

Sukarno Talks Peace, Then Vows Hostility

ONE COLOR

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP)—President Sukarno of Indonesia vowed continued hostility toward Malaysia today only a few hours after Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy won a three-nation agreement on steps toward peace.

Indonesia and Malaysia agreed to stop the shooting along their Borneo borders and to join the Philippines in a conference of foreign ministers in Bangkok the first week in February. All three nations asked Thailand to monitor the cease-fire.

This was the status of the mediation efforts when Kennedy flew to Bangkok after concluding talks with Sukarno in Jakarta.

Then Sukarno went before an Indonesian youth rally and proclaimed that his island nation will continue its drive to crush Malaysia unless that British-backed, anti-Communist federation is changed to suit Indonesia's tastes.

"Onward, never retreat," Sukarno said. "Crush Malaysia! Indonesia may change its tactics, but our goal will remain the same."

Broad outlines of the arrangements that could end four months of hostilities between the young federation of Malaysia and its two big neighbors were announced in Jakarta, where Kennedy had conferred for a second time about the crisis with President Sukarno of Indonesia. Then they were amplified in Bangkok.

Kennedy flew to Bangkok from Jakarta for talks with Thai officials and with U.S. ambassadors based in Southeast Asian posts. His next stop is London, where he is to review with British officials the highlights of his mediation mission.

All the three feuding nations have asked Thailand to investigate any violations of the cease-fire in Borneo, Kennedy said in a statement.

WORKED OUT

Technical details of the cease-fire still are being worked out.

Kennedy's statement made no reference to a summit meeting. The foreign ministers presumably will try to reach agreement on another meeting of their chiefs.

The first one, held in Manila last August, failed to settle the issue.

'Baker's Net Worth Rose by $2 Million in Nine Years'

WASHINGTON (AP)—A government auditor testified today that the net worth claimed by former Senate aide Robert G. Baker increased from $11,025 in 1954 to $2,166,886 on Feb. 1 of last year.

Lorin H. Drennan Jr., an official of the Government Accounting Office, told the Senate Rules Committee that the figures were shown in financial statements filed by Baker with various banks in connection with loan applications.

Baker, 35, a former Senate page boy, resigned under fire on Oct. 7 from his $19,600-a-year post of secretary to the Senate's Democratic majority.

The committee is investigating whether he or any other Senate employees have engaged in outside business dealings that conflicted with their official duties or involved other improprieties.

STATEMENT FILED

Drennan testified that Baker's latest financial statement, dated Feb. 1, 1963, and filed with the Fraternity Federal Savings & Loan Association in Baltimore, Md., showed that Baker claimed real estate assets worth $456,666 and stockholdings in 14 companies worth $1,582,630.

Among the stocks was 2,850 shares of the Serv-U Corp., a vending machine company, that Baker valued at a million dollars.

Drennan said this figure apparently was arrived at by multiplying Serv-U earnings by five.

The suit, brought by the president of a local vending machine company, charged that Baker had used his influence to have its franchise at a nearby defense plant transferred to a rival firm.

The Justice Department has disclosed it is pressing a claim against Matthew H. McCloskey and two other contractors for alleged defects in a Veterans Administration hospital in Boston.

Senate Unit Near Tax Vote

Court Says: 3 Districts for Appellate Unit

Direct Letter Used to Reveal Decision; First Time Since 1881

LANSING (AP) — The State Supreme Court, by an unusual method of direct letter, today advised the legislature that any court of appeals must consist of three districts only.

"Any other plan but the three-district court would be unconstitutional," said Chief Justice Thomas Kavanagh in summing up the unanimous high court opinion.

"There is a great need for a court of appeals," Kavanagh commented.

"Time is of the essence. We don't want the legislature to waste time by letting them pass a bill that is clearly unconstitutional."

Kavanagh said he was referring to measures such as one introduced by Rep. John Toepf, R-Cadillac, calling for nine separate districts in the court of appeals.

GIVES OPINION

The court gave its opinion in letters to the governor, lieutenant governor and speaker of the house.

Kavanagh said this was the first time in 83 years such a method has been used to give out an opinion.

The last time, he said, was in 1881 and involved a legislative statute, found by the court to be illegal, requiring the justices to write head notes on their own cases.

SIGNED BY ALL

"The court then, as we do now, passed upon that question not by formal opinion, but by letter, to you, and the governor, signed by all the members of the court."

"Only the gravest public question of solemn import to the whole body politic moves us to invoke this precedent."

$5.2 Million Is Paid Under GM Program

A General Motors savings-stock purchase program paid more than $5.2 million to 3,440 salaried employees of GM plants in Pontiac today, company officials announced.

Distribution of $5,262,932 in GM common stock, government bonds and cash under the 1958 Savings Fund Plan began at three local plants.

This year's returns represent a gain of more than three dollars for every dollar saved by Pontiac salaried employees on the program.

Distribution in other GM plants across the nation under the same plan will total $94 million, according to Frederic G. Donner, GM chairman.

COMMON STOCK

Nationally, GM employees received 938,900 shares of the auto firm's common stock with a market value of $73 million, a total of 558,600 Series E Bonds with a current value of $17 million and about $3 million in cash.

This return results from employees' savings of $30,448,000 and company contributions of $15,224,000 during 1958, plus interest and dividends earned between Jan. 1, 1958 and Dec. 31, 1963, and appreciation in value of GM common stock.

Salaried employees at GMC Truck & Coach Division received the biggest total return on the program.

GMC employees will receive $2,525,260 in stock, bonds and cash. The division had 1,687 employees participating in the plan.

'RECORD RETURN'

At Pontiac Motor Division, 1,550 salaried workers will receive $2,426,378 from the program. General Manager E. M. Estes called it a record return.

"We are gratified so many of our salaried employees (97.2 per cent) are saving regu-

Smoke Kills Pontiac Man

2nd Death in 11 Days Resulting From Fires

A 53-year-old Pontiac man died of smoke inhalation when fire swept through his small home early today. It was the second death resulting from fire in the city in 11 days.

Pronounced dead at the scene of the 3:43 a. m. fire by Deputy Coroner Dr. Isaac Prevette was Phillip A. Polk of 330 Harrison. He was alone in the house.

Polk's body was found by firemen on the living room floor of the four-room house. It was partially hidden under and behind a couch.

Firemen believe the fire started in an overstuffed chair, possibly from a cigarette, and spread to the kitchen and bedroom.

CONTENTS DAMAGED

Damage was estimated by fire officials at $1,500 to the house and $500 to the contents.

Polk rented the house from Mrs. Adeline Jenkins of 372 Linda Vista.

Polk was employed by the F. J. Boutell Driveaway Co. His body is at the William Davis Funeral Home.

Russell Nacarato, 51, was killed Jan. 13 when an early morning fire caused $50,000 damage to the Parkside Apartment, 101 Mechanic.

PARIS (AP) — France will announce recognition of Red China early next week and name Jean Chauvel, a Far East specialist, as ambassador to Peking, informed sources said today.

Rate Levels Are Approved by Committee

Full Debate Likely to Start Next Week on $11-Billion Slash

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Finance Committee aims to complete work and vote final approval today of the $11-billion tax cut bill. Debate by the full Senate would begin next week.

President Johnson has urged quick passage of the measure, saying it will help rocket the economy to record heights this year.

The committee vaulted a high hurdle yesterday, approving unanimously the rate reductions for individuals that had been written in the bill originally passed by the House.

The senators made only one change. They adopted President Johnson's proposal to put the new 14 per cent withholding rate into effect as soon as the measure becomes law.

The House version, which contemplated enactment in 1963, would have dropped the withholding rate from 18 per cent to 15 per cent in 1964, and then to 14 per cent in 1965.

ONE-STEP ACTION

After it became obvious that reductions could not become legally effective until perhaps March, Johnson asked that the two-step drop in the withholding

Civil Rights Gain Ground for House OK

WASHINGTON (AP) — House passage of a civil rights bill by Feb. 7 appeared a strong possibility today as the result of a revolt in the House Rules Committee.

A bipartisan majority of the committee is preparing to seize control and cut off hearings on the bill in time to get it passed before the House takes its annual Lincoln Birthday recess.

The revolt is aimed at Chairman Howard W. Smith, D-Va., leader of the Southern forces opposing the bill, who had planned to continue the hearings until the end of January.

Smith headed off any attempt to end the hearings yesterday by hastily adjourning them for the day while his chief adversaries were absent plotting strategy.

Rep. Richard Bolling, D-Mo., leader of the forces trying to speed action on the bill is counting on the support of the committee's Republicans.

There are 10 Democrats and 5 Republicans on the committee but four of the Democrats are from the South.

Colder Weather Sneaking Back to Pontiac Area

Colder temperatures are gradually creeping in on the Pontiac area. The U.S. Weather Bureau predicts cloudy and turning colder with a low of 36 tonight.

Tomorrow's forecast is cloudy, colder with a chance of some rain or snow and a high of 40.

Partly cloudy and cold is the outlook for Saturday.

This morning's south to southwest winds at 8 miles per hour will shift to northerly at 8 to 15 m.p.h. tonight, and north to northeast at 15 to 25 miles tomorrow.

Forty-one was the lowest temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. At 2 p.m., the reading was 45.

Hope Revived for Lost Airmen

Report Spotting Raft With 1 Man Aboard

HONOLULU (AP) — The reported sighting of a man in a life raft near Johnston Island last night gave renewed hope that the crewmen of an Air Force C-124 that vanished Jan. 2 may have survived.

An extensive air-sea search was launched immediately, the Coast Guard said. At dawn, a total of 16 planes and one ship were to be in the area, 250 miles west of Johnston Island.

The sighting was in the same general area where the Globemaster disappeared during a flight from Midway Island to Hickam Air Force Base. It carried eight crewmen, and a Navy man who was escorting a corpse.

Air Force Maj. Clyde L. Messenger, of Hunter Air Force Base, in Georgia, said he spotted the raft during a routine Pacific flight.

OTHERS SPOT RAFT

Four other crewmen aboard Messenger's plane also saw the orange and yellow raft, the Air Force said.

Messenger said they could see at least one man who stood up and waved at them as they passed over.

Authorities said they knew of no other raft likely to be in the area.

Three Navy planes were dispatched to the area and ships were also reported steaming to the scene.

The sighting came on the same day that the Air Force had officially declared the crew of the missing plane dead.

An extensive search for the plane's crew was called off Jan. 10.

Reds: N-Force Blocks Accord

Russia - No Deal if NATO Gets A-Arms

GENEVA (AP) — The Soviet Union said today the West must scrap its proposed multilateral nuclear force before there can be any agreement to stop the spread of nuclear weapons.

The Soviet disarmament negotiator, Semyon K. Tsarapkin, told newsmen "the multilateral force has to be cleared away" before East and West can reach an agreement on President Johnson's proposal Tuesday to bar nuclear weapons from nations that don't have them.

Johnson worded his proposal so that the nuclear force the United States has proposed for the North Atlantic Treaty Organization would be exempt.

Tsarapkin said his government was studying Johnson's five-point arms proposal and would reply to it in due course.

SIMILAR PROPOSAL

Tsarapkin in his speech at the resumption of the 17-nation disarmament conference Tuesday made a similar proposal, but he called specifically for it to apply to the multilateral force.

Western delegations at this stage are certain to reject any formal Soviet demand for abandonment of the NATO nuclear force.

But there were some indications that if the Soviet Union accepted genuine and far-reaching disarmament measures together with control and inspection procedures demanded by the West, the United States would consider scrapping the multilateral force.

Many Western officials believe the costly multilateral force would be made obsolete by the new security that NATO members would obtain from such an unprecedented disarmament agreement.

NO REVERSAL SEEN

Despite the easing in East-West relations, however, there was no immediate prospect of the radical reversal in Soviet policy which would be necessary for such an agreement.

An American delegation spokesman said the United States is not prepared to discuss the multilateral force at this conference "other than in terms of it being established American policy."

BIRMINGHAM'S BEST — Jaycees in Birmingham last night honored F. Ward Ouradnik (right) as their outstanding young man of 1963. Mayor William H. Burgum presented the Distinguished Service Award to the 32-year-old Birmingham Eccentric employee during a bosses' night dinner at the Kingsley Inn, Bloomfield Hills. Former executive director of the Community House, Ouradnik is president of the Oakland Citizens League and vice chairman of the Birmingham Citizens Action Committee.

Over 200 employees at Fisher Body Division will participate in the $311,294 return in stocks, bonds and cash.

Under the program, eligible salaried employees can save up to 10 per cent of their base salary, plus cost-of-living allowance.

ARE REINVESTED

Half of the employee's savings is invested in U.S. government bonds and half in GM common stock. All dividends are reinvested in the stock and all interest from bonds is similarly reinvested in bonds.

A class is formed each year and matures five full years later. This is the fourth (1958) distribution since the program began.

General Motors contributes $1 for each $2 of employee savings.

County-Cali Committee to Discuss Colombian Aid

The Oakland County-Cali Alliance for Progress Committee will meet tomorrow morning to explore ways of improving economic conditions in the Colombian metropolis.

This will be the first meeting of the group appointed last month by Delos Hamlin, chairman of the County Board of Supervisors, with the approval of the U.S. State Department.

The 12-member committee will choose an ambassador to go to Cali for at least two years. He is likely to be County Civil Defense Director John E. Madole.

A committee in Cali also is selecting an ambassador to come here.

JOINT EFFORT

The local community approach was conceived by U.S. Rep. William S. Broomfield, R-Oakland County.

So far the Alliance for Progress has been almost entirely between the federal and central governments. Few benefits have filtered down to people in their own communities, according to Bloomfield.

The State Department has approved a $45,500 annual budget for the local alliance program.

It is to be equally financed by private foundations here and in Cali and by the federal government, according to Hamlin.

The ambassadors each will be paid an annual salary of $10,000 plus travel expenses between the two countries.

Local governments are to provide them with offices, equipment and bilingual secretaries.

FINAL DECISION

However, the final decision will be up to the full committee, said the chairman.

Hamlin said Madole is well qualified to be ambassador because he has "proven administrative ability, is familiar with the operations of local government and speaks Spanish."

JOHN A. DUGAN

Dugan Once Held Ledford's City Post

Former District 5 City Commissioner John A. Dugan, 55, announced today he'll be a candidate to regain the commission seat he lost to Loy L. Ledford in 1962.

Dugan of 363 Nelson deplors the current city government and looks to former City Manager Walter K. Willman as the only man who could "straighten out the mess at City Hall."

He said he would like to see Willman used as a consultant, a move also suggested by former City Manager Robert A. Stierer but frowned on by a majority of the City Commission.

Dugan has been a Pontiac Motor Division employee since coming to Pontiac in 1928. He is a gear set-up man in the axle department.

ACTIVE MEMBER

An early member of the labor movement here, Dugan is an active member of United Auto Workers Local 653. He is married and has two sons.

Dugan was a veteran member of the commission and mayor pro-tem when he lost in the 1962 commission election. He had been on the commission for eight years.

"I feel that the people of this district were confused and misled by the deliberate lies and misleading literature distributed in the district a day before the last commission election."

"People were misled," Dugan said, "to the extent that Loy L. Ledford, a man who hadn't voted for 15 years, was elected."

Dugan said he plans to file a nominating petition sometime next week.

Work on Centennial Is Gathering Steam

BIRMINGHAM — Work on the city's centennial observance is gathering steam with the addition of an entire organization to the planning committee.

The Citizens Action Committee has decided to undertake the project as a group. Its chairman, Mrs. G. Howard Willett Jr., also heads the planning committee.

The former mayor has named four members to the core centennial committee.

They are Robert S. Kenning, assistant city manager and Birmingham Michigan Week chairman; James K. Flack, local realtor who will serve as history and heritage chairman; F. Ward Ouradnik of The Birmingham Eccentric who will be in charge of activities; and Robert B. Bender, past president of the Bloomfield Art Association who will coordinate arts and the arts festival.

APPOINTED POST

Mrs. Willett was appointed chairman of the group earlier this month when Mayor William H. Burgum also named Carl O. Barton as finance chairman.

The celebration is slated to begin during Michigan Week, the third week in May, and continue throughout the year.

Birmingham residents will rediscover their heritage and investigate the community's background during the first half of the year.

Emphasis for the second half of the year will be on the city's potential and her expectations for the future, according to Mrs. Willett.

Plans have been announced for a new Hughes-Hatcher-Suffrin store in Birmingham, to be the first wholly owned and built by the company.

The clothing store chain has selected a site on the southwest corner of Merrill and Pierce.

The 23,000-square foot building is to be completed late this year. Local architect chosen to design the store is Louis Redstone and Associates.

Birmingham plans are part of a $1.5-million expansion program announced by the company.

The decision to locate downtown was a departure from their normal policy of operating in shopping centers.

Greek King Given X-Ray Examination

ATHENS (AP) — King Paul of Greece, suffering from a severe attack of lumbago, was taken to a hospital last night for an X-ray examination. Afterward an ambulance returned him to Tatol Palace.

The king's physician, Dr. Thomas Doxiadis, said the 63-year-old monarch's condition was not serious. The king was confined to bed on Friday.

2 Are Victims of Sex Slayer

Mother and Daughter
Strangled, Assaulted

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Martin, 48, chosen as Oakland's 1963 mother of the year, and her 18-year-old daughter were found dead in their fashionable 12-room home last night, apparent victims of a sex slayer.

Police Lt. James Bratton said it appeared that both women had been strangled and sexually assaulted.

Mrs. Martin and her daughter, Carolyn, were found lying face down, side-by-side on the floor, bound in a bizarre manner.

COLLEGE RECESS

Carolyn, a sophomore at Chico State College, was home during a semester recess.

Bratton said Mrs. Martin's right shoe was missing and an electric light cord was looped around her big toe and up around her neck so her foot was in the air.

The girl's shoes also were off and she was bound in a similar manner, with her right foot in the air. Both women's hands were tied behind their backs.

Police said a broken and bloody ash tray lay near Mrs. Martin's head.

EYE AUTOPSY

Investigators were hoping that an autopsy on the bodies today could help solve the mystery surrounding the deaths.

Bratton said there was no sign of forced entry into their home.

Neighbors told police that a burglar broke into the Martin home last year and took only women's underwear and bed-clothing.

Mrs. Martin, wife of Dr. Frank H. Martin, an osteopath, was chosen Oakland's mother of the year by the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Her husband was at his office when the bodies were discovered, police said.

Noted Attorney Stricken in Court; Is Not Critical

DETROIT (AP) — Attorney Joseph W. Louisell, noted for his handling of criminal cases, collapsed in federal court Wednesday and was taken to Grace hospital.

Louisell's physician said the lawyer's condition was not considered critical. He complained of a pain in the chest while serving as defense counsel in a bankruptcy-fraud case. A report on a diagnosis was pending.

Louisell, 48-year-old father of 10 children, lives in Grosse Pointe Park.

Drive on Guerrillas Fizzles in Viet Nam

SAIGON (UPI) — A major antiguerrilla drive hailed last week as the largest helicopter assault in military history now appears to be fizzling out, reliable military sources said today.

The sources said the South Vietnamese government claimed 76 Communist Viet Cong guerrillas killed and 53 captured since the coordinated air-sea strike began last Friday. But they said the claim was not confirmed by a battlefield count of the bodies of Communist jungle fighters.

The operation began when the government sent 2,300 troops into the jungles, rice paddies and mangrove swamps of Thanh Phu island, a Communist Viet Cong stronghold 55 miles south-east of Saigon.

U.S. helicopter crews ferrying Vietnamese forces to the island suffered their heaviest casualties in the opening phases of the battle Friday and Saturday. Six Americans and a British air wing commander were killed.

FIERCE CLASH

Friday night a fierce, three-hour clash developed between a company of South Vietnamese rangers and some 200 to 300 Viet Cong guerrillas.

But only light ground action has been reported since then, according to the military sources. Nevertheless, the operation is scheduled to continue indefinitely.

Reports received here Tuesday provided a possible clue to why the air-sea strike, launched with great expectations, apparently has produced comparatively meager results.

They said that, during the previous night, several hundred Communist fighters managed to slip across a branch of the Mekong River from the island into Vinh Binh Province further south.

TOUGH FIGHTERS

Even under the best of circumstances, the Communists are tough guerrilla fighters. Normally they avoid direct clashes anytime they are outnumbered, eluding government forces by disappearing into the tropical wilderness.

South Vietnamese battalions were still roving the island, searching for Viet Cong troops. The government put its losses at 15 killed and 10 wounded so far.

One Czech-made mortar, five Chinese - manufactured sub-machine guns and a few other Viet Cong weapons were reported captured during the strike. The government also claimed its troops destroyed some Communist stocks of gasoline on the island.

The ratio of one car to every 7.8 persons in Australia is second only to the United States, but Australia equals the U.S. in one motor truck to about every 21 persons.

Family of Winners in 4-H Competition

LIVE OAK, Fla. (P) — The Jack Bispham family is the reigning dynasty at the district and county 4-H dairy shows here.

It began in 1961 when Kathy Bispham, now Mrs. Kathy McCallister, walked away with first place in both events.

Bebbo Bispham carried off both show honors in 1962 and again in 1963.

He has been followed closely by brother, Corky, who has walked away with three of the second places in the 1962 and 1963 shows.

Shoes Point Way to Jail

MIAMI, Fla. (P) — Two youths were sentenced to a year in jail as a result of something they didn't do: Dispose of a pair of fancy shoes with buttons.

"I'd know those shoes anywhere," testified Samuel J. Greenstein, owner of a department store from which 42 pairs of pants, 55 sport shirts and one pair of shoes were stolen.

"I've been trying to sell them for 10 years."

LBJ's Budget Request Shows Sound Trend

President LYNDON B. JOHNSON Tuesday submitted to Congress a Federal budget of $97.9 billion for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

It came as a gratifying reduction from the $100-plus billion figure initially envisioned.

Down $900 million from the KENNEDY budget request of last year, it was but the second budget in nine years to show a reduction.

Giving substance to the President's repeated avowals of government economy, the budget reflects cuts in monetary requests and personnel in many Federal agencies. A $5 billion deficit is projected — half that of the current budget.

Related to the optimistic aspect of the budget is the expectation that the Gross National Product will climb to a record $623 billion — a rise of nearly $40 billion over fiscal 1964.

Although the new budget assumes lower income tax rates, because of their stimulating effect on commerce, Federal income is expected to increase $4.6 billion to $93 billion, with government spending cut back by $500 million, in comparison with '64 operations.

For long, Washington officialdom has paid lip service to economy and curtailment of the mushrooming bureaucracy while steadily countenancing increased spending and expansion of government agencies.

Those critical of the President's budget point out that he has considerably broadened Federal commitment in many social areas while reducing his overall estimate of government spending. If he can do it, they say, it will stand as the financial miracle of the times.

But it is most heartening to have a chief executive implement his espousal of Federal thrift with definitive action. President JOHNSON has our whole-hearted commendation for the fiscal outlook he has evidenced.

Everything's 'Normal' on the Homefront

Sometimes we wonder whether the hectic pace today is changing our sense of values.

We offer the following as proof things were never more normal:

Item: A rugged character in California insists on being chauffeured by an ape. Not just some monkey who drives like an ape, but a genuine ape.

Item: A coterie of far-out college kids have just won a cookie — or is it kookie? — award by baking a wafer that weighs 2,300 pounds.

Item: Another Bear State resident was collared as he gunned his small foreign car down a runway at an airport in a game try to stay with a jetliner that was taking off. The motorist, homeward bound after a party, thought the runway was a freeway. A mistake anyone could make.

Yep. God's in His Heaven—all's right with the world.

Sphinx and Red Leader Have 'Quiet' Visit

The most appropriate but least-heralded summit meeting of 1963 occurred when CHOU EN-LAI of China visited the Sphinx of Egypt. It was a case of the inscrutable force meeting the impassive object.

With many emergent problems threatening survival of his domain, the boss man of Red China may have sought an answer to perpetuation from the historic lady whose reign has endured for nearly 3,000 years.

But since the Sphinx with unfemine reticence has guarded the secrets of the Nile for thirty centuries without a leak, we think the wily Oriental, if indeed he made such overture, was badly over-matched and came away with an intelligence zero for his interrogatory pains.

LBJ Has to Deal With Unexpected

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON — President Johnson, like his predecessors, has to juggle the usual and the unexpected, which is all right except when the unexpected hits him as it did Johnson.

But even the usual can look brand new, unless you have a lively memory. For instance, when a president trots his budget message into the congressional stadium. It's like an Army-Navy game — cheers and jeers — except that Democrats and Republicans don't don blue or gray. They just stay dressed in their old party attitudes, as they did this week when Johnson sent them his budget.

Most Democrats found it delightful, Republicans looked for holes in the budgetary line. It's like that when a Democrat is president. It's like that when a Republican is president. But then Democrats and Republicans swap sides.

Since this has been going on for years, and Johnson was in Congress 23 years, he could hardly have been dumbfounded by the reaction and may even have been happy the Republicans didn't say more.

There will be much of the same as he continues to send Congress messages.

WILL GET WORSE
The real domestic fight, therefore, will get worse and, since 1964 is an election year, it should get noisier.

The late President John F. Kennedy went through the same routine in his first year in office, and the years that followed. It's not the domestic stuff that makes an old man of a president, it's the foreign stuff.

Here was Johnson, in office less than two months, up to his nose in getting his messages together for Congress, when the Panamanians blew their lid.

Johnson had already tried to overhaul the American machinery for dealing with Latin America when the riots in Panama began. It was an unhappy beginning.

TROUBLE WITH FRANCE
Just about the time he got the Panamanians cooled off a bit, French President Charles de Gaulle let it be known that France was going to recognize Red China, which the White House promptly told him it hoped he wouldn't.

De Gaulle was a repeated problem to Kennedy. Since he doesn't seem to be a man to play favorites, he started on Johnson in a hurry.

When he came over here in November for Kennedy's funeral, he had a long talk with Johnson. But even this got messed up, for out of it came the first mixup with the Frenchman.

Had Johnson understood de Gaulle to say he would come back for another visit? Or had the Frenchman understood Johnson to say he would go to France to see de Gaulle? The question is still unanswered.

NO CARELESS CAPER
French recognition of Red China isn't just a careless caper. What damage it may do to this country's position in Southeast Asia, and elsewhere, could well haunt Johnson for the rest of his presidency.

This is just the beginning of Johnson's foreign dilemmas. He is used to dealing with members of Congress but not with making America's foreign policy decisions.

And, besides, who ever got used to dealing with de Gaulle?

Congress Has Obligation to Tarry

WASHINGTON — Members of Congress are talking among themselves about the recent Public sentiment has its effect on the membership in both political parties.

Every legislative system has its faults, but to delay action on highly controversial measures so as to give time to ascertain the clear will of the people is certainly not a reflection upon the system itself.

It is, indeed, directly related to the desire of members of Congress to gauge accurately the wishes of their constituents.

The delays in committees or in general debate by Congress cannot be cured by a dictatorship system which makes Congress a rubber stamp, subject to the orders of the Chief Executive.

Congress functions smoothly when the people are united in their desires, and hesitates when public opinion is substantially divided.

There is a very important reason for this phenomenon. It is that, irrespective of party, the people of the United States do have many differences of opinion concerning important pieces of legislation that are pending today.

There is nothing in the rule book which says that the people of the United States shall be given only a few weeks or a few months to consider certain pieces of legislation and that immediately afterwards Congress must vote on them.

While the rules of the House limit debate, the Senate has from the very beginning recognized the importance of prolonged debate as a means of educating not only members of Congress but the country as well.

CLOTURE RULE
Indeed, the Senate, by a two-thirds vote, can shut off debate at any time.

Why, however, have the tax bill and the civil rights bill been delayed since they were proposed last year?

The truth is that every public opinion poll that has been taken on either subject shows a wide difference of view among the citizens.

Although a majority appears to favor the tax bill, there are doubts as to how the reform aspects of taxation should be legislated.

DEEP DIFFERENCES
Likewise, while the general purposes of the civil rights bill have won substantial approval, there are deep differences of opinion as to how far the legislation should go in restricting the rights of owners of hotels and public accommodations in dealing with customers of their own choice.

Members of Congress say their mail is very heavy on both subjects, and dissent is by no means confined to any section of the country.

Under such circumstances, should Congress be dragged into passing a law before it has had ample time for discussion and debate?

When legislation is delayed in Congress, it usually is for a very good reason.

GO SLOWLY
If the number of opponents is relatively small, the opposition will be quickly overridden, but when the opposition is deep-seated and widespread throughout the country, Congress is inclined to go slowly.

Public sentiment has its effect on the membership in both political parties.

Every legislative system has its faults, but to delay action on highly controversial measures so as to give time to ascertain the clear will of the people is certainly not a reflection upon the system itself.

Bob Considine Says:

John Kennedy Was First to Instill Politics in Glenn

NEW YORK — Astronaut John Glenn first heard the tempting call to politics from the lips of John F. Kennedy.

The President and the spaceman struck up a rapport the instant they met, at a White House medal-giving reception for Alan CONSIDINE Shepard after Shepard had made the first suborbital flight. Glenn was relatively unknown then.

After the Marine made his great orbital flight and went to Washington for White House and capitol receptions that were models of good taste and exciting history, he and the late President became much firmer friends.

They saw eye to eye on many matters, beginning with the passion they shared for physical fitness.

It was then that JFK urged Glenn to think about a future in politics, as a Democrat, too.

He hails from a state that went for Richard Nixon by a 300,000 majority, and from a county and town where the vote for Nixon was 2-to-1 over the winner.

Robert Kennedy apparently took up the matter of Glenn's political affairs during the period of the President's burial.

PROVES PUZZLER
The entrance of this fine man into the political arena has puzzled many.

The U.S. Senate incumbent, Stephen Young, is 76 but he is hale and hearty and wholly pro-administration.

He backed every bit of legislation sent to the Hill by JFK and has been equally firm on the side of President Johnson.

Harry Truman has spoken up for him, along with many others of importance.

GROUND RULES
All of this must have been anticipated by the forces in Washington that have swept Glenn into the fray. But no one involved seemed very well acquainted with the ground rules.

John Glenn has taken an unwarranted amount of editorial and political abuse.

He has every right in the world to declare himself a candidate for political office: brains, bravery, dedication to his country.

If we are going to frown on every aspirant for political office, how, in heaven's name, are we going to get anybody worthwhile to run for office.

In Washington:

Internal Bitterness--GOP Threat

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Dangling over the Republican party at this moment is the threat of severe internal bitterness if Arizona's Sen. Barry Goldwater does not get the 1964 GOP presidential nomination.

Not too many party men speak candidly of the danger.

Quite a few, including some southerners, insist they will labor valiantly — to perhaps good result — for almost any candidate. Only New York's Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, they say, leaves them utterly cold.

Yet a careful reading of the comment buzzing among Republican leaders in all camps and all areas makes the peril evident.

In a midwestern state, populous but not one of the country's top seven, a leader says:

"If the East feels someone else upon us, it will be a bitter blow... I'm afraid most of our people would just go home and sit down. We won't take an easterner this time."

The spokesman for a spacious mountain state says every organization Republican down to the last county chairman has openly endorsed Goldwater. They will stand with him in convention to the end — and be crushed if he loses out.

Again and again, this sort of thing is heard from the ardent Goldwaterites. The threat in it is plain enough.

They argue, with a good deal of provable substance, that in countless places the Senator is the overwhelming choice of the GOP rank and file workers.

These pro-Goldwater men say that with any other nominee they will have a very hard time recruiting workers, raising money and stirring any real campaign effort. In other words, sitdown is the prospect.

Told of these comments, a prominent eastern chief growled: "That kind of talk makes my blood boil."

Sitdown in the fall election campaign is thus not the only prospect. A lot of blood could be boiling — and flowing — in the party combat up to and including the GOP convention at San Francisco July 13.

The reason is simple. Party conservatives, having vainly sought the nomination for one of their own since 1936, never have smelt the roses so strongly as now.

The late Sen. Robert Taft came within 104 votes of nomination in 1952. Bitter as his partisans were at Gen. Dwight Eisenhower's triumph, they could shrug and say: "Oh, well, I'm glad to hear some teen-agers are against destroying property. The dirtiest is kissing the walls with painted lips, which I've often seen in ladies' lounges. I've heard that people don't like Barry Goldwater's profanity in his speeches but at least it's a change from listening to the lies and slush of the leftists who are leading us down the road to a socialist welfare state.

I have been puzzled by poor grammar usage. People who know better are saying "I seen" "I done," etc. I went to a country school, but we were drilled until I will never forget. It grates on my nerves to hear people murdering our language.

Recently, while watching TV it hit me! We are hearing this on so many programs it's beginning to sound all right. All of the Westerns, "Beverly Hillsbillies," and even the Sheriff of Mayberry, Andy Griffith, say "I seen" and "I done."

'Thread of Unity Must Bind Negroes'

Implicit within the acclaimed victory of Pontiac's citizenry exists also a truism which every Negro must regard as absolutely incontrovertible—the thread of unity must bind us now more than ever before.

Let no one be fooled. The underlying philosophy expressed recently by "the people" places in jeopardy the political future of any Negro who asserts himself as sympathetic to the rights and responsibilities all Negroes want to assume.

You can't beat a national hero. Goldwater's partisans see it differently. They have the man, they have the lead (real but apparently diminishing), and no national hero stands against them.

In these circumstances, they view as the cruelest stroke the developing effort to "stop Goldwater" — and that is a proper label despite the distaste for it among the big state GOP leaders now seeking another candidate.

If the results of the presidential primaries and the trends of other spring events help to nourish the stop-Goldwater drive, the frustrations among his followers could erupt in the worst party warfare seen in decades.

Contemplating this, some top Republicans regret the choice of California for the convention. They fear that in that setting young pro-Goldwater hotheads might create severe disturbances and fan fiercely the flames of bitterness.

Doctor Recognized Chronic Rheumatism

By DR. WILLIAM BRADY
When medicine was a profession—a recognized medical authority, Dr. William Osler of Montreal, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Oxford described chronic joint disability as follows:

"This affection may follow an acute or subacute attack, but more commonly comes on insidiously in persons who have passed the middle period of life."

Insidiously, if I may venture to say so, was the right word, from one point of view, but the wrong word from another point of view. Insidiously means treacherous, sly, deceitful, an ambush. Chronic joint disability is insidious only if the victim chooses to be dumb about it or refuses to acknowledge that he or she can be past the peak.

In the next paragraph Dr. Osler described the morbid anatomy, the pathology of chronic rheumatism.

Here I'll quote just 1½ sentences of it, but I'd advise every medical student and every physician to read the 12-line paragraph with a critical mind; for it is the best definition of degeneration of joint tissues one can find in modern medical literature.

CALLED RHEUMATIZ
Degeneration of joint tissues—that's what I call "rheumatiz."

Dr. Osler's picture of the pathology of chronic joint disability—which he and the entire medical profession of his day called chronic rheumatism, and I call degeneration of joint tissues or "rheumatiz" for short—included:

In long standing cases the cartilages also undergo changes, and may show erosions. Muscular atrophy supervenes.

Although I deplore Osler's quaint notion that exposure to cold and damp was a cause of disease, I still say he was and is a great teacher, and I challenge you to find in medical literature a definition or a description of the pathology of "arthritis" that will compare favorably with Osler's description of the pathology of chronic rheumatism.

HELP AVAILABLE

Whatever you please to call your joint disability, when you have finished monkeying with "shots" of magic medicine or if you are lucky enough to be unable to afford such indulgence, send me 35c and a stamped, self-addressed envelope for Little Lesson No. 12—"Chronic Joint Disability."

The regimen I suggest there-in may do much good and can do no harm, whether you consider your joint disability as a false alarm or as the rheumatiz.

Write to Dr. William Brady in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long, 5-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.

Ex-Official Appointed to India Post

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Lal Bahadur Shastri, former home minister, has returned to the Indian Cabinet, strengthening speculation that he will become acting Prime Minister Nehru's political heir.

Shastri, 59, was appointed minister without portfolio Wednesday, almost five months after he and five other Cabinet leaders resigned at the prime minister's request. Nehru, 74, asked them to give full time to trying to revitalize his Congress party, torn by factional fighting after its long years of unchallenged power.

Reliable sources said Shastri, a middle of the road, will replace Nehru as government leader of Parliament and in effect will be deputy prime minister.

Liked by both the Socialist and Conservative factions of the Congress party, Shastri has been the politician most mentioned as Nehru's successor since a slight stroke Jan. 7 forced the prime minister to curtail his activities.

Both Parties Skeptical of State Budget

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney's proposed $622.4-million budget—a record spending program for Michigan—was being viewed with skepticism today from both sides of the political aisle.

In the initial reaction Wednesday, Republicans blew hot and cold, and some Democrats gave grudging praise.

But nobody, it appeared, was willing to predict that Romney could expect a repeat of last year's performance, when the legislature wound up appropriating more than the governor asked.

GOT MORE

Romney, in his proposed budget for 1963-64, had sought $547 million, but got legislative authorization for $550 million.

Some lawmakers pointed out Wednesday, however, that actual spending in this fiscal year, by Romney's estimate, will run to $523 million, or $99 million less than he is asking for the next business year.

COULD BE OK'D

Strong boosts for the Romney spending plan came from some GOP lawmakers, among them House Speaker Allison Green, R-Kingston, and Senate Majority Leader Stanley Thayer, R-Ann Arbor.

Green, usually regarded as a leader of the conservative element of the legislature, said Romney's budget was "realistic and honest, without the burden of new taxes."

Green said he felt there was no doubt that the budget could be approved at the $600 million level but said "some areas of the recommendations beyond this figure may be adjusted."

The speaker told newsmen he expected strong Republican support for the Romney plan and expects the final figure will include "substantially" what Romney asks.

THAYER AGREED

Thayer agreed there will be "substantial approval of the spending program, 'without drastic reduction or increase.' Added Thayer, who is Romney's chief legislative spokesman: 'we cannot allow these severe needs to go by the board.'"

Sen. John Smeekens, R-Coldwater, a leading spokesman for thrift in government and a vehement opponent of income taxes, praised Romney's plan.

"For the first time in my seven years in the legislature, Michigan can move dramatically forward to meet the needs of our citizens," said Smeekens.

Smeekens said he felt Romney had offered "significant and meaningful programs of progress" in education, mental health, public health and safety, economic growth, welfare and vocational training.

"All," he said, "without imposing the threat of higher tax burdens on the citizen and business and industrial communities of the state."

Rep. Carroll Newton, R-Delton, a key GOP member of the House Ways and Means Committee, was sharply critical of the spending plan, saying he thinks it goes too far.

TOO MUCH

He said Romney is "asking too much" for education.

"I'm not opposed to some one-shot increases but I'm afraid I would be opposed to those that would put the state back in the hole," said Newton.

Democratic reaction was summed up by Lt. Gov. T. John Lesinski, who said he doubted the legislature would approve the program as outlined by Romney.

"The legislature is not likely to take two steps this session on things it refused to take even one step on before," said Lesinski.

DID NOT NAME

He said he found a "disheartening reception for the budget" among conservative Republicans, whom he did not name.

Rep. Joseph Kowalski, D-Detroit, the house minority leader, said it looked as if Romney "intends to do this year what should have been done last year."

"Romney finally has discovered that there are 'human needs' that must be met," said Kowalski.

"Even if the entire budget as outlined was adopted, Michigan would suffer irreparable damage from the lost year of 1963-64 when Romney ignored these same human needs," he added.

The big question is whether Romney will fight for this budget. His opposition will be in the Republican caucuses. To get it adopted, he will have to carry the battle to these caucuses.

"This is something he refused to do in his first year in office," Kowalski said.

Qualifications of Dependents on Your Tax Return

(EDITOR'S NOTE—Do you know who to claim as dependent in filing a tax return on 1963 income? Do you understand how to claim exemptions for the fullest benefit to yourself? In this fourth of five articles you will find the answers.)

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Writer

You knock $600 off your income—before what's left is taxable—for each exemption you can claim in filing your 1963 income tax return.

A person filing a return gets a $600 exemption for himself if he is under 65, an additional $600 if he's 65, and $600 if he's blind. He gets the same for his wife.

The person filing a return also gets a $600 exemption for each person he can claim as a dependent but he doesn't get any extra $600 if the dependent is 65 or blind.

CHILD QUALIFICATION

Your child can be claimed as a dependent if he was born or died in 1963 (but not a stillborn child) if you contributed to more than half his support in that part of the year when he was alive.

Age is a vital factor in deciding whether you can claim your own child as a dependent, or a stepchild or adopted child. The age is 19.

If he was under 19 and you provided more than half his support, you can claim him as a dependent and it wouldn't make any difference how much income he had, under or over $600.

But if he was over 19 and had $600 or more income—even though you contributed more than half his support—you couldn't claim him as a dependent unless he qualified as a full-time student.

STUDENT STATUS

Your over-19 child would not qualify as a full-time student if he had a regular or part-time job or went to night school or took correspondence courses.

What happens if your under-19 child, or your over-19 child who qualifies as a student dependent, had $600 or more income?

He would file his own return, claiming his own $600 exemption, and paying any tax he owed but you could take a $600 exemption for him on your return and not have to include his income in your return.

What happens if your dependent child won a school scholarship? You can exclude the value of the scholarship in determining whether you paid more than half his support in 1963.

MARRIED CHILDREN

Suppose you paid more than half the support of our married child but he (or she) filed a joint return with his or her spouse. You couldn't claim an exemption for him. In this case the fact that you paid more than half the support wouldn't count.

A paid servant in your house can not be claimed as a dependent. But a friend can be if he lived in your house the full year and got more than half his support from you—provided any income of his own did not amount to as much as $600 for the year.

If he had $600 or more income he'd have to file his own return, taking his own $600 exemption, and you couldn't claim him as an exemption even though you did contribute to more than half his support.

The following relatives—in addition to your child—can be claimed as dependents if the rules given below apply to them:

GRANDCHILDREN

Your grandchild, great-grandchild, and so on; your legally adopted child or stepchild, but not the latter's descendants; your brother or sister; your parents, grandparents, or other direct ancestors, but not a foster parent; your stepfather or stepmother; your niece or nephew, meaning a son or daughter of your brother or sister; your father-in-law, mother-in-law; son-in-law, daughter-in-law, brother-in-law, or sister-in-law.

Death or divorce does not end those relationships. For example: you can continue to claim your father-in-law as a dependent—even though your wife died or divorced you—if he got more than half his support from you.

The relatives listed above did not have to live with you to qualify as dependents. For example: you may have been paying more than half the support of your mother or father who was living with your brother.

In short: you can claim any of them as a dependent if he did not have as much as $600 of his own in taxable income and got more than half his support from you.

ODD JOB INCOME

Suppose your sister got more than half her support from you but earned $600 or more from odd jobs or baby-sitting for some neighbors. Because she had $600 income, you couldn't claim her as a dependent. She'd have to file her own return and claim her own $600 exemption.

Right here an important point arises in deciding who's a dependent. It is the difference between taxable and non-taxable income.

Social Security benefits are non-taxable. They do not have to be reported by anyone who had to file a return because he had $600 or more taxable income from some other source.

But when you as a taxpayer want to decide whether someone you wish to claim as a dependent got more than half his support from you, you may have to consider his Social Security income to this extent:

FIGURE SUPPORT

You must figure the support you gave him against the support he got from all other sources.

For example: suppose your mother got $700 in Social Security benefits but put the money in the bank and didn't use it to live on. You could claim her as a dependent if you provided more than half her support.

But, suppose she used her $700 to help her live. You couldn't claim her as a dependent unless you contributed more than $700 to her support.

Industry and Union Silent

Auto Prices and Overtime Questioned

By CHARLES C. CAIN
AP Automotive Writer

DETROIT (AP)—Public relations men for the auto companies and the United Auto Workers Union generally are willing, and often anxious, to air their views on issues relating to the auto industry.

But this week their typewriters and mimeograph machines were strangely quiet. There was no flood of press releases after the Johnson administration raised some questions about overtime and about possible cuts in auto prices.

"We have no comment on that at this time," was the standard reply of public relations aides at Ford, Chrysler, General Motors and American Motors. The UAW made much the same answer.

The issue of possible auto price reductions was put forth by Walter Heller, chairman of the President's Economic Advisory Council, at a news conference this week. The Council had suggested in its formal report that some industries might consider price cuts.

Heller, answering newsmen's questions as to whether he included the auto industry, indicated he thought auto price cuts should be considered.

The auto industry, which boasts that it has held the price line fairly stable since 1959, was little surprised at Heller's remarks. No auto industry spokesmen would say anything for the record, however.

Neither was there any comment from the UAW which will sit down at the bargaining table with the auto companies this summer to hammer out new contracts covering about a million auto workers.

The UAW had been keeping close tabs on the financial reports of the auto companies which showed ever healthier profits and ever larger payments in salaries and stock options to key executives.

WEAKEN POSITION

However, if the government should prove successful in its campaign to reduce car prices, it conceivably could weaken the UAW's bargaining position. The auto companies might have less profits and thus, less to share with their workers.

On the Johnson administration's request to Congress for a law to require higher payment for overtime work, the UAW and most other unions long have sought the extra penalty payment. It is now time-and-a-half, but latest proposals call for overtime to be paid at double time.

The theory is that if the overtime penalty rate is hiked, auto companies—and other industries—will add more workers to their regular work force to avoid any overtime payments.

Secretary of Labor Wirtz told a news conference earlier this month that if overtime were eliminated in manufacturing industries, some 900,000 new jobs would be created.

One of the principal problems in the auto industry, however, is that many workers have become accustomed to overtime and might find it difficult to maintain their economic status without it.

For the first 10 months of 1963, the average auto industry worker put in 4.3 hours a week in overtime. During October and November, when new model production was approaching to speed, they averaged 6.1 hours a week at overtime pay.

As far as overtime goes, probably the most fortunate auto workers have been those at Cadillac where about one in every 10 cars is built on an overtime basis. This is partly because Cadillac has only one assembly plant, but its production capacity is being enlarged and the need for so much overtime work is expected to disappear in a year or so when the additional capacity is available.

The auto industry would like to be allowed to work out for itself—without too much government intervention—the question of overtime and the possibility of increasing the automotive work force.

It also would like to work out—again without government intervention—the question of price cuts.

The UAW, on the other hand, could well feel that the government stand will strengthen its bargaining position this summer.

It's safe bet that the dual topic of price cuts and overtime will be discussed further in the weeks ahead.

Coast Guard Request

Has Grosse Ile Funds

WASHINGTON (AP)—An appropriation of $738,000 for construction work at the Coast Guard's Grosse Ile station near Detroit is included in legislation proposed in Congress Wednesday.

The Grosse Ile item would be part of a $75-million Coast Guard appropriation proposed at the request of the Treasury Department in a bill by Sen. Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash.

Jack Ruby's Mental Examination to Remain Secret

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — The time, place and extent of the psychiatric examination to be given Jack Ruby, slayer of accused presidential assassin Lee Harvey Oswald, remain a professional secret.

Dist. Judge Joe B. Brown named Dr. R. L. Stubblefield of the Southwestern Medical School in Dallas, Dr. John T. Holbrook of Beverly Hills Sanitarium and Clinic in Dallas, and Dr. Milton Towler of the University of Texas Medical School at Galveston as the three psychiatrists to examine the 52-year-old night club operator.

Judge Brown said it would be up to the three psychiatrists to conduct the tests and that he did not know specifically what the examination would include.

"I am under instructions from Judge Brown to make no announcement as to what the tests will include, where they will be given or when they will be given," Dr. Stubblefield said late Wednesday.

Earlier, Dr. Holbrook said he did not know when or where the tests would be held. Asked if they would be extensive, he said "I hope so."

Shortly after Judge Brown announced the Tuesday appointments, Dr. Towler said in Galveston he had agreed to examine Ruby "from a neurological standpoint."

Ruby's trial is scheduled for Feb. 17 in Dallas and his lawyers say they will attempt to prove that he was temporarily insane when he shot down Oswald before a nationwide television audience in the city jail

Nov. 24. The defense is seeking to have the trial transferred to another city and Judge Brown will begin hearings on that motion Feb. 10.

NO PRECEDENT

The judge said there is no legal precedent in Texas for appointing court psychiatrists and that he had no funds with which to pay them. He also said that the reports from the psychiatrists to the court will be subject to examination and argument by attorneys for both sides and that the final decision as to whether Ruby is sane or insane will be made by a jury.

All three of the psychiatrists are Texas born and Texas educated.

Dr. Stubblefield, 44, is a graduate of John Tarleton College, the University of Texas, and the university's medical school at Galveston.

Before coming to Dallas, he was on the staff of the University of Colorado School of Medicine in Denver.

TEXAS SCHOOLS

Dr. Holbrook, 40, was graduated from Texas Christian University and Southwestern Medical School.

Dr. Towler, 53, is a 1935 graduate of the University of Texas Medical School in Galveston. He served in the Army during World War II and since has served as consultant to the medical corps of both the Army and the Air Force.

Area Reflects on Service Projects During Jaycee Week

Area Jaycees have recorded another active year, with an accumulation of completed projects and many plans to their credit.

They have undertaken the solution of civic problems in their various communities and other troublesome tasks.

Now, during Jaycee Week, communities can pause to reflect on the deeds of these young men banded together under the credo "Service to Humanity Is the Greatest Work of Life."

One of the organizations, the Clarkston Area Jaycees, now is launching a community attitude survey to provide guidelines for future planning.

SEAT BELT DRIVE

Not quite two years old, the group now numbers 70. During its first year of operation, it conducted a campaign which put seat belts in 300 cars and another to get voters to the polls at election time.

On Halloween the men devised a plan to get youngsters home early. Telephoning students, they awarded gifts to each one at home to answer the call.

During the summer they concerned themselves with improving a local beach and at Christmas they cooperated with other service clubs to provide gifts to needy children.

Christmas shopping for needy youngsters also is a project of the Rochester Jaycees.

EGG HUNT

Just six years old, this chapter has established a Rochester tradition—the Easter egg hunt.

The young men's continuing aid to Avon Township Park includes a recently-constructed steel beam footbridge. Now in the making is a campaign to build a Jaycee hockey rink for the village.

The 25 members and their families get together at Halloween, New Year's and other parties and participate in sports events.

Davisburg's 125th anniversary celebration tops the list of achievements for that community's Jaycees.

SWIMMING BEACH

Organized in 1959, the group has seen the fruits of its work in establishment of a swimming beach for children and installation of lights at the mill pond for winter ice skating.

The Little League games which it organized have since been turned over to interested fathers. The Jaycees installed a backstop and graded the ball diamond in the community park.

"Operation Main Street," backed by the Jaycees, brought a new sidewalk and blacktopped parking space to the community's nucleus.

At the Jaycee Trading Post, used furniture and household items were sold to lend financial aid to civic improvements.

In their 12-year history, Holly Jaycees have contributed funds to support the foreign student exchange program, to provide a resuscitator for the Holly beach and to supply lifeguard training for several young persons in the area.

The Holly blood bank was sponsored by the Jaycees for many years. One minor, one major and one Babe Ruth Little League team, the Teen Club and several Fourth of July celebrations have been sponsored by the group.

Not only with money but in manual work have the Jaycees aided their community.

Holly members constructed all of the buildings at the township beach and renovated the township library, building bookshelves and moving the facility to its present quarters.

CLEAR BRUSH

Jaycees cleared six acres of brush and trees at the site of the Holly Senior High School, thus saving taxpayers an estimated $3,000.

They also participate in voter registration campaigns and assist the local Kiwanis Club in helping the less fortunate.

Looking around their communities, Jaycees take pride in their designation as "young men of action."

the Clarkston Area Junior Chamber of Commerce. Wint was given the Distinguished Service Award as outstanding young man of 1963, and Amthor was named Boss of the Year.

2 Named as Outstanding by Clarkston Area Jaycees

By JOE MULLEN
CLARKSTON—Lewis E. Wint and Sgt. John Amthor last night were named outstanding young man of the year and outstanding boss, respectively, by the Clarkston Area Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The awards were presented at the second annual Bosses' Night Banquet of the Jaycee group at the Waterford Township Community Activities, Inc., building. Wint, 28, of 5929 M15, is a funeral director. He was cited for outstanding self-achievement as well as active participation in church and civic affairs.

An area resident for five years, Wint is married and has two children.

POLICE COMMANDER

Sgt. Amthor, of 639 Robinson, Waterford Township, is commander of the Pontiac State Police Post. He was nominated for the boss award by Trooper Howard Kelly.

A Navy veteran and 17-year member of the state police, Amthor also was cited for outstanding community and church activities. He is married with three children.

Daniel T. Murphy, chairman of the Oakland County Board of Auditors and the banquet speaker, said he favored county home rule government to best meet the challenge of fast growing Oakland County.

Murphy pointed out that the county's estimated population will be 1 million by 1980. In 1960 there were 690,000 residents, and presently the population is estimated at 750,000, Murphy said.

HIGH GROWTH RATE

He added that the northern area of the county, including Independence Township, would experience a tremendous rate of growth in future years.

Rich Johnson, president of the Jaycees, welcomed members and guests, following an invocation by Rev. Alexander Stewart, rector of the Church of the Resurrection.

Keith Hallman served as toastmaster and Robert C. Jones reviewed the highlights of 1963.

The Pontiac Press received a certificate of appreciation for cooperation in the promotion of Jaycee programs. Wint made the presentation.

Auto Jumps Road; Troy Woman Hurt

TROY — A Troy woman, 59, suffered back injuries yesterday when the car in which she was riding went out of control and onto the shoulder of the I-75 expressway near Maple.

Mrs. Clarence Selberg, 3645 Crooks, is reported in satisfactory condition today in William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak. Her husband said he lost control of the car when it hit a slippery spot on the expressway, about 10 p.m. yesterday.

Selberg explained that the jump from the road to the shoulder, which is lower, jostled his wife around and caused the back injury.

Filing Deadline in Rochester

Petitions Are Due for 4 Council Vacancies

ROCHESTER — Candidates seeking to fill the four vacancies on the Village Council this year have until noon Saturday to file their nominating petitions.

If more than two persons file for each open post, a primary election will be held Feb. 17. Otherwise, the candidates will vie for the positions in the general election March 9.

The two-year terms of Dr. John Terry, John O'Donnell and John Lowes are expiring, and Roy Rewold will vacate a one-year post.

Terry and Lowes have said they will not seek reelection. O'Donnell has filed nominating petitions and Rewold has not committed himself yet.

Man Admits Night Holdup in Farmington

FARMINGTON — An unemployed tool and die maker described as "down on his luck" has admitted the Tuesday night holdup of the Sanders store in downtown Farmington, according to police.

Leslie Ginnell, 53, of Northville waived preliminary examination on the armed robbery charge yesterday before Municipal Court Judge Sylvester Phenev.

Bound over to Circuit Court, Ginnell is being held in the Oakland County jail on a $5,000 bond.

Police said Ginnell told them he was carrying a pair of pliers in his pocket when he went into the store at 23310 Farmington.

Sanders employees, who were forced to give the holdup man $165, told police they thought he had a gun. The incident occurred about 6:30 p.m. while the store was still open.

Avon Board Rules on 2 Issues

AVON TOWNSHIP — The Board last night ended, at least for a while, two controversial issues which have caused heated differences of opinions since they were first introduced.

Board members voted to retain Lawrence Porter as building inspector and rezoned a site on Walton for the apartment complex proposed by builder Sidney Weinberger.

After lengthy discussion on the building inspector's job, the board voted 6 to 1 to keep the position separate from the assessor's job. Township Supervisor Cyril E. Miller cast the dissenting vote.

This, in effect, keeps Porter assigned to his present duties.

The decision came after proposals and counterproposals, for and against combining the job of building inspector and assessor.

Miller spearheaded the drive to combine the two posts while Trustee Donald J. Campbell offered the counterproposals.

"I certainly don't feel good about this," Miller said today.

"The presentations I made last night and earlier were not considered whatever."

"The other board members feel he is qualified for this job, and I do not. I'm going to do something to correct this decision."

NEEDS TIME

Miller said he would need time to study the controversy, but definitely plans to fight the board decision in the future.

After airing the question of whether to give Porter $1,000 in back pay, the board voted against it. Campbell registered a vote opposing the decision and Trustee Lyle R. Knapp abstained.

In July Miller, without the consent of the board, transferred Porter to custodianship of the township cemetery. Porter remained in this position until December, when the board voted to reinstate him and "start all over" on the subject.

Board members objected to the way Miller had proceeded with the transferral, without consulting them. Last night's decision was made after a united board study of the issue.

The township board's approval of plans for the apartment complex came on the heels of the Northwest Avon Inter-Association Council's endorsement of the proposal.

The council is made up of representatives of the home owners' associations in northwest Avon Township.

After meeting with Weinberger, head of College Park Development Co., the council agreed to okay the apartment complex, provided certain deed restrictions are established.

Last night the board rezoned 5.5 acres opposite Brewster from agricultural to multiple dwelling, and a 12-acre buffer zone around the site from agricultural to one-family residential.

SIX BUILDINGS

Weinberger plans to build six eight-unit, two-story apartments on the parcel. Each of the $80,000 colonial buildings will contain four two-bedroom and four one-bedroom apartments.

The builder's request was first presented in a public hearing last September. Then more than 225 crowded into the township hall to express opinion on the issue. Attorney Kenneth Shamp of Warren turned in petitions which he said carried the names of 970 residents objecting to the proposed construction.

Last night, in contrast to that first hearing, no one spoke up from the audience.

The board vote to rezone for the apartments was 6-1, with Campbell dissenting.

Blaze in Kitchen Routs Family in Walled Lake

WALLED LAKE — A frying pan with grease in it and a burner left on during the night proved to be a disastrous combination for a Walled Lake family of four.

The James Boggs family fled from their home at 42889 14-Mile early this morning when a fire was discovered in their kitchen.

Escaping without injury, they watched the flames destroy the four-room, wooden frame house and most of its contents.

RUSHED OUTSIDE

Boggs discovered the fire about 4 a.m. He awakened his wife and two children and rushed them outside.

In his excitement, Boggs jumped in his automobile and drove to the fire station.

Firemen commented that they might have been able to save

State Okays School Bonds

MILFORD — Issuance of bonds for a $2.2-million school building program in the Huron Valley District has been approved by the State Municipal Finance Commission.

Construction slated to begin in March includes a new $975,000 junior high school in Milford, a $450,000 addition to Highland Junior High School, a $175,000 addition to Milford High School and $80,000 in improvements at Milford Junior High School.

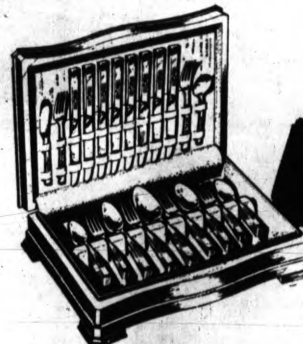

District taxpayers accepted the debt for the building program at a Dec. 12 election.

Columbia University Honors Greek Queen

NEW YORK (AP)—Queen Frederika of Greece was awarded an honorary doctor of laws degree by Columbia University, which cited her as "a keen patroness of advanced studies of physics."

About 25 students picketed the ceremony carrying signs calling the queen a "fascist," and asking her to "free 1,100 political prisoners." The prisoners were convicted of various crimes after Greece crushed the post-World War II Communist rebellion.

About 175 manufacturers in 1962 shipped 674,000 vending machines worth $171,300,000, the Department of Commerce reports.

LBJ's Proposals 'Vague,' Says Russian Diplomat

ANN ARBOR (AP)—A Soviet representative at the Second International Arms Control and Disarmament Symposium says

President Johnson's proposals to the Geneva disarmament conference are "vague" and only part of the answer. Juli Mikhailovich Vorontsov, counselor and political affairs adviser for the USSR Mission to the United Nations, attacked President Johnson's proposals in an interview Wednesday.

"My government, Vorontsov said, 'urges that nuclear weapons not be frozen at their present state of development but that all existing nuclear weapons be destroyed.'"

Vorontsov, speaking English excellently, said the Soviet Union proposes a "complete reversal in the thinking about military matters." He said "we want no more soldiers, no more generals, no more offensive weapons and no more defensive weapons."

JUST POLICE

"All we think the world needs is enough armed men to do police work in every country," he said.

Vorontsov was scheduled to address the University of Michigan symposium today on "The Soviet Position on Disarmament."

Arthur Barber, deputy assistant secretary of defense, told the symposium Wednesday that "no nation however strong, can stand alone."

"Any nation or people seeking security only for themselves can only build their own prison," Barber said.

PRESS FOR PEACE

Barber said the United States has "undisputed superiority" in thermonuclear power and that its lead over the Soviet Union is increasing. However, he said the work must press on to a "final victory" when all men and nations will live in peace.

In response to audience questions Barber said Red China cannot become a modern military power for another 10 or 20 years. He also said he saw little chance for the world's present balance of power to change for the foreseeable future.

Pedestrian Expires

ANN ARBOR (AP)—George A. Thomas, 19, of Quincy died in an Ann Arbor hospital Wednesday night of injuries suffered Jan. 13 when he was struck by an auto in a Coldwater street.

The word "mausoleum" derives from the great marble tombs of Mausolus, King of Caris in Asia Minor. It was built about 325 B.C. and was one of the Seven Wonders of the Ancient World.

GLENWOOD PLAZA CORNER NORTH PERRY AT GLENWOOD

Junior Editors Quiz on WOOD

QUESTION: How is plywood made and how used?

ANSWER: To make plywood, large logs of such wood as Douglas fir are cut. After removing the bark, thin veneers or "plies" are peeled from the log in one continuous flat layer.

This is cut into sheets and when these have been coated with glue, they are stacked so the grains are at right angles (upper left).

Then the plies are squeezed together under great pressure and heated so that they become like one piece of wood. The plywood is then sanded, cut and inspected.

Plywood is used widely today for a large number of purposes. Its value is that it is stronger than ordinary wood and shrinks and swells less easily.

It can be cut to exact sizes and resists splitting, allowing nails and screws to be used close to the edge. Plywood can be easily cured.

In the picture Jenny and Jack are about to fit a special kind of marine plywood, made with waterproof glue, to the bottom of their homemade boat.

Plywood is also extremely useful for making shelves, boxes, toys—in fact just about anything which calls for wooden construction.

FOR YOU TO DO: Borrow a hammer, saw, a few nails and get some pieces of plywood. Then make a neat box as shown. Measure the plywood carefully first and mark it before cutting. Such a box would be fine in your room for all sorts of purposes.

Hawk Only Wanted Meal

LOVELAND, Colo. (AP)—Broken window glass and the body of a blackbird on the floor of her apartment puzzled Vera Brown on return home Wednesday night.

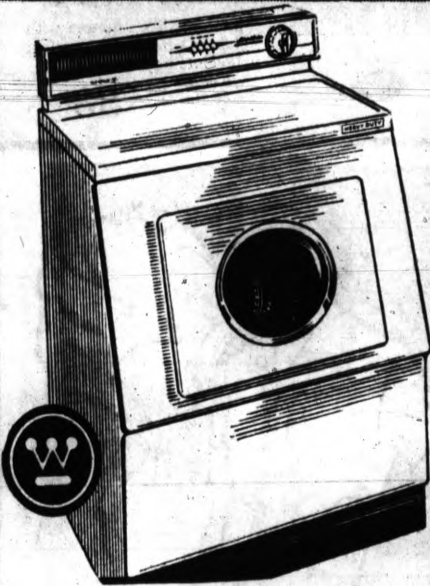

She heard a noise in an adjoining room and found a hawk fluttering among overturned lamps and other debris.

She shooed the hawk out the broken window and spent an hour coaxing her Pekingese dog out from under a bed.

Mrs. Brown's best guess: The hawk was chasing the blackbird, which smashed through the window. The pursuing hawk sailed in through the jagged opening.

Says Canada's Pearson

'France, U.S. Can Settle Riff'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Canada's Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson having talked now with both President Johnson and French President Charles de Gaulle, concedes there are many U.S.-French differences but says they are not unbridgeable.

However, at a press conference yesterday after his final meeting with Johnson, Pearson denied a report he wanted to act as a "friendly broker" between Paris and Washington.

Pearson, who conferred earlier this month with de Gaulle in Paris, said he and Johnson did discuss France's intended recognition of Communist China. But didn't say what conclusions were reached, if any.

He indicated, though, that Canada, which has agreed to sell wheat to the Red Chinese, does not intend to recognize the Peking regime.

GENERAL ACCORD

"I found myself in general accord with the President on practically every subject which came up," the Canadian said.

U.S. and Canadian sources said much of Pearson's two days of talks with Johnson was devoted to economic issues between the United States and Canada.

Johnson and Pearson, who leaves today for a vacation in Florida, agreed to establish machinery to foresee and forestall economic disputes between the two countries.

These have been the chief causes of trouble between Washington and Ottawa in recent years.

CLOSER HARMONY

A joint communique issued yesterday said the two leaders "discussed at some length the practicability and desirability" of working in closer harmony, particularly on economic problems affecting each other.

Pearson said these have grown in complexity and importance "and we think the time has come to see if some guidelines can be established" so each government would consult the other before taking action affecting the other.

It was agreed to establish a high-level committee to see what general principles can be agreed on and to report to the next meeting of U.S.-Canadian cabinet committee on economic affairs. It convenes in April.

Among U.S.-Canadian economic frictions are taxation and other discriminatory steps by each side which the other says hurts its business, Great Lakes maritime labor problems and policies on selling farm goods abroad.

Johnson and Pearson presided at a White House ceremony at which an agreement to carry through on the 1961 treaty for cooperative development of the Pacific Northwest's Columbia River system was signed.

SIGNED PACT

Then they signed a pact to make an international park of the Campobello Island Canadian summer home of President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Eight Projects Added to Highway Bidding

LANSING (AP) — Eight new highway construction projects costing more than $2 million have been added to the State Highway Department bid-opening at Lansing Feb. 5. Nine other projects costing $8.3 million were announced previously. The major contract added to the bid-opening is construction of three overpasses and related work on the Chrysler Freeway in Detroit.

GEORGE'S

Football QB in Debate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Canada's Prime Minister Lester D. Pearson says he agrees with President Johnson on practically everything they discussed at the White House Wednesday—except who is the best football quarterback.

Pearson told newsmen that Johnson's pick was Sammy Baugh, former quarterback for the Washington Redskins, who is a Texan.

Pearson's choice was Y. A. Tittle of the New York Giants.

Parlez Vous? Why, Sure

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Watford Reed, Oregon Journal church editor, can attest that it is, indeed, a small world.

In Rome on assignment, he tentatively tried a few English words on a taxi driver in giving directions.

The driver answered in English, with hardly a trace of accent. It turned out he was Antonio D'Agostino, who lived in Portland and attended school here before returning to Italy more than 30 years ago.

William Pitt imposed an income tax in Britain as early as 1790.

United Fund Women Listen to Annual Reports

Emergency or short term financial aid to area residents for specific needs not provided by existing agencies is given through the United Fund's Tribute Fund. Mrs. Jack Ross, Adamson Road (right) is chairman of the fund. Working with her are (from left) Mrs. George Roberts, Balmoral Terrace and Mrs. Richard Gould, Lake Angelus Shores.

Pontiac Area United Fund Women's Division heard annual reports Wednesday afternoon.

Increased service through five volunteer service committees was a highlight of the meeting.

Some 1,500 women give their time in some United Fund capacity.

Mrs. Jack Ross and her 15-member committee study requests referred to the Tribute Fund. Operating monies are received through memorial tributes.

Although hundreds of calls have been made by Friendly Visitors in the past year, there are at present 16 lonely senior citizens waiting for a visitor. Anyone wishing to participate in this program may contact the United Fund office.

TRANSPORTATION

Motor Aide volunteers provide transportation for physically and financially handicapped and blind persons to treatment centers for therapy and classes.

The Speakers Bureau is the most recent committee addition. Mrs. Robert C. Anderson, chairman, is in charge of providing trained speakers free of charge to area groups.

The most popular topic requested in 1963 was "How to Fight and Stay Married" by Robert Janes of Oakland County Family Service.

Friendly Visitors made 615 calls on sick or aging area residents. Nursing home visits were added in 1963. Mrs. Ethel V. Bowser (left) a patient in a Pontiac nursing home, chats with Mrs. Gilbert J. Hellman, Lorena Drive.

Volunteer help in the United Fund office is given by many women throughout the year. Mrs. Louis Matich, North Genesee Avenue, works on the scrapbook.

Study Group Collects Robes

The Maceday Gardens Extension Study Group will meet at the home of Mrs. John Wilder, Adamson Road, for its Feb. 3 meeting. Mrs. Roy Best will serve as cohostess.

The community project of the group was the making of lap robes for patients at the Oakland County Medical Care Facilities on Telegraph Road. These will be collected at this time for presentation to the patients.

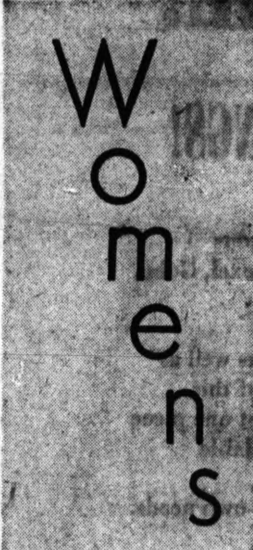

Lessons for this meeting are "Simple Household Repairs" and "Mending Woollens."

Seven hundred and seven motor trips were made by Motor Aide volunteers in 1963—all at their own expense. Mrs. J. Harry Baker, Dwight Street, is one of the drivers.

Forty-one speaking engagements were made during the last six months. Dr. Murray B. Levin, head of the Michigan Heart Association in this area, takes charts with him as he talks on "Pump Trouble." The Speakers Bureau offers 100 topics, slides and movies for a year-round program.

Best Man Can Bring His Wife

By The Emily Post Institute
Q: My husband was asked to be best man at a friend's wedding. The other night while discussing the wedding plans, the bride-to-be told me that only the wedding party and members of both families were to be invited to the wedding breakfast following and that she was sorry she could not invite me because if she did, her aunts, uncles and cousins would be down on her for not inviting them too.

My husband is quite put out over this and thinks I should be invited regardless. Will you please give us your opinion?

A: As the wife of the best man you should be invited to the breakfast, and the bride's relatives could not possibly misunderstand the reason why an exception was made in your case.

Q: My husband and I received an invitation to a reception to celebrate the 25th wedding anniversary of good friends of ours.

The invitation states, "No gifts, please!" Would it be out of order to send them a gift anyway?

A: If the hosts had wanted presents, they would not have stipulated "No gifts, please!" on the invitations and you should comply with their request.

Don't Call Him Like a Dog; Just Say, 'Waiter, Please'

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: We need your help in settling an argument.

What is the proper way to get a waiter's attention? Is it all right to strike your glass with a knife? How about snapping your fingers? Also, is it bad manners to whistle a short and not too loud whistle?

DEAR D. and D.: Striking one's glass would startle and annoy everyone in the restaurant, including the waiter.

Snapping the fingers is for the dogs, and whistling is for the birds. Simply say, "Waiter, please."

DEAR ABBY: How does a 21-year-old girl tell her own father she doesn't want him at her wedding?

I want my mother there (she is a saint), but my father makes a fool of himself every time he gets near liquor and I know what would happen if he were at my wedding. I want a church wedding with all my friends and relatives, and my oldest brother could walk me down the aisle.

I know I sound selfish, Abby, but I also know that I will not be deprived of the kind of wedding I want because of my father.

And I can't take the chance of having him get roaring drunk and ruining everything. What would you do?

IMPASSE
DEAR IMPASSE: I would tell my father candidly of my doubts and fears, and then, if he promised to stay sober on that day, I would let him walk me down the aisle.

If we let people know we expect the best—they rarely disappoint us. Big brother can be waiting in the wings if Dad lets you down. But I'd bet on Dad this time.

DEAR ABBY: I am 15, an honor student, sing in the church choir and am considered pretty.

My parents are the best in the world, with one exception. They never had a heart-to-heart talk with me. Abby, I know this is hard to believe, but everything I learned about sex I had to learn on my own.

Because there was no mention of this subject at home, I was too ashamed to bring it up although there were so many things I wanted to know.

The invisible wall grew thicker between my parents and me and I became a very curious, foolish and susceptible girl. From what I have said, you can guess that I would make easy prey — and I did.

I don't know if I am pregnant or not. I just pray to God I'm not. I know of no human being other than you to confide in. Abby, I love my parents and I am not blaming them for what I did.

I brought it all on myself and deserve whatever happens. I am only writing this as a plea to parents, especially mothers, to get to know their teen-agers before it is too late.

Mrs. Maxine Nichols of Birmingham and James R. Nichols of Pontiac announce the engagement of their daughter Anne to John Frederick Schaefer, son of the Gilbert E. Schaefer of Bloomfield Hills and Sarasota, Fla. Both are juniors at Michigan State University where he is affiliated with Psi Upsilon fraternity. A December wedding is being planned.

God bless you, Abby, for printing this, if you do.

Local Unit Discusses the Soviet Union

Russia was the main topic of discussion at the Tuesday evening meeting of Alpha Chapter of Beta Theta Pi Sorority.

William Rotsel, one of 45 students from the United States who toured the European part of the Soviet Union last summer on a Russian language study tour was keynote speaker.

Rotsel showed colored pictures taken in various cities of the Soviet Union he visited, describing many interesting situations and conditions in connection with the study tour.

Mrs. Orben Wilkins opened her Waldo Street home to members for the combined business and social meeting.

Plans were completed for the sorority's annual banquet Feb. 18 at the Waldron Hotel.

Mrs. Hubert Evans is the chairman, assisted by Mrs. John Kinzler, Marie Schimmel, Mrs. Arthur McKinniss, Mrs. Russell Beam, Mrs. Wilkins, Mrs. Charles Irish and Helen Turek.

The next meeting of the sorority will be Feb. 4 at the East Beverly Street home of Mrs. Glen Grimm.

Speaker Tonight

The Douglas Houghton PTA meeting featuring Mrs. George Romney as guest speaker will be held tonight at 8 o'clock.

Capacity Crowd Hears Baroness

By MADELEINE DOEREN
"Cannibalism is a tribal affair in parts of the South Pacific" according to the Baroness Maria Augusta von Trapp who spoke before Pontiac-Oakland Town Hall Wednesday.

Musician, author and lecturer, the Baroness was introduced to a capacity audience in the Huron Theatre by Rev. John F. George of St. Benedict Church.

Over her native Austrian Tyrol costume of hand-loomed maroon wool brocade, she wore a kerchief and very long apron of turquoise silk. Her white cotton blouse had puffed sleeves.

"This is the youngest dress in my wardrobe. It's seven years old and my cotton stockings which match it are three years old," the Baroness explained.

SHE'S MARIA
As mother and leader of the world-famous Trapp Family Singers, she inspired the long-run hit musical "The Sound of Music" by Rodgers and Hammerstein.

When not on lecture tour, she is the gracious innkeeper of one of New England's top vacation spots, the Alpine-styled Trapp Family Lodge at Stowe, Vt.

Open all year, it accommodates 80 guests and is popular as a musician's retreat when winter sports are off-season.

WORLD TOUR

Before the Trapp family broke up as a singing group a few years ago, they had given over 100 concerts in Central and South America. A European tour with an appearance at the Salzburg Festival followed.

Then came her South Pacific adventure and introduction to cannibalism and Communism, very prevalent in the Islands. She was invited by the Papal delegate for the South Pacific.

"Communism is a deficiency sickness," according to the Baroness.

"It is present because the real thing is lacking. Hatred, violence, bickering are a way

MANY HONORS

This fascinating grandmother of 25 holds a doctor of laws degree from a State Teachers College in Austria. She attended St. Mary's College, Notre Dame, Ind. in 1957.

She was awarded a Papal decoration, the Beni Merenti medal in 1949, and was proclaimed Catholic Mother of the Year in 1957.

Her inspiring talk closed with a lyric by the late Oscar Hammerstein from "The Sound of Music":

"A bell is no bell 'til you ring it;
A song is no song 'til you sing it;
Love is not put in your heart to stay;
Love is no love 'til you give it away."

Time ran out at the celebrity luncheon in Devon Gables, following the lecture. The Baroness was flying east at 2:30 and answered just a few questions.

She did, however, take time to compliment the Japanese chef on the delicious Swedish meat balls, a happy change from the chicken she'd had on nine consecutive days.

Dessert Starts Club Meeting

A dessert luncheon started the Monday afternoon meeting of the Sylvan Shores Women's Club in the Shore View Drive home of Mrs. Duane M. Le-maux.

Following the luncheon, members sewed pads for the Michigan Cancer Society. Mrs. C. I. Humphries was selected chairman of the club's March charity project.

Mrs. Robert Y. Moore and Mrs. William Herrmann served as cohostesses.

Budgets Help You Save, but Be Realistic

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

Dear Miss Feeley:

I am self-employed, and my weekly earnings range from $75 to $250 for a yearly total of about $8,000. It is my theory that we should be able to live on about $100 per week after taxes. Which would leave me a savings of about $2,000 to $3,000 per year.

We are a family of five, with three sons ranging in age from 7 to 12 years. My expenses are as follows:

Mortgage, $66.62; fuel, $280 a year; electricity, $10 a month; insurance, $550 a year (life, health and real estate); phone, $6.60 a month; real estate tax, $200 a year.

In addition, food, clothing and recreation, which I will ask you to set up for us. Our car is paid for.

BUDGET QUESTION

Do you think a budget of $100 a week would do for us? I have no doubt that such a situation is common among our age group, just getting started in business.

Mr. and Mrs. F.D.,
Wilmington, Del.

Dear Mr. and Mrs. F.D.:

Though you both signed the letter, it's pretty clear which one of you is holding out for that $100 a week budget. However, Mr. D., according to the few figures you've given me, I estimate you'd end up about $22 a week short — or lacking about $95 a month.

The standard of living you indicate would shape up like this by the month:

Mortgage, $66; taxes, $40; household operating costs, $30; food, $140; insurance, $45; personal allowances, $45; miscellaneous, $30; medical costs, $20; recreation, $10; books, magazines, newspaper, $10; car operating, $40; clothing, $43.

This amounts to $528 a month. And the clothing allowance is barely enough, with three growing boys.

CUT CORNERS

Now don't misunderstand me. You can always take a hatchet to the budget and whack off something here and there. The estimate I set up is simply following your lead, and is in proportion to income.

The two of you might see how you can adjust such categories as miscellaneous, personal allowance, car operating. And perhaps the monthly estimate for medical expenses is higher than it need be, since you have health insurance.

I realize you might think about education for the boys, and you ought to re-evaluate your life insurance, as you probably need more than you're carrying.

If you feel it's essential to save as much as you mention, in order to nourish your growing business, then it can be done. But don't make the mistake of setting up too stringent a plan, as today's living is important as tomorrow's. And it would be disheartening to fall short of your goal consistently.

Dear Miss Feeley:

Last summer we stayed at a lake resort for two weeks. The charge was $95 a week each, for the two of us, American plan.

Would you please suggest the proper amount to leave the waitress (we had the same one for the two weeks), cabin girl, desk clerk, cabin boy or anyone else who should be tipped. My husband tipped our fishing guide each time we had him.

Your column is a great help to many of us.

A.B., Joliet, Ill.

Dear A.B.:

Where tipping is concerned, you pretty much have to play it by ear. The posher the place, the fatter the tips. One resort hotel tells me their staff is accustomed to having guests divide 15 per cent of the hotel bill among those who gave special service. I suggest the bigger portion should go to the waitress, since she's in attendance three times a day every day.

When you are uncertain, not only just how much to tip but whom to tip, feel perfectly free to consult the manager. You can find a graceful way of saying that you would like to thank the staff employees who made your stay so pleasant, and would appreciate his guidance. It won't be the first time he has been consulted on the subject. Talk to him in private, of course. And be sure not to ask the staff.

Fashion Club Gives Awards

Awards were presented, new members accepted, and committee chairmen named at the Tuesday evening meeting of the Fashionette club at the Adah Shelly Library.

Mrs. Viva Koop and Mrs. Ervin Lake were accepted as new members.

Mrs. Frederick Root presented the program outline for the coming months.

Umbrellas Better Without Ruffles

Ruffled umbrellas are pretty and feminine, but only when the ruffles are crisp and bright.

If they become the least bit droopy — and they do very quickly — the umbrella takes on an unkempt look. It's wiser, for the sake of practicality, to shun them.

Costume Jewelry Needs Washing

Keep in mind that costume jewelry needs suds-and-water washing often. It collects a film of body oils and cosmetics that only a dousing in soap or detergent suds can provide.

After washing, rinse with a sponge and blot dry on a towel. DON'T, however, wash jewelry that has pasted-in stones.

Little Criticism Hurts Teen-Agers a Lot

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Dear Mrs. Lawrence: Another mother and I have the same problem. We both have teen-aged girls who tell us not to "yell" at them when they are asked to do something.

If I have to interrupt my 16-year-old while she is on the telephone, she will tell her friend, "I have to hang up now because Mother is yelling at me."

It irritates us as neither of us are "yelling" females.

Answer: I know. I've been accused of "screaming" a mild request to get the mail.

And it was irritating until I realized that the accusation had nothing to do with me or the power of my voice.

COMES IN LOUD

It has to do with the teenager himself — his susceptibility to our power. He hears our requests as "yelling" because he hears them with the still-impulsive trust of his childhood. And he resents this trust.

To deal with this irritating accusation, we have first to understand that it is directed not at us but at the child's own terrifying impulse to submit to us. Then we know what is needed.

We give him reassurance of our respect for him by saying: "I did not interrupt your phone call because I wanted to show you how I can shove you aside whenever I feel like it. I interrupted it because I promised to call Dad at 4 o'clock."

We relieve him of his gnawing, ever-present suspicion of obedience as humiliating and endless obligation to us.

SEE DISRESPECT

People of this age are so un-trustful of themselves that they read disrespect into practically everything you say to them. They still trust us so much more than they trust themselves.

So any request for obedience can explode the big conflict — the terror of obeying us for the rest of their lives against the seductive temptation to do just that — to lapse backward into childhood's unquestioning trust of us.

LET'S KNIT

Let's Knit

Choose Own Colors

For bowling, boating, golfing, or just lounging around, this long shell is the perfect garment. Wear it as it is or over a skirt-sleeved blouse, with a skirt or capris.

Knit it in a solid color or in a tweed yarn, or as shown in the picture in two colors of your choice. The teenager in your family may even like it when each block is worked in a different color. It will then match so many more garments in her wardrobe.

Instructions are written in sizes 8 through 18. All sizes are included in one pattern.

Don't Hibernates Safety in Winter

Now that it's indoor living time, an around-the-house safety survey is in order. Three steps to child safety are these:

1. Keep children out of the kitchen if possible — if you can't banish them, protect them by keeping pot handles turned in and on the back burners.

2. Keep sharp knives and scissors out of the kitchen drawer — instead, put them on a high shelf or a wall magnet.

3. Use stainless steel tableware for babies and children — it's childproof, easy-care and won't endanger health by chipping or breaking.

Planning their musical strategy for an 8 p.m. Tuesday concert in Cranbrook House are the members of the University of Michigan Woodwind Quintet. From left to right, they are: Florian F. Mueller, oboe; Louis Stout, French horn; Nelson Hauenstein, flute; John D. Mohler, clarinet; and Lewis H. Cooper, bassoon.

Cranbrook Sets Stage for Quintet

A program of traditional and modern works by Hayden, Persichetti, Danzi Alibiv and Francaix will be presented by the University of Michigan Woodwind Quintet at 8:30 p.m. Tuesday in Cranbrook House.

It is presented as part of the Cranbrook Music Guild series.

The group was formed in 1949 and presently includes Nelson Hauenstein, flutist; Lewis Cooper, bassoonist; John Mohler, clarinetist; Florian Mueller, oboist; and Louis Stout, French horn.

The quintet has established a reputation, not only as a group, but also as individual members in many of the nation's leading symphony orchestras; as teachers; clinicians; and in some cases, composers.

Tickets for this concert may be obtained at the door on the night of the performance.

The Richard G. Nicholson of Nadette Drive announce the engagement of their daughter Susan Wood to Spec. 4 Donald B. DeNise, son of Mr. and Mrs. Merle J. DeNise of Eastview Road. He is stationed at Fort Eustis, Va. Fall vows are being planned.

United Nations Reporter to Speak in Birmingham

Birmingham Town Hall will present Pauline Frederick, official reporter of United Nations news next Thursday and Friday at the Birmingham Theater. Her subject will be "U.N. at the Crossroads."

For the past three years Miss Frederick has been on the Gallup Poll list of the world's "ten most admired women."

She has her master's degree in International Law from the American University and numerous honorary degrees for distinguished service in journalism.

SPECIAL HONOR

She is the only woman ever to be elected president of the U.N. Correspondents Association.

As NBC news United Nations correspondent, Miss Frederick covered the crises in Korea, Suez, Hungary, the Middle East, Laos and the Congo, as well as the troubled months following the death of Secretary - General Hammarskjöld.

She appears on such TV programs as "Today," "Huntley-Brinkley Report," "Meet the Press," and news specials as well as having a daily radio news program.

Miss Frederick will be introduced to the Town Hall audience on both days by Mrs. George N. Hilfinger, past president of the League of Women Voters.

Celebrity luncheons at the Birmingham Country Club will follow the lectures.

LUNCHEON GUESTS

Guests at the speakers table will include Mrs. O. F. Pearson, president of Town Hall, Mrs. Hilfinger, The Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Kenneth H. Gass, former Governor and Mrs. Murray D. VanWagoner, Mrs. Dorothy Kemp Roosevelt, Mrs. George Cary and Mrs. Ben Ragland of the Town Hall Board.

Mrs. Ralph Backus will be the hostess.

Sheets and Towels Make Draperies

Young couples can use cheery sheets for draperies and terry towels made into cafe curtains for the bath. As their budget allows, they can shop for more expensive fabrics. But until then the sheets and towels are fine substitutes. They can be tossed into the washer or taken to the laundromat for inexpensive laundering.

Fashions Whirl Into Springtime

Anne Fogarty's message for Spring is "The Whirl of Fashion," with a couple of prophecies: the return of the full skirt and small, small waist. It's a gay, ruffly way of approaching crystal-gazing, too.

The Fogarty semaphores is T-T and T, meaning Top, Tucked-in-middle, and shiny-tipped Toes. The full and bias-cut skirts of many dresses billow out from a wide black patent belt stitched in color to match the dress fabric.

Ruffling ranges from a touch at the neck to yards and yards. Picrust frills adorn the long sleeves of a completely-tucked shirt shift or a ruffled shirt front for a full-skirted shirtdress.

Ruffled hems and stoles for long evening dresses with high-sashed waists, and little rows of ruffling on the short sleeves of a slim madras plaid dress from the boutique group complete the picture.

Next in importance is the springbean, Anne Fogarty's name for the shaped shift, or little nothing dress that's self-sufficient or part of a costume, and lovingly-detailed.

Metropolitan Operas to Come Under Study

For the third year, an eight-week lecture series, on the Metropolitan operas coming to Detroit in May, will be presented.

Commencing Feb. 12 from 8 to 10 p. m., the lectures will be held at the Cranbrook School music building in Bloomfield Hills.

The course will offer comprehensive coverage of "La Bohème," "Lucia di Lammermoor," "Aida," "Faust," "Manon," "Don Giovanni" and "Falstaff."

Opera study will be illustrated with recordings of great stars in the roles which they will perform here.

UNIVERSITY LEVEL
This University level opera course is being presented by the University Center for Adult Education, Wayne State University, University of Michigan and Eastern Michigan University, and cosponsored by the Cranbrook Music Guild.

The course will again be under the direction of Dr. Glenn D. McGeoch, professor of music literature, history and criticism at the University of Michigan.

Information concerning registration for the series may be obtained by contacting the course chairman, Mrs. Benjamin Brewster of the Cranbrook Music Guild, or the University Center in Detroit.

Registrations will also be accepted at Cranbrook on Feb. 12, the night of the opening lecture, and are $15 for a single and $22 per couple.

MAKING PLANS
Members of Mrs. Brewster's committee for the opera course include Mrs. George W. Davis, Mrs. L. James Schneider, Mrs. John W. Sanders and Mrs. Teruko Yamansaki.

Others involved in arranging the series are Max H. Fruhauf, Mrs. Charles S. Himelhoch, and Dr. Robert Homes of the University Center.

The Robert A. Watsons of Pontiac Lake Road announce the betrothal of their daughter Virginia Rae to Spec. 4 Roger Glenn Bomsta, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard M. Bomsta of South Roslyn Street. He attended Campbellsville (Ky.) College and Flint Junior College. He is stationed with Army Intelligence Service, Vint Hill Farms, Va. A July wedding-date is set.

Thirty-four Oakland County residents are among the nearly 600 Ferris State College students who were named to the Dean's list during the past quarter.

PONTIAC

From the Pontiac area are Charles W. Crouch, son of Charles W. Crouch, East Square Lake Road; Dolores Dean, daughter of the Manuel Deans, South Josephine Avenue; Robert Hoadley, son of the C. R. Hoadleys of Second Avenue.

Others are Alfred Galbraith, son of the Gordon Galbraiths of Lounsbury Street; John Horton, son of the junior Joseph Horton of Iroquois Road; and Jerome Madden, son of R. J. Madden of DeSota Place.

FROM BIRMINGHAM

The students from Birmingham attending the P.G. Rapids School are Peter Beille, son of Robert Beille; John Falberg, son of J. S. Falberg; Frank Honkanen, son of the Carl Honkanens; Gary Knox, son of the John Siegels (Wing Lake).

William Ritze, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Ritze and Richard Rowe, son of the Richard Rowes, were listed along with David Flynn, son of the Thomas Flynn, Orchard Lake.

Joseph Griggs, son of Mrs. Henry Griggs of Rochester; and Gail Kellogg, daughter of Lester Kellogg of Davisburg complete the list.

Sheryl Chapman played the part of the Vicar in "The Cradle Song" at Lasell Junior College, Auburn, Mass.

Miss Chapman, a first year student at Lasell, is the daughter of Mrs. Betty E. Chapman of Birmingham.

David Stohlmann, son of the senior Paul Stohlmanns of Judson Street was included in the Dean's list for the 1963-4 fall quarter at Concordia College, St. Paul, Minn.

He is a sophomore at Con-

This Hangs On for 300 Years

CHICAGO (UPI)—In the 17th century, decorative hangings of wallpaper were popular as wall decor. They were heavily embossed, painted, gilded, even flocked, and occasionally were fixed to the wall, says a wallpaper company.

Apples Simmer in Hot Syrup

The word "coddle" has such a gentle sound. In cooking it means to cook gently in liquid just below the boiling point.

Coddled Apples

12 small apples, about 2½ pounds
1 cup water
¼ cup sugar
Dash of salt
1 teaspoon vanilla

Choose apples that will hold their shape after cooking; pare, quarter and core. In a 10-inch skillet stir the water and sugar over low heat until sugar dissolves; heat to boiling.

Add apples; cover and cook gently until apples are tender and translucent looking — about 20 to 30 minutes. Turn apples as necessary; they should absorb most of the syrup by the end of the cooking time. Mix vanilla with apples.

Serve hot or cold with custard sauce. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Apricot Jam a Sauce for Pound Cake

Prepare a package pound cake mix according to package directions. Pour into lightly greased and floured 1½-quart turk head mold. Bake in a slow oven (325 degrees) for 1½ hours or until golden brown. Cool on rack for 15 minutes then unmold and finish cooling.

In small saucepan heat 1 8-ounce jar of apricot preserves with 2 tablespoons water until liquid. Spoon over cooled pound cake. Makes 12-14 servings.

Q. What is the name of this cut of meat?

A. Beef Standing Rib Roast.

Q. Where does it come from and how is it identified?

A. It is from the beef rib section and contains the large rib eye muscle and two or more ribs from which short ribs and chine bone have been removed.

Q. How is it prepared?

A. By roasting. Place the meat fat side up in an open roasting pan. Insert meat thermometer so bulb reaches center of thickest part. Do not add water. Do not cover.

Roast in a slow oven (300° F. to 325° F.) until the thermometer registers 140° F. for rare, 160° F. for medium or 170° F. for well-done.

Allow about 23 to 25 minutes per pound for cooking a rare roast, 27 to 30 for medium and 32 to 35 for well-done.

Kitchen arithmetic: a 3½-ounce can of flaked coconut should yield about 1 cup.

Peanut Butter Is Protein Packed

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

You must have been aware of the enormous amount of peanuts on sale in grocery stores in recent months.

Last fall there was a bumper crop of goober peas and they're still listed on the USDA list of plentiful foods, along with peanut butter.

You can make a very rich dessert with peanut butter and a pudding mix. The children will probably request a rerun.

Peanut Butterscotch Squares
1 package butterscotch pudding and pie filling mix
½ cup peanut butter
2 cups milk
¼ cup sugar
3 tablespoons butter
1½ cups graham cracker crumbs
1 peanut chocolate candy bar, sliced

Combine pie filling mix, ¼ cup peanut butter and milk in saucepan. Cook and stir over medium heat until mixture comes to a full boil. Remove from heat and cover to avoid surface film.

Meanwhile, add sugar, remaining ¼ cup peanut butter and butter to crumbs and blend thoroughly. Line an 8x8x2-inch pan with aluminum foil. Press half the crumb mixture in the bottom of the pan.

Stir pudding and pour over crumbs in pan. Sprinkle with remaining crumbs and sliced candy bar. Chill until firm. Lift out and cut into squares. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Peanut butter and jelly are inseparable. We know some mothers who can hardly bear the sight of another peanut butter 'n' jelly sandwich. Perhaps they can hold down their distaste long enough to use the combination in these recipes.

First, there's a tempting coffee ring made with unbaked breakfast rolls. This is something you can fix even on busy school mornings.

Quick Peanut Butter Coffee Ring
1 package refrigerated unbaked raisin cinnamon rolls
2 tablespoons peanut butter
2 tablespoons jelly or jam
1 tablespoon milk

Combine peanut butter, jelly and milk. Separate rolls and spread one side of each roll generously with peanut butter mixture. On a lightly greased cookie sheet slightly overlap rolls, spread side up, to form a circle. Press rolls together lightly where they overlap.

Bake in a preheated 375 degree oven for about 20 minutes. Frost with icing that is included in package. Serve hot.

Then for a quick dessert, add peanut butter and jelly to an angel food cake.

Party-Perfect Angel Food Cake
1 baked angel food cake (about 7-inches)
¼ cup peanut butter
¼ cup jelly or jam
¼ cup lemon juice

Cut cake crosswise into three layers. Blend peanut butter, jelly and lemon juice. Spread between layers. Top cake with whipped cream or dessert topping mix prepared according to package directions. If desired, decorate with twisted orange slices.

Now, how about a different sandwich? Sure, the filling is peanut butter 'n' jelly; but the sandwiches are french fried.

French Fried Sandwiches
12 slices white bread
1 jar (10 to 12 ounces) preserves marmalade or jelly, any flavor desired
¼ cup peanut butter, creamy or chunk style

2 eggs
¼ cup milk
1 tablespoon sugar
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon vanilla
¼ cup butter or margarine
Confectioner's sugar
Nutmeg

Spread 6 slices of bread with desired preserves, marmalade or jelly. Cover with remaining bread slices spread with peanut butter.

Beat eggs; add milk, sugar, salt and vanilla and stir until sugar dissolves. Dip each sandwich into egg mixture quickly; turn and quickly remove from egg mixture. Drain.

Brown on both sides on grill or in skillet in melted butter or margarine turning sandwich only once. Sprinkle with confectioner's sugar and nutmeg and cut in half diagonally. Yield: 6 sandwiches.

Bug-Free

If you have a problem with bugs getting into flour, meal and other mixtures, try putting a bay leaf in the ones you don't use often and keeping them well-covered. Also, flour and other condiments will keep bug-free and unfrozen in a deep freeze.

No One Will Guess

Zest can be added to brown gravy with a teaspoon of instant coffee. Instant dry milk also can be used in gravy by adding it when the water-flour mixture starts to boil and thicken.

Start With Basic Muffin Recipe and Vary to Suit Taste

What could be a nicer meal-time surprise for your family than a basket of piping hot, home-baked muffins on the table? Winter's crisp days seem to inspire more home baking, and thoughtful homemakers enjoy trying new recipes for their family's delight.

The creative homemaker especially likes basic recipes she can vary according to her imagination.

Spend a few minutes today mixing up a batch of muffins. Here are some hints to assure you picture-perfect, tender, golden muffins. Add the liquid ingredients all at once to the dry.

Stir slightly and quickly just until the dry ingredients are moistened — the batter will be quite lumpy. Overmixing causes tough, "tunnely" muffins.

For easy removal of the muffins from the pan grease the bottom of each cup thoroughly with solid shortening. For best volume grease the sides of the muffin cups lightly or, better yet, not at all.

Here is the basic muffin recipe plus some interesting variations.

Muffins

2 cups sifted enriched flour*
2 tablespoons sugar
1 tablespoon baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
1 egg, beaten
1 cup milk
2 tablespoons melted shortening or oil

Sift together flour, sugar, baking powder and salt. Combine egg, milk and shortening or oil. Add liquid to flour mixture, stirring only until flour is moistened.

Fill greased muffin pans $\frac{3}{4}$ full. Bake in hot oven (425 degrees) 20 to 25 minutes or until lightly browned.

Makes 1 dozen muffins.

*If self-rising flour is used, omit baking powder and salt.

Cinnamon Streusel Muffins for breakfast start the day in a festive mood.

Make the Cinnamon Streusel Topping by combining 3 tablespoons butter or margarine, $\frac{1}{2}$ cup sugar, $\frac{1}{2}$ cup sifted enriched flour and 1 teaspoon cinnamon until crumbly.

Prepare the muffin batter as directed and spoon into pans, filling $\frac{3}{4}$ full. Sprinkle 1 tablespoon topping on each muffin, then bake as for plain muffins.

Banana-Orange Muffin Puffs can be whipped up in a jiffy when unexpected company calls. Increase the sugar to $\frac{1}{2}$ cup.

Mash 1 medium banana (about $\frac{1}{2}$ cup). Add the mashed banana to the liquid ingredients. Combine dry and liquid ingredients, mix and bake as for plain muffins.

While the muffins bake, combine $\frac{1}{2}$ cup sugar and 1 teaspoon grated orange rind. Melt $\frac{1}{2}$ cup butter or margarine.

Remove the muffins from the pans and roll first in melted butter or margarine, then in sugar mixture.

Remove muffins from the pans as soon after baking as possible to prevent them from becoming soggy. If the muffins are not to be served immediately, loosen and "tilt" them in the cups to allow steam to per and lettuce in a large salad bowl.

Combine remaining ingredients in jar with lid; shake to blend. Pour over salad; toss gently. Makes 4 to 6 servings. Cover loosely with a cloth to keep warm.

Vegetables Fine With Egg

Have a vegetable problem in your family? The ones dad doesn't like the children won't touch? Solve the problem by serving vegetables in combination with other foods.

Many people dislike a particular vegetable because of its flavor or texture. When this same vegetable is used as a recipe ingredient it becomes more acceptable. And after repeated menu offerings aversions are overcome.

This recipe for Eggs Veget is an ideal means of introducing your family to green beans. The beans are the eye-catching, diagonally-cut variety that come conveniently canned.

Served as a special ingredient in fluffy scrambled eggs, they'll be hard to resist. Sautéed mushrooms provide the second surprise.

Eggs Veget

One 4½-oz. jar sliced mushrooms, drained
3 tablespoons butter or margarine, melted
6 eggs, well beaten
½ cup light cream
¼ teaspoon salt

One 16-oz. can diagonally-cut green beans, drained

Sauté drained canned mushrooms in melted butter or margarine in large heavy frying pan until lightly browned. Meanwhile combine eggs with cream and salt in mixing bowl. Gently stir in drained canned beans. Pour over sautéed mushrooms.

Cook over low heat as for regular scrambled eggs. Yield: 4 to 6 servings.

Popover Recipe Can Be Used for Pudding

Accompany roast beef with hot, puffy Yorkshire Pudding for an authentic British touch. About 50 minutes before dinner-time prepare your favorite popover recipe, omitting any fat called for in the batter.

Into each of eight custard cups pour 1 teaspoon beef drippings, then add the popover batter. Bake according to recipe directions. Serve hot, hot, hot.

Strips of Round Steak Get Stroganoff Touch

When a special meal is coming up on your menu schedule, it's a relief to have meat recipes you can rely upon as proven compliment winners. You'll be even more pleased with yourself when the enticing meal is kind to your food budget.

One new idea, which once tried is destined for this special recipe file, is Savory Steak Strips.

Something similar to Stroganoff, the scrumptious entree combines strips of beef, onion, consomme, mushrooms, green pepper and seasonings. When the meat is tender, sour cream is folded in, and the savory meat and sauce are served over gingered rice.

Use beef round steak as an economy measure. Be sure to use a very sharp knife when cutting the strips.

Savory Steak Strips
1 beef round steak, cut ½ inch thick
¼ cup flour
1½ teaspoons salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
¼ teaspoon paprika
3 tablespoons lard or drippings
1 medium onion, thinly sliced

½ can (10½ ounces) or ¾ cup condensed consomme
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce

1 can (2 ounces) mushroom stems and pieces, drained
½ cup chopped green pepper
1 cup dairy sour cream
1 cup rice
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon ginger

2 cups water

Cut steak into strips ¼ inch wide and 3 inches long.

Combine flour, 1½ teaspoons salt, pepper and paprika. Dredge steak strips in seasoned flour. Brown in lard or drippings. Pour off drippings.

Add onion, consomme and Worcestershire sauce to meat. Cover tightly and cook slowly 45 minutes. Add mushrooms and green pepper and continue cooking 30 minutes.

Stir small amount of steak mixture into sour cream. Then add sour cream to steak strips and cook just until heated through.

Combine rice, 1 teaspoon salt, ginger and water in a saucepan. Cover tightly and cook slowly until rice is tender, about 15 minutes. Serve steak strips on rice. 6 servings.

HONEY-BROWNED CHOPS — There's a hint of the Orient in this recipe for pork chops. Honey, ginger and kitchen bouquet coat the chops before browning. Serve with tiny carrots and sliced pineapple.

Oven Baked Pork Chops Get Oriental Touch With Glaze

Pork is often listed as a "plentiful food" and a "good buy" and of course it's delicious roasted or braised or diced and used as an ingredient in an Oriental-type recipe or prepared with many types of variations.

Since pork needs to be cooked well done, it should be well browned then cooked at a moderate temperature top stove or in the oven until thoroughly cooked through.

Here we have Honey-Browned Pork Chops which are first browned and then oven baked and served with carrots and pineapple glazed in the cooking skillet. Serve with hot cooked noodles or hot rice combined with sliced or chopped broiled mushrooms.

Honey-Browned Pork Chops
4 large rib pork chops,
¾" thick
2 tablespoons honey
1 teaspoon kitchen bouquet

½ teaspoon ginger
2 tablespoons cooking oil
¼ cup hot water
1 can (8½ oz.) sliced pineapple
½ cup brown sugar
1 can (1 lb.) small whole carrots

Brush entire surface of pork chops with mixture of honey, kitchen bouquet and ginger. Heat oil in skillet and brown chops on both sides.

Remove chops to shallow baking pan, add hot water, then cover and bake in pre-heated 325 degree oven until thoroughly cooked and tender, about 1 hour.

About 20 minutes before pork chops are done, drain off all but 2 tablespoons of the fat from the skillet in which chops were cooked then add pineapple juice. Stir in brown sugar and bring to a boil.

Add pineapple and carrots then cover and, using moderate heat, allow to heat through, about 10 minutes. Uncover, increase heat and allow pineapple and carrots to glaze.

Watch carefully turning pineapple over once or twice until evenly coated, about 5 minutes. Serve with pork chops topping the chops with a spoonful of the glaze. Makes 4 servings.

Canned Shrimp Oh, So Useful!

One small can of shrimp will make 3 sandwiches.

Spicy Shrimp Sandwiches
1 can (4½ ounces) cleaned deveined shrimp
2 tablespoons mayonnaise
1 tablespoon chili sauce
1 tablespoon drained sweet pickle relish
6 slices bread
Butter

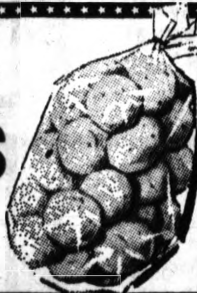

Pour off liquid from shrimp; rinse in cold water; drain. In a small bowl mix together the mayonnaise, chili sauce and pickle relish; add shrimp and mix well, breaking up slightly with a fork.

Toast bread if desired; spread with butter; make 3 sandwiches with the shrimp filling — there should be about ¼ cup of the mixture for each. Cut each sandwich into triangles and serve at once. Makes 3 servings.

Turn Stale Cake Cubes Into an English Trifle

Turn leftover plain cake into a delectable mock English trifle. Slice the cake thinly and spread half the slices with strawberry jam. Cover the jam slices with the plain slices and cut into small cubes. Dip the cubes quickly in orange juice. Prepare instant vanilla pudding according to package directions and gently fold in the cake cubes. Chill and top with whipped cream to serve.

State Launches Educational Drive Against Smoking

LANSING (AP) — Michigan health officials began constructing an antismoking campaign Wednesday with a boost from an advertising agency executive who urged a "positive approach" in educational materials directed against smoking.

A seven-point outline for action by State Health Commissioner Albert Heustis was the outcome of the "conference on the cigarette hazard" called by Gov. George Romney.

Some 40 representatives of state and voluntary agencies discussed control measures including licensing all cigarette sellers, raising state tax on cigarettes and repealing existing age limit laws for smokers.

But speaker after speaker emphasized a belief that the basic antismoking tool should be an educational campaign presenting facts on the hazards of smoking.

NO PROHIBITION

Romney spoke against prohibition of smoking. He called instead for concerted action by public, volunteer and private agencies to produce publicity against smoking similar to that supporting safety programs.

Robert Anderson of 1680 Hillwood, Bloomfield Hills, an advertising agency executive, criticized educational posters and pamphlets based on approaches such as those comparing lung cancer deaths with traffic deaths, and slogans like "For Heaven's Sake — Don't Smoke Now."

STRESS POSITIVE

To have an effect on teenagers, Anderson said, a campaign must stress something thing positive for youth "right now—not something out in the future."

"You must make it admirable for people not to smoke," he stressed. He suggested a personal physical fitness campaign.

Dr. Heustis, for discussion purposes, proposed increasing the state tax on cigarettes from seven to 10 cents a pack and suggested repealing laws against youthful smoking that have been proved unenforceable.

Deputy State Revenue Commissioner Donovan Rau argued that a tax increase would create an extremely difficult bootlegging problem. He said the ten cents a pack rate would be the highest in the U. S.

ENOUGH TROUBLE

"We have trouble enough now," he added.

As an alternative, Rau proposed following the example of 30 other states and adopting a licensing plan covering all locations at which cigarettes are sold. He said the revenue department would support such a plan.

At $10 per location, he said, a license fee on some 40,000 retail sellers and about 37,000 vending machines in the state could produce $770,000 in revenue which, in turn, could be used for an enforcement or educational campaign.

It was noted that licensing could provide an effective means of preventing the sale of cigarettes to those under 17. A dealer found selling cigarettes to minors would lose his license, the conference agreed.

A related proposal was that licenses could carry a distance provision such as, "No cigarette vending machine shall be placed within one-half mile of a school."

Dr. Robert Rowe, president of the Michigan Health Officers Association, said some 30 or 40 county health departments in the state probably would be happy to institute withdrawal clinics for those who want to quit smoking "if they get enough funds for clinical psychologists and staff members to carry out the program."

Officials of the Michigan State Medical Society, the Michigan Association of Osteopathic Physicians and Surgeons, and Dr. Rowe concurred in the belief that education is the key to combating the smoking problem.

Rep. Edson Root, R-Bangor and head of the House Health Committee, cautioned the conference about proposals to label cigarettes on a state basis. The conference later followed his recommendation in suggesting that Dr. Heustis ask for such action by the federal government.

SPEAK OUT!

Sen. William Leppien, R-Saginaw, representing the Senate Health Committee, urged rabbis, priests and pastors to speak out against smoking and declared health officials should seek help through the churches.

The seven-point program in health department buildings and in hospitals. Dr. Heustis said he already had cut off vending machine sales in the health department units.

Members of the health professions were asked to spread the nonsmoking message "by precept and example."

The conference recommended against retail and vending machine sales of cigarettes in state ence was held, Dr. Heustis noted that no cigarettes were smoked in the room during the five hours the conference was in session. Several pipe smokers were present, however.

Search Begins for State Firsts

Top Items Honored
in Michigan Week

The search begins this week for Michigan's product of the year, its agricultural development and the year's outstanding community economic achievement.

All three honors will be awarded during the 11th annual Michigan Week, May 17-23, according to Milton G. Kendrick, awards chairman.

A request has been sent to 16 regional chairmen of Michigan Week that they push for nominations in all counties in the three categories.

Kendrick said that county judging must be completed by March 15 regional judging by April 15; and all entries from the 16 regions must reach the state committee by April 24.

BEGAN IN '59
Products of the year since the feature of Michigan Week began in 1959 are the film "Anatomy of a Murder"; 1960, Hush Puppy shoes; 1961, Metrecai; 1962, Apache camping trailer; and 1963, a portable building called Paradome.

The achievement of the year award was first given in 1962 to the Adrian Chamber of Commerce. The first agriculture award was made in 1963 and went to the potato growers in the central part of the Upper Peninsula.

Fires on mountain tops were used to notify Greece of the fall of Troy.

Aims at Russia, S. America

De Gaulle Broadens Bid for Influence

PARIS (UPI) — President Charles de Gaulle's independent policy to win renewed French grandeur across the world widened today on three fronts — Russia, Communist China and Latin America.

Finance Minister Valéry Giscard d'Estaing left for Moscow for week-long talks aimed at boosting trade between France and the Soviet Union.

The trade mission coincided with virtual completion of French plans to recognize Communist China over strong objections by the United States.

A formal announcement of recognition is expected early next week.

BRAZIL VISIT
De Gaulle's outreach to Latin America was signified by his announcement yesterday that he will visit Brazil this year.

He previously had announced a trip to Mexico in March.

All three moves were regarded by diplomatic observers here as slaps in the face for Washington and reaffirmation of de Gaulle's goal of making France a world power at the helm of a Europe independent of the United States.

Giscard d'Estaing was invited to Moscow by Soviet Trade Minister Nikolai Patolichev for high-level negotiations that might include a meeting with Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev.

Western observers in Moscow said the Kremlin may be interested in new long-term credits to buy equipment for Russia's lagging chemical industry.

The Soviet Union, which currently enjoys a favorable balance in trade with France, was understood to want an extension of the existing three-year agreement signed in 1963 to as much as a 10-year period.

While the U.S. State Department has sanctioned American wheat deals with Russia, it has protested British trade with Cuba. And West Germany's growing trade with the Soviet bloc was discussed by President Johnson and West German Chancellor Ludwig Erhard recently.

Rene Sanson, a French trade expert, said yesterday France also hopes to bolster its commerce with Southeast Asia this year. This aim and the decision to recognize Red China reflect de Gaulle's drive for a revival of French influence in southeast Asia.

NEW FACTOR
French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville said yesterday that recognition of Peking was prompted by the belief that the Moscow-Peking ideological and political split made Communist China a new independent factor on the international scene.

He said the de Gaulle government feels that no major Asian problem can be settled without taking into account the existence of Peking.

It was understood the government believes French representation in Peking can facilitate settlement of the Laos and Viet Nam conflicts.

(In Saigon yesterday, South Viet Nam's council of notables, which advises the government, called for a suspension of relations with France. Informed sources said the council urged the action because of France's decision to recognize Peking and French proposals that South Viet Nam's war against Communist guerrillas be settled through negotiation.)

De Gaulle's acceptance of an invitation to visit Brazil, probably in September, ended the so-called "lobster war" between the two nations stemming from the intrusion of Brazilian waters by French fishing boats.

The president's trip to Brazil will be part of a Latin American tour due to include Argentina, Peru and possibly other nations.

Concert Pianist Has a Busy, Lonely Life

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — A top concert pianist gets from $500 to $6,000 an appearance.

There are perhaps some 25 of these keyboard artists in the nation. One of the best is John Browning, 30, a slender and handsome bachelor, who started picking out tunes at the age of 3 and started taking lessons at 5.

He made his first debut at 10, but didn't become a professional in public until he had reached the ripe age of 20.

"Both my parents are musicians, and they didn't want to rush me too fast," Browning explained. "The child prodigy bit can be dangerous."

"The public sometimes gets tired of hearing him, and decides he doesn't sound so impressive after he grows up. Also, the artist himself can get bored if he starts too soon. By 50 he's tired of the business," he said.

A WESTERNER

Browning, who comes from Denver, Colo., and Los Angeles, became an international musical figure in 1956 when he won the gold medal award in Brussels. Since then he has performed with most of the great orchestras here and in Europe.

"It's a highly competitive field," he said. "This seems to be an age of pianists, and talent at present seems to come mostly from the United States and Russia, rather than Western Europe.

"Men outnumber women about 10-1. Women either get married or weary of a concert artist's life. It can be rough."

The chief ordeal is the constant travel.

LUGGAGE HEAVY

"Another problem is the shortage of porters at rail terminals," he said. "If I have to carry my own luggage — it weighs about 60 pounds — it pulls my arm muscles the wrong way, and I'm afraid it could affect my performance."

Browning now solves this by wiring ahead for a messenger to meet him at the station. Other woes of the concert artist's life: Poor acoustics, bad pianos, the social receptions that inevitably follow a concert, "and, above all, the constant need of keeping up your standard, to keep yourself up to play your best no matter how you feel physically."

He spends anywhere from up to 14 hours a day at the piano, has committed to memory 30 concertos and more than 10 hours of solo music. This means he could play about 40 hours continuously without repeating a work.

NO TIME FOR GIRLS

Browning would seem a highly eligible Leap Year candidate for marriage, but says he is kept so busy that he hasn't yet been able to find the right girl. He exercises regularly, takes some honey for fast energy just before walking out on the stage for his bout with the piano.

"If your health holds up and you don't get arthritis," he said, smiling.

"Fortunately, pianists seem to get arthritis less often than other people. We're lucky in that respect."

Suspensions Confirmed: Congressional Trash

No Recurrence of Cancer for Van Johnson

NEW YORK (AP) — Doctors at Memorial Hospital have told actor Van Johnson there is no recurrence of the cancer for which he underwent surgery 10 months ago.

Johnson, who had a skin cancer removed from his thigh in the earlier operation, underwent an exploratory operation on a lymph gland in the thigh last Thursday.

A spokesman for the actor disclosed today that laboratory tests after the operation were negative, showing no sign of a return of the malignancy.

The spokesman said Johnson is expected to remain in the hospital a week or 10 days.

New Topic for Movies on War

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD — "You won't be seeing much of me any more," said Clyde Mack, the cynical flack.

"How so?" I asked, trying to disguise my delight. The visits of the chronically unemployed press agent are an occupational hazard.

"I've got it all figured out how," THOMAS replied.

OPEN SEASON
"It's open season on the armed forces—see?" he continued. "You remember those pictures with Randy Scott leading the charge out of the landing boat with a hearty 'Gung ho!'? And Bill Bendix cradling the machine gun in his arms and yelling, 'I'll get them lousy bums!'?"

"No more of that hero jazz. You got to have realism in movies nowadays. War isn't some kid's game. War is hell, don't you know, and it's fought by devils."

"The Army gets its licks in 'The Victors.' You think those GI's in Europe were a bunch of Lon McCallisters? Not on your life. They were sex-mad black marketeers who went around shooting puppies."

"Don't think the Air Force is going to get off easy. Take 'Dr. Stangelove.' There you've got a cigar-chomping general who thinks the Russians are subverting the American body fluids by means of fluoridation. What's the solution? By airmailing a few dozen H-bombs to the Soviets."

ANCHORS AWAY
"Next comes the Navy, and 'The Americanization of Emily' will take care of it. You think that's a nice little movie about an immigrant girl? No, it's about a Navy officer who's the ace freeloader during the British blitz. And an admiral who thinks the Army is getting all the glory in D-Day and wants the Navy to score the first casualty on the Normandy beachhead."

"I asked him to get to the point. 'Don't you see it?' he demanded. 'What haven't the movies knocked yet? The Marines! I'm going to write the hardest-hitting expose of the Marines that has ever been written and sell it to the studios for a small fortune. After that, I'm going to work on the Peace Corps.'"

Booster Leadership at Stake in Launch

By HOWARD BENEDICT

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — World leadership in rocket power may be the prize next Monday when the United States plans to launch the Saturn 1 on its first two-stage test flight.

If all goes well, the rocket will lift a 37,700-pound satellite. The satellite, mostly dead weight with no scientific value, will dwarf the largest payloads orbited by the Soviet Union — Sputnik 7 and 8 which weighed 14,292 pounds each. The heaviest American space payload weighed 227.5 tons.

DISCLOSED DETAILS
The National Aeronautics and Space Administration today disclosed details of the Saturn 1, which has been on a launching pad here since last August, waiting out months of checkout and several weeks technical delay.

The rocket stands 164 feet tall and fully fueled weighs 562 tons. The State of Liberty is 151 feet and weighs 227.5 tons.

The first stage, 21.5 feet in diameter, has an eight-engine powerplant which will generate 1.5 million pounds of thrust about 34 million horsepower.

This is designed to lift the rocket above the earth's atmosphere. At an altitude of 48 miles, the real key to Saturn 1's power flashes to action: A second stage with six engines that burn liquid hydrogen and produce 90,000 pounds of thrust.

FIRST TIME

The second stage will be flown for the first time Monday. Four earlier flights used only the first stage.

Experts believe a good test will give the United States a booster lead over the Soviet Union. Best estimates place the thrust of the big Soviet space rockets at between 1 and 1.2 million pounds. There is no evidence of their progress with liquid hydrogen.

Barry Scoffs at K Pledge to Defend Cuba if Invaded

By WALTER R. MEARS

WITH GOLDWATER IN NEW HAMPSHIRE (AP) — Republican Sen. Barry Goldwater presses his hunt for New Hampshire votes today, scoffing at Soviet Premier Khrushchev's pledge to defend Communist Cuba against any invader.

The Arizona senator said he wonders whether even Fidel Castro believes the promise Khrushchev made as the Cuban premier ended a visit to Moscow.

A joint communique issued Wednesday night renewed a Soviet pledge to aid Cuba "by all means at its disposal" if Cuba is invaded.

HOW MUCH FAITH

"I'd like to know how much faith Castro has in that when he puts his head on his pillow to night," Goldwater said in an interview.

"Why should Khrushchev risk a real tough third war and the destruction of Russia?"

Goldwater, seeking the GOP presidential nomination, spoke with approval Wednesday of the ill-fated 1960 invasion of the Bay of Pigs and forecast a new blockade or invasion of Cuba.

"One of these days, whether we like it or not, some forces of the Organization of American States and the United States are going to have to repeat that same action if we're going to get rid of this dangerous cancer in the belly of the Western Hemisphere," he said.

VOTE SEEKING
Goldwater winds up his three-day campaign stint tonight. He has promised to return for 16 or 17 more days of vote seeking in New Hampshire, site of the nation's first 1964 presidential primary.

"I seek your help in the election on March 10th so that we might give the American people a choice, not an echo," he said Wednesday night.

"If the Republican party wants to nominate an echo I suggest the people would go again to the Democratic party where the real liberal noise is," he told some 750 persons who crowded the high school auditorium at Laconia.

He charged the Democrats are on the road to disarmament and isolation. "The surest way of getting into war that I know of."

Area Credit Union

Reelects President

Sylvester V. Schmanky, 3708 Embarcadero, Waterford Township, has been reelected president of the Body Crafters Federal Credit Union, 846 Baldwin.

Other officers of the credit union which serves Fisher Body employees are Clifford Cremer, vice president Robert Kempf, secretary and Glen Treadway, treasurer and general manager.

Rocky Hits Stereo Gift to Johnson

BOSTON (AP)—The gift of a $580 stereo set to then Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson reminds New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of the vicuna coat presents given top figures of the Eisenhower administration.

"I remember a gentleman," Rockefeller said Wednesday in a news conference, "who worked in the White House and who received a vicuna coat."

"He was bitterly criticized and censured for that. The American people don't like to see their officials taking favors."

AIDE TO IKE
Rockefeller obviously referred to Sherman Adams, former governor of New Hampshire and assistant to President Eisenhower.

Adams resigned from the White House staff after disclosure of the gift from Bernard Goldfine, Boston industrialist.

Rockefeller recalled the incident when he was asked his opinion of testimony before the Senate Rules Committee that Johnson was given a stereo set by an insurance dealer at the suggestion of Robert G. Baker, then majority secretary of the Senate.

NOT REPRESENTATIVE
Turning to his chief Republican opponent for the presidential nomination, Rockefeller said the thinking of Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater "does not represent the Republican party nor the general public."

Rockefeller was in Boston to attend a Dartmouth College alumni meeting. His remarks at the alumni meeting were confined to college affairs.

Rockefeller said a recent poll which he did not identify, showed that many of Goldwater's followers oppose the senator's views on several issues.

Chiefs Honing Hatchets for SVC Leader

Central Meets Saginaw Five on Foe's Court

PCH Eyes League Lead, Squad Owns 7-1 Season Mark

Pontiac Central's Chiefs have been putting an extra sharp edge on their basketball hatchets this week.

They go on the war path Friday seeking victory at Saginaw and possibly the Saginaw Valley Conference lead. It is considered the top game of the night in Michigan.

Saginaw is tied with Flint Central for first, but the Trojans are ranked only eighth in the state AP Class A rating. PCH is third. The ratings have meant little the last two years when PCH and Saginaw collided.

Two years ago the Chiefs traveled to Saginaw as the No. 1 rated quintet. They came home scalped and the Trojans went on to a perfect season including the state championship.

Saginaw invaded the Chiefs' tepee last season as a heavy favorite to enhance their chances for another SVC title.

What happened that night was almost unbelievable.

The Chiefs ran up a 19-0 lead and went on to bomb the Trojans, 69-49. Saginaw never fully recovered from that shellacking quickly fell from contention.

Saginaw will carry a 5-0 league record into Friday's game which starts at 8 p.m. The Trojan's only loss was in overtime to nonleague Lansing Eastern. Pontiac Central is 5-1 in the SVC and 7-1 overall.

STILL REMEMBER

Saginaw players and fans haven't forgotten what happened last season.

They will be thirsting for revenge. A victory by Saginaw plus a Flint Central loss at Flint Northern Friday would leave the Trojans with a fat two-game buge.

However, if the Chiefs win, they will be first, providing Flint Central loses.

Even if the Indians win, PCH would be in second place, a half game out of first and the same distance ahead of the Trojans.

A Saginaw victory wouldn't be disastrous for PCH. The return match is scheduled for the Central gym Feb. 7. The Trojans also must play Flint Central twice. PCH lost its only encounter with the Flint Central five this season.

Scouting reports indicate Saginaw is blessed with a pair of good guards, a veteran forward and a towering center.

Bill DeLong (5-11) and Don Hosea (5-8) are highly regarded back court players. Forward Jerry Patton (6-2) was a regular last season and is the team's top scorer.

The big man in the middle is Roy Hinton (6-5 1/2).

The Trojans will be slight favorites in the encounter, mainly because of the home floor advantage.

S P O R T S

Blue Jay 5 Next on PNH Guest List

Home, sweet home was just that last week for Pontiac Northern and coach Dick Hall has hopes there will be no let-down by the basketball squad Friday night.

Inter-Lakes League opponent Southfield will come calling tomorrow with upset the topic for the evening. It will not be the visiting Blue Jays who are favored.

PNH returned home last week for the first time in six scheduled games and promptly set a school scoring mark of 104 while snapping a three-game losing string.

The win (over Waterford) enabled the Huskies to remain tied for first place in the I-L race with a 3-1 log. Southfield lost to Farmington (also 3-1) and slipped into a tie with Walled Lake and Berkley for third place at 2-2.

Other games this week will have Walled Lake at Waterford and Farmington traveling to Berkley.

ADDED DEPTH

The outlook now seems much brighter for Northern since its next five games will be at home. And the Huskies seem to have more depth than previously this season.

Jim DeFlorio and Dave Sudbury have come along fast in recent games to join Roger Hayward, Dean Souden as regular performers.

In addition, little used guard Dave Shieb had eight points last week to command more playing time.

Southfield has not shown a particularly strong defense nor consistent offense. The Blue Jays do have well balanced height.

Among the regulars are Harry Glass and Ray Schlaff (both 6-3), Pete McAlpine and Rich Smigelski (6-2) and Joe Considine and Dennis Lamb (6-1).

Walled Lake will bring one of the circuit's better frontliners in 6-3 George Bullock to Waterford. The springy-legged center had his best game last week with 22 points and 27 rebounds against Berkley.

Waterford still is looking for its first league win and the key to end its six game losing streak. Coach Bob Taylor has not found the starting five for a consistent effort.

Farmington has won its last two games (both at home) while Berkley's Bears have a three-game winning streak (the last two as the visiting team).

ICE FALL-IES — The New York Rangers Vic Hadfield (11) has a good take down hold on Boston's Jerry Toppazzini (21) as they wrestle during last night's National Hockey League game at Madison Square Garden. Having a bird's eye view of the bout is New York coach Red Sullivan (standing on railing). Larry Cahan (5) and Earl Ingarfield (10) were also close to the action. The Bruins' Murray Oliver (not pictured) was involved in the altercation and joined Toppazzini and Hadfield in the penalty box. The Rangers won, 6-4.

Irish Driver Leads Race

MONTE CARLO, Mocano, (UPI)—Paddy Hopkirk, a veteran Irish driver, appeared today to be the winner of the 33rd Monte Carlo auto rally.

Heading into the final phase this morning, Hopkirk appeared unbeatable, barring accidents.

He was 31.1 points ahead of his nearest competitor, Erik Carlsson of Sweden. Hopkirk was driving a Morris Cooper and Carlsson an 841 CC red Saab.

AP Photos

WOLVERINE ACES — Michigan has a potent one-two punch for scoring and rebounding in Bill Buntin (left) and Cazzie Russell. Buntin, 6-5 junior, has 160 rebounds and a 21.9 scoring tempo. Russell is hitting 22.8 per game and has 138 rebounds. The U-M quintet is 13-1 for the season and leads the Big Ten race.

Two Teams to Tangle Saturday

Michigan 5 'Pains' MSU Mentor

ANN ARBOR (UPI) — It must be painful for Michigan State basketball coach Fordy Anderson to see Michigan, a team which has had little glamor on the courts until this season, making hay at the expense of the Big Ten this year.

It will hurt even more when Bob Strack takes his No. 3 rated Wolverines to East Lansing Saturday for a duel with Anderson's so-so Spartans.

The Spartans have been idle in Big Ten action for almost two weeks and were hammered by Notre Dame, 95-80, last Saturday.

The Wolverines, on the other hand, have never been hotter. They handled Minnesota in stride Tuesday with an 80-66 thrashing that seemed almost too easy.

The win boosted Michigan's season record to 13-1 overall and 4-0 in the Big Ten. Only Illinois, idle with exams, is also unbeaten in Big Ten play with a 2-0 mark.

Michigan State, on the other hand, is 8-6 overall and 2-2 in the Big Ten.

Anderson must also win when he sees that Bill Buntin and Cazzie Russell have been averaging better than 20 points a game all season.

Only Pete Gent of the Spartans can make a similar claim.

But since the Spartans are playing on their home court, it should make them stronger and Strack will have to reckon with the fact that Michigan State in four of its five home games has scored more than 100 points.

It's almost a sure bet that the grin Strack has been wearing almost all season will still be there after Saturday's clash.

Sonny Liston Training Hard

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Sonny Liston's chief trainer says the heavyweight champion "will be in the best shape of his life" when he defends his title against Cassius Clay at Miami Beach Feb. 25.

"Sonny is not taking Clay lightly," trainer Willie Reddish said Wednesday. "Clay pops off a lot but he's a good fighter and Liston knows it."

"There is no mistake in the ratings. Clay is the No. 1 contender and he deserves it. . . . You seldom see a big man who is as fast and moves as good as he does."

Liston will fly to Florida Sunday and continue his training.

Montreal Has Share of Lead

By The Associated Press

The surprising Montreal Canadiens didn't figure as a formidable threat in the National Hockey League this season, but they've projected themselves right into the thick of the race.

This was supposed to be a year of rebuilding for the Flying Frenchmen, who finished third last season. But Coach Toe Blake had different ideas.

The Canadiens' attack and defense have jelled, and with Charlie Hodge in the nets they have moved into a share of first place with the Chicago Black Hawks.

SHUTOUT

Montreal blanked the Maple Leafs 3-0 on Toronto ice Wednesday night as Hodge posted his second shutout in six days and third of the season. The Canadiens and the idle Black Hawks have 53 points each with Montreal having played one game less than Chicago.

In the only other game, the resurgent New York Rangers cooled off the Boston Bruins 6-4 on a four-goal rally in the final period. The victory moved the Rangers within three points of the fourth-place Detroit Red Wings in their duel for the last playoff spot.

Following Montreal's victory, Blake said, "We're in first place now, and I think we can stay there. Most of the boys are playing well, and if our defense holds up we'll be okay."

The Montreal coach also praised Hodge. "He played terrific goal for us," Blake said. "He has all season, but this game was especially important."

Gilles Tremblay, Henri Richard and Dave Balon scored for the Canadiens. Hodge had 32 saves.

Meanwhile, Coach Red Sullivan of the Rangers said, "our hat's in the ring now," after his club had moved within striking distance of fourth place.

Sullivan was pleased with New York's come-from-behind victory over the last-place Bruins, whose four-game unbeaten string was snapped.

The Rangers won their seventh game in nine starts and opened up a seven-point edge over Boston, which led 2-0 at the end of the first period and 3-2 after the second.

Southfield Matmen Test Unbeaten Northern Team

Pontiac Northern's wrestling squad will be favored to extend its unbeaten dual string when Southfield moves onto the Huskie mat this evening.

The Huskies own a 7-0 overall mark and lead the Inter-Lakes League with a 2-0 record.

Other matches on the I-L slate have Berkley at Farmington and Waterford at Walled Lake.

Pontiac Central plays host to Flint Central in a Saginaw Valley Conference contest. The Chiefs have piled up a 3-4-1 mark.

Detroit Thurston will try to knock North Farmington out of the Northwest Suburban lead in a match on the Falcons' mat.

If the Falcons lose, Livonia Franklin could take over first place with a decision over winless Oak Park.

In bouts on the non-conference schedule, Cranbrook journeys to Lake Orion, Fitzgerald plays host to Roseville and L'Anse au Loup invades Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows.

Birmingham Groves will be looking for its first win of the season in a contest at Country Day Friday.

No Additions to Baseball 'Hall'

BOSTON (AP) — The door of that handsome, red brick Colonial building at Cooperstown, N.Y.—baseball's Hall of Fame—was still open today.

And shortstop Luke Appling and pitcher Charley (Red) Ruffing will lead 30 former big leaguers in an unprecedented second knock.

Balloting by baseball writers announced Wednesday showed none of the 59 old-time players nominated received the necessary 75 per cent of the votes cast.

Appling, who played 20 seasons for the Chicago White Sox between 1930 and 1950, received 142 votes, nine short of the 151 needed.

Right-hander Ruffing, who won 20 games or more four straight years while with the New York Yankees, polled 141.

But they and 28 others will get another chance.

The Baseball Writers Association of America instituted a change in 1962, the last time the biennial voting was conducted, authorizing a second ballot in the event no candidate received the needed three-quarters vote.

Unless there's a tie, only one player from the 30 now eligible will be admitted to the Hall of Fame.

OTHER TOP NAMES

Others among the 30 include Roy Campanella, Ducky Medwick, Pee Wee Reese, Lou Boudreau, Al Lopez, Chuck Klein, Johnny Mize and Mel Harder.

Campanella, confined to a wheelchair the past few years, because of injuries suffered in an auto accident, placed third in the first voting. He received 115 votes. He was named the National League's Most Valuable Player three times during his 10 years as a Brooklyn Dodgers Catcher.

Medwick, who led the National League in eight departments in 1937 while with the St. Louis Cardinals' Gashouse Gang, finished in fourth place with 108 votes.

The other 20 top vote getters: Johnny Vander Meer, Marty Marion, Lloyd Waner, Phil Rizzuto, Allie Reynolds, Bucky Walters, George Kell, Ernie Lombardi, Ralph Kiner, Joe Gordon, Billy Herman, Hal Newhouser, Bobby Doerr, Bob Lemon, Phil Cavarretta, Pepper Martin, Louis (Boo) Newsom, Arky Vaughan, Tommy Bridges and Leo Durocher.

Pistons Lose

76ers Have Team Woes

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Philadelphia 76ers, who have been having trouble of late beating National Basketball Association opposition, now are scrapping among themselves.

Cincinnati continued to plague the Celtics with its fifth victory in nine games between the teams. Oscar Robertson's 38 points paced the second-place Royals as they cut Boston's Eastern Division lead to 2½ games.

Jerry West scored 42 points in leading Los Angeles over Detroit. The Lakers, who moved two games in front in the Western Division, broke open the game in the first six minutes of the second quarter, outscoring the Pistons 18-4. Bailey Howell led Detroit with 23 points.

When Dave Gambee was removed from the Philadelphia-Baltimore game in the second quarter, he showed his displeasure by actions and words. Schayes retaliated by ordering Gambee to the dressing room for the remainder of the game.

TO BENCH

In the fourth quarter, Lee Schaffer cursed both Schayes and his replacement Ben Warley when he was ordered to the bench.

PNH Tankers Down Madison Squad, 74-31

Pontiac Northern's tank squad set one varsity record and tied another in turning back Madison Wednesday evening, 74-31.

Bob Bassinger turned in the record performance for the Huskies. He covered the 50-yard freestyle in a new time of :24.1 and came back with a clocking of :54.0 in the 100-yard freestyle that tied the varsity mark.

The win raised the Huskies' season mark to 5-3.

In a second swim meet, Fitzgerald ran its record to 7-2 with a 75-30 win over Utica.

Point Lead Still Held
by Emmanuel's Wingate

Ralph Wingate of Emmanuel Christian slipped a notch this week but he continues to lead the Oakland County prep basketball scoring race.

The slender forward picked up 24 points against Grosse Pointe U.S. but his scoring average dipped from 25.0 to 24.7.

Bruce McDonald of Rochester poured in 31 points as the Falcons lost to Lake Orion and raised his season mark to 24.1.

Pontiac Central's Mel DeWalt holds down the third spot with an average of 22.7, and Bruce Rodwan of Ferndale is lodged in fourth with a mark of 22.3.

New Haven's Dwight Lee paced the Rocket squad with 27 points in a victory over Capac last week and the output pushed his average in the area scoring race to 26.4.

John Scheuer of Capac trails Lee with a 23.1 average. Don Burns of Memphis picked up 35 markers in his last outing and climbed into the No. 3 spot in the race.

George Kell
Tops 9 Tigers
Getting Votes

BOSTON (AP) — Nine former Detroit Tigers received votes in the Hall of Fame balloting Wednesday, four of the group getting enough support to make the second ballot being mailed today.

The four among the top 30 were pitchers Hal Newhouse, Bobo Newsome, and Tommy Bridges, and third baseman George Kell. Kell got 33 votes, Newhouse 26, Newsome 17, and Bridges 15.

The other five were pitcher Fred Hutchinson and first baseman-outfielder Rudy York, 10 each; pitcher Virgil Trucks 4, pitcher Art Houtteman 2, and pitcher Dizzy Trout 1.

Three Pitchers Sign

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Three right-handed pitchers — Don Lee, Fred Newman and Aubrey Gatewood — have signed their 1964 contracts with the Los Angeles Angels.

Ferndale, Seaholm in Return Match

Birmingham Seaholm cagers started with a bang by trimming Ferndale, 72-51, in the season and Eastern Michigan League opener, but they haven't been the same team since.

The Seaholm quintet has struggled to a 4-3 league record and is tied for third place with East Detroit and Hazel Park. Ferndale, meanwhile, now has a 5-2 EML log.

The Eagles are one game behind pace setting Royal Oak Kimball. Ferndale has another shot at Seaholm Friday and this time it will be on the home court of the Eagles.

Hazel Park, which streaked to five straight opening victories in the league before hitting lean times, will be host to Kimball Friday in a must game for the homesters.

A triumph would put the Vikings right back in the league title chase. Kimball, however, would be in an excellent position if it wins and Seaholm again stops Ferndale.

EASIER TIMES

East Detroit does not figure to have too much trouble with visiting Port Huron while Mount Clemens (3-3) should also fare well at winless Roseville.

Seaholm is in a similar position to Hazel Park's. Victories by both Ferndale and RO Kimball would all but kill the Eagles' title chance.

Another Birmingham school with championship hopes will be on the road Friday. Brother Rice, the leader of the Detroit

2 Wings Assigned to Pittsburgh Club

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Red Wings Tuesday sent Alex Faulkner and John MacMillan to the Pittsburgh Hornets in the American Hockey League.

Faulkner, a center, and MacMillan, a left wing, will report to the Hornets for a game Wednesday against Cleveland.

The Wings are now one under the National Hockey League's limit of 16 men. Manager-Coach Sid Abel said he will probably bring up a player from the Hornets after Wednesday's game at Pittsburgh.

Catholic League's central division, will visit DeLaSalle.

In an earlier meeting at Birmingham, the Warriors started their current seven game winning streak with a 66-51 verdict. Last week Rice took revenge on Catholic Central, the only squad to defeat it, and a let-down might be eminent.

Birmingham Groves, a member of the Northwest Suburban League, is idle Friday as is Country Day.

The suburban circuit has its biggest game to date, however, with Detroit Thurston at North Farmington. Both are 3-0 in the first-year loop.

In a holiday tournament meeting that was "non-league,"

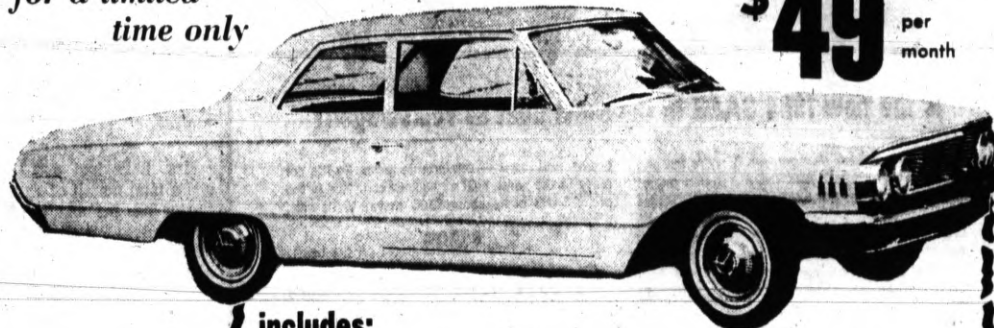

Thurston edged the Radiers, 60-56. The Detroit squad is 8-4 on the year and North Farmington is 4-5.

Livonia Franklin is at Oak Park in a battle between two winless league members.

Newcomer Holds Keg Lead

DALLAS (AP)—Tommy Tuttle, who picked up a bowling ball for the first time only five years ago, soared to a commanding lead in the first four rounds of the $100,000 All-Star Bowling Tournament.

The pudgy native of Rural Hall, N.C., won 12 and lost only four games during the first day of the round-robin finals Wednesday. He knocked down 3,631 pins, 288 more than second place Luke Barlow of Hobbs, N.M.

BEST PERFORMANCE

Tuttle's official total was 4,231 pins, including a 600 pin bonus, 50 for each game won.

Tuttle's finest performance of the day came in the second round when he clobbered Don Ellis of Houston, Tex., in three out of four games, 930 to 854.

Tuttle also closed the day with an impressive 923 series, enough to win three games from E. B. Dozier of Lubbock, Tex.

Tuttle's opponents today include third place Tom Henniesey of St. Louis, Barlow, 15th place Joe Cawlina of Lynn, Mass., and fourth place Bob Strampe of Detroit.

Barlow earned second place on the final squad of the day by taking three out of four games from defending champion Dick Weber of St. Louis in a closely fought 793-782 duel.

Norma Lake pounded out 200-plus averages in each of her first three rounds to keep sole possession of the lead until the fourth round.

The high-kicking Dallas star slowed down on the final squad of the day when she split two games with Rose Weinstein of Philadelphia. Mrs. Lake had 381 to Miss Weinstein's 374.

Laverne Carter of St. Louis surged up to tie Mrs. Lake on the last squad when she rolled a 400 series in her split match with Jeannette Bopp of Milwaukee.

Mrs. Lake had a 5-3 record and a total pinfall of 1,621. Mrs. Carter has 6-2 and a 1,571 pin total. Both women's scores translated into an adjusted total of 1,871, including bonuses.

Wild Game for Loafers

The annual wild game dinner sponsored for charities will be held by the West Bloomfield Loafers' club Saturday evening at Harbor Inn dining room. Serving will begin at 4:00 p.m.

TEE-CUP HOLDER — Former golfing great Ben Hogan holds "Gold Tee" cup awarded to him last night in New York by the Metropolitan Golf Writers Association at the National Golf Awards dinner. Casting an admiring glance at Ben's tee-cup is women's champion Mary Mills. The award went to Hogan for his contributions to golf and his comeback after a near-fatal accident. He won three U.S. Open titles after recovering from the mishap.

AP Wirephoto

Tourney Trail Loses Hold on Hogan

NEW YORK (AP)—"I have no regrets," Ben Hogan said. "A man has to quit some time. I've never been sorry I stopped when I did."

The mushrooming $100,000-plus purses and the pressure of bigtime golf, intensified by the heavyweight duel between Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus, no longer hold a lure for the tough little master from Fort Worth, Tex.

"If I could get some semblance of a putting stroke I would play in more tournaments, just for the pleasure of it," added Hogan, who was presented the Gold Tee Award Wednesday night by the Metropolitan Golf Writers Association. "But I'm not eager to win any more championships, just for championships' sake."

Hogan insisted he never was haunted by the thought that he might have won an unprecedented fifth National Open championship, passing Willie Anderson and Bob Jones, had he not cut short his competitive career in 1955.

Hogan announced his retirement after losing a playoff to Jack Fleck in the 1955 Open at San Francisco, saying at the time:

"I'll never work this hard again to win a tournament."

At that time, Ben had won four U.S. Opens, two Masters plus the British Open and the PGA. His 72-hole records in the Open and Masters still stand.

At 51, Hogan looks as lean and hard as in his best playing days but he insists he is plagued by the bugaboo of all aging golf champions—the putting yips.

AWARDS

Hogan was presented the Gold Tee Award, given for his contributions to the game, by U.S. Sen. Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn., the former secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, who praised the golfer's miraculous comeback after a near fatal auto accident in 1949.

"He overcame physical odds when many claimed they were insurmountable," the senator said. "He came back when they said he couldn't. He won when they said he was doomed to lose. He won our respect for his golf and his guts."

Bob Morgan, Hollywood stunt man who continued to play golf despite loss of a leg in a movie set accident in 1962, was presented the Ben Hogan Award, given to an individual who overcomes a handicap.

The Turnesa family was honored as the "Golf Family of the Year." Members included pros Jim, Mike, Phil, Doug and Joe and the former U.S. amateur champion, Willie.

Down but Not Beaten, Laker Plebe Five Wins

West Bloomfield's ninth grade basketball team overcame an 18-2 first quarter deficit Wednesday to defeat Northville, 45-40, for its fourth win in five starts.

Ted LaPratt hit 14 points to lead the little Lakers. Pat Windy had 11 and Gary Hankin scored 10 for the winners. West Bloomfield led 26-25 at halftime.

Rochester Set for Olympics This Saturday

The fifth annual Rochester Kiwanis Olympics will begin at 9 a.m. Saturday on the village rink at the Rochester Civic Center.

Kiwanis president Herbert Stoutenberg has named Carl Queck as chairman of this year's event. He will be assisted by club members and the high school Key Club.

The Detroit Skating Club led by former state outdoor champion Bobby Snyder will officiate the competition and also give exhibitions.

There were 50 ribbons presented last year to the more than 100 contestants. Competition for all age groups will begin at 9 a.m. and an increased turnout is expected.

Boys' Ice Showdown Delayed by Weather

The melting spell has forced postponement of two boys' ice hockey games tonight in the Waterford Township recreation league—including an early season showdown.

The Mountain View Rangers and Waterford Blades were slated to risk their unblemished marks against each other in an 8:15 p.m. senior division clash.

But the lack of ice on the outdoor rink at the North Side Community Club has postponed the contest. No decision has been made about Saturday's program.

A full slate of games is set for Saturday morning. Last week's results included two shutouts and two close verdicts.

British Sledder Dies in Olympic Accident

INNSBRUCK, Austria (AP)—A black mourning ribbon flapped from the five-ringed Olympic flag today as skiers, skaters and sledders resumed practice sessions in a suddenly somber atmosphere created by the accident that claimed the life of a British tobogganer.

Kaimierz Kay-Skrzypski, 50-year-old British Olympian, died Wednesday of injuries received 24 hours earlier when his sled careened off the chute at nearby Igls in a practice run for the event which will be held for the first time at these winter games.

Mike Hoskilla posted his second straight blanking by beating the North Side Boys Club, 4-0. Hoskilla mans the nets for the Waterford Blades in the senior division.

The other whitewash was turned in by Jerry Sawchuk, 3-0, for the Mountain View Rangers against the Lotus Lake Wings in the junior division.

Sawchuk is the son of Detroit Red Wings goalie Terry Sawchuk and has won both of his assignments to date.

Union Lake's Optimist team nudged Lakeland Pharmacy, 3-2, on Tom Vanderveldt's second goal for the senior team; while Tom Redding's second period score pushed the intermediate MV Rangers past the Drayton Merchants, 2-1.

SLOPE HOPE — Egon Zimmerman is Austria's prime hope for a medal in the downhill competition of the Winter Olympics starting Jan. 29 at Innsbruck, Austria.

U.S. Ski Team Is Optimistic

MADOONA DI CAMPAGLIO, Italy (AP)—Jean Saubert, the top U.S. hope for a Winter Olympic gold medal, says the American ski team is strong enough to win all six gold medals at stake.

"The American team probably never has been as strong as it is now," the 21-year-old Lakeview, Ore., skier said Wednesday night. "I'm not saying that we will win without fail, I'm just saying we are strong enough to win."

If the U.S. Alpine skiers were to accomplish such a feat, it would far exceed the performance of any previous American ski team. American men never have won a gold medal in the three events—the slalom, the giant slalom and the downhill.

Gretchen Fraser won the slalom in 1948, and Andrea Mead Lawrence scored a double in 1952 in the slalom and the giant slalom.

The present U.S. team completed its training in this north Italian winter resort Wednesday. It planned to leave today for Innsbruck, site of the Winter Games.

Miss Saubert, fully recovered from a siege of flu, said she is in the best possible shape. She was confident about her chances, saying: "If I'm skiing my best, I should be able to win."

U.S. Coach Bob Beattie believes the attractive brunette who stands 5-feet-6 and weighs 147 pounds is the best athlete he has.

The Oregon State University student missed a full semester of her teaching studies for the Olympics.

Mt. Holly Set to Race 200 During 2 Days

4 Classes Compete in Slalom Events at Dixie Site

The word is "go" for Saturday and Sunday's Michigan Open Ski Meet at Mt. Holly.

Despite poor weather conditions that forced the resort to shut down earlier this week, Grant Hanks of the resort staff advised the program would go on as scheduled barring impossible weather conditions.

Saturday boys and girls 17-years-old and under will vie in four classes for eight first place ribbons starting at 10 a.m.

Two runs will be made by each contestant down the separate slalom runs set up for the girls and boys. Combined times will be used to determine the winners.

The fourth annual Michigan Open will continue Sunday with two more divisions: the 18-through-31 and the 32-and-over. Starting again will be 10 a.m.

Registrations for both days' competition will close at 9 p.m. Friday at Mt. Holly. The program follows the rules of the U.S. Ski Association central division.

Spectators may watch the program free of charge. There will be open skiing during the competition and everyone with skis on must have an area skiing ticket.

More than 200 persons are expected to participate during the two days' competition. Bill Fisher of the Mt. Holly ski school will run the meet.

Pontiac Skier 1st at Dryden

The annual Dryden Open Ski Meet last weekend saw Pontiac's Dick Gorman take first place in both the downhill and slalom for 15-17 year olds.

Another Pontiac resident, Jack Stragea was second in both events. Lapeer's Barry Huffman captured third place in the downhill and Larry Haefeli third in the slalom.

In the 15-17 year old girls slalom, Gail Fletcher captured first prize and Sis Boulton was third. Both are from Rochester. Oxford's Paul Rossman was third in the 18-and-over slalom for men while Judy Isaacson of Almont topped the women's field.

4 Improve Rec Marks

Three leaders improved their positions and a fourth team earned a share of first place in recreation basketball play Wednesday night.

West Bloomfield Heating slipped past Cor's Fuel & Oil, 81-76, to add a half game to its city American League margin. Larry Hughes hit 30 and Bob Bolton 26 for the winners.

Spencer Floor Covering topped Wardrobe Cleaners, 88-60, and O'Neil Realty topped Zilka Heating, 79-44, to improve their leads in Waterford Township action.

New Hope Baptist tied for the top spot in the city Class D circuit by topping Cotton Billards, 68-47.

Other score last night saw defending city champion Southwest Community Club completely outclass 300 Bowl, 93-29; and St. Luke's Methodist won a 45-42 verdict from Auburn Heights Boys Club in Class D.

Spencer's has a 7-0 record in the township "A" league.

Only Dryden Open

Skiers 'Thawed Out'

Only Dryden among Southeast Michigan ski resorts reportedly has managed to avoid closing during the thaw this week.

Proprietor Fred Mollitor Wednesday reported a good layer of corn snow on his intermediate slopes and no plans to shut down.

Those known closed are Mt. Holly, Pine Knob, Mt. Brighton and Summit Ski Club, while Grampian Mountain, Mt. Christie and Alpine have not reported but are presumed closed.

Local Youths Score in Junior Events

Nub's Nob will be the site Sunday of the third point meet for Junior Alpine skiers in the Region III competition with local entries hoping to continue their fine showings.

Four such meets are planned before the regional championships at Thunder Mountain Feb. 8-9 which determine the central division team for the March national competition in California.

Bloomfield Hills resident Geoff Smith was second last Sunday at Boyne Mountain in the high school boys Class I slalom race with a combined time of 70.3.

Jim Huckle of Cadillac won with 69.7. Smith, the preceding week at Walloon Hills, placed sixth in the high school boys Class I giant slalom and tied for fourth in the down hill event.

Points toward the regional championships are awarded at each week's competition and Smith currently is the leading local entrant.

ALTERNATE

There are girls and boys races each week in numerous classes. The events are alternated weekly. This Sunday the fellows will have giant slalom and downhill while the girls will run only a slalom course.

Many area entrants participate and have been scoring well. Included are Marlon Jarosz, Mary Trepp and Alexo Kachinko of Clarkston, Pete Copen, Cathy Stanker and Laura Carter of West Bloomfield, Vikki and Cheryl Smith of Bloomfield Hills.

The latter has two fourths and a seventh in three high school girls Class I races for the best local effort. Miss Jarosz has a fourth, seventh and 14th among the Class III girls.

Also, Charles and Mike Adams and Eric Gleisner of Birmingham, Bill Brower of Oxford, Tom Bullard, Bob Trepp and Randy Balice of Clarkston, and Larry Haefeli of Hazel Park.

Dr. O. L. Smith of Bloomfield Hills is chairman of the district 7 area in Region III of the Central United States Ski Association. Michigan, Ohio, Indiana and points south are included in the region.

Skeleton Found in Benton Harbor

BENTON HARBOR (AP)—A skeleton, unearthed by a bulldozer, was being examined by state police today on the possibility that it may be the remains of a murder victim. Police said the skeleton, estimated to be that of a 65- to 70-year-old man, was uncovered Wednesday on a Bainbridge Township farm about eight miles east of here.

The murder theory stemmed from a hole in the skull, which police said could have been inflicted by a blunt instrument.

No Brick Base for Statue of Brick Contractor

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The art commission has ruled that the base of a statue which will honor the late John B. Kelly cannot be brick.

Kelly, father of Princess

Grace of Monaco, made a fortune as a brick contractor. The statue of Kelly, an Olympic sculler in his youth, shows him seated in a scull.

The commission Wednesday rejected sculptor Harry Rosin's proposal for a brick pedestal in favor of black granite.

Seaborg Says Science Substantiates Genesis

ATLANTA (AP)—Dr. Glenn Seaborg, chairman of the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission, says scientists are finding facts that help substantiate Genesis' story of the world's creation. Speaking to more than 1,000 ministers attending a seminar at Emory University in Atlanta, Seaborg said the theory of evolution was little more than "a prolonged proof and explication of the figure of man's creation from the dust."

Salaries of Dixie Governors Going Up

ATLANTA (AP) — Salaries of Southern governors have been going up lately. They'll hit $25,000 a year in a majority of Southern states.

The lowest paid of 11 Southern governors in Orval Faubus of Arkansas. His salary is $10,000 a year, plus $1,800 for expenses and a mansion with maintenance.

A salary itself does not always tell the whole story.

For example, the Tennessee governor gets $18,500 a year in salary, but he also gets $18,000 a year for expenses of the executive mansion.

ONE OF FOUR

The Tennessee Legislature was one of four raising the pay of their governors in the past four years. His pay went from $12,000 a year in 1961, effective last year.

Florida's governor was raised in 1963 from $22,500 to $25,000. He also gets a mansion, car, airplane and travel expenses.

Mississippi raised its governor's salary from $15,000 to $25,000 in 1960. Office and mansion expenses also are provided in Mississippi.

In North Carolina, the governor's salary was increased from $22,000 to $25,000 in 1959. He also gets $5,000 a year for expenses and $6,000 for public entertainment.

OTHERS

Other governors making $25,000 a year base salary are those in Texas, Alabama and Virginia.

Georgia's governor is paid a salary of $12,000 yearly as set by the 1946 State Constitution.

However, he draws $19,920 total pay with service on 23 state boards and longevity.

Georgia's governor gets $25,000 a year for the expenses of running the executive mansion.

In Louisiana, the chief executive is paid $20,000 a year, gets a mansion and living expenses, plus office expenses.

MANSION EXPENSES

Texas' governor gets $25,000 salary plus traveling expenses and $128,000 for two years of running the mansion. That includes salaries, wages, supplies, and operating expenses of the mansion and staff.

South Carolina's governor gets $20,000 salary and $45,000 a year to keep up the mansion.

In Alabama, the $25,000 salary is supplemented by a mansion and expenses—although the law says he must provide his own food.

Muskegon Teens Held for Smoking

MUSKEGON (AP)—The first violators of Muskegon Township's 13-day-old juvenile smoking ban are awaiting action in Probate Court.

Township police said they spotted two youths, 15 and 16, smoking cigarettes near Orchard View high school Wednesday. Police referred the case to the court.

The township ordinance carries a $10 fine or a 5-day jail term for youths under 18 caught smoking in public places.

FIREFIGHTING INSTRUCTION—Waterford Township's five new firemen are engaged in a training program this week conducted by Chief Lewis Goff, Fire Marshal Russell See and Captain Clayton Soncraine.

Romney Names Reams

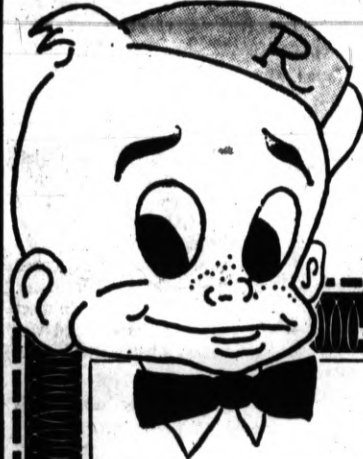

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney has announced the appointment of Robert Reams, Lansing accountant, to the four-member State Board of Accountancy to succeed the late Raymond Knappe of Grand Rapids. He will serve for a term expiring July 1, 1966. Senate confirmation is not required.

Schools Borrow on Aid

LANSING (AP)—New school district borrowings against anticipated state aid approved by the State Department of Public

Visits Boyfriend

Lucy Johnson Has Energy

MADISON, Wis. (P) — Lucy Baines Johnson, 16, daughter of President and Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson, quickly forgot she was tired from the flight that brought her to visit University of Wisconsin freshman Jack Olson last night.

She and her party took a late auto ride, returning to her hotel at 1:10 this morning.

"We had a pizza," said Miss Johnson.

They also conspired in a little auto switching intrigue. After her arrival she was whisked to her hotel, and said, "I have just finished my final exams and had a long trip. I'd like just to rest tonight."

HER ESCORT

Olson, 18, from Maiden Rock, Wis., who has been Miss Johnson's escort since February, said, "We'll do whatever she wants." Olson met Miss Johnson while serving as a congressional page.

She did stay in her rooms about 90 minutes, chatting with Olson, his sister, Karen, 19, a sophomore at Wisconsin's River Falls State College, and her boyfriend, Jerry Sargent of Minneapolis.

But at 10:30 p. m. the four young people and Mrs. James Cain, a long-time friend of the Johnson family, left in two cars for a tour of the Wisconsin campus.

When the party returned, Olson explained that Mrs. Cain had been dropped off and returned to the hotel. The four young people switched from the official car to a 1959 auto driven by a friend of Olson's, Doug Dague of Cumberland, Wis. Secret Service men followed their tour in another car.

POPULAR PLACE After seeing the campus, they stopped at a popular pizza place near the university. Miss Johnson and Olson sat alone.

After the party returned, and neared Miss Johnson's room, she turned to Olson and said, "I don't have a key." But the door was opened from the inside.

Olson left a short while later, saying he and Miss Johnson planned to return to the campus today. He also said she may extend her stay through Friday, before going on to the Rochester, Minn., home of Mrs. Cain, whose physician husband is on the Mayo Clinic staff.

Miss Johnson, who left Washington after completing midterm examinations at the National Cathedral School for Girls, made her first Wisconsin stop as her plane touched down briefly in Milwaukee. She got off the plane to meet a welcoming crowd and was presented a bouquet of roses.

FIRST RECEPTION "I made the whistle-stop tour of the South with my daddy in the 1960 campaign," she said, "but this is my first very own reception, the first one for me, myself and I." She also said she never got roses when her father was vice president.

Jacoby on Bridge

Table with bridge scores and hands. Includes North, South, East, and West hands with card counts and scores.

At this point he was sure of 10 tricks, but West became careless and South made five odd. It seems that West discarded a low diamond on the last club.

Now all South had to do was let a couple of spades go on the last two clubs and East was caught in a one-way squeeze.

He just couldn't protect both spades and diamonds. Actually, he unguarded his jack of spades whereupon South wound up with three spade tricks.

That extra trick was nice, but the important point in the play was that South had played safe for his contract from the start.

BOARDING HOUSE

OUT OUR WAY

By OSWALD JACOBY

South rose with dummy's queen of hearts at trick one. He wasn't going to gain by keeping that card idle and he hoped that it would hold the trick.

Had it held, South would promptly have led the king of clubs from dummy with every intention of playing East for the queen. You see that if the heart queen held, South would not be afraid to let West in the lead.

The queen lost to East's ace and East returned the ten. South ducked this. He won the continuation and discarded dummy's deuce of diamonds.

Now it was important to keep West out of the lead so South led his jack of clubs and let it ride after West ducked. Another club was taken by dummy's eight. Then South cashed the king of clubs; returned to his own hand with the ace of diamonds and played his last two clubs.

Winter Warm-Ups Costly

Weather Fouls Budget Cuts

Citizens and city employees are cooperating with budget cuts in recreation and street maintenance, according to city officials, but the weather isn't.

It takes time and men and money to freeze ice rinks, according to David R. Ewalt, director of Parks and Recreation.

"We had to cut down on the number of rinks a little this year," he noted. "The citizens have been cooperating beautifully. The weather hasn't."

The on-again, off-again cold weather means, in effect, that almost as soon as a rink is frozen and in good condition, the sun comes out and melts it.

PRAISES ALL.
Ewalt praised the "interested citizens, Pontiac Firefighters Association President Jack Douglas, and our employees who are giving extra time to keep rinks in shape."

An additional six rinks have been constructed through volunteer help of neighborhood and Parent-Teacher Association groups.

Douglas has helped instruct groups on the finer points of making an ice rink. The department furnishes hose and equipment, and attempts to keep rinks swept.

While warm weather and rain might ease pressure on the Department of Public Works' snow and ice removal budget for streets, it may create havoc before spring.

IDEAL WINTER.
"Last winter was ideal," said Clyde Christian, DPW supervisor. "It got cold and stayed cold all winter."

"Winter ended almost as abruptly, leaving relatively little damage to streets."

Christian pointed out that "it's a combination of sudden thawing and fast freezing that breaks up paved streets."

"Water seeps into cracks, then freezes and expands. It's this action that makes chuck holes."

The present weather pattern is the type that produces a lot of spring street work for DPW crews.

STICKY PROBLEM—Actor Dean Jones courted disaster on a recent spin near Los Angeles International Airport while enjoying California's new sport of sand duning. Jones zoomed over a hill, causing the front wheels to stick in the sand and throw the vehicle into a vertical position. A seat belt held him in his seat until the car stopped in an upright position allowing him to jump. He drove away uninjured.

Tax Dodgers Caught

LANSING (AP)—Cooperation with the revenue department has resulted in the recovery of $28,912 in vehicle use taxes in 1963 from persons trying to avoid tax payments or ignorant of the law, reports the Secretary of State's Office. Transactions appearing of doubtful legality are checked under the program, started two years ago.

Bill Introduced to Put Michigan on Daylight Time

LANSING (AP)—A bill to put Michigan on eastern daylight time between April and October was introduced Wednesday in the House.

The bill, sponsored by Rep. Joseph Gillis, D-Detroit, would put Michigan on daylight time from 2 a.m. of the first Sunday in April until 2 a.m. on the last Sunday in October.

Gillis said his bill is supported by golfers and organizations interested in outdoor recreation, but he expects opposition from rural interests.

It provides that in counties of the Upper Peninsula west of the 87th meridian, the boards of supervisors would be able to vote on whether to adopt central standard time.

Cigarettes Drop

Stock Market Rally Continues

NEW YORK (AP)—Stock market prices turned mixed early this afternoon following a brief continuation of yesterday's rally. Trading was active. Gains and losses of fractions to about a point prevailed among most key stocks.

Most of the cigarette stocks declined while cigar manufacturers advanced. Reports were that cigarette sales were declining as a result of the Government report on smoking and that cigar sales were rising. Market averages nudged further into new high ground at the start of trading, following the achievement of historic closing highs by these indicators yesterday. It was an irregular rise, however, and failed to hold many of its gains.

MOTORS DECLINE

Motors declined. Steels, rails, oils, aerospace issues and building materials were mixed.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .6 at 291.6 with industrials up 1.2, rails up .1 and utilities unchanged.

New highs were set in early trading by such issues as Radio Corp., New York Central and Pennsylvania Railroad, RCA, however, erased most of a 1-point gain. Central and Pennsy held fractional advances.

AMERICAN EXCHANGE

Prices advanced in active trading on the American Stock Exchange. Up around 2 points were Philips Electronics and Ayrshire Collieries. American Electronics "A" lost around 2. The opening of Syntax was delayed. Technical Operations was off about 7.

Corporate bonds were mixed to lower in moderate trading. U. S. Government bonds drifted slightly lower.

Johnson Talks Spur OAS Aide

Approach to Panama Crisis 'Encouraging'

WASHINGTON (AP)—The chairman of the Panama Peace Committee reported today, after a meeting with President Johnson, that the Chief Executive is taking a "very encouraging" approach to the powder keg problem.

Enrique Tejera Paris, ambassador from Venezuela and chairman of the peace-seeking group created by the Organization of American States to mediate the U. S.-Panamanian dispute, told newsmen:

"The approach he presented to us was a very encouraging one."

Tejera said Johnson seemed most anxious to resolve the explosive problem, centering on Panama Canal affairs, on terms acceptable to both nations.

WOULDN'T EXPLAIN

He declined, however, to spell out the approach Johnson presented.

Asked if the OAS group had discussed possible renegotiation of the Panama Canal treaty with Johnson, Tejera Paris said "we didn't enter into that."

The ambassador said the discussion centered on broad principles rather than mechanics.

Another member of the OAS committee, Ambassador Bonilla Atlies of the Dominican Republic, said he was very optimistic about the prospects for resolving the Panama problem.

AIDES ATTEND

Flanking Johnson in the conference were Secretary of State Dean Rusk; Thomas C. Mann, assistant secretary for Latin American affairs, and the newly appointed U. S. chief negotiator, Ellsworth Bunker.

Tejera said the committee, encouraged by Johnson's attitude, "will act intensively in the next days in search of an agreement."

Tejera did not elaborate on the state of the negotiation itself, but he said "We will not let words... interfere in a peaceful settlement."

Ford Hedges on Report of New Compact

DETROIT (AP)—Ford Motor Co. Declined comment today on reports it will introduce a new line of new compact cars at the New York World's Fair in April.

The new line reportedly will be named the Mustang, the name given two years ago to one of Ford's experimental cars.

Trade publications indicated several weeks ago that the Mustang would produce in the under-$3,000 price class.

The Detroit News said today it had learned the new car will have a 108-inch wheelbase, five inches shorter than the Thunderbird, and that it will have an unusually large amount of roominess for a small car.

"We never comment on future products," a Ford spokesman said.

116 YEARS OF SERVICE — Pontiac Motor Division employees (from left) James Fossdick of 6324 Cleveland, Waterford Township, Lyle Hoard of 40 Marquette, Pontiac, and Joseph Bennett of 87 Illinois, Pontiac, were honored at the Elks Temple last night on their retirement from the engineering department. With them is Pontiac Chief Engineer John Z. DeLoe (right). Fossdick was with the division 35 years; Hoard for 44 years and Bennett for 37 years. Pontiac General Manager E. M. Estes cited the men for "a job well done."

Day Kennedy Died

Market Men 'Disorderly'

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Securities and Exchange Commission said today the performance of specialists on the New York Stock Exchange varied widely on the day President John F. Kennedy was assassinated, and some contributed "to the disorderliness of the market."

In a report on a survey of the role played by specialists and floor traders, the SEC said specialists in such stocks as Radio Corp. of America, General Motors, Polaroid and Sperry Rand bought heavily and this had a cushioning effect on prices.

At the other extreme, the SEC said, specialists handling the stock of Korvette, International Telephone & Telegraph Co., and American Motors sold substantial quantities of stock almost immediately after the news of the assassination.

"Thereafter, the specialists returned to the market and bought stock on balance only after prices had declined," the report said.

Fraud Charge Is Faced by NY Ad Firm

NEW YORK (AP)—A Manhattan advertising agency was indicted today on federal charges of fraudulently promoting a multimillion-dollar television, newspaper and magazine campaign for a worthless no-diet weight reducing pill.

Two drug firms also were accused.

A Brooklyn grand jury charged that millions of network television viewers coast-to-coast saw demonstrations of weight losses that were attributed to the pills, but that actually were rigged.

Promoters also were accused of falsifying medical test records on the tablets.

The pill was known by the trade name "Regimen Tablets," and some four million boxes were sold during the past six years for $16 million.

The government called them worthless in the reduction of weight and last month forced them off the market.

The advertising firm indicted was Kastor, Hilton, Chesley, Clifford and Atherton, Inc., which handled a $10 million campaign for the pills.

Conviction would make the firm liable to a maximum $55,000 fine.

Castro Backs Russia in Rift

MOSCOW (AP)—Prime Minister Fidel Castro put Cuba behind Premier Khrushchev in his quarrel with Communist China today after receiving a Soviet pledge to buy to shore up the Cuban economy with a $3.2-billion sugar deal spread over six years.

Then Castro flew back to Cuba as secretly as he arrived 10 days ago, Moscow radio announcing that he had landed in Havana this morning.

His aides had said he would leave in a day or two and the word was passed he was on a hunting holiday with Khrushchev in the Ukraine.

The support of Castro, long silent on the Peking-Moscow feud, was proclaimed in a joint communiqué issued last night.

PRaises Policy

Castro praised Moscow's policy of peaceful coexistence, called the treaty limiting nuclear testing "a step forward toward peace and disarmament" and supported the Soviet Communist party's measures "to remove the existing differences and strengthen the unity and cohesion of the ranks of the international Communist movement."

The statement appeared to end Castro's flirtation with Red China, which takes opposite positions on all these key issues.

Like Communist China, Cuba has refused to sign the Moscow-supported test-ban treaty.

This has annoyed the Soviets in view of their heavy economic aid to the Caribbean nation.

Report Coup on Zanzibar Starts in Cuba

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Times reported today that plans for the recent revolution in Zanzibar were started in Cuba late in 1961 when a Zanzibari political office opened in Havana.

The newspaper, in a dispatch from Washington, said that "facts that once seemed insignificant, such as the establishment of the Havana office of the Zanzibar National party, are being pulled out of files and studied (by U.S. government officials)."

Attributing its information to reliable reports from many quarters, the Times said plans for the revolution in Zanzibar "reached their peak with the arrival six weeks ago of a Cuban charge d'affaires in Dar es Salaam, Tanganyika," on the African mainland 32 miles from Zanzibar.

Americans evacuated from Zanzibar after the revolt reported that some Spanish-speaking persons were among the rebels.

BEING TRAINED — The Times said that "in addition to tracing the Cuban strategy in preparing for the revolution in Zanzibar... (the information available to it) disclosed that several hundred Africans are being trained in Cuba. The training is said to include guerrilla warfare tactics."

Mott Fund to Disburse $2.8 Million

FLINT (UPI) — Directors of the C. S. Mott Foundation have approved disbursement of $2,875,000 for expanding foundation programs and other public projects.

The bulk of the expenditure, $2 million, will be for construction and expansion of the C. S. Mott Foundation Children's Health Center which provides care for medically indigent children.

More than $500,000 will be spent for upgrading 13 elementary schools in Flint, and $250,000 will be spent for construction of a recreational-educational facility for the Genesee County Federation of the Blind.

And $100,000 was earmarked for construction costs of a workshop for the association for the handicapped, Employment-Advancement-Development, Inc.

Saves Drowning Boy to Face Juvenile Court

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Policeman Norman T. Evans rescued a 14-year-old boy from drowning, then arrested the youth.

Evans said the boy had fallen out of a stolen boat.

To File Charge in Car Incident

Youth Is Jailed for Unlicensed Driving

Oakland County detectives said that a Pontiac youth will be charged today with driving away a car without permission as a result of an episode Tuesday at the Avondale High School.

Police said that Norman J. Neldrick, 18, of 50 N. Jessie, forced Phillip Chamberlain, 17, a student at the school, to accompany him but the action did not warrant a kidnapping charge.

Meanwhile, Neldrick started a 60 day term in the county jail for driving the car without a license.

The charge was brought by Pontiac police who stopped him after being alerted of the incident at the school.

He was given the sentence yesterday by Municipal Court Judge Cecil McCallum.

SETS HEARING

At the same time, McCallum scheduled a hearing for Neldrick and two companions on another charge of disturbing the peace.

Pontiac police said a woman complained that the trio used profane language toward her the same day as the school incident.

The two other youths who are to appear at the Jan. 29 hearing are Dennis O'Berry, 18, of 199 East Boulevard South, and Roy Wagner, 25, of 392 S. Edith.

Man Wounded by Accidental Rifle Discharge

Gordon B. Rice, 24, of 6794 Macedonia Drive, Waterford Township, suffered a wound in his left arm early today when a gun he was about to clean discharged.

Rice told police he was watching television at 1:30 a. m. when the deer rifle he planned to clean after the show went off. Rice said the gun was propped against his chair.

After an unsuccessful attempt to arouse neighbors, Rice, who was alone at home, drove his car to the police station. He was treated at Pontiac General Hospital and later released.

Red Industry Output Said Nearer to U.S.

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union's central statistical board said today gross industrial production in 1963 reached 65 per cent of that of the United States.

An official announcement reported industrial output increased by 8.5 per cent over 1962, with consumer goods up 5 per cent.

It said industrial production in 1953 was only 33 per cent of that of the United States and only 47 per cent in 1957.

Rusk Urges Allies to Halt Cuba Trade

NEW YORK (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk says Western allies should halt trade with Cuba because such commerce is hurting the Western Hemisphere's defenses against communism.

"We cannot accept the contention that trade with Cuba is comparable to ordinary trade with any Communist country," Rusk said last night in a speech at the 75th anniversary celebration of Barnard College.

Airline Use Increases in Pontiac

Patronage of North Central Airlines (NCA) flights nearly doubled at Pontiac Municipal Airport last month.

There were 43 passengers on outbound flights in December, compared to 22 the month before, according to J. O. Edwards, station manager.

Inbound flights recorded 48 passengers last month, while 21 arrived on NCA flights in November.

During December 1962 there were 42 passengers on outbound flights and 22 inbound.

AIR EXPRESS

Outbound NCA flights last month also carried 2,790 pounds of air mail, 911 pounds of air express and 1,060 pounds of air freight.

This compares to 1,200 pounds of air mail, 151 pounds of express and 1,017 pounds of freight on outbound flights the month before.

Inbound flights last month carried 1,604 pounds of air mail compared to 1,149 pounds during November.

Air freight was down from 4,515 pounds in November to 4,010 on inbound flights last month.

Girl Kills Deaf-Mute in Holdup

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — A young woman armed with a pistol held up a downtown tavern Wednesday night and, despite pleas for mercy, shot and fatally wounded a deaf-mute who could not hear an order she gave.

The deaf-mute, John Johnkins, 35, died today in a hospital. Police lodged first-degree robbery charges against Miss Anita Furrow, 23, and Robert Hayes, 37, who was identified as a lookout.

Johnkins entered the tavern as the woman was about to leave after the bartender had handed her about $65 from the till, police said.

Two patrons were lying on the floor, at her order, police said, and she directed Johnkins to follow suit. The bartender and the other patrons begged her to show mercy toward Johnkins, but she shot him in the abdomen and left, police said.

EXCHANGE SHOTS

The bartender, Ignatius Giambrone, 37, grabbed a rifle, and he and the robbers exchanged shots outside.

No one but Johnkins was hit. Police said the woman had entered the tavern at about 11:30 p. m. and sat on a stool, then declared: "This is a hold-up. I mean business."

She fired into the front panel of the bar, police said, and ordered: "All of you lie down on the floor."

Miss Furrow and Hayes were arrested a short time later as they walked along the street.

U. S.-Cambodia Rift Shows Healing Signs

MANILA, Philippines (AP) — Prince Norodom Sihanouk of Cambodia and Philippine President Diosdado Macapagal said today that satisfactory progress has been made toward settling the U.S.-Cambodian dispute.

The two Southeast Asian government chiefs met for an hour and 40 minutes shortly after Sihanouk's arrival for a three-day visit. They said an announcement regarding the dispute will be made Saturday.

Police Chase Deer in Flint

FLINT (AP) — Four deer led Flint police on a chase down streets, over fences and through backyards early today on the city's west side.

Officers received a call about 1 a. m. from a taxi driver who said a deer had jumped on the hood of his cab.

A little later a housewife called to say she had seen four deer—apparently three fawns and a doe—in the residential area.

Police contacted Ivan Kesten, a State Conservation officer, who advised officers to herd the deer out of the city limits before the early morning traffic rush began.

He said the deer might have to be shot if they proved to be a menace to traffic.

'Russian Fleet Perils Fishing'

Soviet Tactics Hit in Report to Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Russia has amassed the world's largest fleet of modern fishing vessels, which have spread to every ocean and used strongarm tactics to crowd out other fishermen, a Senate report said yesterday.

The Senate Commerce Committee viewed this tremendous expansion as a peril to the U.S. fishing industry and a threat to the available supply of fish.

Soviet fishermen were accused of using rough tactics such as (1) hit-and-run collisions, (2) crowding out other fishermen with trawler flotillas, (3) destroying pots and lines of other fishermen, (4) using nets with tighter mesh than allowed under fishing treaties, (5) ignoring fish conservation plans.

The committee, in a preface to its 50-page report, said "we must continue to crusade for conservation practices and to guard against rustlers of the sea."

COMPILED REPORT

The document was compiled by Leon M. Herman, specialist in Soviet economics in the Library of Congress. He based it on Soviet publications translated in the library and at the University of Washington.

Sen. Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., committee chairman, said in a foreword to the report:

"Soviet fleets of 160 to 200 vessels, most of them new and larger than those of any other nation, are and have been fishing off the shores of New England and Alaska."

"A smaller but substantial flotilla of Soviet fishing vessels are operating out of ports in Cuba in the Gulf of Mexico."

"Soviet exploratory ships equipped for research both in fisheries and physical oceanography are cruising the length of the Atlantic and Pacific coasts."

"Expansion of her fishery industry on a worldwide basis is declared Soviet policy, backed by unprecedented expenditures on new ships, new fishing ports, new techniques and new facilities for education and training."

Should County Pay Insurance?

Whether Oakland County should continue to pay a share of Blue Cross Insurance rates for its employees after they retire will be considered Wednesday by the Employees Retirement Commission.

A proposal to continue sharing the cost will be submitted by Commissioner Theodore Koella Jr. Similar proposals have been turned down in the past by the seven-member commission.

However, Koella said he now expects commission approval because he can show where the continued payments wouldn't actually cost the county anything.

Money placed in a retirement fund by county employees is earning more in interest than is being paid back to the employees, he said.

He proposes using the surplus to pay the county's share of continued payments for insurance.

Under the proposal the county not only would continue to share the cost for employees after they retire but would assume part of the cost for present retirees who have kept up the Blue Cross payments themselves.

Of 160 retirees, 110 still have Blue Cross insurance, according to County Personnel Director John Witherup. He noted that some of these pay more in

In Pontiac

Building Activity Down

Construction activity dropped considerably in Pontiac last month, although there were more permits issued by the city for housing construction than in November.

There were 48 building permits issued for an estimated $10,189 in new construction in December, according to Carl F. Alt, city building inspector.

This compares to 98 permits for $3.2-million worth of new construction the month before.

In December a year ago, 62 permits were issued for new construction valued at $546,967.

Last month, however, saw 15 permits issued for $130,500 in new homes, where only nine permits were issued for $52,500 worth of new housing in November.

A year ago, there were 16 permits issued for $153,500 worth of new homes.

Suburbs Back Merger Policy

Safety Chiefs Argue for Joint Departments

DETROIT (AP) — Three suburban public safety directors defended their combined police and fire departments Wednesday after Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley charged such agencies "weaken law enforcement and reduce fire protection."

Oak Park's Director Glenford Leonard said he "was astonished that the attorney general could make a report on a municipal office without having studied one."

Vern Bailey, Grosse Pointe Woods director, said "Kelley doesn't know what he's talking about."

SYSTEM CHEAPER

"We're very happy with it (the system)," said Bailey. "And it's cheaper by about 20 men than separate departments would be. We'll compare our record with anybody who has two departments."

Director John R. McQuater, whose Huntington Woods departments have been combined for about 30 years, said "It works in my town and it works good."

Kelley, in a speech before the Michigan Association of Supervisors, said:

"Firefighting and police work are highly specialized and different activities. Training one man for both jobs brings about the unhappy result that he is master of neither."

He also charged that some consolidations had proved "costly failures."

Sentencing Set for Teen Guilty of Night Break-In Seventeen-year-old Ronnie P. Kester of 89 Oakhill will be sentenced Feb. 11 for his part in the Nov. 8 burglary of Doolin's Shell Service Station at 520 E. Columbia.

Kester pleaded innocent last month to a charge of breaking and entering in the nighttime, but Tuesday changed his plea to guilty before Circuit Court Judge Philip Pratt.

He and Boyd Gilbert, 17, of 27 Mathews were accused of taking $125 in the break-in. Gilbert pleaded guilty Dec. 27 and was sentenced Tuesday to 1½ to 15 years in prison.

Kester also is awaiting Circuit Court trial with a 19-year-old Pontiac youth on a charge of felonious assault in the Dec. 6 beating of two teen-agers with a beer bottle.

Somalia: Trouble Spot Ripe for Reds

B. PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

As a Communist regime entrenches itself in Zanzibar and Communist-abetted unrest stirs Tanganyika, other violent events just next door work in favor of further Communist penetration of Northeast Africa.

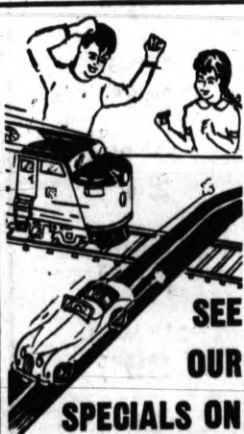

Small-scale but bloody clashes are occurring regularly in an arid region of wandering nomads, dust and herds of sheep, goats and camels, almost worthless except that it is land now held by Kenya and Ethiopia but claimed by the republic of Somalia for a "greater Somalia."

NEWSOM

It is the kind of brushfire situation ideal for Communist infiltration. Somalia acquired independence in 1960 through a combination of former British and Italian holdings.

Africa's "horn" gives it a position of strategic importance on the approaches to the Suez Canal.

Its warlike Moslem tribesmen are Hamitic, separated from the Black Africans to the South both by origin and religion.

For countless years, Somali herdsmen have moved their livestock according to the season, heedless of obscure boundaries.

TWO MILLION

Somalia's own population is about 2 million, with another 350,000 Somalis living in adjoining areas of Ethiopia and Kenya, which the Somalis claim.

This includes almost the eastern half of Kenya's remote northern frontier district, and Ogaden, a point-shaped tip of Ethiopia jutting into Somalia.

Somalia has openly invited Somali tribesmen in Kenya to "rejoin" Greater Somalia.

She has accused Ethiopia of forcing an "unbearable" burden upon her by driving thousands of Somali refugees across the Ethiopian border, and has been accused in turn of inciting tribesmen to revolt.

BRITISH SUPPORT

British troops are backing Kenya's frontier forces and British planes are carrying in food and ferrying out the wounded.

Into this unhealthy situation, the Communist nations have moved strongly.

When the United States and other Western nations refused Somali requests for military assistance regarded as far greater than normal needs, the Soviet Union offered to equip an army of 20,000 men.

In November, the Somali Parliament ratified a new trade agreement with Communist China.

The Soviets also have given Somalia credits of $63 million and the promise of technicians to aid her development.

Other aid has come from Czechoslovakia, Romania, East Germany and Red China.

The United States, joined by West Germany and Italy, had offered to supply an army of 5,000 or 6,000 men, along with engineering equipment which could be used for internal development.

The United States also proposed a 20-year development program broken up into four five-year plans.

TO BE REPAYED

Over-all U.S. assistance would come to $500 million to be repaid from increased agricultural production and port facilities.

From other new African nations the Somalis have received little encouragement for their territorial ambitions.

America has 14,000 hotels containing a total of 1,400,000 rooms. There are an additional 2,000,000 units in motels and motor-hotels.

Family of Four Flees E. Germany

HANNOVER, Germany (AP)—A family of four made it to West Germany by crossing the frozen Upper Elbe River on the border with East Germany, customs officials said Wednesday. The Tuesday night escape took place under cover of thick fog. The family brought some possessions across in a sled and a hand cart.

The man is 50, his wife 46 and their two sons 25 and 17. The 25-year-old was rushed to a hospital with acute appendicitis. The other boy was treated for frostbite.

Rebel Terror Breaks Out in West Congo

Believed led by Red Chinese-Trained
Ex-Cabinet Minister

LEOPOLDVILLE, Congo (UPI) — Machete-wielding young terrorists led by a Communist-trained ex-cabinet minister are in revolt against the government in the Western Congo, refugees from the area said today.

Government troops were reported moving into the area, burning villages suspected of harboring terrorists and killing their inhabitants as they go.

Unconfirmed reports said the government soldiers killed 80 villagers in Mungunda.

Former education minister Pierre Mulule was believed to be in command of the terrorists. Mulule was trained in subversion in Communist China.

Christian missionaries were particular targets of the uprising. The terrorists were said to be under orders to "kill all missionaries."

PRIESTS MURDERED

There was no report of new casualties, but three Roman Catholic priests from Belgium were murdered in a terrorist attack earlier this week.

The uprising involves a 6,000-square-mile area of Kwilu province, 300 to 500 miles east of Leopoldville, the Congo capital.

The Belgian embassy here rushed J. Leroy, a technical aid official, to Kwilu to organize an emergency airlift for all white residents who want to leave the area.

Leroy arrived here last night, followed by a DC3 packed with men, women, children and 10 Catholic nuns. Only a handful of white civilians are left in the area.

MISSIONARIES ARRIVING

Another 15 missionaries are expected to arrive today. Twelve more — residents of the area for decades — are known to be holding on.

Leroy said 15 mission stations between the provincial towns of Kikwit and Gungu — a distance of about 50 miles — are abandoned. The missionaries still in the area have gathered at the town of Idiofa.

U.N. helicopter crews rescued nine Americans yesterday after terrorists burned their protest mission station at Kandalé. The Americans were unharmed.

A Belgian nun evacuated from Kimbelé yesterday said the terrorists "were armed with machetes, knives and rifles. Some of them had red-painted helmets."

British Commandos Quash New Tanganyika Outbreak

DAR ES SALAAM, Tanganyika (AP) — British commandos quelled a new outbreak of mutiny in Tanganyika today.

Three African soldiers were killed and 20 others wounded in the brief uprising.

The latest flare-up of African troops in former British East Africa came as the rash of mutinies spread last night to neighboring Kenya.

The Kenya uprising also was put down by British troops. Some 400 British commandos landed at Dar es Salaam with helicopter support from the British carrier Centaur early today at the request of Tanganyika's moderate president, Julius Nyerere.

It was the second army uprising in Tanganyika within a week.

Last Monday, Nyerere's soldiers revolted against their British officers and precipitated rioting and looting during which at least 17 persons were killed.

In addition to the renewed uprising at the Tanganyika Rifles' Colito Barracks in Dar es Salaam, other units were reported to have revolted at Caboru, 400 miles west of the capital.

AIRLIFTED IN

British troops airlifted from Kenya took over the barracks at Caboru, restoring order in the town.

There were no reports of any British casualties in either action.

Nyerere feared a threatened general strike on the heels of the army mutiny might lead to a new round of racial disorders.

After Monday's army revolt, African mobs went on a rampage against Arab and Asian shopkeepers in Dar es Salaam, an old Arab slave trade port.

HAVEN OF PEACE

Its name in Arabic means Haven of Peace.

In Kenya, tension remained high, as officials anticipated disorders in the port city of Mombasa.

A Kenya police unit was flown from Nairobi to Mombasa to prevent a threatened demonstration by young African nationalists from turning into a riot against Arab and Asian shopkeepers.

British troops were airlifted to Nakuru, 100 miles north of Nairobi, to put down a mutiny by the Kenya Army's 11th Battalion last night.

ALL QUIET

A British officer at the encampment reported all quiet there today.

He said there were no casualties as British soldiers took over strategic buildings and rescued the battalion's British officers who had sought refuge in the officers' mess.

Other Kenyan troops reportedly mutinied at Kahawa, five miles outside Nairobi.

Tomorrow's prediction is partly cloudy and cold. A high of 28 is forecast. Monday will be cloudy and a little warmer. Rain or snow is likely.

Today's strong west-northwest winds will diminish late tonight. The low mercury reading prior to 8 a.m. was 23 in downtown Pontiac. At 2 p.m., the thermometer registered 22.

Officer Denies Link Between Suspect, Girl

Lab Report Is Due Monday; Birmingham Probe Continues

By PAT McCARTY

Birmingham police continued to check a knife believed to be used in the slaying of a 14-year-old girl yesterday, and denied reports that a spurned date was the motive for the slaying.

Officers received the pocket knife from a youth who said it had been given to him by Daniel Lovaas, 15, the youth they are holding for questioning in the case.

Lovaas has denied knowing the girl or anything about the slaying.

The victim, Nancy J. Jones of 1128 Emmons, Birmingham, was found shortly before 8 a.m. on the lawn in front of 864 Purdy, five houses from her school.

A report that Lovaas was angered after Nancy turned him down for a date was unfounded, according to Birmingham Detective Lt. Robert Schaule.

He said youth officers talked to a classmate of Nancy who said she had spurned Lovaas. "We traced it down," Schaule said today. "There's absolutely no basis for it. There's no link between the two that we've been able to find yet."

She died of internal bleeding at William Beaumont Hospital in Royal Oak at 8:15 a.m., 15 minutes after she had been taken there.

The knife police have has a 4½-inch blade. They said the blade appeared rusty but that the stains might be blood.

CRIME LABORATORY

Police took the knife, along with Nancy's clothing, to the state police crime laboratory in East Lansing for tests.

Nancy, a seventh grader, was walking through the dark, foggy morning on her way to classes at Barum Junior High School when she was stabbed, police said. She normally walked with other girls but was alone yesterday.

A witness, Robert Phelps, 18, told police he saw the attack from the glassed-in front porch of his home at 892 Purdy.

Phelps reported that a boy who was walking about 10 feet behind Nancy suddenly started running toward her.

HIT IN STOMACH

The boy apparently hit her in the stomach with his fist, the witness said, and then fled south, a path which would have taken him directly in front of the Phelps home.

Mr. and Mrs. Clint H. Brisendine, by whose home the attack occurred, were upstairs at the time.

Mrs. Brisendine said a neighbor rang her doorbell and asked her to call police.

"I saw the girl on the lawn and asked other girls standing there what was wrong," Mrs. Brisendine said. "I got some blankets and put them over the girl. She wasn't moving."

Phelps a Seaholm High student provided police with a description which led to the arrest of Lovaas.

The witness had said Nancy's assailant was wearing baggy khaki trousers and a dark jacket. Police reported the description matched Lovaas's clothing.

Lovaas, 1042 Smith, was picked up at Seaholm High where he is a 10th grader. He is being held in Oakland County jail awaiting a preliminary (Continued on Page 2, Col. 1)

No Clue to Motive

Neighbors Ask Why

By JIM DYGERT

The question on every lip was "Why?"

Why was Nancy Jean Jones killed?

Especially for Mr. and Mrs. Howard W. Jones of 1128 Emmons, Birmingham — why did it happen to our daughter?

Why did someone thrust a knife into her back as she walked to school yesterday morning?

For many of Nancy's neighbors in the block of small, modest homes, the question was frozen inaudibly at their lips.

TOO STUNNED

They were too stunned to speak, too shocked to collect their thoughts into coherent words.

But those who could summed up the reaction:

"It's inconceivable that such a thing could happen to Nancy," said Mrs. George Lidgey of 1192 Emmons for whom the petite, dark-haired, 14-year-old girl had occasionally done some babysitting.

"She was such a nice, quiet girl," said Mrs. James S. Bissett of 1155 Emmons. "What a tragedy!"

NO CLUE

There was no clue to the mystery of "why" in Nancy's background.

There's nothing to indicate yet that the suspect, Daniel Lovaas of 1042 Smith, Birmingham, ever knew Nancy.

A thin, brown-haired lad described by acquaintances as quiet and inconspicuous, Lovaas told police he never knew a Nancy Jones and knew nothing about her slaying.

No one apparently has been found who can say that Nancy and the youth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Lovass Jr., knew (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4)

Chamber Sets Yearly Dinner

City Area Members to Gather Feb. 19

The Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce will hold its 54th annual banquet Feb. 19 at the Elks Temple, chamber officials announced today.

The program will feature comedian Paul Lennon, according to Max Adams, chamber manager.

The dinner meeting is scheduled to start at 6:30 p.m.

Newly elected officers of the chamber traditionally take over reigns of leadership from outgoing officials at the annual event.

GUESTS WELCOME

Tickets are $6 per person and guests are welcome, said Adams. However, he added that "the supply of tickets is limited and we suggest reservations be made early."

The chamber office is located on the main floor of the Riker Building at W. Huron and Wayne.

Pedestrian Hit by Car, Dies From Injuries

A 67-year-old Waterford Township man died early this morning of injuries received when he was hit by a car last night on Dixie Highway at Andersonville, Waterford Township, police said.

Wagner of 2680 Desmond walked into the path of car driven by John Lansparger, 16, of 4850 Maycrest, Waterford Township, police said.

Wagner, according to police, was crossing Dixie Highway at the intersection about 9:30 p.m. when struck by the car. Rushed to Pontiac General Hospital, he died at 12:40 a.m.

Lansparger was not held, police said.

Escape to the West

BRUNSWICK, Germany (AP) — Three teen-age apprentices escaped to the West today after tramping 62 miles from their home in Red-ruled East Germany, border officials reported. The youths sneaked over the border without being spotted by border guards. They said they fled to avoid being drafted into the East German army.

Hope Revived for Lost Airmen

Report Spotting Raft With 1 Man Aboard

HONOLULU (AP) — The reported sighting of a man in a life raft near Johnston Island last night gave renewed hope that crewmen of an Air Force C-124 that vanished Jan. 2 may have survived.

An extensive air-sea search was launched immediately, the Coast Guard said. At dawn, a total of 16 planes and one ship were to be in the area, 250 miles west of Johnston Island.

The sighting was in the same general area where the Globemaster disappeared during a flight from Midway Island to Hickam Air Force Base. It carried eight crewmen, and a Navy man who was escorting a corpse.

Air Force Maj. Clyde L. Messinger, of Hunter Air Force Base, in Georgia, said he spotted the raft during a routine Pacific flight.

OTHERS SPOT RAFT

Four other crewmen, aboard Messinger's plane also saw the orange and yellow raft, the Air Force said.

Messinger said they could see at least one man who stood up and waved at them as they passed over.

Authorities said they knew of no other raft likely to be in the area.

PLANES DISPATCHED

Three Navy planes were dispatched to the area and ships were also reported steaming to the scene.

The sighting came on the same day that the Air Force had officially declared the crew of the missing plane dead.

An extensive search for the plane's crew was called off Jan. 10.

Russians Say West N-Force Blocks Accord

Show Opposition to Johnson Plan if NATO Gets A-Arms

GENEVA (AP) — The Soviet Union said today the West must scrap its proposed multilateral nuclear force before there can be any agreement to stop the spread of nuclear weapons.

The Soviet disarmament negotiator, Semyon K. Tsarapkin, told newsmen "the multilateral force has to be cleared away" before East and West can reach an agreement on President Johnson's proposal Tuesday to bar nuclear weapons from nations that don't have them.

Johnson worded his proposal so that the nuclear force the United States has proposed for the North Atlantic Treaty Organization would be exempt.

Tsarapkin said his government was studying Johnson's five-point arms proposal and would reply to it in due course.

The Soviet reaction to the proposal to stop the spread of nuclear weapons surprised no one.

Tsarapkin in his speech at the resumption of the 17-nation disarmament conference Tuesday made a similar proposal, but he called specifically for it to apply to the multilateral force.

Western delegations at this stage are certain to reject any formal Soviet demand for abandonment of the NATO nuclear force.

But there were some indications that if the Soviet Union accepted genuine and far-reaching disarmament measures together with control and inspection procedures demanded by the West, the United States would consider scrapping the multilateral force.

Many Western officials believe the costly multilateral force would be made obsolete by the new security that NATO members would obtain from such an unprecedented disarmament agreement.

NO REVERSAL SEEN

Despite the easing in East-West relations, however, there was no immediate prospect of the radical reversal in Soviet policy which would be necessary for such an agreement.

An American delegation spokesman said the United States is not prepared to discuss the multilateral force at this conference "other than in terms of it being established American policy."

Borneo Fighting to Stop

Kennedy Peace Trip Success

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — President Sukarno declared tonight Indonesia will continue its hostile confrontation policy against Malaysia.

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — U.S. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy's Malaysia mission was crowned with success today. Indonesia and Malaysia agreed to stop the fighting along their Borneo border and to join the Philippines in a conference of foreign ministers.

After announcement of the agreement, Kennedy flew to Bangkok, Thailand, for three hours of conferences with Thai officials.

He was to go on to London to give British officials a review of his talks in Asia.

The attorney general said he hoped the foreign ministers' meeting would lead to a new summit conference of the principals in the Malaysia dispute—Indonesian President Sukarno, Prime Minister Tunku Abdul Rahman of Malaysia and Philippine President Diosdado Macapagal.

NO OPTIMISM

However, some senior diplomats in Jakarta were not overly optimistic that another summit conference would produce a final solution to the crisis resulting from federation of the former British territories in Southeast Asia and Sukarno's announced determination to smash it.

Indonesian Foreign Minister Subandrio, appearing at a joint news conference with Kennedy, said the cease-fire in the undeclared guerrilla war in Borneo probably could be implemented within a week.

He implied that Indonesian regular army troops would prevent raiders crossing from Indonesian Borneo into the Malaysian jungles of Sabah and Sarawak states.

There was no immediate comment from the British Embassy. Britain is pledged to defend Malaysia, where it retains bases, and several thousand British and British-hired Gurkha troops are in North Borneo.

Sukarno, ambitious for Indonesia to be the dominant power in Southeast Asia, contends that Malaysia is a device to preserve Britain's colonial influence.

The Philippines also has opposed Malaysia but only in the diplomatic field and without the threats of violence that came from Jakarta. Philippine opposition is based on that nation's claim to Sabah, the former territory of British North Borneo.

Castro Backs Russia in Rift

Returns to Cuba After Making Sugar Deal

MOSCOW (AP)—Prime Minister Fidel Castro put Cuba behind Premier Khrushchev in his quarrel with Communist China today after receiving a Soviet pledge to buy to shore up the Cuban economy with a $3.2-billion sugar deal spread over six years.

Then Castro flew back to Cuba as secretly as he arrived 10 days ago. Moscow radio announcing that he had landed in Havana this morning.

His aides had said he would leave in a day or two and the word was passed he was on a hunting holiday with Khrushchev in the Ukraine.

The support of Castro, long silent on the Peking-Moscow feud, was proclaimed in a joint communique issued last night.

PRAISES POLICY

Castro praised Moscow's policy of peaceful coexistence, called the treaty limiting nuclear testing "a step forward toward peace and disarmament" and supported the Soviet Communist party's measures "to remove the existing differences and strengthen the unity and cohesion of the ranks of the international Communist movement."

The statement appeared to end Castro's flirtation with Red China, which takes opposite positions on all these key issues.

Like Communist China, Cuba has refused to sign the Moscow-supported test-ban treaty.

Finance Unit Is Aiming for Final Approval

Rate Levels Okayed; Full Debate Likely to Start Next Week

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Finance Committee aims to complete work and vote final approval today of the $11-billion tax cut bill. Debate by the full Senate would begin next week.

President Johnson has urged quick passage of the measure, saying it will help rocket the economy to record heights this year.

The committee vaulted a high hurdle yesterday, approving unanimously the rate reductions for individuals that had been written in the bill originally passed by the House.

The senators made only one change. They adopted President Johnson's proposal to put the new 14-per cent withholding rate into effect as soon as the measure becomes law.

The House version, which contemplated enactment in 1963, would have dropped the withholding rate from 18 per cent to 15 per cent in 1964, and then to 14 per cent in 1965.

ONE-STEP ACTION

After it became obvious that reductions could not become legally effective until perhaps March, Johnson asked that the two-step drop in the withholding rate be junked and the 14 per cent rate be established immediately.

The total cut for individuals is estimated at $9 billion when the measure takes full effect.

For a married man with two children taking the standard deductions and earning about $100 a week the increase in take-home pay would be about $2 a week under the tax cut.

If he was earning about $150 a week, the increase would be about $4 a week.

Civil Rights Gain Ground for House OK

WASHINGTON (AP) — House passage of a civil rights bill by Feb. 7 appeared a strong possibility today as the result of a revolt in the House Rules Committee.

A bipartisan majority of the committee is preparing to seize control and cut off hearings on the bill in time to get it passed before the House takes its annual Lincoln Birthday recess.

The revolt is aimed at Chairman Howard W. Smith, D-Va., leader of the Southern forces opposing the bill, who had planned to continue the hearings until the end of January.

Smith headed off any attempt to end the hearings yesterday by hastily adjourning them for the day while his chief adversaries were absent plotting strategy.

Rep. Richard Bolling, D-Mo., leader of the forces trying to speed action on the bill is counting on the support of the committee's Republicans.

There are 10 Democrats and 5 Republicans on the committee but four of the Democrats are from the South.

$4.9-Million Damage Suit Pressed by U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department has disclosed it is pressing a claim of $4.9 million in damages against Matthew M. McCloskey, Democratic party fund raiser, and two other contractors for alleged defects in a Veterans Administration hospital in Boston.

McCloskey, whose name has been brought into the explosive Senate investigation of Robert G. Baker's business affairs, was for eight years treasurer of the Democratic National Committee.

Appointed ambassador to Ireland in June 1962 by the late President John F. Kennedy, the Philadelphia contractor, credited with conceiving the $100-a-plate political dinner, recently resigned the post.

He plans to return to fund raising for the party.

ACTION DISCLOSED

The government action was disclosed in a Justice Department letter to Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., whose private investigation of Baker led to the current Senate hearings into the activities of the former secretary to the Senate Democratic majority.

The Justice Department said in its letters to Williams, which he made public yesterday, that the government was seeking the damages from McCloskey and other contractors because of defects and deficiencies in construction of the hospital in 1950.

Smoke Kills Pontiac Man in Home Fire

A 53-year-old Pontiac man died of smoke inhalation when fire swept through his small home early today. It was the second fire death in the city in 11 days.

Pronounced dead at the scene of the 3:43 a. m. fire by Deputy Coroner Dr. Isaac Prevette was Phillip A. Polk of 330 Harrison. He was alone in the house.

Polk's body was found by firemen on the living room floor of the four-room house. It was partially hidden under and behind a couch.

Firemen believe the fire started in an overstuffed chair, possibly from a cigarette, and spread to the kitchen and bedroom.

CONTENTS DAMAGED

Damage was estimated by fire officials at $1,500 to the house and $500 to the contents.

Polk rented the house from Mrs. Adeline Jenkins of 372 Linda Vista.

Polk was employed by the F. J. Boutell Driveaway Co. His body is at the William Davis Funeral Home.

Russell Nacarato, 51, was killed Jan. 143 when an early morning fire caused $50,000 damage to the Parkside Apartment, 101 Mechanic.

M59 SIGNS UP — Signs rerouting through traffic on M59 were put up yesterday by the State Highway Department at Airport and Telegraph roads. Through traffic will be detoured while a road widening project is in progress on the 3.4-mile section between Elizabeth Lake and Airport roads. As the above sign on Airport Road indicates, local traffic may proceed.

MAKE OVER HAD CUBA HQ

Zanzibar Office in Havana, Paper Says

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Times reported today that plans for the recent revolution in Zanzibar were started in Cuba late in 1961 when a Zanzibari political office opened in Havana.

The newspaper, in a dispatch from Washington, said that "facts that once seemed insignificant, such as the establishment of the Havana office of the Zanzibar National party, are being pulled out of files and studied (by U.S. government officials)."

Attributing its information to reliable reports from many quarters, the Times said plans for the revolution in Zanzibar "reached their peak with the arrival six weeks ago of a Cuban charge d'affaires in Dar es Salaam, Tanganyika," on the African mainland 32 miles from Zanzibar.

Americans evacuated from Zanzibar after the revolt reported that some Spanish-speaking persons were among the rebels.

BEING TRAINED

The Times said that "in addition to tracing the Cuban strategy in preparing for the revolution in Zanzibar . . . (the information available to it) disclosed that several hundred Africans are being trained in Cuba. The training is said to include guerrilla-warfare tactics."

"The students are divided into our main groups. Special emphasis is being placed on the first group, trainees from South Africa, and on the second group, trainees from the East African countries of Kenya, Tanganyika and Zanzibar."

"This is believed to indicate that Cuba, working with the Soviet Union and possibly Communist China, is centering her attention and activities on South Africa and the east coast of Africa, where the successful revolt in Zanzibar took place Jan. 12 and an army uprising broke out in Tanganyika on Monday. "Students from Ghana, Mali, the Congo and Nigeria are said to form the third group. The fourth group is made up of students from Spanish Guinea, on Africa's northwestern coast, where there have been pro-independence movements."

BIRMINGHAM'S BEST — Jaycees in Birmingham last night honored F. Ward Ouradnik (right) as their outstanding young man of 1963. Mayor William H. Burgum presented the Distinguished Service Award to the 32-year-old Birmingham Eccentric employee during a bosses' night dinner at the Kingsley Inn, Bloomfield Hills. Former executive director of the Community House, Ouradnik is president of the Oakland Citizens League and vice chairman of the Birmingham Citizens Action Committee.

GM Distributes $5.2 Million in Savings Plan

$2,525,260 in stock, bonds and cash. The division had 1,687 employees participating in the plan.

"RECORD RETURN"

At Pontiac Motor Division, 1,550 salaried workers will receive $2,426,378 from the program. General Manager E. M. Estes called it a record return.

"We are gratified so many of our salaried employees (97.2 per cent) are saving regularly under the provisions of the plan."

Over 200 employees at Fisher Body Division will participate in the $311,294 return in stocks, bonds and cash.

Under the Program, eligible salaried employees can save up to 10 per cent of their base salary, plus cost-of-living allowance.

ARE REINVESTED

Half of the employee's savings is invested in U.S. government bonds and half in GM common stock. All dividends are reinvested in the stock and all interest from bonds is similarly reinvested in bonds.

A class is formed each year and matures five full years later. This is the fourth (1958) distribution since the program began.

General Motors contributes $1 for each $2 of employee savings.

County-Cali Committee to Discuss Colombian Aid

The Oakland County-Cali Alliance for Progress Committee will meet tomorrow morning to explore ways of improving economic conditions in the Colombian metropolis.

This will be the first meeting of the group appointed last month by Delos Hamlin, chairman of the County Board of Supervisors, with the approval of the U.S. State Department.

The 12-member committee will choose an ambassador to go to Cali for at least two years. He is likely to be County Civil Defense Director John E. Madole.

A committee in Cali also is selecting an ambassador to come here.

JOINT EFFORT

The joint effort is an experiment in the over-all federal aid and assistance program for South America.

The local community approach was conceived by U.S. Rep. William S. Broomfield, R-Oakland County.

So far the Alliance for Progress has been almost entirely between the federal and central governments. Few benefits have filtered down to people in their own communities, according to Broomfield.

The State Department has approved a $45,500 annual budget for the local alliance program.

EQUAL FINANCING

It is to be equally financed by private foundations here and in Cali and by the federal government, according to Hamlin.

The ambassadors each will be paid an annual salary of $10,000 plus travel expenses between the two countries.

Local governments are to provide them with offices, equipment and bilingual secretaries.

FINAL DECISION

However, the final decision will be up to the full committee, said the chairman.

Hamlin said Madole is well qualified to be ambassador because he has "proven administrative ability, is familiar with the operations of local government and speaks Spanish."

JOHN A. DUGAN

Seeks Election to Former Seat

Dugan Once Held Ledford's City Post

Former District 5 City Commissioner John A. Dugan, 55, announced today he'll be a candidate to regain the commission seat he lost to Loy L. Ledford in 1962.

Dugan of 363 Nelson deplores the current city government and looks to former City Manager Walter K. Willman as the only man who could "straighten out the mess at City Hall."

He said he would like to see Willman used as a consultant, a move also suggested by former City Manager Robert A. Stierer but frowned on by a majority of the City Commission.

Dugan has been a Pontiac Motor-Division employee since coming to Pontiac in 1928. He is a gear set-up man in the axle department.

ACTIVE MEMBER

An early member of the labor movement here, Dugan is an active member of United Auto Workers Local 653. He is married and has two sons.

Dugan was a veteran member of the commission and mayor pro-tem when he lost in the 1962 commission election. He had been on the commission for eight years.

"I feel that the people of this district were confused and misled by the deliberate lies and misleading literature distributed in the district a day before the last commission election."

"People were misled," Dugan said, "to the extent that Loy L. Ledford, a man who hadn't voted for 15 years, was elected." Dugan said he plans to file a nominating petition sometime next week.

Work on Centennial Is Gathering Steam

BIRMINGHAM — Work on the city's centennial observance is gathering steam with the addition of an entire organization to the planning committee.

The Citizens Action Committee has decided to undertake the project as a group. Its chairman, Mrs. G. Howard Willett Jr., also heads the planning committee.

The former mayor has named four members to the core centennial committee.

They are Robert S. Kenning, assistant city manager and Birmingham Michigan Week chairman; James K. Flack, local realtor who will serve as history and heritage chairman; F. Ward Ouradnik of The Birmingham Eccentric who will be in charge of activities; and Robert B. Bender, past president of the Bloomfield Art Association who will coordinate arts and the arts festival.

APPOINTED POST

Mrs. Willett was appointed chairman of the group earlier this month when Mayor William H. Burgum also named Carl O. Barton as finance chairman.

The celebration is slated to begin during Michigan Week, the third week in May, and continue throughout the year.

Birmingham residents will rediscover their heritage and investigate the community's background during the first half of the year.

Emphasis for the second half of the year will be on the city's potential and her expectations for the future, according to Mrs. Willett.

Plans have been announced for a new Hughes Hatcher - Sulfur store in Birmingham, to be the first wholly owned and built by the company.

The clothing store chain has selected a site on the southwest corner of Merrill and Pierce.

The 23,000-square foot build-

to design the store is Louis Redstone and Associates.

Birmingham plans are part of a $1.5-million expansion program announced by the company.

The decision to locate downtown was a departure from their normal policy of operating in shopping centers.

It will snow in the north and central Rockies and parts of the northern Plains. It will turn colder in the western two-thirds of the nation with little change in the eastern third.

Waterford Pupils Get Term Holiday

Waterford Township's public school youngsters began a vacation after completing their first semester examinations yesterday.

Pupils at the township's two parochial schools, Our Lady of the Lakes and St. Benedict's, wind up their first semester tasks today and will have a holiday tomorrow.

All students will return to the classrooms Monday to begin the second semester.

Industry and Union Silent

Auto Prices and Overtime Questioned

AP Automotive Writer

DETROIT (AP) — Public relations men for the auto companies and the United Auto Workers Union generally are willing, and often anxious, to air their views on issues relating to the auto industry.

But this week their typewriters and mimeograph machines were strangely quiet. There was no flood of press releases after the Johnson administration raised some questions about overtime and about possible cuts in auto prices.

"We have no comment on that at this time," was the standard reply of public relations aides at Ford, Chrysler, General Motors and American Motors. The UAW made much the same answer.

The issue of possible auto price reductions was put forth by Walter Heller, chairman of the President's Economic Advisory Council, at a news conference this week. The Council had suggested in its formal report that some industries might consider price cuts.

Heller, answering newsmen's questions as to whether he included the auto industry, indicated he thought auto price cuts should be considered.

The auto industry, which boasts that it has held the price line fairly stable since 1959, was little surprised at Heller's remarks. No auto industry spokesmen would say anything for the record, however.

Neither was there any comment from the UAW which will sit down at the bargaining table with the auto companies this summer to hammer out new contracts covering about a million auto workers.

The UAW had been keeping close tabs on the financial reports of the auto companies which showed ever healthier profits and ever larger payments in salaries and stock options to key executives.

WEAKENED POSITION

However, if the government should prove successful in its campaign to reduce car prices, it conceivably could weaken the UAW's bargaining position. The auto companies might have less profits and thus, less to share with their workers.

On the Johnson administration's request to Congress for a law to require higher payment for overtime work, the UAW and most other unions long have sought the extra penalty payment. It is now time-and-a-half, but latest proposals call for overtime to be paid at double time.

The theory is that if the overtime penalty rate is hiked, auto companies — and other industries — will add more workers to their regular work force to avoid any overtime payments. Secretary of Labor Wirtz told a news conference earlier this month that if overtime were eliminated in manufacturing industries, some 900,000 new jobs would be created.

One of the principal problems in the auto industry, however, is that many workers have become accustomed to overtime and might find it difficult to maintain their economic status without it.

For the first 10 months of 1963, the average auto industry worker put in 4.3 hours a week in overtime. During October and November, when new model production was approaching to speed, they averaged 6.1 hours a week at overtime pay.

As far as overtime goes, probably the most fortunate auto workers have been those at Cadillac where about one in every 10 cars is built on an overtime basis. This is partly because Cadillac has only one assembly plant, but its production capacity is being enlarged and the need for so much overtime work is expected to disappear in a year or so when the additional capacity is available.

The auto industry would like to be allowed to work out for itself—without too much government intervention—the question of overtime and the possibility of increasing the automotive work force.

It also would like to work out—again without government intervention—the question of price cuts.

The UAW, on the other hand, could well feel that the government stand will strengthen its bargaining position this summer.

It's safe bet that the dual topic of price cuts and overtime will be discussed further in the weeks ahead.

WOOD

QUESTION: How is plywood made and how used?
ANSWER: To make plywood, large logs of such wood as Douglas fir are cut. After removing the bark, thin veneers or "plies" are peeled from the log in one continuous "flat" layer.

This is cut into sheets and when these have been coated with glue, they are stacked so the grains are at right angles (upper left).

Then the plies are squeezed together under great pressure and heated so that they become like one piece of wood. The plywood is then sanded, cut and inspected.

Plywood is used widely today for a large number of purposes. Its value is that it is stronger than ordinary wood and shrinks and swells less easily.

It can be cut to exact sizes and resists splitting, allowing nails and screws to be used close to the edge. Plywood can be easily cured.

In the picture Jenny and Jack are about to fit a special kind of marine plywood, made with waterproof glue, to the bottom of their homemade boat.

Plywood is also extremely useful for making shelves, boxes, toys—in fact just about anything which calls for wooden construction.

FOR YOU TO DO: Borrow a hammer, saw, a few nails and get some pieces of plywood. Then make a neat box as shown. Measure the plywood carefully first and mark it before cutting. Such a box would be fine in your room for all sorts of purposes.

Hawk Only Wanted Meal

LOVELAND, Colo. (UP)—Broken window glass and the body of a blackbird on the floor of her apartment puzzled Vera Brown on return home Wednesday night.

She heard a noise in an adjoining room and found a hawk fluttering among overturned lamps and other debris.

She shoed the hawk out the broken window and spent an hour coaxing her Pekingese dog out from under a bed.

Mrs. Brown's best guess: The hawk was chasing the blackbird, which smashed through the window. The pursuing hawk sailed in through the jagged opening.

Afternoon Meeting for Study Club

Mrs. I. J. Fouin, president of the Parliamentary Study club, presided at the Wednesday afternoon meeting of the group at the Masonic Temple as Mrs. Melvin Norberg, leader, presented subjects for study.

Under the direction of the sponsor, Mrs. Ervin Christie, the practice group demonstrated a regular meeting in which ordinary and privileged main motions, subsidiary motions, and precedence of motions were the order of business.

Among those participating were Mrs. Arthur Cox, Mrs. Richard Cogger, Mrs. Fred Goines, Mrs. E. M. Malone, and Mrs. Ross Elliott.

Next meeting will be Feb. 5.

The Oscar Bruneels of Ivanhoe Street announce the engagement of their daughter Diann Eileen to Walter Joseph Tonkovich, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Tonkovich of Detroit. Her fiancé is a senior at Wayne State University.

Stork Brings Tiny Bundles

Dawn Allison arrived Jan. 16 at Mount Carmel Hospital in Detroit. She is the new daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard O. Lasley of Berkeley. Her mother is the former Betty Lou Allison of Pontiac.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry J. Schluchter (Marion Boston) of Percy King Street announce the birth of their daughter, Kimberly Ann, Jan. 10.

The Jan. 18 birth of Scott

Duncan at Wright - Patterson Air Force Base is announced by Dr. and Mrs. Duncan E. McVean of Dayton, Ohio and formerly of Pontiac.

Better Coffee: Cleaner Pot

Coffee klatch Sunday morning? First step to that perfect cup is a perfectly clean stainless steel coffee pot.

Here's how to do it quickly and easily.

After every use soak the busy coffee pot and removable parts in hot water and soap. Rinse the pot and its parts well and you're on your way to that good cup of coffee.

Little Criticism Hurts Teen-Agers a Lot

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Dear Mrs. Lawrence: Another mother and I have the same problem. We both have teen-agers who tell us not to "yell" at them when they are asked to do something.

If I have to interrupt my 16-year-old while she is on the telephone, she will tell her friend, "I have to hang up now because Mother is yelling at me."

It irritates us as neither of us are "yelling" females.

Answer: I know. I've been accused of "screaming" a mild request to get the mail.

And it was irritating until I realized that the accusation had nothing to do with me or the power of my voice.

COMES IN LOUD

It has to do with the teen-ager himself — his susceptibility to our power. He hears our requests as "yelling" because he hears them with the still-impulsive trust of his childhood. And he resents this trust.

To deal with this irritating accusation, we have first to understand that it is directed not at us but at the child's own terrifying impulse to submit to us. Then we know what is needed.

We give him reassurance of our respect for him by saying: "I did not interrupt your phone call because I wanted to show you how I can shove you aside whenever I feel like it. I interrupted it because I promised to call Dad at 4 o'clock."

We relieve him of his gnawing, ever-present suspicion of obedience as humiliating and endless obligation to us.

SEE DISRESPECT
People of this age are so un-trustful of themselves that they read disrespect into practically everything you say to them. They still trust us so much more than they trust themselves.

So any request for obedience can explode the big conflict — the terror of obeying us for the rest of their lives against the seductive temptation to do just that — to lapse backward into childhood's unquestioning trust of us.

LET'S KNIT

Let's Knit

Choose Own Colors

For bowling, boating, golfing, or just lounging around, this long shell is the perfect garment. Wear it as it is or over a skirt-sleeved blouse, with a skirt or capris.

Knit it in a solid color or in a tweed yarn, or as shown in the picture in two colors of your choice. The teenager in your family may even like it when each block is worked in a different color. It will then match so many more garments in her wardrobe.

Instructions are written in sizes 8 through 18. All sizes are included in one pattern.

LONG SHELL Pattern No. 43 may be obtained by sending 50 cents in coin, check, or money order to:

Don't Hibernates Safety in Winter

Now that it's indoor living time, an around-the-house safety survey is in order. Three steps to child safety are these:

1. Keep children out of the kitchen if possible — if you can't banish them, protect them by keeping pot handles turned in and on the back burners.

2. Keep sharp knives and scissors out of the kitchen drawer — instead, put them on a high shelf or a wall magnet.

3. Use stainless steel tableware for babies and children — it's childproof, easy-care and won't endanger health by chipping or breaking.

MAKE OVER PAGES

WOOD

QUESTION: How is plywood made and how used?
ANSWER: To make plywood, large logs of such wood as Douglas fir are cut. After removing the bark, thin veneers or "plies" are peeled from the log in one continuous flat layer.

This is cut into sheets and when these have been coated with glue, they are stacked so the grains are at right angles (upper left).

Then the plies are squeezed together under great pressure and heated so that they become like one piece of wood. The plywood is then sanded, cut and inspected.

Plywood is used widely today for a large number of purposes. Its value is that it is stronger than ordinary wood and shrinks and swells less easily.

It can be cut to exact sizes and resists splitting, allowing nails and screws to be used close to the edge. Plywood can be easily cured.

In the picture Jenny and Jack are about to fit a special kind of marine plywood, made with waterproof glue, to the bottom of their homemade boat.

Plywood is also extremely useful for making shelves, boxes, toys—in fact just about anything which calls for wooden construction.

FOR YOU TO DO: Borrow a hammer, saw, a few nails and get some pieces of plywood. Then make a neat box as shown. Measure the plywood carefully first and mark it before cutting. Such a box would be fine in your room for all sorts of purposes.

Hawk Only Wanted Meal

LOVELAND, Colo. (U)—Broken window glass and the body of a blackbird on the floor of her apartment puzzled Vera Brown on return home Wednesday night.

She heard a noise in an adjoining room and found a hawk fluttering among overturned lamps and other debris.

She shooed the hawk out the broken window and spent an hour coaxing her Pekingese dog out from under a bed.

Mrs. Brown's best guess: The hawk was chasing the blackbird, which smashed through the window. The pursuing hawk sailed in through the jagged opening.

LET'S KNIT

Let's Knit

Choose Own Colors

For bowling, boating, golfing, or just lounging around, this long shell is the perfect garment. Wear it as it is or over a skirt-sleeved blouse, with a skirt or capris.

Knit it in a solid color or in a tweed yarn, or as shown in the picture in two colors of your choice. The teenager in your family may even like it when each block is worked in a different color. It will then match so many more garments in her wardrobe.

Instructions are written in sizes 8 through 18. All sizes are included in one pattern.

Don't Hibernates
Safety in Winter

Now that it's indoor living time, an around-the-house safety survey is in order. Three steps to child safety are these:

1. Keep children out of the kitchen if possible — if you can't banish them, protect them by keeping pot handles turned in and on the back burners.
2. Keep sharp knives and scissors out of the kitchen drawer — instead, put them on a high shelf or a wall magnet.
3. Use stainless steel tableware for babies and children — it's childproof, easy-care and won't endanger health by chipping or breaking.

Afternoon Meeting for Study Club

Mrs. I. J. Foul, president of the Parliamentary Study Club, presided at the Wednesday afternoon meeting of the group at the Masonic Temple as Mrs. Melvin Norberg, leader, presented subjects for study.

Under the direction of the sponsor, Mrs. Ervin Christie, the practice group demonstrated a regular meeting in which ordinary and privileged main motions, subsidiary motions, and precedence of motions were the order of business.

Among those participating were Mrs. Arthur Cox, Mrs. Richard Cogger, Mrs. Fred Goines, Mrs. E. M. Malone, and Mrs. Ross Elliott.

Next meeting will be Feb. 5.

Little Criticism Hurts Teen-Agers a Lot

By MURIEL LAWRENCE
Dear Mrs. Lawrence: Another mother and I have the same problem. We both have teenage girls who tell us not to "yell" at them when they are asked to do something.

If I have to interrupt my 16-year-old while she is on the telephone, she will tell her friend, "I have to hang up now because Mother is yelling at me."

It irritates us as neither of us are "yelling" females.

Answer: I know. I've been accused of "screaming" a mild request to get the mail.

And it was irritating until I realized that the accusation had nothing to do with me or the power of my voice.

COMES IN LOUD

It has to do with the teenager himself — his susceptibility to our power. He hears our requests as "yelling" because he hears them with the still-impulsive trust of his childhood. And he resents this trust.

To deal with this irritating accusation, we have first to understand that it is directed not at us but at the child's own terrifying impulse to submit to us. Then we know what is needed.

We give him reassurance of our respect for him by saying: "I did not interrupt your phone call because I wanted to show you how I can shove you aside whenever I feel like it. I interrupted it because I promised to call Dad at 4 o'clock."

We relieve him of his gnawing, ever-present suspicion of obedience as humiliating and endless obligation to us.

SEE DISRESPECT

People of this age are so untrusting of themselves that they read disrespect into practically everything you say to them. They still trust us so much more than they trust themselves.

So any request for obedience can explode the big conflict — the terror of obeying us for the rest of their lives against the seductive temptation to do just that — to lapse backward into childhood's unquestioning trust of us.

Rochester Set for Olympics This Saturday

The fifth annual Rochester Kiwanis Olympics will begin at 9 a.m. Saturday on the village rink at the Rochester Civic Center.

Kiwanis president Herbert Stoutenberg has named Carl Queck as chairman of this year's event. He will be assisted by club members and the high school Key Club.

The Detroit Skating Club led by former state outdoor champion Bobby Snyder will officiate the competition and also give exhibitions.

There were 50 ribbons presented last year to the more than 100 contestants. Competition for all age groups will begin at 9 a.m. and an increased turnout is expected.

Boys' Ice Showdown Delayed by Weather

The melting spell has forced postponement of two boys' ice hockey games tonight in the Waterford Township recreation league—including an early season showdown.

The Mountain View Rangers and Waterford Blades were slated to risk their unblemished marks against each other in an 8:15 p.m. senior division clash.

But the lack of ice on the outdoor rink at the North Side Community Club has postponed the contest. No decision has been made about Saturday's program.

The Waterford Blades and the Mountain View Rangers will flash their skates tonight (weather permitting) in the feature hockey game at the North Side Community Club ice rink.

The two teams are unbeaten in the senior division of the Waterford Township Recreation Department boys hockey league and will meet at 8:15 p.m.

At 7 o'clock tonight the Lotus Lake Wings will play the Bruins in a junior division tilt.

A full slate of games is set for Saturday morning. Last week's results included two shutouts and two close verdicts.

U.S. Ski Team Is Optimistic

MADOONA DI CAMPIGLIO, Italy (AP)—Jean Saubert, the top U.S. hope for a Winter Olympic gold medal, says the American ski team is strong enough to win all six gold medals at stake.

"The American team probably never has been as strong as it is now," the 21-year-old Lakeview, Ore., skier said Wednesday night. "I'm not saying that we will win without fail, I'm just saying we are strong enough to win."

If the U.S. Alpine skiers were to accomplish such a feat, it would far exceed the performance of any previous American ski team. American men never have won a gold medal in the three events—the slalom, the giant slalom and the downhill. U.S. women have won three.

Gretchen Fraser won the slalom in 1948, and Andrea Mead Lawrence scored a double in 1952 in the slalom and the giant slalom.

The present U.S. team completed its training in this north Italian winter resort Wednesday. It planned to leave today for Innsbruck, site of the Winter Games.

Miss Saubert, fully recovered from a siege of flu, said she is in the best possible shape. She was confident about her chances, saying: "If I'm skiing my best, I should be able to win."

U.S. Coach Bob Beattie believes the attractive brunette who stands 5-feet-6 and weighs 147 pounds is the best athlete he has.

The Oregon State University student missed a full semester of her teaching studies for the Olympics.

Mt. Holly Set to Race 200 During 2 Days

4 Classes Compete in Slalom Events at Dixie Site

The word is "go" for Saturday and Sunday's Michigan Open Ski Meet at Mt. Holly.

Despite poor weather conditions that forced the resort to shut down earlier this week, Grant Hanks of the resort staff advised the program would go on as scheduled barring impossible weather conditions.

Saturday boys and girls 17-years-old and under will vie in four classes for eight first place ribbons starting at 10 a.m.

Two runs will be made by each contestant down the separate slalom runs set up for the girls and boys. Combined times will be used to determine the winners.

The fourth annual Michigan Open will continue Sunday with two more divisions: the 18-through-31 and the 32-and-over. Starting again will be 10 a.m.

Registrations for both days' competition will close at 9 p.m. Friday at Mt. Holly. The program follows the rules of the U.S. Ski Association central division.

Spectators may watch the program free of charge. There will be open skiing during the competition and everyone with skis on must have an area skiing ticket.

More than 200 persons are expected to participate during the two days' competition. Bill Fisher of the Mt. Holly ski school will run the meet.

Only Dryden Open Skiers 'Thawed Out'

Only Dryden among Southeast Michigan ski resorts reportedly has managed to avoid closing during the thaw this week.

Proprietor Fred Molitor Wednesday reported a good layer of corn snow on his intermediate slopes and no plans to shut down.

Those known closed are Mt. Holly, Pine Knob, Mt. Brighton and Summit Ski Club, while Grampian Mountain, Mt. Christie and Alpine have not reported but are presumed closed. Conditions elsewhere around the state:

Local Youths Score in Junior Events

Nub's Nob will be the site Sunday of the third point meet for Junior Alpine skiers in the Region III competition with local entries hoping to continue their fine showings.

Four such meets are planned before the regional championships at Thunder Mountain Feb. 8-9 which determine the central division team for the March national competition in California.

Bloomfield Hills resident Geoff Smith was second last Sunday at Boyne Mountain in the high school boys Class I slalom race with a combined time of 70.9.

Jim Huckle of Cadillac won with 69.7. Smith, the preceding week at Walloon Hills, placed sixth in the high school boys Class I giant slalom and tied for fourth in the down hill event.

Points toward the regional championships are awarded at each week's competition and Smith currently is the leading local entrant.

ALTERNATE

There are girls and boys races each week in numerous classes. The events are alternated weekly. This Sunday the fellows will have giant slalom and downhill while the girls will run only a slalom course.

Pontiac Skier 1st at Dryden

The annual Dryden Open Ski Meet last weekend saw Pontiac's Dick Gorman take first place in both the downhill and slalom for 15-17 year olds.

Another Pontiac resident, Jack Stragea was second in both events. Lapeer's Barry Huffman captured third place in the downhill and Larry Haefeli third in the slalom.

In the 15-17 year old girls slalom, Gail Fletcher captured first prize and Sis Boulton was third. Both are from Rochester.

Oxford's Paul Rossman was third in the 18-and-over slalom for men while Judy Isaacson of Almont topped the women's field.

Many area entrants participate and have been scoring well. Included are Marlon Jarosz, Mary Trepp and Alexo Kachinko of Clarkston, Pete Coppen, Cathy Stanker and Laura Carter of West Bloomfield, Vikki and Cheryl Smith of Bloomfield Hills.

The latter has two fourths and a seventh in three high school girls Class I races for the best local effort. Miss Jarosz has a fourth, seventh and 14th among the Class III girls.

Other boys competing include Dick Wood, Mike Kraatz, Rusty Speirn, Richard Kraatz, and Mike Dunlay of Bloomfield Hills; Tom Carter, Terry Brennan, Bob Thornton and Paul Magne of West Bloomfield and Don Luther of Rochester.

Also, Charles and Mike Adams and Eric Gleisner of Birmingham, Bill Brower of Oxford, Tom Bullard, Bob Trepp and Randy Balice of Clarkston, and Larry Haefeli of Hazel Park.

Dr. O. L. Smith of Bloomfield Hills is chairman of the district 7 area in Region III of the Central United States Ski Association. Michigan, Ohio, Indiana and points south are included in the region.

Somalia: Trouble Spot Ripe for Reds

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

As a Communist regime entrenches itself in Zanzibar and Communist-abetted unrest stirs Tanganyika, other violent events just next door work in favor of further Communist penetration of Northeast Africa. Small-scale but bloody clashes are occurring regularly in an arid region of wandering nomads, dust and herds of sheep, goats and camels, almost worthless except that it is land now held by Kenya and Ethiopia but claimed by the republic of Somalia for a "greater Somalia."

NEWSOM
It is the kind of brushfire situation ideal for Communist infiltration.

Somalia acquired independence in 1960 through a combination of former British and Italian holdings.

Its location on Northeast Africa's "horn" gives it a position of strategic importance on the approaches to the Suez Canal.

Its warlike Moslem tribesmen are Hamitic, separated from the Black Africans to the South both by origin and religion.

For countless years, Somali herdsmen have moved their livestock according to the season, heedless of obscure boundaries.

TWO MILLION

Somalia's own population is about 2 million, with another 350,000 Somalis living in adjoining areas of Ethiopia and Kenya, which the Somalis claim.

This includes almost the eastern half of Kenya's remote northern frontier district, and Ogaden, a point-shaped tip of Ethiopia jutting into Somalia.

Somalia has openly invited Somali tribesmen in Kenya to "rejoin" Greater Somalia.

She has accused Ethiopia of forcing an "unbearable" burden upon her by driving thousands of Somali refugees across the Ethiopian border, and has been accused in turn of inciting tribesmen to revolt.

BRITISH SUPPORT

British troops are backing Kenya's frontier forces and British planes are carrying in food and ferrying out the wounded.

Into this unhealthy situation, the Communist nations have moved strongly.

When the United States and other Western nations refused Somali requests for military assistance regarded as far greater than normal needs, the Soviet Union offered to equip an army of 20,000 men.

In November, the Somali Parliament ratified a new trade agreement with Communist China.

The Soviets also have given Somalia credits of $63 million and the promise of technicians to aid her development.

Other aid has come from Czechoslovakia, Romania, East Germany and Red China.

The United States, joined by West Germany and Italy, had offered to supply an army of 5,000 or 6,000 men, along with engineering equipment which could be used for internal development.

The United States also proposed a 20-year development program broken up into four five-year plans.

TO BE REPAID

Over-all U.S. assistance would come to $500 million to be repaid from increased agricultural production and port facilities.

From other new African nations the Somalis have received little encouragement for their territorial ambitions.

Family of Four Flees E. Germany

HANNOVER, Germany (AP)—A family of four made it to West Germany by crossing the frozen Upper Elbe River on the border with East Germany, customs officials said Wednesday. The Tuesday night escape took place under cover of thick fog. The family brought some possessions across in a sled and a hand cart.

The man is 50, his wife 46 and their two sons 25 and 17. The 25-year-old was rushed to a hospital with acute appendicitis. The other boy was treated for frostbite.

Arizona is nicknamed the Valentine State because it was admitted to the Union on Valentine's Day, Feb. 14, 1912.
