

Still Near Holly Raided

RAIDED — This ancient shack near Holly housed an illegal still which was raided yesterday.

MOONSHINE BARRELS — Moonshiners stored mash in these barrels before turning it into alcohol. Gun belongs to police.

AXMEN PAUSE — Raiders get a brief respite in their work of chopping up mash-barrels, jugs, burner and still.

Still Near Holly Smashed by Police, Treasury Men

In a daylight raid yesterday, five Treasury Department officers, two Holly policemen and an Oakland County Sheriff's deputy demolished a 30-gallon still off Road near Holly.

The still, with about 300 gallons of mash, was in a shack on the bank of a small, nameless lake about 400 yards from the road. The Treasury men estimated that it had been in operation for a year, but had been abandoned in the past two or three weeks.

Jury Acquits Former Student on Charges of Extortion

An acquittal was won yesterday in Detroit Recorder's Court by a Pontiac man who was sentenced to 5 to 20 years in prison in 1951 on charges of extorting $3,500 from the mother of one of his classmates at the University of Michigan.

A former university honor student, William F. Welke, 29, had secured a new trial on grounds that results of a lie detector test had been used as evidence in the first trial.

He originally was convicted of extorting the money from Mrs. Katherine Vasa, of 17500 Northlawn, Detroit, after allegedly telling her she would never see her son, Cordell, alive if she didn't pay.

A jury of nine women and three men found Welke innocent after a week-long trial before Recorder Judge John P. O'Hara.

'Geneva Spirit' Shattered Today as Big 4 Meet

Western Reunification Stand Likely to Go Into Disarming Talks

GENEVA (INS)—The Big Four foreign ministers turn to the disarmament question today amid the Soviet-shattered wreckage of the "Spirit of Geneva."

The quartet of top diplomats moved to the second agenda item after the Western ministers demanded the suspension of discussion of the first item—German reunification and European security.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, British Foreign Secretary Harold Macmillan and French Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay originally asked for a final adjournment of the first item debate.

But Russia's V. M. Molotov—whose rock-like resistance to the allied plan for German reunification shut off profitable discussion—managed to keep the item open for later debate by introducing some warmed-over proposals on reducing foreign troops in East and West Germany.

Nevertheless, the Western Big Three was determined to resist any conciliatory gestures by Molotov later in the conference unless the Soviets reverse themselves completely.

The tougher Western policy—demonstrated by the bitterly critical speeches of Dulles, Macmillan and Pinay, yesterday—was expected to be carried over into this afternoon's discussion of disarmament.

Dulles was to make clear that President Eisenhower's pre-disarmament proposals for mutual air inspection and an exchange of military blueprints between the U.S. and Russia was the key to solving the long deadlock on arms limitation.

Freed Suspects End Till Case

Kidnap Charge Voiced by County Jury Against Two Brothers

GREENWOOD, Miss. (AP)—Two white men today were free of all charges in the celebrated case of Emmett Till, the 14-year-old Chicago Negro boy who disappeared while vacationing on his uncle's farm in Mississippi.

A Leflore County grand jury yesterday declined to indict white half-brothers Roy Bryant, 34, and J. W. Milam, 36, on charges of kidnapping Till from the cabin of his sharecropper uncle.

Less than a month ago, a trial jury in a neighboring county found the two half-brothers innocent of murdering Till on grounds there was reasonable doubt about identification of a battered body pulled from the Tallahatchie river.

"The question now arises," said Executive Secretary Roy Wilkins of the NAACP in a statement in New York yesterday, "since Mississippi jurors have determined that Milam and Bryant did not kidnap and murder young Till, who did commit the crimes?"

Wilkins said the grand jury action, which canceled $10,000 bonds posted by the two men, "comes as no surprise to anyone acquainted with the administration of justice in Mississippi."

Till's mother, Mrs. Mamie Bradley of Chicago, commented "just about everything has run out on me now. I don't know what to do. I don't see how they could fail to indict those men."

She said she was thinking of filing a civil suit but had no money, and further action would be up to the NAACP. Mrs. Bradley was in a recent tiff with the Negro organization, which dropped her from a proposed fund raising tour of 11 western cities for demanding a $5,000 fee or one-third of the proceeds, plus expenses.

Will Close for Holiday

Pontiac banks, governmental offices and the post office will be closed tomorrow for the Veterans Day observance. County schools are reported planning special ceremonies but will remain open.

5 Airmen Crash in Pacific

Rescue Plane Picks Up 3; 1 Other Survivor 'in Sight'

HONOLULU (AP)—Three of five airmen who parachuted into the stormy Pacific last night from a stricken flying boxcar have been picked up and one more survivor is in sight, the Navy announced today.

The seaplane tender Floyds Bay, which made a miraculous rescue of two of the five in 10-foot swells last night, radioed early today that it had "picked up one more survivor."

It added that another was in sight in the seas about 650 miles east of Honolulu where the huge plane went down on a flight to Hawaii from the mainland.

A Pan American Airways plane reported spotting two lights on the surface some 650 miles east of here last night, more than three hours after the crew radioed one of its engines was running wild and they would have to parachute.

Seas were whipped into 6 to 10 foot swells by substorms and winds up to 25 m.p.h., the Navy said.

The Floyds Bay reached the area around 11 p.m. and picked up the first survivor. Half an hour later it recovered the second man.

Their names were not reported. The Navy said the rescued men were the plane's navigator and flight engineer. The two said they bailed out with the radio operator.

RIGGED ESCAPE HATCH

The Navy reported the flight engineer said he rigged the bow escape hatch for the pilot and copilot who were to parachute afterward. On the way down the engineer saw the plane begin circling and he took that to mean they had actually left the craft.

The Weather Bureau reported the wind dropped to around 20 m.p.h. and the rain had slackened to showers with the sea moderate and visibility somewhat improved.

The aircraft carrier Kearsarge was racing toward the scene. A Navy spokesman said it presumably will launch planes to search for the other three men if they have not been found before dawn.

The lost plane was one of two which left McClellan Air Force Base at Sacramento, Calif., yesterday for Hickam AFB, Honolulu, on a ferrying flight to Japan. Both crews were from the 1708th Ferrying Wing based at Kelly AFB in Texas.

As the two planes droned toward Hawaii yesterday, one was about an hour ahead of the other. The lead plane received a radio message from the second one that it had an engine racing out of control.

"Unable to feather (propeller) and will have to bail out," said the message. The lead plane turned back to establish and report the position.

'Quit Bickering'—Feikens

LANSING (INS)—Republican State Chairman John Feikens yesterday futilely appealed in a letter to GOP legislators to set aside personal bickerings and find some solution to the problem of hospitals for Michigan's mentally retarded children.

Arrangements are pending at Potere Funeral Home.

Marine's Widow Presents Flag to School

REGEN LOCAL CEREMONIES — Area cemeteries will blossom tomorrow with tributes to American war dead, in commemoration of Veterans' Day. In rites held last night, (l-r) Eastern Junior High School principal Kenneth Nagley looks on as teacher Katherine J. Baker accepts the flag from Mrs. Roland Dennis (center). Dennis, a Marine Corps veteran who set a track record at the school, died last April. The flag draped his coffin. Observing are Marine sergeants Willard Ousamer, Everett Blackerby, and Leroy H. Meisner.

Williams Signs Bill Increasing Teachers' Pay

$12.5 Million Allotted for Instructors; Driver Legislation Okayed

LANSING (INS)—Gov. G. Mennen Williams today signed a bill calling for compulsory driver education in Michigan high schools and a $12.5 million pay raise for teachers and non-teaching employees.

Gov. Williams also signed other bills passed in the first special session of the Legislature last week before the lawmakers began their fight over a hospital program for mentally retarded children.

Under the new driver education bill, youths under 18 must complete a training course after February, 1957, to obtain a driver's license.

The law applies to both public and parochial schools and each system will have facilities provided by the state for completion of the course.

Money to finance the driving program will be taken from driver's license fees paid by motorists. The state will subsidize the program on the basis of $25 per student.

The pay increase bill for teachers authorizes local districts to decide how much teachers and non-teachers should receive in merit increases.

A last-minute legislative action added $1 million to the bill for special educational programs for mentally and physically handicapped children.

Gov. Williams also signed a bill authorizing sale of state property in Alpena, Mich., to permit the Abitibi Corp. to construct $10 million paper plant in that city.

Let Mom Fix Machines

Relax, Daddy, It's OK to Cuddle Your Baby

EAST LANSING (AP)—Fathers who enjoy cuddling their baby or changing the diapers had top-level assurance today that it's the right thing to do.

"Nothing should keep the father from participating in the care of the infant," said Dr. Gunnar Dybwad of the Child Study Association of America at the annual Michigan Child Study Association meeting at Michigan State University.

"Parents should not tolerate the old cliches about the father's or mother's place in the home. These old rules have not stood up to the test of time."

Dr. Dybwad said it is just as right for the father to enjoy rich moments with his children as it is for the mother to be capable of running and repairing the many machines in the modern home.

Egypt and Israel Warned by U.S. on Starting War

WASHINGTON (INS)—Israel and Egypt have been warned the U.S. will take stern reprisal action against either or both if they start war in the Holy Land.

The British and French are understood to be supporting the U.S. The warnings were part of the heavy diplomatic pressure the Western Powers are exerting to prevent a Middle East war. In Washington officials said they believe there is a better than even chance that war will be averted.

But if a conflict does come: 1. Economic sanctions almost certainly would be placed against either or both countries.

2. Efforts would be made to embargo arms shipments, but U.S. officials admit that such an embargo without a blockade would be of little value unless Soviet Russia agreed to it. They see little likelihood of that, in view of Soviet approval of the sale of vast amounts of arms to Egypt by Red Czechoslovakia.

3. As a last resort, the U.S. Sixth Fleet, based in Italy, and the British Mediterranean Naval forces might be ordered to blockade the seaports of Israel or Egypt, or both.

Warmer Weather Tonight, Tomorrow

According to the U.S. Weather Bureau it will be a little warmer tonight and tomorrow. The low tonight will range from 34 to 38. The high Friday will be from 47 to 51.

The thermometer only varied 6 degrees from 8 a.m. yesterday morning until 8 a.m. this morning. The lowest temperature preceding 8 a.m. was 30 degrees. The thermometer registered 45 at 2 p.m.

Gets Smile With Ticket

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—Officer Kent L. Martin stopped a motorist and started to write out a ticket for a traffic violation last night. He said the motorist asked for leniency, saying he had voted in favor of a proposed raise for Salt Lake policemen and firemen Tuesday in the municipal election. So Martin says he sent the motorist on his way with a big smile—and the ticket.

Solons Go Home Without Passing Important Bill

Legislature Continues Into 'Indefinite Recess' but Not Adjournment

LANSING (AP)—The Legislature, caught in its own parliamentary web, went home last night without providing any beds for mentally retarded children.

Theoretically, the lawmakers are in an indefinite recess. They have agreed to meet Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays until the end of the year.

But unless a bitter inter-chamber dispute is ended, it appeared the recess would amount to a final adjournment, with the clerk of the Senate banging his gavel three times a week in an empty chamber.

This arrangement will make it impossible for Gov. Williams to summon the legislators into another special session, since they have not yet adjourned from the one which began Monday.

Williams labeled the Legislature's action "parliamentary trickery" which constituted "legislative irresponsibility at its worst."

"There is no excuse for gag rule, obstruction and fraudulent deceit at a time when everybody ought to be working together for the relief of human suffering," he said.

Sen. Elmer R. Porter (R-Billsfield) chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee, talked to Williams privately in an attempt to persuade the governor to accept the Senate's "emergency" program of 1,750 beds plus a promise that the committee would give serious consideration to buying the Farmington Children's Hospital the first week of the January session.

"The governor was very fair about it and promised to talk to his people," Porter said, "but I have heard nothing more from him."

Williams was angry at the Senate, which in juggernaut fashion introduced and passed a bill in the record-setting space of 20 minutes, shutting out debate. The Senate said its bill provided 1,750 beds.

In effect, the Senate left the House holding the bag in the special session. But House opponents of the Senate bill promised the Senate would get the bag back Monday.

Here is what happened last night:

Capital Ready to Greet Ike

Hospital Staff, Family Jubilant as President Nears Homecoming

DENVER (AP)—Today is President Eisenhower's 48th and last full day in Fitzsimons Army Hospital. Tomorrow it's off to Washington and a joyous "welcome home" reception.

The mood at the hospital on this final day—among the doctors, nurses and all the others who have cared for the 65-year-old President—is a joyous one, too. They are all delighted—and so relieved—that his damaged heart is mending well.

Eisenhower undoubtedly is happiest of all, although his wife is feeling mighty good about the way things are going.

With check-out time just a day off, the President's business agenda was being kept light to assure as much last minute rest as possible. He had no official government visitors scheduled today except for his chief aide, Sherman Adams.

Departure from the hospital is fixed for about 8:30 a.m. (MST) tomorrow and 30 minutes later he will take off for Washington aboard his private plane, Columbine III.

His doctors agree that the President could have left the hospital a few days ago if he had been willing to be carried aboard the plane. But he insisted that when he did leave he was going to be able to walk up the 19-step ramp.

Lonardi Removes War Minister for Peron Sympathy

BUENOS AIRES (U-P)—Provisional President Eduardo Lonardi picks a big stick for any of his top associates who may be soft on Peronism. He has replaced his war minister, and informants said four more cabinet members may step out.

Two dozen soldiers armed with tommyguns stood on balconies overlooking the salon in government house yesterday while Gen. Leon Bengoa saw his successor in the War Ministry, Brig. Gen. Arturo Ossorio Arana, sworn into office. Despite all the military display, nothing untoward happened. Bengoa stepped down for two reasons: He favored secret invest-tigations of army officers connected with the ousted Peron regime, while others called for public probes; and he was not moving fast enough to purge pro-Peronista officers from the army to suit ardent revolutionary officers.

Holly Youth, 6, Hurt in Railroad Accident

A 6-year-old Holly boy was in fair condition after being hit by a train in Holly yesterday afternoon. In Hurley Hospital, Flint, is Rieley Oldough, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Oldough, 101 N. Broad St.

Holly police said it was suspected that the boy walked into the side of a north-bound freight train on the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad.

Hoxsey Cancer Men Get New Hearing

DALLAS (U-P)—District Court orders have blocked the revocation of licenses of seven doctors at the Hoxsey Cancer Clinic.

A hearing on seven temporary restraining orders issued yesterday by Judge W. L. Thornton was set for next Tuesday when attorneys for the physicians will ask for a temporary injunction. Such an action would permit the doctors to continue practice pending final disposal of their appeal from the action of the Texas State Board of Medical Examiners.

The board found the six osteopathic and one medical doctor guilty of "unprofessional" conduct and other actions. The owner of the clinic, Harry M. Hoxsey, said the board's action was "cut and dried" and no surprise to him. He predicted that what he called the board's effort to close this clinic would fail.

Communists Up to Old Tricks Again

Molotov Stymies Ministers at Geneva

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst
The world has now returned to an atmosphere of even greater foreboding and tension than existed before this year's two big peace conferences at Geneva.

By deed in the Middle East and by word at Geneva, Russia has revived the old western slogan, "you can't do business with the Communists."

You can bet your bottom dollar the Western diplomats are not as shocked and surprised as they appear to be. If they were, they would be unworthy of their positions.

The only surprise is the abruptness with which Molotov put aside the mask of Santa Claus to take up again the role which goes so well with his name, "the Hammer."

The Foreign Ministers Conference was never expected to produce much. It was expected to prolong at least for a time the "Geneva Spirit," and allow for continued negotiations. Now these appear futile, with Molotov's sudden statement that Germany will be reunited only under Communist terms.

The one great byproduct of the meeting, from the western standpoint, is to demonstrate to the Germans that Russia's attitude toward them is completely self-seeking.

There is also the demonstration that a positive program of expansion, not fear of aggression by a revived Germany, is the chief factor of Russian policy. This is newly apparent in the Middle East as well as in Middle Europe.

It seems strange, however, that Russia should drop so suddenly her campaign of sweetness and light and the facade of what she calls "cooperation for peace." Only last Monday she was playing all the stops on this theme.

Because of this, it is possible that Molotov will yet pull some switch, on other subjects than Germany, to keep the floor open.

Some concessions on the last agenda item, cultural and commercial exchanges, may be forthcoming. But the western diplomats are taking the attitude that the conference is virtually over, that the mask has now been torn from Soviet intentions, and they might as well go home.

The United States, particularly, would be seriously embarrassed by one possible followup of this revelation of Soviet attitude.

The United States propaganda machine has been hammering away on the Eisenhower proposal for mutual inspection arrangements to secure both Russia and America against sudden military attack.

If Russia were to accept now, after what has happened with regard to peace in Europe, there is a big question whether Congress would let the President go through with it.

Actor Grant Withers Divorced by Fifth Wife

LOS ANGELES (U)—Actor Grant Withers, 52, was divorced yesterday by his fifth wife, Cuban-born singer, Estelita, 26.

She testified in Superior Court that she is good enough to get top billing in night clubs but received nothing but criticism from her husband.

Circumstantial Proof

CATLETTSBURG, Ky. (U)—Thirty-two parking meters were smashed Tuesday night by someone wielding a baseball bat. Charles Keelin Jr., 22, was arrested yesterday and charged with destruction of public property. Police Chief Ray Castle said a piece of plastic, apparently from a smashed meter, was found in the cuff of Keelin's trousers.

Town in Oklahoma Loses 4 in Traffic

SULPHUR, Okla. (U)—This small Southern Oklahoma town lost four residents to tragic coincidence yesterday. The dead were killed in two separate traffic accidents.

Mrs. Bessie Gephart, 46, and her son and daughter died when their automobile and a train collided on the way to school. Ray Ralph Redmond, 30, was killed when thrown from his truck after it plunged into a ditch. Both accidents took place in Carter County and were investigated by Highway Patrolman Lee Ellyson.

Bad Bold Bandit

IRVINE, Ky. (U)—An exceptionally bold thief got away yesterday with $1,300 in cash and an undetermined amount of checks. His haul was made from the safe of Sheriff Fred Brandenburg, who was elsewhere in the courthouse watching the tabulation of election returns.

Survivors of Veterans May Get Higher Benefits

As the Nation celebrates Veterans Day November 11, a start has been made toward simplifying the hodge-podge of payments to survivors of our servicemen.

Last July 13 the House passed a bill to carry out that purpose. There was so little opposition that the votes were not recorded. With the support of President Eisenhower, the Defense Department and veterans' organizations the prospect is for Senate passage next year, perhaps with some alterations.

The effect of this bill would be to increase the present and future minimum benefits and to lower the maximum for new beneficiaries. No present survivor, however, would be required to take less than is now being received.

For the first time the benefits of survivors would be scaled according to rank of the deceased, with widows of privates getting about half as much as the widow of a general.

The present $10,000 free life insurance would be eliminated in favor of putting all men in uniform under social security. This would result in higher and longer annuities for most survivors. Servicemen would contribute up to a maximum of $7 a month.

All of these changes would mean higher costs to the Treasury in the near future but lower costs ultimately because of servicemen's contributions.

In view of the distinguished official and strong public support of this bill, the Senate should have no trouble in enacting it into law.

Safer, Not Longer

One aspect of present day life reveals itself in the way changing conditions weaken previously sound decisions.

A perfect example is the once popular idea of having all holidays fall on Mondays to provide three-day weekends. Sponsors once argued that this would increase the tourist and resort business. Now, however, there is strong belief to the contrary.

Michigan delegates just back from the annual convention of the National Association of Travel Organizations, report flat rejection of the proposal for the second time.

There were two principal objections to the long weekend. One was that the original significance of the holiday tends to be lost in the rush of long distance travel. The other is that the high rate of traffic fatalities tends to reduce the amount of long distance travel and hence hurts resort operators.

Some resort men are quoted as saying that they actually do less business on a three-day weekend than at other times in the regular season.

We believe the Michigan delegates and the convention itself were right in opposing long weekends. Until our highways are improved to a point where they can safely handle the ever-growing traffic volume, let's make weekends safer instead of longer.

Nobel Peace Prize Given to U. N. Refugee Agency

Award of the Nobel Peace Prize for 1954 to the Office of U. N.'s High Commissioner for Refugees was especially fitting.

Not only is the award deserved, but it is a reminder of the monumental task undertaken by that agency.

When the International Refugee Organization expired in 1951, many hundreds of thousands of refugees were left in need of international protection and assistance. Since then the efforts of the successor U. N. agency have been devoted to the resettlement of some 350,000 refugees still in Europe. In addition it has endeavored to provide legal and social safeguards for some 2,000,000 all over the world.

It is safe to say that at least one man is completely satisfied that the award went not to him, but to the refugee agency to which he has given four years of his life. He is Dr. G. J. VAN HEUSEN, GOEDHART, head of the Netherlands delegation to U. N.

Besides his work as U. N. Refugee Commissioner, he has been an editor in Amsterdam, his country's Minister of Justice and, during the war was a doughty fighter in the underground.

It is to be hoped this award will lessen the difficulties experienced by the agency in obtaining the funds it needs for its 1955 operations.

A LARGE number of African witch doctors attended a recent convention. It came as a surprise to many that witches were a sickly lot.

The Man About Town Soapy to Choose Between the National Level or Primary on Governor

Political bee: The only one that buzzes the year round.

Oakland County is sure to loom large in next year's general election. My Lansing undercover man tells me that our own Lieutenant Governor Philip A. Hart is being groomed to make the run for the Democratic nomination for governor, and now has the blessing of Governor G. Mennen Williams who is planning to go after higher stuff. In fact, when the Adlai E. Stevenson forces, who controlled the thing, set the date for the Democratic national convention, they were so afraid of our Soapy's ambitions that they made it so late in the year that it freezes him out of making another run for governor, should he fall in his national ambitions.

A newsboy, selling the Pontiac Press Gazette on Saginaw Street, was Jake Van Wagoner at the time the courthouse was dedicated 50 years ago. He also recollects getting a quarter for a copy of the paper with news of the San Francisco earthquake in 1906. The deal was made in the hardware store of Ernie Fay, after using a few diplomatic suggestions, coupled with a good sales talk.

There seems to be considerable publicity lately about the recipe of Mrs. Mamie Eisenhower for pumpkin chiffon pie. The architect of this column wishes to give some intimate testimony about her pie baking, as she favored me with a piece of one she had baked on their campaign train a few days before the 1952 election. It was made from Michigan apples, and a better pie never was baked.

Plenty of wildlife in her own yard is reported by Mrs. Margaret Terreault of Keego Harbor. It is infested with squirrels, and at night two raccoons keep the family dog interested from their perch in a tree.

My Metamora scout sends word that

Mrs. Harry Whitaker has been chosen as escort for a guided tour through Europe next summer.

First personal report of the season on Florida weather comes in an airmail letter from

Aubrey Ostendorf, mailed Monday in Tallahassee: "We may head back to Michigan; the mercury registered 36 here last night, and I see it was 40 in Michigan."

Another log cabin birth is that of

David Lawrence Says: Only Ohio Election Results Sufficient to Show Any National Political Trend

WASHINGTON — Political significance, but not necessarily a national trend so far as the major parties are concerned, can be derived from a study of the few elections just held.

Generally speaking, where the "ins" had a satisfactory record they were re-elected, but where they had produced discontent and protest, the "outs" came back into power. This is nothing new in the political world.

Next, where the districts showed recently a shift in population—from rural to industrial—the Democrats benefited. Local elections in cities and counties are meaningless so far as a national trend is concerned.

But the fact that the Democrats who have been in the city hall in Philadelphia stayed in power in a Republican stronghold is of political significance. It means that the voters have not forgotten the corrupt regime of the Republicans which was turned out four years ago.

The only state-wide elections which can be examined at all for a sign of a trend occurred in New Jersey where the State Legislature remained Republican in both Houses despite the fact that a Democrat was elected Governor last year. The Democrats gained three seats in the Senate but they are still only 7, while there are 14 Republicans. In the Assembly the Republicans retained their 40-to-27 majority.

NO CLUE FOUND

Pennsylvania offers no clue to national politics either. In Pittsburgh, the Democrats for a long time have been entrenched in the city hall under Mayor David L. Lawrence — while in Philadelphia, the Democrats won in 1951 for the first time in many decades. Yet Pennsylvania didn't give its electoral vote to the Democrats in 1952. This year the Republicans added a seat to their hold on the state senate in the only election contest.

In Virginia the Republicans added a seat in the state senate. They also carried some local elections near Washington in Fairfax County. It needs to be observed that many government employees fearful of their jobs now are registering Republican instead of Democratic in the areas near Washington. Registration lists, of course, are open to inspection. There's hardly a national trend here.

City elections in states like New York, Connecticut and Indiana can be counted up like a box score. The Democrats, for instance, won eight mayoralty contests and lost six according to one early report from the Empire State. But the fact that certain cities switch from Republican to Democrat, or from Democrat to Republican, can hardly be significant because of local issues.

Several readers sent clippings of the piece with the assertion that "an arthritic must avoid excess calcium" outlined with pen or pencil. It is now in my scrapbook alongside a Brisbane essay explaining that the birth of a Mongolian idiot indicates that among the child's ancestors there was a Chinese.

READER INQUIRES

Only one reader who sent me the item commented, and he merely inquired whether it is true that one with arthritis should "avoid excess calcium."

The others considered comment unnecessary—maybe they assume that I'd either get wise to myself and close my trap or, happily, get into a tizzy about it. If so, they were mistaken. I shall do neither.

How do I know that George didn't get it right out of the horse's mouth—as say from a fellow from the front office of the best advertised "clinic" who happens to play golf or pinocchio with George? No, sirree. In order to stay in this business one must use discretion.

But I'll tell you what I'm going to do. I have here, friends, two little pieces of literature which will slip into pocket or pocketbook, for reading at any time you are caught with nothing interesting to read.

Voice of the People Charles Coe Declines Wearing Safety Belts

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

Please do not ever strap me, or my wife, in a so-called "safety belt."

Portraits

By JAMES J. METCALFE

You said you would not marry me... Because you were not fair... And in your heart you were convinced... I did not really care... You thought that you were homey and... I'd think the same of you... And even if I gave my pledge... I never would be true... But you are beautiful to me... Believe me, I adore you... And there is nothing in this world... That I would not do for you... To me you are the answer to... My every hope and prayer... The only one for whom my heart... Could ever really care... I think you're beautiful, but looks... Are no important part... The only thing I really want... Is just your loving heart.

Hal Boyle Says: Teaching Wives to Obey Sounds Wonderful, but---

NEW YORK (U-P)—Curstone comments by a pavement Plato: Would obedience schools for wives make for happier marriages in America? The question has been raised by a reader who wisely chooses to remain anonymous.

"Obedience schools for pets have worked out very well," he wrote. "So why not an obedience school for pet wives?"

"Such schools could teach most wives some things they badly need to learn, such as self-discipline and the willingness to carry out a man's orders without barking back."

"What do you think of this idea? Wouldn't it restore to the average husband the prestige he once held as head of the family? If you hear of such a school, please telegraph me at once. I want to enroll my own wife as the number one trainee."

Frankly, the proposal at first glance sounds fine. The ordinary husband can think at once of many ways in which his wife might benefit from attendance at an obedience school.

"She could, for example, be taught to get up off the sofa and say 'hello' whenever he returned home from work. She could be taught to take off his shoes and fetch his slippers."

She could be taught not to interrupt him when he is telling his favorite joke at a party. She could be taught not to show up at breakfast with her hair in wire curlers, looking like a fugitive from the electric chair. It might even be possible to teach her when it was all right to talk to her husband, and when she should bring him his newspaper and let him read it in silence.

There is even a bare likelihood that she might be coerced into letting him handle the spending of his own paycheck, although this could well force 7 out of 10

Case Records of a Psychologist: Different Environments in Same Home Cause Unlike Personalities in Children

The Biblical Prodigal Son would be which boy below—Ronnie or Donnie? Make your choice before reading my discussion of this case. And if you wish a dandy party game for your church group administer the "Tests for Introverts vs. Extroverts." They are fun for teenagers and their parents, too.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case P-382: Ronnie and Donnie, aged 4 and 2, are brothers.

"Dr. Crane, they are so entirely different in their personalities," their mother informed me.

"Ronnie is more quiet and shy, while Donnie is a friend to everybody."

"Ronnie is also more careful. Donnie is reckless and takes chances."

"Ronnie also is very possessive and may save his candy for later, while Donnie gobbles his down and then tries to wheedle Ronnie into sharing with him."

"Surely these differences must be inherited, don't you think? For the boys have the very same home environment."

HEREDITARY ENVIRONMENT

No, those boys have entirely different home environments! For the older child came on the family stage with no competitors present.

Thus, he learned to monopolize things. And when his parents weren't playing with him, he amused himself with his toys. This is silent play.

And his "silent" playmates didn't talk back. They didn't scratch and fight with him, even if he angrily threw them on the floor. Moreover, they didn't cry lustily for Mamma to come and take

But Donnie soon finds that he can get away with almost anything short of murder, just by screaming and shrieking tears.

Since things come easily to him, by this ruse, he doesn't value them as highly: The Prodigal Son was thus a "Donnie" or younger son.

And this set-up usually holds true of two siblings of the same sex who are rather close together in age. The older is the introvert, EXTROVERT-INTROVERT

The second child comes upon the family stage with a little "king" already on the throne. And the "king" is stronger and bigger.

So the second child must use strategy. He must talk (or cry) his way along. And he begins to manipulate people before he is six months old.

He thus becomes adept in maneuvering human beings for his attention is focussed on them, since they are the major items in his environment.

The extroverted younger child thus learns to talk glibly. Everybody is his friend. He may enter sales work or politics in later life.

But the oldest child is an introvert. He has learned to deal with himself and deal with non-talking objects (toys) almost exclusively for his first few years. So he may become the engineer, scientist, musician, or machinist.

For a fuller test of "Introverts vs. Extroverts," send for my "Vocational Guidance Booklet," which contains this material. Enclose a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents (non-profit).

You parents will then see that your children have a very different home environment although they sleep under the same roof and have the same father and mother.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane, in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and the correct typing and printing costs when you send for this psychological chart and pamphlet.

Lapps Remain Quiet Regarding Reindeer

NEW YORK—Never ask a Lapp how many reindeer he has, is the advice of Mrs. D. G. Ross, just back from a visit to Lapland. "That's the worst thing you can do," she said. "It is like asking a stranger about his bank balance. A Lapp is allowed to own as many as 2,000 reindeer, but he doesn't discuss it. The first surprise to me was to find that the Lapps are very fair and blue-eyed and that they are devout Christians. They still seem to be the primitive nomads of centuries ago—proud and often too shy to be photographed." Mrs. Ross visited the Arctic Circle with her husband, president of the South African Legion of the British Empire Services League.

Doctor Refuses Fees for Services to County

OMAHA, Mo.—Dr. Edwin Lyman has been turning down an estimated $5,000 a year in fees—$12,000 for the seven years he has served as registrar of birth and death certificates in the county. He is entitled to 50 cents for each of the 12,000 such certificates filed annually, but contends: "A public employee should be paid what his official salary is and no more." Florida State's new gym will be completed late in 1956.

Irish Toy Makers Find New Market

factories claim to be making progress in Eire. They are at Spiddal, County Galway; Crolly, County Donegal, and Eily Bay, County Mayo, settlements where only pure Gaelic is spoken. Products include soft dolls, animals and perambulator rugs. Thus far they have been sold in Britain, but American visitors have shown interest in the character dolls as souvenirs. There are 20 types, including the Connemara man, Cork woman, Donegal woman, Cork woman and Irish dancer in traditional costume. Musical dolls that can play Irish folk songs are popular this year.

U.N. Will Exhibit Atom Progress in Cleveland

CLEVELAND (INS) — The United Nations will join commercial, governmental and educational exhibitors from the U. S. and Western Europe with an exhibit of its

Apple Experts Offer Plan to Up Picking Efficiency

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Michigan State University experts have devised a plan they say will increase efficiency of apple pickers by 5 to 10 per cent. Here's how it works:

Picking crews are divided into three groups. One unit stands on the ground and picks all the apples within reach, then moves on to another tree. The second group follows along with six-foot stepladders, covering the zone from six to 12 feet on the tree.

Wide Use for Signals

INDIANAPOLIS — The electrical signaling-equipment market, which has a volume estimated at 30 to 40 million dollars a year, takes in a wide range of audible and silent systems and devices. In addition to bells, buzzers, and chimes, the field includes audible alarms and annunciators, paging and programming systems, and devices to maintain quality by indicating purity of contents.

Glass Eye Secret Long

BERLIN — Formerly the secrets of making glass eyes were known only by 16 persons in the same German village. They handed down their knowledge from father to son and their artistry was kept a monopoly for about a century. When

World War II created a shortage, technicians in a number of countries turned to the manufacture of glass eyes and improved them considerably.

Homing Pigeons Carry the News of Vintage 'Birth'

JEREZ DE LA FRONTERA, Spain—Every year at harvest time 1,500 homing pigeons are brought into this birthplace of sherry wine from communities all over Spain. A message announcing the "birth" of the new vintage is attached to a leg of each bird. As the first grapes are pressed and then pressed on the cathedral steps, the birds are released to fly home with the news.

The practice of advertising Jerez sherry by pigeon antedates the memory of the oldest residents and is a feature of an annual three-day sherry festival in which the city's 110,000 residents and many visitors take part.

Workers Too Healthy May Upset Pensions

MONTPELIER, Vt. (AP)—Vermont state employees are so healthy they're messing up the state re-irement system.

George R. Buck, New York actuarial expert, hired by Vermont to check on retirement programs, didn't exactly criticize state employees for bringing on a situation which may eventually require a whole new set of rates and graphs. But he did say:

"The actual number of deaths and the actual salaries canceled by death were less than expected. This condition is not favorable to the retirement system from a financial viewpoint and tends to offset favorable withdrawal experience."

Simple Ad Regains Old Cap-and-Ball Gun

HOPKINSVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Dr. D. H. Erskine pondered for two years what to do about getting back his valuable old cap-and-ball pistol, which he had lost.

Finally he ran an ad in the Kentucky New Era. Within a few hours Mrs. Levy Leavell phoned to say her son had found the relic two years ago.

'Just Call Me Louie', Says Crown Prince

BONN (INS)—The crown prince of Germany—he who might be ruling the land today if his grandpa, Kaiser Wilhelm II, hadn't been impetuous about wanting to rule the world—took a slab of caviar in one hand. And my hot little palm in the other.

He kissed the latter, consumed the former, and spoke. "I would appreciate," he said, "if you'd just call me Louie."

The real name, he pointed out, looking down affably from 4-foot-3-inches above the plush carpet, is "Prince Louis Ferdinand Viktor Eduard Adalbert Michael Hubertus of Prussia, head of the House of Hohenzollern."

"But ever since I was in America, working at the Ford plant in Detroit, I feel too close to Americans for such formality. They are the most sentimental and honest race in the world. By them, I like to be called Louie."

Louie, sometimes known as the rebel prince because he insisted upon being democratized and ran off to the United States at the age of 22, is known as one of the nicest guys in Germany.

Since his grandfather was exiled at the end of World War I, his father died and his elder brother pulled the hasty boner of marrying a commoner, he has been directly in line for the throne—should Germany ever revert to a monarchy.

LIKES THE IDEA

He is not unfavorably disposed to that idea at all, incidentally. "If the time came when the people wanted it."

It's not too remote an idea, either, he thinks—but reunification must come first. After that he believes his homeland could conceivably return to its traditional pattern. The German imperial dynasty traces back to the 9th Century.

"But it would be a democratic monarchy, you see, as in Great Britain," says Louie. "There are very democratic monarchies, as in Britain, just as there are very undemocratic republics, as in Russia."

This handsome Hohenzollern, who currently makes a modest living by working the farmlands left to him, started causing talk at the impressionable age of 21 when, in Berlin, he met a lively specimen of Hollywood named Lily Damita. Errol Flynn later married Lily, as half the civilized population knows, but Louie saw her first.

He almost immediately took off for California to press his suit.

To Lily, this was exciting. To Louie's grandfather, it was impossible. "He intervened at long distance," recalls the prince, "and I gave up."

Two hundred years ago Frederick the Great was condemned to death for wanting to marry a commoner; Louie wasn't taking chances.

MEG'S PROBLEM

This situation leaves him qualified to speak with authority on the Princess Margaret-Capt. Peter Townsend situation.

He says, "She ought to be able

1956 Elections Worry Pollsters, Journal Asserts

NEW YORK (AP)—The Wall Street Journal has polled the pre-election poll takers and reports they are apprehensive about 1956—particularly because of President Eisenhower's illness.

It quoted one public opinion expert as saying "If Ike can't run, it means another real close election, and that spells trouble for the pollsters."

George Gallup intends to conduct an election poll in 1956 nevertheless, and so does Kenneth Fink, a relative newcomer to opinion-taking, the newspaper said.

But it quoted two other pollsters, Elmo Roper and Archibald Crossley, as saying they were undecided whether to try next year.

None of the pollsters depend on election forecasts for their major income. They carry on extensive market research for large corporations and advertising agencies.

Among Gallup's recent findings: 61 per cent of all Americans have not read a book in the past year; 17 per cent of American husbands have struck their wives; 19 per cent of American women have taken a swim in their birthday suits, compared with 64 per cent of the men.

to marry anyone she wants to—but it's such a headache to the family. It's really none of my business, but I feel very warmly toward their problems." (Louie is the great-grandson of Queen Victoria.)

Slightly blue but too young to be heartbroken, the 22-year-old prince returned to Europe by way of Detroit, where he worked for six months in a motor car factory.

Upon his return to royal business, he married his granddaughter, the Princess Kira, grand-duchess of the Russian House of Romanoff. He had seen her only once before the wedding. But they got along beautifully.

"I show you," said Louie. "If you don't mind." And he pulled out pictures of an attractive wife and seven children. "Cute, you think?"

Thoroughly Westernized, this prince. He'd be a sensation at a Yale reunion.

Man Between Monkey, Mouse in A-Radiation

LONDON (INS)—Man ranks between the monkey and the mouse so far as sensitivity to atomic radiation is concerned.

This disclosure was made by Major J. H. Wilkins, of the Royal Army Veterinary Corps laboratory at Thornhill, Aldershot, at a recent discussion of the effects of an atomic explosion on earth creatures.

When it comes to radioactivity, Wilkins said, rabbits are twice as tough as men, and mammals are more radiosensitive than either cold-blooded fish or hot-blooded birds.

Work Is Secret of Health Says Flint Nonogenarian

FLINT (INS)—Fred A. Aldrich, 94-year-old Flint banker and businessman, says work is the secret of good health.

Aldrich observed his birthday Wednesday by making his usual morning trip to the Merchants and Mechanics Bank, where he is chairman of the board.

He originally was a printer and newspaper owner and then branched into buggy manufacturing. In 1940, he had a finger in the automobile business, then the industry of the future.

On the eve of his birthday, Aldrich said:

"I am looking forward, not backward. My advice for good health is to keep everlastingly at work, and don't think of retiring."

Aldrich has taken his own advice and kept busy.

He was secretary of St. Paul's at Exeter, N. H.

Episcopal Church for more than 30 years and also served as treasurer, vestryman and Sunday School superintendent.

In civic affairs, he helped organize the water department, the Flint Institute of Arts and the music association. He donated large tracts of land to the city for use as parks.

Aldrich was a life member of the Kiwanis Club and five years ago was recognized as the "oldest living 33rd degree Mason in Michigan." He was a charter member of the Genesee County Red Cross and served seven years as president of the Flint YMCA.

Aldrich was born near St. Joseph, Mich., and was brought to Flint at the age of 8. He attended Flint elementary schools and studied at Phillips Exeter Academy at Exeter, N. H.

Fishing Made Easier With Lost Golf Balls

SAN FRANCISCO (INS)—A tip to manufacturers of fish lures: Make one resembling a golf ball. Jerry Vest, San Francisco sportsman, reported finding a golf ball in the stomach of a salmon caught near the lightship, about 11 miles offshore.

It is likely that many fish swimming in the Redwood Empire waters of northern California may be carrying similar digestive impediments. This is why: Hundreds of golf balls are deliberately driven into the entrance of San Francisco Bay by golfers playing the Lincoln course. The 18th hole tee is on a bluff overlooking the ocean which is a target even the novices can hit with great consistency to make a satisfying splash.

Stevadores' Union Organized in Africa

CAPE TOWN — The Gold Coast has adopted the labor pool system for recruitment of sea-going labor at Takoradi. A Labor Supply Board now handles the supply of seamen and stevedores from a closed pool of registered workers and takes disciplinary action against registered workers when necessary. Up to a recent report, 459 disciplinary cases had been heard and a total of 8,977 persons had been placed in the employment of shipping companies, many more than once. There are now 4,500 workers registered in the pool. Until the new system came into existence, sea-going stevedore labor and wharf labor were recruited directly by the shipping companies.

Invite English Lady to India to Hunt Coat

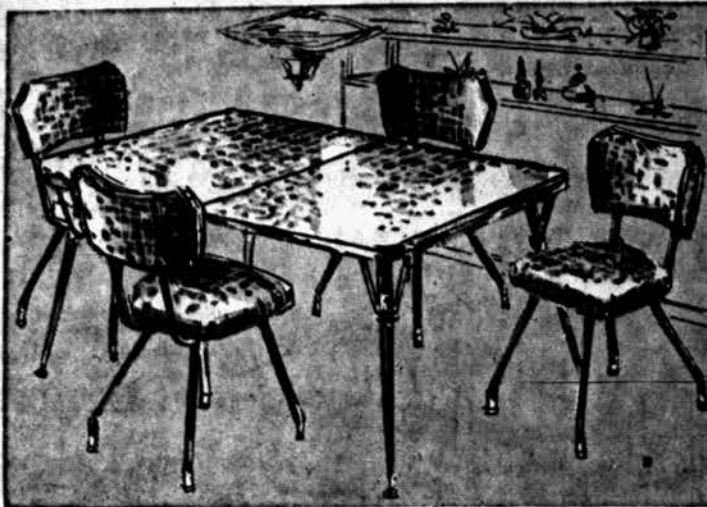

LONDON — Mrs. Nash Moore, who wants a new leopard skin to repair her coat, has been invited to come to New Delhi and shoot it herself. That is because silver-haired Mrs. Martin, of Maidenhead, England, is remembered in India as a crack shot.

She killed all five leopards from which her present coat was made. She went to India in 1931 for a vacation, but met and married W. J. Moore and stayed for 20 years. By getting the use of a military rifle range and practicing for hours each day, she learned to protect herself and later used to go alone into the jungle and wastes of Kashmir, hunting tigers and bears. She is not expected to return this time, however.

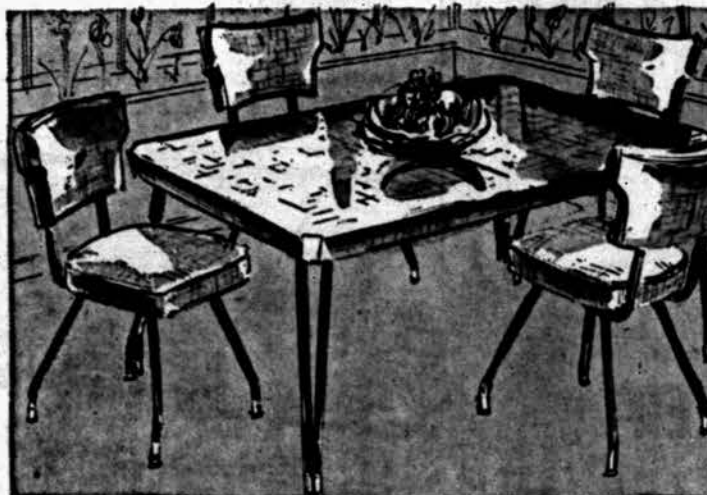

Portable Heat Made for Bleacher Fans

NEW YORK (INS)—Soon you'll be able to watch a football game in below zero weather in perfect comfort. No, not at home via television, but seated right in the stands, out-of-doors! It will be done with radiant heating, says Dr. Finn J. Larsen of Minneapolis. Larsen says that such installations have already been tried and proved successful. New, extremely sensitive electronic temperature and humidity controls have opened up new areas involving human comfort, he explains. Regulation of the semi-outdoors is "just the beginning," he said.

Winking Competitor Bopped by Clothier

DALLAS, Tex., (U. S. — Winking was declared a part of free enterprise in a peace bond hearing between two clothing store owners.

One of the owners, whose store is three doors from the other merchant, took lusty swings at the chin of his competitor who "winks and nods his head when a customer starts into my store."

"I don't know how to wink," retorted the accused. He added that he was going to take winking lessons and hereafter "wink for wink" and "nod for nod" for enticing customers.

"After all," they agreed, "we both believe in free enterprise."

TV Wrestling Fan Wins Case Against Wife

PAW PAW, Mich. (U. S. — Because his wife wouldn't let him watch wrestling on television, Larus Labadie charged in court she violated terms of a temporary injunction he obtained against her

The judge told her it "shouldn't be too much of a sacrifice" to let her husband watch TV wrestling once a week.

Volunteer Workers Receive Awards at Reception

Dr. Ivan A. LaCore (second from right), medical superintendent at Pontiac State Hospital, presented awards to volunteers working within the hospital at a tea and reception held Wednesday at the hospital. Among the volunteers of the certificates was Marguerite Parrish, director of the department.

Volunteers in the Occupational Therapy Department at Pontiac State Hospital were honored for their contributions to the department at the tea held Wednesday. Photographed with Mrs. Eleanore McCurry (center), department director, were Mrs. Henry C. Hall (left) of Birmingham, a member of the Walnut Lake Farm and Garden Association, and Mrs. Kenneth L. Hoyt of South Roselawn drive, a member of the Pontiac Farm and Garden Association.

Members of Christ Church Cranbrook Auxiliary who have kept the Recreational Therapy Department supplied with magazines throughout the year also were given awards. Three of the members, Mrs. Kenneth R. Gibson of Birmingham, Mrs. Howard B. Barker of Bloomfield Hills and Mrs. Harry Dumville of Bloomfield Hills (left to right), are active volunteers. This year the group contributed 70 Halloween costumes for patients.

Receiving the award for the Soroptimist Club of Pontiac at the tea given Wednesday at Pontiac State Hospital was Mrs. Arnold Hillerman (right), president of the club. Photographed with her was Dorothy Roe, director of the Recreational Therapy Department at the hospital. The Soroptimist Club helps with parties for the patients.

Gratitude Expressed by Hospital

Mrs. Bennett and Dr. LaCore Speak at Ceremony

"Volunteering—a way of life." Pontiac State Hospital proved its appreciation of the numerous volunteers who make weekly trips to help patients when special awards were presented Wednesday.

Dr. Ivan A. LaCore, medical superintendent, expressed his gratitude for the work carried out by volunteers and said, "We are responding to a need within ourselves when we volunteer."

The need, he explained, is the desire to help someone.

Speaker for the ceremony was Mrs. Mildred Bennett, executive secretary of the Oakland County American Red Cross.

"Volunteering," she said, "is a way of life—it is a way of thinking." The speaker explained that not only does the volunteer benefit, but she also pointed out the many ways in which the patient benefits.

This, in turn, she said affects the total community, and she noted "There is no way of measuring the exact amount of good that is done through one successfully completed, regularly attended volunteer job."

"It makes no difference whether you are doing a direct or indirect service. Consider very seriously the contribution, the very real gift from yourself, all of which makes a better area in which to live."

Dr. LaCore presented the awards assisted by Marguerite M. Parrish, director of social service; Dorothy Roe, director of recreational therapy, and Mrs. Eleanore McCurry, director of occupational therapy.

Those receiving awards from the Social Service Department were Gail Rowe, Mrs. Jack Sayles, Jack West, Mrs. Roy Meek, Mrs. Ida Inwood, Joseph Franz, Jack Frost, Mrs. Harriet Bendall and Mrs. Walter H. Kresge.

Others were Mrs. Vivian Machauer, Mrs. Whitney E. Murphy, Mrs. Ida Witt, Mrs. J. E. Bartholomew, Mrs. Ernest Loepp, Mrs. Martha Williams and Mrs. William Squires. Volunteers in the Recreational Therapy Department receiving awards were Mrs. Ruth Jefferies, Mrs. Jean Tricker, Mrs. Arnold Hillerman, Mrs. Dwight Ensign, Mrs. A. Phillips Streeter, Arthur T. Carty, Mr. and Mrs. Manley Bailey, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Carter, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Dingler, and Mr. and Mrs. Claire Duval.

Robert Ellerby, Jack Ellerby, Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Millington, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Parry and Mr. and Mrs. Leo Rutten were others.

Occupational therapy awards were given to Mrs. George R. Squibb, Mrs. Forest Elwell, Mrs. Arthur Young, Mrs. William Ryland, Mrs. Maso Case, Mrs. Fred Dominick, Mrs. W. C. Olmstead, Phyllis Schrieder, Mary Ellen Wyngarden, Mrs. Arch Plant and Mrs. Clifford Baugh.

Others were Mrs. Erwin Conney, Mrs. Henry Hall, Mrs. E. E. Logue, Mrs. Joseph Sanborn, Mrs. John Zimmerman, Mrs. Mary Marker, Mrs. Barbara Ralston and William V. Coulacos.

There are six pages in today's Women's Section.

Kiwanis Marks 33rd Birthday at Ladies Night

The 33rd birthday anniversary of the Kiwanis Club of Pontiac was celebrated last evening at Ladies Night held at Devon Gables.

Over 100 members and guests attended the affair. Wives of the members were presented with corsages for the evening.

Richard Scribner, newly elected lieutenant governor of the district, and Mrs. Scribner and Danton Hassel, governor of District Five, and Mrs. Hassel were guests of the club.

Following dinner, those attending were entertained by "The Progressive Four," a quartet.

Shower Fetes Evie Bochnig

Mrs. Paul Bochnig of Gold drive was hostess at a pre-nuptial miscellaneous shower held recently for Evie Bochnig.

Miss Bochnig, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfons Bochnig of Oakwood avenue, is the bride-elect of George Kimball. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George C. Kimball of Daytona Beach, Fla., formerly of Pontiac. The couple will be married Dec. 26 in St. Vincent de Paul Church.

Guests attending the shower were Mrs. Bochnig, Mrs. George Payette, Mrs. Ralph Kimball, Ruth Kimball, Mrs. Albert Kimball, Margaret Kimball and Mrs. Ora Leffner.

Teacher Recruitment to Be Discussed

XI Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma, national honor society for teachers, is planning a program to make the community more aware of the need for qualified teachers. The program will be a symposium on selective recruitment Nov. 17 at 8 p.m. in the City Hall.

Included in the symposium will be Louis Schimmel, president of the Pontiac Board of Education; J. C. Cox, assistant superintendent of Pontiac schools; Dr. John English, president of Michigan Education Assn.; Ralph Norvell, president of Pontiac Chamber of Commerce; Mrs. William Wright, president of the Pontiac PTA Council, and Mrs. Clare Hinckley, Crofoot School teacher.

Dr. English will moderate the symposium. The members plan to emphasize the following areas of the teacher shortage problem:

1. Why is there a teacher shortage? 2. What is the teacher's role in recruitment? 3. How can community awareness of recruitment needs be developed? 4. How will the community benefit from better selective recruitment? 5. What does the future hold?

All civic groups and the general public are invited to attend the informative symposium. Members of the panel have been chosen for their knowledge and understanding of the teacher shortage situation in order to present to people of the community the problems of recruiting qualified teachers. They hope to present through the symposium solutions to these problems.

The first volunteer to help Pontiac State Hospital was Mrs. Whitney Murphy (left) of Courtwright street. She and Mrs. Mildred Bennett, executive secretary of the Oakland County American Red Cross, talk over some of the projects which volunteers have devoted much time to during the past six years. Mrs. Bennett was speaker for the afternoon's ceremony.

Fishing Plus Cooking Equals Cash

By ANNE HEYWOOD

"My husband and I have a nice retirement activity," a reader writes, "and while it takes place only in the summers, it does give us the income we need and a great deal of pleasure, too."

Her husband, she went on to say, had a good job in a large company for years. They always used to spend their vacations at the shore, because he loved to fish.

A GOOD BUY

"By the time we were in our early 40s," she tells me, "we bought a small house on a nice piece of shorefront property, which we got quite cheap."

"We spent our summer vacations there. While Harry went fishing, I lazed around in the sun or redecorated the house."

"When retirement came—in Harry's company they retire people at 60—we had enough to live on, but not any to spare. We tried to think of a way to add to our income, but without success."

"At first, we just lived on our small income. At least, Harry had plenty of time to fish. Then, after a few years, we decided to capitalize on his fishing."

"I like to cook and, because of all the fish Harry caught, I became an expert in preparing all kinds of recipes for fish dishes."

"We decided to fix our big enclosed sun porch as a dining room and serve fish dinners on Fridays."

"We put a small ad in our local paper and had four customers on opening night. Little by little, the number grew and we began to serve three nights a week.

DINNERS NOTED

"Last summer," she concludes, "business continued to be so good that we were open every night but Monday. Our fish dinners are getting to be an institution. Little by little we've worked things out. Our prices are reasonable, too."

"This winter we're going to build an addition to the porch, so we'll have more space. Harry is happy because he loves to fish and I am happy because I love to cook and the income during the four summer months gives us lots of extra luxuries."

"We aren't going to expand."

"Clever gal, my Carol!"

► I'm tickled pink with the smart way my Carol handles her housework. Take wood floors for instance. Most gals complain about all that scrubbing and waxing. But not my Carol! She cleans and waxes them in one easy operation with Bruce Cleaning Wax. It takes her half the time and a lot less elbow grease. And we've yet to have a guest who hasn't commented on our beautiful wood floors. My Carol and her Bruce Cleaning Wax really make easy work of a hard job. I'm mighty pleased with both of them.

► P.S. For lighter waxing on linoleum and wood, Carol uses Bruce Floor Cleaner.

The cotton robe with terry lining is a handy thing to own. Just the thing to reach for when the phone rings and you're in the shower.

Tweed is dressy this year. If you've a tweed skirt with a fleck of vivid color in it, pick up that color in a linen blouse or a sweater.

Ex-Models Carve Out Big Careers

By JAMES L. KILGALLAN

International News Service

Models, like big league ball players, last only so long in their chosen profession—then they fade out of the limelight or go on to bigger and better things.

The average length of successful model's career is 8 to 10 years, according to Mrs. Betty Dorso, an attractive one-time model who is now fashion editor of Glamour Magazine.

Betty, who still is in close touch with the profession, describes modeling as "the most versatile, honest, varied, money-making business in the world for women." And she knows all the angles.

Under the name of Betty McLauchlin she was tops in the profession for 15 years. She was the ultra-chic type with an elegant manner who cashed in on the raised eyebrow and bored expression technique.

"When I stopped modeling in 1952, I was making $25 an hour, the top fee," said Betty. "Today the best fashion models earn $40 to $60 an hour."

FUTURE OUTLOOK

But what happens to models when their glamor wears off and they are no longer in demand?

Many of them carve out new careers. Others marry well. Some go into the movies or on the stage or branch out into television.

Remember Anita Colby, the model they used to call "The Face" because her features were so beautiful? She's now a beauty coordinator for one of the studios in Hollywood.

And how about blonde, green-eyed Kay Williams? She's now married to Clark Gable. Previously, she was married to two millionaires.

Eileen Ford, who lasted eight years as a top model, is now helping her husband run the highly successful Ford Model Agency in New York.

Grace Kelly, Philadelphia socialite and one-time photographic model, hit the jackpot in the movies. She won an Academy Award.

Joan Caulfield, a blue-eyed blonde who did teenage portrayals for the cameras, was auditioned by Abbott and became a stage star overnight in "Beat the Band."

She later starred on Broadway in "Kiss and Tell" and was given a screen test in Hollywood. As a result she was featured with Bob Hope, Bing Crosby and Fred Astaire. She also had her own television show, "My Favorite Husband."

All these career girls owe much to New York for the opportunity the big city gave them. New York remains the melting pot for model careers. Beautiful and ambitious girls come to this magnetic city from towns all over the U. S.

They also come to New York from Africa, England, Norway, Brazil, Mexico, and from Metropolitan centers such as London, Paris and Rome.

One Chinese girl cut quite a swath in New York. She was around for six years and was outstanding. Her name was Pay-lo. She was 6 feet tall in her stocking feet. She was slim, refined and alluring.

She was born in Shanghai. She attended the University of California for a time. She was also schooled in Switzerland and Paris.

Pay-lo was used in many fashion shows to give them "the dramatic touch."

"It's a peculiar thing," a noted ex-model told me, "that girl models from Europe often look more like girls from our Middle West than do girls born in Illinois or Ohio. And, by the same token, some girls born in Virginia or Ohio look as if they were raised in Paris or Rome."

Musicale Enjoys Artistry of Young Pianist, Soprano

A program both refreshing and stimulating was presented by two young artists when Pontiac Tuesday Musicale met Tuesday afternoon in Fellowship Hall of Grace Lutheran Church.

Yuri Yamamoto, Japanese pianist now studying at Albion College, and Doralene McNelly, a graduate of Capital University, Columbus, Ohio, now teaching in the Waterford school system, co-starred here as they were last summer at Interlochen.

The two were cabinmates at the music camp and shared top honors there, but neither knew the other was to appear before the Pontiac group until last weekend.

Although Miss Yamamoto has spent most of her life in Japan, she showed brilliant interpretation of the music of the Western world.

A very serious student, she performed the nuances and cadences of such works as two of Scarlatti's sonatas, Bach's "Prelude and Fugue in C Major" and Chopin's "Impromptu, Opus 36" with a mastery startling in one so young.

With her final selections, "Soaring" and "Dream Visions" from Schumann's "Fantasiestucke, Opus 12" and the andante and prestissimo movements of Scriabin's "Sonata No. 4, Opus 36" Miss Yamamoto left little doubt in the minds of her listeners that she is destined for a high place in the field of music.

Soprano soloist Doralene McNelly also shows great promise. Musicale members noted the flexibility of her voice and the ease with which she sang. Her top notes were delightfully flute-like.

With much feeling and expression, Miss McNelly presented "Feldensamkeit" and "O Liebliche Wachen" by Brahms, "Sad and Lonely" by Conquard, "Chinese Mother Goose Rhymes" by Crist and "Ballatella" from Pagliacci, by Leoncavallo.

She has sung with the Columbus

U-Boats Present Tougher Threat

Nuclear-Powered Subs
Peril to Coastal Areas,
Naval Official Says

BOSTON (AP) — Chief of Naval Operations Adm. Arleigh A. Burke says submarine launched weapons "tipped with atomic warheads, could constitute a real threat to our coastal areas, to our port cities and to our sea lanes."

Burke spoke yesterday at the commissioning of the USS Forrest Sherman, a new type destroyer which he called "the U. S. Navy's latest submarine killer."

He said one of the Navy's foremost challenges today comes from the submarine.

"The submarine is becoming more versatile than she has ever been," he said. "Today's submarines are capable of laying many types of mines, landing commandos, fueling and arming seaplanes; they are capable of launching torpedoes and guided missiles."

"Nuclear-powered submarines provide even a much greater threat for they have increased speed and range and staying power. They are tougher to find and tougher to kill."

Burke described the Forrest Sherman like this:

"She has the very latest equipment to detect, to pinpoint and kill the submarine. She is more liveable and she is more deadly than her World War II predecessors."

"Antisubmarine warfare is only one of the many missions that this ship is prepared to accomplish. She is prepared to kill enemy aircraft and destroy surface raiders. "She is truly the workhorse of the fleet."

Kids to Get Ice Cream Because Happy Won

Seek Stationkeepers for Naval Air Station

Openings for aviation rates and many general service rates have been announced by Captain Marshall T. Martin, commanding officer at the U.S. Naval Air Station, Grosse Ile.

This is part of the Navy's drive to fill vacancies in the stationkeepers billets.

Applications are also being accepted from young men 17 to 18½ years of age for enlistment in the Organized Reserve.

Federal housing units are available for married personnel and other benefits are five day work weeks, 30 day leave each year, plus advancements and retirement benefits.

Capt. Martin pointed out that stationkeeper personnel are not ordinarily transferred except at their own request, or in time of national emergency. They will remain at the air station for a period of two years of obligated duty.

Toddler Badly Scalded by Upset Coffee Pot

HIGHLAND PARK (INS) — A 13-month-old girl, burned by scalding coffee when she tugged at a percolator cord, was described in "fair" condition at Highland Park General Hospital.

Sandra Tiede pulled the percolator from the sideboard of the sink when her mother left the kitchen for a moment yesterday. The baby suffered burns over one-fifth of her body.

Bob Considine Says:

Ah, Sweetie, Remember That Junket to ---

NEW YORK (INS) — The airships fly the junketeers so fast these days that they don't get to meet one another. The junketeers, not the airships.

People have learned to snore on complete strangers to nights on end, drink with them, dance with them, meet the deputy premier with them, and never get the last name. The first name is always easy.

In this day and age, the first name is always "Sweetie." The word "Sweetie," I've found, covers a multitude of sinners.

Well, sir, went to a reunion party of junketeers toher night and it was something to see. This group had returned some time ago from a trip to Thule, Keflavik, BW-3, Crystal 2 and other gay spots in the Arctic.

As it turned out, certain husbands could not make the trip and certain wives were not invited.

This was the big reunion at which all single-o's on the trip would have an opportunity not only to introduce their mates but also meet, officially, those they had been with for the previous month.

HOW ABOUT —

But things sometimes get ahead of schedule at these affairs. At this party a very attractive blonde who had been on the trip sidled up to one of the liveliest guys on the junket — a real live one — threw a bump at him, howled "How about that party we all had at the Hotel Nord?" and was about to continue with a bellow when Joe Lively blanched and cut in as follows:

"Miss Murgatroyd, I want you should meet the Mrs. You know, the dear little helpmeet and mother of mine I talked about so much on the trip."

Youth Editor Runs Full Scale Weekly

HYDEN, Ky. (U)—Danzil Allen, 18, is editor of Kentucky's youngest full-scale weekly newspaper. He still wears braces on his teeth, but he had completed a year of college when he joined the paper. The Leslie County News, which began publishing in May.

He puts out a six-page edition each Thursday and is part-owner of the paper.

At college, he assisted Dr. Leonard Roberts in collecting mountain folklore for his book, "South From Hell Fer Sartin," and reported for the college newspaper.

By taking Saturday classes and correspondence courses, he plans to get a degree.

The dear little helpmeet and mother of mine doesn't believe a word of it, and you can tell it from her look at 900 yards. Miss Murgatroyd is offended, too. Her name is Mrs. Blatz.

Then, on these occasions, there's the bad moment for the spouse who hasn't been on the trip when the allusions begin to fly. Each of these trips develops a supreme comic, as any fool who attends a junket reunion will understand.

At this particular party, a short, bald man absolutely killed the entire room (except those who were not along) by rolling one eye and saying:

PUZZLED SQUARES

"How's that again?" People rolled about the floors in hysteria, while squares stood along the sidelines, stunned and wondering. Later, the mate who went on the trip would explain at length what happened in the old Sauna at Goose Bay in Labrador. But in the meanwhile it had to remain broken Eskimo.

Nothing can freeze a human being quite as much as a remark that is generally accepted as wonderful by all but he/she. He/she feels woefully out of the swim.

He/she feels a great deal like Stella Dallas must have felt with all the ice cream melting and nobody ringing the front door bell. He/she, I've found, never orders a melted ice cream, however. He/she orders a stiff drink and keeps grumbling "Well! . . ." more and more indignantly.

It all reminds me of the time I was on an Air Force junket up that way, Iceland, and one of the fellows got to know one of those big, beautiful Ingrid Bergman-type girls Iceland goes in for.

When we left the island — he had met her for a good three minutes at the deputy premier's party and had taught her the word "darling." — he said, "If you're ever in Poughkeepsie, call me up."

Well, the following Christmas Eve, plus two years, he's trimming the tree and the dear wife and kiddies are gathered about and the phone rings.

So he says hello and a husky

New Jet Engine Silencer Controls Motor Roaring

EAST HARTFORD, Conn. — A jet-engine silencer, which can be turned on or off at will by the pilot, has been designed by an East Hartford aircraft-engine manufacturer. The device changes the low roar of the jet's exhaust to a high-pitched hiss that the company seems less noisy because much of the sound is transferred beyond the range of human hearing. The pitch is raised by forcing gases through many small openings instead of one large hole.

Lowly Bovines May Be Weapon

Researchers Say Cows
Provide Milk to Fight
Most Diseases

MINNEAPOLIS (U)—Two University of Minnesota researchers have come up with findings indicating America's dairy cattle may be potent weapons in the fight against disease.

Experiments show that cows vaccinated for certain diseases have the power to produce milk which can protect its drinkers against those maladies.

Drinking of the so-called "protective milk" affords only passive or temporary immunity to disease and the protection continues only as long as such milk is consumed regularly.

MILK CAN DO IT

But Drs. William E. Petersen, professor of animal husbandry, and Berry Campbell, associate professor of anatomy, said that, on the basis of findings to date, "it is possible to expect that through proper development and distribution of protective milk, whole populations can be protected from disease."

They said they were certain that such milk could be used to immunize humans against such diseases as streptococcal infections, measles, smallpox, tuberculosis and diphtheria.

"A cow's udder is the greatest known producer of antibodies," their report said.

The report, published this month in the Journal Lancet, a medical magazine, said that vaccination of a single cow can provide immunization against as many as eight diseases and that any kind of cow may be used.

Park Has Snow Capped Mountains and Beaches

WASHINGTON (INS)—Olympic National Park, a vast preserve in the heart of the isolated Olympic Peninsula of Washington State, is the only United States park that holds both snow-capped mountains and ocean beaches, says the National Geographic Society.

Majestic peaks offer some of the finest alpine scenery on the continent, yet no point in the park is more than 60 miles from the sea.

Fire Razes Old School

LUDINGTON (U)—Fire Tuesday destroyed the 39-year-old Phillips School, oldest in Mason County, with damages estimated at $15,000. County officials met in emergency session to determine relocation measures for the school's 30 pupils.

Babe Ruth batted .525 in the 1928 world series.

Snow?—Road Commission Is Ready, Waiting for It

Let's face it folks. One of these mornings we'll wake up and find the ground blanketed with several inches of that downy white stuff commonly referred to as snow.

We'll admit that it enhances the landscape, but groan when we think of driving over miles of road to work. We'll hope that the Oakland County Road Commission is ready to handle the highway-clearing task.

They're set right now, although previous experience has shown real trouble usually doesn't arrive until around Thanksgiving time.

According to the Commission's road superintendent, Oscar D. Loomis, some 78 trucks, 25 graders, 16 under-body scrapers and 90 snowplows are primed for action at stations in Highland, Davisburg, Lake Orion and Pontiac.

About 230 men will be available for road maintenance operations through the winter, Loomis said. Sand, salt and calcium chloride are stockpiled and ready to be spread on slippery curves and hills.

Last year the Commission used 4,735 sacks of calcium chloride, each containing 100 pounds, another 4,861 tons of rock salt and several hundred tons of sand.

As a rule salt is used, said Loomis, until the temperature drops below 15 degrees. Then sand does the job better.

The men will be on 24-hour call. Night patrols are scheduled to check for bad spots and call out more workers if needed.

During the snowstorm season, the Commission checks the weather bureau twice daily in hopes it can prepare in advance for an expected snowfall.

As usual, main roads will be cleared first, Loomis added.

New Ski-Wheel Landing Gear Made for Planes

WILMINGTON, Del.—An engineering company in Wilmington has designed a ski-wheel landing gear, known as a retractable hydro-lift, that it says makes every beach in the world a potential airfield. On land, the hydro-lift craft operates as a conventional wheeled airplane, the company says, while on water retractable skis work like sportsmen's water skis. In mud or snow, the skis help prevent sinking.

Pork, Beef Prices Remain at Low Levels This Week

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Lower prices on a wide selection of meats will be offered by the nation's food stores this week.

Generally, beef and pork prices continue at around the lower levels reached in recent weeks. A number of stores will be offering smoked hams at marked down prices, and there will be specials on loins of pork, a favorite Sunday dinner item.

Chuck roast will be cheaper in many markets and some will trim price tags on round steak or roast, prime ribs and porterhouse steak.

Frying chickens will be a popular feature, with unusually low prices posted in some areas. Legs of lamb will be widely advertised for the weekend. Here and there, you'll find lower prices on veal chops, pork chops and veal legs and shoulders.

STRONG DEMAND

The U.S. Department of Agriculture passed the word along this week that your Thanksgiving turkey will cost two to six cents a pound more this year than in 1954. The reason: a smaller crop and later marketing. However, the USDA looks for a strong demand for the birds because of high incomes and growing populations.

If those high incomes continue, the housewife should have no complaint about the price of food next year. The government has reported that prices will be about the same as this year. There'll be plenty of meat, and while some kinds may go up slightly, this will be offset by lower prices for pork.

Foods in plentiful supply are usually reasonably priced. Here's the department of agriculture's list of such foods for this month: pork, beef, broilers and fryers, turkeys, potatoes, cauliflower, rice, canned tuna, milk and dairy products, apples, dates, cranberries, grapes, winter pears, raisins, lard and vegetable fats and oils.

EGGS LOWER

Egg prices generally will be lower this weekend, with reductions ranging from one to four cents a dozen. Butter shows little price change.

From the produce men comes word that beef, potatoes, onions, turnips, radishes and cabbage are outstanding buys this week. Rated as good buys are cauliflower, beans, red cabbage, peppers, iceberg lettuce, spinach, sweet potatoes and artichokes.

Some vegetables are higher than a week ago, including cucumbers, peas, carrots and tomatoes. Worthwhile buys in fruits include oranges and grapefruit, avocados, apples (although they're a little higher), limes and Emperor grapes. Honeydew melons are up in price this week.

Detroit Teacher Pay Hike Referred to Board

DETROIT (INS) — Detroit School Superintendent Arthur Dondineau's recommendation that city teachers receive annual pay raises of $200 to $236 has been referred by the Board of Education to its finance committee for consideration.

The superintendent made the recommendation after the State Legislature approved a bill in allocating extra funds to school districts.

Cooperation with post office efforts to speed the delivery of mail-order shrubs and plants was urged yesterday by Acting Postmaster Leslie H. Dean.

Noting that the nursery shipping season is at its height, Dean explained that because much of such stock is perishable "the best results cannot be expected unless purchasers and delivering agencies cooperate."

Dean advises home gardeners to (1) during absences, make arrangements to have a neighbor accept shipped plants, (2) store in a cool, moist place until planting time, and (3) have the ground well-prepared and ready for planting soon after delivery.

Celebration Cures Flu

CHICAGO, (INS) — Chicago Police Commissioner Timothy O'Connor censured a patrolman who said he had the flu but drove to Stuttgart, Ark. Said O'Connor: "Best place I know to treat a cold is in bed, not driving on the highway to a wedding anniversary."

Billy Hamilton stole 937 bases in 14 years in the majors.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Lower prices on a wide selection of meats will be offered by the nation's food stores this week-end.

Generally, beef and pork prices continue at around the lower levels reached in recent weeks. A number of stores will be offering smoked hams at marked down prices, and there will be specials on loins of pork, a favorite Sunday dinner item.

Chuck roast will be cheaper in many markets and some will trim price tags on round steak or roast, prime ribs and porterhouse steak.

Frying chickens will be a popular feature, with unusually low prices posted in some areas. Legs of lamb will be widely advertised for the weekend. Here and there, you'll find lower prices on veal chops, pork chops and veal legs and shoulders.

STRONG DEMAND

The U.S. Department of Agriculture passed the word along this week that your Thanksgiving turkey will cost two to six cents a pound more this year than in 1954. The reason: a smaller crop and later marketing. However, the USDA looks for a strong demand for the birds because of high incomes and growing populations.

If those high incomes continue, the housewife should have no complaint about the price of food next year. The government has reported that prices will be about the same as this year. There'll be plenty of meat, and while some kinds may go up slightly, this will be offset by lower prices for pork.

Foods in plentiful supply are usually reasonably priced. Here's the department of agriculture's list of such foods for this month: pork, beef, broilers and fryers, turkeys, potatoes, cauliflower, rice, canned tuna, milk and dairy products, apples, dates, cranberries, grapes, winter pears, raisins, lard and vegetable fats and oils.

Explosive Fumes Halt Plymouth Production

DETROIT (U)—Production was halted at the Plymouth-Lynch road plant yesterday when a propane gas line broke, filling plant departments with explosive fumes. Some 5,300 day shift workers were hustled from the factory six minutes before quitting time. The second shift of 2,500 was sent home as a precautionary measure. Company officials estimated production of 1,000 cars was halted by the accident.

Gov. Williams Invited to Tourist Site Opening

PORT HURON (U)—Gov. Williams has been asked to represent the United States at the Nov. 16 opening of a new tourist reception center at the Canadian end of the Blue Water Bridge, connecting Port Huron to Sarnia, Ont. The Sarnia Chamber of Commerce is planning the opening as an international event. Ontario Premier Leslie Frost also has been invited to attend.

JOIN THE MARINES—Pontiac Township twins Bob and Bill Heard, 17, shake hands with Marine Master Sgt. Ishmeal Powers to seal their enlistment in the Marine Corps today on the 180th birthday of the U. S. Marines. The boys have three brothers already in the Corps.

Twins Join 3 Brothers, Says Charity Giving Sign Up in Marine Corps Proves Fine Business

Bill and Bob Heard, a pair of almost indistinguishable Pontiac Township twins, joined their three brothers in the Marines today. The boys, 17, say they decided to join a month ago when their brother Nathan, a Marine sergeant now stationed on Formosa, came home on a visit.

Besides Bill, Bob and Nathan, 23, Mr. and Mrs. Sheridan Heard of 2085 Walnut Rd. have sent Wayne, 20, a Private First Class stationed in Japan, and Joe, a 25-year-old staff sergeant in Florida, to the Marine Corps.

The twins' enlistment becomes effective today, on the 180th birthday of the Marine Corps.

UAW and Packard Extend Layoff Pact

DETROIT (U)—The CIO United Auto Workers' layoff pay plan was extended yesterday to cover 10,000 area workers of the Packard Division of the Studebaker-Packard Corp.

Company and union representatives arrived at terms of a new three-year contract which UAW Vice President Norman Matthews said "fully meets the pattern" established last summer in negotiations with the auto industry's big three, Ford, General Motors and Chrysler.

A Packard spokesman said the economic package is "strictly in the new industry pattern" and is competitive with other major auto contracts.

State Man Convicted of 2nd-Degree Murder

PORT HURON (U)—A Circuit Court jury yesterday deliberated more than two hours before convicting Larry Gunter of Port Huron of second-degree murder in the Oct. 1 knife slaying of Connie Beavers, 32, also of Port Huron.

Circuit Judge Edward T. Kane said sentence would be pronounced after an investigation by the court's probation department.

The state accused Gunter of fatally stabbing Beavers in an argument over freeing an automobile stuck in sand. Gunter denied being at the scene. Ten witnesses testified he was there.

Asian Would Lead New 'Little NATO'

PEARL HARBOR (U)—A highly placed source said yesterday that if a "Little NATO" headquarters is formed in the Pacific the United States would press for an over-all command from the Philippines, Pakistan or Thailand.

The source said the United States opposes formation of another command similar to NATO but conceded that one might be necessary in a modified form. For one thing, U.S. infantry would not be involved as in Europe.

This source said U.S. representatives to the Southeast Asia military planners conference here "have no authority to commit any U.S. ground troops" in current planning. But, he added, this does not apply to planes or presumably warships.

Clean aluminum finishes with aluminum cleanser or fine steel wool. Remove discoloration with vinegar or lemon juice and wash well.

Athletics: Eddie Collins twice in the season of 1912 stole six bases. Yankees and the Browns, on Sept. 28, 1926, played a doubleheader in within the course of a single game. Just 2 hours and 7 minutes.

Name Is Mr. Eisenhower and . . .

The New Address Is Gettysburg

ENTRANCE TO GETTYSBURG WHITE HOUSE is simple, unmarked gate where Pennsylvania State Police trooper stands guard.

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (NEA) — They're preparing for history to strike here again.

This time it takes the form of moving the functions of the White House to Ike's 496-acre farm on the edge of town when the President is well enough to make the trip some time in November.

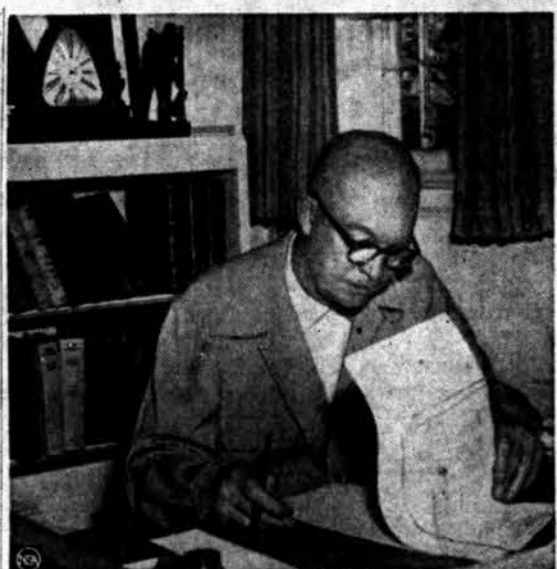

History struck here first when the Union and the Confederacy clashed in the bloody Civil War battle of Gettysburg.

But as of now, Gettysburg citizens are inclined to rate Ike's arrival ahead of the neatly stacked cannon balls, rusty field pieces and stone monuments which line the highway into town.

During the remainder of Ike's term much of the work of the White House will be done in Gettysburg.

The President is expected to leave the hospital at Denver Friday, spend the weekend resting in the White House, and journey to his Gettysburg farm by automobile Monday.

Two telephone cables, each with 26 lines, have already been strung into Ike's residence from nearby Hanover, Pa. That is the main tell and exchange point for the independent United Telephone Co.

of Pennsylvania which serves the area.

This work was done in cooperation with the Army Signal Corps. The United switchboard in Gettysburg will be handling some of the White House calls. Some will come through Hanover. The cables also include private lines connecting Ike's residence directly with Washington. There will have to be some kind of small switchboard on the farm itself.

This new communications line will be adaptable to any telecasting of presidential messages or speeches which Ike might make direct from his residence.

This year Ike bought a 21-acre section of land which borders both his property and the official national battlefield preserve. Workmen are busily putting up a fence around this new section to aid the security efforts of the Secret Service.

On the national park land, a few hundred feet from the entrance to the farm, workers are now installing a large parking lot. They have orders to finish it before Ike's arrival.

Arrangements are being made to install a press room in a hall downtown which adjoins the local movie theater. Western Union is putting in eight extra channels to handle the news copy which will be flowing out of here.

Living quarters for the White House staff and reporters who will be here are not considered a problem.

Henry Scharf, manager of the Gettysburg Hotel, says, "We've been handling 700,000 visitors a year here who come to see the battlefield, and we have plenty of facilities for taking care of anyone in connection with White House business."

There are also many modern, comfortable motels bordering the battlefield area, less than a mile from Ike's farm, which will probably be used by Secret Service men and White House staff.

The most serious shortage will be office space on the farm itself. Large loads of lumber and many workmen have been seen moving in and out of the farm during the past several weeks, but there have been no reports of what is going on inside the locked gates.

It's doubtful if Ike will do any flying between Gettysburg and Washington very soon after he is well enough to make the trip. The auto ride is less than two hours. But Al Strohmeier, manager of the local airport, is prepared to get plenty of official visitors flying into his 2,500-foot grass strip.

A twin engine C-47 is about the largest plane that can land on the field. Ike's small twin-engine plane will be used to move some visitors in and out.

Far and away the Gettysburg resident most enthusiastic about Ike's arrival is Mrs. Ruth Swope. She runs a hot dog and souvenir stand a few hundred feet from the entrance to the farm and reports: "I don't think this thing is going to hurt business one bit."

Gas-Electric Switch Gives Constant Service

FREEPORT, Ill. — A Freepor concern has developed a sealed electric switch filled with inert gas under pressure to ensure constant operating characteristics regardless of atmospheric change.

Developed to be used on exposed aircraft applications, the switch features an ice scraper at the base of its actuator to remove mud or ice that might interfere with operation.

Set Juvenile Hearings

WASHINGTON (INS) — A special Senate Subcommittee on Juvenile Delinquency plans to hold hearings in New York Nov. 16 and 17 and in Washington on Nov. 18 to consider federal aid for an attack on the problem of juvenile delinquency.

Retired Executive Dies

GRAND RAPIDS (U) — Ward F. Herst, who retired eight years ago as general superintendent of Wolverine Brass Works in Grand Rapids, died Tuesday in Blodgett Memorial Hospital. He was 79 and had joined the brass firm in 1917.

Wilson Restricts Rocket to Army

Medium Range Missile 'Redstone' Denied Navy Research Units

WASHINGTON (INS) — Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson gave assurances yesterday that the Army's 500-mile Redstone rocket will not be transferred to any other service.

Wilson is considering recommendations by a majority of the joint chiefs of staff that the Air Force be given the exclusive mission of developing "medium range" guided missiles.

A spokesman for Wilson said that regardless of how "medium range" may be defined, this will not include either the present Redstone or any improved model of the rocket that may be brought out later.

The Redstone, 60 feet tall and weighing approximately 25 tons, can be considered small in comparison with intercontinental missiles envisioned for the future. But at present it is by far the largest rocket ever tested.

The new rocket has been fired several times off the coast of Florida, once as recently as three weeks ago. The Redstones set off so far have traveled less than 500 miles, but experts believe later models may exceed that range.

The range that has been suggested for "medium" missiles — medium in comparison with 5,000-mile intercontinental types — is 750 to 2,500 miles. Wilson's spokesman indicated that the secretary may avoid a precise definition.

TODAY'S ASSIGNMENT FOR:

JUNIOR EDITORS

Weather—
Rain, Rain Go Away

We do not always like rain because it often interferes with our plans to play outdoors or go on a picnic. That's why we sometimes sing:

Rain, rain go away,
Come again another day.

But we shouldn't feel too badly if the rain does come because rain is necessary for all life on earth — the grass, flowers, birds, animals and, of course, humans.

Here is a Junior Editor ready for a picnic when the rains come. Luckily she had an umbrella.

You can add this picture to your weather collection by pasting it down on thin cardboard and coloring with paints or crayons. Cut out the parts carefully.

Fasten the separate arm behind the girl's shoulder with a brass fastener or a bent pin. Then she can lift the umbrella over her head. Fold the side panel forward on the dotted lines and the figure will stand.

Maybe the sun will shine later and we can go on our picnic. Junior Editors pay $10 for any reader's idea that is used. Write your suggestion to "Junior Editors" in care of this newspaper; it cannot be acknowledged or returned.

TOMORROW: Under the Rainbow

Wildlife Officials
Trap Big, Little
Bears for Study

GRAND MARAIS (AP) — Wildlife researchers have been studying bears, up close. Big bears they catch—15 so far this year—in traps made out of big steel culverts.

With the bear inside, they pump some anesthetic in, then attach their ear tags, record weights and measurements and depart while bruin is snoozing.

But there was a demand this year for a check on little bears. Some small steel traps were put out, and soon the news came: a cub was captured.

A research crew set out, with notebook, pencils, tapes and such—all the equipment needed with one exception. No experienced bear wrestler. That's what they needed most. With a couple of toes in the trap, was a mature 315-pound black bear. And he was mad.

They managed to pin the bear, two falls out of three or thereabouts, and gather the vital statistics. But if you want an experienced bear wrestler, look elsewhere for him. The research crew has retired.

Happy Fireman's Ball

NEW YORK (INS) — Brooklyn fireman Arthur M. Wallace was particularly overjoyed yesterday when his wife gave birth to a 10-pound boy on his day off. The 54-year-old father thus was able to take care of his 13 other children.

TB Researcher
Warns ParentsBuffalo Physician Says
Children Carry Germs
of Meningitis

DENVER (INS)—A Buffalo, N.Y. researcher said today in Denver children with apparently-arrested cases of tuberculosis may actually be harboring deadly germs capable of causing fatal tuberculosis meningitis.

Dr. Kornel L. Terplan issued the warning at the opening session of the first International Symposium on Tuberculosis in infancy and childhood at National Jewish Hospital.

Dr. Terplan, head of the department of pathology and bacteriology at the Buffalo University Medical School and chief pathologist at Buffalo General Hospital and Buffalo Children's Hospital, produced studies to back up his assertion.

He said the cases of 50 children who died of tuberculosis at Buffalo in the past 15 years showed that even though TB germs appeared arrested they were capable of "re-activating" without notice. The result is deadly meningitis.

ENCASES THE GERM

The Buffalo specialist's comments led off the symposium attended by 150 doctors and scientists from around the world.

Dr. Terplan said when tuberculosis germs in a victim's lungs are arrested by "standard means," the body encases the germs in a sort of cocoon within the lung.

He said among children, however, the germs—trapped in calcium shells called "lesions"—can become troublesome because they are still free to break out again into activity.

The researcher said that when the TB germs reactivate, they con-time their growth and in the case of children end with TB meningitis.

Fire Losses Decline

MUSKEGON (AP)—Fire Chief Wallace F. Gannon reports the city suffered only $945 in fire losses in October, compared with a loss of $3,685 a year ago. The city's total fire loss for the first 10 months of 1955 stands at $42,315, a sharp contrast to a $383,670 loss for the same period last year.

School Children Carry
Common Cold Around

CLEVELAND — Some medical authorities think school children may be carriers of the common cold. Children have twice as many colds as adults, but preschool children average only 4.9 colds a year. If there are school-age youngsters in a family, the average climbs to 6.7 colds a year for the school-goers and rises to nearly 8 for the preschoolers.

South African Exports of Butter Reveal Gain

CAPETOWN — The Union of South Africa exported more than 3,000,000 pounds of butter during 1954, about 10 times the previous year's shipments. Cheese exports climbed 200,000 pounds to a total of 3,300,000 pounds and canned-milk shipments of 2,700,000 pounds were more than double those of the year before.

Party Fun Comes by the Pailful

A party with a pretty young hostess serving fancy food from a cardboard snack pail is a "jam-ous" idea to delight the young set. Fancy party pinwheel sandwiches, pretty as a picture, and made with sweet spreads by the hostess herself, are the center of attraction. It's easy to create many different kinds of these fancy sandwiches in a very short time. Spread bread with Golden Spread and Tutti Frutti Spread, roll up and slice. Wrap a variety of these dainty pieces in aluminum foil and place in snack pails with nuts, candies and petite tea cookies. Pass a snack pail to each guest and pour pink lemonade for everyone.

JAMOUS PARTY — Teenagers will take to this idea with enthusiasm. Pass the refreshments in a cardboard paint pail that you may purchase at the hardware store. After eating, let the guests use the pails to create fancy hats, using trimmings you supply.

Serve Spiced Pears to Accent Meat Flavor
Pacific Coast canned pears make an appetizing Paradise meat accompaniment when spiced. It's simple to do.
Drain the juice from a No. 2 1/2 can of pears, add to it one-fourth cup vinegar, 1 stick cinnamon and 3 whole cloves. Bring to boil and simmer three minutes. Then pour back over pears and set in refrigerator to chill. Serve with meat or fowl.

Try This Ham Sauce
Try this over green beans, cabbage, broccoli — or over noodles, macaroni, rice: Mix 2 tablespoons butter with 1 tablespoon flour and 1 tablespoon prepared mustard; cook and stir in 1 cup milk. Heat over moderate flame until thickened, then add deviled ham and season.

Best Apples for Pies
Apples that rate "excellent" for use in pies are: Jonathan, Northern Spy, Rhode Island Greening and Stayman Winesap.

Golden Spread
2 cups chopped, dried apricots
1 1/2 cups apple jelly
1 teaspoon lemon juice
1 teaspoon grated lemon peel
Combine all ingredients in a saucepan. Heat, stirring constantly until the jelly has melted and ingredients are well blended. Makes 3 1/2 cups.

Tutti Frutti Spread
1/2 cup raisins
1/2 cup strawberry or raspberry jam
1/2 cup chopped nuts
1 teaspoon lemon rind
1/2 cup citron
Mix all ingredients together. Makes two cups.

Make Relish in Jiffy
Jiffy relish to serve with turkey, chicken or ham is made by chopping together one each green pepper, sweet red pepper, small onion and two stalks celery. Combine with three red Delicious apples unpeeled and chopped. Add 1 1/2 teaspoons salt, three-fourths cup sugar and one-third cup lemon juice. Mix well. Cover and chill thoroughly. Makes about 3 cups.

Bread, Oranges Star in Dessert

Do you want a whole afternoon to yourself? Plan a do-ahead dinner. In the morning, make an elegant stew and put it in a casserole. Cut up greens for a salad and let them crisp in the refrigerator; mix the dressing and make dessert.

To get dinner ready, just heat the stew in the oven and toss the salad. While the stew is heating there's time aplenty to set the table.

You've had an afternoon off but the dinner's fine! And here's the dessert made with tart oranges and spicy cinnamon bread:

Golden Fluff Shortcake
3 medium oranges
2 eggs, beaten
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup orange juice
1/2 cup lemon juice
1/2 cup heavy cream, whipped
12 thin slices enriched yeast-raised cinnamon-raisin bread
Peel and section oranges. Combine eggs, sugar and juices in the top of a double boiler. Cook over boiling water, stirring constantly, until thickened. Chill. Fold in whipped cream.

Remove crusts from bread. Spoon a little custard on half the slices. Top with some of the orange sections then remaining slices of a duck.

bear this in mind...
only one orange juice is TreeSweet

Cheese Souffle Won't Ruin Diet

Breathes there a dieter who would not come to attention at the mere mention of Cheese Souffle. Ah, fluffy forbidden visions of feasting.

Yet puffing high in the test kitchen oven is a delicious souffle tailored even to a restricted diet. Carrot and Cheese Souffle, it's called, and each one-half cup serving counts only 134 calories.

With the modest calorie count, the serving really brings home the vitamin A with about 8 grams protein.

Of course you'll have a real tough time keeping to that one-half cup serving, but then that's your worry. And pleasure.

Carrot and Cheese Souffle
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
1/2 cup flour
1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup grated carrots
1/2 cup strained or shredded cheese
2 eggs, separated

Melt butter or margarine over low heat. Blend with flour and salt. Add milk. Cook, stirring constantly, until thick and smooth. (Use a heavy saucepan over low heat or top of double boiler).

Add strained carrots and cheese. Mix well. Beat egg yolks and add to mixture, stirring in gradually. Beat egg whites until stiff and fold into the mixture.

Pour into oiled baking cups or quart casserole. Place in a pan of hot water and bake in moderately slow (325 degrees) oven 50 minutes or until center is firm.

Makes three large or four average servings (approximately one-half cup each).

Note: Each one-half cup serving yields approximately 8 grams protein, 4,000 I. U. vitamin A and only 134 calories.

Try Sausage Roll-ups for Tempting Snack

Sausage roll-ups are delicious between-meal snacks, easy to prepare. To make them, use the precooked sausage links or cook fresh sausage links.

Wrap the well browned links in biscuit dough, pop into a hot oven for 12 to 15 minutes, and serve piping hot.

Chocolate Milk Provides Basis for Festive Drinks

With social activities back in doors and in full swing again, it's smart to keep a few foods on hand for those simple snacks you like to give friends when they drop around.

No matter what the age or tastes of the group you're playing hostess to, you can't go wrong if you serve a selection of fresh doughnuts and a hot drink made with chocolate milk.

On chilly evenings they'll welcome a rich-flavored mocha whip or a fluffy chocolate eggnog to speed them on their way. Both

Pair Up Tuna and Asparagus for Casseroles

These individual casseroles look and taste delicious.

Tuna, Asparagus Casserole Style
1 can (14 1/2 oz.) green asparagus
4 tablespoons butter or margarine
4 tablespoons flour
Milk
Salt, pepper
1/2 cup strained Parmesan cheese
2 cans (5 oz. each) tuna
4 tablespoons grated Parmesan cheese
Paprika

Drain liquid from asparagus into a measure; add enough milk to make two cups. Melt butter in 1 or 1 1/2 quart saucepan over low heat; stir in flour.

Add milk all at once; cook and stir constantly until bubbly and thickened; allow to bubble a few more minutes; add salt and pepper to taste.

Stir in one-third cup Parmesan. Cool, then refrigerate.

At serving time, arrange asparagus in four individual casseroles, each holding at least one cup.

Drain tuna; break up; arrange tuna over asparagus; spoon sauce over; sprinkle with the one-quarter cup Parmesan; dust with paprika.

Bake in hot (425 degrees) oven until hot and bubbly—15 minutes or longer. Makes four hearty servings.

Note: Individual heat-resistant glass pie dishes (about six inches across and one inch deep) are fine to use for this recipe.

After-School Beverage

Youngsters love an after-school drink made from milk, mashed banana and chocolate syrup. For special occasions add a scoop of ice cream and serve in a tall glass with straws and a long spoon.

Kraut-Pork-Apple Menu Perfect for Group Supper

Planning a supper for your church, civic or social group? If so you're probably beset with menu problems. We suggest you consider a kraut, pork 'n' apple dinner.

This combination always hits the spot with adults and youngsters alike. Budgetwise, too, this trio can't be topped, which is an important consideration when money-making is an objective.

Here are two particularly good recipes that will be welcomed by your committee for their easy preparation and mouth-watering results.

Autumn Treat
1 1/2 cups butter or margarine
1/2 cup currant jelly
1 1/2 medium-sized apples, cored and cut in rings
25 loin pork chops
1 No. 10 can sauerkraut
1 1/2 quarts chopped onions

Melt butter or margarine and jelly; add apple rings and cook until browned. Remove apple rings. Cook chops in butter or margarine mixture until lightly browned on both sides.

Meanwhile, combine sauerkraut and onions; arrange on top of chops. Cover and cook over low heat 30 minutes.

Uncover and add apple rings. Cover and continue cooking 30 minutes, or until chops are done. Makes 25 servings.

Harvest Barbecue
25 pork chops
1/2 cup fat
1 quart thinly sliced onions
2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce
1 cup chili sauce
1/2 cup lemon juice
1/2 cup prepared horseradish
2 teaspoons salt
Dash cayenne pepper
1/2 cup melted butter or margarine
1 No. 10 can sauerkraut

Season pork chops with salt and pepper. Melt fat over medium heat and add chops. Cook until browned on both sides. Place in baking pans.

Combine 1 cup onions, Worcestershire sauce, chili sauce, lemon juice, apple juice, horseradish 2 teaspoons salt and cayenne pepper. Mix well and pour over chops.

Cover and bake in moderate oven (325) one hour, or until chops are thoroughly done. Combine remaining onions, butter or margarine and sauerkraut. Cover and cook over medium heat 20 to 30 minutes.

Serve sauerkraut with pork chops. Makes 25 servings.

Delicious Sauce Goes With Smoked Meats
Here's a delicious sauce for smoked meats:
Mix 1 tablespoon of sugar with 5 teaspoons of flour, gradually adding 1 cup of water. Bring to boiling point; add salt, 3 tablespoons of lemon juice, 3 tablespoons of molasses and half cup seedless raisins. Simmer five minutes, add 1 tablespoon of butter, cook until melted. Serve hot with ham and tongue. Makes 1 1/2 cups.

For Better Nutrition
Iron is absorbed better when vitamin C also enhance iron absorption. Citrus fruits or other sources of vitamin C also enhance iron absorption. Iron is absorbed better when liver, vegetables, yeast or enriched flour are included in the diet.

BAKED STUFFED POTATOES—Baked potatoes are wonderful eating just served with butter, salt and pepper. Imagine them stuffed with mushrooms and browned lightly. They make a good accompaniment to seafood croquettes of any kind.

Peanut Butter Waffles Rated Simply Super

Reach into your freezer compartment for this early morning send-off. Pop frozen Peanut Butter Waffles into toaster; serve with crisp bacon and honey butter. Simply super!

Peanut Butter Waffles

1/2 cup shortening
1/2 cup peanut butter
2 cups pancake mix
1/2 cup sugar
2 eggs
1/2 cup chopped peanuts

Melt shortening and peanut butter together; mix well.

Place all ingredients (except peanuts) in bowl; beat with rotary beater until fairly smooth. Stir in peanuts. Pour batter onto hot waffle iron. Bake waffles until steaming stops.

To freeze waffles, cool thoroughly; wrap in foil. Freeze immediately. To serve, unwrap and heat in toaster. Serve hot with butter and honey.

Try Hash in Tomatoes

Quick idea for supper; remove pulp from four big, firm tomatoes. To the pulp add a can of corned beef hash and mix well. Place in tomato cups and sprinkle with grated cheese. Bake in a 350 degree oven for 25 to 30 minutes.

Planning to have salmon or tuna patties for supper? Add a little finely diced celery to the standard recipe for interesting flavor and texture contrast.

Baked Potatoes Acquire Glamor

Baked potatoes appeal to every member of the family. From young child to grandfather they're a favorite.

Now, baked potatoes are delicious when served with butter. They can be even more delicious when stuffed with mushrooms.

When you serve stuffed baked potatoes, you can prepare them ahead of time and reheat just before serving. This is a time-saving method that busy modern homemakers appreciate.

Baked Potatoes Stuffed with Mushrooms

4 large baking potatoes
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
1/4 teaspoon ground black pepper
1 cup hot milk
1/2 cup finely chopped fresh mushrooms
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
12 slices mushrooms for garnish

Wash potatoes and bake in a very hot oven (450 degrees F.) one hour or until soft. Remove from oven. Cut a slice from the top of each and scoop out the inside.

Mash thoroughly. Add salt, black pepper and hot milk. Saute the chopped mushrooms in 2 tablespoons of the butter or margarine and fresh lemon juice. Add to potatoes and beat until fluffy.

Pile lightly into shells. Garnish each with two slices fresh mushrooms, dipped in remaining butter or margarine, melted. Bake until brown, 8 to 10 minutes. Serves six.

Meatballs Rolled in Coconut Have Western Appeal

Here's a novel combination—meatballs and shredded coconut.

Meatballs West Coast

2 cups sliced green peppers
2 tablespoons flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1 egg
1 pound ground beef
1/2 to 1 cup shredded coconut
1/2 cup chicken broth (or 1 chicken bouillon cube dissolved in 1 cup of boiling water)
1 1/2 cups (3-ounce package) packaged pre-cooked rice
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup boiling water
2 1/2 tablespoons cornstarch
1 tablespoon soy sauce
1/2 cup vinegar
1/2 cup sugar
1 cup fresh orange sections

Cook green peppers in small amount of salted water two to three minutes. Drain and set aside.

Mix together flour and one-half teaspoon salt, pepper and combine with egg to make a batter. Shape ground beef into 16 small balls. Thoroughly coat meatballs with batter, then roll in coconut.

Heat oil and 1 teaspoon of salt in skillet. Add minced garlic. Drop meatballs, one at a time, into hot oil in skillet and brown lightly on all sides. Remove all but 1 tablespoon of the fat. Add one-third cup of chicken broth. Cover skillet tightly.

Simmer over low heat for about 10 minutes. Meanwhile, add packaged precooked rice and one-half teaspoon salt to boiling water in saucepan. Mix just to moisten all rice. Cover and remove from heat.

Let stand 13 minutes. Blend the cornstarch, soy sauce, vinegar and sugar with the remaining two-thirds cup broth. Pour into skillet over meatballs. Add green peppers and orange sections.

Stir until the sauce is thickened, about five minutes. Arrange rice on platter and surround with meatballs and sauce. Serves four.

Foods Rich in Iron Help Avoid Illness

Iron-rich foods each day help to avoid fatigue, weakness and nervousness... early symptoms of the anemia that results when diets are deficient in iron. Our thirty trillion red blood cells need iron for their hemoglobin, a key substance which enables the red cells to carry oxygen throughout the body.

Since little iron is stored, it is essential to have a steady supply of iron-rich foods. Also, the ability of the body to absorb the iron from foods depends to some extent on the quality of the diet as a whole.

Topping the list of iron-rich foods are the various types of liver. One serving will provide more than the 13 milligrams of iron usually recommended per day.

Oysters, scallops, clams, lean meats, sweetbreads and liverwurst are good sources of iron, as are dried fruits, loganberries, avocados, eggs, dried beans and peas, whole grain and enriched breads and cereals, potatoes, green vegetables, sauerkraut, escarole, mustard and other leafy greens.

Combine these high iron foods with other protective foods in the following daily pattern for a diet that will be high in quality too.

Making pot roast with onion, carrots and potatoes? Add chopped celery and green pepper, too, for fine flavor.

'Kettle Supper' Ideal for Winter

To our way of thinking, there's nothing quite as friendly and inviting as a hearty meal like this "Country Kettle Supper" on a blustery eve.

As the flavorful, economical smoked pork shoulder butt simmers away in a rich tomato sauce, you can go about your work, confident there will be no last-minute scurrying when your hungry family comes home.

Country Kettle Supper

1 large onion, sliced
3 tablespoons bacon drippings

2 or 4 pound smoked pork shoulder butt
1 can tomato paste
3 cans water
1 or 2 tablespoons prepared horseradish
1 teaspoon salt
No. 2 1/2 can sweetosh
1/2 cup chopped ripe olives

Cook onion in drippings in deep skillet or kettle. Add meat, tomato paste, water and seasonings; cover and simmer slowly for about 1 1/2 hours.

Stir in vegetables and olives; heat thoroughly. Makes six servings.

New-Style Ambrosia

Serve that old-fashioned Southern dessert, Ambrosia, this new way. To the usual combination of sliced oranges and bananas sprinkled with shredded coconut, add scoops of sherbet. The sherbet can be orange, lemon or lime flavor.

Ever Try (Ugh)
Peanut Stew?

PORTALES, N.M.—Tired of the same old thing for dinner? Just serve peanuts, advises editor Gordon Greaves of the Portales Daily News.

"Have you tried stewed peanuts?" asks Greaves, probably the world's most enthusiastic peanut fancier. "Delicious! You just pull 'em right out of the ground and stew 'em."

Greaves is highly peanut conscious, his favorite variety being the locally grown Valencia peanuts, one of the main crops in the rich farming area served by his newspaper.

Through his column, "By the Way," the editor keeps cooks in his county thoroughly informed on peanut recipes. He advocates the use of peanuts in just about every dish, commenting:

"I have eaten peanuts in the hull, raw, roasted and stewed, and they are good any of these ways. I have eaten them in pies, in candied sweet potatoes and of course, in peanut butter, which can be used as an ingredient in many recipes. I especially like popcorn popped in peanut oil."

His favorite salad is called 3-P and is composed of peas, pickles and peanuts.

Greaves' youngest daughter is named Peanut, but he says sadly: "My wife calls her Patricia."

Spicy Applesauce Sparks Pancakes

On the mornings when there's no "off to school-off to work" rush, what could make the family happier than golden brown French toast or tender griddle cakes.

With French toast or griddle cakes, there's honey, syrup or jam. And for a new treat, put together in minutes, there's Spicy Applesauce.

Spicy Applesauce
1 cup applesauce
2 tablespoons brown sugar
1 teaspoon cinnamon
2 tablespoons butter

Combine ingredients in small saucepan. Stir over low heat until well blended. Serve hot with French toast or pancakes.

Save your energy by sitting instead of standing whenever you can. Sit to pare vegetables, do dishes and iron.

Chicken and Biscuits Have 'Saucy' Appeal

What's more natural than chicken and hot biscuits? Here's a saucy way to put the two together.

Bake 1 package (8-ounce size) refrigerator biscuits at 450 degrees, 8 to 10 minutes or until brown. Heat 1 can (1 1/4 cups) condensed cream of celery soup, and one-third cup milk over low heat stirring occasionally. Add 1 can (5-ounce size) boned chicken, 2 tablespoons minced parsley and 2 tablespoons diced pimiento. Heat five minutes more. Pour soup mixture over hot biscuits. Four servings.

Carrot-Raisin Spread

Grated carrots, raisins and mayonnaise make a nutritious sandwich spread for youngsters. Plump the raisins by letting them stand in very hot water a few minutes, then drain well.

Punch Solves Party Problem

Fall and winter festivities now occupy the calendar. There'll be parties and parties, especially among the younger set. The best way to handle refreshments for a crowd is to serve a punch — good flavored and tempting to look at.

Here's a simple and delicious punch, easily made with carbonated fruit-flavored beverages. To insure against flavor dilution, it's a good idea to freeze ice cubes of either the lemon or raspberry soda.

For a light and dark effect, you might like to make half the cubes of one flavor and half of the other.

Another variation — and one that will make a hit at any party — omit the ice cubes and lemon slices and garnish the punch with scoops of raspberry ice or lemon ice. If you do this, be sure that your bottles of soda are very cold.

Tangy Raspberry Punch

1 package frozen raspberries
2 12-ounce bottles raspberry soda
2 12-ounce bottles lemon soda
3 lemons, sliced
Combine raspberries and ice cold raspberry and lemon soda. Stir gently to mix. Pour over ice cubes in punch bowl. Garnish with TANGY RASPBERRY PUNCH — Fall is the season for punch just as much as summer is. There are dances, receptions, teas and other gala occasions that call for a cup of punch. Try this one made with frozen raspberries and raspberry soda. Your guests will come back for refills.

lemon slices. Makes about 36 punch cup servings.

Breakfast fruit: Top grapefruit sections with a cooked prune.

Toast Variety Puts Magic in Leftovers

There's magic in leftover dishes when you vary the toast you use for their base. Try some of the following combinations.

Creamed corned beef — toasted cheese bread.

Creamed chicken — toasted French bread.

Cheese sauce and bacon — toasted rye bread.

Creamed eggs — toasted English muffins.

Use Apricot Liquid With Lemon Gelatin

Use the liquid from cooked dried apricots as part of the liquid needed when you are preparing lemon gelatin. Turn the gelatin into a small square pan and chill until set. Cut the molded gelatin into squares and serve on crisp greens with cottage cheese and salad dressing.

Serve for lunch after hearty bowls of split pea soup and croquettes. The croquettes will taste especially good if you make them by browning and crisping small squares of bread in plenty of butter or margarine.

CREAMY ONION DIP—By now you've all heard of combining onion soup mix with sour cream for a dip. It's time to try a new one, using cottage cheese with the soup mix. Serve with pretzels and halves of crisp rye wafers.

Soup, Cheese Make Tasty Dip

A teenager would say that Creamy Onion Dip is "the most." If you are given to superlatives, you will say that it's the tastiest and the easiest dip you've ever tried.

It's made from just two simple ingredients—smooth cottage cheese and onion soup mix—yet has a luxurious flavor. And to bring out the very best in Creamy Onion Dip, you'll serve crisp rye wafers with it.

You'll like the wafers for their crunchy texture and mild-but-distinctive taste. You'll like them, too, for their convenience—each wafer is scored for easy separation into two dunking-size squares.

Serve Creamy Onion Dip and crisp rye wafers with beverages—as an appetizer or as an evening snack. The coaxing flavor-blend of tangy onion, mellow cottage cheese, and wholesome rye will bring your guests back to the refreshment table again and again.

So that the supply will meet the demand, make plenty of the dip ahead of time and store it in the refrigerator. It's even better after a day or two of "aging."

Creamy Onion Dip
1 package (1½ ounces) dried onion soup mix
1½ cups cream, smooth cottage cheese
Crush soup mix with rolling pin to break up large pieces of onion.

Fruit Highlighted by Honey Dressing

Fall fruit salads will taste wonderful with this dressing.

Honey Dressing
½ cup cottage cheese
2 tablespoons honey
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
1½ tablespoons lemon juice
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup salad oil

Force cottage cheese through sieve, add honey, lemon rind, juice and salt and beat briskly with egg beater.

Add oil, a teaspoon at a time, until half the oil is used, blending well between each addition. Add remaining oil 2 tablespoons at a time.

A delicious dressing for fruit salads or avocados. Makes 1½ cups.

Here's How to Make Crisp Carrot Curls

Ever wonder how cooks make those big, wide carrot curls? The trick is to cut a large carrot in half lengthwise; then cut thin lengthwise strips of carrot, starting from the cut side and using a swivel-blade vegetable parer.

The carrot strips are then rolled up, fastened with toothpicks and given an icy bath for a couple of hours so they will crisp and stay in shape. Remove toothpicks before serving. With a sprig or two of parsley, the carrot curls make attractive garnishes for luncheon sandwiches.

Beat eggs enough to combine yolks and whites; beat in cottage cheese just until it is distributed; add salt and pepper to taste.

Melt butter in a heavy iron skillet until it hisses but is not brown; use moderately low or medium heat.

Add eggs, the second they set around edges, stir set part toward center. Allow to set again before stirring.

Cook this way, adjusting heat if necessary or lifting skillet away from heat for a few seconds, until eggs are as dry as desired. Serve at once.

Add Cottage Cheese to Scrambled Eggs

Cottage cheese gives scrambled eggs a delicately different flavor.

English Cookbook Gives Recipes for Delicious Cookies

Pontiac Press Home Editor
My good friend in England has sent me two small recipe books that have my mouth watering. I'd like to share them with you, as this is the season when we're thinking of cookies to make for the holiday season.

Many of you make Shortbread as one of your plainer Christmas cookies. Here is an interesting suggestion regarding that cookie. Into a recipe using ½ cup of butter work 2 tablespoons of finely chopped candied cherries. Think how pretty a combination of the red and green cherries would be in this recipe.

Cinnamon Bears would make a good addition to any plate of cookies.

Cinnamon Bears

1 cup shortening
1 cup granulated sugar
1 egg
2½ cups sifted flour
Pinch of salt
3 tablespoons ground cinnamon
Chopped nuts

Cream shortening and sugar together until soft and beat in egg, reserving a little of the white for glazing. Sift flour, salt and cinnamon together and gradually add to creamed mixture.

Press the dough into an oblong pan, brush surface with egg white and sprinkle with chopped nuts. Bake in a slow (325 degrees) oven for 1 hour. Cut into slices and allow to cool in the pan, then place on a rack and allow to become quite cold before storing. Makes about 24.

Youngsters will get a kick out of Traffic Light Biscuits. Using a plain, rolled cookie dough, cut oblongs 1x3½ inches. In half the oblongs make three holes with a thimble. Bake. Let cool.

Put some apricot jam through a sieve, then color one third red, one third green, and leave the rest orange. Spread a little jam on the underside of the cut pieces, place these on the plain oblongs and dust with a little confectioner's sugar. Place a different colored jam in each hole, to resemble traffic lights.

Chocolate Wagon Wheels are attractive cookies.

Chocolate Wagon Wheels
1 cup flour
Pinch of salt
½ cup butter or margarine
½ cup sugar
½ teaspoon vanilla
1 small egg
1 ounce dot chocolate or semi-sweet chocolate

Sift flour and salt and rub in the butter or margarine with fingertips. Add sugar and vanilla and mix to a dough with beaten egg. Put on a lightly floured board, roll out, cut with a plain cutter into 2-inch rounds and bake on a greased baking pan in moderate (350-degree) oven for about 10 minutes.

When cookies are cold, dissolve the chocolate over hot water, dip each cookie half-way in at 1 smooth the surface with a knife. Let dry on a rack. Makes about 18 cookies.

Have you ever colored meringues? For Christmas, delicate pink and pale green ones are lovely to see as well as to eat. You may also flavor them with 2 teaspoons of instant coffee for an unusual flavor.

Almond Meringue Flingers
2 egg whites

(Advertisement)

1½ teaspoon almond extract
1½ cup granulated sugar
Butter, browned almonds
Butter icing
Beat egg whites until they are very firm, then add almond extract and beat for another 3 minutes. Fold in sugar very carefully. Drop by spoonful on a pan lined with white paper or use a pastry tube to form fingers. Bake in a very cool oven until firm and dry. When cold, sandwich together with a little butter icing.

Church Merger Move Opposed

Rev. Malcolm K. Burton of Pontiac Says Many Groups Against Plan

DETROIT (U)—Adoption of a constitution for a new national association, made up of opponents of the proposed merger of the Congregational Christian churches and the Evangelical and Reformed Church, was expected today in Detroit.

Delegates from nearly 100 Congregational Christian churches throughout the nation attended yesterday's opening of a two-day meeting. Initial steps were taken at the first session toward forming an association to preserve what leaders said is "our great heritage as genuinely free churches."

Delegates appointed the Rev. John Alexander, of Chicago's Glenwood Congregational Church, as temporary chairman. S. T. Roberts of Philadelphia was selected chairman of the nominating committee. The Rev. Dr. Raymond Waser, of the Pomona, Calif., Pilgrim Church, was named head of the resolutions committee.

Most of the talk at the opening session centered around the progress being made toward affecting the merger of the two denominations in June, 1957, and the purposes of the association.

The new merger was first proposed in a 1948 referendum. In 1954, a document of union was adopted by the national bodies of both church groups.

The Rev. Malcolm K. Burton of Pontiac, director of the Continuation Committee, indicated no outright break with the Congregational Christian churches is sought. "Our association will be purely an extra body within the fellowship," he said.

But some delegates agreed with the Rev. Clayton Richards of the Trinitarian Congregational Church at Taunton, Mass. He said opponents of the merger and the denomination have come to the "parting of the ways." Denominational leaders "have, in practice, disowned us," he added.

The meeting was called by the Committee for the Continuation of Congregational Christian churches. The Rev. Mr. Burton is its director.

INTERNAL GOVERNMENT
The cause of the present clash is purely one of internal government. A basic tenet of the Congregational Church group is that each congregation is self-governing, not subservient to other organizations in the church. Congregational opponents claim the merger would destroy their individual autonomy.

Discussing the purpose of the new association, Mr. Burton said: "Many of us do not wish to go through with the merger scheduled for 1957. When the time comes to express opinions in the form of ballots, we want to have a national association ready so that those who do not wish to merge can remain independent Congregational churches."

BOSTON (U)—Jackie Jensen of the Red Sox certainly is a consistent performer. Just compare his 1954 and 1955 records. In both years he appeared in 132 games and batted .276. In 1954 he batted in 117 runs and in 1955 it was 115. In 1954 he slammed 25 homers compared to 26 this year.

Arctic Traveler Returns Home

Grosse Pointe Woods
Adventurer Tells Tale of Canoe Disaster

DETROIT (U)—A red-bearded young adventurer was back to the comforts of civilization today with a tale of tragedy on the bleak, barren plains near the Arctic Circle.

Frederick Passi Jr., 22, of suburban Grosse Pointe Woods, returned home yesterday from a 90-day, 900-mile canoe expedition in the icy waters of the Canadian Northwest.

He recalled how the trip was marred by the death of Arthur Moffat, the leader of the six-man expedition.

Moffat, of Norwich, Vt., died of shock and exposure last September after two of the party's three canoes overturned in rapids of the DuBawnt River.

LOST SUPPLIES
Moffat, slipped into the water, was rescued by other members of the group only to die before help could be summoned.

Passi said one of the canoes, all their weapons, most of the food and all the cooking utensils also were lost.

The survivors then began a hazardous tramp to a remote outpost 200 miles south of the Arctic Circle. It was a nine-day, 150-mile march.

"We all lived in one pup tent during that time," Passi said, "and we managed to catch some fish to add to the meager food supply we were able to salvage."

Now that he's back home again, Passi said he planned to enroll in a postgraduate course at the University of Michigan. He is a 1955 Dartmouth graduate.

Michigan Receives $1,206,670 in Grants

WASHINGTON (U)—Surplus property which cost the federal government 36 million dollars was turned over to state and local government agencies and to nonprofit institutions in July, August and September for educational and public health purposes.

The property includes school and hospital building sites, buildings suitable for college dormitory uses, motor vehicles, hospital, school and office furniture, tools, laboratory equipment and school office supplies.

The property grants announced by the Health, Education and Welfare Department included one of $1,206,670 for Michigan.

State Highway Survey Recommends Spending $5.7 Billion in 20 Years

LANSING (U)—Michigan's biggest and longest highway survey in history reported today state and local governments should spend 5.7 billion dollars in the next 20 years to bring its highways, streets and roads up to modern standards.

The recommendation was made by the Automotive Safety Foundation to a legislative committee studying a long-range highway program. The study took 15 months, cost $100,000 and embraced the help of 300 state and local road officials.

The report did not go into finances, but said a preliminary fiscal recommendation would be released this afternoon.

But the engineers said the program would cost an average of one-cent per travel mile, compared to 0.87 cents now being paid. This was represented as about 12 1/2 per cent of the cost of owning and operating an auto.

$387 MILLION A YEAR
The experts said that 4.5 billion dollars should be spent on major trunklines, county primary roads and major city streets. It recommended 1.2 billion for local, rural and city streets.

The report said that over 30 years the modernization program would cost Michigan $378 million a year for construction, maintenance and administration, compared to the $280 million expected to be spent in 1956 when the new 6 1/2-cent state gasoline tax makes its full impact.

A program to catch up on current highway deficiencies in 10 years would cost $314,901,000 a year for the first 10 years and $240,387,000 a year for the second 10 years.

WITHIN 10 YEARS
A panel of engineers who made the survey told newsmen their priorities for highway construction agreed substantially with those of the State Highway Department. The principle department priorities are embodied in an "arterial" highway system approved by the 1955 Legislature.

The report recommended strongly that 70 to 95 per cent of the improvements needed, except for local roads and streets, be completed in 10 years.

The report estimated that Michigan will have 62 per cent more cars on the road by 1975 and that auto travel will climb 78 per cent over present levels. Since 1947, when the last state-wide survey was made, cars have increased 74 per cent and travel 70 per cent.

2.8 BILLION NEEDED

In 1947, the same agency said Michigan needed to spend 1.8 billion dollars in the next 15 years. Adjusting that for inflation and cost rises, the engineers said their 1947 recommendation would come to about 2 billion dollars on present values.

The report estimated that 2.8 billion dollars must be spent in the next 20 years to bring trunklines up to modern standards, of which 1.5 billions should go on rural roads and 1.3 billion in municipalities.

Seventy per cent of trunkline money should go on 2,950 miles of main rural and city routes requiring multi-lane divided highways to handle traffic loads, it said.

The report recommended 161 miles of expressways in Michigan, 143 miles of it in the Detroit metropolitan area. The engineers said they did not consider the possible construction of a toll road in their estimates.

AFFECTS OAKLAND

The report called for 1.1 billion dollars to be spent on 13,902 miles of municipal streets, including 22 miles of expressways, 87 miles of new arterial routes, 807 miles of reconstruction, 2,313 miles of resurfacing or widening and 303 new structures, such as bridges.

The county primary road program includes 765 miles of multi-lane highways in 20 counties, with 83 per cent of them in Genesee, Kent, Macomb, Oakland and Wayne Counties.

The engineers said that the state now gets 30 million dollars a year from federal aid sources, but that if Congress adopts pending legislation Michigan's share of aid would go up to about 1.5 billion dollars over 10 years.

Bedspring Impales; Housewife Sues

LOS ANGELES (U)—"I was awakened to find I was impaled on a bedspring," says a pretty housewife seeking $10,000 damages from a mattress company.

The steel spring popped through the mattress cover, bed sheet, nightclothes and into her body in June 1953. Mrs. Virginia Maccherlein, 29, alleged yesterday in a suit filed in Superior Court.

Mrs. Maccherlein said that the mattress still had seven years to run on a 10-year warranty.

Policeman to Retire

DETROIT (U)—Capt. Raymond J. Mohr of the Michigan State Police will retire Dec. 1 after 25 years on the force. For the past 18 months Capt. Mohr has commanded the department's second district, with headquarters in Detroit. He also has served at posts in St. Clair, Flint, Bay City, St. Ignace, Jackson and Battle Creek.

Tombstone Words Warn Graveyard Grounds Keepers

LONDON (INS) — Eight words carved on a tombstone centuries ago are holding up the cleaning of a graveyard in Salisbury.

The words: "You are defiled (or desired) not to move this stone." are almost indecipherable but they have already set people thinking.

Two men who normally remove or renovate tombstones in the 13th century St. Clement's graveyard have flatly refused to touch the stone. Harry Tinkler and Will Dyer said:

"We shall refuse to remove it. It might bring a curse on us."

Harry Tinkler said he was annoyed when people said he was afraid, so he went to the graveyard and started to work on the stone with a pickax.

"But I changed my mind and let it slip back. I swear I did not look inside the tomb."

"Yet now I am sick. The doctor says he does not know what's wrong. Not for thousands would I demolish that stone."

Oakland County has a total of 118 bridges in connection with its road system, each having a clear span of at least 20 feet according to the Oakland County Planning Commission.

Health Service Issues Report

Salk Polio Serum Tests on Cutter Lots Showed 'Live' Virus

WASHINGTON (U) — The Public Health Service announced today that "live" virus has now been found in all six originally suspect lots of Cutter polio vaccine. An earlier study had indicated live virus was present in only three of the lots.

The announcement said that type 1 virus — the most virulent kind — was found in all six lots, and that, in addition, type 2 was found in one of the lots and type 3 in two others.

The Health Service gave these new details in saying that official laboratory tests of Salk polio vaccine produced by the Cutter Laboratories of Berkeley, Calif., prior to adoption of new government standards, have been concluded.

In a report on Aug. 25, the Health Service had said it found nothing to indicate the presence of the live virus in the vaccine was attributable to contamination.

In effect, it blamed the faulty vaccine on "fundamental weaknesses" in the government's own safety testing standards of that time. Now, more rigid tests have since been put into effect.

Vaccine manufacture was suspended last spring and a study of testing standards begun after a number of polio cases developed among children vaccinated with the Cutter product.

Schools to Close for Benefactor's Final Services

WASHINGTON, Maine (U) — The schools in this tiny town will be closed tomorrow when final services are held for farmer William M. Prescott, 80.

He died of a heart ailment while sawing firewood Monday. He and his wife decided to leave their life savings for school purposes. Mrs. Prescott died in 1950. Two years later, Prescott said he wanted to speed up the school construction and contributed $20,000 to town building funds. Two years later, that money ran out and Prescott provided $8,000 more.

The new five-room schoolhouse named the Will and Lottie Prescott School was dedicated in the fall of 1954. Will was there.

America Faces Teacher Crisis

Educational Fund Warns of Quality and Quantity of Nation's Instructors

NEW YORK (INS)—America has been warned that it is facing a double teacher emergency that could cause the quality of U.S. education to fall off sharply in the next decade.

The warning came from the Fund for the Advancement of Education which said the emergency involves not only a shortage of teachers but the quality of teaching.

The fund is an independent philanthropic organization established by the Ford Foundation to work in the field of formal education.

A special report from the fund declared the shortage of qualified elementary and secondary teachers is growing more acute each year even though more and more "emergency" teachers are being hired.

Quality, it added, and not quantity, is the essence of the teacher shortage problem. Temporary expedients that concentrate merely on numbers, the report said, are likely to mean long-range deterioration in the quality of education provided America's youth.

The fund urged "bold and imaginative" methods of making better use of the good teachers available now, adding:

"If we preserve the present arrangements which govern the recruitment, training and utilization of teachers we can almost certainly expect a progressive erosion of quality."

Because of steeply rising enrollments, the fund estimated that over the next ten years it would take more than half of all college graduates of every variety to meet the need for the new school teachers.

Peron Writing Book and Rests in Panama

COLON, Panama (INS)—Ousted Argentine dictator-turned writer Juan D. Peron has settled down in a U.S.-owned hotel in Panama to finish a book he is writing.

The longtime Latin American strongman reserved a room in Colon's Hotel Washington for an indefinite period.

He was said to be planning to write 10 hours a day in "peace and quiet."

County High in State Aid, Auditor General Reports

Oakland County was second only to Wayne in state aid received for expenditure on highways and health, welfare and medical assistance in 1954, according to the annual financial report of the Auditor General.

Wayne received $11,565,008 in highway money and Oakland, $2,737,531. Saginaw County was third with $2,009,114.

In health, welfare and medical assistance Wayne was $10,581,900, Oakland, $515,305, with Genesee County third at $487,000.

Oakland was the only county besides Wayne with a state equalized including debt payments, was $10,555,754 in 1954, an increase of $1,336,213 over 1953.

State aid last year made up 33.78 per cent of total county revenue. Oakland put 31.15 per cent of its expenditures into highway improvement: Wayne 16.77 and Macomb, 46.71.

Last year the county collected $3.61 per cent of its tax levy of $4,798,788, with $306,647 returned as delinquent. In 1953, 93.36 per cent was collected.

Oakland's total long-term debt as of Dec. 31, 1954 was $1,825,074. Of this, $522,705 was money borrowed for road improvement and $1,302,369 for drain construction.

Physicians Face Moral Decision

Air Force Doctor Gives Military Surgeons Food for Thought

WASHINGTON (U)—An Air Force doctor says an atomic disaster would confront physicians with the "onerous task of playing God and deciding whom to save."

Col. Karl H. Houghton of Kirtland Air Force Base, New Mexico, told a convention of military surgeons in a prepared talk:

"You won't have sufficient drugs or surgical materials to handle all the casualties and will have to decide rapidly and without hesitation who will receive this perhaps life-saving material.

"This is not always simple. Do you save the banker or the truck driver? Do you go right down the line of casualties taking them as they come or do you pick out those individuals who might be the most valuable in terms of the rehabilitation period to come?"

Houghton offered no specific suggestions. But an Army doctor said, in an earlier talk to the 82nd convention of the Assn. of Military Surgeons of the United States, that in "disaster medicine" there must be a departure from the usual practice of priority treatment for the most seriously wounded—in favor of casualties with the best chance to survive.

Hilton Will Build Hotel You Enter on the Roof

By EARL WILSON

OIL AROUND THE CARIBBEAN . . .

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico—Movie Actress Ann Miller has made speeches in the past week in Bermuda, Puerto Rico, Jamaica, Barbados, Trinidad and Nassau and in each one she has told the crowds: "This is the best island we've visited yet! It's the highlight of the trip."

She'll probably even say that when we get to Manhattan Island.

Conrad Hilton—who has the Caribe Hilton Hotel here and two hotels a-buillin' now in Havana and Acapulco—will next build one at Port of Spain, Trinidad . . . and it'll be upside down.

I mean, you enter at the roof which is at the top of a hill, and take an elevator downstairs. It's one of the ideas of John Houser, executive veep of Hilton Hotels International.

When a Calypso quartet started singing a very mild song, "Princess Margaret Is Coming to Town," at the Royal Victoria Hotel in Nassau, a man exclaimed "No! No! No!"—then stalked out. The man was Colonial Secy Gardner Brown, who seemed to object to the mention of Meg and Captain Townsend. Local folks said his attitude was "stuffy." Margaret herself enjoyed the song when she visited Nassau.

Virginia Warren, Horace Sutton, the travel writer, and others discovered the Caribbean birds have practically operatic voices, especially in "Rain Forest," 40 miles out of San Juan. When they started back, the beautiful voice of the birds stayed with them, though they couldn't see any birds. Maybe the bird was wounded and in the car somewhere?

No . . . well, then maybe it was trapped under the hood. They looked—and found the birds' beautiful "voice" was a squeak in the car.

MIDNIGHT EARL IN N.Y. . . .

Marilyn Monroe'll take fencing lessons from Marlon Brando's teacher . . . Jayne Mansfield's dated Robt Q. Lewis four nights in a row . . . A Fifth Av. dept. store will wait till Jan. 11 before lowering the boom on a famous actress who gave 'em an 110 post-dated check.

Dick Cowell made three entrances at Hope Hampton's WAIF party, each time with a different girl . . . Franchot Tone took Mama Gabor and Eva to the Latin Quarter . . . Marlon Marlowe plunked down $5,300 for a gold lame gown . . . Tommy Dorsey's looking for a new female vocalist . . . Jennifer Jayne (of ABC-TV's "The Vise") was invited to bring her song-dance act to Israel.

INSIDE STUFF: Noel Coward slips Scotch through a straw . . . Ted Lewis will celebrate his 45th show biz ann'y on "Toast of the Town" Nov. 20 . . . A syndicate's hunting a midtown site to open an Israeli cafe . . . Marlon Brando took Jean Simmons for her first visit to Birdland, the boppers' paradise.

The Museum of Modern Art will turn the Theater Guild's building into galleries . . . Comie Morty Guntz, married last week, cut his honeymoon short to open at the Copa . . . Lawrence Tierney's another movie comeback in the picture, "Panic."

WISH I'D SAID THAT: 'Most Broadwayites are skilled at making things—such as beta and excuses.—Elise Rhodes.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: A local character says he gauges his drinking by looking at the hands of his watch. When they wave at him, he's had enough.

EARL'S PEARLS: Some girls are happy to approach old age—especially if he has money.

"I was really surprised when my laundry sent back a dozen shirts without a single button missing," says Harry (Balmoral) Toffel. "All I'd sent was a pair of shorts." That's earl, brother.

City School Board to Discuss Centers

Preliminary plans for activity centers to be constructed at Crofoot, LeBaron, McCarroll and Wilks Elementary Schools will be presented to the Pontiac Board of Education tonight.

The Board will meet at 7:30 p.m. in its offices at 40 Patterson St.

The building, which includes a gym, dining area and stage, are slated for completion by next fall. Also scheduled is a report from a group of teachers headed by Gerald White, coordinator of elementary education on a new study course in elementary science.

Dangerous Newcomers?

ALBUQUERQUE (AP)—A luncheon speaker warns that 7,400 people entered this county last year who are illiterate, don't believe in God or the constitution, who disrupt church services and are a threat to the schools. They are the babies born last year.

Prosecutor's Office Staff Receives Additional Space

Moving yesterday of the Oakland County Juvenile Department to the service center off North Telegraph road will allow the prosecutor's office to expand into the former juvenile offices in the courthouse.

Eight men have been operating in five small offices on the north side of the courthouse basement, said Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem.

The new setup will keep Ziem and Assistant Prosecutors George F. Taylor, Robert D. Long and Homer G. Gerse plus Chief Investigator Robert C. Miller in the present offices.

Assistant Prosecutors William E. Lang, Gerard A. Poehlman and Edward H. Shigley will move across the hall to the vacated juvenile quarters. The court reporters' location also will be changed. All shifts will be completed by Monday, said Ziem. "The new arrangement will not be ideal," he stated, "but we expect it to allow a more efficient operation and remove necessity of interviewing two persons simultaneously in one room."

Plans presently call for Ziem's office to move into the former health building behind the courthouse in April, he added.

Florida State University will have eight lettermen available for the coming campaign.

Scrubbing Halts Decay in Teeth

Swedish Dental Expert
Acclaims Fluoridation
Benefits to Health

EAST LANSING—It is elbow grease, not the brand of toothpaste you use, that cuts down tooth decay.

So says Dr. Helge Berggren, director of dental health in Stockholm, Sweden. Dr. Berggren is visiting the State Health Department as one of four dental authorities who will draft recommendations for the world health organization's dental health program.

Dr. Berggren said he agreed "wholeheartedly" with American dental authorities who say "there is no proof as yet that one brand of toothpaste is any better than another."

"If you brush your teeth correctly and enthusiastically—no matter what kind of toothpaste you use—you are making a valiant and usually rewarding effort against tooth decay," he said.

Dr. Berggren also took a strong stand in favor of fluoridating drinking water to prevent tooth decay.

"In Europe," he said, "we've read of the wonderful results in Grand Rapids, which was the first town to fluoridate its water supply. You have come up with indisputable proof that fluoridation is a safe and effective way to reduce tooth decay in children by an average of 65 per cent."

Mingled Fund Rumors Denied by State Officials

LANSING—State officials today denied rumors that the School Aid Fund is being mingled with General Fund Money in violation of the state constitution.

Rep. Rollo G. Conlin (R-Tipton) had asked Democratic officials to investigate "reports" of the violation. Conlin is chairman of the House Taxation Committee.

State Treasurer Sanford A. Brown assured Conlin that the School Aid Fund was established in an account entirely separate and distinct from the General Fund.

Canadians Admit Flint Man to Serve Jail Term

MONTREAL—Marcellus Wilson, 42-year-old entertainer from Flint, Mich., can start at last to serve a six-month jail sentence for possession of marijuana cigarettes.

His lawyer, Lyon W. Jacobs, said Wilson arrived yesterday by train from Detroit. He had tried to enter Canada to serve his sentence earlier but had been barred by immigration officials. Later they agreed to allow him in if he notified them of his port of entry.

Wilson was convicted last April. He was in Detroit when his appeal was turned down.

Says Anti-Freeze Caused $700,000 Store Fire

DETROIT—Cans of anti-freeze stored near a gas furnace and water heater touched off the $700,000 fire which destroyed a supermarket in suburban Hazel Park Monday night, Fire Chief Frank S. Durbin said today.

Durbin said the alcohol accounted for the rapid spread of the fire which nearly trapped 30 customers and 20 employees. No one was hurt in the blaze.

In the past, the United States often has been without a president for brief periods, notably when inauguration day was March 4 and fell on a Sunday which sometimes meant that one president went out of office at midnight March 3 and another was not sworn in until March 5.

Soviet Cracks Down on Its Top Architects

MOSCOW (U. P.) — Charging there has been too much stress on the "flashy side of construction," the Soviet government has cracked down on four of its top architects. It says the nation's builders have been wasting money on ornate decoration and skyscrapers and disregarding needs of the people for housing.

An official statement last night said chief architects Vlasov and Chechulin were deprived of their government decorations and fired. It said two other nationally known architects, Polykov and Boretzky, were deprived of their Stalin prize laureates. (Files in New York list A. V. Vlasov as president of the Academy of Architects of the Soviet Union. The New York Times quoted Vlasov as saying "I cannot comment on the report as I am not acquainted with it.")

The Herald-Tribune said Vlasov was picked up at the New York hotel, where the delegation is staying, yesterday morning by Victor Zegal, second secretary of the Soviet embassy in Washington. The newspaper quoted a delegation spokesman as saying the two spent the day shopping. The remainder of the delegation spent most of yesterday visiting a New York skyscraper.

Polykov and Boretzky were the builders of the 28-story Leningrad Hotel. Loss of their Stalin prize laureates was regarded as almost tantamount to dismissal. The Stalin prizes, awarded in various fields, include a gold medal bearing Stalin's image and 100,000 rubles for top winners. The Russians quote the ruble at four to the dollar.

BIGGEST IN YEARS
The announcement of one of the biggest official shakeups in recent years was made by the Central Committee of the Communist party and the Council of Ministers. Millions of square yards of living space for workers were lost, the statement said, because of building irregularities. It also said a "large amount of government funds have been over-expended in recent years."

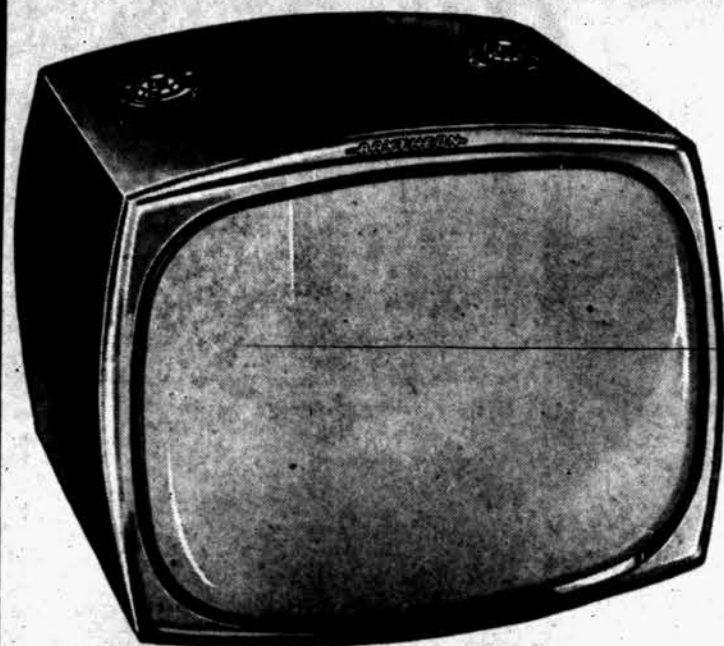

Two Women Injured in Five-Auto Crash

Two Lake Orion women were treated and released from St. Joseph Mercy Hospital after suffering injuries in a 5-car accident on M24 just north of Greenfield Rd., last night. Witnesses said that Mrs. Tina G. Sheldon, 18 N. Hemmingway, Lake Orion, drove her car over a hill and struck three automobiles which had pulled off the road to help a stalled motorist, and another car which was just pulling off.

Mrs. Sheldon told sheriff's deputies that she braked when she saw the cars, but lost control of her car. Also treated was her passenger, Mrs. Mildred Clark, 227 Lookout lane, Lake Orion.

Alabama Road Mishap Fatal to Flint Woman

ELBA, Ala. (U. P.) — Mrs. Ethel Wilson, 55, of Flint, was killed yesterday when her husband's car, pulling a house trailer, collided with a truck. Wilson was injured. The truck driver escaped unhurt. The accident happened on U. S. 84, two miles east of Elba on a steep hill. State Trooper Earl Fordham said Wilson apparently lost control of his car on the steep grade.

UAW Worries Over Ohio Vote

Interpretation of Law Can Allow Layoff Pay, Union Declares

DETROIT (U)—The CIO United Auto Workers union held hope today that Ohio law will be "interpreted to permit the simultaneous receipt of state unemployment compensation and supplemental benefits."

Ohio voters turned down Tuesday a proposal to spell out such authorization, along with the highest rate of unemployment compensation in the country. The double-barreled proposal, the UAW said, was initiated in 1953.

Authority for a laid-off workman to draw both unemployment compensation and layoff pay from his company is a cornerstone in new three-year contracts between the UAW and the auto-makers.

"The Ohio law still can be and should be interpreted to permit the simultaneous receipt of state unemployment compensation and supplemental benefits," the UAW said in a statement. "Failure by the Ohio state agency or the attorney general to interpret the law to permit the integration will only penalize the citizens of Ohio."

"NOT ENDANGERED"
The union declared that "the effectiveness of the Ford and General Motors layoff pay plans is not endangered" by the Ohio vote.

Layoff pay plans at GM and Ford are effective next June 1 if states covering two-thirds of their employees permit the receipt of both unemployment compensation and layoff pay for the same week.

"Rulings already have been received from the states of Connecticut, Delaware, Massachusetts, Michigan and New York—covering more than 60 per cent of Ford and General Motors workers—holding such integration is permissible under existing law," the union said. "No state has yet ruled to the contrary."

In states refusing to permit simultaneous government unemployment compensation and private layoff pay, a substitute formula could go into effect June 1, 1957, under the new UAW contracts.

Strobel Quits Government Job

Building Commissioner Leaves Post to Thwart Political Attacks

WASHINGTON (U)—Peter A. Strobel resigned under fire from his $14,800 a year job as public buildings commissioner yesterday.

He said he did so because "some people" would seize upon his private business connections to embarrass the Eisenhower Administration.

The New York engineer has been under investigation by a House inquiry group. Questions were raised as to the propriety of his acting as the government's real estate chief while retaining a 50 per cent interest in Strobel & Salzman, a New York firm of consulting engineers.

Strobel departed with an assertion that he had never used his official position to further his private interests and had come to

Washington "with no thought of private gain but only in the hope that I might be of some service to the government."

He is the second high official of the Eisenhower Administration to quit this year after a Congressional investigation of his outside business interests.

Harold E. Talbott resigned as Secretary of the Air Force Aug. 1. In a letter to President Eisenhower, Talbott also said "I would not in any circumstances wish to be a source of embarrassment to you, or to your splendid administration."

Talbott acknowledged writing letters on air Force stationery to prospective clients of Paul B. Muligan & Co., a firm of New York efficiency experts in which he had an interest, but denied any wrongdoing.

In his letter of resignation, as he had done before a House Judiciary Subcommittee headed by Rep. Celler (D-NY), Strobel denied any impropriety.

Quitting Cops See Chief
ANN ARBOR (INS)—Eighteen Ann Arbor police officers who have resigned were to be interviewed by Chief Casper Enkemann today in an effort to get them to return to the force.

State Asks Site for Prison Camp

Board of Supervisors Gets Request During Morning Session

Permission to locate a second prison camp on one of two state-owned sites in Brandon Township was asked of the Board of Supervisors this morning by the Michigan Department of Correction.

A 120-man camp is now operating at Pontiac Lake.

S. J. Gilman, assistant director of corrections, said "more such camps are an absolute necessity. Our convict population went up 17 per cent during 1940-50 and we just don't have enough space in state prisons."

"Unless we can set up more camps, men will be sleeping on the floor at Jackson."

He said the department has the money and the sites: One on the south side of Saw Mill Lake road east of Hadley road and the other on west side of Hornet road between Oakwood road and Saw Mill Lake road.

The prisoners would be utilized "to give valuable service to the state" by expanding facilities at state parks in the county, he said, and helping in the Conservation Department's game preservation program.

"We now have 850 men in 10 camps. With another 500 men in new camps we could save the state about $1,000,000 in labor each year," Gilman added.

Supervisors could remember no reports of trouble stemming from the present county camp.

The request was referred to the Miscellaneous Committee for a report and recommendation.

Johnson Passes Exam

TEMPLE, Tex. (U)—Senate Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex) has one of his periodic physical checkups yesterday, and doctors said he was making excellent progress. He suffered a heart attack last summer.

When Jim Ellis, former Michigan State star, played in his 1st game in 1951, he intercepted three passes against Oregon State.

Village Ready for Christmas

Rochester Plans Near Completion for Yuletide Festivities

ROCHESTER — Planning is already underway for the annual Christmas festivities in Rochester, it was announced today by Hudson G. Hill, Christmas decorating program chairman, and Lafayette Maynard, Christmas parade chairman, both of the Rochester Lions Club, which sponsors the activities.

There will be additional street decorations, residential and business lighting contests, and the parade on Dec. 10 welcoming Santa Claus to the scene.

The complete program is made possible through the joint cooperation of the Lions Club; the local business, professional, and industrial people who finance the program; and the assistance of the Rochester Department of Public Works.

Letters went out to the financial sponsors last week, and many checks have already come in, according to Hill.

The Department of Public Works, under the direction of Village Manager Robert Stone, will begin erection of the overhead street decorations shortly after Thanksgiving.

SANTA TO COME

Parade chairman Maynard states that the parade will form at 1 p.m. and start moving at 2 p.m. on Saturday, Dec. 10. Santa Claus will arrive in the parade and move into his headquarters on Main Street.

George Hesketh, Jr., chairman of the lighting contests, states that the winning contest will appear in the weekly. Prizes will be awarded to the residential winners and trophies to the winning merchants.

Detroit Edison manager Edward Dahlman has secured permission for the use of utility poles for decorating purposes, and has arranged for the Detroit Edison Company Callopie for the parade.

The three are Dean Russell Stevenson and Prof. Claire Griffin, of the University of Michigan, and Prof. Lawrence Seltzer, of Wayne University. They got the data a few years ago in the course of a research project for the Brookings Institution on concentration of economic power.

Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.) wants the three to give the data to his group which is studying GM as an example of corporate "giantism." The economists have declined to testify.

GM has indicated it would release the three from their "confidential" pledge if the Brookings Institution, a private research organization, did so.

O'Mahoney made public yesterday a letter from Robert D. Calkins, president of Brookings, who said the economists were "free agents" and that Brookings was "imposing no inhibitions against their appearance to testify."

But Calkins put a limit on the scope of their testimony. He said the institution insists the economists are "not free" to reveal information obtained through personal interviews, inasmuch as the confidential material has not been verified as accurate, either by the company or institution.

All research into the economic policies of corporations would be "jeopardized" if Brookings Institution authorized such a release, Calkins said.

Senate Delegation Mulls Move for Forcing Data From College Experts

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate antitrust subcommittee still was undecided today whether to attempt to force three Michigan economists to testify about data they got from General Motors on a "confidential" basis.

Farm and Garden Assn. Slate Rummage Sale

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — To finance their high school scholarship, members of the Waterford Branch of the National Farm and Garden Assn. will hold a rummage sale this Friday and Saturday, from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m., in the former Waterford Post Office. The building is located on the Dixie, next to the Cascade Motel and across from the Old Mill.

The organization will present its first annual scholarship to a Waterford Township High School graduate next June. The amount is $250.

Looking back, Bennett said:

"That was a lot of money in those days. I have never suffered financially. And my own company has been just as absorbing to me as being a Ford stockholder would have."

Bennett never lost touch with Ford.

"Many times in the last years of his life Mr. Ford would have his chauffeur drive him to my home here and we would sit for hours discussing the old days," he recalled.

Bennett has been with the Daisy Air Rifle Co., located a few hundred yards from his home, for 66 years. Another founder of the firm, Edward Hough, is still treasurer at 85.

Bennett has been confined to his home recently because of a throat ailment but still dresses in the best of style.

He likes to think of the family doctor who 92 years ago looked at a sickly infant and told his mother: "Mrs. Bennett, we'll never be able to save that baby."

132 Awards Presented at Oakland 4-H Banquet

By WILMA GREENWAY

An imposing number of gold cups, medals, pins certificates and special awards — 132 in all — were presented to 4-H club leaders and members last night at the annual 4-H Leaders Dinner held in the community room of the new Pontiac Federal Savings and Loan building on West Huron Street.

Guest speaker at the affair, which attracted more than 200 4-H leaders and members from Pontiac and Oakland County area clubs, was A. G. Kettunen, state 4-H Club leader and assistant director of extension at Michigan State University.

Kettunen complimented the club leaders on their "fine leadership."

"I salute you as part of a group of 9,000 in Michigan whose work in 4-H is shaping better young men and women of tomorrow," he said. Pointing out that 4-H work is centered in the home, he praised the parents of 4-H members for their cooperation and understanding.

"Moreover," said Kettunen, "through its international farm youth exchange program, 4-H is making one of the finest contributions to world understanding."

Other speakers were Lyle Abel, Oakland County agricultural agent who gave the talk of welcome, Carlos Long who delivered the invocation; James L. Reid, the chairman; toastmaster Kenneth Brown, deputy superintendent of Oakland County schools; and Jack Worthington, county 4-H Club agent. Entertainment was by 4-H state "share the fun" winner Penny Christopher, who did two dance numbers.

PINS PRESENTED

Two leaders, Mrs. Martha Dudley of Bloomfield Hills, and James Marble of White Lake Township received the National Alumni Awards of framed certificates in recognition of outstanding service over a period of time, and particularly the work done at 4-H fairs.

Pins were presented to 33 junior leaders, to 29 one-to-five-year adult leaders, and six senior leaders. The six were: 5-10 year leaders Bert Wermuth of Holly, Mrs. Bea Walton of Clarkston, Mrs. James Wimmer of Novi, Mrs. Milton Miller of Seymour Lake; gold clover award for 10 years' service to Mrs. D. S. Wiggins of Rochester; and pearl clover award for 15 years' service to Mrs. Helen Johnson of Holly.

Avondale 4-H Horse Club took the Rural Arts and Recreation award, and the Novi Country Slicks 4-H Club received the Safety award. Several families who had sponsored international farm youth exchange members were cited, as well as firms sponsoring 4-H awards.

Named honorary members were John Kendall of Clyde, Jean Hardy of Birmingham, Albert Kessler of New Hudson and Mrs. Stanley Kipp of Pontiac. Soil Conservation award went to Keith Middleton of Lake Orion.

Among the outstanding 4-H club members were Marilyn Sharpe and Donna Frisbie, both of Novi.

Marilyn won the state award, which includes a trip to the National 4-H Congress in Chicago as one of Michigan's 26 delegates, in recognition of her work on the home improvement program. She also copied two gold cups for outstanding achievements in the home economics field and as a 1955 4-H dress review winner. In addition, she took the Girls' Record award and the Leadership award.

As the 1955 4-H queen, Donna Frisbie automatically received the big gold cup to hold for a year until another queen is picked and a small gold cup to keep for herself. She also received a third cup as 4-H dress review winner, as well as other awards for clothing and general achievement.

Coveted trips to Chicago went to three girls and three boys: Judy Vanderhoof of Milford, Delores Markle of Milford, Donna Scramlin of Holly, Robert Middleton of Lake Orion, Stuart Hutchins of Rochester and Donald Bowers of New Hudson.

Michigan Farmer Awards of engraved desk sets went to Judy Vanderhoof and to Phil Elkov of South Lyon.

Other medals and certificates were: health, John Scheller of Rochester; home improvement, Judy Martin and Delores Markle, both of Milford; leadership, Phil Elkov; meat animal breeding, Howard Storm of Lake Orion and Fritz Lutz of Rochester; poultry, William Middleton of Lake Orion; recreation and rural arts, Penny Christopher; dairy, Edward Braid of Lake Orion and Stuart Hutchins of Rochester.

Awards in electrical achievement went to Frank Lessiter of Lake Orion and Glenn Marble of Milford; entomology, Sue Tobin of Farmington; field crops, Calvin Voorheis of Davisburg and Richard Scramlin of Holly; food preparation, Judy Vanderhoof, Aletha Boonius of South Lyon and Donna Scramlin; frozen foods, Janet Long of Milford; garden, Donald Brendel of Davisburg, Vern Geck of Pontiac, Mike Trocke and Carol Skarritt, both of Milford.

Achievement awards were presented to Phil Elkov and Stuart Hutchins; boys' agricultural to James Atchison of South Lyon and Ronald Randall of Walled Lake; soil and water conservation to Roger Kriebel of Milford, William Middleton and Edward Braid, both of Lake Orion; and tractor to James Thompson of Milford.

Following the four-and-a-half hour session of dinner and award presentations, 4-H agent Jack Worthington explained the new enrollment cards available for leaders. In closing he gave a long look at the boys and girls who had just received awards from his hand, then remarked:

"If these boys and girls are any example of the younger generation that's going to the dogs — I'd say 'Let 'em go!'"

Seniors Will Give Play 'Headin' for a Weddin'

ORTONVILLE — "Headin' for a Weddin'," a farce in three acts, will be presented by the Senior Class of Brandon Township High School in the Brandon Gym on Friday and Saturday, curtain time, 8 p.m.

The play, written by LaRoma Rose, is built around the Hollowbone family, kinfolks and friends. There's "feudin'" a plenty! The hero, Homer Hollowbone, portrayed by Bill Killian, carries on an exaggerated correspondence with a stranger whose address he found by chance. His "Maw" and older sister, Fannie Jane, do all the hard work and are portrayed by Lerita Jenchi and Kay Smith. Slow moving "Paw" is played by Jerry Boschma.

Brandon High seniors promise an evening of good entertainment with their annual play. Tickets may be purchased from the students.

Other cast members include: Lawrence Noble as Pepper Hollowbone; Marge Coventry, Sis Hollowbone; Harold Brooks, Grandpappy Hankley; Esther Graves, Widow Blairhouse; Devona Kelley, her daughter Bertha; Mike Suchy, Slim Blairhouse; Barbara Sauvage, Melissa Dugan, the girl corresponding with hero Homer. Barbara Wood and Wanda Kohn round out the cast.

Brandon High seniors promise an evening of good entertainment with their annual play. Tickets may be purchased from the students.

Later in the afternoon, the West Bloomfield and Commerce Township Fire Departments found themselves at the same residence. A blaze, reportedly caused by careless smoking, had started in the bedroom of the home.

The estimated loss to the building during the afternoon was $2,000 and $500 to the contents, according to West Bloomfield Township Fire Chief Ben Mosher.

TIME OUT FOR GINGER — Mary Rewold and Stephen Seiffert rehearse a scene from the senior play to be presented in the Rochester High School gymnasium Thursday and Friday, Nov. 17 and 18.

Ten seniors are taking part in "Time Out for Ginger." The play is directed by Eloise Tallant and Ray Lawson.

Adlai May Enter Race Tuesday

Press Aide to Reveal Decision for Running on Dem Ballot in '56

CHICAGO (U) — The long expected announcement that Adlai Stevenson will seek the Democratic presidential nomination next year apparently will come Tuesday.

The 1952 nominee's press aide, Roger Tubby, said yesterday Stevenson will make a statement on "the Democratic presidential nomination" to newsmen at 3 p.m. EST that day. The statement will be for release at 6:30 p.m. EST.

It has been assumed for months that Stevenson, a former governor of Illinois, will make the race. His speeches throughout the country have sounded like those of a candidate, he has conferred with many party bigwigs and he has begun assembling a staff.

Earlier there was speculation Stevenson was saving his announcement — one way or the other — for a four-day series of meetings of party leaders from throughout the nation opening in Chicago Wednesday. But some leaders, including former President Truman, urged him to let his decision be known in advance of the meetings. The Tuesday statement would accomplish that.

Stevenson may confer this week-end with Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, also a likely aspirant to the Democratic nomination. Stevenson's office has announced that such a conference is upcoming at an undetermined date. Both men are scheduled to attend an Israel bond drive dinner in Chicago Saturday night.

Test Will Tell

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (U) — Willard Dibrell, 35, will take a lie detector test to see if he must serve three or eight years in prison. He was sentenced to three years yesterday for carrying concealed a deadly weapon. He agreed to plead guilty to that charge if permitted to take the test on a companion robbery charge. He denied the latter. Judge Frank Ropke said the robbery count will be filed away if Dibrell "passes." Otherwise, five years will be added to the three-year term.

PORTABLE 'ISLAND' — Self-elevating platform, for use to reduce offshore oil drilling costs, dwarfs everything in sight on Mississippi River near Vicksburg, Miss. Platform, which stands on 140-foot legs, will be floated 400 miles downstream to Gulf of Mexico where it will be used as portable "island."

Rock Hudson Weds Secretary in California

HOLLYWOOD (U) — Film star Rock Hudson, who often said he'd never marry until he was 30, is honeymooning with his agent's secretary today—a week before he reaches that age.

Rugged Rock, a 6-foot-4 Navy veteran and one of the screen's handsomest bachelors, eloped yesterday with brunette Phyllis Gates, 25. They drove to Santa Barbara, 50 miles north of here and were married by the Rev. N. B. Thorpe, pastor of Santa Barbara's Trinity Lutheran Church. They proceeded in Hudson's car to an unannounced destination.

He telephoned Universal-International Studio, which gave him a honeymoon leave until Nov. 28, when he starts a picture with Lauren Bacall.

Miss Gates is secretary to agent Henry Willson, who arranged Hudson's first screen test in 1948 when the aspiring actor was working as a letter carrier. Rock delivered his own special delivery letter requesting a chance in movies. Willson, coming to the door to sign for it, took an interest in the handsome youth.

The elopement was no surprise to studio associates. Hudson had dated Miss Gates frequently since they met a year ago in Willson's office. It is the first marriage for each.

Rock has seldom dated movie stars. Occasionally he has accompanied actresses to premieres — chiefly at the urging of publicists. For a time he was an escort to script girl Betty Abbott, niece of comedian Bud Abbott, partner of Lou Costello.

Hudson now ranks along with Jeff Chandler and Tony Curtis as U-I's strongest male attractions.

Actor Tom Powers, 65, Dies From Heart Attack

HOLLYWOOD (U) — A heart attack has claimed Tom Powers, 65, veteran movie, Broadway and television actor.

Powers died yesterday in his home in nearby Manhattan Beach. A native of Owensboro, Ky., he appeared in the original stage production of "Strange Interlude." His movies included "Julius Caesar," "Double Indemnity" and "The Farmer's Daughter."

Arms Embargo Worries U.N.

Diplomats Think Boycott May Encourage Other Nations to Bolt

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (U) — Faced with boycotts by two member nations, U.N. diplomats expressed grave concern today over what effect the action may have on the future of the world body.

France and South Africa are both shunning the Assembly over issues brought up by the Arab-Israeli bloc. Delegates wondered whether further steps on the inflammatory issues might prompt some member to quit the U.N. altogether.

BOTH WALK OUT — Both France and South Africa walked out in protest over what they claimed was U.N. interference in their internal affairs. Both accused the U.N. of ignoring repeated warnings they would not tolerate further intervention.

South Africa's walkout, over the Special Political Committee's decision to probe into her racial segregation policies, came amid behind-scenes moves to toss out the stormy Algerian independence item which sparked France's boycott.

France's absence from the U.N. since the Assembly voted Sept. 30 to take up Algeria, has raised serious problems.

Primarily it has inspired a number of delegates to question the wisdom of taking up disarmament, a key topic this year, if the French are absent. The French have played a major role on the U.N. Disarmament Commission and its big power subcommittee.

This is believed one of the main reasons behind a move pushed by Colombia and other members to get the Assembly to throw out the Algerian case in hopes this might cause France to reconsider her boycott.

Arab delegates have served notice they will resist any attempt to junk the item.

Violence Increases in Uneasy Morocco

RABAT, French Morocco (U) — Shootings, bombings and burnings have increased in Morocco in recent days despite the scheduled return of Sultan Mohammed Ben Youssef as demanded by Moroccan Nationalists.

Four persons were reported killed and two injured in Casablanca yesterday in six incidents in the native quarter. Two homemade hand grenades were thrown in the outbursts of violence there.

Official figures covering the first seven days of November showed one European and 27 Moroccans killed and 52 Moroccans and 6 Europeans wounded.

Twenty-three bombs or grenades were set off and 21 fires were started by terrorists in that period. Ben Youssef was exiled by the French two years ago for his nationalist sympathies and is expected to return to his throne in Morocco next Wednesday.

Miner Dies in Mishap on Last Day of Work

BECKLEY, W.Va. (U) — George Eli Beckingham, 55, of Bradley, was killed in a coal mine mishap yesterday on what reportedly was to have been his last day of work. He died in a rib fall in the Stansford No. 2 Mine of the New River Co., federal and state mine inspectors reported.

Warren Aids Funds for Truman Library

LOS ANGELES (U) — Honorary chairman for a dinner to raise funds for the Harry S. Truman Library is Chief Justice Earl Warren.

The former California governor said in a letter to Edwin W. Pauley, chairman of the fund raising event here, that he would be delighted to accept the post. However, Pauley said yesterday, Supreme Court duties will prevent the chief justice from attending the dinner Nov. 28.

The library, under construction at Independence, Mo., will house the former president's personal papers. It will be presented to the people of the United States.

Hollywood Headlines:

Humphrey Defends Right to Cut Occasional Caper

By BOB THOMAS

NEW YORK (U) — Humphrey Bogart growled at his wife, took a sip of scotch and muttered, "I never sought publicity in my life."

Yet in the next few minutes, he uttered such things as:

Directors don't mean a thing at the box office.

New York ain't what it used to be.

A man has a right to get loaded and/or raise a little Cain.

That shows you how agile his mind can be.

The scene was the Bogarts' hotel suite. He was entertaining some old friends at cocktails. Mrs. Bogart, an actress named Bacall, was in and out in various stages of dress, preparing for dinner. They occasionally hurled insults at each other.

Bogart, the press agent would like you to know, is here for locations of "The Harder They Fall." Seeing a reporter and being prodded, he discoursed on various subjects.

Publicity: "I never sought it in my life. Sure, it's important. I think 50 per cent of a movie star's career is based on publicity. But I hate the crummy press releases and phony stunts. That stuff stinks."

"The only way to get publicity is to be an exciting enough personality. Then people will write about you."

That's the trouble with these young male stars in Hollywood. No color. No imagination. It makes it tough on columnists. But there's good news: Errol Flynn is coming back.

Proceeding clinically, Bogart analyzed how he became a character: "By doing as I damn well pleased. I defend my right to cut a caper if I feel like it. I see nothing wrong in taking a panda to a night club, along with another friend and his panda."

This referred, of course, to Bogart's last great expedition into

New York night life. He confessed he sees little of the gay spots these days.

"This town ain't what it used to be," he commented sourly. "You used to be able to have fun, now there are too many creeps who want to make trouble for you."

Later, he observed:

"The average citizen doesn't give a hoot who the director of a picture is. That goes for all of them, with the possible exception of Alfred Hitchcock and Cecil B. DeMille."

Bogart did allow that the director is an important man in filmmaking. "I'd never want to be one," he said. "They work too hard."

Heart Attack Fells Captain of 'Atlantis'

PANAMA (U) — The scientific research ship Atlantis put back to sea last night after leaving its master, Capt. Wynfield Bray, 42, at Gorgas Hospital. Bray was reported under observation because of a mild heart attack.

The Atlantis, a two-masted schooner owned by the Woods Hole Oceanographic Institute at Woods Hole, Mass., is en route with a party of scientists to conduct studies off the South American coast. The Navy's icebreaker USS Glacier was to sail for "Operation Deepfreeze" in the antarctic today after loading 2,000 bamboo poles to be used as flagstaves in marking trails between camps. The icebreaker USS Edisto, sailed yesterday.

'A Farewell to Arms' Will Be Refilmed

HOLLYWOOD (U) — "A Farewell to Arms," Ernest Hemingway's novel of love in Italy during World War I, will be remade as a movie.

Producer David O. Selznick said yesterday he has acquired screen rights and will film the picture in a big-screen process. Helen Hayes and Gary Cooper starred in the original version in 1932.

When Tony DeMarco fights in the Boston Garden he is only four blocks from the ring. He lives nearby.

Michigan May Toss Pace at Hoosiers

ANN ARBOR — President injuries may force Michigan to throw a high-powered, but frustrated sophomore at Indiana this Saturday, to overcome another obstacle in the Wolverine's rocky road to a Big Ten title.

For 19-year-old Jim Pace, a speedy Arkansas, it's a chance for his first major performance at left halfback. Pace has played sparingly behind regular Terry Barr, but Barr, running injured through the last two games, may see only partial action in the Indiana affair.

utes on a turned ankle against the fired-up Illinois squad that harked Michigan to bits, 25-6, last Saturday, complicating Wolverine Rose Bowl hopes.

The brief appearance only added to Pace's already frustrated history on the Michigan team. An old high school rival, Bob Mitchell, turned the game into a rout by flooring Michigan with one touchdown and setting up another.

Mitchell, a 180-pound Illini sophomore, scooted for runs of 54 and 64 yards, entering the game at the psychologically perfect moment to choke off late Michigan pressure.

"That cat," Pace said after wards, "is one of the best half-backs I've ever seen. He can pass and kick, too, but he didn't have to do either today."

Pace recalled how he and Mitchell vied for the Arkansas 100-yard dash championship in track for three years. "It used to go back and forth," Pace said. "First he'd get it, then I'd get it."

Who ended up with it? "Well, I did," Pace said. "I ran the 100 in 9.6 seconds to set the Arkansas State record, but Mitchell was just a step behind me." Actually Mitchell's Langston

High School team from Hot Springs, Ark., beat Pace's Dunbar High School of Little Rock two out of three times in football. Now Mitchell has the edge in Big Ten football, too.

Pace has been impressive in the six Michigan victories that preceded the loss to Illinois. His stop-and-go running has given him 144 yards for an even 5-yard average. But at least four healthy runs and one touchdown that Pace produced were called back because of Michigan penalties.

Pace, the coaches say, has terrific speed and vision—that is the ability to think yards ahead to outwit the secondary. What he lacks in defensive ability he makes up for as an offensive danger.

Midwest Needs One More Back for Honor List

Ohio State's Cassidy, MSU's Morrall, ND's Schaefer Top Choices

CHICAGO — With puffed regional pride, the midwest feels that like a fourth-for-bridge, only one other star is needed to help this area round out the 1955 All-America backfield.

The consensus of the regional selection board is that hold-over All-America halfback Howie (Hop-along) Cassidy of Ohio State, quarterback Earl Morrall of Michigan State and fullback Don Schaefer of Notre Dame are blue-ribbon choices for the Associated Press honor team.

With the end of the grid campaign approaching, there is also great support for guard Jim Parker of Ohio State, guard Buck Nystrom of Michigan State, center Jim Mense and guard Pat Biscaglia of Notre Dame, and end Ron Kramer of Michigan as All-America line candidates.

Cassidy, shooting for All-America reputation, has been the big gun in Ohio State's impressive bid for a second straight Big Ten title. Hoppie has scored 11 touchdowns and carried 107 times for 643 yards to rank fourth nationally in rushing.

What doesn't show in the statistics, of course, is Cassidy's tremendous threat to one and all opponents as a clutch player, a game-breaker any time he gets his hands on the ball.

Morrall outmaneuvered his great midwest quarterback rival, Notre Dame's Paul Hornung, in their midseason meeting, but his fame doesn't rest on that alone. He has been a sensational signal-caller, passer and take-charge guy in every contest this season.

Schaefer leads once-beaten Notre Dame in rushing with 501 yards in 117 carries for a 4.2 average and also tops the Irish in scoring with 33 points. He's the man Notre Dame calls on when the going is rough and his defensive play has been superb.

Hurlis Double Shut-Out

Ed Reulbach of the Cubs may be the only major leaguer ever to pitch a double shutout. On Sept. 26, 1908, the records show he blanked the Brooklyn Dodgers by 5-0 and 3-0 margins.

Lions' Bobby Layne has thrown 103 touchdown passes in seven seasons to date in the National Football league.

DeMarco 'Ready' to Bid for Welter Title Again

BOSTON — Stiff-punching Tony DeMarco shrugged off welterweight champion Carmen Basilio's prediction of a solid victory and pronounced himself "ready" today for their 15-round title bout Nov. 30 at the Boston Garden.

"I'm not interested in predictions—I'll just be ready," said the Boston slugger who held the crown only 70 days before dropping it to Basilio in Syracuse, N.Y., last June.

DeMarco, a modest 23-year-old battler who lives in the North End just four blocks from the Garden, said he "expected a tough fight just like the last" but refused to make any predictions.

"I naturally believe I'll win, but I'm not going to go for a knockout like I did last June," DeMarco said. "This time I intend to fight him each round. If I see a chance for a knockout, I'll go for it. If I don't I'll fight him every round."

DeMarco, who won the title on a 14th-round TKO from Johnny Saxton and then lost it on a 12th-round TKO to Basilio, was not disturbed by the champions statement in Syracuse that "I'm going to beat DeMarco convincingly."

"I want that title back," the Boston better said. "I've been training hard, but no harder than for my last fight with Basilio. But this time I'm in better condition."

Told that Basilio thinks he is in better condition than when he won the title last June, DeMarco said: "I'm also in better condition now, even though I haven't been training any harder than for my title defense against Carmen. That little nose operation (for a deviated septum) really has improved my breathing."

Baugh Hits Graham Plaints

ABILENE, Tex. — Sam Baugh, who was in professional football longer than any other man, says Otto Graham, the Cleveland Browns quarterback, "is away off base" in his complaint of dirty playing in the National Football League.

Graham, injured in the first half of last Sunday's game with the New York Giants, said football was getting "rougher and rougher" and unless something is done "it will get out of hand."

Baugh, who was quarterback of the Washington Redskins for 15 years but retired two years ago and now is head coach at Hardin-Simmons University, commented that "the quarterback doesn't take the beating that the other guys do up there. If Graham thinks he's got it rough let him play fullback where he'll carry the ball more. He'll find out that he's got a pretty good deal. Besides, the pros have given him a pretty good living haven't they?"

Baugh told Don Oliver, sports writer for the Abilene Reporter-

News, that the opposing line is "supposed" to rack the passer. "Nobody likes to get the thunder knocked out of him but that's part of pro football and you've got to expect it."

He said he never felt like anybody up there was trying to hit him "although I got slugged lots of times. They were supposed to knock me down and I felt like I ought to put them on the back—they were just doing what they were supposed to do."

"I always made out like they did it accidentally when they'd really racked me although at times I knew differently. If you get up and give them a lot of talk they'll just come back harder next time and really 'clothes line' you."

"I knew darn well those guards and tackles were bigger and meaner than I was. If they set their cap to get you they'd darn sure do it."

Baugh said in his opinion the pro league officials protect the passers better than college officials do. "I noticed they'd try to watch it but in college ranks they don't call it as close after a thrown ball," he explained. "The people who support pro football by buying tickets expect to see the best football played anywhere. They should see the most vicious blocking and the hardest tackling. If they don't they're not getting their money's worth."

Phog's 7-Foot Frosh

Wilt 'The Stilt' Makes Cage Debut at Kansas

LAWRENCE, Kan. — Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain, an amazing 7-foot Philadelphia high school basketball product, evidently will start breaking records even before he takes his first public shot as a college player.

Chamberlain, whom Phog Allen calls the choicest catch of his long coaching career, makes his debut in the Midlands next week — and attendance records are expected to tumble.

The Negro athlete will play as a freshman in the annual University of Kansas varsity-freshman basketball game Nov. 18. The game will draw close to 10,000 — possibly an all-time national mark for such an event.

Because of interest spurred by Chamberlain, 4,000 seats in Kansas' 18,000 capacity field house have been placed on reserve for $1 each. General admission goes at half a buck. The business office says all reserved seats and a healthy share of the general admission tickets likely will go before tip-off time.

In recent years the varsity-freshman game has drawn around 1,500.

There's been talk of the tilt since Coach Allen greeted Chamberlain as a Kansas student last September. Allen rates The Stilt as even a better prospect than Clyde Lovellette, now a star of the pro Minneapolis Lakers who led Kansas to the NCAA championship in 1952.

"The freshmen will be very tough to beat," Allen said. "Wilt could team with two Phi Beta Kappas and two co-eds and give us a battle."

Allen's varsity, by the way, is a favorite to win the Big 7 conference championship this winter.

First place in the Eastern Division of the National Basketball Assn., will be at stake tonight when the red-hot Philadelphia Warriors meet the Rochester Royals and the Minneapolis Lakers play the Knickerbockers in a double-header at New York.

Philadelphia, paced by last season's scoring champion Neil Johnston, and a well-balanced Warrior team were the pre-season pick to dethrone the Syracuse Nationals as champions.

Johnston, who has taken over the NBA scoring championship the last three years, tossed in 29 points last night as the Warriors evened their season record at 1-1 by trouncing the once-powerful Minneapolis Lakers 117-106 in the only game played.

Should Philadelphia beat Rochester and Minneapolis take the Knickerbockers, Philadelphia will have a 2-1 record and New York will have a 1-1 mark.

Max Eggleston of Denison, Tex., dean of Lake Texoma's fishing guides, spent his vacation fishing in Yellowstone Park.

That left the Montreals and the New Yorks three points apart in the standings. But the second-place Rangers not only retained their tie with the Canadiens in victories (7), they also remained tied for the goal-scoring lead (40).

It was the only game scheduled for the night.

New Mark for Hialeah

For the first time, the State of Florida's take in revenue from the Hialeah race track's 1955 meeting, amounted to more than $6 million, setting a new high mark in the state treasury.

Fourth International Race at Laurel Friday

LAUREL, Md. — Laurel's course becomes the "Geneva" of the horse racing world tomorrow. The fourth meeting of the International thoroughbred set is the biggest both from the standpoint of the 13 equine participants and prospective crowd on the sidelines.

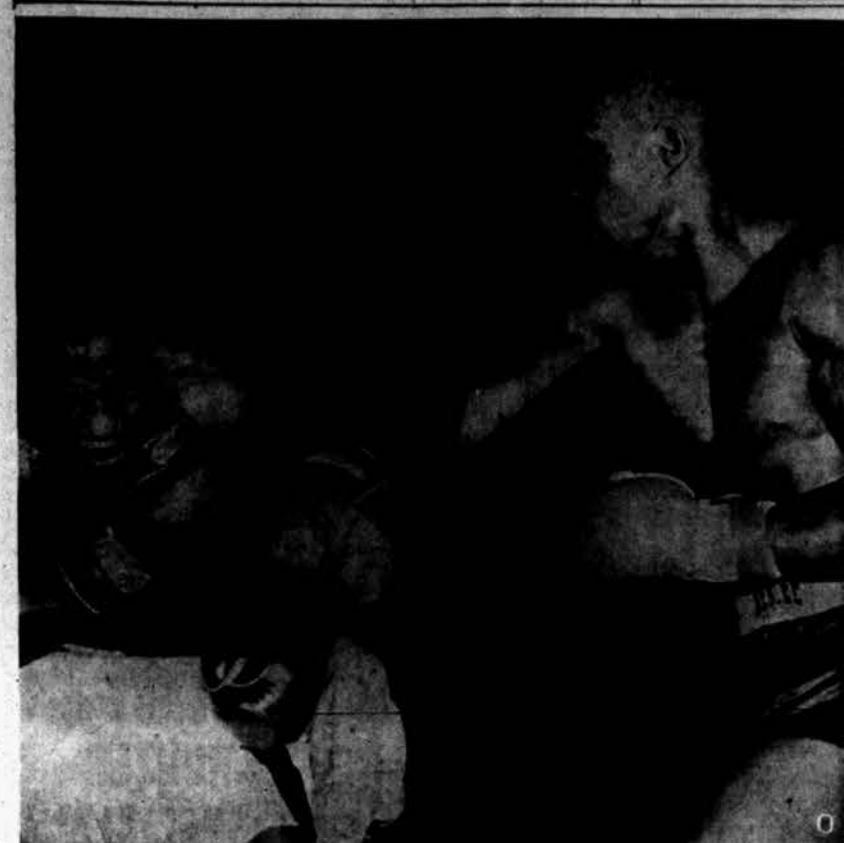

Horse delegates from the United States, Germany, England, Venezuela, France, Ireland and Canada are ready to take up the disposition of $65,000. The meeting of the most countries in one race will last between 2½ and 3 minutes around a mile and a half of Laurel's infield grass.

Laurel reports it has more requests for seat reservations than ever before and the clubhouse caterer that eating requests outnumber the Kentucky Derby.

The far-flung news coverage of the race will be unparalleled with writers from Canada, England and France reporting directly.

Schapiro increased the capacity of Laurel about 12,000 in late 1951 and the next year introduced the International.

Tomorrow's event brings together four horses from the United States, two from Venezuela, England, and France, and one each from Germany, Canada and Ireland.

Morrall Leads Nation in Two Departments

Michigan State Star Tops in Punt Average and Aerial Distance

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Scouts who have been warning Michigan State's opponents that quarterback Earl Morrall is dangerous every time he gets his hand or foot on the ball received an assist today from the lads who work with slide rules and pencils in the NCAA Statistical Bureau.

The statistics show that Morrall, not only is the longest punter in major college football, but he also is the most efficient passer. Only one other player holds leadership in two statistical categories although the better punters are displaying unusual versatility by gaining the upper brackets in other departments.

Morrall, an engineering student from Muskegon, Mich., has averaged 44.9 yards on his 18 punts this season. His 49 pass attempts this season, with 29 complete, have netted 19.5 yards for each completion. Nobody else is getting that kind of distance. Morrall also ranks 20th in total offense.

Morrall took over the punting lead when Florida's Don Chandler punted only once against Georgia and failed to reach the required minimum of 16 kicks. Pittsburgh's Bill Schmitt is second with a 43.8-yard average and Ted Rhode of Kansas third with 42.5.

Fifth-ranked punter John Roach of Southern Methodist also is fourth in total yards; seventh-rated Jerry Jester of Wyoming is the No. 10 rusher and Ronny Oulifian of Tulane is 10th in punting and 11th in rushing.

The individual scoring lead changed hands for the fourth time in seven weeks, between the same two players, when Southern California's Jon Arnett tallied seven points against Stanford to go ahead of Jim Swink of Texas Christian. Arnett, also the leader in punt returns, has 12 touchdowns and an many conversions for 84 points. Swink has 81 on 13 touchdowns and 3 points.

Arnett has returned punts for 275 yards and has run back 25 punts and kicks for 697 yards. Sam Woolwine of Virginia Military leads in kickoff returns alone with 386 yards.

Lift for Wildfowl

State Plans Construction of More Than 30 New Flooded-Marsh Habitats in Area

More than 30 habitats for wildfowl in the form of flooded marshes will be created this month by the State Conservation Department in the Ortonville, Holly and Bald Mountain recreational areas, the department announced last week.

Laurence Dayton, regional game supervisor for the southern half of the lower peninsula, said work would begin around Nov. 15 and the department planned to do the major share this fall. Any additional work would be finished in spring, Dayton said.

Impoundments, or earth filled marshes fed by rain, will all be constructed on state-owned land

Saxton Wants Title Shot After Decisioning Jones

OAKLAND, Calif. — Johnny Saxton was set today for another shot at the welterweight championship he held for only six months.

The slick shooting Saxton, throwing left-handed darts all the way, sped to a unanimous decision over Ralph (Tiger) Jones last night in a 10-round televised bout. The verdict was never in doubt as Saxton reduced the heavier Jones to a bewildered clog in the closing rounds.

"Man, I used rhythm," chortled the satisfied Saxton in his dressing room after it was over. "I'm ready for that title shot now and we've got it buttoned in our pocket."

The word before the fight was that Saxton would get a date with the winner of the welterweight title bout Nov. 30 between champion Carmen Basilio and Tony DeMarco. Saxton, who won the crown from Kid Gavilan, lost it less than six months later to DeMarco.

Saxton gave away 10 pounds to Jones, making his eighth television appearance of the year. The former welter title came in at 148½ to Jones' 158½ and capitalized on his mobility to the fullest.

"He was a lot easier to handle than he was the last time," Saxton admitted, referring to his 1-point decision over Jones in a previous meeting at New York three years ago.

Under the 11-point California scoring system Referee Fred Apostoll had it 56½-53½. Judge Jack Downey 57-53 and Judge Eddie James 56-54. The Associated Press card showed 57-53.

Yesterday's nomination of Tufts by the USGA will be voted upon at the annual meeting Jan. 28 in New York and election usually is only a formality. Tufts is president of the Pinehurst Golf Club and has been a USGA vice president since 1952.

with the purpose of providing breeding and nesting areas for wildfowl, such as mallard, black and woods ducks and muskrats. They will also be used by hunters, Dayton stated.

Pending final approval by state engineers, Ortonville is scheduled to have five such marshes created in the recreation area there. Holly will receive eight while the Bald Mountain area is scheduled to have 18 impoundments installed.

The project is being financed partially by the Pittman-Robinson Federal Fund and from revenue derived from state hunting licenses. The federal fund is money secured from excise taxes on guns and ammunition bought in the state with 11 per cent on each gun procured back to the state.

The marshes will range from one to 30 acres in size, with some of the smaller ones containing only from two to 18 inches of rainfall. The larger ones often contain three to four feet of water, Dayton said. Most marshes will be under five acres, he said.

Dayton said he believed that the impoundments will be the 1st of the kind in Oakland County created specifically for wildlife with many scattered throughout the state. All will be run by the state and situated a distance off highways where the fowl will not be disturbed, he said.

'Dog-Eat-Dog' Fight Gives MSU Big Ten Chance

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP)—Michigan State, a whipped puppy last season, has a chance to be top dog again thanks to the dog-eat-dog football battling in the Western conference.

The surprising MSU Spartans are tied for second place with Michigan in the Big 10 behind Ohio State. The Buckeyes can't repeat in the Rose Bowl since they went to Pasadena last year.

So Michigan State will be playing Minnesota this Saturday with one ear cocked to the public address system. For if either Indiana this week or Ohio State the next can measure Michigan, the Spartans can become the first conference team in history to play in the big bowl twice in three years.

For Coach Duffy Daugherty it would be a glorious comeback after the 1954 3-6 season.

Michigan State, with a 6-1 mark so far and third rating in The Associated Press poll, has to be an odds-on favorite. Minnesota has only 2 victories this season against 5 losses.

Minnesota has a line averaging 218 pounds compared to the 205-pound Michigan State average. But last week, State took advantage of all the breaks to win 27-0 despite a Purdue line averaging 225 pounds.

Quarterback Earl Morrall, an All-America candidate, was given a few more plays this week to add to the razzle-dazzle Michigan State multiple offense.

He has a superb collection of ends to throw to plus the speed of left half Clarence Peaks, the driving power of right half Walt Kowalczyk and the solid play of full-back Jerry Planutis.

All have been the standout stars in at least one game this season, passing the glory around the backfield.

The MSU line, led by guard Buck Nystrom, has given up only two touchdowns in the last four games. But Daugherty contends: "Any Big 10 team can beat any other on any given Saturday."

Minnesota should look better than in the 26-0 loss to Iowa last week due to the return of Dick McNamara and Bob Schultz. These two regular halfbacks were unable to perform Saturday because of injuries.

Doctor Suggests Timely Eye Exams for Hunters

NEW YORK—America's hunters are reminded that a timely eye examination may improve their marksmanship—and possibly save the life of some other human being prowling about in the woods.

Dr. Franklin M. Foote, executive director of the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness, said the hunter who takes good care of his gun but neglects his eyesight is a menace to everyone else, and much less likely to bag his quota than a person who understands the value of good vision.

"Hunting accidents take many lives and cause untold injuries every year," Dr. Foote pointed out. "Poor vision, stemming from improper eye care as well as poor visibility in the woods themselves, is certainly a major cause."

"Too often, investigating officers are told that the hunter who accidentally shot another man through his victim was a deer."

The Prevention of Blindness Society executive leader pointed out that certain natural changes take place in the eyes after the age of 40, and that these changes result in less clear vision.

Topper Coach Starts New Look

Nagle Devises Court Recipe for Vet-Studded Marquette Quintet

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Last season Coach Jack Nagle of Marquette revived the old tandem or 1-3-1 offense and, with no individual stars, his basketball team posted a 24-3 record and finished fourth in the national rankings.

This time around Nagle may unveil a brand new offense he has devised in hopes of getting the same results from a veteran-studded outfit.

The 38-year-old coach, a home-grown product who never earned a letter in basketball at Marquette but is highly regarded as a student of the game, isn't ready to divulge the nature of the new-look attack. He has given it exhaustive "paper" tests, but hasn't yet put it to a floor test.

"I'm pressed for time right now," he said. "I have to spend a lot of time teaching fundamentals and sometimes I wonder if I'll ever get to introduce the offense. I wouldn't feel right about it if we haven't got our fundamentals down pat."

Whatever it is that Nagle has cooked up, he says it can be used with the new 12-foot lanes, but was not devised specifically for the change in rules that doubled width of the lanes.

Lou Stars Defensively

DETROIT — After four years as an All-Pro offensive guard, Lou Creekmur played middle guard defensively for the Detroit Lions against the Baltimore Colts. He sparked the defensive line play to the extent that the Lions held the league's leading ground gainer to only 32 yards rushing.

Minimum home run distance in the majors is 250 feet.

PRE-GAME SMILE — Minnesota coach Murray Warmath is smiling here but his job is a tough one on Saturday — beat Michigan State. Warmath said three weeks ago that Michigan State is one of the best teams in the nation, and the Spartans haven't done anything since to disprove his statement.

Whitmer Sure to Get Trial in Friday Tilt

Wisner Contest Winds Up Chiefs' Season, Aim for 1st SVC Win

At least one new face will be seen in the Pontiac High School lineup for Friday's finale against Flint Northern in Wisner Stadium. Coach Ed Graybiel this morning announced that Dick Whitmer, capable young Jayvee quarterback, would definitely get a real test against the Vikings. Whitmer has been working out all week with the varsity, and has shown a lot of stuff. He is a sophomore and the experience in this game could be a very valuable asset come another year.

The decision to bring up Whitmer was based on the need to have a fill-in for Bob Casteel who has been alternating at both quarter and left halfback, in the spot formerly occupied by the speedy Jimmy (Red) Taylor, benched by study failure.

Casteel has also been hit by injuries, and is not at his full strength.

Final preparations were made last night for the Vikings visit. Graybiel and his aides worked the Chiefs on defense against the fast Northern backs. Methods of stopping Vikings' ace punt returner, Sharp, were given particular attention.

"This Northern outfit is good," says Graybiel. "Now that it has all its early season regulars back in action we're up against a tough outfit."

Friday's contest is the last chance for Chiefs to keep out of the cellar. Up to now, neither Northern or Pontiac has managed to set up a victory over Valley opponents. Northern, however, has a 7-7 tie against the strong Arthur Hill outfit.

Friend of Late Woodward Offers to Save Belair

NEW YORK — The famous Belair Stud, which has bred and raced many of the nation's greatest horses including Nashua, will remain intact as a breeding interest if the executors of the estate of William Woodward Jr. accept the offer of Arthur B. (Bull) Hancock Jr.

Young Woodward, who inherited the vast racing and breeding empire when his father died in 1953, was shot to death by his wife nearly two weeks ago when she said she mistook him for a prowler in their Long Island home.

"I have offered to take over the stallions and mares owned by Bill for 10 years until the oldest son (now 11) becomes of age," the son of the well-known owner of Claborn Stud at Paris, Ky., said today.

"Of course I can't take over the racing end of the business," said Hancock, a close friend of Woodward and associate in the ownership of several stallions, including Nasrullah, sire of Nashua. "But I have guaranteed the executors there will be no monetary loss in the operation of the stud and will turn it back to them as good as it is today."

Under the terms of Woodward's will, field for probate yesterday.

Barkeley to Become Guard on Bronc Five

Alan Barkeley, former Pontiac High all-around athlete, is one of the three returning regulars seeking a berth on Western Michigan College's 1955-56 court squad. Coach Joy Hoy plans to switch Barkeley to guard this year after filling a forward slot last season.

Another area boy, Gordon Rogers of Utica, a sophomore is expected to bolster Hoy's reserve strength at a center position.

the Belair Stud is a part of the estate since the will was made before the 35-year-old Woodward inherited the racing stable and breeding stock.

Horsemen estimated the value of the Belair racing and breeding interests, including the 2,500-acre farm at Bowie, Md., in excess of two million dollars.

BIG HAUL—Roberto C. Arreola landed this 97-pound blue marlin on a 24-pound line. He was a member of the Mexican team which competed in the International Game Fishing contest.

Dodgers have been in eight world series up thru the current 1955 season.

Brown's Ace Gridded Reported Improving

PROVIDENCE, R.I. — Archie Williams, Brown's leading football ground gainer, was reported today to be much improved at the college infirmary where he was taken Wednesday for observation for possible appendicitis.

Originally, it was believed Williams was definitely out of Saturday's Brown-Harvard game, but Dr. G. Edward Crane later said his rapid improvement made it just possible he would be able to play.

ROCHESTER, MICHIGAN

Florida Alumni, Writers Back Woodruff

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (AP)—Alumni officials and sports writers yesterday hastened to blow away a storm of criticism that had centered around Bob Woodruff in his job as University of Florida football coach.

Woodruff and his program were praised by Judge John Murphree, president of the University Alumni Assn., who said: "It's been a long, long time since Florida had a team that could go out on any given Saturday and slug it out with any team, but Woodruff has given us that. He's playing in a tough league and he certainly plays the tough ones."

A resolution by the Orange County Alumni Assn. of the university asked the Board of Control to express confidence in Woodruff and state there will be no termination of his contract.

The Chronicle said it will not identify the Florida supporter who made the offer unless he agrees to it. Hendrix said: "The fact remains that if Florida doesn't win two out of its final three games, Woodruff will be ousted."

In his original report Hendrix said the Board of Control, administrative body for the state university system, had considered an ouster move and decided Woodruff would stay if he won two of the last three games on Florida's schedule for a 6-4 record.

Fred Kent of Jacksonville, chairman of the Board of Control, denied this. He said the board had considered no such action formally or informally, although "a fairly substantial number of people have approached me with the suggestion we should have a new coach."

Rams' Expensive Trips OK as Morale Building Idea

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Los Angeles Rams are going to play their next three football games away from home, but after facing the Bears at Chicago they'll fly home and train in Los Angeles for their game the following Sunday against Baltimore.

This venture will cost the Rams management an extra $6,500 in plane fare and incidentals, but Coach Sid Gillman, who has instilled a high morale in his squad, is convinced it will pay dividends. The Rams are leading the Western Conference of the National Football League and are drawing the crowds, and that means more money in the treasury. They played to 85,302 here last Sunday against the San Francisco 49ers.

The Rams will train in Los Angeles for both the Chicago and Baltimore games, and make their headquarters in Washington for the Nov. 27 contest with the Philadelphia Eagles.

Gillman figures that home cooking will be the difference and that if he can win two of these three games the Rams will have a good chance to come home in front of the pack for the Western Conference flag.

Quarterback Fred Wyant accounted for more than one and one-half miles of West Virginia's football offense yardage within the past three seasons, according to school statistics.

Texas had about 1,900 high schools fielding football teams in the 1953 season.

TIGER—Joel Wells is a Clemson halfback Maryland will have to watch, Nov. 12.Steve's Wasted Effort

Steve Gromek of the Tigers in 1943 pitched an 18-inning scoreless tie game against Baltimore, which then was a member of the International league.

Bobby Dykes, Miami Beach mid-dleweight, owns a drive-in restaurant.

Jim Doan, end for the Detroit pro Lions, never played high school football.

Michigan State and Notre Dame have been football rivals since 1897.

Southpaw Billy Pierce of the White Sox lost four 1-0 games in the 1953 season.

Parochials Face County 11s in Finale

St. Michael and St. Frederick high schools will bring their 1955 football seasons to a close Friday night with non-league games at Oxford and Clarkson respectively. Both contests start at 8 p.m.

Despite their ups and downs, Bob Milne's Shamrocks can close out a very respectable year by downing the Wildcats. The Mikes are already assured a winning season after last Sunday's SCL verdict over Highland Park St. Benedict, giving them a 5-3 record.

Oxford's football fortunes took a rude tumble this fall. During his 1st year as head coach in 1954, Jean Harkness guided his gridders to a flawless 8-0 mark. This season the Wildcats have dropped six decisions while tying Lake Orion, 12-12, and edging Ortonville, 6-0.

Once again the Shamrocks will rely heavily on the passing arm of halfback Dag Dropps, who has sparked in every game, and the strong running of fullback Ron Elmy. Chuck Brown, speedy halfback nursing a chipped ankle bone will not play for the 5th straight week.

Mikes will be seeking revenge for last year's 27-6 pasting by Oxford at Wisner Stadium.

Finishing in the SCL basement for the 3rd consecutive year, Gene Wright's victoryless Rams will be underdogs again in their clash with an able Clarkson team which concluded its Wayne-Oakland League campaign in 2nd place.

Ed Hintz' Wolves have hung up six triumphs in eight starts, their two setbacks came at the hands of champion Clarenceville, 13-6, and out-of-league Lake Orion, 26-0. A balanced scoring attack characterizes their play.

St. Fred, on the verge of another winless season, is gripped in the throes of a losing streak which has now reached 34 games. The Rams' last win was posted over Marine City Holy Cross, 18-6, on Sept. 20, 1955, to 1st game of the season, since that time they have been defeated on 21 occasions while tying three.

The Rams, listing a season record of 0-6-2, have been shut out their last two games.

Orchard Lake St. Mary's unbeaten Eaglets, who breezed through seven foes to win the Suburban Catholic League title, shoot for a perfect season Sunday afternoon at Hamtramck in their traditional finale against St. Florian. Game time is 2:30 p.m. in Keyworth Stadium.

Injuries Give Navy Pair Big Chance Against Lions

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP)—A pair of young halfbacks who have seen only limited action in reserve roles this year get their first chance Saturday as starters on the Navy football team.

Injuries to the two durable first-stringers paved the way for the debut of Ed Malynn, a 170-pound junior from Oakland, Calif., and Paul Guber, a 160-pound junior from Buck Run, Pa., when Navy meets Columbia at Baker Field in New York.

They were beaten out earlier this season for starting jobs by Chet Burchett, a junior, and Ned Oldham, a sophomore. Then injuries forced them to even more limited action.

But both are sound now and were able to move up to the starting jobs when Oldham and Burchett were sidelined in a rough-and-tumble 7-7 tie with Duke last week. Coach Eddie Erdelatz has brought up three halfbacks from the junior varsity as replacements for the losses of Oldham, Burchett and reserve halfback Dick Snyder. Erdelatz hopes to have Oldham, who broke a finger, and Burchett, who sprained an ankle, back for the Army game Nov. 26 as well as right guard Jim Hower, who is also sidelined this week with a sprained ankle.

MSU Has Chance to Set Record for Conference

EAST LANSING (AP)—Michigan State, a busy precedent-breaker in Big Ten football play, has a chance to shatter another tradition.

No Big Ten team has ever gone twice in three years to the Rose Bowl since the regular series was set up in 1947. Three conference schools have gone twice since the contract was signed, Illinois, Ohio State and Michigan.

But it seems to be a rule that a squad needs to rebuild before making a 2nd appearance. Illinois went in 1947 and 1952, Michigan in 1948 and 1951 and Ohio State in 1950 and 1955.

Others to make the trip in the modern era were Northwestern in 1949, Wisconsin in 1953 and the Spartans two years ago.

Spartan squad members, confident about their chances, feel bad about the injury that forced senior tackle-guard Embury Robinson to undergo a knee operation.

Robinson kicked off for Michigan State in the 1954 Rose Bowl. He could have been, they figure, the 1st player to kick off for his team in two Rose Bowl games.

Christy Mathewson reached or passed the 25-game mark in victories on eight occasions.

Badgers Must Corral Illini Horses

MADISON, Wis. (U-P)—Anyway you slice it, Coach Ivy Williamson said today, Wisconsin will have its hands full Saturday trying to dull Illinois' meat-chopper offense.

He doesn't think much of the grid guessers who have installed his Badgers as slight favorites in the 32nd meeting of the Big 10 rivals.

"I don't think we should even be rated as even," he said. "They've been improving steadily. We haven't. We've got to play our defense in order to have any kind of a chance at all."

Williamson said he didn't doubt that the Badgers could move the ball against the Illini, but whether they can corral Ray Elliot's horses is another question.

"We'll have to see whether our defense can stand up against such a balanced attack as theirs. Michigan's took a beating. We're scared. Our scout reports show they did everything against Michigan. They ran up the middle, to the outside and they passed."

Ivy was particularly concerned about halfback Bob Mitchell, the one-man gang who riddled Michigan's defenses for 173 yards, and sophomore fullback Ray Nitschke, who has averaged 5.1 yards on 42 carries.

The fact that Harry Jefferson, the Big 10's second-leading ground gainer, is expected to see action after a bout with a rib injury, won't make the Badgers' task any easier.

The latest conference statistics show Wisconsin in the first-place tie with Ohio State for offensive honors and fourth in defense, while

Campbell Plans Another Trial for New Mark

Britisher Expects to Send Bluebird Out on Assault Today

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (U-P)—England's Donald Campbell in his jet-powered Bluebird takes another crack today at his own water speed record of 202.33 m.p.h.

The fast-moving son of the late land and water racer, Sir Malcolm Campbell, makes the official try over a measured kilometer—or five-eighths of a mile—course. The dash was expected to take place about 7 a.m. (PST).

Campbell said he thought he broke 200 m.p.h. during a test run yesterday.

His gauge indicated "at one brief moment I may have exceeded the record," Campbell said.

The water was calm, but after he had made his trial runs and electric timing devices were set up, night was about to fall.

Campbell's full running course covers only 3 1/4 miles, and he said he almost "ran out of lake" yesterday. Witnesses estimated he was about 50 yards from shoreline when he brought the craft to a stop.

Last month the 4,000-pound Bluebird made an unsuccessful record try and then sank while being towed to the dock. It was later overhauled at nearby Nellis Air Force Base.

Campbell, set the 202.33 m.p.h. mark last July 24 at Lake Ullswater in England.

Must Stop Cassady

Iowa Primes to Spoil Buckeyes' Title Hopes

CHICAGO (U-P)—Iowa's hot-and-cold Hawkeyes are ready and willing to keep Ohio State from grabbing a second straight Big 10 football title but first they'll have to corral Howard (Hopalong) Cassady.

All three Iowa losses this season—to Wisconsin, UCLA and Michigan—have come on foreign soil.

The red-haired All America halfback has ridden the gridiron for 643 yards in 107 carries and ranks fourth nationally in rushing. He has scored 11 touchdowns and has the Hawkeyes worried.

"We can stop Cassady before the game," said Iowa Coach Forest Evashevski yesterday. "but after that, I don't know how we can do it."

Evashevski told Chicago football writers yesterday "Ohio State is every bit as good as it was last year and Cassady can break up a game any time. We're in shape and we'll be ready for them."

While Iowa is worried about Cassady, Ohio State must reckon with a couple of Hawkeye stars—quarterback Jerry Reichow and halfback Eddie Vincent.

Reichow ranks third nationally in total offense with 886 yards in 134 plays and Vincent played the greatest game of his career against Minnesota last week in leading Iowa to a 26-0 triumph. He scored two touchdowns and passed for a third.

Evashevski bemoans the fact that the game will be at Ohio State.

Layne's Auto, 'Hunchy' in It, Caught Speeding

DETROIT (U-P)—A Detroit night-club hostess was fined $50 yesterday for driving the automobile of quarterback Bobby Layne of the Detroit Lions 50 miles an hour in a 25-mile zone at 12:15 a. m. Wednesday.

Layne wasn't in the car. But police said halfback Bob Hoernschmeyer, was, along with the driver-hostess, Lillian Vance Paige, 35, a girl who identified herself as Terry Hall and a bellhop from a Detroit hotel. Layne, 29, lives at the hotel.

Layne told newsmen: "It was my car, but I wasn't there. I let them have my car." Newsmen didn't reach Hoernschmeyer, 30.

Lion coach Buddy Parker said he planned no action pending his own investigation of the report that Hoernschmeyer was 15 minutes over the midnight curfew for Detroit's National Football League team.

Evashevski bemoans the fact

BACK OF THE WEEK — Frank Riepl, sophomore halfback on the University of Pennsylvania's football team, was named Back of the Week by the Associated Press for his play against Notre Dame last Saturday. Riepl returned the opening kickoff 108 yards, threw a 12-yard touchdown pass and kicked the two extra points to hold the Irish 14-14 at half time. Notre Dame won 46-14.

of the slide-finish is emphasized. Only with a slide, long or short—but slide, nevertheless—will the swing hold its groove to the follow-through. On cross-alley shots the slide braces the left leg, controls the body by keeping it in-line, pointed straight ahead. That automatically keeps the arm swinging close to the body and on to a reaching finish.

Slide, and you'll finish the swing smoothly. Hurry the stride, stop quickly, and you'll likely dump the ball abruptly, out of control. Should you feel a soreness or a pain slipping up into your leg muscles, you're short on the slide. Add to it in practice. And be sure, of course, to move back six inches or so to allow for the added slide.

When you're sticking at the foul line, don't make the mistake of shortening your run. Lengthen it a bit. It's slide you need.

Fans Vent Ire on Coaches in Effigies

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The football version of an old saying is: "Where there's smoke there's fire—and usually the coach is the one fired."

This season there's a new way of raising the smoke clouds that indicate that the fans are burned up about losing. An effigy of the coach turns up dangling in some prominent place around the campus.

So far this fall Lynn (Pappy) Waldorf of California, Jess Hill of Washington State, John Cherberg of Washington and Warren Woodson of Arizona, plus pro coach Red Strader of the San Francisco 49'ers have been signalled out for this strange kind of attention. They're all substantially built citizens and the malcontents probably thought it easier to hoist a dummy on a rope than to tackle them personally.

In addition there have been definite indications of some discontent with the coaching of Missouri's Don Faurot, North Carolina's George Barclay, Baylor's George Sauer, Northwestern's Lou Saban and Florida's Bob Woodruff. In most cases it has been a petition of some sort asking for a change of coaches.

A few other coaches with losing records might be forgiven for looking askance at anyone they might see collecting burlap and hay or other dummy building materials, but generally the circumstances show some excuse for the records.

All this doesn't mean that the coaches so attacked are about to be fired. Most of them received encouraging words and promises of support from college presidents and athletic directors. Nor to those assurances always mean their jobs are safe. Football history shows a certain definite association between protests and coaching changes just like the one between smoke and fire.

Then follows a chain reaction of hiring replacements, resignations and a turnover something like last year's when about 20 major colleges and twice as many small ones got new head coaches. Sometimes the man who is fired winds up with a better job than he had before.

Perhaps its an indication of the difference between West Coast and East Coast football fans, but the losingest major college coach of all doesn't seem a bit worried about his job. That's Penn's Steve Sebo, whose teams have lost 16 straight games since he took over last year. Of course a few alumni and fans have begun to wonder out loud if it isn't about time for Steve to win a game, but most of them are strongly on his side.

After all, they point out, it's the players, not the coach, who win games and Sebo hasn't had time to round up players who can cope with a schedule like Penn's. It will be different when Penn goes Ivy League next season. The players he has are improving—and didn't they tie Notre Dame for one half?

seen a lot of them in seven years but this one ranks with the best."

Atkins took the kickoff, dropped it, picked it up and set sail up the middle of the field. Several key blocks shook him loose at the 25 and he cut to the sidelines, feinting the last Ferris defender on the 35.

Trippi Returns to Card Lineup

Charlie Patched Up, to See Action Sunday Against Packers

CHICAGO — Veteran halfback Charlie Trippi, sidelined since he fractured several facial bones in a pre-season exhibition, will "definitely" return to the Chicago Cardinals' lineup for Sunday's game with Green Bay, according to Coach Ray Richards.

The 32-year-old former Georgia star, now in his ninth season with the Cards, was slated to play against Pittsburgh last Saturday night, but Richards decided to hold him out one more week.

Trippi is wearing a special mask to protect his face. Richards said Trippi may be used at offensive quarterback as well as defensive halfback.

German Dog Seeks Honors in U.S. Shows

Visitors to the Motor City dog show, Sunday, at the Detroit Artillery Armory on west Eight Mile road, will have an opportunity to see the latest import from Germany in his 1st American show.

The Deutsche champion "Clown", a fine, 100-pound black and tan Shepherd male, is being shown by Rudy Buchmann, show judge and handler of Shepherds.

"Clown" is quite some dog," says Rudy, who is working with the dog with a view to sending him up the line for an American championship.

"Clown" is owned by Tony Klein, a German of Toronto, who brought him from Germany where he is said to have won a number of titles. The dog's full name is "von Haus Kleinjahn". He is 4-years-old, and is entered in the show's open class.

Phils Schedule 45 Games Under Lights

PHILADELPHIA — The Philadelphia Phillies are continuing to schedule more home night baseball games, the release of their 1956 schedule shows.

The Phils have carded 45 night games—the only day encounters among the 77 at home games being listed for Saturdays, Sundays and holidays.

Last year, other than weekends and holidays, the Phils scheduled two weekday games. One of these was the season opener and the other was washed out and eventually was played at night.

Bob Caldwell of Walton, Ky., and Tom Forrestal of Cleveland are the two youngest members of the Navy football team. Both are 18.

Yanks Start Slow but Trip Jap Team

TOKYO — The New York Yankees, held hitless for three innings, exploded for 4 runs in the fourth today and defeated a Japanese All-Star baseball team before 15,000 fans.

The Yankees have 12 victories and 1 tie in their 13 starts.

Tommy Byrne and Johnny Kucks held the Japanese to three hits. The Yankees collected 10, including a home run by center fielder Bob Cerv.

Atkins Runs 102 Yards

One of State's Smallest Players Owns Biggest Play of 1955 Football Season

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

One of the smallest players in the state—Alma's Bob Atkins—owns the biggest play of the 1955 Michigan college football season.

The fleet halfback, a 5-foot-6, 150-pounder, scored on a 102-yard kickoff return Saturday night.

The game was won by Ferris, 39-20, but the fans went away talking of the run made by the 18-year-old Atkins, a sophomore from Cheboygan who has been an understudy to the high-scoring Mark Raab.

"It was one of the greatest runs I've ever seen at alma," exclaimed coach Lloyd Eaton, "I've Nary a player touched him as he streaked to his 1st collegiate touchdown.

According to figures compiled by the Associated Press, this was the longest scoring play of the season, topping the 95-yard kickoff return by Hillsdale's Nate Clark, also achieved Saturday.

Longest touchdown run from scrimmage belongs to Lee King of Hillsdale, who went 95 yards.

Other long touchdowns include a 90-yard kickoff return by Michigan Normal's Virgil Windsor and a 90-yard interception of a lateral by Earl Morrall of Michigan State.

These are the only plays this season to top the 90-yard figure.

While the tiny Atkins streaked to his share of glory Saturday night, Clark scored five more touchdowns for Hillsdale to run his total to 21 for the season. That gives him a modern state record of 126 points, placing him well ahead of Central Michigan's Bernie Raterink. Both failed to score Saturday.

Santa Clara to Travel

Santa Clara's basketball team will take to the road during the Christmas holidays, playing in the first annual Orange Bowl basketball tournament at Miami Dec. 28-30. The Broncos will also meet Wichita and Loyola enroute.

Guy Gendron of the New York Rangers is 21 and one of the youngest players in the National Hockey League.

Mexico's Silver Take on 'Constant Decline'

MEXICO CITY (INS)—Sen. Alberto Terrones Benitez, head of the Senate Mining Commission, warns that Mexico's leadership in silver production "is on a constant decline."

After a slight increase in 1943, the Senator pointed out, a consistent decrease ruled in the silver industry until it reached a new low in comparison to international output in 1954.

He said recent figures pointing to a boom in Mexican mining are based on modern values and do not take into consideration depreciation of currencies expressing the values.

Based on the 1929 rate of exchange, he added, the actual parity value of silver production shows a considerable decrease.

School Grading Methods Slapped by Educator

ST. LOUIS (INS)—Just because a child is in the third grade doesn't mean that he has acquired third grade reading skills — it simply indicates that he has been at the institution three years.

This is the theory of Dr. William Kottmeyer, St. Louis assistant school superintendent in charge of special events.

Dr. Kottmeyer said that grade levels are not indicators of a child's actual learning level and that school systems labor under a myth when they arbitrarily decide that all children must accomplish certain skills within a limited time.

Stating that all children learn differently and cannot be fit into a convenient teaching pattern, he declared that the only way to teach a child to read or master any sets of skills is to teach him "at a level even with his own head, not above it."

Illustrating his point, Dr. Kottmeyer said that a group of children may seem to be homogeneous when they all pass a reading test, but they each pass it in a different way.

One child reads slowly and gets all the facts, while another reads rapidly and gets just enough to pass the test.

Women Buy 40 Per Cent of Counter-Sold Cigars

CHICAGO (INS)—The way women are buying cigars, you'd think the distaff side had changed its smoking habits.

Studies show that 40 per cent of all cigars moving off the shelves and counters of super markets are bought by women.

But A. E. Murphy, executive secretary of the Folding Paper Box Association explained that, "Women are just doing the cigar buying for men now, as the result of a major marketing change—self-service shopping."

7 Firms to Sell Ford Co. Stock

Foundation May Name 300-400 More to Act as Underwriters

NEW YORK (AP)—Seven investment firms have been named by the Ford Foundation to handle the public offering of shares in the Ford Motor Co. early next year.

Sales of the 6,952,233 shares will represent the largest offering in history of securities in an industrial firm.

Blyth & Co. will act as chairman of the co-managers of the underwriting group. Other members are First Boston Corp.; Goldman, Sachs & Co.; Kuhn Loeb & Co.; Lehman Brothers; Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Beane; and White, Weld & Co.

Announcing selection of the underwriters last night, Foundation President H. Rowan Galtier Jr. observed that a major objective in arranging the offering "is to achieve the widest possible distribution of the shares to the public."

The co-managers are expected to name between 300 and 400 other firms to participate in the underwriting. In addition, the shares will be sold by hundreds of brokerage firms throughout the country.

Wall Streeters say the main problem won't be selling the shares, but keeping would-be purchasers happy. Demand promises to be substantially larger than the number of shares available, which means they will be allocated.

The unusual interest in the offering stems from the fact that the huge Ford Company has been a tightly-held family affair. The shares to be sold will be assigned 60 per cent of the voting rights. The remaining 40 per cent will be vested in shares held by the Ford family.

The Ford Foundation is selling the shares in order to diversify its investments, and will get all the proceeds. The shares to be offered will represent only about 15 per cent of the foundation's Ford holdings.

The offering may total 420 million dollars if Wall Street suggestions are correct that the price will be about $60 a share. That would top the $38 million dollars raised by General Motors early this year through the sale of common stock.

No Holiday on Exchanges
NEW YORK (AP)—The stock exchanges throughout the United States and Canada will be open tomorrow, Veterans Day.

Grains Develop Lower Trend

CHICAGO (AP)—A slightly lower trend developed in grains on the Board of Trade today. Losses ran to about two cents in soybeans, the weakest commodity.

There was some hedging pressure in corn, reflecting receipt of 359 cars of cash corn, while the new crop wheat deliveries eased on a forecast for light moisture in parts of the dry-Great Plains area.

Soybeans were unable to continue with the previous session's advance. One factor holding them back was the recent weakness in cash soybean meal, selling at the lowest price in about 10 years.
