleared, Man Reinstated After Testimony

NEW YORK (AP)—A civilian employe at Fort Monmouth, N. J., suspended for security reasons, was reinstated yesterday when it was learned Senate probers had mistaken him for another man with an identical name who is a suspected Red.

Roy M. Cohn, chief counsel for the Senate Permanent Investigations Subcommittee, announced the reinstatement of the man after taking testimony in closing hearings. Cohn said the witnesses included the suspected man. None were identified by name.

Cohn said the man was suspended last October 22 and had been returned to duty.

"He was very pleased with the turn-about and so were we," Cohn said.

He added that reinstatement was made shortly after he conferred by telephone with Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.), subcommittee chairman who is on a speaking tour, and Secretary of the Army Robert T. Stevens.

Policeman Beaten Making an Arrest

A Pontiac Patrolman was beaten today in a scuffle with a man and woman at 172 South Boulevard West, after the officer arrived to investigate a disorderly complaint, according to Pontiac police.

Patrolman Harold Hayden, 25, was attacked, police said, by Lester Hardiman, 30, and Evelyn Appelwhite, 19, both of 195½ South Boulevard West when he tried to question them on disorderly complaints.

Hayden, who suffered head and face bruises, subdued Hardiman and Miss Appelwhite. A warrant is being sought for a by-stander who ignored Hayden's pleas for help.

Other patrolmen, summoned by radio, took Miss Appelwhite into custody on a disorderly charge, and will charge Hardiman similarly when he is released from Pontiac General Hospital.

Guilty of Grand Larceny, Man Placed on Probation

Donald J. Wells, 24, 3650 Phillips St., Berkley, was placed on two years probation, assessed $100 costs and ordered to make restitution by Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty Friday on a charge of grand larceny.

Wells pleaded guilty Oct. 9 to stealing $150 from a safe in the Royal Oak Greyhound Bus Terminal. A former employe, Wells said he knew the combination to the safe and stole the money after a drinking bout.

Two Sentenced Here on Breakin Charge

Two men who pleaded guilty Oct. 9 to breaking and entering in the night-time were placed on two years probation and assessed $150 costs each Friday by Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty.

Joseph N. Phillips, 26, of 1129 Myrtle St., and Robert E. Merrill, 19, of 758 Otter Rd., Keego Harbor, admitted breaking into a supply company at 2678 Orchard Lake Rd. on Sept. 19.

Wins $2,600 Award From Animal Shelter

An Oakland County Circuit Court jury awarded a Pontiac woman $2,600 in a $3,500 damage suit against the Oakland County Animal Welfare Shelter Thursday.

Mrs. Mary Craig of 2690 Pine Lake Dr. instituted the suit Jan. 16 claiming she had loaned the Shelter $2,516 in May, 1949, and was unable to get repayment of the loan.

Shelter officials, however, said the money had been donated by Mrs. Craig to make physical improvements at the Shelter.

The case was heard before Judge H. Russel Holland and the $2,600 award was to cover the original amount loaned by Mrs. Craig plus interest.

Jail Woman, 37, Who Still Has 2 of 5 Husbands

DETROIT (AP) — She's petite, brunette and 37, and she "likes men." She has married five.

Now she's in jail. Not for divorcing only three, which police say is so. But for false pretenses because police claim, she tried so hard to impress her intended No. 6, buying $595 worth of clothes on a credit card that wasn't her's.

"Now they'll probably throw the key away," says Mrs. Liggett Swank Bradshaw Pasiuk van Ostenbridge Boyd Caros. "But I still like men."

being dragged back after saying only that they wanted to "go south."

Some individual U.N. protests were ruled out of order by the Indian and NNRC representatives.

There was no immediate comment from Gen. Thimayya. However, he said last week that under his definition guards would not be resorting to force if they pushed or dragged a prisoner. He said the decision to use actual force would have to be made if guards were to seize a prisoner and fellow POWs started to attack.

Red China's Peiping radio acknowledged that the long-delayed explanation program was underway again. But the broadcasts added:

* * *

"Obviously now that the Syngman Rhee agents permit the prisoners to attend the explanations, they must have got words from their American masters and have prepared new tactics to wreck the explanation work."

* * *

Thimayya had scheduled the start of Saturday's interviews for 8 a.m. The prisoners were ready—singing and shouting in their compounds.

Only minutes after the first prisoners entered the interview tents it was clear the overwhelming majority would vote against going back to the Reds.

That the explanations were held at all represented a smashing personal triumph for Thimayya. He persuaded the violently anti-Communist Koreans to attend the interviews after their flat refusal had threatened to wreck the repatriation commission.

Defense Work Policy Revised

New Rules Will Govern Issuing of Contracts to Reduce Unemployment

WASHINGTON (AP) — Defense mobilization chief Arthur Flemming says a new government policy designed to channel defense work into areas with unemployment problems will be announced "in a week or 10 days."

The new policy, Flemming said last night "won't vary a great deal" from an earlier order suspended indefinitely some time ago for revision.

The old version set up a system of determining the extent of labor surplus in industrial areas. Firms from sections with a high rating of unemployment, if outbid on a defense contract, could take the contract away from an area with a lesser rating by matching the low bid.

First word of the impending new policy came from a delegation of CIO Electrical Workers from New England who met with Flemming today on unemployment problems.

William Nichols, of Lynn, Mass., spokesman for the delegation, told newsmen Flemming said the forthcoming order would provide new criteria for determining the extent of unemployment in an area.

Nichols said Flemming also indicated the new order would provide incentives for defense industries to locate in areas with labor surpluses.

Willman Honored by Home Town City Council

In a recent resolution the city council of Negaunee honored a native son, Pontiac City Manager Walter K. Willman, for his work in the municipal government field.

The resolution cited Willman's "great qualities of initiative, resourcefulness and leadership" during 31 years in municipal administration.

It also noted his recent election as vice president of the International City Manager's Association.

Willman was born in Negaunee, and attended public schools there. Negaunee is in the Upper Peninsula.

Peace Talk Plan Refused by Reds

Commies Suspicious of Flexible Agenda Aimed at Speeding Parley

PANMUNJOM (AP) — American Ambassador Arthur H. Dean today proposed a "flexible" agenda to speed up talks for arranging a Korean peace conference but the Communists immediately rejected it as "sleight of hand."

The diplomats debated an hour and three minutes, got nowhere for the sixth straight day and called it quits until Monday.

Dean told newsmen he was not depressed over the lack of headway in his week of talks with the Communists to set up the Korean peace parley.

He said he still feels the Reds want the conference and "It is not surprising that it has taken us some time to get shaken down on a working basis."

* * *

Dean proposed a "flexible or unnumbered agenda" under which the negotiators could skip around among various problems that must be settled before the political conference can convene.

The American envoy's plan would allow the diplomats to sidestep tough issues, settle easy matters and then come back to those still unsolved.

Dean is speaking for the United States, South Korea and the 15 other United Nations members which put troops on the battlefield in Korea. He has urged the Reds all week to talk first on the matter of fixing a time and place for the conference.

* * *

But the Communists have countered with demands that the delegates first decide who should attend the conference. The U.N. Assembly has decreed that only the belligerents may attend plus Russia, if she is invited by the Communists to sit with them. The Reds want to invite Russia as a neutral in addition to such Asian neutrals as India, Pakistan, Burma and Indonesia.

The week ahead may be decisive in these preliminary talks for the political conference.

Dean, when he was sent to Korea by Secretary of State Dulles to arrange for the parley, said he would allow about 10 days to two weeks to see if the Communists sincerely want to make progress toward setting up the conference.

The new aircraft were considered by air officials to give the U. S. a commanding lead in the global race for jet supremacy.

Suit Attempts Block of Seaway Project

WASHINGTON (AP)—A law suit, with similar ones expected to follow, was filed in the U. S. Court of Appeals yesterday in a move aimed at blocking New York State participation in a St. Lawrence River power project.

The project is considered a necessary preliminary to a St. Lawrence seaway.

The suit yesterday asked the court to set aside a license granted New York by the Federal Power Commission to join with Canada in the 600 million dollar project. The petition was filed by the Lake Ontario Land Development and Beach Protective Assn.

It was understood further court actions to halt the project would be brought by either the Public Power and Water Corp., Trenton, N. J., or the Pennsylvania Coal Producers Assn.

NEWSPAPERS

J. L. VOORHEES

I tried to imagine myself living without a newspaper; it was like floating around in a vacuum. We, as a people, are gregarious. Our lives are so closely associated with news, local, national and foreign, that to be deprived of it is unthinkable. Again, I tried to imagine myself in a place where all news is "colored" to suit a political party. That was like living in a lightless dungeon.

M. E. SIPLE

When we pick up ours newspaper we are factually informed about conditions, people, their affairs, exactly as they were, everywhere in the world. Next to news comes advertising; it is as much a part of our daily existence and controls our thinking and way of life far more than anything else.

Newspapers are as much a part of our lives as beans, electricity and water.

A Worthwhile Experiment

First results in the "off the record" court established by the Oakland County Prosecutor's office suggest it may prove an effective means of curbing crime among 17 to 19 year olds.

Aim of the experiment is to impress on offenders, too old for juvenile court, the seriousness of their misconduct. Accompanied by their parents they are brought to trial where they are confronted by arresting officers, complainants, witnesses and a prosecuting attorney.

Procedure, however, differs from that of other courts in that no record is kept of the offense or evidence. Also, if found guilty, the youngsters are placed on probation instead of being sentenced to some corrective institution.

In discussing the new court, County Prosecutor Ziem pointed out that it in no way interferes with the work of the juvenile court. He added that its chief aim is to give youthful offenders a second chance without the handicap of a police record.

It is too early yet for any conclusion as to the value of this procedure. Yet Prosecutor Ziem considers first results justify continuance of the experiment, and his Chief Assistant George F. Taylor calls them heartening.

Regardless of the ultimate finding, these two officials deserve credit for pioneering a new approach to this aspect of the crime problem.

Port Huron Likes It

Since the Board of Commerce safety committee has recommended test of the plan here, Port Huron's experience with the Denver system of traffic control is of special interest.

Our neighbor city has had the plan in operation for several weeks at its main downtown intersection of Military and Water Streets. Traffic lights there halt all vehicular traffic for 19 seconds permitting pedestrians to cross in any direction they choose.

North and south bound cars then move on green and amber lights for 35 seconds. During the next 26 seconds of the 80 second cycle, east and west bound vehicular traffic takes over.

A Port Huron dispatch says the arrangement eliminates bottlenecks caused by pedestrians and right turning cars all moving on the same green light. It also quotes City Manager Gibbs as declaring the system works so well that it may be made permanent.

★ ★ ★

Though this system is new in Michigan, Port Huron has found as have other cities in the country, that it not only speeds the movement of traffic but increases safety.

Economic Realism

A Washington dispatch shows some opinions being gathered by a Presidential commission strongly support Administration proposals for lowering tariffs to stimulate world trade.

Among those testifying before the 17 man group headed by Clarence B. Randall were George L. Meany and Allan B. Kline, presidents of the Nation's largest labor and farm organizations.

In his statement the AFL chief pointed out that 3,000,000 Americans depend on exports for their livelihood. Of these, he said, 2,000,000 are in industry, transportation and trade and 1,000,000 in agriculture. He branded as "sheer nonsense" the claim that jobs of four or five million workers might be endangered by competitive imports.

★ ★ ★

Mr. Kline, who heads the American Farm Bureau Federation, urged that trade easing agreements be sought as a means of combatting the decline of farm prices.

Both leaders urged that offers to cut tariffs be used to increase our Government's bargaining power and that other barriers to international trade also be attacked.

Pointing to the shrinkage of our export trade, Meany warned that if this process isn't checked "our business and employment activity will be hard hit."

Kline declared the decline has started "a spiral of developments including large surpluses, falling farm prices, reduced farm income and drastic production controls." This he called sufficient reason to seek correction of conditions out of which the situation has arisen.

On the Randall Commission report, due next Spring, will depend the final form of the Administration's trade program. It is good to know that before writing it the commission is hearing all sides of the question, including the economic realism in the views of men like Messrs. Meany and Kline.

"It is estimated that the U. S. will have a population of 200 million by 1975," says a Federal official. If in the meantime World War III breaks out and hydrogen bombs are used, this estimate may prove to be too large by 200 million.

All the big Nations of the world insist they want peace, and yet all of them are feverishly preparing for war. The man from Mars says those who want peace should prepare for peace.

The People's Business

Salute to Lobbyist

Late Bob Poe Represented New, Quiet CIO Technique

By JACK I. GREEN

LANSING—This is by way of being a small tribute to Bob Poe, a lobbyist and labor organizer, who died Friday.

Lobbyists seldom get many flowery public eulogies. Neither do labor organizers. When you combine the two you have an almost unsurmountable obstacle to great displays of public sorrow.

But Bob Poe will not only be missed in labor circles, he will be missed at the Capitol, in the Legislature, in the hotel rooms where the lobbyists for big business and farmers and professional men get together.

If you can judge a man by the respect he received in his own profession, then we can say Bob Poe was respected.

He must have been respected in the ranks of the United Auto Workers and the CIO or he wouldn't have been promoted to legislative front man for the CIO.

Certainly, he was respected by the lobbyists who often worked against him in the legislative pulling and hauling over labor-management legislation.

Robert L. Poe represented the new type of labor union official, even though he was old in the ranks of labor. He was quiet, unassuming, honest, gentle and astute. If he ever climbed on a soap box it was only in the basement at home to reach something off the top shelf.

He did not do as some labor men when they are promoted—become lickspittles for the men who wear tailored suits. If you made an anti-labor crack in his presence, he looked you coldly in the eye and spit a rebuttal past his dead cigar. He loved to needle a business lobbyist caught in some inconsistency.

But always he worked quietly and with reason, not emotion, to further the cause of labor.

Organized labor has had many agents under the Capitol dome. Some have done more harm than good.

Old John Reid, lobbyist for the Michigan Federation of Labor for ages, probably did more for the working man, legislatively speaking, than any man. He plugged at it long before the CIO was ever heard of, through the long winter of low labor strength.

But with the rise of the UAW and the CIO, Lansing saw a new kind of labor lobbyist. These were most interesting and foolish men.

To small town and farmer legislators who believed every labor official had a bomb in his pocket and a round-trip ticket to Moscow, the first CIO lobbyists were walking examples of that belief.

Their favorite technique when they wanted something done in the Legislature was to import a horde of factory workers to swarm through the House and Senate and belabor suspicious lawmakers. All this ever did, of course, was to make the legislators angry.

The early CIO lobbyists usually ended up by gumming the works for their more experienced AFL brothers.

But in recent years, the CIO and the UAW appear to have gotten over the idea they can bully their way through. Thus we have the appearance of men like Bob Poe.

The Capitol hopes that the CIO will send a successor of the same character and qualifications as Poe because most legislators are interested, too, in a sane, sensible approach to labor issues underneath the catcalling of public politics.

In fact, some already are suggesting the name of Rep. Ed Carey, Detroit Democrat, as an ideal labor representative in the Capitol.

They note that the realignment of Detroit House districts under the next reapportionment probably will cost Carey his seat—and they think he would be an ideal front man for the mass production workers.

Says La Rosa Signed No Contract With Godfrey; Has Every Right to Forge Ahead

(Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests, unless the letter is critical in its nature).

Milton Berle will quip, "You can be replaced, you know," when one of his cast threatens to overshadow him temporarily in the spotlight.

Unlike Berle, Godfrey was dead serious when he put it into practice by firing a young man who has every right in the world to forge ahead if God has endowed him with the ability to do so.

It is my opinion that Godfrey himself has become so used to being called cute when he pulls his corny jokes that he, and not La Rosa has become swell headed.

He speaks of his cast as being a big, happy family, but a family that he must dominate like a tyrannical father, a family that is happy only so long as it is humble and submissive in the presence of the great master.

He objected first to La Rosa's personal life and then to his hiring a lawyer. According to all accounts he was working La Rosa without a contract, which meant that La Rosa was forced to work for whatever Godfrey wanted to pay him and if he complained about it he could have been let go on a minute's notice. So he is fired because he seeks advice.

Just how unfair can one man get?

American Youth Urges City to Give Clothing

I wonder how many people actually know what conditions this world is in because of the terrible wars. Countless people are freezing to death from lack of proper clothing and shelter.

The United States is considered the leading nation of the world. We do not have this vast amount of suffering here. Many cannot understand why we participate in these wars, giving lives, effort, time and money defending other countries. But I believe we have to do this in order to prevent a World War III and to prevent Communism from gaining control of our freedom.

Communism, as Whittaker Chambers so aptly put it, is faith in man, while freedom is faith in God.

This Halloween, many young people of several churches of Pontiac are going around to the homes in this city to collect clothing for the European needy.

I am asking the people of Pontiac to acknowledge their citizenship to the United States and help these young people. I am merely requesting that they give to them any good clothing that they do not need.

Remember, if we don't fight Communism, it will soon rule the world!

Days of All Faiths

Holy Day Will Be Observed Sunday With Emphasis on Communion of Saints

By CANON HOWARD HARPER

Since humility is one of the chief Christian virtues it stands to reason that there would be many great Christians whose very saintliness kept them unknown.

The church had thoughts of this by the time Christianity was only three centuries old, and was honoring its forgotten saints on the Sunday after Pentecost (late May or early June). The day was called "All Martyrs."

In 731 Pope Gregory III changed the day to Nov. 1 and the name to All Saints Day.

More and more Protestant churches are reviving the observance of the day, with its emphasis on a Christian doctrine: the Communion of the Saints, which states that in Christ the living and the dead are united in one fellowship, that all Christians, past and present, are "members one of another."

On the 31st of October, 1517, a German monk named Martin Luther nailed a piece of paper on the door of a church in the college town of Wittenberg and started one of history's greatest upheavals.

Protestant churches now keep the anniversary of that event on the Sunday nearest Oct. 31. It is called Reformation Sunday.

Luther, whose simple act changed human history, did not know he was starting the Protestant Reformation.

All he was looking for was a good rousing debate on some theological matters. It was the custom for a man who wanted an argument to state his position in writing and post it on the church door.

The door of any village church was a sort of municipal bulletin board. If anyone wanted a debate he put up a notice stating his subject and signified that he was willing to take on all comers. Debates in those days were almost like entertainment.

This was the eve of All Saints Day, in 1517. The town would be swollen with pilgrims to go to Mass on the great feast day. Luther wanted to be sure not only of a good opponent but also of a large audience for the debate.

What Luther had nailed on the door were his now-famous "Ninety-five Theses" — 95 points on which he found that he disagreed with the Church of Rome.

The main content of the statements was that Christianity is a direct relationship between God and the individual Christian, and that there is no need and no place for an authoritative church.

The amazing thing was that nobody wanted to argue. Luther discovered to his great surprise that he had merely formulated in writing what thousands of people had apparently been vaguely feeling.

The news spread from Wittenberg to all Germany and then to the rest of Europe. Within a few months the Protestant Reformation, the greatest revolutionary force in the history of Western thought, was in full swing.

Nov. 2. Jews, particularly those in the new country of Israeli, will observe Balfour Declaration Day, in memory of a turning point in modern Jewish history.

On Nov. 2, 1917, Arthur J. Balfour, who was at that time British Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, wrote in a letter to Lord Rothschild that the British government "views with favor the establishment in Palestine of a national home for the Jewish people."

This definite commitment of the British government to the age-old hope of Jewish nationalists was of such great importance that the day on which it was made has been kept as a semi-holiday ever since.

Case Records of a Psychologist

Audience Participation Develops Much Interest

Melvin has a livewire Sunday school class. Such Sunday school teachers deserve great credit for trying to reduce abstract morality to the everyday choices between right and wrong. So use the "Case Method." Also, employ objective written quizzes, such as true-false, four-answer type, etc.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case J-330: Melvin H., aged 32, is a livewire Sunday school teacher.

"Dr. Crane, I used to be a worry wart about my health," he said with a smile.

"But my wife talked me into taking a Sunday school class of high schoolers, and now I never have time to think of my aches or pains.

"But what I'd like to know is how to pep up interest in the actual lesson at hand each Sunday.

"The young folks talk too much about school events and basketball games, but don't get down to our actual lesson."

Prepare true-false statements about the lesson. Or give them 4-answer problems, such as:

"The prophet who was thrown into a well, was Samuel-Jeremiah-Elijah-Isaiah."

Or prepare matching problems where they match characters and events pertaining thereto, of Biblical men and their wives, etc.

Since people are rather hesitant about revealing their ignorance, they will seldom show much enthusiasm about such tests unless you first place them on teams.

So put three or four on a team and then let them pool their knowledge. This divides any stigma for low scores, since all the group on the team are involved.

Moreover, it is helpful to let a few of the young people be responsible for developing the questions on next week's lesson.

Then find somebody who has access to a typewriter and type enough carbon copies of your test to go around. This added chore can also be farmed out to a couple of the students.

Remember, the more "audience-participation" you can develop, the more the students will enjoy the class, and the greater will be the benefit therefrom:

Also, modernize your class lessons by employing currect practical experiments in morality

For instance, assign them the "Compliment Club." Let them pay their 3 compliments per day and then report on the following Sunday.

Compliments are simply the Golden Rule carried into immediate action wherever you are, so it is an ideal church project.

Use other bulletins which this newspaper offers via this column, such as the "Test for Sweethearts." For they show the good traits of character that produce popularity, friendship and even ultimate romance.

Whenever possible, pick actual situations from everyday life, and let your group analyze them. Let the students dissect such current behavior of young Americans and point out what is wrong and what corrections should be made.

For example, take the case of a visiting football squad which filled its luggage with towels, dresser scarfs, etc., from the hotel. The coach learned of this fact before they left the hotel. What should he do?

And discuss what prompted those high school football players to stuff such towels and scarfs, bath mats, etc., into their luggage.

Use this Case Method whenever possible to bring morality down to the practical, everyday plane.

And send for my bulletin "How to Pep Up Sunday School," enclosing a stamped, return envelope, plus a dime.

See where our old war-mate Churchill is going to get the Nobel Prize for wise-cracks on the spur of the extingency.

When Winsome said we will fight on the streets, in the streets, in the hills, on the seashore and in the valleys, we remarked it sounded like an English couple on a bank holiday.

His blood, sweat and tears were a national broth. With everybody getting more helpings than Oliver Twist.

There wasn't a crisis Winnie couldn't condense into a snapper in a bon-bon.

He held England together by the ears until we got there in 1917 and 1942.

Writer Brings Up Her Kids Brady Way, Says They Seldom Have Common CRI

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

Call It CRI

Our kids have wet feet as almost an everyday experience but seldom catch any of the "colds" that are prevalent in the neighborhood. We let them wear or leave off whatever they please in any weather. We are bringing them up the Brady way. You see, Doctor, your teachings do not fall on deaf ears . . . (C. R.)

Answer — So far, so good. If you haven't a copy of No. 5 Little Lesson, Call It CRI, I'd like to send you one with my compliments. Other readers send 25 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope for the booklet, which deals with the Common Respiratory Infections which are altogether too prevalent in most neighborhoods and make three-fourths of the work of physicians.

Sugar Is Sugar

Further corroborate your statement that it makes no difference whether beet sugar or cane sugar is used for canning, cooking or table, as here in the sugar beet country (Michigan) we use beet sugar almost exclusively for making pickles, jams, jellies, etc. (Mrs. S. S.)

Answer — Yes, sugar is sugar, whether it's beet sugar, cane sugar, honey, glucose, maltose, fruit sugar, corn sugar, molasses, syrup, raw, brown, refined, white, 65 cents a pound or 8½ cents a pound. That is, to intelligent people.

Deafness and Head Noises

Please send me the pamphlet describing the exercises for deafness and head noises. Roaring in ears now for over a year . . . (S. W.)

Answer — For pamphlet Deafness and Tinnitus (head noises) send stamped, self-addressed envelope. Ask for it in writing and sign your request. A clipping will not suffice.

Preparing for Paternity

My husband, poor boy, expects to become a father some time in April. I'd like to start him out right. I mean educate him so he won't worry too much about the "throes" and all that . . . (Mrs. A. L. S.)

Answer — All very well for you to be facetious about it — you will not be thrust into the monkey cage with the others waiting there, nor treated as a stooge by the nurses and the doctor (if a doctor happens to be around when the baby is born). Send 25 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope for No. 4 Little Lesson, Preparing for Maternity, which contains chapters for the prospective father. Ideally, everything you study your husband should study along with you. When you visit the doctor your husband should be with you to listen and see that the doctor's advice and instructions are carried out. When you are bearing the baby your husband should be beside you — if he is a man and not a nincompoop.

As a Boy

I am 60 I can somersault the way I did as a boy but don't know whether that is the way you do . . . (C. A. E)

Answer — As a boy I turned airsprings — which, I think, is what Webster calls somersaults. On a bet I think I could still do so. But I do not advise anybody to try it. The somersaults I roll every morning (or at any time I'm struck for an idea or annoyed) may be otherwise called "forward rolls." Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for pamphlet Somersaults.

Not at Five

Took my five-year-old to the doctor for advice or treatment. He said that it is common for children at that age to wet the bed. Friends say yes, perhaps occasionally, but not every night . . . (Mrs. W. R. P.)

Answer — Send stamped, self-addressed envelope and ask in writing (clipping will bring no reply) for pamphlet The Bed-wetting Habit.

Yogurt

Please discuss the merits of yogurt. (H. A. C.)

Answer — To the best of my knowledge the merits are the same as the merits of sour milk, buttermilk, Bulgarian milk, Acidophilus milk, curdled milk, fresh milk, skim milk, separator milk, evaporated milk, condensed milk, powdered milk. You pay your money and take your choice.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. Brady if a stamped, self addressed envelope is enclosed, etc.

Faculty Backs School Board on Teacher's Ouster

Clarkston Staff States Approval

Educator to Face U. S. Congressional Probe on Red Affiliation

CLARKSTON — Members of the Clarkston Community schools' teaching staff met Friday evening to make a public statement in regard to the resignation of their former Teachers' Club president, George Miller.

Miller, a social studies teacher in the Clarkston junior high grades, resigned at the request of the Clarkston Board of Education last Friday. The request was made following Miller's alleged admission that he was once a "card carrying Communist."

He denied to the Pontiac Press that he had ever made such an admission saying that he "was not now nor ever had been a Communist.

"I was associated with the Progressive Party in Arizona, but have had no political activity in Michigan," he said. Miller came to Clarkston three years ago from Phoenix, Arizona.

He was elected president of the club, a division of the Michigan Education Association, this fall.

His fellow members made the following statement: "This came as a great shock as we had high regard for Mr. Miller. However, since there is a question of doubt as to his loyalty, we feel that the board of education and our Superintendent, Leslie F. Greene, acted fairly, wisely and in good faith."

Miller was served with a subpoena this week to appear before the UnAmerican Activities Committee hearings in January.

Investigation by the State Police in September set off a series of meetings with Miller, police detectives and Superintendent Greene. According to Board of Education reports, Miller refused to repudiate the Communist party or to reveal those with whom he was associated.

Dr. Albert Phillips, executive secretary of the MEA in Lansing and his assistant, Dr. Dale Kennedy, when interviewed by the Press on Friday said that the MEA had a specific "plank in its program which covered such cases."

"First, we make an investigation. If a person is convicted of activity in a subversive movement, his membership card is lifted immediately from our roster," declared Dr. Kennedy.

Dr. Phillips, pointing out the wording of the policy, said, "We expel or bar from membership in the MEA any educator who is proved to be a member of a subversive group and who is guilty of gross violation of professional ethics."

Miller said that this "command appearance before the congressional committee," would finish him as a teacher.

"I will just have to go into some other business," he said.

He is planning to leave for his home in Arizona within a few days, but said he would return voluntarily for the January hearings.

Vote on Hike in School Levy

Royal Oak Voters Get Proposal for Two Mill Operating Tax Raise

ROYAL OAK — A proposal for a two mill increase in the school operating tax will be decided on by voters in the school district here Monday.

It calls for the three mill tax which expires this year to be raised to five mills and extend over a period of five years.

Under the proposal the five mills would raise $2,750,000 and provide for shrinking school income and rising school costs.

With the three mill operating tax which expires this year, the present tax rate is $12.50. Extending the tax of three mills and adding an additional two mills for operating tax would bring the rate to $14.50 per $1,000 of assessed valuation.

Rise in Cattle Prices Reported

2 GOP Senators Say Quotations of Best Beef to Equal Last Year

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two Republican senators said today they saw signs of improvement in cattle prices, currently a major cause of farmer discontent.

Sen. Schoeppel (R-Kan) said the rise he noted came despite what he called "a nationwide political smoke screen designed to embarrass the administration and keep (beef) prices low for political advantage."

* * *

Chairman Aiken (R-Vt) of the Senate Agriculture Committee predicted that prices for the best grades of beef will "average about the same as last year." He also criticized the recent "cattlemen's caravan" which came to Washington seeking high-level government price supports for beef.

Aiken said in an interview the caravan "was overdone . . . an attempt to dramatize that was overdramatized." He said Secretary of Agriculture Benson, who conferred with the cattlemen without making any commitments, handled the situation "in an admirable manner."

* * *

Aiken said prices for the best grades of beef "recently have improved at Chicago and other Midwest markets."

Schoeppel said in a statement the price of canner and cutter grade cattle rose $1 to $2.25 per 100 pounds at five major markets between Oct. 15 and 17.

The Agriculture Department yesterday published figures showing that between mid-September and mid-October, prices farmers received for their products again dropped more than prices they paid, tightening the economic squeeze of which they have been complaining.

4 Vie for Two Posts at Huntington Woods

HUNTINGTON WOODS — Four candidates will be seeking two places on the City Commission for two-year terms in the election here Tuesday.

Douglas H. McIntosh, who has completed two years on the commission, is a candidate for re-election. J. Nelson Brown, appointed to fill a vacancy in July, is also an incumbent seeking re-election.

Opposing them will be James Taylor and Oscar Gorelick.

8 A. M. Service Slated for Christ Lutheran

WATERFORD—The Rev. Aryid E. Anderson announced that he will conduct a Holy Communion service at Christ Lutheran Church here tomorrow at 8 a.m. as well as the regular 11 a.m. service.

Topic for both services will be "A Lamp Without a Flicker." Rev. Anderson also announced that those in the adult instruction class wishing to join the church may do so Dec. 13.

Romeo Moves Toward Solving School Problem

ROMEO—The first major step to alleviate crowded classroom conditions in Romeo Community School District was taken this week at a special school board meeting. The board unanimously agreed to conduct a survey of the district.

Dr. Gerald W. Boicourt, assistant professor of administration, and organization at Wayne University's College of Education, was authorized to make the survey by the board. He will begin Tuesday with a conference with Supt. T. C. Flippula.

The board announced its intention to hold a public meeting as soon as the survey is complete to acquaint voters with its findings.

Boicourt told the board that he would study the educational program desired, check existing buildings, take population of the area into consideration and study financial aspects of the situation.

School Board President L. W. Rickett proposed a plan which, he said, would not raise the present millage since the expansion program would be covered by the two mills coming off this year and by the six scheduled to be taken off in 1956.

The overall long range expansion proposed might also be financed in one bond issue, he disclosed.

Attorneys are scheduled to study the plan.

The board will convene again Tuesday at 8 p.m. at the high school for further discussion of the expansion program.

Also realizing the need for additional classrooms were 100 parishoners of St. Clement Church who attended a special meeting at the church this week to support a program to raise $60,000 for a four-room addition to the parish school.

The Rev. Fr. John McMillan, pastor, stated that the addition would serve needs for possibly the next five years.

Heart-Shaped Cake Honors 90th Birthday

METAMORA — —Mrs. George Blood, 90 years old tomorrow, was honored with a heart-shaped anniversary cake at a meeting of Past Matrons Club Wednesday in the home of Mrs. Edward Dubey Sr.

A potluck dinner was served. Mrs. Blood was also presented a plant.

Mrs. Oliver Moses was re-elected president of the club, Mrs. Dubey was elected vice-president and Miss Maude Martin was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

Postal Branch to Open Nov. 16

Pontiac to Direct Office at Union Lake Managed by Charles Crandell

UNION LAKE — A new Union Lake Contract Branch of the Pontiac Postoffice will begin functioning Nov. 16 at 1519 Union Lake Rd. in a store owned by Charles L. Crandell, who will act as manager.

Pontiac Postmaster Leslie H. Dean said the branch would give money order and registered letter service and sell stamps and other postal supplies.

The area also receives some rural delivery from Milford and Walled Lake, Dean said. The Pontiac Postoffice changed from rural to mounted delivery in the Union Lake region on March 1, 1952, he added.

Rural delivery includes money order and registered letter service, Dean explained, but these services are not included under mounted delivery.

"The new branch should serve between 4,000 and 5,000 persons," he said, "besides restoring services lost when rural delivery was discontinued and making postal supplies more easily available."

MAINTAINING and improving the quality of its products is the most highly emphasized activity of this cooperative milk marketing association.

For thirty-seven successful years the Michigan Milk Producers Association has carried on an intensive quality control program in the belief that it provides its members the maximum of protection in holding and expanding their markets.

The Quality Control Department is adequately manned by competent technicians who are provided with the most modern, approved equipment for both field and laboratory work. The illustration above shows a section of the splendid facilities in which the members of this organization have invested at their Imlay City, Michigan, manufacturing plant. Such a laboratory is available to the dairy farmer only through the means of a cooperative organization spreading the cost among thousands of members.

4 Commission Seats at Stake

Annex Proposal on Ballot for Royal Oak Election

ROYAL OAK—A proposal to annex a portion of Royal Oak Township bordering the city on the east will be put before voters in an election here Tuesday.

Two candidates for mayor and 19 for four seats on the city commission as well as three proposed amendments to the city charter will also be on the ballot.

The annexation proposal must carry a majority vote in both the city and the affected area.

The area is a two-mile strip, one a half mile wide, lying between Twelve and Fourteen Mile roads and bounded by Campbell road and the center line of Stephenson highway.

Three proposed charter amendments call for revisions in the employe retirement plan, changing the meeting time of the board of review and a compilation of city ordinances.

Youth is in the majority among candidates for city posts. Commissioner Howard K. Kelley, 34-year-old attorney, is opposed in the mayorality election by Franklin Lashmet, 27-year-old machine tool designer, a newcomer in city politics.

Kelley has served six years on the City Commission. He was first appointed to fill a vacancy and has since been elected to a four-year term.

Among three candidates for the two-year term on the commission is Ellery Laidlaw, incumbent who was appointed to fill the vacancy on the death of Evert Bangham. The others are Lawrence B. Copley and Miss Elizabeth Pike.

Candidates for three four-year terms are George A. Jones, Wallace Gabler, James Hartrick, Grant J. Maudlin, William B. Caverly, John H. Hengel, Charles E. Stone Jr., John C. Donovan, Samuel R. Molinaro, John B. Osgood, Robert C. Sharrard, Lewis E. Worthen Jr., Louis A. Demute, John L. King, Robert B. Parsons, planning commission member, and Joseph M. Seibert, former city commissioner.

Plan Dedication of Tabernacle

Ferndale Church Now Affiliated With Pilgrim Holiness Denomination

FERNDALE—The Pilgrim Tabernacle, formerly known as the Metropolitan Holiness Tabernacle, will be dedicated here officially tomorrow at special ceremonies.

The Rev. Ernest Thomas, pastor and founder of the church, announced that the tabernacle is affiliated with Pilgrim Holiness Church of America of which he and Mrs. Thomas have been members for 14 years.

The denomination numbers some 1,000 churches in this country and 300 in 25 foreign countries.

Dr. L. W. Sturk, general superintendent of the church, will be speaker at the dedication service at 2:30 p. m. He will also speak at a 7:30 service.

A special Sunday school rally will be held at 10 a. m. Dr. W. L. Surbrook, president of the Owosso Bible College, will address the congregation at an 11 a. m. service.

A brother of the Rev. Mr. Thomas, the Rev. Daniel Thomas of Elkland, Pa., will also take part in the services.

The Rev. Mr. Thomas, a 1937 graduate of Lincoln High School, began work here after seven years of evangelism among 22 nations. The present building, West Nine Mile Rd. at Hyland, was built in 1950 and 1951.

Lutherans May Have Cracked Color Ban

By Religious News Service

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Refusal of Lutheran pastors in the nation's capital to permit the national premiere of the film "Martin Luther" to be held here last summer if members of colored races were barred from attending may have helped crack the century-old "color bar" in Washington's amusement places.

The premiere was not held in Washington but in New York City instead. When film opened its run here recently it was not at a large downtown theater, but in a small uptown movie house, the Dupont, which in 1947 pioneered in opening its doors to members of all races.

Sees Sunday Schools Fighting Communism

By Religious News Service

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. — The Sunday school was pictured as possibly the "last stand against Godless Communism and the total disintegration of our nation" in an address opening the eighth annual convention of the National Sunday School Association.

Dr. A. L. Brown, Winona Lake, Ind., retiring president of the association, compared the current national situation with the fear of disaster which he said motivated Noah "to begin preparing the ark 120 years before the flood."

"There are many fears settling upon the American people and the Sunday schools of the nation well might be the ark that will ward off national disaster," declared Dr. Brown, who is general secretary of the Sunday school department of the Free Methodist Church of North America.

"There are 25 million people going to Sunday school, but there are another 25 million people—all under the age of 23—who have no religious instruction whatever.

Creative Thinking Releases Person's Hidden Powers

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

You can think yourself out of any failure, even out of apparently hopeless situations. Take the story of Roger Babson, financial expert.

DR. PEALE

At the turn of the century, he was a young man in his early 20s. He became ill and failed to improve. When he queried his doctors, he was told he had only a bad cold.

But, as his illness persisted, he demanded the truth and was finally told, in the hush-hush manner of those days, that he had TB. Tuberculosis, at that time, was considered a devastating and almost unmentionable disease.

Babson was told that his only chance of healing was to go to the mountains and breathe fresh air. So he went out West and stayed in a hotel where everyone suffered from the same disease and it was the only subject of conversation. An unhealthy atmosphere of this kind only depressed the young man.

"We have fresh air back home," he told himself, "and there I will not have to listen to negative and defeatist talk; so I'm going back to my house in Massachusetts."

"I don't intend to die," he said to himself. He began to visualize himself as a well man. That was a great act of faith, especially with Babson's unhealthy lungs, but it led to some healthy and creative thinking; and such thinking sets creative and life-stimulating forces in motion.

Before becoming ill, the young man had worked for a brokerage house, writing various business and financial reports for its clients. Thinking positive thoughts while he lay in bed, the idea came that every bank and brokerage house needed someone to write these reports. "Wouldn't it be a good idea," he thought, "if someone could supply such reports so that the clerks could be used for other duties?"

He followed up this creative thought with action. He sent letters to a group of banks announcing that he could supply such a service and soon found himself with several customers. He hired a secretary who sat outdoors in the bitter cold with him muffled up in coats and mittens, and to her dictated his reports.

Thus in thinking constructively and in building up a new business, he was forgetting his illness. This together with the application of other sound laws of health, helped to create Babson's reports and build a notable career.

The creative thinking he applied while in bed built a great business for thousands of clients from which he was able to go on to found Babson Institute. Gradually he became completely healed. He gives constructive prayer and a helpful wife the credit.

Most of us need to step up our ability to think and pray creatively, and refuse to accept failure even in a difficult situation. Roger Babson took a positive, creative attitude toward his illness and achieved his success as a result.

Creative thinking is healthy thinking. And healthy thinking can help you enjoy healthy feeling. Positive thinking releases our hidden powers so that no matter how many difficulties you face you always have the potential ability to overcome them.

So many people complain: "I can't do it; I haven't got it in me." They're talking nonsense. They have in them just what they think they have. If you can think you can, you can.

Form and hold mental images of yourself as competent, capable, likable, healthy. Hold a picture of whatever you want. Images formed and held in this way tend to develop if you put them into action.

If you think in this way—and pray for God's guidance and help—you can make of your life anything in this way — and pray for God's guidance and help — you can make of your life anything you you really deserve to be.

Steel Company Places Chaplain on Its Payroll

By Religious News Service

LITTLE ROCK, Ark.—Spreading of the industrial chaplaincy idea in the Southwest was evidenced here with the announcement that the Rev. James W. Workman, local Methodist minister, has been named chaplain of a steel plant in Lone Star, Texas.

Dr. Workman, pastor of a North Little Rock church and chaplain of the Veterans Hospital here, said he has been "put on the payroll" of the Lone Star Steel Co. to be available for consultations with its workers, help them contact area churches, and to conduct Protestant services in a chapel to be built on the company grounds.

He said the chapel also will contain appropriate altars for Roman Catholic and Jewish services which are to be conducted by members of those faiths.

Says Alcoholic Beverage Use at All Time High

WASHINGTON, D. C.—American consumption of alcoholic beverages reached an all-time high in 1952, the National Temperance League reported here.

The consumption amounted to 18.86 gallons per capita, the temperance group said, about one pint per person higher than the previous record set in 1951.

Compiled from statistics on tax collections, the consumption was estimated at 131 pints of beer, seven pints of wine, and approximately six "fifths" of whisky, per man, woman, and child in the United States.

Since the temperance agency believes that 40 per cent of Americans never drink, it says the consumption rate of those who do is proportionately higher.

Plan Crusade 'Back to God'

Sunday School Assn. Acts to Recruit U. S. 'Evangelical Forces'

By Religious News Service

MINNEAPOLIS—Sunday schools of the United States will be recruited to conduct a crusade "to turn the nation back to God" as a result of action taken here at the eighth convention of the National Sunday School Association.

Such a crusade, a resolution said, would have as its purpose "the establishment of American young people in Christian character and righteousness."

It called upon "the evangelical forces of this nation to enter upon a crusade of positive and aggressive effort in Christian education."

Another resolution blamed the breakdown of the Christian traditions of the American home for the rapid increase in juvenile delinquency and "the moral debacle facing the nation."

Delegates representing Sunday schools of 40 denominations called "a return to the beliefs and practices of the evangelical Christian faith with respect to marriage, the Christian home and family, the only adequate solution to the problem."

Sunday schools of the nation were asked to give special study to the causes of juvenile delinquency in their respective communities; to place special emphasis on a program of child evangelism; to develop young couples' Bible classes; to set up study groups in Christian parenthood, and to cooperate with the juvenile courts in handling special cases.

Churches Slate Week of Prayer for German PWs

BERLIN—Protestant and Roman Catholic churches throughout West Germany observed a week of prayer (Oct. 18-25) for Germans still detained in other countries as prisoners of war.

Offerings contributed during the week were set aside by the churches for the relief of war prisoners and internees.

The period of remembrance for prisoners, first observed in 1950, concludes with a Sunday noon intercession to which the bells of Evangelical and Catholic churches to summon the faithful.

Adventists to Make Hotel Religious Center

NEW YORK — A Times Square night club, the Blue Note, will be converted into a recreational and social center for church young folk, it was announced here by officials of the Greater New York Conference of Seventh-day Adventists which has bought the midtown hotel that houses the club.

Pastor Ernest L. Branson, Conference president, said that after extensive alterations expected to take about a year the seven-story Sharon Hotel will be reopened as an Adventist center with its former ballroom made into a church auditorium able to seat, with an added balcony, more than 1,000 worshipers.

Lutheran Ranks Register Rise

Churches Report Gain of 197,000 Members in Year 1952

By Religious News Service

NEW YORK — Membership in Lutheran churches of the United States and Canada totaled 6,673,945 persons in 1952, an increase of 197,344, or three per cent, over the previous year, according to the annual statistical summary compiled by the National Lutheran Council here.

Of the total members, 6,485,782 are located in the U. S. and 188,163 in Canada.

Confirmed (adult) membership in both countries increased by 102,246 persons to total 4,551,880, a gain of 2.3 per cent, as compared to an increase of 90,843, or 2.1 per cent in 1951.

The 197,344 increase in baptized membership was distributed among the 16,884 congregations in the two countries, representing an average of about 11.7 new members per church.

The council's summary is based on figures supplied by 16 church bodies, as well as independent congregations, and by the Negro missions conducted by the four groups associated in the Lutheran Synodical Conference.

Of the 16 bodies, 14 recorded gains in membership, and two reported no change — as their figures were taken from statistics compiled in previous years. For the first time in several years no losses were reported.

For the eighth successive year, the largest numerical increase was registered by the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod, which gained 61,088 baptized members, or 3.4 per cent over 1951. With a membership of 1,847,284, the Missouri Synod is the second largest Lutheran body in America.

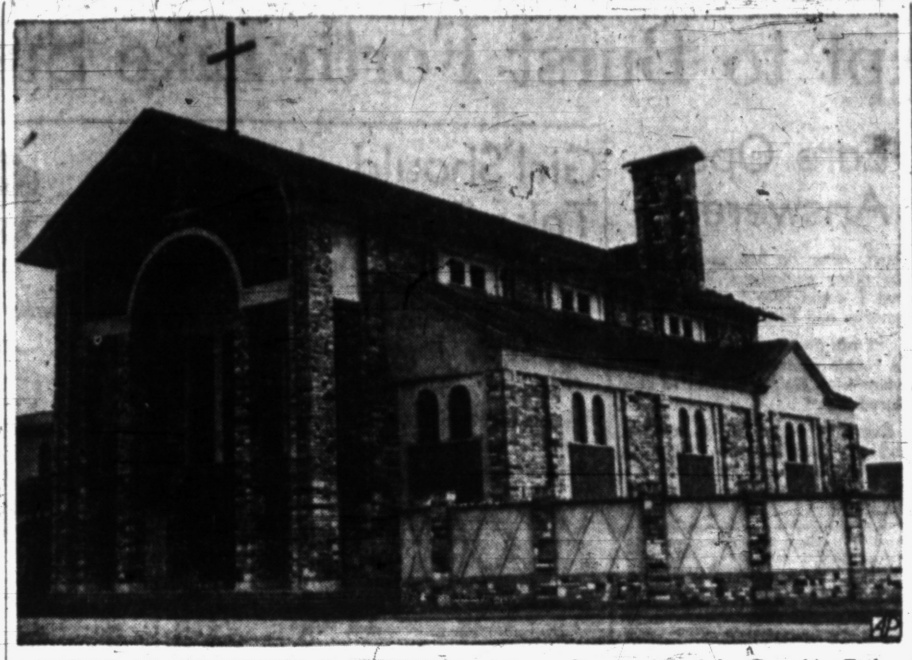

The United Lutheran Church in America, largest of the bodies, reported an increase of 43,757 members, or 2.1 per cent, making a total membership of 2,087,945.

Greatest advance on a percentage basis among the major bodies was shown by the Evangelical Lutheran Church for the seventh straight year. This church, the third largest Lutheran group in America, had a gain of 34,311, or 3.9 per cent, giving a 1952 total of 907,124 members.

Greek Churches in U. S. Set Day of Thanksgiving

By direction of the archdiocese, all Greek Orthodox churches in the United States will dedicate Sunday as a day of thanksgiving and prayer for the "triumph of Greece over the forces of totalitarianism and for the strength and high purpose with which God has endowed America."

King Paul and Queen Frederika of Greece will attend a special service of thanksgiving at the Hellenic Cathedral Holy Trinity in New York City Sunday morning.

THE SECRET DIFFERENCE

Gifted with perhaps the most brilliant mind of his age, Oscar Wilde made a name for himself at Trinity College, Dublin, and at Oxford. By the age of 32 he was internationally famous as a poet and novelist; and he went on to achieve even greater fame as a playwright.

But at the age of 40, Oscar Wilde was serving a prison sentence as a moral degenerate, and upon his release he went to Paris, where, to conceal his humiliation, he passed his last years under an assumed name. In the middle years he had lost himself.

On his part, Starr Daily did poorly at school, picked up his companions in taverns and pool halls, had a long police record before he was out of his teens, and spent his 20s in and out of prison.

By the time he was 40, however, Starr Daily was internationally known as an evangelist and writer on religious subjects. In his middle years he had found himself.

The difference between Wilde and Daily has nothing to do with heredity and environment, for the one was born with every advantage, the other began life with numerous handicaps.

The secret difference is that Starr Daily achieved what Wilde never had—a deep moral dedication.

Says Father Should Set Example to Offspring

By Religious News Service

PHILADELPHIA — Proper companionship and example by fathers would go a long way toward preventing juvenile delinquency, the Pennsylvania Congress of Parents and Teachers was told at its 45th annual convention here.

A good example would be for fathers to pray with their children, said DDr. E. Preston Sharp, executive director of Philadelphia's Youth Study Center, one of the country's most modern detention centers for juvenile offenders.

"Prayer is important, but how can a child say the Lord's Prayer if he doesn't know the meaning of the word 'father'?" he asked.

In his experience with hundreds of delinquents, Dr. Sharp said, "many of them manifest a lack of security, and this stems from a lack of parental affection and a lack of understanding discipline."

First Coptic Church to Be Built in Lebanon

BEIRUT, Lebanon — The Coptic Orthodox Church, which has 2,500,000 followers in Egypt and many in Ethiopia, South Africa, and the Old City of Jerusalem, will build its first house of worship in the tiny half-Christian, half-Moslem republic of Lebanon.

This was announced by Mohammed Wagih Rustom, Egyptian ambassador to Lebanon, who negotiated with Lebanese authorities on behalf of the Egyptian Coptic Church and the Coptic patriach in Jerusalem.

It was explained that the hundreds of Egyptian Copts who come to Lebanon every summer to spend their vacations need a place of worship. Site of the church has not yet been chosen.

Solution to Job Problem Apt to Burst Forth Like Sudden Thunderbolt

Phonograph Opens Up New Vistas

When Edison invented the phonograph, he thought of it as a means of recording the spoken word. And at the beginning, that was its chief function. Then it became the instrument for recording all kinds of music.

As an invention expands, it turns to new experiments. Occasionally it may even return to its original purpose. It looks today as if the phonograph may still become a medium of conveying the spoken word.

There are signs and portents to show that a new type of repertroire, made possible by the long-playing record, is about to become popular. This new repertroire includes spoken documentaries such as "Ike from Abilene" or "Adlai Stevenson Speaks" or Bible readings.

But even more entertaining than these, and perhaps more significant, is the full-length presentation of a play. It is now possible for you to stay home and go to the theater.

To be sure, there are limitations to such theatergoing. It's a one-dimensional theater, making its appeal only through sound.

On the other hand, the recorded theater has its advantages. First and obviously, you can go to it any time you wish and without leaving the wing chair. Second, you can hear every word. And third and most important, you can treat yourself to as many performances as you wish.

The choice of repertoire already available is considerable, though there is more available in Europe than in America. Europe takes the lead in this type of recording, because of the government - supported repertoire theaters.

What about our own theater? Shakespeare has come in for major attention. Some of the leading recording companies have recorded "Othello," "Henry V," "Hamlet," "Macbeth" and "Romeo and Juliet." But Shakespeare does not occupy the stage alone. There are also recordings of the plays of Shaw, Eliot and others.

Woman Who Keeps Eyes, Ears Open Likely to Find Her Needs Answered

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Sometimes you can work on a problem for years, being very analytical, scientific and business-like, but with no success.

And then one fine day, with no effort at all, the right solution just pops into your head.

That's what happened to Helen.

Helen J. needed a part-time job desperately.

Her husband had a perfectly good job, but his salary wasn't big enough to enable them to save a cent.

"And I want my two boys to go to college," Helen told me. "But if we don't start now, we'll never have the money."

Helen watched her paper for part-time jobs, but none advertised were right. Either she didn't qualify, or the hours were wrong, or the salary was a pittance.

She made long lists of things she could do and things she couldn't do. Meantime, she economized like crazy and began to make most of the family's clothes.

"I was educated in a convent," Helen told me, "and I can really sew beautifully The nun who taught me was extremely good.

"But of course, I thought nobody makes money at dressmaking," Helen smiled. "Was I ever wrong!"

One day Helen stopped by at the tailor's to pick up her husband's winter overcoat, which had been cleaned.

"He's a nice old man," Helen told me, "and I had always liked him. He has a big cleaning and dyeing business, and also does alterations, but on this particular day, the place was bedlam.

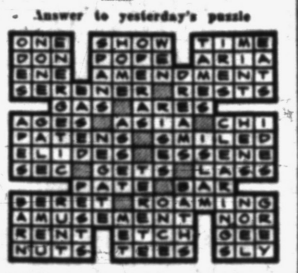

"I had to wait while five or six belligerent customer demanded the things they had left to be altered. Nothing was ready, and the poor tailor looked beside himself. It seems it was impossible for him to get a helper."

"All of a sudden, I had a big flash. After he had gotten rid of the other customers, I told him that I would love to come in afternoons and help him.

"I ran home and brought back a couple of suits I had made to show him. He liked them — and hired me."

Every problem has a solution, and the woman who keeps her eyes and ears open is apt to find her solution when she least expects it.

Girl Should Take Parting in Her Stride

If Friendship Ends, Accept Inevitable and Go Forward

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

Relatives and neighbors are wished on you, they say, but you can pick out your friends to suit yourself. So they say.

I think making that choice is pretty much accident. You can only know the people you happen to meet. Your parents settle you down in a certain neighborhood and send you to a certain school—and the people around you are the ones you know.

Your list lengthens as you wander farther from home, picking up pals on vacations, at camp, or when visiting relatives.

Then circumstances can make you friends through no real choice of your own—if you're thrown together often enough you get to know some people better than others—if you share enough high and low moments, you become friends.

But if circumstances can toss you together—they can also tear you apart. And that's what this piece is really about.

If you got along very well before someone accidentally came into your life, why should it be so hard to get along happily after he's gone out of it? Why should it be such a tragic calamity when it becomes obvious that a friendship is not going to survive the long pull?

Some of you dissolve completely when a friendship comes to an end. In your misery at having things work out that way, you can't quite see that there's a reason for it.

Take Molly, for example. She met a very attractive boy where both their families were vacationing during the summer. They were together practically all the time, but when they parted he told her to forget him.

She didn't take him at his word, but proceeded to write him several letters, even sent him her picture. To her utter dismay she got her picture back! With nary a word of explanation. No answer to her letters, nothing.

Molly churns with frustration, disappointment, chagrin. In fact, she's burnt up that he should treat her this way.

She's only figuring things from her own angle—not from his. There they were accidentally thrown together during vacation. They had fun. But he just plain didn't want to go on from there.

Maybe he is going steady with a girl at home and doesn't want to complicate his normal routine with pictures and letters from some other girl. Maybe he's a punk letter writer. Maybe he figures that fun's fun on vacation, but there's no point in getting further involved with a girl he's not likely to see again.

None of these reasons has a thing to do with Molly's charm and attractiveness. She may be a whizz-bang in her own way. She ought to realize that some friendships—like rainbows—live for only a short time.

Some friendships run into a dead end. They stop because there's nowhere to go. They can't go back—and to go forward to marriage is too complicated.

Maybe it's a difference of religion which is too big for a happy solution. Maybe it's a difference of ages. Waiting for things to work out can be too great a strain on a friendship—it has to end.

Maybe the relationship falls apart because there's really nothing to hold it together. When couples argue continually, there are really few strong ties to bind them together. Their tastes and dispositions can't compromise. There is no ahead for them.

And some friendships should be brought to an end because they just aren't doing anybody any good.

There's no point in cluttering up the premises with torches for boys who don't like you any more, boys who've outlived their usefulness, boys who've turned out to be uncongenial.

Unless, of course, pining away with the blues and the miseries is your idea of having a good time!

Flattering Full Skirt Falls From Whittled Waistline

More and more of the Paris imports are showing up with whittled-away waistlines and full skirts that flare out in a smooth beautiful line witohout a single trace of bunchiness.

Vera Maxwell has always been an advocate of this line as one of the most flattering for figures of all sizes, for the unbelted waist slims down that area, and lips, large or small, take refuge under the pretty skirts.

Without sleeves, made in a partyish material (gleaming satin either in jewel tones or the delicate champagne shade, so very important for evening), this model will be a standout in any gathering.

In jersey, pastel preferred, or linen, it is perfect for resort and cruise wear. If your fabric is not naturally stiff, be sure to line the skirt.

Pattern 100 is available in standard patern sizes 10, 12, 14, 16, 18. Size 12 requires 4 yards of 50-inch material for the dress. If you like the rustle of a taffeta lining it will require 1⅞ yards of 39-inch fabric.

To order Pattern 1040, address Spadea Syndicate, Inc, Box 535, Dept. 149, G. P. O., New York 1, N. Y. State size. Send $1.00 Airmail 25 cents extra.

Pattern Booklet 9, including over 100 designs, available at 15 cents.

Exchanging Yule Gifts Is Burden

Reader Wishes to Discontinue Giving to Friend

By EMILY POST

A letter this morning asks a question that comes to me frequently "I have a friend with whom I have been exchanging birthday and Christmas presents for a long while.

"I have enough presents to buy for members of my own family —sisters, brothers, nieces, nephews, etc.—and I would like to discontinue exchanging presents it is right side up to the user with this friend. Will you please tell me how I can tactfully suggest this?"

Answer: You can tell her frankly that you have such a large family that you have decided that you must cut down your Christmas list, and ask her to help you by agreeing to discontinue exchanging Christmas gifts with you.

Dear Mrs. Post: Could it be considered proper to have table silver marked so that the initial appears right side up to the person who is to use it? This seems to me a much more sensible way of marking than the usual one.

The person seated across the table can hardly see the marking, so why not have it marked so that it is right side up to the user when he is seated at the table? I am going to have some silver marked soon and I would like to know what you think.

Answer: Mark your silver the way you like it—there's no fixed rule.

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it proper for a man to include the suffix "Sr." after his signature? My husband and I have a difference of opinion about this and we would like you to settle it for us.

Answer: No, it is "Sr." who has the right to the name without a suffix and "Jr." who has to add the suffix to his name.

Dear Mrs. Post: Could I possibly use paper plates and cups at my daughter's wedding reception? There are to be about 100 guests and the collation will consist of tiny sandwiches, wedding cake and punch.

Answer: Certainly.

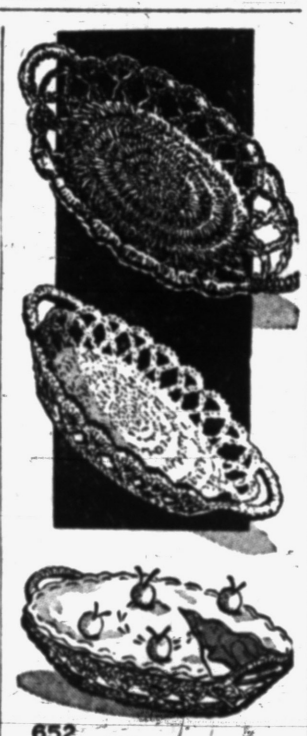

Shoulder Line Really Important

NEW YORK (INS) — This is a fashion season in which a woman could — oh, so easily — get stylishly stuck!

Because the shorter skirt has been over-publicized, it may appear that this winter there is no important fashion change but the slight lifting of a hemline.

In reality, however, that is only a small factor in the picture. The real, major silhouette change comes in the shoulder and sleeve area — an area which can outdate a dress or coat as surely as a hemline can, and an area which is much more difficult to alter.

The new look, which is just coming in and is certain to be the big talk of 1954 fashion, calls for far broader shoulders and arching sleeves. It's a flattering look for the average woman, because it allows the shoulder to balance or belittle the hipline.

Manners MAKE FRIENDS

It's wonderful to be able to remember names, but if you are poor at it, don't let that keep you from making introductions. When an introduction is in order it is better to ask a name than to ignore the situation.

After all, it is better to admit to a poor memory than to let others assume you don't know when to make an introduction.

Ghosts Go Haunting Tonight, to Small Fry's Delight

All the spooks and goblins will be out this evening to make this Halloween a "haunting" one. Getting set for the fun in store are Anne, 4 (left, back row) and Katharine Widdifield 7, daughters of the Rev. and Mrs. C. George Widdifield of West Pike street. They were photographed with their mother, Mrs. Widdifield, who gave them some assistance with their jack-o-lantern.

UM Alumni to See Game at Ann Arbor

Old Grads Return for Homecoming Festivities

Olr grads and University of Michigan fans went back to Ann Arbor today to watch Michigan play Pennsylvania and to join in homecoming activities.

Among the alumni returning to the school are Lt. and Mrs. Wallace D. Riley, who are staying with the Frank Baldwins of Oakwood avenue. They will return home Sunday.

Others attending the game are Dr. and Mrs. W. O. Roeser and their son, Fred, of Neome drive, and the Neal J. Scotts of Lakeside drive with their daughter, Jane. The Scotts are visiting their sons, Neal and George, both students at the University.

Not alums, but ardent fans, are the Bert Olsons of Oakwood avenue, who also made the trip.

Always on hand to cheer the home team are the Lee T. Masters' of Keir road who looked forward to seeing the exhibits that homecoming game always brings out.

The Oregon State, Michigan State game in East Lansing has also drawn Pontiac fans. The Ralph R. Norvells of Wenonah drive went up with the August Johnsons, and others attending were the James Nyes of Elsinore drive and the M. F. Macaulays of Motorway drive.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Huntwork of West Princeton avenue are announcing the birth of a son, Michael Walter, Oct. 20 at Pontiac General Hospital.

Grandparents are William Huntwork of West Strathmore avenue, Mrs. Elaine Daugherty of Pontiac Lake road and Mrs. Violet Warmer of Keego Harbor.

Mrs. Olis Wallis Has Baby Shower

Mrs. John Richards of Grand View boulevard entertained Thursday afternoon with a luncheon and pink and blue shower to honor Mrs. Olis Wallis.

Assisting the hostess were Mrs. Martin Dewey and Mrs. Peter Jensen.

Guests were Mrs. Roy Wiegandt, Mrs. Edward Martin, Mrs. Earl English, Mrs. Thomas Wallis and Mrs. Justin Hancock.

Others were Mrs. John Scharfenkamp, Mrs. Arthur Reamer, Mrs. Nicholas Morris and Mrs. Vern Terry and Mrs. Harold Richardson, both of Drayton Plains.

WCTU Maps Plans for District Meeting

Plans for the 18th district convention of WCTU were formulated when the executive board met recently at the home of Mrs. John J. Little on Franklin road.

The all-day session to be held Nov. 17 at the Sashabaw Plains Presbyterian Church, will begin at 10 a.m.

Local presidents will report. Principal speakers will be Mrs. Elizabeth Irwin, state second vice president and Mrs. L. G. Rowley, third vice president.

Salad bowls can be washed but they shouldn't be immersed in water or soaked ever. Use only warm soapsuds and a cloth, then rinse quickly and wipe dry.

Gathering Held by Sunset Club

An afternoon of games, songs and dancing was enjoyed Thursday afternoon at Wilson School where members of the Sunset Club met for a social hour.

A new program committee was announced, composed of Mr. and Mrs. William Holthusen and Charles Little. Mrs. Maude Hill is the new publicity chairman.

A cooperative luncheon is planned for Thursday at 1 o'clock. All persons 60 years or older are invited to join the group.

PTA Activities

Pontiac Council

The executive board of Pontiac PTA Council will meet Monday at 2 p.m. in the teachers' lounge at McConnell School.

The council meeting of the Pontiac PTA will be held Tuesday at 2 p.m. in McConnell School with Mrs. Harry E. King, president of Michigan Congress of PTA, and John Thors Jr., principal of Pontiac High School, as speakers. A pre-meeting conference will be held at 1:30 for all membership chairmen and local presidents.

Meet at Bromley Home

WCTU Names Chairmen

Committee chairmen were appointed when the Emor L. Calkins Chapter of WCTU held their recent meeting at the home of Mrs. R. J. Bromley on Thorpe street.

Mrs. Frank Hardenburg was named program chairman with Mrs. L. B. Rubey heading devotions; Mrs. Sue Long, membership; Mrs. Roy Hearn, friendship and relief, and Mrs. Martha Braid, ways and means.

Other appointments went to Mrs. Ida Schreck, refreshments and housecommittee; Mrs. Bert Porritt, citizenship; Mrs. Ruth Townsend and Mrs. Archie Karr, publicity; Mrs. Ernest Wallace, flowers and missions; Mrs. Laura Gorthey, assistant secretary, and Mrs. R. J. Bromley and Mrs. Lena Miller, telephone.

An installation of officers also was held and devotions were given by Mrs. Gorthey. Mrs. Minnie Clemens, president, reported on the recent state convention held at Alpena where the slogan, "Let's Be Building for Total Abstinence," was adopted.

Petitions and leaflets on the Bryson Bill were given members to distribute. The closing prayer was given by Mrs. Karr.

Blue Star Soloist

Mrs. Raymond Stief, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Yungk of Lewis street, was soloist at the Blue Star Mothers national presidents' dinner held in Grand Rapids recently.

Amies Plans Turkey Trot on Nov. 28

Patti Smith Serves as Dance Chairman for Annual Event

Cornstalks, pumpkins and blue jeans will create a farmlike atmosphere at the Boys Club Nov. 28 when Amies Club will hold its annual Turkey Trot dance.

Plans have been discussed for weeks, and Patti Smith, dance chairman, has announced committee chairmen for the event.

The job of creating an autumn harvest atmosphere goes to Alice Bego. Helping her will be Nancy Dickinson, Kathy Young and Jody Wortman.

Carol Wortman and Carol Kampner are on the publicity committee, and Sandra Hodge has charge of the tickets.

The dance is scheduled from 9 p.m. to 12.

Other committee chairmen include Nancy Aldrich, in charge of music; Ann Skelley, refreshments, and Jo Osmun, prizes.

The group is planning a work meeting for Wednesday at the home of Carol Wortman on Dwight avenue.

At the last meeting, for which Alice Bego was hostess, kimonos were distributed to be sewed for the needlework guild.

Annual Benefit Card Party Is Set for Monday

Mrs. Forrest E. Brown is general chairman of the annual benefit card party sponsored by the Pontiac Women's Club.

The affair will be held Monday at Roosevelt Temple on State avenue. Dessert luncheon will be served at 12:30 p.m.

Proceeds of the party will be used for social welfare organizations and special club activities.

Social committee members arranging the affair include Mrs. Maxwell Lucas, hospitality; Mrs. Ray Falk, table prizes, Mrs. Aaron Fox, door prizes; Mrs. H. T. Rombough, refreshments, and Mrs. Brown, tickets.

Other committee members include Mrs. Royal Pazik, Mrs. Harry Chapman and Mrs. M. E. Baldwin. The public is invited to attend.

Music Study Contributes To Health

The playing of a musical instrument contributes to the healthful development of the growing child through two channels—the body and the mind.

The very habit of playing an instrument compels him to sit erect. Playing music provides a danger-free form of exercise that stimulates the circulatory, respiratory and muscular systems, and develops strong lungs, nimble fingers, keen eyes and exact hearing. Music has powerful effect in creating the objective mental attitude necessary for physical health.

Retailers Oppose Sales Tax on Manufacturers

WASHINGTON (AP)—The American Retail Federation, representing 600,000 retail stores, has told President Eisenhower of its "strong opposition" to a manufacturers' sales tax.

Officers representing 59 state and national associations gave Eisenhower yesterday a four-page statement declaring a sales tax would reduce civilian consumer demand and harm the economy.

Eisenhower has said that, in seeking a balanced budget, his administration will not propose a federal retail sales tax. But he has not publicly ruled out a sales tax at the manufacturers' level.

Romanian Sea Captain Wants Estate Held Here

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — The $15,000 estate that veteran Romanian sea captain Alexandre A. Tuifaeff left is not going to fall into the hands of the existing Romanian government.

Capt. Tuifaeff, who died Oct. 7, directed that the estate remain in trust until his widow, Irene, and son, Alexandre Jr., of Bucharest, are able to enjoy it. Romanian officials have refused to allow them to leave the country.

In his will, filed yesterday, he stipulated that the trust continue until the political situation in Romania changes.

Bird Hunter Fined $100 for Part in Deer-Killing Case

Any bird hunter who feels impelled to take a pot-shot at a deer, better take note of what happened to a Highland Park nimrod recently. Arrested by conservation officers for possession of an illegally obtained deer, Simon Chunta, Highland Park, paid a $100 fine and $8 costs in Justice H. G. Stanaback's court at Lake Orion.

Chunta admitted, according to officer Cy Adams of Lake Orion, that he had dragged the slain deer from where it apparently fell, to a spot nearby where it was later found covered by brush. The spot was near Predmore and Rush road, east of Orion.

"This was the third case of illegal deer hunting we have worked on in this area," Officer Adams reported.

Adams said a dead fawn, killed with birdshot, and the front legs of an adult deer were also found in the Bald Mt. Recreation area.

"These shootings were definitely by bird-hunters," Adams said. He mentioned that a car checked in Macomb county revealed the hunter had a big slug in one barrel of his shotgun, with a bird load in the other.

Leahy Says Halsey Made Leyte Error

WASHINGTON (AP)—Adm. William D. Leahy says that, in the 1944 battle of Leyte Gulf, Adm. William (Bull) Halsey "got off on a little war of his own."

"We didn't lose the war for that but I don't know why we didn't. I was afraid we were going to," Leahy, who was personal chief of staff to Presidents Roosevelt and Truman, told newsmen after a White House visit yesterday.

He did so in response to requests for his views on the crucial naval battle of the Philippine invasion. The questions were prompted by British Prime Minister Churchill's version, given in his memoirs appearing serially in the New York Times.

Churchill said Halsey was lured away from protecting American invasions forces by a Japanese decoy force. The day was saved, Churchill said, when the main Japanese force for some reason did not strike at Leyte Gulf.

Pontiac Youth, 19, Gets 2 to 15 Years in Jackson

Charles Miller, 19, of 40 Clovese St., was sentenced to 2 to 15 years in prison Friday by Oakland County Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty on a charge of breaking and entering.

Miller was found guilty of the charge by a jury Oct. 5 and will serve his sentence in Southern Michigan Prison at Jackson. He was accused of breaking into a market at 1220 Perry St.

No Short Skirts in Sight Says Elsa Schiaparelli

NEW YORK (AP)—Elsa Schiaparelli took issue with a fellow Parisian dress designer yesterday, saying Christian Dior's shorter hemline for women's skirts is "bunk."

Miss Schiaparelli, who arrived by air from Paris for a visit in the United States, said there is no definite trend toward a shorter skirt.

Milford Driver Put on 2 Years Probation

Andrew Heard, 36, of 3502 Old Plank Rd., Milford, received two years probation on a negligent homicide charge before Oakland County Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty Friday.

He was also ordered to pay more than $2,000 funeral expenses for two men killed on Grand River Ave. Aug. 7 when his auto sideswiped another.

Heard pleaded guilty to the charge Sept. 30, but claimed the two men he struck stepped in front of his auot.

Motorist Wreaks Havoc Reaching for a Tissue

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Nicholas Michonek, 68, experienced a bit of difficulty while driving his car in downtown traffic.

While reaching for a tissue handkerchief, his car smacked a parked truck and knocked it 82 feet. The truck caromed into a parked sedan and sent it on a 50-foot ride.

Damage to the three cars was estimated at $1,875 by police.

Graham to Ask President's OK for Korea Visit

DETROIT (UP) — Evangelist Billy Graham said Friday night he plans to ask President Eisenhower for permission to visit Korea and talk to 22 American prisoners who have chosen Communism rather than repatriation.

Graham, who is conducting a series of meetings here, said he would propose the trip when he meets with the President at the White House next Tuesday.

The young evangelist said mothers of seven of the men who have refused to return have asked him to see their sons and talk them out of embracing communism.

"If I can be of use in speaking to these men I would be delighted to go," Graham said. "I believe the whole problem with them is a spiritual one. I think the most effective way of combatting it is spiritual."

Review Results of Marshall Plan

Some Call Foreign Aid Wise Policy, Many See It as Drain on U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Marshall Plan for bringing war-shattered Europe back to economic life is passing into history as Gen. George C. Marshall's name goes on the enduring roll of Nobel Peace Prize winners.

* * *

Free Europe, despite some disappointments and relapses, has made a tremendous recovery. Economic aid from the United States has dwindled from a multi-billion dollar flood to a relative trickle that seems destined soon to dry up altogether. The emphasis now is on "trade—not aid."

It was in many respects a different world which heard Secretary of State Marshall, in a commencement address at Harvard University June 5, 1947, propose the plan which immediately took his name.

He called for an outpouring of gifts and loans to restore production and employment in countries threatened with collapse. It was an effort later called by a British chancellor of the exchequer "one of the most—if not the most—generous, magnanimous acts in history."

* * *

Its supporters have also called it a wise American policy, blocking any take-over by Communists in major Western European countries and providing the United States with sinewy allies. Its critics called it a giant giveaway which drained American resources without achieving world prosperity.

Former President Truman submitted the plan to Congress as a 17 billion dollar program to extend to mid-1952. But Congress enacted a short-range authorizing law the following April, and started aid to 19 countries.

The Economic Cooperation Administration (ECA), set up to administer the aid, was staffed largely by businessmen and headed by Paul G. Hoffman, an automobile executive.

ECA claimed a telling effect in Europe from the start of the program, and it was credited with a political victory—defeat of the Communists in Italian elections—in the first month of its life.

In a sense, the Marshall Plan proper ended Dec. 31, 1951, when ECA was replaced by the Mutual Security Agency (MSA).

Pair Indicted in Kidnaping

Carl Hall, Mrs. Heady to Be Arraigned Next Week at Kansas City

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Carl Austin Hall and Mrs. Bonnie Brown Heady, partners in the abduction of little Bobby Greenlease, were indicted by a federal grand jury yesterday on kidnaping charges.

They are expected to be arraigned early next week, possibly Monday. Edward L. Scheufler, U.S. attorney, has said he will press for an early trial.

Bobby, the 6-year-old son of a wealthy Kansas City automobile dealer, was taken from his exclusive school Sept. 28. He was slain and his body was found in a lime-filled grave in the yard of Mrs. Heady's home at St. Joseph, Mo.

* * *

Hall, 34, and Mrs. Heady, 41-year-old divorcee, were arrested in St. Louis Oct. 6. Hall admitted slaying the child after Mrs. Heady took the boy from his school on a ruse.

The jury heard four days of testimony. The indictment pointed out the kidnaped child was not returned unharmed, making the defendants liable to the death penalty. If the two should enter pleas of guilty the judge could request a jury trial to determine whether the maximum penalty should be inflicted.

Much of the testimony before the grand jury was concerned with St. Louis developments in the case.

* * *

When Hall and Mrs. Heady were arrested, half the $600,000 ransom paid by Robert C. Greenlease, the boy's father, was missing. The missing money still is the object of a widespread search.

Among the witnesses from St. Louis were John Hager, cab driver who tipped police to Hall when he became suspicious of the man's wild drinking and spending spree.

Another witness was Lt. Louis Shoulders, who arrested Hall. Shoulders later resigned after a police board inquiry went into the arrest and delivery of the recovered ransom money. He said his character and reputation as an officer had been assassinated.

Students Learn 'Scents' From Litter of 'Kittens'

FAIRVIEW, Mont. (AP)—Pupils of the Central School near Fairview now have more "scents" about animals.

Finding a small gray kitten near a lunch cook house, they brought it inside and went back to search for more.

Five more "kittens" were pulled out—only these were black and white baby skunks.

AN AFRICAN ADVENTURE—Set in the lush jungles of the dark continent is the gripping love story of a guide, Clark Gable, and a lovely playgirl, Ava Gardner. Filmed in parts of the African underbrush where camera has never before penetrated, "Mogambo" offers the maximum in exciting entertainment. One of the highlights of this engrossing adventure-romance now showing at a local theater, is the dangerous gorilla hunt, and its brutal climax.

Still Loves Hubby Though He Aided Her Abduction

CHICAGO (AP) — The wife of a factory executive who escaped from an ex-convict after her abduction which police said was planned by her husband says: "I still love him and will stand by him."

Mrs. Rosemary Anderson, 27, appeared at the suburban Morton Grove jail yesterday with her father-in-law who posted $3,000 bond for release of her husband, Frank T. Anderson Jr., 26.

Held in jail under $6,000 bond was John Nowicki, 26-year-old ex-convict and an employe of the Chicago Cutting Die Co. Anderson is secretary-treasurer of the firm, which is owned by his father.

Both men have been charged with conspiracy to commit a crime. Nowicki also has been charged with robbery in connection with stealing Mrs. Anderson's car and $80 from her purse.

John P. Reed, assistant state's attorney, said Anderson told him "domestic difficulties" led him to plot the abduction to "scare" his wife.

Reed said Anderson told him his specific complaint was that his wife went out too often in the evening, leaving him alone.

Girl Gets 17 Years in Holdup-Murder

CHICAGO (AP) — A young girl whose fiance killed a storekeeper in a $5 holdup they planned to get money for their marriage was sentenced to 17 years in prison yesterday.

The sentence was imposed on Miss Arlene Giffin, 19, by Judge John T. Dempsey in Criminal Court on her plea of guilty to murder charges. Prosecutors said Miss Giffin played the leading role in the holdup last March 30 in which Morris Silvertrust, 63, a bridal veil maker, was slain.

Miss Giffin's confession read to Judge Dempsey disclosed that she and Robert (Chick) Baldi, 17, planned to get married after staging the robbery. Baldi has admitted fatally shooting Sivertrust and will be sentenced Monday.

Charles Bross, 21, who also pleaded guilty, was sentenced to 14 years in prison.

Bow-and-Arrow Hunting Booming in Michigan

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Bow-and-arrow hunting, a novelty in Michigan 10 years ago, has boomed, according to Glenn P. Bruneau, supervisor of the University of Michigan wood technology laboratory.

This year, he says, upwards of 30,000 hunters will take to the north woods after deer, rabbits, grouse, pheasants or bear.

Title of 3rd City for Los Angeles Seems Assured

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Move over, Philadelphia. Make way for Los Angeles as the third largest city in the United States.

The California secretary of state notified city officials yesterday he has okayed the annexation of an addition in the southwest part of Los Angeles with more than 7,000 residents.

As soon as they're counted in a census, that should put Los Angeles officially ahead. A special federal census three days ago gave Los Angeles a population of 2,071,271—just 334 behind Philadelphia's 2,071,605.

However, Philly's figure is from the 1950 census. City officials estimate that city has gained some 100,000 in population since then.

Boyhood Friends Meet by Strange Coincidence

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — John Sweeney hadn't seen his boyhood friend, Richard Ricks, for 12 years until they bumped into one another in a corridor at Fitzgerald Mercy Hospital in suburban Darby yesterday.

"Dick, old boy," said Sweeney, "what brings you here"

"Wife just had twins," said Ricks, "couple of boys. What brings you here"

"My wife just had twins, too," said Sweeney; "Couple of boys."

3D Seems to Have Lost Its Glamour

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The rise and fall of 3D appears to have run its course.

Enthusiasm for 3D — the stereo films that require glasses — is now limited to a few film makers who think that such movies have a permanent place in programming. Nobody is saying that 3D will become the dominant method of production.

The evidence is everywhere. When a new musical opened in Los Angeles a couple of weeks ago, only one of the seven theaters showed it in 3D.

Of the 23 pictures shooting in Hollywood today, only three are the stereo type. MGM recently previewed "Kiss Me Kate" in two dimensions, although it was made for three.

This film and many others are being offered to theaters for 3D or 2D projection; most theaters are taking 2D.

Opposition to 3D has come from studios, theaters and the public. Here are some of the reasons:

Studios — 3D filming is more expensive; it costs twice as much for prints, since two strips are needed.

Theaters — 3D requires special projection, handling of glasses.

Public — Glasses and intermissions have been bothersome; upped admission prices are resented; quality of 3D pictures has been poor.

Most producers are now agreed that 3D will be limited to a few films, usually science fiction or suspense movies in which depth adds to the frightening effect.

It's too bad that Hollywood never really gave 3D a chance to prove itself. The illusion of depth gives a remarkable sense of reality to films.

But it was used principally to scare audiences by throwing things at the camera. And the studios ground out 3D films of such poor quality that they would have died in 2D.

Perhaps some day the potential of depth movies will be realized. But that day may not come until some method is devised without glasses.

Incidentally, it was an interesting experience to watch "Kiss Me Kate" in the flat version. The picture has a half-dozen scenes in which various objects are huled at the camera. But nothing happens without the glasses and another image on the screen.

Will Hays Suffering From Heart Ailment

SULLIVAN, Ind., Oct. 31 (AP) — Will H. Hays, former Republican national chairman and long-time guardian of movie morals, yesterday was reported suffering from a serious chronic heart ailment.

The family physician for the 73-year-old former politician and movie official said Hays returned here with his wife from New York a week ago. Hays is confined to his bed only part of the time, the physician said.

Hays was GOP national chairman in 1920 when the famous front porch campaign ended in the election of Warren G. Harding as president.

5 Halloween Beggars Get Nickles Off Police

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Five Halloween beggars, just tall enough to look over the counter at police headquarters, appeared before Sgt. V. N. Reck.

"No," said Sgt. Reck.

"Well, then, we want a nickle apiece."

"Don't have enough nickles," the sergeant responded.

"We have change," said the leader.

They walked out with two-bits among them.

RAM PUSHED OUT—St. Michael's fullback Bud Schwartz uses a professional football specialty, a block rather than a tackle, to knock ball carrier Mike Payette of St. Fred's out of bounds in this 3rd quarter action from Friday night's game at Wisner Stadium. Shamrocks scored all their points in the 2nd half to win, 25-0.

TO THE VICTORS—For many years the Stephen J. Griffin football trophy battle has been a highlighted feature of the annual meeting between St. Frederick and St. Michael elevens. In the latest renewal of the rivalry, Friday night, Shamrocks defeated the Rams for the 4th straight time, to retain trophy. Rose Griffin (above) sister of the original donor of the award, presented it to Coach Bob Mineweaser after last night's 25-0 victory.

BOYD ON WAY—Port Huron halfback Bob Boyd (50) sprints away from Phil Barger (84) Birmingham back, as he moves for 15 yards in the second quarter of Friday night's game at Pierce Field, Birmingham. Big Red went on to score one of the touchdowns in their 34-7 victory over Birmingham. Boyd scored three times.

Royal Oak Hands PHS Team Fourth Straight Loss, 21-7

By BILL MARTIN

Pontiac High's football team saw its losing streak reach four games at Royal Oak Friday night. Chiefs turned in their poorest performance of the season in bowing to the once-beaten Acorns, 21-7.

Royal Oak's heavier line repeatedly tore gaping holes in the Pontiac defense to allow hard-running fullback Dick Nash and halfback Jack Drawbaugh to slice through for consistent gains. Those two speedsters, who lugged the ball on 35 of 42 Royal Oak running plays, were the whole show for the southern Oakland County eleven. Nash piled up 124 yards in 19 tries, while his running mate collected another 75 yards in 16 carries.

Chiefs' only offensive showing in the game came in a 74-yard sustained drive in the final period that produced their only score.

Neither team was able to get a march under way until midway through the 2nd quarter. Pontiac recovered a RO fumble on the Acorns' 33 early in the period, but advanced only 13 yards before bogging down. Royal Oak then took over to roll 65 yards for its 1st touchdown. Nash plunged the final foot and booted the conversion.

Drawbaugh made it 14-0 in the following quarter when he knifed over from the two after a 31-yard punt return by Nash had set up the score. Nash again converted.

Pontiac began to move in the finale. Bill McLarty pounced on a Royal Oak bobble on the PHS 26 and the Chiefs were off on their only long march. Quarterback Dick Ayling ripped off two good gains on option plays. He then passed to Walt Poe and Bill Rose for more yardage as Chiefs moved to the two. Ayling sneaked over and Rose kicked the extra point.

Resurgent Chiefs threatened again a few moments later, driving to Royal Oak's 37 before linebacker Streeter Remley intercepted a pass by Ayling to check the thrust. Acorns added an insurance TD late in the period, with Drawbaugh hitting end Harry Andreason in a scoring pass play that covered 42 yards. Nash's 3rd conversion accounted for the final margin.

Chiefs swing back into Saginaw Valley Conference play next Friday, when Flint Northern — 18-12 upset victor over previously unbeaten Bay City Central last night—comes to Wisner Stadium.

Big Red Win String Hits 26 Games at Birmingham

Port Huron's football powerhouse rolled to its 26th straight success Friday night at Pierce Field with a 34-7 victory over Birmingham.

Bob Boyd paced the Big Reds, who had too much speed for the Maples'. Boyd scored three touchdowns.

While Port Huron's heralded Al Davis was throttled somewhat, Boyd and Dave Winfield took charge and sparked the Huron's ground game. Boyd circled end in the 1st quarter to close a 60-yard march and Davis added the 1st of his four extra points.

In the 2nd period, Port Huron drove 76 yards with Boyd going over left tackle to score from the three. It was Boyd again in the 3rd quarter after a John Thomas to Boyd pass good for 61 yards had set the Big Reds up on Birmingham's 4.

Port Huron made it 28-0 in the 4th quarter. Jim Traa of Birmingham fell on a PH fumble at the 11, but four plays lost yardage and Port Huron took over on its own 32. Dave Baker ran 68 yards to score on the next play.

Maples then staged their only offensive show of the game. Jerry Wedge, Phil Barger and Bill Swaney sparked a 60-yard march, which Swaney capped by scoring from the one. Bill Watkinson added the point.

Pontiac Horse Eyes 2nd Win at Jackson

JACKSON (Special) —Harry Spencer, the bay pacer who won his 1st race in two years at Jackson Raceway Wednesday night, will try to make it two in a row tonight in the 3rd race.

He will be driven by owner Ed Stansell of Pontiac.

Track officials advanced post time for the program to 8:15 p. m. to accomodate the large crowd expected for the season's final race night.

Michigan, MSC Favorites for Today's Tests

Beavers in 'Whipping Boy' Role for State—UM on Rebound

From Press Wire Services

Michigan's two biggest gridiron powers today were cast in the favorites' roles, both seeking to resume their places in the winning column.

Wolverines were accorded a slight edge over the invading Quakers from Pennsylvania in a top intersectional match at Ann Arbor. A crowd expected to reach 60,000 will view the contest.

Over at the state capital (East Lansing) an aroused Michigan State eleven was expected to make Oregon State Beavers its "whipping boy." State took a surprising, and totally unexpected 6-0 licking from Purdue's Boilermakers to snap a 28-game win streak, a week ago. MSC dropped to sixth place, from 2nd in national Associated Press ratings as a result.

A sellout audience of more than 50,000 was expected to see if Spartans can bounce back from defeat.

At least four Spartans are handicapped by injury and illness, with Earl Morrall, quarterback, and enter Jim Neal definitely out of action.

Wolverines' hopes for a rebound appeared to rest on a revival of the running punch of halfbacks Ted Kress and Tony Branoff, and the passing of Duncan McDonald. All were smothered by the Gophers in last week's 22-0 walloping.

This will be the first meeting between Penn and Michigan since 1944, when Wolverines took a 41-19 decision. U. of M. holds a slim edge in the series, 10-8-2.

U.S. Team Wins in Horse Show

British Equestrienne Steals Spotlight Friday in National Event

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — United Staes equestrian team waited almost until the end to break into the win column and even though it gained the most prized team trophy of all another sparkling performance by England's Pat Smythe stole the show.

A 3-day total score of 16 faults gave the host team the coveted 104th Cavalry trophy for the best showing in low score international jumping competition at the Pennsylvania National Horse Show yesterday.

England's No. 1 equestrienne, the 24-year-old brunette daughter of a calvalry officer, was riding her "reserve" mount, Prince Hal. And every other time she answered the bugler's call on the 11-year-old chestnut gelding—four times — she had brought home the blue ribbon and trophy.

Last night she captured her fifth individual first place and England's seventh in the first 10 jumping events of the week-long show which ends tonight.

PCL Directors Create New Promotional Post

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Pacific Coast Baseball League began a search today for an expert to hop up business and got ready to play a 168-game schedule in 1954.

Directors created a new position, managing director, whose duties will consist of promoting baseball in the eight league cities, co-ordinating radio and television and assisting individual owners in building new ball parks and improving old ones.

4th Straight for Mikes

By JACK SAYLOR

City parochial football championship went to St. Michael's Shamrocks for the 4th straight season Friday night at Wisner Stadium as Bob Mineweaser's crew ground out a 25-0 victory over St. Frederick's.

Shamrocks retained possession of the Stephen J. Griffin trophy for another year. At the same time they kept alive their Suburban Catholic League championship hopes.

St. Michael backfield ace Russ Shindorf set the pace for the winners, rushing for 90 yards in his workhorse role and scoring three touchdowns. They brought his season total to 13, highest for any Oakland County prep gridder.

Chuck Talbot's Rams kept Shamrocks at bay for the 1st half by recovering three fumbles, two of which were deep in St. Fred territory. But the Northsiders cut loose in the 2nd half with a relentless ground game.

In addition to the three touchdowns he scored, Shindorf had another (a 55-yard punt return) nullified by a clipping penalty. Mike Lauinger tallied the final Shamrock tally on a three-yard plunge.

A blocked punt set up the first St. Mike TD early in the 3rd quarter. Rick Adams and Tom Pruente blocked the kick, which went out of bounds on the Ram 15. Bob Anderson and Bud Schwartz carried to the eight and Shindorf scored.

Four plays later came Shindorf's punt return. The penalty moved the ball to the Ram 36.

Mike Lauinger and Anderson sparked a drive to the eight and again Shindorf tallied.

Just after the quarter opened, Shamrocks tried their only pass of the game. Schwartz hit Shindorf in the flat and the talented Shamrock back sprinted 47 yards for the touchdown.

Final score capped a 63-yard march, featured by the running of Schwartz and Shindorf. Lauinger scored on 4th down from the three-yard line. Dan Dropp's converted after the Mikes' 2nd touchdown.

St. Fred's was unable to muster much of an attack. This could be partly attributed to the absence of halfback Ted Reaver, out with an injury. However, primarily it was the stellar work of the Shamrock defense.

Linebacker Bob Schmidt, 175-pound senior, turned in a brilliant game. He made tackles all over the field and constantly harassed Ram punter Tom Monroe. Monroe had two kicks blocked and averaged only 23 yards for seven tries.

Rams also were badly rushed on pass attempts. They did not complete one of five attempts. Their only completion was wiped out by a penalty.

Middle-Irish Clash Given Top Rating

By ED CORRIGAN

NEW YORK (AP) — While Coach Frank Leahy frets in his home, Notre Dame, the No. 1 football team in the country, will take on Navy at South Bend, in the top game of the collegiate football card today.

* * *

But The Master—a sly one, he—is not without ideas. He will watch the action on television and advise his assorted aides before the game and between halves.

The calendar is spotted with other interesting action, the best of which seem to be the Illinois-Purdue and West Virginia-Penn State affairs.

Illinois, the leader of the Big 10 now that Michigan State has been beaten, will have to be at its best against the Boilermakers, the same blokes who polished off State last week after being beaten in four games.

* * *

The Boilermakers, incidentally, were squashed by Miami the next week after breaking a long Notre Dame winning streak two years ago.

* * *

West Virginia, one of the few remaining unbeaten-untied major outfits, are on the-spot. They are ranked No. 5 in the Associated Press poll, but they haven't played a strong schedule. Penn State is one of the better teams in the East, so it behooves the Mountaineers to make a good showing to prove the skeptics wrong.

As for Notre Dame, even without Leahy, the Irish are favored heavily over Navy, the victim of a 9-7 upset at the hands of Penn.

Otherwise, most of the powerful clubs seem to have easy going (the same was said last Saturday, Black Saturday.) Maryland, second in the land, takes on South Carolina, and figures to win as it pleases.

Baylor, which has had clear going in the Southwest Conference so far, meets last place Texas Christian. If George Sauer's Bruins are wise, they won't relax.

* * *

Michigan State, which fell to No. 6 in the national rankings after having its 28-game winning streak snapped by Purdue, plays Oregon State, while Georgia Tech, its 31-game undefeated skein broken by Notre Dame, should pick up the threads against Vanderbilt. Oklahoma, No. 9, faces Kansas State, and this could decide the Big 7 winner.

* * *

The television fans around the country will get a chance to see Minnesota's spectacular All-America, Paul Giel, in action when the Gophers play host to Pitt in the NCAA's TV game of the day.

Flint Northern Topples Wolves

Hand Bay City Central First Loss of Season, 18-12, Friday

Flint Northern High School's tough defensive line and a speedy halfback named Art Johnson dumped the big bad Bay City Central Wolves from the undefeated ranks, 18-12, before 10,801 at Flint last night.

Win gave Northern a 1st-place tie with Flint Central in the Saginaw Valley Conference. Neither team has lost in two league starts. Bay City fell to 3rd with a 2-1 record. Flint Central beat Arthur Hill, 33-24.

Both teams scored twice in the 2nd period for a 12-12 halftime deadlock. Johnson rounded left end for 60 yards and the 1st TD and seset up the 2nd with a 63-yard run to the five. Shep Begay went over to give Northern a 12-0 edge. Wolf quarterback Bill Cabage went 25 yards for a score and passed 40 yards to end Charles Cowan for the tying tally.

Vikings' winning touchdown came in the 4th period after recovery of a Bay City fumble on the Wolves 24. In three plays, Begay scored from 10 yards out.

Teddy Davis Wins Verdict Over Araujo in Slow Bout

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP) — Teddy (Red Top) Davis and George Araujo today are co-holders of the "lemon" championship for 1953. As time is fast running out, it looks like they will keep the title.

* * *

The lightweight 10-rounder between Davis, 130½, of Hartford, Conn., and Araujo, 133½, of Providence, R. I., could have been worse if Referee Ruby Goldstein hadn't kept warning the boys to "come on and fight."

* * *

Davis won the unanimous decision from the referee and Judges Bert Grant and Joe Eppy. Goldstein had it 6-3-1 and both judges 6-4. The AP card was 6-3-1.

While an estimated 3,000, paying $7,000, booed and howled, Goldstein kept telling the fighters, "Come on. You're lousing up the Garden."

Davis always was moving in while Araujo, a newlywed who was knocked out by lightweight champ Jimmy Carter in his last Garden appearance, was running away. The so-called New England lightweight title, held by Davis, was at stake.

* * *

"I tried," said Araujo. "It's the first time I ever got a warning. I felt all right but I had no strength. When you don't have it you just don't have it."

* * *

Davis said he "felt awful" about the warnings but "tried to get close enough to make a fight of it."

Titan Cager Collapses

DETROIT (AP)—University of Detroit basketball guard and captain George Fefles collaps d after practice yesterday and was taken to Mt. Carmel Mercy Hospital, suffering a possible kidney infection.

Fefles, a junior, had complained of illness earlier in the week.

Wildcats Unconvinced

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Coach Bob Voigts of Northwestern's underdog Wildcats isn't convinced Ohio State can take his team today in a Big Ten tussle before some 81,000 fans.

The boss of the Evanston, Ill., crew, nosed out by field goals the last two years by the Bucks, ignored the 10 to 12-point edge the Ohioans are granted by the experts.

Viewers Get Look at Giel on TV Today

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — A nationwide television audience focused on All-America Paul Giel today as Minnesota battled Pittsburgh in the NCAA-approved game of the week.

Game itself, pitting two thrice-beaten teams, was incidental to the larger attraction of the star Gopher halfback who has cut a broad path across the collegiate football scene for the last three years.

Pittsburgh hoped it had the answer to Giel in a punishing forward wall which has distinguished itself in a year of Pittsburgh disappointment. Giel has met talented lines before this year, but probably none pack the brute strength of Pittsburgh's.

Minnesota was established as a 1-touchdown favorite, a tribute to Giel's prestige rather than to overall team strength.

Changes Plans

GM Bows to Public Opinion on 'Panorama'

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors isn't going to try to give the nation any more television panoramas of football. It tried once. That was enough.

Fans didn't like the bits and pieces they got of four different games a week ago. They told GM so in a ratio of 7-to-1.

So another scheduled panorama for Nov. 7 is out. Instead, GM and NBC have decided, with NCAA approval, to televise three games regionally and a fourth locally.

Today's nationwide telecast of the Minnesota-Pittsburgh game at Minneapolis won't be affected at all. Neither will any others originally slated for full treatment.

Instead of next Saturday's panorama, GM and NBC announced the lineup:

The Kansas-Kansas State game at Lawrence, Kans., starting at 4:45 p.m., EST, will be seen in Kansas, Missouri, Oklahoma, Texas, Colorado, Nebraska, Utah, Arizona, California, Oregon and Washington.

Florida and Georgia, starting at 2:15 p.m., EST, for Maryland, Virginia, North Carolina, Kentucky, Tennessee, Arkansas, Mississippi, Louisiana, Alabama, Georgia, Florida, and Washington, D. C.

Northwestern-Wisconsin at Evanston, Ill., starting at 2:15 p.m., EST, will be seen over all other NBC-TV stations with one exception.

That is the South Carolina—North Carolina game starting at 1:45 p.m., EST. It will be televised locally in Columbia, S. C., site of the game.

Four games on the regional and local schedule are the same four that would have been seen on the panorama arrangement. Limited cable facilities prevent wider coverage of the South Carolina game.

Rams, Lions Meet for Lead in NFL's Western Division

By BEN OLAN

NEW YORK (AP)—Los Angeles will be the center of National Football League attraction tomorrow when the power-packed Rams take on the defending champion Detroit Lions with 1st place at stake in the circuit's Western Conference.

The teams are tied for the conference lead with four wins and one loss apiece. This will be their 2nd get-together of the season. Los Angeles won the first 31-19 in Detroit two weeks ago.

Green Bay Packers and the Baltimore Colts kick off the full schedule of six week-end tilts tonight in other games, the undefeated Cleveland Browns meet the Washington Redskins, the San Francisco 49ers face the Chicago Bears, the Pittsburgh Steelers go against the Philadelphia Eagles and the New York Giants clash with the Chicago Cardinals.

Detroit-Los Angeles tussle which is expected to attract a crowd of 80,000, again will pit ace passers Norm Van Brocklin and Bobby Layne. In their previous meeting, Van Brocklin pitched touchdown aerials of 40 and 45 yards for the Rams while Layne heaved a pair of payoff heaves for the Lions.

Cleveland, the Eastern Conference pace-setter with a 5-0 record, is rated a 2-touchdown favorite over Washington.

Y. A. Tittle, San Francisco's passing threat, will be ready, if needed, against the Bears. Out for two weeks with a fractured cheekbone, he saw limited action against Detroit last weekend.

The 49ers, by winning, again can move into a contending spot in the Western Conference. The once-proud Bears have won only once in five starts.

Green Bay whipped Baltimore two weeks ago, but the Colts appear to be improving some each week. Packer quarterbacks, Tobin Rote and Babe Parilli, have shown little so far.

Holly Lends a Hand

Traffic Heavy at Top of W-O, Oak-B Standings as Avon, Keego Harbor Win

There was a jam-up at the top of the Wayne-Oakland and Oakland B Conferences today after Friday night's prep football action in the Oakland County area.

* * *

Avondale handed Fitzgerald a 12-0 defeat, which combined with Roseville's 20-0 win over Madison, threw the Oak-B into a three-way deadlock for 1st place. Avondale now needs only beat Madison to clinch a tie for its 1st football championship since 1940.

Keego Harbor whipped Milford, 26-0, and vaulted into a 1st place tie in the Wayne-Oakland as Holly rebounded to hand Northville its 1st league loss, 7-6.

In other leagues, Van Dyke clinched no worse than a tie in the Inter-Lakes by routing Walled Lake, 34-0; Port Huron did likewise in the Eastern Michigan with a 34-7 victory over Birmingham, and Warren wrapped up the Bi-County flag with a 19-0 triumph over Utica.

In non-league activity, Oxford tripped Clarkston, 13-6; Southfield romped over Belleville, 54-13; Romeo edged Rochester, 20-18; and Ionia downed Lake Orion, 26-13.

* * *

Avondale's running game, sparked by Dick Kramp, was responsible for the Yellow Jackets' victory. Toby Aldrich and Marv Evans scored touchdowns after lengthy marches.

Bucky O'Shaughnessy tallied all four touchdowns in Keego's shutout. Three runs were from close in, and the other a 30-yard pass interception.

Holly's "sleeper" play in the 4th quarter set up its tying touchdown, scored by Earl Garner on a sneak. Dick Smith ran the game-winning extra point.

Jim Lister featured Oxford's 2nd half offensive against Clarkston. He scored all 13 Wildcat points. Pat Thompson had given the Wolves a 6-0 halftime lead.

* * *

Dave Juhnke ran for three touchdowns to pace Southfield's rout. Berkley kept alive hopes for a title tie in the Inter-Lakes by beating Farmington, 28-7.

John Malone scored two touchdowns (one on a 91-yard run), passed for a 3rd marker, and passed for four extra points in Van Dyke's victory.

Long runs by Don Robertson, Paul Deliaire and Max Powell gave Rochester an early 18-0 lead over Romeo, but the Falcons folded in the 2nd half, and Romeo climaxed its comeback with Jim Lothrey's 38-yard run for the winning touchdown in the last two minutes.

Joe Mendoza's 55-yard pass play to Ed Leach gave Lake Orion a momentary, 7-7 tie at Ionia, but the up-staters came back with three touchdowns. Mendoza got another TD for the Dragons in the 4th quarter.

Norm Norton's two touchdowns paced Troy's 20-12 win over Clawson. North Branch and Capac both stayed undefeated by playing a 13-13 tie. Bloomfield Hills closed its season with a 12-12 tie against Huron Valley.

THE PONTIAC PRESS

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 31, 1953 PONTIAC, MICHIGAN

background for LIVING

Your Neighbor's House

Home Near Franklin Fits Lakeside Hill

By HAZEL A. TRUMBLE

Weekends at Meadow Lake are special days for Thomas A. Moss, a consultant engineer, whose weekly circuit is New York, San Francisco and Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Moss have just moved into their new home at 6865 Meadowlake road. It is built into a slope of a lakeside hill located south of Maple road and west of Franklin Village.

Designed so the front of the house presents a one-story appearance, the back reveals a two-story plan with a room for every mood and mode of living.

On warm summer evenings, they choose the outdoor patio built on a ledge overlooking the lake. If it happens to be cool fall days and evenings, the recreation room on the ground floor with its pickled pine walls and one wall of Crab Orchard stone offers relaxation before the fireplace.

A pine bar lines one wall and the other ground floor rooms are a laundry room, a fruit and storage cellar, and a spacious gymnasium or storage room.

Terraced walls face the covered patio just outside the recreation room.

On the first floor, a combined kitchen and dining room has a built-in oven and stove. Silver birch is used for wall paneling and cupboards as well as the built-in china cabinet and buffet. Sliding frosted glass doors are used on these. For hardware, Mr. and Mrs. Moss chose hammered copper.

Lemon yellow walls with one papered area in the same background has a touch of red matching the formica counter tops.

For formal entertaining, Mr. and Mrs. Moss will use the large living room with one entire wall of glass. Reseda green gives wall color with the same shade in the Greek key sculptured carpeting. Coral, brown and eggshell are other colors used in this room.

For informal moments, a glassed-in porch with jalousies for warmer weather is paneled in pine and has bright red matchstick draperies.

Bedtime means TV time for this family.

The master bedroom has several shades of pink in walls and carpeting and a pair of limed oak bureaus are centered with a TV whose cabinet is the same wood.

The other bedroom features cocoa brown, blue and gold with pickled pine furnishings. Both bedrooms have spacious twin closets with sliding doors. The house includes four different bathrooms with various shades of tile and decorating decor.

For reading hours they select the den with its walls of bookshelves and deep red leather furniture.

Exterior of the house, which was designed by Edward M. Bissell, architect, of Birmingham, is of Tennessee ledgerock, and Roman brick. White shutters give the house a colonial appearance.

Builder of the house was Gustav Siegmund of Southfield township. Meadowlake Farms where the Ross home is located was designed and developed by George Wellington Smith of Franklin.

GREEN WITH A CORAL TOUCH—Reseda green with touches of brown, gold and coral gives this lovely formal living room the artist's touch. Carpeting in the same green as the walls features the Greek key pattern sculptured in two different weaves. A pair of coral barrel chairs are on a swivel to make it possible to face any part of the room without moving the chair, and eggshell forms the color background for the draperies in the same brown, gold and coral.

Decorating Scheme Is Built Around Favorite Painting

NEW YORK (INS) — Looking for a new, and original, decorating color scheme?

Paul McCobb, Nancy McClelland, William Pahlmann and Walter Dorwin Teague have done room displays keyed to individual paintings.

1. How modern art fits into decoration of any period.

2. How modern art can provide the theme of an individual decor.

Each of the decorators picked out a painting, and then built the room setting around the painting.

Pahlmann picked a semi-realistic gondola scene in modern style, and vivid orange and green colors. He framed it in pickled pine, hung it on a yellow-painted wall, and used it as the nucleus for an enclosed porch or patio setting.

Pahlman selected black wrought iron furniture, and centered the display around a very long wrought iron table with an orange, white, black and green tile top. He flanked the table with a row of green plants, added a Chinese antique chair in redwood finish, and used rush mats for floor covering.

Teague selected a fishing scene in oil, showing a burnt siena boat on muted blue water. He used this painting as the starting point for a man's study, featuring muted blue and bright mediterranean blue as the chief colors.

New Lamps Blend With Traditional

As traditional furniture assumes new importance, the lamp to light it up has gone more 19th Century.

More floor lamps ranging from the very tall (some over six feet) to the less-than-four-foot lamps are adaptable to the newer type low-slung furniture.

Coordination is the big word in lamps.

People are hunting for lamps that go together either by having the same textured bases, using the same general color scheme or repeating the same design motifs in the bases or shades.

Black and brass and white and brass are new style notes for bases along with burnished gold, dulled silver and brass.

Pine Paneling Can Be Dressed With Art Work

Decorators Cele and Lester Byock did that in a room display for the recent National Homefurnishings Show.

They used plain knotty pine paneling as a background to French provincial furniture. The pine was first given a light wash of pigmented varnish in a very pale gold tint. This was transparent enough to let the grain show through, but provided a "finish" to the raw wood.

MEADOW LAKE VIEW—A mirrored lake centers the Meadowlake Farms development where Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Moss have built their new colonial ranch style home. From the living room windows of the Moss home, the natural slope which leads down to the lake gives them a view that changes with the seasons.

CRAB ORCHARD STONE, PINE—A recreation room with one wall and fireplace of crab orchard stone is part of the ground floor plan of the Moss home. Walls are of pickled pine paneling and a pine bar divides the room from the corridor which leads to other sections of this home. A laundry room, furnace room, storage and fruit cellar and a large "gymnasium" or storage room are also located on this floor.

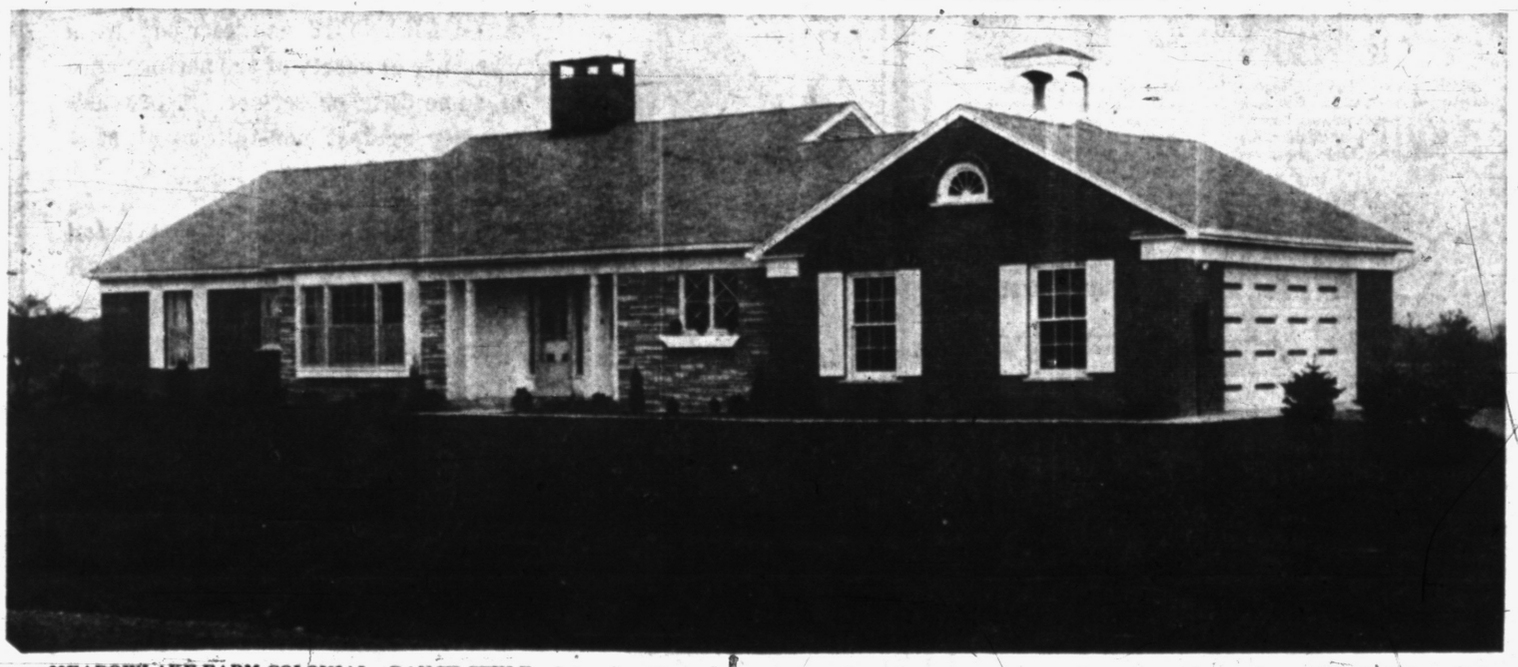

Planning Should Remove Hazardous Obstructions

If there is a door in your home that will not open all the way because of furniture, you have an accident hazard. A little extra planning can rearrange the furniture and avoid bruised knees, bumped heads or broken watch crystals.

SUITE FOR SLEEP—A master bedroom that picks its colors from a variety of pink shades has a TV arrangement that competes with the "reading in bed" habit. Mr. and Mrs. Moss had a TV cabinet built of limed oak to match twin bureaus and which is placed between them. In this picture the print of the draperies is shown. Background of these is in eggshell with brown and turquoise print. The cotton carpeting is a Shocking Pink with walls in a lighter shade fading lighter at the ceiling molding.

Pontiac Press Photos

MEADOWLAKE FARM COLONIAL—RANCH STYLE—A two-faced house, the new home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Moss faces Meadowlake road as a colonial ranch style brick, ledgerock and white paneled design appearing to be a one-story house. On the back, because it is built into the slope of the hill on the lake ledge, it reveals an extensive two-story floor plan with complete walls of windows facing the lake. White shutters give the windows the authentic colonial touch. This is a 12-room house with four bathrooms.

ranean blue leather. The drapes were dull blue and gray striped texture cloth. Brass accessories and vivid orange, red and electric blue throw rug on gray carpeting provided accents.

Nancy McClelland's painting was a still life showing a bottle, some grapes and a red glass. The decorator made this contemporary art work the center of a period dining room, with blued-gray antique Louis XV chairs and sideboard, antique gray and green leaf pattern wallpaper, and a round table in a special cover. The tablecloth was made of grayed chartreuse linen piped in red to match the red velvet seat cushions.

Paul McCobb, who specializes in modern furniture design, had the most modern display. He picked a "non-objective" painting—just a geometric pattern of orange squares.

McCobb put this in an original modern-styled frame in wood and tarnished gold, and picked up the colors of both frame and picture with some of his own bleached walnut and brass and-white glass furniture. All upholstery was keyed to black and white, or a tweedy black-and-white mixture. And to emphasize the color scheme, McCobb used grass cloth panels as wall coverings and put a big bowl of bright fresh oranges on the sideboard.

BAD WEATHER FUN—No elaborate decorations were necessary to turn this basement room into a simple and inexpensive play area for energy-packed youngsters.

Basement Rumpus Room Ideal Place for Children

With stormy weather ahead, indoor play space for the young ones can be one of the major headaches in a busy household. All that jet-propelled energy must be expended somewhere.

If it isn't channeled, the destruction to property, temper bursts and wild disorder can make hash of a living room.

Ideally, a well-equipped playroom should come with every child, but such is seldom the case. Beautiful recreation rooms are usually planned for the people who need them least—the grownups.

As a smart young couple (parents of three) pointed out, the time you most need extra play space is the time you can least afford elaborate equipment—when the kids are little.

With young, popular youngsters, they solved their play space problem, and inevitably that of their neighbors', simply and inexpensively. Guided by their understanding of what small children need and enjoy, they turned one large dry basement room into a true recreation room.

Bolted to one of the beams are two rope and wood climbing ladders and one low homemade swing. A heavy rope knotted around the beam provides more climbing tests for would-be acrobats.

An old, inexpensive cotton mattress on the floor under the ladders cushions any bumps.

Closet cast-offs, gathered together in an old steamer trunk, provide exciting dress-up material for girls and boys alike. Three miniature household appliances equip a "housekeeping corner." Catering to the scribblers is a blackboard and an old desk which holds crayons and water colors.

This leaves plenty of floor space for the madly riding tricyclists to work the cramps out of their muscles, too.

Although the neighbors' kids flock to play here, too, the noise and hubbub are confined.

Best of all, in the young mother's opinion, she can keep an eye on her neatly ordered upstairs to their normal, vigorous play.

Ventilation Needed for Drying Clothes

In the battle to rid our homes of the excess moisture that frequently causes serious damage, we are becoming more aware of the sources of the destructive force.

Many home owners, for instance, are amazed to learn that ten pounds of clothes after being washed and spun-dried in an automatic machine, still contain about ten pounds of liquid water. When the clothes are dried indoors, this water must be evaporated. In vapor form, it will mix with the air within the room.

If it is the usual practice to dry clothes within the house, ample ventilation must be provided in the drying area to carry outdoors the moisture given off by the drying clothes. Mechanical clothes dryers should be vented to the outside or exhaust fans should be operated in rooms while the dryer is in use.

Put Out Grease Fire With Baking Soda

You can prevent grease fires in the kitchen by simply mopping up after every meal. Old grease splatters on the stove can ignite and cause a serious fire.

If holiday chores keep you so busy you don't have time to clean, put some baking soda near the stove.

Baking soda is a quick extinguisher for small grease fires, and is much better than water (which tends to spread a grease fire) or flour which may cause an explosion).

Baked Enamel Finish Made for Long Wear

That's why the baked enamel that goes on elevator wall panels, ceilings and doors must keep its attractive appearance despite the constant wear and tear it must endure through many years of uninterrupted service.

Is It Guaranteed?

By Whom? In Writing? Does It Mean Anything?

A GUARANTEE is described as a warranty or surety of the performance of some duty or service. It provides security against non-fulfillment of a promise or contract.

For his own protection a purchaser should not accept broad verbal assurances regarding merchandise or services. Honest business will readily back its guarantees in writing.

Avoid misunderstandings by insisting upon clear and specific guarantees when offered. Then read and retain. Remember, a guarantee is only as good as "the man behind it" whether a transaction be large or small.

FRANKLIN KNOLLS INTERIOR—In a new development known as Franklin Knolls, north of James Couzen Highway between 13 and 14 Mile roads, 200 contemporary ranch homes are under construction. Opened for press prevue for the first time this week, the above room is the L-shaping living-dining den area. The color scheme is Creole beige, gold and avocado green. The Creole beige walls repeat the color of the wall-to-wall cotton broadloom floor covering. Separator in this room from the den section is a two-way brick fireplace. These homes are being constructed by the Franklin Construction Co., and are now open for public inspection.

You don't have to clean paint brushes if you are sure you'll be painting again in just a few days. Merely wrap the bristle in kitchen aluminum foil and they will stay soft for several days.

Homes in Franklin Knolls Built on Different Heights

Although each home on the winding streets is built on a different elevation, general layout boasts an L-shaped dining-living room and den area separated by a partial wall of brick. This is also a two-way fireplace.

Two full baths with ceramic tile, one with ceramic tile shower and the other with built-in vanity, are in all the houses. A paneled wall in the den and all birch kitchen cabinets are standard with a continuous 26-foot long window wall with centered French doors opening onto the rear patio of the house.

"Goal of the builders," said Lester Taubman, custom-builder associated with Franklin Knolls, "is to offer a home for an income group which has been virtually neglected since the war.

Aluminum Link Fencing Keeps Toddler at Home

Mothers who like to fence their children in for safety's sake may be interested in new aluminum chain-link models now available. This aluminum fencing is especially recommended for toddlers who like to chew on strange objects. It won't rust.

Asbestos Fiber Top Product in Rhodesia

Southern Rhodesia, long known chiefely as a gold producing country, now turns out asbestos fiber in such volume tha tits value exceeds that of its gold output. Asbestos fibers, which will not burn, are used for countless commercial purposes, including manufacture of asbestos cement building products.

Harmonize Colors in Bedroom, Bath

In one household the project has been developed by using four tones of rose and red—with green as a complement. Beginning with the deep rosy tone of mahogany for the bedroom furniture and using a rich maroon wall-to-wall carpeting, the lighter tones of rose appear in the medium rose tone of the paint for the walls and two other blending rose tones that are used in the draperies and in the bedding.

Winter Weather Hard on Homes

Make Minor Repairs Now to Prevent Major Ones Later

Winter weather is rough on home exteriors. So while there are a few mild days left, take a good look at your home and make sure it's ready for winter.

The main thing is to keep exterior surfaces sealed against water, ice, snow and wind. This is important not only for your comfort and to keep fuel bills down, but because once that seal is broken there's greater danger of further damages.

If you neglect minor repairs now, you'll have major ones on your hands later. You'll be amazed with what a little paint, cement, and caulking will do to keep your house in top shape.

ELEGANCE IN BREAKFRONTS—Choice Louis XVI designs were the inspiration for this impressive breakfront, shown recently in a collection featured in Grand Rapids. Actually two separate pieces, the buffet base may be used alone in the dining room—or the two pieces may be used as a breakfront in either living or dining room. Base contains three silver drawers below which are these doors. The two doors at the left open on a large compartment with an adjustable shelf extending the full width of the two doors. There are three sliding trays in the compartment at the right. The wood is choice walnut.

Proceed With Caution

Knickknacks, Heirlooms Finding New Use as Lamps

NEW YORK (INS) — There seems to be a new American method of disposing of old knick-knacks, heirlooms, gadgets and memory items.

The make - a - lamp - out - of - it trend is certainly not new, but with the growth of "do-it-yourself" fever, it's become practically a national hobby.

The lamp-making urge does serve two worthwhile purposes. First, it provides an excuse for keeping a sentimental souvenir on display in the living room. Second, it certainly gives that "personal touch" in decoration.

There are lamps around which started out in life as loving cups, pottery vases, travel souvenirs, club emblems, baby shoes and even ammunition.

And if the object won't make a good-looking lamp, restrain the impulse, or your new "lamp" will wind up in the attic anyhow.

Another point to be kept in mind is the value of the piece you want to convert. A really good vase or a valuable antique will never be the same after you drill wire holes into it.

If you have a worthwhile memento or an antique that should be shown off, take the trouble to plan the lamp conversion carefully. For example, many items can be put on a base, and the wiring run up alongside, so that you have your "lamp"—but you also have an intact memento that can be "de-lamped" when you feel like it.

With a little imagination and planning, you could achieve unusual well lamps, matched boudoir lamps or even candle sconces from your cherished memento.

Always, however, be honest about the possible results. Grandfather's musket may be a dandy family souvenir as is, but it could look ghastly as a lamp in your refined traditional living room.

For Plastering Holes

Painting Leads Popularity List

Survey Shows 17 of 20 Homeowners Are Brush and Bucket Fans

* * *

What's more, 17 out out of every 20 homeowners are do-it-yourselfers with a paint brush and other household tools.

According to the survey figures, 80 per cent of all U. S. homeowners do their own painting. This covers everything from touching up the kitchen chairs to redoing the whole house.

* * *

Next in do-it-ourself popularity were wood-working and carpentry. Twelve per cent of the homeowners queried said that they construct their own furniture, three per cent make their own picture frames, 24 per cent tend to their own leaking faucets, and a similar 24 per cent fancy themselves as amateur electricians.

The do-it-yourselfers repaired nine per cent of the toasters, one per cent of the refrigerators and two per cent of the clocks that had to be fixed.

All these fixit fans had the same explanation for why they like to do things themselves. They said it cuts household budgets, and also gives them pleasure.

Yellow, White, Grey Good Color Scheme

An attractive color scheme that gives a sunshiny air to a clapboard cottage combines yellow, white, gray and black. The body of the house is painted in a soft yellow hue, while the trim and doors are gleaming white.

The roof is a medium gray and the shutters are painted a glistening black which lends smartness to the house. A black painted carriage lamp beside the front door lends additional charm.

Keeps Blankets Clean

An easy way to keep the top edge of your blanket from soiling is to baste a wide piece of soft, washable cloth over the edge. The cloth will catch the soil, can easily be removed and washed, and saves you the job of washing the whole blanket frequently.

Building Totals Show Advance

Southern Michigan Has 15 Per Cent Gain Over Nine Months of '52

DETROIT — Boosted upward by September construction contract awards of $81,138,000 that were 18 per cent ahead of August and 47 per cent ahead of September 1952, the southern Michigan area finished the 1st nine months of the year a solid 15 per cent ahead of 1952, said Marvin J. Brokaw, district news manager of F. W. Dodge Corporation. The nine month total was $638,219,000.

This increase was far ahead of the one per cent gain for nine months for the entire 37 eastern states according to totals of Dodge Reports, and it put the local region in a better than good position to end the year on a par with 1952.

September nonresidential awards at $24,804,000 were 22 per cent behind August but 33 per cent above September 1952.

Residential at $34,011,000 was 12 per cent more than August and 41 per cent more than September 1952.

Heavy engineering (public works and utilities) $22,232,000 was 228 per cent ahead of August and 81 per cent more than September 1952.

Individual nine month totals compared with nine months last year: Nonresidential, $262,125,000, up 20 per cent; residential, $270,226,000, up 10 per cent; heavy engineering, $105,868,000, up 15 per cent.

Emerald and White, Striking Combination

A rich emerald green combined with off-white is as dramatic as black-and-white, but much richer and luxurious looking.

Plastic Shoe Bag Serves for Boots in Vestibule

The old system of putting a cardboard box in the vestibule for placing rubbers and galoshes was fine in the old days, but there's no excuse for it nowadays.

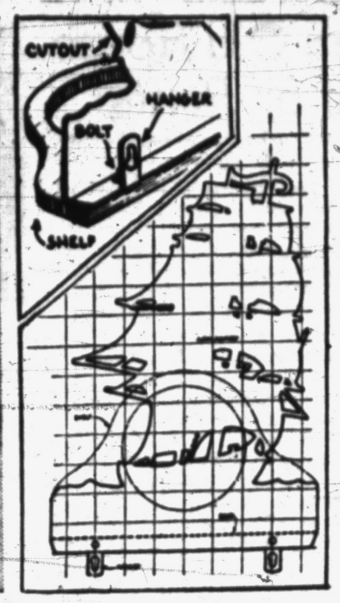

An inexpensive plastic shoe bag serves the purpose well and avoids messy searching through a pile of wet overshoes for that "other rubber." The plastic bag can also be washed periodically.

HOBBYCRAFT PROJECT—A flower pot wall bracket makes an interesting combination sheet metal and woodworking home shop project.

A background pattern of a clipper ship in full sail is designed on squared paper, then cut out to pattern from galvanized sheet iron. This can be painted black or red to suit.

The bottom edge is bent back with holes allowed for bolting to the flower pot shelf. Tabs for hanging are then bent up to provide hangers to fit over screw heads.

The shelf is readily formed on a power-driven shaper and a hole is cut to accommodate a 4-inch flower pot. For other size pots the size of the shelf is changed accordingly.

This is a home craftsman's idea worked out by the Delta power tool division of the Rockwell Manufacturing Co., publishers of plan books for one-evening projects and novelties.

No Use Putting New Varnish on Top of Old

By HUBBARD COBB

As we have so often said, there is no point in refinishing a floor unless you first remove the old finish. The reason for all this is that when a floor needs refinishing it's because the old finish is shot. If you just apply shellac or varnish over the old, you won't gain very much — if at all.

If the finish is badly worn so that the wood has been damaged you'd better rent a sanding machine but if you catch the floor in time, all you have to do is to remove the old finish and apply a fresh one.

For floors finished with shellac the solvent you use to remove the finish is denatured alcohol. Just brush the alcohol over the floor, give it a second or two to work and then wipe up the softened shellac with steel wool or a coarse cloth.

Do only a small area at a time because alcohol evaporates very quickly and if you try to cover too great an area the alcohol will be gone before you get to that section.

If the floor is finished with varnish you'll need a paint and varnish solvent. Be sure to use one that is non-inflammable and keep it off the baseboard and trim around doors.

Give the solvent a few minutes to work and then strip off the varnish with a putty knife or with excelsior. After you've got all the old varnish off the floor, rinse it several times with water. The water will raise the wood grain slightly which means you'll have to give the wood a light sanding before the new finish is applied.

Tea Is Good Stain

Strong tea diluted with a little water makes an excellent antique-like stain for pine wood. When dry, cover with two thin coats of fresh white shellac and then wax.

Mellow Finish From 'Antique' Enamel Surface

If you like an especially mellow finish on any enamel surface, you can "antique" it after the enamel dries. This means applying a glaze coat directly over the enamel, then wiping off a portion of it to obtain a soft, shaded effect, with the background color still predominating. Your paint dealer can supply you with the glazing liquid.

Apply your glaze generously to the enameled surface with a paint brush. On large objects, apply the coating only to one section of the piece at a time.

On flat surfaces, wipe the glaze away with a circular motion of a cloth. Start at the middle and work toward the edges. The center of a panel should be the lightest with the color gradually darkening toward the sides. Employ the same technique on carved surfaces. Here, you may need to use a dry paint brush to remove excess glaze from depressions in the carving.

Reconditioning Old House Better for Sale or Rental

Repair and modernization of older homes will become an increasingly important factor in the country's housing industry if present experiments in the trade-in house field prove successful, builders say.

The Federal Housing Administration, in cooperation with the National Home Builders' Assn., is sponsoring a new procedure which places emphasis on reconditioning of trade-in property before builders offer it for resale or rent.

Designed to make it easier for home owners to acquire new or older homes better suited to their needs, the program permits builders to utilize FHA-insured mortgages for partial financing in the purchase and modernization of trade-ins.

Under the plan a person having sufficient equity in an old house, for example, can simply turn it over to a new home builder as down payment on a new dwelling, much as he would trade in his old car for a new model. The builder effects the improvements deemed necessary to make it marketable, then resells it.

Hundreds of thousands of older homes with worn exteriors, for instance, could be restored to attractivenecss and sound condition by such improvements as new asbestos-cement siding or roofing.

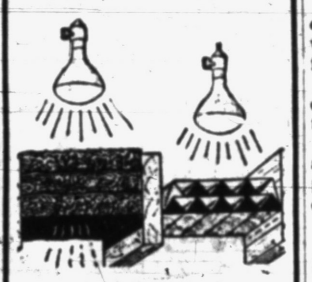

Modernization of that kind not only gives an aging home new beauty and buyer appeal but adds greatly to its livability and prolongs its life by many years. Additionally, of course, it increases the value of the home.

Building industry observers believe the trade-in innovation may well spur modernization among home owners who have no immediate plans for disposing of their homes but who may wish to consider such a move later. By renewing deteriorated sidewalls with asbestos siding, for instance, an owner would enjoy its many benefits, including fire-safety and freedom from maintenance, during the family's remaining years in the house.

Then, were the home to be traded in later, it would command higher value. In establishing the trade-in price of a dwelling, FHA points out, the builder takes into account the estimated cost of reconditioning and deducts accordingly.

Unfilled Cracks in Plaster Show Through Paint

Painting covers a multitude of sins, but if you fail to cover up cracks in the plaster, your sins will find you out.

First, take a stiff brush or whisk broom and remove the loose plaster from the cracks. Smooth off crumbly edges with a sharp tool and you are ready to begin patching.

Mix plaster of Paris with cold water to a thick paste. A few drops of vinegar will prevent too rapid hardening.

When the patch is dry, sand away any roughness, dust and prime and then apply the new color coat.

4 Ways to Make Mirrors Glisten

Restoring the glint to mirrors is no problem with any of several cleaning mixtures offered by Mamie Whisnant, home management specialist at North Carolina State College.

She gives four suggestions:

1. "Two tablespoons of washing soda to four quarts of warm water.
2. "Two tablespoons of kerosene to four quarts of warm water.
3. "One-fourth cup of ammonia to four quarts of warm water.
4. "One-half cup denatured alcohol to four quarts of warm water."

PLAN FOR FUTURE—Planned for attic expansion, this is a house for the handyman. With space upstairs for two large bedrooms and an extra bath, it is a house that can grow with the family. This is plan 1893-C by William G. Chirgotis, Architect, 968 Stuyvesant Ave., Union, N. J. The house covers less than 1,100 square feet without garage, and is planned for a full basement with workshop space. (Further information and blueprints available from architect).

Build Own Home in Three Years in Spare Time

A young married couple, with no experience in major carpentry, have built an attractive single floor plan near Williamsville, N. Y. virtually through their bare-handed labor. They undertook the ambitious project because they wanted to enjoy the satisfaction of building the house they really wanted.

Verne Simril, a physical chemist, and his wife, drew the plans for the house, which consisted of four bedrooms, full basement, modern kitchen, a fair size dining room, living room with paneled walls, raftered ceiling, stone fireplace and bay window.

The Simrils and their three young sons occupied the house, which was weathertight but unfinished, a year and a half after work began. Total completion time: 40 hours a week for the first year, 20 hours weekly the next two years, during Verne's after office hours and on weekends.

Electrical Jobs Now Easy to Do

Kit Enables Housewives to Make Minor Repairs Without Aid

Housewives will never really threaten the job of electricians, but they can do minor electrical jobs that are too trifling to call an expert but too important to be ignored.

This means for "do it yourself" wiring are becoming available in small, inexpensive kits of wiring essential from a half-a-dozen leading electrical manufacturers.

The kits are intended only for repairing frayed extension cords, replacing broken plugs or sockets, temporarily increasing the number of electrical outlets, and similar jobs which do not involve constant-current-bearing wires.

Since a number of manufacturers are producing or planning to produce the kit, their makeup is not the same in every case. All items, however, are molded of ivory-colored urea plastic, which meets national safety code regulations for fire resistance.

A typical kit contains a length of extension cord; quick-clamp fittings for both the plug and appliance ends of extension cords; a three-way outlet for wall outlets; a two-way outlet and bulb socket to screw into a single bulb socket; a screw plug outlet; an assortment of fuses and a roll of friction tape.

Window Washing More Tricky in Direct Sunlight

"Wash windows when the sun is not shining directly on them to cause uneven evaporation of the cleaner and give a streaked surface."

It's more economical, she continued, to use a soft paper instead of a cloth, but both must be lint free.

A good cleaning solution can be concocted from one tablespoon of washing soda dissolved in a pail of clear water.

On a very cold day moisten the cloth with alcohol or kerosene. Kerosene is a very efficient inexpensive cleaner.

Whiting or some prepared cleaning paste may also be used on windows with good results. Said the specialist:

"Let the cleaning agent dry, then wipe off the powder which removes the grease film, leaving the windows bright and clear."

Asbestos Fiber Has No Good Substitute

Despite many efforts by research chemists, no satisfactory substitute for asbestos fibers has ever been developed.

One of Nature's most remarkable gifts, asbestos has been known from antiquity as the "magic mineral."

Occurring in the earth as a dense, heavy rock usually dark in color, it yields fine, white, silk-like fibers which will not burn. They can be spun or woven.

Among hundreds of uses, they are employed widely in manufacture of fire-safe asbestos-cement siding, roofing and other building products.

Paint Halts Decay

Without paint and industrial product finishes our modern world would almost literally fall apart. Even the nails that hold your home together are often treated with varnish. Such a finish makes them hold with four times the strength of the ordinary, uncoated nail.

Mercerization, a method of strengthening cotton and giving it a silk-like sheen, was discovered in 1844.

Newest TV Sets Made for Utility

May Be Room Dividers, Storage Cabinets, or Combination Units

NEW YORK (INS)—Television sets offer more cabinet style value this winter than ever before.

The newest TV sets are being made to "fit" homes. There are television sets that are room dividers, storage pieces or hutch-top cabinets—all for the price of the TV alone.

The price isn't low, because high-style cabinets are evident only in the expensive floor-models. But custom ideas definitely have come into the mass-production market.

There's a room-divider TV that actually incorporates a television set, a tuner and a record changer into a see-through divider. There's another set made exactly like a hutch-top cabinet, with the TV on the bottom and the radio-phonograph combination in the suspended top section.

TV-and-storage models have concealing doors—either tambour, shutter or plain panel doors. These hide both off-duty TV and whatever you're storing.

Most TV models, high-style or plain box cabinets, now are made to suit any decor. You can have your TV provincial or early American, with a choice of cherry, knotty pine or maple.

You can also go modern with bleached woods, two-tone walnuts and korina. As for trim, there's a choice of wood, brass or wrought iron legs.

Lap Boards Find Many Uses With Crowded Living

Home furnishings specialist Dorothy Iwig of the University of Illinois suggests that these boards be made out of plywood about 18 inches wide and 30 inches long.

Cut a semi-circular piece off one side about 13 inches long and five inches deep so it will fit up closely to your waist.

You can use them for writing, sewing or breakfast in bed or for buffet suppers if you have enough of them to go around for your guests.

The head of the Statue of Liberty can accommodate 40 persons standing upright.

"The things that go on IN OUR CELLAR!"

"We turned our cellar into a play room for both the milk-shake set and the cocktail crowd — and made my housework much easier!"

Move the energetic youngsters and the fun-loving adults out of your living room into an easy-to-clean cellar play room! You can build this convenient addition to your home easily, quickly, and at surprisingly low cost with Gold Bond fireproof Gypsum Wallboard!

This modern building material is as rugged and durable as the rock from which it is made—yet it's light in weight, easy to handle, simple to use. Just nail the big panels directly to studs or right over the old walls and the job is done! Finish with paint, wallpaper or texture if you wish.

State Official Issues Insurance Warning

Commissioner Joseph A. Navarre of the Michigan Department of Insurance warned today that the department would be unable to protect persons buying insurance from unlicensed companies that are now waging an aggressive mail campaign.

In information prepared for the Michigan Association of Insurance Agents, Navarre pointed out that legal limitations of his office make it difficult to combat mail solicitation of unlicensed organizations.

Persons solicited for insurance solely by mail were urged to contact Navarre's office or established insurance agents in their communities for information on the status of any insurance organization.

While most insurance companies and agents use mail advertising, Navarre said mail order proposals failing to designate the name and address of a licensed Michigan agent should be checked thoroughly.

Cass City OES Club Elects New President

CASS CITY—Mrs. Erwin Binder was elected president for the coming year at a meeting of Nellie M. Young Past Matrons Club of Echo Chapter 337 of OES Wednesday.

Other officers elected were Mrs. Harry Falkenhagen, vice president; Mrs. Mason Wilson, secretary; and Mrs. Arthur Little, treasurer.

THE TOWNSHIP BOARD OF WATERford, County of Oakland, State of Michigan, ordains:

The following amendment to the Waterford Township Building Code: Section 304.3 Exterior Walls—to read:

1. Framing.

All external wall covering materials shall be moisture-resistant, of sufficient stiffness and properly anchored to remain in place during high winds and be reasonably permanent, provided however, that no type of material shall be used other than those types approved by the Township Board. A list of such approved materials may be obtained from the building inspector. All exterior wood or metal stud walls shall provide strength and rigidity equivalent to the following:

2 inch by 4 inch wood studs spaced not more than 16 inches on center for all walls.

All studs shall be securely fastened to plates top and bottom; and diagonally braced at outside corners of walls except where wood sheathing is used. Walls shall have corner posts either built-up or solid of not less than three 2 by 4s. Top plates shall be not less than doubled 2 by 4s which shall lap at all corners and at all intersecting partitions. All such laps shall be securely spiked. All window and door openings shall have studs doubled on jambs. The inner stud shall be cut to receive the header over the opening and shall extend in one piece from header to bearing.

Headers over all openings shall be doubled and shall be set on edge. In lieu of headers, trussed construction may be used. Spans for headers shall not exceed the following for the size given:

Spans up to 4 feet, two 2 by 4s
Spans 4 feet to 5½ feet two 2 by 6s
Spans 5½ feet to 7 feet two 2 by 8s
Spans over 7 feet two 2 by 10s

This amendment is hereby declared to be immediately effective to preserve the public health, peace, safety and morals and hereby ordered to take effect thirty (30) days after publication. Made and passed this 17th day of October 1953.

Find Royal Oaker Hanging From Tree

BURGETTSTOWN, Pa. (UP) — The body of Charles J. Bellanger, 31, of 1517 W. Maple Ave. Royal Oak, was found hanging from a tree by a tow cable yesterday along a road six miles west of here.

Police said Bellanger, an electronics maintenance technician, apparently committed suicide. A handwritten will, leaving his personal effects to various relatives, was found. However, there was no other note.

Bellanger's automobile, filled with clothes and other personal possessions, was nearby.

Suffers Jaw Injury in Three-Car Crash

Mrs. Bessie Blasingame, 30, of 449 S. Edith St., was admitted to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital for a fractured jaw, suffered in a three-car collision at Auburn Ave. and Marshall Blvd. yesterday. She was a passenger in an auto driven by her husband, Marion H., 39.

Quoting the motorists involved, Pontiac Police said an auto driven by Gerald G. Wasik, 33, of 1845 Lakeland, Sylvan Lake, made a sudden stop at the intersection after attempting to make a left turn.

A third auto driven by W. J. Chambers, 43, of 7394 Richmond St., Detroit, struck the rear of Blasingame's auto, forcing it into Wasik's car, said police.

Opening Reminds Milford of Storm

MILFORD — Complete recovery from the tornado which struck here last June will be marked Tuesday with the re-opening of the Kroger store, one of the hardest hit structures.

The store plans one week of grand opening with prizes every day during its harvest week. Milford merchants have joined in setting aside the same week as "bargain days."

Councilmen have granted a special request of the Kroger Co. for a large search light truck to be parked in front of the store from 6 to 9 p. m. during the week.

Stores participating in "bargain days" will be open both Wednesday afternoon and evening.

Farms in Use by Ford Tractor

Birmingham Division Has 2,683 Acres for Tests, Demonstrations

Ford Tractor Division of Birmingham is proving that big league sports teams aren't the only groups with extensive "farm systems" at their disposal.

It operates a 2,683-acre farm system for training personnel and testing implements at three large sites in the area.

At the 500-acre Deer Lake Hills Farm near Clarkston in a luxurious manor house converted into classroom space, Ford tractor distributors from all over the country attend classes and practical demonstrations of the latest farm equipment methods and devices.

Following an intensive study period there, the distributors return to the districts to pass on their newly-acquired knowledge to dealers.

Courses also are held there for sales managers and personnel men, varying from two to seven days.

At Dearborn Farms, Dearborn, a 1,300-acre site is utilized with a similar 883-acre site in Washtenaw County for research and testing of tractors and other farm equipment.

Here the bugs are worked out of experimental models, and new designs receive their initial field trials. Together, the "farm system" provides close at hand sites for both personnel training and equipment testing.

Samuel E. MacArthur, treasurer and controller of Federal-Mogul Corp., Detroit, will moderate a panel discussion Monday at a meeting of the Detroit Chapter of the National Association of Cost Accountants at Park Shelton Hotel, Detroit. Financial cost and tax implications of historical and replacement cost will be discussed.

Self-Styled M.D. Gets 3 Years

Ex-Private Who Posed as Doctor Pleads Guilty to Misrepresentation

CINCINNATI (AP) — A 30-year-old ex-Army private who duped doctors and hospitals in eight states with his pose as an experienced physician will serve the next three years in jail.

His fantastic story unfolded yesterday after he pleaded guilty in Federal District Court to charges of mispresenting himself as a doctor to Army officials.

He is Harold K. Rain, who used the name of Dr. Samuel P. Hall in performing scores of operations. The Federal Bureau of Investigation arrested him Sept. 9 after he asked a magazine editor if the publication would be interested in buying the story of the masquerade.

* * *

Rain said he went to the University of Chicago as a pre-medical student. He attended lectures, too, at the University of Illinois School of Medicine and Cook County Hospital. His claims could not be verified.

After his "training," a medical placement agency referred him to the Inland Lime & Stone Co. of Manistee, Mich., as company doctor.

From there he went to Mississippi, Arkansas and St. Louis, Mo., where he worked in a sanitorium for four months.

He became a resident physician at Camden-Clark Hospital in 1949 at Charleston, W. Va. Here he performed his first major surgery unassisted. Here too he married a nurse.

* * *

They had three children. The couple was divorced and he remarried the day after the decree.

From West Virginia, Rain moved to Ravenna, Ohio. He was resident physician at Portage County Hospital from October, 1947 to July 1948. On the move once more, he went to a clinic at Stephensville, Tex. Here he acquired a reputation as a specialist in obstetrics and gynecology.

But the state medical board caught up with him and fined him $50 for practicing without a license.

* * *

"Dr. Hall" then applied to the Army at Ft. Sam Houston and got accepted as a contract physician. This was the job that got him into difficulties with the federal authorities.

But the law had not caught up with him yet. He became a staff member of the Olney, Ill., sanitorium clinic at $1,000 a month. An operation there on Mrs. Alberta Gross was "close to fatal," said Judge John H. Druffel.

"You realize you have taken the lives of many people in your hands," the judge lectured Rain. "You realize you are a menace to the public. It is fortunate for you you are not up for manslaughter."

When he was arrested in Cincinnati, Rain explained his bizarre career by saying his mother's dying wish was that he become a doctor.

However, the court was told his mother was still living.

Accepts Resignation —Without Thanks

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower has accepted, without the usual thanks for services rendered, the resignation of William D. Mitchell as Small Business Administrator (SBA) chief.

Mitchell, former Denver lawyer and businessman, said he quit for "purely personal reasons." He said he has the greatest respect and friendliest feelings for Eisenhower.

The President, in accepting Mitchell's resignation from the job he accepted only last June 8, wrote:

"I have your leter tendering your resignation as administrator of the Small Business Administration. I accept your resignation effective immediately."

Officials of Philadelphia Greet Greek Monarchs

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — City officials headed by Mayor Joseph S. Clark Jr. formed a welcome party to greet King Paul and Queen Frederika of Greece today on their three-hour visit to the city.

A reception for the royal couple at the Art Museum topped an itinerary which led off with a visit o famed Independence Hall, birhplac of h naion.

The couple are touring 11 U. S. cities.

Hal Boyle Says:

All Men Should Be Eager for Day of Househusband

NEW YORK (AP)—Any man alive today was born just a generation too soon.

He knows he is living in a woman's world, but it is only the threshold of what lies ahead, and the poor critter won't live to reap the real benefits.

He is like a starving tramp looking wistfully through a restaurant window watching a chef broil steaks other people will eat.

I am glad to throw in the towel and admit it's the hand that stirs the ladle and rocks the cradle that now makes the world go round. It's no crying towel either.

You'll get no tears from me for the lost authority of the caveman. I pine not at all for the return of the days when knighthood was in flower and men bought suits with two pairs of metal pants.

My only grudge against life is that I had to live in a time of transition when men still fight the wars but women control most of the money.

Think what a rich, full existence the ordinary man will have in the golden age of woman's rule—say about the year 2,000 — when the girls will be fighting for our favors, when a husband will no longer be a necessity but a luxury, as highly prized by the lassies as a diamond bracelet is today.

That's when you really begin to live—when you move out of the bread-and-butter mealcheck class into the heady luxury field. And, men, we're on the way. Our sex is coming into its own at last, the day when the girls will bargain for our favors.

The mistake women are making is that they are letting us find out their true strength. The signs multiply.

Already 16 million married women are out working and toting home paychecks. The Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. just put out some figures indicating that any woman who wants to avoid becoming a widow had better start courting a lad five years her junior, and maybe 10 years younger if she wants to be on the safe side.

A Philadelphia heart specialist, also hailing the durability of women, said they can drive cars better than men, stand shock better, and he added:

"They can hold down a job, take care of a home and family, and, at the same time, guard the supposedly strong male."

Well, why should any sensible man go on working and fretting when he has these magnificent, all-talented creatures standing around and whinnying in eagerness for the right to be put into harness and pull the plows of the world.

Maybe it's woman's destiny to replace the tractor, which replaced the horse. Do we want to stand in the way of destiny?

What a beautfiul vista for the young man of the future, when woman takes over the power altogether. She can drive better? "Okay, honey, you steer the trucks and buses, too."

She can stand shock b e t t e r? "Okay, dearie, you take all the shocks."

She can lose more blood? "Okay, baby, you go to war. And don't brood about little old me, the lonesome boy you left behind. I'll knit you a pair of wool brassiers and write you a letter every day you're at the front."

Before marriage all a boy will have to do is develop his charm and personality, while dames with good jobs and big bankrolls wine him, dine him, buy him diamond engagement wrist watches and plead:

"Marry me, laddy boy. What if I do have a few wrinkles? It's character you want in a woman —and you know I'm a good, clean, steady, sober, dependable girl."

After marriage the wife will get the privilege of laboring all day in a cool office. But, so what?

There'll be so many gadgets by then that after a five-week airmail correspondence s c h o o l course in engineering, a good husbandhusband will be able to neat up the joint in half an hour and spend the rest of the day sweating over a hot gin rummy game with his pals — and comparing their wives' takehome pay.

You won't have to take any nonsense from your wife. If she is too stingy to buy you a mink overcoat like the husbandhusband next door has, you'll just haul her into the nearest divorce court on mental cruelty charges, and get alimony for the wasted best years of your life.

Honestly, fellows, do you see anything wrong with a real woman's world such as this? Isn't there some way we can vote it in faster?

Milford Passes on Bond Sale

$7,500 at Five Per Cent to Finance Construction of Sewers

MILFORD — Village councilmen here Thursday adopted a resolution authorizing the sale of $7,500 worth of five per cent bonds to finance the construction of sanitary sewers.

Construction of the sewers will begin on Crystal street and continue along Commerce and Elizabeth streets. Two weeks ago the council voted to pay $1,600 in construction costs because of the number of low-assessment vacant lots involved.

In response to a request from Ford Motor Co. in Milford, the council also authorized the paving of 350 feet of Oak Street from West Commerce to the Ford plant property, estimated at a cost of $1,900. The company will continue the paving inside its own property.

The Howell Construction Co. will lay the new surface which, because of the rough condition of the road, has resulted in several near-accidents recently, according to councilmen.

In other business, the council authorized payment of $1,000 due the Howell company for blacktop work done during the summer and payment to H. J. Kenny for sidewalks laid this season.

Mrs. Teal to Entertain

ROMEO—Romeo Book Club will hold its regular meeting Tuesday at 1:30 p.m. in the homr of Mrs. Emerson Teal. Mrs. Rena Priest will be co-hostess.

Members will name a book they have read in answer to roll call, and a book review will be given during the program.

Man Dies Swerving to Avoid School Bus

PORT HURON (UP) — A Royal Oak man was killed Friday when he crashed his car into a ditch rather than hit a school bus at an intersection on U. S. 25 north of Muttonville.

The victim, William D. Slattery, 49, was manager of the Ainsworth Mfg. Co. plant at Marysville.

Bus driver John W. Moses, of Richmond, told State Police he had stopped the bus and looked both ways before entering the highway from a side road. He said he was in the middle of the highway when Slattery's car appeared suddenly.

Slattery veered from the road, hitting a sign and crashing into a ditch.

Moses declined to make a formal statement to Prosecutor Delmer L. Cleland on advice of his attorney. An inquest will be held next week.

In Memoriam 1

IN LOVING MEMORY OF NELLIE L. Wagner who passed away Oct. 29, 1952.
You helped many as you passed along life's way,
Now memory of you helps us to live better every day.
Sadly missed by Frank E. Wagner, Neva L. Hill, Valda L. Kelley, Fern E. McKim.

IN MEMORY OF MRS. HELEN Ring who left us 2 years ago, Oct. 31, 1951.
Gone from us her loving face,
Her pleasant cheerful ways,
A heart that won so many friends,
In by-gone happy days.
Though her smile is gone forever,
And her hand we cannot touch,
We shall never lose sweet memories,
Of one we love so much.
Mother, brothers, and sisters Mrs. Wm. Newkirk, and Mr. Alfred Hallett, Mrs. Charles Herrand, Mrs. Lloyd Wilton.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF MY dear aunt, Mrs. James Vokrall, who passed away on Nov. 1, 1951.
Two long years, you have been away,
But dear aunt I still think of you each day.

Card of Thanks 2

TO ALL OUR FRIENDS AND neighbors who expressed their sympathy and condolence in so many different ways during her long illness and recent bereavement, the family of Mrs. Ann Ashby wishes to express deepest and sincere appreciation.

Expect Finish of Germ Debate

U. N. Action on Matter to Reach Voting Stage This Morning

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — The U.N.'s 60-nation Political Committee strove today to wind up its bitter East-West debate on germ warfare. It was expected to dump the touchy issue into the lap of the Disarmament Commission.

The debate highlighted by U. S. charges that the Russians ran a torture center in Korea to wring germ warfare "confessions" from captured American airmen was slated to reach the voting stage this morning.

Prior to the vote, U.S. Delegate Dr. Charles Mayo, planned to offer a general rebuttal of Soviet bloc charges made during the debate. Russia's Jacob Malik reserved the right to answer Mayo.

* * *

The balloting was on two resolutions:

1. Russia's demand for an Assembly call to all nations which have not done so to ratify the 1925 Geneva Convention against bacteriological warfare. This was aimed at the United States which has refused to ratify it, demanding more than paper promises to stop such practices.

2. A five-power proposal to pass on to the Disarmament Commission both Russia's proposal and records of the committee's germ warfare debate. Those supporting the resolution made it plain it was not intended to show they placed any credence in Russia's germ charges.

* * *

The debate neared an end as the United States speeded plans to get an early Assembly hearing on a related matter — its charges that Reds in Korea committed atrocities against American and other Allied captives.

Some Arab and Asian delegates were reported taking a neutral stand on the U. S. charges, partly from fear they might jeopardize the Korean peace conference.

American sources expressed doubt that a debate on reported atrocities would stop the Communists from attending a conference if they really want one.

* * *

It is expected the U.S. request will be debated in the U.N. steering committee Monday and that the General Assembly will be asked next week to decide whether to take up the item at this time.

Careless Pigeon Does 3-Hour Hitch at Post

AYER, Mass. (AP)—It seems that army life is really for the birds.

A careless pigeon did an involuntary three-hour "hitch" at Ft. Deven yesterday when it became caught by a piece of twine 90 feet up on a radio aerial.

Not only was it windy and raining hard, but the pigeon hung upside down.

Car Getting Old? Wait 49 Years for Better Deal

WASHINGTON (AP)—If the trade-in you're offered on your old heap doesn't strike you right, you might put it away for 49 years and try again—the government is about to get $3,500 for a 1904 Cadillac.

What's more, the car cost the government only $100 in the late 1930's. It has been well fixed up and kept up, though. It's in running shape now.

The maroon, one-cylinder Cadillac (price new: $850) was purchased by the late Harold Ickes, then secretary of the interior and public roads administrator, to use in a highway display.

The government invited bids a month ago and got 65. The high one, unless there are still some in the mail, was by Mrs. Robert L. Slaughter of Fort Worth.

Hearings Will Delay Reorganization Plans

WASHINGTON (AP) — Scheduled House hearings probably will delay indefinitely Secretary of Agriculture Benson's controversial plan for reorganizing the Soil Conservation Service.

Rep. Bender (R-Ohio) announced yesterday the House government operations subcommittee, which he heads, will hold public hearings to "give ample opportunity to all concerned to state their views."

He said he hoped to get the sessions started before Nov. 15. He asked Benson to delay the plan, which the secretary had said would go into effect after next Sunday's deadline for complaints, until after the hearings.

John Winthrop Jr., son of the first governor of the Massachusets Bay Colony helped establish a successful ironworks at Saugus, Mass.

Soviets Charge Obstructionism

'Reaction' Tries to Bar Solutions in Gormany, Korea, Youth Assert

MOSCOW (AP)—The Anti-Fascist Commitee of Soviet Youth published a statement today declaring "dark forces of reaction" are attempting to hinder a Korean settlement and German unification.

The statement was reminiscent of a declaration put out by the Soviet Trade Union Organization just before the last Soviet note to the Western Powers. The declaration was a harbinger of sentiments later expressed in the Soviet note.

(That note puzzled Western diplomats by its hazy reply to Western proposals for a foreign ministers conference on Germany and Austria, and its suggestion for a five-power conference, including Red China, on a long list of problems at present curdling international relations.

* * *

The West is waiting now for the U. S. S. R. to reply to another bid to foreign minister talks on Germany at Lugano, Switzerland, on Nov. 9.

The anti-Fascist youth group statement sounded repetitious of Premier Georgi Malenkov's insistence that all international problems be considered at once, not just Germany and Austria. The Soviet Union is so wrapped up with its internal affairs just now that it may be perfectly satisfied to mark time on the international field indefinitely.

Battleship New Jersey En Route to Home Base

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — The battleship New Jersey, in the naval shipyard here after a second tour of duty in Korean waters, sails today for its home base at Newport News, Va.

The New Jersey plastered the port of Wonsan with shells from its main batteries of 16-inch guns while the Communists were observing May Day. Ten shore batteries were knocked out.

East German Mark Increased in Value

BERLIN (AP) — East Germany's Communist government announced last night it has upped the official exchange rate of the East German mark to make it more valuable than the Russian ruble or any other Soviet bloc currency. Formerly, two East marks equaled one ruble.

Under the new official rate, the East mark will be 2.22 to one U.S. dollar. The ruble is officially fixed at four to the dollar.

Presumably, East Germany, which does most of its trading with its eastern neighbors, will pay lower prices for the raw materials it buys. It will get higher prices for its steel, optical goods, precision instruments and chemicals.

Last night's announcement gave no hint as to why the Soviets allowed a satellite zone's money to take top value in the Communist bloc.

To Ask Fund for School

WILLOW VILLAGE (AP) — School Superintendent Albert C. Johnsen has been directed by the board of education to apply for $35,800 in federal funds for school construction, most of which is to be earmarked for a new senior high school.

Light-Hearted 'Meet Millie' Back on TV This Evening

NEW YORK—"Meet Millie," the light-hearted saga of a Manhattan secretary, starring Elena Verdugo in the title role, returns to television following a seven-week hiatus, tonight.

The weekly comedy series was broadcast from Television City, Hollywood, for 47 weeks following its premiere on Oct. 26, 1952.

Miss Verdugo gained national recognition for her portrayal of "Millie," her first role as a comedienne, during the show's initial run on television.

The role of "Mama" again will be played by Florence Halop, and Roland Winters returns as Mr. Boone, "Millie's" boss. His son, "Millie's" boy friend, is played by Ross Ford; character actress Isabel Randolph is Mrs. Boone, and Marvin Kaplin continues as Alfred Prinzmetal, a frustrated poet-author-composer.

"Meet Millie" originally began as a summer fill-in, but became so popular that executives decided to make it a permanent show.

Audrey Totter originated the role of Millie Bronson, Bronx brainstorm, but left the cast soon after

The style particular to Miss Totter was hard to find. A completely new 'Millie' could not be introduced, so a scouring of studios was conducted to find someone who looked and spoke like Audrey.

The found Elena Verdugo, who is of Spanish descent. She bobbed her hair, bleached it a silvery blonde from her natural brunette shade and got the job.

Owner Finds Missing Steer; Dates Butcher

Dorothea's Pride, the grand champion, 1,190 pound Hereford of the American Royal Livestock Show, turned up missing early yesterday from a car lot where his owner, Berl Berry, a motor car dealer, had him on exhibition.

An anonymous telephone call late in the day led searchers to a pasture seven miles north of Kasnas City where they found the $6,690 steer munching on grass.

Waives Examination on Breakin Charge

James G. Perkins, 25, of 27066 Dartmouth, Royal Oak, waived examination before Royal Oak Township Justice Richard V. Broder yesterday to an attempted breakin charge.

Perkins, unable to furnish $500 bond, was returned to Oakland County Jail to await arraignment in Circuit Court Nov. 6.

According to Royal Oak Det. Bernard Travnikar, investigating officer, Perkins was arrested Oct. 28 after he attempted to break into
